Highway Fatalities Hit New Peak—698

Death Rode Highways Yule Weekend

SOME WERE LUCKY — Three persons, a couple in the car and the truck driver, were injured but none seriously near Sparta when the milk delivery truck and car collided. The car sheared off a utility pole after the crash and the truck toppled onto the car.

OTHERS WERE NOT — Flames consume car of Mrs. Evelyn Porter near western city limits of Chicago Tuesday after her car hit the rear of another stopped to have rear window cleaned. Policeman and passerby aid injured driver, George Habermehl, whose legs were smashed. He died later.

867 Meet Death During Holidays Across Nation

Tragic Yule Toll Ends Above Worst Prediction of Safety Council

Traffic death zoomed to the highest total for any holiday period in American history during the long Christmas weekend.

Tabulations today also showed that deaths in accidents of all kinds also shattered previous records.

Fatalities added up to 698 in traffic, 49 in fires and 120 in accidents of other types for a total of 867.

The motor vehicle death toll surpassed the record for any holiday period — 609, set during the three-day celebration of Christmas last year. It also exceeded the National Safety Council's advance prediction of 660.

The deaths tabulated today were caused by accidents that occurred during a 102-hour period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday. It was a four-day period, a day longer than the 1955 holiday periods in which the former records were set.

During the long weekend holiday, deaths on the highways averaged nearly seven an hour for the 102-hour period. In the first 10 months of this year the nation's traffic deaths averaged 106 a day.

An Associated Press survey during a nonholiday period, from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday of the Dec. 14-18 weekend, showed 500 traffic deaths.

The over-all accidental death toll for the period was 587, including 27 in fires and 60 in miscellaneous accidents.

Hazardous driving conditions in most of the eastern half of the country during the first half of the holiday period were regarded as a major factor in the heavy traffic toll. Safety experts also said other travel dangers included a mini-

Seek Clues in Parking Lot Death

Quiz 1,600 at Willow Run

YPSILANTI (INS) — Michigan state troopers from the Ypsilanti post who admitted they "have nothing to go on" planned to question 1,600 employes of Willow Run Airport today in the bludgeon slaying of a Port Huron man.

Laverne W. Wegener, 41-year-old assistant St. Clair County Agricultural agent was beaten and robbed Sunday night at the airport parking lot less than an hour after he welcomed relatives for a Christmas visit.

Wegener died about an hour after the attack in University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The father of four was struck over the head a dozen times with a length of pipe. He was robbed of between $60 and $80 and his watch and checks worth $118.

He will be buried today in Bertha, Minn.

Meanwhile, two young men who had been sought for questioning were eliminated as suspects.

A gas station attendant on U.S. 112, near the airport, reported the pair attempted to cash a savings bond several hours after the attack.

He told State Police he thought one of the men had blood on the sleeve of his coat.

Detective Marvin Krans, of the Ypsilanti State Police Post, said the men were cleared when investigation disclosed the pair were in northern Indiana at the time of the attack.

"With our only two suspects cleared, we are now without any leads," Krans said. "But we plan to start questioning all the employes at the airport Wednesday in hopes they may come up with something."

Heavy Snow Blocks English Rail Traffic

LONDON (AP) — Heavy snow brought a white Boxing Day—the traditional day after Christmas—to many parts of Britain today.

Drifts of six feet and more disrupted road and rail traffic in Scotland, Wales and the English midlands. Six of seven scheduled race meetings were either abandoned or postponed and many football matches were called off.

Birmingham, England's second largest city, had seven inches of snow in 12 hours, its heaviest fall for six years.

Searching Helter Also Skelter for Missing Shelter

John Sparks, of 2425 Oakley Park Rd., Commerce Township, reported the theft of a building to Sheriff's Office detectives Monday night.

The building is a white school bus stop shelter that Sparks had built for his children to use in bad weather. The shelter, four feet wide, eight feet long and six feet high, was located on Oakley Park road on the property just opposite Sparks' driveway.

Said Sparks: "It's always been there when I pull out of the drive every day. I started my car at 6 o'clock, turned on the lights and was ready to go. I realized something was funny. The white house was gone."

Expect Nixon to Suggest Raise in Refugee Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon planned to tell President Eisenhower today that "we must do more" to help freedom-seeking refugees from Hungary.

Nixon declined to say in advance of a White House appointment what specific recommendations he would make to Eisenhower. Other officials arranged to accompany him.

Informed officials said Nixon had in mind an increase in the present 21,500 quota for Hungarian escapées entering this country and a boost in U. S. financial aid to Austria.

Both recommendations would be in line with what Nixon said on a nationwide radio-television show last night.

The vice president returned Monday from a six-day flying inspection trip to Austria, the first haven for an estimated 175,000 or more fleeing Hungarians so far.

Nixon said on the Hungarian relief radio-TV show in which a number of professional entertainers joined:

"What they (the Hungarians) did in Hungary really marks the beginning of the end for international communism. . . . And everywhere I go I find people who say, 'We want to do something; what can we do; what do they need?'

"Well, they need care in the camps in Austria and in Germany. . . . They need countries to which they can go.

"They need transportation which will take them to their new homes, and they need resettlement in the new positions which they must obtain in order to make a living . . .

"Our government, for example, has taken 21,000 refugees and we must do more. . . ."

Eisenhower has already acted once to raise the limit on the number of Hungarian escapees who can come to America.

Crazed Gunman Dies in Battle With Policeman

Slays Driver and Girl After Being Ordered to Leave Vehicle

CLEVELAND (AP)—A man who was asked to leave a Pittsburgh-to-Chicago bus early this morning retaliated with gunfire, killing the bus driver and an 18-year-old girl. The assailant himself was killed a short time later by police.

The bus driver and the girl were dead on arrival at hospitals.

Five other persons were wounded as the assailant, not as yet identified, charged through the Greyhound bus depot here firing wildly at Patrolman Mike Barrett.

The wounded were treated at Charity Hospital for leg wounds. Four were released after treatment. Attendants said an 83-year-old man was held for observation.

A supervisor at the bus terminal identified the slain bus driver at Leo Almerico, 49, of Cleveland.

STATION CROWDED

Emmett Jefferson, a porter at the bus depot, which was crowded at the time with holiday travelers, said after the shootings on the bus the assailant came "whooping and hollering" through the terminal.

Barrett happened to be coming in the door at the same time. He came part way into the station shouting to bystanders to "fall on the floor."

The assailant, described by police as a Negro, about 32, of medium build and about 5 foot 8, fired several times with his .32 automatic, but Barrett held his fire.

Barrett chased the man from the terminal. The fugitive fled behind the pillars of St. Peter's church, Barrett said the man "came out shooting."

Sgt. Michael Sirkot, who had come to Barrett's aid, fired four times, and Barrett fired twice.

No Traffic Fatalities Mar Area Christmas

Pontiac and Oakland County escaped the brunt of highway havoc over the four-day holiday, which pushed Michigan's death toll to the sixth highest in the nation.

There were no deaths or critical injuries reported in the estimated 75 accidents in the Pontiac area from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight last night.

The state saw at least 34 die in that 102-hour period and added to the tragic score three deaths in home fires. Another 161 died in other accidents to set an all-time high of at least 851 deaths for a single holiday period.

Meanwhile, a light snowfall resulted in slippery roads here and in Ann Aarbor, Flint, Lansing and Port Huron.

The Automobile Club of Michigan warned that most roads in Michigan are slippery in spots, with the exception of the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula.

In Pontiac, there were 13 reported accidents Dec. 24 with three persons injured, none seriously, police said.

Christmas Day was quiet, they said, with only one person injured, Mrs. Beth Tankovsky, 24, of 57 Mark St., when her husband struck a parked car near their home. She was treated for head cuts.

It was the only accident yesterday, police said.

Waterford Township had a clean record of accident injuries on Christmas Day. One driver, Samuel J. Curren, 46, of 3529 Fort St. escaped injury when his car jumped the curb and rolled over on Scott Lake road, police said.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley said that with the critical Christmas period over, the city is all but assured of cutting last year's fatality record by nearly two-thirds.

So far this year, six persons have died, compared with 16 deaths in 1955.

Oak Park Again Struck by Thieves

Third Large Robbery in 15 Days Nets Haul of $13,000 in Gems

In Oak Park's third large burglary in 15 days, thieves last night stole $13,210 in gems from the apartment of Mrs. Beatrice Stillman, 41, while she was visiting friends.

Oak Park Det. Sgt. Steven Psink said today the thieves, apparently well organized, have stolen over $30,000 in furs, jewelry and cash in the three burglaries.

The latest job appears to be the same as the other two, Psink said, and the gang appears to specialize in furs and jewelry.

Mrs. Stillman found her home ransacked when she and her 17-year-old son, Marshall, returned last night.

Most valuable missing item was a $12,000 platinum bracelet containing 45 emerald-cut diamonds.

On Dec. 17, burglars took $12,825 in furs, jewelry and cash from the home of Joseph Sandler. On Dec. 10, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Liverman was ransacked and $4,000 in furs, clothing and jewelry stolen.

Cloudy and Colder With Snow Flurries

Mostly cloudy with occasional snow flurries is the forecast for the Pontiac area, with light snow likely tonight. Low will reach 26-30.

Tomorrow will bring more snow flurries, with a high 32-35.

The five-day forecast calls for near normal temperatures, (normal high 31, normal low, 17) with minor fluctuation Friday through Monday. Precipitation will average about 1-10 of an inch in scattered snow flurries.

At 8 a.m. the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 25 degrees.

At 2 p.m. the temperature rose to 31 degrees.

Homes Razed by Brush Fire

Flames Sear Canyon, Destroy 25 Residences in California

The fire swept through Zuma Canyon, burning everything in its path, and raced up Latigo and Ramara Canyons, blackening a 10-square mile swath from the ocean to Mulholland Drive.

The homes destroyed by the rampant blaze ranged in value from $20,000 to one $180,000 mansion. The California highway patrol early today began evacuating all residents in the path of the fire and all available fire-fighting equipment in the Los Angeles city and county area was thrown into the battle.

The spectacular fire, which started at 2 a.m. and quickly lashed across the Pacific Coast Highway, was visible for 35 miles. All traffic along the coast highway was detoured over Malibu Canyon.

Among those routed by the fire was football star Ronnie Knox and his controversial father, Harvey, and the Knox family, including film star Patricia Knox.

Knox said that residents were so stunned by the rapidity with which the fire devoured homes in the area that they stood by and watched hypnotically instead of fleeing for their lives.

Eight of the homes destroyed were on broad Beach road on the beach side of Highway 101. One resident, Alex Wilkinson, said that his home and his stable with two prize Arabian horses were destroyed.

All telephone lines in the area were burned down and firefighters were hampered by the communication blackout.

Upsurge in New Babies Continues Unchecked

Kiplinger Sees Economy Booming With Population

WASHINGTON — The mighty upsurge in United States population goes on unchecked, reaching an all time high in 1956 of 4,200,000 babies. The effect of this big population spurt is analyzed by the Kiplinger Washington Letter in its annual report on population. Population will increase from the present 170,000,000 to 221,000,000 in 1975, says the report, and this growth will have a startling effect on the national economy.

Here are some highlights of the report:

People will overflow the landscape around the cities, farther than now. They will migrate to new places and fill up areas now sparsely settled. They will lead new lives of their own with new patterns and new standards. The babies of now, in their lifetime, will make and demand many changes.

The birth wave that started in 1940 will result in a new high wave of marriages from 1960 on. And thereafter a new birth wave. And, as a result, a new building boom in the 60s.

The postwar boom in housing is off from its peak mainly because there were fewer births in the 30s and consequently fewer young people of the marriage ages in these days. The slack-off is likely to continue, two or three years, apart from the factor of tight money, just because of the slack-off in marriages and new families. But look ahead to 1960 and thereafter marriages and births will produce a housing boom from the early 60s on through the 70s and 80s. Twice as many houses will be built in the 70s as are being built now. And there will be an accompanying boom for things that go into houses.

This year, total auto sales were 6,000,000. By 1965, the total will probably be 8,500,000 with some peak years of 10,000,000. This is foreseeable on the basis of the growth of population, plus better roads and higher incomes.

Teenage drivers with their own cars are becoming a factor in the trend toward two- and three-car families. In autos, as in houses, there will be upgrading. Better autos, bigger houses, better other things due to higher incomes.

The rise in families with better incomes in just the past five years is amazing. Almost twice as many families make $5,000 to $10,000. Many more families have two or more wage earners now. And as for over $10,000, more than twice as many get that much as did in 1950.

Most of them live in suburbs, not within big cities. Hence the suburb growth, 30 per cent in the past six years. Further out, on the fringes, a 56 per cent growth in six years. Central cities are slowing down, only five per cent growth in six years. Suburbs and the fringe areas will continue to grow. Land values are rising.

Schools are already jam-packed, already inadequate, yet headed for worse. Despite frantic building in recent years, the crop of kids outruns it. For elementary schools, there will be 30 per cent more kids in just

Kremlin Calls In Top Planners

Economists Begin War on Waste, Inefficiency Inside Russia

MOSCOW (INS)—An elite group of Soviet experts began a major attempt today to put Russia's troubled economy back on a well-planned track.

The first big step in a Kremlin drive against inefficiency, incompetence and waste was made yesterday when Mikhail G. Pervukhin was appointed chairman of the State Commission for Current Planning.

Six of Russia's top-ranking industrial and agricultural experts were named to assist Pervukhin, a first deputy premier who is replacing Maxim Z. Suburov, another first deputy.

The planning board shakeup was announced one day after the party's central committee ended a five-day secret session by publishing a report pointing up failures and shortcomings in the economy.

The report said quotas set under last year's ambitious five-year plan had not been met in the production of coal, steel, cement and timber.

The planning board was accused of failing to bring production and capital investment programs into gear with availability of resources.

Some cutbacks in capital investment were ordered although the areas of the economy to be affected were not mentioned.

LEW JENKINS

Former Champ Spends Holiday in County Jail

A man believed to be Lew Jenkins, once lightweight champion of the world, spent Christmas in the Oakland County Jail, the Sheriff's Office revealed today, after he was arrested by Pontiac police on a charge of drunk and disorderly.

He has three more days of his sentence to serve.

Jenkins was picked up at 11:50 p.m. Saturday on Saginaw street near Cottage street. The former fighter was sentenced Monday by Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum to serve six days in jail in lieu of a $30 fine.

Known as the "Sweetwater Swatter" in his fighting days, Jenkins won the title by knocking out Lou Ambers in the third round of their Madison Square Garden bout on May 10, 1940. He entered the Army after losing the championship in a 15-round decision to Sammy Angott on Dec. 19, 1941, and was discharged in 1952.

The 40-year-old Jenkins checked into the Oakland County Jail penniless and with no known address.

"Jenkins didn't have a thing in his pockets to check with us," said a Sheriff's deputy. "His only possession, that we take from all prisoners until their release, was the belt holding up his pants."

Jenkins, who said "I don't want sympathy or help," did not reveal his identity as the former champion until a Sheriff's Office deputy recognized him. The deputy served with the fighter in the 1st Cavalry Division in Japan in 1950.

Work Delayed in Suez Salvage

Mines Must Be Cleared Before U. N. Vessels Can Move In

PORT SAID (INS) — Two problems delayed today the start of salvage work on the Suez Canal.

The first, and apparently more easily solved problem, is the existence of Egyptian-planted mines which must be removed from the canal before it is safe for salvage vessels to begin work.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, the retired U. S. engineer officer in charge of canal clearance operations for the United Nations, indicated it may take a few more days to rid the canal of mines.

The other problem is diplomatic —whether to use British and French crewmen on the salvage vessels supplies to the U. N. force by Britain and France.

Egypt maintains recent enemy nationals should have no part clearing sunken ships from the canal. Britain and France will not let their ships be used unless they are manned by their regular crews.

However, Wheeler has gathered a fleet of some 30 salvage vessels from other nations and says he is ready to start work just as soon as the canal has been made safe.

Suffers Minor Injuries in Two-Car Collision

A Clarkston woman refused hospital treatment Monday afternoon, Pontiac police said, for minor scratches and bumps suffered in a two-car accident.

She is Mrs. Bessie L. Killen, 61, who was with Jack O. Rayment, 27, of 8 Park Pl., who rammed the rear of another car which had slowed to make a left turn from Oakland avenue onto Pershing avenue, police said.

The other driver, Judith R. Dotson, 19, of Clarkston, was not injured, they said.

31 Oakland County Men Pass State Bar Exams

William P. Whitfield, 25, of 286 Cherokee Rd., was one of 31 Oakland County residents that passed their Michigan State Bar Examinations given Sept. 10-12.

Whitfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart E. Whitfield, is a June graduate of the University of Michigan. He is now studying taxation at New York University for his masters degree.

Others that passed are:

Sylvan Lake City Affairs

Highway Officials Mum on Orchard Lake Crossing

City Manager Ernest L. Ethier is still awaiting a reply from the State Highway Dept. as to what can be done to improve the temporary Orchard Lake - Telegraph road crossing.

The City Council instructed Ethier to write state officials asking improved marking and policing of the highly-traveled detour caused by the construction of the underpass project there. The letter was sent Dec. 13, Ethier said.

City officials also asked when the project was scheduled for completion. "Some people out here don't think it should take as long as June to finish," Ethier said.

Early this fall, state highway officials said the project would not be completed until June due to a setback in the delivery of steel. Work has now ceased on the job.

Because many Sylvan Lake residents use the route, the letter was written, Ethier said.

In other Sylvan Lake affairs, Ethier announced that the council has approved the re-appointment of Don R. MacDonald as the city's representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Ethier reiterated his warning to residents that they have until Jan. 19 to pay their 1956 county and school taxes without penalty. A four per cent penalty will be added starting Jan. 20 for all delinquent taxes.

Dog licenses for 1957 are now available at the City Hall. Proof of rabies vaccination during the past year must be presented before the license is granted.

Ethier said water bills for the fourth quarter would be in the mail "shortly" after the first of the year. To date, 255 connections have been made to the city's one - year - old water system.

The city manager said the City Hall would be closed Dec. 31.

Berserk Man Kills Girl, Driver on Bus

Passengers on the bus said the man had been bothering Miss Kartzke, who was white, in the waiting room at the terminal.

Kenneth Jamison of Newcastle, Pa., said when Miss Kartzke got on the bus after the Cleveland stop she told him she was "scared" and Jamison told her to tell the driver. The driver had Miss Kartzke bring her baggage and come to the front of the bus near him, said Jamison, then the driver went to talk to the man.

GRABBED BAGS

Mrs. Udell Wintersoll of Chicago said she heard the man say, "I'm getting off," and he grabbed his bags.

At the front of the bus, the man turned and fired at Almerico, then shot the girl.

Police said there was no identification on the man's body. They were checking fingerprints.

Larry Ebert, 24, Cleveland.

Richard Reinsberg, 83, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

A fall downstairs at a Christmas Eve party was discounted in the death yesterday of Jessie White, 27, a factory worker of 97 Cottage St.

White was taken to Pontiac General Hospital after the fall at 130 Thorpe St. and released after doctors said he suffered no apparent injury.

Taken home by his brother, Charles White, who lives at the same address, Jessie White remained on the front porch "to clear his head," the brother told Det. Orville Johnston.

He was found two hours later laying unconscious on the front lawn, Johnston said, and returned to the hospital, where he died yesterday noon.

Dr. Leon Cobb, who acted as coroner, said White had a record of high blood pressure and believed he died of a cerebral hemorrhage. He said that a post mortem examination is not planned.

Police theorized that a black eye which White had when he returned to the hospital may have been suffered when he fell to the ground.

Police to Continue Quiz on Robberies

Further statements will be taken from three men suspected in four armed robberies this month, Det. Insp. Clark M. Wheaton said.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said one of the men already has made a statement involving one of the holdups.

Held are Velton Wilder, 18, of 476 Branch St.; Joseph Page, 21, of 497 Ditmar Ave., and Charles L. Hall, 28, of 314½ Wessen St.

They are suspected of sticking up two grocery stores, a gas station and a pharmacy for a total of over $600.

Try Helicopter to Keep Buses Spaced Properly

NEW YORK (INS)—The well-known herd instinct among buses alternately brings a superabundance of them to New York's man on the corner, or else no bus at all.

So, starting today, the city transit authority is sending an experimental helicopter into the air over bus routes in congested areas to see whether it can help space out city buses.

Gorilla Dad Gets Cigar

COLUMBUS, Ohio (INS) — Earl Davis, superintendent of the Columbus zoo, said he was so proud of Baron, father of the only gorilla to be born in captivity, that he gave the proud daddy a cigar and "he loved it."

Upsurge in Births to Step Up Business

nine years, by 1965. And for high schools 50 per cent more in 1965.

Spending for schools may have doubled by '65 just to catch up. Money must come mainly from local taxes, for federal aid will always be laggard, also very limited.

Colleges have a worse problem because of high births in the past, the trend to college for more kids, plus the need for more education. In college now, 3,200,000 students. Ten years ago it was 1,700,000. In 1965, 5,200,000, or 60 per cent more. Thus an emergency in the near future.

Private and independent institutions can expand a little, but not much. They lack the money and the desire. So mainly its up to state schools, colleges, universities, supported by tax money. But even some of them can't expand much. The answer seems to be in establishing branches of state universities, located in convenient or populous areas throughout the state.

The worker shortage will be more acute in the next few years. Young workers, 25 to 34 will actually decrease, because of the low birth rate in the 30s.

So older workers must be used to fill the gap in the next few years. It is a statistical must, not a mere sentiment or social welfare thought. Also older workers aren't as "old" as formerly. They are more productive because of new machines, better health, better education.

Women workers now, 21,000,000. Included in this total, one-third of all married women. By 1965, expected total of women in work force is 27,000,000.

Florida is the fastest growing of the big states percentagewise. Population is up 36 per cent in six years, which means 1,000,000 new residents. California is up 27 per cent in six years, adding 2,900,000 people. Other fast growing states: Delaware, 26 per cent; Maryland, 20 per cent; Michigan, 18 per cent; Texas, 16 per cent; Ohio, 15 per cent; Oregon, 13 per cent; Indiana, Washington and Louisiana, 12 per cent.

Church membership is rising, particularly in suburban areas . . . divorce rates near level in the past five years, but still higher than prewar . . . Negro population rising slightly from 10.2 per cent to 10.9 per cent of total.

Summarizing the economic problems of the future, Kiplinger says, "We shall have more young and many of them will be going to school longer. More retired oldsters, for the life span is lengthening. Both young and old must be cared for by people of middle or working ages. Can we manage? Yes, thanks to productivity. Even shorter work hours? Yes.

The Day in Birmingham

Contract Review, Sewage Plant Addition on Agenda

BIRMINGHAM — Contracts for water and fire service between the city of Birmingham and the Birmingham Country Club will be reviewed at tonight's City Commission meeting.

When contracts were renewed in July the protection was based upon an annual fee of $400. Commissioners, however, accepted the one-year contract with provision that it would be reviewed sometime after Jan. 1, 1957.

Circumstances at the club have made the review necessary at this time, according to Harold K. Schone, city manager.

Sewage treatment plant additions and the taxicab request for community stands will be among the several other agenda items.

Only a few minor property damage accidents were listed by police and about a half a dozen minor fire alarms were received in the fire department.

Charles Mortensen, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, says Monday was the busiest shopping day Birmingham has ever seen.

"Every store was crowded from opening to closing," Mortensen said. "We have no idea as yet of total sales for that or the entire holiday shopping period, but we do know it was exceptionally high."

Birmingham Community House will open enrollment for its winter hobby classes on Jan. 2. Classes for adults are to begin there on Jan. 10.

By popular demand the photography class, inaugurated last fall, will be repeated.

Mrs. Effie Shaffer said today plans are nearing completion for the opening of the Senior Men's Clubroom at Community House, probably on Jan. 11. This is the first attempt for a program fully for older men in the community.

Henry Otto Moldenhauer

Henry Otto Moldenhauer, 79, of 1100 Coolidge Highway, Troy, died Monday after a long illness. Born in Hamburg, Germany, he had operated a farm in Troy for 60 years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lily Marquardt of Troy; three sons, Fred of Rochester, Leo of Troy and Charles of Detroit; one brother, Adolph of Detroit; 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Thursday from the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home.

CHARLES P. GREENLEE

Pick Royal Oak Man as District Manager

Charles P. Greenlee of Royal Oak has been appointed manager of the Detroit district sales department of American Steel & Wire Division, it was announced today by Harry M. Francis, vice president of sales of this division of United States Steel Corp.

Greenlee, who has been associated with U.S. Steel since 1935, replaces E. A. Murray who was recently named district manager of sales in Chicago.

From price clerk in the Cleveland division to its assistant sales manager marks Greenlee's start. He was then transferred to the Detroit district in 1952 as assistant manager of sales, the position he held prior to this latest appointment.

mum of daylight and holiday drinking.

North Dakota was the only state not reporting an accidental death. Two other states, Maine and Wyoming, reported no traffic fatalities.

Leading in traffic deaths was California—more than 70. Other states with heavy tolls were Illinois, Texas, Ohio, New York and Michigan.

JC Yule Lighting Contest Winners Chosen Tonight

Twenty-five entries in this year's Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Christmas Lighting Contest will be judged tonight at 7:30, Robert Elert, chairman of the contest, said today.

For those who failed to get their entries in to Elert and have a display they wish to enter, they may qualify by calling the chairman at FEderal 4-2571.

Judging the displays will be Miss Lauretta Paul, Pontiac General Hospital director, Leslie H. Hudson, Pontiac's State Representative, Wayne H. Gabert, Pontiac appliance dealer, and Curtis E. Patton, local insurance agent.

They will pick both an east and west side winner, with each receiving an engraved plaque.

From these winners, a grand prize city-wide winner will be selected. Grand prize will be an electric steam iron and frying pan.

The top winner will also become Pontiac's entry in General Electric's $5,000 nationwide lighting contest, Elert said.

