President of Guatemala Killed by Assassin

Hoffa Leading Choice for Top Teamster Post

800 Leaders Cast Vote to Endorse Him as Man to Replace Beck

CHICAGO (AP) — Jimmy Hoffa has emerged as the apparent strong man in the race to succeed Dave Beck as president of the powerful Teamsters Union.

Hoffa's growing strength in the 1½ million member union was sharply focused yesterday when some 800 cheering, shouting Teamster leaders voted unanimously to endorse the Detroiter's candidacy for the $50,000 a year post.

The caucus was called by Hoffa's supporters especially to boom the 44-year-old Hoffa for Beck's job. Beck is stepping down amidst charges by a Senate Rackets Committee that he misappropriated large sums of money from the union.

Hoffa himself was acquitted by a jury July 19 of bribery and conspiracy charges brought by the same committee which said he tried to plant a spy on the committee staff.

"There's nothing I can do but carry on your wishes," Hoffa said later.

Enthusiasm for Hoffa led another announced candidate for the five - year post to virtually withdraw from the contest. John T. (Sandy) O'Brien, who was running hard for the nomination, emerged from a conference with Hoffa and asserted:

"Jim has 75 per cent of the vote. I will go back and tell my friends the situation."

O'Brien said that if Hoffa had as much strength as the meeting demonstrated "I have nothing else to do" but withdraw. O'Brien, of Chicago, is a fourth vice president.

Officers Give Gypsies Scenic Tour of State

More than 100 Gypsies in 27 trailers were ushered from county to county across southern Michigan last night. They were reluctantly on the move—their destination uncertain.

The exodus began when Lapeer County Sheriff William Porter ordered the caravan off the farm of Gerald Bond near Brown City. The sheriff said chickens had evaporated off neighboring farms and a wave of thefts developed in Imlay City.

The Gypsies had rented trailer space from Bond four days ago and had planned to hold a convention there last night.

Porter ruled that Bond's farm was lacking in facilities for a trailer camp. He and his deputies escorted the tightly-herded 27 trailers to the Macomb County line on M-53.

Although Macomb County deputies denied knowledge of the caravan, Oakland County officers said the Gypsies were ushered into their territory by Macomb Officers.

★ ★ ★

Difficulties developed in Oakland County. One of the gypsy automobiles had a flat tire. Then four trailers escaped to the north before the escorting officers could call in reinforcements from Highland, Milford, White Lake and the Pontiac State Police.

The remaining 23 trailers were herded on to the Livingston County line.

Oakland County Sheriff Sgt. Paul Carpenter said he was uncertain under what law the Gypsies were being forced to move.

"We're just doing it, that's all," Carpenter said. "We don't let them light."

State Police at the Pontiac Post said their troopers were not "herding" the Gypsies.

"We're just checking to see that they are behaving," said Trooper Stanley Sitkowski.

Mutterings of Gypsy discontent grew more audible as the caravan

Quads to Return After Vacation Trip to Kentucky

Oakland County will not lose its famous Rosebush quads, as reported from Kentucky yesterday.

Their father, a truck driver, has been transferred to Louisville but the family has not made any plans to move from their present home at 3043 Baldwin Rd.

Mrs. Rosebush, 41, and the quads arrived Thursday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Miles Powell, 22, for a short vacation visit.

When contacted this morning, Mrs. Rosebush said, "We have no present intentions of moving from Michigan, and plan to return home next week."

The quads, now 6, are all doing fine and enjoying their week in Kentucky. Krystal, the smallest quad at birth, now is the heaviest. All are about the same height, but the girls outweigh the boys.

Highly Secret Rocket to Be Fired Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Atomic scientists plan to fire a highly secret rocket 80,000 feet above the Nevada wastelands today to inaugurate America's newest high altitude rocket range.

The launching will be the first from the new Tonopah Ballistics Range, which is operated by the Atomic Energy Commission's Sandia, N. M., nuclear laboratory.

The AEC said the rocket will carry no explosives or nuclear materials. It will be fired solely for research purposes.

Work Progressing on Highway Relocation

TELEGRAPH ROAD RELOCATION — Photographs above show the progress on the Telegraph road relocation at the Orchard Lake overpass project. In the top photo you are looking south from the bridge, which was opened to east and west bound Orchard Lake avenue traffic this month. The swamp south of the bridge has been drained and is being filled. The new road will run behind the Teamsters hall and the Bloomfield Inn to tie-in with the present Telegraph road. The bottom photo looks northwest from the overpass. The mile-long relocation curves west of the present road, and stretches from Rockwell avenue to James K boulevard. The project involves the construction of a bridge over the Clinton River just south of the boulevard, and is scheduled for completion in December.

Metz Man Killed in Two Car Crash

One man was dead and another critically injured in a two car collision at 14 Mile and John R. Roads at about 4:45 this morning.

Eugene R. Kowalski, 28, of Metz died in the hospital three hours after the accident.

Elmer Kobus, 35, of 7760 East Ferry St., Detroit, is not expected to live, according to Madison Heights Police, who investigated the accident.

Although there were no witnesses, police theorized that Kobus, traveling west on 14 Mile, failed to heed stop signs and drove into the path of the northbound car.

Plunge Into River

Long Trailer, Short Boat Strands Area Family

A Walled Lake couple and their two children escaped injury when their car and 48-foot trailer rolled off a ferry yesterday and sank in the St. Mary's River.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coldstock and their sons, Harry, 13, and Patrick, 9, were enroute from a Canadian vacation when the mishap occurred.

They boarded a International Transit Co. ferry at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, bound for the U. S. side. The vessel proved somewhat short for the combination car and trailer and the rear of the trailer overhung the boat's deck and was resting on the ramp.

As the boat got underway, the ramp which was not tightly secured sagged, starting the trailer rolling backwards.

Coldstock immediately leaped out and pulled his sons from the rear seat, while two deckhands grabbed the car and tried to stop it.

The trailer rolled off into 30 feet of water between the boat and the dock, while the car was half submerged. Later in the day a skin diver secured cables to the vehicles and they were raised from the river.

Dulles Told to Enter Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today ordered Secretary of State Dulles to go to London tomorrow to give his personal attention to the stalled disarmament discussions.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said there was no "emergency" involved but the President felt that Dulles, by making a personal review of all the problems now under discussion, would get a better picture of the situation than by relying on exchanges of cablegrams.

In answer to a question at a news conference, Hagerty said the Dulles visit is in no way a reflection on the handling of the disarmament discussions for the United States by Harold E. Stassen. Stassen is the President's special disarmament adviser but works under the State Department.

Curtice Called to House Quiz

Asked to Appear Before Subcommittee Probing Government Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp., has been asked to appear before a House subcommittee investigating government contracts.

Rep. Hebert (D-La), chairman of the subcommittee for special investigations of the House Armed Services Committee, wired Curtice yesterday that his group "has been advised by the Comptroller General of the United States that your company has refused access and examination of your corporation's books and records relating to government contracts currently being performed by divisions of General Motors."

Hebert made special reference to the Cadillac Division.

The chairman asked that Curtice appear before the subcommittee "to hear your company's position and policy on this subject" and related matters.

Milk Strike Scheduled Thursday in Detroit

DETROIT (INS)—The Michigan Milk Producers Association has scheduled a milk strike for next Thursday if Detroit dairies continue to refuse a "reasonable price" to dairy farmers.

The association is seeking $5 a hundredweight for drinking milk, a 35 cent increase over the current wholesale price. Contracts with Detroit dairies expire Wednesday.

Castillo Armas Shot by Member of Palace Guard

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

GUATEMALA CITY — Anti-Communist President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala was shot and killed last night by a soldier who then killed himself.

Vice President Luis Arturo Gonzalez Lopez was sworn in as president this morning and pledged to "carry on the anti-Communist fight" of Castillo Armas.

Castillo Armas, 43, overthrew the Communist - supported regime of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in 10 days of military revolt in June 1954.

The scrappy Guatemalan leader, an army colonel, forced out of office a government in which Communists wielded their greatest influence in the history of Central America.

There have been several plots reported against his regime, allegedly masterminded by Guatemalans living abroad. Arbenz himself is in exile in Europe.

But Castillo Armas said last November that such attempts were "of no importance" and that the country's economic and political foundations were sound.

Castillo Armas led a ragtag army of irregulars against the Arbenz forces to bring his country back from the road to Communism. He quickly purged the country of Communists, sending

What Do Teenagers Need for Summer Recreation?

More Supervised Social Events Lead List of Suggestions

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

How do local teenagers spend their summers, especially for an evening's entertainment? Are they bored or do they keep busy and have enough recreational activities to occupy their spare time?

★ ★ ★

OWEN

FINCANNON

They claim they are bored and want a safe place to meet and associate with the opposite sex during the evenings.

Gary Owen, 14, of 109 Gateway Dr., agrees with one letter claiming Pontiac teenagers have nothing to do during the summer. "That's why many walk the streets as I do," he explained.

★ ★ ★

"I think there should be more dances in the summertime. They also have to be publicized more now because the kids don't spread the word as much as when they are in school."

"I wish teens would have someplace to go, like the CAI Hall in Waterford," said Jean Fincannon, 15, of 670 Bow Lane. "I've gone to lots of dances there that were supervised.

★ ★ ★

"I've only gone to one dance at the Pontiac Boys Club because I always thought you had to know someone who belonged there. My friends usually spend most of the evenings swimming and going to parties and drive-ins."

OHNGREN

ARNOLD

"You always have some kids who aren't interested in participating in community-wide projects," says David Ohngren, 17, of 795 Corwin Ct.

"I have gone to several dances over at the Amvets Hall and they were very nice and reasonable for teenagers' pocketbooks. My friends and I have plenty to do," he claimed.

Sandy Arnold, 16, of 303 Going St., thinks summertime dances and activities for teens need more publicity, such as posters.

"I'm satisfied with the present recreational opportunities in Pontiac for teens. If they look in the right places, kids can find many things to do that are fun, time consuming and yet, keep themselves out of trouble."

"It would be a good idea if the City Parks and Recreation Department would continue to hold teen dances in the elementary schools all year instead of just during the school months," she advised.

★ ★ ★

"I have three younger teen brothers. They certainly aren't restless. Yet, I believe teens do too much cruising in cars. In our town, a Pontiac disc jockey puts on dances weekly at a new roller rink and really draws large crowds," said Ann.

★ ★ ★

"That's why every summer I spend most of my time at my uncle's home on Cass Lake. I think summer activities in Pontiac need much more publicity," he explained.

"I have never gone to any Pontiac teen night functions since I came home from the Navy," says Richard Jackson, 19, of 721 Clara St.

★ ★ ★

"Most teens like to dance. And we usually go out to Waterford or Auburn Heights to dance because we never hear of any dances going on in Pontiac," Richard said.

"These complaining teens have done so much now and have had so much freedom they are probably getting tired," claims Ellen Taylor, 16, of 247 Ottawa Dr.

★ ★ ★

"About the only thing I could suggest for an improvement in teen recreation in Pontiac would be to have more dances with bands instead of records. Personally, I don't like jazz and that's what most record dances have," according to Ellen.

Summer School Graduates 62

Pontiac High Speaker Warns His Audience Against Conformity

"Know what you believe and live what you believe." This was the parting advice given 62 Pontiac High School summer graduates by Dr. Ted Ward, Michigan State University coordinator of teacher education in Pontiac, last night.

Dr. Ward warned the graduates against the conformist, the follower and what he described as "the prepectual consumer."

He urged a respect for differences and an appreciation of the interdependence of all people.

Dr. Ward was introduced by Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education. Diplomas were given out by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools. Francis Staley, principal, presented the graduating class to Dr. Whitmer.

Urge U.S. Probe of Union Heads

McClellan to Forward Record of UTW Officers to Justice Dept.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers today asked the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service to look into the activities of the top two officials of the United Textile Workers Union.

The special Senate Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) wound up its investigation yesterday with demands by a committee member that UTW President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert resign.

The committee had heard testimony that Valente and Klenert diverted $128,405 in union funds to their own personal uses over a period of years since 1952, and that Klenert had even charged the UTW $5.50 for a milk stool, $25.20 for a corkscrew, $2,564.65 for tickets to the Broadway stage hit "My Fair Lady," and for costly Bermuda, Florida and Maine vacations for his family.

McClellen authorized a statement that he was sending the stenographic record of the testimony to the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service for further investigation.

Klenert said he does not know whether he paid income taxes on $101,963 the committee accused him of diverting from his union's treasury. It accused Valente of using $26,442 in UTW funds.

Garden City Mayor Upset About Family

DETROIT (AP) — Still in critical condition with five bullet wounds, Garden City Mayor James Tierney says he is "worried sick" about the safety of his wife and five children.

"We have some vicious people out there in Garden City," he said.

Tierney, shot in the chest, abdomen and groin at a public meeting in Garden City Thursday night, was given a better-than-even chance of living by hospital officials.

The 52-year-old Tierney underwent four hours of emergency surgery and received 12 pints of blood.

Lester Ellerhorst, 52, a prosperous Garden City contractor, was held in connection with the shooting. He refused to make a statement except when asked how he felt. He replied: "Not good."

About 50 officials and spectators saw the attack. City Atty. Russell L. Swarthout cut his hand on the sights of the assailant's .22 caliber target pistol while disarming him.

The crowd, too startled to act, stood back and watched as Ellerhorst walked from the room. He was picked up an hour later.

Police Chief Arthur Nagle said he believed the shooting grew out of charges by Swarthout and Tierney of irregularities in a $108,000 police station that Ellerhorst's firm, Gypsum Contractors, Inc., was building for Garden City.

Nagle said the assailant's gun first was turned on Swarthout. It misfired, he said, and then was turned on Tierney.

Waters Receding in Japanese Flood

TOKYO (AP)—Flood waters began receding slowly today on ravaged Kyushu Island where 422 persons were listed as dead in the wake of a 24-hour storm that brought 32 inches of rain.

Authorities listed 3,626 injured and 294 missing as rescue teams scanned the flood-washed triangle between Ishahaya, Omura and Nagasaki where 100,000 persons have been left homeless.

The Japanese cabinet invoked the disaster relief law as American and Japanese agencies rushed emergency supplies to the devastated area.

No American civilians or military personnel were known to be among the victims.

Cash, Cigars Taken From Grill Yesterday

The Glenview Grill was broken into early yesterday morning and 51 dollars and three boxes of cigars taken.

British Troops End 7-Year Korean Service

Some 12,000 British and New Zealand troops walked their posts for the last time and then boarded the British troopship Asturias for the homeward voyage. They leave behind 1,112 dead.

With their departure few British troops remain in Korea. After September, only a six-man team from the Green Howard regiment will be attached to the U.N. honor guard at Seoul.

140 Degrees Is Limit

BALTIMORE — Temperatures in excess of 140 degrees Fahrenheit cannot be tolerated by the human body for any extended period of time without protection.

moved across the state throughout the night. The escorting lawmen couldn't understand the Gypsy jeers, and perhaps it's just as well. From Livingston County, the group moved through Jackson and Branch counties. At the border of each county, a new set of deputies was waiting to take up escort duties.

Jackson county deputies said phrases recognizable as curses in any tongue began to flow hot and heavy around Concord, where the Gypsies wanted to camp.

But, despite the high-pitched taunts, the caravan was moved on to the Branch County line on U.S. 27. The sheriff there provided an escort into Indiana.

Cloudburst Traps Motorists

Flood Blocks Road; 50 Flee Homes in New Mexico

GRANTS, N.M. (AP) — Flood waters swept through the desert country of western New Mexico last night and early today as mountain cloudbursts severed U.S. 66 and trapped 1,800 cars for hours.

From 50 to 100 persons were evacuated from their homes in this uranium town as two creeks in the city charged from their banks. By midnight (MST), the waters were falling and officials said the danger appeared past.

More rains between Albuquerque and Grants brought state police warnings that the transcontinental U.S. 66 might again be closed by flooding.

Flash floods broke the highway for a time in several places in the 70 miles stretch between Albuquerque and Grants.

At Correo 29 miles west of Albuquerque a three-car collision killed one, injured seven and trapped an estimated 1,800 cars for several hours.

Cars backed up behind the wreck bumper to bumper for 4½ miles on each side. They were prevented from detouring by racing floodwaters on each side of the highway.

Water from the San Mateo and San Jose creeks in Grants lapped at homes. Grants Beacon weekly editor Jim Barber said the water "didn't stay out of its banks long enough to do much damage."

He reported, as of midnight, that all evacuees had returned to their homes.

School Aid Defeat to Echo in Next Year's Election

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Political repercussions from Thursday's House vote killing a federal school aid bill are likely to echo loudly through the 1958 congressional election campaign.

★ ★ ★

But spokesmen for the Democratic and Republican congressional campaign committees disagree over how effective the vote will be as a political issue.

All House seats come up for election every two years.

★ ★ ★

Democrats believe they will be able to beat some incumbent Republicans who voted to kill the bill. Their chances will be enhanced, they claim, in districts where there is a heavy Negro vote, since the bill contained an antisegregation clause.

★ ★ ★

And since a majority of Republicans in the House voted to kill the bill while a majority of Democrats voted to save it, the Democrats think they may have a defense for any campaign plea by President Eisenhower for more Republicans in Congress.

The President has in past campaigns called for more Republicans to help him carry out his legislative program. The school bill was a major part of his program. Although the measure killed by the House was not exactly what the President wanted, it was represented as being acceptable to him. Yesterday, a White House spokesman said Eisenhower had expressed "great disappointment" at the House action.

Had a majority of Republicans not voted to kill the bill, the House would have had an opportunity to vote on a compromise measure almost word-for-word what the President wanted.

The actual vote: For killing the bill, 111 Republicans and 97 Democrats; against killing it, 77 Republicans and 126 Democrats.

Republicans generally discount the potency of the school bill vote as a political issue. Some of their political strategists believe the taxpayers aren't in favor of the legislation and consider school construction a local responsibility.

Last year's election results support their position. The House killed a similar school measure in 1956 with a majority of Republicans opposing the bill and a majority of Democrats supporting it.

