Suspect Fails to Fit Description

Eight Chicago Student Nurses Butchered

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight student nurses were strangled and knifed to death in their dormitory early today in what one official called "The Crime of the Century."

One girl escaped to tell the horror.

A man wearing a blood-stained white shirt was seized in mid-morning in downtown Chicago after he had attempted to purchase an air line ticket to New Orleans. Police said later he did not match the description, however.

In what FBI officials termed the worst crime within their recollection, the victims, aged 21 to 23, were killed singly during a 2½-hour slaughter binge.

One young woman was strangled in a downstairs living room of the two-story brick town house at 2319 E. 100th St. used by South Chicago Hospital as a dormitory.

HID UNDER BED

The scene is a middle-class neighborhood in the city's far southeast section.

The survivor, Miss Carazo Amurao, 23, an exchange student from the Philippines, said she escaped death by hiding under a bed.

Her story to police was semi-hysterical, but she described a lone killer with blond hair, 6 feet 1, and weighing about 170 pounds.

Miss Amurao said she was one of several girls penned in an upstairs bedroom—one of three bedrooms on the second floor. She said she was upstairs in the house when Miss Gloria Davy, 23, Dyer, Ind., first encountered the killer.

It was first believed that she opened the door to him, but Edward Sheehy, South Chicago police commander, said that it appeared he had entered through a rear kitchen window of the first floor.

Miss Amurao was quoted as saying she overheard him say that "he only wanted money to go to New Orleans and that he would not hurt us."

As far as police could reconstruct the crime immediately, the intruder strangled Miss Davy and then went upstairs where five of the girls were in bed or ready to retire. This was at about 12:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The killer bound the wrists of the five with stockings and locked them in the bedroom.

Within an hour, three other student nurses returned to the dormitory after having finished their night shift duties at the hospital a few blocks away.

The next killing probably came during a struggle by one of the girls and the marauder.

Besides Miss Davy, those killed were Merlita Gargullo, 21, an exchange nurse from the Philippines; Valentina Pasion, 23, of the Philippines; Pamela Wilkening, 22, Lansing, Ill.; Susan Farris, 22, Chicago; Patricia Matusek, 21, Roseland, Ill.; Marianne Jordan, 22, Chicago, and Nina Schmale, 21, Wheaton, Ill.

★ ★ ★

One body was found in an upstairs hallway and three in each of two upstairs bedrooms.

UNDER SEDATION

Miss Amurao was given heavy sedation after telling her story of the massacre and placed in a guarded room in South Chicago.

Dr. Andrew Toman, the Cook County coroner, said "This is the crime of the century. I've been a coroner for six years, and I've never seen anything like this."

Miss Farris' body, with her throat slashed and a knife wound in her chest, was found at the hallway entrance to the bathroom.

In the east bedroom were the bodies of the Matusek, Wilkening and Jordan girls. Miss Matusek had been strangled, the others stabbed.

The west bedroom held the

Romney Signs Pay Increase

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today approved a $2,500 raise in pay for Michigan legislators.

Lawmakers will receive $12,500 in salary starting next Jan. 1 and $2,500 in expense allowances—a level of compensation that is "adequate," Romney said, adding:

"I believe that state government will have an increasingly vital role to play in the future; to adequately fulfill that role we need better state legislatures. Adequate compensation will help make this possible."

At the same time, Romney signed bills to increase the salaries of Supreme Court justices from $25,500 to $35,000 a year and of Appeals Court judges from $23,000 to $32,500.

Michigan lawmakers are among the highest paid in the nation, but, Romney said, the Michigan Legislature will be frozen at the new level until Jan. 1, 1971.

★ ★ ★

"The salary level in this bill is more realistic than some discussed earlier," the governor said.

Scouts' Drive Nearing Goal

The major gifts division of the Boy Scouts of America Lost Lake Reservation fund drive reported over $200,000 in pledges today, bringing the campaign to a total of $313,034.

Robert M. Critchfield, chairman of the major gifts division, said $206,223 had been solicited to date against a division goal of $360,000.

The four districts of the Clinton Valley Council — Ottawa, Pontiac, Macomb, and Manito—have reported a total of $68,052 to date from families of Boy Scouts.

Ottawa District is setting the pace with $30,892 pledged compared to a target of $50,000.

Pontiac District, also with a goal of $50,000, has pledges totaling $22,681.

Macomb and Manito districts, with a target of $30,000 each, show pledges of $11,351 and $3,518 respectively.

Funds raised in the campaign will enable the Clinton Valley Council to purchase and develop into a reservation a 2,284-acre area near Clare.

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — Five persons were reported killed and scores injured today as a series of explosions rocked the Hercules Powder Co. plant, three miles southwest of here.

Scattered Showers, Little Relief Seen

Scattered showers and a chance of occasional thunderstorms are on the agenda for the Pontiac area today, tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman said Saturday will be partly cloudy with showers possible.

Little relief is in sight from hot, humid temperatures before the end of the week.

Temperatures are expected to register lows of 66 to 72 tonight and zoom up into the 90s again tomorrow.

Morning northeasterly winds at 8 to 15 miles per hour, except briefly during showers, will become variable at 5 to 10 miles tonight.

The low prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 69. The reading was 76 at 2 p.m.

Israeli Planes Bomb Syrian Engineer Units

Arab Jet Downed in Raid Retaliating for 'Acts of Sabotage'

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI) — Israeli planes today bombed Syrian engineering units along the River Jordan and shot down a Syrian MIG jet in a dogfight over that country, the Israeli government announced.

(A Syrian military spokesman in Damascus said two French-built Mirage jets of the Israeli Air Force were shot down in a dog fight with Syrian MIGS).

Israel said the air attack was carried out in retaliation for a series of acts of sabotage carried out in Israel by Syrian agents — a series of mine explosions that killed one person and injured three.

The raid was directed against Syrian engineers working on a project to divert waters of the River Jordan from reaching Israel. Israel has been tapping the river for water to irrigate the Negev Desert.

Military officials said "Israeli aircraft went into action against a Syrian military engineering unit working on diversion of the Jordan River southeast of Al Megor."

This is in the headwaters of the river which rises in the mountains of Syria and Jordan and flows south through the Sea of Galilee into the Dead Sea.

A brief official communique said one Syrian MIG was shot down and the Syrian pilot was seen parachuting out of his plane. It said the three other Soviet-built MIGs "retreated" during the encounter.

An Israeli radio broadcast said the bombing took place at 4 p.m. (9 a.m. EST).

The attack today was the latest in a series of Israeli-Syrian clashes that have broken out periodically because of Arab opposition to Israeli irrigation plans.

'Big 4' Car Makers List Sales Decline

DETROIT (UPI) — The nation's "big four" auto manufacturers reported a sales drop of 20 per cent during the first 10 days of July, led by American Motors Corp.

General Motors Corp., which produced more than half of the autos sold during that period, found the boost dropping only 20 per cent from the record pace set in 1966.

Ford Motor Co. sales were 22 per cent below the first 10 days of July, 1966, Chrysler Corp. was down 35 per cent and AMC sales declined by 42 per cent.

GM said it sold 84,910 cars early this month, compared with 106,160 sales for the comparable period a year ago.

★ ★ ★

This was a slight drop in the dominance of the car field by GM.

FORD

Ford sold 40,172 cars this year, down nearly 6,000 from the 46,079 the first 10 days of July 1965.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler said its sales dropped nearly 13,000, from 37,118 a year ago to 24,195 this year.

Pontiac Division Reports Sales Up

With only seven selling days in the July 1-10 selling period (there were eight last year), Pontiac Motor Division reported today that its daily sales rate was up over a year ago.

Thomas L. King, general sales manager, said an average of 2,595 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold every day in the period, compared to 2,564 a year ago.

Overall, he added, the division sold a near-record 18,167 units from July 1-10.

Mass Slaying Has Few Rivals

Ranks Along With '49 N. J. Shooting Spree

By The Associated Press

Few mass murders of recent times have equaled in horror the killing of eight nurses in a Chicago residence hall today.

The classic case of senseless mass killing occurred on a quiet street in Camden, N.J. on Sept. 6, 1949.

On that day Howard Unruh, a mild-mannered, Bible-reading World War II veteran, took a souvenir Luger pistol and went on a rampage in the street, gunning down 13 total strangers. Unruh is still confined in the state hospital in Trenton, N.J.

For sheer cold-bloodedness, few mass murders rival the 1929 Chicago gangster slayings known as the St. Valentine's Day Massacre.

Seven members of the gang ruled by George (Bugs) Moran were waiting for Moran in their headquarters when four or five men, two of them in police uniforms, came in and ordered the seven Moran mobsters to line up against a wall. The victims meekly complied, thinking it a routine police raid.

A few moments later the seven lay dead, riddled by machine gun bullets.

The Al Capone gang, fighting Moran for control of bootlegging, was blamed for the Tigers' Swift Hospitalized

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger acting manager Bob Swift was admitted to Henry Ford Hospital at noon today and coach Frank Skaff will replace him as manager probably for the entire crucial series begining tonight with Baltimore.

Swift was described as having "acute gastroenteritis" after a sudden illness at his home and will be sidelined at least several days.

Chronology of Slayings Is Listed

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigators pieced together this chronology of the massacre today of eight student nurses.

—About 12:30 a.m. a young man entered the nurses townhouse by climbing through a rear kitchen window of the first floor. Carazon Amurao, 23, an exchange Filipino nurse, and another nurse confronted him.

Carrying a gun in one hand and a knife in the other, he made them go into another room and lie on the floor. He bound and gagged them with strips torn from a sheet.

—Sometime later two more student nurses entered the house. The intruder brought them to the same room and bound and gagged them.

—Still later, another girl returned from a date, and then two more returned. All were taken to the room and gagged and tied.

—The man finally had nine young women in the room and then began taking them away one at a time.

—During one of his absences, Miss Amurao managed to roll under a bed. During the night of horror she was unable to loosen her bonds.

About 6 a.m. when all became quiet, she came out from under the bed, ran into another bedroom and climbed out on the window ledge, screaming hysterically.

—Judy Dykton, a student in a nearby townhouse, saw Miss Amurao and heard her screams and ran to notify the housemother in her townhouse.

Fernald Outlines OU 'Dream Theater'

By PAT McCARTY

John Fernald's dream—projected to Oakland University — is to organize a company of top-flight professional actors responsive to the community.

If the university's luck holds, that dream will become a reality here.

Negotiations now are being conducted to attract the former head of England's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art to the OU campus.

The theatrical center he would establish here would include Michigan's first repertoire company and drama school, furthering plans for a complete performing arts center started with the creation of the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

"My plans should be finalized in about 10 days," Fernald said yesterday in a telephone interview from his London home.

He has received other offers, notably one from Richmond, Va.

Of a visit to OU earlier this year, Fernald said he had been "very impressed with everything I saw."

"It's a very splendid, go-ahead place," he said. "I like the mental climate tremendously."

★ ★ ★

Fernald said he has no detailed outline for the theatrical center he hopes to head.

"I don't believe in having ideas until I'm actually operating," he said. "Your environment affects what you do."

But he does have definite opinions on how actors should perform and how they should be trained.

For 10 years, Fernald was principal of the academy which trained such theatrical luminaries as Alan Bates, Albert Finney, John Gielgud, Trevor Howard, Charles Laughton, Vivien Leigh, Peter O'Toole and Susannah York.

He recently was described by Peter Ustinov as "one of the prime architects of (England's) impressive array of young actors and actresses who are so much in demand on the stages and screens of the world."

BRITISH SUBJECT

Fernald, 61, moved to England from California as a child

and became a British subject 19 years ago.

"I've done everything in England I wanted to do," he said, noting he feels a "peculiar sort of pull" to his native country. Theater in the United States, Fernald said, "is ripe for a change."

He's convinced that regional theater, outside of New York City, will become dominant — and he wants to be one of those who mold it.

* * *

"The first thing an Englishman learns about the United States is that New York is not the United States," he said. "It's an enormous country with an enormous amount of talent. The economics of the theater are exaggerated on Broadway."

THEATER FIRST

If Fernald comes to OU, he would want to establish a theater first, letting a drama school follow as a natural development.

"That makes more sense than putting the cart before the horse," he said. "First you establish a good theater. If you have a good theater, then you want to perpetuate it, to train actors to graduate into it.

"I've run a drama school for 10 years — I'm not particularly keen to start running another one right away. As part of the professional theater, a school is another matter."

* * *

The core of Fernald's professional company would be American actors he trained in England.

EAGER ACTORS

While he declined mentioning any names, he said he had discussed the idea with several who were eager for the opportunity to study again under their former teacher.

At his center, they would be involved in "theater for its own sake," performing in plays worthy of their talents.

"There are a great many fine American actors I would very much like to work with again," Fernald said. "We would be interested in a broad spectrum of classic plays from Albee to Shakespeare by way of Ibsen and Chekhov. We would be interested in anything that's good, that has craftsmanship behind it."

* * *

Starting with this select troupe, the theater would expand through its school.

FAMOUS PLAYERS

"Eventually we would make our own famous players," Fernald said.

He noted he would like to bring some of his English associates with him, possibly a group of six.

"American talent is enormous, but it lacks tradition and discipline," he said. "Americans I've trained in England have been terribly grateful for what they have found there — and they have flowered there."

* * *

Theater, according to Fernald's definition, must provide a service to the community.

A GREAT ERROR

"Americans think a little differently," he said. "There is a tendency for the actor in America to think of himself, to relate everything he does on stage to his own feelings. He thinks if his feelings are good, that his performance is good. This is a great error.

"The actor is a servant of the audience. His work is an act of giving.

"To be done properly, this requires technique. The actor has to learn a new way of breathing, of standing, of moving. Yet the audience should not be aware of this.

* * *

"This is not much stressed in America — but I think they're on to it. I doubt that I'll be the only one taking this approach."

IDEAS PREVAILED

Fernald commented that the ideas of the academy he headed have prevailed in England.

"The English actor doesn't believe in self-indulgence. This is done at the audience's expense," he said.

Fernald, son of a journalist-playwright, is married to actress Jenny Laird. Their daughter, Karin, is building her own reputation on the English stage. She might visit her parents in America to perform in specific plays.

* * *

A lieutenant commander in the Royal Navy during World War II, Fernald maintains an active interest in sailing.

WRITING BOOK

He currently is "very busy trying to write a book on stage direction — something no one has done."

* * *

Between chapters, there are his thoughts of returning to his native country, of breathing new life into its theater from a center of vitality.

"I shall go where there is a demand," he said. "And I shall fulfill that demand."

Troy Murder of 7 Recalled

Chicago Deaths Stir Mass Killing Memory

The discovery by Chicago police early today of eight murdered student nurses in a dormitory jarred the Pontiac area with memories of the mass slaying of seven members of a Troy family nearly two years ago.

Following the brutal hatchet and shotgun murders of his wife, a daughter, and five stepchildren Sept. 29, 1964, 30-year-old William G. Gravlin was declared mentally ill.

Today he is confined to the State Hospital for the Criminally Insane at Ionia.

* * *

"One difference," noted Lt. Robert Mortenson of the Troy police, "is that somebody escaped from that guy in Chicago.

DIED IN SLEEP

"Nobody got away from Gravlin . . . they all died in their sleep."

Mortenson headed the investigation into the seven deaths.

Police determined Gravlin had lived in the house with the corpses of his family at least 24 hours before surrendering.

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to do it," read notes pinned to each of the bodies.

SECOND MURDER

Gravlin's insanity was still being determined when a second mass murder rocked Oakland County.

Early the morning of Jan. 25, 1965, the wife and six children of a Ferndale man died in a fire which swept their two-story house.

Harry M. Beicher, 32, was charged with setting the fire to his own home.

Convicted by a Circuit Court jury of first degree murder, Belcher was sentenced to spend the rest of his life in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Avon to Study Sewage Plans

The Avon Township Board is going to investigate several alternate sewage treatment plans before it commits itself to joining the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

At the suggestion of its financial consultants, Stratton Associates, Inc. of Detroit, the board will seek an opinion from the Michigan State Health Department and the Water Resources Commission on the possibilities of constructing a Clinton River sewage treatment plant, or enlarging the present Oakland University and Rochester plants.

The board also wants to know what degree of treatment would be required and how much it would cost.

Cost is the main factor in the township's reluctance to join in the $28,627,500 project with six other communities.

Representatives of Stratton Associates have been negotiating this week with the Oakland County Department of Public Works in an attempt to reduce the township's $8,370,433 share of the project.

BOOST COST

William Hettiger of Stratton Associates told board members last night that DPW personnel feel that any reapportionment of cost would increase the cost to other communities.

This, he said, would force them to drop out and probably scuttle the project.

He said DPW officials indicated that the cost of constructing a Clinton River treatment plant would be exhorbitant.

"They're aware that you are concerned over the cost and are trying to determine the most economical way to proceed," he told the board.

EVENTUAL NEED

"You're eventually going to need a long-range plan such as this, but the question is whether you should pay this amount when you have no immediate customers," Hettiger said.

Avon Township is one of three communities which have not yet signed an agreement to participate in the sewer system, which is to connect to the Dequindre Interceptor.

Independence Township and Orchard Lake are still studying the matter. The townships of Pontiac, Orion and West Bloomfield have already agreed to participate.

slaughter, but the killers were never caught.

One of the most terrifying stories of mass murder was told in November 1961 by a little girl rescued after 3½ days at sea on a cork raft.

* * *

Eleven-year-old Terry Jo Duperrault told Miami investigators how her parents, Arthur and Jean Duperrault of Green Bay, Wis., and her brother were slaughtered aboard the ketch Bluebelle by Capt. Julian Harvey, who also killed his wife Mary.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

Capt. Harvey had been rescued earlier in a dinghy with the dead body of Terry Jo's sister, Renee, 7. After he learned that Terry Jo had been rescued, he committed suicide.

Another mass killing at sea was confessed last year in Miami by Roberto Ramirez, a former Cuban lobsterman. Ramirez said during an argument with Rogelio Diaz, captain of the banana boat Seven Seas, he shot the captain to death and then turned his gun on four other shipmates.

A best-selling novel "In Cold Blood," by Truman Capote, relates the brutal slayings of all four members of the Herbert W. Clutter family at Holcomb, Kan. on Nov. 15, 1959. For those killings, Perry Edward Smith and Richard Eugene Hickock, were hanged in April 1965.

At Parsippany-Troy Hills, N.J. in 1956, engineer William Bauer, his wife, their two small children, his mother and his wife's parents were preparing to leave on a trip to Florida, when Bauer went berserk with a shotgun and slew the other six before turning the gun on himself.

MISSING 2 MONTHS

Carroll Jackson Jr., his wife and two small daughters were missing for two months after their car was found abandoned on a country road in Virginia in January 1959.

Two months later, the bodies of Jackson and one daughter were found at an abandoned sawmill near Fredericksburg, Va.

It was more than two weeks later that police found the bodies of Mrs. Jackson and the other child in shallow graves near Gambrills, Md.

A dance band musician, Melvin Davis Rees Jr., was sentenced to death in the apparently motiveless crime. He is still appealing the sentence.

U.S. Fighters Blast 3 MIGs

Sidewinder Missiles Bring Down Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American jet fighters blasted two MIG21s out of the skies over North Viet Nam within three minutes today after downing a slower MIG17 Wednesday.

All three MIGs were brought down by heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles.

* * *

As U.S. Air Force F4C Phantoms were blasting the MIG21s, North Viet Nam's fastest jet fighter, U.S. B52 bombers pounded an area just south of the 17th Parallel frontier where an estimated 5,000 infiltrating Communist troops were believed to be massing.

The Air Force said the first MIG kill today was scored at 12:10 p.m. in the Red River Valley about 22 miles northwest of Hanoi.

SHOT DOWN

Three minutes later the second delta wing MIG21 was shot down 50 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

Capt. William J. Swender, 31, of Alamogordo, N.M., and 1st Lt. Duane A. Buttell, 25, of Chillicothe, Ill., brought down the first Communist jet.

"The MIG looked like a big, red barn door," said Buttell. "We shot him down with our first missile as he was on the tail of an F'105."

CREDIT

Credit for the second MIG21 went to 1st Lt. Ronald G. Martin of Lake Villa, Ill., and 1st Lt. Richard N. Kriepa, 24, of Chesterton, Ind.

In the dogfight Wednesday four Navy Phantoms battled off six slower MIG17s which challenged them as the Americans were providing a protective shield for U.S. planes bombing the Co Trai railway and highway bridges 23 miles southeast of Hanoi.

Eight Nurses Are Murdered

bodies of Miss Pasion, who had been stabbed several times in the chest, Miss Schmale who was strangled, and Miss Gargullo whose throat was cut.

Earlier, police said some of the victims appeared to have been shot. Veteran policemen exclaimed at the massive amounts of blood.

Later, Toman said he found no bullet wounds on any of the bodies and said the murder weapon probably was a large butcher knife, judging from the size of the wounds.

The coroner said it was impossible to tell immediately whether any of the dead nurses had been raped. Further laboratory tests would be necessary, he said.

Two of the victims had visited other student nurses in another residence building around midnight.

Gail Schuyler of North Judson, Ind., a fellow senior nursing student, said they returned to their own quarters about 12:30 a.m. She did not name them, and declined to discuss it further.

Miss Schuyler and her fiancee, Jim Coons, 22, Lisle, Ill. told of an attempted theft off Coons' motorcycle from behind her residence building about two weeks ago.

They said three men, one wielding a bolt cutter trying to cut the chain that bound the cycle to a post, were freightened off by the nurses' screams.

OCC to Eye Free Tuition for Elderly

Free enrollment for senior citizens will be explored by Oakland Community College.

Administrators were instructed by the board of trustees last night to investigate the possibility of tuition-free education for persons over 65 and to return with a recommendation.

Richard Condit, attorney for the college, also was directed to research the legality of such a program.

The proposal to waive the tuition was made by trustee David W. Hackett.

* * *

'WORTHWHILE'

Trustee Earl Anderson supported Hackett's proposal, and added, "I believe it's a worthwhile project."

"I think I would agree," said newly elected board member Ralph F. Tyndall, "if I can have some assurance that the number wouldn't be so large as to burden the college."

OCC President John E. Tirrell noted that only about 1.5 per cent of the enrollment, or 45 students, were over 45 years old during the last semester.

He said that he does not know of any school in the country that waives tuition fees to the elderly.

TUITION COST

Tuition at the college is $10 a credit hour with a maximum cost to county residents of $130.

Board members were in agreement that the only senior citizens that should be considered are those who have retired.

The report on the feasibility of the proposal may be available at the board meeting next week, but Tyndall warned that it should not be done hastily.

City School Board OKs Hiked Budget

A $13,925,564 operating budget, calling for $515,418 in deficit spending, was approved by the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

The final figure tops the estimated preliminary budget by $786,393.

Added to the budget last night were $640,891 for instructional personnel; $84,866 for staff studies; $13,197 for secretarial personnel and $47,445 for other modifications.

Anticipated revenues for 1966-67 total $13,410,146. The rest of the money to cover planned expenditures will be taken from an unappropriated balance of $1,176,772.

The operational budget also includes a $200,000 contingency fund.

Among the recommendations of the staff included in the final budget was $13,000 to establish a new community school like that now in operation at McConnell.

Also added last night was $22,750 for 3½ elementary library school positions, giving the district a half-time librarian at every elementary school.

Zoo's New Blue Gnu Good News to Bantu

BUFFALOW, N.Y. (AP) — There's a new blue gnu at the Buffalo Zoo. When little Gnudles and his father, Bantu, met for the first time, their reaction pleased Zoo Curator Clayton F. Freiheit.

It seems that sometimes new gnus are bad news to old daddy gnus. but Bantu merely looked at his son and returned to his breakfast.

OCC Board Gives Authorization

Campus Plans Begin

The Oakland Community College Board of Trustees last night authorized architects to begin preparing working drawings for the first phase of the $22-million Auburn Hills campus.

The 11-building complex is to replace remodeled Army Nike quarters, used for classrooms since the college was established.

The detailed plans will be done by the Detroit firm of Giffels & Rossetti and are to be based on design and development concepts prepared by Caudill, Rowlett and Scott of Houston, Tex.

Representatives of the two firms will return to the board Aug. 5 to review the working drawings and submit firmer cost estimates.

School officials are looking toward a Jan. 15, 1967, bid-letting date, with the opening of the first phase of the new campus by September 1968.

The entire project is scheduled for completion a year later.

The campus is located immediately west of Squirrel Road and between Featherstone and M59.

The campus has been designed to accommodate 7,000 students.

Eight buildings are planned for construction in the first phase.

These include a general assembly building, laboratories for science, mathematics, business, technology, a library, a horticultural building and a boiler house.

The library, a four-story structure, would be the tallest building on the campus.

Visor Clean for Space Walk

AP Wirephoto

GEMINI 10 ASTRONAUTS — Gemini 10 command pilot John W. Young (left) and pilot Michael Collins are shown by this globe after finishing a practice session of their planned three-day orbital flight that is scheduled to be launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., July 18. The flight plan calls for a double rendezvous and space-walk mission.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — When Gemini 10 astronaut Michael Collins takes a space walk next week he doesn't expect his helmet visor to fog up — a problem that forced an early end to Eugene A. Cernan's stroll outside Gemini 9 last month.

Scientists have come up with a chemical that will be rubbed on the visor. It is called simply 350-AF, and has been used in cleaning optical devices.

* * *

Air Force Maj. Collins and Navy Cmdr. John W. Young are to ride into space next Monday on a double rendezvous and space-walk mission. They are to blast off atop a Titan 2 rocket at 6:21 p.m. EDT, 100 minutes after an Atlas hurls an Agena target satellite into orbit.

The astronauts plan to link up with the Agena six hours after launching and then fire the Agena engine to shoot to a record 400 miles into space. This will put them in position to rendezvous two days later with another Agena left in space after the Gemini 8 flight in March.

55 MINUTES

Collins is to spend 55 minutes outside the spacecraft, using a 50-foot tether and a gas-powered hand gun to maneuver around the Agena 8.

He plans to remove one micrometeorite detection package from the old Agena and attach another for a future spaceman to retrieve.

* * *

Earlier in the flight he plans a less ambitious 55-minute excursion in which he opens his hatch and sticks his head into space to conduct photographic and scientific experiments.

Cernan's visor fogging was caused by a sweat from a heavier-than-expected work load as he struggled to don a rocket-powered back pack. Blinded, he was forced to abandon the pack and return to the spacecraft cabin after a record 2 hours 7 minutes outside, half an hour shorter than expected.

WORK LOAD

Collins said his work load won't be anywhere near as demanding, and will be reduced because his extravehicular activity is being split into two sections.

Strike Against Airlines Groundless

Within months after the transit strike that paralyzed New York City for nearly two weeks, the Nation is hit by an airline mechanics strike that grounded the planes of five major airlines carrying 250,000 passengers daily.

Now in its seventh day, the strike was called after a year of fruitless negotiations between the carriers and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and termination of the mandatory 60-day cooling off period prescribed by law.

Prior to calling the strike, a recommended settlement by a presidential emergency board had been accepted by the airlines but rejected by the 35,000 mechanics who man 231 airports across the country. At issue mainly are the amount of an hourly pay increase and institution of an automatic cost-of-living pay adjustment.

The travel plans of millions of Americans bent on business, pleasure or organizational travel have been rudely disrupted by the grounding of flight equipment that normally handles 60 per cent of the Nation's commercial flights.

This strike is but another episode in a long sequence of management-employe impasses in the area of public service that condemn users to inconvenience or hardship. It can only hasten the day when meaningful legislation will be enacted in the public interest to effect orderly resolution of labor issues without disruption of vital services.

Parcel Post Would 'Size Out' Competition

If there is one thing this Country doesn't need, it is more government in business. At least that is the view of a significant number of editors throughout the fifty states.

The most recent example of government attempting to move into an area of private enterprise can be seen in the proposal to extend the Post Office Department's authority in the package carrying field at the expense of private carriers. The reaction of editors to this latest move to put government further into business is typical.

★ ★ ★

The Panama City, Fla., News says, "Congress should look askance at the request of the Post Office Department that it be permitted to extend its control over the package-hauling business. Deterioration of its present services plus its current $400-million annual deficit is sufficient reason to cause one to wonder why it should be permitted to monopolize more of the Nation's communications and delivery systems."

And in another section of the Country, the Milwaukee Sentinel observes, "It doesn't make sense to expand the parcel post service in order to increase the post office's business at the price of taking business away from private, taxpaying firms."

