Pontiac Airport Gets U.S. Grant of $140,000

New Terminal Building, Control Tower Slated for Construction

A new terminal building and control tower should be under construction at Pontiac Municipal Airport this year, thanks to a new federal grant of $140,000 announced yesterday by the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA).

Coupled with state and city matching funds, $280,000 should be available for the last big improvements estimated as sufficient to attract commercial airline service to this area.

This grant, plus $1,705,000 earmarked for urban renewal in Pontiac, means that almost $2,000,000 in federal funds has been shunted towards Pontiac in the last three days, Rep. William S. Broomfield (Oakland County) pointed out.

The latest grant will also cover new access roads, an automobile parking area, various minor utilities and fencing.

A previous airport grant of $105,000 in January was for two new taxi-ways, runway lighting and acquisition of land for the new terminal - tower building.

This grant had been expected last year, but was delayed. Therefore, the new grant means that the 1957 and 1958 construction programs should proceed concurrently this year, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

The city and state already have made matching funds for the first grant available to the airport and are expected to match the second grant soon.

The CAA announced yesterday it would spend $2,550,500 on 26 Michigan airports out of a total $65,566,135 for 358 airports throughout the nation. The Pontiac grant was the third largest in Michigan.

The nationwide allocation, highest since the Federal Air Airport Program came into being in 1946, should provide "more jobs" in the construction and allied industries, the Commerce Department pointed out.

Broomfield, who disclosed the Pontiac grant yesterday, said Detroit - Wayne Major Airport would get $1,000,000 to develop a 10,000 foot runway for jet airlines.

Willow Run airport is scheduled for $250,000 and the Detroit City Airport $83,500. Also scheduled was $208,500 for Lansing, $100,000 for Kalamazoo, $100,000 for Jackson and $57,000 for Flint.

WIRES LOADED — But in many cases in the East, wires were loaded with snow rather than power as up to 36 inches fell on some areas. The scene above is along the Pennsylvania Railroad track in Merchantville, N. J. Thousands of power lines were downed, leaving wide areas without light, power for cooking and heating and often without means of phoning for help. Service on many of the electrically powered commuter lines of the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads was knocked out.

Seeks to Free Highway Funds

Proposal of Broomfield Would Allot $6.6 Billion to States Over 3 Years

A bill that would free $6.6 billion in federal highway construction funds over a three-year period was introduced in Congress today by Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

The bill calls for $2.2 billion annually to be appropriated to the states each year starting in July.

Broomfield said his bill, if enacted, would be "a positive step toward ending the business downturn and would create thousands of new jobs."

The proposed law would also step up construction of new highways and expressways throughout the country, he added.

The heart of the bill is a plan under which the full allotment of federal funds for road construction would be available to the states whether there was enough money in the Federal Highway Trust Fund or not.

Broomfield said the trust fund is now running short of money and threatens to curtail construction of 41,000 miles of new federal highways.

Police Break Through to Snowbound Restaurant

Reach 800 on Turnpike

MORGANTOWN, Pa. (AP)—State Police broke through four feet of wet, solidly packed snow today to reach the more than 800 people marooned all night in a restaurant on the snowbound Pennsylvania Turnpike.

One lane was cleared and police reached the group of motorists, truckers, entertainers, babies and others stranded in the darkened, heatless restaurant.

Police said, however, it would be hours before the road could be widened to bring out the trapped people.

More than 800 of them had made their way to the Brandywine Restaurant since Wednesday night from cars, buses and trucks stranded on the turnpike by more than three feet of snow.

Some were ferried in by an Air Force helicopter, which also brought food and medical supplies for 10 persons reportedly suffering from shock and frostbite. One man, George L. Bliss, 61, Rocky River, Ohio, collapsed and died in the crowded restaurant.

Others, too frightened to leave their cars, were led in by truck drivers, who formed search parties.

The group was depressed but well organized as it waited for highway crews to clear an access road through "four feet of wet, solidly packed snow."

The turnpike was closed for 111 miles from Harrisburg to the New Jersey state line.

Dan Freeman, 39, a sales manager from suburban Philadelphia, who estimated the number packed into the restaurant, described the situation in a telephone interview.

"It's hot in here, we're depressed and very uncomfortable," he said, "but there's no panic. We're sleeping in shifts in the boiler room, storage rooms, on chairs, tables and counters. The helicopter is parked outside for the night and we'll try flying people out if the rescuers don't arrive soon."

Freeman told how the group had organized itself under the direction of three doctors, had set up an infirmary, had sent out the search parties, and had passed the hat to pay for food supplied by the restaurant manager.

Among the stranded were a group of rock 'n' roll entertainers who had planned an evening's entertainment. But the restaurant was too crowded, Freeman said, and "we canceled it."

Hit Flath for Failing to Cut Hospital Staff

Pontiac General Hospital Director Carl I. Flath is under fire by the hospital board of trustees to cut back the increasing number of hospital employes as an economy move.

The board last night pounced on Flath for allowing the total number of regular hospital employes to rise from 545 in September last year, when he took over as hospital administrator, to 563 at the end of last month.

"You promised us when we hired you that you would cut down the number of employes," said board chairman Willis M. Brewer. "Instead, the number of employes has gone up. I am very disappointed."

Flath replied that, had he known the whole financial picture then, "I would have hesitated to make such a promise."

The hospital director was ordered to report back at the board's next official meeting April 24 with recommendations for employe cuts that could be made to help keep the hospital from going into the red for the second consecutive year.

ONE POINT FOR PRAISE

At the same time, Flath and other chief administrators were commended for their withdrawal of a recommendation that 17 top executives and department heads receive a total $15,000 in salary increases this year.

Whether It's Spring or Winter, It Stays

A wintry spring arrived in the Pontiac area last night and more of the same is due to continue, the U. S. Weather Bureau reports.

For tonight, the outlook is mostly cloudy with a few snow flurries and a low of 28-30 degrees.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high near 44.

Sunday's forecast is partly cloudy and a little warmer.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. was 30. The reading at 2 p. m. was 36.

Growth Day Speaker Snowbound

Storm Blitzes Program

Approximately 800 Pontiac educators today were victims of the snowstorm which is hampering residents in the eastern states.

Dr. Elona Sochor, professor of psychology and director of the reading clinic of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., was to be the guest speaker today at Pontiac Central High School, for the ninth Professional Growth Day being observed in Pontiac.

She is snowbound. She contacted school officials last night stating all lines of transportation were cut off.

As a substitute, a panel of local teachers will interview Sheung-Woon Tong, principal of the Maryknoll Fathers School, Hong Kong, China, regarding the operation and techniques used in her school.

Mrs. Tong, sister of Mrs. Robert Dewey, 91 E. Howard St., is visiting Oakland County schools for two weeks. She is a participant in the Foreign Specialists Program of the International Exchange Service of the U. S. Department of State.

Charges Trick in Bill's Defeat

But 5th Judge Measure to Be Revoted Monday, Says Sen. Lodge

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains) today lashed out at "parliamentary trickery" that saw the county's bill for a fifth circuit judge temporarily defeated by one vote during his absence from the Senate Chamber in Lansing.

"While I was out of the room, the bill was put to a vote and defeated when only a handful of Senators was present. It was an unprecedented violation of Senatorial courtesy, in my opinion," Lodge complained.

Despite the defeat, the bill was rescheduled for another vote Monday evening, and Lodge was optimistic about its passage then.

When the bill came up today, only 23 of the 34 Senate seats were represented. Three senators voted against it, 3 abstained and 17 voted for it, one less than the required majority of 18 votes.

"Had I been present, I would have voted for the bill, naturally, and it would have passed," Lodge said.

SAVED MEASURE

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) saved the measure by moving to postpone consideration until more members were present.

The bill came to a vote after senators rejected an amendment yesterday which would have provided that the new judge take office Jan. 1, 1960, instead of July 1, 1959, as the House provided.

As the bill now stands, candidates for the seat would have to run for a short term covering the latter half of 1959 and separately for a full six-year term starting Jan. 1, 1960.

The amendment was designed to eliminate the short term election, but its sponsor, Sen. John P. Smeekens (R - Coldwater), asked for its defeat after being assured by the state elections director that the double election could be properly held.

Power Cables Wrecked; Hundreds of Thousands of Homes Without Heat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A brutal end-of-winter snowstorm, unleashed along the northeastern seaboard yesterday, raged on with mounting fury today—the official arrival of spring. It delivered a smashing blow at life, property and vital services.

The vast stretch of seaboard from Maryland to New England got a deluge of snow with depths of three feet in places. Power and telephone lines were wrecked.

Hundreds of thousands of homes and offices were left without electricity for long periods. Transportation was badly snarled, if not halted completely.

Stores and schools were closed at many places. Office workers encountered extreme difficulties getting to their jobs.

In some areas the havoc was termed worse than hurricanes of recent years.

At least 34 deaths from attributed to the storm, which wheeled shoreward Wednesday from off the Carolina coast and swirled northward.

It was still snowing in many of the stricken areas today, but moderating weather was forecast in most sections by late tonight or tomorrow

In Maryland the wet, freezing snowfall snapped power lines feeding some 100,000 homes. Annapolis was without power for nine hours.

A large frame house in Baltimore burned to the ground when firemen were unable to surmount the drifts.

HIGHWAYS CLOSED

Highways were closed by fallen poles, and Pennsylvania Railroad service from Washington to New York was shut down for several hours.

Nearly two feet of snow fell in the Baltimore area and about the same amount blanketed Frederick, Md. Six storm - caused deaths were reported in Maryland.

As spring officially came in at 10:06 p.m., some 300,000 persons in the area of Washington, D. C., were without electricity. Power firms said it may take another 24 hours before full service is restored.

In the nation's capital, the White House telephone system was partially knocked out for about an hour. Security police at the White House gates used walkie talkies. An evergreen tree was felled on the White House lawn.

AIR TRAFFIC CUT

Air traffic at National Airport was cut 25 per cent. Some 10,000 homes had no telephone service.

New York Gets 11-Inch Snowfall

City Traffic Snarled; Power Failure, Floods Plague Long Island

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy snow continued to fall in New York City today with as much as 11 inches already on the ground in some parts of the city. The storm was continuing all this afternoon.

Traffic was slowed and endless travel difficulties were created for millions of Manhattan workers trying to get to their jobs from suburban residences.

Airplane and train traffic also ran into snags.

Nearby Long Island took a walloping, with an estimated 108,000 homes and offices without electricity at one time in Nassau County alone.

In Suffolk County at the eastern end of Long Island, hundreds of power wires were down in the vicinity of Riverhead, and police had their hands full keeping people and cars from coming into contact with them.

The swollen Peconic River flooded low-lying portions of Riverhead, marooning dozens of parked cars. River waters rose two feet above a bridge on the highway connecting Riverhead and Southampton.

The snowfall measured as much as 18 inches in areas near New York City. The official mark for the city itself was 4.2 inches at 9 a.m., taken at the Battery on the southern tip of Manhattan Island.

'Just Wanted to Scare . . .' Says Admitted Dynamiter

"I just wanted to scare them—I didn't mean to hurt anyone."

A 17-year-old confessed dynamiter made the statement today as he told the story of how he twice threw explosives at the home of an Avon Township family with which he was feuding.

About a month ago, he moved out and the family would not give him his clothing, he said.

An order for a warrant charging assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder was issued today against Lloyd D. Janes, of Warren, by Chief Assistant Prosecutor George B. Taylor.

The youth said he stole the explosives from a construction company several months ago without intention to use it against the Ronald MacDonald family, 3389 Eastwood, Avon Township.

Later, he said, "I got the idea of scaring them." His feud with the McDonalds stemmed from a time when he roomed with them.

The first dynamite was thrown near the home a month ago but failed to explode. Last Tuesday night he tried again and this time the dynamite went off blasting the MacDonald home and that of the next door neighbor, Harold Snyder, 3397 Eastwood. No one was injured, and there was slight damage.

Janes will be arraigned today before Orion Township Justice Lelmar G. Stanaback.

His current film, "South From Zanzibar," is filmed in the remote and exotic areas in one of the earth's last frontiers — Africa. It will be shown at 8 p.m. in Pontiac Central High Auditorium.

Pennsy RR Resumes Through Train Service

PHILADELPHIA (INS) -- The Pennsylvania Railroad resumed service today on all its regular through trains which had been halted yesterday by power failures on its lines between New York and Washington and the west.

The carrier said, however, that all trains would be subject to "some delays," although continued improvement in operations is expected throughout the day "if storm conditions get no worse."

86-Man Crew Sent by Edison to Aid in Storm

DETROIT (UP) — An 86-man emergency work crew was dispatched to Philadelphia last night by Detroit Edison Co. to aid that area, hard hit by snow and sleet.

The workmen, assembled from various cities within the Detroit Edison area, took with them only the tools and equipment they could carry by hand. Due to the storm conditions and snowbound roads, no effort was made to send Edison trucks along in a convoy.

Port Huron Police furnished an escort to bring the crew from that city to Detroit in time to get aboard the Philadelphia bound Red Arrow passenger train.

It was the fifth time in recent years that Detroit Edison crews went into other states to aid in times of natural disaster. The others were the 1937 New England hurricane, the 1951 sleet storm in the East and Hurricanes Carol and Edna, both in 1954.

Staff Cut Ordered at Pontiac General

had been led by trustee Edward P. Barrett. His more forceful demand that the number of hospital workers be trimmed by 5 per cent within 90 days was turned down by the narrow margin of one vote.

Noting that the number of patients at the hospital had declined since last September, primarily because of a temporary situation caused by construction of the new addition, Barrett said:

"When there is no justification for these increased expenses, there is no reason to expect the people of Pontiac to step forward to make up our deficit."

Another trustee, Cecil J. Cosgrove, believed that cuts should begin in the higher administrative positions. "I think there are too many chiefs at the hospital, and not enough Indians," he said.

Trustees Harold B. Euler and James Clarkson also joined Brewer and Cosgrove in favoring Barrett's defeated motion.

The hospital deficit last year was about $70,000. Officials are continuing to negotiate with hospital employes on annual wage increases, and with the city and county in hopes that they will help them further out of the red.

Okay on Urban Renewal Beats Note of Delay

City officials, pleasantly surprised by the fact that Pontiac's bid for advance funds to plan urban renewal were approved Wednesday, several weeks earlier than anticipated, received another surprise yesterday.

They found out that the wheels of government, which often move ponderously slow, sometimes work mysteriously fast.

On Tuesday, the head of the Urban Renewal Administration, R. L. Steiner, wrote Pontiac saying that approval had been delayed. "The request is now under active review and we expect final action in the very near future," he promised.

Yesterday morning, Steiner's letter was delivered to City Manager Walter K. Willman with the morning mail—two hours after Willman had received a telegram saying advance funds were approved and almost 24 hours after Rep. William S. Broomfield had broken the news in Washington.

23 Persons Killed in 'Spring' Storm

in the southeastern part of the state.

The town of Oley, Pa., 14 miles southeast of Reading, reported 36 inches of snow.

The Harrisburg area was struggling under a 30-inch fall. The western part of the state suffered much less from the storm and winds, although three western counties estimated snow depths ranging up to 13 inches.

HOMES HEATLESS

Thousands of Pennsylvania homes were lightless, heatless and phoneless. Roads were blocked, transportation was at a crawl, and many trees were broken or stripped of their branches.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike was closed for 111 miles from Harrisburg to the New Jersey state line.

Southern New Jersey was wracked by gale-force winds and up to 10 inches of wet, freezing, snow. Northern New Jersey had up to 17 inches.

At Camden, N. J., a state of emergency was declared in Camden County. Civil defense officials ordered all public and parochial schools closed because of the danger from live electrical wires pulled down by the snow. Half a million homes and business establishments in the heavily populated area were without light and heat.

PERSONS EVACUATED

At Glassboro, N. J., some 5,000 persons were evacuated from their heatless homes to heated public schools. In the New York City area, four persons were killed in traffic accidents.

Manhattan had an overnight 3½-inch snowfall. There was deep slush and it slowed traffic. At dawn, the snow began again. The Weather Bureau said it would continue through most of the day but with diminishing intensity.

On suburban Long Island, 100,000 homes were blacked out by power failure. Heavy snow and high winds played havoc with transportation.

Idlewild Airport was shut down for four hours until runways could be thoroughly cleared.

In upstate New York, 20 inches of snow was measured at Gardenville, near Port Jervis in Orange County. Speed limits on the New York state Thruway were cut to 35 miles per hour from New York City to New Paltz, in Ulster County.

Moving into New England, the raging storm knocked down power lines and virtually halted transportation in Rhode Island.

An electric company official at Providence said it was the most damaging storm for the utility company since Hurricane Carol staggered the state in 1954. One highway fatality was reported.

In Connecticut, no fatalities or serious storm damage was reported.

In Massachusetts the storm caused many power failures, although the area was not as hard-hit as many others.

It was still snowing early today, and the snowfall was expected to reach 14 inches inland and between 4 and 8 inches in the Boston area. One highway death was reported in the state.

High over Birmingham, Ala. stands a statue of Vulcan who represents industry and memorializes the higher standard of living which industry has made possible.

In contrast to this great statue is a small stone replica of a little-known clergyman kneeling in prayer in the center of the city.

He will not long be remembered for his preaching nor for his outstanding service to the city.

His attitude of prayer will, however, give courage to thousands in the market place who pause and turn their hearts to God.

It would be better to pray quietly for the millions who need God than to spend our total lives memorializing material gain. We, too, can minister through prayer for the human heart of the city.

Two Win Scholarships Enabling Trip to Europe

BIRMINGHAM — The Bloomfield Hills Board of Education has announced the winners and alternates of the Robert C. J. Traub Memorial Scholarship Travel Award.

In the field of art, Catherine L. Crockett, 3933 Kirkland Ct. received top honors with Judi Angevine, 3879 Carriage Rd. as alternate.

Music winner and alternate are Elizabeth Z. Kieffer, 5420 Lauren Ct., and Sandra Gay Firth, 2525 Kentmoor Rd., respectively.

Given by Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor Traub in memory of her husband, the scholarship enables high school graduates to spend a summer traveling in Europe between graduating from high school and entering college.

Closing the Birmingham Town Hall season, Richard Armour yesterday told his audience that one way to solve world problems is to keep pulling down the stuffed shirts.

"If we put everyone on an equal level, there would be no dictators, no power-mad rulers and consequently no international upheavals," the noted author, poet and educator said.

"The people of the world should not forget they have one common ancestor—seaweed," the speaker said.

These remarks were typical of those which have earned him a reputation as a humorist and satirist.

Armour explained his system of writing such books as "It All Started With Columbus." He spends hundreds of hours of research and then writes a book that can be read in about 15 minutes.

Clothing valued at $250 was taken by burglars from the home of Curtis Crouse, 91½ Bagley St., he reported yesterday to Pontiac police.

In addition to the men's and women's clothing, a juke box was forced open and an undetermined amount of change taken.

Entry was secured through an unlocked side window.

Crouse was in the city jail awaiting arraignment on a charge of operating a gambling place in his home when the thieves struck.

15 Cartons of Cigarettes Stolen From Station

Fifteen cartons of cigarettes, valued at more than $30, were stolen from Arnold's gas station last night by burglars.

The thieves gained entrance by breaking out the glass in the front door.

He Reports Cost of Living Rises

Target for Protesting Housewives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ewan Clague has the unpleasant duty of reporting rises in living costs — and that makes him the target of housewives' protests.

His Labor Statistics Bureau has reported new record living cost levels nearly every month for more than a year.

As a family man, Clague does not like it any more than anyone else.

He is a stocky, energetic, graying, 61-year-old government career employe, serious most of the time but capable of a hearty laugh.

As commissioner of labor statistics for more than a decade, he's a key government economist. His 1,000-man staff churns out an amazing lot of information.

Clague, for example, can tell you how many houses were built last month and how many are likely this year; how many gadgets the average worker in a given industry is producing; his hours and wages; what the prices of 3,000 commodities were last week, last year or 20 years ago; how many workers, men and women, the nation will have in 1975.

But Clague's living cost figures hit the average citizen hardest. When interviewed, he was reading a housewife's letter demanding to know why, in this recession, she had to pay nearly a nickel apiece for carrots.

"It's a natural question," he conceded. "My staff prepared a reply. But it won't do. I'm rewriting it."

"Well, what is the answer?" Clague was asked.

"It isn't simple," he replied. "But generally speaking prices of most items making up the family budget don't change radically from month to month.

"Demand for food is always fairly steady. But the supply changes. Right now the supply is short because of the Florida crop freezes.

"Take things like haircuts, rents, streetcar fares, medical fees, gas and electric rates — these prices change but not too often and not too much. They don't respond immediately to general economic trends."

Clague was born Dec. 27, 1896, on a farm outside Prescott, Wash.

He says he was never too good at mathematics, and recalls one particularly unpleasant year's struggle with trigonometry.

But he liked research and statistics and kept at it. In 1933 he was one of a group of outsiders named to study Labor Department statistical services. In 1946 he became head of the bureau.

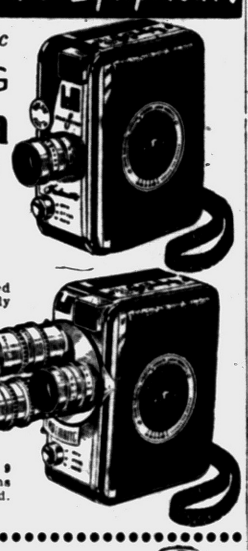

Speaks Well for FBI

WASHINGTON — Of the 11,218 persons convicted in Federal Bureau of Investigation cases in the last fiscal year, 94.6 per cent pleaded guilty of the crimes with which they were charged, and the rest were tried before judges or juries.

Bob Considine Says:

Hilton Hotels Abroad Do Selling Job for U.S.

NEW YORK (INS) — Lost, generally, in the Broadway-Hollywood razzle-dazzle which attends the opening of a new link in Conrad Hilton's growing chain of international hotels, is the fact that these places are doing more to sell the American way of life abroad than most of our embassies and missions.

The Habana Hilton, opening now in tense and bitter Cuba, is a $24,000,000 bet that the sugar-coated island (which is one of the best customers the United States has in the world) will soon straighten out its inner discord.