In the elections that followed, Republicans had a net loss of two House seats. They claim the school vote was not the dominant issue in any district.

The 1958 elections will be decided mainly on local issues, Republicans believe, since there is no presidential contest. In no districts now represented by GOP congressmen is federal school-aid an issue, Republicans maintain.

Democrats hope to change that situation and force the issue wherever they believe it might help the Democratic cause.

★ ★ ★

"The breakdown of the roll-call of both parties on this (school) bill is very interesting," said House Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts. "It should be interesting to the people of the country."

them into exile or putting them in jail.

He also moved against right-wing elements who he said "might try to hold back the hands of the clock of history."

Castillo Armas was graduated from Guatemala's military academy — the Polytechnic School — in 1936, and went into the army. In 1945 he returned to the academy as its deputy director. Two years later, after a course at the staff and command school of the U.S. Army at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., he became the school's director.

During World War II he served as a member of the joint U.S.-Guatamala commission charged with planning the mutual defense of the hemisphere. He won the Mexican Order of Military Merit and two Bronze Stars from the United States.

His election as a constitutional president came in October, 1954, several months after the successful revolution.

In New York, the United Fruit Co. said it had received cables saying that a state of siege — a modified type of martial law — had been declared and that "First-Designate Gonzalez" had assumed power with the backing of the Army. Luis Gonzalez was president of the legislative assembly and this could be a reference to him.

The worst outbreak came in June, 1956, when five students were killed in a clash with police and 17 others were wounded. One policeman was shot to death and three wounded.

Castillo Armas put the country under modified martial law for 30 days. Security Chief Ismael Ortiz Orellana linked the student demonstrations with a Communist plot to overthrow the government, but student leaders denied any Red connections.

A member of the United Nations, the Organization of American States and the Organization of Central American States, Guatemala is preponderantly Indian in population. Of its approximately 3,000,000 inhabitants, some 2,000,000 are Indian.

The country is about 75 per cent illiterate and the "politically conscious" element has been estimated at only about one-quarter of a million people.

Guatemala's major customer is the United States which purchases some 60-per cent of its exports, largely coffee and bananas. Coffee accounts for about 80 per cent of the country's exports, and bananas 15 per cent.

Simply Out-Chimped

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore artist Frank Redelius was a passenger on the same train that carried Betsy, Baltimore's fingerpainting chimp, to New York in first-class splendor.

Redelius, delivering some of his own realistic canvasses, rode second class. "I felt like crawling under cover," he said later.

Beck Pleads Innocent to Larceny Charge

SEATTLE (AP)—A plea of innocent to a charge of grand larceny in the use of funds derived from the sale of a union-owned automobile, was entered in King County Superior Court yesterday by Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union.

Beck's brief appearance was restricted to a formal entry of the plea. He had been scheduled for arraignment next Tuesday but the date was moved up because he leaves for Florida today on union business.

Dave Beck Jr., indicted on two similar charges, will enter his plea Tuesday.

Four Years After Armistice

Korean Arms Balance Being Created

By SID WHITE

TOKYO (INS)—Four years ago today a badly beaten Communist army in Korea signed an armistice agreement to win a breathing spell and a chance to rebuild its strength.

Virtually from the moment the ink was dry on the truce document, the Red build-up began—in complete violation of the pact.

The end to the Korean War was sought in an armistice at a time when most allied military leaders were urging a complete knockout of the battered Communist armies.

With the passing of each anniversary since then a growing fear mounted that the Communists were readying another aggressive move in Korea, this time with a deadly modern punch that might win them the peninsula they were unable to wrest the first time.

American military leaders publicly decried a proven illegal Communist arms buildup, as the South Koreans had been doing from the beginning.

DEPLORED RESTRICTIONS

Field commanders deplored the restrictions on new weapons imposed by the armistice agreement, which the U. N. command observed to the letter, while the Communists poured in modern weapons and the latest jet aircraft on rebuilt airfields.

The fear grew each year, as American GIs and their ROK and U. N. allies manned the lines with outmoded guns and artillery which steadily wore out.

This anniversary, the fourth, it is different.

There is an air of confidence on the south side of the truce-silenced front.

This confidence was brought about by an announcement by the U. N. command on June 21 telling the Reds that an end had come of their duplicity—that two could play the same game for the sake of military balance and peace.

The U. N. command informed the Reds that the portion of the armistice prohibiting entry of new weapons was being scrapped.

Since that date American F100 Super Sabre Jets and B57 jet bombers have been flown to South Korea in the first introduction since the truce of new—and atomic capable—weapons.

Then the Army announced one of the two American divisions still in Korea, the U. S. Seventh Infantry Division, was being reorganized into the Army's new "pentomic" division form. with its probable use of atomic ground weapons.

Reorganization of the U. S. pentomic division, as well, was believed to be only a matter of time.

★ ★ ★

A pentomic division normally has a battery of Honest John Rockets, capable of carrying atomic warheads, and a howitzer battery able to use either atomic or conventional shells.

The Day in Birmingham

Survey Cooling Systems to Obtain Water Costs

BIRMINGHAM—A "survey" of air conditioning systems in the city of Birmingham has been requested by the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority, to determine the formula for costs.

Engineer-Manager Donald C. Egbert explained that the cost of water to supply the needs of air conditioning equipment is substantially greater than water-produced for ordinary needs.

Egbert added that those conditioners which re-use the water are not included in the survey.

He said the report should include units installed prior to May 7, 1956, and those after that date.

In conclusion, Egbert said, "upon receipt of this information, and as soon as certain problems are solved incident to the enforcement of regulations concerning the installation of those units using continuous water supply, a statement will be forwarded to your city for payment as provided for in your contract with the authority."

With one riflery tournament ending yesterday and another scheduled to run July 29 through Aug. 2, the City Rifle Range at Cranbrook and Lincoln is getting a heavy workout each morning from 9 to noon.

Robert Girardin, recreation director, stressed that there is no entry fee for the tournament or just target shooting. Participants are asked to pay one cent for each round fired.

Further information on how to qualify for the trophy to be awarded to the tournament winner may be obtained at the recreation office.

Under the sponsorship of Foster Parents Plan, the family of Howard E. Foote Jr., 1128 Davis St., has taken on the responsibility of two foster children.

Lee In Kil, 9, is a Korean boy. The second child, Angeliki Spratigopoulou, is 11 years old and lives with her widowed mother in Greece.

Birmingham chapter OES will meet Monday at 8 p.m. with Virginia Heath, 1893 Cole St. The evening will be devoted to sewing items for the Nov. 16 bazaar at the Masonic Temple.

Birmingham YMCA Camp Totem Pole has been on the march this week The itinerary included trips to the Detroit stockyards, the riverfront and Fort Wayne Museum.

George Ewing has charge of the seven day-camp groups.

Golden Silence Cost Father Walking Horse

Ask John Butler, who rashly promised his 10-year-old daughter, Kitty, a horse—if she promised to keep her tongue quiet for 30 days.

The freckle-nosed youngster did just that but broke her silence when the time limit was up—at 10 o'clock last night.

Her father kept his side of the bargain, too. He bought a red and white Tennessee Walking horse with a white blaze on its nose. Kitty helped pick it out by nodding when asked if that was the one she wanted.

Butler said that he began to miss her voice a little in the final week of the month-long period of silence. He said:

"I missed it more than I realized I would. I won't mind when she talks now and if she talks too much, I'll just put cotton in my ears."

Urged People to Choose Republic

First Tunisian President Exhibits Quiet Courage

By International News Service

Habib Bourguiba, first president of the new Tunisian Republic, is a prudent and patient revolutionary who underscores quiet courage with enlightened nationalism and lack of vindictiveness.

Some of the qualities which have endeared him to his people and made him a beacon of hope for North Africans repelled by the Nasser brand of nationalism were exhibited Thursday when the Bey of Tunis was deposed.

Bourguiba, who had been premier since Tunisia gained independence from France 16 months ago, frankly told the constituent assembly:

"I could have myself declared Bey. But I urge the people to choose a republic."

Thus, he showed himself a true disciple of the liberal French Philosophers of the 18th century whose works he has studied closely.

OPPOSED RULE

The French kept Bourguiba, who will be 54 next week, in prison or exile for nearly two decades and his family has opposed the rule of the Beys since his grandfather's time.

But the tanned and white-haired patriot advocates close ties for Tunisia and France, and in his speech he said:

"No action dictated by a spirit of vengeance will be taken against the person of the Bey or his family."

Bourguiba has an oratorical flair that can excite a crowd but he chooses to win his objective with timing and persuasion that leaves a minimum of hard feeling.

The stocky, little leader who formed his own political party (the Neo-Destour) in 1934, holds a law degree, is the son of an army officer and a devoted Moslem.

He has one son, a grandson and a number of nieces and grandnieces and he loves to have them at his home at Carthage, just outside Tunis.

Man Just Can't Make A Living Nowadays

KANSAS CITY (AP) — An armed bandit invaded Sam Yagan's grocery store here yesterday, and demanded the contents of the cash register.

Yagan opened the register. It was empty. Then the robber demanded Yagan's billfold. Again Yagan complied, but the billfold also was empty.

Dulles Arrives Today in Canada for Talks

Officials here were not discounting the importance of the informal meeting of the two, but they saw little time for extended or conclusive discussions. No formal agenda has been arranged.

Dulles plans to return to Washington Monday.

DRIVE YOUR BIKE

Kids, here's food for thought! Through carelessness of bicyclists 3,535 were injured and 41 of you were killed during 1956. Apply the same rules to drive your bike as a man does to drive his automobile. When YOU disobey those rules you may be lucky — or you may land in a hospital, or worse, in a mortuary. Don't be a gambler! Be smart! Drive your bike as if your life depended on it — as it does.

Signal before you turn. Be sure you have a clear path. Don't shoot out of a side street or driveway. Your bike isn't a bus; do not carry a second person. Face traffic! See what is before you. Avoid a collision regardless of which vehicle has right-of-way (the automobile wins every time). Steer your bike as you expect an automobile driver to steer his car — STRAIGHT DOWN THE ROAD. Only suckers weave.

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: Why is Ruth of the Bible famous?

ANSWER: Long ago, a widow named Naomi lived in the land of Moab with her two sons and their wives. Unfortunately the sons died and the three widows were left alone.

Naomi decided to return to her own people in Bethlehem but urged her daughters-in-law, Ruth and Orpah, who were Moabites, to remain in Moab where they probably could marry again. Orpah did so but Ruth vowed she would stay with Naomi for as long as they both should live.

So the two of them took the long journey to Bethlehem where Ruth found farm work to support herself and her mother-in-law. The rich land owner saw her, fell in love with her, and married her, and she and Naomi lived in comfort thereafter.

Ruth is famous because she was so fond of her mother-in-law and was the heroine of one of the most beautiful stories in the Bible.

★ ★ ★

Republicans to Meet to Clear Deficit

DETROIT (AP) — Barry Beaman, Republican State Finance Chairman, announced that 60 leading Michigan Republicans have been invited to Detroit Monday to plan means of wiping out a $30,000 party deficit and raising funds for the balance of the year.

Beaman said Postmaster General Summerfield and all Michigan's Republican congressmen had been invited, but expressed doubt any of them could get away from Washington.

Beaman estimated about $125,000 would be needed by the party to operate the rest of the year.

He said plans for 1958 campaign finances also would be discussed.

'Impoliteness' Results in Fine, Hospital Trip

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An architect was hauled before a magistrate yesterday for being, as his attorney put it, "not polite" to a policeman.

The breach of etiquette landed both architect, Briton Martin, and policeman, Richard Urban, in the hospital for treatment of wounds.

Urban explained to Magistrate James T. Donnelly that he was making his early morning rounds when he found a door open in a building where Martin has a second-floor office.

Urban entered and, seeing a light and hearing sounds upstairs, called out:

"Who's there."

"Who cares," was the reply.

Urban went on up and confronted an unfriendly Martin, he said, who refused to identify himself. Then, said the patrolman, who was uniformed, Martin kicked him and he had to use "reasonable force" (a blackjack) to subdue the man.

Magistrate Donnelly fined the architect $5 plus $2.50 costs for disorderly conduct.

It Seems to Me . . .

The Pontiac Press is trying a new venture.

Each Saturday, for the present, The Press will carry the publisher's review of affairs that touch the life of the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Frequently, the subject will be local. Often it will cover the State of Michigan in which Pontiac has a special interest; or it may discuss national or international issues in which Pontiac has a stake.

★ ★ ★

We hope that you will usually agree with the opinion and ideas. But they will be presented fairly and squarely, even if someone's favorite and sacred cow is completely slaughtered in the process. If it's necessary to tread upon the toes of Very Important People, we'll walk rough shod across the most tender pinkies there are. If a 14-year-old newsboy deserves three cheers and a hearty pat on the back while top ranking civic dignitaries go unmentioned, that's the way it will be.

★ ★ ★

A purely destructive and critical policy does not necessarily have anything to recommend it.

Anyone can find fault.

That requires no particular intelligence.

Nor does complete obeisance before sweetness and light have anything particularly in its favor.

We do believe that injustice should be uncovered and arrogance faced promptly — and slapped down. Those that want to put a chip on their shoulder and breathe defiance may find us quite happy to knock it off. This applies to governmental heads, union leaders, ministers or just plain joes.

The publisher of The Pontiac Press is not a candidate for any office and has no need to "curry favor" with the voters or with those vague and mysterious "higher-ups" who are supposed to grease the skids to the promised land.

This column will be more informal than the usual editorials. It will be more personal. It will be an honest attempt to talk simply and directly to you in your own home. It will have a wider latitude, for it outlines the opinion of a single individual instead of an institution.

★ ★ ★

Furthermore, we don't propose to try and settle all the problems of the universe. We would like to discuss homey affairs which affect Pontiac area people. If a Miss Front Page from Waterford happens to catch our fancy, we may devote a day to her. If the heat gets you down or the cold cracks your radiator, we may expatiate upon the exasperations of Old Mother Nature.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Victor Vaughn, Dean of the Medical School of the University of Michigan, once lectured in a course called "Hygiene."

"Hygiene," said he the first day, "is anything I want to talk about."

Nikita Khrushchev Has Most Unenviable Job

Nikita Khrushchev has his hands on the current destinies of a dynasty that can flop in any one of half a dozen directions.

We don't envy him.

★ ★ ★

The Russian nation is the sorriest spectacle on this globe from many angles. With all its people and with all its natural resources and all its physical possibilities, Russia could be a tremendous force for good and a powerful and stabilizing influence on all mankind.

★ ★ ★

Instead, it's the home of discord and dissension. It's the scene of poverty and want. It's the birthplace of discontent and suspicion. Nothing that the new titular head has done or said impresses the rest of the world with his "fitness to rule." He occupies the top rung by virtue of timing and shrewd double dealing with associates.

Perhaps he has more on them than they have on him. Leadership in Russia is fashioned on tentacles as tenuous as this. The satellite nations are held only by power and military domination.

No one, anywhere, loves Russia.

The people are on the border of rebellion. The captive nations are all hotbeds of possible trouble.

★ ★ ★

And in the meanwhile, we find the future of an entire globe always under threat of war, because of the existence of this gigantic monster. The Russian nation is responsible for half the taxes you pay today. We see the spectacle of a poverty stricken, bungling, hungry nation of less than 200 million, badgering the entire world.

★ ★ ★

Comrade Khrushchev, you can have your job. We don't think you measure up to it any more than your predecessors. We believe you are below par and another sorry misfit.

But the job's yours.

Let God enter your life.

Germany Contributes to World Bank Fund

The amazing recovery of West Germany was shown once again in the loan of $100 million by its Bank Deutcher Laender of Frankfurt-am-main to the World Bank.

★ ★ ★

This is solid evidence of West Germany's growing prosperity since World War II when it was beaten, devastated and occupied. Virtually no reparations were imposed after the war and the West helped to rebuild Germany and provided defenses until that country could rebuild its own.

★ ★ ★

By doing so the West hoped to have a strong democratic ally in the struggle against Soviet expansion. With able leadership and hard work the Germans used Western support to good advantage.

German capital will now go into the World Bank, composed of 60 stockholder nations. This money will help increase international production, raise living standards and bring about a better balance of world trade.

★ ★ ★

Let us hope that Germany's wise leadership will continue and thus contribute to the stability and peace of Europe.

The Passing of a Public Servant

Days of All Faiths:

'Faith-Works' Debate Unresolved

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

The old argument between "faith and works" is nowhere more vividly pointed up than in the famous story of Jesus' visit to the home of Martha, Mary and Lazarus, which is told in St. Luke, chapter 10, verses 38 to 42. Martha, the elder sister (who is honored Monday in the calendar of saints) was busy about her housework, feeling the responsibility of looking after the comfort and convenience of so distinguished a guest. Mary, on the other hand, didn't lift a finger —she just sat and talked with the Lord. When Martha complained, Jesus sided with Mary, which should have settled the matter once and for all.

★ ★ ★

But it is as unresolved as ever. There are still people who say it is what you do that counts, that "faith without works is dead." And they can quote further Scripture: "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will . . ." (St. Matthew, chapter 7, verse 21). Others say nothing you do has any value unless it is the natural outcropping of your faith. And some go so far as to say men's actions count for nothing at all. Some take Martha's side; some take Mary's; some take a middle ground.

★ ★ ★

Whatever their disagreements, it is well known Jesus was tremendously fond of this family. He certainly did not reject Martha, for all her preoccupation with activities. St. John (chapter 11, verse 5) says, "Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus." Probably this one recorded visit was only one of many He made to their house. They lived in the village of Bethany, which was only about two miles from Jerusalem, and it was in this general neighborhood the Lord spent much of the last year of His ministry. There is even a conjecture that Lazarus and his two sisters were such close friends of Jesus they moved to Bethany for the special purpose of establishing a home He could use as a base while He was preaching in that part of the country.