It is almost a certainty that if present proposals to increase the size and weight limitations of parcel post are adopted, package carriers such as REA Express will be forced out of business.

In the case of the REA Express, this would mean the loss of a $430 million investor-owned enterprise that pays heavy taxes and provides a worldwide service not duplicated by any other facility, either private or government.

Auto Lottery to Give Kremlin a Budget Boost

The Kremlin, which has budget troubles just like any capitalist government, plans to raffle off two per cent of an entire year's output of cars in the Soviet Union.

This only amounts to 4,000 cars, but the lottery which began July 1 is expected to take in oodles of rubles that will be used to finance intensified training for civilians.

Though it may sound like an unsocialist tactic, state-operated lotteries are routinely used to raise supplementary revenue in the U.S.S.R. Seldom has there been such a glamorous one, however.

Waiting lists for new and used cars filled up for the next two years, were closed indefinitely last February. New plants, which will raise production from the present level of 200,000 cars a year to 800,000 (the U.S. is currently producing in the neighborhood of 9 million annually) won't be in full operation until 1970.

★ ★ ★

While the United States, that "decadent capitalist society," progresses to two- and three-car families, even a one-car family in the Communist paradise is for Ivan little more than a Marxist Red herring.

Ike's Name Is Useful to Dems

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara demonstrated anew this week that the Eisenhower image remains a potent one on the Washington scene.

Asked at a news conference to explain his apparent change of heart about the wisdom of bombing the Hanoi and Haiphong oil depots, McNamara said conditions had changed and added:

"I think it was essentially this same line of reasoning that led Gen. Eisenhower to make the statement that he did."

By invoking the Eisenhower name, McNamara was doing what comes naturally. When you make a controversial decision look to the former president for a first line of defense.

★ ★ ★

This is what President John F. Kennedy did after Dwight D. Eisenhower left the White House in January 1961 and this is what President Johnson has done since.

★ ★ ★

It's usually a safe gambit. Having shouldered the burden of presidential decision-making and concomitant criticism for eight years, Eisenhower generally is a sympathetic source of support.

MANY BY-PRODUCTS

The by-products of his support are considerable.

There is the political insurance inherent in a former Republican president's endorsement of a Democratic administration's decision.

Some of the controversy is squeezed out of the decision by giving it a bipartisan coloring.

The magic of the Eisenhower name may turn the trick of rallying the undecided.

And so Kennedy and Johnson employed this tactic again and again.

OVERSEAS POLICY

In March 1962, when Kennedy advocated that the United States look beyond its borders toward closer economic and political association with Europe and Japan he noted Eisenhower's general endorsement.

When Johnson, in December 1963, appealed to Congress to reject a drastic reduction in foreign aid funds proposed in the House he said the cutback would undo Eisenhower's efforts in Latin America.

In May 1965, Johnson shored up his controversial decision to send Marines to the Dominican Republic with an Eisenhower statement of support.

★ ★ ★

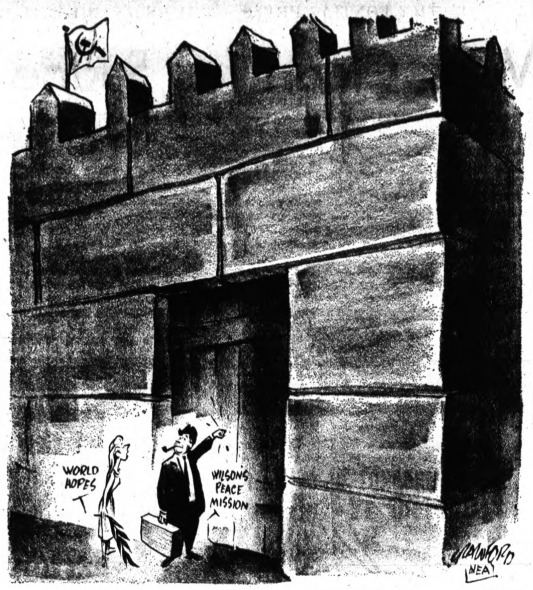

Last January, when air strikes against North Viet Nam were resumed, Eisenhower was quick to support the move.

NOT ALWAYS GOOD

Cooperation between Eisenhower and his successors has not always been velvet smooth. Last August, for example, Eisenhower challenged Johnson's oft-repeated contention that U.S. military action in Viet Nam flowed from a 1954 Eisenhower commitment to the Saigon government.

But that disagreement was the rare exception.

(James Marlow is ill.)

'You Are Not Alone'

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ's Talk Could Alter History

WASHINGTON — A memorable address delivered by President Johnson over television and radio Tuesday night could change the course of human history. For the first time, the head of a nation talked directly to another people in the midst of a war.

He earnestly pleaded the cause of peace and emphasized that "cooperation, not hostility, is the way of the future."

Johnson's speech was neither belligerent in tone nor blustering. The President tried the art of persuasion. He pointed out that, since "humiliation can be the seed bed of war," America is not seeking in Viet Nam "the peace of conquest."

Stressing what could lie beyond a peace conference, Johnson spoke of the need to strengthen the economic and social development of countries in Asia with their enormous populations which suffer from poverty, hunger and disease.

The President may have been thinking of Red China's detachment from the world community as he tactfully argued that isolation is not good for China any more than it has been for the United States.

He said on this point:

"Americans entered this century believing that our security had no foundation outside our own continent. Twice we mistook our sheltered position for safety. Twice we were wrong.

★ ★ ★

"If we are wise now, we will not repeat our mistakes of the past. We will not retreat from the obligations of freedom and security in Asia."

ADDED SIGNIFICANCE

The President's frank and outspoken words might have been uttered in the privacy of a "summit" meeting with the heads of other governments. But they take on added significance because of their directness and the willingness to make such statements in the open.

Rarely in the relations between two adversaries during a war has such frankness been displayed, at least on the part of the nation which has the more powerful military force and weapons.

The strategy behind the kind of speech that President Johnson delivered may not be apparent to the naked eye, but it doubtless was based on the advice of those experts here and abroad who know what's happening inside Red China and who recognize that this is the time to present to the people on the mainland a formula that could lead to peace.

The President said, "A hostile China must be discouraged from aggression. A misguided China must be encouraged toward understanding of the outside world and toward policies of peaceful cooperation. For lasting peace can never come to Asia as long as the 700 million people of mainland China are isolated by their rulers from the outside world."

RADIOS OF WORLD

The text of the President's address doubtless will be relayed by radio throughout the world. At least the diplomats will read it in full text, and those who have contact with Red China's government are in a position to point out that never has there been a more sincere or constructive declaration made to an enemy during a war than that which has just been proclaimed by the President of the United States in a conscientious effort to bring peace in Viet Nam.

Bob Considine Says:

Fidel Needs More Sugar to Regain Political Health

NEW YORK — Fidel Castro is alive and kicking. His blast against the U.S. in general and LBJ in particular, given in an interview while he was swimming, indicates that reports of his death were as unfounded as those which once beset Mark Twain.

CONSIDINE

His political health is something else, according to the informed Vision Letter, a weekly analysis of Latin American affairs which is avidly read from Nogales to Tierra del Fuego.

"Reports of Fidel Castro's demotion are still in the realm of speculation, but the progressive deterioration of the economy which underlies the premier's troubles is not," it observes.

"After going downhill for years, the island had a brief respite last year because of the larger sugar harvest of the 1964-65 crop. But sugar output dropped sharply in 1965-66.

★ ★ ★

"Bad weather was the official reason given for the failure, but experts feel that Castro is paying now for an artificially high harvest last year.

In 1965, to meet the proclaimed 'Year of Agriculture' target, immature cane was cut and future harvests prejudiced.

"The Soviet Union buys Cuban sugar at six cents a pound, but this subsidy is not quite as high as it appears because Moscow overprices the goods Cuba buys with the money.

"The Kremlin is on the spot. It is on the short end of a four-cents-per-pound subsidy and a $90-million trade deficit, and is footing the bill for an extensive technical assistance program.

"The total burden is in the neighborhood of 'a million dollars a day.'

"The rice ration is down to three pounds a week per person, about a third of consumption before Castro came to power.

"Coffee, which used to be exported, is down to 1.5 ounces per person a week.

"The meat ration is three-quarters of a pound per week — four ounces of it second quality.'

"Cuba won't starve because the land is too fertile . . . Castro is getting the blame from the Kremlin, which wants more stable management of the economy and less ideology.

"This was the conflict that brought down Maj. Ernesto Guevara and it may be undermining Fidel Castro.

"In the long run, sugar is king in Cuba, not any one personality. And the Kremlin owns the sugar."

Broken Glass in Street Endangers Children

I recently moved to Michigan Street where hoodlums play a game called "break the bottles." They arrive on the street late at night in cars or on foot, break numerous bottles and run.

I want them to know it isn't the adults they are hurting but innocent children. I just had my little son in emergency for seven stitches in his hand, which is barely big enough to hold seven stitches.

Multiples 'Built-In Market for Downtown'

The legal right of the 290 signatories opposing the rezoning around Herrington School was questioned by Mr. Annett because they live 500 feet or more from the site in question. How does this compare with Mr. Poole, who lives in Waterford, Mr. Annett, also of Waterford, and Mr. Dresner of Grosse Pointe.

★ ★ ★

The motives of Messrs. Poole, Annett and Dresner are financial—they are after the highest dollar yield from the land. Residents are opposed because they want to protect the neighborhood from a bonanza-type development. We do not need multiple housing in a single family neighborhood.

What is needed is a citywide development plan which will be functional for many years and designed to protect a homeowner from this type of exploitation. This seat-of-the-pants and piecemeal zoning is as obsolete as the bustle.

★ ★ ★

Let's put these apartments on some of that vacant land downtown. All of the problems of the N. E. location would be solved and this development would provide a built-in market for the downtown business man.

Unchurched Seem Reluctant to Be Changed

Tips on how to get the unchurched to church: Go out and knock on doors. Everyone will give you an excuse for not wanting to serve God. Talk to your neighbors about God. They will avoid you like the plague.

At least God will know you asked them. I'd rather be a caller, than one being called on.

Why not stick to the issue on the Osteopathic College? Dr. Kozonis has no possible reason to be jealous of any other doctor. We are very fortunate to have a doctor of his caliber available to us. 'Our Country in Perilous Circumstances'

We are in perilous circumstances and half of the danger is domestic and internal. We are up to our necks in pinks, kooks and beatniks who contend that policemen should not interfere with criminal thugs and rioters and that we should have peace at any price and give the Reds everything they want—even our national sovereignty.

Wants Practice Area for Beginning Cyclists

There are more motorcycles on the road than ever before. Everybody is clamoring about safety. People complain about new riders being on the road before they have mastered the controls, yet they close off all the land where a rider may learn in safety. Automobile drivers refuse the cyclist the right of way; they pull out in front of him, they crowd.

★ ★ ★

The closing of the land by the Pontiac State Police post on Telegraph Road put a lot of riders on the road who weren't there before. Motorcyclists cannot be ignored. My proposal won't take them all off the roads but will decrease the numbers.

Question and Answer

What are the state and federal laws regarding prosecution against someone willfully and sanely hypnotizing an individual when the individual EMPHATICALLY does not consent?

FIGHTIN' MAD

REPLY

Mr. Pantel of Oakland County Prosecutor's office reports he can find no laws governing hypnotism, other than restrictions against unauthorized use of hypnotic drugs. He also says it seems to be a fairly widespread belief that an individual cannot be hypnotized without a certain amount of cooperation. However, even if he is somehow tricked into an hypnotic state without his knowledge, he appears to have little recourse under the law.

Lists Objections to Herrington Hills Project

The widening of Bay Street hardly seems a good idea. We are left with the suggestion of direct access to Mt. Clemens. When I asked Mr. Dresner what the rent would be on apartments, I was told it would be equivalent to mortgage payments in Herrington Hills, which is less than the rental of these homes. The view is an auto graveyard, a little-used railroad track and a good-sized used-umber yard. I wonder if these multiple dwellings in ten years will not look like the ten-year-old duplexes on East Blvd. north of Mt. Clemens.

Did the city sell the parcel of land giving Mr. Poole egress to Bay Street from his landlocked property before or after this change from R-1 to R-2 zoning was proposed?

Herrington School was so pressed for room this year that 103 first graders were divided between the two kindergarten rooms and team-taught. This summer an addition is being made which barely covers existing needs at Herrington and the orthopedic classes which will be housed at Herrington. With the completion of 266 units obviously there will be a need for at least 2 or 3 more rooms. This will eliminate the school playground area and there is no city park, hence, the area depends on school playground.

★ ★ ★

Objections are not to developing the property per se but hope that the end result will be a permanent asset to Pontiac.

Warns Folks of Suspicious Road Encounter

While returning from vacation, after turning into M59 from the Expressway, a car pulled up behind us and tried by blinking lights and blowing horn to pull us off the road. This continued until we turned onto the Milford road where we pulled slightly to the side and rolled down the window just far enough to holler back and ask what the trouble was. The answer was "Just pull off the road." We felt if the occupants were unable to identify themselves, their motives were not good and we took off. The car was an old Oldsmobile and was dark colored.

Bad Traffic Situation at Dodge Park No. 4

We have a deplorable situation out here at Dodge Park No. 4 (on Parkway). Nearly every warm day we aren't able to get in or out. The traffic is bumper to bumper, coming and going on the Parkway.

★ ★ ★

If our homes caught fire, they would burn to the ground. In an emergency, we would not be able to get to the hospital, nor could an ambulance or doctor get in.

★ ★ ★

We have owned our place eight years and every year it gets worse. There should be a new 4-way road put in. A State Police Officer told me that on a recent occasion, he couldn't get within a mile and a half of Dodge Park. Over 800 cars were parked outside the park on lots owned by private parties and the trash left all over the place is a disgrace. Can't something be done about this? We need help.

Suggestions for Prayers About Viet Nam

President Johnson asked us to pray about the Viet Nam war but such a blanket request might be confusing to God.

★ ★ ★

For the benefit of those who are uncertain what to pray for, here are a few suggestions:

1. Prove to the world that might makes right.
2. That no matter what the U.S. does, it stands for peace and democracy and so should be trusted and supported.
3. That God has always been on our side. History has proven we are His favorite people even if He is a Universal God.

★ ★ ★

Not Enough Doctors to Handle All Patients

My cheers are for The Press, for I feel we do need an Osteopathic College.

If the editors of the Detroit News and Free Press realized the doctor shortage, I feel sure they would change their minds. The M. D.s are too busy and I say we need more doctors and need them quickly. I realize we are paying heavy taxes, but what are taxes compared with current needs.

Top GM Men Meet Quietly

Board Officials Hold 1st Canadian Session

OSAWA, Ont. (AP) — Top officials of General Motors Corp. left Canada Wednesday after quietly holding their first board meeting in this country.

A GM spokesman said news of the meeting was not made public in order that the directors, led by Board Chairman Frederic Donner and President James Roche, could transact their business without interruption.

The spokesman said the directors spent several days at GM's Canadian headquarters here, visited a GM plant at Ste. Therese, Que., and held a meeting at the Seighkoy Club in Montebello, Que.

RUMORS DENIED

The spokesman denied rumors of a production cut and cancellation of sales staff vacations at GM's Canadian operations.

Other industry sources reported that despite a decrease of 7.8 per cent in sales during the first half of this year GM has told the United Auto Workers Union of Canada it will employ at least 15,000 Canadian workers when 1967 production begins Aug. 4. This was the same number employed for 1966 production.

The company is also reported planning to start a second shift at its Ste. Therese plant and open a zone office in Ottawa.

TOWNSHIP OF ORION
COUNTY OF OAKLAND
NOTICE OF HEARING

RE: Petition to Locate, Establish and Construct an Intra-County Drain in Orion Township, Oakland County, Michigan

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 20 of Act No. 40 of the Public Acts of 1956, as amended, a petition was filed with the County Drain Commissioner of Oakland County, Michigan, petitioning for the following project, to-wit:

Location, establishment and construction of an intra-county drain to be located substantially as follows:

An enclosed drain together with necessary appurtenances and connections, the route of which is described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the center line of Paint Creek, said point being 1410 feet north and 1350 feet east of the Southwest corner of Section 12, T4N, R10E Orion Township, Oakland County, Michigan, thence southwesterly along the lot line between Lots 2144 and 2145 of "John Winter Land and Home Sub." and the extension thereof 700 feet to a point in Parkview Road; thence northwesterly along Parkview Road 140 feet more or less to a point on the northerly extension of the lot line between Lots 2164 and 2165 of "John Winter Land and Home Sub.", thence southerly along the lot line between 2164-2165 and lot 2152-2151, 940 feet more or less, to a point located 20 feet north of the south line of Section 12; thence east on a line parallel to and lying 20 feet north of the south line of said Section 12, 100 feet to the upper terminus of said drain, said point being located 848 feet west of the south ¼ corner of Section 12, T4N, R10E, Orion Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, that the Drainage Board for said project has considered the said petition and has made a tentative determination that said petition is sufficient and that the said project is practical, has given the name "Ballard Drain" as the name of said drain and the name "Ballard Drainage District" as the name of the drainage district therefor, and has made a tentative determination that the following public corporations should be assessed for the cost of said project, to-wit:

State of Michigan, on account of drainage to state highways;

County of Oakland, on account of drainage to county highways;

Township of Orion.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN, that the said Drainage Board will meet on the 11th day of August, 1966, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., Eastern Standard Time, in the Orion Township Hall, 571 S. Lapeer Road, Lake Orion, Michigan, for the purpose of hearing any objections to said project, to the petition therefor, and to the matter of assessing the cost thereof to the public corporations above named. At said hearing any public corporation to be assessed or any taxpayer thereof, will be entitled to be heard.

This notice is given by order of the said Drainage Board for the Ballard Drain.

Soapy: What Debate?

Cavanagh: I Accept

By the Associated Press

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh Wednesday accepted an invitation to appear as a debater on a television show featuring former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, his opponent for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination.

But the Williams camp promptly replied that their man was interested only in a solo performance.

* * *

Cavanagh's campaign manager sent a telegram to Richard Freeman, general manager of station WKBD in Detroit, saying:

"We are delighted to learn from your letter of July 13 that Mr. Williams has agreed to debate the issues with Mayor Cavanagh on July 23. We accept this offer for a debate with an impartial moderator."

WHAT DEBATE?

But a spokesman for Williams said the former six-term governor knew nothing of any debate and that he had not agreed to one.

The spokesman said Wednesday that Williams understood he was to appear alone on a show on the station, not with Cavanagh.

* * *

At Harbor Springs in Emmet County Wednesday, Williams proposed a conference of federal and state officials to work for the cutting or elimination of tolls on the Mackinac Bridge. He promised to work for the outright elimination of the tolls if elected.

Williams was to complete his tour of all 83 Michigan counties with his visits to Emmet, Mecosta, Osceola and Isabella counties today.

'ALERT SYSTEM'

Meanwhile, Cavanagh was in the Upper Peninsula where he spoke to an audience of about 100 persons at Northern Michigan University. He proposed an "early warning alert system" whereby small communities could get in on early developments in federal aid legislation.

He told a news conference at Marquette that he favored building an expressway across the entire Upper Peninsula and developing a Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore along Lake Superior.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, incumbent in the November election, was in Washington Wednesday continuing his Senate business. He was to be in Traverse City today to attend the National Cherry Festival for parts of two days.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)— More voters have registered for the July 26 Arkansas primary than for any previous primary, the state auditor's office announced.

A total of 687,631 persons registered, compared with 633,665 in 1964, the previous high for a primary.

U.S. Officials Admit Okay to 'Bug' Hotel

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department says FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, acting on general authority from the attorney general in 1963, directed agents to "bug" a Las Vegas, Nev., hotel suite.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was attorney general at the time the agents eavesdropped on the room of Fred B. Black Jr., a former associate of Bobby Baker. But the department declined to make clear whether Kennedy personally was involved.

Asked later for clarification, a department spokesman indicated that the FBI had acted under authority delegated by one of Kennedy's predecessors. "The practice in question which existed for a period of years, preceded 1961," the spokesman said.

Kennedy, who served as attorney general from Jan. 21, 1961, to Sept. 3, 1964, was not available for comment. An aide said that the senator has nothing to say beyond what Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said in his original memorandum filed in the Black case, which was that Atty. Gen. Kennedy had not been aware of the existence or use of these devices.

Kennedy's predecessor was Republican William P. Rogers, who served in the Eisenhower administration from Nov. 8, 1957, to January 1961.

In his unprecedented memorandum May 24, Marshall volunteered the information that the FBI had eavesdropped on Black but for reasons unrelated to Black's then-pending appeal on an income tax conviction.

* * *

Black, a Washington public relations man, was convicted in 1964 on the tax charges and twice has asked the Supreme Court to review his conviction. The court denied his first request May 2.

Stock Market Chief Takes University Job

NEW YORK (AP) — After 14 years, Edwin D. Etherington is returning to his first love — education.

"The field of education has always been a central interest of mine," said the president of the American Stock Exchange.

"And I guess that interest has never really strayed too far."

Etherington, 41, admitted that to leave the stock exchange post to become president of his alma mater — Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. — he will have to take a cut in pay from the $100,000 a year he now gets.

"Although universities don't usually make public the salaries of their officials," he said, "I would say you are correct to assume that it will be something below my present salary."

"I started as a teacher and assistant dean at the university," he noted. "And I had my sights set to an educational post at that time."

But he was quick to add that "my sights then were set at a much lower level."

Etherington asked the exchange board of directors Wednesday to accept his resignation, effective next February.

Suit Settled in Dearborn Riot Incident

DETROIT (AP) — A Dearborn man whose home was damaged in a 1963 Labor Day riot settled for $4,500 yesterday in the civil suit he filed against Dearborn officials for lack of protection.

Giuseppe Stanzione had originally sued Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard and other Dearborn officials for $250,000.

He said trouble started because neighbors mistakenly thought that Negroes were moving into Stanzione's home.

Stanzione charged that police failed to break up a riot and, as a result, damage was done to his home.

* * *

Dearborn City Attorney Ralph C. Guy Jr., said that the $4,500 settlement would be paid by Hubbard and the others named in the suit since the city was not involved in the civil case.

The Dearborn officials were acquitted on criminal charges in Federal Court in June, 1965.

Pontiac Press Photos by Rolf Winter

Everybody had a job at Wednesday's painting "bee", held to redecorate the interior of the one-room schoolhouse on the Wisner home grounds. Members of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society spent the day working. They expect to have the school ready for exhibition this fall.

Old-Fashioned Work 'Bee' Gets Job Done

It's an old-fashioned one-room schoolhouse and it sits on the grounds of an old-fashioned home.

That might be reason enough for the old-fashioned work "bee" which took place Wednesday.

Members of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society donned their old clothes, assembled at Pine Grove, the Moses Wisner home on Oakland Avenue, and painted the interior of the schoolhouse there.

* * *

Once the Drayton Plains School on Sashabaw Road, the building was donated to the society by Leonard Coats and moved to its present location.

Now the historical group is busy assembling properties to be displayed. They want to have it ready this fall.

Nearly all the third and fourth grades of the Pontiac schools visit the site yearly as well as many from outlying districts.

This year the children will see the school restored to almost its original condition.

* * *

There are 11 desks already on hand, a teacher's desk, hand bell, pump, dinner buckets, slates and a large school bell to be hung in a belfry someday.

The building has a furnace, but the society is looking for a pot-bellied stove for that authentic look. They also want old reflectors for kerosene lamps.

* * *

Four others had an equally important job — Miss Emma Howard, Mrs. Whitney Prall, Mrs. Harry Going and Mrs. L. L. Dunlap served lunch.

* * *

The Wisner home is open Sunday through Friday from 2 to 5 p.m. There is a small admission charge.

Linda Price, Fraser, (left) and Jo Ann Brimmer, Warren, put a new gown on display in a bedroom of Pine Grove, the Moses Wisner home. Both girls are junior history majors at Oakland University. They are employed for the summer to guide visitors through the home, to compile records of its contents and to arrange exhibits.

Robert C. Anderson, Silverside Street, and Mrs. Charles A. Hudson of Liberty Street get a wall done in a hurry when they cooperate on the job. Some day there will be 6x6-pane windows to replace the more modern ones now in.

Here Mrs. Charles A. Hudson, Liberty Street, strikes a remembered pose of the teacher. She taught in this one-room school for a couple of years during the 1920's. Her husband also had memories of the building. It was the first school he attended when the building stood on Sashabaw Road. The old desks have been donated.

Social Sin Is Prying Into Privacy

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In my opinion, one of the worst social sins is asking questions about subjects which are private. Equally unforgiveable are the questioners who assume the children are deaf. "Are they jealous of the baby?" "Isn't it good you can get rid of Elizabeth for part of the day in nursery school?"

Now I personally consider it an advantage for Elizabeth to play with children her own age. Why must they assume I am getting rid of her, and worse, why must they express it that way in front of her? "The baby is the prettiest one, isn't she?" "Why is David so slow learning to talk?"

How can you possibly answer such questions? — Patricia Hoffmann

* * *

Dear Mrs. Hoffman: Your complaint is justified and gives me an opportunity to voice a plea to people to think twice before they speak, especially before children. Why people assume that small children are deaf or have no feelings, I do not know.

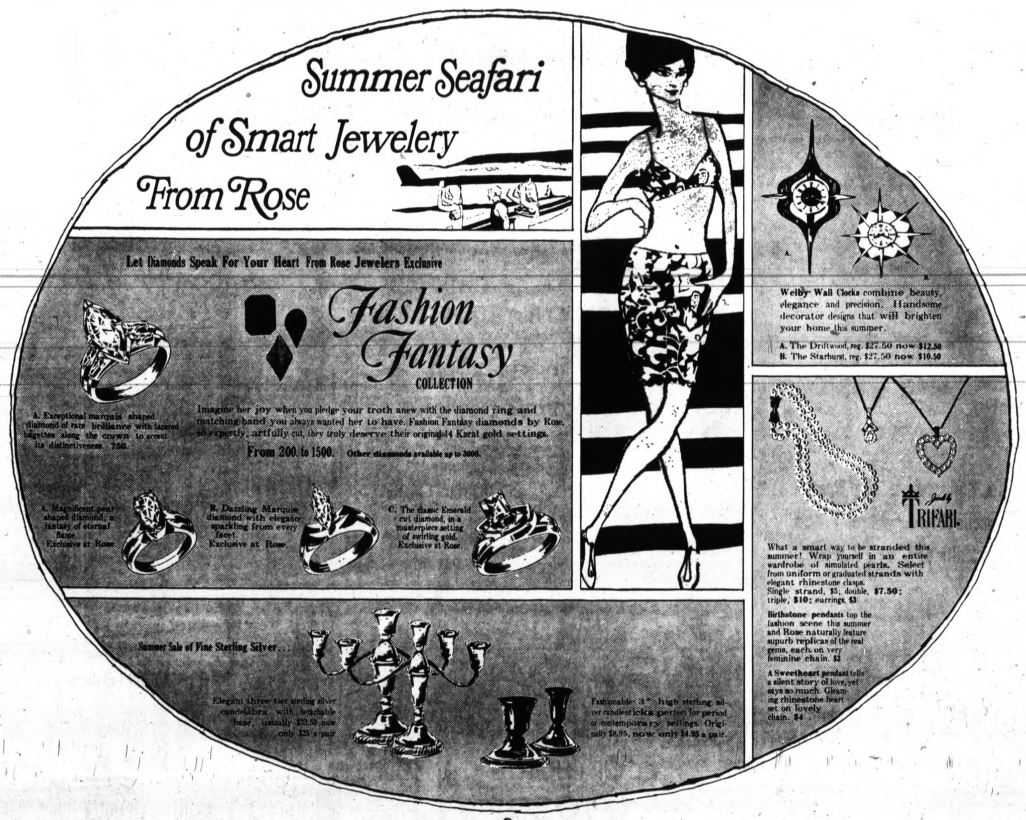

I have squirmed with embarrassment myself at some of the questions asked in front of my children by, I suppose, well-meaning older relatives.

It is wiser not to answer such questions at the time, but you should make an effort to explain them to your child later. Often the remark can be shaded or worded so that this hurt or confusion can be lessened.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Please give me your honest opinion of a man who sits around his yard, visits next door or greets company in his underwear? To me it is vulgar. Disgusted.

Dear Disgusted: My honest opinion coincides with yours. An undershirt is not correct attire for visiting or receiving company. Although he need not go so far as to put on a jacket and tie for unexpected visitors, he must cover up with at least an informal sport shirt.

Stay Jump Ahead of This Boss; Don't Ever Let Him Corner You

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Can a 62-year-old man be getting senile? I can't imagine why else my boss would be acting this way.

