Safety, Performance Highlight '68 Pontiacs

NEW FOR 1968 — In the foreground of this Spectacolor picture is the GTO convertible, with the new energy-absorbing front bumper. Concealed headlamps and hood-mounted tachometer are options. Also pictured is the LeMans two-door hardtop coupe which shows the Tempest styling for 1968. Featuring the popular long-hood short-deck look, the LeMans has a new roof line that blends into the rear section.

Auto writers of the nation gathered at Bloomfield Hills Country Club today to view the new Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds for 1968.

What they saw was a boldly designed line of cars with improved safety and performance — well calculated to continue Pontiac's record sales acceptance.

In unveiling the 33 new models, Pontiac General Manager John Z. DeLorean predicted his division would sell 860,000 units this calendar year, compared to the record 834,843 a year ago.

DeLorean estimated Pontiac would have a 200,000-unit lead over the nearest competitor for third place in the auto industry.

The division currently is in its seventh consecutive year of selling in third place.

DISTINCTIVE STYLING

A distinctive Pontiac-oriented styling theme highlighted by a new wide peripheral front bumper and dominant center section is featured on all Catalina, Executive, Bonneville and Grand Prix models.

Crushable armrests, additional interior padding and new side marker lamps are included in the built-in safety features of the 1968 line.

"The safety, comfort and convenience of driving a new Pontiac are at their highest level," says DeLorean.

Speaking of Pontiac sales, DeLorean indicated pride in Pontiac's increasing market penetration.

10 PCT. TOPPED

"Seven years ago we were getting 6.8 per cent of all domestic sales. This year we are obtaining 10.8 per cent, the first time we have ever topped the 10 per cent mark."

He pointed out that in order to sell at the current record volume, Pontiac has had to significantly increase its productive capacity.

"Our expansion program will be completed next spring with our new 280,000-square-foot chassis parts plant," he added.

★ ★ ★

"Plant space has been increased 24 per cent in the past four years."

CHANGES FOR TEMPEST

The Tempest line for '68 shows the most extensive styling changes since its introduction seven years ago, and the Firebird sports car which arrived in January also has undergone evolutionary styling revision.

A total of 17 models in four series is available in the Pontiac line for 1968. They go on sale Sept. 21.

There are seven models in the volume-selling Catalina: two door sedan, four-door sedan, hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible, two-seat station wagon and three-seat station wagon.

In the Executive line models include the four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, hardtop coupe, two-seat station wagon, and three-seat station wagon.

LUXURY MODELS

The four models bearing the Bonneville luxury label are the hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and three-seat wagon.

The Grand Prix features a hardtop coupe.

All front-end components are integrated into one uncluttered design unit in the new peripheral bumper. Dual headlights are placed horizontally within the bumpers.

All parking lamps are below the bumper and are teamed with side marker lamps in one housing to share a common lens that wraps around for side visibility.

EXCLUSIVE MOLDING

Body sides emphasize the full-length side peak line and are accented with an exclusive narrow molding with a vinyl plastic insert on all models except the Executive station wagon and the Grand Prix.

The molding insert guards against parking lot scratches and dents.

From the rear, the new look includes wide tail lamps which turn down at the outboard ends, except on the Grand Prix and station wagons.

★ ★ ★

The instrument panel has additional thick foam padding, and full-width padding has also been added to the center of the panel.

RECESSED IGNITION

Included in the new safety features is a recessed ignition key, and additional padding on the front seat backs.

Pontiac's concealed windshield wipers, an industry first last year, have been improved to provide quieter operation, quicker response, and over-all better control of the area.

The 1968s are an inch longer, and have more power. The standard engine for the Catalina and Executive series is a 400 cubic-inch V8 with 290 horsepower, up from 285 last year.

★ ★ ★

TWO WHEELBASES

For the first time, the Tempest will be built on two wheelbases. All two-door coupes and convertibles will have a 112-inch wheelbase, compared to 115 last year. The four-door models and station wagons will be built on a 116-inch base.

The Tempest has Pontiac-inspired styling, with emphasis on the venturi shape, accentuating the long-hood and short-deck profile.

There are 15 models in the four Tempest series. The sports coupe and the four-door sedan make up the Tempest series.

★ ★ ★

The Tempest Custom offers a sports coupe, hardtop coupe, four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, convertible and two-seat station wagon.

LeMANS MODELS

LeMans models include a sports coupe, hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, and convertible. The Tempest Safari is a separate series with the four-door, two-seat station wagon.

There are two GTO models, a hardtop coupe and a convertible.

The fully concealed windshield wipers pioneered on the Pontiac line last year are now on the full Tempest line.

The wide track has been increased for the 1968 Tempests. Both front and rear tread are 60 inches, for an increase of two inches in front and one inch in the rear. Over-all length is nearly six inches less on the two-door models.

Ford Talks Resume, but Strike Looming

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations between the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union resumed today in the face of an apparently inevitable strike by 159,000 Ford workers across the nation at midnight tonight.

"An exercise in futility" was the way UAW President Walter Reuther described the last day of negotiations before the strike deadline as he closeted himself with bargainers for Ford.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-5, C-7

"Both parties are obligated to sit at that table and do everything possible to avert a strike," Reuther said, adding he expected bargaining would go right to the last minute.

It was not immediately clear whether the UAW contract with Chrysler would be extended past the deadline.

The union has requested such an agreement extension, and Chrysler has said there will be no lockout.

Today, however, Chrysler advised the union it would answer the question of a contract extension later in the afternoon, according to Doug Frazer, chief UAW negotiator at Chrysler.

"I guess they haven't got their orders from GM yet," Frazer commented. "They told us they haven't made up their minds yet and I told them they should not insult the intelligence of the negotiating committee."

State Teachers Picketing

By The Associated Press

Teachers in many of Michigan's 47 disputing school districts, including Detroit, headed from the bargaining table to the picket line today as deadlines for contract agreement passed without settlement.

Nearly one-fourth of the state's more than 2.06 million school children may miss the scheduled opening of classes this week because of failure to settle disputes.

The Detroit Federation of Teachers bargained into the night with the Detroit Board of Education, although the teacher group already had announced picket lines would be set up at 6 a.m. today.

Yesterday teachers had overwhelmingly rejected the board's latest contract offer. The unofficial margin was 5,036-113.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gov. William Milliken reported that 18,878 pupils were turned away from six teacherless schools yesterday and another 73,678 were expected to be sent home today. This figure could grow to half a million by tomorrow, the day most Michigan schools were to open.

WITHOUT CONTRACTS

Of the 47 districts without agreement, teachers in 34 have voted not to report for duty unless contract demands are met. Teachers in eight other districts said they would work without contracts and the situation still was not clear in five districts.

Picket lines were up yesterday in at least eight Detroit area school districts.

In the Inkster district, where 78 per cent of the 224 teachers have voted "no contract, no work," teachers picketed all 10 schools and refused to help register the district's 5,000 pupils.

★ ★ ★

OTHER PICKETS

Picket lines also went up in Dearborn, Harper Woods, Highland Park, Ecorse, Taylor Township, and Southgate.

Tony Kaiser, president of the Hamtramck Federation of Teachers, said, "We're on strike as of Wednesday. The pickets will be up." He said negotiations for 129 teachers for some 6,000 students in the Detroit suburb have broken off with no meetings scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Educators repeatedly have asked Romney to open the October special legislative session to the question of more money for schools, but he repeatedly has refused.

Weatherman Sees Fair Skies in Area

Sunny and mild is the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for the Pontiac area today with highs reaching 77 to 83. Fair skies will continue tonight with lows between 50 and 56.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with little temperature change.

★ ★ ★

Little change is expected Friday.

Precipitation probabilities remain near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

The low temperature reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today was 52. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 78.

School Openings in Doubt in 3 S. Oakland Districts

Hope is dim for the opening of school tomorrow in three south Oakland County school districts — Troy, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. Troy is already two days late in beginning classes.

★ ★ ★

Negotiators in all three districts said today that early settlement of the contract disputes did not appear likely.

Meantime, the bulk of the schools in the county, including Pontiac and Waterford Township, expected to resume classes on schedule.

A spokesman for the Birmingham schools said school definitely would not open tomorrow, but would begin one day after there is a settlement in the dispute with teachers.

★ ★ ★

Pickets were not in evidence at any of the schools still in dispute. Spokesmen representing Troy and Bloomfield Hills teachers said that such action was not in keeping with their standards.

LAST-DITCH TALKS

Last-ditch talks are scheduled today including a series of appearances by National Education Association President Bravlio Alonzo who flew in today from Florida.

Main areas of dispute are: Birmingham — salaries and fringe benefits; Bloomfield Hills — noneconomic issues; Troy—salaries.

Farmington teachers will vote tomorrow, the first day of classes on a proposed pact. Approval is expected, according to the chief negotiator for the Farmington Education Association, C. B. Shewbridge.

Other area districts with contracts ratified yesterday were Clarkston, Oxford, Huron Valley, West Bloomfield and Clarenceville. Walled Lake ratified late Monday.

U.S. Judges Reject Kuhn's Tax Suit

Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn said today he will continue his court fight against the new state income tax despite a legal setback yesterday.

A panel of three federal judges dismissed Kuhn's case on the grounds that it had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Kuhn, the brother of State Sen. George W. Kuhn, R-14th District, contends that the tax, scheduled to go into effect in October, is unconstitutional because voters have been denied their right to decide the issue in a referendum election.

"There is no question that I will pursue the matter," said Kuhn, "but I want to review the eight-page opinion before deciding what direction I will take.

★ ★ ★

Kuhn said that he has not yet received a copy of the opinion.

"As far as I know it deals only with the jurisdictional dispute and not the merits of the case," said Kuhn.

News Flash

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. and General Motors said today they would allow United Auto Workers to man their plants without a contract, thus insuring production by two of the Big Three auto makers if the Ford Motor Co. is struck at midnight.

Banner Sales Forecast for '68 by GM Execs

DETROIT (AP) — Top General Motors Corp. executives said yesterday that 1967 model car sales would run about 8.6 million, third highest in the history of the auto industry, and predicted 9 million car sales for 1968.

In a joint statement, GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President James M. Roche expressed optimism for 1968 sales. They made no mention of a possible strike by the United Auto Workers Union, but noted another banner sales year would depend on continued production.

"Assuming production is maintained and with a continued expansion of business activity, employment and income, the motor vehicle industry has every reason for optimism about its outlook for the 1968 model year," the statement said.

"Under favorable circumstances, total vehicle sales of about 10.75 million units, including over 9 million passenger cars, is a reasonable expectation.

"The sustained growth of automobile demand in the 1968 model year, as in the past years, will depend on the continued expansion of economic activity generally.

"Most currently available indicators of the outlook provide very solid grounds for optimism," the statement said.

The two men said GM's new cars will be "the safest in our history," including seat belts for every passenger, safety arm rests and deflecting door and window handles.

U.S. Officials in Viet: No Other Governors Claim Brainwashing

SAIGON (AP) — Ruffled by presidential hopeful George Romney's charge that he was brainwashed in Vietnam, U.S. officials pointed out today that nine other governors were with the Michigan Republican on his 1965 visit and none of them have made any such complaints—publicly.

Members of the American military and diplomatic establishments said Romney was only in South Vietnam four days, that he spent three of them on field trips outside Saigon and that with the other governors he was given only the standard VIP treatment.

Romney's statements in a television interview Monday night were front-paged in Saigon's English-language newspapers and also reached the U.S. Embassy and military command on news service wires.

The undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican nomination was asked why he had changed his earlier view that U.S. involvement in Vietnam was morally right and necessary.

"When I came back from Vietnam," Romney replied, "I just had the greatest brainwashing that anybody can get when you go over to Vietnam. Not only by the generals but also by the diplomatic corps over there, and they do a very thorough job."

Romney said that since then he had delved into Vietnamese history and "I have changed my mind in that particularly I no longer believe that it was necessary for us to get involved in South Vietnam to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia and to prevent Chinese Communist domination of Southeast Asia."

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said the embassy received the 10 governors—six Republicans and four Democrats—"as official visitors and arranged for the appropriate briefings and arranged for them to get out in the field and to meet Vietnamese officials."

He said the governors received standard briefings on the war, the economic situation, the political situation and other aspects of the Vietnamese problem.

"Any judgment on the quality of the briefings is one for the individual governors to make themselves," he added, noting that the governors were personally briefed by then-Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, a Republican. The group also was briefed by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

'Nixon Holds Decided Lead for GOP Nod'

BOSTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon holds a decided lead for the Republican presidential nomination, and it will take "an impressive showing in the primaries" for Michigan Gov. George Romney to overtake him, the Christian Science Monitor reports.

A state-by-state survey shows the former vice president is preferred by political leaders in 28 states with 628 convention delegate votes, the Monitor said Tuesday in a copyright dispatch by Washington correspondent Godfrey Sperling Jr.

* * *

By himself, Romney is the preference of Republican leaders in nine states, with 254 delegates, the article said, and "only 16 states, that will have 488 delegate votes, are leaning toward the Romney—(New York Gov. Nelson A.) Rockefeller camp, when combined."

"In three important primaries, New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska, Mr. Nixon now is the choice of the professionals," the Monitor said.

Nixon "seems to have much of the South with him at this time," the article said. "this was the kind of hard-core beginning from which former Sen. Barry Goldwater put together his successful drive for the nomination in 1964."

The survey added that should Nixon and California Gov. Ronald Reagan, the choice of three states with a potential total of 152 delegates, "combine their forces, there may be no stopping them."

Tax Records Add Up to Downfall

Two employes in the County Treasurer's office were injured yesterday afternoon when steel shelving containing volumes of tax records collapsed on them.

Admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a fractured knee was Miss Gertrude J. Balz, 63, of 62 Pingree, chief bookkeeper in the department.

She was pinned to her desk when the shelving along a wall toppled over as a clerk, Otis Blythe, was removing one of the large books.

Blythe was treated for a scalp laceration.

To prevent a reoccurence of the accident, the remaining shelves have since been bolted to the wall.

TEMPEST SAFARI — The 1968 Tempest line shows the greatest styling changes since its introduction seven years ago. This is the Tempest Safari station wagon, with simulated wood exterior trim. The Tempest Custom series also includes a hardtop coupe, two-door coupe, four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, convertible and two-seat wagon.

'68 Pontiac Line Is Introduced

The Tempest Safari is over seven inches longer, and overall height is down about one-half inch on all models.

Pontiac has announced the first energy-absorbing front bumper, which is exclusive and standard on all 1968 GTOs.

It is the same color as the exterior body paint. Two rubber-insulated energy-absorbing reinforced stabilizers act to reinforce the ends of the bumper, limit vertical travel, dampen vibrations and cushion fore and aft loads resulting from impact.

* * *

Pontiac's newest, the Firebird sports car, also got a going-over for 1968. Improved sports-car ride and handling characteristics are evident, from new multileaf rear springs.

Front-door vent windows have been eliminated, and a new upper ventilation system has been added which provides draft-free circulation when windows are closed.

"The Firebirds, which have already established themselves in the personal sports car field, will meet with even greater acceptance in 1968," DeLorean predicted.

Other changes are a new and larger instrument panel, additional padding, and refinements in appearance and lighting.

* * *

The Firebird is offered in a convertible and a hardtop coupe. The standard overhead-cam six-cylinder has had its displacement boosted from 230 to 250 cubic inches, and it is rated at 175 horsepower, with one-barrel carburetion.

KEY BUZZER

Four other engines offer 215, 265, 320 and 330 horsepower.

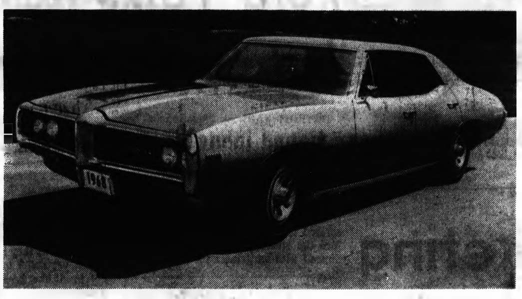
An ignition key buzzer which sounds when the driver's door is opened with the keys in the ignition and in the off position is part of the standard safety package on all cars.

The full line of Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds go on sale Sept. 21 at the following area dealers: Pontiac Retail Store, 65 University; Haupt Pontiac Sales, N. Main, Clarkston; Homer Hight Motor Sales, 160 S. Washington, Oxford; Lee Osborn Sales, Milford; Audette Pontiac, 1850 W. Maple, Troy; Russ Johnson, 89 M24, Lake Orion; Bud Shelton, 855 S. Rochester, Rochester; and Keego Sales & Service, 3080 Orchard Lake, Keego Harbor.

Another industry exclusive DeLorean said would be introduced this year on some Pontiac models is a "revolutionary electrical-charging system that uses integrated microcircuits. This new system combines the alternator and voltage regulator into one compact unit," he said.

Talking about the start on the new line, DeLorean said "We've been building them for over two weeks, and our start-up schedule is the highest we've ever had."

"Barring labor difficulties, we will build 30,000 more units by the end of September than we built through the same period a year ago," he concluded.



SLEEK LOOK — The Tempest LeMans four-door hardtop for 1968 shows the clean styling which typifies the new line. LeMans also include a sports coupe, two-door hardtop and convertible. Engine displacement has been increased to give better performance.

Police Brutality Probe Is Sought

Teen's Arrest Brings Request by Fowler

District 1 City Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. last night asked city officials to investigate a report of alleged police brutality.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said commissioners will be given a report concerning the arrest of a 17-year-old on Aug. 31.

Fowler said he had received complaints that Willie E. Ivory of 273 Judson had been roughed up by police officers while coming home from a dance.

Police officials said the youth was arrested about 10:15 p.m. at South Paddock and Wall. A car had been sent there on reports of a fight in progress.

* * *

On arrival, officers said they found no fight but were confronted by the youth who was swearing in front of a number of persons, including women and children.

'PLACED IN CAR'

Police said they asked the youth to tone down his language. When he continued swearing, they said, he was arrested and placed in the police car, where he allegedly attempted to kick the officers.

Capt. Harry Nye said the officers reported they used only enough force to contain Ivory.

On arrival at the police station, the duty officer said Ivory had a cut above his right eye and was asked if he would go to the hospital for treatment.

* * *

Nye said the youth declined to be taken by officers and stated that his mother and father, who were at the police station, would take him for any treatment that was needed.

Ivory is scheduled to be tried on a charge of publicly using obscene language tomorrow in Municipal Court.

News in Brief on Ford Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Here is the auto labor situation at a glance:

Strike deadline: Midnight tonight at expiration of Ford Motor Co.'s three-year contract with the United Auto Workers covering 159,000 workers at plants in 25 states.

* * *

Negotiations: Resume at 10 a.m. after an overnight recess. The union has said no extension of the contract will be granted even if President Johnson asks for it.

Principal figure: Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW; Malcolm L. Denise, chief bargainer for Ford, the nation's second largest auto company; William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, an observer but no yet a participant in talks.

* * *

Ford inventory: 85,000 new cars, 175,000 of the 1967 models in dealer hands as of today. The company says this is the same amount of both sold last year during the first month of the new-model run.

UAW strike fund: Big enough to support an 18-week walkout at Ford, but a special convention is scheduled—if there is a strike—for Sept. 26 at which time an assessment will be levied on union members still working at Chrysler, General Motors and other companies.

* * *

Key issues: Union wants job security in form of guaranteed salaries; big wage boost, parity for Canadian workers, increased pensions, continuation of a cost-of-living escalator clause.

Ford has offered a 13-cent an hour immediate wage hike, plus 2.8 per cent in each of next two years (rejected by the union); pension boost for future retirees; improvements in insurance, holiday pay; has asked for cutback in escalator clause, in effect ignored demand for Canadian parity; offered some increases in unemployment benefits but less than 100 per cent.

Estimate of total packages demanded, offered: Union demands figured at 90 cents to $4 over three-year period. Ford figures its offer would increase wages and fringe benefits a minimum of 34 cents over three years.

Birmingham Area News

City Moves to Relieve Flooding of Basements

BIRMINGHAM — Plans were set in motion by city commissioners last night to relieve basement flooding in two sections of the city.

In one case, the commission directed City Manager Robert S. Kenning to return with a report on a permanent improvement of the sewer system serving homes in the Shirley-Arlington area.

At the same time, the commission rescinded a previous order that property owners on the two streets disconnect downspouts. Residents complained that the action did not solve the problem of water backing up into their basements.

Kenning also was authorized to reactivate negotiations with Beverly Hills officials concerning a relief sewer serving city residents just north of 14 Mile and east of Southfield.

* * *

RELIEF SEWER

It was determined years ago that a relief sewer was needed in the area, but problems over the construction costs between the two communities were never resolved.

The commission, in other business, awarded a $99,500 contract to the Colwell Contracting Co. of Detroit to undertake the 1967 sidewalk replacement program.

Scheduled to begin in two weeks, most of the work will be done in an area bounded by Maple, Adams, Woodward, 14 Mile, and the east city limits.

* * *

The replacement project is expected to take about two months.

SIDEWALK SURVEY

Commissioners also authorized a survey of the sidewalks to be replaced in 1968 so that it can advertise for bids in the spring.

* * *

City Engineer William T. Killeen reported to commissioners that bids taken early in the construction season are likely to be slightly lower than those in the fall.

* * *

The sidewalks that would be replaced next year are in the area bounded by Adams and Woodward on the east, 14 Mile on the south, on the west by Pierce, and on the north by Frank from Pierce to Woodward, Woodward from Frank to Maple, and Maple from Woodward to Adams.

Pontiac Man Arraigned in City Shooting

A man accused of shooting a Pontiac woman four times and leaving her lying in the street Saturday was arraigned yesterday in city Municipal Court and charged with attempted murder.

Police said Samuel Threets, 40, of an unknown address on Raeburn appeared yesterday at police headquarters with his attorney.

He is charged with shooting Mary Pryor, age unkown, of 210 E. Wilson and leaving her in the street across from her home.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum set preliminary examination Sept. 13. Threets is held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Officers said Saturday they responded to a shooting complaint at the Wilson address about 12:15 a.m. and found the Pryor woman bleeding profusely from several wounds.

She was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where she was first listed in serious condition with wounds in the shoulder, chest and stomach.

She is now reported in satisfactory condition.

Exam for Man in Gun Death

A Pontiac man charged with the gunshot slaying of his wife Saturday faces preliminary examination Tuesday in Pontiac Municipal Court.

* * *

In custody in Oakland County Jail without bond is Otto Tyson, 35, of 296 Crystal Lake. He was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Tyson is accused of shooting his wife, Erma, 32, following an alleged argument in their home about 10 p.m.

He reportedly told police he drew a 22-caliber revolver from a dresser drawer and walked after her into the kitchen where he shot her once.

* * *

She was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital with a wound in the chest.

* * *

The couple's 14-year-old daughter reportedly told police she saw her father aiming the revolver at Mrs. Tyson.

* * *

The girl said she attempted to grab Tyson's arm before he fired, but was unable to prevent the shooting, according to police.

Buildup Focus Is on Combat

75 Pct. of New Troops to Be 'Trigger Pullers'

SAIGON (AP) — The 45,000 to 50,000 new U.S. troops ticketed for duty in South Vietnam by early next spring will include a larger percentage of front line combat men than ever before.

At least 75 per cent of the new troops—probably 20 battalions or more—will be "trigger pullers," it was learned today.

* * *

The reason for the increase in combat soldiers is that over the last two years the United States had to build an enormous logistics base as well as help fight the war. The logistics base is now said to be capable of supporting the new combat troops with a proportionately much smaller increase in its own strength.

* * *

At the same time, it also was learned that the U.S. Command believes the estimated enemy strength in South Vietnam is perhaps much lower than the 297,000 carried in weekly U.S. headquarters reports over the past several weeks.

POLITICAL CADRES

It is known that some high-ranking U.S. officers feel the figure is meaningless because it includes at least 57,000 men and women who are political cadres and administrative types.

American intelligence lists 120,000 North Vietnamese and Vietcong main force units in South Vietnam, plus another 120,000 local guerrillas.

Estate, Gift Tax Overhaul in LBJ Reform Package

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration is nearing completion of a tax reform package incorporating the first overhaul of estate and gift taxes in a quarter century. But the revision is unlikely to touch the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

As now contemplated, the tax reforms would apparently result in no tax windfall for the Treasury Department but would basically represent a shifting of tax burdens.

* * *

This would run counter to supporters of a congressional drive to tighten exemptions and special preferences in the present tax law to reduce or even eliminate the need for a tax increase.

One of the targets is the oil depletion allowance which some critics want lowered to 15 per cent.

The depletion allowance is a portion of the income from producers' sales of petroleum which is exempt from taxes. The theory behind it is that the sales represent disposal of capital assets rather than net gain.

Negro Picked as D.C. Mayor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today named a Negro—Walter Washington, now head of New York City's housing authority— to be mayor of the nation's capital.

The President also named an expert in city management, Thomas Fletcher, to be executive assistant to Washington in running the capital city.

Officially, Washington's title will be commissioner of the District of Columbia, a one-man assignment to replace the three-man commission which up to now has governed the capital and its predominantly Negro population of 800,000.

City Man, 34, Killed by Train

A 34-year-old Pontiac man was killed late yesterday when run over by a freight train on tracks just west of Bagley.

City police identified the victim as William Lodge of 86 Houston.

They said Lodge was apparently sitting on the tracks about 20 feet west of the Clinton River bridge when the train struck him shortly after 9:30 p.m.

The train's engineer stated he had slowed to 10 miles per hour because of a report of a repair crew working in the area, but was unable to stop in time when his brakeman shouted that there was someone on the tracks.

* * *

Poice said the train skidded some 200 feet before striking Lodge, then dragged him nearly 40 feet.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

LBJ Critic Accepts Bid to Visit Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — While a persistent critic of President Johnson's Vietnam policy says he'll visit the battle zone at military invitation, a comparatively new critic became embroiled in a partisan fight here at home.

Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, who quit the Democratic Advisory Council in Massachusetts in a climax to his running feud with Johnson's war policies, said Tuesday he expects to visit South Vietnam in October or November.

★ ★ ★

But Gavin, a former Pentagon strategist and onetime U.S. ambassador to France, said he doubts the trip—reportedly set up by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam — will change his mind.

Meanwhile, John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, accused Michigan Gov. George Romney of insulting "the integrity of two dedicated and honorable men" in saying he was brainwashed during a 1965 trip to South Vietnam.

APOLOGY ASKED

Bailey said Romney should apologize to Westmoreland and former U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge because "they were responsible for the briefings he received when he claims to have been brainwashed on the war."

Romney, considered a certain candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, said in a Monday television interview he had received "the greatest brainwashing that anybody can get when you go over to Vietnam."

The governor named no names, but attributed the brainwashing to "the generals" and "the diplomatic corps over there."

Lodge, a GOP candidate for vice president in 1960, headed the U.S. diplomatic corps in Saigon when Romney visited there.

ROMNEY'S VIET TRIP

Romney talked of his 1965 trip in explaining why he no longer believes U.S. involvement in Vietnam is morally right and necessary.

Later, interviewed on his arrival in Washington, Romney refrained from using the term "brainwashing" but said: "I just didn't think I got a complete and balanced picture" during his 1965 Vietnam visit.

★ ★ ★

The governor, in Washington to testify before the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, also emphasized that Lodge wasn't one of the people in Saigon who had influenced his former position.

Pentagon figures released Tuesday show the North Vietnamese have at least quadrupled—to 200—the number of surface-to-air firing sites in the past year.

SAM THREAT

The so-called SAM missiles, supplied by Red China and the Soviet Union, have directly claimed few U.S. planes. But they force attacking planes off course and into deadly conventional antiaircraft fire, military sources say.

In New York, an antiwar group filed with the city clerk a petition bearing 93,853 signatures and demanding that the war issue be put on the local ballot next November.

