Author Attacks Physical State of U.S. Youths

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of five articles based on the book "Is Your Child Really Fit?" by Bonnie Prudden, published by Harper & Bros.)

I became conscious of physical deterioration among our youth a number of years ago. I discovered it personified in my two daughters—then aged eight and four.

The age-old call to childhood from over the hills and far away the minute school was out had been stilled. Instead, there was a strange narcotic—the comfortable and almost motionless oblivion to be found in the synthetic hills and prefab adventures of the television screen.

My first step was to organize a little group—five neighborhood playmates for each of my daughters. We met for a comparatively brief interval each week for an organized exercise class. The children ran, jumped, climbed and did exercises. In short, they moved. Or at least some of them did.

One day Dr. Hans Kraus happened to be among a group of physicians invited to watch our group in action. I pointed out the development that impressed me most—the children now could really run!

"Why shouldn't they be able to run?" he said. "They appear to be normal human beings."

Were there not, I asked, some sort of tests that could be applied to these children that would determine the degree of their improvement over a year?

"There are many tests," he said. "I would suggest you try them out on the minimum tests which we have used to gauge the very least degree of strength and flexibility necessary for healthy living."

What, then, are these tests? What do they actually reveal in terms of your child—and yourself?

They are known as the Kraus-Weber Tests for Minimum Muscular Fitness.

The tests are simple—so simple that I have seen an undernourished European child accomplish them with ease. So simple that four-year-olds can pass them—and eighty-four-year-olds.

The first test determines the condition of the abdominal muscles. In it, the subject lies flat on his back, legs outstretched, his hands placed behind his head. The examiner holds the feet to the floor. The subject then is directed to "roll up into a sitting position." Just sit up once, without using his hands to help him.

In the second, the subject takes the same position, but with knees bent, and again is told to sit up without using his hands.

If your child fails in either or both of these tests, it means that the abdominal muscles are dangerously weak.

Test number three reveals the strength or weakness of the lower abdominals and hip flexors.

In this, the subject again lies flat on his back, legs outstretched, hands behind his head. Then he is directed to raise his feet, keeping his legs straight, about ten inches. He must hold the position for a ten-second count. To get a fairly accurate count, add the word "chimpanzee" after each count.

Test number four shows the strength of the upper back muscles. The subject lies prone. A pillow is placed CHAMPION AT PARTY — If Rinty today were to ask for a big, juicy bone, chances are that her owner Sharon Motsinger, 14, of 372 Newport Ave., would get her this and anything else she desired. For among 42 dogs entered Saturday in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept.'s "Pooch Party," Rinty captured the top prize as the best all around dog of the show. Two-year-old Rinty also was judged best trick dog in the senior division. The pet also was awarded prizes for "best pet combination," and aided Sharon in winning a "best informed owner" prize. The Pontiac Kennel Club co-sponsored the annual show.

Faubus Threatens Call of State Legislature to Prevent Integration

But the city and nation's interest focused on Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus and his apparent intention to call a special legislative session to revise his state's school integration laws.

Faubus today said that "at the moment, it appears very likely there will be a special session of the Legislature" to take up the integration crisis.

At the same time it was reported the Justice Department is considering a move to broaden its court injunction against interference with integration at Central High.

The nine Negro students, brought to the school again in an Army station wagon, walked up the long steps into the main entrance without flanking escort of paratroopers for the first time since the 101st airborne took over last Wednesday.

No jeers or catcalls came from a group of about 50 white students standing along the stairway.

Military authorities have indicated that "progress" in easing tension and withdrawing military positions gradually around the school is their watchword.

Although Faubus was described as on the verge of issuing a special session call, none of the legislative leaders most likely to be advised of such a final decision had received formal notice.

What the 47-year-old Governor decides to do may be affected by what happens tomorrow in Washington when President Eisenhower confers with a committee of five southern governors on the entire integration issue.

Faubus, apparently busy checking all possibilities in secret conferences, dropped out of sight for hours last night en route from Fayetteville to the state capital. His wife, Mrs. Alva Faubus, preceded him to the executive mansion and said he could "not be reached" during the night.

Faubus said last week he had received numerous requests from legislators for an immediate special session to consider ways of circumventing the court order for integration. One approach most seriously urged would call for closing Central High and then reopening it as a privately-run institution. Legal experts then believe federal troops would have no right to remain.

FAUBUS MAY SUE

The Governor also has said he may file a suit of his own seeking a court injunction ordering withdrawal of the regular Army forces sent in when President Eisenhower federalized the Arkansas National Guard last wek.

Ford won 11 and lost 5 games this year. Spahn won 21 and lost 11 for the Braves. He was named by Manager Fred Haney yesterday.

HOFFA'S HIDEAWAY — James R. Hoffa's Orion Township cottage (above) is a pleasant place, but its peaceful atmosphere was disturbed by the charge that $14,000 in Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 funds went to remodel it. The cottage at 1624 Allendale Rd. on Square Lake was bought by Hoffa in 1951, now is assessed at $3,300.

Ike's 'Vacation' Comes to End

Returns to Washington to Tackle School Issue With Five Governors

NEWPORT, R. I. (INS) — President Eisenhower ends today a "vacation" that never really was a vacation and flies home to Washington to take up a new phase of the school integration crisis.

A delegation of five Southern governors will call at the White House tomorrow to urge withdrawal of Federal troops from Little Rock at the "earliest possible moment."

TAKE UP PROBLEM

They will find the President prepared to take up the whole integration problem, with accent on the necessity for cooperation between federal and state governments to assure peaceful compliance with the orders of U. S. District Courts.

Eisenhower, who will celebrate his 67th birthday in two weeks, is burned to a ruddy pink from the hours on the golf course during his 27-day stay in Newport and is in what his doctor considers his best physical trim in five years.

Yet his vacation in the mansion-studded oceanside resort never quite came off.

Koren Outlines Controls in Telegraph Traffic Snarl

In answer to complaints about the jammed intersection of Telegraph and Orchard Lake roads, Capt. Joseph Koren, of the Pontiac Police Traffic Department, today outlined the present traffic controls being used.

"We have a traffic light at the intersection and have an officer on duty there, directing traffic, during the peak hours each week-day and on Sunday afternoons," said Koren.

He stated that the hours during which an officer is at the scene are usually from about 4 to 6:30 p.m. The officer can speed traffic only by preventing major traffic jams in the heart of the intersection, Koren asserted.

"The backing up of vehicles and slowing to a crawl are evils which can be remedied only by completion of the construction of the underpass," he said.

He explained that the impossible situation was a combination of factors. Two lanes of traffic from one direction and three from another are being bottled into one lane. This coupled with bumpy, dirt and gravel temporary lanes of traffic, are bound to slow vehicles down and create backing up in each direction of travel, he added.

French Premier in Showdown

Faces Assembly Vote on Algerian Home Rule Against Extremist Foes

The Radical Socialist Premier's hope of remaining in the office he has held for only 3½ months rested primarily on the difficulty the Assembly would have in agreeing on a successor.

Bourges-Maunoury hoped to rally enough center party votes to beat back the combined forces of the Communists on one side and the Poujadists of the extreme right. The vote may be very close. In advance of the Assembly session, he could count definitely on about the same number of votes as the opposition, with about 100 more uncommitted.

The Assembly was expected to debate at length today and tonight, with the vote coming after midnight. A defeat for the government would force it to resign.

Hopes to Block Detroiter's Bid for Presidency

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

MIAMI BEACH—In the opening hours of the 17th annual Teamster convention today, California Congressman John F. Shelly withdrew as a candidate for the presidency, after the convention gave a standing ovation to James R. Hoffa and outgoing president Dave Beck.

Shelly said he hopes his action would start a combined opposition to Hoffa, in the Detroit labor leader's bid to rule the far-flung Teamster forces.

When the election would be held was again up in the air.

Washington, attorneys for 13 rank-and-file Teamster members asked the U.S. Supreme Court to set aside an Appeals Court ruling which lifted an injuction preventing the election.

The attorney charged the election is rigged to put Hoffa in the driver seat of the Teamsters. The petition was sent to Chief Justice Earl Warren, and union attorneys said they would be ready to file an answer by 3 p.m.

The votes of locals under trusteeships, such as Pontiac's 614, may swing the balance in the election, it appeared today.

Challenge of Pontiac Local 614's four delegates was the first to go before the credentials committee in closed session Saturday night. No decision on their status has been revealed.

James R. Hoffa, 44, who got his start in labor affairs at 17 as a warehouse unloader in Detroit and rose to power through activities in Detroit and the Midwest.

Thomas J. Haggerty, 53 who carried his first union card at 14 while working on a horse-drawn milk wagon, and rose to prominence through Chicago labor circles and the International Dairy Union.

William A. Lee, also of Chicago and president of the Chicago Fed-

Eleanor Back Home From Visit to Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says military might alone will not defeat the Soviet Union.

The United States can beat the Russians only by being "far better than they are," she said as she returned here by plane yesterday from a 25-day visit to the Soviet Union.

To make a successful appeal to the world against persistent and carefully conducted Russian diplomacy, Americans need greater knowledge and understanding of that country's background and motives, Mrs. Roosevelt declared.

She advised students of Russian affairs to "study history as you have never studied it before."

Mrs. Roosevelt described Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev, whom she met in a 2¾-hour interview, as a "strong personality, an articulate person, a worker, and one who genuinely feels that communism is the wave of the future."

During her talk with Khrushchev, Mrs. Roosevelt said, they agreed that the world wants peace.

Khrushchev accused her, she said, of hating Communists. To this she reported replying: "Oh no, I don't hate anybody. I don't believe in communism as an ideological way of life."

The Little Rock, Ark., school situation, she said, "was the only piece of world news that appeared in the Communist newspapers."

Asked what comment the Russians made on it, Mrs. Roosevelt replied: "They said exactly what happened. There was no comment of any kind."

33 Persons Die in Train Wreck

Fifty Persons Injured as Freight, Passenger Cars Collide in Pakistan

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Thirty-three persons were reported burned to death and at least 50 injured last night when a passenger train crashed into a freight in West Pakistan.

Reports reaching Karachi said the engine and five cars of the passenger train were wrecked. The freight was stopped at Gambar station, 18 miles from Montgomery.

The passenger train was en route from Karachi to Lahore.

The cause of the collision was not immediately known.

LONDON (AP) — At least 20 persons were killed and 112 injured yesterday when a West African railroad train plunged into a flooding river in Nigeria. Official reports radioed to London said a bridge collapsed as flood waters battered at the embankments of a small river 18 miles north of Ibadan.

More Taxes Slated for Trucking Firms

LANSING (AP) — Some two dozen of the state's larger trucking firms will be slapped with well over $100,000 in additional taxes next year, Secretary or State James M. Hare said today.

Hare said all will come from interstate truckers who have bought licenses for the trailer units of tractor-trailer combinations in Illinois.

Fees for truck licenses in Illinois are based on horsepower, in Michigan on weight.

By purchasing licenses for the tractor unit in Michigan and for trailers in Illinois, Hare said, the Michigan firms have avoided payment of hundreds of thousands of dollars in license fees.

An attorney general's opinion last week upheld Hare's contention that any trucking firm with headquarters in Michigan must purchase licenses for both tractor and trailer units in this state.

Erect Garage Building for Road Commission

Work was to proceed this week on a new $200,000 garage and warehouse completing development of the Oakland County Road Commission headquarters, 2420 Pontiac Lake Rd., in the county service center.

The project is scheduled for completion Feb. 15. When the new headquarters is finished, it will have cost more than $800,000.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is it true that the higher the clouds, the harder the rain — as the old saying goes?

The height of the clouds above usually has little to do with the rainfall at a certain point below. In summer clouds usually build up to great heights. At the Equator, they are higher than at the poles.

The thunderstorm, which is a high cloud, often produces very heavy rain, whereas the lower stratus, which are typical of a cold winter warm front, more often produce a lengthy rain, perhaps extending for several days.

However, the highest clouds are ice clouds, the cirrus clouds. And they produce little or no precipitation. So, the old saying does not hold true as a weather clue.

Nine Accidental Deaths Mar Autumn Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The autumn weekend was marred by the accidental deaths of nine persons in Michigan. Six were killed in traffic, two drowned and a girl fell from a tree and died.

A Charlevoix high school senior drowned Sunday after saving the life of a girl friend who was with him when their outboard motorboat capsized on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix, 100 feet from shore.

The boy, 17-year-old Larry Lambert, held up his girl friend Pauline Chew, 16, of Charlevoix, until rescue boats from shore reached her. The girl was pulled to safety, but before rescuers could grab the boy he sank and disappeared in 60 feet of water.

Solomon C. Whitaker, 33, Trenton, was killed Sunday in the collision of his car and a New York Central passenger train at a railroad crossing in Trenton.

Winoa Diane Wogener, 11, Walled Lake, was killed Sunday when she fell 20 feet from a tree.

Della Kehoe, 78, Grand Blanc Township, was fatally injured Saturday when the car in which she was riding hit a tree near Flint.

Ross Ringley, 34, Jackson, was killed Saturday in a three-vehicle accident near Bay City on U.S. 23.

existing federal court injunction is but one legal approach being considered by the Justice Department. It would be aimed at future protection of court-ordered integration at Central High, the order which both Faubus and a segregationist mob have challenged in different ways.

Federal prosecution of agitators who led last Monday's mob outside the high school is now regarded as a certainty. The only question is whether the crackdown will come by process of indictment and trial, or through contempt of court proceedings. FBI agents have been questioning witnesses and assembling evidence the past week.

Faubus himself is named in the present preliminary injunction issued by Federal Judge Ronald Davies on Sept. 20. Three hours after it was handed down the Governor withdrew the state militia he had assigned to prevent Negro students from entering Central High. There is thought now that a broadened injunction, naming others who constitute a threat to peaceful integration, along with their potential agents, is needed for the future.

In Washington, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell has served notice he will ask President Eisenhower to call a special session of Congress on the integration issue when the chief executive meets with Negro leaders soon.

A special session, Faubus said, could legally wipe out the state public school system.

Presumably the schools would be taken over by private groups on the theory the federal government would have no control over them and would therefore remove the soldiers.

Another proposal is to withdraw state financial aid from schools which integrate.

Two-Month-Old Tot Injured in Accident

A two-month-old baby boy suffered a fractured jaw in an auto collision at 2:45 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of N. Perry and Mt. Clemens streets.

John Milliken, the infant, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital where his condition is reported fair today.

Mrs. Milliken and Nina C. Dallman, 51, of 6053 Elizabeth Lake Rd., a passenger in Bachman's car, were treated for bruises.

laxation he sought from the nerve-wearing grind of the White House.

He had to interrupt his vacation three times to fly back to Washington, twice because of the integration crisis.

There was hardly a day during his stay in Newport that he wasn't on the telephone to Washington discussing the Little Rock situation.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty gave an icy response to talk of a "deal" between the President and Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas in the Little Rock dispute.

Asked whether he knew anything about reports of a compromise under which the governor would agree to enforce school integration if Federal troops were withdrawn, Hagerty replied:

"I most certainly do not."

The President obviously was in no mood to talk compromise to Faubus, whom he accused Saturday of encouraging mob violence by his open defiance of the federal courts.

The first lady returns to Washington without getting in the sightseeing she had hoped in Newport. Still convalescing from her Aug. 6 operation, she went out only twice during her vacation, both times for cruises in Narragansett Bay.

Hagerty reported that Mrs. Eisenhower was "getting along fine," however, despite her relatively inactive stay in Newport.

The Eisenhowers expected to leave the Newport naval base at about 2:30 p.m. (EDT) and arrive back in Washington on the Columbine III around 5 p.m. directly under the hips, forming a sort of teeter-totter. With his feet held down, the subject is directed to raise his trunk and hold steady for ten seconds.

In number five the subject, still in prone position, raises his legs, keeping his knees straight, and holds for ten seconds, while the examiner holds the upper body down.

In the last of the six tests, the subject performs the old and simple (if you can do it) floor touch. He bends from the hips, with knees straight and feet together, and touches finger tips to the floor. To pass, he must keep them there for a count of three. I have tested seven-year-old youngsters who came short of the floor by seventeen inches!

Using these six tests, then, any parent can measure the ability of a human body to meet the minimum physical demands that will be made of it.

If by age six the child has acquired the necessary minimum of physical ability, he can hold on to it throughout life fairly easily—with a reasonable amount of exercise.

If he does not have it by age ten, acquiring it at all becomes more difficult. If he does not have it by age sixteen, the chances are great that he will never acquire it. He—or she—will by then have taken on the contours of a depot stove or of a tension-ridden scarecrow. He will be burdened with a body, rather than blessed with one—a permanent member of the rapidly growing tribe of the physically unfit.

(In the second article of this series, appearing tomorrow, Miss Prudden tells why most American children are incapable of passing the simplest physical tests.)

Howell Bypass to Be Finished During Week

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced that the M59 bypass of Howell to U.S. 16 will be completed this week.

The 2.67 miles of new pavement with one railroad and one culvert bridge cost $368,017. Its completion will allow motorists on M59 to avoid going into Howell and then backtracking on U.S. 16.

At stake is control of the largest and most powerful segment of organized labor, a far-flung empire touching about every phase of America's daily life.

1½ MILLION MEMBERS

The teamsters Union has more than a million and a half members. (Locals paid per capita tax to the International on 1,589,850.)

The IBT (International Brotherhood of Teamsters) is made up of 892 local unions, comprising 46 joint councils and 4 area conferences.

The International's treasury shows a current balance of more than $38 million dollars, an increase of about $11 million in the past 5 years.

The scope of this million-and-a-half army of workers can be visualized by a look at the 16 trade divisions which comprise the International. They are:

Automotive, petroleum and allied trades;
Bakery workers;
Brewery and soft drink workers;
Building material and construction drivers;
Cannery workers;
Chauffeurs and taxicab drivers;
National dairy division;
Interstate conference of dairy employes;
Federal, state, municipal and public service employes;
Fresh fruit, vegetable and produce industry;
Laundry, linen and dry cleaning drivers;
Miscellaneous division;
National over-the-road division;
National truckaway and driveaway division;
National warehouse division.

Later this week, the approximately 1,850 delegates are scheduled to select officers for this giant labor organization. The federal court injunction of last Friday blocking the scheduled vote was lifted late Saturday by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

But all is not yet clear sailing.

The Appeals Court order stipulated that the election can proceed only with delegates selected in accordance with the Teamsters' constitution.

This stipulation apparently adds strength to Haggerty's challenge of the right of delegates from more than 100 locals (with 179 votes) to be seated in the convention.

UNDER QUESTION

Challenged are the so-called "trustee" locals and a number of "paper" locals in the New York area.

(A "trustee" local is one in which the local's affairs have been removed from control of local membership and placed by International in the hands of a trustee. Pontiac Local 614 is one of these; Hoffa is its trustee.

(A "paper" local is one for which a charter has been authorized, but for which there is as yet no actual membership roll. Delegates had been listed for a number of such "non-existent" membership groups.)

The Pontiac delegates are Leaun Harrelson, Floyd Harmon, Alvy Bush and Frank Orsini. It has been charged in the challenge that these delegates' credentials are signed by Hoffa, as trustee, in direct violation of the International constitution. The Pontiac delegates were not available for comment.

BIG ISSUE

Whether such delegates are the choice of and speak for the rank-and-file members, or are hand-picked by Hoffa to assure Hoffa's election is one of the issues facing the credential committee, and perhaps the convention itself.

In addition to Pontiac 614, other locals from the same area whose delegates are challenged are Local 247, covering Wayne, Macomb and Washtenaw Counties; and Detroit Local 902.

There are actually now four possible candidates for the presidency: Hoffa, Haggerty, Thomas L. Hickey of New York and Lee of Chicago.

Lee's formal announcement that he was in the race did not come until late Sunday afternoon and when it did, brought new complications to the race. His campaign may rob Haggerty of some strength.

Likewise, if Hoffa senses defeat he may withdraw and attempt to throw all his support behind Lee, a move which might put Lee across. Whether or not Hoffa's followers would get solidly behind Lee or some turn to Haggerty is not known.

Convict Makes Escape Attempt

Handcuffed Prisoner Breaks Away but Trips and Is Recaptured

An ex-convict broke away from an Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy, shortly after being sentenced in circuit court this morning, in a desperate escape attempt.

Deputy Charles G. Rahn had just reached the side door of the Oakland County jail with his handcuffed prisoner, David E. May, 47, when May broke away, running toward the rear of the building.

With Rahn in hot pursuit, May dashed through the parking lot behind the jail and turn down Warren St. toward Wayne St.

Rahn said he shouted several warnings at May before firing in his direction. The shot was fired at May's feet, ricocheting off the sidewalk and striking the fender of a car parked in a lot on Wayne St.

May then tripped and fell to the sidewalk as he crossed Wayne St. and was nabbed by Rahn before regaining his feet.

