Four Whites Seized by Arkansas Guardsmen

Girard's Superior Claims He Had No Order to Fire

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—William S. Girard had no authorization to fire at anyone the day he is accused of fatally shooting a woman metal scavenger, a statement by his commanding officer said today.

The deposition from Lt. Billy Mohon of Comyn, Tex., read in a Japanese court, said Girard and another soldier were ordered to keep everyone away from a machinegun on a firing range near Maebashi.

JUDGE — District Judge Yuzo Kawachi, 50, is presiding at the trial in Maebashi, Japan, of William S. Girard, GI accused of fatally shooting a Japanese woman on a target range.

Asked if he had given orders to keep scrap metal collectors away by firing rifles, Mohon answered: "Definitely not."

Other statements read by the Japanese prosecutor quoted scrap metal collectors as saying they frequently were chased away from firing ranges by American soldiers firing empty cartridge casings.

"I was chased away very often," said a statement by Noboru Matsuzawa. "Sometimes they fired, using blank ammunition. Sometimes they used empty cartridge cases, aiming at our feet to scare us."

SHOT IN BACK

The statements were read on the second day of Girard's trial before three Japanese judges. He is accused of shooting Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, in the back with an empty cartridge case last Jan. 30.

Girard's defense is that he was carrying out orders while on guard duty. An Army truck driver, Girard was temporarily under Mohon's command.

The manslaughter trial opened Aug. 26 and was recessed until today. Sessions tomorrow and Sunday on the hillside firing range where Mrs. Sakai was killed were postponed because of a typhoon moving up the coast. The sessions were reset for next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

★ ★ ★

A drizzling rain fell today and the area around the courthouse, jammed when the trial opened 11 days ago, was almost deserted.

Ticket scalpers who had stood in line most of the night to get spectator passes tried in vain to sell them at cut rates.

A U.S. Army rifle and grenade launcher were brought into the courtroom.

"Did you use this rifle the day of the unfortunate incident?" asked presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi.

"Yes, sir," Girard answered.

The prosecution also introduced, with consent of defense attorney Itsuro Hyashi, the torn clothing worn by Mrs. Sakai and some empty cartridge cases.

The prosecutor then read statements from American soldiers and Japanese he plans to call as witnesses. This procedure is used in Japanese courts so the court can schedule the evidence to be presented.

Another platoon leader, Lt. William Gigante, 24, of Detroit, was quoted as saying he had on occasion pushed aside scrap collectors who crawled over a machinegun as soon as it stopped firing.

Since young Japanese men tend

Pontiac Doctors Lose 2nd Round in Rules Fight

Top State Court Denies Writ to Force Hospital to Ease Regulations

Six doctors at Pontiac General Hospital have lost another round in their fight to win unrestricted surgical privileges at the city hospital.

The State Supreme Court today denied their request for a writ of prohibition which would have forced the hospital from enforcing certain disputed regulations of the medical staff.

The doctors, Roy V. Cooley, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi, Leonard Blackwell, charge the rules deprive them from practicing their profession freely.

★ ★ ★

In March the six sought but lost a request for an injunction from Oakland County Circuit Court when Judge Frank L. Doty ruled a committee be set up to examine the grievances. They went to the Supreme Court when they failed to get action from the committee.

Officials and other doctors at the hospital say the questioned rules are necessary for the health, welfare, and safety of the community.

There was no explanation from the high court as to why the writ was denied.

★ ★ ★

William John Beer, Pontiac attorney for the doctors, said the case might be returned to the lower court: "The action of the doctors to secure their full medical practice rights no doubt will be continued through the trial court, the Oakland County Circuit Court."

School Guards Find Time on Their Hands

RELAXING — All is not confusion and strife around Little Rock's high school. Here a member of the Arkansas National Guard, Sgt. Elmer J. Halliburton, finds time to relax and catch up on news in the local newspaper. In background is the controversial Central High School.

Group Ordered to Leave Town by State Troops

Youth Found With Knife in Little Rock Calls It Just a 'Souvenir'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Watchful National Guardsmen blocking racial integration at Central High School took four white men from Minneapolis into custody this morning and released them a short time later.

Capt. Alan Templeton of the state police said the four were ordered released. Other state troopers who escorted the youths from the school sail all four had been told the get out of the city.

One youth, identified as Murray Gallinson, about 20, carried a sheath knife four to five inches long, Col. Marion Johnson of the guard said.

The other three were identified as Marion Segal, Robert

Levittown Disturbed

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (INS) — A five-foot cross of tree branches was burned early today on the lawn next to the home of William Myers Jr., the first Negro to move into the all-white community of Levittown. It was the first major disturbance in the Dogwood Hollow area since threatening, stone-throwing crowds gathered in front of the home for eight nights last month when the Myers family moved in under the protection of State Police.

Milavetz and Mike Goldman. They appeared in their early 20s.

A dozen newsmen tried unsuccessfully to question Gallinson as two guardsmen took him rapidly down the street. The reporters heard Gallinson describe the knife as a "souvenir" and tell the guardsmen he was on a "sightseeing tour."

CROWD SMALLER

Gallinson, who had a camera slung around his neck, was mistaken for a news photographer for a time.

Guardsmen still ringed the high school today, but a smaller

Utica Woman Dies in Accident

2 Companions Injured in Two-Car Collision in Avon Township

A Utica woman was killed and two companions injured yesterday in an auto collision at 6:30 p.m. on John R and South Boulevard in Avon Township.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Adele L. Taylor, 31, of 5733 Auburn Rd. She suffered a broken neck and skull injuries.

The accident occurred when her car, going west on South boulevard, collided with the auto of Andrew Skibowski, 60, of 1933 John R., Avon Township.

Skibowski, who suffered laceration of his hands, arms and face, was driving north on John R when the collision occurred.

Also slightly injured were two passengers in Miss Taylor's car, JoAnn Sall, 28, of 14708 Faircrest, Detroit, and Mary Lou Skop, 26, of 200 Indianwood, Lake Orion. Both were treated for head and face lacerations and Miss Sall for a fractured left hand.

Hunt Shifted to Lake Superior

Jacket, Debris Clues in Search for Family

MARQUETTE (AP)—A boy's jacket found on a Lake Superior beach shifted the search for the missing Hietikko family to this section of Michigan's upper peninsula today.

A Coast Guard dragging team and two State Police skin divers prepared to probe the deep waters of Lake Superior for a trace of the two adults and four children missing in their small plane since Monday.

The jacket, brought in last night by a government wildlife employe, was identified by a relative of the missing family as similar to one owned by one of the Hietikko children.

In a brief search between the discovery of the jacket and darkness yesterday, another jacket and a child's cap were recovered from the water. Other debris, mostly cardboard boxes, was sighted from the air.

A State Police pilot reported seeing what he believed was a submerged object about 200 yards off shore. Two passes by a Coast Guard vessel failed to turn up any sign of the object. The area was marked by buoys.

It was at this upper Michigan town where freezing temperatures are not unusual in September that the Hietikko family last was seen.

Two Policemen Suspended Here

Oust Veteran Detectives on Dereliction Charge in Escape of Suspect

Two veteran Pontiac police detectives were suspended yesterday on charges of dereliction and neglect of duty. Both immediately said they will appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Suspended were Robert Emery, 30, a six year veteran, and Sgt. Raymond Meggitt, 35, a member of the department for 11 years.

They were suspended by Acting City Manager Lewis M. Wrenn, after receiving an affidavit signed by Inspector Clark M. Wheaton. The suspension was under Section 14 of State Civil Service Act 78.

Both officers are charged with neglect of duty in the escape of Cecil Parks, 46, of 104 Pinegrove Ave., on Wednesday.

The affidavit charges that at 9:30 p.m. on Sept. 4 Emery and Meggitt were sent with a felony warrant charging indecent liberties to the Parks' home.

Arriving at the house, the affidavit said, they arrested the suspect, who then asked permission to go to another room and change his shoes. The suspect then escaped from the house and fled in his car.

The officers are further charged with failing to report the escape to the officer in charge, Sgt. Telton E. Rogg, until 11 that night.

Emery and Meggitt claim they called the station at 10 p.m. reported the escape, and asked that a radio bulletin be put out for Parks' arrest.

The officers said they had given Parks permission to wash his feet in the kitchen and change his shoes and socks since he had just come from work. They added they watched the front and rear doors,

Sunday Will Mark Beginning of End for Straits Ferries

LANSING (AP)— Sunday will mark the beginning of the end for the State Highway Department Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet.

The Department announced that the Straits of Mackinac, smallest and oldest of the presently operating ferries, will be retired from the service after its last run Sunday night.

The ship will be dry docked this winter after completing some chores of hauling equipment to Mackinac Island for the Highway Department.

The four other ferries operated by the Highway Department also will be retired with the opening of the Straits Bridge, now scheduled for Nov. 1 or a few days before.

Present plans are to put them in dry dock to await a decision on their eventual disposal by the Legislature.

'3 Chisels' Clue Breaks Down

Police Discount Owner as a Prime Suspect in Judith Mae Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — The latest lead for clues in the slaying of Judith Mae Andersen appeared broken today after police said a retired railroad worker had tossed three chisels into a west side lagoon.

Police said they did not consider the man, Axel Johnson, 75, a prime suspect in the case. He appeared at central police station with his wife last night and said he read in newspapers that authorities were searching for the man who disposed of the tools in the lagoon last Saturday. He was questioned and released.

The lagoon is about two miles from where 15-year-old Judith Mae was last seen alive the night of Aug. 16. Her torso was found in a 55-gallon oil drum in Montrose Harbor Aug. 22. A five-gallon oil can found in the same north side harbor Aug. 24 contained her head, hands and one arm.

Both containers had been slit down the sides, apparently with a chisel, so the open ends could be folded inward to close them.

Police recovered three chisels from the lagoon after a couple reported seeing a man remove the tools from a paper wrapper and hurl them into the water.

The search was intensified when laboratory tests showed paint flecks on one of the chisels was the same color and type as paint on the smaller of the two oil cans found in Montrose Harbor.

Johnson said he acquired the chisels about 30 years ago in his work with the New York Central Railroad. He decided to throw them away and because his apartment is equipped only with an incinerator, he said he tossed them into the lagoon.

Confiscated Firearms to Be Auctioned Sept. 20

GAYLORD (AP) — The State Conservation Department will sell 42 confiscated shotguns, carbines and rifles to the highest bidder at a public auction here Sept. 20.

The department said the firearms will be on display before the auction at the Gaylord Central Repair Shop and that sealed bids must be submitted on a single gun basis. Appraised value of the firearms ranges from $5 to $100, the department said.

Pot-O-Gold Contest:

Report Results Saturday

Pot-O-Gold judges are begging indulgence from puzzle fans. The number of entries is reaching such large proportions (19,500 this week) and checking solutions for either none wrong or one wrong takes so much longer that we will be unable to finish them until late today. Results will be announced Saturday.

So far, several entries have had just two or three wrong, and judges are hopeful of finding a winning solution with all answers right but one.

To check your own entry, turn to page 5 and read the explanations for the correct answers. This week's puzzle appears on page 12. You have until Tuesday to have it postmarked.

Drag River for Body of Waterford Man

Delta County Sheriff's Deputies and state police continued dragging operations in the Rapid River and Little Bay De Noc today for the bodies of a Waterford Township man and his father-in-law, believed drowned while fishing.

McHENRY

Missing are Arthur McHenry, 39, of 6547 Saline Rd., and Earl Bishop, 58, of Ishpeming. Fearing the bodies have been swept out into Green Bay or Lake Michigan, police said they would conclude dragging operations today.

The pair were last seen Wednesday morning, and their empty 14-foot boat was found later that day.

McHenry and his wife left Aug. 23 to spend a month in the Upper Peninsula, because McHenry suffers from asthma and hay fever.

Representative Broomfield Reports to County:

'Political Shenanigans Sabotaged the 1957 Congress'

By PETE LOCHBILER

"Political shenanigans sabotaged the 1957 Congress," William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) declared yesterday.

Oakland County's 35-year-old freshman Congressman, back home after one of the longest congressional sessions in history, was "very disappointed more wasn't accomplished."

His first taste of the nation's capital left Broomfield unfavorably impressed by the political tricks of some of the older hands.

Although he couldn't be called inexperienced—what with six years in the state legislature and two in the state senate behind him—nevertheless, Broomfield's reaction was:

"I've never seen a more ruthless demonstration of politics than in Washington."

★ ★ ★

Broomfield said he showed the old-timers one or two tricks, too. Broomfield's own chairman on the House Public Works Committee learned to respect the young Royal Oaker's independence.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

Charging chairman Buckley (D-N.Y.) with "Tammany Hall tactics," Broomfield once challenged a $500,000 appropriation introduced into the committee by its Democratic majority for several New York state projects.

"It was purely a political favor, a case of 'you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours,' and that's what I told the committee and the New York newspapers," Broomfield recalled.

His charges apparently struck home because after a public hullabaloo, the appropriation was withdrawn.

Fighting what he thought was unnecessary Federal spending occupied a lot of Broomfield's time in Washington.

He figures he voted against 3.5 billion worth of projects that could better be the responsibility of local governments, as he sees it.

A big disappointment was the fate of the major public works bill this session. Had the bill gone to President Eisenhower, it probably would have been vetoed, Broomfield believes.

It totaled $1.5 billion, but had been "packed" with $300 million in projects by the Democrats, Broomfield decided. These extra projects were inserted into the bill, he alleged, strictly to sabatoge the public works program for political advantages.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, President Eisenhower was spared the embarrassment of vetoing the bill—and killing the clean projects because of the worthless ones—by the action of the Speaker of the House, who had the bill sent to another committee until next January.

At least that's how Broomfield looks at it, and he gladly gives credit to Democratic Speaker Sam Rayburn for his non-partisan attitude.

He credited Republicans and Democrats working jointly in reasonable compromise with accomplishing "some good things" for the nation.

Chief among the accomplishments, Broomfield thought, are the civil rights bill, guaranteeing Negroes the right to vote; the Eisenhower doctrine providing military support for the Middle East and the foreign aid bill. Broomfield voted for all of them.

"This was accomplished when Congress really went to work instead of fooling around," observed Broomfield, pointing to the 14,000 bills introduced and the mere 200 that were enacted.

Locally, progress towards a new post office in Pontiac proceeded well, and within "a very short time," Broomfield felt, "we should have definite information as to when construction actually will be started."

Oakland County should benefit from a $65,000 survey approved for flood control in the Red Run-Clinton River area. Increasing the Clinton's capacity eventually will favorably affect the Twelve Town Drain area in the southern part of Oakland County, Broomfield said.

But flood control projects total-

Weather to Remain Unseasonably Cool

"Unseasonably cool," and due to stay that way, is the weatherman's view of the mercury's antics the past few days.

The low tonight will be near 50. Between 5 and 6 a.m. this morning the temperature was a chilly 49.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy and cool with the mercury riding in the 70 to 72 degree range. Tomorrow evening will be partly cloudy and cool with a low of 54 to 58.

At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 71.

The future of the smouldering integration crisis appeared to be in the hands of a federal judge who will hear a school board plea for a truce.

★ ★ ★

A momentary lull developed yesterday in the battle over racial mixing. The Little Rock School Board offered the possibility of a temporary solution by asking federal Judge Ronald N. Davies to follow an indefinite legal postponement of integration.

★ ★ ★

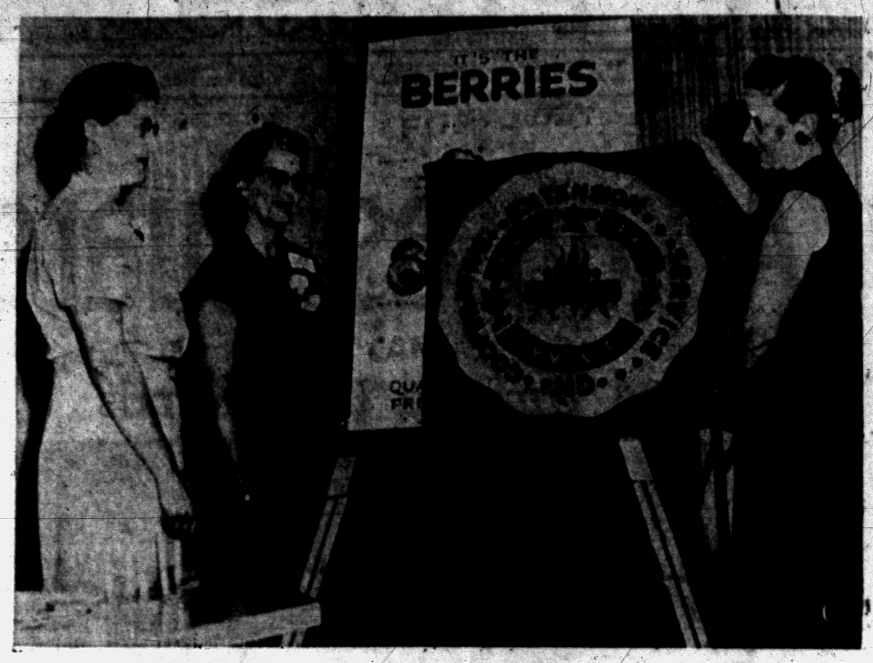

Judge Davies will hear the school board's petition at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Twice within a week he has ordered immediate racial mixing.

Gov. Orval Faubus, who ordered out the troops last Tuesday to keep nine Negro students from entering the high school, yesterday got President Eisenhower's answer to an appeal for intervention in the clash of federal and state authority.

Eisenhower told Faubus that he would use all legal means at his command to uphold the federal Constitution.

Faubus has not been seen publicly since he held a news conference Wednesday morning and an aide said last night that the governor's whereabouts were unknown. But the aide released a statement from the governor which said he was getting almost unanimous support from every section of Arkansas.

2,500 May Get Gas Heat Here

Allocation of Permits Awaited by Pontiac's Consumers Power Co.

Some 2,500 applicants for gas heat in the Pontiac area may have their orders filled soon because of a recent ruling of the State Public Service Commission, Edward L. Karkau, district manager of Consumers Power Co., said.

Officials of the Pontiac office are awaiting return of notices to learn how many on a 35,211 waiting list still seek the service.

★ ★ ★

The state approved adding 20,000 new customers in Michigan, based on prorating new permits to the existing backlog of demand.

Consumers' Southeast Division (Oakland, Macomb, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties) is slated to get 11,602 new customers.

Karkau estimated this area might receive an allocation of 2,500 new permits which will be granted according to a chronological listing of applicants.

Leaders of Demonstration Group in Training Session

Thirty leaders of the Oakland County home demonstration group, the third largest such group in the United States, gathered yesterday at the county board of education building for the first of a series of leadership training meetings.

The women, known as the Oakland County Home Demonstration Advisory Council, represent 14 county districts; 110 groups and more than 1,900 members.

Preceding a luncheon, Florence Rann, district extension supervisor from Michigan State University, installed the council's recently elected officers; Mrs. Harry M. Clark Jr., Southfield township, chairman; Mrs. Arthur F. O'Hara, 635 Farnsworth St., vice chairman; Mrs. B. C. Brondige, Holly, secretary; and Mrs. Howard Parr, South Lyon, treasurer.

Clyle Haskill, chairman of the traffic and safety committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the group in the afternoon. Haskill discussed how to organize an effective safety program in home demonstration work.

Other instructors during the session were: Mary Hixon, Oakland County Home Demonstration Agent, how to put up window exhibits in retail stores; Miss Rann, the scope of home demonstration work and the responsibilities of group chairmen; Mrs. Clark Jr., program planning; Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Oakland County Consumer Marketing Information Agent, effective teaching in extension work.

Laurie Erickson, women's editor of the Michigan Farmer magazine, discussed how to write good extension stories; Evelyn Beeson, Oakland County Extension Service home economics secretary, responsibilities of group secretaries and treasurers; and Mrs. Donavan Tubbs, of Rochester, suggestions for community charitable projects.

Testimony from the outdoor sessions will be read at the next courtroom session "and only material made public in the courtroom becomes part of the record," Kawachi added.

Hayashi announced he would not call any defense witnesses, but would only question those presented by the prosecution.

"I expect to begin after the prosecution finishes, probably Sept. 24 and 25," Hayashi said.

Hayashi said he thought the information read into the court record today was as valuable to the defense as to the prosecution.

En route to their Lansing home Monday they stopped at Marquette to refuel. They were told of threatening weather but nevertheless took off for Lansing.

State Police Cpl. Cosmo Bonello of the Marquette post said the jacket, maroon with a gray fur collar and about the size for a 9-year-old boy, was found about five miles east of Marquette by Lee Nelson, an employe of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service.

A description of the jacket was relayed by State Police to Mrs. G. Russell Carrier, mother of Mrs. Hietikko, at Lansing. State Police Sgt. Frank Kapugia said at Lansing she told them 9-year-old Cameron had a similar jacket.

At Marquette, Cpl. Bonello said two relatives of the Hietikko family were unable to identify any of the clothing found.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

How do mining companies use the weather activating principle of the sun to ventilate their mines?

The sun, as most of us know, heats land areas and causes warming of the air above these areas. The warmed air begins to rise, and when it is cooled sufficiently turns into clouds.

Areas on the surface of the earth which do not receive the sun's warming, because of clouds or obstructions, furnish the cool air which moves across the surface as wind to replace rising warm air.

Miners take advantage of the fact that warm air rises. They often provide a lateral mining tunnel, below the surface, with vertical shafts on both ends. By building a fire at the bottom of one shaft, they cause heated air to rise and this sucks fresh air down the far shaft and through the tunnel — to replace the hot air which rises.

★ ★ ★

It's the same process as that worked with the sun's heat — which makes our weather.

The Day in Birmingham

Area Residents Failing on Minor Crime Curbing

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham citizens are missing an opportunity to protect their property and to a degree, help curb minor crimes—particularly among juveniles, according to Det. Sgt. Robert Schaule.

Schaule said this morning that response to the free hubcap identification service in local gas stations is lagging.

He urged again that motorists take advantage of this service. Motor serial numbers are engraved on each hubcap, presenting positive proof of ownership and cutting resale value of stolen caps considerably.

This community, "dry" by local option, is somewhat amazed this week, to find that it was mistaken.

City Clerk Irene Hanley dropped the bombshell when she told commissioners that the city has filed no definite objection to the sale of beer and wine in any restaurant.

She explained that the Liquor Control Commission could have, for the past 25 years, issued a license for this service.

Commissioners lost no time in asking City Attorney Richard Adams to inaugurate a proper resolution to be filed with the Liquor Commission after its approval.

A "mixed-up" motorist stopped Bloomfield Township police at Square Lake and Telegraph roads yesterday, to ask directions to state highway M59.

The officers gave him the information but noticed that, as the man drove away, he did not follow their instructions.

The police car trailed him down West Square Lake road and were amazed to see him stop the car and dash across the field.

Investigation showed the car had been stolen in Detroit.

Although other police were called to assist in the search, the man so far has not been apprehended.

John W. Cooper

The father of Harold Cooper, 3463 Meadowlane, John W. Cooper, died Tuesday at his home at Boca Raton, Fla. He had lived there since his retirement as a manufacturing division executive of the Chrysler Corp., Plymouth Division, in 1953.

Service will be in the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. at 1 p.m. tomorrow, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Harry M. Shepherd

A former Birmingham resident, Harry M. Shepherd, 79, of 410 University St., Ferndale, died Thursday in William Beaumont Hospital.

A native of Ohio and a graduate of Antioch College, he lived in Birmingham for 46 years.

He was vice president of the Kramer Freight Lines, having been with the firm for 27 years. Prior to that, he was production manager for the Fisher Body Division in Pontiac.

He was a member of Blazing Star Lodge 565 F&AM and the Motor City Traffic Club, both in Detroit.

Besides his wife, Fern, he is survived by six children, Mrs. Lucille Gregg of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Sidney Richards of Okemos, Mrs. Walter Hickey and Mrs. Marshall Peirce Jr., both of Birmingham, and John L., of Grosse Pointe, and Richard G. of Livonia.

Service will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in Greenwood Cemetery here.

Lawrence T. Wolf

Service for Lawrence T. Wolf, 73, of 1507 Haynes St., who died yesterday at Freemont, will be at 3 p.m. Saturday from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Wolf, who came to Birmingham from Detroit, retired in 1955 from his position in the procurement department of the Long Manufacturing Division of The Borg-Warner Corp.

A member of F&AM Lodge, Plymouth, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. S. R. Pritchard of Birmingham and Mrs. Bruce Morehouse of Ohio.

WILLARD, Utah (AP)—Five men riding in a hardtop sedan died early today as their car plowed under the front end of an oncoming truck-trailer rig. None of the five was identified immediately. The bodies were taken to nearby Brigham City. Scene of the accident was four-lane U. S. Highway 91 seven miles north of Ogden.

Political Shenanigans Sabotage Congress

ing $35 million elsewhere in Michigan are stuck in the public works measure put off until next year, he said.

Broomfield, along with some other young representatives in Congress, started pressing last session for select-veto power for the President.

Substantial savings could be made, he said, if the President were allowed to veto objectionable portions of appropriations bills, while signing into law the rest.

At present, it is an all-or-nothing matter, with the President being forced either to take the bad with the good or to veto the whole thing, Broomfield pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Busy as Broomfield was during his eight months on the House floor and in committee chambers, he was just as busy at his Washington office, where a "deluge" of letters and requests from Oakland County residents poured in.

"I sometimes got up to 300 letters a day, and that shows how interested Oakland County is in its Federal Government," he said.

If Broomfield was disillusioned by Washington politics, he doesn't show it. He's determined to go on working hard to earn his $22,500-a-year salary.

★ ★ ★

Right now, with the hustle and bustle of the Congressional session over, Broomfield already has more than 40 local speaking engagements lined up.

He's planning a two-month long tour of the county to talk personally with all his constituents. "It'll help me do a better job next year," Broomfield thinks.

Mickey Mantle Resting in New York Hospital

NEW YORK (INS) — The New York Yankees announced today that Mickey Mantle has entered a hospital to rest his injured left leg for a few days.

Mantle is suffering from shin splints, an injury in which the muscle tissue pulls away from the bone. The Yankees emphasized he is undergoing no specific treatment but only being kept off his feet to give the injury a chance to heal.

Ike Reported Riled Up Over Arkansas Crisis

NEWPORT, R. I. (INS)—President Eisenhower kept a close watch on the Little Rock school crisis today, prepared to use whatever authority is needed in his showdown with Gov. Orval Faubus over the use of National Guard troops to enforce segregation.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., reported in a telephone call to the President's vacation headquarters in Newport that "everything was quiet" this morning in Arkansas.

