Witness Denies Union Ordered House Bombing

Munley Tells Senators He Blasted Structure Mainly 'On a Dare'

WASHINGTON (AP) —Senate rackets probers today ordered contempt of Congress charges against Robert Hubshman, Scranton, Pa., Teamster Union member, who refused to tell them even whether he is "a decent citizen." Hubshman invoked the Fifth Amendment.

WASHINGTON (AP)—William Munley swore today he dynamited a nonunion house project at Scranton, Pa., in 1954 "more or less on a dare" and without any orders from union leaders.

Munley testified to the Senate rackets investigating committee that Paul Bradshaw, then a steward in the Teamsters Union, asked him to do the dynamiting but that he never talked about it with higher men in the union.

Bradshaw has been the chief witness in the committee's current hearings centered on alleged use of terrorism and violence to promote union organization in the Scranton area.

Bradshaw has been convicted of felonious possession of dynamite but insists he is "taking the rap" for others.

Before Munley took the witness chair, the senators had an entertaining hour with Helen Canfield, brunette 27-year-old divorcee and friend of Bradshaw.

CALLED HOAX

She related that the district attorney at Scranton called it a "gigantic hoax" when she and Bradshaw turned over to him secretly made recordings of conversations among union officials which she contended would clear Bradshaw.

Miss Canfield said she and Bradshaw had a copy of the recordings made before they took them to the district attorney.

She thought the copy was a good idea "so that if the district attorney could have possibly been taken care of, which I didn't want to believe, we'd have a copy."

Miss Canfield said after she and Bradshaw made the recordings they were questioned by Dist. Atty. Carlon O'Malley and she was arrested and arraigned on a charge of obstructing justice, a charge she said on which she never has been put on trial.

She said Bradshaw was arraigned on a perjury charge.

Miss Canfield is a member of the Teamsters Union. She is an egg candler in a chain store warehouse in Scranton.

AFL-CIO Leaders Rebuff Teamster Move for Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union moves to delay or talk their way out of a showdown on AFL-CIO corruption charges seemed likely today to run into a solid rebuff from the federation.

Sources in the parent federation said trial procedures already set for Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, and the huge trucking union itself are fair and "leave no room for negotiation."

AFL-CIO President George Meany was out of the city and not immediately available for comment.

The embattled Teamsters' Executive Board, meeting in Galveston, Tex., yesterday, asked the AFL-CIO for negotiations as to charges against Beck and a bill of particulars as to charges that the union itself is under corrupt domination.

The board, contending the charges were not specific, said it would attend no hearings until "fundamentals of fair adjudication" are assured.

The AFL-CIO charges are based on Beck's invoking the Fifth Amendment in refusing to tell Senate rackets investigators about his admitted personal use of union funds, and court indictments against other high officers of the union.

The federation's Ethical Practices Committee has set May 6 for a hearing for the union. The AFL-CIO Executive Council has set May 20 to hear the case against Beck, who already has been suspended as an AFL-CIO vice president and council member.

Boiled down, the attitude of President Meany and other chiefs of the big labor combine seems to be this: Either the

Van Doren Faces New Quiz Show—for Good

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands (INS) — Tall, shy Charles Van Doren, 31-year-old mental genius who won $129,00 in a record 14-week stand on TV's "Twenty-one" quiz, was reported to have been married in St. Thomas today to his New York sweetheart, Geraldine Ann Bernstein.

Details of the wedding were not immediately available.

Miss Bernstein, whom Van Dore had introduced to New York friends in recent months as his "girl friend," was described as a slender, dark-hared attractive girl of 23. Since the young English instructor's sudden rise to fame, Miss Bernstein was known to have been helping him secretarially.

Van Doren and Miss Bernstein came to the Virgin Islands during his Easter leave from Columbia University, where he earns a teacher's pay of $4,500 a year.

Postal Service in City Returns to Normal Pace

Order Follows Quick Action by Congress in Allotting Funds

Postal service returned to near normal conditions in Pontiac today as Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield lifted most of the cutbacks he had ordered last week.

His order restoring service came swiftly last night on the heels of an emergency appropriation of $41 million to operate the Post Office until July 1.

President Eisenhower quickly signed the measure which cleared the House and Senate yesterday afternoon without debate.

The only restriction remaining in effect in Pontiac will be the 8½ hours of window service per day. The new hours of 8:30 to 5 p.m. were labeled a "good idea anyway" by Pontiac's acting postmaster, Leslie H. Dean.

Dean said that few businesses open before 8:30 a.m. and so will not be inconvenienced. The old hours were 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

NO EFFECT

The only other restriction retained by Summerfield does not affect Pontiac. This limits business area mail deliveries to two a day which has been the procedure in Pontiac all along.

Summerfield said today that the $41 million was less than the amount he had requested so it is necessary to continue the shorter window hours. He originally asked $47 million.

In Pontiac, Dean said postal service is almost normal, although the heavy Easter mail always slows delivery slightly this time of year.

THIRD CLASS MAIL

"Our only real problem is the backlog of third class mail, or junk mail as some call it, and we think we will catch up with that this week," he said.

Summerfield's order restored the following services:

Regular pickup and delivery of mail of Saturdays, lifting of the ban on third class mail and resumption of the sale of postal money orders.

The appropriation bill was cleared by the Senate Appropriations Committee in 10 minutes in a closed-door session. The Senate passed it within 30 minutes of committee action and returned to the House where minor changes made by the Senate were speedily adopted.

Scott to Fight Extradition, Denies He Killed Wife

DETROIT (AP) — L. Ewing Scott, retired Los Angeles investment broker sought for 11 months by police in two countries, said today he will fight every effort to return him to California to face charges of murdering his wealthy socialite wife.

The distinguished-looking 60-year-old Californian said that charges he killed his wife were "asinine."

"That's just plain ridiculous and stupid," he said.

Scott was nabbed Monday night in a routine customs check at the Canadian border when he tried to drive an unlicensed car into Canada.

He insisted at first that he was Lewis E. Stewart, a retired businessman, but admitted afterward to U.S. immigration officials that he was the man sought by California police. Canadian authorities had been asked to watch for Scott on the belief he had fled the United States.

SCOTT ARRAIGNED

Scott was arraigned on a fugitive warrant yesterday in Detroit Federal District Court. Judge Thomas P. Thornton ordered Scott held pending a hearing May 7 on removal to California.

California authorities said the state was acting as quickly as possible to extradite Scott.

Scott's 63-year-old wife, the five-times married Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott, disappeared from her fashionable Bel Air home in Los Angeles May 16, 1955. Police later found her false teeth and glasses in the backyard of the Scott home. Scott denied any knowledge of her disappearance.

Scott jumped $25,000 bail and vanished in May 1956 after he was indicted by a grand jury on charges of mishandling his wife's $600,000 estate. Five months after his disappearance the county grand jury at Los Angeles indicted him on a charge of murder.

Scott was tripped up by a Canadian customs inspector as he tried to enter Canada through the Detroit-Windsor tunnel on a drive to Buffalo, N.Y. Scott gave his name as "Lewis Stewart" and a customs inspector recalled that was the name listed for Scott in a "wanted" circular.

STUCK TO NAME

Questioned by Windsor police during the night Scott insisted that his name was Stewart. He refused to be fingerprinted. Finally he agreed to return to Detroit where he was turned over to U.S. immigration officials.

At the American end of the tunnel, Scott admitted his true identity.

"I'm Leonard Ewing Scott," he said quickly. "I'm the man on the flyer."

FBI agents who searched Scott said they found $10,000 in 100 and 20-dollar bills in a money belt he was wearing.

Scott refused to say where he had been the last 11 months. He admitted nothing about his wife's disappearance.

Asked if he thought his wife was still alive he replied: "I've got some theories on that subject and so have other people."

Hartrick Sets Date in Courthouse Suit

A suit tying up construction of a new Oakland County courthouse was speeded today as presiding Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick ordered an early hearing and called for an outside judge to hear the case.

Tentatively, May 14 has been set for trial, although attorneys for both sides saw the possibility of some remaining delays.

Judge Hartrick yesterday signed a petition to give the controversial suit precedence over other civil matters before the Circuit Court.

The petition was submitted by Pontiac attorney William H. Wilmot, representing the Oakland County Taxpayers' League, a group formed expressly to contest the county's building plans.

Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt, acting for the Board of Supervisors, supported the move and raised no objection.

"In the interest of strong public feeling over the case," Judge Hartrick said he requested the state circuit court administrator today for an outside jurist.

Decision in the case would directly affect the county's four circuit judges.

The League questions funds raised by the county to construct a new building to replace the present 1904 courthouse in downtown Pontiac.

Main charges are of budget padding to accumulate surpluses, illegal transfer of these surpluses to the building fund and violation of the annual .1 mill limitation on money borrowed or taxed for building purposes.

The League also questions the legality of building the $4.5 million building on a new site in the Telegraph road service center.

The suit, filed last November, tied up the county's plans to build the first $2.5-$3 million section on a pay-as-you-go basis.

In answer to the suit, the county denied the charges.

Both sides have studied county financial records for the past decade. Some figures still are not entered in the litigation, but Merritt believed these can be obtained soon.

Wilmot today said there appeared "no necessity for filing further pleadings before trial," but both sides reserved the right to enter new arguments.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 47. The thermometer registered 54 at 2 p.m.

Fire Fighters Vie With Blazing Oak on Home Ground

Waterford Township fire-fighters tangled with their enemy in close quarters yesterday, when a blazing 50-foot oak they were trying to extinguish toppled over on their truck.

Traffic on Sashabaw Road was re-routed for two hours, as Oakland County Road Commission employees hacked and sawed to free the engine from Station No. 3.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $150. No one was injured, and the cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Motorists Face Boost in Rates Up to 65 Pct.

Increase in Accidents, Cost of Repairs Make Raise Necessary

Auto insurance rates for Michigan motorists were increased as much as 65 per cent today with unmarried men under 25 bearing the brunt of the boost.

The increases were asked by Michigan members of two national rating bureaus, the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Assn.

The two bureaus take in about 250 companies writing auto insurance in Michigan costing about 47 million dollars annually.

Carleton C. Patterson Jr. president of the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agencies, said about 95 per cent of local agencies would be included in this group.

Joseph A. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, said the increases were necessary because the rising number of accidents especially for male-under-25 class, and soaring cost of repairs.

"These increases are absolutely necessary," Patterson agreed. "All of our costs are going much higher. Look at the amount of glass in the new automobiles that must be replaced in case of accident."

He said that aside from the large increases for the unmarried men under 25, other cost increases are "very minor."

In the large increase classification, the boost in annual liability rates would range between $25 and $53.

The largest increase percentagewise would be for a single young man in Flint seeking liability insurance. The present cost of $81 will be raised to $134, an increase of $53, or about 65 per cent.

In Pontiac, Patterson said, in the same classification, rates would jump from $76 to $116.

Detroit rates would go up from

'Mount of Temptation' Overlooks 2 Nations

EDITOR'S NOTE: On a solitary mountaintop in what once was Palestine, a lone guard sits day and night gazing down on Jordan and Israel. According to tradition, the spot he guards was the scene of the showdown between Christ and Satan which came at the end of Christ's 40-day fast. Here is a report on a modern visit to the site of that famous Biblical drama.

By WILTON WYNN

MOUNT OF TEMPTATION, Jordan (AP) — When Christ was shown "all the kingdoms of the world" by Satan, He was — according to local belief — standing on this mountain peak which rises 2,000 feet out of the Jordan River valley.

The peak is called the "Mount of Temptation" by those who live here. From its summit you can't see all the world, but the mountain offers a glimpse of two independent countries, Jordan and Israel, and enough of a view to be tempting.

FASTED IN CAVE

It is generally agreed that the temptation of Christ by Satan occurred immediately after His baptism, when He was "led by the spirit into the wilderness" for a fast of 40 days. Local traditions say He spent this time in a limestone cave on the side of the Mount of Temptation.

The mountain stands at the edge of a mountain range not far from the site of the sacred baptism in the Jordan River.

The mountain overlooks Jericho but is so barren and uninviting that a person seeking solitude will find this an ideal place for meditation even today.

A road from Jericho halts at the foot of the Mount of Temptation. The climb to the top is made on foot. A rocky footpath zigzags up the side of the conical-shaped peak.

Halfway up, built into the rock, hangs a Greek Orthodox Monastery. The monastery almost blends with its rock foundations except for the blue-domed bell towers that stand out from the cliff.

Visitors are welcomed here by five monks who spend their lives working and praying. These monks live off the produce of their own farm down in the Jordan Valley.

The rock of the mountain forms one wall and most of the ceiling of the long, narrow monastery.

Underneath a dome at one end of the building is a chapel and

Present Board to Govern Police

City Commission Rules No Change in Group Until Vacancy Occurs

It looks as though the present civil service commission for city firemen will also govern policemen at least until commissioners' terms expire.

There were indications last night at the city commission meeting that no change in the makeup of the three-man board would occur until a vacancy exists. This might be next month when the term of city-appointee Gerald Guinan expires May 10.

James Carr, secretary of the Police Officers Assn., told the City Commission that the association, which led the fight for civil service for its members, would go along with the present board.

"But our attorney," he added, "has given an opinion that an election should be held to reconstitute the board."

The present status of the board to serve both police and firemen was reaffirmed for the second week by commissioners, after hearing a recommendation from City Attorney William A. Ewart.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was not present to continue his fight for a separate police civil service panel.

Commissioner Philip E. Rowson withdrew a resolution which confirmed that the board shall serve police until commissioners' (civil service) terms shall expire. "I just don't see the logic in it," fellow commissioner Floyd P. Miles argued.

The term of Theodore Carlson expires in 1961 and that of Stuart Austin in 1959.

U.S. Still Seeks Suez Solution

Eisenhower Says Issue of Canal May Yet Be Settled Outside U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States still has some hope of solving the Suez Canal problem without resort to the U.N. Security Council.

The President told a news conference it is not necessarily so that this country already has decided to put the disagreement with Egypt before the council.

Eisenhower said further that he believes some progress has been made in U. S. negotiations with Egypt. He said he was not denying that in the long run the controversy might have to go to the U. N., but repeated that he is not abandoning hope.

On a related matter, Eisenhower said the United States still regards both the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal as international waterways available to ships of all countries.

The President touched off a big round of laughter at the very start of today's conference with his reply to a question dealing with his brother Edgar's criticism of certain administration policies.

Edgar, 22 months older than the 66-year-old President, specifically criticized the $71,800,000,000 budget and the Eisenhower program for federal aid to education.

Grinning broadly, the President replied that Edgar has been criticizing him since he was 5 years old.

Eisenhower let it go at that, amid peals of laughter.

Crescent Drive Sidewalk Halted Temporarily

Several residents of Crescent drive had city officials confused last night whether to go ahead with public improvements there or not.

It was during a hearing to finance a sidewalk for the east side drive that residents' comments ranged from "I don't think it's necessary yet," "it's a private street," to "we're going to pay for too much this year."

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn called for a meeting of residents to answer their questions. In the meantime, work in the area will be temporarily halted.

Wrenn stressed that the work on Crescent was necessary as it would eventually be widened as a primary arterial.

Monroe Chief Asset of Business

Marilyn Removes Greene From Corporation Office

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe turned businesswoman yesterday. The curvaceous actress accomplished her goal — ouster of a feuding vice president from the board of her corporation.

The corporation? It's called Marilyn Monroe Productions Inc. Marilyn, by her own admission, is the corporation's chief asset and "only source of income."

It was formed some two years ago by Marilyn and a photographer, Milton Greene, when the actress left 20th Century-Fox. Marilyn, with 50.4 per cent interest, was president. Greene became a vice president and the only other stockholder. He held the remaining interest, 49.6 per cent.

Both were members of the board, along with two others.

Greene and Miss Monroe began feuding recently, and Greene announced he was hiring legal counsel to represent him in a disagreement with her over terms of their contract.

Marilyn countered by accusing Greene of mismanagement of the corporation. Then she called for a board election.

It took place yesterday. Marilyn with the voting power on her side, offered a slate of four candidates, including herself. Greene, hopelessly outvoted, didn't even bother to offer a slate.

It meant the election of Marilyn to the board along with her attorney, Robert H. Montgomery, and two business friends of hers, George Levine and George Kupchik.

Ousted from the board, besides Greene, were Irving Stern and Joseph Carr, described by Marilyn as "Greene's men."

The feud developed between Greene and Miss Monroe when he charged that she did not want to go ahead "with the program we planned." Miss Monroe retorted that Greene had made "secret commitments."

Bill Would Bring Revenue to County

State legislative action is expected within a week on a bill that could mean $3,500-a-year in revenues for Oakland County, Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, of Waterford Township, said today.

Anderson referred to his bill raising rates charged non-profit corporations filing annual reports with county clerks.

The present fee is $2 a report. The county clerk sends the $2 to the state.

Anderson's proposal, under study by committee, calls for a $4 fee, with $3 going to the state and $1 staying in the county.

Pointing out the county should net a profit for its work in handling reports of the 3,000-3,500 nonprofit Oakland County corporations, Anderson looked for the bill to be reported favorably out of committee, possibly as early as tomorrow.

Russell Gore Worked for 2 Detroit Papers During Career

Former newspaper editor Russell Gore, 75, of 1235 Yorkshire died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac after a brief illness.

Born in London, Ontario he came to Detroit as a boy and attended the old Central High School there. State Car Insurance Rates Increased

Patterson said the difference in changes by classification and geographical location is geared to loss experience in each case.

Collision insurance for the young male will increase about 50 per cent, depending on territory and type of car insured.

For the adult driver, the increase will range from $1 to $17, for liability insurance and from 15 to 20 per cent for collision insurance.

Ironically, collision rates on commercial vehicles are being reduced by six to nine per cent because their accident rate is dropping.

Navarre said another reason for the increase is the steadily worsening loss experience of the companies.

These were due in part, he said, to increasing repair costs, higher auto prices in making replacements, bigger court awards and higher hospital costs.

Investigate New Directory Listings

C. of C. Warns Merchants

Pontiac area merchants have been warned "to investigate before investing" in a directory listing business presently operating out of Detroit but formerly of Pontiac.

The warning was issued today by the Business Ethics Board of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Several merchants reported receiving invoices mailed out by the directory publishers. They appear to be billings for directory advertising previously ordered, but actually are solicitations for approval of future advertising at prices ranging from $22.50 to $65.00, the board said.

"The directory where these ads supposedly are to be placed has no established circulation or reputation," William L. Belaney, Chamber assistant manager said.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. officials said that the business often coincides with renewal advertising notices to subscribers of their company directory. There is no connection between the two, they stress.

The warning of the ethics board has received similar support from the Better Business Bureau of Detroit. The business has circulated widely there and in other Michigan cities, Belaney said.

He emphasized that although merchants "do not appear to be getting anything for their money," the business has not been ruled illegal.

Terrible things have been happening in Jerusalem and I wish that you could use your influence to get us transferred out of this place.

On Friday, the Nazarene teacher, Jesus, was condemned to death. During the trial I slipped into the courtroom and beckoned Pilate aside. I have been having terrifying dreams about this Jesus and have even been to a soothsayer to see if anything could be made of them, but the answers I got were the usual vague poppycock. I whispered to Pilate about my dreams and begged him not to have anything to do with the death of the man.

But, as he explained later, he had to conform with the law. He did, however, make the gesture of clearing himself personally and saying he found no fault in the man. And I am glad he did that much, although in my heart I feel it was not enough.

After sentence was passed, that horrid rabble took the Nazarene to the Praetorium. They pressed a crown of thorns on his head and mocked him as a king. They dressed him in a purple robe and spat on the man until their lust for cruelty could not contain itself any longer. Then a cross, made from the trunks of two dogwood trees, was brought and thrust on his shoulders.

It was too heavy for him to bear, and he stumbled as he walked along the route from the Fortress of Antonia, where the Praetorium is situated, to the hill of Calvary which my servants call "Golgotha" "The skull."

The guards ordered a man named Simon, a Cyrenean who was passing by, to take up Jesus' cross, and he bore it for him.

At the time of the crucifixion they offered him a drink of wine mixed with myrrh which, as you know, numbs the senses a bit. But he refused it. And they nailed him to the cross and mocked him as he hung there between two thieves who were dying for their crimes.

When Jesus cried out, "My God, My God, why has thou forsaken me," they offered him a drink again. But this time it was vinegar on a sponge. . . .

Drain Bill Gets Preliminary OK

Passage Would Ease Financing for County, Area Projects

Drain projects in Oakland and other fast growing counties would be given financial help by a drain code amendment favored yesterday in Lansing, State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge said today.

The Senate gave preliminary approval to a bill supported by Lodge that would give boards of supervisors in counties of more than 180,000 population the authority to pledge the full faith and credit of the county for sanitary drains.

The measure now goes to the Senate floor for passage, Lodge said.

"It would give Oakland—as well as Macomb, Kent and Genesee Counties—the same chance that Wayne County has had for several years to get lower interest rates on money borrowed for drains," Lodge explained.