The 30-story skyscraper, largest and tallest building in Latin America, will be operated by Hilton for the Caja de Retiro y Asistencia Social de los Trabajadores Gastronomicos (Cuba's catering workers union) the retirement fund of the union financed the program.

Canadian National Railways put up another $24,000,000 for Montreal's 21-story, 1,216-room Queen Elizabeth, opening next month under Hilton's style of management.

The Berlin Hilton, commanding a view of Brandenburg Gate, the dividing line between Communist and free Berlin, opens in the fall. It will be built by the officially blessed Hotelbau Gesselschaft.

The $7,500,000 Nile Hilton continued to rise on that spellbinding river throughout last year's and 1956's violent disorders in Egypt.

It stands on a six-acre park known as the Kasi El Nil, after the British barracks, and offers a view of the Pyramids and Sphynx, fair-to-middlin' eyepoppers through the past few decades or so.

There are other Hiltons in the oven in Athens, Tokyo, Vienna, Bangkok, Acapulco, Baghdad, Rome, Trinidad and possibly London, Amsterdam, Rotterdam and Sydney. Each will employ thousands of natives in the building and operation of the hostels. Each will jump to the orders of a Hilton-trained high command.

Tourism is up 60 per cent in Turkey since the Istanbul Hilton opened.

Whole new outlooks on hygiene have sprung up in some of the remoter places where Hilton suddenly is a new word on strange tongues. Old crafts have been restored.

Mexican interior decorators who filled Mexico City's continental Hilton with their own designs have found a ready world market for more of same.

Spanish rugmakers are doing better than ever, since Hilton covered the Castellana Hilton with their lush, ankle-deep floor coverings and tens of thousands came to tread.

Young Author Irritates Folks in Home Town

He is Kenneth Martin, now a shorthand typist in London, and he wrote that Bangor is socially and intellectually a slum. "I have nothing against Bangor," he now says, "and I like it. I think it is a nice place, but not the sort of place where writers and artists congregate. I agree it was ill-advised to say so and I'm not going to say anything more about it."

He wrote his novel, "Aubade," last summer and now is writing another. "This boy has left Bangor and I do not think we will miss him very much," said the Mayor, F. C. Tughan.

The "River of Kings," written by the poet Kalhana in 1148 in India, has more than 3,500 verses.

Many Worried About Becoming Alcoholics

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The creeping, foreboding thought — "Will I ever become an alcoholic?" — must have occurred at some time or another to most of the 70 million drinkers of the U.S.

It would be hard to escape the thought. In the last quarter-century, so much publicity has been given to lost weekends and to medical studies in alcoholism that even an "occasional" social drinker has a sensation of guilty fear.

He may not express it aloud, but it's there — and in a great many cases, the sheer fear and guilt complexes can best be eased by having another drink.

Next week, a new study of the problem will appear on the stands. Called "How to Stop Drinking," it is written for the frightened. Author Herbert Brean reports the latest studies on the traits, whys and wherefores of becoming an alcoholic. Most important, he attempts to ease the troubled mind.

He points out that if a man or woman says, "I've really got to cut down — I'm drinking too much," and then has another drink to relax after the terrifying thought, he is in danger.

Is he an alcoholic? "Almost certainly not," assures Brean.

BELIEF ACQUIRED

"But with enough of such experiences, he can acquire the belief that he is dependent on liquor, and that he cannot resist it. And then he is in trouble, for it is certainly possible to think oneself into discouragement and hopelessness and defeat."

With this preface, the book goes on to describe the dangers, and yet debunk the scare-rumors, of the ancient art of alcoholic drinking. It is a calming book, which might do as much to ease a martini-drinker's tensions as another martini would.

Brean reports all factors of the problem, alerting worried drinkers to what doctors, analysts, sociologists believe may be the factors leading from moderate drinking to alcoholism.

He gives charts of big and small cities with the worst problem (San Francisco is the drinkingest of the big cities, with 16,760 alcoholics to 100,000 adults; Louisville, Ky., is the most bibulous smaller city, with 9,520 per 100,000, and analyzes the reasons.

He dissects emotional and social tendencies of "average" drinkers who shambled into despair. And he recommends "tests" of will power, to bring self-assurance where guilt used to be. One such test, which appears certainly simple enough, urges that for three months allow yourself to have three drinks a day, but no more.

"'Do that successfully for a minimum of three months,' says the executive director of the National Committee on Alcoholism, 'and you can be confident you are not an alcoholic.'"

And then, for people who truly want to abstain altogether, Brean gives a long set of rules on how to give up drinking. As the author, also, of the hot-seller "How to Stop Smoking," he has learned to make it look as easy as falling off a bar stool.

"It is harder for the heavy smoker to stop smoking during the first week of his privation," he writes, "than it is for the heavy drinker to stop drinking during that period. But the latter must be on his guard much longer . . ."

Billboard Fight Threatens Highway Speedup Bill

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore) said this week that Congress must make a "do or die" decision by the end of the session to prevent the nation's super-highway system from becoming a "billboard alley."

Neuberger guardedly predicted Senate approval next week of a billboard control proposal he co-authored with Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif). He said it will be the major item of controversy in the one-and-a-half-billion-dollar highway speedup bill.

A split in the Senate Public Works Committee over the billboard issue already has caused a 10-day delay in Senate consideration of the highway measure and threatens to prolong debate when it comes up for action early next week.

The Neuberger-Kuchel proposal would give a one-half of one per cent bonus in federal super-highway funds to states agreeing to regulate sign boards within 600 feet of the pavement. To complying states, this would mean a 90.5 per cent federal contribution instead of 90 per cent.

Highlights of the interview follow:

Q—"How will your proposal help curb sign boards?"

A—"The main thing is it will mean that, in every state in the union, conservation groups, garden clubs and other organizations interested in highway beauty can go to the governor and legislator and say:—'Uncle Sam has given you a broom. Now clean up this clutter along Billboard Alley.' There no longer will be any excuse for inaction."

Q—"How do you estimate the chances of its passage?"

A—"I think it will get through the Senate. If I had to predict, I'd say we would pass it next week. It is a moderate proposal which will get backing from both sides of the aisle. I originally introduced a stronger bill but am co-sponsoring the present proposal because I believe it offers the best chance for legislative action this session."

Q—"What if Congress fails to pass billboard control legislation this year?"

A—"It will be almost too late. We are now up to the 11th hour—the program has been under way for more than a year and a half—and it's a 'do or die' situation. The American people are going to spend 40 billion dollars for the super-highway system. The question is whether they are going to have a chance to look at "America the Beautiful.'"

Urban Renewal Funds Authorized for Pontiac

All Pontiac should be tremendously happy over the recent news from Washington that gives the green light to Pontiac's first urban renewal project.

The first step in this program authorizing $90,112 for the advance planning was announced Wednesday noon to The Pontiac PRESS by Congressman WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD (R-Royal Oak). In addition to advance funds it was also disclosed that $1,600,000 had been set aside to finance the entire renewal project.

Pontiac is indeed fortunate to have a representative in Washington that will work for his constituents back home in the manner that our representative is showing.

Since taking office a little over a year ago, BROOMFIELD has displayed a willingness to cooperate and work with any group that has a project he feels is sound for the area.

It would not be fair to single out Congressman BROOMFIELD as being solely responsible for the approval of our urban renewal project, but his constant pressure from Washington has certainly been a tremendous help.

Tribute should be paid the actual originators of this plan which include members of the City Administration, Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Pontiac Association.

Like any such endeavor where Federal funds are involved, it takes strong action in Washington to sell the project.

Broomfield's many hours of work in this connection deserve the thanks of the Pontiac citizenry. As a part of the 18th District, Pontiac is in good hands, as it has been in the past with such able and hard working representatives.

Florida Pike Has Difficulties

The experiences being encountered by Florida's Sunshine State Parkway indicates what might happen if anything of the kind were built in Michigan.

Completed from a point on the edge of Miami northward to Fort Pierce, 108 miles, it is approximately the same length as one projected in our own state—from Detroit to Bay City.

It largely parallels the main road down the east coast — the Dixie Highway, the southern extension of our own Michigan's main street.

But it is a few miles inland from the Dixie which usually is close to the ocean and the main street through many cities. It's their life feeder.

The Parkway, without a grade intersection or traffic light its entire length, is a magnificent four-lane pavement, with a wide boulevard strip between. Its speed limits are 65 maximum and 40 minimum. Its accident record is lowest in the nation. It combines speed and safety.

But through most of its length it traverses a desolate area, often without even a human habitation for many miles. It is devoid of scenery.

For this reason, and the fact that it takes prospective business right past them, it is being knocked to the limit by every community that it by-passes. They even ignore it on their maps. They claim it a state liability.

Hence it is not drawing the expected patronage. A drive over its entire length at midday on a recent weekend, when you'd expect a heavy traffic, found an average of less than one car per mile either way.

Its toll is only about three cents per mile per car, $2.40 being the charge for the entire distance. It is a cheap panacea for shattered nerves.

Started under an ambitious program that planned the Parkway to the Georgia line, with a branch away into northwestern Florida, very little is being done to further the project. The cold winter hasn't helped it.

Would this be the experience of a Michigan toll road — which would cost untold millions more? Human nature's the same, Florida or Michigan.

The cost of the Florida right of way was a minor item. And pavements there do not have to combat Jack Frost. They need no foundation.

Odd given names were quite prevalent among Pontiac's pioneers. Most of them have not been used for many years. Perhaps your ancestors were christened with one or more of the following:

Esbon, Erastus, Ithamer, Zadock, Altramont, Experience, Ziba, Lysander, Ample, Orison, Amasa, Bela, Judah, Naham, Peleg, Delevan, Leander, Zeba, Laman, Diodate, Esidor, Eska, Salmon, Eliphalet, Seneca, Zebina, Gad, Ralzemond, Asahel or Jonah.

None of these were nicknames, but the front cognomen that was used when its holder signed his or her name. They are taken from deeds in property transfers or other official papers.

"That Waterford Township man who was arrested in Pontiac several years ago because he hitched his horse to a parking meter on Perry Street" writes, of Rochester, "wasn't any more ignorant than the Pontiac officer who in 1899 cited me for disturbing the peace with my horseless carriage."

March is a month of local municipal birthdays. The act of the Michigan territorial legislature at Detroit, establishing Oakland County became effective on March 28, 1820. One of the first acts of the new Michigan state legislature was to incorporate Pontiac as a village, on March 20, 1837, and the legislative act changing us from a village to a city status went into effect on March 15, 1861.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

"Whatta Y'Mean It Won't Work?"

David Lawrence Says:

Bad Weather Hindering Business

WASHINGTON — Maybe business is actually better today than it has been — but it will be a month or more before the statistics will be compiled to tell us what has really happened. So, in the meantime, almost everybody inside and outside of government is just guessing about the trend.

LAWRENCE

There is one thing, however, that has unquestionably slowed down buying — it's the bad weather. Experience has shown that people just don't go downtown shopping or begin to look at the new cars in the salesrooms when they can't even get back and forth from work readily because of the snow or the sleet or the rain.

This isn't the kind of climate that produces a buying mood. Nearly every part of the country from Maine to Florida and westward across the continent has encountered some of the worst weather that any winter has brought.

Other years have seen occasional storms, but this year the amount of inconvenience has been prolonged due to the recurrence of high winds and freezing temperatures, along with rain and snow.

Considering the bad weather, it is surprising the statistics of retail trade are not any worse than were recorded in January and February, but it makes one wonder what the country would have witnessed in the way of buying if there had been normal weather.

There is another factor, moreover, which is often lost sight of in appraising the business situation. The length of time, for example, between a decision to spend government money and the week or month the spending actually begins depends on a variety of factors that nobody can analyze with accuracy. It takes time for blueprints to be had and contracts to be allocated and materials to be gathered before labor is employed.

Thus, Senator Frank Carlson (R-Kansas) made a speech in the senate on Thursday in which he blasted economic "pessimism" and cited seven items which could spark "a vigorous, dynamic upswing in our economy." Here are the seven items which he said had been furnished him by a business analyst:

First, steel output now running at the rate of 71,000,000 tons a year is expected to go above the annual rate of 115,000,000 tons at some point in 1958.

Second, defense orders are due to advance the $12-billion rate of last autumn to about $26 billion some time this year.

Third, gross national product will see an increase of $10 billion in the $34-billion rate for all goods and services which was the figure for the fourth quarter of 1957.

Fourth, consumer spending will see in the fourth quarter an increase for goods and services of about $12 billion over the same period last year.

Fifth, spending for residential construction will be up 16 per cent by the fourth quarter of this year over the fourth quarter of 1957.

Sixth, bank credit should increase by $5 billion due to recent removal of restraints.

Seventh, science and defense items should increase by more than a billion dollars this year both government and private spending.

All these indicators are derived in large part from programs which have already been announced, but no one knows exactly how long it takes to get any of these factors into full-speed operation. For it isn't possible to look at the national economy at any given moment and get a concept of what is actually happening. The only sure way of knowing is by examining the statistics of a particular week or month, and usually these are not available till after another month has elapsed.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Dr. William Brady Says:

Suitable Reducing Diet Will Increase Vitality

"It seems to me," writes a Rhode Island reader, "that reducing is made to assume the proportions of a major project with calory counting etc. To my way of thinking what is needed to lose excess poundage is willpower and judgment."

DR. BRADY

"I am 76, 5 feet 10, an office worker . . . recently found my weight had climbed to a fatty 190 plus, and all my pants had to be let out around the waist and all my collars were too tight.

"Four months ago started a mild reducing diet, taking less food and especially less sugar and sweets and less starchy food. As a result have come down to 176 and feel fine. Now the pants will have to be taken in . . . (A. B. L.)"

Thank you, sir. There's a lot of good common sense in the reduction plan you followed.

In the pamphlet "How to Gain Weight," I say: "Anyone who will take a pint of milk with a slice of plain or whole wheat bread and butter . . . each night at bedtime, will gain 20 pounds in a year."

KEEP TO HEALTHFUL DIET

In the pamphlet "How to Lose Weight" I might say that any one who will reverse this will lose 20 pounds in a year. I do say that on a suitable reducing diet the lowering of weight is associated with increased vitality — not weakness, faintness, dizziness, headache.

Booklet The Seven Keys to Vite contains a model health diet which, as it stands, is a corrective, protective, reduction, regeneration, rejuvenation diet. Upon this basic health diet, you can build your own everyday diet.

For either pamphlet, send stamped, self-addressed envelope. For the booklet inclose 35 cents in addition.

Common fatteners: Cocktail, beer, wine, liquor — the alcohol is more readily utilized and the first fuel to be burned, sparing food substances so that they are stored as fat — flabby, unwanted fat.

Anti-fat suggestion; Dessert is not merely superfluous, it is a kind of gluttony after a full meal — except for children, athletes and people who perform hard labor.

The two-meals-a-day habit is excellent for mature adults who do no hard labor.

A large green salad or a dish of celery, carrots, radishes or other relishes eaten raw or tomato or cole slaw should be an essential part of luncheon and/or the first course of dinner.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Several Write on Subject of Women in Men's Jobs

I've been a union man all my life and believe seniority is a good thing if it's the way it should be. I know a boy in a family of five whose father was laid off while a married woman with more seniority stayed. Her husband had a good job. The boy was bitter against the union and I can't blame him.

And many older people are taking jobs young people should have. Retirement should be mandatory at 60 and the jobs given to the younger generation.

Something should also be done about raising social security for people who retired before 1952. Those who were working before it began don't get nearly so much as those who came later, and many older people must pay more than a third of their income for doctor bills and medicine. Prices have gone up and nothing is done about older people.

Live and Let Live

I join the group called "working women" with pride and satisfaction. Is it our fault there are women who are content to stay home and let their mates keep their noses to the grindstone and worry themselves sick trying to make a dollar stretch until it cracks, making old men of themselves before their time?

Or are they jealous because we had fortitude enough to get out and get a job and handle both successfully? I went to work to help my family have a happier, easier way of living. Is that a crime? And that seniority was worked long and hard for, just the same as with men.

We have four happy, respected, well-mannered, well-balanced teenagers. We've done a good job. And be the good Lord willing, I'll go back to my job content to know I'll have my husband to enjoy our grandchildren in the future.

Working Woman —Wife, Mother, Proud of It

If Working Mothers on men's jobs gave them up, perhaps they wouldn't have cabins up north, new cars, fancy homes and clothes, but there would be less divorces, less delinquents and more respect for fellow men. They may add tremendously to the nation's purchasing power, but they also add to suffering families where there's no work at all. People are on welfare, hungry children need clothing and are unable to get medical care, all because women are working men's jobs. If they realize it, may God have mercy upon their souls because they're going to need it.

Christian Mother Interested in Being a Good Mother

There have been many articles about putting father back at the head of the family. That's fine, but let's put mother back in the home. Many women who had to work during the war forgot that was temporary and that the home sorely needed them.

One letter seemed so proud of seniority but admitted neglecting home and children. Are material things and 'little extras' so much more important to you? I'm not against working mothers as a necessity, that too often isn't the case.

I, too, am proud of my seniority (over 17 years), I don't have to fight for my rights and you'd be surprised at all the rewards and special considerations I receive, the kind money can't buy and factories don't hand out. Perhaps I'm a little smug and proud when I see my long hours, love and effort resulting in an unusually close-knit, well-adjusted, normal household. God blessed us with children and I'm only trying to do my part by being a

'No Tax Raise but Same Thing'

"Pontiac to Hold Its Low Tax Rate" is a deceptive headline. The City Assessors Office said taxes haven't been raised on your home, only your lots. Your land value has been raised $5.00 per front foot. What a low I.Q. we're credited with. Taxes aren't raised but your land valuation is.

How our City Commission can justify a tax raise now is beyond my humble comprehension. Can someone tell us why land values are rising to the extent of $5 a front foot? Does this also include land on the west side? All taxpayers should call the City Assessor's Office and find out how much richer you are before you cast your coming ballot.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychology Aids Speech Student

Notice how Joe got out of a terrible dilemma. He used some of the ideas from his course in Applied Psychology to rescue him from failure when he was suddenly asked to make a speech. We need to instil more copybook maxims in grade school pupils.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-359: Joe R., aged 19, recently finished a college course in Applied Psychology where my testbook was employed.

"Dr. Crane, I got my money's worth from your text," he informed me later.

"And it was because of those hundreds of famous quotations that you stuck at the bottom of various pages.

"For I was totally unprepared in a Public Speaking class just before final exams, when I was called on to make my extemporaneous term address.

"Well, I never could have done it except for the fact I had memorized a few of those quotations in your psychology text.

"So I just started quoting and in my panicky state of mind I hoped somehow I'd fill up about 5 minutes of time to qualify for my speech.

"I began with your quote from Thoreau: 'Be not simply good . . . Be good for something.'

"Well, that seemed to make a good impression, so I paused to collect my feeble wits, since I didn't know what else I was going to say.

"The speech prof thought I was pausing for dramatic effect, but I never told him differently.

"Then I remembered W. B. Garrison's quote in your book, so I said: 'For every man who climbs to the top of the ladder of success, there is some woman who stays on the ground and steadies it for him.'

"That made me think of my mother so I briefly outlined how she had taught me high ideals and had sacrificed to send me on to college.

"By that time I found the words were beginning to flow pretty well so I guess I did O.K.

"Then I saw my time was up but I wanted to fade out with something appropriate and impressive.

"So I happened to remember that old Hebrew proverb you listed at the bottom of Page 484. It capped the climax for me as I added: 'God made mothers because He couldn't be everywhere Himself.'

"Well, sir, my speech prof said it was the best talk I had ever made and he gave me an 'A.'

"I was dumbfounded! But I realized then that a few quotes from the pages of your psychology text had saved my neck in Public Speaking class.

"So my course in Applied Psychology really has paid off fast! It jumped my term average in Public Speaking from a 'C' to a 'B,' for that final 'A' counted heavily on my term grade."

GEMS FOR YOUR MIND

School children should fill their minds with good thoughts and memorize some of the gems from ancient poets and philosophers.

In previous generations, youngsters obtained such inspiration in their handwriting lessons, for their copybooks ran great quotations at the head of each page.

As the child repeatedly copied this literary gem in script down the page, he not only had a chance to improve his handwriting, but he meanwhile obtained a wonderful cultural by-product in memorizing that proverb.

So I decided in this modern world, even at the college level, to restore that former copybook strategy.

When I revised my textbook, "Psychology Applied," I thus gleaned about 200 of the best quotations of a moral, musical and inspirational sort, which I placed at the bottom of those 200 pages, much like footnotes.

They have been of invaluable aid to me in my professional lecturing all over America, and thousands of students seem to enjoy them and profit by them.

But we need more of this type of cultural training in the grade schools!

Children should fill their minds with inspiring quotations in their youth to enrich their soul in their middle age! We need more copybook maxims!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Medics Arrive Before 2nd Accident Occurs

Von Braun Urges Simple Rockets

Raps Space Weapons Idea

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United States is hog-tied in the satellite race because it is trying to produce an elaborate space vehicle too soon, says Dr. Wernher von Braun.

This country's leading missile expert last night criticized the "idolized weapons system concept"—the idea of integrating the vehicle, its armament, navigational aids and supporting ground equipment before it is launched.

"Did the Wright brothers operate under the weapons system concept?" Van Braun asked in addressing the Western Space Age Conference.

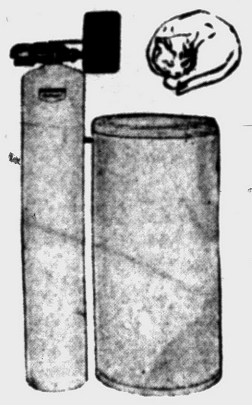

"Let's get a good, big rocket engine adequate to power a manned orbital rocket, even if the latter does not qualify as an integrated weapons system but is nothing but a glorified test bed," he said.

"We are literally hog-tied because we cannot proceed without first satisfying all the small print specifications required under the idolized weapons system concept," said Von Braun, chief of the guided missile development at the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

"I am quite convinced that it has already cost us serious delays," he said.

