Suspect Admits Identity

Canada Arrests Fugitive Sought in Wife Slaying

Californian Nabbed by Immigration Authorities at Windsor Tunnel

DETROIT (INS) — The U.S. Immigration Department in Detroit announced that the suspect arrested in Canada admitted today that he is L. Ewing Scott, fugitive in the slaying of his wealthy California society wife.

Leon J. Blythe, U.S. Chief immigration inspector, said that Scott made the admission shortly after he was turned over by Windsor Police.

The suspect, who gave his name as Lester E. Stewart, was arrested at the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel yesterday by an immigration officer.

Windsor Police were called by the Immigration Department "because Stewart fit the description on an FBI "wanted" flyer for Scott who disappeared last May 15 after being indicted in Los Angeles on 13 counts of forgery and grand theft.

Six months later, Scott was indicted for the murder of his 63-year-old wealthy wife, Evelyn. Her disappearance had gone unreported by her husband for eight months, until an estate petition by her brother made it public knowledge in March 1956.

The man suspected as being Scott was arrested when he tried to enter Canada in a 1957 Ford Fairlane with a "transit" permit. A clerk in the immigration service recognized the name Lester E. Stewart as an alias of Scott from FBI "wanted" circulars.

The Detroit newspaper check of the transit permit disclosed that the car was bought last Friday at a Detroit Ford dealer. The newspaper said the car was paid for in cash — all $100 bills — by Lester E. Stewart of Oak Park, Ill.

A reporter showed a photograph of Scott to Jim Herrin, 36, manager of the automobile agency and Herrin said:

"That's the man. That's him."

Producer Jed Harris Wed to Bebe Allan

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Movie producer Jed Harris, 51, and actress Bebe Allan, 28, have been secretly married for two weeks.

Knew of Date With Death

Cancer Victim Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Leonard Kerschke kept his rendezvous with death sooner than he expected.

There were many things he planned to do.

He had written one article for The Associated Press on what his reactions were when the doctor told him Jan. 31 he couldn't expect to live much longer than six months.

He thought there was plenty of time to write several more.

But time ran out for the 27-year-old Kerschke. He died last night of the inoperable cancer that had spread from his groin to his lungs.

Kerschke was working on a second article when his condition worsened. Saturday night his breathing became labored. He

Veto Is Eyed in Judge Issue

Williams Says Selection Rests Only With Him, Not Legislature

Governor Williams' veto loomed behind legislative action today on a fifth circuit judge for Oakland County.

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, of Drayton Plains, believed the Senate Judiciary Committee would act favorably today on his bill calling for election of the new judge in November, 1958.

Despite Williams' objections, Lodge thought the measure as approved by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors would go to the Senate floor for final approval this week.

If passed, it then would go to Williams for approval or veto.

The House passed the same bill last month, overriding Williams' demand that a new judge be appointed by him.

Williams argued that the constitutional right to select new judges was his, while Republicans controlling the legislature claimed it was their right to set an election.

County Board OKs '58 Budget of $10,700,920

Represents 16 Pct. Hike Over '57; 3 No Votes Challenge Figures

With slight dissension, the Board of Supervisors yesterday passed a $10,700,920 budget for presentation to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board.

A roll-call vote, forced by Mrs. Harriett Phillips, of Huntington Woods, passed the budget for 1958 spending by a 63-3 margin.

Mrs. Phillips, voting against the resolution, complained figures had not been thoroughly explained. She suggested some accounts had been padded.

Referring to past charges that supervisors deliberately have padded figures to accumulate building fund surpluses for a new courthouse, Mrs. Phillips declared after the meeting:

"I think they're doing it again this time, although I can't prove it. If they had nothing to hide, however, I should think all these figures would be publicly explained."

Also voting against the budget were Winson S. Moberly of Pleasant Ridge and Marshall E. Taylor of Walled Lake.

FUNDS QUESTIONED

All three dissenting supervisors questioned specific funds in the budget, but were told by Fred W. Smith of Royal Oak that careful, prudent planning had gone into all the figures.

Smith is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which, with Auditor Robert Y. Moore, prepared the estimates of next year's financial needs.

The county figures to spend roughly 16 per cent more next year than in 1957, with $9,010,920 to be raised by taxation. The budget is based on the assumption the tax board will continue to levy at least 4.68 mills for the county.

Supervisors' chairman Delos Hamlin of Farmington estimated that next year's spending may require up to 5 mills of the 15-mill tax limitation.

Another assumption, he said, is that property valuations will continue to be hiked over past years.

If either of these assumptions proves wrong, supervisors will be forced to trim their figures after the tax allocation board completes its work.

Final acceptance of the budget is not expected until fall.

Mrs. Hill to Appeal Again in Child Custody Battle

With the denial yesterday of a new circuit court trial, a Supreme Court appeal is planned for Mrs. Nona Hill, 33-year-old mother who wants custody of the 21-month-old child she has never seen.

Judge H. Russel Holland dismissed a motion for retrial, based on the contention the mother's consent was not properly obtained before her daughter, now named Lauren Rae Lewis, was adopted at birth by a Berkley couple.

Attorney Joseph A. Long of Detroit argued that because adoption was made directly with the help of a doctor, Mrs. Hill was not given enough counsel by social workers.

Lang said, "She was interviewed by only one member of the county's staff, although the law indicates at least two staff members should question the natural mother about her intentions."

Judge Holland, who presided over trial of the case last month, dismissed this objection. "The mother undoubtedly found herself in a most unfortunate position," he said, "but the facts show that she knew what she was doing."

During the trial, Mrs. Hill, a British subject from England, testified her husband had died and she was without employment. She consented to the adoption under coercion and duress while in poor physical and mental condition at Detroit's Women's Hospital, Mrs. Hill claimed.

Lang said yesterday he intends to file an appeal within a week, with the expectation the case will be allowed before the Supreme Court this fall.

The child, meanwhile, will remain with the adoptive parents, Alfred J. Lewis Jr., 38, of 4292 Kenmore Rd. and his wife, Jane, 36.

Neither the Lewises nor Mrs. Hill, who lives temporarily in Detroit, appeared during yesterday's hearing.

Man, 103, Does Jig to Celebrate 3rd Anniversary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—It wasn't just an ordinary third wedding anniversary for John Wesley Beaird yesterday. It also was his 103rd birthday.

And if that wasn't enough, he danced a jig, enrolled his 72-year-old wife Mertie for Social Security benefits and blew out three candles on a cake presented by the Social Security Administration district office.

She just became eligible after three years of marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Beaird were married, both for the second time, April 15, 1954, in celebration of his reaching the century mark.

Cleanup of Reds Hoped in Jordan

Expect Hussein to Hear Richards on Ike's Plans for Middle East Aid

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan's new moderate Cabinet is expected to press a swift, thorough cleanup of pro-Communist elements in the government and school system.

Observers also looked for King Hussein — flushed with his military victory over leftist leaders — to invite James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special nevoy, to Amman to explain the President's Middle East doctrine.

There was no clear indication, however, that Jordan would subscribe to the American plan aimed at halting Communist penetration of the Middle East.

With the formation of a regime purged of Communists and extremists, Hussein emerged from the six-day crisis with new strength and stature. A dramatic display of loyalty by tough Bedouin troops of the Arab Legion turned the tide.

The Bedouins swarmed into the capital yesterday from strategic positions surrounding Amman. Security police loyal to the young monarch also were out in force with riot equipment.

Bolstered by this support, Hussein summoned all former prime deputies to the palace. They emerged after three hours with a seven-man government headed by Hussein Fakhri Khalidi, 61-year-old former foreign minister who has shown sympathies toward the West.

Beck, High Teamsters Map Strategy of Union

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Dave Beck and the Teamsters Union Executive committee huddled privately here today with five labor attorneys.

From the conference in this resort city's oldest hotel was expected to come the embattled union's strategy for answering congressional and AFL-CIO attacks.

Beck called the conference amid conflicting reports the committee would back him to the man or would attempt to strip him of his tight-fisted control over one of the world's largest labor unions.

The 62-year-old Beck, accused of using $320,000 in union funds for personal projects, made it clear he has no plans of stepping aside voluntarily.

"I'm not planning to retire although I would be money ahead if I did," he said. He offered no explanation but apparently had in mind the $50,000-a-year pension — the same as his current salary — he reportedly would receive upon retirement.

Beck said he would have no statement to make until today, but told reporters he would "blow the lid right off the Senate" if he told what happened to the union funds. He said, "A lot of fine people would be embarrassed," adding that he was "taking the rap" while refusing to answer questions at the recent Senate hearings in Washington.

Earlier he said he will seek another five-year term as president at the Teamsters' September convention.

A known rival for the job, James R. Hoffa, one of the union's most influential vice presidents, sat across the conference table today from Beck. Hoffa, however, is having troubles of his own. The Detroit Teamster executive is under indictment for bribing a member of a Senate investigating committee staff.

The troubles of Beck and the four vice presidents prompted the AFL-CIO council last month to suspend Beck and consider ousting the Teamsters.

Postal Fund Bill Passes Senate

Expect Final House OK Today on $41 Million Appropriation

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate, acting in record time, today voted a 41 million dollar emergency appropriation to restore full postal service.

The measure, approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee this morning and adopted by the Senate only minutes after it convened, now goes back to the House where final action is expected by nightfall.

The Senate added an $800,000 housekeeping provision for various committees, and this change requires House approval before the bill can go to President Eisenhower.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield declared he would not rescind his cutback in mail services until he has the money "in hand." Summerfield had asked for 47 million dollars to keep full postal services operating between now and June 30.

Informed of the Senate's approval, Summerfield told newsmen he would issue a statement later in the day. Apparently, he plans to announce resumption of the mail services he suspended last Saturday.

Summerfield angrily denied that the cutback was an attempt to "dramatize" his plea for increased postal rates.

Scranton Local Stuffed Ballots, Says Bradshaw

Senators Hear How Stewards Cast Several Votes as Instructed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Paul Bradshaw, a former boxer and decorated World War II soldier, today told Senate investigators a story of beatings and rigged elections in the Scranton, Pa., Local 229 of the Teamsters Union.

Bradshaw, seeming a bit shy and embarrassed over his appearance before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, said that in a 1954 local union election he and others "voted six or seven times" to reelect the local's incumbent officers.

Bradshaw said he and other stewards of the local were instructed to cast their votes for J. C. (Pinky) Hart as the local's president and Bob Malloy, as business agent.

"We had quite a bit of extra receipts," Bradshaw testified. The receipts represented dues payments and eligibility to cast ballots.

"They were passed around among the boys. We voted six or seven times and we were supposed to vote for Pinky Hart and Bob Malloy. They were both elected."

"We expect to develop in these hearings what may be a classic example of the use of force and violence in labor-management relations," said Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) in a statement prepared for the start of the hearings before a special Senate committee which he heads.

He predicted the testimony will show "terror tactics" by some labor union officials against members of their own unions as well as against employers in the Scranton area.

Committee sources said one phase of the hearings will deal with conversations recorded secretly by Helen Canfield, 27, a pretty dark-haired divorcee, and her friend Paul Bradshaw, in an effort to show that Bradshaw is innocent of dynamiting charges.

The recordings were made after Bradshaw was convicted on charges that in 1954 he dynamited a house under construction by a nonunion contractor. He still is awaiting sentence on the charge.

Bradshaw, a onetime prize fighter and former Teamsters Union steward, is among the scheduled leadoff witnesses.

Miss Canfield's story of how they "bugged" her apartment with hidden microphones and secretly tape recorded conversations of other persons they contend are the real terrorists has been told in criminal trials in Scranton. But committee aides said the recordings, which may be used as evidence, never were played publicly before.

Listed as probable witnesses are four union business agents also convicted and awaiting sentence in connection with the dynamiting. They are John A. Durkin of the Teamsters; Philip F. Brady of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Joseph F. Bartel of the Carpenters Union; and Anthony Bonacuse of the common laborers union.

HE WAS HERE

Tiny Jordan Was Site of Christ's Baptism

EDITOR'S NOTE: By American definition, the River Jordan is no river at all—in most parts of this country it would be called a creek. Yet in the Jordan's muddy water occurred one of the major events of Christ's life, His baptism by John. Here's a report on how the baptism site looks today.

By WILTON WYNN

JERICHO, Jordan (AP) — Water is exported to the ends of the earth from a muddy creek near here where John baptized Christ.

Venders display small flasks of the water for sale to visitors on the banks of the stream. Regularly huge shipments for use in baptisms go by air and sea to the United States, Europe, and the Far East.

The water comes from the point on the Jordan River known as the site of the sacred baptism — which occurred at the start of Christ's three years of public life and teaching.

The site is close to the lowest place on the face of the earth. Within sight is the Dead Sea, 1,000 feet below sea level.

Jesus probably came to this spot through the Jordan Valley from Galilee in the north. The modern traveler visits the area from Jerusalem. This means he drives in half an hour from Jerusalem's elevation 2,000 feet above sea level to the Jordan at 1,000 feet beow.

The road branches off after leaving Jericho and takes the traveler across a flat desert plain, ending at the banks of the Jordan. In winter this low area is comfortably warm; in summer it is suffocatingly hot.

HE WAS HERE: This is the Jordan River at the spot where Christ was baptized by John. The desert (Biblical "wilderness") can be seen beyond the strip of vegetation at the water's edge.

The baptismal site is away from villages or other normal human habitation.

Nearby is the Convent of St. John the Baptist, first built 1,500 years ago. On the bank of the river stands a Franciscan chapel and a small altar.

A stone staircase leads to the water, and nearby two of the three venders sit quietly beside their flasks of water waiting for visiting pilgrims.

Surrounding this point is the "wilderness" where John the Baptist did most of his preaching. The Biblical term "wilderness" must have referred to desert, unless the Jordan Valley has changed drastically since Biblical times. The Jordan plain is green only in the few places where irrigation has permitted cultivation, or where occasional streams water the parched earth.

Apart from these verdant splotches, the valley is the do-

Light Rain Tonight; Showers Tomorrow

The weather man forecasts light rain today and tonight, but the showers shouldn't dampen spirits too much, as temperatures are on the rise.

After reaching a 54 to 58 degree high today, the mercury is expected to dip only to 44 to 48 degrees tonight, quite a difference from yesterday's frosty 28 low.

Tomorrow will be cloudy with showers, 54 to 58 high.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 38. The mercury registered 51 at 2 p.m.

Depleted Treasury Adds Worries

Waterford May Face Tax Hike

The emptiness of Waterford Township's treasury has newly-elected officials scratching their heads as to where to seek additional income.

Officials and some 60 residents last night heard Supervisor Elmer Johnson report that an original $76,000 "carry over" from last year's budget had dwindled to $54,000 — the present cash on hand of the township.

"And there will be no revenue until June when the first installment of quarterly state sales tax comes in," Johnson said. This will amount to roughly $50,000, according to the township treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Olson.

Last night's discussion was another round as officials work toward possible approval of a 1957-'58 budget of $430,810.

Johnson said a 2½-mill tax hike would be needed to meet this budget. "Something must be done right away," he said. He promised an answer in the "next three or four days."

Mrs. Olson expressed concern how immediate payrolls and expenses will be met with the $54,000 balance.

Johnson explained to a jam-packed hall last evening that $21,443 had been spent since the fiscal year began April 1. This was for employes' salaries, election board checks, and statements of debts contracted by the previous administration, he said.

While some residents at the meeting protested the tax boost, others expressed support of it.

Included in the budget study, is whether the present 16-man police force can be maintained with a necessary $120,140 departmental budget.

Its support in the past came largely from revenue from justice of peace costs. This practice was

Husband Idles, She Sells Blood

Park Avenue Mother of 3 Wins Separation From Scholar

NEW YORK (AP)—A Park Avenue mother says she had to sell a pint of her blood to get grocery money for her three children while their scholarly father idled.

Mrs. Hilda Lindley was granted a separation in State Supreme Court yesterday from her husband, Francis Vinton Lindley, a Yale honor graduate.

Justice Mitchell Schweitzer said in his decision that Lindley has earned only $1,000 in the past three years as a tutor. At one time, said the judge, Lindley frittered away several pleasant months at a summer resort without seriously looking for a job.

The family lived on a $16,000-a-year scale with a city apartment and a home on Long Island. The judge said Mrs. Lindley provided almost all the income. She has an administrative job with a book publisher.

"It was established," said the judge, "that after the wife's confinement incident to the birth of her third child in February, 1956, she had no earnings for a period of time.

"Her small reserve was ultimately depleted and there came a time when there was no money available with which to purchase food for the family. In desperation she sold a pint of her blood for $15 to enable her to buy food."

Schweitzer ordered Lindley to pay $30 a week support for his children. Mrs. Lindley asked no alimony. She won custody of the children, 1, 6 and 9 years old.

Tough Taconite in Steel Future

Rock Is Dependable Source for Extraction of Iron Ore

NEW YORK — Taconite, one of the world's hardest rocks and the future backbone of America's steel production, may emerge as a billion dollar industry within five years.

Steelways publication says the successful conquest of the solid gray rock, three times as hard as limestone and twice as tough as granite, will give the steel industry a dependable source of basic raw material for many years to come.

The publication says that, within 15 or 20 years the magic iron pellets extracted from what was once thought to be a dying Mesabi Range may furnish more blast furnace feed than either regular domestic or foreign ore now in use. Billions of tons of taconite are believed deposited in the Great Lakes region.

Steelways says that years of research, hundreds of millions of dollars and the skills of thousands of men converted this tough rock into a pillar of industrial society.

The task required the grinding of the rock to the consistency of flour to release the fine particles of iron ore — a vital ingredient in steelmaking — on an economical and commercial scale.

The magazine also says that within a year, the taconite people expect to use more powder than anyone except the Defense Department and adds these statistics:

To get one ton of enriched, tailor made pellets of iron ore, three tons of taconite must be drilled, blasted, mined, transported, ground fine as flour, separated, rolled into balls and baked.

3 Woodpeckers, Many Rescuers Wreck Column

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Woodpeckers and would-be rescuers have made a mess of a stately white wooden column at Dr. Franklin E. Verdon's recently refinished home.