General obligation bonds could be issued not only for county drains, he said, but also for projects between one or more counties.

AID INTER-COUNTY PROJECTS

This would benefit projected large, inter-county drains — seen by some experts as the best answer to Oakland's problems, Lodge added.

The bill further would enable the county to build drains on the combined basis of public health and property improvement necessity, a provision that Lodge said would help large projects.

In addition, he said, public corporations would be allowed to levy special assessments for special benefits from new and bigger drains.

Monastery Guards Mount of Temptation

the grotto where Christ is believed to have lived during His 40-day fast and where He was tempted the first time.

A small, stone-hewn altar between two tall brass candlesticks marks the exact spot where Satan taunted the famished Christ to turn stones into bread.

A heavy iron gate opens through a rock wall to allow passage out of the monastery and on up the mountain toward the summit, where Christ was tempted for the second time. The monastery guards the approach to the top, since it stands astride the only path to the summit.

Although the Mount of Temptation is shaped like an inverted cone, its peak flattens out as if nature had prepared a small platform for the Biblical drama between Christ and Satan.

The foundations of a modern Orthodox church are here among the debris of ruined medieval chapels. Work has stopped on the modern church because of shortage of funds.

CONTINUALLY GUARDED

In the solitude of this site a lone guard sits night and day.

From this summit can be seen the misty mountains across the Jordan River — the mountains of Moab to the north and Edom to the south. Directly beneath the mountain lies the Jordan plain, green with irrigated cultivation around Jericho and in a few isolated spots but otherwise desert.

The distant peaks of the hills of Galilee may be glimpsed in the northwest. Directly west the tips of the tallest church spires of Jerusalem may be seen.

It was from this summit that Satan whispered to Christ, "If Thou therefore shalt worship me, all shall be Thine." And it was here that Christ replied: "Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve."

Oppose Improving Costs for East Maple Avenue

BIRMINGHAM — Property owners along E. Maple avenue between Hunter boulevard and Adams road presented opposition Monday night to what they consider an unfair appropriation of costs on the proposed widening and repaving.

The city proposes to remove and replace the 31 foot strip and extend the right-of-way an additional 7.5 feet on either side.

Objection to their share of these costs were brought out by several owners. They said that since the widening would be more beneficial to the city-at-large, payment for the improvement should not come as a burden to abutting property owners.

They agreed with commissioners that the paving should be done however. A group will confer with city officials to discuss the possibility of reducing their 75 per cent share of the widening expense.

A hearing is scheduled for April 29 when further discussion of costs and spreading the assessment rule will be considered.

Bloomfield Township police are questioning four boys ages 14 to 16 years concerning a breaking and entering at the Smith Beverage Co. on Telegraph road over the weekend.

Police said larceny from three trucks totaled over $100. A radio stolen from one truck has been recovered and some of beer.

Metropolitan No. 9 Auxiliary will hold a bazaar and bake sale at the Kurth Real Estate Office Friday April 26 at 9 a.m., according to Mrs. Merlin Holmquist and Mrs. Robert Dunn, co-chairman.

Proceeds of the sale will go to the Pearickton Nursery for visually handicapped children. Mrs. Holmquist said this is the only school in the immediate vicinity which prepares the blind or visually handicapped child prior to regular school age to attain any degree of normal living. Speech therapy also is included among the school's services.

Mrs. Kurth emphasized that public gifts would be accepted by the auxiliary in addition to receipts of the sale. She said a feature of the Friday affair would be a hot coffee and donut bar.

Stockholders of Consumers Power Company in the Pontiac area will hear a report on the company's plans and prospects, including a discussion of its 1956 achievements, at a regional shareholders meeting Wednesday evening, April 24, in the Community House.

Group Stalls 5th Judge Bill

State Senate Committee to Give Precedence to Other Matters

A bill for a fifth Oakland County Circuit Judge was stalled yesterday in Senate committee, State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, of Drayton Plains said.

Lodge believed today that action by the Senate Judiciary Committee may be resumed in two weeks.

The committee decided yesterday to give pressing Senate bills precedence over legislation already passed by the House, Lodge explained.

Favorable action on Oakland's bill was complicated yesterday, Lodge said, by other House measures calling for new judges in Bay and Saginaw Counties.

NEW JUDGE

Oakland's bill, introduced by Lodge as a member of the committee, calls for a new judge to be elected in November, 1958. Saginaw County also is asking for an elected judge, but the Bay County bill calls for an appointment by the governor.

"Yesterday's committee discussion," Lodge said, "indicates there may have to be changes so that all three judges either are elected or appointed."

At issue, Lodge said, is the legislator's stand that it has the constitutional right to set elections for new judges, while Gov. Williams argues that it is his constitutional right to appoint them.

City Ordinance Fixes Parking Meter Limits

An ordinance provision prevents the conversion of downtown on-street parking meters to three hours, City Manager Walter K. Willman told the City Commission last night.

Commissioner John E. Carry last month asked whether the change could be made. He said he had heard complaints that moving these meters up to a 9 p.m. expiration was "somewhat restrictive" to some businesses.

Willman pointed out that the meters must remain at five cents for one hour limits because the ordinance under which the parking system bonds were sold, established the time limitation.

AFL-CIO Leaders Rebuff Teamsters

Teamsters rid themselves of Beck and other leaders whose actions have been criticized, or the union is going to be kicked out of the federation.

The Teamsters' board, acting unanimously, appeared to give Beck solid backing in his fight with the AFL-CIO. It said his "suspension was without authority and the filing of charges was contrary" to the AFL-CIO constitution. It said the findings against the union also were made without authority.

Pipeline Group Goes to San Francisco

A three man committee headed by Royal Oak Mayor Howard K. Kelley is leaving today for San Francisco to explore the possibilities of a giant Lake Huron water pipeline for southeastern Michigan.

Accompanying Kelley will be DeLos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and City Manager Harold K. Schone of Birmingham.

Kelley heads the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority and the water committee of the supervisors inter-county committee.

They will confer with officials of Bechdel International Engineering Co., pipeline contractors.

Kelley said the talks would cover the feasibility of such a pipeline from an economic standpoint to consumers. Such a pipeline would enable Royal Oak to seek water contracts with individual communities, he said.

Boiling Tar Burns Man From Clawson

Mathias J. Bacic, 47, of 209 Walper St., Clawson, was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday afternoon with second degree burns of the lower abdomen, arms and face, after a can of tar exploded.

Bacic was rushed to the hospital after a 5 gallon can containing a hot tar compound exploded, showering him with the boiling substance, a Detroit Edison spokesman said. Bacic was heating the tar for use on insulating devices at the Detroit Edison Nixon Sub-Station, 5050 Pontiac Lake Rd., in Waterford Township.

Sale of Liquor Results in Fines

Close Doors of 2 Bars, Two Beer Stores in Pontiac Area

Two bars and two package beer stores in the Pontiac area have been fined and had their licenses suspended by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Frank Felice, owner of "Frank's Market," 108 Cottage St., was found guilty of selling alcohol to minors Jan. 4. At a hearing March 19, he was fined $150 and his license was suspended for seven days.

At a March 5 hearing, John and Helene MacDonald, owners of the "Anchor Bar," 6756 Highland Rd., were fined $150 for selling to a minor last Nov. 24. The seven-day suspension was waived in view of their past operating record.

Also found guilty at the March 5 hearing were Frank and Irene Uryniak, 47327 Van Dyke Ave., Utica. They were fined $250 and suspended for 30 days on the charge of selling spirits on a Sunday and allowing a person to consume spirits on a licensed premise on a Sunday.

All fines are due, and suspensions will be effective on May 6, with exception of the ruling on William Janicki, owner of "Keg Kanteen," 70 Auburn Ave., whose hearing was held Feb. 11.

Janicki was fined $150 for selling to a minor, but the suspension was waived.

Lady Luck Deserts Unhappy Motorist

EUREKA, Calif. (UP)—Luck ran bad for John Casey.

He lost control of his car and was thrown out.

As the car tumbled down a steep, 65-foot embankment, Casey grabbed a bush, but could hold on only long enough to see it sink in the river.

Casey rolled down the bank into the river but managed to get ashore with only minor scratches and bruises.

As he climbed to the highway, he was met by a patrolman, who handed him a citation for speeding on a blind curve.

To avoid the annual haggle with farmers over prices, the British Government is expected to guarantee stabilized farm prices, perhaps for three years.

Federal Budget Called Too Large by Ike's Brother

WASHINGTON (UP)— Edgar Eisenhower, one of President Eisenhower's four brothers, says he can't understand why the administration's controversial $71,800,000,000 budget is so large.

A Tacoma, Wash., lawyer, he and his wife had an appointment with the President yesterday, but White House reporters did not get to see them. He was interviewed later by telephone at his hotel.

"I certainly feel the cost of government is getting way out of line," he said. "Everybody is asking for economy in government because it is taking a large portion of our income as it is, and I'm very conscious of that."

He denied a published report that he was "highly disturbed" over influence exerted on the President by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, younger brother of both and president of Johns Hopkins University.

He said he has been asked whether Milton has been influential in getting the President to back certain "liberal proposals," and added he does not know whether this is true.

Philadelphia Zoo Owns 3 Colombian Toads

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The Philadelphia Zoo is the proud possessor of three new toads—big fellows, eight inches long, from Colombia.

It seems toads are softies for infections, so the zoo has been treating their tank water with body building compounds. Keeper Ed Endy was dropping in the pills for the new arrivals the other day and overheard a lady tell her companion:

300 Students Fill Up Building Excavation

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—An estimated 300 Amherst students worked last night filling an excavation which had been dug for a building which the students said they do not want.

They worked by torchlights, singing and cheering as firecrackers exploded.

The building under protest is to be called Chapin Hall. Originally planned as a religious building, plans were changed later to permit more versatile use of the structure.

Student spokesmen said they deplore the proposed building's architecture, purpose and location.

Negro Publisher Declines Dinner

Dr. Powell of Harlem Permits Bid to Virginia Fete to Be Withdrawn

NEW YORK (AP)—A Negro newspaper publisher has reversed himself and declined a controversial invitation to attend a dinner next month in Richmond, Va., honoring "distinguished Virginians."

Dr. Cilan B. Powell, a native of Newport News, Va., and publisher of the Amsterdam News here in Harlem, declined the invitation yesterday in letters to Virginia Gov. Thomas B. Stanley and Frank Arthur Ernst, president of Virginia's State Chamber of Commerce.

Powell wrote that it was "definitely clear to all concerned" that the storm over the invitation arose "because of my race."

Powell's invitation had been termed a "mistake" by Chamber officials. It prompted Powell to declare at the time that he would attend unless Stanley personally withdrew the invitation.

But Stanley has referred all inquiries to the Chamber of Commerce.

Three Negroes born in Virginia were invited to the May 17 dinner marking the 350th anniversary of the Jamestown settlement. Powell and Mrs. Ella P. Stewart of Toledo, Ohio, have acceded to the withdrawal of the invitations.

But the third, St.Clair Drake, a professor at Roosevelt University in Chicago, has not yet indicated any change in his plans to attend.

A Chamber official said yesterday that any of the invited Negroes who do attend will be treated politely and seated.

Radar Tower Planned

MUSKEGON (AP) — The H & S Marine Construction Co. expected by today to erect a 60-foot steel tower for a U. S. Weather Bureau tornado-spotting radar screen at Muskegon airport. The tower will support a nine-foot radar dome. Weather station personnel said the equipment, on order for a year, is scheduled to be ready for operation by the end of the month.

Named to Be Assessor

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Clarence W. Thielman, 54, of Detroit, was appointed Tuesday as Grand Rapids city assessor. He succeeds Harold A. Linn, now head of the Kent County tax bureau, who came to Grand Rapids from a post as deputy assessor in Detroit. Thielman, a member of the Detroit assessor's staff, takes up his new duties May 13.

New Car Inventory Totals Show Sales Improvement

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The auto makers are finding considerable comfort in the latest new car inventory figures.

The count as of April 1 showed dealer stocks at 762,921 units, up less than 30,000 from the March 1 compilation. This was a much smaller increase than most car makers and numerous industry analysts expected. Some of the latter even had predicted the total would go above 800,000.

The most recent count is about 135,000 units below the figure for April 1 last year.

To industry analysts the better-than-hoped-for inventory picture reflects a sales improvement in March, especially by the various General Motors divisions. All these divisions appear to be coming out of something of a slump that affected GM sales volume early in the current model year.

The industry built 579,000 cars in March. Educated guesses put retail deliveries during the same month at approximately 533,000.

Definite figures are not being disclosed by the car makers who alone know them at this time and the official registration totals will not be tabulated for another four weeks or so.

But despite the manufacturers' secrecy about sales totals, figures that have been disclosed indicate an encouraging increase in overall sales is getting under way.

Most industry surveys disclose some soft spots in different sections, but reports from some larger marketing areas say retailers are encouraged by the progressive increase in new car demand during March. Contrasting sharply with the situation in the comparable 1956 period there are virtually no complaints of overproduction.

Ward's Automotive Reports, in a recent issue, said current indications are that the industry may bring out its 1958 model cars somewhat later than usual. This is a switch from the customary new model rumors at this time of the year. It usually is reported about this time that the model changeovers will be made earlier—for varying reasons—but they seldom are.

Congress Takes Heed of Electorate's Voice

The voice of the people is still omnipotent in the United States.

Congress listens.

It's the ultimate pay-off.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, a great Texas Democrat, seemed utterly indifferent to any reductions in the budget when the President first presented his demands for $71.8 billion. Either it wasn't worthy of the Texan's time and attention or he believed the President was substantially correct.

Well, things change.

This includes a Speaker of the House.

Now he feels that very definite reductions can be made in the budget. In fact, he seems to favor "huge slashes." It's the same budget and Speaker Rayburn is the same, but if we were asked to guess what has happened, we have a ready shot in the dark.

We think the Speaker has been hearing from the folks back home. We think the electorate that placed him in Congress has been sounding off just like the other taxpayers have been doing clear across the nation.

Texas taxpayers are the same general breed as the rest of the country. They've had enough. And they'd had too much of the sacred cows that are paraded around the District of Columbia. Expenditures have lost their gloss. Big appropriations have no glitter. The "hands off" signs have been tossed in the ash can.

Senator Rayburn is an astute individual. He knows his masters' voices and especially does he know them when they rise in unison and in unanimous chorus back home.

The people have their backs up.

Congress, beware.

The Ladies Are the Loyal Fans

A check on the 2,038 entries received on our baseball contest shows that the gals outnumber the males by a ratio of about two to one.

Since the fair sex has pulled down over 80 per cent of the $2,750 distributed in this contest during the past ten years, it would seem that they intend to keep up their winnings.

And don't let anybody tell you that ladies are stampeded by glamour rather than by base hits. Fellows, it just ain't so.

Their entries show a study of the statistics, rather than an influence of the good work of the camera man or the marital status of the player.

Neither do they allow a loyalty to the Tigers to influence them. Such sentiments as "I love Paw Paw, but love doesn't count when $250 is at stake," were expressed by many of them.

One states, "Last year I doted on Kaline, but he failed me, and he won't have a chance to do it again. This time I'm voting for Usher." Hers was the only vote Usher got.

On the whole, my weak brothers, the feminine members of our family are stealing the show from us when it comes to looking on the great national sport in a calm and collected manner. They can figure batting averages with the best of us—and remember them better.

They may be less vociferous in rooting for a player or a team, but their rooting often shows a better understanding of what's going on than that of the so called stronger sex.

Although, for their own peace of mind and that of us males, they usually pretend to agree with us wise guys, they're often thinking far ahead of us when it comes to the essence of what's going on.

In its hunt for a tree to be designated as a symbol of Oak-land County, this column is receiving entries in its that far exceed expectations. At this writing, 43 entries have been made on trees up to six feet in diameter.

Entries must be made in writing and mailed not later than Saturday of this week, April 20.

No prize is being offered for the winning tree, which will be selected by a committee of competent judges to be announced in this column.

Then an effort will be made to have that tree suitably designated and saved from the destruction that has befallen millions of sturdy oaks in whose honor our county was named. It will be a survivor of our primeval forests and, according to tree experts, is at least 400 years old.

Two for the Money

David Lawrence Says:

Voters at Fault for Postal Mess

WASHINGTON — Incalculable losses running into many millions of dollars were suffered by the American people because of the failure of the nation's post offices to provide over the last weekend the service normally given.

LAWRENCE

Business mail was delayed, and many deliveries which had to reach distributing centers on Mondays missed connections, thus causing financial losses that now must be borne by individual businesses. In certain types of business there is no way to make up the losses.

This is an example of irresponsible government. The blame belongs to those voters who last autumn gave the nation a Democratic Congress and deprived the President of the majority support needed to control the action of the committees in the legislative branch of the government.

The Democrats today are in control of both houses of Congress. They got ample warning last January that the Post Office Department was running short of funds due to the increased volume of mail. But the Democratic leadership didn't act in time, and a big bill now has to be paid by innocent bystanders.

USUAL OUTBURST

There is, of course, the usual outburst of political fury and a demand from the Democrats that Postmaster General Summerfield resign. But the record shows he isn't to blame. He warned Congress last January that his funds were running low.

Even though the director of the budget didn't come up with the needed request for more funds till March 15, still there was ample time for Congress to act before mail service had to be curtailed. At this point, it should be noted that the postmaster general is prohibited by law from spending money that hasn't been specifically appropriated by Congress.

So it all comes back to the simple fact that there is no harmony between the legislative and executive branches of the government. Those pious promises of cooperation made last fall by the Democrats have gone up in smoke—at least so far as they concern voting at the right time the funds needed for the proper support of the Post Office Department.

INCREASE RATES

Postal rates should, of course, be equitably increased all along the line but the need for reform in handling postal receipts is of even greater importance. It turns out, for instance, that all the money collected for the sale of postage stamps doesn't go into the Post Office Department to be used by it, but into the general treasury which is certainly an unbusinesslike procedure.

For the post office has to ask for appropriations for every dollar it spends. In any private business, the funds taken in can be used to pay expenses, but not in the Post Office Department.

The postmaster general was right in curtailing service because he didn't have the money to pay for it, and Congress was wrong in failing to heed his warnings and give him the necessary funds in time.

Now, however, with the emergency here, Congress is acting promptly, but the American people are asking why they had to be injured before the Democratic Congress took enough notice of the dilemma to do what ought to have been done several weeks ago.

In no other country in the world that boasts of a free government would a situation such as has just arisen be possible. Under a parliamentary system the executive and legislative branches together take full responsibility for the budget. Yet in America today there is no such direct responsibility, because the Congress is controlled by one party and the presidency by the opposing party.

LI'L ONES

"Get out of there and stop referring to me as Warden!"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Some Medical Authorities Experts in Contradiction

Medical literature is nowadays so padded with tired repetitions, contradictions and absurdities that the student who is not skeptical of authority may be badly misinformed.

DR. BRADY

For example, the author of a textbook of therapeutics stated, in the 10th edition, that alcohol never acts as a true stimulant to the brain, the spinal cord, or the nerves. On the contrary, its dominant influence is depressant.

And yet, the eminent medical authority (please excuse my grin) went on to say that the chief uses of alcohol are as a rapidly acting stimulant in heart failure, fainting, surgical shock, snake bite!

I asked the distinguished Professor of Therapeutics how he reconciled these teachings. I received a reply which seemed so typical of the mumbo-jumbo of modern medicine that I pasted it in the chapter on Alcohol in the textbook. It reads as follows:

"Dear Doctor Brady:

"I beg to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your courteous letter calling attention to the seemingly contradictory statements concerning the action of alcohol. The contradiction lies in the, as yet unexplained, difference between the study of this drug in the laboratory and its use at the bedside.

"If you will look in the eleventh edition on page 64 and 65 this apparent contradiction will, I think seem clear."

(This didn't appease me — the 10th edition was barely two years old at the time. The contradiction was clear enough in the 10th edition. I wouldn't give a nickel for the 11th edition.)

"It is quite conceivable that alcohol acts as a stimulant upon other functions of which, as yet, we know very little, as, for example, the ability of the body to resist infection. I am sorry that this divergence etc. etc. Very truly yours."

There was not then, and there is not now any scientific evidence to believe that alcohol aids the body in the way the professor imagined.

On the contrary, there is scientific evidence that alcohol impairs the body structure, decreases the processes of immunization, dimishes the power of the tissues to heal, increases susceptibility to infection, and increases the mortality rate from pneumonia.

People who like their liquor — and that's a lot of people — generally prefer to believe the stuff has medicinal value and that a good stiff "shot" of whiskey or brandy is good for whatever ails you; that wine is good for anemia, or "for the stomach's sake"; and that beer is — well, I don't know — I haven't been watching TV lately and there are no billboards in our neighborhood. Doctors who like theirs are people too.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Readers Send in Opinions on North-South Argument

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Let's be careful how we talk about hillbillies. There's a whole bunch of us'ns, you all know.

No, we did not come here to keep from starving. We are here because, one, this is a free country, and two, we want to teach others how to make an honest living for a change.