IKE PLAYS GOLF

Brownell spoke with Presidential News Secretary James C. Hagerty, who relayed his report to Eisenhower. The President took Hagerty along for a round of golf at the Newport Country Club after working briefly at his desk.

The chief executive made it clear in a telegram to Faubus late yesterday that he does not plan to tolerate continued defiance of a U. S. District Court order for a Little Rock high school to accept Negro students.

Aides said Eisenhower has rarely been as "riled up" over an issue in his five years in the White House.

BRAZEN CHALLENGE

He looks on the governor's use of the National Guard to keep Negroes out of the white school, as a brazen challenge to his own constitutional authority.

The President is interrupting his Newport vacation Saturday to fly to Washington for a conference with Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., on the Little Rock situation.

Out of that meeting may come a decision on what Eisenhower will do if Faubus refuses to retreat from his position that use of the National Guard is necessary to maintain peace and order in Little Rock.

In his wire to the governor, the chief executive noted pointedly that the guard is "uniformed, armed and partially sustained by the federal government."

POSSIBLE THREAT

This sounded like a possible threat to cut off federal aid from the Arkansas Guard.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to clarify Eisenhower's remarks, except to scotch one rumor that the President might call the Arkansas National Guard into the Regular Army.

Eisenhower noted that the district court integration order carried out a "mandate" of the Supreme Court.

He declared:

"When I became President, I took an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States. The only assurance I can give you is that the federal Constitution will be upheld by me by every legal means at my command."

The governor had requested Eisenhower's understanding and cooperation in the course of action he followed in Little Rock.

NO BASIS OF FACT

The President said there was "no basis of fact" to statements by Faubus that federal authorities were considering taking him into custody.

★ ★ ★

While in Washington Saturday, Eisenhower also will confer on the still tense Syrian situation with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Deputy Undersecretary from a trip to the Middle East.

The flight back to Washington is the first in a series of such "commuting" trips the President plans to make during his vacation at the Newport Naval Base.

Using a helicopter to get from the base to the airport and the four-engined Columbine III for the trip to Washington he can make it back to the capital in less than two hours.

Sees Water Bills Soaring in Future

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Clarence A. Davis, former undersecretary of the interior, said yesterday the public may have to pay water bills as high as gas and electric bills in the future.

He told a water resources conference at the University of Michigan that a severe long-term water shortage now faces the nation.

He stated the problem could be eased by research on the reuse of water through purification and possible modification of weather by scientific means.

Davis added state legislation on uses of underground water should receive priority. He declared expansion of industry into areas where water was previously used only for home and agricultural purposes also added to the problem.

Store Sales Higher

NEW YORK (INS) — Department store sales in the U.S. last week were five per cent above the corresponding period of 1956. Eight of the 12 Federal Reserve districts had higher sales, paced by a 15 per cent rise in Philadelphia. The Dallas area showed a six per cent gain.

Lack of Scientists Blamed to Scientists

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A Kent State professor says scientists themselves are partly responsible for the small number of young people attracted to careers in science.

Dr. Ralph W. Dexter, a biological researcher, says "in spite of the role that science has played in developing modern civilization, the public has little knowledge and little appreciation of science and scientists."

He says scientists themselves could improve the situation "by giving more attention to social issues. A more sympathetic press and a more sympathetic public could do much to correct unfavorable impressions."

Veterans of American wars numbered about 40 per cent of the adult male population of the United States in 1950.

Surveys show that Britons are now paying as much as two and a half times the 1938 prices for household goods, food, clothing and coal.

Check Your Answers With These

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) LOTTERY. With door prizes at the local movie, naturally many customers hope their number will be drawn so they can win the LOTTERY, whether the prize offered is pottery (dishes) or something else.

B. (3) UNWITTINGLY. Without realizing it, the defendant's friend may let slip some facts favorable to the prosecution in a trial. A witness who testifies unwillingly is on his guard, and is careful how he phrases his evidence. But skillful cross-examination may so confuse a witness that he will UNWITTINGLY reveal something he had wished to keep hidden.

C. (6) PASTRY. Junior's temptation to help himself to pie or cake between meals is often a problem to Mom who plans it for the family dessert. Pantry is less likely because it's somewhat out of date in these deep-freeze days.

D. (7) RASHNESS. RASHNESS is a reckless action, taken too hastily, as with a speedy driver who whizzes past the car ahead without regard to common sense. Brashness has more of an association with speech than with action, with impudence and hot-tempered, reckless words.

E. (9) PAUSE. Timing is all-important to an experienced comedian, and it is his own skill that teaches him when to PAUSE for laughter. Few comedians write their own lines, so it would be the authors who work up the act with a frequent cause for laughter.

F. (12) LETHAL. It's capital punishment that many people do not approve of, and they are barred from murder juries in states where this may be the penalty. Even though such punishment is legal, some people feel that even the state has no right to take a life.

G. (14) HAMMERING. A wife who keeps HAMMERING at her lazy husband to fix the front porch is persistently nagging him to do it. Yammering means complaining or shouting, and would be only one phase of the insistent HAMMERING.

H. (16) EXCESSIVE. The student of elocution usually is floundering around with many gestures he (or she) has been taught, and has not yet learned when to use them; he tends to overdo it. Expressive gestures require long experience in using them only when necessary and when they really mean something.

I. (17) THUMBING. You'd take quick action if the little boy next door was awkwardly handling your crystal vase. By the time you saw him thumping it, it would be too late. One thump, or pounding, and the vase would be broken.

J. (19) RARE. In a phony antique shop, a customer is unlikely to get RARE value for his money; there will be nothing of such excellence, probably, in the shop. Fair value is possible for someone who knows furniture, and through persistent bargaining manages to buy something for what it is really worth.

K. (21) LACERATED. Friends will quickly rally around the person who has been emotionally torn, or afflicted by grief. His grief is fresh and brings great sympathy. But sympathy does not remain at that fever pitch, and if the bereaved, as time goes on, is macerated (oppressed or worn down) with grief, his friends will feel sorry, but the acute feeling is over.

L. (23) CLATTER. A block party would be more likely to produce a loud, confused noise than a clangor, which is a metallic sound. CLATTER is more easily endured when one is part of it than when one just lies awake fretting about it. Clangor is less tempting.

M. (26) GARBLE. Some popular singers distort the lyrics so no one can understand them. If they warble, or sing, them, there's usually no problem — only if they GARBLE them.

N. (28) FIENDS. Many FIENDS are not what they seem on the surface; we all read of crimes committed by someone who "always seemed such a nice boy." Most of us know what our friends are like, including their hidden faults and virtues.

O. (29) ENTRAPPING. A toddler wouldn't need to be untangled from a bedspread if he were only enwrapping himself in it. He could unwrap himself unless he were also ENTRAPPED and couldn't find his way out.

P. (32) PERMANENCE. Many quotations from our Founding Fathers have lived on through the centuries. Only some of them, however, have pertinence — that is, are appropriate — for conditions as we find them today. But the basic truths still endure.

Q. (34) NOSY. A child who snoops around and pries into a neighbor's affairs is ill-bred and obnoxious and would probably be sent home. A noisy child can well be persuaded to be more quiet.

R. (35) DOUBLED. A bridge player who never DOUBLED his opponent is too timid to win very often. (Note to non-bridge players: the penalty is doubled if the player makes fewer tricks than he contracts to make.) The man who never doubled his opponent would not necessarily be timid. The opponent may be a steady player whose game never varied and who never gave reason for doubt.

S. (38) MURDEROUS. A murderess may have killed under special circumstances or provocation and not be a menace to anyone else. A MURDEROUS person has MURDER in his heart and should always be avoided.

T. (39) KNEADED. Yeasty dough is KNEADED somewhere in the process of making it, whether the housewife does it herself or not. There are special kinds of unleavened bread which many people like, in which yeast is not needed.

Junior Editors Quiz on REPTILES

QUESTION: Do snakes have hips?

ANSWER: A shifty halfback on a football team is often called a "snake-hipped" runner.

However, most snakes have no hips, because they have no legs. And a few species that have rudimentary legs do not use them.

Most male members of the boa constrictor and python families have two small spur-like hind legs which are only partially developed. Zoologists say this indicates that the ancestors of these snakes — and probably of all others — had legs at one time. They explain the present body form probably developed because snakes lived among dense vegetation where legs were not of mueh use.

Snakes crawl or swim swiftly because their backbones contain as many as 300 small bones, or vertebrae, and bends easily. It progresses by moving its body and pushing against the ground or water with each curve.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: There are about 2,400 kinds of snakes in the world, but only a few of them are poisonous. By studying pictures learn to identify any poisonous one found in this country.

New Group to Expose Red Infiltration Tactics

To counter recently-revealed Communist Party strategy to infiltrate nationality groups in this country the National Confederation of American Ethnic Groups (NCAEG) has been formed.

At their last convention it was evident that U.S. Communists were having trouble surviving after so many exposures of their aims and methods. Red leaders then decided to try to take over big nationality organizations.

Head of the new confederation, which consists of 52 nationality groups with a membership of over 17 million, is Judge BLAIR F. GUNTHER of Pennsylvania's Supreme Court. He also is chairman of the Polish National Alliance which has branches in every state and a membership of 360,000.

★ ★ ★

In World War II Judge GUENTHER acted as liaison between U.S. Army Intelligence and U.S. Poles who could provide information to help in the fight against HITLER. Of NCAEG goals he says:

"It's basically a question of alerting these organizations to the fact that the Commies would like to take them over . . . We aim at full and fair recognition (of issues) in the higher courts, in Congress and on all policy making bodies of the Government."

★ ★ ★

Possessed of a sharp legal mind, Judge GUNTHER has had a great deal of experience in handling his own nationality group. He appears to be an excellent choice for the bigger task of pointing out the dangers of Communist infiltration in all nationality groups.

Can They Keep It Up?

Detroit's disappointing Tigers have been going great guns lately. After see-sawing up and down in the American League standings through the greater part of the season, they have done much better of late.

★ ★ ★

AL KALINE is hitting like his old self and is back in the .300 class once more. HARVEY KUENN is doing better also, although still far below his normal mark.

Much of the credit for the Tigers' late season spurt also has been due to JOHNNY GROTH and JIM FINIGAN. These two have really been clouting the ball during the past few weeks. Their hitting has been so timely that they have won regular starting berths so long as they keep it up.

★ ★ ★

Last fall the Tigers staged just such a closing rush. They finished in fifth place and caused many forecasters to predict they would finish in the first division this season.

Can and will they do it?

The next few weeks will tell the story. They are in fourth place now, with Baltimore and Cleveland close behind. Even third blace is not out of the realm of possibility, as the Boston Red Sox are only a few points ahead.

★ ★ ★

But after the Tigers' hot and cold record thus far, most of the fans are sitting back and hoping, but not making too many bets. Fourth place is a healthy step up from last year's closing position. Third place would be a substantial achievement.

WHEN a woman says women can drive cars as well as men can, aren't you tempted to ask why don't they?

A SURVEY would probably show that following the recently published statistics which indicated that cigarette smokers are in considerable danger of having lung cancer, some 14,000,000 persons tried to quit smoking cigarettes and about 1,700 succeeded.

They Have Fired an Intercontinental Missile

David Lawrence Says:

Mixed Schools Compromise Fine

WASHINGTON — Is there a way out of the "integration-segregation" controversy that would be acceptable to both sides?

LAWRENCE

This writer has been canvassing various persons familiar with the legal and educational aspects of the dispute about mixed schools and has solicited comment on the following plan:

1. Each community would have the right to offer to the citizens the opportunity to choose whichever schools they wished their children to attend.

2. The school board in each instance would provide a choice between three kinds of schools to be established in the community. One would be the mixed category, another would be all-white, and a third would be all-Negro.

3. Wherever school facilities were inadequate for the plan, the same buildings but different sections or floors or different classrooms would be used temporarily. This type of separate facilities was used in New Jersey until recent years to meet the needs of an expanding population.

★ ★ ★

Under the foregoing plan, it would be necessary for each school board to wipe out residential requirements within a given city and to designate the schools to be attended on the basis of the applications to the three categories.

Where certain students would find themselves attending schools many city blocks away from a given residence, the city could assist by furnishing free bus transportation.

The plan is essentially one of voluntary integration rather than forced integration. It gives the parents freedom of choice.

REQUIREMENTS MET

The question naturally arises whether any such plan is in accord with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States rendered in 1954. This decision, however, did not require any integration.

It merely forbade states to pass any laws that made segregation compulsory. It offered no objection to voluntary segregation or voluntary integration.

The point will be raised that a Negro pupil might wish to attend an all-white school or that a white pupil might wish to attend an all-Negro school. Would the local school board be acting lawfully in denying such applications?

LEGAL ANSWER

The answer that would be made on the legal side is that the state has a right to permit school boards to allocate pupils to any schools within their jurisdiction on the basis of the applications of their parents.

But there would be no requirement that all applications must be granted, irrespective of facilities available or of the desires of parents that admission must be given to particular schools.

To put it another way, if a parent wants his child to go to a mixed or integrated school, this can be arranged, but a Negro parent who wishes to have his child in an all-Negro school will have the same rights as a white parent who wants to send his child to an all-white school. This is freedom of choice for the parents and does not make the school authorities a party to any discrimination in the legal sense.

PLAN IN LOUISVILLE

Actually this plan is to a large extent in effect today in Louisville, Ky., where the applications of parents that their children be sent to all-white or all-Negro or mixed schools are granted or denied as a matter of convenience and not as a right.

In Louisville, the school authorities feel that, if facilities are not available and a parent's wish cannot be fulfilled, the student must go to the school assigned irrespective of whether it is mixed.

They have not been confronted in Louisville as yet with any demand that Negro students be admitted to schools in areas that normally have an all-white attendance. The question of residence assists the local authorities in maintaining the existing composition of the schools, but the school board in Louisville recognizes it has not been given any legal power to remove residential requirements and assign pupils at will.

Whatever it does at present in pupil assignment is merely an accommodation so far as it is practicable.

It would take very little change in existing state laws to adopt a modification of the Louisville plan so that parents of those who want mixed schools will be satisfied and those who want separate schools will also be satisfied. It seems like a way out for everybody on a voluntary and not a forced basis.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Sodium Hypoclorite Disinfects Water Easily

Sometime ago, I gave here instructions for preparing a solution of chlorinated lime for disinfecting water for drinking. Chlorinated lime is the pungent "chloride of lime" that comes in sealed can, for general use as disinfectant and deodorant. For preparation of a solution of it:

DR. BRADY

Dissolve a level teaspoonful of chlorinated lime from a freshly opened can in 1½ pints of water. Then a teaspoonful of this solution in a gallon of water, allowed to stand 20 minutes after shaking, will make the water safe to drink so far as typhoid, cholera and other infections are concerned.

In recent years another good disinfectant has become popular, though more as a household bleach than a disinfectant. It is sodium hypochlorite. Clear solutions of sodium hypochlorite, under various proprietary names, are widely used as household bleach, whitener and disinfectant.

★ ★ ★

The easiest way to make water safe for drinking, in camp or on tour, is to use a few drops of such a household bleach, as directed on the label of most such bleaches.

The water thus disinfected may have a noticeable taste of chlorine — so has any safe municipal water from time to time.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recognizes sodium hypochlorite as one of the best known agents for killing bacteria, fungi, algae. The familiar laundry whitener or bleach is liquid and easy to use as bactenicide or disinfectant.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Analysis of the water from a recently drilled well showed it is very hard (hardness 750 parts per million). Is such water harmful to drink? It has a slightly salty taste which we like. (N. P. T.)

★ ★ ★

Ans.—Even the hardest water is perfectly good drinking water if the taste is satisfactory. There's no evidence that minerals in hard water ever do any harm in body and no evidence that any one derives any particular benefit from drinking only distilled water or rain water.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Mother Asks What to Do About Neighborhood Bully

Will someone please tell me what to do about a neighborhood bully? If younger boys don't meet with the bully's approval, they are kicked around or pounded on the back and warned not to complain to their mothers if they want to continue to play in neighborhood games. Then other children are bullied into ostracizing them if they admit such treatment when mothers notice the bruises.

Is it wrong for mothers to notice such things? Is it pampering and overprotecting my boy when I don't approve?

I wonder how many mothers are interested in their boys enough to find out if there is a neighborhood bully. I'm afraid some are only interested in getting them away from the house.

Doting Mother

Complains of Cut in Part of Letter

Why do you cut parts of letters that tell where to prove a point with Bible Scripture to people who call themselves Christians? That's why some letters are written—to answer people who wrongly quote the Bible, that they might read for themselves in God's word, such as where it says the world will pass away. But you cut where it can be found. People of today need Bible quotes and where they can be found.

It would be very good if we had a regular Billy Graham column. There is no need for proof of his leadership after the New York revival.

'Move to Country Reversing Itself'

I just read that this city-to-county move is slowing down and even reversing itself. Some of the ladies that rushed to the country find the city has many advantages. It's easier to shop, easier to go to the movies, easier to see a flock of friends, etc. Both have their advantages but folks better think about the whole problem. And the snow plow is sort of nice in the winter.

Clerk Gives Other Side of Question

What the general public, who blames us clerks for our indifference, doesn't know is that we get dreadfully tired standing all day on our feet. If store owners would only give us a break by providing stools.

Other Side of the Counter

Refutes Argument Given by South

I'd like to make some points clear about integration and mixed marriages. All mixing between the two races was started in the South when slaves were brought to this country. There are more half-white Negroes in the South than anywhere in the U.S. Integration had nothing to do with that. It was forced on poor, ignorant slave women by white Southerners.

Even today, a great deal of the mixing starts in the South. The southern Negro and southern white come north and marry because it's impossible in the South.

Mixed marriages are the main reason given by southern whites for refusing integration. How stupid, when mixing started there and, integration or not, it's still going on. The average Negro feels the same about mixed marriages as whites, but there will always be exceptions to the rule. That's human nature.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

College Is Lucrative Investment

Leo is at the crossroads. He can become a smart Jacob or a shortsighted Esau. His $1,000 looks big to him now, but it will produce $25,000 in later years if he uses it to gain even one year at college. Don't become so enslaved by a jalopy and a present sweetie that you pull the financial rug out from under your future wife and children.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-383: Leo L., aged 18, is a high schooler who hasn't made up his mind about going on to college.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I have about $1,000 saved from carrying a newspaper route during high school," he began. "If I got a job to earn my board and room, that would help me through one year at the state university.

"But would it thus be worth investing my whole savings of the past four years?

"I don't even know what I want to do in life. So what do you suggest?"

ASK BEN FRANKLIN

"An investment in knowledge," said Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

That slogan is inscribed above the doorway on our Chicago Campus of Northwestern University.

Furthermore, most high school graduates haven't yet made up their minds as to their final life work.

Indeed, I once made a survey of my college seniors on our Evanston Campus of Northwestern University and half of them still didn't know what they planned to do.

Get that clearly! It was only a couple of months till they were graduating from the university, yet half of them hadn't yet selected a specific life career.

So you high schoolers don't need to fret unduly because you have not yet decided to become a clergyman or teacher, business man or lawyer.

★ ★ ★

Go on to college anyway, even if you must invest the savings of your past four years, as would be true of Leo.

VALUE OF COLLEGE

For that $1,000 investment now will probably produce an extra $25,000 in greater earnings during Leo's next 50 years.

"Don't think I am simply generalizing, for Dr. Paul C. Glick of the Census Bureau actually analyzed the future earnings of men with various amounts of schooling.

Look at the data below and then keep on with your schooling, if possible.

Education	Life Income
1-4 yrs., grade	$ 72,000
8th grade grad.	116,000
High school grad.	165,000
1-3 years college	190,000
College grad.	268,000

Notice that the high school graduate earns $49,000 more in later life than the kid who quit after the eighth grade!

★ ★ ★

That means each year of high school adds $12,250 in later earnings. And a year of college means about $25,000 more in lifetime income.

So think of your future wife and children. Don't penalize them by quitting school to buy a jalopy and splurge before a teenage girl friend.

REMEMBER ESAU

You may recall that Esau also sold his birthright for a mess of beans or pottage. His stomach ruled his head.

Many modern teenagers likewise are slaves to their stomach or their heart. They sell out their future children by refusing to face the grim fact that education insures higher earnings all through one's later life.

Don't be so shortsighted that you let a temporary heart throb steal $103,000 from your future earnings. Delilah also seduced Samson and cheated him out of 50 more years of big money!

★ ★ ★

So think far ahead if you want to get ahead. And send for my "Vocational Guidance Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Your future wife and children will be very grateful if you study it with care!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Sailors Off Duty Draw Plaudits From Citizen Watching Them in Bar

WITH THE UNITED STATES FLEET, Majorca, Spain (INS) — Sailors have been known to take a drink. Off duty, that is. And some, it seems, not only can handle it as sea-faring men should, but are better than amateurs as emissaries of good will.

Vice Admiral Charles R. Brown, commanding the Sixth Fleet, came up with a letter bearing on this subject. It came from T. A. Knowles, of (275 Melbourne avenue) Akron, Ohio. The letter read in part:

"It occurred to me that you might be interested in an instance I observed in Palma de Mallorca last week. In the Bahia Palace bar, a U.S. Navy sailor was seated at a table. He had had one too many.

"Two of his shipmates were trying to get him to leave. In addition to trying to persuade him themselves, they resorted to such strategems as calling in a bigger shipmate to urge him and one went to the phone and placed a call (?) to the Shore Patrol.

"Anyhow, having gotten him out of there with no harm done, they then made the rounds of adjoining tables to be sure no one had been offended and one of them approached the bartender to be sure no bills had been left unpaid.

"I was impressed, not so much by the transgression of the prodigal as I was by the sincere and intense desire on the part of his shipmates to see that a minimum of harm had been done from a good will and public relations standpoint.

"This was a fresh breeze, that made me extra proud of our Navy. Since you probably catch a lot of hell, anyhow, I just thought I'd write and tell you that it seemed to me that a real job is being done in training these men to measure up to their responsibilities ashore, and that it must be paying off in better relations all around."

Segregation Still Sharp in Some Respects

Many Racial Barriers Broken in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Violence is practically a stranger to this quiet city of 110,000, where many racial barriers have been broken in the last few years.

White persons and Negroes ride side by side on buses and trains. Jim Crow signs were taken down with little commotion last summer.

★ ★ ★

Both races mix in amusement and recreation areas. They sat together last season at performances of the Little Rock Philharmonic Orchestra.

One of the few reminders of separation by state law are drinking fountains in some downtown stores, but they are becoming obsolete.

But the color line is sharply drawn in schools, in restaurants and on the lower floors of movie theaters.

★ ★ ★

It is the attempt to erase integration in public schools that has touched off excitement in a city that does not even have teen-age gangs worthy of police attention.

Armed National Guardsmen surround the huge 2,000-pupil Central High School, blocking attempts to carry out integration ordered by a federal court.

Gov. Orval Faubus, who mobilized the troops Monday Night, says he is averting violence. Mayor Woodrow Mann, says the mobilization is a hoax with political implications.

★ ★ ★

The schism is deeper than a difference of opinion between two politicians. Little Rock itself is in the center of a state which is broadly divided geographically between western hills and eastern lowlands.

Negroes constitute about 22 per cent of Little Rock's population and possibly a slightly higher average in North Little Rock, a separate city of about 50,000 across the Arkansas River.

Like all Negroes in a state which belongs half to the middle South and half to the Southwest, they vote without hindrance.

★ ★ ★

Where legal segregation exists, as in schools, Negro facilities generally are inferior to those for white children.

There seems little doubt that most literate Negroes here want integration, though some leaders urge caution and moderation.

★ ★ ★

It is no less doubtful that most literate Negroes here want integration, though some leaders urge caution and moderation.

It is no less doubtful that the vast majority of white persons resent the steady inroads and demands of equality on the part of the Negroes.

Bicycle Rider Injured in Collision With Car

A 14-year-old Farmington girl is in critical condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today, following a bicycle-auto collision on 10-Mile Road.

Margaret Yenney, of 24314 Broadview Ave., collided with a car driven by Joseph T. McGowan, 55, of 31025 Glenmuer Ave., Farmington Township.

McGowan was released after making a statement to Asst. Oakland County Prosecutor Robert Lang.

Deaths Elsewhere

NEW YORK (AP)—Virginia Dale, about 50, novelist, short story writer and book reviewer, died Thursday. Miss Dale, in private life Mrs. Hefmona Shirk-Johnston, began her writing career as a newspaperwoman in Chicago, where she was born.

★ ★ ★

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Luther Brusie Marchant, 69, one of the nation's leading music and voice educators, died Wednesday. Marchant, professor emeritus and former chairman of Mills College music department, had been a faculty member at the college 32 years until he retired in 1954.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK (AP) — William G. Tracey, 74, a song writer since 1910, died Thursday. He was born in Brooklyn.

★ ★ ★

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Don Jose Luis Tapia, dean of Mexican theater critics, died Thursday. He was a newsman and writer in addition to being a theater and movie critic.

Justice Adjourns Area Examination

The examination of James A. McEvers on charges of manslaughter was adjourned yesterday by Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Donald E. Adams until 1:30 Sept. 19.

★ ★ ★

McEvers, 24, of 860 Glendale Ave., Waterford Township, has been released on a $5,000 personal bond. He is charged in the death of Henry E. McCurry, 42, of 4975 Inkster Rd., Bloomfield Township.

A headon collision occurred June 20 on M59 near Woodstock Drive, and McCurry died July 21 in Pontiac General Hospital.

At the second examination held at the township hall yesterday, additional witnesses were heard. The prosecutor and defense counsel will submit briefs at the Sept. 19 hearing, Adams said.