May had just been sentenced to serve from 20 to 40 years at Jackson Prison for statutory rape. He was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty.

The Day in Birmingham

Schedule Hearing Tonight on Controversial Alley

BIRMINGHAM — The controversial Maple-Bates Alley is scheduled for another public hearing tonight.

Since its last appearance on the commission agenda, additional studies have been made to evaluate the possibility of more participation by business houses.

Tonight, commissioners will have an even balance—for and against—the alley in communications.

Mrs. Alma Schoeffel has asked that action be taken for the completion of the alley. She points out that it should be considered a necessity on the basis of the general health, safety and welfare of the city.

On the other hand, Eugene A. Moore, another abutting property owner, is requesting the commission to arrive at a "no-necessity" decision.

Moore says "There is no public necessity for the proposed alley and the construction of such an alley is not expedient or advisable."

Operated by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duey, the new establishment carries a line of "health equipment" home furnishings. Commonly-used home items do double service through the media of built-in massage mechanisms.

A group of five Birmingham juveniles have received six months probation before Bloomfield Hills authorities.

One of the youths has a six-months driving suspension while a second has an eight-months suspension.

A 9 p.m. curfew hour for school days and an 11 p.m. for weekends was set. In addition, each is to make a monthly report to Sgt. Robert Schaule, youth officer of the Birmingham Police Dept.

Bloomfield Hills police said they recovered three tires, seven sets of hubcaps and one set of fender skirts, in addition to clearing up numerous incidents of malicious destruction of property.

The weekend saw Hills Police arrest Kenneth King 19, of 3389 Talbot St., Birmingham, and a girl companion from Ferndale for malicious destruction of property. The two were painting the overpass of the Grand Trunk Railroad, police said.

The Birmingham Women's Club will hold its first session of the year tomorrow at 1 p.m. with a dessert luncheon at the Baldwin Public Library.

Mrs. Irene Murphy will speak on "Our Interests in the Far East," and display imported handcraft items from the Philippines.

Dr. Ralph A. Poirier

Rosary services will be at 9 a.m. tomorrow from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., for Dr. Ralph A. Poirier, 40, of 425 Bryn Mawr, who died at his residence Saturday after a brief illness.

Requiem Mass will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday from Holy Name Church, with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

A native of Minnesota, Dr. Poirier came to Birmingham six years ago from Detroit.

An ophthalmologist, he maintained offices in Detroit. He studied medicine in St. Louis, Mo., and at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

He is survived by his wife June and five children; Claudia, Cathleen, Claire, Alex and Greg; his father, Dr. J. A. Poirier of Forest Lake, Minn.; one sister, Mrs. Daniel Ryan of Forest Lake, and a brother, Kenneth B. of Fairbault, Minn.

Looks for Mushrooms, Falls on Hunting Knife

It took 40 stitches to close a stab wound suffered by a Hamtramck man, Saturday, when he fell on his hunting knife while seeking mushrooms near Buno and Childs Lake roads, in Milford Township.

Walled Lake Police reported that Burton L. Cronk, 45, of 2481 Goodson St., was taken to Mackenzie Memorial Clinic, in Walled Lake, where he was treated by Dr. H. L. Munson.

Cronk told police he had been mushroom hunting with two friends, Andrew Babak and John Perdion, also of Hamtramck, when he tripped over a stick and fell on his own knife.

Thunder Over Frisco From Storm, Not Jets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A rare thunderstorm cracked and rumbled over the Bay area yesterday—causing hundreds of startled residents to report that jet planes were creating sonic booms.

The Weather Bureau said it was only the third electrical storm in San Francisco in the last 30 years. A sudden downpour accompanied the rolling thunder.

Politicians Blamed in Haiti Killings

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Supporters of defeated presidential candidate Louis Dejoie were blamed today for the fatal shooting of four mountain guards.

Raiders killed three sleeping soldiers and a sentry early yesterday in the first postelection violence since the ruling military junta suppressed a general strike in Port au Prince Thursday.

The attackers were said to have escaped with supplies and ammunition after the gunfire at Kenscoff, a village 14 miles south of Port au Prince.

Col. Pierre Paret, head of the country's police, took five carloads of steel-helmeted soldiers to Kenscott. They closed all highways leading to the village.

Dejoie, who went into hiding after apparently losing the presidency to Dr. Francois Duvalier in elections Sept. 22, is being sought for questioning by the junta.

West Germany now has her first U-boat submarine for its new armed fleet. It is a holdover from World War II when it was scuttled. It has been raised and refitted.

Bob Considine Says:

Surface of School Issue Barely Touched

NEW YORK (INS)—The surface of the school integration problem has barely been scratched. The distressing scenes at Little Rock are but the tip of an iceberg which the great total bulk of ice has permitted to float into view.

The awesome remainder of the desegregation situation will be brought into focus Tuesday at the White House.

MEETS GOVERNORS

The President will meet with five southern governors who, with the possible exception of McKeldin of Maryland, personally want no part of integration and would be destroyed politically if they did.

Frank Clement, the Tennessee governor who is a member of the committee waiting on the President, told me recently in Nashville:

"I know more people in this state than any other individual. There's not a square yard of Tennessee I haven't covered, talking to them. And my conservative estimate is that somewhere between 90 and 95 per cent of them—whites and Negroes—are against desegregating our schools."

One would expect Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, another White House visitor, to up that estimate to 100 per cent, if the President asks him how Georgia feels about integration.

PRAISED FAUBUS

Griffin was the first to applaud Gov. Faubus' call-up of the Arkansas National Guard to block the integration of nine Negro youngsters into a high school whose enrollment is 2,000.

The alacrity with which Griffin reacted caused some to suspect that Faubus had volunteered to test-case the Supreme Court decision, fronting for other southern governors.

The President has been pictured by intimates as being determined to follow the Little Rock pattern throughout the South, whenever he feels it is necessary.

But one or more of the southern governors is bound to bring up the question of what constitutes basic democracy: Shall the will of a tiny minority of integrationists in a southern state prevail over the vast majority?

The President is expected to reiterate the stand he has taken ever since he moved in the Little Rock situation, and that is the law of the land must be obeyed, no matter how distasteful it is to individuals, else anarchy will result.

Eisenhower's brush with Faubus came to nothing, despite the friendliness of the atmosphere. The only extensive report made on what happened there came from Faubus on his TV appearance the other night in Little Rock. He stated that he had told the President of his extensive work in the field of racial relations. And then he listed his achievements.

"We don't think it's a good idea for our part of the country. We have provided just as good schools for the Negroes and we have found that they themselves don't want this integration. They're happier in their own schools, just as our white children are happier in theirs."

For Little Rock itself, the end is nowhere in sight. Soldiers of the 101st laughingly say, "This may last 15 years." Business is being hurt by the occupation. People wonder what will happen when the Feds go and the National Guardsmen, with friends in the crowds, take over—even if the guardsmen continue to be federalized (at a cost to the U.S. taxpayer, by the way, of $100,000 a day).

Peaceful integration of the nine Negroes cannot continue with the aid of the entire U.S. Army, and all the national guards in the land, plus the Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Atomic Energy Committee, and the shock troops of Cardinal Farley Military Academy of Rhinebeck, N.Y.

In the end it will be accomplished by the united effort of the 110,000 citizens of Little Rock, who in their own way will find the means to re-educate or eradicate the tiny, rabid group that is giving this fair city a worse shiner than Robinson gave Basilio.

Cheats on Soviet

MOSCOW (AP) — A Moscow newspaper reports the case of a "clever graduate student who took examinations for 33 other youths and collected money from each." The paper, "Soviet Russia," said Gennady Kostin admitted taking the examination at 33 different schools. He was jailed and the 33 students expelled.

Donkeys on Last Legs

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's donkey express postal service is reported on its last legs. The newspaper Al Akhbar says postal people have decided to use faster mail delivery in the rural areas where the donkeys plodded roadless expanses.

Tesla's Ashes Home

BELGRADE (AP) — The urn with the ashes of Nikola Tesla, world famous Yugoslav-American scientist-inventor who died in New York in 1943, was brought here this week and placed in the museum commemorating his works.

Red Deputy Foreign Minister

Worked in Rouge Factory

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Vasily Kuznetsov symbolizes an American success story with a Russian accent — "From the open hearths of River Rouge to the Halls of the United Nations."

The affable, 55-year-old Kuznetsov could almost qualify for a Horatio Alger award, that is if he were an American instead of a citizen of Soviet Russia.

BEGINNING HUMBLE

His beginning was humble, his parents poor. He worked in a steel mill, went to college, rose rapidly in trade union ranks, and, then, successfully entered a career in the foreign service.

Now he stands at a pinnacle. He is deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, second man to dour Andrei Gromyko, and the man selected by his government on Friday to rise in the U.N. and voice Russia's proposal for a Summit Conference on disarmament and the Middle East.

During the early 1930s Kuznetsov was sent to the U.S. as an exchange student and worked at Ford's River Rouge plant near Detroit. He still is remembered by some of the men who worked along side of him in the open hearth. While in this country he was graduated from the School of Mines at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh.

TOES THE LINE

Despite all that and the perfect English he speaks, Kuznetsov is a staunch, toe-the-line Communist. But he differs in many respects from the Kremlin - brand Communist.

The Brown - haired, round-shouldered Kuznetsov is personable and gets along well with both Western diplomats and newsmen. He is one of the few Soviet delegates to the U.N. who will speak with correspondence.

Sometimes he fidgets, as if embarrassed, when delivering a cold war speech at the U.N. Once when asked by a Western diplomat about following the party line, Kuznetsov replied:

"My parents were poor people, I came from a small town and have never known anything but Communism."

He first became known in America as chairman of the All Union Council of Trade Unions. He visited the U.S. in that capacity during the friendly days of 1945 and was welcomed by 2,800 persons in New York's Carnegie Hall.

He ran the trade union movement until 1953 when he was named deputy foreign minister. Later he served as ambassador to Red China, and came to the U.N. after the 1955 Geneva Summit Conference.

His wife, who usually accompanies him to New York for U.N. sessions, is a professor at Moscow University.

Jungles in Malaya in the South China Sea are so thick with vines and lush plants that many wild animals wait for elephants to bulldoze a trail for them.

Hungarians Lament Sad Fate of Phone Booths

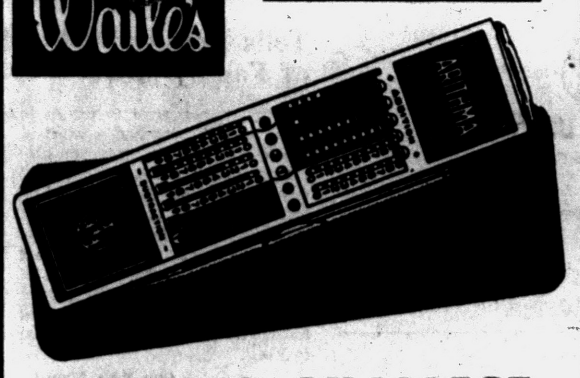

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The newspaper Tiszavidek, published in Szolnok, Hungary, discusses this sad story:

"A year ago we complained that our town had no public telephones and got something done about it. Soon we had some public phone booths installed in our streets, painted attractive yellow and green.

"But we hardly got a chance to test them before: The telephone directories were all stolen, the receivers were stolen, the phones ripped out, the glass panes broken out of the booths. We now ask ourselves whether it was worth the effort to demand public telephone booths for our town."

Autumn Foliage Soon in Top Color Display

The advance guard of the colorful Autumn leaf procession is beginning to take over in the Pontiac area.

It will not be at its peak for a few more days, but preliminary indications point to a strong competitor of the rainbow a little later.

Nature's baton is uplifted, and the rehearsal for the brilliant, melodious and eye-appealing symphony is under way.

The brilliant red of the sumac, mostly in the hedgerows and always jumping the gun on the real show, already is with us.

The yellow of the sassafras is joining the sumac, and is beckoning its allied yellow of the hickory, ash, elm, apple, pear and some other trees to get in line.

When we consider the vivid autumn colors, it is difficult to understand why the word "yellow" often is applied to anybody or anything that does not come up to the standard.

Yellow predominates in the Autumn foliage display, and proves that it is well entitled to the stellar role. What other color could do as well?

Always stubborn, the unyielding oak, ever a rugged individualist, pays no attention to the efforts of the other trees to steal the show.

It waits until the last act, and then brings out its brown and deep purple, which it often carries throughout the winter, while other trees are stark and bare.

Remember, our Oakland County was named for the oak and we're proud of it.

Through all of this Autumn display, the evergreens live true to their name. They often form a seemingly unsophisticated patch among the other colors.

Perhaps this is their way of reminding us of the verdant green that prevailed last summer—and will prevail in all summers to come.

No section of the Pontiac area has any advantage over any other section, as far as the Autumn color display is concerned.

Your own immediate neighborhood does its share. Nature plays no favorites. Even some of the weeds, and the lowly brush, help out.

However, the back roads have an advantage. Our marvelous development has made necessary the removal of the trees contiguous to our main highways. Our many state parks and other recreational areas also are favorable.

The display is almost immediately with us. It simply is a matter of knowing when the show is at its peak.

The architect of our Man About Town column, on this page every day, drives over 50 miles daily on Oakland County roads. He mixes them up, rarely covering the same area on successive days.

He will tell you in that column when the time has arrived to make a drive into our rural sections that will be an ever-soothing and ever-present joyous remembrance during the Winter months.

Facts Show No Fault in Appraiser Selection

Judge ARTHUR E. MOORE was the object of some questioning recently on his selection of appraisers for estates that pass through the Probate Court.

There have been more than 50 appraisers a year named over the last several years and yet there has been no criticism of the character of their work nor the type of service they rendered.

Another interesting point lies in the fact that in the current year 61 appraisers were named by the Judge independently, and 407 were appointed after nominations and recommendations from the beneficiaries of the estates.

We should like to repeat a point we made earlier: namely, that Oakland County's governmental procedures are cumbersome and archaic in some particulars, but no one has been charged with financial peccadillo of any consequence, whatsoever.

A Tie Game Leaves Few in Contest After the Opener

Curiosity: A souvenir post card that doesn't exaggerate — both printed and written.

Good sports to the number of 3,755 were eliminated in the first game in our football contest Saturday when Southern Methodist and Georgia Tech battled to a scoreless tie.

There were 3,814 entries in the contest, 2,192 of whom predicted that Georgia Tech would win, and 1,563 felt that Southern Methodist would take the game.

Only 59 predicted that the contest would end in a tie, so they are the few fortunates who carry over to next Saturday's game between Maryland and Duke. They divide their predictions as follows: Maryland, 27; Duke, 29; tie game, 3.

The contest had 3,814 entries that were in proper form and arrived on time, the largest of any football contest in the several years that it has been conducted.

It was the first time in the history of the contest that the first game resulted in a tie, bringing such a wholesale elimination. To those go our best wishes for better luck next time.

Formerly with the Pontiac Fisher Body plant,

Personal observation and advices from

of the Oakland County Road Commission, tell me that 8½ miles of the pavement on M-15 between Clarkston and Goodrich is being widened. The contract price is $330,000, and the work is under way.

"A dam fool did this."

Feeling that there's good in everybody, even if some of us may sometimes act careless and discourteous,

Mrs. Lucille Brown

In a letter with his football contest entries,

Herman Willer

of Clarkston, writes: "The closing of the regular baseball season, opening of the football season and the World Series will soon push Arkansas off the map and out of mind."

Regarding multiple-generation families,

Mrs. Henrietta Beveridge

of Rochester, states that she holds middle place in one of five generations, "and we expect to make it six in January."

"Another Example of Violence in America"

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Violating Law in Arkansas

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's telegram to Senator Russell of Georgia, chairman of the Senate's Armed Services Committee, explaining why Federal troops were ordered into Arkansas is bound to become a historic document. It may bring about a congressional investigation.

LAWRENCE

The President's motives, of course, were of the best—he thought he was doing the right thing. But there are many legal and constitutional facts that can be cited against what his legal advisers told him to do. Those facts will rise to plague him and his administration for a long time to come.

NO SUPPORT IN LAW

For there is no provision of law which authorizes the President to use the Army for the purpose he outlined. In fact, there is a provision of law which specifically forbids the President to use the Army for the reasons given in his telegram to the Senator from Georgia.

This law was passed in 1878 and is known as the "Posse Comitatus Act." It limits and restricts an earlier law passed in 1871 which the President cited in his official proclamation last week as justification for sending the Federal troops in Arkansas.

"It shall not be lawful to employ any part of the Army of the United States, as a posse comitatus, or otherwise, for the purpose of executing the laws, except in such cases and under such circumstances as such employment of said force may be expressly authorized by the Constitution or by act of Congress."

LAW REPEALED

There is nothing in the Constitution which "expressly authorizes" the use of the Army to enforce any court orders. The only law enacted by Congress which "expressly authorized" the use of the Army to enforce "civil rights" was repealed last summer by Congress.

The President in his telegram to Senator Russell mixes two things that are separate—the alleged acts of the government of the state of Arkansas "seeking to frustrate the orders of a Federal court" and the alleged failure of the state of Arkansas "to utilize its police powers to protect against mobs" those persons "who are peaceably exercising their right under the Constitution as defined in such court orders."

There is no evidence whatsoever that the state of Arkansas was guilty of frustrating any court order after Judge Davies on Friday, Sept. 20, issued his decree enjoining the governor and the commanders of the National Guard against any interference with the entry of the Negro pupils into Central High School.

There is, moreover, no evidence that the "judicial process" had broken down or that, since the previous Friday, anybody acting for the state of Arkansas had actually interfered with the admission of the Negro pupils to Central High School. They attended school on Monday.

The confusion inside the school on Monday led the mayor to "suggest"—but not order—that the Negro students be temporarily withdrawn. Discipline inside a school is, of course, the responsibility of the school authorities with the aid of the mayor, who could have called on the governor to employ state police if necessary to assist him in maintaining discipline in the classrooms.

Yet the Federal troops were ordered out the next morning when quiet prevailed.

The Country Parson

"This'd be a better world if we could only remember nice things about folks as long as we remember what they owe us."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Poor Nutrition Induces Alcohol, Drug Addiction

One of the deficiencies, inferiorities or inadequacies that make people resort to drugs or drink (and should be recognized as a predisposing cause of alcoholism and drug addiction) is malnutrition — or, as we call it nowadays, nutritional deficiency.

DR. BRADY

This works in a vicious circle. Due to the ultrarefined diet followed by most Americans nearly everybody gets insufficient vitamins and minerals to maintain optimal, the best attainable, nutrition.

This, plus peculiar whims of faulty concepts of food and digestion, causes many to develop symptoms of nutritional deficiency disease.

These victims of nutritional deficiency are vaguely aware that they are not quite as well as they'd like to be; they don't know just what is wrong with them but, like the chronic alcoholic, they just want to feel better, and so they take to drugs or drink.

The more they indulge in drugs or drink the less appetite for or interest in food. The less food they consume the more restricted their mistake of vitamins and minerals. Indeed, the partial paralysis (multiple neuritis) some steady hard drinkers develop is due, not to alcohol but to extreme privation of vitamin B.

This holds true also for children in their 'teens who graduate from carbonated soft drinks to cocktails and from cigarettes to drugs—first because they are conscious of their inferiority and alcohol or drug makes them unconscious of inferiority for a while; second because, being feebleminded if not of feeble character, they quickly give way to the taunt of their moronic companions ("chicken") or they haven't the courage to say "no" when everyone else is trying a shot.

A recent survey of parents proved disheartening. It indicates the majority do not think much of the pledge. Some would not object if pastor, teacher, doctor, coach or other leaders asked their children to take the pledge. But only a few share my feeling about the pledge.

Mind, I recommend that children take the pledge not to use alcohol or tobacco in any form before 21. Each child should pledge on some formal occasion, and renew the pledge annually thereafter.

A child old enough to attend school, to love his parents or to pray to God, is old enough to take the pledge. After 21 a person needs no pledge.

The more I learn about nutrition and health and the importance of nutritional deficiency as a cause of everyday complaints, the stronger is my conviction that nutritional deficiency is largely accountable for the young person's predilection for tobacco, alcohol or drugs.

I suggest a simple way to prevent or correct this nutritional deficiency in the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks. Send me a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask for it, whether you are learning to use tobacco, alcohol or drugs.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Father's Influence Bad for Teen Son

My heart goes out to any mother whose husband is always trying to beat the laws of our state. All my 23 years of married life I've been trying to win, but the father-power wins out with my boy, trying to get things pushed through with money to win against the law. It's especially bad at the 16 year age level. Men seem to refuse to let them be 16. They seem to want them to be 21.

Tells Problems of Family Move

Many women want to return to town after they've had a whirl at the country. The men want to move outside as they spend all day in town on their jobs. The girls and women are in a different position. A family shouldn't make a swift move without thinking about it very carefully. And if you do move to the country, don't move too many minutes from the husband's job. That's a problem in itself.