Von Braun said he'd rather see a less-than-perfect manned satellite in three years than a perfect one in five—when the Russians have again beaten us to the punch."

SMU Prexy Backs Invitation of Ex-Red

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Willis M. Tate, president of Southern Methodist University, has given his support to a student group which invited a former Communist newspaper editor to appear on the campus.

The invitation to John Gates, former editor of the now-defunct Daily Worker, to appear April 23 in a panel discussion has been opposed by three Dallas civic groups and the SMU student newspaper.

Tate said he would "stand behind the rights of this student group to engage in this study, on the grounds that to do so is to encourage them to be prepared to recognize and combat the communism conspiracy."

He had received resolutions from the Southern Memorial Assn. and the Public Affairs Luncheon Club asking that the invitation be withdrawn. The SMU Mother's Club also opposed the talk.

Arkansas Seeks Mixed Schools

Faubus Says Elements Work on Plan to Solve Integration Troubles

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus disclosed yesterday that elements in Arkansas are working on a plan to solve Arkansas' school integration troubles but added that he knew no details.

Faubus returned last night from Washington, where he attended a White House conference on unemployment compensation.

"I really don't know the actual details of the plan," Faubus declared.

He said leaders in the movement want "to quietly bring the extremists on both sides together and restore the voluntary plan of integration that we had."

"A great deal of progress has been made," he said. "But the plan was stopped by those who tried to force integration. The role of the integrationists should be to promote it through the traditional democratic processes and not try to force it."

By voluntary integration, Faubus apparently meant the implementation of school integration through local action only. His clash with the federal government over integration of Little Rock Central High School last fall resulted in federal troops being sent here to enforce compliance with a court order for admission of Negroes to the school.

The plane landed short of the runway, narrowly missed a few cars and hit a tree. Aboard were K. L. Lincoln, 37, Alamo, Calif., contractor, and his wife Audrey, 35. They were en route to Las Vegas, Nev., from Phoenix, Ariz. They were taken to Kane County Hospital, where their injuries were described as not serious. The plane was demolished.

"This is old stuff to folks around here," airport employe R. K. Knight said. "Whenever we see a plane circling at night, we rush the cars out to the airport.".

Establish No Link on Strangling, Theft

SEATTLE (AP)— A Naval board of investigation has decided there was no relationship between the strangulation death of seaman John Edward Ruttan of Detroit, and the theft of $200 from the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard.

The 13th naval district said yesterday the man who stole the $200 has confessed and established he was in another part of the state when Ruttan died aboard ship Feb. 16.

Ruttan's body was found in a paint locker, a rope losely lopped about his neck, while the carrier was tied up at the Bremerton Naval Shipyard.

Kitsap County Coroner Al Segerquist said Ruttan apparently had been strangled with a knotted rope and his body dragged to a hoist. He said it looks as if a killer had been frightened away before he could pull Ruttan's body up.

The Navy says it has no opinion on how Ruttan died, but is continuing its investigation.

Film for Adults Only?

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Telegraph noted today that a film to be featured in the Television Children's Hour of the British Broadcasting Corp. tonight was recently described by its movie critic as follows: " 'Paris Holiday' stars the two top comedians of the day, Bob Hope in his familiar role of wisecracking philanderer, and Fernandel as the 'typical' Frenchman always tirelessly loping after blondes and peeping through keyholes."

Evacuees Taken From Sumatra

122 Americans Included Among Those Fleeing to Singapore

SINGAPORE (AP) — American, British and Dutch evacuees from North Sumatra arrived in Singapore today with tales of a tiny but tense civil war.

"We were happy to leave. The tension can continue every day," said P. Leyeyenar of Amsterdam, assigned to the Medan office of a Dutch firm.

He described the fighting there last Sunday and Monday, when the rebels took over Medan and then were forced out by the Jakarta government, as a "small war," mostly around the airfield.

Also aboard the Dutch liner Oranje were 122 Americans, most of them wives and children of Goodyear and U.S. Rubber Co. employes. A Goodyear official on hand ordered them not to talk to newsmen.

Some of the American women said they heard shooting near their plantations, about 70 and 130 miles from Medan, Sunday and Monday but saw no actual fighting. Each woman was given $35 to spend and put up in a hotel until the situation in Meda clears.

Duckling Stuck in Mud

But the call was answered to a drain near Swan Lake, and firemen found a duckling stuck in the mud. The duck was unstuck.

Indonesia War Toll Mounts

More Than 102 Killed So Far, Reports Army at Jakarta

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—More than 100 rebels have been killed in Indonesia's five-week-old civil war, the chief of army intelligence claimed today. He set casualties of the Jakarta government so far at only two killed.

Col. Sukendro added that the war "will not be a matter of months or years."

No large-scale battles have occurred yet.

The Dutch liner Oranje landed some 520 foreign evacuees from Medan at Singapore today. They included 122 Americans — mostly women and children, 280 Dutch and more than 100 Britons.

Two ships are scheduled to evacuate foreigners — mostly Dutch —from the west coast port of Padang, the rebels military headquarter .

The government radio said arrangements were also made to evacuate 30 foreigners from Rengat, an oil center of the U.S. Standard Vacuum Oil Co. 100 miles southeast of Pakanbaru. Stanvac's Indonesian representative, E. Berlin, said 60 Americans would remain at Lirik, the company's Central Sumatran base six miles north of Rengat.

Navigation Minister Mohammad Natsir announced the release of ships of the Dutch KPM shipping line which were seized last December. Natsir said the line was baned from future trade among Indonesia's islands.

Intelligence chief Sukendro repeated earlier charges that American arms seized at Pakanbaru had been airdropped to the rebels but today added that the plane was a C54 (DC4) from Formosa.

Markings on some of the weapons indicated they were made in the United States in 1952, Sukendro said, but he declined to say who he thought supplied them.

Bodies of All 26 Marines in Air Crash Recovered

Cause of the collision off Okinawa is still not known, the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing said today.

Metal Tube Blast Kills Two Persons

WEST COLUMBIA, Tex. (AP) — A mysterious metal tube exploded in a downtown garage yesterday and killed two men. Another was injured.

Dead are H. S. Pool, 64, owner of the garage, and Johnny French, 63. Nelva Glen Harris, 18, was in fair condition in the Bay City Hospital.

The pipe was being cut up for junk. Officers theorized the workers, using an acetylene torch, had cut into an old oilwell perforating shell that contained explosives. The shells are used in testing oil wells to see whether oil has been reached.

Born of Corruption, Communism

Indonesia's Internal War May Last for Long Time

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Indonesian war, bred of corruption, greed, political inexperience — and communism—could last for a long time.

Much depends on what happens in the "neutral" areas of Sumatra and other islands whose leaders detest President Sukarno's central government based at Jakarta on the Island of Java.

The rebel government which proclaimed itself Feb. 15, is at Padang in Central Sumatra. Some troops in Northern Sumatra have joined it in the Medan area.

Rebel leaders under Premier Sjaffruddin have claimed that uncommitted military commanders are being kept out of the hostilities by mutual agreement and that plans have been made for a major uprising in Java itself to overthrow Sukarno and his "war criminals," including Communists.

But in South Sumatra, the area immediately between Java and the Central Sumatra rebel-held territory, Lt. Col. Barlain, the military commander, remains neutral despite pleas by some of his subordinate leaders, that he join the rebel government at Padang.

The outcome of hostilities also depends on the future attitude of the outlawed Darul Islam movement. This sect, which long has been in rebellion against the Jakarta government, is headed by Brigadier Daud Bereueh in North Sumatra.

He commands some 40,000 troops and the Darul Islam Moslems are said to have a total of 100,000 members scattered through Sumatra, Western Java, the Northern Celebes and other parts of the Indonesian archipelago.

Daud Bereueh is standing aloof while the fighting extends from Central to Northern Sumatra. He and his men probably would join the battle against Jakarta except that he wants Sumatra declared an independent Moslem state with himself as president. His attitude will affect that of other Darul Islam forces in Western Java and elsewhere.

Central government troops numerically are superior to the Padang rebel forces. Jakarta commands approximately 185,000 trained troops while the Padang government commands some 17,000 and hopes to double that force in Central Sumatra.

The central government also is superior in controlling a small, outmoded force of military planes.

But Sumatra and other jungles in Indonesia afford excellent guerrilla country. Moreover, the central government lacks sufficient ships for a quick knockout of the rebels. It also is short of foreign exchange because of the chaos of economics, one of the major factors in precipitating the war.

The rebels themselves lack the cash to finance a heavy attack on the central government although their island is rich in oil, tin, rubber and other resources. But they think the government's economic situation is more precarious than their own, thus time is on their side.

The state tree of New Mexico is the gnarled pinion pine, which has wood too coarse and brittle for building purposes. It is a fragrant fuel, however, and grows pinion nuts which are a gourmet's delight.

Nuclear Pioneer Receives Honor

Ike Presents Award for Service to Nation to E. O. Lawrence

By LEIF ERICKSON

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, nuclear fission pioneer honored by President Eisenhower at West Point today, is a South Dakota-born son of Norwegian descended parents.

As a boy in Canton, S.D., he grew passionately interested in crystal set radios. That interest steered him into a study of physics and invention of the cyclotron, man's first effective atom-smashing instrument.

Dr. Lawrence, director since 1936 of the University of California radiation laboratory built around his early cyclotrons, played a key role in developing the first atomic bomb.

A process he discovered on the Berkeley cyclotron for separating self-exploding uranium 235 shaped the pattern of the giant Oak Ridge installation for the mass production of nuclear bomb material. Dr. Lawrence directed setting up the Oak Ridge instruments.

In awarding the medal of merit to Dr. Lawrence in 1946, Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves said 100 million dollars had been bet on Dr. Lawrence's idea.

Groves, who headed the highly secret Manhattan Project producing the first A-bomb, said, "No one will ever fully realize the importance . . . of the part played by Dr. Lawrence."

Two years before U.S. entry into World War II, Dr. Lawrence had won the 1939 Nobel Prize in physics for his cyclotron discovery. He had conceived the cyclotron idea in 1929, a year after coming to California as an assistant professor from Yale, where he took his doctorate.

In another year he built the first small machine, using a kitchen chair for its structural frame. The over-all cost was about $25.

In the next 20 years he built four cyclotrons at Berkeley, each more powerful than the previous.

Military Men Could Get $31,000 Yearly Salary

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top enlisted man in the U.S. armed services could make more than $10,000 a year if Congress passes the military pay bill the House will consider Monday.

An officer could make more than $31,000.

These would be rare cases, but compensation of practically all career men in the armed services would be stepped up considerably, and the raises would be heftiest in the top brackets of both enlisted and officer ranks. This is deliberate policy, to encourage men to make their careers in uniform.

Moreover, the services would be authorized to give enlisted men special promotions, or extra pay up to $1,800 a year, if they became proficient in skills needed by the services.

Disregarding scattered complaints that a bill estimated to cost more than 660 million dollars a year was being rushed without much consideration, the House Armed Services and Rules committees highballed the measure through. It was set down for debate Monday. A vote by Tuesday seemed likely.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex), chairman of the Armed Services subcommittee, said he expected it to produce a "more stable, more efficient force for national defense."

The services have been complaining they cannot keep highly, and expensively, trained technicians nor talented young officers, and that the cost of training new batches every year is oppressive.

As examples of the increases that the bill would provide, the Armed Services Committee calculated that a captain (Navy lieutenant) would get a 14 percent boost, a colonel (Navy captain) 20 per cent, and a four-star general or admiral 32 per cent, assuming typical lengths of service.

Officers and enlisted men with less than two years service—most of whom would be doing obligated service—would get no raises.

To obtain the absolute top enlisted figure, a man would have to have 25 years' service, be promoted to the top new grade, be drawing flight or other hazard pay and top efficiency pay. His pay and allowances then would total $10,104.

The top officer pay would go to a four-star general or admiral, with 30 years service, serving as a chief of staff, providing his own quarters and receiving hazard pay. His pay and allowances would come to $31,104.

There is a village in North England named "No Name."

More Facilities to Handicapped

County Schools to Get Space, Funds to Cover All Children

All of the Oakland County school children who need special education will have the opportunity next fall, according to Dr. William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County schools.

This was made possible last night when the Oakland County Board of Education voted to expand the special education facilities in the county schools and add $575,000 to the annual budget.

Previous to 1955, when the special education expansion program began, "less than 30 per cent of the children who needed special education services were getting it," he added.

The board will now recommend to the various school districts in the county that they provide the facilities and staff recommended by the board and the county will subsidize the cost.

The following facilities will be recommended:

1. One specially trained person to take a case load of up to 100 children needing speech correction in Clarenceville, and Holly and one additional such person in Oak Park, Royal Oak, Troy and Farmington.

The board recommended two speech correctionists be added to Pontiac and Waterford.

2. An occupational therapist be employed in Royal Oak, Hazel Park and Farmington.

3. One sight-saving room be built in the Farmington district.

4. An additional visiting teacher be placed in Bloomfield Hills, Clarenceville, Hazel Park and Southfield.

5. The following classrooms be built for education of the mentally handicapped: Carver, Lake Orion, Clarenceville and Holly, school districts, each two rooms; and Brandon Township, Lyon Township, Oxford, and West Bloomfield, each one room.

One additional room for the mentally handicapped was recommended for: Clarkston, Huron Valley, Oak Park, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Southfield, Walled Lake and Waterford.

6. That an additional psychologist specially trained for mentally handicapped children be hired in Pontiac.

7. Two counselors for the physically handicapped be added at the county board of education office.

Emerson said that the Carver, Holly and Lake Orion school boards had already agreed to sign contracts which are based on 15 years.

Presently, over 90 per cent of the children needing education are being serviced, Emerson added.

Tot Dies of Car Injuries

PORT HURON (AP) — John Crowl, 4½, was injured fatally Thursday night when he was struck by a car while crossing a Port Huron intersection. Police said the driver of the car, William T. Jahr, 50, of Port Huron, told them the boy ran into the path of his car. Jahr was not held.

Oxford Launching Plan to Beautify Community

OXFORD — A five-year plan to "Beautify Oxford Community" will be inaugurated this weekend with a kickoff dance at 9 p.m. tomorrow in the Oxford High School auditorium.

The high school dance band, conducted by Gordon Mathie, is donating its services. Several specialty numbers have been planned.

Free tickets are available to all township residents.

Each month township residents will participate in a contest designed to beautify the community.

May will be devoted to cleanup, June to paintup, July to landscaping, and August to exterior remodeling. The family doing the best job each month will be awarded a prize.

Then in September, there will be a gala parade and the naming of the grand-prize winner to climax the first year's achievements.

Doorbell ringing is under way to enlist the support of every family in the township and supply it with information on the contests, entry blanks, window stickers and lapel buttons.

Oxford High School will feature an essay contest on the benefits of such a project, and student council representatives, Edward La Douceur and Caroline McMillan are working with Mrs. Jack Valentine on the publicity committee making final arrangements for the Saturday dance.

PLAN KICKOFF DANCE — Edward La Douceur, Oxford High School student, confers with Mrs. Jack Valentine, dance chairman, on final preparations for Saturday's dance at the high school auditorium. The affair will serve as the kickoff of the five-year plan to "Beautify Oxford Community."

Scouts Plan Bake Sale to Help Pay for Tents

AVON TOWNSHIP—Scout Troop 39 of the Elmwood Methodist Church will hold a bake sale Saturday at Owen's Service Station, 2300 Auburn Ave. The sale will begin at 9 a.m. and last until all the baked goods are sold, according to Bob Lambert, scoutmaster.

Refreshments will be served.

Proceeds will be used to purchase tents for the troop.

Donations for the sale will be picked up, Lambert said. All it takes is a call at FE 4-1620.

Snow Bothers Idlewild Planes

Two Big Airliners Find Trouble From Storm; No One Injured

NEW YORK (AP)—Two big airliners—one Bermuda-bound and the other headed for Copenhagen — were involved in accidents at Idlewild Airport during the snowstorm last night. No one was injured.

A Pan American World Airways DC6 bound for Bermuda took off successfully, but Capt. Edward Lawler, 43, Fanwood, N. J., reported the nose wheel would not retract and he headed back to the field.

After landing, the plane ground-looped (spun around). The 11 occupants were shaken up but none reported injury.

It was believed an accumulation of slush and snow lodged in the nose wheel housing and became frozen.

Earlier, a Scandinavian Airlines DC7 skidded 100 feet off the runway while starting to take off. Fifty persons aboard escaped injury.

Rochester Pair Exchange Vows, Travel to Hawaii

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Lewis C. Crissman and Arthur R. Dillman, both of Rochester, were married Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Crissman's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Crissman, 315 Wesley Ave.

The couple exchanged vows before a background of white gladioli, snapdragons and candelabra with white candles. The Rev. Douglas F. Parker of St. Paul's Methodist Church performed the rite.

The bride wore a willow green chiffon dress of ballerina length, and a small clutch hat topped with pink roses. Her bridal orchids, matching her dress were carried on a white Bible.

A reception was held for 25 guests at the Crissman home and a wedding dinner was held at Sylvan Glen Golf Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillman left for a month's stay in Hawaii. Upon their return, they will reside in Rochester.

Sitting Up in Bed

TV Surgical Patient Says He Feels 'Swell'

DETROIT (AP)—Carl Miltenberger, a 65-year-old Battle Creek man whose artery-transplant operation was televised Tuesday night, sat propped up and held a news conference at Henry Ford Hospital today. He told reporters he felt "swell."

He wiggled warm toes and said:

He looked pink and fit.

Seven inches of Miltenberger's main artery (aorta) was cut out and one of hand-woven dacron fabric was installed in its place in the operation that was televised publicly over a state network. The old artery was hardening. Miltenberger could walk only short distances and then only in pain.

The patient told reporters he was looking forward to getting out of bed and walking a bit tomorrow, and to eating some soft food. He breakfasted on orange juice, coffee and broth, then went against his doctor's advice and smoked a cigarette.

Dr. D. Emerick Szilagyi, who performed the operation, said Miltenberger would be advised, after he leaves the hospital, to follow a diet low in animal fats and to quit smoking.

No West Point for Ike Today —Too Stormy

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced the cancellation.

The President had planned to go to West Point to take part in Founders' Day ceremonies and to join in honoring an atomic scientist.

Hagerty said the trip was shelved because of generally bad weather both in Washington and in the West Point area, on the ground and in the air.

The schedule had called for Eisenhower to travel by automobile from Stewart Air Force Base to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, a distance of about 17 miles.

Plans were made to telephone Eisenhower's scheduled brief talk to a luncheon meeting at the academy.

He Sees World's Folks as Near Mad, Mad, Wise

SETE, France (AP)—Group Capt. Peter Townsend arrived here today on the last leg of his round - the - world trip and told reporters:

"I found three categories of persons in the world — one third mad, one third becoming mad and one third wise, most of whom are primitives."

Townsend went on his global trip after Princess Margaret decided not to marry him. The Church of England and her family opposed the match because he had divorced his wife.

Gambler Revealing Payoffs in Ecorse

DETROIT (NS) — Gambler Russell Trilck was to resume the witness stand today in Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Murphy's courtroom to continue his story of making payoffs to Mayor William Voisine and other Ecorse officials.

Trilck testified yesterday he paid Voisine $700 monthly and made two police officers partners in his numbers ring.

He also said he paid $125 monthly to the late Robert Voisine, the mayor's son, but explained it was a legitimate business deal. It was in repayment of $10,000 he and the mayor borrowed from Robert for a plastic business Trilck and the mayor operated in Florida.

$51 in Goods Stolen From Firestone Store

The Firestone Store, at 146 W. Huron St., was burglarized and three tires valued at $51 stolen, it was reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

A pane of glass was removed from a side window to gain entrance. The thieves tried to pry open an office door but failed.

In Area Communities

X-Ray Units Slated

Free chest X rays will be available in four communities in the county next week, according to A. R. Musson, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Assn.

A yearly chest X ray to check for tuberculosis is recommended for persons over 18 years old, he added.

Mobile X-ray units will be located in Rochester at the National Twist Drill plant from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday, and at the Detroit Edison from 2 to 8 p.m. Wednesday; noon to 8 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

The Milford unit will be located in front of the Detroit Edison Monday through Friday.

The O. E. Dunckel Junior High School on 12 Mile Road, Farmington, will be the site of another unit Monday through Wednesday.

The X-ray unit will be stationed in front of the Walnut Lake School on Walnut Lake Road, Thursday and Friday.

The units will be open the following hours in the above three communities: Monday, 2 to 8 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday, noon to 8 p.m.; Wednesday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Fire Station to Receive Truck Within 45 Days

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Fire Station No. 3, on Green Lake road, will get a new fire truck within the next 45 days.

The vehicle is being purchased from the Howe Fire Apparatus Co., Howe, Ind., which submitted the lowest bid. The bids were opened at the monthly meeting of the West Bloomfield Township Board Wednesday night.

Hal Boyle Says:

Getting Cat to Keep Still at Night Real Job

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a fur-bearing stranger in our house.

He is large and fat and insolent. In color he ranges from a faded midnight to a misty mountain twilight. He has eyes of sapphire, and they are slightly crossed.

This stranger is a Siamese cat. Or so he claims. And he bears the unlikely name of Ralph Beauty Marble Candy.

During the day, Ralph is a sleeping volcano. He permits my wife, Frances, to go about her usual chores. He allows our daughter, Tracy, 5, to lug him around the house, as over his face there settles a look of dignified resignation that clearly says, "This, too, shall pass."

But at night Ralph, worn out by daylight dozing, is like a prowling phonograph on which the record has become stuck. He is a self-winding music box—he winds himself up by waving his tail back and forth—that can give off but a single sound.

Most cats say "meow.' Not our one-note Ralph. Over and over he groans "Ow!"

At first we thought he had worms, a bone stuck in his throat, or a splinter in his paw. Nope. A check showed Ralph was no 4F. His health was perfect.

"Why don't you try keeping him awake during the day?" I suggested. No dice. Ralph sleeps through anything during the day — even ringing bells and the "Overture from William Tell." My wife once hollered "fire" in his ear and all Ralph did was open an eye, yawn and fall asleep again.