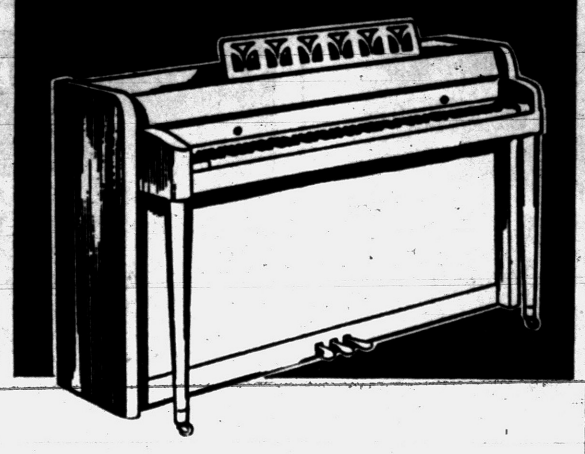

County Dem Chairman to Speak at Troy

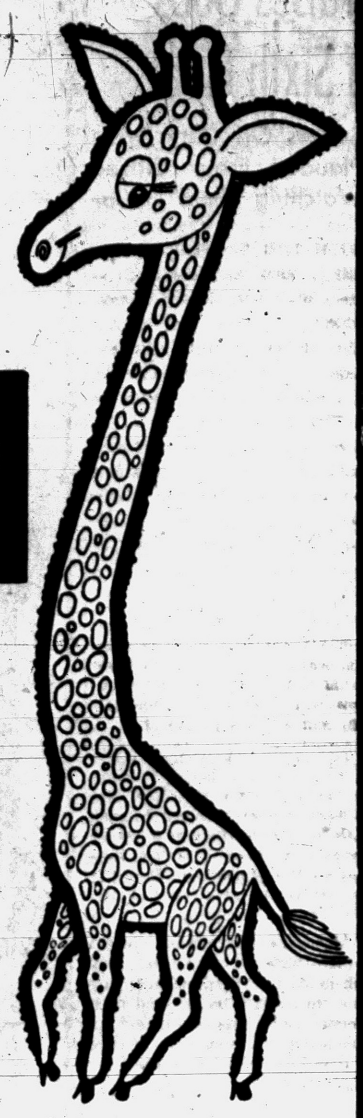

TROY — Carlos G. Richardson, Oakland County Democratic Chairman, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Troy Democratic Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Troy High School.

Appearing on the program with Richardson will be Attorney William J. Beer of Royal Oak. Subjects of the talks will be the relationship of the local group to the county organization.

Friendship, Know-How Are Tools for Pontiac Pair

Teachers Have Job of Helping New Teachers to Do Good Job

By MAX E. SIMON

Two teachers in Pontiac haven't any students to instruct, yet are busy around the clock and hold key positions in the city's school system.

Known as "helping teachers," they are charged with befriending and assisting all new instructors in Pontiac. Both Mrs. Mary Green, 27335 Drake St., of Farmington, and Mrs. Irma Johnson, 2222 Vinsetta Blvd., Royal Oak, believe that through such friendships new teachers will feel free to bring their problems to them.

IN THIRD YEAR

Now in its third year, the "helping teacher" program is designed to answer any questions which new school personnel may bring up, either through the past experience of the two veteran teachers or through research.

The pair has prepared an illustrated booklet of ideas for new instructors on the opening of the school semester, including hints on teacher preparation of subject material, the handling of pupils, and their classrooms.

Often they are called upon to demonstrate lessons in areas where the teachers feel that ideas are not being grasped by the students. Sometimes such problems are solved quickly; at other times, the visiting instructors must lend their assistance for days.

★ ★ ★

If a new teacher becomes discouraged under initial school conditions, the helping teachers may recommend that she be transferred. Many times, they state, after such a shift, the new person finds "satisfaction and success."

WIDE RANGE

Their services have no boundaries. They not only help in the classrooms, but also prepare teachers for community and PTA meetings, and assist in solving any personal problems which might arise.

Last year the helping teachers, upon returning from a reading clinic at Temple University in Philadelphia, were requested to give reports on the clinic to eight groups in the city's elementary schools.

These teachers also spend time doing research for all grades and all teachers, from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

It was learned last year that there was no material available for third grade social studies classes, studying the subject "Pontiac Past and Present."

GOT OUT PERIODICAL

So the helping teachers compiled, wrote and edited a periodical, "Pontiac's Bow and Arrow" for third grade pupils, in an attempt to supply some of the social studies material so badly needed.

Accompanying the paper is a teacher's supplement and photographs of points of interest pertinent to each issue.

Mrs. Johnsson and Mrs. Green are now preparing a third grade textbook on Pontiac which they hope will reach the classrooms this year.

Mrs. Green also devoloped the idea of a field trip for students and teachers to point out various landmarks of historical interest.

★ ★ ★

New teachers are taken about the city before they lead their students to the points of interest.

A collection of historical pictures for children studying Pontiac in social studies classes also was prepared by the two.

★ ★ ★

Both women are veteran teachers and have taught all elementary grades. Mrs. Johnson has taught for 14 years in Pontiac, and for an additional 12 years in Illinois schools.

Mrs. Green has been in school systems for 23 years, including 13 in Pontiac.

Calls Milk Organizer 'a False Prophet'

LANSING (AP) — Homer Martin, organizer of the Michigan Dairy Farmers Cooperative, was termed "a false prophet" at a joint legislative committee meeting on milk problems here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Martin has threatened a strike by his group for higher milk prices on Sept. 15.

"Martin has been a festering point in the milk industry," said Rep. Bert J. Storey (R-Belding), a committee member, "with his claims that the processors are making huge profits. We should get him up here under oath to get some facts."

★ ★ ★

The joint legislative committee, headed by Andrew W. Cobb (R-Elsie), scheduled three days of fact-finding hearings for the last week in September.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the daires and other processors will be asked to appear Sept. 25 and 26. Representatives of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative, Michigan Milk Producers Association and other farmers groups will appear Sept. 27.

Woodsmen Meeting

IRON RIVER (AP) — The 12th annual Lake States Logging Congress opened here Thursday for a three-day stand. Two million dollars worth of lumbering machinery and equipment are displayed at the Iron County fairgrounds. The congress is sponsored by timber producers of Michigan and Wisconsin.

U.S. Supermarket Sets Housewives Hoping in Zagreb

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — The American-style supermarket being installed at Zagreb's International Trade Fair is strictly dream stuff for Yugoslav housewives. But part of the dream may come true.

Several representatives of state-owned firms in Yugoslavia have an eye on the exhibit supermarket for ideas they can adapt here. It probably will be sold after the Sept. 7-22 exhibit, and likely will remain in Zagreb, Yugoslavia's second city.

The U.S. exhibit includes prepared baby foods, soup mixes, dessert mixes, instant coffee and tea, juice concentrates, prepared meat loaves, cut-up chickens and a wide range of frozen food. All these are rarities in this Communist country.

Miss Indiana Wins in Talent Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS)—A small town Sunday school teacher with a flair for burlesquing opera has moved among the favorites in the contest for the 1958 Miss America contest.

Miss Indiana — Gloria Ruth Rupprecht, 19, possessor of a lyric soprano voice — won the talent trophy last night when she spoofed "My Hero" from "the Chocolate Soldier."

The audience tittered as the light brown-haired beauty mimicked a nervous soprano's debut.

The panel of ten judges also apparently chuckled. They proved that they go for lighter things despite their more serious backgrounds.

Iron Lung Student Back for 2nd Year of College

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. (AP)—Gardner-Webb College's iron-lung student, Martha Mason, has returned for her sophomore year.

She has a new apartment across the hall from the men's dormitory apartment she and her parents occupied last year.

Martha, attending a full schedule of classes via a two-way radio from her iron lung, last year earned top freshman honors with a 97.22 average.

She has been confined in the iron lung, except for brief daily periods, since stricken with polio in 1948.

New Men Appointed to Operate Dehoco

DETROIT (AP) — The troubled Detroit House of Correction has new faces in its administrative posts today. Albert Shapiro, a veteran Detroit police officer, is superintendent, and Walter Michal is deputy superintendent.

★ ★ ★

Shapiro, 54, deputy chief of detectives and fourth-ranking Detroit police officer, succeeds Paul Brown who resigned last March. Michal has been acting deputy superintendent.

Leo Goss, deputy superintendent who took nominal charge of the institution when Brown quit, announced his resignation effective Nov. 1.

The changes followed a critical report on the city's prison by four nationally - known prison officials. They charged the institution was "merely a poor place of detention."

The report was authorized by Common Council after Brown stated publicly he was hampered in efforts to clean up the prison by members of the institution's commission.

★ ★ ★

Backed by Mayor Albert E. Cobo, the institution's commission termed the report "inaccurate, biased and untrue."

Cobo said Brown was asked to resign because he was incompetent.

CD to Hold Classes on Disaster Medicine

A fall series of classes in disaster medical training has been announced by the Oakland County Office of Civil Defense and Health Department.

The schedule of two-hour weekly sessions for 10 weeks will begin at Holly High School Monday.

★ ★ ★

On Wednesday, Sept. 11, a series will begin at Daniel Axford School in Oxford. On Thursday, Sept. 12, classes will begin at Rochester Junior High School.

To spread classes throughout the county for the convenience of those wishing to attend, Berkley and White Lake will have classes commencing Sept. 19, Waterford Sept. 25, and Oak Park Oct. 1.

Ransford Bromley, assistant director of CD, said the free classes will be open to anyone wishing to learn the important job of caring for the injured resulting from enemy attack, natural disaster or even home accidents.

Doctors from the different areas will teach the courses.

They will include isolation technique of contagious diseases, explanation of bacteriological warfare, decontamination and treatment of radiation sickness, hypodermic and blood pressure techniques, intravenous techniques, use of antibiotics and treatment of most common injuries like fractures.

At the conclusion of the course students will learn the conversion of a school into a hospital by using an expected 200-bed army mobile unit.

21 Oakland Men Enlist in Navy During August

A total of 21 men from Oakland County enlisted in the Navy during the month of August, the Pontiac Naval Recruiting Station announced today.

Religious Fight May Go to Court

Negro Group Stages Chair-Swinging Brawl in Presidential Hassle

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Forces opposed to the re-election of a Chicago pastor as president of the nation's largest Negro religious group have indicated they may take the matter to court.

Dispute over the matter yesterday resulted in four arrests by police at the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., Inc., following a chair-swinging brawl on the speaker's platform.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Joseph H. Jackson was re-elected Wednesday after he ruled a 1952 amendment limiting the president to four one-year terms was unconstitutional. He claimed his re-election by acclamation was unanimous.

But yesterday opposition forces stormed the platform and demanded reading of the minutes of Wednesday's meeting. Some tried to remove one or two of them forcibly, and a free-for-all broke out.

Arrested on charges of disorderly conduct were Cleveland Jordon, Greenwood, Miss., farmer; the Rev. Charles C. Wheeler, 43, Chicago; the Rev. William A. Ivity, 58, Los Angeles; and the Rev. Roy W. Norsworthy, 42, Memphis.

A group of anti-Jackson forces led by James M. Nabrit Jr., Washington, D.C., attorney, has been retained to make a court test of Dr. Jackson's re-election.

Cooler Autumn Weather Stays in Northern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today.

Autumn-like weather continued in most of the northern areas from the Plains states to New England. Some of the cool air which covered the Northeast dipped into the northern sections of the Gulf Coast states.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures in the cool belt were mostly in the 60s but were down to the 50s and some 40s in northern areas from New England westward through the Great Lakes region and into the Dakotas.

Readings near the Gulf Coast and westward through Texas were generally in the 70s. In the West, marks in the 60s were reported in the Rockies and westward while in the Southwest desert region temperatures were in the 90s.

★ ★ ★

Light showers sprinkled areas in Florida and along the southeast coast. More general rainfall fell from Iowa southwestward into the Texas Panhandle.

One man was killed by lightning in severe thunderstorms that brought heavy rain and hail to scattered sections in the Texas Panhandle last night. More than 1½ inches of rain soaked Buena Vista in 25 minutes. Hailstones the size of golf balls pelted the area.

India's State Elephant Tramples Attendant

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's state elephant, 6-year-old Udhaigiri, turned on his attendant today and trampled him to death.

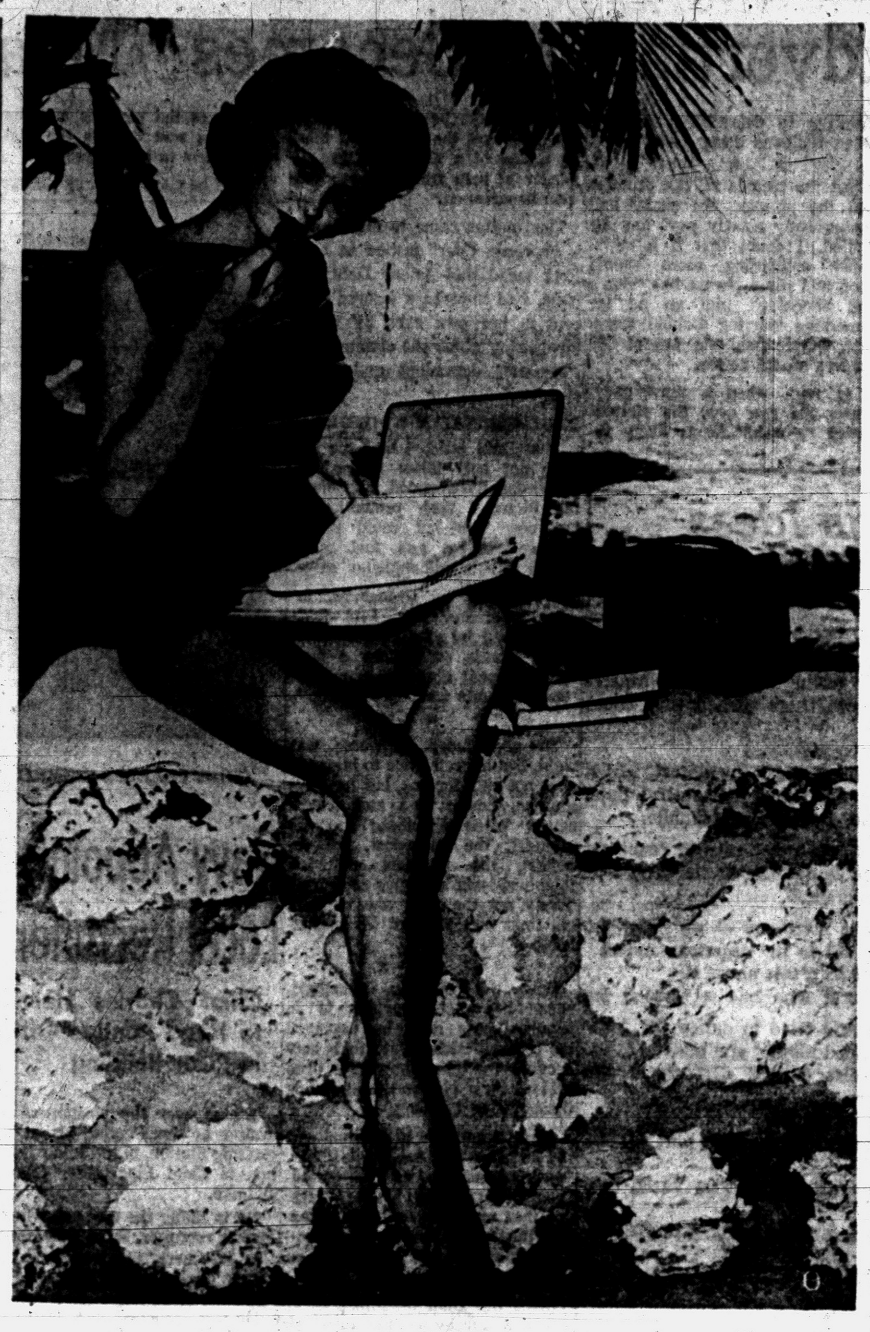

Caught and tamed in the Assam forests of northeast India three years ago, Udhaigiri lives at the president's palace and leads all state processions.

When the attendant bent to bathe the elephant on their return from a morning walk today, the normally well behaved animal crushed him to death.

Elephant experts speculated that the animal was wreaking vengeance for some unknown wrong done by the attendant.

FAREWELL TO SUMMER — Like many another student, Bobbi Baker at Miami Beach, Fla., finds it a tough task to say farewell to the carefree joys of the summer vacation, now that another school term is at hand. Making the most of the situation, Bobbi compromises between books and beach and adds a little lipstick for the photographer.

Asian Flu Vaccine Supply Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service has announced the release of 1,028,295 additional doses of Asian flu vaccine—bringing to 3,705,770 the total dosage made available so far.

★ ★ ★

The latest release is for civilian use, and is the first to be allocated among the states on the basis of population. The vaccine first became available Aug. 12.

★ ★ ★

The American Red Cross has called on its 3,700 chapters to help local authorities in planning for possible widespread outbreaks of Asian flu this fall and winter.

Chinese Plan Expansion

TAIPEI, Formosa — Under the Chinese Government's second four-year economic-development plan, industrial output on Formosa is expected to increase by 104.4 per cent by 1960, communications to expand by 45.8 per cent, and farm crops to increase by 19.7 per cent.

Babies born in the United States in 1951 had a life expectancy of 67.6 years, based on figures then.

Get Busy Now to Win $2,400 in Pot-O-Gold

With $2,400 in the pot and one wrong answer allowed for each entry, you'd better not wait too long before you begin trying to solve this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle. You'll want plenty of time to figure out the right answers, and you certainly don't want your entry disqualified because of tardiness.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Movie Advertising Becomes Meaningless

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — I often wonder whom Hollywood promotion writers who cling to those celluloidian cliches think they're kidding. Can dazzling, glittering old movieland honestly believe it will lure sane, educated people to the box office with an ad that relates how "The Loud and the Nasty" is "The explosive depth of degradation!"?

★ ★ ★

If the claim were true, perhaps the movie would do a mean business, as there are any number of devotees to degradation and its allied realisms these days.

★ ★ ★

But the trouble is, the promise and the premise are shaky and consequently nobody pays any attention. I doubt that if a newspaper composing room should goof, and slip a phrase like "Stark and Shocking" into an ad for something starring Debbie Reynolds, more than one out of 100 readers would notice.

In fact, when a movie-goer casts his eye over the simple word "smash," he is likely to figure—in the back of his mind where lodges the logic—that this is a dog of a show that needs plenty of help from the promotion department.

This matter came to mind after a Supreme Court justice in New York ruled that Arlene Dahl, actress, had "not been injured" except in her own eyes by movie advertising which she claimed was "obscene, degrading and offensive."

PROFESSIONALLY WOUNDED

Miss Dahl insisted that she had been not only taken aback, but professionally wounded, by Columbia Pictures' sexy promotion of her new film—but could revive her self-respect and feel much better with a million-dollar salve.

Justice Henry Greenberg, in dismissing her suit, said that "continued blatant emphasis upon sex is so obvious a box office appeal that almost everyone discounts such advertising."

★ ★ ★

The good judge, of course, was right. But his reference to blatancy goes not only for sex, but for vice, murder, horror, fun and travelogues. When all these are the greatest, the wickedest, the remotest, the merriest and the mightiest—who's to give credence? Surely not the man who respects his time and admires his pocketbook.

★ ★ ★

Only the realistic, mundane, slice-of-life picture which is so popular these days has escaped the colossal cliche. But this is only because the ad writers have been thinking big and scintillating thoughts for too long.

They'll come to it eventually—flashing out the words "The most ordinary picture of the year" in glaring black letters so that even the ordinary takes on the same unrelenting unreality that all the other cliches convey.

Since the Dahl dilemma, we've made a survey of the film ads in New York City and find that, this week at least, sex is barely holding its own against crime ("Ripped out of today's headlines") and tragedy ("The flame that made her a star . . . was the flame that consumed her too soon . . .")

ELEMENTS OF BROADWAY

The kindly quotes from movie critics, ripped rapturously from overwise-critical reviews, also feature the un-sexy elements of the current Broadway fare. They refer, instead, to suspense loading, wow impact, opulent production and sophisticated chuckling.

The cynical movie-goer, so long onslaught with these grand and meaningless phrases, has long since stopped reading the print. These days, I should think, he ignores the pictures and the adjectives and attends the cinema closest to his doorstoop.

It may be class C but, by George, he doesn't have to anticipate "The most fervid love scenes of the season" and go home disenchanted.

Wilson Brings Ideas From South America

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The B.W., Slugger and I are home from a 20,000-mile South American romp feeling 150 per cent American because so many we met down there wished they could live up here.

★ ★ ★

We stole a few ideas—among them Steak Roquefort, which some Americanos fed us at a beautiful hotel in Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic.

WILSON

You broil this steak—put hunks of roquefort on it, put it back under the broiler and . . . "it's a $10 cheeseburger."

We danced the meringue — we insisted that's what we did to it. American model Doris Hayes told us a tale about it.

"A French general who had a wooden leg went to a dance and tried to dance the waltz . . . but just stumped along," she added.

"To be courteous, everybody else danced stiff-legged and that's how the meringue was born."

★ ★ ★

Down in Buenos Aires we thought we found a plot against fast-growing Varig Airlines.

Twice when we told phone operators to get us Varig, they said, "Si, si, senor."

But when the phone answered, a voice said, "Braniff Airways!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Terry Moore and husband Gene McGrath got a retraction and $200 punitive damages from a scandal magazine which ran a story titled, "Terry Moore's Six-Week Trial Honeymoon" . . . The Times Square theaters doused their sexy photos during Billy Graham's meetings . . . Renee Roy joined the cast of the new Herman Wouk comedy, "Nature's Way."

★ ★ ★

Zsa Zsa Gabor's asking $180,000 for her Bel Air home . . . Alan Ladd inspected a big office building he's putting up in Beverly Hills—and locked himself in. Had to knock down a door to get out.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The reward for saving your money is being able to pay your taxes without borrowing . . . That's earl, brother.

If you lend a friend five dollars and then never see him again, it's worth it . . . It's said that tons of sugar are wasted every year, undissolved in the bottom of coffee cups. Now, there is news that should cause a stir.—Earl Wilson.

CHEVROLET PICKUP CLIMBS PIKES PEAK THE HARD WAY ...OFF THE ROAD!

An off-the-road run up Pikes Peak, through a sky-high wasteland of towering grades, was called impossible by people who know the mountain well. But a production Chevrolet pickup actually did it . . . to prove its pulling power and ruggedness!

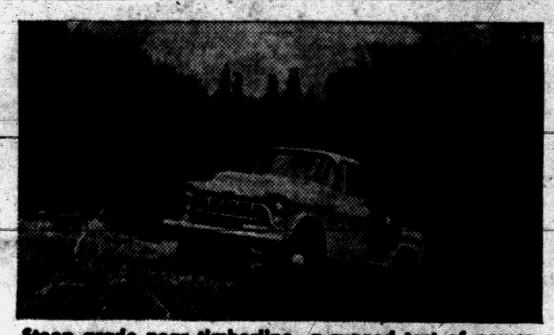

All the way to the top without using the road! Here a towering field of boulders near the 14,110-foot summit puts a heavy strain on truck components.

Pickup bulls its way upward over logs and stumps. Low on the mountain, terrain rises steadily through rough timberland. The Chevy pickup kept on going up with only routine rest stops for the crew.

Steep grade near timberline—a rugged test of power. This country tested the power and torque of Chevrolet's famous Thriftmaster 6. The big engine proved more than a match for the most difficult grades.

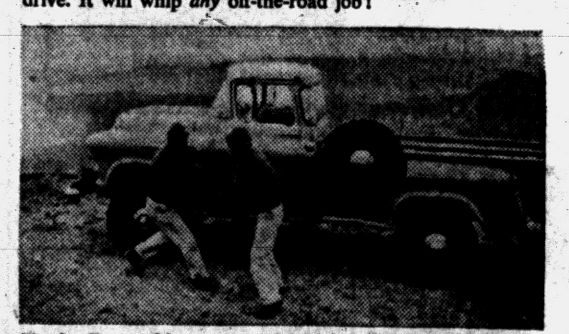

Breaking out of timber at 11,000 feet, like a mountain goat with gears! Climb provided an ideal test for the go-anywhere, do-anything versatility of Chevrolet 4-wheel drive. It will whip any off-the-road job!

Long, rocky slope (elevation 13,000 feet) requires real stamina. Above the timberline, Chevrolet truck frame, springs, body and tubeless tires withstood mile after mile of jarring impacts against hard granite.

Miles of loose boulders and thinning air offer extreme challenge. Near the summit, towering boulder fields look impassable and thin air lowers engine performance. Yet the Chevy engine performed flawlessly!

Final effort achieves summit! Pickup with standard components conquers the toughest truck run imaginable . . . shows why Chevrolet trucks are famous for staying and saving on tough jobs! See your Chevrolet dealer.

Once-Gloried Gondola Fading Away in Venice

VENICE (INS) — The once-gloried Venice gondola is going, going and may soon be gone from the Grand Canal.

Once 10,000 strong, the gondolas are now only a little fleet of 600.

GONDOLIER WEEPS

A gondolier actually wept as he spoke of his dwindling number of boats and said:

"Living is becoming impossible with us, especially in wintertime. Venice is virtually deserted and we must watch the ungrateful ferry take all the passengers from place to place."

He spoke of how his friends had quit the fleet, how difficult it was for all of them to adapt to a new way of life on land, adding:

"I say 'life' because it's the only work we have ever known — handed down from father to son."

SURVIVAL IN DOUBT

Will the gondola survive?

"I don't know," the old man said, "but if it doesn't, Venice will die because the gondola is the heart of Venice."

Motor-ships and motorboats are now competing with the gondola for tourists — the life-blood of the sea city. One reason is they provide a faster ride from island to island and today's tourists seem to want a quicker pace.

Most persons in Venice, however, do not share the extreme pessimism of the old gondolier. They point out:

"A motor-ship and motorboat cannot navigate all of our superb little waterways. The gondolier is still a prince to the visitor — a picturesque man in a straw hat who spells romance to them with the stroke of his oar. To say the gondola will die would be the same as saying to the world, love and romance are dead.

The gondola has lived for nearly nine centuries, spawned on these lagoons in the year 1094. They rode their crest of popularity in the 16th and 17th centuries, soaring to a fleet of 10,000 at a time when kings and diplomats vied to see which could build the most luxurious one.

There is an Italian legend about the origin of the gondola. It says the gondola is a slice of the incandescent moon which plunged into the Venice sea to hide the happiness of a poor, young couple from the eyes of the world.

There are still six small shipyards building gondolas in Venice. Their construction is extremely difficult. A typical gondola needs more than 200 different pieces of seven different types of wood.

Spellman's Influence, Deeds Reach Into All Facets of Life

(This is the 5th and final article of a series in which a famed writer describes the full, often dramatic life of Francis Cardinal Spellman.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS) — "He interested himself particularly in education and in charities," reads a climactic portion of Francis Cardinal Spellman's profile in "The Columbia Encyclopedia."

★ ★ ★

"His firm advocacy of some state aid to parochial schools involved him in difficulties with distinguished opponents, partiularly Eleanor Roosevelt. His understanding of the ordinary American has made his writings in verse and in magazine articles widely popular with Catholics and non-Catholics alike."

Concise but inadequate words.

HIS RECORD

Education? — Spellman's See has bloomed with many schools and much enlargement of old school facilities. On February 7 of this year he announced plans for an $18,000,000 construction program to accommodate another 9,800 pupils.

