Factory list prices on 1957 Pontiacs will increase from $132 to $324 when new models are introduced Nov. 9, Semon E. Knudsen, division general manager and GM vice president, said today.

Three other General Motors divisions — Buick, Cadillac and Oldsmobile — also announced increases while American Motors Corp. disclosed price slashes on its Nash Ambassadors and Hudson Hornet series.

Commenting on the price boosts, Knudsen said, "Despite generally higher prices in the industry due to increased costs, Pontiac continues to offer . . . passenger cars at prices competitive with the lowest in the industry."

List prices as follows do not include taxes, handling and delivery charges, and other costs:

Buick: $2,819 to $2,739 in the lower price Special series; from $2,926 to $3,231 in the Century series; $3,168 to $3,508 in the Super series, and $3,525 to $3,639 in the Roadmaster series.

Gateway to Commercial Service?

Dedicate Airport Runway Sunday

Pontiac Municipal Airport's new 4,000-foot runway will be dedicated tomorrow.

City officials and commissioners, along with members of their families, are expected to watch Mayor William W. Donaldson cut the ribbon at 3 p.m. officially opening the local airport's longest strip.

John W. Hirlinger, Chamber of Commerce manager, will introduce Donaldson and Homer C. Hoskins, manager of the airport. Hirlinger is expected to outline to the group what effects the new runway will have on the city's growth.

After the brief 15-minute ceremony, guests will load into some of the many planes lining the new east-west strip, for flights over the area.

COST $300,000

Work on the $300,000 project (including the purchase of land) began in mid-August and was completed recently.

Hoskins said that corporation aircraft, using the field on a restrictive basis, will now be able to use it more frequently because of the new and safer runway.

With 2,000-foot clear approaches at both Airport and Williams Lake roads, the safety factor for larger twin-engine ships has been increased, he said.

APPLICATION MADE

Hoskins announced that application had been made to the Civil Aeronautics Administration for commercial airline service for Pontiac.

"We will be very fortunate if we get this service within six to eight months," Hoskins said.

He warned that the public will be prohibited from entering the field during tomorrow's ceremony.

He said that, due to CAA and state regulations, those interested in watching the planes taking off after the ceremony will have to park in the lots off Airport Rd.

AIRPORT TODAY—Shown in this aerial photograph is the layout of Pontiac Municipal Airport as it looks today. You are looking west. The latest addition is the new 4,000-foot east-west runway (1) and the paralleling 6,600-foot taxi strip (2) which jogs down to connect with the north-south runway (4) and the two large hangers in the lower left of this picture. The diagonal runway (3) is the southwest-northeast strip measuring 2,600 by 60 feet. The north-south stretch measures 2,500 by 55 feet. Next to the newest runway, the largest is the northwest-southeast strip (5) measuring 3,000 feet.

Border areas are falling to anticommunist Hungarian troops.

Roof-to-roof fighting went on in the heart of Budapest, where Premier Imre Nagy announced a new popular front government.

This new front included several non-Communists, in an effort to appease demands for freedom.

Austrian frontier police crossed the Iron Curtain line for the first time in the postwar period and fraternized with soldiers who said they had deserted to the revolution.

The Austrians were embraced and told, "We are brothers again."

"This is the most remarkable thing in 12 years," Austrian police said in a border interview. "It seems that the Hungarian Communist control forces have been withdrawn to the interior to help fight the rebels. Their old watch towers are empty. This border appears in control of the revolutionaries."

Travelers arriving from Hungary estimated the total of dead and wounded since the rebellion broke out Tuesday night at more than 10,000.

The Hungarians reported rumors the Russians were forcing Nagy at pistol point to make his announcements to the Hungarian people, even that he had been arrested and that the Russians had taken over complete command in Budapest.

Nagy's desperate bid to answer Hungarian demands for administrative reforms was broadcast by radio Budapest even as rebel groups told newsmen at the Austrian border the rebels have set up an independent Hungarian government at Gyoer, a western industrial town 70 miles from Budapest, to coordinate the fight against Soviet divisions and Hungarian units still in action under Red leadership.

A bespectacled former professor, Nagy named several members of his old party, the once powerful Smallholders, in revamping the Cabinet with hope of winning support of the masses and getting the rebels to surrender. Some, like he himself, are "rehabilitated" purgees.

The list included Bela Kovacs, former head of the Smallholders

East Germany Restless, Demand Ulbricht Ouster

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany nervously began beefing up its police forces today as workers and students reportedly demanded the ouster of Communist Boss Walter Ulbricht.

Der Abend, a West Berlin newspaper, said workers in "numerous" East German facories are calling for the resignation of the spade-bearded first secretary of the Communist party. Ulbricht a tough old Stalinist, is one of the most hated men in East Germany among Communists and non-Communists alike.

"Yield" Sign Is Ignored

Auto Crash Kills Woman; Injures Rider, in Pontiac

A Pontiac woman was fatally injured and her passenger slightly hurt when their car went through a "Yield Right of Way" sign on Marquette street at Nelson street at 4 p.m. yesterday, Pontiac police said.

Mrs. Alma C. Allen, 33, of 26 Lewis St. died two hours later in Pontiac General Hospital.

She was thrown 30 feet, police said, through the convertible top of her auto, struck on the driver's side at the intersection by the car of Bruce C. Baerwald, 22, an out of state man visiting here.

Mrs. Hazel E. Lewis, 53, of 37 Lexington Place, who was not thrown from the car, suffered minor cuts and bruises and was treated at Pontiac General Hospital, authorities said.

Baerwald, of Dakota, Minn., told police he was traveling north on Nelson at about 25 miles an hour when the woman's car came west into the intersection without stopping. He was not held, police said.

It was the city's sixth traffic fatality this year.

Area Woman Dies After Auto Accident

An autopsy will be held tonight to determine the cause of death of a West Bloomfield Township woman who died at a Flint hospital yesterday following an auto accident near Fenton.

Mrs. Mildred Snell, 39, of 9497 Recreation Dr., was the driver of a car which went off the left side of the road and struck a tree at a Tyrone Township intersection in Livingston County.

The autopsy was ordered after doctors found only a bruise on the left knee and indications she had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage in a preliminary examination.

$7.64 More in Taxes

LANSING (AP)—The average motorist will pay $7.64 a year in increased taxes to help finance the expanded federal highway construction plan enacted last June. The estimate was made by Charles D. Curtiss, commissioner of public roads in the U. S. Department of Commerce.

When You Tour, How Much Do You Spend?

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council and four allied regional tourist associations are setting out to get an "accurate yardstick for the state's travel business."

Through a study to be undertaken by the U. S. Census Bureau and financed in part by the council, the council hopes to learn a lot of things about the average tourist and his family.

Among these are where he works, how much he is paid, what he spends in Michigan and what he buys with it.

Also, where he goes on vacation, how long he stays, the size of his party, whether he travels by car, bus, train or airplane.

The study, to be made next year, will cost the tourist groups $15,000, the council said.

Orion Man Dies in Plane Crash

Edward G. Garlick, 21, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark J. Garlick of 1205 Nakomis St., and Kenneth L. Burton of Loveland, Ohio, were the victims. The crash occurred near the main gate of Barin Field at Foley, Ala.

The trainers were flying in a traffic pattern making simulated carrier landings at the field when they collided. Barin Field is an auxiliary of the Pensacola Naval Air station.

Garlick had served one year in the Navy and was scheduled to get his wings and commission as an ensign in December.

He had lived in Lake Orion for 12 years and was graduated from Lake Orion High in 1953.

At the University of Michigan, Garlick was active in the Air ROTC program and was a member of the Theta Xi fraternity. A former Lake Orion Eagle Scout he is survived by his parents, a brother and sister.

Adlai Hits GOP 'Powers', Ike Gets Physical Checkup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson called President Eisenhower today "the shadow candidate" of a Republican party which is "afraid" to ask the people to trust the destiny of the country to Vice President Nixon.

He said Eisenhower is fronting for a GOP old guard campaign "based on a profound contempt for the intelligence of the people."

"In all the words he has uttered," Stevenson said, "my opponent has told you almost nothing about the issues of the campaign."

The Democratic presidential nominee, in an address prepared for delivery at a midday party rally in Washington Square, said the Republicans say only: "'Trust Ike, and don't ask questions.'"

WHOM TO TRUST?

"Who are we supposed to trust when Ike isn't there?" Stevenson asked.

"Above all," Stevenson said, "are we seriously asked to trust the destiny of America — the future of our children — the decision over the hydrogen bomb — to Richard M. Nixon?"

The Republicans don't say, he said, "for they are afraid to say —'Trust Nixon,' 'Trust Benson', 'Trust Dulles,' 'Trust Wilson,' 'Trust the old guardsmen in the Congress.'

"They know they can't persuade the people to trust the Republican party," Stevenson continued, "and so they say, 'just trust Ike.'"

Stevenson said "the Benders, the Brickers, the Dirksens, the Capeharts, the Welkers, the Kuchels," and others "wield the real power in the Republican party."

* * *

"They do so today — and they would wield all the more power as their protege, Mr. Nixon, the heir apparent, takes over the leadership intended for him," Stevenson said.

'DOESN'T RING TRUE'

He said there is something "that doesn't quite ring true in the story that Mr. Eisenhower married the Republican party in order to reform it — that it was not a love match but an act of duty."

"A man who really wanted to reshape the Republican party

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower enters Walter Reed Army Hospital today for the head-to-toe physical checkup which he had announced he would undergo before the Nov. 6 election.

The President plans to leave the White House this afternoon. He will remain in the hospital for approximately 24 hours.

White House news secretary James C. Hagerty said he probably will be able to announce the results between 4 and 6 p.m. EST Sunday.

Eisenhower has only one appointment on his schedule this morning. At 10 a.m. EDT, he confers with Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) and a group of Michigan "Minutemen and Women of 1956," who are working for his reelection.

* * *

The physical examination once again turns the spotlight on the President's health as an issue in the campaign. But all indications are that the report will be favorable.

'Stress Is Overrated'

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

CINCINNATI (AP)—Americans are inclined to overstress the "stress" of modern-day living, a nationally known heart specialist says.

"We are inclined as a nation to think we are living under more stress than any other people at any other time," declared Dr. Irvine H. Page, president of the American Heart Assn.

"Yet I daresay if you had been about to have your scalp taken off by an Indian there would have been a fair amount of stress involved—and building the pyramids must have been somewhat stressful situation."

Kids! It'll Pay to Stay at Home on Halloween

* * *

In their annual move to keep kids off the streets, the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., Board of Education and Junior Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring another "Mystery Treat Contest."

Before awarding some 67 prizes donated by the Jaycees, a citywide "meet and treat" hour will be held from 6 to 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Leonard T. Buzz, recreation director, has asked citizens to treat children only at this time.

He said neighboring communities have promised to give away "goodies" to children at this time only.

To qualify for prizes, which include a bicycle, wrist watches, and radios, senior high school students must be at home at 11 p.m., junior high at 10:30 and grade school at 9.

Another qualification is that students must submit a card to the Parks and Recreation Dept. Cards were distributed at all schools.

* * *

And Halloween wouldn't be the same without parties, so these have been arranged also, Buzz said.

From 7 until 8:15 parties for elementary school children will be held at Emerson, Baldwin, Bagley, Whittier, Wilson, Wever and Hawthorne schools. Buzz said parties at the latter two schools will be family-type. Parents are invited to don costumes and accompany their children for the fun.

Teenage parties for grade schoolers will be from 8:30 until 10 at Jefferson Junior High, Wever School and Lakeside Homes. The party at Wever is for all teenagers from the Wever-Owen-Hawthorne area, Buzz said.

After the meet and treat hour and parties, the children should return home to await a phone call —if they win in the drawings.

In the grade school drawings, first prize will be the bike, second, a radio, and third, five silver dollars.

Top three prizes for the junior and senior high "stay-at-homers" will be wrist watches, a pen and pencil set and five silver dollars.

* * *

Besides citywide prizes, each school also will have two winners of silver dollars which will be determined at drawings in the City Hall.

2 Local, 1 State Issues Up to Voters

Decide Changes in City Charter

Ballot on Residence for Police, Firemen; Trial Board Membership

Two proposed changes to the city charter and a state issue will be up for decisions by Pontiac voters in the coming Nov. 6 election.

The city issues are:

1. Should Pontiac police and firemen be required to live within a 10-mile radius of the Saginaw street and Huron street intersection?

2. Should the Pontiac Police Trial Board membership be increased from five to seven members?

The state question is: "Shall the state constitution be amended relative to requiring as qualification of any person for the Legislature, that the person be at least 21 years of age and that he not have been convicted of subversion or of a felony involving a breach of public trust?"

PROTESTED RULING

The Pontiac Police Assn. raised the question of residency last April when they objected to a 1932 charter ruling that they live within the city limits.

They charged the limitation as being "outdated, without purpose and unfair."

Members were ready to circulate referendum petitions forcing a vote, when they appealed to the City Commission to place the question on the ballot.

The organization sought permission for its members to live anywhere in the county. Their attorney, Paul L. Meredith, on April 23 volunteered the distance restriction.

LIMITS LISTED

The proposed 10-mile limit would allow officers and firemen to live as far east as John R road, south to 12½ Mile road, west to the vicinity of Cooley Lake, and north to Clarkston road.

Voters are asked to vote "for the amendment," or "against the amendment."

City commissioners in August suggested adding two members to the Pontiac Trial Board.

The vote on this question will also include the deletion of any provisions of the charter pertaining to jurisdiction of the board over Pontiac firemen.

Firemen now come under a new Firemen's Civil Service Law.

As in the case of the first city question, it will be decided "for" or "against" the amendment.

Ex-President Zoltan Tildy, another Smallholder under house arrest from 1948 to last summer, became minister of state affairs. The new health minister, Antal Babics, is a university professor publicly known to be a close friend of Peter Gabor, Hungarian security chief now under arrest.

The Defense Ministry a hot spot now, went to Karoly Janza, a Communist regarded as moderate.

Radio Budapest declared in its noon broadcast "rebel resistance inside Budapest has been broken." It said many rebels had surrendered and had been given amnesty.

"Russian and Hungarian troops are clearing the streets to liquidate the last resistance," it added.

But the Communist broadcasting station had made the same declaration several times before while the rebels fought on — in the streets, in the factories, in private homes and from the city's roofs.

Ike in for Checkup by Eight Physicians

Hagerty took occasion Friday to brand as a "falsehood" a report by columnist Drew Pearson that Eisenhower "apparently suffered a mild relapse" while he was driving to the airport after a speaking engagement in Minneapolis Oct. 16.

Hagerty said he obtained an advance copy of a Pearson column scheduled for release today. As read by Hagerty, it said, in part:

" . . . The attack hit Ike while he was driving back to the airport from Minneapolis. He suddenly turned to others in the car and announced: 'I can't take any more of this, let's get out of here.' The President then pulled out of the motorcade, rushed to the airport and was hustled into his plane without saying goodbye to local dignitaries."

Reached in Minneapolis, Pearson later retracted this portion of his statement after being shown a film clip which showed the President shaking hands with wellwishers and waving goodbye as he boarded his plane.

Pearson earlier declared: "My story was carefully checked, and I believed it to be true." He also accused Hagerty of "operating an Iron Curtain on information."

HITS FALSEHOOD

Hagerty, however, described the column as "the most amazing document of falsehood I have ever seen." Asked if Eisenhower had had any mild relapse since his ileitis operation, Hagerty replied: "absolutely and categorically no."

Hagerty said today's checkup will be a "complete physical" designed to reveal any residual effects of the Sept. 24, 1955, heat attack and the ileitis operation. The President will be examined by eight physicians.

Develop Missile Aimed at Planes by Engine Heat

MT. CLEMENS, (AP) — A new guided missile, drawn toward enemy bombers by the heat of their engines and capable of destroying an air fleet with one blast, was described last night by an Air Force general.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, chief of the Continental Air Defense Command, said that the missile, carrying an atomic warhead, would be operational in the near future.

Speaking to the Michigan Aero Club at nearby Selfridge Air Force Base, Gen. Partridge said:

"The missile will follow an infra-red beam instead of radar. In other words, it will be a heat-seeking device, a missile that will be attracted by the heat of an enemy bomber's engines.

However, he explained, the nature of the infra-red device makes it unable to distinguish between friendly and enemy aircraft.

When nearing the aircraft, he said, the missile's warhead would explode and the atomic blast would down any number of planes within range.

Detroit Negro Switches to Ike

State Rep. C. M. Diggs Points to Civil Rights Attitude of GOP

(Editor's Note: Due to similarity of names and positions, the story published Wednesday, Oct. 24, in The Pontiac Press was confusing to many readers. The Press regrets the error in the headline, and hopes the following story will clarify the issue.)

DETROIT (AP) — State Rep. Charles M. Diggs, Detroit Democrat, says he is backing President Eisenhower for re-election because he doubts Adlai Stevenson's "honesty" on Civil rights issues.

* * *

Diggs, who is the second Negro lawmaker in Michigan to cross party lines in support of Eisenhower, said yesterday he believes Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) and Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va) "have too much influence in the Democratic party and especially with the Democratic nominee."

Stevenson, Diggs said, also appears to be "obligated" to House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), majority leader in the Senate.

He said Eisenhower is "cool-headed and knows what he's doing on matters of foreign policy."

FROM WAYNE COUNTY

Diggs, who was elected to the Legislature for the first time in 1954, represents the Ninth District in Wayne County.

He said he is "not opposing" Gov. Williams and other Democrats on the state ticket who are seeking re-election.

Diggs is no relation to Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich) the Negro Michigan congressman who said he will go "right down the line" with the Democratic state and national tickets.

Earlier this week, State Sen. Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit), Michigan's first Negro woman senator, announced her support for President Eisenhower. She said she also based her decision on Eisenhower's civil rights attitude.

Adlai Hits GOP 'Trust Ike' Policy

would not have been scared by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his friends out of backing Alexander Wiley in the Wisconsin primary," Stevenson said. This was a reference to Eisenhower's hands-off roll in the primary in which Wiley was renominated for the Senate.

* * *

If Eisenhower wanted to reshape the GOP, Stevenson went on, "he would not have driven Wayne Morse from the Republican party, nor would he have sought to ram Douglas McKay down the throats of the voters of Oregon."

Eisenhower is backing McKay, his former secretary of interior, in his battle to unseat Morse, now a Democrat, but a former Republican.

Stevenson arrived in San Francisco after saying at Albuquerque last night that Eisenhower had "lent himself to a systematic 'misrepresentation' of Stevenson's H-bomb stand. Stevenson proposes the United States take the lead in urging an international agreement to ban H-bomb tests.

The Democratic candidate quoted newspaper reports that Eisenhower administration officials had advocated substantially the same proposal until he came out with it.

White Lake Lumber Co. Breakin Investigated

Drawers and cabinets were ransacked but a safe was not touched in a breakin at the White Lake Lumber Co., 1401 Ormand Rd., sometime last night.

Company officials were taking inventory today in an effort to determine if anything was stolen. The breakin was discovered last night when a Sheriff's Department patrol car found the building open.

ROBERT FRIARS

Swiss Film First in Travel Series

The Pontiac Kiwanis Club will hold its first of a series of travel and adventure programs Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Pontiac High School auditorium. Robert Friars will present "Holiday in Switzerland."

Friars, a young adventurer and motion picture producer, will show movies and talk on Switzerland.

Also to be depicted will be the products, industries and activities of Switzerland featuring scenes of the Alps. Winter sports and the process of making a Swiss watch will be other highlights.

