CHICAGO (AP)—Flying squads of well-armed National Guardsmen helped police restore relative peace to a riot-scarred West Side area today, then most of them withdrew to their armories on a stand-by basis.

Police patrols and two jeep loads of Guardsmen roamed through the area today but there were no early reports of daytime looting or other violence.

"We were not fired upon and had to fire on no one," said Maj. Gen. Francis Kane, commander of the 33rd Division, Illinois National Guard.

Kane was expected to send additional units of his 3,000 man force back later today into the area which has been ripped by racial violence that started Tuesday.

Youthful gangs who had looted, burned and fired sniper-style from rooftops faded away last night as Guardsmen — told to shoot to kill if fired upon—went on patrol.

Through the streets of a 140-square-block area rolled trucks loaded with soldiers, rifles at the ready, bayonets fixed; Jeeps with machine guns mounted; police cars with shot-guns poked out windows.

Knots of Negroes lined curbs in some areas, catcalling occasionally, but there were only scattered incidents: one reported with police returning fire but finding no one; a fire bomb thrown into a store outside a home; a few store windows broken; several fires in houses and stores.

By midnight, police reported, streets were virtually deserted. Police arrested 51 persons in last night's disturbances, 44 men, four juveniles and three women.

A CONTRAST

The calm contrasted dramatically with Thursday night, when an estimated 5,000 were on the streets and two Negroes were killed by gunshot and 30 were injured amid widespread shooting, looting and burning that continued into the day yesterday.

Gov. Otto Kerner called up the Guard, 3,000 strong, yesterday at the request of Mayor Richard A. Daley.

The mayor said he felt police alone could not cope with the rioting, worst in the North since 34 were killed in massive rioting in Los Angeles last August.

Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane held 1,500 troops in reserve and sent 1,500 into action, operating from a base in a parking lot. They teamed with 1,000 police.

"If anybody shoots at my men," Gen. Kane told newsmen, "my orders are to shoot back—shoot to kill."

No Break Seen in Air Strike

Union Official Says Talks at an Impasse

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The airlines strike dragged into the ninth day today and the chief union negotiator predicted the deadlock would last at least until next week.

Joseph W. Ramsey, spokesman for the striking 35,400 machinist union members of five major airlines, said talks were at an impasse. A new dispute with Northwest Airlines, one of the five strike lines, has further complicated things, Ramsey indicated.

He said he had no reason to believe "the airlines will move" until next week.

William J. Curtin, spokesman for the airlines, agreed. He said "he had no reason to think" there would be any break in the talks today.

Meanwhile, the Civil Aeronautics Board, moving to ease monumental air traffic jams across the nation, authorized 13 supplemental airlines to fly nearly 100 routes of the five truck carriers.

SIDE DISPUTE

The side dispute involving Northwest was said to deal with handling of military flights. Earlier this week, the union broke off negotiations over a Northwest order requiring some To-

Airline Plans to Lay Off 207 in State

DETROIT (AP)—United Air Lines said yesterday it will lay off 207 employees in Michigan July 18 and will trim working hours of 420 employees July 25 if a strike continues against it.

A spokesman said United plans to lay off 122 pilots, 75 stewardesses and 10 teletype operators in Michigan July 18 if the strike continues. He said all 207 are nonstriking union employees.

United intends to reduce the work day from eight to six hours for 420 nonunion employees in Michigan July 25. Of these persons, 306 are located at Detroit, 31 at Grand Rapids, 20 in the Saginaw-Bay City area, 20 at Lansing, 17 at Flint and 16 at Muskegon.

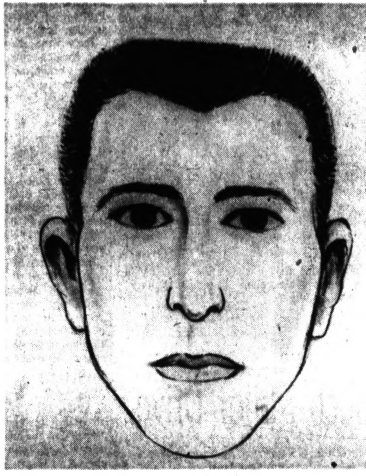

The spokesman said United would lay off or reduce working hours of similar employees throughout the nation.

ON STRIKE

The International Association of Machinists struck United, Northwest, Trans World, National and Eastern.

All but National operated in Michigan mostly through Detroit Metropolitan Airport. American Airlines said Friday it would add three nonstop jets daily from Detroit to New York's Kennedy Airport, starting Monday. Three additional return flights also are scheduled.

North Central Airlines said it was putting new nonstop flights on the route from Detroit to Chicago, with connections to Minneapolis.

SKETCH OF SLAYER—Chicago police artist Otis Rathel yesterday produced this drawing of the slayer of eight student nurses in Chicago, based on a detailed description of the killer obtained in a two-hour questioning session with Corazon Amurao, a student nurse who escaped the killer.

North Viets Alert World for Message

TOKYO (AP)—Radio Hanoi seeks world attention for a message of undefined import. Hinting there will be an important statement, the North Vietnamese station said it will "release a special transmission" at 8:45 a.m.—9:45 p.m. (local time) today.

There was no indication of the topic, though North Viet Nam's threat to try captive American pilots on war crimes charges has been among the chief topics of recent Red transmissions.

Wilson Arrives for Soviet Talk

Ostensible Purpose Is British Fair Visit

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain arrived here today hoping to talk with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin about peace in Viet Nam.

Wilson's ostensible purpose in coming to Moscow is a visit tomorrow to a British trade fair to "encourage our exporters."

Upon leaving London, he was asked if he hoped for success in his peace efforts and replied: "This is something we can only discover when we get to Moscow."

"The purpose of my visit is to visit the trade fair and give encouragement to our exporters who are doing a magnificent job for Britain."

SAY NO

Soviet newspapers have said bluntly that Soviet leaders won't discuss Viet Nam with him. Wilson is scheduled to hold talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Monday.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told Parliament Wilson would press the Soviets to reconvene the 1964 Geneva conference on Indochina.

Bulletin

CHICAGO (AP)—Police Supt. O. W. Wilson announced that the suspected killer of the eight student nurses has been named in a warrant Saturday as Richard B. Speck, 25. He is a seaman also known by the aliases of Richard Franklin Lindberg and Richard Benjamin Speck. He was identified by his fingerprints.

CHICAGO (AP)—Police said today a search for the wholesale killer of eight nursing students "is expanding greatly geographically and in number of persons checked."

"We are still very hopeful," said Capt. Michael Spiotto, deputy chief of detectives. "We have not yet reached anybody we can bring before the witness."

By the witness he referred to Miss Corazon Amurao, 23, an exchange student nurse from the Philippines who is the only survivor of the massacre early Thursday in the town house apartment dormitory the victims shared.

Miss Amurao, who escaped by hiding under a bed, has told police she is certain she can identify the killer.

Spiotto said that a task force of 60 detectives was going about the manhunt in a systematic manner, with the headquarters of the hunt in the office of the Area 2 Homicide Unit on the second floor of a two-story brick police building at 91st Street and Cottage Grove, two miles from the South Side scene of the killings.

WORK DIRECTOR

Lt. William McCarthy, who is directing the nerve-center work behind a door with a newly posted sign in crayon which reads, "Keep Out," said 50 men had been interviewed in area 2 alone.

McCarthy said those interviewed or contacted in the investigation were generally young men found roving the South Side area, either afoot or in automobiles, or men who had babbled about the crime in saloons.

Telephone calls have been received in the headquarters office from other police departments in 14 states, McCarthy said. He declined to name the states.

McCarthy said that police of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Her parents, taken by surprise, refused to talk to newsmen. The bride is the fourth wife of Douglas and a sociology major at Maryhurst College, a school for women near Portland. Douglas' third wife, who divorced the jurist June 24, also announced yesterday that she will be married again.

OU Reaches for Drama School Plum

Hopes are high that another dimension will be added to our area's cultural image by the development of a theatrical resource at Oakland University.

The project would be headed by JOHN FERNALD, long the guiding spirit of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in England, and environs establishment of a professional repertory company and a drama school with an eventual enrollment of 100 students.

Financial support for the proposed drama center would come from foundations, private sources and Federal assistance. Complementing the superb musical climate revolving around beautiful Meadow Brook, the theatrical concept would be a significant step toward full realization of the university's school of performing arts conceived more than a year ago.

It goes without saying that the locale of a training facility as superior as the one under consideration would invite competition. Oakland University faces it from Richmond, Va., which has made strong efforts to land the prize.

But OU offers so many unique advantages that there is good cause for optimism that it will be the site chosen. The community joins Chancellor D. B. VARNER in keeping its collective fingers crossed pending the decision that could mean so much to the Pontiac area and indeed the State.

Argentina Paying For Peron's Economic Binge

Argentina is living proof that the evil that men do lives after them. That ill-fated country is still suffering the social and economic woes inflicted upon it during the regime of exiled dictator JUAN D. PERON, in the early 1950s.

The Country's critical internal condition recently triggered a takeover by a military junta—the fourth in 11 years — that unseated inept President ARTURO ILLIA, elected in late 1963.

Despite a surface semblance of well-being, Argentina writhes in the clutches of economic chaos and inflation.

Although industrial output rose 11 per cent last year, production costs shot up 30 per cent. Living costs have gone up 32 per cent in the past year and show no signs of leveling off.

Behind the inflation is the nation's chronic budget deficit. This is so staggering, year after year, that the Government keeps solvent only by continually printing more money. Last year, the money supply increased by 26 per cent, 39 per cent in 1964. Even so, Government departments and welfare agencies are weeks late in paying workers and pensioners.

Yet, paradoxically, despite the road to ruin on which Peron set his homeland, there is, 11 years after he was booted out, a strong force of Peronists sympathetic to the policies their idol espoused. Observers say it is still the strongest political influence in Argentina, and recent parliamentary elections bear it out.

With the military again in power there is, however, little likelihood of Peronists regaining the reins of government; but there is also little likelihood of an early solution to Argentina's staggering problems.

U.S. Military Well Prepared on Malaria Front

In at least one respect, the United States is in pretty good shape to see the Viet Nam war to a conclusion, no matter how long it takes.

According to Sen. PHILIP HART, we have enough quinine stockpiled to last 1,142 years at present rates of usage. Also, he says, there is "no foundation for the currently popular myth" that American troops have encountered a resistant strain of malaria in Viet Nam.

The Michigan Democrat imparted the information at the close of hearings by the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee into the reasons behind a 300 per cent rise in the cost of quinine in less than a year. Hart blames the price increases on a Dutch-controlled cartel.

Since the United States has 11 centuries' worth of the substance, now might be a good time to release some of it on the international market to undercut such alleged price rigging.

Surely a more modest stockpile—say 500 years' supply—ought to be enough to cover the most pessimistic forecasts as to the duration of the war.

Eavesdropping Queries Unanswered

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The report filed by the Justice Department with the Supreme Court this week on a 1963 eavesdropping case leaves at least three big questions unanswered:

- When did the department first give FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover authority to approve the installation of "bugging" devices?
- Did Robert F. Kennedy, who became attorney general in 1961, personally give Hoover the green light to continue FBI eavesdropping practices?
- What are the specific limits to the range of cases in which the FBI feels justified in "bugging" suspects in the interest of "national security"?

On the first point, the memorandum, filed by Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall at the court's request in the Fred B. Black Jr. case, said only that the "practice" was "in effect for a period of years prior to 1963."

Does that mean the practice started under Kennedy under his immediate — and Republican — predecessors, William P. Rogers and Herbert Brownell, or earlier than that? The department did not say.

On the second point, Kennedy's office said Thursday the New York Democratic senator has said he "did not know of the existence or use of the listening device" planted in Black's Washington hotel suite.

UNDER GENERAL AUTHORITY
The department's vagueness may suggest the FBI was operating under general, rather than specific, authority. It may suggest, too, a lack of complete coordination between the FBI and other segments of the Justice Department on how the FBI obtains certain information.

On the third point, Marshall's memorandum said Hoover had the authority to approve the installation of eavesdropping devices "for intelligence and not evidentiary purposes when required in the interest of internal security or national safety, including organized crime, kidnappings and matters wherein human life might be at stake."

The memorandum said Black, a public relations man, at the time of the 1963 bugging was being investigated for "possible affiliation with organized criminal activity." It added that this "is not intended to suggest that any wrongdoing" on the part of Black was uncovered by the monitoring.

The memorandum noted that in 1965, under President Johnson's orders, the use of listening devices was prohibited "in all instances other than those involving the collection of intelligence affecting the national security."

The Johnson-directed guideline of "national security" appears stricter than the old one of "internal security or national safety." But both are relatively broad. Marshall's memorandum does not seem to clarify the specific situations that would fall under it.

The case focuses on a problem that is particularly perplexing in a society which puts great stock in the right to privacy.