MIDSUMMER THANKSGIVING

In England centuries ago Aug. 1 was Lammas Day—which is a shortening of loaf Mass Day. It was on this day the faithful gave thanks for the grain harvest just completed. That is, they gave thanks if the harvest had been up to their expectations. If it hadn't, they just skipped the whole matter. In good years, then, on this day each person came to Mass bringing as a thank offering a loaf of bread baked from the new wheat. Hence the name "loaf Mass."

Lammas is one of four traditional "seasonal" festivals. Thanksgiving, of course, is another. The other two, long neglected, but now —along with Lammas—enjoying a revival in both America and England, are Plough Sunday (in January) and Rogation Sunday (fifth Sunday after Easter).

HOLY MACCABEES

It sounds most unlikely anyone who died a century and a half before Christ would get into the Christian calendar as a martyr, but Thursday the Roman Catholic Church commemorates The Holy Maccabees, nine brave Jews who died rather than renounce their Jewish faith.

Only one of these martyrs is known by name. St. Eleazar, an old man of 90, was prominent, learned and respected, and the Greek king Antiochus Epiphanes, whose armies were occupying Israel, felt that if Eleazar would convert to the Greek polytheism his example would have great influence on others. But Eleazar held fast through bribery, threats and violence, and in the end he was put to death.

His martyrdom was quickly followed by that of a family of eight —a mother and seven sons, known traditionally as "Hannah and her seven sons," although the story, which is found in the second book of Maccabees, chapter 7, does not say what her name was.

The story of these courageous deaths is also part of the lore connected with the Jewish winter festival of Hanukkah.

Daily Banana Ends Laxative Use

DR. BRADY

Following your advice, I have been giving my three-year-old daughter a banana every day for chronic constipation. She has been a constant user of laxatives. But since she began eating bananas she has improved remarkably. She no longer has to use a laxative. (S. P.)

★ ★ ★

Ans. You say "she has been a constant user of laxatives." You probably mean that you have plied her with laxatives for about three years. Well ripened banana is an excellent food for all infants and children.

★ ★ ★

Six children in one family we'd like to visit had scarlet fever a month ago. What is your opinion concerning the advisability of my 6-year-old son going with us to spend a week with the family. (Mrs. C. J. L.)

★ ★ ★

Ans. Not advisable. Too soon after recovery. If any of the six children had any complication or sequel, such child might still carry infection.

★ ★ ★

Thanks to the remedy you suggest in your Yankee Stomach pamphlet, my husband no longer suffers from heartburn and waterbrash. (Mrs. R. W.)

★ ★ ★

Ans. For the pamphlet about heartburn, waterbrash, excessive acidity, gas, hunger pain, send stamped, self-addressed envelope. I call it "Yankee Stomach" because the cause of the trouble is so often hasty eating, gulping or washing down food without mastication — a typical Yankee habit.

★ ★ ★

We bought a bushel of wheat at the farmers' market six months ago and we have used most of it —as a breakfast cereal. It cooks so quickly in the morning and is delicious. Besides I use four cups of it in my bread recipe, ground fine. (Mrs. T. C.)

Ans. What courage you have, Ma'am. Most housewives are too timid to buy plain wheat from market, farmer, mill, feed store, seed store and too timid to use it in the everyday dietary without the sanction of some food baron. On written request (no clipping) I'll send pamphlet Wheat to Eat which tells how to use plain wheat, if you inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

Ans. It will be thick and curly again when he gets back into full health. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet The Hair and Scalp.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

BLOOD PRESSURE FACTS

When your physician takes your blood pressure, he fastens a rubber tourniquet around your upper arm.

It is encased in a satin cloth container to keep the rubber from ballooning up too big.

Then the doctor pumps air into the rubber tourniquet, while he listens via his stethoscope over an artery in the forearm.

As the air pressure increases, he notes the effect on the sound of your heart beat.

Ultimately, the air pressure becomes so great that it cuts off all the blood flow into the forearm, so the doctor no longer hears any throbbing of your pulse.

★ ★ ★

This is the "peak-pressure" point, and indicates the power of your heart at the very moment it contracts or beats. The air pressure is read in millimeters of mercury.

In Jonathan's case, this peak (systolic) pressure of the heart, was 132 millimeters of mercury.

RUBBER ARTERIES

But you readers probably realize that your blood is flowing steadily even when the heart is still.

So what do you suppose makes this blood keep flowing in between the heart beats? Obviously, there must be some type of pressure somewhere to move your five or six quarts of blood when the heart is idle.

And here is what does it, namely, your elastic artery walls: For when the heart squirts half a teacupful of blood at each beat into the big artery (aorta), that artery stretches.

Like rubber, therefore, the artery balloons out with this fresh squirt of blood from your heart.

Then, when the heart is no longer beating, those rubbery walls of the artery slowly come back to normal and meanwhile propel the blood in steady fashion throughout your body.

And the pressure required by the elastic artery walls to keep your blood moving, is indicated by that lower figure in your blood pressure report.

In Jonathan's case, therefore, his arteries must overcome a pressure of 84 millimeters in the capillaries of the body in order to make sure Jonathan's blood doesn't stop flowing in between heart beats.

MEDICAL FAX

The average busy physician hasn't time to explain many of these fascinating things about modern medicine, so from time to time I offer you this basic information.

When folks are worrying about their blood pressure, they usually refer to the top or systolic figure.

But we physicians are also concerned with the lower figure, since it helps show us the real condition of your capillaries.

Emotional excitement may zoom your top number (systolic) as much as 75 to 90 points, but emotion doesn't affect the diastolic pressure as greatly.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Reader Cites Many Cases of Civil Service Efficiency

To enlighten L. G., he will be surprised to learn that there are several hundred other police departments in the U. S. under civil service, functioning properly and efficiently, including the FBI, Michigan State Police, Flint and Saginaw police and many others. Our Pontiac Fire Department has operated smoothly and effectively under civil service the past 15 years.

Being under civil service doesn't mean police personnel isn't under direction of the chief. It merely requires the chief to follow the rules, too. L. G. must be misinformed about the civil service act and problems of the police department. Pontiac voters aren't gullible enough to be sold what L. G. refers to as "the silliest piece of legislation of all time." That doesn't say much for legislators who drew up the act.

He suggests reorganizing and having a normal police force. If he thinks the department was normal before civil service, his definition of the word "normal" is altogether different from Mr. Webster's.

'Cheer the Tigers, Don't Jeer Them'

I think the Tigers need encouragement instead of a panning like the Voice of the People letter a few days ago. They've been a hard luck crew and deserve a better fate. To many of their line drives have been aimed right at fielders. This can't keep up for a whole season.

Through it all, Maxwell especially deserves a round of applause. He's been hitting home runs and he has been driving in runs. The general letdown of the rest of the team has affected him the least. Let's cheer the Tigers instead of jeering them.

Year Since Suez Seizure Lowers Nasser Prestige

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Friday was the first anniversary of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's nationalization of the internationally owned Suez Canal Company—an act that led to the Anglo-French attack on Egypt.

Whither Nasser? Has he gained or lost in a year?

His regime claims distinct gains. But there also are obvious losses to Egypt and setbacks to Nasser, a target of power-seeking assassins.

Nasser won his battle for control of the canal after the abortive Anglo-French attack. The United States and Russia exerted the U.N. pressure which secured the withdrawal of American although the United States and praises the United States and praises the Soviet Union.

Israel captured enormous stocks of Soviet-made military equipment from Egypt. But Moscow, which professes its desire for peace and world disarmament, has poured in replacements.

The Soviet-made tanks, planes, rocket-launchers and other equipment were paraded for three hours early this week in a big Cairo Show.

TO IMPRESS MASSES

The parade of power was aimed at impressing the masses and also other Arab nations who have become cool toward Nasser—not so much because of the Israeli triumph in Sinai but because of Egyptian meddling in the affairs of others.

Rumblings of discontent with Nasser's pro-Soviet policy were heard even before last week's Cairo admission that Nasser had smashed a plot to assassinate him.

The plotters were said to have aimed at restoring Gen. Mohammed Naguib to power. Naguib was the "front man" in the military revolution five years ago when King Farouk was ousted.

He became president and premier, but was tossed aside later by Nasser. He has been under house arrest for three years.

★ ★ ★

Naguib wanted a genuine return to parliamentary government. Nasser has put into office a hand-picked Parliament in a "transitional" phase. Perhaps he feels a need to give his rule a broader basis, however unrepresentative. He has the right to dissolve the body anytime.

The Egyptian President says he has cut from 20 to 6 per cent the landholdings once owned by the rich. But what about the Aswan Dam project?

American and British offers of financial aid to help him build the upper Nile dam were withdrawn after he made his arms deal with the Soviets. In retaliation, he seized the canal company and promised to use its revenue to build the dam.

Retirement and Pensions

Questions, Answers on Social Security

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From C. E. M. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "My father died last year at 58. He had worked for a railroad for nearly 33 years. When can my mother start drawing a pension from the railroad? She has already been paid a lump sum for burial expenses from Railroad Retirement."

Your mother can't start drawing a widow's annuity under Railroad Retirement until she is 60. However, she can draw a "residual" lump sum before 60, if she gives up all rights to her annuity which she would otherwise start drawing at 60. This is a course which should be taken only as a last resort and after talking it over with an official of the nearest Railroad Retirement office.

From N. E. of Woonsocket, R. I.: "My father-in-law is 62. Because of a bad heart attack he hasn't been able to work for the past two years. Is he eligible for any Social Security payments? He has worked under Social Security since 1937."

It's possible that your father-in-law is eligible for Social Security disability payments now. He or a close relative should get in touch with the local Social Security office immediately and make arrangements to file for disability payments.

From R. P. of Washington, D.C.: "I have been working for the federal government for nearly 17 years and have been paying into the retirement fund for the entire period. My wife must have a serious operation which will cost me a considerable amount of money. Hospitalization covers some of the cost, but not all of it. Would it be possible to borrow some money from the retirement fund and pay it back in installments?"

No.

★ ★ ★

From H. B. W. of Parsons, Kan.: "I'm 75 years old and have been drawing Social Security old age payments for some time. Due to a fall, I've been totally disabled for the past nine months. I keep hearing about these Social Security disability payments. Is it possible for me to collect both old age and disability payments from Social Security? I need the money."

★ ★ ★

No. Disability payments are paid only to persons who have worked the required time under Social Security and who become disabled between 50 and 65. After 65 a person is only eligible for old age payments.

★ ★ ★

From F. L. of Alliance, Ohio: "I don't have a birth certificate to prove my age. However, I do have some union records and an old life insurance policy which show my age. Will my Social Security office accept this as proof of my age?"

In all probability, such proof will be accepted. But, this is something your Social Security office must decide after you present it with the records.

From Mrs. A. B. of Albany, N. Y.: "My husband died several months ago and I collected the Social Security lump sum death payment. Recently, I heard that I can also collect up to $150 in a lump sum payment from the Veterans Administration to pay toward the cost of my husband's burial. He was a World War I veteran. Is there such a thing as a veteran's lump sum payment?"

Yes, and you have the amount correct. You should apply immediately through the nearest Veterans Administration office.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

TV Hitting High in Network Sales

ABC Executive Denies Reports of Difficulty in Selling Choice Time

NEW YORK (AP) — A television executive says "network TV sales are at an all-time high."

Oliver Treyz, vice president in charge of the ABC television network, also said yesterday that, by fall, sales "will exceed—by wide margins—any level ever attained in this industry."

Treyz issued his statement in replying to published reports that major networks have met difficulty in selling choice evening time for the coming season.

Treyz said "publishers information bureau records reveal that for the first six months of 1957, the evening network gross of NBC is up 3 per cent, CBS is up 11 per cent and ABC is up 20 per cent."

The executive said the coming season's sales picture has been distorted by those who view the industry as a two - network economy without realizing that ABC for the first time is competing with NBC and CBS on "a virtually complete national basis."

★ ★ ★

"Certain observers have confused a competitive with a soft market," he said. The articles relating to the TV market appeared in the New York Times and Variety, the entertainment publication.

A CBS spokesman said CBS is enjoying "the best year in its history" in sales income and program popularity. NBC has not issued any statement on the reports.

Government Crisis Ends for Cambodian Premier

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Premier Sim Var's new cabinet received a 64-2 vote of approval last night from Cambodia's National Assembly thus ending a 35-day government crisis.

Sim Var promptly declared Cambodia would continue a policy of neutrality. The cabinet crisis was touched off in June when Premier Prince Norodom Sihanouk quit over charges of bribery and graft in his administration.

Monroe Educator Quits for New Job

MONROE (AP) — School Superintendent Fred E. Strong, a key figuure in the controversial firing of a school principal, is resigning his post here to take a similar position at Muskegon Heights.

The Monroe Board of Education accepted the resignation, effective Aug. 15. Strong will take over his new job Sept. 1.

Board Secretary Carl M. Savage said the resignation of Strong would have no effect on the status of the dismissal of School Principal Ruth Amen.

Strong had recommended her contract not be renewed this year. The Board supported Strong 6-1.

Savage said the Board has not changed in its decision to withhold Miss Amen's contract despite the recommendation of the National Education Assn. that the Monroe board review its decision.

Tired of Giving Tips and Afraid Not to? Visit Japan! It's Against Their Custom

By JAY AXELBANK

TOKYO (INS) — If you're the kind of person who groans when he tips the waitress or feels as low as a turtle when he doesn't—try Japan.

This ancient oriental country is perhaps the world's only major tourist mecca where the oft-expensive, frequently irritating custom if taboo.

In most European countries if a well-heeled foreigner forgets to fork over the small change to a cabbie or doorman, he will get a stare that might well turn him to stone.

But not so in Japan, where the tipping custom went on the skids decades ago.

A Japanese cabbie will politely hand you your change without the slightest hesitation and he doesn't expect it back. If you do tip him he will accept it—but grudgingly because it's so seldom done.

Wrote one columnist in a Japanese newspaper:

"Japan has one custom she can be proud of before the world—the fact the Japanese do not have to pay tips as in other countries.

"When we think of the sullen looks that greet us when we fail to pay sufficient tips in Europe, we pledge in our hearts we should try to keep up this custom in Japan."

At Japanese hotels and restaurants the bill includes 10 per cent as a service charge, obviating the need to tip. In Europe a service charge is frequently part of your check but you still are expected to tip the bellhop, waiter, doorman and porter.

Instead of trying to supplement their incomes through tipping, Japanese employed in service occupations campaign for higher wages and better working conditions, thus relieving the pressure toward tipping.

By handing a cabbie a tip, he may feel a slight indebtedness to you—something no self-respecting Japanese wants to feel to anyone without due cause.

So—add no tipping to Mt. Fuji, geisha houses and cherry blossoms as Japanese tourist attractions.

Aussie Firemen Doing Slow Burn on Traffic Rules

MELBOURNE (AP)—A slow-down move by Melbourne's firemen is continuing.

It began June 24 because the Melbourne Fire Brigade refused to pay a three pound ($6.30) fine for a fireman who went through a red light.

Board Secretary F. A. Johns said today the board would not make any promise to pay fines if fire company drivers broke traffic regulations.

"That's our last word," Johns said.

The secretary of the Fire Brigade Union, W. M. Webber said: "Okay, we won't break the law—but the slowing up of the city's fire fighting service is not our fault. The board must take full responsibility for any loss of life or damage to property caused by its stand."

For nearly five weeks fire engines have been stopping at red lights, keeping to speed limits and obeying every rule in the traffic regulation book.

Globe Trotting Designer on Fabric Safari

When Vera Maxwell goes on a safari, she doesn't carry an elephant gun. Instead she takes along her notebooks and color swatches, and the game she brings back is the fruit of the world's looms.

★ ★ ★

As a great white hunter, Vera is known in most corners of the earth — only she prefers to hunt fabrics instead of tigers. The prizes she brings back to her New York showroom wind up in the wardrobes of American women. Says she:

★ ★ ★

"I feel about fabrics and colors the way some women feel about diamonds. I love to go poking into out-of-the-way places and discover beautiful cloth being made by craftsmen who work in the old ways handed down to them through generations. Sometimes in a primitive part of the world you find colors and textures that no modern textile mill could duplicate. Hunting them out is my sport and my hobby, as well as my business."

MISTY TWEEDS

The Maxwell collection of fall fashions is full of misty Scotch and Irish tweeds, Swiss cottons, Italian and French silks as a result of the designer's last safari through the mills of Ireland and Scotland and her visits to Zurich, Paris and Rome.

★ ★ ★

"Lots of my tweeds I get from the Avoca Valley in Ireland, where the three Wynn sisters, aged 81, 82 and 83, turn out dreamy woolen fabrics from an old stone mill close to their beautiful Georgian home. They buy their wool nearby, spin and dye their own yarns and spread it on the picket fence to dry. You can't imagine the thrill of coming suddenly on that little stone mill with the riot of color in drying yarns all around it, and the three little old ladies, erect and dignified, in the midst of it all."

★ ★ ★

Vera also visited the crofters' cottages in Scotland, and worked with the weavers in planning designs and colors. Many of her fabrics are her own design, made up in Scottish mills.

DYES FOR TWEEDS

Dyes used for some of the tweeds are made from "crottle," a kind of orange turnip, from fish dye, which turns purple, from beet root and from seaweed.

And these fabrics from the crofters' cottages and the ancient stone mills are used in some of the season's most sophisticated costumes, ranging from daytime suits to evening coats, stepping out in society with the aid of Vera Maxwell.

Globe-trotting dressmaker Vera Maxwell looks over a mink-collared evening coat of violet Scottish tweed, part of her fall collection. She uses fabrics from many lands.

Bloomers Are Back in Miniature

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

NEW YORK (INS)—Bloomers are back, but grandma would never recognize them.

★ ★ ★

PRACTICAL IDEA

The "bloomer foundations" scheduled to make their appearance in stores this summer are actually the most practical idea in undergarments since manufacturers provided front zippers.

★ ★ ★

They eliminate the problem of trying to get panties over one of those torso bras that stretch right down to your hipbone, and they eliminate any underwear bulges over a waist-cincher.

★ ★ ★

Another hip-to-bust boned foundation, also zippered, has its own attached bloomers, made of lace to match the garment. You buy this by bra size, in black, white, pink or blue.