Winners will be judged on artistic merit, originality, lighting techniques, and ingenuity.

Bloomfield Township Is Taking Bond Bids

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Bloomfield Township Hall will receive Water System Revenue Bonds purchase bids, until Jan. 14 at 8:00 p.m. At that time they will be publicly read.

The interest cost of each bid will be determined by the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest cost to the township.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, Robert H. Dudley, township clerk said.

Thieves Take Clothing From Cleaning Shop

An undetermined amount of clothing was believed taken from the Wardrobe Cleaners shop, 1038 Baldwin Ave. by thieves who broke in through a side window Saturday night, Pontiac police said.

The owner, Dallas Folsom, 200 S. Tilden Ave. said in addition thieves pried open a metal filing cabinet and ransacked a desk but apparently took nothing else.

Asian Racing, Boxing Follow Unique Rules

EN ROUTE HOME BY PAN AM (INS) — Strathpeffer, an agile 11-year-old, won the third at the Hong Kong Jockey Club the other day, paying a nice $257.90 for each $5 invested. Five bucks in Hong Kong dollars amounts to 75 cents.

I had my dough on a chestnut mare named Blondie, who is several years older than Chic Young's heroine, Blondie finished ninth, further evidence to horseplayers that you can't change your luck by moving to another hemisphere.

During the race, attended by 20,000, six soccer games were in progress in the infield, each with its own cheering fans utterly oblivious to the racing.

A few days before that, Sports Editor Curley Grieve of the San Francisco Examiner and I, refugees from the Olympics, took in the Prawwatt Phrakhannchai versus Thavee Dez Thiemprasid fight at Rajadamnoen Stadium, Bangkok.

Was there much in the American papers about that one? No? that's odd.

It was a dinger from the opening cymbal, when Prawwatt Phrakhannchai kicked his opponent flush in the mouth, until Thavee Dez Thiemprasid landed a knee to the groin followed by a clever thumb in the eye and half-nelson with which he won the five-round fight.

LASTING MEMORIES

The racing at Hong Kong and the boxing at Bangkok will remain longer with us than many of the events of the Olympics.

The Hong Kong Jockey Club's course is located in Happy Valley. But Chinese, British and American horseplayers long since have renamed it for a valley indigenous to the California desert. Chalk eaters suffered at least death, and probably more, on the day we were there.

Mine host in Hong Kong, fraternity brother Asa Smith, a well-known importer in this part of the world, got the day of racing off to an interesting start by phoning most of the owners involved in the card.

"Are you trying today?" Ace would ask. This question, which might cause C. V. Whitney to call a Pinkerton, meets with direct answers here, according to Brother Smith (who, somehow, did not have Strathpeffer either, though his delightful wife latched on to Jemima P., which paid $245.30 Hong Kong in the eighth.)

Next, Brother Smith took a V-8 rickshaw to the Peninsula Hotel to have coffee with the gentlemen jockeys and inquire of them, individually, "Are you trying today?" Some were, some weren't, or so they said.

The Hong Kong jockey, like Eddie Arcaro, is independently wealthy. He races to keep his weight down.

Marcel Samarco, for example, is a clerk with an airline. Andrei Ostramov is a hotel man. Peter Plumby is a reporter with the South China Morning Post.

RACING LIMITED

To protect the economy of this British crown colony, racing is permitted only one day every other week during the October to May season.

British troops are used to keep order in the betting and cashing queues, in exchange for which they are permitted infield soccer privileges and a free beer, no mean treat when one recalls that their salary is about eight dollars a month. They also avoid panics at the entrances and exits of the escalators.

The Chinese regard the escalator with about as much wonder as a flying saucer might attract. Long lines form, screwing up courage, reaching out an inquisitive toe towards the emerging first step, withdrawing it with gasps of dismay or helpless giggles.

That boxing must be seen to be believed. The boxer, on approaching the ring, falls to his knees at the foot of the ring steps, prays, takes a pinch of dirt from the floor and rubs it in his hair.

In the ring, once introduced, he goes into a slow-motion dance whose choreography is based on the crazy rules. Then there is more prayer.

Abruptly, then, the fighters are brought to the center of the ring and the referee gives them instructions, apparently in how to foul properly. Then the music starts.

Yes, music. Two drums, a reed and a bell—"Little Sheba" music—but somehow it fits into the picture and after a bit you don't notice it.

The music stops as if shot whenever a man hits the canvas, so that the count may be heard better. It quickens to a feverish pitch in the final round of any fight.

Hialeah and the Garden are going to seem pretty tame.

CAA Reports Better Record in Air Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commercial airlines racked up an improved safety record this year and nonscheduled air carriers entered the final week of 1956 without a single passenger fatality, the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) said.

The CAA estimated the 1956 domestic safety mark for scheduled carriers at 0.62 fatalities per 100 million passenger miles, compared with 0.76 in 1955. A passenger mile is one passenger flown one mile.

No passenger deaths occurred in U. S. lines' international flights. Nonscheduled carriers — Flying much less total mileage than the scheduled lines—have recorded no passenger fatalities since Nov. 17, 1955.

CAA estimated total domestic passenger miles flown in 1956 will be 23,183,000,000 compared with 20,550,940,000 in 1955.

The year-end survey made public yesterday said nonscheduled lines have flown some 1,400,000,000 revenue passenger miles since their last fatality.

Scheduled airline passengers totaled 45,860,000 in 1956, CAA estimated, up 11 per cent from the 41,441,000 recorded in 1955.

Bomb Shatters Home of Negro

2 Children, Neighbor of Integration Leader Injured in Explosion

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A dynamite bomb shattered the home of a Negro integration leader last night, injuring two of his children and a neighbor.

The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, leading a movement to integrate city buses in Birmingham, said the bombing would not deter his fight against segregation.

Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, was not hurt. Injured were Charlie Robinson, 59, and Fredericka, 11, and Fred Shuttlesworth, 10, the minister's children. They were treated in a hospital for superficial injuries.

As Shuttlesworth was led through the debris by police, he shouted to a group of Negroes:

"The Lord has protected me. I'm not injured."

The crowd of Negroes later swelled to more than 1,500, police estimated.

Police could find no witnesses. Battalion Fire Chief Howard Jordan said the explosion was caused by what appeared to be dynamite.

"We intend to ride the buses. There is no one who can keep us from it, for God will protect us," Shuttlesworth said.

The pro-integration group which Shuttlesworth heads has asked the Birmingham City Commission to end segregation on buses here today. The commission indicated that it would take no immediate action.

Sukarno Orders End to Revolt

Indonesia Leader Tells Sumatra Rebels to Be 'Good Soldiers,' Quit

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno has ordered army rebels on Sumatra to "be good soldiers" and end their revolt.

There was no immediate word whether the military groups which have seized control of much of the big island would comply. But reports from Indonesia's second largest — and its richest — island said the rebels appeared to be consolidating their positions.

There was no sign that the government would try to employ force to back up Sukarno's orders. The rebels have declared they are loyal to the President and have asserted the military takeover is temporary until Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo's government resigns. Sources in Jakarta say the army won't fight the army.

Sukarno, chief hero of the revolution which won Indonesia's independence from the Dutch, apparently was relying on his great popularity to cope with the situation. He was doing his best to keep Sastroamidjojo in office.

The President declared a "state of emergency and siege" in parts of Sumatra and ordered the dismissal of Col. Maludin Simbolon, leader of the bloodless coup that ousted the governor of north Sumatra last Saturday.

The government named Simbolon's deputy, Lt. Col. Djamin Ginting, to replace him. Simbolon countered by naming Ginting commander of north Sumatra military forces while he retained control of the civilian government.

Trained Crews Lessen Peril of Death After Crash

Chances Improved of Surviving Forced Landing at Sea

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In the last 10 years your chances of surviving death or drowning in a plane forced to ditch at sea have increased from 1 to 100 to 90 to 100.

This estimate comes from U. S. Coast Guard safety experts here. They stress, however, that pilots involved must know and follow Coast Guard procedures for landing at sea.

In recent years the C.G. has developed an extensive program to train pilots for emergency ocean landings.

This effort is strongly backed by the Civil Aeronautics Board which continues to tighten regulations concerning airline escape methods and emergency evacuation equipment.

These improvements promise that your chances of survival tomorrow will be even greater.

The safety effort has already paid off dramatically. As evidence, experts point to the fact that 31 persons were saved when a Pan American airliner recently ditched in the Pacific on its way to San Francisco.

It's hardly a coincidence that there were no fatalities.

Coast Guard officials note rather proudly that the Stratocruiser pilot, Capt. Richard Ogg, was one of those who had been through their full airline indoctrination training course.

"These courses go into all aspects of aircraft trouble over ocean," says Capt. A. E. Harned. "The pilots study what they should do to ditch and evacuate a plane safely and how to survive after they get into life rafts."

In the past five years 16,000 airline personnel have taken these courses, according to Harned who helped to first step up the program. He adds that the great majority of the pilots are non-military.

Four times a year the C.G. holds ditching and rescue exercises at Honolulu. Pilots and stewardesses jump into life rafts from a dummy plane and go through the entire emergency landing operation under realistic conditions.

Just recently the C.G. has issued a manual called "Aircraft Emergency Procedures Over Water." A complete text on ditching, it covers such topics as evaluation of the sea and wind, going down at night and the use of ocean station vessels, merchant ships and planes as aids in ditching.

All this effort might not seem necessary, but in the last 10 years 160 passengers and crew members have lost their lives when planes attempted to ditch at sea. The highest number of these accidents took place in 1949 when four planes went down and a total of 61 persons died.

Yet it was the ditching of an airliner off the coast of Oregon in March, 1955, that did more than anything else to spur recent safety action, according to CAB authorities.

Partly due to inadequate preparation, five persons lost their lives. One of the most serious faults was failure to secure a life raft. When the plane hit the water, one raft broke loose and went into a bulkhead where crew members could not get at it in time.

Nearly two months later the CAB added two requirements to their regulations.

Airliners going over the ocean were directed to assign specific emergency evacuation duties to crew members.

And safety briefings were required for all passengers on overseas flights.

The CAB has issued further rules that must be met by June, 1957. Planes over the sea must have:

Special chutes or equipment for passenger exit on a mass basis.

Emergency exit markings.

And all safety devices must meet designated specifications laid out by the CAB. For example, first aid equipment must come up to a certain standard.

"The possibilities of surviving a ditching are excellent today," says Oscar Bakke, deputy chief of CAB's Bureau of Safety Regulation. "But there are still many improvements that can be made."

Straits Bridge Progress Good

Ahead of Schedule, Says Brown; Costs at Original Estimate

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Work on the giant Mackinac Straits bridge is going along ahead of schedule, the bridge authority said in a year-end report.

"Barring unforeseen circumstances, the bridge should be opened for traffic next November in time to accommodate the annual hunting season rush," said Prentiss M. Brown, Authority chairman.

Brown said work on the bridge is ahead of schedule and that it appears the project will be completed at the original cost estimate.

The report said these projects were completed this year: foundation work, cable spinning and truss spans to within 327 feet of the anchor blocks on each side, "considerably more than was originally planned for the 1956 season."

Brown said the Authority is faced with a number of "knotty decisions."

One is to keep the average passenger car toll below the ferry toll and to eliminate the 25 cent a passenger fee now charged by the ferries. The others involve traffic regulations.

Brown said the Authority offices will be moved from Lansing to St. Ignace Jan. 2.

Drug Firm to Put Stress on Research

DETROIT (AP) — Parke, Davis & Co. will place increased emphasis on research during the coming year, the pharmaceutical firm's president, Harry J. Loynd, disclosed in a year-end statement.

Loynd explained that Parke-Davis research scientists will concentrate on an active program for development of medicinals to combat cancer, cardiovascular illnesses, mental disorders and virus diseases, including the common cold.

The report said the firm's sales increased approximately 10 per cent during 1956. It forecasts a similar rise for the coming year.

Parke, Davis plans to expand its research program in 1957 to a total of over $8,500,000. This will include initial expenditures of constructing a new $10,000,000 medical research center at Ann Arbor.

London - Great Lakes Ship Service Planned

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian Pacific Steamships and Cunnard Steam-Ship Company Limited, long North Atlantic rivals, have announced that a through steamship service from London to Great Lakes ports will be established next year.

The brief announcement did not specify whether the service, which would use chartered vessels, would be a joint one or whether it would handle passengers, freight or both.

It will start next April. It has been forecast in marine circles here and is believed prompted by the firm's plans to establish themselves in preparations for the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway navigation.

In Kalamazoo Area Is Tripled Within 3 Years

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Planning director Keith M. Honey says Kalamazoo is bigger than Grand Rapids in geographical area, tripling its size through annexation in the past three years.

He commented on the development after visiting Kalamazoo to study its urban renewal program to stop city blight. Kalamazoo now embraces 26 square miles. Grand Rapids is 23.4 square miles in area.

Honey said Meredith Vind, director of building inspection and zoning, told him Kalamazoo had spread from an area of nine square miles three years ago and expected to encompass the full 26 square miles after Jan. 1, when two more annexations become effective.

Honey also learned that Kalamazoo has received a $51,000 Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency grant for a study which might bring redevelopment of 251 acres of the city east of the Kalamazoo River. Redevelopment cost of the area is estimated at $2,500,000, he said.

The Grand Rapids city commission is considering an urban renewal program and seeks a federal grant to determine what areas need renewal and what the program would cost.

Immigration Legislation Needs More Flexibility

The next session of Congress will be asked to consider legislation giving Hungarian refugees admitted on a "parole" basis a "permanent resident" status.

The Administration was compelled by circumstances to adopt this emergency measure. These immigrants are checked in Austria and will be screened again before being granted resident visas. But Congress will have to set forth the requirements for such visas. Permanent visas already have been given the first 6,500 under the Refugee Relief Act which will expire the end of this year.

It is reassuring to read that immigration officers have established an "impregnable security barrier" against Communists trying to slip into this country with the refugees. The latter could be counted on to expose traitors among their fellow countrymen.

The Refugee Relief Act authorizes the issuance of 209,000 visas but with far too many unreasonable qualifications. About 90 per cent of the visas already have been granted. However the December 31 expiration of that law raises the next big problem for the new Congress.

President Eisenhower's original request, which was denied, was for the unused visa allotments to be shifted from areas where they were not needed to areas where they were. This was asked for the reason that there are thousands of refugees who are otherwise qualified and who could not receive visas because allotment for the areas in which they had found asylum were exhausted.

Before the Hungarian uprising the Administration was inclined to try to liberalize basic immigration legislation. But now with a greater flow of refugees in prospect, it may seek another stop gap law similar to the present relief measure.

Congressman Walter, co-author of the Immigration Act, has been in Austria and was reported to have been shocked by the plight of the refugees, Vice-President Nixon has just returned. They should have first hand knowledge of what is needed and no doubt will have constructive suggestions for Congress to act on.

We need emergency legislation now and an overhauling of the discriminatory McCarran-Walter Immigration law later on when more time is available.

Research Council to Aid Scientists from Hungary

The National Research Council of the Academy of Sciences has approved a program of aiding scientists among the Hungarian refugees.

Those who wish to continue their work here will be helped by the Council, which embraces more than one hundred engineering and scientific agencies. Efforts will be made to work out contracts between the scientists and private and Government agencies which best can use their services.

Our well known shortage in the technical field was re-emphasized recently by Dr. Elmer Ellis, President of the University of Missouri. "The demand for engineering training on the part of students and on the part of industry," said President Ellis, "is overtaxing the facilities of the engineering schools."

He pointed out that the national need for more engineers makes it highly desirable that students in colleges other than engineering be given every opportunity to select engineering as a field of specialization.

We can't afford to fall behind any other country in the training of sufficient scientists and engineers. They are as important to our defense as the Army, Navy and Air Force. These Hungarian scientists can make a great contribution to this country almost immediately.

"Money for the Government doesn't grow on trees," says a columnist. Of course, it doesn't. It would be more nearly accurate to say it is a manufactured product, with the motive power being supplied by the taxpayer hitched to a treadmill.

A Big Scout Year

Over 11,000 Now in the Work in the Local Area

There were big Boy Scout doings during 1956 in the Pontiac area. According to Executive Secretary Edward H. Leland of Clinton Valley Council, we have passed new milestones. In the local council which comprises most of the area of Oakland and Macomb Counties, including the cities of Pontiac and Mt. Clemens, we now have 8,500 Boy Scouts in over 200 troops and other chartered units. All four of the Council's districts made substantial gains, especially in Cubbing. In addition to the Scouts themselves, over 2,500 commissioned adults are engaged in the work in the Council.

Detroit's diphtheria scare is reflected in the Pontiac area. According to Oakland County Health Officer the neighboring situation has spurred the local demand for shots. But it also has created a slump in polio and TV case finding.

John D. Monroe,

Most of us will agree that these old ties are strong, including of Milford, who recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary, and still live in the house in which he was born 81 years ago.

Although Oakland County is quite highly industrialized, the assessing officers from the so called "rural" areas comprise 23 out of the 78 members of its Board of Supervisors. Recently chosen president of an associatoin comprising these 23 is Supervisor of West Bloomfield Township.

Not grasping the significance of the occasion, the family cat of

The End of Their Rainbow

Ike's Success Depends on a Few

WASHINGTON — There are plenty of ways to wreck the second Eisenhower administration and plenty of ways to make it a political success. The attainment of either objective is to no small extent in the hands of a coterie of the President's own friends, some of whom, due to inexperience in politics, have in the past forced the administration from the proverbial frying pan into the fire—though professing all along to be eager only to advance the cause of "liberalism."

The Republican Party in the last campaign achieved a degree of harmony far beyond the expectations of those veterans in national politics who had seen a cleavage developing in the 1954 congressional campaign that threatened to play havoc in the 1956 election.

Presidential campaigns always have a tendency to make all factions pull together rather than apart, and it is a challenge to the leadership of a victorious party to keep zealots here and there from reopening old wounds after the election is won.

But, true to form, some of those who played a part in the Republican Party's victory are beginning to act as if the time were right to "purge" those they don't like. Rumors and hints have been put out intimating that this or that Republican senator is about to face the opposition of a hand-picked administration candidate in the Republican primaries in his state.

DISTURB HARMONY

Nothing is calculated more to disturb party harmony and to prevent President Eisenhower from enjoying the wholehearted support of his party in Congress than these abortive efforts to set up a board of censors in certain "liberal" quarters to determine just who is or is not a "modern Republican."

One of the characteristics of the present day is the superficiality—the tendency to ignore, if not to fail to read, the pages of history. Thus, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt once fell victim to the idea he was "boss" of the Democratic Party. His untutored "palace guard" led him astray by persuading him to "purge" certain Democratic members of Congress, including the venerable conservative from Georgia, Senator Walter George.

Almost every candidate that Mr. Roosevelt opposed was thereupon renominated in Democratic primaries in various states. The voters resented the interference. President Truman tried the same thing and also failed.

It was good advice that was given earlier this year to President Eisenhower to keep out of the fight in the Wisconsin primaries when Senator Wiley was being opposed by Congressman Davis. Mr. Eisenhower was nevertheless criticized by various "liberals" for not "laying down the law" in that contest. It is strange how often the totalitarian instinct for some form of bossism in politics stems from those who otherwise profess to be champions of true liberalism.

But the President's course was the right one. Now efforts have been resumed to try to get him to intervene in several of the 1958 primaries. Such conservatives as Senators Goldwater of Arizona, Jenner of Indiana, McCarthy of Wisconsin, Bricker of Ohio and Malone of Nevada are up for renomination in the next election. The pressures to do a "purge" job do not usually come from the rank and file of the party but are engineered by influences outside the states themselves.

The union-labor bosses, for example, will put up a good deal of money next time to try to defeat Senator Goldwater because he has spoken out bravely against compulsory unionization and the confiscation of union dues for political purposes. Likewise, the sources of antagonism to Senators Jenner and McCarthy are well known because of their unflagging interest in exposing Communist sympathizers and Communist fronts. It is natural for some groups to try to break down those in Congress who have borne the brunt of this battle.

There are always reasons why ambitious candidates naturally seek to enter the race against the incumbent. Politicians, however, know the difference between battles of this kind, waged wholly within the state, and those which owe their inspiration and strength to outside influences.

The White House cannot afford to participate in any plots to "purge" any members of Congress, and it is significant that, in answering letters from citizens who have inquired on this point, the White House secretaries are constantly disavowing any authorization of the use of executive influence in such matters.

LI'L ONES

"I hear they make an even bigger fuss when you're an only child!"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Misinformed Layman Is Mixed Up About Ailment

Whether the chicken or the egg came first is still a baffling problem. Let me hear from you if you find a solution

Some medical authorities say constipation is an important cause of piles (hemorrhoids). Others say piles cause constipation.

I side with the doctors who ascribe constipation to piles, and I take issue with those who believe piles are caused or aggravated by constipation.

Except in the morbid imagination of misinformed laymen, it is not constipation that causes or aggravates piles, but the horse medicine such laymen take for constipation — laxatives, cathartics, "liver pills," "regulators" of all kinds, particularly "vegetable" or "herb," or "nature's" physics containing the familiar horse medicine, aloes or aloin.

These purgatives, like plain or fancy salts, mineral waters imbibed at the spas or from the bottle at home (if you are naive enough), are all more or less irritating. In my judgment if everybody in the business doesn't already hate me, they will now, no such physic does anybody any good.

THINGS TO AVOID

Besides the constant pelvic irritation due to the physic habit, another predisposing or contributing factor of hemorrhoids is the popular pastime, sitting.

But too many young people today carry it to extremes—sitting long hours at switchboard, typewriter, desk, table, or bench; and then, for recreation, sitting for two or three hours longer at the movies, ballgame, television or bowl watching players perform; and even sitting in bus, car or train to and from work rather than taking a few miles of oxygen on the hoof.

This sedentary habit makes for flabbiness, poor circulation, portal congestion or overfilling of the blood vessels that carry blood from the digestive tract to the liver, stagnation in the splanchnic pool, and piles.

There is no better way to prevent such a state or to correct it than that suggested—oxygen on the hoof—a brisk walk, not a lackadaisical stroll — of from two to six miles every day.

Take your daily ration of oxygen—exercise, you should know, increases the absorption of oxygen—in one dose or, if you prefer, in divided doses of a mile or two twice or three times a day, or the first dose walking to work in the morning, the second walking home at the end of the day's chore.

Readjusting your way of living to insure good oxidation, good metabolism is hard for the flabby individual with flabby character, but the reports of those who have reformed indicate that it is very good medicine.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'People Should Lose Vote for Failing to Cast Ballot'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I see by The Press that more than 6,000 Pontiac voters may lose the right to vote without re-registering. The reason is that they haven't voted in four years. They ought to lose the right to vote. They ought to lose it for four years automatically. There should be a penalty on the failure to vote.

If people aren't bright enough to realize what country they're living in, they should be made to understand or the ballot should be taken away from them entirely. Why fool around with people who are indifferent and who don't care who is in office.

Furthermore, I'll wager they're the people that make the biggest holler about the way the government is run.

Man Still Expects Winter to Be Cold

In spite of what that Daily Press writer said, I am sure we are going to have a very cold winter. I have been watching the squirrels in our yard, and they seem to have the heaviest coats ever. I think Mother Nature does that when a cold spell is coming. So, I will disagree with the Press man. (And I don't like martinis, either.)

'Is Radio Helping to Stir Uprisings?'

I wonder if Radio Free Europe may not be playing a part in these current uprisings against the Red beasts? I have contributed to that modestly a few times and I hope my mite has played a part in teaching subjugated people what goes on in free nations.

C. M.

'Local Children Need Aid, Too'

I'm in favor of helping refugees, but what about some of the American people first? We can find some here in Michigan. I know two children in Rochester schools who still haven't been able to get their school books. How far will they go through school that way?

I have been looking for work and can't find it, but I hear the refugees aren't having any trouble. That is why my children didn't have a Christmas. I believe there are a lot in the same boat here in Michigan.

Worried Mother

Praises Pontiac Street Cleaners

Every winter I am struck all over again by the fact that the Pontiac street cleaning division does a real good job. When we have ice, they are on the job quickly and early with sand when it is needed. When we get a quick but heavy snow fall, they are Johnny-on-the-spot to start removing it.

With the huge volume of traffic we have these days, the city would be a mess if this department wasn't well coordinated and actually functioning rapidly when the emergency arrives.

This is something you can't exactly plan in advance which makes the work that is done all the more remarkable and all the more appreciated.

Seven O'clock Shifter

Readers Discuss Buddy Parker

Let's give Buddy Parker full credit. He phoned Halas and said he'd made a mistake and was sorry. That means he's a real guy. Why can't he rate a contract longer than one year?

If he's the best coach in the business, I should think the Lion management would be very anxious to secure him for longer than one year.

HERMY

I should think Coach Parker would be satisfied with a one year contract at the highest price paid in the whole pro football business. After all, he finished last in 1955 and the Lions management didn't jump down his throat. They went along in a friendly style.

How can you kick when your pay is top? Coaching is a hazardous business and you know that when you go into it, so when you are paid the highest salary of all, you should be satisfied. I'll take the job for $28,500 and I'm an old football player. (I was a substitute end at Owosso high for two years.)

K. L.

Now that Parker has been a real high class citizen to apologize for speaking in anger, why isn't Halas a good enough citizen to apologize to the Lions for having riotous spectators all over the playing field?

Why doesn't he assure other teams that he will devise some system for maintaining law and order in Chicago like they do in other cities?

It wouldn't bother me if the Lions dropped the Bears and played the Cardinals alone in Chicago. There are never any riots at the Cardinal games. The management controls the situation.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Alcoholism Cause Often Is Deep

Bert's case tests your FBI ability. Tomorrow I'll give its follow-up. Meanwhile, see if you can discover the hidden culprit. For adults, as well as children, often commit an obvious fault to obtain punishment which they then chalk off to a much greater, though confessed, secret sin.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-357: Bert Z., aged 37, once was a star insurance salesman.

