Nature's Colorama Unfolding Across State

GOODBYE TO SUMMER — Lengthening shadows, symbolic of the end of summer, creep across one of Michigan's thousands of lakes as the yellow-orange harvest moon goes slowly down behind the opposite shore to drop a gentle curtain of darkness over the glory of color which flames across meadows and woodlands of autumn Michigan.

Hoffa Accused of Rigging Vote for His Election

13 Rebels in New York Petition Federal Court to Postpone Balloting

WASHINGTON (INS)—Top teamsters officials were under court order today to show cause why the union's forthcoming election should not be suspended on charges it has been "rigged."

The directive was issued yesterday by Federal District Judge F. Dickinson Letts on the petition of 13 Teamster rebels seeking to block the expected election of James R. Hoffa as president.

Union leaders were ordered to appear in court in Washington next Friday, only three days before the Brotherhood's convention opens in Miami.

Letts' order calls for a judicial review of the Teamsters' methods of choosing delegates and, in addition to Hoffa, specifically names President Dave Beck and 10 other international officers.

The judge refused a request to ban the election until the court has reviewed the charges, but the attorney of the 13 New York dissidents is expected to ask for a preliminary injunction to this effect next Friday.

Hoffa has been charged by the Senate Rackets Committee with making questionable use of union funds and forming connections with New York racketeer Johnny Dio.

The court complaint claimed union elections have flouted the organization's constitution and said it would be "futile and ridiculous" to ask present officials to correct their conduct after balloting.

Union kingpins were said to have use the labor organization "for their own personal aggrandizement and enrichment over the last few years."

New AF Radar Device Reported

Can Track ICBMs

WASHINGTON—(INS)—A new Air Force radar device capable of tracking an intercontinental ballistic missile at a distance of 3,000 miles will be placed in operation "in the near future."

★ ★ ★

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the revolutionary detection system will permit "instantaneous warning." Some sources believe it would be an advance alert of about 10 to 15 minutes.

It was also reported that the radar, unlike present warning systems, can detect the size and speed of the 16,000-mile-per-hour attackers.

★ ★ ★

White took the wraps off the new equipment in a speech at a Defense Orientation Association conference yesterday in which he also emphasized that the Air Force has the "essential retaliatory capability" to cope with an assault.

Now Little Rock Anxiously Eyes Central School

Showdown May Come on Monday if Negroes Try to Enroll

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The tree-lined street in front of Central High School is quiet today, cleared of guards.

Gov. Orval Faubus, set back by a federal court, is preparing to appeal the injunction that broke the armed blockade he threw around the school Sept. 2, when he declared it "off limits" to Negro children.

And Little Rock is waiting for Monday morning, when classes resume, with mixed feelings—optimism, uncertainty, apprehension.

"As long as this order is in effect and until its certain reversal on appeal, I will comply," Faubus said.

But he added, with determination, that he will appeal it.

Faubus made the statement in an appearance on a Little Rock television program last night — while the troops were pulling out.

Less than an hour later, a few state troopers and one automobile carrying two Little Rock policemen were parked beside the school. But the officers said they were not ordered there. "Just happened to stop by," they said.

EXTRA WATCHMAN

The Little Rock School Board said a few extra night watchmen were hired, but no policemen.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, people in Little Rock are anxiously awaiting Faubus' next move, and looking to Monday morning when classes resume at Central High School and the question of whether the Negroes will try to enter.

And a great legal tangle appeared in the making.

City Editor, Pontiac Press

GREAT LAKES, Ill.—Thirteen Oakland County residents graduated from ninety-day "boot training" at the U. S. Naval Training Center here today to climax the center's observance of "Michigan Week."

Some 36 Michigan officials and newsmen were flown over by the Navy yesterday to take part in the graduation of the Michigan company and survey 50 years of progress in the Navy.

Recruits graduating in the ceremonies held this morning were: Randell S. Forbes of Leonard, Norman L. Gidcumb of Orchard Lake, Carl E. Langdon of Rochester, Richard T. Birchfield of South Lyon, and James W. Bray of Pontiac, all of Company 255.

King of Norway Succumbs at 85

Death Ends Haakon's Long Reign; Son Olav Becomes Monarch

OSLO, Norway (AP) — King Haakon VII of Norway, an old sailor who rode out the storms of invasion to reign for more than half a century, died early today in the royal palace. He was 85 and the world's oldest reigning monarch.

★ ★ ★

The king had been growing weaker in his fight against a circulatory ailment. Death came shortly after heart trouble developed at 4:30 a.m. (10:30 p.m. EST Friday).

Crown Prince Olav, regent of the realm since his father broke a thigh bone in a fall in 1955, immediately became the king—Olav V.

There will be no coronation. Norway's constitution provided that Haakon was to be the last king formally crowned in coronation ceremonies in Norway.

King Haakon, a stately 6-foot 3-inch former Danish prince, had been in frail health for some time. Early this week his doctors announced he was suffering from the circulatory ailment and expressed fears for his life.

SLEPT SOUNDLY

A medical bulletin said the king, who had been receiving intravenous feeding because of a throat catarrh condition, slept soundly until a few minutes before his death.

★ ★ ★

Haakon, born near Copenhagen Aug. 3, 1872, was the son of King Frederick VIII and Queen Louise of Denmark. As Prince Carl, he was a 24-year-old Danish naval officer when Norway invited him to become its first modern monarch.

Although he had never aspired to be a king, he agreed to accept if the Norwegians voted for a monarchy. In the referendum in 1908 259,563 voters favored a monarchy and 69,264 opposed it.

Summer Slips Away; Fall Arrives Monday

Need we tell you that fall is just around the corner?

The early riser knows it when he rubs the sleep from his eyes and sees nothing but darkness.

The husband who sees his bills grow because of fall fashions knows it. The frosh football player that limps home black and blue knows it.

The home gardener who starts to cover his beds for winter is well aware of it.

But just in case you don't fall into any of these categories, astronomers will tell you that when the sun crosses the equator at 2:27 a. m. Monday fall will be upon us.

"But my goodness, it seems like we just got rid of last winter," is the most over-worked comment of some.

The splendor of the Harvest moon will help fill the air with that touch of Fall. The days will seem shorter and the nights will stretch further.

Kennett Road School Ready

Tuesday Is First Day for Classes Delayed by Sewer-Water Tieup

Kennett Road Elementary School will open Tuesday at 8:15 a.m.

This agreement of both city and school officials resulted during a meeting yesterday.

Robert A. Stierer, administrative assistant for the city, said this morning, "The water main has been completed and five samples are being drawn from the new mains today by the health department. They took samples yesterday and will continue tomorrow," he added.

The test results are to be available Monday and according to Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools, a few hours will be needed Monday for plumbers to turn on the school's water and check for leaks.

Stierer added: "If the samples are not favorable and contamination exists, city and school officials will have to consider emergency measures for water supply."

The opening of the new $439,000 school, located at 460 W. Kennett Rd., has been postponed since other Pontiac schools opened September 5 due to sewer-water tieups. The school will accommodate more than 300 children.

Musical Genius Sibelius Dead

Finnish Composer, 91, Bequeaths Mystery of Possible 8th Symphony

HELSINKI (AP)—Jean Sibelius, a brooding, mystical giant among the world's composers, died last night at the age of 91.

He had been in good health until stricken with a brain hemorrhage at the villa which he built near Helsinki 53 years ago.

Sibelius left his imprint on the world of music with 13 symphonic sagas, seven symphonies and several works for piano and strings.

He also left a mystery. Although his last published music appeared in the late 1920s, he was believed to have worked on an eighth symphony in more recent years. His death may yield the answer.

WAS TONE POET

The grand sweep of his tone poem "Finlandia" has intrigued and mystified audiences since it was first performed in 1899. The Russians who then ruled the land of the Finns, fearing that its grandeur might incite freedom rights, banned it for a while.

$300 Pot-O-Gold in Press Contest Could Be Yours

Just twenty correct answers on one Pot-O-Gold card is all we're asking. Although half a dozen of the 14,400 entries had the judges' hearts in their mouths, their hopes were dashed to the ground as contestants came up with one or two incorrect answers.

Puzzle No. 69, which will appear in next Monday's Pontiac Press, will be worth $300, providing there is no winner for this week's puzzle. The current puzzle is now worth $200.

★ ★ ★

You still have until Tuesday afternoon to submit answers for this week. But before you submit your entry, however, be sure to read the contest rules carefully. Three hundred dollars is quite a tidy sum to let slip through your fingers just for failing to observe one of the rules.

Confucius on 20th Century

Teens: Pigtails to Cocktails

HONG KONG—(INS)—Confucius has been brought up-to-date by a group of Chinese "scholars" in Hong Kong.

They claim if the ancient axiom-maker were confronted with 20th century problems, he most likely would come out with sayings like these, as reported in a Hong Kong guide book:

★ ★ ★

"Teenage is age between pigtails and cocktails."

"Many a woman discovers it is just as hard to find husband after marriage as it is before."

"Some people's voices are hard to extinguish over telephone."

"When a man brings his wife flowers for no reason there's usually very good reason."

"With present cost of living, umbrella is only thing that can be put away for rainy day."

"Old maid is a girl who hasn't had much experience."

"Wise man knows everything; smart man knows everybody."

"Waitress is girl who thinks money grows on trays."

Firm Engaged to Draw Master Plan

Flint Launches Downtown Redevelopment Project

FLINT—A giant redevelopment project has been launched here this week with the hiring of an outside professional firm of city planners and engineers to formulate a comprehensive master plan.

