New Trade Pact Is Agreed Upon

West Germany, Soviet Get Together Easing Crucial Berlin Question

BONN, Germany (U)—West Germany and the Soviet Union have agreed on a new trade pact, the government announced today. Apparently, the crucial question of Berlin's economic status has been settled.

At the same time, West Germany pressed trade pact talks with Communist East Germany in East Berlin, where the same question of Berlin has remained the stumbling bloc.

In both cases, West Germany wants West Berlin treated as part of the economy of West Germany because they are tied together by a common currency. This also would insure open communications to Berlin.

The East Germans followed the Soviet lead in balky at this proposal. Furthermore, the East Germans have threatened to halt land and river traffic to Berlin, 100 miles inside the Iron Curtain. If no trade agreement with West Germany is reached by Jan. 1.

Conceivable, Soviet agreement on West Berlin's status would mean East Germany will back down on the issue, but the East German negotiator in Berlin gave no hint of this.

Asked if an agreement would be signed today, Helmut Brandt of the East German Trade Ministry replied: "If the West talks about trade and not about politics." This was a reference to the Berlin clause.

The announcement of the West German-Soviet agreement came from a government spokesman after Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met with Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov.

The spokesman said the agreement probably will be signed before the end of the year.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former President Harry Truman hit it out again today at the myth that "The Missouri Waltz" is his favorite musical selection.

Adams Takes Oath as Second Probate Judge

Swearing In Ends Years of Struggle by County for Another Bench

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

What had been sought for several years came to pass yesterday when Donald E. Adams was sworn in as the county's second probate court judge before several hundred persons in the Courthouse.

It was a solemn occasion for the 48-year-old native son of Oakland County as he stepped forward to place his hand on the Bible held by his older brother, Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams.

Shortly before, Probate Court Judge Arthur E. Moore, re-elected to his sixth consecutive term last November, took his oath for a new four-year term beginning Jan. 1. It was administered by Circuit Court Judge Stanton G. Dundero.

Adams' induction climaxed years of legislative struggles by the county to provide the Probate Court with a second judge. The need in Oakland County is considered one of the least in Michigan.

Both men will officially start their terms—it will be two years for Adams—after the New Year holidays.

Close to 200 persons, most of them county lawyers, took over Circuit Court judges by Judge Moore and Adams sworn in.

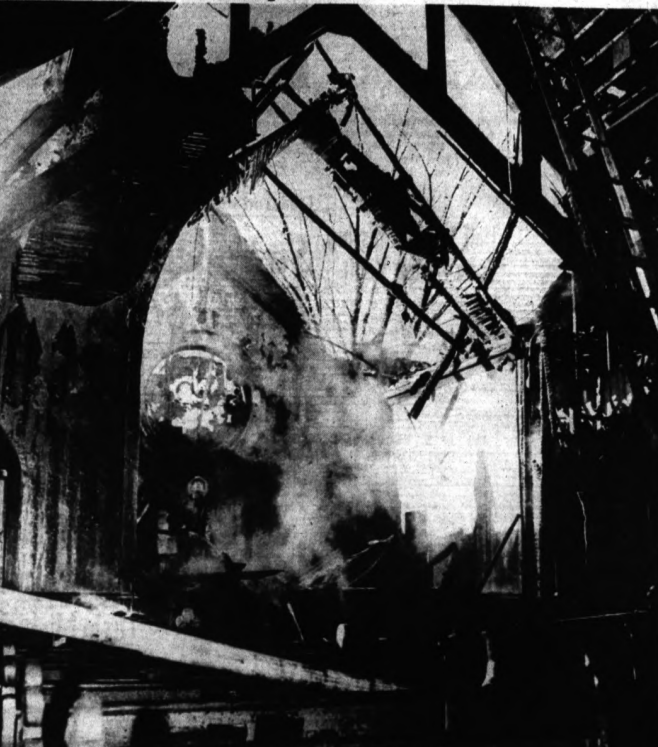

The afternoon ceremony was put on by the Oakland County Bar Association and chaired before the five Circuit Court judges by Jack W. Hutson, president of the association.

After Judge William J. Beer presided, engraved gavels from the association to the probate court judges, Royal Oak attorney Gilbert H. Davis, who moved Adams' admission to the bench, presented the new judge with a larger engraved gavel, this one made from a piece of walnut from a tree on the Silver Lake family farm of the Adamses.

"You are to use this gavel," Davis said, "on those occasions when you temper your justice with mercy."

Seated in the first row of the jury box were Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Adams, both of whom were present, and several other guests. David Adams, 16, Mrs. Walter R. Denison, the Moore's daughter; and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Suspect Inside Job at Armored Car Office

Theft Not Discovered Until Time Lock Fails to Open 24 Hours Later

TAMPA, Fla.—A Tampa detective today estimated thieves escaped with between $450,000 and $500,000 in cash from the vault of the Rasmale Armored Car Service office.

Three persons, all present or former employees of the firm, are being questioned by police, said O. C. Beynon, inspector of detectives.

The estimate was made by Beynon after the contents of the vault had been inventoried by police and company officials. The money was stolen early Tuesday.

The vault, believed at first to have contained more than $1 million, was found burglarized today in what appeared to be an "inside job," the FBI said.

Federal agents said they would not be able to disclose the amount of money taken until they complete a survey of the contents of the vault. It contained both cash and checks.

The vault contained two day's receipts from Tampa's dog-racing track and Christmas rush receipts from a number of department stores.

There was no official comment on the subject, but officers said it appeared that the vault was either left open Monday night or else was locked with the time lock set to open the door at the burglar's convenience.

Officials of the firm discovered Tuesday that the vault might have been entered. They said the burglar alarm sounded at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday but investigating officers found nothing amiss.

Police called in. But when the time lock on the vault failed to open as scheduled at 6:30 a.m., police and insurance underwriters were called in.

A locksmith was summoned and he said the lock could not remain locked more than 72 hours, but Tuesday night, it was decided to force entry into the vault and a crew with jackhammers spent six hours battering through the walls of the vault.

Mrs. R. D. Jackson, vice president of the firm, said she did not know exactly how much money was in the vault, or how much of it was in cash or checks. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Most Pontiac Stores to Use Approved 4 Pct. Tax Table

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce today followed Detroit's lead in recommending the so-called "mathematically accurate" tax table to its members for collection of the 4 per cent sales tax beginning Jan. 1.

Copies of the recommendation were being sent in the mail today to chamber members throughout the Pontiac area.

John W. Hirtlinger, chamber manager, believed that most, if not all, stores would follow the proposed tax schedule.

The schedule is described as "mathematically accurate" because it is based on a straight 4 per cent of the sales price. Under the schedule, no tax would be charged on purchases of less than 13 cents. The rest of the schedule:

PURCHASE	SALES TAX
13 to 37 cents	1 cent
38 to 62 cents	2 cents
63 to 87 cents	3 cents
88 to 112 cents	4 cents
113 to $1.37	5 cents

The tax would continue to amount at the same rate at corresponding intervals on purchases higher than $1.37.

The Pontiac schedule is the same as the one recommended to Detroit merchants yesterday by the Detroit Retail Merchants Association. It also follows the recommendation of the State Revenue Department.

Clarence W. Locke, state revenue director, said he expects the "mathematically accurate" schedule to be used by most Michigan merchants.

Locke said the system has been adopted by the Michigan Food Dealers Association and the Michigan Retailers Association (MRA) headquarters in Lansing indicated that no more than two tax schedules are expected to be in use in Michigan after Jan. 1.

While most cities are expected to use the "mathematically accurate" system, some retail groups—especially those in the southwestern part of the state—may choose to follow the so-called "modified California" system.

This latter is based on a system developed in California to help merchants specializing in a large volume of sales under $1.

Belgian Police Scatter Mob in Ghent, but Socialists Call for Antwerp General Strike

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Police used tear gas and fire hoses today to break up a demonstration in Ghent. Socialist union leaders promptly called for a general strike in Antwerp to retaliate.

It was the first use of tear gas in the eight-day strike aimed at toppling the government of Premier Gaston Eyskens. Strikers in Ghent were trying to force workers out of the fuel gas works administrative office.

Antwerp, lying in the Flemish northern section, has not been hit as hard by the strike which has paralyzed the Socialist strongholds in the industrial and French-speaking south.

The government had reported a back-to-work movement in Antwerp, except for workers at the big port installations. Harbor installations are still paralyzed.

Would Spread Strike. If successful, the Antwerp call would spread the general strike to an important Flemish area, where many are Social Christians and back Eyskens, himself a Social Christian.

A mass demonstration of strikers was staged this morning in Brussels without incident. The capital itself appeared under virtual military siege.

Policemen were camped in the central public park opposite Parliament and the royal palace, in front of the opera house.

Rallies and demonstrations by the striking 700,000-member Socialist unions were countered by calls from the Catholic Social Christian unions to their 800,000 members to remain steadfast at work.

The Socialists lunched the walkout eight days ago in protest against Eyskens' plans for tax increases and social welfare cuts because of the country's financial setback in the Congo.

They denounced the government's strike-breaking efforts as a Hitler and demanded the fall of the Social Christian-Liberal coalition.

Woman Dies After Assault

Detroit Police Hunting for Vicious Assailant Staging Street Attack

DETROIT (AP)—As police searched for a vicious assailant, Mrs. Betty James, 26-year-old hospital nurse's aide and mother of three children, died today of injuries suffered at her hands Tuesday.

Mrs. James, second woman victim of street assaults in the same general midtown area within 10 days, was attacked and beaten on her way to work Tuesday. She died at Receiving Hospital. Mrs. James lived at 2345 Hazelwood St., Hazel Park.

The assailant was described as a Negro about 25 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall and wearing a long coat.

A Michigan Bell Telephone Co. clerk was attacked by a Negro armed with an ice pick earlier. She is recovering.

William Thompson, 32, told police he heard Mrs. James scream and saw a man struggling to drag her between the houses.

Mrs. James' skull was fractured and her face smashed by repeated blows from a 15-inch solid brass bar. The blood-stained weapon was found by police a block from the scene.

Mrs. James' empty wallet and blood-stained dress bag were found nearby.

Mrs. James was walking from a bus stop to her job at Children's Hospital. She had taken the job last October after her husband, Oscar, 25, broke his hip and was unable to support their three children, Steven, 8, Marvin, 6, and Dale, 3.

Protest on Newsmen Is Ignored by Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—A U.S. Embassy spokesman said today the foreign office so far has ignored a protest over the detention of NBC correspondent Wilson Hall.

Hall was picked up at the airport Monday as he prepared to leave for New York. He has been held incommunicado since Tuesday.

Cuban authorities have given no reason for the detention. Hall is being held at military intelligence headquarters in suburban Miramar. Officials there say only that Hall is under investigation.

City to Open Renewal Loan Bids

The city was scheduled to open bids today in an initial move to save thousands of dollars in interest rates in connection with the urban renewal project.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the city hopes to borrow from some bank funds for land acquisition at an interest rate lower than the 3 1/2 per cent set by the federal government on the working funds it loans out for land acquisition.

Federal funds earmarked for the Pontiac project would be used as collateral, he said.

"If we can save money on interest there will be more money left for the project," said Willman.

Willman was authorized by the City Commission last night to seek federal approval of any terms he considers favorable after opening bids at 1 p.m. today.

The bids are on an initial sale of $2,045,000 worth of notes.

Half Million Missing From Tampa Vault

He also did not know if the checks were negotiable.

The vault is contained in the firm's small office building-garage in downtown Tampa. The one-story building is about 50 feet wide and 75 feet long. It is located on a corner.

Mrs. E. A. Rasdale, another vice president of the firm, said that all the contents of the vault were "completely covered by insurance."

The burglary was reminiscent of the Jan. 17, 1960, robbery of Brink's Armored Car Service in Boston. The $1,219,000 robbery was the biggest cash robbery in history.

Following the bombings, Castro militiamen, police and bystanders marched to Havana's central park shouting, "Saboteurs to the execution wall!"

A collection was taken to aid the injured, who included five children.

All the injured were victims of a bomb that exploded in a woman's rest room adjoining a crowded cafeteria in the Fogar stores, which the government expropriated from private Cuban interests.

A second bomb exploded in a small variety store in Havana's shopping district. No injuries were reported.

Connally received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1941, and was admitted to the Texas bar at the age of 21.

After leaving the Navy he organized and became general manager of radio station KVET in Austin, Tex. In 1948 he managed John's successful campaign for the Senate. In 1956 he was vice chairman of the Texas delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

Connally—a distant relative of former U.S. Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat—served as Johnson's administrative assistant when Johnson was first elected to the House in 1939. When Johnson moved to the Senate in 1949, Connally again was administrative assistant.

Connally joined the Navy in 1941 as an ensign. He was assigned first to the office of Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal and later to combat duty in the Pacific. He was discharged as a lieutenant commander in 1946.

Undermining Castro? Saboteurs' Work Hurts 60 in Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—More than 60 persons were injured Tuesday in daylight bombings and a train wreck blamed on saboteurs trying to undermine Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

Bombs exploded in two stores and a main power station in Havana. Fourteen persons were injured, mostly by flying glass, in one of the stores.

A Camaguey-Havana passenger train collided with another train at a crossing in Camaguey Province, injuring more than 50 persons. Officials blamed counter-revolutionaries.

Night bombings by anti-Castro elements have been frequent in recent weeks, but the daylight blasts were a new development in the mounting strife.

"At that time I gave him two pieces of advice," Dondero said. "I told him to lay his hands aside and put his hat on straight."

"He has done both."

Dondero described Judge Moore as "a prodigious, tireless worker who could not have done the things he has without these qualifications."

Speaking of both Judge Moore and Adams, Dondero said: "You two men will render a verdict which will be entirely satisfactory to the people of this county for a long time to come."

Davis traced Adams' birth and life in Waterford Township, where he served as justice of the peace since 1937 until he sought the higher judicial office this year.

"How comforting it is to know that here is a man who's roots have grown deep in Waterford Township and Oakland County," Davis said.

"He is a scholar of the law and a thoughtful jurist," Davis said of Adams.

Judge Moore said he was "very pleased to have such a distinguished associate who, without doubt, will be a splendid cohort on the bench."

"This opens a real challenge to me and I only hope I have the ability, energy and fine fortune to carry on as others," Adams said.

Final Service for Fred Knorr to Be Friday

Service for Fred A. Knorr, radio executive and part-owner of the Detroit Tigers, will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the chapel of the William F. Hamilton Funeral Co., 3975 Cass Ave., Detroit.

Mrs. Knorr, 47, of 730 Vaughn Road, Bloomfield Hills, died Monday night as the result of burns she suffered Dec. 9 when he fell into a tub of scalding water.

He died in Broward General Hospital, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and his body was returned to Detroit last night.

Mrs. Knorr owned radio stations in Detroit, St. Ignace and Jackson. He was part of an 11-man syndicate which bought the Tigers for $5.5 million in 1957.

Surviving besides his wife Nellie are two daughters, Nancy and Mary Katherine, and a son, Fred A. Knorr III.

The Day in Birmingham Commission OKs Light at Adams Intersection

BIRMINGHAM—Installation of a traffic signal at the intersection of Adams, Derby and Morgan roads was authorized last night by the City Commission pending approval of the Troy City Commission.

Approval of the neighboring city is needed since the intersection is half in Birmingham and half in Troy. Fifty per cent participation by each community is needed to cover the cost of installation and maintenance.

Cost of the traffic and pedestrian light would be $14,000, besides $185 annually for energy and maintenance.

The commission took the action after citizens pointed out the intersection crossing traffic snarl on Adams, which was caused by the fact that many children attending Derby Elementary School cross Adams at the intersection.

The light would be in use daily from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

No action will be taken by the City Commission on a plan to eliminate the traffic jam at Oakland and Woodward avenues until more detailed cost information is received.

Two plans to eliminate the jam at the intersection and a proposal to widen Oakland were approved last night by the commission in a report from City Manager L. R. Gare.

Gare recommended that the commission only consider the widening of Oakland.

The plans to eliminate the jam would realign Oakland with Willets.

Tentative cost for the street relocation is $85,000. The widening plan would cost about the same.

Duplicate bridge games will be held at the Community House every Monday at 7:45 p.m. beginning Jan. 9.

Mrs. Catherine Clanton, who teaches bridge at the Community House and directs games at the Forest Lake Country Club, will be in charge of competition.

The entry fee will be $1 a person for each night. The play will be in couples. There will be room for about 25 tables.

Reservation can be made by contacting the Community House, 380 S. Bates St.

Accepts Adams' Resignation

Probate Judge—Elect to Leave Justice Post Effective Jan. 30

The Waterford Township Board last night accepted the resignation of Donald E. Adams as township justice of the peace, effective Jan. 30.

Adams, who was recently elected judge of probate for Oakland County, told the board in a letter of resignation that although the two positions were not incompatible, the county judge position had outlined a policy of fulltime service and salary for the judge of probate.

His resignation came as a surprise to the township board. Adams had earlier said he would not resign until after the Jan. 1 deadline for filing petitions as justice of the peace.

He would leave the appointment of his successor to the Township Board.

Voters will fill Adams' unexpired term in the April election. Adams' term expires in 1962. Also to be voted on is the post now held by Patrick K. Day whose term expires next year.

In submitting his formal resignation, Adams said: "It is my belief that the people of Waterford Township would be better served if I submitted my resignation and allowed you to fill the vacancy."

"In view of the fact that the recent record took two full weeks of time which I had anticipated using to clear my desk, I decided to add additional time in preparation for turning the files over to a successor."

Although the township board mentioned the fact that a possible appointment would be made to fill the position from Jan. 20 to the April election, there was no definite action on the matter.

formality that had agreed to follow Detroit's lead and use the "mathematically accurate" system, he said.

Under the new law, a merchant pays a 4 per cent tax on his monthly sales. The law does not spell out how he is to collect the tax from his customers.

The law is campaigning for the legislature to adopt a "fair and equitable" collection system for the entire state, taking into account full reimbursement for local tax liability on monthly sales as well as the costs to the merchants in collecting the tax for the state.

Ike's Letter Hails Family's Fight in New Orleans

NORTH PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—President Eisenhower says the goal of equality before the law is men "will be one day attained."

In a letter to James Gabrielle, whose family attempted to break a white boycott of an integrated New Orleans school, the President said:

"Our nation must continue to advance toward equality before the law for all men, and each one of us must do his share to make certain that we have a government of laws, not of men. If all of us will, like yourself and your family, stand up to be counted in the cause of human dignity, even though personal sacrifice be involved, these goals will one day be attained."

Mrs. Gabrielle braved the white boycott to take her daughter Yolanda, 6, to school but threats and unpleasantness finally forced the family to come north to join Rhode Island relatives.

French Town Sues Over Name of Roquefort

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Roquefort, France, is making a federal case out of a Miami restaurant's Roquefort (?) cheese.

The French community petitioned U.S. District Court to enjoin Mike Gordon from calling the cheese he serves Roquefort, the town's world-renowned product.

The town says a 35-year-old

French law bans using the name on any cheese not made of ewe's milk and processed in the limestone caves which flank Roquefort-sur-Soulzon, in Southern France. It contends the cheese Gordon serves is made of cow's milk.

"I don't know why they picked on me," said Gordon. "They complained and I changed the menu, but apparently not all of them were changed. They must have sent a big smaller in here and they got a menu without the Roquefort blocked out."

Robin Terns Up on Top

Feathers Fly Fast, Furious

LONDON (UPI)—John Bull got the bird Tuesday. The Robin was picked as Britain's national bird in an election as fiercely fought (and to many a Briton, probably just as important) as the Kennedy-Nixon campaign.

The choice of erithacus rubecula, "as a national symbol ornithologically," was announced by Lord Hurcomb, chairman of the British section of the International Council for Bird Preservation.

The 71-year-old peer was the logical man to supervise the election. When he was rewarded with a barony in 1950 for a long career in government, he set a postage for birds on his coat of arms—two terns, two herons and a kingfisher.

Some months ago the International Council for Bird Preservation asked all member countries to choose a national bird. In most countries this was decided quickly by agreements among a few ornithologists.

But not in Britain. Britons take their birds seriously—bird watching is one of the nation's leading pastimes. And there was a noisy twittering from supporters of the nightingale, the pheasant, the partridge and a flock of other birds.

In order to resolve the situation democratically Lord Hurcomb invited anyone with a favorite bird to write. His committee was nearly swamped with letters and it took several weeks to count and analyze them before it became evident the robin had the most popular support.

"The British race of the robin," said Lord Hurcomb proudly, "is distinguished from continental races by its open and exceptionally friendly behavior to human beings."

He gave no other explanation. So psychologists will have to figure out for themselves why the British, by tradition wary of strangers, have chosen the robin as a national bird because it likes strangers.

Weekend Toll Is 'Low' 488

Best 3-Day Yule Since '49; Forecast Had Been 510 Road Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's true accident during the 78-hour Christmas weekend killed 488 persons—an average of one about every 10 minutes.