Woodpecker No. 1 drilled into the hollow column's fancy molding with such headstrong energy that he fell into his own hole and couldn't climb out.

"You could hear him pecking all around in there and fluttering up and down," Mrs. Verdon said yesterday. "He made so much noise two more woodpeckers came along to try to help him out.

"They ate a big piece out of the molding and had about half the trim off when they gave up."

Firemen chiseled a hole in the column's top. Dr. Verdon and a neighbor chopped two holes near its base.

Dr. Verdon believes the woodpecker finally found his way out.

"But if he's still in there, we're going to take the whole column out," he said.

Jordan River Site of Christ's Baptism

main of jackals, hyenas, and wild pigs roaming over rocky soil among desert shrubs. Rising on either side of the Jordan plain are the semi-desert hills of Judea to the west and Moab to the east.

Although the Jordan is one of the world's most famous rivers, its small size is a disappointment to most visitors. A stream so narrow in America would be called a creek.

Every Jan. 6 the anniversary of Christ's baptism is observed in a special service on the water. Bearded priests in their vestments stand in a flat-bottomed boat to say mass over the exact spot where they believe Christ was baptized. In the early centuries of the Christian era the site was marked by a cross standing in the river bed.

Although followers of Christ adopted baptism as a ritual for admission to the faith, the baptism by John also has been interpreted as a cleansing ritual.

For centuries afterward Christians who already had been baptized would visit the site of the sacred baptism for ceremonial washing. On the eve of the Epiphany, thousands used to collect on the river banks, wrapped in white garments, and bathe in the waters. Lepers and other afflicted persons washed in the river to be cured.

Modern economic planning may affect the site of the sacred baptism in the next few years. A vast irrigation scheme for the Jordan Valley calls for diverting the waters of the Jordan's main tributary, the Yarmuk, into irrigation canals.

This probably will lower the level of the narrow Jordan below the baptismal site.

Religious leaders here have tried to remind world opinion that this scheme, important as it is economically, may destroy one of Christiandom's most sacred sites by leaving the place of Christ's baptism a dry spot on the bank.

Call for Study of Grand Juries

Rep. Roberts of Pontiac, 4 Other Legislators Ask Probing of System

Republican State Representative Farrell Roberts of Pontiac and four other legislators have called for a full dress study of the grand jury system in Michigan.

Basically, the study would be undertaken by five members of the House of Representatives, with the cooperation of the Michigan Bar Assn., the attorney general's office and other interested groups.

Submitting the proposal in the form of a resolution were Reps. Kenneth N. Sandborn (R-Mt. Clemens), Thomas J. Whinery (R-Grand Rapids), John T. Bowman (D-Roseville), and Frederick Yates (D-Detroit).

Whinery is chairman of the Judiciary Committee. Michigan is the only state which employs a one man grand jury.

"During the past decade," they said, "several bills have been introduced in the legislature pertaining to the grand jury system. Recently there have been repeal bills introduced in both the Senate and the House.

"Also, the one man grand jury has been under sharp criticism by the United States Supreme Court. On the other hand, it has been said that the 23-man grand jury, traditional in most states, is too unwieldy and that the one man grand jury is an efficient means of combatting crime, particularly in public office."

The study group would tackle its job later this year and after observing grand jury systems employed in other states and making a comparison with Michigan would report findings and recommendations and recommend any possible improvements in the Michigan statute to the 1958 regular legislative session.

Local Traffic Victims Still on Critical List

Two Oakland County weekend traffic casualties remain in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital, according to a hospital spokesman.

Walter Jones, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones of 111½ E. Huron St., is still on the critical list after being operated on Saturday night for a fractured skull and a "severe concussion."

Vonda Lee Carroll, 21, of 35 East St., Oxford, has remained in critical condition since being admitted to the hospital late Sunday afternoon.

She was involved in an accident on M-24 when the motorcycle she and her husband, William Carroll, were riding collided headon with a car driven by Park B. Driscoll, 38, of 6214 Garden St., Oxford. Her husband was killed.

Kerschke was stricken just as he was starting a new career as a gymnasium instructor with the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation.

He had always enjoyed health until last fall when he first noted symptoms of a backache. At Christmastime he developed symptoms of pleurisy and pneumonia. In January he entered a hospital for observation.

An exploratory operation disclosed the malignant cancer that was to take his life.

Kerschke liked people. And the nationwide response — letters of sympathy and encouragement to his first article — gave him a lift.

When he talked of things he would like to do, he always came back to one thing. He wanted to visit Washington, D.C. He had never been to the national capital.

He would bundle his wife Athleyne and their baby daughters Darleen and Valerie into a car and they would be off to Washington.

But his energy gradually gave out. The pains grew sharper. He did not complain.

Leonard Kerschke was happy to be home with his wife and 1-year-old daughter Darleen. His wife's parents had taken some of the burden off Mrs. Kerschke by caring for little Valerie, who was born Feb. 2.

Early in life Kerschke had an ambition to be a concert pianist.

It was their mutual love for music that brought them together.

Smilingly, Leonard Kerschke recalled their romance.

"I was 14," he said. "She was six months younger. I first saw her at the Bethesda Missionary Temple on Nevada street near Van Dyke. That was my family's church and Athleyne was there as a visitor. I admired her from a distance and I knew she was for me."

Both Leonard and Athleyne studied music at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art. She played the violin. He took piano lessons.

Later, through their interest in church activities, they met again and they were married in her church — the Immanuel Bible Church — on the East Side of Detroit June 30, 1951.

Leonard Kerschke gave you the impression of being a religious man, but he did not encourage questioning about his beliefs.

On a stand at the head of his bed was a Bible.

"It was a shock to me when I was told that I had only six months to live," he said. "My first thought was of my family and then the thought flashed through my mind of Christ in the Garden of Gethsemane and what he said, Thy will be done, not mine."

Ishibashi Improving

TOKYO (AP)—Former Prime Minister Tanzan Ishibashi left St. Luke's Hospital today after 11 weeks of treatment for bronchial penumonia and a weakened heart. The 72-year-old statesman resigned from the premiership in February after 65 days in office.

U.S. Envoy in Saigon

SAIGON (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Elbridge Durbrow today presented his credentials to South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem. The new American envoy, a 53-year-old career diplomat, arrived Saturday.

British Dancer Offers Services as Bridesmaid

LONDON (INS) — Pert and pretty Pamela Giffen, who loves "dressing up," is offering herself today as the answer to every blushing bride's prayer.

The 24-year-old ballroom dancer from Beeston, Nottinghamshire, has in mind all those girls caught in the traditional Easter romance crush — and caught without bridesmaids and dresses.

Weddings without smiling bridesmaids and expensive dresses can be dull and austere. Pam has the answer to that problem — she is offering to hire herself out as Britain's first professional bridesmaid.

For Pam has all the necessary clothes to make a wedding sparkle — a wardrobe lined with gowns she uses for ballroom competition dancing.

Not only that but Pam has experience and a perfect wedding-day manner guaranteed to soothe the nerves of any anxious bride and the fussings of mother.

"For only a small fee I can save girls pounds they would normally spend on bridesmaids' dresses."

Strangely enough, the reason why Pam is entering the bridesmaid business, is also a romantic one.

Meeting Halted Due to Hecklers

Gathering Ends Early as Fair Share Foes Appear in Richmond

A Fair Share Bargaining Assn. organizational meeting, called in Richmond, stronghold of the new Dairy Farmers Co-op, came to early end last night, as leaders of the Co-op appeared to heckle Fair Share speakers.

Speakers were Rolland Brengle, Fair Share president; Gus Scholle, Michigan CIO Council president and Leo Kuhlman, Fair Share official.

After the talks, Homer Martin, organizer of the Co-op Assn., got up and attacked the Fair Share publication.

Sam Bailo, state secretary of DFCA, also assailed the publication.

Frank Jacques, chairman of the meeting, said he was adjourning it early "because of too many wrecking crews present when we're trying to build an organization."

U.S. Shipping May Use Canal

Lifting of Ban Seen if Shippers Will Protest Against Egypt's Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is now about ready to allow American ships to pass through the Suez Canal under Egyptian terms—provided they do so under protest against Egypt's operating arrangements.

Top officials who disclosed this today predicted such a go-ahead to pay tolls direct to the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority.

The government move would void earlier State Department "advice" that American ships keep away from the canal until physical and negotiating hazards involved in reopening the waterway had been overcome.

Some American commercial ships are reported already approaching the canal, anticipating that the government will lift the ban within a few days even though Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser has refused to meet Western terms for operating the waterway.

The new American government attitude, officials said, would be made known about the time the Eisenhower administration officially informs the United Nations its confidential talks with Egypt have failed to yield a satisfactory settlement.

Such a report is expected to be made to the Security Council sometime this week. It will make clear the United States hope that further talks with Egypt will be held on the nine-month dispute which touched off fighting last October.

Report Improvement for Novelist Sagan

PARIS (AP) — Hospital spokesmen said novelist Francoise Sagan showed "definite improvement" today after spending a relatively quiet night.

The 21-year-old author of "Bonjour Tristesse" was injured seriously Sunday when her sports car overturned.

Although reporting Miss Sagan's condition improved, hospital authorities said it remained so delicate a complete diagnosis still could not be made, and doctors still feared to go ahead with any additional surgery.

The writer is known to have suffered a broken shoulder blade, several fractured ribs, facial cuts and possible skull and internal injuries. She underwent an operation yesterday to collapse a lung.

Although Mrs. Olson this morning expressed an "immediate" concern over the township's finances, she added that regular income is expected during the year to bolster the treasury.

She cited a total of approximately $200,000 in state sales taxes, $60,000 in township taxes due in December, $14,000 in liquor licenses, $36,000 in intangible taxes, and miscellaneous income.

Board Denies Rezoning of Barton-Cummisky

BIRMINGHAM — After another long discussion commissioners last night denied the Barton-Cummisky rezoning from residential to commercial. A second resolution was immediately adopted to set May 6 as a public hearing date on rezoning the area to a multiple family district.

The property under consideration lies immediately north of Oakland avenue between Hunter boulevard and Adams road.

George Cram, attorney for the petitioners, continued his argument for commercial zoning and declared "We asked for Business A and we still want Business A!"

He accused commissioners of going beyond their power and said that they "cannot control private property."

Officials were caught in the middle when an area resident made the charge that by rezoning they would disregard the desires of many and bow to the wishes of two.

Commissioner Florence Willett was named Monday night to represent the city on an informal committee being organized to plan the beautification of Shain Park and the civic center.

Birmingham's branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. has asked the city to work with them in a plan particularly adapted to the park area. They suggest certain phases of development which would include an organized shrubbery planting program, patios and benches and a general "cleaning up" of the area.

The Garden Club would like to incorporate the advice of several of the area's well known landscape architects. They also would like a program which would enable the residents of the city to underwrite the cost of certain plantings agreeable to the overall plan.

The 18th Congressional District Young Republicans will sponsor a meeting at 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the Birmingham Community House. It will be the key to the launching of a countywide membership and organizational drive.

Lawrence Lindemer, newly elected chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, will address the group.

The purpose is to encourage and enlist young Republican men and women throughout the county to begin work now for a complete Republican victory in 1958.

Eden Improvement Called Satisfactory

BOSTON (AP) —Sir Anthony Eden continued to show improvement today in his convalescence from major surgery Saturday for removal of a bile duct obstruction.

The 59-year old former British prime minister was able to sit up in bed twice yesterday at New England Baptist Hospital. Physicians reported his early response to the operation has been good.

His wife, Lady Clarissa is spending hours each day handling cards and letters from friends and well-wishers. Dozens of bouquets have been delivered to the hospital.

Yesterday's official bulletin from the Lahey Clinic—to which Dr. Richard B. Cattell, Eden's surgeon, is attached—said the diplomat had a satisfactory night with adequate sleep.

Many See Fireworks Set Off in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of spectators enjoyed a regular Fourth of July fireworks display on the Hudson River last night.

At the same time hundreds of other New Yorkers called police and newspapers to ask if the city had been attacked.

Two and a half tons of fireworks were set off from barges as a tribute from Japan to the U.S. World Trade Fair at the Coliseum.

Sudan Republic Africa's Largest

Belongs to Arab League and U.N.; Pro-Western in World Affairs

WASHINGTON — Only a few months old, the Republic of Sudan is the largest self-governing country in Afica. It is as big as the United States east of the Mississippi and almost four times the size of Texas, say the National Geographic Society.

It stretches 1,300 miles south of Egypt, straddling the Nile River. From the arid north through scrubland and savanna, it runs to tropical forests bordering Uganda, Kenya, and the Belgian Congo.

To the west stand Libya and French Equatorial Africa. The Red Sea and Ethiopia mark its eastern boundaries.

Sudan proclaimed itself independent January 1, 1956, after 57 years of joint British-Egyptian rule.

The Sudan is split, racially and religiously, between north and south.

The more highly developed northern area, from which the country is governed, is inhabited by some 6,000,000 Moslem Arabs, most clinging closely to the green banks of the Nile surrounded by desert.

The south, with more rainfall, supports perhaps 2,500,000 members of various tribes, many pagan, but with pockets of Christianity as a result of missionary endeavor. Herdsmen wander the plains with hump-backed zebu cattle.

Thus Sudan is oriented toward the Arab east and the Negroid south. It is a member of both the United Nations and the Arab League. In world affairs pro-Western, Sudan believes it has been hurt by the stoppage of the Suez Canal more than any other nation. Its cotton crop, a vital export, has been unable to move to European markets.

In addition to the long-staple cotton, grown on huge, irrigated, government plantations, Sudan exports other raw material, especially gum arabic, used as a base for adhesives, medicines, and candy. It imports the processed goods needed by a developing nation.

Sudan is important strategically. It controls the upper reaches of the Nile, Egypt's lifeline. Age-old caravan routes and Allied supply lines from World War II cross it. In the Nile it has a highway that extends into the heartland of Africa. And, where it borders the Red Sea, Sudan guards the edge of the Suez Canal trade route.

Hike in Fares OK'd by Lansing Council

LANSING (AP) — A bus fare increase from 15 to 20 cents was approved by the Lansing city council last night for the Lansing Inter-City Coach Line Co.

R. F. Mears, company president, reported to the council that during the past three months the bus company showed a loss of $8,658.

Approval of the fare hike, effective April 21, was approved by the council's transportation committee.

"In other major cities in Michigan," the committee report noted, "the fare is a minimum of 20 cents, and in many instances 25 cents."

Coin Box Vulnerable

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP) — Rutland city officials delayed installation of 1,450 new coin boxes for their parking meters after it developed that all the boxes could be opened with a key made from a tin can. Police reported more than 200 could be opened easily by hand. The mayor expressed doubts the new coin boxes provided "maximum security."

Something Gone Awry?

Pilate Bows to the Law

(Another in a Lenten Series)

Herod, Tetrarch of Galilee, having examined the defendant, Jesus, sued for permission to return the case to this court.

Following a conference between the Tetrarch and the Governor, this permission was granted. Court reconvened and Pilate stated as follows:

"Herod, having conducted a separate hearing of this cause, finds as this court found earlier, that there is no fault in the defendant. Now, therefore, the court proposes to release this man to the people, since it is the custom that one prisoner shall be released during this feast period."

Plaintiffs objected vehemently to this ruling, demanding that Barabbas — a prisoner held for sedition and murder — be released instead.

The court: "In accordance with custom then, I release unto you Barabbas as you request. What now do you suggest that I do with this defendant in whom I find no fault?"

Plaintiffs: "Crucify him!"

Calling for a basin of water, Pilate washed his hands publicly and said, "I am innocent of the blood of this just person."

Plaintiffs: (Hooting) "His blood is on us and our children!"

(Order was restored in the court by the guards.)

Plaintiffs: (Resuming) "We have a law and by our law he ought to die because he made himself the Son of God."

The court: "This point is acceptable."

(Initialed MG for Marcus Gaeto).

Appended to the report was this brief note:

"Sentence Executed — F. R." The initials were those of the captain of the guard.

But as Caesar was soon to learn the case was not entirely finished.

Police Find Huge Still After 3-Year Search

HARLAN, Ky. (UP)—The "white ghost of Straight Creek" has been destroyed. But it took nearly three years to do it.

The "ghost" is a 200-gallon still uncovered by officers Sunday on a small plateau near a mountain top in southeastern Kentucky.

Officers said the still, described as the largest of its kind found in Harlan County, had been in operation some three years, defying efforts of police to find it.

Mayor Gets Ticket for Careless Driving

NEW EGYPT, N.J. (UP) — The mayor and police chief of Plumbstead Township, John Inman, says he wants no special favors.

Magistrate Barclay P. Malsbury on Friday will hear a careless driving charge brought against Inman by one of Inman's patrolmen, Warren Byrne.

Byrne said he had no choice but to write the charge when his boss' car ran off the road and sideswiped a tree.

Said Inman, who just got out of the hospital after the accident: "I don't know what they will do with me."

To Ask Revenue Bonds

CADILLAC (UP) — The city commission is preparing a $1,000,000 revenue bond issue, to be presented to voters, for financing a new water filtration plant. Voters last November rejected a general bond issue for the project. Mayor Sol Young said final plans for the proposal were expected April 24, after a meeting with engineers and state health officials.

3rd Charge Filed Against Mayor

Claim Portland Official Made Copies of Illegal Tape Recordings

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—A third charge was filed against Mayor Terry Schrunk last night as five spools of tape recordings embroiled men on both sides of a vice controversy in Portland.

The 44-year-old mayor, previously accused of taking a bribe and of lying when he denied receiving the bribe, was charged with making copies of the tape recordings after seizing them in a raid last year.

That was when he was sheriff. He said earlier he had made the copies in case the originals were destroyed or stolen.

A grand jury said the recordings contained conversations obtained through illegal wiretaps, and that making copies of them was as illegal as making the originals.

The same spools have the mayor's enemy, Gambler Big Jim Elkins, 55, under indictment. He is accused in federal court of making the originals.

Selection of a jury for the Elkins trial is scheduled to start today.

Also scheduled to go into court today is Dist. Atty. William Langley, 41, who was convicted last weekend of failing to prosecute gamblers. He will move for a new trial.