He asks me to work late when there is nothing for me to do that could not wait for tomorrow. Last evening he told me his wife is very cold and unsympathetic, and I was the prettiest woman he had ever known, and if he could get rid of her he would marry me. (I am a divorcee.)

ABBY

When I came here I was warned that the boss fancied himself as a real lady-killer, but I didn't think he would be this bold.

He is a grandfather, active in his church, and is very generous. How can I keep him at arm's length? This job is handy to my home, and the hours and pay are better than I could get elsewhere.

REAL PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: When he asks you to work late, tell him you aren't able. And when he starts bending your ear about his domestic problems, cut him short and tell him you would rather not hear about his private life.

Keep your attitude 100 per cent professional. If he fires you, he fires you. Remember, a man can't get any chummier with you than you let him.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have read the etiquette books and I know the groom's mother is supposed to keep her mouth shut, but here is the situation. My son's bride-to-be is planning her wedding. She wants a 9 p.m. formal wedding.

I know it is entirely proper in some places, but our town is not that metropolitan, and I have never heard of a 9 p.m. wedding here, even among the very elite, which we are certainly not.

Most of our relatives are in their 60's and 70's and they will not attend a reception which starts at 10 p.m. I am afraid our side of the family will have very few. It seems a shame.

Shouldn't someone from our side talk to the bride's side in an effort to get her to reconsider?

GROOM'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Yes. And the "someone" should be the groom.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "QUIET PLEASE," who complained about talkative hair-dressers, I had to write. May I inform that dear lady that the poor beauty operators are the ones who do most of the listening.

I have been a beautician for over 20 years, and believe me, there have been times when I have wished I were deaf!

Strangely enough, the higher-class the shop, the more the clients talk about their sex lives (or lack of it), fights with their husbands, problems with their children, and the petty gossip about the neighbors.

The girl in the booth next to mine had to quit the profession because she developed an ulcer. Her doctor said it was from the frustration of having to listen to clients without being able to tell them to shut up.

So please tell "QUIET PLEASE" that here is one operator who will welcome her with open arms. And if she'll be quiet, so will I.

Kept Hairdos Neat

When there weren't enough hairdressers to go around, hair had to be done the day before a big event. British soldiers slept face down so as not to disturb their freshly set hairdos in the 18th Century.

Register Engagement Then Wait Six Months

LONDON (AP) — Couples in love should be required to register their engagements with the government and wait six months to marry, the British Bar Association's General Council says.

* * *

"If marriages were made more difficult, divorce would become less prevalent," said a memorandum from the council to the British government.

EXCEPTIONS

"It is our view that no license to marry should ever — except in some exceptional cases — be granted until the parties have been engaged for a period of at least six months.

The government is considering lowering the age for marriage without parental consent from 21 to 18.

* * *

Barrister Bruce Campbell, a legal authority on divorce, was one of the lawyers who testified before a government committee on the proposed change in the law.

Campbell, married and the father of six children, suggested pregnant girls, divorcees, widows and widowers as exceptional cases who should be allowed to wed without the six-month waiting period.

* * *

Juanita Frances, chairman of the Married Women's Association, commented:

* * *

"There is something to be said for making marriage a greater ritual so that men and women are impressed by the responsibilities they are undertaking.

INCREASE BREACHES

"But I fear the six-month license might lead to an increase in breach of promise actions, and these are very outdated."

* * *

The Sun newspaper opposed the bar association's recommendations, saying: "It is no use trying to legislate for human affections. Laws cannot guarantee happy marriages whether the engagement is long or short."

Bouquet of Orchids, Wheat, Grapes

Recent wedding vows were taken by Mary Kathleen Lanktree, daughter of the Harold A. Lanktrees of Rochester and David E. Oaks, son of E. C. Oaks of Oak Park and the late Mrs. Oaks.

Rev. Edward Baumgartner of St. Andrews Catholic Church, Rochster, performed the nuptial Mass.

The bride's white organza gown was styled with an Empire A-line silhouette featuring a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a pearl crown.

She carried an arrangement of white pearlized grapes, gold wheat and white orchids.

* * *

Barbara Lanktree attended her sister as mfid of honor and Rosemary Kearney was bridesmaid.

Best man, for the groom and his bride who were honored at a reception the Elks Temple, Rochester, was Robert Sarti.

Usher duties were carried out by Harold E. Lanktree.

The pair will spend a delayed honeymoon in August in the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert C. Burnett of Sashabaw Road, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Gayle, to Billy Ray Ingham, son of the William Inghams of West Eight Mile Road, Farmington Township. October 29 vows are planned.

Public Like Sheep

Copy Trend Setters

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-461: Our daughter Judy accompanied her husband to Miami Beach last fall for a sales convention.

"But, Daddy," Judy protested after her return, "it was so cold in the hotel lobby and the dining room that we almost froze.

DR. CRANE

"In fact, we had to go outdoors to get warm!

"So we spent much of our time on the beach, just trying to thaw out.

"For the weather was like summer outside.

"One day I asked the hotel manager why he kept the hotel so cold, and he said that most of the women from New York and other Eastern cities wanted to show off their mink stoles.

"To make them look less ridiculous in Florida's warm weather, the hotels turn on the air conditioning.

"Then those women can strut around and flaunt their furs in the lobby or the hotel dining room.

"Isn't that silly!"

Remember my oft stated admonition that everybody is branded with this tattoo across his or her chest:

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT!"

WANT ATTENION

Millions of people are thus so starved for a little public limelight or spotlighting, that they try to flaunt their wealth.

Thus, fat, waddling women will also flash many diamond rings on their stubby fingers.

And wear mink or sable even in the summer weather of Florida just to ritz their associates.

For the majority of people react much like sheep.

They stampede into any cockeyed fashion or habit that advertisers make them think symbolizes social leadership.

"Keep up with the Joneses" is an old slogan in this connection.

Our A. M. A. Journal recently stated that 4,500 new teenagers each day become fresh addicts of cigarettes. Why?

Because in the middle teens, young folks lack self-assurance. They are afraid to stand out from the crowd as individuals, so try to merge in the herd reaction.

And advertisers know this fact, so they cleverly manipulate youth into smoking and drinking, supposedly as symbols of sophistication.

WOMEN GULLIBLE

Women are even more gullible than men as regards fads and fashions so they dress as the social pace-setters decree, regardless of how they may look in those bizarre styles.

Thus, fat women should abhor furs for the latter make them look even more elephantine. And rings make stubby fingers look even fatter!

But such women don't think. So they try to flaunt their wealth via fur coats, stoles and flashy rings.

They also suck on cigarettes and swill down liquor because they are following the lead sheep.

The leaders, of course, make money out of changing the styles.

So they will advocate short dresses; then soon swing over to long skirts to force all women to buy entirely new outfits, since you can't lengthen short skirts.

And this zooms the sale of textile goods, so the fabric manufacturers smile happily.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Summer Skin Care

It is easy to have a smooth lovely complexion, despite the skin-coarsening effect of summer. The pores open much wider in the heat so it's essential that they have free movement to open and close without being clogged. Protect from cosmetic pigments, dust and powder by smoothing on your oil of Olay. This will also protect the complexion from harsh sun rays and will give the skin a cool, milky bloom even on the hottest days. Your druggist can supply you with oil of Olay for your personal needs.

Vickie Frank Is Honored

Vickie Frank, daughter of the Bruce Franks of Franklin Village was honored with a luncheon and bridal shower yesterday at Sylvan Glen Inn.

Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Frank of Avon Township, and Mrs. Lewis Arscott of Rochester.

An August wedding date has been set by Miss Frank and Lee Kiefer, son of the LeRoy Kiefers of Bloomfield Hills.

Mercedes Bates, director of the Betty Crocker Kitchens, recently was elected a corporate vice president of General Mills. She becomes the first woman officer in the history of the company. As director of the kitchens, Miss Bates heads a staff of 52 women who develop and test recipes, test products, prepare cookbooks and answer homemakers' questions. She is the fifth Betty Crocker since the company established their kitchens in 1921.

Miss Chapman Takes Vows in Rochester

Reception in the Rochester Pavilion followed the recent rites of Donald Kuhn and his bride, the former Joyce Ann Chapman, in Bethany Tabernacle, Rochester.

Parents of the couple honeymooning and making their home in Tennessee are Rev. and Mrs. Armstrong Chapman of Rochester and the William Kuhns of Royal Oak.

The bride wore a gown of white silk chiffon over peau de soie with embroidered orchids adorning the front panel and chapel train for her marriage performed by Rev. Franklin Racine.

PEARLED ORCHID

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a pearled orchid. White carnations and orchids formed her cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Glenn Cummings attended her twin as honor matron. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Ingrahm and Mrs. Douglas Chapman.

Douglas Chapman was best man with Charles Ingrahm and Glenn Cummings as ushers.

You should see what's inside

Nearly 70 co-operating firms joined us in developing the Thomas Alva Edison House at Cranbrook Institute of Science. We think they did a great job. You're cordially invited to stop in and see what we mean.

A visiting scientist and his family will reside in the House. They'll have the convenience of all-electric living. It's even wired as a TV studio.

Heating cable melts snow on the drive and even in the eaves. And patio lights do more here than light the patio. They control insects too.

Two central electric heating and air conditioning units maintain year-around climate conditioning and clean the air electrostatically. Out in the garage, a remote control opener handles the door. Kitchen and laundry are completely equipped with electric appliances.

Come by and see the new ideas that specialists have put into a truly modern home. Cranbrook Institute is on Lone Pine Rd., west of U.S. 10, in Bloomfield Hills. The House is on Institute Way across from the Science Museum. Open 1 to 5 p.m. daily; noon to 6 Sundays through August 15. Edison guides will show you through.

Pick Jewelry for Flattery of Your Skin

With costume jewelry more colorful, larger and dramatic than ever before, make certain that the pieces you choose to wear complement your complexion, the shape of your face, and your costume, says beauty authority, Max Factor.

★ ★ ★

Follow a few basic tips and your jewelry will become twice as flattering. First, apply sheer foundation make-up that will give your skin a smooth, even tone against the dazzle and color of the jewels. Bring the color down over the jawline and throat. Choose a shade to match your skin, but on the creamy beige side when you wear gold jewelry, and on the rose-beige side when silver is worn. If you select the new dramatic and colorful contemporary-primitive jewelry, be sure the colors flatter your complexion and go with the costume you are wearing.

LIP HARMONY

Then, make this jewelry even more flattering by selecting a lipstick to harmonize with the most important shades. Pure white jewelry will flatter a clear skin and point up one that is less than perfect.

Black jewelry is difficult to wear, for it accents lines in the face and neck. Unless your figure is tall and willowy, wear modified versions of the large earring, bracelet and bead rage.

Dangling earrings are for you if your face is full or oval, but a round or chunky style, worn at the ear lobe level, will widen a face that is long and prove to be more flattering.

Attention-Lovers

Plants are like people — they thrive on love and attention. The Society of American Florists says your flowering plants will bloom their best for you if they get enough water (but not too much), plenty of light, moderate temperature, and ample humidity.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Gray hair is no longer a badge of age because many women are prematurely gray. Women of all ages have gray streaks put in their hair artificially. This is most attractive and is even indulged in by very young women.

* * *

However, if you have gray hair and don't like it, don't worry, act! Hair coloring has become so expert that it is no longer a gamble if you have a competent operator. Gray hair makes some women feel older, and some think it makes certain types look washed out. It's all a question of individual opinion and taste.

* * *

If you have gray hair and don't like it, the worst thing you can do about it is to sit around and worry about it. This may even make you grayer because stress and worry of long duration may be a factor in graying. So can severe illness hasten the graying process. So far as I have been able to discover, there are no authentic cases of graying overnight. After all, the pigment which colors the hair is distributed in the shaft of the hair and graying can occur only at the roots as the hair grows out.

PREMATURE GRAY

Premature graying often seems to be inherited. It runs in families. Diet no doubt plays a part just as it can in all the body processes and a premature aging. Malnutrition can do all sorts of things to us. There has been some indication that certain members of the vitamin B family are helpful in restoring natural color. In tests some years ago a small percentage of persons were helped by dosages of members of this complex family. However, the tests were inconclusive.

* * *

In the past it was thought to be smart to begin coloring hair before it became very gray, so that it would not be noticeable to friends or foes. It was a dark secret, known only to you and your hair stylist. Today that has all changed!

NOBODY CARES

Today nobody cares if a woman decides that she wants to become a blonde, brunette, or redhead. Nobody, at least very few, thinks anything about it. Hair coloring has become so usual that it is classed in women's minds among other cosmetic procedures.

* * *

The only danger is that you may select a color which does not harmonize with the change in your complexion tone. As a general rule your new color should be a shade lighter than your natural hair color as you grow older. Dark shades are too harsh.

* * *

If your problem is thinning hair instead of gray hair you may want my booklet "Is Your Hair Thinning?" If so send 15 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Party Goers Get Treats

Homemade desserts by the members of St. Perpetua's Church Altar Sodality will highlight their summer card party on Wednesday.

The atmosphere of the card party will be flowering summertime. Flower arrangements in wicker cages will serve as centerpieces on each table and then be given as table prizes.

The day's activities will begin at 1 p.m.

Cochairmen for the event are Mrs. Nicholas O'Dea, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Paul Holler. Ticket chairmen are Mrs. Joseph Gauthier and Mrs. Frank Flick.

The party is open to the public.

Mrs. Betty Odle, exhibits-designer-in-charge, Cranbrook Institute of Science, admires a work done by nine-year-old Kenneth Adolphus of Ecorse who has been given a one man show at the leading museum. His science teacher at the Ralph J. Bunche School in Ecorse, Alma Bailey, brought the boy's unusual talent in the field of art, to the attention of Dr. Robert T. Hatt, director of the institute. Hours for the exhibit are 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. weekdays and 1 to 5 p.m. on weekends. There is an admission charge.

On Clothing Care

Some Advice for Fellows

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — An annual roundup of advice, good or otherwise, on the care and feeding of men's clothes, including helpful tips for the bachelor who gets lipstick on his collar and the housewife who has to wash the socks:

HERE GOES:

One way to get lipstick stains out of a white shirt collar or handkerchief is to rub them with a little butter held in a piece of wax paper then rub away with dry absorbent cotton. And one way of making wool socks soft and resilient is to keep a trace of detergent in the final rinse water.

Otherwise: Tell your laundry or laundress not to press the folds of French shirt cuffs — it'll keep soil from grinding into the creases. You'll look taller if you brush your hair tightly at the sides and loosely on the top.

* * *

Moths and mice will eat up your leather briefcase if you store it away dirty. You can wear ready-made suits if your waist is 35 inches less than your height . . . Brown leather shoes or belts can be darkened by rubbing with milk to which a few drops of ammonia have been added.

* * *

If you keep adjusting your necktie you'll get the tie and collar both dirty. If you stencil your name in big letters inside your wash and wear raincoat which looks like everybody else's you can find it quicker in a mess of other wash and wear raincoats at a party.

TIE WRINKLES

If your ties are slightly wrinkled after wearing you can sometimes smooth them out with a load of books. If you pull down gently on the tie when you take it off it probably won't wrinkle anyway.

If you get real dirty around the collars and cuffs of a shirt you can loosen the dirt first with a solution of sal soda . . . If you get your hat's sweatband stained by sweat you can take off the stain with a thick paste of baking soda.

* * *

If your sweater looks tired give it a rest on an open shelf . . . If you fold a muffler neatly and tuck it in your pocket you may stretch the pocket but you won't lose the muffler . . .

SOUP ON SHIRT?

If you spill soup on your shirt you can save the day by rubbing on a dry cake of soap before washing . . . If you get your felt hat wet push out the dents and stand it on its leather band (pulled out, of course) . . . If you wear your shoes too often you can freshen them by sprinkling in moth crystals and leaving for a few days . . .

* * *

If you get lipstick on your collar and don't have any butter rub it with a slice of white bread.

If you put your hats on an on-the-door hatrack move them around occasionally so they won't get marks on them.

Your new shoes will last longer if you polish them three days before wearing them — if you can wait that long . . .

* * *

If some of your cleaning methods leave a ring in gabardine you might be able to get it out by holding the spot over steam from a kettle . . . If your shirt is slightly wrinkled you can iron it with a hot light bulb . . .

SIZE-SAVER

If you put clear nail polish over your shoe size the size will be there when it is time to buy new ones . . . If you're washing woolens to put away dissolve some mothballs in the last rinse water . . . If you get yourself suntanned pastel shirts will make you look even more so.

If you are wearing sponge rubber soles (in church?) clean them with a brush, soapsuds and a little ammonia . . .

If you get your shoes wet you can dry them with your wife's hair dryer but use cold air only . . . If you're wondering what size a small boy wears add 2 to his age (usually) . . .

* * *

If you wonder where these hints came from: Once again — the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear, which sends them out all year around and are collected by yours truly.

Expect 700 at White House Gala

Texas Size Reception

NEW YORK (AP) — Prospective fathers of the bride, who traditionally feel as the wedding bills mount that they're not losing a daughter but they're gaining a mortgage, will probably be watching the approaching Luci Johnson nuptials with a special interest.

Will the First Lady, through purely hospitable motives, set a trend that will lead to even more "lien" days ahead for dad?

Mrs Lyndon B. Johnson wants everybody — all 700— invited to the church for her daughter's wedding on August 6 to come to a reception at the White House.

TEXAS HOSPITALITY

"It offends my sense of hospitality to invite friends to the church and not to the reception and vice versa," she has explained.

Comments Amy Vanderbilt, expert on etiquette: "That's awfully good if you have lots of money.

"The average American family can't include in the reception all those they've invited to the wedding. But if money's no object, lovely."

* * *

Miss Vanderbilt thinks Mrs. Johnson is perfectly right, though. "Because it's so obvious they can afford to have everybody. For the average family it would be hard."

"I say in my book," says Miss Vanderbilt, "which, by the way, they've had at the White House since the Truman administration, that a wedding can be as large as you want and the reception as large or small as you want."

For what it's worth to multi-daughtered fathers who look with increasing approval on elopement as their offspring grow, Miss Vanderbilt recalls what a friend did:

"He gave his first girl an elaborate wedding and then summoned his other two and said, 'From now on what I'm investing in is a strong ladder.'"

At another prominent wedding — on Aug. 13, one week after Luci Johnson's — all the many guests at the church again are invited to the home reception.

SOCIETY WEDDING

That's Marguerite Slocum's wedding at Newport, R.I., one of the high spots of the summer season at the society resort.

The bride's mother, Mrs. John Slocum, says everybody invited to the noon wedding will come to a 1 p.m. brunch under a big tent set up on the lawn at the Slocum place.

"When guests come from so far away it's not fair to make them stand in a reception line for just a glass of champagne," she reasons. That's why the brunch.

The tent will have a floor for dancing, and besides a society band Scotch bagpipers will skirl an occasional tune.

But two examples don't make a rule.

Mrs. Gladstone Williams, who teaches the social graces to Washington diplomats, government officials and protocol-minded capital newcomers, says it's still up to the bride and her mother to decide whether to send out a lot of wedding invitations without the reception cards inside.

* * *

"If they're knowledgeable, they'll know what to do," she says. "Of course, parents who don't have the White House for entertaining would have to use a private club or hotel to accommodate 700," she goes on.

* * *

"But since the White House could take care of thousands, I think the Johnsons are being sensible in keeping the reception that small. And parents everywhere should remember that the thing for them to do is use their own judgment."

Convenience Is Best Part

Since less than half the calendar days are good drying days, one of the greatest advantages of an automatic dryer is the convenience of using it day or night in any weather.

Mark Huck, an appliance firm's home economic director, points out that a dryer eliminates clothesline strung through yard or basement, carrying damp clothes, "pinning-up" and taking down laundry. Dryers save money — fewer necessities are needed because clothing and household items can be dried quickly for use again. Damage from sun-fading and wind-whipping is eliminated, too.

Beef and Condiments Dress Canned Beans

Vary it by changing the kind of canned beans you use.

HAMBURGER-BEAN CASSEROLE

By Mrs. Richard Soucey

1 pound hamburger
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup catsup
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon mustard
2 cans pork and beans

Brown hamburger, add salt and pepper. Mix catsup, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and mustard.

Pour canned beans into casserole. Add catsup mixture and mix well. Add meat and mix again.

Bake at 350 degrees until bubbly, about 30-45 minutes. Makes six servings.

Parents, You Can Rebel Too, Remember

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our 15-year-old girl rebuffs me if I even ask her if she's had a good time on a date. I've told her how this hurts me but all she says is, her dates are her business.

Mrs. Lawrence, when I was her age I used to go into my parents' bedroom after I'd been to a party or out with a new boy friend and tell them how I liked him, if he was going to call me again, if anyone had said anything about my dress. But this generation . . .

ANSWER: Your daughter is scared to discuss her dates with you lest you use the information to try to recover childhood control of her.

Is that why you want the information? Or do you want it because you are interested in her happiness? If you are more interested in her happiness than you are in reclaiming control over her, say so. Blow up when you say so.

You are entitled to indignation. She has misjudged you.

"The adolescent puts a taboo on closeness to parents because he associates tenderness and warmth with humiliating infantilism, with dependence on them" is a recent statement made by psychiatrist Dr. Murrey Bilmes.

He's right. Your 15-year-old daughter is scared of closeness to you because she thinks you'll exploit it to turn her into a baby again. So what? What has her terror of renewed control of her got to do with you? It's her terror — not yours. You and I don't have to put a taboo on closeness to a child because he puts one on closeness to us.

We are not children. We are loving parents who are passionately interested in his happiness.

So when a 15-year-old daughter treats us like an FBI agent seeking information on her social activities in order to stick her with a charge of subversion, we are entitled to get very mad. We are entitled to yell:

- "Idiot, I'm asking you questions because I love you! I shortened the hem of that dress you wore to this party! I pressed it! I gave thought and work to make you feel happy in it! And you won't even tell me if you were! O.K. keep it to yourself! Be a pig about it if that is what you have to be!"

Talk about domination! What do you think you are when you let this child's fear of closeness to you scare you away from it, too? Dominated, controlled, swallowed up alive is what you are, my friend.

It's sure fascinating to know that the young regard us as a bunch of sneaky tyrants. But if we're not sneaky tyrants, what's their distorted judgment got to do with us? Nothing. Not a thing.

More Time Is Taken for Vacations

NEW YORK (UPI) — The average American camper spends 25 to 35 days a year vacationing, which is almost twice as long a vacation period as non-campers take.

A study by an outdoor camping equipment manufacturer pictures this average camper as a man with a family of four to five persons and a yearly income of $5,000 to $10,000.

The study indicated that campers are able to take more vacation time because they spend no more for food than they would at home, while noncampers spend the major part of their vacation budgets on room and board.

An estimated 45 million Americans are expected to camp out this year.

Only time Man o' War was defeated was when Upset beat him in the Sanford Stakes at Saratoga on Aug. 13, 1919.

Fashionable Is Byword

Paul Pugh, known in the Fashion designing world as Mr. Paul, is working as a tailor at Osmun's downtown store.

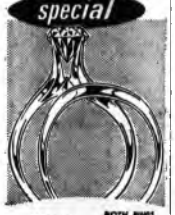

Designer of both men's and women's fashions, Mr. Paul is a graduate of Curtis School of Pattern Making in New York City and has studied in both Paris and Milan.

He made men's fall models for Eagle Clothiers. But his preference is for women's after-five and ballgowns. He would like to make gowns for The Supremes.

Ford Workers OK Pact at Ohio Complex

CLEVELAND (AP) — Auto workers unanimously approved an agreement with the Ford Motor Co. Wednesday, ending a week-long strike at the company's two engine plants and foundry in suburban Brook Park.

The 8,600-member Auto Workers Local 1250, by voice vote, gave its approval to an agreement reached by union and management officials covering 200 health and safety grievances.

Full production was expected quickly, starting with the mid-night shift at the foundry Wednesday night and the 5:30 a.m. shift at both engine plants today.

PICKETS REMOVED

Picket lines were removed from the plant after the vote was announced.

The strike had disrupted production in 13 Ford plants in five states and Canada, idling more than 30,000 hourly workers for several days.

* * *

Ford faces the possibility of another strike at its suburban Walton Hills stamping plant. William Stout, president of UAW Local 420, said the 4,000 workers there will be asked soon to authorize a strike if 50 grievances involving health and safety conditions and 25 on production standards are not resolved.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOUND BARRIER

QUESTION: What is meant by an airplane breaking the sound barrier?

ANSWER: Sound travels by waves in the air. At sea level, these waves in the air move at about 760 miles an hour. When an airplane flies at speeds below this (upper left), there is pressure in the air ahead of the wind.

Such pressure waves move ahead of the plane and act to make the air ahead flow so as to receive the plane easily when it enters it.

These "message" waves travel ahead at the speed of sound. But suppose that the plane itself flies at the speed of sound, or faster? In this case, there are no message waves to prepare the air.

The plane crashes into the unprepared air, causing violent disturbances called shock waves (upper right).

These may travel down to earth as the strong sudden sounds which are sometimes so violent as to shatter windows on the ground.

To "break the sound barrier" in this way, specially-designed planes are needed, as ordinary ones might be torn to pieces.

These supersonic planes are specially reinforced inside; the nose is pointed, and the body (lower picture) pinched in at the waist; this reduces drag and prevents the pilot from being injured.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Not all supersonic planes look exactly alike. Keep your eyes open for models and pictures of them.

Operate All Your Accessories . . . and Start Up to 50% Faster

Stays New Looking
Remains cleaner than a conventional battery because there are no links to corrode or messy tar covering to soften.

More Power
Internal connectors go through each cell wall rather than up and over! This shorter distance reduces resistance for much more actual starting power. You get up to 24% more cranking turns at a 16% higher speed for as much as 15% longer.

Recharges Faster
Less resistance means your High Voltage Battery accepts a charge quicker, too. That's important in stop and re-start driving and frequent accessory use.

MSU Hospital Plans

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University trustees will be asked this fall to approve a new $6 million to $8 million hospital and out-patient clinic to replace the present 124-bed health center, Dr. James Feurig said Wednesday.

Dr. Feurig, health center director, said the new hospital would have 250 beds and capacity to handle 20,000 out-patient calls a month for MSU's 38,000 students.

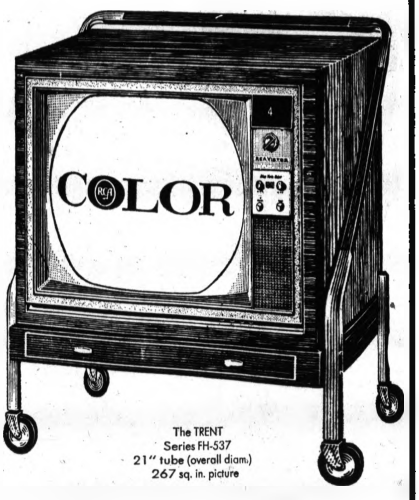

Sun Yat-sen was leader of the 1911 revolution which overthrew the empire and founded the Chinese Republic.

Farmland Value Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The dollar value of Michigan farmland increased 7 per cent during the year ended March 1, reflecting the long boom in farm real estate prices, the Agriculture Department reported today. The national average was 8 per cent.

24 Acres Zoned to Allow Firm Into Avon Township

AVON TOWNSHIP — Twenty-four acres of property at Rochester and Orion roads were rezoned to light industrial by the Township Board last night to allow construction of a plant which manufactures electronic equipment.

The board unanimously approved the request of the Dura Corp. of Oak Park which plans to build a five-building complex on the site across from the National Twist Drill and Tool Co.

In approving the rezoning, the board followed the recommendations of the planning consultant, the Regional Planning Commission and the Township Zoning Board.

The zoning board's 5-2 decision last week brought some protests from land owners in the area who claimed the area is strictly residential.

* * *

They also said a traffic problem which already exists at that corner would be compounded.

NO PROTESTS

No one protested the board's action last night.

Trustee William McCullough noted that the new plant would fit in with the two plants already on that corner — National Twist Drill and Holley Computer.

The land, which is presently zoned administrative and professional, is being purchased from Avon Center Hospital.

Hospital authorities had planned to construct a new building there but eventually decided to expand their present facilities on Avon Road instead.

* * *

The proposed five buildings will include a building for manufacturing, a two-story administration building, a research and development building, a sales and service training school building and a cafeteria.

AUTHORITY

In other action last night the board heard a report from a representative of the newly-created joint water and sewer authority of the township and the village of Rochester.