How do you set about curing a cat of insomnia? At first I tried conversation. I praised Ralph until I ran out of adjectives. I told him about all the famous cats of history.

"Ow!" he answered.

I even told him the story of my life. This made him "Ow!" worse than ever.

The best answer, I found, was a combination of food and James Joyce.

Put a can of dog food and a copy of Joyce's "Finnegan's Wake" on your bedside table before you retire. If the cat begins to howl, feed it two heaping tablespoonfuls of dog food—and take a small one yourself, if you feel hungry. Then open "Finnegan's Wake" at random and read three pages.

Five minutes later, I guarantee, both you and the cat will be sound asleep, purring happily.

Canadian Air Force Begins Probe of Blast

ANGUS, Ont. (AP) — The Canadian air force began an investigation today into an explosion which killed six Canadian civilians and an airman and demolished a 100-foot-long building at the RCAF armament depot here 55 miles north of Toronto.

There was no explanation of what set off the explosives yesterday.

Use Church in 2 Wars

CHERAW, S. C. — St. David's Episcopal Church at Cheraw, built in 1773, was used as a hospital in two wars. It served this purpose for British troops during the Revolutionary War and also was used by the Confederates during the Civil War. Veterans of eight wars are buried in the church cemetery.

Oil Stove Explodes; 3 Dead, 3 Critical

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A fire set off by an oil stove explosion last night killed three children and critically injured another child and their mother and father.

Anne Arundel County police said the fire demolished the one-story frame bungalow. They identified the dead as Jo Ann Kelly Tucker, 13, Linda Sue Tucker, 3, and Judy Ann Tucker, 12.

Their father, Norman J. Tucker, 38, his wife Edith Sarah, 36, and a fourth child, Betty Lou, 18 months, were in critical condition at Anne Arundel County General Hopital with burns over 50 per cent of their bodies.

Propose Moon Study by Using A-Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some U.S. scientists, seeking more knowledge of outer space, suggest that atomic explosives hurled to the moon might furnish a means of studying the moon's crust.

This idea, one of many dealing with space study, is contained in a report urging the United States to undertake a long-range program of exploration looking towards manned space flight.

The report was made by the earth satellite panel of the U.S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year.

The scientists said an idea behind the proposal was that "manned space flight will occur in the course of the program."

In the report, the scientists indicated real confidence the objective of manned space flight to the moon and the nearer planets—Mars and Venus—ultimately will be achieved.

Walkout Idles 10,000

EAST CHICAGO, Ind. (AP)—A walkout, termed by the company "an unauthorized work stoppage," last night idled 10,000 workers and halted operations at the Indiana Harbor Works of Youngstown sheet and Tube Co.

Elizabeth was the first capital of New Jersey in 1665.

Camp Fire to Mark 48th Birthday Sunday

Camp Fire Girls will celebrate their 48th birthday beginning Sunday, according to John B. Wilson, president of Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls.

This group has been part of the local community life since 1928, serving girls 7 to 18 years of age.

On March 29 at 7 p.m. Pontiac Council of Girl Scouts will present "Camp Fire in Action" in Lincoln Junior High School auditorium. This program will show the varied aspects of the Blue Bird and Camp Fire program.

Camp Fire group displays will depict the Camp Fire law and seven crafts. Other groups will have baked goods, and Indian ceremonials and symbolism will be the theme of some Camp Fire displays.

Blue Bird displays will follow the play theme. Puppet and marionette shows, a dollhouse and rhythm band are themes of some of the Blue Bird displays.

Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls serves 7 to 10-year-old members through Blue Birds; 10 to 15-year-olds through Camp Fire Girls and 15 to 18-year-olds through Horizon Club, which is a program for future homemakers, career women and responsible citizens.

Volunteer of the Month, selected by the Central Volunteer Bureau, is John Baxter (left) of Third avenue. Seventy years old, Mr. Baxter has been active in Boy Scout work since 1922, helping to organize Scout troops and to keep them going. Here, he gives a bit of advice to Scout Roger McVicar of Raeburn street.

City Man, 70, Is 'Volunteer of Month'

Boy Scout Leader Baxter Honored

"Neighborhood Commissioner" is the title given to 70-year-old John Baxter, of Third street, the Central Volunteer Bureau's "Volunteer of the Month."

Mr. Baxter has been active in Boy Scout work since 1922, with 25 years in Mt. Clemens and 11 in Pontiac. The "commissioner" designation refers to Mr. Baxter's work in organizing and aiding in the continuation of Boy Scout troops throughout this area.

HEADS TROOP

Additional activities keeping Mr. Baxter on the move include service as the institutional representative of Troop No. 10, sponsored by the Moose Lodge, and leadership of the Explorers' Group of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

He also is an officer in the American Legion and a Civic Affairs chairman, as well as being a past governor of the Moose Lodge.

Mr. Baxter's youngest son, a recent University of Michigan graduate, is an active Eagle Scout. The busy volunteer says, "Scouting is the only boys' organization that actually prepares a boy for the life ahead, regardless of what he may do."

The Central Volunteer Bureau provides many different types of work valuable to the community for those interested.

Mrs. Irwin Mills was elected president of Wever School PTA Thursday evening. Named to serve with Mrs. Mills were Mrs. Keith Pawley, vice president; Loren Kay, father vice president; Mrs. William Mills, teacher vice president, and Mrs. Clarence Dolsen, treasurer.

Others were Mrs. Carl Pearson, recording secretary; Mrs. Loren Kay, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Luther White, historian; and Mrs. Charles Norman, Mrs. Vernis Whitehead and Mrs. Stonney Clasman, council delegates. Mrs. Edward Bigger and Mrs. Rexford Hagood were named auditors.

HEADS WEVER PROGRAM

Kenneth Kindig was program director for the father's night program at Wever. Refreshments were served under the direction of Ronald Carr, Melvin Norberg and Carl Norberg.

Serving with him will be Mrs. Roscoe Newman, vice president; Mrs. Hesper Polk, teacher vice president; Donald Rofe, father vice president; Mrs. Ray Ritter, secretary and Mrs. Raymond Hibbs, treasurer.

Others are Mrs. Jack Harroun, PTA historian; Mrs. Fred Larson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Travis, Mrs. Melvin Washburn, and Mrs. Conrad Burlison, council delegates, and Mrs. Russell Keefer, alternate delegate.

Herbert Radunz spoke and showed pictures of a river trip. He is associated with the Lions Club and Sheriff's Department, and has submitted articles to a yachting magazine.

Refreshments were served by Mr. Travis and Mr. Rofe.

MALKIM LEADERS

Elected president of Malkim School PTA Thursday afternoon was Mrs. Howard McConnell. Assisting her this year will be Mrs. Ray Hartung, vice president; Mrs. George Crisman, teacher vice president; Edgar Dewey, father vice president and Mrs. Glenn Hoisington, secretary.

Others are Mrs. Edgar Dewey, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Allen, historian; Mrs. William Mihalek, Parliamentarian; Mrs. Albert Linsenman, Mrs. Stanley Boyd and Mrs. Charles Adler, council delegates; and Mrs. Ray Hartung and Mrs. Robert Kayga, alternates.

Serviceman Wants Girl to Visit Him

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am 19 years old and just recently became engaged to a boy in the service. I will be getting a vacation in two months and my fiance would like me to come down to where he is stationed during that time.

"He said that I could stay with an officer friend and his wife who have a house near the base. This couple are complete strangers to me but are good friends of my fiance. My mother thinks it would be very improper for me to go. What do you think?"

Answer: If you receive a letter from the officer's wife inviting you to stay with them, it will be quite correct for you to accept her invitation.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our office has a fund set aside to take care of sending flowers to any of the employes who happen to get sick. One of the men is in the hospital right now and the person in charge of this fund is going to send him flowers.

"I told her that I thought flowers unsuitable to send a man and that something else — such as a book, or something in the food line — would be better. What is your opinion?"

Answer: If you know of a particular book he wants to read, or some special food that is allowed him, either of these would surely be welcome. It is, however, always proper to send flowers to a man who is ill — usually the choice is a plant rather than cut flowers.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to eat the brown crispy skin of a roast turkey at a dinner party? I love the skin and always eat it. My wife says this is OK when we are at home alone but when we have company or are invited out to dinner, it should be left on the plate.

"I can't see anything wrong in eating it if I like it no matter where, but to satisfy her I am writing to get your opinion on this."

Answer: There is no reason not to eat the skin if you like it.

YTC Awards Diplomas, Seals and Certificates

Diplomas, seals and training certificates were awarded to members of the Ethel E. Little Youth Temperance Club who have completed required training books when the group held its annual institute at the Cottage street home of Mrs. Frank Deaver.

As a kickoff for Youth Temperance Education Week April 20-26, the local group will be host to the state YTC on April 19. At a rally to be held at the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, members will present a pageant, "The Ceremonial of the Three Flags."

Shirley McClerren was welcomed into the club at the Tuesday meeting. The Ethel E. Little YTC is under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Deaver, character building director of the WCTU, 18th District, and president of the local Anna Gordon group.

5-Foot-7 Isn't Overly Tall

Wear High Heels and Enjoy Them!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am 15 years old and am 5 feet 7 inches tall. My measurements are bust 35, waist 27 and hips 37 inches. I think I am much too tall and way too fat. I have always wanted to wear high heels since I was a little girl, but now I think I am too tall to do so. What is your opinion?"

A. My opinion is that you have a very exaggerated idea of how tall you are. Five feet, seven inches is not at all excessively tall. Some of the most glamorous stars and models are much taller. Wear high heels and enjoy them! You did not give me your weight but judging from your height and measurements I would not think that you are overweight.

Q. "I read in your column that mineral oil causes wrinkles. My daughter, 17, uses mineral oil on her face because of an allergy. I am worried for fear she will get wrinkles."

A. You misunderstood me or have me confused with someone else. I never have said that mineral oil causes wrinkles. I probably said that I do not feel that it is sufficient skin lubrication for dry skins. Some people even seem to find it drying.

Q. "I am married and have two little boys. I am 23 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 120 pounds. My bust measures 34, waist 26 and hips 36 inches. I would like to get my waist back to its former 23 or 24 inches. Also my tummy is sort of flabby. I have dieted and it took off pounds but not inches."

A. You are certainly not overweight. If anything you are on the slim side. Take waist-slimming exercises. Also take a few good abdominal exercises. These will firm the abdomen and also will slim the waist since your abdominal exercises have an effect on your waist measurement.

Q. "I have a round face and very long hair. How can I wear it to be becoming?"

A. You can wear it high on your head and pulled back and up at the sides. Or, you can wear it in waves smoothly back at the sides, high on top, and fairly short at the back. This latter would mean that you would cut your hair rather drastically. You need not cut so much if you pile it high on your head but VERY long hair is difficult to manage.

Q. "I would like to know how much I should lose. I am 5 feet, 1 inch tall and weigh 133 pounds. I have a large bone structure."

A. If your frame is really large, you are not overweight. If it is medium, you should weigh about 122 pounds.

Dear Abby . . . .

Those Personal Questions Could Prove Embarrassing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR MISS ABBY: My son and I have been having a dispute and I wish you would settle it for us.

One of his close friends, who comes to our house often, was here Sunday and I asked him two questions. One: Was he happy with his wife? Two: Did his father who just died leave him anything? Do you think there was anything wrong with these questions?

ABBY

MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I am sure you only meant to make friendly conversation, but these questions were of a very personal nature, and you possibly could have embarrassed your visitor.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is divorcing me because after 31 years together I am "too old" for him. He is 51 and very young - looking when he stays in his own age group, but he looks ridiculous when he tries to fit in with the younger crowd.

My doctor says he is going through what amounts to a change of life for a man and says I should refuse to give him a divorce (he has no grounds). I have too much pride to hang on to a husband who doesn't want me. What should I do?

PROUD

DEAR PROUD: You took this man in "sickness and in health." This is sickness. Stick with him.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a doll but I can never get him to do anything around the house. The place needs painting and repairs everywhere you look. How can I get him to do something?

GIVE-UP

DEAR GIVE: I. something needs painting—get the paint and brushes and start to do it yourself (but not too well). No man can watch a woman paint without "taking over" to show her how it's done. The same goes for other odd jobs.

DEAR ABBY: I keep reading in your column where high school girls want to quit school and get married. I quit school in my senior year to marry a man who had good looks and a better line, but that's all he had.

Three months later I knew I made a mistake but I was too ashamed to go home and I was also pregnant. I've thought of leaving him but how can I get a job without a high school diploma?

He is 27 and I am 20. I'm saddled with three kids but he runs around with high school girls. If you think it will save another girl from making a foolish mistake, please print this. A SORRY GIRL

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE FLYING TIGER: Give the girl a chance to prove herself. Many men have been known to find million - dollar babies in 5 and 10 - cent stores.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Encourage Child to Voice Money Needs

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She writes, "Our 11-year-old girl has been buying school supplies, candy and comics on one of our charge accounts. She says she did it because her allowance is insufficient. We've told her she must give us weekly repayments.

"But I think we should also increase her allowance at once. My husband says this would be rewarding her dishonesty. Do you agree with him?"

No. I think that increasing her allowance would be rewarding this child's first realistic treatment of her economic problem.

Up to now she's been solving it like the boy in the fairytale.

He had an enchanted table. Whenever he was hungry, he'd sit down in front of it and say, "Feed me"—and the table would immediately produce a meal of delicious food.

Beyond speaking magic words, the boy made no effort to solve his economic problem. After eating the meal, he didn't even have to bother with dishwashing or garbage disposal. He just said, "Tidy yourself"—and the table was as bare as it had been before.

'CHARGE IT'

This child has been behaving just like him. Where the fairytale boy used the magic words "feed me" to solve his economic problem, she has used the magic words "charge it."

Now for the first time she has spoken the risky, difficult words we have to speak in the real world when we have an economic problem. She has said to the people in control of her income, "I need more money."

If I were her parent, I would respond to her realism with some of my own. I'd say, "Fine. If you'd been brave enough to say that two weeks ago, you would not have got yourself all mixed up with our charge account. Of course you can have more allowance.

"You figure out how much you must have and we'll start giving it to you right now. This will help you with this stupid debt you've incurred by not facing your need for more money."

If we want responsibility from children, we have to encourage it when it is expressed.

It is not just doing chores and homework. Responsibility is also being able to say, "I need more money, more freedom, more shelves in my room." It is being able to risk parents' possible displeasure at discovering they have a growing human being in their home.

Descending the stairs in a new Hart-Schaffner and Marx suit styled with slim lapels, horizontal breast pocket and narrow pocket flaps is James Adams. Completing this spring outfit is a Manhattan wash-and-wear shirt and a pair of Stetson shoes.

You Don't HAVE to Get Accustomed to the New Sack Fashions

By RUTH MILLETT

"You'll just have to get used to the new silhouette," said the saleslady, in the tone one uses to an unreasonable child. I had balked at trying on a sack dress with a bow where, in my personal opinion, no bow belongs.

Well, this is fair notice that I don't HAVE to get used to the sack dress. And I don't intend to get used to it.

I've gotten used to wearing glasses when I read.

I've gotten used to seeing some "silver threads among the gold" when I look in the mirror.

I'm even getting used to the idea that whoever reaches the moon first will control the earth.

Some changes just come along and there's nothing you can do about them.

But no little man in Paris is going to tell me that I've got to get used to some outlandish style he happened to dream up to keep woman from looking like women.

If I want to I can shudder every time I see a woman in a sack.

I can swear I'll never get into one myself and stick by the decision—if I'm not afraid of looking as though I'd missed the last three issues of Vogue magazine.

And that is exactly what I intend to do. You have to get used to enough things in life without trying to get used to sack dresses.

And I'll be glad to have any woman who feels the same way I do join the WWWW. (What's Wrong With Waists?) Society of America.

Women of Moose Plan Penny Supper

Women of the Moose are planning a penny dinner to be held Tuesday at the Moose Hall, with Mrs. Keneth Riggs as chairman.

Crust Forms on Meatloaf Seals Juices

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Instead of the usual meat loaf, try a ham and beef loaf for a change. Mrs. Jack Greathouse thinks her recipe is one of the best. With it she serves a horseradish sauce.

Mrs. Greathouse is a member of Beta Theta Phi sorority. She enjoys playing Bridge. The Greathouses have two grandchildren.

HAM AND BEEF LOAF
By Mrs. Jack Greathouse

2 pounds ground beef
1 pound smoked ham, ground
⅓ cup quick tapioca
2 cups milk
½ cup green pepper, chopped
1 small onion, chopped
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Paprika
1 bud garlic, minced fine

Mix all together, form into loaf and place in pan. The secret of this meat loaf is in the baking.

Put half an inch of water in the pan. Bake at 400 degrees until a crust forms on the loaf. Cover, reduce heat to 300 degrees and bake 3 hours.

Horseradish Sauce

½ cup cream, whipped
1 teaspoon horseradish
1 tablespoon mayonnaise

Whip cream, fold in other ingredients. Serve with ham loaf.

Sylvan Shores Club Sews Cancer Pads

Mrs. Milo Struble opened her Woodbine drive home Wednesday evening to Sylvan Shores Women's Club. Project of the evening was sewing on cancer pads.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Eldred Mathes, Mrs. Clarence Denhoff, Mrs. Earl McHugh and Mrs. Clara Livingston. Mrs. Felix Ballard will open her Sylvan Shores drive home for a card party at the next meeting.

Hosts Church Unit

Mrs. Alford Bell hostessed members of Mary Martha Circle of Baldwin Avenue EUB Church Wednesday in her Garner street home. Cancer pads were made before luncheon. Mrs. Mary Sprague and Mrs. Grand Burlison participated in the program.

Society Sponsors Movies on Cancer

One hundred and seventy-five women were present at St. Michael Hall Tuesday evening when St. Michael Altar Society sponsored a number of films on the subject of cancer.

Mrs. Wayne Scott showed the films, which were produced by the American Cancer Society. The film, "Time and Two Women," highlighted the program. Dr. James R. Blakeney presided at a question and answer period which followed.

Circle Has Meeting

Mary Martha Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church met in the Spence street home of Mrs. Ralph Clara for a dessert luncheon Wednesday. Participating in the program were Mrs. John Lamont and Mrs. Irl Williams.

Faculty Beats Alums, Seniors in Basketball at St. Frederick High

As the Patron Drive for the approaching senior play drew to a close today, students at St. Frederick High School were investigating the last possible sources of patrons and ads.

Sunday a basketball game was held between the faculty and a few alumni and the senior boys. The faculty emerged victorious by a 48 to 39 score.

The junior and senior girls viewed a movie Tuesday concerning the teaching profession which proved very interesting. "Not By Chance" gave information concerning the academic as well as psychological aspects in teaching.

Orion Pupils to Rule School for a Day

Application forms for student government day jobs are now available at Lake Orion Community High School.

A student to be eligible for any position, from janitor to superintendent of schools, must have at least a B- average, and a B average in a class he is applying to teach.

April 9 has been set as student government day by the student council and the executive council of the National Honor Society, who are joint sponsors.

Monday night the Future Teachers Association heard a panel of teachers on "Why I Chose a Teaching Career." Roy Vanette, counselor, was moderator, while Mrs. Thomas Dodds, who is in her first year of teaching, William Fredo, junior high teacher, and Dorothy Bankert, another teacher, were panel members.

Singers Present 'The Holy City' at Rochester

SUNDAY — The Rochester High School Vocal Department will present A. R. Gaul's "The Holy City".

The program will be held in the Rochester High School Gymnasium, beginning at 4 p.m. Joining with the high school choir and chorus will be the choir from the Lutheran, Congregational, Methodist, and Episcopal Churches in Rochester.

Soloists will be Karen Yakey, a senior, Alice Trimble, former Rochester elementary music teacher, Harvey Vincent, Rochester High School graduate, and J. Vaughn Heard, of the Rochester Lutheran Church.

WTHS-East Lansing to Swap Students

The student council of Waterford Township High School has arranged a student exchange program with East Lansing High School this year.

Students from East Lansing will attend WTHS for one week beginning Monday. Students from Waterford will go to East Lansing the week of April 14.

Nominations for students for the local exchange program were taken this week. This will be the fourth year WTHS has participated in an exchange program. Six students will be selected from grades 10 through 12.

At the French club meeting recently guest speaker was French-born Jacqueline Elliott, of Ferndale. She talked about her first impressions of the United States upon her arrival from France. Her speech was in both English and French. French I classes from Isaac E. Crary Junior High School were also guests of the WTHS club.

Junior and senior members of the Future Social Workers club spent an afternoon at the School of Social Work in the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, Tuesday. They made a tour of the school, visited classes, and talked with professors.

DANCE TONIGHT

"Springtime Jamboree," a country styled dance sponsored by the junior class of WTHS, will be held tonight from 8 to 11 p.m. in the gym.

Members of the GAA (Girl's Athletic Association) Letter Club attended the Detroit Red Wings-Toronto Maple Leafs hockey game Tuesday.

Last night was the first presentation of the Speech II play "The Sleeping Beauty." The final performance will be tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Committee chairmen working on the play are: Jean Rexford and Loetta Lyon, posters; Diane McIntosh, costumes; Gary Elwell, props; Chuck Heathcott, staging; and Dennis Wisniewski, tickets.

Wednesday Y-Teens club members were guests of the Hi-Y for a swimming party at the YMCA in Pontiac.

Of the fourteen girls competing for the "Miss Waterford" title, nine are seniors at WTHS. They are Coila Anderson, Mary Beechum, Stevie Boylan, Bonita Brookshear, Janie Martini, Carole Moore, Joyce O'Neil, Bonnie Williams, and Nancy Young. The final judging will be this week-end.

"Dino," the second Dramatics club play of the year, will be presented next week on Friday and Saturday night.

Misses Inman, Dickerson Rate at Clarkston

Clarkston High School senior class standings announced this week revealed that Judy Inman and Judy Dickerson are class valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively.

Judy Inman led the class with an average of 3.90 out of a possible 4. "A" average. Judy Dickerson followed with 3.62.

Others in the top ten included: Mary Inman, Rea Watterworth, Linda Spangler, Alice Lounsbury, Dianne Chapman, Ann Lowrie, Carolyn Biber, and Nancy Knox.