Langley and the mayor assert they are victims of a frameup by Elkins.

All three earlier were witnesses in Washington, D.C., before the Senate Rackets Committee.

Bellhop Willed $500 for Kindness to Couple

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Bellhop Joseph Hughes was $500 richer today because he was nice to a California couple.

He was willed that sum by Mrs. Jessica Lehman, a former guest of the Palace Hotel in San Francisco, where Hughes was employed from 1951 to 1953. He now works at the Rice Hotel here.

Mrs. Lehman, wife of a wealthy printing firm owner, said in her will Hughes treated them "as if we were the king and queen of the Palace."

First commercial orchard for prunes was planted in California in 1870.

Grandson of Man Who Urged Lincoln to Run for President

Ike Pays Debt for Lincoln by Taylor's Appointment

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower has inadvertently paid off a political debt for Abraham Lincoln by appointing radio commentator Henry J. Taylor as our ambassador to Switzerland.

Taylor, probably the first world correspondent ever to be rewarded with a top U.S. diplomatic plum, is the grandson of Edward Livingston Taylor, an Ohio lawyer who signed and delivered to Springfield, Ill., a petition asking Lincoln to run for the presidency.

Taylor's grandfather, like Ike's close friend George E. Allen, could have written a book called "Presidents who have known me." He not only was a Lincoln devotee, but also a post-Civil War law partner of Rutherford B. Hayes.

Taylor and Hayes served together in the twenty-third Ohio regiment during the war between the states. Each was wounded four times, and both were mustered out on March 18, 1865.

Hayes, the first "dark horse" Republican presidential nominee, returned to Cincinnati after one term to practice law, and Ed Taylor became his Columbus law partner in the state capital.

The second member of the family to dabble in national politics was Taylor's son, Edward Livingston Taylor, Jr.—the uncle of Henry J. Taylor—who for many years served as a Republican Congressman from Ohio.

Henry's own father was also a Henry Taylor, but when the radio commentator was born his grandfather wrote him a letter urging him not to let himself be called "junior." "If necessary," he admonished the infant, "let them put the junior in the middle."

That explains the "J" in the middle of the moniker of the new ambassador-nominee. His real name is Henry Junior Taylor.

As a World War II correspondent, Taylor covered General Eisenhower's operations during the battle of Britain, the North African campaign, the invasion of France, and the conquest of Berlin. A firm friendship developed—one which may have helped inspire Ike's oft-repeated remark that he has never been let down by a foreign correspondent he has trusted.

Taylor, who calls himself a "born Republican" went with General "Wild Bill" Donovan to Kansas in 1936 to help write political speeches for presidential hopeful Alf Landon. Four years later, he lived with the late presidential aspirant Wendell Willkie during the Philadelphia convention that nominated Willkie, and worked for eight months on his campaign.

A long time radio broadcaster for General Motors Corp. until last December, Taylor lived in Charlottesville, Va., where he served as a trustee of the University of Virginia and a director of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation which restored and operated famed Monticello.

His only son, Henry N. Taylor (no Junior) is a reporter in Washington.

Accept Entries From Farmers in Corn Contest

Entries are now being received in the Oakland County Corn Contest, open to all county farmers without charge, according to Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent.

Trophies will be awarded the farmer raising the most corn per acre in both the senior and junior (under 21) classes.

Any farmer who raises more than 100 bushels per acre will be enrolled in the Over 100 Bushels Club. Second and third prizes will be awarded also.

To enter, a farmer must have a plot of one acre or more and agree to a soil test before planting. Contestants can use any procedure, fertilizer, and brand of corn they wish.

Official measurements will be made by a member of the County Crop Committee.

Entry blanks are available from the Oakland County Extension Service, or any grain elevator or seed or fertilizer salesman.

Last year's winners were Robert McCrary, of South Lyon, in the senior class, with 101 bushels, and Wayne Mosier, of Oxford, junior, with 92 bushels.

France recently has attained leadership among continental Europe ports by moving an average of 5,587,000 tons of goods monthly, Paris statistics show.

Mad Bomber to Die of TB?

Doctor Says Metesky May Fall to Disease Within Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—A doctor says tuberculosis may kill New York's "Mad Bomber" in a few weeks, or possibly months.

Dr. Albert LaVerne offered that opinion at a sanity hearing in Brooklyn's Kings County Hospital yesterday.

The bomber, George Metesky, was present at the start of the hearing. The 53-year-old mechanic from Waterbury, Conn., was strapped in a stretcher and had a gauze mask over his nose and mouth.

In the midst of the hearing he was seized with a coughing spell and was wheeled out for oxygen treatment.

"If these procedures are prolonged much longer," LaVerne told Judge Samuel Leibowitz, "your honor may have a corpse rather than a defendant on which to make a decision."

"He doesn't have much more to go," said Laverne, a Bellevue Hospital psychiatrist. "It is only a question of weeks. It may, however, go into months.'

Metesky is under indictment in both Brooklyn and Manhattan for attempted murder and other charges. He is accused of planting homemade bombs in New York public places over the past 16 years. Fifteen persons were injured, none seriously.

Doctors have found Metesky insane and said he should not stand trial.

Leibowitz reserved decision on the sanity issue until Thursday. He said his action would in no way interfere with proceedings pending in Manhattan. There a judge has declared Metesky sane.

Suggest Time Clock for Tax Collector

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ever hear of a politician punching a time clock?

Neither did Thomas W. Solomon, candidate for the Republican nomination of tax collector in nearby Penn Township.

But, says Solomon, that's his platform. He said if township officials install a time clock in the tax collector's office they would know "properly and accurately the amount of time that is received for the salary expended."

For years, it's been more or less of a tradition for tax collectors hereabouts to operate on whatever schedule they choose — just as long as they collect the taxes.

Charity Patient Given $300,000 at Age of 104

DETROIT (INS)—A 104-year-old rest home charity patient was awarded $300,000 yesterday from the estate of her millionaire daughter who tried to cut her mother off without a cent.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Van Etten, who raised ten children working as a charwoman, has been a patient at Haynes Memorial Hospital in Detroit for more than two years.

Probate Judge James H. Sexton's approval of the award climaxed a two-year legal battle in Wayne County and New York City courts.

The money will come from the $3 million estate of Mrs. Van Etten's daughter, Mrs. Agnes Momand who disowned her mother over 50 years ago "to seek a fortune."

Mrs. Van Etten said her daughter just "went and married some rich man." Mrs. Momand, who died May 25, 1955 in New York, was married six times.

Baseball Competition Is Our Way of Life

Today's the day all big league baseball teams will see action. Many of us, both young and old, have been waiting months for this very day.

Why?

The answer is simple: baseball is close to the spirit of our country. Competition tells the story of this nation. In industry, sports or just plain everyday living, the fight to gain supremacy is keen.

Baseball, like no other American institution, so thoroughly demonstrates, for player and fan alike, the fundamental precepts of our American way of life.

Just what are these precepts? They're hard competition, fair play, responsibility to others as well as yourself and finally, the freedom of choice.

During the regular season last year over 16 million Americans went to the major league ball parks to root for teams of their choice. They went to watch champions compete with champions.

This is what they saw: a new challenger to the immortal Babe's 60 home run record . . . almost a triple tie for the National League pennant . . . and, most important of all, the first PERFECT GAME in World Series history.

Yes, because of competition at work between players, teams and leagues, new baseball achievements are recorded every year.

Okay, Tigers!

We're all behind you.

Congress Must Decide Fate of Many Refugees

Earlier this month it had appeared from statements by U.S. officials in Austria, that all admissions of Hungarian refugees would taper off by April 15.

The State Department later said there had been no decision in the matter. But the news is that the U.S. will continue to accept only limited numbers of Hungarian refugees for the next few months.

These will include hardship cases, members of divided families and such persons as scientists and engineers. However, this will not ease to any large extent the fears of 38,000 Hungarians still in camps in Vienna awaiting chances to emigrate to the United States. About 30,000 more are scattered over Western Europe and 200,000 from other Communist countries are stranded in Europe.

Up to April 5 the U.S. had admitted 30,906 Hungarian refugees. Of these 6,000 came in under the Refugee Relief of 1953, which has now expired. The others were admitted as "parolees" under the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act of 1952.

On January 31 the President asked Congress to regularize the status of the 25,000 parolees and to continue to admit each year under the parole provision up to 67,000 "escapees who have fled or in the future flee from Communist persecution and tyranny."

Congress has shown its reluctance to put these recommendations into effect. So far bills introduced by both Republicans and Democrats are bottled up in Senate and House subcommittees. The situation calls for an early and thoughtful decision in this matter affecting so many distressed human beings.

Crisis Brews in Jordan

Taking advantage of the political crisis in Jordan, Syria has moved an armored division and troops into the northern part of that country.

Western diplomats have been expecting this dangerous Middle East development for some time. Should Jordan fall apart, there would be a mad scramble by Syria, Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Egypt for a piece.

Syria's bitter rival, Iraq, whose royal house is related to Jordan's, almost certainly would move in. Saudi Arabia's king is a blood enemy of the Hashemites who rule Jordan and Iraq, and his army no doubt soon would be on the scene.

Israel, in self defense, would feel impelled to take possession of that part of Palestine taken by King Abdullah of Jordan and annexed to Trans-Jordan after the 1948-1949 Palestine war. The present King Hussein, Abdullah's grandson, is strongly anti-Communist and pro-Western.

Jordan's recently ousted Premier Sulemein Nablusi is pro-Communist. For the moment his Nationalist Socialist party appears to have the upper hand and his Palestinian Arab supporters are in virtual control of the country.

When Britain ended a subsidy in Jordan, her Arab neighbors agreed to make it up. It is doubtful if they can do so—some don't want to. If existing strong anti-Communist sentiment doesn't prevail, informed sources fear that Jordan cannot last out the year.

The Man About Town

Was Snowbound

Local Man Was Passenger on Train Stuck in Drifts

Flint: What with some girls may be only a feint.

Home from a trip to Los Angeles is of 117 Henry Clay Ave. On his way there he was a passenger on one of the trains that was stalled in the snow drifts in Kansas. The passengers spent 39 hours without heat in the train, and some time in a church to which they had been transferred just before the train was dug out of the drifts. Mr. Turner was 48 hours late in reaching his destination.

Pledging $25,000 to Flint's college and cultural development are of Bloomfield Hills, who long have had business interests in that city.

Several, lured to Washington for the cherry blossoms, including of Clarkston, say the attraction is publicized beyond its merits. We agree with them. We have better blossom displays in the Pontiac area.

Qualifying for the U.S. naval reserve officers training corps is of Holly, whose dad also went places in his armed service career.

I like those traffic signs on the outskirts of Midland:

"Speeding doesn't pay—but you do."

The parakeet in the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Hammond

of Huron Gardens, is back after escaping for a week—and has forgotten its former vocabulary, but picked up some words that sound vulgar.

Perhaps there's something to think about in a letter from

of Rochester, who writes: "Glad that the entries have all been received in your baseball contest, so you can get back to normal."

Samples of the first wildflowers of the year come from

of Waterford, including snowdrops, violets and trillium buds.

In Rather Embarrassing Company

David Lawrence Says:

Judges Uphold Law, Not Sentiment

WASHINGTON — Wisconsin's Supreme Court has just distinguished itself by doing something which just a few years ago would not have merited any notice whatsoever.

The court actually examined the laws of the state of Wisconsin and couldn't find anything in them that says unions must accept Negroes in their membership.

LAWRENCE

So the court decided that, while it is just too bad that such discrimination exists, it isn't a violation of the law of the state nor of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Now, the members of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin could have reached around the world and found many a writer on sociological subjects who would have told them that failure to include Negroes in a voluntary organization of any kind is psychologically bad and creates a feeling of "inferiority" among those who are the victims of discrimination.

The court could have said that sociology is more important than law and that times have changed anyway and that the Fourteenth Amendment should be construed as requiring prohibition of any form of discrimination.

STICK TO LAW

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin, however, didn't do or say any of these things because the six judges, led by Judge Timothy Brown, who rendered the opinion, simply felt that they were bound to stick to what the law said and, if it omitted anything, they were not supposed to supply it. True enough, Judge E. T. Fairchild, the sole dissenting judge—who perhaps will be regarded by some observers as more "modern" than the other judges—did say the remedy should be supplied anyhow by the court. He wrote:

"To be the butt of social discrimination is unpleasant in high degree, but to be denied the economic opportunity to work out one's destiny as best he can, solely because of a racial or a religious difference, impairs the very substance of citizenship itself.

"Perhaps the degree of the impairment is so great and the character of the rights impaired so fundamental that the wrong must be recognized and remedied by the judicial branch even in the absence of action by the legislature."

JUDGE CANDID

Judge Fairchild is at least candid about what he would do. He has behind him, of course, the precedent established by the Supreme Court of the United States, which—in the desegregation decision of May 1954—brushed aside rules of law, precedents and previous decisions of the same court and decided the case on a sentimental basis.

But most judges feel they are bound by rules of law. It was Adolf Hitler who ordered his judges to decide cases on the basis of sentiment and not rules of law. There have been many instances of judicial usurpation in many countries based on the same theory.

If the people of Wisconsin, of course, want to end discrimination by organizations described as "voluntary," they can do so by a constitutional amendment.

STATE ACTION

Judge Brown pointed out that, from the language of the Fourteenth Amendment, "it would seem to be clear that only discrimination by state action is within its contemplation." He added:

"The present discrimination is by private persons acting privately. It cannot fairly be said to be the action of the state, and, therefore, its practice is not prohibited by the Fourteenth Amendment."

If the Supreme Court of the United States upholds that interpretation, it means that bus lines operated privately or schools or social clubs which exclude persons for racial or religious reasons are on safe ground in doing so.

If, on the other hand, the highest court in the land says that even "voluntary" organizations cannot discriminate on a racial or religious basis, then the way is opened to compel all labor unions, as well as those exclusive clubs which enjoy some measure of tax protection, to admit anyone otherwise qualified.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Let Somersaults Replace Slumping on Tuberosities

"You are old, Father William," the young man said,
"And your hair has become very white;
"And yet you incessantly stand on your head —
"Do you think, at your age, it is right?"

"Whenever our family get together you are sure to hear: 'But Dr. Brady says —.' One daughter is a teacher, I hope she'll learn more about nutrition from the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health than she has learned from college instructors and textbooks. Two other daughters have young children. Thanks to your teachings, they don't bundle the children.

"Your column was missing several days, but readers raised plenty of heck, so now it is printed apparently without deletions. We would like to know how old or young you are. God Bless You. (Mrs. — )"

A lot of short-lived old stiffs have never taken my somersaults (forward rolls) seriously. I take 'em seriously—at least I take 'em first thing every morning.

On March 26, I was 77. So if you're smarter than I am, and who isn't, you may ascribe my somersaulting to senility. If it took 40 years of regular morning rolls to make me an old geezer, how come so many sexagenarians are so decrepit, they dare not try it?

BETTER THAN RESTING

Forward rolls are not strenuous, but even moderate physical activity is better than resting on your ischial tuberosities or slumping on your sacroiliac amphiarthroses. Activity lessens the tendency to lose calcium with advancing age, which explains most of the frailties of old age.

Another queer notion of mine is that clerical workers, sedentary folk, business and professional people are usually shallow breathers; they should run a mile every day or as far as they can without getting winded. Or at least, they should try belly breathing every day.

This is not "deep breathing — in the usual sense, nor is it chest breathing. It is bellows breathing—natural breathing that boosts circulation. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet How to Breathe.

Belly breathing is one of the 7 Keys to Vite. The other six are all described in Volumette 16 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health titled The 7 Keys to Vite — for a copy, send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Interference by In-Laws Causes Many Divorces'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I wish that in-laws would stay out of young people's married lives. They don't know it, but in-laws cause more divorces than there would be if they would let us live our own lives. You lived your life, let us live ours.

Fans Defending Tiger Showing

Don't worry about the Tigers. As soon as they get that .190 hitting Tuttle on the bench where he belongs and Small in the outfield, they'll look real pert and chipper.

Louise

These ten cent fans that are writing off the Tigers make me sick. The year the Tigers had their greatest record in the South, they finished a dull, dismal and absolute last. Detroit will be second or third. Mark that down and bank on it.

Praises Efficiency of City Forces

This is to express my deep gratitude and appreciation for service rendered me by the Pontiac firemen, police department and General Hospital. Their services were most prompt, taking only about six minutes to answer the call and do all the work, and I just wanted the people of Pontiac to know about it.

'Why Fuss So Over Carlotta?"

Why make so much fuss over this Carlotta person? It seems that she thinks she is really teronderful. Some agree, some don't. Personally, it doesn't matter to me either way. Why not use this column for letters of interest instead of the promotion of a person infatuated with herself?

Readers Discuss Killing of Dogs

I just wonder what the man who killed the dogs would have said if his dog had crossed on his neighbor's land and had been shot several times with a rifle, and how he would have liked to listen to his cries and howls. It is not a very pleasant sound. A man must be very hard-hearted who can do this to a dog that is doing no more harm than making a few tracks in the snow.

The person who calls himself "Call of the Wild" must be a vegetarian, for all of us "stalk" in one way or another if we eat anything that is alive, even though someone else did the dirty work.

I have never seen a dog arm himself with a high-powered rifle, take off for the North Woods and kill for the sport of cutting off the head of a lovely deer to decorate his house. I have never heard of a dog poisoning a human. Any dog getting into mischief is usually the fault of the owner. What a pity it is that among us are those who have to direct their hate against something.

Favors Variety at Drive-Ins

I agree with D.S. about wanting a choice of movies at the drive-ins. Even if they would show older pictures and each one show something different, it would be better than driving to Detroit for variety. Downtown theaters never show the same bill. Why do drive-ins?

Replies to Letter About Israelis

In answer to E. K., there are not "eight Arab nations with valuable and vital oil." Of the seven major Arab nations, only three are oil producers of any consequence, namely Saudi Arabia, Iran and Iraq. These nations are just as anxious to sell that oil as purchasers are to buy it. Closing of the Suez Canal has hurt them greatly.

