Here's 10-Year Story of Your Auto Dollar

Reprinted from U.S. News & World Report, an independent weekly news magazine published at Washington. Copyright 1958 by United States News Publishing Corporation.

The average price of a new American car at this time is $2,833. Ten years ago the average price of a new car was $1,888, or $945 less than now.

Who gets those 945 additional dollars? Also, how is the money that a buyer pays for a car actually divided up?

The accompanying tables help to give answers to those questions. Facts that underlie the tables are based upon annual reports of General Motors Corporation, upon official U. S. statistics of income, and upon reports of the Automobile Manufacturers Association and the National Auto Dealers Association. The figures cover the manufacturer's role in making a car and also the dealer's role in getting it to the customer.

Average Car 10 Years Ago

Delivered Price	$1,888
Cost of Labor	$531
Taxes	383
Material, services	748
Wear on plants, tools	35
Profit, after taxes	221

Labor cost was 28 cents out of every $1 of the sales price. Materials and services, including advertising, took 40 cents. Net profits represented 12 cents.

Average Car Today

Delivered Price	$2,833
Cost of Labor	$ 916
Taxes	462
Material, services	1,364
Wear on plants, tools	90
Profits after taxes	161

Labor cost is now 32 cents out of the sales dollar. Materials and services have gone up to 42 cents. Net profits are down to 6 cents.

WHAT LABOR GETS

Wages, salaries, bonuses, fringe benefits and commissions paid to employes of manufacturers and dealers account for $916 of the $2,833 that a customer pays today for a new car. That is an increase of $385 over the $531 that went to the employes when a new car cost $1,888.

Thus, more than one third of the increase in price is due to increases in direct labor costs.

The manufacturer's bill for wages, salaries and fringe benefits has gone up by about $185, or more than 50 per cent during the decade.

The dealer's pay to salesmen, clerical help and the men in the garage has increased about $200, and is now more than double that of 1948.

COSTS OF MATERIALS

Automobile companies buy materials for the car; they purchase many of its parts and accessories from other manufacturers; they pay for national advertising. Dealers pay for transportation from the factory to the showroom and for local advertising.

For such goods and services, the cost comes to about $1,204 on the average new car. Ten years ago, these goods and services accounted for $748 of the purchase price. The increase in cost in these elements, therefore, is $456, or not far from one half of the rise in price over the 10-year period.

Much of that increase in cost stems, in turn, from increases in wages and salaries of the companies producing raw materials, parts and accessories.

Some is due to the fact that the present-day car is bigger and more complex and, hence, takes more material, more parts and more labor.

The quantity of steel in the average car today is not much greater than it was 10 years ago—roughly 1.8 tons. The cost of that steel has gone up from $99 to $172. This is the largest single increase in raw-material costs.

Taxes account for the next-largest slice of the cost of

Fisher to Keep Tool, Die Unit

Denies Union's Charge of Plans to Suspend Department Here

Fisher Body Division yesterday made public a brief denial of UAW charges that the die room at the division's Pontiac plant was about to be closed, throwing some 500 workers out of jobs.

The division's announcement came after a meeting of General Motors Corp. executives and representatives of Fisher Body Local 596, UAW to discuss the charges. The announcement read:

"Fisher Body Division announced today that tool and die activities at the Pontiac plant are being continued. The level of employment in this activity, as well as others, will depend upon the requirements of the business and many other factors which are unknown or indefinite at the present time.

"The Fisher local was advised of this Friday afternoon at a meeting held in Pontiac."

Signs Indicate U. S. Pulling Out of Slump

WASHINGTON (INS) — The nation's economy showed signs on four key fronts today that it may be ready to move out of the recession doldrums.

The indicators were an increase in homebuilding and retail sales, a rise in farm employment and a drop in unemployment benefit claims for the second straight week.

Executives Encouraged

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (INS) — Some business leaders have told Secretary of Commerce Weeks of faint signs that April may have brought a turning point in the recession for several key industries.

But optimism was far from unanimous among the 100 top rung corporation executives meeting here as the commerce secretary's Business Advisory Council.

And the business leaders did not agree on whether the government should stand pat on taxes or ask Congress to cut income tax rates as a booster for business.

A special seven-member anti-recession committee of the BAC, named in April at Weeks' request to recommend a prescription for recovery, came up yesterday with a report proposing:

1. That President Eisenhower call on industry and labor for a voluntary, one year moratorium on both wage boosts and price increases.

2. That no tax reduction be asked now, but that "if the decline in general consumption con-

The Federal Housing Administration said 79,471 mortgage insurance applications were received in April. This is the second highest monthly figure in FHA's history, topped only by 89,764 in May, 1950.

Some 22,000 new dwellings were started in April under FHA's mortgage guarantee program, an increase of 33 per cent over March.

The Veterans Administration reported that 24,800 appraisal requests on new homes were made in April under its GI loan program, a 195 per cent jump over March.

Government economists interpret these developments as strong evidence of a major surge in home construction during the summer and fall months. One factor is more liberalized credit.

The Commerce Department reported that consumer sales, on a seasonally-adjusted basis, were two per cent higher in April than in March. The total was 16.1 billion dollars, compared with 16.4 billion last year.

Sales of durable goods rose 2.4 per cent and non-durable items 1.6

4-Year Program of Expansion Nearly Finished

Lt. Gov. Philip J. Hart to Speak at Ceremonies Open to the Public

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac General Hospital's $4,500,000 expansion, four years in the making, will be dedicated tomorrow.

Public ceremonies are scheduled for 3:30 p.m. on the steps of the Seminole avenue entrance to the six-story addition.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart will be the main speaker. Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams and Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the hospital Board of Trustees, are scheduled for remarks.

The dedication will be made by Dr. William J. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian Church.

A large gathering of hospital, city and area officials is expected to be on hand. They will be feted by the board at a reception tea after the ceremonies.

The public is invited to inspect the new facilities. Open House tours will be conducted by the women's auxiliary every half hour from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 8

Downtown Merchants Honor Mother of Year Here Sunday

Pontiac's "Mother of the Year" has five good reasons why she deserves the title.

Line Mrs. Marilyn Bigger, 31, up with her children and it's evident why the Downtown Pontiac Association is going to present her with the 1958 crown at 9:10 p.m. tomorrow at the Oakland Theater.

The Biggers live in a tidy bungalow at 671 Northfield avenue. Their home is at the western end of the street in the middle of three acres of land.

That's a lot of room, but not too much for the five children, Lynn, 11; Alexander III, 9; Gloria, 8; John, 5, and Genevieve, 2. Lynn is in the fifth grade at Malkim School, Alexander the third, and Gloria the second.

Mrs. Bigger was nominated for the title by the First Free Methodist Church, where she is an active member.

She's been supervisor of the beginners' Sunday School the past two years. Bigger, an employe of the Concrete Step Co. in Waterford Township, also is an active church member and a Sunday School teacher. Both husband and wife help out with church youth groups.

Mrs. Bigger, originally from the small town of Prescott near West Branch, grew up in Flint and was graduated from the Owosso Bible College.

She came to Pontiac afterwards to work as a nursing attendant. She met her future husband here shortly after his discharge from the Army. The couple was married 13 years ago and has lived in their present home for the last 12 years.

Raising five children doesn't leave Mrs. Bigger much time for outside activities. Yet she's busy with church work four or five times a week.

If she needs more than five good reasons to retain her crown, Mrs. Bigger is prepared.

Defiant Judge Less Sure Now

Huff Says He May Obey Supreme Court and Go to Wayne Bench

LANSING (INS) — Saginaw Circuit Judge Eugene Snow Huff said today he may not defy the State Supreme Court's decision that he be transferred to the Wayne County bench.

Huff had been told by the high court to report for duty to Wayne County while Lapeer's Judge Timothy Quinn takes charge in Saginaw to clean up what the high court thinks is a cluttered docket.

Judge Huff said he had been doing some thinking since receiving a call from Chief Justice John Dethmers.

The chief justice said he expected Huff to be in Detroit Monday.

Refusal to obey the Supreme Court could lay Huff open to contempt charges and conviction could lead to a jail sentence, a fine and disbarment.

Huff said Friday he would refuse to go because his transfer was being used to "reflect unfavorably" on the way courts are run in Saginaw.

Sullenberger Files Appeal to High Court

Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger has filed an appeal with the Michigan Supreme Court of the decision by Circuit Judge Timothy Quinn dismissing his damage suit against the Pontiac General Hospital Board.

The doctor's attorney, Harry N. Dell, of Royal Oak, said today the appeal will be heard in the October term of the high court, with a decision possible around Dec. 1.

Prepares for Final Concert

Famed High School Band Had Modest Start in '27

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

There's been quite a few changes made since 1927 when less than a dozen Pontiac teenagers walked into the high school auditorium with ambitions of forming a band.

That fall was the first time instrumental music could be included in a student's curriculum in Pontiac. It was the first time the young people got together and learned music on school time . . . during a regular class five days a week.

Friday this band, which now numbers 80 teenagers, will present its 31st and final Spring Band Concert. Next fall, the band will be divided because of the building of a second high school in Pontiac.

The history of a band at the high school goes back to the early 1920's when S. M. Dudley, a mathematics teacher, met with the boys and girls after school on a club basis. About 1925, Howard Monger was hired as an instrumental techer to cover all of the elementary, and secondary Pontiac public schools. By then, high schoolers were meeting three days per week.

Dale C. Harris, supervisor of instrumental music of Pontiac schools, has been conductor of the band since it was organized 31 years ago

Since then, the instrumental teaching staff has grown from one to 11 and each have their duties instructing various sections of this award winning band.

According to Harris, the schools instrument supply has grown from one bass, two French horns, a

Nixon to Brave Soccer Crowds in Ecuador

Nixon received a warm reception from generally friendly residents when he arrived yesterday after hostile demonstrations occurred here, they probably would come at the match between two Quito soccer teams.

The Communists, who were blamed for sparking the Peruvian hostility, reportedly number less than 3,000 out of 600,000 voters in Ecuador.

A small core of Reds was thought to have been behind the painting of "Go Home, Nixon" slogans on about 50 houses Thursday night. Police painted them out before Nixon landed.

baritone and a snare drum to enough to loan or rent instruments to students in each of the elementary and secondary schools.

BAND HAS OWN HOME

For 25 years, band members could be heard rehearsing scales and full orchestrations in the auditorium. Until 1953, when the 44x62 foot instrumental music rehearsal room was built, the band's home was in the auditorium and the instruments were stored in the balcony.

Today, besides the rehearsal room, the high school musicians have use of a music library, an instrument storage room and six practice rooms.

The appearance of this band has also changed since 1928 when they wore some leftover black stock-like collared club uniforms with a slight trim of orange on the cape. They have been strutting in the present black modified army type garb with open collar since 1939.

Throughout the years, members of the band have had lots of fun performing at school activities including football and basketball games as well as assemblies and concerts. But, many long hours of practice occurred beforehand and their list of awards shows it was worth it.

HOLDS MANY AWARDS

They also have the same amount of trophies and plaques for first place in the state class "A" high school band competitions.

In 1940, the band received a first division rating in the National High School Band Contest and also won the Midwest top honor.

The number of band alumni now in professional music or teaching instrumental music indicates they came from an award winning organization.

Four are now with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. They include: Lewis H. Cooper and Robert Pfueffer, both bassoon; William B. Brown, French horn, and Milton Harris, tympanist.

The three who now play with the U.S. Navy Band in Washington, D. C., are Peter Geiger, Paul Allen and Keither Swailes. William Hinshaw is the first French hornist in the Warner Bros., Studio Orchestra, Hollywood.

The following 15 former members of the band are now instrumental music instructors at their respective schools systems; Lewis A. Crew, Jeanne Leland, Eldon C. Rosegart, Fred N. Wiest and Raymond A. Young, all in the Pontiac schools; R. G. Young, Trenton; Ray Opland, Traverse City; Elton Powell, Centerline; Jack Bittle, Cassopolis; Ronald Salow, Haslett; Bruce Wiser, Hanover, Pa.; and Harold Kennedy, Flint.

Paul Wallace is at the University of Wisconsin, Arthur S. Best, at Western Reserve University and Alfred Wright, director of bands at Purdue University.

5,070 Make 'Decisions' in San Francisco

Crowds Hear Billy Graham Crusade

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Billy Graham opened a widely heralded campaign in San Francisco in April.

He continues to draw near capacity crowds and is the town's No. 1 topic of conversation.

The tall blond evangelist, who called San Francisco the "greatest challenge God ever gave us" when he began his six-week crusade on April 27, has preached redemption through Jesus Christ to more than 164,000 rapt listeners at his first 10 sermons.

COME FORWARD

And from that crowd, 5,070 — of all ages, all colors, all denominations — have come forward "to make a decision for Christ."

Graham, a tanned handsome 38-year-old Protestant minister from North Carolina, drew some 23,000 devout and curious to his first rally at the Cow Palace.

At the Cow Palace where at least 5,000 of the opening day audience had to be turned away, Graham preached two sermons. He stood in a parking lot and shivered with the throng in the late afternoon wind as he welcomed the standees and urged them to return.

CROWD LARGEST

Another standing-room-only audience heard his sermon on "Who Is Jesus Christ?" on Sunday, May 4, and on Saturday, May 3, his words went out to what he called "the largest audience for an evangelistic service in the history of the Christian church."

A television network of 140 stations carried his sermon on sin in America across the nation. His other rallies through the week have almost filled the sprawling Cow Palace.

This week the big turnouts had Graham and his staff talking about extending their San Francisco crusade by another week — all that Graham's globe-circling schedule will permit.

TO CROSS BAY

One day during the meeting, Graham will make a trip across the bay to preach at California's San Quentin Prison, at the invitation of the warden.

His early audiences, keeping pace in number with attendance in New York's Madison Square Garden services last summer, have been responsive to the evangelist's plea for funds as well as conversions.

Collections in the first seven days of the crusade averaged nearly $6,000 a meeting, $1,000 more a day than called for in the total budget of $431,000.

GO FOR EXPENSES

All collections go for crusade expenses as Graham, an ordained Baptist minister, is paid $15,000 a year from a fund administered by his national headquarters.

Dwight Newton, San Francisco Examiner television editor and namesake of evangelist Dwight L. Moody, called Graham "the greatest evangelist of our time" after watching his first telecast from San Francisco.

Protestant ministers, who worked for months in preparation for the crusade, admit its initial success has even slightly overwhelmed them.

The Rev. Ross F. Hidy, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in San Francisco and a member of the Graham Crusade Executive Committee, says:

Dr. Lewis J. Julianel, pastor of the First Baptist Church, reports: "I marvel at the response and the results. New people already have come into our church as a result of the crusade and a large number of our own people are showing evidence of their personal rededication."

tinues," a flat percentage cut be made in all personal income tax rates.

The moratorium idea provoked no discussion. But the tax recommendation touched off debate that revealed a split. Some members called for a quick 10 per cent, seven billion dollar tax cut. Others protested that tax reduction was unnecessary, that it would be inflationary and damaging to the federal fiscal structure.

Weeks told newsmen he would ask the committee—headed by T. V. Houser, board chairman of Sears Roebuck and Co.—to keep working and report back in June because, Weeks said, "By June 30 there will have to be some kind of tax bill."

On that date, unless there is extension legislation, the corporation tax rate will drop to 47 per cent from 52 per cent, and some excise rates will be reduced automatically.

Reporters were barred from the BAC sessions. But Weeks gave a partial report and Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp., provided highlights of the council's semiannual "economic roundup." Other details were reported privately by council members.

Blough said April brought a number of encouraging signs and "was considered by several industries as possibly indicating a turning point."

For example, Blough said, new orders to steel mills strengthened in April and early May after a 10-month decline. He said construction also showed new strength last month, and rubber companies reported an upturn in business.

A pickup in retail sales also was reported. Spokesmen for the depressed auto industry, Blough said are hoping that the 1959 models will bring a fall improvement. And he said the ailing railroads are somewhat encouraged by government moves to help them.

per cent, providing a ray of hope in a field that has been a thorny problem in the recession.

A 66,900 drop in jobless benefits for the week ending April 26 was announced by the Labor Department—the biggest since mid-1957.

The agriculture department disclosed that farm employment for the week ending April 26 was up 20 per cent over March. It said the normal seasonal change is about 16 per cent.

your car. The total, including the companies' income taxes, comes to $462 on a 1958 model, compared with $383 on a 1948 model. That is an increase of $109, or 11 per cent of the rise in the retail price.

Manufacturers' taxes have gone up from $210 to about $370 on the average car. The federal excise tax, paid initially by the manufacturer, now averages $188, compared with $87 on the 1948 model.

Dealer's taxes, meanwhile, have actually decreased because his profits have shrunk. In 1948, there were long waiting lines for cars, and dealers had no trouble with sales and with maintaining comfortable profit margins. Today, dealers are in a fiercely competitive market and sales are down.

COST OF PLANT

To make cars and get them ready for the customer calls for a huge investment in plant and also in investment for tools in the dealers' garages. This investment has to be recovered through charges for depreciation, based on wear and obsolescence which are reflected in price of the car. In the 1958 car, depreciation is estimated at about $90. That is an increase of $55, compared with 1948.

Most of that increase stems from higher depreciation charges made by the manufacturer, who finds his factories today much more costly than they were 10 years ago. The cost of construction has gone up; prices of machinery are much higher. These increased costs have been incurred by the auto industry in the process of expanding and replacing older plants?

HOW MUCH PROFIT?

Because of the drop in the dealer's margin, the total amount of all profit included in the price of a car is actually less today than in 1948: about $161 compared with $221.

The manufacturer's profit per car has gone up about $27, from $116 to $143, on the average. The dealers' overall profit, averaged on the basis of new cars sold, comes to about $19, compared with $105 profit 10 years ago.

It appears, therefore, that profits do not account for the rise in price since 1948. If profits alone were the deciding factor, a car today would cost less than in 1948, instead of costing more.

And, if profits of manufacturers and retailers were eliminated entirely, the price of a 1958 car would be reduced by less than 6 per cent.

Most of the added $945 you are asked to pay for the average new car today turns out to be due to two factors: increased labor cost, and increased costs of materials and parts, which also are labor costs in large part.

Hospital Dedication Is Set for Sunday

p.m. The same tour schedule will continue next week through Saturday.

Although the expansion program will not be completed until late this year — by mid-November or December, according to Hospital Director Carl I. Flath — tomorrow was chosen for dedication to coincide with the beginning of National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

Besides erection of the new building, renovation of the original, 1927 structure is part of the expansion. This phase has been held up until completion of the addition.

Flath said the transfer of patients from the original building to the addition may be made by the end of the month, at which time construction crews will begin renovation of upper floors of the original building. Some work already has taken place on the ground and first floors.

When completed, the two buildings will have been tied together to function as one, Flath said.

The addition is physically complete now, with the exception of the ground floor kitchen. Several major departments — including administration, X-ray, emergency, pharmacy and central sterile supply — already are in operation there. The third floor pediatrics section should be occupied by some patients next week, Flath said.

The hospital will have a 370-bed facility when construction is finished, with 226 beds in the addition and 144 in the remodeled section.

Open house will be limited to the addition. The public will find the second, third, fourth and fifth floors have the same, double-corridor H-shape design.

The second floor eventually will be a 90-bed obstetrical ward, with 47 of the patients located in the addition. The recovery, labor and delivery rooms are in the addition, as well as bassinettes.

Pediatrics—for children under the age of 15—is on the third floor of the addition. Fifty-six beds will be located there, as well as a nursery, playroom and two humidity rooms. When renovated, the original building will hold a 52-bed gynecological department on the third floor.

The fourth floor of the addition will be part of a large medical patient section extending through the original building as well. Beds for 95 patients will be located throughout the floor, 61 of them in the new addition.

A similar, 95-bed setup for surgical patients is planned for the fifth floor. Fifty-seven beds will be in the addition.