The student council has been busy the past few weeks getting concessions organized for the school carnival. One committee is planning the special event of the Carnival, the crowning of the King and Queen. Voting will be conducted on a penny-a-vote basis. The carnival is scheduled for April 18.

Two Madison Bowling Leagues Make Students Strike Lovers

The action-packed Bowling Club at Madison Junior High School, under the direction of Clark Balch, Dean Hall and Thomas Shara, all teachers, has become one of the school's most exciting activities this year.

The club consists of boys' and girls' leagues totaling 75 members, which bowl a full schedule of 21 weeks, plus three tournaments. Each member is fully sanctioned by both the American Junior Bowling Congress and the Bowling Proprietors of Michigan.

Approximately 20 trophies and the same number of certificates will be presented to winners of each division at a banquet planned for April 9 at the Huron Bowl.

Money for the prize fund has been donated by Joe Bonfiglio and Dominic Mazza, owners of Huron Bowl. Other trophies have been presented by the school. Banquet funds were raised by the club members through activities projects at school.

Enthusiasm has carried many members into tournaments. All will compete in the club-sponsored singles tournament planned for April 2 in which a boy and girl singles champion will be crowned. Forty are entered in the International Mail-O-Graphic tourney of the American Junior Bowling Congress. Others will be entered in the State Junior Championships sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors of Michigan.

At present; two ninth graders are leading each league. They are Beverly Herener with an average of 129 and Jim Smith with a 136 average.

The approxiate average of the boys is 95, while the girls usually total around 80.

Currently on display at Madison is a display of many materials and equipment, as well as the club trophies and certificates.

The first meeting of the new Madison Student Investment Club was held recently.

This club was formed to teach sound investment policies and of the American free enterprise system. Eighty students, under the direction og Dennis Beach, Brooks Robertson and Marge Fairbanks, are working out a core curriculum around this subject which will include math, social studies and English.

Officers elected to head the group include Art Solomon, president; Duwaine Raatz, vice president; David Wade, secretary, and Ginger Doge, treasurer.

Watling Lercher and Co. is handling the investment end after the students study various companies in which they are interested in investing money.

AT EASTERN

The cast consisted of Jim Pointer, Karen Strong, Joann Pearson, Paulette Hempton, Mary Purvis, Don Lesco and Judy Bellows.

One hundred ninth grade students from social studies classes visited the state capitol in Lansing Tuesday to see the state legislature in action. The group also visited Michigan State Police headquarters and training school in East Lansing.

State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson welcomed the group, and Sen. L. Harvey Lodge presented the group to the Senate. Governor Williams and Secretary of State James Hare also received the group. This was the second group from Eastern to make the trip to Lansing this semester. The trip is an activity planned to further the study of state government.

AT LINCOLN

Lincoln Junior High School will be participating in the testing program during the next two weeks.

The ninth graders will take a school ability test and a reading ability test. The scores attained on these tests will not be used to grade the students' report cards, but rather to help them to know if they are working up to their potential.

The eighth grade will be taking a mathematics achievement test to ascertain whether they have gained the necessary skills.

A new member has been added to the faculty. She is Mrs. Jean Frost. Mrs. Frost replaces Jean Stolzman, home economics teacher in charge of sewing, who died this month.

National Library Week has not been by-passed by Lincoln's Library Club. They are displaying posters which represent the two mottos, "Wake Up and Read" and "For a Better Read, Better Informed America." Bookmarks have been made by the print shop under the direction of George Gary.

AT WASHINGTON

Rosemary Wandell, girls' physical education director, has announced plans for a volleyball tournament to begin soon. Any girl interested may enroll.

"FOLLOW THROUGH" — So say James Capisterant, 428 Brooks Rd. (left) and Phillip Wells, 2763 E. Walton Blvd., Pontiac Township (right) to Ruth Ann Kramp, 936 Emerson St., as she attempts to make a strike. Capisterant is president and Wells is secretary of the Madison Junior High School Boys' Bowling League. Miss Kramp is president of the girls' league. Both leagues are now preparing for the tournaments which start in two weeks.

Avondale Future Teachers to Tour Mt. Pleasant

Avondale's Future Teachers Club will visit Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant tomorrow and Sunday. Members of the club will be overnight guests of several dormitories on campus. This will give students a chance to find about college curriculum and campus life.

SEEK FOSTER HOME

Homes for a foreign exchange student for next fall are still being considered. A family is only given the opportunity of being foster-parents to a foreign exchange student for a period of a year.

Any interested party may call Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson, present foster - parents of exchange student Eckart Keller at FE 5-5497 or R. V. Crowell, principal of Avondale High School.

Avondale is awaiting the final selection of their candidates for an American exchange student by the American Field Service. The student will be selected about April 1, and will go abroad in June.

Students are helping raise funds for the dual purpose. Wednesday, the juniors were victorious over the freshmen in an inter-class basketball game. Thursday, the sophomores beat the seniors. The proceeds of the nominal admission to see the game, were turned over to the A.F.S. fund.

Today will be the climax with the victors, sophomores, playing the faculty. Again the proceeds will be given to the fund.

Plan Senior Play 'Too Many Girls' for Wednesday

Wednesday, "Too Many Girls," the senior play at Emmanuel Christian High School will be presented.

The play will be given at 7:30 at Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Sixty new books are to be added to the library of the Emmanuel Christian School and Midwestern Baptist Seminary.

This week the seniors at Emmanuel Christian School have been discussing their senior trip, which will take place May 18 through May 24. They will go to New York City.

The juniors and seniors have made plans for their annual banquet to be held on April 26. The sophomores have plans made for their banquet on May 30 and the freshman annual banquet is to be held on March 28.

To Hold League Sing at West Bloomfield

The All-League Vocal Concert has been set for Tuesday, at West Bloomfield High School. The concert will start at 8 p.m. and featuring the top 16 vocal students from schools represented in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Other concerts will be given at the following schools: Thursday, at Northville, 10:30 a.m. and at Clarenceville, 2:00 p.m. Price of admission will be 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

Tomorrow, the Wayne-Oakland League Forensics Association will meet at West Bloomfield High School. Each school will have students competing in debate, declamation, humorous readings, interpretative readings, and ex tempore speaking.

First place winners in this contest will then compete in the regional contest to be held at Lansing in April.

Judges of the contest Saturday will be as follows: Dr. Moiree Compere and Thomas Long from Michigan State University, Dr. Rupert Cortright and James McMonagle from Wayne State University.

Donate Funds to Charities

4 Pupils to Represent Union of South Africa at Mock U.N. Session

By WILLIAM BANK

Monday members of the Pontiac Central High School Latin Club and the students in Iama C. Hook's Latin classes will sell their bi-annual newspaper, the Epistolae Scholae.

The price of this paper is a donation of five or more cents and all profits will be given to charities including the American Red Cross, Boys' Town, Girls' Town, and a Pontiac Soldiers' War Memorial in the Washington Cathedral.

This issue of the Epistolae Scholae is dedicated to the late Mary Parrish, a speech teacher and the advisor of Playcrafters Club.

Other items include poems, jokes, a story of the Roman theater, and a puzzle. Although it is published by the Latin Club it is not written in Latin.

The staff of the Latin paper is headed by Sue Koprince and Johanna Lampi. Assisting the co-editors are the junior high school editors who are in charge of sales in the junior highs. The junior high editors include Valerie Vasbinder, Washington; Barbara Shadley, and Kenneth Freer, Eastern; and Dolores Kasten, Madison.

Other staff members are Judy Dearing, publicity; Sherry Fink, cover design and cut.

TO ATTEND MOCK UN

Four PCH students will attend a mock United Nations assembly at Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan, tomorrow. Each of the eighty-two high schools in Southern Michigan that are participating will be assigned a member nation of the UN to represent.

The students going from PCH are Gail Sedrick, Paul Tremper, Claudia Wasick, and Mike Newhouse. They will be representing the Union of South Africa and are sponsored by PCH and the Pontiac Rotary Club.

The theme for this year's Dolphins Show is "Dolphins in Disneyland." It will be presented by the swim club from April 23 to April 26.

The new members of the band staff contain five girls, a very new development. The girls are on the staff with a trial plan, and if they work out all right they will become permanent staff members.

New band managers are William Rotsel and Terry Wilkens. They will be assisting John Howell and Richard Wiles, the present managers.

Among the new band librarians are Elsie Nelson, Merlyn Shook, Mary Coleman and Carol Carr. The new members of the equipment room and instruments staff are Richard Goodwin, Margaret Begovitch, Melvin Williams and Nancy MacAfee.

The band will give five concerts this spring. The four concerts at the junior high school will be climaxed by their spring concert in the gymnasium of PCH.

ADD TO READING

Some new books have been added to the required book list for students taking college preparatory English. Included in these are Greek and Roman classics.

"The addition of mythology and longer Homer classics," says Robert F. Beauchamp, the English department head, is intended to broaden and strenthen the literature background of college preparatory students."

A student who completes the the college English course will have read 35 great American and English works.

Learn Fruit Growing Tricks Tomorrow

The planting and care of fruit trees will be demonstrated tomorrow morning at an open meeting held on the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital.

Karl D. Bailey, district horticultural agent, Michigan State University extension service, will discuss many fruit growers' practices at the orchard demonstration.

Bailey and Paul Hagle, orchard manager of the institution, will demonstrate the pruning and planting of new trees.

How deep to plant young trees, what fertilizer should be used and how to produce strong scaffold branches and crotches will be answered during the meeting.

A quick method to determine if fruit trees will blossom since cold winters often freeze off the dormant flower buds of the fruits will be explained.

A different pruning strategy will be shown for trees in which the fruit buds have frozen.

Discussion will also be conducted about the large mature apple trees in the hospital orchard and ways to keep trees low or reduce the height of very large trees.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. The orchard is located five blocks east of Telegraph road on Elizabeth Lake road at the truck entrance.

Here Are Some Pointers

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Strawberries are one of the most productive and widely grown of all home fruit crops. They are easily transplanted, responsive to fertilizezr and easy to pick.

Some of the rules to successful home grown berries are as follows:

1. Plant as early as possible, at least by mid-April.

2. Plant nursery stock grown from virus free parents.

3. Use adequate fertilizer, control weeds, and cover the vines with straw during the winter.

An advantage to early planting of strawberries aids the problem of adequate new runners from the parent plants. With the plants spaced 1½ feet apart in rows three to five feet apart, it is necessary for each parent plant to produce eight to 12 well rooted runners by mid-July.

Often it seems the runners are just getting started by this time, but from the standpoint of yield, only runners well rooted by July 15 will be productive. Runners developing later only crowd the patch and prevent sunshine and bees from reaching the flowers in the spring.

Though strawberries may be grown in any manner of soil, good drainage is a must. Standing water during the winter and spring always results in reduced yield or complete loss of the plants. Good strawberry land is sandy loam because of good drainage and ability to plow and plant early in the spring.

Many varieties are grown in the Pontiac area, and Premier and Robinson are two of the leaders. Though Premier does not yield quite as well, it produces a large juicy berry ideal for freezing and home use. Robinson is a heavier producer, vines better and is not so subject to fruit rot. It is not as flavorable nor as dark colored as Premier.

Many other varieties are very good when grown for home use.

In the past five years virus free strawberries have been developed and their superiority has been astounding. Virus free plants of the same variety have often doubled commercial yields over field run plants. Most nurserymen now have plants produced from such stock with very little increase in price.

Good fertilization on good plants is the key to good yields. Spreading 15 pounds of 5-20-20 per 1,000 square feet of prospective patch is necessary before planting. About two weeks after planting, apply 12-12-12 or 10-10-10 as a side dress fertilizer at the rate of three pounds per 100 feet of row.

Because strawberry plants set bloom buds in late July, a broadcast application of eight pounds of 12-12-12 or similar fertilizer per 100 feet of row in early July will contribute to heavy bloom the following spring.

Tuberous Begonias Reign as Modern Flower Queen

By MRS. JAMES C. CLARKE SR.

Pontiac Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assoc., Inc.

This is the first in a series of articles by a member of one of the 27 branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assoc., Inc., throughout the area which will be printed on each of the farm and garden pages this year.)

Until the arrival of the tuberous begonia, the orchid was "Queen of the Field." Today, the orchid is "Queen Mother" and the tuberous begonia has become the most beguiling "Young Queen" of all modern day flowers.

This is due to the wax-like perfection of its many types of blossoms as well as the long range of available radiant colors. There are plain varieties similar to a camellia in shape which are red, organge, yellow, white or copper tones.

The rosebud, carnation and pecot types in pink or peach shades, white or garnet red are beautiful varieties. The newest addition to the tuberous begonia line is a climbing variety to plant in hanging baskets.

The bulbs should be planted indoors in shallow flats the last of March or early April. Use sterilized soil with some peat moss and a few bits of charcoal and only a small amount of soil for the top covering. The prepared boxed violet soil is also excellent for this.

AVOID MOLD, BOLD DECAY

Keep the flats where they will receive good light. Water moderately with tepid water (never very cold) about every two or three days. It is important to keep them warm and not too wet to avoid mold and bulb decay.

When the plants are an inch or two high, turn frequently so that the stalks will grow straight and tall and not bend toward the light.

A protected north west exposure is the ideal planting location with a small amount of sunshine. The area should have shade at least half of the day.

The bed is at its best to these tender plants when it is worked well with plenty of old fashioned "barnyard" fertilizer mixed with good loam, not sand or clay.

When transplanting from flat to bed, be careful to take as much soil as possible with each bulb. Plant in a shallow hole, pressing enough earth around the plants to hold firmly but do not plant too deep. Water the roots moderately by running the water gently from a hose without the nozzle. Extremely cold water is not advisable and should be kept off the leaves.

The plants are ready for planting when they are four or five inches high but to avoid frost or chilly nights, wait until the first of June before transferring them to their permanent location.

The begonia is a one sided plant with blooms usually appearing on the side where the leaves are pointed. Pay attention to this when transplanting or you may be disappointed later when you discover the blossoms are facing the rear of the flower bed.

When the blooms appear, the small side blossoms may be pinched off to give added strength to the main flower yet, some of these are very beautiful too and I have often left them on the stem.

LET STALKS DRY

At the first fall frost, move the bulbs indoors for winter and leave the stalks on the bulbs at least until they are dry. They may remain this way until spring planting time although many people remove the stalks after the drying-out period and store the bulbs in vermiculite.

Feel free to pick begonias during the summer months. If the bed is right and to their liking, there will never be a lack of abundance of large wonderful flowers. They are very prolific and though a brittle and delicate plant requiring mild weather and gentle care, will bloom in profusion from June until frost in the fall.

(Next week, Mrs Paul Herbst, a member of the Waterford branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assoc., Inc., will tell us how to make a perennial bed.)

Shipping to Lag on Upper Lakes

Lower Waters Steel Manufacturing Makes an Early Start Needless

CLEVELAND (AP) — The pace of upper lakes navigation will be around three weeks behind that of last year, it was indicated today by the Lake Carriers Assn.

After the organization's ice committee met with Coast Guard officials a spokesman summarized the prospects for upper lakes navigation in this manner:

The Coast Guard found in a survey of vessel operators that lower lakes steel manufacturing has made it unnecessary to get the iron ore moving down the lakes in a hurry.

Last year the first ore boats cleared the Soo on April 5, but this year the cutter Mackinaw will wait until April 15 to try to enter Whitefish Bay and Lake Superior. And it will be about May 1 before very many iron ore boats will swing into action.

In the Straits of Mackinac the first activity will be about a week or 10 days behind last year, when it began on March 26. The cutter will be working in the straits and in Green Bay the last week of March and the first week of April. Tankers and crane vessels probably will initiate traffic in the first few days of the month.

The ice now is about 16 inches thick in the Straits of Mackinac and about 18 inches in Whitefish Bay, and less of Lake Superior is covered than usual. These conditions are a little more favorable than normal, but 24-inch ice is reported in the lower part of the St. Marys River.

Special marine weather broadcasts will be about two weeks later this year, starting April 15.

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIANS

ANSWER: Some races of men do not have a problem with shaving because they do not have heavy growths of hair on their faces. These races include the Chinese, Japanese and the American Indians. Since an Indian didn't have much hair on his face, he did not have to shave. When he wanted to remove any growth of hair from his face he used tweezers made of sea shells or two pieces of wood. Here is an Indian kneeling by a stream so he can see his reflection in the water. He is pulling out hairs from his chin, one at a time, with tweezers made of a twig. This is a slow process, but there not not many hairs on his face.

Modern Indians have adopted many of the white man's ways. You would probably find that most of them have modern safety razors like your father uses.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color this picture with crayons, making the sky blue, the water deeper blue with white edge, the leaves and grass green and the tree trunk brown. The Indian has a dark skin and wears a yellow buckskin coat and moccasins.

Musical Instruments Made From Oil Drums

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad — Musical natives of Trinidad "tune" oil drums by heating them and marking out areas on them while the metal is white-hot.

Once tuned, the "pans," as they are called, can be made to sound like marimbas or steel guitars.

These instruments for the so-called "steel bands" were first made during the war when the natives could not get regular instruments and had to improvise.

St. Louis Police to Use Dogs to Combat Crime

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis police probably will be using dogs to combat crime by next September.

Police officials indicated training of selected policemen in handling dogs will start in London within three or four weeks.

"If we can get these dogs on the street, our women will be safer," President H. Sam Priest of the Board of Police Commissioners said.

Man He 'Murdered' Is Back at His Job

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Ismael Pina can relax. Officers in Juarez, Mexico, says the man he thought he stabbed to death is back at work and declines to prosecute.

Out in Patterson, Calif., Police Chief Alex Kosich said Pina, 35, walked into his office and said, "I want to give myself up. I'm wanted for murder."

Chief Kosich said Pina told him he was in a fight in Juarez Sept. 3 and stabbed Francisco Molina, son of the sheriff, and Molina died the next day. He said he had fled to Las Cruces, N.M., then to Salinas, Calif., and then to Patterson last week.

A check in Juarez revealed that Molina received only a slight knife wound and was out of the hospital and back on his job the next day.

Black Hawks Paced by Skov

Wings Beaten, 5-4

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings closed out the road campaign in the regular National Hockey League season by dropping a 5-4 decision to the fifth place Chicago Black Hawks last night.

The loss gave the New York Rangers second place in the National Hockey League and left the Red Wings three points ahead of the fourth-place Boston Bruins.

The Wings and Bruins each have two games to play. Detroit closes out the regular campaign in a two-game home stand this weekend against Chicago and Montreal.

Detroit opened the scoring in the first period when Norm Ullman scored on a pass from Red Kelly at 4:22. Chicago was shorthanded at the time.

Chicago tied it up three minutes later when Ed Litzenberger rammed his 30th goal past Terry Sawchuk.

Skov then connected on the first of his two shots, and Bill Dineen made it 3-1 for the Hawks with a point-blank shot with less than four minutes remaining in the first period.

Alex Delvecchio stole a puck in Chicago ice and whipped it past Hawk goalie Glenn Hall. Jack McIntyre collected the Wings' last goal before Detroit pulled Sawchuk in an effort to get the tying score.

Boston, which was idle, can move past Detroit by winning both of its remaining games while the Wings lose both of theirs.

In last night's other game, the champion Montreal Canadiens whipped the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4 and set a league record for total goals in one season. The Canucks have 243 and the old mark was 236 by Detroit in 1950-1951.

Detroit Loses to LA Dodgers in Miami, 6-4

Sleater Fails to Hold Lead; Teams Play Again Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers ought to be glad that Miami is in the International League.

It would never do for them to play 11 games every season in the Miami Stadium.

It's a jinx park as far as the Tigers are concerned. They've played here five times and their record is a perfect 0-5 — or an imperfect 0-5, if you wish.

They came close last night, but no cigar. They led the Los Angeles Dodgers going into the seventh inning, but the West Coast team tied it up with two runs and won out with another pair in the eighth inning.

The score was 6-4 with Lefty Lou Sleater the loser in relief. Even the weather wasn't good. There wasn't a trace of the Miami moon. It was cool and windy. Only 2,281 showed up for the contest.

Don Drysdale, a lanky right-hander, pitched perfect ball against the Tigers through the first four innings. In retiring 12 batters in succession, Drysdale had only one ball hit to the outfield.

Frank Bolling drove Lau home with a double down the third base line for the Tigers' first hit of the contest. Another run scored when Billy Martin grounded out.

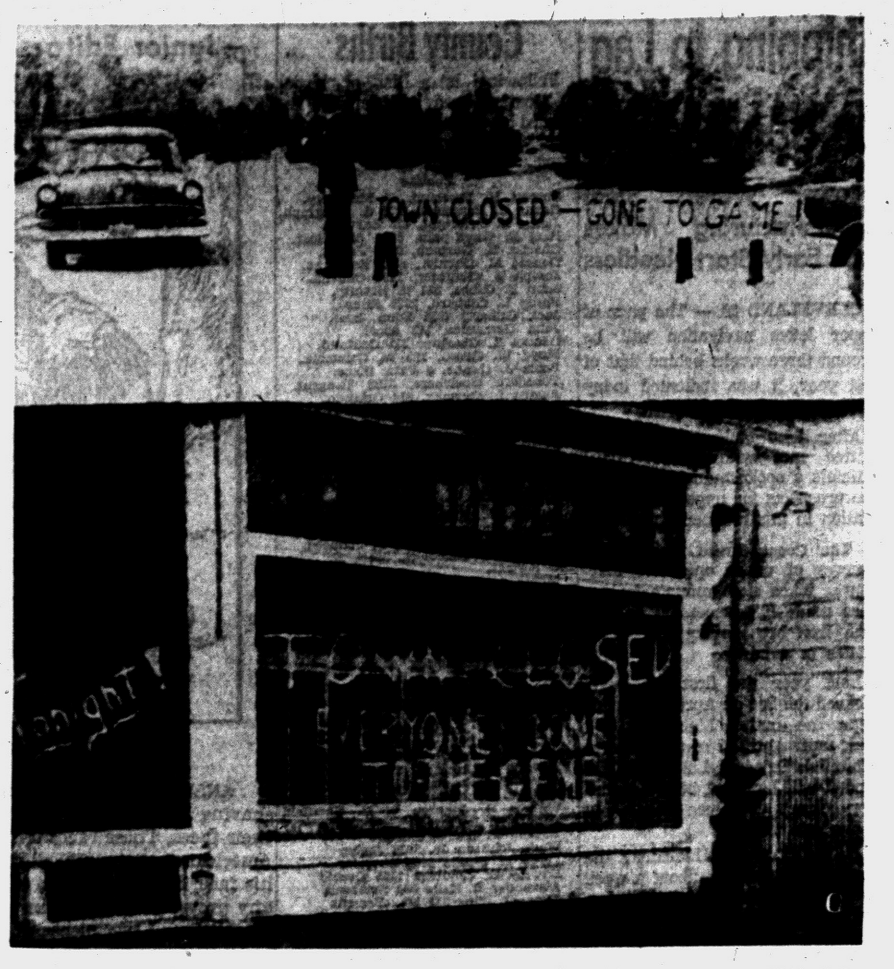

Harvey Kuenn dribbled a single down the third base line, sending Bolling to third, and Gail Harris pushed Bolling across with a single to right. Bertoia laced a single to center, scoring Kuenn, but Harris was out trying to reach third on the safety.