Israel, whose culture and ideas parallel ours so much more than the Arabs, has resisted Communist infiltration and subversion. Israel was the aggressor only to the extent that the U. S. was when it became exasperated with Pancho Villa's raids into U. S. territory, and finally took punitive retaliatory action, involving movement of troops onto Mexican soil.

The West refused to sell arms to Egypt because it did not wish to sponsor an arms race. And Egypt wanted them for offense, not defense. Israel wants peace.

Israel has a legal and moral right to use the Canal. Egypt has reneged on its promise in the pact of 1888 of unhindered passage of all nations' ships, both in peace and war. Israel has fulfilled the armistice terms. Egypt has not, sending civil and military administrators and illegally occupying the Gaza Strip.

Ancient Israelis were not aggressive enough to protect their homeland and it fell time after time. Since the Romans until 1948, there was no Israel. Israel is fighting for the right to exist; she has no imperialist ambitions. She wishes peace with an avowedly hostile neighbor that wants to destroy her utterly. Israel wants peace but not at the price of destruction or slavery. The price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Is Gift to Please Child or Parent?

Dolly's case is unusually interesting. Who wants the Shetland pony? And is it the son or the dad who generally craves electric trains? Beware lest you overly indulge your children with luxury toys which you vainly desired throughout your own youth. And be doubly cautious about ponies. Mrs. Crane and I went through this experience with our five youngsters, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-356: Dolly A., aged 9, is a cute little blonde girl.

"Dr. Crane, what do you think about our giving Dolly a Shetland pony for her birthday next month," her mother eagerly inquired.

CRANE

"All throughout childhood I wanted a pony, but never could afford to have one.

But now my husband and I have enough money to indulge our daughter and I think a pony would make an ideal gift, don't you?

"Besides, we live outside of town and have about two acres of land, so we have ample space for the pony to graze."

QUEER PEOPLE

We parents are rather queer people, aren't we? For example it is Dolly's mother who wants the Shetland pony perhaps more than Dolly does.

And many fathers buy electric trains for their young sons; then monopolize those toys to the dismay of the youngsters:

Pets are very good for children, especially of the youngsters desire them and are willing to work for such luxuries.

Our five Crane children were eager to have a pony, too. And, like Dolly's mother, Mrs. Crane and I thought it was a great idea, perhaps because we had always had a longing for a pony during our own childhood.

So we put our O. K. on the plan, but we insisted that the older children help pay for the pony.

Mrs. Crane even drew a sketch of a pony and then crosshatched its body into many blocks.

Some of these were labelled with one cent and other with five cent as well as ten cents. As the children paid off their share of the pony's price, they could fill-in the squares.

Thus, they had a visual chart on the kitchen wall to indicate how much of the pony they owned and how much was still of the I. O. U. sort.

SMART CHILDREN

But they soon got wise to the fact that it made a better showing to fill-in the one cent squares instead of the ten cent blocks, for a dimes would cover 10 of the one cent squares

Anyway, we got the pony, and for a brief time it was their pride and joy. But in a few weeks the novelty wore off.

And for years we kept that pony on our Indiana farm. It seldom was ridden unless we had guests with youngsters.

We also learned another thing that we hadn't anticipated, namely, that the hoofs of Shetland ponies are as hard as ivory and grow rapidly.

One day we found the pony lying in the pasture, unable to get up. Her hoofs were so long they protruded like skis.

And we didn't dare cut them back immediately to their normal size, for blood vessels had grown into the elongated hoofs and they were so tender she winced.

So beware about ponies. Unless you keep them in constant use on gravel roads, you'll always have a problem about pruning their hoofs.

Despite the fact Grandpa Miller used to be a blacksmith and had his blacksmith's tools, we never could keep our Shetland pony in good shape.

Thus, we came to the belated conclusion that it would be far wiser if 5 or 10 families would go together in the purchase of a pony and then rotate the animal around among all the stockholders.

Then the pony's hoofs would stay worn down to the right size and all the children would probably retain a greater interest in the creature.

But all of us parents should be careful lest we shove upon our children expensive gifts that we have longed for in our own youth.

Sometimes that very unsatisfied longing proves a better goal throughout life than its realization:

For unrequited urges often are the motive forces that prod us into greater success in the long run.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20¢ to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

2. The Hidden Treasure

The legends of the Easter Egg are many. Easter Egg rolling is an old custom in Europe and it is done in America, too, notably on the White House lawn.

Hunting for hidden Easter eggs is a favorite custom in many lands. Often, rabbits and elves are shown in old pictures of an Easter egg hunt.

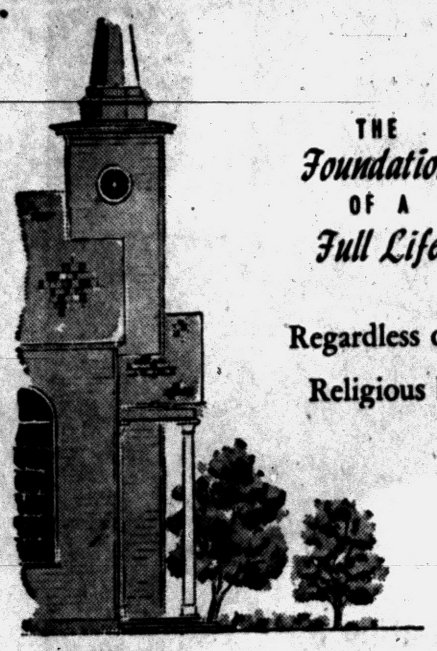

Here is an elf who has found a hidden treasure. Hunting through the tall grass he has climbed up on a big mushroom, peeked over the edge and discovered a treasure trove of colored Easter eggs.

You can color these eggs to suit yourself, using bright rich colors for the elf's suit. Color the mushroom a softer tint, leaving the spots in white.

When you have finished coloring the picture, add it to the one you did yesterday for a set of Easter pictures.

CMC Students Poll Against Voting at 18

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Students at Central Michigan College—most of them under 21 themselves—don't favor reducing the minimum voting age to 18.

But the biggest opposition in a campus poll came from coeds 21 years old or over. About 61 per cent in that age bracket voted against it. Men under 21 were split, with 50.2 per cent in favor and 49.8 opposed.

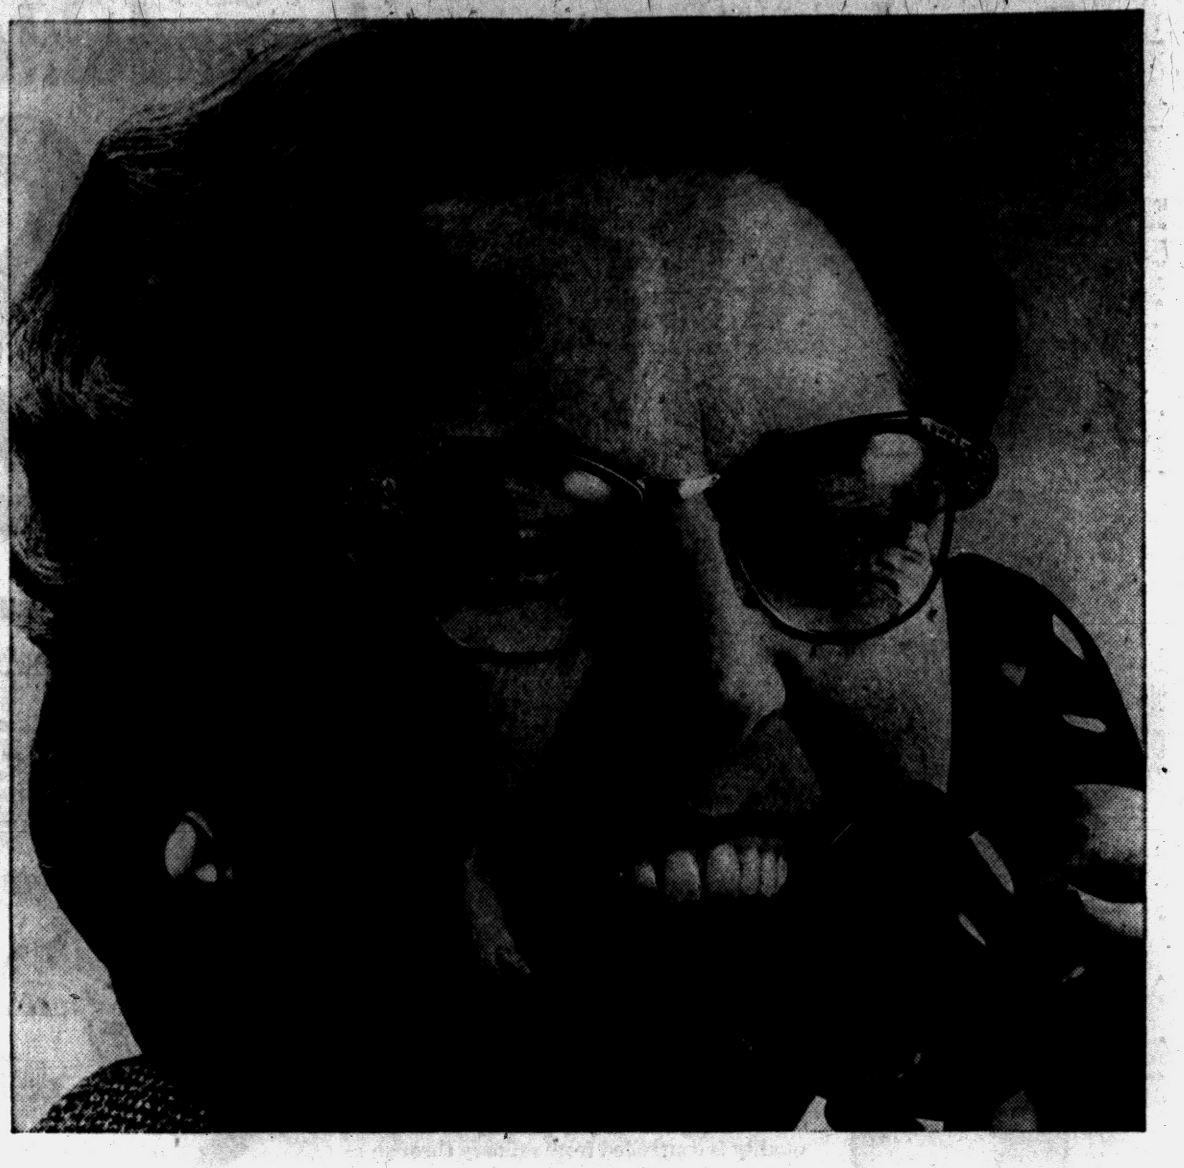

Of 863 students polled, 49.6 per cent voted against, 40.6 per cent voted yes and 9.8 per cent were undecided. About 75 per cent of those taking part were under 21.

The survey was made by Austin Knapp, associate professor of political science, for State Sen. Roy (R-Hancock), co-sponsor of a resolution now before the legislature to lower the voting age to 18.

AF Struggles With Human Factor

NEW YORK (INS) — How much longer is the aircraft designer going to tolerate, and be restricted by, the human operator? We took this awesome puzzler to Brig. Gen. Joseph D. Caldara, director of the Air Force's Flight Safety Research. Turned out to be the right man.

The military airman of the jet age travels at speeds which require of him correct, split-second decisions, to err means death — generally.

Caldara, a former SAC commander, is charge with (A) finding the cause of Air Force accidents and (B) guarding by varied means against a repetition.

It is big business. The blowout of a tire on a jet fighter's takeoff could cost, in addition to the life of a pilot whose training cost perhaps $100,000, the amount of a plane which might have a price tag of a quarter of a million dollars.

The cost of takeoff accidents alone between last October and the beginning of this month ran to $21,000,000. The total cost of all military accidents over the past five years has claimed about 5,000 lives (including 2,000 pilots).

The dollar cost, unstated by the Air Force, must be well over a billion dollars.

If we were to enjoy the same advantage of "kills" over losses as we experienced in Korea, the fighter aircraft we lost in accidents last year would be able to account for over 6,000 enemy aircraft in combat. But a dozen Air Force accidents combined get only a fraction of the publicity attending one commercial smash.

The Air Force accident rate is astonishingly low, considering the number of planes always aloft. But the number of deaths per accident has gone up steadily as speed increased.

In 1921 there were only 506 major accidents per 100,000 hours of flying. Today there are only 15. A quarter of a century ago the Air Corps had one fatal accident for every 13 major crackups. Today there is a fatal accident for every five smashups.

When the Air Force realized that a stern percentage of all final words heard from pilots about to die in crackups had to with changing their wave bands for landing instructions from the tower, it was deduced that this had something to do with the man's turning his head back to the left and down, to reach the proper instrument.

Lab tests proved this induced dizziness on turns, so the gadget was relocated.

The anti-collision blinker on top of the fuselage, over the cockpit, reflected off fog on bad nights with such a rhythmic beat that it was hypnotizing certain pilots, giving others nausea which caused them to lose control of their craft. The light was placed on the tail of planes.

MID-AIR COLLISIONS

The Air Force had 58 mid-air collisions last year in which 61 highly trained men were killed and milions in equipment was lost. Why? Well, at 600 m.p.h. a plane travels 88 feet in 1/10 of a second.

If two planes are approaching head-on at that speed, it may well require the pilots 5/10ths of a second to cmprehend the possibility of a collision, by which time the planes are much closer — requiring another refocussing of the eyes and new brain impulses.

A decision must then be made and implemented, which requires more time. The plane controls need time to respond, hardly two seconds to be sure, but remember the rate of closure is 1,200 m.p.h.

Thus, if two aircraft were on a collision course at 600 m.p.h., they would be a mile and a third apart just four seconds before colliding. All decisions and functions would have to be attended to in just under that time to avoid death.

Gen. Caldara is not ready to write off the human pilot as inadequate. For the jet age, however, he would like to see him start in jets and stay there, getting himself in tune with his job from the start.

He wonders if it wouldn't be wiser for the airlines which are going to get jet transports in a couple of years to retire most of their old propellor-driven pilots from flying and begin training a whole new breed of plane jockeys with none of the habits and inhibitions of prop men.

"A jet never forgives a mistake," he told us. "Those who fly it must be quicker, smarter, better-trained, with always better and better instruments to increase their foresight and prompt their horsesense."

Artificial Heart Model Unveiled

Water-Powered Replica May Soon Take Job of Ailing Human Organ

CHICAGO (INS) — A water-powered mechanical heart that may some day take over the job of an ailing human heart has been unveiled in Chicago.

While such an artificial plastic pump for replacing the diseased heart has long been envisioned, the device developed by the U.S. National Heart Institute is the first practical model.

The plastic heart has human heart dimensions. It is about the size of two fists placed together, and is made of the same plastic (polyvinylchloride) used in dolls and other toys.

It has four chambers of flexible plastic—two ventricles and two auricles, just like a real heart. Fitted in the chambers are thin vinyl valves to keep the blood flowing in the right pattern and a plastic ring connection for hooking the chambers into the human blood circulation system.

Surrounding the chambers is a stiffer plastic container with a tube that would lead outside the chest wall. A miniature hydraulic pump attached to the tube would send water pressure into the container to compress and decompress the chambers, just as the heart muscle does in the human heart.

The plastic heart pump was developed by Dr. Selwyn McCabe of the University of Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand. Dr. McCabe, who is a visiting researcher at the U.S. National Heart Institute in Washington, worked with Dr. Robert Bowman, chief of the Laboratory of Technical development at the heart institute.

Dr. McCabe cautioned that the plastic pump is not yet ready for human use. He said the device first will be tried out on dogs.

A firm in Hull, England, has a $300,000 American order for frozen fish fillets.

They're Looking for Money, Security and Leisure

Modern Collegians Shun All Idealism

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — University students, traditionally, once were idealists and dreamers. When the last page had been turned on the last textbook, they always knew they could grasp the world by the tail and make it do polite, gentle tricks.

Money was slightly below their immediate dignity. That would come later, by virtue of diligent and noble effort. There was something exhilirating about the idea of working hard, something challenging in the hope of being "discovered" by success after proving one's abilities.

That's how it was, if creaky memory is honest, in the 1930s and '40s. Under the mortar boards walked poets and philosophers. Not economists, realists.

Today the picture changes. Somewhere deep in the innards of the college senior is a ravenous small ulcer, which cries out to be fed on coin and security rather than stardust.

And the first question a student will ask a visiting newspaperman or woman is not, breathlessly, "Do you think 'The Bugle' might hire me?" — but instead, calmly, "What's the wage scale at 'The Bugle'?" Then, "Do they have a retirement policy?"

WELL CHARTED PATHS

Probably it's a healthy sign. Surely these are kids who have their paths charted more clearly than their recent predecessors, many of whom learned—a bit too late for luxurious comfort—that they were living in a society where money makes beautiful music.

Certainly, when the four-day work week comes about, as it must, these are the people who will know what to do with their leisure time.

Unlike earlier generations of college students who could scarcely wait for the time when they'd work exhaustively toward success, these are perhaps the smarter ones. They sense that money buys leisure, and that leisure buys happiness; so let's get a job where the wages are high, the retirement early and the vacation benefits lengthy.

The whole idea saddens Dr. William Hall, director of the University of Nebraska School of Journalism—one of many professors I've talked to who are disturbed about the trend.

"The students are sharp. A few could be great reporters," said Hall, "and there's a crying need by newspapers all over the state—and, I presume, others—for fresh talent. But that's not what the students want.

BIG MONEY BETS

"They're looking for jobs in industry, editing house organs, public relations or advertising. They consider those better bets for the big money, and what they want is security."

The lure of the fire engine has gone for many of today's journalism students. The dramatic dream of writing a political column, of being a crusading editor, of exposing the wrongs of the world—all vanished.

First, as every student has heard, you must do obituaries. Then, perhaps, you cover the school system or, worse, club meetings. After all that, general assignments.

"It takes an awful long time to get ahead, doesn't it?" one senior boy asked. "And then, if you do make the grade, do you make any real money?" He laughed.

Engineers start out at a hundred a week, he pointed out, and a publicity outfit offered him twice the beginning salary he could get on a newspaper.