Change Glamorous to Evening Wear

★ ★ ★

There are flowered chintz frocks with cumberbunds and matching full, flared coats, bell skirted strapless styles with red roses on cotton satin and frothy organdy in mauve with lace inserts and minute tucking.

Doing 'Logical' Can Earn Money

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When we see people who are running a successful home business, we invariably assume that they first figured things out in a businesslike way, analyzed the market and so forth, and then embarked on the project in a very sensible manner.

★ ★ ★

Nine times out of ten it wasn't that way at all. They just played it by ear, so to speak; did spontaneously what seemed the logical thing to do and collected the jackpot.

DIFFICULT WINDOWS

That's how it was with Vera B., a girl I know who is in what she calls the "difficult window business."

It's an unusual line," Vera told me, "but it's wonderful.

"My husband and I were transferred all over the country during the war, and then afterwards by his company.

"Now we have finally settled down and have bought our own house. It's a lovely modern one in a nice development.

★ ★ ★

"The first thing I did was put up curtains—I am an expert in curtains," she added with a grin.

★ ★ ★

"Our house," she continued, "has beautiful but most unusual windows. But that didn't bother me. We've moved so many times and lived in so many kinds of houses that I've learned to choose the right curtain for any kind of window in the world.

STUDIED THE BOOKS

"I have studied all the decorating books and in the early days, even paid a decorator for advice. And I must say, I'm good!

"As soon as the neighbors saw my curtains, they wanted my help with theirs. But I just didn't have time, I told them. After all, I had my own work to do.

★ ★ ★

"The next thing I knew, they were offering to pay, so that I could get a cleaning woman! Now I have two sets of fees: One for advising them on how to treat a given window — a very low fee—and one for doing the whole job.

★ ★ ★

"I love doing it, and since my fees are not high, lots of women can afford my service. And I do make a nice extra income from it."

Vera's story is like most of the successful home businesses. She used a skill she herself had developed to fill a very real need. That's always the common denominator.

If you'd like to make money at home, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of good books on the field.

Exercise and Good Diet Are Essential Weapons

Middle Age Intensifies Bulge Battle

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It takes more effort and determination to battle the bulges at middle age than it did in more youthful years. There are several reasons for this.

★ ★ ★

In the first place, the complexity of running a home and caring for young children causes many women to drop the habit of sports. After a day of housekeeping and little children you may not feel entranced at the thought of a game of golf or tennis, a swim or an evening of dancing.

Also there is the problem of getting a babysitter. Many young couples cannot afford this often.

Our glandular systems slow up as we grow older. These two factors can lead to overweight and formerly lithe muscles may gradually become lax and padded with fatty deposits. A woman of middle age simply must give much more thought to her diet and exercise unless she is to lose the slim lines of youth.

Middle-aged women need exercise for the sake of health and figure. If you haven't time or money for sports, you would be wise to replace this loss by taking special exercises at home.

From middle age on fewer calories are required but special attention should be given to the quality of your food. The essential, protective foods are your enthusiastic allies.

More moderate servings and well-balanced menus will do much to prolong the youthful portion of your life. Simple foods, prepared with a minimum loss of vitamin and mineral content, and appropriate exercise will give both you and your figure a lift. You cannot "get away" with overindulgence as you could years ago.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Watchwords of Science for Youth After 40" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 61 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Knit Jacket Sweater Flatters Big Sizes

You needn't be a teenager or have a model-size figure to rate as a Sweater Girl. Jacket - type tuxedo blazers in bubbly-knit Orlon are flattering to mature figures and come in sizes from 38 to 46.

Despite size, even the light colors are practical to keep clean. Just squeeze gently through soap or detergent suds, rinse, and hang to dry after removing excess moisture by wrapping in a turkish towel. Orlon knitwear keeps its shape without pampering.

Use Oyster Spread

Smoked - oyster fans will be thrilled to hear about this new hors d'oeuvre spread for Melba toast rounds or any other crisp thin wafer. Chop fine 4-6 smoked oysters and blend with one 3-ounce package cream cheese. Season with lemon juice and a dash of tabasco for taste. Don't add salt, or you'll be sorry.

Clean 'Finished' Wood

Furniture is never "finished" as far as care is concerned. Wood needs to be cleaned and oiled or waxed now and then.

For a general cleaning, home furnishing specialists suggest wiping it with a soft cloth wrung out in one of three solutions. One of these is a solution of linseed oil, soap and water. Another is a solution of lemon oil and water. And the third, is a mixture of one quart of hot water, three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil and one tablespoon of turpentine.

After wiping the furniture with the damp cloth, polish the article with a dry cloth. Then it may be given a coat of wax, if desired.

White spots, which may have been caused by water or heat on a finished surface, can be removed if the spot has not penetrated the finish too deeply. Dampen a cloth with one of the following: oil of camphor, oil of peppermint, a few drops of ammonia or a paste made of boiled linseed oil and rottenstone or pumice stone. Rub the spot carefully with the grain. If necessary, use a fine steel wool moistened with one of the oils. If the spot still shows, you will probably have to remove the finish.

White spots on a lacquer finish are hard to remove. A cloth slightly dampened with nail polish remover or lacquer thinner and stroked fast and lightly over the spot will sometimes remove it. Allow the lacquer to remain undisturbed until it hardens.

★ ★ ★

The specialists say that scratches on dark woods may be colored by rubbing them with one of the following: commercial scratch remover, oil stain or rottenstone and linseed oil.

Black Eye Cure Not Beefsteak but Compresses

The "juice" from a prime porterhouse steak may be a culinary delight but, contrary to popular belief, beefsteak doesn't do a thing to reduce the swelling from a black eye. The best cure for that swollen eye: Try cold compresses at once; after 24 hours, hot compresses. Early evasibe battle action may eliminate the need for curative measures.

Portable Closet Stores Winter Woolens Safely

A portable closet made of washable quilted vinyl plastic serves as a splendid storage place for winter woolens.

It can be wheeled to the attic on easy-rolling casters, and kept dustproof with tight closing zippers. For further safety, it can be washed inside and outside with a sudsy sponge, then rinsed and wiped dry.

Frequency of Shampoos Determined by Need

It's up to the individual woman to decide whether it takes a daily or a weekly shampoo to keep her hair looking its best.

Hair looks best only when it's clean and healthy. If it looks dull and lifeless, try the simple experiment of shampooing more frequently.

Are Public Introduction Incorrect?

Woman Objects to Daughter-in-Law's Theater Behavior

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Not long ago I went to the theater with my daughter-in-law. During intermission she chatted with several friends of hers who sat nearby, but did not introduce me to them.

"I felt very uncomfortable just sitting there with nothing else to do but listen to their talk. I thought she should have introduced me. When I mentioned it to her afterward she seemed surprised and quoted you as saying not to introduce in public places."

Answer: It is true that introductions should not be made in public needlessly. But in a situation where the stranger is forced to become part of a conversation for more than a moment, she should certainly be introduced.

This would have been especially true in your case if your daughter-in-law's friends sat directly in front or behind you so that you were as near them as she. If they were over on her side and out of reach of you, then the omission would be understandable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When arriving at a hotel, is it necessary to tip the doorman who opens the door of the taxi, especially if he just takes out the luggage and puts it on the sidewalk where a bellboy picks it up and carries it into the hotel?"

Answer: Doorman, no; but the bellboy who picks up your bags an carries them to your room, yes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a member of a large women's club in this city and I would like to know how soon after the death of my mother it would be proper for me to attend meetings again. I want to show the proper respect for her memory.

"I am also one of a group of four women who play cards together once a month. How soon would it be proper for me to resume playing with them?"

Answer: This depends upon the custom in your community, but I would say that after one month you could go to your club meetings and also play cards at the next game of your foursome, who cannot play without you.

Dress Stresses Bias Cut So Important This Season

"Bias" is a beautiful word in the fashion world, especially this season when it is enjoying a large-scale revival and is being promoted by all the important designers.

★ ★ ★

This Mollie Parnis model is cut on a TRUE bias with only six basic pieces in the exclusively sized pattern (nine pieces if you count facings).

With only two darts in the bodice front and a back draped to fit to perfection, it is extremely easy to make, especially with the guide of the precise perforations that assure accurate matching.

For city dining right this minute and as the perfect transition dress to carry you into fall, choose silk or rayon crepe, preferably black, but if your life takes other directions you'll find the pattern wonderfully adaptable to linen, shantung, and even chiffon-weight tweeds or wool.

| Sizes | Bust | Waist | Hips Inches | Length From Nape of Neck to Waist |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 10 | 34 | 24 | 35 | 16½ |
| 12 | 35 | 25 | 36 | 16¾ |
| 14 | 36½ | 26½ | 37½ | 17 |
| 16 | 38 | 28 | 39 | 17¼ |
| 18 | 40 | 30 | 41 | 17½ |
| 20 | 42 | 32 | 43 | 17¾ |

Size 12 requires 3¾ yards of 39-inch material for dress. To order Pattern 1318, state size, send $1 to Spadea.

For new 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents. Sales tax extra; for airmail service in U. S., add 25 cents per pattern. 50c per booklet. If paid by check, bank requires 4c in handling.

Modern-Day Youngsters Still Face Awkward Age

As Long as There Are Adolescents, This Problem Will Be With Us

By RUTH MILLETT

There is such a thing as an awkward age today.

★ ★ ★

Someone has pointed out that now that teenagers have their own styles, recreation centers, music etc., there is no longer an awkward age.

★ ★ ★

Well, how about the boy who is too young to drive a car but too old to be happy having his mother chauffeur him on a date?

How about the girl who has worn flats so many years she teeters around when she puts on high heels for a dance?

How about the boys and girls who feel they are too old to have a babysitter in the evening, but whose parents hesitate to leave them alone in the house at night?

★ ★ ★

How about the boy who has grown so many inches in a year he can't seem to sit down without his feet taking up half the room?

CAN'T FIND JOB

How about the boy whose spending money needs have outgrown his allowance, but is told wherever he asks for a job, "We don't hire anyone under 16."

★ ★ ★

How about the boy who has to add, after he has asked a girl for a Saturday night date, "That is, if Dad will let me have the car"?

How about all the kids who are too old to get in a movie on a child's ticket but whose allowances will hardly stretch to cover a weekly movie at adult prices?

How about all the in-between agers who are told by their parents that they are still just kids when they want an adult privilege, but reminded that they are almost grown when they are being urged to be more responsible?

As long as there are adolescents there is going to be an awkward age.

The long, narrow dress and its uneven hemline drawing attention to the ankles, while the bodice is significantly often quite covered, is the typical "siren" dress and takes a daring personality to carry off with poise.

A Layaway Is a Contract

When you pay a deposit on merchandise to be put aside for you, the seller usually takes the article from his stock and is obligated to deliver it according to the terms of the agreement; he may lose several opportunities to sell it.

If the purchaser later decides he does not want the article, the seller is not obligated to make a refund or exchange. Both parties are bound equally by the terms of the agreement.

This explanation is made on account of the numerous inquiries received on the subject.

Presbyterians Assist Pastor

Dr. William H. Marbach to Conduct Afternoon Service at Hospital

The First Presbyterian Church has assumed responsibility for the support of the Rev. Robert F. Hermanson, now in appointment by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. He will be an evangelistic worker in Central Brazil.

★ ★ ★

Pastor of Grace Memorial Presbyterian Church of Royal Oak since 1953, the Rev. Mr. Hermanson studied piano at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, and served 33 months in the U. S. Army.

He attended Wheaton College where he was a music major, was graduated from the University of Illinois and Biblical Seminary of New York. With his wife and three sons he is now in Brazil.

"Primary Christian Duties" will be the subject of the sermons by Dr. William H. Marbach at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday in First Presbyterian.

Florence and June Schlesser will sing "Nearer My God to Thee" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

A worship service will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Pontiac State Hospital Chapel by Dr. Marbach. Several members of the choir and Lyndon Salathiel, organist, will assist in the service.

The final softball games will be with Stone Baptist on Aug. 1 and First Social Brethren on Aug. 6.

Worship Services to Be Led by Elder

Elder Charles M. Wright of the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, 5171 Commerce Rd. will lead the worship services at both the 9 and 11 o'clock hours Sunday.

He will read a sermon entitled "The Discipline of Obedience" prepared by the pastor.

The soloist for the day will be Mrs. Patricia Reich, mezzo-soprano. She will present "When Jesus Walked on Galilee" by Edwards.

The pastor, Rev. Edward D. Auchard with Mrs. Auchard and daughter, Joanne, will be on vacation.

Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

Easiest When Working in Harmony With God

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I learned something recently from a housepainter and a window washer. The painter's face was flecked with paint, his shoes spattered. And he had worked hard all that day.

DR. PEALE

"You must be tired. Up and down all over a house looks like a hard life," I suggested.

★ ★ ★

He thought for a moment, then replied: "Oh, I don't know. I get a big kick out of the job. I like working outside. I live with the clouds, the sun and the trees and the winds. I must say that I love it. And I'm proud to spend my life making things look better."

He was so enthusiastic that, instead of feeling sorry for his supposedly hard lot, I was almost convinced that I should give up writing and go into housepainting!

There is scarcely anything as thrilling as finding a person who loves his job and loves life. A lot of people are so filled with gloom and negatives, with groans and complaints that they cast shadows over all they meet. Now surely that isn't the way we are supposed to live. Almighty God made us to enter into the fullness of life and live enthusiastically.

RECEIVE VISITOR

Not long ago, I was sitting in my room on the twenty-second floor of a Chicago hotel overlooking Michigan Avenue, when there was a knock at my door. I opened it and there stood a friendly man, whistling, a pail over one arm and holding a brush in his other hand. "Good morning," he said. "May I wash your windows now? I'll be through in a jiffy."

I was busy with some writing and it wasn't the best time for me to be interrupted, but I answered, "Certainly, come in."

He crossed the room, still whistling, threw up the window sash, fastened the rings of his safety belt to the outside hooks and stepped out on that twenty-second story ledge as calmly as though it were nothing at all. Two or three swipes and the window was washed. He repeated his performance on the other window.

★ ★ ★

"How in the world do you do that?" I asked, fascinated.

"Do what?"

"Step out on a window ledge twenty-two stories above Michigan Avenue with such lack of concern and with no apparent fear. It's an amazing kind of job for anyone to do."

"What's wrong with it," he wanted to know. "It's a good solid window ledge." Then, seeing the amazed expression on my face, he explained: "Really, there's nothing to it. I wash half the windows in this hotel, and I ought to know. I enjoy my job. I love to see a window sparkling clean."

SIMPLE FORMULA

"I can see that you do," I admitted, "and I must hand it to you for doing a dangerous job so casually."

"You've got to be relaxed," he explained. "I have a simple formula. Relax, knock on wood, and say a prayer."

I couldn't go along with his "knock on wood" theory, because that is superstition and has no relation to prayer. But I was impressed that this window washer, like the housepainter, was a happy and successful man. He prayed, he relaxed, and he loved his job.

This helped him to live in harmony with the creative flow of God's power. Both men exemplify that great Biblical text, which is important to truly successful living: "In Him we live, and move, and have our being." I don't know what the religious ideas of either man are, and I didn't ask. But I did know that each was applying God's power to the enjoyment of his job in life. And so can you.

Bethany Baptist Church has voted to join in the lay development program of the American Baptist Convention.

The purpose of the program is to stimulate and develop the interest and participation of all lay people within the church.

The position of the Baptist denomination has been that it is basicly a lay movement. The program seeks to re-emphasize the historic rootage.

Others include James Mercer, Mrs. Lewis Cornell, Mrs. B. L. Gillette, Mrs. Robert Williams, Mrs. Clifford Starkweather, Mrs. Thomas Wood, Marion Hamilton, Allan Cunningham, Herbert Whiteford, Andrew Pepper, Mrs. Robert Sutton and Dr. Joseph I. Chapman.

The first project of the lay development program was the all church retreat in June.

TO HOLD WORKSHOPS

The second will be a series of workshops to be held Sunday evenings beginning Sept. 22. They will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. followed by Vespers.

Dr. Chapman's message tomorrow will be "A Candle Is Burning." Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks will sing a solo with Elda Sutter providing special organ music.

Young people of Bethany and their friends will meet at the church at 4 p.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

They will then go to Bloomer Park for a hamburger fry. Julia Dovre will give devotions and Dr. Chapman will lead the discussion. Roger Anderson will be chairman of the day.

7th Day Adventists to Hold Conference

About 4,000 persons are expected daily at the largest convention of Seventh-Day Adventists in the eastern section of the United States from August 8 to 17.

This conference, to be held on a 54 acre camp meeting site near Grand Ledge, is to re-emphasize spiritual values and to renew consecration of members to their church vows.

The meeting comprises 163 Michigan churches with 110 ministers and will feature speakers from Washington, D. C., New York City, and Los Angeles.

Appoint Pastors to Serve Abroad

Six to Join Ministers of English Churches in Foreign Lands

Americans working in the huge oil companies of Venezuela and in the mammoth Firestone rubber plant in Liberia are typical of the 880,000 civilians who, with their families, go to church on Sunday just as they would at home.

This little known ministry to Americans living and working abroad was highlighted this week by the appointment of six ministers to English-speaking churches overseas.

Dr. Robbins W. Barstow declared that 76 union churches in some 40 countries are now included in the National Council of Churches' Department of American Communities Overseas, which he directs.

In addition, he said, there is a large number of denominationally supported English speaking churches in many parts of the world. The new appointees will serve in Liberia, Venezuela, Chile, Honduras, the Canal Zone and Japan.

★ ★ ★

"It is encouraging that three new congregations have been gathered near the rubber company in Harbel, Liberia," Dr. Barstow reported, "although there is no formal church there yet."

He added that 40 regularly organized union churches around the world now support fulltime ministers.

For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

Church Aiding Puerto Ricans

Airport Consultant Gives Advice to Travelers Flying to U.S.