Charities? — on a single day — June 28, 1957 —, the Cardinal laid the corner stones of the $10,000,000 New York Foundling Hospital, the $9,000,000 Misericordia Hospital, and the Church of Our Saviour, on lower Park Avenue, which is to cost $4,350,000 and, like the 400 other parish churches in the archdiocese, will dispense material charity as well as spiritual sustenance.

Difficulties? — to have avoided them, in a day of controversy and quick communications, Francis Cardinal Spellman would have had to remain a parish priest in Whitman, Mass. He has had his share of difficulties and then some.

Writings? — Spellman has been writing professionally, so to speak, since his undergraduate days at Fordham. His wartime books and his postwar works, his translations and articles and poetry for leading magazines and supplements have brought well over a quarter of million dollars to his charities. He keeps nothing for himself.

His Eminence once tended to give away his written works, but that was before he secured the services of shrewd, able Gertrude Algase, author's agent. Miss Algase demands and gets top prices for the Cardinal as well as for another prolific client, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

★ ★ ★

In the face of rather widespread acclaim by Catholic writers of Henry Morton Robinson's "The Cardinal," Spellman took a dim view. (There were several curious parallels between the book's Cardinal Fermoyle and His Eminence.) As for "The Miracle," an Italian film about a seduced Italian woman who believes her baby is divine, the Cardinal grew angry and declared:

"This picture blasphemously and sacrilegiously implies a subversion of the very inspired Word of God . . . We are a religious nation. The perpetrators of 'The Miracle' unjustly cast their poisonous darts of ridicule at Christian faith and at Italian womanhood, thereby dividing religion against religion and race against race."

But His Eminence was most indignant about "Baby Doll." The Cardinal appeared in the pulpit at 10 o'clock mass on Sunday, December 16, 1956, to denounce the picture, and those who heard him will not forget his words or dismiss the sight of high indignation clothed in scarlet.

WOULD DEFEND HOMES

TV critic. — "Today, a man's home is no longer his castle, for the locked door no longer keeps out the trespasser. Now, any broadcasting radical may enter the home and, under cunning disguises, sow the seeds of juvenile bewilderment and delinquency. The moving picture has moved indeed — it has moved from a limited number of theaters to millions of private homes where crime stories and their horrors add to the infamy of the massacre of the innocents. Programs should be, and some truly are, instructive and inspirational. But many are merely ribald thrillers and have a ruinous effect on our children."

★ ★ ★

Foreign affairs. — Spellman is credited with persuading Roosevelt to send Episcopalian Myron Taylor to the Vatican as a personal representative, a decision which resulted in the collecting of much valuable wartime information. His campaign among Italian-Americans in 1953, to get them to write letters to their relatives urging them to vote against Communist candidates, had considerable influence on the outcome. The state department, though pleased, issued this statement: "U.S. officials had nothing to do with Francis Cardinal Spellman's plea to Americans to write Italian friends and relatives to vote against communism."

He was a champion of Generalissimo Franco long before recognition and support came from this country. He contributed to Paris' new American Church of St. Francis, for the maintenance of a memorial to the French who died at Dien Bien Phu. (It was Lenin who said that the road to Paris runs through Peking and Delhi . . ." he recalled.) His honors include degrees, medals, scrolls and even statutes of himself from places as separated as South Korea and Chile, the Pentagon to Haiti.

Juvenile Deliquency. — "A new creed has been patterned by a segment of the young people of America — a creed of dishonesty, violence, lust and degeneration," he told a Buffalo audience last year. "And the fault lies with us — their priests, parents and teachers — who do not constantly and actively work and pray to arrest the avalanche of lewd comic books, equally lewd films and television features, indecent magazine picture stories, obscene and suggestive dancing to which they are daily subjected."

Sports. — Spellman loved Babe Ruth, an early favorite in Boston. Making a rare appearance at Yankee Stadium on Babe Ruth Day, April 28, 1947, Spellman read a prayer he had written hours before. "O lifegiving Father in Heaven, whose breath is life to man's body, whose spirit is health to man's soul, bless thou with especial love him whom we honor this day; grant him, O God, thy tender mercies for ever more."

Spellman and Pius XII. — His Eminence helped feed the pontiff and other underfed people in Vatican City in Rome, moving food and medicine through enemy lines by means never fully divulged. Upon becoming a cardinal, the Pope gave his American friend the pastorship of the beautiful old Church of St. John and St. Paul, which dates from 328 A.D. and over which the Holy Father once ruled as pastor.

★ ★ ★

When they greet each other, as in Spellman's latest audience, it is always most warm. It is said unofficially in Rome that several Italian cardinals are not particularly enthusiastic over the Pope's personal affection for the American, chiefly on the ground that they still think of the U.S. as a missionary country and backward, religiously.

Associate of the mighty. — His Eminence has walked with presidents, kings, prime ministers, diplomats. His "Action this Day" was titled from a dispatch box he happened to notice on Winston Churchill's desk at 10 Downing.

Associate of the humble. — One of the reasons for his most recent trip to Rome was to do something constructive about the huge influx of destitute Puerto Ricans into New York City. Also, speaking to airmen assembled at Keesler Field, Miss., a couple of years ago, as vicar of a military "parish" that extends as far as American military men serve, Spellman said, "It has been my privilege to know the greatest men of our age, and these are the members of our armed forcess."

★ ★ ★

His inspiration? — It must have been his mother, who died in 1935. Not long after, on his birthday, he wrote these words:

Mother, how shall I thank you for my life,
Now that you are safe beyond the veil with God
While I, achieving, yet have unachieved
That final victory: to be at home —
Even as you — with God? Take then this gift,
The heart you gave me, give it back today
Into that other Mother's timeless care
Who loves and keeps us both, you at her Heart,
Me, servant of her Son and prisoner
Here upon earth, yet Heaven is today
Quite near to me — in memory of you!"

VA Home Loan Funds Depleted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said that its backlog of funds for direct GI home loans will be exhausted by the end of this month. Avaiable funds totaled 83½ million dollars as of Aug. 1.

Thereafter only about 21 million dollars per month will be available for direct loans until the program expires next June 30, a spokesman said. These funds will become available from repayments of loans.

President Eisenhower Tuesday killed a bill which would have made another 200 million dollars available and extended the program until July 25, 1959.

The direct loan procedure was enacted seevn years ago to provide funds for veterans in rural areas who could not obtain loans from private sources. Up to July 31 a total of 0689,069,000 in loans had been made.

3 Seek to Lead Teamster Union

Congressman to Run; Group May Be Ousted From AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (INS) — A three-way race for Teamsters president shaped up today amid growing indications that the giant union may be ousted from the AFL-CIO on grounds of corrupt influences.

★ ★ ★

In the wake of the union's refusal yesterday to answer charges posed by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee, Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.), disclosed that he will be a candidate for president.

MEMBER OF LOCAL

Shelley is a member of the Bakery Wagon Drivers and Salesmen Local 484 in San Francisco and a former president of the AFL California State Federation of Labor.

★ ★ ★

Shelley, who would oppose James R. Hoffa, the top contender, and Third Vice President Thomas L. Hickey, of New York, for the No. 1 post, added:

"I think the Teamsters should do some thinking. They are at a point now where they have to be very careful about whom they elect president."

Beck has announced that he will not seek re-election as president. His successor will be chosen at the Teamsters' convention which opens in Miami Sept. 30.

DENY CORRUPTION

The Teamsters' Executive Board denied categorically that it was dominated by corrupt practices, but failed to give any point-by-point reply. Hoffa, however, denied specific charges that he had been aided by gangsters and racketeers.

When the two-day session ended yesterday, newsmen asked Hickey whether he thought the Teamsters would be expelled from the AFL-CIO.

He replied: "I think they will put us out," and added: "I see no effort on the part of the Teamsters to work anything out. They seem to be allowing the thing to roll on to its inevitable conclusion."

★ ★ ★

Asked what would happen if Hoffa is elected president, he said: "That will create a problem."

Seeking Aid for Israel?

TEL AVIV (INS)—Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban flew to the United States today, reportedly to ask for military aid to balance the weapons which will be airlifted to Jordan, Lebanon and other Arab states.

Developed by Detroiters

Test Detects Heart Attack

CHICAGO (AP)—A new blood test which helps detect whether a person has suffered a heart attack was described today by a Detroit research team.

The test aids in diagnosing one of the most common forms of heart seizures—when a blood clot in a heart artery shuts off the blood supply to the heart muscle.

This condition causes a myocardial infarction or destruction of heart muscle cells.

Writing in the journal of the American Medical Assn., the researchers said a body enzyme called lactic dehydrogenase increases in the blood stream following muscle cell destruction.

The new test is especially useful, they said, when an electrocardiagraph fails to give a clear picture of heart damage or when complications occur after myocardial infarction, they added.

The study was made by Roderick P. MacDonald, Ph.D., Dr. John Simpson, and Egon Nossal, B.S., of Harper Hospital.

New Clue Seen in Area Slaying

Report Atwood Had Been With Oakland Ex-Convicts

Police today were tracking down reports that Earl E. Atwood, 40-year-old Detroit plant guard and gambling enthusiast who was found shot to death in Waterford Township last Friday, had been associating with ex-convicts in Oakland County a few weeks before his death.

The information was obtained by Detroit Police and is still unverified, said Insp. Thomas Cochill, Detroit homicide chief, today.

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives and township police Capt. Millard Pender, who is in charge of the case, began following this latest lead today in the hope that it might shed light on the gang-style execution.

Atwood, a Detroiter with a prison record, was found shot through the head on the grounds of the Airport Ready Mix and Building Supply Co., 3770 Airport Rd. He had been slain between midnight Thursday and 2:30 a.m. Friday, apparently after driving the killer to the secluded spot in his own car.

Police have established that before his death Atwood, married with five children, had spent a clandestine four days in Detroit, although he had told his family and employer he was going to Indiana to visit his sick mother.

But so far, police say, there have been no definite leads on who lured or forced Atwood to the cement company's grounds, or whether a motive other than simple robbery lay behind the killing.

Scandal Trial in Final Round

Prosecution Sums Up Testimony in Libel Case Against Magazines

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Confidential magazine trial enters its final round today when the prosecutor begins his final argument in an effort to convince the jury that the publication is obscene and has libeled celebrities.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi expects to take two days to sum up 2,000 pages of testimony and his case against Confidential and Whisper magazines and their Hollywood agents, Fred and Marjorie Meade.

Defense attorney Arthur J. Crowley, who is also expected to take two days to present his argument, will reply with his appeal for a verdict of innocent. He represents only Mr. and Mrs. Meade and their now defunct information checking agency, Hollywood Research, Inc.

Crowley asserts the magazines are not on trial because they are not physically represented in the courtroom.

Only two celebrities—Maureen O'Hara and Dorothy Dandridge—testified. The appearance of dozens of Hollywood stars, which Crowley had promised before the trail, never came off.

Solve Mystery of New Edsel Car in Cleveland Lot

DETROIT (AP) — The mystery of the premature Edsel is solved.

The Edsel Division of Ford Motor Co., said last night a New York auto dealer has apologized by telegram to 1,200 other dealers for the early sale of a new Edsel which turned up on a Cleveland used car lot.

An Edsel spokesman said the dealer, Charles Kreisler of Manhattan, apologized for "an error in business judgement" and said he was negotiating for repurchase of the automobile.

The Edsel, a convertible in the Pacer series, turned up on a used car lot at Helbig Auto Sales Co., in Cleveland Aug. 30, five days before the new line was scheduled for public showing.

The Edsel spokesman said no disciplinary action was planned against Kreisler.

One source estimated the 1,200 telegrams of apology to Edsel dealers cost Kreisler between $3,500 and $4,000.

The Edsel spokesman said the car was purchased from Kreisler by a representative of the Cleveland dealer. The price was not learned. The Cleveland dealer placed it on sale for $3,995 and said it was supposed to sell for $4,650. An Edsel spokesman said the model normally would retail for about $3,800.

President Enjoys 2nd Game of Golf at Newport Club

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—In bubbling holiday spirits, President Eisenhower got in his second round of golf today at the Newport Country Club.

Eisenhower showed up 10 minutes early for his golfing date and said laughingly he got away from his office as soon as staff members would let him.

★ ★ ★

He'd forgotten his club cap, the yellow one presented to him when he played his first round yesterday. So the pro shop gave him another. He chose a conservative grey, rejecting a red one.

★ ★ ★

Then, after practicing a few iron shots, he sent his first drive 200 yards straight down the middle of the difficult first hole.

The weather was mild and brilliantly clear, with a good deal less wind than yesterday, when the President commented he was lucky to stand up on the course—much less play golf.

★ ★ ★

His companions were the same as yesterday — press secretary James C. Hagerty; the president of the country club, Howard Cushing; and the pro, Norman Palmer.

The President wore tan slacks and a beige sport shirt.

$19 Million Contract Goes to Westinghouse

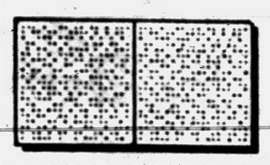

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy has announced the award of a 19 million dollar contract to Westinghouse Electric Corp. for production of shipboard and aircraft electronic equipment at its Baltimore plant.

More than 10 million dollars is for detection, aiming and firing systems to be installed in 1959 for the unmanned tail turret on the Navy's A3D Skywarrior carrier-based attack bomber.

The remainder is for improved air-search radar equipment to be installed on ships after mid-1958.

Asks Meeting With Arabs

Sen. Mansfield Urges Talks With Two Nations to Stop Red Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) today urged the Eisenhower administration to consider an immediate conference with Saudi Arabia and Egypt to study ways "to preserve Arab nationalism from further Soviet aggression."

★ ★ ★

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, coupled this proposal with a suggestion that the United States ask the United Nations General Assembly to set up international controls over arms shipments to the Middle East. The Assembly is to convene in New York next week.

★ ★ ★

The senator advanced his proposals in an interview as the United States pushed arrangements to speed defensive weapons to four nations bordering pro-Soviet Syria.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the decision to speed up deliveries of previously promised arms to Jordan, Lebanon, Turkey and Iraq was made in part to symbolize American determination to support those nations against any aggression, subversion or other pressures from Syria.

★ ★ ★

The governments of Lebanon and Jordan, both strongly pro-Western, were described here as feeling themselves under heavy political pressures because of the Syrian crisis.

★ ★ ★

In the case of Jordan, an airlift will begin operating, perhaps next week, to deliver mobile weapons — presumably such things as light artillery and machine guns.

★ ★ ★

Disclosure of the decision to hasten weapons deliveries to the four nations came as the State Department announced that Secretary Dulles will make a personal report on the Syrian situation to President Eisenhower.

Report Ending of Cuba Uprising

Government of Batista Says Rebels Crushed; 75 Casualties Listed

HAVANA (AP)—President Fulgencio Batista's government said today it had smashed an uprising of rebels and naval and maritime police dissidents in south-central Cuba. It put total casualties at about 75.

A high command announcement said 40 to 50 rebels were killed or wounded. It reported government losses at 12 killed and 13 wounded.

★ ★ ★

The command accused former President Carlos Prio Socarras of masterminding yesterday's day-long revolt in Cienfuegos, 150 miles southeast of Havana.

Prio was ousted by President Fulgencio Batista in 1953 and took refuge in Miami, Fla. He has repeatedly denied government charges of plotting against Batista.

The government poured in planes, tanks and troops after 400 rebels seized police headquarters in downtown Cienfuegos and threatened to take control over the port city of 52,000.

FOLLOWS CONFERENCE

The high command announcement was issued by Maj. Gen. Francisco Tabernilla, army chief of staff; Adm. Jose Rodriguez Calderon, navy commander; and Brig. Gen. Hernando Hernandez, the national police chief.

★ ★ ★

They issued the statement just after dawn after a long conference at nearby Camp Columbia with President Batista.

★ ★ ★

The statement said revolutionaries disguised in Cuban navy sailors' uniforms first attacked Cienfuegos naval post early yesterday "murdering several members of the naval post while they were sleeping."

★ ★ ★

The statement said the attackers were dislodged in bloody fighting.

School Opening Again Delayed

Kennett Road Building Waiting Sewer, Water Connections

More than 300 Pontiac children who have been assigned to attend the new Kennett Road elementary school scheduled to open this fall will have another week of vacation because of another delay in sewer and water connections.

Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business, announced today the opening, originally postponed from yesterday to Monday, has again been put over until one week from Monday, September 16.

Hufziger reports the contractor for the city who is installing the 2,500 feet of sewer pipe on Kennett road leading to the school said the job would not be completed until Friday, September 13.

"If tests of water occur over the weekend of the 14-15th, school should start Monday," Hufziger announced.

"The classroom wing is completed. The only thing holding us up is the city sewer-water line," he said.

★ ★ ★

He added the sewer and water lines of the new $439,000 school are completed to the property line and are ready to be connected as soon as the city lines reach them.

Play my favorite record, "Happy Birthday," Dorita Carlisle (right) of Seneca street asks Sandra Anable of First street. Notice the lacing on Dorita's socks — it's a new fad.

"Rock-a-Billy, Rock-a-Billy, Rock, Rock"—yes, like most teenagers 13-year-old Carol Morris of Whittemore street and Gary Sebaske, 16, of East Huron street, are no exceptions when it comes to dancing. Recognize the dance? Of course, it's the "Chicken."

Are You Gungho on Latest Fads?

Remember the raccoon coats of the twenties — they may seem out of date — but they're the latest teenage craze. Dee Heatherson models her coat, while her friends Linda LaMarre of Tillbury road (standing, left) and Ginny Horner of Huppcross road (seated) look on approvingly. All three are of Bloomfield Village.

BY PAT EVANS

Are you "gungho" (hep, that is) on the latest fads, now that school has begun? Now don't groan or grumble, fellows and gals, for the manner in which your friends dress and talk does influence you one way or another.

Are you a conformist this year wearing Ivy League styled clothes, or a nonconformist thinking of new ideas for teen-age crazes?

★ ★ ★

Regardless of which type you might be if you're a teen-ager you're probably wearing something that is a fad.

IVY CLINGS

Ivy League is here to stay — for quite a while — with all its buckles on khaki slacks, jackets, blouses, shirts, skirts, hats, and now shoes.

The shoes are shaped like saddle oxfords, only with buckles on the back which, when open indicate you're not going steady, when closed, that you are.

★ ★ ★

"Tennies" half tennis shoe and half moccasin, are made of canvas with lacing in the tongue part of the shoe. Although you might ruin a few pairs of bobbysox you might try lacing them down the side with plaid shoe laces, a new craze.

★ ★ ★

Fads like the blazers, bermudas, pleated skirts, tennis shoes, kneesocks, bulky and crew neck sweaters, will be seen everywhere, in the popular shades of red, gray, brown, and periwinkle blue predominating, this year.

LETTING HAIR DOWN

Fellows, the girls are letting their hair grow long this year (more feminine, don't you think?) but a few look cute in the pixie-style, which is still being worn, and in pony tails.

Strictly from hearsay girls, fellows won't be wearing as many New Yorker or Waterfall (hair brushed up into a point on top of the head) haircuts, this year, but crew-cuts are ever popular.

For the college-set trench coats are a must in beige or black. Wearing your socks up instead of rolled down to your heels is more collegiate, too.

An embarrasing experience for one college girl was when she had to wear her kneesocks not in the winter but for most of the year because her ankle socks turned charcoal grey when she put them in the laundry with her charcoal grey kneesocks.

RACCOON RETURNS

Also raccoon coats are the latest craze making a comeback from the twenties, when they were a must.

★ ★ ★

From what a large number of teens say the "chicken" is on its way out. So those of you who like slow-dancing — can find a partner and not have to bop and hop to Elvis Presley's records at least not as much. Instead you can enjoy Pat Boone's style, unless your partner insists on Elvis.

Alpha Alpha Committees Are Named

Mrs. Jack Holler, Mrs. Harry Rhodes and Mrs. Jack Andress were named to the social committee of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority when the group met Thursday evening at the YMCA.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Mrs. Carl Rose announced her committee as Mrs. Donald Stone, Mrs. Fred Baumgartner, Stephanie Linabury, Mrs. Fred Mueller and Mrs. Marshall Rose.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. James George, ways and means chairman, announced that her committee would be Mrs. Harry Woodman, Mrs. Norman Nelson, Mrs. Calvin Rhodes, Ann Tierney, Dee Brim, Mrs. Gordon Carlson and Mrs. Earl Smith.

Reveals Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ruggles of Reese road, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Laura to Daniel Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Bailey of Melrose avenue. The couple plans a September wedding.

ALICE H. MacMANUS

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. MacManus of Stonycroft, Bloomfield Hills, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice, to Joseph C. Walker Jr., son of the Joseph C. Walkers of West Iroquois road. The couple attends MSU. The date of the wedding has not been set.

'Sharing' Is Theme

"Sharing With Each Other" was chosen by Waterford Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association as the program theme for the year, when that group met Thursday at the home of Mrs. William H. Cobb of Watkins Lake. Mrs. A. L. Adams and Mrs. Dalton Ettinger were cohostesses.

Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Millard Giles is now a patient at Pontiac General Hospital where she underwent major surgery recently.

No Such Thing as a 'Menial' Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Somebody once said, "There is no such thing as a menial job. There is only a menial point of view." This is certainly true.

Many people will say they wouldn't like such and such a field because it's too menial, but whatever they do will be done menially, even if it's a so-called glamour job.

★ ★ ★

I often think of a boy I knew years ago. Because they wanted him to have a brilliant career as an engineer, his family was determined to send him to one of the top colleges. He was a nice boy, and very mechanical, but he was not college material.

SAW THE LIGHT

I told them that if they forced him to go to college, he might have a nervous breakdown and would certainly have an unhappy time; but if they sent him to a good trade school, he might make a very successful mechanic. They were smart people, and really fond of the boy, so they saw reason and stopped their insistence on college.

★ ★ ★

The last I heard, that boy owned 17 garages — a chain of them throughout his state. He is happy, successful and is rendering a useful and important service. He is also, of course, making a lot of mony.

I remember him whenever parents tell me they don't want their children in "menial" jobs. As a result, a lot of nice youngsters are forced to get an education they don't want and which will do them no good.

FOLLOW YOUR BENT

If you follow your own bent, the work you do will be well done and you will be successful. But if the work you do goes against the grain of your bent, it will be badly done and you will be unsuccessful.

★ ★ ★

One way to find out whether you — or your children — are college material is to get good vocational testing. If the results indicate that you are not college material, it doesn't mean that you lack ability. It means that you have other talents which require another kind of training.

If you want to know a good vocational tester in your vicinity, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, in care of this newspaper, and I'll let you know.

Mr. DiBlasi to Conduct Rehearsal Tuesday

Symphony Plans Fifth Season

Plans are under way for the fifth and coming season of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra which will again be under the the direction of Francesco DiBlasi.

★ ★ ★

Mr. DiBlasi has guided the symphony since its beginning in February 1953. Under the able direction of Mr. DiBlasi, the orchestra will continue to promote and provide cultural entertainment for the city of Pontiac.

FINE INTERPRETATIONS

For five seasons he has proved with steady assurance and artistic skill his ability to correctly interpret the work of the masters.

Always conducting from memory, DiBlasi never fails to catch the mood, the spirit, the picture of the music being played, bringing it to the audience as the composer intended.

FRANCESCO DI BLASI

The Pontiac Symphony is organized on a subscription basis. Its foundation has been laid and its growth means opportunities for many to express their talents in orchestral music. In the past Pontiac has seemed well pleased with its orchestra, for attendance at concerts has been excellent.

★ ★ ★

By playing with seasoned artists, younger players are able to gain much experience in the concert situation. Working under Mr. DiBlasi, who is also a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, is an experience that could well prove worthwhile to anyone seriously interested in a concert career.

REHEARSAL SLATED

The first rehearsal of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be at 8 p. m. on Tuesday at Lincoln Junior High School. If you would like any further information please contact Mrs. Ralph Norvell.

For adults, play is something that can come only after the back door is fixed, the lawn is mowed or the clothes basket emptied. With children, play is their "work." It is what they do much of the time, a method of education, and an important part of the complicated process of growing up.

How to Get and Keep a Husband — Article IV

Women Should Shun Some Definitely Unmarriageable Types

(Editor's Note: Today Kate Constance presents a yardstick by which every suitor should be measured. And she warns that no matter how much a girl may yearn for the fulfillment of married life, certain types are to be shunned. This is the fourth in a series of 10 articles condensed from the Dorrance best-seller, "How to Get and Keep a Husband.")

By KATE CONSTANCE

What kind of a man should you marry?

Not just anyone who proposes, no matter how much you may yearn for the fulfillment of married life.

★ ★ ★

Regardless of how much personal charm or money he possesses, every suitor should be measured by the yardstick of character, temperament, habits and motive.

Many lovely girls have suffered damaging emotional upsets because of long fruitlesss romances with men who selfishly monopolize their social time, driving away other possible suitors, yet never get around to proposing. The effect upon a woman's ego can be pitiful.

Unfortunately some lonely women, hungry for attention, close their eyes to realities and just hope for the best without recognizing the warning signals that arise during courtship.

★ ★ ★

Remember—there are thousands of single male delinquents in our country who are shams foisting their spurious attentions upon women whom they have no intention of marrying.

ALL HAVE FAULTS

Of course every man has his faults. And so do women. The happiest marriages are based upon the capacity of both parties to recognize each other's foibles and to help one another overcome weaknesses. Staunch love will make every effort to strengthen the weaker party and will not condemn a manageable shortcoming.

★ ★ ★

But there are evils of character, habit and motive that seriously impair the possible success of a marriage.

Here are some of the types of men a woman should shun when seeking a husband.

Tightwad and Chiseler — No electronic eye is needed to detect this kind of matrimonial weed.

The tightwad is he who quibbles over spending and is cheap and embarrassing in all his financial outlays. He should not be confused with the conservative spender who is justifiably careful with his money, a factor that makes a dependable husband.

★ ★ ★

What are the signs of a tightwad? He is one who has a fair income, yet asks for a later evening date so he can cut out all dinner expenditures and settle for ice cream and an auto ride.

SPONGES MEALS

Often a chiseler berates restaurant cooking and extols home cooking until he wangles an invitation home for a free meal. He never sends flowers or candy or a book, but he borrows good literature and even the evening newspaper.

He ducks when a group check is presented. If he had to pay his share, he sulks and complains about the exorbitant prices.

★ ★ ★

He loves home life—as long as it provides safely inexpensive dates in the living room with cold drinks from her refrigerator.

The tightwad and chiseler seldom is reformed by love and marriage. Get rid of the leech!