The sixth floor of the addition towers above the five-story original building. The surgical suit is to be located there, including four major operating rooms, two minor and one for cystoscopic operations. In addition, there will be 11 anesthesia recovery beds.

The first floor contains the lobby, admissions office, information and telephone office, administrative offices, X-ray and emergency. The nursing office, doctors lounge and library, central medical records and physical therapy will occupy the first floor of the original building.

On the ground floor, or basement, of the addition are clinical and pathological laboratories, dining rooms, conference rooms, kitchen and cafeteria. On the older side will be more laboratories, practical nursing classrooms and storage for supplies.

The completed building will have seven elevators — two for the public and two for service in the addition, plus the existing three in the original building.

There will be four sets of stairways.

The addition and remodeling were designed by the late Leo J. Heenan. The general contractor was Darin & Armstrong Co., Detroit.

Other prime contractors were Sarin Electric Co., Detroit; Broedill Plumbing & heating, Detroit and Haughton Elevator Co., Toledo.

The prime contracts totaled $3,573,534.

NEW CANCER CLUE? — Dr. S. E. Luria, University of Illinois virus expert, proposes a new theory as to the origin of cancer: a cancer-causing virus becomes a gene, one of the factors of heredity. The "misinformation" bred right into the cell is perpetuated and cancer eventually results. Experiments at California Institute of Technology give tentative confirmation to the supposition.

Senator Backs Car Price Tags

Monroney Sees Early Approval of Measure OK'd in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) said today he knows of no Senate opposition to a bill that would require price tags on all new automobiles and station wagons.

He predicted early Senate passage of the measure, approved unanimously yesterday by the Senate Commerce Committee.

"This should be a fine thing for consumers, dealers and manufacturers," Monroney said. "It will take a great deal of secrecy and fictitious pricing out of the business."

The bill would require manufacturers and importers to label each new car with a suggested retail price, the price of each accessory, the dealer to whom the car was delivered, serial numbers and other data.

Failure to supply this information or to alter the labels could bring a fine of $1,000 plus a year in jail.

The auto price tag bill was first urged by consumer groups and later endorsed by both dealers and manufacturers.

The Day in Birmingham

Three Nominees Seeking Three Education Posts

BIRMINGHAM — Barring the filing of last minute nominating petitions, it appeared this morning that there would be no contests in the Birmingham School election on June 9. The deadline is 4 p.m. today.

Thus far, three candidates, two of them incumbents, have been entered in the race for three vacancies on the Board of Education.

Richard Sauerbrun is seeking his third term, while Mrs. Donald Parry is candidate for the remaining two years of the term of Mrs. Alec Parpie. Mrs. Parry was appointed to the post when her successor resigned.

Newcomer to the field, Richard P. Barnard of Franklin, is seeking the board vacancy created when President Wylie Groves declared himself out of the running.

Barnard, a patent attorney for the General Motors Corp., has been serving on the citizens' committee, working in cooperation with the board of education in expanding school programs. He also is chairman of the youth committee of the Franklin Men's Assn.

In Bloomfield Hills three candidates have filed petitions for the two vacancies created by the retirement of Robert Hoffman and Karl Scott.

In the race are Mrs. Lawrence S. Martz and Max Miller. Victor S. Farrah has said his petition will be filed before the deadline.

Miss Mary Spaulding of 364 Valley View Lane will entertain the Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham at her home Monday. Dessert will be served at 7 p.m.

Tuesday, the club will visit the Sister Kenny rehabilitation center in Ferndale for a dinner meeting and program.

Ralph H. Ellsworth

Service for Ralph H. Ellsworth, 64, of 3280 Bradway Blvd., Bloomfield Township, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

A former Ford dealer in Garden City, he is survived by his wife, Indiana; a son, Ralph H. Jr. and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Tomkinson, nine brothers and sisters, and two grandchildren.

Mrs. John T. Miller

Service for Mrs. John T. (Lou) Miller, 77, of 3914 W. Maple Rd., will be held at 2 p.m. Monday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Miller, who died Thursday in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital, was a member of the Watties family, early settlers in Troy.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Miller is survived by a son, Edgar S. Sells of Detroit; a sister, Miss Helen Wattles of Troy; two brothers, Morris A. of Troy, and Silas B. of Pontiac. A granddaughter and two great grandchildren also survive.

Pontiac Youth Awarded Honor

3 From Oakland Picked to Enter Air Force Academy in June

A Pontiac youth was one of three Oakland County candidates named to attend the United States Air Force Academy yesterday, according to Oakland County Rep. William S. Broomfield in Washington D. C.

He is Ralph E. Conlan, 19, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Conlan, of 130 Eileen Dr., and a cadet in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University of Detroit.

Also nominated for entry from the 18th Congressional District were James J. Young Jr., of Berkley, and Ralph P. Hammerton, of Royal Oak, said Broomfield.

Michael D. McElroy and Michael L. Terrey, both of Royal Oak, were appointed alternates on the basis of the competitive examinations conducted by the Air Force Academy.

"I am very pleased at the excellent showing Oakland County youths made in the competitive examinations," said Broomfield.

Only 14 principal candidates were appointed from the entire state of Michigan, he reported. Oakland County will enter more boys in the Academy for the graduating class of 1962 than any other Michigan district.

Principals still must pass a final physical examination before reporting to the Air Force Academy near Denver, Colo., in June.

Few Clouds Linger in Spots

Nation Basks in Sunshine

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sunshine warmed most of the nation today.

A few isolated storm clouds darkened the predominantly sky-blue scene, but generally the day was a fair and mild opener to another May weekend.

In Catlettsburg, Ky., where the flood-swollen Big Sandy and Ohio rivers forced some 300 familes from their homes, the respite from rain signaled the start of a city clean-up. Tons of mud and silt were left behind when the high water began receding after nightfall Friday.

The Ohio, already out of its lower banks, is expected to crest today at Cincinnati.

It was warm over much of the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, but cool Canadian air drifted into the upper Great Lakes region, dropping temperatures below yesterday's levels.

Cooler readings also prevailed in parts of the Pacific Northwest, due largely to scattered thunderstorms. Temperatures also took a dip in the Dakotas and New England.

Parts of Southern California and the Rockies got some rain and a showery belt stretched from Texas and Oklahoma eastward across the Gulf states to the Carolina coast. Scattered showers also were likely in parts of the Great Lakes region.

Finds Flaw With Law

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Someone pointed out to City Council a provision in the new city code prohibits street cars from making unnecessary noise. Houston hasn't had a street car in 10 years. No one could figure out how the item got into the code, adopted in March.

Nikita Wants to Buy Big Machines in U.S.

MOSCOW (INS)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev wants to buy industrial equipment from the United States in order to overtake the U. S. in industrial output.

He made the assertion in a speech made public today. The speech was delivered during the Soviet Communist Party's central committee meeting last Tuesday and Wednesday. Radio Moscow broadcast a report on it today.

Khruschchev said in the speech that the Soviet Union must give top priority to its heavy industry program if it is to overtake the United States in "the shortest historical period of time."

In order to achieve its plan, he said, the Soviet Union stands ready to order industrial equipment from the "capitalist" nations, including Britain, West Germany and the United States.

He declared:

"We will close the gap which separates us from the United States in the economic field without resorting to ballistic missiles or atom and hydrogen bombs. We will make Socialism triumph by developing our production and accumulating our resources.

"When we reach the American per capita level of production—and we will achieve this in the shortest historical period of time—we will leave the capitalist world far behind us. Our country will then win over the universe by giving its workers the highest living standard."

He said that "capitalism will fall like a dead branch from a tree while the forces of Communism will attain such a degree of power that nobody will dare attack them."

The Soviet premier declared:

"The maintenance of top priority for heavy industry, mechanization and automation are the dominant features of the U.S.S.R.'s next six year plan (1959-1965)."

He added: "If we give up this principle no progress is possible and we risk using up everything as fast as we produce it."

Khrushchev concluded his speech by quoting an old Chinese proverb: "If a whole people starts blowing, there will be a storm. If a people stamp their feet, the world will shake."

In a speech last night, Khrushchev served notice that the Soviet Union is beginning a "great offensive to develop the production of consumer goods."

Auto Salesmen Barred

NEW YORK (AP)—New York International Airport is now off limits to automobile salesmen. Twenty-five auto dealers in the area agreed today to bar auto salesmen from the field to end high-pressure sales to returning servicemen.

No-Help-Wanted Sign Posted at A-Test Islands

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Too bad, men, that South Seas paradise where pay is high, food and drinks cheap and women are barred is not for you—this year.

The No-help-wanted sign is up.

The enchanted isles are where the United States tests its nuclear devices. Their appeal—if you want to get away from the little woman—was told in an Associated Press story earlier this week.

"We've been swamped with phone calls, telegrams and letters since the news got out," said a spokesman for Holmes & Narver, Inc., a Los Angeles engineering firm hired by the Atomic Energy Commission to run the Eniwetok atoll proving ground.

"The only trouble," sighed the spokesman, "is that we don't have any job openings and won't have until next year. We have to say no to all the callers."

Especially intriguing about the island life: $1.50 a day living expenses, 25-cent drinks and $10,000 net salaries a year.

The spokesman said the firm has received more than 125 letters from as far away as Florida, 75 long distance calls and 15 telegrams.

414 Ships Pass Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A total of 414 vessels passed through the Soo Locks in April, Army engineers said Thursday. Of the total, 232 were upbound and 182 were downbound. The vessels carried 1,230,215 tons of goods.

SATURDAY, MAY 10, 1958

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . . .

Democratic Chairman Butler Toys With Game of Politics

His Number One Job is to elect a Democrat President. There are many other political offices he covets and many of them are of primary importance, but he always keeps "First Things First."

The Presidency is paramount. That's the plum.

Hence, anything that Mr. Butler can do legitimately to weaken the opposition comes under the heading of "business as usual."

The Democratic nominee is a long, long way from being determined. Many eager faces reflect intense enthusiasm and a burning desire to have the magic finger point at them. But this may not be settled for a long time.

However, the most formidable opponent that this unnamed Democrat will face, stands out rather sharply. He may fade away under the terrific pressures that will build up, but as of May 10th, Vice President RICHARD NIXON is the fair haired boy. Just by virtue of his position as Vice President, he has a running start.

Hence, anything Mr. Butler can do to discount Mr. Nixon is just about the number one bit of business on his far-flung agenda. There is one circumstance that could add enormously to Mr. Nixon's current stature and strength.

That's to become President. Then he'd run as an incumbent.

This is the possibility that Mr. BUTLER fears the most. It would constitute one of the most crushing blows that he and his party could sustain between now and election day. Hence, he must circumvent it by every artifice at his command.

Probably the most certain way of guarding against the contingency, lies in suggesting that President EISENHOWER isn't well enough to continue in office. The natural reaction to this is for EISENHOWER to insist that he is well enough and that he intends to remain on the job.

THAT'S EXACTLY WHAT BUTLER WANTS.

He is twice as afraid of Richard Nixon in the White House as he is of Richard Nixon as Vice President. The Presidency is the whipped cream on the dessert.

The more Butler can get the entire GOP aggregation to keep Nixon out of the White House, the better off his own party is. He wants to arouse sufficient indignation in the breast of Dwight D. Eisenhower so he'll fight to show the world he's all right.

It seems to me that BUTLER is merely angling to get EISENHOWER entrenched as firmly as possible in the Grand Mansion at the head of Pennsylvania Avenue. The louder the denials of IKE'S departure the better the master Democratic strategist is pleased.

Politics makes strange bedfellows according to the ancient dictum, but it also provides many intriguing side angles in the great battle of the ballots.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter: The Bloomfield Hills Country Club was amazed and mightily pleased at a pair of wild geese that dropped in . . . . . WILLIAM B. HARTMAN reports a Whistling Swan on Watkins Lake. And just in passing who knows a more comely lass than BILL'S better seven-eighths? . . . . . Overheard at the City Club: "The guy's gone highbrow. He found something more interesting than women" . . . . . ELIZABETH ALLEN, the leading lady of "Romanoff and Juliet," long running Broadway success, came out of a Pontiac Motor Division show.

You can buy a Spaire now. It's a small can that inflates an automobile tire right on the road. The manufacturers claim other startling uses. . . . . Arthur Murray's teachers named the ten most eligible bachelors in America and J. Edgar Hoover and Adlai Stevenson ran one-two . . . . . The University of Michigan ranks fourth in the nation in male graduates listed in Who's Who. Harvard, Yale and Princeton are ahead in that order. Other Big Ten schools show Illinois, fifth; Wisconsin, 12th; Ohio State, 19th; Northwestern, 20th and Iowa, 23rd.

Someone told me that the sales of vodka have been increasing rapidly in the U.S. If we can't meet the Russians across the conference table, maybe we can meet them under it . . . . . I have yet to hear a man speak in a complimentary way of the new feminine sack fashion . . . . . The Board of Supervisors returned DELOS HAMLIN and H. MORRIS THATCHER as chairman and vice chairman. They're both exceptionally capable and public spirited.

Jerry Lucas, Ohio school boy, is the most sought after prep athlete in the U. S. More than 160 scholarships have been offered him. He stands six feet ten, is the nation's best high school basketball player and his marks are straight "A's." Department of Cheers and Jeers: The Cheers: The Pontiac police investigation which went to the bottom of things and turned in a detailed report; the J's: Joe Bishop on the Polly Bergen show who was the most "unfunny" comedian of 1958; and I give you Cyrus S. Eaton as an added bonus.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

THOUGH employment in some areas has fallen off, there are 15 million more jobs than in 1939 — and there will be 22 million more in 1975 than today. There's a new wave of opportunity coming and smart people are getting ready for it.

U. S. PRODUCTION doubles every 20 years. We will require millions more people to make, sell and distribute our products. There's a new wave of opportunity coming and smart people are getting ready for it.

WE NEED $500 billion worth of schools, highways, homes, durable equipment. Meeting these needs will create new opportunities for everyone. There's a new wave of opportunity coming and smart people are getting ready for it.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

LOURDES, FRANCE — This is a brancardier, an attendant of the sick. His name is Marc Bally, an engineer from Rhone. He is one of the many men and women who, at their own expense, spend part of each year in selfless service at this world famous shrine. They meet the ambulance trains, transport and bathe the sick. Their active faith unites in prayer with the passive faith of the suppliants.

"I have seen four miracles during my 20 years here," says Monsieur Bally. Now 78, he still finds his annual two-month period of service a refreshing and rewarding experience. "At home," he confides with a sparkle in his eye, "I am always tired. Here I am carefree and young."

Days of All Faiths

Rogation Sunday Being Revived

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Since the middle of the fifth century this Sunday after Easter has been devoted to special prayers for farmers and their newly planted crops. It has been called Rogation Sunday, from the Latin word rogare, which means to pray. One would think that would decribe every Sunday.

The observance of Rogation Sunday dropped out of the Protestant calendar for several centuries, but it is now being revived under the name of Rural Life Sunday. The modern emphasis, however, is not so much on the crops and the farmers as on the spiritual values involved in the agricultural life. The soil belongs to God; the growing process is the creative work of God. The farmer himself is God's agent, or steward.

Nowhere is this truth about all men's relationship to God more clearly seen than in the life of the farmer, who lives and works with the simplest elements of creation.

The main theme of today's sermons and services will be man's responsibility as a steward of God's earth, rather than petitions asking God to do it all.

ASCENSION DAY

Rain on this day, even a little foretells scarcity and sickness, but if the weather is fair everything will be fine and prosperous at least until Michaelmas (Sept. 29).

Melons planted today will thrive.

Herbs gathered today will have extra medicinal power.

Place an egg laid today on the roof of your house and you will be protected from such dangers as fire and lightning.

Put rowan branches over your door today to keep out witches.

Better not work today — there is special danger of accident.

APOSTLES OBSERVED IT

Ascension Day is the commemoration of Christ's departure into the clouds, as recorded in Acts, 1:9. It happened on the fortieth day after Easter and is still observed on that day. Tradition indicates that Ascension Day is one of the very oldest of all Christian feasts. It is said to have been celebrated each year by the Apostles. A Christian festival could hardly be older than that.

Americans do not make much of Ascension Day, but in Europe until quite recently it was a very big occasion. And in the Middle Age it ranked right along with the major days in the Christian calendar. The dramatic possibilities of the day appealed to the simple people of those times and gave them a chance to express themselves. One widespread custom was to raise a statue of the Lord from the altar through a hole in the roof and, symbolically, on into the sky. This went on during Mass.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Old Sulphur and Molasses Ain't What It Used to Be

"We were raised on plain food, fresh air, hard work and sulphur and molasses in the spring . . ." (Mrs. E. H.).

"Please send your pamphlet on Acne — Blackheads and Pimples and give me a recipe for Sulphur and Molasses Spring Tonic." (I. R.)

Ans.—Spring is here at last. The Acne pamphlet is available to any one who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope. Sulphur and Molasses just ain't what it used to be. The surphur hasn't changed, but where can you find real molasses today?

"I was terrible self-conscious. Uncomfortable around people, the less I knew them the worse. Had a hard time getting acquainted when we moved as my husband's work made necessary. Often crossed the street to avoid meeting people I knew only slightly. Weak in the knees when I went to church and couldn't answer a question in Sunday School without quavering. Began taking Quinine and B-1. The effect in two weeks was incredible. I'll always be grateful to you." (Mrs. A. H. N.)

Ans.—Thank you. The pamphlet Stage Fright and Examination Jitters is free, if you supply stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Argument—A says pain in the lower right side of abdomen is the first symptom of appendicitis. B insists that when he had it the pain was in the pit of his stomach." (H. F.)

Ans.—When I had it the discomfort or distress rather than actual pain was in the hypogastrium or "pit of the stomach." (B wins.)

"Have you a pamphlet titled How to Lose Weight? I could stand some help—my biggest problem is sweets. I just can't be without them." (Mrs. R. D. S.)

Ans.—Yes. For a copy send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

An optimal daily ration of vitamin B-complex (that is, two or three times as much as nutrition authorities say everybody requires) may moderate the craving. Whether you consult a physician or not, you should have a test of urine for sugar twice a year.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Ministers to Be Livewires

A trained public speaker should never rate lower than "Good," and he should then rise to "Better" or "Best." Clergymen who read their manuscripts or break eye-to-eye contact with their audience every few seconds are rank amateurs. So quit leaning on forensic crutches (notes). Become a livewire in the pulpit. The booklet below will show you the surefire formula.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y-306: Norman N., aged 35, is a scholarly clergyman, but the kind that cannot hold his audience.

For he kept dropping his eyes to his notes and reading sections of his sermon.

DR. CRANE

That's the sign of an amateur on the public platform. A new pastor in his first year, might be excused for such indirectness.

But no man after even one year as a public speaker should ever break his eye-to-eye contact with his audience except for an occasional moment to look at his notes.

And a speaker's notes should not be voluminous nor of the full sentence variety. A dozen "key" words are all that any real orator needs.

Norman started out properly by telling a story concerning an incident that occurred in a previous parish.

But he couldn't even narrate the tale. Instead, he read part of it and dropped his eyes literally a dozen times to finish that simple two minute episode.

I'm not exaggerating, for he grew so boring I decided to time his motions. At intervals of every 2 to 11 seconds, he would drop his gaze to his notes and read them.

Notice this typical "up-down" behavior which I timed with my watch, and the following pattern persisted for 30 minutes:

Viewing notes	Viewing audience
5 seconds	- - - - - -
- - - - - -	4 seconds
3 seconds	- - - - - -
- - - - - -	2 seconds
6 seconds	- - - - - -
- - - - - -	5 seconds
11 seconds	- - - - - -
- - - - - -	4 seconds

Can you imagine Christ or St. Paul having to spend more time looking down at notes than facing their eager listeners.

SALES TRAINING

Clergymen like Norman certainly should have had an internship of a few months at door-to-door selling. For a salesman soon realizes he MUST keep his eyes glued on his prospects constantly. Otherwise, while he is looking down at his notes, the housewife may shut the door in his face.