The final toll was below the pre-holiday estimate of 510 made by the National Safety Council. It was the lowest for a 3-day Christmas holiday since 1949 when 412 traffic deaths were reported and compared to last year's Christmas weekend total of 463 fatalities.

The council said this year's total compared with an expectation of as many as 530 on a non-holiday weekend of comparable length at this time of year. An Associated Press survey for a 78-hour weekend period earlier this month showed 293 traffic fatalities.

The council has estimated 34 persons may be killed in motor vehicle accidents during the New Year holiday weekend, also a 78-hour period, from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Monday (local time).

1960 Soo Canal Traffic Increased 20 Per Cent

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Traffic through the United States' Soo Canal increased by more than 20 per cent in 1960, a report issued by the U. S. Corps of Engineers shows.

Vessel passages in the four-lock canal totaled 16,806 and 90,000 tons of cargo passed through. Traffic during the preceding year had been reduced by the strike at U. S. steel mills.

Each American Ate 1,488 Pounds on Average in '60

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you were an average American you consumed an estimated 1,488 pounds of food this year.

- 409 pounds of fruits and vegetables.
- 108 pounds of potatoes.
- 178 pounds of meat, fish and poultry.
- 146 pounds of flour and cereal.

Sammy Davis, May Britt Expecting Baby in August

NEW YORK (AP) — Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. and his bride, actress May Britt, announced today they are expecting a baby next August.

Davis said he and his wife "are the happiest two people in New York." They were married Nov. 12.

Davis said he and his wife both are hoping for a boy, who will be named Mark. But if it's a girl, her name will be Cynthia.

The entertainer currently is appearing at the Copacabana night club here. After Jan. 4 he has other engagements in Boston and Miami, and then is scheduled to make a movie.

An average motor truck in the U.S. today is about 6.6 years old, and about 25 per cent of all trucks in service are 10 or more years old.

Start Memorial Fund for Stephen Baltz

NEW YORK (AP) — An anonymous gift of $1,000 has started a memorial fund for Stephen Baltz, 11, the boy whose vain fight for life after an airplane collision won the sympathy of the nation.

The money was sent to the Methodist Hospital of Brooklyn, where the boy died 27 hours after the crash that cost 135 other lives here Dec. 16.

The donor was described at the hospital only as "an elderly maiden lady."

The gift, along with other money being received in the boy's memory, mostly in donations of $1 to $5, will be used to establish a memorial room on the children's floor of the hospital.

Nine fire-blackened coins found in the boy's clothing—five nickels and four dimes—will be fused into a memorial plate to be hung in the room.

The Rev. Donald Stockdale Stacey, the hospital's field chaplain, said the hospital has been "swamped with mail from all parts of the country."

Some contain contributions, but most represent expressions of sympathy.

"This boy was a symbol of some kind," said the Rev. Mr. Stacey. "We have been deeply impressed. It makes us proud to be Americans and to know the people have such tenderness in their hearts."

Mail addressed to the family is forwarded to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Baltz, at their home in Wilmette, Ill.

Suffering Dooley Enters NY Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Tom Dooley, in great pain and barely able to walk, returned from the Orient Tuesday night and entered the Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

Dr. Dooley, 33, the American jungle doctor of Laos, was stricken with cancer in 1959, and had been described as cured after surgery.

Recent tests in Hong Kong showed that he was suffering from a degeneration of the bone structure of the spine—not officially determined as cancerous.

Dr. Dooley, clad in pajamas beneath an overcoat, could only shuffle down a ramp at Idlewild Airport, where he was met by his brother, Malcolm, executive director of Medico, a nonprofit medical organization founded by the doctor. The organization gives medical assistance to underdeveloped nations.

Like Drafts Messages to Congress Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower kept his day free of appointments today to work on his forthcoming messages to Congress.

The President's State of the Union message is expected to be presented to Congress within a few days after it convenes Jan. 3. Messages on the budget and the economic report will follow.

The President flew to Gettysburg farm Tuesday afternoon for a spur-of-the-moment visit that lasted an hour. While he was there he examined a building on the Gettysburg College campus he is considering reting for an administration during World War I.

After he retires from the White House.

It was announced that Eisenhower will hold no news conference this week. He has not held one since Sept. 7, but the White House said he will hold one more before the end of his term Jan. 20.

Set Service for Ex-Head of State's Women's Clubs

LANSING (AP) — Funeral services will be held Thursday for Mrs. Luella Mumford, 82, former president of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs. She died Sunday at a Lansing hospital.

A former Chicago school teacher and law student, Mrs. Mumford was Michigan twined director for the U. S. Food and Drug Administration during World War I.

Dearborn Twp. Bank Robbed of $7,650

DETROIT (AP)—Two men, armed with pistols and sporting sunglasses and stubby beards, robbed a Dearborn Township branch of the Michigan Bank of $7,650 shortly after its opening Tuesday.

Police said the pair completed the holdup in about two or three minutes, then fled in a stolen car which was later found abandoned in a parking lot.

The bandits burst through the door of the bank, which is located in a trailer, with guns drawn.

One of them yelled "Hit the floor" to a half dozen employees and customers, police said.

The pair ordered the bank tellers to fill a large paper sack with money. Included in the loot was $150 in marked bills.

Man Accused of Break-In Waives Exam

Charged with breaking and entering, George Theobald, 36, of 5985 Eaton Road, Independence Township, waived examination yesterday before Ontario Township Justice of the Peace Helmar G. Stansbach.

Theobald was bound over the Circuit Court for arraignment Jan. 3. Bond was set at $5,000.

He is accused of breaking into Walters Hardware Store at 3888 Joslyn Road, Pontiac Township, sometime over the past weekend, and stealing a power saw, a speed grinder, two electric drills and a power jig saw.

Sheriff's deputies said they found the stolen items in Theobald's car when he was involved in a traffic accident Monday night near the scene of the break-in.

Expressway Smog May Be Scrutinized

YPSILANTI (AP)—The problem of smog from this city's smoldering dump may come under scrutiny of city officials at a meeting this week.

The city moved to hold a special emergency meeting on the matter in the wake of Monday's 13-car accident on the nearby Willow Run Expressway.

Smoke from the four-acre dump apparently caused the chain reaction mishap in which George A. Wilcox, 41, Ypsilanti Township, was fatally hurt and 15 others were injured.

State officials promised to investigate to find out if the dump, which burns almost incessantly and produces a perpetual haze over the area, is a hazard to express way traffic.

Laotian Independence Teetering on the Edge

Latest reports from Laos indicate that for the moment anti-Communist forces are in command. Instability of the little kingdom was highlighted by the seesaw spectacle of four different governments in as many days.

Last August following a coup led by Capt. KONG LE, moderate Prince SOUVANNA PHOUMA headed a new government. Unfortunately he thought that he could come to some agreement with his half brother, Prince SOUPHANON VONG, leader of the leftist PATHET LAO faction. Instead his government kept edging toward the Communists. Capt. KONG LE now is suspected of abetting this latest coup and of funneling U.S. arms to the leftist group.

Soviet military aid is being allotted to the Communist dominated regime. This action has been protested by the U.S. and its Allies as intervention in the affairs of another country. The Geneva armistice agreement in 1954 specifically limits the introduction of other foreign troops or arms into Laos.

Within that limit the U.S. has been supplying military as well as vast economic aid to this buffer kingdom which stands between free Thailand and Communist China on the west and Red North Viet Nam on the east, and north. Possession of strategic Laos would open the states of Cambodia and South Viet Nam to direct Communist pressures and all Southeast Asia indirectly.

Lack of a strong Laotian government aligned with the West is a severe handicap in resisting aggression. The best bet at the moment centers around anti-Communist Gen. PHOUANG NOVANON whose forces are protecting the capital city of Vientiane.

Members of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization (SEATO) and other nations interested in Laotian independence must unite and act speedily to stop the country from falling into Communist hands.

Room for Improvement in Quality of Education

Last fall during the campaigns we heard a great deal of discussion about Federal aid to education. Undoubtedly, we'll hear more from Congress after the first of the year.

Along this same vein practically nothing is mentioned about the quality of education in our public schools. It seems to us that this is every bit as important as the bricks and mortar and higher salaries.

All the Federal money in the world will not improve the quality of education from our schools. Numerous observers are pointing to the fact that once upon a time our schools did a far better job of real down to earth education.

We are all agreed that many of our public school systems are doing an excellent job. A job that might well be emulated by a great many others. Large sums of money are spent for public education by our states, counties, cities and villages.

The money comes as usual from the already overburdened taxpayer. He should feel that he is getting his money's worth. Some claim that the modern educationists have many school systems by the throat and are turning out half-educated youngsters.

A recent survey of 3,000 employees by a large steel company brought to light some answers that were hard to believe. Eighty-seven per cent had no clear idea of what kind of government our Constitution sets up. Fifty-five per cent did not understand how Federal laws are passed, and 49 per cent could not understand why a balanced budget is important.

Many of our youngsters today seem far wiser than their parents in certain fields, but when it comes to the basics like geography and history some of them seem lost. Whether these aspects of education were not taught or deliberately ignored, we don't know. Whatever the reason we feel it is too bad.

Most of us will agree that one of the fundamental jobs of education today is to teach the youngsters about our government and the economic system under which we all live.

It is these students of today that will be running our country tomorrow.

Swapping: A popular post-Christmas game.

Although Oakland County is thickly populated, wild dogs have become a menace in some parts of it. They're a problem for Dog Wardens.

Frank R. Bates who is considerably hampered in his work by legal restrictions.

In Waterford, Addison and Holly Townships considerable damage has been done, and populace frightened. The largest pack, a dozen or more, gamers most of its food from the Holly Village dump, and lives in dens in a dense woods just outside the village limits.

In these dens two litters of pups have been born, totaling 16. These pups have been killed, lest they grow into active members of the pack within a few months.

The packs also kill rabbits and other small game, and have been known to attack cattle, and make raids on poultry yards, besides killing sheep, deer and hogs.

Dog license money is used to reimburse owners for the depredations of the canines. During the first nine months of 1960 the sum of $1,159 was paid for sheep, hogs and poultry killed in our county.

Many of the packs are largely made up of tame dogs who prefer such a life to the treatment they received at home, and the wild instinct prevails.

The state law prohibits the killing of a dog unless it is caught in an attack on something. And even the wild dogs are performing a service in cleaning up our dumps. Surely, it's a doggone problem.

So Hard to Understand Their Taste

David Lawrence Says:

Government's 4th Branch Costly

WASHINGTON — How federal commissions and boards' shadow function isn't a very spectacular subject and hence suffers from inattention by the public, yet this fundamental issue goes to the root of responsible government.

It involves many hundreds of millions of dollars in governmental favors, the handing out of which involves lobbying pressures and other forms of influence have produced many scandals.

When the founding fathers created three separate divisions of government—the executive, legislative and judicial branches—they didn't foresee the need for a fourth, namely, the commissions and boards that necessarily combine both administrative and judicial functions.

There have just been issued two reports on the whole subject. One is called a "staff report" to the special subcommittee on legislative oversight of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

The other is a special report to President-Elect Kennedy by James M. Landis, who occupies a prominent role in two of these federal commissions under Democratic administrations.

Recommendations of both reports are general in nature and urge appointment of better qualified men, with a high sense of duty, so as to avoid the scandals in lobbying and outside influence that have been exposed in recent years.

TIME FOR ACTION

The report to the House, in one of its conclusions, says:

"The time has arrived when Congress, the executive, and the commissions themselves should institute a program of action to eliminate bottlenecks and provide for more just and expeditious administration of the law.

"The goal is not an across-the-board solution for the myriad problems of the several agencies. Nor should it be a superficial tinkering with existing statutes and regulations.

"What we need are far-reaching, constructive measures implementing a broad, clearly defined national policy in each of the regulatory areas involved, plus a limited number of enactments tailored to meet the particular needs of the various commissions."

In his report, Landis speaks of "lobbying in its worst sense" as occurring in connection with the award of overseas air routes by the Civil Aeronautics Board, of which he was at one time chairman.

Criticism is also directed against the Federal Communications Commission, and the charge is made that "a strong suspicion also exists that far too great an influence is exercised over the commission" by the radio and TV networks.

FTC REPRIMANDED

The Federal Power Commission is reprimanded for allegedly flouting the interest of consumers in deciding rate cases in the natural gas industry, while opinions of the Interstate Commerce Commission are characterized as "in the poorest category."

Landis realizes that there is no simple solution and proposes that Congress give the president the power to carry out reorganizations from time to time, subject to congressional veto.

In the meantime, he would set up in the White House itself an office for the coordination and development of transportation policy, and similar offices for communications and energy policies, along with a super-coordinating agency to oversee the work of all the regulatory commissions.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Those Who Fear Coffee Don't Know the Real Story

"Isn't your method of brewing coffee suitable only for a pot? I can't see how on earth one could avoid boiling it in a percolator. Water has to boil to come up and over the rack on top. This is so in drip or other types of makers. How about it?"

(Mrs. M.K.)

"I had hoped that a modern witch doctor whose medical opinions are to be studiously ignored, might at least be reliable on the subject of brews."

"Your coffee recipe does produce a fluid that might replace urine, but it certainly is not coffee." (A.S.R.)

"For twenty years I served what I thought was good coffee. At least it was not bad enough to make anybody leave home. One day I wrote your remark that when one gets the delightful aroma on waking he can be sure the cook has spoiled the coffee. It made sense. After all, the place for the aroma is in the coffee, not in the surrounding atmosphere. So I set aside the gadget I had been using and bought an enamelware coffee pot."

"I followed the directions in the red book. The verdict was unanimous. We never had so good."

And I confess that until I learned the right way to make coffee I never knew how good coffee tastes."

The red book, to which Mrs. H. L. M. refers, is Little Lesson No. 8 "What to Eat and Why," in which a chapter tells how to make coffee and win friends. For a copy of the red book send me five cents and a stamped envelope bearing your address.

As a long distance diagnostician I'm no great shakes, but I have a hunch that A.S.R. is a victim of gaudy and a stamped envelope bearing your address.

On second thought I wonder whether A.S.R. may not really be a gadget maker or merchant, rather than the adroit character he pretends to be.

Coffee consumed immediately after roasting is better than it will ever be again. Being vile, the aroma slowly evaporates after coffee is ground. Therefore if you want to enjoy coffee at its best you should grind your own each morning.

Adults who deny themselves coffee because they imagine it is bad for the heart are misguided. Especially those who have or have no coronary insufficiency. The most characteristic effect of coffee or caffeine — about 2 grains (an average dose) of caffeine in a cup of coffee — is dilation of the coronary arteries, that is, opening up or increase in diameter of the smallest branches of the arteries that supply the heart muscle.

Toss coffee increases the flow of blood to the heart muscle, and hence the supply of oxygen. So I recommend good coffee, one or two cups, once or twice a day to anyone with heart trouble.

Not just coffee, but two heart tonics besides, real heart tonics, I mean. Namely, graduated exercise, that is, gradually increasing general exercise every day, under physician's supervision, and a good daily ration of vitamin B complex instead of digitals.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words, just pertaining to coffee, should be typed, on clean, white, unlined paper, and addressed to: DR. BRADY, 1000 E. Huron St., Pontiac, Mich. 48110. All letters will be stamped, self-addressed, and returned. (Copyright, 1960)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Children Need Parents' Instruction

Tommy's entire future was changed by his mother as described below. So make a resolution now that you parents (or grandparents) will rescue your child if he is drowning in an educational whirlpool. A normal child in 6 weeks time can jump from the bottom to at least average of his class by the methods outlined in the booklet below, so send for it now.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-483: Tommy T., aged 11, is the "dummy" at school who was described yesterday.

He hated school and wanted to drop out.

But his mother made a pile of "flash cards" out of strips of white cardboard.

Then she coaxed Tommy into pointing out the strange words in his reading

With a small pointing outfit she now let Tommy print one word on each strip of card-board.

Afterwards they played a game with the cards. She held up two cards at the same time so he could DR. CRANE compare the differences in their printed shapes.

Meanwhile, she told him what each word was.

"Let's see how good a detective you are," she smilingly began.

"First move the 11th letter, the cards and let you are only one at a time. If you can recognize the word and name it, you get the card. Otherwise, I put it into my pile."

"And the one of us with the larger pile of cards wins the game."

Tommy's eyes began to sparkle

Voice of the People:

Hunters Are Being Aroused by Present Deer Situation

Warren Neuschwander, president of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club was quoted as being in full agreement with the Conservation Department on the any-deer program. In the same article James Rouman, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs stated that "Our organization speaks the mind of the clubs."

He and Mr. Neuschwander may think they are speaking the minds of the clubs, but there are a great many of the members who disagree with them. When these men start quoting, they are not quoting all of us.

Religious Instruction Discussed Further

It seems a shame that something as important as the Rural Bible Mission in Lake Orion was taken from the children, some of whom never have anything spiritual taught them. It would be different if the story teller dwelt on denominational theories, but I know they are very careful in what they say to simply present a Bible story and a moral for good living as taught in God's word.

We teach our children the basics in education; we have been clinics, movies, assemblies, sports and music. Why, when we spend so much time and effort in preparing them for life, should we not give them a glimpse of something more to look forward to?

A Christian

The matter of teaching religion in public schools is one of faith and morals, whereas the use of public funds for sight and hearing tests is one of health. There is quite a vast difference.

Did the Rural Bible Mission ask and receive permission to give religious instruction in public schools? If so, they are setting a precedent for the more than 400 other religious sects in the United States to demand the same right. A fight for which Catholics do not ask.

Catholics prefer to finance their own schools out of their own pockets and in addition pay taxes which support public schools and school funds.

It just happened that St. Joseph's School is the only parochial school in the Oxford-Lake Orion area and the board of education saw no reason why it wasn't just as fair that its students receive hearing and sight tests as do the public school children.

The Rev. R. Vincent Myrick acted on behalf of and at the request of his parishioners, and he urged that children in public schools, if their children are to receive religious instruction, let it be in their own religion and in their own schools.

It is difficult enough to be a good Catholic without confusing the issues.

Readers of The Pontiac Press are invited to send in their suggestions for public interest for use in this column. Letters should be typed, on clean, white, unlined paper, and addressed to: DR. BRADY, 1000 E. Huron St., Pontiac, Mich. 48110. All letters will be stamped, self-addressed, and returned. (Copyright, 1960)

LET IT SNOW—Like the postman, the wind, rain and snow can't stop 52-year-old John F. Pound from delivering The Pontiac Press through the downtown Pontiac area to merchants. Liberals vs. Conservatives

Watch House Next Week to Test Kennedy Power

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats hope President-Elect Kennedy can offset the increased strength of the conservative bloc in the House by vigorous patronage, persuasion and public pressure.

A battle on the House floor next week will provide an immediate test of whether Kennedy has a chance to push much of his legislative program through Congress.

The struggle will come over efforts to wrest control of the powerful House Rules Committee from a conservative coalition which has dominated it for the past two decades.

Because of its power to decide which bills the House can take up, the 12-man rules committee poses the number one congressional threat to Kennedy's five-point program of liberal legislation.

Liberals hope to break the rules committee's stranglehold on legislation by purging one of the Southern Democrats or adding another member who would give the liberals the strength to outvote the conservatives.

HOPE FOR CONTROL

Kennedy supporters have high hopes of keeping the prospects for the president-elect's proposals alive by winning the procedural fight for control of the rules committee.

But even if this initial fight is won, Kennedy probably will have to be satisfied with compromise legislation in most, if not all, the five domestic areas to which he has assigned top priority.

Kennedy's priority program calls for expansion of slum clearance and other federal housing programs, expansion of the Social Security program into the field of medical care, an increase in the $1-an-hour federal minimum wage with expanded coverage and federal aid for education and for communities suffering from chronic unemployment.

Kennedy's congressional supporters foresee less trouble in the relatively liberal Senate than in the House.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meller, D.V.M.

Q. Is it true that boxers are vicious? Mrs. E. Nevers, Pa.

A. Because of his great size, the boxer is often unjustly accused of being vicious. The truth is that this good-natured clown of dogdom is wonderful with children and renowned for his love and faithfulness to his master. He is often rough, but rarely mean.

A relatively new breed, the boxer is thought to be the result of a cross between an English Bull and a Great Dane. Brought to this country in the early 1800s, his happy disposition and playful nature have already made the boxer one of America's top dogs.

Then It Was Stalin, Now
It's Nikita

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
History does repeat itself.
Eight years ago in the last week of December, President-Elect Dwight Eisenhower was preparing to take over from then-President Harry Truman.
Soviet Premier Josef Stalin said in a letter to the New York Times that he looked "favorably" on conversations looking toward a meeting with the new president to ease world tensions.
He also said he would cooperate in a new diplomatic attempt to end the Korean War.
"The U.S.S.R.," he said, "is interested in ending the war in Korea."
In eight years the world has gone full circle and except for a difference in names and places this is where we came in.
Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev hopes for early, close contacts with President-Elect John F. Kennedy. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko tells the Supreme Soviet:
"I am authorized to state that on the part of the Soviet government there is full readiness to promote all-around betterment of Soviet-American relations."
Proving that Khrushchev's co-existence theme is not new, Stalin also rejected the theory of the inevitability of war with the United States.