'Hawks Afraid' Says Piston Coach

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Red Rocha is convinced his Detroit Pistons still can take the St. Louis Hawks in the play-off battle for top Western Division honors in the National Basketball Assn.

"They're scared of us," Rocha said yesterday after reflecting on the Pistons 114-111 loss to the Hawks Wednesday night in the first of the best of seven playoffs. "You can see it in every move they make."

The second game of the series will be played here Saturday (2 p.m.) at the University of Detroit memorial field house. The third game will be played in St. Louis Sunday.

The Pistons showed regret, much disgust and some second-guessing after the loss to the Hawks.

The regret stemmed from Detroit's failure to control Cliff Hagan and hold off the Hawks in the final period after leading most of the way.

Rocha said the Pistons beat themselves with carelessness in the last five minutes of the game.

Hannum said Tuesday that the Pistons' Walter Dukes had been "getting away with murder" by using foul tactics against the Hawks.

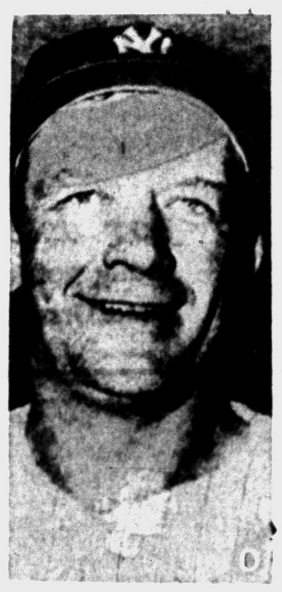

Wednesday night, Hannum jumped into a second period scrap between Piston star George Yardley and St. Louis' Win Wilfon.

Hannum was on the floor in the midst of a group of arguing players, apparently ready to go after Yardley himself.

Later Hannum went after Yardley on the foul line. After an exchange of words, Yardley went after the Hawks coach. Referee Mindy Rudolph stopped the Piston scoring ace. Hannum then became a special target of the Pistons.

Hady Beats Donovan in 'Grudge' Match

Jim Hady defeated Red Donovan in their return "grudge" match to feature this week's profssional wrestling show at Pontiac City Armory. It was a "no time limit" bout with the winner taking all the purse.

Joe Smith was awarded a decision over Casanova Lance when Lanse was disqualified on the 3rd fall. In the other bout, the "Masked Crusher" defeated Louie Papineau who was unable to continue after the first fall.

Hady and the "Masked Crusher" will clash in the next feature match, along with two other bouts, at the Armory on Wednesday night, April 2. Former pro wrestling favorite Bert Ruby will be the matchmaker.

Semi-Finals Tonight in Lansing

16 Prep Survivors Do Battle

EAST LANSING (AP) — Sixteen championship hopefuls — 11 gunning for their first title — square off tonight in the semi-finals of the state high school basketball tournament.

They are the survivors from almost 700 teams that started the tournament grind 17 days ago.

Among them is only one defending champion — Chassell, the Class D king. Chassell, riding high on its 63-game winning streak, also was champion in 1956.

Four others have tasted the championship fruit in other years. Dearborn Fordson won Class A honors in 1953 and Benton Harbor did it in 1941. River Rouge was a two-time Class B champion in 1954-55. Harbor Springs won the first Class C crown in 1929.

Tonight's eight survivors advance to the finals in a pair of doubleheaders tomorrow afternoon and night at Jenison Field House on the Michigan State University campus.

In Class A, Detroit Austin (21-0) goes against Fordson (14-5) and Flint Central (18-1) meets Benton Harbor (18-1).

The Class C and D semi-finalists will battle at the Lansing Civic Center. In Class C, Harbor Springs (17-5) meets West Michigan Christian of Muskegon (20-3) and Hudson (21-1) plays Highland Park St. Benedict (20-2). Chassell (25-0) plays Hanover-Horton (16-5) and Schoolcraft (21-0) goes against Owosso St. Paul (21-4) in Class D.

Austin, loser to Muskegon Heights in last year's final, is considered the team to beat in Class A. It chalked up a Detroit city championship three weeks ago and gained momentum in the state tournament.

Flint Central and Benton Harbor, however, must be accorded a good chance to capture the crown. Central eliminated defending champion Muskegon Heights Wednesday and hasn't been defeated since early season. Benton Harbor's single loss was inflicted by Muskegon Heights at the tail end of the regular season.

Hudson and Highland Park St. Benedict seem evenly matched.

One of the tournament's most enchanting questions is whether Chassell can go all the way again. Most of its tournament tests have been difficult. But Chassell has passed them all with productive Don Mattson doing most of the piloting. Few expect Chassell to have trouble tonight with Hanover-Horton.

Schoolcraft, the only other undefeated Class D quintet has kept pace with Chassell all the way this tournament. It has a high scorer in Larry Cole who could match Mattson. Schoolcraft is rated a slight choice over Owosso St. Paul.

Today's schedule:

At Jenison Field House
CLASS A
Flint Central (18-1) vs. Benton Harbor (18-1), 8 p.m.
Detroit Austin (21-0) vs. Dearborn Fordson (14-5), 9:30 p.m.
CLASS B
River Rouge (18-3) vs. Flint Technical (23-1), 5 p.m.
AT LANSING CIVIC CENTER
CLASS C
Hudson (21-1) vs. Highland Park St. Benedict (20-2), 8 p.m.
West Michigan Christian (20-3) vs. Harbor Springs (17-5), 9:30 p.m.
CLASS D
Schoolcraft (21-0) vs. Owosso St. Paul (21-4), 5 p.m.
Chassell (25-0) vs. Hanover-Horton (16-5), 6:30 p.m.

All-SVC Quintet Chosen

Pontiac failed to place a player on the first team of the All-Saginaw Valley Conference basketball selections which were selected in the balloting of the coaches and writers.

Champion Flint Central took two first team berths with Felix Miller and John Kirk while Flint Northern placed Reg Gillard on the team. His selection was the only unanimous choice as he was awarded 30 points in balloting.

Willie Thompson of Saginaw and Jay English of Bay City Central completed the first team.

Skiers from seven associations are competing in the championships including the Central Ski Assn. of Michigan and Wisconsin.

In addition to the girls slalom, skiers will compete in the boys cross country event today. Earl Chandler of Laconia, N.H., is top-seeded in the event.

D'Arcy Marsh of Putney, Vt., won the 1⅝ mile long course downhill race yesterday. His time was 1:32.

Pontiac's Jones in Action Tonight

Competes in Cleveland KC Meet; Delany Runs in Mile Feature

Pontiac's future Olympic candidate Hayes Jones goes after more records tonight in the Knights of Columbus meet at Cleveland.

The Eastern Michigan College sophomore sensation will lead an 11-man Huron team, including ex-Waterford ace Kerry Keating, into the last major indoor track event of the season.

Jones, who has dazzled the nation during the past weeks with his remarkable hurdles feats, will compete in the 55-yard highs against such top performers as Ohio State's Glenn Davis, Andy Gilbert of Winston Salem and Bill May of Indiana.

Keating has played a key role in helping keep the Eastern team rolling in the absence of Jones on several occasions. He will take part in the mile relay tonight.

Famed miler Ron Delany will go after his 24th straight triumph in a feature of the program. Speedster Ira Murchison of Western Michigan is among the defending champions.

Dayton, Xavier Reach NIT Finals

NEW YORK (AP)—Impressive victories by top-seeded Dayton and unranked Xavier have set up an all-Ohio championship game in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

The Flyers rode over St. John's of New York 80-56 and Xavier knocked off third-seeded St. Bonaventure 72-53 in last night's semi-finals in Madison Square Garden.

The finals will be played Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p.m., EST and will be preceded by a consolation game for third place between the Bonnies and St. John's.

Dayton advanced to the finals four times in its six previous NIT appearances and has yet to take home the championship. The Flyers were runnersup in 1951, 1952, 1955 and 1956.

"We would rather have played St. Bonaventure Saturday," said Blackburn. "We beat Xavier twice during the regular season and they'll be gunning for us. Also they're playing much better now than when we faced them." Dayton whipped the Musketeers 74-59 on Jan. 19 and 64-58 Feb. 16.

The crowd of 15,834 which braved a driving snowstorm to reach the Garden witnessed a sparkling individual performance by Xavier's Hank Stein. The 6-2 junior from Louisville, Ky. scored 27 points. He tossed 18 points in the first half, 10 of them in succession, as the Musketeers shot from behind to grab a 29-20 lead.

For a while it looked as though Dayton would have its hands full with St. John's. The Redmen led 39-38 in the fifth minute of the second half. But the Flyers forged in front behind the sharpshooting of Don Lane and Frank Case.

Jack McCarthy, Dayton's 6-6 center, was the game's high scorer with 25 points. Case had 23 and Lane 14. Alan Seiden, whose set shooting carried St. John's into the lead late in the first half, paced his team with 18 points.

Saturday's championship game will be nationally televised by

Ohio Prep Cage Sensation Under Observing Eyes

COLUMBUS, O. (INS) — The most sought after schoolboy cager in America, point-a-minute Jerry Lucas of Middletown, completes his high school career this weekend as the Middies seek their third straight Ohio Class AA championship.

Among the thousands at St. John Arena in Columbus tonight to see Lucas and Middletown in action will be college scouts from schools throughout the nation, hoping to land the six-ten senior center.

Middletown, which has won seven crowns since 1944, is favored to capture its third in succession, equaling the record set by Dayton Stivers in 1928-29-30.

The tourney's big attraction is Lucas, who has scored a total of 2,435 points in leading Middletown to an Ohio record 76-game streak and never has fouled out. His 76-game average is 31.1 points a game.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Tenth of 8 series)

By BEN OLAN

One of the big reasons the Chicago White Sox did not win the American League pennant last season was their failure to beat the New York Yankees more often. The White Sox won only 8 of the 22 games played between the teams.

In the following situation Manager Al Lopez' strategy helped beat the league champions. Study the problem, then decide what you would have done.

The Yankees lead the White Sox 1-0 in the top of the sixth at New York. Whitey Ford (L) is pitching for New York. There is one out when Larry Doby receives a base on balls. Jim Landis grounds to third baseman Andy Carey and both runners are safe when second baseman Bobby Richardson drops Carey's throw. Jim Rivera follows with a single to right, scoring Doby and moving Landis to third. Bubba Phillips (R) is the next batter with pitcher Billy Pierce (L) to follow.

Would you:

a. Have Rivera and Landis try a double steal?

BUBBA PHILLIPS

b. Order Phillips to try a squeeze bunt?

c. Put in a pinch-hitter for Phillips?

d. Let Phillips swing away?

(Other data: Landis has eight stolen bases in 25 games; Phillips is hitting .213 for the season and is 0-for-2 in the game; Ron Northey (L) and Walt Dropo (R) are the available pinch-hitters.)

Result: B — Phillips squeezes home Landis successfully, dropping a neat bunt down the third base line. Chicago picks up another run and wins 3-1 (May 21)

Wayne Is Fencing Threat

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—New York and Columbia universities, between them possessors of more than half the National Collegiate fencing championships were offered, rank as favorites in a 25-school field for the annual tournament opening here today.

New York University, champion three seasons, nosed out four-time titlist Columbia in the championships at University of Detroit last spring. Each has been a runner-up twice.

Wayne State boasts the only defending champion, Bruce Davis, who won the foil last year.

Huskies Snap Maples' Track Record, 51½-48½

Birmingham's high school track squad today was nursing its wounds after the Maples' 1st dual meet defeat in five years. Coach Kermit Ambrose's squad was edged at Redford High gymnasium, 51½-48½, for the break in a string of 27 consecutive wins. Yesterday's dual was the 28th for the Eastern Michigan champions.

One Maple record fell with Chuck Gibson's 53 feet 8 inch shot-put victory. Other Maple wins were Bill Alcorn, one of the state's best the 12 foot 1⅝ inch pole vault by prep jumpers; 4-way tie in high jump by Bob Gertz and Harold Chappell (BHM) and two Redford men at 5-6; Dick Boyd, half mile (2:06.5); Doug Booth, 30-yard low hurdles; 8-lap relay team (Mark Hall, Booth, Jack Kroll, Bob Kulow).

Lions Still Not Through Trading

George Wilson Keeps Eye on 'Swap' Market

Detroit Coach Wants New Blood Coming in All the Time

DETROIT (AP) — Coach George Wilson says he isn't finished swapping veterans for high 1959 draft choices in a move to bring new blood to his National Football League champion Detroit Lions.

"You can't trade too many veterans all at one time," Wilson said yesterday after announcing his second trade in as many days, "but we're still way above average. We are still in the swap market for good football players."

Wilson traded offensive end Dorne Dibble to the New York Giants yesterday. Wednesday he sent veteran defensive tackle Ray Krouse to the Green Bay Packers. Both went in exchange for 1959 draft choices.

day after the Lions won the 1957

"Too many clubs hang on to the same players," Wilson said. "All of a sudden everybody gets old at the same time and you have an old team. You've got to have new blood coming in all the time."

Wilson said Dibble would help the Giants as would Krouse the Packers.

Dibble, 29 next month, joined the Lions in 1951, after starring at Michigan State. His best year was 1954 when he caught 46 passes for 786 yards and six touchdowns. Krouse came to Detroit from the Giants two seasons ago and has been a standout defensive lineman.

Wilson isn't worried about immediate replacements for Krouse and Dibble despite his trade for 1959 draft choices.

"Assuming we get a big running back from the three or four we drafted, we'll move Howard Cassidy into the pass catching spot where we used Dibble and we'll still be able to use him to run if we need him. Dibble was only a receiver," Wilson said. "In the line we're gambling that (Alex) Karras can make it."

Karras, two-time All-America at Iowa, was drafted by the Lions this winter. Cassidy, the Lions' first draft choice in 1956, is the former Ohio State All-America halfback.

Name Little A-A Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy Daniels, a ball-hawking 5-11 whiz from Brooklyn who led South Dakota to the NCAA Small College championship, dominates the 1958 Litte Basketball All-America announced today by The Associated Press.

Joining the diminutive senior on the first team are 6-3 Dick Barnett, whose sensational set shooting sparked Tennessee State to its second straight NAIA championship; 6-6 Jim Smith of Stuebenville, Ohio; 6-4 Mel Peterson of Wheaton, Ill. and 6-9 Bennie Swain of Texas Southern.

They were chosen on the basis of recommendations from sports writers and broadcasters throughout the country. Similar to the big All-American, announced two weeks ago, four are Negroes—Daniels, Barnett, Smith and Swain.

Daniels led South Dakota to a 64-60 upset over defending champion Wheaton in the semifinals of the NCAA Small college tourney. Then, in the final against St. Michaels, Vt. he handled the ball like a magician and tossed in 40 points as he led the Coyotes to the title, 75-53, for their 20th straight victory.

Barnett, a junior, was sensational on 20-foot set shots as he sparked Tennessee State to an 85-73 victory over top seeded and previously unbeaten Western Illinois for the NAIA title. Voted the Most Valuable Player in the tourney, he scored 11 of his 13 baskets on those sets that snapped Western Illinois' 27-game winning streak.

Peterson, a soph, was Wheaton's star all season as the Crusaders lost only three of 30 games and a 22-game streak that was snapped by South Dakota. Swain, a senior, led Texas Southern to a third place finish in the NAIA. Smith, also a senior, was highly recommended for his rebound ability and reportedly is considered a prize catch by the pros.

The second team is composed of Rudy Finderson of Brandeis, Dick Kross of American International Nick Nicodemo of St. Michaels, Vt., Ed Kazakavich of Scranton and Vern Baggenstoss of St. Cloud, Minn. Teachers.

Paul Benes of Hope was named for honorable mention.

FIRST TEAM

Jim Smith, Steubenville, 6-6, senior from Homestead, Pa.
Jim Daniels, South Dakota, 5-11, senior, Brooklyn, N.Y.
Dick Barnett, Tenn. State, 6-3, junior, Gary, Ind.

SECOND TEAM

Dick Kross, American Intl., 6-5, senior, Oakville, Conn.
Vern Baggenstoss, St. Cloud, 6-3, junior, Alabany, Minn.
Ed Kazakavich, Scranton, 6-5, junior, Scranton, Pa.

Puts on the Polish

Sugar Sharp in Workout

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson is putting a high polish on his left hook for delivery to middleweight champion Carmen Basilio Tuesday night.

It won't come in the form of a surprise package. Basilio knows the Sugar Man has a left hook. If he doesn't, Gene Fullmer will tell him.

Robinson is cagey enough to show onlookers just what he wants to show them in sparring sessions. Two days ago he appeared so rusty and acted so much his age of 37 that odds favoring Basilio reportedly rose to 11-5.

But yesterday he displayed the cat-like grace and the sharp, powerful punches that have made him legend. His timing was near perfect. The odds well could settle down to 8-5, like they were the first of the week.

While Robinson is shaking himself down, Basilio is going into semi-secrecy. Only close friends and members of the press will be permitted to watch him work out.

Tulane Coach Elected Prexy

Cliff Wells Voted Head of Coaches Association; 24-Second Idea Beaten

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The college basketball coaches' organization had a new president today and — they hoped — the same rules under which the game was played this season.

Cliff Wells of Tulane was chosen president of the National Assn. of Basketball coaches last night during a meeting at which the coaches voted 77-6 against recommending any major rules changes.

Wells succeeds A. T. Gill of Oregon State, who becomes a member of the NABC's board of directors. The overwhelming vote against any major changes in the way the game is played sets somewhat of a precedent, ending a decade of wholesale switches in basketball regulations.

Chief proposals thumped down were establishing a 24-second limit on getting off a shot, and still further revision of the goal-tending rule. The coaches will recommend that steps be taken to speed up the entry of a player into a game.

Pistons Game on TV Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time this season the Detroit Pistons will pipe back one of their road games for showing on Detroit television Sunday.

The Pistons said today they have arranged to have the second half of their National Basketball Assn. playoff game at St. Louis televised (WXYZ-TV). The game is the third in the best of seven series for the Western Division title. It will start at 4 p.m. (EST) with the television broadcast set for 5 p.m.

Collins' Retirement Leaves Phils Desperate

The Associated Press

The first baseman problem with the Philadelphia Phillies remained desperate today when Joe Collins of the New York Yankees retired from baseball after being sold to the Quaker City club for the $20,000 waiver price.

"If I can't be a Yankee, I'm through with baseball," the 35-year-old Collins said at St. Petersburg, Fla., about a half an hour after he was told of the transaction yesterday.

Philadelphia had sought a first sacker after Ed Bouchee, an outstanding 1957 rookie was forced to undergo psychiatric treatment.

Harry Anderson was given a crack at the job by Mayo Smith, Phils' manager, but now is back in the outfield. Yesterday when the Yankees trounced the Phillies in an exhibition game 11-8 Frank Herrera, a Cuban with Triple A experience, played first.

Collins, of Union, N.J., has been in the Yankee organization since 1939. He played over 100 games each season until 1957, when in 79 contests he batted only .201, his poorest year. Bill Skowron is the regular Yankee first baseman, and Marv Throneberry is the No. 2 man after two good years with Denver.

"I'm anxious to get back to my home and family as quickly as I can," Collins said after talking with Roy Hamey, Phillies general manager for about 20 minutes. "I won't change my mind," he said.

Joe has three sons and Mrs. Collins is expecting another child. The lefthanded slugging Yankee veteran is connected with a Newark, N.J., trucking firm, and is associated with some other players in an Atlanta, Ga., insurance company.

The two most valuable players of 1957, Mickey Mantle of New York and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, both had two homers to lead their teams to victory in exhibition games.

Mantle's blasts and a double drove in six runs as the Yankees won their sixth straight, while Granny Hamner drove in four runs for the Phils with a triple, double and single.

Aaron also batted in four runs as the Braves belted the Cincinnati Redlegs 11-1 at Bradenton, Fla. Righthander Bob Buhl won his first spring game for the world champions.

Baltimore defeated Chicago 4-1 in the first game of a twin bill at Scottsdale, Ariz., but the Cubs blanked the Orioles 1-0 in 10 innings in the second game. Gus Triandos hit a double and two singles for Baltimore in the opener. In the second game Baltimore got only two hits off four Cub hurlers, and Chicago broke it up in the top of the tenth when Lee Walls doubled home Dale Long, who had singled.

The San Francisco Giants went 10 innings in defeating the Cleveland Indians 7-5 at Tucson, Ariz., on rookie catcher Bob Schmidt's homer. Singles by Foster Castleman and Eddie Bressoud plus a sacrifice added an insurance run.

Jack Urban gave up five runs at Fort Myers, Fla., and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Kansas City Athletics 7-4 behind the pitching of Ron Kline and Roy Face.

Auburn Cagers Bow to Dearborn, 55-37

Auburn 5 & 10 bowed to Dearborn, 55-37, in the championship final of the Class D Inter - City Recreation Association basketball tournament Thursday night at the Hamtramck High School boys' gym.