★ ★ ★

Flint's City Commission has engaged a Cincinnati firm, Ladislas Segoe & Associates to prepare the plan at a cost of $125,000.

It is estimated that the study will be completed in two and a half to three years.

The plan to be developed will be extremely broad in its scope. Usage of land, thoroughfares, transportation, school facilities, parks and recreation surveys and studies will be major phases of the study.

★ ★ ★

Also to be included in the master plan will be studies aimed at possible revision of the zoning ordinance and subdivision regulations. A program of proposed public improvements will be included.

Other phases of the project include basic plans for urban-service-area development and urban renewal.

★ ★ ★

The action of the city of Flint in hiring the Cincinnati firm follows hard on the heels of other major construction projects under way.

These include a College and Cultural Development and a Municipal Center.

The city is also planning a project of multi-million dollar proportions in the central river area, embracing a new postal center, rehabilitation of a blighted downtown area, elimination of railroad crossings in the business sections, beautification of the river, and other impressive improvements.

The entire site will be cleared and redeveloped. Key roles in the development are being played by Webb & Knapp, Inc., a New York real estate firm, the Post Office Dept., the Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the City Commission, which has voted unanimous support for the plan.

The project in the central river area is almost exclusively a private enterprise.

City officials believe that the minimum of public participation will be more than offset by the municipal income that will accrue from considerably increased values and the sale of city property within the area.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, work continues on the Flint College and Cultural Development. When it was launched three years ago, the new Flint Junior College Buildings were under construction, among them a fieldhouse, an arts and science building and an academic building.

General Motors Corp. donated $3,000,000 toward a $12,000,000 drive for the college development. Since that time, the city

Fact-Finding Unit Formed

Advisory Council Group to Seek Information on Hospital Bond Vote

The Executive Committee of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council appointed a fact-finding committee yesterday to seek information on the forthcoming Pontiac General Hospital bond vote.

The committee, under the chairmanship of Fred V. Haggard, was instructed to report back at the council's quarterly meeting Oct. 3. The public has been invited to attend the meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. in the City Commission chambers of the City Hall.

★ ★ ★

"Our problem is to get to the grass roots of the vote and learn, and then tell the voters just what this money is going to buy," said Judge Clark J. Adams, council president.

Property owners will go to the polls Oct. 28 to cast their ballots on whether the city should issue $950,000 worth of general obligation bonds to finance the furnishing and equipping of the new hospital wing.

Meeting Friday noon at the Waldron Hotel, the Executive Committee also appointed three other fact-finding committees.

★ ★ ★

One will study the facilities for the emergency care for mental patients in Oakland County. This committee will be under the direction of James Spence.

The Press has pointed out in a series of recent articles the lack of such facilities.

Everett C. Spurlock will head another committee whose goal will be a long-range study of youth problems in this area.

★ ★ ★

A committee under Pontiac attorney David E. Utley will continue its study begun last year into the possible revision of the council's constitution and by-laws.

Should passengers in an aircraft worry about being struck by lightning when flying through a storm? Is a car safe in a lightning storm?

Lightning is practically no danger to aircraft. In fact, it often strikes aircraft without causing the slightest damage. The danger in flying through a lightning storm in an aircraft lies in the updrafts and downdrafts which are likely to be encountered in passing through lightning, which so often accompanies thunderstorms.

★ ★ ★

A closed car is a relatively safe place in a lightning storm. A boat without a tall mast is not necessarily dangerous.

Water is a good conductor of electricity and, therefore, one should stay out of boats during these storms unless a lightning arrester has been installed.

An aircraft, or closed car, then, is a safe place in a lightning storm.

Sylvan Lake Takes Steps to Close Garland Avenue

It has been agreed upon by the City Council that Garland avenue at the new Telegraph road relocation should be closed "in the best interests of the peace, health, safety and welfare of its citizens."

The closing of the road, which has long been an ingress and egress for Sylvan Lake residents, had been proposed by State Highway Dept. officials.

Sylvan officials based their action principally on the fact that entrance onto the new road would be dangerous.

ELECTION COMING

Other Sylvan Lake affairs included information concerning the city's Nov. 5 election. City Manager Louis G. Barry announced that Oct. 7 is the last day to register.

If voters haven't voted in any election since November 1953, they must register at the clerk's office in the City Hall Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5. On Oct. 7 the office will remain open until 8 p.m.

One council seat will be filled at the election. Mayor Howard E. Wideman has decided not to seek re-election.

Nominating petitions for council candidates must be submitted by noon Sept. 28, Barry said. Forms are available at the clerk's office.

HOW TO FILE

A candidate must secure signatures of not less than 25 and no more than 50 registered electors of the city. Candidates must also be 21, a registered voter, and a property owner and resident of Sylvan Lake at least the past two years.

Barry was instructed to study a proposal to open city offices one Saturday each month for the convenience of residents who cannot transact business during weekdays.

Residents were reminded by Barry that at the Oct. 9 council meeting a public hearing will be held on the proposed amendments to the city's zoning ordinance.

has raised its drive for funds for the cultural center to $20,000,000.

A senior college of the University of Michigan has been established in the Mott Memorial Building. The Enos A. and Sarah DeWaters Art Center is nearing completion. Under construction are a planetarium and a dramatic theater.

Building of a public library has begun and ground recently was broken for an aditorium. Drawings have been completed for a civic and college auditorium and are in progress for the Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. Panorama of Transportation, a museum of historical and other collections, and a carillon tower.

An amphitheater, athletic field and Army Reserve Training Center are also in the planning stages.

All of these projects will be coordinated with related parts of the master plan.

Work on the plan will be done in Flint and Cincinnati. The firm will station a qualified resident representative in Flint for as long as is required to prepare the basic essentials of the plan.

Final report on the overall task will include a comprehensive long-range plan, for the desirable development of the city and surrounding areas.

The consulting firm will also recommend procedures for effective administration of the master plan and for putting its recommendations into effect.

Thailand Names Pro-West Premier

BANGKOK (INS)—The Thailand National Assembly, with the Army's approval, today named a staunch pro-Westerner as provisional premier.

He is 52-year-old Pote Sarasin, secretary general of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) and former Ambassador to Washington.

The announcement of the Assembly's act was made by the Army. Observers felt that the Army could not have made a more pro-Western choice than Pote.

(In Western capitals, the action was seen as an effort to still allied fears that Thailand was becoming a "neutralist" or anti-Western nation. A bloodless Army coup overthrew the strongly pro-Western government last weekend, giving rise to the fears.)

5 Killed as Train Rips Apart Truck

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — Five persons, including three children, were killed when their panel truck was ripped apart by a Canadian Pacific train late yesterday near Windsor.

Another tot was seriously injured in the crash. Little three-year-old Norma Drefko was expected to recover.

Police listed the dead as Paul Drefko, 30, of Essex South Township, his daughters, Roberta, 3, and Peggy, 18 months; Pietro Vozza, 33, of Windsor, and June Taylor, 3, daughter of Drefko's neighbors.

An east bound Windsor to London passenger train traveling at 75 miles an hour tossed the truck 250 feet beyond the crossing.

Police were amazed to find Norma walking about the crash scene.

Six Detroit Miners Cheat Death in Fall

DETROIT (AP)—Six salt miners spent a fear-filled, cramped five hours last night trapped in a tiny elevator on which a lift cable broke 200 feet underground.

A plunge downward toward the bottom of the 1,250-foot shaft was stopped by a pair of spring-operated safety brakes that are clamped onto the elevator's guide rails.

All six were rescued uninjured —but shaken—and taken to a hospital for a physical checkup.

First Flu Death in Missouri

U.S. Health Service Guesses 100,000 Hit as Colleges Close

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first confirmed death from Asian flu in this country was reported yesterday by the State of Missouri.

The U.S. Public Health Service estimated there have been 100,000 cases in the country to date.

Reports of new outbreaks in the United States and Canada continued to pile up.

In Puerto Rico the Health Department estimated there were possibly 129,000 new cases of Asian flu in the territory during the week ended Sept. 14. Puerto Rico was believed nearing the peak of the outbreak.

Dr. H. M. Hardwicke of the Missouri Health Division did not identify the man believed the first confirmed fatality. The victim was stricken in California and returned to Missouri against his doctor's advice.

Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos was closed yesterday until Monday because of flu. The state health commissioner said predictions of a widespread Asian flu epidemic "appear to be materializing."

President J. G. Flowers ordered the college closed after more than 500 persons were stricken on the campus. There was no confirmation that the flu was of the Asian type.

In Colorado, more than 1,000 soldiers at Ft. Carson have been stricken with Asian flu. In Boulder, 671 students at the University of Colorado were at the infirmary with the flu.

No area in the Southern Peninsula of Michigan has a better background for a gorgeous display of fall foliage colors than does the Pontiac area. Our great variety of trees brings out colors that vie the rainbow.

Largely depending on the first frost, our trees will not be at their best for several days yet. It usually is about the middle of October that the peak of the display is with us.

Oakland County has no favored spots in the colorings. When the time comes, every city and village will be in the show. This also is true of every rural section in our county, and especially in our public parks.

Mapped color tours for motorists and guided nature trips are available in all Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks. At Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson, an auto tour of some 28 miles is marked and maps are available at the park's information center.

Park naturalists will conduct hikes along the parks' marked trails, and another view of this area may be obtained from the "Island Queen," 60-foot cruise boat which makes hourly trips on Kent Lake throughout October.

