Committee, headed by O'Brien, is conducting a hearing at Pontiac Central High School today to determine if legislative action is needed to curtail or close "any-deer" hunting. A second session will start at 7 p.m.

State Sen. Joseph S. Mack, D-Ironwood, said during a public hearing this morning at Pontiac Central High School that he will introduce a bill in the legislature calling for a moratorium on shooting antlerless deer.

Mack arrived at the hearing about 20 minutes late and received a standing ovation from the 300 hunters in attendance.

Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, is conducting the hearing to determine the feasibility of continuing antlerless deer seasons.

Milford Man Dies in Crash

A Milford man was killed last night when his car went off a road and struck an abutment and a 73-year-old North Branch man died in Lapeer County General Hospital some six hours after an accident yesterday.

Dead are Marcel Godbout, 31, 1015 Prince, and Frank E. Butler.

Troopers from the Brighton State Police Post said Godbout made a left turn in front of the other car on M24 at the intersection of Burnside Road.

Mrs. Johnson is listed in critical condition at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Astronauts Tumble During Chilly Night

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—After a night of fitful sleep in a cold, tumbling spacecraft, the Gemini 7 pilots flew on today toward a world space endurance record and the historic rendezvous with another orbiting ship.

The temperature in the cabin dropped 20 degrees during the night, astronaut Frank Borman reported.

Borman had taken off his spacesuit and was flying in his underwear when the sharp drop came. He put on two lightweight flight suits, his own and that of his copilot, James A. Lovell Jr., to protect himself from the cold.

Asked if he had put on the suits before the start of the night's sleep period, Borman said he did it during the time reserved for sleep.

"Did the tumbling of the spacecraft have anything to do with your lack of sleep?" the astronaut was asked.

"No," he replied. "We didn't know we were tumbling until we woke up."

STOPPED ROLLING
The pilots stopped the end-over and tumbling of the spacecraft by use of their attitude control jets.

Mission control experts theorized the tumbling was caused by expulsion outside the cabin of condensed water from the spacecraft's cooling systems. This would exert an influence on the ship's movements much like that of the attitude control jets.

The tumbling then led to the temperature drop because the sun's rays at times were striking areas of the spacecraft which did not absorb the heat.

sportsmen and general public in my district (Upper Peninsula) against the present slaughter of does and fawns."

PUBLIC OUTCRY
"There is overwhelming public indignation against the heavy killing of antlerless deer. It could easily lead to the annihilation of the herd," he said.

Edward H. Whipple, 6780 Ratalee Lake, Independence Township, was the first witness before the committee.

"The Conservation Department may be right, and it may be wrong, about killing of does," said Whipple, a deer hunter for 40 years. "But I do know that this thing is getting serious."

"You can't kill off does and expect the herd to survive."

SAW ONLY ONE
Whipple said he saw only one deer "during the two weeks I hunted in Alger County" in the Upper Peninsula.

William J. Brown, 110 S. Tilden, another veteran deer hunter with over 40 years experience, followed Whipple and claimed that he "had never seen an overbrowed area in the Upper Peninsula."

The Conservation Department's major contention in having antlerless deer seasons is that the herd will eat itself into starvation if allowed to get too large.

"A mild kill may have been needed in a few areas of the Lower Peninsula," Brown continued, "but I feel it has gone far enough."

TEMPO SET
The statements by Whipple and Brown seemed to set the tempo for the hearing. Most of those in attendance appeared to be opposed to additional "any-deer" seasons.

The crowd was expected to swell to about 500. Hunters continued to arrive after the hearing started. They were delayed by poor driving conditions which prevailed in southeastern Michigan this morning.

Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, was scheduled to join O'Brien today. He is a member of the Conservation Committee.

The Conservation Department was represented by William Laycock, assistant manager for operations in Region 3 (southern Michigan), and Howard Greene, game supervisor for the Pontiac Lake district.

Drizzle Expected to Stay Over Area

This morning's extensive fog, with light rain and drizzle, is expected to continue tonight with lows of 34 to 40.

Variable cloudiness and slightly cooler with scattered showers and high soaring to 46 to 52 is Sunday's forecast. Partly cloudy and cooler is the outlook for Monday.

Southeasterly winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become southerly at 12 to 22 miles per hour tonight.

A low of 38 was the recording at 8 a.m. today. The 2 p.m. reading was 43.

$1.26 Million Looted in Bits

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (UPI)—Each month for eight years, police said yesterday, Stephen Darytichen helped himself to a little gold and platinum from the company where he worked for 27 years until his thefts totaled about $1.26 million.

Police revealed the systematic looting of the American Smelting and Refining Co. with the arrests of two other suspects, Raymond Pross, 44, an unemployed businessman from Perth Amboy, and Alex Birnbaum, 46, a salesman from nearby Metuchen.

They were charged with receiving $787,000 worth of stolen gold and platinum during the past five years.

They were charged with receiving the metal—about 22,500 ounces—because the statute of limitations has run out on anything beyond the past five years.

But police said that Darytichen had taken 375 ounces

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson has launched an effort to convince the Communists he is willing to curb new Great Society programs to finance the war in Viet Nam.

This was a follow-up to Johnson's public warning Thursday that he will order "other hard steps" in Viet Nam if all prospects for peace prove futile.

Hanoi, Peking and Moscow, however, were not the only targets of disclosures yesterday that civilian programs—even those Johnson pushed through Congress this year—will be curtailed because of spiraling costs of the Viet Nam war.

Obviously, Johnson wanted American voters—and the Congress members who voted for the new programs—to be prepared for emergency curtailments should peace appeals fail.

A procession of top officials paraded before newsmen at White House press headquarters here, after conferring with Johnson at his ranch home.

All either said their spending plans were being cut below current levels or, at best, that they couldn't say or were fighting to preserve their programs.

In this administration, officers of Cabinet level do not normally volunteer such revelations without a presidential okay.

And when the chief executive gives such authorization more than a month before the new budget goes to Congress, he has a motive.

The clear meaning was that Johnson wants everyone to know—here and in the Communist capitals—that the United States means business in Viet Nam.

Secretary of Commerce John F. Connor, announced his department's budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 would fall short of the current level of more than $1.2 billion.

"It is quite clear," he said, "that although there will be reductions in many of the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Peace Offers 'Trick'-N. Viets Reds Say U.S. Move Leading to Escalation

TOKYO (AP)—North Viet Nam declared yesterday that recent U.S. peace offers are another trick "to appease public opinion" and "a maneuver to prepare for further expansion" of the Viet Nam war.

"It is clear that the trick of 'suspension of hostilities' was only a maneuver to pave the way for further escalation of their war of aggression," the official Vietnamese news agency said in a broadcast heard here.

The statement was in comment on recent statements made by President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg.

The Communist report particularly referred to Rusk's Dec. 1 statement, in which he said: "I am not now excluding a stop in the bombing as a step toward peace."

The Hanoi statement went on: "This trick of the U.S. state secretary is no novelty. It must be recalled that in May this year, Dean Rusk, in the name of his government, sent a message to a number of countries announcing a halt in the bombing of the Democratic Republic of North Viet Nam by U.S. aircraft for a week beginning on May 12."

"AN ULTIMATUM"
It said, however, that the message "in its essence was an ultimatum to the Vietnamese people, urging the South Vietnamese to abandon their patriotic struggle as a condition for a halt in the bombing of the Democratic Republic of North Viet Nam."

"The message has itself revealed that the 'unconditional discussion' offer of Johnson is only a ploy to make the Vietnamese people lay down their arms and submit to their brute force of aggression."

"This shameful trickery failed miserably. Now the U.S. imperialists are having another try at it."

The statement said that in the United States and other parts of the world, Rusk "had to play the record of 'suspension of the bombing of North Viet Nam so as to appease public opinion.'"

'William Tell' Incident Leads to Girl's Death

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A 5-year-old girl who dared her father to shoot a tangerine off her head died early today from a gunshot wound in the forehead, police said.

Officers said Eugene K. Van Denburgh, 34, a laborer, told investigators he was examining his new 22-caliber rifle when his daughter, Elizabeth Marie, said:

"Daddy, I'll bet you can't shoot this off my head like William Tell."

Detectives said the girl placed the tangerine on her head and stood about 15 feet away from a wooden fence.

When police arrived, they said, the girl was lying on the ground, bleeding from a bullet wound. Van Denburgh was bending over her. He was booked on investigation of murder.

Death Claims Executive of Detroit News

William J. Scripps, 60, a director of the Detroit News and a grandson of its founder, died today at his home after a long illness.

Scripps of 692 Bennington, Bloomfield Hills, was well known in Michigan for activities in the pioneer era of aviation as well as his civic work and career as a radio and television executive.

He was a native of Detroit and attended the University of Michigan and Yale University.

Scripps played a role in promoting the work of Radio Free Europe and headed philanthropic organizations including the Greater Detroit chapter of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Service will be 1 p.m. Tuesday from the Cass Avenue Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial at Woodlawn Memorial Cemetery in Detroit.

Survivors include his wife, Virginia; four sons, William E. Scripps II, Keith, David and William Jr.; and four daughters, Diane, Melissa, Pamela and Mrs. Virginia Semmes.

New Bomber 'Old' Fighter

Similar Type of Craft Is Already on Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plan to wave a $1.75-billion wand and change F111 fighters into FB-111 strategic bombers.

By McNamara's own description, the new super-sonic bombers, intended to comprise a 210-plane fleet by 1971, actually will be only a variant of the F111 all-purpose tactical fighters now in production for the Navy and Air Force.

But the defense boss told newsmen they would be able to fly to a target twice as fast and with about the same range as the latest models of the eightjet, subsonic B52s which they will replace.

He said the FB111 will be able to carry a load of 50 conventional bombs, each weighing 750 pounds—about the same as B52s now carry—or deliver nuclear weapons. But it will have "greater penetrating ability and military effectiveness," he said.

In talking at a Texas news conference following a meeting yesterday between Johnson, himself and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, McNamara had a retort for some senators and others who criticized the announcement earlier in the week of a cutback in bases, with corresponding reduction in the number of B52s: "They spoke much too soon."

NO ELIMINATION
The program which he said Johnson approved at the meeting shows "no plans to eliminate strategic bombers from the force," McNamara declared.

With the 210 FB111s and 225 B52s still to be in the Strategic Air Command by the end of the decade, he said, there will be a force of 565. Present strength is about 680, including 80 of the smaller but faster B58s which are to be dropped along with the earlier models of the B52.

The first of the FB111s is expected to be in the operating fleet in 1968, the rest by 1971. They are to be produced by the Fort Worth, Tex., division of General Dynamics Corp., which is also manufacturing the F111 fighter, formerly known as the TF1X.

McNamara said that the $1.75-billion to be spent for production of the FB111s, together with operating costs, will be less than the cost of changing the earlier models of the B52s.

McNamara gave no detailed statistics on the FB111 during his rapid discussion of the program.

Reapportionment Group to Hear Outsider's Views

LANSING (AP) — The Legislative Apportionment Commission will open its doors to outsiders for the first time next week.

The leader of a civil group will be allowed to present a House and Senate districting plan, and a Wayne County legislator will be allowed to register his complaint over the use of 5-year-old census figures by the commission.

A Democratic House plan and a Republican Senate plan were introduced Friday — bringing to seven the number of plans already presented to the eight-member bipartisan group. The commission has until Jan. 1 to reach majority agreement on a legislative reapportionment.

Friday's Democratic plan leaves 60 of the present 110 Democratic-drafted House districts alone, and does not touch Detroit and Upper Peninsula districts.

Both plans, sponsors said, come closer to population equality than any plans before the commission. "In fact," said Republican Alfred LaPorte of Stansfield, "this is the ultimate in our numbers game."

Republicans and Democrats have been coming closer to equal population with each plan. Senate plans falling well under one per cent of the total population of the average district in

Pension Plan to Be Studied in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider a retirement plan for township employees and act on a rezoning request.

A representative of A. J. Gabriel and Co., actuarial consultants, will attend the meeting to explain the plan. The Detroit firm previously had been asked for advice.

The plan would include all township employees except the police and fire departments who already have retirement programs.

The rezoning request from R-1 to C-2 is for a parcel of land on Telegraph between Hadfield and Elizabeth Lake for the establishment of a restaurant.

The Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee both have recommended the proposal be approved.

Flint GM Strikers Demonstrate

FLINT (AP)—More than 800 striking members of United Auto Workers Local 598 demonstrated Friday in front of General Motors Co., Fisher Body plant No. 2 here, accusing management of hostility towards union bargainers.

Woman Killed by Car

The strike has idled 3,100 employees since Nov. 24. The union charges the company failed to adjust manpower on production lines. The demonstrators carried signs reading "we salute our bargaining committee. Together we shall win," and "GM tried to take away our Christmas, but they can never break our spirit."

SOUTH HAVEN (AP)—Mrs. Rose Marie Augusta, 60, of Dowagiac was killed Friday night when she was struck by a car while crossing a road east of South Haven.

Court Test Looms Over Power of State in Probe at CMU

LANSING (AP) — A major court test of higher education autonomy looms because of Central Michigan University's move to stop a Senate investigation of the school.

The Senate and its special investigating committee were ordered Friday to show cause Monday afternoon in Appeals Court why the probe into faculty-administration relationships should not be halted as unconstitutional.

The five-man committee was served with copies of the complaint by board attorney Gerald Cotter as it heard CMU President Judson Foust reply to attacks made by dissident faculty members at earlier hearings.

After a closed committee meeting, Chairman Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Deerborn, said State Solicitor General Robert Derengowski would represent the defendants at the hearing in the Lansing branch of the Appeals Court.

INTERFERENCE
The trustees' complaint charges the investigation is unconstitutional because it interferes with constitutionally granted autonomy.

The board asks that the court permit no further hearings nor allow the committee to issue a report.

Friday's meeting had been scheduled as the final public hearing in an investigation which began last spring. Cotter said board members had delayed the court action because they "wanted to cooperate with the committee as long as it was not involved in internal affairs."

"When they decided it was going far afield and the reports might be of some detriment, they decided to file."

LANDMARK
Cotter said if the board's complaint is honored by the court "it will be a landmark case for state university boards."

He said he believed precedent is on the side of CMU.

The complaint said such diverse topics as faculty salaries, smoking regulations, department appointments and promotions—all brought up at the hearings—were "outside the authority of the defendants" and exclusively under board control.

Foust, the only witness at Friday's hearing, told the committee problems could be solved by internal machinery but not by outside agencies such as the senate committee.

TOO MUCH TIME
He said far too many hours already had been spent trying to reply to dissident faculty members and answering committee questions.

Some faculty members have complained about too much administrative authority, lack of research support and asserted failure to foster the proper academic climate at Central.

Foust said many of the charges contained half-truths and misrepresentations.

He said he has always tried to maintain an open-door policy. "We're all on one team as far as I can see," he declared.

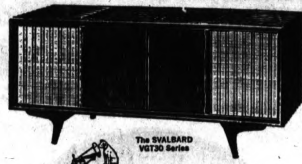

He said the Legislature, through upped appropriations, could answer complaints to too-heavy teaching loads and insufficient research support.

Union Leader Says Section 14B Repeal Is Up to Mansfield

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An AFL-CIO leader privately questioned today whether the Johnson administration can redeem its chief pledge to organized labor in Congress.

Despite Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's promise "to fight and win" repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, a high federation source said it all depends on whether Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield will press hard enough to break a Republican filibuster.

"If Mansfield won't fight, there's no point in starting it," said the source, who declined use of his name.

Section 14B permits states to ban union shop contracts under which all employees must join the union. The repeal bill was shelved this year after a filibuster led by Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

LOUD APPROVAL

AFL-CIO delegates at the federation's 10th anniversary convention voiced their loudest approval Friday for the pledges of Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the United States will continue to fight in Viet Nam until peace is won.

