County Littered With Debris in Night of Weather Violence

Hundreds of felled trees and power lines littered Oakland County this morning in the wake of last night's violent electrical storm.

Almost miraculously, no injuries were reported. Three homes were struck by lightning, but damage was minor.

The third such storm to hit the area in four days, it dumped an additional two inches of rain in less than three hours.

A repeat performance can be expected again tonight, according to the weather bureau.

It predicted showers and thunderstorms ending late tonight, with fair and cooler weather to follow tomorrow.

Low temperatures of 54 to 58 tonight and a high of 70 to 75 tomorrow are forecast. Southwesterly winds tonight will become northerly tomorrow with gusts of 15 to 25 miles per hour.

A low of 66 was recorded at 11 p.m. At 1 p.m., the mercury had climbed to 90 degrees.

The rain quickly submerged many stretches of highways and streets. Water swirled over curbs in numerous locations.

Many motorists were forced to abandon their vehicles as brakes washed out and motors stalled.

Lightning danced across the county felling trees and power lines. Commerce Road was lined with fallen trees and wires, according to the sheriff's department.

Weather Explained

Thunder Due to Hot Air

That clap of thunder responsible for waking the kids and the entire household last night was caused by the hot weather.

The recent thunder and electrical storms that have bombarded the Pontiac area three nights in less than a week were provoked by an imbalance in nature's electrical system.

Specifically, the atmosphere must constantly rid itself of electricity. Hence, there is a constant flow of electricity (lightning) between the atmosphere and earth.

At least, this is the explanation Norris Wetters, a meteorologist for the Detroit Weather Bureau, offers for those sleepless nights.

Wetters said the high moisture content of warm air creates the thunder and lightning that imposes insomnia. He said that lightning was of two types.

CLOUD-TO-CLOUD TYPE

First there is the cloud-to-cloud variety. This looks like a distant flash and is normally accompanied by far-off rumbling.

The second kind is the cloud-to-earth type. This is the vertical bolt that is followed by a nerve-shattering clap, which is sometimes loud enough to draw even the calmest adult to a window.

Wetters said the electrical balance between the atmosphere and earth is maintained by these storms.

"In fact," he added, "there are electrical storms somewhere in the world all the time to keep this balance."

Since thunder clouds develop into a "squall line," Wetters said the rainfall may vary from area to area.

Windsor, Canada, for example, received the most (1.82 inches) precipitation last night. In contrast, Flint received a mere .8 inches of rain, while the city of Detroit had 1.47.

TREES, WIRES FALL — This pickup truck was nearly flattened by a huge tree that fell at a Belmont trailer park where hot wires also were downed in last night's storm. Only a few trailers were damaged, but the area was evacuated.

Winds, Rain Wreak Havoc Across State

Storm Damage Runs Over a Million Dollars in Lower Michigan

By The Associated Press
Tornado-like winds and heavy rain ripped a million-plus-dollar swath of damage from the west side of Michigan to the east last night.

In the wake, Grand Rapids, the town of Belmont, Detroit and other cities fought through a shambles of debris caused by flooding streets, lightning and winds that damaged buildings, broke windows and tore off roofs.

And prospects for better weather today were dim. Thunderstorms were forecast throughout Lower Michigan this afternoon and tonight by the weather bureau.

The storms caused accidents that injured at least 14 persons, most of them in Belmont. This crossroads town, located 10 miles north of Grand Rapids, was thrown into darkness when the power failed at 8:05 p.m. and winds destroyed part of a school, the post office and several homes.

Damages in Kent County alone will total more than $1 million, County Civil Defense Director Jack Barnes said.

Winds toppled barns and killed livestock in Kent and Allegan counties.

SIGHT TORNADOES

Nearly everywhere — Allegan, Montcalm, Kent, Ottawa and Ionia counties — citizens called police and weather bureau to report sighting tornadoes.

The weather bureau planned to determine officially today whether damages resulted from tornadoes touching down or from ordinary high winds.

Winds gusted to 80 miles per hour around Grand Rapids. Lansing was buffeted by 60 miles per hour gusts.

The south wall of the Belmont school buckled and part of the roof blew off. Some of the roof smashed into the gymnasium.

Later, civil defense authorities opened the school to shelter 125 persons from the storm. About 65 came from the Solomon Trailer Park on U.S. 131 five miles east. One trailer was thrown approximately 140 feet and landed on its side.

A dozen persons were cut by flying glass when a window shattered at the Belmont Baptist Church. Mrs. Fred P. Harris, 62, wife of the minister, was taken to a Grand Rapids hospital after a glass shiver penetrated her shoulder. She was in satisfactory condition.

Near Belmont, a barn toppled on the farm of Walter Pigorski, the brother of Kent County Sheriff Arnold Pigorski. Livestock was killed and a car and two air planes inside were heavily damaged.

Streets were flooded so badly in Detroit from sewers backing up that police closed both

Heavy Turnout Expected in Today's School Voting

A heavy vote was expected in today's annual school elections in Oakland County.

Only one countywide issue was on ballots and this affected the fate of the proposed community college. Voters in Pontiac and Waterford Township, like 23 area school districts, will elect board members in addition to deciding the junior college question.

Mac Orders Inquiry Into Sex Scandal

LONDON — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan returned from a golfing vacation today and ordered an inquiry into security aspects of the Profumo scandal which threatens Macmillan's own career.

The inquiry is being made by Lord Dillhorne, who as lord chancellor is Britain's highest legal authority.

He will determine if British security was breached or was negligent as a result of former War Minister John Profumo's illicit affair with Christine Keeler, a 22-year-old red-haired party girl who at the same time in 1961, was sharing her bed with Soviet naval attaché Capt. Eugene Ivanov.

Ivanov is generally regarded as a Soviet Intelligence agent.

Political sources said Dillhorne's report probably will be completed this week. The report will be handed to Macmillan and Labor party leader Harold Wilson but may not necessarily be made public.

Macmillan refused to comment on the Profumo affair and gave no public indication of concern. But the scandal rocking Britain could spell his downfall as a conservative party leader. His chance of survival depends largely on the showing he makes before Parliament next Monday when asked to explain his role in the background to the intrigue.

If Macmillan fails to give satisfactory answers, one parliamentary informant predicted

GM President Foresees Era of Growth

TARRYTOWN, N. Y. — John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, said today he foresees "an era of greater, economic growth and industrial development."

Gordon sounded the optimistic note at a luncheon marking the production of the 50 millionth Chevrolet and the near-completion of the modernization and expansion of Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants here.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York drove the history-making Chevrolet off the assembly line.

The governor also spoke at the luncheon, as did Seymour E. Knudsen, a GM vice president and general manager of Chevrolet.

Gordon said the modernized and expanded facilities are "tangible evidence" of General Motors' faith in the future.

"Present business conditions and robust public confidence point to another good year in 1963," he said.

County School Supt. William J. Emerson has asked that no one call the county school board tomorrow until after 10 a.m. He said workers would be telephoning for community college results from the school districts.

In Waterford Township, voters will select two board members from a field of three candidates and decide two millage proposals and a bond issue.

The school board candidates include one incumbent, Mrs. Dorothy Barnham, 2856 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

The other candidates are Richard Luehmann, 3611 Percy King, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Conference Set for Mid-July in Soviet Union

Kennedy Declares Immediate Ban on Testing by U.S.

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy announced today that the United States, Russia and Britain have agreed to send high-level negotiators to Moscow next month in a fresh start at hammering out a nuclear test-ban treaty.

He said the agreement to start the high-level talks had been reached by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and himself.

In the meantime, the President announced, the United States will not conduct any nuclear tests in the atmosphere—so long as the Soviet Union and other nations hold back on their tests, too.

Kennedy spoke of the talks as a badly needed first start on negotiations "where the end is in sight." But he cautioned his announcements as "no substitute for a formal binding treaty—but I hope it will help us achieve it."

British officials seemed more optimistic. They expressed hope that a summit conference would follow the Moscow talks.

Moscow announced today that the meetings will start in mid-July and did not name the Soviet representative.

NEAR CHINESE TALKS
The timing means that the sessions will run simultaneously with, or come soon after, Moscow talks between the Soviet Union and Red China aimed at closing their widening ideological rift. Those discussions start July 5.

After the speech, informants said Kennedy has not selected his negotiator for the Moscow conference. The leading candidates appear to be Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman and John J. McCloy, the President's former adviser on disarmament.

William K. Foster, director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, reportedly may take part in the sessions at some stage but probably will not lead the first U.S. delegation.

In the speech at American University commencement exercises, the President warned Americans against "a dangerous, defeatist belief" that peace is impossible to achieve.

He argued that both the United States and Soviet Union and their allies have a "mutually deep interest" in halting the arms race and achieving peace.

"We must conduct our affairs in such a way that it becomes in the Communist interest to agree on a genuine peace," Kennedy said.

"Above all, while always defending our own vital interests, nuclear powers must avert those confrontations which present an adversary with a choice of either a humiliating retreat or a nuclear war."

A summit session, he said, could lead to a foreign ministers meeting and a summit session. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Aide Says Wallace Ready to Bar Negroes at University

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — A spokesman for Gov. George Wallace said today the Chief Executive would meet two prospective Negro students at the door of the University of Alabama tomorrow and formally forbid their enrollment.

The spokesman said Wallace would stand in the door of the registration hall, but beyond that his plans are indefinite.

"It all depends on what the federal folks do," the spokesman said in Montgomery. It was the first time Wallace's plans had been spelled out in any degree.

The governor and some of his top advisers planned to fly from Montgomery to Tuscaloosa this afternoon and stay at a "Tuscaloosa hotel overnight. Wallace risks a possible jail term in the integration showdown.

The two Negro students he has sworn to turn back after a weekend in New York.

"We shall defend our rights and we shall dare to do so," the 43-year-old governor said Sunday night.

"I am going to stand for you at the university," he told the people of Alabama in a radio-television broadcast.

The students, Vivian Malone of Mobile and James A. Hood of Gadsden, are to register Tuesday for the summer session. The governor has pledged to be there and stand in their way.

Before leaving Montgomery, Wallace renewed his appeal to the people to keep away from the university and let him alone carry out a test of state sovereignty.

Already on the tightly barricaded campus with orders to prevent any possible violence are more than 800 state, county, city and campus policemen.

Waiting in nearby armories on standby duty are more than 500 National Guard troops mobilized Sunday by Wallace.

The guardsmen arrived by helicopter and motor-convoy to reinforce civilian officers—if necessary.

Wallace said in his broadcast that to send "a loyal Southern governor to jail" would amount to military dictatorship.

He was mindful of a federal court injunction forbidding him to carry out his promised blockade of the Negroes.

Wallace made clear that his army of civilian police and the standby National Guard units will be used only to prevent violence and not to bar the Negroes.

He appealed once more to the people to stay away from the campus.

"I have kept the faith. You keep the peace," he said.

Despite the governor's determined stand, Hood expressed hope that he and Malone would be admitted without interference.

On the campus and throughout the city, state troopers and local officers kept a close watch for potential troublemakers. The head of the state police, Col. Albert Lingo, said 15 white men with guns were arrested Saturday night near the site of a Ku Klux Klan rally. They were jailed on charges of carrying concealed weapons or carrying weapons without permits.

Dr. Frank A. Rose, university president, expressed confidence that the university will meet the crisis with dignity.

"No thinking person," he said, "wants anything destroyed at this university."

Among the 4,000 to 5,000 students who will enroll for the summer session today and Tuesday is the university president's daughter.

On other racial fronts: President Kennedy conferred with administration aides today on the new civil rights proposals he will soon send to Congress.

His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, outlined to unhappy Southern Democratic senators some of the ideas under consideration.

Yesterday in Honolulu, Kennedy proposed a five-point program, including a virulent condemnation of each city and city ordinances spelling out nondiscrimination policies in housing, employment and public accommodations.

High Court to Eye Districting, Sit-Ins

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court decided today to give further consideration next term to two key areas of legal controversy—the apportionment of state legislatures and "sit-in" demonstrations.

It agreed to hear arguments and then hand down rulings on a series of cases involving both issues sometime next fall or winter. The court is expected to end its present session in a week or so.

Accepted for consideration next fall were reapportionment cases from New York, Maryland, Virginia and Alabama in which city voters charged they had inadequate representation in state legislatures on a population basis.

All of the cases arose after the court ruled last year in a landmark case involving the community college districting of St. Louis to consider voter claims of unfair apportionment.

Running for the community college board of trustees are Harold J. Abrams, Thomas H. Atkinson, C. Ray Ballard, Daniel T. Berry, J. Russell Bright, John William Brook, John C. The court today similarly agreed to review next term sit-in cases from Columbia, S. C., Baltimore, Md., and Miami, Fla. These cases, along with an

2 Teen Girls Drown

By JIM LONG

Tears of sorrow and tears of joy fell on Oakland County lakes during the weekend.

Tragedy struck doubly hard for Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Russell of Detroit.

Their two teenage daughters, their only children, drowned Saturday while swimming in Alderman Lake at the Highland Recreation Area, Highland Township.

The girls, Sandra Gale, 16, and Sheila Dale, 14, were pronounced dead at the scene. Sheriff's water safety director L. Donald K. Kratt and White Lake Township firemen worked for two hours in trying to revive them.

The bodies of the two girls were recovered in 10 feet of water about 15 feet from shore by two area residents, Randall Coe, 1747 E. Highland Road, and Jack Pieren, 1111 E. Highland Road.

The men began searching after Mrs. Russell told them she had not seen her daughters for a half-hour.

The Russells were fishing about 75 yards from where their daughters had been swimming. There were no witnesses to the accident.

NEAR TRAGEDIES

The Russells' experience was nearly repeated for two other families, but quick action on the part of a young boy, a man and a woman averted tragedies.

Two youngsters, Danny S. Short, 10, of 6708 Transparent, Clarkson, and David M. Crawford, 13, of 2036 Harvard, Berkeley, escaped drowning when they were pulled from lakes.

Danny was rescued by William Bailey, 14, of 65 N. Holcomb, and Jack Hagen, 35, of 42 N. Holcomb, both of Clarkson, when the youngster fell from a dock into the Clarkson Mill Pond Saturday.

Unconscious when brought out of the water, Danny began breathing seconds after the Clarkson Fire Department arrived and began applying artificial respiration.

Danny's screams of help brought nearby residents Bailey and Hagen to the scene.

Kratt credited Mrs. Sally Krause, 28, of 1162 Boyd, Troy, a mother of three, with saving the life of the Crawford boy yesterday.

David was at Pontiac Lake in White Lake Township when he walked into the water after his brother, who was swimming to a raft. He lost his footing on a drop-off, 30 feet from shore in eight feet of water.

Mrs. Krause, seeing his trouble, swam to his aid and held his head above water until more help came. David's parents watched the rescue from shore. Neither Danny nor David can swim.

Documents on New Park Will Be Ready for Okay

BIRMINGHAM—Two legal documents will be ready for signing today if the City Commission decides to go ahead with plans for a new municipal parking lot immediately south of Shain Park.

One is a $150,000 agreement to purchase the majority of the proposed site, bounded by Merrill, Bates, Townsend and Henrietta, from M. E. Cunningham.

The other is a resolution giving approval to the start of condemnation proceedings for the entire block.

Properties involved in the purchase agreement are all those on the south side of Merrill and two lots on Townsend.

Presently, no agreement has been reached with three property owners on the north side of Townsend, according to City Manager L. H. Gare.

Last Monday, the Central Birmingham Residents Association, which is opposing the development of the site as a parking lot, presented three alternative proposals to the commission. No action was taken, however.

The organization also has obtained more than 2,600 signatures from persons protesting the lot.

The Royal Vice Consulate of Sweden in Michigan, located at 6345 Sheringham, has been raised to the rank of consulate, according to Consul Edward Johansson.

WALLS GO UP — Construction of the new $130,000 municipal building in Farmington has reached the halfway mark as walls rise above the building site. Started March 1, the building is expected to be completed by Sept. 1.

The 6,000-square-foot structure will house the municipal offices, municipal court, council chamber, offices of assessor and building inspector and the safety department.

A gown of ivory bouquet tulle styled with portrait decollete and embellished skirt that revealed a triple-tiered petticoat of Alencon lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding.

Roberts of Waterford, Lynn Parsons of Allen Park and Karen Mitchell of Detroit.

Assisting as best man was Fred Turek of Clarkston. The guests were seated by Robert Jennings of Clarkston, brother of the bride; Robert Mitchell of Detroit, uncle of the bridegroom; Dale Hopp of East Lansing, cousin of the bridegroom; and Carl Wilberg of Clarkston.

Junior ushers were Edward and Jeffrey Jennings, brothers of the bride.

The reception was held in the church parlor.

Out to Collect Signatures

DETROIT (UPI) — The Vigilance Tax Committee plans to station volunteers at tricity polls today to collect signatures protesting the Detroit city income tax.

Mayor George Kuhn, Berkeley, head of the committee, said the volunteers would be stationed at suburban voting places during school tax elections.

"We're out to clean up the balance of signatures on our state-wide drive which at last reporting was 1,000 votes short of the goal. We are anxious to form a cushion of 15,000 or 20,000 over the goal," Kuhn said.

Kuhn said the committee planned to present its call for legislation to the September special session of the state legislature. "We are confident that Gov. (George) Romney's attitude in seeking citizens' advice and opinions on tax matters will aid us. And we hope to make some impact on the lawmakers with 250,000 signatures," Kuhn said.