The group is investigating the possibility of forming a corporation under the Utilities Authority Law which permits two units of government to incorporate to deal with mutual water and sewer problems.

The chief advantage would be in financing any future work, according to the group.

The board last night also approved the creation of an Avon Township Planning Commission to replace the present zoning board and regional planning commission.

* * *

The new group will perform the same rezoning duties as the two other bodies. It was explained that the one group will expedite handling of applications and devote more time to local problems.

CONTROVERSY

The most recent development in the controversial Winkler Mill Bridge matter was given to the board's road committee for study and recommendation.

The proposed $15,000 bridge to replace the one destroyed in an accident last Ausust is apparently acceptable to residents near the bridge if the State Road Commission pays $1,000 for an easment.

The township board would be expected to pay half the cost of a new bridge.

Rochester Principal Appointed

ROCHESTER — The board of education today appointed a new high school principal to replace a man it had appointed only a month ago.

Richard D. Olson, principal of Central Junior High School, was named to the vacancy created by the surprise resignation of John E. Wellington.

Wellington asked for a release from the position because of "personal considerations which were not apparent at the time of his acceptance."

* * *

Wellington was approved as high school principal June 20 to replace Harlan Johnson who was made director of instruction and certified personnel for the school district.

CAME IN 1954

Olson, who received his bachelor's degree in 1947 from Western Michigan University, came to Rochester in 1954 as a science teacher and counselor at the high school.

* * *

Named to replace him as principal at Central Junior High was Harold L. Hatherly, now assistant principal of West Junior High School.

Marc E. Ferrand, junior high science and mathematics teacher, will replace Hatherly as assistant principal.

Tentative Troy OK on Teachers' Pay

TROY — The Troy Education Association bargaining team and the board of education have reached tentative agreement on the economic portion of a proposed 1966-67 contract.

Under the agreement, which must still be ratified, teachers with a bachelor's degree will get $5,560 to start and increase to a maximum of $9,210.

* * *

Master's degree salaries will range from $6,155 to $10,038. Also, teachers with a master's degree plus 30 hours will be on a new schedule ranging from $6,667 to $10,867.

HVEA, School Board Set Talks

MILFORD—Negotiating teams for the board of education and the Huron Valley Education Association were slated to meet this afternoon and tomorrow evening in an effort to reach a settlement on terms of a contract for teachers for the coming school year.

* * *

At an HVEA meeting Monday, a representative from the Michigan Education Association was in attendance for the first time, along with MEA legal counsel who will remain with the HVEA through the remainder of the negotiations.

Neil H. Davis, HVEA president, said the two sides are still far apart on a number of issues.

Davis said the HVEA is presently asking for 65 per cent of the board's total operating money for the 1966-67 school year.

The association has not as yet, however, arrived at any salary schedule demand.

SUGGESTED

The schedule request, he said, would follow closely the MEA recommendation for the region.

Such a pattern would range from a beginning salary of $6,000 for teachers with bachelor's degrees to a maximum of $12,000 for teachers with master's degrees and 10 years experience in the school system.

Salaries now start at $5,200 for the first year teachers with bachelor's degrees to $7,800 for a master's degree and 10 years experience.

OTHER ISSUES

The board and the association have reached tentative agreement on almost all noneconomic issues, said Davis.

The two sides still have reached no common ground, however, on fringe benefits, according to the HVEA head.

Teachers are asking for an increase in their sick day allowance from the present 50 days to 100 days.

Davis said the board has termed this demand "totally excessive."

The stalemate has also been reached on the question of hospitalization insurance. No compromise is in sight in this area.

Clarenceville Board Names District Head

CLARENCEVILLE — The board of education today announced the appointment of David B. McDowell as Superintendent of Schools.

* * *

Previous to his appointment, McDowell served five years as principal of the Clarenceville High School.

McDowell succeeds Louis E. Schmidt, who resigned after 17 years as superintendent.

Prior to coming to Clarenceville, he was a high school principal in Comstock and Vermontville, Michigan.

* * *

The new superintendent holds a bachelor of science degree from Northern Michigan College and a master's degree from Michigan State University.

SPECIALIST'S DEGREE

He is currently pursuing an educational specialist's degree at Eastern Michigan University. In addition to his educational activities, McDowell has served on the board of directors for Livonia Youth Inc. and this year is secretary of the L.Y.I.

McDowell lives with his wife, Lena, and their three children at 19851 Louise, Livonia.

Petition Denied

Museum Ruled Out

WIXOM — A petition which, if approved, would have cleared the way for construction of a historical museum in Wixom has been denied by the City Council.

The zoning board previously had also denied the proposal to rezone the property, on the east side of Wixom Road near the I-96 interchange, from residential to special business use.

The 105 acres in question are owned by B. J. Pollard, owner of a Detroit construction company. Tuesday night he appealed to the City Council to reverse the zoning board's decision which prohibited him from establishing a museum on the property.

The council voted unanimously to deny Pollard's petition on the grounds that he hadn't provided for an additional exit out of the proposed museum parking lot that would not run through a residential area.

* * *

Pollard does not feel the lack of another exit road at this time is a legitimate excuse for denial of his rezoning request.

WOULD SELL

Marvin Liberson, who owns the 40 acres the road would be built through, said at the council meeting that he would sell the land to Pollard if the city approved the museum.

Neither Pollard nor Liberson are certain that the city will approve the museum even if the road is constructed, according to Pollard.

Pollard is convinced the city officials are opposing his project simply because they are against the idea of a Wixom museum altogether.

* * *

He said that if the exit road were the real problem, it could be solved with little difficulty.

TO STUDY SITUATION

The builder at this time does not plan any further meetings with Wixom city officials. He will study the situation and make a decision soon on whether to take his case to court. Presently he sees the situation with the city as "hopeless."

Residents in Wixom have indicated they are divided on the question of the historical center.

A petition opposing the project received 48 area signers. They cited property depreciation, hazardous traffic, excess noise and rowdyism as the reasons for their stand against the museum.

* * *

With Clinton-Oakland System

'Tank Towns' Are Out

BY L. GARY THORNE

News Analysis

"Tank Towns"—where sewage disposal is accomplished through individual septic tank systems — are on the way out for a large chunk of Oakland County.

The county's proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System will eliminate so-called tank towns in seven Pontiac area communities.

Each of these communities — the townships of Avon, Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, West Bloomfield and Orion and the City of Orchard Lake — are to connect to the Clinton-Oakland system.

All but three of the communities, Independence and Avon townships and the City of Orchard have formally approved the plans and contract for the system.

PULLED OUT

An eighth community — the City of Pontiac — has pulled out of the proposed trunkline network.

Expected to serve a popula-tion of 210,700 by 1990, Clinton-Oakland is essentially an interceptor or trunk line to run from a point on the west side of Pontiac east to Avon Township and the Dequindre interceptor at 23½ Mile.

The interceptor is to be a trunkline collecting the sewage contributed by internal systems that would feed into it from seven area communities.

* * *

Total construction cost of the Clinton-Oakland is estimated at $16.5 million with the interest costs to total $12.1 million on the proposed 30-year bond issue. The grand total is estimated at $28,627,500.

COMPLETE IN ONE YEAR

County officials have indicated they hoped construction could get underway by the end of this year to be completed in a year.

Individual communities would be responsible for providing for their internal sewer systems.

A big slice of Oakland County could be urbanized with the advent of proper sanitary sewers — regarded by most planners as a must for future large scale development.

THREE "HOLDOUTS"

Of course, Clinton - Oakland won't become a reality until the three "holdouts" approve their respective contracts for the interceptor system.

Of the three, Avon Township appears the most reluctant.

Meantime, Orchard Lake officials held a hearing Monday on the subject of the proposed interceptor system. A decision on that city's participation is tentatively scheduled for Aug. 8.

* * *

The only other holdout — Independence Township, is expected to take some action at the township board meeting next week.

Southern GOP to Attack Entrenched Dem Positions

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republicans in the South are making major bids for office this summer — including some governorships which have been Democratic strongholds for as long as a century.

Most are convinced that voters will rally to conservative appeals, and party leaders in some states talk confidently of forging endurable two-party systems.

* * *

Republicans are planning governor' races in, at least five states. They say their candidates will seek seven seats in the U.S. Senate, at least 45 in the House of Representatives and an undetermined number of lesser state and local offices.

* * *

The resentment of administration policies which permitted Barry Goldwater to sweep five Deep South states in 1964 still is strong, but some candidates are careful not to align themselves too closely with their 1964 presidential nominee.

HAVEN'T FORGOTTEN

One reason: Vast numbers of newly registered Negro voters haven't forgotten that Goldwater voted in the Senate against the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

*"This is not a Goldwater year," says Claude Kirk, a wealthy investment banker from Jacksonville who is seeking the governorship in Florida.

* * *

Most party leaders are trying to soft-pedal racial questions — "race will not be an issue," the Republican chairman in Mississippi states flatly — and some are soliciting Negro votes openly.

"We think a great number of Negroes will vote Republican," says National committeeman I. Lee Potter of West Virginia, where Negroes comprise 20 per cent of registered voters.

PROMISE THE MOON

"It will be hard to pry them away from people who promise them a moon they can't deliver," he says. "But we feel they will be intelligent enough to know they are being hoodwinked."

* * *

In Georgia, Republicans have elected a Negro as parliamentarian of the state party in hopes of recapturing Negro support which could provide the margin of victory in some races.

* * *

The Republican spokesmen are united almost completely in their criticism of the Johnson administration. For the most part, they are shunting civil rights talk to the background and hitting the President hardest on the war in Viet Nam and the rising cost of living.

Campaigns in South Carolina will be based in part on "reducing federal take-overs of state, county and city government functions," says party chairman Harry S. Dent.

And in Mississippi, the state chairman declares, "We are the only responsible, effective opposition to the 'Great Society'."

Swedish Royalty Has New Addition

LONDON, (AP) — Princess Margaretha of Sweden gave birth to an 8-pound son today. The Swedish Embassy said he would be named Charles Edwards Ambler.

The princess is married to British businessman John Ambler. They have a 15-month-old daughter also.

"Mother and baby are doing well," said an embassy official.

The princess is the granddaughter of King Gustaf Adolf.

Romney Vetoes Hurt Him, Says Kowalski

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney, "the 'vetoesingest' chief executive" in Michigan history, damaged himself politically with his last two bill kills, says Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit.

Romney vetoed two pet Democratic projects Tuesday—a bill to reorganize the State Labor Department and one to eliminate the one-week waiting period before a laid-off worker can collect his unemployment compensation.

The Labor Department was just reorganized about six months ago, Romney said, and the unemployment bill would turn the compensation program into a welfare program.

DAMAGED HIMSELF

He used his veto power "irresponsibly again," Kowalski said, "and I believe he has damaged himself politically.

"His latest veto has freed him from the responsibility for setting up a modern and effective labor department in Michigan," the former union representative said, "and he has killed a bill designed to fulfill the basic purpose of our system of unemployment compensation.

"These vetoes, coming on the heels of Romney's immodest self-description as the working man's best friend, will cause a lot of puzzled head scratching," Kowalski added.

Romney earlier this week praised Teamster Boss James Hoffa for saying he (Romney) has done more for the Michigan working man than Democratic ex-Gov. G. Mennen Williams ever did.

OK $886 Million for State Education

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has approved more than $886.1 million in education spending for the current fiscal year, his office announced yesterday.

The $586.8 million school aid bill and the $229.3 million higher education measure were among 10 bills signed late Tuesday.

They represented the bulk of the $976.5 million general fund budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year, which began almost two weeks ago.

In the school aid bill, only $238 million comes out of the general fund over which the Legislature has discretionary power. The balance—$348.8 million—is automatically channeled into the fund for aid to local districts from various revenue sources—such as sales tax revenues.

★ ★ ★

As such, it is not subject to discretionary controls, and is not counted as part of the general fund budget.

Three controversial items have yet to be acted upon.

They include a $3.3 million tuition grant program for students in private colleges and universities, a $500,000 appropriation—with strings attached to acquire land for the proposed Grand Mere State Park near Benton Harbor, and a 14-mile road project to an Upper Peninsula copper mine that eventually could cost some $2.8 million.

★ ★ ★

The park and road projects snarled the legislative process last month and the $71 million capital outlay bill—which contains the park proposal—technically was killed until leaders hurriedly called the House and Senate back into session.

FUNDS BILL

The Menominee County road is contained in the $314.5 million restricted funds bill. The scholarship program is in a separate bill.

None of the measures has been signed.

The school aid bill represents a $68 million increase over the funds channeled to local districts last year. Most of the increase is due to a hike in the per-student allowance from $255 to $278, and removal of ceilings on aid to low valuation districts.

It is $16.6 million more than recommended by Romney six months ago.

★ ★ ★

The higher education bill represents an increase of $32 million over last year's appropriations to the state's 10 tax supported colleges and universities.

French Vacation Camp Nowadays

PARIS—(NEA)—The French, who once thought roughing it was riding from Calais to Paris in a smoke-filled, third-class train compartment, have discovered the great outdoors.

Good old French practicality is the reason for it. Some 10 million Frenchmen have discovered that camping is a whole lot cheaper than a holiday on the Cote d'Azur.

Besides, hotels simply aren't available in July and August when most of France takes its vacation.

Campers represent every social strata and a wide range of age groups. Discounting go-go teen-agers who escape all census - taking the typical French camper is 38 with a wife and family.

* * *

The rugged nomads, reports the Economic and Social Council, are mostly factory workers and white-collar types and are considered upper-middle-class citizens.

ELOQUENT FIGURES

Figures are eloquent. In 1965, for the first time in France's history of tourism, the number of "camping nights" was higher then "hotel nights." Three years before the ratio was 70 million against 80 million. Last summer, an American family of six traveled Europe for 10 weeks in a caravan at a cost of less than $800.

Unfortunately, the 3,300 camping sites are usually saturated. Regulations permit the accommodation of 300 people per hectare (2.47 acres), 200 in the more luxurious sites, where each tent is supposed to stand in a minimum of 320 square feet.

In the more popular regions, such as southern France, these minimums are often exceeded by at least 10 per cent.

Lourdes, in the Pyrenees, leads all other French towns with the record number of 10 camping grounds. Many people who make an annual pilgrimage to Lourdes live in tents or trailers while serving as volunteer stretcher bearers and hospital aides at the world-famous shrine.

One of the largest French camping sites (over 10 acres) is in the Bois de Boulogne, within the city limits. In 1964, 80,000 people set up transient housekeeping in the lovely romantic woodland situated on the banks of the Seine, a stone's throw from the fashionable Polo Club.

TENT CITY

The "tent city" in the Bois is is equipped with every convenience ranging from a self-service restaurant to post office, grocery store, newsstand, telephones, bath houses and laundry facilities. This year a nursery will take care of children from the age of three to 10 all day for a cost of $2 a day per child.

About one-third of the Bois de Boulogne campers live in a caravan or the now-popular family touring bus known here as the "combi." There is a special "pad" for 40 vehicles.

Otherwise every shape, size and species of tent is seen, from the compact Finnish "igloo" to spacious two room jobs with separate living and sleeping quarters.

Naturally, a proper Frenchman wouldn't consider abandoning all his sophisticated ways, even under canvas. Pate de fois gras is still appropriate as an hors d'oeuvre and more than one French family has attempted, with varying results, to charcoal broil omelets and boeuf bourguignon.

Fraternity 'Haul' Was Good Play for Funds

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Sigma Nu fraternity men here traded their delapidated piano to a music store two miles away and were allowed $25 in trade. But the catch was they had to deliver the instrument to the store — and the delivery men wanted $25 for the job.

Instead of using professional movers, the fraternity brothers assigned 20 pledges to carry the piano on their backs in relays of 10 to a mile. The trip took an hour, but $25 was saved.

Pompidou to Step Up?

France's No. 2 Tries a Little Harder

PARIS (UPI) — French Premier Georges Pompidou is acting more and more these days like a man who expects to step into the shoes of the boss — President Charles de Gaulle.

De Gaulle's second seven-year term still has another 6½ years to run. But he will be 76 in November and many Frenchmen believe he will step down before serving out his full term.

If he does so, few doubt that the suave roly-poly Pompidou will be ready to succeed the old general.

But the 55-year-old premier has some major hurdles to overcome.

France will hold national parliamentary general elections next spring, probably in March or April.

Pompidou has been given the assignment by de Gaulle of ensuring that the ruling Gaullist Union for the New Republic (UNR) — majority part in France since 1962 — is returned to power.

If Pompidou can pull that off, his political future seems to be in the bag.

But if he should flop — and particularly if he fails to get elected himself — Pompidou is the first to admit it would be curtains for his political career.

While he prepares for battle, Pompidou is acting confidently as a man who expects to go places politically. And de Gaulle himself seems to be helping quietly in the buildup.

In recent months, Pompidou has spent a great deal of time at his central France country home in Cajarc, where he will run for election.

He is "nursing the constituency," to use a phrase from British politics, shakes hands with the voters and no longer shuns occasional rounds of baby-kissing.

Pompidou also has been giving himself increasing political exposure on television.

Though he is only in robust middle age, he manages to project something of a comfortable "father figure." He speaks with ease and fluency on all manner of subjects.

Relief for severe persistent pain, such as is caused by cancer or serious injuries to the nervous system is expected through a technique being developed in the form of a miniature implanted electronic device.

'Smoking Lowers Toxic Condition in Pregnancies'

By Science Service

CHICAGO — Smoking may not be so bad for expectant mothers and their babies after all, a surprising report to the meeting of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists here revealed.

* * *

There was significantly less preeclampsia, a toxic condition of pregnancy in which there is increased blood pressure, kidney damage and edema preceding convulsions, in a comparative group of smokers and nonsmokers involving 48,505 Navy mothers.

* * *

Although the finding was purely statistical and without explanation, the researchers said there was possibly a "protective" effect of smoking on toxemia.

* * *

Infants born to mothers who smoked weighed less and the incidence of prematurity was greater in this and other studies, but the clinical importance of these findings was lessened since there was no increase in the number of deaths near the time of birth.

WWII Plane Is Identified

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — Wreckage sighted in thick jungle in northern Malaya has been identified as that of a World War II C47, twin-engined U.S. Army transport command plane, a U.S. official said.

U.S. Embassy air attache Col. Elwood H. Beeson who companied a 15-man Malaysian police team to investigate the wreckage, said the aircraft number was 316261 and the only useful identification was a seat belt with the date June 25, 1945, printed on it.

★ ★ ★

The air attache said the aircraft hit a 3,000-foot mountain about a hundred yards from the peak, about 20 miles west of Ipoh, in northern Malaya.

Boots, helmets and some ammunition were found in the aircraft but there were no signs of bodies he reported.

Viet Protesters Will Picket Dow Plant

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Members of the Ann Arbor chapter of Students for a Democratic Society said today they will picket the Midland plant of Dow Chemical Co. Aug. 6 because the firm manufactures napalm, a jellied gasoline used in the Viet Nam war.

A Dow spokesman said the firm will take no action to prevent the demonstration, adding, "We endorse the citizen's right to legal and peaceful demonstration against action with which he does not agree."

The spokesman said the Midland plant does not manufacture napalm although a Dow plant in Torrance, Calif., does manufacture the gasoline product used in fire bombs.

★ ★ ★

The Midland plant does make a plastic material used in the preparation of napalm but the material is being used currently for other purposes, the spokesman said.

No Constitutional Limits on Federal Taxation

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The Associated Press has just completed a survey in which newspaper readers across the country were asked what interested or troubled them most about the world today. A series of readers' questions were taken from the survey. This article about taxes is one of several in response to those questions.)

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reader asks: "Is there a limit to over-all taxes? Has it ever been tested in court?"

It may come as a surprise, but there's no constitutional limit to the amount of taxes the government can levy. However, there's a very real limit from a practical standpoint.

★ ★ ★

Remember the American Revolution? Its basic cause was taxation without representation.

Today there's representation — in Congress, in the state legislatures and in the city councils — but there are still irate outcries over high taxes.

★ ★ ★

Many tax questions have been tested in court — in fact, the federal government has its own tax court — but tax rates, themselves, aren't subject to litigation.

One Treasury Department expert said there's no constitutional limit to how high taxes can go so long as they're nondiscriminatory.

★ ★ ★

The best way to measure the government tax take is in relation to gross national product. That's the value of all goods and services produced.

Today, Treasury experts say, the total tax take — federal, state and local — amounts to about 28 per cent of gross national product.

HIGHER TAKE

Many free-world nations have a higher take. In 1962, citizens of West Germany, France and Sweden were taxed at 35 per cent of their gross national product while, in the Netherlands, the figure was 32 per cent, United Kingdom, Italy and Austria 30 per cent, and Luxembourg 31.

Although there's no theoretical limit to over-all taxes, a greatly increased tax take usually means that the system of government has changed or is changing.

A nation which siphons huge percentages of gross national product into taxation is obviously embarked on or leaning toward some form of socialism, one economist noted.

Strange as it might seem, a higher percentage of the nation's wealth is diverted to taxes today than during World War II, when the total take was 25 per cent of gross national product, and the Korean War, when the take was 26 per cent.

STILL GREATER

One reason, a Treasury source said, is the higher share of gross national product now taken by state and local governments. But the federal tax level is still greater than the other two combined.

Of the 28 per cent of gross national product now going toward taxes, the federal share runs somewhere around 19 per cent, and most of that is raised through personal and corporate income taxes.

★ ★ ★

The high-water mark for individual income tax rates came in 1944-45, near the close of World War II, when they ranged from 22 to 94 per cent.

★ ★ ★

After the Korean war, individual income tax rates ranged from 20 to 91 per cent and were reduced in 1964 first to a 16-77 per cent range and this year to the 14-70 per cent range.

★ ★ ★

The future of tax rates depends on what future war needs might be and on services provided by governments.

★ ★ ★

"If the economy is properly managed and people are satisfied, I don't see how you can tell what the practical limits of taxation are," one economist says.

You Can't Beat Automation

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — A case of automation at first sight is leading a Ridgewood girl to the altar after she tried to trick the computer and failed.

★ ★ ★

Gail Conti, 22, switched names with her Boston University roommate, Mary McDonald, when she filled out the forms for her computer-matched date a year ago. The girls supplied the correct answers with the wrong names.

★ ★ ★

Then they set out on their double dates, but this time under the correct names.

"We had hardly become acquainted when I realized I had made a mistake," Miss Conti said. "Mary's date, Jim, began to look and sound better to me by the moment."

SWITCHED DATES

The girls confessed and switched dates.

Miss Conti and her computer-picked fiance, James W. Fraser, 24, of Akron, Ohio, will be married July 23.

Spy Charges Denied by Red

LONDON (AP) — Diplomats today said that Maj. Gen. Sergei Edemski, one of two Soviets accused of paying Pentagon aide William Henry Whalen $5,500 for American military secrets, is a leading Soviet intelligence expert.

"That's all lies," Edemski said Wednesday of the FBI's charges linking him and Soviet diplomat Mikhail A. Shumaev to Whalen while the latter was assigned to the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff.

During part of the time Whalen is accused of spying—from 1959 to 1963—Edemski was stationed in Washington. He has been the senior Soviet military attache here for the past four years.

Speaking excellent English, he told newsmen that British counterintelligence agents had not contacted him since Whalen's arrest. The British foreign office would make no comment on that, but it confirmed that Edemski is the same man named in the Washington charges as one of Whalen's contacts.

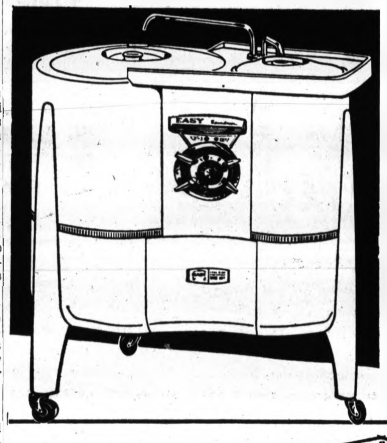

New Coins TV Jammers

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A new problem has arisen over the new sandwich type of copper quarters.

Patrons at the Blue Lantern Tavern here have found they can turn off the TV set by plunking the new coins on the bar.

A TV repairman says he is at a loss to do anything about it as the sound made by the "plunking" is on the same wave length as the remote control for the set.

VP Is Elected in Yugoslavia

Ex-Minister Replaces Victim of Party Purge

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Former Foreign Minister Koca Popovic was elected vice president of Yugoslavia today. He replaces Alexander Rankovic, longtime associate of President Tito who was purged from his Communist party and government posts early this month.

★ ★ ★

Popovic, 58, was elected by a joint session of Parliament. It also accepted the "resignation" of Rankovic, who had held the post since 1963.

INVITED TO RESIGN

Rankovic had been invited to resign during a meeting July 1 of the central committee of the Yugoslav Communist party. At the same time the committee stripped Rankovic of all his party functions.

★ ★ ★

It was alleged at the central committee meeting that Yugoslavia's state security organization, the Secret Police organized by Rankovic, had shadowed and eavesdropped on the country's highest leaders. Rankovic also was accused of obstructing the government's new economic reforms.

Rankovic had long been considered a possible successor to President Tito.

U.S., Viets Move to Keep Drugs From VC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government and U. S. agencies have moved to block the Communist Viet Cong from getting antibiotics or other medicines from the black market or across drugstore counters in Viet Nam.

This was disclosed by the Defense Department today when it was questioned about reports that the Communists had been obtaining drugs for their military needs from these sources.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Arthur Ahearn, an Army doctor who served with the Special Forces, has written in the journal "Military Medicine" that "this ready access alarms officials who are concerned with resources control."

★ ★ ★

The Pentagon said it is assumed the Communists are interested primarily in such antibiotic-type drugs as tetracycline and penicillin.

REGULATIONS

To deal with the problem, the Pentagon said, the South Vietnamese government has imposed regulations controlling the sale of pharmaceuticals.

All sales must be registered and customers identified, and limits have been placed on the amounts that can be bought.

Also, the Vietnamese police have established control stations at strategic points, the Pentagon said.

★ ★ ★

Drugs supplied under the U. S. AID program are under commercial import control. "Records are kept and shipments carefully followed through to designated destinations," the Defense Department said.

'PREAUDIT'

In this connection, the department said, AID officials conduct a "preaudit" of Vietnamese importers of U. S. drugs to insure legitimate customers and requirements.

AID has a customs checked at Vietnamese ports, and then conducts a "postaudit" to ascertain the destination of the drugs.

U. S. military medical supplies are guarded and their usage is monitored.

2 Detroit Officers Suspended

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County one-man grand jury yesterday recommended the suspension of two more Detroit policemen for alleged consorting with gamblers.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin removed Detective Richard D. Davies, 32, and Patrolman Michael Yarema, 35, after they were charged with having frequent meetings with three men who are free on bond on gambling charges.

Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins also said that the grand jury investigation of the Detroit Police Department will not be completed before the jury ends on Aug. 31.

Piggins suggested that a new grand jury be set up by Wayne County Circuit Court to continue the investigation.

★ ★ ★

He indicated that he might be the logical choice for the job.

In a statement issued yesterday, Piggins said:

"I am completing 11 months of a physically taxing and emotionally disturbing experience.

"During that time, I have learned that a grand juror must develop . . . a determination to do his job straightforwardly in the face of criticism which he is forbidden to answer."

The juror also indicted a Detroit bar owner yesterday for contempt of court.

★ ★ ★

The charge was leveled at Steve (Jumbo) Demoff for what Piggins called too many "false and evasive" answers.

Demoff was questioned in connection with alleged gift-giving by bar owners to policemen to ignore reputed gambling operations.

Demoff had been questioned on three occasions in the last three months.

Submachine Gun Used on One-Armed Bandit

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Sheriff Rudy Gonzales shot down a one-armed bandit recently with his submachine gun.

County commissioners ordered the sheriff to destroy a confiscated nickel slot machine, so Gonzales used it as the target for his machine gun practice.

State Asks Detroit: Stall School Half-Days

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education asked the Detroit School Board yesterday to delay putting the first and seventh grades on half-day sessions until the two boards can discuss possible alternatives.

The Detroit board has announced it will order the half-day sessions because of financial problems.

The state board said alternatives might include possible amendments to the state school aid statute "that would recognize relative total tax burdens and the special problems facing school districts located in urban communities."

It ordered Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, to examine possible school aid changes and other possible means of helping Detroit.

In a telegram to the Detroit board, the state board urged delay in starting half-day sessions because they "adversely affect the quality of education, create administrative problems, and have other detrimental social ramifications for the community."