Something is sadly wrong with the homiletics departments of our theological seminaries when they graduate men who cannot keep their eyes on the audience for 30 seconds without weakly leaning on the "crutch" of notes.

And clergymen who read their manuscripts or even long passages therefrom, are as out of step with modern platform psychology as the dodo bird.

But the "current" must be turned on to get full effect. Whenever a speaker drops his eyes, he figuratively turns off the current.

And any clergyman who is full of his subject shouldn't need more than a dozen three-second glances at his notes for a 30-minute address.

"I'm being very strong in my indictment today for anybody who makes his living as a public speaker should certainly know how to SPEAK.

An indirect speaker who can't look his audience in the eyes almost steadily, is definitely not filling the pulpit.

Get off your forensic crutches (notes) and stand on your own feet. And for a quick summary of "Public Platform Strategy," send for that booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Even if you left the seminary as a poor speaker, you can become a good one in short order by following the tested formulae in that booklet.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 30c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Appreciation for Hospital Comes From Getting Facts'

True facts make you appreciate Pontiac General Hospital. I've read and heard a lot of idle chatter about it, but not until fate turned a long Easter vacation in Florida into a pain-filled six weeks there did I get the facts.

If you get the facts you'll agree we have as modern and progressive a hospital as any in the world, staffed by exceptional personnel noticeably dedicated to relieving pain and suffering, regardless of race, creed or color. I'm alive today because of recent discoveries of wonder drugs and dedication and skill of three very great surgeons and kindness and staunch devotion of many, many wonderful people I would like to call by name but for their desire that credit go to everyone who makes Pontiac General such a great humane institution.

So during Hospital Week get the true facts on Pontiac General and you will be very proud of our hospital and forever grateful to all its personnel, especially that group known and rightfully so, as "Angels of Mercy."

Several Discuss Doctor Problem

Maybe there is a lot in what that young mother says, but when I consider what a doctor did for my husband two years ago, I can forgive and forget everything.

Very Thankful

Can you blame the doctors for the great shortage? Isn't it the fault of the medical colleges?

Sis

Maybe some people do, but I've never waited more than 10 minutes for my doctor and he'll make house calls to boot.

Of course, he isn't one of the fancy "specialists" that charge 10 prices because the word "pediatrician" is on the door, and he won't raise your social rating when you discuss him at bridge. But he's a fine doctor and has more interest in his patients than how many dollars he can squeeze out of them.

You can wait and wait while your specialist tries to collect fees from too many patients, and you can worry yourself sick because he can't be bothered to come to your house when you need him most, but I prefer to do it my doctor's way.

Old Fashioned, I Guess.

Two Comment on Contract Terms

I read the letter sent by Mr Curtice to the employes of GMC. Extension of the present contract is o.k. with me, but why not for five years? Long term contracts really build confidence.

UAW Member

O. K. Let's give the CIO their 71 cents an hour increase and let's advance all the prices $300 to cover it as Henry Ford says will be necessary. This will shut up the entire automotive industry and shortly afterward the United States of America. Then we can all go fishing and thank the union for an eight months vacation. My family and I can live until January first without wages, relief or charity.

YWCA Personnel Request Coverage

We, here at the YWCA, are very interested in The Pontiac Press covering the Billy Graham crusade in San Francisco daily. We're sure it is of public interest and is the type of article that is beneficial to the community.

Reba Ross Netzler, Executive Director

I'm very interested in your paper covering the Billy Graham crusade in San Francisco. I would appreciate this very much, as I think it would be very beneficial to our community at this time.

Mrs. Fred Stimpert, YWCA President

'Have Only Praise for City Firemen'

We have nothing but praise for the Pontiac Fire Department. My husband had a heart attack and within five minutes after I called the department men were at the house administering oxygen. They rushed him to the hospital, alerting an emergency doctor and nurse so they were ready for treatment when we arrived. The Sheriff's patrol also helped by keeping streets open for a safe journey. Our doctor said if it hadn't been for help of these men, my husband wouldn't have survived.

'Strength, Not Weakness, Wins'

Somebody was complaining about the weak Tiger squad. Well, we aren't trying to win the pennant with the weak part but with the strong part and the strong part's pretty good. Take Keunn, Kaline, Maxwell, Bolling, Martin, Hegan, Bertoia, Foytak, Bunning and Lary. They're good boys and they're the ones that will play regularly. The Tigers will end up in second place.

Mother's Day Observance Traced to Ancient Rite

Another mother who will be honored on this important occasion will be Mrs. Thomas F. Wiethorn of Birmingham who was photographed with her daughter, Elisa who is just 10 months old, and two proud sons, Tommy left) and Larry.

Twins Steven and Catherine Ann give their mother, Mrs. Charles W. Buck of Oxford road, an affectionate hug for her special day. And perhaps the tots will blend their small voices in singing a special song to honor mother, a former Pontiac Central High School vocal music instructor.

Phyllis Duke Becomes Bride of Gregory Walker

MRS. GREGORY T. WALKER

Flowers in a spring theme banked the altar of St. Michael Catholic Church for the 10 a.m. wedding today of Phyllis Marie Duke and Gregory T. Walker. The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly performed the Nuptial High Mass before 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Duke of Glenwood avenue are parents of the bride and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker of Melbourne, Australia.

IN SATIN AND TULLE

The bride was gowned in a bouffant dress of embroidered nylon tulle over parchment satin, in princess silhouette. The bodice was traced in satin and featured voluminous sleeves and a classic neckline.

Her elbow-length veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by an ivory satin crown outlined with pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and gardenias with English ivy.

Mrs. Donald Lumsden served as the bride's only attendant. She was in a gown of daffodil yellow nylon organza with a satin cummerbund and wore a satin pillbox headpiece. She carried an arrangement of English daisies.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Best man was Douglas LaDouceur of Royal Oak. Donald Lumsden and John M. Duke seated the guests.

The couple will motor to San Francisco where they will sail to Sydney, Australia. En route they will visit Hawaii, the Fiji Islands and New Zealand. They will live in Melbourne. For traveling the bride chose an orange silk print ensemble with beige linen coat and matching accessories.

The new Mrs. Walker was graduated from Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit and the bridegroom is a graduate of Royal Melbourne College of Technology and General Motors Institute.

Berean Class Fetes Couple on 25th Year

Mr. and Mrs. Omar MacNutt were honored at a 25th wedding anniversary party given Friday evening by Berean Class of United Presbyterian Church. Setting for the event was the Savoy drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhart Barnhart.

Tanner group had charge of refreshments. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin were guests for the occasion.

Participating in a skit were Mr. and Mrs. William Coffing, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Levely, Mr. and Mrs. Lexie Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart, Mrs. Grace Wait and Mrs. Stanton Levely.

Pontiac Press Photos

Mrs. Judson St. John of Birmingham knows that a bright baby smile may be about all her 4-month-old son, Burke, can offer right now for Mother's Day. But, she, and mothers everywhere, will agree that observing this sign of security and contentment in their youngsters is an unsurpassable delight.

Slate Tea at Hospital

The Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Auxiliary will sponsor a Florence Nightingale Tea Monday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the hospital honoring the nurses and staff.

Mrs. Mark Todd and Mrs. Robert Shorey are co-chairmen for the event. Mrs. Verna Sellers, superintendent of nurses, and Mrs. M.C. Worster, president of the Auxiliary, will preside at the tea table.

Officers Installed by McConnell PTA

Mrs. Gerald Stoner installed officers for McConnell PTA Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Walter Crocker gave reports on the state PTA convention.

A group of fifth and sixth graders sang folk songs, directed by Olive Hurst. Mrs. Vernon Macon was social chairman assisted by Mrs. Robert Bowden. Mrs. Stoner and Mrs. William Nichols poured.

Camp Fire Girls at Fair in Flint

E-Ha-Wee Camp Fire group of Hawthorne School, led by Mrs. Daniel McGeen; Tekakwitha Camp Fire Group of St. Frederick's School, led by Mrs. Timothy Daily, and Tanda Camp Fire group of Will Rogers School, led by Mrs. Adolph Haselhuhn, traveled to Flint Friday to see the national science fair.

U.S. First Honored Mom in 1907

The custom of holding a festival in honor of motherhood, which will be observed tomorrow, is an ancient one. It dates back in the Western world to times of the Greeks who worshipped Cybéle, the mother of the gods, and honored her with rites in woods and caves.

The custom was introduced into Rome from Greece about 250 B.C., and on the Ides of March the festival of Hilaria in honor of Cybele was begun and continued for three days.

But these celebrations were entirely different from that in honor of human mothers on the second Sunday in May.

In May, 1907, under the inspiration of Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia who thought that at least once a year sons and daughters should pay a tribute to their mothers, Mother's Day observances became a national day.

In May 1913 the House of Representatives adopted a resolution calling upon the President, his cabinet, the senators, representatives and all officials of the federal government to wear a white carnation on the second Sunday of May in observance of the day.

And so tomorrow, once again we will join to honor our mothers—on this one day of the year which is truly hers alone.

Pledges Clean Up at Camp

ANN ARBOR—After today, fraternity and sorority pledges at the University of Michigan should have cleaner faces and hands. This week the pledges have spent spare hours at University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp near Pinckney painting and cleaning in preparation of the camp's opening.

Each year the camp provides several months of recreation for some 250 underprivileged and emotionally handicapped boys from Michigan.

The students throw themselves into this volunteer work heartily and at the end of a few hours at the fresh air camp, many are nearly unrecognizable because they are covered with paint and grime. Operation clean-up is quickly completed with the aid of the pledges, and at the same time, the students have a good time working together.

Undergraduate and graduate students at U. of M. serve as counselors and receive credit in sociology, social work, education and psychology.

In the sorority pledge clean-up crew from Pontiac are Sharon Ellen Boyce of Starr avenue, Peggy Ann Fagen of West Huron street, Frances Martha Garrison of Covert road, Judy Ann Huntwork of Illinois avenue, Karen Nancy Purnell of North Berkshire drive and Joanna Sherman of East boulevard.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wood of Birmingham and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alfred Glasby of Saginaw and the late Mr. Glasby.

Make Slow Start

Condition Feet, Legs for Summer

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Vacations often demand much more walking than we are accustomed to. Whether due to sight seeing or hiking we are apt to be on our feet a lot of the time. With this in mind we would be wise to get our feet in condition.

Many people have weak arches but do not realize it. Their feet feel tired and they feel fatigued for no apparent reason. Their legs may ache in the calf or the thigh but they do not connect these symptoms with foot weakness. As a matter of fact these evidences of trouble may not appear until they are on their feet for unusual lengths of time.

The woman who wears high heels habitually may experience real discomfort when she suddenly switches to low heels during her vacation. If you are planning on much outdoor life or sight seeing, begin now to stretch those back leg muscles and wear low heels for a few hours each day between now and the time of your trip.

This is a good exercise: Sit on the floor; legs straight. Bend your toes back toward your body. Hold for a few moments. Relax and repeat.

You will feel the pull on the back leg muscles. Start by doing this only a few times a day so that your muscles will not become too sore. Gradually increase until you are doing the exercise about 30 times daily.

The habit of walking about barefooted is also helpful.

1. Exercise the arches daily.
2. Wear stockings which are one inch longer than the longest toe.
3. Rest periodically with the feet higher than the head.
4. Do not switch to low heels too suddenly. Wear medium heels first.

The following are two arch exercises you might want to indulge in for a few weeks before you start on that wonderful vacation.

POINT TOES

Another: Sit on the floor with your legs straight. Place your hands on the floor behind you and lean on them. Point your toes as hard as you can, bending them toward the floor. Hold for a few seconds. Relax. Continue. Do this about 30 times a day.

Dear Abby....

Bullfighting Is Slaughter —No Job for Glamor Gal

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: When that young girl wrote you and asked if she should become a lady bullfighter I am glad you discouraged her. Doesn't this girl know that while bullfighters appear to be brave and glamorous in their costumes, they are cowards fighting animals who have been tortured until they are mad and vicious? There is no real "sport" involved.

ABBY

"There are many careers that offer glamor, excitement and adventure without the cruelty of torturing animals for the amusement on on-lookers. If you share my viewpoint, I hope to see this in print."

B. F S.

DEAR B. F. S.: By American standards, bullfighting is considered inhumane, and is not permitted here. Of course I share your viewpoint, and I'm sure we have plenty of company.

"DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a man for three years. We aren't kids as I'm 46 and he's 50. He is the type who thinks everything over a long time and he doesn't like to be rushed. He told me he will marry me when the weather clears up. My friends tell me he is wasting my time. I am not getting any younger. How can I close this deal?"

ANXIOUS

DEAR ANXIOUS: Don't stand on ceremonies. Tell him you have marriage in mind and ask him what's on his?

"DEAR ABBY: We share a party line with the most inconsiderate people anyone could imagine. They interrupt our conversations with wisecracks and once the missus broke in on me saying they had to have the line for an "emergency" call and then she called up her grocer.

"Another time they left the phone off the hook and we could hear the whole "Playhouse 90" program which took an hour and a half. Do you think if we complained to the telephone company they would do anything about it? My friends say they don't."

IMPOSED UPON

DEAR IMPOSED: Your friends are misinformed. Notify the telephone company.

"DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: The "vet" who told you that people do not get diseases from dogs, but dogs get diseases from people had better go back to school. Dogs are reservoirs of: leptospira canicola, leptospira icterohemmorhaigiae, leishmania donomani, echinococcus granulosum, microsporum canis (lanosum), ctenocephalides canis and dipylidium caninum, all of which can be transmitted from dog to man. Very truly yours."

"DEAR ABBY: I want to know if it is proper for a girl to ask a fellow where he intends to take her when he calls her up and asks for a date. I feel embarressed to ask and then I start worrying about what to wear. I usually guess wrong and dress too dressy or too casual for the place we go. Thank you." AVERAGE GIRL

DEAR AVERAGE: When a fellow calls a girl for a date he should TELL her where he intends to take her. If he doesn't tell her — she should ask him.

B Bar B's in Town

By MARGARET BROWN

A bit of the Old West — in the form of the B Bar B Western Supply Store — has come to Rochester, Michigan.

All day Friday and today grand opening festivities have kept the unique store, which handles everything from western fashions to horse equipment, buzzing with activity. The Charles C. Beckers of Rochester are owners of the store which formerly was located in Romeo.

Capturing interest in milady's visit to the store are the informal fashion shows conducted every few hours. Models from 4 to 40 show colorful two-piece dresses, some featuring three-tier, handpleated skirts with eyelet embroidery trim accented by an oval neckline blouse with three-quarter length sleeves. Mrs. Becker commented that the best feature of these outfits is their hand washability.

Metallic printed cotton dresses with full, sweeping skirts in a rainbow of colors are being displayed for day wear. For the more sophisticated there are dazzling metallic and cotton braid creations with neck and sleeve treatment designed for evening wear.

Other western attire for young and old and matching mom and dad outfits also are featured at the store.

Commenting for the fashion show is Treesa Way, of Mt. Clemens. Mrs. Mary Hulett of Armada has been playing guitar solos for the event, and at the conclusion of each fashion showing is a square dance.

Bagley PTA Holds Meet

Reports were read from PTA President Mrs. Herbert Mullen and Mrs. James Overton on the meeting of the Michigan Congress of Parent-Teacher Assn. The Rev. Charles Johnson reported on the recent PTA workshop held in Lansing.

John Purdue, principal, paid tribute to Mrs. Marguerite Burns, who is leaving the teaching staff of Bagley after 27 years. Officers were installed by Mrs. John Woodward.

Three Give Reports

Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Inez Thoe and Mrs. Harold Person gave reports on The Illinois Conference convention when St. John Women's Missionary Society met Thursday. Mrs. Thoe and Mrs. Herman Holmquist were guests. Hostesses were Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Person.

Visit Lake St. James After Marriage Here

MRS. RICHARD MESTACH

On a trip to Lake St. James, Ind., after their Friday evening wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Mestach. Parents of the bride, who was the former Viola White, are Mr. and Mrs. Steven C. White of Cass-Elizabeth Lake road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Hazel Mestach of Highland Park and the late Mr. Mestach.

The bride wore an embroidered organdy ballerina-length gown featuring a scalloped neckline and sleeves. A pearl and sequin crown held an elbow-length silk illusion veil. The bride carried a cascade of white roses with pink rosebuds centered with a pink camellia corsage.

Orchard Lake Slates Baptism

Cherub Choir Recital Friday Evening Under Direction of Mrs. David

The baptism of children will be part of the Mothers Day service at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, with the pastor, the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, preaching on "A Mother's Wages," at both services.

The Chancel Choir will sing "I Walk With God" at 9 a.m. The Cherub and Crusader Choirs will provide the music at 11 a.m.

The Vacation Church School staff will attend the Detroit Church School Assn. meeting Monday in Detroit. Mrs. Roy Remmel will be director at Orchard Lake Church.

Elders John Ashby and Walter Johnson will attend the meeting of Detroit Presbytery Tuesday at the Garden City Church. On Thursday the women will meet at the church to sew for national mission institutions in Tennessee and Arizona.

The annual recital of the Cherub Choir will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday under the direction of Mrs. W. J. David with Mrs. Hazel Drake at the organ. This choir consists of children four, five and six years of age.

At the dinner, fathers of the parish will be host to their sons and the Boy Scout Troop which is sponsored by the Men's Club. All men in the parish have been invited.

Confident Living

Medical Student Gives Self as Lab Specimen

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

"The principal thing in this world is to keep one's soul aloft," wrote Gustave Flaubert, the great French novelist. Those words are among the most stirring I have ever read and I thought of them recently when I read about Rick Fox in a Houston, Texas, newspaper.

DR. PEALE

Rick Fox came from Colorado. He had been top student in high school and then excelled in both scholarship and sports at college. All his life he had wanted to be a doctor; so he went on from college to the Baylor University School of Medicine in Texas.

In his first year there he was top man in his class. He had an enthusiasm for medicine that inspired his professors as well as the other students. Then, in his second year, this boy developed a pain in his stomach. He went into the hospital.

One day his doctor came and sat down by his bed. "Rick," he said, "I've got to give to to you straight. You have a terminal cancer, son, and you can't live."

The boy looked up and asked, "Doctor, let me have thirty minutes alone with God." The dotcor and nurses went out and left him. When he called them back, his face was shining, and this is what he said:

"Now, what I want to do is to stay in the hospital and have you use me as a laboratory specimen. I will keep memos of my reactions so that my illness will help you fight this disease and cure others of it in the future."

His classmates would come in day by day to see Rick. He would always tell them, "Be a good doctor." When, finally, Rick was told he had only two or three more days to live, he said he wanted to go home to Colorado to see his family and friends and the mountains once again.

So they took him in an ambulance to the airport and the students from Baylor Medical School lined up to say goodbye to him. The attendant wheeled him down the line in a wheelchair. He shook hands with each one and called him by name. Then, before he was wheeled up the ramp into the plane, he turned around, smiled and said, "Remember, be good doctors."

Two days later, Rick Fox was dead. But only his body died. For, as long as they practice medicine through the years, sixty men and women will remember the indomitable spirit of a boy who kept his soul aloft in the face of death.

In you is something very great. It is your soul. Only sin can kill it. Nothing else can. Our great job in life is "to keep the soul aloft."

Newman AME Presenting All State Affair

The annual all states convention, presented by the Newman A.M.E. Church, is being held today at Bethune Elementary School on Lake Street.

Music will be furnished by the Young Adult Choir and Arbellia Burney, soloist, accompanied by Fanny Richard at the piano.

A trophy will be awarded to the best decorated table, and the outstanding mother of the year.

The Pastor's Aid Board of the Newman A.M.E. Church is sponsoring the Young Adult Choir in a spring concert, Sunday, at 5 p.m. in the church auditorium.

Mrs. Blanche Joki Sunday Speaker

Mrs. Blanche Joki of Algonac will be the speaker for the Mother's Day service at the Unity Church of Oakland County. Her subject will be "The Glory of Motherhood."