The New York City Committee for the Immediate Withdrawal Referendum vowed to wage a court fight to assure the referendum.

Innocent Plea in Ax Killing

IRON RIVER (UPI) — Pete Simmons, 67, a logger accused of the ax murder of a fellow woodsman, pleaded innocent to the charge yesterday and was ordered held for trial.

Simmons was charged with slaying Leo Reitmeyer, 52, whose axed body was found at a lonely logging camp last May.

Simmons was captured after a week-long search through pine forests in the area.

Simmons waived a jury trial and will be tried before Circuit Court Judge Ernest W. Brown on Sept. 18.

★ ★ ★

An attorney who was appointed by the court to defend Simmons indicated he might plead self-defense.

Township Officials Express Concern

Independence Focuses on Clarkston Annexation

By JEAN SAILE

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Though unscheduled for discussion, the proposed tripling by annexation of the size of the village of Clarkston occupied members of the Township Board last night.

★ ★ ★

Said Clerk Howard Altman, "There has been concern shared by a good many people in and out of the village regarding this matter. The village indicated more than a week ago that it would seek a meeting on this matter with the Township Board, but until now we have not heard from them."

Village president Robert Wertman told The Pontiac Press this morning that it was his understanding a letter had been written to the township asking for such a meeting. He said no date had been specified for the meeting.

★ ★ ★

At issue is a planning report of three council members advising the annexation of township property extending to I-75 on the north and the Dixie Highway at the southwest and as far east as Perry Lake Road, but excluding Clarkston Community Schools property and the business area at the end of M15 near Dixie.

★ ★ ★

Since Clarkston is a general law village, the annexation could be accomplished without a vote of the people providing the Oakland County Board of Supervisors agreed to the extension of boundaries.

Altman continued, "The people should be more aware of what is going on. Speaking as a private citizen I feel the people should decide an issue like this once the facts have been made known."

The village had also promised a public hearing in regard to the annexation by Sept. 18. Wertman said this morning that as yet no date had been set for the hearing.

In other business the request of Albert Lupiloff for a zoning change on some 24 acres out of a quarter section parcel in the area across Sashabaw from Pine Knob Ski Resort was tabled. Lupiloff plans a planned unit development of apartments.

★ ★ ★

The matter will be considered at the Sept. 19 meeting following a report by planning consultants. Several nearby residents presented a petition bearing 32 names which cited objections to rezoning from the present suburban farms classification. They pointed out traffic hazards, overcrowding of schools and the need for increased police and fire protection which might result.

A citizen complained of garbage dumping in Woodhull Lake and of the potential danger from racing cars at the Oakland County Sportsmans Club road racing grounds. Investigation was promised upon receipt of formal complaint.

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief Don Beach was instructed to get an itemized listing of electrical work to be done in preparation of installing a new ceiling on the fire hall in the village. Beach said he'd received a bid of $769 for the job from Hoffman Electric Co.

Walled Lake Slates Annexation Hearing; Affidavits Are Filed

WALLED LAKE — A public hearing on the proposed annexation of portions of Commerce Township and Wolverine Lake Village to the city of Walled Lake is tentatively set for Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. at the Walled Lake Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

Then the boundaries commission of the County Board of Supervisors will probably recommend a vote for Jan. 15, said Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey.

The City Council heard at its meeting last night that 85 required affidavits have been filed with the county clerk, and the boundaries commission.

The affidavits are to assure that the 85 residents are freeholders and registered voters.

★ ★ ★

The three areas in Commerce Township and the three in Wolverine Lake seeking annexation to Walled Lake run from 14 Mile east of the city limits to Haggerty, north to Oakley Park Road, west to Beck and south to Pontiac Trail.

TO TRIPLE SIZE

If annexation is enacted, Walled Lake would more than triple in size.

"If the election were held tomorrow, annexation would be approved," claimed Downey. Eligible voters include persons in the city and in the areas seeking annexation to the city.

A simple majority of Walled Lake and a simple majority of the areas which petitioned for annexation are required, said Downey.

★ ★ ★

The city manager explained that the six areas seeking annexation want to be a part of the rapid growth of Walled Lake.

CITY BENEFITS

The areas want the benefits of the city's zoning laws, police and fire protection, and the industrial development which keeps taxes lower for one-family homeowners, Downey continued.

"Walled Lake wants these areas in to protect city property values," he explained. The city can provide such services as sewer and water better if the areas are within the city.

"We probably would not provide the services to these areas otherwise," he said.

★ ★ ★

The manager explained that a problem like water pollution could not be handled well if areas near but outside of the city were not also taking measures to prevent pollution.

AREA NEWS

Novi to Continue Hearing on Roads

NOVI — The special assessment hearing on the seal-coating of roads in the three Novi Heights subdivisions and some nearby parcels will be continued Oct. 2.

The first public hearing began at the council meeting last night. It is being continued because the estimated cost of $14,525 or $1.11 per front foot was higher than property owners had expected, said Village Manager Harold Ackley.

The 7,200 feet of roads to be seal-coated are now gravel.

Also at the meeting, the council instructed Attorney Howard Bond to prepare an ordinance requiring a permit to enclose ditches in the front of houses. The ordinance will assure that the proper size of pipe is used, explained Ackley.

The council also heard that the decision on the village's right to incorporate as a home rule city is due Sept. 18. Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer heard the case Aug. 15.

Building Report Given

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The building department reports permits worth $266,196 were taken out during the month of August.

New buildings under construction include eight houses, 11 garages, three swimming pools, a barn, a commercial addition and a service building. Sixteen additions and remodeling to existing structures were contemplated.

WOOL SPINNERS — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cramer and daughter Sue Ann, 13, of Rochester start with the sheep when they turn out fabrics from their basement workshop. Some of their work will be on display at the Rochester Art 'n' Apples exhibit Sept. 14-17 in Rochester.

Hobby Is Spinning, Weaving Wool

Family to Display Handicraft at Festival

ROCHESTER — The Glenn Cramers of 322 Maywood wear clothes that come "right off the sheep's back."

It is doubtful that any sheep would recognize them, however.

Devoted for the past 10 years to a hobby of wool spinning and weaving, the Cramers will be displaying some of their handiwork at the Art 'n' Apples Festival Sept. 14-17 in Rochester.

Spinning and weaving is a family project that fills the basement of the Cramer's home with an assortment of spinning wheels, looms and fabrics.

Intrigued by a memory of going with his mother to have rags woven into rugs, Cramer, a highway construction foreman, some 10 years ago at age 50 launched his family into the craft.

PRIMITIVE WEAVING

The have progressed "backwards" in the reviving art to the point that this summer they learned primitive weaving as the Indians did it while at a Michigan League of Handweavers workshop in Waldon Woods.

The Cramers talk about "harnesses" as they display their collection of looms capable of turning out fabrics from the finest damask to primitive wall hangings.

Harnesses they explain, are the controls by which different weaving patterns can be plotted.

★ ★ ★

While most weavers and the Cramers do a majority of their work on a four-harness loom, the Rochester couple has one of 10-harness category.

ASSORTED ATTIRE

From their looms have come the material for a topcoat for Cramer, suits and dresses for Mrs. Cramer and 13-year-old Sue Ann, and assorted drapery fabric which has been used by an interior designer friend in her trade.

The process begins with a search for fleeces. Cramer hand-washes the wool. It's pulled and carded and then finds its way to one of the family's three spinning wheels where the yarn takes shape.

A dyeing process can be accomplished either while the wool is in its fleece form or after the yarn has been spun, Cramer reported.

★ ★ ★

Having obtained the color and the quantity necessary, the Cramers then set about plotting the weaving pattern and fitting the loom.

LEAST WORK

"The actual weaving is perhaps the least part of the work," according to Mrs. Cramer, who for several years was a secretary at Rochester's Board of Education offices.

The Cramers have also experimented with Angora rabbit fur and dog hair.

Cramer presently has an electric spool knitter in operation to produce rug fabrics.

★ ★ ★

"That's my Erector set motor, he's using," said Sue Ann who has been weaving from such an early age that she finds it difficult to remember when she started.

FINAL JOB

The final job is up to Mrs. Cramer, a seamstress since she was 7 who tailors the fabrics into clothes for the family.

★ ★ ★

"We don't know whether we'll ever get to the point that the business will be profitable, but we would like to make it a retirement income project," said Cramer.

Troy Public Library Begins First Day in New Building

TROY — The Troy Public Library began its first day of operation yesterday in a new glass-front building.

The move from the old rented quarters at Square Lake and Livernois to the new site at Long Lake and Rochester roads was made over the Labor Day weekend by the staff and volunteers.

"It was pretty hectic," said Library Clerk Mrs. Clyde Kohl, "but we should be completely set up by the end of the week."

The new building doubles the floor space of the old to 2,400 square feet with comparatively little increase in rent. Rent is $250 for the first year with an increase to $300 next year — the old library was rented for $220 a month.

★ ★ ★

This week's move came on the heels of the defeat by voters of a $500,000 bonding proposal to finance a city-owned building. City officials hope to reactivate the issue in the future. The proposed library would be located at the Civic Center site at Big Beaver and I-75.

WINTER HOURS

Mrs. Kohl explained that the winter hours were now in effect — 2-8 p.m. Monday-Thursday; 2-6 p.m. Friday; and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturday.

She added that no fines would be collected for books that were due this week.

Improvement to Road Is Begun in Highland

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Watkins Boulevard from Milford Road west to Milford High School is undergoing grading, drainage and bituminous surfacing.

Local traffic will still be able to use the three-tenths mile stretch, reports the County Road Commission.

The project, which the Charles W. Anderson Co., Waterford Township began Aug. 28, is scheduled for completion Nov. 1.

Huron Valley School District is picking up the total tab of $26,581.

STORE-FRONT LIBRARY — The last of the Troy library's books are taken into its new building at Long Lake and Rochester roads by summer volunteer Elaine Marko, 14, of Clawson. The library began its first day of operation in the larger quarters yesterday.

State Treasury Gets Loan Okay

LANSING (AP) — The Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved the borrowing of $60 million by the state to serve as a cash cushion to make up for a drain on the State Trasury.

The commission also approved $15.7 million in general obligation bond applications for the city of Detroit.

The $60 million is the first part of $100 million which State Treasurer Allison Green says is needed to meet demands on the treasury, mainly from school aid.

Green told the State Administrative Board yesterday that an estimated $90 million is needed for school aid every two months.

★ ★ ★

As of Aug. 31, Green said, the treasury had $157.7 million in cash on hand. However, the balance is expected to dwindle toward the first of the year until receipts from the new state income tax begin coming in.

The Detroit bond applications included $5.9 million for buildings and improvements; $2.5 million for extensions and additions to the sewer system; $2.4 million for continuance of a west side industrial rehabilitation project; and $1.2 million for streets.

Clarkston Schools Start as Pact OK'd

CLARKSTON — School was to start today with a completely new contract between the Clarkston Education Association and the board of education.

Teachers yesterday ratified a master contract earlier approved by the board which met in special session Monday for that purpose.

The contract provides for pay increases of up to $1,400 at the top of the master's degree pay scale. A beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree was granted a raise from $5,000 to $6,500.

Teachers also received further benefits towards hospitalization insurance payments and a paid-up liability insurance policy of not less than $100,000.

★ ★ ★

In the Clarkston district, all contracts with employes, with the exception of the general custodial staff, have been approved.

Dr. Leslie Greene, superintendent of schools, said such a contract is currently being prepared.

Michigan Bell Plans $1.2-Million Expansion Project for Farmington

FARMINGTON — Within a year, Farmington telephone users should have improved service through the $1.2-million expansion project by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

★ ★ ★

Added local and long-distance switching equipment will be housed in a planned 8,000-square-foot, two-story addition to the present central office at 32331 Grand River.

Construction, under contract with the F. H. Martin Construction Co., Detroit, is expected to be completed next June, said a Michigan Bell manager, Robert L. Kilpatrick.

After that, installation of central office equipment will take several months, Kilpatrick added.

★ ★

The project is in response to the city's present and future growth, the manager said. It is part of Michigan Bell's statewide construction program calling for an outlay of about $190 million this year.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Residents along the western end of Pontiac Lake are invited to a meeting Sunday at 2 p.m. at 2671 Tackles.

Object of the meeting is to duscuss a weed-killing program for the lake.

WALTER REUTHER

Fiery UAW Leader Facing Toughest Task in 3 Years

By United Press International

Today Walter P. Reuther fights with the rhetoric of a politician—with a force of 674,800 men backing every word — to get his way.

* * *

Forty years ago the same Walter P. Reuther used his fists to get where he is today.

The fiery United Auto Workers union president faces his toughest task in three years this week in negotiations with the Ford Motor Co.

It's a fight that can only be won with words — and Reuther always seems to have the right ones.

* * *

At midnight, the current contract between the "Big Three" auto makers and Reuther's powerful union expires.

STRIKE TARGET

Reuther has selected Ford as the union's strike target this year and only the closing seconds of negotiations will tell if the nation's second largest automaker will be struck this year.

Reuther has never liked strikes. But since the days of his youth in Wheeling, W. Va., he has been a strong fighter. Then it took fists.

As a young union leader, Reuther won battle after battle by resorting to pugilism. Now the red-haired labor leader wins the same type fights with words and the power behind them.

* * *

That power comes from the strength of the UAW's 674,800 members employed by the "Big Four" car makers. And, for the most part, the members stand behind every word Reuther utters.

HEADING FOR STRIKE

This year most of those words seem to point to one thing — strike.

Reuther has already called for an increase in the union's $67-million strike fund, which would be used to finance a bargaining technique far more devastating than what fists could cause.

The result will tell whether the 152,000 UAW workers at Ford go on strike.

* * *

Reuther has said over and over in recent weeks that there will be a strike unless Ford bows to his demands for one of the largest contracts ever sought by a labor union.

TOP PRIORITIES

Reuther wants a guaranteed annual income, better pensions, profit sharing and a long list of smaller demands that he considers important.

As a youngster in labor circles Reuther said he didn't approve of strikes. But he maintains that they are the only way to combat the powerful, rich auto companies.

In the UAW's early wars with the industry, the ex-tool and die maker from Wheeling fought with his fists to get his way. But after the union won a beachhead, he started making his points with facts, figures and logic.

* * *

In a nationwide poll of newspaper and radio editors nearly 20 years ago, 90 per cent of the hundreds of lists submitted listed Reuther as one of the nation's most powerful men.

GREW WITH UNIONS

Since then unions have grown, and Reuther has grown with them.

As a young leader, Reuther set his sights on changing the essence of the free enterprise system and not merely wage adjustments.

He believed the American working man must be allowed ultimately to vote with industry on economic matters that determine his livelihood.

* * *

Reuther received his training early. Born 60 years ago last week, the son of a militant trade unionist, he grew up in the labor movement.

AN EVANGELIST

His father was so enthusiastic an evangelist for the labor movement that he demanded Reuther learn its tenets if nothing else.

As an organizer for Local 174 in Detroit, Reuther boosted the membership from 72 to 30,000 in a single year. He was elected to the union's executive board.

He took part in the famous sit-down strikes at General Motors in 1937 and became the UAW's director of the GM department in 1939.

He was elected vice president in 1942 and president in 1946.

MANY VICTORIES

Since becoming president, Reuther has won battle after battle for his workers.

Many workes, who recall the tough times 30 years ago, look to Reuther as the man who made dirty, noisy factories decent places to work.

South Vietnamese Take to the Polls

Democracy came to South Vietnam Sunday as that embattled country held its first free presidential election.

With the voting tabulation virtually complete, some 4.75 million South Vietnamese (83 per cent of the electorate) turned out to vote the military team of NGUYEN VAN THIEU and NGUYEN COA KY into the offices of president and vice president respectively. (A sad commentary indeed on the voting interest of Americans who, after nearly two centuries of democracy, can boast of little more than a 60 per cent participation in presidential elections.)

★ ★ ★

The pair garnered about a third of the total vote, short of the 50 per cent anticipated, as 10 civilian candidates, led by ardent peace advocate Truong Dinh Dzu, split the remainder.

Although the Vietcong and communist elements launched a terrorist campaign that killed more than 200 persons a week before the election, four out of five voters cast ballots for the presidential ticket and candidates for the 60-seat Senate.

Under the constitution adopted a year ago, an election for House of Representatives will be held next month, thus completing the government that will hold office for four years.

★ ★ ★

Despite protests of voting irregularities by defeated candidates, the consensus of 120 observers representing 24 foreign countries (the U.S. contingent numbered 22) was that the election was as fairly conducted as those generally and that the South Vietnamese indicated a surprising degree of interest in democratic self government.

All in all, the election afforded gratification to proponents of democracy in Southeast Asia while giving concrete support to our involvement in South Vietnam.

Few Lament Loss of U.S. Fascist Leader

It was probably appropriate that GEORGE LINCOLN ROCKWELL in death should have been exploited by the same pathetically despicable fanaticism he preached in life.

America's would-be Fuehrer has finally been cremated by his handful of crank followers. Mindful of the Latin proverb, since we can speak very little good about this particular deceased, we will say nothing more than that the sooner this unfortunate man's memory joins his ashes in permanent rest, the better.

★ ★ ★

ROCKWELL's death was "a great loss," said his heir apparent. "He cannot be replaced."

All Americans sincerely hope he's right.

Fast Travel Draws World's Peoples Closer

In these days of increasing inflation and soaring costs, commodities and services that have chalked up price declines are rare indeed.

If you were asked to name a price that had dropped nearly 40 per cent in 20 years, it is likely that you would snort that there is no such animal. But you would be wrong. The pioneer overseas airline, which recently completed its 10,000th round-the-world flight, charges 38 per cent less today than when it was initiated in 1947.

★ ★ ★

It is cheering to note that while the world generally has been living in a period of strife and war — hot and cold — certain fundamental shifts in international relationships have been taking place that augur well for the future.

Much has been heard of people-to-people programs of government and industries. These programs have been sponsored and encouraged in the hope of developing commercial ties and understanding between nations.

Such efforts would have been mere gestures a few years ago, but jet aircraft has made the concept a vital reality. It is the 575-mile-an-hour jet's speed, for example, that today enables leaders of governments to be in cabinet meetings more than 6,000 miles from New York one day, then appear the next day before the United Nations to participate in diplomatic debate aimed at maintaining world peace.

★ ★ ★

If the cataclysm of war can be staved off a few more years, the jet airplane may well become one of the mightiest practical implements of peace that has so far been developed. In time, it may shrink the world to a community of nations that will make armed conflict an anachronism of the Stone Age.

Criticizing Boss OK for Joint Chiefs

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON — The man who challenges his boss firmly and openly over the way the office is being run takes the risk of getting fired.

Yet the Joint Chiefs of Staff can speak out against their legally established superiors' policy over the limited bombing of North Vietnam with little fear anybody will get a pink slip.

How so?

The key is the forum the generals and admirals use in order to be blunt, even critical, about national policy.

In the case of the air war, the chiefs' platform was the Senate defense preparedness subcommittee which has been examining civilian limitations on the bombing.

★ ★ ★

The chiefs' testimony in closed session led Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., to conclude "a clear and direct conflict" existed between them and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

GOOD CLUES

While little is known about what was said in secret, the chiefs' public statements offer good clues as to the tenor.

On the surface, Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, was the most outspoken. He stated, in effect, that the bombing has been worth an additional 800,000 U.S. troops and $75 billion in additional spending for Southeast Asia.

Conflict: McNamara has said repeatedly there is no way to accurately assess the value of the bombing although he acknowledges it has hurt the enemy and should continue.

★ ★ ★

Gen. Harold K. Johnson, the soft-spoken Army chief of staff, emerged from a subcommittee session to say — in answer to questions — that he told the senators the military considers Haiphong Port a valuable facility for the North Vietnamese and feel it should be bombed.

PORT OF CONVENIENCE

Conflict: McNamara maintains the North Vietnamese use the port primarily as a matter of convenience and that knocking it out would not halt seaborne imports of war supplies.

Admiral U. S. Grant Sharp, Pacific commander in chief, said pressure should be increased — "the best way to persuade the ruling element in North Vietnam to stop the aggression is . . . to make the consequences of not stopping readily and painfully apparent."

Conflict: McNamara says he sees no evidence "that would lead me to believe that a less selective bombing campaign would change the resolve of North Vietnam's leaders."

★ ★ ★

How can such seemingly upstart performances be tolerated by a firm-handed defense chief and a President often depicted as sensitive to criticism?

AREN'T NEW

First, the disagreements are not as deep and dramatic as might appear — and furthermore they aren't new.

Second, the chiefs have been making their case for broadened bombing in accepted, semiofficial fashion.

★ ★ ★

It is considered quite proper for the chiefs to air their disputes with McNamara — the President's man in charge of the military — in either of two ways: Going before the Chief Executive himself or by responding to congressional probing.

David Lawrence Says:

Romney Pulls a Political Boner

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — When the American people get ready to vote in the next presidential election, they will ask themselves whether the candidate opposing President Johnson is a man of maturity, experience, judgment and knowledge not only of domestic affairs but of the intricacies of world problems.

If the Republican nominee is deficient in these respects, many voters — much as they may dislike to do so — will vote again for President Johnson.

Gov. George Romney, in his latest statement discussing the Vietnam problem made a political mistake as he said:

"When I came back from Vietnam, I just had the greatest brainwashing that anybody can get when you go over to Vietnam. Not only by the generals, but also by the diplomatic corps over there, and they do a very thorough job; and, since returning from Vietnam, I've gone into the history of Vietnam, all the way back into World War II and before that . . . .

"And, as a result, I have changed my mind, in that particularly I no longer believe that it was necessary for us to get involved in South Vietnam to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia and to prevent Chinese Communist domination of Southeast Asia."

★ ★ ★

Maybe if the Michigan governor had been a member of the Cabinet or vice president — with access to all confidential information from abroad — and if he had had some intimate experience with the vicissitudes of international life as they change from day to day, he might be able now to see more objectively the circumstances surrounding America's involvement in Vietnam.

EASY TO CRITICIZE

Hindsight is, of course, supposed to be better than foresight. It is easy to criticize Presidents Kennedy and Johnson for what they did in the Vietnam situation and to argue that some other course would have been better.

Certainly it is tragic that the United States had to become engaged in the Vietnam War. But the same might equally be said about the Korean War and World War II and World War I.

Blame cannot be placed on any individual who happened to be president of the United States during these world crises. A decision had to be made on the basis of the facts available at the time.

★ ★ ★

Communist plotting and intrigue and military threats to world peace are not things that can be penetratingly studied merely by reading history books.

ENOUGH BACKGROUND?

Would Gov. Romney be a president with enough background to deal with an international problem like that in Vietnam? This is the question which his statements pose to many people today.

★ ★ ★

Certainly before the Republican National Convention next year he will have to clarify his viewpoint and reveal just what steps he would have taken had he been identified with the party in power in a prominent position during the last six or seven years.

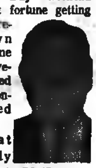
Bob Considine Says:

World's Best Beaches Unused on Labor Day



CONSIDINE

SAIGON — Americans this past Labor Day weekend spent a vast fortune getting to beach resorts known for their fine sand, relatively unpolluted water and nonguaranteed sunshine.

But what are probably the greatest beaches in the world were all but empty — the beaches of Vietnam. Nothing along our coastlines can touch them.

Sydney's magnificent Botany Bay would be lost among them. The beach of Waikiki is a bucket of sand compared to almost any Vietnamer's beach.

Rio's Copacabana Beach would go unnoticed if transported here. As for the beaches along the French Riviera, well, the Vietnamese would reject them.

★ ★ ★

The unused strands of golden sand reach from just above Saigon up the coast — with scant interruption — and on into North Vietnam, there are hundreds of miles of them touching the cooling blue-green water of the South China Sea. They are a mile deep in sections. The lush green hills rise as a splendid backdrop.

SECURED AREAS USED

But about the only use made of them this Labor Day was around Cam Ranh Bay, the most secure station in this war-riddled land.

The men who man this base's deep-water port, fly F4s off its two 10,000-foot strips, and give muscle to its Army section, swear by them as the greatest.

There was a bit of swimming on the beaches at Quang Ngai, where we're strong, and Da Nang, where we're stronger. But endless other miles of magnificent beaches sat there like gorgeous travel posters, untouched by a human footprint.

★ ★ ★

The mines, you know.

It has become a cliche among the Americans to say that one of these days there's bound to be a Nha Trang Hilton, a Sheraton Chu Lai, and intercontinental whatnot.

But right now it can be irreverently said that this is one hell of a paradise.

'Parents Are Responsible for Behavior of Youths'

Where were the parents of the 10- and 12-year-old boys who wrecked the grocery store for kicks? Why didn't they have these kids in the house after 9 p.m.?

★ ★ ★

You can bet these boys didn't go to Sunday School or church, and parents can't love their kids if they let them run all over. Why not publish the names of these children and make the parents pay for the damage?

★ ★ ★

There would be less of this destruction if the parents took the responsibility of raising good little boys. There is a lack of love and respect in these homes, but there are eight million babies born every year who are not wanted.

More Comments on Supreme Court Rulings

What can be done to stop these ridiculous Supreme Court "prayer rulings?" I'm surprised the Court hasn't tried to make promoting and advertising the celebration of Thanksgiving and Christmas Day illegal in public buildings (other than schools), or banned the phrase "in God we trust" from our currency and coins. Don't they consider these as having "religious overtones?" Aren't they afraid that those dissenters and skeptics of religious beliefs might be offended by having a holiday from work or school because it was established on a religious basis?

J. PRESTON

What is our nation coming to when a five-year-old child cannot be thankful for a beautiful flower or a bird that sings. Those who condemn this poem would condemn the youth of today. How can we expect youth to be moral, law-abiding, grateful citizens when they aren't taught or allowed to be thankful for the most precious gifts—the gifts He has shared with us. The Supreme Court is the law of the land and all of us must obey. What about God's laws of the land? Aren't we commanded to obey them? Are we still one nation under God? If so, why can't we acknowledge Him?

MRS. EDWARD GIROUX
5235 SASHABAW, CLARKSTON

Regarding a child's kindergarten prayer being forbidden, our Supreme Court justices are victims of the international Communist conspiracy to destroy belief in God and cause the backsliding of our nation. Perhaps they do not realize what they are doing in their blindness, so our prayer as Christians is "Father forgive them and restore or awaken them to the basic belief of our national motto 'in God we trust'."

We want to pass on to our children a faith to sustain them and their children from generation to generation. It is the abundant life, our Christian concept of religion, which brings moral strength and true joy in living. We should all bow in humble gratitude to God for His power of redemption and His wise plan of salvation.

Question and Answer

What is that antenna they're putting up on top of Bell Telephone building?

JUST CURIOUS

REPLY

It is a micro-wave tower to be used to supplement transmission of long distance telephone calls. It is a wireless communication, as opposed to cable communication. Bell is also installing additional cable facilities. Both these measures are being taken to improve telephone service.

Field Day

Montreal Star

Students of the "Word" will have a field day. Everyone knows what Gen. de Gaulle said; we doubt if many, including the general, knew what he meant. "Vive le Quebec libre" was an unhappy choice of words in the circumstances, even if their meaning on this occasion is buried deep in the de Gaulle subconscious. But euphoria does strange things to men, and the general is no exception.

★ ★ ★

What do the high blown phrases mean? The "French in Canada" must become their own masters. France will give "brotherly support" to Quebec's efforts. The "mother country" has a responsibility for the continued progress of the province. All this is a two-way street, however. French Canadians also have a duty to reciprocate. They in turn must help the "mother country."

★ ★ ★

For our part they sound like emotionally charged reactions to an emotionally charged occasion, the words of one Frenchman with a great historic sense to members of the French community on a great historic occasion; a refurbishing, if you like, of old bonds to new needs, both French and French Canadian.