County Leadership Is Cited as Key in Population Explosion

Detroit Edison Co. officials yesterday told a group of Oakland County governmental, educational and business leaders that their leadership will play a key role in coping with the expected population explosion and subsequent rising economic pressures between now and the year 2000.

* * *

George Catlin, director of area development for the Detroit Edison Co., and Senior Vice President E. O. George expressed their views at a luncheon at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

The firm last year engaged the services of Doxiadis Associates of Athens, Greece, to conduct a 5-year study on the contemplated population boom and its effects.

Long-range planning, future problems and solutions, research projects and how community leaders can help are all being considered.

* * *

The study encompasses 25 southeastern Michigan counties, nine in northwestern Ohio and three in Ontario.

LOOK TO FUTURE

Catlin and George said leaders must look to the future now more than ever before because of the mounting population and speed-up in technological advances.

Catlin mentioned an estimate from an undisclosed source predicting that the Great Lakes states will have 75 per cent of the nation's 330 million people by the end of the century.

He said that mounting urbanization could result in a Y-shaped Great Lakes super city, extending from Milwaukee-Chicago to Detroit-Toledo with "arms" at Buffalo-Toronto and Cleveland-Pittsburgh.

From Detroit, the population explosion will string along six urbanization corridors—already emerging — according to Catlin.

* * *

They are Detroit-Flint-Saginaw-Bay City, Detroit-Lansing, Detroit-Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor, Detroit-Monroe-Toledo, Detroit-Windsor-Toronto and Detroit-Mount Clemens-Port Huron.

* * *

This region could become the focal point of the megolopolis or it could be bypassed to the south, said George.

It depends on leadership, he stressed.

New Plant Will Consume Junk Cars

DEARBORN (AP) — Luria Brothers and Co., Inc., Wednesday broke ground for an auto fragmentizing plant which, it is estimated, will consume 250,000 junked cars a year.

The plant will produce a high-quality scrap steel called furmet, a company spokesman said. Luria expects to have the plant, which is located in suburban Taylor Township, in operation by December, 1966.

* * *

Earlier this year, Ford Motor Co. negotiated a contract with Luria for substantial quantities of furmet. The Taylor Township plant will cost $3.5 million.

Americans Eat Seven Billion Hot Dogs

BY JANET ODELL

Hot Dog!

Interesting, isn't it, that the name of a food should be an exclamation of pleasure. But that's the way people feel about hot dogs or frankfurters.

* * *

Americans like them so well that they ate seven billion last year.

All hot dogs are fully cooked, but the meat in them may differ. There are all beef franks and franks that contain both beef and pork.

Michigan law allows up to four per cent milk solids added to the meat.

* * *

Although hot dogs are cooked, they are perishable and should be stored in the refrigerator. Use within a week.

* * *

Children will settle for plain heated hot dogs, or ones grilled over an open fire. Adults like a little more sophistication. Try brushing franks with this sauce.

Frankburger Barbecue Sauce

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup unsulphured molasses
½ cup catchup
¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice
¼ cup prepared mustard
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon tabasco

Melt butter in a saucepan. Add onion and cook until tender, but not brown. Stir in remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes. Use to brush on frankfurters or hamburgers during grilling.

Yield: Approximately 2 cups (enough for 2 dozen frankfurters.)

Stuffed franks become a regular meat course when they're filled with a tasty filling.

Stuffed Hot Dogs

8 frankfurters
4 slices bacon, chopped and fried until crisp
1 cup (4 oz.) coarsely grated sharp cheddar cheese
2 teaspoons grated onion
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon Angostura aromatic bitters
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten

Split frankfurters lengthwise, not all the way through. Combine remaining ingredients and use mixture to stuff frankfurters. Use toothpicks to hold frankfurters together.

Put under broiler and broil until cheese is melted and top is brown. Serve with pickles, celery strips, green pepper rings and tomato slices.

For use as an hors d'oeuvre, cut each frankfurter crosswise into 4 pieces and serve on toothpicks.

* * *

Hot dogs are a change on the appetizer tray. Tiny cocktail franks or diagonal slices of regular ones go into a jelly and mustard sauce.

Currant Glazed Appetizer Franks

1 10-ounce jar (1 cup) currant jelly
1 6-ounce jar (⅔ cup) salad mustard
1 pound cocktail franks, or sliced franks

Heat jelly and mustard together, stirring occasionally, until blended. Add franks and heat. Serve with picks. Makes 8 servings.

Frankfurters and pineapple become kabobs when they're alternated on skewers and grilled.

Ring Around The Frank Pole

1 pound frankfurters
1 pound can pineapple chunks
⅓ cup packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup pickle relish
20 strips cheddar cheese
10 hot dog buns

Cut each frank crosswise into three pieces. Drain pineapple chunks; reserving one cup syrup. In a mixing bowl combine pineapple juice, brown sugar, salad oil, dry mustard, and pickle relish. Marinate franks in sauce 3 to 4 hours or overnight.

Remove from marinade and alternate franks with pineapple chunks on 10 metal skewers. Broil 6 to 7 inches from heat source 5 to 7 minutes, brushing with sauce as needed.

Place kabobs on crossed strips of cheese around center pole. Serve on buns with your favorite relish. Makes 10.

STUFFED HOT DOGS

Bubble Crust for Ice Cream Pie

Occasionally, even in warm weather, a special event demands a festive dessert. The dessert ought to be nourishing though, to arouse beat dulled appetites.

For that occasion arising in your home, remember this ice cream pie with puffed wheat-coconut crust. The harmonious blend of delicately crisp and sweetened cereal puffs and smooth ice cream makes a fortifying combination.

Breakfast cereals are excellent for ingredient use in recipes because they make nutritional contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy. Ice cream, of course, is a dairy food with the food properties of milk.

Preparation of the cereal crust requires only top of the range cooking of the syrup. The syrup coated cereal then is pressed into a pie pan, and put in the freezer until needed. A tongue teasing pineapple lime sauce adds further color and flavor to this refreshing dessert.

PUFFED WHEAT ICE CREAM PIE

3 cups puffed wheat
½ cup flaked coconut
¼ cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Pineapple Lime Sauce:

1 can (13½ ounce) pineapple chunks, undrained
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
3 tablespoons lime juice
1 teaspoon grated lime rind
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Combine cereal and coconut in large buttered bowl. Set aside. Combine sugar, corn syrup, butter or margarine, and salt; mix and cook to the soft crack stage (270 degrees).

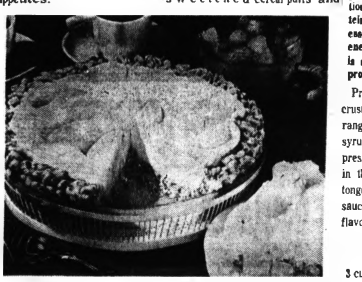

* * *

Pour syrup over cereal-coconut mixture in a fine stream; mix until cereal is evenly coated with syrup. Press mixture evenly over bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch pie pan. Chill in freezer.

Spoon ice cream into shell. Freeze.

* * *

Prepare sauce. Combine pineapple, sugar, cornstarch, lime juice and rind, and butter or margarine; mix. Cook, stirring constantly, until clear and thickened. Chill. Serve over wedges of pie. Yield: One 9-inch pie, 8 servings.

ICE CREAM PIE—Puffed wheat mixed with syrup makes a no-bake crust for this summer pie. At serving time, spoon a lime and pineapple sauce over the vanilla ice cream filling. Cool to make, cool to eat . . . cool, man, cool.

Tomato Soup Sauce Covers Eggs on Rusk

"Why don't you stop by for lunch?"

Sometimes it's fun to invite a friend or some neighbors on the spur of the moment. Perhaps you saw a friend while shopping in the supermarket and on an impulse invited her for lunch.

* * *

With very little time for preparation, eggs come to the rescue. It is then that it pays to have hard cooked eggs all ready in the refrigerator to be blended with a can of this and a dab of that to make just such an inspirational dish as "Chicadee."

Here's a dish chock full of good nutrition and yet just a little special for that time when preparation must be cut short. This delectable quickie is a blend of undiluted tomato soup, mushrooms, pimento and ripe olives.

The extra touch is to cut those hard-cooked eggs into sixths lengthwise and to form a flower on rusk or toasted muffin with the easily made colorful sauce over all. Simple? Of course, and your friends will need only a cup of tea and a toised salad to make a nutritious lunch.

Chicadee

2 cans tomato soup
¼ cup chopped pimiento
¼ cup chopped ripe olives
1 2½ oz.-can sliced mushrooms
8 hard-cooked eggs, cut in sixths
8 rusks
⅛ teaspoon salt

Combine tomato soup, pimento, olives and mushrooms in saucepan. Heat until piping hot.

Arrange one cut hard-cooked egg on each piece of rusk in pinwheel fashion. Sprinkle eggs with salt. Serve with sauce poured over eggs. Makes 4 servings.

Make a Tasty Salad With Dry Peanuts

An interesting salad calls for peanuts.

Special Tossed Salad

1 medium head lettuce, torn into bite-size pieces
3 cups knife-shredded chicory (curly leaf endive)
2 large tomatoes, cut in wedges
¾ pound cheddar cheese, diced
¾ cup peanut oil
¾ cup each wine vinegar and finely chopped dry roasted peanuts

* * *

In a salad bowl, toss together the lettuce, chicory, tomatoes and cheese.

Beat or shake together the oil and vinegar; pour about ⅓ cup of the dressing over the salad; toss lightly; sprinkle with the peanuts.

(Refrigerate remaining oil-vinegar, tightly covered, for other salad use.)

* * *

You may add salt and pepper to taste to the salad. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

SESAME HALIBUT STEAKS—If halibut is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf or at room temperature. Rub four halibut steaks on both sides with cut clove of garlic. Brush with oil. Sprinkle with lemon juice, salt and pepper and two tablespoons sesame seeds. Place on grill about four inches from moderate burning charcoal. Cook four minutes, turn and cook four to five minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes four servings.

GLAZED APPETIZER FRANKS

Heat Leftover Beef in Yummy Sauce

An excellent way to use roast beef that's leftover is described here.

SKILLET BEEF LILA

1 tablespoon flour
1 can (6 ounces) vegatable cocktail juice
1 tablespoon (generous) dry onion-soup mix — as it comes from package
½ cup commercial sour cream
¼ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon celery salt
Rare roast beef —cut into pencil-thick 3-inch long strips (2 cups)
Salt and pepper

Into a 9- or 10-inch skillet, turn the flour. Gradually stir or whisk in the vegatable cocktail juice, keeping smooth. Add the dry onion soup mix, sour cream, sugar and celery salt. Over low heat stir constantly until thickened and bubbly.

Add beef (at room temperature) and quickly reheat. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 4 servings.

AFTER DINNER CAFE—For a cool evening this continental-type hot beverage will impress your guests. The lemon swirl garnish can be prepared in front of everyone. Very swish.

Coffee, Cocoa, Milk Powders Blend in Continental Beverage

Here's a clever new way to climax your meal with a continental flourish and impress your guests, meanwhile replacing any stuffed feeling with the bright flavor of fresh lemon.

Heightened by fresh lemon it's sure to start conversations, right at the psychological moment when they have been known to lag.

To go truly dramatic with this one, dim the lights and do the intriguing fresh lemon part (bring in the ingredients, ready on a tray) at the table!

After Dinner Cafe with Lemon Zest

1 to 2 lemons
½ cup instant dry milk crystals
¾ cup instant cocoa mix
2 tablespoons instant coffee
4 cups vigorously boiling water

Fill coffee server with hot water to pre-heat.

Cut around each lemon (use tip of sharp knife or the bar tool that makes "twists") to get thin strips of peel about ¾-inch wide. Cut strips in 1½-inch lengths and roll into curls.

Press one curl gently between your fingers over each cup, to release the fragrant lemon oil, then swirl into cup. Squeeze the lemons for juice and add ½ teaspoon to lemon peel in each cup.

In large mixing bowl (or use blender) combine the three instant mixes, add boiling water and beat with electric or rotary beater until thoroughly combined and very frothy."

Pour hot water out of the server and replace with coffee mixture, fill each cup and serve at once. Can be sweetened further with sugar passed separately, if desired. Makes about 1 quart.

Cut Soup Preparation Time

One of the best antidotes for a high temperature and humidity index is chilled soup. And, when it is presented and served on ice, it becomes even more effective in reviving appetites and restoring pleasant dispositions.

Chilled soups have been enjoyed in many European countries for centuries. But it has only been in recent years that cold soups other than jellied consomme have appeared on American tables with any frequency.

Frozen soups, frozen vegetables, frozen fruits and other frozen products give you a head start on making chilled soups. The washing, trimming, chopping and other preliminary preparation of ingredients has already been done, making it possible to prepare cold and delectable soups quickly and easily.

Following are two recipes which illustrate the simple technique. The first, Curried Carrot Vichyssoise, is a streamlined variation of Vichyssoise, probably the best known of all soups in this country.

The original version—simply cold potato soup garnished with chives — was created by the famous twentieth century chef, Louis Diat, at the Ritz-Carlton in New York City.

Curried Carrot Vichyssoise

1 can (10¼ ounces) frozen cream of potato soup, thawed
1 package (10 ounces) frozen whole baby carrots
2 cups (1 pint) light cream
1 teaspoon curry powder
Chopped fresh mint

Press soup through a sieve or whirl in a blender. Cook carrots until tender; drain and press through a sieve or whirl in a blender. Combine pureed potato soup, pureed carrots and curry powder. Gradually stir in cream.

Chill in refrigerator at least four hours. Serve in chilled bowls. Garnish with chopped mint. Makes 6 servings.

Like the traditional Dutch Pea Soup made the old-fashioned way with a ham bone, dried peas and hours of simmering, this modern version combines the same two basic ingredients: ham and peas. The difference is that the hours of simmering and thickening have been eliminated through the use of a convenient frozen soup.

Chilled Dutch Pea Soup

½ cup frozen chopped onion
½ cup frozen chopped mushrooms
1 can (10½ ounces) frozen green pea with ham soup, thawed
2 cups buttermilk
Croutons

Combine frozen chopped onion and mushrooms in skillet. Saute in their own liquid as they defrost until tender. Blend together green pea soup and buttermilk. Stir in cooked onion and mushrooms.

Chill in refrigerator at least four hours. Serve in chilled bowls. Garnish each serving with croutons. Makes 4 servings.

Meat Queries Answered in New Extension Bulletin

How do most packers tenderize their meat? Is it possible to over-tenderize meat? What affects cooking time of meat?

★ ★ ★

These and other questions homemakers ask about cooking meat aren't answered in many cookbooks.

★ ★ ★

But they are answered in a new Cooperative Extension Service publication No. 529 called, "Meat, Let's Cook It Right", says Mrs. Carol C. Kurth, area Extension Home Economist headquartered in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Anita Dean, nutritionist with the Extension Service, and author of the publication, explains, "Meats are important nutritionally for the amounts and quality of protein, B-vitamins and energy they provide. And meat commands a higher proportion of the family food dollar than other foods of the same nutritive value required. This means that meats should be selected and prepared to insure saving those nutrients as well as flavor."

"Today's basic cookbooks supply excellent tested recipes as well as descriptions of cooking techniques," Mrs. Dean continues.

"Commercial companies offer directions for preparing their product either on the label or in leaflets. We don't duplicate that information. Instead we try to help homemakers understand WHY meat, fish and poultry are cooked according to certain recommended practices."

As an example she cited the answer the publication gives to the question: How can you tell when fish is well done?

Here's the answer: "Too often fish is overcooked. Fish is done when its protein has set. At this stage the flesh flakes easily when tested with a fork, and it will be moist and tender with a delicate flavor. Many small fish require less than ten minutes total cooking time. Overcooked fish and shellfish are tough and dry."

For a copy of the bulletin contact Mrs. Kurth, Extension Home Economist, 155 North Saginaw Street, Pontiac, Michigan 48058.

If you are ambitious and want to bake them, you'll find fruit turnovers are wonderful to take along on a picnic.

FROSTY SOUPS FROM THE FREEZER—Cold and delectable soups can be made quickly and easily with convenient frozen ingredients. The Curried Carrot Vichyssoise illustrated here is made with frozen potato soup and frozen whole baby carrots. Light cream, curry powder and fresh mint are the only other ingredients.

Cut Crosswise

Wondering how to cut up that rhubarb for pie? Unless the recipe states otherwise, you'll be safe in slicing the stalks crosswise into ½-inch pieces. Another hint: never peel pink or red rhubarb.

Roll in Ham Slices

Mashed Potatoes Are Finger Food

Among the rites of summer, the family picnic is one of the nicest. It can be observed on a beach, in a cool woodland glade, or off the tailgate of the family station wagon. The common denominator is food, amply stocked in a portable picnic basket.

Try these favorites your next time out: ham, baked beans, and potato salad. A bit of applied ingenuity gives them surprising new zest and variety.

Combine the ham slices and potato salad in jelly-roll fashion and you've got the neatest finger food lunch this side of the Great Divide.

Note the unique and delicious mashed potato salad. It's a real quickie made with packaged mashed potato granules, minced celery, hard cooked eggs, and flavored with instant minced onion and zippy prepared yellow mustard.

The picnic-styled baked beans with crumbled bacon have spirited flavor, thanks to a dash of Worcestershire sauce, chili sauce, and freeze-dried chives.

For easy serving at picnic time, spoon the beans into individual paper cartons and provide disposable plastic spoons or forks. The ham-and-potato salad logs travel nicely in small waxed paper or plastic bags.

Round out your picnic menu with cheese sandwiches and plum tomatoes. And don't forget the pickles, fruit, cookies, and chilled beverages.

Ham and Potato Salad Logs

1 envelope (4 servings) instant mashed potato granules
2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon prepared yellow mustard
½ cup finely diced celery
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
8 thin slices boiled ham (about 12 oz.)

Prepare mashed potatoes as envelope directs; stir in onion and mustard. Let cool a few minutes; add celery, mayonnaise, and eggs.

Spread slices of ham with potato mixture; roll up as for jelly roll. Chill several hours or overnight. 4 servings.

Pak-a-Lunch Beans

1 can (1 lb.) baked beans
4 slices cooked bacon, crumbled
2 tablespoons chili sauce
2 teaspoons freeze-dried chives
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients. Chill or serve at room temperature. If preferred hot, place over moderate heat just long enough to become bubbly hot. 4 servings.

PICNIC FAVORITES — Family favorites for a picnic are shown here in slightly different guises. Mom's delicious potato salad, made in a jiffy with instant mashed potatoes, is served up in ham slices rolled up Jelly-roll fashion. The baked beans are mixed with bacon, Worcestershire sauce, chili sauce, and freeze-dried chives.

Danger Lurks in Picnic Food

In the summer months, cookouts, picnics and prepared lunches eaten in cars are a way of life with most citizens. But the high temperatures that are so enjoyable also pose a threat to food unless the rule is adopted which says: Keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold.

At this time of the year, there is always an increase of food poisoning cases reported to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Many of these stem from meals being exposed to summer temperatures without proper refrigeration after the food is prepared.

Foods containing cream and eggs are particularly susceptible to food poisoning organisms when improperly handled. Heading the list are mayonnaise, cream fillings, potato salad, cream sauces, puddings and salad dressings.

Manufacturers usually handle such products properly as do most retailers, but often consumers are negligent because they are unaware of the hazard involved, says J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Food Inspection Division of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

To avoid danger of food poisoning, they advise keeping foods that are to be eaten hot well heated during the time between preparation and eating. Similar precautions apply with cold foods. Chilling and good refrigeration are suggested.

Keeping food at room temperatures is dangerous in either case. Maintain hot foods at 140 degrees F. or higher and cold foods at 45 degrees F. or colder, is Mr. Littlefield's suggestion.

Sour Cream Has Fewer Calories

Counting those calories? Remember, dairy sour cream is lower in calories than many foods for which it can be substituted. For example:

1 tablespoon dairy sour cream has	30 calories
1 tablespoon mayonnaise has	92 calories
1 tablespoon French-type dressing has	60 calories

Stuffed Lettuce

To stuff an iceberg lettuce cut out the core and heart. Pack a soft cheese mixture into the center of the lettuce, wrap tightly and chill thoroughly. Cut in wedges and serve as a salad with French dressing.

Dessert Calories Cut to Minimum

Sweetness without sugar is the special feature of the delightful and calorie-shy Rhubarb Dessert Jelly shown here.

Developed by home economists for the calorie-free sweetener, sucaryl, this diet-minded recipe illustrates a modern new concept in food preparation . . . that is, the subtraction of excess, unwanted calories from favorite dishes before they reach the table.

With the help of this cyclamate-type sweetener, used in place of sugar, a wide range of sweets ordinarily forbidden to weight watchers can be enjoyed at a minimum cost in calories.

RHUBARB DESSERT JELLY (Low-Calorie)

5 cups diced rhubarb
½ cup water
3 tablespoons sucaryl solution
3 2-serving envelopes dietetic strawberry-flavored gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup diet gingerale

In large saucepan, combine rhubarb, water and sucaryl. Cook until tender, stirring well with wooden spoon to crush rhubarb. Add strawberry gelatin, stirring to dissolve; then add lemon juice and gingerale.

Let stand until foam disappears from surface of mixture. Pour into a lightly oiled 1-quart mold; chill until set. Garnish, if desired, with low-calorie whipped topping, strawberries, or orange sections.

Makes 6 servings, each 26 calories; 2 grams protein; no fat; 4 grams carbohydrate. (With sugar 266 calories.)

Beans and Beets Make Unique Salad

This interesting salad combination is hearty and flavorful enough to accompany fish.

Tyrolese Salad

1 can (8 ounces) cut green beans, drained
1 cup drained sliced pickled beets
½ of a small onion sliced paper-thin and separated into rings
2 medium or small apples, pared and cut into thin sticks

French Dressing and lettuce
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Mix the beans, beets, onion and apples with enough French Dressing to give good flavor.

Arrange on lettuce. Garnish with sliced eggs. Makes 6 servings.

No Backbone; Easy Carving

Carving a pork loin roast is easy if you follow these simple directions from the American Meat Institute.

Have the backbone loosened from the rib side of the roast at the market. When you take the roast out of the oven, remove the backbone before sending the roast to the table.

Place the roast on the platter with the rib ends us, and rib side of the roast in front of the carver. Slice downward between the ribs to make chop-sized servings.

If the loin roast is a large one, it is possible to carve a boneless slice between each rib.

PINEAPPLE CREAM PUFF PIE—Bake a giant cream puff in a 9-inch pie pan. Fill it with whipped cream, pineapple and strawberries. Cut in wedges to serve.

Giant Cream Puff Is Filled With Two-Fruit Mixture

If you have a calorie conscience, stop where you are. For these are the real McCoy cream puffs. Almost.

The cream puff mixture is baked in a pie pan and filled with a heap of luxurious whipped cream, layered with row after row of canned pineapple slices and bright fresh berries. All in all, divine.

If you feel you must forego this delicacy until after the swim suit season, how about just the pineapple and strawberries? Or just pineapple?

This fruit is never out of season and always good for dieters. Just enough sweetness to satisfy a craving without any added sugar and in spite of its coming out of a can, it has an incredibly fresh flavor.

Pineapple Cream Puff Pie

¼ cup butter
½ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup sifted flour
2 eggs
2 cups whipping cream
2 tablespoons Cointreau
3 tablespoons powdered sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 (1-pound 4½-ounce) can pineapple slices
1½ cups sliced strawberries

Bring butter, water and salt to full boil. When butter is melted, add flour all at once and stir vigorously until mixture leaves sides of pan and forms a ball. Remove from heat.

Beat in eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly between each additions until batter is smooth and velvety. Spread over bottom and up sides of 9-inch pie plate to form a shell.

Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Turn off oven and let shell stand 15 minutes. Cool.

Beat cream until it begins to thicken. Add Cointreau, sugar and vanilla. Continue beating until stiff.

Spread half of cream over bottom of cold cream puff shell. Arrange 5 drained pineapple slices on top, then sliced berries. Top with remaining cream.

Arrange remaining pineapple slices on top. Garnish with berries and mint leaves. Chill 1 hour before serving. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

FIREMAN RESCUED — Miami Beach fireman Robert Steele collapsed yesterday at the top of an aerial ladder when smoke and flames enveloped him as he sprayed water on a blaze that destroyed five businesses. Another fireman goes after him (left), two firemen start down the ladder with him (center) and helping hands from the ground reach for the overcome fire fighter. Steele suffered smoke inhalation and was taken to a hospital.

Balloons to Explode in Tests

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Huge balloons will be exploding over western Canada later this summer with blasts equalling up to 500 tons of TNT.

At least two such explosions will be set off as part of Operation Distant Plain, a series of shock-measuring experiments. Scientists from Canada, Great Britain and the U.S. Army's Defense Atomic Support Agency (DASA) will be studying the blasts, four more of which will be made with conventional chemical explosives.

The Army's alphabet soup name for the gas explosions is Project SLEDGE (Simulating Large Explosive Detonating Gas Experiment).

Astronomers Have Found It Best

Microscope Uses 'Blinking' Technique

By Science Service

PASADENA, Calif. — A new microscope developed here uses the same "blinking" technique astronomers have found best for detecting exploding stars.

It is reported to be the first microscope that can either superimpose one image on top of another or rapidly alternate images.

Engineers at California Institute of Technology here are now using it to spot the small changes in metallic crystals that lead to failure.

Astronomers searching for exploding stars, as well as for comets and asteroids, compare two pictures of portions of the sky photographed at different times.

By "blinking" the pictures under a low-power microscope, they can detect small changes in position or size of objects.

Blinking means looking alternately at the two photographs within a second or less. Objects that have changed position seem to jump back and forth as the images alternate, while objects that have changed size seem to pulsate.

The same optical illusion is formed when the new microscope is used to compare a metallic crystal before and after stress is applied for a fraction of a second.

The comparison is made with small X-ray negatives or plastic molds of the metal crystal surfaces under a magnification of 50 to 500 times, a higher magnification than astronomers use for blinking.

The new microscope was assembled by David S. Wood, Thad Vreeland Jr. and David P. Pope.

They are using it to study the stress-induced movement of dislocation lines in metallic crystals, which show how such tiny motions contribute to metal

Only American Motors sales were up in June! How come?

Meet a Mind-Changer.

(Like Rambler American)

Take the example of one vacation-blessed college student. "This summer I am going to scrimp and save until I can buy a big car with a big engine. A real performer." Then it happened. A buddy told him that Rambler Americans finished 1-2 in the Acceleration Test, Class VJ, Pure Oil Performance Trials—with standard Sixes. Then he read about American's new 290-cube Typhoon V-8. "A lot of heavier cars don't have that much engine," he thought. And so they don't. Later he learned he could take his pick of 4-on-the-floor or automatic at no extra cost.

That, so equipped, Rambler American is the lowest-list-priced V-8 car built in America.* And that a long list of safety features, like Double-Safety brakes, were standard. But that was pure gravy. His mind was already changed. And that's the way it went all last month. We sold more new cars this June than last. In fact, sales hit an eight-month high. So before you buy a new car this month, meet the Mind-Changers: Rambler American, Rambler Classic, Ambassador, Marlin. With savings at a model-year high, they're changing a lot of minds these days.

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices

American Motors... where quality is built in, not added on.

Built with your safety in mind. Every American Motors car now includes a Double-Safety brake system plus solid, all-welded Single-Unit body construction and safety features like: padded dash and visors, outside mirror, seat belts, backup lights, windshield washers, higher-strength windshield, and variable-speed wipers.

School Bus Operation Aid Hiked

LANSING (AP)—State payments for operation and purchase of public school buses would climb from $18 million to $20 million a year under a formula approved Wednesday by the State Board of Education.

* * *

The State Department of Education reimburses school districts for up to 75 per cent of the cost of school transportation.

Board member Donald Thurber said the new formula is designed to meet increases in costs since the formula last was adjusted in 1957.

NEW FORMULA

The new formula would provide increases of 2 to 5 cents per mile traveled and a 14.3 per cent increase in state funds available for purchase of new buses.

Thurber said a public hearing will be held on the proposed new formula and it then will be reviewed by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

* * *

The state board also approved Wednesday establishment of a police administration program at Wayne State University.

The board said it acted after receiving assurance from Wayne that it would work closely with community colleges in Southeastern Michigan to strengthen educational programs for policemen and students of police administration.

Driver Honor System Took Too Big a Toll

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — There was an "honor system" on the Atlantic City Expressway that allowed motorists who lacked change at an unmanned toll booth to pick up envelopes and mail in the toll.

But the program has been abandoned. Less than 20 per cent of the motorists were mailing in the tolls, and the road was losing more than $1,000 in monthly revenue.