I don't like the North, but if the hillbillies didn't come up here and work, things would be in a jam because the shops would have to close down. Don't bite the hand that's feeding you.

Hillbilly

I was reared in the South, too. I thumbed my way to Michigan, the state of opportunity. I own my own home and married a perfect lady from the North. Many Southerners don't know what work is. The only way they hold a job is because they belong to the union. I was a hillbilly. I'm now a

Proud Michigander

All this business of arguing back and forth between Northerners and Southerners is just baby stuff. The North, like the South, should be a place of brotherhood in play and work as well as worship. Remember, the Civil War has been over a long time.

Teenager

Writers Disagree on Yield Signs

Living in a corner house and being in a position to observe traffic, I agree that yield signs are only a hazard. In the past year I've been riding with three different drivers who almost had an accident because of the signs. Last summer I was gardening and a man stopped to ask me what the sign meant. I've talked with the police about it, and there certainly should be stop signs. Some people don't know how to slow down.

And a word about taxes. Let's have less spending and pay for what we owe. No more raises, please.

B. Mann

631 Fourth St.

I'm in favor of yield signs. Why stop traffic at every block? I believe in keeping traffic moving. I certainly would not enjoy driving in a residential area if there was a stop sign at every intersection. Accidents where there's a yield sign are definitely not the fault of the sign. So let's all wise up and drive sensibly and lawfully. Let's make driving a pleasure instead of an unpleasant task.

'Why Didn't Press Publish Layoff?'

I would like to know why The Pontiac Press hasn't published the fact that Pontiac Motor Division recently laid off a large number of employes. Isn't it a fact that a newspaper's creed consists of not only publishing the truth but the whole truth?

Or is the editor so concerned about shoving peace and prosperity down our throats that he feels doomed to let his paper sink below that creed? Are you afraid to publish this?

Stephen Kives Jr.

(Editor's Note: In a city where 30,000 people are employed daily, there is a constant upward and downward change of a few hundred daily. We do not attempt to keep track of the relatively small changes. Any major trend, either upward or downward, is reported by The Pontiac Press.)

Hopes Are Low for Tiger Team

Goodbye, second place. Goodbye, third place. Goodbye, fourth place. Hello, second division, here we come. We're the Detroit Tigers back in the depths.

Why? Well, the Detroit Tiger brass in Briggs Stadium phoned the manager hundreds of miles away and ordered him not to use the center fielder he was trying out in an exhibition game. Baseball "front offices" have ruined lots better and lots stronger teams than the Tigers.

This new setup may not be all the fans were told it was. And we had such high hopes. Perhaps that 15th place in the Grapefruit League is now explained.

Sorrowful Sammy

All this pre-season enthusiasm about the Tigers should have cooled off. There are 16 major league clubs and the Tigers stand 15th in exhibition games. The Tiger bosses say they've "been experimenting." Baloney. The other 15 teams have, too. Must be the Tigers are badly overrated.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Guilt Feeling Causes 'Projection'

Diana's dilemma is very common. You faithful readers of this psychology column can probably guess the reason why Pat criticized her so unjustly. Adam started the process called "projection" and Eve soon picked it up, too. So scrapbook this Case Record. It will help you become a better psychological detective.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-357: Diana D., aged 19, is an office secretary.

"Dr. Crane, I am engaged to a boy named Pat," she began unhappily.

"His company sent him to New York for a month and I was very lonely while he was away. But I wrote him every day.

CRANE

"When he returned, however, something was wrong. For that first night we stopped at a drug store after a movie.

"The soda fountain clerk said 'hello' to me. We had been in high school together.

"As soon as we got outside, Pat began accusing me of running around with the soda fountain clerk.

"He said I must have been two-timing him while he was in New York the past month. He called me fickle and faithless and grew very angry.

"But, Dr. Crane, I told Pat I haven't had a date with anybody since he left town. So why should he make such violent and false charges against me?"

CATCH A THIEF

"It takes a thief to catch a thief," runs an old adage.

Which means it is often a guilty person who becomes suspicious of other folks and then accuses them of wrongdoing.

Even at the menopause, this same reaction occurs. For many a wife who has absorbed the erroneous notion that a woman's charm stops at 45, then will falsely charge her husband with having an affair with his stenographer.

Such a woman may not have had an affair herself, but she may have flirted with such a clandestine romance in her imagination. So her own guilt makes her suspicious of her mate.

In Pat's situation, do you think he really believed that Diana had dated other boys in his month's absence from the city?

Or do you believe he may have dated other girls while in New York and thus have felt guilty when he got back home to Diana?

GOSSIP MONGERS

"Dr. Crane, don't you think Pat might have his his mind poisoned by evil gossip about Diana?" a college coed suggested when I used this case recently as a classroom problem.

And that is possible. But the actual solution to Diana's dilemma is the fact that Pat had dated another girl while in New York.

And that had occurred in spite of the fact he had sworn to remain true to Diana. Indeed, Pat had made a big issue of their being true to each other while apart.

Yet he was the very one who broke their pact. So his conscience bothered him.

Diana's daily letters contained protestations of her affection and faith in him. So he felt he had deceived her.

And on their first date after his return, he vented the ire that should have been expended on himself. He simply demonstrates what we call the phenomenon of "projection."

"Passing the buck" is a slang term to describe the same thing. For people seldom will blame themselves, since this deflation of ego is intolerable.

ADAM'S INVENTION

Adam thus invented the art of passing the buck. When God asked him why he had eaten the forbidden fruit, Adam blamed his wife. He said she had given the fruit to him!

And Eve saw that Adam's invention was a neat way to sidestep responsibility so she blamed the serpent.

It used to be an old Army axiom that when the captain criticizes the lieutenant, the latter may bawl out the sergeant who then chews out the private, who finally kicks the mule.

Husbands today can concoct the weirdest excuses for blaming their wives for everything. I do it myself!

But when people grow excessively jealous and make unreasonable charges against obviously innocent folks, analyze them carefully to see if they aren't guilty of the very behavior they are condemning.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Lush Paradise for Millionaires Booms in Midst of Its Annual Stag Party

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

ATHENS, Tex. (AP)—Koon Kreek Klub, lush, green hunting and fishing paradise for Texas' big rich, boomed and reverberated today in the midst of its annual stag party.

Fishermen lined the banks of Koon Kreek's four fishing lakes and hunters tramped the swampy woodlands that make up two-thirds of the fabulous 7,500-acre playground for millionaires.

Old Wheeler-dealer Clint Murchison, reputedly worth some 300 million dollars, but not the club's richest member, was one of four hosts. The club started the week by inducting into membership bachelor Sid Richardson of Fort Worth, said to be the nation's richest man with 700 million dollars of collateral.

"Nearly everybody thought old Sid already was a member," said Sam Gladney, amiable, genial manager of Sun Oil Co., "but here's his check right here." Sam showed a check for $6,072.40.

DUES ARE 'LOW'

Gladney explained that dues for the 50-year-old club were "low," just $250 per year, but that the membership was limited to 145, that 170 were on the waiting list, "and all the members stay healthy down here."

Gladney, president of Koon Kreek, was one of the stag party's hosts along with Richardson and two independent oil operators, Ike LaRue and George Greer. Gladney refers to LaRue, a man who has been broke as often as he has been a millionaire, as the "Pride of Athens." LaRue lives at the club, 11 miles southwest of the east Texas county seat town. Greer lives in Dallas.

Employes of Murchison and LaRue, before the party began, said no newsmen or photographers were to be allowed. One reporter got in because he knew "Editor" R. T. Craig, former publisher of the Athens Daily Review and now chairman of the board of Murchison's First National Bank here. But they were stubborn about photographers.

NO PUBLICITY

"We don't look so good down here anyway," a khaki-clad millionaire quipped. "We don't want any publicity — why this is just a family gathering."

The family included such names as Buddy Fogleson, husband of actress Greer Garson and a Dallas oilman-rancher; Walter Pew, director of Sun Oil from Philadelphia; Arch Underwood, Lubbock, Tex., who owns 22 cotton compresses and warehouses among other properties in Texas; Herman Brown of Brown & Root, Houston shipbuilders and construction tycoons; the deputy chief of staff of the Air Force, Lt. Gen. "Rosie" O'Donnell, and Dr. Alton Oechsner, the surgeon who put golfer Ben Hogan on the comeback trail after Hogan's near-fatal auto accident.

WHAT DO THEY DO?

"What do we do down here?" said Sam Gladney, looking like a man having fun.

"Well, we fish and hunt and play gin rummy. Then we eat — lordy, we eat — and some of the boys have a drink. But mainly we just talk."

You hear no discussions of oil, ranching, banking or any other business. You get the idea, but quick, that here the money barons are in their heaven and all's right with their world.

City Group Accepts Two Resignations

The City Commission last night accepted with regrets two resignations from city boards.

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein submitted his resignation from the Housing Commission. He was leaving the city June 30. W. Allen Booth announced his resignation from the Zoning Board of Appeals, for reasons of ill health.

Mayor William W. onaldson and fellow commissioners asked that resolutions commending the two men for their work be drafted.

Chooses Right Guest

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Tom Collins of New Paltz was the guest of honor recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Martini. It was a cocktail party.

Humane Agent Finds Call Fully Justified

TOPSHAM, Maine (AP)—State Humane Agent Lionel Dionne found more than he expected when he answered a call that some pets had been uncared for since the previous Friday.

When he called at a residence he found 8 puppies, 9 adult dogs, 2 cats, 15 chickens and 15 birds of the canary and parakeet families.

He filled the animal shelter at Brunswick and appealed to animal lovers for assistance.

The owner left home Friday and has not returned.

Thief's Dress Popular

ARCATA, Calif. (AP)—Rod Paul told police a burglar entered his home, helped himself to a pair of slacks, shoes and a wool shirt, and shined the shoes before he left.

Cellist Pablo Casals Suffers Heart Attack

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Pablo Casals, one of the world's greatest cellists, was confined to bed today after a heart attack. The International Music Festival he was to have launched next Monday will go ahead on schedule.

The 80-year-old musician suffered intense pains and vomiting and then fainted yesterday while directing a rehearsal for the two-week series of concerts. He was taken to his home, where an electrocardiogram disclosed a coronary thrombosis.

Doctors said Casals would have to remain in bed several weeks. He was reported resting quietly under sedation.

The festival board of directors agreed in a six-hour meeting to go ahead with the programs of Bach, Mozart and Schubert "as homage to the man who will be inspiring the festival."

Bill Curbs Pedestrians

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A bill to require pedestrians to be more responsible for their own safety when crossing streets was passed yesterday by the Assembly. It would prohibit them from walking or running into the path of motor vehicles so suddenly that the drivers can't stop in time to avoid hitting them.

Jordan Shakeup Major Defeat

Syrian President Ardent Arab Nationalist Advocate

By INS

President Shukri al-Kuwatly of Syria is a mild and gentle man, gracious and easy in manner. Except when Arab nationalism is mentioned.

For he has devoted his life to that cause. In serving it, he has been an ardent advocate of closer Arab collaboration with Moscow and of closer collaboration among Syria, Jordan and Egypt.

Thus, the hawk-faced Syrian leader has suffered a major defeat in the shakeup of the Jordan government by young King Hussein.

Hussein ousted his pro-Syrian premier and his pro-Syrian army leader and installed leaders more favorable to the West. There were reports that al-Kuwatly was moving Syrian troops into Jordan to make that smaller country a part, actually, of "Greater Syria."

Only al-Kuwatly's fanatic nationalism explains his advocation of Arab-Soviet ties. For he is a man of conservative political and economic belief, with no sympathy for Communism and little interest in the Soviet Union itself.

LIFELONG NATIONALIST

But his nationalism has been evident almost all his 65 years.

During World War I, when he was captured by the Turkish rulers of Syria, he tried to take his own life in prison rather than yield.

He was born of one of the oldest Damascus families, took a degree in political science at Istanbul and immediately plunged into the cause of Arab nationalism.

When France took over Syria after World War I, he formed a people's party and agitated for independence, attempted a revolution, was sentenced to death, fled and in 1930 returned to Damascus under an amnesty.

He became president of Syria in 1943, but was ousted six years later by a military coup. After six years' exile in Egypt he was renamed president by a new coalition and soon emerged as an advocate of ties to Moscow.

Tornado Control Moves Nearer

Weather Expert Jones Develops Electronic Spotter, Tracker

OKLAHOMA CITY (INS) — Dr. H. L. Jones has a long way to go to his ultimate goal of controlling tornadoes and thus preventing the death and destruction they bring.

But Dr. Jones, one of the nation's best known experts in weather phenomena, has made enormous strides forward with the development of an electronic "bloodhound" which spots the twisters and tracks them.

This enables weather and police officials to give warnings to communities in the path of the storms.

Jones is professor of electrical engineering at Oklahoma A & M College in Stillwater. He and a staff of experts there developed the "bloodhound," which is said to be three times more accurate than earlier direction finders used for tornado tracking.

CLOUD SEEDING

The experts at A&M believe that cloud seeding may point the way to the eventual control of the deadly twisters. Jones said that the department wanted to make some experimental studies of cloud seeding with silver iodide but were hampered by lack of funds.

Dr. Jones' electronic device is scheduled for rigorous tests this year over a 500-mile wide area.

During the 1956 tornado season, the equipment — a 150-kilocycle high frequency direction finder— was proclaimed the finest tracking device yet developed. It proved 90 per cent accurate.

More importantly, Dr. Jones expects that this year his tracking equipment will pinpoint within a 30-mile radius where a tornado probably will hit and allow from 30 minutes' to an hour's warning before the actual strike.

The research and development of the equipment is based on facts that severe storms, and particularly tornadoes, produce bursts of static, known as sferics.

Memorial to Be Ready

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The renovation of Veterans Memorial Park, featuring a new $75,000 memorial to World War II and Korean War heroes, will be completed in time for Memorial Day services, according to contractors and Park Supt. Fred C. See. The project was started last September after a public fund-raising campaign.

Sir. Harold Scott, once the head of London's Scotland Yard, takes a busman's holiday now that he is retired as one of the world's foremost detectives. He says he likes to "poke around" London's waterfront, looking for crime.

Godwin to Vote Again

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The suburban Godwin Board of Education has set May 14 for a second vote on a bond issue and millage proposals after 1,455 petitioners requested the move. Voters defeated a $1,960,000 bond issue for school expansion and an extension of two mills for school operating expenses March 12.

Parakeet Overdid It

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A local bachelor always shared his solitary cocktail hour with a parakeet which perched on the edge of his martini glass and chatted. The bird died recently and the bachelor ordered an autopsy. The result: Cirrhosis of the liver.

Ask Revised Law

CADILLAC (AP) — Wexford County supervisors have petitioned the state legislature for a school law revision, protesting a provision that calls for non-high school districts to consolidate with high school districts or face loss of state aid after July, 1961. The resolution charges state school aid money is being used as a club to force the consolidations.

To Save Lives From Deadly Radiation

H-Bomb Medicine Likely

CHICAGO (AP)—Medicines taken either before or after H-bomb attacks show promise of saving lives from deadly radiation, scientists said today.

Such medicines now are saving animals from otherwise fatal doses of X-rays. The animals include monkeys, a close relative of man.

The before-attack treatment could be easy-to-get pills.

The after-attack treatment could be injections of bone marrow. It might even be animal bone marrow, perhaps someday stocked in marrow banks.

ANIMAL TESTS

Animal experiments giving the basis for some protective medicines were described today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Abundant chemicals known as sulfhydryl compounds are known to save mice from exposure to X-rays which normally would kill all of them. One such chemical is Cysteine, a building block of proteins. These chemicals work only if taken before exposure to radiation.

PROTECTS MONKEYS

Drugs of this class also protect monkeys, a much higher form of life, said a new report by Dr. B. G. Crouch and Dr. Richard H. Overman of the University of Tennessee College of Medicine, Memphis.

Monkeys fed one of these drugs and then exposed to killing amounts of X-rays are still alive six months later, and are apparently normal, they said.

One of the bad and early effects of radiation is damage to the bone marrow and organs which form blood cells and blood. Within seven weeks time, the monkeys blood appeared quite normal with the pretreatment.

Injections of bone marrow are one hope for rescuing the blood-forming machinery after radiation has done its damage. Such injections help mice — given nothing before the lethal X-rays — and they also apparently work in monkeys, the new findings show.

County Board Fights Bill

MANISTEE (AP) — The Manistee County Board of Supervisors has passed a resolution opposing a bill before the State Legislature that would, in effect, remove liquor control money from townships not having a professional police force. The bill as recommended would make more money available to the sheriff's department to add personnel for enforcement of liquor laws.

CHASSIS LASSIE—Actress Debra Paget has been named "The Most Glamorous Chassis of 1957," an award usually given annually to one of the automotive body manufacturers by the Rollins Foundation at Los Angeles. "This year the board voted to expand our thinking," says John Rollins.

Band May Travel to Tulip Festival

HOLLAND (AP) — A school body do-it-yourself project seeks to raise $6,500 for sending the Edgewater High School Eagle band of Orlando, Fla., to Holland's tulip time festival next month.

Harold J. Karsten, festival official, today said a report from the school noted its 1,600 students engaged in odd jobs to raise the necessary funds.

The 83-piece Eagle band hopes to take part May 18 in the tulip festival's high school band parade, scheduled to include more than 40 musical organizations.

The Eagle band has performed the past four years at Florida's Tangerine Bowl football games.

20,000 Seen as A-Test Toll

Exposure to Radiation Believed to Result in Bone Cancer

LONDON (AP)—In a grim report on radiation hazards, the Atomic Scientists Assn. has estimated that 20,000 persons throughout the world eventually may develop bone cancer as the result of "one nominal high-yield nuclear test."

Releasing the report last night, the British scientific group emphasized that the prediction was based on the "yet unproved hypothesis" that bone cancers are produced in direct proportion to the amount of radioactivity received.

Working from this basis, they said, "an H-bomb of the type tested at Bikini in 1954, if exploded high in the atmosphere, may eventually produce bone cancers in 1,000 people for every million tons of TNT of equivalent explosive power . . . These 1,000 casualties would be spread over all the world and occur in the course of several decades."

Applying their findings to the world population, the report continued, "We obtain that the number of bone sarcomas (malignant growths) from one nominal high-yield nuclear test may amount to 20,000 all over the world."

Damage to the present generation may result mainly from the release of strontium-90, a radioactive substance which enters the body in food and accumulates in the bones, the scientists said.

"Depending on the assumptions made about the distribution of strontium in bone," the report said, "we calculate that by the year 1970 the radiation doses to bone from all the (nuclear) tests carried out up to the autumn of 1956 will range from 9 to 45 per cent of the dose received from all natural sources, including the radium which is normally present in bone."

The association, a nonpolitical body, includes experts on nuclear physics and top university professors.

Astronomer Tells How Easter Date Is Determined

ANN ARBOR (INS) — How is the date of Easter determined?

Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy, said today:

"The date of the full moon of April 14 this year is important. It is the determining factor in the fixing of Easter."

The astronomer pointed out that in 325 A. D., the church fathers gathered in council at Nicaea, and among other things, set the date of Easter once and for all. She said:

"It was set as the Sunday following the first full moon that occurs after the sun enters the equinox."

As a result, this year Easter comes late — April 21 — with the full moon on the 14th. Professor Losh continued:

"Perhaps one reason for choosing the time of full moon in fixing this date was to afford pilgrims safe travel on the roads to the holy city for the Easter festival. The light of the full moon enabled them to travel in comparative safety by night as well as by day."

Easter fluctuates over a period of 35 days between the equinox and April 25, the latest date that Easter may occur, said the astronomer. "In 1943, it occurred on this latest day, April 25, but this will not happen again until A.C. 2038. A March 22 Easter will not take place until A.D. 2285."

Malcolm S. Forbes Wins GOP Primary Handily in New Jersey

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Malcalm S. Forbes, an early Eisenhower booster, will be the Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey against Gov. Robert B. Meyner in November's election.

Forbes, backed by almost all the large GOP county organizations, defeated Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr. of Warren County by more than 88,000 votes in yesterday's primary election.

With returns from 4,186 of the state's 4,213 districts, Forbes led Dumont 213,528 to 124,902.

Forbes carried 14 of the state's 21 counties.

Meyner, seeking a second four-year term, was unopposed in the Democratic primary. He left for Florida with his wife shortly after voting yesterday.

Forbes announced he would conduct a campaign based on the theme "that Eisenhower Republicanism has roots and meaning above and beyond the personal appeal of a great president."

He told newsmen, "It's not a coal-tail thing, but a deep philosophy."

Researchers Seek Distinctive Stink

LONDON (INS)—Research workers in Britain's gas industry are busy studying smells.

They are seeking a distinctive odor—something that smells like nothing on earth—to introduce into domestic gas to make it safer.

It's all part of a big research program being carried out by the Gas Council into the recommendations of the British Medical Association's special committee on gas poisoning.

A satisfactory method of measuring smells has been developed and the chemical industry is supplying different odors. But choice is the big problem.