The POWER of FAITH

by WOODI ISHMAEL

FAITH IN JAPAN—1

(Editor's Note: Woodi Ishmael, the author of this weekly feature, recently spent some time in Japan and found a number of evidences of The Power of Faith. He will present several of them in this and subsequent panels.)

Nikkyo Niwano is co-founder, revered teacher and president of Rishso Kosei Kai, one of the more dynamic Buddhist laymen organizations in Japan. Founded in 1888 with 30 members, it has grown to a present membership of 2,500,000. The doctrine of Rishso Kosei Kai is founded upon the principal teachings of Sakyamuni (the Buddha Gautama) 2500 years ago in India. President Niwano believed that the teachings of Sakyamuni should not be exclusively for priests and scholars but should become an integral part of the daily lives of all the people.

This artist-writer found living proof of Mr. Niwano's faith in a visit to the Great Sacred Hall (capacity 25,000 people) in Tokyo, topped by the Sacred Tower (shown above), which represents Sakyamuni's basic teachings. Designed to Mr. Niwano's concept, it has all modern facilities for communication with TV and radio broadcasting. Every day thousands of followers can be found in the Great Sacred Hall. With group leaders they study and discuss questions of faith and life's problems.

President Niwano also believes in strong interfaith cooperation and this was borne out in his acceptance of an invitation to attend the Vatican Ecumenical Council in 1965. He says, "I have been urging a movement to discover similarity among different religions of the world because it is my conviction that peace on earth will never become a reality so long as we battle over differences."

Confident Living:

Is Prayer Power So Strange?

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A strange phenomenon of our times is how casually we take amazing scientific feats involving power which only the great brains of physics understand and know how to harness. For example, two men in separate space vehicles are hurtled into orbit and in a matter of hours have attached the two vehicles together hundreds of miles above the earth's atmosphere. They even walk in space. Marvelous achievements. And what's the general reaction? We applaud the astronauts. But the amazing complex power-dynamics we just take for granted.

Dr. PEALE

Now, by contrast, doesn't it seem equally strange that so many people question the very existence of a different kind of power — one that is tapped through prayer. For here is power which countless men and women have personally experienced, which accomplished astonishing results.

A Utah man tells of physical healing obtained through prayer.

Healing obtained through prayer.

"One of the city's M.D.'s," he says, "told me the disease had left me with an incurable organic trouble which was beyond the help of medical science. Apparently it was not beyond God's power, however, for after two years of faith and prayer I was divinely healed."

And he describes a daily regimen he has followed ever since. "Each morning of the year, before breakfast, I start the day with 20 minutes of exercises followed by what I call my 'Prayer Mile.'"

I follow this with the 183rd Psalm — 'Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name' — and various other memorized Scripture passages, until the mile has been accomplished."

"When I arrive back home I am, needless to say, ready for breakfast—and also for the day's eventualities." And he is able to report, "For years now I have passed a 100 per cent perfect physical examination every year."

The skeptics try to explain such experiences away. The idea of prayer power is too much for them. They won't try it. I've tried prayer, you will hear a person say, and nothing ever came of it. Well, that may be.

But if persistent daily prayer has brought no result, maybe there is some block to the power flow. Are you harboring some attitude that would impede the operation of spiritual power? Hate? Resentment? Self-pity? Prejudice? Envy? Pride? We might also consider whether we are doing our part toward getting our prayers answered. The best things in life only come with discipline.

Voice of the People:

Inquiry Into Auto Safety Failed of Useful Purpose

The congressional inquiries into auto safety could have become a fine public service. Instead, a 32-year-old self-appointed auto safety expert was permitted to panic the entire American economy with his politically motivated sensationalism. The hearings then ceased to be in the public interest. Now, America's auto makers and workers are feeling the grasping tentacles of bureaucratic socialism, and auto safety is used as a wedge in the door of the auto business.

With Federal regulations and controls inevitable, by the present Democrat 89th Congress, the auto industry will become another bungling bureaucratic empire of red tape, like American agriculture is today. The Democratic policy of paying taxpayers' dollars to some farmers not to work, just to maintain inflationary high prices on farm products (your food), would eventually be applied to automobiles.

Thus, Federally regulated high prices will price automobiles out of reach for the average American family. In Communist countries, with their government controlled economy, the average family has no car, a point to remember for those who favor government controls. America's best chance for economic survival is to maintain the free enterprise system and its competitive spirit.

'Both Types of Doctors Have Their Place'

Having been a patient of both medical and osteopathic doctors, I believe both have their place. Some doctors have the osteopaths because the osteopathic doctors don't give pills to cure a pinched nerve in the body.

SENATE MARTIN CLARSTON

Pros and Cons of Sen. O'Brien's Conduct

As regards the letter by Lynn Allen Jr., the Pontiac optometrist who ran against me two years ago on the Republican ticket and lost, I can only say my conduct in office has been, I believe, above reproach. His references to my youthful indiscretions and marital difficulties are the same ones he voiced against me two years ago. I believe my candidacy for reelection should be judged on my legislative record as a State Senator.

While I do not pretend to be without personal flaws, I think a man in public office must be judged principally by his conduct in that office and the execution of his duties.

CARL W. O'BRIEN

STATE SENATOR

The people of Pontiac should be proud of their State Senator Carl O'Brien and the fact he has represented the people of his district. He has a record of helping people, and has worked hard with businessmen and the community to promote its welfare. People prefer a man with a record of action representing them.

I disagree with the idea of fingerprinting our governor, judges and legislative representatives as an insult to the voters and a black mark on Michigan.

The ethics bill prevents lawyers serving in the Legislature from practicing before the commissions they regulate. Michigan has made progress in the last two years.

GEORGE GRBA

28 KIMBALL

A letter recently pointed out how important it is that Senator Bernard O'Brien of Detroit not be confused with Senator Carl O'Brien of Pontiac. I will try to help remove any possible confusion.

Senator Bernard O'Brien has been accused of an immoral act, but has not been found guilty.

Senator Carl O'Brien admits he has challenged three men to a duel, he has a driving record with many violations, and was convicted of beating his wife.

DALE A. FEET

I have noticed so much against Senator Carl O'Brien, I must say that Senator O'Brien is not only a representative of all citizens of District 17 in name, but a servant of action for the betterment of the community and its citizens. I personally will vote for him.

There is an old saying, "Evil is always working against good."

Questions and Answers

It sounds too good to be true, but did I hear or read somewhere that students can get guaranteed loans from the government and the government will pay the interest?

STUDENT IN NEED

REPLY

If you are a college student whose family income is less than $15,000 a year after certain deductions, you may be able to borrow up to $1,000 a year. Graduate students are allowed $1,500. The limit for the entire college career is $7,500. The government pays the interest while you're in school. After graduation, you pay three per cent a year. To find out more about it, write to Division of Student Financial Aid, Office of Education, 2 and South Street, S.W., Washington, D.C., 20004, and ask for the Student Bulletin on Guaranteed Loans.

Fidel Castro's Silence Is 'Uncharacteristic'

On June 26th, the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba reported that Fidel Castro has been undergoing electric shock treatments for a mental condition. According to sources, therapy has been continuous for several weeks, and may have culminated in a journey behind the Iron Curtain for more intensive treatment.

Other sources in Washington stated that they believed Castro's leadership is being challenged and that the Russians are pushing the Cuban Communist Party (of which Fidel is First Secretary) to assume collective leadership. If true, Castro's unquestioned hold on the country is under direct challenge.

Night Parade Held in Vote-Drive Campaign

By BILL CRIDER

GRENADE, Miss. (AP) — Some 400 Negroes whooped through an exuberant parade into a Negro section Friday night—many residents stayed "on the porch" despite entreaties to join the civil rights demonstration.

The night march capped a day in which two federal court suits were added to the boycott, protest marches and Negro voter registration drive aimed at breaking segregation here.

One suit calls for desegregation of Grenada's public schools and faculty.

Henry Aronson, a lawyer for the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, said the second suit attacks the city's June 1 lease of the municipal swimming pool to the Kiwanis Club, which operates it as a private pool.

JAILLED NEGROES

The parade included 34 Negroes just released from jail where they had been held on charge of obstructing traffic. They were arrested while picketing Wednesday. Bail was $100 each.

"We are just beginning this crusade in Grenada," said Hosea Williams, an aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

He spoke over a portable sound system that sent his voice booming over the neighborhood. For those who sat on the porches, resisting efforts to draw them into the demonstration, Williams had his 400 thunder song which asked: "Which side are you on, boy, which side are you on?"

Highway patrolmen wearing helmets, with tear gas grenades hooked on their belts, accompanied the marchers. They swung past the Grenada County courthouse in the center of town before moving into the Negro residential area.

Veterans' Benefits - 11

V A Hospital Rights

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 11th in a 17-part series on veterans' benefits.)

By RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. WASHINGTON (NEA) — Veterans who need hospitalization because of an injury or disease incurred or aggravated in line of duty in active service have top priority for admission to Veterans Administration hospitals for treatment.

Next priority goes to veterans with service-connected disabilities who need hospitalization for some ailment not connected with their service. These veterans will be admitted as beds are available.

Eligible veterans are entitled to complete care both in VA hospitals and in some other federal hospitals. Care in non-federal hospitals may be OK'd for service-connected disabilities.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities are also entitled to outpatient medical service at VA field stations. This includes bandages and medicine as well as treatment.

The VA also may authorize a veteran to be treated by an approved private physician in his own home community.

OUTPATIENTS

For outpatient medical treatment, all disabilities of veterans of the Indian campaigns, Spanish American War, Philippine Insurrection and Boxer Rebellion, are considered to be service-connected. Application for treatment should be made in advance.

This outpatient service is also available for the "non-service-connected" disabilities of disabled veterans being trained under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, if treatment is necessary to prevent interruption of their training or to enable them to return to training.

If you have had war service and have a disability that prevents you from earning a living, you may be eligible for residence in a Veterans Administration residence.

This care is generally for veterans whose disability is not so severe as to require hospitalization. Once admitted, you are entitled to full care, including medical treatment.

As a rule, transportation to a residence at government expense is provided only for the initial admission.

PROCEDURE

A veteran should not be taken to a residence until approval for his admission has been received. To be eligible for residence, a veteran with peacetime service only must be permanently disabled, have been discharged for a disability incurred in line of duty, be receiving compensation for a service-incurred or service-aggravated disability or have been awarded the Medal of Honor.

He must have no adequate means of support, be incapacitated from earning a living and meet certain other requirements.

War veterans whose disabilities are nonservice-connected must execute an affidavit of inability to pay for their care.

Veterans receiving payment for service-connected dental problems may apply at any time and receive as many dental treatments as are needed.

PRIVILEGE

The same privilege is accorded these other veterans not receiving compensation for dental disabilities:

• Those whose dental problems result from combat wounds or service injuries.

• Former prisoners of war with service-connected dental problems.

• Veterans whose nonservice-connected dental problems are aggravating a service-connected disability.

• Disabled veterans receiving training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act and who need dental treatment to prevent interruption of their training or to return to training.

BENEFIT

In addition, some veterans are entitled only to one-time treatment or one series of treatments, if they apply within one year after discharge or release. These are veterans whose dental problems are service-connected and existed at the time of separation from service, but were not considered serious enough to entitle the veteran to compensation in degree.

The Veterans Administration may provide a veteran with a prosthetic appliance needed for a service-connected disability or for a disease or disability that is aggravating a service-connected disability.

Prosthetic appliances may also be provided for other diseases or injuries for which VA hospitalization has been authorized or for a condition which is aggravating such a disability. Veterans living in VA residences may be provided with prosthetic appliances for other disabilities.

To be eligible for any of these medical benefits the veteran must not have a dishonorable type of discharge.

Junior Editors Quiz on PERSPECTIVE

Question: How do artists make pictures in three dimensions?

ANSWER: When young people start to draw, they make objects as if they only went up and down or across. This way of drawing, in two dimensions, is illustrated in our top picture.

The dog, boy and house, are as flat as if cut out of paper. But as our artist grows up, he discovers that things go back as well; that there is another dimension, that of depth.

He will use perspective, which means that things look smaller when further away, even if they are actually the same size.

The five bushes in front of the house may be the same size, but the nearer ones at bottom look much bigger; so do the nearer flagstones.

Notice how the boy's hand overlaps his body. This makes the hand come forward. By turning the house a little and using correct perspective, the artist, at bottom, shows how both the front of a house and the end can be seen at once and made to look real.

FOR YOU TO DO: We have mentioned perspective (things looking smaller) and overlapping. Check lower picture to find more examples of these depth principles.

Seek Venue Change
for Sheppard Trial

DAYTON, OHIO (UPI) — The attorney for Dr. Sam Sheppard said yesterday he will attempt to change the location of the Osteopath's second trial for the murder of his first wife.

F. Lee Bailey, a Boston attorney, said at a federal court hearing he would request a change of venue from Cleveland where Sheppard's first trial was held in 1954.