Oct. 7 to 17, if previous years are any guide, is the most likely time to find Michigan at its colorful best.

Confidential Jury Given More Law by Trial Judge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Confidential Magazine criminal libel case jury, bolstered with additional instructions, went back to work today in search of a verdict.

This was the fifth day of deliberations.

The jurors returned to the courtroom yesterday afternoon and asked 13 questions of Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker.

Most of the questions involved intent of the defendants and the issue of obsgenity.

The jurors asked Judge Walker if, in arriving at a verdict, they were to consider publisher Robert Harrison of Confidential and Whisper and other indicted individuals who are not on trial. The judge told them that they were to consider only six defendants. They are Confidential and Whisper, Publisher's Distributing Corp., Hollywood Research, Inc., and Fred and Marjorie Meade.

★ ★ ★

This was the second time that the jurors had returned to the courtroom for additional instructions since receiving the case late Monday.

2 Armed Bandits Hold Up Drive-In

An armed robbery at the Cup 'N' Pup Drive-In, Northwestern highway at Orchard Lake road, W. Bloomfield Township, last night netted robbers from $200 to $250 in cash, according to State Police at the Redford Post.

★ ★ ★

Ellsworth Fenrich and his wife, Kathleen, owners of the drive-in, told troopers they had just closed for the night and were in a back room counting receipts.

Two men walked in and said, "This is a stick-up," according to Fenrich. One of the men carried a sawed off shotgun.

The holdup men took the money and then ripped the telephone out of the wall. The couple said they didn't see a car and don't know how the men escaped.

Detectives from the Redford Post are investigating the robbery. Fenrich said one of the men was about 17, and had sandy-colored hair with sideburns.

Ex-Health Boss Dies in Buffalo

Dr. William DeKleine, Controversial Officer, Succumbs at 79

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. William DeKleine, controversial Michigan State Health Commissioner of the 1940s and famed for public service in medicine, is dead at the age of 79.

Dr. DeKleine died yesterday after a cerebral hemorrhage at his home in Cheektowaga, a suburb of Buffalo. He had moved there a year ago after practicing medicine in Lansing, Mich.

He was medical director of the American Red Cross at the time the blood bank program was set up. He was a former president of the American Tuberculosis Assn.

★ ★ ★

A native of Ottawa County in Michigan, Dr. DeKleine served as state health commissioner from 1944 to 1947 during which time he clashed frequently over policy with organized medicine.

These battles ultimately led to his removal by the late Gov. Kim Sigler on charges brought by the State Assn. of Health Officers. The group said he "antagonized" organized medicine.

Even so, Dr. DeKleine had hardly departed from office when he was given a vote of thanks by the House of Delegates of the Michigan Medical Society.

Faubus Pulls Out National Guardsmen

Faubus said, "I have instructed my attorneys to exhaust every legal remedy to appeal this order."

★ ★ ★

He was referring to the ruling yesterday by U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies, who said Faubus had "thwarted" the plan for integration advanced by the school board and approved by two federal courts. Davies then declared:

★ ★ ★

"The petition of the United States of America . . . for a preliminary injunction against Gov. Faubus . . . and all others named in the petition is granted; and such injunction shall issue without delay enjoining those respondents from obstructing or preventing by use of the National Guard or otherwise the attendance of Negro students at Little Rock High School."

★ ★ ★

The question you hear on every street corner now is: "Will they come to school Monday?"

The Negro students say they don't know.

STILL UNCERTAIN

In the first flush of exuberance yesterday over Judge Davies' ruling that ended the blockade, some of them excitedly told reporters they intended to appear at Central High on Monday.

★ ★ ★

But later, each of them said the same thing in different ways . . . "I don't know . . . I haven't made my plans yet . . . There are so many factors concerned . . . It will depend on the advice of a lot of people . . . I'm talking it over with my parents."

Their attorney, Willey Branton said, "I wouldn't want to say just yet what we will do."

So, in a single, almost incredible day, the whole character of the Little Rock story has changed from what seemed an iron deadlock to a very fluid situation.

Davies issued the injunction against Faubus. That was expected.

GUARD PULLS OUT

Three hours after the judge granted the government's petition for an order to restrain Faubus, the governor sent word to the corporal's guard of soldiers still on duty at the high school.

★ ★ ★

At 6:25 p.m. (CST), while Faubus was in a Little Rock television studio, ready to explain his position, the guardsmen quietly clambored into jeeps and trucks and pulled away.

For the first time in 18 days Park Avenue, which runs in front of the big, arch-shaped high school was empty of soldiers and curious bystanders.

In the other accident, Mrs. Martin J. Baginsky, 1570 Taunton Rd., suffered minor burns about the face and hands while extinguishing a fat fire on her stove. Mrs. Baginsky, who is recovering at home today, said the blaze started when she was called to the telephone while she was cooking.

Learned of Microfilm in Hollowed-Out Nickel

How U. S. Accused Soviet Master Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—A hollowed-out nickel crammed with microfilm and collected by a youngster on his paper route aided in leading the government to Rudolf Abdel, accused Soviet master spy.

★ ★ ★

James Bozart, 18, said last night at his Brooklyn home a woman gave him the nickel and other change four years ago as payment for delivery of the now-defunct Brooklyn Eagle.

★ ★ ★

Bozart said he later accidentally dropped the hollowed-out coin and it fell apart, disclosing a piece of microfilm about one-half inch square. He said he took the film which contained numbers, to police. They notified the FBI.

★ ★ ★

Bozart, enrolled as a freshman at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., said he never learned whether the woman was convicted with the spy ring or herself received the nickel in change.

Abel, 55, reputedly a colonel in Soviet intelligence, operated a photography studio in Brooklyn. He was seized June 21 by immigration agents in his Manhattan hotel room.

A Brooklyn federal grand jury indicted Abel on Aug. 7 on charges of conspiracy to transmit national defense secrets to Russia.

Bozart said the nickel containing the microfilm actually was two nickels, one fitting over a hollowed-out side of the other.

★ ★ ★

The New York Daily News said today that federal authorities and local police confirmed the story of the finding of the "fixed" nickel and that it was one of numerous coins used by the spy ring allegedly headed by Abel.

Weary Mom to Sleep 5 Days

Trance to Bring Relief

CHICAGO (AP)—A 38-year-old woman, fatigued because she's been getting only four hours sleep a night, plans to slumber for five days straight next week.

Impossible? Not under the power of hypnosis, believes Mrs. Fred A. Dust of nearby East Chicago, Ind., a switchboard operator and widowed mother of two.

★ ★ ★

She talked the Hypnosis Institute of Chicago into supervising the Monday-to-Sunday "hypnotic hibernation" so she can catch up "on all my lost bed time."

The institute hopes to gain some new scientific facts about sleep and relaxation as a result of the marathon nap.

Mrs. Dust came to the institute with the suggestion after her doctor advised her to take a long rest because of nervousness and restlessness.

★ ★ ★

Since she had only five days vacation coming, she figured hypnosis would be an excellent way to cram a lot of sleep into a short time.

Mrs. Dust says that since the death of her husband in an accident last year, she's been going "full steam"—supporting her two children, keeping up her home and taking on a couple of outside interests.

"I'm expecting to get enough sleep to last me for another year of this four-hours-a-night routine I just can't seem to avoid," she said.

Census to Shift Seats in House

1970 Head Count May Give Michigan Two More Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the census taker makes his rounds in 1970, it appears likely he will find California entitled to equal representation with New York in Congress and in the Electoral College.

Computations based on Census Bureau projections of population trends show that California may gain seven additional seats in the House of Representatives after the 1960 census and five more seats for a total of 42 in 1970.

Meanwhile, New York appears destined to lose one of its 43 House seats in the 1960 reapportionment and hold its own in the next decade.

Since the electoral vote of the states for president and vice president is based on representation in Congress—one vote for each House member and Senator—New York and California would end up in 1970 in a tie for the largest block of electoral votes with 44 each.

The computations were based on the largest of four sets of projections by the Census Bureau using differing assumptions as to birth and death rates and migration patterns.

★ ★ ★

Based on the largest projection for each state, reapportionment of the House of Representatives would give Michigan and Texas each two more seats in 1960, and in 1970 Michigan would gain two more.

States losing two seats in 1960 would include Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Arkansas, and Pennsylvania would lose two more in 1970.

Glenn C. Richards, Detroit director of public works, said that if the proposal is adopted it would be the first time problems in connection with services supplied by cities were solved on a metropolitan basis.

Champagne Grape Harvest Under Way

PARIS (INS) — The annual harvest of champagne grapes started yesterday.

A spokesman for the champagne producers of France said that the quality of the 1957 crop will match that of any normal year but the quantity will be only about one-third of normal because of late spring freezes.

This year's crop won't reach world tables until 1961 or 1962 because it takes four or five years to produce a bottle of French champagne.

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: Why was Joseph sold into slavery by his brothers?

ANSWER: Joseph was the eleventh of the 12 sons of Jacob. He was a bright boy and soon became his father's favorite. This made his brothers jealous, and they became even more bitter one day when Joseph, then 17, appeared in the fields with a beautiful new coat Jacob had given him.

They stripped him of the coat, threw him in a pit and then sold him for 20 pieces of silver to a passing band of Ishmaelites. They told Jacob a wild beast had killed Joseph. The Ishmaelites took Joseph to Egypt and sold him to a captain of the Pharaoh's guard. In Egypt Joseph gained a reputation for interpreting dreams. The Pharaoh heard of him and asked him to interpret one of his dreams. Thus, Joseph gained favor with the Pharaoh and eventually became his prime minister.