Friars once hitchhiked around the world on $32 to win a bet.

The Day in Birmingham

Water Rates Under Study in Impending Rate Raise

BIRMINGHAM — Water rates, which probably will be raised if present plans win city commission approval, are under close study by city officials.

Officials failed to finish in time to have the water rate recommendations included in the commission's printed agenda, because figures were still incomplete yesterday afternoon at deadline time.

However, hopes are still that the city engineer, finance director, and other officials will complete the report in time for the commission meeting.

Present rate is on a flat charge per quarter year, based on size of meter, plus 20 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Any raise in price must be justified for commissioners with statistics on costs.

Tearing down of buildings to make way for city parking lots is progressing, with completion now having cleared the way for the concrete work underway on Lot 3-A, and two buildings being razed for Lot 3-HH.

An auto-wash is being torn down on the Hunter side of the property that edges the corner Hunter House lot, and an old home nearby is down to its basement.

Home owners are not finding it desirable to have the pipes buried in their lots, although lawns, landscaping and other use of the land, except building, is possible after the pipe-laying.

Plans are complete for the Reformation Sunday events, which are to feature Dr. Charles B. Templeton as guest speaker tomorrow at 8 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church.

High schoolers are invited to an open house of the Council of Churches, sponsoring the festival, after the service, at the Presbyterian social hall, at 9 p.m.

Pontiac to Spray Pond in Effort to Kill Weeds

Pontiac Parks and Recreation workers will spray Dawson Mill Pond in Beaudette Park Monday to rid it of weeds.

William Aho, parks supervisor, said the city plans two or three sprayings so the pond will be "nearly free" of weeds by spring.

Last Day for Absentee Ballots One Week Off

U. S. Resumes Aid for Egypt

Locomotives, Machinery Move After Brief Halt Due to Suez Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has quietly resumed foreign aid to Egypt after halting shipments briefly because of the Suez Canal crisis.

Responsible officials who reported this today said locomotives, machinery, transportation equipment and newsprint have been moving forward to Egyptian ports during the past few weeks.

These supplies are part of a 20-million-dollar backlog whose delivery was stopped in mid-August by the State Department pending a ruling on whether to suspend all foreign aid until the Suez dispute was settled.

Without announcing it, the State Department and the government's foreign aid agency, the International Cooperation Administration, apparently decided several weeks ago to continue foreign aid deliveries previously promised the Egyptians.

The main items delivered since then have been eight to 10 American-built locomotives which are part of 32 earmarked for President Nasser's government.

Another 20 million dollars in aid funds, including machine tools, barges, and more transportation equipment, now also will move informants said.

Gas Truck Minus Gas

READING, Pa. (INS)—Sen. Estes Kefauver's chartered airliner was delayed in its take-off from Reading last night. The truck carrying gas for the plane ran out of gas.

'Firesweep' in Low Price Field

DeSoto Adds 3rd Model for '57 Showing Tuesday

DETROIT (AP) — DeSoto will introduce its 1957 line of cars Tuesday. An added third series, the "Firesweep," will be the lowest priced DeSoto.

* * *

The new series, along with the Firedome and the Fireflite, will give the company price coverage in 91 per cent of today's car market.

Like other DeSotos, the Firesweep will have the new front torsion bar suspension, a newly designed V-8 engine, triple-range pushbutton transmission and an antibrake dip device.

Also in all new models are rear springs mounted outside the frame. All models have high-finned and canted rear fenders. All have "signal tower" tail lights, with dual exhausts below the lights extending slightly beyond the bumper.

122-INCH FIRESWEEP

The Firesweep model is on a 122-inch wheelbase. It has an over-all length of 215.8 inches and measures 4 feet 7½ inches from road to roof. It is powered with a 245-horsepower, V-8 engine with 8.5 to 1 compression ratio.

* * *

It will be presented in a four-door sedan, a sportsman coupe (hard top), a sportsman sedan (hard top, and convertible.

The Firedome and Fireflite models are on a 126-inch wheelbase. They are over-all 218 inches. Lowest height is 55 inches for the sportsman coupe and sedan; highest is in the station wagon line at 57.6 inches.

The Firedome and Fireflight are powered with 270 and 295-horsepower V-8 engines, respectively. Their compression ratio is 9.25 to 1 against the 1956 ratio of 8.5 to 1.

Optional items include DeSoto's new dual horizontal headlights, located in the front fenders under broad canopies. A massive new front grille and bumper features the front end treatment of all models.

* * *

On some of its station wagons DeSoto is eliminating the spare tire and providing tires which of punctured retain enough air to be driven up to 100 miles to a service point. The tires have independent double air chambers.

City Parks to Close for Winter Monday

Pontiac parks and playgrounds will close for the winter Monday, William Aho, parks supervisor, announced yesterday.

He said a few picnic grills and benches will be left out for use this weekend if the weather permits.

Aho said final figures probably will show fewer persons used the seven parks this year than last because of bad weather.

* * *

Aho added that Parks and Recreation Department crews are storing equipment and already making plans for improvements at some parks next year.

Glory of Revolution Dims

Cossack Role May Spur Russian Troops to Revolt

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

The most important thing about the revolt in Hungary is the ultimate effect it is going to have in the hearts and minds of Russians.

There's no point in expecting quick results. But when the fact finally sinks home among Soviet army men that it is they who have played the Cossack, shot down workers peacefully demonstrating, and served with their guns the oppressors of the peoples, big things will perhaps begin to happen.

* * *

Russians have had their consciences and idealism systematically dulled and corrupted by the Soviet government for many years. It takes a lot to arouse them. But one thing they still believe in is the Russian Revolution. They believe in it passionately. Though they can doubt at times their government, they still think of it as representing the working class, the proletariat.

But this morning near Budapest there are Soviet soldiers who are awakening with the memory in their minds of Hungarian workers they shot down yesterday, of Hungarian workers they may be ordered to shoot down today.

* * *

Admittedly most of these Russian army men are immediately concerned with how they can conduct themselves so as to save their own necks and thus survive until the battle is over.

* * *

But some of these Russians must realize that when they pull the triggers on their automatic weapons to shoot down Hungarians they are at the same time annihilating their own integrity as sons of the Russian Revolution.

The present Soviet government's only claim to the right to rule is that it represents the working class, in the Soviet Union and outside it.

* * *

And it's as sure as the sun will rise tomorrow that on the day the Russians become convinced that their government does not represent the working class, they will throw out that government despite all its secret police, despite its massive army, despite its propaganda apparatus, despite everything.

And it may well be that the day is not far off when Russians will come to realize their government does not represent the working class.

* * *

Russian soldiers have shot down workers in East Berlin, in Tiflis, in Vorkuta — and now in Budapest.

The record is there for all the world — and the Russians the most of all.

They are accused in the fatal shooting of Buster Shellenbarger 38, of Allen Park, after an argument over a broken banjo string Sept. 30. A petition to reduce the charge against Mrs. Ellis to manslaughter was denied by Justice A. F. Coulet.

See Space Ships in Army Future

U.S. Specialists Predict Floating Stations Within 5-Year Period

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top Army specialists predicted Friday that present military airplanes will be replaced by rocket-driven space ships designed to carry nuclear bombs or fighting men and their equipment.

The forecasts were made in papers prepared for the convention of the Association of the United States Army, a private group, by Dr. Wernher von Braun and Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, chief scientist and commander respectively of the Army ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala.

* * *

Von Braun, chief developer of the German V2 rockets of World War II who since 1945 has been working for the U.S. Army, predicted the launching within four or five years of unmanned space stations.

He said they could "obtain a vast amount of "information" through the use of electronic devices and relay it back to the earth.

* * *

The original version of his speech, distributed before deletions were made at the Pentagon, carried a prediction by Von Braun that rockets carrying a dozen men could be launched "in less than six to eight years" to an altitude of 1,075 miles. At that height, he said, the men could erect a space station that would orbit around the earth and from which "bombing could be carried out with unprecedented accuracy."

Medaris said in his prepared talk that "the time has arrived" to consider space missiles as "the most efficient delivery system which can be predicted."

Fear of Capture Scares AWOL From Inheritance

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP)—Fear of capture kept an admitted World War II Army deserter from returning to his home in Fremont, Ohio, to collect an inheritance, judge advocate general authorities here said.

* * *

Floyd W. Hearn, 41, was charged here yesterday with desertion. He signed a statement admitting that he deserted at Camp Hills, Ill., in "October or November" of 1953, authorities reported.

Hearn was captured by FBI agents Oct. 11 at Detroit, where he was known as Robert Lindell.

* * *

Though he knew for six months that his father had died leaving him an inheritance, Hearn told authorities he was afraid to go home because he knew FBI agents had visited there asking about him.

Asked today how large an estate was there, Hearn answered, "I guess about $20,000."

Hearn said that for the last 13 years he has wandered through Illinois, Michigan and Ohio. He said he had been living on money he received earlier this year from his father.

2 on 104-Foot Yacht Die in Detroit River

DETROIT (AP)—Clew Muth, 41, of Lemhurst, Ill., and Kurt Darr, 40, of Claredon Hills, Ill., drowned yesterday despite rescue efforts of their shipmates aboard a 104-foot Chicago yacht in the Detroit River.

Police said one of the men fell from a gangplank and the other plunged in to save him.

Both were employes of the Columbia Broadcasting System but were serving as members of a temporary crew that had planned to sail the yacht Sis from Chicago to Flordia. Muth was serving as a painter and Darr as a radio technician.

The Sis is owned by H. Leslie Atlas, Chicago executive of CBS. The yacht ran aground in the St. Clair River Saturday. After Coast Guard boats and private tugs freed it, the yacht was towed to the Detroit Boat Basin for inspection and repairs.

Atlas, his wife and guests returned to Chicago when they learned the yacht would probably be tied up in Detroit until too late to make the Florida cruise.

Schools to Pay Half in Transport Problem

The Board of Education last night agreed to go halfway in providing public bus transportation for grade school students crossing the Telegraph road-Orchard Lake road underpass.

The agreement, made with parents of the Washington Park School Association is to pay four cents of the eight-cent per rider cost every day for about 150 children.

The emergency agreement was made, board members said, because children are unable to walk safely along the Orchard Lake detour to Daniel Whitfield School.

Temporary transportation will continue, they said, until the State Highway Commission completes an improved detour with sidewalk.

Sweet Exchange

Adlai Shows Slight Gains but Ike Still Leads in Polls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Latest returns: Eisenhower 59.7 per cent, Stevenson 40.3.

A week ago the News poll gave Eisenhower 60.4 per cent to 39.6 for Stevenson.

* * *

Eisenhower won New York's 45 electoral votes in 1952 with 56 per cent of the popular vote.

The latest California Poll, published by the Los Angeles Mirror-News, gave these results in a statewide sampling: Eisenhower 49 per cent; Stevenson 44 per cent, and, undecided, 7 per cent. This was a 2-point gain for the Democrats since the last poll a month ago.

Eisenhower still led in a poll of Indiana's "weathervane" Vanderburgh County, which has voted for the winner in every election since 1896, though Stevenson gained there for the third straight week.

A poll conducted in the county by the Evansville Press gave Eisenhower 60.6 per cent and Stevenson 39.4, a loss of .6 per cent for the President.

An over-all gain for Eisenhower in New Jersey was reported by professional pollster Kenneth Fink. His figures as of Oct. 18 were: Eisenhower 52.6 per cent; Stevenson 45; undecided 2.4.

As of Sept. 26, Fink's figures were: Eisenhower, 53.4; Stevenson, 43.4; undecided 3.2.

A statewide sampling in Utah by the Salt Lake Tribune produced these: Eisenhower 59 per cent; Stevenson 37; undecided 4.

In Omaha, radio station FAB this week asked listeners to telephone or mail their preference. The vote: Eisenhower 2,042, Stevenson 1,062.

A Denver Post poll last weekend of Colorado gave Eisenhower 55 per cent; Stevenson 38; undecided 7.

The Lansing (Mich.) State Journal, Republican independent, continuing a poll of various occupation groups, sampled opinion of farmers at grain elevators, a farm auction and at Farm Bureau meetings. It reported 378 farmers for Eisenhower and 50 for Stevenson.

A poll being conducted among Baltimore citizens by students of Goucher College's politics center, cumulative since Oct. 8, gave: Eisenhower 47.2 per cent; Stevenson 39.1; undecided 13.7.

The Lynchburg (Va.) News, polling the city with 1,000 telephone calls, said the response showed: 52 per cent for Eisenhower, 30 per cent for Stevenson, 2 per cent for T. Coleman Andrews, and 16 per cent undecided.

2 Jets, B47 Crash in Far East, 1 Dead

TOKYO (AP) — Two U.S. jet fighters collided over Okinawa and a jet bomber crashed near Tokyo Friday.

One fighter pilot was reported missing and presumed dead. The other, 1st Lt. John W. Ross, 28, of Jacksonville, Fla., was pulled out of the sea near Kin Beach by fishermen and taken to an Army hospital suffering second-degree burns on the hands and face but in good condition, the Air Force said. The missing pilot's name was withheld.

The pilot and observer of the bomber, identified as a B47, parachuted to safety. Their names were withheld.

Truman Caught off Base in Charge Against Ike

One of the political phenomena of the times is former President Truman's habit of tossing verbal brickbats at all and sundry.

During his party's convention in Chicago he did all he could to wreck the hopes of the Democratic Presidential candidate, Adlai Stevenson. In his strong support of Gov. Averill Harriman's candidacy, the former President said "Stevenson lacks the kind of fighting spirit we need."

Mr. Truman's latest blast was delivered during a speech at Gary, Ind. and was aimed directly at President Eisenhower. In that speech the Father of the Fair Deal charged that Republicans "had allowed the Russians to get a foothold in the vital and strategic Eastern Mediterranean. This did not have to happen. It could have been prevented by the President of the United States."

★ ★ ★

Just a moment, Mr. Truman! That was a pretty wild pitch coming from a man who, while he was President allowed the Communists to get a foothold in Washington and who only the other day insisted in a TV interview that Alger Hiss was not a spy.

Incidentally, it is only six years since that same Alger Hiss was convicted of perjury for denying under oath that he had passed State Department secrets to Russian agents.

★ ★ ★

If Mr. Truman were wise he would try to let the voters forget his Red Herring statement in the Hiss case and the former Russian agents who infiltrated our Government during his administration.

Experts Tell Students How to Choose Careers

A safe assumption is that 1,350 students of Waterford Township High School will look back with gratitude in future years to their school's second annual Career Day program.

Arranged by Charles Pappas, the school's vocational co-ordinator, the program was highlighted by the presence of 76 leaders of the community. They gave the students much valuable and expert advice on how to choose their careers.

In many conferences virtually all professions and occupations open to young persons were discussed in detail. Consultants not only were able to supply accurate information regarding the opportunities and rewards in these callings, but the demands they make on those choosing them. Subjects discussed included accounting, advertising, banking, journalism, nursing, tool and die making, law, dentistry, medicine, engineering and many others.

We congratulate these Waterford Township students on the opportunity they have had to obtain this expert advice on how to chart their individual futures. We also congratulate Supt. William A. Shunck, Principal Thad Carr and Co-ordinator Pappas on their initiative and imagination in planning the program. We think it long will stand out in these students' minds as a very valuable feature of their secondary education.

★ ★ ★

Commendation is due, too, to the consultants who took time out from their busy lives to offer their sage counsel to the students. In the words of Mr. Shunck, what they told them "will influence to varying degrees hundreds of persons."

Election in Jordan

Before the October 21 national election in Jordan, informed observers feared that it would result in two developments the West wouldn't like.

The first of these was an outbreak of election violence which might spark serious trouble in the Middle East. The second was a vote against the West. Happily there was no violence. But the voters have put anti-Western candidates in control of the next Jordanian parliament.

Also elected was a sprinkling of Communists and other leftists as well as some sympathizers with the former Grand Mufti of Jerusalem. One of the largest blocs in the new body consists of members of the National Socialist Party who look with favor on President Nasser of Egypt.

The tension which today grips Jordan traces back to the discontent of its 600,000 Arab refugees who have flocked into the tiny Hashemite Kingdom of 400,000 from Israel. Other factors are recurring retaliatory border raids by Israelis and general uneasiness born of the Suez dispute.

★ ★ ★

A widely held opinion is that such parliamentary groupings promise little or no hope of reconciliation with Israel. Instead, they may follow Egypt's lead in determining Arab policies. Also to be expected is that they will do all they can to weaken British influence in Jordan.

Pollsters Point to Victory for Ike and Williams

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—If either Democrats or Republicans carry Michigan for both president and governor on Nov. 6, it will be the first time this has happened in 20 years.

★ ★ ★

The consensus of pollsters and political pundits seems to be against such a sweep. Their soundings, thus far at least, point to victories again for President Eisenhower, a Republican, and Gov. Williams, a Democrat.

By implication, the dopesters appear to discount the hopes raised in some Republican circles that the combining of the national and state ballots would open the gate for election of a Republican governor.

The last time one party won for both president and governor was in the nationwide Democratic landslide of 1936. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried for president in that year and Frank D. Murphy for governor.

Honors were divided in 1940. Republican Wendell Willkie carried the state for president and Democrat Murray D. Van Wagoner was elected governor.

DIVIDED AGAIN

In 1944, Roosevelt ran high again in Michigan, but Republican Harry F. Kelly was sent to Lansing as governor.

The split in 1948 saw Republican Thomas E. Dewey capture the state's electoral vote and Williams get the governor's chair. In 1952, of course, it was Eisenhower and Williams.

The probable effect of joining the national and state tickets on one ballot has been a subject of endless speculation by politicians, with most of them seeing an advantage this year for Republicans.

The key of this attitude is the widely acknowledged personal popularity of the President as applied to the mechanics of casting a vote.

As to measuring this supposed advantage in votes, it's largely guesswork. The figures one hears are mostly within the 50,000 to 150,000 range—but there are occasional guesses on either side of this spread.

HARD TO ASSESS

It may be that no satisfactory assessment of effect ever will be made, even after the impending election. There is no very good statistical way of getting at the question.

★ ★ ★

Besides, as is currently pointed out by a political analyst writing in a national magazine, political tides and the complexion of given geographical areas are shifting steadily in Michigan.

And what of the influence of increasing use of voting machines, which rapidly are supplanting the paper ballot system?

Unless Democrats win for both President and Governor, or Republicans turn the trick, the subject likely will be debated on and on.

St. Simon and St. Jude Honored

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

St. Simon and St. Jude were Apostles, but beyond that almost nothing is known about them. They are honored together Sunday because tradition says they were martyred together. Oct. 28, however, is not even the legendary date of their death—it is the day on which their bones were interred in St. Peter's in Rome, after having been brought from Persia.

Everything that can be said about either of these saints at this late date is completely negative. We can talk only about the meagerness of our information. Of St. Simon, all we know is that he is mentioned in the lists of the Twelve Apostles. Of St. Jude, there is a little more material, but it only makes things more dubious. He was also, apparently, called Thaddeus and he was the brother of James. But there were two Apostles named James, and the best guess is that he was the brother of the one known as "the Less."

Of Jude at least, though, it is recorded he did on one occasion say something worth noting. St. John, chapter 14, verse 22, says at the Last Supper he asked a question, "Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself to us and not to the world?" to which the Lord's answer is given in the next verse.

Also on the negative side is the probability that this Jude is not the one who wrote the New Testament Epistle that bears his name.

Of the way these two became Apostles, the record is quite silent. They just appear in the lists, with no details given. Still, even though we know next to nothing about these men, the fact that they were Apostles is enough to make them saints and to give them a place in the Christian calendar.