Gas Bomb Explodes Near LA Apartment

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A device believed to have been a gasoline bomb exploded in front of a Wilshire district apartment house Tuesday night, causing widespread alarm in the neighborhood.

Police said the blast went off in front of an apartment occupied by Frank B. Wilkinson, executive secretary of the Committee to Preserve American Freedoms.

Wilkinson, onetime information officer of the Los Angeles Housing Authority, once was cited for contempt of Congress when he refused to testify before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The office of his committee was the scene of a similar bombing last Sept. 14. An incendiary device was hurled against the building.

Tuesday night's explosion started a flash fire and caused dozens of neighborhood residents to scurry to the street.

Wilkinson was in New York City, where he addressed a meeting last night of the New York Council to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Lightbulb Thieves Leave Footprints on Car Tops

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—City police had plenty of clues to go on, after 230 light bulbs were stolen from five used car lots here.

The thieves stood on the tops of used cars to get at the lights. They left footprints all over the autos.

N.Y. Fire Chief Lashes Navy Safety Measures

NEW YORK (AP)—City Fire Commissioner Edward Cavanagh Jr. says the aircraft carrier Constellation was in such sloppy condition that he would have "ordered work stopped and the premises cleaned up if it had been a civilian project."

Officers at a naval court of inquiry looking into the disastrous Dec. 19 carrier fire sat in stunned silence or squirmed uncomfortably for 2½ hours as Cavanagh lashed Navy safety procedures in harsh and often bitter language.

An estimated $75 million damage was done to the Constellation and 49 persons died in the fire at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

"Messy, deplorable and sloppy" were Cavanagh's words to characterize the housekeeping aboard the ship. Evidence of this, he said, were 42 minor fires that preceded the disaster.

"If this had been a civilian project under our jurisdiction we would have vacated this project as immediately perilous to life," he said.

He called the ship a "fully loaded bomb which needed only ignition" and said he was surprised the tragedy hadn't occurred earlier.

Previous witnesses testified that the housekeeping and fire-prevention practices on the Constellation were better, than average for Navy ships.

Cavanagh also reiterated his charges, made shortly after the ship occurred, that wooden plating of the blaze.

cused the Navy's police force of hampering the firemen by rigid security regulations.

Reject Free Parking Requested by Judges

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—The Athens City Council rejected a McMillin County Bar Assn. request for free parking by all judges, attorneys and jurors active in court cases at the County Courthouse.

"Are they asking us to break the law?" asked City Manager William J. Garrett.

Rift Reported in Cabinet of Israel's Ben-Gurion

JERUSALEM (AP)—Exonerated by a strict military censorship, it is believed to have concerned an Israeli attack on the Gaza Strip that some diplomats said prodded President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic into seeking modern weapons from the Soviet Union. Lavan reportedly was accused of ordering the attack.

Lavan, a leading member of Ben-Gurion's party and now secretary-general of his Tadrut, the Israeli federation of labor, was forced out of the government in 1955 on the charge that he had made a serious error in judgment. He denied responsibility for the "security mishap."

An official announcement Sunday said the Cabinet approved the investigating committee's report that Lavan was not responsible for the incident and probably was the victim of intrigue by a senior army officer.

Foreign Minister Golda Meir walked out of the Cabinet meeting in protest against Ben-Gurion's stand, the sources said, and drew up a letter of resignation. She reportedly was dissuaded from quitting by Finance Minister Levi Eshkol.

Details of the "Lavan affair" have been suppressed in Israel.

$80,000 Drive Planned to Aid Valley College

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An $80,000 boost toward the $1-million requirement for Grand Valley College was in the works today at Grand Haven.

A group headed by banker B. P. Sherwood Jr. is setting up a fund drive in Ottawa County to reach its goal which would be the first substantial fund donation toward the school from outside Grand Rapids. The development was announced by L. William Seidman, chairman of the college's board of control.

Colorful Banks Take the Ladies Into Account

NEW YORK (HIS)—It seems the American banking industry, finally waking up to the fact that women are its principal account-holders, are beginning to print their checks in luscious colors. On the theory that girls use the plain old bank checks for the privilege of contributing their coffers to your violet vault.

The idea, it seems, is to give the bank a new, light-hearted "image" in the minds of female customers. Offer a woman a colorful checkbook, presumably, and she'll break down your door for the privilege of contributing her coffers to your violet vault.

West Germans Plan More Aid

Reorganize Ministry to Expand Assistance to Foreign Countries

BONN, Germany (UPI)—The West German economy minister is being reorganized to better cope with expanding foreign aid.

The United States has called on Germany to increase its aid to underdeveloped countries.

Economics Minister and Vice-Chancellor Ludwig Erhard replaced the United States "the right" to expect more of Germany and that Germans have a moral duty in adding such nations.

The result: An expansion and reorganization of the economics ministry to handle increased German aid.

Instead of one chief of the foreign aid department, Erhard has split the department into two sections, a technical aid section and a financial aid section.

Yet another section has been created for international coordination of aid, and in the foreign department, special sections have been set up for individual development nations.

Among others, a special section for Africa has been established. The Treasury estimates that the five years ending Dec. 31, 1960, West Germany will provide $476.2 million in direct aid to underdeveloped countries.

In addition, Germany has given $54.7 million to the International Development Organization, $758 million to the International Development Fund, and $1.04 billion to the World Bank.

The Foreign Ministry sets aside $18.67 million for technical assistance each year. Germany plans to do more, however.

Color Is Cash in Modern-Day Business World

NEW YORK (UPI)—Manufacturers are cashing in on the appeal of color and its influence on even the smallest decisions in our everyday life, according to J. M. Field, an expert on the subject.

"Telephone companies are learning that red booths attract many times more business than the old-fashioned varnished wood and glass ones," Field said.

"They also have learned that the color of the interior influences the length of the call, and that the public thinks a bell sounds louder in a white booth and softer in one painted a darker color."

"The right tones of blue will draw housewives into a supermarket and make them spend more time among the food-stocked shelves, theoretically adding more items to their shopping carts. But it will drive them away from the meat counter."

Field, vice president of Pennsylvania Color and Chemical Co., a division of Sun Chemical Corp., cited typewriters as another example.

"Black typewriters linger only in the drabdest of business and newspaper offices," he said. "When they finally have been worn out, even they are being replaced by gray and tan machines."

Geography is another factor influencing color preference, he said.

In sunny Pacific Coast areas, tan and cream auto colors are preferred, while on the East seaboard and city-practical drab colors dominate.

"One manufacturer lost a $250,000 order for flatirons when he failed to consider colorful South America's prejudice against black," Field said. "A competitor whose product had a red handle won out."

It Was a Soft Touch

Scientist Lashes Defense Mania

Urges New Path to National Security

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a way to avoid H-bomb war horrors, a psychologist declared today.

He blamed the cold war mainly on human nature and the idea that might defenses assure security.

The way out lies through realizing this, said Dr. Charles E. Osgood of the University of Illinois. He spoke after a famous British scientist-novelist, Sir Charles P. Snow, had predicted that within a few years Red China and the United States would be at war.

3 Hurt in Two Accidents

Three persons injured in two Oakland County traffic accidents yesterday were reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Keep Abreast of Education in Foreign Lands

EAST GREENBUSH, N. Y. (AP)—Armed with dictionaries, a handbook of discipules of Adm. Hyman G. Rickover are translating German and Dutch educational outlines to find out what children learn in other parts of the world.

Rickover planted the seed for the project last year when he told Congress the U. S. Office of Education "should keep careful records of foreign education systems" to compare curriculum and achievement levels.

"At present, little of the kind is being done," Rickover testified.

That was enough to set John A. Bliss into action. He organized the Citizens Alliance for Good Schools of the East Greenbush Central School District.

Its members range from accomplished linguists to volunteers who had a high school German course 20 years ago.

So far, they've forwarded to Rickover translations of a 30-page German curriculum handbook and several Dutch science examination papers.

Dump It in His Yard

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—City Manager Ralph Irving, running into much local opposition about the location of a city dump, said, "If I thought the best site for the new city dump was in my back yard, I'd recommend it to the City Council."

some other countries would have nuclear bombs.

Within, at most, 10 years, some of those bombs are going off unless scientists and others act to prevent it, Sir Charles said.

Dr. Ralph Lapp, physicist of Arlington, Va., presented private estimates of this country's tremendous nuclear power.

50,000 A BOMB

He said he figures the United States now has nuclear weapons equal to 50,000 of the atom bombs which destroyed Hiroshima, and could produce the equivalent of 30,000 more in a half dozen years.

The scientists addressed sessions of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Sir Charles spoke Tuesday night and the others today in sessions sponsored by an AAAS Committee on Science in the Promotion of Human Welfare.

Dr. Osgood said "nations today are lumbering down the one habitual path to 'security'—bigger and better weapons—gathering as they go tensions which make it less and less possible to conceive of any other alternatives."

ANNIHILATE AGAIN?

Osgood said he agrees with others who question "whether being able to annihilate an enemy 10 to 100 times over deters him much more than being able to annihilate him once."

"All this frightens the daylights out of me, but frightening people isn't enough," he said.

"What we need, and that most urgently," he said, "is an inviolable search for new alternatives to war as a means of resolving human conflicts."

A world government may be the only permanent solution, he said.

To halt the arms race, Osgood suggested one-sided steps, announced in advance, to reduce tensions. If carefully done, "pressures of public opinion both internal and external would force reciprocation."

This, he said, "assumes that the Russians are more like us than bogeymen, that they would like to find a way out of this mess as much as we would, that their motivations are derived more from insecurity than from the urge to world domination."

She and her passenger, Patricia Bradford, 17, of 650 Snell Road, Avon Township, escaped injury.

Murder-Kidnap Trio Member Is Refused

MOUNT CLEMENS (U)—A Macomb County circuit judge has denied an appeal by the last of three men seeking a new trial on their conviction in a 1933 murder-kidnaping.

Douglas Whitsett, 47, filed his petition for a new trial after his brother Louis was released on the plea of a "quick justice" conviction.

Robert Bufta, convicted for the same murder, petitioned for a new trial and was turned down.

A fourth man convicted in the same crime, Robert Frazer, 43, has not petitioned for a new hearing. Frazer and Douglas Whitsett both have served 27 years in Southern Michigan Prison.

Ohio Father and Son Together in Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—The 1961 Ohio Legislature has a father and son among the members for the first time in the fall of the state's history.

Both are Democrats from Cleveland.

Anthony O. Claiborne is competing for a four-year term in the Ohio Senate to which he was elected in 1958. His son, Anthony O. Claiborne Jr., 25, was elected to the Ohio House of Representatives for the first time in the fall of the state's history.

Both are Democrats from Cleveland.

Dr. Osgood said "nations today are lumbering down the one habitual path to 'security'—bigger and better weapons—gathering as they go tensions which make it less and less possible to conceive of any other alternatives."

ANNIHILATE AGAIN?

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—Believe it or not, Americans are eating less today than a generation ago, he said.

Consumption of potatoes and sweet potatoes has been cut in half, according to Myer B. Marcus, Department of Agriculture. Marcus says per capita consumption of food declined from 1,641 pounds in 1909 to 1,488 pounds in 1959.

First transcontinental telephone

Again Michigan leads the Nation! 500 miles of freeways now open to traffic in Michigan!

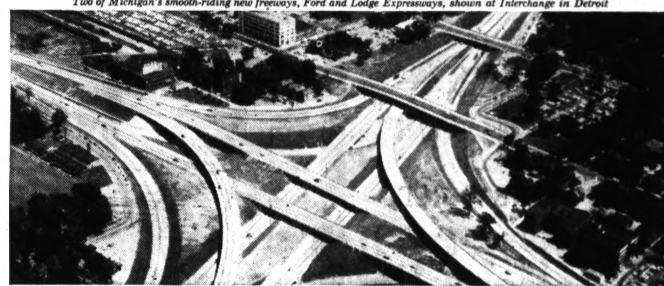

A record-breaking 500 miles of modern freeways—easier driving and four times as safe as conventional highways—are now in use by millions of Michigan motorists and thousands of vacation travelers. One highway alone—Interstate 94—runs 203 continuous miles from downtown Detroit to St. Joseph. It's the longest stretch of toll-free, limited access highway in the United States!

Today, Michigan holds 1st place in Interstate System construction—up from 35th place just 3 years ago. Since 1957, Michigan's freeway mileage has increased 6 times! You can thank your capable state highway engineers, backed by efficient contractors and crews.

You can be glad, too, that more than 99% of these beautiful new freeways are paved with concrete. Its lower cost and proven performance save tax money. Concrete highways and streets outlast asphalt almost 2 to 1 and cost up to 60% less to maintain. Add greater safety. Concrete gives more skid resistance, wet or dry, and better nighttime visibility.

In front-running Michigan and other progressive states, highway engineers choose concrete to save money and provide motorists with the safest, smoothest-riding, longest-lasting highways.

Bacon Burgers Will Tempt Appetite

Try these juicy bacon burgers for an easy Saturday night supper if the family is getting a bit bored with the usual hamburgers. Strips of bacon wrapped around each patty keep the beef moist and provide provocative flavor.

Mix together 1½ pounds ground beef, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup soft bread crumbs and 1 slightly beaten egg. Form into 8 large patties. Cross strips of bacon and wrap around each patty. Set patties on a rack in roasting pan. Bake at 325 degrees 45 to 60 minutes.

Serve this sauce over each patty: Combine ½ cup chili sauce, 1½ teaspoons horseradish, and 1 tablespoon parsley. Heat.

Bananas Keep It Moist

Here's the way to keep a short-cake cake fresh. Add a banana to a cake mix and you're sure of a cake that stays fresh and moist. When the mix calls for 1 cup liquid plus eggs, use instead ¾ cup water, 1 cup mashed ripe bananas and eggs as directed. For best results, use fully ripe bananas—yellow peel flecked with brown.

HOT SPICED PUNCH — Spicy Cranberry Punch is a beautiful drink to serve at the holiday season. It has an added advantage of being sweetened with Sucaryl which cuts the calorie count way down. But you'll never know the difference when you taste it.

Spicy Low Calorie Punch Best Served Hot

Parties, parties everywhere, this through sieve. Add to hot juices wonderfully friendly season. "At home" parties for neighbors and friends, after skating "warm-ups" for the youngsters, carol singings at the church, club and school.

What better way to say welcome and best wishes than with a festive punch bowl filled with hot, spicy cranberry punch. Everyone will love the tangy rich fruit flavor of this cheery red drink. And because it's sweetened with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl, rather than sugar, weight-watchers will be kept happy. Calorie has been whittled to less than half with the help of this sweetener, yet you can't taste the difference.

Hot Spiced Holiday Punch
5 No. 2 cans (11½ cups) apple juice
2 40-ounce cans (11½ cups) grapefruit orange juice blend
2 oranges, sliced
1 lemon, sliced
2 cinnamon sticks
1 tablespoon nutmeg
8 cups cranberries
12 cups water
Combine fruit juices in large kettle. Stud orange and lemon slices with cloves. Add to juices with cinnamon, nutmeg and Sucaryl. Simmer 25 minutes. Meanwhile, cook cranberries and water until skins pop. Force foods.

Candy Canes Dress Dessert

Not all the peppermint canes wind up on the Christmas tree. Here is a recipe for a frozen cake mousse and sauce that calls for these holiday confections. The good news is that it can be made weeks in advance, placed in bi-size-freezing containers, and stored in the freezer until ready to serve.

Cake Mousse
1 package vanilla pudding mix (type which must be cooked)
2 cups milk
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
1 cup crushed peppermint candy
1 ounce pound cake, cubed

Fruit Sauce
1 pound jars fruit cocktail (askings) (askings)
Peppermint sticks
Prepare pudding according to directions on package. Cover pudding to prevent skin from forming. Allow to cool. Whip cream and fold into pudding with crushed peppermint candy and cubes of cake. Pour into four, pint-size freezer containers. Place in freezer.

Prepare sauce by combining cornstarch with some of the fruit syrup. Add mixture to remainder of syrup and fruit. Cook until thickened. Cool and pour into two, pint-size freezer containers. Place in freezer.

To serve, defrost sauce at room temperature around two hours in advance. Unmold cake mousse and let stand until it is soft enough to spoon around one-half hour. Scoop into a serving bowl, adding layers of sauce. Decorate bowl with candy canes.

Holiday Steamed Rice

Cook rice in usual manner with bouillon instead of water for liquid. When steamed, stir in a small package of raisins and half a can of Mandarin orange sections. Toss all together with a couple tablespoons melted butter.

Mix Crabmeat in Blender With Oil, Nuts, Wine

Use a 6-oz. can of crabmeat; carefully—but carefully—remove every bit of gristle. Soak ¼ cup olive oil until browned; drain, cool, then chop fine. Combine crabmeat, nuts, 2 tablespoons finely-minced parsley and ¼ teaspoon salt; place in electric blender and set in motion at low speed, slowly add 2 tablespoons olive oil and 1 tablespoon dry sherry; beat until smooth. Or beat mixture with fork until well-blended.

Serve in tiny patty shells, purchased in cracker department of market, or on toast rounds, or in bowl for guests to make their own canapés.

Philippines to Buck Reds' Admission to End

MANILA CITY, Philippines. (UPI) — The senior adviser to the Philippine United Nations delegation said Tuesday night that his nation would oppose the admission of Communist China "even if we become the last nation to do so."

Ramon Mitra said "The tide seems to favor eventual admission but we are committed to buck this tide."

He'll Ferry His President

Pilot's Perched on Cloud Nine

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Little Jim Swindal used to stand beside the Birmingham, Ala., airport near his home watching the big planes take off and land and dreaming of the day he would be in the pilot's seat.

But after graduation from high school, where he was a guard on the football team and a pitcher on the baseball squad, Jim took a more mundane job — in a steel mill.

Then came Pearl Harbor. The day after the Japanese sneak attack. He enlisted as an Air Corps cadet.

Now, after 19 years, many war-time and cold war missions, dozens of VIP flights and 11,500 hours in the air, Lt. Col. James B. Swindal has been given the supreme assignment of an Air Force flyer — personal pilot for the president.

Handsome, 41-year-old Swindal said he and his family are "very pleased" at his new job of flying John F. Kennedy, announced Tuesday by the Air Force. He said he is looking forward to the new assignment "very much."

SUCCESSOR DRAPER — On Jan. 20, the day Kennedy moves into the White House, Swindal will succeed President Eisenhower's personal pilot, Col. William G. Draper. Draper, at his own request, recently was named deputy commander of a jet fighter wing in Alaska.

Swindal said he does not make any long trips out of the country at first. He said he does not know whether Kennedy will use Columbian II, Eisenhower's propeller-driven Constellation.

The six-foot-tall, blue-eyed, grey-eyed pilot now is commander of the 200-man special air mission at Andrews AFB, Md., which operates the three VIP jetliners used by Eisenhower and other government officials.

Swindal has flown many officials, including then-Deputy Defense Secretary Donald Quarles, his successor James Douglas and the Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Thomas D. White. He recently flew Vice President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson to Paris for a NATO parliamentary meeting.

But he never has flown a president.

Swindal's 11,500 hours of flying time is exceeded by "very few" Air Force pilots, he said.

During World War II he piloted transports on the China-Burma-India — the "hump" — flights over the towering Himalaya Mountains. Later he was a North Atlantic Ferry pilot and flew 51 missions in the Berlin Airlift.

Swindal married his school days

Commerce Dept. Sees Exports Over Imports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The value of United States exports will top imports by more than $5 billion during 1960 the Commerce Department predicts.

The department's office of business economics said that exports in July-August-September reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $29 billion while the yearly rate for imports was just under $15 billion.

Foundation Gets Grant

The National Science Foundation has made a grant of $15,000 to the Beaudette Foundation for Biological Research, Solvang, Calif., to support basic research entitled "The Marine Red Algae of Pacific Mexico." It was announced today by Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, to Palmer T. Beaudette, president, a former Pontiac resident.

Engineer Flags a Taxi to Catch His Own Train

TAIPEI (AP) — The express train from South Formosa carrying 500 passengers was more than an hour late reaching Taipei Tuesday because of a taxi.

The train hit a cow. The engineer got out to negotiate a settlement with the owner. In the confusion, the assistant engineer started the train without the engineer. The engineer had to flag a taxi to catch up with his train at the next station.

Named to School Board

Final State Sessions Promising

Legislature Closed on Cooperative Note

By United Press International
The 1960 session of the Michigan Legislature was both an anticlimax and a harbinger of things to come.

Lawmakers met in regular session for just five days more than four months—from Jan. 13 to May 18—but they came back for a September special session that put the state under a federal medical care for the aged plan and met measures are considered, were again in December to adopt a voter-approved penny hike in the sales and use taxes.

Anything following the year-long upsurge of the 1959 "cash crisis" legislative meeting was bound to be a letdown.

Charges of a "caretaker session" in which only necessary legislation or noncontroversial measures are considered, were hurled—mostly by Democrats—at the end of the regular session. Republicans, who controlled the Senate with a 23-12 edge over Democrats and organized the House despite a 55-55 split, denied this.