That trial resulted in a second degree murder conviction which the U.S. Supreme Court recently upset because of prejudicial publicity given the case.

The federal judge who ordered Sheppard's first release from prison in 1964, said a Sept. 18 hearing date at which time Sheppard's $10,000 federal bond will be revoked and he will be returned to the custody of the state.

When Buying Insurance—

Don't Drop One Policy To Buy ANOTHER!

There are exceptions to this rule but they are RARE! Rates go up as you grow older, so you will pay a higher rate if you shift! Reliable agents will tell you that 9 times out of 10, in the shift from an old policy to a new one, no one gains BUT THE AGENT WHO SELLS IT. Most agents are honest but a few yield to the temptation to become a "twister"—salesmen who sell new policies by talking people into discarding their old ones.

IF AN AGENT OR ANYONE ELSE, SUGGESTS A CHANGE IN POLICIES, TAKE YOUR TIME! Know clearly why he thinks you should change. Write to your State Insurance Department for advice about your old policy, or consult that local Life Underwriters Association. If you aren't convinced that a change is advisable, DON'T CHANGE! Older policies should be kept in force if possible!

Whole Issue Is a 'Lot of Garbage'

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) —sacks, it would leak onto our His Honor Alexander J. Jaffurs, mayor of suburban Wilkensburg, is picking up his constituents' garbage today.

Jaffurs and six other borough officials started digging into the community's mounting garbage Friday. The 20 regular refuse collectors went on strike for more money Thursday.

After heaving burlap sacks of garbage for 13 hours, Jaffurs, 36, described his first day on the job as: "Distasteful. Yale Law School was never like this."

Tired and dirty, Jaffurs "I told him, 'This is my first leased against a garbage truck day on the job.' And he said, and meant: 'That's a lot of up the rubbish over there.'" garbage was wet and every Jaffurs told him to take it up time we dumped it into burlap with the mayor.

About the strikers' wage demands, he said: "After today, I'm more disposed to consider their financial request."

Jaffurs, a lawyer, had other troubles making the rounds. He said one of his clients spotted him and remarked that his practice must be pretty bad.

"I felt like choking the guy," said His Honor.

He added: "One fella thought I was the regular garbage man and accused me of stealing a barbecue grill last week."

Pentagon Denies Troop Pullout Plan in Europe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Though the Pentagon has denied it, authoritative sources insist the United States is considering pulling out about one third of all its Army troops in Europe.

It was learned yesterday that about 75,000 of the 225,000 U.S. troops stationed there may be leaving late next year or early in 1968.

Sources said the troops to be withdrawn would be second-echelon support units which would not be needed during the first phase of a European war.

The cutback would be made in such way that the troops could return in a matter of days when needed.

'Go' Given Monday Launch

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—With the weather outlook brightening for their scheduled Monday blastoff, the Gemini 10 astronauts today brushed up on the complex flight plan for their three-day space adventure.

The schedule called for Navy Cmdr. John W. Young and Air Force Maj. Michael Collins to take the day off. However, space agency officials said the astronauts would spend considerable time in their quarters reviewing the jam-packed flight plan.

In the afternoon, there was a possibility they would run through exercises in a practice spacecraft in the mission control center.

After considerable concern about tropical storm Celia Friday, weather experts said prospects had improved considerably. The storm's peak winds dropped from 50 to 30 miles an hour and Celia was demoted from tropical storm status to an easterly wave.

A mission review board heard reports on all phases of the preparations and Gemini mission director William Schneider gave the go-ahead to proceed toward a Monday launching. An Atlas is to lift off at 3:41 p.m. (EST) Monday to boost an Agena satellite into orbit as a six-hour pursuit.

Designed To Authentically Duplicate A New England Farmhouse, The Landscaped Home Of The Frank R. Chapmans Is Found On Mead Road, Avon Township

background for LIVING

Home Professionally Planned

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, Pontiac Press
The richly appointed and landscaped New England

farmhouse of the Frank R.
Chapmans on Mead Road,
Avon Township, didn't just happen by accident.

It was carefully planned.
Assisting Mr. Chapman in the architectural phase of the venture were architects Clare W.

Ditchy and Dr. Grant Manson.
Eric F. Hyde acted as mechanical engineer and the master landscaping layout was drawn up by T. Glenn Phillips who designed the gardens at Michigan State University.

"When we decided to build here," said Mr. Chapman, "it was nothing but a rye field.

"We broke ground in 1933 for the first section. The completed plan allowed for eight sections.

BLACK WALNUT

"The present living room was added in 1938. Its paneling and doors are from a black walnut tree that grew on the property.

"Note the hand-wrought iron hardware used on the room's doors. The wide board flooring is of southern walnut."

A feeling of lived-in comfort pervades the room. Handmade crown draperies of wool on natural cotton dress the windows in the front bay.

Before the broad fireplace, a sofa covered in Danish beige wool is served by a hand-carved oak table.

On the mantel is the Chap-mans' pewter collection, some pieces are family heirlooms some were collected during
Mr. and Mrs. Chapman's travels.

LOFTY DIGNITY: There's a kind of elegant Colonial charm about this three-bedroom, two-story house, with the rectangular appearance of the basic structure given added width by flanking wings, one of which masks a trellised terrace.

Wings Add Width to Modest Colonial

There is some merit to having a house that appears to be larger than it really is.

For one thing, it is more imposing to the eye. For another, construction costs generally are lower in a house with less habitable area even though the structure may seem quite sizable.

This latest House of the Week, authentically Colonial, appears big because of the manner in which architect Rudolph A. Matern has designed its flanking wings.

But the basic house covers only 869 square feet of ground. Also, the shape of this livable portion is a simple rectangle.

And the plan is very straightforward, with the two main, interior-bearing partitions on both floors running straight through front to rear and directly over one another.

UPSTAIRS BATHS

The two upstairs baths also directly over the first floor lavatory. All these factors help to cut costs.

By the simple expedient of placing the two-car garage on one side of the house as a separate wing and locating the doors at the side — and by having a similar wing on the other side — the apparent habitable size of the house increases to a grand proportion.

Actually, it isn't really a wing on the right side, but a wall with a short return to give privacy to a trellised terrace. A window in the wall creates the necessary illusion.

Inside the formal front entrance is a 9 by 12-foot foyer. As in the Colonial period, the living and the dining rooms are on either side of the foyer.

For a modest-sized house, the living room can be considered large, having a length of 23' 4".

The design of a full front-to-rear room, with windows on both ends and at the side, has always been popular.

There is access to the terrace at the rear of the room.

A centrally-located fireplace is another feature, with the chimney also serving a barbecue on the terrace.

KITCHEN

The kitchen is well laid out with a curved seating arrangement and table in one corner for breakfast.

To the right of the kitchen is a rear service area, which includes a lavatory, closets and a door to a porch.

The porch design serves a fourfold purpose: it weather-protects the rear door; gives cover from garage to house; has a flat roof which is the deck space at the second-floor level; and has wooden rails and posts to enhance the rear facade.

One of the most fascinating parts of this house is the roof terrace on the garage roof. It is 19' by 20' and so will accommodate family and friends.

Yet it can be reached through the master bedroom, which gives it an extra use as a private outdoor area for the principals.

The long deck along the rear connects with the roof terrace.

The master bedroom has its own bath and plenty of closet space. All three bedrooms have cross ventilation.

Brick veneer is used all around the house to make it at least maintenance-free. Slate shingles cover the roof.

A glance at the artist's rendering will show Design G-45 to have an elegance seldom seen in modern houses.

G-45 STATISTICS

Design G-45 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, foyer and service section, including a lavatory, on the first floor with 869 square feet of living area. There are three bedrooms and two baths on the second floor with a similar-sized habitable area. There also are two terraces, a porch and a deck, plus a two-car garage with four closets and space for a work bench. Over-all dimensions of the basic house are 35' by 24' 8". Including the garage and the terrace changes the dimensions to 71' 9" by 31' 10".

Why Heat Houses With a Single Fuel?

Why be tied down to a single fuel when it comes to heating your house?

The National Better Heating-Cooling Council says that with a hydronic (modern hot water) heating system you can use any fuel — gas, oil or electricity — to keep your home comfortable.

Pools Provide Water for Fire

Swimming pools and fire protection for homes in newly developed or semi-rural areas now go hand in hand, pioneer Michigan pool builder Seymour Brode reported this week.

Under some conditions, the presence of a pool can make a favorable difference in fire insurance rates, he said. The pool is simply regarded as "a big storage tank, able to supply water for a fire until a pumper arrives."

Several manufacturers of pumps, Brode related, have brought out models which are specifically designed to pull water out of a pool, and the nation's concrete industry has issued detailed specifications for the building of a pool coupled with a hydrant system.

These developments have come about as cities have grown and new subdivisions have reached out into areas where fire protection is something less than adequate, the pool builder said.

Industrial plants in these areas have found that they can get the same lower insurance rates by building pools as by building water storage tanks, and have the extra benefits of recreation facilities for employees.

One such industry calculated that the insurance savings would pay for the pool in five years.

Pool owners, especially in the rural communities, have begun to recognize the emergency value of the 30,000 to 50,000 gallons of water being always available at their back door as have the fire departments in each of the areas, according to a recent survey.

Bathrooms Burgeoning

Bathrooms are increasing in number.

Up to 20 years ago most new homes were content with one bathroom, then the trend was one and one-half and two baths. Now some new housing projects are offering five bathrooms in each home.

Wages Up Over Housing Costs

Personal incomes have grown faster than the costs of housing. Americans now spend a smaller percentage of their income, less than 14 cents of every dollar, on housing than at any other time in the past.

And surprisingly, the cost of some materials, such as the installed price of ceramic tile, has actually decreased over the years.

Wash Fabric Immediately

Any chemical becomes more concentrated as it dries.

Therefore, fabrics splashed with bleach or other laundry and household agents, should be washed promptly with soap or detergent suds.

If immediate laundering is not convenient, at least flush the fabric with clear water and launder it later.

Cushioned Effect on Vinyl Flooring Gains Acceptance

Dominating the news at the recent home furnishings markets in major cities throughout the country was the enthusiastic acceptance of a major flooring products announced by several manufacturers of resilient flooring.

The addition of a cushioned effect provides a quieter, warmer, more comfortable resilient floor and represents a major breakthrough in the industry.

According to "Flooring" magazine, "The excellent reception accorded cushioned vinyl flooring products during the recent floor covering markets has convinced two other sheet vinyl producers to bring out similar products by late spring. This will bring to six the number of domestic producers with vinyl foamed-back products."

While all of the new products provide some cushioning effect, the amount varies considerably with each product because of differences in composition. As a result, it makes good sense for consumers to look carefully at the many different products available before making a selection.

THIN TREATMENT
Some of the lower-priced floors offer only a thin, spongy treatment on the surface of the material that includes a printed design and is coated with a thin, protective layer of clear vinyl.

Other products feature a thin-foamed inner layer to achieve the new cushion effect. Still others have a foamed vinyl cushioned back with only a printed design on the wearing surface.

One of the quietest, most comfortable and luxurious products

Bath Luxury on Upswing

Like ancient Rome, the United States may become famous for its bathrooms.

The little rooms that started out as privies and outhouses and weren't suitable topics for polite conversation have grown into spacious lounges that in many instances deserve such descriptive terms as "romantic" and "exotic."

Bathrooms currently are receiving more attention from decorated and home owners than any other room. Oppulent sinks, ceramic tile tubs that are as large as some bedrooms have been borrowed from ancient times and transported to the modern home.

Among bathroom fanciers, prices and decorating costs exceeding what most Americans would pay for an entire home are not out of the question.

Some baths double as dens and offices and others are furnished like drawing rooms. Mirrored ceilings, pool-size tubs, hi-fi sets, private patios and gardens grace the more Sybaritic baths.

Accessories of cut crystal and pewter trimmed in gold, and gold-plated toilet bowls are available through a new breed of decorator, the bathroom designer.

The romantic and luxurious bath, of course, is not yet a common feature offered in tract homes but it does represent a trend toward larger bathrooms as well as more of them.

The two-bath home has replaced the one and one-half bath home in new housing offerings. Some projects now offer five bathrooms, or a bath for every bedroom in the house.

Wood Finishes Likely to Vary

QUESTION: It took me almost a year to complete my home workshop, but I finally did it.

Now I have started to fool around making simple pieces of furniture.

I am making good progress, but come scraper when it comes to finishing the wood with transparent materials, such as varnishes and lacquers.

They never seem to come out as smoothly as they do on furniture sold in stores. Can you tell me what I may be doing wrong?

ANSWER: There are a dozen different reasons why the finish on a piece of wood may not come out as you planned it, so we can't be much help on the specific causes of your problem.

But don't be discouraged because you can't match the finishes which have been applied professionally.

Many of them are put on by men who have been working at the job many years and who are using the latest equipment in spraying, baking, sanding, etc.