In this context they can be read as responses, not exhortations. The separatists, overt and covert, will draw different meanings, of course. The general is on their side. He will help. But how?

★ ★ ★

In practical terms, money and the like, the general is a cautious man. Alberta oil has proved a more attractive investment than blood relationship.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless he has a duty to clarify his thoughts. Canada welcomed him as a great leader. Canada expects a responsible performance.

New Meanings

Hillsdale Daily News

One of the compensations for maturity is the mild amusement that comes with watching the changes that take place in the language.

Words that were good enough a generation ago have a habit of being replaced by others deemed more suitable.

The new words may not always do much in the interests of clarity, but they tell a lot about the changing sensibilities of society, or certain members thereof.

★ ★ ★

Thus the word "undertaker" has evolved through "mortician" and "funeral director" all the way to "bereavement counselor." And the Good Book notwithstanding, the "poor" we no longer have with us, only the "underprivileged."

★ ★ ★

One of the latest examples has been concocted by some automobile dealers. They no longer sell "used cars"; they handle "pre-owned" vehicles.

Rat Proposal Is Delaying Health Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's controversial proposal for a new federal rat extermination program, rejected once by the House, now threatens to delay indefinitely a $1-billion health aid bill.

Two congressmen plan to add the rat measure to the health bill, but the administration, opposing this, wants to set up the new rat program in the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

★ ★ ★

The rat bill, which would have authorized HUD to spend $40 million over two years, was turned down 207 to 176 in July when the Democratic leadership sought to bring it up for House debate. Most Republicans and Southern Democrats opposed it.

A major objection was that it would be wasteful to start a new program when the funds could be put into one of the government's existing programs.

BACKED ATTEMPT

This argument was made by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., a liberal and usually a strong administration supporter, in views filed with the banking committee's report on the measure. However, after debate last July on whether to even take up the bill became heated and partisan, Reuss backed the Democratic leadership's attempt to bring it to the floor.

Republicans, eager to explain to their constituents why they opposed the rat bill in the wake of critical editorial comment about their actions, quickly took to quoting Reuss on the waste issue. For example, Rep. Richard L. Roudebush, a conservative Indiana Republican, cited existing programs in HUD, the Department of the Interior and the Office of Economic Opportunity and said Reuss, "a liberal who has the respect of all congressmen, made the point most effectively against the LBJ proposal."

★ ★ ★

Two weeks ago, Reuss and Rep. Charles Mathias of Maryland, a liberal Republican who supported the rat bill in July, announced they would seek to add $20 million for rat extermination to the authorization for development of health services when the so-called "Partnership for Health" measure is considered in the House.

This bill, an expansion of an existing program which gives block grants to the states for health programs, would authorize the spending of an additional $950 million through fiscal 1971 plus some $157 million previously authorized for this year.

ADDED TO BILL

Despite the large amount of money, it is a relatively uncontroversial bill, except for $58-million emergency aid program for overcrowded hospitals which commerce committee Democrats added to the bill over Republican objections.

The Reuss-Mathias proposal would undoubtedly get strong bipartisan support; several Republicans who opposed the separate rat bill have made it clear they would back such an amendment.

★ ★ ★

But the administration insists the proper place for a major campaign against rats is in HUD because rats are primarily an urban problem. It points out that existing programs are either advisory, such as the one in Interior, or limited, such as one antipoverty grant to fight rats in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

A Senate banking subcommittee has already included the rat bill in a comprehensive housing measure, and the administration hopes to bring it up this way in the House, too. Meanwhile the administration is holding up the health bill.

The White House was the first public building to be erected in the nation's capital with the cornerstone being laid in 1792.

STUDENT HOUSING—Since 1962, Eastern Michigan University has completed student housing projects totaling $13 million. Another $34 million has been earmarked for residence halls and married housing apartments to be built in the next five years. The construction timetable for classrooms and academic buildings is even more ambitious.

Five-Year Growth Reported

EMU Gaining on 'Big Three'

YPSILANTI (AP)—Big Three, look out. Here comes Eastern Michigan University.

A sleepy little teacher training college not so long ago, EMU is now the fastest growing four-year institution in the state.

Some 14,700 students are expected this fall as the University races to catch up with Michigan's three largest universities — Michigan State, Wayne State and the University of Michigan.

It didn't happen overnight, but almost.

★ ★ ★

Five years ago, 5,902 students attended EMU. This fall's enrollment is a 140 per cent increase.

Admissions officials are preparing for 26,000 by 1973.

Enrollment figures are not the only things that are growing — old grads wouldn't recognize the place.

The size of the campus has almost doubled — from 200 to 382 acres— with recent land purchases to the northwest of the original campus.

And major construction projects have changed the face of what was known in the past as the Normal School of Michigan State Normal College and Eastern Michigan College.

Since 1962, student housing projects totaling $13 million have gone up. In the next five years residence halls and married housing apartments totaling $34 million are planned.

The construction timetable for classroom and academic buildings is even more ambitious.

Between 1962 and 1967, the budget for building in that category was $8.4 million. For the next five years it is $37 million.

One of the first things you notice if you hadn't visited the campus recently is the university's new $2.7-million ultramodern library located at the center of the educational complex.

President Harold E. Sponberg, who has headed the university since the fall of 1965, calls it "the most important building we've built."

The library has a student capacity of 1,880 and shelves for 360,000 volumes. That is four times the student capacity and twice the volume capacity of the old Mark Jefferson Library which is being remodeled for classrooms.

Behind the library, a seven-story classroom building is under construction. The $7.9-million, 75-classroom structure will be the largest classroom building on the campus and in the state.

A $6.95-million science classroom building is scheduled to be started this year.

Dabbler Wins for Abstract Art

First Attempt Called Best of Kind in 1967

LONDON (AP) — A housewife who admits she knows nothing about abstract art today won an award for the best abstract painting of 1967.

After being congratulated by Mrs. Harold Wilson, wife of the British prime minister, Brenda Jeanes said in an interview:

"I've dabbled with paints, but I can honestly say this is the first time I ever tried to do an abstract."

★ ★ ★

What was her technique?

"Well," she laughed, "I started in the upper left-hand corner and just painted down and across."

Why?

DOESN'T SMUDGE

"Because that way the paint doesn't smudge."

Her winning award was called "Road of Infinity," and of its message, Mrs. Jeanes, the mother of a 15-year-old daughter, said:

"It's intended to depict life from the fetus to infinity, and the struggle for the first breath of life. The section of rectangles indicate the cut-and-dried life one might hope to live, passing on to life's trials which are a reality.

Reagan Plans 5-State Tour

Decision Touches Off New '68 Speculation

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan touched of a new wave of presidential speculation today by unveiling plans for a five-state speech-making tour next month.

★ ★

The Republican governor said he was making the tour — to Kentucky, Iowa, Kansas, Texas and Illinois — with some reluctance.

He acknowlged that the new round of speeches, primarily at GOP fund-raising events, would raise further questions about his presidential aspirations.

"This might be," he told a news conference yesterday, "and for some time I almost became neither a hawk nor a dove but a chicken in this, and didn't want to face the speculation and said 'Let's not do it."

★ ★ ★

But he said he was urged to increase his speechmaking activities by U.S. Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., and Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., chairman of the Senate and House campaign committees.

GOP Legislators Air Special Session

MACKINAC ISLAND (UPI)—Majority Republicans in the Michigan Senate today began a two-day huddle to get their signals straight for the special session Gov. George Romney has said he'll call for Oct. 10.

Court reorganization, more funds to meet state pay raises, increased taxes on cigarettes, gasoline and license plates, additional money for the State Civil Rights Commission, and a fistfull of minor items are expected to be on the agenda for that session, and that is what the senators are meeting to discuss.

They will also hash over whether to ask Romney to include legislation to combat strikes by public employes on his list of things for lawmakers to do this fall.

Eighteen of the 20 GOP senators were expected to take part in what had been planned earlier in the year as a "social get-together" but which has ballooned into a working meeting.

★ ★ ★

None of the House Republicans, who hold the other half of Romney's slim legislative majority, was invited.

MEETING IMPOSSIBLE

"It would have been just impossible to arrange a meeting with the House up here," said Sen. Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, the majority floor leader. "And we feel it's good to get away."

House and Senate Republican leaders did meet jointly on the island with Romney two weeks ago, however, and Vander Laan said he planned to meet with House Majority Floor Leader William P. Hampton, R-Birmingham, next week to iron out final details for the three-week session.

Vander Laan said the meeting would touch on internal "housekeeping" business, but would dwell primarily on Romney's key reasons for calling the special session: Court reorganization and increased highway taxes.

Court reorganization under the constitution must be accomplished before Jan. 1, 1968—and Romney and his legislative leaders want to get it done soon enough to meet election deadlines next year when new judges will be picked.

Firebirds Have New Tire

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — B.F. Goodrich Co. said Tuesday that the foldable spare tire it introduced last year will be standard equipment on all 1968 Firebird sports car models.

★ ★ ★

The space saver tire, which folds up on its wheel when stored and is inflated with a can of compressed gas adds about three cubic feet of storage space in the average car trunk, Goodrich said.

P.W. Perdrau, president of Goodrich's tire division, said the space saver will be offered as optional equipment on all other 1968 Pontiac models, as well as on all new models of Ford Mustang, Mercury Cougar, Chevrolet Camaro and Chevelle.

Pollen Counts at Peak Now (Sniff Sniff)

DETROIT (AP) — Handkerchiefs ready, hay fever sufferers?

It's the peak part of the year for pollen counts.

★ ★ ★

Experts say the hay fever season usually begins in mid-August when ragweed plants begin to discharge billions of pollen grains into the air.

★ ★ ★

The problem reaches a peak around Labor Day and tapers off until the plants are killed by the first frost.

'NOSE COUNT'

But Dr. Edward Crippen, director of medical services for the Detroit Health Department, says pollen counts don't tell the whole story.

★ ★ ★

"When I was doing pollen counts in Mackinaw City, where a lot of people went to escape the pollen, I could tell how bad it was before I ever made the count," he said.

★ ★ ★

"I just watched how many people were sniffling while I walked to my office in the morning."

Junior Editors Quiz on BROWN SUGAR

QUESTION: How is brown sugar made?

* * *

ANSWER: Most of the sugar we eat comes from either sugar cane or sugar beets. These materials are cleaned. Sugar cane is crushed and sugar beets are soaked to remove the juice.

This juice is heated and passed through various filters, which can control the color and size of the crystals in the finished product. The juice is evaporated to a mixture of crystals and heavy syrup.

This is then introduced into a centrifuge, a machine which can spin the mixture very rapidly. The centrifugal force, working outwards, spins off the sirupy molasses, which drains out through an outer pipe, but the crystals fall down through the center.

Since the molasses gives the color, the sugar crystals come out lighter. After spinning several times, these crystals can be made pure white, which is our familiar white sugar. To produce brown sugar, special filters are used which result in crystals of smaller size and not all the syrup is spun off, which gives a special and pleasing taste to brown sugar.

All sugar tastes good, but people tend to split into those who like the white or brown better.

Employer Social Security Share Mulled

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chances are most workers know their Social Security tax is withheld. The tax makes a noticeable dent in the pay check — and the family budget.

But what about the matching tax paid by employers—and its effects? Is it passed on to the consumers in the cost of goods? Does it affect management decisions about hiring, or buying machinery that could substitute for men? Is it approaching a limit beyond which it cannot be raised without damaging the economy?

* * *

No one seems to know for sure, conclude specialists who reported to the Senate-House Economic Committee on Social Security and a variety of other Federal Programs for the Development of Human Resources."

The information in the report was compiled last year, after the inauguration of medicare had caused an increase in the payroll tax. The subject is again very much alive, now that the House has passed and a Senate committee is considering Social Security benefit increases that would again raise the tax on employers and employes—a maximum of $44 each next year, more later.

'NO CLEAR CONSENSUS'

"No clear consensus has emerged as to the effect of the employer portion of the payroll tax," the committee study said. "This constitutes a nearly universal cost of doing business in the United States. It might therefore be considered an encouragement to employers to introduce labor-saving machinery but there is little tangible evidence that the tax has had this effect."

The compilers noted some producers may be able to pass the tax along in prices, and therefore have not had to come to grips with its effect.

It presumably will be more difficult to pass on the tax as it increases. Even if the new Social Security bill were not to pass, the tax—now 4.4 per cent each on employers and employes—would increase by stages to 5.65 per cent in 1967. This is on a wage base of $6,600. The House-passed bill would increase the tax ultimately to 5.9 per cent on a base of $7,600.

For years, a theory was prevalent among some high Social Security officials that a payroll tax might become a dangerous economic drag if it exceeded 5 per cent each on employers and employes.

But Congress, when it provided for financing of medicare, set up a tax-increase schedule that would pierce that ceiling by 1973. Under the new Social Security bill, the breakthrough would come in 1971, with a rate of 5.2 per cent.

* * *

So far the Social Security program, now including basic medicare, has been financed from the payroll tax, with only minor contributions of general funds to take care of special cases. The existing system and the extensions now proposed are said officially to be actuarially in balance with the present and proposed taxes.

* * *

Still, there have been some who contended all along that, sooner or later, financing of Social Security would have to include funds from the general treasury, a proposal strongly resisted by Congress' tax-writing committees. The next round of Social Security increases—which can be expected in a few years if living costs continue upward—likely will find this argument pressed more strongly.

Comptroller General Hits Needless Diamond Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a complicated trade to acquire $24 million of uranium it didn't need, the U.S. government swapped surplus foods for $27 million worth of industrial diamonds it didn't need either, the comptroller general has told Congress.

In a report on the dealing, Elmer B. Staats disagreed with the claim of executive-branch agencies that the transactions helped ease the dollar drain. He argued it had the opposite effect.

* * *

Figuring in varying degrees in the arrangements in late 1965 were the balance-of-payments issue, foreign policy, the national stockpile of strategic materials, agricultural surpluses, South African uranium, diamond smuggling in the Congo, the Atomic Energy Commission, and the Agriculture, State, Treasury, Justice and Defense departments.

"Just a simple business deal," a spokesman for the comptroller general commented Tuesday in providing additional details.

DOLLAR DRAIN

It began when the government, concerned about the dollar drain stemming from a long-term contract to purchase uranium from South Africa, decided to shift to a barter arrangement.

In such transactions, a government agency purchases surplus foods from the Commodity Credit Corporation. Private contractors sell the foods abroad. The foreign exchange realized is then used to finance U.S. purchases without spending of dollars, thus easing the drain on U.S. gold supplies.

* * *

The United States agreed in 1953 to purchase the uranium when it was short of that material. By 1962, it had developed reserves and "no longer needed uranium being produced abroad," the comptroller general said.

But the purchase contract was still enforced.

After extended discussions, including revisions to meet Justice Department complaints about a lack of competition on bidding, a package plan was arranged.

Eight contractors would take over enough surplus food to raise foreign exchange for $30.7 million worth of Defense Department needs in Europe, $24.7 million worth of uranium and $27.7 million in industrial diamonds for the South African national stockpile. The comptroller general's office said the contractors were basically diamond dealers.

But the comptroller general said there were already too many industrial diamonds in the U.S. stockpile of strategic materials and there was no need for more.

Warsaw Decked Out for De Gaulle

WARSAW (AP) — Warsaw streets were decked with the French Tricolor and banners attacking the United States and West Germany in preparation for the arrival today of President Charles de Gaulle on a six-day state visit.

"American aggression in Vietnam threatens world peace," said one banner in French and Polish along de Gaulle's scheduled route.

★ ★ ★

"Warsaw says 'No' to the militarists and revenge-seekers of Bonn," said another in Victory Square, where the general is to lay a wreath at the tomb of Poland's Unknown Soldier. This sign was left up from last week's 28th anniversary of the German invasion of Poland.

Interest in Warsaw focused on what, if anything, de Gaulle would say about Germany's frontier with Poland and whether he would meet either of Poland's two Roman Catholic cardinals.

HAD BEEN INVITED

It was believed in Warsaw that opposition from Polish officials would rule out a meeting with either Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Polish primate and a frequent antagonist of the Communist government, or Karol Cardinal Wotjila of Krakow.

★ ★ ★

But sources in Paris said Cardinal Wyszynski had been invited to a reception de Gaulle will give at the French Embassy and that the president was expected to meet Cardinal Wotjila when he visits his titular church, the Wavel Cathedral.

Discussing the general's program, French sources in Warsaw suggested he would avoid catering to the Warsaw regime's hatred of West Germany and might instead search for a way toward understanding between Bonn and Warsaw.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle has said at least twice since 1959 that Germany should regard its present frontiers as permanent. Polish officials hope he will underline this with specific mention of the Oder—Neisse frontier established between Poland and East Germany after World War II. West Germany does not recognize the frontier as permanent since it gave Poland a sizable piece of Germany.

The schedule calls for de Gaulle to stop in only one city in territory transferred from German to Polish rule, Zabrze—formerly Hindenberg—and he will give no speech there.

★ ★ ★

He will also visit Gdansk and Sopot, cities that were German until World War I and between the wars were part of the Danzig free city.

★ ★ ★

Eyebrows of some Western diplomats were raised over de Gaulle's agreement to speak next Monday in the Sejm, Poland's parliament. They considered it an unprecedented tribute from a Western democracy to the Communist-run chamber.

GOP Group, Nixon Tell Polls' Results

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republicans looking forward to the 1968 presidential campaign year reached the poll-quoting stage yesterday.

The Ripon Society, a GOP moderate group, reported in its monthly forum that most Republican governors informally polled at a recent conference were withholding commitment to any presidential candidate.

But forum said eight of the 25 Republican governors considered George Romney of Michigan as the best candidate and five governors were for Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

At the same time, Richard M. Nixon's new campaign manager listed polls in seven states that showed the former vice president ahead of all other GOP presidential prospects and more popular than President Johnson in three states.

★ ★ ★

The Ripon Society publication said the polls taken at the governors' meetings in West Yellowstone, Mont., and Jackson Lake Lodge, Wyo., showed Nixon as first choice of only two governors, while California Gov. Ronald Reagan was the first choice of four governors.

The article also said Rockefeller was a popular second choice among the governors who now supported Romney, and that Nixon was considered a strong "fall back" choice by governors who backed Romney, Rockefeller and Reagan.

'No Payless Pay Days, Though'

Strikes Could Put State in Red

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's precariously balanced budget is holding breathlessly still, awaiting the outcome of contract talks that could mark the difference between a swing up the black side of the ledger or a dip down the red.

For, despite months of bitter legislative bickering that resulted in enactment of the state's first income tax just to make ends meet, labor troubles on three fronts are threatening to knock the budget off its balancing bar.

If there are fat settlements instead of long strikes, the state and Gov. Romney are home free — and probably with some more money in the sock as well from increased spending.

But if the opposite happens, Michigan stands to lose many millions of dollars and to gain a deficit budget.

★ ★ ★

This year's authorized general fund budget totals $1.101 billion.

State Budget Director Glenn S. Allen Jr. said the state expects to take in $1.107 billion. The figure includes provisions for a one-month auto strike at one firm by anticipating a short revenue slump.

So the longer an auto walk-out — or any strike — lasts, Michigan would sink closer and finally into the hole, to be extricated only by a surge of buying once strikes end or maybe by new taxes.

"We aren't going to get another black eye by a 'payless pay day,'" State Treasurer Allison Green said yesterday. "The governor doesn't want that and neither do I. That's the last thing that would happen."

He said that if the need arose, the state could hold back on meeting some of its obligations until later in the fiscal year when, hopefully, there would be more tax money flowing in.

'NOT TOO BAD'

Both Green and State Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock believe the state could stand a month-long auto strike "without getting hurt too badly," but only if the strike were against one manufacturer and did not spread throughout the industry. But if all auto plants are hit, they say, Michigan's finances would start to get queasy after a couple of weeks.

★ ★ ★

And the problems would be compounded if teachers and copper workers are all striking at the same time.

"We've never had any experience of going through simultaneous strikes in major industries," Lock says, "and in my opinion, even two to three weeks would be quite serious."

Princeton Prof Predicts Coming of Ultimate Pill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A professor of religion says, "In a few years there will be safe 'do-it-yourself' abortion medications" so women can decide whether to have a baby.

Prof. R. Paul Ramsey of Princeton University made the prediction in a paper prepared for the opening today of an International Conference on Abortion, sponsored by the Harvard Divinity School and the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation.

Some 70 experts in religion, law, medicine and the social sciences are participating in closed panel discussions today and Thursday.

About 1,500 prominent persons from this country and abroad will take part in open sessions Friday.

★ ★ ★

The closing address Friday will be given by Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

In a summary of his paper, Dr. Ramsey contrasted the differing legal and moral considerations of abortion but noted this distinction may soon be outmoded.

★ ★ ★

"This is soon going to become a question having nothing to do with the panel code, a practice wholly in the personal or private realm which laws cannot reach," he said.

"More important," he continued, "is the fact that in a few years there will be safe 'do-it-yourself' abortion medications so that no one need resort to what the state legislature thinks about it.

★ ★ ★

"Abortion will have been brought entirely into the arena of private decision," he said.

Dr. Ramsey said some fashionable women's magazines have already discussed this procedure under the name of the "M-pill."

"Any woman will be able to keep herself systematically ignorant of whether she is with some frequency performing an abortion on herself," he said; by taking the pill regularly, whether or not she thinks she's pregnant.

"She need not face the question whether she should effect an abortion," Dr. Ramsey said.

"She only need imagine, she will be systematically tempted to believe, that she is only doing what comes naturally every month."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. R. Sargent Shriver, executive vice president of the Kennedy Foundation, told reporters at a briefing Tuesday its interest in abortion stems directly from its interest in child development and mental retardation.

Noting that it is becoming increasingly possible to detect mental retardation before the baby is born, Mrs. Shriver said this raises the question "whether abortion should be used as a therapeutic technique to prevent mentally retarded children from coming into the world or whether some other technique should be used."

No Need for Concern

Forget What Others May Think

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently, my 30-year-old son and I had to make an extensive cross-country trip.

ABBY

We drove and stopped at motels over night. The average single room was $11. A twin-bedded room was $13. It seemed only sensible for us to share a twin-bedded room for $13 instead of spending $22 for two singles.

When I recounted our experiences to friends, I casually mentioned the fact that my son and I had shared a room each night, and you should have seen the eyebrows shoot up at the implied "indecency" of such an arrangement.

Do you see anything "indecent" about a mother and her 30-year-old son sharing a room? Or am I too stupid to see it?

CALIFORNIAN

DEAR CALIFORNIAN: The only "stupidity" in this situation would be for you to seriously concern yourself with what others think.

DEAR ABBY: I know it's awfully early to be worrying about Christmas, but I am. You see, last year we had lots of sickness in our family, and owed a lot of money, so we decided not to give Christmas presents to anyone excepting our children. Not even to each other.

We asked all our relatives not to give us anything this year because we couldn't give them anything.

Well, along came Christmas, and all our relatives gave us real nice gifts, just like we hadn't said a word. Abby, my husband felt so bad. It was the first time I had ever seen him cry.

When we asked our relatives why they gave us gifts, they said, "Because we wanted to, not because we expected anything in return."

This year we are still in debt, but my husband says he is not going to be the poor relative again, and he will borrow the money to buy everyone Christmas gifts.

I don't think he should, but he has a lot of pride.

Weren't our relatives wrong to give us presents when we asked them not to? How should it be handled this year?

CHRISTMAS SADNESS

DEAR SADNESS: Had your relatives been able to foresee your husband's reaction to their gifts, I'm sure they would have respected your wishes. But their generosity exemplified the true Christmas spirit — giving without expecting anything in return.

I think your husband is wrong to consider going deeper into debt to salve his pride. Do your best to persuade him not to. And ask your relatives to please omit gifts this year.

All Children Occasionally Hate Folks

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

We had a fire yesterday up in this old Vermont inn where I am refreshing myself with green leaves, walks and the conversation of brooks.

* * *

Today the manager's five-year-old son, charmed by the possible prospect of more fire-gathering red fire engines, more agitated grownups, more wriggly, water-filled hoses didn't want to go home with his mother and older brother.

Perched on the edge of a chair across from me, he carefully inserted a blob of chewing gum into his transistor radio and said to me, "I hate my mother. She's taking me home. I hate her. I hate her a lot."

"Can you really make that radio work with chewing gum in it?" I asked.

"Sure," he said. "I can put anything into it I want to. It's mine.

* * *

"Come on over here," I said. "I want to tell you a secret about mean mothers we hate." So he came, bringing his tow-head and beautiful, slanting eyes with him.

"What?" he said.

"When mothers are mean, we hate them," I said. "Then they stop being mean and we like them again. It changes according to how they behave.

When they take us away from fires and fire engines, we hate them. But then when they let us pick out the kind of ice cream we want in some restaurant on the drive home, we think to ourselves, 'Oh well, she's not so bad! Now I like her a little again.' So what we feel about mothers is never the same thing from one minute to another."

He gave me a long, level look. Then he nodded and climbed over to my lap. "But now I hate her," he said.

"You bet," I said.

Shortly after his mother arrived to collect him. Beaming happily at her from my lap, he said, "I hate you."

"I know you do," she told him. "But you never can be really sure about these things. Who knows? Ice cream for lunch dessert just might change the hate."

* * *

Nice, huh? No fussing. No parroting of the experts' formula: "All children occasionally hate their parents." No reassurance. Just the truth that love and hate, like God's tides and reasons come and go in us. Come and go. Just God's truth for the child, bless her.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Relax! I know, it is easier said than done. However, you can learn to relax even when enduring the most unhappy circumstances. Just short periods of relaxation will reinforce your outlook and health.

* * *

Prolonged emotional tension has been taken out of hiding and is now highlighted as one of the culprits in high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, a high cholesterol blood level, all sorts of problems with skin or complexion, heart attacks, strokes, early aging, indigestion, ulcers and colitis.

It is suspect in laying the foundation for some chronic diseases. Heaven only knows what else it does to us!

How can you relax? There are many ways. Some people are 'just natural worry warts by disposition or habit, or both. They worry about things which are not worth worrying about. Then, of course, there are others who have a reason to worry, even then, it helps to worry intelligently.

FACE PROBLEM

Face the problem, do what you can to solve it, and if you cannot do anything about it, then adjust to it. You will be much more successful in this endeavor if you learn a few tricks about relaxing and indulge in them each day.

One, when you feel as though the top of your head is about to go sailing through the ceiling, sit down in a chair with your feet flat on the floor and separated. Let your arms hang limply at your sides.

Say to yourself, and mean it, "For a few moments I am going to forget my problems. I am going to let go and be limp, limp, limp, and be completely relaxed." This psychological suggestion will do great things for you.

TEST YOURSELF

To test yourself as to whether or not you are really relaxed, your fingertips should be limp and your tongue should be relaxed. If your tongue is still pushing against your front teeth or against the top of your mouth, you are not relaxed. Do this several times a day.

* * *

The following exercise is splendid for stretching the spine and relaxing. Stand tall with your feet separated, knees straight and arms hanging at sides. Bend over at the waist and let your head and arms and trunk drop forward. Feel as limp as a rag doll as you swing your trunk from side to side.

Do this slowly. After a while raise the trunk, rest, and then continue.

* * *

Of course, short ten minute rest periods scattered through the way are a great help. Lie with your eyes closed and relax from head to toe. Make your mind a blank. Constructive thinking and a few times of relaxation like these will allow you to accomplish more with less fatigue.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

This is the season for buttons, buttons, buttons. Most of them for fall will be metal, which has caused many problems since the metal cuts the thread. Thanks to many of you who have written to me, I am able to pass on the best suggestion yet.

Get dental floss for your sewing basket. It is very tough, already waxed, and easy to use. May I also suggest that since these metal buttons are fairly inexpensive, buy one or two extra in case one is lost. It's no fun replacing 10 or 12 buttons just because of one.