ALL SAINTS' DAY

Thursday, Nov. 1.—A saint is a person who has attained to the presence of God in heaven. The Christian calendar is full of saints' days, honoring those departed souls who have been officially judged to have reached this blissful state. But there must be many thousands more who have been overlooked or unknown, and Thursday—All Saints' Day—is their day. All Saints' Day commemorates the holy ones of all ages and stations whose names are known only to God.

From one point of view this might be said to be the most meaningful of all Christian festivals because it is in the lives of His saints that Christ's work is fulfilled. A saint is the ultimate example of the presence of Christ in human lives.

Since earliest times various parts of the Church have celebrated days in honor of "all martyrs," that is, persons who died for their faith, but it was not until 609 that nonmartyrs were included. This happened when Pope Boniface IV took over the old Roman Pantheon (Temple of all Gods) and dedicated it to "Our Lady and All Saints," so from that time on all saints were honored in the place where all pagan gods had been worshiped.

ALL SOULS' DAY

The Church is believed by many Christians to be divided into three parts: The Church Triumphant (those already in Heaven), the Church Militant (Christians here on earth), and the Church Expectant (those who have died but have not yet attained the presence of God).

Yesterday was devoted to the Church Triumphant; today Roman Catholics and some other groups commemorate with special prayers the faithful departed state known as the Church Expectant.

Almost all ancient civilization had a custom of setting aside a day or more, usually at this time of the year, in honor of the dead. Long before Christianity the pagans had their Festival of the Dead. All Souls' Day is another of the many examples of how the Christian Church reformed and gave spiritual depth to the pagan festivals instead of trying to abolish them.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Castor Oil Treatment Kills Warts

Four ugly warts I had had for years disappeared like magic after I had used the castor oil treatment you recommended . . . Mrs. L. B. G.)

Answer—Thank you, but I do wish a few readers who have used the castor oil treatment without any effect on their warts would report. Just to assure me there's no magic in the use of castor oil as a daily application to warts.

We refer frequently to your fine "Pocket Cyclopedia of Health" and usually find the information or advice we need. However, we have not found anything about varicose veins in it . . . (H. L)

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for Varicose Ulcer.

Husband was going daffy with the itching . . . Sent for your pamphlet, used the carbon tetrachloride and zinc ointment as described in the pamphlet, and it did the trick. His gratitude . . . (Mrs. C. R. M.)

Answer—Thank him for me, Ma'am. I can't afford to smoke cigars. Don't see how any man can. Instead I'll accept with pleasure a pipeful of Middleton's Walnut Blend, spiked, if you please, with a wee pinch of Middleton's No. 5. Any reader who provides stamped, self-addressed envelope may have a copy of the pamphlet on Pruritis (Itching).

May I have your pamphlet on the Gray Sickness? I have not only the gray look but the gray outlook too. I'm crowding forty and look sixty. At 35 I looked my age and was in fine fettle . . . (Miss C. W. F.)

Answer—What! No sore tongue, fissures at corners of mouth, ridged nails? These are common manifestations of nutritional deficiency anemia—the gray sickness. For the pamphlet on The Gray Sickness send stamped self-addressed envelope.

I wonder if it is just laziness on my part, not standing over my 9-year-old to see that he washes his face well. He is just beginning to have pimples on his chin . . . (Mrs. F. J. D.)

Answer—The less he washes his face the better. Washing or lack of it has nothing to do with blackheads and pimples. Don't nag the poor kid. If or when his pimples worry him, let him write to me about it, I remember how I suffered when I had pimples and blackheads. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on the subject.

Answer — Small, reducible femoral hernias are most suitable for injection treatment. Recurrence of femoral hernia after operation is most quickly and easily cured by a few well-placed injections.

When I move sideways and take a step it hurts on the inside of knee. wondered if Calcium & Rheumatism pamphlet might . . . (Mrs. S. L.)

Answer—Your description suggests sprain, strain, loose cartilage or other injury. However, send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatic. Rheumatic is physical degeneration of joint tissues. I don't know what "rheumatism" means. Does anybody? If you are serious about it, inclose 35 cents in addition, for booklet on Chronic Joint Disability.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Bible Can Dispell Child's Fears

Beth's problem will let you exercise your imagination, and that is good for your mind. Discuss these questions in Sunday School tomorrow. And don't make the error of thinking the color of the wrapping paper indicates the quality of merchandise inside the package! If you get to heaven, suppose you find that God has the yellow skin of the Chinese!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-306: Beth L., aged nine, is a brilliant child who reads avidly.

"But during the past few months she has developed a fear of monsters who might invade this earth by flying saucers or space ships.

"I try to soothe her fears and urge her to quit reading comic books. But she has developed a phobia of flying saucers. What can I do?"

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

First, get out your family Bible and read the first chapter of Genesis. Place special emphasis on verse 27 therein, where the Bible states:

"So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

If we are thus God's children, created in his own image, then who would be the inhabitants of other inhabited planets in distant solar systems?

Wouldn't they, also, be children of God? If so, wouldn't they be in God's image, too? So wouldn't they resemble us human beings?

You parents can reassure your children in this manner and thus banish the abnormal fears of monsters shown in comic books. The latter are often depicted with a lobster's claws or even with the one eye of a Cyclops.

Remind your youngsters that there is a universal rule of scientific efficiency that would prevail on all distant inhabited planets.

Two eyes have definite advantages over one eye, for the two eyes give up 3-D vision.

If two eyes are an advantage on this planet, then they would likewise be an advantage on other planets.

And our five digits on each hand are far superior to the lobster's claw. They surpass the single hoof of a horse and the paw of a bear, as well as the talons of the eagle.

How could those other creatures adapt to the piano or typewriter keyboard the way we human beings do?

How could any other form of appendage stroke a violin or finger the frets of a guitar or even form a curl in a baby's soft hair?

If your child is old enough to have studied geometry, remind him that a triangle on any other planet will also have but three sides and contain exactly 180 degrees. A circle will have but 360 degrees.

Love will also exist anywhere. So banish this idea that possible invaders from distant planets will be unlike mankind.

GOD LIKES VARIETY

"What color is God's skin?" a child once asked me, and you might discuss the answer in Sunday School tomorrow.

Suppose, too, that God placed just yellow-skinned folks on one planet in the cosmic universe. On another, he might have placed white-skinned people.

Suppose Negroes were exclusive occupants of a third and copper-hued Indians on a fourth.

"Lord, let's mix up their skin colors on that planet Earth," some angel might have suggested, "just to see if anything new develops down there."

Well, that single factor of mixed skin colors has caused our Supreme Court to make a ruling on public schools which has upset many states.

But God must like variety of colors, or he would never have made so many different-hued flowers, would he?

Flowers are very similar in structure, except for their hue, and so are human beings. We are all brothers under the skin.

The epidermis is just the color wrapping paper around the real human merchandise packaged within. So don't make a fetish out of the hue of the wrapping paper!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Lake Side Royals Request Help From Parents, Youth

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We, the members of the Lake Side Royals Athletic and Social Club, would like to extend our hello. Our club is composed of youths of Pontiac. Our purpose is to try to give some social and other recreation activities for these youths. Every mother and dad is cordially invited to attend our annual board meetings to give us advice and help us make this a better club. Our meetings are held each Wednesday evening at 8:00 at the Lake Side Community Center.

Most of the mothers and dads can't seem to understand the goal we are trying to reach. In the past we have had many social dances, we have produced a young men's and a young ladies' basketball team, we have had other community center members from Toledo, Flint, Lansing and Peoria, Ill., etc, as our guests.

Our boys basketball team in 1955-56 won the city basketball championship. These young men took pride in themselves and enjoyed it. We are proud of these champions and we are looking forward to many more, but we need your help.

This year we are sponsoring another young men's and young ladies' basketball team. Each year this, of course, costs us many hundreds of dollars. Our only means of raising funds is our weekend dances at the Lake Side Community Center. We have tried to make the Center a place of enjoyment for all, young and old. We have donated a 21" TV set for evenings of enjoyment. We hope that in the future we can contribute even more. To do this we need your help, each mother, father, son and daughter. Let's all work together.

Halloween is an autumn festival. Frost has ridden on an icy blast, touching leaves leaving on them a riot of colored finger prints, opening husks for nuts to escape, snatching astringency from persimmons, slapping wisps of smoke from chimneys, adding sparkle to the eye and pink to the cheeks of youth as it shrieks after goblins.

Walk on All Fours to Aid Muscles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We gave up the habit of using our hands like another pair of feet two million years ago. However, in recent years women have taken to walking on their hands again. The following is one of the few exercises which uses practically all of the muscles:

Simply walk about the room on all fours. There is no doubt that you will look and feel funny but this is a fine exercise. It may seem difficult at first but it will become easier with practice. Do not drag the knees.

The next exercise is very easy and will stir up the blood and limber up the knees. Again walk about the room, this time in an upright position.

Lift your knees high up in front of you as you walk and swing the arms up high in front of you. The right arm extends forward as the left knee comes up in front of you and vice versa.

Another beginning exercise: Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight. Lift both legs just off the floor, only about 6 to 8 inches. Hold for a few moments and return legs to the floor. Continue.

If you cannot do this at first, raise and lower one leg at a time until your abdominal muscles become stronger.

STARTING ROUTINE

These three exercises topped off with the next one make a good beginning exercise routine. End with this one: Stand tall with your arms hanging at your sides and your toes pointing straight forward.

* * *

Rise high on your toes as you raise your arms sideward, shoulder height, palms toward the ceiling. Lower heels to the floor and arms to sides.

Inhale as you raise your arms and exhale as you lower them.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 19 "Essential Daily Routine for Beauty and Health," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Mrs. Galbraith was discussion leader at the Wednesday meeting. Parents and teachers discussed safety for children on the way to and from school. The parents expressed deep concern for the safety of their children while crossing Walton boulevard.

Speeding motorists create a serious hazard for children of all ages. Blind spots on the highway due to the land contour add to the danger, parents noted.

Mrs. Galbraith explained other ways, besides the formal report card, of reporting on and evaluating children's progress. The group was favorable to a gradual change in the method of reporting to the parents.

Mrs. Elton Dexter was in charge of refreshments. Her committee consisted of Mrs. Dickerson, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Burtch and Mrs. Adomitis.

Live Today, Not in Past or Future

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Most of us seem to put about 40 per cent of our time, in any given day, into worrying about the future and 30 per cent into deploring the past.

That gives us about 30 per cent for the day at hand. The miracle is really that we accomplish as much as we do.

If you don't believe me, try this experiment.

As you go about your day, notice how often you think of things in the past—happy things or sad things, things you're proud of, things you're ashamed of, things you wish you'd handled differently, things you didn't have which you think you should have had.

* * *

If you're honest, you'll find these thoughts popping into your head all the time. If you make a mark on a piece of paper each time it happens, your paper will be covered.

SAME WITH FUTURE

Do the same with the times you lapse into thoughts of the future.

You're typing a letter or dusting a table, and you think with fear of the things coming up next week; or you're bored to death now and you keep hoping that some day something exciting will happen and that the future will be less boring than the present.

If you make a mark on a piece of paper each time that happens, it will also be black at day's end.

The tragedy is that today is all we really have.

We ought to be savoring it, digging into it, finding things to enjoy about it. Because "yesterday" used to be today and "tomorrow" will soon be today, it will pay us to learn to handle today.

NOT ANY SECRET

There's no secret about it and every philosopher and prophet who ever lived has said it.

All you have to do is live it to the hilt, dismissing from your mind thoughts of yesterday or tomorrow.

Confident Living

Believe! — As Child of God You Have Power to Win

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some months ago I was called to a hospital to see a young woman. Her husband told me that the diagnosis was cancer; he didn't know whether his wife was aware of this or not.

DR. PEALE

"I have not told her," he had said to me over the telephone. I don't know if she can take it. We have three small children and it is pretty hard for me to go through this alone. Will you come?"

Well, of course I went — and I found as nice a young couple as you ever saw in your life. The wife was a lovely girl and a wonderful person. The sunlight was streaming into her room, but it didn't begin to equal the sunshine on her face as she said quite calmly, "I have cancer, you know."

"Do you?" I asked.

"Oh, yes," she replied, "but I have the best doctors and, besides, I have the Great Physician with me. Whatever is His will I can take. I would like to live, and I believe I am going to live. My husband and my children need me." Then she added:

"I have heard about people being up against things like this, but I didn't know I had it in me to meet such a situation. I found that strength comes when you need it. God builds wonderful resources into human beings."

RADIANT SPIRIT

Did she live? I am glad to report that she did. That kind of faith is life itself. And her husband told me that during her convalescence the nurses asked her to see and help several other patients facing similar crises. Her wonderful spirit radiated throughout the hospital. She had real strength.

On the other hand, I know a man who cannot, or will not, stay long in one job. He soon quits, saying he just doesn't have it in him to make a go of it.Then, after he has been on another job for awhile, begins to wish he had stayed with the one he left.

I met him recently and asked him how things were going.

"I'm finding the same difficulties in this job I've always found in all the others," he said.

HE IS PROBLEM

It is obvious to you, I am sure, that the chief difficulty must be in him, not in any of his jobs. I've been trying to make him realize the power he has within himself to meet his problems with courage and faith like the young wife.

* * *

Too many of us are plagued by a lack of faith in ourselves. But men — or women — don't break down because they are defeated, but only because they think they are. They just don't believe in their own possibilities. Actually all of us need a bigger conception of our own capabilities.

Why shouldn't you, for example, believe in yourself? You, like the rest of us, are a child of God; therefore, you have in essence within you the great powers of God. Too many people fail to discover and use these powers and, as a result, they go through life struggling with frustration and defeat when they should be victorious persons.

Believe that God is with you, that He will help you if only you will let Him. That is one of the greatest truths religion has to offer and it is one of the simplest. "I can do all things," as the Bible says, because God provides the power, the talent, the drive, the guidance.

If you actually believed, really felt that God was going to help you in any task you had to do, would you have a moment's doubt of your ability to do it? Of course not.

He stands ready, right now, to help you. All you need do is ask.

Say Mindszenty Out of Prison

Red-Tortured Cardinal Reported Free to Walk in Village Limits

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, Hungarian primate imprisoned for life on treason charges in 1949, is reported to have been freed from prison early last month and to be living in a small village near the Austro-Hungarian border.

This report was received by Dr. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter college, from the Rev. Joseph Vecsey, an intimate friend of the cardinal who lives in Vienna, Austria.

* * *

Dr. Shuster said the priest in turn had received his information through a "privately established grapevine" tested numerous times and always found to be accurate.

* * *

Other details reeived were that the cardinal has not been pardoned but is free to walk about the village, Szomor, and talk privately with the people although he is allowed no visitors and cannot leave the town.

Dr. Shuster, author of a recent book about the cardinal's trial and imprisonment, said the primate's release from prison followed a long period of vain Communist efforts to induce him to agree to conditions under which the government would permit him to resume his former church position.

MANCHESTER, N. H. — This state's leading daily paper, the Manchester Union Leader, has threatened to ban all theater advertising layouts unless there is an improvement in the present "filthy" motion picture ads.

In an editorial announcing its position, the paper said:

"Hollywood seems to have gone berserk and is under the mistaken impression that only the depraved, only the unnatural, only the obscene in moving pictures, are attractive to U. S. citizens.

'Martyred Men' Slated Sunday

Slain Missionary's Wife Mrs. McCully Has Role in Film at SA Citadel

Mrs. T. Edward McCully of Pontiac, wife of the missionary whose death at the hands of Auca Indians in Ecuador made newspaper readlines last January, will be featured in a color film to be shown in Pontiac Sunday.

The movie, "Martyred Men," will be presented at the Salvation Army Citadel here at 7:30 p.m. as part of a Sunday evening service. The general public is invited to attend the service and view the 30-minute sound film on the lives of martyred Christians.

Mrs. McCully will tell of her and her husband's experiences as missionaries in South America. T. Edward McCully Sr., father of the martyred missionary, also has a part in the film. He will depict the childhood and later highlights in the life of his son, and the family environment from which he came.

Special music and singing by the Salvation Army Band will be featured.

"We want to offer a special invitation to everyone who can possibly do so to attend the service and see this unusually interesting film," Captain Magnus Michalsen, commanding officer of the Salvation Army here, said. "All are welcome."

Trinity Baptist Marks 38 Years

Anniversary Program Sunday to Show Growth of Negro Church

Trinity Baptist Church of Pontiac, the oldest Negro Baptist church in the city, will mark its 38th anniversary Sunday.

An all-day program is planned for the celebration, commencing with a description of the Trinity during the Sunday School hour at 9:15 a.m. The description will be dramatized by members of the Sunday Schools.

At 11 a.m. the Rev. R. H. Dixon Jr. will deliver the anniversary sermon on "Life Erases." There will be a special ceremony presenting the church with a Christian Flag by the Mission Department.

At 7:30 p.m. a special "This is Your Life, Trinity" will be held.

The Trinity Baptist Church began as a mission with five members in 1917. In 1918 with 14 members, it was organized as a church. First pastor of Trinity was the Rev. Ford B. Reed.

First meeting was in an old building loaned by one of the members. In cold weather, church members met from house to house.

The present church building was started by the Rev. W. M. Franklyn, who built two thirds of the building in 1927. The church was not completed until 1948 by the Rev. T. Walter Harris.

The church now boasts a membership of 962, and is planning an expansion program after the first of the year.

Church Trick-or-Treaters to Aid CROP Program

The junior and senior high young people of the Oakland Park Methodist Church are anticipating an adventure in sharing as they plan a Halloween trick-or-treat collection for the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) for Wednesday evening.

Participants in this project to raise funds for overseas relief will make house-to-house visits in the north end of Pontiac, in the area of the church, seeking contributions, between the hours of 6 and 8. CROP identification tags and labels on sealed containers will identify the young people as they make their calls.

Under the sponsorship of the Oakland Park Methodist Church, the project was organized in this area as a means of offering to the young people an outlet for their interest and concern for hungry people. It replaces the usual Halloween trick-or-treat appeal for edible luxuries, with proceeds of the campaign going through CROP to feed people overseas who never have enough to eat.

Through CROP, contributions to the youth project will send government surplus foods, released free to the Share Our Surplus (SOS) program of Church World Service, to feed victims of hunger overseas.

Handling and distribution of the surplus foods costs less than a penny a pound. Distribution overseas is handled by church agencies.

Following the collection on Halloween night, the young people will meet at the church for refreshments and a social hour.

Rev. T. Walter Harris Marks Anniversary

The Rev. T. Walter Harris of the Providence Missionary Baptist Church, 311 Bagley St., will celebrate his eighth anniversary as pastor of the church in services Sunday. Speaking at the 11 a. m. service will be the Rev. H. D. Williams.

The 3:30 p. m. anniversary sermon will be given by the Rev. S. C. Campbell, D. D., Russell Street Baptist Church of Detroit.

Sunday school will convene at 9:30 a. m.

Relax—Remember

NEW YORK—The experts say that when you're trying to recall something, an attempt to concentrate on remembering actually retards the memory processes. They say that relaxation has a stimulating effect on the memory centers of the brain and that if you want to memorize anything, the best time is in the evening just before bedtime.

Presbyterians Name 1st Woman Minister

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Miss Margaret E. Towner is a musician, singer, professional photographer and amateur artist. At 31, she is also the first woman to be ordained into the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

* * *

She said after the ordination here this week.

"My gifts . . . can best be used in the ministry, rather than in a life away from the church."