One Who Moved

Reader Tells How He Was Taken In

Let home owners beware. A supposedly reputable furnace maker with "giant vacuum" heat pipe cleaning service has agents calling themselves "heating engineers" are using scare techniques to sell new furnaces of their own make.

I was just bilked out of more than $100 to replace a perfectly good furnace combustion chamber with a new one. Later, authentic testing laboratory engineers proved the old unit didn't leak, and wasn't dangerous. Besides the needless expense, my family suffered in a heatless home for over a week as outside temperatures dropped to 35 degrees.

Let every home owner check the Better Business Bureau before buying. I'm so embarrassed at being taken in, I perfer not to use my real name.

Advocates Walking to High School

Noting the article on transportation for high school children, I see no reason for not walking a mile and a half, at least not if they want an education. Before the days of the menace of consolidation, high student's transportation was their problem, not that of over-burdened taxpayers. Why don't the supervisors turn all property not absolutely needed back to the tax rolls and save on maintenance?

The Queen of England is dieting to lose ten pounds before visiting the U.S. As a style-setting, it's good news that she's not endorsing the potato bag designs created by the Paris couturiers. Case Records of a Psychologist:

Which Person Is at Fault Here?

Hetty's case is a real challenge to modern Americans. It raises the moral question of whether one person should be allowed to jeopardize the welfare of others by contaminating the air with "smog" and dangerous chemical fumes. Do you think Hetty was tactless and low on her "empathy" score? Then what about the "Cigarette Hettys" all over America?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-307: Hetty Z., aged 47, lives alone in a typical residential area.

"Dr. Crane, Hetty is our neighbor," some ladies told me recently, as they asked for my opinion on a social problem.

DR. CRANE

"And on Monday we usually do our laundry. Three of us have children, so we hang out long lines of wet clothes.

"Last week, while all of our freshly laundered things were flapping in the wind, Hetty started a bonfire in her back yard. She burned a lot of old tar paper, too, so you can imagine what happened to our nice, clean clothes.

"Soot and dust speckled them up and down our entire block. One of the neighbors then got so angry, she went over to Hetty's house and told her off, for Hetty has done this same thing before.

"Now Hetty thinks we are all unChristian and refuses to attend our church anymore. Dr. Crane, who do you think was unChristian?"

EMPATHY TEST

"Empathy" is the term used in modern psychology to indicate how well you can project yourself into your neighbor's shoes and thus try to imagine how he feels.

It is thus a rough indication of how well you try to apply the Golden Rule, too, so how would you rate Hetty on this basis?

Was she diplomatic and tactful, or thoughtless and selfish?

Since her neighbors had displayed their long suffering tolerance on previous occasions when Hetty thus lighted a bonfire while their wet clothes were strung on the line, do you think they were now justified in reprimanding Hetty?

And were they unChristian to scold her for her selfish disregard of their wet clothes?

CIGARETTE HETTY

If you say "Yes," then consider the far more prevalent evidence of thoughtlessness on the part of cigarette smokers.

They will light up a cigarette without even asking their host or hostess for permission and then pollute the air that the non-smokers must breathe.

They will sit beside non-smokers in a football stadium and half choke their neighbors with the stench of their second hand smoke which they belch in all directions.

I am not exaggerating, for the average cigarette smoker nowadays pays little attention to the feelings of his companions.

He will even accept a generous "lift" via automobile and then hardly get seated before he lights up a cigarette and then pollutes the air for all the others in the car, who may be non-smokers.

Recently I visited Dr. Robert B. Pierce's great church in Indianapolis. Dr. Pierce showed me the special "bridal room" where the prospective bride gets ready for the ceremony.

"Dr. Crane, I regret that you must see these 'No smoking' signs in a church," Dr. Pierce apologized.

"But we have had to place them on the tables because the bridesmaids would often mar our furniture by lighting cigarettes and then laying them on the wooden table tops."

SMOG NUISANCE

In many American cities, laws have recently been passed to prevent factories, as well as apartment buildings, from polluting the city air by noxious chemical fumes and black coal smoke.

The smog nuisance thus had to be handled by laws, because such selfish folks seemed to have no regard for the rights of other citizens to pure air.

And we have pure food laws to prevent similar danger to Americans by a few selfish manufacturers who used to sell spoiled and contaminated canned goods.

With the American Medical Association's opposition to tobacco, maybe we shall be forced to enact laws to prevent "Cigarette Hetty's" from infringing on the rights of citizens to medically pure air.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

She Drove Him to It

LONDON (AP) — A British jury has ruled that strangling a nagging wife is manslaughter—not murder. Anthony Shipley Simpson, 37, was jailed for five years on the lesser charge after his attorney told the court Mrs. Simpson wanted a divorce and kept her husband awake night after night talking about it. Simpson, said the attorney, was driven beyond the limit of endurance.

Raze Dickens' Home

LONDON (AP) — Local authorities have agreed to let a London home of Charles Dickens be torn down to make room for an office building. Dickens occupied the house in Devonshire Terrace from 1839 to 1851 and wrote "David Copperfield" there.

Dog Got De-Rattled

KENNFORD, Eng. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dyer, mystified by a rattling sound when their pet foxhound Sally bounded around, took her to a veterinary. He opened up Sally's innards and removed 20 stone and pebbles weighing 1½ pounds.

TREE-TOMATO — Greg Morgan, of 2202 Briggs Rd., Waterford Township, had to climb a ladder to reach the top of his grandmother's tree-tomato which is eight feet, two inches tall. The tree-tomato, belonging to Mrs. Odell Lippard, of 18 Victory Ct., is a South American shrub with fragrant pinkish flowers. The tree is usually grown in greenhouses in the north but Mrs. Lippard seems to have had unusual luck for this part of the country.

Seek to Solve Bus Problem

3 Groups in Waterford Start Action to Remedy School Safety Troubles

At least three different organizations in Waterford Township have started action to solve school bus and safety problems existing here.

Some 75 residents met at the Community Activities Center yesterday under the leadership of Ralph Blair to try to reach some solution.

PICKETING STOPS

All picketing has stopped at the board of education office and bus garage. Parents marched in front of the building all last week.

Another group, under the direction of Thomas Peterson, 6140 Andersonville Rd., organized Friday night at the board of education office and representatives from 19 Waterford Township PTAs formed a study committee.

The group's primary concern is to review the safety of children walking to school on narrow, fast-traveled roads.

A meeting will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the board of education and each representative is to report on what he feels is a critical area in his school district. They hope to obtain adequate help in surveying these areas from interested parents and to come up with some answers.

Peterson said: "The township and school board cannot solve all of our problems alone. Township residents working in harmony with these groups should be able to come up with some type of solution."

Supervisor Elmer Johnson met with a group of Elizabeth Lake road residents Friday night to discuss tentative plans to build a walking path on the south side of Elizabeth Lake road for school children.

Final plans will be made for this project at 8 p.m. tomorrow when the group again meets at the town hall.

Says Gas Fumes Cause of Cancer

TOKYO (INS) — A Japanese cancer expert says gasoline fumes and other contamination in the air are a greater cause of lung cancer than cigarette smoking.

Dr. Masaru Kuru of Osaka University Hospital said in a lecture at High Hospital yesterday that the 10-fold increase in cancer in the U.S. since 1927 is more probably due to the tremendous increase in exhaust fumes clogging the air than to smoking.

The doctor said that benzopyrene, a cancerous substance found in cigarettes, is found also in gasoline exhaust fumes and soot.

He commented that if cigarettes really cause cancer, there should have been an increase in the incidence of cancer of the mouth instead of lung cancer.

Dr. Kuru sought to substantiate his theory by declaring that most of the cancer cases reported in the U.S. involve city dwellers, especially residents of industrial districts.

He said the number of lung cancer patients in Japan is largest in such industrial areas as the Osaka-Koke complex.

The authority said America's lung cancer rate was higher than Japan's because tall U.S. buildings create narrow "gorges" which trap polluted air and keep it circulating at street level.

Walks 175 Miles . . . on His Hands

VIENNA (AP)— Siegfried Waslberger hopes to walk upside down right into a good job in the heart of Vienna this week-end.

The 32-year-old out-of-work acrobat started at Salzburg May 15 and has walked on his hands all the 175 miles to a Vienna suburb. He says he did it to attract attention that might land him a job.

Ankara, capital of Turkey, has a population of 453,000.

Opinions Sealed in Time Capsule

NEW YORK (AP)—What will life in the U.S.A. be like in 1979?

"By then," says L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp., "a large proportion of families may be using three or more cars."

DICTATE LETTERS

"In the office," says James M. Skinner Jr., president of Philco Corp., "the executive will dictate letters to the typewriter and it will respond to his voice and automatically type the letter."

These are samples of the forecasts of business and financial leaders placed in a time capsule beneath a new branch brokerage office of E. F. Hutton & Co., which opens here today. The capsule will be unearthed in 22 years, on the 75th anniversary of the brokerage firm.

Here are highlights of some of the forecasts:

L. L. Colbert of Chrysler Corp.: "It is within the realm of possibility that the automobiles of tomorrow may require manual guidance only to place them in the proper lane of a superhighway network where electronic controls could take over."

ELECTRONIC DEVICES

James Skinner of Philco Corp.: "If the weather bureau predicts rain, the pedestrian will have an electronic umbrella to protect him. It will be invisible, but will keep him dry."

Edward T. McCormick, president, American Stock Exchange: "Many well-known companies will fall by the wayside while others, some not yet born, will be market leaders. Over-all, we should be experiencing a period of prosperity in 1979."

Robert R. Young, chairman, New York Central Railroad: "Our nation's essential passenger service, now senselessly losing three quarters of a billion dollars a year, will be limited to main line operations between population centers of high density.

"It will be treated fairly by the tax collector and the regulator and will pay its own way like any other American business. And while the bulk of the travel will be in intermediate hauls, in the lightweight, low center of gravity coach equipment, I am confident that the way can be found to preserve the long-distance trip in luxury first class sleeping equipment without making the user of our freight service pick up the tab as he is now asked to do."

MRS. JAMES C. EVANS

Mary Lura Gillow and James Carl Evans were married Saturday in First Congregational Church. Parents of the bride are the Harold L. Gillows, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Archie Crumm and George R. Evans.

Mary L. Gillow Speaks Vows in Candlelight Rite

Gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar of First Congregational Church for the candlelight wedding of Mary Lura Gillow and James Carl Evans. The Rev. Malcolm Burton performed the Saturday evening ceremony before 300 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Gillow of Elizabeth Lake Estates are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Archie Crumm of Vinewood avenue and George R. Evans of Ceres, Calif.

GOWNED IN SILK

BRIDESMAIDS

Janet Hudson, Kathleen Keane of Holland, a former roommate of the bride, and Mrs. Ronald White of Whitehall, also a former roommate, and junior bridesmaid Mary Margaret Wolfel of Alma wore floor-length gowns of deep tone leaf green peau de soie fashioned like the maid of honor's. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow fuji chrysanthemums with croton and wheat.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Mrs. Gillow received guests at a reception in the church parlors wearing a pink sheath dress with embroidered Chantilly lace, a hat of matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Crumm chose a powder blue sheath dress of wool jersey trimmed with rhinestones, a hat of powder blue sequins, black accessories and a corsage of rose cymbidium orchids.

Before leaving on a northern Michigan and Wisconsin trip the new Mrs. Evans changed to a black and gray sheath dress with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal corsage. The couple will live in Pontiac.

The bride attended Western Michigan University and the bridegroom attends Detroit Electronics Institute.

Bride-Elect Showered With Gifts

Party Presented for Elsie Benson at Lehner Home

A sterling shower, held Saturday evening at the Mohawk road home of Marion Lehner, honored Elsie Benson, whose marriage to Stephen Field will be an event of Oct. 12.

Among the guests were Mrs. William H. Marbach, Mrs. Paul Blystone, Ethel Graham, Anna Marie Predmore, Josephine Seeley, Harriet Gates, Florence Schlesser, June Schlesser, Mrs. Lawrence Shelton and Esther Voorhees.

Others were Martha Mock, Alice Jackson, Barbara Hall, Mrs. Robert Sherlock Jr., Mrs. Floyd Lehner, Mrs. Clarence Norton, Mrs. Edward T. Markham, Mrs. Abram Campbell, Mrs. Lyman Bittman Jr., Mrs. Mahlon A. Benson Jr., Mrs. W. S. Field and Mrs. John Benson.

Designer Admires Women and Their Figures

Oleg Cassini Battles Sack Look

Editor's Note: What does Oleg Cassini think of the chemise (or sack dress)? In a letter to the Women's Department of The Press, he bluntly writes his ideas.

Well, finally Seventh avenue has settled down to as normal as Seventh avenue can ever get after the return of everyone from the Paris collections and the excitement of the openings.

However, I feel that I must stand on my platform and protest sharply the new European fashion of the chemise which covers the woman. Hence my battle-cry: "The Sack Vs. the Woman!"

'RELAXED' LINES

Sometimes I really don't know what gets into my confreres but this season, as you all know, everyone in Europe has been showing the chemise with its "relaxed" silhouette.

In many cases they showed skirts almost to the knees, clothes tapering from wide shoulders to narrow hems, and suits with only the nuance of fit.

Now, purely from a selfish and masculine point of view, I am, and always have been, a great admirer of women and their figures.

And modestly, I must admit that I have done everything in my power to continue to promote and design the sheath and empire look—because when a woman slips into a sheath and walks down the street she is truly feminine.

GREAT TALENT

Now, I really would like you to know that I am completely openminded about everything that is new in my field.

Paris has some of the great designing talent of all time, and my contemporaries here in New York, I am sure, would not spend their hard-earned dollars to travel across the seas twice a year to see new concepts of fashion if they did not deem European talent worthwhile.

But for me, a woman, whoever she may be, is beautiful. And to cover what nature has endowed with a sack almost seems a travesty against humanity.

And so, my friends, this is my feeling. I hope you bear with me and perhaps share my sentiments as I wage my one-man crusade of "The Sack Vs. the Woman."

During the morning session officers were installed by the district extension supervisor, Florence Rann, assisted by Mrs. Harry Clark, Luella Nault, Mrs. Everett McDowell, Mrs. William J. Tiberg and Mrs. Clair Johnson.

WORKSHOP HELD

Then an officer's training workshop was in order for the remainder of the morning. Miss Rann met with extension chairmen; Mrs. Clark instructed vice chairmen and Mrs. Tiberg led the secretary, treasurer and reporter group.

Miss Nault had charge of project leaders and Policeman Donald Kratt and Mrs. Arthur O'Hara met with safety and community chairmen.

Miss Rann then spoke on the scope of home demonstration work. She explained how it is a "cooperative" extension working through the United States Department of Agriculture, Michigan State University and the county.

The extension service program, she pointed out, is geared toward improvement of family life.

Among the things that the home demonstration program offers homemakers, Miss Rann said, are knowledge and skills, leadership development, personal development and sociability.

District Cooperative Extension Service Supervisor Florence Rann was the main speaker for the area Rally Day Friday in Waterford CAI Building. Here Miss Rann is explaining the inauguration of the county extension program.

Create Your Own Opportunities

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some people will tell you that the Age of Opportunity is over, that the self-reliant person, brimming with initiative and imagination, had his innings in the 19 Century, that everything has been discovered and that life is cut and dried.

But every day I see proof that imagination, initiative and self-reliance can still open up new horizons and create opportunities where none existed before.

PART-TIME JOB

There are times in many people's lives when a part-time job is the answer to their prayers.

They need extra income but haven't the strength to work full-time. Or they need a job, but the children are in school only half a day. So they go after a part-time job.

But part-time jobs don't grow on every tree. In fact, in most communities, they're hard to find.

Employers are loath to hire somebody half a day, because the tax forms and records are just as complicated for the part-time worker as for a full-time one.

CREATE OWN JOBS

Here are some examples of people like that, who got part-time jobs in places where none was said to exist.

One woman got three hours a day of receptionist-telephone work by contacting small offices. Two of them hired her as lunch-replacement.

She relieves the Girl Friday in a one-man real estate office from 12 until 1:30; and then from quarter of 2 until quarter past 3, she does the same for a dentist's Girl Friday.

She canvassed over a dozen office and got these two as regular "customers."

TWO FULL DAYS

Another woman sells in a bakery Fridays and Saturdays. She found it impossible to get a place to hire her for five half-days, so she decided to work two full days.

She thought of the kinds of places that would be busiest on Friday and Saturday and decided to try a luxury bakery. She now works for a salary plus commission and loves it.

A middle-aged widow works from 4 until 7 at the apartment of a working couple who have two children. She straightens up, sees that the children have baths and supper and welcomes the parents at 7 to a calm and peaceful house.

She is paid well and loves it. She put an ad in her paper directed to this kind of work, and got several "takers."

WORK WONDERS

If you have a problem on part-time work, remember that imagination and initiative will work wonders.

For further pointers, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in car of The Pontiac Press for my pamphlet of suggestions on this subject.

Married Saturday in Sashabaw Presbyterian Church were Joyce Marie Raffler and Richard T. Spencer. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Raffler, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Spencer.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD SPENCER

Joyce Raffler Becomes Bride Before 200 Guests

Baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar of Sashabaw Presbyterian Church for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Joyce Marie Raffler and Richard T. Spencer. The Rev. F. Robert Wilkie performed the ceremony before 200 witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Raffler of Pine Knob road are parents of the bride, and the H. E. Spencers of Union Lake are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding the bride chose a full-length nylon tulle gown embroidered with an all-over design of Venetian lace over taffeta and fashioned with a scoop neckline and short sleeves edged with Venetian lace medallions.

She wore a pillbox headpiece which held a fingertip veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet was composed of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis on a Bible.

Lola Johnson, maid of honor, wore a seafoam green taffeta gown with scoop neckline and three-quarter-length sleeves. She wore a crown with pearls and a nose veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of bronze chrysanthemums and wheat.

FLOWER GIRL

Susan Spencer, a sister of the bridegroom, wore a pink nylon dress and carried a white basket trimmed with pink bows for her duties as flower girl.

Phillip J. Fyre of Drayton Plains served as the best man while Roger Spencer, a brother of the bridegroom, and Larry Raffler, a brother of the bride, seated the guests.

For a reception in Knights of Pythias Hall the bride's mother chose a suntone crystalete gown of emerald green with cocoa brown accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Spencer wore a navy crepe dress with blue accessories and a pink sweetheart rose corsage.

Before leaving on a Smoky Mountain trip the new Mrs. Spencer changed to a light blue wool suit with black and gray accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Pontiac.

Improve Your Health by Taking Daily Walks

Zesty Autumn Weather Encourages Hiking

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is something about fall it is impossible to describe. You simply have to feel it! That reminds me of an experience I had soon after moving to Tampico, Mexico, as a bride.

I did not speak Spanish when I arrived there and immediately and earnestly went to work to learn that delightful language. My teacher was very stern, so much so, that I did not go to class unless I had studied at least a couple of hours.

Once in bewilderment I asked, "Aren't there any rules for the subjunctive mood?" "Oh, no, my dear," she replied, "You just have to FEEL it."

Well, it is much easier for me to feel fall than it is to feel the subjunctive mood, I can tell you. Who can miss it— — —the brilliant coloring, the zippy, frosty, wine-like fall air, the hint of winter and promise of spring all rolled into one, the nostalgic and at the same time stimulating and poetic something you DO have to feel.

This is the loveliest time of year to be outdoors. It is also the easiest time to build health. In the spring sunshine we want to loiter while the zesty weather this time of year makes one want to walk and walk.

If you haven't had the habit of the daily walk, this is the time to begin it. You may feel too tired, but try it and discover how refreshed you are when you return home.

Here are some of the benefits of walking listed by a famous hiker, Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who took care of President Eisenhower. He said that walking maintains an improved circulation, improves the tone of the diaphragm, and benefits digestion. Finally he said, "Certainly it is true in my own case that nervous stress and strain can be counteracted and even prevented."

If you haven't had the habit of walking daily, this is the time to begin it.

All you need are a good pair of walking shoes and determination. Be sure that your shoes are leather, soles as well as uppers. Heels should be well based and not higher than two inches.

Most persons require company in order to enjoy a walk. You might like to join a hiking club. If not, then organize your own with one or two friends. The guide to your state published by the Works Progress Administration, which you can find at your local library, will describe trails and places of interest it will be fun to explore.

If there is a branch of American Youth Hostels in your city, you can find folks there who get together for short hikes or even for overnight jaunts. They also will give you information about trails.

Why not enjoy this charming season outdoors?

PHYSICAL BEAUTY CAN BE HANDICAP

If you bewail the fact that you are not beautiful, listen to this letter and take heart!

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I hope this letter does not imply self-conceit for I feel that I must be honest about my problem. From childhood people have told me how beautiful they think I am and have never considered other qualities which I believe are more important. Is it possible for physical beauty to be a curse instead of a blessing?