Troy's Schools Hope for Best

Tax-Hike Request on Ballot 3rd Time

TROY — The Troy School Board is hoping good things come in threes.

A three-mill tax hike is being requested by the board today for the third time since November 1961.

A business meeting following renewal of an eight-mill tax levy, due to expire next year, is the second request facing school district residents.

Should both of the propositions receive voter approval, the district's tax rate will be increased to a levy of 26.7 mills.

In addition to a pay hike for teachers the reopening of Colerain school is planned in the 1963-64 budget. Expected spending next year amount to a total of $1,754,677.

The new budget is based on approval of the three-mill hike, scheduled to bring in some $116,000.

If the millage increase is not okayed, the school board has agreed to continue maintaining school operation on its present austerity program.

The scheduled teachers' pay hike would also have to be canceled, should the three-mill hike be rejected.

Area Woman Hurt in 2-Car Accident

Educator Proposes Having Elementary School Counselors

An Oakland County educator has proposed the idea of counselors for elementary school children.

Dr. William F. Moorhouse, director of measurements and guidance for the county school board, has been beating the proverbial drums for elementary school counselors and foresees such a guidance program as an educational trend.

Counselors and guidance programs have long been a feature of junior high and senior high schools. Dr. Moorhouse proposes extending the program.

The county guidance director sent out his trial balloon at a recent meeting of the Oakland County curriculum committee. He claims a favorable response from local school officials.

STUDYING

Dr. Moorhouse said Birmingham has a committee studying the idea of elementary school counselors, and Southfield also has discussed similar guidance programs.

Meantime, Dublin School District, a one-school system, has plans to hire an elementary school counselor for next year, according to Dr. Moorhouse.

Pontiac is also interested in the new guidance proposals. He said Pontiac is currently using five Student Education Corps volunteers in somewhat of a pilot project.

The volunteers, all from Michigan State University, visit five Pontiac schools one day a week. All five MSU students have some guidance training.

Dr. Moorhouse said the elementary guidance programs are just starting across the country, but the "interest is growing."

He said the exact function of the new counselor is still open to definition, but this person would be in addition to the present visiting teacher and school psychologists.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the counseling would be to identify at an early age a child's abilities and to spot those children having learning difficulties.

Dr. Moorhouse said the counselors would work closely with the classroom teacher, the visiting teacher, the school psychologist, and parents. He emphasized parents.

"The major assistance available through this counselor," Dr.

Moorhouse explained, "is in communication between the room teacher, school and parents. He said parents could register complaints with the counselor that could not be made to the principal or class-

He said elementary school counselors would improve the problems and special needs could be recognized earlier.

Dr. Moorhouse said there currently was a big gap between regular programs — help of the classroom teacher and principal said there are 4,000 educators in elementary schools with the title of counselors. He said this could be compared with 44,000 for secondary schools.

It Seems to Me . . .

World Facing Dubious Future on Sufficient Supply of Food

One of the most heart-rending and incredible facts in 1963 existence lies in the appalling deaths from starvation and malnutrition.

And U. S. silos overflow.

The U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization reports that ONE HALF of the three billion people on this globe are actually in want of food to the point that they are suffering or facing death. No one in North America can realize that this condition is a stark reality. How can one and a half billion people go hungry — and face death from want today?

Savants assert that it took 800,000 years to achieve a population of three billion on this globe. But the next three billion will be added in 40 years. What then? The optimists say there will be sufficient food, but some hard-headed realists ask:

“How?”

Food production increased by a mere 15% during the last 40 years, while population leaped 30%. With one and a half billion underfed NOW, what does the future actually hold? President Ayub Khan of Pakistan says if present trends continue in his country, “people will be living like animals.”

And what about China and India?

The U.N. food organization asserts Asiatic production must be stepped up 400% in the years ahead, and it doubts whether even this gigantic increase will be sufficient in the light of the worldwide population explosion which all experts confidently predict. It's hard to think of a thing so deplorable on this globe. The spectacle of men, women and children dying from hunger and living in penury and actual want suggests the gloomiest dark ages.

But it's happening in 1963.

What of the day after tomorrow?

And in our country we've been paying American farmers not to raise as much food as they did before! What goes on?

Switches Sides . . .

Will wonders never cease?

WAYNE MORSE, Oregon senator who is noted for lining up on the wrong side of nearly all debatable issues, got out of bed on the right side the other morning and declared that the U.S. should pull out of NATO unless the international freeloaders pay their rightful share of group defense spending.

As usual, Uncle Sucker makes up the deficits. That is, YOU and YOU and YOU pay the shot as our Washington administrators toss your money about.

Wayne, of 'kid, you rate a round of applause.

Flying Objects . . .

This may become more than a joke if we continue to hurl assorted material into outer space. According to the National Aeronautical and Space Administration, there are 327 objects whirling about unattended.

This is simply fantastic.

Of course, it doesn't constitute a traffic jam, but it portends challenging days ahead. All of these whizzing objects don't burn up when they weary of their 18,000-mile-an-hour chase and return. Last September a 20-pound piece of Russia's Sputnik IV landed in Manitowish, Wis. Fragments from rockets have crashed to earth in Cuba, Africa and China.

The day may come when we'll have to send a squad in white to pick up the debris in outer space. And wouldn't it be the height of vexation to have a section of a Russian rocket land right on your own personal noggin and ring down the curtain for keeps? Can you think of a more exasperating way to court the last rites?

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Chicago is puzzled at JOHN CUNEO's announcement that he plans an 80-story office building in the Loop, where height has been verboten. Friends wonder whether the lot is big enough to stand that height; and its financial future is questioned. CUNEO can stand the latter. . . .

The NY Yankees, with one of the best teams in baseball, are light on attendance, while the NY Mets, really a shade worse than the Tigers, have wildly enthusiastic crowds.

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie that this summer averages warmer than usual to “make up” for the frigid winter.

Old Mother Nature is a great gal to “level off.” . . . Overheard: “She's so dumb she thinks Camelot's a place where they sell used camels.” . . . AT&T and GM have the largest list of stockholders, and The Wall Street Journal says 75% of both are held by people with less than 100 shares. . . . If the Postmaster General is as mad at the taxpayers as he makes out and cuts off all Saturday service, you had better mail your Christmas cards now.

Overheard: “The only way to get the U.S. Government out of the red is to get the Reds out of the U.S. Government.” . . . Hurry, Spain offers bullfighting lessons over 14 days for $180, with one live bull for you to kill (or get killed by) at the end of the session. If you win, you get to sell the meat. If you lose . . .

Overheard: “Communism doesn't mean distributing the wealth. It means distributing the poverty.” . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: The C's — Tigers for beating Yankees two out of three; the J's — that British scandal.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

“LIVING Costs Again Rise Tenth of One Per Cent.”—Headline. The cost of living hasn't been stabilized, as many have been claiming, but it does seem its climb up the inflation spiral has hit an almost constant speed.

“INDICATIONS that KHRUSHCHEV may retire soon is good news,” says a news commentator. It might be good news were it not for the fact that if he should do so, he would be succeeded by a Russian.

Plenty Of Sugar For Somebody!

David Lawrence Says:

Race Bias Now Is Against Whites

WASHINGTON — The latest development in the rising tide of bitterness in the racial controversy today is not reflected in the news of the riots or public demonstrations, or the speeches by Negro leaders hinting at future violence.

It is emerging rather in the invisible influence of some Negro spokesmen in their new demand for “positive discrimination.”

It amounts to a call for unabashed discrimination against whites in the matter of employment or promotions.

The latest example of this was brought to the attention of the House of Representatives the other day by Rep. Bruce Alger, Republican of Texas, in whose district the episode occurred. He said:

“Upon direct orders from Washington in keeping with the President's order to advance Negro employees without regard to civil service procedures, three employees of the Dallas Post Office were given supervisory positions.”

“In a letter of protest from the received this morning from the President of the Dallas local of the United Federation of Postal Clerks, it was pointed out that some 400 employees are presently on the supervisors' promotion register in Dallas and that the register was completely disregarded in the announced promotions, one man being promoted 54 and the other two considerably farther down the list.”

“This action has created a demoralizing effect among the postal workers in Dallas and has created tensions which heretofore did not exist. It is my sincere belief that Federal employees of all races and religions and national origins should be treated with justice and fairness.”

“For many years every national administration has carefully observed Civil Service procedures in hiring Federal employees and in making promotions, until the advent of the Kennedy administration.”

“Now, in a direct appeal to racial prejudice and in an effort to submit to threats of violence, the administration has ordered that Civil Service procedures be ignored and promotions made strictly on the basis of race.”

Another instance is that which occurred recently when, in the New Orleans District, the U.S. Army Engineers issued an equal-employment policy statement which said that if the three top eligibles for a job include a Negro and the Negro was not hired, then a formal report explaining why must be made out and that meantime the vacancy must not be filled without written approval.

Representative John Bell Williams of Mississippi, Democrat, took the matter up with Chairman Thomas Murray of Tennessee of the House Post Office Civil Service Committee.

Mr. Murray replied that his legal staff advised that any policy of the kind described is unsound and not in accord with the principle of equal treatment.

The New Orleans District of Army Engineers, however, in a letter to representative Williams, cited a presidential executive order as authority for its action.

Bob Considine Says:

Courier to the Pope in 1493 Has Weird, Crazy Dream

ROME—Let us say it is early in the year of 1493 and Pope Alexander VI sits securely on the throne of Peter. A papal chamberlain enters, genuflects, kisses the Fisherman's Ring, and says, “I bear astonishing news, your holiness.”

The ship of Christopher Columbus has returned from the voyage westward of last year. There is land there. A way has been found to the riches and spices of the Indies by sailing west.”

“Sounds,” says the Pope. “So what else is new?”

“I hesitate to speak of it, your holiness. It was nothing but a dream I had last night.”

“Speak up, man. What was the dream?”

“Well,” the poor man says, mopping his brow. “I dreamed that it was the year of 1963. A good pope with the same name as that rascal Baldassare Cossa — John XXIII — had just died. The news had to be spread, just as I now spread the news of the great feat of Columbus.”

“It was sent from Rome to the New World by Teletar and Relay.”

“In my dream they are little moons that fly around the earth. As one of the other comes into view of Rome — though, actually, the people cannot see them — the news is sent to it by an invisible ray.”

“The moon digests the beam from Rome and shoots it down to the people of the New World.”

Alexander VI begins to make little signs to the Swiss guard.

“They have no frames or canvas or paint or crayon, sire. They are sent invisibly from the sky. And then they come to life again in the New World. So do voices, proclaiming the news. So do pictures that move.”

Voice of the People:

‘Public Employees in Cuba Having Rough Time’

A woman employee of the Cuban ministry who arrived in Florida from Cuba in an open boat, revealed that there is utter chaos. IBM machines had broken down and no spare parts were available. Public employees are worn out.

After work they are forced to attend indoctrination lectures or stand guard in the offices. On weekends, they are herded for “voluntary” work in the cane fields or guinea crops, need empty lots and clean streets. Anyone not “volunteering” is placed on a blacklist and deprived of ration cards for shoes and clothes.

More Think Cats Should Be Licensed

Some cats must eat birds in order to survive. But I have several neighbors (one has five cats) who say their “natural” for cats to eat wildlife. I don't go along with that.

Let's make the owners buy licenses the same as dog owners.

Nature Lover

I, too, believe cats should be licensed and not allowed to prowl. We were so disappointed when a cat got both the mourning doves and robins in our pine trees.

The same cat killed a mother robin while she was on the ground, leaving a nest of baby robins.

Can anything be done?

U. N. Voting

St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Those who have criticized the one-nation-one-vote system in the United Nations as working against United States interests

The argument of the critics has been that as more small and weak states have been admitted to the U.N. the United States has suffered a loss of voting power. Some form of weighted voting has been suggested as a substitute.

The new 11 members of the U.N. and the latest to gain admission, Kuwait, with a population of 350,000, has the same vote in the General Assembly as the Soviet Union or the United States.

Mr. Cleveland's experts analyzed 178 Assembly votes from 1954 to 1961 according to 15 different voting systems weighted according to population, national income and size of assessments.

Gentlemen's Agreement

Tallahassee Democrat

The 34 Senators who want the United States to offer the Soviet Union an agreement to prohibit all nuclear tests in the atmosphere and under water do not seem to have much confidence that the offer will be accepted. They say that if it is rejected the United States should commit itself to refrain from conducting such tests so long as the Soviet Union abstains, but should at all times remain ready to resume tests on short notice.

The leaders of this group are well aware of the efforts this country has made to reach an agreement to ban tests, and the on-again, off-again Soviet response. Now the Soviets are farther than ever from an agreement.

Senators are asking the United States to make a gentlemen's agreement as it did before, only to have Khrushchev dynamite it. The Soviets' progress in the nuclear field is due to just such deception.

A gentlemen's agreement means nothing if one of the parties is a scoundrel.

Wayne County Gets Relations Committee

DETROIT (AP) — Two suburban mayors, members of city councils and others comprise Wayne County's new Human Relations Committee.

The 10-man group, designed to aid in the county's racial relations problems, was appointed yesterday by Chairman William T. Patrick Jr. of the County Board of Supervisors. Patrick is a member of the Detroit City Council.

Mel J. Ravitz, a Detroit councilman, was named chairman of the new committee.

Other Detroiters are Councilman Philip J. Van Anwerp; Damon J. Keith, member of the Detroit Housing Commission; Paul Silver, president of United Auto workers Local 381, and Boaz Siegel, Wayne State University law professor.

Out-of-county members are Mayors Donald R. Nettlow and Walter Berklich of River Rouge and Southgate, respectively; A. E. Vailier, Plymouth city supervisor; Joseph L. Kozak, Dearborn Township supervisor, and David E. Burgess, Grosse Pointe councilman.

Decline Action on Resignation

ADRIAN (AP) — The Detroit District of the Methodist Church has declined to take action on the resignation of a minister who quit over racial integration problems in his midtown Detroit parish.

Officials at the 122nd annual meeting at Adrian College granted the Rev. John L. Adams a one-year sabbatical leave, taking no action on his resignation.

The leave gives him the privilege of returning to the district within a year, officials said. Adams reportedly turned in his resignation, charging that his efforts at church integration in the changing neighborhood met with little success and some opposition from members of the congregation.

Claim Innocence in Coercion Case Involving Arms

BASEL, Switzerland (UPI) — Two alleged Israeli agents today pleaded innocent to charges they tried to coerce West German scientists to stop rocket development work for the United Arab Republic.

Joseph Ben-Gal, 33, an Israeli, and Dr. Otto Joklik, 42, a Czech-born engineer, entered their pleas at the opening of their trial which is expected to shed light on Israel's efforts to block its Arab enemies from developing nuclear rockets.

Joklik pleaded guilty to an additional charge of entering Switzerland illegally, but he pleaded innocent to a third charge, that of violating the Swiss law on exporting arms.

The two defendants were arrested March 2 in Zurich.

Venezuela Next Target in Cold War Test, OAS Warns

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Western Hemisphere's next big cold war test is only months away.

Exhibiting alarm, an Organization of American States committee warns the hemisphere that Venezuela, a prize of enormous value, is the target for the next attack. It urges united action to prepare for it.

RYAN

This was no surprise. A Red bridge in Venezuela could menace all South America. It has been a primary target for some time. But the danger is rising rapidly now.

An exclamation-point was supplied for the OAS warning by an attack on a U. S. installation in Caracas by terrorists Wednesday night.

Fidel Castro's recently concluded Moscow visit seems to have brought agreement ending Red confusion over continuing Soviet and Chinese ideas on whether resolution should be pushed violently at any risk or cautiously through nearly legal methods.

The answer in Latin America seems to be: The methods will be blended.

Venezuela will have national elections in December. If President Romulo Betancourt finishes his term, he will be the first democratically elected president in Venezuelan history to do so. Now the Castro-Communist alliance seems to be trying to stack the cards in its favor.

Close study of Red propaganda indicates this line of attack: The Communists will try to participate in the election campaign behind what they call a "democratic coalition."

In the style of Cuba's Communists, they will try to dominate the coalition. If it has prospects of winning, they can hope to set up and dominate a "national front" government. This would be the "legal" approach.

PREFER VIOLENCE?

If this means to power seems headed for failure — and that is likely — the other method will be used. Chances are that the Latin American Communists prefer the violent way.

This plan appears to be to prevent elections from being held and to keep Betancourt from finishing his term. The pressure will mount constantly until the climax of a constitutional one-term limit. But if a coup is plotted, it is the

In the hills, Castro-style guerrilla organizations of young fanatics, "the Armed Front of National Liberation," are harassing the government. Their allies throughout the country carry out all manner of wild, murderous violence.

Meanwhile, Red propaganda says Betancourt is plotting a coup, in conformance with the military and the Yankees, to keep himself in office in violation of a constitutional one-term limit. But if a coup is plotted, it is the Communists who are doing so. They have adopted this rallying cry: "By fair means or foul, we must have a change."

The terrorist faction is believed to have had the upper hand all along. The likelihood is that violence will be the order of the day as the end of the election campaign approaches.

Violence against Betancourt began almost immediately after his inauguration in February 1959, and has risen in tempo ever since.

The Communist-Castro alliance, indeed, made a bold try against the government in October 1960, spurring Betancourt to suspend constitutional guarantees and, by decree, prevent the Communists from participating in government affairs.