The two main alcoholic beverages made by the Vietnamese are beer and ruou nep, made from fermented glutinous rice.

TALL BEAUTIES — Miss Adrian Eaton, "Miss Tall Denver," who is 18 and stands 5 feet 11, was chosen last night as "Miss Tall North America" at the Miss Tall North America Pageant in Cincinnati. Contestants are (from left) Miss Eaton, Angela Bray, Miss Cleveland; Jackie Tilley, Miss Cincinnati; Rosemary Tasnick, Miss Chicago; Kathy Koehl, Miss California Tip-Topper (second runner-up); and Carol Baeschler, Miss Atlanta.

Station Loses Contact With Moon Camera

PASADENA, Calif (AP) — Contact was lost yesterday night with Surveyor I, America's camera spacecraft on the moon, the Jet Propulsion Laboratory announced.

Contact was lost by the Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, tracking station as the station gave the command for the seventh television picture of the corona of the sun, during sunset on the moon.

"Johannesburg ceased getting television data from the spacecraft," a spokesman said.

Surveyor's battery has been ailing, possibly because of circuit trouble. "It has been giving evidence since last Friday that it is wearing out. But it has performed beyond expectations," the spokesman said.

"We cannot say surveyor is dead, because we do not know," the spokesman said. "The feeling is it is not. We will attempt to reestablish contact."

Luci, Pat Make Application for Their Marriage License

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Johnson, 19, daughter of President Johnson, and her fiance, Patrick J. Nugent, applied for a marriage license yesterday at the District of Columbia License Bureau.

Nugent paid 50 cents toward the $2.50 license fee when he and Luci made out their application.

The balance of the fee must be paid when someone picks up the license at the end of the five-day waiting period.

District of Columbia regulations permit a third person to pick up the license after the waiting period.

Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle of the Washington Roman Catholic archdiocese gave official acknowledgement of the fact that Luci and Nugent are not a typical couple when he dispensed with the usual proclamation of wedding banns.

REQUIRED

Normally the proclamation of wedding banns is required in the parish churches of Catholic couples for the three Sunday's prior to their wedding.

* * *

A spokesman for the archdiocese said it was felt that the marriage intentions of this young couple were well enough known to allow dispensing with banns.

In advance of his wedding Aug. 6 at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception here, Nugent will put in two weeks' duty with the Air National Guard at Travis Air Base at Savannah, Ga. He reports there Saturday.

Detroit Escapee Caught

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago FBI agents said yesterday they had captured a Detroit escapee who eluded the law for 15 years.

M. W. Johnson, head of the Chicago bureau of the FBI, said that James Wesley McDannel, 41, was arrested by agents of the FBI at his home at suburban Berwyn.

The warrant for McDannel's arrest charged him with unlawful flight to avoid confinement.

McDannel escaped from the Detroit House of Correction May 21, 1951, where he had been serving a 3½ to 15-year sentence for breaking and entering.

* * *

The federal warrant for his arrest on the unlawful flight charge was issued by the U.S. commissioner in Detroit last Nov. 9.

Minnesota, with 11,077 lakes measuring at least 25 acres each, has more surface water than any other state in the nation. All told there are four million acres of it, enough to cover both Rhode Island and Delaware.

Big Crime Lab Is Proposed

Science Neglected by Lawmen—Physicist

By Science Service

CHICAGO — Establishment of a large, up-to-date crime laboratory, 10 times the size of the current FBI lab, was proposed here by Dr. Albert V. Crewe, physicist and director of the University of Chicago's Argonne National Laboratory.

Science has been almost "completely neglected" as an answer to crime, stated Dr. Crewe, despite the fact that technology is now capable of putting teeth into the old saw that "crime doesn't pay."

Dr. Crewe said he has in mind a laboratory equipped with the largest and fastest computers, plus a nuclear reactor for sophisticated chemical analysis.

Also important is communication research, particularly in microelectronics.

He said that the laboratory should be staffed with scientists of the highest caliber — physicists, chemists, mathematicians, pathologists, virologists, etc., under the wing of a university.

PURPOSE

The overall purpose would be to advance the field of crime detection, rather than to solve particular crimes. But, he said, a detection becomes more certain, it acts as a deterrent to crime.

A murderer hardly ever uses arsenic poisoning, simply because its symptoms are so easily detected, and every criminal knows he should not leave his fingerprints at the scene of the crime.

". . . Of all the tools, of all the weapons which have been used on the problem of crime, science and technology have been among the most profitable," said Dr. Crewe.

Dr. Crewe called it "incredible" that society should rely so heavily on technology and yet "completely ignore its future."

The main problem has been expense. Few local police departments can afford a nuclear reactor or a computer system. But the nation could.

Some jobs of a crime laboratory might be to work out an alarm system for homes, set up a useful computerized fingerprint file, design a counterfeiting-detection device, and improve identification of criminals, using the new science of patern recognition.

Chief of Staff Is Decorated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army presented its highest noncombat award yesterday to its chief of staff, Gen. Harold K. Johnson.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor awarded Johnson the distinguished service medal at a Pentagon ceremony for his "key role in the rapid expansion of the Army to meet the Communist threat in Viet Nam while insuring the Army's ability to fulfil its many other commitments throughout the world."

Johnson has been chief of staff since July 1964.

Record Crowds Visiting U.S. Parks

WASHINGTON (AP) — America is visiting the national park system in record numbers this year, but apparently not always to "get away from it all."

They tend to take their city-style life with them.

So that in the vast expanses of Yellowstone National Park, for instance, sometimes there's bumper to bumper traffic on the loop road.

"If we could just get them to pull off the road and walk a few hundred yards," one park official lamented in an interview, "There are thousands of acres in Yellowstone that never have had a human foot across them."

And when people take to the rugged outdoor life by camping out, do they steal out to some sanctuary of nature to enjoy serenity alone?

"Families are lured to parks to be outdoors but not to be isolated; you'll find them tending to camp side by side.

"They create their own smog, literally, by too many campfires close together," the outdoors park enthusiast said.

The parks aren't crowded — the people have crowded up in the parks.

This year, the 50th anniversary of the National Park Service, the agency expects a record 137 million people to visit the 231 units of the national park system. This includes 32 national parks and six national seashores, plus historical areas and recreational areas.

Last year, the most popular spot in the system was around the Washington, D.C., area, where some nine million persons visited the national capital units such as Lincoln Memorial and the White House.

Second on the list with some eight million visits was the Blue Ridge Parkway in Virginia and North Carolina. Colonial National Historical Park at Yorktown, Va., was third with over six million; and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park of North Carolina and Tennessee next with almost six million.

Among the national parks and national seashores, the most popular with more than two million visits each were Cape Cod, Mass.; Grand Teton, Wyo.; Olympic, Wash.; Shenandoah, Va.; and Yellowstone.

* * *

A new historical unit at the expansion memorial site in St. Louis, Mo., drew some three million.

The total attendance in the system this year is running about 20 per cent over last year. It has more than doubled in six years — an expected 137 million this year, compared to 63.4 million total in 1960. In 1916, Yellowstone had a total of 36,000 visitors; last year it had 2 million, with some 42,000 in a single day.

UPSURGE OF CAMPERS

In the past three or four years, there has been a tremendous upsurge of campers. The service added 2,106 new campsites this year, making almost 30,000 in all, and expects nine million campuse days this year.

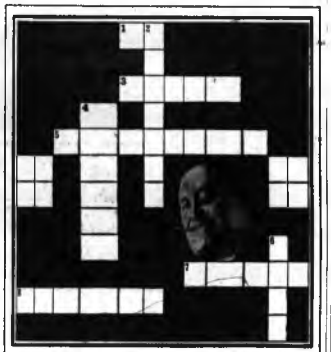

* * *

It's come to the point where — if you want to take the mule trip down to the valley of the Grand Canyon — you have to reserve a mule in advance — "well in advance," the park man said.

Aide for United Fund Attending Institute

Pontiac Area United Fund Associate Executive Director Donald M. Millar is attending a statewide Campaign Leadership Institute today and tomorrow at Caberfae Lodge in Cadillac.

Sponsored by the Michigan United Fund, the institute is designed to help United Fund leaders prepare for the upcoming campaign season this fall.

Millar, former Oakland County Red Cross director, recently joined the Pontiac Area United Fund staff as director of campaigns.

Dr. Harold E. Sponberg, president of Eastern Michigan University, will give the keynote address.

The nationally prominent educator has served with Northern Michigan University and Washburn University in Kansas. He is an active church leader and one-time executive secretary of the 4-H Club Foundation.

His message to the institute will serve to inspire and rededicate statewide leadership of United campaigns in their task of seeking funds for the operation of health and welfare agencies throughout Michigan.

Attending will be United Fund presidents, campaign chairmen, budget committee chairmen, key volunteer leaders, as well as well as executive directors of funds from communities throughout the state.

August Scholle, president of Michigan State AFL-CIO and president of the Michigan United Fund, will speak to the Conference this evening, and Earl Prosser, Michigan United Fund executive vice president, will speak at the closing of the sessions tomorrow noon.

BRAYTON, Iowa (AP) — Asked why he was feeding his dog slices of bread, 3-year-old Barney Esbeck had the answer. He wanted his pet to have puppies "like the neighbor's dog," and he had been told that the dog "had to get bred first."

After Extensive Study

Board OKs Intergroup Policy

The Pontiac Board of Education last night adopted formal policies for intergroup educational programs and the exclusion of students from classes.

Both areas were subject to extensive study during the 1965-66 school year and now are covered by detailed statements.

The statement on intergroup educational programs "formalizes what we were doing before and establishes a procedure," school trustee William H. Anderson commented.

Although not required to establish a program, every school will be encouraged to do so, according to Assistant Superintendent William J. Lacy.

* * *

Principals are to submit proposals by Nov. 1 and these will be reviewed by the board.

"Shared educational experiences by white and non-white pupils is desirable," the policy states. "Where this will not occur because of homogeniety of pupil population within a school, consideration should be given to developing activities cooperatively with two or more schools."

Emphasis is placed on the involvement of children, parents, teachers, administrators and community leaders in development of the programs.

A resource center is to be developed and made available to them.

Plans also call for the establishment of a district-wide committee consisting of intergroup relations chairmen from each school.

The school board's policy on suspension procedures is based on an experiment conducted at Pontiac Central High School earlier this year.

Pontiac School Affairs

DISSENTING VOTE

A single dissenting vote was cast by trustee Dr. Robert R. Turpin, who said he was dissatisfied that a principal could suspend a student without consulting the director of pupil personnel.

Although favoring the procedure in general, Turpin said many parents would be unaware that they have the right to appeal a suspension to the central administrator.

The board last night added smoking to the list of offenses which can lead to suspension.

Other new provisions cover the falsifying of times, dates, grades or other data on school forms; fighting in or on school property or while going to or from school; and chronic tardiness.

* * *

The detailed procedure involves three to five steps in several categories determined by age and offense.

In all cases, closing of classes to a pupil for two days precedes suspension and parents must be notified when their children are kept out of classes.

Also considered by the board last night was a list of potential appointees to the school district's human relations committee.

The board deferred action on the appointments until recommendations are made by the committee as a whole.

Cleveland's Power Runner Jim Brown Winding Up Career

LONDON (AP) — Jimmy Brown, perhaps the greatest runner pro football has ever known, is calling it quits — retiring at the peak of his career.

"I am leaving the Browns with an attitude of friendliness and cooperation," Brown said Wednesday night. "Once I return to Cleveland I'll do everything I can to help the Browns — other than playing."

Brown was scheduled to make the formal announcement in a press conference in London today. The Associated Press learned of his plans Wednesday night, as did the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MAKING MOVIE

The 30-year-old, 230-pound fullback for Cleveland's National Football League team is in England making a movie. His decision had been hinted for some time.

* * *

Owner Art Modell had told Brown he expected the fullback to be in Hiram, Ohio when the veterans report to Coach Blanton Collier for training this week, and had threatened him with a fine if he did not report. The movie Brown is playing in is not expected to be finished until late September.

* * *

"I had intended to play this year," said Brown, who still has a year to go on a reported $60,000 a year contract. "My original reason for coming back was because Art wanted me to. Then, when it was pointed out by Art my reporting late put the team in an awkward position, my original reason for returning wasn't there any longer.

"I could see Art's point. He didn't want to set a precedent and do anything to disturb team morale. It couldn't be fair to Blanton, either.

"Each day I kept hoping I could call Art and give him a date when the picture would be completed. But nobody knew. We still don't know."

Will he reconsider, once the picture is finished?

"No," Brown said. "This decision is final. I'm no longer preparing mentally for football. I'm committing myself to other things. I'm not going to play again."

In his nine-year pro career the former Syracuse All American carried the ball 2,359 times and gained a total of 12,312 yards for an average of 5.2 yards per carry. He scored 126 touchdowns, and led the league in ground gaining eight years.

MVP AWARD

Last year he was voted the league's Most Valuable Player and led the league in rushing with 1,544 yards, averaging 5.3 yards a carry. He scored 21 touchdowns, one more than the old record but one less than the 22 scored by rookie Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears.

* * *

Collier was not surprised by Brown's announcement, but the loss has to hurt. He said he was very sorry to lose "the greatest running back in the history of the game," he added:

"I want to make it clear that this is not a one-man football team. I certainly expect the Browns to be in contention.

"As I've said before, I believe we can make the necessary adjustments. We will have a more balanced type of offense with both backs running with the football and blocking."

The Browns' chief remaining running backs are halfbacks Ernie Green and Leroy Kelly. Veteran Charley Scales is the No. 2 fullback.

Here is a breakdown of fullback Jim Brown's rushing and scoring record during his career with the Cleveland Browns:

Year	Carries	Yards	Avg.	TDs
1957	202	942	4.7	10
1958	257	1,527	5.9	17
1959	290	1329	4.6	14
1960	215	1257	5.8	9
1961	305	1408	4.6	19
1962	230	996	4.3	18
1963	291	1863	6.4	12
1964	280	1446	5.2	7

Tigers Ready to Slash at Orioles' Lead

Bengals, Birds Open 3-Game Series Tonight

Detroit Playing Role of Host; Baltimore Eight Games Ahead

DETROIT (AP) — The American League pennant race may not be decided in the next 11 days.

But the Detroit Tigers will never have a better chance to close the gap on the front - running Baltimore Orioles.

The Tigers and Orioles open a three - game series tonight, the first of six games between the teams in their next' eight outings.

If the Tigers are to cut the Orioles' eight - game margin, a number of trends in the first half of the season must be reversed.

LOSERS AT HOME

First, the Tigers will have to start winning at home. They were 20-24 before the home crowd—compared to 28-11 on the road—prior to the All-Star break.

They haven't won a home series since they swept three games from Boston the first week of June. The Tigers have lost series to Minnesota, Kansas City and California and split with the Yankees and Senators since.

* * *

Despite their dismal showing, the Tigers are running more than 78,000 ahead of last season's attendance pace. Changes in figuring the attendance — Ladies Day and Retirees Day ticket sales count—are responsible for some of the increase.

More important than where the games are won, however, is the fact that the Tigers have not been faring well against the contending teams.

The Orioles, for example, have won all three games played at Tiger Stadium to date and hold a 4-3 edge in the season's series.

Third - place Cleveland, which plays a doubleheader here Sunday and plays host to the Tigers for a four - game series next weekend, holds a 3-2 advantage.

California, which swept three games the last time the Tigers were in town, is 7-5 against the Tigers.

* * *

Fifth - place Minnesota is the only team in the first division which does not hold a series edge on the Tigers. The Tigers have beaten the Twins seven times and lost five.

Acting Manager Bob Swift has named Earl Wilson, Dave Wickersham and Denny McLain to face the Orioles.

Swift said he plans to platoon against the Orioles which means Jake Wood, Ray Oyler and Mickey Stanley will start tonight.

BARBER TO PITCH

Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer said Steve Barber would start tonight. He said he hadn't decided on his other two pitchers. The Orioles defeated the Phillies 8-5 in an exhibition game at Philadelphia Wednesday night.

* * *

Forgetting the series with the Indians, the Tigers will have to win four of the six games with the Orioles to gain two games in the "Games Behind" column.

But even four losses to the Tigers would leave the Orioles four games up in the more important loss column.

Should the Orioles gain the upper hand in the six games—say take four of them—it would increase their lead to 10 games and put them eight games in front in the loss column.

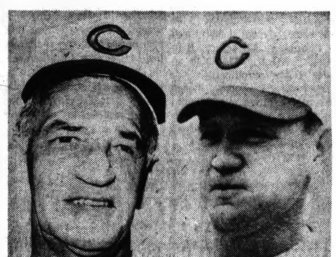

Tiger players to a man will say there's still a long way to go. But a slip-up now will make the season seem that much longer.

OUT AND IN — Don Heffner (left) was fired last night as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, and coach David Bristol (right) was moved into the post as an interim replacement.

Sagging Reds Fire Manager

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Heffner has been fired as manager of the Cincinnati Reds and coach Dave Bristol, only 33, has the job today of trying to pull the team into the first division in the National League.

Bristol was named Wednesday as an interim manager to take over the eighth-place Reds for the second half of the season.

* * *

Bristol takes over tonight as the Reds face the St. Louis Cardinals in a twi-night doubleheader.

The firing of Heffner followed repeated denials by Cincinnati Owner-General Manager Bill DeWitt that he planned any changes.

Heffner held a workout for the team Wednesday morning before getting word he had lost his job.

Bristol, a former minor league infielder and manager, is the third man to head the Reds since Fred Hutchinson was stricken with cancer and had to quit as manager late in the 1964 season. Hutchinson died later.

Things have been going wrong with the Reds — the pre-season favorites — ever since the start of the season. First their opening series was rained out — for the first time in decades — and then they lost nine out of 12 games before winning two in a row.

* * *

Even the announcement of Heffner's firing did not come off as planned. DeWitt's plane developed mechanical trouble after leaving St. Louis and his prepared statement was read by Assistant General Manager Phil Seghi.

* * *

"It is with deep regret we announce that Don Heffner has been relieved of his duties as manager of the Reds," the statement stated. "While we feel that Heffner, who is a dedicated baseball man, did a good job, we believe a change at this time is in order . . .

"It is our plan to seek a permanent manager as soon as feasible . . .

"Don has been offered a job to continue in our organization next year, and it is my hope that he will remain with us in some capacity."

Neither Heffner nor Bristol attended the news conference.

Juniors After Jaycee Title

Big Assignment for Golf Shorty

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A roly-poly gentleman who delights in being called Googie faced the toughest golfing assignment of his career today.

J. L. (Googie) Blankenship stands 5-foot-4, and weighs 175 pounds. He faced Arne Dokka in the third round of the National Public Links Tournament.

The weed-thin Dokka, defending champion and medalist, has shown complete mastery of the Brown Deer course. He was five-under-par in taking the 36-hole qualifying honors, and was even with regulation in eliminating Mike Moriarty of San Francisco 1-up in 19 holes and Herb Bolden of Denver, Colo., 6 and 5 Wednesday.

PHONE MAN

Googie, a Memphis telephone maintenance man and father of three, is the oldest player in the field at 46. And he is the jolliest.

"I've played in nine of these tournaments, and the farthest I've gotten was the third round in 1963," he chuckled. "I didn't even think I'd get in this time, but I made it through the back door as an alternate."

"I'm a runt," he said. "In fact, I thought I would be a midget. The name Googie was pinned on me years ago. I don't drink, and all that fat in the midsection is from groceries."

Googie was five-over-par with a 76 in eliminating Mike O'Connel of Carthage, Ill., 1-up in the second round.

Dokka, 22, an advertising major at California State in Los Angeles, remained a heavy favorite to become the third player to win the title in successive years and the fourth medalist to do so.

"I'm playing better than I was last year," he said. "I'm hitting the ball more solidly and my drives, especially, are straighter and longer."

State Golfers Eliminated in Publinx Play

Michigan's hopes for a National Public Links champion were wiped out in the first two rounds of match play yesterday over the Brown Deer Park course in Milwaukee.

Falling by the wayside were Pontiac's Tom Balliet; Bill Curtis of Farmington; James Walker of Detroit; and Allan Thompson of Pleasant Ridge.

Former Pontiac City Champion Mike Andonian, now playing out of Camarillo, Calif., was ousted in the first round by Ben Abbai of Hawaii, 2 up.

Balliet was a 4 and 3 victim of Lawrence Miller of New Orleans in the opening round.

Walker, after downing Dan Hogan of Denver, 3 and 2, in his first match dropped a 5 and 3 decision to Richard Heyl of Virginia in the afternoon.

Tooth Drops; Rider Grabs; Horse Loses

PLEASANTON, Calif. (AP) —Jockey Harris Hawkenson lost a race at the Alameda Country Fair by his horse's nose—and his own tooth.

As he led the pack driving War Whisk into the stretch, Hawkenson's false tooth popped out of his mouth.

"I dropped my reins to catch it," he said. "It fell on the saddle and when I reached again to grab it, I missed. It happened a few days ago, he said, adding that he got the tooth back.

Alpena Coach in EMU Post

Jim Dutcher Heads Basketball Team

YPSILANTI (AP) — James D. Dutcher, whose Alpena Community College teams posted a 106-72 record in eight seasons, was named head basketball coach at Eastern Michigan University Wednesday.

Dutcher, 33, replaces John R. (Dick) Adams who resigned.

Dutcher, a 1955 graduate of the University of Michigan, directed his team to two Michigan Junior College Conference championships. The 1965-66 team had a 22-5 record and represented a three - state area in the national tournament.

Three former Alpena C.C. players played for the EMU team last year which was 15-3, the best Hurons' record in 30 years.

Kidd Doubtful Starter in World Alpine Meet

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Billy Kidd, who placed second in the men's slalom at the 1964 Winter Olympics, was listed Wednesday as a doubtful starter in next month's world Alpine ski championships at Portillo, Chile.

"It's still a question whether Kidd will start at Portillo," said Coach Bob Beattie before the U.S. team was scheduled to take off for the training grounds at Farellones. The Stowe, Vt., skier is recovering from an operation last winter.

THE FINAL PLUNGE? — Cleveland Brown fullback Jimmy Brown today announced his retirement from professional football, and plans to continue a career in the movies. During his glamorous career, Brown has rushed for nearly seven miles of yardage in the National Football League. He presently is in General Britain making a motion picture that would make him late for practice were he to continue his grid career.

Defeats Archer in Title Bout

Griffith Looks for Next Foe

NEW YORK (AP) — "If Joey Archer wants another shot he can have it and so can Dick Tiger," said middleweight champion Emile Griffith today. "I'm a fighting champion and I'll fight anyone if the price is right."

The aggressive, strong 28-year-old Griffith took the middleweight title from Tiger in April and successfully defended it Wednesday night with a majority decision over Archer in a brisk 15-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

SOME JUST TALK

Many champions in the past have talked about being fighting champions but few have delivered. You can't fault Griffith on that point. The husky Virgin Islands' native has been busier than an air condition salesman during a heat wave.

* * *

Griffith has had 14 title fights, 12 as a welterweight and two as a middleweight in five years, three months. His welterweight title record is 10-2.

Judge Artie Aidala, 9-5-1, and judge Al Berl, 8-7, voted for Griffith.

Referee Johnny LoBianco called it a 7-7-1 draw, giving each seven rounds and seven points. At the end of 12 rounds, Aidala and Berl each had it 8-4 while LoBianco 7-4-1, all for Griffith.

The Associated Press had it 9-5-1 for Griffith. The ringside poll favored Griffith 10-5. Most of the scores had Griffith the winner by big margins.

CUT FOREHEAD

Archer was cut on the forehead, about a half inch over his right eye, in the eighth round.

"It came from a butt," said Archer. "He was trying to butt me all night. He kept lunging at me with his head.

"I thought I won. I thought I outboxed him and won on the outside and the inside. I'd like to fight him again."

"He can have it if a promoter comes up with the right price," said Gil Clancy, Griffith's trainer and co-manager. "The same goes for Dick Tiger. Emile ducks no one."

* * *

Clancy said Griffith's Sept. 30 fight with welterweight Stanley (Kitten) Hayward of Philadelphia at Las Vegas, Nev., "is up in the air.

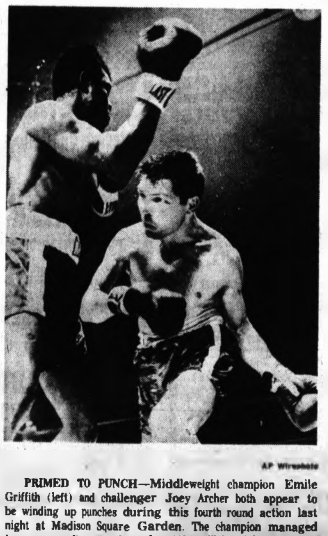

"It was supposed to have been for the welterweight title but when the WBA (World Boxing Association) took away Griffith's welterweight title without giving us a hearing it probably killed the fight."

A pro-Archer crowd of 13,776 paid $102,242. Another $50,000 was added to the pot by television. Griffith, on his 45 per cent, collected about $80,000. Archer received a flat guarantee of $17,000, the largest purse of his 10-year career.

* * *

Late support for Archer made the 28-year-old New Yorker 13-10 favorite at fight time. The Archer backers didn't think Griffith could spot the fleet-footed boxer 7½ pounds and be effective. Most of the time however, Archer looked like the welterweight and Griffith the heavier man.

Griffith's record now is 51-7. Archer's record is 46-3 and he still can boast that he's never been floored.

Affection Is Missing in Her 'Love' Game

By JERE CRAIG

At the tender age of 14, cute Emily Fisher of Bloomfield Hills has found short skirts and "love" a regular part of her summer for five years.

The short skirts are attached to her tennis outfits and love is just a polite way of saying nothing when giving the opponent's score.

A slender, tanned blonde with a hint of freckles, Miss Fisher will be a sophomore at Kingswood School this fall and is one of three tennis-minded youngsters in the Herbert Fisher family of 150 Brady Lane, Bloomfield Hills.

Emily's sister Mary, 12, is playing this week at Middletown, Ohio in the Western Junior Championships. Their brother Fred, 13, is currently attending camp where he is active in the sport.

But Emily is the furthest advanced, as the more than 50 championship and runner-up trophies on the shelves in the family game room attest.

RENOWN COACH

A student of Jean Hoxie — the Hamtramck coach who is well known for her producing of champions, Emily began winning net titles four summers ago.

That was less than a year after she first pranced around the courts at the private club the family belongs to in Charlevoix.

Her father noted Emily's potential and initiated the lessons. He is a club player, kept away from the game by an abundance of work in the automotive business. His daughter quickly developed under Mrs. Hoxies's guidance, winning the 1962 state junior girls (12-and-under) doubles title and finishing second in the singles.

Since then she has added 14-and-under and 16-and-under division singles titles; and this year sister Mary was on the winning 12-and-under doubles team. Mary also practices under Mrs. Hoxie's guidance.

Emily also is the state Jaycees' Tournament 16-and-under singles champion. Fred and Mary each won 16-and-under titles in the Birmingham Jaycees competition.

The hard hitting Emily reached prominence on the court last year by earning fifth ranking nationally from the United States Lawn Tennis Association in the girls 16-and-under class.

Connie Capozzi of Middletown, who twice had to come from behind last Saturday to defeat Emily in the finals of the Western Junior Girls Tournament at Dayton, Ohio, holds the No. 1 ranking.

BIGGEST WIN

Emily's biggest win to date was the 14-and-under singles championship at the Orange Bowl in Miami last December. She followed that by reaching the semifinals of the Sugar Bowl Tournament in New Orleans the same week.

Right now the soft-voiced, dedicated court whiz is preparing for the Motor City Women's Championships in Detroit this weekend.

Also fast approaching on Emily's schedule are the Lake Forest (Ill.) Girls Tournament, the Junior Nationals at Philadelphia and the National Jaycee Meet in Tampa, Fla.

Her mother Betty praises Emily's reponsible handling of the problems encountered with so much traveling. Her daughter prefers to reflect upon the many friends she is making throughout the Western Hemisphere.

* * *

Between tournaments, there are daily drives by the mother and daughter to Hamtramck's municipal courts for long practice hours perfecting shot accuracy and stamina.

School hours during the fall, winter and spring limit her practicing to perhaps 45 minutes a day in the school gymnasium. But Emily may become a steady customer of the Bloomfield Tennis House this off-season of she can find enough opposition to absorb her kind of love.

IN TROPHYLAND — Bloomfield Hills' Emily Fisher poses with a portion of the more than 50 trophies she has earned while competing in junior girls' tennis tournaments around the country during the past four years. Long practice and travel hours plus a myriad of playing court conditions have become commonplace during the 14-year-old Kingswood School sophomore's summers.