Twenty years after he was sold into slavery, Joseph became reunited with his family in Egypt. Jacob wept with joy and Joseph forgave his brothers.

FOR YOU TO DO: The story of Joseph is powerfully told in the Bible, in Genesis. Read the entire story yourself, and color the picture for your Bible collection.

Soviet Farm Justice

Honest Milkmaid in Pokey

MOSCOW (INS)—Life among the dairymaids of a Soviet collective farm is not always full of the milk of human kindness.

Sometimes it dissolves into watered-down milk and tears, according to an expose recently published by "Komsomolskaya Pravada," organ of the Young Communist League.

Katia was a happy and conscientious dairymaid at the collective farm of Bashmaka, in the Ukraine. But one day her "Communist conscience" was shocked by the udderly base behaviour of a fellow cow-girl, Maria Kamarovets.

It seems that in order to increase her production quota, Maria was adding water to the milk she extracted daily from the bovines under her care. Katia reproached her for this. Maria told her, in effect, to go soak her head.

★ ★ ★

Harsher words ensued and Kadia was brought before the local judge, who condemned her to two weeks in the pokey.

Katia's mother wrote an indignant letter to the editors of "Komsomolskaya Pravda" and justice shortly turned up in Bashmaka in the person of the newspaper's correspondent.

He confirmed Katia's story, and reported that the culprit Maria had been caught, so to speak, white-handed.

Analysis of one of her milking cans showed it contained 40 per cent milk . . . and 60 per cent water.

By this time Katia had tearfully served her sentence. But her newspaperman-rescurer promised she would be avenged, and that "all those who did not defend her would be most strongly punished."

Many Southerners Struggle With Integration Problems

(This is the last in a series of articles in which a famed reporter tells what he and a reporting team have found to be the causes behind the crisis over school integration in the South today.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

BIRMINGHAM (INS) — Some faces in the crowd, as the South struggles with its school integration problem:

Adm. John Crommerlin (ret.), one-time Navy firebrand who lives in Wetumpka, Ala., says, "Almost anything is preferable to the destruction of the white race. If people want violence, let them have it. The Supreme Court is the fifth echelon of government, the people are first.

BLAMES JEWS

"Communist Jews are behind the integration movement. What we need is to get government back into the hands of white Christians."

Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, on the subject of the beating he was given for attempting to enroll two children in an all-white school: "I knew I was close to death but I never had any fear. I kept thinking about my family and my work. My first thought was why the police didn't come to my help. Those men were trying to kill me.

"I ran from my car after the attack so they would not get my wife and daughters. I kept thinking about my purposes. The mob pulled my coat over my head and I couldn't see. I fought to get it down.

"The second or third time I was struck on the head with the chain I heard a divine voice saying, 'Get up, you can't go down now.' I knew I'd be finished if I lost consciousness. Then I realized the only safety was back in my car, and I'd have to fight my way back to it. Suddenly, my strength was supernatural. I surprised myself by knocking over the man with the chain. I ran right over another one of them. I was dazed but never had more power. I made it to the car.

FELT DOOMED

"I almost lost consciousness in the car while driving to the hospital. When I got there I thought it was my last moment. I was dying, I was sure. They gave me oxygen and I felt better. I remembered then how much had to be done.

"I had to get out of there in a hurry. I had to get to a mass meeting (more than 1,000 Negroes attended), check on the Negro students. I told the mass meeting I didn't want the hair of one white man hurt in retaliation. I told them to pray for a spirit of coolness in this time of madness, and that the blood in front of Phillips High was just another installment on the price of freedom. I didn't want any retaliations to mar God's blessings in keeping me alive that day.

"Not once during the whole fight and not even now—did I feel any anger. Perhaps those men felt they had something they had to protect. It just shows the vicious evil of this segregation."

Dr. L. F. Banks, superintendent of schools in Birmingham, is a kindly, gray haired man who stands somewhere between the determined Crommerlin and the crusading Shuttlesworth. In time he must pass on petitions from the parents of eight Negro children who want them enrolled in white schools. "I am moving as fast as possible with the petitions," he told International News Service.

He would not indicate how he would rule in the matter, but said frankly that he would expect violence to result from integration.

Friends expect that action on the petitions of the eight will be held up by a series of tests the students will be asked to undergo. Rev. Shuttlesworth states that "any such procrastination" will prompt him to force a court case by attempting once again to enter Negroes at Phillips High.

Christopher Bates, 65-year-old publisher of the Arkansas State News, a Negro weekly, has his own feelings and a remarkable suggestion for a solution:

"Wealthy white industrialists and plantation owners use the poor whites to keep the Negro down for economic reasons," he told INS.

"Once you remove the segregation law, a lot of people are going to find they have lost their supremacy. No wonder the lower classes of whites are so violent in their opposition to integration. They know that if it goes through as ordered, one day they'll wake up to find they have no one to be superior to.

"Naturally, we're disappointed in the way the federal government has failed to back us up. It would be a good thing if President Eisenhower would just step down and let Nixon take over."

Finally, a prominent Southern editor who preferred not to be identified at this time, said:

"I'm on the side of law and order in this matter, but I honestly don't believe the deep South ever will submit to segregation. In time the Congress will re-examine the federal law and amend it to read that each state may choose its own side on the issue. Public reaction forced the repeal of the Prohibition Amendment, after bloodshed. It will do the same in respect to public schooling, after bloodshed."

Father of 6 Is Commander

New Legion Head Stresses Family Life

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

A handsome, articulate onetime private from suburban Chicago is the new national commander of the Country's largest organization of war veterans.

He's John S. Gleason Jr., who took over leadership of the American Legion at the close of the annual convention in Atlantic City yesterday.

Gleason is the proud father of six sons, and all of them were on hand to hear him tell the convention that one of the great tasks before the legion is to preserve family life.

"We owe it to our youth of today — as parents and citizens — to make available the best that modern science and education have to offer," he said. "We also owe it to them to instill within them some of the old-fashioned values — values that may go out of style from time to time, but can never die or our American way of life itself will die."

The stocky, graying Gleason is vice president of the First National Bank of his native Chicago. A graduate of Notre Dame, he took post-graduate courses in banking at Harvard and the University of Wisconsin.

He enlisted in the Army as a private after Pearl Harbor and came out a lieutenant colonel five years later. He won the Silver Star and the Bronze Star with two oak leaf clusters during combat in the Pacific.

Since the war, Gleason has been busy with a host of civic and military activities — and, of course, his growing family. He has worked for the Boy and Girl Scouts, was vice chairman of National Brotherhood Week and vice chairman and treasurer of the Mayor's Chicago Youth Foundation.

Gleason helped reorganize The Illinois National Guard and since 1951 has served as national vice chairman of the legion's National Rehabilitation Commission.

In May, 1950, the Senate confirmed his nomination as brigadier general in the Army reserve.

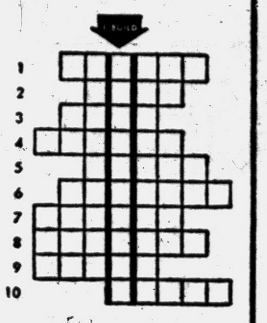

The new commander lives in Winnetka, just north of Chicago, with his wife, Mary Jane, and their six offspring — Jack, Dan, Dick, Tom, Dave and Marty.

Dog Fanciers, Indian Lovers Don't Mix

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Members of the New Mexico German Shepherd Club were happily engrossed in their favorite subject—dogs—when the door opened and in walked a well-dressed stranger.

He began making a speech to the startled club, informing them that several million Indians lived between Dallas, Tex., and the West Coast.

"And," he informed them solemnly, "all are capable of speaking about 1,200 languages." He emphasized that this was an "acute problem."

Concluding his talk, he lay down on the floor and the meeting proceeded, somewhat shakily.

Apparently failing to gain any following on the Indian problem, the stranger arose, staggered to the front door and vanished into the night.

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

WHY DO WE DO IT?

In all the animal kingdom man is the only animal with a conscience. With it he has faith. He never questions his ability to find his way on sea and in the air, drive an automobile, run, walk erect, accomplish his ambition. Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic — with faith and little more. A Boy Scout, lost in rugged mountains, had faith in his training, hiked to civilization. We start a vacation trip, have faith our car will function, maps are correct and we will return to our home. We go to sleep at night, have faith that our conscience will order our breathing, heart beat and bodily functions. We have sublime faith that the ultimate end of our endeavors will be as we planned them; that faith is the prerogative of a human being.

It Seems to Me...

Police Mess Needs Fast Action

Pontiac's police situation is crying for review — and immediately. The current situation emphasizes this more than ever.

★ ★ ★

Have we, or have we not a Chief of Police. If we have a Chief, is he — or is he not capable? If he's capable, why second guess him?

★ ★ ★

If the Chief is capable, why does the Civil Service Commission over-rule him on a straight forward question of discipline? Where does the City Manager stand? Is the Chief accountable to him? And if the Chief is accountable to the City Manager, is the Civil Service Commission prepared to over-rule both on all questions?

★ ★ ★

If this last is true, how can you avoid concluding that the Civil Service Commission is actually the Chief? Why have a Chief if he and the City Manager are subject to flat reversals on normal disciplinary matters?

Have the voters been sold a bill of goods on the Civil Service set up?

★ ★ ★

The situation grows worse and it leaves everyone confused, confounded and befuddled. We think the whole matter has hit bottom.

★ ★ ★

Bring on the investigators. The sooner they come the better.