Bewildered, anxious families, with small children clinging to their mothers' skirts, have a good friend in Osvaldo Carlo. From behind his modern glass booth at Puerto Rico's International Airport, he answers questions, gives advice, explains U. S. currency and demonstrates New York subway tokens.

Most important, he hands them a gay folder, "Friends in Other Cities," which tells northbound travelers what churches in New York, Chicago, Miami and other cities stand ready to welcome them. Every detail is there—ministers' names and phone numbers, and maps showing them how to get around.

★ ★ ★

"Many people think I know everything," Carlo confesses modestly, "but I try to set their minds at ease somehow." Some are worried because relatives in New York are ill. Others, whose flights have been delayed, must have something to eat. And migrant workers, especially, want to know about the places they are going to work.

With 14 flights out of Puerto Rico every day except Saturday and Sunday when there are 16, Carlo's job could be a 24-hour chore.

Although he seldom puts in less than 10 hours at the airport, he says: "The work gets more interesting each day. Several travelers have wanted to pay and many have sent me greetings after their arrival."

★ ★ ★

Employed by the Evangelical Rico, Mr. Carlo works in cooperation with the Protestant Council of New York and the National Council of Churches' Division of Home Missions in an airport ministry helping newcomers to northern cities relate to the church of their choice.

On receipt of the new address of a Puerto Rican family, he forwards into the council of churches in that city for referral to a minister in the neighborhood.

For several weeks, Carlo has been visiting Puerto Rican families in their homes in New York to gain an understanding of their special problems so that the island's churches can better prepare their members for assimilation in U. S. urban communities.

Churchmen Back Foreign Aid Before Group

In unanimous testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, church leaders told members that "religious and moral considerations compel our nation to constructive foreign aid."

★ ★ ★

In three days of public hearings—first ever held by a Congressional committee exclusively to hear testimony from religious leaders on a question of national policy—Dr. Kenneth L. Maxwell reported that 20 Protestant, Catholic, Jewish and Orthodox leaders went on record as favoring continuing and expanded aid to underdeveloped countries.

Dr. Maxwell, executive director of the National Council of Churches Department of International Affairs, summed up the sessions by saying: "All strongly emphasized that self-interest is not enough and all agreed that, in keeping with the nature of America, we must furnish economic and technical assistance as part of our moral leadership in today's world."

Among laymen who testified were Harper Sibley, Rochester, N. Y., chairman of Church World Service; Charles H. Boyles, Jackson, Miss., chairman of the United Christian Youth Movement of the National Council; and Mrs. Theodore O. Wedel, Washington, D. C., chairman of United Church Women, a unit of the National Council of Churches.

Chaplains Bring 5,597

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military chaplains have brought 5,597 new members into the Methodist Church in the last two years, a report of the church's commission on chaplains shows.

The 600 Methodist chaplains, assigned to military bases around the world, performed 8,970 baptisms in the period, including children of servicemen. In the Methodist Church, baptized children are not counted as members until they join of their own accord.

Religious Fever Surges From Billy to New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A religious current that didn't exist before is moving through New York City as a result of Billy Graham's crusade. And it's not just in the churches.

Its size, influence and potentialities still are matters of opinion in this metropolis of millions. But evidence abounds that it has come into being.

You catch its more human side in the observations of New Yorkers whose ears are close to the throb and beat of the city's life—its pastors, its cab drivers, night club owners and entrepreneurs.

★ ★ ★

As gathered from some of them, there's a new element afoot, often in places where you'd least expect it, a new religious undertone in the cosmopolitan conversation.

ITEM OF TABLE TALK

"There's no question about it," said Peter Kriendler, manager of Twenty-One Club, an exclusive midtown rendezvous for celebrities and socialites. "He (Graham) has made religion a major item of table talk.

"He's touched many of the people that come here. They have dinner and then go over and listen to him with bated breath. A lot of them now have got their minds on something worthwhile."

Broadway columnist Frank Farrell said the evangelist has caused "a reaction backstage that is amazing. Quite a number of chorus girls and show people have been going over there to hear him. It's remarkable to me."

"Everybody around here has been astounded that attendance has held up," said John Goldner, Garden booking manager. "It's the first year that the Garden has stayed open so many months in succession, into the summer."

PASTOR AMAZED

Pastors from many churches throughout the city and its suburbs have reported an upsurge of attendance, members and interest.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Louis Hitchins, First Presbyterian Church, Flushing, Queens: "The crusade has accomplished all and more than my fondest hopes."

The Rev. Dan Potter, executive director of the city-wide Protestant Council,—"the response is many thousands more than I dreamed possible.

"After talking with hundreds of them, I am convinced that their lives are changed, and for many of them, their lives have never been so genuinely or enthusiastically dedicated to Christ and His church."

And they that know Thy name will put their trust in Thee: For Thou, Lord, has not forsaken them that trust Thee.

New Church Is Multi-Racial

Methodist Edifice in Chicago to Serve Nisei, Other Groups

A new church home for young Japanese Methodists, which will serve Protestants of all races and ethnic backgrounds, was consecrated in downtown Chicago recently by Bishop Charles W. Brashares.

The new building will serve the Christian Fellowship Church, composed predominantly of Nisei members (American-born citizens of Japanese ancestry).

The 108-member congregation was originally one of several Protestant groups formed to serve Nisei who were relocated in Chicago during World War II. It was known at first as the Armitage Avenue Young People's Church, since its organization was sponsored by the Armitage Avenue Methodist Church.

Though many members were Methodist, the church was interfaith in character and included several Buddhists.

In 1950 the church was organized as a regular Methodist church, and in 1953 the Rev. Victor Fujui was appointed pastor.

Louisiana Pastor to Speak Sunday at New Bethel

The Rev. Benjamin Love of Louisiana will bring the message at the 11 a.m. Sunday morning service in New Bethel Baptist Church.

A graduate of Southern University, Baton Rouge, La., he received his theological training at Leland Baptist Seminary, Baker, La.

For two years, the Rev. Mr. Love was assistant dean of religious education of the New Jersey Baptist Sunday School Congress.

The combined choirs of the church will furnish the music with Mrs. Sarah Hinton Lawtence at the organ. The public has been invited.

Presbytery Plans National Promotion

OMAHA (AP)The Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., taking its cue form the armed forces and big business, plans to spend about 1½ million dollars next year in national promotion.

The biggest share of this—three quarters of a million dollars—will be used to promote giving the church's benevolent causes: missionaries, church-supported colleges, ministers' pensions, new churches and the like.

The church department of stewardship will hold "sales meetings," publish promotional material that can compete with the best from business and produce films.

The department employs specialists in advertising media and printed materials as well as in the fields of radio and TV and uses services of national consultant and production firms.

Decide to Merge Church

HOUGHTON (AP) — Lutherans of Finnish origin in Michigan's Upper Peninsula have decided to join the merger movement of Lutheran churches.

The Suomi synod voted by a two-thirds majority yesterday to enter merger negotiations with the joint commission on Lutheran union. The commission is made up of the Augustana Lutheran, The United Lutheran and The American Evangelical Lutheran Churches.

The decision came after a two-hour discussion at the synod's 68th annual convention in Houghton.

Primitive People Part of Picture

The First Baptist Church, 3714 Sashabaw Rd., Drayton Plains, will celebrate Missionary Sunday with the showing of a color film, "Port of Two Brothers," at 7:15 p.m.

The public has been invited.

Musical Program Scheduled Sunday

The Rev. Ford B. Reed announces a musical program will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday in New Hope Baptist Church, 392 Bloomfield Ave.

Coming from Muskegon to sing will be a group known as "The Spiritual Voices." Another group, "The Melody Six" will be here from Detroit.

"The Liberty Baptist Male Chords," "The Reed Singers" and "The Spiritual Harmonizers," all Pontiac organizations, will also present vocal numbers. The public has been invited.

MSU Studies Rural Youths in Industry

EAST LANSING (AP)—A study at Michigan State University will attempt to find out why farm youths lag behind their city cousins when it comes to advancement and success in industry.

A 10-year study of rural youths in Lenawee County is being directed by Dr. Archie O. Haller, MSU associate professor of sociology and anthropology.

Results of the study, sponsored by the Agricultural Experiment Station, will be used in counselling those who must seek employment off the farm.

"Lenawee County was chosen for the study because of its high level of agriculture and its nearness to the Metropolitan labor markets of Detroit and Toledo," Haller said.

The research already is underway with the examination of 442 youths who were 17 years old as of July 1.

The tests included examinations to determine their intelligence quotas, facts about their personalities, occupational plans, views of the occupational achievements of their parents and their parents and their occupational goals.

Station Wagon Is Bought for Civil Defense

A check for $1,760 has been received by the Oakland County Civil Defense Dept. from the Federal Civil Defense Administration as its share in the purchase of the county's 1956 Pontiac station wagon being used as a radio communication center for CD.

The car, purchased last September, was paid for under a federal matching fund program, under which the government paid half and the county paid the other 50 per cent.

Rules Given to Keep Health in Summer Heat

LANSING (AP) — Midsummer advice on how to stay healthy in hot weather comes from the State Health Department.

A good general rule, it says, is "Go slow and don't overdo, especially in the sun."

"Merely adjusting to the summer heat makes the body work hard," the department says. "Heavy physical exertion on top of this may overtax the heart or some other vital organ."

Other recommended rules:

1. Get plenty of sleep.
2. Avoid overexposure to the sun.
3. Eat a well-balanced diet high in proteins, vitamins, minerals and other essential food elements.
4. Drink lots of liquids but avoid extremely cold drinks that upset the intestinal tract.
5. Eat extra salt to replace that lost by perspiration.
6. Keep the skin clean and in good condition so it can function and maximum efficiency as the body's cooling organ.

Progress

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The mechanical revolution reached a new high in Grand Rapids when city purchasing agent James E. Baker said after the last 24 "old style" keys to the city are given out Grand Rapids will have a new key with a bottle opener on one end for the men and a knife opener for the ladies.

Boilermakers Get Raise

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Johnston Bros., Inc., of nearby Ferrysburg has signed a new two-year contract with AFL-CIO Boilermakers Local 169 calling for an immediate general wage increase of 10 cents hourly. The 50 production employes covered by the pact will get an additional 5 cents an hour next year. The average hourly wage was not available.

Glenn Ford Cites Error in Scandal Magazine Item

By JAMES BACON

"But," adds Glenn, "the magazine made one serious error of omission. The incident described took place in 1935 when I was a student at Santa Monica High School and practically every student in the school—or any other high school or college—has done the same thing."

The article, Glenn claims, clearly left the impression that the incident took place after he became a movie star and the husband of dancer Eleanor Powell.

"I wasn't even known as Glenn Ford then and the movies in those days were something I only paid to see," he laughs.

Glenn, a scoutmaster, upstanding citizen of Beverly Hills and proud father, is one of the few stars who will talk about the scandal stories. Most feel that the best offense against the magazines is no defense. Glenn disagrees.

"I think the public should learn how irresponsible and inaccurate these stories are."

He cites another scandal story about a reported feud with Marlon Brando in Japan while the two were making "Teahouse of the August Moon."

Glenn said the story recounted how Marlon and Glenn were riding separate jeeps in a Tokyo parade. Glenn's jeep is supposed to have pulled away from Marlon's and the latter became incensed and threatened to pull Glenn off his jeep.

"Every word of it is ridiculous," says Glenn. "In fact, I have never been in a parade with Marlon in Tokyo, or any place else."

"My last movie magazine story was on the angle of what I liked and what I disliked about my wife and some of my leading ladies. I told the interviewer things I admired about Eleanor and the rest and also gave out some petty annoyances, strictly with tongue-in-cheek."

Lions Figure Best in Deal for Tobin Rote

BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Popular reaction over yesterday's trade which brought Tobin Rote from Green Bay to Detroit has been accepted around the Cranbrook training site as a deal which was in favor of the Lions.

The trade was set up as a two part deal. Rote came to the Lions for Oliver Spencer, Jim Salsbury and Don McIlhenny. Val Joe Walker was an exchange for tackle Norm Masters.

Coach Buddy Parker was satisfied with the transaction. "As far as I know, this is the first time an established quarterback has ever been traded," he said, "we're lucky to get him."

Green Bay was in need of experienced offensive linemen. However it could hardly be considered that Spencer and Salsbury would adequately be enough to get Rote.

Spencer will be a first line player for the Packers. Salsbury will most likely hold down second line duties as he did for the Lions. Big loss was McIlhenny, but the Lions had to part with a back in the trade and the SMU product was the only logical name to swing the deal.

Detroit would hardly have parted with veteran Gene Gedman or Hopalong Cassady. McIlhenny started off well last season but injuries hampered him in the latter part of the campaign, and there may have been some fear that he would not regain his early 1956 form.

In Rote, the Lions obtained one of the most versatile signal callers in the NFL. The former Rice All-America, who is 29-years-old, was the second draft choice of the Packers in 1950.

In 1954, he set a league record in passes attempted with 382 and he completed the most by connecting on 180. To show his ability as runner as well as a passer, Rote last season scored 11 touchdowns, second only to Rick Casares who had 12, and in 84 attempts he picked up 384 yards rushing.

He also passed for 18 touchdowns as he led all quarterbacks with 308 passes thrown, 146 completed and the most total yardage with 2,203.

In rushing yardage, Rote's 4.7 average per try, was slightly better than that of Cassady or McIlhenny who both finished with 4.3 yards average per crack.

Speculation is that this will be the last season for Bobby Layne, but even so, the forthcoming campaign should give the Lions one of the strongest quarterback combinations in the league.

It is expected that Layne and Rote would split the signal calling chores equally.

With halfbacks Cassady and Gedman and the addition of fullback John Henry Johnson, the Detroit backfield now figures to be its strongest since the champion era of Walker, Hoernschemeyer, Layne and Harder.

Johnson reported to camp with the rookies at the same weight he carried while at San Francisco. He weighed in yesterday at 207 pounds. With the 49ER's, Johnson had a total of 301 yards in 80 carries.

Johnson's biggest competitor for the fullback slot may be Tom Tracy, the former Birmingham High and Tennessee star, who now lives in Pontiac.

Leon Hart who handled the fullback's chores last year along with Bill Bowman now at Frisco, has not yet signed his contract, and as it appears, Detroit officials are not expected to offer terms of more than one year.

Last year and now, Hart has been seeking to get a contract with an increase and on longer term. He is presently the second highest paid player on the team.

There are still 14 players who have not been signed and they must do so by 8 p .m. Monday or be considered holdouts.

There is still a possibility that the Lions may be after other trades. With long throwing Rote, Detroit may be seeking another end.

Presently, Dorne Dibble, Dave Middleton and Jim Doran are the offensive terminals returning. With the Lions' pattern of play, all three are used simultaneously. Doran has been used in the slot-back position.

Newcomer whom the Lions are depending on is Steve Junker, big end from Xavier University who is now with the college All-Stars. He will not report to Cranbrook until August 10th.

Rumors are that Doran, defensive end Sherwin Gandee and defensive back Carl Karilivacz may be used in other deals.

Detroit got defensive back Val Joe Walker from Green Bay but the ex-SMU gridder said he would let Parker know Sunday whether or not he would quit and stay in the insurance business or report to the Lions.

Parker also made it known that Gordon Malloy would be used on defense.

All the veterans are due to report to Cranbrook on Monday. Tuesday morning they will go through a photo session with the press, radio and TV men, and the same afternoon drills will get under way. Rote was slated to be in camp today.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Packers Rue Facing Rote

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers may rue the day they bid Tobin Rote goodbye, and they know it.

Packer Coach Lisle (Liz) Blackbourn said yesterday: "We just hope Tobin Rote doesn't come back with Detroit and kill us."

Rote, who led the National Football League with 18 touchdown passes last season, was the foundation of a trade between the Packers and the Lions this week.

The Packers, heavy with quarterbacks, said they were forced into the trade in order to get some offensive line strength they feel they need badly. Still they have quarterbacks Bart Starr, a rookie last year, the veteran Babe Parilli, and bonus choice Paul Hornung of Notre Dame.

"We hated to give up Rote," Blackbourn said. "He is a great football player. But we cannot afford the luxury of four quarterbacks, not with the front line the way it was. We had to risk it."

From The PRESS BOX

San Antonio baseball fans, currently supporting a team in third place of the Texas League, recently honored Pontiac's Chuck Oertel with an "Oertel night." The former St. Fred sports star was showered with a variety of gifts including shotgun, portable TV and $100 in cash, plus gifts for Mrs. Oertel who is expecting in September.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Chuck Partello and Rusty Kelly are currently the popular favorites at Jackson Motor Speedway. The two Pontiac drivers run there on Saturday nights and Partello is the leading point-winner with 525 to his credit. Kelly has won two feature races.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Tigers sent Don Lee back to Minors today. He was optioned to Charleston in the triple-A American Association.

★ ★ ★

Two New York Yankee farmhands recently became involved in a minor league version of the now famous Copacabana brawl. Norm Sieburn, who was with the Yanks last year, and Rinold Duren, obtained this season in a trade with Kansas City, are members of the Denver team. They were arrested for disorderly conduct after an early-morning with a band leader. Manager Ralph Houk had to bail them out of jail. A hearing on the incident is set for Aug. 6th.

★ ★ ★

Clawson High School will have its first football scoreboard before the next season rolls around thanks to the efforts of that city's Lions Club, the Parent-Teachers Association and student council. A $1,600 electric board will be erected at the CHS field.

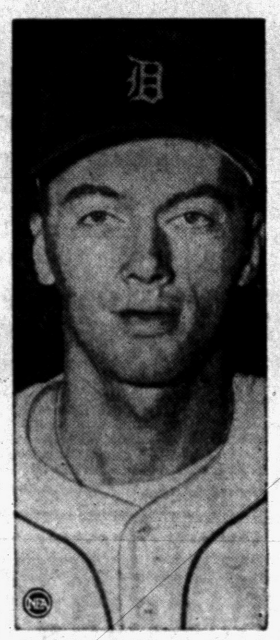

★ ★ ★

A pair of aces this week at Forest Lake Country Club were turned in by A. William Tilder of Farmington on the 215-yard 17th hole and William Egensperger of Birmingham on the 145-yard 10th hole.