"Oh, at first it was just to be sociable. But after a couple of years, he drank more heavily.

"Then he began coming home drunk. I've tried to reason with him and our clergyman has done likewise.

"I tell him for the sake of our three children, he ought to set a better example.

"And he admits that I am correct, but says he just can't stop. He is now a slave to alcoholism.

"He even argues that he enjoys being bad and doesn't see how anybody can get a kick out of serving as a Boy Scout leader or pillar of society!"

SOUR GRAPES

When people say they enjoy evil habits and can't see any fun in good works, they often fall into the following categories:

First, they may be striking back at a too rigid childhood wherein a dominant father or mother coerced them into attendance at church every Sunday.

So now, in adulthood, they are indirectly getting even with those parents whom they meekly obeyed despite their inner hostility.

Second, they may be penalizing themselves for an inner sense of guilt in some other realm. They may have secretly sinned against their wife or husband or somebody else dear to them.

"I'm a rotter," they subconsciously think, "so I might as well punish myself."

So they may get drunk and lose their jobs, as well as public respect. But their drunkenness may be a camouflage or cover-up for an inner unadmitted guilt.

PROVOCATIVE NAUGHTINESS

Children also engage in mischief with the deliberate aim of being caught and punished.

A child who indulges in auto erotic practices or who has stolen money from his mother's purse, may thus feel guilty.

But he doesn't want to confess such a crime. So he deliberately goes out and violates some other household rule that can be publicized without so great an emotional effect.

He may stay out late or omit his chores or some other relatively minor duty, actually hoping thereby to provoke punishment.

This punishment, however, he personally transfers to his inner realm of guilt and thus attains a certain degree of relief from his conscience.

We call this an example of "provocative naughtiness." The child actually wants his parents to punish him for an obvious fault so he can feel partially atoned for the deeper sense of guilt that he has never confessed aloud.

Husbands and wives may also indulge in similar obvious faults to produce criticism which they secretly apply to an inner sin that has never been admitted to their mates.

PSYCHIC DETECTIVES

We psychologists and psychiatrists serve as mental FBI experts. It is our job to ferret out these secret "villians" that upset personality.

And we realize that the obvious culprit is often not the major offender. So we dig deeper to uncover the hidden motives.

Often alcoholism is a camouflage to cover up the secret dread of waning sexual vigor. That is especially true of men past 40 years of age.

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). And read tomorrow's follow-up!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

More Potatoes Being Grown

Agricultural Services Says Production Will Climb 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Foreign Agricultural Service says farmers around the world are growing more potatoes this year than last.

World production outside the Soviet Union will reach more than one billions, 685 million tons, or about 10 per cent more than in 1955—if preliminary indications are borne out.

The agency said production in Western Europe is up about 12 per cent over the small 1955 crop although little increase has been noted in Eastern European nations.

Europe is the biggest potato-growing area in the world and production in western countries is expected to reach nearly one billion 958 million hundredweight compared with one billion, 618 million 410 thousands cwt in 1955. This is also considerably above post-war averages.

In Eastern European countries, production is predicted at one billion, 180 million compared with one billion 147 million cwt in 1955.

North American production is estimated at 290,633,000 hundredweight, the U. S. growing all but about 55,000,000. The output is about seven per cent greater than in 1955.

The Agency noted that the U. S. crop is above the normal quantity needed for seed and eating requirements. Large quantities of potatoes are being diverted to non-food uses under a government program to improve prices to growers.

The larger production throughout the world precludes any chance of exporting the perishable commodity to other nations from the U. S. It will mean prices in this country probably will be lower than usual.

Production is up in Canada, Mexico and major South American countries, which would be the most logical places to buy U. S. potatoes.

The Foreign Agricultural Agency also reported that U. S. exports of unmanufactured tobacco in October came to 10 million, 200 thousand pounds, or 19 per cent below the same month a year ago.

Santa Rides Again; Pool for Tots Park

BROCKWAY, Pa. (AP) — Santa Claus wears a 10-gallon hat — Texas variety — as far as this town is concerned.

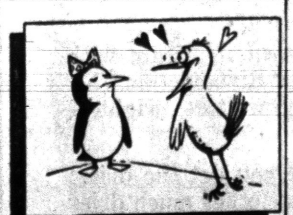

Vernon F. Taylor of San Antonio, a native of Brockway, who has earned considerable money in the oil business, donated about $50,000 a few years ago to help build a 16-acre park here. A few weeks ago someone mentioned a swimming pool might go well at the park for the kiddies.

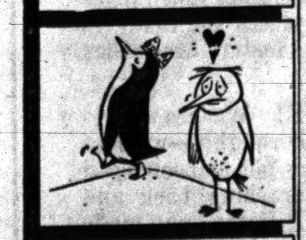

Last night, Louie H. Franco, president of the Brockway Board of recreation, said Taylor had played Santa Claus again — this time with a $100,000 check for the pool, which will be built next summer.

Pensioner Gives Her Bit

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—It wasn't much but 67-year-old Mrs. Mable Pearson, spending her Christmas holidays in a hospital here, wanted to do her bit to make things a little more pleasant for others. She told a social service worker she wanted to give a dollar to help with emergency needs of others. Mrs. Pearson's sole income is from an old age pension.

U.S. Gallery Gets Work by French Artist Manet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Gallery of Art announced today it has acquired one of the greatest paintings of the French artist Edouard Manet entitled "Le Chemin de Fer."

The painting was bequeathed by the late Horace Havemeyer, a sugar refining executive who died in New York last Oct. 25.

Tennis—Old U.S. Game

NEW YORK—Tennis was introduced to the United States in 1874 by way of Bermuda. A visitor to Bermuda in that year saw the game played, became enthusiastic about it, and on his return persuaded the Staten Island Cricket Club to build America's first tennis court.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Pen Invented in 1913

FORT MADISON, Iowa — The lever-filling fountain pen was invented in 1913. At that time only a dozen companies were making mechanical writing instruments in this country. Now more than 265 firms are manufacturing fountain pens, ball-point pens, or mechanical pencils.

Ike Takes Duties of Grandfather on Christmas Day

In this case, they were the grandchildren of President and Mrs. Eisenhower — David, 8, Barbara Ann, 7, Susan, almost 5, and Mary Jean, just a year old.

They arrived at the White House in midafternoon with their parents, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower having driven in from nearby Ft. Belvoir, Va., where Maj. Eisenhower is stationed.

The presidential couple and Mrs. Eisenhower's mother Mrs. John S. Doud greeted the young Eisenhowers and the President posed for pictures while holding the baby, Mary Jean.

A spokesman said some of the gifts from the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to their grandchildren were bought by the President when he attended the Big Four summit conference at Geneva a year and a half ago, but not given to the children last Christmas.

The adults had exchanged gifts at a family dinner on Christmas Eve. Eisenhower gave his wife a dozen monogramed individual silver match boxes to match a table service. The nature of her gifts to the President was not disclosed.

Refugees Arrive in Ike's Plane

21 Hungarians Greeted at McGuire Air Base in the Columbine

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. — Twenty-one Hungarian refugees made the trip to America in plush style yesterday, landing at this huge air center aboard President Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine.

The Super G Constellation had taken India's Prime Minister Nehru to London after a visit in the country and the President did not wish it to return empty.

It picked up eight adults and 13 children at Munich and made the transatlantic hop in 18 hours.

As the Columbine flew over Boston about 6 a.m., the 13 members of its crew distributed gifts to the refugees.

The Hungarians later wired the White House, thanking Eisenhower and the American people for permitting them to come to this country.

After the landing here, the refugees smiled and waved as they walked to buses 100 feet from the plane for the ride to nearby Camp Kilmer.

* * *

Lt. Col. William G. Draper, skipper of the plane, posed for pictures with the Zoltan Csukardi family. Then he carried 8-month-old Zoltan Jr., wrapped in a blanket, to the waiting bus.

The Columbine and its crew later returned to Washington.

FDR's Bodyguard Dies in Montana

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Lou C. Boedecker, 67, first chief of the Montana highway patrol and one-time bodyguard for late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, collapsed and died in a hospital here last night.

The attending physician said death was caused by an acute coronary occlusion.

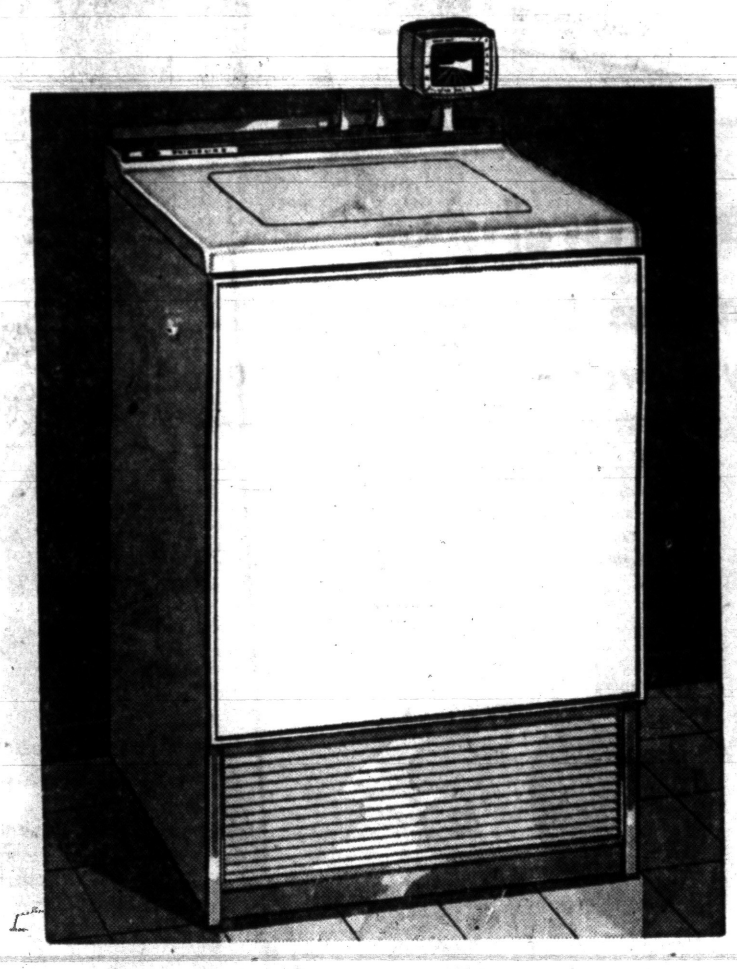

Boedecker, elected to the Montana Railroad and Public Service Commission Nov. 6, was visiting his wife at the hospital. She was recovering from a heart ailment, and was reported in a state of shock.

Boedecker, a Democrat, was a former peace officer and veteran railroad employe. He was bodyguard to Roosevelt at his inauguration in 1933.

FRIGIDAIRE

COME IN TODAY! SEE THE "SAVINGEST" WASHER EVER Completely AUTOMATIC!
Completely FLEXIBLE!
And Look at that Styling!
It's the new Frigidaire Sheer Look that fits in and blends anywhere. Glamorous, spirit-lifting colors: Pink, Yellow, Green or All White.
We were "Doubting Thomases" too—the claims for this washer were so spectacular. So we put it through the toughest set of tests we could cook up—and did this Automatic come through! It's the "washingest" washer ever built. You've never seen clothes washed in less time, using less detergent, less hot water. You've never seen clothes come so sparkling clean or spun so dry for ironing. You've never seen controls so completely automatic, so completely flexible, so easy to set. So, come in, right away quick—and try it.
SAVES HOT WATER—enough in a year to do 100 extra loads—enough detergent for 125 extra washes. Uses so much less water and detergent than the average Automatic, you'll never again need to "reuse" dirty wash water and played-out suds.
SAVES FILTER CLEANING—gets rid of soap-scum and dirt—as well as lint—automatically. Literally floats them out of the tub and down the drain with the fabulous Float-Over Wash and Rinse action. No filter to clean—none is needed. The whitest, brightest wash you've ever seen!
SAVES DRYING TIME—because you get the driest load that ever left a washer. Spins clothes much drier than any other Automatic. Many pieces are ready to iron immediately. The others dry faster, are easier to handle.
SAVES CLOTHES—SAVES TIME! Washes everything that's washable—safely, thoroughly—without rubbing. Nothing moves the clothes but suds-charged water. There's no rubbing, no thrashing back and forth with Rub-Free Washing. Delicate man-made fabrics are as safe as sturdy cottons. And the Frigidaire Washer does 3 loads in the time other well-known washers do two.

Armed With Weapons From Soviet

Is Poland's Army Actually Free?

(The author of the following dispatch is a veteran correspondent covering Central Europe. Just back from a visit to Poland, he reports in an uncensored article on the prowess and plans of Poland's army in the wake of the Russo-Polish agreement on the status of Soviet troops.)

By HEMEN RAY

BERLIN (INS) — The Russo-Polish agreement signed last week restricts, at least on paper Soviet troops in Poland. But, simultaneously, it has focused new attention on the Polish army itself—its plans and capacity to defend the "New Poland."

An authoritative Polish source told this correspondent in Warsaw that Poland now has 19 army divisions, a sizable tank force and a modern air force armed with weapons from the Soviet arsenal.

Even more significant is the disposition of this force.

The source said that six armored or motorized divisions are stationed on the East German frontier, five to seven on the Soviet border and two or three on the Czechoslovakian frontier.

These are obviously deployments aimed at thwarting a Russian attempt to reimpose Stalinist tyranny on Poland through force of arms.

But the informant said that some extremist Poles "have decided to plunge the world into World War III rather than accept renewed Soviet domination."

These extremists, he said, claim that if Poland has to fight, the disposition of her troops will mean that the war would spread into east Germany, Czechoslovakia and Russia itself.

WOULD MOVE WEST

Furthermore, he quoted them as saying that the heavy concentration on the East German frontier would lead to a Polish movement toward West Berlin and West Germany—and thus the involvement of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in war with Russia.

Another Polish informant told of the program of "re-education" being planned for the armed services.

He said that many of the nation's writers, newspapermen, students and social workers are busy working on a series of lectures to be delivered to the troops on "The New Position of Poland."

In contrast to the past indoctrination of the soldiers on Poland's friendship for and dependence on the Soviet Union, the source said, the keynote of the new program will be the nation's sovereignty and independence.

This was an excerpt from one of these proposed pep talks, drafted by a Warsaw newspaperman:

"Soldiers, sailors and airmen. You are Polish. Poland is your birthplace. Poland is no more a satellite.

"Poland will no more tolerate dictation from the outside. Poland is now independent and sovereign, a nation equal to all other nations of the world.

"Your duty is now to defend Poland's security against all aggressors, whoever they might be. The nation is depending on your patriotism.

"Promise, promise, promise you will never betray your beloved Poland.

Trailer Unfolds Into 'Ballroom'

Truck - Drawn Vehicle Expands Size 5 Times by Touching Button

PITTSBURGH (INS) — The Aluminum Company of America claims that new vistas in mobile homes, armed forces housing, and industry have been opened by a 14-ton truck-trailer which expands at the touch of a button to more than five times its road size.

The firm described the appearance of the trailer—made by Gerstenslager Co., of Wooster, Ohio, out of Alcoa aluminum—as similar to any other truck-trailer when being hauled on the highway.

However, a push-button control transforms the 150-square foot interior of the unit to a "ballroom-size" 780-square feet—seating room for 125 men.

The button control telescopes the sides outward and drops accordian-folded floors into place in about five minutes. The whole process is powered by electrically driven hydraulic and chain mechanisms.

The trailer, which can be pulled by any standard tractor, is 35 feet long and just under eight feet wide while traveling.

Ernest P. Martin, president of the Gerstenslager firm, said the trailers might be used in the armed services as barracks (sleeping 40 men each), field hospitals, kitchens, communications centers and even machine shops.

He said the units might also be used as house trailers "for the affluent prospect" and as housing for traveling industrial exhibits.

Hunger Faces Satellites

U.S. Experts Blaming Controls, Not Harvests

WASHINGTON (INS)—America's experts on farming behind the Iron Curtain say the food situation within Russia's strife-torn satellites is "more precarious" this year than last.

In the Agriculture Department's publication, "Foreign Agriculture," U. S. specialists on Soviet problems reported that many of Moscow's captive peoples face a rough winter.

They explain that the 1956 grain harvest in the satellite nations fell below the 1955 level, especially in the south, where production of other crops also dropped.

In addition, the department officials said, the continued crisis in Hungary has disrupted movement of supplies to food deficit areas.

Speaking of that battle-scarred nation itself, they declared: "Hungary faces a grim winter even if substantial relief is received."

In the southern satellites, and probably in those to the North, department spokesmen added, there is urgent need to increase imports and decrease exports "if food consumption is to be maintained at the 1955-56 level."

The Americans noted, however, that while food consumption last year was unsatisfactory, it "was nowhere critically low."

They said food-grain supplies appear to have been adequate.

"Where bread and flour shortages occurred," said the department officials, "they seem to have been caused by governmental mismanagement in distribution, reflecting in part excessive exports. . . ."

They pointed out that in Romania, for instance, the bountiful 1955 harvest was followed by flour rationing because of this type of mismanagement.

The farm experts emphasized that pronounced shortages of meat, fats, and dairy products have occurred in urban areas of all satellite nations in all reecnt years.

Among reasons given for these shortages are the lower level of supplies, inability to make the food distribution system work, and the increase in demand caused by rapid urbanization.

The experts termed Hungary's relief needs "large and urgent," and said both Czechoslovakia and East Germany must import food "if consumption levels are to be improved." Romania and Bulgaria may also have import, rather than export, gain.

Navy Names Expert to Watch Satellite

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy has named Dr. Paul Herget, an expert at locating small planets, to keep track of the artificial earth satellite it will launch by 1958.

Herget is director of the Cincinnati observatory and professor of astronomy at the University of Cincinnati, where he is charged with watching the paths of 1,600 small plants for the international astronomical union.

To track the earth satellite, to be shot up by rocket during the 1957-58 international geophysical year, Herget will work with the aid of huge electronic "brain" that International Business Machines Corp. will set up in Washington, D.C.

Stay on the Farm

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—A machine that fills and seals paper milk containers has been developed by a Providence firm to aid the small dairyman. Made entirely of stainless steel, the machine can fill up to 24 quarts a minute. It has a 16½-gallon milk tank that is filled automatically from the dairyman's supply tank.

Aliens Stay in Gotham

NEW YORK—New York State has 19.8 per cent of the alien population of the United States compared with 21¼ per cent two years ago. It leads all other states with 514,208 aliens. California is second with 412,225, Texas third with 227,254, and Illinois fourth with 166,119.

Success at World's Most Impossible Job

Hammarskjold's Weapon: 'Quiet Diplomacy'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — This slight, blond man from Sweden did not know his own strength. He was looking out of his new office onto the East River. He clenched his fists. He whispered: "I hope I shall survive."

This was the darkest of the dark horses, Dag Hjalmar Agne Carl Hammarskjold in March, 1953, succeeding Trygve Lie as Secretary-General of a drifting United Nations.

Since then, Hammarskjold has, for example:

1. Personally bearded the Red Chinese in Peiping to effect the release of 15 imprisoned American airmen.

2. Personally forged a U.N. armed police force.

3. Personally held back the fire of cross purpose in Egypt.

Hammarskjold has learned considerable in four years about his own strength. And he has forever defined the job of Secretary-General, and perhaps the whole method of the U.N.

The chair he had assumed was supposed to keep order (whatever that means) among an assembly chartered to make sure that nobody's nationalism would be threatened. His salary and expenses: A tax-free $55,000 per year. His assignment: in Lie's words, "The most impossible job in the world."

Hammarskjold, however, turned out to be more than the U.N. asked. The people he works with at the glass domino on New York's East Side cannot agree on what he is. Only one thing is certain. Nobody wants this human paradox to resign.

And he is a paradox. On the one hand he is firm in his conviction that the way to peaceful negotiation is through "quiet diplomacy." He proclaims this conviction even in the midst of a flamboyant appearing move.

On the day of his unprecedented flight to Peiping and U.N.-unrecognized Red China, a reporter suggested: "This trip will be spectacular."

Hammarskjold shook his head sadly. "Too spectacular," he said.

This trip, however, showed a profound change in him. In part, the weaknesses of the U.N. charter had taught him strength. In part, he has always been tempered like Swedish steel to needle relentlessly for what he wants. In all, he was learning to build on personal leadership.

But to newsmen assigned to him, he is still poor copy. His official statements are too tightly phrased for further questioning. And his personal life—a 51-year-old bachelor with an eight-room Park Avenue apartment—has been sacrificed to his official life. And worst of all for a publicity-fed world, he is a man who can walk into a crowd and disappear.

To the handful of men who shape international policy, he has made a bloodshot mark of man who will go without sleep (and keep them from sleep, too) until he has forced a decision or compromise or resolution.

His subordinates who know him personally admit that he is ambitious and hard-driving. But they say it is his sensitivity that gains him access to the feelings around him and thus to the ends he wants.

Close U.N. observers say it is the weak structure of the organization that has forced him to perfection as an arbiter in his office—or in Peiping or Egypt—among contending nations.

His own background, however, points to the new and lasting sense he has given to the Secretary-Generalship.

His father had been Sweden's Prime Minister who had kept his nation out of World War I.

By 1953, Dag Hammarskjold himself could look back on his own 48 years in such posts as Sweden's Deputy Foreign Minister, delegate to the formation of the Marshall Plan, chairman of governors of the Bank of Sweden, member of the Board of Foreign Exchange.

One strain runs through most of his career: His experience had taught him to deal skillfully with small groups of policy-makers out of the public eye.

It was this skill and a Garbo-famous despair at publicity that he brought to the U.N. under the name of "quiet diplomacy."

It was his facility to disappear into a crowd that helped elect him Secretary-General by a United Nations already wary of strong personal leadership.

Within four years, however, Hammarskjold had developed a strong personal leadership over the U.N. It was a new definition for "the most impossible job in the world." And it makes up in executive ability what will become a precedent for new men to follow.

Dutch Vie With Sea for Shoreline Area

The Dutch recently scored another victory in their continuing battle against the North Sea when they blocked off 200 more square miles of the Zuider Zee.

In time 1,000 new farms will be created in this newly reclaimed area.

The Gold Coast of West Africa ranks sixth among the world's major gold producing areas, according to present ratings.

Unveil Counter for Check-Outs

Mechanical Device Hurries Up Service in Grocery Store

CHICAGO (INS) — A new mechanized "check-out" counter for those long supermarket lines has been unveiled in Chicago.

The counter, developed by a machine company, is expected to take the wait out of checking-out by some 25 to 30 per cent.

* * *

The mechanical counter is composed of three sections.

The first, a conveyor belt, brings the groceries within the in the second section; a moveable bin.

In the third section, grocery bags are being opened automatically from a pile and as soon as the order is filled, the cashier pushes a button and the whole load is carried into the bag.

cashier's reach. After ringing up the price, she places each item

TIPS AT ANGLE

As the machine returns to starting position, the bag is tipped at a 50 degree angle, and the customer picks it up and is on her way.

* * *

The operation takes only a few seconds and is so gentle, the company says, that items like eggs, light bulbs and bottles can be packed without breakage.

The machine was placed on display at a convention in Chicago. The counter will be ready for use in early 1957, officials said.

Suez Trouble Changes Entire Picture

America's Foreign Trade Boomed, Statistically, in '56

By WALTER BREEDER JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — The year 1956 was a suspenseful one for the nation's foreign trade.

For a time it looked like the most prosperous year in the history of this country's participation in international commerce. And statistically speaking, it probably was. But political developments overseas raised ominous questions for the future.

During most of 1956 U.S. goods moved across the seas in ever increasing volume. Exports boomed as never before. American companies, expecting the boom to gain even more momentum, opened sales offices in virtually every non-Communist country on the globe.

But the dispute over the Suez Canal and Middle East oil brutally altered the picture. Rosy forecasts for 1957 were tossed aside. Estimates of U.S. sales abroad were revised downward.

With the Suez blocked by sunken wrecks, long-established East-West trade routes were disrupted. Shipping costs shot skyward; commodity prices soared. Europe, deprived of its normal supply of cheap and plentiful oil from the Middle East, turned to the United States.

Besides costing more, however, the oil from the Western hemisphere had to be paid for in U.S. dollars. This added to the strain on the economies of Britain and France, already sorely taxed by the military campaign in Egypt. It also put a damper on U.S. exports. Europe had been Uncle Sam's biggest customer. Before Suez, it had been buying American machinery, chemicals, wheat, cotton and other exports to the tune of 4½ billion dollars worth a year. Now this customer was on the verge of going bankrupt.

The one big hope was the assurance that the United States would not permit its European allies to sink into economic ruin. Basing their forecasts on the assumption that Uncle Sam would come to Europe's rescue, industrialists attending the annual convention of the National Foreign Trade Council hopefully predicted a modest rise of 5 or 6 per cent in total U.S. exports in the coming year.

U.S. commercial exports in 1957 would total a record 18 billion dollars, against 17 billions in 1956 and slightly over 14 billions in 1955.

Imports would decline slightly, from a record 13 billions in 1956 to around 12½ billions (they had totaled 11⅛ billions in 1955).

Princeton college was known as the College of New Jersey until 1896.

Says Wife OKd Killing Family

Despondent Father Held in Shooting of Spouse, Two Small Children

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Murder charges will be brought against a financially harassed and ill father who said he shot his wife and two children to death with his wife's agreement, State Atty. George Brautigam said today.

Leslie Edward McClure, 52, said he intended to kill himself with the same .22-caliber pistol but police, summoned by his pastor, arrived before he could do it.

McClure underwent psychiatric tests after the shooting yesterday and was then placed in city jail to await a preliminary hearing.

He admitted shooting to death his wife Ruth, 41, and their children, Anna Laura, 22 months, and Leslie Edward II, 7 months. Each had been hit with two bullets. Mrs. McClure was pregnant.