Let's have peace.

Let's have order.

Let's know who's who and what's what.

Right Half—ZYSK, M.S.U.
Fullback—MASTERS, S.M.U.

And now to justify the choices, here are their collegiate grades:

Nikkel—Straight A's
Orwig—B average
Ford—5 A's
Kernan—Top 5% of class
Johnson—B plus
Wetoska—B average
Seeman—5 A's
Flood—All A's but one
Oldham—A average
Zysk——All A's
Masters—All A's

My team would out-think all other teams, officials, spectators, some faculties and give the TV audience final answers between halves. We wouldn't need the Encyclopedia or cards with answers that the quiz masters can't pronounce or understand.

I especially regret leaving off Al Kwitnieski. He's from Michigan Tech and he knocked out five A's his first semester, but he slipped to a B in one subject. Richard Dupree of Oklahoma State is a first substitute guard as he had four A's, but Ford of Arkansas got the nod as Ford had five. I regret leaving Frank Ripel of Penn State off as he had straight A's, but I picked a Michigan State boy who did as well. That's the homing instinct.

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Several asked about the handsome Negro Master of Introductions at the Pontiac Motor reception. That's "MAC" MACCALL, one of "CHICK" BANG's boys at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club. "HUD" POWERS was especially happy with his work . . . . . Overheard at the City Club: "That gal hasn't much upstairs, but what a stairway!" . . . . . The younger generation may not know it, but Bob Oliver's younger brother, Russ, can give Bob about four strokes on each nine. And Bob's no push-over. Did you know that CARLETON PATTERSON and Dr. HAROLD A. FURLONG are expert riders? . . . . . One of my favorite people on all counts: Mrs. JEAN WILSON HARGREAVES, daughter of the Secretary of Defense. She just plain "has it" . . . . . LOUIS J. COLUMBO, JR., well known Detroit attorney who lives in Bloomfield Hills, says our editorial last Saturday on County Government and Judge MOORE was exactly correct. The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

Father Damien gave up his life to serve the leper colony on the island of Molokai in the Hawaiian islands. He contracted the disease, spoke only in a whisper, retained partial vision in one eye only. Yet as death neared he acted on faith, fed his pigeons, made toys for leper children, built furniture, and was architect and carpenter for a new church.

Celebrate Deliverance of Slaves

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In the early part of the eighth century the Moors, or Moroccans, who were Moslems, conquered and overran Spain and it took over 600 years to get them out again.

A lot can happen in that time. One of the worst things the invaders did, from the point of view of their victims at least, was to carry a great many of the Spanish people off to Morocco.

The Spaniards, of course, were Christians. Those willing to renounce their Christianity and become Moslems were still kept in exile, but as free men. Those who refused to desert their faith were kept as slaves.

The slaves' only hope was that their families, back in Spain, would put up the ransom to buy their freedom, but most of their families did not have and could not raise so much money.

Tuesday, the Feast of Our Lady of Ransom, celebrates the fact that the Blessed Virgin Mary did something about this unhappy situation. In 1218 she appeared to Peter (now St. Peter) Nolasco and instructed him to start the Order of Our Lady of Mercy, whose purpose was to ransom the Spanish slaves.

Immediately the Order set about its task, not only raising all the money they could but also adding to the usual monastic vows of poverty, chastity and obedience, a promise to give themselves as hostages if they could not free the slaves any other way.

The original purpose of Mary's appearance has, of course, long since been fulfilled, but today Christians still remember it and appeal to her for a larger kind of deliverance: Freedom from the slavery of sin and error.

JEWISH NEW YEAR

Thursday is the first day of the Jewish month of Tishri and therefore the first day of the New Year, "Rosh Hashana." It was on this day 5,718 years ago, according to Jewish belief, that all creation began.

Leviticus, chapter 23, verses 24 and 25, tells how God established this observance by an order He gave through Moses. The principal ceremonial features, by divine command, were a burnt offering and the blowing of horns, of which now, of course, only the horn-blowing remains. The Orthodox Jews use the traditional ram's horn called "shofar," just as it was used from earliest times. The Reformed have adopted brass trumpets.

Rosh Hashana begins a ten-day period known to all Jews as the High Holidays. The last of these ten days is Yom Kippur, the greatest of all. The two days, Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur, are called Days of Awe. They differ from all other Jewish days in the depth of their solemnity and in fact that they alone of all days are not related either to the cycle of nature or to any event in Jewish history.

At this profoundly serious time of year every Jew, no matter how far he may have drifted out of his traditional religious pattern, feels the pull of the ancient community upon him. Most backsliders return to the stream of Jewish life at least for this ten-day period. Business is suspended and temples and synagogues are thronged.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Won't Get Iodin Ration by Breathing Sea Air

"Many people living close to the ocean say we get enough iodin in the sea air. For this reason, they say no one here needs any more iodin than one gets in the air." (M.L.P.)

DR. BRADY

Answer — I live five miles from the ocean, but I still need a daily ration of iodin. I know of no evidence that one can get iodin in sea air. People living near the ocean probably get their iodin from sea fish and shell fish in their diet.

"Doctors can't find out why my hearing less worsens, yet it does. Any literature on the subject?" (J.A.)

Answer — For pamphlet on "Deafness and Tinnitus" (head noises) send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"On your advice I took calacium tablets for a month and can't see that my leg cramps are any better." (R.W.H.)

Answer — In the pamphlet on "Adult Tetany" (for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope) you will see that I do not advise taking calcium tablets.

"My son is a pharmacist and he thinks your lessons are fine. He says there should be more doctors like you." (Mrs. A.L.)

Answer — I wonder whether he was just humoring his mother or whether none of my readers has tried to buy 25 cents worth of some ingredient to whip up a batch of fool proof home made cough medicine.

"Most of my friends are younger than I am but they don't know it because I keep in "fine fettle" by supplementing my diet with the essential vitamins and minerals as suggested in 'Young Folks and Old Folks.'" (Mrs. B.H.A.)

Answer — Thank you. If you notice any of your young friends aging too rapidly, tell him or her to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet.

"What can be done to protect people from the poisonous insecticides, such as DDT sprayed on fruits and vegetables to destroy the gypsy moth, for instance?" (Mrs. S.S.M.)

Answer — The best protection is careful washing of fruit or vegetable.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Asks Other Parents' Ideas on Teachers' Clothes Rule

As a parent and taxpayer in Rochester, I'd like to hear from other parents regarding the new rule teachers have made about the boys wearing blue jeans, leather jackets and engineering boots to school. They've been told they can't wear them.

Can someone tell me where in the laws of our country there is such a law that gives anyone the right to tell another person what he can or cannot wear, so long as he is clean and dressed decently? Can teachers refuse to let them go to school if they wear blue jeans, so long as it is a public school?

I always believed this is a free country and I could dress as I want, that it isn't anyone's business. If this is Russia instead of free America, are we to assume that comrade teacher will wear a tuxedo?

Has Question on School Bus

Having read your editorial, "Stop for School Buses," I think everyone should read and abide by it, but I'd like to know if I'm right or wrong about this.

I saw two school buses coming out of State Street from the high school loaded with our children, both making left turns onto Huron street against traffic coming across from Williams street.

Must they stop, the same as everyone else, allowing traffic to clear before making their turn? I'd like to know so I'll be able to drive correctly.

'Tigers Prove Inability Again'

The Tigers again prove they haven't even a faint resemblance to a farm system. They buy an outfielder "to strengthen the September dash" and he has a minor league average of .272. That means about .220 in the majors. The Tigers are hard put for talent.

Says Road Signs Block the View

Is there a law that prevents signs being erected too close to the street at an intersection? One such case is at Commerce and Union Lake Roads. The view from any direction is almost fully blocked unless you drive half way across the road. So many accidents happen at this intersection, it seems we could have them removed from the present location. A light would help, too.

Postal Clerks Disappointed

Eisenhower just sentenced the nation's postal clerks to another year in economic Siberia. This is the third time in four years he's done it. Clerks were particularly disillusioned and bitter over his contention the raise would be inflationary. Postal pay has been raised just once in six years, while the overall cost of living has climbed steadily. We are victims, not causes of inflation.

This pay raise bill is a modest one, and a large majority of both Houses felt the present postal service pay crisis to be so serious as to require immediate remedy.

Statements by the Administration and recent stories on pay legislation have mislead many people into thinking postal employes have already received several pay raises, while in realify every piece of legislation is reported on many times and often reported "passed" or "adopted" by committees or sub-committees without becoming law.

Postal clerks are human, and you can't expect him to put in a day's work for a half day's pay. The kind of good postal service people have come to expect is doomed unless something is done to remedy this steadily deteriorating situation.

Writes of Beauty of Northern Lights

The most beautiful, strange and mystifying sights we can witness are from Nature herself. I wonder how many people took time to view the intense and magnificent display of Northern lights recently. Case Records of a Psychologist:

Solves Her Problems by Dieting

Nina's case shows the tragedy in the lives of children when they become laughing stock because of excess fat. It isn't just middleaged folks who need to streamline their figures. You can transform entire personalities by helping people like Nina. So become missionaries for practical psychology and help your companions instead of ridiculing them.

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-396: Nina S., aged 15, is a high school sophomore.

Dr. Crane, Nina is such a serious problem that I wonder if you'd talk to her a few minutes before your address to the student body?" her principal asked.

DR. CRANE

"She has a remarkably high I.Q. but she is so fat her classmates make fun of her.