Fall is almost here, which means getting back to the sewing machine for many of us. New fabrics make new problems, so please send me your questions. Wouldn't this be a perfect time to win one of my Tailor Trix pressing boards? Send us your little sewing tips; they may be old to you, but new to someone else. You may be one of our lucky weekly winners! Send all questions and suggestions to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I have been making blouses for school and my mother thinks I should make the kind of bound buttonholes she makes for her suits and coats. The buttons are so small that I am discouraged and would glady give up sewing and buy my blouses. Are you a stickler for this bound buttonhole routine? Susan P.

Dear Susan,

Whether you are in school or not, we rarely find bound buttonholes on clothes that are extremely tailored. Blouses, shirt waist dresses, and cotton blazer jackets, will actually look more professional if we use a machine made buttonhole.

You usually use more buttons than the average dress or coat, they are small, and not intended to be especially decorative, just functional. Save your strength and energy and use your bound buttonhole skills when working on your better clothes.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

My daughter is learning to sew more or less on her own, although I have been helping her some. I realize she will make lots of mistakes before she learns, but don't want to discourage her by hanging over her shoulder constantly.

She is making a wool jumper and cut right up the center where the pattern had been placed on the fold. We tried making a seam but of course it doesn't fit her this way. Can you suggest anything to remedy this? Mrs. M. M. K.

Dear Mrs. M. M. K.:

Your girl's mistake might end up in a complete surprise; there are many ways she can correct her mistake. I would suggest pressing the two cut edges of the jumper onto a piece of press-on tape. If you are afraid this will not hold, machine stitch these edges to the tape. Now the garment will be the correct size.

There are hundreds of ways you can cover the cut edges. You may use a woven braid and edge each side of the braid with various types of trimmings. Another suggestion is to cover the edges with a band of grosgrain ribbon in stripes and finish with a flat bow at the neck.

Perhaps you aren't covering up a mistake, you will probably find your jumpers would be much more interesting if you would individualize your garment. A band of contrasting color with tiny buttons sewed down the center could be very attractive. Let your imagination go full tilt; this is what makes sewing the fun it is!

Case No. D-537

On the Second Marriage

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-537: Helen K., aged 34, is in a dilemma.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I lost my husband due to an auto crash.

"That was two years ago, so I have made a fairly satisfactory adjustment.

"We have two children in grammar school and they diverted my attention from my grief.

DR. CRANE

"In the last six months, however, I have met a bachelor school principal, who has been dating me regularly.

"He has proposed marriage and I am tempted to accept, for he is crazy about my children and I am very fond of him.

"But are there any new problems a woman must guard against in a second marriage which are different from those in her first?"

ADVICE TO WIDOWS

Yes, there is one very dangerous factor that every widow must anticipate in her second marriage!

And this holds true not only where the first husband is dead, but is even doubly applicable to divorced wives.

For your second husband will secretly be watching you like a hawk to see if you show any indifference to his sexual advances!

If so, then he will begin to think that you are comparing him unfavorably with your first mate!

* * *

The average wife seldom even dreams of this constant analysis which her new mate is maintaining.

So, like the typical wife, she soons begin to lose much of her honeymoon ardor, for women are relatively frigid as measured by the masculine norm of eroticism.

Alas, the second husband of such a widow seldom realizes that her lack of great erotic eagerness is the standard behavior of wives.

So he soon begins to imagine that the reason for her diffidence in their boudoir, is his inferiority to her first mate.

And this thought is psychologically poison!

For he may then begin to criticize her cooking and housekeeping, plus her looks, her clothes, her voice, etc.

Such a typical and sadistic reaction is merely his attempt to get even for her deflation of his own wounded sex ego.

Since, he reasons, she has demoted him to an inferior level in contrast to her first husband, he then tries to belittle her till she breaks out into tears.

* * *

A husband with such a fractured ego thus tries to reduce his wife's self-esteem to an even lower level, thereby permitting his ego to still feel superior to hers!

Wives, when your husband taunts and scolds and "chews you out," he usually is not motivated by a teacher's desire to inform or educate, but is attempting to let his wounded ego become superior to your own!

* * *

If you are thus a "second wife," by all means learn to feign extra ardor in the boudoir!

Make your second husband feel that he exceeds your first in his virility and masculinity.

* * *

He will then not be too concerned even if his job status and educational attainments don't match those of your first husband.

Milwaukee Marchers Vow to Continue

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Negro demonstrators pushed their marathon marching past the 100-mile mark early today and promised to keep on walking until the city delivers an open-housing code.

After marching until 1:30 a.m., the marchers disbanded but promised to regroup within hours for a daytime demonstration in the business district.

For the second straight day, demonstration leaders, the Rev. James E. Groppi and Negro comedian Dick Gregory, suggested that Negro youths join the march instead of going to school.

Milwaukee school attendance on opening day Tuesday was 2,350 students below the number in school on the first day of school last year. The decline was particularly sharp in schools in the inner core where most of Milwaukee's 86,000 Negroes live.

'SIGHTS ON CALIFORNIA'

"We just walked from Milwaukee to Chicago," said Prentice McKinney, one of the young leaders of the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the organization behind the marches. "We want to go to California, baby."

The marches, which turned into virtually 'round-the-clock protests Saturday—the day Gregory began participating— are designed to wear down resistance to a city code that would bar discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

* * *

Four times in the past, the Common Council has rejected by an 181-1 vote such an ordinance. Each time Vel Phillips, the only Negro council member, cast the only affirmative vote.

* * *

The council refused to reconsider the proposal Tuesday despite a march on City Hall led by Father Groppi, a white Roman Catholic priest.

Armed Robber Is Back Again

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A man entered a service station in St. Louis Tuesday and said, "Well, Pop, I'm back again."

* * *

The station attendant recognized the caller and the 45-caliber revolver he carried and handed the man $14. The attendant told police it was the same man who robbed him last Thursday.

Flint Issue Is Revived

FLINT (AP) — The Flint City Commission Tuesday voted 6-3 to revive a controversial open housing proposal which earlier this fall brought a threat of resignation from Negro Mayor Floyd McCree.

McCree said he would resign after the commission defeated one open housing ordinance. He later agreed to remain as mayor and pledged himself to work for such an ordinance.

The commission Tuesday sent a proposal to a legislative committee for redrafting, with instructions that the measure be returned to the full body for a vote.

The action came without debate on the motion of Commissioner Harry K. Cull, an opponent of the twice-rejected proposal.

Young Science of Atomic Weaponry Looks to Future

EDITOR'S NOTE—Twenty-five years ago the race for the atomic bomb began in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Following is an assessment of America's present nuclear arms posture — and a hint of things to come — given by Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department officials.

PG. B-6 — PLUG

YOUNG SCIENCE OF —42 T.I.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON — Even as America's weapons makers revamp and improve stockpiled nuclear weapons, work is underway on exotic new types of armament.

Government officials say future objectives include not only the so-called "neutron bomb"—once described as a kind of death-ray weapon—but also pure-fusion weapons that would not require atomic bomb triggers and thus would produce no radioactive fallout.

★ ★ ★

These and other developments concerning America's present nuclear arms posture came out in response to queries submitted to the Atomic Energy Commission by the Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

The AEC collaborated with the Defense Department in preparing its answers. AEC Chairman Glen T. Seaborg and Brig. Gen. Edward B. Giller, director of the AEC's Division of Military Applications, were interviewed separately.

HIGHLIGHTS OF INTERVIEWS

In addition to references to research work on the pure-fusion weapons and the neutron bomb, the AEC's written answers offered these further highlights:

● The American stockpile of "tens of thousands" of individual nuclear weapons includes nuclear antisubmarine rockets, torpedoes and depth charges—weapons that have had little official mention in the past.

★ ★ ★

● Red China apparently has a "rational, well-organized" nuclear weapons development program—and conceivably could launch an intercontinental ballistic missile test vehicle before the end of this year.

● The United States still holds an over-all lead in nuclear weapons over the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Seaborg also referred to that over-all lead, but he cautioned: "Weapons can become almost obsolete in comparison to those of a potential adversary. And that's why we need to test so frequently. "We're rebuilding and reworking our stockpile constantly."

FUTURE WEAPONS

Seaborg also said, without mentioning any particular type of weapon, that the United States has "things on the drawing board that will be the weapons of the future" and "we have some good—yes, some very good—ideas coming along."

★ ★ ★

Giller said U.S. advances in nuclear weaponry go far beyond the expectations of the pioneer weapon-makers of a quarter-century ago.

★ ★ ★

A clear implication of Giller's remarks, though, was that the same scale of advance beyond expectations is also true of the Soviet program.

★ ★ ★

Other highlights of the interviews:

● Giller said the AEC's research weaponeers continue to try to develop "tailored outputs" of so-called conventional nuclear bombs—including continued work on the "neutron bomb."

★ ★ ★

● The Defense Department, said Giller, has shown interest, for possible military use, in comparatively "clean" nuclear explosive devices—that is, devices relatively low in radioactivity yield— that the AEC has developed from its "Plowshare" program. The latter program is aimed at using nuclear explosives for peaceful uses, such as carving out canals and harbors.

● Seaborg said that, for the present at least, the United States has no plans for further cutbacks in the production of plutonium, a key ingredient of nuclear explosives.

U.S. STANDING

Seaborg, asked about American nuclear weapons posture vis-a-vis the Soviet Union, declared: "I believe . . . we are ahead in the aggregate.

★ ★ ★

"That is, it's a complicated situation involving a question of numbers of weapons, a question of types of weapons, a question of the sophistication of weapons, and a question of the deliverability of weapons.

"Taking all of these together, I think we are ahead."

NO SPECIFICS

He declined to be any more precise as to relative positions on each of the four categories.

As for America's latest or potential developments in weaponry, Seaborg said the "very good ideas" he referred to include nuclear arms that are either "conceptual; on the drawing board; in the early stages of design; or are on to early stages of production."

He indicated the big changes nuclear arms have undergone in the last 25 years lie primarily in improvements made in the so-called "yield-to-weight ratio"—that is, getting more explosive bang out of a given amount of material, thus allowing a smaller and lighter device for a given use.

Without necessarily excluding bombs dropped from high-flying aircraft—as were the bombs dropped on Japan in World War II—Seaborg said that, in addition to missiles, one example of a new trend involves weapons that can be deployed on a target from low-flying aircraft.

'LAY-DOWN' WEAPONS

On the latter score, he presumably was referring to the little-discussed "lay-down" weapons the United States is known to have.

They have armor tough enough to survive impact on the hardest surface, including rock and concrete, without losing their package of nuclear explosive. Also, they have delayed-action fuses for detonating the explosive when the attacking plane is safely away.

★ ★ ★

Giller, a World War II combat pilot, said much U.S. research is devoted to methods "to assure that no inadvertant crackpot act can result in starting a nuclear war." He said he believes the Soviets also are extremely safety conscious. Lack of "any serious misadventure" with atomic weapons in the past 20 years, said Giller, "denotes extraordinary attention to safety, and to control of people."

But he stressed that in attempting to increase safety features in nuclear arms, "we have to be sure they don't get so safe they don't work."

U.S. TESTING

Giller said the U.S.-Soviet limited test ban treaty—which barred atmospheric testing—has not hampered U.S. testing as much as scientists first feared.

Kentuckian Finds Giant Mushroom

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Don Chambers of Louisville says he found a three-pound mushroom that is 31 inches in circumference.

★ ★ ★

Chambers said he discovered the "white monster" growing in the woods on a cliff overlooking the Kentucky River near Frankfort.

★ ★ ★

Asked what he plans to do with it, Chambers replied, "I don't know. The darn thing is big enough to be used for a pillow or a footstool."

Mercury Has Swept-Back Look

The standard Mercury for 1968 features a new sweptback roof line and a new formal two-door hardtop in the Marquis series, which is Mercury's top model.

* * *

The line is complemented by a new vertical parking and turn signal lighting unit especially designed to perform also as a sidemarker lamp.

The Mercury goes on display Sept. 22 at Hillside Lincoln-Mercury, 1250 Oakland, Pontiac; and Bob Borst Sales, 479 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

In addition, the new sweeping two-door hardtop roofline in the Park Lane, Montclair and Monterey series, Mercury offers a two-door hardtop with formal vinyl-covered roof in the Marquis series.

* * *

The Mercury offers 16 models in its seven series. These include two convertibles, two station wagons, four two-door hardtops, four 4-door hardtops, and four 4-door sedans.

Safety features which are included in all Ford Motor Co. cars include new energy-absorbing steering column and steering wheel, dual hydraulic brake system and warning light and safety-designed arm rests and door handles.

Front and rear seat belts are standard. Vehicle side markers help define the car sides at night.

All models are equipped with an exhaust emission control systems.

* * *

The Mercury is 220 inches long on a wheelbase of 123 inches. The station wagon is 215 inches on a 119-inch wheelbase.

Five States Still Have Say on DST, but Time's Short

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most Americans now spend half their year on daylight saving time, like it or not. But residents of five states still have some say on the subject.

Time is running short for four of those states, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas and North Dakota. They have until Oct. 20 to tell the Department of Transportation what exceptions they want to make to the rules.

Kentucky, which is chopped up into daylight and standard time segments, will get a chance to choose when its every - other - year legislature goes into session in 1968.

As for the other four states, the Transportation Department will close up its records Oct. 20 and start considering petitions from the governors, along with letters for and against proposed changes.

* * *

"The people in the states know better than we in Washington where the time zone lines should go," said a department spokesman. "We're just doing our darndest to help them solve all the problems and still stay within the law."

CHAOTIC TIME

Under the 1966 Uniform Time law, enacted to bring order into the chaotic observance of daylight saving time, clocks must stay an hour ahead, from the last Sunday in April, to the last Sunday in October, in every state except where the legislature specifically acted to keep the state on standard time.

With the aforementioned exceptions, no longer may parts of a state observe "fast" time while other communities remain on standard time to the dismay of travelers.

Only two states, Hawaii and Alaska, voted outright to stay on standard.

* * *

But the uniformity requirement produced headaches in states split by time zones, where some communities tradtionally observed daylight and others standard time, year round. This way they kept their clocks on identical time.

U.P. PROBLEM

Michigan voters will decide in the November 1968 elections whether the state shall observe daylight time. Then, it is expected, the question will arise as to whether the upper peninsula will observe eastern time, like the rest of the state, or remain on central time.

North Dakota, now almost wholly within the central time zone, wants the boundary changed to conform with usage in the southwestern corner of the state where mountain time is observed by popular consent.

Nebraska wants to extend central time slightly westward within its borders so that some counties no longer will be bisected.

Kansas is requesting that the central zone be moved to its western boundary so as to encompass the western third of the state now on mountain time.

* * *

On the basis of scant correspondence from the three states, the department presumes these proposals are popular in Nebraska and North Dakota and that Kansans are about equally divided on the issue.

Vandals Delay School Buses

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — School officials said that vandals cut electric wires on the motors of six new school buses Tuesday, forcing students to walk or find other transportation.

* * *

However, the wiring was repaired in time for the buses to take pupils home after classes ended for the day.

Device Pinpoints Storms' Lightning Areas

By Science Service

MIAMI — A new radar device that pinpoints lightning areas within storms has been revealed by the University of Miami Radar Meterological Laboratory.

It will be of prime importance to airline pilots, enabling them to guide planes through non-violent storm areas, greatly reducing lightning risks and saving wide detours.

The new development is called a Sferics-to-Radar Convertor and was worked out by George Andrews, an electronics research scientist, under a contract given the university by the Office of Naval Research.

The device is housed in a compact 19-by-17-by-5-inch box. It requires 100 transistors that take coded radio noises emanating from electrical storms, and converts them into information on a radar screen.

Catholic Candidates Take Lead in Viet Senate Vote

SAIGON (AP) — Catholic candidates in South Vietnam's senatorial election surged ahead in returns today, and the nation's 2 million Roman Catholics apparently will have strong representation in the new upper house.

Earlier returns had indicated that supporters of Vice President-elect Nguyen Cao Ky would be in the majority, but lists known to support him are no longer among the top six. Six lists of 10 candidates each will be elected to form the 60-member body.

* * *

The latest returns were still incomplete, and although some of the leading tickets are sure winners, others could lose out by the time the final vote is announced.

The leading ticket with a margin insuring victory is led by retired Gen. Tran Van Don, a former minister of defense who was once rumored to be Ky's vice presidential choice when Premier Ky was planning to run for president.

SAIGON PUBLISHER

Despite this, Don's ticket is considered independent. It contains other retired military men and national assemblymen. A strong member of the ticket is Dang Van Sung, publisher of Chinh Luan, a leading Saigon newspaper.

Two other leading tickets are predominantly Roman Catholic, one of South Vietnamese natives and one made up of refugees from North Vietnam. The Southern ticket is led by Nguyen Van Huyen, a civilian member of the national directorate which now helps rule the country.

* * *

The northern Catholic ticket is thought to favor Ky, but the allegiance is not considered a strong one.

In all senatorial tickets there is some balance, so the Catholic tickets have a few representatives of other religious or political groups.

One of the leading tickets contains several leading figures from the regime of former President Ngo Dinh Diem. Some have had positions of responsibility since then. One is a former ambassador to Australia.

Another ticket, made up mostly of members of the Hoa Hao religious sect, is considered independent, although a close associate of the ticket's leader was once considered by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, the president-elect, as his vice presidential running mate.

* * *

The only leading slate actually identified with a presidential ticket is a Dai Viet ticket associated with defeated presidential candidate Ha Thuc Ky. It contains five members of the Constituent Assembly and was a strong advocate of return to civilian government.

* * *

Exactly how the new Senate will work with the Thieu-Ky government cannot be forecast now. The Senate slates are not expected to stay together but to split up among blocs just as the assembly has done.

OCTOBER ELECTION

In addition, a 137-member House of Representatives will be elected Oct. 22.

Several complaints have been filed with the assembly charging irregularities in the presidential election Sunday. One from defeated candidate Phan Khac Suu charges that a Saigon newspaper printed a story the day before the election saying Suu's ticket had pulled out of the race. Suu said this cost him many votes.

The assembly is to rule on all complaints by Oct. 2. The constitution gives it the power, if it finds too many irregularities, to nullify the election and call a new one.

Road to Nowhere—1

Frustration of Ghetto Schooling Is Told

By L. F. PALMER JR.
NEA Special Writer

CHICAGO —(NEA)—Three Julys ago, President Johnson declared that education must become the "first work" of this nation.

Three years later, as millions of pupils across the nation prepare to make the back-to-school trek, what should be America's first work continues to be, for countless principals, teachers, parents, and students, their first frustration.

Many pupils and teachers are about to begin or return to rewarding, meaningful educational experiences.

Millions, however, are wedded to this nation's second school system, the system in the dark ghettos of our cities, large and small.

★ ★ ★

For them, school is a sham, a road to nowhere.

GLOOM OF ROOM

Consider the torment in this tableau:

The mood in the classroom was as gray as the day outside. Ominous clouds hung low with promise of storms. The patches of color which decorated the room, the bright pictures on the walls clould not dispel the gloom which had gripped the teacher.

Tension was building and the teacher was on a roller coaster ride. It was all downhill and the controls were under command of an unseen force.

It was a third grade. The teacher: male, Negro. The class: male, female, all Negro. The location Chicago's "inner city"—polite term for the ghetto.

★ ★ ★

The clock edged toward 2 o'clock, but even a glance in the direction of the timepiece added fury to the teacher's frustration; only a handful of the pupils could tell time.

Phil sat up front, to the teacher's right. From the beginning, he had stood out like an amputee in a sea of cripples.

In his own haunting way, Phil seemed to radiate the sum total of alienation, the essence of withdrawal which is an affliction of the children of the ghetto.

Phil refused to talk.

On the playground, the teacher often heard his shrill voice, sometimes expressing the joys of childhood, often spitting out the language of hostility.

REMAINS MUTE

But in the classroom, Phil—slight of build and with exquisitely inquisitive eyes—remained mute.

"He ain't gonna talk, teacher," the children warned repeatedly. Desipte prodding — first gentle, then firm —Phil refused to answer when asked to name a word that rhymes with cat.

He stared at the teacher. But he said nothing.

★ ★ ★

Somehow, his silence became deafening. It drowned out the ceaseless buzzing of 33 kids, the nerve-grating screeching of desk legs scraping against the floor, the lift of Tommy's compulsive humming, the irritating sounds of restlessness.

EXERCISE IN READING

Nearing exasperation, the third-grade teacher began to try to teach the begining sounds of words, an exercise in reading which is basic to the first grade curriculum.

The lesson was interrupted by the plaintive words of a little girl near the rear of the room.

"Teacher, Carl called me a dirty name."

That did it. The roller coaster ride came to a shattering halt. The tensions snapped. And the teacher yelled.

STUNNED SILENCE

"Don't you kids want to learn ANYTHING?"

Each word was a link in a stormy crescendo, the last rolling out in a roar. The class jerked to a stunned silence as the teacher fled from the room to the faculty lounge.

There he sank into a chair and struggled to sort out his emotions. Emptied of all sensation, number by the reality of deprivation, shamed by his inability to cope with it, he was paralyzed by futility.

I know because I was that teacher.

MOMENTARILY IMMOBILIZED

Nine years had passed since I had been so palsied by a confrontation with the human condition. Both times I had been momentarily immobilized by the strange American rite of race.

The earlier experience came while I was editor of a Negro weekly newspaper in Memphis. I had gone across the bridge to the West Memphis, Ark., police headquarters on a mission connected with my work.

After I stated my business, the lone policeman on the other side of the counter looked me over and decided to teach me "how to act like a nigger is supposed to act." (I had neglected to call him "sir.")

He jumped across the barrier which separated us and beat the hell out of me.

DROWNING IN DESPAIR

I staggered to my car, slumped over the steering wheel and cried out of control. Humiliation smothered me. The senselessness of the beating overwhelmed me. Unable to move, powerless to act, I sat there—who knows for how long?—drowning in despair.

Not until I had gained sufficient composure to drive back to my office and write a bitter story about the experience, not until then did I realize why I had felt no physical pain immediately after the assault.

The hurt was all in the soul.

So it was, almost a decade later, that I experienced this massive trauma, this torment of our time.

This time, after dusting off my emotions, I was to realize that I had not been screaming AT the innocent, deprived, forgotten children of that dark ghetto classroom in Chicago.

I had been screaming out FOR them.

Trash Burning Draws Commissioner's Fire

Burning trash is becoming a nuisance in the city, District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood told his fellow commissioners last night.

He asked the city law department to investigate to see if a stronger city ordinance is needed to cope with persons who burn garbage and rubbish.

Wood said the smell and smoke is in some cases inexcusable.

Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said there is no need for anyone to burn trash. "With the excellent pickup service we have in the city, all anyone has to do is take their trash out to their rubbish containers and it will be picked up."

* * *

Hudson also suggested to commissioners that they should think about considering a new ordinance that would regulate and control the size, location and display of store and advertising signs.

'SAFETY PROBLEMS'

He said they are frequently placed so that they clutter traffic signals thus causing safety problems.

In other action, commissioners heard good news from officials of the Franklin elementary school and city officials about the cleanup of junk-strewn property next to the school.

Originally brought to the attention of the commission by Nathan L. Davis, 636 Harvey, officials said cooperation between the owner of land north of the school and the city resulted in the elimination of a weedy junk-filled area north of Franklin.

* * *

The school principal said the site was "offensive to the school and the neighboring community" and that the recent cleanup action had encouraged more persons in taking an active role in sprucing up the neighborhood.

CONGRATULATIONS

Davis also congratulated the commission and the city for cleaning up the area—"it looks just beautiful," he said—but wanted further action taken on property at the side of his house.

The property is owned by a local landscaping company. Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant said he had asked city officials to take steps to bring the owner to court for violating a city zoning ordinance.

He said the property is zoned R-1, which does not allow commercial businesses, a category which the landscaping company falls into.

* * *

In other action, the commission authorized the demolition of a house at 258 N. Saginaw, a structure which was burned out by a fire in early March.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said the site was an extreme nuisance to the neighborhood but steps taken so far to remove it had become bogged down in intricate court actions.

Warren said the owners had agreed to deed the property to the city if the city would stand the cost of tearing it down, about $800.

Parking Crisis Progress Made

Warren Reports on Hospital Situation

Progress in providing parking for employes of Pontiac General Hospital is being made, City Manager Joseph A. Warren told city commissioners last night.

He said the parking shortage has become acute because of the start of construction of a new emergency building south of the hospital.

In the block which contains the hospital — West Huron, Johnson, Seminole and Menominee — the city has ordered demolition of eight houses purchased recently.

The city is negotiating for another eight lots and expects appraisals on eight more soon, he said.

* * *

He said hospital officials are planning construction of an intern housing building on the southern end of the block.

METERED PARKING

To alleviate the parking problems the city has provided a metered parking lot in the 100 block of West Lawrence for hospital employes.

The hospital has made arrangements with the Pontiac Transit Co. to provide shuttle bus service between the lot and the hospital Monday through Friday.

The shuttle service began Friday. It runs at 15-minute intervals between 2 and 3 p.m. from the lot, and between 11:30 p.m. and midnight from the hospital to the lot.

The pickup point at the hospital is the southeast corner of the hospital.

United Nations efforts to train personnel in the Congo for public administration, health, education and economic development cost over $11 million in 1966.

Man Nearly Lost Freedom Before Actual Ceremony

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A Henrico County man who permanently lost his freedom one way narrowly missed losing it for a shorter period during Henrico County Court proceedings Tuesday.

* * *

The man and four friends were arrested for disorderly conduct late last month when police were summoned to investigate what sounded like a bachelor party.

* * *

They found the prospective bridegroom dressed in lingerie, covered in shaving cream and chained to the fence of an apartment swimming pool.

* * *

Judge Samuel T. Binns dismissed the charges against all five after learning the 22-year-old victim had gotten married a day after the party.

Resurfacing Proposal Is Approved

City commissioners last night authorized a proposal which will lead to resurfacing of Oakland between Clark and Gerdon and between Northview and West Boulevard.

* * *

The project — expected to cost $96,900 — will complete improvements to Oakland over its entire length and provide a first-class street which will require little or no maintenance over the next 10 years, Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and service, said.

The proposal was made by the State Highway Department and work will begin under that department's direction.

The city's share of the project would be $24,225. Funds are available, Neipling said.

* * *

Commissioners last night held public hearings on authorizing special assessment costs against property owners who will be able to hook on directly to the Galloway Creek Sewer Trunk line. Scant opposition was heard.

LIABLE FOR ASSESSMENT

Neipling said the bulk of the cost of the trunk line is paid by a bond issue but on streets where it serves the same as a lateral (affording direct connection) the abutting property owners are liable for special assessment.

Under state statute, he said, abutting property owners who can hook onto the line have one year to do so after the completion of the sewer project.

Commissioners approved a transaction which will give to the Bodycrafters Federal Credit Union 30 feet of Tennyson at Baldwin.

* * *

The city, in turn, will receive from the credit union 30 feet of property for widening of Baldwin.

WILL CUT WIDTH

The credit union plans call for construction of a new office on the northwest corner of Baldwin and Tennyson.

The exchange will cut Tennyson from a 60-foot width to 30 feet, a standard width for residential streets, although streets in that neighborhood are considerably wider.

Commissioners also:

- Referred to the planning commission a request from the board of education for vacation of an alley south of Montcalm and vacation of Hillside, both between Summit and Burt, for construction of a new elementary school.
- Authorized extending city water mains along Whittemore and Cottage from Clifford 250 feet farther east to allow direct connection by the Auburn Manor Townhouse Development along Auburn. Cost is $5,400.

Grant to College

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bay de Noc Community College in Michigan's Upper Peninsula is to receive a $226,400 grant from the U.S. Department of Labor to train 60 practical nurses in a 50-week program, it was announced Tuesday.