McClure told police:

"I have cancer and my wife and I were despondent over debts. We talked it over and decided there was no other way out. I shot the little boy and then the little girl and then my wife and I prayed before I shot her."

He said he telephoned his father in Swissdale, Pa., told him what had happened, and then telephoned his minister, Dr. Lewis Head of Coral Gables Methodist Church and told him what he had done.

Head said McClure, an irregular churchgoer for several years, had threatened to kill himself with the gun's one remaining bullet as soon as the telephone call was completed. Head notified police, who arrived to find McClure taking a headache powder in the kitchen of their home.

Stale Bread a Success

LOS ANGELES—Stale bread is being converted into tasty tidbits. One West Coast bakery dices the stiff, dry pieces of old bread, puts a hard, butter coating around them and sells them for a dime a bag. Demand has exceeded supply, and now the bakery may have to make stale bread on purpose!

THEY'D WALK A MILE FOR A GALLON OF GAS — A good thing this London gas station owner sells to "regular" customers only, because here he's confronted with a pair of very irregular non-regular ones. Somebody dreamed up this circus-camel gag to get a chuckle out of British autoists' plight. Gasoline is so rationed in Britain that travel is limited to 200 miles per month.

'Ride Integrated,' Say Negro Leaders

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Bus patrons were expected to continue "riding integrated" today as Negroes replaced their boycott of segregated buses with a campaign to sit where they please.

The City Commission ordered the Cities Transit Co., which operates the buses, to enforce the state and local segregation law. But the order came late Christmas Eve and the buses were idle for the holiday.

Some Negroes took front seats in buses Monday and met little opposition. Their leaders said they would continue to do so even though Tallahassee's segregation laws have not been ruled invalid.

The bus company has said it plans a test in the courts to determine whether the segregation requirements in its franchise are valid in light of the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling against public transportation.

Tornadoes have been reported from every state in the United States except Nevada, weather records show.

Triple Blessings Come to Couple on Christmas

"It's a swell Christmas present but we never expected anything like this," said Nicholas Conti, 29, of the Bronx.

The Christmas Day births swelled the Conti family offspring to seven, including 4-year-old twins. The mother, Philomena, 31, and the triplets were reported in good condition.

"We'll get along even with seven mouths to feed," said Conti.

The triplets all weighed slightly over three pounds each and were transferred to Lincoln Hospital, Bronx, as a routine precautionary measure.

Vacate Hotels, Peiping Urged

Newspaper Hits Lack of Space for Travelers in Chinese Capital

HONG KONG (INS) — Red China's government departments in Peiping have been taken to task for monopolizing hotels for use as hostels, guest houses and even hospitals.

"Please move out of hotel," urged the Communist newspaper, Ta Kung Pao, pointing out that it has become extremely difficult for ordinary visitors to the capital city to find hotel accommodations.

The newspaper added that considering the latest conditions the problem of hotel accommodation was no small problem at all.

FIND SOLUTION

The solution, said the newspaper, lies in the cancellation of the leases for hotels by government departments.

"Government departments," stressed the Ta Kung Pao, "are organizations to serve the people . . . They should give consideration to the interests of the people in every respect and at any time.

Contrary to this spirit is the long-term leases on hotels by government departments, creating difficulties for travelers."

The newspaper said the situation causes not only inconvenience to travelers but also waste of money to the state.

'Mad Bomber' Strikes Library

No Damage by Dud; Five Phone Threats Proved to Be False

NEW YORK (AP) — A flurry of telephoned bomb threats has spurred police to an intensified campaign to find New York's "Mad Bomber."

Five bomb threats were telephoned last night. Police searched but found no bombs in two Manhattan theaters, a Bronx theater, a Manhattan YMCA and a Brooklyn tin can corporation.

Police termed the latest flurry of bomb scares the work of crackpots other than the Mad Bomber, the man who has plagued this city's police with more than 30 homemade bombs in the last 16 years.

Only once before, as far as police records indicate, has the authentic Mad Bomber telephoned an advance warning. That was last May 2 at Manhattan's Radio City Music Hall when one of his bombs was found unexploded after a telephone call.

No one was hurt or injured as police removed the device and later transported it to Ft. Tilden, Queens. Army ordnance experts are to detonate it tomorrow.

Police have labeled the device a dud—the seventh dud planted by the Mad Bomber during his career. They said the inexpensive watch used for the timing device, rather than any defect in the explosive or fuse, was probably responsible for its failure to explode.

* * *

No one has been killed by the more than 20 Mad Bomber devices that have been exploded since 1940. A number of persons have been injured, though none seriously.

Rat Fight Continues

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Rats outnumber people two to one in this Federal District of four million souls. And each rat does $8 in damage each year, says Dr. Alberto Enriquez Chavez, head of a continuing campaign against rats. Eight years ago the rats were ahead 3-1, Chavez says.

No Sanctuary There

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Police said Raymond Cecil Gibson, taxi cab dispatcher, outran a scout car and reached what he thought was a safe refuge—but he was still arrested. Officers finally convinced Gibson they could arrest him even though he beat them to his home and drove up in the yard.

Almost a Hot Dog

CHICAGO (AP)—Little Joe, a pup, almost became a hot dog when he disappeared during a cake-baking episode in the Lawrence Egness household. A search until 2 a. m. the next day failed to locate him until Mrs. Egness heard a whimpering in the kitchen and opened the oven door. There was Little Joe, a bita unnerved but otherwise okay.

Don't You Say It!

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas presents a solid front against the rest of the world, but at home, folks spur each other a bit. In Dallas, when the weather's sticky, warm and humid, the headlines say its "another day like Houston," the state's biggest city down on the Gulf Coast.

Red Cow Protected by Red Tape

Neighbors Buy Milk; Send Protests; 1 Year Later, the Cow Is Still There

MOSCOW (INS) — While Moscow's state dairies cut fresh milk with powdered to stretch the supply, city fathers are making efforts to run an independent dairy out of business.

There's no law against selling milk from your own cow in Russia. But Moscow milkmaid Anna Dronova operates practically in the center of town—12 minutes by subway from the Kremlin.

She keeps the cow—and calf—in a shed in the apartment house courtyard. This violates a law barring livestock from the city limits.

But in a nation where authority is proverbially swift and terrible in its execution, the orderly processes of law and order sometimes dawdle.

In suburban areas of the capital which are not built up, the authorities wink at the cattle bans. Housewives appreciate a reliable supply of milk which they can't count on from the state stores. No one minds if a cow boards next door.

But Mrs. Dronova's neighbors have been bombarding city hall with protests:

Not only does Mrs. Dronova milk bossy four times a day—clanking in and out of the house with her milk pails every six hours, beginning at midnight—but she even prepares meals for the livestock in the flat's communal kitchen.

"Moscow Pravda" reports that the courtyard cowshed has inspired a "lively correspondence" during the past several months between the irate neighbors and various city hall and district officials.

A year ago the district veterinarian advised the ruffled neighbors that Mrs. Dronova had been ordered to remove the herd within 30 days.

The neighbors tired of waiting by March and addressed a new protest to the city vet. He initialled and acknowledged the petition but nothing further was heard.

In April, the district authorities again assured the complainants that the cattle were practically on their way out of town.

But, although petitions, protests and official assurances continue to flow, so does the grade-A from Mrs. Dronova's courtyard dairy.

"Moscow Pravda" concludes wryly:

"We understand that the cow takes no interest in the official correspondence, but the petition-filers and official-memo writers must realize by now that there's not much sense in such paper shuttling—it's a waste of paper and ink."

Jail 'Watchdog' Member

TAIPEI (AP) — Ho Chi-chou, a member of Nationalist China's top "watchdog" body, was sentenced today to eight years in jail for accepting part of a $4,500 bribe.

Ho was the first member of the Control Yuan convicted on criminal charges. Twenty-two other convicted accomplices were sent to jail for terms ranging from four months to five years.

Cons Are Repeaters

WASHINGTON — FBI surveys show that 63.8 per cent of the criminals receiving sentences of more than a year are repeaters. A check of fingerprints of arrested persons received in the FBI's identification division revealed that 70 per cent have records of previous arrests, according to J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director.

Pulls Panic Button

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Quick thinking Louis Osworth turned a fire alarm into a panic button for two attackers. Osworth shook off his assailants and pulled the alarm at a nearby fire box. The pair fled before two fire trucks and a police cruiser rolled up to answer the call.

Talks About Christmas Back on Ohio Farm

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK, —On Christmas Day, when the weather's crisp, I like to walk over to Riverside Drive, and look out at the Hudson River and over to the New Jersey shore—and think of my Dad.

I remember the struggles he had, back on the farm, to come through every year as Santa Claus.

Doubtless there are other fathers who have been struggling similarly this past week. There always will be.

Times always seemed to be hard back in Ohio at Christmastime.

Two or three days before, Dad would shake his head sadly.

"I guess I'll have to sell a load of corn," he'd say grimly.

I was old enough to appreciate the economics. He didn't want to sell the corn now because the price of corn was too low. And yet—

Dad, who was young then, with a flash of red in his hair —they even called him "Bricky"—would hitch up the team. He would drive off "to town" with the wagon of grain. My two sisters and I would watch his departure with great—joy—another Christmas was assured.

A few hours later he'd drive the empty wagon down the pike back to our house. But it only looked empty. For the wagon-bed would be covered with Christmas presents he'd bought with the few dollars he grain elevator had paid him for the corn.

Dad might even be puffing a stogie he'd bought for himself.

This tranaction he'd pulled off at the grain elevator would have made us comparatively wealthy and he'd have bought presents for Granddad and Grandma Wilson, too. Some time Christmas Day we would go to their house.

Granddad Wilson, a cut-cup, would have the presents for us kids in a battered old valise. He would get ready to open it to hand out the presents—and we would all be panicky with suspense.

But the valise wouldn't open.

"Oh, Molly!" Grandad would groan to Grandma Wilson, looking over his glasses. "Isn't that dreadful now? Pshaw!"

"What's wrong, Charlie?" Grandma'd say.

"Pshaw!" Granddad would repeat. "I lost the key to the valise with all the presents in it! Pshaw!"

We kids would collapse with disappointment. My sisters might cry. I would try to be brave.

"Now, Charlie, quit teasing the children!" Grandma Wilson'd say finally. "Give them their presents!" Whereupon Granddad Wilson would discover that the valise wasn't locked at all. And we were soon in a delirium unwrapping the presents that Granddad thrust out at us.

It was a pretty simple Christmas we had 40 years ago, judged by present customs. I mean the cider, for example, wasn't even hard.

But maybe it was a pretty good foundation, for the family tug has stuck with me all these decades since. My father died a couple of years ago of a stroke and this is the first time I've ever written about him.

Dad gave me a lot of things in additions to his feeling for Christmas. One of them was a Christmas present — a small typewriter when I was in my teens. That decided my life's work. Poor Dad — he thought I knew how to operate one. He didn't know that I never had and never would — learn the touch system.

Try at Local Level on AFL-CIO Merger

DETROIT (AP) — Another attempt to merge the AFL and CIO on a local level will be considered here Thursday.

The executive board of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor has scheduled a meeting for that day to discuss a merger bid from the Wayne County CIO Council.

AFL and CIO state and county councils have until next Dec. 5 to merge. If they don't, the national AFL-CIO will lift their separate constitutions and issue a joint charter.

So far no merger has been completed on the state level in Michigan.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-I-M-U-L-A-T-E it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

The Man In The Moon

THE MAN IN THE MOON

How many times have you looked up at the moon and said: "Look, there's the man in the moon!"?

According to an old legend, the moon man peeks out at night and counts the stars. Sometimes, when he sees a star not shining too brightly, he grabs it and tosses it away. The discarded star whizzes down to earth. Many people call it a shooting star.

If you want the moon man for your collection, paste this picture down on cardboard and color with crayons or paints. Make the moon yellow with dark orange features and the stars various colors. Dress the man brightly and give him a white beard.

Cut around the three sides of the door on the heavy lines and fold open on the hinged dotted side. Now slip the man behind the door and paste the piece in place by the flaps.

Tell of Listening Post Plagues

Some TV Stations Lower the Volume on Commercials

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sensitive souls may turn a deaf ear to this, but the Federal Communications Commission says that some radio and TV stations actually turn down their volume for commercials.

At least, that's the finding made public after a special study of complaints from Congress and the public that broadcasters were taking undue pains to insure that their commercials are heard.

The Commission said in its annual report that 659 stations were checked earlier this year in an effort to determine whether volume was being turned up while the sponsor's message hit the airwaves.

Just the opposite, the Commission found.

Of all the stations monitored, there was only one instance of what engineers call "overmodulation" during commercials exclusively. There were 14 instances of overmodulation during both program and announcements.

However, during the same period there were 15 cases of undermodulation—four of which occurred during the commercials.

The FCC also said its listening posts were plagued during the year by what it called a form of "underground operation" by small boat owners and operators.

According to the Commission, the boat radios in some cases are used for "obscene and profane language."

The report added: "These law violators avoid identification by a form of 'underground operation' using nicknames, previously agreed upon, but consistently avoiding the use of their call signs which are required by Commission rules and international treaty."

FCC monitoring stations, in their continual task of policing the airways, also turned up these electronic oddities:

A coastal radio station in New York reported severe interference on the Marine distress channel. Engineers found the culprit was an electric fence in which sparks were jumping to a chicken wire coop where dogs were kept.

Near San Francisco a complaint of interference to a West Coast Radio station was traced to one of the company's own transmitters about 15 miles away.

One day, Air Force and Coast Guard officials in the East and Midwest suddenly began hearing weak SOS distress signals. FCC mobile units quickly traced the broadcasts to a factory at Kokomo, Ind., which was bench-testing small automatic distress transmitters used in planes and boats.

In another case, shortwave radio listeners began hearing an illegal station which identified itself as the "Phantom of Fairlawn." The Commission said the signal was quickly traced to Fairlawn, N. J., "where the culprit was found to be a man who apparently had been imbibing too freely."

But the cruelest blow of all was struck in Idaho, where someone intentionally jammed reception at an unattended mountaintop TV relay point—and thereby blocked a statewide broadcast of the first world series game.

Auto's Plunge Kills 3 Riders

3 Others Hurt as Car Hits Boulder, Tumbles 500 Feet in West

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Seconds after two boulders slipped from a slope above onto the Angeles Crest Highway, a car carrying six persons rounded a curve, hit one of the rocks and plunged over a 500-foot embankment.

Killed in the accident yesterday were Kenneth McRae, 33, Palmdale, Calif.; his son Bruce, 8; and Mrs. Elsie Beelow, 54, Minneapolis.

A rescue party said gay Christmas packages lay among the bodies at the bottom of the canyon. Another rockslide occurred while some 20 men were bringing out the injured in basket stretchers, but no one was hit by the tumbling rocks.

The survivors of the accident said the Beelows were visiting the McRae's at their Palmdale home and the two families were en route to a Christmas dinner at the home of Mrs. J. F. Williams in Garden Grove, some 60 miles from Palmdale.

The system of type measurement in which one point is 1/72nd of an inch was adopted in the U.S. in 1878.

DIRTY WORK AFOOT — Mothers and teachers normally frown on kids who play in mud, but these Liberian schoolboys have full approval for their dirty work. In rhythm to a song they're singing, the boys are tromping out mud to make mud blocks for the construction of a new village school at Dingama.

Yards at Full Steam to Fill Demand for Ships

LONDON — The order books of the world's shipyards July 1 were at their highest point since the speeded-up shipbuilding of World War II.

Experience

If all families were alike as two peas in a pod, they might request a standardized funeral service. But the truth is that families are not all alike . . . And that's why the experience of our staff in helping families in all walks of life is so important. This ability rests not alone upon mere "book learning" but upon genuine service to the families in this community.

Hal Boyle Says:

Start Shopping Now for Unusual 1957 Gifts

NEW YORK (AP)—You now have 364 days to brood until next Christmas.

Are you still kicking yourself around mentally for the mistakes you made this year, the bargains you passed by because at the last moment you got suddenly stingy? Do something about your '57 Christmas shopping now.

Of course, fool that you are, you probably skipped right by the offering of the "Treatise on Falconry," written by H. Schlegel, and published in Dusseldorf between 244 and 1853. The price tag upset you—a mere $695 at that. Well, for $3.50 and freight charges, I'll be glad to sell you my own unpublished book on hunting.

This is it's title:

"The story of nine bitter years in which a young, not unhandsome man from the Middle East spent trying in 12,82 ways—some while armed, others while barefooted—to destroy a single family of mice that harassed him and his child bride while they dwelt in a third-floor walkup in a Greenwich Village building without plumbing or heating."

BIG BARGAIN

In another century, the way pulp paper costs are rising, this manuscript could be a real buy at $35.

Are you still sad because you slipped up on the chance to buy for a mere $395 a wonderful 18th Century orrery?

In the old days, they were widely sold under the slogan, "A home is but a hut without an orrery.'

Actually, an orrery is no more than an early form of planetarium, a small boxed mechanical gadget by which you could readily show the movements of the earth, sun and planets.

How often must you have visited a bosom friend's home and seen him visibly lose caste because a guest said, "Confidentially, I haven't checked the movements of the sun, planets and earth lately, old boy. Mind if I settle my doubts once and for all by a quick peek at your orrery?"

THAT FINAL TOUCH

Your friend was fairly caught. He had a three-car garage, a house with four bathrooms—but no orrery, that final little touch that makes a house a home.

Why not give all your friends an orrery for Christmas? With the help of a few astronomy professors from Harvard, you can probably turn out several in a year.

There are plenty of other sound tips on how to plan ahead right now for a wonderful Christmas next year.

Take your boss, for example. Did you hand him a small packet of two-for-a-quarter cigars? Start saving for a real surprise for him—a $7.50 cigar that will take him 5½ hours to smoke. Yep, they're on the market, and you don't have to stand in line for them right now.

Looking for an unusual gift for your wife? The Necchi firm put out a solid gold $5,000 sewing machine. With a little pleading they might sell you one. The beauty of an unusual gift like this is that if your wife sews her own clothes in four or five generations the machine will pay for itself.

BLAME YOURSELF

He should start writing letters to Santa Claus immediately—and sign his own name.

Personally, I want nothing but a measly shirt. It's made of vicuna fabric "so rare that only one out of four million persons living today can own this shirt."

So what? There are always two classes.

Only 85 of the shirts will be made in 1957. Each has six gold buttons. Each shirt retails at $595, and they're no cheaper by the dozen.

* * *

The nice thing about the shirts is they don't have to be thrown away when dirty. They can be cleaned and used over and over again. The gold buttons are even washable.

Seek Students for Night School

Early Enrollment Asked for Adult-Level Courses in Waterford

People wishing to enroll in adult night school courses in Waterford Township are asked to make application as soon as possible in order to get the classes organized before opening night, Jan. 22, Director Wayne McMeans has announced.

This will be the second semester of classes which will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesdays at Crary Junior high school, 501 Cass Lake Rd.

Adults interested in the course may enroll by telephone, however, payment of the registration fee must be made in advance, McMeans said. In the event an insufficient number of students enroll to make up a class, the fee of ten meetings of $5 will be refunded in full.

Courses offered at Crary high are: auto mechanics, art, arts and crafts, home decorating, home landscaping and planting, fine arts appreciation, beginning and advanced sewing, knitting, beginning and advanced typing, shorthand, office machines, bookkeeping, public speaking, conversational French and Spanish and reading improvement.

Most Inconvenient

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP) — When Bill Robinson's car collided with a passenger train at nearby Montcalm, he was hurled through his windshield, into a narrow opening between two bridges and down a 15-foot embankment into Crane Creek. He waded out with only a scratched finger.

Oilman's Kidnaper, Boss Shannon Dies

BRIDGEPORT, Tex. (AP)—R. G. (Boss) Shannon, who spent 11 years in prison for his part in the kidnaping of oilman Charles F. Urschel in 1933, and whose stepdaughter married George (Machine Gun) Kelly, died yesterday at the age of 79.

Shannon died at the Bridgeport Hospital. He was stricken with a heart attack at his 535-acre farm near Paradise, Tex. in November.

Shannon maintained he and his family were forced to guard Urschel at the Shannon farm after Kelly and Albert Bates, both of whom died in prison, kidnaped the oil man at his home in Oklahoma City.

Doctor Advises on Life in 50s

Eat Fruit and Honey, Take Country Walks for Longevity

PARIS (INS) — A French physician believes that people over 50 should go back to school to learn how to keep on living.

Dr. Rene Wibaux, an expert on old age phenamena, told his greying colleagues of the Parish Academy of Medicine that life after the half-century mark calls for wholly new habits in eating, taking exercise and other daily activities.

These habits, he suggested, should be taught in specialized centers.

He compared the care needed to preserve health after 50 to "the attention required by a delicate garden."

Dr. Wibaux is one of the founders of the Center for Gerontological Studies and Research. Gerontology is a comparatively new branch of medicine specialized in the physical welfare of aged people.

His main advice to persons who have gone over the 50-year "hump" is to shun tobacco and alcoholic beverages.

He also recommends a balanced diet, that avoids foods rich in nitrogen and lacking in vitamins.

Fruit and honey, said Dr. Wibaux, should be the chosen foods for those who intend to live close to 100 years.

He has coined the name of "seniculture" for his overall blueprint designed to help people to live longer.

This program calls for regular daily habits, the development of hobbies, lots of sleep and gaiety.

Dr. Wibaux said people over 50 should avoid violent exercise, despite some individual successes in prolonging life by continued participation in vigorous sports.

Dr. Wibaux recommends instead long walks in the country.

Patient Husband

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Alberto Perez told police his wife had given him a hard life for years. But he made no official complaint, he said, until she beat him with a broomstick and then made off with some of the most valuable objects in the household.

Stills Stolen

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Noah Carter figures thieves who looted a tourist exhibit on U. S. highway A1A near here had something beside larceny on their minds. They took parts of four stills used to explain to visitors how the moonshiner piles his illegal trade.

Grand Rapids Gives Aid

New Year Party to Host 500 Former Alcoholics

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center has invited a group of 500 former patients, their wives and families to a New Year's Eve open house.

Morris Barrett, director of the center, said yesterday:

"It's really in answer to the wives of our ex-patients who have been asking where they can go that evening with their husbands where no alcoholic beverages will be served.

"We tried such a party last New Year's Eve on a small scale, but this is our first attempt to bring all the patients back at one time."

Barrett said party refreshments will include soft drinks, "the usual coffee," sandwiches and probably cakes, cookies and light candies.

Besides group games, Barrett said individual tables with four or five chairs at each will be provided for husbands and wives to discuss progress of former alcoholics in conquering "the habit."

"You'd be surprised at how much group therapy takes place in discussions like that," he said.

The party is scheduled from 7 to 11 p.m.

Barrett said the early close was set in hopes that "guests will be home or on their way home by midnight, lessening the temptation to 'take one' as the New Year starts."

Former Refugee Raises Money for Hungarians

Pfc. Henn H. Liiv and his mother and grandmother were deported from their home in Estonia in 1944 to work in a German munitions plant. After the war, they were classified as displaced persons until 1949 when they were able to come to this country.

Liiv later graduated from college with a mechanical engeneering degree and then entered the Army.

To help the present-day refugees, he conducted a personal campaign among his fellow soldiers and installed a collection box for small donations.

Baruch Gift to Buy Islands

Financier Donates Cash to Make Possible Area for Park in N.Y.

NEW YORK (INS) — A $10,000 gift from financier Bernard Baruch for the purchase of two desolate islands in lower New York Bay has assured the city of a 250-acre park area for picnicking and fishing.

City Park Commissioner Robert Moses has announced plans for acquiring 11½-acre Hoffman Island, three-quarters of a mile southeast of South Beach on Staten Island, and 2½-acre Swinburne Island, about 4,000 feet south of Hoffman.

Swinburne and Hoffman Island will be connected with department of sanitation fill, Moses said, and when the island is completed between 1960 and 1956 it will provide a recreation area one-quarter the size of Central Park.

The islands will be purchased from the federal government under the surplus property act which provides for their sale at half the assessed valuation of $20,000.

The general service administration reportedly has assured the park department it would approve the sale of the islands to the city.

The islands would be reached from South Beach by ferry or private craft, with docking space for small boats.

First used as quarantine stations for immigrants in the 1870s, the islands were abandoned in the 1920s.

Then in 1938 more buildings were erected on Hoffman for a U. S. maritime service training school, which was closed in 1947.

Judging to Start in Yule Contest

Waterford, Clarkston Area Homes Decorated for Lighting Competition

The Waterford Township and Clarkston area is just a little brighter this year, due to the first Christmas Lighting Contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Enthusiasm is being shown by the large number of homeowners who have registered. The deadline was Saturday night, and judging will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, between 7 and 10 p.m.

Four judges have been chosen to pick the winners. They are Frederick Poole, James Harrington, Robert Waters and Don Petiprin.

The three homes displaying the best lighted Christmas displays will receive placques from the Jaycees and the best of the three will be entered in the General Electric $5,000 national contest, according to Frank Richardson, chairman for the event. Arthur Salley is co-chairman.

Money Bag Returns, Police Hold Janitor

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP) — A bag containing $27,000 in tax payments turned up Christmas Day on the desk of Edward B. Becker, Lafayette County tax collentor, as mysteriously as it disappeared Monday.

Delbert Porter, 62-year-old janitor, was held in jail. Sheriff Lambert Schlueter said Porter would be charged with theft.

Schlueter said Porter was given the keys to Becker's office yesterday and sent inside to look for the bag. He returned in 15 minutes and reported no results. Becker and Porter's attorney then went into the office and found the bag on the desk.

Porter was sent into the office to look for the money after taking a lie detector test. Sheriff Schlueter said he showed a reaction every time there was a question about $1,200. That was the amount of cash in the bag.

The 1955 U. S. wheat crop of 938 million bushels was the smallest since 1953.