Humphrey, referring to the labor federation's in-fighting to replace eight retiring vice presidents, drew laughter when he said he was glad President Johnson was not here.

"It's just as well he doesn't hear all this talk about replacing vice presidents," Humphrey said. "That could be dangerous, fellows."

EIGHT HOPEFULS

At least a dozen presidents of the federation's 130 unions are maneuvering behind the scenes for the eight expected vacancies on the executive council.

On the subject of the fight in Congress to repeal section 14B, at Marblehead, Mass.

The high source reflected labor's disappointment that Mansfield refused to hold the Senate in session around the clock to try to break Dirksen's filibuster in the recently ended session of Congress.

President Johnson in an earlier telephone talk to the convention also pledged continued administration backing for the repeal bill.

But, the federation source said, it is entirely up to Mansfield whether to bring the bill to the Senate floor as soon as Congress reconvenes next month and hold continuous sessions to break a filibuster.

KEEP FIGHTING

Rusk told the convention that the United States is fighting in Viet Nam to convince Communists that aggression does not pay.

If the United States gave up the fight, the result could be atomic war, Rusk said.

He said there will never again be the chance to rebuild peace after a major war as the free world did after World War II.

"The miserable survivors of World War III will not be capable of that kind of action," Rusk said.

Humphrey said of the battle in Viet Nam: "We will not give up. We will not withdraw. We will stay until the peace is won."

Pope Eases Meat Ban

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has authorized Roman Catholic bishops around the world to permit their parishioners to eat meat on Christmas and New Year's eves — both of which fall on Friday, traditional days for abstaining from meat.

The original painting of "The Spirit of '76" is in Abbot Hall at Marblehead, Mass.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

THE ADORATION OF THE SHEPHERDS

"And they came in haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger." St. Luke 2:16.

The great paintings of the western world have moulded our concepts of the faith of the shepherds who saw Jesus. The paintings of Caravaggio, Ghirlandaio and Murillo show us simple gentlemen who came in humble reverence to worship the Christ Child. In Him they saw the power of their faith, as did the 25 or more great masters who painted the Adoration of the Shepherds.

County Agency Slights a Golden Opportunity

We think the County's three-member Department of Social Welfare board is remiss in not uniting with the Michigan Bureau of Social Aid, with a resulting saving to the County of $220,000 in welfare fund disbursement.

The State act authorizing such consolidation, passed last October 27, made such action mandatory except in the cases of its two most populous counties — Wayne and Oakland. For them, consolidation was made optional.

Since by volume the State already handles 65 per cent of Oakland's welfare load, logic would dictate that it assume the total administration of the area's social commitments.

Unless Oakland County joins the State welfare setup by Dec. 31, it will lose the benefit of $55,000 available from that source for the October-December quarter.

The reason given by the County welfare board for not having taken such action is that the law governing it "is vague and requires further interpretation."

It is now a month and a half since the law was enacted — ample time in which the board could have had clarified whatever it is unclear about it.

With the burden of taxes becoming increasingly onerous and welfare costs rising despite the greatest peacetime economic upsurge in the Nation's history, County taxpayers are entitled to a clear explanation of the welfare board's reluctance to effect an annual saving of nearly a quarter-million dollars.

Dane's Tax Proposal Aimed at Inflation

Maybe it's because of those famous Danish pastries, or perhaps it's just a sign of general prosperity, but a new political party in Denmark thinks it has found an untapped source of plump revenue.

The platform of the Reform Party, founded by one OVE BUCKEN, proposes a tax on obesity to replace income and sales taxes. For every two pounds of excess avoirdupois, overweight citizens would be taxed an hour's pay a month.

Chances that the idea will get anywhere: Pretty slim.

Solons Seen Ducking Income Tax for State

We'd like to be more optimistic than we are over the prospects of the Democratic-controlled Legislature really facing up to the need for an overhaul of Michigan's tax structure when it convenes next month, as called for at a recent meeting of the party's State Central Committee.

Implicit, however, in such action is a state income tax, long advocated as a necessary keystone for long-range fiscal planning.

During his seven-term regime, Gov. Williams unsuccessfully attempted to get an income tax passed by the predominantly Republican legislature. A deficit of nearly $100 million had accrued by the time he left office.

Following Gov. ROMNEY's move into the Statehouse in 1963, he narrowly missed legislative approval of his design for tax reform built upon an income tax. A handful of obdurate members of his own party tripped him at the last minute. Last year, one of the planks in the Democratic election campaign platform was enactment of an income tax. But after winning control of both legislative houses for the first time in a decade, the party leadership spun its wheels on the issue during both the regular 1965 session and a later special session called by the governor.

Now, with the 1966 elections ahead and the state treasury showing a surplus of $135 million, slated, however, to be exhausted in two years by expanded state programs, we'd say there's about as much chance of meaningful tax reform in the upcoming session as there is of Santa Claus coming down your chimney Christmas Eve.

LBJ Has Earned 'Tough' Label

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — President Johnson does not usually seem to be tagged with the word "tough" but he should be because he can be very tough, and has been.

If this isn't the picture of him in the public mind it may be because he doesn't growl in public and, if it suits his purpose, is willing to look almost like a bystander.

It's something to remember as his presidency continues and crises accumulate, as they are bound to.

Some examples stand out: His dealings with Fidel Castro, with the Dominican Republic revolt and the intensification of the war in Viet Nam.

Johnson was in office only a few months when Castro shut off the water piped into the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo from Cuba. The President didn't negotiate. He just rubbed out any dependence on Castro for water.

SHIPS AND PLANT
First he sent ships in with water supplies and then had a saltwater refining plant built at Guantanamo to fill the naval base's needs. In addition, the Cubans working at the base were reduced from many hundreds to a few.

The American dollars they earned at the base had been useful to Castro.

Johnson promptly ordered the bombing of North Viet Nam targets last spring when Communist guerrillas attacked an American air base in South Viet Nam, killing and wounding Americans and destroying and damaging planes and helicopters.

With just one brief pause, the bombing has continued since, although there are other reasons for this besides the attack on the air base.

NO END SOON

He indicated Thursday there will be no end to the war soon, unless the Communists seek peace. Through it all his main theme has been: "We love peace. We shall do all we can to preserve it — for ourselves and all mankind."

When the Dominican revolt burst last April, Johnson reacted a bit at a time, getting tougher as he went. He sent in troops, saying at first it was to save American lives, then saying it was to stop a Communist take-over.

He has been criticized at home and abroad. But he has given absolutely no indication he won't do the same somewhere else if he thinks it necessary.

Finding the Way:

Love Must Motivate Our Actions

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

Suddenly the words of Scripture have new meaning. In that famous poem concerning love, St. Peter wrote, "My body I give my body to be burned, and have not love I have gained nothing."

Now we are confronted with the self-immolation of men in our own midst. They choose this cruel way to state their case.

It's easy to condemn these acts which seem incredible and irrational. It's really a time to judge ourselves. There is always the need to discover the right ways to express our faith.

Brave men are fighting in Viet Nam, risking their lives because of their citizenship. Other courageous men are attempting to find the ways through the United Nations whereby the whole bloody conflict can be solved.

It requires bravery to really love and to give one's self to reconciliation. It requires bravery to think this out realistically in the midst of the difficult realities that require prophetic witness and burning righteousness.

It's bravery that is demanded of people who too frequently burn out their energies over pettiness or who create the possibilities for ever handling the issues.

We don't need men burning themselves to death. Likewise, we don't need people allowing the concern for their country to freeze to death.

Robert Frost states the case bluntly:

"Some say the world will end in fire,
Some say in ice.
From what I've tasted of desire,
I hold with those who favor fire.
But if I had to perish twice
I think I know enough of hate
To say that for destruction
Is also great
And would suffice."

Either we burn with love or freeze with apathy. Either we abated the throne to marry speak with tongues of fire or a hatred which creates a moral arson.

Voice of the People:

Words of Encouragement From Marine in Viet Nam

My son, Cpl. K. D. Atwell, now in the Marine Corps fighting in Viet Nam, wrote in answer to my letter telling him that his 18-year-old brother had received his questionnaire:

"Mom, I don't want you to worry too much about Denny. I know how you must feel because I know what I would feel like if it were my son that had to go to war. That is exactly why I am here right now. Not just because they sent me, but because I hope through my being here maybe my kids will never have to go through what I am going through now . . . Everytime I get scared I read the Bible. I never knew that a person could get so much strength out of a little book. . . . So, mom, have faith and I know everything will work out for the best. There are thousands of mothers in the world today who are facing the same thing you are. All you can do is believe."

I hope more people will see how proud they can be of the calibre of young men who are representing their country.

'Where Does U.S. Stand on Communism?'

Can someone explain why we are fighting communism on one hand and aiding and abetting it on the other? One newspaper story tells of a savage battle between our 1st Cal. division and the Communists and the same day an article appears: "Reds Need Not Register High Court Says." Another day we read "Yank Losses in Fighting Heavily Cut," and the same day "North Carolina Legislature Ends Ban on Communist Speakers at Public Schools."

If the Communist threat is so serious that we must sacrifice the lives of our men and spend millions to fight it in other lands, the American people, our leaders and lawmakers are using poor judgment in allowing Communists to operate in our country. We are double-crossing the men we send into combat.

'Pontiac Area Is Enjoying Great Prosperity'

No wonder "Second Street" didn't sign a name. The VOP writers run down the community at its most prosperous moment. We have more employment, more population, more school children, more stores, more doctors, lawyers and merchants than at any time in all Pontiac history.

When judgment of a situation is as irresponsible and lacking in understanding as Second Street's, it's a good time to hide your name and face. Pontiac will have the greatest Christmas in all history by a big margin.

As "Second Street" suggests: "someone certainly goofed, but good." It was Second Street.

Discusses Recent Raises for City Employees

Five top city officials were given pay raises and the two who weren't included in the M. M. L. study received the most money. As a fellow City employee I received a 2.5 per cent pay raise ($20 yearly). Instead of getting our working agreement renegotiated this year, I got "studied." Instead of talking over our working conditions, we got talked to about being ungrateful.

The police and firemen deserve better than they are asking. I hope they can stick it out until they get it.

Washington Notebook:

Sen. Tower, 'Moderate of Year'

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. John Tower of Texas was, an ardent supporter of conservative Barry Goldwater for the U. S. presidency. Indeed, after Barry he was the favorite of many conservatives. But in late 1965 he seems to be backing for the title of Moderate of the Year.

Some of Tower's helpers recently expressed keen interest in the things John Lindsay did in New York to win the mayoralty despite normally heavy Democratic majorities in the city. Said one:

"The senator has a very similar problem in Texas. He's got to get a lot of Democratic votes to win."

"And, you know, we've got a lot of nuts in Texas. We have to be careful the senator doesn't become the captive of the far right."

There is word, too, that at least some of Tower's campaign literature doesn't mention the word Republican.

Few of the nation's conservatives who so berated Lindsay this fall for shunning the GOP label in New York City imagined that one of their heroes might be running as the John Lindsay of Texas.

One of the games on the Washington cocktail circuit is figuring out who all the other guests are at a party. A newcomer can run into problems as former Postmaster General Edward Day found out when he was told at his first reception that a distinguished-looking foreigner was the governor of Puerto Rico.

"At a reception a week later," Day recalls, "the 'governor' explained that he was, in fact, the ambassador from Peru and therefore could not enlighten me on the subject of Puerto Rican politics."

An aide to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York tapped the office door of another top Rockefeller assistant. The first one asked:

"Can I have a car sign?"

The other man dug into a drawer and came up with a sign reading: "Official Business — Office of the Governor."

"What really got me was seeing one of these on a flashy red sports car at the curb in the Bronx one day. A young cat came out, tucked the sign in his glove compartment, and roared off."

Despite rumors of interdepartmental squabbling in the Office of Economic Opportunity, OEO's top brass unites publicly on at least one front: reaction to the disciplinary problem in the Job Corps — which recently reached a climax with a riot at a Kalamazoo, Mich., camp.

Boys of this reaction is that "Gist will be boys."

Even Sargent Shriver, OEO boss, has gotten into the act. But Shriver's comparison of the Job Corps youths to World War II sailors on shore liberty caused several OEO officials to wince.

"I remember my shore patrol duty with the Navy," said Shriver. "Whenever a battleship docked and the crew went on leave, we certainly had as much unrest as we had recently in Kalamazoo."

JAMES E. KENNEDY

Hunted Felon Worked at Bar

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Last call came early in the bar of a Worcester nightclub Wednesday night after the bartender heard his name included in a radio broadcast of the FBI's 10 most wanted men.

James E. Kennedy, 28, closed the bar at 8 p.m., packed his bags and left town.

Worcester police and the FBI said yesterday that Kennedy, who was using the name Paul Johnson, was wanted as an escapee from jail in Cleveland, Ohio. On Nov. 10, 1964, Kennedy and four other prisoners sawed through bars in a fourth-floor cell window and climbed down.

The FBI in Boston said wanted posters on Kennedy were sent to all major police departments in the nation.

Capt. John J. Hanlon, chief of the detective bureau of the Worcester Police Department, said, "We can't find any record of that wanted poster. We have them back for 10 years."

Hanlon said Kennedy was a Worcester native with a long record of arrests for breaking and entering and theft.

"As far as I know, no one knew he was back in Worcester," Hanlon said.

Kennedy had worked in the nightclub for several weeks.

Regular customers described him as a "quiet, friendly man."

Comfort Is Key to Colonial's Interior

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Treasures and talent combine to make the home of the Jack W. Wignalls in Independence Township a complete joy.

"Friends have told us," said Mrs. Wignall, "that we have taken a new house and made it look old and comfortable."

The hand-hewn barn beams used in the family-living and dining rooms are separated by channels of white rough-troweled plaster.

"When I was a little girl in Mason," said Mrs. Wignall motioning toward the beams, "I played in the barn these beams came from."

"And," she added with a chuckle, "my brother has pitched a good many forklifts of hay over them from the loft."

TIGER MAPLE

Tiger maple chairs with the front rungs bowed to accommodate hoop skirts are grouped about the dining table. Centering the table is an antique soup tureen planted with greens.

An oak highchair against the side wall is of great sentimental value to Mrs. Wignall. It was used by her 85-year-old father when he was a youngster.

Extra wide pine paneling accents the adjoining family-living room furnished in an Early American motif.

"We call this our living room," said Mrs. Wignall. "It's where we spend most of our time. What others might call the living room, we call the parlor."

On the room's corner built-in cabinet of pine is an apple butter jug converted into a lamp. It was once a favored utensil in the household of Mrs. Wignall's grandmother.

The sumac-red plaid wing back sofa facing the used-brick fireplace is served by an authentic cobbler's bench of maple.

Completing the arrangement is a green and brown tweed chair and ottoman flanked by a three-legged end table in maple.

Colorful braided ovals highlight the walnut finished random-oak flooring.

The room's massive roll-back desk actually conceals the family's stereo equipment.

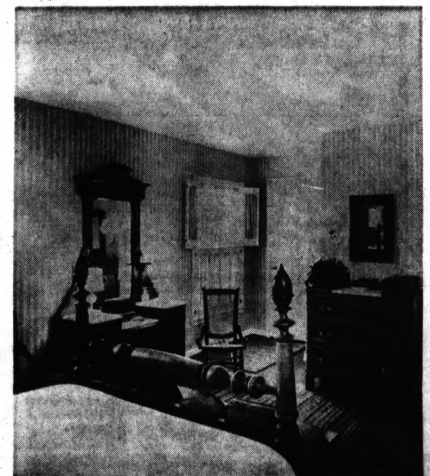

Leading to the parlor from the living room are two steps. The rooms can be further separated by folding white doors.