"Her parents are unduly fond of spaghetti and other starchy foods, so that may help explain her obesity. Would you mind seeing her for a moment?"

NINA'S NIGHTMARE

And Nina soon burst out with her sad story, for she weighed 164, yet was only 5' 3" tall.

"Dr. Crane, life is just a nightmare to me," she began. "I feel so unhappy that I wish I were dead.

"And the unhappier I grow, the more I eat. If only you could show me how to be slender and attractive, like other girls;"

Well, sometimes thyroid extract and other drugs are helpful in reducing obese folks who are fat for glandular reasons.

But you can't put on fat, regardless of your glands, unless you eat too much.

So I urged Nina to start on that rigid 10-day diet mentioned yesterday.

"Ask your mother to change your family dinner plan," I suggested. "Place the food on the plates in the kitchen. Don't have extra dishes of food in the center of the table to tempt you.

"For experiments show that we tend to gauge our appetite according to the amount of food before us.

★ ★ ★

"If the table is thus loaded with viands, we eat far more. So stop the temptation."

HOW TO DIET

Also, emphasize protein foods like meat and cottage cheese. And don't try to appease a meat hunger by gorging on starches or candy and other fattening substitutes.

★ ★ ★

In my own case, for example, I grow hungry for protein. But if I don't find any meat in the refrigerator, then I foolishly try to appease that meat-hunger by eating things which I really don't crave.

Perhaps 300 calories in protein would have made me quite content. Instead, I may take 600 calories of starches and sugary foods, yet still not be content, for that protein craving is still unsatisfied.

In dieting, therefore, be sure to stress protein. Your body has plenty of stored sugar and fat. But we need fresh protein in our menu every day.

In Nina's case, I also urged her to strip all edible temptations from every room except the kitchen.

That meant having no candy or fruit or popcorn or any other tidbits lying around.

Frustrated and unhappy people will keep nibbling at such things just as a nervous outlet, as smokers reach for a cigaret.

★ ★ ★

They usually aren't hungry but just want to be doing something with their hands, so they reach for candy or fruit and soft drinks.

Since caffeine stimualites hunger, go slow on such beverages while dieting. And regular exercise for teen-agers is desirable, so I prescribe swimming and tennis for Nina.

Later, when I had returned to Chicago, I mailed her the "Diet Chart" which shows how to lose 10 lbs. in 10 days. If you wish a copy, send a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Nina lost 11 pounds in the first 10 days. Within five months she was down to a normal weight and was rated tops as "date bait" by her male classmates.

★ ★ ★

Fatties, don't surrender to gloom, for you can make yourself what you want to be if you get the proper plan and then follow it diligently. Nina proved it.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Servant Admits Killing Actress

Houseboy Tells About Slaying Ginger Mitchell of Silent Movies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Detectives say a 37-year-old houseboy has sobbingly admitted the strangulation of a silent movie heroine with this troubled reflection:

"I've seen her face on every wall."

★ ★ ★

Detective Lt. Herman Zander said Sonnie Hartford Jr. told him last night that he choked 63-year-old Ginger Mitchell to death last Sunday after going to her apartment to repay a $30 loan.

Miss Mitchell, onetime leading lady of William S. Hart and Tom Mix, was found dead in the apartment Monday.

Hartford, Zander said, related that the actress took offense at a "complimentary" remark he made as he was leaving the apartment Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know why I did it; she has always been nice to me," police quoted Hartford.

The houseboy has been in custody since Monday, booked on suspicion of murder. His story, as quoted by police, related that he grabbed her by the neck and choked her until she fell limp in his arms.

Officers sain Hartford told them he later went to his apartment and then to a night poker game with friends.

★ ★ ★

Anna Q. Nilsson and May Mcavoy, silent screen stars and friends of the slain woman, said Miss Mitchell had played bit roles in movies up until four or five years ago. She was managing the apartment house in which she lived.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Crown Prince, 54, on Throne

New King Rules Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Norway's new king is a statesman, soldier and sportsman bearing the ancient Norse name of Olav.

The 54-year-old crown prince ascended to the throne by law upon the death early today of his father, King Haakon VII.

★ ★ ★

After a lifetime of preparation, Olav took over most of the duties of the monarch in 1955 when Haakon fell and broke his leg. Olav then became regent of the realm.

The chunky, ruddy-faced new monarch will reign as Olav V. He is the sixth Olav to be king of Norway, but one of the earlier five has been dropped from the official line of kings because he was a child who reigned with two brothers.

★ ★ ★

Olav V is expected to conduct his constitutional office in much the same way as his father did. Both have been known for their easy democratic manner.

Olav's cheerfulness and his love of sports might have given him the reputation of being merely a playboy prince if war and heavy responsibility had not proved him into a tough, skillful leader.

★ ★ ★

Although born in England, July 2, 1903, and the grandson of Danish and English kings, Olav is every inch a Norwegian. His life has been one of continuous study for his future post as king.

After attending school with commoners in Norway, he went to Balliol College at England's Oxford University to study economics, political science and political economy. Then he was graduated as number four man in his class at the Norwegian war college.

When he was 18 he began to sit in on cabinet meetings at the royal palace. Later he presided in his father's absence.

Olav's greatest test was World War II, which forced him to put aside his zest for yachting to help forge a fighting force of free Norwegians. A full general when Norway was overrun by the Nazis, he worked hard to build a Norwegian army in exile. In 1944 he became commander in chief of his country's armed forces.

Five days after Hitler's downfall he returned to Norway at the head of the army. He was the first member of the royal family to come back to his homeland.

★ ★ ★

His wife, the former Princess Maretha of Sweden, died in 1954 following a serious liver ailment. Their three children — Crown Prince Harald, Princess Ragnhild and Princess Astrid—were educated with commoners.

Official Has Dim View On Hawaii Statehood

HONOLULU (AP) — Territorial Sen. William H. Hill says he is getting pessimistic about Hawaii's chance for statehood.

"It seems statehood is always around the corner, then there is another corner, and there are so many that they are soon rounded off and now we're going in circles," he told an audience.

Death on Ride Brings Civil Suit

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — A $626,000 damage suit in the death of a young Detroit man on a Jefferson Beach amusement park ride has been filed in Macomb County Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

The suit charges that Leon Johnson, 22, was killed Aug. 18, 1956, in reckless and negligent operation of a so-called "Boomerang" ride at the park in suburban St. Clair Shores.

The dead man's father, Earl Johnson, charges the operator failed to heed cries of the son and a companion because he "was engrossed in reading a book from the time the ride started."

Cardinal Poses 2-Sided Problem

Mindszenty Is Sheltered by U.S. at Legation; Leaving Means Arrest

BUDAPEST (AP)—Across the square from Budapest's Marx-Lenin Institute, behind the green blinds of the U.S. legation, Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty poses a problem for both the American government and Hungary's Communist regime.

★ ★ ★

For almost a year he has not left the island of U.S. soil in the heart of Budapest. The communists have made it clear that if he does they will arrest him at the door.

The 65-year-old churchman lives in a comfortable three-room apartment designed for the U.S. Minister to Hungary.

Visitors to the legation's fourth floor, where the diplomats have their offices, sometimes catch a glimpse of a slightly bent figure in a black cassock and red skull cap. Sometimes he will nod and smile politely to a visitor he recognizes, but he does not speak. Officially he is incommunicado.

His only companions are half a dozen U.S. diplomats who take turns accompanying him on daily walks in a gloomy paved courtyard.

State Department policy is to say as little about the cardinal as possible and to permit no interviews. From what can be learned unofficially, he spends most of his time reading and writing.

Every Sunday the cardinal dons his vestments and says Mass in his office-sitting room for a few Catholic employes of the legation.

★ ★ ★

Little has been allowed to leak out of what the cardinal thinks of affairs in Hungary and the world now. It is extremely rare for a non-American to be granted refuge in a U.S. legation and the Hungarian Communists are able to cite American rule books to show that it is technically a violation of American diplomatic practice to have him there at all. Anything they could interpret as political activity on his part would make the situation worse, from the legation's viewpoint.

He was admitted to the building on direct orders from Washington Nov. 4, 1956, with dozens of others seeking safety — mostly Americans. Russian tanks were rolling back into Budapest to crush the revolt. He risked arrest by the Russians or their Hungarian Communist allies, who consider him to be under sentence of life imprisonment.

It is believed on good authority that the cardinal does not want to leave Hungary. While he remains in Budapest he is a symbol of Catholic resistance to the Communist rulers.

Dulles' U. N. Speech Denounced in Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles' U.N. speech has aroused angry official reaction in Syria. But indications today were that Syria and the Soviet Union are proceeding with extreme caution to prevent the situation from growing to a dangerous crisis.

★ ★ ★

Premier Sabri Assali and Foreign Minister Salah Bitar denounced Dulles' statement as a new indication of hostile U.S. intentions toward Arab countries.

(In a speech to the U.N. General Assembly Thursday Dulles called on the U.N. to intervene in the Middle East, saying Soviet arms in Syria raised military dangers).

Bitar, before taking off for New York to head the Syrian U.N. delegation, demanded to know where was the great Syrian arms buildup of which Dulles spoke.

★ ★ ★

The Syrian arms buildup appears to be a long way from being big enough to permit this country to launch any offensive action in any direction. Though soldiers are much in evidence here, much of their equipment still is of prewar vintage, and Syria seems to have a long way to go before replacement is complete.

★ ★ ★

Commenting on Dulles' statement, Premier Assali told the Socialist newspaper Alrai Alaam the Syrian cabinet would study the speech. He said the speech contained "disturbing intentions" and differed from previous ones in which Dulles "tried to pretend he was retracting his charges against Syria."