Auburn, Pontiac's "D" champion, had a chilly shooting percentage and the cold spell helped Dearborn to a 24-10 halftime lead. The 5 & 10 quintet never came close to catching up.

League Leaders Upset Victims

Two surprising results came out of the two-game card, last night, in the Waterford Recreation Basketball league, at Crary Junior High gymnasium.

In the first tilt' leading club Drayton Drugs came a cropper against Johnson - Anderson 69-54. The J-A club outplayed the Drugs after a first period 15-13 edge. At the half J-A went ahead 27-24 and stayed there. Henry Clauser's 2nd period 10 points set up the J.-A lead and Harvey Hernandez and Bill Pfchlert combined in the 2nd half for 28 to make the win stick. Hernandez had 17 for the game. Ed McNamara had 13 for Drugs.

Win was the fifth straight for the J-A club.

Big upset was the 63-60 win the M59 Sunoco over Hutchinson's Mobile Homes in double overtime. Count had been tied at 56-56 in regulation time, was 61-61 end of 1st overtime. Suunoco's Joe Boring then clinched victory with two free throws. Hutchinson had led in regulation time, up to 20 seconds from the end when Chuck Young's basket knotted the count. Young had 16 for the game. Hutchinson's Joe Umphrey 21 for top honors.

Geese Moving North

Additional evidence that spring is about here — or hereabouts — was given today in a report from Fred Parson, 716 Barkell, off Joslyn road. Parsons said he saw a "V" of 50 grey geese, presumably Canadas, headed north, at about 7 p.m. Tuesday. "They were flying low, and the sight was a welcome one. We were glad to see these harbingers of spring."

TWO PAIRS — Jack McCarthy (15) and Arlen Bockhorn (12) of Dayton outjump two St. John's players in the NIT at Madison Square Garden last night. Dick Engert (21) and Joe Daley (31) are the St. John players. Dayton won the semi-final game and meets Xavier in the finals tomorrow.

NCAA Semifinals Tonight With Kansas State Favored

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Three-time champion Kentucky and neophytes Temple, Kansas State and Seattle tonight begin the scramble at massive Freedom Hall that in 24 hours will lead one of the four to the NCAA basketball championship.

Kentucky (21-6) meets Temple (26-2) in the 8:30 p.m., EST, opening semifinal, followed by K-State (22-3) vs. Seattle (22-5) at about 10:30. Tonight's winners play for the title tomorrow night after a consolation game for third place. There will be a sel-out crowd of There will be a sell-out crowd of between 20,000 and 21,000, counting standing room each night.

Big bruising Kansas State, the Big Eight champion, rates even money favorite with the oddsmakers. Kentucky's Southeastern Conference kings, old hands at NCAA play with 10 appearances and three titles among the records they hold, moved up at a late hour as second choice at 9-5.

Temple, pride of the Middle Atlantic Conference and winner of 25 straight, was 3-1 and Seattle, the only "at large" survivor, 9-2 de- State and Temple on slightly wobspite the presence of All-America Elgin Baylor, the nation's No. 2 scorer with 33-point average. None except Kentucky has won an NCAA title, although Temple has tried twice, K-State three times and Seattle four.

All four teams went through final practices yesterday, Kansas bly legs. Both teams encountered flight delays en route here because of the widespread snowfall.

Temple's All-America Guy Rodgers wore a corset but said his back sprain, suffered in the Eastern regional at Charlotte, N. C., gave him no trouble.

Fitzgerald Is Host to Wrestling Meet

DETROIT (AP) — Teams from six Michigan colleges will join high school and other teams today and tomorrow in the 1958 Michigan AAU wrestling championships at Fitzgerald High School in suburban Warren.

Preliminary matches will be held tonight and tomorrow afternoon with the finals scheduled for tomorrow night.

Included in the entry list are squads from the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, Michigan State University, Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan and Western Michigan.

J. C. Pickering, farmer, Rochester, Michigan

Here's what J. C. Pickering says about Ford Dealer A-1 Used Cars...

"I HAVE FOUND THAT FORD DEALERS HONESTLY REPRESENT THE CONDITION OF USED CARS WHEN THEY SELL THEM"

But Mr. Pickering isn't the only one who has found that it pays to buy Ford Dealer A-1 Used Cars...

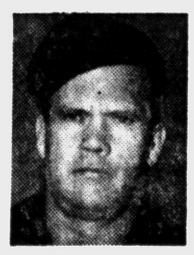

Joseph Vesco, miner, says, "I buy my used cars from my Ford Dealer because his prices are always right and I can always rely on what he tells me."

"The money I've saved on Ford Dealer Used Cars has helped me buy many things a man needs to raise a family," says Robert E. Hill, chemical company employee.

Maurice K. Brown, foreman, has bought several used cars from his local Ford Dealer because "I'm firmly convinced that the very best buy is an A-1 Used Car."

"I buy used cars from my Ford Dealer because he has always stood behind every used car he sells me," says Charles Simmons, truck driver.

Redleg Mound Coach Likes Change of Pace

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Pitching Coach Tom Ferrick is drilling Cincinnati Redleg farmhands in the fine art of delivering a change of pace.

"Youngsters almost without exception are afraid to throw one," says Ferrick. "They never quite realize that a slow one once in a while makes their fast ball look that much more effective. It doesn't have to be over the plate. Just show the batter you have it. That alone will worry him."

Told to Finish Sewer Planning

Will Make Farmington Trunkline Setup Ready for Building Projects

The Oakland County Public Works Board yesterday authorized the department to complete plans for trunklines for the Farmington sewage disposal system.

The board decided that plans for the trunklines should be available to builders and land developers who might want to install them for new housing developments.

The board also decided that the plans should be on hand to take advantage of any federal public works program that Congress might adopt.

Under such plans, federal money might be available for the work.

At present the Farmington sewage disposal system is before the Michigan Department of Health for approval, according to Harold K. Schone, acting director of the county's Public Works Dept.

Schone said the next step after state approval of plans will be to submit a proposed $4,900,000 bond issue to the Michigan Municipal Finance League for approval. The bond issue has already been authorized by the Board of Supervisors.

Also still in the works is the negotiating of contracts with Detroit to treat the sewage from the Farmington system.

Public Works Group to Testify in Senate on Sewer Projects

The Oakland County Board of Public Works and its acting director, Harold K. Schone, will testify before the U.S. Senate's Banking and Currency Committee.

Their testimony is sought on Senate Bill 3497 which would establish a revolving fund by sale of federal bonds to be loaned to municipalities for approved water and sewer projects.

The committee chairman Sen. William Fulbright (Dem-Ark) and the National Assn. of County Officials has selected the Oakland group to represent counties in testimony on the bill introduced by Fulbright.

Local units of government under the bill would have 50 years to repay loans to the federal government at the current interest rate on U.S. bonds plus a one-quarter of one per cent service charge.

The Oakland delegation is scheduled to testify at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Graham Cites Need for 'Spiritual Revival'

DETROIT (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham told a jam-packed Olympia Stadium audience last night that "only a spiritual revival can stop the tide that is sweeping us to H—l."

"This is a dangerous time for the United States and for the world," Graham told 18,000 persons attending a 20th anniversary meeting of the Voice of Christian Youth in Detroit.

The evangelist's audience filled the arena area of the stadium which normally holds a capacity crowd of 14,000 for sports events.

Graham's congregation, about half adults and half young people, sat absorbed as he delivered his hour-long sermon.

He quoted British philosopher Bertrand Russell:

"Unless we can solve our problems, I do not give a 50-50 chance that there will be one person left on the face of the world in 40 years."

Jimmy, 10, Janet, 9, Wanted to Elope

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP) — An "elopement" by James Shaw, 10, and Janet Herman, 9, both of El Paso, Tex., was nipped in the bud here recently. When picked up by police, young James was clutching two bus tickets from El Paso to Oklahoma City.

The children's parents arrived by car and took them home.

Pickup in Retail Sales Expected

Many Businessmen Greet Spring

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring has made it on the calendar no matter where it may have got bogged down on the weather map. Almost the only businessmen sorry to see winter go are those in the coal and fuel oil and natural gas industries and the makers of tranquilizers.

A lot of businessmen are eager to welcome spring. For instance, all those who cater to the growing American trend to outdoor living. For one thing, they expect Americans to pay nearly 1½ billion dollars this year on planting and maintaining grass plots, from the smallest of front yards to the plushiest of golf links.

Workers expect new jobs to open up soon on the farms. The coming of better building weather should furnish more work. Already the lumber areas of the Northwest report a rush of orders for plywood which has firmed prices there after months of price weakness and widespread unemployment.

Garment makers who have staked large sums of money on the chemise are confident they'll get it back when spring sends women into the stores in greater numbers.

Merchants are watching for the expected spring pickup in retail sales in general. Bad weather in February turned many retailers gloomy but there's still time to recoup, although Myron S. Silbert, vice president of Federated Department Stores, tells the Dallas meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board that because of weakness in consumer durables total trade this spring may be off from last year by 2 or 3 per cent.

The travel industry looks for its biggest year. The Department of Commerce predicts a further rise in foreign travel in 1958 and says that last year Americans spent nearly two billion dollars that way, a 6½ per cent gain over 1956.

Steamship companies report big bookings in the summer months. The airlines see April 1 as their kickoff day because a new low-fare service to Europe starts then. The International Air Transport Assn. reports its 81 members have 2,900 aircraft in operation around the world. And in the oil industry domestic travelers are counted upon to spark the seasonal switch in emphasis from fuel oil to gasoline.

Stay at homes are expected to go in more than ever for outdoor living.

The Dutch expect to sell 30 million dollars worth of bulbs here, spring and fall. The cookout has become so popular that it now accounts for an estimated 50 million dollars outlay annually.

Nearly a quarter of a billion dollars a year is reported spent on garden supplies, with the average outlay put at $5.

Trends reported in this industry include: greater attention to color and style design both in the products and their packaging; adaptation of tools and machines to easy handling by women; more convenience machines such as the riding power mower; and making one machine do many jobs.

Brown-McLaren Seeks 'Going' Buyer

Hamburg May Not Lose Its Only Industry After All

HAMBURG (AP) — Hope was held today that the village of Hamburg may not lose its only industry after all.

The community of 500 population has been in the dumps the past two weeks following an announcement that Brown - McLaren Manufacturing Co. will close its machine products plant there March 31.

The plant normally employed 125 workers, but employment now is down to 75. Most of the employes come from neighboring communities in Livingston and Washtenaw Counties.

B. M. Bond, president of the company, told a news conference yesterday the company will attempt to sell the plant as a "going concern." He said the company will keep the plant open "another week or two" if that will help find a buyer for the business.

Bond put no estimate on the price of the plant, but he said the company probably could get as much money out of liquidating the plant and equipment as by selling it as a going concern.

Bond said he and other company officials will "lean over backwards" to keep the plant operating in Hamburg under new ownership.

Two weeks ago Bond blamed the decision to close the plant on what he termed an unfavorable "political, tax and labor" climate.

Bond said yesterday he had no idea at the time what a fuss that would kick up.

"It was not our purpose in protesting the Michigan tax situation," he said, "to have the plant's closing singled out as a political football, although I suppose we should have been more careful in what we said in a political year."

Bond said he wanted to make it clear the company had no quarrel with the township tax authorities.

Our local taxes are very reasonable," he said.

Animal Doctors Giving 'Patients' Tranquilizers

Try tranquilizer drugs, advised about 100 veterinarians at a symposium here yesterday. The veterinarians reported on their use of tranquilizers in Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

Dr. Donald F. Walker of Broken Bow, Neb., told how he tested the money-saving quality of tranquilizers in shipping cattle.

He tested 63 beef animals shipped from Belle Fourche, S.D., to Broken Bow. He injected the drug in 33. The untreated animals lost an average of 69 pounds on the trip. The tranquil ones averaged losing only 44.5 pounds.

Odd Humor of Husband No Grounds for Divorce

LONDON (AP) —Suing for a divorce on cruelty grounds, Mrs. Gloria Roden cited the replies her husband gave her on four occasions when she asked what he wanted for his birthday.

The replies: (1) a divorce, (2) 50,000 tons of caustic soda, (3) a statue of King George III and (4) a submarine.

Denying Mrs. Roden's petition, the court held that Roden's humor might have been eccentric but it wasn't cruel.

Franchot Tone Married Actress 2 Years Ago

OTTAWA (AP)— The Ottawa Citizen says actor Franchot Tone and actress Dolores Dorn-Heft were married in nearby Hull, Que., two years ago at the Cushman Memorial Church.

The Citizen said the couple honeymooned at Tone's hunting lodge on Thirty-One-Mile Lake north of Ottawa, spent most of last summer there and plan to return this May.

Tone was previously married to Joan Crawford, Jean Wallace and Barbara Payton, all actresses.

THE BERRYS

By Carl Grubert

We have to sympathize with Buck Spurr of Boston who said he took up writing as a career and has already sold a lot of things: "My home, my car, my golf clubs." . . . Your old home town's the place you go back to visit only to find that everybody else has gotten so old while you seem to look so youthful and handsome. The reason is: your eyes have failed and you can't see the mirror as well as you used to. —Earl Wilson.

British Battling Over Proposal to Move Their Statue of King 'Jimmy the Two'

LONDON (AP)—A dreadful row has broken out here over a proposed change in site for a famous statue of King James II.

George Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Samuel Pepys and Sir Walter Raleigh have been dragged in, along with the American tourist trade. Horatio Nelson has been called names you wouldn't believe.

Leading artists, architects and art lovers are beating each other over the head with adjectives, citations from British history and even cold logic. Letters have been written to the papers. Statements have been made in Parliament.

So far Jimmy the Two — as he is known to the Cockney element— is still firmly planted next to George Washington in front of the National Gallery, overshadowed by the towering Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square. Sentiment on what to do with him seems divided among four propositions:

1. Leave him where he is.
2. Pack him off to arty-smarty Chelsea.
3. Set him up in front of the Foreign Office.
4. Chuck him in the Thames River.

The royal rumpus was touched off March 4 by the National Ministry of works. It announced in the House of Commons it plans to move Jimmy the Two to make way for a new statue of Sir Walter Raleigh, the old cloak-and-puddle man. It added that the King's statue would be re-sited at the Foreign Office.

The to-do which followed got Jimmy the Two more attention than at any time since 1688, when for tampering in high religious matters.

The first shot was fired by the English ran him off the throne Roger Fulford, a writer of British royal histories, who thundered in a letter to the Times: "Let the King continue to stand close to George Washington so that American visitors may gaze with respect on that Stuart soverign who, when Duke of York, gave his name to their most famous city."

Herbert Grimsditch of London retorted that James was unfit to share the company "of those great gentlemen, Nelson and Washington," and said the ministry should "drop him into the Thames."

Painter Thomas Bodkin, former director of the National Art Gallery of Ireland, pointed out that 17th century sculptor Grinling Gibbons designed the James statue as half of a pair, the other half being one of his brothers, King Charles II.

Instead of moving James, Bodkin contended, the ministry should bring Charles in from his present site in front of the Royal Chelsea Hospital and set him up in front of the National Gallery, too. Bodkin said James deserves a place of pride in Trafalgar Square "as a founding father, with Samuel Pepys, of the British Navy." Pepys, the well-known djarist, was James II's right-hand man when the latter was royal high admiral.

As for the King's fitness to stand near Nelson, Bodkin remarked that the great admiral himself "has been described correctly but misleadingly as a one-armed one-eyed, double-dyed little 'adulterer.'"

One Roger Wimbush said by all means let James stand with Charles—but in Chelsea, not Trafalgar Square.

Lionel Robbins, chairman of the National Gallery, said leave James in Trafalgar and set Sir Walter up next to Franklin D. Roosevelt in Grosvenor Square. President Charles Wheeler of the Royal Academy of Arts seconded that motion, saying he thought it a splendid way to mark the 350th anniversary of the founding of Virginia, one of Sir Walter's pet projects.

What may have been the next-to-last-word came from historian George Macaulay Trevelyan, who wanted James left with Washington for this reason: "It seems to me peculiarly suitable to have the statue of the man whom we got rid of on one side and the man who got rid of us on the other."

The last word, from the Ministry of Works, is yet to come. The betting is that James will get what he got in 1688: his walking papers.

School Bus Driver Sharp in Emergency

It was snowing when the bus stalled on the tracks. Witte, of Bayville, N. Y., immediately opened the front door and emergency exit and shouted "Outside."

As he herded the youngsters to safety, a New York-bound train came along. The engineer applied the brakes and the train slowed enough to just nudge the bus, which was driven away later.

Hollywood Headlines

Cornel Wilde Purchases John MacDonald Novel

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Almost as exciting as the thriller "The Executioners," John MacDonald's novel, is Cornel Wilde's purchase of this suspense story.

He told me that Richard Brooks, Alfred Hitchcock and Mel Frank at his own Paramount studio were all trying to buy the book which will be brought out by Simon and Schuster and will also appear serially in a national magazine. "I paid $35,000," Cornel told me, "and was I glad to get it."

A real estate friend of Cornel's tipped him off to the great potentialities of the breathtaking tale. Cornel said he hadn't decided whether he and his wife, Jean Wallace, will be in the picture.

But in any event he will produce and direct it. Jean did so well for him in "Maracaibo" that she rated much praise from boss Y. Frank Freeman.

The name of Erich von Stroheim looms again on the Hollywood horizon with the signing of Erich von Stroheim Jr. as both an actor and an assistant director in Joe Pasternak's "Party Girl" starring Robert Taylor at MGM — thus carrying on the tradition of his late father who was famed as an actor, director, producer.

Young Erich has never before appeared before the cameras. "My father wanted me to keep away from show businees. The dream of his life was that I attend West Point.

"I fulfilled his wish to a certain degree. For two and a half years I was assistant director on TV's 'West Point Story,' and I also assisted on 'Dr. Christian' and other TV shows," said young Stroheim.

Brian Aherne telephoned me to say he has two weeks off from "My Fair Lady," so he came to California to rest. He has been in the play over a year. It opened in Chicago Nov. 5 to a $700,000 advance sale. In all, "My Fair Lady" has taken in $4,500,000 Brian told me.

He said when he took the job Rex Harrison told him it was a man-killer. "I have only missed one performance in a year," he said. He'll rejoin the company in Chicago, and later they may return to Los Angeles, since they couldn't possibly take care of all the people here who wanted to see the musical.

Dean says his place seats only 60 people so he's doing extensive alterations and making it larger.

Wheat Lower, Rye Shows Gain

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices weakened under moderate selling in early transactions on the Board of Trade today but other grains and soybeans were steady to strong.

Rye, the other bread grain, had gains of as much as a cent a bushel and soybeans moved up on short-covering. The feed grains were about steady.

Traders said the activity appeared to be mainly toward consolidation of positions and that no particular outside influence was present.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel lower, May $2.19⅝; corn ¼ to ½ higher, May $1.15½; oats ⅜ higher to ⅛ lower, May 65; rye ⅞ to 1⅜ higher, May $1.31¼; soybeans ⅜ to ¾ higher, May $2.25½; and lard 2 to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.20.

Senate Rushes Farm Bill to Ike

Price Support Freeze Measure Likely to Get Veto From President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today rushed to President Eisenhower a farm price support freeze bill which he is considered likely to veto.

The Senate completed congressional action by accepting a House amendment to limit its effect to 1958.

The Senate vote on that issue was 48-32. Previously the Senate had passed the measure without the limit 50-43. The House bill passed that branch 210-172.

Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson both have expressed sharp opposition to it. The secretary has asked Congress for authority to lower supports on basic commodities to 60 per cent, as compared with the 75 per cent floor in present law.

Republican senators cried that Democrats were playing politics by rushing the bill through, in an effort to embarrass the President.

Neither the Senate vote on original passage nor the House vote was heavy enough to override a veto, which takes a two-thirds majority.

Democratic backers of the freeze contended they were giving the farm economy a half-billion-dollar shot in the arm, not playing politics.

Kaiser Industries Reports Earnings Up $2 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Kaiser Industries Corp. reports consolidated net earnings of $16,832,207 for 1957 compared with $14,970,780 in 1956.

The corporation said that because there are additional shares of preferred and common stock now outstanding, earnings per share of common stock, after provision for preferred dividends, was 69 cents per share in 1957 against 72 cents per share in 1956, even though net earnings were higher.

Copper Shares Continue Rise

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the rule among leading issues.

Turnover slackened after a moderately active opening. Drugs were irregular following their advance of yesterday. Oils and aircrafts were slightly lower. Rails showed some small plus signs.

News of a price boost by a big Belgian copper producer followed yesterday's favorable price news and spurred stocks of the industry. Magma added more than 2 points.

Kennecott was a point ahead. Anaconda, its big drop in 1957 earnings apparently well discounted, advanced a major fraction as did Phelps Dodge.

Lorillard, yesterday's most active stock, recouped a fraction of its loss.

GM Engineering Staff to Get Additional Space

Excavation was under way today at General Motors Technical Center in Warren for construction of additional shop and office space for General Motors' Engineering Staff.

Charles A. Chayne, GM vice president in charge of Engineering Staff, said the new facilities will be added to the present structure occupied by Engineering Staff on the southeast side of Technical Center's 22-acre artifical lake.

The new structure, Chayne explained, will extend southward from Engineering Staff's present shop building and conform to the overall architectural design of Technical Center.

State First in Research

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Heart Assn. reported Thursday it allocated $294,412 or 50.8 per cent of its budget to 41 Michigan investigators for heart disease research during 1957. The report said more than one million dollars has gone into Michigan heart research since the organization was founded in 1949.

Reports Sales Increase

LANSING (AP) — Motor Wheel Corp. Thursday reported 1957 sales of $64,726,638, an increase of $3,270,000 over 1956 sales.

School Budget Before Board

Action Slated to Begin April 3; Expect Final Word 2 Weeks Later

A preliminary report on the Waterford Township Schools' operating budget was presented by Superintendent William Shunck at last night's Board of Education meeting.

There was no action or discussion on the matter pending a special board meeting to be held April 3 when a more detailed statement will be reviewed. Final action is scheduled for the April 17 Board of Education meeting.

Board members named the principal of the Isaac Crary Junior High School, Paul O'Neil, to be the principal of the new John D. Pierce Junior High School now under construction on Hatchery road.