Beige tier curtains on brass rods and rings blend with the beige sofa. Included in the grouping are a pair of heirloom chairs, one in Victorian-red velvet, the other in gold, and a walnut pedestal table.

Part of Mrs. Wignall's china collection is displayed on the room's china cabinet which is walnut inlaid with curly maple.

The master bedroom on the second floor continues the Americana flair. A furniture refinisher as well as a talented decorator, Mrs. Wignall refurbished the bedstead and the shaving chest.

"One handle of the chest was missing," said Mrs. Wignall, "but thanks to a friend familiar with woodworking we were able to have the pull duplicated."

G-12 STATISTICS

Design G-12 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, bath, bedroom and family room (or second bedroom) on the first floor, with 1390 square feet of living area. There are 590 additional square feet of habitable space on the second floor, divided by architect Lester G. Chirgolis into two bedrooms and a bath. The plans call for a one-car garage and a basement. Over-all dimensions are 53' by 28' 10".

HOMEY CAPE COD: Retaining all the features that have given traditional Cape Cods their charm and appeal down through the years, including the dormers, horizontal clapboard siding and shuttered windows, this house has a decided look of welcome.

Modest Cape Cod Permits Expansion

Compactness is an essential characteristic of a modest home that can serve for a couple or meet the demands of a growing family.

Without this, a house is either too big for a husband and wife or too small for a family which may get larger as time goes on.

A good example of a residence with compactness which permits whatever degree of expansion is necessary is the Cape Cod designed by architect William G. Chirgolis for House of the Week.

Essentially, it is a one or two bedroom dwelling enclosing less than 1400 square feet of living area on the first floor, with over-all dimensions of 53' by 28' 10".

An excellent size for, let us say, a middle-aged or elderly couple whose children have grown and are married.

FLOOR PLAN

Their needs are met with a floor plan that includes a living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette, bathroom, garage, a bedroom and another room that can be used as an informal entertaining or as a guest bedroom.

This same one-floor setup is also ideal for a young couple with one or two small children, since the extra room just mentioned then can become a nursery.

For the family whose immediate or future needs require additional space, the upstairs area can be made into two bedrooms and a bath, as shown in the plans of the architect.

This adds 90 square feet of habitable area to the house, turning it from a one-bedroom to a four-bedroom home without any increase in the size of the plot.

Each family can make its own decision as to whether this upstairs area should be finished at the time of construction or at a later date.

Whatever utilization is made of the plans, the owners can be assured of a house with unpretentious but solid design producing comfortable living in an economical frame.

Its foyer, with an open stairway that leads to the second floor, is the circulation center.

ENTERTAINMENT AREA

From it, guests can move to the principal entertainment areas as the occasion demands — directly into the living room or the dining room or the family room without crossing any other room.

Whether the family room is used as such, or for any other purpose, it provides an entry to the rear garden or patio through sliding glass doors.

The living room has a brick-faced fireplace, the back of which creates a floor-to-ceiling brick wall in the adjacent dining room and a place for a built-in china cabinet.

The kitchen-dinette is large enough to accommodate the needs of any family.

There is an entry to the outside, as well as a connection between the garage and the service area, thus permitting easy movement of packages from the car to the house.

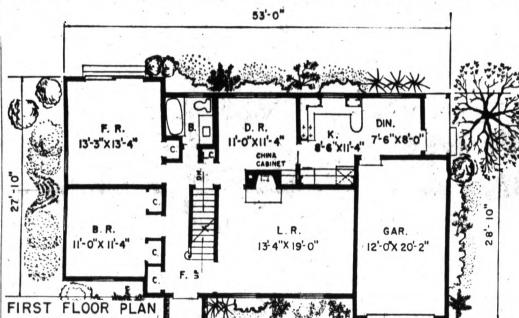

Upstairs, each bedroom has adequate wall space, cross-ventilation and over-sized closets.

If there is no immediate need for this area, but it appears likely there will be in the future, it might be advisable to have the basic framework for the two rooms installed when the house is constructed.

Then, after the man of the house will have a comparatively easy time finishing off the rooms.

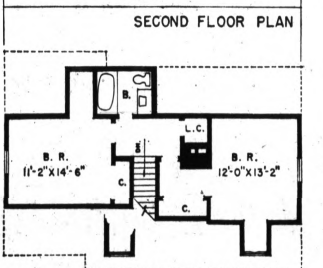

The exterior of this house has all the picturesque appeal of the well-done Cape Cod, including two roof dormers, horizontal clapboard siding and shuttered windows.

When size and money are factors, Design G-12 fills the bill.

FLOOR PLANS: First floor provides comfortable room arrangement for small family; second floor can be left unfinished until family grows to fit it.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Mr. D's bus breaks through a frozen lake at the bottom of a cliff in Santa Claus Land. A strange monster lifts broken bus and its occupants out of the lake.

CHAPTER SIX
AP Neatures
"Hoory! We're safe!" cried the little boy as the shining monster deposited the bus on dry land.
The crocodile shook her head admiringly. She said she had never met so strong and brave a creature as the monster and if she had not been so ugly she would have kissed him to show her gratitude.

Lights all along the beast's arms blinked and fluttered with embarrassment. "I am ugly myself," he said. "As you can plainly see."

Well, he certainly wasn't handsome. He had a flat mushy face like a smashed-in tomato. He was fat and stooped and his many glittering arms hung from his shoulders like willow tree branches.

"What are you?" gasped Mr. D, striving with all his might to see out of his poor crossed eyes. SQUEAKY
"I'm the friendless Fabulous Dunklebum," said the creature in his tiny squeaky voice. "I'm the only one of my kind."

"I've lived all my life at the bottom of this cliff, where I can hide my lights in a cave so I won't frighten anyone."

"I think you are gorgeous," said the crocodile, trying to hide her missing teeth.

"You have magic, too," said the donkey. "Those lights are very magical. In fact I think you have more magic than any one I've ever seen."

Mr. D Got Out His Tool Box

GET SANTA?
"Except the Voodoo man!" exclaimed the little boy. "And now the Voodoo man is going to get Santa Claus!"

Mr. D shook his head. "Not yet. We may still get there in time. We can fix the bus by the light of the Fabulous Dunklebum!"

He told the creature of the Voodoo man, who was off to cast a spell over Santa Land.

The Fabulous Dunklebum turned on all his lights as high as they would go. They lit up the whole mountainside.

BUBBLEGUM
Mr. D got out his tool box. It was filled with bobby pins and rubber bands and fingernail files and chewing gum that Mr. D had used to repair the bus a hundred times before.

They found the two missing wheels and hammered them back on with the crocodile's tail.

They pried open the radiator and the donkey stomped on the twisted pipes until they were straight. They fastened on the bent and broken fenders with bandage strips.

"She's good as new!" said Mr. D finally.

"Oh, hurry, hurry!" cried the little boy. "Let's go!"

BY BUS
They said goodbye to the Fabulous Dunklebum and thanked him for all he'd done. Then they all got on the bus and Mr. D started her up.

The engine gave one gasp and quit. There wasn't any gas. It had leaked out of the punctured tank.

Mr. D groaned. The Zabbazara bus was useless. They would never get to Santa before the Voodoo man, and Santa Land would go under a spell forever.

But even as Mr. D groaned, he felt the bus jerk. The little boy cried, "He's carrying us again!"

Sure enough, the Fabulous Dunklebum had lifted the bus in his long swinging arms and was carrying it slowly up the steep mountainside.
(MONDAY, Santa Land.)

Tot Survives Lethal Dose of Diet Drug

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fifteen-month-old Kenneth Douglas was in bouncing good health today, unaware that less than two weeks ago he swallowed enough phenobarbital to kill two full-grown men.

"You wouldn't know anything had happened to him," his mother, Mrs. Dannie Douglas, 24, said yesterday after Kenneth had come from 11 days in the hospital.

"He eats like a horse just like he did before. He's up and around and very active."

On Nov. 28, Kenneth swallowed 18 diet pills belonging to Mrs. Douglas. He is alive today because of fast work by doctors at Children's Hospital.

Mrs. Douglas of Hillside, Md., said Kenneth must have taken the pills during the afternoon, "but we didn't notice anything was wrong until about 8:30 that night."

What Kenneth's parents did notice was that he looked drunk. He was staggering, irritable and unbalanced.

They quickly checked and found seven of Mrs. Douglas' diet pills left scattered on a bedroom floor. There had been 25 of them in a bottle in the mother's purse.

The Douglas' rushed Kenneth to the hospital. During the night he lost consciousness and doctors said he was in critical condition. There was no function in the cerebrum, the upper part of the brain.

"The doctors worked on him 13 hours," Mrs. Douglas said. "When they were through, Kenneth could move his arms. His respiration also had improved."

The U.S. Office of Education estimates $39 billion will be spent on all types of education during 1964-65 compared with $35.9 billion in 1963-64.

Rare Session of U.N. Group Mulls Cyprus

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The General Assembly's main political committee turned to the thorny question of Cyprus at an unusual Saturday session today.

Turkish Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayangil was to open the debate with a speech charging that the Greek-dominated government of Cyprus is trying illegally to take over the entire island.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou of Cyprus planned to reply with charges that Turkish residents of the island, with aid from Turkey, are building illegal armed strong points in defiance of the authorities.

Italy, Nigeria and Iran were also scheduled to speak.

The Cyprus debate was given priority because the Security Council meets Tuesday to decide whether the U.N. peace force shall continue to stand guard in Cyprus for another six months.

Secretary General U Thant said in a report to the council yesterday the 6,500-man force is vital to the maintenance of peace in Cyprus, but he said it could no longer be financed on the basis of voluntary contributions.

British Eye Junkie Crackdown

LONDON (NEA)—The junkies start gathering at the all-night drugstore in Piccadilly Circus at midnight so that they can draw their next day's supply of morphine and heroin with National Health prescriptions.

The idea is to draw your supply, dash to the nearest public lavatory for a quick "fix" and still catch the last subway home.

It is all perfectly legal, and the junkies get their drugs free under Britain's socialized medicine program.

In fact, the British pride themselves that their system dealing with drug addicts is more humane than the American, which regards them more as criminals than as sick people.

But Britain's humane system has now been knocked into a cocked hat by statistics which show that drug addiction here has nearly doubled in the past five years. And a government committee appointed to look into the matter recommends that addicts be detained at treatment centers set up along American lines.

RISE IN ADDICTION
Blame for the "disturbing" rise in addiction is laid at the doorstep of the medical profession in the report of the committee headed by Lord Brain, 68, a Quaker and an outstanding neurologist. Some doctors have been "overprescribing" drugs, the Brain committee claims.

In the five-year period which ended in 1964 the total number of drug addicts known to the Home Office had risen from 434 to 753—the number of heroin addicts from 68 to 342.

The figures may seem small in comparison to addiction in the United States (there are said to be 50,000 addicts in New York City alone), but police and medical experts are alarmed over the unbroken rise.

Meanwhile, news that their drug supplies may soon be curtailed, if not cut off, has thrown the junkies into a panic. A number of them have been interviewed on television and radio, and they bitterly complain that their freedom is being tampered with.

HEROIN USER
Barry Ellis, a writer who has been on heroin for 21 years, says that the Brain committee report "smacks of totalitarianism." Ellis, who draws his drug supply from his National Health doctor once a week, says he will refuse to go to a treatment center.

British doctors are cautioned by the Home Office that they should not prescribe drugs without first trying to cure. But a doctor can ignore this advice and build up a lucrative private practice. To curb the rise in addiction the Brain committee recommends that:

• All addicts should be registered with a central authority.

• Special treatment centers should be set up, particularly in the London area.

• Prescribing of heroin and cocaine to addicts should be limited to doctors at these centers.

• There should be powers for compulsory detention of addicts at these centers if they wished to break off treatment during the "discomfort of withdrawal symptoms."

Lord Brain, former president of the Royal College of Physicians, is perhaps the most respected figure in the British medical world today. As the report is backed by seven other doctors, it is expected to become government policy.

Area Home Is Opened To Chapter

Mrs. A. J. Latozas was hostess for the "Preferential" and model meeting of Alpha Alpha chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha International, recently, in her home on Warbler Drive, Independence Township.

New member, Mrs. Bruce Ritchie, was welcomed and informed as to the ways of sorority life as each officer and committee head detailed her committee's operation.

In describing the scope of the sorority, Mrs. Latozas, who is vice president and rush captain, constructed the "three of ESA" during the evening.

International headquarters in Loveland, Colo., was considered the trunk of the tree with various state and city councils adding strength. The sorority membership is 40,000 with chapters in Australia, Peru and Denmark.

Mrs. Calvin Warner, and honorary member, Mrs. Bertha Lampkin, presided at the candlelight Christmas refreshment table.

The annual Christmas dinner will be Thursday at the Kingsley Inn.

Keep Your Actions on High Plain

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband died six months ago and I am now living alone. Every so often one of his friends or business associates visit me in the evening to see how I am getting on. They generally stay about an hour or so and leave.

I have just learned that my next-door neighbor has been spreading gossip about me because of these men coming to the house. I am very upset. Is there any possible impropriety in having these men call on me?

A: If these friends and associates of your husband are quiet, respectable men and both their and your behavior above reproach and their "hour or so" visit never stretches out to near or past midnight, there is no impropriety in having them call on you.

WISHES GRANDFATHER TO GIVE HER AWAY

Q: My mother died when I was 2 and I have been living with my grandparents ever since. My father remarried many years ago.

I seldom see him and he has contributed little or nothing to my support. Under the circumstances, would it be proper to have my grandfather give away in place of my mother at my forthcoming wedding.

A: Under the circumstances you describe, it will be entirely proper and quite understandable to have your grandfather give you away.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

'Dress' Gifts Well

Fashion in gift wrap, humbug? Not so, according to the three thousand women who replied to a survey conducted again this year by America's largest manufacturer of gift wrap for Christmas.

Inquiring into the likes, dislikes and "no opinion" of women from coast to coast, the firm found out how their gift packages will be dressed this year. Having conducted a similar survey one year ago, the results this year reveal not only a fashion story, but a definite change from last year.

BIG SWITCH

The big switch this year is from traditional patterned paper to textures. Folds, plain or embossed went from second place last year, to an almost two to one favorite this year. At the same time color preferences remained the same with red the favorite, green second and gold and blue tying for third.

This year, as last, the survey indicates that 50 per cent of the gift wrap purchases will be between $3 and $5. However more women indicated that they will spend more than was shown last year.

If more money is being spent for fancy gift wrap, more unused paper is also being tucked away for future use. Last year only 18 per cent of those asked said that they saved gift wrap from one year to the next. This year that figure rose to 97 per cent!

With gift wrap now fashion, do women look at the price tag? You bet they do! Two-thirds of those questioned said they shop for best buys, and the majority of them make their purchases in discount stores or supermarkets.

Again this year 97 per cent of the women said that the way in which a gift was wrapped made an impression on them. 82 per cent indicated that they enjoyed wrapping packages.

While 18 per cent of them said that they didn't enjoy wrapping, or actually disliked the job they rarely used a store's gift wrap service. They did, however purchase ready made bows.

BUYING BOWS

Companies employ designers whose job is devising new ways to make bows and wrap packages. At the same time the ready-made bow has become a best seller. If this seems contradictory it really isn't. Many women who purchase ready-made bows still show their individuality by combining a few or using it as part of their own design.

Three quarters of those asked said that they try copying designs from instructions — and 42 per cent of them actually try designing their own.

If you are still one of these who think that gift wrap fashion is humbug, leaf through the Christmas pages of newspapers or magazines over the past thirty years.

When lipstick came in only one color — red — Christmas gift wrap came in only one color — white. White tissue paper, trimmed with a red or green ribbon wrapping everything from a diamond to a pair of socks. Then, with the depression a pair of socks was a welcome gift.