Perhaps the best advice we can give you is to take it easy. Don't rush any single step of whatever procedure you have decided to follow.

Be sure to sand between coats and, if necessary, after the final coat has been applied.

OTHER FINISHES
Remember, too, that there are other transparent finishes besides varnish and lacquer.

You may have better luck with shellac or penetrating wax or one of the synthetics or even with a combination of turpentine and boiled linseed oil.

One of the great joys of the hobby of wood finishing comes from experimenting.

Go to your lumber dealer and buy various pieces of scrap wood which you can use to make different tests, being sure to use a code letter or similar designation that, after a test has produced a desirable result, you will know immediately what finishing material was used and how it was applied.

Self-Cleaning Pool Saves Time, Work

One of the first self-cleaning swimming pools in the city of Detroit and suburbs was installed recently.

Recognized as the most important new development in swimming pool design in the past decade, the no vacuuming system eliminates 90 per cent of the labor from pool maintenance and reduces service costs as much as 40 per cent.

The self-cleaning system, based on hydrodynamic principles, consists of a series of jet outlets located strategically on the pool walls and floor.

Jet streams of water literally "sweep" sand and dirt from the pool walls and floor into the main drain.

The action is continuous and eliminates the need for vacuuming a pool two or three times a week, which is standard procedure for conventional swimming pools.

CHEMICALS NECESSARY
The only chores remaining for the pool owner are the addition of chemicals, an occasional brushing of the pool, and removal of large rocks, branches and other objects not carried off by the surface skimmer.

Because of the savings it offers in maintenance costs, a system will pay for itself within a few years. Estimate cost for the self-cleaning system in average 15' by 30' pool is

Roman Heating Not in Use These Days

While ancient Romans used water to heat their homes, they wouldn't be able to recognize today's hot water heating systems.

Today's hydronic (modern hot water) heating systems are compact, clean and responsive to heating needs.

such that even modest income families can enjoy this convenience.

Since the system is an integral part of the swimming pool construction, it can only be installed economically in new pools.

The system was developed by Rule Pool Company of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, and was introduced about two years ago.

Since then, a large number of pools equipped with the system have been built throughout the United States and are operating successfully.

Miss Universe Final Tonight

58 Contestants Seek
Title at Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The average glamor girl weighs 121, is 5-foot-6, has a 35½-inch bust, 23½-inch waist and 36-inch hips.

That is the median tale of the tape among shapely beauties from 50 nations competing for the Miss Universe crown tonight.

Miss Holland and Miss Okinawa came closest to the average. Margo Dornen of Den Haas, Holland, is a half-inch shorter and her hips measure a half-inch less. Yoneko Kiyari of Kona, Okinawa, missed only in weight—four pounds above the 121 par figure.

Four of the girls weigh 121. They are Misses Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Holland.

NO DIETING

The wispiest, 98-pound Miss Ceylon, Lorraine Rossmalec, said this is her formula: "Eat everything you want to. Don't diet."

Miss Norway, Siri Gro Nilsen, is the heaviest, with 138 neatly distributed pounds.

Tallest is 5-foot-9 Lynn Carol ode Jager of South Africa. Shortest, 5-2, are Miss Malayasia, Helen Lee Siew Lien, and Miss Free Cuba, Lesbia Murrieta.

The beauty queens of Aruba, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Okinawa, Panama, Philippines, Scotland and U.S.A. are 5-6.

In what pageant officials call vital statistics, Miss Holland and Miss Okinawa are 35½-23½-35½. Other dimensions range from 34-22-34 for the Misses Ecuador, Morocco and Puerto Rico to Miss Venezuela's 32-24-39.

Brunettes predominate. There are 10 blondes. Miss Wales, Christine Evans, has silver-tresses which fall to her shoulders. Nilgun Arslaner of Turkey is the only red-haired contestant.

There are 30 pairs of brown eyes, with Miss Korea's about the darkest. Ten girls have blue eyes.

Wife's Worth Settled

LONDON (AP) — A British judge says a husband who loses his wife to an ugly or poor man is hurt more than if she ran off with a handsome or rich one.

Lord Justice Diplock and two other judges tackled the issue of a wife's worth Friday in Appeal Court.

A 48-year-old engineer had been awarded in a lower court $21,000 damages against a wealthy 71-year-old businessman. The engineer had said the older man had seduced his wife of 20 years.

Lord Justice Diplock, in handing down a ruling cutting the award to $5,600 said: "I find it impossible to accept, in these egalitarian and materialistic days, that the feelings and pride of a reasonable man are more affronted if his wife commits adultery with an opulent baronet rather than an impoverished dushman."

GREATER BLOW

"The lower the material and physical attributes of the supplanter, the more wounding the comparison and the greater blow to his own self-esteem."

Another judge, Lord Justice Scarman, said the husband in the case, Frederick Pritchard, had not suffered financially in losing his wife, Margaret, 45, and might even be better off. Justice Scarman held that the only compensation Pritchard should receive was for hurt feelings and wounded pride.

END OF MANHUNT — Ronald Brinkman, 21, a curly-haired Marine from Lombard, Ill., is escorted into the Dane County, Wis. jail yesterday following his capture in a woodlands manhunt. Brinkman, AWOL from Camp Pendleton, Calif., is accused by federal authorities of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution on a charge of kidnapping an Illinois housewife and by Dane County officials on two counts of forcible rape. A 60-day mental exam has been ordered.

Cherry Pies to Urban Renewal for Campaigning Jerry, Soapy

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Like his opponent for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination, Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh got pinched for not eating cherry pie.

Unlike his opponent, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Cavanagh avoided getting thrown out of any parades at the National Cherry Festival here. He escaped the ire of festival officials by traveling the parade route an hour ahead of the parade Friday.

Cavanagh traveled the route twice, shaking hundreds of hands. Thursday, Williams tried to march in the kiddie parade but was barred for not being an incumbent officeholder. Sen. Robert Griffin of Traverse City, their mutual Republican foe, got into Friday's march because of his office.

MAJOR OFFENSE
Cavanagh's major offense was not eating a piece of cherry pie. Two red-caped "policemen" about 12 years old grabbed the mayor and whipped him over to a kangaroo court at the town's main intersection.

The mayor returned late Friday to Detroit, taped a television interview and spoke to a Negro business association. Today he was to tour metropolitan shopping centers and had hand-shaking on tap for Sunday.

He is to spend Monday and Tuesday in the Detroit area, then begin four days of outside campaigning Wednesday, going to such places as Monroe, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Ionia and Greenville.

DETROIT (AP) — Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams tackled the problem of slum clearance and urban renewal Friday, implying that Detroit's program could stand a great deal of improvement. Williams made his remarks at a meeting of Detroit's West Central Organization (WCO), which has been a frequent critic of Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and his urban renewal policies. Williams and Cavanagh are competing for the Democratic U.S. Senatorial nomination in the Aug. 2 primary.

More than 200 persons applauded Williams when he said: "As a result of the way many projects have been carried out, urban renewal is today feared where it should be most welcomed. A visit to some of the most run-down areas of Detroit or other cities afflicted with urban decay confirms this."

LACK MONEY
"People living in badly-decayed, rented housing — or in houses they own themselves but don't have the money to repair — should welcome renewal, which would make their communities better places in which to live and to bring up the children."

"But, instead, they fear it as the roar of a bulldozer coming to destroy not only their homes, but their opportunity for meaningful living."

Williams was one of several speakers at the "meet the candidates" program. A WCO spokesman said Cavanagh also had been invited, but he failed to show up. About two-thirds of the audience was Negro.

While Williams was addressing the WCO meeting, Cavanagh was a few blocks away to such places as Monroe, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Ionia and Greenville.

Hospital Puts Hope for Medicare on Suit

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Satisfied it has met integration requirements, Neshoba County General Hospital today pinned its efforts on a federal court suit to qualify it as a Medicare provider.

Attorney Laurel Weir of Philadelphia, acting for the three-man board of trustees, is expected to file the suit Monday.

Lamar G. Salter, administrator of the 82-bed hospital, said the suit would seek to force the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to certify Neshoba General as a Medicare provider and pay about $8,500 for patients admitted under Medicare July 14.

Salter, hospital administrator 14 years, said five more medication patients were evicted Friday, bringing the total to six. All those evicted are white.

Eviction or pay status was ordered Thursday by 25 Medicare patients.

Salter said 13 had agreed to pay and six others were too ill for movement.

He said he planned to meet with families of the six today to work out some way for them to stay. A U.S. Public Health Service team in Philadelphia to inspect Neshoba General, Salter said, gave no answer through Friday for patients whether the hospital met desegregation requirements.

Readers Survey

Why All This Foreign Aid?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The Associated Press has completed a survey in which readers were asked what interested or troubled them most about the world today. A series of readers' questions were selected from the poll. This article on foreign aid is the last of several dealing with those questions.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Why are we giving all this foreign aid, and can we expect something in return?" a reader asks. The United States has shelled out $120 billion in foreign aid since World War II, and the government rates the money well spent in the U.S. national interest.

Apparently many Americans think so too since they have continued to elect representatives who vote roughly $6 billion a year for overseas assistance. But there has been enough opposition in Congress to keep the figure from going even higher.

Down the years, the basic argument by the executive branch, whether Democratic or Republican, has been that aid to others is vital for U.S. security. Of the $1.8 billion in U.S. military aid planned for next year, about three quarters is earmarked for countries on the rim of the Communist block, from Turkey to South Korea, to help them keep three million men under arms.

SECURITY

Economic aid is officially related to U.S. security on grounds that communism, or conditions of turbulence dangerous to the United States, stand less chance in lands where the people enjoy rising living standards.

Massive postwar American aid focused first on rebuilding industrialized Western Europe through the Marshall Plan. Now it concentrates on the undeveloped lands of South America, Asia, and Africa. The economic aid total so far is about $64 billion.

In addition to the generalized arguments for foreign aid, U.S. diplomats prize it as a tool to boost U.S. influence in particular situations.

Some aid applicants see commercial benefit to the United States. They cite the purchase of U.S. goods with aid dollars, increased trade with countries as their economies grow, and opportunities opened for U.S. companies and products.

HUMANITARIAN

Another element in foreign aid is humanitarian. Religious

21st Anniversary of First A-Blast

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — The atomic age was born 21 years ago today with the first detonation of an atomic bomb in a secluded desert area near Alamogordo.

The July 16, 1945, explosion was equal to 20,000 tons of high explosive. The bomb was detonated on a tower at 5:30 a.m. Mountain War Time.

The blast was seen and felt by many residents of south-central New Mexico, but the military answered queries by saying an ammunition dump had exploded.

The truth came out after an atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima Aug. 6, 1945.

and other groups favoring help by the rich to the poor long have supported overseas assistance programs.

Aid-receiving countries have repaid more than $13 billion in interest and principal on their loans so far. What the United States can expect to get in addition is open to the same controversy as to whether the aid was worth-while in the first place.

Aid supporters contend that American assistance played a key role in putting war-ravaged Europe back on her feet and in pushing the Communist threat away after the war. Today, they say, U.S. aid provides the margin for freedom in key countries along Communist borders and lessens prospects of violence in underdeveloped areas.

While the aid expended has been highly visible, some of its effects must remain intangible. In any event, for the past 20 years the U.S. government has figured aid the better part of prudence.

The latest and fastest U.S. Navy vessels require a week to 10 days to reach South Viet Nam from this country.

IVORY LACE

A gown of ivory Brussels lace for the bride swept into a chapel train of ivory peau de soie. A Pope's cap, worn and blessed by the late Pope Plus XII, encircled with matching lace, held her tiered veil of ivory tulle.

Her bouquet held Phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and greens.

Check Door for Assigned Table Place

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to a large public banquet. I am told there will be individual tables of 10 or 12 places, but we will not be given specific seats. What do we do when we arrive?—Helen

Dear Helen: In cases like this, people are usually assigned tables and the list of assignments given out at the door. Look for your table number, find your table, and choose any empty seats.

If there is no table assignment, find an empty table or a partially filled table. In that case ask, "May we join you?" or "Is this seat saved?" Introduce yourself when you are seated.

Dear Mrs. Post: When I take a girl to a restaurant where I pay a cashier, does she go and stand in line with me while I pay, or do I leave her at the table and go back for her?—Peter

Dear Peter: You leave your tip on the table, and you and your girl go out together. She stands near the door and waits while you go through the line. If you didn't have the correct change, ask the cashier for change, and go back and leave it on your table.

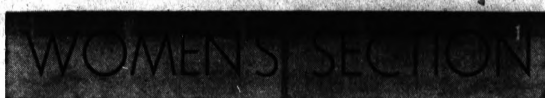

How and when to introduce people puzzles many. The booklet, "Introductions" give helpful information on this subject. To get a copy, send ten cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post in care of The Pontiac Press.