Spendthrift—This type is just as bad as the tightwad. He doesn't know the value of money and the ethics of its management.

Prodigal spending beyond a man's means is not easily cured, if ever, and the woman who ties her destiny to him is taking a very long chance.

★ ★ ★

Free Lover—This fraud is one of the most treacherous threats to marriage. He usually wangles through his better years as a male free of marital responsibility but somehow always having some hopeful female on the string to give him all the sexual attention he wants.

She yields to him in the hope that their physical relationship will foster enough love to induce him to propose. Poor foolish female!

THE PHILANDERER

In this category comes the philanderer that male with the inferiority complex which drives him to boost his morals with extracurricular heart throbs.

The free lover rarely marries until he is up in years. He has obtained all the "love" he needs and is too selfish to want children, so the basic reasons for marriage have no meaning to him.

However, as the loneliness of old age steals nearer, he often becomes desperately eager to marry for companionship. By that time he has become so selfish, spoiled and arrogant that he is a sorry catch for almost any woman.

Perfectionist — Although there seem to be more perfectionist women than men, the male variety is not uncommon.

Everything in life should be just so for him, according to all the rules, customs and patterns. This desire for perfection springs from a deep feeling of inadequacy for which he is trying to compensate. Since nothing in life is perfect, this type of male is continually frustrated.

Usually he experiences irritation, impatience and a feeling that the world is against him. He imposes upon those around him a great deal of unnecessary unhappiness.

A woman I know was married to such a man. After five years of it she cracked up, no longer able to take his continual, "Don't do this—do that! Let's do it thus and so! It isn't proper to say this or that!"

EVERYTHING IN PLACE

She said that he couldn't stand to see a smudge of powder on her skin, or a curl out of place. The sight of a crooked stocking seam irritated him. A fleck of dust on the furniture was a domestic sin. Worst of all was his constant upbraiding for mispronounced words and small grammatical mistakes.

★ ★ ★

The Abnormal Man — A type sometimes harder to recognize than you may believe. Some are highly social and give the outward appearance of being good marriage prospects, but never carry a romance forward toward marriage. They like to escort pretty women in public as a social shield.

Men of this type are selfish cheats taking up a woman's valuable time and arousing false hopes in her heart.

How can a woman discern the truth in a situation of this kind? If such a suspicion enters her mind, she might enlist the assistance of another, trusted man friend. Usually men can recognize telltale characteristics forever hidden from a woman's perception.

★ ★ ★

The Uncontrolled Drinker—While miracles can be worked in helping alcoholics, no woman wants to start her marriage with such a handicap. This condition frequently is an indication of other, deeper personality problems.

Those are some types of man to shun. What types should the marriage-minded woman seek?

YOUNG BACHELOR

For the younger woman, the young bachelor is the prize. Even with his inexperience they can grow and build together.

★ ★ ★

The "old" bachelor has no threatening drawbacks if he has sidetracked the bad habits and complexes that often result from a lonely routine. Some fine men have to wait many years to marry until their business or family affairs are adjusted so they can assume additional responsibilities.

Even if they have become set in their ways, a woman's love and patient guidance eventually can lead them into the broadening path of family life.

The man who has been married previously makes the quickest adjustment to marital responsibilities because he has been "broken in" to living with a woman and reconciling his views with hers. I speak here primarily of the widower—not the man who has been married and divorced several times. The latter is not a matrimonial prize.

In seeking the right man for a husband, a woman must overlook age, physical appearances and small faults in favor of the more important factors of character, dependability and kindness.

Even education, background and religion need not be similar if both parties possess high intelligence and stability.

Mourners May Watch TV Program

No Disrespect for Dead in Relieving Tension

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister died very suddenly two weeks ago and of course none of us are going "out" socially at the present time. However, my mother won't even let us turn on the television set.

"I can't see how this could possibly be considered disrespectful and it would certainly help to relieve the strain we have been under. Will you please tell me if it is wrong for those in mourning to turn on the television set?"

Answer: I cannot see anything wrong in turning on the television set, and I think by sitting in idle silence for hours and days on end is the most distressing thing possible to do.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way to eat peas? As you know they slide all over one's plate and can be very difficult to eat. Would it be proper to mash them between the tines of the fork and eat them that way, or should they be speared?"

Answer: Correctly, you push the ends of the tines of the fork under the peas and lift a not-too-big mouthful onto the fork. If you find this difficult to do, it would be permissible to mash a few with the tines of the fork and eat as you would mashed potato.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Quite often when I leave the office at night I stop and buy myself a chocolate bar to eat on the subway to tide me over until dinner.

"One of the girls with whom I work jokingly criticized me for this and said that it was not good manners to eat anything out in public — except of course at a picnic. Will you pleaee tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: She is right. We should really try to avoid eating in public. However, eating a small amount of chocolate in a subway ought not to be frowned upon.

Grip Ground With Toes

Go Barefoot to Strengthen Arches

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Will going barefoot weaken the arches?"

A. No. You even can make a splendid arch exercise out of it if you will grip the ground or floor with your toes and sort of push off from them when you step.

Q. "I have pains in my legs and someone said that the trouble might be in my feet. Could this be true? I can't see how my feet could make my legs ache."

A. This is entirely possible. The pains may come from weak feet. However, you should see your physician. Many conditions can cause this.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I just had my first baby two months ago. My waist is three inches larger than it was before. Will I ever have the same figure again?"

A. Certainly you will if you are willing to work for it. If you are overweight, lose the extra pounds. Your abdominal muscles are stretched and you will have to snap them back with exercise.

If you or any of my other readers would like to have my abdominal exercises send a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "What can I do about large veins in my hands? I have always had them and they have always embarrassed me. Now I am going with a man I am interested in and hope to marry and want to get rid of these."

A. These are an inherited characteristic. I do not know what you can do about them. If you are underweight, a gain might help. If the man you want to marry loves you he will not care about the large veins. He may not even notice them.

Q. "I have a mole on my face, at least I guess it is a mole. It is getting larger now so that it looks awful. Someone told me that vinegar will remove it. Is this true?"

A. No. You should not try to treat this yourself but should see a dermatologist.

Q. "I bite my nails all of the time and can't stop because I do it without realizing it. What can I do?"

A. Ask your doctor to prescribe some medicine which is harmless but which has a very bad taste. Put this under your nails.

Chop Pickles Add Juice to Gelatin

Mrs. Terwilligar's Recipe Makes Good Tart Molded Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When next you see that tall slim bottle of watermelon pickles on the grocer's shelf, buy it and make this delicious salad. So far as we know, these pickles don't come in assorted size jars, but we think you'll end up with about a cup of the chopped pickle.

Mrs. J. R. Terwilligar of Milford is today's cook. Most people know her better as Anna. Because she works full time she has little chance to indulge in hobbies. She and her husband belong to the Milford Eastern Star.

SEPTEMBER SALAD
By Mrs. J. R. Terwilligar

1 package apple gelatin
½ cup diced celery
¼ teaspoon salt
1 bottle watermelon pickles, drained and chopped
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
¼ cup chopped green pepper

Use drained pickle juice as part of the liquid in which you dissolve the gelatin. Add water to make the necessary two cups. When gelatin has thickened slightly, fold in the other ingredients. Chill in a mold until set. Serves six.

Only Originality Divides $39.95 and $3,995 Dress

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Designer Don Loper made an admission yesterday that could well upset the economy of the fashion world, but it's the kind of news husbands like to hear.

★ ★ ★

"I'm the only designer in the business who shows a dress for $39.95 along with one that sells for $3,995," he declared at the showing of his new fall collection.

"And I must honestly admit that the $39.95 dress is just as good a buy as the expensive one. The same thought, same workmanship, often the same materials, go into the cheaper one."

ONE DIFFERENCE

There is only one difference, according to Loper, and that is he makes a thousand of the $39.95 models but only one of the expensive design.

★ ★ ★

Loper, designer for many of the movies' biggest names, makes another point for husbands.

"Any dress, whether it costs $39.95 or $5,000, should last a woman five years at the minimum."

★ ★ ★

Unlike Paris designers, Loper never changes the hemlines of his creations.

"The shape of women's legs never changes style . . . The most flattering part of the leg is midcalf, and that's where my dresses stay."

OPEN WARFARE

The American designer declared open warfare with the new French chemise look, a throwback to the styles of the roaring Twenties.

★ ★ ★

"The whole French line looks like a burlesque of the Twenties—and how can you burlesque an era that was a burlesque in itself? One Dior evening creation looks like something Bea Lillie might wear for a sketch in the second act of a jazz age revue."

Loper's new collection shows no tampering with the natural silhouette.

★ ★ ★

"I, unlike Dior and the rest of Paris, abide by the biological fact that a woman's bosoms are in front and her waistline in the middle," he said.

★ ★ ★

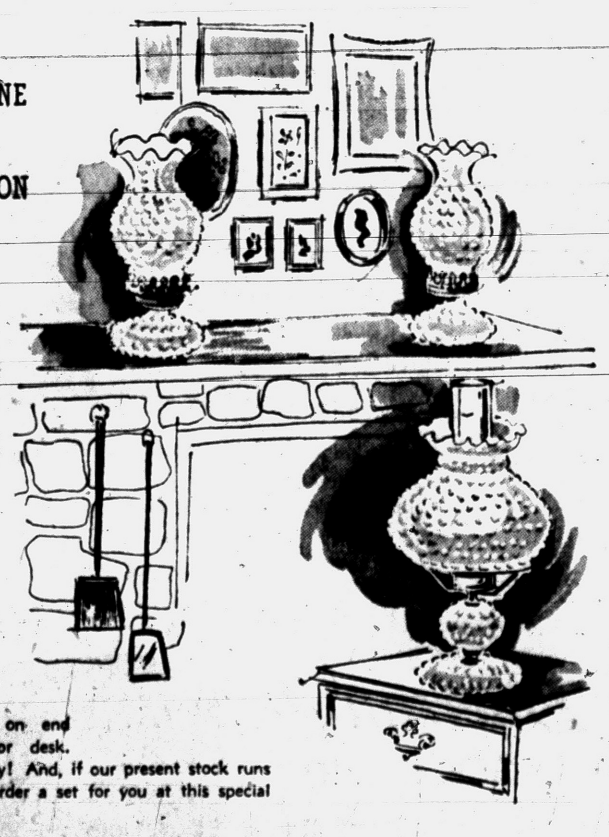

"My clothes curve where my customers curve."

Further 'Incidental Operational Changes' Still Possible at Hospital

Pontiac General Study Brings Efficiency

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

From last year's management study of Pontiac General Hospital has blossomed a more efficiently run hospital, a member of the Board of Trustees said yesterday.

But before the numerous recommendations of the 139-page report are exhausted, there might be further "incidental operational changes" at Pontiac General, declared Harold B. Euler.

★ ★ ★

"To date, we have tackled the major recommendations aimed at bringing about a more efficiently run hospital, which I think we have achieved," Euler explained.

It was Euler, who back in November of 1955, rekindled an old fire of the board by calling for an outside firm to examine the operation of the city hospital.

This was completed in May of last year by James A. Hamilton Associates, hospital consultants from Minneapolis.

THOROUGH EXPLORATION

Handed the trustees was a $5,707 package which thoroughly explored the organization, management and operation of the institution during a four-month appraisal.

For several months following presentation of the survey, trustees were stymied in acting on recommendations. Through a network of committees and many late-hour special meetings, tangible results soon appeared.

Most noteworthy of the changes, according to Euler, was the resignation of Miss Lauretta Paul, former director, and the hiring of five top hospital officials.

Euler stressed that with the hiring of Comptroller Louis Swatzburg — first of the five new appointees — financial handling at the hospital was strengthened considerably.

As proposed by the study, these other positions were filled: Assistant Director, Warren W. Simonds; Purchasing Agent, Robert J. Montgomery; Business Office Manager, James H. Corbett; and Personnel and Public Relations Director, Donald H. Carros.

★ ★ ★

Miss Paul handed in her resignation one month shy of the end of the trial period the survey suggested she be granted "to carry out recommendations for strengthening executive management and internal operation." Carl I. Flath was appointed to fill the vacancy.

This year for the first time auditors reported directly to the board their findings during the annual audit. This was a suggestion of the analysis, Euler mentioned.

Another result of the study was increasing membership of the board from seven to eleven. This was done last December.

COMPLIED WITH ADVICE

Among the four new members were an attorney, banker, industrial statistician, and minister. This complied with a study recommendation that "diversified interests" be represented on the board.

Euler did not say the hospital has derived all it could from the report. He admitted certain other changes might be adopted which would strengthen hospital management.

The report summarized this management as leaving "room for significant improvement."

★ ★ ★

Euler said more operational changes might occur when Flath takes over the directorship Sept. 15.

One such change might be drafting new contracts between the hospital and the laboratory, X-ray and anesthesiology departments. The survey criticized the anesthesiologist's income.

The study showed Pontiac General overstaffed by as much as five per cent. With the dropping of 17 positions from the 1957 approved budget of 613, the staff is trimmed to 570. Acting Director Simonds said.

OPERATIONAL DEFICIENCIES

He remarked that the study pointed out that many operational deficiencies have resulted from "extreme overcrowding" caused by the building program.

The consultants suggested labor turnover of 33 per cent be cut. At the end of July it was 22 per cent, Simonds said.

There are plans for psychiatric treatment rooms in the new four million dollar wing, he added. The survey called for a psychiatric clinic.

★ ★ ★

Per day patient costs at Pontiac General have shot higher than the $31.91 the hospital specialists recommended.

Simonds said the present $37 rate is higher due to an increase in salaries and the opening of the hospital annex at the former Contagious Hospital.

However, he noted that operating expenses have dropped $40,000 since January 1957. This is 6.2 per cent below the 1957 budget.

Euler said the board did not go along with the survey proposal that a limit be put on how long a member may serve.

"This is one of the few major recommendations the board didn't concur with," the trustee commented.

The president of the Woman's Auxiliary sits in on all board sessions as an ex-officio member. The study suggested this.

"All in all," Euler concluded, "I would say that the survey has been a very valuable asset to the hospital."

Vital Statistics Bureau Is Interesting Unless a Crash Makes YOU a Statistic

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Soon the punch card machines will be clicking away here taking the final and official count of the worst holiday death toll in the nation's highway history.

Pink, green, brown and white transcripts and microfilm of death certificates will start coming in from all 48 states to the National Office of Vital Statistics.

This is the federal burial ground where the victims of automobile accidents over the Christmas and New Year weekends will be statistically laid to rest for the last time.

This is where Uncle Sam keeps records on you from the day you're born until the day you die. How soon you are filed away as a statistic for final safe keeping depends a great deal on how many more holiday weekends you can drive through alive.

The office of Vital Statistics does not make an hour-by-hour or day-by-day tabulation of accidents as the National Safety Council does.

In fact, the federal count takes about a year from the time of death until the official record of a fatality arrives here, goes through the works and becomes a printed statistic.

LET'S FOLLOW JOE SMITH

Here's how the process works:

Take the case of Joe Smith who died in an auto accident New Year's Eve.

First, a coroner must certify that his death was accidental. Then a local registrar nearest the accident fills out a certificate of death and sends it to the state health department.

Then within one month, six months or a year the state sends a copy of the certificate to the Office of Vital Statistics in Washington.

Here all the information on the certificate is put into code form and transferred to a card with a punch machine.

Most states send the certificates on a roll of microfilm. Others are transcribed by hand on colored forms.

This little card full of holes tells a great deal about Joe Smith. It gives his age bracket, his race, his marital status, where he lived and where he died, the time of death and the cause of death.

Then Joe Smith's card and others are fed into various modern sorting and selecting machines which total up all the vital information.

For example, there are over 1,000 different causes of death that can be listed, from being hit by a falling object to having a heart attack.

Within the category of motor vehicle accidents alone there are 45 separate causes of death.

WHAT CAUSED JOE'S CRASH?

If by chance Joe Smith was killed when his car hit an animal or animal-drawn vehicle, this type accident would be listed in a special column. In fact, that's how 58 persons died in 1955.

Other fatal accidents include hitting a street car, running off the road, striking a pedestrian and smashing into another car, to mention a few.

The huge job of handling all this data falls to 180 employes of the statistical processing section of the Office of Vital Statistics.

Once a month they also issue an accident fatality report which is based on a 10 per cent sampling of death certificates sent in by the states.

"The information we publish is used by safety and traffic officials, enforcement agencies, libraries and the states," says Dewey Shurtleff of the Mortality Analysis Section.

What does the government do with Joe Smith's death certificate copy and all the others?

"We'll keep them in our files for about three years," Shurtleff explains. "Then if the states don't want them back, we'll destroy them. But the statistics live on forever."

Convict Accused of Peddling Dope

DETROIT (AP) — Sam Norber, a 46-year-old convict, was bound over to Marquette County Circuit Court yesterday for trial on charges of pushing dope in the Marquette branch of Michigan State Prison.

Norber, serving 20 to 30 years for driving the getaway car in a 1950 holdup in Detroit, was accused of heading a ring that smuggled dope into the prison for inmates.

Marquette County Prosecutor George E. Hill said Norber had three prisoners, two guards and a civilian maintenance foreman on his payroll.

The two guards and the maintenance foreman, fired after an investigation pointed to them, pleaded guilty.

Examination of Norber on two counts of narcotics violation was held in Municipal Court yesterday. Maximum sentence on each count is five years.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

High Schools this year will be competing in athletics under the classification shakeup made by the Representative Council of the Michigan High School athletic Association at its May gathering.

★ ★ ★

At that meeting the Council left the class A minimum enrollment figure at 900 students, but revised the minimums for class B and class C.

This means class B status is for schools with 400 to 899 students instead of 375 to 899, and in class C from 200 to 399 students instead of 175 to 374.

The important stipulation made at that time ruled that every school must total its students in grades 9 through 12 even if it does not have 9th grade students.

Schools which start with the 10th grade will then add one-third of the three grade enrollment to determine its classification.

★ ★ ★

Actually we can't see where much has been accomplished by these changes. It is evident that the Council merely attempted to alleviate the wide spread in the heavy B class, but has done nothing to bring about some equity in schools with big enrollments.

IS IT EQUITABLE?

Charles Forsythe, in commenting on the need for reclassification at that time of meeting, said, "it is commonly accepted that once a school goes above 800 or 900, competition on the athletic field becomes more equitable."

He used Muskegon Heights as an example because of the success in basketball just over the past few years. This could hardly be used as a criterion for classification. "Muskegon Heights is just a big B school, beating many A schools," Forsythe said.

It's not strange that a B school can beat an A school in any sport, but it won't be a common practice.

★ ★ ★

Just for instance, if Holly with 400 students were to play Ferndale with 1900 students, a difference of 1,500, in football or basketball, everyone would say this was ridiculous.

Yet a difference of 1500 between two class A schools is accepted by the MHSAA. This happens when Waterford with 1200 meets Flint Central with 2800 in the cage tourney. Both are class A yet look at the spread. Is it equitable?

NO NEW CLASSIFICATION

"We would never add a 5th classification," said Forsythe when asked if class AA may result. Actually there are five classes in Michigan, even if the upper Peninsula doesn't have A schools it does have an E classification and it is part of Michigan.

There are 20 schools in the state outside of Detroit which have more than 1500 students in three grades only. They could be the core of an AA league.

If four grades are used as a basis there could be 30 teams in an AA setup. This would lessen the spread and the inequity existing now in class A and B both.

★ ★ ★

Some of the Michigan sportswriters came up with a unique idea. How about Eastern Big 10 and the Western Big 10 of Michigan prep schools?

Two No-Hitters on Same Day by Conn. Woman

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)—Bertha Ragan, one of softball's great pitchers for 15 years, hurled the 124th and 125th no-hit games of her career yesterday in the Women's World Softball Tournament.

She led her Stratford, Conn., team to a 3-0 victory over Indianapolis in the afternoon, then came back to eliminate Houston, Tex., 1-0 in a night game, both in the losers bracket of the double elimination tournament.

Mrs. Ragan fanned 15 Houston batters and also accounted for the Stratford run. She doubled in the fifth inning and scored on a Houston two-base error. Her hit was the only one off Houston pitcher Caroline Magee.

Braves Recall '56 When Pitching Failed

Collapse Could Sink Milwaukee in Pennant Bid

Pitchers Have Managed Only 6 Complete Games in Last 22

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Can another pitching collapse again detour Milwaukee's steamroller off Pennant Drive into Nightmare Alley?

Remember 1956? The Braves took the lead in July behind righthanders Lew Burdette and Bob Buhl and southpaw Warren Spahn. They were the Big Three who were supposed to pitch 'em to a pennant.

★ ★ ★

But after Labor Day, when Milwaukee ran its winning streak to six for a 3½-game lead, Buhl won only two games and Burdette one. The pair pitched only one complete game between them, with Buhl kayoed six straight and Burdette stopped short five times in a row. Spahn alone nailed four complete games, but it wasn't enough.

The Braves lost 12 of 23 and Brooklyn took the flag by a game. So what? So the St. Louis Cardinals put the rap on Milwaukee 10-1 last night, sweeping a two-game set and trimming the Braves' lead to 6½ games—with Burdette failing to go the distance for the fourth consecutive time.

It was the first time the Braves had dropped two in a row since the second-place Cards swept an August 18 doubleheader in Milwaukee (which also sliced the Braves' lead to 6½).

★ ★ ★

But, with Buhl sidelined at least until this weekend with a sore shoulder, and Gene Conley an added starter this year, stopped short and winless in six straight starts, the Braves' staff has managed only six complete games in the last 22. Spahn again has been the big guy, claiming four of the six.

While St. Louis brought the fight to the Braves, third-place Brooklyn stayed alive with a 3-1 victory at Philadelphia. The Dodgers trail by eight.

★ ★ ★

In the other NL games, Brooklyn handed Robin Roberts his 19th defeat—the most he ever has lost—with a 3-1 victory at Philadelphia; and the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the New York Giants again, 4-2.

The Cardinals, faced with an almost impossible task in pursuit of the Braves with only 21 games remaining, breezed in behind the four-hit pitching of Sam Jones, who had been 0-2 vs. Milwaukee The big righthander fanned six and walked only one while winning his 11th. Milwaukee's run was unearned.

Joy Fair Wins Feature, Sets New Track Record

Pontiac's Joy Fair won his 8th feature race of the year Thursday night at Motor City Speedway and set a new track record in the process.

Fair drove the 30-lap main event for modified hardtops in the time of 6:53.68 to knock :8.66 off the old track mark.

Bill Kourt, Nelson Ward and Chuck Partello followed Fair across the finish line, in that order.

Host Cleveland Tonight

Tigers Open Drive for 3rd

DETROIT (AP)—Dangerously close to sixth place but still a bit hopeful of climbing as high as third, the Detroit Tigers open a three-game series tonight against the Cleveland Indians.

★ ★ ★

Manager Jack Tighe, hopeful that a two-day layoff will do his club some good as it goes into the final drive of the campaign, nominated righthander Jim Bunning to pitch the opener.

★ ★ ★

Bunning, who won only five games a year ago while dividing his time between Detroit and the Charleston farm club, is the Tigers' most successful pitcher with a 16-7 record.

He will be opposed by Early Wynn.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers have been idle since Tuesday when they defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-2 on Al Kaline's 11th inning home run. In the last month, Kaline has been the club's most productive hitter with 14 home runs to his credit.

Charlie Maxwell has started to hit well again after a side injury hampered his swing for several weeks.

The Tigers will meet the Indians in single games Saturday and Sunday and then take to the road for three weeks.

They will return to Briggs Stadium Friday night, Sept. 27, to wind up the season with a three-game series against the Kansas City Athletics.

Monthly Turkey Shoot Sunday at Orion Club

Another of the popular Sunday (monthly) all-day turkey shoots held by Lake Orion Gun club has been set for this weekend. Shoot begins at 11 a.m., runs to late afternoon. Range is at Newman and Stanton roads. Take M24 to north end of Lake Orion, turn left on Indianwood road and follow the signs.

★ ★ ★

There are events for men, women and juniors (under 16) with shotguns and rifles. Turkeys are the top prizes. Any shooter is welcome, shoot officials say.

Seixas Meets Flam in Semifinals

Only 2 U.S. Netters Remain

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (INS)—Vic Seixas, the gritty young-old-man of tennis, and Herb Flam, the bespectacled TV quiz whiz, battle each other today for the right to become the only American in the men's semi-finals of the national championships.

★ ★ ★

Fourth-seeded Seixas, cast in a familiar role as Uncle Sam's chief threat to cop the coveted singles title, and eighth-seeded Flam have a quarter-final date which will Duke the U. S. out of another tournament delegate.

In another round, Australia's unseeded Malcolm Anderson plays Chile's unseeded Luis Ayala in a test of two talented dark horses.

Today's to-do on the neatly manicured lawns of the West Side Tennis Club's Stadium will supply semi-final opponents for Australia's top-ranked Ashley Cooper and Sweden's third-seeded Sven Davidson, who reached that high altitude yesterday.

Cooper, the handsome 20-year-old Australian champion, gave the U. S. Davis Cup selection committee fits when he crushed Budge Patty, the Californian who shifted his franchise to Paris, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

Davidson, the sport's tireless marathon specialist, captured his third overtime match of the tourney when he burst the cinderella bubble of Army Lt. Clifton Mayne of Fort Monmouth, N. J., 3-6, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4. Mayne had upset Australia's fifth-seeded Neale Fraser in the third round.

The Seixas - Flam winner goes against Cooper on Saturday while the Anderson-Ayala victor gets a crack at Davidson.

As usual, America's position was far more encouraging in the women's bracket.

Althea Gibson, the lithe Harlem swinger and heavy favorite to win the gals' top prize, faced eighth-seeded Mary Hawton of Australia in one quarter-final match today while Darlene Hard (5), chunky blonde from Montebello, Calif., who was runner-up to Miss Gibson at Wimbledon, met fourth - seeded Shirley Bloomer of Great Britain in the other.

The winners will join second-seeded Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and third-seeded Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Forest Hills in Saturday's semis.

CHANGES CALL — Yankee catcher, Yogi Berra, slides under the glove of Billy Klaus, Red Sox shortstop, on an attempted steal of second base but is tagged out after first being called safe. Yogi grabbed the bag but couldn't hold on as Klaus kept the ball on him. Yanks won, 5-2.

Sparrow in Knicks' Fold

Guy Sparrow, former Pontiac High School and University of Detroit basketball star who has just returned from the army, was signed today by the New York Knickerbockers.

The 6-foot-6 forward was drafted by the National Basketball Association team in 1955 after three years at the U. of D. where he set 18 cage records and finished with a scoring average of 18.5 for his career.