The odor must be pungent — something that can be associated instantly with coal gas and nothing else—and yet it must not be too revolting or housewives will be sure to complain.

Once the unique smell is found and methods to introduce it into the gas supply discovered, the gas industry will try it out in a small area before launching a nationwide experiment.

Budget Revealed Rift With Treasury Head

Adams Replaces Humphrey as Ike's 'Strong Man'

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — A top administration source has disclosed today that "assistant president" Sherman Adams has replaced Treasury Secretary George Humphrey as the "strong man" of President Eisenhower's second term.

The informant said Ike now relies more heavily on his "chief of staff," the former New Hampshire governor, than on any other man in his administration.

Humphrey, the strongest voice during Ike's first term, was the advisor on whom Ike leaned most confidently for counsel on domestic affairs. Because of his influence on budgetary and fiscal matters, he also called numerous punches on international policies.

Humphrey's eclipse began early this year, however, when the President, over the vehement protests of his treasury secretary, sent to Congress the largest peacetime budget in history.

It has been learned that Humphrey was so incensed over the step-up of governmental spending plans that he requested permission to resign "for personal reasons."

Ike, against Humphrey's own wishes, persuaded him to stay on until the gigantic money bills clear Congress July 1. The multi-millionaire is then expected to retire to his Thomasville, Ga., estate where he has played host several times to Eisenhower.

RATES HERTER HIGH

A high ranking source also said Ike is delighted with the manner in which Christian Herter, former Massachusetts governor, has "taken hold" of the state department as under secretary.

"The President has complete confidence in Adams and Herter as a top ranking team on domestic and foreign problems," he said. "If Dulles, as some believe he will, resigns for reasons of health after Congress adjourns, Ike plans to appoint Herter as his successor."

Earlier reports that Adams coveted appointment as an ambassador, preferably to Canada, are now dead. The presidential source said this would have been an easy "out" for Ike, if he had been dissatisfied with Adams' operations as chief assistant.

"But Sherm simply couldn't be spared," he asserted. "He has become Ike's complete alter-ego, and the President would be lost without him. Adams gets the Congressional blame when things go wrong, but he shouldn't, because he is carrying out Ike's directions to a 'T'."

Right-wing GOP Senators blame Adams, former ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman and "peace secretary" Harold Stassen for the "leftist" trend which they believe Ike's new budget reflects.

The administrative source discounted the charge.

"Don't forget that Eisenhower with his 'new Republican' philosophy ran seven million votes ahead of the Republican party last fall," he shrugged. "We're enjoying the greatest prosperity we've ever known, with more people at work, and an America at peace. Ike is simply trying to keep it that way, by refusing to listen to the advisers who would take us back to the William McKinley days."

Appoints Haarer Head of Ionia State Hospital

LANSING (AP)—Charles F. Wagg, director of the state department of mental health, has announced the appointment of Dr. John G. Haarer as medical superintendent of Ionia State Hospital, effective May 1.

He replaces Dr. P. C. Robertson, who is retiring.

Dr. Haarer, 38, has been on the staff at Ionia since 1947. He is a 1944 graduate of Wayne State University medical school.

Judge Fox Convalesces

MUSKEGON (AP) — Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox has returned to Mercy Hospital to continue convalescence after a heart attack suffered March 18 while returning from Florida.

200 Reserves to Get Training

Army to Give Area Men Practical Drills in Skills This Summer

A spokesman at the Pontiac Army Reserve Post stated Tuesday that around 200 men will leave the area for a 15-day training program this summer. He added that this is a substantial increase over the number who went last summer.

The reserves will leave in separate units beginning June 23 and ending Aug. 25. The program is designed to give them a two-week period in which to put into practice the military lessons learned in weekly drill sessions.

The Pontiac reserves will be sent to one of three places: Camp McCoy, Wisconsin; Ft. Riley, Kansas, or Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

The 1957 attendance figures from Michigan are expected to top last year's by some 15,000. It is reported that 60 per cent of the State reserves will go to Camp McCoy which is located in west central Wisconsin, about 275 miles north of Chicago.

The statewide training program will consist of 15-day segments from April 1 to Sept. 1.

Complaints Drop at City Hall Office in First Quarter

The Citizens' Service Bureau's phone in the City Hall didn't jingle as much last month as it did in January and February.

The bureau was established in 1955 to receive complaints of city operations from residents, and to see that any wrongs were corrected.

Although March last year proved to be the heaviest complaint month of 1956, last month 422 complaints were received compared to 491 in February and 572 in January.

The Water Dept. has received the most complaints during the three-month period. There were 199 in January, 161 in February, and 106 last month.

These complaints, according to the bureau's Mrs. Kenneth Gottschall, concerned mostly rusty water and frozen meter calls.

The collection of refuse, condition of streets, and city sewers, in that order, followed in the highest number of complaints the bureau received this year.

Vote on Bond Issue

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Voters will be asked to approve a $995,000 bond issue for school expansion in a special election May 21. The money would be used for a new 10-room elementary school, a gymnasium and a high school addition.

Ithaca Leases Land

ITHACA (UP) — The Ithaca Village Council has leased a plot of land two miles north of town for the new Ithaca state police post authorized by the last legislature. The post will be adjacent to old U. S. 27 and the new four-lane divided highway.

High Church Attendance Would Seem Unlikely

Material, Spiritual Meet in U. S.

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

Americans have shown in recent years how two seemingly incompatible national characteristics can be reconciled.

On one hand the traditional "go . . go . . go" of life in the United States, the continual striving for material possessions and success; and

HAWKER

On the other, the trend which has made this year a record-breaker in churchgoing with more than half the adult population regular worshippers.

A recent survey showed that 51 per cent of Americans attend church regularly, compared with 37 per cent in 1940, 39 per cent in 1950, 46 per cent in 1954, and 49 per cent in 1955.

Across the Atlantic in Britain and across the Pacific in Australia this upward trend in churchgoing is not reflected. In England the picture shows a steady decline in regular church worship in recent years until today the percentage is 14.

In Australia the decline in church attendance has not been as marked as in England. The churches have more or less held their own in competition with the modern way of life. But they have made no real progress as in this country.

WIN YOUTH

It is significant that in the United States where juvenile delinquency — as in every countdy — is a pressing problem, the churches have won over a big section of the nation's young people. A steady increase in the church attendance of teenagers has been obvious for some time.

What are the reasons for this resurgence of interest in the church in America?

I think the answer can be found in Pontiac where I have had an opportunity of studying the churches' role in the community.

RETURNS TO PLACE

It seems to me that more than in most other countries the church in America is returning to its former place as a center of community activity.

Churches have become a focal point around which women's groups, young people's clubs, and other organizations revolve. Church services have regained their old stature as social events (not in the undesirable sense) and after-church gatherings are a feature of family Sundays.

The unsettled times and the pace of modern life seems to have created in this country an urge to find a refuge for at least part of one day a week.

BETTER TRAINED

In this age of specialization, American churchmen are better trained — not only in the purely religious sense — but in the community aspects of their work, than in many other countries.

One other aspect of the churches in the United States is the large number of small sects or splinter groups throughout the country. In Australia there are fewer such small groups.

Numerically the Church of England is Australia's largest religious group with 39 per cent of the population. The Roman Catholic church represents 20.5 per cent, the Methodist Church 11.5, Presbyterian 9, Baptist 1.5.

Other main churches with adherents representing 1 per cent of the population or less are the Church of Christ, Congregational, Lutheran, Salvation Army, Christian Science, and Society of Friends. In a recent census 4.5 per cent of the population professed no religion. The Hebrew faith in Australia represents .3 per cent of the populaton.

Drop Romeo Suit

ROMEO — Construction of the proposed Community Center Building was virtually assured today when a suit seeking to restrain the work was dropped suddenly yesterday afternoon.

The suit, originally scheduled for hearing in Macomb County Circuit Court next Monday, was initiated by Mr. and Mrs. James H. Church. They were challenging an amending ordinance rezoning the plot offered as the site for the center.

Church issued a prepared statement yesterday in which he said that he "had chosen to bow to the ordinance rather than litigate against the use of the village." The family lives across the road from the 4.3 acre site.

Still maintaining the village had unlawfully rezoned the plot, Church said that he would rather stand depreciation of his property than, he repeated, "directly oppose the use of the village". He called the rezoning an "obvious injustice."

One of the contributing factors in the discontinuation of the suit was the failure of the Macomb County Sheriffs Dept. to serve the restraining orders, summons and bill of complaint until Monday of this week, Church said.

The building permit for the center had been issued last Saturday and work had started before the paper was served.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her cousin, Henry Morris of McAllen, Texas. She wore a princess-style floor-length gown of silk mist fashioned with a tight bodice and portrait neckline of lace embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Her long sleeves ended in points over her hands.

The bride's Mantilla veil, which reached the floor, was edged in Alencon lace like the trim on her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of tiny white roses, hyacinths and lilies of the valley.

Elizabeth Ann Witham was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sheldon Diven of Dundee, N.Y., and Ann Parks of Washington, D.C., both roommates of the bride at Vassar.

Best man was George Vaillant of Boston. Seating the guests were Frederick Baker of Hastings-on-the Hudson, N.Y., Arthur French of New York City and J. Allan Hobson of Boston.

Chemical Plant Explosion Kills 5

Blast in West Virginia Injures Four Seriously; Fumes Cover Valley

NITRO, W.Va. (AP)—A thunderous explosion at a big chemical plant late yesterday killed five workmen, injured four and turned a three-story building into gutted rubble.

Cause of the explosion at the sprawling Monsanto Chemical Co. plant has not been established.

George K. Johnson, Monsanto public relations director, said the blast ruptured pipelines carrying ammonia, and the ammonia combined with chlorine to neutralize it.

The Monsanto plant manufactures industrial chemicals in this Kanawha Valley town of 3,500 persons about 15 miles west of Charleston.

ARTHRITIS
PUT ME OUT OF WORK FIVE LONG MONTHS
"After taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS for 30 days, I was able to throw away my cane, and walk again," says Mr. Harry Hall, 23085 Columbus Street, East Detroit.
"I had rheumatism and arthritis in my knee so bad that I wasn't able to work for over five months. It was very painful and difficult for me to walk, even using a cane. Everyone I met told me to try something different, so I think I tried about every medicine made for arthritis. I did everything possible to get rid of it, even trying some medicine advertised in Canada. My wife was bothered for several years with pains in her legs too. They ached so much that she couldn't sleep nights, and she also had an awful time getting around. She read in the paper that a lady in Detroit had used O-JIB-WA BITTERS for pains in her legs, and that it really helped. Well, my wife purchased a small bottle to try, and it helped her so much that she got a big one, and we both went to work using it up. About three weeks later, I told my wife that the O-JIB-WA must be helping, because I could walk on my bad leg. After a month, I was able to throw away my cane and walk again. Since then, we both have recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS to everyone we know that needed help. We are glad to have this chance to tell everyone how much this wonderful medicine has helped us."

3. Trimming Up the Easter Flower

Peter had been saving his money to buy his mother an Easter flower and here it is, a lovely hyacinth in a flower pot.

These beautiful spring flowers come in many lovely shades, pinks, lavenders and blues, so you have a wide choice in coloring the picture. Peter wanted his Easter gift to look as pretty as possible, so he is trimming the flower pot with a big bow of colored ribbon. He has chosen a color that contrasts with the Easter flower itself and will blend with the flower pot.

Use crayons to give the figure, the flower, flower pot and roll of ribbon bright full colors. Then apply more delicate tints to the background and you will have an attractive picture to add to your Easter picture gallery.

(Today's $10 award goes to Elizabeth Denison, Salida, Colo. Your idea may be usable. Send it to this newspaper, Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Hal Boyle Says:

Pawnbrokers Like Gals With Gems

NEW YORK (AP)—If a diamond is a girl's best friend, a pawnbroker's best friend is that same girl—after she gets the diamond.

"Sixty per cent of our clients are women," said Lou Modell, who is known as "the pawnbroker's pawnbroker" and operates the nation's top individually owned hock shop.

"Why? Because women are notorious for being able to spend more money accidentally than men can on purpose.

"Many rich women—even those with an income of $50,000 or more a year—will hock a piece of jewelry for $20,000, then take the $20,000 and go out and buy another piece of jewelry with it.

"Divorcees borrow most often on their jewelry. Then wealthy wives. Widows come last.

"Career women aren't such regular clients because, to begin with, they usually are good businesswomen. Also, if they need money in a hurry, they usually have a boy friend they can borrow from."

One of Modell's most unusual loans was to a titled lady accused of stabbing a gent with a jeweled letter opener.

"The next morning she pawned the letter opener for $900 to bail herself out of jail," he said.

If they didn't have to pay it themselves, pawnbrokers would be highly in favor of the federal income tax. Right now their windows are full of diamonds pawned so clients could keep from going into hock with Uncle Sam.

"Our busiest season is around income tax time," said Lou, who prides himself he will advance a hard - pressed executive up to $75,000 in cash in five minutes—if he can put up enough collateral.

He explained many executives prefer to deal with pawnbrokers rather than banks because the transaction is so confidential—and fast.

"Many have an idea that a pawnbroker is a blood-sucking Shylock fattening at the expense of the poor," said Lou, and added wryly:

"Actually pawnbroking is a dying industry all across the country. For every new pawnbroker who opens a new shop, five go out of business. Small loan firms, which can charge a higher rate in many instances and have a lower overhead, are taking much of our trade. We average only about one per cent net return on our investment."

Lou said the high-income class provide the best clientele.

"You can't make money on poor people," he said. "They're not very profitable.

"The best client is the big-salaried guy who is a good liver, and enjoys wine, women and song."

Lou said the idea that pawnbrokers make most of their profit by foreclosing on loans is exactly contrary to the facts.

"The last thing we want to do is foreclose," he said.

The operating theory is this, "once a hocker always a hocker."

"But once you have to foreclose on a client you usually lose him forever," said Lou.

What occupational group most often makes the trek to Modell's own shop?

"Jewelers," said Lou. "They borrow on the jewelry they have so they can buy more jewelry."

Refugees Avoid Siberia but End Up in Yukon

WHITEHORSE, Y. T. (AP) — When five Hungarian refugees arrived in this Yukon Territory outpost, it was 20 below zero.

The Whitehorse weekly editor quipped: "Presumably when they fled from Hungary, they anticipated they were escaping Siberia. I'm not so sure."

Treating Arabs, Israelis All Part of Duty at Baptist Hospital

U.S. Surgeon Patches Wounded Gazans

GAZA (INS) — Patching up torn and bleeding Gazans has become second nature to a young American surgeon who has been doing "nothing but" for the last two years.

"And it looks as if this situation is going to last for a long while yet," Dr. James M. Young of Ruston, La., said as he pulled off his rubber gloves outside the operating theater of the Baptist Hospital in Gaza.

The shy, 32-year-old Baptist missionary, who looks like an early edition of movie actor James Stewart, takes no sides in the conflict around him that simmers constantly and erupts occasionally in a shelling or an invasion.

He treated both Arab and Israeli casualties during the November, 1956, invasion and after. Jewish casualties were only three — an automobile accident case, a man who accidentally injured himself with his own gun and a heart attack case.

SUDDEN SURGE

"The invasion wasn't as bad as last April's shelling. Then we were suddenly flooded with casualties, all needing urgent attention," Young says.

"During the invasion, the Israeli curfew permitting circulation only for two hours in the morning and two in the afternoon meant that we could catch up with those who were brought in during those periods. The operating theater was usually clear by late evening."

But Young admits this went on for several weeks and that neither he nor his assistants got any respite at all during that time.

Young's staff consists of one American (John Roper of Six Mile, S. C.,) and three Egyptian doctors plus two American, one English and one Danish nurse. The rest are all Palestinian.

Young said that many of his cases were Arabs from Rafa who were shot by the Israelis for not conforming with the curfew regulations.

But these are only fractional details of the parade of human misery that passes through Young's skilled hands every day.

FULL HOSPITAL

The 90-bed hospital, which is mainly supported by U. N. funds, is filled to capacity. More than a quarter of Young's patients are stunned and bewildered victims of land mines. They are trundled daily out of the operating theater minus a hand, an arm, a leg or their eyesight.

It doesn't strike them as strange that their torn bodies should be repaired by a man of another faith who came across seven thousand miles of land and ocean for that specific purpose.

Like everything else that happens to them it is "kismet" — the will of Allah.

Date for Bids to Be Decided

Construction of School to Get Board's Attention in Waterford

When the Waterford Township Board of Education meets tomorrow night, they will decide a date for receiving bids on the construction of the John D. Pierce Junior High School, according to William Shunck, superintendent.

A new member will be appointed to the board to fill the vacancy left when Elmer Johnson resigned to take over the position as newly elected supervisor for Waterford Township.

After the financial reports for the month of March, and bills are approved, the board will receive the superintendent's recommendations for the 1957-58 school year.

This will include a change in administrative personnel, treasury bills, new teachers for 1957-58, and the leaves of absence in teaching personnel.

The purchase of new school buses will also be discussed, and there will be a report made by the Building Committee.

LaMotta Pleads Guilty to Morals Charge

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jake LaMotta, former middleweight champion boxer, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 14-year-old girl and received a suspended sentence.

LaMotta already faces a six-month jail term and $500 fine on a jury conviction on charges growing out of the same case.

LaMotta, now a Miami Beach bar owner, still faces trial on charges of conspiracy and procuring of the girl. His attorney announced the six months jail term and fine would be appealed from court of crimes, where it was imposed, to Circuit Court.

Freeloaders Frustrated

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Two Methodist ministers have dropped newspaper stories about church dinners—too many people read them.

The Revs. Oscar Magarian and A. G. Hardee said invariably "a bunch of strangers" show up after a notice of a free meal for the congregation and this free loading became a burden. Henceforth, they'll rely on less public communications.

Pontiac Adopts Ordinance, Bureau of Fire Prevention

For the past three and one half years, Pontiac had a fire marshal whose work, with the exception of a few city ordinances, was curtailed and many times halted because he and his staff did not have the legal tools necessary to carry out a fire prevention program.

In fact, officially, the Pontiac Fire Prevention Bureau did not exist until Sunday when the ordinance adopting a Fire Prevention Code and establishing a Bureau of Fire Prevention became effective.

"After all these years without a fire code, we have adopted one of the best in the country," said Charles Metz, Pontiac fire marshal appointed in 1953 under civil service laws.

The fire code, adopted by the City Commission April 4, is a 171 page booklet recommended by the National Board of Fire Underwriters prescribing regulations and governing conditions hazardous to life and property from fire.

Metz said this code was recommended for adoption in Pontiac after study of fire codes of Flint and Jackson, and of Rochester, N. Y. — cities approximately the same size and character as Pontiac.

"Previously, we didn't have a definition of a fire hazard in Pontiac. I've lost several court cases because of this," Metz explained.

"The business of fire prevention is mainly selling people the idea they should prevent fire before they start," he continued.

"Ninety-nine of 100 persons will probably respect our judgment and advice in checking or correcting fire hazards but, that one person could refuse and thus, endanger the lives and properties of others."

Now, with a fire code, he can legally force this one person to eliminate the hazard, according to Metz.

The code is to be enforced by the bureau of fire prevention of the Pontiac Fire Department, which consists of Metz and his assistant, Allan Tunny, under the supervision of Fire Chief John F. Schroeder.

LISTS HAZARDS

In general, the code outlines six situations which are considered dangerous or hazardous conditions.

1. Dangerous or unlawful amounts of combustible or explosive materials.

2. Hazardous conditions arising from defective or improperly installed equipment for handling or using combustible or explosive materials.

3. Dangerous accumulations of rubbish, paper, boxes, shavings or highly flammable materials.

4. Accumulations of dust or waste material in air conditioning or ventilating systems or grease in kitchen or other exhaust ducts.

5. Obstructions to or on fire escapes, stairs, passageways, doors or windows which would interfere with operations of the fire departments or progress of occupants during a fire.

6. Lack of sufficient fire escapes, exit facilities, automatic or fire alarm apparatus or fire extinguishing equipment in buildings.

Some businesses, believed to be greater fire hazards, will have to obtain a permit from the Fire Prevention Bureau after the buildings have been checked for requirements and safety measures of the code. These include: auto-tire rebuilding shops, bowling alleys, dry cleaning establishments, garages, lumber yards and places of assembly excluding churches.

In 1956, Metz and his assistant, E. J. Nolan, handled 2,736 inspections of all types of buildings.

All dwellings of 3 or more families are inspected yearly.

The code also states it is the duty of the bureau to investigate the cause, origin and circumstances of every fire in the city with a suspicious nature or involving the loss of life or injury to persons.

Violation of the fire code, now a city ordinance, could cost up to a $100 fine and, or 90 days in jail.

"Felt I'd Burst From Pressure and Pain of Monthly Cramps 'Til New Tablet Did What Aspirin Couldn't!"

Model Photo

Writes Mrs. L. H., Kansas City, Mo., "Thought my body would burst from pressure and pain of monthly cramps. Nothing I tried helped until I found Pinkham's Tablets! Feel so much better now!"