$182,742 Pumping Station Bid OK'd

A bid of $182,742 for construction of a pumping station on Opdyke at the Clinton River, to serve the planned Opdyke trunk sewer system, was accepted by city commissioners last night.

The bid was approximately $28,000 higher than the lowest bid and $25,000 lower than previous engineering estimates.

Commissioners agreed to award a contract to Lerner-Linden, Inc., after hearing an administration recommendation that the low bidder "was an extensive risk."

Joseph E Neipling, director of public works and service, said the contractor submitting the low bid has only been in business on a part-time basis and has fixed assets of only about $10,000.

* * *

The Lerner-Linden Co., he said, presently holds the contract for a sewage pumping station for the Galloway Creek sewer trunk. The company's performance "has been most satisfactory," he said.

5 BIDS RECEIVED

In all, five bids on the project were received.

The other three ranged up to $239,015.

Commissioners also authorized signing of a contract with Gay Brothers Construction Co., the lowest of six bidders, for construction of the Opdyke sewer system.

The bid for the project — to run from the city's sewage treatment plant on Opdyke at Auburn to Square Lake Road — was $457,331.

PROPOSAL OKAYED

A proposal of the New Bethel Baptist Church, on the northeast corner of Branch and Warner, to rent city owned land across the street for parking, received commission approval.

The area is on the west side of Bench, north of Orton. It contains a reservoir which hinders construction.

Commissioners authorized a nominal rental fee to alleviate parking problems. District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. said that during services the streets are crowded with parked cars. Emergency vehicles would have a hard time getting through if they had to, he said.

College and professional school enrollment in the U.S. has increased 70 per cent since 1960.

Tigers Blank Kaycee; California Still Alive

Athletics Held to Two Singles by Joe Sparma

DETROIT (AP) — Right hander Joe Sparma has only one baseball superstition — striking out the leadoff batter.

"I hate to strike out the first guy in a game," said Sparma, who fanned the first four Athletics he faced Tuesday night on his way to a 4-0 victory over Kansas City with a nifty two-hitter.

★ ★ ★

"I felt better when their pitcher (Chuck Dobson) struck out our leadoff man. That made things even."

Sparma, who started the season with a 9-2 record and now stands 14-8 after 32 starts, said he thinks he's a better pitcher now than during the first half of the season.

★ ★ ★

"His control is better," said Manager Mayor Smith," and he's a smarter pitcher. He's got three pitches now that he never had last year — his sinker, breaking ball and changeup.

"It used to be when Joe was in trouble everyone in the ball park knew he was going to throw the fast ball. Now he's got them guessing."

Sparma's fast ball was hopping against the A's as he posted his fifth shutout of the season, striking out eight and walking two. He gave up a single to Phil Roof in the third and Jim Gosger was credited with a hit in the seventh when his ground ball hit base runner Ramon Webster.

★ ★ ★

The victory left Detroit in fourth place, 1½ games back of the league-leading Minnesota Twins, who beat Cleveland 9-2, but kept the Tigers in the thick of the American League pennant race.

CAN'T WAIT

"It may go right down to the wire," said Smith, "but it's a great race. I can't wait to get to the ball park every day."

★ ★ ★

Sparma, who likes to think he is a "pretty good hitter," got a single in the sixth to boost his batting average to .045 on three hits in 67 trips.

"He's the lousiest hitter I've ever seen," quipped Smith. "But he keeps saying he was a good hitter until batting coach Wally Moses got hold of him."

Detroit scored a run in the fourth inning when Kansas City starter Chuck Dobson, 8-9, walked Dick McAuliffe with the bases loaded.

★ ★ ★

Detroit knocked Dobson out in the fifth on run-scoring singles by Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan and added another run in the seventh when Willie Horton reached first when he struck out on a wild pitch and the ball rolled to the backstop. Ed Mathews walked and Jerry Lumpe followed with a base hit.

★ ★ ★

Denny McLain and Earl Wilson were named by Smith to pitch tonight's twin-light doubleheader against the A's. Kansas City will pitch Jim Hunter and Roberto Rodriguez.

Don Demeter Ailing; Deal With Cleveland for Outfielder Canceled

DETROIT (AP) — Outfielder Don Demeter has a disturbance in his coronary artery circulation and won't report to the Detroit Tigers, the club announced Tuesday.

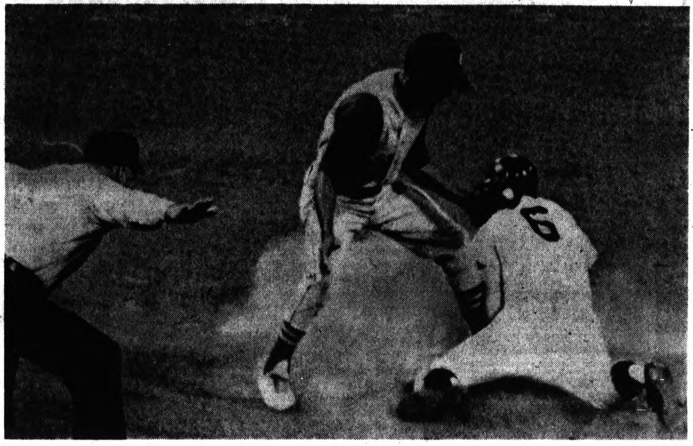
Demeter, a veteran purchased from the Cleveland Indians last week, was supposed to report to the Tigers at Minnesota last week.

However, he complained of chest pains and underwent several examinations. His problem was first diagnosed as a muscle strain, but an electrocardiogram Tuesday showed "changes which indicate a disturbance in his coronary artery circulation."

★ ★ ★

Demeter was examined at his Oklahoma City, Okla., home Tuesday.

The sale was canceled by mutual agreement between Cleveland and Detroit.



TIGER STRETCHES SINGLE — Detroit's Al Kaline (6) comes up safe at second base as Bert Campaneris of Kansas City has the ball too late. Kaline singled to centerfield in the first inning last night and took off for second after drawing a throw to first base from outfielder Jim Gosger. The umpire indicates Kaline has successfully beaten the relay.

Three Dropped; 2 on Waivers

Lions Thinning Player Roster

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Lions Tuesday gave unconditional releases to three players and asked waivers on two more as the club cut down to the required maxiumum of 43 men.

Released were Eric Watts, Frank Marsh and Bob Van Pelt.

Watts, a rookie defensive back, was a 12th round draft choice from San Jose State. Marsh, brother to Lion fullback Amos Marsh, was on the taxi squad last year. The defensive back was a free agent who played at Oregon State.

★ ★ ★

Van Pelt was Philadelphia's fifth round draft choice last year. The Lions picked him up when the Eagles released him on waivers earlier this summer. He played center.

The Lions declined to name the other two, since they can be recalled if the waivers don't clear.

Veterans like Booth Lusteg, Glen Bass, J. D. Smith and Jack Spikes and rookies Terry Southall and John Hankinson felt the ax as pro football teams reduced their rosters, and Lionel Taylor, the American League's all-time leading receiver, quietly chopped short his career.

Taylor, 30, led the AFL in receptions in five of his seven seasons and hauled in 543 passes in all before Oakland acquired him from Denver last winter in one of the biggest off-season trades. However, he caught only 35 passes last year.

"Taylor's not an old man," said Oakland Coach John Rauch, "but he has had problems with his legs this year and volunteered to retire."

DAY OF SURPRISES

The action topped a day of surprises from the Raider camp in a shakeup of receivers. The Raiders dropped sophomore tight end Tom Mitchell, who started part of last year after signing for a reported six-figure bonus, and acquire Dave Kocourek from Miami for a draft choice.

They also cut veterans Purvis Atkins, an end, and Bass, a flanker acquired with quarterback Daryle Lamonica from Buffalo in another big trade last winter for Flores and receiver Art Powell.

Lusteg was the placekicker who led Buffalo in scoring with 98 points last season as a replacement for Pete Gegolak. He lost his job to Mike Mercer, who had 98 points for Kansas City last year.

Smith, an 11-year veteran fullback, an Warren Livingston, a regular last season in his sixth year in the NFL, got the word from the Dallas Cowboys. Spikes, a running back entering his eighth AFL season, was waived by Buffalo.

Southall, lauded with publicity out of Baylor, was cut by Baltimore and Hankinson failed at Minnesota. Both are quarterbacks.

Michigan Netter Upsets Favorite in U.S. Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) — It was peachy. Just peachy.

Jane "Peaches" Bantkowicz of Hamtramck, notched one of the biggest tennis upsets of her amazing career Tuesday, downing heavily-favored Rosemary Casals, of San Francisco, in the fourth round of the U.S. Tennis Championships.

The 18-year-old three-time national junior champion was nearly rushed off the court by seventh-seeded Miss Casals in the first set, which the Californian won 6-4.

★ ★ ★

Seeded 12th, Peaches kept control of her game and came back to defeat her more experienced 18-year-old opponent, 6-3.

In the final set Miss Casals quickly built up a 4-2 lead with her famous drop shot but Peaches, the 1964 Junior champ at Wimbledon, rallied to tie it at 5-5 before breaking service and winning the match 7-5.

After hitting the winning shot Peaches burst into tears. "I don't believe it — I just don't believe it," she cried.

Peaches and her two-handed baseball grip backhand run into second — seeded Ann Haydon Jones of Great Britain in the quarter-final round. Miss Jones eliminated tenth-seeded Kerry Melville of Australia Tuesday, 7-5, 6-3.

Wind Helps British Player, Ruffles Golf Foe's Feathers

LONDON (AP) — It's an ill wind that blows nobody good — even on a golf course.

But the ill wind that blew good for golfer Peter Butler blew no good for golfer Robin Davenport.

What happened was this:

Former Ryder Cup golfer Butler rammed out a 12-foot putt. The ball reached the edge of the cup and stopped.

"Wait," said Butler.

He waited.

At last the ball fell in.

★ ★ ★

At the time of the game Tuesday, strong winds were sweeping England.

They did thousands of dollars damage and were responsible for the deaths of seven persons.

But — the winds blew Butler's ball in the cup.

Butler said he waited for about a half-minute.

Davenport said it was closer to three minutes.

Davenport said the waiting made him so angry he missed his five-foot putt.

He got so mad he knocked his ball from the green into the rough.

★ ★ ★

Butler's caddie told Davenport's caddie that Davenport was guilty of ungentlemanly conduct.

Davenport's caddie denied this.

BIDDING FOR BERTHS

Both men were among 208 golfers competing for 60 vacant places in a 5,000 pound $14,000 Professional Golfers Association Tournament due to start Thursday.

Butler went around in 75, Davenport in 76.

Comd. Richard Fell, the tournament organizer, said:

"There's a rule that covers how long a player may wait for his ball to drop in a hole. I've talked to Peter, but I'll have to talk to his accusers before I can make any decision."

All Contenders Register Wins; Angels Gain

By the Associated Press

The crush at the top of the American League remains unchanged today and don't look now but Bill Rigney is trying to toss another log into the jam.

Rigney's California Angels stand just six games off the pace after sweeping Baltimore 7-2 and 11-4 Tuesday. Bubba Morton drove in four runs with two hits in each game.

★ ★ ★

Ordinarily, six games behind with 20 or so to play wouldn't be so bad, but the Angels have a problem. There are four teams in front of them.

The status quo which survived four doubleheaders on Labor Day remained unchanged Tuesday when the first place Minnesota Twins and pursuing Boston, Chicago and Detroit all won. Thus California, which took a pair, was the only team to gain ground Tuesday. The fifth place Angels have won seven of their last eight games.

Minnesota battered Cleveland 9-2. Boston stayed one half-game back with an 8-2 triumph over Washington as Carl Yastrzemski cracked a pair of home runs. Chicago topped New York 5-3 and remained one game behind.

In the only National League game played, Philadelphia nipped Atlanta 4-3 in 11 innings.

Morton tagged a pair of two-run doubles while Rick Reichardt and rookie Leo Rodriguez smacked solo home runs as Clyde Wright hurled a four-hitter for the Angels in the first game against the Orioles.

FOUR MORE RBI

Then Morton knocked in four more runs with two two-run singles in the second game as California completed the sweep. Roger Repoz drove in three runs in the nightcap with a double and a homer.

Jim Kaat was rocked for 13 hits but threaded his way out of trouble and won his 11th game of the season as the Twins ripped Cleveland.

Rich Rollins' bases-loaded triple keyed a four-run first inning that got Kaat off to a quick lead against Sam McDowell.

Ted Uhlaender slammed a pair of triples and scored twice for the Twins.

Yastrzemski, fighting his way out of a 7-for-41 slump, walloped his 37th and 38th home runs, driving in four runs. He wasn't even supposed to be playing. Dick Williams, Boston's manager, had hoped to give him a day off.

"Carl Yastrzemski will rest Tuesday," Williams said following the Labor Day twinbill against Washington. "George Thomas will play left field."

★ ★ ★

"Carl Yastrzemski will play Tuesday," Yastrzemski said, "and will bat third as usual. I'm not getting out of the line-up with a pennant at stake and 22 games to play."

They compromised and Yastrzemski played 6½ innings which was about 6½ too many for the Senators.

SCORELESS RELIEF

Steve Jones and Bobby Locker hurled seven innings of scoreless relief protecting Chicago's victory over the Yankees.

The White Sox snapped a 3-3 tie in the third inning when their pinch hitting specialist, 41-year-old Smoky Burgess, drew a bases-loaded walk. Don Buford added an insurance run with an eighth inning homer.

Chicago had loaded the bases on singles by Pete Ward and Ken Boyer and an intentional walk before Burgess drew his walk on a 3-1 pitch from loser Joe Verbanic.

Spartan Coach Reduces Drills

Gridders' Condition Pleases Daugherty

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State footballers were cut back to one-a-day field drills today, their payoff for faithfully following a summer conditioning program.

Coach Duffy Daugherty said he was pleased with the physical condition of most of the squad. Players were told to keep in shape during the summer and return to fall drills ready to play.

A routine warmup session before the regular drill sidelined one of the reserves Tuesday.

Clifton Hardy, a defensive halfback, suffered a shoulder dislocation while the squad was working out on shoulder blocking. He is expected to be out at least two weeks.

TWO POSITIONS

Regis Cavender, a junior, was running at both right half and fullback in the workout. Cavender carried at right half in place of Frank Waters, a junior, the regular at the position. Waters is temporarily sidelined with a thigh bruise.

Cavender has been running at fullback behind Bob Apisa, the regular at the position.

Tody Smith, "baby brother" of Buffa Smith now playing pro with Baltimore, registered 269 pounds in the official weigh-in Tuesday easily rating as the heaviest player on the squad. Bubba's playing weight was around 290 last fall at Michigan State.

Series' Vet Awaits '67 Classic

MONTREAL (AP)—John Kel-ly, 76, hasn't missed a World Series since 1926 and is getting ready for his 42nd Series.

Since St. Louis is in good position to take the National League pennant, Kelly plans to write Busch Stadium for tickets.

"I'd much rather go to Boston," says the retired railroad engineer. "But things are so tight in that American League, the winner may not be decided until the last week of the schedule."

★ ★ ★

Kelly tries to land where the Series starts so he can see four games if the Series goes seven.

His pick this year: "The National League winner, of course."

Big matches today pit two-time Wimbledon queen Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., against ninth-seeded Virginia Wade of Britain and third-seeded Francoise Durr of France against the No. 11, Anette Van Zyl of South Africa.

MEN'S COMPETITION

In the men's division, Clark Graebner has to win today or there may be just one lonely American in the quarterfinals for the second straight year.

* * *

Last September it was Graebner all alone among seven foreigners — and he went no further.

But if the 6-foot, 2-inch slugger from Beachwood, Ohio, can score over lefty Mark Cox of Great Britain today he'll have some company in the last eight.

Either Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., or Gene Scott of New York will make it. They battle for the right on Thursday. Bob Lutz of Los Angeles may get there, too, but he has a mighty hurdle coming up in Bob Hewitt, the Australian who now plays for South Africa.

* * *

Holmberg, Scott and Lutz stormed in among the last 16 Tuesday, but two top hopes went out when eighth-seeded Chuck Pasarell of Puerto Rico and 20-year-old Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., were knocked out by a pair of Aussies.

* * *

Wimbledon champ John Newcombe put the finishing touches on Richey as darkness settled over the main stadium 13-11, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, with key service breaks in the first and last sets in identical fashion — a pair of searing backhand placements.

And the reason they played tag with darkness at the finish was a three hour marathon that tied up the center court as Hewitt rallied twice to oust Pasarell, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 12-10.

Lutz beat Ray Kildie of Australia, 8-6, 4-6, 7-5, 6-1 and Scott downed Gary Rose of Orinda, Calif., 8-10, 6-4, 7-5, 7-5.

However, Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., earlier winner over sixth-seeded Roger Taylor of Great Britain, went out easily against Aussie Owen Davidson, 6-0, 6-1, 6-4.

In addition to the Graebner-Cox showdown today, second-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia was paired against Marcelo Lara of Mexico, Ron Barnes of Brazil against Bill Bowrey of Australia and Brazil's Tomas Koch against Jan Leschly of Denmark in a duel of lefthanders.

Nigerian on Olympic Racial Visit

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria's representative on the special Olympic Committee left Tuesday for South Africa where, he said, he would get treatment accorded white visitors or leave the country.

Sir Adetokumbo Ademola, Nigeria's chief justice and president of the Nigerian Olympic Committee, will investigate apartheid in South African sports with two other Olympic officials.

Their report will help determine if South Africa gets an invitation to the 1968 Games in Mexico City. The country was barred in 1964 because of its separate racial policy.

"All facilities, the same hotel, all that, has been guaranteed," said the chief justice. "If there is a break in the agreement, I will just come back."

Others on the multiracial International Olympic Committee (IOC) investigating commission are chairman Lord Killanin, president of Ireland's Olympic Council, and Reginald Stanley Alexander, president of Kenya's Olympic Association.

Detroit Preps Have Gridiron Uncertainties

DETROIT (AP)—Teacher contract problems are causing a flock of question marks in the high school football season.

Detroit City League schools workouts were suspended for today.

"Practice could be held, even with the establishment of picket lines on Thursday. But if the superintendent says the schools are officially closed Thursday—there'll be no practice," said Jim Stout, director of the league's athletic programs.

City League teams must have 15 days of practice before the first game.

* * *

Elsewhere in the state, schools which started practice a week ago continued. Many suburban schools worked out with the coaches not being paid.

I Bet You Didn't Know

By John Carter

Here's a rather amazing fact . . . Did you know that no pro football team in either the National or American Leagues has ever been able to go through a complete season unbeaten and untied? . . . Teams that came closest over the years were Canton in 1922, which won 10, lost none, but tied two; Canton in 1923, which won 11, lost none, but tied one; Green Bay in 1929 which won 12, lost none, but tied one; and the Chicago Bears of 1934 and 1942 who got through the regular season without a loss or tie — but then lost in each of those years in the title game at the end of the season . . . It does seem strange, doesn't it, that in all the years of National and American League pro football history, no team has yet been able to make it through a complete season unbeaten and untied.

* * *

Here's an oddity that happened in the football bowl games at the end of the 1956 season . . . Did you know that the Gators played in the Orange Bowl while the Oranges played in the Gator Bowl? . . . This came about as the University of Florida, whose nickname is Gators, played in the Orange Bowl and Syracuse University, whose nickname is the Orange, played in the Gator Bowl!

* * *

Any idea how much the regulation footballs that are used in the National and American Football Leagues cost? . . . Answer is about $22.50 per ball.

* * *

I bet you didn't know . . . that the big difference between good tires and the cheapies you see advertised is not price — it's Safety and Performance!

Big Jack Golf Series Favorite

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The two top-money winners in professional golf will be on hand for the World Series of Golf at Firestone Country Club this weekend, but Arnold Palmer will be describing the action for TV fans while Jack Nicklaus shoots for the $50,000 first prize.

Nicklaus is favored to win his third Series championship, and if he does he will collect his second $50,000 check within two weeks and boost his earnings for the year over $200,000.

A veteran of four of the five preceding World Series, Nicklaus set the record for the event—a 66-69—135—in 1962, won again in 1963 with a 70-70—140, was second with 142 in 1965 and shot a 143 to split second-place money in 1966, when he was edged by Gene Littler in a sudden-death playoff.

He has won a total of $126,250 in World Series play, and his earnings in other tournaments here bring his total winnings on the tough Firestone course to $140,850 since 1962.

None of his three opponents this year has been in the series before, and one of them—Roberto de Vicenzo—has appeared only once in a tournament at Firestone.

BRITISH CHAMP

De Vicenzo qualified for the Series by winning the British Open, in which he edged Nicklaus by two strokes. Nicklaus is the U. S. Open champion, Gay Brewer qualified by winning the Masters Championship, and Don January won the PGA.

★ ★ ★

The 44-year-old De Vicenzo made his only appearanc at Firestone in 1965, when he shot a 75-70-79-74—298 to finish far down in the field in the American Golf Classic.

★ ★ ★

However, the Argentinian is rated the one with the best chance to beat Nicklaus on the 7,180-yard course. He has a long game to match Nicklaus', he has shown that he can beat the "Golden Bear" and he plays well under pressure.

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI) — Billy Casper is the PGA's fifth six-figure man of the year.

He collected $35,000 and boosted his winnings to $105,287 in the latest money standings released to day.

College Cage Star Looks for Pro Job

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Charlie Williams, former Seattle University star who last week was refused permission to play in the National Basketball Association, said Tuesday he is negotiating with the Pittsburgh Pipers of the American Basketball Association.

Williams said he has been in contact with the Pittsburgh team but he has not signed a contract.

Williams was expelled from Seattle University in 1965 for failing to report a bribery attempt.

Williams had signed a contract with the Seattle Supersonics of the NBA, but the team said Thursday the league refused to approve the contract. An NBA rule states no player who has been suspended or expelled by any academic institution for other than scholastic reasons is eligible for NBA play.

Sailing Champ Leading, Again

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — West Germany's Willy Kuhweide, recent winner of the world title, took the opening heat of the European Finn class sailing championship in the Gulf of Naples Tuesday.

Arwed Von Gruenewaldt of Sweden was second and Roger Dumont of France third in the 44 from 24 nations.

Carl Van Duyne of Shortsville, N.Y., was sixth and Robert Andre, San Diego, Calif., 30th.

READY TO COMPETE — Katie Monahan, 12-year-old junior class rider from Bloomfield Hills, will compete in the National Junior Horse Show this weekend at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. Miss Monahan is the youngest of Michigan champions in the National event.

Top Junior Riders Competing at BOH

The National Junior riding championships, sponsored by the American Horse Show Association, held for the first time outdoors and anywhere west of New York, will be staged at the Bloomfield Open Hunt, Friday through Sunday.

★ ★ ★ ★

In conjunction with the National Show, the BOH will also hold its fall all-junior events in the hunter and jumper classes.

★ ★ ★

The national finals will include competition for juniors under 18 in hunters equitation and dressage and for riders over 18 in two dressage events.

To coincide with the national championships, it will be the first time that five jumper and five hunter classes will bring all of the nation's top juniors together with the national event.

Riders from most every state in the country will participate in the 3-day event. Michigan will have nine entries in the equitation finals and five each in the dressage finals.

★ ★ ★

Among the jumpers will be Michigan junior champion for the past three years Chris Black from Perrysburg, Ohio, who will be astride champion Honeycomb.

LOCAL RIDERS

Among local entries in the various junior events are Donald Schuster of Birmingham, Jean Hildebrand and Donna Homrich of Rochester, Katie Monahan of Bloomfield Hills and Priscilla Yuchartz of Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★

The three day show starts at 9 a.m. Friday and because of the number of events the program will continue into Friday evening.

★ ★ ★

Saturday at 9 a.m. the important equitation finals are scheduled and on Sunday from 9 to 5 p.m. the junior jumper stakes are slated.

Fish Project Moved Up

Chemical treatment of Cooley Lake to eliminate its fish population has been moved up by the Conservation Department.

The cost-sharing project will get under way Friday instead of Sept. 11 as originally scheduled. The new date was selected so that lake property owners will have the weekend to clean up the beaches.

The lake is being treated to remove an overpopulation of panfish and it will be restocked with rainbow trout and black bass. The cost of the treatment is being shared by the property owners and the Conservation Department.

Rotenone, a toxicant that cause the fish to suffocate, will be used in the eradication. The chemical is not hazardous to humans and fish killed at Cooley can be safely consumed, according to Fish Biologist Steve Swan.

Site Provided for Fishermen

Department Accepts Lease Agreement

Coho salmon and steelhead fishermen have increased access to Manistee Lake and Lake Michigan as a result of a joint industry — Department of Conservation development announced today.

★ ★ ★

Packaging Corporation of America is making available to the department, through a lease arrangement, 11 acres at Stronach near the mouth of the Little Manistee River.

When fully developed, the site will include several launching ramps, picnic facilities and parking space for hundreds of cars and boat trailers.

Packaging Corporation is making preliminary improvements to accommodate fishermen during the impending fall steelhead run and the expected return of coho jacks planted in the Little Manistee River last spring.

Second-Hand Sale Set by Department

Sportsmen looking for used firearms will find a variety of second-hand weapons up for bids through 10 a.m., Sept. 15, at the Conservation Department's Gaylord Repair Shop.

★ ★ ★

The firearms, numbering nearly 70 rifles, shotguns and carbines confiscated from game law violators, may be looked over at the repair shop between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Sept. 11-14.

The guns on display will be sold to high bidders whose sealed offers will be opened an hour later at the repair shop, located at 540 S. Otsego.

Prospective buyers may pick up bid forms at department regional and district offices.

Special Hearing Set

A hearing on proposed rules that will curtail the use of gill nets by commercial fishermen will be held Sept. 28 at the Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit, the Conservation Deparment announced today.

Ringneck Drop in Thumb Area Tied to Habitat

Special Study Shows Insecticides Not Key Cause of Problem

Results of a special Conservation Department study point less to insecticides than to a lack of good bird habitat as a possible cause of the pheasant slump in southern Michigan's Thumb area.

In early 1966, researchers at the department's Rose Lake Widlife Research Center near East Lansing began laboratory tests on pheasants shot two winters ago in the Thumb and Ottawa County areas.

★ ★ ★

The study took the line of reasoning that if insecticide poisoning has played a role in the Thumb area's pheasant decline, birds from that part of the state might be expected to carry a higher load of chlorinated hydrocarbon residues than birds taken from Ottawa County where their populations are high, stable, and healthy.

However, analysis of the birds breast muscle, liver, and brain tissue did not show a tie-in between insecticides and the Thumb area's sagging pheasant numbers.

As a matter of fact, total insecticide loads in birds shot from the Thumb area were lower than those in pheasants taken from the Ottawa County control area.

Department autopsies of the birds revealed no evidence of damage from parasites nor the presence of "salmonella," a bacterial disease common to poultry.

What game researchers did find was a "consipcuous" absence of body fat in Thumb area pheasants and "abundant" fat in Ottawa County birds which also weighed more.

From this, research men speculate that hens entering the stress period of egg laying and incubation without fat reserves might be at a disadvantage in bringing off broods successfully.

Although they do not rule out insecticides entirely, they conclude that "the lack of body fat in the Thumb area birds is a possible clue that a more basic cause — general deterioration of habitat — may be a more important factor in the disappearance of Thumb pheasants."

That view is shared by department game men who feel that "clean farming" — the removal of fencerows, stubble, woodlots, and cover along drainage ditches — plus a continuing shift to fall plowing and chemical weed control are all shrinking the birds' "living room" in the Thumb locale.

Muskie Rules May Be Eased on St. Clair

Changes in special fishing regulations, recommended to take effect in 1968, are on tap for action by the Conservation Commission when it meets Thursday and Friday in Lansing.