Start Over With Different Bird-- This Time You Handle Lessons

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son, who served with the Marine Corps in Viet Nam, came home last month. As you can imagine, Don was pretty well tuckered out, so he just sat around the house resting and getting used to civilian life again. He also taught our parakeet how to swear.

Now, fun is fun, but you should hear what he taught that bird to say! What if the preacher drops in one Sunday afternoon?

DON'S MOTHER: Get another parakeet and teach it how to swear.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of parents who have decided to call it quits after 51 years of marriage? They have four married children, 13 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. They were never exactly lovebirds, but it never came to a real separation before.

I am the eldest daughter and Mama called me and told me to come and get her as Papa moved to a motel and she wasn't going to stay in the house alone. It's been three days and Papa is still holed up in the motel.

My oldest brother called Papa and asked what he should tell people. Papa said, "Tell them I've entered my second childhood and I have the measles!" Then he slammed down the telephone. What should we tell people, and how can we get them back together?

EMBARRASSED: PAPA'S EXPLANATION: Papa's explanation will find a way.

DEAR ABBY: I was born 35 years ago in a midwestern state at a home for unwed mothers. As an infant I was adopted by a wonderful couple, and we moved away.

This fall my husband and I are planning a vacation to the midwest and find we will be near the city of my birth. My adoptive parents have both passed away but my real mother is still living.

I have full information on how to reach her. Being a woman, I am naturally curious. I have not decided whether I would meet her face to face and identify myself, or whether I would arrange to meet her without letting her know who I was. Or should I just forget the whole thing?

I have no intention of intruding on her life or causing her any unhappiness or embarrassment. Perhaps you or one of your readers who have experienced something like this can help me decide.

JUST CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: If you in-

Tell of Bridesmaids' Gowns

Luci's Wedding to Be Pink

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who spurned a cutaway for his inauguration, will wear one for his daughter Luci's formal pink and white wedding at high noon Aug. 6.

The White House announced today wedding attire for the President, bridegroom Patrick J. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., and 24 attendants.

Luci selected the bridesmaids' dresses with two practical motives: 1—They had to be dresses that could be worn again, and 2—Everything had to be "within a budget the bridesmaids could afford." Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter noted that bridesmaids traditionally buy their own dresses and Luci's bridesmaids will be no exception.

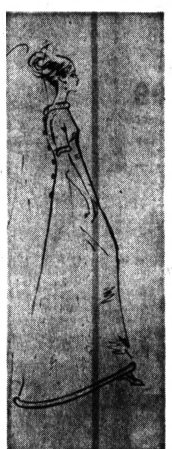

All of the bride's attendants will wear similar gowns and veils, differing only in shades of pink. They are the design of Mrs. James Priscilla Kidder, whose firm Priscilla of Boston (and New York) has specialized in bridal clothes for more than 30 years.

The 10 bridesmaids' gowns are a bright pink moire, described by the White House as "pink-pink." Their veils are contrasting pale pink.

The gowns of Luci's sister, Lynn, 22, the maid of honor, Susan Murfee Ray, 23, a close friend from Hale Center, Tex., will be in paler, frosted pink, a rainbow of three shades, with veils in shaded hues of pink.

The gowns have long, slim flowing lines. The high neckline has a rolled "wedding-ring" shape that also is carried out at the edges of the semilength sleeves and floor-length hemline. The bodice is a molded silhouette, easing into a steeple-shaped

Pink moire floor length gowns will be worn by the bridesmaids at Luci Johnson's wedding Aug. 6. Designed by Priscilla of Boston, they have contrasting pink flowing veils.

November ones are planned by Sherry Lee Fink of Waltham, Mass. and Robert Hugh Scott, Wakefield, Mass. They are graduates of Wellesley College and MIT. Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. L. Jerome Fink of Quorton Road, Mrs. Emily L. Scott and Dr. W. Clifford M. Scott of Montreal, Quebec.

Tickets for all concerts are available at the Festival office, Oakland University.

Women's Wear Daily Breaks Story on Gowns

NEW YORK (UPI) — A story about bridal gowns has rekindled the flames of one of journalism's burning questions: When is a newspaper obligated not to report the news?

Women's Wear Daily, the paper considered bible of the fashion trade, and the White House came up with two different answers on Thursday. The newspaper, in front-page story, described the gowns to be worn by Lady Bird Johnson and members of the bridal party at the Aug. 6 wedding of the President's daughter, Luci.

In the story, headlined "Luci's wedding — first report," the newspaper said it refused to attend off-the-record briefings on bridal details and obtained the story instead through a "leak at the White House."

CONTRADICTION

But Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press aide, termed the story a violation of a news release, distributed to other media Wednesday — but with an embargo against publication prior to next Saturday night.

"As a result of the WWD story, said Mrs. Carpenter, the newspaper will be denied press credentials for coverage of the wedding itself, she said.

She then excoriated the "unethical conduct of one small publication," and said premature release would not change the embargo on the material because of newspapers and broadcasters already committed to the original release date.

WWD said it was flabbergasted to see the White House "retaliate against Women's Wear Daily by refusing working press credentials when all it did was print the news."

NO OFF-RECORD

"As the White House well knows, WWD from the first has declined its invitations to attend off-the-record briefings on the Luci Johnson wedding."

"WWD refused to attend these briefings in order that it be free to publish news of the wedding whenever such news became available."

"WWD does not believe in accepting information on an off-the-record basis. Mrs. Carpenter was informed of this many weeks ago when WWD made it clear its reporters would be out to break the story, and we wanted no strings attached."

Petal Headpiece Holds the Bride's Veil of Illusion

Off on a northern honeymoon are the Timothy Ray Millers (Kathleen Jeanne Schultz) after vows and reception, Friday, in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Schultz of Rattalee Lake Road, Springfield Township and the Robert R. Millers of Mark Road are the newlyweds' parents.

The bride's gown of imported silk organza and Chantilly lace swept into a tiered train. A petal headpiece cradled her illusion veil and a white orchid centered her bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

Linda L. Schultz was honor maid at the rite performed by Rev. Theodore Allebach. Jeanne Shafer was bridesmaid, Marilyn Schultz, junior maid, and Susan Miller, flower girl. Jonathan Schultz was ring bearer.

With Ronald L. Miller, best man, were Terry Strang and David Schultz, as ushers.

PUPPETS FROM BAGS—Children of the Daily Vacation Bible School at First Church of the Brethren make puppets representing Bible characters from paper bags. Holding puppets are (from left) Jane Anne Durn-vaugh of 4045 Lanette, Waterford Township, Brenda Shelby of 219 W. Columbia, and Cary Bos of 4009 Lanette. The school, which opened July 5, will close with a special program at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

BOUNCE BALL—James Reynolds of 10360 Davisburg, Clarkston (left) and Andy Combs of 4455 Midland, Waterford Township are trying to score at basketball during the recreation period of Vacation Bible School at Silvercrest Baptist Church. The school closed Friday night with a program for children and parents.

Vacation Bible Schools Attract Children, Adults

Thousands of children in Pontiac and Oakland County are attending Vacation Bible Schools during the summer months.

In many churches the entire family enrolls when classes are set for evenings instead of the usual morning sessions.

Classes are open to all children with special invitation to youngsters who have no church affiliation.

Vacation schools and camps have a two-fold purpose. One is to teach boys and girls sound Christian relationships in the stimulating atmosphere of living and playing together.

The other is to reach some of the millions of children in the United States who don't attend church.

CHURCH OF GOD

The Church of God, 296 W. South Blvd., will conduct Va-

ELIZABETH LAKE CHURCH OF CHRIST

Daily Vacation Bible School, which began Monday at the Elizabeth Lake Church of Christ, will continue through Friday.

AUBURN HEIGHTS U.P.

Mrs. Dale Lovett will conduct the Vacation Bible School at Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church, Avon Township, starting Monday. Paul Landry will serve as assistant.

Classes are scheduled from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

CHURCH OF GOD

"Travel With Jesus" is the theme.

The program is set up for children three years of age through 12. Transportation will be provided in the church bus.

Heading departments are Ruth Moore, Donna Carley, Mrs. Bernis Shelton, Mrs. James Combs, Carol Alcorn, Mrs. Cheslie Collins and Mrs. Robert King.

Refreshments will be served during the morning intermission. Keith Dodd is in charge of recreation.

Students Lead Bible Study

Summer Youth Direct Discussion

College students in charge of the summer youth program at Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church are holding Bible study and discussion every Wednesday evening at the church from 7:30 to 8:30.

The group occasionally is invited for a swim afterward at someone's pool or to the lake shore home of a parishioner.

Patti Cooke of Oakland Community College, Judson Lehman of Taylor University and Jackie Harned of Bob Jones University are the leaders.

They take a passage of Scripture for discussion and its present and future interpretation.

Mrs. J. G. Lehman, director of young people at the Bloomfield Hills Church, said several of the group wanted to know the meaning of Communion and just what the symbol of bread and fruit juice meant.

In one of the discussions Mrs. Lehman said she heard a member announce that it was just as wrong to take one penny as $1,000. The college and senior high age boys and girls are attempting to learn how to apply Bible teachings to everyday life.

Two Colleges Receive $500,000 in Grants

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two predominantly Negro Episcopal colleges have received grants totaling $500,000, the Association of Episcopal Colleges announces.

The schools are St. Augustine's in North Carolina, which received $200,000, and St. Paul's in Virginia, whose grant was $300,000. The money, given by The Booth Ferris Foundation of New York City, will be paid over a five-year period.

Parish Plans Educational Expansion

St. Hugo of the Hills Church in Bloomfield Hills is venturing on an educational expansion program to provide the best Catholic education possible for the children of the parish.

The purpose of the program is to make improvements that will benefit present and future students.

According to the Rev. C. J. Esper, priest of the parish, it can best be accomplished by expansion of the existing school facilities, enabling a reduction in class size, while also accommodating a growing number of new students, and construction of a new, larger convent for a greater number of Sisters.

The equalizing of teacher salaries is an important part of the expansion program but will be financed separately by parish funds.

St. Hugo's Elementary School was dedicated in 1940, nine years after the parish was established. The school was made possible by a generous gift from the late Walter O. Briggs. The class size was ideal.

There were only four students in the fourth grade in 1940.

Now, 26 years later, classes consist of more than 40 students. Currently there is a waiting list of near 230, Father Esper said.

This does not include new families moving into the parish each week.

The Bloomfield Hills School District estimates its new census will show the addition of 377 new families and 1,130 children, infants to age 9, since May 1965.

Space is also needed for a library room and workshop to replace the present corridor-library considered unsafe as well as unsuitable for studying, a science-art room, and additional room for storage and offices.

Honorary chairman of the educational expansion program is Father Esper. Frederick Colombo was named general chairman.

John Bugas is chairman and John Murtagh co-chairman of special gifts.

Other chairmen include Robert R. Eldred, finance; Arthur Randall and Dr. William Gibbs, general solicitors; John Raymond, parish organization; Kenneth Cassidy, building; and Walter Murphy, publicity.

Working with the committee are some 30 parishioners.

The Rev. Henry D. Jones, missionary associate at Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, will preach on "The Prophet Amos Speaks Today" at both the 9 and 11 a.m. worship services tomorrow.

Elder Raymond Nelson, chairman of the worship committee, will assist in the service.

Cedar Shake, Bloomfield Hills. The three are leading Bible study for young people every Wednesday evening at the church. Fun and a dip in the Veneman pool follow. Mrs. J. G. Lehman is youth director.

ST. HUGO OF THE HILLS—The new home of the Sisters of St. Hugo of the Hills, Bloomfield Hills, sketched here by architects Wakely-Kuhn Associates of St. Clair Shores, will contain 15 additional rooms, a chapel, a community room, a laundry, kitchen and infirmary. The two-story building will consist of 19,730 square feet of floor space with a total cost of $249,500. The present convent houses nine Sisters. A portion of the convent was the original parish rectory 36 years ago. Another section was added in the 1940s. Many of the services now offered in the St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic School will be moved to the old convent, which will also provide space for a counseling room. It will also provide room for speech therapy, a teacher's lounge and a large meeting room for various parish organizations.

On Council Staff

Roman Catholic Clergyman to Serve

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The Catholic clergyman ever to serve on the National Council's professional staff.

Rev. David J. Bowman, S. J., has been named assistant director in the National Council of Churches' Faith and Order Department, it was announced here yesterday by Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, NCC, general secretary.

Father Bowman, whose appointment is effective Sept. 6, will become the first Roman Catholic clergyman to serve on the National Council's professional staff.

He comes to the Council from Loyola University in Chicago, where he has taught theology for the past year.

"The contribution of Father Bowman's services to the work of the National Council and of the Faith and Order Department is a concrete indicator of the ecumenical movement," Dr. Espy said.

"Fr. Bowman will join our staff as an ecumenical worker with Protestants, Anglicans, Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholics alike," said the Rev. William A. Norgren, executive director of the Faith and Order Department.