Work Fast if You're After TV's Easy Loot

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—This is the day when the generous among us are sure to feel a little pale in the pocketbook — the day on which there is a general awareness that, although money isn't everything, it would be comforting to lay hold of some before January first.

There are two places a man can go to obtain unearned money, in case he has overspent the bankroll in a wild surge of Christmas spirit.

First, a bank or loan company, but this is considered not wholly satisfactory as these outfits frankly insist upon being refunded at some future time. That is an inconvenient arrangement at best.

The second source of easy loot is the radio or TV quiz show. Here you can get your money free and clear if you're wholesome, smart, talented, deserving and possessed of a lucky star and some favorably situated sunspots.

"But do it fast," says Bert Parks, dean of giveaway-type money, "because I don't think the prizes are going UP from here. Americans are getting sort of blase about the big money now. We've hit the peak, the saturation point.

VETERAN EMCEE

Mr. Parks, a towering mass of animation (he talks like the boy next door who has just gotten all A's), has been emceeing such easy-dough shows as "Break the Bank" and "Stop the Music" for 11 years.

He has given away, he figures, about $7,000,000, and he doesn't think anyone is particularly impressed with the spectacular wad of cash anymore.

"Partly it's the inability to comprehend the value of such large sums," he says, "and partly it's plain, ordinary evolution.

"I've been through three cycles of quiz shows already—first concentrating on guest stars, music and dancing. Then we progressed to the concentration on zany prizes —like eight years ago I gave away Cab Calloway's orchestra for a night, and followed it up with an elephant; every family should have an elephant, don't you think?

"The third cycle, of course, was the mounting bankroll, which created a big stir for awhile. But money will never replace entertainment and drama or even live elephants, any way you look at it.

ANOTHER CYCLE

"So I'm looking for the quiz show to go on, but back into another cycle. Money's not so much."

In keeping with his theory, Bert has recently begun his third pick-your-brains type TV program. Called "Giant Step," it is a quiz show for kids, and offers them merely four-year college scholarships and trips to foreign lands for prizes.

"It's the best, most sensible award we could think of to make to youngsters. Well, not exactly the best, but the second best. I've got a dream about the perfect quiz show. It would be the greatest, the peak. You couldn't beat it!"

It is?

"You'd make the questions real easy, so even a child could win. And what you'd give away is security—freedom from war, freedom from poverty, freedom from oppression. What a jackpot!"

Then Bert Parks looked suddenly subdued.

"But you could never sell it," he said quietly. "All those technical difficulties."

BETTER GRAB IT NOW—Bert Parks, emcee of numerous radio and television quiz shows, believes that jackpots will grow smaller in the future. After tracing quizzes through various cycles, Bert has decided that the big-money giveaways have reached the saturation point and will start fading away soon.

Anniversary's Cheaper When They're in Threes

But friends and relatives simplified matters by throwing one big party for her to celebrate Christmas, her 72nd birthday and a golden wedding anniversary, all on the same day.

It Wasn't Santa Claus; Below's the Because

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — An early Christmas day visitor startled the William C. Robinson family. He was a pajama-clad stranger who rang the bell and walked into the house.

It later was learned the man was an overnight guest at a neighbor's house. He started walking in his sleep early that morning.

Keloa Alumnae Gathers

Carol Esser of Oneida road was in charge of the guest book at the first Alumnae Tea held Sunday afternoon by members of Keloa Klub. Shown signing the book is Lynne Benter vice president of the organization, who attended with her mother, Mrs. Albert C. Benter Jr. Five of the seven charter members of Keloa Klub were also present for the affair.

175 Attend Festive Tea in Pontiac

First Event of Kind for Club Includes 5 Charter Members

One hundred seventy five guests were present, including five of the seven charter members; Dr. Eleanor Gillespie of Sturgis, Mrs. Everett Johnson of Bedford, Ind., Mrs. Eugene Eisenhour of Lansing, Mrs. Wayne deBeauclair of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Harold Goldberg.

Seven pages today in Women's Section

Among the senior sponsors attending were Iama Hook, Mrs. Frederick Ward and Turry Welden. As they arrived, each was presented with a corsage by Gail Blamy, general chairman for the tea.

Keloa Klub was organized in 1929 at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Juliette Moore Tibble on Franklin boulevard, with Iama C. Hook serving as first sponsor. The group has welcomed many new members throughout the years since its organization, and has had an active part in the social service work in the community.

MANY CONTRIBUTIONS

Each year members contribute to the Needlework Guild, and make dolls for the Salvation Army to be distributed to children at Christmas. Birthdays of the children at the Oakland County Children's Home are remembered each month by members.

Arranging the decorations were Judy Inman, Sue Whitfield, Sue Uligan and Sharon Clark. Lynne Benter and Betsy Bradley handled invitations for the affair.

SERVED ON COMMITTEES

Serving on the refreshment committee were Beverly Linquist, Judy Lauckner, Marcia Galbraith and Eileen Taylor. Sonja Ryan, Linda Gaylord, Sarah Hetherington and Carol Esser were in charge of name tags for the guests.

Wellesley Club Plans Luncheon

A luncheon meeting will be held by the Birmingham Wellesley Club Jan. 4. Carol Roehm, of Birmingham, foreign student adviser and director of chapel at Wellesley College, will speak on news of the college.

Mrs. Richard H. Marr will open her home on Fairfax road, Birmingham, for the 12:30 p.m. meeting. Members of the Detroit Wellesley Club are also welcome to attend.

Success Erases Post-Yule Blues

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The day after Christmas is usually a bad letdown.

To the men and women with outside jobs, it means picking up the pieces at the office, and maybe smoothing out the ruffled feathers from office parties.

And to one of my readers, Adelaide L., it has usually meant, as she puts it, "reviewing my life just once more and thinking what a failure I am.

"I work as a secretary," Adelaide writes, "and on the side—because I hate secretarial work—I keep trying to set up a home business or sell a homemade product. Year after year I've tried, but it never has worked out.

NO CAPITAL

"In the first place, I have no capital to speak of, so I've never been able to undertake anything really ambitious.

"And usually, the day after Christmas finds me in debt, and realizing that another year has passed and here I am, still in this job.

"But this year," her letter continues, "it looks as though things might be different.

"This year, as usual, I made the presents I gave people, I love to sew and I hit on a charming cocktail apron. I worked out a beautiful design so that the apron transforms a plain dress into a creation.

"I made them up for the nine girls on my Christmas list. The materials are inexpensive, so the gifts didn't cost much at all.

"I did them up in attractive packages, too, and marked them with a Don't - Open - Until - Christmas sticker.

OPENED EARLY

"I mailed them good and early—and it's lucky I did. My friends were sneaky enough to open them the minute they arrived.

"One of the girls wore hers to a party early in December. There she met an acquaintance who owns a specialty shop and who was very much interested in the apron.

"It seems it has certain qualities that make it different from other cocktail aprons—I wouldn't know what! The next thing I knew, I was asked to supply them for the shop.

"We still have lots of the details to work out," Adelaide concludes, "but it's such a wonderful feeling to know that the year ahead will find me occupied in a really successful home project.

"Maybe all the early failures were necessary before I could dream up this successful item!"

What's New in Ski Togs?

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS) — The "continental style" for winter sports is to be trim and neat looking on the snow-slopes but colorful and fanciful in the chalets come evening.

Like the Olympic teams, women should ban fancy styles from their functional sports clothes. In the French Alps, in Switzerland or on the Arlberg, sporty girls wear one-colored snowsuits complemented by a windbreaker or parka against cold and snowfall.

European girls like to look—and feel—"poured" into their skiing trousers, just as they do in sweaters. The "poured in" look can be achieved by wearing costumes made of a new stretchable gabardine fabric now also available in America.

As trousers or skiing costumes these sports clothes fit like a second skin and with the unhampering quality of ballet tights.

For evenings in winter resorts, Paris fashion designers point the way to the smart look with some basic rules:

Choose wide, fancy wool, corduroy or fake-fur skirts and decollete sweaters rather than chiffon, velvet, lace or silk clothes.

Fashion Hint

Cotton jerseys and cotton tweeds are lightweight fabrics that you can look forward to wearing this spring. They appear in resort collections in sportswear and separates.

JOYCE MADELINE SETTER

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Setter of North Francis street announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Madeline, to Norman R. O'Brien Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. O'Brien of Otsego drive. A May wedding is planned.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Thomas Jr. (nee Helen Campbell) of Elkinford drive, announce the birth of a daughter, Suzanne Desare, Dec. 19.

Grandparents of the infant are J. Earl Campbell of Charest street and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas of Highland.

Pontiac Girl Married at Galion, Ohio

Marcella Ann Schalip and James Edward Paul Smithers were married Sunday at Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Galion, Ohio.

Marcella, of Lakefront street, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Schalip of Galion, James, of Ann Arbor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smithers of London, Ont.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of satin, with a fitted bodice fashioned with a round neckline edged in iridescent banding and ending in a deep point in the back. A front panel extended from the bustline to the hem. The floor - length skirt, worn over a hoop, extended into a chapel sweep.

The bride's veil of illusion was secured with a half bonnet of bridal satin trimmed with a scalloped edge and iridescent banding. She carried a white New Testament with a white poinsettia.

Doralene McNelly of Oak Park and Janet Schick were her attendants. They wore dresses of Royal red velvet styled like the bride's gown with a fitted bodice. The gored skirts had a back effect of many folds.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Kenneth Bottoms of Windsor was best man, and ushers were brothers of the bridegroom: Ralph, Frederick and Jerome Smithers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schalip wore a blue gray wool dress with pink accessories. Mrs. Smithers wore a copper colored taffeta dress with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Capital University in Columbus, Ohio. James was graduated from London South Collegiate in London and is now studying geology at the University of Michigan.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Jacksonville, N.C., the bride had changed to a charcoal gray flannel suit with dusty pink accessories. The two will make their home on Lakefront street.

Coverts Fete Son Jack's Bride-to-Be

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Covert of Scott Lake road entertained about 50 of their friends at an open house Sunday evening to introduce their son Jack's fiancee, Suzanne Pickard.

Suzanne and Jack will be married Jan. 19 at First Methodist Church in Royal Oak. The bride-elect's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pickard of Royal Oak.

For the occasion, Mrs. Covert used Christmas decorations throughout their home at Scott Lake. The refreshment table was covered with a Christmas cloth and centered with a gold Christmas centerpiece.

Assisting Mrs. Covert with the open house were Mrs. A. B. Titus of Detroit, Mrs. Harold Smead, Mrs. Roy Sharp, Mrs. Louise Kaniut and Mrs. Douglas Covert.

The Pickards also were introduced at the party.

Chairmen for '57 Announced by Gold Star Group

Mrs. Cecil Briggs, newly elected president of Oakland County Chapter 34, Gold Star Mothers, appointed committee chairmen at the recent meeting and Christmas party.

Mrs. Olive Burgess will head the hospital committee; Mrs. Eva Welch, ways and means; Mrs. Floyd Knickerbocker, membership; Mrs. Clarence Sutton, publicity; Mrs. Luisa Mayotte, sunshine; Mrs. Olin Veatch, telephone and Mrs. Carl Rutherford, social.

Reports were heard on the state board meeting held in Lansing and on hospital work done by the group. Gifts were prepared for the Gold Star Mothers at Soldiers Home in Grand Rapids.

Gifts were exchanged following luncheon and secret pals were revealed.

Blue Star Mothers Hold Yule Party

Members of Blue Star Mothers, Chapter Four, held their Christmas party at the YMCA recently. Tables were decorated with Christmas candles and candies centered with a Christmas cake.

Following dinner, gifts were exchanged. Mrs. Wilbur Fitzthomas, president, presented the chapter with a gift. Mrs. John Yungk was chairman.

Don't Gorge on Holiday Delicacies

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Since Christmas and New Year's have such a short time in between them, we find the festivities overlapping to form a gay but hazardous 10 days or two weeks. Hazardous, that is, so far as our figures are concerned!

I would be the last to advise you to pass up all of the good food during this time, but the first to warn you that if you indulge too enthusiastically and for too long, there will be a big price to pay.

It actually is possible to gain from 10 to 15 pounds during these holiday seasons. Maybe we should allow ourselves only from 5 to 7 pounds.

Here are a few suggestions. If you are at a dinner party do not refuse items. You can take a roll and then leave it. You can go easy on gravy and butter.

You can take moderate or small helpings. You can take two salted nuts instead of a dozen and play with your dessert. We do not have to be conspicuous or miss all of the luscious foods.

But it's advisable to turn down the mixed drinks. Most of these are high in calorie count. Hors d'oeuvres, canapes and dips have a terrific count. Go easy on these items.

When you know that you are going out for dinner or if you are entertaining yourself, cut down on your usual calorie count for the other two meals. If you go to more than one party in one day hold your calories below normal on the next day.

When you watch your diet as a general rule, it is fun to let go once in a while and you have earned the right. The only point I am making is that you can enjoy yourself without going haywire completely. You will thank yourself later on.

If you would like my leaflet, "Count Your Calories," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Wear Out the Rugs, Shake the House"— but Exercise.

Needn't Have Dieting Problem

Best way to guard against a really long stretch of dieting is to get rid of excess pounds when they first show up. If you gain five pounds and show a tendency to keep on going, it's time to call a halt.

You need neither a rigid diet nor a long one at this point; you need self-control and a check-up on the small things that add up to many calories.

For instance, cut out desserts, salad dressings and gravies and limit yourself to one pat of butter a day. Watch the extras — the nibbling at parties and between meals. Stay sternly away from candy and take your coffee black and sugarless.

Elvis Couch Soon to Hold Swooners

Presley Furniture, Due Out in January, to Have No Wiggles

NEW YORK (INS) — Teenage idol Elvis Presley, who made Rock 'n' Roll a national movement, is lending his name to a new line of furniture which Elvis promises "can't wiggle like me."

The Rock 'n' Roll singer selected a mellow amber walnut finish and brass hardware for the straight-lined, uncluttered, modern furniture. When he okayed flared legs and easy-moving metal drawer slides, however, Elvis wisecracked:

"At least they can't accuse me of too much movement in this. The furniture can't wiggle like me."

DESIGN IS DISCREET

Elvis actually picked out an extremely discreet furniture design to carry his name. The flared legs on the case goods resemble Elvis' favorite guitar-slapping stance, but otherwise the furniture is simple modern — no curliques, no wavy lines.

Furniture company officials who today released the first pictures of the "Elvis Presley Furniture" said response has been extraordinary. Orders have already piled in, although the furniture will not be displayed even to store buyers until Jan. 7 in Chicago.

Prices on the line, which should be available to consumers by early spring, will be moderate for modern furniture.

Tables start at about $39, a three-piece bedroom set will sell for about $300, and a dining room set including table, buffet and six chairs will be approximately $340.

Beauty Hint

The usual amount of lipstick is proper, even on extra-warm fall days. Persons accustomed to wearing lipstick look haggard and tired without it.

Sheath-Jacket Costume Makes Traveling Easier

Muriel King's sheath and molded empire jacket is the perfect solution for the traveler who wants to look well dressed at all times without lugging a trunk. It is also the ideal costume for the women who comes into town for the day and stays in to dinner.

Straightlined until the wearer walks, thanks to the fan pleats in the seams, the sheath is easy to wear and make.

The jacket, which is shaped just under the bust, buttons in back and has a standup mandarin collar with a fringed bow. The fringing is repeated on the cuffed sleeves.

For this exclusively sized pattern with accurate perforations for precise matching, choose alpaca, faille, thin wool, raw silk or novelty cotton. From this chart select the one size best for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16⅛
12	35	25	36	16¼
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17⅛
18	40	30	41	17½

To order Pattern 1292, state size, enclose $1. Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y.

Classic Pattern Booklet 12 and all new Pattern Booklet 13-X are available for 50 cents each. Muriel King label available for 25 cents extra with pattern order. If paid by check, add 4 cents.

Eye Care Vital

Persons have been concerned with the care of eyes almost since the dawn of time. The Code of Hammurabi (2250 B. C.) had these pertinent comments on eye care: "If a man destroy the eye of another man, they shall destroy his eye." And, "if a physician open an abscess (in the eye) of a man with a bronze lancet and destroy the man's eye, they shall cut off his fingers."

Takes Peek Into 1957—Fashionwise

This youngest among Paris designers has just shown a collection of spring clothes in the ready-to-wear field which also will be exported to the United States.

Here is what Givenchy, who in a brief two years has climbed to the top rung of the ladder of fame, has in store for American women for 1957:

A "column line" for daytime composed of slim-skirted suits and tunic coats. A "tulip line" for afternoon and evening with bell-skirts worn over corola - shaped petticoats.

The favorite 1957 neckline is a "guillotine cut," a collarless style reaching to the neck just like a classic sweater. Sleeves are either absent or of kimono style and short, or narrow and three-quarter length.

The waistline is back where nature put it. Skirts are obviously longer with an average skirt hem 13 inches off the floor.

The most exciting spring styles are hip-length capes of printed silk to be worn over slim dresses of matching silk. Very stylish are bell-skirted princess dresses with silver-dollar-size buttons arranged in broad, but fake, double-breasting.

You can plan on pale beige, white, orange and dark turquoise as stylish Parisian spring colors to come. The smartest color combination will be white and deep purple.

The oftener you wash silver, plated or sterling, in hot, soapy water the less you'll need to polish it.

Schools Hold Programs

Thursday PTA's of four schools: Wever, Longfellow, Malkim and Wisner, were entertained by the school youngsters who presented Christmas programs.

Wever PTA

Following a brief business meeting Thursday, members of Wever School PTA were guests of the students at a Christmas program. The program was directed by Mrs. Melvin Boersma assisted by the faculty.

Youngsters from all grades of the school took part in the operetta, "Heigh-Ho Holly."

Mrs. Keith Pawley was chairman of the social committee for the day. She was assisted by Mrs. Andrew Golob, Mrs. James Nichols, Mrs. R. B. Hicks, Mrs. John Loree, Mrs. Samuel McCarty, Mrs. Jesse Abnay, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Carson Cascadden, Mrs. Lloyd Hutcheson and Mrs. Frank Ball.

Wisner PTA

"The Littlest Angel" narrated by Janice Goines and Park Martin and a solo, sang by Teddy Owen were the highlights of the Christmas program directed by Mrs. Donald Weiss at Wisner PTA.

Wisner Glee Club sang carols while Christmas trees were trimmed by the group for presentation to the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital.

Mrs. William Thomas presented yearly membership prizes to Flora Owens, Mrs. Owen Wright, and Jane Danton. Miss Owens' first grade class won the attendance banner for the month.

Malkim PTA

Children of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades presented "A Story of Christmas Carols" at the Thursday Malkim PTA meeting. Readers were Lewis Hileman and Carol Scarbo.

Taking part in the Nativity scene were Penny Myre, Delbert Stadler, Norma Schael, Dulan Foster, Floyd Herr and Herman Acord. Music was directed by Phyllis Healy.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Hartung, Mrs. Stanley Boyd, Mrs. Abram Campbell, Mrs. John Morse, Mrs. Robert Kayga and Mrs. Earl Myers.

Longfellow PTA

Over 300 early elementary children of Longfellow school took part in a Christmas program, "Christmas in Mother Goose Land" under the direction of Mrs. Stella Lou Zell. Staging was done by Mildred Gingell and June Voss.

Embassy Will Sport New Look

Madame Alphand Shops in Paris for Furnishings

By ANNETTE DAVIS
(For Jane Eads)

WASHINGTON—The French Embassy is going to get a "new look." Mme. Herve Alphand, wife of the ambassador, has just left for Paris to shop for draperies, rugs and furnishings for the embassy.

She says she want to make the embassy look "more homelike."

Mme. Alphand has no particular preference for furniture of any period and is quite willing to mix modern and traditional.

"The important thing is harmony," she says, "and using colors that go together."

The former chanteuse also likes the French impressionist painters and will try her best to borrow some of their works from France's museums.

NOTED GUESTS

The eldest daughter of Attorney General and Mrs. Herbert Brownell Jr., in the first wedding of a Cabinet daughter in the Eisenhower administration, wore a simple white satin wedding gown with a Peter Pan collar and tiny covered buttons down the front. She carried a spray of white poinsettias.

In addition to the Nixons, the reception at Anderson House following the ceremony was attended by Assistant to the President and Mrs. Sherman Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stassen, Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr. and many foreign ambassadors and their wives.

One of Washington's loveliest ladies, Baroness Silvercruys, wife of the Belgian ambassador, showed her just completed portrait to a small group of friends at the embassy recently.

ARTIST PRESENT

On hand to receive the applause was the young Peruvian artist, Mariano Soyer.

The artist, who has also painted Ingrid Bergman, said, "I never pose my subjects. I just ask them to walk around the room, then stand or sit as they would naturally."

Rugs Made of Acrilan Are Sturdy

NEW YORK (INS) — Let your practicality be your guide when you go on your next carpeting spree.

There's a new carpet out now made of 100 per cent acrilan acrylic fiber guaranteed to have greater soil resistance, better wearing qualities, easier maintenance—and in addition is moisture-resistant and non-allergic!

The new fiber carpet, introduced in New York by the Firth Carpet Co., is said to mark a "new era" in floor covering.

The carpets may be had in varied stylings, sizes and color combinations.

One acrilan broadloom, inspired by the ceremonial robes of the Ming dynasty, is a luxurious carpet with interwoven colors such as gray, white and pale yellow. It is called "Ming Crochet."

With a house or apartment full of acrilan rugs the housewife needn't be afraid that pets will ruin her precious floors or that children will destroy the looks of the living room with their muddy feet.

The new acrilan carpeting is the result of years of research and was first tested at California's "Disneyland" where a portion of carpeting was laid at a building entrance and was trod upon by an estimated 150,000 persons.

Many Varieties From One Recipe

Winter-time is candy-time and the imaginative candy maker can make a variety of candies by changing one or a few ingredients in the old fashioned fudge recipe.

Replace white sugar with brown sugar, and leave out corn syrup or cream of tartar.

Fashion Hint

Even though you may not be able to afford them, study the trend fashions by big name designers carefully. Eventually these clothes are copied in moderately priced fashions and you'll have a much better idea of good design when you go shopping.

Jiffy-Fixit Clicks as Gingerbread Mix

Gingerbread cupcakes make an easy-to-fix dessert with fruit cocktail sauce. Prepare gingerbread from packaged mix and use canned fruit cocktail.

Heat the syrup from the fruit cocktail together with a tablespoon of cornstarch and add two tablespoons of lemon juice to the hot mixture. Then spoon the sauce on the hot gingerbread.

Rules for the Wise Mother-in-Law

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Wise is the mother-in-law

—who withholds news of her son's promotion until her daughter's husband is in an optimistic mood;

—who does not disguise criticism of her daughter-in-law's pie crust with "suggestions" for improving it;

—who takes friendship with a child's wife or husband slowly, avoiding regret for gush protestations that didn't come true;

—who can note a daughter-in-law's "permissive" treatment of a grandchild without saying "When I count the children I've seen ruined by these new psychology theories . . ."

COMES TO TERMS

Who recognizes and comes to terms with the natural resentment we all feel toward the stranger who is profiting by the self-discipline, the energy and time we invested in his spouse, our child;

—who remembers that a child's wife or husband often criticizes us in direct proportion to his fear of resisting other authorities in his life;

—who isn't hurt at all when her pregnant daughter-in-law says, "No thank you. My OWN mother is coming to help after the baby is born."

—who knows that carrying gossip from one child's home to another ends in everyone's thinking: "If she abuses their hospitality like this, what does she do to ours?"

Who does not live for her children's approval: And so can risk it occasionally in spontaneous disagreement with the wives and husbands;

TROUBLES RETURN

—who is beginning to understand that her mother-in-law troubles are those she ducked as a mother, brought back to her for solution by another woman's child;

—who controls over-emotional sympathy with the son or daughter who's just quarreled with his spouse as too likely to boomerang on the sympathizer;

—who can accept her inadequacies as a mother-in-law as unguiltily as she accepted her faults as a parent.

Automatic Washer OK for Blanket

Will Shrink Some, Can Be Reshaped While Drying

CHICAGO (INS) — It's okay to wash your best wool blankets in the automatic washer. The American Home Laundry Manufacturers association has developed a procedure for laundering blankets at home.

However, the association warns that women should expect the blankets to shrink a little — they always do no matter how they are washed, it said.

In washing blankets, put only one large or two small ones in the washer at a time. If the bindings are soiled, mix a solution of cleaning agent and water and brush on with a soft bristle brush or sponge.

Fill the washer with warm — not hot — water, adding an all-purpose detergent and allow it to dissolve. Add the blanket and run the washer only long enough to produce suds. Allow the blanket to soak for 10 minutes. Spin out water and run the blanket through the rinse cycle.

When drying the blanket, place it in the dryer with three or four clean, dry bath towels. These act as a cushion for the blanket and will help it retain its size and shape. Use a warm dryer setting and remove the blanket while it is still slightly damp.