To add a festive touch during those unhappy years a few paper manufacturers started imprinting bold one and two color patterns on very inexpensive paper. Then bows became bolder and bigger.

World War II froze women's fashions, and gift wrap too, changed its style. The papers were of better quality, and fine designers were creating paper patterns with the same care given to fine wall paper. Space given to shopping hints began to include wrapping hints as well. Beautifully wrapped boxes became, in themselves, Christmas decoration.

Chapter Has An Election of Officers

Officers for Doris chapter No. 157, Daughters of Penelope, were elected at the final meeting for 1965, Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. Nicholas Samouris on Fernberry Drive.

Mrs. George Pratt is incoming president; Mrs. Nicholas Sekles, vice president; Mrs. Cora Husted, secretary; Mrs. Dora Giannopoulos, priestess; Beth Gregory, warden; Mrs. David Weinberg, marshal.

Serving on the board of governors will be Mrs. John P. Tsatsanis, Kiki Sekles, Beth Gregory and Elizabeth Gregory.

CHRISTMAS DINNER

The annual Christmas dinner for the group will be Dec. 17 in the Kingsley Inn. Officers will be installed at the January meeting.

A forthcoming dinner-dance, combined with the Order of Ahepa, is planned for February in the Kingsley Inn.

Mrs. John Condon and Mrs. Giannopoulos were named co-chairmen for a card party in the spring.

President Beth Gregory reported in behalf of the group who attended the opening performance of "Kismet" at the Fisher Theater in Detroit.

Penny L. Lankey to Be Honored at Bridal Fete

Bride-elect Penny Lyn Lankey of Sylvan Lake will be honored at a kitchen and pantry shower this evening in the Utica home of Mrs. Philip Majestic. Louise Brendel will be the hostess.

Guests at a recent shower in the home of Mrs. William Aberdell on Ross Drive included the honoree's mother, Mrs. H. V. Lankey of Port Austin and her grandmother, Mrs. Leon F. Cobb, Sylvan Lake.

Attending from Utica and Rochester, respectively, were Mrs. Joseph F. Brendel and Mrs. Clinton McGee, mother and grandmother of Joseph Brendel Jr., the future bridegroom. Others came from Huntington Woods, Fenton, Grosse Pointe and St. Claire Shores.

Mrs. Douglas Campbell of Foxcroft also honored Miss Lankey at a recent linen shower. The Dec. 18 wedding will be in the Grace Lutheran Church.

Your Formula Just Might Not Work for Anyone Else

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After 12 years of marriage, Fenwick told me he wanted a divorce. (I knew he'd been running around on me, but then, nobody is perfect.)

He said he was "in love" with a woman he'd met at work. (She is 44 and divorced. Fenwick is 36!) I told him I wanted to meet her, and if I thought she was good enough for him, I'd sign the papers.

Well, I met her, and she was worse than I had expected. I just calmly told Fenwick that I wouldn't sign any papers to free him so he could marry THAT. I didn't stop him from seeing her. I just let the affair burn itself out. In six months it was dead as a dodo.

Now Fenwick is thanking me for being so wise and sensible. Maybe other women with the same problem can use my formula.

NOT SO DUMB
DEAR NOT: What will cure some patients will kill others. All generalizations are worthless, including this one.

DEAR ABBY: I have never seen a problem like mine in your column. I am 24, and am engaged to be married to a man I've known about a year.

We know each other quite well and have told each other about our pasts and things like that. But there is one thing he doesn't know about me. Six years ago I had my nose "bobbied." Large

Tells of Day Dining at White House Mess

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS

By Esther Van Wagoner Tully
WASHINGTON — The other day the top ranking women in the administration invited me to lunch at the White House Mess and I was delighted because I like and admire Esther Peterson very much and I never had eaten in the mess, which is operated by the Navy.

Eating at the mess, I discovered, is quite a different experience than dining upstairs as a guest of the President and the First Lady. The food is better than sometimes served in the state dining room and it is a lot more fun as the men-brah-throne come in to grab a quick meal.

INTERESTING GUESTS
The few guests on this day were interesting, too. Walter Reuther stopped by to ask Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson if she planned to attend the AFL-CIO conventions. She said "yes."

Commissioner Richard Graham of the Office of Economic Opportunity eagerly sought Mrs. Peterson's aid "to get the right kind of publicity" for Title VII of the Economic Opportunity Act which involves job discrimination based on sex.

To my surprise, she recommended cooperation with industrialist William B. Murphy, President of Campbell Soup and chairman of the Business Advisory Council.

It seems she had accompanied Mr. Murphy through one of his plants in a personal check-up of which jobs women would not be qualified to fill. With a laugh, Mrs. Peterson said "the only job a woman couldn't fill was held by the washroom attendant in the men's room."

LITTLE TIME

At this "no business" luncheon, Mrs. Peterson said she wished she had time to do some entertaining in her home. That she lacks time is obvious for she wears two official hats. Not only is she the Assistant Secretary of Labor but also Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs.

Mrs. Peterson makes no secret that she would prefer to wear only one official hat, but declined to reveal which one she desires to keep.

Actually as an Assistant Secretary she ranks higher than being an Special Assistant to the President, but there's nothing like running your own program, the first of its kind, and reporting directly to the President.

The President may not know it but of all the possible top assignments she would prefer being Assistant Secretary of Labor for Legislative Affairs.

She's a recognized whiz at lobbying in Capitol Hill and a great favorite with members of Congress. She testifies frequently before congressional committees.

'ALMOST' NORMAL LIFE
To know the "other side" of the tall, out-going Esther Peterson, who looks her Swedish ancestry with her crown of half-silver braids, she should be seen "at home" where she manages to have almost a normal life as a wife and mother of grown children, despite much traveling out of Washington and the heavy demands of her two top jobs in the Great Society.

relax she ranks higher than being an Special Assistant to the President, but there's nothing like running your own program, the first of its kind, and reporting directly to the President.

A summer wedding is being planned by Sheila Mary Mohar, of Sylvester Street, and Frederick Ernest Denne, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Denne of Ellis Road, Springfield Township. She is the daughter of the Joseph Mohars of Marquette and a graduate of Northern Michigan University School of Practical Nursing.

noses run in my family, and I had an enormously large nose. Now it's considerably reduced and is quite pretty, and only those who knew me B.O. (before operation) are aware that I've had one.

Should I tell my fiancé about my nose job? I don't think it would be fair to marry him and bear children who might inherit my real nose. Awaiting your reply, I am,

"NOSE JOB"
DEAR NOSE JOB: If he's the right kind of man, it's highly unlikely that you'll lose him by a nose.

DEAR ABBY: I have been meaning to write to you for over a year about my husband's sister. (Let's call her Nellie.) Well, Nellie has been having trouble with her husband and she's driving us crazy with telephone calls night and day, asking what she should do.

It seems her husband wants a divorce because of another woman, and Nellie refuses to give him one. The whole story is only HER side of it. No one has heard her husband's side of it. Anyway, Nellie tells her troubles to everyone who will listen, and she asks for advice. It's disgusting.

We told her a year ago that she was foolish for trying to hang on to a man who didn't want her, but she got hysterical. I suggested she talk to her clergyman. She did, and he told her to let her husband go. We want to help her. What should we do?

TIED HANDS
DEAR TIED: Nellie doesn't really want "advice." She is searching for someone (anyone!) who will support her decision to hang on to her husband. She needs an impartial counselor. But even he can't help her if she refuses to listen.

Tied in Knots Over Bows?

Norcross offers free booklet giving instructions on wrapping Christmas packages and Christmas decorating ideas.

If tying bow ties you in knots, and wrapping Christmas packages makes you all thumbs, you'll appreciate having a 24-page step-by-step instruction booklet showing easy ways to wrap packages and the bows.

One of the leading greeting card and gift wrapping publishers has titled their booklet "Christmas U.S.A." It also offers instructions on how to make from Christmas gift wrappings, inexpensive holiday decorations inspired by the local folklore of many of the colorful regions of our country.

There are sprightly pinatas from the Southwest, a Saint Lucia from the Midwest, an amusing Santa totem pole from Alaska, and a host of other imaginative ideas gathered by the design studio from as far away as Hawaii. Instructions are also given for making the favorite holiday symbols known and loved in every state, like stockings and trees, Santas and carollers, and the Three Wise Men.

You can obtain a copy of this brochure by sending your name and address to: Mrs. Peggy Gilbert, Department ABC, Norcross Inc., 244 Madison Ave., New York, New York 10016.

Why not try sophisticated striped wraps in a variety of ways for well-dressed packages this year? One of the country's leading gift-wrapping publishers suggests (from left) a rich blue-green flocked stripe banded with metallic foil, adorned with an embossed gold seal in wreath motif; "Peppermint Stripe" for cube-shaped package, with jaunty pouf of shredded ribbon; and filigree stripe, with criss-cross self bands, gold seal and tailored bow.

Viernes Club Members Dance Amidst Greens, Topiary Trees

The ballroom of the new Kingsley Inn was the setting for the Viernes Dancing Club's formal dinner-dance on Friday.

Some 60 couples danced to the music of Jack Hogan's orchestra in a fairyland setting of flocked boughs of greens and miniature tree lights.

Decked With Holly

Red tulip topiary trees decked with holly centered the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard

Paschke were chairmen for the evening, heading a committee comprised of the Richard Furnetys, the Russell Lehighs, the Fred Fullers, the George Tusons and the George Pudducks.

President and Mrs. Russell Perkins joined the receiving line with the other committee members preceding the dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Burder of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Pontiac, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at an open house from 4 to 8 p.m. Sunday in the Amets Bemis-Olsen Post 113, Oakland Avenue. The couple's son Frank Jr., Birmingham, and daughter Mrs. J. Orville Shoots, Clarkston, are hosts for the occasion. Born in England, the Burders were wed Dec. 18, 1915 in Oshawa, Ontario, Canada, shortly before moving to Pontiac. They have six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Polly's Pointers

Christmas Traditions

DEAR POLLY — Last year as we decorated our home for Christmas, my husband suggested that some of our "traditions" might give ideas to others.

I have a collection of small toys that have a special meaning for our two grandsons so I hang these from different lengths of red ribbon, attach them to a bunch of greens, add a big red bow and have our front door "greeted." Those grandsons are now young men who look forward to that arrangement every year.

Over the mantel, I hang a picture made by assembling in sequence, the boys' pictures taken when they visited Santa Claus during their growing-up years. Notations are made as to their reactions at the time.

One of the boys tried to convince himself that his friends were wrong when they said there was no Santa Claus so his fingers were crossed while he was with Santa and I wrote on the bottom, "Note crossed fingers." These are arranged in an old frame which I regilded. It hangs from a red cord with a bunch of greens at its peak.

Greens are laid on the mantel shelf with brass candlesticks, holding berry candles, at each end. They are tied with red ribbon and greenery and in the center is the advent calendar which has been used throughout the Advent season.

On Christmas Eve this is replaced by the family greeting card signed by the grandsons and their parents. These are never thrown away but are put in a scrapbook which is fast becoming a family treasure.

We have one of those big old-fashioned family Bibles which is brought out at Christmas time, opened to the Christmas story as told by Luke and this is placed on the coffee table with another candle and some greens. Christmas has a very deep and special meaning to us as a family. — ELSIE

DEAR POLLY — Discarded chair and sofa cushions can be cut down, covered with simulated leather fabric, a handstrap added and you have a handy and comfortable cushion to tote to football games. — MRS. H. B. J.

DEAR POLLY — Try wearing your sewing apron when decorating for the holidays or some special occasion. Just fill the pockets with plastic tape, scissors and so on and you will be saved lots of steps — MRS. E. F.

Creativity Is Holiday Party Theme

Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society met in the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Joseph Kuras for a Christmas party.

The group's theme for the year is "The Nature and the Nurture of Creativity."

PRESENT PLAY

Members responded to roll call with lines from the collection "Twins the Night Before Christmas" and then participated in the play "The First Christmas." The play was written specially for the group by Sally Adams who was narrator. Carols were played at the organ by Mrs. William Cheal.

The society's Jan. 17 meeting at Eastover School will be open to all interested in hearing Tony Spina, Detroit Free Press photographer recently knighted by Pope Paul VI. He will speak on "Creative Photography."

Hostesses for the evening were chairman Miss Adams, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler, Mrs. Everett Peterson, Mrs. William Cheal and Mrs. Joseph Kuras.

VFW Auxiliary Donates Linens

The "City of Pontiac" Auxiliary to Post 1370, Veterans of Foreign Wars, approved a donation for linens for the National home in Easton Rapids, at the Christmas party Friday in the VFW Hall. Mrs. Virgil Vandecar was chairman for the evening.

Mrs. Hazel Burns and Mrs. Vandecar are in charge of a Christmas box to be sent to Matthew Jones Jr., only member of the post serving in Viet Nam.

The senior Mrs. Jones was chairman of the recent turkey dinner sponsored by the auxiliary.

Guild Elects Four Officers

The Menscola Guild of Lourdes elected four officers at the Christmas meeting in the Guild Room of the home on Watkins Lake Road.

Festive Plants Brought to U.S. in Early 1800s

NEW YORK (UPI) — The poinsettia has been a favorite Christmas decoration in the United States since early in the 19th century.

But if it hadn't been for the interest of Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett, of Charleston, S.C., the shrub might never have attained popularity here, reports Encyclopedia International.

Dr. Poinsett, a diplomat in several Central and South American countries, brought the poinsettia back to the U.S. and cultivated it.

Subsequently, another person, Robert Buist, of Philadelphia began distributing the flower. It caught on as a Christmas flower because of attractive color.

Word to Wives Is Still Valid

A wily Frenchman's advice to wives in "The Goodman of Paris," a book published about 1515, is still valid today.

The section headed, "The Care of a Husband," contains this admonition: "Love your husband's person carefully, and keep him in clean linen, for that is your business."

Top With Toy

A tiny gift atop a child's package not only makes a bonus gift for the receiver, but adds to the appearance of the package and delights the youngster. A tiny doll may be tied in the bow of ribbon that tops the gift of a little girl, or a little car used on the gift for a small boy.

CHOOSE your realistic Christmas trees from BRONNER'S large selection of simulated Cedar, Hemlock and Pine. Here's an example: 7 foot Scotch Pine... as low as $9.75. Trim Will Hide Tear in Coat

If your little daughter wears small holes in the elbows of the sleeve of an otherwise perfectly good coat, you can mend it this way. Buy a small length of the same type of cloth as the coat, only in contrasting color. Sew a strip of it wide enough to cover the holes around both sleeves. Then make her a tam to match the sleeve bands. The outfit will look pretty, instead of mended.

Neal Gets 1-15 Years in Wife Death

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Former actor Tom Neal was sentenced yesterday to one to 15 years for the fatal shooting of his wife.

Superior Court Judge Hilton H. McCabe pronounced sentence on the charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Neal, 51, was convicted three weeks ago in the death last April 1 of Gail Neal, 29, found shot to death in their Palm Springs home.

Ashen-faced after the sentencing, Neal told newsmen:

"Even God has to answer to Judge McCabe, I guess. This is his vengeance."

Judge McCabe had refused to grant probation despite pleas by Neal's attorneys.

The California Adult Authority will determine how long Neal must serve, but it must be at least one year. The eight months he has been in jail will not count toward the sentence.

Neal, onetime hero of low-budget movies and principal in a celebrated fight with actor Franchot Tone, was charged with shooting his wife as she slept on a divan.

She had filed for divorce some time before he, after a trip to Chicago, had gone to her for a "soul-baring" attempt at reconciliation.

He claimed she was shot accidentally as they struggled over a gun he had placed on a table. The weapon was never found.

THAMES UNTAMED—Water from the River Thames covers its banks and traps parked cars on Lower Thames Street in London yesterday. One of the highest tides in memory caused the river to back up and overflow its banks.