There is nothing you can say to that, when you are of the old school who genuinely enjoys work and doesn't quite know what you would do with three days off in one week—except, possibly, grow old and dull before your time.

INVITES SMIRK

For to explain to a youngster of today that money is not as important as a job that makes you feel fresh and alive every a.m. is to invite a smirk. And to express the opinion that too much leisure creates boredom, rather than bliss, would label you a back number.

So you keep silent and hope they won't be to disappointed with their potentially sedentary and secure new careers.

Traffic Laws Apply to Horses, Cars Alike

ALLEGAN (INS) — A horse is a "vehicle" whenever it travels a county highway, says Sheriff Walter Runkel in answer to complaints that motorists have frightened saddle horses along county roads.

He explains that horses and riders are subject to the same laws as motor vehicles and accorded the same privileges. Runkel asks horsemen to ride on the right hand side of the road and obey traffic laws.

The sheriff also cautions motorists to be courteous to horsemen along the highways. "Serious injuries may result if cars are 'gunned' or horns are tooted when passing horses on the highway," Runkel explains.

Disturbing Parties Held by Neighbor

Woman Considers Going Next Door, Asking for Quiet

By EMILY POST

A reader writes: "Just recently I read a letter in your column from someone who wanted to know how she could get her guests to be more quiet when the hour was late so as not to disturb her neighbors. She is very thoughtful and considerate person and I only wish she were my neighbor.

"My next-door neighbor has no such regard for us. She has friends in almost every night of the week and they stay up half the night talking, laughing and sometimes singing.

"Many a night I have been tempted to knock at her door and ask her please to be more quiet, but my husband would not hear of it, saying that I have no right to tell people what to do in their own houses. Would it be bad manners to do as I suggested, or must we put up with this noise and say nothing at all about it?"

Answer: On a night when the noise is especially loud you could go over and say, "I'm very sorry to interrupt you, but could you be a little more quiet? My husband has to get up very early in the morning and the noise is keeping him awake."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I was criticized by a friend for saying 'thank you' whenever a man friend lights my cigarette for me. She said that a man is expected to do this for a woman and therefore no thanks are necessary, and that, in fact, it is improper to say it. Am I wrong in saying a quiet 'thank you' when this is done for me?"

Answer: Of course not! The first rule of politeness is to say "thank you" for any act of courtesy shown you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I recieved a birthday card from a friend recently and enclosed in the card was a single handkerchief. I didn't write and thank her for it. Was I wrong not to have done so?"

Answer: One should always thank the donor of a gift whether it be valuable or simple.

Composer Relates Background for Orchestra Group

Tells Tale of 'Chippewa Symphony'

Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner unfolded the story of the "Chippewa Symphony," which she had been commissioned to write for the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, at a meeting Monday of the Woman's Association to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

Those gathering at the home of Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson on Watkins Lake were told of the attributes of the Indian of this locality — his quietness, his humor, his religion and his sincerity.

The Chippewa was chosen since his were the tribesmen who actually trod the Pontiac soil. Historical notes written in 1915 by Francis Densmore were of great help, the composer said.

Perusal of these volumes, written and musical, showed that Indians danced to n rhythm and sang in another, she pointed out. The beat of the drum against the motion of the dance gave a counterpoint rhythm. Their harmony was derived from a five-note scale having no fourth or seventh note.

IN 3 MOVEMENTS

The work has been written in simple eight bar form, in three movements: exposition of characters; expansion of counterpoint into a whole-tone scale, and dream song.

The symphony opens with the timpani giving an audio-picture of an Indian village in the stillness of night. The French horns sound the call to awaken. The oboe portrays the stirring of the villagers, swells with flutes and trumpets into a trumpet solo expressing the arisen village awake to the duties of the day.

The forest background, swaying of boughs and flitting of forest folk, is given by the violins in constant motion. The mother — introduced by the cello — calls to wake her boy, presented in the music of the piccolo. The end of the first movement finds the 12-year-old hero just realizing he is alone in the great forest of life, and overcome with fear.

TEMPO QUICKENS

In the second theme, adventures of a growing Chippewa are brought out by the counterpoint of bassoon and tuba, clarinet and violin. The boy and the harmony develop, until the French horn is heard announcing that the widely hunted raven is near at hand and the chase is on.

The third movement of Celia Merrill Turner's Chippewa Symphony opens with a pause or coma representing development of the adolescent. Then we hear the melodious Dream Song, which theme is known as Gawitayak's Death Song, a real Indian folksong. Through its beauty we realize the Indian lad has attained the final dream of manhood.

In the crescendoes of the final rhythms are shown the village, the forest, the mother, the father, the villagers, as they will be woven into the life of this Chippewa man.

Assisting Mrs. Sampson during the social hour were Mrs. Roland Gegoux and Mrs. Joseph Bennett. Mrs. Helen Teitgen presided at the tea table.

Whip Milk for Gelatin Dessert

Mrs. Varion Puts Frozen Berries in Cream Cheese Mix

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Many stores are featuring frozen strawberries as bargain items right now. Buy some and make the following delicious refrigerator dessert. Mrs. Joseph Varion served it recently to her Bridge club.

Mrs. Varion is a nurse. She belongs to the Oakland County District Nurses Association. This year she is chairman of the Public Health Department. Her hobby is china painting.

Berry Refrigerator Desert
By Mrs. Joseph Varion

1 large or 2 small boxes frozen strawberries, thawed
3 (3 oz.) packages cream cheese
1 cup sugar
1 large can (1⅔ cups) evaporated milk, chilled
1 package strawberry gelatin
1 package vanilla, lemon or orange wafers, or ginger snaps
¼ pound butter or margarine, melted

Make gelatin with one cup boiling water and one cup of juice from the thawed berries. Let chill to consistency of egg white.

Beat cheese and sugar together. Beat chilled milk in a chilled bowl with chilled beaters. Add to gelatin with cheese mixture. Fold in strawberries. You will need a big bowl to hold all this, Mrs. Varion warns.

Roll cookies into crumbs and mix with melted butter or margarine. Line 9x12 pan with crumb mixture. Pour gelatin mixture into pan. Chill. Cut in squares to serve. Makes 12 servings.

A few crumbs may be saved to sprinkle on top. Or you may use a dab of whipped cream and a single strawberry for decoration.

This recipe may be used for frozen raspberries and raspberry gelatin; with cherries and cherry gelatin; or with frozen peaches and any kind of gelatin you prefer.

Try not to eat when you are tired or upset. Your food will not digest properly and you won't derive the nourishment from it that you should.

Shoulders Square, Abdomen Flat

Six Exercises Will Keep Men Fit

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The most usual masculine figure faults are the bay window, poor posture and sagging shoulders. Exercise can do a lot to keep the shoulders square and handsome and the abdomen flat. Today I want to give you some exercises planned especially for men.

1. Men like the punching bag exercise. In this you simply pretend to be punching a punching bag. Do this strenuously, using both arms. This is a builder and toner for arm and chest muscles.

2. The following exercises will square the shoulders: Stand tall. Lift the arms sideward, shoulder height, palms facing the floor. Lower the arms about 6 or 8 inches. Raise the arms back to shoulder - height position. Continue lowering and lifting, just 8 inches.

3. Another one for the shoulders: Assume the same starting position. This time make small circles with the arms, at the shoulder-height level. Circle backward for a while and then forward.

4. This one will deflate your bay window: Lie on the floor on your back. Raise the right leg up with a straight knee. As you lower the right leg raise the left. One leg moves down as the other moves up. After starting do not touch the heels to the floor but bring them close to the floor.

To break that bay window: Lie on the floor on your back, raise up and try to touch the ties with your fingertips.

5. Another for the abdomen: Again lie on your back on the floor, legs straight and arms resting on the floor overhead. Raise the arms and trunk and both legs and touch the fingertips to the toes or legs, whichever you can. Return trunk, arms and legs, to the floor, the knees are straight throughout this exercise. Continue.

6. Another to break that bay window: Lie on the floor on your back, raise up and try to touch the toes with your fingertips.

If you would like to lose from 7 to 12 pounds in 12 days time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Tubby Hubby booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mrs. Nixon Fixing Up New Home

Lots of Arranging to Do, Even After Moving In

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Lucky indeed was Pat Nixon to be able to settle at once in her new home when she returned with the vice president from their 20,000-mile trip to Africa without having to face the big headache of a moving day.

But there's still plenty to be done even though the transfer of furnishings and belongings from the old, smaller home to the new $75,000 21-bedroom English Tudor job was all taken care of by friends, the senior Mrs. Nixon, and daughters, Tricia and Julie, during the couple's 23-day absence.

There'll be a lot of rearranging, trying-out, possibly some changes in color schemes, exchanges of new furnishings, and of course, new purchases, before Pat is completely satisfied with her new setup.

Mostly, however, the handsome new residence pretty nearly follows Pat's blueprint as far as design, interior decoration and new furniture is concerned.

SEEMS SATISFIED

She decided on colors before she left on her trip and she seems satisfied with the job a young Washington decorator, John Greer, did in following her wishes.

The first floor, for instance, is in the exact shade of light aqua blue she loves. Full, floor-length draperies in the drawing room are of the same shade.

The use of this new shade in the downstairs rooms, according to Greer, is in keeping with the trend to lighter, more subtle tones.

He adds an interesting note, most likely indicative of the Nixons' feeling on the same subject:

"Since the war we've been through a phase where everyone thought in 'temporary' terms," he said.

"Any color would do, because it was only temporary. Now we're more confident and we think in terms of permanence.

Areme Chapter Initiates Two, Plans Dinner

Announcement of a dinner with Brotherhood Lodge, scheduled for 6 p.m. April 30, was made. Appointed to the entertainment committee were Lester Oles and Harry Vernon.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Samuel Wiscombe, Mrs. A. Robinson, Mrs. John Kennedy and Mrs. Leo Perkins.

DAR Told Patriots 'Under Fire'

Russell, Knowland Address Delegates at Annual Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution were told by their president general today that "any great patriotic and conservative organization will be under fire in these critical times."

But, said Mrs. Frederic A. Groves of Cape Girardeau, Mo., "we have every reason for pride in the accomplishments of our national society. . . We have a magnificent record of service."

Mrs. Groves, a member of the DAR for 24 years, made the comment in a prepared report of the year's activities at the first business session of the five-day 66th Continental Congress.

It came during a brief reference to a "controversy" in Denver, Colo., "during February concerning the use of the U.S. flag by a Mexican boy."

A Lincoln's Birthday program was canceled in Golden, Colo. after a Denver official of the DAR said she thought "Mexican" boys should not carry the American flag. The remark by Mrs. Charlotte Rush touched off a nationwide reaction. She resigned as patriotism chairman of the Denver DAR chapter and issued an apology, but maintained her remark had been misunderstood.

The DAR congress opened officially last night with a greeting sent by President Eisenhower. The colorful session in Constitution Hall got under way beneath a huge American flag, unfurled from the ceiling. Principal speakers at the opening session were Senators Russell (D-Ga) and Knowland (R-Calif).

By today, 2,800 delegates and alternates had been officially registered, with a total attendance of 4,000 predicted.

Mrs. Groves, who is presiding over her first congress, predicted that national dues may have to be increased because the DAR has become a "big business" with a record membership of 185,997 and "expanding operational costs."

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Elects Officers for '57

The group also made plans for the Founders' Day Banquet April 24 at Devon Gables at the recent meeting.

Friendliness Leads to Promotion

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The other day a friend of mine got a promotion for which several younger and better-qualified women had tried out. And the reason is one from which we could all learn plenty.

In her early 50s, May is a woman who never worked outside the home until just two years ago. It wasn't easy for her to find a job.

"After all," she told me, "I was just a housewife. I had never worked, even before I was married. I had never finished high school; as a matter of fact, we were married real young. But with Bill being sick so long, we needed the money badly."

May studied typing at home and became very proficient at it. She applied for several temporary jobs and got one in a smallish office of a lamp manufacturer. The entire staff consisted of about 30 people.

May was classified as clerk-typist. She worked hard enough, and was conscientious, but that isn't why she got the promotion.

WILLING WORKER

Among other things, May owrked with the salesmen, filed their reports and helped route their trips while they were on the road.

She did this under the eye of the secretary to the sales manager—a hard-working executive secretary type, who farmed off all the tedious jobs on May.

But May did them cheerfully. Moreover, she got along well with the salesmen and kept them out of each other's — and the boss's—hair.

The other girls were very friendly and often asked May to lunch.

"But," May told me, "I never heard so much gossip. They knew all that was unpleasant about everybody.

"I never heard people engage in such below-the-belt discussions. And it wasn't only the girls; the boss and his secretary and all the salesmen talked the same way.

JUST TOO NEGATIVE

"My friends tell me that people are all like that and that it doesn't mean a thing. But I don't like it. If you spend all your time accentuating the negative about everybody, it does you no good, let alone them.

"So," May went on, "I began to play a game. I decided that I would find something good to say about everybody, no matter how hard it was!

"Sometimes the only thing I could think of that was good was something about how well she looked in blue, or what good taste he had in ties, or what pretty teeth!

"I didn't get noisy or Pollyannaish about it—it was just a game I played, trying to find something good to say about them all.

"After a while the boss's secretary left to get married and he offered me the job.

" 'Everybody likes you,' he said, 'and that's more important to me than stenography.'

"How about that?"

U. S. Women Dye and Diet to Compete With Crowd

Men Aren't Responsible for This Fight Against the Ravages of Aging

By RUTH MILLETT

Did you know that you are one of the unhappiest women in the world?

You didn't? Well, a group of Japanese gentlemen put their heads together in Tokyo and came up with the startling news that American women are the unhappiest women in the whole, wide world.

What makes 'em think so? They say, for one thing, that in order to humor our men we American women "have to go on diets and dye our hair."

We do fall for every new-fangled diet that comes along. And it's amazing how few women today have gray hair to show for their years.

But here is news for the gentlemen of Japan. We aren't forced into dieting and dyeing by our husbands.

We fight to hold onto youth, not so much in order to hold onto our men, as to hold onto jobs and to be able to hold up our heads among women.

I'd like to tell the Japanese gentlemen a little story which happens to be true.

A housewife who had let her figure go and her hair become streaked with gray suddenly got a dye job and enrolled in a course guaranteed to streamline the figure.

She didn't do it for her handsome husband. He apparently liked her as she was—a little gray, a little plump, but a happy, good-natured wife.

Why then did she decide she simply had to get rid of the gray hair and the excess fat? Why, because she was going to a college reunion, and she was determined to look as young and trim and pert as the rest of the women who were her college classmates.

That's how it is. Career women struggle against the telltale signs of age because they are competing with youth in the business world.

And housewives starve themselves and dye their hair because they want to look as young as any woman in their crowd.

The men aren't responsible for the anti-age battle we American women are forever waging. It's our own doing. And truth to tell, it's kind of fun.

We would be unhappy if we were ever forced to give up the fight and look our ages.

Volunteer Unit Picks 2 Officers

Two new members have been appointed to the board of the Central Volunteer Bureau of the Pontiac United Fund.

Mrs. Raymond E. Meggitt was elected secretary of the board and Mrs. James Green of Drayton Plains was appointed publicity chairman.

In preparation for the annual meeting to be held in May, Mrs. David MacLaren of Drayton Plains was appointed nominating committee chairman. Assisting are Mrs. C. M. Shelton, Mrs. William Shunck, Mrs. Ralph G. Bump and Mrs. M. D. Shelton.

The Central Volunteer Bureau was formed to recruit volunteers for social welfare agencies and institutions in North Oakland County. At present there is a need for volunteers who will drive their cars on Motor Aide assignments.

The bureau also is seeking groups who would be interested in a landscaping project at the Pontiac State Hospital.

Romeo Hearing Set

ROMEO — Village officials face a hearing in Macomb County Circuit Court next Monday to determine the validity of an amending ordinance rezoning the 4.3 acres offered as a site for the proposed Community Center.

Temporary restraining show cause orders, plus a summons and bill of complaint were served on Village President Joseph E. Rymill yesterday at his office in Mt. Clemens.

Plaintiffs in the suit are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Church, whose home is located across the road from the property in question.

Council members voted, some six days after a public hearing, to rezone the plot from residential to multi-occupancy classification which covers community building. The vote was 5 to 1.

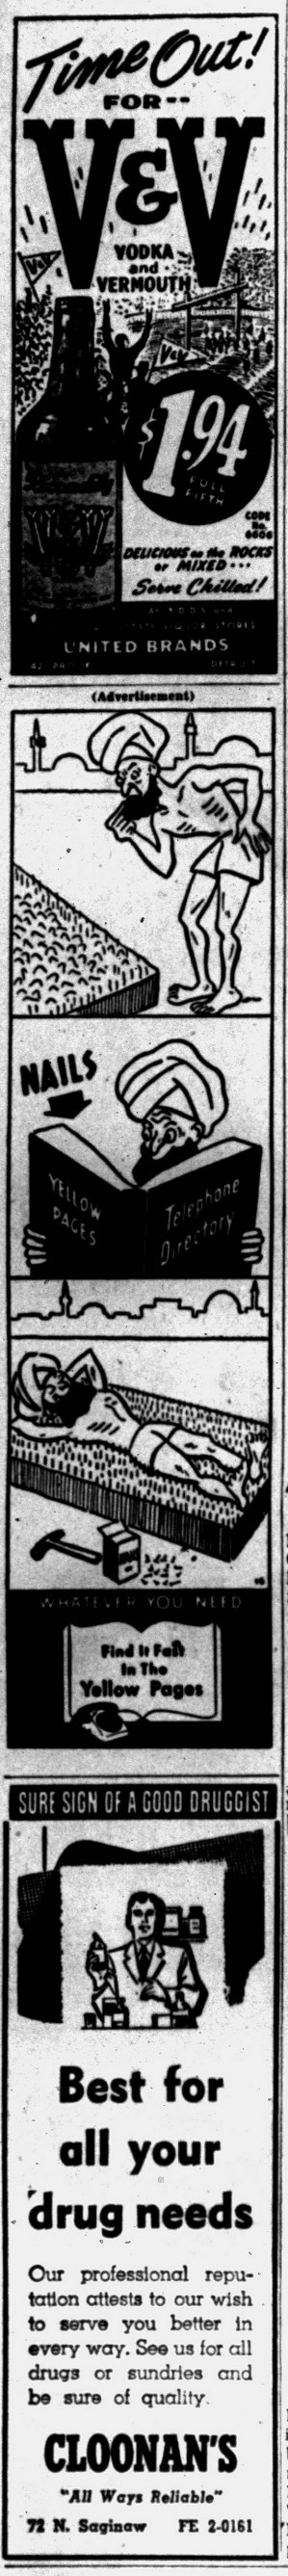

The Churches and their neighbors had signed a petition — presented at the hearing — basing their protest upon "spot rezoning" of the property.