* * *

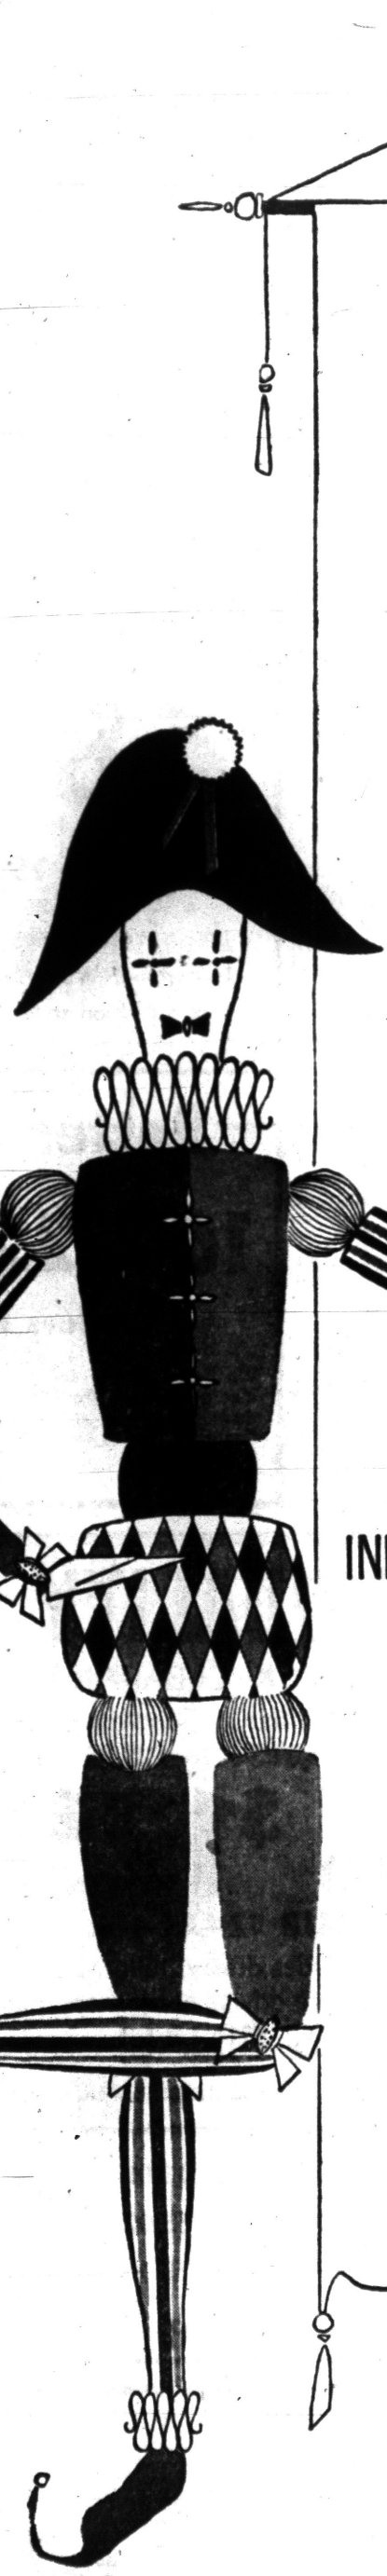

The laundry appliance association says blankets can be reshaped by "pulling small sections along the length and width, keeping the edges straight." After the blanket is dry, brush up the nap.

The Tree Is Pretty, the Resin Sticky

Along with the tradition of putting up the Christmas tree and getting it trimmed go sticky hands from the pine resin.

An easy way to remove the resin without using a harsh, roughening cleanser is with baking soda. Wet hands, sprinkle with dry soda, rub them together well, rinse, and the resin's gone.

Wild Type of Dancing Irks Others

Rock 'n' Roll Fans Ruin the Pleasure of Sedate Couple

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "My husband and I like to dance and when we have a rare night out together we usually go to a nightclub or hotel to dance. The last few times we went out the evening was ruined for us because of the lack of courtesy and consideration shown by others.

"Every time we got up to dance we were forced to sit down again because of the mad whirling, hurdling, hopping, joint-distorting antics of some of the dancers who took complete possession of the floor.

"Space as you know, is rather limited on many of the dance floors and when several couples get up and go into this mad frenzy, the other dancers don't stand a chance and are forced to sit down unless they want to be bumped and jostled.

"I suppose I sound like an old fogey to you but I don't think I am, really. It is just that I think consideration should be shown to others and that a crowded dance floor is no place for this sort of dancing. Will you please comment on this in your column?"

Answer: I agree with you thoroughly, but unfortunately there is nothing I can suggest except that you, and other friends who feel as you do, avoid going to dancing places which permit the unpleasant athletic dancing you speak of.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I will soon celebrate our silver wedding anniversary. We plan on having a large reception at one of the nicer hotels to celebrate the occasion.

"I still fit into my wedding dress and would like to know if you think it would be suitable to wear on this occasion, or should I choose another dress?"

Answer: You should wear your wedding dress with great pride that you can actually do so!

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man is introduced to a woman is it proper for him to hold out his hand to shake hands with her, or should he wait for her to extend her hand first?"

Answer: Strictly speaking, it is her place to offer her hand or not, as she chooses; but if he should extend his hand, she as a matter of course gives him hers.

Beauty Hint

Best wet weather protection for your hairdo is a hair set spray that will hold your hair in place without making it gummy. Pick one that contains lanolin. It will leave your hair soft and easy to handle.

5974

Baby will love wearing either pair of these adorable soft slippers! Crocheted from white or pastel shades of cotton, they may be quickly and safely washed.

Matched Scents Are a Luxury

Splashing herself from head to toe with a good cologne is many a woman's idea of the luxurious way to finish off a bath. If she can follow up with dusting powder in a matching scent, so much the better.

A good-sized crystal cylinder of cologne is a happy alternate to perfume. Add dusting powder as a companion, and you've picked a Christmas gift that will make her feel pampered without denting your budget.

First Rate, High Style

Now Lamps Show Custom Design

Lamps this season are characterized by a luxury and elegance which far overshadows any recent attempts at opulence. In fact, it can be said that lamp manufacturers are moving steadily out of a period of bad-to-mediocre design into an era where the production of first-rate, high-styled merchandise may be the ultimate achievement.

This is the report of the fashion staff of Retailing Daily after studying the latest market offerings. Many of today's mass-produced lamps, note the editors, show the same attention to detail, the same elements of style and scale once found only on custom-made lamps.

First, in the matter of style, there is an attempt to create designs that achieve a fine contemporary balance between modern simplicity and traditional romanticism.

With regard to scale, producers continue to make taller, over-scaled, more impressive-looking units, many with three lights.

Much of the drama in today's lamps emanated from a fascination with materials, not new materials, perhaps, but new things to do with them, new ways to mix and combine them.

Cherry and mahogany team with satin brass or silver accents. Stoneware ceramic parts combine with natural-finished walnut. Antiqued ivory Italian faience imports are mounted on fruitwood bases. Real and simulated mosaic effects are among the most popular new textural treatments.

Woods, too, make a transition from simple styling to more decorative effects. Many of the new wood lamps, done in rosewood, mahogany, cherry, korina and wormy chestnut, are carved in twisted spiral, tapered or sculptured silhouettes.

Muted, more subtle colorations are being featured as a natural foil for the trend to dramatic decoration. Neutrals and earth tones predominate, leavened in many instances with dashes of turquoise, coral, pumpkin, tangerine and green. Among the deeper hues, turquoise continues as the top color, vying for favor with the new blue tones.

Oriental-styled pieces are a part of almost every collection, and a fresh supply of Provincial designs also appears, says Retailing Daily. More graceful, more faithful interpretations of both these styles are among the outstanding introductions this season.

Worthy of mention as an important corollary of the Oriental design movement are the many metallics. Here, gold, silver, pewter, bronze and copper in washed or plated finishes exert a strong influence.

Shades move in two opposite style directions, toward smooth fabrics or toward heavy woven textures with metallic accents. We can also expect to see more shades fashioned along slimmer, deeper lines.

Wise Use of Table Placement Alters Big Room's Tone

LOS ANGELES (INS)—You can make a large room with a huge sectional more cozy with the proper use of a table.

The large room was dominated by a vast, angled sectional. Instead of placing the outsize piece directly against the wall, they placed a small, couch-high table behind the sectional so that the super-sofa would stand out from the wall.

Not only did this close in the room, but it also provided a perfect display spot for tall flowers. Flowers placed in vases on the coffee or end table usually manage to make across-the-room visibility poor, as the blossoms get between the person on the couch and someone in a chair across the carpet.

After a pedicure, it's wise to preserve your stockings from minute rough spots by smoothing the nails with terry toweling. Many a run has begun from a freshly ing telephone gets into use, some cut toenail.

Keep Dough Well Chilled 'Til Needed

Mrs. Lemaux Can Make Hot Rolls at Moment's Notice

By JANET ODELL

Homemade rolls add to any meal. If you keep some dough in the refrigerator, you can have hot rolls whenever you desire. Mrs. Daryl Lemaux suggests this recipe for Ice Box Rolls.

An enthusiastic golfer, Mrs. Lemaux belongs to three clubs. She is a new gardener as of this past summer. In addition, she belongs to the Junior Women's Club and to a church group.

ICE BOX ROLLS
By Mrs. Daryl Lemaux

½ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup boiling water
1 package yeast, dissolved in ¼ cup warm water
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup cold water
3½ cups flour

Add butter and sugar to boiling water. Cool to warm, add dissolved yeast. Add egg, cold water and sifted flour. Place in refrigerator until next morning.

Knead, adding a little flour. Cut with round cutter. Fold over in Parker House shape. Let rise three hours. Bake 20 minutes in a 400-degree oven.

Ease Vein Pressure

To minimixe enlarged veins in the hands, avoid hot water as much as possible and hold the hands in a perpendicular position for a few seconds whenever the chance occurs. This exercise relieves pressure.

BETTE KEMPF

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kempf of Lake Orion announce the engagement of their daughter, Bette, to Robert Jarrard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Jarrard of Third street. He is now attending Lawrence Institute of Technology, Detroit.

Curtain Fashion Favors Designs

Dacron and fiberglas dominate the curtain field in marquisette weaves—finest of these being a reverse twist dacron marquisette. Ninon, absent for quite some time, is back in strength, looking softer and prettier than ever in dacron or Fortisan.

Flocking flourishes like the proverbial rose and continues to make exciting fashion news. The general trend seems to be in the direction of lace patterns; smaller designs in allover distribution, such as the scattered, tightly spaced florals with "omit" petals silhouetted against heavily flocked grounds. Equally small and delicate are the many dainty flower prints that are being used for priscillas.

When Choosing Glasses, Make Them 'Personalized'

During the summer just past, women were sometimes seen wearing dark glasses indoors. None had black eyes and few had eyes that hurt. They were following a trend, apparent in the last few years—that of utilizing the flattery of wearing glasses whether they were needed or not.

With glasses, a square face can be minimized, a triangular face can be elongated. Color and texture of the rims can also add interest to a face. There are also festive frames that make everything seem sparkly and elegant.

When a wardrobe of glasses has been selected, two matters become important. One is keeping the glasses clean and free from the gummy substances that accumulate in hinges and on ear pieces. The other matter is eye make-up to go with glasses.

The best way to keep glasses clean is to immerse them in lots of warm soap or detergent suds. Use a soft clean cloth for washings. Wipe straight across the lenses instead of around. Use a soft brush to scrub away soil in the metal-work, cutwork and hinges. Wipe glasses dry with a clean, lintless cloth.

Make-up for wear with glasses should be subtle. Eyebrows are well-defined, but not theatrical. After application of make-up, lipstick and powder, fill in the eyebrows with a sharp pencil. Blondes should use a light brown pencil, brunettes a dark brown one. Use sharp, tiny strokes. Use eyeshadow sparingly, blended into a delicate hue. Use a clean mascara brush to apply mascara to the lashes without congealing the hairs.

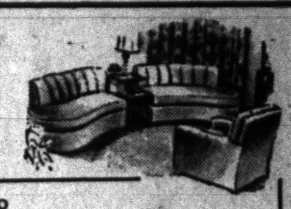

Be sure the frames don't change position while being worn. They tend to hide the brows, as well as causing eyestrain.

Wear Correct Frames

Eyeglass frames with rhinestone trim are very pretty but they should be kept for evening wear. Daytime frames should be pretty in shape and color but generally unadorned.

PARENTS VISIT BOY WHO LOST LEGS — Anxious parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Long of Everett, Wash., try to console their son, Bobby, who lost both legs under a locomotive Saturday. The youngster had been hunting pop bottles in the railroad yard in an effort to earn money to buy his mother a Christmas present. Ironically, caricature of a train adorns his hospital room wall.

Start Rebuilding Our Lady Church

Residents, Businessmen Volunteer Funds; Turn Earth Christmas Day

OAK PARK—The rebuilding of the sanctuary of Our Lady of Fatima Church has begun here. An earth-turning ceremony was held on Christmas Day.

Oak Park residents and businessmen joined in a voluntary drive for funds to help rebuild the church shortly after the fire, raising $2,253.

The new $300,000 church building program will include 10 more classrooms, doubling the size of the present school.

OK Landscaping Plan

ROMEO — Beautification of the Croswell street school grounds has been assured by the recent Board of Education acceptance of a master landscape plan submitted by the Elementary Schools Club.

Club member Mrs. David Ross initiated the planning program after a study of action taken in other communities on similar projects. With the help of Romeo Landscape architect James McCutcheon, she drew up extensive plans and presented them to grade school teachers and administrators for their consideration and suggestion.

After slight revisions were made she received the tentative approval of the Village Council before showing the final drawings to the school board.

Initial action on the program has been taken with the donation of several trees, but more are needed for planting this winter, Mrs. Ross said.

The grounds are devoid of any protection from sun and wind and the request for trees is pressing at this time, she added.

An Arbor Day program is planned next spring, Mrs. Ross stated, in which children and local organizations are expected to help carry out the proposed planning program.

Two Men Held in Auto Death

Center Line Man Is Hit Aiding Man Struck by His Car

CENTERLINE—Police are holding two men in the death of a pedestrian who was killed Monday night while crossing Van Dyke.

According to Centerline police, Michael Baron, 62, of 8449 Central St. was struck by a car driven by Orian Campbell, 36, of 25200 Comfort St., who was going north on Van Dyke.

Campbell left his car to aid Baron, who was lying in the middle of the street. A car driven by Garland Boothe, 34, of 10325 Kercheval, Detroit, going north, struck both men.

Campbell, who received minor injuries, was treated at the hospital and released to the police.

Boothe and Campbell are to appear before Assistant Macomb County Prosecutor William Butler at 9 this morning.

Keego Contest Comes Closer

Oak Park Girl Wins $8,000 on TV Quiz

Susan Sandler of Oak Park, who at 13 is an expert on horse racing, answered the $8,000 question last night on the television program "$64,000 Question."

She has until next Tuesday night to decide whether to try for $16,000.

Susan has never owned a horse or witnessed a horse race. But her hobby is horse racing.

She answered last night's $4,000 question, naming England's five racing classics, including two for fillies only.

The $8,000 question that followed was more complicated. Susan had to name three horses foaled in 1748, 1758 and 1764 that were the ancestors of all thoroughbreds, name their sires and tell which of the three was given to a king of France and how the horse got to England.

Lapeer Soil Men Will Hold Meeting

LAPEER—The Lapeer Soil Conservation District will hold its annual meeting Jan. 10 at 8 p.m. at the County Center Building, Lapeer, Adolph Broecker, chairman of the district, announced today.

One new director will be elected to replace Don Maudesley of Rich Township will not be a candidate this year.

Running for Maudesley's position will be Phil Sloan of Almont Township and Lewis Scriminger of Rich Township.

Fish and Farm Pond Management will be discussed by Wm. Mason, District Fish Supervisor and Soil Mapping and Management by Clarence Engberg—State Soil Scientist.

Gillams of Clifford Married 60 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillam of Clifford celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday. Charles Gillam of Clifford and Elizabeth Brink of Roylton Township, Tuscola County, were married Dec. 23, 1896 in Lapeer.

They reside on the same farm, east of Clifford, where Mr. Gillam moved with his parents when he was six months old.

For many years Charles Gillam was supervisor and treasurer of Burlington Township.

With guests present from Detroit, Big Beaver, McMillan, Sandusky, and Clifford, the Gillams were presented a television set by their sisters, nieces and nephews.

Mr. Gillam will celebrate his 90th birthday on March 15 and Mrs. Gillam will be 81 on May 22. Both are in good health.

Christmas Eve Brings Tragedy Near Clarkston

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The family of Roy Wegman of 7265 Oak Hill had gone to a party at the home of Mr. Wegman's father about a quarter of a mile away, on Christmas Eve. During their absence M. C. Baird, a neighbor, discovered their home ablaze.

Although Mr. Baird quickly turned in a fire alarm and the department kept an outside oil drum from exploding, an estimated $12,000 in damage was done.

The flames which started inside the house gutted the home and workers were unable to save a thing except for several lines of clothing outside.

Eggs Now Run Low in Cost— Are Good Buy

WASHINGTON (INS) — Eggs—now running high in production and low in cost—will continue as one of the housewife's best grocery buys through February.

The Agriculture Department says, in fact, eggs will be the feature bargain commodity of February.

Other good buys that month will be beef, broilers, fryers, potatoes, canned sweet corn, canned purple plums, dried prunes, rice, milk and other dairy products, ocean perch, and haddock filet.

Almont Youth Named to Albion Dean's List

ALMONT—Dean Hough son of Mr and Mrs. Harold Hough of 7170 Hough Rd., has been named to the Dean's list at Albion College. The recognition was given to him for his high scholastic standing since the beginning of the fall semester.

Dean is a sophomore at Albion.

The Almont Rebekah Lodge will hold their regular meeting in their hall Thursday evening Dec. 27. It will be the night for the Christmas party and exchange of gifts.

Committee to Meet in Pontiac Township

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Pontiac Township Democratic Committee is having a meeting Thursday at 8 p.m., at the Joslyn Fire Station on Joslyn road. It is expected that the platform committee will have suggestions as to the various issues that could make up the Democratic platform for Pontiac Township.

* * *

Discussion will be held on these issues and anyone that would like to take part in this discussion or meet the various candidates is urged to attend.

Train Damages Road, Reroute Chicago Traffic

THREE OAKS (AP) — New York Central train traffic between Detroit and Chicago was rerouted through Niles and Indiana today after a freight train tore up six miles of roadbed on the main route between Three Oaks and Galien.

State police said it was believed a brake mechanism tore loose on one of the box cars. One car jumped the tracks at the Three Oaks station, narrowly missed a bystander, smashed into a watchman's shanty and hit another freight car standing at a siding. No one was injured. Three Oaks is in Berrien County in the southwestern corner of the state.

Troy Opening Bids

TROY — Opening bids for the new Troy Fire Hall at 16 Mile and Delemere will take place at their delayed commission meeting Thursday night. Other bids to be considered will include new pickup trucks, copper tubing, standby water repair service, police bonds and fire hose. Revenue bonds on the new special recessment also to come before the group. Electrical state plumbing, gas and oil burner codes will be on the agenda, too.

Romeo Rumor Wrong

ROMEO—Michigan State Police of the Romeo Post said today that there is no truth to the rumor that a third body has been found near the scene of a crash in which two Utica boys were killed Friday night. The switchboard at the post has been beseiged by inquiries from Utica and Romeo.

Soap Made New Way

STOCKHOLM—A new method of making soap, based on the use of specially constructed separators, has been developed by two Stockholm firms, working together. The new process speeds up soap manufacture from eight days to one hour, and the finished product is said to be finer and smoother.

Interstate Gardening

MEMPHIS (AP)—Energetic Ike McKown, 69, keeps a vegetable garden—which isn't unusual except that his is 135 miles from home. Every Friday of the growing season he drives over to Beebe, Ark. to hoe and weed and, time permitting, get in a spot of fishing.

Secrets Become Public

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—The Executive Board of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Assn. held a secret meeting. Then it found out someone had left a public address system on, and its "secrets" had been boomed through the hotel mezzanine.

Garbage Truck Mishap Costs City Worker Arm

Pontiac police Sgt. Medford Pitman said Banks had apparently just emptied garbage from a home into the rear of the truck when the automatic scoop descended on his arm, severing it about four inches above the wrist

Banks was listed in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. The truck driver, Jessie Avant, 34, of 191 Earlmoore Blvd. was in the cab, Pitman said. He first knew of the accident when he heard Banks' screams.

Two Teenage Girls Hurt in Car Accident

Two young girls were injured in a Milford Township accident Monday night when the car in which they were riding lost control and struck a tree.

Bonnie Jean Collier, 14, of 132 E. Lake St., South Lyon, was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital for leg injuries, Margaret Jeanette McIsaac, 16, of 54181 Eight Mile Rd., Northville, was treated and released from the hospital for injuries to her left shoulder and elbow.

Driver of the car, James H. Stidham, 17, of 12875 W. Nine Mile Rd., South Lyon, told Sheriff's investigators that another car forced him off the road in an attempt to pass. The accident occurred at South Hill road near Dawson road.

'Fine' Bonus Plan

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (INS) — Municipal Judge Virgil Norris has a bonus plan for motorists charged with speeding.

They pay $2 per mile an hour over the limit with a $5 bonus for driving at more that 45 miles an hour and a $10 bonus for speeding over 50.

Pot-O-Gold Loot Piling Up Again; Now at $300

If money could burn a hole in old Pot-O-Gold, it would be riddled by now, the way it piles up in such a hurry. After emptying its contents just a short time ago, the prize is already back to $300, providing no winner is found for last week's puzzle. If you'd like to tilt the Pot in your direction, see if you can come up with the correct solution.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 30 must bear a Saturday, Dec. 29, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Hollywood Headlines

Deborah Kerr Is Hoping to Stay Home More in '57

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — All Deborah Kerr asks in this world is that the new contract she just signed with Buddy Adler at 20th keeps her in her lovely California ocean view home at least for part of 1957. She traveled for all but one of her pictures this year from England to the West Indies.

Deborah, who is greatly loved on the 20th lot, as she is by all who know her, can be sure that her next picture will be made in California.

She'll be starred in "Love Affair," written by Leo McCarey and directed by him, under the banner of Jerry Wald. Alfred Hayes, who scripted "Island in the Sun," is doing the same job on "Love Affair."

The best get-well medicine John Farrow (he's been ailing) could get is his new assignment from Bill Dozier to direct "The Naked and the Dead" at RKO.

Four years ago, Norman Mailer's much discussed (also cussed in some quarters as too shocking) novel led the best seller list for months. John will start work immediately with Paul Gregory, the producer.

Giving Farrow the war story is a wise choice. My good friend Maureen O'Sullivan and all the seven little Farrows are proud of his World War II honors.

He is a commander of the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve and was named a commander of the Order of the British Empire for his valor during the war.

CHAT WITH SALLY

What a wonderful surprise to talk to Sally Benson, who's here to write the screenplay of "Babes in Toyland," Victor Herbert's great musical, for Walt Disney. Sally, out at the Disney studio, is as gay and as happy as ever.

Her play "Eight Cousins" will open on Broadway in April with Jose Quintero presenting it. He is the exciting young man who brought "The Long Day's Journey Into night," Eugene O'Neill's play, to the stage.

Sally, herself, wrote "Eight Cousins" but she'll direct and produce it as well. She's a brilliant girl and her "Junior Miss" scored on radio, television, stage and screen.

She also wrote "Meet Me in St. Louis" (for Judy Garland), a story of Sally's own family, the Smiths, whom I knew so well when I lived in New York.

During the holiday season I never like to be unkind, but I do think a word to Anita Ekberg is in order. They tell me she's become very unpopular on the set of "Valerie," the picture she's making for Hal Malkin at RKO-Pathe studio. She is accused of upstaging everyone.

I can only feel Anitas' unhappy. She was wonderful when she made "Back From Eternity" for John Farrow and everyone on the set loved her. I have a feeling her marriage to Anthony Steel isn't working out the way she had hoped.

SPLIT-UP DENIED

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: An indignant denial from Dusty and Jean Negulesco that they have split, as reported in another column. I'm glad to hear it isn't true.

No surprise to see Nicky Hilton and Natalie Wood dancing cheek to cheek at the Cocoanut Grove. They met in Mexico and Nickie flipped.

Lily Messenger gave a farewell dinner party for Sarah Churchill, who has flown to England to spend the holidays with her parents, the Winston Churchills. She was escorted by Helmut Dantine.

Mrs. Robert Newton, widow of the late British actor, was on the arm of New York stock broker Frank Stillman at the Plymouth House.

It's a happy holiday season for John Wayne, director John Ford and producer Charles Schnee. "Eagles Have Wings" was sneak-previewed at Encino and the cards were fantastical, as a friend of mine says.

Puzzler for Post Office

WASHINGTON—The Post Office Department reports that it must handle mail throughout the nation for 24 Post Offices bearing the name of Arlington, 24 named Greenville, 27 Franklins, 26 Chesters, 24 Manchesters, 24 Marions, 27 Madisons, and 26 Washingtons—to name only a few duplications.

The British admiralty as late as 1840 contended that oak was superior to iron and refused to accept the metal as a shipbuilding material.

Brinkman Held in Street Brawl

Former Husband of Jeanne Crain Attacks 'Other Man' in Her Life

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sheriff's deputies said Jeanne Crain's former husband Paul Brinkman last night assaulted two men in a street brawl, one of whom later announced he will marry the actress.

A pickup order was issued for Brinkman, 37, on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon after he assertedly fought with Homer H. Rhoads, 45, wealthy ex-manufacturer, and Ted Ryan, 38-year-old advertising man.

Brinkman, also in the manufacturing business, stated in testimony prior to his divorce from the 30-year-old Miss Crain that a Homer H. Rhoads was the "other man" in her life.

Deputies said last night's melee took place in front of a Hollywood Hills apartment house in which Rhoads lives.

Rhoads later told newsmen he intends to marry Miss Crain because "I'm in love with her and she's in love with me."

Nursing a cut forehead, sore wrist, skinned elbow and scratched-up knees, he added:

"This is a horrible way to make a wedding announcement, but that's the way it is."

Miss Crain was not available for comment. Rhoads said he had talked with her after the altercation, but he declined to disclose what she said.

Miss Crain and Brinkman were divorced last August after 10 years of marriage.

Rhoads, former president of the Hydro-Aire Co. of Burbank, Calif., manufacturers of airplane fuel systems, told reporters last night that he recently sold the business for 4½ million dollars.

He said he and his wife Hilda were not divorced but that he had just settled a 1¼-million-dollar residence in the Holmby Hills on her.

Lions' Board of Directors Discuss Pact

Decision on Parker's Contract Demands to Be Held Today

DETROIT (AP)—Members of the board of directors of the Detroit Lions meet today to give coach Buddy Parker an answer to his demands for a contract of more than one-year duration.