Assistant principal of Crary, Bernard Heaney, was named principal of Crary and William Abersold, who is principal at Waterford Center, will be assistant principal at Pierce.

There has been no recommendation as yet for a principal at Waterford Center or an assistant principal of Crary.

Bids for library furniture for the Pierce School were received and tabulated and action will be taken at the special meeting in April.

The board also made a selection of classroom furniture for the new junior high school for which they will request bids at a later date.

A request for the use of the small one-classroom building at the rear of the Waterford Village School, made by the Assn. for Handicapped Children, was approved by the board.

The building has been used for storage of school supplies.

Members also indicated they would participate in the costs of paving Coleman street up to $1,200. The area borders the Donelson School property. Recent legislation permits school boards to participate financially in such projects.

New York Central Train Strikes Truck

JACKSON (AP) — A New York Central passenger train struck a truck trailer loaded with galvanized panels two miles west of Jackson yesterday afternoon, extensively damaging the Diesel engine and demolishing the trailer. No one was injured.

State Police said the impact tore the trailer loose from its tractor, hurtling it 30 feet from the road.

Officers said the truck driver, Gerald Furlong of Jackson, told them he did not see the train. There are no flashing signals at the crossing. Engineer M. D. Struckman of Rives Junction told police he applied his brakes, but could not stop.

The train was en route from Detroit to Chicago.

Kay Asaka of Japan to Present Program

St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Waterford Township will have a Chapel Family Fellowship dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

A special program will be presented by Kay Asaka of Japan, who is now Mrs. Dennis Halloway of Keego Harbor. She will speak on "Life of a Christian in Japan."

Living Costs Expected to Set Another Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announces its newest tally of the nation's living costs today. Another rise was indicated.

Advance indications were that early February crop freezes in Florida, coming on top of others in January, would be enough to send food and other costs soaring to another record.

Kohler Boycott Whose Idea?

Senator Pushes Search to Find Mastermind Behind Strike Plot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) called today for a wider search for "the mastermind" behind a labor union boycott in the Kohler strike. He charged intimidation of political figures in several cities.

He said Leo Breirather, the official "boycott cordinator" for the United Auto Workers, "clearly is not the mastermind in this operation." Mundt said Breirather's testimony types him as a subordinate figure in the nationwide boycott effort.

Under questioning by the Senate Rackets Committee, Breirather acknowledged there are things he doesn't know about the boycott. He said its objective is to block the sale of plumbing fixtures produced by the Kohler Co. at its Wisconsin plant.

FEELS SORRY

Breirather said he felt sorry for the plumbers, contractors, supply houses and others against whom the boycott has been aimed when they handled Kohler products. But he said he also felt sorry for the striking Kohler workers — himself among them — and philosophized; "People are hurt who have no business getting hurt." It all, he said, "is the result of a situation . . . deplorable . . . that seems unresolvable."

The company and the UAW handed the committee separate statements outlining points still at issue in the strike which will be four years old April 5. The statements showed them far apart.

The company now denies that the UAW could muster a majority of its workers to declare the union their collective bargaining agent if another plant election is held, and said, "The company can not lawfully deal with a minority union." The UAW won recognition and a contract in 1953.

The union listed five contract issues still in dispute — arbitration of grievances, seniority, lunch period in the enamel shop, pensions and reinstatement of strikers including some formally discharged.

House Unit Cuts Off Funds for Lease-Purchase Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriation Committee today cut off funds for the lease-purchase program. But it recommended $177,255,000 in new cash to finance construction of 66 public buildings in the program.

The committee said the direct appropriation procedure will save money. It ordered that hereafter the lease-purchase method be used only for constructing post offices.

As an antirecession measure, the committee approved 75 million dollars to accelerate repair and improvement of government buildings.

The committee's action was in connection with approval of a $6,549,920,900 bill to finance independent federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

In a sharply worded explanation of its lease-purchase action, the committee criticized Franklin G. Floete, the general services administrator, and Maurice H. Stans, who recently became director of the Budget Bureau.

It said it asked Floete not to bind the government on any more lease-purchase contracts until further notice. But, the committee added, he "ignored the request and within the last two weeks has signed two lease-purchase contracts and advises the committee that he intends to sign 26 others."

The committee said Stans ignored a request not to require GSA to enter into any commitments for lease-purchase contracts until Congress could decide whether the buildings should be constructed under direct appropriations.

The lease-purchase law, enacted in 1954, provided for private construction of public buildings such as courthouses, with the government eventually obtaining ownership through annual rental payments.

In GOP Race for Governor

Field Opens for Bagwell

EAST LANSING (AP) — A comparatively clear field appeared today to be opening up for Prof. Paul D. Bagwell in his bid for the Republican governor nomination despite one discordant note in party circles.

Bagwell, who planned to delay his formal announcement until early next month, yesterday was granted a leave of absence from his Michigan State University post to make the race.

The State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body, approved a leave without pay from April 7 to Aug. 8, three days after the primary.

It indicated Bagwell would be welcome back if the political winds blew against him, as they did in 1956, but not in his present capacity as head of the Department of Communications skills.

Bagwell took a leave two years ago to become the Republican nominee for state auditor general. He ran a good race but lost.

There were increasing signs that none of the other prominently mentioned GOP guberatorial possibilities would step out against the 44-year old professor, now that he has made up his mind.

House Speaker George M. Van Peursem, talked up a good deal last fall, reiterated that only irresistible demand from powerful GOP elements would get him in. He likened this to an invitation for a trip to the moon.

Friends of Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), who was at home to bury his father, said they felt certain he would not want to get involved.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), whose ambitions for this year's top ticket spot have cooled, said he planned to confer with Bagwell soon. He didn't rule out that the talk might be about switching his sights to the Lieutenant Governor nomination.

That seemed to leave Richard I. Moore, Wayne auto salesman and former state commander of the Amvets, as the only surefire contender against Bagwell. Moore formally has annoued his candidacy.

For years Bagwell, a polio victim who walks with a cane, has led the statewide March of Dimes campaign. He was an early Michigan booster of President Eisenhower.

Workers Sent Home

About 1,000 day shift workers from Pontiac Motor Division plants 14 and 15 were sent home about three hours early yesterday because of a bomb scare shortly after noon. A police search revealed the report was a hoax. Afternoon shifts reported as usual at the two plants.

No More 'Hope' for Russia; He Can Take Hint

(Comedian Bob Hope in Moscow to premiere his new movie "Paris Holiday," is writing his light-hearted observations of the Soviet scene exclusively for INS and The Pontiac Press.)

By BOB HOPE

MOSCOW (INS)—I can take a hint. My presence here brought something new to Russia: "Yank, Go Home" signs. So I'm off.

They wanted to give me a bodyguard but that's ridiculous. No one's seen my pictures here.

But the Russians are very interested in Americans. Everyone asks me when Jayne Mansfield and Marilyn Monroe are coming over. I explained there's still a ban on sending over strategic materials.

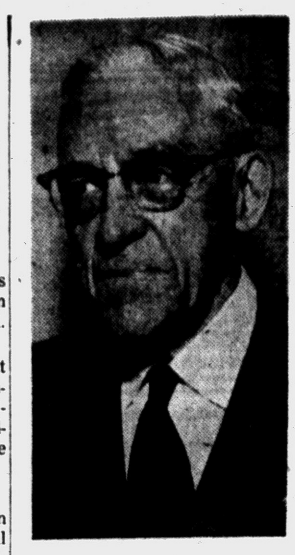

They get American movies here. But they're a little late. Several people asked me if Fatty Arbuckle is up for the Academy Award this year.

I'm having the time of my life here. With all the rich dinners at the various embassies I'm getting a diplomatic pouch.

Last night it was the British Embassy, and what cordiality! The moment I walked in the ambassador rushed across the room and shook hands with me. What a way to get rid of a wet tea bag!

Incidentally I've got some grapevine for you. That summit meeting is definitely going to be held. The problem is who's gonna caddy.

IVAN LONG

Attendance Record Set by Rotarian

A Pontiac Rotary Club attendance record of 1,000 meetings without missing has been set by Ivan Long, 71, of 167 S. Avery St., Waterford Township.

Long, a retired Pontiac Motors personnel employe, has traveled extensively throughout the country during the past 19½ years in which he set his record, but he always managed to attend a meeting wherever he was, even though it often meant traveling great distances.

Asked to comment on how he set the record, Long said, "I just enjoy meeting people so I tried hard not to miss the opportunity the meetings afford."

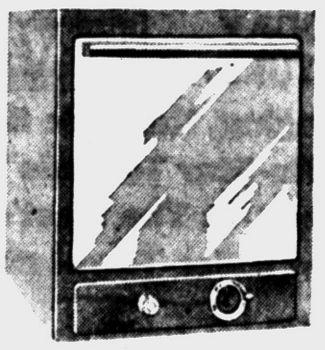

Firm Given Award

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has awarded a "good citizenship" citation to the Hall Lamp Co. of Detroit for its "expression of confidence" in Michigan in undertaking a large expansion on Detroit's East Side.

Streaking Down at Moment's Notice

Predicts Cruising Missiles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A fleet of winged missiles could cruise over the earth for months on end, ready to streak down on any target at a moment's notice, the Space Age Conference was told today.

General Manager William F. Ballhaus of Nortronics, the electronics division of Northrop, Inc., said:

"Considerable research is now in progress on atomic engines. Such engines will make it possible for winged missiles to cruise for months over the face of the earth.

"Should present negotiations with the Russians for an open skies agreement ever materialize, I can visualize a fleet of winged missiles with atomic engines and autoamtic reconnaissance equipment maintaining constant aerial inspection which is part of the open skies plan.

New Zealanders Shocked by Crimes

WELLINGTON, N. Z. — New Zealanders are viewing with some alarm figures that show that crime seems to be mounting there.

The Director of Education in Wellington, Dr. C. E. Beeby, is concerned about an increase of 18 per cent in the number of juvenile delinquents brought before the Children's Courts.

The Dominion's Attorney General has reported on the state of crime throughout the country and measures to meet the situation.

His recommendations, among other things, call for psychologists for all prisons, improvements in the probtation system, and more emphasis on ways to stop crime before it happens.

Foreign Aid Bill Hits New Snag

Sen. Aiken Sees Lot of Work to Avoid Cuts in $3.9 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said today that President Eisenhower "has a lot of work to do within Republican ranks" to avoid drastic cuts in his $3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Aiken said this was indicated by a Senate vote in which only 15 Republicans voted against a proposal to restrict the President's authority to trade surplus agricultural commodities to Iron Curtain countries. Twenty-two Republicans voted for the proposal, which was rejected 53-24.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, joined Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) in trying to bar sales of surplus commodities to any nation that fails to give the President assurance it will not support the Soviet Union or any other Communist government in event of war. Other Republican leaders also supported the amendment, which was aimed primarily at Communist Yugoslavia and Poland.

Aiken, opposing it, said it would amount to a vote of "no confidence" in the President and take away his discretion of deciding when it was to this country's advantage to help satellite nations.

Area Man Seeks to Halt Sewer Construction

Irwin I. Cohn of 3277 Interlaken Dr., a prominent Detroit real estate attorney, asked the court yesterday to prevent the participating local units, Farmington, West Bloomfield, and Southfield Townships and Keego Harbor from levying any tax to pay the county for the $4,900,000 sewage system.

Cohn charged that townships, under state law, are restricted to one mill in tax money and that it would require a tax rate of more than two mills in West Bloomfield and more than four mills in Farmington to pay the county back for the $4.9 million bond issue.

Cohn also asserted in his petition that the county cannot delegate its full faith and credit to the township which it, in effect, is doing by issuing the bonds.

The county, under the 1957 act which permitted it to establish a public works department, has assumed that it has authority to issue bond for local improvements.

Cohn's complaint also said that the county cannot spend any tax money to retire the bonds because this would be the taking of property without due process of law, contrary to the State Constitution.

In effect, Cohn charges that the 1957 act is unconstitutional.

The Oakland Public Works Dept. plan to start construction on the system in August with completion predicted in 10 to 12 months.

At present the county is seeking approval of its plans for the Farmington system from the Michigan Health Dept. and thereafter will ask the Michigan Finance Commission to approve the bond issue.

Named as defendents in the injunction petition are Oakland County, its Department of Public Works, the four municipalities cited and the County Board of Supervisors.

A show cause hearing on why a temporary injunction should not be issued has been set for March 31 by Judge George B. Hartrick.

Renda Suit Witness Changes His Story

DETROIT (INS) — A defense witness who previously had given damaging testimony in Carl Renda's $4,500,000 malicious prosecution suit yesterday changed his story.

Robert Busch, 55, of Detroit, had told the court that while he was employed in a gas station owned by Sam Perrone, Renda's father-in-law, Renda was visited frequently by Donald Ritchie, Pete Lombardo and Clarence Jacobs.

Ritchie implicated Renda, Perrone, Jacobs and Lombardo in the shooting of United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther but later repudiated his story.

Busch was still sure yesterday that the men had been to the gas station many times, but could not remember in what year. He had testified earlier that it was 1949.

Four Agriculturists Retired by State

EAST LANSING (AP) — Four employes of the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, all with more than 30 years service, were approved for retirement yesterday by the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University.

Planning retirement are Miss Lola Belle Breen, clothing specialist since 1927; Harry Moxley, a staff member since 1928 known throughout the state for his sponsorship of horse-pulling contests; George Amundsen, agricultural engineering specialist and a staff member since 1922, and Ralph N. Coulter, Ogemaw County agricultural agent and staff member since 1927.

All but Coulter, who lives at West Branch, make their home at East Lansing.

Three Klansmen Guilty in South

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Three members of a Ku Klux Klan klavern, which was broken up by a police undercover agent, were convicted yesterday of plotting to plant a homemade bomb at a Negro school.

An all-white jury, including one woman, recommended mercy. Two other Klansmen were acquitted.

Lester Francis Caldwell, grand wizard of Klavern 22, was convicted along with Arthur Monroe Brown Jr. and William Oliver Spencer of conspiring to bomb the school near here Feb. 15. Caldwell also was convicted of attempting to carry out the plan.

Superior Court Judge Zeb V. Nettles sentenced Caldwell to 5 to 10 years for trying to bomb the school and to two to five years for conspiracy. The judge suspended the shorter sentence on good behavior. Spencer and Brown were sentenced to two to five years.

The judge told the Klansmen: "We have good police forces here and we don't need a super law enforcement agency."

House Prober Anxious to End Miami TV Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harris (D-Ark) said today if a House subcommittee doesn't wind up its probe of a Miami TV contest soon "we might be charged with a slowdown to keep out of other investigations."

Harris is chairman of a subcommittee which was set up to study operations of six federal regulatory agencies. For more than a month the group has been probing charges of pressures and influence in the Federal Communications Commission's grant of TV Channel 10 in Miami to a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Harris said he hoped to question FCC commissioners, other than Richard A. Mack, who participated in the Channel 10 decision last year. Harris said he wants the commissioners to explain their votes and to say whether improper pressures were applied on them. Mack resigned from the FCC March 3 after acknowledging to the subcommittee that he had accepted financial favors from a lawyer who at one time had plugged for National's TV application. However, Mack denied any wrongdoing.

"We've got to have full speed ahead instead of putting the brakes on" for the committee to do its job, Harris said in an interview.

Stage Hopper's Pulled Some Crazy Stunts

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Press agents are the craziest people.

And Joyce Greller—who hopped on stage at the show, "Look Back in Anger," and slugged the star, Kenneth Haigh—now admits that she's been a press agent on Broadway and also in Chicago where they're even crazier.

WILSON

"But I wasn't employed for this stunt—though maybe I ought to send them a bill!" said the "female Jim Moran" when her story came out.

In Chicago she got arrested for painting the city's underpass and threw a raffle party to raise money for her fine—first prize: a dental chair. She had filched Park Department stationery and written out a "permit" which read:

"This will acknowledge that permission has been asked to paint the underpass."

It didn't say permission had been granted. But cops don't read carefully. Several looked at the "pass" and grunted "O.K."

JOYCE

Once she took a horse to the Chicago subway. "You can't do this!" said The Law. "Show me any law that says you can't take a horse on the subway!" she challenged.

A messenger needed a permit to take a typewriter out of a building. "I'll give you a note," she said, and wrote this: "Dear Watchman: Don't let this man out of the building. He steals typewriters."

Denying, despite all this, that she was engaged to do the recent stunt, Miss Greller admitted she'd once worked for Broadway Press Agent Ade Kahn.

"I didn't like the work so I got even," she said. "I threw an envelope out a car window with a note on it that said, 'This has to get to Ade Kahn by 6 o'clock or he won't find out about the bomb in time.'

"It's a funny thing," she continued, "but you can throw a letter out a car in N.Y. and it'll be delivered. It's a wonderful way to mail letters. Well, the police wouldn't let him move for two days!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rita Hayworth went to see a doctor about a sprained ankle—and the rumors spread that she was expecting. "The minute it's true," said bridegroom Jim Hill, "I'll be so happy I'll tell everybody" . . . Meredith Willson's fixing up "Little Lord Fauntleroy" for a TV spec for next fall—and wants Eddie Hodges, 10, of "The Music Man," for his star.

EARL'S PEARLS: It's Jerry Lewis' wacky tale of the diner who was so elegant that he even ate his chewing gum with a knife and fork. That's earl, brother.

Film, TV Actor Leads Crusade

Cites Own Experience to Encourage Others to Seek Mental Health

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The psychoanalysts's couch is a common landing place for high-strung show folk, but few of them care to admit it publicly.

"The reason," says Rod Steiger, one of the rarities who does admit freely that he has sought the aid of analysis, "is that when you say mental health to someone, the next thing he thinks of is insanity.

"It used to be that if you underwent analysis, you were nuts as far as most people were concerned. Well, it's not a matter of being nuts at all. It's simply a matter of needing help or being unable to function as a human being as efficiently as you should."

The heavy-set, graying TV and movie actor began going to an analyst "for personal reasons."

"It was a question of perspective," he explains. "I wanted respect for the name Steiger for reasons I'd rather not go into now."

But his interest in psychoanalysis has expanded far beyond his own status as a patient to the extent that he has become a first-class publicity man for mental health.

AVAILABLE FOR ALL

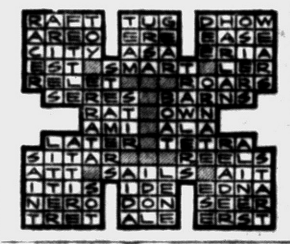

He believes that psychiatric care should be available to every man, woman and child in the land. And he seldom misses an opportunity to give analysis a personal endorsement.

"I admit to being analyzed every chance I get," he says intently, "because I believe it's so important to me as a person, to the nation and to the family as a unit.

"I think qualified analysts should be included in all schools, beginning with the elementary schools. If I believe in any form of socialism at all, it's socialized psychiatry. I think the government should assume the responsibility for the mental health of its citizens."

Steiger's fundamental problem in the beginning was his inability to repose faith and trust in others. "I knew a lot of people," he says, "but I found it hard to trust anyone. I didn't understand that in order to trust someone else, you have to give of yourself.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

For the second fifth, in short pants, is "Breathstraight week, the less" by Jerry Lee Lewis.

This is a pleasant change from some of the primitive sounds voted into top spots recently. In second is "Twenty-Six Miles" by the Four Preps. Dropped to third (and it's about time) is "Sweet Little Sixteen" by Chuck Berry.

Fourth place is inhabited by Connie Francis with her listenable rendition of "Who's Sorry Now." This isn't bad, but it's got a long way to go. The vocal is fine, but the backing is lacking.

"Tequila," by The Champs is tied with "Who's Sorry Now" for the fourth slot, according to our poll of the local record sellers. In POP ALBUMS: Pearl Bailey has become a trademark in top pops. Her "Pearl Bailey A Broad" (Roulette R-25012) is a gas.

This is her first LP for the Roulette people and it swings. Of course, it has an international flavor. She even comes forth with "Bill Bailey Won't You Please Come Home," to make the world tour complete. Don't miss this one.

THE JAZZ NEST: If you like the modern big band sound, go out and buy Les Brown's new "Concert Modern" LP (Capitol T-959) The arrangements are the most!!

It's well recorded and contains some of the finest big band music to be heard today. The "Nutcracker Suite" bit is wild (with afro-cuban intro, and swinging all the way).

Discusses Mouth Cancer

Tobacco 'May' Be Cause

DETROIT (INS) — An ill-fitting denture and an irritant, "perhaps tobacco," may cause cancer in the mouth.

This was the thesis of a talk by Dr. Paul Goldhaber yesterday at the 36th annual meeting of the International Association for Dental Research.

The professor of the Department of Pathology of the Harvard University School of Dental Medicine said:

"Clinical evidence seems to show that the presence of an ulcer and an unknown irritant, perhaps tobacco, may play an important part in the development of oral tumors."

He said that by clipping the lower incisors in rodents an ulcer would develop in the mouth. This was caused by the irritation against the lips by the jagged teeth.

Dr. Goldhaber said saliva glands would then be removed and a tumor usually developed. An early theory was that the saliva washed away the irritants and the removal of the glands enabled the cancer to develop. He continued:

"Later research, however, showed that a tumor could still develop even with the saliva glands, provided there was a break in the skin and the presence of irritants.

"It has been thought that the chronic irritation of jagged teeth and ill-fitting dentures can cause the ulcerated condition. We know the tumor won't develop in healthy tissue."

Sick Girl Hopes to Return Home by Eastertime

CLEVELAND (AP) — Susan Kurtz, the 11-year-old Onsted, Mich., girl who underwent a delicate heart operation March 11, says she hopes to be home by Easter.

The little girl's plight attracted wide attention when a caravan of neighbors from her hometown drove to donate 16 pints of blood used in the six-hour heart operation.

Doctors said Susan could not live more than six months unless she underwent surgery to close a hole in the wall between her heart chambers. Even so her father, Lloyd Kurtz, was told the odds were 5-1 against her surviving the operation.

Susan has passed the critical post-operative period and appears to be progressing satisfactorily. More than 700 letters and cards from all over the nation have come to St. Lukes Hospital for Susan. Gifts included baskets of flowers.