At Least 3 Dead

Rains, High Tides Cause British Floods

LONDON (UPI) — Floods caused by rain-swollen rivers and gale-driven tides created havoc in a dozen British counties yesterday and today, causing at least three deaths.

The River Thames, at its highest level in 12 years, flooded low-lying areas in London's financial district and came within inches of inundating the House of Commons.

The cellars of the legislative building were cleared of items which might be damaged or destroyed by water.

Hundreds of policemen and firemen were posted along the river bank today to sound the alarm if another exceptionally high tide causes additional flooding.

Tides on the southeast coast of England were a foot to 18 inches higher than normal, within an inch or two of the danger level.

SEVERE FLOODS

Severe flooding was reported at several points in Wales and northern England. Many roads were impassable.

Members of Parliament left their chambers and went to the riverside terrace to watch the rising river come within inches of the top of the parapet.

The body of an 18-year-old girl was found in a car in S. Helier Harbor on the English Channel island of Jersey. It was not certain whether she accidentally drove the car into the water or was blown in by gale winds.

An 8-year-old boy was swept into the flood-swollen River Lynn, and a 17-year-old youth's canoe capsized in the flooded River Dove. Both were drowned.

The River Derwent flooded much of the communities of Matlock and Derby. At noon yesterday, the center of Matlock was under six feet of water. Motorists were advised to stay away from Derby, where because six major roads passing through the town were under water.

Teen Is Held in Ax Slaying of 5 in Family

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UPI) — A mentally disturbed teen-ager tried to contact a psychiatrist this week and the worried doctor sent the boy an urgent message to visit him at any time.

"He didn't keep the appointment," Dr. Bennet Wong said later. "I found out afterward he was never given the message."

Today, police held the 17-year-old boy in connection with the ax-slaying of five members of his Vancouver family.

The victims died in their beds without a struggle. Their killer wielded a two-sided ax later found in the house.

Murdered were Osborne Kosberg, his wife, Dorothy, 40, and three of their children — Barry, 15, Gayle, 11, and Vincent, 2.

Six-month-old Osborne Jr. was found unharmed in his crib. Doctors were trying to save the life of another child, Mari-Anne, 13, who underwent surgery for head wounds.

Yule Gifts for State Gls Near Quota

DETROIT (AP) — An assembly line of good cheer for Michigan GIs in Viet Nam neared its final production quota today.

Packing of the last of 7,536 Christmas boxes filled with a wide assortment of goods is expected to be completed sometime this afternoon, after which they will be loaded aboard a chartered plane and flown to Viet Nam.

Among the items the recipients will find when they open the packages are aspirin, paperback books, cereal, soft drinks, fruit cakes, razor blades, apple juice and gum.

"At the beginning, when the governor asked me to head this, we figured on about 4,000 packages," said Richard Headlee, 35, the father of eight.

"But three days after we asked people to send in the names and addresses of Michigan men in Viet Nam we had 2,000 names. And we had 4,000 names two days after that."

"Now they tell me they have 7,436 men on the list."

The idea to send Christmas boxes developed after Gov. George Romney returned from a recent visit to Viet Nam.

Headlee said the Defense Department refused to give out the names of Michigan servicemen in Viet Nam and wouldn't even say how many Michigan men were there.

"They said it was a matter of military privacy," Headlee recalled. "We are the only state, as far as I know, that is sending packages to its men by name."

"When they wouldn't give us the names, the governor was wavering about it all. But I said I've gone down the tube so many times with bad ideas and, heck, this was a good idea."

"So we asked the people of Michigan to send us the names and addresses of the men in Viet Nam, and they started to pour in."

The packages are being stuffed by employees from the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Wyandotte Chemical Workers Vote to Approve New Pact

WYANDOTTE, (AP) — Members of Local 7-638 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union late Friday approved a new contract with Wyandotte Chemicals Corp., ending a more-than-seven-month strike.

The vote was 811-189. The first workers are expected back on their jobs at midnight Sunday, a company spokesman said, with return to full operation expected within a few days.

The union struck May 4. Terms of the new contract, due to run until Sept. 1, 1967, are similar to ones recommended seven weeks ago by federal and state mediators, the spokesman said.

It was accepted then by the firm, but rejected by the union, he said.

A tentative agreement was reached early Wednesday after Gov. George Romney intervened, bringing both sides to a face-to-face meeting in his Lansing office.

Included in the contract is an immediate two per cent wage increase, an across-the-board raise of 8 cents an hour starting May 4, 1966, and insurance and pension plan improvements, the company spokesman said.

An existing contract clause relating to management's right to assign work remains unchanged, he added. The dispute had centered on this clause, he explained.

"Wyandotte's basic right to direct its work force is not impaired," said George S. Baker, vice president of employe and public relations.

Wealthy but Undeveloped Zambia Is Loser in Rhodesia Break

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — northwest, Tanzania to the northeast, Mozambique to the southeast and a strip of South Africa in the southwest. Zambia cannot help getting hurt in a confrontation with Prime Minister Ian Smith's Salisbury regime.

COULD LOSE ELECTRICITY
At worst, it could lose electricity from the Rhodesian-controlled Kariba Dam which powers the copper industry. Or Rhodesia could cut Zambia's main railway route to the sea.

At best, Zambians can expect gas rationing and a possible rise in the cost of living as well as a goods.

Exchange controls imposed this week have already complicated financial dealings. Ironically, South Africa is the country which could profit most from British and Zambian actions against Rhodesia.

More than half Zambia's annual imports come from Rhodesia. But Rhodesia is a high-cost producer of manufactured goods and Lusaka took Salisbury off Commonwealth preference for imports. This means South Africa now has most items Zambia needs and at better prices than Rhodesia.

Japan and Hong Kong underprice South Africa but shipping costs are high.

White Gifts for Families

Christmas Pageant
by Church School

Under the leadership of Rev. Richard J. Reynolds, assistant pastor, the Church School of First Presbyterian Church will present the annual Christmas pageant at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the sanctuary.

During the program white gifts of canned food will be presented. These will be distributed to needy families of the community by the board of deacons. Refreshments and the singing of Christmas carols will follow in the dining room for the congregation.

Throughout the Christmas season the front stained glass window will be illuminated between the hours of 5 and 11 p.m.

One of the original windows of the church, it depicts the Nativity of Jesus.

Featured in the scene are the three Wise Men bringing gifts to the Christ child cradled in the arms of Mary with Joseph and one of the shepherds standing in the background.

Pastor Glen E. Hershey has written a booklet, "The Gospel in Glass." The writing describes the six clerestory windows of the sanctuary and the three windows of the East vestibule.

The booklet, which contains information on the use of color and symbol in liturgical art as well as the making of stained glass, is available to persons requesting a copy, Pastor Hershey said.

Will Discuss Issues

Pastor V.L. Lewis of St. James Missionary Baptist Church asks members to be present at the 11 a.m. service tomorrow. He said important issues will be discussed.

Stimulate Group Thinking on Public Woes--Romney

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Plenty of organizations are crying for something meaningful to do and state governments should stimulate them to help solve major public problems, Gov. George Romney said Friday.

Speaking to the Oklahoma Governor's Conference on Community Concerns, Romney said stimulating the independent sector is a new role for state government.

"We are trying it out in Michigan," he said. "We don't have money to hand out. We don't have a centralized bureaucracy to pass on every local or voluntary project. We don't understand independent effort. We encourage it."

The Michigan governor said state and local governments and the independent sector "have some real advantages over the federal government in solving many public problems."

CLOSE TO PEOPLE
State and local governments, he said, "are closer to the people, and can adapt local programs more readily to local needs."

"And they can conduct their business without the huge overhead, vast staff, overlapping agencies and red tape which plague the federal government," Romney added.

"They are diverse and flexible and lend themselves to experimentation, as does the independent sector, he said. "Independent programs are more likely than governmental programs to require those who receive help to be willing to do their necessary part," he said.

TAX SOURCES
Romney said state governments must make adequate tax sources available for meeting local needs and must encourage cooperation among what he called presently fragmented local units of government.

Romney predicted the United States' role in Viet Nam will be a major issue in the 1968 presidential campaign.

Romney added that the military aspect is not necessarily the most important. "The economic, social political aspects could be far more decisive," said Romney, who is mentioned as a potential contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

PLACE EMPHASIS
Romney said Republicans should place emphasis on 1968 campaigns. "Only if we concentrate on 1968 can we be in a stronger position in 1968," he said. He declined to say if he will run for reelection in Michigan next year.

Romney said Republicans should "take advantage of the opportunity to present the people of this country a superior program... that will meet our current problems better than they have been met by a program that can be best described as government and money."

"At home our program is more butter, abroad our policy is guns. Neither of these is adequate," he said.

Asked if he believed the United States should step up its air and sea attacks on North Viet Nam, he replied:

"I think we would take a very searching look at what we do. We're obviously at a point where we are going to have to weigh carefully every step we take."

He said there is "no simple, easy solution" but that the U.S. has "certainly changed the course of events" in Viet Nam.

The Batman Back in Style

Old Movies Serials 'In' With College Crowd

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—To some, it may be a pop art movie. To others it's a look at childhood happiness. But for most patrons, watching more than four hours of old Batman movie picture serials is just plain fun.

Many movie theaters around the country, including one in Philadelphia, are reviving the bygone matinee serials, the kind with the cliff-hanging ending on each sequence so that you'd have to come back next Saturday. But instead of running weekly by week, now they're spliced together and run in a single showing.

Most of Philadelphia's patrons are college students. To them, the period costumes, the heavy acting and propaganda against the Japanese—as was with the United States when the serial was made—are good for laughs.

One young woman was laughing as she emerged from the theater. "Those ears of his. They're hysterical. And those leotards! Years. There's a hole in the knee."

SIMPLE LIFE

Joel Levine of Woodmere, N.Y., a student at the University of Pennsylvania, analyzed it this way: "Batman represents a simplistic existence. Seeing these films takes us back to simpler time when life was merely a battle between good and evil."

"Everything is much more complex now. But after four hours of Batman serials you can begin to see things through the eyes of Batman. You're a changed person, for a while anyway."

Norris Wolf of Great Neck, N.Y., another Penn student, said Batman is "great pop art. He's super in. He epitomizes super camp."

Camp is regarded as something so bizarre, or in bad taste, that it's in—the thing to see or do.

One man in his late 30s, though, said he had a more practical reason for going to the movies: "I saw some of the episodes when I was a kid and I want to see the rest of them."

The common housefly neither bites nor stings.

Barbara Eden's Problem Solved

Pregnant TV Genie Continues

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—The problem of the pregnant genie has been solved to the satisfaction of NBC, Screen

Gems and especially Barbara Eden.

Last winter the blonde star, wife of actor Michael Ansara, made a pilot film for a new television series, "I Dream of Jeannie."

The set-up seemed surefire: Barbara played a genie attuned to the wishes of Larry Hagman. After all, witches and Martians had fostered hit television series; why not a genie?

Predictably, Madison Avenue went along with such thinking, and "I Dream of Jeannie" was snapped up for the 1965-66 season. On the day it was purchased, Barbara made another discovery: She was expecting her first child.

"I called Sidney Sheldon, who had created the series for Screen Gems," said Barbara, "and I thought surely he would then want to cast another girl for the lead. But he said they would try to work it out."

The series couldn't begin production because scripts weren't prepared. After a couple of months, Barbara assumed her role as the genie, wardrobe magic concealing her condition.

"I made 11 films, riding a camel, flying through the air and everything," she reported. "I worked until I was seven months along and even then came back for some closeups at eight months."

A robust Matthew Ansara was born, weighing just under 9 pounds. Within three weeks Barbara was back at her job as genie. "No problem," she reported. "I get a little tired now and then, that's all."

PURE ESCAPISM

"It's pure escapism, but what's wrong with that?" she reasoned about Jeannie. "Television is aimed at middle-class families who want to take off their shoes and forget their troubles."

"Take a show like 'East Side, West Side.' Yes, it was well done. But it also reminded people of their own troubles, and they don't like to be reminded," she said.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A group of American senators has told India's leaders they must liberalize their attitude toward foreign investments and private capital if they hope to fight their way to a self-sufficient economy.

The response to this posture by top officials has varied from ice cold to moderately warm, report the senators. But most of the group, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., say they are optimistic over the future of the private sector of India's economy.

"Speaking for myself," said Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., in an interview, "we tried to make clear to the people in India that they have a vital interest in the development of their own economy."

"We told them that as much as the United States is interested in helping India in its food shortages, we are also interested in them developing their private sector so that they can one day contribute to the economy of the world."

WORLD TRADE

Hartke said India's concern should not be only to attain a self-sufficient but Indians also should try to become a contributing partner in world trade.

Others in the delegation, which spent the past week meeting with Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and other officials, commented on the record on the talks.

One said he had been told India is planning on several billion dollars in foreign aid in the next five-year plan which begins in April 1966. But the planners count on only $500 million foreign private capital during that time.

"This is a most unfortunate attitude toward outside investments," the senator said.

STEEL MILLS

"The Indian leadership has had a tremendous sentimental attachment to things which are not basic," another senator complained. He said India has busied itself with building steel mills but is not taking steps to grow enough food for its burgeoning population.

Since independence in 1947, India has embarked upon the development of a democratic-socialist government. Strong leftist forces have opposed what little private enterprise has been allowed to remain.

PURVIS HUNT JR.

Washington Ninth Grader Teen of Week

This week's teen of the week is Purvis Hunt Jr., a ninth grade student at Washington Junior High School.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Purvis Hunt of 54 Lorraine, Purvis maintains an A-minus scholastic average.

In addition to his studies, he is active in school musical groups, the hall guard staff and basketball team.

Upon graduation from high school, Purvis plans to follow a career in medicine or biochemistry.

'Raise Rates or Boost Taxes'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican member of the House Banking Committee said Friday the only practical alternative to the Federal Reserve Board's recent interest-raising action would have been a tax increase.

Rep. James Harvey of Michigan added, in an interview: "I don't believe the Johnson Administration would have accepted that at all."

Harvey said he thinks there is little dispute among members of either party that the interest rate was called for to check an inflationary spiral. But he said it is "a real close question" whether the board should have acted as early as it did or waited until January when financial information would be in.

India Is Urged to Liberalize

Touring U.S. Senators Push Self-Reliance

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A group of American senators has told India's leaders they must liberalize their attitude toward foreign investments and private capital if they hope to fight their way to a self-sufficient economy.

The response to this posture by top officials has varied from ice cold to moderately warm, report the senators. But most of the group, headed by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., say they are optimistic over the future of the private sector of India's economy.

"Speaking for myself," said Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., in an interview, "we tried to make clear to the people in India that they have a vital interest in the development of their own economy."

"We told them that as much as the United States is interested in helping India in its food shortages, we are also interested in them developing their private sector so that they can one day contribute to the economy of the world."

WORLD TRADE

Hartke said India's concern should not be only to attain a self-sufficient but Indians also should try to become a contributing partner in world trade.

Others in the delegation, which spent the past week meeting with Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and other officials, commented on the record on the talks.

One said he had been told India is planning on several billion dollars in foreign aid in the next five-year plan which begins in April 1966. But the planners count on only $500 million foreign private capital during that time.

"This is a most unfortunate attitude toward outside investments," the senator said.

STEEL MILLS

"The Indian leadership has had a tremendous sentimental attachment to things which are not basic," another senator complained. He said India has busied itself with building steel mills but is not taking steps to grow enough food for its burgeoning population.

Since independence in 1947, India has embarked upon the development of a democratic-socialist government. Strong leftist forces have opposed what little private enterprise has been allowed to remain.

Northern Survives 'Dog Fight,' 69-64

By JERE CRAIG

Two teams of Huskies had a dog fight on the Pontiac Northern basketball floor last night, and when it was over neither could say the other had its tail between its legs.