She will serve on the staff of the First Presbyterian Church of Allentown, Pa. She has headed the education program there.

The ceremony of ordination includes the traditional question:

"Have you been inducted, as far as you know in your own heart, to seek the office of the Holy Ministry from love of God and a sincere desire to promote His glory in the Gospel of His Son?"

Her answer: "I have been thus induced."

* * *

The Rev. Richard W. Firth, vice moderator of the Cayuga-Syracuse Presbytery conducted the ordination. The sermon was by the Rev. Dr. Walter H. Eastwood, minister of the Allentown church.

New Pastor at Zion Church

Earned Way to Ministry by Years of Home Study

The Rev. Robert A. North, dynamic new paster of Zion Church of the Nazarene, qualified for the ministry the hard way—by night school courses and a four-year home study ministerial course, he told The Pontiac Press.

He replaces the Rev. W. E. Varion, who has resigned to take a pastorate in Howell.

Ordained in 1938, the Rev. Mr. North has a record of 24 years experience before and since his ordination.

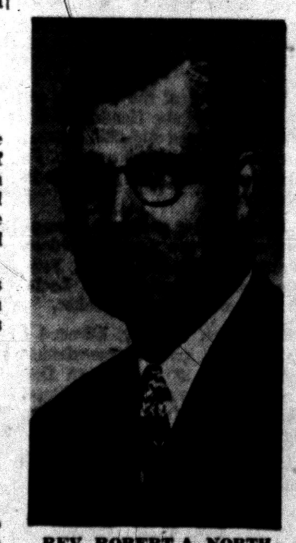

Born in Pennsylvania in 1902, he started his ministry at the age of 30 in Plymouth. He served in Detroit from 1945 to 1950, and then went to Port Huron where he remained until he accepted the call to the local church.

In addition to his experience as a minister, he has been active in directing boys' and girls' camps for the past three years.

The Rev. Mr. North is a member of the Home Mission Board, Board of Ministerial Studies, Orders and Relations Committee and secretary of the District Church School Board of the Church of the Nazarene.

The new minister and his wife also have three sons, Paul with the U. S. Army in Germany, and Robert and Richard who are attending Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill.

Why Protestants Go To Church

Protestants have never been compelled to attend church.

The true motive for church attendance is very different. The Bible says, "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing." (Psalm 100: 2)

In New Testament times, after Christ ascended into heaven, the believers met together to study the Scriptures and to worship God. This was the beginning of the Christian Church. These early Christians recounted their blessings to one another. The Bible says that "they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles." (Acts 14: 27)

It is the same today. Across the nation there are thousands of groups of Bible-believing people, who meet together week by week to study God's Word, the Bible.

It is in the Bible-centered church such as this that you will find the true teaching of the Gospel. In this friendly atmosphere you will be welcome. You will be aided in your understanding of the Bible, God's message to all mankind. It is here that you will find God's message of love: "Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation (sacrifice) for our sins." (I John 4: 10)

Bible-believing Christians are not compelled to attend church. They have a deep desire to know God, to study His Word, and to serve Him. You are invited to join with them. Find a church where the Bible is given the place of supreme authority it deserves, and where the message of salvation through Jesus Christ is clearly presented. You will find a welcome there.

RABBI ISRAEL GOODMAN

Plan Installation of B'nai Israel

Rabbi Israel Goodman to Be Honored Sunday Before Special Guests

Principal speaker at the 2 p.m. service at the synagogue, 143 Oneida Rd., will be Rabbi Herschel Schacter of the Bronx, N. Y.

Also speaking briefly will be guests Talbot Smith, justice of the Michigan Supreme Court; Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, Mayor William W. Donaldson; and chairman of the program David E. Utley of Pontiac, member of the Board of Trustees.

Rabbi Schacter has just returned from an historic mission behind the Iron Curtain. He was one of the first American rabbis to enter the Soviet Union since the Communist Revolution.

* * *

Also participating in the services will be Charles Jacobs, president of the B'nai Israel congregation, Cantor Shepsi Ackerman, Rabbi Sanford Saperstein of Temple Beth Jacob, and Rabbi Hayin Donin of Detroit.

Following the service will be a reception to honor the new rabbi and his wife and two daughters. The reception will be held in the social hall of the synagogue.

Rabbi Goodman came to Pontiac Aug. 1 to replace Rabbi Henry Hoschander who is new spiritual leader in Rochester, N. Y. Rabbi Goodman came from San Juan, Puerto Rico where he organized the first Jewish congregation in the history of the island. While there, he served as chaplain for the Armed Forces of the United States.

Statue of Mary, Christ Found in Indian Mine

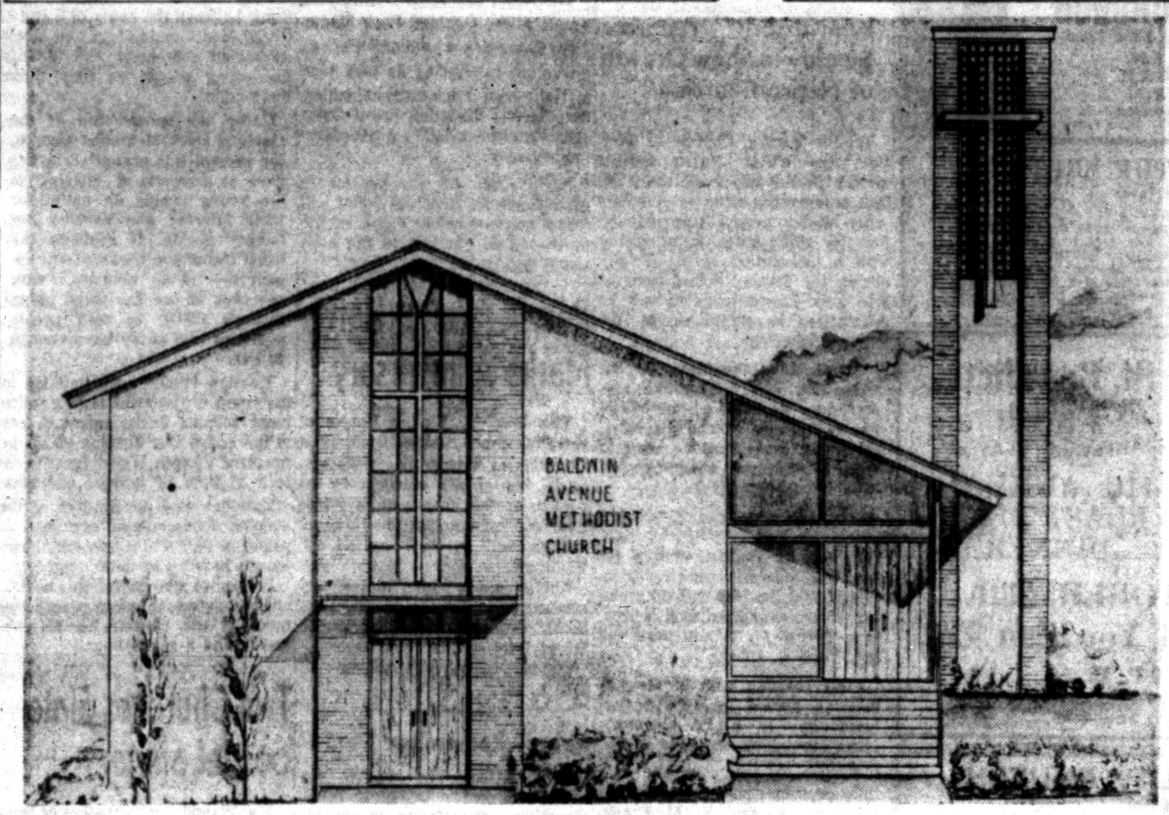

NEW DELHI, India—A wooden statue of the Blessed Virgin has been discovered in a mine at Dori, a little village north of the Jesuit mission of Hazaribagh.

The statue, depicting the Holy Mother with the Child Jesus on her left arm, has lost its right arm. Skillfully carved, it is in good condition and appears to be extremely old.

The discovery is unusual because there are no Catholics in the region, nor have any Christians ever been known to have lived or worshiped there.

PACKING PACKAGES FOR KOREA — Barbara Hall of 23 Evelyn court (left to right), Paul Blystone of 281 Michigan avenue, Mrs. Robert Newill of 2876 Woodbine drive and Elsie Benson of 212 South Josephine street met recently at the First Presbyterian Church to pack garments for Korea. Members of the church collect and give clothing continually to the church. When a sufficient amount is received for shipping, men and women gather for the packing. The garments are sent to orphanages and missions of the Presbyterian Church where it is then distributed to the needy.

NEW CHURCH TO GO UP — Simplicity of design, dignity and loftiness keynote plans for the new sanctuary for Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church, ground for which will be broken Sunday. The 2:30 p. m. ceremony will be held at the site for the new structure, Baldwin and Chicago Aves. First unit of the new church will be a two-story block building which will serve as a sanctuary pending construction of the permanent sanctuary. Then the initial unit will become an educational building to house Sunday School classes. Members will contribute much of the labor for the new building.

Baldwin Church to Break Ground

After 25 years of continuous operation, most of which has been in a converted farmhouse, Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church will break ground Sunday afternoon for the first unit of a new worship center.

The ceremony will be held at 2:30 p.m. at the site just north of the present building, at the corner of Baldwin and E. Chicago Aves.

Dr. William O. Moulton, superintendent of the Flint District of the Detroit Conference of the Methodist Church, will officiate. Arrangements have been made to have the Salvation Army Band take part in the services.

The unit to be constructed will be two stories high and built of beselite block. Primarily planned as an educational unit, one floor will be arranged as a sanctuary until future growth permits a larger edifice. When the structure is complete, the present building will be torn down.

Members and friends of the church will contribute much of the labor in the construction of the new building.

* * *

When finished, it will represent a contractual value of approximately $40,000, according to Rev. C. Warren Wilson, who has been pastor since July, 1955.

Of the 11 original charter members, three are still connected with the church: Mrs. Emma Dando of East Princeton, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Norberg of West Brooklyn. Mrs. Norberg has been church pianist for twenty-five years.

* * *

Crowded conditions in the worship services and the Sunday School has made the construction of a new building imperative, the pastor said.

Joslyn Church Thank-Offering Service Sunday

The Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church is having its annual Thank-Offering Service on Sunday, at 10:45 a.m. Speaker will be Ruth Moffet.

* * *

The lighting of the candles will be done by Phebe Henderson and Sandra Lougheed with Bill Hoisington giving the call to worship. Josephine Watkins will give the invocation.

Others taking part in the morning service are Emma Ferdon, Frances Hoisington, Carol Venner, Sarah Esralian with Leola Oak introducing the speaker.

The pastor, the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins, will give the benediction. The ushers will be Roberta Denman, Ila Bohlman, Marion Fauss, Eleanor Schaeffer, Alma Hubner, Margaret Lunsford.

From the choir, a double duet will sing "Send The Light."

Missionary Burden Too Much for Donkey

RIBERALTA, Bolivia — A new Jeep arrived just in time for a 6-foot, 3-inch, 240-pound missioner and donkey. The townspeople were starting to feel sorry for the poor beast he rode.

Fr. James R. Dyer, Maryknoll missioner from Ossining, N. Y., is the big man.

Single Stroke Machines Ends of Engine Block

FLINT — A huge broach, said to be the world largest, with a single stroke can machine both ends of an automobile engine block.

A second such monster does the same for top and bottom. Each broach is 12 feet high, 19 wide, and 59 long—about the size of an average ranch-style house.

'British Reserve' a Myth Letters by Lovelorn Show

SHEFFIELD, Eng. (INS) — Romantic relations have emerged as the dominant personal problem of the British people.

* * *

A lecture by Cyril Greenland, senior psychiatric social worker at the Crichton Royal Hospital in Dumfries, Scotland, to the psychology section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science completely destroyed the legend that the British are a "cold" and "reserved" race.

Greenland declared that writing to newspapers for advice about personal problems is now a "national pastime" in Britain. Some 500,000 cases are dealt with each year by the "advice columns" in the British press.

Over 70 per cent of those writing to newspapers are women aged 12 to 70, but over half are between 16 and 24.

* * *

Greenland said after examining 10,000 letters he calculated that 14 in every 100 adults between 15 and 65 years of age wrote for advice about a personal problem.

BIGGEST PROBLEMS

Twelve sets of problems were classified and the biggest numbers concerned sex life and birth control.

* * *

Other problems were classified as: personal, love and courtship, marriage ceremony, married life, and loneliness, family life, general and child care and welfare.

Each problem had a number of sub-classifications. Thus under "love and courtship" there were 17 items ranging from "confessions of past sex life" to "unrequited love."

Greenland said the greatest number of problems came from the highly industrial areas and there were characteristic differences in the national distribution of problems.

* * *

Greenland found that "the Welsh were mostly interested in the 'marriage ceremony,' the Scots in 'sex life'; and the Irish in 'love and courtship.'"

Showcase Burglary

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP)—Police have no doubt that the burglars who cracked the safe of a supermarket here were daring. They did their work in the front window of the store where anyone walking by could see them. Steve Douglas, the store manager, said the thieves were actually double-daring. They braved two vials of tear gas attached to the safe, that went off. The burglars stole several hundred dollars.

Hold Up Waitress at Oakland Diner

The lone waitress in the Oakland Diner, Oakland and Sanderson Avenues, was held up at 4:40 a.m. today by a masked bandit who escaped with $120 from the till, Pontiac police said.

* * *

The waitress, Olive Peters, 73 Baldwin Ave., told police the man threatened her with a pistol he kept concealed in his jacket pocket.

The man, about five feet four and in his twenties, she thought, entered through the diner door when no customers were present, the waitress told police. The lower half of his face was covered by a white handkerchief, she said.

He demanded the money from the cash register, about $100 in bills and $20 in change, she said, then left on foot, running south on Oakland to Clark St.

Police said the waitress was not harmed.

Prison Expanding

JACKSON (AP)—A new salesroom for inmate-made goods is being erected at Southern Michigan Prison apart from the main building. Prison officials said the present salesroom in the administration building lobby has been considered a security risk because of a guard shortage. The new $4,800 building near the prison gates will be completed about Dec. 1.

Globetrotter Sheridan Has Traveling Binges

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"I go all over," Annie Pie Sheridan said. "I get on a travel binge and I go all over."

Footloose Annie, the Bachelor Gal, was describing the way of life she's taken up since the death in Nairobi, back in 1953, of public relations tycoon Steve Hannagan, the great love of her life.

But she said it happily, while sipping a pink gin, and I reminded her that she was the Oomph Girl when we first met about a decade ago.

"What is Ooomph?" I asked her then.

Already pretty sick of the silly title, she answered, "It's the noise a fat man makes when he bends over to tie his shoe lace."

A lot of scotch-and-water has gone under the bridge since then. A lot of laced shoes have been replaced by loafers. But the Bomb of the Forties, a fugitive from a Denton, Texas, ranch, is still making movies and money, proving to Marilyn Monroe and Diana Dors that they can still be big in 1966.

When I saw her the other day in a large plush apartment, appeared from . . . and was hurrying back to Hollywood, where she was again "very hot."

Her speech was salted with mentions of the Hotel Semiramis in Cairo or "the morning beach" in Acapulco . . . the special language of the world traveler."

"I was in the Cairo airport recently on my trip to the Belgian Congo," she said. "Holy Toledo, since the trouble you don't dare walk 10 feet from the plane! It's Egypt for the Egyptians.

ANN

"Then I was on a safari not far from the Mau Maus. A sudden noise woke me out of a sound sleep in my tent.

"I said to myself, 'Where am I? That sounds like a Texas jackass braying!'

"Well, it was a gebby, like a zebra, and the bray is exactly the same. I grew up among and on animals and I know."

It was a little unexpected when she—looking so slim and chic in this city setting—casually remarked, "There were leopards and lions running around our camp, but they won't go through a sleeping net to claw you."

"How do you know?" I asked.

"It's a psychological thing with them," she assured me—or tried to. She didn't quite succeed.

Besides her TV, Annie Pie's name'll be soon on the marquees in 'The Opposite Sex,' which she narrated, and in "Woman and the Hunter."

Of Steve Hannagan she spoke willingly.

"He hadn't been sick a day," she said. "But that's the way it's written, and I think he's far better off. He just wouldn't slow up."

As she travels, Annie Pie's always remembering Denton, where she and Joan (Rosebud) Blondell were beauty queens—and conscious of Texas tales.

"Those East Africans tell taller tales than Texans," she said, "but their tall tales about fighting th Mau Maus aren't tall tales . . . they're true."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Nat "King" Cole promises no guest stars on his TV'er—but he has Frank Sinatra lined up, just in case . . . Benny Goodman will tour Japan with a jazz band.

Win or lose, Pres. Eisenhower's planning an Augusta vacation after election day . . . Milton Q. Ford, a Washington disk jock, is preparing a cafe act . . . Gaylord Hauser, the Hauser, the wheat germ fancier, wants to turn actor . . . The Bride Show at the Coliseum shows a bride in $1,000,000 worth of jewelry . . . Newest drink: Vodka and apple juice.

Quizmaster Hal March is hunting a Westchester home . . . U-I, which has the film, "Written on the Wind," hopes critics will refer to it by initials—"WOW" . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Fred Allen said it: "The two principal industries of France are eating and shrugging."

Arraign 2 on Charge of 'Hooded' Holdup

Charged with a $150 grocery store holdup Oct. 17 at 440 N. Paddock St., two 20-year-old men yesterday waived examination at preliminary arraignment before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Eugene Burns, of 377 Irwin Ave. and Wilbert L. Wheat, of 408 Branch St. both were returned to Oakland County Jail under $1,000 bond apiece. They will be arraigned Nov. 5 in Circuit Court.

The pair are accused of robbing attendant Harold Werth and locking him in a restroom. Wheat was believed to be armed with a rifle, Pontiac police say. Both were hooded.

Indiana Woman Gets Death Sentence

CROWN POINT, Ind. (AP) — A thrice - married woman, convicted of killing her young sister-in-law and accused of slaying her paraplegic husband, his mother and sister, yesterday became the first woman in Indiana history sentenced to die in the electric chair.

* * *

Mrs. Opal Collins, 25, of nearby Hammond, fainted when Criminal Court Judge William Murray imposed the sentence. The death penalty was recommended by an all-male jury which convicted her of the murder of Mary Sue Collins, 11, last May. The jury deliberated the case 23 hours.

* * *

Judge Murray set the execution date for Feb. 15 in the Indiana State penitentiary in Michigan City. Cleve Stenhouse, attorney for the twice-divorced Mrs. Collins said an appeal probably would be made. He had based her defense on temporary insanity.

* * *

Mrs. Collins has been indicted for the slaying of her husband, Ben Collins, 28, whom she married four weeks before the shooting in their Hammond home; his mother, Julia, 48, and sister, Martha, 14. She was tried only for Mary Sue's death.

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE AGE OF CHIVALRY — 6
A Wizard

In olden days people believed in magic and most castles had a wizard. He was a wise old man, sometimes good, sometimes bad, who thought he could foretell the future by gazing into a crystal ball.

He lived in a dark room in the castle where the corners were full of cobwebs and bats and there were shelves of dried herbs and volumes of ancient spells. The king believed his wizard could help him to win battles by brewing a spell or muttering a few magic words.

Here is a wizard seated in his carved dragon chair. Color the picture with your crayons and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Fold back the end of the desk on the dotted line so it will stand.

Cut the slit in the top of the jar with a face on it. Cut out the star at the top — or use a silver star sold in stationery stores — and paste it on the end of a toothpick painted red. Put it into the jar by the desk. This is the wizard's wand, ready to use when he wants to cast a spell.