For millions of women who suffer tortures of cramps and nervous tension every month, a new day has dawned! An amazing new tablet, developed especially to relieve this female discomfort, brings greater relief than aspirin for these miseries!

Relief for 3 out of 4 tested!

Doctors report amazing results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pains and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, backaches, other functional distress. Were less jittery before their period.

This new discovery offers more relief than aspirin because it contains not just 1 or 2 ingredients but a unique combination of medicines. Unlike "general purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has remarkable power to calm uterine contractions; also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," they're at all drugstores without prescription. Try handy Pinkham's Tablets. See if you don't feel worlds better! See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort — before and during those "difficult days." (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

U.N. Official Killed in Trust Territory

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Kamal Eddine Salah, Egyptian chairman of the U. N. Advisory Council on Somaliland, was assassinated yesterday in the trust territory in East Africa.

The U. N. Trusteeship Council was informed of Salah's death by Council President Rafik Asha of Syria. He said the Egyptian diplomat was stabbed to death in Mogadiscio, but that no details had been received.

Remigio D. Grillo, Italian representative on the council, said he had been informed that Slah had been attacked by a Somali. He said a full investigation would be carried out.

The advisory council which also includes Colombia and the philippines, was created in 1949 to help Italy administer the area until it achieves independence, in 1960.

Juror Wants to Know Who Came Out Ahead

MILWAUKEE (AP) — After two days of testimony, Civil Judge Robert C. Cannon informed the jury that attorneys had reached a settlement in the damage suit.

One juror reaised his hand and inquired if it would be all right to ask a question.

"Certainly," replied Judge Cannon.

"Can you tell us who won, judge?" asked the juror.

Work Not Cause of Heart Trouble, Says Dr. White

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White says blaming hard work and exercise for causing heart trouble is foolishness.

"Hard work is generally good for people," said the famed specialist who guided President Eisenhower back to the White House after the President's 1955 heart attack.

"Exercise is as important as eating, sleeping and working," he said.

"Unfortunately, we have gotten away from this. We are in a push-button era and to blame hard work and exercise is a great disservice to our country."

White arrived here yesterday to serve as a visiting lecturer for the University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine.

Death Changes Buffalo Bill From Has-Been to Hero

Various Western States Claim Cody

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

OMAHA, Neb. (INS) — "Buffalo Bill" Cody — that fearless and instinctive killer of bison, mean Indians and the ladies—is the most sought-after spirit in America.

Every state in the Western plains, not to mention a couple of upstarts in the East, likes to boast about holding a major interest in his memory.

Though he was considered something of a pitiable has-been just before he passed on (presumably to the great celestial arena) in 1917, he was proclaimed a hero minutes after his death.

Wherever he had roamed, citizens have developed a hankering to brag.

"He made his home right here in Nebraska, you know, at North Platte," a Nebraskan will tell you. "It was on these very plains that he performed many of his most superb buffalo-hunting feats."

POINT WITH PRIDE

To justify their pride, Nebraskans point to a plaque and marker in North Platte, near Omaha; and to the Nebraska Hall of Wildlife at Lincoln, where Cody's last buffalo is stuffed in splendor. The beast was presented to Nebraska by Cody himself in the early 1900s, when he was a crackshot and a hot-shot showman.

Wyoming says pish-tush to Nebraska's claim, pointing out that Bill founded the town of Cody, Wyo., and that it was to their scenic "Big Horn" that he retired from public life — leaving his wife, Louisa, to smoulder away alone in Nebraska.

Cody, Wyo., has a museum-full of relics of his dramatic career, including the house in which he was supposed to have been born in Le Claire, Iowa.

That brings up Iowa, which has a strong point of possession, since the great pioneer and showman was born there in 1846.

Iowans say that Cody, Wyo., was sold a bill of goods, however, when it imported that house from Le Claire. It was only the structure in which Cody lived briefly as an adolescent, they say. His real birthplace is a domicile in Davenport — and Iowa, by George, still has it!

BACK IN KANSAS

Meanwhile, back at the ranches in Kansas, the local citizenry feel they can honestly claim more memory rights than any other state. It was at Leavenworth, on a Kickapoo Indian reservation, that Bill grew up, to become a pony express rider and government guide.

Further, it was on behalf of feeding the laborers building the Kansas Pacific Railroad in the 1860s that Cody performed what Kansans regard as his most remarkable feat: Killing 4,280 bison in 18 months.

In Missouri, they make a rather weak claim to having been the state in which Bill spent a later part of his growing-up.

Colorado says it has the final evidence of fealty — for it is on Lookout Mountain, just above Denver, that Cody is buried.

(This annoys no ends of states, particularly Wyoming which claims, apparently with some justification, that Cody himself wanted to be laid to rest in the town that was his namesake. But through quick action by Denverites after his death, he was buried in a vault 12 feet below the ground, with concrete to a thickness of 8 feet on all sides, to insure the body is never removed to another state.)

THE DAKOTAS, TOO

And so, even as the Western plains states fight it out — we almost forgot to mention the Dakotas, which claim Buffalo Bill was especially good in the Badlands — the "Cody Family Association" holds annual meetings.

They conduct their conclaves in such states as Illinois and California, though the Cody lineage actually traces back to Beverly, Massachusetts.

It's very hard to know what to believe. But on the old "When in Rome" theory, we are inclined at the moment to accept the Nebraska legend. —

. . . What was it again?

The first Ford Thunderbird was such a car.

Today Ford Division is proud to announce still another car that many say is destined to become the most famous Ford of all: The Skyliner—world's only hide-away hardtop.

If you plan to buy a new Ford, or already own one, the fact that Ford created this car is important to you. For all the exhaustive research, planning and testing that went into the Skyliner is evidence of the engineering skill you get in every Ford model.

The Ford SKYLINER, the only all-steel hide-away hardtop, is a car for history.

This is an old dream of Detroit, a dream of two generations of motorists.

And today Ford has made that dream come true—in steel.

But the story behind this dream is a story of men who refused to accept "no" for an answer. In the Ford tradition they kept striving toward the goal long after others had given up the chase.

To understand this Ford spirit you must go back to 1908. That was the year when many Detroiters smiled smugly as Henry Ford announced, "We will build a motor car for the great multitude . . . so low in price that no man making a good salary will be unable to own one."

And they did.

Today, nearly a half century later, Ford continues to cause the "experts" to change their tune. When you see this all-steel hardtop that retracts into a convertible, you'll be seeing a car that many said would never be mass-produced.

But Ford did it.

Like all things creative, this car had its beginning inside a man's mind. In 1948 a Ford stylist saw his first "hardtop convertible."

The car had no center posts. It looked something like a convertible. But it could no more put its steel top down than it could fly.

Disappointed, the stylist was intrigued with the idea. "Why not," he asked, "an all-steel car that really would convert?"

Trying to work out this idea, the stylist and his associates found no shortage of problems: Where to hide the top? How to make it fit? Where to store luggage? How to make it all work smoothly?

The styling group put in long hours. They experimented. They improvised. They worked unceasingly. Finally they completed a power-operated three-eighths scale model that actually worked.

It was December 1956—after eight years of research, planning, experimenting and testing — when Ford unveiled this masterpiece . . . unveiled it amid all the pomp and splendor of the New York Automobile Show. To say that it made a hit would be an understatement. Crowds actually applauded spontaneously as the Skyliner completed its quick-change routine. Many of them had long dreamed of such a car . . . but few really expected to see it.

And now this history-making car, this prototype of a whole future generation of cars, is ready for your own personal inspection in the showrooms of many Ford Dealers.

Plan to see it soon. And ask your Dealer to show you the exciting advances in all models of the new Ford line for '57.

In creating the Skyliner, Ford continues its tradition of being first with the important innovations. Come in and see this newest example of Ford's leadership. Let us give you the exciting details on this revolutionary car—and the other great '57 Ford models.

Convention Warned of School Aid Danger

DAR Tackles Big Issues

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Daughters of the American Revolution prepared today to get down to the serious business of their 66th annual Continental Congress by adopting resolutions and nominating officers.

They enjoyed themselves yesterday touring the White House and throwing a gala ball for their pages at a Washington hotel.

On the schedule today is the reading of more proposed resolutions to add to the 20-point policy platform already recommended to the delegates. The delegates to the Congress may begin voting on these measures today.

Rep. August Johansen (R-Mich) warned the morning session that the school aid program now going through Congress probably would be extended beyond its proposed limits and would result in federal control of education.

Johansen said there was a tremendous pressure for a longer and more costly aid program than the administration is supporting and that proponents of the bigger plan would get their foot in the door with current bills.

The Michigan congressman urged the Daughters to support more state and local work to supply badly needed classrooms.

The resolutions proposed to the Congress yesterday for the delegates' approval generally reflected strongly conservative convictions.

The suggested resolutions would put the DAR on record as opposing states rights bills as infringements of basic civil liberties, would urge more budget cutting to reduce taxes, oppose any changes in immigration laws, and oppose registration of firearms.

A series of resolutions relating to the United Nations may cause trouble from some of the delegates.

One of these urged the withdrawal of the United States from the United Nations if Red China is admitted, and another strongly opposed the use of any American troops in a United Nations armed force to keep the peace.

The daughters were also called on to oppose U.S. membership in the International Labor Organization, an affiliate of the U.N., and in the United Nations economic, social, and cultural organization.

The resolution complained that the ILO was Communist dominated and that UNESCO was a breeding ground for subversion.

Later in the day, the delegates will nominate delegates to fill the posts of seven vice presidents general which fall vacant this year. Eight women already have signified that they want to run

Mrs. Frederic A. Groves of Cape Girardeau, Mo., president of the DAR, opening the group's national convention in Washington Tuesday, said, "Any great patriotic and conservative organization will be under fire in these critical times." Her remark was made in connection to a reference in her annual report regarding a controversy in Denver in February about the use of the U. S. Flag by a Mexican boy.

High School Presents Spring Concert

The eight girls glee clubs will join voices in art and folk songs. These combined glee clubs will be directed by Mrs. Doreen Voltmann and Edward Banghart.

For their religious group, the Pontiac High School A Capella Choir is using choral numbers by Antonio Lotti, Randall Thompson, and Healy Willan. Broadway show tunes will be used for their secular portion this year.

Selected ensembles and outstanding soloists from the department will be heard as entre acts.

All accompaniments will be played by student accompanists. Organists will be Eleanore Haszenzahl, Sharon Wolfe, and James Weisenborne.

Rules to Help Triple the Life of Your Shoes

You can triple the life of your shoes — so says the National Shoe Institute — by following these four rules:

1. Change shoes frequently. If possible, allow two days between wearing the same pair of shoes.
2. When you take your shoes off after work or at night, wipe them off and allow them to dry naturally — at room temperature, not on a radiator.
3. Use shoe trees.
4. Before using the shoes again, dust the interior with foot powder.

Fudge Cake Sure Hit on Birthdays

Mrs. Houghten Uses Quick Mix Method for Chocolate Treat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Fudge cake is always a good choice for a birthday cake. Mrs. Fred Houghten was making one for her father's surprise birthday party the day we photographed her house.

Mrs. Houghten spends a great deal of her days chauffeuring her four youngsters hither and yon. She works in a church circle and likes to bowl. In the Rochester Junior Women's Club she is chairman of the public affairs department.

FUDGE CAKE
By Mrs. Fred Houghten

Sift together:
2 cups cake flour
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
Add ¼ cup soft shortening

Mix 1½ cups milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add half of this liquid to the first mixture. Beat two minutes. Add rest of milk and two eggs. Add four squares baking chocolate, melted and cooled. Beat two more minutes. Stir in 1 cup of cut up nuts.

Pour into two greased and floored 9-inch layer pans or one 9x13 pan. Bake layers 30-35 minutes or loaf 35-45 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Cover with chocolate frosting.

Easy does it when using the spray - type perfumes and colognes. The fine mist dispensed by the propellant gas spreads amazingly. A puff or two goes a long way to add the finishing touch to your grooming.

'Where Are the Little Tots?'

Man's Letter Angers Housewives

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I must admit to some duplicity not long ago when I printed the letter from the husband who was bragging about being such a good cook and also such an efficient housekeeper. He even ironed by a stop watch, and suggested that women organize their housework better and therefore snag more leisure for themselves.

Of course we all agree that organization can take a lot of the sting out of housekeeping. However, I printed his letter with little comment because I hoped to prod the women who read this column into action. I did! I think you will have fun reading some of the remarks which readers have sent in.

To me the whole thing is just more evidence that we seldom understand the problems of others, and that it actually is true that the grass on the other side of the fence looks greener. Here are some quotations from letters:

"The letter in last night's column was most amusing. Like all men when they write about women and women's work in the home he blandly, or blindly, ignores what would disprove his point and emphasizes that which will prove him right.

"In washing dishes he conveniently forgot the stove and the refrigerator, the kitchen floor, closets and shelves and drawers. Nor did he mention changing linen, polishing furniture, dusting books, and so forth.

NO SUCH DEVICE

"Also most women do not have all of the time-saving gadgets and if they do I have not yet heard of a mechanical device that will fold diapers, read a story to a 4-year-old, soothe a crying baby, wipe a child's nose, or answer the telephone."

Though we are living in an era of specialization, time-saving devices and appliances, the role of mother has remained fundamentally unchanged. Her place will never be usurped by a robot.

Another: "Being a 'mere' housewife I simply have to sit down and answer the 'mere' men. I would like to ask him just how many children he has. By the time my husband gets to work I have been up and at it for two hours. He works from 8 to 5 and I from 6 to 6.

"When I went to the hospital to have our last bundle of joy my husband did everything and he was sure glad to see me back. He couldn't wait to go back to the office to take it easier. He himself told me this."

Another: "The letter from the man was amusing but it was also astonishing. For the first time I realized that some men — husbands and fathers — have no more conception of a woman's role in the home than the ancient Greeks would have of our modern automobiles.

"We are living in an era of great specialization but let us not lose sight of the fact that even with all of the wonderful time-saving devices and appliances the role of mother has remained fundamentally unchanged. Her place will never be usurped by a robot.

"And, sir, where are the little tots of the household while all of this rub-a-dub routine is going on? I will tell you where — right under their mother's feet!"

Topcoat for Spring? Choose From Many

Spring topcoats are noted for their top-drawer styling. The dressier model for men in cities has set-in sleeves and patch framed pockets. Suburbanites inclined toward a less formal appearance ask for the raglan sleeve model when taking advantage of their relaxed pace.

For town wear, Venetian covert topcoats, with their flat finish, carry out the conservative impression many assidious city dwellers favor. However, overplaid patterns, in muted tones, are being worn to brighten this conservative look. Gray, the most popular color this spring, harmonizes with gray, blue and brown suits. It is followed by natural and blue shades.

Yellow Is Difficult to Wear

Check Make-up Carefully

By OLGA CURTIS
INS Women's Editor

CHICAGO (INS) — Women who want to copy the First Lady and wear lemon yellow for a gala evening should pay careful attention to proper makeup.

Chicago makeup expert Syd Simons says few women have as pretty a skin as Mrs. Eisenhower, who looked superb in the citron yellow ball gown she wore at Washington's Inaugural Balls.

"White-skinned Nordic types or pink-skinned brunettes can wear this kind of yellow," Simons noted. "But lemon yellow on sallow or olive-skinned girls will only make them look more sallow."

The solution, according to Simons, is in makeup that uses "peach tones, accented by pink."

His formula for makeup while wearing yellow:

"Use the same base you usually do but accent with the right rouge and lipstick. Yellow is a primary color; so is red and therefore they compliment each other. You need a red coral tone of rouge and a pink-toned or true-red lipstick.

"With yellow, it's a light blue or light green eye-shadow for day and pale gray or silver for evening. Mascara should be blue."

Simons, who thinks Mrs. Eisenhower led "a 1957 trend toward the golden tones," pointed out that yellow draws color away from the skin and may make a girl look pasty. He urged especial care in makeup with shiny yellow, such as yellow satin, which would reflect a yellow light onto the face.

"A peach or a rose rachel powder is the proper powder for a yellow outfit. If you've a very dark skin, mix pink into your own powder shade," he added.

The makeup expert had one other bit of advice for getting the correct makeup when wearing yellow: "Tone down to the yellow. Accent rouge slightly but don't overdo the makeup."

Fashion Hint

The clothes which you must wear for three or more years should usually be in dark or neutral colors. You can satisfy your love of color safely by using accessories in the fashion color of the moment with these clothes.

Thomases Are Retired in Earnest

Ex-Navy Boss and Wife Plan to Relax for 3 Months

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Former Navy Secretary and Mrs. Charles Thomas are having difficulty convincing folks they mean what they say when they speak of retirement.

Before he left Washington Thomas passed around a card. On it was printed "Charles S. Thomas, Retired," and in each corner was inscribed, "no phones," "no address," "no business" and "no money."

Breathless after leaving here in a flurry of farewell shindigs, they are now engulfed in a whirl of welcome homes given by their California friends.

Mrs. Thomas told friends she and her husband are going to take three months doing nothing at all before they think of their next move.

At a luncheon given by naval officers' wives, Mrs. Thomas recalled highlights of the past four years, beginning with the time her husband got a 17-gun salute on a visit to San Diego right after his swearing in as undersecretary.

QUITE NOISY

"It was quite noisy," said Mrs. Thomas. "I must confess I put my fingers in my ears when the guns went off."

"But for the last three years," she added, "I have stood proudly a few feet behind my husband while he took a 19-gun salute (as secretary) and hardly even blinked."

Mrs. Donald Quarles, chic wife of the Air Force secretary, stole the limelight at a luncheon showing of spring millinery with her very own chapeau.

Of aqua straw with a cutout brim in front, it was circled with frothy white cherry blossoms. "I call it Potomac Tidal Basin," she said.

There's a new and exclusive organization in the capital called "The Silverfish." Members are press officers of seven embassies —Turkey, India, Great Britain, Egypt, Australia, Pakistan and Finland.

NAMED FOR INSECT

One of the organizers, popular young Altemur Kilic of Turkey, says it's named after the insect because it "dwells in books and eats them and drinks water."

Former Chief of Protocol John Farr Simmons, soon to take a job with a private industry, was overheard talking to Russian Ambassador Georgi Zarubin at a cocktail party.

"Soon I will be a capitalist, Mr. Ambassador," he said. "But, I hope, in spite of this, we can still be friends."

Men Will Wear Ensemble Suit This Easter

NEW YORK (INS)—You'd never know it from the fuss the ladies make about spring costumes, but men March in the Easter Parade, too.

There is something new under the fashion sun this year for men to show off on Easter Sunday. It's called the ensemble suit.

The ensemble suit is a compromise between a man's liking for sportswear and the need to don more formal attire for business occasions.

The new look in men's fashions employs the "separates" idea that has been popular for so long in the women's field, with jacket and trousers matched but slightly different.

A silk and worsted fabric, for example, is woven with a small fleck on a medium background. The fabric is used "as is" for the trousers, but either a stripe or plaid pattern is added to the jacket for a perfectly matched but contrasting jacket and trouser combination.

The suit idea was thought up by Michael Daroff, who heads one of the nation's largest men's clothing firms. It is available in blue or tan, with either the traditional or the Ivy League look to the shoulders. The retail price is about $65.

Mrs. Brady to Head Pontiac NCCW

Mrs. Harold Brady was re-elected president of the local National Council of Catholic Women. Also taking office are Mrs. Mary Mogg, volunteer chairman, and Mrs. Joseph Emmerth, relief chairman.

They received their posts at the recent meeting held at St. Vincent de Paul parish hall. The group will visit the State Legislature in Lansing May 2, and will attend the Mental Health Week workshop at Pontiac State Hospital.

DARLENE ROSALEE JENKS

Mrs. George Cummings of Cloverlawn avenue and Lyle Jenks of Florence street announce the engagement of their daughter, Darlene Rosalee Jenks, to John Howard Briggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Briggs of Homestead drive. No date has been set for the wedding.

Patrons Come First in Business

By ANNE HEYWOOD

In setting up a home service or product, the most important thing to consider is one we frequently overlook. And that is, what kind of customers are you going to have?

Will you appeal to the low-income groups or to the carriage trade? Until you decide that, you're really up in the air.

For example, if you want to cater to the rich, you can have such services as catering, social secretarial, house-plant-tending, planning children's parties, decorating and even, once in a blue moon, personal shopping.

I know a woman who charges a large weekly fee for spending several hours a week in the homes of a half-dozen rich matrons, balancing their checkbooks and handling their personal correspondence.

I know another who works with a fancy florist and charges a weekly fee for planning and arranging house plants and cut flowers.

But if your available customers are in the low or medium income group, they won't be interested in such services. Even decorating, which is frequently a real money saver, is a luxury to certain people and they will not use it.

For you, as an individual, to try to re-educate them is a waste of time. It's better to select a service which they already know they need and want.

For the low or middle income people, think of such basic services as babysitting, repairing furniture or equipment, altering or remodeling clothes.