The service will be held at 11 a.m. in the church rooms at 71½ N. Saginaw St.

On Tuesday at 8 p.m., a class in "Lessons in Truth" will be held. This is a study of the fundamentals of Unity.

All Mothers to Be Honored

'James, John, Old Age, Youth,' Sermon Subject Sunday Evening

Mothers will be honored at the 10 a.m. worship service in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church Sunday. The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, pastor, will preach on "The Mother's Place in God's Plan."

In the opening assembly of Sunday School at 11:20 a.m., the children of the beginners' department will sing several songs before the adult classes.

"James and John, Old Age and Youth" will be the pastor's message at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The musical program will include a solo, "Bless This House" by Judy Cooper; and a selection by the Women's Trio comprised of Norma Greene, Nancy Tanner and Jane Hubbell.

Also singing will be the Builders' Octet composed of Marilyn Bell, Paula Webster, JoAnn Messer, Kim Nixon, Don Cox, Gary Bowes, Mel Williams and Charles Stevens.

Churches Urged to Open Facilities to All Races

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—New lines of communication between Negro and white citizens in the United States must be established, the women of Methodist Church urged today.

In a summary report closing their national convention, the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church said the new lines of communication are needed to resolve tensions and create a community of mutual understanding and basic equality.

The society called on churches to make all facilities of the community available to all people without any segregation.

"This includes hotels, restaurants, playgrounds, transportation, housing, schools and other public facilities," the report said.

The society said social drinking has become one of the great problems of the nation. It called for total abstinence, and support at the polls of bills controling the sale of alcohol.

A total of $7,970,143 was pledged for the society's missionary and other work in 32 countries next year.

Youth Fellowship 'Singspiration' Sunday Evening

Mothers Stress Family Unity in Church, Home

Mothers throughout the nation will be honored in homes and churches on Mother's Day tomorrow.

Sponsored by the United Church Women, mothers are stressing the importance of National Family Week which began last Sunday and ends Sunday. Family Week is to remind people of the constant need of cooperation between church and home.

A few of the many services paying tribute to mothers in song and sermon are listed:

United Church men of Pontiac area will hear Mrs. Charles Dengler of Jackson at the noon luncheon Monday in All Saints Episcopal Church.

Her address will concern public housing and what churches and individuals can do to better the community.

CHURCH OF GOD

Mrs. Mary Wood will speak on "Christian Motherhood, the Hope of the World" at the 3:30 program tomorrow afternoon.

The sermon "The World's Need" will be by the Rev. Cecil Brown, assistant pastor. The program will consist of songs and readings by children of the Sunday School. Mrs. Ethel Rhodes will sing a solo and Mrs. Mary Ramsey will give a reading.

Sponsored by the Senior Missionary Group, the program will be under the supervision of Mrs. Irene Christmon and Mrs. Delores Hardiman assisted by Nancy Milton.

Mother's Day will also be observed at the morning service at 11:30 and Sunday Schol at 10 according to the pastor, the Rev. M. J. Watkins.

MACEDONIA BAPTIST

The Nurses Guild of Macedonia Baptist Church has scheduled the annual Mother's Day Breakfast for 7 a.m. Sunday at Macedonia Center, 420 Bloomfield Ave. with Mrs. Ella L. Patten Dabney of Pesacola, Fla., the speaker.

A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, Mrs. Dabney attended Wayne University and Lewis Business College. She is the teacher of the night class of the Nurses Guild.

CENTRAL METHODIST

Dr. Milton H. Bank will preach on "Godly Mothers and God-fearing Children" at the 8:45 and 10:45 morning services Sunday. The sacrament of baptism will be observed at the latter service.

ST. ANDREW'S EPISCOPAL

Mother's Day will be observed Sunday with prayers at all services and Holy Baptism at the 9:30 hour.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

Mothers will be recognized tomorrow on Mother's Day and babies will be dedicated by the pastor, the Rev. D. D. McColl. The congregation has been observing Family Week from May 4-11 with the thought that parents and children should face problems, share life and build together.

Family Week Services Close

Dr. Chapman to Lead Discussion at Junior High Youth Fellowship

Family week services and activities will be concluded Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church with the pastor speaking on "Home, Sweet Home" at both the 9 and 11 a.m. worship hours.

The Aden Thornton family will assist the pastor, Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, at the early service by reading the Scripture and giving the offertory prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wolfe will sing a duet with their daughter, Sharon, at the organ.

At the 11 o'clock service when children will be dedicated, Janet Kneale will be youth assistant to the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sickels and family will give the Scripture lesson in choral reading form. Mrs. George Zannoth and daughter, Sherry, will sing a duet called "Mother Love" and the choir will present Malotte's "Lord's Prayer."

Dr. Chapman will teach the membership class for adults at 10 a.m. and for youth at 6 p.m.

Sunday evening the Junior High Baptist Youth Fellowship will begin a series of "Firesides" with Dr. Chapman leading the discussion. The class will continue through June 1.

The radio broadcast, "Religion in the News" given each Sunday at 8 a.m. will be heard at 6:15 p.m. each Sunday following the news broadcast beginning tomorrow.

The annual vacation church school will be held the latter part of June with Mrs. B. L. Gillette in charge.

Baptist Fellowship to Hear Dr. Savage

Dr. H. H. Savage will speak of his experiences in the ministry when the Pontiac Baptist Ministers' Fellowship meets at 8 a.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church. Dr. Savage has been pastor of First Baptist for 34 years.

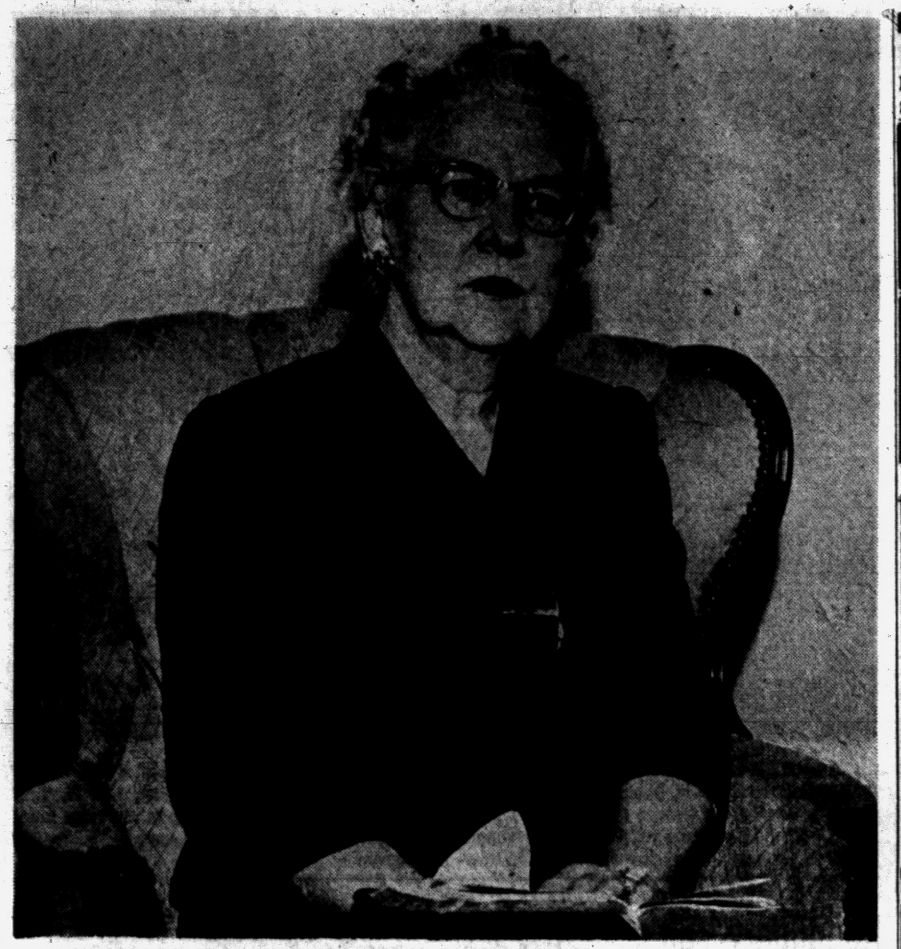

The fellowship was organized in January to bring Baptist ministers of several conferences and conventions within the Pontiac area together for mutual sharing and understanding.

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman of Bethany Baptist Church is president and Dr. Richard H. Dixon Jr. of Trinity Baptist Church, vice president.

University Missionary to Speak at Sunnyvale

A member of International Students, Inc., Mrs. Dorothy Farrier will be guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Sunny Vale Chapel in Waterford Township.

Mrs. Farrier gave up her position as the head of a large organization in California, to work in religious missionary projects. She has been working with foreign students now enrolled in universities throughout the United States.

MOTHER'S DAY — On Mother's Day Mrs. Arthur G. Nicholie of 71 E. Iroquois Rd. will read from her Bible as she does daily and pray for her family, friends, the community and nation. The mother of six children, she places emphasis on the joint responsibility of church and home in raising a family. She is a member of First Methodist Church.

Pontiac Press Photos

FAMILY EMPHASIS — As a new mother, Mrs. John H. Gibson of 305 Ascot Rd. believes in maintaining the spiritual health and welfare of the entire family. She is shown reading Bible stories to her children, Eric nearly three years old, and Kristin nine months old. They will attend First Presbyterian Church tomorrow with Mr. Gibson.

Need Christianity First, African Chief Declares

What does Africa, an "awakening continent of the future," need most today?

The answer of an African chief, described as "one of the most powerful Chiefs in all the Belgian Congo," is Christianity. Chief Mwante Yavo gave his answer in a testimony to Dr. E. Stanley Jones, when the noted Mehodist evangelis and missionary was in the Congo recently.

The chief saw five needs of modern Africa. He listed them in this order of importance: Christianity, doctors and medicine, education in all categories of life, economic progress, agricultural and technical progress.

Compares U.S., Moses

NEW YORK (AP)—In a message for Passover, which commemorates the first revolt against human bondage led by Moses, Jewish leader Dr. Maurice Eisendrath said that modern worlld conditions seem to cast one nation, the United States, "in the role of a potential Moses."

Exemption Considered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation pending in Congress would exempt from import duty certain articles used for religious purposes, such as altars, pulpits, communion tables, baptismal fonts, and shrines, which are imported for the use of churches or other religious institutions.

Report Contributions Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Seventh-Day Adventists, who customarily give more to their church per person than any other Christians in this country, said the 1957 rate of per capita giving was $212.80, up $10.78 over the previous year's figure.

A BAPTIST CONFESSES,

He confesses his sins directly to God ... and he receives forgiveness directly from God! It is through his Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ that he has this direct access to God!

He earnestly repents of his sins ... he is sorry for them ... he turns his back upon them and by the grace of God he is cleaned in his inner life and he becomes a new creature.. THIS IS SALVATION! The Church and its ministers guide the seeker into the way of repentance and faith, but each must walk that way for himself!

Every person can find this new life ... this salvation ... and become a child of God! This is God's free gift to everyone who will receive it! Will You?

A sincere and warm welcome awaits you at Bethany Baptist Church where the great doctrine of Soul Liberty and Freedom in Christ is taught ... along with the message of God's wonderful love for you!

Classes for those interested in what this church teaches and believes will begin June 1st at 10 a.m. and will be taught by the Pastor. You are welcome ... and there is no obligation ... financial or otherwise!

TV Ladies' Lethargy Is Perturbing Polly

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Polly Bergen said in her cool, calm way, "I don't think being a star in pictures is any bigger than being a star in television."

WILSON

The chick from Circleville who snared an Emmy is about to vacation in Europe and will probably only do six or eight TV shows of her own next year . . . but she'll go to the mat with you any time about television stars-vs. movie stars.

It annoys her extremely that some of her TV sisters don't get gussied up for TV functions as much as Hollywood stars do for movie parties.

"There are so many who take the attitude that they're only in TV until Hollywood discovers them," Polly complained to me recently at Toots Shor's.

"The women at the Oscar party were in evening gowns looking gay and glamorous—but so many at the Emmy Awards wore cocktail dresses. You didn't feel it was as great an occasion. Well, it should be! I wore an evening gown because they want to see you as glamorous as they think you are!"

Furthermore, Polly thinks her every - other - -Saturday-night TV show following Perry Como (soon going off) was pretty good.

"I think some of them have not been great — a few were only fair . . . but I don't think any of them have been bad or unentertaining," Polly declared.

'My sponsors have an option to renew which I hope they don't exercise. Following Perry Como was wonderful, yet I also don't think anybody can take that much music. That's why I leaned more on comedy. The last show I only did two songs."

Polly says all girl TV singers suffer Dinah Shore trouble — "Unfortunately we're all compared to her."

POLLY

"Gisele is not Dinah, Clooney is not, I'm not. Dinah spends $180,000 a show, has an hour, a big permanent staff. She's in color. The majority of the people don't have color TV but the majority of the critics do.

"We," she added gloomily, "have low budgets, whatever creative talent we can pick up, and find guest stars impossible to get." Polly laughed and added, "Blues."

Having turned down a couple of fat offers for next year—including "Your Hit Parade"—Polly wants to do a musical series of her own creation; well-known songs woven into a modern story, done live from New York.

"I hope I have it sold to a sponsor—it would be similar to the arrangement that Bob Hope has."

Polly succeeded in breaking up Bob on the show they did together, flattering to any girl who aspires to comedy. While they were doing a dance, Bob said, "I hope Cyd Charisse is watching."

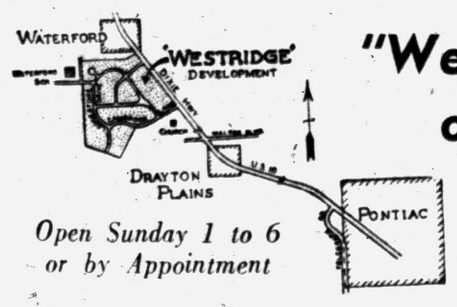

Just then the dance got badly fouled up. Polly looked at the audience and said, "I hope nobody's watching."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "I hear," says Bud Collyer, "that in five years we'll have a plane flying 3,000 miles an hour. Let's hope there's still someplace left to fly to." . . . That's earl, brother.

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams was to strike off for the east today after taking part in the Blossom Festival at Benton Harbor.

The Governor had a date tonight in Rochester, N.Y. to speak to the Monroe County Democratic Committee. Early Sunday, he planned to fly to Cleveland, Ohio, for a Polish Constitution Day celebration.

His schedule called for a return to Lansing late Sunday, followed by a plane trip to Seney in the Upper Peninsula, where he expected to spend morst of Monday fishing.

Papers Signed by Lincoln Lost in Library Fire

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—A wealth of Illinois historical documents, some papers signed by Abraham Lincoln among them, was lost last night in a fire that destroyed the Galesburg Public Library.

Loss of the 57-year-old building and the 122,000 volumes it housed was estimated at one million dollars.

Failure of two of the city's five water wells hampered efforts to quell the blaze. Firemen were able to play only a single hose on flames licking upward to the second floor where the Lincoln papers and other historical items were stored in a vault.

Boone Drives 4 Runs Home After Being Benched

Foytack Allows Only Four Hits in Victory Over Athletics

DETROIT (AP) — There was no reason for Jack Tighe to second-guess himself today.

After promising to give Gail Harris at least a 10-day trial at first base, the Detroit Tiger manager unexpectedly changed his mind "because I had a hunch"—and that hunch paid off with a 7-1 triumph last night over the Kansas City Athletics.

Regular first baseman Ray Boone, benched after hitting safely only 10 times in 50 at-bats, went back into the regular lineup after just a three-game absence and accounted for all but two of the Tiger runs.

A wrong-field home run in the first inning with two mates aboard and a booming double to center field that scored Harvey Kuenn enabled the 34-year-old veteran to drive home four runs. He scored another in Detroit's four-run splurge in the eighth.

The Tigers, coming back to Briggs Stadium with a roar after a dismal road trip that produced only four victories in 13 encounters, delighted a partisan gathering of 19,571 with a strong parlay of timely hitting and stout pitching by Paul Foytack.

Staked to a 3-0 lead on Boone's first-inning clout off Ned Garver, Foytack spread out four hits and faced only 20 batters—two over the minimum—in the last six innings. Billy Martin's wild throw gave the Athletics an unearned run in the third inning and spoiled Foytack's shutout bid.

"I was wild (he walked five) but I felt strong all the way," said Foytack, who now has a 3-2 record.

Both Boone and Al Kaline turned in hitting performances that lead manager Jack Tighe to believe that both are shaking their prolonged slumps.

Boone's home run and double in four trips ended a string of 12 at-bats without a hit and gave him his first runs-batted-in since April 29. Kaline had an infield single, a triple and a line drive single and a walk for a perfect night at the plate.

Going into the contest Boone was hitting .200 and Kaline .213.

"They'll stop growling about this club if those two guys can keep hitting," Tighe volunteered.

Harris, the New York Giant castoff, had collected three hits in 10 turns as Boone's replacement. But Tighe decided—"after mulling it over all the way back on the plane from Washington"—to put Boone back on first.

"For once a hunch worked out right," Tighe commented later.

Even Jim Hegan found himself a couple of base hits among the 13 the Tigers collected. The veteran receiver, hitless in 16 at-bats, lined a seventh inning single to center and drove in a run in the eighth with an infield safety.

Ex-Tiger Garver battled Foytack on even terms for quite a spell after Boone's first-inning home run. In the eighth, four Tiger base hits, a walk and a throwing error by another ex-Tiger, relief pitcher Virgil Trucks, gave the Detroiters four more runs that iced the contest.

Birmingham, OLSM, Winners on Track

Birmingham high thinclads yesterday won their 5th dual track test of the season, 71-38, at the expense of the Cranbrook squad, on the Cranes' field.

Kermit Ambrose's team tuned up for today's Monroe relays with a collection of 10 firsts, including the high jump, medley relay, the 880 (Reilly 2:08.4), 880 relay, the 220, Mark Hall's two wins in the 100 and broad jump, a tie in the mile and sweep the pole vault.

OL St. Mary won a triangular at Clarkston, with 55½ points to 50 for Clarkston and 31½ for Pontiac St. Michael.

Eaglets took five firsts, including Waluk's 50 foot 8 inch shot toss for a field record. Orchard Lake won on the final relay, after being tied with Clarkston 55-55.

Yanks Whip Contending Nats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Yankees met the latest challenge to their American League lead in typical fashion. Yogi Berra junked his slump and Bob Turley shrugged off early trouble for his fourth victory.

Berra, the squat swatter who generally comes through when he's needed most, ignored his .192 batting average, blasted a homer and drove in three runs in a 9-5 victory over Washington's "contending" Senators last night.

Turley, meanwhile, gave up three home runs but continued his mastery over the Senators and belted a homer himself as the Yankees moved 1½ games ahead of the Nats.

Turley has won nine in a row from Washington since Memorial Day, 1955. He's hit only two home runs in the majors—both against the Senators.

Two other contenders for the AL flag looked ready to make their moves. The Boston Red Sox won their fourth straight, rocking Baltimore 13-5 to gain a share of fourth place with Cleveland. The Chicago White Sox beat the Indians 2-0 on Early Wynn's two-hitter—the first winning complete game of the year by the Sox staff.