Recently Betancourt revealed that 592 persons, including many foreigners, are in jail on such charges as inciting to civil war, armed holdups, bombings, murder of law officer and banditry. Betancourt says all of it is financed and inspired by Castro in violence, the turn of others Cuba. This is not a problem for Venezuela alone. If the nation drowns the whole western world.

Detroit Says OK on 'Walk to Freedom'

DETROIT (AP) — A mass "walk to freedom," set for June 23 here, has an official go-ahead and support from several non-racially oriented groups.

Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards issued a parade permit to the three-week-old Detroit Council for Human Rights, sponsor of the march.

He assured the council there would be no "adequate police protection." He saw "no police problem," he added.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh offered the use of his car and a police escort to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., who would lead the parade.

SCHOLLE SPEAKS UP

At the same time August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, urged union members to "hit the bricks" and march in the demonstration.

Other groups — including the Trade Union Leadership Council, the Congress on Racial Equality, the Colliery Club, the United Auto Workers, the Detroit Medical Association and the Wolverine Bar Association — said they would send delegations to march in the parade.

Gold in Streets, but There's Law Against Mining

PRINCETON, B.C. (AP) — There's gold in the streets here, but it's of little use to anyone.

Old-time prospector Ed Osterbauer saw work crews replacing water lines. He filled a bucket with the wet gravel, saying he wanted it "for my roses."

Panning it at home, he found specks of gold. More showed each time.

But there'll be no gold rush. A provincial Department of Mines ruling bars mining anywhere there is a road, street, dwelling or yard.

Princeton is on the site of the former beds of the Similkameen and Tulameen rivers, both of which once yielded much gold.

Soviet Paper Can't See Red in British Case

MOSCOW (U)—The government newspaper Izvestia has reported details of the Profumo scandal in Britain but omitted mention of the Soviet naval attaché who shared the favors of a London party girl.

Izvestia reported for the first time the details of ex-War Minister John Profumo's resignation after admitting an illicit affair with red-haired Christine Keeler. The report from Izvestia's London correspondent was entitled "The Gay Life of Profumo."

The correspondent, V. Osipov, described in detail the circumstances but left out any mention of Capt. Eugene Ivanov, Soviet Embassy naval attaché, who was also said to have visited Miss Keeler.

Sentencing was set for June 21.

Can U.S. Defeat Illegal Gambling?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of dispatches discussing various phases of gambling — legal and outlawed.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other day a woman stepped out of a telephone booth here and was arrested on charges of operating a numbers game netting about $1,000 a day.

This is a fairly common occurrence and is mentioned only because the arrest was made in the lobby of the Bureau of Internal Revenue where she had been employed for 29 years.

It is common knowledge in the illegal gambling is rampant across the United States, and sex drive.

some persons in position to know put the annual turn-over at $50 billion.

Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, armed with new powers from Congress, and using advanced techniques, is waging a massive war against the gamblers.

He believes that gambling — rather than narcotics or prostitution, for instance — is the chief source of revenue for the American underworld.

A small but vocal group of people think Bobby Kennedy is wasting his time.

They argue that the urge to gamble, the desire to get something for nothing is as basic in human nature as hunger and sex drive.

On the principle that if you can't lick 'em, join 'em, these people say the solution is for the federal government to legalize gambling and drive the racketeers out of business. Some of these proposals will be examined in detail later.

Such incidents as the woman's arrest are fuel for the fire of advocates of legalized gambling. However, they argue, are you going to stamp out gambling when an alleged numbers ring is operating inside the citadel of the American tax structure?

TWO STORIES

They follow up by telling two stories, both fictional and both so heavily encrusted with the moose of time that doubtless you have heard them:

• A man is losing steadily at roulette and a friend says to him: "Don't you know that roulette wheel is crooked?" The man replies: "Sure, but it's the only game in town."

• A horse race track falls to his knees and utters this prayer: "O, Lord, please let me break even today. My wife needs to have her appendix out."

The point they are trying to make, of course, is that nothing is going to prevent gambling. This argument gets short shrift at the Department of Justice.

Bobby Kennedy is not interested in philosophical discussions about the gambling urge. The laws are on the books and he has sworn to enforce the laws. In a recent statement Kennedy explained what he was doing:

"In the Department of Justice the organized crime and racketeering section has been revamped and strengthened so that it can marshal all the resources of the federal government and provide effective assistance to state and local agencies . . .

"The number of attorneys working in this section has been expanded about three times to 60. Each is assigned a specific part of the country and is responsible for all grand juries and trials in his area."

"Steps also have been taken to instill a new spirit of cooperation among the 27 federal law enforcement agencies. In criminal intelligence, for example, each agency previously kept its own separate files on underworld figures."

"Now this material is being consolidated daily into special files of the organized crime section, forming complete and up-to-date reports on some 1,500 big time racketeers. As a result, we have jailed racketeers who previously were able to elude punishment."

Some of the big fish who have been snared in Bobby's net are Frankie Carbo, Blinky Palermo, Trigger Mike Coppola, Buster Workman, Frankie Caruso and Kid Cann.

Some were caught on income tax evasion and some on narcotics violations, but all of them knew their way very well along

Prostitution for the Desperate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Police say gambling sometimes gets such a heavy grip on a person that respectable housewives turn to afternoon prostitution to pay their losses.

Charles R. Thom, police commissioner of Suffolk County, N.Y., told about it at a New York State investigation Commission hearing on gambling in 1960. He said an underworld syndicate moved into Suffolk County, and added:

Bettors get wine and dined and the average $10 bet rapidly expands to a $100 bet or greater. Once hooked, the better can face certain financial disaster. Even otherwise respectable housewives have been led into afternoon prostitution."

he had smashed two entire syndicate book making rings.

Bobby Kennedy does not think he is going to stamp out gambling overnight. He is encouraged by new laws making it a felony to transmit bets interstate by wire or telephone; a felony to transport gambling devices such as numbers racket slips interstate; and a felony to travel interstate to promote or engage in gambling.

"The fight is far from won," Kennedy says. "The forces of organized crime are quick to move in when they find law enforcement temporarily lax or inefficient . . . it must be a long-range, determined effort."

Next: Lotteries, legal and illegal.

Kennedy Will Address Large Protestant Group

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to address the nation's largest convocation of Protestants in Philadelphia this December. The President will address the General Assembly of the National Council of Churches at vast Convention Hall on Dec. 3.

This was a drive against illegal book makers. Thirty-nine establishments were raided simultaneously and U.S. Attorney James P. O'Brien said

It was the climax of six months of investigative work, and such agent knew exactly where to go and the identity of the man he was seeking.

Doctors know that when asthma

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medical tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of suffocation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BROWNTIN.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and less and less oxygen can enter. New BROWNTIN, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. BROWNTIN can now look forward to restful sleep. Get BROWNTIN — available at all drug stores without prescription.

'Look Like Tourists'

Chide Capitol Aides for Dress

By EDWIN B. HAARINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The police who patrol the halls of Congress and the men who run its elevators are catching a bit of criticism about their appearance. Some senators feel they're simply not dressy enough, considering the splendor of their place of work.

The Capitol policemen look pretty much like any other men in blue, with neither plumes nor breeches. And some say you can't tell the elevator operators from the tourists unless you push the "up" buzzer.

Sen. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., noted at a hearing he has received complaints from several senators that the police have the worst dress uniforms of any capital in the world.

But William C. Cheatham, an aide to the Senate sergeant at arms, leaped to the defense of the police. He described them as "a fine-looking group of men" who must keep their shoes shined, uniforms pressed, hair cut, and stand inspection.

Monroney suggested that the elevator operators and doormen be garbed so "they don't look like the tourists."

A Child-Size Problem

She Wants Littlest Meal

DEAR ABBY: Again it has happened to me. I went into a restaurant and saw they had children's size meals listed on the menu.

I ordered one and they refused to let me have it because I am not a child. I am 46 years old, very petite, and am seldom hungry enough to eat an adult-size restaurant meal.

What does my age have to do with the amount I eat? SMALL EATER

DEAR SMALL EATER: Nothing. But when dining out it is not only the food one pays for—but the service.

Children's portions are offered for less—as a courtesy to the accompanying adults. But just try to order half a banana split because you can't eat a whole one.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is planning to attend a shower for a divorcee who is being married for the second time. My wife gave a shower for her the first time she was married.

Her husband divorced her because she cheated on him. (And she had two little children at the time!)

I told my wife I wouldn't give her any money to buy an immoral woman a gift, so she went ahead and used our trading stamps.

What is your opinion? N. F.

DEAR N. F.: MY opinion is that your wife doesn't have much respect for YOUR opinion.

DEAR ABBY: You hear so much about single girls falling in love with married men.

Once in a blue moon the married man actually gets rid of his wife and marries the single girl. But, believe me, this is rare.

I am a man and have been around a lot, and would like to give you three foolproof excuses used by married men when the girl friend puts the pressure on them:

- (1) I don't have any feeling for my wife, but I love my children. When they are grown and gone, we'll get married.
- (2) You are too good for me. I am going to get out of your life so you can find the kind of a man you desire.
- (3) My wife is sick, and I can't leave her in that condition.

"USED THEM ALL"

DEAR ABBY: Re: the man who drinks beer out of a baby bottle and nipple.

You may be absolutely right in suggesting he sees a psychiatrist, but there is another explanation:

Several years ago I gave a birthday party for my husband and made it a rather elaborate "kid" party.

Our guests entered by climbing a ladder and "sliding" into the living room. There we met them with an orange blossom cocktail served in a baby bottle and nipple.

The party went into orbit so fast we were astonished. We had to confiscate all the nipples because our guests were getting so high on one or two drinks we couldn't get supper going.

Later the bartender told me sucking an alcoholic beverage through a straw—or nipple—hastens and heightens the effect.

This is one of those odd bits of information a psychiatrist could go through life without learning.

Encourage Kids' Talk

URBANA, Ill. (UPI) — A member of the University of Illinois home economics department suggests parents encourage the three or four-year-old who keeps up a steady stream of conversation.

"Talking is important to your child's intellectual development," said Mrs. Willie Mae Mowrer.

"Encouraging him to be curious and explaining things in terms he can understand helps to give the child a sense of security, of being loved and wanted."

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please tell me if I committed a breach of etiquette? Last night my husband and I went to a theater and seated beside me was a well-known movie star. During intermission, I very quietly leaned over and asked her if she would give me her autograph.

My husband thinks this was an invasion of her private life and showed lack of manners on my part. I think a person in public life encounters this all the time and I certainly see nothing wrong in what I did. What is your opinion?

A: There was nothing wrong in what you did. Movie stars are so accustomed to being asked to autograph programs, menus, etc., that they have come to accept this as a matter of course.

Q: My niece, who came to this country from Ireland two years ago, has been living with my husband and me. She is going to be married the end of August and thinks her parents' names should appear on the invitations.

Her parents are still living in Ireland and will not be coming to the wedding. I think the invitations should go out in my husband's name and mine. Will you please set us straight on this matter?

A: You are right. Since the bride's parents will not be present at the wedding, the invitations should go out in your husband's name and yours.

Your niece's parents' names should of course appear in the newspaper announcement of her engagement as follows: Miss Mary O'Reilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Reilly of Dublin, Ireland.

Q: When whole slices of bread are served on a bread tray and one wishes only half a slice, may one break the slice and a half put back on the tray?

A: Having touched the bread with one's hands, one must not put the unwanted half back on the bread tray.

The correct wording and addressing of wedding invitations and announcements are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Financial Ends Meet When It's Necessary

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management.

If you're in your 40s or 50s, you are probably beginning to consider how you will make financial ends meet when retirement time comes.

The following letter shows how you can get a preview of your situation before you are face to face with adjusting to a retirement income:

Dear Miss Feeley: I enjoy reading your

column and thought I would like to let you know how I solved our problem.

My husband had a good job making about $500 a month take home pay, but we never seemed to be able to save much or stay on a budget. Five years ago he said: "I'm thinking about retiring. Do you think we can live on my pension?"

This is $234 a month, plus a veteran's pension of about $78 a month. No Social Security. The money is clear with no withholdings of any kind. First thing I did was list all my expenses that had to be paid over the year and divided it by 12.

I allowed some extra and even figured on a Christmas Club.

After putting my budget money away, we are left with about $100 a month for groceries, operating the car, clothing, recreation, etc.

The first year was the hardest. But now everything is running smooth and some months I have some left over. This I put away and start over new each month. Last December I had about $400 extra which could be used for any emergency. We do not skimp and do have what we want.

Of course, there are only two of us, and the house and car are ours. But why couldn't we have done this years ago? I guess when you know you've got to do something it can be done.

Mrs. W. L., Waterford, N.Y.

I would guess that there are other reasons aside from cost for your landlord's objection to your using an automatic washer. Perhaps it has to do with installation, expense of extra pipe and so forth.

You can write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.

SHEILA MARIE FOX

November vows are planned by Sheila Marie Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Fox of Ellwood to Pte. Stephen Michael Kerchoff, son of the Nick Kerchoffs of Chipewau.

ELEANOR B. CARNEY

Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Carney of West Ann Arbor Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Eleanor to Ronald B. Hetherington, son of the Bruce Hetheringtons of Clarkston.

Dear Miss Feeley: A friend of mine had a will made out and left it at home in a dresser drawer—where the mice chewed it to bits. Now she would like to have another will made. Is it all right for her to state the other will was destroyed?

Mrs. T. C., West Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mrs. D.: I should think a copy of your friend's will would be in her lawyer's possession. However, if not, she can have a new will drawn up and the lawyer will word it so that it takes precedence over any previous will she made.

Dear Miss Feeley: When we moved into this apartment our rent was $75 a month and we took our clothes to the laundromat. Some months later I acquired a used wringer washing

Recreation and Study

Oakland Well Into Summer Term

By PHILIP WILLIAMS

Most colleges in the nation are ready for dismissal of classes for the summer. However, at Oakland University the third term of the trimester program is nearly one-fourth over.

Having to attend school during the long summer months is not very consoling.

Nevertheless, students don't complain since they have recreational activities right on the campus.

The new Intramural Building is the focus of student life during after-class hours. A recently organized softball league illustrates that fun and study can harmonize.

Mike Wyzogski of Foster directs one of these teams. Playing with Mike are Ted Lorenzen of Third Avenue, Ron Toles of Watkins Lake Road, and Bill Davis of Hatchery.

Also active in this league are Dave Blank of Berkeley Street and Bob White of Acorn.

Coed Fran Austin of West Huron is a member of the women's team.

The largest student group on campus is the Student Activities Council. The SAC is responsible for many large events throughout the school year. Jim Wolfe of

Calm Nasty Boss

Compliments Pay Off

CASE P-44: Rachel R., aged 20, was enrolled in my evening classes at Northwestern University.

She was so emotionally disturbed by her employer that she asked for a personal interview with me.

"Doctor Crane," she began, "I feel as if I'll have a nervous breakdown before long if I don't quit my job."

"For my boss drives me almost frantic! He is what you might call a 'loud mouth' for he yells at everybody."

"The whole department is jittery and scared to death. He is an ogre who acts as if he'd be glad to bite our heads off."

"But I make a good salary and don't know if I could obtain another job immediately, so I have refrained from quitting."

"Yet I have spastic colitis and must see a doctor every two weeks. He thinks it is all due to the tension at work."

"So what can I do, Dr. Crane? I need this job, yet I may have a complete nervous breakdown if I continue with my present boss."

"Why don't you try the Compliment Club technique on your employer?" I asked.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I despise him!" she spoke fervently. "Why, I couldn't possibly pay him a compliment! I just could not force even a word of praise across my lips for that man. I hate the sight of him!"

But I reminded Rachel that it is perfectly honest and proper to praise even a most hated enemy, for a compliment is not flattery.

A compliments is a bit of honest praise that neutral bystanders will even admit is merited.

True enough, we always dislike praising a foe so we may be compelled to clench our teeth and force those first few words of praise across them.

But if we rule our emotions by our brain, we shall soon be able to change the entire social atmosphere.

"Besides," I warned Rachel, "a 'bearcat' at the office is often a meek 'housecat' at home."

"These office bearcats who try to shout and throw their weight around, often feel insecure and inferior deep down inside."

"So their bullying tactics are likely to be a smoke screen or camouflage."

"Try paying your employer an honest compliment, starting tomorrow morning. Praise his new tie or suit or whatever merits an honest compliment."

"But force yourself to utter a bit of praise. You may feel jittery and as skittish as a beginning public speaker,

Neighbors Should Report Neglected Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: There's a couple on our block who both work. Their 11-year-old boy is the terror of all the younger children in our neighborhood.

He throws stones and dirt at my little boy when he is playing in the front yard and uses filthy language to me when I tell him to go away.

It has gotten so that my little boy is afraid to go out in the yard.

ANSWER: Why don't the mothers of these persecuted younger children in your neighborhood get together and write a letter to this boy's parents?

If, as I suspect, they are unable to put any controls on him, you might then refer his neglected state to your local department of welfare.

Does this suggestion strike you as too "interfering" in your neighbors' business?

If so, my answer is that when our living space is invaded by a neighbor who can't respect it, the neighbor makes his business our business.

If this boy's parents cannot control his invasions of your front yard, then you will have to take over and see to it that control is placed on them.

He is, you know, a neglected child. Neglect of children is not limited to neglect of their bodies. It includes neglect of training children to live with other people.

DENIED TRAINING
The boy on your block has been denied that training. The only way he knows how to reach out for connection with other people is to fling dirt and contemptuous language at them.

If he doesn't discover another way to reach out to people, what's to become of him?