"Boys seem to be afraid of me, even though I am rather shy, and as a result I am one of the most unpopular girls in my social set. I am rarely invited on dates with boys. Is there anything I can do to achieve a normal social relationship?"

Beauty CAN be a handicap if the woman relies on it alone, forgetting to develop verve, charm and personality. Often she becomes smug or lazy mentally because of the attention which comes her way without any effort on her part.

For these reasons she is boring and once her youthful beauty is damaged by age her popularity wanes. This is a bitter pill since she has nothing to take its place.

We so often see the rather plain girl of our high school or college days blossom forth into a stunning, fascinating woman in her mature years.

She has learned about hair styling, makeup and fashions. She has developed many interests. She likes people and is aware of them and their lives and problems. She is well informed and well read and has a sense of humor.

DULL AND BORING

Then we remember the beautiful girl of our school years. Too often she has become dull and boring even before middle age. Her interests are no broader than they were in college days. Only her hips have widened.

She is either depressed or has a chip on her shoulder because she misses the flattery and attention to which she became accustomed because of her youthful beauty.

So, you see, beauty can be a handicap! Fortunately the young woman who wrote the letter I quoted at the beginning of this column is aware of the dangers of too much beauty. I think I know what her problem is.

She says she is shy. Shyness is often mistaken for conceit, and folks are much more apt to suspect a beautiful girl of being conceited than a homely one.

This young woman should try to forget that people always are telling her she is pretty. She should forget her appearance as much as possible and concentrate on being friendly. She should speak to others in a warm, enthusiastic manner and talk with them whenever possible.

She has no doubt crawled into a shell because of the constant comments about her beauty and is even more unhappy because she does not seem to be popular. She herself will have to break loose from this vicious circle by deliberately making it impossible for anyone to think of her as conceited.

Bride Wants to Pick Out Silverware

She's Afraid Aunt Won't Consult Her About Pattern

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance's aunt promised to give us our silver for a wedding present—which indeed is very generous of her. I thought she would ask me to go with her and select a pattern that I liked. So far she has said nothing to me about it and I suppose she is going to pick it out herself.

"I have been looking at silver and there is one pattern that I especially like—the others are too ornate for my taste. Would it be proper to tell my fiance's aunt about this pattern or might she think that I don't trust her taste?

"Silver is so expensive and something one has all one's life, and it would be a shame to have a pattern I do not like. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: The most tactful thing would be to have your finace say something like "Aunt Jane, if you haven't decided yet on which silver you are going to give us, I know that Mary would just die of joy if you were to choose the King pattern."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married soon. Since her fiance has no brother, he has asked a cousin of his to be best man. This cousin is engaged to be married and we would like to know if it is necessary to ask his fiancee to be a bridesmaid. My daughter has never met the girl.

"If not necessary to ask her to take part in the wedding, must she be invited to the reception and asked to sit at the bridal table?"

Answer: It is not at all necessary to invite her to be bridesmaid nor is it necessary to invite her to sit at the bridal table. She must, of course, be invited to the wedding itself and pains should be taken to be sure she is not left alone during the times that he is occupied by his duties.

'Operation Help' Proves Itself in Honolulu

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One day two years ago a child in my city was set upon by other children — and killed, murdered, done to death at the age of 13.

That night I wrote three columns. They proposed a new plan called "Operation Help" for the control of juvenile crime.

They pleaded for a new municipal department to be called the Family Emergency Service, staffed by social workers operating with subordinate police officers in teams of two.

The service's function would be to make a team available by telephone call from any embattled parent or child, not only to bring under control the immediate conflict, but to judge the need for continuing help and referral to community guidance agencies.

I suggested that its telephone number by REconciliation 1-1000 —and that the number be widely publicized for what it was: Security to which any child or parent strained beyond his strength could cry out the real appeal in his heart, "Bring us together again, please."

PLAN ADOPTED

Among other newspapers, the columns appeared in the Honolulu Advertiser. One of its executives, Gerald B. Burtnett, is also his city's community services director.

He took the plan to its chief of police, its Children's Court people, its director of public welfare — and some time after, it was adopted under the name of Operation Help.

The other day from the juvenile crime prevention division of the Honolulu police department, I received the first report on its progress.

The report says: "In January 1956 we adopted a bold new approach in the field of prevention. Under this project, a child welfare worker is assigned to assist in the adjustment of family situations which appear to be contributory to the delinquency of a child or children."

"Providing direct referral to Operation Help has enhanced cooperation between police officer and social worker. It has resulted in faster and better service at less cost to the community. We hope that it will be able to continue with its much-needed program."

It added, "Proper counseling may change the whole future of a potential delinquent."

I needed this news. For just last month in my mainland city's Children's Court, I had sat in on the arraignment of a group of shut-faced children charged with setting upon another child — and killing him, murdering him, doing him to death.

Honesty Isn't Best Policy When Answering Women

Men Should Learn to Hedge a Little in Replying to Some Questions

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to men:

There are times when it doesn't pay to tell a woman the truth—even if she asks for it.

Never tell a woman the truth—

When she asks you to guess her age. If she is under 18, she'll want you to think she is older than she is. If she is over 18, she'll want you to subtract a few years.

When she says coyly. "A penny for your thoughts" — if your thoughts don't include her. The reason why a woman asks a man what he is thinking about is to be reassured that he is thinking about her.

When she asks you how you like the way she has rearranged the living room, or how you like the new dish she has concocted for your dinner. You'll be an unappreciative brute if you don't admit she has made a big improvement in the room and that the dish is delicious.

When she asks you if you remember some long ago romantic moment the two of you shared. Women set great store by their memories.

When she asks you if you think her new dress doesn't look a lot more expensive than it is. You may be shocked to think it cost as much as it did, but better not say so.

When she asks you if you think a terribly attractive woman is "terribly attractive." "I guess she's all right — if you like the type" is the safest answer for that question.

When she says, "Wasn't it wonderful?" about a movie she cried through. If you don't agree with her, she will wonder how you could be such an unfeeling clod.

Honesty is the best policy. But in getting along with a woman a man has to know when to hedge a little.

Allies Encounter Pressure in U.N.

U.S. and Britain Enter Arms Debate Facing Soviet, Asian Discord

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and Britain went into a U.N. disarmament debate today under growing Asian and Soviet pressure to stop nuclear tests promptly.

Western sources said the two allies would stand by their position that they would suspend the tests only after reaching agreement with the Soviet Union to stop making nuclear bombs, cut armed forces and carry out other disarmament measures.

The debate was scheduled in the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission, meeting to consider a report from its five-nation subcommittee on the unsuccessful negotiations held in London March 18-Sept. 6.

The commission after the debate was expected to relay the subcommittee report to the 82-nation General Assembly for discussion in the Assembly's main Political Committee, to begin perhaps late next week.

The Soviet Union, India and Japan have submitted resolutions to have the Assembly call on the atomic powers—Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States—to suspend nuclear tests subject only to inspection. The Soviet proposal would start the suspension next Jan. 1, the others on conclusion of an inspection agreement.

The four Western members of the subcommittee — Britain, Canada, France and the United States—were known to be working on a resolution of their own asking the Assembly to endorse the "proposals for partial measures of disarmament" they put before the subcommittee Aug. 29.

Their proposals also would require an inspection agreement before tests stopped. But the Western proposals would not start the suspension until the "entry into force" of a broad disarmament convention covering step-by-step cuts in armed forces, a cutoff of production of nuclear materials for weapons and tight international control.

Irish Republican Army Blasts Police Station

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) —Raiders of the Irish Republican Army blew down one wall of a police station at Armagh with a bomb early today, then poured gunfire into the ruins.

Policemen on duty at the time returned the fire, but nobody on either side was injured. The raiders escaped across the border of the Irish republic, 10 miles away, in a truck.

The illegal IRA is campaigning for the reunion of British-ruled Northern Ireland with the republic.

City to Mark Fire Prevention Week With Gala Parade

A parade of historic and current fire fighting equipment, plus many other features, will make Pontiac's observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-13.

Paced by a color guard, equipment and personnel from almost every department in northern Oakland County will join with that of Pontiac Oct. 9 in marching up N. Saginaw street, starting at 7 p.m.

Sponsored by the Fire Prevention Committee, of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the parade will include bands, drill teams, mounted riders, majorettes and histroric equipment.

NAME MARSHAL

The committee, headed by Harvey Johns, has named Sherwin Birnkrant as parade marshal.

Birnkrant said today that historic equipment in the parade will include a hand-pumper from Mt. Clemens and a horse drawn steam engine from Alpena that fought the Chicago fire of 1870.

The steamer, in good operating condition today is a Clapp and Jones model built in 1868 for Port Huron. When the Chicago fire broke out, the Grand Trunk, as did many mid-west railroads, collected equipment from towns along its route to aid in fighting the conflagration. Thus the steamer was transported to Chicago and did valuable service.

Alpena bought it in 1871, just three weeks before half the town burned down. The historic machine has fought fires in almost every town in northern Michigan

John F. Ivory has loaned a six horse team to draw the engine in the parade.

Preceding the steam engine, will be a bucket brigade, a hand hose reel and the Mt. Clemens hand pumper, while behind will come a model T engine from Clarkston, and an old LaFrance pumper from Bloomfield Township.

Selfridge Air Force Base will send a huge piece of apparatus used in fighting aircraft fires. Other departments participating with equipment will include Waterford Township, Brookland, Pontiac Township, Troy, Addison, Avondale, Birmingham, Commerce, Franklin Village and West Bloomfield.

All of the Pontiac junior high schools will combine their bands for the parade, along with bands from Waterford Township High School and Pontiac Senior High School.

Other units will be John Ivory's antique fire engine, his pony carts and two full polo teams, the Land O'Lakes Majorettes, Jackie Rae's Ravenettes, the Oakland County Sheriff's Posse, the Civil Defense disaster unit and the Sylvan Lake Elks Club drill team.

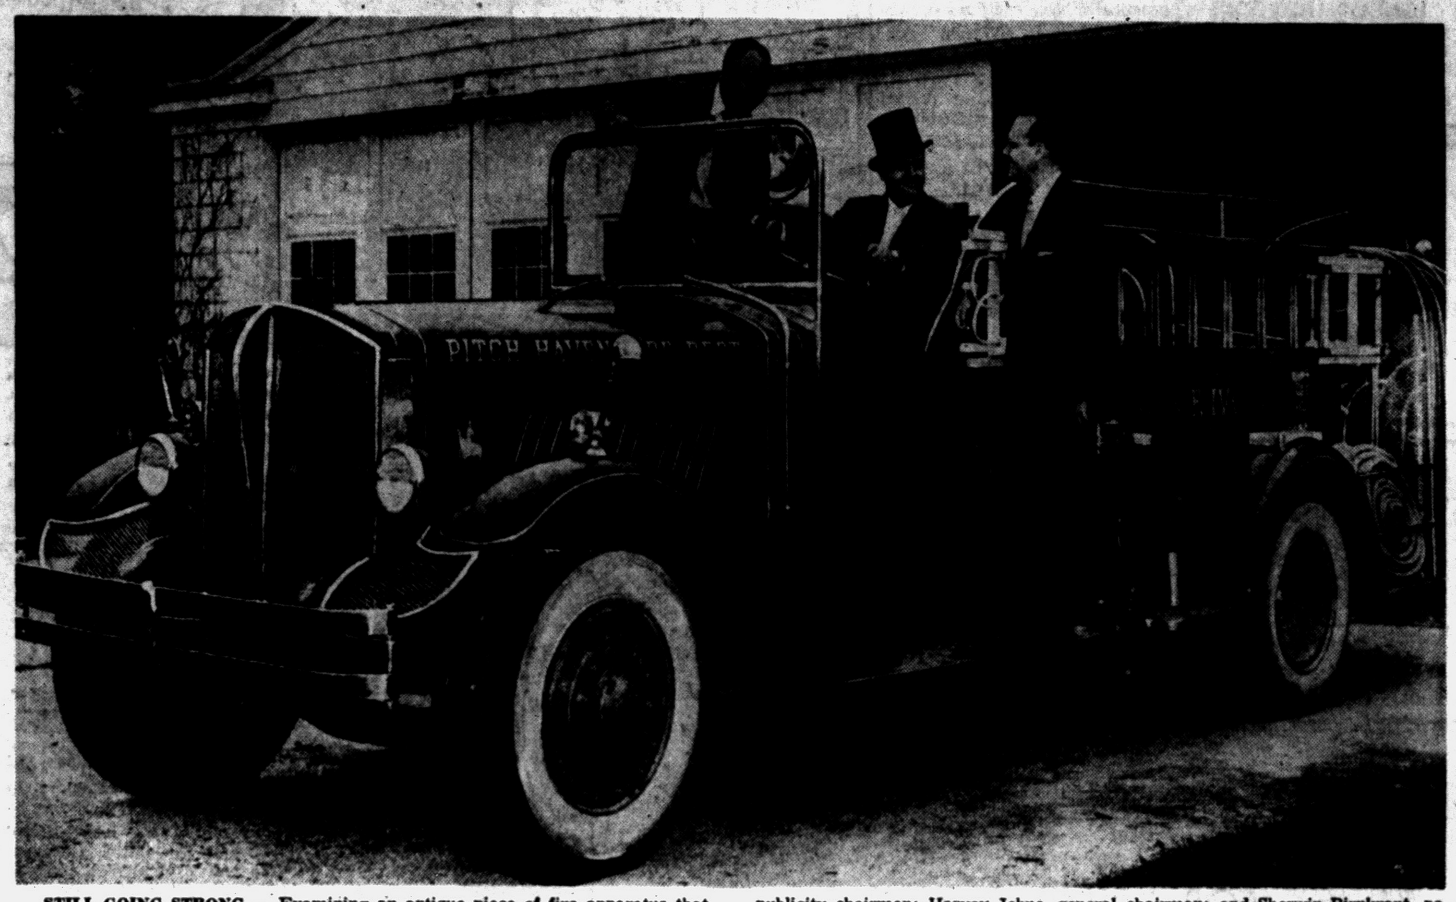

Cars will carry the Brookland Fire Dept. challengers who will attempt to wrest the championship from Waterford in a water battle.

The water battle, the latest fire fighting techniques and fire fighting of the future will be demonstrated after the parade at North Side Field.

Working with Chairman Johns on the committee are Cliff Metty, publicity chairman; Fames B. Forman, apparatus procurement chairman; Charles K. Zamek, foot contingent procurement chairman; and Albert Rayner and Charles Metz, demonstration chairmen.

STILL GOING STRONG — Examining an antique piece of fire apparatus that will participate in the Oct. 9 Pontiac Area Fire Prevention Week parade are three members of the committee which organized the event. From left are Cliff Metty, publicity chairman; Harvey Johns, general chairman; and Sherwin Birnkrant, parade marshal. The truck will be loaned by John F. Ivory for the 7 p. m. event.

The German Shepherd also was judged second best in the "best pet combination" class. Here Penny shows the judges one of her best tricks, that of climbing up and down a step ladder. The show had 42 entries in senior and junior divisions. It was held at Oakland Park and was co-sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. and Pontiac Kennel Club.

J. C. Penney Explains Success Formula

By HAROLD S. COHEN

"As long as there is no mass unemployment in the United States, I do not foresee either a depression or a recession."

That was the prediction of J. C. Penney, one of America's great mercantile geniuses who in 55 years built a tiny shop in a remote Wyoming town into a retail empire of 1,497 stores in every state of the Union.

"I owe most of it," he said, "to the bright yoong men who joined me from time I opened my second store."

"By sharing our profits with them according to their abilities to get results we have received wholehearted efforts in return."

Another factor, Penney said, was the firm's retailing policy—the Golden Rule.

"My first stores were called Golden Rule Stores and we have always kept that policy towards our customers.

"Every man who becomes a store manager in addition is taught our 'creed': Honor, confidence, service and cooperation."

"I little dreamed when I opened my first store, not much larger than this hotel suite, in 1902 that our great chain would result," Penney stated. "Even in those days people constantly said that opportunity was gone for a young man. I didn't believe it then and it isn't true today.

"I would like to tell every teenager that there is greater opportunity in America today than ever. There are many more positions open than there are top notch people to fill them."

Penney went on, "But success won't just fall in their laps. They have to go out and work for it. I have never sought security, just opportunity, although I was handicapped by poor health."

Attired in a dark blue suit with a white pocket handkerchief on which was embroidered "Business Is Good," Penney showed no sign of the "poor health" which sent him west as a young boy.

Penney started his chain with a store in a mining town of 1,000 population, in which the miners took company coupons against their wages and could only spend them in the company store.

"Still I thought if I gave real value and honest service, people would find the cash to spend with me, and they did."

Last year, the Penney Co. did $1,300,000,000 in gross business, he said, and 1957 will exceed that record breaking total.

"We have great faith in our economy and are continuing to open new stores, although we have closed some in the small towns where the traffic did not seem to warrant them."

Penney thought the trend toward outlying shoppping centers would not spell the doom of downtown shopping.

"There is no doubt the free, ample parking is a tremendous advantage, but there will always be a downtown."

The American consumer, he continued, is "trading up," They want quality, not just low price, and we have built our business on giving the maximum quality per dollar spent.

Asked if the company would expand outside the U. S., Penney laughed and said, "A year and a half ago I traveled through the Far East and was told everywhere they could use a J. C. Penney store, but we have enough expansion possibilities in the U.S.

Penney, whose initials stand for James Cash, gave his opinion on credit buying. "We have always had a cash only policy and I believe it is the best, because you can sell cheaper if you don't have to carry credit accounts.

"However," he added, "we are going to try credit in four of our largest stores as an experiment. If the public wants it, we will offer it, even though I don't approve of it."

As to the threat of inflation, Penney said, "we have had inflation for the last 20 to 25 years. I hope it doesn't grow greater, but my faith in America's economy is shown by the fact we will open 25 new stores next year."

Penney concluded by saying, "If I could start all over again, I would give more to my employes and others than I have done. Life has taught me one thing, we only get by giving."

Waterford Women Fashion Figures

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

"Pain, patience and perseverance" has paid off for Mrs. Dario DeMasellis of Waterford Township, who has shed 83 pounds, as a member of the Fashion Your Figure Club.

She weighed 208 pounds when she joined the club three years ago, and had trouble squeezing into a size 20 dress.

Mashed potatoes swimming in rich gravy, fruit and nut coffee cakes, hot fudge sundaes, along with cream-filled pastries had put Mrs. DeMasellis well over the 200-pound mark.

"I felt loggy, self-conscious and downright ashamed," she said.

With her decision to look attractive again, she set her ideal weight at 125 pounds and began the long "Lose to Win" campaign, one of the most important slogans of the women's reducing organization.

Today, Mrs. DeMasellis has reached her goal, wears a size 12 dress, and could almost pass as a sister to her two teenage sons, George and LeRoy.

The Fashion Your Figure group has 55 active members and boasts that it is not an exercise club. The women are strictly on their honor during the week to get their weight down in their own way, whether by exercise or diet.

When they meet at 7 p.m. each Wednesday in the Waterford Township High School, the first thing they do is "weigh in."

An accurate record is kept on each member and those losing the most weight are awarded prizes. For the top loser, there is a traveling trophy of a perfect feminine figure to keep for that week.

For those gaining the most weight, there are four big pig trophies which "unrestraining" members must take home.

Tuesday night anything goes, as far as eating is concerned, because the club is having its annual banquet at Highland Manor. According to president Mrs. Alfred Keith, this is the one night that all members can eat anything and everything they desire.

On the menu is fried chicken, roast beef, baked ham and french fried, mashed and sweet potatoes. To top off the feast there is blackbottom pie, hot fudge puffs and whipped cream cake.

Installation of new officers along with professional entertainment will comprise the evening's added activities.

Those to be installed besides Mrs. Keith, president, are Mrs. Henry Allen, vice president; Mrs. DeMasellis, secretary, and Mrs. Edwin Broom, treasurer.

Winners of a seven-week weight-losing contest just concluded will also be awarded prizes. Mrs. Melvin Keiser lost the most weight with a total of 11¾ pounds. Mrs. DeMasellis lost 9½ and Mrs. Edwin Broom, 8½ pounds.

HONEST WEIGHT — President of the Waterford Township Fashion Your Figure club, Mrs. Alfred Keith, enviously measures secretary Mrs. Dario DeMasellis' waist line as vice president Mrs. Henry Allen and treasurer Mrs. Edwin Broom, keep check. Segregation Ordered -Welfare Head Quits

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Wilfrid M. Calnan quits as director of the Harris County Welfare Department tomorrow because he was ordered to stop putting Negro and white patients in the same county convalescant ward rooms.

Calnan, 39, was called to County Judge Bob Casey's office Friday and told the policy was to segregate the races. Calnan said he replied he believed in integration.

Casey said if Calnan had not resigned he would have been fired.