The meeting of the 15 directors, like the squabble over Parker's contract, was shrouded in mystery. The time and place was not announced.

Parker, whose contract expires Dec. 31, turned down an offer last week for another one-year contract to coach the professional football team in 1957. The taciturn Texan has led the Lions to two world championships in his six years as coach.

Neither the Lions' front office nor Parker have come forth with a clear picture of their differences. But it is generally understood that Parker feels his six-year record with the Lions merits job security not possible in a one-year contract.

The Baltimore Colts and the Pittsburgh Steelers are reportedly interested in acquiring Parker, in the event he leaves Detroit.

In the event the Lions' directors decide to let Parker leave, assistant coach George Wilson is reportedly the No. 1 choice as a successor. Wilson has been with the Lions for eight years.

Mrs. McCormick Best of Women

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

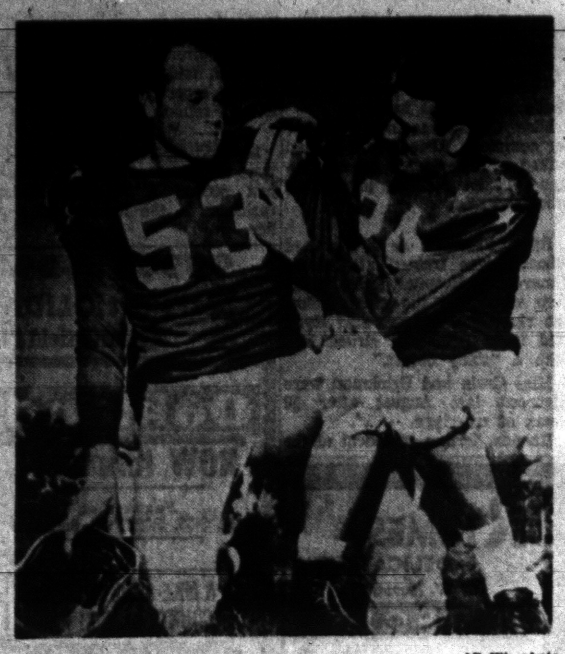

Mrs. Patricia Keller McCormick, winner of two Olympic gold medals in 1956 in an unprecedented "double slam" and holder of 27 national diving championships, today was recognized as the outstanding female Athlete-of-the-Year in the Associated Press year-end poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Mrs. McCormick won by a huge margin in the balloting over another girl who has proved that beauty isn't a handicap to an athlete, golfer Marlene Bauer Hagge.

In the balloting of 172 writers and broadcasters, the attractive, blonde Lakewood, Calif., housewife received 85 first place votes and a total of 350 points on the basis of three for first, two for second and one for third. Mrs. Hagge, whose 1956 record in golf was almost as remarkable as Mrs. McCormick's in diving, polled 22 firsts and 139 points.

The poll leaders, with first place votes and total points on 3-2-1 basis:

Pat McCormick (diving)	85	350
Marlene Hagge (golf)	22	139
Althea Gibson (tennis)	14	108
Shirley Fry (tennis)	5	69
Shelley Mann (swimming)	8	60
Patty Berg (golf)	4	35
Willy Smith (golf)	3	26
Mildred McDaniel (track)	4	18
Betty Cuthbert (track)	3	13
Tenley Albright (skating)	1	10

Wings in Holiday Mood, Rip Rangers, 8-1

DETROIT (AP)—"As Howe goes, so go the Red Wings," general manager Jack Adams more than once has said of the big right winger on his hockey club.

Howe turned in one of the top performances of his already fabulous career, scoring three goals and three assists as the Wings ran away from the New York Rangers, 8-1.

Detroit's "production line" of Howe, Ted Lindsay and Norm Ullman, scored the Wings' first five goals. Bill Dineen, Al Arbour and Metro Prystai finished off the scoring spree.

The victory pulled Detroit out of a second place tie with the idle Montreal Canadiens and narrowed to one point the pace-setting lead of the Boston Bruins. The Bruins lost 4-2 to Chicago last night.

Boston has 42 points in the National Hockey League standings.

New York got its single goal when a 25-foot screen shot by Lou Fontinato dribbled past Glenn Hall's pads. Hall sharpened up after that to stave off 31 Ranger shots to 24 for New York goalie Gump Worsley.

Howe got rolling at 4:38 of the second period while New York was a man short. He beat a pair of Rangers for a loose puck and drove home a 10-foot backhander.

Lindsay put Detroit ahead at 14:31 of the same frame on a breakaway pass from Howe. Ted went the last 30 feet all alone, feinted Worsley out of position and rifled the puck into the nets.

Ullman did the honors next, whipping in a 24-footer after taking Howe's passout from the corner early in the last period.

He lifted Ullman's rebound home on a power play thrust at 5:11, then intercepted a Ranger pass for a clean breakaway and his third goal at 11:01.

The Lindsay-Ullman-Howe line had a string of nine straight goals going into the game. It has figured in 16 of 18 goals over a six-game stretch.

Dineen got his second goal of the season on a two-on-one break with Johnny Bucyk. Arbour followed up with his first National Hockey League goal, whizzing a 65-foot screen shot past the badgered Worsley. It was that play that gave Howe his third assist.

Metro Prystai finished the scoring with six seconds remaining when he ducked through the Ranger defense and hit an empty cage after Worsley had been pulled.

North Slight Favorite Against South Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bolstered by All-America halfback Tommy McDonald and four of his Oklahoma teammates, the North ruled a touchdown favorite over the South in the Shrine's college all-star football game in the Orange Bowl tonight.

North Coach Duffy Daugherty planned to throw the multiple offense his Michigan State powers have used so effectively against the Rebel squad coached by Art Guepe of Vanderbilt.

Working with McDonald in the North backfield will be Len Dawson, a passing master from Purdue, Dennis (The Menace) Mendyk at halfback and Jimmy Harris of Oklahoma at fullback.

Guepe planned to counter with a backfield punch of Vandy's Don Orr at quarterback, Mississippi's Eddie Crawford and Wake Forest's Bill Barness at halfback and Miami's All-America Don Bosseler at fullback.

The South has won six of the previous eight games, sponsored by the Mahi Temple to raise funds for the Shrine's crippled children's hospitals. One game ended in a tie.

In an attempt to try to insure a close game, game director Andy Gustafson, University of Miami coach, modified the rules so that the team trailing at any time during the game will be able to receive the kickoff.

A crowd of about 45,000 is expected. The contest will be broadcast national (Mutual) but there is no television coverage. The kickoff is set for 8:15 p.m., EST.

Guepe said he would use Orr, a one-time polio victim, for the short passing and Duke's Sonny Jurgensen for the long ones. He can "throw 'em a mile," Guepe said.

The North starting line probably will have Jim Hinsley of Michigan State and Bob Khoenle of Purdue at end, Jack Caldrone of Penn State and Dave Walker of Illinois at tackle, Dick Hill of Michigan and Tony Quintilian at guard and John Matsko of Michigan State at center.

Pontiac Motors Sponsors Sunday NFL Title Game

Pontiac Motor Division will present Sunday, Dec. 30, on NBC television and radio, nation-wide, the National League professional football championship game between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears, it was announced today by Frank V. Bridge, General Sales Manager.

"Pontiac is proud to be able to bring this great game into the homes of football fans across the country," Bridge said.

The game will be played in Yankee Stadium, New York City, and the starting time is 2:00 p.m., EST.

Top College Quints Play in Dixie Test

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Three of the top 10 basketball teams in the nation put their wares on display in the eighth annual Dixie Classic tournament here tomorrow.

North Carolina's veteran Tarheels, ranked No. 2 in the nation behind Kansas in the latest Associated Press poll, have been tabbed as favorites, but over the objections of their coach, Frank McGuire.

"Utah is the best team in this tournament," the dapper McGuire said yesterday. "Put that down in your little book. They've got it."

Galaxy of Stars in U-D Tourney

DETROIT—A galaxy of brilliant hardwood performers will be in action Friday and Saturday nights when the annual Motor City basketball tournament is held at the U-D Memorial building.

Taking a back seat to none will be Detroit's Bill Ebben, who has scored 175 points in seven pre-tournament games. The Titans' jump-shot artist is regarded as their best candidate for the "outstanding player" award since Guy Sparrow.

The Wildcats' sharp-shooting Dick Mast must also bear watching, along with Nick Mantis and Phil Warren.

Flam, Seixas Fall in Singles

Aussie Davis Cuppers Lead

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, a pair of 22-year-old court precisionists, methodically wrecked America's plans of stealing home with the Davis Cup today by crushing Vic Seixas and Herbie Flam in the first two singles matches of the challenge round.

While a crowd of 18,000 sat almost bored at the sun-drenched Memorial Drive stadium, Rosewall, who won the American championship less than four months ago, blunted a bold gamble by Seixas, 6-1, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1, and the temperamental Hoad, tending strictly to the business at hand, chopped down challenge round rookie Flam, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Now the Aussies need win only tomorrow's double or one of the remaining two singles to retain the Cup that they won at Forest Hills last year.

The Americans' task is next to impossible. They conceded Rosewall and Hoad the doubles even before the challenge round got under way. Their big hope was in Seixas and Flam springing upsets. Neither could.

Only once before in Davis Cup competition has a team come back from a 0-2 deficit and won the Cup. That was in 1939 when the same two countries went at it. The Americans won the first two singles, but the Aussies rebounded behind Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich and won the doubles and both remaining singles.

This U. S. team, however, can entertain no such hope. Rosewall and Hoad were head and shoulders over their Yank opponents. Their victories were purely routine.

True, Seixas caused a flurry of excitement when he decided to throw caution to the wind in the third set of his match with Rosewall. He won the set, but it was a desperation measure. He tried the same strategy in the fourth set and hit a stone wall.

Completely outplayed in the first two sets, Seixas began rushing in on Rosewall's services in the fourth and banging the ball right back at little Ken's feet. Vic caught Rosewall by surprise and broke his service in the third game, then let the set run out following service.

Flushed with his success, Seixas tried the same tactics in the fourth set. But to fool a player of Rosewall's caliber twice with the same trick is a feat beyond the capabilities of most players, Seixas included.

Rosewall started the operation as though he intended to run the match out in about 15 minutes. He crossed, passed and in general befuddled Seixas in the first set. Vic recovered somewhat in the second and ran up a 4-2 lead on a third-game service break.

But he couldn't stand the prosperity and Rosewall quickly took over and busted right through Seixas twice. By this time, the former U. S. National champion from Philadelphia realized that he was a dead duck unless he took desperate measures. That's how he won the third set.

Flam tried to fight him at his own game by standing at the net and volleying. But this is suicide against Hoad unless you happen to be stronger than he. And Flam isn't. He managed to break Hoad's service only once. That was in the first game of the third set when he took a 3-1 lead. But Hoad quickly settled down and won the next five games.

AP Wirephoto

EASY WINNER — One of the world's greatest tennis players, Lew Hoad, led Australia to a 2-0 lead in the Davis Cup against the U.S. by whipping Herb Flam easily, 6-2, 6-3 and 6-3.

AP Wirephoto

BEATEN — American veteran tennis player Vic Seixas was the best the U.S. could offer but it was not enough in the Davis Cup matches. He fell to Ken Rosewall, 6-1, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-1.

Christmas Did It!

Holiday Spirit Reigns, Lion Prexy Apologizes

Christmas did it. Edwin J. Anderson, President of the Detroit Lions, phoned George Halas, President of the Chicago Bears, Christmas eve, wished him the season's greetings and told him he regretted the Layne incident.

"I told him I had seen the movies," said President Anderson, "and they showed Layne was tackled hard from behind, but he was tackled around the waist and Meadows didn't use his fist. We had an amiable chat and I wished him well in his coming encounter with the Giants. We'd rather see the Bears win, as that makes our division pro football champions of the world."

And thus a rhubarb of no mean proportion passes into the limbo of forgotten things Lions directors meet today and close observers believe that Coach Buddy Parker will be offered a two-year contract.

"He has a fine record," said Anderson, "and coaches that aren't as good have two, three and even longer contracts." Incidentally, President Halas suggested the Lions tender Buddy Parker a two-year contract.

President Anderson and a host of other Lion supporters still believe that Layne was tackled illegally, for he had made a rapid pitch out and merely stood relaxed, watching the play, but both Anderson and Parker have now apologized for the remarks they made in the heat of battle.

Another interesting sidelight on the Chicago situation lies in the fact that the Bears have promised to keep spectators off the field in future encounters.

Rolladium Pairs Win Skate Finals

Two pairs of Rolladium skaters are winners of the final contests at the M-59 rink.

Mary Alice Clouse and Louis Parker won over four other challengers in the senior group. In Sunday's novice finals winners were Sue Welch and Ricky Martin. Both teams received challenge trophies.

Skaters drew three of the five dances already skated for their final test. Seniors skated "Imperial Waltz," "Fascination Fox Trot" and "The 14-Step." Novices skated the "Highland Schottische," "Monterey Tango" and "College Swing."

Second finals of the Saturday races were also skated, as follows:

Class B—Boys, David Marchewka and Doug Stranahan; girls, Paula Burmeister and Janice Wilson.

Kansas Quint Still First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eight of the 10 top teams in The Associated Press' latest weekly basketball poll will defend their rankings in tournaments springing up throughout the country this week.

Kansas, again overwhelmingly ranked No. 1 college team in the nation in the AP poll of sportswriters and sportscasters, will oppose a tough crew in the Big Seven tournament starting today. The Jayhawks, paced by Wilt Chamberlain's 35.5 points-per-game average, attracted 64 of 107 first-place votes for 944 points.

The poll, which includes all games through Dec. 22, is figured on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc.

Top 10 teams off the tournament binge this week are Illinois, No. 6 team, and Oklahoma A. & M., which advanced from 12th a week ago to No. 10. Illinois meets Princeton Friday. Oklahoma next plays Jan. 10.

Second-ranked North Carolina will find two other top 10 colleagues in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C. starting tomorrow. Coach Frank McGuire's Yankee-tinged Southerners moved up a notch this week. They filled the spot vacated when San Francisco plunged from No. 2 team to No. 19.

West Virginia, No. 4, and Duke, No. 9, will compete with the Tarheels for the Dixie laurels. Both teams jumped four pegs over their positions a week ago.

The Mountaineers are one of three undefeated teams in the top 10, Kansas and North Carolina also are unbeaten.

The top 10 teams, first place votes and won-lost records through Dec. 22, points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Kansas, 64, 6-0		944
2. North Carolina, 10, 8-0		761
3. Kentucky, 12, 6-2		679
4. West Virginia, 2, 8-0		486
5. St. Louis, 4, 6-1		464
6. SMU, 7-1		379
7. Illinois, 5-1		305
8. Louisville, 1, 5-2		234
9. Duke, 5-1		213
10. Oklahoma A&M, 2, 7-1		136
THE SECOND TEN
11. Oklahoma City, 1, 3-1		114
12. (tie) Tennessee, 6-0		102
(tie) Vanderbilt, 3-1		102
14. Iowa State, 6-0		101
15. Western Kentucky, 3, 6-1		94
16. Tulane, 6-1		66
17. Canisius, 6-1		59
18. Seattle, 7-2		52
19. San Francisco, 8-2		51
20. Idaho State, 8-0		47

Cage Tourneys Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Seven tournament, another in a score of college basketball get-togethers that will open in the next few days, gets underway tonight with Kansas and Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain facing what could be their stiffest test of the season.

The Jayhawks, again rated No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, take on Iowa State in the second game of a doubleheader. Both teams have won their first six games.

The ECAC Holiday Festival in Madison Square Garden kicked off the tournament competition yesterday with NYU beating Villanova 73-66 and Temple turning back Fordham 79-70.

Kansas is favored in the Big Seven tourney mainly because of Chamberlain, who has averaged 35.5 points a game. Still Coach Dick Harp said he's not too happy over the way the Jayhawks have performed.

Iowa State has beaten Michigan State, Houston, Brigham Young, Texas Tech, Tulsa and Wyoming. It only managed to defeat Texas Tech by a single point but racked up 92 points against Houston and 85 against Wyoming. State is the defending tournament champ.

Kansas State and Oklahoma open the tourney which also includes Michigan State, the guest team, Colorado, Missouri and Nebraska.

The ECAC twinbill furnished two hotly contested games. NYU had to come from behind to turn back Villanova with an uninterrupted 13-point spree in the second half. Tom DeLuca paced the Violets' winning drive with three successive baskets as NYU overcame a 51-50 deficit and run up a 63-51 lead.

Guy Rodgers turned in a fine all-around showing to pace Temple to its victory. Rodgers scored 30 points and had six assists while pulling down seven rebounds. Jim Cunningham's 33 points enabled Fordham to make it close.

Today's pairings pit St. John's of Brooklyn and Brigham Young and Temple and Ohio State in the afternoon. In a night twinbill, Manhattan takes on Niagara and Notre Dame meets NYU.

Among the other tournaments starting tomorrow are the Southwest Conference at Houston, the All-College at Oklahoma City, the Richmond, Va. Invitational and the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Rose-Bowlers Resume Drills

Hawks, Beavers Work Out Daily; 2 Iowans in Auto Accident

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Rose Bowl football teams hit the practice schedule again today after a restful Christmas.

Beaver Coach Tommy Prothro said he plans one-a-day workouts from now on and Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski expressed similar sentiments.

"We're going to buckle down," said Evashevski. "We've got a lot of work to do."

Iowa left end Jim Gibbons and teammates Bob Stifter and Toni Hatch were involved in a minor traffic accident yesterday. Gibbons was driving the other two players to church when their car collided with another. There were no injuries in either vehicle.

All, or Nothing

MIAMI (AP)—It was all or nothing for jockey Bobby Ussery at Tropical Park Christmas day. Of four mounts he won with three and finished last with the other.

His winners were Land Lash $7.20, Dru Away $39.10 and G. Edward $5.40.

Chicago Surprises Leading Bruins, 4-2

BOSTON — The last-place Chicago Black Hawks surprised Boston 4-2, leaving the Bruins with 42 points to Detroit's 41 in the NHL race. Forbes Kennedy, Harry Watson and Nick Mickoski shot the Hawks into a 3-0 lead in the first period.

'Soft'—Says Coach

Athletes Need Discipline

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — America's Olympic gymnastics coach recommends more "athletic discipline" — among other things — to help the United States pick up ground in one minor sport that clinched the Russian victory at Melbourne.

"We need more athletic discipline. We're getting soft because our boys are able to pick their training rules . . . our boys don't diet properly," he declared.

Wettstone, who also led America's gymnastic entry to the 1948 Olympics, made the remark before he left for Florida where he was to report on the Olympic Games to America's gymnastics coaches at their annual winter meeting and clinic.

America's gymnasts failed to score a single point in 15 events in Australia. But Russia won 10 gold medals, six silver ones and five bronze medals in piling up a tremendous point total in the sport.

Wettstone had some other ideas for improving America's showing in the sport.

For one, he says, "we need more leadership."

"If we had the coaches we'd be able to produce more winning teams."

Striped Bass Bugs

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Dr. Oscar H. Hyer and his wife, Emma, take their striped bass fishing seriously. They've bolted a specially-built insulated aluminum body on a light truck in which there are: A folding double bed, breakfast nook, gas stove, cabinets and wardrobes, chemical toilet, special racks and cabinets for fishing equipment. The vehicle has special wheels and wide tires to cope with beach sand.

TORONTO—Ed Chadwick is the only rookie goal tender in the National Hockey League and plays for the Maple Leafs. He came to the club from Fergus, Ontario.

Trap-Line Still Has Lure for Veteran Hunter at 76

By H. GUY MOATS

"I don't believe the lure of the outdoors, the thrills (and hard work) of running a trap-line will ever leave me" opines one of the Pontiac area's most venerable hunter-trappers.

Harry M. Linabury, 101 Sanford street, for 21 years a Truckaway Corp. driver, and for many more years than that an ardent—and successful outdoorsman, is still at it, despite his 76 years.

As a matter fact, Linabury is just now planning to get back in the Upper Peninsula's hunting country for another run of the trap-lines. He was there last year and had good luck, he says, taking coyote, skunk, fox and other legal prey. One of his captures was a young fox wearing a leather collar.

"I'm going to spend some time in Florida, too" says Linabury. "And I guess I'll do some fishing while I'm there at my son's (Robert) at Tampa."

The veteran recalls the fine lake trout fishing that once was available in the Lake Superior Grand Marais area, which this writer can affirm. Now, however, it is practically gone." Why, there is so little in the way of lake trout trolling at Grand Marais that few commercial fishermen are still operatting there" Linabury commented.

"Guess I'll just have to move over into the Porcupine Mountain country if I want to get anything," he added.

Star Ferris Gridder Will Sign With Army

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—Russ McLean of Saginaw, a star halfback on Ferris Institute's football team for the past two years, will join the Army the day after Christmas, coach Sam Ketchman said today.

McLean, fourth highest scorer in Michigan for the past two seasons with a total of 21 touchdowns, was chosen on the second squad of the Associated Press Michigan small college all-state team this year.

The Missing Lynx

Relative of Bobcat Close to Extinction

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the lynx, like the timber wolf and the mountain lion, is "seen" frequently in areas where he never existed, and actually hunted as a predator in areas where he hasn't set foot in 35 years.

The lynx and the timber wolf, as a matter of fact, share a further dubious distinction: They are perhaps the only wild creatures for which substantial sums of money are paid out annually as bounties in states where there simply aren't any.

This somewhat startling situation develops because a great many people—yes, even bounty clerks—have what is known in some game management circles as "the Little Red Riding Hood" complex. They can't tell a coyote from a timber wolf, nor a bobcat from a Canada lynx, because they've never seen the real thing in either case.

And all three species may join the grizzly bear in an unfortunate quartet of impressive American beasts of prey which actually may be exterminated long before a righteous public gives up harassing them for lives of largely legendary crimes.

The Canada lynx deserves this fate even less than his colleagues. In the days of the forest primeval, lynx range seldom reached farther south than Indiana, or down along the Rocky Mountains to Colorado. Right now, he probably has come as close to disappearing from the U. S. as has the grizzly, with only a few hundred individuals left in widely scattered wilderness areas of the northern states.

And even there, biologists of such places as Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin refer to the lynx as a remnant species. That doesn't save it from the bounty, though. For instance, in 1954 and 1955 Wisconsin paid $5 each for 524 "lynx and wildcat" slain by hunters or trappers.

As in the case in many another mystery, there's a close relative of the victim at the bottom of the whole thing. In the case of the lynx, the relative is the bobcat.

Trabert Given Offer as French Net Coach

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — American professional star Tony Trabert said today he is considering a private French offer to help train France's Davis Cup team next year.

Trabert said the offer was made by some French tennis enthusiasts who are eager to help re-establish their country's reputation in the sport. France played in nine successive Davis Cup challenge rounds between 1925 and 1933.

Ski Areas Hope for More Snow

Mt. Holly Will Make Own Cover, If Mercury Goes Below 28

With some of the worst winter weather conditions in this area blocking operations of the several skiing centers within easy reach of Pontiac, operators today were hoping for a mercury drop, and some good heavy snowfall.

Ward Graddis of Mt. Holly, the new slope on Dixie Highway (US10) north of Drayton Plains, voiced the hopes of the skiing area people today.

"This has been the worst weather possible for us (ski slope operators). What little snow most of us had has been washed away. Now, we are hoping for a drop in temperatures below freezing so we can at least get our slopes covered with manufactured snow. "Out here at Mt. Holly we have some left on the slope from last time we blew it. If the weather gets cold enough we will go to work immediately making new snow. It would take about six hours to make enough to cover our slope."

Machine blown snow, says Graddis, is "by far the best upon which to ski (even better than the natural stuff). The Mt. Holly equipment, Graddis explains, can turn out 750 pounds of snow a minute. That figures out to more than 25 tons an hour. It's fine powdered, makes very smooth skiing.

Pontiac Ski club, operating at the Highland Recreation area, has completed installation of its new tows and needs only a good snow to get into action. The area is in better condition, more expansive than ever before.

OCSC to See Fine Wildlife Picture

Featured entertainment will be Walt Disney's true-life motion picture, "The Olympic Elk." It depicts the life story of one of America's most majestic big game animals in the Olympic National Forest.

President Lloyd Sibley will conduct the meeting and announce particulars of several impending winter events.

A MUCC dues raise approval will be sought from the membership at this time.

Christmas Night, aside from being the name of a rather popular perfume is one of the better nights in the year. It seems rather a pity to have it marred by the sudden realization that it also happens to be Tuesday, the day this column is customarily laid to rest. As all seasoned readers know Christmas is the only weekday that sees publication of this newspaper suspended. This can be a confusing situation when added to other factors that make this such an un-Tuesday-like day. To us, anyway.

It isn't so much that the kids were up and dressed at 3:30 a.m., having misread the clock a trifle, although that has a bearing. Any parents looking in will acknowledge the fact that there are few critters harder to bed down again than once-up Christmas chilluns

In deference to the season we feel that our usual preoccupation with making life miserable for furred, feathered and finned cousins should take a back seat for a spell and we might consider, for a bit anyway, some of the other facets to the business of hunting and fishing, besides the obvious ones. Anyway all the major local seasons are closed.

We won't dwell on the usual business of outdoor activities being healthful because, frankly, we suspect we might be a bit stancher at the moment had we not spent the better part of a third of a century freezing in duck blinds, icicling in trout streams, roasting in the piney flats or otherwise indulging in some tomfoolery when we could just as well have been a great deal more comfortable with a substantial saving in sinew and moola.

Sportsmen's Club Plans Browse-Cutting Jaunt

Sixth annual OSCS deer browse cutting in northeast Gladwin county is scheduled for weekend of Jan. 5-6.

The cutting sites selected by the Conservation Department Forestry Division, is a heavy growth aspen area. The timber is left intact after the cutting, no trimming being done, to permit deer to browse on the fallen timber rest of the winter, and allow a new growth of sprouts to grow.