What's left for anyone who knows himself to be hated and unwanted except to develop more responsive hate and vindictiveness?

It would be lovely if the world still provided enough space between people so that they could all mind their own business. But it doesn't.

If our bus conductor decides to strike for more money, we have to walk — and his private business becomes our business. If some stranger suddenly develops typhoid fever, his private illness at once becomes public business, lectured private business.

So if parents on our block condone delinquent behavior in their child, our children are threatened, and we may have to make public business out of their neglect.

Civil Rights Woes Could Hurt Dems

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International
Continued bad luck with civil rights could impose severe penalties in next year's elections on President Kennedy and on the Democratic party.

Among the political facts of life are these:

- Only under unusual circumstances can a Democratic presidential candidate be confident of election without the electoral votes of most of the Southern states.
- In the great industrial states outside the South, all Democratic candidates usually need the Negro vote to be elected.

Well-organized movements have developed in five Southern states to deprive Kennedy next year of their electoral votes. The method would be to offer voters slates of unpledged presidential electors. Election laws in Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia have been rewritten to provide for the unpledged states. The proposal is pending in the legislatures of Florida and Louisiana. These five states represent 53 electoral votes.

If no presidential candidate obtained a majority in the electoral college — 270 votes —

the election of a president and vice president would be thrown into the House of Representatives.

In that event, each state would cast one vote. Mississippi's vote would be equal, for example, to the vote of New York or Pennsylvania. The Southerners might be able to make a deal.

The one-state-one-vote system would restore to the South some of the political leverage it lost when Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered Democratic national convention rules changed in 1936.

GAVE SOUTH VETO

For 100 years the Democrats had required a two-thirds majority for the nomination of a presidential candidate. In practice, the two-thirds rule gave the South a veto over presidential nominations.

FDR scrapped the two-thirds rule, making a simple majority sufficient to nominate. The political influence of Southern states in the Democratic party has been shrinking toward zero ever since FDR's triumphant second nomination.

Political trouble outside the South will fall upon the Democratic party if President Kennedy is unable soon to reverse the disenchantment of Northern Negroes with his civil rights performance.

Disenfranchised Southern Negroes have no muscle at the ballot box. They must take to the streets or put on the pressure with one of their sit-in maneuvers. Southern communities have been unable to cope with the sit-in technique of Negro protest.

A Northern Negro sit-home maneuver next year on Election Day would scuttle Democratic candidates in a great many Northern states. It could be deadly to candidates for mayor and sheriff as well as for the big shots running president, governor or senator.

An Election Day sit-home would be a revenge technique, no more, at the moment of next year's election.

But the long-range impact would be very great if major Democratic defeats in such states as New York, Pennsylvania and California could be attributed to a Negro boycott of the polls.

The Democrats then would know that Northern Negroes had been brought into the party leadership for keeps.

The alternative to a Negro sit-home protest against Democratic civil rights achievements would be a Negro bolt to the Republicans. Not likely.

There is much Republican sentiment for abandoning Northern Negroes to the Democrats to enable the GOP to go after unhappy white Democrats in the once-upon-a-time solid South. Republicans are approaching an agonizing decision on that.

Veteran Pro Putts Way to $9,000 First Prize

It's Boros in All 4 Rounds of Buick Open

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
GRAND BLANC — They predicted that Julius Boros, because of his age and the tough 36 hole and in sweltering humid weather would fold in final day of the Buick Open at Warwick Hills Sunday.

But, Boros proved he plays his best in hot weather and he proved that he has as much stamina as any member of pro circuit as he turned in five straight sub-par rounds to win the tournament with a record total 14 under par 74.

From start to finish it was Boros all the way. It was only the second time this year that a player has taken the lead in the first round and kept it the rest of the way. Jack Nicklaus did it in winning the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas.

The first round of 66 for Boros was in the pro-am. The next four rounds in the championship event were 66-71-68 and 69.

"It was as good as I ever played and the best I have ever putted consistently through an entire tournament," said the veteran pro from Mid-Pines, N.C. His closet competitor was Dow Finsterwald, who pulled within two strokes of him in the morning round and then finished with 70-72-67-67-279.

This is a reversal of what happened a week before at the 500 Festival tournament when Finsterwald won and Boros was runner-up.

In third place was long driving George Bayer who not only pocketed $3,000 for his 71-70-71-68-280 but also a $5,000 Buick for a hole in one he made Saturday on the 171 yard 8th hole with a 6-iron.

This was almost as much in money value as the $9,000 first prize taken by Boros.

Boros won 72 holes without a putt green and he did it with a putt he discarded to his closet of souvenirs. After winning the World Tournament in Chicago which was worth $50,000 to him, Boros fell out of site as far as tournament victories were concerned.

He tried everything to change his luck even changing putters.

It didn't help as he won only five times in seven years. But when a thief walked off with a putter at the Master's tournament this year, he went into his closet and took out the old "World Title" putter and since then has been one of the hottest putters on the circuit.

This was his second tournament win in five weeks, plus a 2nd and a fourth place finish and he now stands third in money winnings behind Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema with $43,325.

His 274 broke the tournament record of 282 which Finsterwald and Art Wall Jr. set in 1959.

Michigan's list of players dwindled to only two pros after Saturday's qualifying Michigan PGA champion Ben Lulu won $250 bonus for being the low Michigan pro as he carded 300. Jackson's Dave Hill was two strokes behind.

Gene Bone missed qualifying by one stroke as he added 75 to his 77 of the first round.

Ironically, the only three amateurs left in the field Joe Miller, Bruce Dohie, Larry McMillan, all finished at the bottom of the list.

The crowds for the five days were listed as Wednesday 3,361; Thursday 2,965; Friday 3,529; Saturday 10,279 and Sunday 15,300 for a total of 35,454, breaking the 1960 record of 25,000.

Buick Open officials were happy to point to these figures in view of the absence of the big names, Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Doug Sanders and Billy Casper.

M-Less Yanks Bomb Tigers

Circuit Belts Lead Bombers in 6-2 Rout

Lolich Yields Three in First Home Start; Ford Gains Eighth

DETROIT UP — The New York Yankees—held in check in two previous games by Detroit left-handers — clubbed three home runs off rookie southpaw Mickey Lolich Sunday and went on to score a 6-2 victory over the Tigers.

The triumph, only the second in their eight games, snapped the Yankees' three-game losing streak. It was the second Yankee victory over Detroit in eight meetings between the two clubs this season.

Whitely Ford, though admittedly tired in the last two innings, gave up only three hits in the last six frames and picked up his eighth victory in 11 decisions.

Ford had completed his last four starts and has won eight of his last nine decisions. The Yankees went to work early on Lolich, spoiling the youngster's starting debut before the hometown fans.

Lolich walked Roger Maris to open the second inning and third baseman Harry Bright hit his second home run of the season off the facing of the second deck in left.

Norm Cash homered in the last half of the second, parking one of Ford's offerings in the second deck in right.

Al Kaline's single, after the single by Jake Wood and a sacrifice, knotted the score in the third.

TRESH HOMERS — Tom Tresh's solo homer in the fifth put the Yankees ahead in the seventh inning when the Tigers led the bases on singles by Bubba Phillips and pinch hitter Bill Freehan, and a walk. But Ford struck out pinch hitter Frank Kestner on a high, inside fast ball.

The only other Tiger threat came in the second when Phillips tripled after Cash's home run. Ford then fanned Dick McAuliffe and Lolich.

Hector Lopez homered off reliever Tom Sturdivant in the eighth inning to close out the scoring.

Ford got into a jam in the seventh inning when the Tigers led the bases on singles by Bubba Phillips and pinch hitter Bill Freehan, and a walk. But Ford struck out pinch hitter Frank Kestner on a high, inside fast ball.

The only other Tiger threat came in the second when Phillips tripled after Cash's home run. Ford then fanned Dick McAuliffe and Lolich.

LEADS BRITONS — Bob Porritt of Clarkson was named to co-captain the Albion College baseball team for 1964. Porritt, a shortstop, hit 270 the past season.

That's how a 78-year-old steward of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews viewed the outcome of the 1963 British Amateur Golf Championship.

The steward, Bob Lister, a native of St. Andrews, was on duty at the famous 17th "road hole" of the Old Course last week when the entire American Walker Cup squad in total.

Lunt was the only British Walker Cupper to survive.

One by one the Americans were whipped in the amateur, starting with the U.S. amateur champion Labron Harris of Stillwater, Okla. Then followed the entire Walker Cup squad in total.

Lunt was the only British Walker Cupper to survive.

Michael Lunt of England won the title, beating another Englishman, John Blackwell, 2 and 1, in Saturday's 36-hole final. Lunt eliminated the defending champion Dick Davies of Pasadena, Calif. in Friday's quarter-finals.

Said Lister: "I went to the United States from here a long time ago. I had a hard time trying to decide who I was for. But as I say, you Yankees can win them all."

SMALL GALLERY — The absence of Americans in the final of the week-long match play marathon took a lot of the steam out of the championship. The result was a gallery of hundreds instead of thousands.

The old town of St. Andrews was geared for a multitude but after Friday's quarter-finals and semifinals in which Davies, Ed Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., Dick Ron Lusetti of San Francisco were beaten, the people stayed away in droves.

The American reputation for winning the amateur in a Walker Cup year had been established.

Zannoth, Weber Win

Don Zannoth won the thistle class and Ben Weber was first in the snipe class in Sunday's weekly races by the Watkins Lake Yacht Club.

Houk Offers Detroit Hope

DETROIT UP — New York Yankee manager Ralph Houk still insists that the Detroit Tigers may be a contender in the tight American League race.

But the Tigers, who have looked like world champions the past few days, looked the same old ninth-place Tigers again yesterday as they let one slip slowly and surely out of their grasp and dropped a 6-2 decision to the Yankees.

There was one small consolation, it took one of the best in the business to beat the Tigers — the Yankee stopper, their stylish left-hander Whitey Ford.

"That guy wins, he could win with the rinky dinks," Tiger manager Bob Scheffing marveled yesterday as Ford again showed that he is one of the best pitchers in baseball history. "It just goes to show how important pitching is," Scheffing added.

The victory gave Ford an 8-3 record this year, a lifetime mark among the Tigers of 16-8 and an overall record of 183-74 for a .712 percentage.

Houk feels the Tigers will be beating other clubs consistently the rest of the way. "They're not as far back as most people think they are," Houk said, "this is the best I've seen their infield play."

"They're in about the same boat we are, their success will depend on pitching and injuries."

LA Has Winning Way With Wills

Angelo to five straight victories — the latest an 11-4 conquest of the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

Wills followed up a four-hit performance Saturday with a 3-for-4 effort against the Cubs Sunday, driving in three key runs with bases loaded double in the sixth inning. That gave Wills 11 hits in 22 at-bats, a torrid 500 pace since returning.

The San Francisco Giants are two games behind following their seventh straight loss, 3-0 at Houston as reliever Hal (Skinny) Povich pitched one-hit ball for the Colts over the final 6 1/2 innings in the first Sunday night game in major league history.

Second-place St. Louis, one-half game back, set the doubleheader pattern for the day by splitting with New York, losing 8-7 before walloping the Mets 10-4. Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 8-7 in 10 innings but the Reds won 2-1 behind John Taitor's four-hitter. Pittsburgh's Bob Friend blanked Milwaukee 4-0, then the Braves took the nightcap 5-3.

THE PALMER METHOD

PERPETUAL MOTION EASES TENSION
To relieve it (tension) right from the start, step up to the ball and stay active physically — from the moment you take your stance until you finish your swing.

Primarily, you should give thought to the initial clubhead waggle.

Some players move the clubhead over the ball, others move it back away from the ball in miniature backswings, as shown in illustration #2. Others transfer weight from foot to foot.

Even in putting, you should keep in motion. (This, despite the fact that once the putting stroke begins, no part of the body should move except hands and arms.)

If you set your putter blade behind the ball, then store it, you will find that this in itself will become a matter of luck, not skill.

They fired a 71 in the alternate match event, winning their third title. Previously they won in 1955 and 1958.

Seek U.S. Civilian Lost in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Military units north of Saigon searched without success today for a missing American civilian contractor whose bullet-riddled jeep was found Saturday in Viet Cong-infested territory.

The missing man, Arthur A. Krause, 28, of Onarga, Ill., an employee of the Philco Corp., had started out alone from the city of Da Nang, 380 miles north of here and had driven about 30 miles south.

Bullet holes were in the windshield of his vehicle and burns were on the seat, but no blood stains were found.

Pharmaceutical: Head Plans to Resign July 1

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (UPI)—Gen. Robert W. Johnson, 70, board chairman of Johnson & Johnson pharmaceutical corp., will resign July 1 for reasons of age and health, the firm announced Saturday.

Johnson will remain a director of the company which was founded in 1886 by his father, Robert Johnson.

Seven Die at Beginning of Vacation

PONTIAC, ILL. (UPI)—A mother mourned in her hospital bed today for her husband and six children who died Saturday because she dozed at the wheel of the family station wagon from utter exhaustion.

Mrs. Charles J. Kozumplik, 37, told authorities that she had only "one or two" hours sleep before the family set out just before dawn on a three-week vacation trip.

Livingston County Coroner Vernon Von Quallen said Mrs. Kozumplik told him she "vaguely remembered" the truck in front of her. She said she applied the brakes and tried to swerve to avoid hitting the truck.

Only Mrs. Kozumplik and one child, Rhonda, 2, survived. Mrs. Kozumplik was in satisfactory condition in Pontiac Hospital today, but Rhonda's condition was listed as only fair.

Hospital attendants said neither would be able to attend the funeral services tomorrow at St. Collette Roman Catholic Church near the family's home in the northwest Chicago suburb of Rolling Meadows.

Von Quallen said Mrs. Kozumplik's account of the accident agreed with his investigation.

"Her description was exactly what happened," he said. "Fatigue apparently caused the accident."

Mrs. Kozumplik had worked through the night making preparations for the trip. In addition to the supplies for a trip that would take them to California, she packed lunches for the family to eat during the first miles and prepared a package for her husband, which she planned to give him for Father's Day.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Ills a Combination of Fungi, Germs, Virus

Medical science has conquered many of the more deadly infectious diseases caused by bacteria and viruses.

This has been accomplished through vaccination as in the case of smallpox, sanitation as in the case of typhoid, and antibiotics as in the case of middle ear infections, to name only a few.

But even these diseases pop up from time to time when we let down our guard.

It would appear that we can never really become complacent because in recent years there has been a gradual but steady increase in another kind of infection BRANDSTADT—diseases caused by fungi or molds.

About 50 different kinds are harmful to man and at least 12 of them are real killers.

Fortunately, prolonged contact with almost any kind of infection in a population results in the development of a relative immunity and the more deadly diseases begin to appear in a milder form.

This has already happened in the case of histoplasmosis.

ATTACKS WEAKENED

A fungus disease known as cryptococcosis, once a rarity, is now becoming relatively common, but it seems to attack chiefly persons who are already weakened by some chronic disease such as leukemia, sarcoidosis, diabetes or tuberculosis.

The causative mold of cryptococcosis is found in soil that has been contaminated with pigeon droppings.

When such soil becomes dry, infective dust may be carried by the wind and be inhaled by human beings.

This disease may settle in the lungs or in the skin but most commonly it makes its way to the brain where it causes a severe meningitis occasionally caused by the tubercle bacillus.

The disease was uniformly fatal until the antibiotic, amphotericin B, was discovered.

This drug does not cure it but, advanced, it will hold it in check until the body can build up an immunity.

For this reason early diagnosis is important and medical scientists are looking for ways to diagnose the disease before it gets a head start.

To this end a skin test, not yet discovered, would be a great boon to man. Meanwhile, your doctor will have to rely on spinal puncture and other methods.

Junior Editors Quiz on HAIR

QUESTION: How does hair grow?
ANSWER: His fur coat is one of an animal's most important possessions. Because there are so many separate hairs, bending and lying over each other, a blanket of air is held over the animal's skin and this keeps him warm because it holds in his body's natural heat.

The hairs are supplied with a natural oil which keeps them soft and flexible. This flexibility prevents the air from hampering an animal's movement.

When you brush a cat, you are taking clogging dirt out of his fur and distributing the oil so that the hairs become more flexible. This gives a cat a feeling of well being and he purrs with pleasure.

Although we humans don't need hair coats growing out of our skins our hair does look pleasant and attractive. Cathy's mother is doing for her daughter what Cathy is doing for her cat: brushing the dirt out, distributing the oil so as to give a beautiful sheen to Cathy's hair.

Hair keeps growing because each hair is inside a "follicle" which goes down below the surface of the skin. New cells keep growing at the bottom of the hair and these slowly push the hair up through the follicle.

An artery brings nourishment to make new cells. Notice the fat glands, which supply the oily material to keep the hair flexible.

FOR YOU TO DO: The hair styles of the two little girls at the top of the square drawing will look familiar; but try to guess the meaning of the two bottom pictures. (Left: a remarkable hair style that Hopi Indian girls used to wear. Right: a Chinese boy. The upright lock is to ward off evil spirits).

Canada geese mate for life and show great concern for one another.

Bus Patronage Is Up in May

But Total Continues to Decline From 1962

There were about 266 more bus riders in Pontiac in May than in the month before, according to Pontiac Transit Corporation.

Pontiac Transit buses carried 76,460 passengers last month. The April passenger total was 76,194.

The slight increase, however, had little or no effect on a steady drop in patronage from corresponding months last year.