Two things about the session of 1960 stood out clearly: Lawmakers were hampered by partisan bitterness that carried over from the year before; and more was accomplished than might have been expected.

Action taken in 1960 and sure to be up for further consideration by lawmakers included passage of a state park fee with the money going to improve recreational facilities, numerous governmental housekeeping measures and the ever-present appropriations, capital outlay and tax problems.

Operation of the lawmaking process during the two special sessions may have been symbolic of the past and, hopefully, indicative of the future.

Partisan bickering and bitterness accompanied the meeting to adopt medicare legislation.

But the post-election session to approve tax hikes was marked by a reasonable degree of cooperation and bipartisan acceptance of the voters' mandate issued Nov. 8. Republicans caucusing after the tax-hike session agreed to give Democrats a bigger voice in operation of the Senate by increasing their membership on committees.

Legislative leaders generally viewed the prospect of working with a new chief executive—John B. Swainson replaces G. Mennen Williams as governor—with optimism.

White House Policemen Amaze Ike With Trophies

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House police pistol team proudly displayed a table full of shooting trophies Tuesday that brought a whistle of amazement from the media officers protect—President Eisenhower.

The President showed he was impressed when he heard that the team had scored 1,197 of a possible 1,200 points in a target match in Pennsylvania two years ago. That score tied the then world's record for police pistol competition.

Weddings, Engagements Enhance Season's Joy

Couple Receives Papal Blessing

A Papal blessing was bestowed at the Monday wedding of Barbara Ellen Bystrom of Royal Oak and Faustino Geremia Leone of Pontiac, formerly of Rome, Italy. The Rev. Louis Rohr, O.F.M., officiated in Shrine of the Little Flower Catholic Church, Royal Oak.

The bridegroom, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Flore Leone live in Rome, has been living at the South Hammond Lake Drive home of his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leone since arriving in the United States six years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Enoch B. Bystrom of Royal Oak are the bride's parents.

Fashioned of bouquet taffeta, the floor length bridal gown featured a modified Sabrina neckline and bodice of re-embrodered Alencon lace in a flower pattern, enhanced by miniature pearls.

The illusion veil was secured by a pearl studded crown. Amazon links, stephanotis and ivy comprised her bouquet.

Matron of honor Mrs. Robert Dunn of Ypsilanti and bridesmaids Jacqueline Karam of Royal Oak and Maria Leone of Pontiac were gowned alike in red velvet dresses.

MRS. FAUSTINO G. LEONE designed with semihill skirts. Their flowers were red carnations. Deborah Simon of Pontiac.

flower girl, appeared in a white dotted swiss frock and held a basket of red rosebuds.

James Grassi of Pontiac was the ring bearer.

The bridegroom asked Lawrence Brennan of Detroit to be his best man. Seating guests were Dena Leone of Detroit, cousin of the bridegroom, and George Pellerin of Cin.

Royal Oak's Maplewood Club House was the scene of an evening reception.

The new Mrs. Leone attended Michigan State University and is employed in the University of Detroit's alumni office. Her husband, a 1959 Wayne State University graduate, teaches at Avondale High School. They will make their home in Royal Oak.

Out-of-town relatives of the bride attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bystrom and Allen Anderson, all of Villa Park, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Doyle with Judy and John of Wilmette, Ill.; Mrs. George Olson and George Olson and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jensen with Kay and Arthur, all of Lombard, Ill.

The bridegroom has two sisters Rosina and Elena Leone who are in Italy.

Susan Hodges Marries

Susan Elizabeth Hodges of Bloomfield Hills pledged wedding vows to Martin Hardingham of London, England, Tuesday afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook.

The Rev. Louis Gillette officiated at the single-ring candlelight ceremony in the presence of some 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Hodges, parents of the bride, were hosts at the reception and buffet dinner in their home on Lone Pine Road following the nuptials.

The bridegroom is the son of the Louis E. Hardinghams of Ryepack, Deeping St. James, Northamptonshire, England.

Preceding the bride to the altar was maid of honor Ellen Vandusen of San Francisco and Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Bruce Robinson of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Robert Healy of Grosse Pointe and Sylvia Trygall of Orchard Lake.

Their scoop-neck Ann Fogarty gowns of cream silk alpaca, were designed with floating back panels. Wreaths of holly complemented their bouquets of holly with red berries and ribbons.

MRS. MARTIN HARDINGHAM

guests with George Maccomson of Grosse Pointe and Walter Taylor of Birmingham.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hodges chose deep green peau de soie and matching hat.

Leaving on an undisclosed honeymoon, the new Mrs. Hardingham was wearing a copper-toned tweed coat and dress with matching hat.

She is a graduate of Kingswood School Cranbrook and University of Michigan. She spent her junior year at the Royal College of Art in London where her husband has completed three years of graduate study. He is an alumnus of Stamford School and the Nottingham College of Art and served in Malaya with the King's Own Scottish Borderers.

They will live at Wyola Farms, Newton Square, Pa.

Lucille Marie Seibert Marries Charlotte Man

Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and carnations silhouetted against Christmas greens, Lucille Marie Seibert exchanged wedding vows with Ronald L. Scharmen of Charlotte Monday in First Congregational Church.

The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton performed the midafternoon ceremony before some 125 guests.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Seibert, the bride was given in marriage by Stanley Kipp of Doris Road, who, with Mrs. Kipp, gave the reception in the church parlor. Receiving with them were the Walter Scharmens of Lansing, parents of the bridegroom.

Fingertip veiling of French silk illusion followed over the bridal gown of white chiffon velvet, styled with chapel train. Alencon lace outlined the Sabrina neckline of the molded bodice designed with wrist-point sleeves.

Miniature red roses centered the bridal cascade of white carnations, stephanotis and roses.

Carnation red chiffon waist-length dresses for the attendants, styled with scoop necklines, bracelet-length sleeves and cummerbund waists, were worn with matching shoes and leather headbands.

Karen VanLeven of Troy attended her former college roommate as honor maid, with bridesmaid Jane Ellen Rathbun. They carried white velvet muffs topped with Marnie Eisenhower carnations. Holly sprigs and a cascade of velvet tubing distinguished the arrangements for the honor attendant.

MRS. RONALD L. SCHARMEN

Hospitalman Roger Scharmen came from the U.S. Naval Base, Norfolk, Va., to serve as best man for his brother, Roy Voss of Williamston, married for his former classmate with Thomas Burke of East Lansing and Lyle Basting of Lake Angelus.

Leaving for a southern honeymoon, the new Mrs. Scharmen was wearing a navy blue sheer wool sheath dress, gold accessories and the rosebud corsage from her bouquet.

She is a sophomore at Michigan State University where her husband received his degree in education. He teaches at the high school in Bellevue and is affiliated with the National Guard at Lansing. They will live in Charlotte.

Winter white accessories and Marnie Eisenhower carnations complemented Mrs. Kipp's sheath dress of navy silk crepe. Mrs. Scharmen, wearing dusty rose lace over a matching taffeta sheath, wore white carnations.

Mrs. Harry Hamlett came from Harrietta for her grandson's wedding, and other guests were from Hacksack, N.J., and Toledo.

Prebridal showers were given by Mrs. Clara Beck of Lansing; Miss Van Leuven and Nancy McClelland; and Mrs. George Gacher and Mrs. Craig Pote, cohostesses.

The Betweeners' Club, a newly formed group of single Catholics from ages 15-22, will sponsor a Holiday Hop from 9 to 11 Friday evening at St. Michael's Hall. There will be no admission charge for the dance to which area Catholic young people are invited.

Abby Says: Mail, Male, Female

More Sides to Questions

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
Dear Abby: My husband and I have had an argument going on about you for several years. I say you are a man and that picture and pen name "you" are all a front. You always seem to take the man's part, and never give us women a break. Come clean.

DEAR JANET: Please read the letter below.

DEAR ABBY: Just what have you got against men? I'll bet some guy dumped you over, years ago and you've hated men ever since. I'd like to see you side with a man once and admit that some of the woman's problems can be the woman's fault. But of course you never will, because all you dames stick together.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only a year and my husband can't keep his eyes off other women. He says he just "likes people"—but they are always female. I have bawled him out, acted hurt and even tried to make him jealous. Nothing works.

He gets plenty of affection at home and I am considered a good-looking woman myself, so what makes him act like this, and what can I do about it?

DISTURBED

DEAR DISTURBED: His male hormones make him act like this and there is nothing you can do about it. Some men just like to "look"—which is harmless. (It could be a hold-over from the days when they were still shopping.) When a man stops appreciating a good-looking woman, he will stop appreciating you. Grin and bear it.

Gardenias and ivy comprised the bride's small colonial bouquet.

Geoffrey Harcourt of London, England, was best man. James Hodges of Wilmington, Del., brother of the bride, seated

Know Your Fabric

Whether you choose the pattern or the fabric first, be sure they go together. Home economists at Michigan State University say a design featuring fullness or draping requires a fabric that is soft and pliable. When the pattern displays pleats or sharp details, look for fabric with body that will keep creases.

Woman's Big Boon: Look 40 for Years

By RUTH MILLETT

"A woman must never look over 40, no matter what happens to her," says a famous French designer.

That must explain why there are so many women today whose age you guess at "about 40" even though a little mental arithmetic soon tells you that your first guess must be off by five, 10 or even 15 years.

Take Mrs. B for an example. When you meet her you notice her slim young figure, her hair that is any color but gray, her unwrinkled skin, her youthful gaiety, and if you wonder about her age at all you put her in the "about 40" category.

Then, Mrs. B mentions that her children are all through college and married, that she is five times a grandmother, or some other such age-revealing fact and you know that Mrs. B seems to be "about 60" only because she has decided not to be any older than that.

Of course, even with the most expert hair-dyeing, the most rigorous dieting, the most careful attention to her complexion, and the

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:
"My girls won't wear anything but pleated skirts these days. My problem is that they always look so baggy and the pleats never seem to stay in. Is there any way to make the pleats hold the press better?"

Mrs. L. L. T.

Skirts may be permanently pleated and I suggest this method for any solid color fabric. This is done after the skirt has been hemmed but before it has been stitched together. You will probably find a company equipped to do this only in large cities.

It isn't too difficult to get pleats even when working with plaids or stripes. Just be careful not to stretch each pleat out of shape as you press. After the skirt has been completed, I would recommend a professional pressing. This can be done by your local cleaners because they have the heavy pressing equipment necessary.

A very helpful hint for keeping these pleats in shape longer is to turn your skirt wrong side out, then fold each pleat separately on the pressed crease and machine stitch from bottom to top about 1/4" from the fold.

If your skirt is made of plaid or twill where the machine stitched would not be too noticeable, you may also think close to the fold of each pleat from the right side. I think you will be delighted with the results.

"Dear Eunice:
"What size sewing machine needle do you recommend and how long should the stitches be when machine stitching?"

Mrs. L. E. L.

Needles vary in size and numbers according to the fabric you are using. I use a size 14 for my general sewing. If the needles aren't numbered the same for your machine, get the second finest size. The finest needle is perfect for sewing on silks, but breaks too often to be practical when sewing over pins for your general sewing.

For most of your machine sewing, use about 12 stitches per inch. If your machine is not numbered this way, make a sample of your stitching and then count the actual number of stitches per inch. In this way you can adjust the length of the stitch accordingly. Too small a stitch will have a tendency to draw up the fabric as it is stitched.

"Dear Eunice:
"Is it possible to shorten a flared skirt from the top?"

Mrs. H. M.

No, not without completely re-making the skirt. If you shorten the skirt by taking off fabric at the waistline, the waistline will become much larger due to the way a flared skirt is cut. This would necessitate removing the zipper, taking in the side seams and completely re-making the skirt. It is easier to shorten this type of skirt at the hem-line.

"Dear Eunice,
"Why do some patterns cost so much more than others? Lots of them look almost exactly the same."

Mrs. R. E. W.

The cost of patterns can almost be compared to the cost of ready-made clothes. You will always pay a little more for a more exclusive design or designer.

I think it is poor economy to consider the cost of a pattern when you are saving so much money by doing your own sewing. I am also in favor of using good fabrics. These are the little things that make sewing such fun. With a good pattern, quality fabric, perfect workmanship and a good fit, you really have something to be proud of for all your efforts.

Lady Lawyer Has High Federal Post

BOSTON (AP)—An attractive woman in her mid-30s now holds the No. 2 position in the United States Attorney's office in Massachusetts.

Miss Mary F. Hasset was signed by the U. S. Department of Justice in 1953 as an assistant U. S. Attorney. Since that time she has prosecuted many cases in the federal courts in Boston. And she made history by becoming the first woman attorney in this region to present criminal cases before a United States grand jury.

A graduate of Boston University and B. U. Law School, she was admitted to the Massachusetts Bar in 1945 after receiving special permission to take the examination—because she was under 21.

Interfacing gives "body" to the dress collar or peplum you are sewing. Home economists at Michigan State University note that interfacing should be colored to wash or dry-cleaning so it will not "bleed" onto the garment fabric.

New Wonder Drug Cosmetic Restores Young Look to Skin

Medical tests show Helena Rubinstein's Ultra Feminine reduces wrinkles due to dryness and restores young tone to mature skin.

Now you can look younger. Medical research proves that the action of two vital female hormones, estrogen and progesterone, reactives specific skin cells. Wrinkles due to dryness are reduced. Young skin tone is restored.

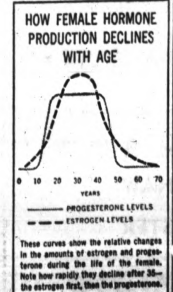

The discovery that has made this possible is Helena Rubinstein's Ultra Feminine Face Cream, the only face cream with both vital female hormones. These are the very hormones that have helped shape every woman from Venus to you—the same hormones that abound in a young woman's skin.

The chart below shows you how nature reduces estrogen and progesterone supplies with maturity. Here's what happens when Ultra Feminine restores estrogen and progesterone daily to your skin.

What the doctors report: Skin cells can hold maximum moisture again. These cells, plumped out once more, support the surface firmly. Lines smooth out. Wrinkles due to dryness are reduced. Young skin tone is restored.

Oil glands produce at a more youthful rate again. Tissue sections and skin surface tests show an amazing increase in oil production. The skin is soft, dewy, protected.

Start looking younger
Start using Ultra Feminine now. In just 30 days, see your skin take on a definitely younger look. Such rapid results are possible because Ultra Feminine is an actual wonder drug cosmetic that works within the skin to replenish loss of physiological substances. The whole process, miraculous to behold, is like nature's own because estrogen and progesterone are the female hormones which power these cells in youth. Because your skin can't store up hormones for the future, you must use Ultra Feminine faithfully each night. This assures your daily hormone requirement.

This medically tested treatment costs only pennies per use. See your skin look young again, and stay younger looking.

Arms Worry Woman

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A recent letter from a reader brings up two questions which women ask me over and over again.

This reader writes, "I do not know whether or not you can help me but I will never know unless I try."

"I am 33 years old and have been married for 14 years. During the time I have worked very hard, taking care of my home and two sons. Maybe I have worked too hard because the veins in my arms have enlarged and are very prominent. They look awful!

"I have asked my doctor about this but he says not to worry about it. But I do worry and why won't you? I when people say to me 'Look at your arms!' I am so self-conscious that I dread wearing short sleeves."

"I am 5 feet 3½ inches tall. I weigh 120 pounds. Is that too much? I have medium bones. The veins are bad enough, but to make matters worse I have a large amount of hair on my arms. If it were not so long and so thick it would not be so noticeable because it is light colored. I am a blonde, very fair."

"If I could do something about the hair problem, maybe it would help the arm problem, and give me a little more peace of mind."

The hair problem is very simple. Just use a depilatory to remove the hair. This is temporary and must be repeated whenever needed, but it is certainly worth the time spent—which isn't much time anyway.

There are certain diseases which can cause the veins to enlarge but I'm sure your doctor would have told you if you were afflicted. Usually, large veins are inherited. Also, overweight can make the veins more prominent. The thickness of the skin has an influence and since you are very fair you probably have this skin.

Also very hard work, especially that which keeps your hands in hot water quite a bit, may have some influence.

If you have a medium build, you should gain about 10 pounds. That will help the vein situation. But regardless, your doctor is right. Don't get a vein complex. Life is too short and can be too happy to let any small physical defect ruin your fun!

If you would like to have my 16-cent booklet "Your Bust," which instructs you in proper care of the bust for beauty and health, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Rev. Savage Solemnizes Nuptials

Billie Joyce White Weds David Peters Under Holly Arch

The Rev. James Savage solemnized the nuptial vows of Billie Joyce White and David C. Peters of Rochester in Barnett Chapel of First Baptist Church. The candlelight ceremony was performed beneath an arch of holly.

Daughter of the William T. Whites of North Marshall Street, the bride wore a tiered gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle. The bouquet skirt swept into a chapel train.

Attached to a crown of seed pearls, the veil of silk illusion fell to fingertip length. Maudie Eisenhower carriages, stephens and ivy completed the cascade bouquet.

Bridesmaids Carol Shelton, Marilyn Eby and Linda Boin, all of Pontiac, wore identical ballroom-length dresses of red velvet. They wore white fur headbands and carried white fur muffs topped with red carnations. Red pompons distinguished the arrangement held by the maid of honor Marilee Cross of Rochester, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's sister Pattie Lynn Peters, wearing white velvet with a red cummerbund, carried a basket of red and white carnation petals. Daryl Keith White brother of the bride, carried the ring.

Donald Peters stood as best man for his brother at the Dec. 26 wedding. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peters of Rochester. Seating some 225 guests were David E. Eby of Rochester, James Greenleaf of Auburn Heights and William Townsend.

The bridegroom, a senior at Alma College, is affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. White chose a two-piece suit of blue chevron wool. Her corsage was of pink roses and white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom pinned yellow roses and carnations to her dress of aqua sheer wool. Her accessories were brown.

Susan LaRue Exchanges Vows With James Hunter

Candlelight vows of Susan Alice LaRue of Ann Arbor to James E. Hunter were repeated in the Rev. L. Burlin Main in the chapel of the First Methodist Church of Ann Arbor. Altar flowers were white carnations and red roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vivien Brown LaRue and Ennis J. LaRue, both of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Gerald G. Hunter of Marquette Drive, Bloomfield Highlands, and the late Mr. Hunter, are parents of the bridegroom.

With her street-length sheath jacket dress of white satin brocade, styled with red chiffon cummerbund, the bride wore a white fur turban and white elbow-length gloves.

Her gold bracelet, a gift of the bridegroom, complemented gold earrings given by her mother. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

sheath dress was styled with a red chiffon bolero drape. She carried white carnations.

The bridegroom had Kent Webb as his best man with George Greig of Bloomfield Hills seating the guests.

After a reception and dinner at The Corner House Tea Room in Ann Arbor following the Dec. 17 ceremony, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

The new Mrs. Hunter is attending Michigan State University where her husband received his degree this month. His fraternity is Phi Sigma Kappa.

A shoulder corsage of yellow roses accented Mrs. LaRue's dress of beige and ivory brocade. The mother of the bridegroom chose a sheath dress of navy sheer wool with a corsage of pink roses.

Answer: You invite him personally.

Question: My husband and I are awaiting the arrival of our first baby and hope you will answer our questions. Is it proper to add the suffix Jr. to a son's name when his middle name is different than that of his father? Also, is it wrong to send birth announcements to friends who live in the same town and know of the baby's arrival?

Answer: Jr. is proper only when the names are identical. Announcements may be sent to any friends who have not already been given the news by telephone or letter.

Question: I am going to be married shortly and would like to invite the priest who is to perform the ceremony, to the reception. Should I send him an engraved invitation such as the other guests will receive or should I invite him personally?

Answer: You invite him personally.

Expert on Western Cowboy Cooking Gives Recipes

The rash of adult westerns on television has revived much interest in western-style cooking during the days when cowboys and Indians fought on the plains, when the covered wagon was a rolling kitchen for pioneer families and buffalo meat was more common than beef for dinner. For one Southwest woman the food of western lore was a subject of interest long before Maverick and Wyatt Earp rode across TV screens.

She is Dorothy Fowler, who first became a student of gourmet cooking western-style as part of her jobbing a big herd of cattle, the as manager of a Tucson motor hotel, the Sands. Her hobby is collecting some of the recipes that became chuckwagon standards during America's cowboy days and she frequently is corresponding with oldtime veterans of the trail to get their versions of some of the delicacies of the old west, beyond the menu at the Sands Motor Hotel, although occasional chuckwagon dinners at the Sands will feature an old western recipe.

"Western food was real he-man food, substantial and filling. It had to be because after a day of moving into the oven as close together as possible. That made them rise up as they were baking. The grease browned the tops and bottoms."

Then chunks of dough were pinched off, greased and packed into the oven as close together as possible. That made them rise up as they were baking. The grease browned the tops and bottoms."

The trail cooks prepared their batter a day ahead allowing at least 24 hours to rise. The batter was made by grating two table-spoons of Irish potato, adding two cups of flour and enough water for the batter. This should be put in a gallon jar to rise for 24 hours.