"This new speech is the peak of a campaign of distortion against Syria and a campaign of threats against this country," Assali continued. "However, whatever the United States' intentions might be, Syria is fully determined to defend her freedom and independence under all circumstances."

★ ★ ★

The real aim of the United States, Bitar charged, is to keep the Arab world divided.

German Tongue Staging Comeback in Minnesota

Auction Bass Cattle Oct. 8 Near Lapeer

METAMORA — The well kown Angus herd of George Bass will be auctioned off Oct. 8, in what will be one of the biggest cattle sales ever held in Lapeer County.

The sales, at the Bass farm on Baldwin road, previously was reported erroneously to The Pontiac Press for Oct. 3.

★ ★ ★

The herd consists of 330 head of purebred cattle, selected for breeding, and includes some of America's top Angus. Three auctioneers will handle the sale.

Bass is disposing of the cattle at the advice of his doctors, who have urged him to reduce his activities.

GETTING TO BE A HABIT — Eleven-year-old Maureen Lyons of the Bronx, New York, holds the $970 in bills she found in a trash can at school three months ago. The money was turned over to her by Police Property Clerk Thomas Rosetti, left, when it remained unclaimed. It was the third time Maureen had found money. The first time it was a $5 bill found in a subway station near her home. Next it was a $10 bill in an envelope found in a school corridor. That time the boy who lost it was identified and the money was returned to him.

Polly's Not a Parrot About Helen Morgan

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Polly Bergen dropped the H-Bomb right there in her bedroom on Fifth Avenue while I sat talking to her.

WILSON

I'd been asking about her new TV show that seems to have resulted from her "Helen Morgan Story" TV job—and about her "Morgan Sings" album.

Wasn't it sweet that now she'd be Helen Morgan forever?

"No," suddenly said the fearlessly iconoclastic gal from Circleville, O., also Ted Lewis' home town. "I don't believe people would accept Morgan today."

I naturally thought she meant Henry Morgan.

"I've talked to people who knew her well," Polly told me, "and they've said, 'You sing exactly like her.' Well, I don't sing a bit like her!

"She didn't have any great voice like they say now.

"She was a great actress."

I sat back and stared. Was it possible that all the people who've been telling me what a great singer Helen Morgan was, were drunk when they heard her? Frankly, I'd suspected it. But I asked Polly if she wouldn't bear the Helen Morgan stamp on TV and the rest of her life because Helen Morgan was such a big name.

"Morgan wasn't such a name," Polly flung back.

"She was more a speakeasy name. We made her a name.

"By we," she hurried to explain, "I mean not just the TV show and the album, but the picture with Ann Blythe, too, and the whole controversy."

"But everybody says . . ." I sort of stammered.

POLLY BERGEN

"How many people really know?" Polly asked. "It was 1931 that she last sang in a New York show. I was born in 1930, but in there"—she nodded toward the living room—"I have all her records. Just as I've looked at all her films."

"You see," continued the idol-shatterer, "Morgan wasn't a low, husky singer. She was a high soprano like other girl singers were then.

★ ★ ★

"She was the only singer of her kind. Everybody was gay and happy, but she sang what was down underneath. When the depression came, they wanted happy songs — and she stopped being famous. She didn't have what we would accept today as a good voice. It was the style!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

The Sugar Ray-Joe Glaser palship was busted up for the usual reason: money. Mike Todd sent 24 bouquets to June Havoc for appearing at a benefit he was running . . . The N.Y.C. scenes for "Marjorie Morningstar" were filmed at the White House on Central Park West, where Phil Silvers lives.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's a movie star who's doing so well he bought his wife a foreign-make shopping cart. That's earl, brother.

Confident Living

Chiang Bears Calm Smile of Man at Peace With God

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

PEALE

Faces, fascinating, sometimes haunting faces. To me that is the most impressive sight in the Far East. I am writing these lines in Taipei, capital of Formosa. Behind me are the teeming cities of Japan, the Philippines, and Hong Kong. Glorious mountain vistas, singing sun-splashed streams, quaint farms, and rice paddies; all the exotic, noisy, colorful streets of the Orient — these are printed indelibly in memory.

But it is the faces that really get me. To know the people of other lands is the real essence of travel. How charming the brown winsome faces of the children of Asia! Everywhere youngsters thronging the streets, darting in and out of swarming traffic, going for a holiday on the trains, romping on playgrounds, crowding around you smiling shyly or giggling as youngsters will. They are very lovable and appealing, these children of the Orient. Their eager faces live with you.

But equally appealing are the faces of the very old. Perhaps there is some urban, philosophical quality in the Oriental mind that is often reflected in an aspect of wisdom and dignity on the countenance. Patience in suffering, acceptance of life's vicissitudes, the absence of expostulation with fate. All this one reads in many an unforgettable Chinese or Japanese face.

I have seen not a few refugee concentrations, both in the Middle East and Far East and all make a strong impact upon one's sympathies. But never in my experience have I sensed human need so keenly as among the massed refugees from Communist tyranny and suffering now crowding the Crown Colony of Hong Kong. Over 750,000 persons have escaped to freedom and 3,000 more come each week.

WILL TO FREEDOM

For a short period they were permitted to go back to Red China to visit their home and relatives. Two hundred thousand asked for permits, but when they thronged back across the border they numbered 230,000, a rather eloquent refutation, it seems, of the so-called humanitarianism and agrarian welfare of Communist China. From all I could see, the greatest blessing of all is freedom. Judging from Hong Kong, it's amazing what people will endure just to live as free man.

★ ★ ★

Here among the indescribable hubbub and thronging confusion of this refugee concentration I saw an unforgettable tableau of an old, old man and a little girl sitting on their heels as the Chinese do. The old man had the look of a scholar, doubtless a teacher who fled Red China. He could have passed for a carving of Confucius. The serene wisdom and patience of old China seemed written on his face. The fact that he was poorly dressed in the proverbial black smock and ragged pants and sandals did not detract from his natural dignity.

He seemed to be telling the little girl a story. Wide-eyed, she listened, occasionally breaking into an infectious laugh. They were lost in each other, the old and the young, and as I turned the corner I saw him gently stroke her black hair and a smile illuminated an aged face that an artist could immortalize. I went my way reflecting upon the greatness of human beings amidst suffering: the philosophy that understands and the love that sustains.

But among all the faces I have seen in the Orient, one made a lasting impression upon me so that I shall never forget it. I refer to the face of Chiang Kai-shek. I went to Formosa as the guest of President and Madame Chiang and had the opportunity of a close personal relationship. I write of the man, not from a political, but rather a personal standpoint, though I must add my own opinion that he is one of the great defenders of freedom in history.

CHIANG KAI-SHEK AT HOME

I sat with Chiang Kai-shek in his simply furnished home. Here are absolutely none of the trappings of high position. Many Americans live in more impressive houses and drive better cars. He dresses as an ordinary soldier with no insignia of rank, no medals or ribbons. He is quiet and friendly, his face lighted up with a smile of a man at peace with God and man. There is no tension about him, none of the assumed importance of the average politician, or so-called big executive. One feels in him a full emotional control and a settled attitude toward life. Yet, you are conscious of force, intelligence, and purpose. At seventy he is obviously in excellent health and his spare physique, though slight in appearance, is that of a vigorous man.

★ ★ ★

He allowed me to question him freely and my questions had to do with his manner of living and thinking. "Do you ever become discouraged?", I asked.

He smiled quietly. "No, never. That which goes wrong is due to my mistakes. Instead of becoming depressed I try to correct my errors."

"What is the secret of your serenity of spirit, your calmness and quiet peacefulness?" I asked.

"It comes from my habits of devotion," he replied. "Years ago I began reading the Bible every morning and having a period of prayer. But once a day was not enough, so now I have three periods of such reading and praying, at noon and in the evening as well as in the morning." He spent several hours each day during the war years translating the Bible into the Mandarin dialect. "That helped me to endure," he said quietly.

★ ★ ★

It is obvious that there is in the Generalissimo no hate, no resentment, no frustration. I found peace and goodness in him, and selflessness, too. I shall never forget the strong, peaceful face of Chiang Kai-shek, a truly remarkable man.

Rabbi Dedicates Chapel Tonight

Traditional Selichas Scheduled for Midnight in Synagogue

The new chapel at Congregation B'nai Israel will be dedicated at 10:30 tonight by Rabbi Israel Goodman. The chapel seating near 66 will be used for daily services at 7:30 a.m. and on Sunday morning at 9.

The main chapel which is much larger is used for Sabbath and High Holiday services.

Morris Kampner, program chairman, announces the following will speak at the dedication besides the rabbi, Charles Jacobs, president of the congregation; Milton Ressler, dedication chairman; Meyer Simon, cochairman of the building committee; Joseph Jacobson and Morris Blumeno.

The Sisterhood will serve refreshments after the Dedicatory Service.

The traditional "Selichos Service" will be held at midnight. This service of "forgiveness" inaugurates the mood of the Jewish New Year which begins Wednesday evening at sundown. At this time, all Jews will pray for world-wide peace.

Curiosity Will Keep You Young

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Almost everybody has a different definition of youth, what it is and how to maintain it. What makes some people young at 70 and others old at 40?

★ ★ ★

Well, as far as I'm concerned, it is a capacity for curiosity. If you can move through life asking questions, looking at things with wonderment, you're young at any age — and you'll look it and feel it!