There were some 82,401 passengers recorded on buses during May 1962.

FEWER

By the end of April this year, Pontiac Transit buses had carried 13,876 fewer passengers than they did in the first four months last year.

As of June 1, the difference amounted to 19,817 fewer passengers. There were 335,122 passengers reported for the first five months of 1963 compared to 404,939 during the same period last year.

The decline started when free parking was initiated on downtown municipal parking lots Feb. 1 and has continued ever since.

In other figures, buses drove 40,329 miles and used about 7,000 gallons of gas in May.

Kennedy's Book to Be Produced as a TV Series

NEW YORK (AP)—"Profiles in Courage," a book that President Kennedy wrote in 1955 when he was a senator, will be produced as a television series.

Robert E. Klutznick, president of the National Broadcasting Co., announced Sunday that Robert Saudek Associates had bought the television rights and will film 26 hour-long dramatizations for NBC.

Saudek did not say how much Kennedy will receive for the television rights and his Pulitzer Prize book of biographies.

It was reported unofficially that Kennedy's royalties will total $351,000, or 10 per cent of the $3,510,000 that the network will pay Saudek.

The President will donate his royalties to charity.

Race Issue Worries Religious Leaders

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press International

Religious leaders are profoundly concerned about the racial tensions building up in the United States, North as well as South. Many of them feel that time is running out for achievement of a peaceful solution to "the American dilemma."

Their sense of urgency is reflected in a letter received by this reporter from Baptist evangelist Billy Graham, who is currently conducting preaching crusades in Europe.

"I am deeply disturbed about the racial situation in the United States," Graham said.

"I fear that extremists on both sides will lead us down a bloody road unless the voices of moderation, tolerance and good will prevail."

Graham said he has been "giving a great deal of time and thought and prayer" to the racial problem, and trying to decide what contribution he can make, after he returns to America, toward heading off another crisis.

The same note of eleven-hour urgency appears in an extraordinary pastoral letter issued recently by the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, residing bishop of the Episcopal Church.

FEARS CATASTROPHE

"Present events reveal the possible imminence of catastrophe," said Bishop Lichtenberger, a soft-spoken man not given to extravagant statements. "The entire Christian community must pray and act."

He called on white Episcopalians to get involved in the struggle as allies rather than opponents of Negroes who are "to-day risking their livelihood and their lives in protesting for their rights."

J. Irwin Miller, president of the National Council of Churches, voiced the same view in a special message to churches last week.

"We may thank God that people of color all over the United States are militantly and responsibly opposing racial discrimination," he said. "Let us pray that more white people will join them in the struggle against racism."

Roman Catholic prelates have been equally outspoken. In Washington, D.C., Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle recently called for a bloody road unless the voices of moderation, tolerance and good will prevail.

The fear that secretly haunts many religious leaders was expressed out loud last week by Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Asserting that church and synagogue actions in the struggle for racial justice have been "too little and too late," he said: "We must act now or bear untold and dire consequences. If we religiousists fail to move and speedily, we will doom all those moderates, like Martin Luther King, and we will make the success of the racists on all sides, including the Black Muslims, inevitable."

"If we cannot really put flesh on the bare bones of our preferences about equality, we will stand accused in every community as champions of an irrelevant faith, trumpeters of empty clichés."

Cinerama Coordinates 3 Screen Images

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The movie news:

THOMAS

ROBERT MITCHELL SHIRLEY MAELINE
TWO FOR THE SEE SAW
LAWRENCE HARVEY
FRANCES MARINA
FRANK MYER
"HALL WALLS"
TECHNICOLOR

Now you'll be able to see Cinerama without those bothersome seams between the three images. Ever since the process revolutionized screen dimensions a dozen years ago, it has been bugged by the problem of how to coordinate three projectors so the three sections on the screen meet without jumpiness.

Cinerama has unveiled a new one-camera, one-projector method that has solved the problem. The test showing displayed 20 minutes of scenes from "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." It featured everything from two-story close-ups to wild automobile chases filmed from a helicopter. The scenes are clear and brilliant, with none of the eyestrain one sometimes gets from Cinerama.

Nicolas Reisni, Cinerama president, said the single-lens process would save 30 per cent in theater costs. The first one will be used at the new Cinerama Dome Theater in Hollywood for the premiere of "Mad World" Nov. 7.

And how does the movie look, judging from the sample?

Crazy, man. It has the wildest car chases since Mack Sennett used to race his Pierce Arrows on Mulholland Drive.

MONEY DETAILS
Higher Finance Dept.: Jack Warner disclosed some of the money details of "My Fair Lady."

Warner paid $5½ million for the property. Total cost of the film: $12 million. Break-even point: $20 million. When the total take reaches $24 million, Warner starts to give 50 per cent to CBS, which originally financed "My Fair Lady."

"When we start making that much money, I'll be happy to share half with anybody," Warner cracked.

Most of the picture will be filmed on the Burbank lot, with some brief locations in England. Warner's reasoning: "We're in the business of illusion. Years ago we made two highly successful sea pictures, 'Captain Blood' and 'The Sea Hawk,' and we shot them on our stages. We can do the same with 'My Fair Lady.'"

SHOWS STUFF
Vincent Edwards, who could be making much more money elsewhere, brought his night club act to the Coconut Grove to show the town his stuff. The guy has got it. He has a pleasant singing voice, a world of assurance, and he can smile.

"Irma la Douce" is being released with a voluntary "not for under 18" tag. But is it for adults? To this one, it did not seem like Billy Wilder at his gayest.

President Lucille Ball is heading for a two-month vacation from her duties with Desilu and "The Lucy Show." She has movie projects with Fred MacMurray, Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, but they will have to wait until she can find the time.

Red China Calls Nehru 'U.S. Pawn'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's propaganda campaign against India shifted to Prime Minister Nehru personally today. The Indian leader was termed a renegade and a U.S. pawn.

The attack on Nehru heightened suspicion that Red China is preparing a major effort to force India to settle the Himalayan border dispute on Peking's terms. Communist troops invaded northeast and northwest India last September and won a series of overwhelming victories. But as the vicious Himalayan winter approached, the Chinese withdrew to high passes and joled up.

BEGAN BROADCASTS
As winter disappeared from the battlegrounds, Red China began daily radio broadcasts charging that Indian troops were violating Chinese territory.

The broadcast today charged that Nehru started the conflict last September, "prompted by the needs of his domestic and foreign policies" and a desire to get U.S. military aid.

The prime minister "lately has taken a personal and keen interest in spreading anti-China rumors," it said.

The more rumors he spread, the clearer his wickedness and degradation will become and the more easily the people will see that the rumor monger is a renegade from the Afro-Asian community and a pawn of U.S. imperialism.

Wife Cheers His Overtime

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — Dr. Frederick T. Lense is one man who wins applause rather than protest from his wife when he puts in overtime. That's because his extra hours often are devoted to housework.

As research and development director of a chemical company (Tetraz), Dr. Lense develops household cleaning products. He insists upon personally home testing his creations as the most practical way of finding new and better products.

Workmen Are Okay After Iodine Mishap

NEVADA TEST SITE (UPI) — The 13 workmen who inhaled radioactive iodine while working in a tunnel complex near where an underground nuclear shot was touched off last week today apparently had a clean bill of health.

Ten of the workmen still under observation were examined Saturday. The other three had been released earlier.

The exposure resulted from inhalation of three radioactive isotopes of iodine. It was reported that the latest examination showed radiation dosages were well under the standards set by the Federal Radiation Council.

Form Wedding Arch in Farmer's Tradition

GREENSTEAD, England (AP) — The Halstead Young Farmers' Club has decided farmers will not be outdone by soldiers.

Winner at Bridge Is Surprised by Unexpected Gift

DOTHAN, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. Jane Windham, hostess at a bridge party, discovered her diamond wedding band, valued at $1,000, missing while playing bridge.

When the party was over a search was instituted throughout the house and outside area.

Plumbers were called and drain pipes taken apart. At the end of a six-hour search, the ring was still missing.

Later, Mrs. Agnes Simpson, top scorer in the game, returned home and opened her prize. In the small package she found the intended gift and the expensive diamond ring.

French Painter Dies

PARIS (AP) — French painter Jacques Villon, 88, known as the inventor of cubism and a patriarch of modern art, died Sunday after a long illness. Villon, who showed his works in Paris and New York, was born into a family of Normandy artists and his real name was Emile Duchamp.

Water rose one foot a second during the Galveston, Tex., flood of 1900 in which 6,000 persons were drowned.

Collect Shirts

Nothing Special to Stand Out

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — There used to be a time when it took hard work to become notorious in America.

You had to struggle to win attention. You had to do unusual things—such as sit on a flagpole, rob a bank or marry the boss' daughter.

Even a chimpanzee had to be able to paint a modernistic picture with an old banana skin if he wanted to be a real standout in zoo society.

Today, however, it takes no special talent to stand out in the crowd.

My wife, for example, knows a husband who becomes the center of attention at cocktail parties simply because he happens to own 100 shirts.

I happen to be that husband. People usually don't notice me at a party any more than they do any other fat man with tired feet. They don't, that is, until somebody happens to mention that I own 100 shirts.

Then the crowd begins to gather around me. They demand to know why I have 100 shirts—as if this were in itself an un-American act.

"Well, some men set out to own 30 acres of downtown Tulsa," I explain lamely, "others hoard balls of string, collect flagpicks or cover the inside of their closets with early photos of Elizabeth Taylor. I just happen to be nutty over shirts."

WAR STORY

Then they want to know how I happened to get that way. I explain truthfully that in Belgium during World War II, I got tired of wearing the same shirt for two weeks. I swore then that if I survived until the peace, I'd built up a reservoir of at least 100 shirts—so I'd never again have to wear one with a dirty collar.

This explanation doesn't win the sympathy one might expect. "My husband went through the entire war and wore three battle stars and a purple heart—and he doesn't have 100 shirts," a wife will say accusingly.

Another will be unkind enough to suggest that I should consult a psychiatrist instead of a haberdasher.

For some reason it is the wives who seem to resent my 100 shirts most. And what seems to make them the angriest isn't so much the wasteful expenditure of family funds, but that a mere man would dare to clutter up storage space with 100 shirts of his own. Husbands, on the other hand, seem in many cases to hold a kind of wistful admiration for a bold victory. They ask how I got away with it.

Well, I can tell you, it wasn't easy. After the first 50, I had to smuggle the rest in one or two at a time—to keep my wife from finding out how many I had and returning them to the store.

Now that I have gone this far, I might as well make a clean breast of the matter. Actually I have 106 shirts.

Naturally, you'll want to know what kind they are. Everyone at cocktail parties, anyway, is curious on this point. I have 20 white shirts, 30 blue shirts, 27 striped shirts, 17 tan shirts and 12 sport shirts.

This is my only claim to fame. But winning my major goal, in life hasn't made me a snob.

If you're ever stuck with a laundry problem on a visit to New York—and need a clean shirt—15½ neck, 33-inch sleeves—look

A vote of employees at the Champion Homebuilders Co., of Dryden, voided organization attempts by the Carpenters District Council of Detroit last week.

Employees at the company which manufactures mobile

Or Child Won't Be

Must Mother Be Ready for Kindergarten?

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Mothers these days hear about reading-readiness, and writing-readiness, and they worry, "Will my child be ready for kindergarten in September?"

Well, the key to happy first days in school lies in mother-readiness.

Is the mother ready to let her child transfer part of his dependence to others? Is she ready to let him grow under someone else's supervision?

Most mothers desperately want their children to succeed and be happy in kindergarten and the early grades. They feel if the child fails it reflects on them, and their apprehensiveness is felt by the child.

Often they overlook this and then can't understand the child's hesitancy about leaving mother and entering school.

The importance of mother-readiness became apparent last fall in Los Angeles. Voters had failed to approve a special tax rate, so the board of education had to curtail portions of the school program, including kindergarten.

Not all applicants could be accepted in kindergarten. At one school it was felt that children who were willing to leave their mothers without fuss should be given preference.

So, on the first day, mothers were told that on the following day and from then on, they were to leave the children at the gate. Children who showed readiness would be admitted to kindergarten.

Those who put on tantrums and cried for their mothers obviously weren't ready for kindergarten and would be replaced by other children.

On the next day, something of a miracle occurred. When the mothers arrived with the children, ALL of the children paraded into kindergarten without incident.

Obviously, when confronted with the knowledge that they must be willing for their children to leave them, the mothers showed an immediate mother-readiness for kindergarten.

PREPARE CHILDREN

Remember, there are experiences you can expose your children to which will help them in their first schoolwork. A child who explores only his home and yard, neighborhood and shopping center is not getting sufficient background.

Parents should provide opportunities for children to enjoy a wide range of experiences. Encourage them to discover and find pleasures in learning just for the sake of finding out.

You can take them to places of interest in the community. Visit museums or zoos. Look at the sky at night with him. Point out birds in trees.

In other words, encourage him to observe what is going on around him. Let him talk about what he sees, hears and feels.

Also, don't be afraid to say, "I don't know." Tell him, "We'll try to find out together." Here is where you can bring in books. Look up what you don't know in reference books and let him become acquainted with how to discover his own answers.

Books will be an increasingly important part of his life. So read to him often. Children like to have the same stories read over and over.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Today's hand is from the Southeastern championships in Miami, Fla. It shows various lines of playing the hand.

Practically every South player holding today's hand wound up at two spades and West led the eight of hearts. South would be in dummy for the first and last time, would take his two heart tricks while he had the chance and discard a club.

Then the play went two ways. The conservative players would lead a spade right away and East would duck. A second round of spades would put East in and he would lead a high heart whereupon South would discard another club and from that point on there would be no way to keep South from making his contract.

Greedy South players tried the diamond finesse and when the queen lost to West's king there was no way left to make the contract unless the defense went crazy.

West might lead back the ten of diamonds. South would take the trick and lead a high spade to cash red cards until South decided to ruff in. If South ruffed high there would be a natural trump trick for West. If South ruffed low West would overruff.

Seeks to Enjoin Pay Park Lot

'Site Can Be Used Only for Courthouse'

Cecil C. Mullinix said this morning he intends to file a petition tomorrow in Oakland County Circuit Court asking that the County Board of Supervisors show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the operation of a pay parking lot at Huron and Saginaw.

Mullinix said that an investigation of the original deed showed "very clearly" that the lot was conveyed to the county by its owner, Stephen Mack, in 1822 "for the purpose of erecting a courthouse and no other purpose whatsoever."

In the event that the property is not used for a courthouse, it reverts back to the donor, the local labor leader stated.

It is currently being leased by the county to Sam Solorow, owner of Outdoor Parking Co., who won a six-month lease in bidding last month.

'COMMERCIAL VENTURE'
Mullinix, president of Pontiac Motor Local 653, UAW, termed the pay parking lot "a commercial venture, not a public use."

Tomorrow's action will be step number 1 in Mullinix's battle for a drop-in center at the old courthouse site for Oakland County's 40,000 retirees.

Last Tuesday he went before the city commission asking that they recommend to the board of supervisors that the property be leased to an association of retirees for such a center.

The commissioners, while agreeing with him in principle, decided to give the matter more study before committing themselves.

Leftist Leads in Peru Election

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Leftist Fernando Belaunde led in early returns today from Peru's presidential election, but vote frauds in two states may delay the results.

Peruvians chose Sunday from among the same candidates who ran in the 1962 election annulled by the military.

Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, the front-runner last year whose lead triggered the intervention by military leaders, trailed this time.

It was his leftist but non-Communist party, the American Popular Revolutionary Alliance—APRA—which charged fraud in two north central states, the states, Ancash and Cajamarca, are both centers of APRA strength.

FRAUD CONFIRMED
The National Election Board later confirmed the fraud charges. It said it is investigating and may hold new elections in the two states, possibly within 10 or 15 days.

Belaunde, 51, the runner-up in last year's elections, showed surprising strength. Supported by a coalition of the leftist Popular Action party and Christian Democrats, he was trailed by Haya and retired Gen. Manuel Odría, Peru's dictator-president from 1945-56.

A Lima television station said Belaunde had received 203,615 of 523,233 votes counted. It put Haya in second place with 171,268 and Odría third with 138,125.

The litigation arose from a dispute between Division 1287 and the Kansas City Transit, Inc., which operates in Missouri and Kansas.

The court's opinion was written by Justice Stewart. He was absent from the high bench today, however, and it was read by Justice White.

Auto Engineers Use Space Gear to Quiet Cars
NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The same type of equipment used to check out earth-orbiting satellites and missiles is helping automobile engineers make cars quieter.

To get an accurate check on all noise and vibration, car manufacturers can use a two-channel electronic telemetry system that "listens" to the sounds test cars make on the road and transmits signals to a sensitive receiver in a following vehicle.

Count Sicily Vote to Check on Reds
PALERMO, Sicily (UPI)—Election workers today began counting almost three million votes to determine if communism is continuing its march forward in Italy.

The votes were cast yesterday for candidates for the 90th Sicilian Regional Assembly. Final results were expected tonight.

The Communists are somewhat less strong on this poor, non-industrialized island than they are in the big industrial centers of northern Italy.

But they won 23 per cent of the Sicilian votes in the national elections, an increase over their 1959 percentage.

New churches built in the United States last year cost a total of $806 million.

Sen. Roberts Says

'State Income Tax Inevitable'

Michigan will need an income tax by 1965 to avert a financial crisis in education, Sen. Parrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, predicted today.