The proposed revisions are pegged to individual waters where particular problems exist in managing fish populations. Many involve orders to lift or impose spearing restrictions to provide more sport or to protect fish populations.

A change is sought to suspend restrictive seasons and creel limits on muskellunge fishing in Lake St. Clair.

The commission will also be asked to let an order expire at the end of this year which limits trolling for muskellunge to one line in Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair and Detroit rivers.

Funds Authorized for Forest Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Transportation Department Tuesday authorized $354,118 for construction and improving in national forests in Michigan.

The funds were part of $33 million divided among 40 states and Puerto Rico, Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd said.

Bass Winner Over 7 Pounds

Near Record Pike Tops Press Derby

A near record pike and a number of large bass entries highlighted the 1967 Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby that ended at noon yesterday.

An 18½-pound northern, the second largest ever entered in the 31 years of the Derby, took pike division honors. The top bass was a 7-pound, 2-ounce largemouth.

★ ★ ★

Charles L. Goffar, 961 Steep Hollow, White Lake Twonship, caught the big pike July 15 while fishing Tull Lake near his home. The record for pike is 20-pounds, 4-ounces.

The winning bass was taken June 8 at Bridge Lake by Richard C. Phillips, 6421 Church, Clarkston. Both fishermen will receive $50 savings bonds.

Phillips' bass capped a hectic week of ever changing leaders, with five of the fish going better than 6½ pounds. Pike fishing continued slow for the second straight summer, but Goffar's lunker upheld Oakland County's reputation of having top pike producing waters.

Actually, this has been the year of the bass.

The season started at a fast pace with many limit catches reported. Fish were better than average in size. Action continued good on many area lakes and is reaching its peak this month.

Good catches of bass were taken during the Labor Day weekend at Pontiac, Orion, Lakeville, Loon, Union, Commerce, Oxbow, Valley and Cass lakes.

★ ★ ★

The regular trout season closes this Sunday, Sept. 10. Many waters however, remain open in Michigan. Lists are available at Conservation department district offices.

FISHING JAM

The big news over the weekend was the jam of anglers at Manistee. They made more news trying to launch boats and untangle lines than the coho salmon caught.

Good coho catches are being reported at Arcadia.

Norman Hovis, 169 Dwight, who spends summers at Arcadia, reports that he and his brother-in-law, George Lamont, caught two salmon just outside Arcadia Harbor in Lake Michigan. Both fish tipped the scales at 11½ pounds.

Foster Sanford, Drayton Plains, took 12½ and 5½ pounders last weekend at the mouth of the Platte River. Silver flatfish continue to be the favorite of fishermen and are producing well.

★ ★ ★

Although a few jacks are reported in the Manistee and Platte, no big spawners have been taken from the two rivers.

Coho Salmon Festival Set

HONOR — The coho salmon, Michigan's new sports fish, will be honored by this northwestern resort community Oct. 7-15 in the First National Coho Salmon Festival.

Festival highlights will include fishing contest for both coho and steelhead trout, parade, queen's contest and color tours.

Hunter Safety Week

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Sept. 24-30 as Hunter Safety Week in Michigan.

This "vacation equipment" is being used by a customer you may miss if you let your classified advertising take a summer vacation.

The fact is that a surprising number of people spend all or part of their vacations right at home.

They may give the house a coat of paint, build a new backyard barbecue, do some interior remodeling, or just plain loaf. But they never leave this market, and their buying power stays here in town with them.

Actually, they may even spend more than normal simply because they have the time to get to the stores. So if you have been cutting back on your ads because everyone is on vacation, give it a second thought. Your Pontiac Press Classified ad doesn't need a vacation. It will keep on selling the goods as long as you keep it in the paper.

Need help with your Classified Ad Program? Call 332-8181 and one of our well trained Ad-Visors will help. There is no extra charge.

The late Grant Mansee of Detroit was one of our best players but, more than that, he was one of the nicest people to play with or against.

JACOBY

Grant was confined to a wheel chair due to Korean War wounds but he was always cheerful and pleasant. What's more, he was unfailing in his courtesy to both partners and opponents.

Today's hand shows Grant's careful bidding style. He had a tremendous hand for his one heart opening. His double of one spade was for takeout so that his partner's two heart bid really didn't promise anything but Grant felt justified in going on to three, whereupon his partner realized that his king and two jacks ought to be enough for Grant.

There wasn't much to the play but it does illustrate how an expert declarer handles the problem of when and how to play trumps.

* * *

We don't know just what Grant would have done against a diamond opening, but West put the king of spades on the table.

Grant took his ace and led the suit right back. He wanted to establish dummy's jack and ten of spades as threats against the defenders.

West took his queen and found the diamond shift but it was too late to embarrass Grant. He took his ace of diamonds and played ace and king of hearts.

The game was match point duplicate and he wanted an overtrick in case hearts broke. The second heart lead to dummy's king left East with the good queen of hearts but the contract was home.

Grant led dummy's jack of spades and discarded his four of diamonds when East ruffed high. Later, Grant entered dummy with the nine of trumps and discarded a club on the ten of spades.

♥♣CARD Sense♠♦

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1♣	Pass	1♥
Pass	2♣	Pass	3♣
Pass	3♦	Pass

You, South, hold:
♠K 9 ♥A J 5 4 ♦4 3 2 ♣K 10 7 6

What do you do now?

A—Bid three no-trump. Your partner is asking you to do this if you can stop spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two clubs, your partner raises you from one heart to two. What do you do now?

NY Teachers Turn Down $125-Million Pay Raise

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Federation of Teachers has rejected a $125 million compromise pay raise plan which Mayor John V. Lindsay called "the biggest wage package in the city's history."

Federation President Albert Shanker said rejection Tuesday by the union's negotiating committee was unanimous.

"The schools will not be open on Monday," Shanker said. "If the superintendent of schools says they will be open, that's nonsense. There will be no teachers. There will be no school."

Alfred A. Giardino, president of the school board, declined to comment.

RECOMMENDATION

Lindsay had earlier strongly recommended that both the board and the union accept the plan drawn up by a three-man panel of experts.

Under the panel's plan the starting salary of beginning teachers would be raised $1,200 over two years—$800 effective Sept. 1, 1967, and $400 more next Sept. 1.

* * *

All other teachers would receive a $1,050 pay boost with $400 effective last Sept. 1 and $650 next Sept. 1.

The mayor said the panel's proposed $6,600 starting salary for beginning teachers next Sept. 1 would put New York ahead of all other cities and said the plan was "their final recommendation" and "my final recommendation."

BOWED TO MAYOR

Shanker, 39, told a news conference that he had private information that the panel had actually proposed "a more generous plan," but had bowed to pressure from the mayor.

The union has demanded a starting salary of $7,500 rising to a maximum of $15,000 and threatened a mass resignation of teachers if there is no contract next Monday when schools are scheduled to open for the city's 1.1 million pupils and 55,000 teachers.

The union adopted the resignation tactic because of a new state law which penalizes public employe unions which strike.

Top Minister Quits India Government

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi became acting foreign minister today, at least temporarily, amid rumors that some other Cabinet members would join M. C. Chagla in resigning because of the government's language policy.

* * *

Chagla, a former education minister, announced his resignation as foreign minister Tuesday. He took issue with the government's plan to replace the teaching of English with regional languages in five years, asserting this would cripple scientific studies and "threaten, if not undermine," the country's unity.

Chagla was unanimously praised for his "courageous step" by the same newspapers which severely criticized his outspoken support of the Arabs in the Arab-Israeli war.

Peace Corps Envisions Permanent Academies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Peace Corps may establish close ties with a few universities in the hope of eventually setting up permanent Peace Corps academies.

Brent K. Ashabranner, the corp's acting deputy director, sketched the outlines of the plan in a speech before the American Psychological Association.

* * *

"I am sure we will see in the next few years, he said, "a sharp decrease in the old pattern of one-shot, ad hoc training programs sprinkled willy-nilly around the nation's campuses."

He said that with fewer schools involved, the Peace Corps could establish an "in-depth relationship" in the hope that "the universities with which we develop such plans could almost become or contain Peace Corps academies."

For example, he said, next year the University of Hawaii, W.U., on a contract basis, train more than 1,000 volunteers for service in East Asia and the Pacific.

The rugged winter of 1966-67 was only the start of a whole cycle of icy winters that will affect the earth during the remainder of the 20th century, a geologist claims.

'Accusers of Greek Leftist in U.S. Deny Testimony'

NEW YORK (AP) — Ramparts magazine says it has brought to the United States two men it describes as the Greek military junta's "secret witnesses" against Andreas Papandreou.

Papandreou, a former economics professor at the University of California who gave up his American citizenship to return to Greece, is presently awaiting trial for treason in Athens.

* * *

Ramparts said Tuesday that Andreas Vachliotis and Kyriakos Diakogiannis assert the KYP—Greek secret police—"forced them to give perjured testimony against Greece's leading democrat."

In a full-page advertisement in the New York Times and the Washington Post today, Ramparts said the two are risking their lives by "publicly recanting their perjury now before the junta is able to bring Papandreou so maliciously to trial."

EVIDENCE 'UNTRUE'

The magazine asserted the "secret evidence against Andreas Papandreou, is wanton, untrue, perjured and garnered by blackmail" and alleged that the April coup which brought the junta to power was engineered by the KYP.

It said the same KYP agents "now constitute the real power behind the junta."

* * *

Ramparts, which earlier this year disclosed the secret involvement of the Central Intelligence Agency in the National Student Association, said, "Our investigators have uncovered no major CIA involvement in the Greek coup."

When Papandreou returned to Greece he became a leader of the leftist Center Union which was a prime target of the junta. He has been in prison since the coup.

Vachliotis is an Athens lawyer and Diakogiannis a former publisher of a Greek emigre magazine in Paris.

There is no evidence that leukemia is spread from person to person in an infectious manner.

'Recall Move at Midpoint'

DETROIT (AP) — Councilman Mary V. Beck said Tuesday she has collected 67,000 signatures—slightly more than half the number required—in her campaign to recall Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Miss Beck called for the mayor's recall in mid-April. She said her Recall Cavanagh Committee is getting "great response."

RECOMMENDED DEADLINE

She said she would recommend that the committee set a late October deadline for collecting the necessary 114,181 signatures.

"The decision to set the deadline will be up to the committee," she said. "However, I think we can intensify our campaign if we have a deadline because otherwise people just let things go."

Tuesday News at State Capitol

By the Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Warned teachers that further delay in contract settlement would be likely to influence the Legislature to stiffen Michigan's Hutchinson Act, which forbids strikes by public employes.

Confirmed that he will go to Washington next Tuesday to testify before the President's Special Advisory Commission on Civil Disturbances.

Announced several reappointments and appointments to state boards and commissions.

Left for Washington and a meeting of the National Governors' subcommittee on federal-state revenue sharing.

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Said 47 school districts remained without teacher contracts and described the state's teacher situation as "even more critical than we thought it would be just a few days ago."

Entertainer Eartha Kitt arrived at her Beverly Hills, Calif., home from her latest singing tour in an ambulance yesterday.

Queen Mary's Skipper Takes NY Cruise

Capt. John Treasure Jones has skippered the giant British liner Queen Mary into its Hudson River dock in New York innumerable times, but until this trip he'd never seen the East River, just two miles across Manhattan Island.

While 3,000 sightseers took advantage of their last chance to tour the 81,237-ton luxury vessel, Capt. Treasure Jones and his wife went for some sight-seeing of their own.

They took one of the tiny Circle Line boats and cruised all around Manhattan Island yesterday. Because of the courtesy of the sea, they didn't have to buy the $2.75 tickets.

The Queen Mary will be retired in October and serve Long Beach, Calif., as a combination hotel and convention hall. She was on her next-to-last visit to New York, but next time will not be open to the public.

Wife of Texas Governor to Undergo Surgery

Mrs. John Connally, 48-year-old wife of the Texas governor, enters M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston today for surgery.

The governor disclosed at a news conference yesterday that Mrs. Connally would undergo an operation tomorrow morning.

Connally said a routine medical checkup last week led to a decision by physicians that a small growth in a gland on her neck should be removed immediately.

"Every test and indication is that it (the growth) is negative and benign," Connally said. It was hoped Mrs. Connally would be in the hospital no more than two days.

GOLDEN MOON PROBE—An engineer at Hughes Aircraft Co. in El Segundo, Calif., inspects a gold-plated box and its contour cable which will be aboard Surveyor 5 when the spacecraft is launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., this week. If Surveyor 5 lands successfully on the moon, the box will be lowered to the moon's surface in an effort to determine the chemical composition of the lunar surface by bombarding it with alpha particles emitted from radioactive material in the box. Electronic signals to and from the box are carried by the contour cable.

Rains Flood N. Texas Town

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — Nearly seven inches of rain flooded part of Bonham in north Texas today, routing several families from their homes.

The deluge, falling steadily through the night, sent Power Creek surging out of banks and put muddy water in at least two food stores. It was waist deep in some parts of town.

Bonham gauges measured 6.75 inches of rain in less than 24 hours.

Persistent but comparatively light rains follow most other northern sections of Texas but the rains eased off in the sodden south part of the state.

Firemen were turned out about 4:30 a.m. at Bonham, a town of 8,000 residents 75 miles northeast of Dallas, to help some householders to safety and erect barricades on water-filled streets.

Officers told of an unidentified woman who started to work at a cotton mill, found her route blocked by the flood and turned back toward home, only to find that course also cut off. She took refuge with friends.

The lower Rio Grande Valley started drying out Tuesday after downpours measuring more than 12 inches, and only a few isolated showers were forecast today.

Copters to Join Hunt for Body

Tawas City GI Killed in New Mexico Cave

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — Helicopters were to be used today in an effort to recover the body of an Army lieutenant who fell about 100 feet in a cave as he and friends searched for the deepest hole in the United States.

A ground party braved 2,000-foot-high canyon walls Tuesday to reach the body of 2nd Lt. Douglas A. Evans, 24, Tawas City, Mich. Eddy County Sheriff Ray Anaya, who directed the rescue effort, said it would be impossible to get the body out on foot.

* * *

The 350-foot-deep cave, called Vanishing Rivers, is on the canyon floor and is in one of the most inaccessible spots in the rugged Guadalupe Mountains of Southeast New Mexico and West Texas.

Anaya said Evans was exploring with 2nd Lt. Charles L. Bolinger, Ft. Bliss, Tex.; 1st Lt. Richard Briesh, who with Evans was assigned to White Sands Missile Range in Southern New Mexico; and civilian Ellsworth Rolfs, who works at Holloman Air Force Base near White Sands.

NEAR PARK

Vanishing Rivers is about 15 miles from the Carlsbad Caverns National Park.

The four explorers entered the cave Monday morning and they started to leave about 5 p.m.

"Evans came out first so he could pull the gear up," the sheriff said. "They came to the conclusion that he must have slipped. Bolinger was on the first drop and he (Evans) landed about 10 feet from him. He died an hour and a half later," Anaya said.

Plane Wreckage Searched; 36 Survivors Still 'Serious'

GANDER, Nfld. (AP) — The 36 survivors of the fiery crash of a Czech airliner were reported still in serious condition today in hospitals in Gander, Montreal and Halifax as investigators searched the wreckage for clues to the cause of Gander's worst air disaster.

Those who fought the flames that engulfed the Soviet-built turboprop Ilyushin 18 early Tuesday said the survivors owed their lives to being thrown free when the plane crashed.

The big airliner taxied down the runway and lifted enough to clear about 1,500 yards of open ground before it dipped into a shallow ditch through which the Canadian National Railway's main line runs. It tore off at least one of its four propellers, spun across 1,000 yards of spongy marshland, and the 6,100 gallons of jet fuel aboard went up in a flash seen for miles.

The crash killed 31 of the 69 persons aboard, and two others died in a Gander hospital. The survivors—Czechs, Cubans and Poles—included 18 women, 11 men, 4 boys and 3 girls.

HAVANA BOUND

The plane was on a regular flight from Prague to Havana with refueling stops in Ireland and Gander.

Eighteen critically burned passengers were flown to Halifax, and seven others were sent to Montreal. A floodlit hangar a mile from the crash site became a morgue for the dead, who included the pilot, a Capt. Bucovsky, co-pilot and two others of the eight-man crew.

* * *

One survivor, Zdenek Landa, a 36-year-old Prague biologist, said from his Gander hospital bed: "On contact with the soil, I was catapulted off the airplane." When he hit the soggy mud, he added, "I was in flames."

Those first on the scene found nine persons staggering across the muck—a stewardess, the radio operator, the flight engineer, a male passenger, his wife and four children.

"The stewardess wanted us to help the others first," a rescuer said.

A Czech delegation was sent to join Canadian authorities in investigating the crash.

Exam Slated in Shooting of AF Noncom

A man arrested Monday following the shotgun wounding of an Air Force noncommissioned officer faces preliminary examination Sept. 13 on a charge of attempted murder.

Held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $15,000 bond set at arraignment yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum is Monroe Butler, 39, of 424 Highland.

He was arrested moments after police answered a shooting complaint in front of 430 Highland about 11 a.m.

Officers said the victim, Spec. 5 James Ziegler, 30, of Selfridge Air Force Base, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in a private vehicle.

* * *

Ziegler is listed in poor condition following surgery for wounds in the abdomen.

GUN IMPOUNDED

Butler was arrested in his home, according to police, who said they impounded a shotgun at the scene.

The incident followed an argument, witnesses said.

Aid Offered Grad Looking for a College

High school graduates who are still looking for a Michigan college or university to attend this fall can get some assistance from the State Department of Education.

"A survey of colleges and universities indicates there are several hundred openings for students this fall," State Supt. of Public Instruction Ira Polley said today.

"We will do our best to direct students to those openings in the next few weeks."

Polley said at least 30 colleges or universities have indicated openings ranging from a half dozen to 500.

He emphasized that students should act quickly to be directed to the openings by sending their name, address, type of program interested in and other college preferences to the State Department of Education, Bureau of Higher Education in Lansing.

Broadcast Strike Threat Is Averted by Agreement

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A threatened strike by 3,000 broadcast employes was averted, at least for several days, when union negotiators reached agreement Tuesday with the National Broadcasting Co., on a new contract and agreed to submit to union members a proposal from the American Broadcasting Co.

Tim O'Sullivan of Los Angeles, spokesman for negotiators of the National Association of Broadcast Employes and Technicians, AFL-CIO, said ABC's proposal would be turned over to the union's members without a recommendation.

The union committee, recommending acceptance of the NBC settlement, said a vote on both proposals is expected in a matter of days.

O'Sullivan said the mechanics of the union vote would be mapped at a meeting in Miami Beach today. The union has bargaining units in five cities—New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago and Washington—involved in the negotiations, which started Aug. 7.

Terms of the networks' final offer were not disclosed, but the tentative NBC contract was reported to cover a three-year period and was to be retroactive to the expiration five months ago of NABET's old contract.

The union had been working under an extension that expired last Friday.

A major difference in the two proposals, a union spokesman said, was the networks' policies on staffing color facilities.

O'Sullivan said NABET had demanded a four-day work week and pay raises from the present $218 to $300 a week for most of its members.

A scheduled strike announcement Tuesday by NABET was delayed after federal mediators called another negotiating session. A strike had been threatened since the contract extension expired.

Network spokesmen had indicated a strike would not affect the new television season as regular shows are taped in advance.

The negotiations, continuing on a day-to-day basis after Friday's deadline passed, appeared to have reached a critical point Monday night when the mediators temporarily called an end to the bargaining.

At that time, mediators said, "There appears to be no possibility of resolving the dispute."

Employes of the Columbia Broadcasting System, represented by a different union, were not affected by the negotiations.

NABET claims a total membership of 8,500. O'Sullivan said the union's ABC and NBC members included 2,500 engineering personnel, 200 news writers and 300 other employes, some of them building maintenance workers.

Eighteen color television sets of undetermined value were stolen from a truck parked at the rear of the Norwalk Interstate Trucking Co., 853 Woodward, it was reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

2 Youths Rob Motel in Area

Two youthful bandits held up a Waterford Township motel early today and escaped with $77.70 after threatening the night clerk with a hunting knife and tying him up.

Pontiac State Police said the robbery occurred at the Highlander Motel, 2201 Dixie at Telegraph, about 2:30 a.m.

The night clerk, Ferdinand Witt of 8130 Barnsbury, Commerce Township, told police the pair entered the motel on the pretense they wanted to rent a room.

One of the intruders captured Witt's attention by walking into a bathroom and telling him a toilet was overflowing. Meanwhile, the other youth flashed a knife.

* * *

The bandits then took the money from a cash drawer and bound and gagged Witt before escaping in a motor vehicle.

Witt managed to remove the gag from his mouth and contact the owner about 30 minutes later.

Witt described the bandits as white males about 18 or 19 years old, of average size.

'Grand' Stolen, Then Recovered, Now Misplaced

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — A troublesome $1,000—first was stolen, then recovered, now lost.

It belongs to a Roman Catholic priest, and since it no longer is needed as evidence in a burglary case, he wants it back.

★ ★ ★

Police went into a big walk-in safe to get the money Tuesday and rooted through pistols, jewelry, burglary tools and the like, but couldn't find the $1,000.

They plan an item-by-item search.

Squishy Sea of Goo Stops Street Traffic

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Ripe tomatoes—19½ tons of them — plopped onto a main Oakland street Tuesday, creating a squishy sea of red goo.

The tomatoes were in a pair of 18-foot-long trailers that overturned when the tractor's air brakes failed.

★ ★ ★

The accident held up traffic on Broadway for two hours while the fire department plowed into the muck with hoses and flushed it away.

Burton Regales Columnist With Winnie's Comic Crack

By EARL WILSON

ALGHERO, Sardinia — Richard Burton recounted in front of Elizabeth Taylor his favorite tale of Winston Churchill and Elizabeth Taylor.

"He didn't know me by name, but as 'that young man from Old Vic,' " Burton said.

WILSON

"At the time of the scandal, with Sybil and Eddie Fisher going home, he asked somebody 'What's this young man from Old Vic doing? He's left his wife and going to marry an American actress. Poor lamb!' "

Elizabeth, well acquainted with the story, called across the table: "He meant me!"

"No, he meant me!" Burton hooted back, and went right on . . .

"Once when I was on one of my jags—I was drunk for 2½ days—I went to the theater to do 'Hamlet' and the stage manager said, 'Do be good tonight, dear heart, the Old Man is out in front.'

"I thought 'Oh my God, how to get sober!' I splashed water on my hair, and looked like a fuzzy-wuzzy. I called Sybil. She flattened my hair with some grease.

"We started, and I heard a dull rumble from down front. Churchill wanted to show he knew the play and was saying every line with me, I went faster but I couldn't shake him off.

"At the intermission there was a knock at my door. Churchill said, 'My Lord Hamlet, may I be permitted to use your lavatory?' He had a little trouble, so My Lord Hamlet helped the Prime Minister unbutton his trousers."

Try to Tempt the Reluctant Breakfast Eaters

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Here we are again at the beginning of another school year. We have to readjust our schedules and those with children have to plan earlier breakfasts.

For some, breakfast means a battle. For years, we've been of the opinion that anything within reason an individual eats for breakfast is better than no food.

What if it doesn't agree with your idea of the first meal of the day?

Growing children need fruit, cereal products and some form of protein for breakfast.

Bacon is usually a favorite food. Served with several orange-flavored pancakes, it will help ward off hunger until lunch time.

ORANGE GRIDDLECAKES

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
6 tablespoons (⅓ 6-ounce can) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
3 tablespoons melted shortening or oil.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk and undiluted orange concentrate. Add to flour mixture, stirring only until mixture is blended. Mix in shortening. (Batter will be slightly lumpy.)

* * *

Use about 3 tablespoons batter for each griddlecake. Bake on a hot, lightly greased griddle until bubbly on top and brown on bottom. Turn to brown other side. Serve with Orange Butter Topping*. Yield: 15 3-inch griddlecakes.

Orange Butter Topping

½ cup soft butter
Dash salt
1 cup honey or maple-flavored syrup
6 tablespoons (⅓ 6-ounce can) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted

Cream together butter and salt. Add honey, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until thoroughly blended. Gradually beat in undiluted orange concentrate. Serve on griddlecakes, French toast or waffles.

Refrigerate remaining topping. Beat thoroughly or soften at room temperature before serving.

By using the method of letting the dough rise in the refrigerator, you can have hot cinnamon rolls for breakfast without getting up before dawn. The fragrance as they bake should get anyone out of bed.

CINNAMON GLAZED BRAN ROLLS

1¾ cups milk, scalded
3 cups bran flakes
⅓ cup shortening
⅓ cup granulated sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
2 packages active dry yeast
2 eggs
4 to 4¼ cups sifted flour

* * *

Pour 1¼ cups of hot milk over bran flakes. Add shortening, granulated sugar and salt. Cool remaining scalded milk to lukewarm. Add yeast; stir until dissolved. Add to cereal mixture. Stir in eggs and flour, as needed, to make a stiff dough.

Turned onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Cover with bowl, plastic film, or towel and let stand 20 minutes.

Shape dough into 24 equal size balls and place in greased muffin pans (2½x1¼ inches). Cover with plastic film; refrigerate 2 to 24 hours.

* * *

Let stand at room temperature 10 minutes before baking (while oven heats). Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) until done, about 20 minutes.

* * *

Frost tops with favorite confectioners' sugar icing flavored with a small amount of cinnamon. Yield: 2 dozen rolls.

Beef Strips for a Salad

If there's roast beef left from weekend feasting, you may want to extend it this way.

Roast Beef Potato Salad

1 package (9 ounces) frozen French green beans with sauteed mushrooms
⅓ cup mayonnaise
3 tablespoons light cream
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
¾ teaspoon (generous) salt
1½ cups cubed cooked potatoes (3 medium)
1½ cups thin strips cooked beef (leftover from roast)

Cook beans according to package directions, omitting the butter and increasing the water to 3 tablespoons; drain. Combine mayonnaise, cream, horseradish and salt. Add hot vegetable and potatoes; chill.

Turn out on serving plate; arrange roast beef on top or around salad. Garnish with lettuce and capers. Makes 4 portions — 1 cup each.

Spicy Sauce for Tomatoes

Top broiled tomatoes with a spicy deviled sauce.

Combine in top of a double boiler 1 hard-cooked egg, mashed, 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 tablespoon each of worcestershire sauce and wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon each of sugar and curry powder, and ½ teaspoon of prepared mustard. Cook over hot water 3 to 4 minutes; stir constantly until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and let stand while broiling 6 tomatoes.

Halve, season to taste with salt and pepper, sprinkle with bread crumbs (use total of ¼ cup of crumbs) and dot with butter.

Before serving, top each half with some sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Tricks With Eggs

For easy shelling of a hard-boiled egg, hold the egg under running cold water while peeling.

For easy slicing of a hard-boiled egg without crumbs, butter the knife you are using before you start slicing.

All of Thompson Seedless Grapes Come From One Vine

The first seedless "white" grape vine was discovered 76 years ago by a California farmer named William Thompson, whose name they have borne ever since. Thompson carefully nurtured his lucky find, and took as many cuttings as he dared.

* * *

Today, the descendants of that single original vine cover a quarter-million acres in California alone. The Thompsons have become synonymous with table grapes in this country, and more of them are eaten than any other variety of grape grown here.

* * *

The reason for their popularity is not hard to understand. Sweet, juicy and plump, they do away with the bother of seeds.

A perfect snack, they can be eaten out of hand, or added to sauces, puddings, main dishes, salads or desserts in almost any part of the weekly menu.

Grape cookery is a well-established part of the American tradition (America's first name was "Vinland," after the profusion of grape vines that were found here) — and the Thompson Seedless grapes have added a new dimension.

* * *

What could be more convenient to a cook than a versatile fruit that doesn't have to be seeded?