If the wife works, the list can be expanded to include cleaning, marketing, doing errands, taking children to the dentist or on trips to buy clothes, cooking occasional meals and sometimes making slip covers and curtains.

You will save yourself much misery by researching your customers before you begin. It doesn't matter how charming a children's party service you offer, the young mother on a limited budget is not going to be able to use it.

REASONS FOR FAILURE

I recently did a survey of the home serivces which succeeded and the ones which failed.

The two major reasons for failure are first, entering a field you are interested in, and second, lack of knowledge of the potenial market.

To say airily, as so many people do, "Oh, it's a natural — I know we'll have lots and lots of customers," is a tragic and often fatal mistake!

If you'd like to set up a home service, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet on the subject.

Dior Accents Discretion, Subtlety

Revealing Swim Suits Out

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — American men may decide to take a poke at French designer Christian Dior. His new swim suits for women have the gals covered from collar bone to mid-thigh.

He's got them looking slightly flat-chested again, too, but he explained:

"Girls who try to put on a 'big front' are definitely old-fashioned."

Dior, who designed 15 new beach fashions for Cole of California, has the seashore sirens more covered up than they've been since the gay 90's.

The look can be summed up in a phrase, "cherchez la femme."

The plump, pink, pear-shaped designer defended his new creations by declaring:

TANTALIZING 'HINTS'

"The body moves around more freely inside a relaxed, more covered-up swimsuit. The hint of the curves underneath is subtle — but tantalizing."

Fred Cole backed up his designer 100 per cent. Said he:

"Exhibitionists who put the accent on bare sex at the beach are as rare as a three-dollar bill. These new designs by Mr. Dior place sex on a high frequency, like a supersonic dog whistle. But you still get the message."

The new Dior designs include "Liberte," a non-restricted swimsuit in tangerine chiffon jersey with high front and back neckline and unaccented waist; "Brevite," a middy that hits the wearer around the hips and is worn over a pair of shorts, and "Caprice," a fringed up-in-front, down-in-back creation that leaves the waist and bustlines almost completely to the imagination.

"They are designed to give a woman elegance," Diro declared, "and a soft flowing line."

Mitchell-Booth Nuptials Solemnized at Cranbrook

A gown of rose pointe Chantilly lace over taffeta and nylon tulle was worn by Margaret Aitken Booth for her marriage Saturday to Robert W. Mitchell.

The fitted bodice was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and a tucked cummerbund of white silk taffeta. Her floor-length skirt was of rose pointe lace and tulle.

The bride's two-tiered veil of silk illusion was secured by a crown headpiece trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white phalaenopsis orchids.

The two o'clock service at Christ Church Cranbrook, was performed by the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce G. Booth of Birmingham are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mitchell of Detroit are Robert's parents.

COUSIN TAKES PART

Barbara Hamel, cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. William Mahler of Detroit, Barbara Leake of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Richard Mitchell of Detroit.

Bridal attendants wore white taffeta waltz-length gowns with sweetheart necklines and short sleeves. Pale yellow taffeta cummerbunds formed bustle bows.

They carried bouquets of yellow daisies and ivy and wore small crowns of ivy and yellow daisies.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Stewart Armstrong served as best man, and ushers were William Bootz, David Lawrence, Eric Gortney, Richard T. Booth and Donald C. Booth.

Following a reception at Orchard Lake Country Club, the bride changed to a pale gray suit with white accessories and wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet. The pair will honeymoon on the Caribbean Islands.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Booth wore a navy silk costume suit with white accessories and white orchids pinned to her handbag. Mrs. Mitchell wore blue lace with a small matching hat and a corsage of white camellias.

The newlyweds will reside in Oak Park.

Rock 'n' Roll Not New in Portugal

U. S. Dance Craze Is Same as Fandango, Centuries Old

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

LISBON (AP)—I had to come to Portugal to find out that there is very little new under the sun.

For instance, the Portuguese have been doing the rock 'n' roll for centuries, only they call it the fandango.

The dance was part of a floor show at a restaurant in Salvaterra, some 30 miles from Lisbon, where on Sundays they serve a seven-course meal all day long, with peasant songs and dances by local boys and girls.

We were seated at tables strewn with red and white roses. On stage were the fandango dancers and a flamenco orchestra, consisting of two accordions and a piano. Both dancers and musicians were children recruited from nearby farms, where bull-raising is the chief occupation.

The girls wore bright red or green skirts with elaborately embroidered aprons in gay contrasting tones, vivid scarfs or little flower hats, white blouses and knee-length white wool socks without any feet. The dancing is done barefoot. The boys wore white shirts, red vests and dark blue knee breeches with brass buttons.

As the astonishing meal unfolded, the dancers took turns in groups of four or six, doing their traditional dances. But the most popular, the one in which the customers join in and clap hands and shout, is simply the Portuguese version of rock 'n' roll in fancy dress. American boys and girls could take few lessons from these stamping, swaying, clapping dancers, who assured us that this was something that had been going on in Portugal for many generations.

Hammond Lake Group Plans First Dance

Mrs. William G. Kemp is serving as general chairman of the first social event scheduled for members of Hammond Lake Estates Civic Association.

Members have planned a dance at Elks Temple on May 17, with music by a popular out-of-town orchestra, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Assisting Mrs. Kemp are Mr. and Mrs. John Flood, Mr. and Mrs. James Youngblood, Mrs. Edward Hackett, Mrs. Gordon Doule, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitfield and Mrs. Harcourt Patterson.

Mrs. Richard DeWitt Hostess to Chapter

Mrs. Richard DeWitt and Mrs. Ralph Behler reported on the recent Gamma Gambol dance held by Gamma chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority at the Tuesday meeting. Mrs. DeWitt of Chelting-ham drive entertained the group.

Mrs. William K. Baer was program chairman assisted by Mrs. Thomas Moffat. Members made Easter baskets to be distributed to youngsters at the Oakland County Juvenile Home.

Combing Your Hair

If you comb your hair, perhaps you shouldn't. Too often your hair-do is beautiful until you comb through it. Then it never looks quite the same. There are several reasons for this; including the operator's technique. But today, let's look at how you arrange your hair between trips to the beauty shop. If you use a comb, you probably wonder why your hair looks smoother and bulkier when you are finished. The teeth of the comb separate the hair strands, giving the opposite effect to the one desired. Use a brush for an attractive, quick hair dressing. The bristles of the brush bring the hairs together in a compact arrangement. When brushing for the purpose of arranging, follow the brush with the other hand so the hair will not bound away from the head when the brush leaves the hair.

Rest, Quiet Are Needed by Husband

Wife Asks How to Discourage Visits From Friends

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter explains: "My husband is coming home from the hospital in a day or two and will need plenty of rest and quiet. When friends stop me and say that they will be in to see John when he comes home, how can I tactfully tell them that I would prefer they didn't come—at least not for awhile — without seeming rude."

Answer: If he has been very ill, it would not be rude to tell neighbors and acquaintances that he is still too weak to have visitors but that he would love to see them later on when he is stronger, and that you will be more than glad to let them know when that time comes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in good taste to wear both silver and gold jewelry at the same time?"

Answer: If it looks well together —yes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A year ago I married for the second time. My husband has an 18-year-old daughter and I have a 21-year-old son. The two are planning to be married this summer.

"I am puzzled as to how the invitations should read. Also, must my husband be seated on the bride's side of the church and I on the bridegroom's side, or may we be seated together?"

Answer: There is no conventional wording for this invitation because the situation is most unusual. However, the following wording seems to me very appealing:

Mr. and Mrs. John Blank request the honour of your presence at the marriage of Mr. Blank's daughter Mary Louise
to
Mrs. Blank's son
Henry Jones
etc.

After your husband gives his daughter in marriage he would take his place beside you.

Mothers Now Push Girls Into Premature Adulthood

Modern Daughters Never Know Joys of Carefree Tomboy Childhood

By RUTH MILLETT

Girls don't have any childhood these days, I recently heard a sweet-faced grandmother remark. And I think she has a point.

They don't have very much. Many of them get their first permanent waves before they start to school.

At an age when they should be climbing trees and skipping rope, their mothers are training and grooming them for future "popularity."

By the time they are through junior high they are bored with formal dances, a corsage is just another bunch of flowers, and they are looking at the label instead of the dress when they go shopping.

They can't even eat with enjoyment — because, with even more self-control than their mothers, they are counting calories.

Unless they have old-fashioned mothers—and few of them do—they completely miss the childhood stage of being tomboys.

PUSHED FORWARD

But they suit their mothers, who keep pushing them ahead so fast they never know what childhood really is.

Boys are luckier. But even they are having to start dating before they really give a hoot about girls because the girls' mothers are giving dances for their daughters.

It is sad that today's mothers hold so little regard for childhood they can't wait for their daughters to grow up but keep pushing them toward adult ways and adult standards.

Why can't they let them be children until they decide for themselves that they want to be grown-up?

Turn orlon sweaters inside out before sudsing, rinsing, and drying. The seams will dry faster, smoother, and flatter.

Pythian Sisters Convene Here Today

Fannie E. Tompkins Temple 41, Pythian Sisters, is hostess today to the annual district convention being held at Knights of Pythias Hall. Mrs. Wilma Kelly of Birmingham, district deputy, is presiding during the session.

The convention was opened with greetings from Pontiac Mayor William Donaldson. Lafayette Temple 52, of Detroit, gave the response.

Speaker during the morning session was Mrs. Dorothy Wischer of Marshall, grand chief of the state.

Musical selections were presented by the Senior Girls' Vocal Ensemble of Pontiac High School, under the direction of Mrs. Doreen Voltman: Lee Patterson accompanied at the piano.

HOSTESS FOR PARTY

Mrs. Phyllis Wilson, most excellent chief of Fannie E. Tompkins Temple, is official hostess for the convention.

Among the temples in the district which are participating are Birmingham Temple 94, Liberty Temple 44 of Clawson, Big Sister Temple 150 of Flint, Mt. Clemens Temple 142, Hope Temple 157 of Owosso, and Lafayette Temple 52 of Detroit.

City Osteopathic Hospital Guild Elects Officers

Mrs. H. E. Jones of Franklin Village was elected president of the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Guild. Also serving will be Mrs. J. J. Lobikis of Orchard Lake, vice president; Mrs. S. H. Klinkhammer, secretary, and Mrs. William E. Crommet, treasurer.

Election was held at a recent meeting held at the hospital. Annual reports were read and Mrs. J. J. Cavanaugh and Mrs. H. E. Jones served as hostesses.

Mrs. B. F. Dickinson is chairman of a money-making project. She will be assisted by Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. H. R. Bridenstine, Mrs. D. E. Fraser, Mrs. L. C. Johnson, Mrs. M. C. Worster and Mrs. L. E. Bilodeau.

Janice A. Andersen, R. E. Beauchamp Wed

Janice Arlene Andersen and Robert Ernest Beauchamp Jr. exchanged marriage vows on April 6 before Justice Willis Lefurgy. Janice is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Andersen of South Anderson street. Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Beauchamp of Auburn Heights are Robert's parents.

On Sunday a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for members of the immediate families.

Are You a Unitarian Without Knowing It?

Do you believe the Bible to be an inspiring human document rather than the literal "word of God?"
Do you believe Jesus to have been a great religious teacher, rather than a pre-existent or present day diety?
Do you believe the development of character to be more important than the accepting of religious creeds?
Do you believe that "religious truth" to be acceptable must be in harmony with the truth in every field, science included?
Do you believe in the brotherhood of man, irrespective of nation, race or creed?
Do you believe the purpose of religion is to help us live this life nobly and constructively?
If you do, then you think as most Unitarians do.

A meeting of those interested in Unitarianism is to be held at the Pontiac Savings and Loan Lounge, 761 W. Huron, Friday, April 19th, 8:00 P. M.

Be Wary of Bargains

The love of a bargain has led many a woman into a fashion fiasco. Then she's faced with two possibilities: wearing something she dislikes or letting it stay around in her closet. Moral: Approach any sale with caution and an exact knowledge of your fashion needs.

Layette Set Eyes Trend in Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE

Babies are the most important members of today's society—and they are rapidly becoming the most numerous.

With a new record baby crop forecast for 1957, designers and manufacturers are working overtime to provide the correct fashions for today's discerning youngest set.

Last year almost four and a quarter million new babies were born in the United States. This year the prospects are for even more. The year 1957 will be the seventh record-breaking year for the baby population, according to present statistics. This means more and better baby clothes, more high chairs, rattles, toys, baby carriages and, of course, homes, automobiles and schools.

In tune with the tempo of the times, today's babies are definitely fashion conscious. They start watching television shows while they are still taking their bottles, and by the time they can toddle they have definite ideas about what they want to wear.

Manufacturers of baby garments from layette to kindergarten, thus are put on their mettle. And this year they have come up with new answers to the problem of clothing baby—new designs to please the small wearer, new fabrics and finishes to make life easy for mother.

Newest trend is a strict separation of styles for boy and girl babies, from the cradle up. Girls' styles must be strictly feminine, boys' clothes definitely man-tailored.

Summer Dresses Appear Elegant

A young summer dance dress of white silk organdy with a hemline applique and neck "fill" of black lace is shown here. A Ceil Chapman design from her summer collection.

Orange floral splashes on white silk . . . designed by Adele Simpson for summer evenings. The cowl neckline drapes softly over a moulded bodice and the gentle rounded skirt is self-belted at the natural waistline.

Some Hairs in Eyebrow Are Natural

Nature didn't bless all of us with thick, nicely shaped eyebrows. Most of us have eyebrows in need of shaping and plucking and the help of an eyebrow pencil.

But the hand that reshapes a brow has to be skillful. The painted brow that arches into the hairline, the one that is too thick or too thin, the line that is too dark or too light, any one of these detracts from beauty.

You'll need to experiment, of course, before you find the right brow line. Try to leave some brow hairs in, particularly at the start of the brow, in order to insure a natural look.

Don't draw the brows on in one hard, shiny line. Use quick, short strokes that copy the brow hairs.

And when you've finished, powder over the brow lightly to take away that shine. Use a swansdown or a lamb's wool puff in order to fluff the powder on lightly. And take care of those stragglers under (never above) the brow line. They should be plucked once a week.

A flourishing trade in Tibet still is making false whiskers from yak's tails in Lhasa.

Genuine or Plastic, Cracks Easily; Do Not Lubricate

EAST LANSING—Patent leather shoes and accessories, a sure sign of spring, need a little understanding.

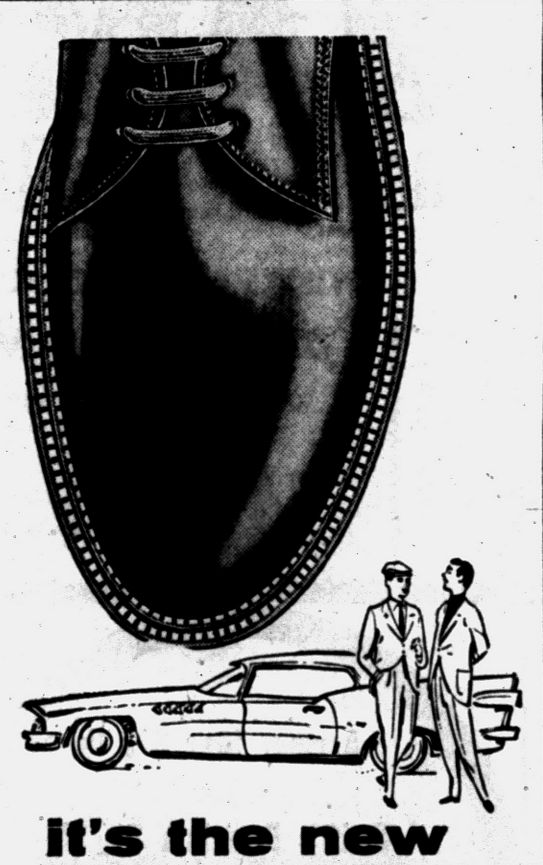

Genuine patent leather is a shiny lacquer coating applied to smooth leather such as cowhide, calf, kid or colt. It and the plastic patent are 'hot' shoes to wear, because the pores of the leather and the plastic are closed by the coating. They are also very subject to temperaturue changes and so will crack easily.

To get the best wear, she recommends you not wear patent shoes day after day. Give them a rest and let them return to their original shape. To cleam them, use a damp cloth to remove marks and wipe them dry. It is never necessary to lubricate patent with any kind of oil or cream, because the pores are closed and cannot absorb it.

Avoid quick temperature changes, keeping in mind that your feet are warm and wearing the shoes out in cold weather is a sure invitation to cracking.

For patent handbags, plastic patents will give the best wear for the money.

Bob Considine Says:

Nomination of Reporter Applauded

NEW YORK (INS) — President Eisenhower's nomination of Henry J. Taylor for U. S. ambassador to Switzerland is a happy choice.

It seems to have occasioned surprise here and there, editorially. But the only surprise in this particular breast is why presidents so seldom get around to sending trained reporters on essentially fact-finding and listening-post diplomatic jobs.

Presidents past and present have had some real lulus forced upon them as ambassadors and ministers on the ground that good old Hugo not only gave the party all that money during the campaign but his old lady insists on it.

So off go Hugo and the old gal, in striped pants and concealed lorgnette, respectively, and they live it up in the embassy or ministry abroad until there's a change of administration or Hugo boots one too many easy rollers.

It is unfair to generalize, but more often than not the real work is done by the pros in the outer office — the career people who couldn't afford to foot the extra expenses involved in such a job—and Hugo and Mamma come back home with scarcely one more bit of knowledge than they took over in the first place, and that was less than legal.

U. S. GENTLEMAN

When Taylor is confirmed, we will send a first - rate American gentleman to a fine country we tend to ignore because it wants nothing from us. Mrs. Taylor, Henry's wife for nearly 30 years and mother of their fine reporter son, is the prototype of the perfect hostess and willing worker for charity.

Switzerland is a bank set in the middle of tension on the north, east, south and west. Taylor is as well known to economists as he is to working reporters and radio people.

He is a member of the advisory board of the Chemical Corn Exchange. National Committee for Sound Fiscal Policy, and the author of countless tracts and books in that field, including "Germany's Economy of Coercion."

As a reporter, he covered probably more of World War II for NANA, for Scripps, Reader's Digest, Saturday Evening Post, Life, the Saturday Review and other periodicals than any other war correspondent.

In peace, he has covered every major conference, including the talks "at the summit," and each national political convention since 1928. In the semi-cold war he was nearly killed covering Algerian riots not long ago. Taylor is a man who likes to get close, the better to report.

OUTSTANDING JOB

The last time Ike took a chance on a reporter, the chosen ambassador did a job that even her enemies hailed as outstanding. We mean Clare Luce.

The Kremlin applauded the choice secretly, sent Alexander Bogomolov in against her—to preside over the transition of Italy to a Communist state. During their three-year contest, the Italian Communist Party, largest in Europe, was cut in half. Bogomolov was recalled in February.

The situation is not the same in Switzerland, of course. But from here it appears that the President has come up with a man who'll do another first-class job.

Through the years, it seems to me, the nation has lost the services of many people who could have filled diplomatic jobs admirably. They were overlooked for reasons as untenable as their allegiance to another political party within this country, and for reasons even less tolerable.

I think Anne O'Hare McCormick, the late great New York Times woman, would have made a fine ambassador. So would have, or would, H. V. Kaltenborn. Grantland Rice was another. So was George R. Holmes.

But it is as warped to confine this statement to newsmen as it has been, in the past, to pass them up when such jobs were available. Each field has produced good but neglected timber.

I've had a sure feeling through the years that nobody, but nobody, could represent us better in a glowering contest in Moscow than John L. Lewis.

Aero Club Will Hear USAF General White

DETROIT (INS)—The president of the Aero Club of Michigan said Thomas D. White, vice chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force, will be the honored guest speaker at the 48th annual meeting of the Aero Club.

C. J. Reese, president, said the meeting will be held April 23. General White was recently nominated for the position of chief of staff of the Air Force to succeed General Nathan F. Twining.

Mail Catalogs Are Their Text Books

BOULDER, Colo. (INS) — Mail order catalogs and super-markets are being used to train 15 Hungarian refugees who have enrolled at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Most of the refugee - students speak no English. Professors at C. U. are hoping to combine orientation in their new environment with a quick mastery of language skills.

Starting from the catalogs and first grade primers, the Hungarians will graduate to light fiction and newspapers before tackling heavier academic works.

To aid further their speedy integration into campus life, each of the refugees is housed with American students and must carry on everyday conversations in their newly-chosen language.

The students were given special scholarships by the University's Board of Regents last semester. It is hoped they will be prepared to enter a normal schedule of academic classes by summer.

New Season, Old Story for Tigers

A's Again Beat Detroit, 2-1, in Season Opener

Yankee Castoff Holds Bengals to Four Hits; Bunning Pitches Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers started a brand new season in old - year form yesterday, dropping their third straight opening day game to the Kansas City Athletics.