(First to contribute this idea was Quida Veale, Birmingham, Ala. If you send a usable idea in care of this newspaper you may win the Junior Editors $10 award. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Hollywood Headlines

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ben Alexander looked natural enough, playing the sidekick to a law enforcer. But there was a difference.

* * *

He was playing a deputy sheriff, not officer Frank Smith of TV's Dragnet.

* * *

But the most shocking thing was —Alexander was drunk!

All this was in a movie scene, of course—Universal - International's "Pay the Devil." The scene had Alexander, as an erring deputy, getting drunk on duty at the insistence of the heavy.

* * *

"If my partner (Webb) could see me now, he'd kill me," Alexander laughed.

He was obviously having the time of his life—and no wonder. It was his first film role aside from Dragnet in 22 years!

* * *

"The last picture I made was right on this lot," he reflected. "That was in 1934. After that I went with NBC and I've been with them ever since."

* * *

Ben's film career dates back to the first World War, when he appeared as a child actor with D. W. Griffith. He grew up in pictures during the '20s, playing in wholesome films like "Penrod and Sam" and "Boy of Mine."

* * *

His big break as a young man came in 1930, when he appeared in "All Quiet on the Western Front."

"Universal wanted to sign me to a term contract," he recalled. "But Lewis Milestone, the director of the picture, advised me to hold out until it was released, then I'd get offers from all the studios.

* * *

"So what happened? The picture was released and nobody could tell us apart in those uniforms, except for Lew Ayres. I didn't work for two years!"

* * *

Later he went into radio as an announcer and quiz master, edging into TV after the war. His association with Webb turned out to be a golden one for all concerned. Now at 45, Ben is better known than he ever was as a kid star.

Not Trushtworthy!

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)— James Harvey, 62, was considered model prison at the Van Nuys jail where he is serving a 90-day sentence for drunkenness. So police made him a trusty. A guard said he spotted Harvey, a transient, lying on the jail floor. He was singing and clutching an empty pint whiskey bottle. "Musta been planted on me," Harvey explained "I'm a toeteetler."

He is no longer a trusty.

Policeman Promoted

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Police Supt. Dewey Beaver has promoted Detective Lt. John J. McGavin to captain, effective immediately. He succeeds Capt. Clarence A. Stoppels, who retires Dec. 22 as head of the Police, Juvenile and Women's Division. Stoppels retires on his 60th birthday. He joined the force in 1921.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

A story book finish couldn't have had a more spectacular ending than Walled Lake's 12-7 victory over Waterford before a record crowd of 5,100 screaming fans.

With only 1½ minutes to play and Walled Lake on its own 23 yard line, Clayton Roth's placement, which gave Waterford a 7-6 lead in the 3rd period, looked as big as a mountain.

It looked even bigger in view of the fact that Viking regulars Johnny Walker and Frank Fink were out of the lineup with injuries.

Senior quarterback Larry Dion, like a veteran field general, sparked the 77-yard march in only six plays and he went over from the two-yard line with only 35 seconds showing on the clock.

On his first play of the final moments, Dion hit Don Yeargan with a 22 yard pass, and on the next play came the most spectacular performance of the day.

Dion threw 32 yards to end Larry Hughes. Hughes and defender Lyndie Salathiel both went up for the ball on the 12 yard line. It was not until after both came down on the field that Hughes jumped up waiving the ball.

Walled Lake's first touchdown also was a thriller. Waterford was on the Viking 23 yard line midway in the second period when Warren Miksch's pass was intercepted by Dick Greig who streaked 87 yards unmolested down the sidelines. Walker's point was wide.

* * *

The Skippers scored in the first 3 minutes of the 3rd period. After the 2nd half kickoff, three plays failed and Waterford punted. The ball was touched by a Viking and Waterford had possession on the 45.

Miksch, after two plays, hit Salathiel with a 44-yard pass play and Roth's point made it 7-6.

Backfield depth was the big factor for Walled Lake, but the Skippers were game and brilliant at times. "It was our best ball game," said Waterford coach Dave Freeman, "but you've got to give credit to Hughes for that tremendous catch."

* * *

Hughes said after the game, "I didn't know what happened when we both went up for that pass, all I know is I had the ball when we came down."

The victory clinched the Inter-Lakes title for Walled Lake and made its season mark read 7-0. Waterford is now 6-1 with two more games to play.

Pontiac Handed 4th Consecutive Defeat

By H. GUY MOATS

Royal Oak High School's well-balanced, and confident ball club last night handed Pontiac's Chiefs their 4th straight defeat of the season, and the 4th in a row in the current series between the schools.

After a see-saw, scoreless 1st half Jim Manilla's Acorns came back in the 3rd and 4th periods to blast PHS with a 19-0 count. Chiefs never were close to the scoring zones.

Pontiac got two breaks in the first half, but neither developed the potential advantage offered.

In the 2nd period Acorns had driven to midfield. Halfback Jerry Snider broke out of a handoff play, went 50 yards for what appeared to be a TD. But a teammate clipped and the tally was wiped out.

The southenders got the counter back in the last 25 seconds of the 3rd period after a sizzling battle waged between the opposing 25 yard markers. Frank Strugell, a sub quarterback fired a 30-yard pass to left flanker Hewitt Hornbeck in the south end zone. Gary Banks booted the conversion, and the Acorns were on their way to a win.

* * *

Midway in the finale Snider again got away on a long one. This time he took the ball on a reverse, lugged it 70 yards for the tally. One of the finest exhibitions of blocking in many a game marked the run. At least six Chiefs were taken out by Hornbeck, John Kennedy, Bob Manser and several others. Snider simply cut out to the sideline and galloped rest of the way in.

* * *

Joe Hill, Chiefs' center, who did a fine defensive job, cut off another sure TD in the 1st frame when he nailed Banks from behind after the fleet Acorn outran the Chiefs on a punt return. Larry Beamer, Bob Holloway performed well, up front, while Charley Robinson was the PHS ball lugging workhorse.

Lakers Score 12-7 Victory

West Bloomfield High School celebrated Homecoming in fine style by posting a 12-7 victory over Milford in a Wayne - Oakland League contest last night.

Touchdowns by Roger Wolf and John Lucadam gave the Lakers their second loop triumph of the season.

Lucadam's one - foot plunge countered the deciding points in the final period overcoming a 7-6 Milford lead. The clinching tally was set up by an 87-yard kickoff return by Larry Holister.

Wolf went over from eight yards out for the other TD on the last play of the first half. Milford gained its short-lived lead late in the third quarter. The ensuing kickoff led to the final six-pointer.

Brewer Tallies 19 as Jays Win, 20-19

Oakland County's leading scorer Ron Brewer led Southfield to a 20-19 victory over Berkley to snap a 3-game losing streak for the Jays yesterday.

Brewer went 40, 12 and 60 yards and he and Jim Zurcher added the points. Fran Nubrecht scored all three TD's for Berkley with Herb Duncan getting the point.

It was 20-13 at halftime for Southfield, and the tying point was missed in the 3rd stanza.

Coach Bob Mineweaser has revamped his starting eleven for tomorrow's game with the dangerous Dales. The Shamrocks will be gunning for their 4th Suburban Catholic League win in six efforts.

Pontiac's Wisner Stadium will be the scene of Sunday's SCL struggle between winless St. Frederick and Center Line St. Clement. Starting time is 2:30 p.m.

In other league games tomorrow afternoon, defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary is a heavy favorite over the St. Mary Irish at Royal Oak while St. Benedict of Highland Park is an underdog against invading Hazel Park St. Rita.

Lane 'Off the Hook'; Ryff Bout Approved

DETROIT (AP)—Muskegon's Kenny Lane, the nation's 5th-ranked lightweight, is free, as far as the National Boxing Assn. is concerned to carry through with a fight with Frankie Ryff at Miami Nov. 14.

The NBA lifted its suspension of Lane yesterday and rapped the knuckles of all parties involved in a disputed contract for a New Orleans fight with Ralph Dupas Oct. 8. Lane didn't fill the date.

The NBA's executive committee found that the Lousiana state athletic commission, a New Orleans promoter and one of Lane's managers were parties to an improperly executed contract.

Bloomfield Hills Suffers 14-7 Loss at Fraser

After a scoreless 1st half, Fraser made it 7-0 in the 3rd period on a 23-yard pass play.

In the 4th stanza the Hillsmen tied it 7-7 with Jim Kearney going over from the two. He also made the point. Highlight in the drive was a 38 yard pass from Dave Drury to Bob Eaton.

With only 1 minute 25 seconds left, Jim Munito passed 22 yards to Lonny Klieno for the winning TD. Two Baron drives were thwarted in the final perid on 15-yard penalties.

Bloomfield is now 4-2 for the season.

Trojans Win Oakland B Title

Jackets Buried by Clawson, 37-6

By BILL CORNWELL

Clawson High displayed tremendous power Friday night at Clawson to win the 1st Oakland B League football championship in the school's history.

Deceptively mixing a pulverizing ground assualt with a deadly aerial attack, the Trojans gave an awesome demonstration of gridiron might as they crushed Avondale, 37-6, in their Oakland B showdown before a delighted Dad's Night crowd.

Coach Bob Acton's gridders swept the Jackets off their feet right from the start. They scored once in the 1st quarter, then poured 21 points across the goal in the 2nd period to hold a commanding 27-0 advantage at intermission.

The 2nd half was merely formality for Clawson against the completely demoralized Jackets. Clawson tallied its 5th touchdown in the 3rd stanza and added insult to injury in the last quarter when quarterback Tom Kollin booted a 15-yard field goal.

Behind the big, mobile forward wall, the Clawson ball carriers ripped through the Avondale line at will to amass 284 yards.

The workhorse of the attack was sophmore fullback Lowell Acton, who tore off 170 yards in 23 attempts for an average of 7.3 per carry in addition to scoring three touchdowns.

Acton opened the touchdown parade with a 14-yard burst through the middle in the 1st period. Halfback Dave Rehse started the 2nd quarter landslide with a 3-yard jaunt, then Acton cut loose with TD runs of 2 and 64 yards, the latter coming on the last play of the 1st half.

End Larry Dorr caught a 19-yard pass from Kollin in the 3rd session for the Trojans' final TD. Kollin's field goal came next to climax the evening. Kollin also placekicked four extra points.

Steve Saunders blocked a Trojan punt to set up Avondale's lone touchdown. On the 1st play of the quarter halfback Sven Blomberg shot 10 yards through the line to reach pay-dirt.

Troy Battles From Behind to Defeat Dragons, 25-18

The Troy Colts were twice forced to come from behind Friday afternoon before they could gain a hard-earned 25-18 victory over Lake Orion on Troy's rain-soaked field.

It was Troy's 4th Oakland B League triumph in five starts, but Clawson disspelled all hopes for a chance at the crown by routing Avondale last night. Orion's loss was its 3rd in five league games.

Long runs and sensational plays were surprisingly numerous in the game, which was played in a steady drizzle. Despite the soggy turf and a slippery ball, four touchdown passes were thrown, two by each team.

The Dragons capitalized on a fumble to grab an early lead. Ed Briad pounced on the bobble on the return of the opening kickoff. Five plays later Doug Storey rammed over from three yards out.

A 12-yard pass from Sim Acton to Jack Fifield and Acton's plunge for the extra point brought Troy a brief 7-6 lead in the 2nd quarter. But a touchdown aerial from Nick Neira to Ralph MacLachlan covering 52 yards gave the Dragons a 12-7 advantage at halftime.

Lake Orion's final touchdown came with less than three minutes to go when Niera's aerial to Jim Recknagel ate up 63 yards.

By JERRY BARNFATHER

Romeo remained among the ranks of the unbeaten, staging a marvelous 2nd half comeback to administer a heart-breaking 12-7 verdict to Rochester.

The defeat was the 2nd straight for Rochester, while the Bulldogs extended their victory string to 7 games.

The game was high-lighted by the sparkling performance of Romeo's 'Scoot' Fowler. The shifty back who personally accumulated nearly the opponents total ground out-put, scored the winning TD.

Rochester, dominating play throughout the entire 1st half, appeared on the path to victory.

Jay Eldred and Fred Weaver tore off large chunks of yardage, driving 75 yards to the Romeo 1 yard stripe. Efforts were futile, however, as the Bulldogs pounced on a fumble there.

Early in the 3rd stanza, the Falcons downed the ball on the Romeo 9 yard line on a poor pass from center as the Bulldogs were attempting to punt.

Romeo came to life in the final period, paced by consistent gains of Butch Dallwitz and Fowler. Dallwitz provided the punch, sneaking over from the 3 following a drive of 70 yards.

Moments later, Fowler brought a dramatic finish to the contest, with less than 4 minutes remaining. Waltzing away from several would-be tacklers, the swift 'back raced 54 yards for paydirt.

Broken Legs Common Thing for Gridder

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Earle Norwood, first string quarterback on the Oakland Junior College football squad, has broken his leg several times this season. But he hasn't missed playing a game.

The 6-foot, 165-pound athlete is in his second year of college football but his secret didn't get out until Oakland Naval Hospital aides found out why Earle kept returning so often to get his football leg fixed. He has another one for regular use.

Motorcycle Racer Dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veteran motorcycle racer Chuck Basney was fatally injured last night when he crashed into a wall at Gardena Stadium during a qualifying heat and then caromed back into the path of another racer.

Maples Handed 28-0 Setback by Hurons

Defending EML champion Birmingham took a 28-0 lacing at the hands of Port Huron on the Big Red field last night to end league play with a 2-3 record.

Big Ken Martin scored two of the Port Huron TD's in outplaying Birmingham all the way.

Clarkston Ties Oxford

By CHUCK ABAIR

A nullified point after touchdown and two key pass interceptions wrecked the upset hopes of the Clarkston Wolves and they had to settle for a 6-6 tie after pushing Oxford to the limit in a non-league battle at Clarkston last night.

* * *

The home club dominated the play despite a patched up lineup but saw its final chance for victory go down the drain in the last minute on a stolen aerial.

Then Oxford, with at least three chances to try long passes in an effort to go all the way, elected to play for a tie by running out the clock in the final seconds rather than risk being the victim of a costly intereception.

The only other pass grabbed by Oxford resulted in a third period score when reserve end Len Haremza dashed back 60 yards.

* * *

Following Clarkston's touchdown, Roger Dubats' successful placement was called no play due to a penalty.

He had to kick over from the 20 and the boot fell short.

The Wolves line had blocked Oxford's try.

The Clarkston six-pointer came in the last quarter on a drive covering 78 yards in five plays with halfback George Lang scampering across from the 24.

LA Rams After Revenge Against Lions

(SPECIAL TO THE PRESS)

LOS ANGELES — Upwards of 60,000 fans will watch the Detroit Lions and the Los Angeles Rams in their rematch Sunday afternoon in Memorial Coliseum, with the Rams looking for revenge.

Detroit downed the Rams 24-21 two weeks ago in Briggs Stadium with the Rams making a stirring second half comeback. After trailing 17-0 at the intermission.

Rams' coach Sid Gilman has named Billy Wade, the engineer of the Rams rally against the Lions, as the starting quarterback for Sunday's crucial battle.

Faced with virtual elimination from the western division race if they should drop the upcoming game against the Lions, the Rams have worked overtime this week to cope with the passing threat of the Lions' Bobby Layne and the rushing threats of Don McIlhenny and Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy.

* * *

McIlhenny, the National Football League's 5th leading ground gainer, has gained 286 yards for a 4.7 yard average while Cassidy has a 5.0 rushing average and is the team's second leading ground gainer with 222 yards.

Coach Buddy Parker has indicated that all three of his injured players, fullback Gene Gedman, Jim Doran and defensive halfback Carl Karilivacs will be abailable for duty against the Rams.

He refused to indicate whether the trio would handle starting roles against the defending Western Conference champions but insisted "all would see action on Sunday."

* * *

Halfback Ron Waller and end Leon Clarke, injured against the Green Bay Packers last week, definitely will play against Detroit.

* * *

The game will be televised in the Detroit area with the kickoff set for Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p. m. EST.

'M' vs. Gopher; MSU vs. Illini

ANN ARBOR (INS)—Two Rose Bowl minded Big Ten teams meet head-on today as Michigan's Wolverines battle Minnesota's Gophers at Ann Arbor.

To the winner goes the "Little Brown Jug" — the trophy which has marked the series since it began in 1892.

Behind Peaks is Dennis (the Menace) Mendyk. Mendyk's two long breakaway touchdown runs against Notre Dame contributed more than anything else to the Irish 2nd-half collapse.

HEAVIEST ENTRY — Another new leader has emerged from the many entries in The Pontiac Press "big pheasant derby." Above is Ernst Meeker, 446 Midway, with his 3-pound-12-ounce rooster that today takes the lead in the "heavy" division. Meeker's bird was shot Wednesday evening near Auburn Heights. With Meeker was Orville Crawford of Pontiac. Meeker's entry ousted that of Marcia Laucks, a 3½-pounder, which had stood up since opening day.

To Return to Brooklyn

Podres Leaves Navy

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — After mulling it over seven months, the U.S. Navy has decided it can't use baseball star Johnny Podres and is returning him to the Brooklyn Dodgers, who undoubtedly can.

The nagging backache which has afflicted the southpaw pitcher for years, and which once resulted in his being classified 4-F for the draft, yesterday brought him a medical discharge at the Naval hospital here.

Brooklyn officials couldn't contain their jubilation over the release of Podres, who whipped the New York Yankees twice in the 1955 World Series to help the Dodgers win their first world championship.

"That's wonderful news," said Brooklyn Manager Walter Alston in Kofu, Japan, where the Dodgers stopped off in their 20-game tour for an exhibition tilt with the Kanto All Stars. 'There's nothing I'd rather have heard."

Brooklyn Vice President Buzzie Bavasi, just as happy as Alston, had a sober note: "All I hope is that the injury isn't any worse than when he went in the Navy."

Bavasi said he'd like to spot Podres in the Puerto Rican winter league "where he can pitch about once a week and we can keep track of his progress."

* * *

Last night's Navy announcement that Podres had been discharged came unexpectedly, though Podres had been in the Naval hospital since Sept. 19 for further treatment of his ailing back. When the announcement was made, Podres had left town and not even his parents in Witherbee, N.Y., had been notified.

The decision to release Podres, who's been in the Navy since last March 19, was made by a three-man medical survey board at the Naval hospital. The Brooklyn pitcher had been under the care of Navy Capt. C. A. Stevenson, who recommended the discharge.

Mentors of the Chiefs' Valley and state prep championship thinclads will present a track "picture" using five of the 1956 team stars before the physical-education division of the meeting.

Freeman Watkins in sprint starts Alex Barge and Hud (Goose) Ray state champions in the high jump and the now-graduated top star, Hayes Jones and ace Jimmy Taylow in the hurdles, will be the performers. Jones is now a student at Eastern Michigan (Ypsilanti) College.

Seven Records Are Imperiled

U. S. Olympic Trackmen Make Final Appearance Before Games

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Seven U.S. records were imperiled today as the United States' Olympic track and field athletes made their last pre-Games appearance in this country.

The Santa Ana College track is lightning fast, and alternate athletes for next month's games, participating in today's development meet, will be fighting hard for the No. 1 spots.

* * *

Four world marks and two American standards tumbled last week at Ontario, Calif., in an Olympics practice meet.

The 5,00 meters, target of Oregon's Bill Dellinger since Max Truex of USC lowered the time to 14:22.8 last week.