Pontiac Northern's Huskies earned the decision, 69-64, by perfectly timing their one good period of action.

With substitutes Jim Hester and Archie Powell playing key roles, PNH chewed the visiting Port Huron Northern Huskies for a 21-14 final period advantage and its first victory.

Powell scored five points in the spurt, and more important, sprung teammates loose with his crisp passing for six scoring sorties in the rally.

Hester scored seven of the winners' final 12 points as they expanded a shaky two-point lead with four and a half minutes remaining into the final period. Particularly effective was 6-4 center Chick Dobson who had 15 rebounds in the first three quarters.

Dobson finished with 16, and teammate Jerry Weaver had 12. The former managed most of his 16 points by dropping in layups or rebounds.

The visiting Huskies, though, were hurt by floor errors. Pontiac Northern continually flustered them with a pressing defense that led to numerous turn-overs.

Both quietists managed 67 field goal tries, and the home team connected on three more than PHN. The advantage was established in the final period.

led by Hester who hit three for three, the winning Huskies made 9 of 17 shots; and Hayward and Webb gave them a 14-9 rebound margin.

SAIL ALONG JESSIE—Pontiac Central's big scorer and jumper, Jessie Evans goes up and dunks a two-bander in the second quarter of the game against Bay City Central while Joe Burks (15) watches helplessly. Evans stole the ball and brought the crowd to his feet with the dunk.

Central Speed Traps Wolves in 91-51 Win

PCH Stays Unbeaten in Saginaw Valley Cage Race

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Everyone played, everyone scored and everyone is now wondering whether Pontiac Central's basketball team is as good as it showed in whipping Bay City Central, 91-51, before a capacity crowd last night.

The Chiefs, with a display of dazzling speed and sharp passing, scored only three points in the first 3:24 of the game, but then it was a matter of how much they would have had to score in the remaining 28 minutes and 36 seconds of the contest.

The zip and fast play of the Chiefs in the first half even took coach Fred Zittel by surprise and had the two floor officials gasping for breath by midway in the second quarter when PCH rolled to a 38-18 lead.

"Gosh, the way we were going we had to slow it up some," said Zittel.

"I never had such a work-out," commented official Jim Manilla at halftime.

BIG WOLVES
The big muscular Wolves, four starters of whom played with the No. 1 football team in the state, stayed with the Chiefs on the boards for a period and half, but when 6-2 Jesse Evans stole the ball, went in all alone and stuffed a two-hand dunker through the hoop to make it 31-14, it was a matter of time and stamina for the visitors.

All-State football player Dennis Wirgowski at 6-5, pulled down 12 rebounds for Bay City. He also had a technical called against him for his language and could have had a few more if the officials had been lip readers.

Pontiac Central's depth played a big factor in the victory as Prentice Hill, Willie Craft and Alton Wilson all came off the bench and played key roles with 15, 8 and 8 points respectively.

Ed Pruitt with 11 points made several beautiful passes underneath to Ludwig and Evans, while Jim McLendon with 14 points, loosened the middle with some key outside shots and also with his dribbling.

It was one of the best overall efforts for Pontiac Central, leading 43-20 at halftime and 67-32 after three quarters, and finishing with 38 shots in 40 attempts for 60 per cent.

Bay City made 21 of 66 for 31 percent, while in rebounding the Wolves had 27 compared to 46 for the Chiefs.

Next Friday Pontiac Central has a big encounter at Saginaw Arthur Hill which gave SVC favoring Saginaw a battle before losing 66-66 last night.

I GIVE UP — Bay City Central's Tom Kennell, quarterback on the Wolves' No. 1 prep football team in the state, tries to stop Pontiac Central's Ross Ludwig from dribbling past him in their game last night. The Chiefs dribbled past the Wolves handily, 91-51 to stand 2-0 in Saginaw Valley Conference play.

Skippers, Vikings Victims of 'Thirties'

Big Quarters Give EML 5s Easy Verdicts

The Thirties once again have proven trying.

Waterford and Walled Lake's basketball representatives were in point depressions Friday night and their visitors from the Eastern Michigan League made the most of their opportunities.

East Detroit ran up 38 points in the third quarter and 31 in the final period en route to a 105-59 triumph at the Township gymnasium.

Meanwhile, Roseville's Wildcats had 33 in the second session and coasted to a 72-43 conquest at Walled Lake. The defeat was the Vikings' first after one win; Waterford is 0-2.

"When they missed a shot, they nearly always got the rebound and put it in the basket," was the way Waterford coach Bob Taylor summed up the Township loss to the Shamrocks.

Paced by 6-10 Doug Hess and 6-5 Ron Bling (21 points each), East Detroit dominated the backboards against the smaller Skippers. Each had eight field goals.

Rick Ziem matched tries for Waterford in 20 minutes; but he had very little offensive support and the Skippers couldn't control the game once they fell behind.

SIMILAR
Walled Lake's story was similar in that the Vikings fell behind early and had to play Roseville's game. The Wildcats hit 56 per cent of the field goal attempts.

Russ Herron's 15 was Walled Lake's best. John Huebner, who had a school record 43 last week, was limited to one field goal and four points.

Farmington, an Inter-Lakes League member like WTHS and the Vikings, fared better, taking a 72-62 verdict from Port Huron.

Groves Streak Continues in Win Over Oak Park

Northwest Suburban AA Franklin and Detroit Thurston played began last night with Birmingham Groves continuing its early season hot streak and North Farmington still having tough luck.

Groves made it five straight with an 81-49 rout of Oak Park. North Farmington's Falcons were beaten, 63-61, at Livonia.

After taking a 28-4 first period lead, Groves built the margin to 43-20 at halftime; and Oak Park never came within 20 points of the Falcons in the final half. Ed Holman hit 21 for the losing Redskins.

POINT MATTER
This was the fourth time in five starts that Rafferty posted 19 points or better in a winning cause.

Three players shared the point lead for Franklin (1-1 over-all) — Ray Porter, Al Jose and Dale Lee each hit 15.

Scheerer scored 23 points and Finn had 22; between them they had 21 field goals in 32 attempts, and Finn pulled down 15 rebounds.

Brother Rice had a 53-32 advantage in the rebounding, and connected on 37 of 76 field goal attempts.

Monroe Quintet Sends Dondoro Down to Defeat

Royal Oak Dondoro's Border Cities basketball opener was spoiled by a streaky Monroe squad that pulled out a 71-61 Friday night.

Monroe led by four after one quarter, then fell back by one, 23-22, at intermission. Dondoro still was up by one midway through the third session when the visitors surged.

Paced by Ron Bryant's seven points, Monroe ran off 11 straight markers to take a 43-33 advantage. The 10-point lead held fast through the remainder of the game.

Bryant hit 22 of his 37 points in the final half to nab scoring laurels. Mickey Westmoreland's 22 on outside jump shots helped the Dondoro cause, but he lacked support. The Oaks are now 1-3 for the campaign.

DROWN, BUT NOT OUT — Challenger Manuel Gonzalez is on the ropes in the fifth round of the fight with welterweight champion Emile Griffith last night. The referee ruled it a push. Griffith retained his crown with a 15-round decision.

Sugar Ray Steals Show; Not Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson stole the show from welterweight champion Emile Griffith without throwing a single punch.

Griffith retained his title with a lopsided 15-round decision over Manuel Gonzalez, a hellion from Odessa, Tex., in a boring bout and immediately declared he wanted a shot at middleweight king Dick Tiger's crown.

Long before the unanimous verdict was announced, many of the 12,146 fans who paid $72,502 strolled out of Madison Square Garden Friday night to the tune of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," as sung by the gallery-leads in the 83 seats.

They also sang "Deep in the Heart of Texas" and yelled for SHOW BIZ to go home.

But the farewell tribute to Sugar Ray, the 45-year-old former welterweight and five-time middleweight champion, was a rousing and heart-warming success. It was show biz and saved the program.

The onetime cotton picker had his big chance and blew it.

He kept on his bicycle and rarely punched as the angered champion chased him all over the ring, occasionally catching him with left hooks to the body, and left jabs and rights to the head.

Spitz had won a disputed, split decision over Griffith in a non-title 10-rounder in Houston Jan. 26. The fans in the Garden wondered how he even came to fight.

"It takes time to make it," said Emile. "Only he who wanted to dance. I kept saying to him 'You come to get my title — fight! but he wouldn't try.'"

"I'm a better fighter than what I showed," said Gonzalez. "I may have been overtrained. I didn't have any zip. I did the best I could."

3rd Straight Win Posted by Pistons

By The Associated Press

It was only the third consecutive victory, but for the cellar-dwelling Detroit Pistons it is the longest winning streak of the National Basketball Association season.

The Pistons came from a 20-point deficit in the third quarter Friday to defeat the Philadelphia 76ers 116-114.

And perhaps even more satisfying was the job center Eddie Scott did on high scoring Wilt Chamberlain. The 7-foot star netted 40 points, but made only three baskets after Scott moved against him defensively.

Scott paced the Pistons with 32 points, followed by Eddie Miles with 27. Chamberlain's 40 led the home team.

Four-Ball Golf Really Close

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Two strokes was the difference between the two running teams going into the final round of the $125,000 PGA National Four-Ball Championship today.

"In front by one stroke for $20,000 first place money were brothers Jack and Lionel Hebert, with a 54-hole total of 65-65-66-106."

Another brother combination — Jacky and Buster Cupit — and the teams of Bobby Nichols and R.H. Sikes, and Gay Brewer and Butch Baird were locked in a three-way tie at 197.

Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, shooting better with each succeeding round, made up one of six teams two strokes back at 196.

They have been cutting a stroke a day from their game. They opened with 67, carded 66 Thursday and came home Friday with a 65.

Injury Bug Forces Changes; Green Bay Colts in Key Clash

The Detroit Lions held back backs Joe Don Looney and Tommy Watkins on the injured reserve list Friday and rejected Jim Kearney, a defensive back, from their taxi squad.

The move means Looney and Watkins will miss Detroit's final two National Football League games against Minnesota here Sunday and against the Eagles at Philadelphia Dec. 19.

Looney, who suffered a head injury against the Green Bay Packers Nov. 7 has complained of recurring headaches. Doctors recommended that he play no more this season.

The move means Looney and Watkins will miss Detroit's final two National Football League games against Minnesota here Sunday and against the Eagles at Philadelphia Dec. 19.

Looney, who suffered a head injury against the Green Bay Packers Nov. 7 has complained of recurring headaches. Doctors recommended that he play no more this season.

Watkins, who leads the NFL in kickoff returns with 584 yards in 17 returns, suffered a twisted right knee against the Chicago Bears Nov. 21 and has been used sparingly since.

"We figured we wouldn't take a chance on his knee anytime this year," said a Lions spokesman.

Kearney, who played at Prairie View, Tex., started the season with the Lions but was placed on the taxi squad when the team reactivated veteran defensive back Dick (Night Train) Lane earlier this season.

Baltimore, 9-2-1, and Green Bay, 9-3, will be fighting for first place in the Western Division on this next-to-last Sunday of the season.

Respectful as he is of the Packers' defense, coach Don Shula is confident young Gary Cuozzo can do the job as a replacement for injured Johnny Unitas at quarterback.

"Everything rides on this," said Shula. "All the hard work of the season and all the sweat is at stake. If we win it's all worthwhile. Our guys realize how important it is."

"I have confidence that Gary can do the job. We threw him into the toughest situation you can imagine in Chicago in our first game with the Bears and he helped us win. The next week he had a fine day against Minnesota."

While the Colts and Packers are banging heads in the Cleveland Browns — already set for the Jan. 2 league championship game as Eastern titlholders — play the Rams at Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, the NFL schedule has San Francisco at Chicago, Minnesota at Detroit, New York at Washington, and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh. The St. Louis Cardinals and Dallas Cowboys played today at Dallas.

Utah Mentor Takes Iowa Grid Position

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Raymond R. Nagel, 38, University of Utah head football coach for eight years, was appointed to a similar job by the University of Iowa today.

The appointment of Nagel by the board in control of athletics ended a search which began almost immediately after it fired coach Jerry Burns, 38, four days before the end of the 1965 season. Nagel's salary was not announced. Burns received $18,500 a year.

FINISH LAST

In five seasons Burns' team never finished higher than fifth place in the Big Ten Conference and the Hawkeyes ended eighth place in 1963, ninth in 1964 and last in 1965.

Burns' record for the five years was 16 victories, 27 defeats and two ties. Iowa's record this year was 1-9, the worst in the Big Ten.

Nagel, who coached at Utah, his first college coaching job, with a 9-2 record and a blocked shot and a steal. McLiberty Bowl victory over West Virginia, was the best in the Nick Pino, 7-foot-1 sophomore, university's history.

Neither Norton nor Dolphin President Joe Robbie would discuss the price tag, but both Miami papers said it was $300,000 over four years.

The Louisville Courier-Journal put the figure at $350,000, including a $75,000 bonus and a three-year, no-cut contract.

Only Joe Namath, Alabama quarterback who signed with the New York Jets for $400,000, attended a news conference with his bride of two weeks, the former Judy Helmers of Owensboro, Ky.

Norton's right knee was still in a cast from an operation to repair torn ligaments. But he said the cast could come off any time.

"The deciding factor," Norton said, "was the possibilities offered me by the new team. I'll have a chance to play more and develop more quickly."

Yankees Acquire Friend

NEW YORK (AP) — The Newer than a drop-off in player talent, the Yankees had moved to bolster their position in the American League by acquiring pitcher Bob Friend, a 35-year-old veteran who had a losing record with Pittsburgh's National League pennant-contenders last season.

Nothing that the Friday trade, in which the Yankees sent reliever Pete Mikkelson and an undisclosed amount of cash to the Pirates, was of the fringe variety and that Friend had a career record of 14-2 against the New York Mets, someone asked.

Was Friend acquired so he could start against the Mets in the Mayor's Trophy Game, an annual mid-summer exhibition?

Ralph Houk, the Yankees general manager, laughed heartily but said sharply: "No, we didn't."

The answer and the trade, however, may indicate that the Yankees have adopted somewhat of a stand-pat attitude, figuring that last year's nosedive to sixth place was due to a combination of factors rather than lack of pitching.

Friend, despite a disappointing 8-12 record last season, pitched last year for the Yankees, a 35-year-old veteran who had a losing record with Pittsburgh's National League pennant-contenders last season.

That would follow from the loss of Mikkelson, who was used mostly in relief for the Yankees last season while compiling a 4-6 record. He is, however, 55, as the winners outscored the Pirates in every period.

South Lyon Triumphs

South Lyon's Jim Tate and Eric Liddell sparked a last-for-the record Pirates, feel they can help the Yankees.

Grain Prices

Best Since June 30

CHICAGO (AP)—

The higher trend of prices in the grain futures market carried through a second week and nearly all commodities closed with moderate to good gains over a week ago.

Wheat led the advance with gains of almost 5 cents a bushel, deriving most of the strength from President Johnson's order for massive shipments to India.

Corn added almost 2 cents at the extreme and soybeans almost 3 cents despite some periods of profit chasing.

The President's order for 1.5 million tons of wheat to be shipped immediately, or three times the volume that has been going for that nation in each of the past several months. He also called on other wheat exporting nations to send grain.

BOOST EXPORTS

The order, analysts said, probably would boost exports of wheat for the year to a record high, perhaps 925 million bushels or more and cut the reserve or surplus supply to its lowest level in many years.

However, brokers said, a good deal will depend upon how much help is forthcoming from other nations such as Canada, Argentina, Australia and France. One analyst expressed belief, though, that he expected the U.S. to be the major contributor by a large margin.