His duties will include lecturing, writing, conducting study projects in the area of faith and order and counseling groups on ecumenical activity and dialogue, Mr. Norgren said.

Since 1960 he has taught at Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

In addition to his teaching, last year at Loyola, he has been summer school lecturer at John Carroll University in Cleveland, O., and at the University of San Francisco.

Father Bowman frequently lectures to non-Roman and Roman Catholic groups on ecumenical affairs. He specializes in the theology of "redemptive incarnation."

For Mission Work

Called to Bahamas

The Rev. Otto G. Schultz, former pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, has accepted the call to serve as missionary at large in the Bahamas Islands.

The former Pontiac pastor left the King Lutheran Church of Largo, Fla., which he organized in 1958 to become spiritual leader of a small congregation presently worshipping in the Shirley Street Theater in Nassau.

The Florida-Georgia District will supervise the Bahamas Mission project because of its proximity to the Florida shores.

Immediate plans require the development of the congregation in Nassau and the purchase of property for the building of church facilities.

Entrusted with Lutheran Mission expansion needs for all the islands south of New Providence Island, the Rev. Mr. Schultz will be expected to explore other mission opportunities for the church in rapidly developing areas of certain Out-Islands.

Hilton Raises Project Funds for College

REV. OTTO G. SCHULTZ

ST. LOUIS (UPI) A call by two nuns on hotel man Conrad N. Hilton in 1942 resulted in the building of a $19 million structure on the campus of Webster College.

Hilton, a long-time friend of the Sisters of Loretto, who operate the college and taught him as a boy, pledged to raise or give the money for the project.

The building, called the Loretto-Hilton Center for the Performing Arts, was completed this year, and Hilton flew to St. Louis for dedication ceremonies and to see the two sisters who now hold down new jobs.

Sister Francetta, former president of Webster College, now is president-emerita and special consultant with the women's job corps centers in Washington, D.C.

Sister Jacqueline, who was a vice president under Sister Francetta, now is the college president.

Fairgrounds Festival Site

Eastern Orthodox People Celebrate

Michigan State Fair grounds will be colorful and festive tomorrow when the Eastern Orthodox parishes of Greater Detroit join to celebrate the ninth annual Eastern Orthodox Festival.

According to the Very Rev. Thomas Ruffin, council president, the state fairgrounds will be turned into an international festival of food, entertainment, music and dancing.

Nine national groups will be represented, including Albanian, Bulgarian, Macedonian, Carpatho-Russian, Greek, Romanian, Russian, Serbian, Syrian-Lebanese and Ukrainian.

Members of every orthodox Church will celebrate the Divine Liturgy in their own church Sunday morning.

Gates will open at noon on the fairgrounds. Later in the afternoon a vespers service will be celebrated in the band shell with robed choirs singing responses.

Each nationality will feature its own favorite national food. Singing groups and roving musicians will add an extra touch. There will be rides and games for children.

Special entertainment will be presented with musicians playing both folk and popular selections. Groups in native costumes will present colorful dances.

There will be a small admission fee for adults. Children under 10 years of age will be admitted free.

French Quads Born; 1 Dies

AGEN, France (AP) — One of France's new quads died today, but the mother and the other three infants were reported doing reasonably well in the Aghen hospital.

Mrs. Bernard Sapparat, 31, a schoolteacher in nearby Malesherbes, gave birth yesterday to three boys and a girl. They were named Guillaume, Laurent, Pascal and Maite.

The Waterford Township Republican Club will hold its annual picnic at Lakewood Farms Subdivision beach lot at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Glenn M. Wolters, 4248 Woodstock.

Break-Ins Probed by Area Officers

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives are investigating a series of four break-ins reported yesterday in Highland Township.

Handiest hit in the apparently related break-ins was the Quick Car Wash at 1340 N. Milford, where only $15 was taken from a coin box but an estimated $430 damage done to the vending machine.

A radio valued at $12 and $48 in cash were reported missing from the Fisher Oil Co., 208 Highland, after thieves kicked open the back door to the firm. Dr. L. M. Kinsle of 1150 S. Milford and the A & W Drive-in at 2120 N. Milford each reported forced entries but nothing was determined missing at either place.

State Police Seek Recruits

Col. Frederick E. Davis, director of the Michigan State Police, announced today that applicants are being sought for the organization's recruit schools this fall.

Davis said interested men 21 to 30 years can contact the nearest state police post or write to the Michigan State Civil Service Commission in Lansing for complete details.

Applicants must be American citizens, high school graduates and at least 5 feet 9 inches tall.

Davis pointed out that the state police now offers a higher salary schedule, a 40-hour work week and overtime pay.

Trooper pay, beginning with the first day of recruit training, starts at an annual rate of $6,368 and progresses in automatic yearly increments to a maximum $8,936 in the seventh year, according to Davis.

Career advantages offered by the state police include a retirement plan which permits an officer to retire at half pay after completing 25 years of service, eligibility for promotional examination after five years and longevity pay beginning at $160 for troopers after six years service.

City Workers in Lansing Vote to Strike

LANSING (AP)—A city employee union Friday night voted to go on strike Sunday night in face of a threat that all strikers would be fired from their jobs.

Mayor Max Murrin said immediately after the union action that he would seek a meeting with the union Sunday in hopes of warding off a strike.

The strike vote was taken by Local 1380 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Workers (AFL-CIO). Walter Oliver, a union international representative, said the vote was 92 per cent in favor of a strike. He declined to say how many union members were present.

Local 1380, which has about 250 members, claims to represent the approximately 400 employees of the Capital city's public service and traffic department and the Civic Center and Parks Department.

Say Luci, Pat Likely to Make Austin as Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's daughter Luci and Patrick J. Nugent are expected to live in Austin, Tex., after their Aug. 6 wedding.

The White House would neither confirm nor deny reports that the couple are leasing an Austin apartment and are thinking about going back to school at the University of Texas, where Luci's older sister, Lynda, was graduated last month.

The Washington Post reported from Austin that they already have signed a lease on a modern duplex apartment in fashionable West Austin, in the neighborhood of a home once owned by President Johnson when he was in Congress.

News in Brief

The theft of $220 in food and other supplies from the Hayes Jones Community Center, 235 Wessen, was reported yesterday to Pontiac police.

Job Hunters Now Hunted Themselves

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two Pittsburgh job hunters have become the hunted.

James Sayer, assistant personnel manager for the local Humble Oil Co. office, told police yesterday two job applicants stole a $600 camera from his office during their interview.

The driver of the car, Ralph R. Gallager, 22, of Knox, Ohio, was released after making a statement to Township police.

Viet Protester Fasts in Japan

Businessman Seeks More Cash for Ads

TOKYO (AP) — Morhiro Matsuda, a determined man, is not satisfied with having spent $26,000 to advertise his views on world peace. He wants to do more.

He is embarked on a 30-day fast, sometimes resting in a wooden coffin, and is making plans to sell most of his personal property so that he can publish more advertisements like those he inserted recently in New York and London newspapers.

"I'm trying to raise enough money to publish another advertisement in the New York Times and also in the Washington Post," he said. "Each will be a four-page advertisement."

Matsuda estimated the New York Times ad alone would cost about $22,000.

He said he would also like a similar one in the Christian Science Monitor, but may have to give up the idea because of a lack of cash.

"I'm planning to raise the money by selling my office, my wife's dressmaking shop and a 16-room, two-story apartment," he said.

FAST DIET

Matsuda started his one-month fast June 23. He first took only water but now drinks soybean soup, milk and fruit juice.

Matsuda said an annual fast with a coffin has enabled him to achieve "clear-headedness" and is "soothing to the soul."

He said he started using the coffin in 1965 to overcome the fear of death. "It was a shock at first going in it but now I think nothing about it," he observed.

Matsuda claims to have a solution to end the Viet Nam war but he refuses to divulge it now. In the New York ad of May 23, Matsuda called on the U.S. government to set up 50 "paradises" in South Viet Nam for victims of the Vietnamese war. In the London ad a month later, Matsuda appealed to President Johnson and the prime ministers of Britain and Japan for carte blanche to negotiate an end to the war. He said he could bring world peace in one day. If he failed, he said, he would punish himself by "self-immolation by fire."

NORTH KOREAN

Matsuda is a native of Pyongyang, North Korea. He has a South Korean passport. He uses the Japanese name he adopted when he came to Japan as a 20-year-old youth. He operates a mail-order business selling book-building equipment. His pretty Korean wife Elko, 27, operates a dressmaking shop next door.

"I have received about 400 letters," Matsuda said. "I can't read English, but some have been translated for me. Some writers say they don't agree with my solutions for peace. But most express admiration for my motives."

"I was surprised because I wrote in my ad that I didn't want letters. Some even enclosed money. I'm planning to return the letters and money to the owners."

A letter from Martha Gellhorn of 522 Fifth Avenue, New York said: "You are a man of good will, and you have made a truly respectable gesture on behalf of humanity."

Another sent by Eugene P. Cohen of 124 Spear St., San Francisco, said: "Because I think you are a man with a good heart, I am enclosing a dollar bill, and hope at least 11,000 other people do likewise."

Matsuda's wife appears to be not too worried over her husband's plan although she stands to lose her dressmaking shop. "A lot was against the plan, but now there is no argument between us," she said. "I let him do what he wants because he is a man of strong will."

Marine's Letter Last Will

NEW YORK (AP) — An 18-year-old Marine wrote to his mother two months before he was killed in South Viet Nam last February.

"I don't like being over here, but I am doing a job that must be done — I am fighting an inevitable enemy that must be fought — now or later."

The three-page letter from Pfc. Richard Edward Marks was offered as his last will and testament in Surrogate's Court Friday.

Addressed to his mother,

Gloria D. Kramer of Manhattan, and dated Dec. 12, 1965, it disposed of an estimated $5,000 estate, including $3,500 advanced by a publishing company which had agreed to publish his letter.

In the letter, Marks, who enlisted in the Marine Corps in November, 1964, noted that he was writing "in the event I am killed during my remaining tour of duty."

He said: "Since I have been here, I have done my job to the best of my ability. I have been scared many times, but I've also been proud an equal number of times."

He was wishing to protect and maintain what I believe in and what I want to live in — a democratic society. If I am killed while carrying out this mission, I want no one to cry or mourn for me. I want people to hold their heads high and be proud of me for the job I did."

The letter dictated that one-fourth of his property go to his mother and rest to his sister and her husband, Susan and Leonard Magazine, Charleston, S.C.

He asked that he be buried in his uniform with all the decorations, medals and badges that he rated, in the same cemetery as his father and grandfather.

The papers disclosed that Marks died while on duty as the result of burns when an amphibious tractor he was riding hit a mine.

Mrs. Kramer said her son left about $500 in savings, four shares of American Telephone & Telegraph stock, and about $200 in cash. He also included his $10,000 service life insurance, both payable to Mrs. Magazine.

Mrs. Kramer said in an affidavit that her son owned literary property in the letters which he wrote. "As the court has seen from the way these letters are most unusual, topical, and are of great current interest," she wrote.

"The decedent wrote with a refreshing ease and directness. His spontaneous sentiments are surprisingly mature for a boy of 18."

She said that a publishing company had agreed to publish the letters and has made an advance payment.

Families Larger in U.S. Since '60

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average American family has grown over the last six years from 3.14 persons in 1960 to 3.27 persons in 1965, according to the Census Bureau reported today. In 1960, there were 3.67 persons in the average family.

This increase occurred because most of the children born in the 1940s and early 1950s — when the birth rate was higher than it is today — are still living at home, the bureau said.

Manhunt for Chicago Mass Killer Expands

Troops Quell Chicago Mobs

CHICAGO (AP) — Flying squads of impressively armed National Guardsmen and police restored relative peace today to the scarred streets of a West Side area ripped since Tuesday by racial violence.

Youthful gangs who had looted, burned and fired sniper-style from rooftops faded away last night as Guardsmen—told to shoot to kill if fired upon—went on patrol.

Through the streets of a 140-square-block area rolled trucks loaded with soldiers, rifles at the ready, bayonets fixed; Jeeps with machine guns mounted; police cars with shot-guns poked out windows.

Knots of Negroes lined curbs in some areas, catcalling occasionally, but there were only scattered incidents: one reported with police returning fire but finding no one; a fire bomb thrown into a street outside a home; a few store windows broken; several fires in houses and stores.

By midnight, police reported, streets were virtually deserted. Police arrested 51 persons in last night's disturbances, 44 men, four juveniles and three women.

A CONTRAST

The calm contrasted dramatically with Thursday night, when an estimated 5,000 were on the streets and two Negroes were killed by gunshot and 30 were injured amid widespread shooting, looting and burning that continued into the day yesterday.

Gov. Otto Kerner called up the Guard, 2,000 strong, yesterday at the request of Mayor Richard A. Daley.