He also finished as the 5th best rebounder in the country during the 1954-55 season.

★ ★ ★

During his stay in the service, Sparrow led the U. S. team to victory in the International All-Services tournament with wins over France, Turkey and Iran. The tourney played in Istanbul featured all-star cage teams from the armed forces of many countries.

He averaged 30 points a game in the tournament.

The Knickerbockers will be part of the feature doubleheader which will open the Pistons' debut in Detroit October 23rd at the Olympia. The Pistons will meet Boston and New York will face St. Louis in the twinbill.

There is a possibility that the Pistons may try to swing a deal to obtain Sparrow. The Knicks have made it known they are interested in one of the Pistons' centers.

Zatkoff Reports to Lions' Camp

New Linebacker May See Action in Buffalo Tilt

Detroit Aims for Fourth Pre-Season Win Against Parker's Steelers

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When coach Buddy Parker was with the Lions he made a bid in vain to bring Roger Zatkoff to Detroit. Parker wanted another linebacker. He also wanted security in event Joe Schmidt were to get hurt.

The Lions finally did get Zatkoff but the former Mihigan grid star will be on opposite sides of the field with Parker Sunday when Detroit goes after its 4th pre-season victory of the season against the Steelers in Buffalo.

The Steelers made Parker's debut last week against the Philadelphia Eagles a success by coming through with a 17-14 victory behind the passing of former University of Detroit quarterback Teddy Marchibroda.

Marchibroda was supposed to sit back and let rookie Len Dawson make his first start for the Steelers, but the little quarterback took over from the start when Dawson came up with an injured thumb.

★ ★ ★

Marchibroda, who set a national collegiate passing record for yardage in 1952 while at U. of D. when he completed 27 of 54 passes for 390 yards in one game, can hit his receivers well. His big problem however has been his height. At 5-10 he often has trouble seeing over the huge forward walls in the pro ranks.

A couple other ex-gridders from the state will be in the lineup for the Steelers. Lynn Chandnois former All-America from Michigan State and end Perry Richards, whose sensational sophomore days at the U. of D. were marred with injuries in his last two years.

He played in only two games in his senior year while with the Titans because of a knee injury.

★ ★ ★

The starting assignment at quarterback for the Lions will go to Tobin Rote. Coach George Wilson said he will follow through with the alternating plan of the quarterbacks right down to the last game of the season, if injury does not force a change.

With John Henry Johnson back in the fullback slot, Gene Gedman will move back to halfback. "We will not use Gedman at fullback again, he's a halfback and that's where he will stay," said Wilson.

Zatkoff was due to report to Cranbrook today and will travel with the squad to Buffalo. He missed early drills with the Browns after a holdout, but he is expected to see some action Sunday.

This will be the only meeting between Parker and Wilson this year. There is no regular season game scheduled between the two teams this year.

A crowd of 25,000 is expected Sunday.

Steelers Pick Up Ex-Lion Bowman

Thomason Back at QB With Eagles

Quarterback Bobby Thomason decided to come out of retirement and return to his signal calling chores with the Philadelphia Eagles.

★ ★ ★

The Eagles who have lost their first four National Football League pre-season games, announced that Thomason has been signed as a player-coach at a substantial pay hike.

The team had been hampered trying to get by with rookie field general Sonny Jurgensen because they were unable to negotiate any deals with other clubs for an experienced quarterback.

Thomason, a seven-year veteran of the league, retired after last season. He had quarterbacked the Eagles since 1952, completing 82 of 164 passes last year for a 6.8 yard completion average.

In other training camps, the Cleveland Browns, still looking for help at quarterback, obtained Jim Haluska from the Chicago Bears. The Browns will give up a draft choice.

★ ★ ★

Haluska, a 23-year-old, 195 pounder was a rookie with the Bears last season. Chicago now has three quarterbacks including Zeke Bratkowski who has just returned from the service, George Blanda, and Eddie Brown.

Coach Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers picked up one of his former proteges when he signed Bill Bowman, ex-Lion who was recently released by the 49ers.

The Steelers also picked up Ted Wegert of the Philadelphia Eagles and Dick Young of the Baltimore Colts.

★ ★ ★

Wegert came on waivers and Young was obtained for a draft choice.

The Baltimore Colts also announced they had purchased Buddy Cruze from the Chicago Bears to bolster their weak offensive end corps.

In NFL action this weekend: Los Angeles is host to Cleveland tonight in LA. Saturday afternoon San Francisco meets the Cardinals in Seattle and Saturday night the New York Giants meet Green Bay in Boston.

Sunday the Bears tangle with the Eagles in Kansas City, Detroit meets Pittsburgh in Buffalo and in a TV game Washington visits Baltimore.

Grim Blasts 3-Run Homer to Scuttle Red Sox, 5-2

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Bob Grim has stated all along that this is his lucky year and the ace New York Yankee reliever isn't going to take his words back now.

Not after hitting a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning to give his team a 5-to-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Grim's blow off Willard Nixon yesterday was only his second big league homer in four years and it convinced him that the breaks were going his way again.

The New York-born righthander, who tends bar in the off-season, has freely admitted he hasn't been at his best this year even though he won consistently. Over the Labor Day weekend, he lost two games and Bob said that was the breaks evening up.

★ ★ ★

Now dame fortune is smiling on him again.

After he hit the 350-foot wallop into the right field seats, the 6-foot-1, 175-pounder smiled and said, "even in batting practice, I never could hit a ball to right field."

Mickey Mantle and Ted Williams were both out of the starting lineups once agan.

Chuck Stobbs pitched a three-hiter and Roy Sievers homered to lift Washington to a 3-to-0 win over Baltimore.

Sievers' homer was his 35th and it gave him the league leadership over Mickey Mantle. The three hits allowed by Stobbs were all singles and by outpitching Ray Moore the Southpaw registered his eighth win against 18 defeats.

HONORED POSTHUMOUSLY — An 18-hole best-ball golf tournament in memory of Henry Janczarek (above) is scheduled Saturday at Pontiac Municipal golf course. "Brodie," an outstanding golfer here for many years, died of a heart attack last spring at the age of 44. More than 20 two-men teams are expected to play in the Memorial tourney.

Parochials Ready to Bump Heads

1st Scrimmages Near

By BILL CORNWELL

The rought stuff has yet to begin in the local parochial football camps, but it's not very far away.

St. Michael, St. Frederick and Orchard Lake St. Mary, the Pontiac area's Catholic high school strongholds, are still stressing the fundamentals in their 1st week of practice.

Blocking, tackling, pass patterns, signal drills, offense, defense and all of the many other ingredients that make up the gridiron sport are getting the emphasis in early workouts.

But scrimmages are on the way for all three teams, with St. Mike making the 1st move.

Head coach Bob Mineweaser has his opening scrimmage session for the Shamrocks scheduled today. St. Fred starts bumping heads on Sunday and Orchard Lake follows suit next Monday.

Mineweaser is hopeful of a winning season despite the fact that a pre-season injury to Mike Flynn upset his plans right from the start.

Flynn was slated to take over the quarterback post this fall, enabling young Bob Mineweaser to switch to halfback. A head injury to Flynn about three weeks ago has sent Mineweaser back to his signal-calling slot.

Leo VandenBusche, a transfer student from Mt. Clemens St. Mary, should help the Mikes at end, but the northsiders were dealt a rude blow when husky linemen Bill, Joe and Gary Fitzgerald moved to Marion, Ind.

Over on the south side of town, Gene Wright is expecting his St. Fred gridders to win a few games this season, although he feels they are still a year or two away.

The Rams have some capable linemen like Marty Koenig, Frank Palopoli and Frank Zwicker back in the fold and a couple of good backs in Tom Derocher and Jack Lyon, but depth will be a problem.

An experienced forward wall and a "green" backfield is the situation facing Father John Rakoczy at St. Mary.

The Eaglets' biggest loss was end Pete Madelans, who is still in school but cannot play due to his age. Terry Raymond is the lone returning backfield man, but six letter-winning linemen boost Eaglet chances.

St. Mary will be shooting for its 3rd straight Suburban Catholic League title. St. Mike, St. Fred and the Eaglets begin their 1957 season on Sunday, Sept. 22.

34th Grid Team in County

Lamphere High Fields Its 1st Football Squad

Madison Heights Lamphere, a young high school with growing pains, will field its 1st football team this fall under head coach Joe Borovick. Lamphere thus becomes the 34th Oakland County school to take up the gridiron sport.

★ ★ ★

Borovick, former golf coach at Birmingham High, has scheduled six games for his enthusiastic charges, starting with Detroit Country Day on Sept. 20.

Located just off 12-Mile road between John R. and Dequindre, Lamphere begins its 2nd year as a secondary school on Sept. 16. The 1st senior class will not arrive until 1958.

Lamphere had its 1st basketball team last season and took plenty of lumps. The school's 1st football squad is probably due for more of the same, but Borovick cheerfully sees better days ahead.

There is presently no playing field at Lamphere and Joe's gridders have been working out in a vacant lot near the school. A new gridiron is expected to be ready for use by next year.

Without benefit of a field, Lamphere will play all but one of its six games away from home. The lone exception is an Oct. 4 "Dad's Day" contest with Capac at Royal Oak's Memorial Park.

Lamphere's athletic classification depends largely upon Borovick. If he can form a squad from sophomores and juniors, Lamphere will be the only Class D school in Oakland County. The use of freshmen would boost it into the 'C' ranks.

Borovick's youngsters held practice scrimmages with neighboring teams last year, but had no organized competition. Backs Kenny Bolt, Jerry Sylvain and Bob Bogues and tackles Roland Fernette and Ed Tessier are standout returning players.

Ed Jadwin, ex-Walled Lake coach, and Alex Kish, former Clawson assistant, will be aides to Borovick this season.

Injuries Plague Big Ten Grid Camps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Grid drills continued at full strength around the Big Ten grid camps desipte numerous injuries which kept players on the sidelines at the various sites.

MICHIGAN—The Wolverines had just completed its second scrimmage in two days yesterday, and a smile of satisfaction crept across Bennie Oosterbaan's face.

★ ★ ★

"They're improved over Wednesday," said the coach. "They showed more poise and the blocking was crisp.

"The timing and ball handling also were better. You see, there weren't as many fumbles."

The Wolverines continued to work on offense yesterday. The players who figure to play once the season begins have yet to make their first tackle.

★ ★ ★

Again yesterday, the regulars rolled to lots of touchdowns, mostly via the air lanes. Passing has been stressed in Michigan's two scrimmages.

Six of the scores yesterday resulted from aerials. Left end Chuck Teuscher, who has replaced the injured Gary Prahst, scored three times.

Prahst didn't scrimmage, but worked out on his injured knee. Fullback John Herrnstein missed the morning workout, but dressed in the afternoon. His ailing knee kept him from doing little more than a bit of jogging. Neither injury is considered serious.

★ ★ ★

Reserve left halfback Jack Lousma was the first Wolverine injured directly from contact work. His elbow was dislocated in yesterday's scrimmage.

★ ★ ★

MICHIGAN STATE—The apprentice system of training football quarterbacks appears to be paying off again this fall for the Spartans.

Under the Spartan system, you don't see any starting sophomore signal-callers, no matter how flashy they look in pratcice.

Instead they learn the basic stuff as freshmen, get on-the-job training as sophomores and juniors, and are groomed to take over as starters in their senior year.

★ ★ ★

"Our system, with its multiple offence, is too complicated for us to go along with any sophomore," said backfield coach Sonny Grandelius. "They have a lot to learn before they can take over."

Jim Ninowski, 21, 6-1, 190, a senior from Detroit, learned his stuff the hard way in the Spartan tradition.

"We have every confidence in Ninowski," said coach Duffy Daugherty. "He's a fine passer and runs the team with authority."

★ ★ ★

In a swing around the Big Ten camps:

PURDUE—Both veteran junior tackles are on the sidelines—Nick Mumley with a bruised shoulder, and Wayne Farmer who is recovering from a back operation this summer. Farmer is expected to report for the first time Monday.

INDIANA — Sophomore tailback Vic Jones and junior fullback Chuck Kelley were singled out for praise after the Hoosiers' first full-scale scrimmage.

WISCONSIN — Sydney Williams, starting quarterback last year, was tabbed as much improved by Coach Milt Bruhn. "He's been thinking football all summer and is deadly in earnest to do a good job," said Bruhn.

ILLINOIS — Various ailments kept four players from taking part in the Illini's first scrimmage. Sidelined were end Dave Rewerts, center Ken Sutter, No. 2 center Bob Henderson and tackle Don Yeazel. Fullback Jack Delveaux suffered a dislocated thumb in the workout.

NORTHWESTERN — Quarterback Chip Holcomb, son of the Wildcats' athletic director, worked in the No. 1 position in an initial scrimmage. He hit backs Wilmer Fowler and Bob McKiever with long passes as the first team scored two touchdowns.

OHIO STATE — Don Fronk is the fourth center to be sidelined with injuries. Ed Breehl has taken over the job until one of the four recovers.

IOWA — Fullback John Nocera, a Youngstown, Ohio, junior, burst through for long gains in a scrimmage. Quarterback Randy Duncan and halfbacks Bill Gravel and Mike Hagler rounded out the No. 1 backfield.

NOTRE DAME — Halfback Jim Just, who scored three touchdowns in Notre Dame's spring game, reported for action after a bout with the Asian flu.

MARQUETTE — An hour-long scrimmage was held with at least six players out of 54 on the training roster absent with minor ailments.

For Frisco Games

Giants Agree to Pay-TV

NEW YORK (INS) — Horace Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, has announced that the club has agreed to a system of pay-television for games in its new San Francisco home.

Stoneham said yesterday he and the team's board of directors have approved a pay-television contract with the Skiatron Corporation.

The Giants' boss, who revealed in congressional testimony last July that he owned 1,000 shares of Skiatron common stock, would not give any terms of the deal.

Stoneham's statement came on the heels of an exclusive story by Max Kase, sports editor of the New York Journal American.

Kase said the teelvision signing would be announced soon with the Giants receiving $1,000,000 on signing and getting a second million in December.

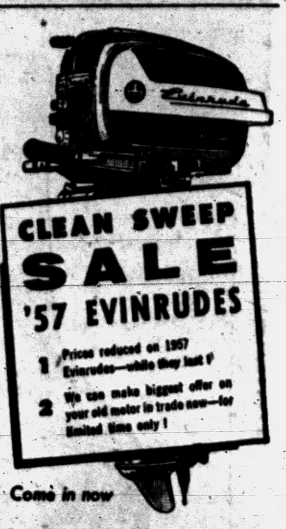

Kase also reported the Giants would make an additional $350,000 on the sale of radio rights for the games.

Two Teams Divide Indianwood Medal

The teams of Gib Mason-George Lakotish and Bill Kargetta-Dr. Roy Smith each shot a four-under-par 68 Thursday to share medalist honors in the 18-hole qualifiers of the 1st annual Indianwood Country Club Invitational golf tournament.

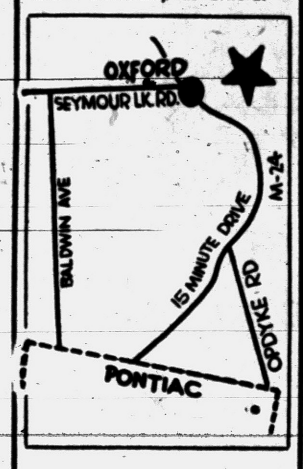

Perry Byard and Ralph Ellstrom, Pine Lake Invitational champions, fired 69 to tie the Frank Bachus-Ed Lauer team for 2nd place. Sixteen teams are entered in the championship flight.

The best-ball tourney now swings into match play. Eighteen-hole matches are scheduled today and Saturday, with the semifinals and finals on Sunday.

Birmingham, Barons, Cranes Hard at Work

By CHUCK ABAIR

Prep football coaches around Oakland County began the difficult task of forming actual playing units today in preparation for future scrimmages following four days of work on fundamentals and conditioning.

Plenty of contact work under game conditions is planned during the next 10 days or more with the season openers only two weeks away. Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Cranbrook of the southern part of the county are among those schools getting ready for stiff sessions.

Coach Carl Lemle plans to cut his 75-man Birmingham squad to "35 or 40" after a full-scale scrimmage set for Saturday morning. Work on plays, short scrimmages and calithenics have featured the opening workouts which started Labor Day.

"One big problem has been starting school and practice the same week," said Carl today. "It is rough on the boys trying to do both."

Depth and punting are two of weaknesses he hopes to have ironed out before the opener against Cranbrook. Jack Palmer, a veteran tackle, is the only Maple sidelined by an injury. He recently aggravated a back ailment suffered during the summer playing tennis.

Other lettermen Dave Ritchie, Bob Stephenson, Jim Sechrist and Chuck Gibson have been showing up well along with transfer back Ed Estes of East Lansing. Golf star Pete Green, a speedy halfback candidate, and sophomore Ron Ruddy head the promising newcomers.

Bloomfield Hills has 40 drilling for varsity berths with more expected out now that classes have started.

Coach Don Hoff plans to throw a multiple offense at his new Wayne-Oakland League opponents beginning with Clarenceville. "The boys seem to be picking up the style very well. It is hard to defense against," explained Hoff.

A rugged tackling session yesterday was the 1st real contact for the Hills' contingent. A full scrimmage may be held Saturday.

Vets Doug Danziger, Bob Elston, Jim Kearney and Chuck Mezey and newcomers Mark Wellman, a 190-pound freshman center, and transfer Bill Martin have been the bright lights of early workouts along with young guard aspirant Jack Kelchner. "We have a lot of work to do yet before we know what we'll have," said Hoff after Thursday's drill.

At Cranbrook, Fred Campbell has the big advantage of being able to stage two drills daily until late next week while others are limited to one. A scrimmage was held yesterday and another is planned Saturday.

The big noise of the Crane camp has been Stew Clark, a transfer from Champagne, Ill., where he was an all-state halfback. "He is quite a boy. He passes and runs well and I understand he punts," said Campbell today.

Shaw is one of four transfers on the squad. The others are Dick Ebeline of Rochester, Taylor Lonsdale of Kentucky and Ed Mearin, a freshman from Montclair, N. J. Shaw and Ebeline will not be eligible for the big Birmingham opener.

Six lettermen headed by Capt. Lloyd Asbury, a standout center and linebacker, give Fred the nucleus for a sound starting unit. He wants to win that opener badly. Everything after that would be an improvement over the 1-6-1 mark of 1956. Shaw and Ebeline will not be eligible against the Maples.

MAPLE TRANSFER — Birmingham High School coach Carl Lemle greeted transfer Ed Estes, 5-9, 160-pound halfback from East Lansing to the Maples' grid fold. Lemle is starting his 4th season at Birmingham. Estes is a senior this year.

Golf, With Racing Flavor

Derby Day Lists 176 Players

By H. GUY MOATS

Resounding tones of a race track announcer intoning the time-honored phrases, "they're coming to the starting gate" and, "now they're off and running" will be heard Sunday over a terrain most unlikely ever to feel the beat of a thoroughbred's hooves.

Annual Derby Day at Orchard Lake Country club is the reason for the highly colorful turf atmosphere. This "golf with a racing flavor" takes place Sunday, with a field of 44 teams, a total of some 176 golfers in teams of four.

Teams include a "jockey" member, a "filly" and two other men players. The jockey is the low-handicap player of the team and the filly is the one woman on each team. Tourney is one of the most unusual anywhere in Michigan.

All officials carry racing titles. A big, costumed Derby Ball is a preliminary, on Saturday night, Sept. 7 when prizes will go to the best-attired.

Last year's champions were "jockey" Jim Cole, "filly" Louise Adams, Guy Warren and Ken Dickinson. The team was named Mrs. Dawe and its winning best-ball total was 54 net. Each team has a "horsey" name.

Sunday's tourney is at 18 holes, with play on a four-ball, two best balls system. Play is based on handicap scores.

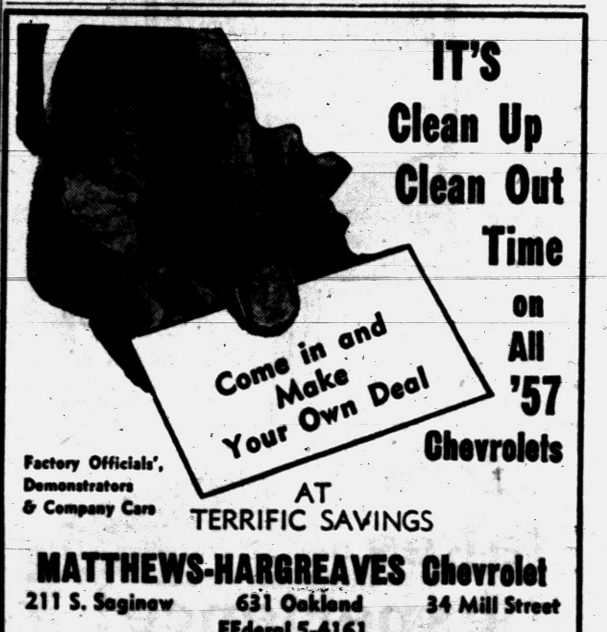

This year's field is the biggest ever for the tourney, says pro. Tommy Shannon, who is dubbed "trainer" for it. Many golf merchandise prizes will be awarded. "It's strictly amateur" Tommy pointed out. Awards go to the "win", "place", "show" teams, and to a 4th place winner.

Hillsdale Impressive in First Scrimmage

HILLSDALE (AP)—The first scrimmage of the season indicated the Hillsdale College Dales may have the touchdown punch needed to continue their string of victorious games.

Quarterback Don Mason passed for a touchdown on a long play and left halfback Don Eugenio went 45 yards on an end sweep for another score in the opening scrimmage yesterday.

September Is Month to Kill Lawn Weeds

Now is the time to spray lawns for weeds says B. H. Grigsby, specialist in botany and plant pathology at Michigan State University.

September and October applications of 2,4-D will rid lawns of wild carrot, dandelions and plantain. The mixture should contain two level tablespoons of 40 per cent 2,4-D to every gallon of water.

An application of residual herbicides will prevent emergence of winter annual weed seedlings if used as a directed spray under shrubs which have been growing more than two seasons.

Several commercial compounds will produce satisfactory results. Use as directed on the package label and avoid foliage contact, but make sure enough water is used to insure reasonable coverage of the soil.

Poison ivy can be destroyed if it is sprayed before the middle of September with amino triazole mixed with water at a rate of six level tablespoonfuls of 50 per cent strength to the gallon. The same mixture will kill Canada thistle and horse nettle if used between now and the first frost.

If the commercial preparation does not have the same per cent of active ingredient as the percentages mentioned above, increase or decrease the amount used so an equivalent amount of active ingredient is applied.

Save Other Plants but Kill Poison Ivy

All the nuisance and hazards of poison ivy on the property can be eliminated by new sprays that have been developed to kill the poison ivy plants.

The newer sprays are selective, that is, they kill the poison ivy without injuring most other plants.

Ever figure out how much poison ivy costs the average family in discomfort and pain, various lotions and doctor's bills?

Most of this cost could be wiped out at one blow by calling in the local tree expert and having him spray the poison ivy plants.

On many properties, the rear lot on the property can hardly be used in the summer because of fear of these noxious plants.

After they have been sprayed and eliminated the whole property is open for family pleasure.

Killing poison ivy per acre of property is not expensive for the amount of work involved.

An investment in a sound spraying program will more than pay its way, actually save money for the many people who are especially allergic to poison ivy.

Helpful Gardening Hints Aid Planning in Fall

There are several reasons why gardeners like to plant during the fall period. The weather is usually more favorable and less changeable than in the spring. The season lasts a long time and nursery stock is usually dug in the fall and is therefore fresh.

Fall is a must for tulips, daffodils, other spring flowering bulbs, and oriental poppies. Also showing a preference for fall planting are lilies, peonies, irises, canterbury bells and foxgloves.

Some things may be planted in the fall as well as the spring, and this holds true almost everywhere. These include nearly all evergreen, hardy perennials such as daylilies, bleeding heart and shasta daisies, and a number of hardy annuals planted from seed.

Watch Budget—Don't Plant Too Much

Plant Trees, Shrubs Now; Take It Easy — First Plan

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

This is the time of the year to think about planting trees and shrubs, because by now you ought to know pretty well what you want and need, based on experiences earlier in the season.

★ ★ ★

There is scarcely a home-owner in the country who is completely satisfied with his plantings, and most are eager to warn against a repetition of mistakes.

But the hardest person to convince about going slow is the new home-owner, confronted with a naked expanse of shadeless yard and eager to start filling it in with material.

That is where a nurseryman comes in handy. He can be of great help in making important, expensive decisions. But the taste and needs of the individual family must be his guide. If you really don't know what you want, the best course is to make temporary arrangements — quick growing, less clostly shrubs which can be replaced, vines and fences.

★ ★ ★

Some planting need not wait. If there is an area to be screened, for instance, the sooner the material is put into the ground the better.

Once the most important planting was a foundation planting which concealed the rather unpleasant base of the house. This is no longer unattractive, hence many home owners skip the foundation planting entirely or make it the final item in a long-term planting plan.

USE SPREAD-OUT PLAN

A spread-out plan, actually, is the best idea for most of us on a budget, with first things first — a corner planting, a hedge, a couple of larger (and more expensive) shade trees.

At the moment, planting of ornamental trees, and some evergreens is at the top of the new home-owner's gardening list.

Fall, with cooler weather and considerable rain, is the best time for most of these. The exception is the group of trees with soft roots — like magnolia and yellow poplar. For some trees and shrubs, fall is almost a strict rule: lilacs, for instance, do much better with fall planting, and so do most evergreens.

★ ★ ★

In planting, do think about the future. Shrubs and trees do grow, a fact easily stated but hard to envision. The do-it-yourself gardener is likely to crowd his plants so closely that none of them has room to expand easily. Even a professional can be trapped.

DON'T OVERPLANT

The specialist who set in my foundation planting years ago packed in the young trees and shrubs — yews, evergreen euonymus, laurel, holly and viburnum — so close that I've been moving plants out to the borders for several years. Even the dog wood, now grown almost as tall as the house, was set too close to the foundation and required frequent pruning. Overplanting, in addition to being poor gardening, is expensive.

In selecting new material, do consider something besides evergreens — satisfactory as they are. One of the great pleasures of a planting is the seasonal bloom, followed by fruit.

Our birds enjoy eating the fruit of the berry-bearing shrubs as much as we enjoy looking at it — and we in turn enjoy watching the birds.