Sponsor Invites Track Subs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Athletes the world over are being asked to fill the void left by Russia's cancellation of its track and field team's meet against the U.S. squad at the Coliseum.

But just who is coming, and when, remained uncertain today.

The sponsoring Los Angeles Times said a host of international talent had been invited to participate in the competition, scheduled for July 23-24.

The Soviet team officially announced Wednesday that it would not appear.

Earlier reports of the cancellation were announced by Tass, official Soviet news agency.

The Russians said their athletes chose to cancel the appearance because of U.S. "atrocities" in Viet Nam, although U.S. State Department officials expressed doubts that the athletes themselves made the decision.

DIRECTOR

Glenn Davis, special events dirtctor for the Times, said noted athletes from the free world have been invited to appear at the meet, along with teams from Australia and New Zealand.

* * *

Several U.S. athletes who missed making the U.S. team are also scheduled to appear, Davis said.

Among the athletes invited are Michael Jazy, France; Wendell Mottley, Jamaica; Kipchoge Keino, Kenya; Bodo Tummler, West Germany; John Boulter, England; Lynn Davies, Wales; Harold Norpoth, West Germany; Gaston Reolants, Belgium; Hideo Iijima, Japan; Eddie Ottoz, Italy; Ed Roberts, Trinidad; Mohammed Gamoudi, Tunesia; Henk Altmann, South Africa; Keisuke Sawaki, Japan; Bill Crothers, Canada; Alvarez Javier, Spain, and Wilson Kiprugut, of Kenya.

Teams from England and West Germany were unable to accept because of other schedules, but some athletes from each could appear, Davis said.

Name Golfers Miss Tourney

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — The $100,000 Minnesota Golf Classic was set to get under way today with four of professional golf's top names conspicuous by their absence.

Aronold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Tony Lema decided to pass up a try at the $200,000 first prize.

Billy Casper, who won the U. S. Open in a playoff battle with Palmer and then went on to take the Western Open, was favored to win the classic, known in previous years as the St. Paul Open.

Aussie Lefty Seeking Clay Court Net Title

Tony Roche, a left-hander with an overhead serve that breaks down like a Sandy Koufax curve ball, is bidding to become the first Australian ever to win the National Clay Courts Tennis Championship.

The 21-year-old Roche advanced to the quarter-finals of the tournament Wednesday as he wore down fifth-seeded Clark Graebner, Beechwood, Ohio, 6-4, 8-6.

* * *

To win the crown, Roche must emerge alone from an eight-man field that includes top-seeded Dennis Ralston, the defending titlist and the top-ranked player in the nation, and second-seeded Cliff Richey of Dallas.

SMOOTH WIN

Ralston, of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced with a smooth 6-3, 6-2 victory over Lenny Schloss, Baltimore. Richey, who defeated Ralston in the Western Open Sunday, stopped unseeded Jim McManus, Berkeley, Calif., 6-4, 6-2.

In other matches Wednesday, Roche's countryman, Owen Davidson, second-seeded foreigner, defeated sixth-seeded Mike Belkin of Canada, 6-2, 6-0.

Seventh-seeded Stan Smith, Pasadena, Calif., ousted Australian, Bill Bowrey, the No. 3 foreign seed, 7-5, 6-3.

No. 3 seed, Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico, and No. 4 seed, Marty Riessen, Evanston, Ill., played their third-round matches today.

In women's singles, Kerry Melville of Australia, No. 2 foreign seed, defeated fourth-seeded Peaches Bartkowicz, Hamtramck, Mich., 6-3, 6-2 to advance to the semifinals.

Top-seeded Nancy Richey, seeking a fourth straight women's crown, breezed by Patsy Rippy, Shawnee, Okla, 6-0, 6-2, in a second round encounter.

Soccer Teams Call Timeout in World Play

LONDON (AP) — The 16 teams vying for the Jules Rimet Trophy, emblematic of world professional soccer supremacy, took the day off today to train, plan strategy and tend to injuries.

The most serious injury reported in Wednesday night's World Soccer Cup action was a cut over the left eye of Portugal's star forward, Eusebio, which required three stitches.

* * *

Eusebio played the last 50 minutes of the game with his head bandaged and helped Portugal to a 3-1 victory over Hungary in a Group 3 game at Manchester.

Italy beat Chile 2-0 in Group 4 at Sunderland, Argentina nipped Spain 2-1 in Group 2 at Birmingham, and Mexico and France tied 1-1 in Group 1 at London.

Mrs. Evans Wins 5th Time This Season

Winning may not become monotonous for Mrs. Max Evans of Southfield, but her opponents are finding it so in their weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association outings.

For the third week in a row and for the fifth time this season Mrs. Max Evans wound up in the winner's circle after the firing died down.

Her latest victory came yesterday at Bald Mountain Golf Club where she fired a 43-42—85 to edge Trillis Jacks (86) of Novi and Mrs. Phillip DeGuere (86) of Birmingham.

Mrs. Evans moved around the Bald Mountain course using up only 28 putts, and she received a big boost when Miss Jacks took a double-bogey 5 on the par-3 17th hole.

Class D Race Tighter

City Junior Loop

An abbreviated perfect game, an impressive one-player effort and the tightening Class D race all rated attention during Wednesday's city junior baseball program.

Bill Mansfield of the Moose Widget American League team kept the Hawks off the bases for five innings and his mates piled up a 14-0 victory.

Stan Babiuk was the whole show as the unbeaten FOP Yankee blanked the Met Club, 3-0, in a Class E American tilt. Babiuk allowed only a lead-off single by Steve Bass in the seventh inning, struck out 15 and hit a home run.

In the other "E" game, "Pop" Clancy scattered four hits, rapped two singles and a bases-loaded double as the Auburn Heights Boys' Club Patriots tied Rochester for second place with a 9-5 victory over the latter.

In "D" action, Cranbrook upset the Pontiac Boys' Club, 6-1, and Franklin trimmed the Eagles, 14-6. The two winners thus tied the Boys' Club for second place, a game off the lead.

Head and Ayala posted victories as the five-day tournament got under way Wednesday night before a crowd of 2,300.

Head whipped Pancho Segura, 45-year-old Los Angeles veteran who won the national crown three times, 6-2, 6-3, while Ayala rallied in the third set to defeat Pierre Barthes of France 9-7, 4-6, 6-4.

The Obstacle Course.

Or the final test we gave the Fifth Rose.

After years of trying, we finally came up with the new taste we call the Fifth Rose.

We made a light whiskey that actually tasted good. Something distillers had been trying to do for years.

But there was still the obstacle course.

How would this new taste hold up in this day and age of ice and the mixed drink?

So we tried it on the rocks. With soda. In Whiskey Sours. Manhattans. Old-Fashioneds. Highballs. Mint Juleps.

We kept testing until we had proved to ourselves there was nothing left to prove.

No matter what we mixed it with, this good, light taste just didn't do that old disappearing act.

To Four Roses the obstacle course was no obstacle at all.

Use of All-Star Hurlers Riles Giants' Skipper

By the Associated Press

Its mid-summer pause for the All-Star classic ended, major league baseball got back to the business of pennant races today with a full schedule of 11 night games.

And wouldn't it be nice to have an old-fashioned Giant-Dodger squabble to start off the second half of the season?

* * *

There could be one brewing. San Francisco Manager Herman Franks is reportedly angry over the use of his ace pitchers, Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry, by Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston in the All-Star game.

COMPLAINS

Franks told Harry Jupiter, a sports writer for the San Francisco Examiner, that he had complained to Alston.

"He had eight pitchers," Jupiter quoted Franks. "They're all All-Stars. There's no reason Alston had to use both of mine. That burned me up and I told him so."

Marichal worked three innings and Perry, the winning pitcher, two. Alston also used his own Sandy Koufax for three innings and Jim Bunning of Philadelphia for two.

* * *

Alston was quoted by the Examiner as saying "you have to go according to the game. I would have liked to have held Sandy out. He probably could have used three days rest. Everybody is in the same situation."

* * *

The Dodger pilot denied that Franks, who coached first base for the National League stars, mentioned the use of Marichal and Perry.

* * *

"Franks didn't say anything to me about it," Alston told the Examiner. "If anybody doesn't like the way the game is played now, then they ought to change the rules, have more pitchers on the team and maybe use them for just one inning apiece."

GAME RULES

Under All-Star rules all starters must play at least three innings and pitchers may not be used for more than three innings.

* * *

Franks' complaint came during another tight National League race. His Giants hold a one-game edge on Pittsburgh with Alston's defending champion Dodgers five games behind.

San Francisco opens a three-game series in Philadelphia tonight before moving on to Pittsburgh for what could be the season's first crucial series.

The Pirates are at home to last-place Chicago while the Dodgers send Koufax after his 18th victory against the Mets in New York. In the American League, Baltimore took an impressive eight-game lead into Detroit where the second-place Tigers hoped to make some kind of dent in the bulge.

Cleveland, 11 games back in third place, was at Chicago.

With the Orioles making a shambles of the top of the race, interest in the American League has focused on the also-rans. Last-place Boston has won 9 of its last 10 and was just 1½ games behind the staggering New York Yankees.

Kansas City, under Manager Alvin Dark, has skipped into sixth place and entertains the Yankees tonight. The Red Sox are at California.

Aussie Runner Clarke Takes Distance Race

OSLO (UPI) — Australia's Ron Clarke fought off a strong challenge from Norway's Tour Helland to win a 3,000 meters race in 7 minutes, 56 seconds Wednesday amid a heavy thunderstorm.

Helland, also clocked in 7:56, put on a burst of speed on the last bend to overtake Germany's Siegfried Hellmann and he narrowly missed catching Clarke at the tape.

Switch Time of Game

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The scheduled afternoon game between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals on Saturday, July 30, has been changed to a night game, Cardinal general manager Howsam said Wednesday.

The game will begin at 7 p.m. CDT.

WEDNESDAY'S FIGHTS

NEW YORK — Emile Griffith, 151, New York, outpointed Joey Archer, 159½, New York, 15. Griffith retained world middleweight title.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Gordon Litt, 138½, Savannah, Ga., knocked out Tim Lyle, 138½, Milwaukee, 1.

Cooperstown Entry July 25

Ted, Casey Await 'Induction'

By The Associated Press

Casey Stengel and Ted Williams will soon make what figures to be their last baseball headlines. They will be inducted into the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., on July 25.

Will Casey or Ted have difficulty making a speech? Not if Paul S. Kerr can help it.

When a man is about to enter the most famous building in the picturesque village on Lake Otsego he is asked to appear in town a few days before the actual ceremonies.

This is done so that Paul Kerr, president of the Hall of Fame, may show them around and make them feel at home. Since 1943 Kerr has been an officer or director of the shrine conceived by the late Stephen C. Clark and dedicated in 1939.

Kerr is vice president of the Clark Estates and many of his off hours are dedicated to baseball and the shrine.

PRIOR TRIPS

Both Casey and Williams have been there before. In fact, Ted played there in 1955 when one of his foul line drives almost broke the arm of a fireman who tried to catch the ball. It was the day Joe DiMaggio was inducted.

DiMag never was one to make a speech so on the eve of induction Paul Kerr drove him around town, a sort of VIP treatment.

The next morning Mrs. John McGraw came up to DiMaggio and said:

"Joe, I'm Mrs. McGraw. I've never met you but I've read about all the fine things you've done and I just wanted to shake your hand."

"It was one of the nicest things that ever happened to me," said DiMaggio. Everyone at Cooperstown made Joe feel right at home and his acceptance speech was greeted with constant applause.

Casey Stengel and Ted Williams, if Paul Kerr takes them through the Hall on the eve of the ceremonies when the building is closed to the public, will get a thorough look at all the baseball memorabilia.

Such a leisurely tour will give them all the ammunition they need for a speech.

* * *

"Babe Ruth," Casey might say when he sees the home run champion's plaque. "I played against him in the 1923 World Series. I hit a home run to win the first game, Ruth hit two for the Yankees, then I hit a home run in the third game and won it 1-0.

"But Ruth got all the vaudeville bookings that winter. He hit a home run in the last game and the Yankees won the World Series.

"There was Grover Cleveland Alexander's plaque. This man won 373 games and I had to hit against him. In 1916 I hit only .279 but I can't complain. That was the year Alexander won 33 games for the Phillies.

* * *

"And Burleigh Grimes. He played in Brooklyn and other places but he always seemed to be pitching against me, and using that pitch they call unsanitary today — the spitball. He had a great one.

No-Hit Contest Pads City Softball Lead

A no-hitter by Hershel Osentoski carried L & S Standard to a 14-0 triumph over Ray White's Boys' last night and moved the winners a step closer to the top in the City National Softball League race.

* * *

Osentoski walked two and struck out four, and after giving up the bases on balls in the first and second innings, he settled down and retired the last 16 men in a row.

Floyd Frasier clocked in with a double and a pair of singles to spark the batting attack, while Osentoski aided his own cause with a double and single. Shortstop Sterley Devault also collected a pair of hits and scored four runs.

The victory raised L & S's record to 8-2, two games back of Motorcar Transport (11-1). The losers are now 2-10.

In a couple of international Slo-Pitch games, Artco (5-4) knocked off league-leading MGM-Shales (8-1), 18-17, and Sport-O-Rama (7-3) turned back National Cash Register (2-7), 14-12.

WINNING RUN

A two-base throwing error and Archie Dennison's single sent Don Ream across with the winning run in the last of the eighth for Artco. Lee Arnold paced Artco with four hits, while Bill Waun and Bob Prisbe collected four each for the losers.

Sport-O-Rama rapped out 20 hits, three apiece by Al Fisher, Bill Manser, Bob Amaugher and Dave Pea, in downing NCR. Tom Patch clouted a pair of home runs for the losers.

Golf Favorites Fretting in Trans-Miss. Tourney

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Upsets, conspicuously absent in Wednesday's first round of match play in the 63rd Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament at Edina Country Club, had the favorites fretting as the surviving field of 32 golfers headed into the second round today.

Closest thing to an upset Wednesday was the ousting of Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., 18-year veteran of the Trans-Miss and a runner-up in 1953, by little-known Jeff Parry of Zanesville, Ohio, 3 and 2.

DEFENDING CHAMP

Defending champion George Boutell of Phoenix, Ariz., who was pressed to 19 holes before eliminating Bruce Summerhays of Salt Lake City, Utah, sounded the apprehension of many of the top names.

"I was darn lucky to win," said Boutell. "In a match tournament like this, where most of us are used to playing medal play, you can get careless and get knocked off easily."

* * *

Medalist Jim Wiechers of Atherton, Calif., admitted the tendency to let down can get the favorites into trouble.

"I lost my concentration and started making stupid mistakes. And I think I got over-confident," said Wiechers, who had a 3-up lead over Ralph Compiano of Des Moines, Iowa, then had to scramble for a 2 and 1 victory.

* * *

John Miller of San Francisco, 19-year-old top amateur in this year's U.S. open, sweated out the hot putting of Terry Lynch of St. Paul, Minn., before posting a 2 and 1 victory.

Other favorites advancing included national amateur champion Bob Murphy of Nicholas, Fla., who defeated Dick Howell of Wayzata, Minn., 3 and 2; runner-up medalist Marty Fleckman of Houston, who beat Phil Olson of Edina, Minn., 3 and 2, and Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, Calif., who downed Jim Rheim of San Diego, 2 and 1.

Captures Boat Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Allan Brown, in his Broad Jumper, a 28-foot Donzi, won the 270-mile around Long Island motorboat race Wednesday at an average speed of approximately 56 miles per hour. His elapsed time was four hours, 42 minutes.

Ex-National Golf Champ Leading Women's Event

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — Jo Anne Gunderson Carner, the women's national amateur golf champion in 1957, '60 and '63, is back in form in an apparent bid for another U.S. title.

★ ★ ★

Now 27, married and co-owner with her husband in a par 3 course in Seekonk, Mass., Jo Anne, a former schoolteacher, is hitting the ball with her old-time vigor after a year's layoff from tournament competition.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Carner, a native of Seattle, Wash., held a commanding nine-stroke lead today entering the final round of the 54-hole New England Women's Championship.

Course Mark, Ace for Local Golfer

Mrs. Ann Duch of Rochester is leaving her mark on the Bald Mountain Golf Course.

★ ★ ★

Last week, Mrs. Duch set a course record for women on the back nine by firing a three-over-par 37.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, playing the par-3 layout at Bald Mountain, she collected a hole-in-one on the 110-yard, No. 4 hole. She used a 7-iron for the ace and turned in a 35 on the par-29 course.

NFL Falcons' Roster Complete

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C. (AP) — The last two professional football veterans have arrived in the Atlanta Falcons' National Football League training camp.

The arrival of fullback Junior Coffey and flanker back Angie Coia brought to 73 the number of rookies and experienced players on the infant Falcons' roster.

Coffey is a two-year NFL player from Green Bay and Coia comes from the Washington Redskins.

Coach Norb Hecker ran his pro veterans through a drill called the Nutcracker Wednesday: the drill features a center, an offensive blocker and ball carrier and a defensive man.

The defensive man's job is to fight off the blocker and tackle the running back.

KINGSTON, R. I. (AP) — Ed Adamchik, former University of Pittsburgh guard, has decided that pro football isn't for him.

Adamchik quit the Pittsburgh Steelers to return to his real estate brokership in Aliquippa, Pa.

"I don't think I'll ever be a star in this league, so I had better stick to a business career," he said. "This is my third year trying to make clubs."

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys' sophomore quarterback Craig Morton was demonstrating pinpoint passing during brisk offense-only drills Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The defensive line-up was absent from Cowboys' training camp Wednesday scrimmaging with Los Angeles Rams' rookies in Orange. The coaching staff was pleased with strong work by linemen Willie Townes and Jethro Pugh.

The Cowboys' rookie squad has reached 50 players with the reporting of free agent flanker Dick Smith of Northwestern.

CARLISLE, Pa.—Three Washington Redskins suffered knee injuries Wednesday as the National Football League team continued two-a-day scrimmages with full equipment under a hot sun at Dickson College.

★ ★ ★

Injured were Joe Burson, defensive back from Georgia Tom McGuire, defensive tackle from Tulsa, and Tom Michel, halfback for East Carolina.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two more veteran players of the National Football League's San Francisco 49ers have been forced to the sidelines by injuries recieved in previous scrimmages.

The club said Wednesday that defensive halfback Jerry Mertens and linebacker Bill Cooper won't report when the squad opens its training camp Saturday at St. Mary's College.

It was announced earlier that defensive end Dan Colchico will miss the 1966 season to await full recovery from a 1965 injury.

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The American Football League Miami Dolphins' roster was trimmed Wednesday when Coach George Wilson announced one playe quit and one was cut.

Bob Ferguson, an offensive tackle-end from Durham, N. C., quit. Halfback Jesse Holt of Miami was dropped.

Japan, Chinese Reds Okay Sports Exchange

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese sports delegation now in Peking has agreed to promote sports exchanges with Communist China, Japanese newspapers reported from Peking Thursday.

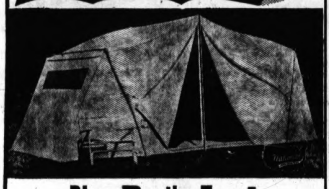

The dispatches said the agreement called for Japan and Communist China to hold separate athletic meets in which the results are compared by cable.

College President Gives Golf Lesson

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The president of Bowling Green State University is getting to be an old hand at giving lessons—in golf.

Dr. William Jerome, 46, went out Wednesday and gave college student Donn Daus of Cleveland a visual demonstration in the finer points of the game. He whipped Daus, a senior at Rollins College in Florida, 2 and 1, in a second round match of the Ohio Amateur Golf Tournament.

Dr. Jerome, who has been the most pleasant surprise of the tournament, was prepared to give another lecture today, this time to Gary Artz of Akron, a soph at Ohio State.

They clashed in a third round match today with the winner advancing to quarter-final play.

The Bowling Green president is taking the whole thing in stride. "I'm really not that good. I just love the game," he said after beating Daus.

"It's just one of those things when you catch a good player who is off," Jerome said.

The tall, husky administrator qualified for match competition with a 74 Monday and then ousted veteran Steve Pipoly of Youngstown in his first match, 2 and 1.

* * *

Dr. Jerome, who says he doesn't get to play often enough, carries a four handicap, and is a member of the Toledo Country Club, site of this event.

"A little local knowledge certainly helps," he said.

This is the first crack at the Ohio amateur for Dr. Jerome, who won the Vermont State amateur in 1948. He took over at Bowling Green three years ago.

"There's a lot of luck involved in this game. Psychologically, match play is fascinating. There are certain critical holes that you know you have to make to win," the educator-golfer said.

"I just hope somebody doesn't knock my block off before the tournament's all over," he added.

Past Ohio amateur champions include Arnold Palmer, who competed while he was stationed with the Coast Guard in Cleveland. Jack Nicklaus played in the tournament several times but never won.

Heading U.S. Links Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Jess W. Sweetser of Garrison, Md., has been named non-playing captain of the United States team in the World Amateur Team Golf Championship to be played in Mexico City Oct. 27-30.

The four playing members off the U.S. team will be selected after the U.S. Amateur Championship at the Merion Golf Club, Ardmore, Pa., Aug. 31-Sept. 2.

Sweetser, a member of six Walker Cup teams, was the first native American to win the British Amateur championship. He won the tournament in 1926.

Farmington '9' Still Winning

Waterford Continues Legion League Chase

Three-hit pitching efforts carried leader Farmington and second-place Waterford to decisive victories Wednesday in American Legion Baseball District 18 League games.

Farmington won its ninth straight by trimming Troy, 8-2, on Jerry Turner's three-hitter and nine strikeouts. Dick Micell matched Turner's whiffs and hits, and posted a shutout for Waterford, 5-0, over Milford.

In addition, Micell had three of the 11 Waterford safeties while posting his third whitewashing of the campaign. Mike Harkey drove in the first run for the winners with a single.

Chuck O'Brien and Mike Kuhna matched pitches as Walled Lake held third-place Milford to a tie, 3-3. Don Freeman had two hits to support O'Brien for Walled Lake.

Clarkston claimed a 7-0 forfeit win from Berkley.

* * *

Wayne Johnston's three-run triple and Chuck Viane's two-run circuit clout sparked the Farmington attack. Waterford has a 6 p.m. makeup game with Troy tonight at Wisner Field, and will meet Walled Lake Friday, again at Wisner.

U.S. Cagers Searching Europe for Opposition

VIENNA (AP) — Because of cancellation of games by Communist bloc countries, Col. Don Hull said Wednesday the touring U.S. basketball team will look elsewhere for games.

* * *

Hull, executive secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, told The Associated Press, "We crossed the ocean to play basketball." Since the Eastern countries cancelled the games, "We are looking for matches with West European countries."

He added, "I tried for three hours today to speak with sports officials in Moscow. But translation was bad, and I could not get any cooperation. But I got their message that we were not wanted and had to cancel my plans to fly to Moscow."

* * *

Hull said the basketball team would leave here for Munich, Germany Thursday.

"We can stay there with the American forces, and we shall have the help of Dr. William Jones of the International Basketball Federation, who will assist us in finding partners," Hull said.

Communist countries have cancelled several scheduled sport events involving U.S. teams in protest over the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Pro-Am Preceding Lady Carling Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Play-for-pay women golfers get their first chance for a paycheck in Columbus today, but the scramble for the real prize money doesn't start until Friday.

About 40 touring women professional golfers team with amateurs — two men and one woman with each lady pro — in a pro-am event, offering $150 for the top pro.

The serious business of golf begins Friday with the three leading money-winners heading the field seeking a $2,250 first prize in the $15,000 Lady Carling Open.

Much of the attention will focus on Kathy Whitworth, Carol Mann and Sandra Haynie, who stand 1-2-3 in earnings this year, but has picked up second money

Collision Squad Falters, Rallies for 5-4 Decision

M. G. Collision blew a 3-0 lead, then came from behind in the seventh and eighth innings for a 5-4 conquest of Cranbrook last night in a Jaycee Park city men's baseball game.

The triumph tossed the Class A circuit's third-place struggle into a three-way tie with Booth Homes (8-6) matching the record of last night's two contestants.

Ron Kind's two-out single in the first extra-inning decided the issue, scoring Darrell Lovell from second base after he'd singled and stolen a base.

An error, Dick Berrett's pinch-hit safety and a fielder's choice produced the tying run in the last of the seventh for the Collision nine.

M. G. grabbed a 3-0 lead in the first two innings with three errors making all the runs unearned. In both cases, singles by the lead-off batters were the only hits in the rallies..

Teen-ager Ed Bishop mowed down the opposition for M. G. without a hit until the fifth inning. Two walks and an error let in a run then, and Dave Diehm delivered the first hit for the losers to tie the score.

The league-leading R. T. Clippers could extend their lead to a game and a half by beating Evans Equipment under the lights tonight.

Russian Takes Epee Title; U.S. Women Lose

MOSCOW (AP) — Alexei Nikanchikov, a 6-foot-8 giant from Minsk, won the world epee crown at the world fencing championships Wednesday.

The Russian defeated Claude Bourguard of France in a fencoff after they had tied at 4-1 in the round-robin among the six finalists.

Another Soviet fencer from Minsk, Tatyana Samusenko, won the women's world foil title for Russia on Tuesday.

In the women's team foil competition, the United States was beaten in the first round by Russia 14-2. The Soviet girls reached the final by defeating France 9-7. Hungary also reached the final by beating Rumania 9-4 in the other team semifinal.

CARPETING THE OUTFIELD — Workmen lay Astroturf over the outfield under the famous domed stadium in Houston, completing a resurfacing job started this spring in the infield. The synthetic nylon turf was developed after problems arose maintaining the real grass that was first installed in the Astrodome. The Astroturf is laid in strips and zippered together, and costs about $2 per square foot. The job will be finished in time for Tuesday's Phillies-Houston contest.

Setting Record Pace

Fans Flocking to Ball Parks

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 25 million spectators — an all-time high — are likely to watch major league baseball games this year.

This was indicated today when an Associated Press survey of mid-season attendance figures showed that the Atlanta Braves and California Angels have helped boost the majors' gate total 7 per cent over 1965.

* * *

The Braves, who moved from Milwaukee, and the Angeles, in their new Anaheim Stadium, have been the most important factors in lifting over-all attendance to almost 13 million going into tonight's games.

NL AHEAD

A total of 7,445,231 have watched National League clubs in action, while 5,427,846 have paid to see American League games. The combined total of 12,873,077 is 843,716 more than a year ago in a comparable number of playing dates.

A major league attendance record of 22,441,900 was set last season.

The Braves' turnstile count is up 568,451, while the Angels' has increased by 410,099 over last year. Both have drawn more than 800,000, and have surpassed their 1965 full-season figures. The Angels have the highest American League attendance, 808,823.

* * *

Ten other teams are also showing improvement. They are St. Louis, which moved into new Busch Stadium two months ago, up 198,679 customers; Kansas City, 135,748; Baltimore, 110,796; Detroit, 59,900; Pittsburgh, 38,412; Los Angeles, 25,980; Washington, 25,921; New York Yankees, 24,185; San Francisco, 19,707, and Cleveland, 16,849.

* * *

Houston, in its second season in the Astrodome, showed the largest decrease — 221,682. However, the Astros have attracted 1,081,008 and rank second to Los Angeles, which has played before 1,311,324 persons in Dodger Stadium. No other club has passed the one-million mark.

Other teams behind last year's attendance pace are the Chicago White Sox, 162,961; Philadelphia, 120,150; Minnesota, 107,630; New York Mets, 84,891; Cincinnati, 80,509; Boston, 8,787, and the Chicago Cubs, 4,401.

* * *

The American League has been responsible for most of this year's gain. It has lifted its attendance 504,120 while the NL, which has established records in each of the past four campaigns, is plus-339,596.

Veterans' Benefits—9

GI Insurance Can Be Reinstated

By RAY CROMLEY

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the ninth article in a 12-part series on veterans' benefits.)

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — Don't panic. If your veteran's insurance lapses. There are provisions that enable you to make it good — if you don't wait too long.

If you have one of the usual permanent-type policies—ordinary life, 20-pay life and the like — you may reinstate your policy by paying all back premiums. If your policy is preceded by the letters "J," "JR" or "JS," it must be reinstated within five years of lapse.

You also must pay interest if the policy has been lapsed longer than three months.

If you have an endowment plan, you must reinstate the policy within the endowment period.