The hammer throw, with Harold Connolly of Boston A.C. out to better his last week's 213-9 heave and his best, 218-10, both of which are short of the 220-10¾ claimed by a Russian athlete last week.

Bahama Stops Tony Gonzalez

NEW YORK (AP) — Yama Bahama's reward for stopping Tony "Tex" Gonzalez in 59 seconds of the third round last night at Madison Square Garden, is another session in the gymnasium.

Bahama made short work of Gonzalez, dropping the East Orange, N.J. middleweight with a right to the jaw for a 9-count and then leaving him draped over the bottom rope.

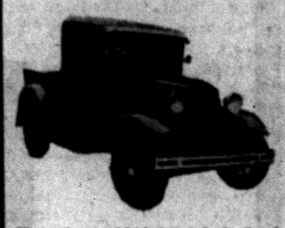

Referee Ruby Goldstein used a new discretionary power to call it a knockout instead of the usual technical knockout. Under a new interpretation of the rules of the New York State Athletic Commission, a referee can rule "knockout" without counting if he is convinced the fighter can't get up.

Argos Get New Director

TORONTO (AP) — Lew Hayman, who came to Canada from Syracuse University in 1932, last night was appointed managing director of the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union.

A former general manager of the Montreal Alouettes, Hayman iwll determine whether to retain Coach Bill Swiacki, former Columbia star, for the 1957 season.

Gold Cup Fuss Continues

DETROIT (AP)—The fuss kicked up by the Gold Cup speedboat race, run on the Detroit River 57 days ago, still isn't over.

The American Power Boat Assn.'s Inboard Commission has awarded the cup to Seattle's Miss Thriftway. But in Detroit today, two moves were being made against the decision.

The Detroit International Regatta Assn., sponsor of the race, voted last night to appeal the which reversed the verdict of race judges and switched the cup from Detroit's Miss Pepsi to Thriftway.

Joe Schoenith, owner of three unlimited speedboats bearing the name Gale, moved for the appeal to the APBA and asked the question be reopened. None of Schoenith's big boats figured in the controversy.

Schoenith's motion to ask reopening on the basis of "additional evidence and a claim of misinterpretation of the rules" won unanimous endorsement.

George Simon, owner of the racer Miss U.S., said that preliminary testing of a paint sample taken from the sponsor of Miss Thriftway indicated it was the same color as the paint of a course buoy which Thriftway allegedly hit.

Gold Cup judges disqualified Miss Thriftway and placed Miss Pepsi first on grounds that the Seattle boat tore down the buoy in the final heat. The APBA's Inboard Commission upset the ruling and placed Miss Thriftway back in front.

Also in Detroit Circiut Judge James A. Moynihan ordered the APBA to "present your witnesses before this court for a hearing on its merits" of a suit brought by Detroiter Horace Dodge to have the 1956 Gold Cup race declared "no contest."

No trial date was set.

FRIDAY'S FIGHTS

NFL Teams Swing Into 5th Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Cardinals and Detroit Lions, only unbeaten elevens in the National Football League, place their reputations on the line tomorrow as the professional circuit swings into its fifth week.

* * *

Undefeated in four games, the surprising Cardinals return home after a two-week road trip for a return engagement with the Washington Redskins. The Cardinals rule a 7-point favorite.

Four other games are scheduled. The Chicago Bears meet San Francisco on the Coast, Green Bay encounters the Colts in Baltimore, the New Hork Giants take on the Philadelphia Eagles in Yankee Stadium and the Browns are host to the Pittsburgh Steelers in Cleveland.

* * *

The Bears, runners-up to the Lions in the Western Division with a record of three victories and one defeat, will be after their second straight triumph over the 49ers, having beaten them in Wrigley Field earlier. Last year the Bears won on the coast and lost at home. They rule a 7-point favorite.

The Giants, hot on the heels of the Cardinals with a 3-1 record, will be after their third straight victory when they meet the Eagles in the first of a home-and-home series. The old rivals split last year each winning at home. The Giants are a huge two-touchdown favorite.

* * *

This is the second meeting between Cleveland and Pittsburgh, who share the Eastern Conference basement along with Washington. Each has won one while losing three. In their first engagement, the Browns scored a fourth period touchdown to defeat the Steelers 14-10. The Browns are a touchdown favorite.

Green Bay is only a slim favorite over the Colts. The Packers, with a 2-2 record, outlasted Baltimore (1-3) in a high-scoring game at Green Bay two weeks ago 38-33.

Washington, which dropped its first game to the Cardinals several weeks ago, may prove tougher this time. The return of several players who previously had been on the injured list has strengthened the Redskins, who came through with a surprising 20-9 triumph over the defending Browns last week.

Get Moose on Canada Trip

A pair of 18-year-old Waterford High students went on a Canadian moose hunting trip a couple weeks ago and did themselves proud. They did what the two elders of their party failed to do—they downed a big, fat cow moose apiece, plus a hefty deer. Trip was the boys' first in Canada.

The lucky youngsters were Johnny (Jim) Wohlfiel and Jim Jackson. They were with Wohlfiel's father, John Wohlfiel, of Wohlfiel-Dee Engineering Co., former auto racing star, and Larry Mularoni, who operates the Majestic Diner here.

Elder Wohlfiel got a big buck deer. The boys collaborated on downing a fat doe. It was the first time in a number of trips that Wohlfiel didn't get his moose. Mularoni got a buck, too.

* * *

The party spent 10 days at Gus Arnett's Gold Pine camp at Ear Falls, Ontario. Fine fishing, good duck hunting were also enjoyed.

Unordered Merchandise

The increasing number of inquiries and complaints being received by the Business Ethics Board concerning unordered merchandise prompts this statement as to the responsibilities and liabilities of recipient.

If you receive unordered merchandise you are NOT obliged —TO ACKNOWLEDGE ITS RECEIPT
—TO RETURN IT
—TO PAY FOR IT, UNLESS USED
—TO GIVE IT PARTICULAR CARE
—TO KEEP IT BEYOND A REASONABLE PERIOD OF TIME

If you receive unordered merchandise you ARE obliged to surrender it to the shipper, or his agent, if called for within a reasonable period of time—in which event you may demand payment of storage charges before relinquishing it.

The most practical way to curb the unordered merchandise nuisance is to make it unprofitable. This can be done effectively by holding such goods for a few months, at which time your liability ends.

TELEVISION ROOM — Young Terry Graham watches a favorite TV program. This end of the room with its brick wall and fireplace can be closed off from the living room. It has a door into the utility room to make it truly a separate room. The coffee table at the left is the one that has been refinished three times. It now matches the pecan walnut finish of the dining room set.

CONVENIENT BREAKFAST BAR — Mrs. Douglas Graham sets the table with the new dishes that just match the turquoise and white color scheme of the kitchen. This breakfast bar, fastened to one wall is covered with Formica in the same pattern as the other counter tops. Cupboards are knotty pine. The chairs are fiberglass with wrought iron legs.

Douglas Grahams Make Good Use of Possibilities in Development House

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

They're a family of distinction. They have a lawn and the only tree in the subdivision. The Douglas Grahams who have lived in Moorcrest for about five months are as thrilled as only new home owners can be.

Moorcrest is in Commerce Township. It is near the new Decker Road Elementary School, a few blocks north of Pontiac Trail. The houses, set on 100x150 foot lots, are made of brick.

Chicago common brick is the kind used for the Grahams' house. For trim a combination of pink and white has been used. On the exterior wall of the carport large storage cabinets have been constructed.

For nine months the Grahams —Douglas and Nancy and their three children, Susan, Shelley and Terry — lived in rented houses, waiting for their new house to be finished. They had sold their "old" house in a nearby neighborhood.

When they moved in, Nancy said, they were settled almost at once. She had given so much thought and time to planning the decorating and curtains that everything was complete when the furniture was placed.

— Of course, like all new homeowners, the Grahams say they still have lots of jobs undone. This piece of furniture and that area of ground are to be changed. But the house, as it stands today, is a charming example of what one woman with ingenuity, thought and persistence can accomplish.

There is a unified color scheme throughout the house. Although walls may differ in color from room to room, there is a bit of turquoise in every room except four-year-old Terry's bedroom.

The living room walls are champagne color. The exposed ceiling beam has been finished in a natural shade. Full length wooden shutters close off the far end of the room to make a television room.

The far wall of this section is made of the same pink brick as the house itself. There is a fireplace with a raised slate hearth. Furnishings include a salmon colored lounge chair and the blond TV set.

Carpeting of pale beige nylon and wool covers all the floors in the living area. At the picture windows of the living and dining rooms and in the TV room sheer curtains are hung. Made of linen, rayon and cotton, they have a gold thread running through them.

The sofa is upholstered in beige with an abstract design of turquoise, greens and coral. The two arm chairs are covered in linen and rayon nubby tweed.

On the wall with the coat closet there are two of the slat back dining room chairs. They are to be replaced in the near future by a walnut commode and a lavebo.

All cupboards are knotty pine. There is a built-in oven and range. The chairs at the breakfast bar are made of fiberglas with brass-tipped wrought iron legs. The ceiling is white. Curtains are white with a turquoise and brown design.

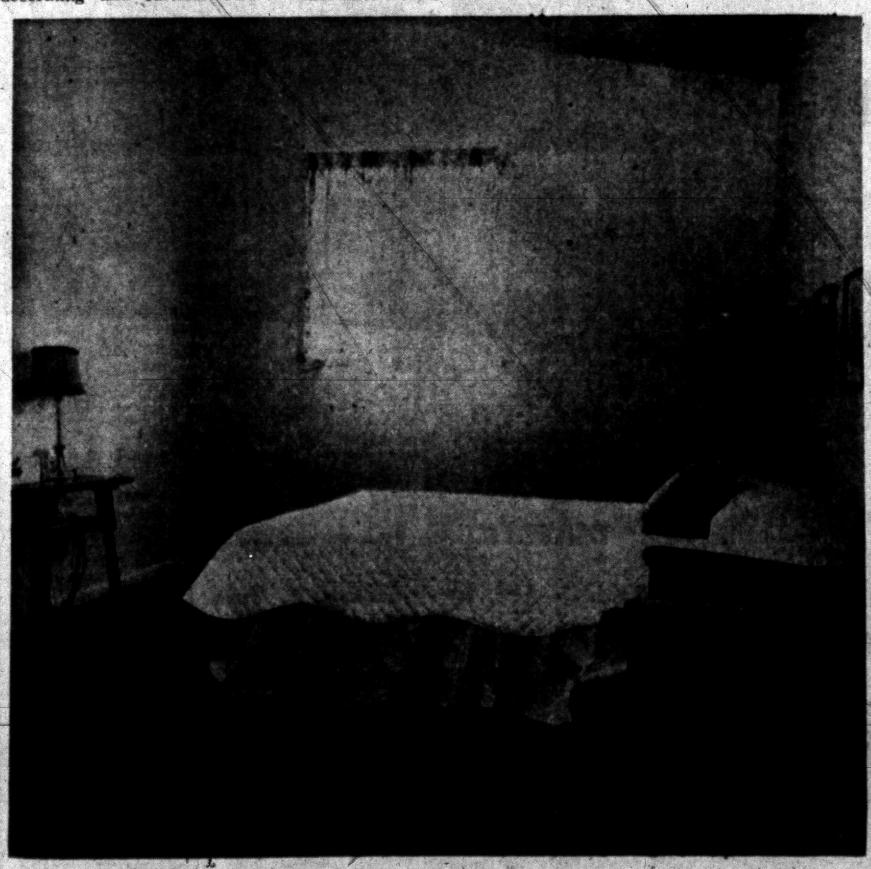

In the larger of the two bathrooms the windows have tiny louvered shutters on them. Sandalwood tile and sandalwood and turquoise wallpaper set the color

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwarp

IN MOORCREST SUBDIVISION — The Douglas Grahams are at home in their ranch-style brick home on Beverly road in Moorcrest. To the original plan of the house they added a carport with extensive storage wall. The pink brick is known as Chicago common. Trim is pink and white. Already the Grahams have succeeded in achieving a lawn and a few flowers around the front of the house. Moore-Gold of Detroit were the builders.

TURQUOISE AND WHITE — Turquoise has been used as the minor color in this bedroom. The white walls make the room seem larger than it is. The slanted ceiling is turquoise. A turquoise dust ruffle contrasts with the white quilted spread. The brown of the carpeting is repeated in one of the pillows on the bed. Curtains have all the room's colors against a white ground.

VISITING GRANDMA — Mrs. Edith Titus of Greenwich, Conn. and Honesdale, Pa. is making an extended visit with her daughter's family. This is the first time she has seen the Grahams' new house. Justifiably, she is proud of what they have accomplished. The wooden shutters that close off the TV room are shown in this picture. Walls in this room are champagne, the ceiling and curtains white. The rug is pale blond.

FOR YOUR HI-FI — One of the two invaluable aids of hardwood plywood in hi-fi sets is made quite obvious in this glamorous custom installation — the furniture-like quality of the material. To fit the hi-fi into the home, hardwoods such as are used in making 85 per cent of all wood furniture are top choice, in line with the dominent feeling that the set should look as well as sound good. The other aid of hardwood plywood lies in the material's unusual rigidity, which minimizes vibration, thereby aiding sound reproduction. This is especially important in the baffles of speakers and the sound chamber itself. The set shown is made of mahogany plywood. It contains the TV set, tape recorder and storage for books and records as well as the hi-fi components. Hi-fi installations range from a swank "entertainment wall" such as this down to a TV-sized cabinet.

New Finish for Plastic

Plastic panel which is used on patios, carports, breezeways, awnings and canopies can be given a new lustre with a plastic lacquer just introduced by Resolite Corp. of Zelienople, Pa. The company says the lacquer restores most of the finish of the original panel which tends to become dull or roughened after long exposure to the elements, Resolite reports.

Gas-Idea Home in Commerce Is Open to Public Today

Visitors at the model homes in Mt. Royal subdivision in Commerce will see the newest gas appliances on the market today.

Included in the purchase price of the house is the thermoset range with automatic burners, oven-broiler unit and, of course, the hot water heater. To complete the furnishings of the house a large gas refrigerator, gas automatic washer and gas dryer have been added.

An optional piece of equipment is the gas incinerator. This has not been installed, but will be on display for prospective buyers to see.

The Coronet has three bedrooms also, but only one bathroom. Instead of a garage, there is a carport.

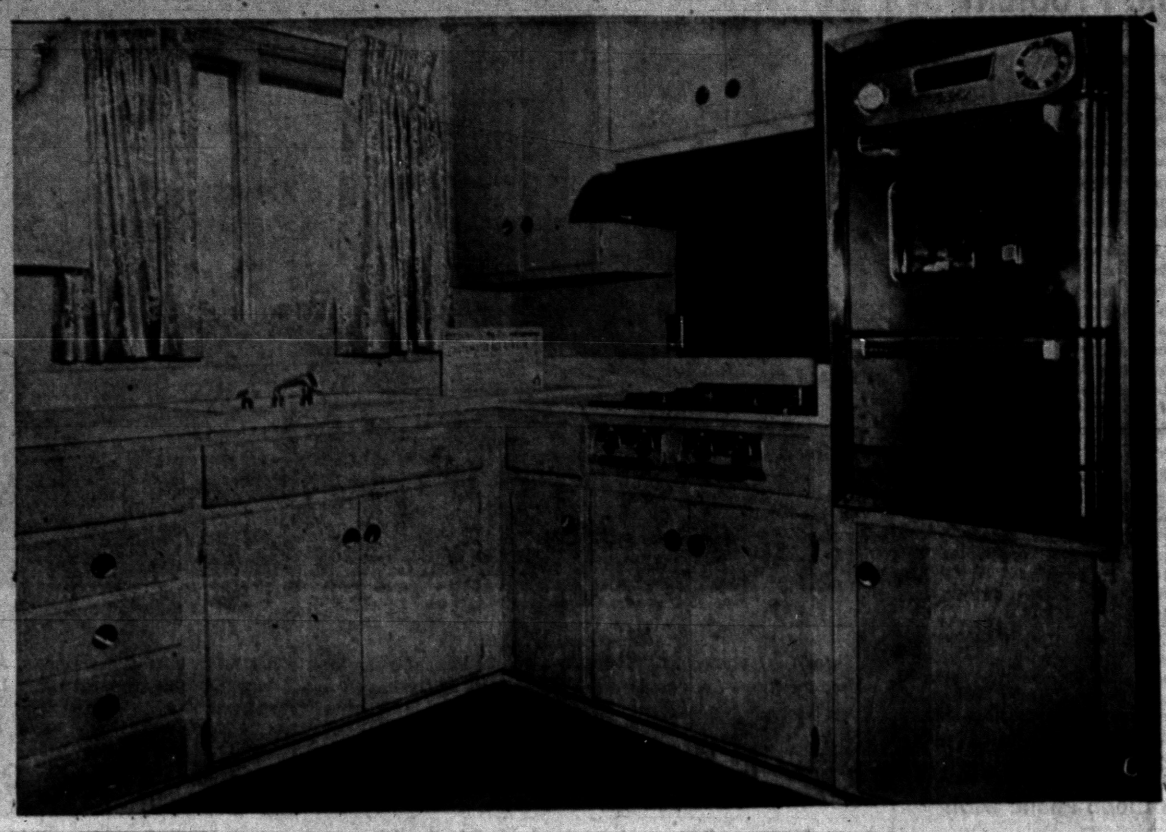

Seventy houses are planned for the first unit of this large subdivision, located on the western edge of the village of Commerce. Black-topped roads will be put in. Adequate water is guaranteed and storm sewers are planned.

The homes are set on 100x150-foot lots. Buyers have a choice of five exteriors. Prices start at $14,500.

THERMO-SET RANGE — The newest built-in gas range is shown here in the kitchen of the model house in Mt. Royal subdivision. In addition to the four burners there is a built-in oven and broiler. A hood and ventilating fan are included. Cupboards are birch finished in a natural shade. Knobs are stainless steel. There is ample space in this roomy kitchen for a breakfast table and chairs. To the left of the sink is a gas refrigerator.

Advantages Seen for Built-In Gas Units in Kitchen

Built-in appliances, like the gas oven and range units used in the 1956 All-Gas Idea Home, are reported gaining popularity in modern kitchens for several reasons, including the following:

Use of wall or island areas for the installation of built-ins saves the homemaker countless steps and hours of time every year. Built-ins utilize space that formerly was wasted.

With built-ins, there is greatly increased utilization of floor and wall space. Built-ins are so easily adaptable that they can be recessed, side-walled or positioned almost anywhere.

Units can be installed in cabinets built to the exact size required, which permit the placement of appliances in a smaller area than would otherwise be possible.

Vents Cut Moisture

Uncontrolled moisture within your house is one of your greatest enemies. Excessive vapor encourages dry rot, mold, warping. It may even cause paint to peel on the exterior of a house. A simple answer to the problem is ventilation. An exhaust fan in the kitchen, bathroom, or attic can do wonders. Ventilating louvres in the attic will allow moisture to escape.

Dutch Started Trend

In the early American colonies, the Dutch were among the first to use color for home decoration. They discovered red oxide of iron and began to paint the trim of their houses red.

TOPTON, Pa.—Caloric Appliance Corporation today announced that it will produce sometime in January a new built-in range top. The new unit will be a drop-in unit with four burners.

This unit, it was stated, will fit any known kitchen cabinet, and is designed to be housed in a minimum 30" base cabinet. This unit now offers built-in gas ranges to many kitchens that formerly were unable to accommodate them because of space problems.