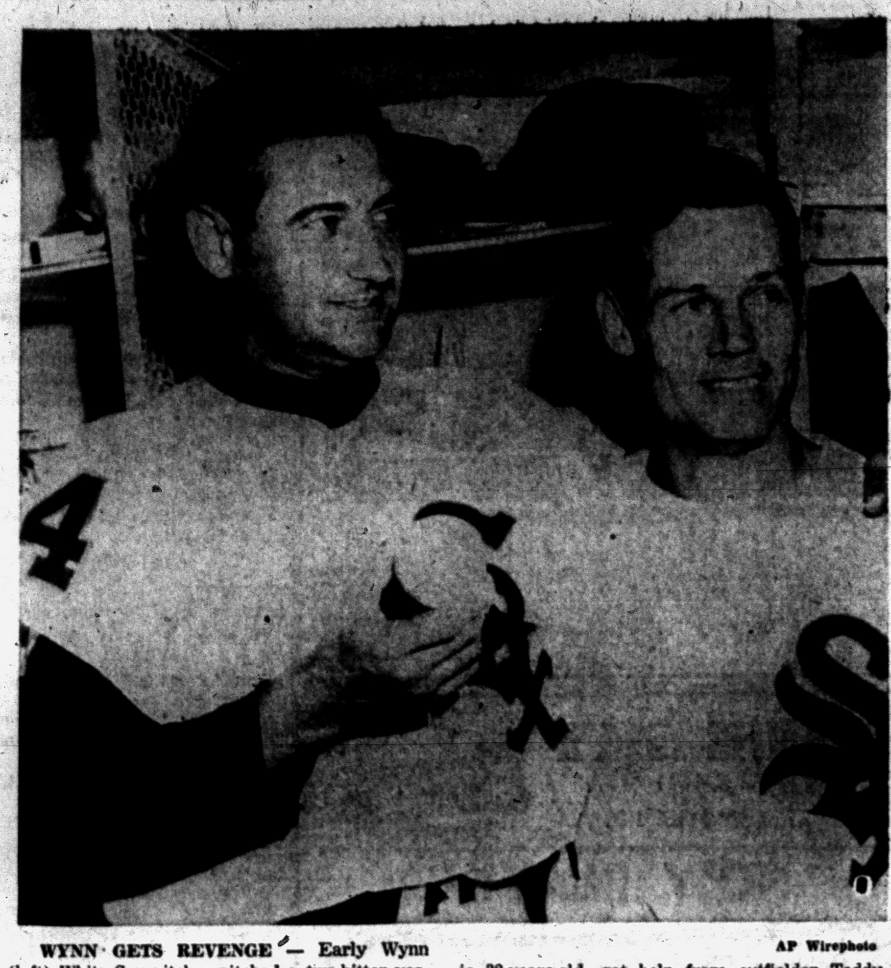

Ken Aspromonte and Neil Chrisley hit their first major league homers for the Senators while Norm Zauchin hit his third of the season. The Yankees matched the Nat power with Mickey Mantle scoring on an inside-the-park homer with a 460-foot shot to center off loser Pete Ramos, now 2-1.

Turley, whose only other homer came in 1953 for the then St. Louis Browns, gave up seven hits and walked six, but struck out nine.

The Red Sox got the job done with four doubles and 10 singles. Jim Piersall had three hits and drove in three runs, counting two with a double in a five-run second against loser Billy O'Dell. Dave Sisler won his fourth, although tagged for 11 hits.

Wynn, the 38-year-old ex-Cleveland right-hander, faced the Indians for the first time since 1948, when he was with Washington. He retired 16 in order between Russ Nixon's second inning single and a seventh-inning double by Rocky Colavito while claiming his seventh two-hitter in the majors and second victory of the season. The Sox had 13 hits, but left 13 on base. Ted Beard's first AL homer, a two-run shot, was the big blow as rookie Jim "Mudcat" Grant lost his first.

TRIPLE FOR AL — Al Kaline slides safely into third base with a triple as Hector Lopez of the Athletics awaits the throw which came too late. Kaline got three hits in three times at bat as the Tigers won a 7-1 decision at Briggs Stadium after a disastrous road trip. Umpire is Ed Hurley.

Pontiac Netters Nip FN

Farmington, Skippers Win

The Farmington and Royal Oak St. Mary baseball teams scored important victories and Pontiac Central's improved netters won their 2nd straight highlighting the area prep calendar Friday.

Farmington threw the Inter-Lakes League race into a turmoil by downing Berkley 1-0 on a one-hitter by Thomson while Waterford was staying in contention by defeating Van Dyke, 5-1.

Chuck Kirken hurled the Skippers to their 3rd loop victory in six starts. Jim Preston and Tony Hiller batted in the key runs after Waterford went four innings without a hit.

Royal Oak St. Mary broke a three-way tie for the Suburban Catholic lead by walloping St. Rita 13-6. Ferndale St. James blasted St. Benedict 16-2 in another league tilt.

The No. 2 doubles team of Larry Flood and Chuck Hunt came up with a big victory as Central nipped Flint Northern 4-3.

Harry Von Matre, Gideon Robarge and George Palian were singles winners. The Chief netters now have a 4-5 record.

Moves Up — to Detroit

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Pitcher Herm Wehmeier kept his sense of humor upon learning he had been waived out of the National League and sold by the St. Louis Louis Cardinals yesterday to Detroit.

The Cardinals are last in the National League, the Tigers seventh in the American.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: "I Keep Hitting Behind the Ball!"

Diagnosis: Drop Right Shoulder

TREATMENT: If you find yourself hitting behind the ball frequently, chances are that you're dropping the right shoulder an instant after the downswing starts. And nine times out of ten, this fault is caused by trying to hit the ball too hard.

That being the case, the quickest road to a cure is to quit trying to hit the ball as if the swing was to be your last on earth.

S-10

I'm not advocating a lady-like swipe at the ball. On the contrary, I'm all for a good, strong cut at the ball on all full shots. But what I'm solidly opposed to is trying to swing so hard at the ball that you lunge at it and lose your balance.

At the start of the swing, the right shoulder is dropped slightly below the left. It has to be so you can place the right hand below the left to take your grip. Once you set this proper plane for your shoulders, be sure that you keep them in this position throughout your swing.

Southfield Grid Ace Shines in Ferris Contest

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—Ferris Institute wound up its football spring training in an intra varsity game won by the Golds over the Crimsons last night 19-18.

Norman Gehl, a transfer from Michigan State University, ran 10 yards in the last 90 seconds for the winning Gold touchdown. With Ferris' own field getting a face-lifting the game was played on the Reed City High School field.

Halfback Ron Brewer of Southfield High School and guard Lawrence Reinerston of Muskegon were named the best players of the spring season.

Olympic Session Today at Tokyo

TOKYO (INS) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, flew into Tokyo today for an IOC conference that will iron out "final details" for the 1960 Olympic games.

There were indications that while the IOC would officially be concentrating on the Rome and Squaw Valley games, there will be a good deal of unofficial talk about the 1964 Olympics.

Brundage, 71-year old sportsman from Chicago, was asked in a news conference about the possibility of an Asian site for the 1964 Olympics. He said:

"It's quite possible. The games were given to Tokyo in 1940 but were cancelled because of world conditions.

"If the 1964 Olympics should be given to Japan, I am sure they will be handled very well."

Campbell Wins Pro Part of Bourbon

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP) — Joe Campbell, former NCAA champion recently turned professional, shot a 5-under-par 67 to win the pro division of the Bourbon Open Golf Tournament Friday.

Campbell, from Knoxville, covered the old Kentucky Home course in 34-33, with only one bogey. That was on the final hole when the stocky blond three-putted after missing an 18-inch shot.

Hoad Beats Gonzales

Pancho Loses Tilt, Temper

DETROIT (AP) — Pancho Gonzales still holds the upper hand in his marathon tennis battle with Lew Hoad despite a defeat.

Hoad napped Gonzales' three-match streak last night with a 6-0, 6-4 victory over his foe at the University of Detroit Memorial Stadium.

It was the first time in 60 matches in this country that Hoad had won on a love set over Gonzales.

Gonzales complained about the officiating throughout his match with Hoad. When he was beaten in the second set he slammed down his racket and left the floor.

Spartan Nine Takes Big Ten Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State knocked off Northwestern's defending Big Ten baseball champions, 9-6, Friday and handed Tom Scheuerman his first conference loss in two years to take undisputed possession of first place.

Wisconsin toppled Michigan out of a share for the lead with a 5-4 triumph while Minnesota eased into second place with a 6-5 victory over Purdue in 11 innings.

Ron Perranoski, supported by a 12-hit attack, posted his fifth victory without defeat and Michigan State's fifth triumph in seven games. Dean Look and Dick Schiesel led the Spartan attack each knocking in four runs and belting out a pair of doubles and a single.

Wisconsin pitcher George Schmid belted a homer in the bottom of the seventh to break a 3-3 tie and help the Badgers score their third one-run triumph. Schmid went the route and scattered 10 Michigan hits one of which was a homer by Wolverine pitcher John Herrnstein.

The loss dropped Michigan into a third place tie with Ohio State on a 4-3 record.

Ohio State remained in contention with its triumph over Indiana on the slugging of Any Okulouich. The Buckeyes, one of the pre-season favorites, are now buut one game off the pace.

Minnesota moved within one-half game of Michigan State on a 4-2 record behind the hitting and pitching of sophomore Fred Bruckbauer. Bruckbauer touched off a two-run rally in the seventh with a double and singled in the 11th inning to start a winning two-run rally.

Purdue scored four runs in the sixth — three of which came on Tom Kolachki's homer — and added another in the last of the 11th.

Iowa scored its second victory of the season and dropped Illinois into a fifth place tie with Purdue (3-3) by taking advantage of four Illinois errors and scoring four unearned runs.

One-Lap Record Missed at '500' Practice Run

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif., missed the Indianapolis Motor Speedway one-lap record by only .014 of a second Friday in one of the three ultra-fast Zink Specials entered for the 500-mile auto race May 30.

Pat Flaherty of Chicago set the one-lap record of 146.056 miles an hour two years ago with a bigger engine. His time, 1:01.62, compared with Elisian's 1:01.76

Five cars went over 144 miles an hour in the greatest burst of speed ever shown at the Speedway this early in the season. Time trials won't start until May 17.

Right after his near-record lap, Elisian ran over a starter shaft dropped by the car of Jimmy Daywalt of Indianapolis. A tire was bruised but the powerful Elisian kept the car under control.

Two other drivers earlier Friday separately set record times prior to Elisian's mark. Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., who won the pole position in last year's race, hit 144.9 miles an hour in the car he drove last year. Jimmy Reece of Indianapolis, a transplanted Oklahoman, first set a 144.7 mark driving a new A. J. Watson Creation, one of three Zink Specials in the field.

Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., tied Reece's 144.7 time in the car that Sam Hanks won the race in last year. Reece's car was assigned originally to Flaherty.

Flaherty, turned down by the Speedway medical staff because of injuries suffered in a racing accident almost two years ago, made the qualifying marks of 146.056 for one lap and 145.596 for the full 10 miles in 1956.

Reece said he thought he could break those records if he had to.

Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina, five times world road racing champion, also impressed with a lap at 140 miles an hour in his American car, the Dayton Steel Foundry Special.

A. J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., who has been racing on other tracks for five years, successfully passed the driving test. At 23 he could be the youngest driver in the starting line-up if he qualifies his Dean Van Lines Special.

Two Babe Ruth Teams Plan First Workouts

Two members of the Walled Lake Babe Ruth League will hold their first practice sessions at the beginning of the week.

The Wolverine Lake team, managed by Al Ivey, has scheduled a workout for Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Walled Lake Senior High School. The Commerce team, managed by Bill Williams, will practice Monday at 6 p.m. on the same field.

There will be six teams in the Babe Ruth League this season. Other members are Walled Lake and Wixon and two teams from Union Lake.

Pontiac Shooter Wins NRA Award

The distinguished rifleman medal has been awarded a young Pontiac marksman by the National Rifle Association, one of the top honors for junior rifle shooting in the nation.

Gerald Erickson, son of Mrs. Blanche B. Erickson, 47 Osceola drive of Pontiac, is a student at Highland Park Junior College. He is 19 years old, and has made his honor by shooting through a difficult course of several hundred targets to pass the 14 lower qualification NRA ratings.

MAY TRY AGAIN — Troy Ruttman (right) of La Mirada, Calif., 1952 winner of the "500" classic, is hoping to try again this year. His status was doubtful after undergoing an abdominal operation April 4th, but he is working out at the track. In the car is Eddie Sachs of Center Valley, Pa., one of the front men in 1957.

Russell Busch, wrestling coach at Eastern Michigan College, has been added to the list of sports figures who will attend the Pontiac Central All-Sports banquet at Madison Junior High next Wednesday.

Rebel 300-Mile Event Today

Glen "Fireball" Roberts, of Daytona Beach, Fla., won last year's Rebel 300, in a Ford, with an average speed of more than 107 miles an hour—a world race record for stock cars on tracks.

Roberts held the choice pole position at racetime on the basis of having the best qualifying speed for the first day of time trials on Thursday, 116.299 miles an hour. He drove a Chevrolet.

The fastest qualifying speed, however, was turned in yesterday by Lee Petty of Randleman, N.C. He toured the four-lap qualifying distance in an Oldsmobile in a sizzling 117.990 miles an hour.

Holding down other front row positions with Roberts were Marvin Panch of Charlotte, N.C., in a Ford, and Cotton Owens, of Spartanburg, S.C., in a Pontiac.

NBA Teams to Play Benefit for Stokes

NEW YORK (AP)—Teams of the National Basketball Assn. will play a special doubleheader before the next season for the benefit of the stricken Rochester Royals' star, Maurice Stokes.

Disqualification in Final Event Defeats Chiefs

Pontiac Sets 5 New Records, as FN Wins, 56½-55½

By H. GUY MOATS

SAGINAW (ALUMNI FIELD)—Flint Northern's Vikings retained their Saginaw Valley Conference track title last night on Arthur Hill's Alumni Field.

Vikings' acquisition of the championship was a startling, and surprising development in a meet packed with surprises.

The meet had progressed to the final race, the 880-yard relay. Pontiac's Chiefs were leading, 55½ - 51½ over Vikings. The Chiefs' relay team was rated tops and it looked like the title was "in the bag." PCH was first over the finish line in record time of 1:30.2 with Northern 2nd. Then the roof caved in. Chiefs' quartet was disqualified when an official said one runner ran out of his lane.

Vikings moved into the title berth with the announcement of the disqualification, while Norb Bader's crew went wild with joy.

Flint Central was 3rd with 40½ points; Saginaw High 26½; Arthur Hill 12 and Bay City Central 10.

Six records were broken and another tied. Chiefs were responsible for five new marks; Roger Coats' great half mile at 1:59.7; Larry Beamer's brilliant 4:31.9 mile; Bob Manning's phenomenal 21.4 for the 220 and his 9.9 century that tied the SVC record; the 2:31.5 medley mark, and Danny Sowell's 19.4 in the low hurdles. Phil Gaines of Northern set a 440 mark at 51.4.

Altogether it was the biggest record-making SVC event in many years. Coats' record erased a 2:02.2 mark of 20 years standing. Manning's 220 figure clipped a tenth of a second off ex-Chief Walt Beach's record set in 1950. Beamer chopped 2.1 seconds off the mark recorded in 1938, while Sowell cut 2-tenths of a second off Hayes Jones and Collins' joint record set in 1956 and 1950, respectively. The former medley mark, set in 1955 by PCH was 2:31.7.

Vikings' Reg Gillard won the high hurdles and broad jump. Muddy and Nelson of FN tied with FC's Szabo in the vault; Gaines won one 440 race. Wiley Rogers of Central won the 2nd 880; Al Hinton of Saginaw the shot to round out the first place winners.

Bob Richards, Jim Keller, Marcus Turner and Bill Pritchett made up the winning PCH medley quartet, with Pritchett's great anchor leg an outstanding job. It was the first time these four had run together as a team.

Jackson Bowler 3rd in Singles at ABC

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Fred Olmsted of Jackson, Mich., ranked third in the singles event today of the American Bowling Congress tournament with a 715.

39 at Night Shoot

Fine weather marked last night's archery shoot for the Oakland County Sportsmen's club bow group, and an unusually interesting round of 14 targets was shot. Pacemakers were Lewis Shedden of Waterford for the men with 194 and Anne Knox of Union Lake for the women, with 124.

Following the shoot hot dogs were enjoyed around a big outdoor fire. Woody Slade directed group singing.

Ballman Decides on MSU

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State has won the tug-of-war with Michigan for the services of star East Detroit athlete Gary Ballman.

Ballman was considered the best high school football player in the state by the Michigan coaching staff.

The young athlete, who took nine letters at East Detroit in football, track and basketball, said yesterday he planned to go to Michigan State in the fall.

"After careful consideration of my future," Ballman said, "I have decided to enter Michigan State. I made this decision prior to any question concerning my acceptance by the University of Michigan."

Michigan had been after Ballman for several years. One of the active Michigan recruiters was Ron Kramer, former Wolverine All America, who preceded Ballman at East Detroit.

Braves Showing '57 Form

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's something familiar about that National League race. Wes Covington has come back beltin' for Milwaukee, Warren Spahn leads the league in victories and the first-place Braves are riding a five-game winning streak, now that they've beaten Cincinnati.

A year ago, Covington returned from a stay in the minors and started blasting for the Braves, Spahn was the only 20-game winner in the league and Cincinnati paved the way to the pennant by rolling over dead in 18 of 22 games with Milwaukee.

It was '57 all over again last night. Covington, just off the injured list, connected for his third home run in six games and made it good for three runs that beat the Redlegs 5-3 as Spahn became the first to sin five in the majors this season.

The surprising San Francisco Giants moved into second, a half game behind, as Willie Mays drove in five runs with a pair of homers and a double in an 11-3 breeze against Los Angeles.

Ted Kluszewski's leadoff homer in the 12th ended a dandy duel between Ron Kline and Robin Roberts as Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 1-0. And the St. Louis Cardinals ended a losing string at seven with a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs—although Stan Musial was held hitless for the first time this season.

Milwaukee now is 2-1 vs. Cincy and Spahn claims both victories. Warren the Wonder, unbeaten, gained his fifth complete game last night with a nine-hitter. Pete Whisenant had three hits, one an RBI single as the Redlegs counted three in the fifth. The Braves scored twice in their fifth, with Spahn's double driving in covington, who had singled. Covington is 8-for-19 with 10 RBIs since returning to action after a spring training knee injury.

Mays, with only one homer in his first 22 games, led a 12-hit Giant outburst that counted six extra-base blows. Ray Monzant squared his record at 3-3 with a breezy 10-hitter. The young right-hander fanned eight and had a three-hit shutout for six. Southpaw Danny McDevitt lost his third against one victory, giving up seven runs in the first two frames.

Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

Veteran University of Detroit football coach Wally Fromhart has become a fixture as a guest speaker at St. Frederick sports banquets in recent years and it's easy to understand why watching the former Notre Dame star in action.

He is a tireless teller of jokes and humorous experiences but also has a serious side. One key point he stresses in talking to athletes at such events is that many boys miss a chance to go to college because they just 'get by' in high school.

The Titan skipper cited as an example at the recent fete two grid stars who made the Catholic Prep All-America last year but failed to pass entrance tests at the U. of D. recently.

Although a native of the South, Wally is like an old alumnus around St. Fred folks. He not only knows the coaches and top school officials but also can call many of the parents by their 1st names.

Fromhart has high hopes for three area boys in football. One is Ram assistant coach Tom Kennedy's son, Bill, who Wally says "may make a very fine end." The others are Orchard Lake St. Mary grad Jerry Leszczynski, a fullback, and big Madison Heights tackle Grady Alderman.

Kennedy and Alderman impressed during spring drills but Leszczynski showed up way overweight and was a big disappointment, according to the coach.

All in all, Fromhart feels Detroit should have another good season in 1958 barring any serious injury problems. He is confident things will continue to improve during the next few years with the U. of D. enrollment expected to reach 13,000 by 1962.

The area coaching merry-go-round is spinning again. Lake Orion's Hal Carlin will drop baseball following the current season. His assistant, Ken Battani, is reportedly already signed to take over for Gus Birtsas at Clarkston next spring.

Meanwhile, Jim Manilla is accepting applications for the Royal Oak Dondero basketball and Kimball track jobs to be vacated by Ed Campbell and Jim Gibbard. He has about 15 applicants for the hoop post.