★ ★ ★

Gene (Knobby) Walsh is leaving the position of assistant pro at Forest Lake Country Club to take a job selling golf equipment. He has been at FLCC for three years.

Bob Gajda's new assistant will be Alfred Usler of Royal Oak, and a new caddie master at the club is Darelle DeLongchamp of Pontiac.

TAMES YANKS—Jim Bunning won his 12th game of the season for the Detroit Tigers yesterday and did it by taming the Yankees on two hits. The final score read, 3-2.

Shaw's Blank Thomas 4-0

Reaver's Five-Hitter and Big Sixth Inning Keep Leaders Rolling

A five-hit shutout performance by Ted Reaver and some timely hitting in the 6th inning gave Shaw's Jewelers a 4-0 victory over an improved Thomas Die & Stamping nine in the city baseball league last night.

Shaw's scored all its runs in the big 6th to break up a tight mound duel between Reaver and loser Monroe Moore. A double by Bud Thomason and singles by Les Stone, Dave Kringe, Herm Bishop and Bob Swindell featured the Jeweler uprising against Moore.

The triumph moved Shaw's two full games ahead of the idle CIO Local 594 with a 13-3 record. Thomas ranks last with 4-12. Tom Moore of the losers was the only player to garner two hits in the contest, one a double.

Berra, Mantle Spoil No Hit Win for Tigers

Lanky Detroiter Puts Stopper on Yanks for Six Innings

NEW YORK (AP)—For six innings lanky Jim Bunning had a no-hitter working against the New York Yankees for the Detroit Tigers last night.

Then Yogi Berra slammed a triple in the seventh inning and scored on an outfield fly. In the ninth inning, Mickey Mantle clubbed a home run—his 27th of the season and the 200th of his career—with the bases empty.

Those two hits were all that the mighty Yankees could get off the righthanded Bunning, who spent most of last season in the minor leagues.

At the finish he had a 3-2 victory—his 12th triumph of the season against three losses—and the Tigers were standing in the first division for the first time in a month.

Bunning walked three and struck out four in subduing the Yankees, who now have lost five of their last seven games for their worst slump of the season. Their lead in the American League standings was cut to three games over the Chicago White Sox, who split a doubleheader with Baltimore.

Aside from the two booming hits that resulted in runs for the Yankees, Bunning served up only one pitch that looked like trouble. That was in the fifth inning—before he gave up the first hit—when Hank Bauer pounded a line drive deep to left field. Charley Maxwell speared the ball with a leap against the stands.

The Detroit victory opening a four-game stand with the Yankees, lifted the Tigers into fourth place. Cleveland Indians took a kick licking from the third-place Boston Red Sox and slipped to fifth, a half-game behind the Tigers.

Tigers got their runs early.

In the third inning, Frank Boll ing walked, stole second, took third on Bunning's bunt, but scored when Harvey Kuenn forced Bunning at second. Bill Tuttle, who got two of the Tigers' four hits, singled to right, sending Kuenn to third. Kuenn scored on Al Kaline's sacrifice fly.

Tigers added another run after two were out in the fifth inning. Tuttle socked a triple to deep right-centerfield and scored when Kaline beat out a single to shortstop. Kaline's hit was his 100th of the season. He is the first Tiger to pass the 100-hit mark.

Tiger manager Jack Tighe was expected to start Billy Hoeft (3-5) in the second game of the series today, against the Yankees' Tom Sturdivant (8-5).

Patterson Finishes 130 Warmup Rounds

After 130 rounds of boxing at his Greenwood Lake, N.Y. camp, the champ's manager, Cus D'Amato, called Floyd "a better fighter than he was the night he knocked out Archie Moore."

"He is ready to go 15 rounds, if necessary, and he is hitting hard enough to finish his man if he gets the opportunity," said D'Amato.

Jackson wound up his pre-fight boxing today at his remote camp in Columbia, N.J. Before he started he told newsmen he expected to give Patterson such a beating that he wouldn't be interested in any September rematch.

"But I'll go through with it, if he wants to," said Jackson. "I never went back on my word in my life."

The Hurricane has been huffing and puffing against an assortment of sparring partners on the banks of the Delaware River. Down the stretch he has been concentrating on Chubby Wright of Reading, Pa.

While the boxers reached the end of their long training grinds, promoter Emil Lence reported an upsurge of interest in the 15-round match. Lence, the independent promoter who is running this match after the heavyweight title has been dominated for years by the International Boxing Club, reported an advance sale of over $125,000. He predicted a gate of "over $300,000" and about 25,000 customers.

Lence said a total net of $350,000 including the $175,000 radio-TV NBC, fee would be enough to let him break even. Patterson gets a $175,000 guarantee or 40 per cent of the net and radio-TV cash. Jackson gets 20 per cent.

The fight began to take on the "big time" look with the arrival of reporters from London, Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Cleveland, Des Moines, Minneapolis and other points.

Patterson still is a lopsided 5 to 1 favorite to win and they were quoting an 8 to 5 price that he would stop the Hurricane for the second time in his career.

ALL SET—Floyd Patterson is reported all set for the Monday night fight in which he will defend his heavyweight title against Hurricane Jackson in New York.

Hardtops Race Here Tomorrow

Leading drivers will send their modified hardtops in pursuit of a guaranteed $1,200 purse Sunday night in mid-season championship auto races at Pontiac Speedway.

A 100-lap feature will climax the nine-event show. Since competition is on an open basis, it is expected that every driver will have his car at full power.

Among the standout pilots, making the run for the jackpot are Joy Fair, Mickey Katlin, Chuck Partello, Bill Kourt, Joe Doyle and Canada's Jimmy Wilson.

FRIDAY'S FIGHTS

State Gridders Shine in All-Star Drill

CHICAGO (AP)—The College All-Stars ran through their first scrimmage yesterday while preparing for their Aug. 9 Soldier Field game and reported no serious injuries.

White's Upset Baptist on Home Run by Tipton

White Brothers Realty snapped a three-game losing streak in great style by upsetting league-leading Emmanuel Baptist 1-0 in a nine-inning Waterford Softball League battle last night.

Big Monty Tipton broke up a heated pitchers' duel between winner Bernie LaRue and "Fat" Keith with a 300-foot home run with two out. LaRue flipped a three-hitter. White's has now handed the Baptist nine two of its five setbacks.

Area Fishing Improving

ALL OUTDOORS, Mich. (INS)—Fishing in Southeastern Michigan and portions of Ontario is improving but still hasn't reached exciting proportions.

For example, around Monroe on Lake Erie, perch fishing is said to be improving. Water about 12 feet deep is best for perch at this time.

Bert Stoll, well known outdoor writer who covers the north country like dew on a chilly summer morning, says Tawas Bay is producing big smallmouth bass. Stoll reports that Roy McMurray of Flint, and his brother John from Saginaw caught their limit of 10 smallmouth bass in one hour's fishing.

The Yankees and Boys' Club were Midget victors. The Yanks came from behind with a four-run 5th to nip the Little Eagles 7-6. Bill Crawford and Dave Tinkis combined for a one-hitter as the Boys' Clubbers tripped the Tigers 8-6.

National 'Old Pros' Win Four Extra-Frame Battles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia all came through in the clutch as the battle rolled through four extra-inning games yesterday while the Brooks, taking their lumps away from chummy Ebbets Field, fell short and skidded to fourth with their third defeat in a row.

The Braves had to win to hold the lead, and they did—beating New York's Giants 6-3 on an 11-inning, three-run homer by Nippy Jones.

The Cardinals had to win to stay within three percentage points of Milwaukee, and they did—defeating Pittsburgh 4-3 as Al Dark singled with the bases loaded in the 10th.

The Redlegs had to win to stay only a game off the pace, and they did—blowing a 5-1 lead as the Dodgers gave it the big try, but coming back to win 6-5 in 11 innings on a two out single by Johnny Temple.

And the Phillies, scrambling to stay alive, turned on the juice in the 10th to pick up two unearned runs that beat Chicago's Cubs, 3-1, leaving the fifth-place Phils just a half game behind Brooklyn.

The Braves, after losing two in a row to the Phillies, got back to business with a bunt by Del Crandall, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Andy Pafko. Then along came Jones. The ex-Cardinal, back to the majors as a first base reserve after Joe Adcock broke a leg, walloped one of reliever Stu Miller's soft pitches to bust it up.

Teachers Win Title

Vonnie Colby Leads Wolverine

Former Amateur From Michigan After 1st Title

Field at Lochmoor Is Closely Bunched With 14 Still in Chase

DETROIT (AP) — The field is so closely bunched going into today's third round of the $7500 Wolverine Ladies' Open that any one of 14 golfers could move into command.

In a heavy assault on par, 15 of the contestants bettered Ladies' par of 37-38—75 in yesterday's second round and steady-swinging Vonnie Colby edged into a one-stroke lead at 142.

The chunky 25-year-old former Michigan amateur star now playing out of Miami Beach, Fla., recorded her second straight 71 and was a single stroke ahead of Kathy Cornelius and Mary Lena Faulk.

"I'm keeping my fingers crossed in this one," said Miss Colby, who never has won a professional championship. "Everyone is so tightly packed that you could shoot a bad round and drop to nowhere."

For the freckled, wide-eyed Mrs. Cornelius, the record-breaking 69 she fired yesterday over Lochmoor's 6406-yard layout was her best competitive round in nearly a year. The 24-year-old Dayton, Ohio, pro, the 1956 women's Open titlist, shaved a stroke off par on five of the nine holes coming home to establish a new women's course record.

It was tied by Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., who was five under par on the front nine and scrambling all the way home for her 69.

Mickey Wright, the long hitter from Chula Vista, Calif., surrendered the first-round lead but stayed close behind at 144, Marlene Bauer Hagge of Dallas, Tex., came back strong with a 5-under-par 70 and was still another stroke back at 145.

Flint yesterday afternoon stopped Owosso 9-8 in a 10-inning battle that saw Owosso leading for 4 innings, only to have the count tied up twice, the last time in the 7th. Owosso had taken a one-run edge in the 6th on a 4-run rally.

Lapeer took a 10-3 lead in the first three frames against Owosso but couldn't hold it, as the hosts banged out eight in the fourth, three in the fifth and a single in the eighth to nail the win 15-12.

White Sox, Bosox Gain on Yanks

AL Race Picks Up

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League showed signs of livening up the pennant race again as the Yankees were losing five of the last seven games and the White Sox were able to gain a half-game.

Chicago, after losing 5-2 at Baltimore, came back to win the second game of a twi-night doubleheader 1-0 on the two-hit pitching of Jim Wilson. Billy Pierce made a relief appearance to save it.

Wilson won his 11th for the White Sox, no-hitting the Orioles after the second inning. But when he walked loser Ken Lehman in the ninth and a sacrifice pushed the runner to second, 14-game winner Pierce came on.

He walked Bob Boyd, then fanned Al Pilarcik and rookie Joe Durham. Lehman four-hit the Sox, who scored in the second when Larry Doby walked, went to third on Luis Aparicio's single and counted on Sammy Esposito's fly ball.

It was Durham who capped a five-run Oriole first with a two-on homer against Jack Harshman to nail the opener. Ray Moore won it with help from George Zuverink for the final out.

Williams, now tied with Mantle for the home run lead, went to 364 in the bat race with 2-for-3.

Norm Zauchin, 3-for-3, batted in four for Boston. Willard Nixon won it with Don Mossi the loser as the Tribe gave up fourth place to Detroit.

Bob Usher drove in two runs for the Senators to beat Arnie Portocarrero while Pete Ramos survived a two-run A's ninth for his seventh victory.

Franklin, Police Stay Tied

The International League's co-leaders remained neck-and-neck in their race down the wire while Richard's Tavern added another easy win to continue its drive towards the National League title in city softball games last night.

Franklin Products took only four innings to wallop State Hospital 11-1 and the Pontiac Police had little trouble defeating Dostal Foundry 9-2 in the IL action. Richard's got a one-hit mound job from John Geiger in whipping Oxbow Pavilion 7-0 and the CIO 653 National loop team scored six times in the 1st in an 8-4 conquest of Pontiac Select-A-Drink.

Franklin blasted 10 hits as pitcher Bill Campbell allowed just one in the four-inning contest. The Police led all the way paced by the hitting of Fred Stormer and Elmo Burgess. Both are now 10-3 for the season.

Richard's boosted its lead to three games with its 14th triumph. Al Hayward batted in two runs with a 1st inning triple and added two singles to spark the leaders.

CIO 653 moved within one-half game of 2nd place by winning its 10th. Three different players had two hits.

Tommy Bolt 1st in Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tommy Bolt had one of golf's most self-confident players and another fighting to make his first Ryder Cup team breathing down his neck to start today's third round in the Eastern Open.

Bolt couldn't come close to continuing his record breaking start and went off with only a two-stroke lead over Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso.

Temperamental Tommy fell to a par 72 yesterday and had a tough time while Hawkins whipped out Pleasant's 6,895-yard course to record a halfway total 136.

Famed Charley Justice Pitches Here Tonight

Whoever said "there isn't any justice" didn't know about Charley—Justice, that is.

Please excuse the rather trite beginning for it's just a way of saying that the man who was rated one of the nation's finest softball pitchers some 20 years ago will be showing his wares again tonight.

Shaw's Jewelers will get acquainted with Charley this evening when the city Class A champions meet the original Big Six team in the feature attraction of an exhibition doubleheader at Beaudette Park.

Commerce Drive - In Theater faces North Side Auto Sales in a girls' game at 7 o'clock to open the twin bill. Shaw's and the Big Six start around 8:30.

Justice, who refuses to divulge his age but is probably leaning on 50, takes the mound against Shaw's Perc McConner. The ace of the Jeweler staff, now 39 himself, learned many things about pitching from Justice as a novice.

Charley's arm guided the Big Six to the world's Negro crown in 1937 and the world's runner-up position in 1938. The Pontiac club, managed by the late John Gallimore, was state champ from 1936 through 1940.

Justice's chief weapons were dazzling speed and superb control. He seldom walked a man and his assortment of fast balls, snap-off curves and changes of pace were mixed with humbling effectiveness.

Area Resident Fires Long Ace Through Trees

A fellow who now lives in the middle of what used to be the course's 16th fairway, belted a hole-in-one at Morey's Golf Course near Milford yesterday.

Merle H. Burch, who has been playing the game three years, got the ace on the par-4 6th hole when his shot sailed 245 yards through some trees to land on the green and roll in. The hole is 290 yards when played in dogleg fashion.

Burch was among the people who bought land from club owner Ed Morey two years ago when he revamped the course from a 18 to 27 holes. He finished with a 41.

Pro Ball Not for Charles Cross

Remember the Sports Stars of Yore?

(This is the 12th of a series of articles about former outstanding athletes from Pontiac and Oakland area and what they are doing today. We feature today 83-year-old Charles Cross of Clarkston who stayed in baseball amateur ranks instead of pro ball. The series will continue next week.)

Some of his most cherished memories go back to 1891, when he had a chance to sign with the Tigers at the age of 17 but turned it down to "keep peace in the family."

"My mother was very religious and she thought that playing big league ball was the worst thing anybody could do. She said I could play amateur as long as I wanted to but she wanted me home nights," Cross chuckled today recalling the early days.

He said he got the big chance after a sparkling performance at a picnic game at nearby Maceday Lake. Former scout Mel Irwin happened to be among the spectators and went overboard for Cross.

All he did that day was turn two apparent hits into double plays from his center field position and get three hits himself.

"I really trapped both of the balls but I was playing in some high clover so the umpire and everyone else thought I caught them on the fly. Each time I fired to 1st base to double a runner. Irwin was at my house the next day trying to sign me," said Cross.

Charles followed his mother's wishes and played amateur ball. As a matter of fact, he never quit until he was around 40. Then he remained active as an umpire for Pontiac city league games.

"I played for the last time when I was 52 in an oldtimers game in Pontiac. We beat a team of young fellows 16-9," commented Cross.

Does he have any regrets about not taking the Major League chance when he had it? "I regretted it for quite awhile but it worked off," answered the former strong-armed flychaser.

CHARLES CROSS

Cross' baseball feats are well known to oldtime baseball fans around Clarkston, Pontiac and Ortonville. He played for teams in each place, including about 30 years in Pontiac.

The ex-farmer, who starred at Clarkston High from 1890 to 1894, still follows baseball closely and is also a racing enthusiast. His early influence helped interest present city league star Roger Johnson in catching. Johnson is his grandson and a member of the CIO team.

Another Skate Title Won by Pontiac Pair

Pontiac skaters won their second championship in the dance event when Dennis Horrall and Gale Ensminger captured the honors in the juvenile division in the National Championships at Oakland, Calif.

The meet ends on Sunday.

MIDGET STAR—The Pontiac Press photographer caught Midget League ace Ruby Ranson in this batting pose during the four-game Junior Baseball night at Jaycee Park last night. Rudy leads the American League in hitting and has a 3-1 pitching record for the Tigers.

MARK FOOTE

For many years chief of the Washington Bureau of Booth Newspapers in Michigan, Mark Foote, died Friday night at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington. He was 75 and was believed to be the oldest active capital newsman. His death was caused by a heart ailment. One of the most widely known of Washington newsmen, Foote covered the activities of seven presidents from Wilson to Eisenhower.

Calls John Kasper 'Integrationist Tool'

CLARKSVILLE, Va. (AP) — A resolution denouncing John Kasper as a tool of Northern Integrationists was adopted unanimously by the Mecklenburg Citizens Council last night.

"John Kasper has done more to integrate the races in the South than any combination of other forces, including the NAACP," the segregationist organization said.

"He is a troublemaker dispatched to the South by Northern integrationists and has accomplished what he was sent South to do — make radicals of decent, law-abiding citizens."

Kasper, 27-year-old president of the Seaboard White Citizens Council, and six co-defendants were convicted in federal court in Knoxville, Tenn., Tuesday in the Clinton criminal contempt trial. They were charged with interfering with the racial integration of Clinton High School.

SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1957 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN FIFTEEN

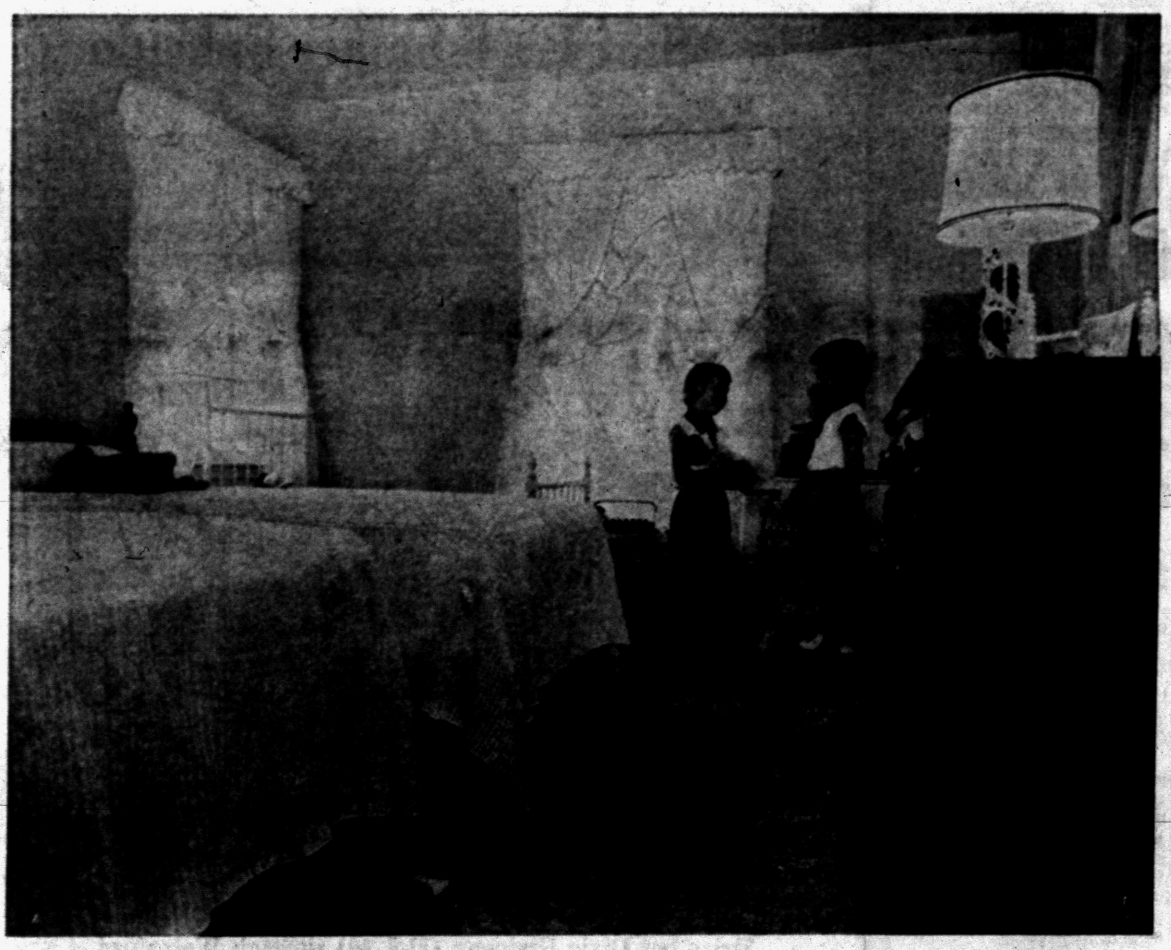

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

background for LIVING

PLAYING DOLLS — When you're four and six, as Julie and Mary Ann Dodge are, you just love to play dolls. Their room — which they share with Marty — is full of dolls. It's a bright room with fluffy organdie curtains at the windows and clean white hobnail spreads on the beds. You can see just a bit of Julie's little spindle bed near the windows. The walls and scatter rugs are green.

Dodges Move to Give Dad More Time With Family

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Commuting is always a problem in areas around a big city. Fathers get to see their children only a few hours a day becouse they must spend so much time getting to and from their jobs. This was the deciding factor for the Maurice Dodges when they moved from Elizabeth Lake Estates to Hickory Heights subdivision.

Hickory Heights is located north of Birmingham and west of Adams road. Living here has cut more than an hour a day off Mr. Dodge's driving time. Although the family misses living near a lake, they are happy in their new home.

David, the only boy in the family, was just two months old when the move took place. That was a year ago. He has four older sisters: Julie is four; Mary Ann is six; Marty (short for Martha) is nine; and Carol is twelve. The three older girls go to St. Hugo's School, while Julie helps her mother and keeps David company.

A red brick, ranch - type home, the Dodge house has four bedrooms, a family room and a large attached garage. It sets well back from the main road of the subdivision on one of the curving courts. Marty, the gardener of the family, helps keep the front flower beds in good shape.

In the days before she had five children to keep her hopping Mrs. Dodge did lots of needlework. There are a number of needlepoint scatter rugs throughout the house as evidence. A crescent-shaped welcome mat at the front door is another example.

WILLIAMSBURG PAPER

The front vestibule is large. There is plenty of room for a mahogany chest of drawers with an oval mirror in a mahogany frame above it. The floor is slate. The rose and green design on the gray wallpaper is a Williamsburg pattern. Around the corner there is a louvered door coat closet and a small lavatory.

SUCH CONCENTRATION — Nine-year-old Marty and twelve-year-old Carol concentrate so hard on the recipes they are writing that they pay no attention to the photographer. This room is the family room. In it is a maple dining room set for the family's meals. At the opposite end the washer and dryer are located. In addition, there is lots of built-in cupboard space. The door at the rear leads to the kitchen. Another one opens into the garage.

GRACIOUS LIVING — A red brick fireplace, framed in white, with candle sconces on the wall above — it's reminiscent of days gone by, but in a thoroughly modern home. The built-in shelves hold books and interesting colorful accessories. Chairs are large and comfortable, and there's a piano for music. The carpeting in this living room is green and rose tweed.

SPACIOUS LIVING — The Dodge living room is spacious in feeling. Light colored pink walls and an uncluttered arrangement of furniture help promote that feeling. Mrs. Dodge poses with her youngest child, David, in a maple armchair with provincial print upholstery. The sofa is rose damask, and the rose tone is repeated in the draperies. That's a Windsor chair near the bookcase. This room has a pleasant view of the back lawns — the Dodges' and their neighbors.

Comfort Is Determined by House Placement

Shading ranks high as a "comfort engineering" principle. When possible, all large glass areas face north and south and that south-facing windows be shaded by maximum roof overhang so that the summer sun strikes only the lower edge of the window sill. Glass areas facing east and west should have sun screens or other outside devices to reduce the entrance of hot summer sun.

The most inexpensive and best sun barrier — the tree — plays an important part in cutting down cooling costs and increasing comfort. Whenever possible, natural surroundings should be employed to provide maximum summer shade.

The U.S.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga is as wide as a World War I type destroyer was long.

LONGEST AWNING? — Is this the longest fibreglas awning in the county? The men who installed it think it is. It is 28 feet, 2 inches long and projects 11 feet, 10 inches out from the house. The owner of the house, Dr. Rose M. Pink of 3670 Pontiac road, wanted a covered walk from her back door to the garage. This awning was the answer. Incidentally, when Dr. Pink remodeled her house, she had the shutters painted pink!

Cuts Lumber Costs

It is estimated that leftover slabs and trim at Douglas fir sawmills in western Oregon and Washington supply 1½ billion board feet of high grade pulp chips to make paper. This huge salvage operation helps reduce the cost of lumber used by U.S. home builders because manufacturers can now receive some income from this scrap wood which once went into the waste burners.

Terms Are Defined for New Home Buyers

Young couples setting out to build or buy their first home are in for some surprises if they still think lintels go into soup or a dry well is really dry.

First thing they should do is to learn the language of architects and builders. A dictionary of building terms can be purchased in any good bookshop.

Lentils make good soup; lintels make better supports over a door or window to hold up wall and roof. A dry well works best when wet; it's a small pit of loose stone designed to catch rainwater from downspouts and disperse it into the ground.

Some important but often overlooked definitions prospective home buyers should familiarize themselves with are these:

1. Dry wall. Most homes today have interior dry wall construction. That is, gypsum, asbestos cement, or wood fiber wallboards are used as interior walls. They're economical and versatile materials. When covered with waterproof ceramic tile (applied with an adhesive), they cut the cost of bathroom construction.

2. B.T.U. British Thermal Unit is a term used to measure heat. Home buyers should know how many are necessary to heat their home.

3. Footings. They're concrete bases, below frost level, that support walls. They should be twice the width of foundation walls.

4. Shed roof. It's a roof sloping in one direction only and not necessarily over a woodshed. Economical and practical, the shed roof affords easy drainage and aids good window placement.

5. Priming. Walls as well as pumps need it. It's a coating of waterproof material, such as shellac or varnish. For example, before ceramic tile is installed in kitchen or bath, its plywood or wallboard backing should be primed.

There are many more important items to check when looking for a quality home. But you can't check intelligently until you've first learned their definitions.

NEWS VIEWS

I'm still waiting for more news on that Iowa man who's supposed to have developed a chicken without wings. Just offhand, that seems to me about the greatest farmyard innovation since the goose that laid the golden eggs. Taking the heavy flippers off the fantastic fowl puts more meat on the fuselage, which is mighty good news for Sunday dinner. Without wings, the bird's ceiling is about two feet . . . so they can't fly the coop. And the lack of exercise keeps them as tender as the sentiments on a lacy Valentine.

No matter what happens on the international front, this sounds as if the world is still making some worthwhile progress. Now, if we can just cross a wingless chicken with a centipede, there'll be drumsticks for everybody.

A St. Louis police captain is unhappy because somebody stole a big electric fan from his desk. That's adding insult to humidity. Well, the electric fan isn't very valuable unless it's going around. But chances are, your time is too valuable to spend it going around in circles, looking for the home or lot or other property you want to buy. Why not come directly to us? For the best listings, always.

Water Softener Drains Calcium?

Does softening the home water supply rob the body of one of its most-needed minerals, because calcium is removed in the softening process?

No, the Water Conditioning Foundation states.

More than a gram of calcium a day is needed by the body to form strong teeth and bones, but water —even in its hardest state—is an unimportant source of the mineral.

Because of the difference in equivalent of 1½ quarts of water or more from drinking an eight-ounce glass of milk, the Foundation explains.

In addition, milk or its equivalent in the form of cheese or ice cream will provide more calcium than all the hard water one could possibly drink, and in a form known to be well utilized for nutritional purposes.

In this case, it is perfectly simple to install a separate line to carry cold, hard water for drinking purposes, when the rest of the home water supply—both cold and hot—is softened for better living.

Household water softeners may be purchased outright, or rented by the month from a water softening service organization. Prices compare favorably with those of other household appliances.

VACATION BUNGALOW — Here is the final version of the expandable cottage. The exterior is vertical redwood siding. This is exceptionally durable near lakes or wherever there are periods of high humidity.

Beat Heat and Costs in Expandable Cottage

Whether it be at the beach, or the mountains, or that favorite cool lake, design HW-58 is a vacation home you'll want to consider for the sweltering months ahead.

Besides initial economy, this vacation house can be built to grow in both space and value. Architect Herman York provides you with three choices: The basic plan for a delightful bungalow at lowest possible cost, alternate Number One for the same house with an added bedroom, and alternate Number Two for expanding the original with two bedrooms and a carport.

If desired, one or both alterations can be made long after the original construction with no major structural changes—it is a house that grows naturally. This flexibility gives it an excellent resale value.

The basic design features an indoor-outdoor motif, with an outdoor terrace literally "growing" off a huge indoor leisure room. Only sliding glass doors separate the two. A fireplace in the leisure room and a grille on the terrace share the same chimney. A wood fence on two sides of the terrace can provide outdoor privacy if necessary.

A folding partition between the leisure room and the kitchen can be used to combine or separate these indoor areas, as desired.

The side door provides a convenient entrance for returning swimmers and other sportsmen, since it leads almost directly to the shower room. This in turn is accessible to a lavatory. Both rooms can be used privately.

Architect York has provided a spacious storage area, not only for luggage, but for sleeping when the basic plan is used without one or both of the extra bedrooms. This storage-sleeping section has a large closet, an entrance to the lavatory and another to the leisure room. A whole family, of course, can use the leisure room as a sleeping area with the use of convertible furniture.

When either of the alternate plans is used, the storage area becomes a private hall for access to the lavatory and shower room from the bedroom addition. With alternate plan Number One, a single bedroom is added to the left rear of the house directly behind the shower room. It has cross ventilation and a large closet.

With alternate plan Number Two, a second bedroom is added between the first one and the terrace. It, too, has cross ventilation and a large closet. A door from this bedroom leads to the leisure room.

The basic plan has a frontage of 42 feet and is 18 feet from front to rear for a total of 738 square feet. On a narrow lot, it can be turned so that the present side door will serve as the front door. The plans show an alternate front elevation.

Alternate plan Number One totals 936 square feet . . . alternate plan Number Two 1,057 square feet. A carport or garage at the left side of the house is optional with any of the three plans. Also optional, and shown in the plans, is a centrally located floor furnace so that the house can be used in the winter as well as the summer in certain sections of the country.

Architect York recommends vertical redwood siding on the exterior, with a white asphalt shingle roof. The redwood is exceptionally durable near lakes and beaches and wherever there are periods of high humidity. Natural-finished wood paneling is suggested for the interior.

Convectors Won't Burn

House Hit by 600 Taxes

A total of 600 taxes is levied on a complete new home, according to a recent study by two New York accountants reported by Practical Builder magazine. By comparison, there are 100 taxes on an egg, 150 on a woman's hat, and 116 on a man's suit.

ALL-OCCASION SUNDECK — Orders of the day for this cozy back-of-the-house sundeck will be sunning, snacking and snoozing for the entire family. Douglas fir 2"x8"s are spaced a quarter-inch to allow moisture to run through, and are placed in an unconventional outline for landscaping and architectural interest. Banister lounges and picnic table are attractive, inexpensive and well integrated when constructed with the same quality fir boards.

TAKE CARE, two ways, in regard to your roof. Periodic inspection is the first way; work with caution is the second admonition to heed.

Keeping Roof Repaired Pays Off in Long Run

The time to fix your roof is before it leaks. Establish a regular program of preventive roof maintenance.

A yearly inspection is a wise measure to take against water damage, particularly if your house is several years old. And summer is the time to tackle the job.

Long, dry spells make for good working conditions and chances are that last spring's rains may have made some inroads on your roofing.

Not all of us can scamper around on the roof, of course. If standing on even a short ladder makes you air sick, leave the high work to an expert.

If heights don't bother you and you are relatively agile, you can probably handle simple roof repairs. But whether you do it yourself or have someone else do it, you should know what's involved.

One inspection anyone can make is from within the attic. If yours is an unfinished attic, you have an excellent chance of finding leaks easily.

If you spot daylight through the roof, that's as mush evidence as a raindrop hitting you in the eye. Circle the spot with chalk for future reference. Run a stiff length of wire or a long, thin nail through each hole so that it can be spotted from above.

Even if the pitch of your roof is not too steep, here are some precautions you should take if you tackle the repairs:

Place a ladder on the roof itself, if you can. Fasten a strong rope to the top rung and toss the rope over the ridge. On the other side of the house, anchor the free end of the rope to a strong pole or tree.

★ ★ ★

If you MUST get on that roof without someone to hold the ladder, anchor your ground-to-roof ladder in the same manner to insure that it won't fall and leave you stranded.

The most common type of damage you're likely to find is also the easiest to repair. Asphalt shingles are often bent upward by strong winds. Bent shingles give easy access to moisture.

USE ROOFING CEMENT

If that doesn't do the trick, nail the shingle down with galvanized nails and cover the heads with roofing cement.

Shingles will have to be replaced if badly torn.

Carefully lift the shingles just above the torn one and remove the nails holding down the bad shingle. If you can't remove them, drive them in as far as you can and cover with cement after removing torn shingle.

Carefully set a new shingle into place and fasten with galvanized nails. Place nails so that heads are covered by the shingle immediately above.

If a wood shingle needs replacing, carefully break it up with a hammer and chisel. After you've removed the pieces, cut off the old nails with a keyhole saw. Slide the new shingle into place and nail.

Trouble begins frequently with flashing, material used to protect joints in roof valleys, around chimneys and dormers. A worn or rusted spot or a loose edge can usually be tended to with a smear of roofing cement. Badly rusted flashing needs replacement, and this job is best left to the professional roofer.

Now You Know!

When roofers speak of "210-pound asphalt shingles," they mean three-tab square-butt strip shingles which customarily weight 210 pounds per square when five inches of each shingle tab is exposed as the shingles are laid on the roof deck. A "square" of roofing is the amount needed to cover 100 square feet of roof area.

Home Owning Is Encouraged

WASHINGTON — The National Association of Home Builders and the United States Savings and Loan League has announced a joint educational program to foster home ownership and channel increased savings into mortgage investment.

★ ★ ★

Geo. S. Goodyear, NAHB president, and League President Roy Marr said the cooperative effort was decided upon because the two organizations have a mutual interest in broadening the mass market for housing and in providing new sources of capital to finance home mortgages.

The joint "SAVE FOR YOUR NEW HOME" program will be conducted on a local basis through members of the U. S. Savings and Loan League and the NAHB's 285 local and state Associations throughout the country.

The officials of the two organizations said their objective is to promote regular savings for a definite purpose — owning one's own home. Both the NAHB and the League's members plan to place major emphasis in their new program on the important role of home ownership in the economic and social development of their communities.

They pointed out that every dollar of new savings generated by this program will serve two worthwhile purposes — it will strengthen the financial position of the family which makes the saving, and it will add to the reservoir of mortgage funds available for investment in housing.