Big Tom Morgan held the Tigers to four hits and Kansas City outfielder Gus Zernial smashed a 6th inning lead-off home run against Frank Lary to hand the Alabama righthander his second successive season opener defeat by a score of 2-1.

Zernial's seventh-inning double off Lary last year broke up the opener at Briggs Stadium in Detroit.

A crowd of 24,457 sat through a misty rain to watch the Tigers get their 57th American League season under way.

Lary, whose 21 victories last season led the American League, battled Morgan, who was traded to the A's by the New York Yankees last winter, on almost even terms until the 6th when Zernial banged one over the left field wall.

Joe DeMaestri drove home Jim Pisoni with the A's winning run in the 7th after Pisoni singled and advanced on Morgan's sacrifice.

The Tigers, limited to two hits by Morgan for the first seven innings, almost got things started in the eighth. With one out, Harvey Kuenn poked a single to right. Al Kaline forced Kuenn on a fielder's choice but Charley Maxwell slammed a triple past Johnny Groth in right, scoring Kaline.

Morgan, however, forced Ray Boone to fly out to end the threat.

Lary walked only one batter and fanned four in giving up seven hits.

Jim Bunning is scheduled to face Ned Garver when the Tigers meet the A's again today.

Musial Aims for NL Title

Majors Following Pattern

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The 1957 major league season is barely 24 hours old on a full-fledged basis, yet everything seems to be falling into the predicted pattern:

1. Stan (The Man) Musial wasn't kidding when he said he was shooting for his seventh National League batting title. He was 4-for-4 as the St. Louis Cardinals, picked as the "most improved club," tagged the Cincinnati Redlegs 13-4 in yesterday's opener.

2. The Milwaukee Braves, out to show they can do the job and generally conceded the best pitching staff in the league, came from behind to beat the Chicago Cubs 4-1 on Warren Spahn's four-hit pitching.

3. Tom Morgan, insisting all along he was a starting pitcher and not a reliefer, made his first start since July 4, 1955, went all the way and beat Detroit 2-1 with a four-hitter for the Kansas City Athletics as an escapee from the New York Yankee bullpen.

4. Newcomer Gino Cimoli, described in the spring by Manager Walt Alston as "one guy who has to be in the line-up," belted a 12th inning home run to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7-6 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies in the lone night game.

In other National League action, the Pittsburgh Pirates ended an eight-game jinx by defeating southpaw Johnny Antonelli and the New York Giants 9-2.

In the American, the Chicago White Sox and Billy Pierce outlasted the Cleveland Indians and Herb Score 3-2 in 11 innings; the New York Yankees broke up a tie in the ninth to defeat the Washington Senators and Chuck Stobbs 2-1, and Boston's Red Sox packed their punch into one inning to end Baltimore's stay in first place 4-2.

Musial, the 36-year-old lefty swinger who wants to hit .340—his lifetime average — this season doubled twice to lead the 17-hit Cardinal attack. Herm Wehmeier spiked the Redlegs' big guns, permitting only four extra base hits (all doubles into the overflow crowd of 32,554 in Cincinnati's chummy Crosley Field). Rookie Bobby Gene Smith homered with two on and Wally Moon socked a three-run shot for the Cards. Johnny Klippstein lost it, the Redlegs' worst opening day defeat since 1911.

The night opener, first in Phillie history, drew 37,667—a season-opening record for the Phils.

The Pirates managed just three hits off Antonelli, but his own bobble of a bunt led to two fifth inning runs and their first decision over the lefty ace since 1955. Frank Thomas homered for the Bucs, who wrapped it up for righthander Bob Friend with six runs in the eighth—only one of them earned—against reliefer Marv Grissom. Red Schoendienst had three hits for the Giants, with the first of his two doubles his 2,001st safety in the majors.

PARTING WAYS — Washington catcher Ed Fitzgerald leaves his mask behind as he leaps to pick up the ball when Andy Carey of the New York Yankees struck in the Yankee Stadium opener yesterday. Fitzgerald threw to first after dropping the third strike. New York won, 2-1.

FORCED OUT — Jim Finigan of the Detroit Tigers finds second base the end of the line on this play which Kansas City 2nd baseman Milt Graff made for the force out and attempted double play. The A's beat the Tigers in the opener, 2-1.

Paul Richards, who made his mark as a catcher, broke in as a third baseman and shortstop with Pittsfield, Mass., in the Eastern League in 1926.

Records Fall in Women's National Swimming Meet

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Olympic winner Shelley Mann is out to top her own 200-yard butterfly mark tonight in the wake of three record-breaking performances in the National AAU senior women's indoor swimming and diving championships.

"Why these kids make me feel like an old lady," said 19-year-old Shelley after watching three pretty teen-agers—Sylvia Ruuska, Carin Cone and Molly Botkin — splash to new records in last night's opening of the three-day meet.

Miss Ruuska, a freckled-faced 14-year-old representing the Berkeley, Calif., YMCA, was clocked at 5:08 in a 400-yard individual medley qualifying heat. This bettered the world's record set by M. Kok of Holland in 1955. Miss Ruuska returned to win the final in 5:08.1.

Fifteen-year-old Miss Cone, of Ridgewood, N.J., turned in 2:25.2 in the 200-yard backstroke to break the American and national indoor women's marks she set last year.

Miss Botkin, 13, of Sherman Oaks, Calif., won the 100-yard freestyle final in a record 58.3 after a record-equaling qualifying heat of 58.5. The old mark was set by Chicago's Jody Alderson three years ago.

Morgan Happy He's Pitching for Athletics

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "You can tell everybody that I am real happy to be working for the Kansas City Athletics."

That's what Tom Morgan said after pitching the Athletics to a 2-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers in a damp American League season opener before 24,457 fans yesterday.

It was Morgan's first start in an opening game and the fact he beat Frank Lary, Detroit ace, made it even more important to him.

"I was named to start the season opener for the Yankees against Washington in 1951, but that one was rained out," Morgan said. "This was the first chance I had to work in an opener and I just hope I convinced the Kansas City fans I like to pitch for them."

Chief Linksmen Win Opener Over 'Jacks

Paced by the medalist shooting of Jerry Martin, up from the 1956 JV squad, Pontiac High's golfers yesterday opened their season with an 8½-6½ victory over Arthur Hill. Jerry hit 77 on the Saginaw CC layout. Sam Coleman was close with 79 and the No. 1 PHS player, Dick Singleton, carded 82.

Maple Nine Wins, 6-0

Birmingham opened its 1957 baseball season by defeating Southfield 6-0 yesterday.

Tom Estes and Larry Hower shared the Maple pitching duties, giving up four hits between them.

West Bloomfield Nips Northville

Northville's Dick Biery piled up 14¼ points yesterday in a triangular track meet at Keego Harbor, but his efforts were to no avail as the Mustangs were nosed out by West Bloomfield, 57⅔ to 57. Bloomfield Hills was far in arrears with 22⅓ points.

Biery won the broad jump and the 440, took runner-up honors in the high jump and ran a leg on Northville's winning 880 relay team. Larry Hollister won the high hurdles and finished 2nd twice to score 11¾ points for the Lakers. Bill Bowland won the 100 and 220-yard dashes for Bloomfield Hills.

PHS Jayvee tracksters had two double winners in Fred Broks and Marcus Turner, but couldn't compile enough other points to stop Milford's varsity from taking a 72 2/3—35⅓ win, at Milford, yesterday afternon. Loss leaves Little Chiefs with a 1-1 record.

Turner won the 100 (11.05) and the 220 in which Broks was 2nd and Harrison Munson 3rd. Broks won the high and broad jumps, with Willie Robinson 2nd (HJ) and Jim Mathis tied for 2nd (BJ). John O'Day was 2nd in the mile, Bob Hunt 3rd.

Chiefs Win Tuneup Over Pointers

By H. GUY MOATS

Several unexpected developments emerged from yesterday afternoon's 3rd dual track meet for Pontiac High's Chiefs. Dean Wilson's boys won the tuneup for the big Mansfield event this weekend, defeating a good Grosse Pointe squad 68⅔—40⅔.

But the spotlight was on speedy John Phlegm, who blossomed out as a potentially fine hurdler Phlegm, running his first 180-yard lows clipped the sticks in the fast time of 20.7 seconds.

A condition for his appearance in the low hurdles was that he also run the highs. He did, and was a close second to Grosse Pointe's Ted Price (15.9 seconds). Phlegm's fine showing clinched a place on the Mansfield squad. He also ran anchor on the winning 880-yard relay team.

Bill Jamison's 10 foot 6 inch win in the pole vault was another bright spot. Bill, holding down a job outside school hours has not had any practice except at the meets, but is the most improved vaulter on the team.

Several top Chiefs were not in action. Rog Coates, ace miler was held out because of a nasal ailment, and to permit him to rest for Mansfield. Chiefs lost this event to Rem Purdy of Grosse Pointe.

Pontiac took nine firsts, Pointers four. Meet was close until Hudson Ray, Alex and Charley Barge swept the high jump. Ray also won the broad jump for his 3rd straight double-win meet. PHS shotputters Mike Hardiman, Don McKay and Willie Duncan swept that event.

Wilson announced today that besides Phlegm and Coates, the traveling squad for Mansfield would include Ray, Fred Brooks, (high jump); Archie Brooks, (440 and broad jump); Hardiman, Jim Hawkins (hurdles); Lessie Watkins (hurdles); Dick Keller (hurdles); Joe Hill (100, 880 relay); Alex Barge (880 relay); Tom Conley (880 relay), and Larry Beamer (half mile).

Bill Would Hike Hunting Fee

LANSING (AP) — Bills to boost the cost of hunting licenses and strip the conservation department of its authority to set "any deer" seasons were reported out of the house conservation committee Tuesday.

Both measures now go to the floor of the house for action there.

Rep. Frederic J. Marshall (R-Allen), committee chairman, said the license fee increases as recommended by the committee would bring in an estimated $1,500,000 a year in new revenue to the game and fish protection fund.

The biggest source of revenue would come from an increase in the resident deer license fee from $3.50 to $5 and a boost in the resident small game charge from $3 to $3.

Other recommended increases call for:

Bow and arrow hunting — resident $3.50 to $5; non-resident, $10 to $15. Deer-non-resident, retained at $35. Small game — non-resident, $15 to $20. Camp license non-resident, $3.50 to $10; resident, $2 to $3.

Rep. John Kilbourne (R - Petoskey), chairman of the house fish and fisheries committee, said his group probably would act Thursday on proposed increases of fish license fees.

The bill to take setting of special deer seasons away from the conservation department, sponsored by Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee), is strongly opposed by the conservation department which maintains its authority to set brief seasons for killing deer of either sex is a major factor in its program of deer herd control.

Jacobetti, however, asserted the program is steadily decreasing the size of the herd throughout the upper peninsula and possibly in the Lower Peninsula.

Marshall said a number of the committee members who voted to send the bill to the floor actually were opposed to it but preferred to give house members a say on the matter.

Kids Learn Truth About Fishing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kid fishing projects are getting a sudden change.

But it's all right to look. Everything's as decent as a 1911 swimming suit. The only thing dampened was some misguided enthusiasm on the part of some helpful adults.

For quite a spell the idea, seemed to be to get youngsters interested in angling by starting them in under deliberately phony fishing conditions far better than they ever were likely to see on their own.

Kind-hearted sportsmen, sportsmen's clubs and the like set up shop on handy pools or lagoons, piled in fish by the bucketful and then ran contests giving prizes to the young'uns who could haul out the most fish, the biggest and so on.

This gave the kids a picture of angling that was about as accurate as a comic book depiction of astrophysics, and about as sporting as hitting your grandmother over the head with her own crutch.

Even fish and game officials were roped into this ultimately dismaying nonsense. After all, what public servant wants to become famous as a fellow who sternly denied a few fish to little children?

However, the fullness of time has started to solve the delicate problem.

One of the newest developments came Saturday, when trout fishing season opened in New York. Rod and reel expert Joan Salvato conducted the first of a series of fishing clinics for boys and girls at Central Park Lake in New York.

WHAT'S ITS NAME?—That is the question Mrs. Charles Proulx, 367 Newport, Pontiac, would like answered. Her 5-year-old son Peter (above) picked up the pert little bird in a field, took it home. It's now thriving in a vacant canary cage.

Off-Season Hatch?

Baby Bird Found in Field

By H. GUY MOATS

Little Peter Proulx started an interesting round of conjecture this week when he discovered a tiny brown-flecked bird "just walking along" in a field. Peter, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Proulx, 367 Newport, Pontiac, took the feathered stroller home where it now seems to be settled down to a life of ease, in the former home of a canary.

All the speculation revolves about the identity of the pert, full-feathered creature. The bird unafraid of humans, has taken to a diet of bird seed with avidity. It shows none of the wild-creature fear of being handled and sits contentedly in Peter's hand.

It is the size of a small sparrow, brown-white flecked feathers, and a tiny, half-inch long white-tipped spade tail, with wings too short at present for flight marks the bird.

Some who have seen it thought it might be a quail. But conservation men say this is hardly likely, as quail do not nest until warmer weather (late May). They are also sure it is not a tiny, off-season hatched pheasant, nor a lark. It has some characteristics of the latter bird, but outdoor people say it is far too early for such a situation.

"The fact that it is fully feathered out" says Cyril Adams, Rochester conservation man, young bird."

Sportsmen's Club Approves Year's Committee Heads

Executive committee of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club has selected the following committee chairmen to serve during the current year.

By-laws, Ed Spicer; parliamentarian, Jerry Rustem; membership, Dr. P. B. Jones and Ed Spicer; building and grounds, Walt Mason; legislative, Bob White; insurance, Jerry Woolever, Tice Woody, and Dr. P. B. Jones; conservation, Charley Miles; M.U.C.C., Ed Spicer, planning committee, executive officers.

Concessions, Frank Ketchum; prize, Ed Spicer; farmer relations, Lewis Wrenn; snack bar, Jerry Rustem; police and parking, Melvin Jurva; small game and waterfowl, Charles Chapman; water resources, Warren Neuenschwander; skeet and trap, Homer Coss; archery, Tom Adams; beagle club, Ed Baker Jr.; Junior Rifle Club, Elyis Henry and Merrick Guy; Pistol Club, Fred Mayer, and Rifle Club, Robert Gubbins.

This, as noted, is just one of the new developments. A number of states have gritted their teeth and clamped down of fishing "contests" for kids.

State Readies Trout 'Plants'

For the first time, according to present indications, Drayton Plains state fish hatchery will not make the annual spring stream planting of trout in Oakland County waters.

"So far as we know now," said a hatchery official today, "the spring planting will be done by the Wolf Lake Hatchery (near Kalamazoo). We do not have any trout in our ponds for planting, and it seems more convenient to simply transport the fish from Wolf Lake and make the plants directly."

This work usually starts about this time, continues to the season's opening on April 27.

Area lakes were stocked last fall with more than 40,000 trout (39,000 rainbows, browns in streams 1,400 and 300 brooks in streams). In addition to this total 10,000 lake trout were planted, mostly in Maceday Lake.

The second game of the 1956 World Series was the longest nine-inning Series game in history. It lasted three hours, 26 minutes. Brooklyn beat the Yankees, 13-8.

Slaps 'Panther Hunt'

Called Bad Sportsmanship: Some Hints for Fly Addicts

By JACK PATTERSON

Recent events up around Cedarville leave small doubt in the mind of the reflective reader that certain elements among our hunting fraternity have little to commend them as conservationists or sportsmen. We refer to the hundred man posse which took the field on the strength of reports that a cougar, panther, mountain lion, puma, catamount — all euphemisms for the same animal, Felis concolor — was abroad in the area.

PATTERSON

It is a sad commentary on human nature that the appearance of a strange animal, however harmless, serves to touch off mob action aimed at its destruction. Because it is different it is alien, it is a menace and must go.

Appearance of a cougar in Upper Michigan, after a half-century absence from the eastern U. S. would be a minor miracle. Such an unlikely visitor should receive the blessings of sportsmen everywhere as a tangible link with the vanishing wilderness.

Until a qualified observer reports the presence of F. concolor in the Upper we'll certainly entertain grave doubts that he exists in the area. Should he, however, in fact exist, we wish him a long life and may he always keep three jumps ahead of the vigilantes and stay out of trees when they put the hounds on him.

Incidentally, while on the subject of big cats, we advise the owner of that black dog in Leonard to keep him about the house for the next few days. Another "panther" sighting in such short order would probably see the inconveniences of martial law imposed upon us.

There's only a week and a half to kill before the trout season opens and although most openers will pin their hopes on back yard bivisibles real trout fishermen will sink or swim with artificials. We have uncovered a source of nicely tied dry flies with superb hackle, a far cry from the usual commercial shaving brushes. The tier also does a splendid job on wets and bucktails. Name on request.

The old saw that the "colder the water the smaller the bait" should tip opening anglers off to the possibilities of midget streamers. Although they work well later as a change-of-pace gimmick we see no reason not to try them early.

A wet fly which seems to us much overlooked is the Alexandra. Wet it resembles a small trout. It was once banned from English streams because of its efficacy. Need we add anything to that?

In the fly-only streams, on which a great many openers will concentrate, we'll put our money on the nymph fisherman. Admittedly difficult to fish, nymphs come about as close to a sure thing day in and day out as has been developed. Always a very large part of trout diet, nymphs may be sole item in cold early water.

Dartmouth had its best football record in seven seasons in 1956 when the Big Green had five wins, three defeats and one tie.

LOS ANGELES — Dan Fortmann, former outstanding Chicago Bears guard, is now a priminent physician in Los Angeles.

Montreal Takes Stanley Cup

MONTREAL (AP)—The 1957 Stanley Cup final passed today into hockey history, the last chapter recording on blood-tinged pages Montreal's victory over the Boston Bruins.

The most savagely fought game of the series — a game that had its highlights of fighting, brawling, slashing — turned out to be a comparatively easy 5-1 win last night for the hard-hitting Canadiens.

The Canadiens finished off the best-of-7 series with a 4-1 margin. Over the five-game distance they outscored the Bruins 15-6.

The underdog Bruins, hopeful after a win Sunday in Boston, ran in to the heaviest bumping and checking of the series at the hands of the determined Canadiens, playing before the largest home crowd of the season — 15,286 jammed into the Montreal Forum.

From the time rookie Andre Pronovost scored the first goal late in the opening period, the crowd sensed a Montreal victory —the second successive cup win.

The five Montreal goals were scored by as many players — Pronovost, Dickie Moore, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, Don Marshall and Floyd Curry. Boston's lone goal was scored by scrappy Leo Labine.

Referee Frank Udvari called 17 penalties, including three five-minutes majors.

The first period was the wildest —five penalties to each team. Fern Flaman of Boston and Bert Olmstead were tossed out for fighting, with minor penalties added, and Leo Labine aws tagged with a minor penalty in the same uprising.

Johnny Pierson of the Bruins and Dollard St. Laurent of Montreal put on a high-sticking duel in the second period, Pierson coming out of it with a slight cut on the head and St. Laurent with a major penalty for drawing blood.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Montreal's colorful veteran, was bowled over by Doug Mohns' solid body check in the third period. The Rocket suffered a slight concussion and needed three stitches in the back of his head.

Bob Armstrong, hefty Boston defenseman, rammed into the boards in trying to prevent Moore from scoring early in the second period and was taken to hospital for X-ray examination of a badly injured right ankle.

At the center-ice ceremony the cup was presented to captain Maurice Richard by Cooper Smeaton, cup trustee. There were a few speeches — all brief — and Canadiens went to their dressing room. It was a bedlam. The cup was filled with champagne and passed around. A victory celebration at a downtown hotel followed.

'Freeze' on With Majors

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — John Kobs, Michigan State baseball coach and chairman of the NCAA baseball rules committee, gave a report today on the cold war between the colleges and the pros.

"We agreed to give the cold shoulder to pro scouts who come nosing around looking for talent," Kobs said. "I can already say it seems to be working."

The fuss between the colleges and the pros started because the major leagues decided to junk a former hands-off policy of not signing college players before graduation.

"They mostly ignored it anyway," said Kobs. "They claimed they junked it because the minor leagues wouldn't go along with it. But the minor leagues are all owned and voted by the majors and that was just a subterfuge."

Kobs said the NCAA baseball coaches agreed to ban pro scouts from their dressing rooms and to keep them away from the college players.

"You can't keep them out of the stands," he said, "but you can refuse to cooperate with them. I think the agreement has done some good already. At least, by giving them the freeze, we're showing the major leagues we mean business."

Kobs said he, personally, was a little bit sorry to have to give the cold shoulder to the pro scouts.

Cats Sign Ex-Badger

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — The Hamilton Tiger-Cats announced last night they have signed tackle-linebacker Dave Summinski for the 1957 Big Four Football Union season.

Summinski, a star at the University of Wisconsin in 1952, played last year with the Chicago Cardinals of the NFL.

WEST POINT — Army's biggest football scores were wins over Colgate by 55-46 last season, and the all-time mark of 89-7 over Dickinson in 1929.