The mayor said he felt police alone could not cope with the rioting, worst in the North since 34 were killed in massive rioting in Los Angeles last August.

Maj. Gen. Francis P. Kane held 1,500 troops in reserve and 1,500 into action, operating from a base in a parking lot. They teamed with 1,000 police.

'SHOOT TO KILL'

"If anybody shoots at my men," Gen. Kane told newsmen, "my orders are to shoot back—shoot to kill."

The word must have gotten around. Newsmen interviewing Negroes on the streets reported an attitude of fear among many—especially of the Guardsmen.

There was much comment about weapons.

And there were some who said the Guard will leave, sooner or later, and trouble will come anew.

No Break Seen in Air Strike

Union Official Says Talks at an Impasse

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The airlines strike dragged into the ninth day today and the chief union negotiator predicted the deadlock would last at least until next week.

Joseph W. Ramsey, spokesman for the striking 35,400 machinist union members of five major airlines, said talks were at an impasse. A new dispute with Northwest Airlines, one of the five struck lines, has further complicated things, Ramsey indicated.

He said he had no reason to believe "the airlines will move" until next week.

William J. Curtin, spokesman for the airlines, agreed. He said "he had no reason to think there would be any break in the talks today."

Meanwhile, the Civil Aeronautics Board, moving to ease monumental air traffic jams across the nation, authorized 13 supplemental airlines to fly nearly 100 routes of the five struck carriers.

SIDE DISPUTE

The side dispute involving Northwest was said to deal with handling of military flights. Earlier this week, the union broke off negotiations over a Northwest order requiring some 80 men to be sent to the front.

Airline Plans to Lay Off 207 in State

DETROIT (AP) — United Air Lines said yesterday it will lay off 207 employees in Michigan July 18 if the strike continues against it.

A spokesman said United plans to lay off 122 pilots, 75 stewardesses and 10 teletype operators in Michigan July 18 if the strike continues. He said all 207 are nonstriking union employees.

United intends to reduce the work day from eight to six hours for 420 nonunion employees in Michigan July 25.

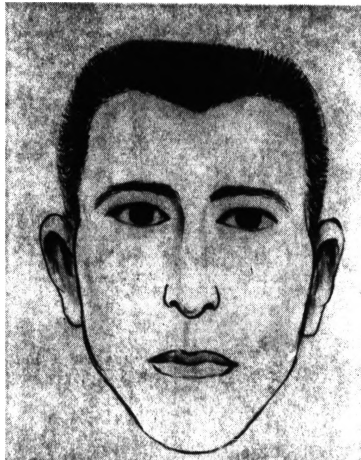

Of these persons, 306 are located at Detroit, 31 at Grand Rapids, 20 in theaginaw-Bay City area, 20 at Lansing, 17 at Flint and 16 at Muskegon.

The spokesman said United would lay off or reduce working hours of similar employees throughout the nation.

ON STRIKE

The International Association of Machinists struck United, Northwest, Trans World, National and Eastern. All but National operated in Michigan mostly through Detroit Metropolitan Airport. American Airlines said Friday it would add three nonstop jets daily from Detroit to New York's Kennedy Airport, starting Monday. Three additional return flights also are scheduled.

North Central Airlines said it was putting new nonstop flights on the route from Detroit to Chicago, with connections to Minneapolis.

North Viets Alert World for Message

TOKYO (AP)—Radio Hanoi seeks world attention for a message of undefined import. Hinting there will be an important statement, the North Vietnamese station said it will "release a special transmission" at 8:45 a.m.—9:45 p.m. (local time) today.

There was no indication of the topic, though North Viet Nam's threat to try captive American pilots on war crimes charges has been among the chief topics of recent Red transmissions.

Wilson Arrives for Soviet Talk

Ostensible Purpose Is British Fair Visit

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson of Britain arrived here today hoping to talk with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin about peace in Viet Nam.

Wilson's ostensible purpose in coming to Moscow is a visit tomorrow to a British trade fair to "encourage our exporters."

Upon leaving London, he was asked if he hoped for success in his peace efforts and replied:

"This is something we can only discover when we get to Moscow."

"The purpose of my visit is to visit the trade fair and give encouragement to our exporters who are doing a magnificent job for Britain."

SAY NO

Soviet newspapers have said bluntly that Soviet leaders won't discuss Viet Nam with him. Wilson is scheduled to hold talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin Monday.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told Parliament Wilson would press the Soviets to convene the 1964 Geneva conference on Indochina.

Girl Is Certain She Can Make Identification

Many Clues Checked but No Suspect Held as Probe Widens

CHICAGO (AP) — Police said today a search for the wholesale killer of eight nursing students "is expanding greatly geographically and in number of persons checked."

"We are still very hopeful," said Capt. Michael Spiotto, deputy chief of detectives. "We have not yet reached anybody we can bring before the witness."

By witness he referred to Miss Corazon Amurao, 23, an exchange student nurse from the Philippines who is the only survivor of the massacre early Thursday in the town house apartment dormitory the victims shared.

Miss Amurao, who escaped by hiding under a bed, has told police she is certain she can identify the killer.

Spiotto said that a task force of 60 detectives was going about the manhunt in a systematic manner, with the headquarters of the hunt in the office of the Area 2 Homicide Unit on the second floor of a two-story brick police building at 91st Street and Cottage Grove, two miles from the South Side scene of the killings.

WORK DIRECTOR

Lt. William McCarthy, who is directing the nerve-center work behind a door with a newly posted sign in crayon which reads, "Keep Out," said 50 men had been interviewed in area 2 alone.

McCarthy said those interviewed or contacted in the investigation were generally young men found roving the South Side area, either alone or in automobiles, or men who had babbled about the crime in saloons.

Telephone calls have been received in the headquarters office from other police departments in 14 states, McCarthy said. He declined to name the states.

These calls, he said, also were about men who had talked loosely, knowingly, or mysteriously about the killings or motorists with Chicago license stickers on their auto windshields who seemed to resemble broadcast descriptions of the slayer.

Many Puzzled Over Violence

By AUSTIN SCOTT and HOLLY WEST

CHICAGO (AP) — "I don't get it," said the Negro cabdriver as he threaded his car among shards of glass littering the streets in the West Side district torn by nights of rioting.

That just about summed up the statements of residents there. Most seem puzzled by the violence.

The cabbie, speaking of youths who spearheaded the looting, burning and shooting, added: "If I'm mad at you, I'm going to get you, even if I have to sleep on your doorstep to do it. But I'm not going to do something that will lose you every body. And that's what these kids are doing."

Dozens of interviews during hours of walking the streets Friday night, as heavily armed National Guardsmen restored order, produced no pattern beyond this:

ANGRY TEENES

Most agree that the youngsters are angry. They disagree as to why. Virtually all feel that the appearance of the Guard prevented another night of violence. Unlike the Los Angeles racial riots of 1965, cries of "Get Whitey" or "Burn baby burn" were scarce during the Thursday-Friday peak outburst here.

There was no indication that any one cause — alleged police brutality, hate of white merchants, for instance — was the spark.

"You can't tell me it was racial," said Frank Banton, an aging white merchant who kept plate glass windows in two stores intact despite shattered glass in stores all around him.

'VOLUNTEERED'

"This Negro guy I know helped me put up plywood to protect my windows," he said. "I didn't ask him. He volunteered. Then later I saw him running down the street bustin' that window and the one over there."

He pointed to plywood panels covering shattered displays two doors away and across the street. "Now how do you figure that?"

"It wasn't racial," said a white store manager across the street, who had slept at his establishment to keep windows intact.

"I've talked to a lot of the guys today I saw running around last night. They don't have no purpose."

'NO PURPOSE'

"They didn't have no purpose," said a Negro backing station attendant present throughout Thursday night's violence, but who did not want his name used.

"Nobody organized it. One group would go through and smash windows and not take anything, and other group would come along and loot. One group started up on Roosevelt Street. Then word spread and another group got started on 16th Street, and another near 18th Street. It was both kids and adults."

Witnesses agreed that teenagers were involved. Many felt they started smashing windows and induced adults to join in later. Others believed adults goaded the youths into the spree of violence.

In contrast to the pattern in other riots, some Negroes laughed and joked with police as officers cruised by, five to a car, rifles and shotguns pointing skyward under windows.

HAD RESPECT

But they showed great respect for National Guardsmen marching by with rifles at the ready.

"Willie," a black teen-ager, shouted a mother from her second-floor window. "You don't want to get shot."

"Better quit that, man," said a Negro teen-ager to a friend who walked toward a patrolling Guardsman. "They'll fill you up with holes."

King held a formal kickoff of his campaign Sunday with a street march and rally attended by 40,000.

Navy Plane Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A flight of U.S. Navy A4 Skyhawk fighters from the 7th Fleet carrier Ranger evaded 10 surface-to-air missiles Friday during an attack on two missile sites southeast of Hanoi, the Navy disclosed today.

Officials said, however, heavy ground fire from the target area brought down one Skyhawk. The loss of the plane had been reported Friday night and the pilot was listed as missing. There was immediate assessment of damage.

Other Navy pilots from the carrier Oriskany attacked the Ben Thuy fuel transshipment point and a petroleum-oil-lubricants storage area about two miles south of Vinh Friday. An assessment of damage at that target was not immediately obtained because of a column of smoke that reportedly reached more than 2,000 feet in the air.

Another flight of Skyhawks from the Ranger hit at a petroleum-oil-lubricants area near Thanh Hoa Friday and pilots said they damaged two large storage buildings.

39 Hospitals Hit by Strikes

Nonmedical Workers Walk Out in Quebec

MONTREAL (AP) — Non-medical employees of 39 hospitals walked off their jobs today and raised to 39 the number of institutions hit by a strike in the Province of Quebec. The work stoppage began Friday.

The strikers are dietary, laundry, housekeeping and maintenance workers and ward orderlies. They are represented by the National Federation of Services.

The federation is seeking an $8 a week salary increase for the 32,500 employees it represents and other improvements in a one-year contract. The hospitals are reported to have offered $4.60 to $6.60 in a two-year contract. Average salary of the workers is $6.50 weekly.

The Provincial Health Department reported the strike has caused no serious problems. Emergency cases are being treated under arrangements set up in advance by the hospitals. The hospitals had discharged most of their nonurgent cases.

CHANGE PLAN

The union originally planned to strike all 139 hospitals in which its members are employed. But it changed its strategy to add to the number of affected institutions gradually.

In Quebec City, Premier Daniel Johnson kept a close eye on the strike. He said Friday night "there was progress and the climate seems to have improved."

Volunteers ranging from businessmen on vacation to high school students pitched in to maintain essential services at seven strikebound Montreal hospitals.

Another aircraft — a U.S. Marine F4B Phantom — was shot down by enemy fire over South Viet Nam while on a strike 30 miles northwest of Quang Tri City late Friday. Both crewmen were rescued by Air Force helicopters.

Woman Hurt in Crash Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — One of four New York hospitals hit by a mass walkout of nonprofessional workers considered a return to normal operations between 80 and 90 per cent of the employees reported for work this morning.

The hospital, Mt. Sinai in Manhattan, canceled plans to transfer its 1,100 patients to other hospitals. "We're contemplating a return to normal operations by early afternoon when we see if the nonprofessional workers stay," said Sheldon S. King, an assistant director.

Work stoppages in other major voluntary hospitals caused a slowdown in operations.

At Montefiore Hospital in the Bronx, administrator Mo Katz reported that with a reduced number of patients, operations were proceeding smoothly. A large number of workers did not report for work today. The number of patients at 656-bed Montefiore was down to 332.

4 HOSPITALS

Nonprofessional workers, including orderlies, cooks and secretaries, walked off their jobs Friday at Mt. Sinai, Montefiore, Long Island Jewish and Beth Israel hospitals.

The AFL-CIO Drug and Hospital Employees Union maintains the walkouts are spontaneous and not strikes. Its contract with the hospitals contains a no-strike clause and requires arbitration of disputes.

The employees demand a 20 per cent increase in pay which averages $80 a week, and an additional 4 per cent in fringe benefits. The hospitals have offered 12 per cent boosts.

Church Talks Charted by Author-Evangelist

BIRMINGHAM—Noted author and evangelist Robert L. Summer will be in the city this week to conduct a special series of church services on the theme "Music and Messages That Can Change Your Life!"

Summer is a contributing editor of "The Sword of the Lord," the largest independent Christian weekly in the country.

In addition to his pulpits engagements which have taken him into most of the 50 states, his radio addresses and printed messages have reached into hundreds of foreign countries around the world.

The services will be held at the Grace Baptist Church each evening at 7:30, Monday through Sunday.

Pastor Charles Whitfield said meetings are open to all who are interested, regardless of their faith.

The Community House Monday night will present the prominent guitar duo of Gonzalo Torres and Ramon Dora-Dio at 8:30.

The program will include classical, flamenco, tropical and Mexican folk music.