Calnan, who made $7,252 a year, had been with the department since 1952. He said Saturday there were 36 white and six Negro patients in the 44-bed wards. He said he placed them in rooms according to their ailments, not race.

"I don't think of those sick folks as black and white. I think of them as people needing help. I can't in good conscience follow orders that are against my ethics and principles," he said.

Calnan, an American citizen, was born in Canada.

Army Describes Cuts in Forces

71,000 Men to Be Let Out by January 1 and 29,000 More by July

WASHINGTON (AP)— One armored division and 14 air defense battalions will be dropped by the Army as part of its drive to cut 100,000 men from its strength by next June 30.

The announcement last night did not specify which units would be affected, but said the number of troops at various posts also will be cut back, with some of the installations being closed.

The greater part of the reduction, 71,000 men, will be accomplished by Jan. 1, the Army said, with the remaining 29,000 being eliminated by next June 30.

To the extent possible, the cuts will be concentrated in administrative, supply and special activities so maximum combat strength can be maintained.

The Army cuts are part of an over-all reduction of 200,000 men in the armed services ordered by Secretary of Defense Wilson in separate orders last July 16 and Sept. 19. The cut will leave the Army with 900,000 men.

An armored combat command will be substituted for one of the two armored divisions now in the United States, the Army said. The two are the 1st Armored at Ft. Polk, La., and the 4th Armored at Ft. Hood, Tex. The Army did not say which one would be affected.

The armored combat command will have 5,000 men. The strength of an armored division is about 14,600.

The air defense battalions to be eliminated will be either gun or sky-sweeper units. The Army said the need for them is being reduced with the development of new air defense missile units.

The Army said it will be necessary to "phase down or close" some posts, camps and training stations.

Threatens Action Against VFW Post in South

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars says he will suspend the Ruston, La., VFW post if an investigation shows it refused the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

VFW Post 3615 at Ruston last week voted unanimously to omit the pledge of allegiance until President Eisenhower withdraws federal troops from Little Rock, Ark., Post Commander Lescar W. Harlan said.

"I'm sure our Ruston brothers are good, loyal Americans and many times things are done in the heat of anger which look differently after you've slept on them," National Commander Richard L. Roudebush of Indianapolis, Ind., said. He is here to address a state VFW convention.

"I would like to make it clear," Roudebush said in a statement, "that this is not the policy of the VFW, and further, that no post or no officer of the VFW has the authority to make such a statement" relating to refusal to give the pledge of allegiance.

The national VFW convention "determined that segregation was not a proper subject to be considered by our organization because veterans' rights, benefits and legislation are in no way involved," he said.

Pope Urges Wives to Obey Husbands

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Quoting St. Paul, Pope Pius XII has urged Catholic wives to do their husbands' bidding "just as the church is subject to Christ."

The Pope cited the Roman Catholic Church's attitude toward marriage, comparing it with the mystical union of Christ and the church. The pontiff urged his listenders to be subject to their husbands as the church is to Christ.

SALES TAX KEEPS GOING UP — Only one state, Iowa, reduced its sales tax rate this year. It goes against the trend of increasing the bite on the consumer's pocketbook. A state-by-state survey (see Newschart) of sales tax percentages—representing one-fourth of total state tax collections — reveals that 32 states use the method to collect revenue. Arkansas, Maine and Rhode Island boosted their tax this year while the Massachusetts Legislature killed a proposal for a new 3 per cent sales tax. Iowa dropped back to 2 per cent after an extension of the temporary 2½ per cent rate was vetoed. Washington, D. C., has a 2 per cent sales tax. Data from Commerce Clearing House.

Gary Cooper to Appear Alongside Deborah Kerr

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The crystal ball for Gary Cooper and Deborah Kerr reveals a trip to Australia next year to film "The Sundowners."

I told you some time ago that Fred Zinnerman, who will produce and direct this for Warner Bros., was negotiating with Gary but the deal is now consummated, and this should be a great combination—Cooper and Kerr.

"The Sundowners," based on a novel by Jon Cleary, will follow "The Nun's Story" which Zinneman will direct for Fred Zinneman Productions with Henry Blanke as producer.

Talked to Mike Todd just after he and Elizabeth Taylor arrived in town. He told me the baby is a real ham, and I couldn't resist saying, "I wonder who she takes that from?"

Mike and Liz' first visit was to MGM, and Mike said that they are going to the "Raintree Country" premiere in Louisville, Kentucky. He feels that when a studio has millions of dollars invested in a picture, the least a star can do is to appear with it.

"I think Liz has meant too much to Hollywood," he said, "for her to bow out of the scene entirely."

Mike also told me he starts "Don Quixote" in April, and when I asked him who would direct he said probably Avrom Hirsch Goldbogen (Mike's real name).

The first time I met Dolores Michaels she introduced herself. She hadn't yet made a picture. I said in my column then that I thought she was very photogenic. She is not only that, but she also has talent.

She has replaced Swedish actress May Britt in Walter Reisch's picture, "Fraulein," in which she'll have to learn a German accent with only one day's preparation. Dolores was chosen after "Time Limit," in which she has the top femme role, was shown to the 20th Century-Fox executives.

May Britt had to bow out because she won't be finished with "Young Lions" in time.

Bobby Troup, who has already made his mark as a musician, arranger, composer and is the man behind Julie London's success (even if their engagement is on ice) is turning seriously to establishing himself as a straight dramatic actor.

Troup has just been signed by director-star Jose Ferrer for the second male lead in "Bay The Moon" at MGM. It's really a good acting part although not his screen debut as he had a straight part in "Bop Girl."

Incidentally, Julie's engagement to Bobby may be officially ended, but they certainly continue to date steadily.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Talk around today is that singer Allan Jones, who was divorced last week by Irene Hervey, has his next picked out. 'Tis whispered she is Mary Picking, shoe heiress. Allan is now in Europe.

The Ray Millands are home and Ray says he'll now take a three months holiday. He brought "The Safecracker," in which he acted and directed, in four days under time.

The Dean Martin cocktail party for the guests on his TV show on October 5 was great fun. Dean called on all the talent and they responded. Jack Benny was very funny—never more witty. Gisele Mackenzie sang with Dean.

The surprise of the evening was Debbie Reynolds, who came in a little late and when called upon sang "Singin' In The Rain," and gave Dean repartee for repartee. Before Debbie arrived, Eddie sang "Tammy," which he calls "Sammy."

Congratulations to Margaret (Mrs. Davie) Epstein on her birthday. She's glad she was born—Dave gave her a new car.

Cantinflas flew in from Mexico with his manager, J. Gelman. They are at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. He came to see Harry Cohn. Curious that he and Mike Todd should be here at the same time.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

English Gals Curvier Than Mesdemoiselles

LONDON — English girls curve more than French girls in les statistiques vitales, says a French expert in the Christian Dior entourage.

He told fashion reporters at a London showing of foundation garments that French women have not the definition of the British figure and it would be no use trying to put an Englishwoman into a French corset.

Bridge-Fever Has Firm Grip

Rubin Bosses World's Latest Wonder

ST. IGNACE (AP)—A lobbyist who took on the job for free promoted the world's newest wonder bridge and now he'll boss it.

He is 44-year-old Lawrence A. (Larry) Rubin and the Mackinac Bridge is the first bridge to cross his life.

Rubin was executive director of the Michigan Good Roads Assn. at Lansing when he got a call from the office of Gov. G. Mennen Williams June 6, 1950, to help set up a picture of the Governor signing Detroit's expressway bill the next day.

When Rubin got there he found the executive signing the bill which created the Mackinac Bridge Authority. Prentiss Brown, who became the Authority's chairman, and Murray D. (Pat) Van Wagoner, a member, were among those there.

The Authority decided to have a meeting right then. The law called for a secretary, but no one had been appointed to that job. Rubin was drafted, supposedly for just that meeting.

As executive director, another name for lobbyist, of the Michigan Good Roads Assn., Rubin had worked with several members of the Authority on highway legislation.

GOT 'BRIDGE FEVER'

Rubin caught "bridge fever" at that meeting. Whereupon, he volunteered to keep right on being secretary—for nothing.

The Authority took him up, but voted to pay him $2,500 a year anyway after he was sworn in July 1, 1950 — more than seven years before the bridge became a reality.

Despite what he terms the "many disappointments" in efforts to win financing of the 100-million-dollar span, Rubin says he's found the experiences of his job "a education you couldn't buy" and the building of the bridge "the greatest challenge anyone could have."

Rubin, a native of Massachusetts, is a Business Administration graduate of the University of Michigan.

Shortly after graduation he founded his own public relations firm in Detroit.

From his public relations background he stepped into the job as assistant director of public relations for the State Highway Department.

REPUBLICANS IN

When he came back from a stretch in the Army's counter intelligence corps in 1947, he found Republican Charles Ziegler had become highway commissioner in place of Democrat Van Wagoner, who had appointed Rubin.

"I didn't want to push for my old job back," Rubin says, "so I found a job handling publicity for the Good Roads Assn."

Handsome, with curly hair and freckles, Rubin has made his St. Ignace home in a motel. Often he finds time for a Detroit weekend with his mother, Rose, and two brothers.

Rubin also is secretary-treasurer of the International Bridge Authority, which is endeavoring to find the financing for a 15-million-dollar bridge across the St. Marys River between the United States and Canada at Sault Ste. Marie.

"Fifteen million should be a lot easier to raise than 100 million," Rubin says of his new goal. "But the tight money market has got us stymied right now."

Junior Editors Quiz on VOLCANOES

QUESTION: Why do volcanoes erupt?

ANSWER: A volcano erupts when gases in the molten rock inside it reach a certain pressure. The volcano is a cone-shaped mountain with an opening at the top. It started out as an opening in the earth's crust and was built up over the ages by the rocks thrown out by the eruptions. Some eruptions also have a flow of lava and clouds of vapor forming over the top. Eruptions also occur under the sea. Some 500 volcanoes over the earth are considered active—that is, they may still erupt. The only active volcano in the United States is Lassen Peak in California. Although eruptions can be very destructive, the soil that comes from volcanic materials is extremely fertile. The ash itself is a good polisher and cleanser.

FOR YOU TO DO: Read the story of how Vesuvius, the only active volcano on Europe's mainland, destroyed Pompeii in 79 A. D.

1,200 Scouts Turn Out for Jamboree

59 Units Attend Big Roundup

Camp Over Weekend on Hilly 120-Acre Site Near Oxford

More than 1200 Boy Scouts of North Oakland and Macomb Counties camped out this weekend in a "Roundup Jamboree" on the Paul White farm near Oxford.

Fifty-nine Scout units put up their tents and participated in the active program on the 120-acre campsite.

Chairman Dave Vogt of Rochester said this project was the largest camping event ever sponsored by the Council, turning out many more boys and leaders than had been expected.

"With a weather range from hot days and frosty nights, the boys had a real camping experience on the hilly campsite," he said.

PLENTY TO DO

Saturday's program included a group of events at scattered points around the farm where the Scouts participated in axemanship, whittline, nature, first aid and other activities.

Explorer Ed Stoughton of Milford Post 33, one of the instructors at the knot-tying station, said that the Scouts had "a lot of fun—particularly the boys who have just joined a troop and need to know rope work."

On Saturday night, a mass campfire program was held under lights operated from portable generators. Tom Dodd, a Lake Orion scoutmaster, directed singing, and Capt. Robert Turner of the Civil Air Patrol conducted a Pontiac Squadron marching drill for a team of 10 young men.

The Oakland County Sheriff's mounted posse was to have performed, but technical difficulties prevented the unit's appearance. The unit, however, did provide fancy roping demonstrations.

One of the purposes of the big camporee was to provide a panorama of Scouting for new members of troops. Frank Daniels, scoutmaster of troop 63 of Brooklands, took advantage of this and brought his unit of practically all new Scouts.

MUCH TO SEE

Interesting sights for the boys included a circus tent which housed the "Roundup Jamboree" staff of leaders, a large tepee put up by Oxford troop 32, a tank trunk which supplied water, field services for Protestant, Roman Catholic and Lutheran Scouts, a pioneering-type gateway by Utica Troop 80 and a "ham" radi roo-ep Troop 80 and a "ham" radio operation.

The troops, in addition to supplies they brought, consumed 300 quarts of milk, 500 half-pints of chocolate milk and 300 pints of orange juice.

Macomb District of the Council turned out 19 units, Ottawa District, 15; Manitou District, 15; and Pontiac District, 10 units.

CAMP COOKS — Eric Newton, left and Allan Zealzal, both of Lake Orion, cook up a sumptuous stew Saturday. The two were among the 1,200 Clinton Valley Boy Scouts and Explorers who flocked to Oxford this weekend for a "Roundup Jamboree."

Pontiac Press Photos

Council to Meet on Home Project

County Demonstration Sets Oct. 2 Date Under New Chairman

A meeting of the Oakland County Home demonstration Council has been called for 10 a.m. Wednesday, in the Oakland County Health Building, Telegraph road, Pontiac.

Problems in homemaking and related fields revealed in 880 questionnaires returned by Oakland County Homemakers last year is the basis for a five-year planning project of the group.

Mrs. Harry M. Clark Jr., of Southfield, recently has been named new chairman for the council.

Home Industries, Mrs. Donovan Tubbs, Rochester; Food and Nutrition, Mrs. Harry M. Clark Jr.; Family Life, Mrs. Walter J. McCarthy Jr., Birmingham; Clothing, Mrs. Millard Bixler, Ortonville; Home Management, Mrs. Emil Dominick, Royal Oak; and Related Areas, Mrs. Lynn Martin, Pontiac.

New Home Demonstration groups will be formed wherever there are about 10 interested women, the council said. The Extension office, at FE 4-2564, may be called for help in organizing.

Polio Victims Speak Vows

The bride and her attendants wore ivory brocaded dresses. The bride wore a crown of pearls and a fingertip silk veil. She was escorted to the altar by her father, David Elliott, a Battle Creek school teacher.

The wedding climaxed a romance which began several months ago at the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital in suburban Farmington.

The couple will live with Ray's mother, Mrs. Harry Field of St. Clair Shores, until next month when they plan to move into their new home nearby.

A campaign is under way in Macomb County to help raise funds to pay for the house and special equipment, such as an automatic lift at the front door.

Classes are to be offered in typing, clothing, reading improvement, shop, driver training and other popular subjects.

Specialist to Talk to Garden Club on Conservation

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Farmington Garden Club will hold its Oct. 7 meeting at Knox House on Farmington road.

Prior to the program, promptly at 12:30, dessert and coffee will be served. Mrs. W. B. De Cree is chairman of the hostess group.

With Impressive Ceremony

Dedicate Home for Boys

By MARY CELINSKE
Farmington Correspondent

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — With an impressive ceeremony and inspiring speakers, Boys Republic, 28000 West Nine Mile Rd. here, formally dedicated its new home and celebrated its golden anniversary Saturday evening.

Resident boys, hosts in their modernistic new home, proudly showed guests about the wooded grounds, residents' cottages, school and administrative buildings.

At the golden anniversary dinner which followed, some 350 civic, state and local government leaders, ministers officials and friends of Boys Republic were present.

They heard Dr. Huber give a graphic description of 50 years of progress of Boys Republic.

He pointed out that the school was and is based on an idea that was considered "most unusual" at one time. The idea was that boys who got into trouble might be salvaged with treatment and understanding, rather than jail sentences.

"The buildings in which the idea was conceived are broken and old," he said, "but that idea is now an effective reality of clinics, classrooms, cottages and counselors."

Other principal speakers were such popular sports personages as Patterson, Barber and Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers. Van Patrick, Detroit sports announcer, acted as master of ceremonies.

Congratulatory telegrams were received from FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, Father Nicholas Wegener of Boys Town, Nebraska, Governor G. Mennen Williams, Henry Ford II, Michigan Senators Charles E. Potter and Patrick V. McNamara, and Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp.

The boys, proud and happy, had a field day collecting autographs of famous celebrities. Patterson, perhaps with more foresight than some, had brought along photographs which he obligingly autographed for the youths.

Money Grows for Right Entry to Pot-O-Gold

Pot-O-Gold riches are now at $400 for the lucky contestant who comes up with a perfect solution to puzzle No. 70, providing no one wins last week's puzzle. But even in that case, the right answers are worth $125 if he's a Press subscriber.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

2 Youths Admit Slaying Crippled Shop Proprietor

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) —Investigators said two boys only 15 and 13 signed statements last night admitting they killed the crippled proprietor of a radio and hobby shop Tuesday while trying to steal a radio from his show window.

The victim was Manley C. Martin, 63.

Superior Judge Louis A. Bunge directed that the names of the boys be kept secret. No charges were filed against them immediately.

Martin was shot down in front of his shop after the sound of breaking glass awakened him in his apartment behind the store. His wife found him dead on the sidewalk.

Calls for Extension of State FEPC Law

LANSING (AP) — Saying he was moved to action by racial violence in Little Rock, Gov. Williams called for extension of Michigan's Fair Employment Practices Law to control discrimination in public schools.

Williams told the Democratic State Central Committee yesterday that the time has come to broaden the two-year-old law to include other areas besides employment. The Fair Employment Practices Commission, he said, also should have power to handle cases of racial discrimination in both public schools and public lodging and eating places.

Applauding the Democratic governor's recommendation, the committee unanimously adopted a resolution sharply attacking Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, another Democrat, for "interference with orderly fulfillment of the orders of the Federal Court."

The resolution also endorsed Williams' various statements on the dispute, some condemning Faubus, others supporting President Eisenhower's decision to send Federal troops to Little Rock, but criticizing his delay.

Republican opposition in the legislature, the governor said, convinced him that the Fair Employment Practices Law should be limited in scope when it was passed in 1955 after a six-year fight.

Jazz Tempos Liked by Congregation

Church of England Rocks and Rolls

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Feet tapped and members of the congregation rocked to the hot rhythm of church music set to jazz tempos.

Beside the choir was a trap drummer, two guitarists, a hot fiddle player and the church's regular organist, swinging a hymn.

Psalm 150 was knocked out in steady foxtrot time. Parts of the Gloria and the Creed moved with the suggestion of a boogie woogie beat.

"It is difficult to change the music in church," said the minister, "but if the church is to be alive — then changes must be made."

The experiment took place last night at the Church of Our Lady Of Mercy and St. Thomas of Canterbury.

"I am quite certain that God is much more pleased when everybody is joining in," said the Rev. Mr. Gower-Jones.

The church music was set to jazz by the Rev. Geoffrey Beaumont, of St. George's Church in London. He called it a 20th century folk Mass.

The reason why Father Beaumont wrote this particular music is quite simple," the minister told the congregation. "The music of the church is meant to be sung by everybody. It is meant for the people."

"It was a tremendous success," the minister said today, "so successful that we are going to do a repeat on Nov. 3."

"I prefer the old-fashioned style of service," said Mrs. Florence Harker, 41. "However, I agree that this does appeal to the younger people and they should be catered for."

The minister said that a number of the older members of the congregation also liked the jazz service.

"The only criticism I hear," he explained, and they were not severe ones, were from the people in the 40s and early 50s. The young and the old were unanimous in their praise.

Said John White, 73: "I have been used to the intricate and beautiful masses by Haydn and Mozart. However, I liked this one tremendously. It is the music of modern times. There was nothing irreligious about it.

Destroyer Rescues Trawler's Crewmen

GREENWICH, England (AP)—The U.S. destroyer Purdy steamed toward Greenwich today with the 10 crewmen of a trawler which sank after the two ships collided early yesterday.

The 134-ton British trawler British Columbia went down soon after the collision in relatively calm waters off the hook of Holland.

All crewmen were picked up by the Purdy. Three were reported slightly injured.

The Purdy was returning from NATO maneuvers in the North Sea.

Aboard the USS Forrestal, meanwhile, U.S. Adm. Jerauld Wright said he agreed with a British admiral that NATO does not have enough naval strength in the Eastern Atlantic.

Adm. Sir John Eccles said Friday: "We have not got anything like enough forces to carry out our primary task either in the air, under the sea or on the sea."

Two California Youths Held After Rampage

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Two 12-year-old boys were arrested here after a rampage that police said included:

A store burglary, setting fire to a school, setting fire to a truck, and looting at least eight automobiles.

Police said the school and truck fires were put out quickly.

taly Blocks Tiny Republic

SAN MARINO (AP)—Shopkeepers re grumbled today as Italian lice continued a three-day road ockade, cutting flow of tourists d money to this tiny Communist- ed republic.

Purpose of the blockade seemed be to keep out any Italian mmunist agitators.

The crisis reached a climax pt. 19 when six leftwing mem- rs of San Marino's Grand Coun- resigned from the Communist d the Allied Socialist party. at gave Christian Democrats d independents a parliamentary ajority for the first time since end of the war.