SKIPPING AROUND

Two boys who will get scholarships to MSU are linemen Jerry Ohngren (St. Michael) and Walt Cudnohufsky (Lake Orion). The latter will get in on 4-H Club achievements.

Romeo has averaged 12.8 runs per game in nine wins aided by 12 home runs . . . On May 28, St. Fred's golfers will play for the SCL title at River Rouge. They clinched a division title Thursday. Ex-PCH athlete Bob McDonald may enter the Naval Academy . . . Youngest Jr. Legion baseball coach will be Kirk Flack of Birmingham. Now catching for Albion, the former Maple is 21.

St. Michael sports teams will be honored at a banquet May 20. Michigan State assistant coach Bill Yeoman will be guest speaker . . . Royal Oak resident Bob Grundeman on the Harvard golf team . . . Clarkston sophomore Bob Porritt stole seven bases in 1st seven games and had the top batting mark . . . Larry Hempton and Bob Cadman of the Michigan Tech track team are Pontiac residents . . . THE PONTIAC PRESS
PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, SATURDAY, MAY 10, 1958

background for LIVING

IN DRAYTON WOODS — The Gordon Campbells built this bi-level home themselves. The lower part is Chicago common brick while the upper part is white aluminum siding. The two-storied entrance porch is reminiscent of southern Colonial architecture. The double garage is under the bedroom level. At the far right are windows in the living room. About fifty-four feet long, this house has some 3600 square feet of space in it.

SHINY KITCHEN — Aqua ceramic tile on the walls and the counter tops make this a shining room. Frames around the birch cupboard doors and the rest of the walls are pink. That door next to the oven leads to the lowest level. The floor is spatter print linoleum.

Your Neighbor's House

They Did It Themselves — Twice!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Thirty-six hundred square feet is a lot of room in a house. It seems like more when one man builds the whole thing himself. Of course, it was the SECOND house Gordon Campbell had built . . . tile work, plastering and brick work were the only jobs he contracted for.

Now that the brick and aluminum siding house in Drayton Woods is completed, the Campbells are talking of selling it and building another house on the lot they own next door. Some people just never get enough work.

This is a bi-level house. It could be constructed on a level lot, but the sloping character of the Campbell's lot makes it even better for their kind of house.

From the front it has a look of southern Colonial architecture, with a two-story white pillared entrance porch. There is a double garage under the bedroom wing. From this view there is little hint of how much room is inside.

Inside the wide front door there is a beige and tan tiled vestibule. On either side of the door ribbed glass lets in light. At the left is space for a table and mirror. Further on is a double-doored coat closet. Artificial light comes from a pierced, three-way brass fixture.

On the right the wall is made of yellow Roman brick. The top is a long planter box, as yet unfilled. The living room is at the head of the stairs.

Near the stair well is a beige sectional sofa with a wrought iron lamp table between the two pieces. In front of the fireplace and in the picture window corner there are two swivel chairs, rose colored with a gold thread in the upholstery. The fireplace is Roman brick like the stair wall and planter.

PINK KITCHEN

In the kitchen which also has a view of the trees and ponds walls are pink. Cupboard doors are natural finish birch with black handles. Behind the stove and sink and on the counters there is shiny aqua ceramic tile. Stove and oven are built in.

In the opposite corner there is ample room for the breakfast set. This is black framed, with a beige table top and beige chair cushions and backs. The floor is spatter print linoleum.

In the upper level there are three bedrooms. Part way up the stairs is a deep closet for storing cleaning utensils. All the bedrooms have good sized closets.

In the guest room which is the first one the walls are aqua. The quilted bedspread matches the walls. Bed skirt and short curtains are pastel plaid. The furniture is walnut.

Mark and Grady, the Campbells' young sons, have a blue-gray room. They have twin beds of pine. Their spreads are plaid in shades of brown and gold. All bedroom floors have polished oak floors.

MOSAIC TABLE

In one corner of the room is a hobby project Mrs. Campbell is enthusiastically making — a mosaic tile table. The free form plywood base was cut out by Mr. Campbell; now she is arranging the tiny tiles to make a picture top.

Down on the lowest level there are enough rooms almost to make an apartment. There's a den with paneled walls. This is used as a television room. In addition to that, and the garage there's a recreation room with a fireplace, a lavatory and a utility room. A grade entrance door opens from the recreation room to the back yard.

This house in the trees was an ambitious project, even for a man who's already built one house.

Questions and Answers

Q—How can rug corners be kept from curling up?

A—The glue sizing on the bottom of the rug probably has worn off and needs to be replaced. To renew the sizing, stretch the rug upside down on the floor and spray it with a solution of half a pound of chip glue in two quarts of water. Then let the rug dry for about a day before using it again.

Q—Is there a remedy for chalking plaster walls? We can't get the wallpaper to stick.

A—Coat the wall with a half and half mixture of shellac and alcohol. This will seal the plaster with a waterproof surface, and the wallpaper then will stay in place.

Q—Can a broken ladder rung be repaired?

A—Cut the rung off flush with the inside of the rails. Make two blocks of hardwood, drilling holes in them the same diameter as the new rung. Fit the rung tightly into the two blocks and then bolt or nail the whole assembly securely to the inside of the rails.

Q—We'd like to paint our concrete patio but it's pitted and rough. Can it be smoothed?

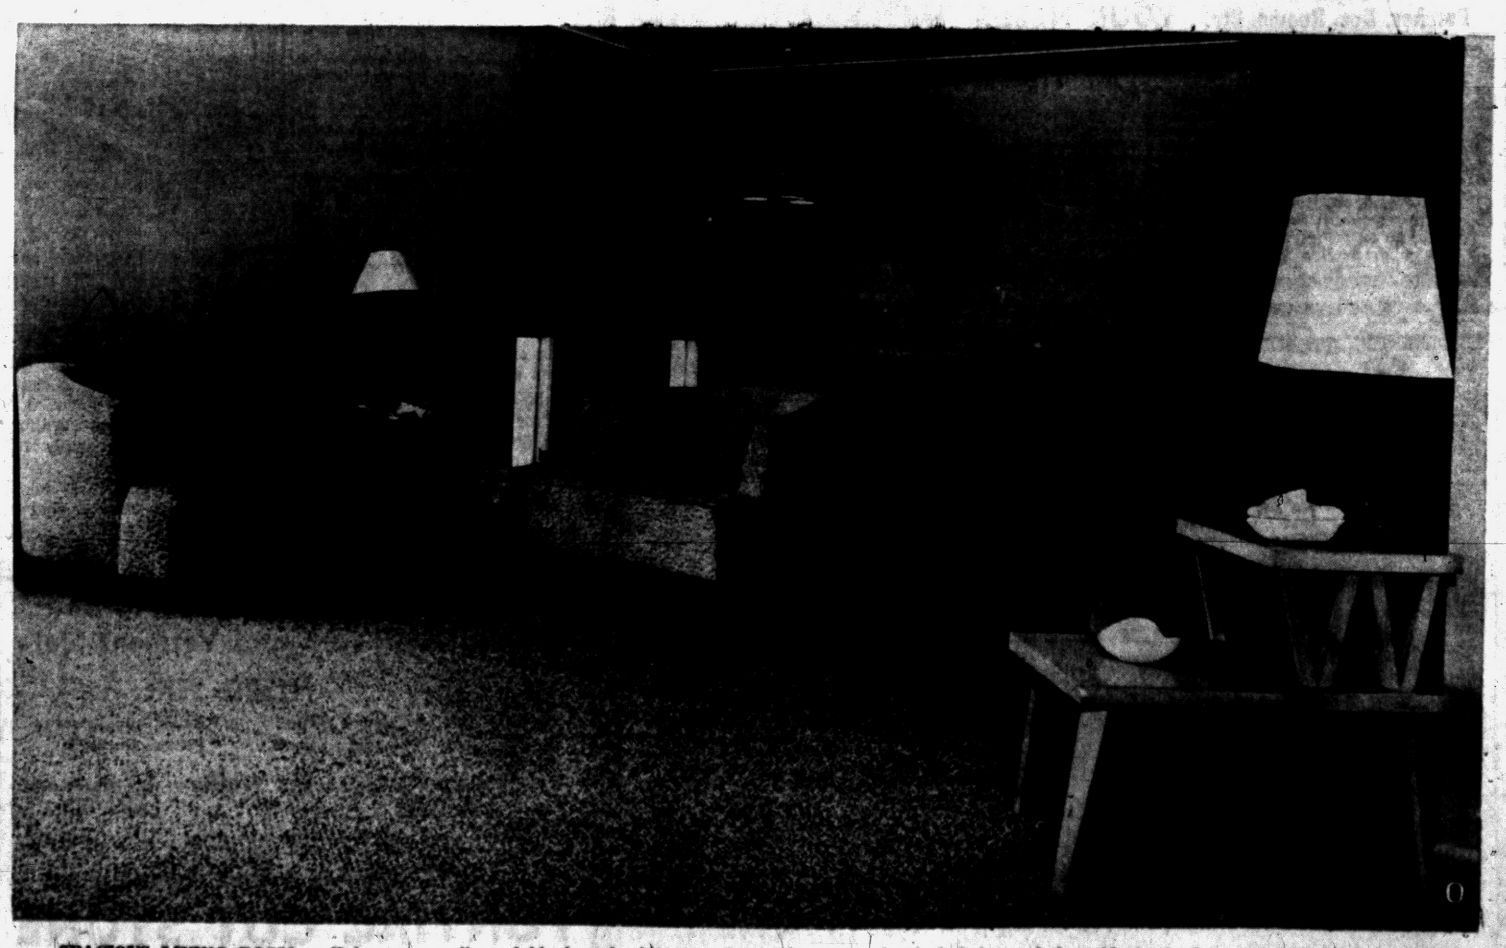

A—Mix a paste of glycerine and yellow lead oxide and apply with a trowel, smoothing it carefully. You can paint the patio after the mixture dries thoroughly.

Q—How can I make the caulking around the bathtub last longer?

A—Paint it with enamel the same color as the walls or tile above the tub. The waterproofing action of the enamel will give the caulking compound longer life.

UPSTAIRS FIREPLACE — This fireplace of yellow Roman brick is in the living room. Below it, in the recreation room, is another one. Mrs. Campbell relaxes in a swivel chair with a magazine. Behind her is Sunny, the family's orange canary who takes a bath only on Sundays at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Vacuum Process Preserves

Longer life for hardwood flooring. A controlled vacuum process is now used for applying preservatives to maple flooring. Flooring so treated results in maximum protection when laid in such spaces as gymnasiums, bakeries and industrial plants. Floors treated with the controlled vacuum process will remain tight, stable and smoothly beautiful for generations, according to the Maple Flooring Mfrs. Assn.

Mirror Furniture Back

A bookcase, chest of drawers or other large piece of furniture often can serve as an attractive and useful room divider when a large mirror is fitted over the usually unsightly back of such furniture. The new type of plate glass, twin-ground on both surfaces at once, makes the use of large mirrors more practicable by eliminating distortions.

Two Pails Are Quicker

In washing bathroom tile, use two pails. Fill one with heavy soap suds and the other with clear rinse water. Rub the tiles with a cloth which has been dipped into the suds and wipe with a well-rung out cloth taken from the rinse water.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

LARGE DIMENSIONS, particularly in the formal living areas, make this a home for easy living. A fireplace can be added to the L-shaped living-dining area and on the expansion floor upstairs two airy bedrooms can be added whenever you choose, with a second bathroom and closets to spare. It is Plan CN19AP1619, by Lester Cohen, architect, Architects Home Plan Bureau, Box 141, Bethlehem, Conn.

Questions and Answers

Q. Is there a simple way to antique furniture?

A. Yes, any non-professional can learn to give an antique finish to a piece of furniture. The wood is given a mellowed look by applying a tinted glazing liquid to a painted, enameled or stained surface. The glazing liquid usually is mixed with a small amount of raw or burnt umber, depending on the desired tone.

The glazing liquid usually is brushed on, then blended with a piece of clean, dry cloth. It's a good idea to practice this technique on a piece of old wood before starting your project.

Q. What is the first step before installing ceramic tile?

A. Measure the area to be tiled in order to determine the number of square feet of tile and the amount of adhesive needed. A gallon of adhesive is sufficient for setting from 45 to 50 square feet of tile. Be certain that all surfaces are dry, sound, plumb and free of old materials which might not adhere properly to the adhesive. When buying the adhesive, ask for one bearing the hallmark "CS 181-52."

Q. Is there such a thing as a disappearing stair?

A. Yes, it is a stairway which can be folded and swung upward out of sight when not in use. They usually are used to provide access to an attic.

Q. What is the best way to prepare a roller for a paint job?

A. With a new roller, wash the cover of it in warm soap suds, then rines it well to remove any lint or dust. If you're using an oil base paint, allow the cover to dry thoroughly before using it. With a water base paint, however, the cover should be wet before starting your paint job.

Q. Can you tell me an easy way to cut ceramic wall tiles?

A. With a pencil, mark the glazed surface along the line of the cut to be made. If there are ridges on the backs of the tiles, make the cut parallel to the ridges, not across them. Now, using a ruler or another piece of tile as a straight edge, scratch the glazed surface long the indicated cut with a glass cutter.

To break the tile, place it on the floor (glazed side face up) over a finishing nail. Line the nail up with the cut and step on both sides of the tile. The tile will break along the indicated line. Finish off the cut edge with an abrasive stone.

Q. What is a cavity wall?

A. This is formed by two brick walls built a few inches apart and connected with metal ties.

Q—The outside walls of my house have become mildewed. How can I remedy this condition?

A—A milk alkaline solution such as trisodium phosphate or washing soda will probably remove the mildew. Depending on the amount of mildew, you may need to repeat the operation several times before painting the house, if the condition is severe. When you do repaint, be sure to include a mildewcide in the paint.

Q—I want to refinish an old wooden cabinet but sanding does not remove the old stain. What should I do?

A—A commercial wood bleach or oxalic acid can be applied. To complete the preparation for the new stain, give the wood a fine sanding.

Q—Can a table top be made heat resistant?

A—Yes. After removing the old finish, apply a mixture of one-third turpentine and two-thirds linseed oil. Use a soft, clean cloth. Then rub the surface dry.

Removing Ink Spots

Ink spots on an oak floor often can be removed simply by washing with soap and water. If the ink does not respond to such treatment, it generally can be taken out by sanding. The spot should then be touched up with finish.

PICNICS AT HOME are easy to plan if you have this sturdy table with attached benches in your yard. Pattern 203, which shows every step and even gives actual-size guides for cutting ends of supports, is 25 cents. This pattern also is included in the Lawn and Garden Furniture Packet No. 38 which contains full directions for many useful pieces all for $1. Orders under $1 add 10 cents service charge. Fireproof Vault in New Home Latest Feature

It's the extras that sell the house. From decorative wall niches to utilitarian in-the-wall kitchen appliances, the "plus" features of home construction are what the prospective home buyer looks for today.

Builders are well aware of this. They fit many of their homes with built-in ovens, washers, dryers, garbage disposers, incinerators and other appliances to add that "plus" in selling appeal.

Now, some enterprising builders are adding still another selling aid — a fire-resistant home wall vault. Small, inexpensive when compared with appliances like those mentioned above, the wall vault has an intriguing quality.

Nearly everyone associates wall safes with the luxurious homes of well-to-do people as depicted on television or in movies. And the potential home buyer likes the touch of having his own lockbox. They are certified to withstand a fire of up to 1700 degrees Fahrenheit for one hour without damage to contents, and are designed for safe keeping of important papers and similar items of value.

Sized to fit perfectly between studs on 16" centers, the wall vault is available in depths of 8¾" and 12¾". It is 14¼" wide and 12¾" high.

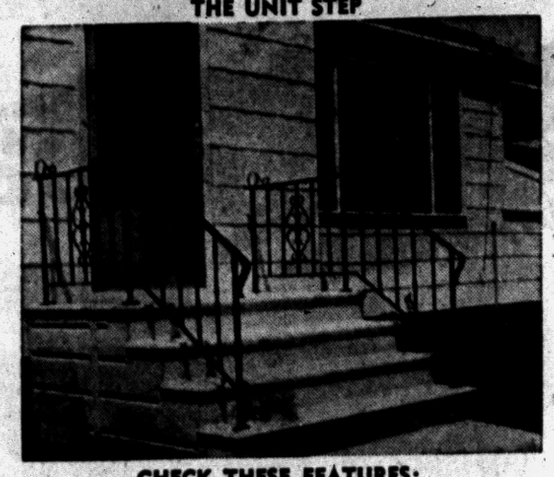

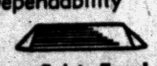

Wash Basin Returns to Modern Bedroom

An old-fashioned convenience — a wash basin in a bedroom — is back again in many new homes. It is now called a vanity lavatory, or vanitory.

Sparked by the popularity of countertops around kitchen sinks, the lavatory built into a dressing table relieves pressure on high-cost bathrooms. Fine for bathing a baby, too.

NEW LUMBER KILN — The lumber in the above picture is ready to be taken out of the kiln where it has dried for about a week. The machine at the right is a lifter. James and Sam Birkenshaw, owners of Empire Supplies, built this kiln themselves from cement block, masonite, plywood and fibreglas. It will dry about 30 to 40,000 feet of lumber at one time.

Start More Apartments

Over 100,000 private apartment units were started in 1957, the United States Savings and Loan League estimates. The League reports that figures for the first eight months of the year show starts were made on 80,200 units in 3 or more family structures, roughly 50.5 per cent more than in the same period of 1956.

Paint and chemical coatings preserve the billions of dollars invested in American homes, commercial and public buildings, industrial plants, transportation equipment and farm properties.

New Kiln Dries Green Lumber

Birkenshaws Build Air-Tight Building to Control Humidity, Heat

Lumber must be dry before it is used in building. Many lumber companies use huge drying sheds for the purpose. Some lumber is shipped in from the west coast where it has been kiln dried.

But between here and there that kiln dried lumber may pick up a great deal of moisture. Since the Detroit area is an exceptionally humid one, the lumber is far from dry after it has been stored here for any length of time.

To take care of this problem James and Sam Birkenshaw, owners of Empire Supplies Company, out Union Lake way, have built a drying kiln of their own. They believe it is the only one in this part of the country.

Constructed of cement block, the kiln has insulated plywood and masonite folding doors. With fiberglass for insulation they can withstand 350 degrees of heat. The inside humidity is controlled, while the forced air is changed frequently. All this is done automatically.

It takes about a week to dry some 30 or 40,000 feet of lumber at one time. The Birkenshaws dry not only the green lumber they get but also the kiln dried lumber from out west.

Tricks Enlarge Room

To make a bedroom seem larger use light color schemes—blue, yellow, light tan or blue-gray—for both walls and draperies, advises the Seng Company, maker of bedframes and metal furniture devices. The use of scaled-down furniture beds without footboards, small pictures and lamps will also help the small bedroom.

Many Weights of Wood Used in Home Building

Heaviest known wood in the world is black ironwood, native to the West Indies and Florida Keys. Tano, found in Siam and the Malayan Peninsula, is believed to be the world's lightest wood.

In the United States, the most widely used wood is Douglas fir, sawn in Oregon and Washington. Fir is one of the nation's best structural lumbers and is prized for its beauty and texture for appearance grades.

Razor Removes Paint

Removing spatters of paint after a do-it-yourself venture seems an insurmountable task. A sharp razor blade usually will do the trick, especially on bathroom fixtures with slick surfaces. Slant the blade to a plane almost even with the fixture and run it along the surface.

Many Shades of Green Popular and Becoming

In observing the interiors of beautiful homes, it is interesting to notice how many are painted with one of the soft muted shades of green. A grayish green is frequently seen and also a pale green that looks turquoise in some lights. Green has been found to be restful and becoming to most complexions as well as a fitting backbround for fine furniture and hangings.