Several area youths will leave tomorrow on a three-week trip to Alaska sponsored annually by Edward J. Kuhn of Lake Wales.

Heading North are Don Wilcox, 23, 13 Mile, Jim Wilcox, 25, 975 Pilgrim; Randy DeArment, 23, Parkman, Bloomfield Hills; and Tom Gregersen of 2359 Lost Tree Way, Bloomfield Hills.

Another area resident, Mark Gray of 1209 Applewood, White Lake Township, is also making the trip.

Brown stated that he and Rep. Elmer E. Anderson (D) Escanaba and Clayton Morrison (R) Pickford had been discussing the inconsistency in the pickup toll for some time and that Rep. Anderson had written to him last May saying:

"It appears that there has been a significant change in the use of pickup trucks as passenger vehicles. In 1963 and prior years perhaps 90 per cent of the pickup trucks crossing the Straits were commercial in nature. Today 90 per cent or better appear to be totally recreational vehicles."

The White House has expressed hope the negotiators would get down to serious "reasoning together" but otherwise has said little about the strike in spite of pressure on Capitol Hill and elsewhere for presidential intervention.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said yesterday there were no plans for "presidential persuasion."

But on Capitol Hill Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., told the Senate it was time for President Johnson to "Use the persuasive powers of his office to bring an end to this disastrous strike."

ECONOMIC LOSS Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., said the economic losses from the strike were "grim statistics, indeed, especially when this nation is undergoing critical economic stresses from other sources," an apparent reference to the Viet Nam war.

Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., wired Johnson that "I respectfully urge you to use your acknowledged persuasive powers to twist the arms of the negotiators..." He said servicemen on leave were among the hardest hit.

Although all legal means are open to the government to get flights going again were exhausted, the President in the past has speeded up strike negotiations by inviting the participants to meet at the White House for their sessions.

Late yesterday the Civil Aeronautics Board made its move to ease slightly the strain on travelers by giving charter airlines authority to serve major markets. But it was doubtful they had enough equipment to make much of a difference.

GOOD INTERVIEW Spillio said the two-hour interview was eminently fruitful.

"Number one, we're confident he's going to get this guy," he said. "Number two, we know the girl can identify him."

The girl, Corazon Amurao, 23, filled in details missing from her first, hysterical account burst out to police when she finally fled the blood-spattered house of death Thursday at dawn.

At least one mystery remained, however, and police said no light on it after the interview with Miss Amurao.

water during a hot spell, a crowd gathered. Rocks flew. Violence began.

There was more Wednesday night. Then the climax Thursday night and yesterday during the day, with police reporting at one point they were unable to control the mobs.

Mayor Daley said that he blames the outbreak "in large measure" on aides of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

King and his staff have been conducting a civil rights drive in Chicago.

ON VIOLENCE

Said Daley: "Surely some of the people that came in here have been talking for the last year of violence, and showing pictures and instructing people in how to conduct violence. They're on (the King's) staff."

Said King: "It is unfortunate that one in such a high position of authority as the mayor of Chicago should perpetrate such a falsehood."

King said he believes the National Guard call was necessary. "The rioting must be quelled."

King held a formal kickoff of his campaign Sunday with a street march and rally attended by 40,000.

Fire Damages Wixom Home

A fire, blamed on faulty wiring, damaged a two-story home in Wixom this morning.

Wixom Fire Chief Robert Potter said the blaze gutted two of six rooms on the first floor of the house at 26100 S. Wixom, and most of the upstairs.

He said the home is occupied by the family of Darrell Leeper, but that no one was in the house when the fire was reported shortly after 7 a.m.

Cause of the fire is still under investigation, according to Potter, who said it appears that it started in the electrical wiring. No damage estimate has been made.

Walled Lake and Novi fire departments assisted in extinguishing the blaze.

EMERGENCY SESSION

Viet Cong political leaders held an "emergency enlarged" meeting July 7-9 to review the situation since the United States stepped up its military efforts in mid-1965.

Three worldwide epidemics of influenza were the ones that struck in 1989-91, 1918-19, and 1967-68. The 1918-19 epidemic claimed the most victims — 500,000 deaths in the U.S., 15 million throughout the world.

ground that included a revived flurry of peace moves, intensified American air strikes north of the 17th Parallel and rising optimism among U.S. and South Vietnamese officials at the course of the conflict.

President Johnson, whose repeated efforts to get negotiations started have been spurned by the Ho Chi Minh regime, suggested two weeks ago that the Communists "Don't really expect a military victory."

MOSCOW REFUSES

Only today Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India, winding up a four-day visit to Moscow, said the Soviet Union would be refused to make any efforts to arrange peace talks unless Hanoi asks it to do so.

Mrs. Gandhi had appealed for reconvening of the Geneva Indochina conference of 1954, of which Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen. Britain goes along with her ideas.

Various American lawmakers and government leaders have warned the North Vietnamese against execution of American prisoners.

If Hanoi carries out that threat, said Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., "the American people will demand the complete destruction of North Viet Nam."

Sapparat is well-known in the region as a rugby player. He and his wife already had one son, Arnaud, born two years ago.

Break-Ins Probed by Area Officers

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies are investigating a series of four break-ins reported yesterday in Highland Township.

City Workers in Lansing Vote to Strike

LANSING (AP)—A city employees union Friday night voted to go on strike Sunday night in face of a threat that all strikers would be fired from their jobs.

Mayor Max Murnighan said immediately after the union action that he would seek a meeting with the union Sunday in hopes of warding off a strike.

The strike vote was taken by Local 1390 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Workers (AFL-CIO).

Walter Oliver, a union international representative, said the vote was 92 per cent in favor of a strike. He declined to say how many union members were present.

250 MEMBERS

Local 1390, which has about 250 members, claims to represent the approximately 400 employees of the Capital City's public service and traffic departments and the Civic Center and Parks Department.

Say Luci, Pat Likely to Make Austin as Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's daughter Luci and Patrick J. Nugent are expected to live in Austin, Tex., after their Aug. 6 wedding.

The White House would neither confirm nor deny reports that the couple are leasing an Austin apartment and are thinking about going back to school at the University of Texas from which Luci's older sister, Lynda, was graduated last month.

The Washington Post reported from Austin that they already have signed a lease on a modern duplex apartment in fashionable West Austin, in the neighborhood of a home once owned by President Johnson when he was in Congress.

Viet Protestor Fasts in Japan

Businessman Seeks More Cash for Ads

TOKYO (AP) — Morhiro Matsuda, a determined man, is not satisfied with having spent $26,000 to advertise his views on world peace. He wants to do more.

He is embarked on a 30-day fast, sometimes resting in a wooden coffin, and is making plans to sell most of his personal property so that he can publish more advertisements like those he inserted recently in New York and London newspapers.

"I'm trying to raise enough money to publish another advertisement in the New York Times and also in the Washington Post," he said. "Each will be a four-page advertisement."

COSTLY

Matsuda estimated the New York Times ad alone would cost about $22,000.

He said he would also like a similar one in the Christian Science Monitor, but may have to give up the idea because of a lack of cash.

"I'm planning to raise the money by selling my office, my wife's dressmaking shop, and a 16-room, two-story apartment," he said.

FAST DIET

Matsuda started his one-month fast June 23. He first took only water but now drinks soybean soup, milk and fruit juice.

Matsuda said an annual fast with a coffin has enabled him to achieve "clear-headedness" and is "soothing to the soul."

He said he started using the coffin in 1955 to overcome the fear of death. "It was a shock at first going in it but now I think nothing about it," he observed.

Matsuda claims to have a solution to end the Viet Nam war but has refused to divulge it now. In the New York ad of May 23, Matsuda called on the U.S. government to set up 50 "paradises" in South Viet Nam for victims of the Vietnamese war.

In the London ad a month later, Matsuda appealed to President Johnson and the prime ministers of Britain and Japan for carte blanche to negotiate an end to the war. He said he could bring world peace in one day. If he failed, he said, he would punish himself by "self-immolation by fire."

NORTH KOREAN

Matsuda is a native of Pyongyang, North Korea. He has a South Korean passport. He used the Japanese name he adopted when he came to Japan as a 20-year-old youth. He operates a mail-order business selling body-building equipment.

His pretty Korean wife, Eiko, 27, operates a dressmaking shop next door.

"I have received about 400 letters," Matsuda said. "I can't read English, but some have been translated for me. Some writers say they don't agree with my solutions for peace. But most express admiration for my motives."

"I was surprised because I wrote in my ad that I didn't want letters. Some even enclosed money. I'm planning to return the letters and money to the owners."

A letter from Martha Gellhorn of 328 Fifth Avenue, New York, said, "You are a man of good will... and you have made a truly respectable gesture on behalf of humanity."

Another sent by Eugene P. Cohen of 124 Spear St., San Francisco, said, "Because I think you are a man with a good heart, I am enclosing a dollar bill, and hope at least 11,000 other people do likewise."

Matsuda's wife appears to be not too worried over her husband's plan although she stands to lose her dressmaking shop.

"At first I was against the plan, but now there is no argument between us," she said. "I let him do what he wants because he is a man of strong will."

Marine's Letter Last Will

NEW YORK (AP) — An 18-year-old Marine wrote to his mother two months before he was killed in South Viet Nam last February.

"I don't like being over here, but I am doing a job that must be done — I am fighting an inevitable enemy that must be fought — now or later."

The three-page letter from Pfc. Richard Edward Marks was offered as his last will and testament in Surrogate's Court Friday.

Addressed to his mother, Gloria D. Kramer of Manhattan, and dated Dec. 12, 1965, it disposed of an estimated $5,000 estate, including $3,500 advanced by a publishing company which wanted to publish his letters.

In the letter, Marks, who enlisted in the Marine Corps in November, 1964, noted that he was writing it "in the event I am killed during my remaining tour of duty."

He said: "Since I have been here, I have done my job to the best of my ability. I have been scared many times, but I've also been proud an equal number of times.

"I am fighting to protect and maintain what I believe in and what I want to live in — a democratic society. If I am killed while carrying out this mission, I want no one to cry or mourn for me. I want people to hold their heads high and be proud of me for the job I did."

The letter dictated that one-fourth of his property go to his mother and rest to his sister and her husband, Susan and Leonard Magazine, Charleston, S.C.

He asked that he be buried in his uniform with all the decorations, medals and badges that he rated, in the same cemetery as his father and grandfather.

The papers disclosed that Marks died near Da Nang as the result of burns when an amphibious tank was being rammed by a mine.

Mrs. Kramer said her son left about $500 in savings, four shares of American Telephone & Telegraph stock, and about $500 in bank pay. Not included was his $10,000 service life insurance, both payable to Mrs. Magazine.

Mrs. Kramer said in an affidavit that her son owned literary property in the letters which he wrote. "As the court can see from the will, these letters are most unusual, topical, and are of great current interest," she wrote.

"The decedent wrote with a refreshing ease and directness. His spontaneous sentiments are surprisingly mature for a boy of his age."

She said that a publishing company had agreed to publish the letters and has made an advance payment.

Average U.S. Family Larger in Recent Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average American family has grown over the last six years and had 3.72 persons as of last March, the Census Bureau reported today. In 1960, there were 3.67 persons in the average family.

The increase occurred because most of the children born in the late 1940s and early 1950s — when the birth rate was higher than it is today — are still living at home, the bureau said.

Reflections

SECURITY OR OPPORTUNITY

We hear the term "Security" under many situations; a youth seeks security in a job, the elderly seek Security in a Welfare Program; that Security is an illusion. Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, "There is no security on this Earth. There is opportunity."

Men and women marched to demand Security, yet opportunity was everywhere they looked. Their compatriots have gained recognition and a place in the sun by seeking opportunity, reaching it, holding it and making the most of it.

City government reaches an apex of service when it seeks an opportunity to better serve the citizens.

Bank Interest Payments Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has reduced maximum interest rates that some 13,500 U.S. banks may pay on time deposits in an attempt to lessen the competitive war between banks and savings and loans associations.

The Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation reduced Friday from 5% to 5 per cent the interest rate banks may pay on time deposits of 90 days or more that have more than one maturity date. On similar deposits of less than 90 days, the maximum interest rate was reduced to 4 per cent.

2 Injured in Area Crash

Two persons were hospitalized early today after two station-wagons carrying five persons each collided at a Holly Township intersection.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital are Mrs. James M. Peabody, 47, of 5560 Lane Lake, Bloomfield Township and Cecil Caldwell, 15, of Davison.

Mrs. Peabody was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, owner of Peabody Country Stores Inc. He and a three of the couple's children riding in the car escaped serious injury.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies identified the driver of the second vehicle as Harold D. Hammer Jr., 16, of Flint.

Hammer told deputies he was going south on Fish Lake and saw the stop sign at Grange Hall too late to avoid a collision with the Peabody car traveling eastbound on Grange Hall.

Three teen-aged girls riding in Hammer's station wagon suffered injuries, but did not require medical attention.