First browse cutting of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club took place in December of 1952, second in February of 1953, and on the first week-end in January ever since.

Forty-six club members participated in last year's trip, and a similar number are invited to meet at the Sportsmen's Club at 5 A.M., Saturday morning, Jan. 5.

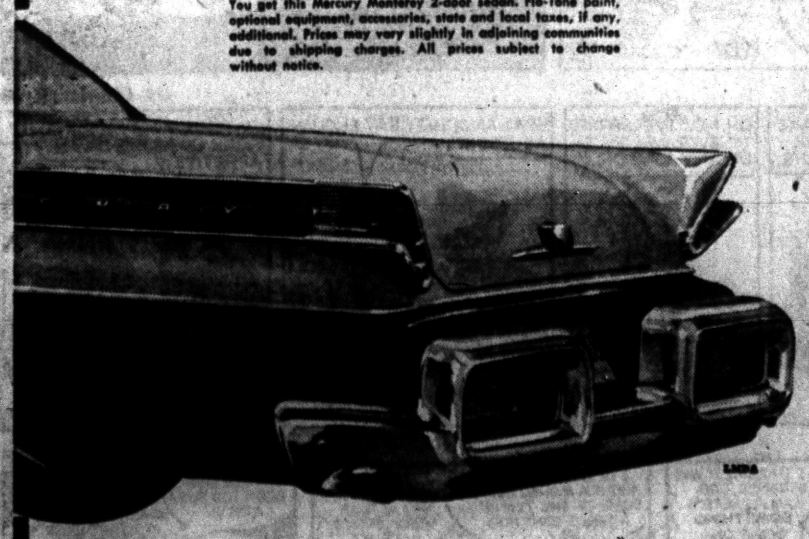

Those interested in making the trip should register at the OSCS office, Waterford, or call Howard Shelley, FE 4-3908.

Grains Lower in Dull Session

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains drifted lower in very dull dealings on the Board of Trade today. Trading was even less active than in the short Monday session.

Old crop wheat futures had a weak undertone from the start, but new crop months held steady. Soybeans slipped back after an erratic opening. There was very little price change in corn or oats but corn was lower.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅝ lower, March $2.40¾, corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.35¼, oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 77⅞, rye ½ to ¾ lower, March $1.48¾, soybeans ¼ to 1⅛ lower, January $2.48, and lard unchanged to 17 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $14.57.

* * *

A little pressure was exerted against old crop wheat futures from traders who felt most wheat would be redeemed from the government loan and offered on the free market after the turn of the year. Cash market prices are above the loan level.

One Driver Injured in Four-Car Pile Up

One driver was slightly injured in a four-car pile up Monday afternoon on West Huron street, Pontiac police said.

Billy G. Wilson, 29, of 1440 Oregon Rd. was released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after treatment.

The accident began, police said, when Frederick D. Hammond, 41, of 3600 Oakshire Blvd. slowed down to turn right at Dakota avenue. His car was struck in the rear by that of Norman E. Bergen, 41, of Davisburg, who in turn was hit by Wilson's car.

Lawrence W. Caine, of Ortonville ran into Wilson, police said.

Police Charge Driver Drunk and Disorderly

They said Reynolds had turned from Osmun to strike one moving car and three parked cars.

Reynolds suffered no apparent injury, authorities at Pontiac General Hospital said. Police said the other driver, John G. Martin, 26, of 203 Elm St. was not injured.

Attempt Made to Weaken Tito

Kremlin Chooses Albania as Propaganda Base

LONDON (INS)—Western diplomatic observers say that Albania has been chosen by the Kremlin as forward propaganda base for its new and apparently all-out attempt to weaken the prestige of the "heretical" Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Smallest of the Soviet satellites and still reckoned to be the most trustworthy of Russia's unreliable satellite allies, Albania is tailor-made for the job.

It is led by two men who have been Russian stooges and fanatical Stalinists for a decade and who have no love for Yugoslovia or Tito, with whom they fell out long, long ago.

They have several times been used in the past by the Kremlin against Tito whenever the formidable Marshal seemed to be getting out of line with Moscow thinking.

And because the eruptions in the Soviet satellite empire have scarcely affected Albania, the Kremlin has had no difficulty in convincing the Albanian Red leaders that Tito is again a menace to all true Marxist-Lenin thinkers, according to the diplomatic grapevine.

It is known that Tito is particularly sensitive to any hot wind blowing from the direction of Yugoslavia's soft underbelly, and that he watches the Albanian capital of Tirana almost as carefully as he does Moscow.

Tito is fully aware that Moscow's hold on Albania is absolute both through military power and through its henchmen Communist leader Enver Hoxha and Premier Mehmet Shehu. His reported efforts to split the redoubtable Hoxha and the weaker Shehu are said to have failed, and the two are reported to be working closely together in the harness they have shared for years.

Secondly, Tito knows that Russian military aid has made Albania an always potent threat to his security in the south. Strategically Albania always has dominated the entrance to the Adriatic Sea and therefore to Yugoslavia's only coastline. But it needed Soviet air and Naval buildup to make it the powerful Mediterranean base it is reported to have become.

Western intelligence reports state that Sasebo, the island off the Albanian mainland opposite the "heel" of Italy, has been converted into a strongly fortified submarine base, with several Soviet-built and Soviet-controlled jet-warplane bases on the island and the adjacent mainland.

Thus a hostile Albania could create a nasty problem for Tito in the event of a no-holds-barred row with the Kremlin. It also could mean big problems for such nations as Italy, Greece and Yugoslavia in the event of a general war in which Russia was on the opposite side.

Current Western diplomatic thinking however is that the new Kremlin-Tito feud will not pass beyond the war of nerves stage, with the Kremlin attempting to soften up Tito as part of its piecemeal efforts to repair the Soviet external security system.

The Kremlin is seen as taking a carefully calculated risk in this. But it is not expected to do anything which might shove Tito off his precarious East-West perch into the Western camp.

Nor is the very considerable bitterness (amounting almost to hatred) between Tito and Hoxha expected to exceed the current sparring match of bitter invective. Tito assumedly has no wish to do more than shake a fist at Hoxha; and Hoxha always has obeyed the Kremlin, for whose favors he forsook Tito in 1945.

But because it gives the west a valuable indication of how soon the Kremlin-Tito honeymoon may be irrevocably abandoned, the Western capitals are staying eagerly tuned in to Tirana radio and its incessant stream of Anti-Tito propaganda.

Industrials Lead Stock Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrials paced the stock market to an advance early this afternoon in active trading.

Steels were the pacemakers but leading rail stocks showed many fractional losses. Chemicals and farm implements were ahead. Non-ferrous metals were mixed.

A number of good-sized blocks changed hands as the market opened after its four-day Christmas weekend. Steels went ahead in the wake of the longest stretch of capacity-plus operations in four years and continuing high demand supported by requirements for tankers to carry oil because of the Suez Canal situation.

DuPont was a late opener, up 6 points on 4,800 shares. An unconfirmed report that the stock would be split combined with a Wall street plug for the stock were said by brokers to be responsible for this.

Late DuPont stretched its gain to 7.

Rubber Sells at Record Pace

Need Due to Increase in Production of Autos, Says Firm President

NEW YORK (AP)—Record rubber industry sales of six billion dollars in 1957 and an annual rate of seven billion dollars by 1960 were forecast today by H. E. Humphreys Jr., president of United States Rubber Co.

"Passenger car and truck tire sales will total about 100 million units in 1957, compared with an estimated 98 million units for 1956," Humphreys said in a year-end statement. "The increase in part reflects estimates by the auto industry that car production will be somewhere between 6½ and 7 million units next year.

"In addition, replacement passenger car tire sales will be 1 to 1½ per cent higher and should total about 52½ million units. Truck tire replacement sales will be the same or slightly lower than the 8½ million units we estimate for this year.

"An increase in automobile production will also boost the sale of the many other rubber industry products which go into new cars. Among these are foam rubber, plastic-coated and other fabrics for upholstery, a growing number of plastic items for interior trim and numerous rubber products for gaskets, hose and mountings.

"We shall also see the growing adoption of a new automotive rubber product, air springs, these will be used on a small scale in 1957 cars. By 1958 we believe they will be widely used.

"United States Rubber Co. plans to invest a record of about 40 million dollars for expansion and modernization in 1957," compared with about 32 million in 1956 and 35½ million in 1955.

"Next year's investment will bring capital expenditures by the company over a 10 year period to 260 million dollars."

Business Notes

Merritt Cooley, head of the Pontiac branch of Michigan Soft Water of Eastern Michigan, Inc., was named the firm's top state salesman at a recent ceremony in Flint. He was awarded a new automobile for having the best sales record among 40 sales representatives.

Cooley lives at 6031 Middle Lake Rd., Clarkston.

But Inflation a Danger

Prosperity Will Continue for Nation During '57

NEW YORK (AP) — Will Americans continue to enjoy good times in 1957?

Yes, said the evidence as 1956 ended.

There may be a slow-down after the first six months in the massive economic forces that have been rolling prosperity across the nation, but there is pretty general agreement that 1957 may see the new economic records set.

1. Increased government expenditure because of the world turmoil.

2. Built-in elements that will bring higher wage levels. Many long-term labor contracts provide for yearly increases.

3. Continued rise in the level of the nation's gross national product (the sum total of all goods and services.)

4. Continued strong buying power.

5. Expansion by industry for new plants and facilities.

Some of the expected economic gains, especially in the gross national product, undoubtedly will be due to inflation. In other words, perhaps half the possible rise in GNP may be accounted for by rising prices, not actual production.

But does inflation worry the average person? Apparently not so far. He has more money in his pocket and certainly feels more prosperous. He complains about prices, but continues to buy things for cash or on the cuff.

PRICE RISE DANGER

The real danger would be a massive dose of rising prices. That does not seem to be indicated. Many of the government economists think the overall price rise in 1957 should not exceed 2 to 2½ per cent.

Informed government officials say there is no present prospect that President Eisenhower will ask Congress for any price or wage control legislation.

A potential brake may be established on consumer credit. That subject is being studied now. Any action likely would take the form of stand-by authority.

There will be rusty spots on the gleaming surface of the boom in 1957. Private housing likely will suffer as compared to previous years. The big reason for that is scarcity of loanable funds due to the government's tight money policy. Forecasts, however, are for overall construction to set a record.

The automobile industry will not approach the all-time high of 1955, according to the best informed opinion. A total of 7,400,000 passenger cars were purchased in that year. This year, a total is expected to be six million, next year, the industry sees substantially more cars bought.

The gross national product for this year now is at an annual level of 414 billion dollars, the first time in history that the 400 billion mark has been exceeded. Last year it was $390,900,000,000. Next year there are predictions it will go to 420 billion dollars.

Personal income for October, the last government figures available, totalled $332,600,000,000, the Department of Commerce reported. That was 21 billion dollars higher than a year ago.

A new high in employment was set in August with 66,752,000 persons working. It is easy to remember a few years ago when a 60 million job goal was regarded as something to shoot for.

NUN BUT THE LONELY ART — Two nuns create a tranquil contrast to the nightmarish abstract design on the wall of the United Nations General Assembly room in New York City. The nuns had chosen a secluded corner in a far balcony as they watched and listened to the proceedings.

'British Pubs Disclose Pulse of Nation'—Bevin

When the last British soldier had been brought back from Dunkerque and the Nazi blitz was at its worst, the late Ernest Bevin said, "Tell me what they are saying in the pubs and I'll tell you if we can last out."

No one, reveals an article in an issue of a national magazne, could choose a more appropriate listening post than that workman's club, poet's corner, politician's neighborhood forum, and Englishman's all-purpose meeting place than the public house or tavern.

What the cracker barrel is to grass roots America, the pub beer barrel is to England. Here the high-born the high browed, and the humble for centuries have quenched their thirst and weighed with words the trials and triumphs of "This blessed plot, this earth, this realm, this England."

The author of this article learned that British pubs, many of which are hundreds of years old, open at 10:30 a.m., close at 2:30 p.m., reopen at 5 p.m., and shut down for the night at 10:30. Presumably this schedule s meant to prevent the patrons from drinking themselves under the table. But many of them think it only serves to make more people drink more in less time. He learned also that when ordering, you must always ask for a pint or a half pint of beer or ale. If it's port you wish, you must ask for a glass of it. The only time you order a drink is when you want water. If you hear someone ask for "Nelson's Blood," he's only asking for rum.

One of the most famous of all English taverns is the fabled Tabard Inn in London. As this article points out, it was from here long ago that 29 pilgrims set out for Canterbury, and it was the Tabard inkeeper of that day who suggested that each pilgrim tell a tale on the trip. While few modern pilgrims stop at the nn today, it still retains a touch of poetry and is not without its story-tellers.

Keys to Trouble

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — Rose Yarmoski, superior court clerk caught in a wintry storm without transportation, decided to bundle up and walk to work.

When she arrived downtown, she discovered she didn't have her office key. She started trudging back home — only to learn she didn't have a house key either.

All crack trains aren't the streamlined specials. A yard engine at a coal mine in West Frankfort, Ill., shuttles one million gross-ton miles every year.

Prize Photographs of Tour Result of Care in Details

PARIS — That photo of Aunt Minnie clinging to the Eiffel Tower or posing with a pigeon on her hat in Venice is a priceless souvenir of a trip to Europe. Many a tourist, however, who crosses Europe with camera in hand is disappointed to discover that his once-in-a-lifetime picture is either out-of-focus or completely blank.

Today, eight out of 10 tourists take a camera abroad, says an airline company, and a few words of advice are in order for the army of amateurs who want to preserve the highlights of their trip on film.

Test your camera to be sure it is in perfect condition before you leave home. Insure your equipment against loss, and take a copy of your policy. It wil also be a proof of ownership for customs if you own a foreign camera.

If you are moving fast from place to place, air mail your exposed rolls home for processing.

Keep film and camera in cool, dry place, and use separate carrying case for equipment.

Yankee Clipper Still at Work

Oregon Barber Recalls 15 Cent Hair Trims; Maybe Looked It

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS) — Remember when it cost 15 cents for a haircut and 10 cents for a shave.

Not many people can recall those days but Orval (Wallie) Hite remembers them well. Wallie has been a barber 59 years and he celebrated his 75th birthday working as usual in his shop in a downtown office building in Portland.

"I guess you could say our prices have gone up 1000 per cent," he says as he tfinks back to the fees barbers used to get in 1897 when he started in the business.

Oddly, Wallie says the size of tips hasn't changed over all those years. A good tipper used to give 25 cents and that is the size of what Wallie calls a "good tip" today.

Another thing that hasn't changed is the ability of most barbers to carry on a good conversation with their customers —mostly about politics and baseball.

"We used to argue about Ty Cobb and Teddy Roosevelt and Cleveland. Now the talk's about Ike and Adlai and this Don Larson feller," he comments.

Barbers used to give a lot of shaves but now it's almost entirely haircuts, according to Wallie. They also used to trim a lot of beards and moustaches. "And we used pincers, cigar ashes and cigaret papers to give the dandies a pretty curl in their handlebars," he adds.

Leeches also were standard equipment for barbers in the old days. They used the leeches to treat black eyes.

Wallie says there is one myth he'd like to see laid to rest.

"You know, I've never been able to understand all this talk about barbershop quartets. If they ever existed it was long before my time. In 59 years around barbershops, I've yet to hear any of that sweet harmony."

Do Not Disturb!

NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — A motorist told police his car ran off a freeway 138 feet over a bank into a ditch when he fell asleep in the early afternoon. Police charged the man with speeding and gave him a bunk in jail when he said he had not slept for four days.

The gigantic Casa Loma in Toronto was built by the late Sir Henry Pellat as a gift to his bride. The castle is linked to all outlying buildings by underground passages.

Unscheduled Train Stop

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Ora Sutton suddenly stopped his switch engine on the Indianapolis Belt Railroad and he and his crewmen of a small freight train fished an elderly man out of the water company canal. The man said that he stumbled into the water while walking along the bank.

Dance Was 'Loaded'

LEBANON, Ore. (INS)—Dancers who thought things were heavenly at the Bohemian hall didn't know how near heaven they were as they glided to ballroom dances and stomped to old time steps.

Under the floor authorities found enough dynamite to blow up the hall and most of the town. It had been there 12 years.

Woman Steady Voter

SWEPSONVILLE, N. C. (AP—Mrs. C. P. Thompson, 72, believes in exercising her right to vote. She has voted in every county, state and federal election since the passage of the women suffrage act 36 years ago.

"My vote means a lot, and I feel it is a duty to vote, "she said.

Teach All Facts to Baby Sitters

Make Sure Rules on Fire and Other Essentials Are There

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The baby sitter!

1. Know the sitter. Make inquiries about training and family background.

2. Employ only sitters who have a sense of responsibility and who like children.

3. Try to have the same sitter regularly, if possible, and one who lives nearby.

4. Have a preliminary "get acquainted" interview with sitter. Acquaint the sitter with children and pets, especially the watch-dog.

5. Give instructions orally and leave them in writing.

6. Show sitter all exits and how to get children out of house in case of fire.

7. Be sure sitter understands that, in the event of fire, the children should be gotten out of the house first, then the fire department called, and then the parents notified.

GIVE PHONE NUMBERS

8. Give the sitter the telephone number of the fire department, you (parents or adult members of family doctor, and place to which the family) are going. Also, what neighbor to call in the event of any emergency.

9. If there is no phone, explain to sitter other means of notifying fire department in case of a fire.

10. Caution sitter against permitting child to play with matches, electric cords, or other electric appliances. Also, tell sitter to keep the child out of the kitchen, if possible.

11. If sitter is to bathe youngster, make certain she has had such experience.

12. Leave a first aid kit with sitter and explain how to take care of simple burns, cuts, bruises.

14. Always come home at the hour agreed upon. Telephone if delayed.

15. Make suitable and safe arrangements for accompanying the sitter home.

Big Readership Proves Useless

Madison Avenue Man Cites Diversion of Ads to Newer Medium

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — The large reading audience was surprised last week to learn of the death of two of the nation's oldest magazines, Colliers and the Woman's Home Companion. The much smaller community of free-lance writers was shocked.

License to comment on the situation in a department devoted to television is provided by the private comment of a Madison avenue advertising agency executive. Television killed the magazines, he believes. No such remark has been heard from executives of the two magazines. Yet the agency man may have a point.

During the first years of television's phenomenal growth, nearly all branches of the publishing industry feared that it represented dangerous and, in some cases, possibly fatal competition. The fear proved to be unfounded. Book sales and magazine and newspaper circulations have generally continued to climb regardless of the huge growth of the television audience. From the aspect of receptive audiences, reading and viewing have proved quite compatible.

The case of Collier's and the Companion is not an exception to this generalization. Collier's had reached an all-time high in circulation — an average net paid of 4,179,700 for the past eight issues. The Companion was approaching its peak with an average net paid of 4,228,000 for the last four issues. These figures mean that at least 12 million persons were reading each of these magazines regularly.

So it was not lack of public interest that destroyed them. Rather, sharp declines in advertising forced them to suspend publication.

It is the theory of the agency executive, undocumented by specific examples, that advertising which in years past would normally have been placed in these publications was diverted to television. This may or may not be true. If true, it is interesting that death came in the back door, so to speak, by way of advertising rather than readership.

College Grads Decline

WASHINGTON—The number of person 18 to 21 years of age in the United States decreased at the rate of 100,000 a year from 1945 1955. The number of college graduates reflected that decline, falling from an all-time high of 434,000 in 1950 to 287,000 in 1955.

Little Bird - - Big Trouble

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — An energetic sparrow who tried to use a piece of copper wire for nest building material shorted out a 69,000-volt transformer and cut off power for this South Texas city for nine minutes. The power break also was fatal to the unlisted customer.

Found by a Long Shot

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A lost 3-year-old girl's statement that she "got shot yesterday" was good enough to establish her identity. Police got in touch with Dr. Thomas B. White, who had been giving polio shots in the area. He identified her as Karen Dineen.

Colorado with an average elevation of 6,800 feet, has the highest above the sea altitude of the 48 states.

Boy Freezes; Lost in Woods Hunting With Dad

NORTH FREEDOM, Wis. (AP) — Seven-year-old Lawrence Mitchell didn't see Santa Claus this Christmas because he died alone in a forest, his body guarded by his little brown dog.

Lawrence had gone hunting with his father, Henry Mitchell, and they became lost. The boy died as his dad searched for a way out of the dense woods.

Sauk county coroner Dr. James Tibbitts, in telling of the tragedy yesterday, said the little boy died of exposure. His frozen body was found by searchers. His dog was at his side.

Tibbitts said the father and son entered the woods Sunday afternoon on the hunt for rabbits and squirrels. They lost their way when snow began to fall at dusk.

The father said they wandered the woods at night and Monday morning the boy weakened and could not walk and Mitchell left him while he continued to search for a way out. He reached his home at 11 a.m. and neighbors found the boy's frozen body.

Mitchell was suffering from exposure and hospitalized.

Vulcanizing Agents New

NEW YORK—The elements, selenium and tellurium, are being used instead of sulfur in vulcanizing rubber to produce a material with reportedly better wearing and flameproofing properties for rubber coverings of electric cables in ship and mining equipment.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

You're 'Hurricane Driver'

It Speed Reaches 75 M.P.H.

CHICAGO—Are you a hurricane driver?

You are if you drive 75 miles an hour or more, the National Safety Council says.

For at that pace, warned the Council, you can destroy yourself and anything in your path as quickly as a hurricane.

"The U.S. weather bureau considers winds of 75 miles and over of hurricane proportion," says Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council, "and motorists should remember that a car driven at the same speed is propelled with the same destructive force."

Because of the emergency traffic situation, with its rising toll, Mr. Dearborn said a year-round "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" campaign, being launched this December, will continue through 1957. The purpose of the campaign is to encourage public officials to step up the attack and to stimulate citizens to back the attack on traffic accidents.

Speed was a large factor last year in the 609 Christmas traffic deaths, the Council said. Driving too fast for conditions or in excess of the speed limit was a factor in 85 per cent of the fatal accidents, compared with an annual average of 35 per cent.

At high speeds the human body becomes increasingly vulnerable, the Council said. If an accident occurs at 60 miles an hour or more the victim is eight times more likely to die than if he had been injured in an accident at 20 miles an hour.

"Speed not only increases your chances of having an accident—it decreases your chances of coming out alive if you do have one," says Mr. Dearborn.

To determine a safe speed, the Council said, drivers must take into consideration:

1. Weather and visibility. Fog, rain, snow, bright sunlight, or darkness are caution signs that should be heeded.

2. Mechanical factors. Engine power, ability to hold the road, and efficiency of all mechanical parts have a definite bearing on selection of a safe speed.

3. Physical factors. Whether a road is rough, smooth, hilly, flat, curving or straight are considerations that should influence speed.

4. Personal factors. The driver's physical and mental condition and the speed at which he can safely control his car are important factors.

5. Traffic conditions. Drivers should adapt their speed to the traffic they meet. A safe speed on a country road can be unsafe on a city street.

Explosive Cargo Ignites on Train

Blast Cracks Windows in Kansas Town; Secret Shipment Destroyed

SELKIRK, Kan. (AP) —A freight car loaded with a secret shipment of government explosives caught fire and blew up at the edge of Selkirk last night.

The blast broke out at least half the window panes in town. Almost every building showed some damage. A 300-pound chunk of steel hurtled a quarter of a mile into main street and clipped power lines. No one was hurt.

Selkirk is a town of fewer than 100 in western Kansas, about 30 miles from the Colorado line.

The box car was in a fast westbound freight on the Missouri Pacific and railroaders said a hot box set it afire. An axle bearing ran dry of lubricant, turned red hot and burst into flame.

Crewmen cut off the train behind the burning car and pulled into a siding. They also uncoupled about six cars ahead of the explosives and pulled ahead. Debris from the explosion blocked the mainline only a short time.

A Missouri Pacific spokesman in Kansas City said he didn't know what kind of explosives were in the car "and I couldn't tell you if I knew because it was a secret government shipment."

The Wisdom of Youth!

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — On a recent test, Paul Sutherland asked his eighth grade class to complete this statement: "Tax is a . . . payment to the government." "Compulsory" was the expected answer but one lad wrote "everlasting"—and how could he be marked wrong?

in Alien Deportations

WASHINGTON — The Immigration and Naturalization Service deported 11,954 persons during 1955 for all kinds of reasons compared with 21,367 the year before.

The service said the huge cut in deportations was due to Operation Wetback, which shut off the principal source of illegal entries.

Gauge Vitamin Intake

Madison, Wis. — Researchers at the University of Wisconsin measuring vitamin B-6 in the human diet found that an average adult receives nine tenths of a milligram of the vitamin daily from his food, chiefly from meat, cheese, eggs, and bread. No deficiency seemed to develop when a test subject was given only one sixth of the normal intake.

Whale Oil Is Used

BOSTON — At the height of the American whaling industry a century ago, when whale oil ran almost everything that needed oil, including lamps, annual production reached 400,000 barrels. Although the world is less dependent on whale oil now, present-day output exceeds 2,000,000 barrels.

About 92 per cent of the tungsten in the U.S. is used for alloy steels, including lamps, annual production needed for high-speed cutting tools.

Teacher Was Egghead!

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The dignity of commencement exercises at nearby Joe T. Robinson School was shaken when a 12th grade teacher was struck by a flying egg. Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Henson, charged with disturbing the peace, said they were mad at school officials. They didn't say why.

Irrigation systems on Hawaii's sugar plantations represent an investment of more than $44 million.

Cheese on Decline

LONDON—Britain's per capita consumption of cheese declined to 9.6 pounds in 1955 from 9.7 pounds in 1954 although the total consumption, 482,000,000 pounds, was about the same as the year before and about 14 per cent over the prewar average. Prewar per capita consumption was 8.9 pounds.