The restraining order enjoins the village from issuing a building permit for the erection of any edifice on the lot in question for any purpose other than residential.

Unknown to the complainants, the building permit was issued last Saturday and work continues on the site today.

The village is also restrained from enforcing or permitting the enforcement of the amendment to the ordinance.

Council members will meet in special session at 7:30 tonight to decide a course of action.

Senate Bill Asks License Photos

Motorists Would Have Pictures Taken When Applying for Permits

LANSING (AP) — A bill to require imprinting of a motorist's photograph on his drivers license reached the Senate floor today.

Its passage was recommended yesterday by the Highways Committee. The bill was reported by unanimous vote at a meeting attended by four senators.

A fee of 25 cents could be charged for making of the photograph, which would be taken at the time of application for a license.

Supported by tavernkeepers, chain stores and merchants, the bill was criticized at a hearing last month by a spokesman for the Automobile Club of Michigan.

A parade of proponents said it would help protect their clients from fraudulent check artists. The automobile club said the motorist should not be saddled with this burden, and have to pay the admittedly nominal extra expense.

There was some support for the bill from police officials, including Joseph A. Childs, state police commissioner.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) and Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) said chances of winning Senate approval for the measure were strengthened by a separate development last night.

They referred to Senate action in striking out of another bill a provision that would have doubled the fee for a drivers license renewal, making the charge $3 instead of the present $1.50.

The proposed increase was taken out of a bill to make minor revisions in the new program, instituted Feb. 1, to require students to take driver education courses in school as a condition of obtaining a drivers license.

Arraign Warren Official

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Louis A. Kelsey, president of the City Council at suburban Warren, stood mute Monday at his arraignment on a charge of perjury before the one-man Macomb County Grand Jury. A plea of innocent was entered for him by Circuit Judge Howard R. Carroll and he was released under $1,000 bond pending trial. The grand jury has been investigating charges of bribe taking and other misconduct by Warren officials.

Pleads Guilty to Arson

THREE RIVERS (AP) — Albert A. Wagner, 36, pleaded guilty Monday to arson in a fire at his estranged wife's home April 1 that caused $25,000 damage. Circuit Court Judge Mark S. Andrews set bond at $10,000 pending sentence at a later date. Wagner admitted setting the blaze which spread to the house next door and destroyed both homes.

Hollywood Headlines

Big Houses Are Symbols of Success in Movieland

(Editor's Note: This is the second of six articles on Hollywood in the old days.)

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — On the living room wall his current girl friend's picture was framed by an object oval in shape and designed for a more utilitarian purpose.

The chandelier was an inverted baptismal fount, admittedly stolen from a church being renovated. You entered the house through a tunnel and a shaft, which was topped by a regulation manhole cover in the center of the living room. He served highballs in soup bowls.

This partially describes the craziest house I ever visited in Hollywood. It was built by Jack McDermott, a scenarist.

A house is a sign of success in movieland. Big success, big house. Harold Lloyd, who made it before high taxes, still maintains a mansion in Beverly Hills, the taxes on which, last time I checked, were $18,000 a year. Not far from him is an older, and larger house, which Thomas H. Ince built in the Twenties. Its scores of doors were fitted with gold plated door knobs.

When Norma Shearer and the late Irving Thalberg lived on the ocean front at Santa Monica, they had the usual appurtenances of Hollywood success — six-car garage, oversized swimming pool, projection machine recessed in the living room and the only sound-proofed light-proofed bedroom I ever heard of.

When Norma told me about that on a visit, I used the old gee whiz approach that I'd learned in South Dakota and said I couldn't believe it. So she took me upstairs, pressed a button that rolled up some windows and slid heavy drapes over them. Then you couldn't hear the surf booming 50 yards away and you couldn't see your hand in front of you at midday.

When Ralph Bellamy and Frank Conroy came here in the 30s, they weren't making enough money to buy a house so they rented one in the hills. It had been built for some scholarly character by Frank Lloyd Wright. In the living room were, by measurement, 268 feet of book shelves. I remarked that the place looked pretty bare with no books. Ralph and Frank went immediately to a second hand book store and bought 268 feet of books. In assorted colors, naturally.

The most fabled of all movieland homes was Marion Davies' beach "cottage." It had 24 bedrooms and the same number of baths. But there also were living quarters for servants, who numbered 32. Some of these servants spent their time keeping the 37 fireplaces clean. The cottage is reputed to have cost a mere 1¾ million dollars when built in the 20s, and the furnishings, imported from all over the world, four million.

Still a showplace — we always take visitors up Summit drive in Beverly Hills to see it — is Pickfair, which Mary Pickford and Doug Fairbanks built in the 20s. It is rambling wood and stucco leaning toward colonial. The room I like best is a basement rumpus room which is a replica of an old Western saloon. It is the only informal room in the house.

Week-Long Campaign Aimed at Informing Area on Disease

Plans have been completed for the Waterford Township Cancer Crusade Week, April 24 to 30, according to Mrs. Gerald Lewis and Mrs. John Naz, co-chairmen.

On April 25, "Man Alive," a life-saving cancer film will be shown in a Division Educational Trailer, located in front of the Pontiac State Bank, Drayton Plains.

A cancer program will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 30 at the CAI building and Dr. Rockwood W. Bullard will be present to answer questions regarding cancer, after the film showing of "The Other City."

Arrangements have been made to provide cancer education programs at the Junior and Senior high schools in Waterford Township, in the health and biology classes.

Most of the local churches, dairies, theaters and stores are cooperating in distributing and displaying informational materials during the Cancer Crusade Week, according to Mrs. Lewis.

Youthful Wives Fail to Impress Representatives

LANSING (AP) — Girls may be smarter than boys, but they can't handle responsibility any better.

That appeared to be the conclusion arrived at by members of the House last night in a 15-minute debate over a bill to allow married women from 18 to 21 to enter into contracts without approval of an adult.

Rep. Thomas Whinery (R-Grand Rapids), the sponsor, said the bill was aimed at cutting away red tape in financial transactions involving young married couples.

He proposed that young wives, but not their husbands, be permitted to sign contracts because "everybody knows girls are brighter than boys and their judgment matures more rapidly."

"I don't know about that," said Rep. Frank D. Williams (D-Detroit). You should see some of those poor husbands who come into Common Pleas Court in Detroit and have to pay up the big bills run up by their wives."

The House backed Williams in rejecting the bill, 15-72, the biggest licking any House bill has taken so far this session.

Announce New Plant for Cleveland Press

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Press has announced that ground will be broken Friday for a 10 million dollar, four-story newspaper plant scheduled for completion in October 1958.

Charles E. Scripps, board chairman of the Scripps-Howard newspapers and grandson of E. W. Scripps, who founded the press in 1878, will turn the first shovel of earth at the three-acre site on the northeast corner of East Ninth St. and Lakeside Ave.

The new building, said the Press, "will virtually double the space available for all departments" and "the plans include provisions for future expansion.

The present Press building at East Ninth St. and Rockwell Ave. has housed the newspaper since 1912.

Life Savings Stolen

DALLAS (AP) — A. C. Mallory, 44, a cement finisher, last night reported his life savings of $7,800 were taken from a hiding place under his house. He said the money was in two pint fruit jars suspended in a pillow case under a hallway trap door.

Tigers Open Season Today; Orioles Edge Nats

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Nowadays when the umpire yells "play ball" the radio and television commentators always retort, "Yes, and its time to fill up your glass with your favorite beverage."

And it's no wonder, when the broadcasts and telecasts of every one of the 16 Major League teams is fully or partially sponsored by a different brewery.

Pittsburgh, long time sponsored by a gasoline and a cereal company, is the latest and last to join the fold of the stein-and-pretzel way to hear and see a ball game.

The Pirates gave up the "Breakfast of Champions" as a sponsor and now split the commercials with high octane hops and fire brewed ethel.

Can't you just hear an announcer in the first half of the game saying, "It's time to tune up your car," and in the last five innings, "Now it's time to tune up yourself."

Speaking of airing the games for the coming season, it's interesting to note the makeup of stations on each club's network.

The largest network of stations belongs to the St. Louis Cardinals with 68 followed by Cleveland with 52.

Other American League cities show Kansas City with 48, Boston with 45, Detroit with 43, Baltimore with 39, New York with 36, Chicago with 35 and Washington with nine.

In the National League behind St. Louis are Cincinnati 46, Milwaukee 39, Chicago 20, Brooklyn 19, Pittsburgh 19, Philadelphia 15 and the Giants with seven.

Kansas City is the only club which does not televise its games.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

It now appears that All-State and All-County fullback John Walker of Walled Lake is heading for the University of Michigan.

Ed Heikkinen, present Pontiac High baseball coach and ex-gridder from the University of Illinois will make up the core of assistants for Jesse MacLeay, the Chiefs' new coach. MacLeay arrives in town today and will be the guest of civic leaders at a reception Wednesday afternoon.

Frank Lary Gets Call as Bengals Meet A's

LARY

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers should learn in their season opener against the Kansas City Athletics today whether the recent changes afield and in the front office mean the club has been re-organized or is just mixed-up.

The experts predict big things for the jazzed-up Tigers—a second place finish behind the New York Yankees for their best showing in seven years.

But Jack Tighe, Detroit's new manager, and moreover Detroit's new owners, realize the Tigers must get off to a much better start this season then they did last year.

It wasn't until the second half of the campaign last season that Detroit went into the drive that pulled it to a fifth place finish in the American League race.

The Tigers open their 57th season with the general merriment dampened somewhat by a 10-18 spring exhibition game record. Heartwarming to Tighe, the owners and the fans, however, have been the individual performances of such players as Ray Boone, Charley Maxwell, Frank Bolling, Harvey Kuenn and pitchers Don Lee and Frank Lary.

Lary, who led the American League with 21 victories last season, faces sidearmer Tom Morgan in the opener. (2:30 p.m. EST). About 31,000 people are expected to attend the game. The weatherman says it'll be cloudy and not too cold.

The Athletics will be handicapped by the loss of two of their top players. First baseman Vic Power and outfielder Harry Simpson are sidelined with injuries.

Simpson, who led the team last year with 21 home runs and 105 runs batted in, pulled a tendon in his ankle during an exhibition game.

In the general shakeup Tighe will make these changes over last year's starting lineup: Bolling for Reno Bertoia; Boone for Earl Torgeson with Jim Finigan replacing Boone at third; Maxwell for Chick King and Red Wilson for Frank House.

Tighe also has switched Kuenn from the leadoff to the third position in the batting order, Kaline now bats in the cleanup position, Boone goes sixth and Tuttle bats seventh instead of fifth.

Paul Foytack probably will pitch tomorrow's second game against the A's. Billy Hoeft, the Tigers' ace southpaw who won 20 and lost 14 last season, will be the choice to start the home opener in Detroit Thursday against Cleveland.

The Tigers said yesterday that the home opener will be televised since all 57,000 seats have been sold.

It will be the first time an opening game in Detroit has been televised.

The game will be carried by a regional network of six Michigan stations and one Ohio station. The Tigers previously announced that 37 other home and road weekend games would be televised.

| DETROIT | KANSAS CITY |
|---|---|
| Frank Bolling 2b | Irv Noren 1b |
| Jim Finigan 3b | Milt Graff, 2b |
| Harvey Kuenn ss | Lou Skizas rf |
| Al Kaline rf | Bob Cerv cf |
| Charles Maxwell lf | Gus Zernial lf |
| Ray Boone 1b | Hec Lopez 3b |
| Bill Tuttle cf | Hal Smith c |
| Red Wilson c | Tom Morgan p |
| Frank Lary p | Joe De Maestri ss |

'Triple-Player' Dies

EAST ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Ernest H. "Red" Padgett, who won major league baseball fame for an unassisted triple play in 1923, is dead at 58.

AP Wirephoto

ORIOLE UPSET — Pitcher Skinny Brown of the Baltimore Orioles takes a tumble covering home plate as Roy Sievers of the Washington Senators slides in with a run in the 4th inning yesterday. No. 14 is Clint Courtney of the Senators, waiting to bat. Brown went to the plate when a wild throw from the outfield got by catcher Gus Triandos.

Ike Unhappy as Senators Lose Opener

Throws Out 1st Ball, Then Sees Baltimore Win in Overtime, 7-6

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opening day, 1957, smashed a Baltimore jinx and for 24 cherished hours, at least, put the Orioles in an unaccustomed perch atop the American League.

Under the eyes of President Eisenhower and 23,871 other spectators, the Orioles edged Washington, 7-6, in 11 innings yesterday at Griffith Stadium. It was the first opening-day victory for the Orioles since the league accepted them as members in 1954.

And since all but Washington and Baltimore waited until today to swing into action, the triumph advanced the Orioles to the head of the class with a 1.000 percentage. With the favored New York Yankees and others about to get going, odds are steep they won't stay there long.

Carl Powis, 29, a rookie up from San Antonio, drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly, but Gus Triandos, the huge catcher, was the Orioles' real muscleman. Triandos slammed a two-run homer to give Baltimore a temporary 6-5 lead in the seventh. He also shot two across with a fifth-inning single and added a double for good measure in Baltimore's lucky 11th.

Billy Loes, who worked the two overtime innings, received credit for the victory. He was the fourth Baltimore hurler.

Camilo Pascual took the loss. He followed Bob Chakales, who stuck around through seven innings in which Baltimore cracked out 10 hits for 6 runs and overcame a 5-2 disadvantage.

The outcome, by all appearances, didn't overjoy the President.

Eisenhower performed the traditional ball-tossing ritual from his first base box to get the game under way and sat through the entire 3 hours and 17 minutes of play. But he has said folks should go out and root for the home team—and after Washington lost he commiserated with Calvin Griffith, club president.

At least one Eisenhower was happy. The President's older brother, Edgar, came to cheer for the Orioles. Edgar Eisenhower, a Tacoma, Wash, lawyer, became a Baltimore fan while vacationing this spring at Scottsdale, Ariz., the team's training site.

The Orioles were set to entertain Boston in their home opener this afternoon, while the Senators traveled to New York to engage the Yankees.

Bruins Confident of Victory

MONTREAL (AP)—The first thing the Boston Bruins did when they arrived for tonight's Stanley Cup game with the Montreal Canadiens was make hotel arrangements for Saturday's seventh game. That's like a 90-year-old gent signing up for a trip to the moon.

Both the Bruins and grandpa may be long gone by that time.

Still, the Bruins obviously were fired up, grinning and jaunty to the point of cockiness as they checked in for tonight's fifth game in the best-of-seven series for the National Hockey League's grand prize.

Trouble is, they're trailing 3-1 in the set and once again must face the Canadiens in the feared Forum after saving themselves from oblivion with a 2-0 victory in Boston Sunday.

Only one other club, Toronto, win the cup after losing the first ever has come slamming back to three games of the final series. That was in 1942 when the Maple Leafs swept the last four games from Detroit.

Coach Milt Schmidt, confident his Bruins can win tonight, take the sixth game at Boston Thursday to square it and then come back here Saturday for the finale, said "we've got a capable team. We stopped the Canadiens Sunday and we were getting our passing working."

"We're up for this game and we're out to take it."

Coach Toe Blake of the Canadiens summed up Montreal's failure to sweep the set in four straight in five words:

"Our power play was lousy."

Blake, who also sounded off about some "cheap" penalties called against the Canadiens by referee Red Storey, added "we didn't have the drive and we've got to get it back or we'll be in for real trouble."

In reference to Storey, who generally is greeted with a fan chant of "Storey is a bum!" in Montreal's Forum, Blake took exception to a high-sticking penalty against Canadien defenseman Dollard St. Laurent Sunday.

"It was a cheap call," said Blake. "It was called high-sticking, but Jack Bionda of the Bruins did a high-sticking job five times and was penalized only once."

Chiefs Score Early to Down Oaks, 8-6

The Pontiac High baseballers scored eight runs in the 1st two innings and held on the rest of the way to hand Royal Oak an 8-6 defeat at the Oak diamond yesterday. Bob Garrett was the winning pitcher with some excellent relief help from Charley Honchell. Bud Hayward led the offensive with two hits. PHS committed six errors afield. Chiefs are now 2-0.

The seven coveted titles are senior men's singles (35 years of age and over), men's singles, women's singles, men's doubles, mixed doubles, junior boys singles (18 and under), and boys' singles (15 and under).

Guatemala Eyes Pan-Am Games

GUATEMALA (AP)—The head of the Guatemala Sports Federation said today that he still hopes to bring the 1959 Pan-American Games here if Cleveland decides it can't hold them.

Julio Illescas, the federation chief said he would "speak with President Castillo Armas."

"The President would have the last word, of course,' he said.

Both Guatemala and Brazil were waiting for some definite word from Cleveland. In Detroit, Douglas Roby, U. S. Pan-Am Games head, said he hoped to hear from Cleveland officials today on their final decision.

Cleveland officials have said that they cannot stage the games unless they get an appropriation from Congress.

Cranbrook Netters Win

Pete King defeated Bob Davis in the final match to give Cranbrook's tennis team a 4-3 victory over Royal Oak Monday at Cranbrook. King conquered Davis in three sets, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3. It was Cranbrook's 2nd win in four starts and the 1st loss in four outings for Royal Oak.

Romeo Wins on Homer

A three-run home run blast by Dick Meyer in the opening inning of play took care of all the scoring as Romeo blanked Avondale by a 3-0 count yesterday. Roy Williams hurled the shutout although allowing seven hits. Loser Larry LaForge gave up just four.