"An income tax is inevitable within the next two years if we are to achieve total tax reform," Roberts said.

But whether Republicans will seek such a tax in a special fall legislative session remains uncertain, according to Roberts.

He and six other State GOP leaders met informally on Mackinac Island over the weekend.

PARTIAL REFORM
"We could have partial tax reform by replacing the business activities tax with a corporate profits tax," Roberts said.

The seven Republican senators.

More funds will be needed to build new classrooms and to operate colleges for the next 10 years, he said.

Without an income tax, this need would drive the state into a financial crisis reminiscent of the one five years ago, Roberts said.

The larger scope "state level plans," also called for imposition of a flat-rate personal income tax. The state suggested varied from 2 to 3 per cent. The "state level plans" also recommended a corporate income tax of either 3, 4 or 5 per cent.

The eighth alternative, the "local option plan," would give to counties or perhaps cities the option of enacting an income tax of up to 2 per cent.

The prospect of growing state debt because of continuation of the present state tax structure was spelled out by Romney and key aides — State Controller Glenn Allen, financial adviser L. William Seidman and legal adviser Richard Van Dusen — at the first of a series of briefing sessions that will be held throughout the state in the coming weeks.

At the same time the Governor unveiled his eight possible paths to fiscal reform.

The methods suggested ranged from two very limited proposals to six wide-ranging "state level plans."

All eight call for establishment of a personal income tax and all but two would set up a corporate profits tax.

The minimum plan, called the "business tax plan," would allow one tax — a 6 per cent personal income tax — and eliminate the state in the coming weeks.

Man Killed in Gun Fight With Police

DETROIT (UPI) — A 43-year-old man was killed in a wild gun battle with police Saturday night after he had disarmed one officer and began shooting at another.

Police said papers in the dead man's pocket identified him as Moses Jolly.

Police said that two officers had just arrested a second man for being drunk when Jolly, sitting in the back of a car, became abusive.

The two officers, patrolmen Andrew Sivako, 21, and David Allen, 23, were taking the drunk to a police call box when Jolly started to shout "what are you doing with my buddy?"

Sivako tried to question Jolly, and when he refused to get out of the car, started to pull him out.

Allen said the man grabbed Sivako's gun and fired one shot. Sivako was struck in the upper part of the leg. Jolly then turned his gun on Allen and they took shots at each other.

Jolly started running toward an alley exchanging shots with Allen.

Allen said one of the bullets grazed his forehead, knocking his hat off. He said he fired the last shot at Jolly just as he turned a corner.

He found Jolly lying on the ground. He had been shot in the forehead.

Sivako's wound was not serious.

Flaming Gasoline Hits Service Station Drive
Flaming gasoline caused an undetermined amount of damage to the driveway of Robert Harris' Mobil service station, M39 at Airport, Waterford Township, last night.

Firemen, who had the blaze under control within a few minutes, said the fire started when a motorist backed into a pump, knocking it off its foundation and causing several gallons of gasoline to spout out.

The government has accused religious leaders of starting the riots in the Shah's radical law-reform program and giving Iran the money the right to vote.

"It's possible we could get along without an income tax next year if we pass a corporate profits tax," he said.

Roberts pointed to an expected 43 per cent increase in the number of persons reaching college age within the next three years as the main reason why an income tax will be needed by 1965.

More funds will be needed to build new classrooms and to operate colleges for the next 10 years, he said.

Without an income tax, this need would drive the state into a financial crisis reminiscent of the one five years ago, Roberts said.

all members of the "moderates" who took control of the Senate's GOP majority this year and pushed through Romney's program, agreed that tax reform is urgently needed.

STEP-BY-STEP
But they said it may come in a step-by-step process rather than through sweeping changes.

They agreed the unexpected high tax collections due to a booming automobile year and the resulting healthy condition of the state's finances may thwart any efforts to enact an income tax this year.

"Roberts said, however, that the state can't depend on good automobile years indefinitely. "We have to make sure we keep the reputation for fiscal soundness we've earned," he said.

A surplus of more than $50 million in the fiscal year ending June 30 will drop the state deficit to $35 million.

Gov. George Romney admitted Friday the job of getting total tax reform this year would be hard because of the absence of a crisis.

"The people are going to call the shots for the special session—that's the reason for the 'great debates' the governor will begin today in Lansing," said Senate Republican Caucus Chairman Stanley Thayer, Ann Arbor.

WILL HINGE
The decision whether to attempt to major tax and spending reforms will hinge on the success or failure of the governor and his legislative lieutenants to show there is a real need for changes, the seven senators agreed.

Romney was to hold today the first of some 20 conferences with business, civic, labor, agricultural, financial and government leaders throughout the state.

The seven senators met at the summer home of Sen. John Fitzgerald, Grand Lodge, to review the recently ended regular legislative session and to discuss tax reform.

Others in the group were Sen. Thomas Schweigert, Petoskey.

Plaster Falls From Theater Roof; 2 Hurt

OWOSSO (UPI) — Two children were seriously injured Saturday night when plaster from the roof of the Capitol Theater here fell on them.

Seven other children were also injured, but not seriously. Dennis Brown, 14, has a compound fracture of the arm, and Robert Gould, 15, suffered a severe shoulder injury.

Police said the plaster peeled from the front of the theater all the way to the balconies and fell with a huge roar.

"There was no warning that the plaster was loose."

Much of the audience was underneath the balcony, police said, and that prevented more injuries.

Police said there was no panic and the building was quickly emptied.

The theater was built in 1925 and is leased to the Butterfield Theatre Co., Inc.

The name of the picture the children were watching was "Thunder."

Costly Grasshoppers
FARGO, N. D. (UPI) — The North Dakota State University Extension Service reported grasshoppers damaged $1,714,000 of crop and range land in the state in 1962.

Losses due to other crop insects were estimated at $500,000.

There were 34 passengers on outbound flights in May compared to 39 in April and 51 in May a year ago, according to J. O. Edwards, station manager.

Inbound flights carried 28 passengers in May compared to 37 the month before and 43 in May 1962.

The sudden drop reversed an upward trend that saw NCA passenger totals build a substantial lead earlier in the year over corresponding perage for 1962.

As of June, NCA flights carried 158 outbound passengers this year compared to 147 for the same period last year.

Inbound passengers totaled 177 compared to 127 during the first five months of last year.

Mail and freight totals tell much the same story with the exception of inbound freight which increased in May.

Outbound flights in May carried 1,377 pounds of air mail, 693 pounds of air express and 542 pounds of freight.

For comparison, outbound NCA flights in April carried 2,194 pounds of air mail, 3,963 pounds of air express and 781 pounds of freight.

Inbound flights last month carried only 289 pounds of air mail compared to 418 the month before.

Inbound air freight was up to 3,382 pounds in May compared to 3,345 pounds on April flights.

Among Japanese

Leftist Student Leaders Losing Influence

By CONRAD FINK
TOKYO (AP) — Surrounded by collegiate laughter and gentle music from old Glenn Miller records, the young man sat tensely in the cozy off-campus coffee shop. Glancing his fists angrily he declared:

"American and Japanese workers are asleep. We need immediate action against the U.S. imperialists!"

With this curious mixing of Glenn Miller and class warfare, Hiroshi Kuwahara illustrated the dilemma facing his diminishing band of student revolutionaries who just three years ago pushed Japan to the brink of revolt.

Kuwahara, 21, is international secretary of the once-powerful Zengakuren leftist student federation. In June 1960, he and his comrades were important figures as they sent hundreds of thousands of screaming youths snake-dancing through the streets in massive demonstrations against the U.S.-Japan security treaty.

Today, these professional young leftists seem strangely out of step with Japan's increasingly carefree youth. Their ideology of riot and revolt is taking a licking from Glenn Miller and the coffee shops. Some poorly-organized student groups still struggle occasionally through Tokyo's streets to denounce U.S. airplanes and submarine. U.S. nuclear tests and the United States in general.

But many of the Zengakuren faithful have "passed over" to comfortable jobs in Japan's large industries and, now that they have vested interests in capitalism, nervously avoid even talking about their days as budding revolutionaries.

The Zengakuren is internally split and quarrels with the Japan Communist party and other leftist groups. Its prestige is low following revelations that "capitalist money" has found its way into the headquarters coffers.

The aura of cautious indecision that surrounds Zengakuren leaders contrasts sharply with the field marshal image they presented in 1960.

Now, Kuwahara and comrades such as Yoji Ikegami, Zengakuren general secretary, talk about "oppressed American workers" and "Washington war mongers." They sound removed from reality, young men who make careers of tilting at windmills.

If the trend continues, those who ment would have difficulty winning the attack that toppled Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government.

French Industry's Feet Could Be Matchless

PARIS (AP) — If all the matches produced in France last year were laid end to end they would stretch eight times the distance between the earth and moon. This is the report of the state-controlled match industry. During 1962, 70 million matches were manufactured, the report said, bringing in 132 million francs (about $26 million).

Cigar bands are said to have been first used in Cuba to protect the delicate fingers of aristocratic Spanish ladies who secretly took up smoking.

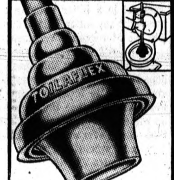

Nobody Drinks at Blowout

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. (AP) — There were 1,004 cases of beer at a big blowout here, but nobody drank a drop.

The blowout took place in a rear fire of a truck loaded with bottled beer.

The faulty tire caught fire, which spread to the inside of the trailer and the beer began exploding, cases at a time. Firemen had to unload nearly half the cargo before they got the fire out.

Heavy Turnout Is Expected for School Voting

Community College
Only Issue on All
Ballots in County

A heavy vote was expected in today's annual school elections in Oakland County.

Only one countywide issue was on ballots and this affected the fate of the proposed community college.

Voters in Pontiac and Waterford Township, like 23 area school districts, will elect board members in addition to deciding the junior college question.

County electors will vote on the establishment of the college, a one-mill tax levy to finance the institution, and select a six-man board of trustees from a field of 27 candidates to govern the proposed school.

In Pontiac, three candidates are bidding for two four-year school board seats.

Incumbents Monroe M. Osmun, 100 Ogema, and Rev. J. Allen Parker, 156 Judson, are seeking re-election to the school board, while Russell L. Brown, 485 Lynch, is the lone challenger.

County School Supt. William J. Emerson has asked that no one call the county school board tomorrow until after 10 a.m. He said workers would be telephoning for community college results from the school districts.

In Waterford Township, voters will select two board members from a field of three candidates and decide two millage proposals and a bond issue.

The school board candidates include one incumbent, Mrs. Dorothy Barningham, 2856 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

The other candidates are Richard Luehmman, 3611 Percy King, and Donald Porter, 3736 Mariner, both of Waterford Township.

Call Press for Results

Results of the Pontiac and Waterford school elections will be available by telephone at The Pontiac Press beginning at 9:30 p.m. today. Community college results will be tabulated tomorrow morning.

HAPPY MAN—Although Les Thomas of 7923 Commerce lost his 45-foot poplar tree in last night's storm, he is grateful the wind whipped out of the west. If the 25-year-old tree had fallen to the south, it would have fallen on his two-story home. He is shown trimming off branches this morning.

County Littered With Debris in Night of Weather Violence

Hundreds of felled trees and power lines littered Oakland County this morning in the wake of last night's violent electrical storm.

Almost miraculously, only slight property damage and no injuries were reported. Three homes were struck by lightning, but damage was minor.

GM President Sees Growth

Chevrolet Produced

TARRYTOWN, N. Y.—John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, said today he foresees "an era of greater economic growth and industrial development."

Gordon sounded the optimistic note at a luncheon marking the production of the 50 millionth Chevrolet and the near-completion of the modernization and expansion of Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants here.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York drove the historic-making Chevrolet off the assembly line on a site where steam-driven automobiles once were produced. The governor also spoke at the luncheon, as did Semon E. Knudsen, a GM vice president and general manager of Chevrolet.

Gordon said the modernized and expanded facilities are "tangible evidence" of General Motors' faith in the future.

"The development here," he said, "also symbolize the spirit of optimism that prevails in General Motors. I might say that two years ago we were optimistic when others were less certain about the future. Our faith was borne out with record car and truck sales in 1962."

"Present business conditions and robust public confidence point to another good year in 1963. In fact, at this stage, business conditions are even better than last year."

"Barring a major international upheaval, I foresee an era of greater economic growth and industrial development," Gordon said.

He said the expanded facilities will help Tarrytown and New York state contribute their share to this growth and development "... to a better era."

The third such storm to hit the area in four days, it dumped an additional two inches of rain in the area.

A repeat performance can be expected again tonight, according to the weather bureau.

It predicted showers and thunderstorms ending late tonight, with fair and cooler weather to follow tomorrow.

Low temperatures of 54 to 58 tonight and a high of 70 to 75 tomorrow are forecast. Southwesterly winds tonight will become northerly tomorrow with gusts of 15 to 25 miles per hour.

A low of 66 was recorded at 11 p.m. At 1 p.m., the mercury had climbed to 89 degrees.

SUBMERGED STREETS

The rain quickly submerged many stretches of highways and streets. Water swirled over car bumpers in numerous locations.

Many motorists were forced to abandon their vehicles as brakes washed out and motors stalled.

Lightning danced across the county telling trees and power lines. Commerce Road was lined with fallen trees and wires, according to the sheriff's department.

Lightning caused $2,500 damage when it struck the Edward Fritzsche home, 538 Sorsfield, Avon Township, at 10:10 p.m.

Avondale firemen were still fighting flames in the living room when another bolt struck the Robert Beardslee home, 2055 Hamlin, causing $1,000 damage.

Lightning also struck the John Sheddousky home, 3158 Gregory, in Orion Township, at 9:45 p.m. Damage here was estimated at $200.

POWER FAILURES

Detroit Edison Co. listed 200 power failures reported by area

homeowners. More than 1,400 customers were without service for four hours in Oak Park.

Wires were down over four blocks on W. Preston in Pontiac. Several poles were damaged by lightning in the northwest sector of the city.

Power was knocked out in about a dozen homes on Mellon (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

By Thunderstorms

Electricity Is Balanced

Warm weather and the accompanying high-moisture content of the air are main causes of recent severe thunder and electrical storms.

According to Norris Wetters, a meteorologist with the Detroit Weather Bureau, the storms are nature's method of keeping an electrical balance between the atmosphere and earth.

The Pontiac area has been bombarded three nights in less than a week with rain and lightning.

Wetters said that the air mass thunder storms result from the high moisture content of the air. He said clouds have formed "squall lines" and distributed rain pretty evenly across the Detroit area.

He explained that there was a constant flow of electricity between the atmosphere and earth, and that electrical storms keep the balance.

"In other words," he added, "somewhere in the world there is an electrical storm all the time to help keep this balance between the atmosphere and earth."

Wetters said there were two types of lightning. One kind is the cloud-to-cloud flash with tremendous rumblings. The second is the cloud-to-earth variety with the vertical bolts that strike the ground.

The weather bureau scientist said that an unusual amount of cloud-to-cloud lightning had been noted during the most recent storms.

JFK, K, Mac to Send Special Negotiators

To Hold Session in Moscow During July;
U. S. Suspends Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced today that he, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan will send special negotiators to a high-level conference in Moscow in mid-July for a new effort to conclude a nuclear test ban treaty.

In announcing this new breakthrough in the long test ban exchanges, Kennedy also declared an immediate ban on any U.S. nuclear tests in the atmosphere so long as other countries do not test.

This put the specific question of a new round of nuclear explosions in the atmosphere up to Khrushchev.

In a speech at American University commencement exercises, the President warned Americans against "a dangerous, defeatist belief" that peace is impossible to achieve.

He argued that both the United States and Soviet Union and their allies have a "mutually deep interest" in halting the arms race and achieving peace.

"We must conduct our affairs in such a way that it becomes in the Communist interest to agree on a genuine peace," Kennedy said.

"Above all, while always defending our own vital interests, nuclear powers must avert those confrontations which present an adversary with a choice of either humiliating retreat or a nuclear war."

The Moscow conference could lead to a foreign ministers meeting and a summit session, depending on whether it achieves a breakthrough in the stalemate of the past six months.

Informants said Kennedy has not yet decided upon his representative. It was understood that men such as John J. McCloy, his onetime disarmament policy adviser, and Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman were being considered.

Kennedy intends to emphasize planning for the Moscow conference when he meets Macmillan at the end of this month during his European tour. In fact, administration authorities were saying today that this was the real reason why Kennedy added a London stop to his schedule.

In making his announcement of the conditional ban on U.S. nuclear tests, Kennedy said: "Such a declaration is no substitute for a formal, binding treaty, but I hope it will help us achieve one."

"Our hopes must be tempered with the caution of history," Kennedy said of the conference to break the nuclear deadlock, "but with our hopes go the hopes of all mankind."

MOVES SWIFTLY

In making his announcement, Kennedy moved swiftly from one area of national concern to another. He was just back from Honolulu.

TREES, WIRES FALL—This pickup truck was nearly flattened by a huge tree that fell at a Belmont trailer park where hot wires also were downed in last night's storm. Only a few trailers were damaged, but the area was evacuated.

Million-Plus Damages

Winds, Rain Slash Michigan

By The Associated Press
Tornado-like winds and heavy rain ripped a million-plus-dollar swath of damage from the west side of Michigan to the east last night.

In the wake, Grand Rapids, the town of Belmont, Detroit and other cities fought through a shambles of debris caused by flooding streets, lightning and winds that damaged buildings, broke windows and tore off roofs.