Beans were always the staple of the cow country, not Navy, kidney or lima beans but the pinto variety. A recipe for chuckwagon beans favored by Miss Fowler has the following ingredients:

- 4 cups pinto beans
- 2 large onions
- 4 cloves garlic
- 2 large chili peppers
- 1 teaspoon cumin
- 8 tablespoons bacon fat

Put pinto beans in dutch oven with enough water to cover well. Chop onions, mash garlic, mince chili peppers and add to beans. Add bacon fat and season with salt to taste. Bring pot to boil, then reduce heat to simmer. Let simmer until beans are done even if it takes all day, adding water as needed.

Dorothy notes that while sourdough biscuits and beans were the big staples in cowboy diets, meat—"always well done"—was basic in the western menu.

"Good but plain food that would stick to your ribs and last all day was what the cowpokes insisted on," says Dorothy.

"Steaks, whether from buffalo, bear or beef, were cut thick as a man's hand, floured, salted and peppered, beaten with the flat of a cleaver and then fried in deep fat on the trail." Dorothy's recipe search shows. "Every man ate at least a pound of steak at a sitting and there was blamed-near a fight over who got the last biscuit."

Sometimes a cow country cook served a barbecue sauce with the steaks. Dorothy found one favorite barbecue sauce recipe with these ingredients:

- 1/2 cup molasses butter
- 1/2 cup onion
- 1/2 cup tomato red pepper
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/2 cup ketchup
- 1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup salt
- 1/2 cup black pepper
- 1/2 cup cayenne
- 1/2 cup lemon juice

Combine and mix all ingredients. Use sauce to baste roasts and steaks while cooking.

For desserts the preference of cattle outfits on the trail were cobblers, made of dried fruits, from peaches to apples. Again the dutch cleaver and then fried in deep fat was the standard cooking on the trail.

Prune Fritters Are Different, Good

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prune fritters are equally good as a side dish with poultry or as a dessert with lemon sauce. Sift together 1 cup of sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons of baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon of salt and 3 tablespoons of confectioners sugar. Gradually add one-third cup of milk and beat until smooth.

Add and mix well 1 beaten egg, 1 cup of chopped cooked prunes and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Drop by teaspoons into deep fat heated to 350 degrees. Cook 35 minutes, or until delicately brown on both sides. Turn once. Drain on absorbent paper.

Peanut Butter and Nuts Go Into Special Waffles

NEW YORK (UPI) — Here's a waffle treat.

Melt together 1/4 cup of shortening and one-third cup of peanut butter; mix well. Place 2 cups of your favorite pancake mix, 1/4 cup of sugar, 2 cups of milk and 2 eggs in a bowl; add peanut butter mixture. Beat with a rotary beater until fairly smooth. Stir in 1/2 cup of chopped peanuts.

Pour batter onto a hot waffle baker. Bake until steaming stops. Serve with butter and honey.

Oyster Spinach Soup a Gourmet's Treat

A cream soup is likely to be prepared in different ways in different countries. Frenchmen enjoy it as a rich, velvety-smooth dish of delicate flavor. While seafaring New Englanders savor a hearty creamed chowder or stew that brims with succulent vegetables and chunks of salty seafood. If the latter is your bowl of soup, you're sure to like Soup Exotic, a variation of oyster stew with spinach and garlic seasoning added. Either canned, fresh or frozen oysters are simmered in milk for five minutes — time enough for the oysters to plump up and their edges to curl. Fresh oysters should be shucked and cleaned in the usual manner, while quick-frozen oysters should not be thawed until ready to use.

Chopped spinach is next added along with half and half that thickens as it enriches. Then comes a sprinkling of garlic salt and monosodium glutamate to point up the mildly flavored oysters.

This fine soup deserves a garnish with elegance. And whipped cream is just the topping to spoon over each serving. To vary the usual creamy color, brown the whipped cream over so slightly by slipping the soup bowls under the broiler. Then for color contrast, dust with a touch of paprika. Soup Exotic is now ready for the most discriminating gourmet.

You can serve small cups of soup as appetizer, or fill large crockery bowls with soup and serve as a meal in a bowl along with tossed greens and well-buttered crusty French bread.

Soup Exotic
1 package frozen chopped spinach
1/2 cup dairy whipped cream, canned, fresh or frozen
2 cups milk
1/2 cup half and half
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon butter
2 cups whipping cream
1 teaspoon salt

Cook spinach according to package directions; drain well. Simmer oysters in milk about 5 minutes.

Add half and half, salt, monosodium glutamate, garlic salt, butter, spinach and heat to simmering point. Whip cream and salt until stiff.

Pour soup into bowls, top each with whipped cream and a sprinkling of paprika and place under broiler to brown cream slightly. Serve immediately. Makes 4-6 servings.

New Taste for Sweets

Toasted almonds and tangy orange juice give real appetite appeal to this sweet potato casserole. Mashed cooked or canned sweet potatoes with orange juice, butter and seasonings to taste. Add silvered toasted almonds; turn into greased baking dish. Cover with miniature marshmallows and bake until golden brown.

Add Coconut Meringue to Creamy Soft Custard

Did you ever try adding coconut to meringue? The result is something quite outstanding — moist flaked coconut in the creamy meringue adds both delicate flavor and interesting texture. This fancied-up meringue is especially good on chocolate pie, and it is good, too, on floating island. Try it sometime piled on a soft custard and browned delicately, then chilled.

The custard is easy to make to perfection with sweetened condensed milk. Remember, always, when making custard, that gentle cooking is essential. Test the custard with a metal spoon. It's done the minute the spoon is coated with the custard.

Custard with Coconut Meringue
1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup hot water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs and 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine sweetened condensed milk, water and salt in top of double boiler. Gradually stir in eggs. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon, about 20 minutes. Remove from heat at once. Cool quickly in pan of cold water. Add vanilla. Pour into small casserole.

Meringue:

1 egg white
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup of salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup ground flake

To make meringue, add cream of tartar and salt to egg white. Beat until almost stiff enough to hold a peak. Gradually add sugar; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold in vanilla extract and coconut. Spread over custard in small casserole and brown for five minutes in hot oven (425 degrees). Chill before serving.

When you finish cooking a batch of french fried potatoes put them in a clean paper bag to absorb any extra fat. If the bag is set in a warm oven it will keep them hot until ready to serve.

50-Year-Old Romeo Church Is Ruined by Fire

$60,000 Blaze Hits Landmark

Firemen Battle Flames in Near-Zero Weather at St. Paul's Episcopal

By LEE WINBORN
Suburban Editor

ROMEO — Fire of undetermined origin yesterday swept through St. Paul's Episcopal Church causing an estimated $60,000 damage to the nearly half-century old Romeo landmark.

Firemen from Romeo and Washington battled the flames in near-zero temperatures to keep the fire from spreading. Water froze on their ladders, their hats were covered with icicles and frostbitten fingers were the order of the day.

No one was in the building when the fire broke out, and no one was injured in the blaze.

Flames leaped more than 75 feet in the air, and black clouds enveloped the business district just one block away when the fire was at its peak.

Romeo Fire Chief Walter Werh said the blaze apparently started in the furnace room of the church, and a half fieldstone structure.

Early reports that the suspension-type gas furnace installed about five years ago had exploded are still unsubstantiated, according to Romeo State Police investigators.

The fire was discovered shortly after 11 a.m. by John Barton, Jr., of 222 N. Bailey St., who saw smoke around the rafters and chimney. His house is across the street.

Word of the fire spread as rapidly as the flames, drawing crowds of onlookers and parishioners who managed to save several of the cherished religious treasures, including the tabernacle from the smoldering building.

Some of the articles, including vestments and linens, were scorched too badly to be repaired while others were found to be in relatively good condition despite the intense heat and water damage.

Police cordoned off several blocks leading to the church which is only a short block from the village's main intersection of Van Dyke and St. Clair street.

Flames raged up from the basement, through the sanctuary and the roof, melting the stained glass window above the altar and twisting the brass altar rail like a corkscrew.

The roof at the west end of the building caved in, and a large part of the rafters ceiling was chopped away to keep smaller fires from spreading.

The whole interior of the church had been refurbished and redecorated just before Easter. An electric organ, which had been installed about five years ago, was destroyed in the blaze.

Although the nave of the church was left relatively intact with most of the pews still in place, the building was termed a "total loss" by firemen because of the intense fire, water and smoke damage.

Only a portion of the damage was covered by insurance.

Already donations for a new church are being received by the vicar, the Rev. Douglas T. Smith. He said regular services now will be held at the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center.

Organized as a mission church in 1912 with the present building completed a year later, the church is at 130 E. Newberry St. It served some 75 families in the Romeo area.

The fire occurred almost 12 years to the day after the one which gutted St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Pontiac, on Dec. 28, 1948.

New Fire Truck Due for Farmington Twp.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Delivery of a new emergency fire vehicle is expected here by mid-March. The primary purpose of the specially equipped fire truck is to fight grass fires and serve as a rescue vehicle.

To cost $23,000, the four-wheel drive, 200-gallon capacity vehicle will be housed at Fire Station 3, Wheeler Road and Grand River Avenue.

It will be equipped with a high-pressure pump, 200 feet of high-pressure hose, fire fighting chemicals and a rescuerator.

LEFT A SHAMBLES — Only the walls remained salvageable after fire gutted St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Romeo, yesterday despite efforts of firemen from Romeo and Washington to save the nearly 50-year-old landmark. The blaze, which started in the basement, left a gaping hole in the roof, destroyed the sanctuary and charred the pews and interior walls. Damage is estimated at about $60,000.

Ten Pontiac area teenagers are among the 180 student executives of Junior Achievement firms in Southeastern Michigan currently attending the Annual Junior Achievement Management Conference in Cleveland.

There are 800 delegates at the conference representing some 1,000 JA firms in JA's central region — Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Ontario and Michigan.

Among the area delegates are Michael B. Gibson of 3311 Shorlons Drive and James and John Van Doren of 1955 Devonshire Road, all of Birmingham; and George S. Griffin of 14141 Northwestern Highway, Farmington Township.

A stable Farmington delegation is made up of William Anderson of 2651 Creekside St., Charles Lapinski of 2855 Northbrook Lane, Patricia Osterling of 3118 Glenmuir St., and Roger Vallentine of 34437 Oakland St.

Rounding out the area delegates are two from Clawson, James M. Rettig of 1135 W. Selridge Blvd., and Kurt Schlotterbeck of 1325 W. Selridge Blvd.

The JA delegates will hear new ways of selling merchandise, as told by featured speakers from the business world.

They also will hold "brainstorm" sessions in which the members themselves throw out ideas for discussion.

Wholesaling and production will be other topics of study.

The election of officers for the central region will be held Thursday, last day of the conference.

One of the nominees for vice president is Roy Hane, 17, of Berkley. The conference began yesterday.

Organized as a mission church in 1912 with the present building completed a year later, the church is at 130 E. Newberry St. It served some 75 families in the Romeo area.

The fire occurred almost 12 years to the day after the one which gutted St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Pontiac, on Dec. 28, 1948.

Precious Resigns as Oxford Manager

OXFORD—Ralph W. Precious, Oxford village manager for the past 4½ years, last night notified the Village Council that he will resign Jan. 21.

Precious told the council he is leaving to take up a new position as city manager of St. Johns, a community of about 6,000, 18 miles north of Lansing.

The resignation of Precious will leave open four of the village's top governmental jobs.

3 OTHER POSTS
In addition to being village manager, Precious was village clerk, treasurer and assessor.

The annual salary for these combined positions was about $7,300.

Precious, 31, was assistant village manager in Glenview, Ill., before coming to Oxford. He said the city manager's job in St. Johns will pay $5,000 a year.

The outgoing official described his relations with the Village Council and citizens of Oxford as "very cordial."

Precious said he still favors a plan under which Oxford and surrounding areas in Oxford Township would be incorporated as a city.

Under the plan under study by village councilmen, the proposed city of Oxford would be approximately double the size of the present village which has a population of 2,345.

WOULD TAKE INDUSTRIES
Two of the largest industries in the township, American Aggregates Corp. and Synco Corp., would be included in the city if incorporation becomes a reality.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Precious is married and the father of three children. He and his family live at 129 East St.

Precious said he told the council Thursday that he was leaving Oxford to take up his new position, but he tendered his official resignation last night.

He reported that the council is advertising for a new manager. It is not likely that the four village positions will be combined in one job when a new manager is hired, Precious said.

On Water, Sewers in Southfield To Hold Hearings Feb. 1

SOUTHFIELD — The City Council here has dated Feb. 1 for six public hearings, the most important being concerned with speeding up construction of water and sewer facilities in the city.

The main hearing will be for water and sewer lines along Brentwood and Marshall streets, west of Greenfield Road, between 12 Mile and Webster roads.

It approved, this will free Southfield to go ahead with the first of its proposed water and sewer projects tied up by the Madison Heights Twelve Town Drain.

Despite the favorable decision by the Michigan Supreme Court the issue is still in doubt. Madison Heights is now planning several other court tests.

Southfield is aiming to get a jump ahead these plans be dropped. Special assessment projects take time for planning and development.

Should there be a new court test before Feb. 1, the City Council will probably postpone the hearing.

Pleads Guilty to 15 Break-Ins

Confession Apparently Has Solved Rash of Burglaries in Area

WALLED LAKE — A rash of burglaries in Oakland and Wayne counties in recent months apparently has been solved with the arrest here of a 24-year-old Dearborn man who has admitted at least 15 breakings and enterings.

Dale L. Swegles of 8721 Shadock St. pleaded guilty yesterday before Walpole Lake Justice of the Peace Gene Schelz to breaking into Frank's Pizzeria, 528 N. Pontiac Trail, over the Christmas weekend.

Swegles, who waived examination, is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting arraignment in Circuit Court Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. Schelz set a bond of $5,000.

Walled Lake Police Chief James A. Decker said Swegles has admitted to burglaries in Farmington, Livonia, Detroit, Plymouth and Dearborn.

Swegles was arrested Monday night by patrolman Wilfred Block while driving in the city. The Dearborn man had been stopped for a moving violation but upon questioning admitted to the string of breaking and enterings.

Would Tighten Shopping Center Restrictions

Avon Twp. Will Consider Zoning Law

By DON FERMOYLE

AVON TOWNSHIP — A new ordinance which would create a special zoning classification for all shopping centers constructed here will come up for approval by the Avon Township Board Jan. 11.

The proposed ordinance, which would impose tighter restrictions on developers of shopping centers, drew favorable comment last night from the township's zoning board.

Zoning board members voted unanimously to submit the ordinance to the Township Board for approval.

The ordinance would create a new zoning classification known as C-1S for shopping centers built in the Township.

A neighborhood shopping center is defined as a district "with a supermarket or variety store as the principal tenant."

Such a center, on a site of from 5 to 20 acres in size, would be of the type which offers goods or services usually required by families at intervals of a week or less.

The neighborhood center must include 6 to 20 stores, floor area of 20,000 to 100,000 square feet and adequate parking and loading facilities.

The community shopping center as defined in the ordinance would be from 15 to 40 acres in size, include 20 to 40 stores and contain 100,000 to 400,000 square feet of floor space.

Zoning board chairman Carl Simon, who was re-elected to another one-year term last night, said the tighter restrictions would prevent "fly-by-night" developers and land speculators from entering the township.

Simon also is a member of the township's planning advisory commission which approved the ordinance and submitted it to the zoning board.

The planning advisory commission also advised the zoning board that it would not recommend rezoning a 24-acre parcel of land north of the Orion and North Rochester roads.

Developers had planned to construct a professional building, restaurant and motel on the pie-shaped piece of property north at this intersection if it could be rezoned from residential to commercial.

The rezoning request drew objections from residents of this area in August when it appeared that the township's zoning authorities might approve the change.

However, Simon told the zoning board that the decision not to recommend approval of this rezoning was reached by planning advisory commission members after they toured the site. After receiving the recommendation from the planning advisory group, the zoning board denied the request.

Also denied was the rezoning request of developer Bert L. Smoker who asked that a 12½-acre site near Adams Road and Walton Boulevard be rezoned for commercial use.

Smoker plans to build a shopping center on the site. His rezoning request was denied only so that he might resubmit it under the new restrictions of the shopping center ordinance.

Jail RO Youth, 18, for Check Passing

Lawrence J. Fuller, an 18-year-old Royal Oak youth with the long juvenile delinquent record, yesterday was sentenced by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland to 2½ to 14 years in Jackson Prison for passing a worthless $10 check.

Fuller, of 2914 Ferris St., pleaded guilty Dec. 12 to uttering and publishing. He admitted forging the check and cashing it Sept. 13 at a drug store in Royal Oak.

Fuller broke down and sobbed in the jury box when sentenced.

State's Oil Yield 7 Million Barrels

Boom in Golden Gulch Over but It's Still a Big Yearly Business

ALBION (UPI)—The oil drilling boom is over in Southern Michigan's "Golden Gulch," but the state expects the area to report a yield of about 7,200,000 barrels for the 1960 calendar year.

That makes oil producing in the Albion area a $20 million-dollar-a-year business.

The Adams-Scipio-Pulaski-Homer-Albion-Levee production strip popularly called "Golden Gulch," was opened five years ago and now supports about 380 producers.

And although there are fewer rigs working in the area, than in any time in the last 28 months, oilmen still have hopes for 850 wells along the 35-mile strip.

The newest section of the field, in Calhoun County, was developed just two years ago.

Independents Tom Mask, K. P. Wood and Ray Markel of Mount Pleasant drilled the first well on the W. F. Roseau farm, three miles south of Albion and 15 miles northwest of the Scipio field.

Since December 1958, 140 producing wells have been drilled in the Albion-North Pulaski end of the field.

Dry-hole failures number only about 100, including some 45 off-line wildcats scattered over much of Calhoun County and the western six miles of Jackson County.

Parolee Returns to Prison for Pontiac Robbery

A 23-year-old Pontiac father of one, already on parole for burglary, was returned to Jackson Prison today to begin serving a new term of 4 to 15 years for armed robbery.

Wilbur J. McCauley, of 39 Summit Ave., pleaded guilty Dec. 12 to robbing Edward Duzinski, 49, manager of the Consumers Discount Center, 178 N. Saginaw St., of $600.

He used a .38 caliber revolver to rob Duzinski and an assistant manager when they were about to close the store Nov. 15.

Police arrested the unemployed McCauley after the manager identified him from police file photographs.

McCauley was sentenced to 2½ to 15 years in 1956 for breaking and entering. He served two years and was released on parole for three years.

He was sentenced by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland.

Produces Her Own Work

Author Pearl Buck Takes Fling at Movie Industry

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Having done virtually every kind of writing, Nobel Prize-winning Pearl Buck at 68 has now tried her hand at producing a movie. She likes it.

The distinguished author was here to show the product to Artists executives. They liked it, too.

The movie is "The Big Wave," and it developed from one of Miss Buck's shorter works for children.

"I wrote it during the war when there was so much fear of death among children," she said. "I remembered villages in Japan where the people lived between earthquakes and tidal waves, where death was a constant companion yet the people remained light-hearted and even gay."

The inception of the movie project came when she adapted "The Big Wave" for an hour TV show. The director was Tad Dzielowski, who thought the tale could be expanded and shot as a film in Japanese locale. Miss Buck agreed.

HOLLYWOOD SYSTEM

"I had sold three of my books to movies — 'The Good Earth,' 'Dragon Seed' and 'China Sky,'" she recalled. "They have a peculiar system in Hollywood. They won't let the author have anything to do with the film. I didn't like some of the things that were done, and so I decided to sell no more of my books until I could have some control over the filming."

She went to Japan and coproduced with Dzielowski, who directed. She assisted in all aspects of the film, which was financed by Allied Artists and Japan's Toho Co. Touchy problem was the filming of women pearl divers, who customarily swim only in G-straps.

"We solved the problem by shooting them two ways: covered for the American market and uncovered for the rest of the world," Miss Buck said. "It seems rather silly to me, coming from that part of the world where such things aren't important. But attitudes are different in this country, and I don't want to offend anyone."

Miss Buck's film venture won't interrupt her writing career. She said she is currently finishing another novel. How many does this make?

"I don't know," she replied. "I never count my books or my children."

State's Citizen Asks Jack to 'Keep Aggressive Spirit'

By A. F. MAHAN
Staff Writer

Mr. Average Michigan Citizen's advice for President-Elect John F. Kennedy runs from "keep your aggressive spirits, and rock and roll this country's grown complacent" to "approach with deliberation implementation of a program that will change the direction we have been following."

And for Governor-Elect John B. Swainson: "look into the state's tax structure and work for something more concrete than the hodge-podge of the past; get away to an extent from union influence and think for yourself; do what is right."

Most of those interviewed in a statewide sampling by the Associated Press and its member newspapers also counseled Swainson and legislators-elect: "forget partisan politics when considering Michigan's welfare." This desire for executive-legislative cooperation was the one sentiment that appeared most often in answer to the question of what advice one would give Swainson and the 1961 legislature.