The unit will be available in either satin chrome or in fresh porcelain enamel colors that are matched to built-in oven-broiler unit colors. These colors are—pastel green, pastel yellow, pastel blue, pink, black, white and coppertone.

A company spokesman also announced that the 4-burner built-in range top will be available with the customers choice of one or two thermostatically controlled top burners.

Other features of the unit include—an attractive back riser, as well as porcelain enamel drip trays, all giant extra capacity top burners, smartly styled grates, speed-set burners, removable burner bowl and other easy to clean features.

Thermo-Set Lets You Cook Differently

1. You can take left over cold mashed potatoes from a refrigerator and place them in a covered saucepan with a 175 degree setting. After fifteen minutes of cooking, remove the lid, stir the potatoes and replace the lid.

Ten minutes later the job is done, and the result is hot, steaming, fluffy mashed potatoes with no evidence of scorching, burning or sticking whatsoever. This is virtually impossible to achieve with a manual burner control.

2. You can bake a pineapple upside down cake on a top burner with Thermo-Set.

Mount McKinley in Alaska, the highest peak in all North America, was ascended in 1913 for the first time by Archdeacon Hudson Stuck and a party of three of his friends.

See the amazing new "BURNERS WITH A BRAIN"

Automatic THERMO-SET top burners make a 69c frying pan as automatic as a $20 thermostatically controlled skillet . . . end all danger of foods burning.

The incredible new "gas burners that think" end forever all danger of foods burning or boiling over . . . end sticking, spattering and pot-watching. Thermo-Set — CALORIC'S new thermostatically controlled burner units — make every utensil automatic. Just set the dial for the temperature you want, and forget it. The Thermo-Set sensing element does the rest!

Here's how it works: You turn on the burner by setting the dial for the desired temperature. Gas comes on full. When pan or kettle approaches the indicated temperature, gas turns downs automatically. Flame is reduced to the correct minimum to "hold" the selected temperature. If cold foods or liquids are added, the gas flame increases immediately to bring the pan back to the chosen temperature.

Wastepaper Is Big Problem

Homes today are getting trashier. And that's no reflection on their construction, decor or housekeeping. It's just a fact.

In a year, the average family now throws out 400 pounds of paper alone, according to the gas incinerator division of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers association.

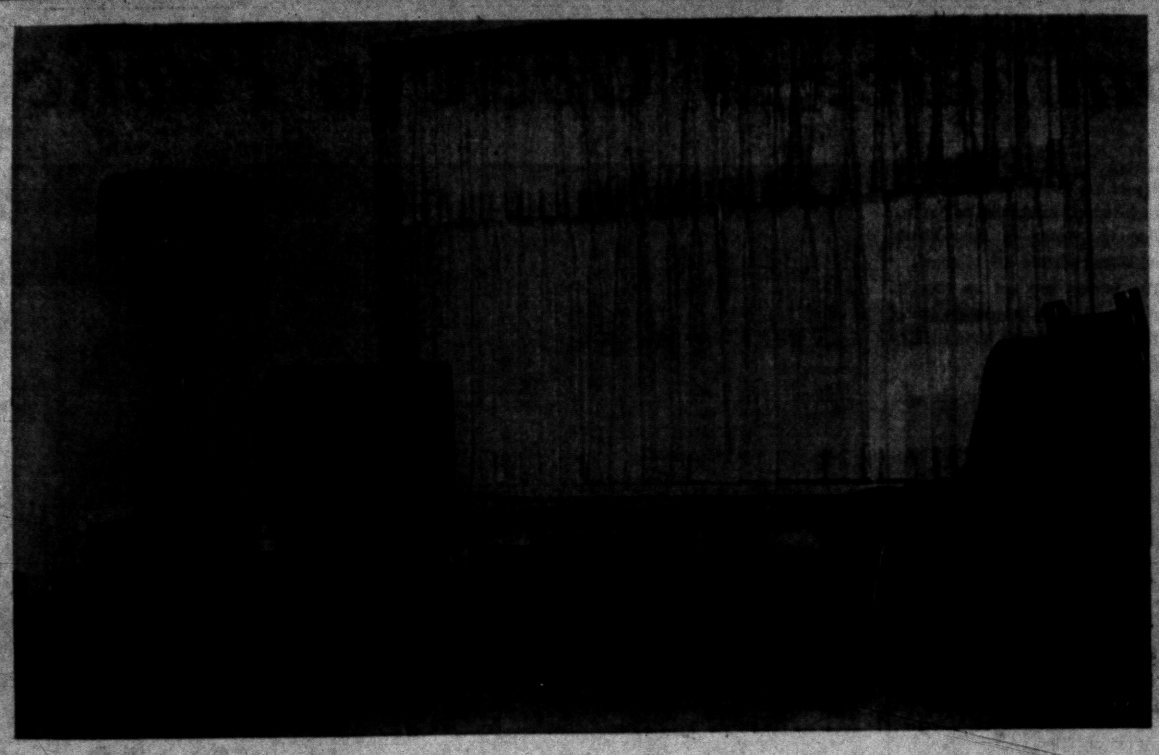

Frederick H. Martin, who, as chairman of the incinerator division has a natural interest in the wastepaper disposal problem, says the paper load will continue to grow, and that the gas incinerator's use will grow with it. Of course, incinerators dispose of garbage and other combustibles, as well as paper.

"We find that paper milk containers alone are selling at the rate of a billion a month, and most of these are carried home," he points out. "Already many fresh fruits and vegetables are coming in paperboard boxes, and the box people say they've only started in that line.

"Even where there is regular paper salvage—and some places don't have that—there's loads of paper not salvageable. Much paper contains food particles and for sanitary reasons should be disposed of quickly."

To Clean Phone Dial:

The conscientious home maker is often annoyed by the way that dust settles along the edges of the dial holes in telephones. The dust is difficult to reach by ordinary means, but you can remove it with a cotton swab which has been dipped in ordinary soap and water.

MODEL HOUSE IS FURNISHED — Lewis Furniture has furnished the King's Crest model home in Mt. Royal at Commerce. In the living room two large armless chairs, upholstered in turquoise, are set in front of the window. A low coffee table stands between them. Curtains are sheer nylon. Lamps are brass. Walls are painted gray.

Local Firm Furnishes Model Home

Lewis Furniture Company has Furnished the model home in the Mt. Royal subdivision in Commerce.

Light woods have been used throughtout the house, with the exception of the furniture in one bedroom. A free-flowing rug in beige is used in the living room. The rest of the floors are asphalt tile.

In the living room a brown sectional sofa occupies one corner. Between the two sections is a square lamp table. On the opposite wall there is a light wood desk.

The dining room has a drop leaf table. The chairs have a tweed-like covering. A papered wall above the table gives color to this room. Curtains in both rooms are sheer nylon with a thread of gold running through the material.

In 29 of the states all judges are elected on non-partisan ballots; eight on a partisan ballot with an independent ticket allowed; and 11 others on a partisan ballot.

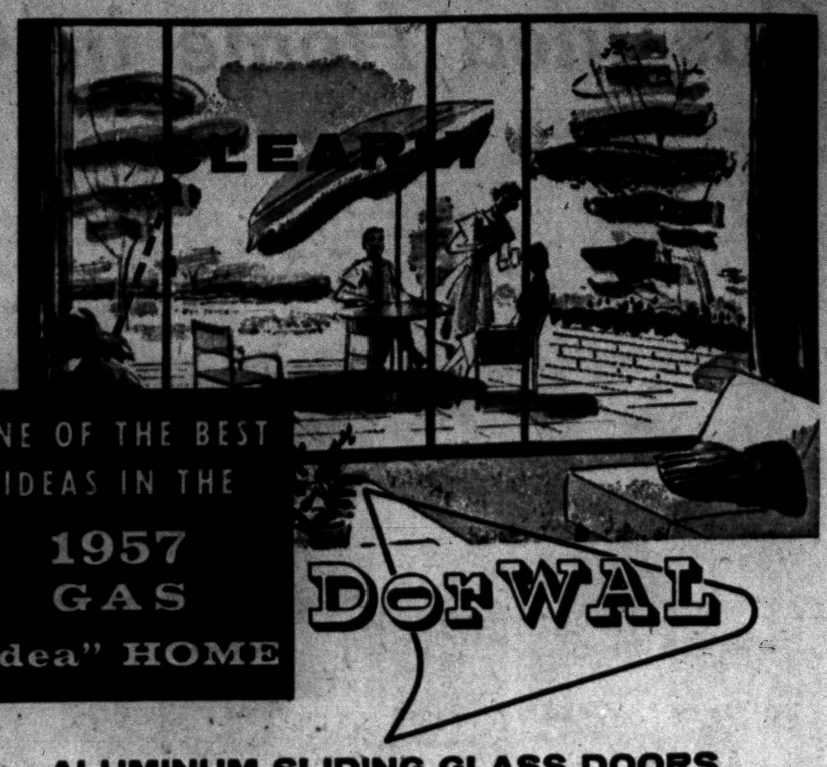

Dark Walls Need Dusting, Cleaning

Don't think that because your walls are painted a dark color, they do not show dust. Dust leaves its mark there just as definitely as on starkly white walls. If you have had this belief, get our your vacuum cleaner, attach the dusting brush, and thoroughly go over your walls from baseboards to ceilings as well.

In addition to making a difference in the appearance of a room, it is a builder-upper for the homemaker's morale to know that she is maintaining a clean, dust-free house. One caution: Watch out for greasy, sooty walls. They smudge, naturally, at the touch of a brush.

Wood Paneled Walls Easier to Maintain

The popularity of wood paneled walls in modern homes stems largely from wood's ability to resist abuse from today's hard playing younger set, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers Association Also, wood paneling with a natural finish requires little of the homemaker's attention. A quick wipe with a waxed cloth removes marks and restores the original luster of the finish.

Mothers Value Home Intercom

Patterned after office-efficiency systems is a new twin set "Phone-Radio," a two-way inter-communication and radio outfit for use in the home. It's a real step saver for mother and the entire family.

The uses for the "Phone-Radio" are multiple. For example, mom will surely want a master control set in the kitchen, where she spends a great deal of her time. The auxiliary set, which is a part of the system, she will probably put in the nursery, since this is very likely the place to and from which she travels the most.

She can keep in constant contact with the tiny tot via the "Phone-Radio." Sounds emanating from the nursery are transmitted through the control set in the kitchen, and if she wants to say a word to the little one, she simply presses a "speak" button. Small fry can reply without touching the set.

The "Phone-Radio," as its name implies, does double duty as a radio—and what a radio! You tune the station on the master control unit, and it plays both there and in the auxiliary, giving you music throughout the house!

Additional auxiliary units can be purchased inexpensively and used in garage, dad's workshop, or any area in the home. They are especially useful if a member of the family is convalescing in an upstairs room.

"Phone-Radio" is available in chic colors—Coachman Red, Dawn Green and Congo Ivory. Its cabinet is compact, smartly styled, and will fit in well with the finest home furnishings. The twin sets—control and auxiliary—come fitted with fifty feet of cord.

Putting in Flooring? Don't Skimp on Nails

Nailing the hardwood floor. For a fine squeak-free floor, order the right kind of nails and use plenty of them. The average carpenter or floor installer finds the floor screw type of nail more satisfactory because they eliminate splitting.

Drive the nails through the side of the tongue at an angle of 45 degrees to 55 degrees. Don't try to drive them home, but sink them with a nail-set to avoid marring the maple flooring edges. The first nail or two in each piece should be "toenailed" (slanted both vertically and horizontally) toward the preceding piece to which it end-joins, to insure tight joints. Always break, or stagger end joints situated in front of a pair of Chinese-red accented windows.

Stops Condensation

Tried of mopping up water that has dripped from a "sweating" water closet tank? A new supply valve mixes hot and cold water thermostatically to deliver tempered water to the tank. The valve can be installed in the basement or utility room near the water heater, or it can be installed in the bathroom.

Also available to stop condensation on water closet tanks is a unit consisting of a tank within a tank. The air space between the two tanks prevents condesnation, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

Derived From Latin

The term "lavatory" applies to the fixture used for washing the face and hands. The word comes from the Latin "lavare" meaning to wash. The words "washbasin" and "washstand" are synonymous with lavatory, but are colloquial.

Green Grass in Winter

Last fall a southern college conducted a lawn experiment with paint that fooled turf experts and campus vistors. The college sprayed a rich green paint on summer grass which usually turns brown with cool weather. Everyone thought it was new winter lawn grass. The painted lawn lasted until new growth appeared in spring, and did away with the expense of winter overseeding, fertilizing, watering and mowing.

Wartime Babies to Spur Building Industry in '60's

The early 1960's will see the greatest era of family formations this country has ever known, as babies of World War II reach marriageable age.

Up to two million houses a year will be built in that period, including thousands of lower cost houses that newlyweds will be able to afford.

A lower cost house does not mean a cheap house. The modest boxes, which offered merely shelter, are gone forever. The public shopping for housing is aware of brand products and will accept nothing less.

There is a trend toward better design in modern homes an improvement of room layout, traffice plan and those elements which make up the skeleton or chassis of the house. And more and more products and features are being included which add to the livability and general appearance of the exterior and interior.

Land costs are rising sharply, and more builders are using basements to provide more space on a small lot.

There's also a trend toward cost-cutting "pre-assembly" of the parts which go into a house. And even small builders now are using a great variety of power tools and specialized equipment ranging from earth-moving machines to automatic staplers.

Put Extra Space to Use for a Practical Kitchen

Big or little, kitchens have problems, because most times they are planned by people who never work in them.

The idea is to make use of all space, even walls. A kitchen is not to live in. It should be planned for utility — a place where food preparation, freezing, storing and cooking may be done in a minimum of time.

STORAGE SPACE

Casserole dishes and pots may go above the stove or oven cabinet. Canned foods and breadstuffs may be put in an out-of-the-way spot, perhaps above the washing machine.

One wall or corner may get peg board treatment, to hold useful items that never seem to be available readily when needed. These include sharp knives for carving, dippers, spatulas (now in attractive sets), pipkins, molds, chicken shears, table tiles, trays.

* * *

Bricks Made of Silica Take Any Type Paint

New bricks made of silica instead of clay have been developed to take and hold any kind of paint and eliminate the troubles of paint peeling because of mineral action. These bricks are intended for use both indoors and outside. They open a lot of possibilities in uses for fireplace and chimney facings.

A booklet on the principles of good home design has been prepared by the United States Savings and Loan League, which represents 4,300 associations. The purpose of the study is to promote more livable houses to offset cutting down on room sizes under rising costs.

New Doors Made for Special Uses

Do you think of doors as things that always open inside and out? Manufacturers now are developing dozens of doors for special uses which open upside and down.

One famous maker of steel doors has developed easy-lift sidewalk doors for stores, leading to storage space in the basement and new spring-balanced roof hatches to open up with a gentle push.

Another firm has designed doors for buildings with crawl spaces under the first floor. The top of the door can be covered with tiles which are level with the rest of the floor. This door is widely used in schools.

Avoid Creased Curtains

When you wash nylon curtains, use warm soap or detergent suds and plenty of warm rinses. To avoid unnecessary creases and wrinkles, fold each panel into the wash water instead of gathering the fabric into a bunch.

Planter Decor Adds Charm to Lawn Pattern

A wheelbarrow planter as a lawn accessory adds charm to the landscaping pattern of the yard. The planter has the advantage of being portable, so it can be moved to a different location as gardening requirements change.

* * *

Use a 10 15-16-inch long, 9-inch wide board for the bottom of the planter. Bevel the front and back edges to the same angle as the side pieces. Bore several ½ inch holes for drainage. Cut two 1 by 5-inch and two 1 by 3-inch boards for the front and back of the planter. The top and bottom edges must be beveled to insure a proper fit.

* * *

The legs and wheel rails are 1 by 1-inch lumber. Position the wheel rails so that they converge on the wheel. Taper the ends. Allow a 10 inch overhang for the handles. Construct the legs 6 inches high and attach them to the underside of the planter. The braces are placed inside and adjacent to the rails. Use 8-penny nails.

The wheel, 7 inches in diameter, is made from a 1 by 8-inch board. The wheel shown is stationary, but if desired it can be made to rotate.

HIDE-AWAY LAUNDRY — Many housewives object to having the laundry appliances right out in the open when the utility room adjoins the kitchen. The laundry can still be handy if both washer and drier are enclosed in a ceiling-to-floor cabinet built of rugged Douglas fir. Jalousie doors give ventilation. Shelves above appliances give storage for soaps, detergents, clean clothes from the drier. Cabinet can be attractive and as lovely as a fine piece of furniture when finished naturally.

Wheelbarrows, Carts Get Glamor Treatment

Colorful and durable finishes have long been used on all types of vehicles from tricycles to automobiles to give them beauty, to protect them from weather exposure—and to make them attractive to the buyer. Now such modest vehicles as wheelbarrows, garden carts, and fertilizer spreaders are getting the glamour treatment.

One beauty of a wheelbarrow has a sunny yellow body with Kelly green trim on support and handles. Lawn mowers, too, are being finished in bright colors—blue and gray, red and cream, silver and orange are some of the new color combinations you will see next year.

There are an estimated 20,000 junkyards in the U. S. and they contain upwards of 1,500,000 abandoned automobiles.

Press House of the Week Has Plenty of Living Space

A smartly modern plan for a two-story home providing a maximum of living space in economical construction is featured in Design HW-21 for The House of the Week.

MODERN TWO-STORY — Here's a new way to get a big home for less. Up-to-date styling distinguishes this modern two-story home with brick veneer below, wood siding above. It keeps luxury within a budget.

Distinctive in many ways, this house can be built with or without a basement, making it suitable for any location. It's a handsome design with brick veneer suggested for the first story, wood siding above and modern casement windows throughout.

This is a house for a good sized family. It has four bedrooms and two bathrooms upstairs. A main floor den with adjoining bathroom offers a fifth bedroom alternative.

In spite of its size, the house covers only 1,320 square feet without its two-car garage, which is figured separately at lower rates in building estimates. This is a modest area—many smaller three-bedroom homes cover more than 1,200 square feet. Yet, this house contains more than 2,180 square feet of floor space, which if built on one level, ranch style, would greatly increase the cost of construction.

Here you have a striking example of the economy of two-story planning. If the upstairs bedrooms and bathrooms were built on the ground, 76 per cent more roof construction would be needed. About 120 more lineal feet of foundation work would be required. And if you wanted a full basement under thee entire house, some 7,500 additional cubic feet of excavation would be necessary.

"Everywhere," say the architects of this house, Petersen & Ebbert of Detroit, "prospective homeowners want a great deal more living space at a price within their means. In order to keep up with the customer demand, builders are returning to the two-story home to avoid pricing themselves out of business. Another reason for the new popularity of two stories is the limited building site required.

Depending on local zoning regulations, this house with an overall width of less than 64 feet. This means less landscap built on an urban lot of 75 front feet. This means less landscaping and maintenance of grounds, advantage best appreciated by experienced householders.