A primary aim of the program is to encourage young married couples to begin saving for a new home and to acquaint them with the modern, long-term financing methods which make it easier today for young people to begin married life in a new home.

Proper Caulking Means Year-Round Protection

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Caulking compounds play an important part the year round in preserving homes and buildings of all types. By adhering tightly to walls adjacent to joints and by forming a tough, durable, nonporous filler, caulking compounds prevent the entrance of cold drafts and destructive moisture.

★ ★ ★

In summer, caulking keeps out rain, dust and insects. In winter, a properly caulked home will conserve heat by keeping out cold air. The result will be a big economy which will show up in the heating bill.

★ ★ ★

In all types of buildings—frame, brick and masonry—areas around doors and windows should be carefully caulked. Other points where caulking should be used are the floor-wall junctions, wood column-floor junctions, and parapet and roof joints. Application is advisable also at such other places as gaps between rough attic floors and chimneys, the apertures around electric conduits passing through floors and walls and the spaces around outlet boxes.

Caulking compound is a blend of pigments, oils and thinners. It is a semi-solid that remains plastic to the touch. It expands and contracts with temperature changes.

The success of a caulking job depends upon high quality material, proper preparation of the surface and proper application. Be sure the surfaces are clean, dry, free of dust, moisture and grease. Use a stiff bristle brush to dust off masonry surfaces.

Non-porous surfaces require wiping with mineral spirits or similar thinners. See that the surfaces are thoroughly dry when applying the compound so that a good bond will result.

Caulking material comes in three different forms. One type is designed to apply with a "gun." All you need do is pull the trigger, which forces the compound from the nozzle in a uniform bead. Another type comes in tubes. The compound is extruded by squeezing the tube at the bottom to force the compound from the nozzle.

In the third type — or rope form — the caulking material comes in a number of strands, all coiled in a roll. One or more strands, pulled apart from the roller, can be used for temporary or permanent protection by pressing the caulking rope firmly into cracks with the fingers.

Manufacturers exert great care in formulating caulking compounds. The material should be used as received — never thinned with oils or volatile thinners; otherwise a high degree of shrinkage and loss of adhesion will occur. The ideal time to do a caulking job is summer through fall, since the compound should not be applied when the temperature is below 40 degrees.

Never Mind a Yardstick

"Sizing" a wall before it is painted is often done to provide a uniform surface for subsequent paint coats. Plaster walls, in particular, may vary in porosity or "suction" and may contain chemicals which will impair paint performance. Sizes are transparent liquids and in addition to use on plaster walls may be used on dry wall construction. Use of the right size in the right way is essential to a good job.

Adapt Italian Provincial

Predicted for popularity in the fall is a dining room group in an adaptation of Italian Provincial. Equally at home in a modern or period setting, the furniture has a particularly beautiful quality finish. While cherry is the cabinet wood employed, the mellowness of the finish assures its blending with other fruitwoods, should it be teamed with reproductions or antiques.

Consider Family's Habits When Buying Carpet

In buying any floor-covering, keep in mind the amount of use it will get. If you have children who are not too careful about clean shoes as well as orderliness, it might be better to choose a carpet on the darker side. But be sure to select a color or pattern which will harmonize with the predominating colors of the room.

Use your vacuum cleaner on the new carpet from the beginning. Notice the loose bits of fluff, left left in at the mill, as the vacuum cleaner efficiently removes them. If not removed, they are likely to mat down and simply hold the dust and dirt. That is why the makers of carpets advise thorough removal with the household vacuum cleaner.

Yes, You Can Pickle Pine

To try your hand at a pickled pine finish, use a coat of gray stain. When it is dry, rub the surface with a soft rag dipped in a little white paint. A varnish or shellac coat may then be used to protect the finish.

CONTRASTING HARDWARE — In the Maurice Dodge kitchen black hardware on the natural birch cupboards stands out in contrast. Walls are pink; the floor is beige tile. While Mrs. Dodge works at the double sink or at the spacious counters, she can watch the children playing out in the circle drive in front of the house. Most of the houses are set back from the main streets.

On one shelf Mrs. Dodge keeps her collection of Willowware pitchers. Other interesting pieces are an ironstone tureen and a footed ruby glass compote.

The wing chair near the fireplace has a green back with the front, arms and skirt covered in a pastoral print that's mostly greens and pinks. On the other side of the fireplace there's a brown chair with mahogany frame.

At the opposite end of the room is a rose damask sofa with twin lamps on matching end tables. One more comfortable chair is a maple one with a provincial type covering. A mahogany spinet piano occupies one wall.

The big windows in this room overlook the back yard. A door opens onto the back patio. Draperies are white with a flowered design. Yes, some of the flowers are pink.

The kitchen which is at the front of the house has a beige tile floor and pink walls. Black hardware contrasts with the natural finish of the birch cupboard. Counter tops are beige Formica in a linen pattern.

MULTI-PURPOSE ROOM

The family room combines several functions. At one end it's a laundry and storage room with built-in cupboards. It opens into the garage so it becomes a passageway at times. It is also the family dining room.

Walls out here are pale green. Ceiling and floor-length draperies are white. The floor tile matches that of the kitchen. The dining room set is maple with colorful hooked pads on the chairs. A small TV set in this room makes it a gathering place for the children when adults are using the living room.

Carol has a small bedroom off the kitchen. Her parents let her choose her own color scheme. She wanted blue walls. For contrast there are tan draperies and a light brown spread on the single bed. One of her mother's needlepoint rugs fits right into this color scheme. It has flowers on a light brown background.

The three youngest girls share a green bedroom. For Marty and Mary Ann there are maple twin beds. For little Julie there is a quaint old-fashioned white spindle bed that just suits her.

White ruffled curtains and white candlewick bedspreads make for easy care. The scatter rugs are green. The room's chief decoration comes from the innumerable dolls and stuffed animals that are everywhere.

The only thing close to pink in the master bedroom is the wine rug. Walls here are green and draperies are white faille. There are heirloom type spreads on the maple twin beds. Other furniture includes a vanity and a chest-on-chest, both in maple.

In the bathroom gray is used to accent the pink fixtures. Wallpaper has a pink, gray and silver design. The curtains are white faille. Gray tile is used for the vanity top.

This is a happy home with a happy family in it. There is room for everyone and for all their possessions. The Dodges like their neighbors and the location of their subdivision. All of this adds up to contented suburban living, 1957 style.

Workshop Patterns

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

This compact little building is only 12 inches deep and seven feet long; just the thing for the door-yard gardener who likes to have everything handy. Place it against the garage or at the side of the driveway or work area.

When you have this tool house your lawn-mower and wheelbarrow are under lock and key and there is ample space left over for the other garden tools. The workroom side has a counter, deep shelf for flower pots, sand, soil and chemicals. Lots of shelf space and hanging gadgets for those small tools. This is for the weekend builder. Pattern 416 is 25 cents. Include $1. additional with your order and receive Homestead Improvement Packet of patterns for several other outdoor projects.

A Big Woodpile

Oregon's 1000 sawmills last year manufactured 8.9 billion feet of high grade lumber, or enough to build 890,000 five-room modern homes. Largest output was Douglas fir, the nation's leading structural lumber, which was shipped into every state of the union. Large quantities of west coast hemlock, western red cedar and ponderosa pine were also cut.

Washable Room Divider

A practical, do-it-yourself room divider can become a decorative item. Panel both sides in washable wall canvas. This comes in colors and designs.

Limestone Well Easily Polluted

It all depends on depth of the overlying soil blanket, the National Water Well Association points out.

If the limestone is 50 feet below the surface, wells would be safe, even in towns and crowded subdivisions. Any surface bacterial contamination would lose its power to harm long before it filtered 50 feet into the ground, if it got that far, which is improbable.

In rural areas where families enjoy plenty of room, 30 feet of cover over limestone formations is considered a sufficient margin of safety to protect the purity of well water, the association explains.

Outcropping limestone is a different matter. Where limestone breaks ground surface, wells within a quarter of a mile are potentially threatened, because contamination can travel this fast and direct route to the underground water table.

Other situations that threaten ground water purity, the association adds, are abandoned wells penetrating a limestone formation, or a limestone quarry within a quarter of a mile of producing wells.

Where such conditions exist, water from private wells should be adequately and continuously chlorinated to protect family and community health.

The only international salute ever tendered the flag of the Confederate States was fired from St. George, Bermuda in 1863. A salute of twenty-one guns was exchanged between the Confederate frigate "Florida" and the British fort of St. George.

Want Village to Protect Boundaries

Seek Incorporation at Novi Township

NOVI TOWNSHIP—That the entire area of Novi Township may be incorporated into a village loomed as a possibility today, following a special meeting held in the Novi Community Building.

Nearly 50 residents of Novi Township Thursday night heard a report made by a Novi Board of Commerce committee. This report, based on a study made by the committee, carried recommendations that Novi Township be incorporated as a village.

One of the major advantages connected with village incorporation would be that Novi would, in all probability, remain the same size, a spokesman said. It was the consensus of the committee that this move would prevent any further loss of land area, as was the case when Wixom incorporated as a village.

The group behind the movement intends to engage the services of an attorney as soon as possible. It now seems likely that petitions soon will be circulated for the purpose of bringing the proposed village incorporation issue to a vote.

Two of the current problems facing the group involve taking a census in the area and establishing definite boundaries.

If this belief is found legally sound, there would be both village and township offices covering the same area, probably carrying out different functions, however.

★ ★ ★

A second meeting will be held Thursday evening at Novi Community Building. Novi residents are invited to attend.

Twin Lakes Village Planned West of City

Twin Lakes Village, a subdivision consisting of 505 lake-front lots, is under development and now ready for sale. Located on Highland Rd. (M59) eight miles west of Pontiac, the proposed year-round residential community will be built around a series of spring-fed private lakes with minimum lake frontage of 80 feet.

Owners and developers, J. M. Cook and Company, say that the subdivision of over 500 acres will consist of high lots looking down on lakes. Each is a minimum of 12,000 square feet in area.

With the completion of the proposed Northwestern Expressway extension to M59, year-round lake living is within a short commuting distance for Detroit residents who have a desire for outdoor life and still require privacy, since the lakes are accessable only to the residents of Twin Lakes Village.

Ample land has been dedicated by the developers for the construction of schools, churches and a community center. A modern 35-acre shopping center is planned for the Twin Lakes community.

Construction on several ranch and split-level models will be started immediately by LaMar Home Builders, Inc. In addition, many choice sites are available to purchasers for future custom building. Estimates can be secured from the builders upon submission of the client's plans.

Rigid restrictions are in force to insure a well-planned community and maintain property values of purchasers. However, the squarefoot area of residences is set at 1,100 sq. ft. to keep the homes within the reach of the middle-income buyer.

Rose Hill Realty will handle sales.

Ill Luck-Plagued Truck Driver Gets Break

DETROIT (AP) — The Hamtramck Common Council last night reversed a trend of bad breaks for truck driver John Korenic by granting him permission to move a condemned home to a new site.

The Council passed a resolution permitting Korenic to move a six-room brick house to his lot in Hamtramck.

Korenic's bad breaks began last month shortly after he bought a bungalow on his lot for $4,000. The bungalow collapsed while workmen were digging a basement under it.

The Korenic borrowed $1,000 to buy the condemned house. Moving it will cost another $1,500.

Later Korenic learned that the condemned house was 25-feet wide — 12 inches wider than a city ordinance allowed for his 30 foot lot.

DROUTH TAKES TOLL — Tomato farmer Harold Hill of Riverton, N. J., sifts powder-dry soil through his fingers as he checks his tomato crop. Tomatoes, which should be full blown at this time are badly stunted because of drouth conditions. Last rainfall of any consequence, Hill says, was May 24.

Alleged Thief Hears Graham

Accused of Stealing $500 in Offerings at Yankee Stadium Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — A man accused of stealing $500 in offerings at Billy Graham's rally in Yankee Stadium turned up at the evangelist's services last night. He had previously spurned Graham's offer of help.

Louis Silver, 46-year-old former liquor salesman from Los Angeles, had a private chat with Graham at the end of the meeting in Madison Square Garden.

The evangelist said afterward he had promised to help the man find a job. Silver went away with a bible and some evangelistic literature. Silver was arrested at Yankee Stadium last Saturday night. Police said he posed as an usher to collect offerings.

He was released on $2,500 bail pending a hearing on charges of second degree grand larceny, criminal receipt of stolen property and attempted bribery of an arresting officer.

Last night Graham spoke on "the justice of God" before 14,000 persons in the Garden. At his invitation for "decisions for Christ," 332 people responded.

Five-Alarm Fire Hits Boston Wharf

BOSTON (AP) — Firefighters continued to pour water today on the remains of a five-alarm fire that engulfed one side of the Boston & Maine Railroad's 2,500 - foot Mystic River coal wharf last night.

★ ★ ★

Fifty-foot flames, sending up a cloud of smoke visible 20 miles away, raged out of control for two hours.

An estimated force of 2,000 men including 500 sailors and Coast Guardsmen, fought the fire in choking black smoke. Wind and high pressure lines sprayed soft coal dust everywhere.

The flames fed of the wooden pier structure and in part on 50 to 60-foot piles of coal. A hundred piles of the coal—55,000 tons in all—covered the pier. The largest part of it was saved.

★ ★ ★

47 Strikers at GM Fired or Punished

FLINT (AP) — General Motors has fired or reprimanded 47 employes who took part in a walkout at the Fisher Body Plant here July 12, an official of United Auto Workers Local 581 said yesterday.

Martin Noland, financial secretary of Local 581, described the penalties as "altogether too harsh" and said the union intended to start immediate grievance proceedings.

Noland said eight employes were fired, ten were laid off for 60 days, three for 30 days, four for 14 days, and five for 7 days. There were 17 reprimands, he said.

News in Brief

Ralph Craig, 32, of 830 Blaine Ave., and his brother, Cheater A., 30, of 420 Riverside Dr., waived examination Friday on charges of grand larceny, were bound over to circuit court. Bond was set at $5,000 by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Robert C. Lewis, 20, of 33536 Rhonswood St., Farmington, demanded examination on charges of attempted breaking and entering in the night time before Farmington Municipal Court Judge John J. Schulte, who set his bond at $2,500 and scheduled the examination for Aug. 7.

City Manager's Life Threatened

Police Guard Home of Des Moines Official After Telephone Call

DES MOINES (AP) — Policeman guarded the home of Des Moines City Manager George Forster while officers tried today to trace a mysterious telephone caller who threatened his life.

The city manager's wife said the telephone rang at their home about 2 p.m. yesterday and a man's voice said:

"Your husband will be dead by 10 o'clock tonight."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Forster called Police Chief Howard R. Eide. She did not reach her husband because he was busy in the office. He did not learn about the threat until 4 p.m.

Forster said he did not know why any one would threaten his life and that the only thing he could think of was that "we've been bearing down on the gambling rackets."

★ ★ ★

Forster took the incident lightly and insisted on going out with his wife last evening for dinner to celebrate his brithday. They were accompanied by Detective Chief Robert E. O'Brien.

"I'm not laughing this off completely, but I'm not going to get all excited about it," the city manager said.

Astor Attorneys Sue for Service Fees

NEW YORK (AP) — John Jacob Astor's former attorneys are sueing him for $107,000. They claim he owes them that much for legal services, primarily those involving marital difficulties with his last two wives.

The suit was filed yesterday by the law firm of Lewis & MacDonald.

Three times Astor has sought unsuccessfully to have the State Supreme Court tell him to which of his last two wives he is legally married.

Mrs. Gertrude Gretsch Astor won a separation from him in New York. At the same time he is paying $1,000 a month to Dolores (Dolly) Fullman Astor in Florida.

"JOE BUTTERFLY" STAR — Audie Murphy is co-starred with George Nader, Keenan Wynn and Burgess Meredith in Universal International's "Joe Butterfly," in CinemaScope and Technicolor. The hilarious saga of the GI jokers who "took" the funniest beachhead in history opens Sunday at the Oakland.

Benny Has No Gripes About Difficulty of TV

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Jack Benny, natty in shorts, leaned back restfully, puffed his cigar millionairishly, and kept quiet for a moment when I tactlessly mentioned that TV's so difficult it's chasing comedians off the air.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, sure," I hastily apologized. "You're doing well, and so is Groucho, and George Burns."

And so I gradually saw that Jack's denying that TV's a monster—to him—and that it's killing off comedians.

"If the public is so indignant, why didn't it watch him and buy the sponsor's products?" Jack looked across at me and asked if I wanted a cigar. He was off to buy one. He came back and ordered us both a grasshopper as we sat at a back table, Jack almost unnoticed.

"The trouble with some comedy shows is that they don't have any particular characterization.

"I give Bob Hope an awful lot of credit," he resumed.

"Every time he does a show it's like a Broadway revue. With me, I've always got a lot of things going for me.

"The age, the cheapness, the concerts." He looked up with lively interest. "I did a Carnegie Hall concert and I got two programs out of it!"

"Have you added any new traits to this humorous character, Jack Benny?" I asked.

"Just the concerts. Did you know I bought a real, real good Stradivarius? I imagine it's worth about $30,000.00

"I don't know much about music," I said.

"I don't either," Jack said, "but I give concerts anyway.

BENNY

"You know I practically dropped the fiddle for 40 years," he said. "Mike Todd said a very sage thing about my fiddling.

Pontiac Lake Weed Control Starts Monday

PONTIAC LAKE — D. E. Minchin, of 9693 Bonnie Briar, who is handling the details covering the weed control project, advises that spraying is scheduled to start Monday, and should be completed in all areas participating by Wednesday.

Persons residing in the areas to be sprayed are cautioned to refrain from swimming in the water or using it for lawn sprinkling for a period of 30 hours after treatment. Keep children and pets out of the treated water for the same period.

Best results are obtained by refraining from using outboard motors in the area for six hours. Wherever possible, boats should be removed to allow free access to the water under docks and along the shore line.

In 25 of the 34 states which levy income taxes, the taxpayers are permitted to deduct their federal income tax payments in the computing of their state income tax levies.

ALL IN THE EAR

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonotone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.