The owner of a modest apartment recently achieved an effect of great elegance by painting her living room walls pale gray-green, then upholstering several pieces of furniture in deep emerald green to match the wall to wall carpeting. Window hangings were chosen in lime green with plumes of scarlet in the pattern. One tufted chair was covered in scarlet satin, making just the right accent.

Tests have demonstrated that an electric handsaw can zip through a piece of wood 28 times faster than a non-powered handsaw.

GLARE-FREE DAYLIGHT — Regardless of outside weather, delicate plants bask in even, glare-free daylight the year around in this addition an Ohio flower fancier built to his back porch. Built-in prisms in the prefabricated skylighting units, known as Toplite, "select" only the most desirable rays of the sun — allowing cool north light and low-altitude rays to enter, but rejecting hot rays of high summer sun. Hollow glass units provide insulation in winter, making it easy to maintain constant temperature and eliminating condensation.

Cover Screen to Gain Versatile Room Piece

The versatility of the folding screen has entrenched it as a household accessory that survives years of use and lends itself to many changes in decor. As a decorative shield blocking the view of a kitchen or a study corner, or marking off a draftless nook for baby, its popularity is still going strong, especially among young apartment homemakers.

A good screen can be dressed up many times, in many ways. One young decorator says she's revamped her tall, three-panel screen five times.

The last time she did it, she used vinyl fabric, a newcomer to screen coverings. It's available now in stores and mail order houses, comes in wide widths (54 inches, usually) and is firm-bodied enough for an amateur to cut and paste.

Clear, sparkling colors suggest contemporary treatments. And these vinyl fabrics have proved their practicality in soot-bound city apartments and places where kitchen fumes discolor other materials. They are durable, color-fast and washable.

For her screen, the decorator used three colors, one for each panel — pumpkin, raspberry and mustard. Both sides of each panel were covered. The scraps were turned into small cushion coverings for foam rubber bench-table pads.

For the screen, you need a fabric-backed vinyl because paste won't adhere to unsupported vinyl sheeting.

Remove hinges from the screen and cover one panel at a time. Pasting should be done on a floor or work table, not vertically.

Cut vinyl fabric for panels with razor blade in holder. Allow about three inches extra in both dimensions. This will cover edges and also allow for slight shrinkage when paste is applied.

Use paste or adhesive recommended by the manufacturer of the fabric. If no particular adhesive is specified, the fabric-backed vinyl may be applied with a pure wheat paste.

Apply adhesive generously to back of cut fabric, leaving no unfilled areas. Allow it to set a few minutes.

Then apply vinyl fabric to screen surface. Work out air pockets and wrinkles thoroughly with stiff brush or broad knife, working a small area at a time to insure good adhesion. Bring vinyl around edges of panel.

Before adhesive is completely dry, use razor blade in holder to trim vinyl down center of panel edges and to cut out area where hinges will be replaced. Wash off the excess adhesive with sponge and clear water.

Women Like Foyers to Act as Buffer Zone

Homemakers across the nation have indicated they want entrance-ways or foyers in their homes. A recent survey of homemakers revealed that nine out of 10 thought foyers were important and wanted them in their own homes.

One reason a woman wants a foyer is that it's a transition area between the outdoors and living areas and is often surfaced with such durable and easy-to-clean materials as ceramic or quarry tile. Thus it can act as a buffer zone against dirt tracked in from the outside.

Front Protects Books From Toddler's Hands

Window Shelves Ornamental

The shelves are easy to make. The top of the window shelf is a piece of stepping 48 inches long, with one rounded or "nosed" edge. Round the two ends by rasping and sanding to match the rounded edge.

Another piece of stepping is used for the braces. Make two squares, 11½ by 11½ inches, and lay off a grid of 1-inch squares. Copy the curved pattern of the brace in pencil, and cut the braces out with a jig saw or coping saw. With a rasp and sandpaper smooth the curves and round the sharp edges.

The braces are attached to the shelf, 3 inches from each end, using three No. 10 flathead wood screws, 2 inches long, at each joint.

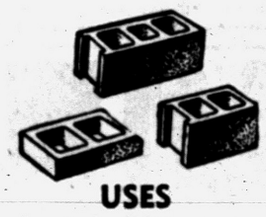

Then cut a piece of 2 by 4-inch lumber to fit between the two braces — about 29⅞ inches long. Fasten the 2 by 4 to the wall with the 4-inch face against the wall. Then fasten the shelf board snugly against the wall and to the 2 by 4, using 2-inch screws.

The window shelf should be painted to match or to contrast pleasingly with the finish of the building.

Window shelves are attractive additions to the garage or other out-buildings. Those beneath house windows may be used in the winter as bird-feeding platforms.

Don't spray furniture or other objects while they are on the floor or ground, as this will disturb settled dust and spoil the job.

Paint Colors Have Power to Change House

How would you like a new house at the same address? A paint can and brush plus use of certain color facts can change your home to whatever you desire by the end of the Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up campaign.

While you should choose colors which appeal to you, certain color tricks should be kept in mind. First, colors are classified as "cool and "warm." The reds, oranges, and yellows, resembling the sun's rays, are warm while greens and blues, reminiscent of the tranquil sky and relaxing waters, are called cool.

The warm colors are particularly effective in north and east rooms which lack all-day sun while blues and greens are restful in sunny south and west rooms.

The cool blues and greens are also known as retreating colors and make small rooms expand. The warm or advancing colors are attractive for large, barn-like rooms as they seem to bring the walls inward.

Another color trick is the use of a different hue on one wall of a square room . . . it does away with the box-like appearance. A long, narrow room can be widened visually by painting the end walls a deeper color than the other two facing walls.

Father Fights Ruling on Lana's Daughter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The father of Lana Turner's daughter, Cheryl, 14, has appealed a ruling making the youngster a ward of the court.

Restaurateur Stephen Crane yesterday filed a motion in District Court asking that the Superior Court order be set aside.

Cheryl was made a ward of the court after she fatally stabbed Johnny Stomapanato, when he threatened the actress.

MOTHER'S DAY

J. L. VOORHEES

Think back to your earliest childhood; it was your Mother who stood at every crossroad to guide you, inspire you, cheer you on and on. During times of illness it was your Mother who was beside you, ministering to your slightest desire. When disappointment rang in your ears you turned to your Mother for consolation, and received it. As success crowned your efforts: graduation, first raise in salary, when she said "Yes," whenever the occasion seemed to warrant a celebration to whom did you turn? Your Mother.

M. E. SIPLE

May 11th is Mother's Day. She hasn't changed, all she wants is participation in your affairs, an active part in your life; show her you need her now as much as when you cried in the night. Show her by deed and act that your love for her is stronger, more mature, deeper and abiding than when you came to her for consolation. Make this day a crown she'll proudly wear as an emblem of your affection.

Mothers, we salute you.

Organized Demonstration Against Nixon

Reds Play on Anti-U. S. Feelings

By JOHN MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, American good will ambassador touring South America, has run into his first real rebuff.

He was stoned and spat upon by students in Lima, the Peruvian capital, where the United States flag also was torn in an insult to him and his mission.

ORGANIZED BY REDS

It seems pretty obvious that it was a well-organnized, anti-Nixon demonstration by the small Peruvian Communist Party. As the Vice President himself wryly observed, the student leaders at the San Marcos University demonstration were "very old students."

But the Communists nevertheless played on a traditional anti-United States feeling in many parts of Latin America. Not only students but many government leaders as well have attacked the United States because of trade and tariff policies that work against their products.

The Latin American nations also have complained through all the post-war years about lack of United States financial aid, especially when the grants and aid they have received have been compared to the vast outpouring of U. S. wealth to Europe, the Middle East and the Far East.

It was to counteract these feelings and to build good will for the United States that Nixon undertook the grinding tour of South America.

He already has visited some 40 countries around the world, logging well over 200,000 miles through Asia, Africa and Latin America. Next fall he is due to travel to Europe for the first time as a representative of President Eisenhower.

Nixon went well prepared. For weeks before he left Washington April 27 he had worked over records on each country he was to visit. A few days before he departed he got verbal briefings on various nations from State Department and Central Intelligence officials.

In his travels he also talks with U. S. embassy officials to keep up to date on what is happening.

He has been shaking hands from morning until after dark, made half a dozen speeches a day and posed for innumerable pictures with local officials and with Indian natives.

Nixon throughout has sought to explain U. S. policy and to stress the local needs of attracting more private capital. On the whole reporters traveling with Nixon feel that he has made a good impression despite the Red-inspired rampage against him in Peru.

Considering the feelings against the United States in Latin America it is a wonder that there have not been more jeers and incidents.

Security for You

By RAY HENRY

From D. R. of Ventura, Calif.: "My wife and I were discussing Social Security the other day because we're both nearing the age when we can collect. I'm 64. She is 61. I told her I thought she could collect when she reaches 62 whether I retire or not. She has never worked under Social Security. She said I was wrong. Am I?"

Yes. Your wife can collect Social Security at 62 based on your record but only if you are also collecting payments.

From Mrs. T. B. A. of Fall River, Mass.: "I've just applied to the Veterans Administration for a widow's pension because my husband was a veteran of World War I. If I get the pension, how much will it be? If I should remarry, will I lose the pension?"

The World War I widow's pension is $50.40 a month. You'll lose the pension if you remarry.

From M. H. of Trenton, N. J.: "My wife has had a cleaning woman come in once a week for the past year. I know she should be paying Social Security tax on the woman's wages, but we don't know where to get the instructions on how to do it. Can you help?"

You can write to the Social Security office listed in your phone book or the Internal Revenue Service office to which you mail your tax return.

From S. P. of Jamestown, N. D.: "I've heard that the Social Security tax will go up next year. Is this true?"

No. The next scheduled raise in the tax is Jan. 1, 1960. It will be increased to 2¾ per cent each for an employe and an employer. The present tax is 2¼. The tax for self-employed persons will be increased from 3⅜ per cent to 4⅛.

From S. N. of Monroe, La.: "I've worked under Social Security since 1937 and am single. My parents are still living. I understand that they may be able to receive Social Security payments due to my work if I should die. What are the requirements?"

Parents may receive Social Security based on your work record if they were receiving at least one-half of their support from you at the time of your death. Other requirements are that your mother must be at least 62, your father at least 65 and that no surviving widow or child under 18 is entitled to payments.

From Mrs. E. S. G. of High Point, N. C.: "My husband is a World War I veteran and has received medical care on several occasions at a vet's hospital. As his wife, I'm wondering if I'm also eligible?"

No. Except in emergencies only veterans are eligible.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service. You may obtain Ray Henry's new social security handbook by sending 35 cents in coin to this newspaper and requesting "Security for You" booklet.)

Senators to Get New Railway Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new underground railway about 1,900 feet long is being built in the capital. It will link the two Senate office buildings, one of them still under construction, with the Capitol.

When completed, the subway will replace the monorail line from the present Senate building to the Capitol — long a favorite tourist attraction.

The lines are expected to start operating about the first of next year.

Both new lines will have two rails rather than one. There will be four cars rather than the present two.

Ten Conducting School Census

Expect to Complete Task in Rochester by End of Month

ROCHESTER — Ten census takers today began the recording of all children in the Rochester Community School District. It is expected to be completed by the end of the month.

The school census, required by state law, will include the listing of both school-age and pre-school-age children, according to Richard F. Huizenga, assistant superintendent of schools who is in charge of the enumeration. The census serves many purposes, Huizenga said.

Probably one of its most important functions, he said, is that it helps school officials to predict future enrollments and to determine in which areas schools should be built or enlarged.

It also locates handicapped children so the Board of Education can assist their parents in providing educational facilities for them. The census helps determine the amount of state aid to the school district.

Huizenga said residents should give census information to certified census takers only. They are Mrs. Richard Sheldon, Mrs. Charles A. Dulzo Jr., Mrs. Charles Dulzo, Mrs. George Groener, Mrs. Earl Kohl, Mrs. Edward Zoellner, Mrs. Raymond Russell, Mrs. Dennis Hillock, Mrs. William Cellner and Mrs. James K. Brusseau.

Mrs. Pazik became the 25th president in the group's 45 years of existence.

West Bloomfield Parents Protest School Transfer

Oppose Sending Children Into Pontiac

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Parents of some 60 children in the Whitfield School area in West Bloomfield Township are protesting plans by the Pontiac School Board to transport children to the Louisa May Alcott School in Pontiac, about six miles away.

The move was announced in letters sent out to parents of third and fifth grade children in Pine Lake Manor, Sylvan Manor and Hammond Estates subdivisions.

A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Whitfield School gymnasium at which time Dana Whitmer, superintendent of schools, and officials in the planning and transportations departments of the school will explain the need for the transfer.

Civic associations of Pine Lake and Sylvan Manor have named school committees to handle the matter for the parents. Mrs. John Radcliffe is chairman of the Pine Lake group, assisted by Mrs. William Burr, Mrs. John Batts and Mrs. Dale Bartholomew. Mrs. Victor Sutt heads the Sylvan committee.

They said they will press for a definite commitment from school officials on when the proposed elementary school on Square Lake road will be constructed. The future need of a new junior high school in the township also will be discussed.

Couple to Show Colored Slides of Far East

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Colored slides of Far East countries such as Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Thailand will be shown to the public at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Walled Lake Senior High School.

The pictures were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Rolland on a recently completed 18-month trip around the world. The Rollands, who lived for many years in this area prior to their leisurely global wandering, now reside in Ann Arbor.

The pictures which Rolland will show and comment upon are part of a collection of 2,000 taken on the trip. He is grouping the pictures and preparing commentary so that he can readily prepare showings for different audiences.

Tuesday evening's affair is sponsored by the Commerce Township Democratic Club. Mrs. Aldona Hoppe and Mrs. Victoria Coleman will serve refreshments.

BARBARA YVONNE GREENE

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Greene of Utica have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Yvonne, to Raymond Yorkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover R. Yorkey of Churchill road, Auburn Heights. The wedding date hasn't been set.

3 Area Girls Win in Science Exhibit

WALLED LAKE — Two Walled Lake Junior High School girls and one from Clarkston were among the four north Oakland County winners in the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair, disproving any contentions that the science field belongs to the male.

The Walled Lake winners were Marise Potter who took third place in general science for her bacteriology exhibit, and Karen Eicher, ninth place winner in hydroponics (the growing of plants in fluids instead of soil).

Dick Serwin of Pontiac Central High School was the grand prize winner.

Walled Lake Junior High had six entries in the fair. All either received winner's awards or ribbons for honorable mention. Their instructor is Harry Eastep.

One Candidate Seeks School Post at Troy

TROY — Unless someone files for the June 9 school district election by 4 p.m. today Troy will find itself with one candidate and one vacancy.

Jack Muir is seeking the expiring three-year post of Gerald Baril who has declined to run again.

Troy wwil vote, however, on whether to become a third class district. One of the greatest differences, if the new classification is approved, would be the seven-member school board. Now a fourth class district the school system operates with a five-man board.

Record Sales Reported

DETROIT (AP)—S. S. Kresge Co. reported record 1957 sales at its annual stockholders meeting Friday in Dtroit. The firm said its 1957 sales of $377,169,219 were the highest in company history and exceeded those of 1956 by $10,813,838 or 2.95 per cent. Kresge said its 1957 net income was $14,463,494, an increase of $116,238 over 1956.

Mayor's Fate Rests in Hands of Governor

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The fate of Mayor Thomas S. Welsh of St. Clair Shores has been placed in the hands of Gov. Williams.

The lengthy ouster hearing against Welsh ended yesterday and a summary of the testimony was to be forwarded to the Governor for a decision. Williams must decide whether Welsh is guilty of misconduct by allegedly using his mayoral office to further his real estate business.

Welsh has denied all accusations against him.

It may be some time before the Governor hands down a decision since the 1,750 page summary of the six-month Welsh hearing was expected to take at least two months before landing on Williams' desk.

School Prom Friday

NORTH BRANCH — The Junior-Senior Prom of the North Branch High School will be held at the school gymnasium Friday evening. Dancing to the music of the Simmons Orchestra will be from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

LAPEER — Mrs. Ella G. Rolland, 69, of 1929 Millville Rd., collapsed on Nepessing street in downtown Lapeer yesterday about 6:30 and died.

Dr. Lyle Riddell, Lapeer County coroner, said she died of a heart attack.

County Rabbit Breeders Set Meeting Wednesday

The Oakland County Rabbit Breeders Assn. will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the cement block building at the 4-H Fairgrounds in Pontiac.

This will be an education meeting, planned for newcomers to rabbit raising. Members of 4-H and Future Farmers of America clubs have been invited.

Safety Patrol Captain Visits Washington

FOUR TOWNS—Bobby Lamb, a sixth grade safety patrol captain at the Four Towns Elementary School, is in Washington, D. C., this weekend touring the capital and visiting lawmakers.

The son of Mrs. Howard Lamb of Wilmot street, he was selected for the free trip by the Traffic Division of the Automobile Club of Michigan in recognition of his outstanding work on his school's safety patrol.

Half-Way Mark Nearly Reached on 'Space Trip'

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. Jack Neiman Jr. neared the halfway point of his "space flight" here today and scientists watching him in the sealed low pressure chamber said he should easily make the full trip of 48 hours.

For most of the first 12 hours the pressure was reduced to a point to simulate flight at 80,000 feet — an altitude at which death would come in about two minutes should anything happen to Neiman's space suit.

The flight being conducted at the Norfolk Naval Air Station, was designed specifically to test the new lightweight space suit being worn by Neiman, 34, a resident of Jeffersonville, Vt. Naval officials said, too, that results obtained would be used in the Navy's studies on how to keep men alive in space ships and satellites.

Cmdr. A. L. Hall, officer in charge of pressure suit indoctrination, said early today "we're shooting for 48 hours." Earlier, the only indication of how long the test would last was that Neiman hoped to break the record of 24 hours and 20 minutes for such earth-bound space flights. This record was set last month by Lt. (J.G.) Arthur F. Vohden at San Diego, Calif.

2 Nations May Unite Air Forces

U. S., Canada Expected to Agree on Joint Plan for Continental Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) —Canada and the United States are expected to announce Monday joint arrangements for repelling any Soviet air attack on the North American continent.

The two countries are expected to exchange diplomatic notes setting out the procedures to be followed by the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., in event of a Soviet assault over the arctic regions.

The agreement is expected to spell out precisely the conditions under which Canadian air force squadrons could be ordered into battle by the Colorado Springs headquarters in time of emergency.

It thus would arm the Air Defense Command with advance Canadian approval, provided the emergency situation met conditions specified in the agreement.

In the last Canadian Parliament, some members argued that Canada's nine jet interceptor squadrons were being placed under American command without the prior approval of Parliament.

Defense Minister G. R. Pearkes said the two countries must be considered as a single nation for purposes of air defense and that interceptor squadrons from both air forces would operate as a single team.

Nation Observing Armed Forces Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States parades its military might today in Armed Forces Day programs across the country.

The main celebration centered at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., where the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard prepared an elaborate display of ground and air strength. Lesser programs were arranged elsewhere.

The theme of this year's Armed Forces Day is "Power for Peace."

The Andrews program, which will extend into Sunday, features the biggest collection of rockets, missiles and supersonic planes ever opened to the public. Some 250,000 persons are expected to watch the two days of demonstrations.

Traffic Deaths Often Caused by Common Object

From National Safety Council

Unrelated, you say? Not so. They're all potential accident causes. How?

Let's suppose you're cruising down the highway at 60 m.p.h. and drop your cigarette. Take only four seconds to pick it up and you've gone the length of a football field — and then some!

Same thing with a back-seat squabble. Turn around to break it up and you may find yourself welded to the rear of another car that stopped suddenly in front of you.

The tales of woe of persons who've been victims of distractions are usually good for a laugh — until an accident occurs. Then it's not so funny.

Tulip Festival to Open

HOLLAND (AP)—Holland's big annual tulip festival opens May 14 and runs through May 17. The tulips in the southwestern Michigan community are reported in perfect shape for the festival due to the sunny, cool weather which is just right for tulips.