The plan of this house is refreshingly modern. The large living

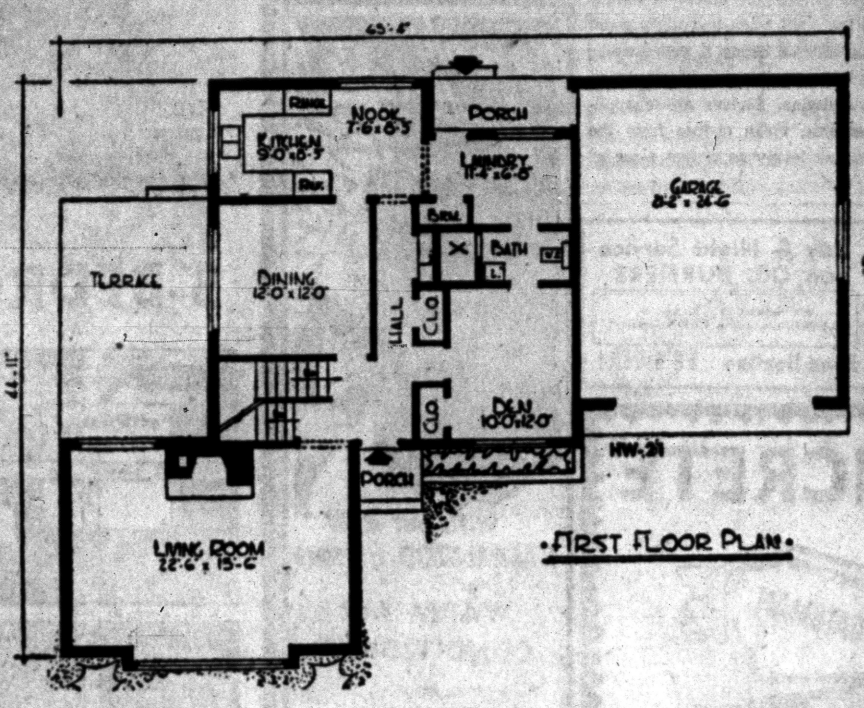

A 12½-foot bay window, containing five casements, each 2 by 5 feet in size, dominates the front of this room directly opposite a massive fireplace of stacked Roman brick. A sliding window wall opens from the living room to the terrace, which is neatly secluded.

An ample dining room also looks out on the terrace. The kitchen is planned for appliances and cabinets in an efficient U-shape arrangement. A comfortable, window-lighted breakfast nook is provided in one corner.

By placing the laundry adjacent to the kitchen and back door, it becomes entirely practicable to build this house without a basement. Space occupied by the base- a heater room adjacent to the big chimney. Extra storage space could be readily accommodated in the oversize garage.

Plumbing economy is planned for by placing the three bathrooms in a vertical group. Two of the bathrooms have shower stalls. The main floor bathroom, between laundry and den, is strategically located for cleaning up after outdoor play or gardening, in which cases the laundry can double as a mud room.

The den is a multi-purpose room. It fills the need for an informal family room, a place for television, sewing, toys and games. Having a large wardrobe closet, this room could be furnished with a studio day bed to serve as an emergency guest room.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN — The large living room is isolated from the rest of the house. A den provides relaxation, while a separate dining room looks out on the terrace. All rooms may be reached without going through other rooms.

Shadow Patterns Lend Interest to Home Exterior

Because shadow patterns which change with the position of the sun add interest and character to house exteriors, application methods which purposely accentuate the horizontal shadow lines between courses of asbestos-cement siding are gaining favor with architects and builders.

The shadowline treatment, home stylists report, can be employed both in new construction and in modernization. It is equally suited to traditional and to contemporary styled homes.

Hand-in-hand with this development has come major advancements in the styling of the asbestos siding itself.

New colors, created by experts in exterior decoration, have been introduced. New surface texturing and graining effects have added to the visual appeal.

WINNING FRIENDS

The combination of improved application methods and enhanced attractiveness is winning many new friends for this type of sidewall covering, according to architectural sources. They point out that asbestos siding, long noted for its fire-safety and sturdy performance qualities, now is equally outstanding for its individualistic beauty.

One of the simplest methods is through the use of wood nailing strips, applied to overlay the heads of each lower course of siding shingles. The strips are nailed through the sheathing to the underlying studs.

The next course of siding then is applied with its butt edge placed over the wood strip and extending down slightly to provide a drip edge. The siding is nailed to the wood strip through face-nail holes at the base of the siding.

WIDE APPLICATION

The nailing strip method may be used over any type of sheathing. It is particularly recommended for use over non-wood sheathing, because the studding supports the siding.

* * *

Another procedure which produces heavy shadow lines is to use an underlying course of shingle backer with the siding. Shingle backer is rigid insulating board 5/16-inch thick.

Besides emphasizing the shadowline, it provides added insulation and a firm backing for the siding.

The shingle backer method may be used with any type of sheathing. If the sheathing is of a non-wood type, wood nailing strips are employed to provide the needed nailing base.

Wood Paneling in Room Makes for Friendliness

Why is wood so widely used in basement recreation rooms? There are many practical and esthetic reasons, one of the most significant of which is the psychological effect of wood, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn.

Because wood is a natural, friendly and familiar material, it helps overcome the "basic resistance" of many persons to below-ground living, explains the lumber group.

Fire-Burglar Alarm Installs in Minutes

One feature of the recent hardware show in New York was an automatic burglar alarm designed for the do-it-yourself householder to install on any window or door, or opening. All you need in the way of tools is a screwdriver—maybe also scisors.

* * *

The alarm has a switch you can turn off when opening your own windows and doors to prevent startling the neighborhood. A pilot light shows whether the alarm is on or off. There also is a built-in thermostat to make the alarm sound in case of fire. This is set to react whenever temperature exceeds 140 degrees.

The glowing finish on your refrigerator is thinner than a rose petal, yet it withstands scratches, acids, grease, alcohols and other household chemicals.

Get Fire Extinguisher

Fire Big Hazard in Rural Homes

If you live beyond the water mains, how well equipped are you to handle a fire emergency until the nearest fire-fighting equipment arrives in force?

* * *

Fire losses for the nition as a whole were up 10 per cent for the first six months of this year, as compared with the corresponding period a year ago.

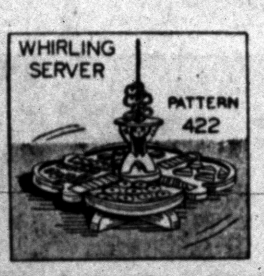

Rural families obliged to do their own fire fighting in the initial stages have suffered a disproportionate amount of this loss, largely for the lack of sufficient water and pressure.

To be on the safe side when fire breaks out unexpectedly, the pump for an electric water system should be capable of delivering 500 gallons of water per hour from a number of strategically-located hose outlets around the house and outbuildings.

As supplementary protection, it is adviseable to have a standby pressure or gravity water storage tank of 1,000-gallon capacity.

* * *

If your water system falls short of the minimum required for protection against fire, now would be a good time to see a water systems dealer about having it enlarged with a pump of greater capacity.

This 18" Lazy Susan has two other center pieces—a Christmas snack tree and a condiment holder. Pattern 422 gives actual-size cutting guides and directions for a simple whirl mechanism. It will be mailed for 25 cents. This pattern is one of five in the packet Things to $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

New Idea in Sofas

The back-breaking job of moving a sofa bed so the floor underneath be cleaned is eliminated in one manufacturer's new "bed 'n' sofa" which can be tilted forward with a single gentle push. A new ballbearing assembly is responsible for this fingertip control.

For Easier Washing

Michigan State University home management specialists suggest placing your automatic washer and dryer in the bathroom area rather than in your basement. Having the laundry equipment near at hand will save you many steps.

12-Year Test Proves Paint Is Protection

MADISON, Wis. — A 12-year outdoor exposure test was conducted b ythe U.S. Forest Products Laboratory on two laminated timbers, one painted and the other unpainted. During the long trial, the unprotected timber was seriously split by the destructive action of sun, rain, cold and ice. The painted timber remained practically free of deterioration.

The two were identical in every detail when first exposed—except that one had been given two coats of paint before exposure and was subsequently repainted twice.

Paint Time Is Now Here

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Early fall—mid-September through October—is considered by most experts to be the the ideal time for house painters to set up their ladders and go to it. It's the time of year, they say, when the days are likely to be dry and clear and the temperature in the safety zone for painting, that is, above 40 degrees. When the mercury dips below that figure, look out, for the coating may stay soft and collect dirt.

Careful preparation of the surfaces to be painted is just as important as good weather. Actually the job of painting your house starts with this preparation. As is quite logical to expect, the end result can be only as good as its foundation. The surfaces on which new paint is to be applied must be sound, smooth and—if they are iron or steel—rust-free.

To achieve this, all loose dirt should be removed with a dusting brush; all rust on the metal surfaces eliminated with the aid of a wire brush and steel wool. Where putty around window panes has cracked or loosened, it should be replaced. Cracks and holes around window and door frames, and between flashing and bricks, should be carefully caulked.

If the old paint has scaled, cracked or blistered, it may be necessary to remove it entirely. This can sometimes be done with liquid paint remover or with an electric paint remover. If it's a job which requires use of a blowtorch, better have a professional come in for this because of the fire hazard involved.

Where portions of wood have been replaced or where rust has been removed from the metal, a priming coat should be applied without delay. The primer will thus block moisture entrance into wood and protect the metal from further rusting. Before actual painting is begun with an oil-base paint, be sure that the surfaces to be painted are absolutely dry.

If your house is in the small or medium category — one or two stories—firmly placed ladders and cross-planking on brackets will serve. On larger houses, scaffolding, erected by professionals who know how, will be required. In this later case, you would be wise to let the painting contractor do all the hard-to-reach high places, while you do the lower, easy-to-reach areas. Often in such arrangements, the painting contractor will demonstrate methods of application and give the home owner advice on proper painting procedure.

Needless to say you will get the best results if you use brushes and paint products of the best quality—products that are especially devised for the surfaces on which you use them. Properly chosen and properly applied, these paint products will give the longest service and keep your cost of "paint insurance" at a minimum.

Remember, it's thriftier and easier to paint your house before it's run-down and before the neighbors begin hinting to you that it's about time. Water Well Information Contained in Booklet

Planning a move to the country, out beyond where the water mains reach? Then you'll have to provide your own water supply, with a well and an electric water system. You'll want to know everything possible about water source development — how to get a good well.

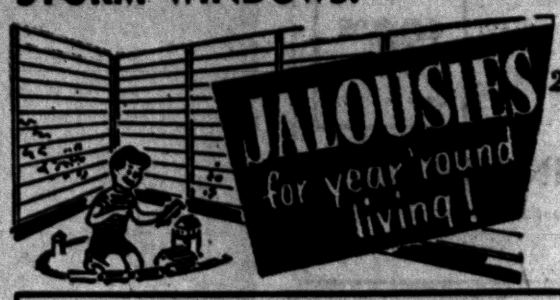

Questions homeowners ask about well drilling are answered fully in a booklet entitled "When You Need a Water Well," published by the National Water Well Association, Box 222, Urbana, Illinois. Copies of the booklet at ten cents apiece may be obtained by writing to the association office.

DINING EL — The dining room is an el of the living room. The large windows look out on the only tree in the subdivision. This the Grahams are protecting with all possible care. Curtains at the large window are the same as those in the living room. A large plant adds a living decoration. The furniture is walnut in a pecan finish. Chairs have brown and tan tweed seat covers.

Turquoise Is Used Throughout House

Celestial Mist is the fanciful name of the wallpaper on the small lavatory off the master bedroom. It has silver and white clouds on a turquoise background. The ceiling is turquoise, the chintz curtains white.

The master bedroom has a walk-in closet with drawers and line storage. The white walls of the room make it appear larger than it is. Rich brown cotton carpeting covers the floor.

In the room shared by nine-year-old Susan and six-year-old Shelley, the beds are placed end to end along the length of the room. Their dust ruffles are harlequin-patterned in turquoise, gray and coral, spattered in gold. The spreads are turquoise.

Walls and ceiling are in direct contrast to those in their parents' room. The girls' walls are turquoise, the ceiling white. The white chintz curtains have diamond appliques from the harlequin chintz. A tall chest is painted a brilliant white.

Terry's room has a cork tile floor. Gold chenille is used for the bedspread and the short curtains. Three walls are painted sandalwood, one is papered. This latter wall tells the history of transportation.

The front yard of the Graham home looks beautiful with its smooth expanse of grass. The Grahams have lived there long enough to have a few flowers blooming around the house. Their drive is in; a picnic table sets in the back yard.

The Graham house hasn't completely arrived yet. But it's going places in great style. Moore-Gold of Detroit were the builders.

Schedule Paint Jobs for Cheerier Home

Now that cool weather will keep us indoors longer, why not plan a painting schedule to brighten up your home? A good idea is to take your color scheme from the new slip covers you are planning for the living room. Complementary colors can be carried through to adjoining rooms.

And, as in almost every house, you probably won't have to look far to see pieces of furniture that are asking to be refinished or repainted. You can get all this done in good time if you plan it ahead as a pastime, and stick to schedule.

Funds Available

This year you have a real opportunity to give your home a new look by painting it inside and out, since Operation Home Improvement is making it easier than ever to obtain home improvement materials, services and funds. Find out from your dealer or qualified lender how convenient it is to pay for the whole job with an FHA property improvement loan.

Make Good Use of Living Room

If your living room is among those across the land that have slowly been relegated to the status of a storeroom for furnishings too large or formal for any other room, then it's time to take stock.

Once you've recovered from the shock of the utter waste, confer with a reliable contractor about restoring the Old Soldier to active duty. Recommendations probably will sound something like this:

1. Remove the partition between the dining room and living room. This would give the space necessary for large gatherings if the orginal area is small, and solve decorating problems if the room is a difficult shape.

NEEDS COLOR?

2. Enliven a dull room and minimize maintenance at the same time by flooring the resurrected room with ceramic tile. Matching or contrasting floor with other elements of the room is a pushover with real tile, because it offers about 200 colors to choose from.

3. Enlarge window space. This not only makes the room seem larger than it actually is, but admits more light on dark winter days and more air on warm summer days. If any wall of the room faces a picturesque landscape or view, that's the spot for a picture window.

4. Inaugurate the new family room with a roomwarming party. This will not only re-introduce your family to living in the living room, but it also will enable you to see old friends who have drifted away, because you never had enough space to entertain a large group properly.

Fill Cracks First

South Africa's Orange Free State is short of 930 qualified teachers and actually has 152 fewer teachers than a year ago.

To Trace Speaking Difficulties

U. of M. Accelerates Youth Speech Study

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The University of Michigan has launched a study to accelerate diagnosis and improve training of youngsters who fail to show normal language development.

* * *

The study is part of a $300,000 grant from the Michigan legislature for research in the use and improvement of human resources.

H. Harlan Bloomer, director of the U-M speech clinic, explains that in some cases a youngster's language difficulty can be traced to brain injury, emotional factors, glandular difficulties, or reduced hearing ability.

He says that whatever the cause, the child fails to develop his power of self-expression and is cut off from communication with others. Quite often, without diagnosis and treatment, he may begin to show signs of mental retardation because of his lack of lingual skills.

Professor Bloomer pointed out that the child's lack of speech makes diagnosis of his impairment difficult. He said:

"It's terribly baffling to sit down with a three-year-old who can't talk. You say something to him and get no response at all. Yet the child may show no signs of fear or withdrawal, and may appear to be quite normal in all other respects."

A University of Michigan research team, headed by Louis Lerea — on leave of absence from Northern Illinois State, hopes to break down this communicative barrier.

They will try new means of testing and diagnosing some 30 to 40 children aged 4 to 8 whose lack of language development does not seem caused by deafness or mental retardation.

They will also work to improve tests for measuring progress in language ability at relatively low levels.

Better training methods are also needed to educate youngsters who now fall in the twilight zone between complete deafness or severe mental retardation and normal communicative ability.

State Men Mull S'field Proposal

Proposed Ordinance for Special Plumbing Criticized

LANSING (AP) — A proposed ordinance requiring installation of special plumbing in new Southfield Township homes got a thorough going-over yesterday by plumbers, builders and the State Plumbing Board.

* * *

The ordinance, drafted to relieve overtaxed sewers in the fast-growing area, would require installation of sump pumps and special valves to check basement flooding in all new homes in the township.

Strongly criticized by spokesmen of the Detroit Metropolitan Builders Ass'n. and Detroit's chief plumbing inspector, the ordinance faces possible revision before submission to the township board.

"We will revise it, but we cannot guarantee we will knock out the requirement for sump pumps," said Eugene Swem, Southfield Township supervisor.

Swem said the ordinance would be resubmitted to the State Plumbing Board before it is considered by the township board.

* * *

"We are especially concerned that the ordinance would apply to all areas of Southfield Township, whether the areas have adequate sewage systems or not," said Irwin Yackness, representing the Detroit Metropolitan Builders Ass'n.

165 Officials Attend Class in Election Rules

A two-hour class in election procedures for township and city clerks, election board chairmen and inspectors yesterday morning was attended by 165 officials, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said today.

The classes, conducted by Robert Montgomery, director of elections in the Secretary of State's office, included every phase of election procedure from setting up the machines to counting the vote, Allen said.

The population of the United United States increased by 36.4 per cent between the years from 1800 to 1810.

Denies Ike Let Farmers Down

Benson Answers Adlai Charge That President Ignored Parity Pledge

BAY CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower did not promise in 1952 to maintain rigid price supports at 100 per cent of parity, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said here yesterday.

"The President pledged he would work to get 100 per cent of parity in the market place and that is what we are doing," Benson told newsmen who questioned him about charges made by Adlai Stevenson.

Stevenson said at Springfield, Ill., Eisenhower has broken promises he made to farmers while campaigning in 1952.

'MISUNDERSTANDING'

He said Stevenson and other Democrats have put an interpretation on Eisenhower's words which the President never intended.

"The President has faithfully carried out every pledge he made to farmers and others alike," Benson said. "Farm prices are rising, agricultural surpluses are declining and our markets are expanding at home and abroad."

"Under Eisenhower," we are moving toward greater freedom for the American farmer," Benson said.

Kavanagh Stumping Around Area Today

State Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh again is campaigning in Oakland County today, the county Democratic Commottee said yesterday.

Garson Kanin Recreates 'Born Yesterday' for TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the interesting things about one of the better things available on television this weekend is the fact that Garson Kanin, author and director of "Born Yesterday," has chosen that Broadway success for his television debut.

* * *

"Born Yesterday," starring Mary Martin and Paul Douglas, will be seen on Hallmark Hall of Fame (NBC-TV) Sunday night in both color and black and white.

At this writing Kanin's status on the program—whether to be listed as director or producer—is up in the air. The Radio and Television Directors Guild says the director's credit should go to one of its members, George Schaefer. But whatever his title on the program, Kanin has been active in directing his work.

* * *

Kanin, a slight, mild-mannered, articulate man, is renowned as one of the most creative minds in the theater and motion pictures. Why, then, has he finally decided to try his talents in television?

"It's not a question of how one feels about television," he said. "Television is a fact upon us and those of us in the business of story-telling, the business of communicating ideas and entertainment, have to come to grips with it.

* * *

"One who has worked in the theater and motion pictures has adopted his own ways of doing things. Any new form is likely to throw you unless you throw it. There is no question in my mind but that one who writes or directs must come to grips with all methods of literary communication.

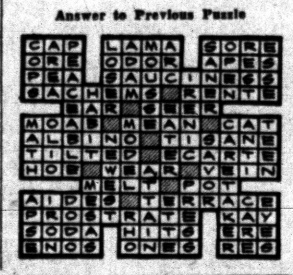

"I look like a middle-aged man, but I think of myself as a growing boy. That's why I am trying television."

Kanin hopes to do more television work—"the next time helping to create something specifically for the medium."

City Needs Housing

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Human Relations Director David J. McNamara has urged a civic study committee to investigate possibilities of an urban renewal program under federal aid to ease the predicted displacement of 1,000 families in the path of a proposed US-131 expressway through the city.