Degrees and areas of advice covered a wide range. Some obviously colored their's with their own political views, although those interviewed were picked at random without knowledge of party affiliation.

A large segment of replies suggested governmental economy. Sid Struble, a 32-year-old Mount Pleasant barber and sheep farmer, put it this way: "Cut down on the number of people working for the government and put the rest of them to work."

Bay City monument salesman Ernest F. Fletcher said: "By all means try to improve the living conditions of those who need it."

Name Execs Trustees to Vote on TWA Stock

NEW YORK (AP) — Ernest R. Breech, former chairman of Ford Motor Co., and Irving S. Olds, former chairman of United States Steel Corp., Tuesday were named to the three-member trusteeship which will vote the 78 per cent of Trans World Airlines stock owned by Hughes Tool Co.

They were selected by the lending group of insurance companies and banks which will provide $165 million of a $285 million financing program for TWA jet aircraft.

The third trustee is Raymond M. Holladay, vice president of Hughes Tool, which is wholly owned by Howard Hughes.

Volcanic eruptions and earthquakes have fed superstitions and folklore through the ages. The ancient Indians of Peru believed such upheavals meant their creator had returned to see how many people were behaving.

Tough Cashier Gal Tells Bandit, Beat It... He Did

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — A woman cashier in a pharmacy Monday told an armed gunman to get out and he got. When the bandit told cashier Caroline Covar to hand over the money in the register, Miss Covar slammed and locked the register drawer and told the gunman to beat it. The intruder pocketed his gun and fled.

Michigan players who were drafted included:

First round, Green Bay, Herb Adderley, Michigan State back; second round, St. Louis, Fred Arbanas (Michigan State); seventh round, Baltimore, Ike Grimstead, Michigan State back, and eighth round, Chicago, Ed Ryan, Michigan State back. Wayne Fontes, a Michigan State back, went to Philadelphia in the ninth round.

National football league commissioner Pete Rozelle had to go to extreme yesterday to get one of the slowest moving plays in selection meetings in modern history into even less gear. He finally put a 16 minute limit on sections and issued a two minute warning. The teams took 15 hours to pick 128 players in 9 rounds.

The balance of the 26-round draft of 150 players was adjourned to 10 a.m. today.

The league's newest franchise, Minnesota's Vikings, wasted little time making the day's No. 1 pick. General manager Bert Rosen took Tulane halfback Tommy Mason, a third team All-American coveted by a number of clubs. Rosen, who earlier gave the impression he might trade Mason for a veteran quarterback, said later the 21-year-old southeaster conference star would not be dealt.

After Mason was taken, the drafting made the good old snail look like a 10-second sprinter. It took five hours to complete the first round. Some old timers were reminded of the year Earl (Greasy) Neale held up selections eight days to do the outlandish American Football League's Dallas Texans for the pair.

The AFL, incidentally, was the reason the NFL club had a telephone.

Teams took as long as two hours to decide on one choice. Cleveland, for example, dickered with Dallas for 24 hours before finally trading for a player and a 1961 first pick.

Dallas used the selection to take Bob Lilly, TCU's All-American tackle. The Cowboys later grabbed E. J. Hahn, Texas Tech quarterback. Now all the Cowboys have to do is outbid the American Football League's Dallas Texans for the pair.

Devine Defends Films

'Loose Talk' Charge Hurlled At Navy Coach

MIAMI (UPI) — Missouri coach Don Devine today branded as "loose talk" a complaint by Navy coach Wayne Hardin that Missouri shortchanged Navy on an exchange of game movies.

Devine reminded Hardin of "an old Navy saying: 'Loose talk can sink ships,'" and said he was considering taking up Hardin's complaint with the ethics committee of the National Football Coaches Assn., of which he is a member.

"Our coaching staff values our reputation too much to have it besmirched by loose talk," Devine said.

Hardin touched off the squabble between the Orange Bowl coaches with a complaint that Navy had swapped films of five games with Missouri and "the ones they sent us were terrible."

"We sure wound up on the short end," said Hardin. "Most of them (the Missouri films) are television-type pictures and you can't see the full formations."

The Navy films, said Hardin, were full wide-angle shots demonstrating play clearly.

Hardin also complained that the Missouri films were incomplete. "As an example," he said, "where the film was cut in the Colorado game was the best part of the ball game."

"All Hardin had to do if he didn't like the films," said Devine, "was get on the phone and call me. He's had those films for a month."

"Perhaps we don't have quite as much money to film games as they do," said the Missouri mentor, "but those are the only films we had. We've swapped films within our own conference for three years and never had a complaint."

Devine admitted that the film of the Colorado game was incomplete. "We do cut our films. Now and then we will cut a good run out and send it to a television station."

Packers Dominate Annual NFL All-Star Squad

2 Area Quintets Lose; PCH, PNH Tilt Friday

By BILL CORNWELL

Two Oakland County high school basketball teams were defeated Tuesday night in the first round of a pair of holiday tournaments. Another county school, Royal Oak Kimball, was responsible for the demise of one of them as coach Vince Sigren's junior-dominated Knights handed Farmington a 63-34 setback in the opening round of the Redford Union holiday tournament.

Kimball was the other county victim as the Redskins bowed to Mt. Morris, 61-46, in the first round of the Fenton holiday event.

Milford was the other county victim as the Redskins bowed to Mt. Morris, 61-46, in the first round of the Fenton holiday event.

The Redskins swing into action again tonight, meeting Flint Atherton at 6:30 in a loser's bracket contest.

Host Fenton, coached by ex-Holly mentor Leroy Decker, downed Chlo, 66-46; Flint Bentley beat Atherton, 72-40; and Flint Bentley whipped Ann Arbor University High, 63-51, in other first round games.

Three other county quintets are slated for action tonight. Walled Lake faces Livonia Bentley at 7 o'clock and Southfield battles Algonquin Park at 8:30 in the 2nd round of the Redford Union tournament.

South Lyon also sees combat in another holiday tournament at Chelsea. Bill Chilton scored 26 points to spark Kimball to its 1st win of the season. Four foul shots by Craig Kirby in the final 90 seconds led the decision for Kimball after Farmington rallied to cut the Knights' lead to three points.

Two Farmington regulars were missing from the lineup, 6-5 sophomore center Walt Grimaldi because of an ankle injury and guard Jim Anderson due to illness. Bob Saley paced Farmington with 22 points, all in the 2nd half.

In last night's other game at Redford, Melvindale scored a 58-49 triumph over the host Union club.

Milford led through most of the 1st half before Mt. Morris rallied to tie the count at intermission. Milford fell steadily behind in the 2nd half and Mt. Morris enjoyed a 16-point edge after three quarters.

Pontiac's vacation basketball interest centers around the Pontiac Northern gymnasium where the Huskies and Pontiac Central will collide Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The Chiefs will be favored to beat their cross-town foes, but the PNH cagers are determined to make the defending Saginaw Valley champions fight for their laurels.

This will be the 4th meeting of the intracity rivals on the hardwoods and the Huskies are still looking for their 1st victory over the PCH quintet.

Dick Hall's Huskies will enter the game with a 3-0 record, featuring wins over Rochester, West Bloomfield and Waterford. The Chiefs of Art Van Ryzin have a 2-2 mark — victories over Flint Central and Edsel Ford and losses to Arthur Hill and Grosse Pointe.

Friday's game marks the 1st time that the city's two public schools have participated in a holiday contest.

Big O Scores 45 Points; Conley Belts Ed Conlin

By The Associated Press

The Big O hit a personal high of 45 points and Gene Conley hit Ed Conlin.

Those were the highlights of Tuesday night's action in the National Basketball Association as Cincinnati rallied for a 123-124 victory over Syracuse and Philadelphia defeated Boston 116-101.

The Big O, known as Oscar Robertson, scored 15 field goals and 15 of 18 free throws, for his 45, one more than he had in a November game. His final two foul shots clinched the decision after Wayne Embry had sparked a late Cincinnati surge with three straight field goals.

At Philadelphia Wilt Chamberlain (39) and Paul Arizin (34) made the points for the Warriors, but Conley created the excitement as Philadelphia moved to within a game of the Eastern Division lead held by the injury-ridden Celtics.

Boston's big man 6-foot-11 Bill Russell, has a sprained left wrist and saw only limited action and Bill Sharman, a backcourt starter, has a pulled leg muscle and stayed home.

Conley, the baseball pitcher who plays basketball as a sub, Russell, was shaken in a hard period. Thinking he was fouled deliberately he punched Philadelphia Ed Conlin. They were pulled apart, but Conlin needed a ice pack to stop the swelling in his jaw.

The loss snapped Boston's six-game winning streak. Tom Heinsohn had 30 for the Celtics.

DETROIT (UPI)—The pace-setting Detroit Junior Wings won the Wallaceburg Knights, 72-61, in Border Cities Hockey League action last night.

Jerry Spinnell's three-goal "hat trick" was enough to provide the margin of victory. Teammate Bob Libby chipped in with two goals.

It was the fifth straight victory for the Junior Wings whose record is now 14-4.

KANSAS CITY — Richard Larkin of Waterford, a tackle from Hilledale (Mich.), has been named to the offensive first unit of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' 1961 All-Star football team.

6 Green Bay Players Make AP's 1st Team

Karras Is Lone Member of Lions to Win Spot on Top Unit

NEW YORK (U)—The Green Bay Packers dominated the annual All-Star team of the National Football League as selected by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

Four Packers made the first offensive team and two more made the regular defensive unit in a 30 per cent turnover of last year's first 22 men.

Alex Karras was the only member of the Detroit Lions to crack the first team. Karras was named to a tackle position on the defensive unit.

Joe Schmidt, the Lions' star linebacker, landed a berth on the 2nd team, also on the defensive unit. No Detroiters were able to make the offensive teams.

Norm Van Brocklin, Philadelphia's excellent quarterback, was an overwhelming choice for quarterback. Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's ace passer who was the first string quarterback a year ago, didn't make the second team.

Cleveland's Milt Plum was the second choice of his record for few interceptions and 60.4 per cent of completions. Although Units led with 25 touchdown passes, he had 24 interceptions.

End Ray Berry and tackle Jim Parker of Baltimore, guard Jim Smith of Cleveland, center Jim Ringo of Green Bay, halfback Lenny Moore of Baltimore and fullback Jimmy Brown of Cleveland were the six repeaters on the offensive team.

They were joined by end Sonny Handley of St. Louis, tackle Forrest Gregg, guard Jerry Kramer and halfback Earl Edwards of Green Bay and Van Brocklin on the first team.

End Gino Marchetti of Baltimore and New York's Andy Russell and safety Jimmy Patton of New York, linebacker Bill George of Chicago and halfback Abe Woodson of San Francisco again made the All-Star defensive unit. Halfback Tom Brookshier and linebacker Chuck Bednarik of Philadelphia, tackle Henry Harrison and linebacker Bill Forester of Green Bay, safety Jerry Norton of St. Louis and Karras rounded out the defensive unit.

Date of Floyd-Ingo Bout Is Changed to March 13

NEW YORK (UPI) — Promoter Hunter (Jack) Fugazy dies tonight to San Diego, Calif., to negotiate for a light heavyweight title fight at New York March 28 now that he has changed the date of his Miami Beach heavyweight title bout to March 13.

The promoter did not disclose the proposed New York site for the Moore-Schoeppner fight on March 28 but it was believed he had Madison Square Garden in mind.

Fugazy announced last night that the third title bout between heavyweight champion Archie Moore and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson would be held at the Miami Beach Convention Hall on March 13 instead of on March 20 as originally announced last week.

There were two reasons for the one-week advance of the heavyweight date: It would prevent a possible conflict in the promotions of the Miami Beach and New York fights, so close together, and it might help the Miami Beach gate by staging the fight before the end-season exodus of visitors had reached its peak.

The Patterson-Johansson fight will be sent by closed-circuit television to theaters and other locations throughout the United States and Canada. But since the two title bouts will be staged within the same month, the additional cost to theater-TV producers and theater owners for the Moore-Schoeppner encounter would be very small. Fugazy hopes that both bouts will be on theater-TV.

THE 24 GREATEST BASEBALL GAMES

What a fight any fan would stir up if he took it on himself to name the two dozen outstanding baseball games on record!

Yet Joe Reichler and Ben Olson have done just that in the "Unforgettable Games" series.

Of course, Joe and Ben are no ordinary fans. They are nationally known baseball writers whose recently published book, "Baseball's Unforgettable Games," has been a best seller.

From the 109 games in the book they have selected 24 as the cream of the crop. Their astute accounts are fascinating. You won't want to miss a single one.

Fishermen Need New Licenses This Sunday

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Ice fishing will move into full swing Sunday when northern pike become legal targets for anglers who like to spear.

Pike will be legal targets on most inland lakes and the Great Lakes through February. Valley and Wildwood Lakes in Oakland County are closed to spearing.

Sunday is the day fishermen will need 1961 licenses. During the bustle and bustle of the year-end holiday festivities, many anglers forget this important item. It should also be remembered that a trout stamp is needed to take rainbows during the winter months as well as when the weather is much warmer.

Area lakes are beginning to produce some good catches.

Kenny Caverly, 13, who lives between Clarkston and Drayton Plains, had the thrill of his young fishing life Monday. He caught a 5-pound northern pike on a tip-up while fishing on Lake Orion.

It was the first pike the youngster had taken. The 28-inch fish was fooled by a chub.

Kenny was fishing with his brother-in-law, Clifford Grose of Oxford. They reported catching over 40 bluegills and perch and keeping 27 for a future dinner. The others were released.

Minnewas Lake in Lapeer County will be closed to northern pike fishing beginning Jan. 15. This lake and seven others in Michigan will have the pike restriction for three years.

Ice off Huron Point on Lake St. Clair is four to five inches thick, according to James Pompano of Metropolitan Beach. Several shanties have been placed on the ice and fishermen have reported catches of 25 to 40 perch this week.

Fish have been biting on Kent Lake and other spots in the Midland area. Most fishermen found the brief warm spell Sunday and Monday produced some good catches. The newest cold snap now in Michigan will slow fishing.

The Conservation Department is planning a 30 per cent cutback next year in the planting of legal-sized trout. But inland lakes will receive 63,000 trout, the same number as in 1960.

Streams will absorb the biggest cutback because creel census studies show that lakes yield best returns to fishermen on hatchery-reared fish. A growing shortage in the state fish and game protection fund is the big reason.

With a few possible exceptions, the 135 million brooks, browns and rainbows will be planted in the same waters as in 1960.

A black and whitewash drawing of a hen mallard and eight young ducklings at the edge of a marsh was won the 1961-62 duck stamp contest for Edward A. Morris of Minneapolis. Morris' design was chosen by judges from the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service over 100 other entries in the final competition.

The "any deer" controversy continues without letup. Here are some additional comments from hunters.

"There may have been a need for control in some areas," writes Max Klein, 9822 Oak Knoll, Pontiac, "but it has been continued for too long and taken too heavy a toll . . . if it continues, I am seriously thinking of hunting in some other state or Canada next year."

Harold Lindy, 1725 Lockwood, Highland writes, "I own 80 acres in Alcona County . . . and have hunted there for 40 years. I have seen very few deer that died from starvation. Nature's law has always taken care of the sick and unfit deer by 'survival of the fittest'."

"In theory the Conservation Department is right," says Franklin C. Love of Farmington. "But Michigan is not a Western game reserve, it is a large area with different food and weather conditions and a large population that likes to see deer running in the woods. Four or five years ago there were too many deer, but not today. I think it is about time to cancel the any deer law."

The legislature is the scene of the next battle. It should come early, probably next month.

Detroit Crews Work Fast

Quick Sewage Repair Helps Ducks On River

Repairs have been made on a Detroit sewage system pump at Conner Creek station to check the flow of untreated wastes which last week threatened thousands of ducks in the lower Detroit River area.

Conservation Department biologists reported no duck losses from the sewerage breakdown which caused wastes to spew into the river at a rate of 30,000,000 gallons a day. The Detroit River is one of Michigan's major wintering waterfowl areas.

Department officials were

Tree Planting Projects Aimed at Recreation

Michigan's public lands received another long-ranged boost this fall for multiple use when conservation department and inmate labor crews planted some 9,642 young trees on 12,172 acres in 15 northern state forests.

With optimum timber production, wildlife populations, and recreational use as the goals, some 3,148 seedlings and transplants were planted on 3,405 acres in seven Upper-Peninsula state forests. Another 6,494,000 trees were planted on 8,767 acres in eight state forests of the northern Lower Peninsula.

Red pine seedlings made up the bulk of the state nursery plantings. Lesser amounts of white pine and jack pine seedlings and white spruce transplants and seedlings rounded out the stock used.

quick to praise the Water Resources Commission, the Health Department, and the City of Detroit's Department of Public Works for heading off a potentially serious duck die-off.

Without their combined efforts in reporting and halting the discharge of wastes there may have been a loss of last winter's pollution in the lower Detroit River area where an estimated 12,000 ducks died between mid-March and early April.

The weather also provided a timely assist by forming ice at the upper reaches of the river to drive ducks into open waters beyond the areas where wastes were escaping. Plans had been made to disperse the birds from endangered concentration points by using low-flying aircraft or "baiting" safe waters with wheat and corn.

Seney Refuge Open to Winter Fishing

The Seney National Wildlife Refuge will again be open this year for ice fishing and spearing.

This year all pools in Unit I and M Pool in Unit II will be open to fishing from January 1 through February 28. Access may be gained thru the headquarters road or the sub-headquarters road south of Germantown.

Northern pike are found in all the pools open for fishing and perch are also present. State fishing regulations apply to all ice fishing and spearing on the refuge. In addition to these, refuge regulations prohibit the use of minnows for fishing. However any other live bait or artificial lures may be used.

HOW TO SURVIVE—This is Dulcinea or Sweetheart, a pet elk who hangs around the J. C. Hunter ranch headquarters at Frijole, Tex., in the Guadalupe Mountains. Since she is free to mingle with wild elk the "NO" signs are painted on her sides during the hunting at the ranch.

Population Increase Is Cited

Parks Needed in Southeast Michigan

The development of ample recreation areas in Southeastern Michigan is causing parks planners some headaches.

The high rate of population growth in Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, and Monroe Counties, and the fact that more people are using the existing facilities each year, are the big reasons.

It is in these counties that the need for more public park development is most needed, according to the planners.

Four counties—Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Monroe—contain almost half of Michigan's entire population. Within 10 years, the four-county total is expected to increase by 800,000 or 50 per cent.

With this in mind, the State Conservation Department will use about half of the $1 million planned for park development next year for southeastern counties. The same holds true for the next few years.

Park users will pay the cost when they start paying admission to state parks Jan. 1 to retire a planned $5 million bond issue.

The Conservation Department worked out a comprehensive parks development plan for Southeastern Michigan 15 years ago. Planners mapped out 11 areas covering 150,000 acres for public recreation and launched a land acquisition program.

The state now owns one-third of that acreage, situated in Bald Mountain, Brighton, Highland, Holly, Island Lake, Metamora, Orionville, Pinckney, Pontiac Lake and Rochester-Utica recreation areas.

Parks planners hope eventually to pick up another 50,000 acres in the same areas. The third 50,000 acres is privately owned property considered unattainable, most of it being occupied by cottages and year-round homes.

"One of our big problems has been that we haven't had any appropriations for land acquisition since 1938," said Arthur C. Elmer, parks chief for the Conservation Department.

"Also the price of land in that area is going up so fast it's hard to keep track of it," he said. "We paid an average of less than $100 an acre for the first 50,000 in those 11 recreation areas. Now it's selling for probably $300 to $500 on an average and in many cases much more."

The Conservation Department is not alone by any means in developing parks in Southeastern Michigan. A quarter-million property tax in the Detroit area counties finances the land acquisition and development program for the Henry Clayton Metropolitan "Audubon" which runs such popular parks as Lake St. Clair and Kensington Metropolitan Park in southwestern Oakland County.

The Wayne County Road Commission and a number of local governments, most notably the City of Detroit, operate sizeable parks systems.

But Violations Increase

Praise Deer Enforcement

LANSING — Officials of the Conservation Department are pleased with the stepped-up law enforcement effort in Northern Michigan before and during the deer season.

Department field administration supervisors for the Upper and northern Lower Peninsulas feel their additional patrol units were instrumental in cutting down pre-season violations which had been rising in recent years.

These violations were also considered to be down because of an apparent decline in hunter numbers before the season started. There was a slight upturn in arrests during the season. Records show 773 arrests were made in the northern Lower Peninsula last season as compared with 708 in 1959. Above the Straits, 436 arrests were made, 10 more than a year ago.

Regional field administration supervisors credit much of the increase in arrests to the extra patrol units made up of men from the Department's various divisions which doubled regular conservation officer forces.

They also note, however, that violations generally appeared to be up from last season. This was particularly true of night hunting which probably was heightened by poor hunting conditions.

Rare Winter Bird Seen by Counters

A rare winter wren was the prize sighting made by members of the Pontiac Audubon Society Monday during their annual Christmas bird count in Oakland County.