Expert Recommends Wheat, Rye First

Good Gardener Uses Green Manure

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Asst. County Agricultural Agent

Garden management is really more than just harvesting the crop or planting the seed. Without fertility and organic matter, gardening isn't much fun.

A cheap and effective way to supply both of these essential components is with green manure. Either wheat or rye are highly recommended for this kind of job.

These grains are broadcast over the garden at the rate of three pounds per 1,000 square feet. In addition to being easy to grow, they quickly pick up leftover fertilizer and prevent it being washed away by winter rains an snow.

From Labor Day to September 20 is the ideal planting date. Even if tomatoes, broccoli, cauliflower and corn is yet to be harvested, go ahead with your wheat or rye. By the time the cover crop is nicely started you will be finished harvesting. There is no need to cover the wheat or rye if your soil is loose and moist.

A top dressing of ammonium nitrate at three pounds per 1,000 square feet is also quickly absorbed and converted into organic nitrogen. This top dressing must be applied in late March or early April for best results. When the wheat or rye is 12"-15" high, it should be plowed or spaded.

TRANSPLANTING SHRUBS

In Oakland County, shrubs can be successfully planted in the fall if carefully done. Fall planted shrubs stand less chance to survive than spring planting. Most shrubs should be pruned to remove about one third. Some nurseries sell their stock already pruned.

In the case of rhododendrons, azaleas and dwarf type shrubs the pruning will be very light. The new growth is all that should be trimmed from evergreens.

Paper is an aid when figuring out where shrubs should be planted. A good plan may avoid moving the shrub later. After marking where you want the plants, dig the holes large enough so that there will be at least four inches all the way around the roots of the plant. The hole should be deep enough so that the plant will be the same depth as it grew in the nursery row.

On balled stock, leave the burlap in place and fill in around the plant with good garden soil.

A water soluble fertilizer of 15-15-30 grade is commonly used for transplanting. Three tablespoonfuls to a gallon of water produces an excellent starter solution. A pint of the starter solution is enough for a small plant while a large shrub will require a quart. Add this starter fertilizer to the water used to settle the soil around the plant.

Be sure new shrubs get an inch of water every week, either by rain or irrigation. Before the ground freezes, increase the water application to build up a backlog of moisture in the soil for the winter.

TOPDRESS LAWNS

Topdressing established lawns is widely discussed and often attempted with very disappointing results. Where pure bent, grass turf is present, topdressing with a composted soil is beneficial. But in bluegrass and fescue lawns, many grass plants are usually killed. This thin layer of soil often covers new shoots just emerging from the soil and smothers them before they can get started.

Where washed out areas exist, filling is very useful to bring the lawn up to grade and prevent further erosion.

When a rough, bumpy lawn surface is present, rolling is a better practice to smooth these out. In the spring when the soil is soft and full of water, rolling usually does a fine job of leveling lumps and ridges.

FILL IN BARE SPOTS

Grass usually has a rough season during July and August because of draught, children and weeds.

Many small bare spots are usually present which can easily be filled by nearby grass plants, if they have the vitality. Fifteen pounds of 10-6—4 or 12-6—6 does an amazing job of revitalizing such plants.

KEEP SEEDINGS WATERED

Once a new lawn seeding has been done, the soil surface should never dry! While the seed are germinating the slightest drought will often stop the process and that plant dies. Even though this type of strategy seems to violate good principles of lawn management, only a light watering is necessary.

Once the new grass shoots are seen, then less frequent, heavier waterings will aid the development of deep roots and good winter hardiness.

Better to Use Elevator When Filling Up Silos

An elevator has some advantages over a blower for filling silos, reports Oakland County Agricultural Agent, Jay Poffenberger. So if one is in the market for silo filling equipment it would be wise to give it some thought.

According to B. F. Cargill, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University, the most important advantage of an elevator is that one can get by with one less tractor.

Normally, he says, one needs a 30 to 40 horse power tractor on the blower plus a tractor on the chopper and one of the wagons. With a well designed elevator, the farmer can replace the blower-tractor with a 2 to 3 horse electric motor and unload just as fast as with a blower.

The cost of the elevator will be about the same as a blower. But, Cargill says, it can be used for a number of other jobs around the farm such as elevating straw, hay, grain, bags, shell corn, and cob corn. An elevator will also eliminate the plugging problems which sometimes occurs with a blower, but it may be more troublesome on windy days, Cargill says.

For a 40 foot silo a 48 and 54 foot elevator is needed, depending on the width of the silo. Some short, heavy duty, elevators can be equipped with an extension for filling silo, he adds.

Time to Prepare Earth for Wheat; Needs Nitrogen

Nitrogen fertilizer on wheat is a great yield and profit booster if your fields are supplied with plenty of phosphorus and enough potassium says Oakland County Agent, Lyle B. Abel.

"But, he adds, you can supply all the nitrogen your crop needs if you plow down a stand of more than 50 per cent clover or alfalfa along with barnyard manure.

When you are plowing down the alfalfa or clover without manure, it will pay to add about 20 pounds of elemental nitrogen besides the nitrogen in the planting time fertilizer. If you have neither manure or a legume crop to plow down, use about 40 pounds of extra nitrogen, says Abel.

March or early April is the best time to apply this extra nitrogen if you are using dry or solution forms. But if you plan to use anhydrous ammonia, put it on in late summer or early fall before the wheat is planted.

★ ★ ★ ★

If you usually have trouble getting on your fields in late winter or early spring, apply the dry or solution nitrogen fertilizers in late October or November. It's better to get it on than take the chance of being held off until late spring or not getting it on at all.

Fertilizer applied with the drill at planting time usually carries 10 to 30 pounds of nitrogen along with the phosphorus and potash. This is enough for fall growth.

Larger amounts of nitrogen in the drill - applied fertilizer may injure the seed since the total nitrogen and potash should not be over 75 pounds per acre. Ammonium phosphates applied with the seed at excessive rates may also reduce the stand.

If you need larger amounts of fertilizer at planting time it is best to drill it in separately before planting. This planting time fertilizer and rate of application should be based on needs as shown by soil tests. "If you are planting winter barley, you can use these same recommendations for fertilizer, Abel adds.

GARDEN EDITOR'S LUNCH? — The head of the garden page of the Independence Examiner in Missouri must have had a thrill when this giant red radish was sent to the office recently. Photographed on a typewriter carriage for comparison purposes, the radish measured 14 inches in length and 10 inches around.

Rose growing is not only one of the least expensive of all hobbies, but offers release from wordly problems, and gives the gardener both healthful exercise and an increased appreciation of nature's beauty.

Excuse New Father for Absence in Court

DETROIT (INS) — It's a rare occasion when the judge accepts a defendant's excuse for not appearing in Traffic Court.

But Donzell Williams, 18, of Detroit, is the exception.

He explained to Referee Rollin D. Shull that he had been pacing back and forth in the "new fathers" waiting room at Herman Keifer Hospital, where is 17-year-old wife, Marlene, gave birth to a boy.

Shull asked if it was Williams' first one.

Williams said:

"Yes."

Shull commented:

"I guess that's a good enough excuse. I'll suspend sentence."

Little Rock Limelight

Mayor Known as Scrapper

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Little Rock Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann has built himself a reputation as a scrapper with little political finesse.

He is the first to admit this lack, though his definition of political finesse is: "fence straddling."

★ ★ ★

The mayor's bluntness was exemplified earlier this week when he declared that Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus has perpetrated a "hoax" in Little Rock.

He referred to the governor's action in calling out the national guard to patrol Central High School which was to have been racially integrated this year. Mann said Faubus had created tension where none existed.

He declared:

"If it were not for my own respect for the process of law, I would be tempted to issue an executive order interposing the City of Little Rock between Gov. Faubus and the Little Rock School Board."

This was Mann's way of saying that Faubus, a fellow Democrat, was interposing the State between the U. S. Supreme Court's integration decision and the City of Little Rock.

He suggested that President Eisenhower should have "called the governor's national guardsmen to national duty and deprived him of his elite corps."

The 6' 1", ruggedly handsome, always well-dressed, mayor took office on Jan. 1, 1956, after beating the incumbent Republican, Pratt Remmell. Mann had won the nomination from a veteran politician.

He was in office only a few weeks before he locked horns with the city council over a public transportation franchise. Next he met the police department head-on over another local issue.

A grand jury decided to look into the squabbles, but Mann ignored it, calling it "political." He said the investigation was the result of his having called city hall a "playhouse."

"I expected to be hung upside down for that," he declared.

★ ★ ★

In private life Mann, who has a 16-year-old son in Central High School and another son, 10, is an insurance man. He started the business upon leaving the U.S. Navy in 1946 after serving throughout World War II. He said his wife wants him to get out of politics and stay out. He's undecided.

GOP to Talk About Money

Republicans to Discuss Lack of Party Funds at Mackinac Island

LANSING (AP)—Talk about money appeared destined today to figure prominently in sessions of the All-Michigan Republican Conference at Mackinac Island Saturday and Sunday.

The opening panel on the program, expected to attract 700 Republicans, is devoted to party organization and party financing and will furnish at least one forum on the subject.

Lawrence B. Lindemer, now in his seventh month as Republican state chairman, acknowledged that organizational activity has been handicapped by lack of funds.

With the party still trying to pay off debts from the last two campaigns, Lindemer said he has been unable to proceed very far with the state headquarters build-up authorized by the State Central Committee.

In the meantime, trouble has been encountered in finding a live wire successor to Leland I. Doan, who resigned several months ago as State Finance Committee chairman, slowing up relief from that quarter.

Lindemer said he has hopes this problem can be straightened out soon, perhaps at the weekend meeting.

The party's statewide drive to sign up dues-paying members, and gain financially from this source, has been moving but slowly

Drives actually are under way now in Midland, Gratiot, Tuscola, Lapeer, Macomb, Ingham, Barry and Washtenaw counties, and in preparation in 14 other counties.

Lindemer said the project has been meeting resistance within party ranks, with the core of the rebelliousness in Wayne County's 14th district.

Aquarama Reveals Passenger Totals

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Great Lakes cruise ship Aquarama carried 52,745 passengers between Detroit and Cleveland between June 23 and Labor Day, ships agents reported yesterday.

The converted ocean-going freighter averaged about 13 hours for round trip runs between the two cities. It carried 2,678 cars belonging to passengers loading in Cleveland.

J. E. Hines, Cleveland district manager for the Aquarama Line, which is operated by the Michigan-Ohio Navigation Co., said no comparison can be made to last year as this is the first season the ship ran on a cruise basis.

The Aquarama's winter quarters are in Clevealnd.

The Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transit, Co., operators of the steamers North and South America, reported bookings in Cleveland up 12 per cent over last year, with waiting lists for most of the cruises. The line ends its season next Wednesday.

Fish High in Nutrition

BOSTON — Except for iron, the nutritive values of fish are as high as those of meat. The livers of many fish are rich in vitamins A and D. The flesh of fish is also rich in vitamins of the B GROUP, and it has been found that salmon is effective in preventing pellagra.

Liberalize Work Laws

CHICAGO—According to Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law, workmen's compensation laws were liberalized in 23 states this year. Benefits to workers who lose wages because of on-the-job accidents or disabilities were increased generally. Maximum weekly benefits were raised in 17 states by amounts ranging from $2 to $14.

Will Men Ever Become Equal to Women?

NEW YORK (AP)—Will men ever be equal to women?

That is the greatest sex drama in America during the 20th century.

Male optimists see many signs to indicate that man's long struggle for equal rights will have a hopeful outcome.

Slowly and artfully men have lured women into the pursuit of manly prerogatives while they themselves have steadily infiltrated in the opposite direction and begun to share in privileges formerly enjoyed only by women.

As a result the superficial differences between the sexes has narrowed to a point where a psychologist observed this week:

"A new cultural pattern is emerging in which hardly any activity or attitude is 'exclusively masculine' or 'exclusively feminine' anymore."

★ ★ ★

Each sex is trading the other sex its own particular pleasures and duties.

Today's wife can talk baseball and politics, likes to fish, yearns to go on a safari to Africa, hates to sew on buttons. But so does today's husband.

★ ★ ★

"Doesn't all this prove that men are at last equal to women?" asks the boyish optimist.

No, indeed.

Man has always enjoyed more muscle, brains, charm and character than woman. But woman has an inner resource that has always carried her to the top in the past and probably always will.

Some call this resource woman's "sixth sense." It isn't actually a sense at all, and doesn't really make sense.

Woman's natural superiority consists only in this: The blind laws of chance bear inexorably down on man but chivalrously spare her. Woman is born lucky. Man isn't. That's all there is to it.

Fifty men and one woman, all desperately anxious to get to the railroad station to catch a train, will step into a crowded street on a snowy day. One cab will loom out of the flying flakes, and the woman will get it—by pure chance not through the gallantry of the cab driver. She will catch her train. The fifty men will miss theirs.

A man can go to a race track and wildly place his bets on the colors the jockeys are wearing and he will lose his shirt. A woman who does this will come home with enough of the track's money to buy a new outfit.

If right now you walked into a dime store and said, "give me a pomegranate," you'd be tossed out of the place as crazy. But if a woman, on a sudden impulse, did the same thing, she'd find out that for the first time in history the dime store was selling pomegranates six for a quarter.

★ ★ ★

Men equal to women? never, never never—so long as the turning earth is ruled by blind chance, woman's secret weapon, instead of reason, man's broken sword.

League Views Arkansas Fight

Expects Ike to Act in Little Rock Dispute on School Integration

DETROIT (AP) — The National Urban League says it is sure President Eisenhower will strike back with federal authority to settle such fights as the school integration controversy at Little Rock, Ark.

The league's 600 delegates meeting in convention yesterday viewed with "grave distress" the action of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus to prevent racial integration in a high school at Little Rock.

The Arkansas governor called out National Guard troops to patrol the school and maintain order. The troops have refused to permit Negro students to enter for enrollment, despite a school board plan calling for integration this month on the hgih school level.

Changing its mind, the school board yesterday asked the U.S. District Court to allow it to postpone indefinitely its integration plans.

★ ★ ★

An Urban League resolution said the use of National Guard troops to prevent integration brings up the question of whether a governor can defy the federal government.

The Urban League is an interracial organization with the avowed purpose of seeking equal opportunity for all and better race relations. It operates in 32 states.

Afghanistan to Build Airport With U.S. Aid

KANDAHAR, Afghanistan (AP) — A U.S. loan will be used t ogive Afghanistan an international airport, with the intention of helping tie this country to the non-Communist world.

A 10,000 foot runway is projected for a desert area surrounded by scattered low mountains.

American officials in Kabul, Afghanistan's capital, say the airport cannot be a paying proposition, at least for many years. They believe Afghanistan can become a stop on flights from London to the Far East.

Gasoline is hauled to Chaman, near the Pakistan-Afghan border, by train and then trucked 60 miles to Kandahar.

★ ★ ★

Construction of the airport, scheduled to begin before 1958, will take a year. The Unietd States has lent $5,400,000 for the project.

Week of Integration Passes Peacefully

STURGIS, Ky. (AP)—Sturgis High School winds up its first week of integrated classes today with a record of relative calm.

The only sign of opposition to integration yesterday came in the form of an occasional jeer from a crowd of about 50 in front of the school.

Eighteen Negroes mingled with the white students without incident. Some of them ate in the school cafeteria at lunchtime.

U.S. Eases Its Ban on Bulgaria Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has eased its seven-year ban on travel to Communist Bulgaria.

The State Department said yesterday it is now ready to allow Americans to make "visits of limited duration" to Bulgaria if they have "professional or other legitimate reasons for travel."

These visits, however, "must be in the national interest," the announcement said.

As part of its new policy, the State Department said it has validated the passports of eight Americans who want to go to Sofia Sept. 20 to attend the meeting of the International Olympic Commitee in the Bulgarian capial.

Hollywood Headlines

Fred Astaire Reaching New Peak of Popularity

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — At no point in his career has Fred Astaire been as hot as he is at this very moment. He's just back from Hong Kong where for the first time in his life he made a personal appearance with "Silk Stockings," the Cole Porter musical which stars him and Cyd Charisse.

Hot on the heels of Fred's return, Arthur Freed informed him that another big Cole Porter musical is being readied for the magic Astaire feet. The title is "Wonderland" and it's acavalcade of Porter tunes.

Arthur, by the way, is in New York after returning from Paris where location shots on "Gigi" were made for MGM. Fred also has a big, big hit in Paramount's "Funny Face."

★ ★ ★

Ingrid Bergman is denying that she has signed any contract to star in "To Thank a Fool" for MGM. But she doesn't deny she will star with Cary Grant in "Kind Sir," ..orman Krasna's stage play.

Cary is forming a company with Stanley Donen and Krasna to produce "Kind Sir" in November in England. When I asked Cary about it, he said he had a cable from Ingrid saying how pleased she is that they are to work together again.

Stanley Donen is already in England scouting locations, while Krasna is writing the script of "Kind Sir" right here in Hollywood.

Martha Hyer, who was once accused of trying to look like Grace Kelly, doesn't have to try to look like anyone but herself these days. She has just signed a new five-year contract with Universal-International calling for a substantial raise, and Martha is really living it up.

Over the weekend she closed a deal for a new home on Sunset Plaza drive, complete with swimming pool and luxuries of a movie star's home. At the same time U-I assigned her one of those fancy new dressing rooms on the lot and presented her with a solid gold key.

To say she is happy is the understatement of the week.

NBC hopes that the new TV series "Club Oasis" which kicks off with Van Johnson on Sept. 29 will become as famed on TV as the Stork Club, El Morocco, Mocambo, the Cocoanut Grove, Ciro's and other famed real nightclubs.

Producer Hal Stanley tells me the same set will be used every show so that the fans will get used to the atmosphere but separate shows will be built around each star.

Following Van will be Kay Starr, Frank Sinatra, Jimmy Durante and Eddie Fisher. Lucky for the TV patrons, there will be no cover charge at this nightclub.

★ ★ ★

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: It's just 20 minutes from Monte Carlo to Nice, and Nancy Sinatra is the houseguest of the Joseph Kennedys at Monte Carlo., Frankie is in Nice making "Kings Go Forth."

Debbie Reynolds, sick with intestinal flu, is bedded. She starts her movie at U-I on Sept. 26.

Very sad that Abe Lyman, noted bandleader, is gravely ill at his home.

Marlon Brando with his hair so blonde few of his fans recognized him dancing every dance at the Cocoanut Grove with Anna Kashfi, his real heart.

It was a wild and fascinating dance number that Steve Peck and Lita did at the Club Seville. Among the celebrities attending were the Gary Coopers, Norma Shearer and Marty Arrouge, Ann Miller and Hal Hayes, and the Jerry Walds, who seldom do any night clubbing.

Carol Channing made such a hit with the Las Vegas during her eight weeks at the Tropicana that she was presented with a key to the city by Mayor Baker.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Money Guardian Foisted by Court on Old Farmer

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP)—R. A. Maxwell, an 81-year-old farmer, was found incapable of handling his affairs after evidence indicated he had spent $1,000 a month for 27 months.

A jury in Probate Court returned the verdict in 20 minutes yesterday after two days of testimony.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Verna Ruth Hale, Maxwell's 48-year-old housekeeper, testified she had taken care of him for three years but didn't know what had become of the money. The evidence showed Maxwell had deeded her his six-room house and given a $10,000 farm to her son.

Bank records showed $27,000 in withdrawals from his account but there was no evidence about who cashed the checks.

Maxwell's worth was estimated at $75,000 to $80,000. He owns 1,200 acres of farm land.

★ ★ ★

The case was brought to court on a petition by the farmer's older brother, R. P. Maxwell, who is 87. They live at Harding, a tiny village near the Missouri line in southeast Kansas.

Probate Judge Francis M. Thomas appointed Fred Post, Harding farmer, as Maxwell's guardian. Attorneys for Maxwell said they will appeal.

Court-Martial Frees Sergeant

Acquitted on Charge of Mistreating Recruit in Basic Training

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A special court-martial yesterday acquitted 26-year-old Army Sgt. 1.C. Alexander Brown of mistreating an infantry basic trainee after five minutes deliberation.

Brown, of Warrington, Fla., denied he struck Pvt. Maurice Willis, 22, of Kansas City, while Willis was a trainee under his supervision with Co. I, 39th Infantry Regiment.

Willis testified that Brown hit him in the stomach and slapped him when Brown called him to a barracks room Aug. 4, because he had been absent the day before when the company was preparing when the company was preparing for general inspection. Willis said he suffered a nosebleed but did not have to go to the hospital.

Brown testified he regarded it as his duty as a non-commissioned officer to discipline trainees. He said he felt a special obligation as a Negro to work harder with other Negroes to keep them behaving as the Army wanted them to. Willis also is a Negro.

★ ★ ★

Defense witnesses, including two master sergeants and a former commander of the training company, testified Brown had an even temperment and that he handled disciplinary problems outside his jurisdiction by taking them to the first sergeant.

Brown's trial was th esecond of eight enlisted men charged with mistreating trainees.

Sgt. James Hobbs, 26, of Gunnison, Miss., was convicted last week of striking a trainee.

★ ★ ★

A captain, formerly commander of the company, also has been served with charges stemming from the mistreatment allegations.

Gets His Man After 11 Years

Elusive Check Forger Traced Across Country by Indiana Policeman

CLEVELAND (AP)—For 11 years Indiana State Police Lt. Edwin C. Schroeder sought an elusive check passer called "The Traveler," who cashed an estimated half a million dollars worth of worthless checks in 40 states including Indiana.

Last night Lt. Schroeder confronted Charles R. Speedie, 51, of San Fernando, Calif. Speedie was arrested yesterday afternoon in suburban Middleburgh Heights. He was being sought by police all over the country.

★ ★ ★

"I'm glad its over," Schroeder commented. Speedie smiled but did not speak. The policeman carried a portfolio containing 30 pounds of evidence. He had kept a carefully documented account of Speedie's 11-year career, including photostats and facsimiles of the check passer's work.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know his face but I'd recognize his handwriting anywhere," Schroeder said. A policeman for 22 years and a handwriting expert, he had rounded up evidence as Speedie crossed the country at least 30 times passing checks under nearly 50 aliases.

His arrest came when Los Angeles police tipped local authorities that he was probably traveling in this area. They supplied the license number of Speedie's car which was spotted yesterday afternoon at a motel. He surrendered to police quietly.

Clear Wife of Crime for Arsenic in Beer

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 30-year-old housewife who admits she spiked her husband's beer with arsenic is free today of charges of malicous intent.

She contended she did it only in an effort to curtail his beer drinking.

Acting Municipal Judge Stanley G. Thayer accepted her story and ruled there was no evidence of a crime committed by Mrs. Lucy Wireman of Chelsea, Mich.

She was arrested May 18 after her husband Oron, 36, was admitted to a hospital suffering from stomach poisoning. She signed a statement for the sheriff's office admitting she laced her husband's beer with arsenic "to cure him of the drinking habit."

Her husband appeared with her in court and they left together after she was cleared.

Weather in Review

August Made No Big Headlines

As far as the weather was concerned, the month of August, 1957, passed rather uneventfully.

The weather man made no attempt at spectacular headlines, such as those dominating the front page just one year ago in August, when 5.34 inches of rain drenched the city (normal precipitation for the month is 2.62 inches).

Not even an inch of rain fell last month, just .86 of an inch.

★ ★ ★

The familiar fair, cool or occasional showers forecasts were issued daily.

Temperatures were riding high in the sultry 80 and 90 degree range until Tuesday, August 13, when cooler weather hit this area and decided to linger the remainder of the month.

Occasional showers fell on August 2, 9, 13, 14, 26, and 28.

August 3 saw the month's highest mercury reading, 92 degrees. The month's final 90 degree reading, 91, was recorded on August 11.

On August 16 the weather dropped into a fair and cool rut, remaining milder throughout the month, with promises of showers to dampen the Labor Day weekend.

★ ★ ★

The month's lowest temperature, 52 degrees, was felt on August 23.

The average high for August was 80; average low, 61.

France Eyes Resource Potential

Spends Millions on Guiana

CAYENNE, French Guiana (AP)—France is spending millions of dollars in this territory in an effort to clear the way for development of its potentially rich resources.

Officials of this 56,000 square miles of French territory say investments this year will run a little over a billion francs — about 25 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

The Paris government has been steadily boosting its spending in French Guiana since 1946, when the colony became a state of metropolitan France. It is on the eastern extremity of South America.

All penal settlements were abolished in 1945, including the notorious one of Devil's Island, 27 miles northwest of Cayenne.

Three airfields being built in widely separated sections are expected to speed the exploration of a vast area of central and southern French Guiana.

★ ★ ★

French Guiana's Bureau of Mines says mining is to be started soon in a deposit of 70 million tons of bauxite, the ore of aluminum.

The bureau is optimistic that once transportation facilities are improved, there will be substantial development of manganese, copper, silver, iron, lead, mercury and phosphates.

There are 3,000 whites among the population of 30,000. The rest are Negroes of African descent, West Indians, Chinese, other native Indians living deep in the jungle.

Try GI for Slaying Civilian in Korean Port

SEOUL (AP)—PFC. Martin Mills of Brooklyn, N.Y., will be tried by a general court-martial late this month for the fatal shooting of a Korean civilian, an Army spokesman said today.

Mills is charged with involuntary manslaughter and failure to obey a lawful order.

Mills was a guard on a pipeline in the port city of Inchon. The Army said he fired warning shots on Aug. 25 to prevent several Koreans from climbing on the pipeline. One shot ricocheted, hitting one of the Koreans.

Proud Eagles Disappearing

National Emblem Soon May Become Extinct, Naturalists Fear

WASHINGTON — If the bald eagle could talk, the national emblem might well complain that it is being deprived of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

The population of the majestic bird has decreased alarmingly in recent years. Some naturalists believe only a few thousand are left in the United States.

★ ★ ★

A king of the skies, the bald eagle once ranged over most of North America, the National Geographic Society says. Now the species is most numerous in Florida and Alaska, the extremes of its homeland.

Though protected by Federal law, the bald eagle's size makes it an enticing target. Too often, young eagles have been mistaken for hawks and shot. Hurricanes and housing developments have destroyed many of their favorite nesting grounds on the Eastern Seaboard.

Nowadays, few Americans ever see a wild bald eagle. Bird lovers fear that it, like the whooping crane, may be following the passenger pigeon on a one-way flight to oblivion.

★ ★ ★

Eagle fanciers maintain that the Nation's founding fathers could not have chosen a better bird (Haliaeetus leucocephalus) to represent the proud young republic on the Great Seal, paper currency, coins, stamps, official flags, and military insignia.