Begin Spring Drills

'M' Gridders Rusty After Layoff

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Scrape away the winter-long rust and Bennie Oosterbaan should find another polished Michigan football machine.

But the rust is there in thick layers, that's evident.

Oosterbaan put his Wolverine charges right to work at yesterday's opening session of spring practice and the 94 candidates trotted through their basic plays like they had never seen them before.

Linemen bumped into one another instead of tossing routine blocks at the canvas-covered dummies. Butterfingered backs bobbled the pigskin so frequently it seemed the ball was coated with grease.

"This looks more like a basketball game," someone remarked, "but they're not doing a very good job of dribbling."

Oosterbann started scraping the rust immediately.

"We'll scrimmage Wednesday or Thursday and have another one Saturday," he said.

By then the squad of 94 should be pared to a workable margin. Oosterbaan will know who wants to play football and who just came out to say they were once on the team at Michigan.

Oosterbaan didn't seem too concerned with the ineffectiveness of the first day. It's not too unusual after a long layoff and many top-ranked players were busy competing in spring sports.

"Our prime objective in the spring is to find out who the football players are," Oosterbaan said while pawing divots out of the Ferry Field turf with his foot. "And then we have to find the place they're best fitted for."

"We might experiment some and we might make some transfer of positions. We usually do in the spring, but it's too early to tell right now."

The initial workout was devoted entirely to the T-formation's belly series.

The plays were Michigan's bread and butter in the late season wins over Iowa and Illinois last year. Oosterbaan said work will begin shortly on Michigan's standard single wing.

1st Softball Meeting

The 1st meeting for managers or representatives of women's City League softball teams is scheduled Wednesday night at 7:30 in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office, City Hall.

Any team wishing to enter the women's City League softball program this summer should be represented at this meeting. League organization, contracts, practice fields, rules and other regulations will be discussed.

LINCOLN — Nebraska and Minnesota will resume their football rivalry in games signed for the 1959 and 1960 seasons.

Clarkston Nine Whips Hawks in Opener, 5-1

The Clarkston baseballers opened their season with a 5-1 triumph over visiting Ortonville in a ragged contest Monday afternoon. Each team made 4 errors.

Freshman Bob Porritt paced the Wolves' attack with three of the home team's six hits. John Uloth had a pair for the losers. Dave Gaddis fanned 12 and allowed only three hits in five innings to gain the decision. Jerry Wilmot finished.

Ortonville ..... 010 000 0—1

MUCC Reorganization OK'd

Votes Move to Lansing

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan United Conservation Clubs directors, representing 60,000 state members in 264 affiliated clubs, have voted to reorganize and move headquarters to Lansing under an executive director.

About 100 directors and chairmen attended a bi-monthly meeting at the Grand Rapids headquarters. They voted to authorize their executive committee to set plans in motion.

Harry R. Gaines, secretary-manager of the MUCC, said it seeks to consolidate its offices under one roof in Lansing with Michigan Out of Doors, MUCC magazine. The move was recommended by a special study committee on reorganization.

Gaines said there was little chance of moving the headquarters to Lansing before the first of next year.

The group voted to create the office of executive director to manage all business affairs of MUCC and the magazine. Victor Beresford of East Lansing, president editor of the magazine, has announced his candidacy for the new office.

Light-Heavy Crown Satterfield Target

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Chicago slugger Bob Satterfield aimed his big fists for the light heavyweight title today after giving Ben Wise a quick knockout lesson.

Satterfield weighed 184, Wise 193½.

Satterfield flattened the Oakland, Calif., boxer in 1:22 of the first round last night and immediately afterward his manager, Ike Bernstein, announced:

"We plan to box for Archie Moore's light heavy crown, inasmuch as all the top heavyweights are ducking us. Bob can trim down to the 175-pound level easily."

Hamtramck's Steplitis Pitches 1st No-Hitter

Senior lefthander David Steplitis of Hamtramck St. Ladislaus recorded the 1st area no-hitter of the young baseball season by blanking Roseville 1-0 in seven innings yesterday.

Hoover Continues Unbeaten in ABC

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, edged Chicago's Adolph Carlson by four pins last night to remain unbeaten in the 1957 American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament.

Hoover, who won the All-Star tournament in 1950 at the age of 21, got off to a slow start with 159, but came flashing back with lines of 212, 256 and 205 for an 832 total. Carlson, 59, a member of bowling's hall of fame, tossed a creditable 828.

'Cemetary' Gets Chance to Caddy at Spokane Club

SPOKANE, Wash (AP) — "Cemetary," 51- the caddy from Augusta, Ga. who was replaced recently as the President's personal caddy, has an invitation from Spokane's athletic round table.

The group, which has, through the years, indulged in many nationally noted antics, announced today it is inviting "Cemetary" — who answers to the full name of Willie Perteet — to caddy in the first National Seniors Open golf tournament here August 15-18.

Ed Dudley, the professional of the Augusta National golf course, replaced "Cemetary" earlier this month — in favor of a "younger" man.

WOMEN LEADERS — Leading threats for the Press Bowlerama women's championship which will be decided Saturday are this trio of Mrs. K. Pargo, left, Lois Fletcher, center, and Gerry Weber. Each won top qualifier trophies by being 1st at the three tourney qualifying locations and now have their sights set for that $200 title prize plus a handsome desk set. Eleven women remain in the running. Mrs. Weber rolled the women's high of 664.

Leading Qualifiers Named

Six persons certain of competing in the championship round of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama tournament Saturday were named yesterday as the leading qualifiers among the 494 men and women entries who bowled at the three qualifying sites during the past two weekends.

Top men were Howard Compton (694), Lee Miller (687) and Frank Pavlinac (683). Pacing the women were Gerry Weber (664), Mrs. K. Pargo (637) and Lois Fletcher (617).

All go into the finals at Huron Bowl already certain of taking home a handsome trophy and $5 with a fine opportunity to add another $400 or $200 and another trophy.

The complete list of eligible qualifiers for the finals will be printed in the Press Wednesday or Thursday depending on when the official check of averages is concluded. The prize list will be printed tomorrow.

Times for bowling and the presentation of awards will be announced later this week. Approximately 51 men and women comprising the top 10 per cent of the qualifiers at each alley will compete in the finals.

Recruiting Drive Planned by Rohr

CHICAGO (AP) — Northwestern's new basketball coach, Bill Rohr, is going to conduct a strong recruiting campaign in Ohio and Illinois.

Rohr, who coached at Miami of Ohio the last six years, yesterday spoke against the Big Ten's recently adopted financial aid plan and said "I hope it will be rescinded or alleviated so we can go out and recruit like before."

Women Tankers Eye Indoor Marks

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — It's open season today on women's indoor swimming records as America's finest compete in the three-day National AAU senior women's indoor swimming and diving championships.

Only two defending champions are missing — Mary Jane Sears in the breaststroke and Wanda Werner in the 100-yard freestyle. They represented the powerful Walter Reed Swim Club of Washington, D. C., at last year's meet at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Following qualifying heats finals will be held tonight in the 100 - yard freestyle, 250 - yard breaststroke, 200-yard backstroke, 400-yard individual medley and 1-meter diving.

Entered in the freestyle event is Shelley Mann, of Walter Reed, who apparently isn't satisfied with just being the world's best women's butterfly swimmer. She won a gold medal for the United States at the Olympic Games in Melbourne.

However, she finished out of the money in the freestyle at Melbourne and says: "I have to prove to myself that I can do better."

Shelley will have plenty of competition from Molly Botkin, 13, of suburban Sherman Oaks, who already has equaled the women's AAU indoor mark of 58.5.

Patty Kemper, 14, of the Kristenson Swim Club here appears to be a good bet to take over the 250-yard breaststroke title vacated by Miss Sears. Patty's best mark is 3:25.9., a long three seconds from Miss Sears' American and AAU record of 3:22.1. set last year.

For team honors the Walter Reed Club is in strong contention, although many of last year's members have retired. Last year's champions — the Lafayette Swim Club of Indiana — is perhaps the best balanced. Experts also say the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club has a good chance.

Seek 3rd Track Win

Chiefs Oppose Grosse Pte.

BY GUY MOATS

Final preparations for the big nationally-rated Mansfield O. relays, this weekend will be effected today by the defending titlist PHS thinclads. Chiefs take on a strong Grosse Pointe squad that lost only one meet in 1956, at 4 p.m. today at Wisner's track. Results of this meet will determine the makeup of the traveling squad for Mansfield.

Coach Dean Wilson's crew is seeking its 3rd straight dual victory today, having disposed of Flint Central and Waterford. Both opponents offered stiff resistance, and the Pointe was not expected to be any less difficult.

"Grosse Pointe has a good team and can give us a lot of trouble" Wilson commented this morning.

But the Pointe mentor, Howard McAdam, wasn't as optimistic. "We lost a lot of our best talent" Howard reported. "We have most juniors left, and no really outstanding boys. Only five lettermen were left."

Todd Price, hurdles, Ken Gutow and Bruce Boardman in the 440, 9th grader Terry Donovan in the dashes, are his best hopes, McAdam says. Pointe won its only outing, 72 2-3 — 36 1-3 against Highland Park.

Chiefs' starters will be about the same, in most events, as those who worked in the Waterford meet.

Suspension Hits Ewart Potgieter

BOSTON (AP) — Ewart Potgieter, 6-2, 330-pound boxer from South Africa, was under suspension in Massachusetts today as a result of a doctor's plea that the young giant needs medical treatment.

Dr. Oscar Hirsch, who operated on the boxer for a pituitary gland condition affecting his eyesight last December, said Potgieter requires treatment "to assure he is cured for lifetime."

The Massachusetts boxing commission suspended Potgieter—and sent notice to other state commissions — when it was unable to locate the former farmhand.

Potgieter later was located at a motel in Vancouver, Wash., with his manager, Johan Eloff, who expressed surprise at the commission's action.

Finsterwald Fires Ace in Tournament Tuneup

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, here for the Tournament of Champions golf tournament opening Thursday, fired a hole-in-one in a practice round on the Desert Inn course.

The Bedford, Ohio, pro scored the ace yesterday with a 5-iron on the 178-yard fourth hole. The ball landed about a foot and a half from the cup and rolled in. Finsterwald finished the round with a five-under-par 33-34—67.

7th in Passenger Volume in Nation

Willow Run Air Terminal Enlarged at $70,000 Cost

YPSILANTI (AP)—Willow Run airport, serving metropolitan Detroit, is being expanded and refurbished at a cost of $700,000 while more and more people fly in and out of the nation's fifth largest city.

Robert E. Miller, president of the Airlines National Terminal Service Co., which runs Willow Run, said the overhaul is slated for completion July 1.

Willow Run is ranked seveth in passenger volume in the United States. Miller says a record 2,410,272 passengers either boarded or terminated flights in Detroit last year, and his figures for the first two months of 1957 show nearly a 12 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Since the hangar-type airdome began its improvement program last October, much of the renovation has been completed. But Miller says there is much face lifting left to be done.

When the job is finished, the airport terminal will have a false ceiling, new floors and waiting benches, canopied entrances, a combination snack and liquor bar, a cafeteria converted from the present coffee shop and an enlarged restaurant.

Both the north and south concourses, where passengers walk en route to planes, heave been heated and re-floored. The south concourse has been extended to make room for seven additional planes.

Miller says Willow Run now has 450 scheduled flights a day operating from its runways. Eleven passenger airlines and one freight line use the facility. Plane movement amounts to about one every three minutes, Miller says.

Miller's company is a combine of seven of the larger airlines using the airport. It leases Willow Run from the University of Michigan. The University operates a research center at the east side of the airfield.

Soybeans Drop, So Does Wheat

CHICAGO (AP) — Liquidation continued in grain and soybean futures in active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat futures, which wiped out all the gains of the previous week in yesterday's session, dropped fractionally at the start. Trade authorities said longs appeared to be selling out, although there was nothing in the overnight news to account for it.

Corn was off around a cent in some cases early, and oats and soybeans dipped fractionally.

By the end of the first hour most prices had improved somewhat. Wheat was ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.22¼, corn was ⅛ to ⅜ lower, May $1.29½, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 71⅞, rye was ¼ lower to ½ higher, May $1.29¾, soybeans were ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, May $2.41½, and lard was unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $14.55.

Electric Power Use Gains in Past Year

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Edison Co. said today revenue and production figures for the 12 months ended March 31 showed a continuing high level of electric power used in Southeastern Michigan.

Edison said total power required to supply its 7,600 square mile service area was 13,216,871,000 kilowatt hours — an increase of 1.5 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Stocks Narrow in Slow Deals

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was narrowly irregular in slow early trading today.

A number of key stocks showed no change. Among others, the price changes were generally kept within the range of a point.

Lukens Steel, however, continued its rise of yesterday as this widely moving stock added about 2 today. U. S. Gypsum was down around a point.

Wall Street observers felt that the background of news had an edge to the brighter side in spite of reduced steel demand and slackening demand for steel from the auto industry. The advance of last week, the biggest of the year, was still being digested, they said.

Among the leading stocks which showed practically no change were U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Ford and Santa Fe.

Commission to Hold Hearings

The bulk of a 27-point agenda to be placed before the City Commission tonight centers around 20 items on Pontiac's 1957 capital improvement program.

There are six engineer's estimates, 14 public hearings on projects, and a confirmation of a special assessment roll for water main jobs.

An expected discussion on the Grand Trunk industrial support yard has been deleted from the slate at the request of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles. Discussion will be held April 23.

Miles said he asked the week's postponement to enable persons in his district, where the yard is slated to be built, to study details of a proposed contract between the railroad and the city.

Commissioners this evening will act to amend an ordinance placing the president of the Pontiac General Hospital Women's Auxiliary as an ex-officio member of the hospital's Board of Trustees. In similar action, Director Miss Lauretta Paul will be removed as an ex-officio member of the board.

Hearings are scheduled on intentions to construct the following projects:

Water mains in Kennett road from Cloverlawn drive to 65.35 feet east of the west line of the school property, and in Mt. Clemens street from Emerson avenue to Bay street and in Bay street from the north line of lot 6 of the Lake Court Subdivision to the north line of Herrington Hills.

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, drainage and related work on Carr street from Mt. Clemens to the south line of Pontiac Knolls Subdivision, Ivy street from Perry to Montcalm, and Roselawn drive from Fiddis to Maines.

Sanitary sewer on the northwest side of Montcalm street from Oakland to Blaine, and a sidewalk on the west side of Joslyn avenue from First street to Second avenue.

Residents with questions regarding assessing of the following projects will have an opportunity this evening to be heard at public hearings.

Hearings will be on rolls for a water main in Golf drive from Canterbury road to Emmanuel Baptist Church property; sidewalks for Crescent drive from Mt. Clemens to the south line of Pontiac Knolls Subdivision, Joslyn avenue extension from Perry to Modern Housing Corp., south side of West Kennett from Dearborn to Stanley, and on Carr street and Court drive from Mt. HOW I STARTED A NEW LIFE WITH $6

By a Wall Street Journal Subscriber

I work in a large city. Over a period of time I noticed that men who read The Wall Street Journal are better dressed, drive better cars, have better homes and eat in better restaurants.

I said to myself, "Which came first, the hen or the egg? Do they read The Journal because they have more money, or do they have more money because they read The Journal?"

I started asking discreet questions. I found that it works both ways. Men who are well off have to have the information in The Journal. And average fellows like me can actually win advancement and build up increased incomes by reading The Wall Street Journal. How do I know? Because not long ago I sent $6 for a Trial Subscription to The Wall Street Journal. It has put me ahead already.

This story is typical. Because the reports in The Wall Street Journal come to you daily, you get quick warning of any new trend that may affect your income. You get the facts in time to protect your interests or seize a profit. The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to owners of small business concerns. It can be of priceless benefit to ambitious young men.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for 3 months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you. PMP 4-16

Four to Paddle 4,500 Miles

Trek to Start in Denver, Finish Up in Maine Six Months Later

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Four young men say they've completed plans for a 4,500-mile canoe trip to start from Denver May 1.

Ed Vestal, 29, leader of the group, is a graduate of Champlain College in New York. He's been an instructor in the Aspen ski school the past winter.

Joining Vestal in the venture are Bengt Soderstorm, 32, native of Stockholm, Sweden, who's been a ski instructor the past season, too; Gerald Herewy, 27, of Cape Elizabeth, Maine, who has been winter manager of two hotels here, and E. G. Rickers, 29, a writer who graduated from the University of California.

The canoe trip will retrace the historic inland waterways from Denver to Old Towne, Maine. Vestal estimates the trip will take about six months. He said it may be one of the longest one-way canoe trips ever undertaken on the continent.

START JOURNEY

They will start the journey in the South Platte River at Denver and will go down that stream to the Platte in Nebraska, then down the Missouri River to the Mississippi.

The route turn northward then up the Mississippi to the headwaters of the St. Croix in Wisconsin. There they will portage to the Brule and descend to Lake Superior, following its south shore to Sault Ste. Marie.

They will move along the north shore of Lake Huron and the Georgian Bay to the French River. From there they will go to the Ottawa River and the St. Lawrence.

At Quebec they will leave the St. Lawrence on the Chaudiere, going to the Liniere and Portage Lake. From this point they will have a major portage to the Penobscot River which will lead them to Old Towne, Maine.

Tax Return Crush Expected in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A crush of 400,000 income tax returns was expected at the Detroit office of the Internal Revenue Bureau today from taxpayers who waited until just before last night's midnight deadline to file.

James F. Deane, assistant director, said more than 2,400,000 1956 returns had been received by yesterday.

"I do not expect any significant number will fail to mail in their tax return," Deane said.

Taxpayers who failed to file by the deadline will be penalized five per cent for every 30 days delay up to 25 per cent.

Half a million Michigan district taxpayers have been mailed 1956 tax refund checks, Deane said. Last year's total refunds for the Michigan district amounted to 1,543,000 checks.

Contends Ballot Perils Secrecy by Color Change

LANSING (AP)—Despite a warning that it might affect the "purity" of the democratic election system, the House last night overwhelmingly approved a bill to authorize multi-colored election ballots.

The 86-10 vote moved it on to the Senate.