Bragan Is Named Cleveland Manager

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

TRIBE BOSS — Bobby Bragan, ousted in mid-season as Pittsburgh manager, was named today to replace Kerby Farrell as head man at Cleveland next year following the Tribe's 1st 2nd division finish in 11 years.

Farrell Fired After 1 Season by Greenberg

Ex-Pirate Manager Gets One-Year Contract to Manage Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — Brash Bobby Bragan, who once strolled onto a baseball field and offered a sip of orange pop to irate umpires, will manage the Cleveland Indians in 1958.

General Manager Hank Greenberg announced last night that the 39-year-old Bragan, who was fired as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates last Aug. 3, will succeed Kerby Farrell.

Bragan will be signed for one year, but nobody said how much he will be paid. Farrell got about $25,000.

Farrell said Greenberg told him his one-year contract would not be renewed as they drove into Cleveland from the airport. They had flown home from Chicago, where a last-game victory over the White Sox left the Tribe in sixth place in the American League—its worst finish since 1946.

Greenberg said Bragan's reputation as a colorful personality should be an asset "as long as he exercises diplomacy and good judgment."

"I understand that he has a delightful sense of humor, too. That is something we can use around here," said Greenberg.

Bragan was fired at Pittsburgh three days after the orange pop incident, which occurred at a night game in Milwaukee.

Greenberg hired Bragan by phone Saturday. Bragan is in Cuba, managing the Almendares club in the Cuban Winter League. He and Greenberg will meet tomorrow in New York and will attend the World Series.

Farrell succeeded Al Lopez as Indians' manager after the 1956 season. The 44-year-old Tennessean had piloted the Indianapolis American Assn. club, then a Tribe farm, to victory in the Little World Series.

"I think Farrell did a good job," said Greenberg, "and a lot of circumstances beyond his control had some effect on the team's performance."

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

If there was any doubt about it before, Ted Williams' tremendous 1957 season must rank him among the great hitters of all time.

Boston's splendid splinter, now 39, captured the American League batting title with an average of .388, which also was tops in the majors.

He was the oldest member of his league ever to take a batting crown.

It was his fifth such title. The first was in 1941, when he hit .406. No one has broken .400 since.

His outburst this year also lifted his lifetime mark to precisely .350.

Williams belted 38 homers this season to increase his major league total to 456. He still is led by Babe Ruth (714), Jimmy Foxx (534), Mel Ott (511) and Lou Gehrig (493).

On two occasions this season, Williams hit three homers in one game, thereby becoming the first American Leaguer to do that in one season.

Colts Plaster 34-14 Loss on Lions

BALTIMORE (AP) — Unless the Detroit Lions show rapid improvement on several fronts, the 1957 National Football League season may be a long one for the team that was picked as one of the favorites in the Western Division's championship race.

Seldom in recent years has a Lions squad been beaten as decisively as Detroit was yesterday when it went down to a 34-14 defeat before the aroused Baltimore Colts.

Spearheaded by a young quarterback picked up from the Pittsburgh sandlots the Colts did everything right and forced the Lions to do about everything wrong before 40,112 partisan fans in Memorial Stadium.

Quarterback John Unitas, who played his collegiate ball at the University of Louisville and then failed to make the grade in his first crack at the professional ranks, fired four touchdown passes as the Colts gained 241 yards in the air.

Probably the biggest disappointment to the Lions coaching staff was the complete collapse of what the Lions felt was going to be a strong running attack.

Last week, Detroit runners gained 142 yards against the world champion New York Giants, who had the best defense in the league last year, but yesterday netted a meager 23 yards in 24 rushing attempts compared to 151 for Baltimore.

Despite the fact that the Lions have a veteran team, there is little doubt that the coaching staff will stress basic fundamentals—blocking and tackling — in workouts prior to next Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers.

Wilson says he will withold final judgment on the Lion's performance until he has had a chance to look at the game films, but added that without looking he knew that blocking and tackling were "terrible."

Wilson criticized a lack of blocking in both the line and backfield, commenting: "we didn't have time to do anything. We didn't get any blocking and whenever we looked up there were two or three Colts ready to pounce on us."

The coach praised the performances of quarterbacks Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote whom he said played "excellent" ball. Layne, who played the first half, completed 8 out of 15 passes for 144 yards, while Rote completed 7 out of 12 for 90 yards and one touchdown.

Layne set up Detroit's first touchdown in the 1st quarter with a 58-yard pass play on which end Dave Middleton romped to the Colts' three. Halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassady scored his first touchdown on a wide end sweep.

The last Detroit marker came in the last quarter when Rote pitched the ball 33 yards to end Jerry Reichow.

While the rugged Colts defense was stopping the Lions on the ground, quarterback Unitas riddled the air with touchdown passes that added 44, 35, 3 and 35 yards.

It was only the 2nd time in 10 games since 1950 that Baltimore was able to defeat Detroit. Last time was in 1955 when the Colts won 28-13.

Reichow played the entire game with a pulled leg muscle while fullback Tom Tracy suffered a concussion early in the first half. Other injured Detroit players were Middleton who injured his knee, end Dorne Dibble who injured his fingers and guard Jim Martin who pinched the nerves in his right arm.

Royal Oak Kimball was stamped as a future power of the Eastern Michigan following a 20-0 blanking of a strong Berkley eleven Saturday. John Holbrook tallied on scores of 19 and 33 to pace the win. The stopping of Bear ace Franz Neubrecht was a key factor in the Knights' win.

Tigers Wind Up in 4th Spot

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers joined the elite foursome of first-division finishers and Jim Bunning sneaked in his 20th pitching victory yesterday when they defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 7-4, to wind up their 1957 season.

The Bengals hold on 4th place in the American League ended six years of wandering in the wilderness of the 2nd division.

The game also marked the fulfillment of Bunning's efforts to become a 20-game winner. The hero in yesterday's contest was shortstop Harvey Kuenn whose two-run homer into the nearly empty bleachers at Briggs Stadium broke up a 4-4 tie in the 6th inning.

Bunning went into the game in the 3rd inning after the Athletics' Woody Held smashed a two-run homer off starter Duke Maas. The slender righthander blanked the Athletics until the sixth when he was replaced by Billy Hoeft.

Kansas City got six of its eight hits and scored all its runs against Maas. Tigers raked three Athletics moundsmen for a total of 16 hits, including three doubles in addition to Kuenn's ninth home run of the year.

Tigers got their first two runs in the first inning when Kuenn doubled, Kaline beat out an infield hit and Maxwell doubled, with Kuenn scoring on a wild throw from third baseman Hector Lopez.

Detroit's winning rally came in the sixth after Kuenn's homer landed in the left field stands. Tigers added another run in the eighth when Hoeft singled off George Brunet and dashed home from second on Kuenn's 3rd hit.

Finigan, Al Kaline, Dave Philley and Charley Maxwell each had two hits in one of Detroit's best hitting days of the 1957 season.

Victory was worth about $300 to each Tiger player; that is the difference between a full claim to 4th place and sharing the position with another club.

Lose Polo Grounds Finale

Giants Bow to Pirates in Last Tilt in Gotham

NEW YORK (INS) — "Stay, team, stay!"

That was the chant put up yesterday by thousands of diehard fans who crowded beneath the New York Giants' clubhouse after the Polo grounders played, and lost, their last game of all time as New York's own.

But with the 9-1 defeat by Pittsburgh in the books and the team once again buried in 6th place, the fans turned their attention elsewhere.

Soon they were chanting, "We want Stoneham, we want Stoneham — with a rope around his neck."

Giant president Horace Stoneham, largely instrumental in moving the New Yorkers to San Francisco for the 1958 season, did not acknowledge the salutation.

Before the game, attended by 11,606 sentimentalists, many oldtime and current Giant stars were paraded out to take a bow. The biggest cheers were reserved for Carl Hubbell, Sal Maglie and Willie Mays.

The "say hey" kid had two singles and threw a Pirate runner out at home but had no part in New York's only run. Dusty Rhodes delivered Don Mueller with a sacrifice fly in the first inning. The Duster also made the last out, grounding out to short to end the game.

The Giants managed six hits off Bob Friend, but the Pirates rapped Johnny Antonelli and four relievers for 17.

Troy 59-0 Winners

Rolling to a 25-0 1st quarter lead, Troy went on to pile up a 59-0 victory over L'Anse Creuse in a Saturday non-league game in which the entire squad got into the act. Reserve Dave Stokes tallied 20 points and Gary Littleson 18 to pace the winners.

Cranes Victors at Grid, Soccer

Hand Lake Forest 2 Defeats Saturday at Cranbrook

Cranbrook school engaged Chicago's Lake Forest Academy in two kinds of football games Saturday at the Cranes' home fields, and won both.

Crane soccer squad shut out the Chicagoans 4-0 in the morning then the gridders went out in the afternoon to trample their visitors in a runaway contest 32-7. Victory for the soccer club was its third straight and the football win was the Crane's second in a row.

Tom Noteware's first TD in the opening period was a 40-yard gallop and the Cranes sewed the win up on Pete Turner's 38-yard sprint after picking up a Lake Forest fumble a few minutes later. All scoring was in the first half, as the Chicagoans stiffened their defenses in the later part of the game.

Lake Forest scored in the 1st period on a 67-yard run by Les Turner. Other Cranbrook scores, all in the 2nd period, were made by Stu Clark on a 6-yard plunge, after Ozzie Jacobsen ran 28 yards to the six. Noteware went over again after a 50-yard dash over end, and Ed Mearian tallied on a 5-yard buck. Clark kicked both Cranbrook extra points.

Bears Retain Status in BC Gridiron Play

In a high-scoring contest Saturday, Boys' Club Bears retained their leadership and unbeaten status in the club league. Bears defeated Packers 72-48. Packers are in second place.

Lou Little Calls 'em

As might have been expected, things began to take shape more clearly in the gridiron's mid-western sector than in other parts of the country as a result of the season's first big Saturday.

Michigan State, Iowa and Minnesota showed the soundness of predictions that they will be in the middle of the fighting for big Ten honors, with Michigan also to be reckoned with.

In a sense, Michigan had perhaps the most useful day of the quartet, beating Southern California, 16-6, because this was a real test. The others, running up large totals, perhaps learned less about their basic strengths than their coaches might have wished.

When you're scoring 54 points, as Michigan State did on Indiana; 70 points, as Iowa did on Utah State, and 46, as Minnesota did on Washington, you are developing a useful scoring habit, of course.

But the invaluable development which comes from playing opponents of comparable strength is not there. When you're running rough-shod you're not learning too much.

Nevertheless, all three teams showed strong attacks and sound defenses built on good personnel. I was especially impressed by the balance of the Minnesota offense, as the Gophers gained 389 yards on the ground and 162 in the air against Washington. That's a good proportion.

Every section has its leaders, however—teams strong enough to indicate this early that the national football picture is perhaps the strongest we have ever seen.

In the Southwest, Oklahoma, which didn't play Saturday; Texas A&M, Baylor and in increasingly impressive Texas squad, are coming on.

In the South, Duke, Auburn, Georgia Tech, despite its tie with SMU, and that good North Carolina State outfit, stand out. It was known that N. C. State was strong but it has surprised by the speed with which it has developed.

Perhaps you noticed the manner of N.C. State's victory over Maryland, and how its scores were set up—on intercepted passes, on kick returns, on plays which began with the opponent putting the ball in play.

Nothing in football is more valuable than the quality of opportunism, the ability to turn the opponent's mistakes into scores. N.C. State, led by two fine backs in Dick Christy and Dick Hunter, did that.

The Notre Dame win over Purdue shows that in football the emotional desire is still an important factor. Here's a team many thought to be a year away, certainly not ready so early in this season. But the Irish took into the game a determined mental attitude. When you have this desire, along with some ability, you're a tough team to beat.

Hunting Begins Tuesday

ALL OUTDOORS (INS) — Michigan outdoorsmen spent the weekend getting in some final licks at fishing and preparing for the bird and bow-and-arrow deer seasons which open in certain sections on Tuesday (Oct. 1).

Saginaw Bay, Lake St. Clair and along Lake Huron, the fall fisherman found perch and bass hitting good.

Reports from inland lakes said fishing has "picked up" with some limit catches being made.

Some of the best rainbow trout fishing of the year is about to get underway on many designated streams and inland lakes. A large run of 'bows should be under way soon around Manistee. (Contact the fish division of the Conservation Department in Lansing for a detailed list of these spots.)

Statewide season also begins at 6 a.m. Oct. 1 for bear with firearms under a small game license. Use of dogs permitted. Archers go after deer Tuesday in their "sport of sportsmen." A record number of bowmen are expected this year as Michigan leads the nation in the number of hunters and amount of game taken.

The game law digest also shows open season after 6 a.m. Tuesday on ruffed grouse, woodcock, rabbits and hares and fox, gray and black squirrels in the Lower Peninsula north of M-20.

All indications point to a "rather good" hunting season in Michigan this year, said one conservation official.

A veteran Monroe duck hunter called to report early movements of wild ducks on the marshes of Pointe Mouillee.

Local ducks—those which remain in the area all year—will bear the brunt of early season shooting.

City Golfers Win Elks Inter-Club Tournament

Pontiac Elks No. 810 won the Elks Inter-Club golf tournament yesterday at Pontiac Country Club. Thirteen clubs from this area played in the tourney, with Royal Oak taking 2nd place and Port Huron finishing 3rd.

Ed Wasik was medalist among the 100 golfers with a four-under-par 69. Other Pontiac scores were Dick DeWitt, Stan Savage and Carl Rose, 73; Bob Isgrigg, 75; Ron Rothbarth and Frank Coad, 76, and Bob Gaines and John Steinhelper, 79.

DDGA Golfers Whip Publinx

The Detroit District Golf Association's 16-man team defeated the Michigan Publinx Golf Association, 36½-35½, in their annual challenge meet Sunday at Edgewood Country Club.

Perry Byard's 30-foot putt on the 18th green in the final match won honors for the DDGA, which now holds an 8-6 lead in the series.

Doug Wilson of the Publinx team was the individual medalist with a two-under-par 69, followed by the DDGA's Bob Babbish, who shot a 70.

Orioles Ask Waivers on Ex-Tiger Trout

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles yesterday asked for waivers on Paul (Dizzy) Trout, 42-year-old ex-Detroit Tiger pitcher.

Trout, oldest hurler in the major leagues, was signed to a Vancouver contract in August and was brought up to the Orioles Sept. 1. He appeared in two games, pitching one-third of an inning and giving up four earned runs.

Orioles also sought waivers on Eddie Robinson who was signed as a batting coach in June and put on the active list Sept. 1.

MSU 11 Impresses; Wolverines Do Not

State's Vast Manpower Routs Indiana; Several Questions Answered

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football coaches were counting their blessings this weekend after the stunning 54-0 shutout of Indiana.

The Spartans figured to be splendid this fall but there was still questions to be answered in the proving ground of actual play.

The squad came up with all the right answers in their initial test Saturday.

There was the question of quarterbacking. Jim Ninowski and Mike Panitch answered that one. Ninowski sent the first team in for two fast touchdowns in the opening quarter. Panitch matched him by directing the second eleven to two more markers in the second period.

There was the worry about backfield power. Walt Kowalczyk was running at top form at right half again and started the scoring by going over from the six yard line after straight - arming a pair of Hoosiers.

The MSU quarterbacks hit their first 11 pass tries Saturday. Ninowski connected with six of six and Panitch with four of four.

The reshuffled line belted the Indiana forward wall off its feet. And the replacements—the sophomores from the fifth and sixth teams—were causing the Hoosiers almost as much trouble as the regulars.

As another reassuring touch, end Dave Kaiser connected with five straight extra points and only missed the sixth because of a poor pass from center.

It was Michigan State's deep reserves of manpower that impressed most of the 52,162 fans in the rebuilt Spartan Stadium.

EX-CHIEF SCAMPERS — Former Pontiac High gridder Walt Poe (13) scampers upfield for a 11 yard gain against Central Michigan as Hillsdale teammates Doug Maison (20) and Dave Trippett (65) eliminated Central's Russ Southwell (43). Hillsdale won its 27th game in a row, 35-14, as Central fell for the third straight time.

Hillsdale King of State Small Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Marching along under a heavy aerial bombardment, Hillsdale College swept to its 27th straight football victory, 35-14, in a long awaited clash against Central Michigan over the weekend.

It was a battle of schools generally regarded as the top small college football powers in Michigan.

Doug Maison, a 6-foot-4 senior quarterback, passed for one touchdown and scored two others in short crashes through center. His accurate passing also set up four of the five Hillsdale scores.

Central launched the season victorious in its last 15 games. Hillsdale had won 25 straight when the fall football curtain rang up.

The loss was the Chippewas' third straight this season. The Chips have been beaten by Bradley and Western Michigan.

Hillsdale bounced Lakeland in its opener a week ago. Coach Muddy Waters crew hasn't been whipped since Eastern Michigan beat them early in the 1954 season.

Meanwhile, Alma Hope played a thriller opening their MIAA seasons, with Alma winning 14-13 with seconds remaining.

With 48 seconds remaining, underdog Alma scored on a trick pass pattern. Left end Bill Klen skirted into the backfield took a handoff and threw a 30-yard pass to Leonard Fase in the end zone. Ron Murray booted the extra point that won the game.

Hope drew first blood in the opening minutes, capitalizing on an Alma fumble. Jerry Hendrickson finally carried over from the five.

A Hope bobble of the second half kickoff led to Alma's first score, with Pat Brady plunging over from the 1. Hope bounced back in the third period to go ahead once more on a short plunge. However, this time Alma blocked Bill Huibregtse's extra-point kick.

In another MIAA opener, Albion upset Kalamazoo College 27-13. Kalmazoo scored first but couldn't stand up against the accurate passing of Albion quarterback Bob Gamble, who set up three of his team's touchdowns with passes.

In other games:

Adrian overwhelmed Olivet, 26-0; Ferris defeated University of Illinois (Chicago Extension) ,13-7; Capital University bounced Northern Michigan, 41-12; and Miami of Ohio shut out Western Michigan, 20-0.

Weekend Grid Activity of Colleges Highlighted

NEW YORK (AP)—Monday's football wash:

Who writes the script for Columbia? Buff Donelli debuts as coach, his son Dick throws two touchdown passes and plays a great game at quarterback and an unsung, Rudy Pegoraro, kicks a 24-yard last period field goal to upset Brown 23-20 . . . But Jimmy Shofner of Texas Christian did almost as much by himself in upsetting Ohio State 18-14. He returned a punt 90 yards for a touchdown, gained 77 other yards, did the team's punting, recovered a fumble and stopped an Ohio State touchdown in the game's final minures with a shoestring tackle . . . Another one - man show: Wray Carlton of Duke. He scored 26 of his team's 40 points, a conference record, in 40-0 victory over Virginia . . . He scored four touchdowns and converted twice.

The most exciting play in football is the kickoff runback for a touchdown, and fans at College Park, Md., were treated to not one but two of them . . . Dick Christy of N. C. State hauled back a kick 96 yards for one of his three touchdowns. Then Maryland's Howie Dare matched him with a return of 90 yards. . .

Packaged excitement . . . Washington's Jimmy "Jet" Jones did the same with a 91-yard second half kickoff although his team lost to Minnesota 46-7 . . . But for a real Cinderella twist take the case of Rene Ramirez of Texas. Rene was so low down on the Texas roster that he wasn't even listed in the brochure. But he came off the bench Saturday to spark two touchdown drives in Texas' 20-6 verdict over Tulane . . . Now some more printing will have to be done.

It was a good day for sophomores . . . Billy Cannon, Louisiana State soph, shook loose on touchdown runs of 53 and 73 yards in the 28-0 rout of Alabama.

Navy has a halfback named Dick Dagampat. Sounds like mild profanity but the only profanity is provoked by the opposition . . . Mr. Dagampat scored two touchdowns in Navy's 33-6 victory over William & Mary.

Cardinals Sign Fred Hutchinson

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Former Detroit Tiger manager Fred Hutchinson, who managed the St. Louis Cardinals from fourth place into contention for the National League pennant this season, will pilot the team again in 1958.

He signed a new one-year contract Saturday.

The terms weren't disclosed but his salary this year was thought to be $30,000 and he is believed to have gotten a $5,000 raise.

Seattle Driver Wins Hydro Title

MADISON, Ind. (AP) — Jack Regas of Seattle piloted favored Hawaii Kai III to victory Sunday in the Governor's Cup race for hydroplanes in the Madison Regatta on the Ohio River.

The victory assured Hawaii Kai III of first place in the national hydroplane championship standings this year. Sunday's 400 points gave it enough of a lead to survive the last race, even if it shouldn't race. The boat also captured this year's President's Cup and Silver Cup.

The annual race for the airplane engine-powered boats was run Sunday before an estimated 25,000 persons.

Another Seattle hydro, Miss Thriftway, was wrecked during a trial heat. Pilot Bill Muncey escaped with a bruised shoulder when his speeding craft struck a wave, catapulted into the air and then slapped down hard on the water. The boat disintegrated and crewmen said the boat, a two-time Gold Cup champion, was beyond repair.