And prospects for better weather today were dim. Thunderstorms were forecast throughout Lower Michigan this afternoon and tonight by the weather bureau.

The storms caused accidents that injured at least 14 persons, most of them in Belmont. This crossroads town, located 10 miles north of Grand Rapids, was thrown into darkness when the power failed at 8:05 p.m. and destroyed part of a school, the post office and several homes.

Damages in Kent County alone will total more than $1 million, County Civil Defense Director Jack Barnes said.

Winds toppled barns and killed livestock in Kent and Allegan counties.

SIGHT TORNADES

Nearly everywhere—Allegan, Montcalm, Kent, Ottawa and Ionia counties—citizens called police and weather bureaus to report sighting tornadoes.

The weather bureau planned to determine officially today whether damages resulted from tornadoes touching down or from ordinary high winds.

Winds gusted to 80 miles per hour around Grand Rapids. Lansing was buffeted by 60 miles per hour gusts.

The south wall of the Belmont School buckled and part of the roof blew off. Some of the roof smashed into the gymnasium.

Later, civil defense authorities opened the school to shelter 125 persons from the storm. About 65 came from the Solomon Trailer Park on U.S. 141 five miles east. One trailer was thrown approximately 140 feet and landed on its side.

Macmillan Orders Inquiry Into War Minister Scandal

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan returned from a golfing vacation today and ordered an inquiry into security aspects of the Profumo scandal which threatens Macmillan's own career.

The inquiry is being made by Lord Dillhorne, who as lord chancellor is Britain's highest legal authority.

He will determine if British security was breached or was negligent as a result of former War Minister John Profumo's illicit affair with Christine Keeler, a 22-year-old red-haired party girl who at the same time in 1961, was sharing her bed with Soviet naval attaché Capt. Eugene Ivanov.

Ivanov is generally regarded as a Soviet intelligence agent. Political sources said Dillhorne's report probably will be completed this week. The report will be handed to Macmillan and Labor party leader Harold Wilson but may not necessarily be made public.

Macmillan refused to comment on the Profumo affair and gave no public indication of concern. But the scandal rocking Britain could spell his downfall as Conservative party leader. His chance of survival depends largely on the showing he makes before Parliament next Monday when asked to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Dinner Is Planned by Church in Troy

TROY — Thursday's family style dinner at the Big Beaver Methodist Church will feature roast beef as the drawing card.

The dinner is to be served between 5:30 and 7:30 p. m. at the church, 3153 Rochester Road. Proceeds from the event will be used for sidewalk repair and to finance repainting of the church's exterior.

Tickets can be obtained from members of the Methodist Men's Club and the Woman's Society of Christian Service, or by contacting Mrs. Charles Dorshimer, 2540 Acacia.

U. of M. Exec Will Speak to Romeo Grads

Topic of Dr. Lewis' address will be "What's Ahead."

The graduation exercises for the 124-member class will be held at 8 p. m. in Memorial Stadium on Morton Street.

Rev. Peter Vos of the First Congregational Church will give the invocation and Rev. John McMillan of St. Clement Catholic Church will offer the benediction.

Principal David L. Olson will award the scholarships, trophies and merit certificates.

Company Announces Facility Expansion

WALLED LAKE — Williams Research Corp. has announced a major expansion of its manufacturing facilities at 2290 W. Maple.

The addition will increase the company's production area by 80 per cent when it is completed next month, according to President Sam Williams.

The new quarters will house enlarged assembly, inspection, engineering and precision balancing departments and will permit an expansion of engineering and testing sections.

In addition, six new test cells, equipped with monitoring, control and recording instruments, will be added to the eight already in use. The new quarters will also be used to test Williams' number-one product — the gas turbine engine.

Completed earlier this year was one of the world's largest cold-wal vacuum brazing furnaces.

This unit is used in special heat-treating operations, important in gas turbine assembly, where a variety of high-temperature materials must be precisely joined with thin capillary joints.

Besides manufacturing many varieties of gas turbine engines, Williams also makes a tiny turbojet engine, as well as special-purpose turbines for military applications.

Through the expansion, Williams said the company is endeavoring to bring more business to Michigan through research and development.

Troy's Schools Hope for Best

Tax-Hike Request on Ballot 3rd Time

TROY — The Troy School Board is hoping good things come in three.

A three-mill tax hike is being requested by the board today for the third time since November 1961.

A business meeting following renewal of an eight-mill tax levy, due to expire next year, is the second request facing school district residents.

Should both of the propositions receive voter approval, the district's tax rate will be increased to a level of 26.7 mills.

In addition to a pay hike for teachers the reopening of Colebrook school is planned in the 1963-64 budget. Expected spending next year amount to a total of $1,754,677.

The new budget is based on approval of the three-mill hike scheduled to bring in some $116,000.

If the millage increase is not okayed, the school board has agreed to continue maintaining school operation on its present austerity program.

The scheduled teachers' pay hike would also have to be canceled, should the three-mill hike be rejected.

Area Woman Hurt in 2-Car Accident

TROY — A Clawson woman is in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, today with injuries she suffered in a two-car hit-and-run accident here yesterday.

Mrs. Shirley Hewitt, 36, is in satisfactory condition. She is being treated for head cuts. Treated and released were her husband, Robert, 38, and daughter Becky, 12. A son, Barry, 16, escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred at 4155 Livernois. Hewitt said he was attempting to avoid the other car, lost control, and hit a cement wall. Police are searching for the driver of the second car.

Doctors at The University of Michigan Medical Center are using a technique that does not require hospitalization. Michigan ranks near the top nationally in exporting Christmas trees to other states.

Newlyweds Honeymoon in Florida and Bahamas

CLARKSTON — Honeymooning in Florida and the Bahamas are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lorenz Parsons who exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday evening in First Methodist Church here.

The bride is the former Nancy Jayne Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jennings, 6473 Waldon. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Parsons of Detroit.

Rev. William Richards and Rev. Jack Giguere read the service.

A gown of ivory bouquet taffeta styled with portrait décolletage and semibelted skirt that revealed a triple-tiered petticoat of Alencon lace was chosen by the bride for her wedding.

COURT CAP

Completing her ensemble was a court cap of matching silk and lace which held a bouffant veil of filmy illusion.

Chadon Chamberlain of Royal Oak was maid of honor for her cousin. Bridesmaids were Nancy McKown of Pontiac, Carol

Roberts of Waterford, Lynn Parsons of Allen Park and Karen Mitchell of Detroit.

Assisting as best man was Fred Turek of Clarkston. The guests were seated by Robert Jennings of Clarkston, brother of the bride; Mitchell of Detroit, uncle of the bridegroom; Dale Hopp of East Lansing, cousin of the bridegroom; and Carl Wilberg of Clarkston.

Junior ushers were Edward and Jeffrey Jennings, brothers of the bride.

The reception was held in the church parlor.

Out to Collect Signatures

DETROIT (UPI) — The Vigilance Tax Committee plans to station volunteers at tricity polls today to collect signatures protesting the Detroit city income tax.

Mayer George Kuhn, Berkeley, head of the committee, said the volunteers would be stationed at suburban voting places during school tax elections.

"We're out to clean up the balance of signatures in our state-wide drive which at last reporting was 1,000 votes short of the goal. We are anxious to form a cushion of 15,000 or 20,000 over the goal," Kuhn said.

Kuhn said the committee planned to present its call for legislation to the September special session of the state legislature.

"We are confident that Gov. (George) Romney's attitude in seeking citizens' advice and opinions on tax matters will aid us. And we hope to make some impact on the lawmakers with 250,000 signatures," Kuhn said.

'Look Like Tourists'

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — The police who patrol the halls of Congress and the men who run its elevators are catching a bit of criticism about their appearance. Some senators feel they're simply not dressy enough, considering the splendor of their place of work. The Capitol policemen look pretty much like any other men in blue, with neither plumes nor breastplates. And some say you can't tell the elevator operators from the tourists unless you push the "up" buzzer. Monroney suggested that the elevator operators and doormen be garbed so "they don't look like the tourists."

noted at a hearing he has received complaints from several senators that the police have the worst dress uniforms of any capital in the world.

But William C. Cheatham, an aide to the Senate sergeant at arms, leaped to the defense of the police. He described them as "a fine-looking group of men" who must keep their shoes shined, uniforms pressed, hair cut, and stand inspection.

Monroney suggested that the elevator operators and doormen be garbed so "they don't look like the tourists."

Financial Ends Meet When It's Necessary

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

If you're in your 40s or 50s, you are probably beginning to consider how you will make financial ends meet when retirement time comes.

The following letter shows how you can get a preview of your situation before you are face to face with adjusting to a retirement income:

Dear Miss Feeley: I enjoy reading your column and thought I would like to let you know how I solved our problem.

My husband had a good job, making about $500 a month take-home pay, but we never seemed to be able to save much or stay on a budget. Five years ago he said: "I'm thinking about retiring. Do you think we can live on my pension?"

This is $234 a month, plus a veteran's pension of about $73 a month. No Social Security. The money is clear with no withholdings of any kind. First thing I did was list all my expenses that had to be paid over the year and divided it by 12.

SHEILA MARIE FOX

November vows are planned by Sheila Marie Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Fox of Ellwood to Pvt. Stephen Michael Kerchoff, son of the Nick Kerchoffs of Chipewewa.

ELEANOR B. CARNEY

Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Carney of West Ann Arbor Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Eleanor to Ronald B. Hetherington, son of the Clark Hetheringtons of Clarksburg.

I allowed some extra and even figured on a Christmas Club.

After putting my budget money away, we are left with about $100 a month for groceries, operating the car, clothing, recreation, etc.

The first year was the hardest. But now everything is running smooth and some months I have some left over. This I put away and start over new each month. Last December I had about $400 extra which could be used for any emergency. We do not skimp and do have what we want.

Of course, there are only two of us, and the house and car are ours. But why couldn't we have done this years ago? I guess when you know you've got to do something it can be done.

Mrs. W. L., Waterford, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. L.: Necessity's a wonderful incentive! Maybe other couples who are wondering if they can live on their retirement funds will follow your example and find out ahead of time.

Dear Miss Feeley: A friend of mine had a will made out and left it at home in a dresser drawer—where the mice chewed it to bits. Now she would like to have another will made. Is it all right for her to state the other will was destroyed?

Mrs. T. C., West Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mrs. D.: I should think a copy of your friend's will would be in her lawyer's possession. However, if not, she can have a new will drawn up and the lawyer will word it so that it takes precedence over any previous will she made.

Dear Miss Feeley: When we moved into this apartment our rent was $75 a month and we took our clothes to the laundromat. Some months later I acquired a used wringer washing machine which our landlord and his wife permitted us to use for an extra $5 a month.

We were told we couldn't buy an automatic washer because it would cost too much to use. My problem is this—how much money does it cost to operate an automatic washer including the cost of electricity, water and gas to heat the hot water tank? My laundry amounts to a maximum of 10 loads a week.

Mrs. M. S., Baltimore

Dear Mrs. S.: You can estimate the cost of operating an automatic washer at approximately three cents per load. This covers electricity and water. It's not so easy to figure in the cost of heating a gas hot water tank, however, when all household needs are supplied from this source.

I would guess that there are other reasons aside from cost for your landlord's objection to your using an automatic washer. Perhaps it has to do with installation, expense of extra pipe and so forth.

You can write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press.

Oakland Well Into Summer Term

By PHILIP WILLIAMS

Most colleges in the nation are ready for dismissal of classes for the summer. However, at Oakland University the third term of the trimester program is nearly one-fourth over.

Having to attend school during the long summer months is not very consoling.

Bus Patronage Is Up in May

But Total Continues to Decline From 1962

There were about 266 more bus riders in Pontiac in May than in the month before, according to Pontiac Transit Corporation.

Pontiac Transit buses carried 76,400 passengers last month. The April passenger total was 76,194.

The slight increase, however, had little or no effect on a steady drop in patronage from corresponding months last year.

There were some 82,401 passengers recorded on buses during May 1962.

By the end of April this year, Pontiac Transit buses had carried 13,876 fewer passengers than they did in the first four months last year.

As of June 1, the difference amounted to 19,817 fewer passengers. There were 285,122 passengers reported for the first five months of 1963 compared to 404,420 during the same period last year.

The decline started when free parking was initiated on downtown municipal parking lots Feb. 1 and has continued ever since.

In other figures, buses drove 40,329 miles and used about 7,000 gallons of gas in May.

Kennedy's Book to Be Produced as a TV Series

NEW YORK (AP)—"Profiles in Courage," a book that President Kennedy wrote in 1955 when he was a senator, will be produced as a television series.

Robert E. Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co., announced Sunday that Robert Saudek Associates had bought the television rights and will film 26 hour-long dramatizations for NBC.

Saudek did not say how much Kennedy will receive for the television rights to his Pulitzer Prize book of biographies.

It was reported unofficially that Kennedy's royalties will total $351,000, or 10 percent of the $3,510,000 that the network will pay Saudek.

The President will donate his royalties to charity.

Feel Time Running Out for Peace

Race Issue Worries Religious Leaders

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Religious leaders are profoundly concerned about the racial tensions building up in the United States, North as well as South. Many of them feel that time is running out for achievement of a peaceful solution to "the American dilemma."

Their sense of urgency is reflected in a letter received by this reporter from Baptist evangelist Billy Graham, who is currently conducting preaching crusades in Europe.

"I am deeply disturbed about the racial situation in the United States," Graham said.

"I fear that extremists on both sides will lead us down a bloody road unless the voices of moderation, tolerance and good will prevail."

Graham said he has been "giving a great deal of time and thought and prayer" to the racial problem, and trying to decide what contribution he can make, after he returns to America, toward heading off another crisis. The same note of eleventh-hour urgency appears in an extraordinary pastoral letter issued recently by the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, residing bishop of the Episcopal Church.

FEARS CATASTROPHE
"Present events reveal the possible imminence of catastrophe," said Bishop Lichtenberger, a soft-spoken man not given to extravagant statements. "The entire Christian community must pray and act."

He called on white Episcopalians to get involved in the struggle as allies rather than opponents of Negroes who are "today risking their livelihood and their lives in protesting for their rights."

J. Irwin Miller, president of the National Council of Churches, viewed the same view in a special message to churches last week.

Robert E. Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co., announced Sunday that Robert Saudek Associates had bought the television rights and will film 26 hour-long dramatizations for NBC.

Saudek did not say how much Kennedy will receive for the television rights to his Pulitzer Prize book of biographies.

It was reported unofficially that Kennedy's royalties will total $351,000, or 10 percent of the $3,510,000 that the network will pay Saudek.

The President will donate his royalties to charity.

"We may thank God that people of color all over the United States are militantly and responsibly opposing racial discrimination," he said. "Let us pray that more white people will join them in the struggle against racism."

Roman Catholic prelates have been equally outspoken. In Washington, D.C., Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle recently called on employers to practice "merit hiring in its fullest implications" as a first step toward ending the discriminations which are "poisonous race relations" in the nation's capital.

In St. Louis, Joseph Cardinal Ritter denounced housing segregation as "a grave injustice" and said the Christian conscience "can never rest" until it is eliminated.

The fear that secretly haunts many religious leaders was expressed out loud last week by Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Asserting that church and synagogue actions in the struggle for racial justice have been "too little and too late," he said: "We must act now or bear unendurable consequences. If we religiousists fail to move and speedily, we will doom all those moderates, like Martin Luther King, and we will make the success of the racists on all sides, including the Black Muslims, inevitable."

"If we cannot really put flesh on the bare bones of our pretensions about equality, we will stand accused in every community as champions of an irrelevant faith, trumpeters of empty clichés."

Cinerama Coordinates 3 Screen Images

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The movie news:

Now you'll be able to see everything from two-story close-ups to wild automobile chases filmed from a helicopter. The scenes are clear and brilliant, with none of the eyestrain one sometimes gets from Cinerama.

THOMAS

Cinerama has unveiled a new one-camera, one-projector method that has solved the problem. The test showing displayed 20 minutes of scenes from "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World." It featured everything from two-story close-ups to wild automobile chases filmed from a helicopter. The scenes are clear and brilliant, with none of the eyestrain one sometimes gets from Cinerama.

Nicolas Reisini, Cinerama president, said the single-lens process would save 30 per cent in theater costs. The first one will be used at the new Cinerama Dome Theater in Hollywood for the premiere of "Mad World" Nov. 7.

And how does the movie look, judging from the sample?

Crazy, man. It has the widest car chases since Mack Sennett used to race his Pierce Arrows on Mulholland Drive.

MONEY DETAILS
Higher Finance Dept.: Jack Warner disclosed some of the money details of "My Fair Lady" at a luncheon to send off the filming.

Warners paid $5½ million for the property. Total cost of the film: $12 million. Break-even point: $20 million. When the total take reaches $24 million, Warners starts to give 50 per cent to CBS, which originally financed "My Fair Lady."

"When we start making that much money, I'll be happy to share half with anybody," Warner cracked.

Most of the picture will be filmed on the Burbank lot, with some brief locations in England. Warner's reasoning: "We're in the business of illusion. Years ago we made two highly successful sea pictures, 'Captain Blood' and 'The Sea Hawk,' and we shot them on our stages. We can do the same with 'My Fair Lady.'"

SHOWS STUFF

Vincent Edwards, who could be making much more money elsewhere, brought his night club act to the Coconut Grove to show the town his stuff. The guy has got it. He has a pleasant singing voice, a world of assurance, and he can smile!