The measure provides that ballots for non-partisan election contests be printed on blue paper, state, county and local elections on white paper, constitutional amendments and state propositions on red, county propositions on green and local propositions on buff colored paper.

Rep. Clarence B. Meggison (R-Charlevoix), the sponsor, said the bill is designed to facilitate counting of ballots, ease the job of voting and reduce the chance of error.

Voting against the measure, Rep. Adrian de Boom, said he disliked a "European style of ballot," which he said "may lead to assignment of one color of ballot to one party."

"Soon," he said, "the secrecy of the ballot would be gone."

He said the idea "was a step in the wrong direction as far as the purity of our election system is concerned."

Touch of Paris Included in Redevelopment Plan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A touch of Paris — and sidewalks that do your walking for you—are among the features planned in redeveloping the substandard Bunker Hill section near downtown Los Angeles.

Chairman William T. Sesnon Jr. of the Community Redevelopment Agency says initial phases of the program call for three 15-to-20-story office buildings and "small shops... such as ... the sidewalk shops and cafes in Paris."

Luxury housing projects now are banned in Iceland, Reykjavik reports.

'Mad Major,' 65, Shows He's Able by Flying Plane

LONDON (AP) — "Mad Major" Christopher Draper celebrated his 65th birthday yesterday by piloting his 93-year-old aunt on a 270-mile plane ride.

A World War I hero, Draper won his nickname in 1953 by flying a light plane under 15 Thames River bridges to convince reluctant employers a man wasn't finished at 61. The government lifted his pilot's license temporarily for that caper and put him on probation for a year.

Draper said his hop in a hired twin-engine plane yesterday also was designed "to show how ridiculous it is that people are thrown on the scrap heap because of their age." He explained that he's presently out of a job.

His aunt, Miss Lillian Noble, said the flight was wonderful.

11 Ships Icebound in Lake Superior

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A convoy of 11 vessels, upbound into Lake Superior, was reported icebound today about six miles out of Sault Ste. Marie in icepacked Whitefish Bay.

Four icebreakers, including the Coast Guard's Mackinaw, battled the four-to-eight-foot layers of windrowed ice, piled by a northwest wind that has lashed the bay area this past week.

Cmdr. E. J. Bodnloss of the Coast Guard base here said although the wind has shifted to the south and temperatures were warmer yesterday the ice still is jamming and packing badly. He described conditions as "very bad."

A downbound convoy of 14 ships passed Sault Ste. Marie yesterday after taking three days to make the normal four-hour run from the Whitefish Bay entrance to the Soo locks.

Lock officials are limiting passage to vessels to 1,800 horsepower or more.

Michigan Lawmaker to Be Buried Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Funeral service will be held in Washington tomorrow for Fred L. Crawford, former Republican congressman from Michigan.

Crawford, 72, died Saturday after suffering a brain hemorrhage.

A native of Dublin, Tex., Crawford served nine terms in Congress from 1933 to 1951. He was a member of the Committees for Public Lands, Insular Affairs and Banking.

Crawford went into public relations work after leaving Congress.

Burial will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery here.

Jenner Believes Ike Backs Him

Senator One of Three in GOP Who Opposed Eisenhower Doctrine

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today he "assumes" he will have the support of President Eisenhower in his bid for re-election to the Senate next year.

"I assume the President will support me," Jenner said. "I know of no reason why he shouldn't. I'm a Republican."

Jenner's comments were made in an interview in the wake of a similar statement by Sen. Malone (R-Ney). After a 45-minute White House visit yesterday, Malone said he would welcome Eisenhower's backing in his own 1958 re-election campaign. Malone said if Eisenhower were running again—which he can't—"I'd be for him."

He said there was no discussion in his talk with Eisenhower as to support in next year's campaign.

Jenner, Malone and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) were the only three Republicans who voted against Senate passage of the Eisenhower Middle East resolution. The three have been less critical of Eisenhower's domestic policies.

In response to questions about the three senators at an Oct. 11 news conference, Eisenhower said "I can't look to them for help" in getting his legislative program approved by Congress.

Eisenhower said subsequently that he doesn't "interfere" in Republican nomination contests. He declined at a March 13 news conference to speculate on whether he would support Malone, Jenner and McCarthy although he said GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn was "exactly right" in saying the party organization would back all regular nominees.

Detroit Junior to Head MSU Student Paper

Tax Agents Reject Tip of Taxpayer

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—An unidentified taxpayer got a dollar back from the Bureau of Internal Revenue even before officials saw his income tax return.

The bureau said the mail brought this letter:

"I had my 1956 income tax made out. Now I can't find it. I think I mailed it to you but do not remember for sure. Will you please write and let me know? Get yourself some cigars for looking this up. Thank you."

Enclosed was one dollar.

Officials returned the dollar with a note that tips cannot be accepted. They added they would look for the missing return when the files are brought up to date.

Texas Politicians Face Eviction From Quarters

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Speaker Waggoner Carr are threatened with eviction from their plush apartments in the Texas Capitol.

Joe Hill, former state senator, started the action yesterday in District Court. He contended it is illegal for the state to provide living quarters for the two officers.

No one can remember just when it became a custom for the state to provide living quarters in the Capitol for the speaker and the lieutenant governor but it is a tradition of long standing.

Kangaroo or Litterbug

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —The State Assembly Ways and Means Committee approved a bill naming a kangaroo as the symbol for a campaign against littering highways after Assemblyman Edward M. Gaffney (D-San Francisco) said: "No animal but the kangaroo has a place to put the litter."

Briton Seeds Garden but It's Neighbor's Land

EPWORTH, England (AP) — after seeding a half-acre strip, Jack and Les Keel suddenly realized the land belonged to a neighbor.

"Only a deep furrow divides our land from his," said Les. "We used to recognize ours by an earth mound, but we forgot we leveled that this spring."

Happy ending: the neighbor agreed to swap his seeded half-acre strip for the unseeded Keel strip this season.

Annual Buying Power Enormous

Pupils Live Life of Riley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Dad always suspected it. Now a survey has confirmed it: money-wise, a high school pupil is very much in the chips.

In fact, a survey of the 2,600 in Berkeley High School indicates they have a combined annual buying power of around $900,000.

The survey, directed by Dr. Manville R. Petteys in this city housing the University of California, came up with these tidbits:

Average income was 1338.84 during 1956. Part came from allowances ranging from $1 to $17.50 a week. Part came from wages and salaries.

Most of the 2,600 got allowances. But most of them also did part-time work.

More than a third received allowances from $1 to $2 a week; 30 per cent got $2 to $3; 25 per cent got $4 to 5; the remainder got 6 to $17.50.

Four out of five worked at least part time. Half worked all year.

The average pay was 75 cents to a dollar an hour. Some earned $1.25 an hour.

Baby-sitting was the most popular job.

Now for the expenditures: 60 per cent reported the major item as clothing, an average of $89.37. Entertainment took $51.36; food $63.40.

Highest average amount for any one expenditure was for a car. Car expenses for 14 per cent of the enrollment averaged $161.91.

Senate Approves Motorboat Licenses

LANSING (AP) — Registration of motorboats operating on inland waters of Michigan was approved by the Senate last night.

The bill was routed by an unanimous vote to the house where it seemed likely to get critical scrutiny.

Before giving its endorsement, the Senate argued the bill twice last week, and wrote in several changes to meet objections that have proved fatal to somewhat similar legislation many times before.

As it now stands, the bill provides for registration with county sheriffs. The fee would be $2. The boat owner would receive tags somewhat similar to, but smaller than, auto license plates, and these would have to mounted on the bow.

Supporters said their chief aim was to curb reckless operation of power craft by facilitating identification so the offenders could be caught.

Stands Mute to Charge of Robbing Six Women

Accused of robbing six women of their purses, Edward Johnson, 23, of 44 Murray St. yesterday stood mute to a charge of unarmed robbery.

Johnson was returned to Oakland County Jail under $2,000 bond until trial. Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick entered a plea of innocent.

Man to Be Sentenced for Breaking Into Store

Paul E. Hicks, 19, of 25 Stowell St., will be sentenced May 6 on a charge of breaking into a grocery store, 20½ E. Huron St. Tuesday.

Pleading guilty before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday, Hicks was returned to Oakland County Jail under $100 bond.

A new Teachers' Training College, staffed by New Zealanders, has been opened at Nikeo on Rarotonga in the Cook Islands.

Senate Votes to Keep Strict Oleo Labels

LANSING (AP)—A bill to relax labeling requirements for oleomargarine was swamped last night in the Senate.

Assailed by spokesmen for farmers, it attracted only eight favorable votes of the 18 required for approval. Twenty-five Senators opposed it.

The chief complaint by critics was that the proposal would tend to break down identifying distinctions between packaged oleo and butter, and that Senate custom was bypassed in one stage of handling of the bill.

Sen. Charles T. Prescott (R-Blissfield) protested vigorously about routing of the bill to the state affairs, rather than the agriculture committee, before it came to the floor.

Man Put on Probation for Concealing Weapon

Will H. Roberson, 555 Nebraska Ave., who pleaded guilty to carrying a concealed .32 caliber revolver in Pontiac March 26, yesterday was placed on probation one year.

Roberson was assessed $100 court costs by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

West Germany's fur trade is dyeing Persian lamb in new shades to step up demand.

Earl Wilson Passes On Gags He's Picked Up

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I saw this sign on a Los Angeles truck: "Don't just sit there, lady. NAG YOUR HUSBAND!"

Tennessee Ernie Ford—dropping his daytime TV show in June—told me, "I got to. Because my kids are startin' to call me Tennessee Ernie instead of Daddy."

Ike's offering an award to the Indianapolis auto race winner, says Jack Denton of Milwaukee. Gonna appoint him his chauffeur.

"Play-pens are really wonderful," claims Ernie Kovacs. "I sit inside and the kids can't get near me."

Charmin' Sharman Douglas—daughter of former Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas — often with London's Royal Set—explained why she's a press agent publicizing the movie "Battle Hell."

SHARMAN DOUGLAS

"I've been brought up by a family that likes to work. I'll travel — I've never been anywhere in my own country . . . St. Louis, Cincinnati, Florida, New Orleans. To me the Middle West is the Pump Room in Chicago. I like to work. I like to have something to play hookey from.

Records Sold 86 Million Copies

Singer Gene Austin Makes Comeback After 25 Years

BY JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gene Austin, who sold more records in six years than Presley, Belafonte and Como have in a lifetime combined, is making a comeback at 56.

Austin, who even came before Rudy Vallee, dropped in town the other day to visit his daughter, actress Charlotte Austin, and plug his new record.

RCA-Victor, the company he left in 1932 at the peak of his popularity, just signed him to a recording contract—his first in 25 years. His first record, "Too Late," already is climbing toward hit status.

NBC-TV is dramatizing his life on the Sunday Night Playhouse series this coming Sunday.

From 1926 to 1932, Austin's records sold more than 86 million copies—a feat that has never been approached. His recording of "My Blue Heaven" sold seven million, generally regarded as the top all-time seller.

Yet Austin recalls how he had to overcome opposition to make "My Blue Heaven." Victor thought the hit tune was the one on the other side, now long forgotten.

"When we finished that other side—even the musicians left," he said, "but I was determined to make 'My Blue Heaven.' We had a piano player (Austin himself) and I soon found a cellist.

"I had a lawyer friend who always had a yen to whistle on a record so I called him up and told him to hurry over to the studio."

Through the years some popular music critics, explaining the fabulous success of the record, have attributed it to fancy orchestration.

"It was fancy all right," Austin says. "Even the amateur whistler didn't rehearse."

When his records started selling only a million copies—the goal of most present day singers— Austin thought he was slipping, so he retired.

Suggest New Cardinals From U. S., Africa, Pacific

Death of Segura May Speed Consistory

ROME (INS) — The death of Pedro Cardinal Segura of Spain may speed the summoning by Pope Pius XII of a consistory of the College of Cardinals.

Such a step has been awaited in Roman Catholic circles as a step toward filling the vacancies in the college—which elects the Pope—and bringing it up to its traditional number of 70.

With the death of Cardinal Segura, Archbishop of Seville and bitter foe of Protestants, the number of vacancies has risen to 11. Segura died April 8 at the age of 77.

Even before the death of the Spanish ex-primate there was talk of the need of calling a consistory to bring the college of the princes of the Roman Catholic church to full strength.

CITE ARGUMENTS

Among the arguments cited in favor of a consistory was the Pope's age — 81 — and the ever-present possibility of his sudden death. Although the pontiff is presently enjoying good health, the danger of sudden, fatal illness is not ruled out in church circles.

For another, there is the ever-increasing agitation among Catholics in Milan for the granting of the red hat to the popular archbishop of the busy Italian metropolis, the Most Rev. Gianbattista Montini.

Then there are the usual appeals for the appointment of cardinals in other countries where there is a strong Catholic following. In recent years there have been calls for the naming of a cardinal in the Philippines, Mexico, Japan and Africa.

TO GET RED HAT

There is speculation that the Pope may call a consistory for early May when Poland's Stephan Cardinal Wyszynski is expected to visit the pontiff and personally receive the red hat from him.

The visit would coincide with the 40th anniversary of the Pope's consecration as a bishop by Benedict XV in 1917.

The cardinal, who was released from long confinement by the Communits regime of Wladyslaw Gomulka, has not had this honor bestowed on him by the Pope.

The last consistory was held in 1953. Previous to that, one was held in 1948. Twenty-four cardinals were named at the former event and 32 at the latter. Cardinal Wyszynski was elevated to the sacred college in 1953, but never received the red hat.

Of the present 59 cardinals, 21 are Italians, the others of other nationalities.

Among those reported under consideration for elevation to a prince of the church are the Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, auxiliary Bishop of New York; Archbishop Joseph Mitty of San Francisco, and Archbishop Richard Cushing of Boston. OoA

Song Writer's Resolution Hits at Rock 'n' Roll

NEW YORK (INS)—Song writer Gloria Parker plans to rock the CBS stockholders' meeting Wednesday with a resolution aimed at rock 'n' roll music.

The 25-year-old, 90-pound redhead, who "definitely" expects to be heard, said she plans to introduce this resolution at the annual meeting in New York:

"Be it resolved that Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., divest itself immediately of any . . . stock interest in Broadcast Music, Inc. . . ."

"This matter," she explained today, and plans to explain Wednesday, "is necessary because of moral, religious, ethical and cultural reasons . . . I am deeply shocked at the terrible realization that CBS is the largest single stockholder in BMI."

BMI and the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) handle the music performing rights of about 99 per cent of the music heard on the air.

Miss Parker, who wrote the hit son "Tonight Be Tender to Me," charges CBS is "dumping" money into BMI, and that BMI is using the money to artificially stimulate performance of rock 'n' roll music.

And that music, she added, "is worse than a narcotic. It encourages sex, demoralizes teenagers, and increases juvenile delinquency and crime throughout the country. I believe that every church or religious body, every institution of higher learning, every family loving and decent American citizen owning stock in CBS should unite to put an end once and for all to this rock 'n' roll plague."

Zsa Zsa Sues Salon After Hair Treatment

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor claims she had a hair-raising experience in a Beverly Hills beauty salon and wants $40,000 for all the trouble it caused her.

She has filed suit for that amount in Superior Court, alleging "negligent application of strong bleach' burned her scalp, bleached her hair too much and caused it to become "dry, lusterless, brittle and frayed, and to fall out in large quantities."

The actress asked $20,000 damages and $20,000 for loss of income resulting from inability to fulfill movie and television commitments. She said she got the bleach job Jan. 9 at the Helen Young Beauty Salon.

Reno Cancer Society Finds Boxes Rifled

RENO, Nev. (AP)—American Cancer Society officials here were somewhat disillusioned today, but they weren't down.

Saturday, they put coin collection boxes on a number of downtown parking meters. Officials confidently predicted nobody would disturb the boxes.

More than 30 of the boxes had been cut open and their contents stolen by yesterday. But society officials said they would leave the remaining boxes in place.

Congress May Junk Ceiling on Vets

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Congress may soon junk a provision it put in the Social Security law last year. The provision limits the amount some disabled veterans may get in Social Security disability payments.

The House of Representatives has already passed a bill to knock out the provision. Now it's up to the Senate.

Here's how the provision works:

If a veteran is getting compensation from the Veterans Adminstration (VA) for a disability from service and he becomes eligible for Social Security disability payments, his Social Security payments are automatically reduced by the amount of his VA compensation.

For example: A wartime veteran with a 50 per cent service disability receives $91 a month from the VA. If such a veteran were to become eligible for the maximum Social Security disability payments of $108.50 a month, the $91 from the VA would be deducted from the $108.50 and his Social Security check would only be for the $17.50 difference.

RULES OUT OTHERS

The provision automatically rules out the possibility of Social Security payments to many thousands of veterans who would otherwise be eligible but for the fact that they're already getting VA compensation. VA compensation payments can range from $14 to $420 a month.

Under the bill which has been passed by the House, the fact that a veteran is getting VA compensation would in no fay affect his right to full Social Security disability payments. He could receive both.

Whether the Senate will pass the bill and send it to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature is a question no one can answer now.

NO CHANGE

The House bill would not change another provision of the Social Security law which requires the deduction of other federal disability payments from Social Security disability payments.

Included among the other federal disability payments is VA pension. VA pension is paid to wartime veterans who are permanently and totally disabled from disabilities having no connection with military service and who have only a small yearly income.

In addition to knocking out the provision covering VA compensation, the House-passed bill would extend for one year the time in which totally disabled persons may apply to have their Social Security records frozen. The present deadline is June 30, 1957.

LOSE RIGHTS

Disabled persons who fail to have their records frozen could lose their rights to Social Security disability payments, and, perhaps, to Social Security payments altogether.

To be eligible for disability payments under the Social Security law a person must:

1. Have a mental or physical disability so severe that he can't work, and

2. Have had the disability for at least six months and it appears that it's likely to last for the rest of his life, and

3. Have worked under Social Security for five of the ten years before he was disabled and 1½ of the 3 years before he was disabler, and

4. Be 50 or older.

Persons who meet the reqiirements and apply for payments to their local Social Security office may start drawing payments as of July 1.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)