FISHED OUT — After the disaster, Miss Thriftway, is lifted out of the Ohio River by a crane. The craft was moving at 160 miles per hour when it hit a wave and was wrecked. Bill Muncey suffered shoulder bruises and shock. Another driver dived in to help him.

American Assn. Club Wins Junior Series

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The powerful Denver Bears reign today as the Junior World Series baseball kings.

The Bears' 8-1 victory over Buffalo yesterday sewed up the best-of-seven series and gave the American Assn. its fourth straight triumph, 4-1, over the International League.

The Internationals have not won since 1953 when Montreal defeated Kansas City.

Michigan Fails to Shine While Beating Trojans

Bennie's Gridders Take 16-6 Struggle; Big Ten Chances in Doubt

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — How far Michigan will travel this season in the Big 10 depends on the improvement the Wolverines make in the next two weeks.

Michigan, as it played here, against Southern California, would offer little resistance to powerful Michigan State. The traditional rivals come face to face in Ann Arbor Oct. 12.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan was far from content with his club's performance Saturday against the Trojans. What was billed as a Michigan cake walk developed into a rugged struggle before the Wolverines won 16-6.

"We're certainly not as far advanced as we were last year at this time," Oosterbaan said. "Our tempo has been slowed by injuries, so we have to make marked progress before we get into our own conference schedule."

The Wolverines will go into that game in full strength barring practice injuries this week. There were a few bumps and bruises reminding the Wolverines of their tough clash here. But Oosterbaan considered them all minor.

Making its initial start, Michigan looked ragged much of the time. Two sustained drives produced touchdowns. Jim Pace flew over the goal line from the one after a second-period march of 51 yards. Seconds later the Wolverines added two points when Alex Callahan trapped Trojan quarterback Jim Conroy in his own end zone for a safety.

LOOK, IT'S LOOK — Michigan State sophomore Dean Look is hit by several Indiana players after a nice gain Saturday afternoon. Look was impressive in his first game with MSU as the Spartans romped over the Hoosiers, 54-0.

Barnum Takes State PGA Honors

By BILL CORNWELL

Ray Maguire had the gallery on his side but not lady luck as big John Barnum won the Michigan PGA golf championship Sunday at Birmingham Country Club.

Maguire, playing in front of the home folks, was defeated by the long-hitting Grand Rapids professional on the 1st hole of a sudden-death playoff after the two veterans finished the regulation 36 holes with even par 144s.

The playoff began at 6:35 p.m. and darkness was closing in so rapidly that the 44-year-old Maguire nearly whiffed his 2nd shot after finding the rough off the tee.

Barnum fired a routine par five on the 510-yard hole, while Maguire took four to get on and two putts for a bogey six to miss a golden opportunity for the 1st title of his long career.

It was the 1st state PGA crown for Barnum in three attempts. He lost to Wally Burkemo in a playoff for the title two years ago at Owosso Country Club. Burkemo wound up 3rd yesterday with 145.

Maguire, Birmingham's silver-haired pro, shot a 74 in the morning, then closed with a strong 70 over the par 36-36—72 layout to start his enthusiastic well-wishers making hurried plans for a celebration.

But they forgot to make allowances for Barnum, another "old pro" on the tournament trail. Barnum had a steady 72 on the morning round and went out in 35 in the afternoon.

He could have avoided the playoff by shooting regulation par golf the rest of the way, but he had trouble with his putter and bogied Nos. 14 and 15.

"Big John" went all out on the 585-yard 18th hole and made it pay off. Needing a birdie four to tie Maguire, Barnum unloaded two tremendous wood shots to nearly carry the green, pitched to within five feet of the cup and dropped his putt.

Barnum's victory in the semi-darkness playoff followed and his financial reward was worth $350. Maguire pocketed $250 for 2nd place.

Burkemo, the veteran Franklin Hills pro, opened the day with a 70 and seemed headed for the title. But he soared to a disastrous 41 going out on the final round and came home in 75 for 3rd place and $150.

NL's Champions Head for N.Y., and Big Series

MILWAUKEE (INS) — Milwaukee Braves, champions of the National League, leave for New York by plane today and were scheduled to arrive at Idlewild airport at 4:40 P.M., EST.

Braves manager Fred Haney said the team will work out Tuesday at Yankee Stadium in preparation for the first World Series game at the Stadium Wednesday afternoon.

A crowd of 45,000 fans saw the Braves edge the Cincinnati Redlegs yesterday, 4-2 in their final game of the regular season. This raised the club's new National League home attendance mark to 2,215,404.

DeCola, Archer Fight Tonight at New York

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tony De Cola of Brooklyn and Jimmy Archer of New York's Bronx give ancient St. Nicholas Arena another all-New York card Monday in a 10-round welterweight match that should produce fiery action.

De Cola will be going after his seventh straight victory in 1957, in his second 10-rounder. The Brooklyn boy who will be 21 on Thursday was supposed to have fought Archer June 17 but injuries forced Archer out of action. Instead, De Cola met Felix Chioca and won a decision.

Archer's last appearance in mid-May resulted in a spectacular upset over Tony DiBiase in his first 10-rounder. The 22-year-old Archer has a 12-1 record to De Cola's 24-7-1. Both are former Golden Glove champions.

Yanks Get Warmed Up to Meet Braves

Stengel to Test Ailing Players Before Opener

Mantle, Skowron to Get Checkups in Workouts at Yankee Stadium

Skowron pulled a back muscle September 10 and hasn't been able to bend over — as he would while fielding his position — with pain since. Neither he nor Mantle still bothered by shin splints, made the trip to Boston for the final games of the regular season last weekend. But Skowron, running daily at Yankee Stadium, reported he was improved.

While the Yankees, staged a mid-day workout, the Braves were the big attraction in a ticker tape parade in Milwaukee before they boarded a plane for the trip to New York. They were expected to arrive here late this afternoon.

The National League champions — the first to break the East's stranglehold on the pennant since St. Louis win in 1946 — planned a final tuneup tomorrow afternoon at Yankee Stadium.

The opener stacks up as an all southpaw pitching show at the start with Ed (Whitey) Ford (11-5) the likekly Yankee choice against Spahn (21-11) both are aces, but the choices also reflect respect by Stengel and manager Fred Haney of the Braves for the left-handed batting power on both clubs — particularly with the right-field seats so close in the stadium.

It would be Ford's third consecutive series opener, and the first for Spahn, who at 36 is the lone holdover from the Braves' last pennant club — back in 1948 when they were a bunch from Boston.

With help from the weatherman, Wednesday's opener at noon should draw a crowd of from 68,000 to 70,000. All reserved and box seats were sold out less than 24 hours after the Yankees started taking ticket applications. Standing room tickets ($4.20) now are on sale and 14,000 bleacher seats ($2.10) will go on sale early on the day of each game.

Neither manager has named his opening line-up.

St. Mike, Rams and Eaglets Lose 1st

Local Parochial 11's Beaten

By CHUCK ABAIR

It was a rough day all around for the trio of Pontiac area entries in the Surburban Catholic League's opening games yesterday.

Two major surprises saw highly-rated St. Michael completely outplayed in bowing 13-0 to Detroit St. Rita here at Wisner Stadium and defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary trounced by Highland Park St. Benedict, 38-12.

St. Frederick, a slight underdog after an impressive non-loop triumph, turned in another good showing in dropping a 25-18 verdict to St. James of Ferndale. St. Clement upset Royal Oak St. Mary by a 13-6 count in the other league game.

The St. Mike-St. Rita score could have gone much higher but for penalties and fumbles which stalled drives by the visitors.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks showed very little on offense or defense. His reserve backs garnered two of their five 1st downs in the final quarter against the St. Rita subs.

St. Rita clinched the verdict late in the 2nd period after missing two previous chances when fullback Dennis Marcola broke through the center of the line to go 39 yards for a TD. Versatile Al Sleyter toed the extra point.

A 23-yard pass from Mike Young to Aldo Marchesi climaxed a 64-yard march for the other tally in the 3rd. Marchesi was all alone in the end zone on the play.

The statistics showing St. Rita gaining an overall 256 yards to 95 for the Mikemen and the fact that the home eleven never got past the St. Rita 36 are a true indication of the St. Michael futility.

Orchard Lake ran into a one-man gang in 170-pound St. Benedict halfback Larry Gacki. The talented senior racked up 37 of his teams points on two runs and four touchdown passes from sophomore Art Massucci and added an extra point.

The Eaglets were outscored 19-6 in each half in their 1st start of the season as Gacki compiled the highest individual scoring total of the year in the state.

Quarterback Terry Raymond had a hand in both St. Mary TD's. He flipped to Pete Krystek for the 1st tally, a 44-yard play, and went over himself from eight yards out in the final minute.

That St. Fred-St. James tussle was a case of alternating halves. St. James rolled at ease in the 1st two periods scoring all its points. The Rams did the same in last two sessions but fell short of the mark.

"Our boys were scared to death in the 1st half and couldn't do anything but they later outplayed St. James," said St. Fred skipper Gene Wright.

Jack Lyon, who scored five times in the Rams' opening 50-0 waltz, added two more yesterday on runs of 22 and 3. Quarterback Ed Kast set up the other on a pass to Tom Derocher and then sneaked over from the 1.

Larry Yezak paced the victors. He was on the receiving end of two touchdown passes of 30 yards each thrown by Jim Grasel. Bill Tunnicliff scooted 65 yards and Larry Honeycutt five for the other TD's. Honeycutt converted the only extra point of the contest.

St. Frederick had the Dales back on their own three-yard stripe with four minutes to play but could not take the ball away in a final bid for at least a tie. St. James held on staying on the ground and drove all the way to the Ram 35 before the game ended.

The Giants turned down an opportunity to tie and lost a battle of booters to the reconstructed Cleveland Browns 6-3. The Bears discovered the Green Bay preseason ballyhoo had a solid base in a 21-17 loss to the Wisconsin club which was undefeated in exhibition play.

The Chicago Cardinals, losers of five of six exhibitions, turned out favored San Francisco 20-10 to open the season. Coach Buddy Parker's patchwork Pittsburgh team rolled 28-7 over the Washington Redskins and the Baltimore Colts showed unnoticed power in grinding Detroit 34-14.

For form players, the Los Angeles Rams squeezed past winless Philadelphia 17-13.

The Browns' Lou Groza kicked a 47-yard field goal with 21 seconds remaining to end a toe-to-toe duel with the Giants' Ben Agajanian. They had traded field goals in the second period Agajanin from 32 yards, Groza from 29.

The Giants could have taken a three-point, first period lead when Agajanian kicked a goal from the 46. The Browns were holding on the play and the Giants elected to cancel the score and take the penalty.

Babe Parilli, back at Green Bay after a trade to Cleveland, delighted a full-house of 32,132 at the dedication of the Packers' new stadium.

It was the third time Green Bay had taken the lead from the Bears. Quarterback Parrilli threw a 37-yard scoring pass to Billy Howton in the second quarter. Fred Cone scored the other Packer touchdown.

Bear quarterback Ed Brown ran five yards for a touchdown in the first quarter and threw 11 yards to Harlon Hill for a period score. Blanda kicked a field goal.

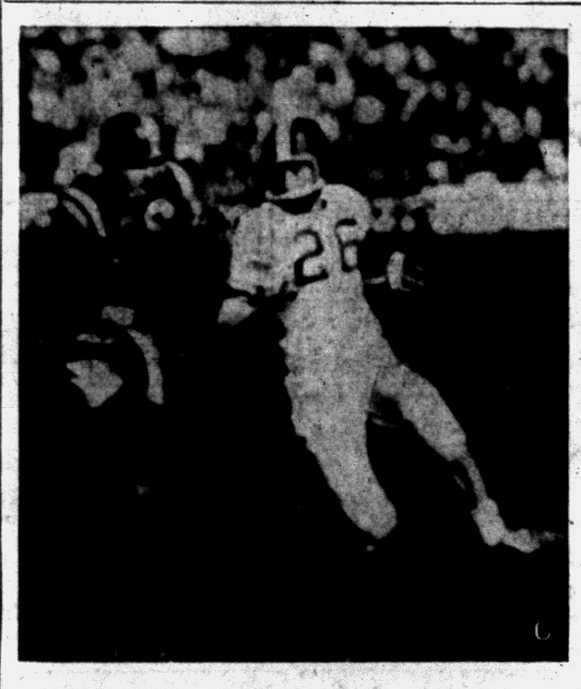

Cardinals' fullback Joe Childress went 39 yards in the second period against the San Francisco 49ers to build a 14-10 lead for Chicago and Pat Summerall kicked two second half field goals.

'Frisco's Gordy Soltau opened the scoring with a 35-yard field goal. Dick Moegle made it 9-6 when he sprinted 18 yards in the first period. Soltau converted the last point the 49ers made.

Quarterback Earl Morrall arrived from the 49ers in time to practice six times with the Steelers. He learned enough to throw scoring passes of 25, 42 and 42-yards in Pittsburgh's win against Washington.

Earl "Jug" Girard, 10-year veteran halfback, caught two of Morrall's touchdown passes and Ray Mathews caught the others. Eddie LeBaron threw 38 yards to Jim Podoley for Washington's one six-pointer.

VIKING ROMPS — St. Rita co-captain Mike Young romped for long yardage on this play as the Vikings dominated the action in a 13-0 victory over St. Michael at Wisner Stadium yesterday. Shamrock guard Ed Lauinger is the player trying to get hold of the fleet halfback.

Red Wings in 1-1 Tie With Edmonton

And they had to come from behind to avert a defeat. Al Arbour tallied the equalizer from 50 feet out late in the 2nd period after Edmonton goalie Dennie Riggin had stole the show with 22 straight saves. Gordie Howe and newcomer Guyle Fielder had assists on the play.

Detroit dominated the offensive action but had to be content with its 3rd tie in six pre-season starts. The others have been wins.

New Glass Material Harder Than Steel

CORNING, N. Y. — A glass material said to be harder than steel, lighter than aluminum, and 15 times as strong as plate glass has been developed by a Corning concern. It is expected to be used in radomes, the nose cones for guided missiles.

The process is reported to involve turning noncrystalline glass into a hard, nonporous crystalline material that can be made into complex shapes by ordinary glass-forming techniques.

The product is reported to have electrical insulating properties superior to those of the best dielectric ceramics, can be opaque or transparent, and can be tailor-made with a wide range of thermal expansions.

General Statement of Condition

The Pontiac Public Schools are providing a good educational program with adequate instructional materials, a good teaching staff, and sufficient physical facilities so that each student has the opportunity to attend classes full time except for occasional unavoidable and temporary situations.

Continuous effort is made to provide more and better instructional materials to evaluate and upgrade the various areas of learning and to eliminate substandard classroom facilities.

Plans for the coming year include such things as a thorough study and evaluation of the student guidance program, a placing of emphasis on reading instruction, and consolidation of the library and audio-visual departments in developing a teaching materials center.

This year will see the completion of the new Senior High School, a new elementary school on Franklin Road, an addition to the Owen school and 14 asphalt paved play areas.

Proposed changes in the administrative organization are designed to improve and strengthen the total instructional program, pupil personnel services, and community-school relationships.

FINANCIAL REPORT
Avondale School District

The value of the property owned by the School District is estimated to be as follows: Sites $80,000.; Buildings $1,150,000; and Equipment $120,000.

There are six buildings, 69 class rooms and two multi-purpose rooms. In September 1956, there were 73 rooms but four were destroyed in a fire on January 24, 1957.

During the school year 1956-57, there were 90 teachers. Minimum salary for a degree $4,100.00, medium $4,750.00, maximum $5,800.00. There were 2,536 children enrolled, 1,596 in elementary grades and 940 in secondary grades. The ratio of pupils to teachers was 28 to 1.

In June 1956, an $850,000.00 Bond Issue was passed, and additions to four buildings are under construction. The new additions include 28 class rooms and two new heating plants, and additional boilers on two other heating plants.

Two rooms in the new construction will be used for Type A Special Education rooms. Due to the rapid progress on the new construction, it is hoped that we will be able to move out of rented rooms in the middle of the year.

Inflation Usually Forces Prices Up

Downturn in Stock Market Puzzles Many Observers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's unusual downturn while all the talk is of inflation and more inflation and of high national income puzzles many observers.

Historically stock prices should rise when inflation is in the saddle. Last Wednesday, however, The Associated Press index of the price average of 60 stocks hit its low for the year, down $24 from the year's low of mid-July.

Close watchers of the market have a number of explanations. They don't all jibe—but then neither do the opinions of these experts on the immediate course of many individual stocks. That's why we have a stock exchange in the first place.

Some say that sellers of stocks are reacting to the recent switch in business psychology from a belief in a fall resumption of the boom to a cautious view that the present slowdown in the business pace is likely to change to a let down before the boom resumes again, some time in the future.

Others cite the squeeze on business earnings showing up in early bird reports on third quarter profits. They fear its effect on dividend rates, although the dollar total of dividend payments is still running ahead of last year.

A sizable number feel that earlier optimism was overdone, that the soaring prices of stocks of many corporations discounted their earnings for some time ahead. They hold that it could be quite a while before earnings and dividends catch up with these high values and make yields adequate.

This school is inclined to hold also that maybe it's time for the economy to take a breather. The same ultra conservatives worry about the debt load carried by government, corporations and individuals.

Some traders appear to be moved by the administration's continuing attack on the peril of more inflation. They fear that the tight money policy aimed at checking the boom to stave off a bust might work too well and trigger a recession—although almost all think if it comes it will be mild and brief.

Cuts in military spending hits some sections of the market, those holding government contracts or supplying those who do, and this seeps into the thinking of other traders, too.

Uncertainty is always the bane of the stock trader. There is plenty of that around just now. One is the general business outlook—which way will the course of industry and trade turn?

Russia is talking tough again and what that means is still unclear. Some watch nervously its effect on American corporate investments in the Middle and Far East.

Opinions differ too as to how soon the piston-propeller age will become entirely the jet age, and whether that will give way to the missile age. Others ask how about the atomic age, will that upset a lot of things?

The Bulls have strong arguments—especially for the long run—but these are the things the Bears concentrate on just now.

GOP Headquarters Moving to Birmingham

Oakland County Republican headquarters will leave Pontiac tomorrow for a new, permanent office in Birmingham.

After five years in the Pontiac State Bank Building, headquarters is being moved to a more centralized location, said county chairman Arthur G. Elliot Jr.

The new headquarters is at 351 N. Woodward Avenue.

Property Owners Note:

Registry Deadline Tonight

Tonight at 8 is the deadline for Pontiac property owners to qualify for a vote in the Oct. 28 hospital bond issue.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans announced that the clerk's office in the City Hall will remain open this evening until 8 to take new registrations and any change of addresses of voters.

(The October vote is limited to property owners only as the state law stipulates only such persons can say whether a municipality can issue general obligation bonds.)

The vote here will be on a $950,000 issue to furnish and equip the four million dollar addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Evans said late registrations have been "very few."

RICHARD W. BEARD

Hi-Mill Firm Names New Vice President

The appointment of Richard W. Beard, of 2245 Devonshire Rd., to vice-president of the Hi-Mill Manufacturing Co., in Milford, has been announced by R. F. Beard, company president.

Beard has been with the firm for several years. He will be in charge of all operations at the firm's plant, upon assuming his new role.

Nash, Hudson to Vanish

DETROIT (AP) — Nash and Hudson, two time-honored names in U.S. motoring history, will soon disappear. American Motors Corp. is dropping the Nash and Hudson brand names on its 1958 line. The company's cars will bear an equally venerable brand name—Rambler.

It is estimated that one baby out of two dies from malaria fever among the 3 million nomadic Kurds who wander through Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Syria.

Rep. Broomfield Opens Office

Constituents May Visit Legislator at Royal Oak, Orion, or in Trailer

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) today announced the opening of a new South Oakland County office.

Broomfield at the same time time said that his rambling trailer-office made such a hit in Pontiac Friday that a return visit is contemplated.

The trailer is scheduled now to visit communities north of Pontiac, but before the Congressman's two-month tour of Oakland County is over, he hopes to get back to Pontiac again.

"More than 200 persons visited the trailer in Pontiac, indicating that there are a lot of people interested in the federal government," said Broomfield.

The rambling trailer-office is designed to make it easier for constituents of the 18th Congressional District to take their problems to Broomfield.

The new office at 2300 N. Woodward Ave., north of 12 Mile road, is a permanent one, with hours from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

It is Broomfield's second Oakland County office and the fulfillment, he said, of his campaign promise to have offices conveniently located for both north and south Oakland County voters.

The other permanent office is in Lake Orion.

Says Newspapers Must Boost Prices

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A newspaper circulation expert said today that newspapers generally will have to boost their prices as well as their circulation to maintain a sound profit margin.