A total of 1,730 birds were observed and 35 species identified by the 20 members who participated. An area 15 miles across, with Lake Orion in the center, was covered.

This annual count is part of the National Audubon Society's year end census. The national count ends Jan. 2. More than 5,000 persons are expected to take part in 600 local areas in the United States and Canada.

The winter wren is seldom seen in Michigan. In fact, only one was positively identified in the entire state during the 1959 census. A group led by Al Madden of Pontiac spotted the wren along Indian Road in Northeast Oakland County. Madden reported that the bird had never been seen during the winter in this part of the state.

Also spotted were several birds that should be looking in Southern United States sunshine rather than staying in Oakland County. Among these birds were robins, kingfishers, flickers and meadow larks.

A number of red-tailed hawks and ruffed grouse were also sighted. The grouse were seen in the vicinity of Indian Road.

Dr. Dan McGeen of Pontiac made the totals for the local society.

Michigan's Christmas bird census was originated in 1945 by Dr.

George J. Wallace, Michigan State University ornithologist. It was patterned after a nation-wide count conducted each year since 1899 by the National Audubon Society.

The census has become one of the most popular events of the Michigan Society. Last year 377 observers took part. They reported a total of 109 species and 86,584 individual birds.

Participating nature groups included ones in Albion, Allegan, Ann Arbor, Bangor, Battle Creek, Bay City, Chippewa, Detroit, Flint, Dowagiac, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Grayling, Hudsonville, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lapeer, Marquette, Midland, Mt. Pleasant, Muskegon, Northville, Otsego, Pontiac, Sault Ste. Marie, St. Clair, Traverse City and White Pigeon.

Their results are sent to Dr. Nicholas L. Oulbert at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, for tabulation and publication in the Jack Pine Warbler, the Michigan Audubon Society's magazine.

The key purpose of the survey says Eugene Kenaga of Midland, a MAS director, is to determine year-to-year changes in Michigan's bird populations.

Last year's census, for instance, showed an alarming drop in the number of bobwhite quail seen. Ruffed grouse and pheasants counts were down one-third but numbers of wintering waterfowl were high. Hawk observations were normal, which is always good news to farmers.

The 1959-60 count turned up

3,100 mallard ducks, 4,300 mergansers and 2,100 Canada geese. House sparrows numbered 15,000, the highest total, while more than 12,000 crows were tallied, half of these at one huge rookery in Midland.

Three sparrows, which migrate to Michigan each winter from the Arctic, totaled 2,700. Michigan's audubonists estimate they annually count about five per cent of the state's winter bird total.

From their figures you can estimate what the Wolverine State's entire Christmas bird population might be.

Freeing of Game Fish to Highlight Tourney

The freeing of game fish at boatside will keynote the 26th annual Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament which opened Dec. 18. The contest will close April 16, 1961.

Trophies and sportsmanship award plaques will honor the anglers who free some of the 33 eligible species of game fish they catch.

Bags 259-Pound Buck

ALTON, Ill. — Vince Arnold downed a 259-pound 13-point buck at a 30-foot range with a shotgun to give him the honor of taking the largest deer ever recorded in the area.

"The deer ran about two blocks into a dense thicket and then dropped," Arnold said.

Tracy McCracken Loved Newspaper Work; Died Suddenly Dec. 26

DENVER (UPI)—Tracy C. McCracken, a bustling newspaperman who built a publishing empire and dominated the Democratic party in Wyoming for two decades, died Monday night—less than a month after he turned down an appointment to the U.S. Senate because he loved his state and his profession. He was 88.

The handsome, gruff-voiced McCracken was the victim of an intestinal ailment that struck Christmas Day. His wife and two sons were with him at the end.

McCracken, once referred to by a national magazine as Wyoming's "Mr. Big," was Democratic national committeeman for Wyoming since 1942.

His last year of service to the party brought him two satisfying triumphs—he cast Wyoming's votes at the Democratic National Convention that nominated John F. Kennedy for president and he was offered the appointment to the Senate.

McCracken said he rejected the appointment because he wanted to live in Wyoming and "I love newspaper more than any form of endeavor."

McCracken got his start in the newspaper business as a reporter and editor on the Laramie (Wyo.) Boomerang—a job that helped him through the University of Wyoming.

He got his start as a publisher when he scraped together $3,000 in 1926 and bought the Wyoming Eagle, an ailing weekly newspaper in Cheyenne. He converted the Eagle to a daily—a tabloid that was given away four mornings a week—several years later.

McCracken worked as the Eagle's advertising salesman, star reporter and editorial writer during its early days.

He made it the city's dominant newspaper, and eventually bought the Cheyenne's afternoon newspaper, the Wyoming State Tribune. He continued to publish both in one expanded plant.

McCracken acquired control of the Rock Springs (Wyo.) Rocket in 1931, the Northern Wyoming Daily News at Worland, Wyo., in 1938, the Rawlins (Wyo.) Daily Times in 1946 and the Laramie Boomerang in 1949. All are dailies.

In addition to the six daily newspaper operations and a monthly magazine, McCracken pioneered television in Wyoming in 1954.

The plane came by truck from Robert Washington of West Plains, Mo., 30 miles away. Coleta's letter asked for one so her 13-year-old twin sisters could learn to play it.

Felts said some of the cards and letters contained money gifts for the family. Coleta got the western regalia she wanted from George Olsowski of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Coleta's father, Carrell Burns, is a farmer and part-time carpenter. The family lives about five miles from this Arkansas village eight miles from the Missouri border.

Though the family is in modest circumstances, Coleta's mother said the children would have had Christmas presents even if Coleta hadn't written the New York police that she hadn't heard from Santa for a long time. Coleta said she got the idea for the letter from watching television.

Germans Try to Beat Blockade Deadline

BERLIN (UPI)—Trade delegations from East and West Germany raced against time today to reach a new agreement and avert a Berlin blockade threatened by the Communists after New Year's Day.

Trade exports from the two Germanys scheduled their eighth meeting on inter-zonal commerce with only three days remaining before the Communist deadline. The talks were recessed late last week.

Inter-zonal trade is scheduled to stop Jan. 1 unless the delegations reach agreement. The Communists have warned that all Berlin traffic ports, including the one that ended the 1948-49 blockade of the city, will expire at the same time if there is no accord.

Peronists Live in Basement Over 5 Years

Set Political Asylum Record

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Two ex-dictator Juan Peron's policemen set a record this week for time spent in political asylum in a Latin-American embassy.

The brothers Juan Carlos and Luis Amadeo Cardoso have been living for 3 years, 3 months and 1 week in the basement of the Paraguayan Embassy.

That is a week longer than the famous stay of Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, leader of the leftist APRA party of Peru, who finally was allowed to go into exile six years ago from the Colombian Embassy in Lima. Haya de la Torre was accused of a part in a bloody revolt in 1958, and Colombia and Peru twice fought him out through the World Court at the Hague before they finally reached face-saving agreement.

The laws and traditions of political asylum in Latin America are of uncertain times, are meticulously observed on a continent where the political pendulum of ten swings easily. Many an ousted leader has found refuge.

Retrace Steps of Jet Fated for Collision

NEW YORK (AP)—A United Air Lines DC8 with crash investigators on board Tuesday duplicated the flight pattern of the jet that collided with another airliner over New York City on Dec. 16, killing 136 persons.

Aboard the jet were observers from United Air Lines and Trans World Airlines, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Aviation Agency and the Air Line Pilots Association.

Flying conditions were different, however, on Dec. 16, when the jet and TWA Constellation collided; the day was snowy and overcast.

One purpose of the simulated flight was to determine why the jet apparently overshot a holding area near the Jersey shore south of Staten Island, E. R. Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency, has said the collision took place 11 miles northeast of the holding area.

The jet was preparing to land at Idlewild Airport and the Constellation was coming in to La Guardia when the crash occurred.

dictator has managed to re-enters in comfort abroad because those who gained power by the revolt against them might come back in recent years there has been a rising public clamor for trial of those accused of brutality and atrocities.

CONFESIONS
The brothers Cardoso were attached to the Peron dictatorship's special section of the federal police. Their job was to extract confessions from politicians and citizens who ran afoul of the Peron regime.

Moon-faced Juan Carlos and mustachioed Luis Amadeo are accused of specializing in the use of an electric needle while the victim was tied to a hard table with leather thongs.

On the day the armed forces finally deposed Peron in 1955, the brothers Cardoso lost no time in racing to the Paraguayan Embassy where the fallen dictator already had taken refuge.

Peron soon after was granted a safe conduct to exile but not the Cardoso. The new Argentine government argued they were guilty of common crimes against individuals, not political crimes.

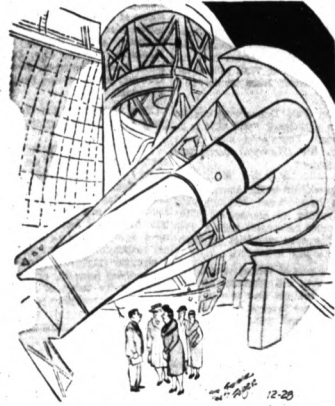

Except for the restriction on their movements, Juan Carlos and Luis Amadeo are not faring so badly.

They have repainted the walls of their basement apartment by their own taste. Relatives, free to visit them, have brought two radios, a television set and a double bed for each. They have their own telephone, and after the embassy's office hours they may walk in the garden.

A Catholic priest visits them. Occasionally their wives spend the night in the basement. The Paraguayan Embassy gives them $50 a month as pocket money. But all these years federal police have maintained a determined watch outside the building.

Grain Futures Find Only Light Demand

CHICAGO (UPI) — Scattered light demand gave the grain futures market a barely steady tone today in all early dealings on the board of trade.

Brokers said the fairly broad setbacks of yesterday apparently had attracted the buying which was understood to be re-instatement of long positions that had been liquidated during the decline.

Pressure from hedging also was light. Cash grain receipts were meager, as usual, during the first week of a year. Corn arrivals at only 12 cars were the smallest in several months.

Mackie to Seek a Second Term

State Highway Head Cites His Record in Revealing Candidacy

LANSING (UPI) — Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced today he intends to seek re-nomination for a second term.

Mackie was the youngest man ever to take over the highway job when he moved into the office in 1957 at the age of 37.

In a statement announcing his candidacy, Mackie said:

"It is my intention to seek re-nomination by the Democratic party and re-election at the general election in April 1961. Michigan leads the nation in modernizing a state highway system."

"One of the major promises of my first campaign was that a modern highway would be constructed across lower Michigan. This has been fulfilled with the opening of Interstate 94, the longest toll-free freeway in the nation."

"He said Michigan is ahead of schedule on its current five-year road building plan and that a second five-year plan will be announced early next year, with the target completion date of 1967."

Mackie claimed that other promises fulfilled during his term included reorganization of the highway department for better efficiency and highway construction based on scientific studies of traffic needs.

Mackie, who was born in Toronto, Ont., founded the Flint Surveying and Engineering Co., in Flint in 1952.

He made his bid for his first term while still with the firm.

Set Lawrence Examination

To Determine Whether Ex-Battery Operator To Be Tried for Slaying

Preliminary examination on whether Mrs. Sarah Sue Lawrence will be tried in Circuit Court on a first-degree murder charge will be held tomorrow before Independence Township Justice of the Peace William H. Stamp.

Senior Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr. said he would call 19 witnesses in an attempt to show how Mrs. Lawrence, a former 34-year-old beautician from Berkeley, 1959 and shot and killed the woman who had married her former boy friend.

Mrs. Lawrence's attorney, James Redwood, will attempt to show his client was insane at the time of the killing in the Crenshaw bungalow, 6236 Snow Apple Drive.

After the shooting Mrs. Lawrence never stood trial. A sanity commission, named by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, ruled her insane and unable to be tried.

She was released recently from Jonia State Hospital, where she was confined for 1 1/2 years, and returned to Oakland County to face the outstanding murder warrant.

Redwood tried unsuccessfully to quash the charge.

Mrs. Lawrence is being held without bond in the county jail.

Manslaughter Charge Stems From Accident

A manslaughter charge has been entered against Elmer J. Smith, 30, of 3780 Bgld Mountain Road, Pontiac Township, stemming from Saturday's fatal accident that claimed the life of Horace F. Shaw, 42, of 126 N. Telegraph Road, Waterford Township.

Smith is accused of fleeing the accident scene on Joslyn Road in Pontiac Township, and leaving Shaw dead or dying in the street. Shaw, who died of a broken neck and multiple injuries, allegedly was a passenger in Smith's car when it smashed into a mailbox, allegedly the road.

Sheriff's deputies said they found Smith later hiding under his bed. In his statement at the prosecutor's office yesterday, Smith said he had been drinking and didn't recall anything that happened.

He demanded an examination of the charge when arraigned yesterday, day before Pontiac Township Justice of the Peace Robert W. Hodge, who set bond at $10,000.

Acting Chief of Detectives Francis A. Robb said Edward Vogt, 17, a slender, good-looking youth with a crop of brown hair worn in a luxuriant pompadour, admitted the killing Tuesday.

Vogt told police he stabbed Galt with a nine-inch hunting knife after the boy refused his demand, "Give me all your money."

Young Galt had only two quarters in his pocket, tips from Christmas tree deliveries.

Police said Vogt told them he had been selling Christmas trees in the upper West Side when he saw Galt "tugging a big tree." He said he thought the boy would "be an easy touch," and followed him into the building, offering to help carry the tree.

'GARBAGE AND STABBED'
 By Vogt's account, as reported by police, the two went up in an elevator to the sixth floor. There Vogt demanded the boy's money. Vogt said he pulled out a hunting knife, Galt tried to run, but Vogt grabbed him and stabbed him repeatedly in the back.

Vogt then ran to the roof—without taking the 30 cents from the boy's pocket—and made his way across the roof tops to his own apartment building.

Robb said Vogt was arrested because of complaints from many boys in the neighborhood that he had been extorting money from them by threats.

Sunday Bowling OK Due

City commissioners last night cleared the way for Sunday bowling in Pontiac in connection with state and national tournaments.

An amendment to the ordinance regulating the closing hours of places of amusement was introduced and readied for adoption, perhaps next Tuesday.

The amendment permits alleys at tournament time to operate from 9 a.m. Sunday through 1 p.m. Monday, upon written notice to the city clerk and police department.

Up to now, all Sunday bowling has been banned in Pontiac, except upon special permission of the commission. The commission always has granted the special permission in connection with state and national tournaments.

Two weeks ago, the commission decided to make Sunday tournament bowling legal, since it was always permitted even if technically banned by law.

The new amendment does not affect the closing hours of any other place of amusement.

ENDORSE NEW FEES
 Commissioners endorsed a new schedule of electrical inspection fees, recommended by the electrical board.

Somewhat higher than existing fees, which have remained at the same level for many years, the new fees go into effect Jan. 1.

Inspection rates in the new schedule vary from a low of 50 cents to a high of $1, depending on the type of installation.

To Carry Jack's Confabs Live

Some News Sessions Will Get Nationwide TV, Radio Coverage

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—John F. Kennedy will do some trail blazing at his news conferences as president. Some of them will be carried live during evening hours on nationwide television and radio.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, announced this decision—under consideration for several weeks—Tuesday night after a meeting with representatives of the major TV and radio networks.

Salinger reported network officials very receptive to the plan for live broadcasts. The decision reflects the Kennedy camp's conviction that his most effective campaigning for the presidency was in his TV-radio debates with his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

President Eisenhower's question and answer sessions with reporters have been taped for later use on TV and radio. But only one of his conferences has been carried live—a session at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco in 1956.

Salinger told newsmen it is likely Kennedy's first news conference after he takes office Jan. 20 will be on live TV and radio. He also said news conferences will be held "more often than they have been in the past eight years."

Eisenhower's average is one session every two weeks, for a total of 192 conferences. Salinger said the White House in the new administration will schedule the networks from time to time to carry evening news conferences live but the networks will be free to carry any or all other presidential meetings with reporters on a live basis.

Network representatives who conferred with Salinger here said they have no plans to broadcast all presidential conferences.

Nixons Relaxing Now—Go Out on the Town

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—At last Dick Nixon is starting to relax. Might as well, I guess!

The Vice President and wife Pat were on the town the other night and morning—first they were at the "Unstinkable Molly Brown" then they went to Basin St. East where they saw the sick comedian's last comedy, Lennie Bruce, and trumpeter Al Hirt. Nixon sent a note backstage to Tammy Grits at "Molly Brown."

gave a note to Ticket Broker Harry Bloomfield about how much he liked the show (for publication, yet!) and shook hands with everybody from the bus boys on up to Basin Street where he didn't seem to meet Bruce. Reminding everybody that he'd played a piano and trumpet himself in school, Nixon forecast a great future for Hirt and his band. Nixon said it was the most fun he'd had since the election—also the latest he'd stayed up late. In graciousness to the visitor, Bruce deleted one of his routines. The Veep had gin-and-the-locks and Mrs. Nixon bourbon-on-the-rocks.

The Veep said the Al Hirt band would be great—especially—in Russia.

Caroline Kennedy Asks Johnson

Can You Make Sand Pies?

By MERRIMAN SMITH
PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)
Backstairs with the president-elect.

When House Speaker Sam Rayburn recently spent the night here at the seaside home of President-Elect John F. Kennedy, one of "Mister Sam's" most ardent admirers was a young lady predestined to be one of the great charms of White House history.

The romance with Rayburn was getting along famously when Caroline Kennedy, in all of her 35-year-old heyday, looked at the venerable Texan and cooed, "You have no hair at all, do you?"

Rayburn harrumphed in mock testiness and replied, "Yes, and I've gotten along pretty well, at least."

Another Texan, Vice President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson who has visited Kennedy in Palm Beach twice since the election, also came under Caroline's wide-eyed attention. She confronted him on the beach and demanded to know, "Do you know how to make sand pies?"

Johnson's reply was lost to history, but it was something to the effect that he's been out of the sand pie field for quite a few years.

IN THE SPRING

It probably will be sometime in March or early April before Caroline's parents bring her north to live in the White House. They need time after the inauguration to arrange suitable quarters on the second floor of the executive mansion not only for Caroline and her nurse, but young John Jr. and his nurse.

The President-Elect and his wife, Jacqueline, naturally are excited by the prospects of moving into the White House, but they are sufficiently realistic to know the life of a first family has its limitations.

Friends of the family say the Kennedys were shocked to learn that President and Mrs. Eisenhower frequently have dinner on trays sent up from a kitchen three stories below.

The Kennedys might be even more dismayed to know that the same sort of thing went on with the Trumans and the Roosevelts—meals from a tray.

The reason for this rather ungainly custom: when there's just the President and his wife for dinner, they're frequently reluctant to go to the so-called family dining room. While not as large as the state dining room, the family dining room still is a rather large room for two people.

The family quarters of the White House are concentrated on the second floor—which has no dining room. Thus many meals are sent up from the kitchen, rewarmed in a nearby galley and served on small trays and tables in the end of a broad hallway which has been partitioned off for many years as a living room.

High Furniture Orders Pleading in November

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Furniture industry analysts Seidman & Seidman indicate November held some surprises among its comparisons in view of a slight downward business movement.

The wood household furniture industry showed orders booked in November 4 per cent better than those of October, reversing a 13-year record in which November orders averaged 8 per cent below October.

Also, for the first time in 14 years, the backlog of unfilled orders increased in November.

Tokyo Population Rises

TOKYO (UPI)—Tokyo's population rose to 9,691,047 as of Nov. 1, 1960 the statistics bureau of the metropolitan government announced Monday. This was an increase of 15,444 over the October total. The latest release showed males outnumbered females, 5,121,116 to 4,609,931.

Business Hopes Up for Prefabs

Home Industry Looks to Good 1961 but Some Not So Optimistic

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The makers of prefabricated houses seem to be the least downhearted of the home builders these days.

In fact, they sound downright cheery on 1961 prospects. Their industry has been growing smartly since World War II and they are looking forward to a banner 1961, according to the industry's magazine "Manufactured Homes."

Optimism among businessmen is not extraordinary. Most any businessman, from the corner merchant to Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller, will tell you "a businessman has to be optimistic."

This dictum notwithstanding, there has been a noticeable lack of optimism among home builders. Some industry spokesmen have predicted a small rise or about 50,000 units in 1961 from 1960's disappointing 1.3 million farm and nonfarm housing starts. The National Association of Home Builders' 420 of its members and reported:

"The builders were short on optimism and long on caution with regard to home buildings' short-term future . . . on the 1961 outlook the builders predicted no change from 1960's level."

In contrast to this somber mood, the optimism of the home manufacturing industry stands out sharply. Behind its confidence stands the industry's growth. Shipments of factory-built home components have about tripled since 1946.

In 1959 shipments hit a record 120,000 houses. This year they declined about 10 per cent, in contrast to an overall drop of 20 per cent in housing starts.

"Looking forward to a banner year in 1961, industry officials expect that sales of house packages will reach the 150,000-unit level," Manufactured Homes said.