* * *

A lapsed term insurance policy usually must be reinstated during the current term period. To reinstate a term policy, you need pay only two premiums—one for the month of lapse and one for the premium month in which requirements for reinstatement are met."

AUTOMATIC RENEWAL

A five-year term policy which is not lapsed at the end of that term is automatically renewed for an additional five-year period. The premium rate for each renewal is based on the age of the insured.

Most term policies which lapse in the 59th or 60th month of a term period may be reinstated and renewed at any time during the next five-year period.

Limited Convertible Term National Service Life Insurance may not be reinstated or renewed if the term period ended after the policyholder's 50th birthday. These policies are preceded by the letter "W."

* * *

To reinstate either term or permanent plans of insurance the applicant must meet the health requirements.

GUARANTEED VALUES

You may sometimes even replace a term policy or replace or reinstate a permanent plan of insurance which was surrendered for its cash value if you apply while in service or within 120 days following separation.

Every permanent plan policy provides for guaranteed values which are available to the insured after the policy has been in force for one year.

That is, the insurance may be turned in for cash, traded in for a smaller amount of paid-up permanent insurance or continued for the full amount as extended term insurance. The policyholder may borrow up to 94 per cent of the reserve value of his policy.

* * *

Dividends on veterans insurance are payable only on policies bearing the letter-prefix K or V.

A policyholder may choose to receive his dividends in cash, or leave them to apply against premiums or to pay off loans he may have made against his policy.

He may choose to leave them on deposit and bear interest. The deposit option is applicable only on permanent (as opposed to term) insurance.

If the policyholder makes no selection, the dividend is automatically held under the Credit Option, with interest. A monthly premium will be withdrawn from a dividend credit the VA is holding to keep a policy from lapsing.

* * *

You may name as beneficiary any person or persons, firm, corporation or other legal entity (including your estate) individually or as trustee.

You may change your beneficiary at any time without his knowledge or consent.

Every veteran with an insurance policy should review his beneficiary designation regularly to make certain it is current and provides for payment in the manner he desires.

You may choose to have your insurance paid (to your beneficiary) in one sum, over a fixed period of time (36 to 240 months) or as a life annuity.

* * *

Your GI life insurance policy is administered at one of two VA centers. The state in which you were stationed or living when the policy was issued generally determines which center handles it.

2 Fined $200 for Gambling

Two men arrested by Pontiac police in an early-morning gambling raid April 16 pleaded guilty in Municipal Court yesterday and were fined $100 each by Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Walter J. Stafford, 49, of 3226 Highland, White Lake Township, and Peter H. Margosian, 28, of 571 Second entered the pleas on charges of violating the state gambling law.

* * *

They were among 15 men arrested by warrant-bearing vice squad plainclothesmen, who broke into a building at 33 Baldwin about 2:30 a.m.

Thirteen of those apprehended pleaded guilty to charges of loitering at an illegal gambling operation and were fined $25 each.

Parliament, Soldier Requirements Differ

NEW DELHI (AP) — A member of Parliament asked Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan why, in this atomic age, persons only 4 feet 3 inches were not accepted able to the army. Chavan replied a man that short might make a good paratrooper, but, not, a good soldier.

Potato Joins Atomic Age

Doses of Radiation Speed Growth Period

RICHLAND, Wash. (UPI) — Scientists at Pacific Northwest Laboratory here are playing an atomic version of "one potato, two potato" in hopes of getting that old staple, the spud, to do double duty.

★ ★ ★

Researchers say a series of experiments proved conclusively that potatoes treated with a dose of radiation will grow sprouts without the vegetable having to go through the normal 60-90 day "rest" period.

Other experiments showed that irradiation helps plants maiure at early growth stages.

The conclusion being drawn here is that two crops instead of one could be grown in areas with long growing seasons if seed potatoes are irradiated.

★ ★ ★

And it is possible that spuds irradiated before spring planting in Northern areas could mature in time to compete with earlier crops from Southern growing areas.

STARTED IN '65

Dr. Lloyd E. Brownell started the potato studies in the spring of 1965 while he was taking part in the "summer professor" program sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Brownell is a professor of chemical and nuclear engineering at the University of Michigan.

He took mature russet potatoes from a commercial field and exposed them to gamma rays from cobalt 60, a heavy radioactive isotope.

★ ★ ★

Planted in vermiculite for laboratory observation, the potatoes were examined, photographed and replanted every few days.

TIME CUT

The first group of irradiated potatoes sprouted 22 days after radiation. Later experiments brought the time down to less than 10 days.

★ ★ ★

"No abnormalities of any kind were discovered in the potatoes," said Dr. Charles A. Rohrmann, research associate in the chemistry department of Battelle - Northwest, which operates the laboratory.

Coast Guard Ship to Study Sea Bottom

BRISTOL, R.I. (AP) — The Coast Guard buoy tender Spar is scheduled to sail today on the first leg of a two-month cruise to study the bottom of the Atlantic and Arctic oceans.

Red China Losing Votes for U.N. Seat

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite all the talk about inviting Communist China into the United Nations, the General Assembly is unlikely to do that this fall and may give it even fewer votes than last year.

Various U.S. scholars favor Red China's admission, but not enough U.N. members are for it to make it come to pass.

★ ★ ★

Delegates estimate that in next fall's General Assembly a resolution to oust the Chinese Nationalists and seat the Chinese Communists will get several fewer votes than it did in last fall's assembly.

That last resolution failed Nov. 17 on a 47-47 tie vote, with 20 nations abstaining. That was not so close as it looks because the assembly had decided it would take a two-thirds vote—not just a simple majority—to change China in the United Nations.

MEMORANDUM

Nine of the 11 countries that put the question before the last assembly already are talking about how to handle it in the next one starting Sept. 20. Algeria and Cambodia have drawn up a memorandum setting forth their case.

★ ★ ★

One of the diplomats involved in those talks expects that Communist China will get one or two fewer votes this year than it did last.

A U.S. delegate makes the same guess, though he adds that it is really too early to tell.

Ambassador Hsueh Yu-Chi of Nationalist China told a reporter: "There will be six or seven more votes against the admission of the Chinese Communists."

Hsueh cited as some of the reasons why the Communists had lost votes: his own government had won friends away from them; some African countries had caught them redhanded at subversion; and sudden changes in government had brought some changes in Red Chinese policy.

As far back as March 28, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg remarked: "I would say right at the moment that there are fewer votes for admission of Red China to the United Nations than there were at the last assembly." The following month U.N. Secretary General U Thant said indications were that the question of the Chinese seat would not be solved in the coming 21st session of the general assembly."

Nevertheless, the issue will be argued out along familiar lines.

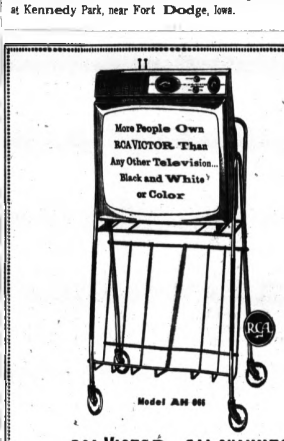

Among the arguments for seating Communist China are: 1. She is entitled to it. 2. Without her the United Nations is not "universal." 3. Some 690 million Chinese lack representation here. 4. Such world problems as disarmament and the war in Viet Nam cannot be settled without Peking.

Among the arguments against seating Red China are: 1. She is not entitled to it because the U.N. Charter says the United Nations is for peace-loving countries only. 2. She does not represent the Chinese people because they look to the Republic of China on Formosa. 3. She is so hostile to the United Nations that she would only obstruct settlements. 4. This open hostility shows a lack of interest in coming here.

Rides Out British Rate Hike

Active Stock Market Rallies

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rallied early this afternoon after riding out the news of a boost in the British bank rate. Trading was active.

Stock prices remained on an even keel despite the growing stringency of worldwide credit reflected by the jump in the basic British interest rate to 7 per cent from 6 per cent.

★ ★ ★

That action was followed by a rallying in the British pound which has been in trouble again recently.

The Associated Press average that another increase in the Federal Reserve Board's discount rate, now at 4½ per cent, is very likely, especially in view of the British increase. The higher interest rates and tightening of credit have dampened stock prices but now that a major part of the bad news is out of the way, stocks began to show strength.

Gains of fractions to 2 or 3 points were posted.

AVERAGE UP

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 319.7 with industrials up 1.0, rails off .4 and utilities up .2.

★ ★ ★

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.45 at 884.85.

With reports of some issues being narrowed in the airline strike, airline stocks showed a burst of strength. Eastern and American rose about 3, Pan American about 2.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

U.N. Marks Adlai's Death

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats and friends of Adlai E. Stevenson arranged a memorial service today to mark the first anniversary of his death.

Francis T. P. Plimpton, who served as Stevenson's deputy at the U.S. mission to the United Nations, was one of the scheduled speakers at the service in the Dag Hammarskjold Auditorium at U.N. headquarters.

* * *

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Stevenson's successor as head of the U.S. mission, is in Geneva attending a U.N. meeting.

An exodus of about half a million white person from New York City between 1960 and 1964 was disclosed recently. This was only partially offset by the increase of somewhat less than 400,000 nonwhites and Puerto Ricans during this period.

Aid Measure Past 1st Test

$3-Million Multiyear Bill on House Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's $3.3 billion multiyear foreign aid authorization bill has sailed through its first House test but opponents vowed to try again today to slash both time and money from the measure.

The House voted down 122 to 86 Wednesday night an amendment to cut the two-year authorization to a single year. Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Calif., author of the rejected amendment, later declared: "I'm sure somebody else will try again today. If they don't," he added, "I just might."

A final vote is expected late today. Voting on amendments started Wednesday after two days of debate.

Opponents of the two-year measure argued that a constant review is needed of the aid program in light of changing, critical world times.

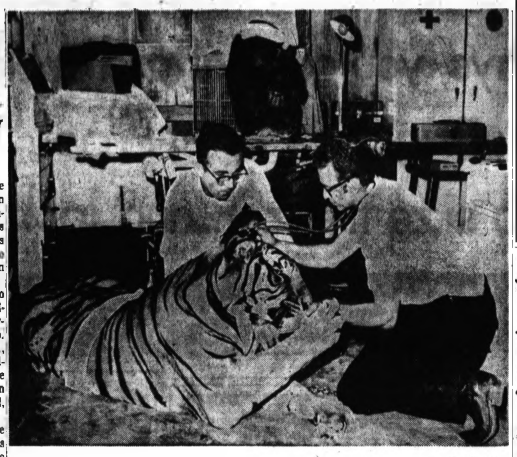

CONFIDENCE

Supporters backed the administration's contention that the longer period is needed for planning and to give confidence to underdeveloped nations.

The issue touched off extended oratory.

Rep. Paul A. Fino, R-N.Y., charged most of the $2.5 billion given South Viet Nam through the program has been "stolen by profiteers and corrupt officials."

Many members who declared they supported the aid program argued against a two-year period. Some said this issue should be decided in the first session of a Congress, not the closing one.

ANIMAL ACTORS INJURED — Serang, a Siberian tiger, is treated by Mac McWilliams (left) and Ralph Helfer after sustaining steam burns yesterday when a runaway railroad work car smashed into Africa, U.S.A., a compound near Los Angeles which houses more than 400 animals used in movies and television. Also hurt was Judy (background), a chimp. Some of the animals were about to perform on a nearby set for television's "Daktari."

Merle Has Look of Youth 34 Years After First Film

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Recently, a Hollywood matron encountered Merle Oberon at a party and exclaimed, "Good Lord, you can't go on looking young forever!"

"Of course not," replied the actress, "but why not try?"

She was born Estelle Merle O'Brien Thompson in Tasmania, but don't ask how many years ago. Suffice to say that her first notable film was "The Private Life of Henry VIII" with Charles Laughton, and that was 34 years ago.

THOMAS

After the lapse of a dozen years, Miss Oberon is back playing a Hollywood role in the multistar "Hotel"; she enacts a duchess to Michael Rennie's duke. Her youthfulness naturally comes up in an interview, and it is a subject she doesn't tire of hearing about.

"Of course people mention it a great deal," she smiled, "but what woman wouldn't be pleased?

"Remaining as young-looking as possible is good for everyone — as long as they don't let it become a phobia. It has never been that with me. If I grow old, I grow old. Meanwhile, I owe it to myself, to God, and to those who look at me, to maintain the best appearance I can."

How does she manage it?

"Exercise. I swim every day of the year and do exercises in the water too. I have swimming pools at all my homes — here, in Acapulco, Mexico City and Cuernavaca.

"I eat sparingly but wisely. For lunch, I will have a steak and fresh vegetables. If I go to a large dinner, I will eat a little bit of everything."

Admittedly, Miss Oberon leads the kind of life that most women would envy. Her husband is the Italian-born Mexican industrialist Bruno Paglia, and they travel between their four houses, as well as to New York and Europe. They have two children, 6 and 7.

Both Paglia and Miss Oberon collect art.

Miss Oberon also collects jewelry, and she is using her own in "Hotel" — $350,000 worth. A private detective protects the gems on the set.

Claim Savings ---Postmaster

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson today urged persons who have not yet redeemed postal savings certificates to do so.

"Interest on these accounts is presently being discontinued on the anniversary date of each certificate," Donaldson said.

"All funds still held by this office as of April 26 of next year will be forwarded to Washington."

The U.S. Post Office has announced it will discontinue its activities in postal savings certificates, which currently pay interest at the rate of 2.17 per cent.

* * *

Donaldson said only 166 out of 710 accounts have been closed out at the Pontiac office since the move two months ago. He said $268,417 is still on deposit at the office.

Suggested hours for redeeming postal saving certificates are 9-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. Monday through Friday at the main post office, 735 W. Huron.

GOP Eyes Halt of Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders are expected to call today for a congressional inquiry into the government's dismissal of an antitrust suit against the Anheuser-Busch Co. after officials of the brewing firm contributed $10,000 to a Democratic fund-raising organization.

A spokesman for the company said "the whole thing is preposterous."

It was understood that Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., would call for the inquiry in a Hous_speech today.

The issue was first raised yesterday by House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford.

He told a news conference "disturbing rumors" were circulating that the Johnson administration may have dropped antitrust suits against companies whose executives contributed to the Democrats. Ford gave no names.

A check of government records showed that on May 24 the August A. Busch family and two company executives made contributions totaling $10,000 to the President's Club, composed of persons who contribute at least $1,000 to the Democrats.

On June 17, records showed, the Justice Department dropped a civil antitrust suit seeking to force the company to divest itself of a malting plant in Wisconsin it had acquired from the Rahr Malting Co.

The suit was dismissed without prejudice—meaning it could be refiled later, officials said.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said the Justice Department had voluntarily consented to dismissal of two antitrust cases this year, including the one against Anheuser-Busch.

The second case, dismissed yesterday, was a civil suit charging several paper producers with conspiring to hold down prices they paid for pulp wood, Katzenbach said.

He added he authorized dismissal of the cases upon recommendation of Asst. Atty. Gen. Donald F. Turner, head of the antitrust division, and members of his staff.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Take a peek at today's bidding. It looks as if North and South have suddenly gone crazy. Where did South find his three club bid? Why did North drop the bidding at three spades instead of heading for the stratosphere?

JACOBY

There must be some method in this madness because South makes exactly three spades. He loses two hearts, a spade and a diamond but the rest of the tricks are his.

* * *

South's three club bid shows the Wolff convention in action. This convention was invented by San Antonio expert Bobby Wolff to allow a player who responds with a hand such as South's to get out of the trap after his partner has jumped to two no-trump.

Specifically, the three club bid demands that partner rebid to three diamonds. Responder's follow up bid of three spades then becomes a signoff and opener is required to pass.

We have not studied the Wolff convention enough to be able either to approve it or to disapprove it. The opportunity for its use arises so infrequently that it will be some time before we have enough evidence to reach a decision about it.

We do know that it is for use with a regular partner. It is so complicated that if you and your partner aren't completely familiar with all its ramifications you should leave it strictly alone.

In any event if you do try it out please write and tell us your results.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four hearts your partner bids four spades over your three spades. What do you do?

Workweek, Pay Gains Cited in Trooper Drive

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police are hoping higher pay, a 40-hour work week and overtime pay will help attract new recruits for this fall's training programs.

Trooper pay now starts at $6,368 a year and climbs in yearly installments to a top of $8,936 in the seventh year.

* * *

In addition, said Col. Frederick Davids, department director, officers have been working a five-day 45-48 hour week, but now are being scheduled on a five-day 40-hour week basis. Extra time draws time-and-a-half overtime pay.

Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 30, at least 5 feet 9 inches tall, and high school graduates.

The population of France passed the 49 million mark in September, 1965. The population is increasing at the rate of 40,000 per month.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Friday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Associates may be irritable. Effort to be understanding sidetracks foolish argument before it can start. Better to finish rather than start. Journey continues to be emphasized.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Money question requires fresh point of view. Not so good for speculating. Play cards close to chest . . . wait for additional facts. Then your possessions are secure.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Cycle who continues high. You are able to make quick decisions. Key is gaining cooperation of established individuals. Steer clear of get-rich-quick schemes.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Inner peace is essential . . . now takes priority. If a negative part dominates, you make others and yourself unhappy. Review recent past, future goals. Take time to analyze EACH AND EVERY MOVE.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Emphasis on friends, wishes. Money could enter picture in the form of LIMITATION. Don't over-spend. Keep desires in line with reality to avoid disappointment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Attend to ESSENTIAL matters early. Don't permit yourself to be distracted by promises without practical base. Ideas appear plentiful. CHOOSE THE BEST.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Reunion with friend or relative well favored. High light peace, harmony. Try to correct any domestic errors. DON'T WAIT UNTIL IT IS TOO LATE.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Change of pace indicated. You could be called upon to make important decision. Analyze with care . . . avoid rush. Tendency toward self-deception exists. Overcome it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Gain knowledge from others. Accept suggestions . . . especially relating to partnership and business proposals. Privacy is being applied. Stand tall!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Reach beyond immediate indications. Routine you may not have complete story. One who comes to you for help may end up aiding your efforts. Keep mind open.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Be line - but don't permit others to take advantage of you. Get your share. Many now interpret sympathy as sign of weakness. Choose your friends wisely. Otherwise, expect trouble.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): You may have to check legal aspects of current situation. Property could be involved. Your chance for success depends on how solid the foundation. Evening lovers relaxation.

* * *

IF FRIDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: you are attracted to fine things in life . . . but often you wait until real opportunity has passed.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for GEMINI, CANCER, LEO. Special need to TAURUS: Imaginative move could prove costly. Watch it.

Hike in Value of Prep Honors Recommended

LANSING (AP) — The $3 limit on awards to high school athletes would be boosted to $5 under a proposal approved Wednesday by the State Board of Education.

* * *

If the rules change becomes final after public hearings, it would go into effect Sept. 1, 1967.

The Representative Council of the Michigan High School Athletic Association recommended the higher limit. The $3 limit has been in effect since 1954.

* * *

The board also approved a proposed rules change that would allow junior high school ninth graders the same privileges of sports competition as ninth graders attending four-year senior high schools.

Minuteman Missile Is Destroyed in Flight

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif (UPI)—A Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile was destroyed by a range safety officer yesterday seconds after it was launched on a 5,000-mile test flight across the Pacific Ocean.

An Air Force spokesman said the missile "developed a malfunction and was destroyed." Cause of the malfunction was not immediately determined.

Collision Puts 3 in Hospital

Two persons are in good condition and one is in fair condition today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, with injuries suffered in a two car collision in White Lake Township yesterday.

According to police, Rita Klimek, 15, of Susquehanna, Pa., suffered a fractured pelvis when the car in which she was riding was struck broadside by a car driven by William Richards, of 3315 Jackson in Highland Township.

Stanley Domalik, 22, of 812 Cranbourne, Commerce Township, who was the driver of the struck car, received scalp lacerations and a fractured neck.

Domalik and his wife, Barbara, 20, are reported in good condition.

Township firemen used hydraulic jacks to release Miss Klimek from the car in which she had been pinned by the crash.

Richards received minor injuries, police said.

The accident occured at 11:30 a.m. on Brookfield near Lake Grove in White Lake Township.

Total mileage of the interstate highway network has reached 19,173 or 47 per cent of the proposed 41,000 mile system set for a 1972 deadline.

OUTSTANDING — Community National Bank employe Mrs. R. Sanford Craft Jr. of 94 Riviera has been honored as the outstanding savings bond salesperson in Michigan. She is receiving a certificate from Delmar Cote, Michigan U.S. Savings Bond director. Mrs. Craft joined the bank in 1933 and has been handling savings bonds since Dec. 14, 1941. In that period, she sold 4,784,106 bonds worth $212 million.

NEW YORK (AP) —God bless summer camp!

They're good for the kids, but they are even better for the parents.

One of the major hypocrisies of our time is the idea that parents deserve credit for the financial sacrifice they make to send their children to summer camp for two weeks or a month.

BOYLE

"I had to borrow the money, but it's worth it," they say smugly. "The kids really need the fresh air and sunshine. It does wonders for them."

The truth of the matter is that most modern parents would gladly hold up a bank, if necessary, to raise the funds to send their kids into summer exile. Anything to get them out of sight and hearing for a while.

Of course, the first night they're away it is a bit hard on mother. The house is so silent without the thunder of little hooves.

"I miss my babies!" she wails.

Yeah, me too," lies father, cheerfully mixing them a second martini.

But, by the third day, they openly admit they are having the time of their lives. Peace, it's wonderful.

★ ★ ★

No hideous rock 'n' roll music blares from the phonograph. Cobwebs begin to gather on the unused telephone. Mother no longer has to pick up scattered clothing from the floor. Dad can listen to any television program he wants—or even turn the darned thing off entirely. They can go to the movies without having to pay a teen-age baby sitter the down payment on her college education.

The trouble with summer camps—from the parents' viewpoint—is that they end all too soon. Back flock the released little prisoners, chastened, freckled, mosquito-chewed.

★ ★ ★

They are so relieved to be home again they break into tears. Their pledges of eternal good behavior last for about 24 golden hours during which they act like angels.

Then — the relapse. They whoop and holler, tease the cat, hog the telephone, turn on the phonograph and turn up the television set. They are back to normal. Home again becomes the parental jail.

Trio Quizzed in Gas Theft

Three Orion Township youths were captured by Waterford Township police this morning after five gallons of gasoline were siphoned from two cars on N. Lake Angelus Drive.

★ ★ ★

Patrolman Robert Reynolds nabbed the youths after he saw them running to their car.

A gasoline container and hose were found in the youths' car.

Police had been notified by Melvin Kimmer of 2925 N. Lake Angelus, one of the victims.

★ ★ ★

Two of the youths were 16-year-old juveniles. The other, aged 17, was released pending the signing of a complaint.

Improvement Group Sets Festival Plans

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Oakley Park Improvement Association has completed plans for their 25th anniversary festival.

★ ★ ★

The event is slated for Sunday, July 31, beginning at 12:30 p.m. at Oakley Park Beach on the south side of Commerce Lake. The public is invited to participate in all festival activities.

Protest March Over; Cleric Packs Bags

McALLEN, Tex. (AP) — Wendle Scott's protest march is over, and he is packing to get out of a Church of Christ school building he was ordered to vacate.

★ ★ ★

Scott joined a Fourth of July march of striking Mexican-American farm workers in the Rio Grande Valley to dramatize demands for union recognition and a $1.25 an hour minimum wage for field hands who now earn 80 cents to $1 an hour.

Scott was asked by elders of McAllen's Harvey Drive Church of Christ to quit the march. When he refused, he was told to move out of the chuch-owned building he used for a school to train Mexicans for the ministry. The students, nine of them, are having to pack, too. The building doubled as a dormitory.

"If we can rent a large house or if someone will supply us with a large place, we'll move there," said Scott. "Failing that, we'll move into my house, which is too small even for my own family."

'Mighty' Mouse Puts Radio Station Off Air

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Officials of radio station WCSH smelled a rat when the transmitter was knocked out, putting the station off the air for 40 minutes recently.

★ ★ ★

But it was a mouse, not a rat, that short circuited the transmitter. The mouse was killed.

Only one president, George Washington, was inaugurated in two cities — New York in 1789 and Philadelphia in 1793.

Klein Back to Testify in Dodd Probe

NEW YORK (UPI) — Julius Klein, a Chicago public relations man, arrived from Germany yesterday en route to Washington to tell the U.S. Senate Ethics Committee that his friendship with Sen. Thomas D. Dodd, D-Conn., was an innocent one.

Klein, 64, was bristling over charges by syndicated columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson which toushed off the Senate investigation of his relationship with Dodd.

He said the two were motivated in their "lying" campaign by the fact that "Sen. Dodd and I are strong Americans and anti-Communists."

"I don't hesitate to say that Drew Pearson is left wing," he said.

The columnists accused Dodd of going to Germany to improve Klein's relationship there with various business concerns for which he is representative in the United States.

Dodd already has appeared before the Senate Ethics Committee and denied there he ever acted on Klein's behalf or received gifts from the Chicagoan.

'Plastic Gas Tanks Due on 1967 Trucks'

DEXTER (AP) — Gasoline tanks made of plastic will be standard equipment on a line of 1967 heavy-duty trucks of a major manufacturer, according to Phillips Products of Dexter, molders of the tanks. Freedom from electrostatic charge and durability were offered as advantages of the plastic tanks.

Judges Plan Meeting

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)— The Michigan Probate and Juvenile Judges Association will meet July 17-20 at Mackinac Island.

'Tranced' by Pat Collins, Van Sheds His Bad Habits

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD AND BROADWAY — I found Van Johnson "completely under"—having been hypnotized by Pat Collins and consequently off both cigarets and banana splits—when I visited Columbia's "Divorce, American Style" set where everybody (including Van and Dick Van Dyke) was discussing the trance Van's in.

WILSON

"I want to stay in this supernatural world I love it!" Van exclaimed. "I'll never smoke again.

"You know how I was on banana splits," he said. "I haunted Swanson's in San Francisco, Wil Wright's in Hollywood and Hicks' in New York. I tried just one spoonful since Pat hypnotized me and I had to put it down. It was distasteful. I was hooked—and Pat unhooked me!" he added with a big happy smile.

Van must be an easy subject—he was hypnotized once before in Palm Springs by Sammy Renick, the jockey.

Phil Silvers visited me at the Beverly Hills and told a story concerning his splitup with Evelyn Patrick. He was on the phone with his daughter Nancy, in Florida and her mother, and Nancy said, "Daddy, do you have an envelope?" . . . "Yes" . . . "Put my name and address on it. Do you have a stamp?" . . . "Yes, of course," said Phil . . . "Put the stamp on it, Daddy," Nancy said, "get in the envelope, seal the envelope, and mail it to me."

Union Scorns Firing Threat

Employes of Lansing to Take Strike Vote

LANSING (AP) — A union official predicts that the city's threat to fire any and all striking municipal employes will have little effect on their strike plans.

The prediction was made by Walter Oliver, international representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes. A strike vote will be taken Friday, he said, adding:

"It is our feeling the membership would almost unanimously support strike action."

He said he would not be surprised to see next Monday set as the strike deadline.

Earlier this week, Oliver sent the city a telegram in which he threatened "drastic action" if the city did not resume contract negotiations, which have been going on for nine months, by Friday.

Leaning personnel manager Daniel Bodwin replied in a registered letter that if "drastic action" meant a strike or slowdown, it would result in immediate termination of city employment for offenders.

City negotiators would not be able to meet with union representatives before July 28, Bodwin said, and would not meet them if Oliver did not retract his implied threats.

Oliver charged that Bodwin has been trying to provoke the union into a strike "for the last nine months by refusing to bargain in accordance with the law."

Oliver said the union, which represents some 400 city workers in various categories, will file unfair labor practice charges against the city with the state labor mediation board.

Grand Rapids Teen Saved From Drowning

MUSKEGON (UPI)—Sixteen-year old Sharon Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Williams, Grand Rapids, was saved from drowning in Lake Michigan at Pioneer Park in North Muskegon yesterday.

The girl had been overcome while swimming and was revived by fire department members and taken to Hackley Hospital.

Car Disposal Inaugurated

NEW YORK (AP)—The borough of Manhattan in New York City recently inaugurated free tow-away service for abandoned motor vehicles in an effort to cut down on discarded cars that have become traffic and safety hazards as well as eyesores.

★ ★ ★

New York City Sanitation Commissioner Frank J. Lucas announced that motorists who wish to dispose of unwanted autos may call their nearest sanitation office and arrange a mutually convenient time for pickup.

Owners must sign the jalopy over to the department before the tow truck will remove it.