"Possibly the biggest question (newspaper) circulators are asking themselves—and their publishers—today, is not should we raise our prices, but how much we should raise our prices," said George W. Hicks of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette.

He made the statement in an address prepared for delivery at the 33rd annual convention of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn. which closes here today.

"Practically every other item sold to the public has been increased over and over again," said Hicks, who also serves as president of the International Circulation Managers' Assn.

He said that 37 per cent of America's daily newspapers "today charge more than five cents for a single copy," but he declared "the overall affect (of the boost) was stronger newspapers—not weaker newspapers."

Weather Drops Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Favorable weather over the nation's grain producing areas resulted in mostly lower futures prices on the board of trade today.

Bearishness was most apparent in corn and soybeans, with beans declining most in early dealings. The weather for maturing corn and the bean harvest is excellent and the long-range outlook also is favorable.

Most wheat futures dropped back fractionally at the start on a little local selling. The Chicago market also was influenced by lower wheat prices at Kansas City.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅛ to 1⅛ lower, Dec. $2.15¼; corn was ⅛ to ¼ lower, Dec. $1.20; oats were unchanged to ⅜ lower, Dec. 65⅞; rye was ¼ to 1¼ lower, Dec. $1.26¾; soybeans were ¾ to 1 cent lower, Nov. $2.26⅞; and lard was 2 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, Oct. $11.00.

Market Edges Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was generally lower in active early trading today.

Leading stocks were off from fractions to around a point. There was a scattering of gainers in about the same range.

The market was brisk at the start with a good number of opening blocks. A lower tendency was apparent and this became more pronounced as trading progressed.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) continued to lose ground, dropping a fraction in the wake of Friday's news that it planned to issue at least a quarter of a billion dollars more in new common shares. It lost 2½ Friday.

Royal Dutch also dropped a fraction, but Texas Co. rose slightly and Gulf Oil was ahead around a point.

Gainers included Goodyear, Boeing, Phelps Dodge and Lorillard. Among losers were American Can, American Smelting, Commonwealth Edison and Southern Railway.

Opening blocks included: General Motors off ⅛ at 40⅛ on 2,000 shares; Standard Oil (New Jersey) off ⅜ at 56 on 3,000; and U. S. Steel off ⅝ at 59⅜ on 4,000.

Shopkeeper's Meeting With President Called Off

Says He's a 'Forgotten Man' With Ike

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP)—Shopkeeper Richard J. Cunningham, a self-styled "little man," now says he's the "forgotten man" as far as President Eisenhower is concerned.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said the meeting didn't come off because Cunningham talked too much about it after being asked to keep the matter confidential.

The owner of the Cranston Variety Store said he had never been told to keep the matter quiet.

He said he couldn't understand Hagerty's comment that the press secretary had phoned him to keep the news quiet. "He couldn't have called me," the shopkeeper said, "because I don't have any telephone at home."

Cunningham said also: "Probably everyone began asking for similar meetings with the President when the news broke and Mr. Hagerty got mad and called everything off.

"I'm not sore at the President. I'll never have anything against him. I'm mad at Mr. Hagerty who promised me this meeting, then never said anything about it later."

There was no indication that President Eisenhower knew anything about a meeting with Cunngham.

The shopkeeper said he wrote Hagerty last month that he had an argument with a couple of his customers after the customers contended the President didn't have time to bother with "the little guy" and small businessman.

He said a reply from Hagerty at the time said he thought he could arrange the meeting in Newport.

The shopkeeper said he wrote and telephoned Hagerty several times at Newport. The press secretary said he asked Cunningham to keep the plans confidential because a great many people ask for appointments with the President.

Hagerty continued that he doesn't think the letter had left his desk when there were lots of stories in the papers . . . "and that is one of the reasons why he hasn't been out here."

Instead of meeting with the President, Cunningham and his wife fed the pigeons in a Providence park yesterday and later went to a movie.

Rep. Holmes to Retire

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—The dean of Washington state's Republican congressional delegation, Rep. Hal Holmes, 55, will not seek re-election from the 4th District next year. Holmes said he is retiring because of "impelling personal reasons."

Head of Chile Watches Probe

Police Pressing Search for Escaped Leader of Peron Street Gangs

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—President Carlos Ibanez kept close watch on an investigation today as criticism arose over the escape from prison of the leader of Juan Peron's "Brown Shirt" street gangs.

Police pressed the search for Guillermo Patricio Kelly, head of the deposed Argentine dictator's street brawlers. Fourteen persons were arrested and held incommunicado.

Several congressmen and newspapers charged negligence was responsible for Kelly's escape from a penitentiary here Saturday. The Peronist leader, who fled to Chile after breaking jail in Argentina, was being held for extradition to his home country.

He apparently slipped away from the penitentiary dressed as a woman.

The government cracked down immediately after the escape, and officials say they did not believe Kelly had been able to leave the country.

Ibanez returned last night from the resort town of Vina del Mar and immediately stepped into the investigation.

Col. Layle Set to Vacate Post

Quartermaster General of State National Guard Out Today

LANSING (AP) — The scheduled removal of Col. Herbert F. Layle as state quartermaster general apparently will become fact today, despite efforts by fellow officers to obtain an informal endorsement of his promotion by the National Guard Assn. of Michigan.

Gov. Williams said earlier this month that he would order Col. Layle's post vacated Sept. 30 under the terms of a legislative act which gives the governor the choice of promoting him or vacating his job and naming another officer.

The statute, enacted in 1947, provides that the position of quartermaster general must be occupied by a brigadier general. The colonel has held the post since 1948.

A resolution praising the officer and recommending his promotion to brigadier general was offered at the National Guard group's organization meeting over the weekend.

The resolution, however, was tabled when some members objected on the ground that the governor, in his role as commander-in-chief of the Michigan National Guard, is the sole judge of promotions.

The newly-formed association is made up of officers of the state's National Guard units.

Police Nab 13 Youths on Outdoor Beer Party

Thirteen Detroit youths were arrested at 12:30 a.m. Sunday by Pontiac police while engaging in a beer party in a vacant field known as Tom-a-Hawk Hills, near Featherstone avenue.

Four officers converged on the drinkers and rounded up 11 men and two girls ranging in age from 17 to 35. Forty full bottles of beer were confiscated as evidence.

School Nurses Check for Flu

Believe Asian Illness Not Yet Here; Watch South Side Absences

School officials don't believe Asian flu has hit Pontiac public schools yet, although school nurses are double-checking this fall as they make their rounds throughout the week.

Nurse Josephine Seeley, coordinator of school health in the Pontiac school system, said no unusual amount of absence has been reported in schools located in the northern and western section of the city.

"The attendance in the schools in the southern part of the city has been lower than normal lately and some of the children have symptoms similar to the Asian flu but, we haven't any definite diagnosis," Nurse Seeley added.

"Of the 29 of 31 schools throughout the city, approximately seven per cent of the children were absent Wednesday. Those children include truants, students who are out of town and excused and those who are ill cover a variety of sicknesses," she concluded.

To Ask Raise in Water Rates

Clerk James Seeterlin to Present Report to Waterford Board

A report by Waterford Township Clerk James Seeterlin on a proposed raise in water rate schedules will be presented when the township board convenes at 7:30 tonight.

The raise has become necessary because the existing rate has not been sufficient to operate adequately and meet the outstanding bond requirements, Seeterlin said.

Other business will be action on the application for a license for the sale of packaged liquor by the Elizabeth Lake Pharmacy.

Members will approve street signs for South Winding drive. The William S. Burt School PTA, along with individuals, has agreed to pay for the 25-mile-per-hour speed sign. The township pays for the erection of the sign.

Contracts for insurance on all township-owned vehicles and for fence around Waterford Village Cemetery will be awarded tonight.

Two new plats for real estate developers will also be presented for board action. The proposed plat for Holiday Farms is located on M59 at Airport road and the other plat is Balmoral Manor, at Hatchery and Crescent Lake roads.

Eight U.S. presidents served less than one term: William Henry Harrison, John Tyler, Zachary Taylor, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Jackson, James A. Garfield, Chester A. Arthur, and Warren G. Harding.

Harrowing 10 Minutes in Tunnel

Lad Saves Shocked Pal on Train

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two young boys, one of them semi-conscious from severe electrical burns, spent more than 10 harrowing minutes atop a slow-moving freight train last night as it wound 3½ miles through a long tunnel.

The grueling experience began in the Pennsylvania Railroad yards at Union Station, where a group of Negro and white youths were playing.

John T. Powell, 10-year-old Negro, climbed on a standing freight train and was severely shocked when he touched the high-voltage electric wires overhead.

Two companions ran several blocks to his home and returned with his mother. She wanted to climb up and get her son, who was lying unconscious on top of the train.

About eight minutes passed while young Maler dissuaded the frantic mother from climbing on the freight train.

Young Powell, meanwhile, regained consciousness and rose to his knees on top of the freight car just as the train started up.

Seeing that the Negro boy—injured and dazed as he was—would be swept off the car when the train passed under a street bridge, young Maler climbed on the moving train and held Powell down.

The freight moved westward out of the yards, through a low, winding 2½-mile tunnel and on another mile to Gwynn's Run before railroad officials were able to flag it down and shut off the electric current in the overhead wires.

Firemen removed the two boys to Lutheran Hospital, where Powell was reported in fair condition with third- and fourth-degree burns of the scalp and third-degree burns on the feet.

Hospital attendants said it would be some time before the extent of the boy's internal injuries are determined and his chances of pulling through assessed.

Maler, credited with saving the Negro boy from instant death by his heroic action, was not injured and was released from the hospital after examination.

SOME FUNDS! — Pat White, hostess and "Pirate Girl," and emcee Jan Murray sort out some of the money to be given to lucky contestants on "Treasure Hunt," which is telecast on NBC at 9:30 a.m. Not-so-lucky contestants walk off with booby prizes of fruits and vegetables in the Monday-through-Friday half-hour quiz series.

'Treasure Hunt' Outrates Arthur

Comic Also Appears in 'Dollar a Second' Quiz Saturday Night

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Most surprised performer of the new television season is Jan Murray.

A "calculated risk" and a "relaxed outlook" have sent his TV career off on a happy new slant, beginning when "Treasure Hunt," a show he ran last season on Friday nights over the ABC network, was shifted to NBC, slotted on a five-a-week basis from 9:30 to 10 a.m.

It was then Murray took his gamble. One morning he invited the viewing audience to mail in post cards with name, address and a number from 1 to 30.

It was the first time he had ever sought a response from viewers.

The idea was, whenever studio contestants failed to pick a chest containing the cash jackpot ($1,000 plus $100 for each day it is untapped), one of the postals would be drawn.

If the card happened to have the number of the jackpot chest (changed daily), the viewer would get the dough.

417,000 CARDS

Along the way, "Treasure Hunt" also became the first NBC show to top the half hour rating of the Arthur Godfrey show over on CBS.

Aside from such a surprise avalanche, Murray insists, daytime television has changed a lot of his notions.

He hasn't been completely cut off from night time work, however, since he also conducts "Dollar a Second" over NBC on Saturday evenings.

"The trouble with a big show at night," says Murray recklessly mixing his metaphors, "is that every program has to be the rise and fall of Pompeii. If a show is no good, you've got to wait a whole week to get another chance at the audience."

BELIEVES IN QUIZZES

"The biggest question in TV is survival," he says.

"A show with a gimmick or a situation comedy is the only way a comic can survive in this business for more than two years."

With this in mind, Murray is working on four or five other packages which he hopes may provide opportunity for fellow mapcaps.

English Palace Concerned Over Divorce Plans

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace is concerned about evidence that might emerge if a close friend of Prince Philip is sued for divorce, a leading British newspaper says.

Lord Beaverbrook's Sunday Express said the wife of Lt. Cmdr. Michael Parker, former secretary to Philip, is preparing a divorce petition to be presented next month.

Palace officials are worried, the newspaper said. It added: "One of their anxieties is that, whereas the British newspapers are forbidden by law to publish the detailed evidence given in divorce cases, the foreign press is not similarly inhibited."

After a report in February that Parker and his wife were separated, Parker resigned as secretary to Philip. But he and the Prince are still friendly and he sometimes calls at the palace.

British newspapers have said Parker was friendly with a well-known London society girl who once worked at the palace. Gossip columns suggested that Prince Philip may have met the girl through Parker.

Two Japanese Dead; Soldier Denies Knowing Anything of Accident

ITAZUKE, Japan (AP) — A 1952 sedan owned by an American sergeant crashed into a motorcycle, then struck and killed two pedestrians Saturday night, the Air Force and Japanese police said today.

U.S. Air Force officials said the car was owned by Staff Sgt. Winston Eley, 32, Philadelphia. He denied all knowledge of the incident, police said.

The car was found abandoned several miles from the scene of the accident yesterday morning.

Officials at Itazuke air base said Eley returned to the base by taxi shortly after midnight. He was hospitalized at 2 a.m. for what Air Force doctors diagnosed as a severe stomach ulcer.

Air Force authorities said Eley would be available for questioning by Japanese authorities while hospitalized and would be released to them for questioning when his condition improved.

Japanese police said the sedan, traveling at great speed on a wet highway, first struck the motorcycle, seriously injuring a 34-year-old Japanese physician and his wife.

Less than a mile farther down the road, police said, the car struck and killed a 50-year-old woman, then careened across the highway and fatally injured another woman.

Red Tide Area by Gulf Beaches Quickly Sprayed

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Aerial spraying of the red tide area off St. Petersburg's gulf beaches has been stepped up amid indications the outbreak is increasing in intensity.

Bathers have begun to report the coughing and throat burning sensation associated with the red tide.

So far offshore winds have kept a mass of dead fish, poisoned by the red tide, well out in the Gulf. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates the number at more than 100,000.

The red tide is caused by the presence in the water of huge number of a minute marine organism called gymnodinium brevis.

Satellites to Go 2,000 Miles Up

New Altitude Estimate Readied by Researcher for World Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—A researcher said today American earth satellites may soar as high as 2,000 miles above the earth—500 miles higher than the previous maximum estimate.

Richard Tousey of the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory gave the new altitude estimate in a report prepared for an international conference designed to summarize and coordinate the rocket and earth satellite programs of various nations for the International Geophysical Year.

Attending the six-day parley opening today are delegates from 12 nations, including the United States and Russia, which are the only two nations planning to launch satellites. The other nations have programs designed to track and observe satellites, or programs for exploring the upper atmosphere with high-altitude rockets.

Russia previously has indicated it plans to reveal further details of its earth satellite program at the Washington meeting.

Researcher Tousey mentioned only casually that "perhaps" the American satellites might attain a height of 2,000 miles in their oval-shaped orbits. He offered no reason for the new estimate.

About a year ago when Naval Research Laboratory scientists raised their original 900-mile estimate to 1,500 miles, they said lowered estimates of the weight of the rocket-type launching vehicle, plus an improved performance outlook, appeared to justify the higher figure.

Thus, it's conceivable that still further improvements in the rocket weight and performance picture are now envisioned.

Six of the satellites are to be launched before the end of IGY in December 1958, but no dates have yet been announced.

Colombia's Ex-Dictator Pinilla Back in Madrid

MADRID (AP) — Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, deposed dictator of Colombia, returned by plane today after a 20-day trip to the Dominican Republic.

Rojas Pinilla said his trip had been "exclusively on business affairs." It had set off rumors that he was on his way back to Colombia in an attempt to return to power.

Have a Cigar, Ladies? They're All the Rage

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I swear, I think I'll quit buying romantic little gifts for my B.W. Yesterday I brought her a present—and she threw it at me.

Frolicking down W. 56th St., I was lured into a shop by a picture of a pretty girl on a window card. "I'll take ten of those for my darling wife," I caroled to the saleslady. "Gift-wrap them, please."

At dinner I ceremoniously tendered the gift box to the B.W., merely mentioning that the offering was very popular with the smartest women of Copenhagen. Opening the box, she sniffed, then snorted, "Ladies' cigars! Smoke them yourself!" (That's gratitude for you.)

Traffic Deaths Rise in August by 5 Pct.

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths increased in August for the first time since last November, the National Safety Council said today.

The traffic death toll last month of 3,790 not only was 5 per cent higher than the toll of 3,610 in August last year but was the highest August toll since 1941 and the second highest for that month in the council's history. The total in August 1941 was 3,954.

The council said the increase was attributed, in part, to the fact there were five Saturdays in August this year, including one during the Labor Day weekend.

Despite the increased toll in August, the council said highway deaths for the first eight months this year were 2 per cent lower compared with the corresponding period last year, 24,730 against 25,200.

The council reported that travel in the first six months was up 3 per cent, producing 5.5 deaths for every 100 million miles of travel, lowest ratio in the nation's history for a comparable period.

Former Circus Beauty Passes Away at 105

She joined the circus at 16 after marrying Stewart Craven, an elephant trainer. She rode in a chariot and was billed as an Egyptian princess. They traveled the United States and Europe from 1868 to 1880 with the P. T. Barnum, Adam Forepaugh and Cooper and Bailey shows. Their home was at Gwynedd, Pa., and she was a native of Philadelphia.

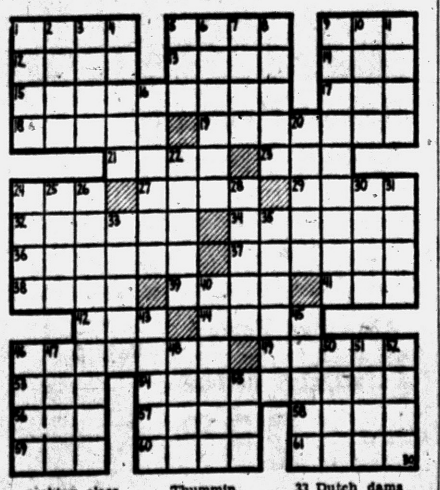

Craven died in 1890 from the long-range effects of being mauled and bitten by a lioness.

SHEER MAGIC — The gossamer silk of a spider's web hangs like a painting in a gallery from this fence at Fleischmanns, N. Y. The nearly invisible handiwork of its busy maker is outlined by the early morning dew, highlighted by sunlight.

Last Hardrock Drilling Champ Dies in Hospital

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — Walter Bradshaw, 84, known as "The Last of the Hardrock Drilling Champions," died in a Butte hospital yesterday.

Bradshaw and a partner, Joe Freethy, set a world hammer and drill record in 1901, when they bored 55 feet into a concrete slab in 15 minutes. The record has never been surpassed.

It was estimated that Bradshaw won about $35,000 in hardrock drilling contests. He was capable of slamming home 80 blows a minute with a heavy sledge.

Now He Knows Who Saved Him

AP Reporter Brings 2 Together, Survivors of Lost Battalion

NEW YORK (AP) — Thirty-nine years ago, 650 young Americans were trapped by the Germans in the Argonne Forest of France.

One of the group to be remembered as the Lost Battalion of World War I ran through a hail of artillery bursts. He came upon a mound of debris and saw, twitching in the rubble, a foot, barely visible.

Pvt. Stephen M. Honas tugged at the foot and pulled another American from the hole. They separated without exchanging names.

Since then, Honas, now 62 and an employe of the General Services Administration in Washington, D. C., had wondered who it was who said to him that day: "I owe you my life."

He found out yesterday with the help of an Associated Press reporter when 41 of the 194 men who survived the six-day battle held a luncheon reunion in a Manhattan hotel.

Honas told his story to the reporter, Myron S. Kaufmann. Later, during luncheon, a man seated near Kaufmann at the table showed him a scar on his head and told how it got there.

The veteran said he had nearly been buried alive in the Argonne Forest and another soldier pulled him out. His helmet saved him, he said, but cut his forehead.

Kaufmann noted a similarity in the story to Honas'. Before dessert, the reporter got up and introduced the two men. Their stories checked.

Honas thereby was reunited with former Pvt. Max Lesnick, 64, of the Bronx, now an employe of the federal arsenal in Raritan, N. J.

Lesnick, who said a leg wound he suffered was aggravated when Honas pulled him from the rubble, remarked, "I can file a claim for my legs now."

"Now maybe I can get my medal," said Honas.

Dial for Series Scores

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Telephone Co. next Wednesday will begin coverage of its 17th world series. The company said fans can obtain inning-by-inning scores by dialing Meridian 7-1212, its time bureau. You can get the time, at the same time, if you're interested.

Flu Strikes School of Prince Charles

HEADLEY, England (AP) — Five suspected cases of Asian flu have developed at Cheam School, which Prince Charles entered a week ago.

A school spokesman said the 8-year-old heir to the British throne and other boys who have so far escaped the disease have been ordered to stay out of the school sick bay where the five are under treatment, "although the outbreak is not regarded as serious."

North Dakota's dairy plants produced 51,726,000 pounds of butter in 1955.

Ease Truck Regulations

NEW YORK — According to the American Trucking Associations, only five states now restrict truck lengths to 45 feet. Three years ago 17 states had such restrictions.