The bald eagle is a true native son, as wholly American as baseball or the Fourth of July. It doesn't venture, as a rule, outside United States territory or that of our friendly neighbor, Canada. Nonagressive, it takes a lot of gaff from lesser birds.

Strong and swift, the bald eagle is as lordly as any bird aloft. An adult stands about three feet tall and spreads its wings six feet. The brown-plumed giant soars high in the sky without effort, its great wings arched, its snow-white head and tail coverts glistening in the sun.

At heart, however, old "Baldy" loves its home. It mates for life; builds a huge, permanent nest of sticks in a tall treetop or on a crag. Added to and repaired year after year, the aerie may finally weigh a ton.

Bald eagles have a flair for interior decoration. Soft dry grass lines the nest. A roomy specimen found in Florida was furnished with human clothing, a tennis shoe, laundry-bleach bottle, gunny sack, photographer's flashbulb, and a fairly recent copy of a weekly magazine.

Seek to Avert Strike at GM Transmission

DETROIT (AP) — Company and union officials headed into a meeting today aimed at averting a strike at the Detroit Transmission Plant of General Motors Corp.

Dave Mann, president of United Auto Workers Local 735, said GM has failed to clear up "about 800 grievances involving 32 different issues." He said strike action was autorized by 93 per cent of the 2,000 union members who voted Wednesday.

The local represents about 6,000 workers at the Willow Run Plant.

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A 240-pound retired glass worker polished off five 14-inch pepperoni pizzas yesterday to win the pizza pie eating championship of southeastern Ohio. John Scarpella won $25 and his fill of pizzas in the contest conducted by the Sons of Italy.

Portland's Mayor Cleared of Charges

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Mayor Terry Schrunk was cleared by the state yesterday of all but one charge in the Portland vice investigation.

A charge that the mayor, when sheriff last year, copied wiretap recordings was dismissed in state Circuit Court after Asst. Atty. General Arthur Higgs said the facts in the indictment did not constitute a crime.

★ ★ ★

The recordings had been seized by the sheriff's men in a raid, and later were used as evidence as gambler Big Jim Elkins and his employe, Raymond Clark, were convicted of a charge that he lied when he denied taking a bribe from a gambler.

The only charge remaining against him is one of subornation of perjury, in which he is accused of trying to get two women to lie about Elkins' character.

Charges of copying the wiretaps also were dismissed against Clyde Crosby, Teamster Union official, and Brad Williams, Oregon Journal reporter.

DILLINGER'S BLACK BEAUTY? — Raymond Colley points to one of the patched bullet holes which showed up on this '29 Franklin after he took the car to a Columbus, O., garage to have it made "just like it once was." Mechanics started scraping black paint and found several leaded up places which they say are repaired bullet holes. Then someone remembered that the late John Dillinger drove a '29 Franklin just like this one, and, in fact, ditched a Franklin not too far from Columbus, after his men killed a sheriff in Lima, O. Colley says he bought the car from a local doctor 20 years ago. If it wasn't Dillinger's, maybe somebody else got shot up.

Asks Church Influence Among Union Members

ALMA (AP) — A leading Presbyterian says the Church must help lead union members to a greater sense of responsibility and thereby eliminate one of the causes of corruption in labor.

Dr. Marshal L. Scott, dean of the Presbyterian Institute of Industrial Relations in Chicago, addressed a meeting yesterday of the National Conference of Presbytetrian U.S.A. Mission executives.

In the 1930s, he said, the aims of labor welded justice and idealism with self-interest. But now, he said, practical gains like higher wages "outstrip the demands of a Christian conscience, accounting for the loss of interest among individual members."

The church should play a leading role in helping to end the union member's indifference to union activities, he said.

About 200 persons are attending the four-day conference.

Federal Funds Eyed for Expressway Route

MACKINAW ISLAND (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie wants the Federal Bureau of Roads to take under its wing the entire Hastings-Oakland expressway route in Detroit.

Such action by the federal government would mean the federal government would pay 90 per cent of the cost and the state would pay 10 per cent.

Mackie's recommendations were outlined yesterday by Frank C. Turner, deputy commissioner and chief engineer of the Bureau of Roads, at a meeting of the Michigan Municipal League.

Damascus to Be Center for Russian Subversion

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Damascus, supposedly the world's most ancient city, is likely to become the active headquarters for Russian subversion, espionage and peaceful co-existence propaganda in the Middle East.

This is the feeling behind the report of Loy W. Henderson, the deputy undersecretary of state who returned from a two-weeks' fact-finding trip to the Middle East after the pro-Soviet coup in Syria.

★ ★ ★

His report to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles naturally is confidential, but Henderson did tell reporters that "the Syrian situation might have a serious effect upon the security of the whole free world."

Henderson talked with Turkish leaders and the pro-western Lebanese officials and also saw the kings of Jordan and Iraq.

SUGGESTIONS FOR DULLES

The diplomatic trouble-shooter brought back "a number of suggestions" for Dulles on how to meet the new danger in the Middle East.

His return coincided with disclosure in Damascus that a shakeup of Syrian foreign ministry officials is under way. This purge of rightists had been expected after the leftist army officers seized control and arranged for a steady flow of Soviet arms and equipment.

Observers do not feel there is any immediate danger of Syria making a military strike against any of her neighbors, including Israel. It's also believed that the stronger Moscow becomes in Damascus the more likely it is that Syria will be restrained from provoking war.

Under what is believed to be the Reds' long-term plans it would be to Russia's advantage to convert Syria into a show place to strengthen Russia's "peaceful co-existence" campaign. The stress would be to convince other middle eastern nations favorable toward the west that there are great benefits in partnership dealings with the Soviet Union as a nation rather than with communism as a creed.

CAN DO NOTHING

There doesn't seem to be much that the western nations can do about the situation. The Eisenhower aid doctrine does not apply since help can be extended only to those asking for it when there is Communist aggression. The Syrians have told the United States and other western powers to keep their noses out of their domestic affairs. They have given the Soviet Union a monopoly on aid.

★ ★ ★

Some diplomats in Beirut estimate that in a few months the leftist trend will be irreversible, with all rightists and pro-westerners silenced. But some also believe it will be years before the Russians can complete their economic and political plans in Syria. In the interval, if the Russians do not exercise great tact and caution, they run the risk of having Syrians turn against them.

Week's Car Output to Hit 91,973 Units

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car output this week will amount to 91,973 units, Automotive News said. Last week 119,593 cars were built in U.S. factories.

The trade paper said the decline was due to the Labor Day holiday and reduced activities by makers winding up 1957 model production. It placed this week's truck output at 18,372 units, compared with 20,726 last week.

Canadian production, it said, is expected to total 2,640 cars and trucks this week, compared with 3,383 last week.

The paper put production for this year's first eight months at 4,392,975 cars and 752,179 trucks. In the same 1956 period 4,044,375 cars and 768,646 trucks were built.

Auto Plane Tops in Air Show

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

A Milford man is gaining international fame with his unique automobile that drives on the highways and flies the sky.

Dewey Bryan, of 597 Skinner Rd., has just returned home with the top award of the International Experiment Aircraft Assn., which attracted airmen from all over the world.

The convention was held at Curtis Wright Airfield in Milwaukee, where more than 40 home-built planes were entered in competition for the big experimental trophy.

The tiny craft that took Dewey "two years and $1,000 to build," has a Continental A-75 engine that cruises at 60-miles an hour on the highway.

After the two, 11-foot wings are unfolded, the "Auto-Plane" takes off from a short run-way and "floats through the air with the greatest of 90-mile-an-hour ease."

On his way to the convention, Bryan, who was towing his dream-car, was invited to stop in Chicago and give airport officials a "show-me" demonstration.

Although Dewey has the blessing of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, and a license to drive on the highway, plus another for air travel, he cannot get any kind of insurance. "Agents just do not have any policy to cover this type of go-mobile," he said.

Bryan is the first man known to fly his plane to work, then fold up the wings of the craft and drive home at the end of the day.

He is employed at the General Motors Proving Grounds as a mechanic, and performed this unusual feat recently.

Bryan relates that a farmer had promised to clear his pasture, near the proving grounds, so that Dewey could bring his auto-plane down for a landing.

Pontiac Press Photo

NEW RECOGNITION — Dewey Bryan of Milford, inventor and designer of a flying auto, has scored again with his unique craft. He has taken top award at the International Experimental Aircraft Assn. Show, which attracted airmen from all over the globe.

As he approached the pasture in the air, Dewey noticed one lone cow grazing right in line of the plane's landing area.

He managed to set the plane down, and when he got closer to the animal, he discovered that "cow" was a full-grown deer—"and I guess she was just too surprised to move," Dewey added.

He is still looking for the "Angel" to get his auto-car into mass production for family use, but it takes a "heap of financial backing," and Dewey feels that he has gone as far as he can in that capacity.

Grains Gain Fractionally

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains advanced fractionally on the board of trade today after a mixed start.

India purchased 13 cargoes of white wheat overnight, some for September shipment, and this brought some pit buying of the bread grain. The Syrian situation also was credited with having a little impact on wheat.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅜ to ⅝ higher, Sept. $2.18½; corn was unchanged to ¼ higher, Sept. $1.25; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Sept. 66½; rye was ½ lower to ⅝ higher, Sept. $1.33⅜; soybeans were ¼ to ⅞ higher, Sept. $2.39¾; and lard was 2 cents lower to 3 cents higher a hundred pounds, Sept. $12.72.

Stocks Show Narrow Change

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued its slack performance of this week as prices were irregular and turnover slow in early trading today.

After a moderately active opening the pace slowed. Most leading stocks showed very narrow changes. Gains and losses were kept within the range of about a point.

Shares of major steelmakers were generally on the upside but very narrowly. Farm implement issues were slightly ahead. Motors, oils and aircrafts were mixed. Leading rails steadied after their decline to a new 1957 low on average yesterday.

North American Aviation rose 1⅛ to 25⅞ on an opening block of 2,500 shares. Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Lukens were steady to a bit higher, but U.S. Steel was off a fraction.

Small gains were made by Texas Co., Radio Corp. and American Can. Royal Dutch, General Motors and Standard Oil (New Jersey) eased.

Other opening blocks included Bethlehem Steel up ¼ at 45¼ on 1,200 shares; General Electric unchanged at 65⅛ on 1,200; and U.S. Steel off ¼ at 65 on 1,500.

Code Stretched to Suit Sponsor

Deodorants Are Used, but Never on Milady's Underarms

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—If television is the great sales medium its merchants claim, most women are applying their roll-on, smear-on, squirt-on deodorants exclusively to their wrists—except when, about to leap into steam cabinets, they apply them to their foreheads.

★ ★ ★

The reason is, of course, that TV's arbiters of ethics and good taste have declared milady's underarm out of bounds visually—although it is not held to be unmentionable.

Television has persistent groups of articulate critics. Hence, TV men try very hard to exclude material which—as the TV Code says—is "generally regarded as unsuitable conversational topics in mixed social groups."

★ ★ ★

This effort, combined with the general wording of the code, has resulted in some fascinating interpretations of just what constitutes good taste and proper conversation in mixed groups.

For instance, I don't know how much time you spend in your living room looking at pictures of the human digestive tract. We don't spend much, which is probably the reason I have been assuming lately that it is a series of metal pipes, funnels and hinges, all held together by nuts and bolts.

★ ★ ★

"We are opposed to clinical diagrams," said one censor for a major network. "But we accept innards when they are animated — geometrical or mechanical — illustrations."

This seemed particularly interesting in view of the fact that station censors find adequately delicate the sight of a cloth square dropping to pieces when touched with stomach acid, in a commercial apparently designed to warn people against eating handkerchiefs.

If you look closely, you'll find that women are never shown "quaffing" (television people use this word instead of "drinking") beer.

For a long time, manufacturers of such intimate articles of apparel as girdles and brassieres were deprived of TV commercial time.

One of them, however, finally managed to get through the lines of good taste with a filmed bit showing, first, a fully clothed female as comfortable as a kitten, then in the same setting, an animated girdle and bra — without visible support—performing in the same free and easy manner. This passed the taste muster and everybody got the idea.

Try to Stop Overfilling

FORT WORTH—Soon to be tested is a new electronic control device to prevent the overfilling of oil-storage tanks. The device is said to work with any liquid. A hook-up is made to pumps, which shuts off automatically when the right amount of fluid is in the storage tank. The gadget can also be used for loading tank trucks.

Fights Extradition

HONOLULU (AP)—Escaped slayer George Leroy Page, a former groom of a Michigan woman, knows now that the ancient Hawaiian right of sanctuary carries no weight with modern policemen.

Following the line of a Hawaiian queen's flight to sanctuary 189 years ago, Page fled to the historic City of Refuge on the Island of Hawaii yesterday to avoid extradition to South Carolina.

But authorities overruled the aged lore with a warrant signed by acting Gov. Farrant L. Turner, and arrested Page.

CHALLENGES ARREST

Page's attorney, Bernard F. Trask, an authority on Hawaiian history, insisted the right of sanctuary, dating back to the days of the monarchy, is retained today.

Trask said he would challenge the right of the government to arrest Page and remove him from the "sanctity and immunity which the City of Refuge offers all."

Under the old monarchy, a place of sanctuary was available on each island. The only one remaining is the City of Refuge near Kona. It is a national park.

Trask said the right of sanctuary is so inviolate that King Kamehameha I recognized it in the case of his queen, Kaahumanu, in 1789, even though he had the power of life and death over his subjects.

Trask contends the laws and customs were incorporated into present laws when Hawaii became a U. S. territory.

Page made his flight while two South Carolina officers were preparing to present evidence at an extradation hearing.

The 28-year-old Page was sent to the South Carolina penitentiary in 1947 for the murder of a cab driver. He was 17 then and claims he was sentenced after signing a confession he never had read.

He escaped in 1954, changed his name and began a new life at Port Huron, Mich. There he married the former Betty Lou Fitzner, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fitzner.

On their honeymoon in California he left his bride, came to the islands, and told his story to a priest.

His wife had their marriage annulled but later offered to give him whatever help she could. Her parents also offered to help.

Approve Loan to Build Dam

Ways, Means Group OKs Appropriation for Pontiac Lake Project

A big step towards a new dam and levees at Pontiac Lake was taken yesterday with the tentative approval of a $65,000 county loan for construction.

The Ways and Means Committee approved the appropriation at the request of Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, who said it would be paid back by a five-year special assessment of the Pontiac Lake district.

★ ★ ★

The committee is expected to seek approval of the loan by the Board of Supervisors Sept. 16.

Barry turned to the county after trying all summer to finance construction on another basis. He conceded that attempts to get the project under way had been unsuccessful because he tried to finance it through drain orders, the usual method for county drain projects.

But the law does not provide for this means of financing projects involving lake levels, Barry finally admitted.

PREVENT FLOODING

With the loan, Baryy hopes to get the project completed in time to prevent the threat of flooding during next year's spring thaw.

A flood, he said, would endanger property along the Huron River from the lake to Milford, 10 miles to the southwest.

The lake was created from a swamp in 1921, but its banks have never had major repairs, Barry said. The water is being kept a foot below legal level to keep the barriers from crumbling.

Two Teams Divide Indianwood Medal

LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, leader of the leftist faction of the British Labor Party, left by plane today for Warsaw and Moscow. He expects to meet Soviet leaders vacationing in the Crimea.

Three other Socialist members of Parliament; his wife, Jenny Lee; Hugh Delargy, and William Griffiths went along. Their trip is a private one, not connected with the Labor party.

California Blaze Now Under Control

VACAVILLE, Calif. (AP)—A brush fire which blazed for three days and blackened more than 6,000 acres of rugged hill country north of Vacaville was brought under control yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Some 200 men fought the flames and six aerial tankers made 75 passes with water and chemical sprays.

Investigators pressed a hunt for arsonists. The fire broke out in seven different places Monday. No houses were destroyed. Residents of summer cabins were evacuated for a time.

★ ★ ★

Another fire that blackened some 1,000 acres and halted traffic on the Feather River road was controlled early today near Oroville.

Forestry crewmen were burning brush yesterday when a gust of wind carried sparks over their lines and stated the blaze.

Wife in Double Strike, So Hubby Can't Win

DETROIT (AP) — Wilfred (Bill) Swan's wife is cooking his dinners again. She hadn't been during a strike at the Holbrook Avenue Federal Credit Union where Swan is manager and treasurer.

The strike was called by the credit union staff in a pay dispute.

Swan's wife, Hilda, and daughter, Lorna, are members of the staff. Mrs. Swan said she wouldn't cook any more meals for her husband until a settlement of the dispute was reached.

The strike lasted only a short time.

Plan New Drive on Road Safety

Foundation to Spotlight, Reward Outstanding Traffic Achievements

CHICAGO (INS) — A "positive" approach to highway safety is about to take its place beside the shocking statistics and the "drive carefully" warnings.

The newly established, non-profit National Foundation for Highway Safety is mapping plans to "spotlight and reward" outstanding achievements in traffic safety.

HITS FEAR

Its founder and president, Chicago businessman Erwin M. Blaz, contrasts this approach to the current campaign of what he calls "fear and figures."

Statistics on traffic accidents produce a negative reaction, Blaz believes. Their effect, he says, has been "to pound the senses until they no longer respond."

Blaz cited a statement by California's Governor Goodwin Knight, who called highway slaughter "a curse that has become so frequent, so regular that people are prone to take these deaths as commonplace," Blaz agrees.

★ ★ ★

"We as individuals," he said, "never consider the statistics apply to us. It is always the 'other guy' who has the accident. Unfortunately, fear and figures do not take root in our consciousness."

The key to the new foundation's approach is "neighborliness."

"There is a definite art of living on the highways," said Blaz, "and we must remember that all people are neighbors in their cars as well as in their homes. We want to accentuate the positive and convince the American people that safety does exist.

★ ★ ★

"Scores of communities, big and small, have fine safety records. We plan to honor these cities and towns and the persons in them who have done the most to achieve those records."

House Probers Eye Chotiner

Study Cases in Which Nixon's Campaign Chief Represented Clients

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators said today they are studying some cases in which they said West Coast lawyer Murray Chotiner represented clients in matters before federal agencies.

★ ★ ★

Chotiner is a Los Angeles Republican who managed Vice President Nixon's campaign in 1952.

Chotiner was mentioned yesterday, among dozens of others, in a report by the Senate Investigations subcommittee on a 1956 probe of alleged irregularities in procurement of military clothing.

The report did not in any way criticize Chotiner, whose name came up last year as a former lawyer for some clothing manufacturers the subcommittee was investigating.

★ ★ ★

Testifying under oath, Chotiner told the subcommittee he never used his associations with Nixon to seek favors for any client. He also said he never used any influence in his law practice.

The investigations group said in its report that William A. Parzow of Philadelphia, described as a convicted jury tamperer, had testified he hardly knew Chotiner but that Chotiner had told the subcommittee he did know Parzow. Chotiner testified that Parzow recommended a clothing manufacturer to him for some law business.

★ ★ ★

The subcommittee said the Justice Department has been asked to examine Parzow's testimony for possible perjury action.

Emphasizing that the Chotiner matter still is in the preliminary stage, the House subcommittee source said the purpose of the study is to find out whether Chotiner used any influence in behalf of his clients.

America Now Has Arrived at Crossroads for Defense

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some time soon, a B52 hydrogen bomber will race over New Mexico, so fast it crowds the sound barrier, so high only the eyes of radar will follow it far below, from White Sands Proving Ground.

Suddenly, a slim Nike guided missile will flash skyward and seek to obliterate the bomber. Unmanned, under remote control, the plane will take violent evasive action. Its defense is flight — not fight.

Which would win this strange duel in the stratosphere? Why is it important that it be held?

This is an important part of the biggest single problem new Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy faces as he takes over in the Pentagon from Charles Wilson.

This series shows how America has arrived at a vital crossroads in its defense.

It will be up to McElroy to make the final decisions on where the country's defense will go from here.

★ ★ ★

The issues in the current Air Force-Army missile controversy include not only the roles and missions of the two services in this missile and atomic age, but also the quality and quantity of our national defense against Russian capabilities for attack.

For example, the ICBM, or Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, will be able by the early 1960's to deliver a hydrogen warhead from New York to Moscow — or from Moscow to New York — in about 20 minutes and erase the target. On this point, the Air Force and Army agree.

What they do not agree on, either with each other or even within their own services, is whether the IGBM and other missile developments are finishing off manned aircraft.

PROBLEMS ARISE

If the Nike-B52 duel should be held, and prove that Nike can kill the most powerful bomber we have in operation today, a most disturbing prospect arises. There is evidence the Russians may have an anti-aircraft missile equal or superior to Nike.

Such a missile would help pull the teeth of our B47's and B52's. By weakening the power of our long-range bombardment, it would begin to strip us of what has been our most trusted weapon to deter or defeat aggression.

★ ★ ★

The day of the manned U.S. warplane may be over — soon, or even now.

And missile partisans of both the U.S. Air Force and Army say that long-range missiles, when perfected, will do any job the long-range bomber can do — only better.

According to the Army's Chief of Research and Development, Lieutenant General James L. Gavin: "We have evidence they (Soviets) have fired an object that must have been a rocket for several hundreds of miles in some numbers."

The Soviets have been pushing the development of long-range missiles ever since the end of World War II, when they took over much of the Nazi V2 rocket plants and personnel. The V2 was the first big missile used in combat. It was years ahead of anything comparable achieved by the Soviets or the U.S.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Army achievements in long-range missiles also are built partly upon the success of the V2.

As World War II ended, the V2 chief, Dr. Wernher von Braun, handpicked more than 100 of his top scientists and engineers and lines.

The von Braun group has continued its rocket work, along with thousands of other Army missile scientists and engineers, first at White Sands Proving Ground, N.M., and later at Redstone Arsenal and the Army Ballistic Missile Agency (ABMA) at Huntsville, Ala.

AT SUPERSONIC SPEED

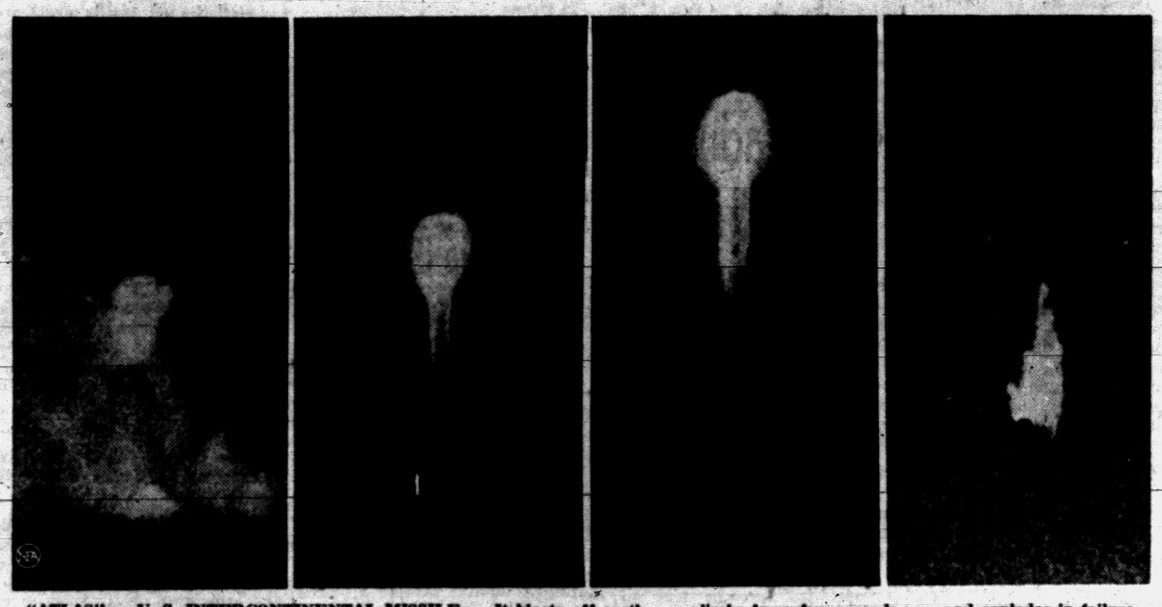

Its Redstone missile, which becomes operational this month, is designed to deliver a nuclear warhead at supersonic speed on targets up to 200 miles away. Its Jupiter is the Army project to develop a 1,500-mile ballistic missile.

One of Secretary Wilson's last orders was for the consolidation of the Jupiter with its competitor, the Air Force's Thor IRBM. This is not likely to eliminate all of McElroy's headaches with the competition between these two missiles.

For official reports have been released on the relative merits or degree of success of Thor and Jupiter.

Some Army missilemen refer privately to the "ground-bound Thor," and cite press reports that no successful Thor flight has yet been made. At the same time, they quote other press reports of several recent successful Jupiter flights.

Next: How about a rocket to the Moon?

"ATLAS" — U. S. INTERCONTINENTAL MISSILE — It blasts off earth . . . climbs for a few seconds . . . and explodes in failure.

Parents Rebel Against Policy, Hire Instructor

ETNA, Wyo. (AP)—When the county school board ordered discontinuance of the seventh and eighth grades at the Etna elementary school, making it necessary for the 20 students to travel 35 miles or so to class, the parents rebelled.

★ ★ ★

Last year the board at Afton, county seat of western Wyoming's Star Valley, provided a teacher. But not this year.

★ ★ ★

So the parents got their own instructor. He is doing it free. They borrowed books from schools across the border in Irwin, Idaho.

Farmer Dean Humphreys, spokesman for the parents, said it was too much to expect the students to travel that distance "in this deep snow, cold weather country."

Monkey Bites Policeman, 'Doesn't Like Uniforms'

DETROIT (AP)—Sure he could explain why his monkey bit a policeman, said Edward Osowski.

"He just doesn't like uniforms," said Osowski, answering a charge he was harboring a vicious animal.

Traffic Referee Oscar A. Riopelle acquitted Osowski.

Turkey to Elect Parliament Early

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey will elect a new Parliament on Oct. 27, seven months earlier than originally scheduled. The present Parliament is expected to be dissolved shortly.

The decision to advance elections was made yesterday by 400 Parliament members from Premier Adnan Menderes' Democratic party.

A Democratic party spokesman hinted that Syria's recent pro-Soviet tendencies may have been one factor in the election change. However, the three main opposition parties claim Turkey's domestic situation is deteriorating rapidly. The opposition contends the Democrats want to hold the election before things get much worse.

★ ★ ★

Menderes has been premier since his party upset the Republican Peoples party in 1950. The Republicans recently formed an alliance with the Freedom party, a middle-of-the-road pro-Western group, and the reactionary National party.

The Belgian Congo has an area of one million square miles and a population of about 15 million.