Shaw, Van Brocklin Gives Eagles NFL Crown

Van Brocklin, Defense Spark 17-13 Triumph

Packers at 9 When Game Ends; 1st Title in 11 Years at Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles have their first national football league title in 11 years and they did it by coming up with the big stopper on defense, clutch passing by Norm Van Brocklin and rookie Ted Dean's 33-yard kickoff return on a newly installed play.

The Eagles, a Cinderella team which rose from last in the 1958 season to last year and the eastern conference crown this season, came from behind yesterday for season to defeat Green Bay 17-13 for the world championship.

And for coach Buck Shaw and Van Brocklin, both of whom were named to the NFL's all-time greatest moment in their long and colorful football careers. Sports writers voted the 36-year-old Van Brocklin the outstanding player of the game.

The 61-year-old Shaw installed the play which led to the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. In regular season play the Eagles were next to last in rushing defense but always managed to stop the big runners in key games.

For Green Bay, a last place team like the Eagles just two seasons ago, it was a day of heartbreak. The final gun sounded with the Packers on the Eagles' 5-yard line and coach Vince Lombardi's players played outstandingly for almost 60 minutes, had stopped halfback Jim Taylor. Had not been there, Taylor might have gone over.

The Packers, the western conference champions, twice led in the game which was seen by a slight crowd of 47,253. The fans were told the Eagles' win in NFL championship history.

But the Eagles came storming back both times.

Green Bay led 6-0 on field goals of 20 and 23 yards by Paul Hornung in the first quarter. The lighting in the second quarter, going from their own 43 to a touchdown on just two pass plays. Van Brocklin, a 12-year veteran who played in four previous championships with Los Angeles, connected with Tommy McDonald for 22 yards, then hit the slippery back again with a 32-yard touchdown strike. Bobby Walton added the extra-point to give the Eagles a 14-0 lead.

The Eagles increased the lead to 16-0 when Walton booted a 15-yard field goal set up by Van Brocklin passes of 41 yards to Dean. Retzlaff and 22 yards to Dean.

The real clincher, however, came after the Packers had taken a 13-10 lead on a seven-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max Flanagan in the fourth quarter. It was Dean's five-yard kickoff return which he set up himself with a 33-yard strike to the Packers' 10-yard line. The Eagles' final score was 17-13.

The kickoff return play was a new one Shaw installed last week after receiving scouting reports from the Packers' Bill Grier. It was the play Dean started down the middle, then cut to his left with Eagles' linemen doubling him of the Packers' last run up front. This opening a lane between them for Dean to run through.

Green Bay, whose rushing attack was sparked by fullback Jim Taylor with 105 yards and Hornung, who gained 61 before leaving the game in the third quarter after a jarring tackle by Bodnar, took advantage of early Eagles' errors to set up the touchdown drive.

On the first play from scrimmage the Packers' Bill Grier tackled the Eagles' six. The Packers elected to try for the yardage and a possible touchdown instead of the field goal. But Taylor, a 25-pound halfback, ran who was second in the NFL rushing, could get only one yard and Philadelphia took over on its own five.

Seconds later Dean shot off tackle for 16 yards but fumbled the ball as Bill Freezer pounced on it on the Eagles' 22. The Packers got to the eight but a penalty sent them back to the 12 and they couldn't go any further as defensive halfbacks Bob Freeman, a former "ackler," and Tom Brockmeyer, did some last stepping to break up and time passed by.

The Eagles' defense, despite giving up 223 yards on the ground and 178 through the air, five times stalled Green Bay drives inside the 10-yard line.

Shaw, Van Brocklin Retire After Victory

"Only for that runback by Dean we probably would have held them," said Packers Coach Vince Lombardi. "That gave the Eagles the big lift and we couldn't stop them. Dean certainly had great blocking on the big run. But he had to have. No one returns a kick that way in this league with out blocking."

Lombardi also singled out Van Brocklin for praise. "Old Van completed them when the Eagles needed them," he said. "You have to give him credit."

Van Brocklin thanked his many supporters who came into the clubhouse to offer congratulations, but he said he felt the Eagles often didn't play really well — "not up to our potential."

"The defense played a hell of a game," said Van Brocklin, "but the offense didn't move the ball as well as it should have."

Asked why he stuck to the ground in the late stages of the game, Van Brocklin said: "The linemen told me we can run on these guys." Lombardi said: "We didn't do anything different and the Eagles played the way we expected. We simply couldn't capitalize on our opportunities."

Lombardi blamed the loss partly on the Packers' failure to push across touchdowns on their first three deep penetrations.

"I guess you would say there went the ball game," Lombardi said. "Instead of leading by two touchdowns we were ahead only 6-0 and then Van Brocklin came through. But I'm real proud of my club. They stayed in there all the way right down to the final gun. It's too bad we didn't have a few more seconds."

Lombardi said the Packers' power runners were hampered by the hawled turf. "The field was very difficult to run on," he said.

"The Eagles just played a helluva game, that's all," said defensive end Bill Quinlan. "We made the big mistake. What mistake? Letting them score more points."

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia shattered Italy's fond dream today and won the Davis Cup when Neale Fraser and Rod Laver whipped Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola in the Challenge Round doubles, 10-8, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

The victory sent the Aussies into a 3-0 lead and means Wednesday's final two singles matches will be meaningless.

This marked the fifth time in 10 years that Australia has won the cup. The Aussies have been involved in every Challenge Round since 1938 and have run up 10 victories.

In fact, this year was the first time since '38 that Australia and the United States haven't slugged it out for the top prize in amateur tennis.

The Italians, after being down 2-0, rebounded to defeat the United States in the interzone final two weeks ago.

This time, though, there was a miracle in the cards. They dropped the first two singles matches to Fraser and Rod Laver Monday. Still, they thought they would at least put off the decision until the final two singles. Pietrangeli and Sirola, after all, had beaten Fraser and Emerson in a local tournament last month.

But Fraser and Emerson, playing steady if not spectacular tennis, grabbed the upper hand at the start and appeared to get the stronger and more accurate as the match progressed.

Pietrangeli and Sirola did have their opportunities and the crowd of 15,000 that sweltered through the 90-plus degree heat in White City Stadium gave them plenty of moral support.

The Italians—this marked the first time ever Italy made the Challenge Round—had a chance to win the first-set but couldn't quite pull it off.

All-County II to Be Feted

The 13 members of the 1960 Pontiac Press All-County County football team and Fernand's Ted Meister, County Coach-of-the-Year, will be honored by The Press Wednesday afternoon at a luncheon in the Elks Temple at 4 o'clock.

Previous winners of the shoe were John Walker of Walpole Lake, Lou Pavlid of Hazel Park, John Lucard of West Bloomfield and Charles Brown of Pontiac Central.

Meister, retiring as Fernand's head football coach after guiding the Eagles to their 2nd straight EMI title, will receive the Coach-of-the-Year trophy and an award will be presented to each member of the honor squad.

Besides Brown, the other honored players include John Van Sicken of Walpole Lake, Dick McCauley and Braden Pritchett of PCH, Mike Fournier and Jim Gatti of Southfield, Frank Smotherman of Hazel Park, Steve Jacobson and Bill Kling of Birmingham, Seeborn, Bill Damsel of Ferndale, Jack Newton of West Bloomfield, Bill Jones of Bloomfield Hills, and Clay Ovesen of Rochester.

Duke flew into San Antonio Monday and got down to business in a hurry. Coach Bill Murray was pleased with the condition and attitude of the players and liked the work.

Aligass slipped into Houston and drilled for three hours with Coach Frank Broyles complaining that his players were not in as good shape as he expected.

Small College Gridders Again Lose to Majors

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—As was expected, passing played a key role in Monday's third annual All-American Bowl, with the major school team tripping the small school players 25-12.

But the small school offense, directed by Paul Terrell of Bucknell, gave the crowd of 10,000 plenty of thrills before the major players cut their third straight victory.

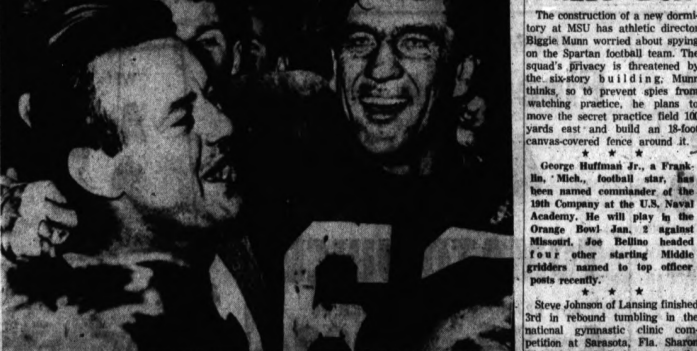

Terrell matched his rival, Dick Norman of Stanford, completing 19 of 33 passes for 191 yards. However, he had four passes intercepted, with Warren Livingston of Arizona returning one 30 yards for a major school touchdown.

Cotton Bowl Foes Practice in Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—The Cotton Bowl teams were both in Texas today with contrasting views coming from the coaches.

Duke flew into San Antonio Monday and got down to business in a hurry. Coach Bill Murray was pleased with the condition and attitude of the players and liked the work.

Aligass slipped into Houston and drilled for three hours with Coach Frank Broyles complaining that his players were not in as good shape as he expected.

SAD CHAMPIONSHIP — Norm Van Brocklin, left, quarterbacked the Eagles to their title triumph, alternately laughs and cries in the dressing room after the game. With him is Chuck Bednarik. Van Brocklin said he planned to retire.

Vikings Starts NFL Player Draft Today

Detroit Meets Yale, Colorado State vs. Xavier

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Football League dips into the 1960 college player grabbag today with the new Minnesota Vikings picking first and Baltimore, San Francisco and Cleveland each getting two first round choices.

The 14 clubs will pick a total of 280 players in 20 rounds and then hurry out to compete with the American Football League in a players' market. The AFL drafted its first round choices this month. Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL at that time appealed to colleges to wait for the NFL draft before signing any contracts.

The teams draft in reverse order of their 1960 final standings, going from last to first. This is decided by the toss of a coin with the winner picking first and alternating through succeeding rounds.

Baltimore gets New York's first right to complete a 2-year-old deal that sent quarterback George Shaw to the Giants. San Francisco and San Francisco, New York, Green Bay, Cleveland and Philadelphia, Green Bay selects ahead of Cleveland because the Browns' 8-3 record was better than the Packers' 10-4.

All college players whose original class has graduated — or will this year — are eligible for the draft. A player's college affiliation is according to registration record. Thus, a player who registered at a college but dropped out would be listed from that college.

General manager Bert Rose of the Vikings makes the first choice after Rozelle gavel the draft meeting to order at approximately 10 a.m. (EST).

Wings Hope to Start Comeback Tomorrow

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings hope to hit the comeback track in tomorrow night when they face off against the New York Rangers in Madison Square Garden.

Santa Claus — in the uniform of Chicago Black Hawk goalie Glenn Hall — didn't give the Wings any presents over the Christmas holidays.

Hall and the Hawks banded the Wings their first shutout in more than a year as they posted a 5-0 jubilee victory on the Olympia ice.

It was the Wings fifth straight loss on the home ice and their first shut out since Nov. 25, 1959 when they were blanked by Montreal.

After tomorrow's contest, the Wings entrain north to face the Canadiens Thursday at Montreal.

STRAIGHT-IN SLIDE By Morris Oppenheim Have you ever noticed how awkward you feel and how poorly you roll when you finish the slide to the foul line with the left foot toed in?

It would not be so bad if only the first foot was affected, but this poor technique, twisting the shoulders and hips around so that they are no longer parallel with the foul line, is ruining the ball against your body's natural leverage.

When I run into this difficulty, the first thing I do is to try to move my footwork down drastically. Slowing down reduces the size of my steps. I don't have to put the brakes on as I near the foul line. I check to see that I haven't unconsciously moved my starting spot on the approach closer to the foul line. Sliding straight at a right angle to the foul line, my follow through and control feel as above perfect.

Accuse Chicago Firm of Deceptive Tire Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Montgomery Ward & Co. Inc., Chicago, Friday was accused by the Federal Trade Commission of sponsoring deceptive advertising for its auto tires.

The FTC said that in newspaper advertising for tires "value" Ward cited list prices substantially higher than its customary retail prices. The complaint said purchasers did not buy the difference between these purported regular amounts and the advertised sales prices as represented.

Brokerage House Quite Optimistic

NEW YORK (UPI) — Goodbody & Co. repeats what it has been saying for some weeks: The stock market outlook for 1961 is encouraging.

The next few days, it says, are likely to involve pressure from last-minute tax selling, but the evidence still favors a further rally which may carry into the new year.

"For speculative flavor," according to Investors Research Co., "the motion picture group offers a representative list of wide capital gain candidates from which to choose when a buying juncture presents itself in the immediate months ahead."

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $2000—Chaired rafters open to the sky and pews damaged by intense heat and water bear mute evidence of the fire which yesterday swept through St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Romeo. Firemen from Romeo and Washington battled the blaze in near zero temperatures before bringing it under control. Damage was estimated at about $2000. A similar fire gutted All Saints Episcopal Church, Pontiac, almost 12 years ago to the day, on Dec. 28, 1948. (Story and additional picture on page 24.)

Missouri Engineer Heads Federal Highway Post

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Rex M. Whitton, chief engineer of Missouri's highway department, took his appointment as federal highway administrator under President-Elect John F. Kennedy in stride today.

Whitton said he received a telephone call from Kennedy's headquarters in Palm Beach, Fla., only about an hour before the appointment was announced Tuesday.

The 49-year-old road specialist, who has headed Missouri's highway department since 1951, passed several sentences on the street a few minutes later. He waved a cherry "Hello" and headed toward the state capital building.

Later, Whitton confided he was enroute to Missouri's Gov. James T. Blair Jr., to "tell him the news."

A native of Jackson County, Missouri, Whitton received his engineering degree from the University of Missouri on April 22, 1920. Eight days later he went to work for the state highway department as an "instrument man on a survey party."

He met his wife, Cullie Maud, while working as a "slab inspector" near Blue Springs, Mo., and they were married April 19, 1925. Whitton had some difficulty remembering the date Tuesday, and gave at least three dates before he finally settled on the April 19 anniversary.

The couple has one son, Rex Whitton Jr., who is with the traffic department of southwestern Bell Telephone Co., in St. Louis. They have three grandchildren.

department and served for awhile as division chief in the Kansas City area. For 15 years, he was maintenance engineer at the department's headquarters here.

Since he has been chief engineer, the state road system in Missouri has grown approximately 12,000 miles, Whitton reported.

Whitton is accustomed to honors. He was president of the American Association of State Highway Officials in 1956 when Congress voted appropriations for a vast interstate road system.

Negro Tent City May Get Bigger

Controversial Haven for Sharecroppers Is Mere Propaganda—Whites

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A line of tents to house evicted sharecroppers, defended by Negroes as an emergency measure and denounced by white residents as propaganda, was expected to grow today.

Negro leaders said the tent city, now housing eight families, was set up to keep a roof over sharecroppers who lost their leases because they registered to vote. More families were scheduled to move in today.

White farmers said the leases were terminated because mechanization replaced the sharecroppers. They said the Negroes were given plenty of advance notice.

The 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati will hear a government plea Thursday to stop eviction of 700 sharecroppers from Fayette and adjacent Haywood County farms.

REPEALS ALIA

Last week, U. S. Dist. Judge Marion S. Boyd of Memphis refused the plea on grounds—that the 1957 Civil Rights Act does not empower him to rule on contracts and property rights. Most sharecroppers work on yearly contracts with landowners.

The Justice Department Civil Rights Division claims the evictions resulted from Negroes registering and voting in the first time in the counties for the first time.

Justice Department suits are pending in U. S. District Court at

Bacon Burgers Will Tempt Appetite

Try these juicy bacon burgers for an easy Saturday night supper if the family is getting a bit bored with the usual hamburgers. Strips of bacon wrapped around each patty keep the beef moist and provide provocative flavor.

Mix together 1 1/2 pounds ground beef, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/4 cup soft bread crumbs and 1 slightly beaten egg. Form into 8 large patties. Cross strips of bacon and wrap around each patty. Set patties on a rack in roasting pan. Bake at 325 degrees 45 to 60 minutes.

Serve this sauce over each patty: Combine 1/2 cup chili sauce, 1 1/2 teaspoons horseradish, and 1 tablespoon parsley. Heat.

Bananas Keep It Moist

Here's the way to keep a short-cut cake fresh. Add a banana to a cake mix and you're sure of a cake that stays fresh and moist. When the mix calls for 1 cup liquid plus eggs, use instead 1/2 cup water, 1 cup mashed ripe bananas and eggs as directed. For best results, use fully ripe bananas—yellow peel flecked with brown.

Spicy Meat Patties Typical of India

CALCUTTA MEAT PATTIES

1 pound ground beef
1 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon ground coriander
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon water

Mix beef thoroughly with butter, milk and seasonings; shape into small patties, using 2 tablespoons of meat mixture for each. Brown rapidly on all sides in hot butter in heavy skillet—8 or 10 inches—continue cooking over low heat if necessary just until center of patties are no longer pink (test minutes — time enough for the one by breaking open with a fork). oysters to plump up and their edges to curl. Oyster Spinach Soup a Gourmet's Treat

A cream soup is likely to be prepared in different ways in different countries. Frenchmen enjoy it as a rich, velvety-smooth dish of delicate flavor. While seafaring New Englanders savor a hearty creamed chowder or stew that's brimming with succulent vegetables and chunks of salty seafood. If the latter is your bowl of soup, you're sure to like Soup Exotic, a variation of oyster stew with spinach and garlic seasoning added. Either canned, fresh or frozen oysters are simmered in milk for five minutes — time enough for the one by breaking open with a fork). oysters to plump up and their edges to curl. Fresh oysters should be shocked and cleaned in the usual manner, while quick-frozen oysters should not be thawed until ready to use.

Chopped spinach is next added along with half and half that thickens as it enriches. Then comes a sprinkling of garlic salt and a dash of monosodium glutamate to pick up the mildly flavored oysters.

This fine soup deserves a garnish with elegance. And whipped cream is just the topping to spoon over each serving. To vary its usual creamy color, brown the whipped cream over so slightly by slipping the soup bowls under the broiler. Then for color contrast, flit with a touch of paprika. Soup Exotic is now ready for the most discriminating gourmet.

You can serve small cups of soup as appetizer, or fill large crockery bowls with soup and serve as a meal in a bowl along with tossed greens and well-buttered crusty French bread.

Soup Exotic

1 package frozen chopped spinach
1/2 cup finely chopped, oysters, canned, fresh or frozen
2 cups milk
1/2 cup half and half
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 teaspoon butter
1 cup whipping cream
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cook spinach according to package directions; drain well. Simmer oysters in milk about 5 minutes.

Add half and half, salt, monosodium glutamate, garlic salt, butter, spinach and heat to-simmering point. Whip cream and salt until stiff.

Pour soup into bowls, top each with whipped cream and a sprinkling of paprika and place under broiler to brown cream slightly. Serve immediately. Makes 4-6 servings.

New Taste for Sweets

Toasted almonds and tangy orange juice give real appetite appeal to this sweet potato casserole. Mashed cooked or canned sweet potatoes with orange juice, butter and seasonings to taste. Add sliced almonds; turn into greased baking dish. Cover with miniature marshmallows and bake until golden brown.

Add Coconut Meringue to Creamy Soft Custard

Did you ever try adding coconut with a metal spoon? It's done the minute the spoon is coated with the custard.

Custard with Coconut Meringue: 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk, 1/2 cup hot water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs and 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla, stirred.

Combine sweetened condensed milk, water and salt in top of double boiler. Gradually stir in eggs. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture gels, about 30 minutes. Remove from heat at once. Cool quickly in pan of cold water. Add vanilla. Pour into small casserole.

To make meringue, add cream of tartar and salt to egg whites. Beat until almost stiff enough to hold a peak. Gradually add sugar; beat until stiff but not dry. Fold in vanilla extract and coconut. Spread over custard in small casserole and brown for five minutes in hot oven (425 degrees). Chill before serving.

When you finish cooking a batch of french fried potatoes put them in a clean paper bag to absorb any extra fat. If the bag is set in a warm oven it will keep them hot until ready to serve.

AMC Slowing Milwaukee and Kenosha Output

MILWAUKEE — American Motors Corp. announced Tuesday that it will eliminate third shift operations at its Milwaukee plant and reduce third shift work at the Kenosha main plant starting Jan. 3.

The move will lay off 1,585 workers at Milwaukee and 550 at Kenosha and cut production about 1,000 cars a day, from 2,130 to 1,960.

At Detroit, American Motors reported Tuesday that Ramblers' retail sales in the second 10 days of December totaled 9,838, highest of any comparable period in company history.

Last year retail sales totaled 707 for the same period.

The company reported retail sales of 420,302 for Jan. 1 to Dec. 20. A 17.4 per cent increase over

The expansion program, announced last August, aimed at maintaining volume on regular schedules.

Despite the layoffs, total employment will "continue at levels substantially higher than a year ago," Chapman said. The January figure will be about 25,300 compared with 23,600 a year ago.