For some cool desserts or snacks, try the following:

● Fill a parfait glass with alternating layers of vanilla ice cream, Thompson Seedless grapes and lemon ice. Top with sweetened cream and additional grapes.

* * *

● Prepare your favorite jelly roll. Cool and spread with sweetened whipped cream. Top with halved Thompson Seedless grapes. Roll up and frost with additional cream. Cover roll with halved grapes.

● Shape cream cheese spread into a large, oval shaped ball on an individual salad plate on a lettuce leaf. Press halved Thompson Seedless grapes on top of cheese (to resemble a large bunch of grapes).

Add a green leaf and surround with slices of peeled fresh orange. Serve with tiny bread and butter sandwiches or tea muffins.

Grape Chiffon Pie

16 sugar cookies
2 packages (3 ounces each) pineapple-orange gelatin
2½ cups boiling water
1 cup (½ pint) sour cream
2 cups stemmed Thompson seedless grapes
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Use cookies to line the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan.

* * *

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat in sour cream. Chill until very thick. Beat with rotary egg beater or electric mixer until light and fluffy. Fold in 1¾ cups of the grapes.

Pour mixture into cookie lined pan. Chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream, sweetened to taste, if desired and remaining grapes. Makes one 9-inch pie.

New Idea for Cereal

Pour buttermilk over your favorite flake cereal; sprinkle generously with chopped walnuts and sweeten to taste.

how many ribs in a pork loin rib portion?

We think there should be seven.
Not five or six.
With A&P's seven-rib portion, you get more of the select meat.

How can you tell how many ribs you're getting?
It's easy.
With your fingers, you can feel and count the rib bones in the package.

Next time you're buying a Pork Loin Rib Portion, check it.
If you can't count one, two, three, four, five, six, seven ribs, you're missing select meat.
You're not getting the best value for your meat dollar.

Seven-Rib Pork Loin Portions are just one example of the full value A&P meats offer.

We think that caring like this about fair portions has helped make A&P America's largest meat retailer.

When you think about it, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Put Lemon Peel on Cookie Tops

Sprinkle those buttered cookies that you bake with grated lemon peel and sugar before baking. This will give them a wonderful flavor — a citrus tang.

* * *

You can cut cookies with a tin can from which both ends have been removed. Sprinkle your topping in the can before you remove it from the cooky dough. It goes exactly where you want it — on top of the cookies.

PICNIC HAM-AND-EGGERS. — Spicy egg salad is rolled up in a slice of baked ham, and the whole is placed in a buttered frankfurter roll. Isn't that an easy way to carry hearty fare to a picnic?

Sandwich Has Roll Inside Roll

Picnic Ham-and-Eggers are substantial sandwiches consisting of egg salad rolled up in ham and the whole tucked into frankfurter rolls. Sweet fresh cucumber pickles provide the necessary spice.

* * *

These sandwiches can, in fact should be, made ahead of time and thoroughly chilled before carrying to the picnic.

Picnic Ham-and-Eggers

6 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
½ cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon chopped onion
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash Tabasco
¼ cup mayonnaise
8 slices boiled ham, about ¾ pound
8 frankfurter rolls, split and buttered

Mix together eggs, pickles, celery, pimiento, onion, seasonings and mayonnaise. Spread a portion of egg salad in center of each ham slice.

Starting at narrow end roll up ham slice, jelly-roll fashion; place in rolls. Wrap in saran and chill for picnic. Makes 8 sandwiches.

Not So Sticky

Sprinkle waxed paper with powdered sugar when wrapping a piece of frosted cake for your child's or husband's lunch. The powdered sugar will prevent the frosting from sticking to the paper, saves sticky fingers and looks so much more appetizing.

Ever Put Cheese in Chicken Stew?

Include this Golden Chicken stew in your list of outdoor menus. It's a great change of pace made in larger proportions, and a handy main dish for serving a crowd.

1 can (1 pound 3 ounces) chicken stew
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
Generous dash garlic powder

In saucepan, combine ingredients. Heat; stir now and then.

Put Tomatoes, Garlic in Fish Recipe

The good people of Provence, a sunny region in France, really know how to live. Their joyous attitude toward living extends to an exuberent appreciation of fine food, so any specialty labeled "Provencal" can be depended upon to be delicious.

* * *

Cooking a la Provencal takes in a tremendous range of food types — soups, fish and seafood dishes, vegetables, pastas —and is characterized by the use of tomato and garlic, or sometimes garlic alone.

Halibut Provencal

1 pound fresh or frozen halibut streaks
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup chopped onions
1 tomato, chopped
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash garlic
½ cup tomato juice (or red wine)
2 sweet peppers
Cooked rice (optional)

Thaw frozen halibut steaks until no longer icy. Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add onions; cook until soft. Add tomato, salt, pepper and garlic powder; stir over moderate heat for one minute. Push to one side of pan.

Add halibut, cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes. Turn steaks; add tomato juice or red wine. Cover and cook 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, cut peppers into thin strips. When fish is tender, top with pepper strips; cover and cook 3 minutes longer. Serve with cooked rice, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

CHOCOLATE PUFFED OAT FUDGE — Almost all "kids" will like making and eating this rich chocolate fudge. But the addition of puffed oat cereal keeps the confection from being too sweet.

Make Fudge With a Pudding Mix

"Kids" of all ages like candy. None, perhaps, so much as teens who enjoy taking over the kitchen to prepare a batch of fudge.

Here is a rich chocolate fudge having fewer of the pitfalls found in the usual candy cookery. Young people should love trying their hand at it. It is made with such convenience foods as packaged chocolate pudding and pie filling, marshmallow creme, and puffed oat cereal.

The cereal looks like nuts and serves the same crunchy purpose. But it is less expensive and somewhat reduces the "sweetness" of the confection though none of its creamy goodness. The recipe is an interesting illustration of how cereal's multi-faceted flavors and forms lend themselves to creative cookery.

Chocolate Puffed Oat Fudge

1 package (4 ounce) chocolate pudding and pie filling (not instant)
1 cup sugar
½ cup evaporated milk
1 package (6 ounce) chocolate bits
1 cup marshmallow creme
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups puffed oat cereal

Combine pudding and pie filling, sugar, and milk in a heavy saucepan. Cook over moderately high heat, stirring constantly, until syrup is boiling to center of pan. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat; stir in chocolate bits, marshmallow creme, and vanilla. Beat until mixture begins to lose its gloss. Stir in cereal.

Pour into buttered 8-inch square pan. Spread evenly. Cool and cut into squares. Yield: About 36 squares.

Homemade Cheese Crackers Good With Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Once upon a time before our food shops were laden with every sort of cracker imaginable, ladies made their own. To this cookbooks of the past century attest.

But even these days a cook may enjoy turning her hand to making a delicious variety of cracker in her own kitchen. With an excellent recipe such as the one that follows, you can't miss.

We find these Cheese Crackers, to which cornmeal gives an interesting texture and cheddar cheese a zesty flavor, are a delightful accompaniment for a salad. You might like to bake the crackers when you are entertaining at lunch.

Although these Cheese Crackers have a crunchy quality, don't expect them to have the brittle quality of bought crackers.

To have these homemade crackers at their best, follow our directions for baking (or reheating), cooling and serving. If you don't, you'll be offering crackers that are too limp.

Cheese Crackers

1⅓ cups sifted regular flour
⅔ cup enriched white cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup (¼ pound) grated (medium fine) cheddar cheese
1 egg yolk
⅓ cup milk
1 whole egg

Into a medium mixing bowl, sift together the flour, cornmeal and salt. With a pastry blender, cut in the butter until particles are fine; with a fork, stir in the cheese.

In a small bowl, beat the yolk to break up; add milk and beat to combine; add to flour mixture; mix well. If necessary, add a little more milk to make dough hold together.

Turn out on a prepared pastry cloth; knead gently 2 or 3 times. Divide dough in half; roll out each half to form a 12 by 10-inch rectangle.

* * *

Cut into 2-inch squares. Place slightly apart on ungreased cookie sheets. With a fork, thoroughly prick each cracker.

In a small bowl, beat the whole egg enough to combine yolk and white; brush crackers with beaten egg. Bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven or until a rich golden brown —about 10 minutes.

Remove to wire rack to cool; serve at once. Makes 60 crackers.

Store any leftover crackers in a covered container; just before serving, in a moderate or hot oven heat the crackers just until hot through; cool and serve at once.

Kitchen Notes

You'll find it easiest to cut the butter into the flour mixture if you allow the butter to stand at room temperature for about 10 minutes.

It's a good idea to cut these crackers into squares as suggested; rounds or other shapes may be cut, but this involveds re-rolling the dough which will toughen the crackers.

These crackers must be pricked thoroughly before baking to prevent them from bubbling and blistering. The blistering causes uneven browning and mars the appearance.

Brushing the crackers, before baking, with beaten whole egg gives a shiny golden glaze.

For a pastry brush, you can use a small, flat, soft bristled brush bought at a paint or hardware store and kept in the kitchen for use in cookery.

Marinate cooked carrot strips in an oil and vinegar dressing and add plenty of minced fresh dill.

Failure Seen for Next Drive to Seat Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The annual campaign to seat Communist China in the United Nations has not even started yet and its failure is being predicted already.

Communist sources said Secretary General U Thant would get a request from some nonaligned and Communist countries this week that the General Assembly convening Sept. 19 should take up an item titled "Restoration of the Lawful Rights of the People's Republic of China in the United Nations."

* * *

Debate on that subject in recent years has always ended with the defeat of a resolution aimed to recognize Peking representatives as "the only lawful representatives of China to the United Nations" and to oust the Chinese Nationalists from all U.N. bodies.

Pro-Nationalist diplomats forecast that it would be voted down by about the same margin as last year.

PAST VOTES

The margin against the resolution at that time was 57-46, with seven abstentions. That was much better for the Nationalist side than the year before, when a similar resolution failed on a 47-17 tie, with 20 abstentions. The assembly has ruled that a two-thirds vote is needed to make a change.

* * *

The United States, a strong supporter of Nationalist China, has angered the Arabs by taking what the Arabs said was a pro-Israeli stand during and after the Israeli-Arab war of last June. Communist China itself has shocked friends and enemies alike with the riots of Mao Tse-tung's Red Guards inside China and out. But indications are that neither factor will count for much in the voting here.

* * *

One Western diplomat said there had been reports that, to spite the United States, some Arab countries would switch from abstaining to voting for Communist China, but these had been disproved.

* * *

Another pro-Nationalist source remarked that the Chinese Reds' backers seemed to stick by them no matter what they did. He said, "India has been in trouble with the Chinese Communists for years and she still keeps working for them."

VOTE PERSUASIONS

Analysis shows that how a country votes on the China-seating issue depends not so much on how Peking behaves as on which Chinese government it recognizes, which is the more persuasive in lobbying for its vote and what its traditional position is on the issue.

The Communist sources said Algeria and Cambodia recently drafted a memorandum to explain the case for seating Communist China and circulated it for the approval of the other seven countries that put the question before the 1966 assembly—Albania, the Congo (Brazzaville), Cuba, Guinea, Mali, Romania and Syria.

* * *

They said these other countries since had been waiting for their governments' instructions on whether to join in the request again this year. The informants expected that all or nearly all of them would do so.

Communist China sometimes alleges that the United Nations is merely an instrument for U.S.-Soviet collaboration against the world revolutionary movement. But the fact that her friends keep trying to get her seated here would seem to indicate tha U.N. ambitions are not entirely excluded from Mao's thoughts.

New Economic Theory Puts Author to the Test

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Not long after he took office the late President Kennedy generated a medium-sized controversy by attacking what he called fiscal "clinches."

WEST

It was his contention that economic progress was being impeded by ancient concepts of frugality and budgetary balancing which had become outmoded, if indeed they were ever valid in the first place.

It is not now my intent to argue that point on either side, but rather to introduce a new economic theory to supersede it.

For textbook purposes, I have labeled it "The West-McHale Theory of Cliche-Induced Prosperity."

The name behind the first hyphen belongs to Terence McHale of the Flint (Mich.) Journal, who underwrote and performed the field work necessary to validate the theory. My role has been that of senior consultant.

* * *

Simply stated in terms the average layman can comprehend, our theory holds that a fiscal cliche which might ordinarily depress the economy will under certain circumstances actually stimulate it.

SOUND THEORY

In field tests, McHale took the cliche "waste not, want not" and applied it to a 29-cent bottle of head cleaner." The results brought clear cut confirmation that thhe theory is sound.

Head cleaner, incidentally, is a fluid used in the maintenance of tape recorders. Someone had sent a bottle of it to McHale with a suggestion that he use it on himself.

Despite the implied insult, McHale kept the bottle on his desk. His allegiance to the "waste not, want not" axiom was so strong he could not bring himself to throw it away.

* * *

"My frugal nature dictated that it should be put to some use," read his laboratory notes. "As the days turned to weeks and the weeks to months it became something of an obsession. Finally, a couple of weeks ago, I was impelled to act."

BUYS DEVICE

What McHale did, of course, was go out and buy a tape recorder. This, however, did not completely solve the problem of putting the head cleaner to use.

He subsequently discovered he had purchased a "tape deck," which is a hi-fi component and is not equipped with speakers. Next step: buy two speakers.

Once the speakers were installed, McHale learned that a tape deck does not have its own amplifier. And once an amplifier had been purchased, he found that a tape deck does not function without tape.

* * *

"The 29-cent bottle of head cleaner had the net effect of putting nearly $1,000 into the economy," McHale reports.

Proving that cliches are due for a comeback.

Golfing 'Hazard'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A threesome in Lincoln Park golf course reported finding a new kind of "hazard" as they played on the 5th fairway. A man rushed up to them, pulled a gun and relieved the three of $77. The golfers admitted they didn't play as well the rest of the round.

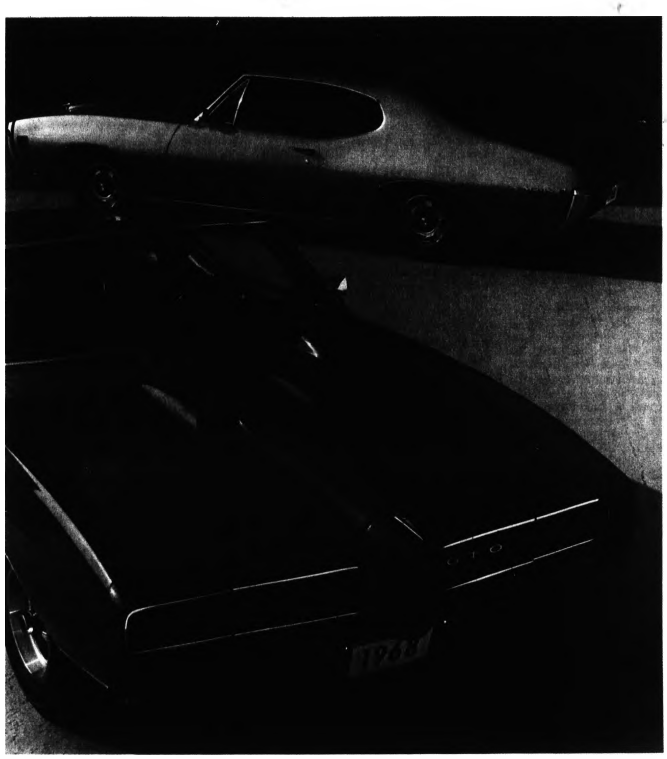
VOL. 125 — NO. 182 ★★★★★ PONTIAC, MICHIGAN, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1967—64 PAGES ASSOCIATED PRESS UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL 10c

Safety, Performance Highlight '68 Pontiacs



NEW FOR 1968 — In the foreground of this Spectacolor picture is the GTO convertible, with the new energy-absorbing front bumper. Concealed headlamps and hood-mounted tachometer are options. Also pictured is the LeMans two-door hardtop coupe which shows the Tempest styling for 1968. Featuring the popular long-hood short-deck look, the LeMans has a new roof line that blends into the rear section.

Auto writers of the nation gathered at Bloomfield Hills Country Club today to view the new Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds for 1968.

What they saw was a boldly designed line of cars with improved safety and performance — well calculated to continue Pontiac's record sales acceptance.

In unveiling the 33 new models, Pontiac General Manager John Z. DeLorean predicted his division would sell 860,000 units this calendar year, compared to the record 834,843 a year ago.

DeLorean estimated Pontiac would have a 200,000-unit lead over the nearest competitor for third place in the auto industry.

The division currently is in its seventh consecutive year of selling in third place.

DISTINCTIVE STYLING

A distinctive Pontiac-oriented styling theme highlighted by a new wide peripheral front bumper and dominant center section is featured on all Catalina, Executive, Bonneville and Grand Prix models.

Crushable armrests, additional interior padding and new side marker lamps are included in the built-in safety features of the 1968 line.

"The safety, comfort and convenience of driving a new Pontiac are at their highest level," says DeLorean.

Speaking of Pontiac sales, DeLorean indicated pride in Pontiac's increasing market penetration.

10 PCT. TOPPED

"Seven years ago we were getting 6.8 per cent of all domestic sales. This year we are obtaining 10.8 per cent, the first time we have ever topped the 10 per cent mark."

He pointed out that in order to sell at the current record volume, Pontiac has had to significantly increase its productive capacity.

"Our expansion program will be completed next spring with our new 280,000-square-foot chassis parts plant," he added.

★ ★ ★

"Plant space has been increased 24 per cent in the past four years."

CHANGES FOR TEMPEST

The Tempest line for '68 shows the most extensive styling changes since its introduction seven years ago, and the Firebird sports car which arrived in January also has undergone evolutionary styling revision.

A total of 17 models in four series is available in the Pontiac line for 1968. They go on sale Sept. 21.

There are seven models in the volume-selling Catalina: two door sedan, four-door sedan, hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible, two-seat station wagon and three-seat station wagon.

In the Executive line models include the four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, hardtop coupe, two-seat station wagon, and three-seat station wagon.

LUXURY MODELS

The four models bearing the Bonneville luxury label are the hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, convertible and three-seat wagon.

The Grand Prix features a hardtop coupe.

All front-end components are integrated into one uncluttered design unit in the new peripheral bumper. Dual headlights are placed horizontally within the bumpers.

All parking lamps are below the bumper and are teamed with side marker lamps in one housing to share a common lens that wraps around for side visibility.

EXCLUSIVE MOLDING

Body sides emphasize the full-length side peak line and are accented with an exclusive narrow molding with a vinyl plastic insert on all models except the Executive station wagon and the Grand Prix.

The molding insert guards against parking lot scratches and dents.

From the rear, the new look includes wide tail lamps which turn down at the outboard ends, except on the Grand Prix and station wagons.

★ ★ ★

The instrument panel has additional thick foam padding, and full-width padding has also been added to the center of the panel.

RECESSED IGNITION

Included in the new safety features is a recessed ignition key, and additional padding on the front seat backs.

Pontiac's concealed windshield wipers, an industry first last year, have been improved to provide quieter operation, quicker response, and over-all better control of the area.

The 1968s are an inch longer, and have more power. The standard engine for the Catalina and Executive series is a 400 cubic-inch V8 with 290 horsepower, up from 265 last year.

★ ★ ★

The Bonneville is at 340, compared to 333 last year, and the Grand Prix is 350, up from 333.

TWO WHEELBASES

For the first time, the Tempest will be built on two wheelbases. All two-door coupes and convertibles will have a 112-inch wheelbase, compared to 115 last year. The four-door models and station wagons will be built on a 116-inch base.

The Tempest has Pontiac-inspired styling, with emphasis on the venturi shape, accentuating the long-hood and short-deck profile.

There are 11 models in the four Tempest series. The sports coupe and the four-door sedan make up the Tempest series.

★ ★ ★

The Tempest Custom offers a sports coupe, hardtop coupe, four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, convertible and two-seat station wagon.

LeMANS MODELS

LeMans models include a sports coupe, hardtop coupe, four-door hardtop, and convertible. The Tempest Safari is a separate series with the four-door, two-seat station wagon.

There are two GTO models, a hardtop coupe and a convertible.

The fully concealed windshield wipers pioneered on the Pontiac line last year are now on the full Tempest line.

The wide track has been increased for the 1968 Tempests. Both front and rear tread are 60 inches, for an increase of two inches in front and one inch in the rear. Over-all length is nearly six inches less on the two-door models.

State Teachers Picketing

By The Associated Press

Teachers in many of Michigan's 47 disputing school districts, including Detroit, headed from the bargaining table to the picket line today as deadlines for contract agreement passed without settlement.

Nearly one-fourth of the state's more than 2.06 million school children may miss the scheduled opening of classes this week because of failure to settle disputes.

The Detroit Federation of Teachers bargained into the night with the Detroit Board of Education, although the teacher group already had announced picket lines would be set up at 6 a.m. today.

Yesterday teachers had overwhelmingly rejected the board's latest contract offer. The unofficial margin was 5,036-113.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gov. William Milliken reported that 18,878 pupils were turned away from six teacherless schools yesterday and another 73,678 were expected to be sent home today. This figure could grow to half a million by tomorrow, the day most Michigan schools were to open.

WITHOUT CONTRACTS

Of the 47 districts without agreement, teachers in 34 have voted not to report for duty unless contract demands are met. Teachers in eight other districts said they would work without contracts and the situation still was not clear in five districts.

Picket lines were up yesterday in at least eight Detroit area school districts.

In the Inkster district, where 78 per cent of the 224 teachers have voted "no contract, no work," teachers picketed all 10 schools and refused to help register the district's 5,000 pupils.

★ ★ ★

Oak Park teachers picketed all eight district schools after refusing the school board's latest contract offer.

OTHER PICKETS

Picket lines also went up in Dearborn, Harper Woods, Highland Park, Ecorse, Taylor Township, and Southgate.

Tony Kaiser, president of the Hamtramck Federation of Teachers, said, "We're on strike as of Wednesday. The pickets will be up." He said negotiations for 129 teachers for some 6,000 students in the Detroit suburb have broken off with no meetings scheduled.

★ ★ ★

Educators repeatedly have asked Romney to open the October special legislative session to the question of more money for schools, but he repeatedly has refused.

Certainty of Strike Hovers Over Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Barring the unexpected, 159,000 United Auto Workers will strike Ford Motor Co. plants in 25 states at midnight tonight.

On this, and little else, both company and union agree.

The anticipated walkout would support the UAW's quest for a new, pattern-setting contract that the union will ask Chrysler and General Motors to match or better.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-5, C-7

Negotiators — admittedly poles apart after eight weeks of talks — resume work today, just hours before the current three-year pact expires.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther predicted the session would be "merely academic, marking time."

Malcolm L. Denise, Ford's top negotiator, said, "I am not bitter. I am extremely unhappy. The outlook is extremely dim."

William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, told newsmen, "There is always hope, but I would not want to overemphasize that hope."

Also expected today were answers from General Motors and Chrysler to a union query of whether they would extend current agreements with the union if Ford is struck and they are not.

Reuther said yesterday, however, that UAW members would remain on their jobs at GM and Chrysler, if the companies let them, even without an extension of the agreements.

INDUSTRY TRADITION

This is traditional in the auto industry, and the companies always have paid wages and benefits under the expired contracts.

Weatherman Sees Fair Skies in Area

Sunny and mild is the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for Pontiac area today with highs reaching 77 to 83. Fair skies will continue tonight with lows between 50 and 56.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with little temperature change.

★ ★ ★

Little change is expected Friday.

Precipitation probabilities remain near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

The low temperature reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today was 52. By 1 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 76.

School Openings in Doubt in 3 S. Oakland Districts

Hope is dim for the opening of school tomorrow in three south Oakland County school districts — Troy, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. Troy is already two days late in beginning classes.

★ ★ ★

Negotiators in all three districts said today that early settlement of the contract disputes did not appear likely.

Meantime, the bulk of the schools in the county, including Pontiac and Waterford Township, expected to resume classes on schedule.

A spokesman for the Birmingham schools said school definitely would not open tomorrow, but would begin one day after there is a settlement of the dispute with teachers.

★ ★ ★

Pickets were not in evidence at any of the schools still in dispute. Spokesmen representing Troy and Bloomfield Hills teachers said that such action was not in keeping with their standards.

LAST-DITCH TALKS

Last-ditch talks are scheduled today including a series of appearances by National Education Association President Braylio Alonzo who flew in today from Florida.

Main areas of dispute are: Birmingham — salaries and fringe benefits; Bloomfield Hills—noneconomic issues; Troy—salaries.

Farmington teachers will vote tomorrow, the first day of classes on a proposed pact. Approval is expected, according to the chief negotiator for the Farmington Education Association, C. B. Shewbridge.

Other area districts with contracts ratified yesterday were Clarkston, Oxford, Huron Valley, West Bloomfield and Clarenceville. Walled Lake ratified late Monday.

U.S. Judges Reject Kuhn's Tax Suit

Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn said today he will continue his court fight against the new state income tax despite a legal setback yesterday.

A panel of three federal judges dismissed Kuhn's case on the grounds that it had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Kuhn, the brother of State Sen. George W. Kuhn, R-14th District, contends that the tax, scheduled to go into effect in October, is unconstitutional because voters have been denied their right to decide the issue in a referendum election.

"There is no question that I will pursue the matter," said Kuhn, "but I want to review the eight-page opinion before deciding what direction I will take.

★ ★ ★

Kuhn said that he has not yet received a copy of the opinion.

"As far as I know it deals only with the jurisdictional dispute and not the merits of the case," said Kuhn.

Banner Sales Forecast for '68 by GM Execs

DETROIT (AP) — Top General Motors Corp. executives said yesterday that 1967 model car sales would run about 8.6 million, third highest in the history of the auto industry, and predicted 9 million car sales for 1968.

In a joint statement, GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President James M. Roche expressed optimism for 1968 sales. They made no mention of a possible strike by the United Auto Workers Union, but noted another banner sales year would depend on continued production.

"Assuming production is maintained and with a continued expansion of business activity, employment and income, the motor vehicle industry has every reason for optimism about its outlook for the 1968 model year," the statement said.

"Under favorable circumstances, total vehicle sales of about 10.75 million units, including over 9 million passenger cars, is a reasonable expectation.

"The sustained growth of automobile demand in the 1968 model year, as in the past years, will depend on the continued expansion of economic activity generally.

"Most currently available indicators of the outlook provide very solid grounds for optimism," the statement said.

The two men said GM's new cars will be "the safest in our history," including seat belts for every passenger, safety arm rests and deflecting door and window handles.

U.S. Officials in Viet: No Other Governors Claim Brainwashing

SAIGON (AP) — Ruffled by presidential hopeful George Romney's charge that he was brainwashed in Vietnam, U.S. officials pointed out today that nine other governors were with the Michigan Republican on his 1965 visit and none of them have made any such complaints publicly.

Members of the American military and diplomatic establishments said Romney was only in South Vietnam four days, that he spent three of them on field trips outside Saigon and that with the other governors he was given only the standard VIP treatment.

* * *

Romney's statements in a television interview Monday night were front-paged in Saigon's English-language newspapers and also reached the U.S. Embassy and military command on news service wires.

The undeclared candidate for the 1968 Republican nomination was asked why he had changed his earlier view that U.S. involvement in Vietnam was morally right and necessary.

'THOROUGH JOB'

"When I came back from Vietnam," Romney replied, "I just had the greatest brainwashing that anybody can get when you go over to Vietnam. Not only by the generals but also by the diplomatic corps over there, and they do a very thorough job."

Romney said that since then he had delved into Vietnamese history and "I have changed my mind in that particularly I no longer believe that it was necessary for us to get involved in South Vietnam to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia and to prevent Chinese Communist domination of Southeast Asia."

* * *

A spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said the embassy received the 10 governors—six Republicans and four Democrats—"as official visitors and arranged for the appropriate briefings and arranged for them to get out in the field and to meet Vietnamese officials."

He said the governors received standard briefings on the war, the economic situation, the political situation and other aspects of the Vietnamese problem.