At the end of the week, wheat was 2 1/4-4 1/2 cents a bushel higher than a week ago, December $16.74; corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 higher, December $12.24-1/2; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, December 7 1/2 cents asked; soy 7 1/2-1/2 higher, December $12.25; soybeans 1 1/4-2 1/2 higher, January $12.64-1/2.

DOW JONES 30 INDUSTRIALS

STOCKS CONTINUE GAIN—

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose for the second straight week, closing yesterday at 354.9 from 353.3 a week ago. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials also advanced from 946.1 to 952.7.

For the second week in a row, weekly volume was at a record high.

WHAT THE STOCK MARKET

The stock market continued its upward trend on Tuesday, with the Dow Jones Industrial Average rising 1.6 points to 952.7. The market was buoyed by a strong performance in the technology sector, with several key stocks reaching new highs. Analysts noted that the market's resilience in the face of inflationary pressures was a positive sign for the economy.

IN THE PAST, THE MARKET HAS

taken discount rate boosts with only momentary hesitation and then gone on to new highs. This time it was different. The Dow Jones Industrial Average plunged 17.60 in the first hour on record first-hour volume of 3.94 million shares. Even the high-speed ticker, newly installed, ran 13 minutes late.

Analysts said it wasn't so much that the rate had been advanced as the surprise timing of the news, plus the picture of FRB Chairman McChesney Martin going against the wishes of the Johnson administration.

BARGAIN HUNTING

So-called "bargain hunters" had been picking up stock at the sharply reduced prices and the market recovered a good portion of its losses by the time the Monday session ended with the turnover of 11.48 million shares, the fourth largest in the history.

Sudden Plunge

in Hog Prices

CHICAGO (AP)—After posting a succession of 17-year highs on four of the five days, butcher hog prices ran into a sudden reversal on Friday and prices broke as much as $2.50 a hundredweight, the sharpest decline in years.

The top of $29 on Monday,

$30 on Tuesday, $30.75 on Wednesday and $31 on Thursday compared with $28.50 last week and $15.45 a year ago.

Prime grade slaughter steers highest at $37.75 on Friday, topped in more than a month. Net gain for the week was 25 to 75 cents.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—

The United States announced yesterday a new agreement to buy wheat from the Soviet Union worth of $14 million in grain and other agricultural products to Greece.

AP Photos

The order, analysts said, probably would boost exports of wheat for the year to a record high, perhaps 925 million bushels or more and cut the reserve or surplus supply to its lowest level in many years.

However, brokers said, a good deal will depend upon how much help is forthcoming from other nations such as Canada, Argentina, Australia and France. One analyst expressed belief, though, that he expected the U.S. to be the major contributor by a large margin.

At the end of the week, wheat was 2 1/4-4 1/2 cents a bushel higher than a week ago, December $16.74; corn 1 1/4-1 1/2 higher, December $12.24-1/2; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, December 7 1/2 cents asked; soy 7 1/2-1/2 higher, December $12.25; soybeans 1 1/4-2 1/2 higher, January $12.64-1/2.

WHAT THE STOCK MARKET

The stock market continued its upward trend on Tuesday, with the Dow Jones Industrial Average rising 1.6 points to 952.7. The market was buoyed by a strong performance in the technology sector, with several key stocks reaching new highs. Analysts noted that the market's resilience in the face of inflationary pressures was a positive sign for the economy.

IN THE PAST, THE MARKET HAS

taken discount rate boosts with only momentary hesitation and then gone on to new highs. This time it was different. The Dow Jones Industrial Average plunged 17.60 in the first hour on record first-hour volume of 3.94 million shares. Even the high-speed ticker, newly installed, ran 13 minutes late.

Analysts said it wasn't so much that the rate had been advanced as the surprise timing of the news, plus the picture of FRB Chairman McChesney Martin going against the wishes of the Johnson administration.

Grain Prices

Best Since June 30

CHICAGO (AP)—

The higher trend of prices in the grain futures market carried through a second week and nearly all commodities closed with moderate to good gains over a week ago.

Wheat led the advance with gains of almost 5 cents a bushel, deriving most of the strength from President Johnson's order for massive shipments to India.

Corn added almost 2 cents at the extreme and soybeans almost 3 cents despite some periods of profit chasing.

The President's order for 1.5 million tons of wheat to be shipped immediately, or three times the volume that has been going for that nation in each of the past several months. He also called on other wheat exporting nations to send grain.

BOOST EXPORTS

The order, analysts said, probably would boost exports of wheat for the year to a record high, perhaps 925 million bushels or more and cut the reserve or surplus supply to its lowest level in many years.

However, brokers said, a good deal will depend upon how much help is forthcoming from other nations such as Canada, Argentina, Australia and France. One analyst expressed belief, though, that he expected the U.S. to be the major contributor by a large margin.

Singer Scores Biggest Hit in Staging Marriage Career

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — Paul Anka, having passed the hoary age of 24 a few months ago, into what he calls "young adulthood," might be shooting to be the next Frank Sinatra... or the next Richard Rodgers... but he's been concentrating on being "the next good husband." It's a rather surprising admission from Paul, who has been on a frantic success machine since he was 14, that he took time out for love... in fact, I wouldn't be surprised if, after he read this, he wrote a song called "You Must Take Time Out For Love."

"When I got married, I dedicated myself to that primarily," Paul told me the other night at the Copacabana after he'd done a show as pleasing as any Frank Sinatra or Sammy Davis have done. "I wanted to get that on a solid foundation..."

Now that his marriage is a hit, too, along with his other projects, Paul's devoting himself to making the transition from post-teen-ager to young adulthood and that, too, requires work and patience.

It would not be inconceivable that Paul, in view of his successes as both a singer and composer, would be aiming to be the new Sinatra or new Rodgers.

"No, I've never aimed my life that way," Paul says. "I've always felt that people who want to be the next Sinatra or next Rodgers never make it. Both Sinatra and Rodgers are too unique."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bob Hope discussed the new French satellite: "It's typically French. It doesn't send back radio messages—it sends postcards."

Jerome Hellman, producer of "A Fine Madness," was asked why he'd recently named his son, 6, secretary of his film company. "Because," said Hellman, "I figured he didn't have enough experience last year, when he was five."... That's early, brother.

State Police to Use Special Patrols Over Holidays in Attempt to Curb Road Death Toll

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police will operate special patrols over Christmas and New Year's weekends in efforts to cut the death toll from last year's figure of 59 for the two weekends.

The worst day of 1964 was Christmas Eve, when 22 persons died on Michigan highways. A total of 38 died over Christmas weekend and 21 were killed on New Year's weekend last year.

State Police Director Fred-

rick Davids said special patrols will be out from Thursday noon, Dec. 23, until midnight Sunday, Dec. 26, and from Thursday noon, Dec. 30, to midnight Sunday, Jan. 2. Assisting will be 116 members of the Michigan National Guard. "We are hopeful that our efforts will help keep deaths and traffic accidents down to the lowest minimum, but to achieve this goal every driver and pedestrian must cooperate by sensibly following traffic safety rules," Davids said.

Michigan traffic deaths for 1965 to date are about 2 per cent fewer than at this time last year, but total casualties—deaths and injuries combined—and total accidents for the year are expected to be the highest on record.

Viet War Cost Will Force Civilian Budget Cuts

LBJ Seeks to Convince Reds

HUNTER HEARING—Edward H. Whipple (right), 6780 Ratalee Lake, Independence Township, tells Sen. Carl W. O'Brien (left) of Pontiac why he feels antlerless deer hunting should be ended in Michigan. The Senate Conservation

Committee, headed by O'Brien, is conducting a hearing at Pontiac Central High School today to determine if legislative action is needed to curtail or close "any-deer" hunting. A second session will start at 7 p.m.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has launched an effort to convince the Communists he is willing to curb new Great Society programs to finance the war in Vietnam.

This was a follow-up to Johnson's public warning Thursday that he will order "other hard steps" in Vietnam if all prospects for peace prove futile.

Hanoi, Peking and Moscow, however, were not the only targets of disclosures yesterday that civilian programs — even those Johnson pushed through Congress this year — had been curtailed because of spiraling costs of the Vietnam war.

Obviously, Johnson, wanted American voters — and the Congress members who voted for the new programs — to be prepared for emergency curtailments should peace appeals fail.

A procession of top officials paraded before newsmen at White House press headquarters here, after conferring with Johnson at his ranch home.

All either said their spending plans were being cut below current levels or, at best, that they couldn't say or were fighting to preserve their programs.

In this administration, officers of Cabinet level do not normally volunteer such revelations without a presidential okay.

And when the chief executive gives such authorization more than a month before the new budget goes to Congress, he has a motive.

The clear meaning was that Johnson wants everyone to know — here and in the Communist capitals — that the United States means business in Vietnam.

Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor announced his department's budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1 would fall short of the current level of more than $1.2 billion.

"It is quite clear," he said, "that although there will be reductions in many of the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Plans Bill to Halt Antlerless Deer Season

By DON VOGEL

The Pontiac Press
State Sen. Joseph S. Mack, D-Ironwood, said during a public hearing this morning at Pontiac Central High School that he will introduce a bill in the legislature calling for a moratorium on shooting antlerless deer.

Mack, arrived at the hearing about 20 minutes late and received a standing ovation from the 300 hunters in attendance.

Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, is conducting the hearing to determine the feasibility of continuing antlerless deer seasons.

Two sessions were scheduled for today. The second will be at 7 p.m. for hunters who could not attend the morning hearing because of work commitments.

Mack said he was attending the hearing "in order to relay the strong sentiment of the sportsmen and general public in my district (upper Peninsula) against the present slaughter of does and fawns."

PUBLIC OUTCRY

"There is overwhelming public indignation against the heavy killing of antlerless deer. It could easily lead to the annihilation of the herd," he said.

Edward H. Whipple, 6780 Ratalee Lake, Independence Township, was the first witness before the committee.

"The Conservation Department may be right, and it may be wrong, about killing of does," said Whipple, a deer hunter for 40 years. "But I do know that this thing is getting serious."

"You can't kill off does and expect the herd to survive."

SAW ONLY ONE

Whipple said he saw only one deer "during the two weeks I hunted in Alger County" in the Upper Peninsula.

William J. Brown, 110 S. Tilden, another veteran deer hunter with over 40 years experience, followed. Whipple and claimed that he "had never seen an overbrowed area in the Upper Peninsula."

The Conservation Department's major contention in having antlerless deer seasons is that the herd will eat itself into starvation if allowed to grow too large.

"A mild kill may have been needed in a few areas of the Lower Peninsula," Brown continued, "but I feel it has gone far enough."

TEMPO SET

The statements by Whipple and Brown seemed to set the tempo for the hearing. Most of those in attendance appeared to be opposed to additional "any deer" seasons.

The crowd was expected to swell to about 500. Hunters continued to arrive after the hearing started. They were delayed by poor driving condition which prevailed in southeastern Michigan this morning.

Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, was scheduled to join O'Brien today. He is a member of the Conservation Committee.

The Conservation Department was represented by William Laycock, assistant manager for operations in Region 3 (Southern Michigan), and Howard Greene, game supervisor for the Pontiac Lake district.

Milford Man Dies in Crash

A Milford man was killed last night when his car went off a road and struck an abutment and a 73-year-old North Branch man died in Lapeer County General Hospital some six hours after an accident yesterday.

Dead are Mar. cel Godbout, 31, 1015 Prince, and Frank E. Butler.

Troopers from the Brighton State Police said Godbout was dead on arrival at Ann Arbor St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital after his accident near New Hudson.

Butler suffered fatal injuries when his car collided with one driven by Eleanor M. Johnson, 57, of Gladwin about 10 miles north of Lapeer.

Witnesses told Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies that Butler made a left turn in front of the other car on M24 at the intersection of Burnside Road.

Mrs. Johnson is listed in critical condition at Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit.

Astronauts Tumble During Chilly Night

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — After a night of fitful sleep in a cold, tumbling spacecraft, the Gemini 7 pilots flew on today toward a world space endurance record and the historic rendezvous with another orbiting ship.

The temperature in the cabin dropped 20 degrees during the night, astronaut Frank Borman reported.

Borman had taken off his spacesuit and was flying in his underwear when the sharp drop came. He put on two lightweight flight suits, his own and that of his copilot, James A. Lovell Jr., to protect himself from the cold.

Asked if he had put on the suits before the start of the night's sleep period, Borman said he did it during the time reserved for sleep.

"Did the tumbling of the spacecraft have anything to do with your lack of sleep?" the astronaut was asked.

"No," he replied. "We didn't know we were tumbling until we woke up."

STOPPED ROLLING
The pilots stopped the end-over-end tumbling of the spacecraft by use of their attitude control jets.

Mission control experts theorized the tumbling was caused by expulsion outside the cabin of condensed water from the spacecraft cooling systems. This would exert an influence on the ship's movements much like that of the attitude control jets.

The tumbling then led to the temperature drop, because the sun's rays at times were striking areas of the spacecraft which did not absorb the heat.

Bearded and slightly hoarse, but still remarkably good-looking, Air Force Lt. Col. Borman and Navy Cmdr. Lovell

Southwesterly winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour will become southerly at 12 to 22 miles per hour tonight.

A low of 38 was the recording at 8 a.m. today. The 1 p.m. reading was 45.

Drizzle Expected to Stay Over Area

This morning's extensive fog, with light rain and drizzle, is expected to continue tonight with lows of 34 to 40.

Variable cloudiness and slightly cooler with scattered showers and highs soaring to 45 to 52 is Sunday's forecast. Partly cloudy and cooler is the outlook for Monday.

$1.26 Million Loot in Bits

PERTH AMBOY, N. J. (UPI) — Each month for eight years, police said yesterday, Stephen Darytychen helped himself to a little gold and platinum from the company where he worked for 27 years until his thefts totaled about $1.26 million.

Police revealed the systematic looting of the American Smelting and Refining Co. with the arrests of two other suspects, Raymond Fross, 44, an unemployed businessman from Perth Amboy, and Alex Birnbaum, 46, a salesman from nearby Metuchen.

They were charged with receiving $787,000 worth of stolen gold and platinum during the past five years.

They were charged with receiving the metal — about 22,000 ounces — because the statute of limitations has run out on anything beyond the past five years.

But police said that Darytychen had taken 375 ounces

Peace Offers 'Trick' - N. Viets

Reds Say U.S. Move Leading to Escalation

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam declared yesterday that recent U.S. peace offers are another trick "to appease public opinion" and "a maneuver to prepare for further expansion" of the Viet Nam war.

"It is clear that the trick of 'suspension of the bombing' was only a maneuver to pave the way for further escalation of their war of aggression," the official Vietnamese news agency said in a broadcast here.

The statement was in comment on recent statements made by President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg.

The Communist report particularly referred to Rusk's Dec. 1 statement, in which he said: "I am not now excluding a stop in the bombing as a step toward peace."

The Hanoi statement went on: "This trick of the U.S. state secretary is no novelty. It must be recalled that in May 1953 I said, Dean Rusk, in the name of his government, sent a message to a number of countries announcing a halt in the bombing of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam by U.S. aircraft for a week beginning on May 12."

'AN ULTIMATUM'

It said, however, that the message "in its essence was an ultimatum to the Vietnamese people, urging the South Vietnamese to abandon their patriotic struggle as a condition for a halt in the bombing of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam."

"The message has itself revealed that the 'unconditional' offer of Johnson is only a bid to make the Vietnamese people lay down their arms and submit to their brute force of aggression."

"This shameful trickery failed miserably. Now the U.S. imperialists are having another try at it."

The statement said that in the United States and other parts of the world, Rusk "had to play the record of 'suspension of the bombing' of North Vietnam as a step to appease public opinion."

'William Tell' Incident Leads to Girl's Death

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A 5-year-old girl who dared her father to shoot a tangerine off her head died early today from a gunshot wound in the forehead, police said.