Webb Seeking KO of Sandy Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Spider Webb of Chicago, No. 3 middleweight contender, will be under orders to try for a knockout tonight in aiming for his 20th straight victory against Randy Sandy.

Webb is a 2-1 favorite in the nationally televised — 10 p.m. EST, ABC — 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium and may get an early summer crack at the crown if he wins.

One of tonight's more interested spectators at ringside will be middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, who is in training in Chicago for his title defense in a rematch with Sugar Ray Robinson at the stadium May 1.

Spine Surgery Advised

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ronnie Hansen, highly-regarded 18-year-old shortstop prospect of the Baltimore Orioles, has been advised to submit to surgery on his spine for relief from a sciatic nerve condition.

It's Lean Year for NBA Draft

Club Trades May Make More News; Cincinnati Gets First Pick

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's such a lean year for talent the annual college draft of the National Basketball Assn. today may produce less news than trade maneuverings by club owners at the meeting.

Cincinnati, recently transferred from Rochester, is entitled to the first pick because of its lowest percentage of games won. Charlie Tyra, Louisville's 6-foot, 8-inch center, was believed to be its first choice.

Next in line are Detroit, transferred from Fort Wayne, Minneapolis, St. Louis, New York, Philadelphia, Syracuse and Boston.

Players expected to go fast are Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina, Hot Rod Hundley of West Virginia, Bill Ebben of Detroit, all three in the 6-4 to 6-5 range, and two 6-9 players — SMU's Jim Krebs and George BonSalle of Illinois.

New York acquired Detroit's first draft choice in the recent trade that sent Mel Hutchins to New York for Sweetwater Clivton and Harry Gallatin.

Pancho Boosts Margin

51 Listed in Bowlerama Finals

By CHUCK ABAIR

The list of qualifiers for the Pontiac Press Bowlerama's championship round was announced today by tournament officials following a complete check of averages with the ABC and WIBC for those in contention for title honors.

A total of 39 men and 12 women will take part in the finals set for Saturday at Huron Bowl. No bowling times have been established as yet, but are expected to be announced in Thursday's Press.

The qualifiers are based on the top 10 per cent of the scores rolled at the three participating qualifying locations during the past two weekends. Some 386 men made up the major portion of 494 entries in the 1st duch tourney which is the reason for the far greater number of men aspirants for top honors.

Men competing Saturday will represent the 13 leading bowlers during qualifying at each of the three alleys — Dixie Recreation, Land-O-Lakes and Auburn Lanes. The women qualified at the same locations last Saturday.

Original plans called for 11 women to reach the finals but a two-way deadlock for the last berth at Dixie between E. Bachnak and Donna Verhey placed both in the battle for big prizes.

The complete list of qualifiers with their scores may be found below. It is topped by Howard Compton, Dixie qualifier from Clarkston with 694. Gerry Weber heads the women at 664. Both are already assured of winning handsome Press qualifying trophies along with Lee Miller, Frank Pavlinac, Mrs. Karen Pargo and Lois Fletcher. All were the high qualifiers at their bowling sites.

There are also alternates for each alley group in both division in the event someone cannot take part in the finals.

The prize list which will be announced later this week will feature top guarantee awards of $400 for the man and $200 for the woman, plus desk-pen sets to each.

All participants in the championship session will roll three games across six alleys with scoring based on 70 per cent handicap 200 scratch.

Cary, Doug Favored

Prep for Rich Vegas Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Cary Middlecoff and Doug Ford shaped up as the main threats today as a picked field of 25 golfers played final practice rounds for the fifth annual $38,500 Tournament of Champions.

The 72-hole event gets under way tomorrow over the par 72, 7,102-yard Desert Inn Country Club course.

Middlecoff has played in all four previous tournaments, but his best finish was last year when he placed second, four strokes back of Gene Littler.

Ford, the 1957 Masters champion, played in the past three events but never was too strong a threat.

Each of the current field qualified for a shot at the $10,000 top prize by winning a PGA-sponsored 72-hole open during the preceding year. Every player is guaranteed at least $1,000.

Littler walked off with this rich one in 1955 and 1956, but he hasn't won a tournament since the last Las Vegas attraction.

One other past winner on deck is Art Wall Jr. Wall's 287 in 1954 still is the low score for the tournament. Littler had 291 last year and 290 in 1955.

Sam Snead and Jack Burke Jr., who won tournaments in the past year, elected to pass up Las Vegas.

Cranes Triumph on Cinder Path; Lose on Diamond

Cranbrook's baseball team came out on the short end of the score yesterday, but coach Don McEwen's Crane thinclads got off to a winning start in triangular competition.

The Cranes compiled 66½ points to defeat Berkley and Troy on the cinder paths. Berkley finished 2nd with 43 points while Troy tallied 27½.

Berkley's Jerry Meyer was the individual star of the meet with victories in both hurdles and the high jump. His leap of 5-11¼ in the high jump set a new school record at Berkley. Cranbrook's Bob Waddell won the 100 and 220 dashes.

A four-run uprising in the 10th inning gave Berkley's baseball squad a 5-1 win over the Cranes. All runs in the game were unearned. Franz Nubrecht pitched for the Bears and allowed only two hits while fanning 14. Dave Campbell was the loser.

Home Runs Help 'M' Rout Broncos, 10-3

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Ken Pippery's three-run homer in the opening inning started Michigan off to a 10-3 rout over Western Michigan yesterday in the first game of the Bronco's baseball season.

John Herrnstein homered for Michigan with none on in the third and the Wolverines added four more runs in the fourth inning and one more in the sixth.

Western Michigan got two runs off starter Don Poloskey in the fourth and their final tally in the sixth off Glenn Girdarnin.

Viking Thinclads Win Triangular

Larry Hughes scored 15½ points to lead Walled Lake's track team to victory over Orchard Lake St. Mary and Brighton in a triangular meet Tuesday at Orchard Lake. Walled Lake totaled 79 5/12 points, Orchard Lake 51 7/12 and Brighton 6.

Hughes won both hurdles, took 2nd in the broad jump and tied with teammate Kirk Evans for 2nd place in the high jump. St. Mary's Pete Madelans placed 2nd in both hurdles and ran a leg on the winning 880 relay team to tally 7¼ points.

Walled Lake's Frank Fink turned in an effort of 11 feet in the pole vault and also won the 100-yard dash to compile 10¾ points. The Vikings triumphed in eight events while the runner-up Eaglets captured the remaining five.

ersey Children Help Hungarians With Pictures

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP) — More than 100 youngsters in this area believe that good will is the same in any language.

Situated near the Kilmer Reception Center, stopping-off point for Hungarian refugees seeking a new home in this country, the youngsters are undertaking a project aimed at helping Hungarian children master the English language.

They do this by compiling homemade dictionaries. Each of the dictionaries contains about 200 pictures of everyday items—clipped by the children from magazines—with the English words for the items beneath each picture.

When a dictionary is finished, its "author" presents it in person to some young Hungarian newcomer.

Indian Bead Business Thrives No Longer

CARNEGIE, Okla. (AP) — A recent survey showed only one Indian couple in the Kiowa Comanche country of southwest Oklahoma still engaged in Indian bead work on a commercial scale. At one time it was a thriving industry among the tribes.

The couple still doing it — Mr. and Mrs. Willie Turtle of the Saddle Mountain area — have regular customers in the Far West and in the East.

Busty Gals Deformed, Says Lauren Bacall

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Lauren Bacall says gals with size-40 bustlines are deformed—and even though they're Hollywood stars, "a deformity's a deformity."

"Why, I heard you were going to wear falsies," I said delicately. We were at the table where she and Humphrey Bogart always sat.

WHAT!" She drew herself up to her full expansion—about a 34, I'd say. "I don't believe in falsies. Whatever you've got, you're stuck with. Anyway, wearing your dress low in front—or behind—doesn't take talent!"

"Are Marilyn and Jayne deformed?" I asked, shocked.

"No! Marilyn has talent. I don't really know Jayne. I'm just sick of deformed girls!" Looking chic in a lavendar-and-white suit and beret—with an oval neckline, if you must know—she kindled a blaze in a gold lighter Bogie gave her years ago.

"And I don't like real handsome men, either, never have," said "Baby."

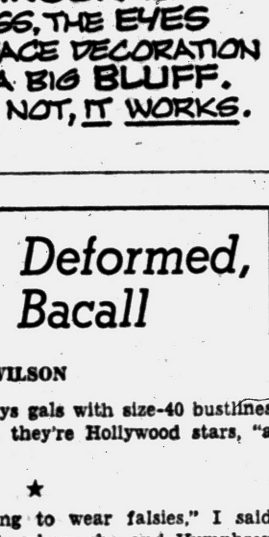

"Well, that lets me out," I said.

"Gushing fellows who give you that lingering look!" she explained. "I usually like shorter fellows."

Baby busts out in a bathing suit in her new picture, "Designing Woman," and of course shows her legs—which she says have been spoken of very highly by men aware girls still have them.

"Right now I'm excited about my children visiting me here. I'll eventually send Stevie to Andover Prep. Bogie went there. Bogie and I always planned for him to go there, too," she added, quietly.

Then she returned to her earlier mood.

LAUREN

"I know what!" she announced. "We're going to start ear-biting. I do it in the picture with Gregory Peck. You can ear-bite with or without a 40 bustline!"

Foreign Car Made 'in Africa by Ants'

CHICAGO (AP) — A motorist driving on Chicago's outer drive often sees the strangest sights—beauties along the Lake Michigan beaches, a blizzard or a driving rain storm. But the strangest one of all involved new signs of the times.

A car with Texas license plates displayed a sign which said, "Made in Texas by Texans." A car had another which said, "Made in Kenosha by Kenoshans." A third car showed a sign on a foreign-made car saying, "Made in der Black Forest by Elfs."

On the way home, the commuter saw another foreign-made car with a sign that said, "Made in Africa by Ants."

Odd Situations Come Up in Interviews With Stars

(Third in a series on Hollywood life.)

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I went reluctantly to keep a date to interview Luise Rainer. Our dog had had puppies and our sons were in a happy dither. I drove to M-G-M Studio wishing I could have stayed home to share the boys' fun.

Luise was late. That didn't upset me, because being tardy is a movie star's prerogative. But when she arrived she was pouting. She didn't want to be interviewed. She didn't like interviews. But the studio said it had an important outlet and she'd better see me.

"But why should I let you ask me personal questions? Why? What difference does it make to you what I sleep in? What I eat? What I think? Why should you want to know?"

"Miss Rainer," I said, "this may not interest you one bit. But at home I have two sons and five puppies and I'd much rather be there, with them, than here, with you. But I represent the fans who go to see your pictures and it is my job to tell those fans what you are like in real life. Believe me, I do not enjoy this particular day's work any more than you indicate you do. I shall, however, be happy to quote you to show that you can be a very difficult person. You could make this a pleasant hour and you could be courteous. . . ."

With that Miss Rainer turned on her great charm and what had started out to be a bad quarter hour and perhaps no story turned into a nice occasion and a pretty good story.

A photographer and I thought up a peachy idea for interviews: take pictures of the star as she talked, using exact quotes for the captions. We tried it out first on Marie Wilson and she, being so effusive and given to gesturing while talking, made an ideal subject.

Next we tried it on a famous star who is noted only for shapely build and well moulded features. She was unable to answer questions and look well for the pictures at the same time. A one-track mind, if I ever saw one. The pictures lacked the sparkle and so did her quotes.

Some stars talk readily, speaking in quotable phrases. John Barrymore was one. His brother Lionel would discuss any subject but himself in a brilliant discursive way. Humphrey Bogart loved to talk on any subject. Fred Macmurray, when he came here in the 30s, was a dull and uninteresting talker. But, having developed confidence, he talks freely and well.

You run into some funny things during interviews. There is one old and still prominent actress whose every sentence is peppered with profanity. But even on her it doesn't sound good. Ava Gardner showed me how to make a really dry martini: with an eye dropper, float two drops of vermouth on a glassful of gin. While visiting Richard Dix, a neighbor dropped in to talk about treatment of mother-in-law. What Dix had to say about in-laws made better reading than his answers to my questions.

Tomorrow: Party-going is an obligation in movieland.

Wheat Futures Advance Again

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices advanced further in early board of trade dealings today on cash and commission house buying. Corn and oats showed little change early, while soybeans were weak.

Continued rainy weather through the grain belt was a buying influence in most pits. Wheat also is firmed somewhat by indications of a tight supply situation, with more wheat moving out of this market.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, May $2.23½, new wheat was ½ to ⅝ higher, July $2.14⅞, corn was ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.30⅝, oats were ⅝ higher to ⅛ lower, May 72⅛, rye was unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.30¼. Soybeans were ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, May $2.40⅞, and lard was 2 to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $14.40.

Lightning Hits Soldiers

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —Lightning stabbed into a group of marching soldiers at Ft. Carson yesterday, killing one basic trainee and knocking over seven others.

Pvt. Martin Warner, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Warner of Harrisonville, No., was the victim.

First oil well of commercial importance in Oklahoma was drilled within the present city limits of Bartlesville.

Stock Market Widens Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices improved early this afternoon in moderate trading.

Key stocks were up from fractions to around 2 points. But there was a good scattering of losers.

The market was higher from the start but there was nothing emphatic about the rise. Flurries of activity punctuated the session.

President Eisenhower's statement at his news conference which indicated friendliness to the Harris natural gas bill apparently stimulated some stocks but not all with natural gas interests.

Generally, the new background was mixed. Prospects for a three-day weekend added a note of caution.

Gen. Donovan Reported Improving After Stroke

NEW YORK (AP) — Maj. Gen. William (Wild Bill) Donovan, wartime head of the OSS intelligence agency, is reported improving after a cerebral hemorrhage.

"We are greatly encouraged about his condition," said William J. Vanden Heuvel, an associate in Donovan's law firm.

Heuvel said Donovan, 74, suffered the stroke three weeks ago and has been confined to bed in his home since.

The first woman doctor in the United States was Elizabeth Blackwell.

Chrysler Sees Sales Increase

Expects Later Figures to Reflect Growth of Present Volume

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp.'s gross sales during this year's first quarter were in excess of $1,100,000,000 L. L. Colbert, president, told a shareholders' meeting today.

Exact figures on sales and earnings were not disclosed. However, Colbert said the corporation shipped 421,000 vehicles during this year's first three months, compared with 306,000 in the first quarter of 1956.

"Prospects for a strong sale of our products in the months ahead are good," Colbert said. "Our dealers report a continued enthusiasm for our cars, and despite the quarter's high level of production, our field stocks are well below the industry average, and in some of our markets we have definite shortages."

Colbert said that Chrysler customers have been buying more optional equipment like automatic transmissions, power steering, power brakes, power windows and seats and air conditioning. Three of every four 1957 model Plymouth cars, he said, have been equipped with push button automatic transmissions, compared with three out of five in the 1956 model line.

Paul C. Ackerman, director of engineering and a vice president of the corporation, was elected a director. He succeeds Nicholas Kelley Sr., retiring after serving for 20 years as member of the board. Twenty other directors were re-elected.

Studebaker-Packard Plans Low Priced Car

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. plans to introduce a new low priced car and will sell three new Mercedes-Benz models, says Roy T. Hurley, president of Curtiss-Wright Corp.

Hurley's announcement was made at a news conference. Curtiss-Wright has an agreement with Studebaker-Packard under which Curtiss-Wright offers the automobile company management guidance.

The new low priced car will include a two door model selling for less than $1,800, Hurley said. It will also include four door and station wagon models.

Hurley said the car would include heater, defroster, direction signals and normal leg room and would achieve a fuel economy of 25 to 29 miles a gallon.

Suspense Almost Kills Innocent Defendant

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Court Crier D. Michael Tankle was just about to ask the Criminal Court jury for the verdict in a drunken driving case when he noticed defendant William B. Dingdang was missing.

Turned out the suspense was just too much for Dingdang. He'd fainted in a chair behind the jury box. He was taken to a hospital, where his condition was reported good.

The verdict: innocent.

Will Play Army Nurse in Her First Appearance

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Anne Baxter, one of television's longest holdouts, finally has decided to sashay her frame across the home screens.

The 33-year-old Academy Award-winning actress will make her TV debut as a split-personality Army nurse in "The Bitter Choice" Sunday on CBS-TV's General Electric Theater.

"It wasn't that I had any prejudices against TV," Anne declared. "I was just waiting for the right script.

"I've had a lot of respect for TV right from the beginning, but I didn't feel it was necessary to leap in on the ground floor."

The actress, who won an Oscar in 1946 for her sensitive portrayal of Sophie, the unhappy American girl in "The Razor's Edge," thinks TV is "getting better and better."

SO EPHEMERAL

"It's improving all the time," she added. "It's main advantage—also a disadvantage—is that it is so ephemeral. It doesn't last, especially live TV. It's almost like an opening and closing night all at once.

"But it gives a performer an opportunity to play a part that maybe he's secretly wanted to play all his life," she continued, "and never had a chance to do in motion pictures or on the stage."

The pretty actress says she'd even be willing to do live TV—"if the right script comes along."

"I'll act anywhere if I think I can do a good job," she declared. This always has been the way with Anne, who is forthright and determined.

She wanted to be an actress almost from the minute she began to gabble and at the age of four, when she played "Mrs. Santa Claus" in a neighborhood play, formally tossed her talent in the ring.

PROFESSIONAL EYE

"But even then," she recalled, "I looked at acting with a professional eye instead of as an interested amateur."

ANNE BAXTER

Anne grew up in a New York suburb where her father was a business executive and her mother an interior decorator and ex-singer. Her family had very advanced ideas and her education was as heterogeneous as a mixed flowerbed.

She attended 10 schools—private and public—including the first so-called "progressive" school in the country.

Anne arrived in Hollywood in 1939 under contract to Fox studio and made her film debut in "Twenty Mule Team" with Wallace Beery. Seven years later she wed the late John Hodiak and they had a daughter, Katrina, born in 1951. She divorced the actor the following year.

Her leading men read like Who's Who in Hollywood and currently she is starring opposite Charlton Heston and Yul Brynner in "The Ten Commandments."

Right Numbers All You Need to Win $400

If your troubles are the type that would be helped by sudden acquisition of $400, here's your chance to improve your lot. Just pick out the right numbers, write them in the proper blanks, send them to us on a postcard in time to meet the deadline below, and your problems are solved.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Briton's Sloop Wrecked in Shark-Infested Waters

World's Radio Hams Requested to Aid Englishman Finish Global Wanderings

DETROIT (INs) — The 200,000 amateur radio operators in the world are being asked to help refit an Englishman who became shipwrecked while sailing around the globe for the benefit of "hams."

The sailor, 35-year-old Danny Weil of London, set out from England in a 40-foot sloop, the Yasme, on Aug. 1, 1954. A mechanical engineer who had earned his living as a watchmaker, he wanted to be the first Englishman to sail around the world alone.

Despite the fact he knew nothing about navigation when he set sail, Weil crossed the Atlantic in 22 days.

In the Virgin Islands, he met Dick Spenceley, a noted "ham" who persuaded him to stop at remote spots during his voyage and broadcast to long-distance amateures. One goal of such "hams" is to add to their collections of places reached by radio.

Weil started on his radio cruise on Aug. 1, 1955. He earned his living along the way by repairing watches, fixing engines, skin-diving, spear-fishing instructions and photography. He also wrote articles for a "ham" magazine.

On Oct. 23, 1956, after covering 43,000 miles in 2½ years at sea, the Yasme struck an unchartered reef off the coat of Australia and sank. A seaplane rescued Weil after he spent seven hours in a rubber boat in shark-infested waters.

Australian "hams" raised enough money to send Weil to the United States last December and the rugged Englishman was selected as a contestant on the Groucho Marx "You Bet Your Life" radio and television show.

Mickey Unger, an avid Detroit "ham," operates the Bond Steel and Storage Co., located across the street from Chrysler's DeSoto Division, which sponsors the Marx program.

Unger went to DeSoto President L. Irving Woolson after hearing about Weil.

Woolson suggested Unger form an international committee to raise funds for a new ship and supplies for the Londoner.

Unger launched a "Yasme II Dollars for Danny" committee and a network of "hams" in the U. S. and 17 foreign countries. About $4,000 has been contributed so far.

Weil, who was in Detroit yesterday to visit Woolson, is anxious to start another 2½-year cruise, "if necessary, in a canoe."

8 Towns Discuss $23 Million Pipeline

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Progress was reported today on early projects required for construction of a proposed $23,000,000 water pipeline to Lake Michigan.

Voters of eight Kent and Ottawa County communities will decide June 4 on forming a water authority to operate the line. Grand Rapids, meanwhile, is determined to gain "a head start on going along" with the plans if the water authority proposal is defeated.

The City Commission authorized $180,000 late last year for field studies on which pipeline blueprints would be based.

Service Director George G. Schmidt said a New York firm has started test borings along the pipeline route and option on a piece of lakefront property has been obtained for a filtration plant.

The project seeks a total of 44 acres for construction of the filtration plant and a lake intake.