"Irma la Douce" is being released with a voluntary "not for under 18" tag. But is it for adults? To this one, it did not seem like Billy Wilder at his gayest.

President Lucille Ball is heading for a two-month vacation from her duties with Desilu and "The Lucy Show." She has movie projects with Fred MacMurray, Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, but they will have to wait until she can find the time.

Red China Calls Nehru 'U.S. Pawn'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's propaganda campaign against India shifted to Prime Minister Nehru personally today. The Indian leader was termed a renegade and a U.S. pawn.

The attack on Nehru heightened suspicion that Red China is preparing a major effort to force India to settle the Himalayan border dispute on Peking's terms.

Communist troops invaded northeast and northwest India last September and won a series of overwhelming victories. But as the vicious Himalayan winter approached, the Chinese withdrew to high passes and holed up.

BEGAN BROADCASTS
As winter disappeared from the battlegrounds, Red China began daily radio broadcasts charging that Indian troops were violating Chinese territory.

The broadcast today charged that Nehru started the conflict last September, "prompted by the needs of his domestic and foreign policies" and a desire to get U.S. military aid.

The prime minister "lately has taken a personal and keen interest in spreading anti-China rumors," it said.

"The more rumors he spread, the clearer his wicked schemes and degradation will become and the more easily the people will see that the rumor monger is a renegade from the Afro-Asian community and a pawn of U.S. imperialism."

Wife Cheers His Overtime

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — Dr. Frederick T. Lense is one man who wins applause rather than protest from his wife when he puts in overtime. That's because his extra hours are often devoted to housework.

As research and development director of a chemical company (Texaco), Dr. Lense develops household cleaning products. He insists upon personally home testing his creations as the most practical way of finding new and better products.

Workmen Are Okay After Iodine Mishap

NEVADA TEST SITE (UPI) — The 13 workmen who inhaled radioactive iodine while working in a tunnel complex near where an underground nuclear shot was taken off last week today apparently had a clean bill of health.

Ten of the workmen still under observation were examined Saturday. The other three had been released earlier.

The exposure resulted from inhalation of three radioactive isotopes of iodine. It was reported that the latest examination showed radiation dosages were well under the standards set by the Federal Radiation Council.

Form Wedding Arch in Farmer's Tradition

GREENSTEAD, England (AP) — The Halstead Young Farmers' Club has decided farmers will not be outdone by soldiers.

Winner at Bridge Is Surprised by Unexpected Gift

DOTHAN, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. Jane Windham, hostess at a bridge party, discovered her diamond wedding band, valued at $1,000, missing while playing bridge.

When the party was over a search was instituted throughout the house and outside area.

Plumbers were called and drain of Normandy artists and his real pipes taken apart. At the end of name was Emile Duchamp.

a six-hour search, the ring was still missing. Later, Mrs. Agnes Simpson, top scorer in the game, returned home and opened her prize. In the small package she found the intended gift and the expensive diamond ring.

French Painter Dies

PARIS (AP) — French painter Jacques Villon, 88, known as the inventor of cubism and a patriarch of modern art, died Sunday after a long illness. Villon, who showed his works in Paris and New York, was born into a family of Normandy artists and his real pipes taken apart. At the end of name was Emile Duchamp.

Industrial Index Seems Headed for New Peak

Women to Get Equal Wages

Kennedy Set to Sign Legislation on Pay

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy planned to sign into law today a bill extending equality of the sexes to the pay

The new law will forbid the employers of 27.5 million U.S. workers to pay women less than men for doing the same work.

The legislation does not cover all women workers and will not take effect for one year. But despite its limitations, advocates of women's rights called the measure their most significant advance in many years.

No one knows now how many of the nation's 24 million women workers eventually will get higher pay as a result of the new law. Advocates of the bill cited specific examples of wage discrimination because of sex, but made no estimates of the totals.

The equal pay bill passed Congress with little controversy after years of futile efforts to establish wage parity in the law. The breakthrough came when a compromise method of extending the equal pay principle was advanced by Republicans and accepted by administration Democrats eager to pass a bill this year.

The compromise tied the new ban on wage discrimination because of sex to the existing federal minimum wage law. Under it, only women workers in Congress and service establishments covered by the minimum wage law will have the new equal pay protection.

The new statute will be enforced by the same Labor Department Wage and Hour Division that polices the wage floor law. About 27.5 million men and women workers are covered under the law.

In general, the minimum wage law covers all factory jobs involving production of goods in interstate commerce and several million service jobs in establishments doing $1 million or more business a year.

Proceedings began last Wednesday in the legal action by Pontiac State Bank and Community National Bank of Pontiac against the bank's branch in Bloomfield Township will resume tomorrow before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

The Dow Jones industrial index closed at 722.41 last Friday. Its historical peak was 734.91 December 13, 1961. But neither figure indicates as some might guess the average price for the 30 stocks. Their actual prices range from $246.75, to Pontiac, to $29.37, American Tobacco, and the average price is a lot closer to $71 than to 722.41.

Similarly, when the index goes up or down five points, it doesn't mean a change of $5, as the unsophisticated often think, an average of 50 cents a share would be a lot closer.

The reason for this is largely

The Pontiac banks claim there is no need for a branch office of the Detroit bank at Woodward and Square Lake Road.

The branch was open for a few hours May 1 before being closed by a temporary injunction pending a final decision in the suit.

The area is adequately served by the Pontiac State Bank's branch at Miracle Mile Shopping Center, the suit contends.

The Bloomfield Township Board last month rescinded a 1956 motion designating an area including the shopping center and the location of the bank branch as the "Village of Miracle Mile."

Township officials said the village designation had been intended to create a banking district, but they had to rescind it under a state attorney general's opinion that a township cannot determine boundaries of an unincorporated village.

Q "Last year I borrowed on my life insurance and used my savings to buy stocks on margin, most of which are down in price. Now we have family illness and I am worried about cash. What should I do?" L. M.

A Your plight is a very tough one. I understand it and am distressed about it. You've had to learn the hard way the basic investment principle which I've stressed here so often: The danger of depleting cash reserves in order to buy stocks.

I certainly hope that with help and courage, you will work out your present bad situation.

Hoffa Appears at Arraignment

Teamster Charged With Jury Tampering

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa, the president of the Teamsters Union, appeared here with 10 codefendants today for arraignment in federal district court. They are charged with jury tampering.

"No, I'm not glad to be back in Nashville," said Hoffa when he was taken from his private plane last night. "I don't want to return to Nashville except to go hunting or hold a labor meeting."

The president of the nation's largest labor organization, with 1.5 million members, was last seen in public in 1957, when he was charged with jury tampering on charges of conspiracy to violate the Taft-Hartley labor act.

The trial ended Dec. 23 with a hung jury, a jury which the Justice Department now names as the subject of tampering.

Hoffa said upon arriving that he didn't think he could get a fair trial in Nashville or anywhere else in the country.

"I think it would be difficult to get a fair trial anywhere because of the constant harassment of the Justice Department," he said.

It's just another one of Bobby Kennedy's shenanigans."

A federal grand jury charged the 11 defendants last month following a four-month investigation.

Hoffa, 50, is charged in five counts with "aiding, commanding and inducing" the others to illegally influence jurors or prospectively jurors in a $1-million conspiracy trial.

Arriving with Hoffa was one of the co-defendants, Larry Campbell, a business agent of Detroit Teamsters Local 299, and two Teamster lawyers.

The indictments charge that 10 prospective jurors and four jurors received bribe offers totaling about $75,000 and that the husband of one juror was offered a job promotion on the Tennessee Highway Patrol.

Wheat Prices Firm;
Other Grain Easy

CHICAGO (AP)—Some short covering, firmer wheat futures prices in early transactions today on the board of trade, but other commodities were generally easy.

Wheat moved up major fractions at the extreme on buying which was described as balancing positions until after issuance of the government June crop report. It will be released after the close of trading today.

Rainfall over the weekend was described as a slightly bearish influence in soybeans although dealers said the moisture appeared to have missed many dry spots.

A little less bedding pressure was noted in corn.

Tobaccos and Steels Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Tobacco and steel declined early today in an irregularly lower stock market.

Tobacco had another weak start following a report of the American Heart Association, linking cigarette smoking and heart disease.

Philip Morris dropped a couple of points, Liggett & Myers more than a point, Reynolds Tobacco nearly a point, and American Tobacco a fraction.

Among key stocks generally, losses of fractions to about a point outnumbered gains.

Seeks to Enjoin Pay Park Lot

'Site Can Be Used Only for Courthouse'

Cecil C. Mullinix said this morning he intends to file a petition tomorrow in Oakland County Circuit Court asking that the County Board of Supervisors show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the operation of a pay parking lot at Huron and Saginaw.

Mullinix said that an investigation of the original deed showed "very clearly" that the lot was conveyed to the county by its owner, Stephen Mack, in 1822 "for the purpose of erecting a courthouse and no other purpose whatsoever."

In the event that the property is not used for a courthouse, it reverts back to the donor, the local labor leader stated.

It is currently being leased by the county to Sam Solorow, owner of Outdoor Parking Co., who won a six-month lease in bidding last month.

COMMERCIAL VENTURE
Mullinix, president of Pontiac Motor Local 653, UAW, termed the pay parking lot "a commercial venture, not a public use."

Tomorrow's action will be step number two in Mullinix's battle for a drop-in center at the old courthouse site for Oakland County's 40,000 retirees.

Last Tuesday he went before the city commission asking that they commission to the board the supervisors that the property be leased to an association of retirees for such a center.

The commissioners, while agreeing with him in principle, failed to give the matter more study before committing themselves.

Sen. Roberts Says 'State Income Tax Inevitable'

Michigan will need an income tax by 1965 to avert a financial crisis in education, Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, predicted today.

"An income tax is inevitable within the next two years if we show cause why an income tax law will be needed by 1965," Roberts said.

But whether Republicans will seek such a tax in a special legislative session remains uncertain, according to Roberts.

He and six other State GOP leaders met informally on Mackinac Island over the weekend.

"We could have partial tax reform by replacing the business activities tax with a corporate profits tax," Roberts said.

"It's possible we could get along without an income tax."

More funds will be needed to build new classrooms and to operate colleges for the next 10 years, he said.

Without an income tax, this need would drive the state into a financial crisis reminiscent of the one five years ago, Roberts said.

The seven Republican senators, all members of the "moderates" who took control of the Senate's GOP majority this year and pushed through Romney's program.

But they said it may come in a step-by-step process rather than through sweeping changes.

They agreed the unexpected high tax collections due to a booming automobile year and the state's financial condition may thwart any efforts to enact an income tax this year.

Roberts said, however, that the state can't depend on good automobile years indefinitely. "We have to make sure we keep the reputation for fiscal soundness we've started to build," he said.

A surplus of more than $50 million in the fiscal year ending June 30 will drop the state deficit to $35 million.

Gov. George Romney admitted Friday the job of getting total tax reform this year would be hard because of the absence of a crisis.

"The people are going to call the shots for the special session—that's the reason for the 'great debates' the governor will begin today in Lansing," said Senate Republican Caucus Chairman Stanley Thayer, Ann Arbor.

The decision whether to attempt to major tax and spending reforms will hinge on the success or failure of the governor and his legislative lieutenants to show there is a real need for changes, the seven senators agreed.

Romney was to hold today the first of some 20 conferences with business, civic, labor, agricultural, financial and government leaders throughout the state.

The seven senators met at the summer home of Sen. John Fitzgerald, Grand Lodge, to review the recently ended regular legislative session and to discuss tax reform.

Others in the group were Senators Thomas Schweigert, Petoskey, and William Miliken, Traverse City, Frederic Hibbard, Wyandand, and Robert Vander Laan, Grand Rapids.

Romney: It's Tax Reform or $50-Million to Deficit

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney said today Michigan must have tax reform in 1963 or risk adding another $50 million to its deficit in the 1964-65 fiscal year.

The governor said with the present tax structure there is no way Michigan can continue to provide its existing level of services for a rapidly expanding population on a balanced budget basis beyond the fiscal year beginning July 1.

At the same time the Governor unveiled his eight possible paths to fiscal reform.

The methods suggested ranged from two very limited proposals to six wider-ranging "state level" alternatives.

All eight call for establishment of a personal income tax and all but two would set up a corporate profits tax.

The minimum plan, called the "business tax plan," would add only one tax—a 6 per cent personal-income tax—and eliminate the business activities tax and reduce the business franchise tax to two mills. The result, Romney said, would be an $11 million increase in state revenue.

The larger scope "state level" proposals, also called for imposition of a flat-rate personal income tax. The rate suggested varied from 2 to 3 per cent. The "state level plans" also recommended a corporate income tax of either 3, 4 or 5 per cent.

The eighth alternative, the "local options plan," would give to counties or perhaps cities the option of enacting an income tax of up to 2 per cent.

The prospect of growing state debt because of continuation of the present state tax structure was spelled out by Romney and key aides—State Controller Glenn Allen, financial adviser L. William Seidman and legal

Plaster Falls From Theater Roof; 2 Hurt

OWASSO (UPI)—Two children were seriously injured Saturday night when plaster from the roof of the Capitol Theater here fell on them.

Seven other children were also injured, but not seriously. Dennis Brown, 14, has a compound fracture of the arm, and Robert Goud, 15, suffered a severe shoulder injury.

Police said the plaster peeled from the front of the theater all the way to the balconies and fell with a huge roar. There was no warning that the plaster was loose.

Much of the audience was underneath the balcony, police said, and that prevented more injuries.

Police said there was no panic and the building was quickly emptied.

The theater was built in 1926 and is leased to the Butterfield Theater Inc.

The name of the picture the children were watching was "Thunder."

The safe was dragged from the front to the rear of the store and smashed open. Entry to the store was gained through an attached storage shed.

Man Killed Couple Hurt in Gun Fight With Police

DETROIT (UPI)—A second boat explosion in four days in the Detroit area put a Detroit businessman and his wife in the hospital in critical condition Saturday.

Norman Egre, 36, and his wife Rene, 32, suffered burns over 60 per cent of their bodies when an explosion of gas in the bilge of their 35-foot cabin cruiser turned the boat into a mass of flames on Lake St. Clair.

The blast hurled Egre into the water, but Mrs. Egre sat sturdily on the deck while the flames swirled around her. Two fishermen finally jarred her by shooting and got her to jump into the water.

The fishermen, Edward Wenck, Wayne, and Edward Carter, Dearborn, pulled her from the water. Two other fishermen, Thomas Rep, Mount Clemens, and Robert Kelly, Detroit, rescued Egre. Both were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

The boat sank.

Four days earlier, six young men and two college coeds were injured when their cabin cruiser caught fire after a bilge explosion on the Detroit River near Belle Isle.

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State University's largest graduating class in history—2,758—received degrees at commencement exercises in Spartan Stadium Sunday.

Frederick R. Kappel, board chairman of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., was commencement speaker. Kappel and other men of industry received honorary degrees.

This was MSU's 103rd spring graduating class. President John A. Hannah conferred degrees upon the cap-and-gown graduates.

Kappel told the class the basic value of education was to "help you increase the meaning of your personal life and your personal contribution to other people and life around you."

Honorary doctor of laws degrees were given Kappel and Samuel M. Brownell, Detroit Public Schools superintendent.

Sebastian S. Kresge, founder and board chairman of the S. S. Kresge Co.; Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation; Clyde E. Wood, Amnoco Corp. board chairman, and Edward N. Cole, a Chrysler Corp. vice president.

Count Sicily Vote to Check on Reds

PALERMO, Sicily (UPI)—Election workers today began counting almost three million votes to determine if communism is continuing its march forward in Italy.

The votes were cast yesterday for candidates for the 50-man Sicilian Regional Assembly. Final results were expected tonight.

The Communists are somewhat less strong on this poor, nominally industrialized island than they are in the big industrial centers of northern Italy.

But they won 23 per cent of the Sicilian votes in the national elections, an increase over their 1959 percentage.

New churches built in the United States last year cost a total of $908 million.

Son of Leader Arrested in Iran as an Agitator

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—The military governor of Tehran today arrested the son of the capital's religious leader on charges of trying to stir up antigovernment feeling in the wake of last week's bloody riots.

A government source said Jafar Bahhmani, son of Moslem Mullah Mohammed Bahhmani, who last week accused the government of dishonesty in suppressing the riots, had distributed leaflets calling for a general strike Tuesday in Tehran.

The government has accused religious leaders of starting the riots to oppose including Moslem property in the Shah's radical land reform program and giving Iranian women the right to vote.

Court Rules Out Missouri Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court struck down today a Missouri law that authorized the governor to seize and operate a privately owned public utility when a strike threatens the public welfare. The decision was unanimous.

The law made illegal any concerted refusal to work after a plant has been taken over by the state in the public interest.

Division 1287 of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America contacted the law conflicted with the federal Taft-Hartley Labor Law.

The litigation arose from a dispute between Division 1287 and the Kansas City Transit, Inc., which operates in Missouri and Kansas.

The court's opinion was written by Justice Stewart. He was absent from the high bench today, however, and it was read by Justice White.

Auto Engineers Use Space Gear to Quiet Cars

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—The same type of equipment used to check on earth-orbiting satellites and missiles is helping automobile engineers make cars quieter.

To get an accurate check on all noise and vibration, car manufacturers can use a two-channel electronic telemetry system that "listens" to the sounds test cars make on the road and transmits signals to a sensitive receiver in a following vehicle.