At Southfield Council Meeting

To Weigh Mayor's Veto

Swem, former township supervisor, was named to the post by the council two weeks ago at a salary of $9,500 a year.

Five votes will be needed to override the veto.

ELAINE C. BARTEL

CAROLYN LEACHER

2 Scholarships Given by Women's Clubs

The Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs has announced the awarding of two three-year nursing scholarships, one to a Rochester girl and the other to a Pontiac girl.

Selected were Elaine C. Bartel, a senior at Rochester Community High School, and Carolyn Leacher, who currently is in her first semester at the Harper Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit.

Each year, through various fund raising projects, the federation will raise about $300 to help the girls finance their education. They were chosen from 15 candidates, presented by local woman's clubs, on basis of their high school academic records and recommendations from their teachers.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Bartel of 1574 Crooks Rd., Rochester. Carolyn's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Leacher of 22 Murphy St., Pontiac.

Both were officers in the Future Nurse's Clubs in high school and plan to study for bachelor of science degrees after completing their registered nurse's training.

Racket Probers Call for FBI

Ask Investigation of Union-Employer Stock Dealings in East

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets investigators called today for an immediate FBI investigation of asserted cut rate stock dealings between some labor union officials and some East Coast employers.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the rackets investigating committee, said the Justice Department is being asked to study committee testimony for possible violation of federal antiracketeering and labor laws.

The committee yesterday called a tentative halt in its own inquiry into these deals after a Philadelphia grocery chain executive testified his firm let certain union officials and their relatives buy stocks and bonds at bargain basement rates.

Louis Stein, president of Food Fair Stores, said this was done to avoid ill will, but not to curry favor.

He denied that Food Fair received softer contracts with the unions than competitors did. But committee chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) called that a point subject to debate.

Stein took the stand after George Kopecky, a committee investigator, testified that 21 unionists or relatives of union officials paid $42,100 for securities worth $90,400 on the open market. No one challenged this.

Kopecky said the transactions dealt with securities of Food Fair, Properties, Inc., a subsidiary Food Fair which has stores in eight Eastern and Southern states.

Listed among the buyers were Max Block, an international vice president of the butchers union and head of its New York locals 342 and 640, and his brother Louis, who administers the union's program and welfare fund.

Kalamazoo Strike Nears Settlement

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Workers at the New York Air Brake Co. plant near Kalamaazoo meet Sunday to hear the terms of a tentative agreement ending a lengthy strike at the plant.

The plan to end the 58-day-old strike was reached yesterday.

793 Students Honored

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A record 793 students were honored for academic achievement Friday at the University of Michigan's 35th annual honors convocation. In addition, a record 60 James B. Angell scholars were honored. Angell scholars are those who maintain a straight A report card for two consecutive semesters.

Wants More Chryslers

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's purchasing agent, J. Harrison Kettle, suggested to City Council Friday that Detroit buy more of its official cars from Chrysler, the city's biggest employer. He said Detroit owns 1,110 Fords, 198 Chevrolets and only 38 Chrysler-made cars.

Ontario's mines in 1956 produced minerals that were worth $660 million.

Books by State Men Added to Library

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Two best-selling novels written by Michigan authors were among the new books added to the shelves of the West Bloomfield Township Library.

They were "Anatomy of Murder" by Robert Traver, the pen name of Michigan Supreme Court Justice John C. Voelker, and "They Came to Cordura" by Glendon Swarthout, who is on the faculty of Michigan State University.

Other new books are:

FICTION

"The Travels of Jamie McPheeters" by Taylor, "Ice Palace" by Edna Ferber, "Blake's Reach" by Gaskin, "A Glass Rose" by Bankowsky, "The Silk Cotton Tree" by Esther Warner, "The Sergeant" by Murphy, "Day of Battle" by Van de Water, and "A Lesser Lion" by Kauffman.

NON-FICTION

"High Speed Diesel Engines" by Heldt, "Plant Maintenance Manual" by Clement, "Automobile Repair Manual" 29th Edition, "I Was a Slave in Russia" by Noble, "Masters of Deceit" by Hoover, and "The Voyage of the Lucky Dragon" by Lapp.

Mrs. Reba Walker Wed to William Merchant

LAPEER — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Mrs. Reba Walker of Lapeer to William Merchant of Durand. The rite was performed by the Rev. Egbert Smith, pastor of the Methodist Church in Durand, in the home of the bridegroom.

Attending the couple were the bride's son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Keeran of Durand. The newlyweds left on a trip to northern Michigan.

Don't expect world conditions to improve much until people do... Most men don't take the boss home to dinner — she's already there... Times have certainly changed; nowadays some of our best ideas come from men who just stare into space. — Earl Wilson.

Claims Sailor Was Murdered

Shipmate of Dead Lad From Detroit Disputes Navy's Suicide Verdict

DETROIT (AP) — A Navy claim that a young Detroit sailor hanged himself has been disputed by a friend of the victim.

Gerald L. Young, 18, of Detroit says "I'm certain as anything" that John E. Ruttan, 18, also of Detroit, did not commit suicide while aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard.

Young, who served aboard the same carrier, was arrested by Detroit police this week as an AWOL from the big ship. He was turned over to Naval authorities who are holding him at Grosse Ile Naval Air Station.

Ruttan's body was found in a paint locker aboard the ship while it was at Bremerton, Wash. A rope was around the dead youth's neck.

Young said he was one of the last persons to see Ruttan alive.

"I was with him from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. the day he was found dead," Young said. "They say he died about 20 minutes after I left him. When I last saw him he was laughing and joking. I'll never believe he took his own life."

Ruttan was ruled a suicide by the Navy. However, the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Ernst, claim he was murdered. The claim has been backed up by Al Segerquist, Kitsap County coroner at Bremerton. Segerquist has attempted to hold an inquest into the death but it was blocked by a court order.

Fighting With Detective Results in 60-Day Terms

Two men who pleaded guilty to fighting with a Pontiac detective were sentenced to 60 days in the Oakland County Jail yesterday.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum passed sentence on James D. Stevens, 23, of 2607 Williams Dr., Waterford Township, and Robert L. Vallance, 19, of 3660 Alida St., Rochester.

The pair fought with Detective Albert W. Foster Sr., of 275 S. Marshall St., when he found them in a neighbor's yard and tried to question them.

To Resign Scout Post

MIDLAND (AP) — Ruth Rankin plans to resign as executive director of the Midland County Girl Scouts, a post she has held for the past 19 years. Miss Rankin's resignation becomes effective July 31.

May Reach Market Earlier Than Usual

Style Changes Forseen on '59 Autos

By DAVID J. WILKIE
A P Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The 1959 autos which may reach the market somewhat earlier than usual this year, will have broad styling changes; engineering changes will not be of major proporations.

This is indicated in commitments made to suppliers of major subassemblies and parts. There will be larger windshields and rear windows.

There will be more body changes. Some cars will be longer. Barring unexpected changes in planning the only new shorter length car to appear will be Studebaker-Packard's projected new low price car.

American Motors, only auto maker to sell more cars this year than in comparable 1957, will continue its 108-inch and models. It has an 85-inch wheel-100-inch wheelbase Rambler base model in its imported Metropolitan.

What 1959 price tags will show is anybody's guess. It has been said the car makers would try to avoid price advances. But they already have served notice higher wages will mean increased prices.

When Edward T. Ragsdale, Buick general manager, made that statement in a Boston address a few weeks ago, it was accepted he was speaking on behalf of the entire General Motors group. If General Motors advances prices the remainder of the industry probably will also increase them.

Higher prices may have been a factor in the tightening up of consumer demand. But economic uncertainty probably is the major factor. Some analysts have said dissatisfaction with 1958 model cars also was a consideration.

To this industry spokesmen reply that the styling and size of present American cars are not responsible for the slump in sales. The lag in automotive sales, they say followed by several months the downturn in the nation's economy.

They assert also that the surge in small car sales had its beginning in a period of high prosperity and full employment; that demand for them did not leap forward with the appearance of the recession.

The industry has its top executives along with its promotion agencies hard at work trying to break through the sales resistance. Despite their efforts, however, independent surveying agencies agree that car sales will not pick up materially in the months immediately ahead.

Most of these agencies agree, too, that the industry did not cause the recession. They say a substantial pick-up in the auto industry could come in this year's fourth quarter — if a general economic improvement restores consumer confidence.

Hollywood Headlines

'Logic' by George Burns: 'I'm Too Old to Retire'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I can't retire—I'm too old!" That's George Burns' pleasantly illogical explanation of why he is going to carry on despite Gracie Allen's retirement.

Gracie is bowing out of their long-time partnership after this TV season, and the Burns and Allen show will be no more, except in reruns.

But George will have his own show, if he has his way. What will he call it

"The George Burns Show, I guess," he replied. He will play the part of a producer.

"As a producer, I can produce anything I want," he said. "That can lead to all kinds of situations. My son Ronnie will be on the show and he'll be getting involved with the various girls in my productions. Harry Morton will have his office in the same building as mine, and his wife Blanche will be around too. And we'll never be able to get rid of Harry von Zell."

George admitted he will miss Gracie.

"Gracie really had to work harder than I did," he said. "Our scripts would run about 49 pages and she'd be in about 37 of them. And her lines were always nonsensical, which are the hardest to memorize.

"I'd say, 'How are you?' and she'd answer, 'There it is on the floor.' It's murder to remember stuff like that.

"As of now, Gracie says she never wants to work again. But I'm not ruling out the possibility that she'll change her mind after a while."

Prison Funds Cut for State

Gov. Williams Approves $16.2 Million, Calls It Inadequate, Risky

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams approved a $16,200,000 appropriation bill for the State Corrections Dept. yesterday, but said it was inadequate and increased chances for a prison riot.

"The heads of the Corrections Dept. are uttering sharp warnings that the prisons are overcrowded," the Governo: said "This is the same condition which preceded the riot at Jackson (Southern Michigan Prison) in 1952, and it is most unfortunate that the legislature has chosen to hold down operation funds at a time when we need more supervision rather than less."

Williams had asked the Republican-controlled legislature to allocate $16,776,000 for corrections, $726,000 more than last year. Even that was inadequate, he said, since it was based on an expected average inmate population of 10,500 in the next year.

Total prison population already has gone up to 10,518 and is steadily climbing, he said.

Body of Man Is Found in Rear Seat of Car

A Pontiac man, John R. Helms, 47, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Friday, from a gunshot wound in his chest, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Helms had been living at 49 Pine St. He had been seriously ill recently and undergone several major operations, according to deputies. The wound was self inflicted said detectives. A 16-gauge shotgun was found near his body.

Powell Faces Charges but Is Not Convicted

A headline over a New York dispatch in yesterday's paper, regarding Rep. Adam C. Powell Jr., was incorrect in saying Congressman Powell had been "convictd" of income tax evasion.

He has been indicted on charges of tax evasion by a federal grand jury, but the charges have not yet been heard in court.

Prove We're Wrong—UAW

Union Challenges Big 3 to Show How Demands Are Inflationary

DETROIT (INS) — The giant United Auto Workers Union challegent the auto industry "big three" today to "prove our new contract demands are inflationary."

"Do it," cried the union, "and we'll lower them."

Both General Motors and Ford Motor Company yesterday lambasted the UAW, charging new contract demands will "run us out of business" . . . "raise 1959 car prices $300" and "cost us $500 million."

Negotiations between the UAW and the big three auto makers, including Chrysler Corp., as well as GM and Ford, resume monday.

Henry Ford II indicated he considered Walter P. Reuther's long list of union economic demands a joke. "Even though these demands have been made with apparent sincerity," he said, "no one, of course, should take them seriously." Ford added:

"No auto company could grant such demands and expect to stay in business."

Ford said any increase in labor costs, even a few cents an hour, would have to be reflected in immediate price increases on both cars and trucks.

GM has made public a "fact sheet" in which it itemized the UAW's package — exclusive of any profit sharing. GM claims the UAW is seeking fore than 73 cents an hour in increases.

E. S. Patterson, administrative assistant to UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock, charged GM's figures were "fantastic." The union so far in its contract negotiations with GM, Ford and Chrysler, has not offered a "fact sheet" of its own.

Dr. Tukey Keeping Mum on MSU Resignation (?)

EAST LANSING (AP)—Dr. Harold B. Tukey clammed up entirely today, refusing comment on reports he has submitted a letter of resignation as top athletic-policy-maker at Michigan State University.

Contacted by telephone at his farm near Hastings, all Tukey would say was "Sorry, no comment." He refused to verify or deny that there was such a letter. The Detroit News said Tukey had submitted a letter to Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president, resigning as chairman of the Athletic Council and faculty representative to the Big Ten.

Sips Coffee to Work Up Nerve

Youth Admits Killing Girl Friend's Husband

By ED MARKAITY

IONIA (AP) — "I had a cup of coffee and it took about 15 minutes to get up enough nerve to shoot him."

Thus did 17-year-old Larry Fisher tell State Police Detective Thomas Krusniak of the April 12 rifle slaying of Robert McNinch, 52, a Belding factory worker.

The former Midland youth gave a formal statement to Ionia County Prosecutor Ronald Van Buren admitting the slaying and backyard burial was planned two weeks earlier with 26-year-old Mrs. Marian McNinch, the mother of six small children, ages 3 to 12.

Fisher and the woman were arrested Thursday. They are held at Ionia County Jail.

The youth said he and Mrs. McNinch fell in love in the six months he lived at the four-room McNinch home.

A formal statement was awaited today from Mrs. McNinch. Van Bureau said first-degree murder warrants against the two probably would be issued Monday.

A drab young woman married at the age of 14, Mrs. McNinch orally admitted yesterday to Van Buren a part in the slaying. She was taken into the McNinch household as a young girl. They were married after the death of McNinch's first wife.

The woman first told Sheriff Van Vleck and Belding Police Chief William Chrystler her husband was missing. Investigating reports from fellow employes of McNinch and neighbors' reports of his absence led police Thursday to the body in a lime-packed grave about 75 feet from the house.

Mrs. McNinch then said she had shot her husband with a .22 caliber rifle after a quarrel over Fisher. Her husband had ordered him from their home a few days earlier, she said.

They admitted to Van Buren that Fisher held the bolt-action rifle and fired it into the victim's head as he lay asleep on a couch. The children, they said, were outdoors at the time and later taken by Mrs. McNinch to the Wilson home.

Killer Slated to Tell Story in Nebraska

The 19-year-old former garbage collector has admitted involvement in 11 slayings last January in Nebraska and Wyoming.

Gaughan told the jury the act was committed while Starkweather was suffering from delusions. He entered a plea of innocent by reason of insanity and Starkweather showed annoyance when counsel referred to delusions and subnormal intelligence. But he remained silent.

The defense attorney said Charles contends he shot Jensen, killed by six bullets in the back of the head, when Jensen launched an attack. Gaughan indicated he will attempt to get Starkweather to tell that story from the stand. It would, he told the jury, be proof of insaniy.

Returning to court, Starkweather made an apology to Carney. Then they shook hands.

Starkweather's testimony is expected around mid-week. It will follow introduction by the county signed confessions. Court is reattorney of parts of Charles' cessed over the week-end.

Hold Attractive Redhead in Murder at Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police today were holding an attractive redhead today for investigation of murder in the shotgun slaying of her husband.

Dead on arrival at a Detroit hospital today from a 12 gauge shotgun wound in the right side of his chest was Stephen Wenk, 43, of Detroit.

Police took his wife, Evelyn, 33, to headquarters for questioning. They said the couple visited a tavern last night and a family argument ensued.

Fight Purchase of Lapeer Site

Taxpayers Opposed to Location of County Offices and Jail

LAPEER — The stage has been set for a legal battle over plans to locate the new Lapeer County offices building and jail away from Lapeer's business district.

An injuction was served Thursday on County Clerk Lyle Stewart, restraining the county from purchasing 13 acres of state property on M-24 near the city limits as the site for the new buildings.

Filed by Attorney Carl Williams for George Skene, another attorney, the taxpayers' suit came on the heels of the Board of Supervisor's close decision Monday night to purchase the Lapeer State Home property. A certified check, for $6,100, dated Wednesday and payable to the state, had been sent to Lansing as papyment for the property prio rto the serving of the injunction, Stewart said.

Williams said he will seek to block the purchase on grounds that building fund money voted four years ago by residents wasn't intended to be used to buy land.

A Lapeer Citizens Committee has opposed locating the jail and office building away from the center of the city.

Bomb Detroit Firm; Number Six in Series

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit auto wash was damaged by a bomb today, making it the sixth Detroit business establishment to be damaged by bombs since January.

For the first time, however, police have a witness although her description of the bombers and their two cars is vague.

The Rinaldo Rosati Auto Wash (at 19328 Joy road) was the business establishment damaged this time. The owner, Rinaldo Rosati, 50, said he knew no reason for the bombing but admitted, as did the proprietors of the other damaged places, that he recently cut prices.

The black powder bomb, gunpowder and metal washers paced in a beer can with a short fuse attached, was exploded against the rear of the building shortly after midnight. The blast shattered one door and knocked another off its hinges. Rosati estimated the damage at about $350.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ALICE Beamer on Mothers Day. Mother has gone to the promised land. Where Jesus led her by the hand. Where there is no sickness, pain or death. Only eternal happiness. Where roses bloom all the year. Her name was sweet, her memory clear. She was sweet, meek and mild and Jesus has taken his angel child. Sadly missed by the family.

Fifth Avenue to Get GM Show Spotlight

NEW YORK — One of the world's most glamorous and fascinating streets — Fifth Avenue in New York City — will be spotlighted tomorrow on General Motors' Wide Wide World telecast.

More than 25 television cameras, some mounted on mobile units, will take viewers on a spring afternoon stroll from Greenwich Village to Harlem.

The live program, entitled "Fifth Avenue New York," will be presented over NBC-TV from 3 to 4:30 Pontiac time.

During its 90-minute stroll up Fifth Avenue, Wide Wide World host Dave Garroway will stop for brief visits at Washington Square, Rockefeller Center, Central Park Zoo, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, various fashionable Fifth Avenue stores and the 369th Field Artillery Armory, upper terminus of the avenue.

The Great Empress Dowager Tseu-Hi ruled more than 500 million subjects in China in the late 1800's. She was only 26 years old when she assumed the throne in the name of her young son.

'Verdict Is Yours' Plans Hour-Long Night Version

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Jim McKay and his very popular CBS-TV daytime show, "The Verdict is Yours" (daily, 3:30 p.m.), is presently working on a full-hour nighttime version. There will, of course, have to be some changes.

JIM McKAY

If you know this fine show, you know it consists of actual court cases, or what seem to be actual court cases. Real lawyers work both sides, actors are briefed in their testimony but none is memorized.

The whole thing works out well. And the cases continue until they're finished, without regard for a definite schedule.

For the nighttime version, each case will have to be completed in the one hour. So they've prepared two possible formats — in one, the jury reports on that show, having only a set time to deliberate. In the other, they deliberate as long as they want, reporting their verdict the following week.

(The motto of the bar association, "Verdictum Vobis" — the Verdict Is Yours — was translated by Jim Egan, one of the $64,000 Question Egan brothers who did a trick as a lawyer).

Overlook is taking on definite character as the weeks and cases go by. The streets and other permanent places are gradually acquiring names — and everyone has a hand in naming them.

There's the Ream Hotel — named after a production assistant — and the suburb of Bonneyville — named after producer Eugene Burr's pretty secretary.

Confidentially Yours:
*E-ZONE Hearing Secret

Men and women hear again with nothing in either ear through thrilling Sonotone research discovery. Only YOU will know your E-Zone* secret —a transistor hearing aid completely concealed in stylish glasses. Yet you use both ears (the natural way to listen) to enjoy binaural hearing, recommended by doctors. Latest hearing development, based on Sonotone bone-conduction invention, bypasses outer ears.
*E-Zone: Everything worn at EYE-EAR level, nothing worn anywhere else.