* * *

"Any judgment on the quality of the briefings is one for the individual governors to make themselves," he added, noting that the governors were personally briefed by then-Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, a Republican. The group also was briefed by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

'Nixon Holds Decided Lead for GOP Nod'

BOSTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon holds a decided lead for the Republican presidential nomination, and it will take "an impressive showing in the primaries" for Michigan Gov. George Romney to overtake him, the Christian Science Monitor reports.

A state-by-state survey shows the former vice president is preferred by political leaders in 28 states with 628 convention delegate votes, the Monitor said Tuesday in a copyright dispatch by Washington correspondent Godfrey Sperling Jr.

* * *

By himself, Romney is the preference of Republican leaders in nine states with 254 delegates, the article said, and "only 16 states, that will have 488 delegate votes, are leaning toward the Romney—(New York Gov. Nelson A.) Rockefeller camp, when combined."

"In three important primaries, New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska, Mr. Nixon now is the choice of the professionals," the Monitor said.

GOLDWATER START

Nixon "seems to have much of the South with him at this time," the article said. "this was the kind of hard-core beginning from which former Sen. Barry Goldwater put together his successful drive for the nomination in 1964."

The survey added that should Nixon and California Gov. Ronald Reagan, the choice of three states with a potential total of 152 delegates, "combine their forces, there may be no stopping them."

Romney Is in D. C. at Tax-Sharing Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney was in the nation's capital today for a meeting of the National Governor's Conference subcommittee on federal-state revenue sharing.

An aide said Romney would devote the entire day to the meeting of the subcommittee, of which he is chairman, returning to Michigan tonight.

Romney, considered a front-runner among potential candidates for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, has advocated that the federal government return more tax money to the states with fewer strings attached.

TEMPEST SAFARI — The 1968 Tempest line shows the greatest styling changes since its introduction seven years ago. This is the Tempest Safari station wagon, with simulated wood exterior trim. The Tempest Custom series also includes a hardtop coupe, two-door coupe, four-door sedan, four-door hardtop, convertible and two-seat wagon.

'68 Pontiac Line Is Introduced

The Tempest Safari is over seven inches longer, and overall height is down about one-half inch on all models.

Pontiac has announced the first energy-absorbing front bumper, which is exclusive and standard on all 1968 GTOs.

It is the same color as the exterior body paint. Two rubber-insulated energy-absorbing reinforced stabilizers act to reinforce the ends of the bumper, limit vertical travel, dampen vibrations and cushion fore and aft loads resulting from impact.

* * *

Pontiac's newest, the Firebird sports car, also got a going-over for 1968. Improved sports-car ride and handling characteristics are evident, from new multileaf rear springs.

Front-door vent windows have been eliminated, and a new upper ventilation system has been added which provides draft-free circulation when windows are closed.

"The Firebirds, which have already established themselves in the personal sports car field, will meet with even greater acceptance in 1968," DeLorean predicted.

Other changes are a new and larger instrument panel, additional padding, and refinements in appearance and lighting.

* * *

The Firebird is offered in a convertible and a hardtop coupe. The standard overhead-cam six-cylinder has had its displacement boosted from 230 to 250 cubic inches, and it is rated at 175 horsepower, with one-barrel carburetion.

KEY BUZZER

Four other engines offer 215, 265, 320 and 330 horsepower.

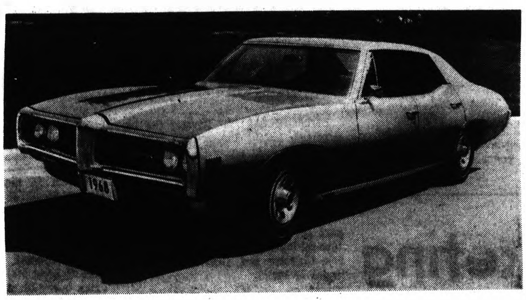
An ignition key buzzer which sounds when the driver's door is opened with the keys in the ignition and in the off position is part of the standard safety package on all cars.

The full line of Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds go on sale Sept. 21 at the following area dealers: Pontiac Retail Store, 65 University; Haupt Pontiac Sales, N. Main, Clarkston; Homer Hight Motor Sales, 160 S. Washington, Oxford; Lee Osborn Sales, Milford; Audette Pontiac, 1850 W. Maple, Troy; Russ Johnson, 89 M24, Lake Orion; Bud Shelton, 855 S. Rochester, Rochester; and Keego Sales & Service, 3080 Orchard Lake, Keego Harbor.

Another industry exclusive DeLorean said would be introduced this year on some Pontiac models is a "revolutionary electrical-charging system that uses integrated microcircuits. This new system combines the alternator and voltage regulator into one compact unit," he said

Talking about the start on the new line, DeLorean said "We've been building them for over two weeks, and our start-up schedule is the highest we've ever had."

"Barring labor difficulties, we will build 30,000 more units by the end of September than we built through the same period a year ago," he concluded.



SLEEK LOOK — The Tempest LeMans four-door hardtop for 1968 shows the clean styling which typifies the new line. LeMans also include a sports coupe, two-door hardtop and convertible. Engine displacement has been increased to give better performance.

Police Brutality Probe Is Sought

Teen's Arrest Brings Request by Fowler

District 1 City Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. last night asked city officials to investigate a report of alleged police brutality.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said commissioners will be given a report concerning the arrest of a 17-year-old on Aug. 31.

Fowler said he had received complaints that Willie E. Ivory of 273 Judson had been roughed up by police officers while coming home from a dance.

Police officials said the youth was arrested about 10:15 p.m. at South Paddock and Wall. A car had been sent there on reports of a fight in progress.

* * *

On arrival, officers said they found no fight but were confronted by the youth who was swearing in front of a number of persons, including women and children.

'PLACED IN CAR'

Police said they asked the youth to tone down his language. When he continued swearing, they said, he was arrested and placed in the police car, where he allegedly attempted to kick the officers.

Capt. Harry Nye said the officers reported they used only enough force to contain Ivory.

On arrival at the police station, the duty officer said Ivory had a cut above his right eye and was asked if he would go to the hospital for treatment.

* * *

Nye said the youth declined to be taken by officers and stated that his mother and father, who were at the police station, would take him for any treatment that was needed.

Ivory is scheduled to be tried on a charge of publicly using obscene language tomorrow in Municipal Court.

News in Brief on Ford Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Here is the auto labor situation at a glance:

Strike deadline: Midnight tonight at expiration of Ford Motor Co.'s three-year contract with the United Auto Workers covering 159,000 workers at plants in 25 states.

* * *

Negotiations: Resume at 10 a.m. after an overnight recess. The union has said no extension of the contract will be granted even if President Johnson asks for it.

Principal figure: Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW; Malcolm L. Denise, chief bargainer for Ford, the nation's second largest auto company; William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, an observer but no yet a participant in talks.

* * *

Ford inventory: 85,000 new cars, 175,000 of the 1967 models in dealer hands as of today. The company says this is the same amount of both sold last year during the first month of the new-model run.

UAW strike fund: Big enough to support an 18-week walkout at Ford, but a special convention is scheduled—if there is a strike—for Sept. 26 at which time an assessment will be levied on union members still working at Chrysler, General Motors and other companies.

* * *

Key issues: Union wants job security in form of guaranteed salaries; big wage boost, parity for Canadian workers, increased pensions, continuation of a cost-of-living escalator clause.

Ford has offered a 13-cent an hour immediate wage hike, plus 2.8 per cent in each of next two years (rejected by the union); pension boost for future retirees; improvements in insurance, holiday pay; has asked for cutback in escalator clause, in effect ignored demand for Canadian parity; offered some increases in unemployment benefits but less than 100 per cent.

Estimate of total packages demanded, offered: Union demands figured at 90 cents to $4 over three-year period. Ford figures its offer would increase wages and fringe benefits a minimum of 34 cents over three years.

Birmingham Area News

City Moves to Relieve Flooding of Basements

BIRMINGHAM — Plans were set in motion by city commissioners last night to relieve basement flooding in two sections of the city.

In one case, the commission directed City Manager Robert S. Kenning to return with a report on a permanent improvement of the sewer system serving homes in the Shirley-Arlington area.

At the same time, the commission rescinded a previous order that property owners on the two streets disconnect downspouts. Residents complained that the action did not solve the problem of water backing up into their basements.

Kenning also was authorized to reeactivate negotiations with Beverly Hills officials concerning a relief sewer serving city residents just north of 14 Mile and east of Southfield.

* * *

RELIEF SEWER

It was determined years ago that a relief sewer was needed in the area, but problems over the construction costs between the two communities were never resolved.

The commission, in other business, awarded a $99,500 contract to the Colwell Contracting Co. of Detroit to undertake the 1967 sidewalk replacement program.

Scheduled to begin in two weeks, most of the work will be done in an area bounded by Maple, Adams, Woodward, 14 Mile, and the east city limits.

* * *

The replacement project is expected to take about two months.

SIDEWALK SURVEY

Commissioners also authorized a survey of the sidewalks to be replaced in 1968 so that it can advertise for bids in the spring.

* * *

City Engineer William T. Killeen reported to commissioners that bids taken early in the construction season are likely to be slightly lower than those in the fall.

* * *

The sidewalks that would be replaced next year are in the area bounded by Adams and Woodward on the east, 14 Mile on the south, on the west by Pierce, and on the north by Frank from Pierce to Woodward, Woodward from Frank to Maple, and Maple from Woodward to Adams.

Pontiac Man Arraigned in City Shooting

A man accused of shooting a Pontiac woman four times and leaving her lying in the street Saturday was arraigned yesterday in city Municipal Court and charged with attempted murder.

Police said Samuel Threets, 40, of an unknown address on Raeburn appeared yesterday at police headquarters with his attorney.

He is charged with shooting Mary Pryor, age unkown, of 210 E. Wilson and leaving her in the street across from her home.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum set preliminary examination Sept. 13. Threets is held in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Officers said Saturday they responded to a shooting complaint at the Wilson address about 12:15 a.m. and found the Pryor woman bleeding profusely from several wounds.

She was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital where she was first listed in serious condition with wounds in the shoulder, chest and stomach.

She is now reported in satisfactory condition.

Exam for Man in Gun Death

A Pontiac man charged with the gunshot slaying of his wife Saturday faces preliminary examination Tuesday in Pontiac Municipal Court.

* * *

In custody in Oakland County Jail without bond is Otto Tyson, 35, of 296 Crystal Lake. He was arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Tyson is accused of shooting his wife, Erma, 32, following an alleged argument in their home about 10 p.m.

He reportedly told police he drew a 22-caliber revolver from a dresser drawer and walked after her into the kitchen where he shot her once.

* * *

She was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital with a wound in the chest.

* * *

The couple's 14-year-old daughter reportedly told police she saw her father aiming the revolver at Mrs. Tyson.

* * *

The girl said she attempted to grab Tyson's arm before he fired, but was unable to prevent the shooting, according to police.

Buildup Focus Is on Combat

75 Pct. of New Troops to Be 'Trigger Pullers'

SAIGON (AP) — The 45,000 to 50,000 new U.S. troops ticketed for duty in South Vietnam by early next spring will include a larger percentage of front line combat men than ever before.

At least 75 per cent of the new troops—probably 20 battalions or more—will be "trigger pullers," it was learned today.

* * *

The reason for the increase in combat soldiers is that over the last two years the United States had to build an enormous logistics base as well as help fight the war. The logistics base is now said to be capable of supporting the new combat troops with a proportionately much smaller increase in its own strength.

* * *

At the same time, it also was learned that the U.S. Command believes the estimated enemy strength in South Vietnam is perhaps much lower than the 297,000 carried in weekly U.S. headquarters reports over the past several weeks.

POLITICAL CADRES

It is known that some high-ranking U.S. officers feel the figure is meaningless because it includes at least 57,000 men and women who are political cadres and administrative types.

American intelligence lists 120,000 North Vietnamese and Vietcong main force units in South Vietnam, plus another 120,000 local guerrillas.

Estate, Gift Tax Overhaul in LBJ Reform Package

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson Administration is nearing completion of a tax reform package incorporating the first overhaul of estate and gift taxes in a quarter century. But the revision is unlikely to touch the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance.

As now contemplated, the tax reforms would apparently result in no tax windfall for the Treasury Department but would basically represent a shifting of tax burdens.

* * *

This would run counter to supporters of a congressional drive to tighten exemptions and special preferences in the present tax law to reduce or even eliminate the need for a tax increase.

One of the targets is the oil depletion allowance which some critics want lowered to 15 per cent.

ALLOWANCE THEORY

The depletion allowance is a portion of the income from producers' sales of petroleum which is exempt from taxes. The theory behind it is that the sales represent disposal of capital assets rather than net gain.

* * *

Opponents of the allowance have tried unsuccessfully for years to lower it. Present indications are that they'll get no help from the administration this year.

* * *

Instead, the reform program is expected to cover estate and gift taxes, industrial development bonds, tax-exempt foundations and churches, and the multiple exemptions corporations sometimes claim by setting up paper subsidiaries.

* * *

Officials are also discussing—but no decisions have been made—the possibility of including the changed tax treatment of the elderly which the House Ways and Means Committee rejected in approving an increase in Social Security benefits.

City Man, 34, Killed by Train

A 34-year-old Pontiac man was killed late yesterday when run over by a freight train on tracks just west of Bagley.

City police identified the victim as William Lodge of 86 Houston.

They said Lodge was apparently sitting on the tracks about 20 feet west of the Clinton River bridge when the train struck him shortly after 9:30 p.m.

The train's engineer stated he had slowed to 10 miles per hour because of a report of a repair crew working in the area, but was unable to stop in time when his brakeman shouted that there was someone on the tracks.

* * *

Poice said the train skidded some 200 feet before striking Lodge, then dragged him nearly 40 feet.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

LBJ Critic Accepts Bid to Visit Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — While a persistent critic of President Johnson's Vietnam policy says he'll visit the battle zone at military invitation, a comparatively new critic became embroiled in a partisan fight here at home.

Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, who quit the Democratic Advisory Council in Massachusetts in a climax to his running feud with Johnson's war policies, said Tuesday he expects to visit South Vietnam in October or November.

★ ★ ★

But Gavin, a former Pentagon strategist and onetime U.S. ambassador to France, said he doubts the trip—reportedly set up by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam — will change his mind.

Meanwhile, John M. Bailey, Democratic national chairman, accused Michigan Gov. George Romney of insulting "the integrity of two dedicated and honorable men" in saying he was brainwashed during a 1965 trip to South Vietnam.

APOLOGY ASKED

Bailey said Romney should apologize to Westmoreland and former U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge because "they were responsible for the briefings he received when he claims to have been brainwashed on the war."

Romney, considered a certain candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, said in a Monday television interview he had received "the greatest brainwashing that anybody can get when you go over to Vietnam."

The governor named no names, but attributed the brainwashing to "the generals" and "the diplomatic corps over there."

Lodge, a GOP candidate for vice president in 1960, headed the U.S. diplomatic corps in Saigon when Romney visited there.

ROMNEY'S VIET TRIP

Romney talked of his 1965 trip in explaining why he no longer believes U.S. involvement in Vietnam is morally right and necessary.

Later, interviewed on his arrival in Washington, Romney refrained from using the term "brainwashing" but said: "I just didn't think I got a complete and balanced picture" during his 1965 Vietnam visit.

★ ★ ★

The governor, in Washington to testify before the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders, also emphasized that Lodge wasn't one of the people in Saigon who had influenced his former position.

Pentagon figures released Tuesday show the North Vietnamese have at least quadrupled—to 200—the number of surface-to-air firing sites in the past year.

SAM THREAT

The so-called SAM missiles, supplied by Red China and the Soviet Union, have directly claimed few U.S. planes. But they force attacking planes off course and into deadly conventional antiaircraft fire, military sources say.

In New York, an antiwar group filed with the city clerk a petition bearing 93,853 signatures and demanding that the war issue be put on the local ballot next November.

★ ★ ★

The New York City Committee for the Immediate Withdrawal Referendum vowed to wage a court fight to assure the referendum.

Innocent Plea in Ax Killing

IRON RIVER (UPI) — Pete Simmons, 67, a logger accused of the ax murder of a fellow woodsman, pleaded innocent to the charge yesterday and was ordered held for trial.

Simmons was charged with slaying Leo Reitmeyer, 52, whose axed body was found at a lonely logging camp last May.

Simmons was captured after a week-long search through pine forests in the area.

Simmons waived a jury trial and will be tried before Circuit Court Judge Ernest W. Brown on Sept. 18.

★ ★ ★

An attorney who was appointed by the court to defend Simmons indicated he might plead self-defense.

Spartan Coach Reduces Drills

Gridders' Condition Pleases Dougherty

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State footballers were cut back to one-a-day field drills today, their payoff for faithfully following a summer conditioning program.

Coach Duffy Daugherty said he was pleased with the physical condition of most of the squad. Players were told to keep in shape during the summer and return to fall drills ready to play.

A routine warmup session before the regular drill sidelined one of the reserves Tuesday.

Clifton Hardy, a defensive halfback, suffered a shoulder dislocation while the squad was working out on shoulder blocking. He is expected to be out at least two weeks.

TWO POSITIONS

Regis Cavender, a junior, was running at both right half and fullback in the workout. Cavender carried at right half in place of Frank Waters, a junior, the regular at the position. Waters is temporarily sidelined with a thigh bruise.

Cavender has been running at fullback behind Bob Apisa, the regular at the position.

Tody Smith, "baby brother" of Buffa Smith now playing pro with Baltimore, registered 269 pounds in the official weigh-in Tuesday easily rating as the heaviest player on the squad. Bubba's playing weight was around 290 last fall at Michigan State.

Series' Vet Awaits '67 Classic

MONTREAL (AP)—John Kelly, 76, hasn't missed a World Series since 1928 and is getting ready for his 42nd Series.

Since St. Louis is in good position to take the National League pennant, Kelly plans to write Busch Stadium for tickets.

"I'd much rather go to Boston," says the retired railroad engineer. "But things are so tight in that American League, the winner may not be decided until the last week of the schedule."

* * *

Kelly tries to land where the Series starts so he can see four games if the Series goes seven.

His pick this year: "The National League winner, of course."

219 Die at Provincial Capital

VC Attack on City Is Repulsed

SAIGON (AP) — About 2,500 guerrillas tried to storm the provincial capital of Tam Ky for three hours before dawn today but were beaten off with the loss of 219 dead, including three company commanders, and a mass of weapons.

Behind barrages of mortars, rockets and hand grenades, the Vietcong assaulted eight positions in and around the city of about 12,000. They got into the streets, burned houses and unsuccessfully attempted to empty the city jail.

The attack force was made up of the hard-core 70th and 72nd battalions, crack Red provincial units, heavily reinforced by less stalwart local force guerrillas. Three company commanders of the crack units were killed and 16 men were captured, including a "war correspondent" in the Vietcong psychological warfare service.

South Vietnamese officers said at least 130 enemy weapons were captured and the defending forces suffered only light casualties.

EARLIER ATTEMPT

Tam Ky, 30 miles south of Da Nang, is the capital of Quang Tin Province in the northern 1st Corps area. The Vietcong made another unsuccessful attempt to raid it Saturday, before the weekend presidential election.

The assault today followed the battle Monday and Tuesday 14 miles northwest of the city in which U.S. Marines killed 180 Communist troops while losing 54 dead and 104 wounded.

The flare-up in the north, coupled with lesser but often sharp fighting elsewhere in the country, ended a two-month lull in the ground war that preceded South Vietnam's presidential election Sunday. The Communists have lost almost 600 dead in major actions in the past few days, while about 70 Americans have been killed.

Accord Ends Saginaw Strike

Fact-Finders to Air Docking of Firemen

SAGINAW (AP) — An agreement to turn a dispute between the city administration and 140 Saginaw firemen over to a fact-finding committee ended a five-hour wildcat strike by fire fighters in this south central Michigan city of 100,000 early Wednesday.

The walkout began about 8 p.m. Tuesday when 38 men on the afternoon shift walked out of the city's seven fire stations in protest over the docking of pay of 14 fire fighters who had "called in sick" last week. The City Council restored the docked pay pending outcome of the fact-finders.

Fire Chief Cyril A. Schultz said the men returned to duty at 12:45 a.m. (EDT) after the fact-finding pact was hammered out at an emergency session of the City Council. He said no major fires were reported during the strike. Police handled fire calls, mostly false alarms.

Earl Deguise, president of Fire Fighters Local 422, termed the strike a spontaneous reaction to word that 14 firemen would be docked a day's pay for calling in sick.

MEN EXAMINED

Jack Houk, city personnel chief, decided to cut the pay after Dr. Richard S. Ryan, city physician, examined men calling in sick.

A total of 38 fire fighters called in sick during a three-day period last week, forcing the city to close two fire stations.

* * *

The sick call strike ended last Wednesday when agreement was reached on a new contract. Firemen have ratified the pact and the City Council was expected to consider the contract at Monday's regular meeting. Details were not made public.

Houk's decision to dock pay was not made until Tuesday afternoon. Word reached firemen Tuesday night, resulting in the walkout.

Deguise said firemen understood there would be no retaliation against men who participated in the sick call strike.

He said the union did not authorize the spontaneous strike but that he objected to the unilateral and arbitrary decision by Houk to dock pay.

City Manager Edward H. Potthoff Jr. called an immediate emergency session of union representatives and four of nine City Councilmen immediately available.

Deguise said "very little" came out of the heated session which he said amounted to "considerable hollering and screaming."

Luck Governs Market

Freak Is Stamp Dream

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK — On May 13, 1918, a stock broker's clerk went to the Washington, D.C., post office on his lunch hour to buy a sheet of the first U.S. airmail stamps.

He paid $24 for the sheet of 100, 24-cent, red and blue stamps showing a Curtiss "Jenny" in flight.

* * *

As he turned to leave, the clerk looked at the sheet in his hand and, as he said later, his "heart stood still." Every stamp showed the biplane flying upside down.

Collectors call stamps with a printing abnormality in them freaks, and they all dream of coming across at least one someday. Few do.

$15,000 SALE

The clerk who paid $24 for his sheet with the inverted airplanes sold it for $15,000. The buyer broke up the sheet and sold it piecemeal.

In 1964, four of the stamps were sold to a dealer for $67,000. The newest edition of Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue prices them at $20,000 for each 24-cent stamp.

* * *

This doesn't mean the owner of one of the inverted airmails can rush right out and sell it for $20,000, although that might be the retail price a dealer would charge if he sold it to a collector.

Stamps, like other commodities, swing to the tune played by the law of supply and demand.

A stamp may be listed in the Scott catalogue as having a value of $100, but to actually get $100 for it depends on the seller's luck in finding someone who wants that particular stamp badly enough to pay $100 for it.

In setting a value on a stamp, says Gordon R. Harmer, editor in chief of the Scott catalogue, "we try to get a cross-section of prices from dealers, auctions, and philatelic publications."

* * *

The prices quoted, Harmer says, try to represent the average retail price of the stamp at the time the catalogue is printed— the price an informed dealer would charge an informed buyer for a fine specimen.

The prospect that new U.S. stamp issues will increase dramatically in value is not bright.

NEW ODDS

Forty years ago, when the government issued a stamp, the odds were the stamps would be used as postage and eventually destroyed when the envelopes on which they were stuck were thrown away.

Today, with most bulk mailings handled by postage meters, new stamp issues are purchased in great part by collectors and speculators, who store them away. Those new stamps that do get used as postage often are torn off the envelope and saved by collectors or people who know collectors. This means that when the new issue is withdrawn from sale the bulk of it still is in existence and a glut on the market.

72 Pct. in State Dem Poll Favor All-Out Viet Effort

LANSING (AP)—Seventy-two per cent of persons contacted in a Michigan survey believe the United States should go all out to win the war in Vietnam, the Democratic State Central Committee said Tuesday.

In addition, 90 per cent believed more tax money should be spent in combating crime and 50 per cent felt Michigan must have a state income tax.

* * *

The findings were included in a report of a poll conducted last April 28 to May 26 by Marketing Strategy, Inc., of Detroit for the Democratic State Central Committee.

The State Central Committee said the survey consisted of 1,000 interviews of a cross-section of adults throughout the state who are potential voters, including 255 Republicans, 365 Democrats and 380 independents.

TO AID STRATEGY

The purpose of the survey was to provide the committee with "political research and intelligence needed to plan strategy of maximum effectiveness," the report said.

The committee said the pollsters concluded from the survey that people do not appear to be extremely concerned about politics.

* * *

Of the total sample, only 20 per cent said they were extremely interested in politics, 72 per cent said they were somewhat interested and 8 per cent indicated they were not at all interested.

Some 25 per cent of the sample belonged to a labor union, 15 per cent to a business or professional group, 11 per cent to a veteran's organization and 4 per cent to a political group.

DECIDING FACTORS

The candidate is the most important factor in deciding who to vote for and the party is felt to be the least important factor, the report said.

Some 52 per cent of those sampled said the candidate, his reputation, and his experience were most important to them in deciding for whom to vote.

* * *

Slightly more than one third felt that the candidate's stand on important issues such as the Vietnam War and taxes were the most important, the poll takers reported, while 5 per cent felt the candidate's political party to be most important.

In general, the people questioned were most concerned about international issues and least concerned about problems at the state or local level, the report said.

SURVEY RESULTS

The report said the survey turned up the following attitudes on current problems:

- 60 per cent felt the federal government gets involved in things it has no business being concerned with.
- 56 per cent agreed with civil rights in principle but thought the federal government was trying to move too fast.

* * *

- 33 per cent felt the space program is a complete waste of money.
- 33 per cent felt auto manufacturers are not building safe cars.
- 71 per cent believed that private industry is responsible for air pollution and should pay for it.
- 71 per cent agreed that fluoridation of drinking water was a good idea.

* * *

- 63 per cent felt more programs are needed for the aged, unemployed and other needy groups.
- 28 per cent opposed anything which increases taxes.
- 25 per cent felt only people with children in school should have to pay school taxes.
- 7 per cent felt farmers are responsible for high food prices.
- 41 per cent favored allowing 18-year-olds to vote.

* * *

- 85 per cent were concerned about the number of elected officials who have relatives on the payroll, misuse campaign monies and, in general, take advantage of their public office.
- 64 per cent favored legalizing lotteries such as dog racing and bingo as a means of acquiring more money for state use.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "Due to unforeseen personal problems, at 65 I must increase my ready cash by selling some stocks. I own Ford; Interchemical; I.T.T.; PepsiCo; Rockwell-Standard; T.W.A.; Winn-Dixie, with losses on the last two. Would you advise which to sell in numerical order?" R. A.

(A) I am very sorry that you have had losses in two good stocks resulting mainly from unfortunate timing. An old Street maxim says take your losses but let your profits run, but this applies more to traders than to investors like yourself. To pinpoint the order in which sales should be made is always difficult but I will give you my best opinion and you can take it from there.

If I were you, I would dispose of my stocks in the order of past technical action and relative potential for future good performance. On a technical basis, I would sell in this order; T.W.A.; Winn-Dixie; Rockwell-Standard; Interchemical; Ford; PepsiCo; International Tel. & Tel. This is an arbitrary judgment, but I hope it will have some value for you.

(Q) "My mother has $10,000 in Treasury bills which have just matured. She would like to put the money into income stocks. What do you suggest?" M. M.

(A) I assume that your mother wants stability and the best return she can get with safety under present circumstances. Income stocks vary in price as money rates change. The present tendency appears to be for further tightening of credit as business picks up in the latter part of the year. In her position she might do better with bonds which will also fluctuate with money rates but probably less than income stocks at current levels. She can get close to six per cent return on American Telephone 6s of 2000 and Cincinnati Gas & Electric 1st 5½s of 1997. Both will be fully registered in her name and I recommend them to her.