Officers said Eugene K. Van Denburgh, 34, a laborer, told investigators he was examining his new .22-caliber rifle when his daughter, Elizabeth Marie, said:

"Daddy, I'll bet you can't shoot this off my head like William Tell."

Detectives said the girl placed the tangerine on her head and stood about 15 feet away in front of a wooden fence.

When police arrived, they said, the girl was lying on the ground, bleeding from a bullet wound. Van Denburgh was bending over her. He was booked on investigation of murder.

New Bomber 'Old' Fighter

Similar Type of Craft Is Already on Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara plan to wave a $1.75-billion wand and change F111 fighters into F-111 strategic bombers.

By McNamara's own description, the new supersonic bombers, intended to replace a 210-plane fleet by 1971, actually will be only a variant of the F111 all-purpose tactical fighters now in production for the Navy and Air Force.

But the defense boss told newsmen they would be able to fly to a target twice as fast and with about the same range as the latest models of the eighties, subsonic B52s which they will replace.

He said the FB111 will be able to carry a load of 50 conventional bombs, each weighing 750 pounds about the same as B52s now carry — or deliver nuclear weapons. But it will have "greater penetrating ability and military effectiveness," he said.

Reapportionment Group to Hear Outsider's Views

LANSING (AP) — The Legislative Apportionment Commission will open its doors to outsiders for the first time next week.

The leader of a civil group will be allowed to present a House and Senate districting plan, and a Wayne County legislator will be allowed to register his complaint over the use of 5-year-old census figures by the commission.

A Democratic House plan and a Republican Senate plan were introduced Friday — bringing to seven the number of plans already presented to the eight-member bipartisan group. The commission has until Jan. 1 to reach majority agreement on a legislative reapportionment.

Friday's Democratic plan leaves 40 of the present 110 Democratic-drafted House districts alone, and does not touch Detroit and Upper Peninsula districts.

NEARER EQUALITY

Both plans, sponsors said, come closer to population equality than any plans before the commission. "In fact," said Republican Alfred LaPorte of St. Louis, "this is the ultimate in our numbers game."

Republicans and Democrats have been coming closer to equal population with each plan, Senate plans falling well under one per cent of the total population of the average district in

Pension Plan to Be Studied in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board Monday night will consider a retirement plan for township employees and act on a rezoning request.

A representative of A. J. Gabriel and Co., actuarial consultants, will attend the meeting to explain the plan. The Detroit firm previously had been asked for advice.

The plan would include all township employees except the police and fire departments who already have retirement programs.

The rezoning request from RO-1 to C-3 is for a parcel of land on Telegraph between Hadfield and Elizabeth Lake for the establishment of a restaurant.

The Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee both have recommended the proposal be approved.

civilian programs, particularly some of the newer ones that were voted by Congress during the past year, we still will be able to get them off to a good start and continue our programs at a healthy level."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman followed Connor to the podium and said his budget, currently programmed at nearly $6.9 billion, will be "significantly less" next year "quite a bit less."

Administrator James E. Webb of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said he didn't know where his budget would end up. This year's was about $5.2 billion.

Asked if he was struggling with the Budget Bureau on money matters, Webb readily conceded, "Yes, I think that's a fair statement."

Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg said he couldn't predict whether the new Atomic Energy Commission budget would exceed or fall short of the current level of $2.4 billion. But he said he was convinced he'll get less than he requested — not at all unusual in the budget-making process.

The filing dates are from Dec. 21 to the last date of the board's review of the various municipalities and townships.

Application forms will be available in the offices of township supervisors, assessors and county treasurers.

As the law stands, Green emphasized, there is no substantial change from last year's exemption program.

One report said the Marines had wheeled around and were trying to cut off the fleeing Communists.

The battle for the treeline blocking the Marine advance was the one of a company of Marines commanded by Capt. David Thier of Doverport, Iowa, tried to take yesterday. They ran into such intense fire they were forced to pull back.

Marines Take VC Stronghold

Heavy Fire Marks
Fire Near Da Nang

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Marines sloshing through the knee-deep muck of flooded rice paddies fought their way through barbed wire entanglements and heavy enemy fire today and captured a Viet Cong stronghold blocking their advance in a heavy battle 20 miles south of Da Nang.

Marines who had stormed into action from the carrier two days had hoped to crush trapped Communists escaping to the south after almost wiping out two Vietnamese battalions totaling upwards of 1,200 men.

The Communists, who had heavily fortified a sector from which they poured a withering hail of automatic weapons and mortar fire, drove back a Marine company yesterday, inflicting numerous casualties.

They launched a heavy counterattack today at the successful Marine unit.

Marine jet fighter - bombers screamed into action with bombs, rockets, machine gun fire and tanks of napalm — jelled gasoline — which burst into an inferno of white hot flames on impact.

HEAVY LOSSES

Communist losses appeared to be heavy and there were estimates 200 to 500 had been killed.

The situation was not clear, but there were indications that at least part of the Viet Cong the leathernecks had hoped to bottle up in a small valley, three miles west of the village of Qui Son and 335 miles north of Saigon, were getting away.

Elements of the Viet Cong were noticed moving to the southward toward a low line of hills to the west of Marine units coming up from the south.

One report said the Marines had wheeled around and were trying to cut off the fleeing Communists.

The battle for the treeline blocking the Marine advance was the one of a company of Marines commanded by Capt. David Thier of Doverport, Iowa, tried to take yesterday. They ran into such intense fire they were forced to pull back.

Slain Pilot's Brother Speaks Fears U.S. Blunders in Viet

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP) — Donald Dawson, who spent nine unsuccessful months in Viet Nam searching for his brother, believes the United States could lose the war by "stupid blunders."

Dawson, 28, arrived Friday night with his wife and four children to begin a new life on an 18-acre farm about six miles east of Astoria on the northern Oregon coast.

He told reporters he plans to collaborate with a Life magazine writer on a book about his ordeal in Viet Nam. His brother, Dan, 27, a U.S. Army spotter pilot, was shot down Nov. 6, 1964. Dawson searched for five months. He was released two months ago.

Dawson said he is anticipating an advance from his publisher to see him through his recovery from malaria, which is expected to take about a month. He is 22 pounds underweight and has just started eating one meal a day, supplemented by baby food.

ADVISORY ROLE

The tall, red-haired Dawson said the United States should be in South Viet Nam merely in an advisory role.

"The Americans stupidly bomb Vietnamese villages," said Dawson. "I've seen U.S. troops walk up and throw hand grenades into caves where the villagers had been hiding from the bombing attacks."

"The villagers give a tremendous amount of aid to the Viet Cong because of promises and fear of torture."

Just before he was released, Dawson said, a Viet Cong marched him blindfolded for three days through the jungle, then showed him the wreckage of his brother's plane. The Viet Cong told him they had shot Dan and buried him nearby.

WILL GO BACK

"I'll go back and get my body," he said. "If I have to wait 15 years, I'll go back."

Before he went to Viet Nam, Dawson was a commercial fishing boat captain and lived in Costa Mesa, Calif.

Wyandotte Chemical Workers Vote to Approve New Pact

WYANDOTTE. (AP) — Members of Local 7426 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union late Friday approved a new contract with Wyandotte Chemicals Corp., ending a more-than-seven-month strike.

The vote was 811-189.

The first workers are expected back on their jobs at midnight Sunday, a company spokesman said, with return to full operation expected within a few days.

The union struck May 4.

Terms of the new contract, due to run until Sept. 1, 1967, are similar to ones recommended seven weeks ago by federal and state mediators, the spokesman said.

It was accepted then by the firm, but rejected by the union, he said.

A tentative agreement was reached early Wednesday after Gov. George Romney intervened, bringing both sides to a face-to-face meeting in his Lansing office.

Included in the contract is an immediate two per cent wage increase, an across-the-board raise of 8 cents an hour starting May 4, 1966, and insurance and pension plan improvements, the company spokesman said.

An existing contract clause relating to management's right to assign work remains unchanged, he added. The dispute had centered on this clause, he explained.

"Wyandotte's basic right to direct its work force is not impaired," said George S. Baker, vice president of employe and public relations.

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — Zambia, perhaps the richest undeveloped nation in Africa, stands to suffer as an innocent bystander because of Rhodesia's breakaway regime. And it feels its African neighbors do not understand its problems.

Zambia is so rich in copper export earnings that it is unable to spend as fast as it would like for development. But few other nations gained independence so lacking in native professional talent, education and social services.

Most other black African nations became independent with deficit budgets, few known resources and dismal prospects.

Several, including Nigeria, had deep tribal cleavages. Others, such as Kenya and Tanganyika, faced white settler problems while still others, including Togo and Dahomey, seemed too small and poor to support their populations.

NO TROUBLES

Zambia — formerly Northern Rhodesia — had none of these troubles when it became a republic in the British Commonwealth 14 months ago.

It has immense copper ore reserves, plenty of arable land for a comparatively small population and only about 600 white farmers.

Zambia has between $140 million and $168 million in foreign exchange on hand compared with $420 million for South Africa.

The Lusaka government is trying to use $5.6 million on development projects each month but lack of skilled manpower and contracting capacity has slowed this spending.

SUCCESS AHEAD

"This country had nothing ahead but success and prosperity until Rhodesia declared independence," says one Western diplomat.

"Now Zambia is jammed in a situation over which it has limited control and everybody else wants to get into the act."

Zambia is a Texas-size nation in central Africa, bounded by Rhodesia to the south, Malawi on the east, Angola on the west, the Congo to the north and northwest, Tanzania to the goods and Lusaka took Salisbury off Commonwealth preference for imports. This means South Africa now has most items Zambia needs and at better prices than Rhodesia.

Japan and Hong Kong underprice South Africa but shipping costs are high.

COULD LOSE ELECTRICITY

At worst, it could lose electricity from the Rhodesian-controlled Kariba Dam which powers the copper industry. Or Rhodesia could cut Zambia's main railway route to the sea.

At best, Zambians can expect gas rationing and a possible rise in the cost of living as well as a goods.

Exchange controls imposed this week have already complicated financial dealings.

Ironically, South Africa is the country which could profit most from British and Zambian actions against Rhodesia.

More than half Zambia's annual imports came from Rhodesia. But Rhodesia is a high-cost producer of manufactured President Kenneth Kaunda would like nothing better than British troops to enter Rhodesia immediately and put down the rebel government. Barring that, he expects Britain to safeguard electric power for Zambia's copper belt.

Kaunda has emphasized that it is a British problem but he set a "time limit" which he declined to reveal for resolving the situation.

ADVOCATE INVASION

Some militant members of the Organization of African Unity advocate invading Rhodesia with an all-African army. Several Zambian Cabinet members agree with this view and have been increasing pressure on the president.

They reportedly believe that even disruption of the copper industry is worthwhile if it is necessary to bring down the Smith government. They do not believe an OAU army would win against Rhodesia's disciplined forces but feel it could cause so much turmoil that Britain would be forced to intervene.

Kaunda and cabinet moderates apparently feel the neighboring states do not realize what is at stake.

"Few of them stand to lose anything and they do not understand what it would cost us," said one civil servant.

No Weekend Cuban Airlift

Flights of Refugees Will Resume Monday

MIAMI (AP)—The Cuban airlift, which brought in 686 refugees during the past two weeks, suspended operation for the weekend. The next flight, the ninth since Dec. 1, is scheduled for Monday.

Ninety-two refugees arrived on a flight yesterday.

Also yesterday, a requiem mass was held in Cambridge, Mass., for one of the exiles who arrived on the first flight, 80-year-old Raphael Trespalacios. He died only three days after arriving in the United States.

The Revolutionary Unity Group said 241 freighters went to Cuba during January and November of this year.

TOTAL VESSELS

In the same period during 1964, the number of vessels totaled 324 while in 1963, the total was 341.

British ships "continue to lead this maritime fifth column," the organization said.

Eleven of the 12 Western ships docking in the island during October of this year were British.

Last month, a total of 30 vessels sailed to Cuba and 16 of them were British, the report added.

Forgives Wife for Trying to Get Him Slain

DETROIT (AP)—A husband, whose wife pleaded guilty to charges of soliciting to murder him, said Friday he wants to take her back.

"She's been a good wife and I want to take her back," Linwood L. Smith of suburban Wyandotte told Wayne County Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy. "I know it was partly my fault, and I think we can get along now."

Mrs. Lillian Elizabeth Smith, 45, was placed on two years probation Thursday after pleading guilty to the charge.

Mrs. Smith was arrested last month after offering to pay $1,500 to an undercover State Police officer if he would kill Smith.

CHARGES FILED

After receiving $500 in advance, Sgt. Richard Avery filed charges against Mrs. Smith.

"I didn't really mean to harm him," Mrs. Smith said in court.

She told police she and her husband had been fighting over the conduct of two children of Mrs. Smith's by a previous marriage.

Trio Steals $252,000 in Gems

LONDON (AP)—Two men and a woman have pleaded guilty to the theft of $252,000 worth of gems from the U.S. Embassy store and made off with gems valued at $252,000.

The jewelers were Berman on North Audley Street, in the Mayfair district of London.

Harold Berman, who was in the shop with his brother Charles, said a man and a woman entered the shop and the man pulled out a gun.

He handcuffed the Berman and made them lie on the floor in another room. Meanwhile, the woman opened the door for another man who was masked.

The complaint contends the defendants published a brochure which leads the public to believe both the Benton Harbor and the Monroe nurseries are part of the same operation.

Until Aug. 8, 1964, Greening was vice president and chief executive officer of the Benton Harbor nursery.

After being ousted by the firm, Greening joined with the Benton Harbor nursery.

Both nurseries do business in the Benton Harbor area.

Talk Opens Runoff Drive by De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle began today to restore his political prestige with a television speech today as he opened his runoff election campaign against a left-wing candidate.

Both de Gaulle and his opponent, Francois Mitterrand, scheduled separate 15-minute television addresses expected to play a decisive role in France's Dec. 19 election as did the famous Kennedy-Nixon debate in the United States five years ago.

De Gaulle is a heavy favorite to win the election, forced by his failure to carry a majority in preliminary balloting against a field of candidates last Sunday.

Although de Gaulle finished first, he received less than 50 per cent of the votes.

Mitterrand polled 32 per cent of the vote to finish second and win the right to challenge de Gaulle head-to-head in the runoff ballot.

Two Pacifists in Second Day of Vowed Fast

MANCHESTER, N.H. (UPI)—James Wilson, 21, and Kathie Sullivan, 22, both of New York, today marked the second day of what they said may be a fast to the death.

The young Catholic pacifists entered the chapel of St. Joseph's Cathedral at 11:15 a.m. yesterday to begin a fast in protest of restrictions assertedly placed on three priests who spoke out against U.S. policy in Viet Nam or were involved in civil rights activity.

Both of the young pacifists said no time limit had been set for the fast and agreed it "might go as far as death."

They said they would take water but no other food or liquid.

They said they were protesting restrictions placed on the Rev. Anthony Mullaney of the Holy Cross Church, the Rev. Daniel Berrigan, a Jesuit priest, and the Rev. Bonaventure O'Brien, a Franciscan priest who teaches at Siena College, Albany, N.Y.

MAKE DEEDS

State Senator

MONROE (AP)—Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, has been named by Charles Greening of Monroe as co-defendant in a $100,000 lawsuit charging that they schemed to use the name of Greening illegally in the operation of Zollar-Greening Nurseries, Inc., of Benton Harbor.

The suit was filed in Monroe Circuit Court by Greening Nursery Co. of Monroe, which complained that it has lost public good will through the actions of Zollar and Greening.

The complaint contends the defendants published a brochure which leads the public to believe both the Benton Harbor and the Monroe nurseries are part of the same operation.

Until Aug. 8, 1964, Greening was vice president and chief executive officer of the Benton Harbor nursery.