A LOT YOUNGER

For example, one of my readers, in her late 60s, is a lot younger than many 30-year-old I know.

★ ★ ★

"Please tell me how to go about starting a second-hand dress shop," she writes.

"When I visited New York recently, I went to a couple of them and found them fascinating. I bought some nice things very cheap. I know our city could use such a shop and I'd like to start one.

"I have very little capital, but one of the New York proprietors I spoke to said it didn't take much. I have an extra room — a big one — and a basement, right in my home. Please give me some suggestions to get me started."

★ ★ ★

Most women in the late 60s would hesitate to open something new in their cities. In fact, they probably wouldn't think of it. But she visited a shop in New York, was curious enough to ask questions, and now may well make a good deal of money.

SOME POINTERS

Here are some pointers on such a project:

1. Find out about the zoning laws in your neighborhood to be sure you can legally have a business in your home and hang out a sign.

2. Think up a really attractive memorable name.

I know of one in New York called Encore, and another called The Dressing Room Shop. A cute name will add immeasureably to your success.

(For suggestions on how to think up cute names, there is an excellent book which I will tell you about if you'll send me a staped, self-addressed envelope.)

★ ★ ★

3. Contact the wealthy women in your city and see if they would like to sell their used gowns. Only the really wealthy as a rule have things that they discard while still usable. (The rest of us usually wear them to the bones!) Arrange a commission basis after you've sold their things and get them to leave that to you.

GOOD CLEANER

4. Arrange with a good cleaner to give you a wholesale rate for cleaning. The mending you'll probably have to do yourself.

★ ★ ★

5. Advertise in your newspaper. Tell the women's clubs, especially the business women's club, of your project. After that, word of mouth will bring in the customers to you.

Wash Lingerie When Taking Shower, Bath

The girl who takes a shower or bath daily (or twice daily) and neglects to change her lingerie daily is kidding herself.

Soiled lingerie next to a clean skin doesn't make sense. It's a wise idea to make a regular habit of putting girdle, bra and slip into a basin of soapy water as you step into the shower.

Finish sudsing the lingerie when you step onto the bath mat.

Just a few minutes' soaking period is enough for most lingerie. Roll it in a towel, hang it to dry and it's ready when you need it.

Incidentally, lingerie that's washed after each wearing will last longer and give you better service than lingerie whose fibers are weakened by dirt.

Money Gift Is Out

A teenager wants to know if it would be all right to give a birthday party for another teenager and ask all the guests to bring one dollar instead of a gift. No, it wouldn't. That sounds more like inviting guests to a benefit than to a birthday party.

Unpopular Styles Fade

Paris Awaits Verdict of American Women

PARIS (AP) — Now that the wraps are off Paris fall fashions, members of the haute couture are awaiting anxiously to see which of them the public will approve.

Slack waist, low waist, tight waist? Knee-length skirt or mid-calf skirt? Now you can make your choice, and be sure that the fashion czars will be moved by it. For however dictatorially some new trends may be launched, the stylist do heed public opinion.

★ ★ ★

What you like best from this season's shapes are sure to reappear in next February's openings, while the trends you and all your friends simply detest are likely to wither quietly away.

TRIAL BALLOONS

You don't believe it? Well, Dior launched nearly ankle-length day skirts as a trial balloon two seasons ago, made many more of the last season, and dropped them like a hot potato this time after they failed to catch on.

The big issue this season is undoubtedly the slack waisted sack sheath. At the openings, some women declared that they adore them and swore to adopt them; others gritted their teeth and hissed, "Never!"

But already some are to be seen in the smart hotel lobbies and restaurants of Paris, and even strolling down the Champs Elysees. Not many, but enough to indicate that the dressmakers have turned up a controversial trend in the sack sheaths.

★ ★ ★

Few women, we'll bet, will wear necklines as low as Dior pitches them for cocktail and evening. And surely Pierre Cardin's drapery between the legs is only for the do-or-die exhibitionists. The hobble hems that were shown nearly everywhere are not wearable or comfortable enough to be a universal success, although they've had fad runs before and no doubt will have again.

★ ★ ★

All of Paris, from Patou to Lanvin and Heim to Balmain, likes satin bows, more or less in profusion, and some women will welcome their soft flattery. But others hate bows worse than a run in the stocking, and when they order or copy one of the new creations they're sure to strip off the gingerbread.

PERENNIAL BLACK

The couturier's prediction for black this season will probably go down better in Paris than elsewhere, for it's the color French women dote on anyway. According to popular magazine surveys, a little black suit is everybody's dream of chic. For rebels against sobriety, there is a range of blues, coral, pink, red, green and gold — colorful enough for the gayest.

★ ★ ★

Maybe a rather bad summer has made the dressmakers pessimistic — or maybe they're just pushing fur. Anyway, they seem to be predicting a freezing winter with their big fur-lined and fur-trimmed greatcoats and thick tweed suits.

And they've given in gracefully, without much of a struggle, to the fact that big hats are a blight. Just see how small the new models are.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shorey, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ross and the James Barlings will have a dinner party before the dance.

Historical Unit Names Board

Restoration reports were heard.

Former Congressman George A. Dondero told several interesting stories about Gov. Wisner.

Silver Is Top Style in Season of Gray

Silver becomes a new fashion in this season of smart grays. In Italian "brush" textures and in blackened antique finishes, handsome silver bangles, pins, and earrings provide the perfect jewel accent to the casual elegance of flannel, or emphasize the whitened look of the new tweeds. Pale winter-blue gemstones look newest in their elaborate mountings of antiqued silver rope.

Phone Before 9

Teenagers who telephone other teenagers after nine in the evening are not being very thoughtful. In many families some member, either a younger child or an older person, retire early. And telephone calls can be disturbing.

Avoid Solid Line on the Brows

Eye Makeup Must Be Used Subtly

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As my readers know, I believe that far too few women use eye makeup and that the reason most of them fail to do so is because they have seen such horrible examples of brash application. This cosmetic must be subtly applied.

Today I would like to give you a few more hints about this.

★ ★ ★

First of all and above all, avoid a dark hard line on the brows. If you need to fill in a bit or to extend your brows, do so with light, feathery strokes, not a solid line. This is most unbecoming and is blatantly artificial in appearance.

Another hint: Have your pencil VERY sharp.

You all know how to apply mascara except for a few little tricks. Do NOT have the brush too wet.

Also be certain that your eyelash brush is entirely clean before each application. In fact it should be cleaned after each one. If the bristles are not separated, if they are glued partially together, you cannot expect happy results.

If you will remove your mascara before going to sleep each night, this cosmetic will not break your lashes. If you leave it on all night, you may discover a few broken tips in the morning.

If your mascara is waterproof, you should use cream to remove it. If it is the regular sort, you can use a water-dunked cloth, or a small, wet piece of cotton over and over again until all trace is gone. Then use cream on the lashes from base to tip.

Remember that lashes which curl appear to be longer. You may want to use one of the little eyelash curlers if your lashes are short.

It is a good idea to apply olive oil to the lashes each night to keep them soft and silky. If you will massage this into the lid at the base of the lashes, you may find that the stimulation promotes their growth.

If you would like to have my leaflet about makeup send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Mr. Mort Junior Styles Flatter Youthful Figures

Mr. Mort's junior fashions are junior only in their carefully proportioned measurements, for their styling is right up there with the majors.

Making the most of young figures, he shapes the body of this dress with mid-section darting, uses a contrast trim to simulate the effect of a shrug jacket. The neat, tailored collar, split front and back, turns down over a stand-up mandarin-like band.

Choose lightweight wool, dress tweed, shantung, novelty cottons, or any of the new rayons and mixtures. For detail, grosgrain ribbon, satin, faille, taffeta, pique or linen is suggested. From this chart, select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
7	32½	22½	33½	15⅝
9	33½	23½	34½	16
11	34½	24½	35½	16⅛
13	36	26	37	16⅛
15	37½	27½	38½	16⅜

Size 13 requires 2¼ yards of 54-inch material for dress and three-eighths yard of 36-inch material for contrast.

To order Pattern 1323, state size, send $1. For new jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents. For airmail service in U. S., add 25 cents per pattern, 50 cents per booklet. Sales tax extra.

Address Spadea, The Pontiac Press, Box 535, G. P. O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y.

If paid by check, bank requires four cents handling charge.

Questions and Answers

Medical Doctors Not Covered by Law

By RAY HENRY

From O. T. of Mitchell, S. D.: "I've been farming by myself for over 30 years, but I'm going to have to hire some help. I plan to hire one full-time man. Naturally, I want to abide by the law. What will I have to do in taking care of Social Security for this man?"

You'll have to file an annual return to the Internal Revenue Service each January showing the annual wages paid to your employe during the preceding year. You can get complete information and the necessary form from any Internal Revenue office.

★ ★ ★

From D. A. G. of Newark, N. J.: "Would you please settle an argument. A friend contends that medical doctors were brought under the Social Security law last year. I believe your column said they were still not covered. Who's right?"

You are. Physicians are still not covered, but other types of doctors were brought in last year — including dentists, osteopaths, optometrists, veterinarians and chiropractors.

From N. E. of San Pedro, Calif.: "In 1947, my husband died. Our son, who was 15, made it possible for me to draw Social Security as a survivor. At 16, he started to work and earned more than the allowed amount. At the time we didn't know about the limit and he drew the payments until he was 18. I did not realize we'd made a mistake until shortly after he quit getting the money. I told the Social Security people. They told me I'd have to pay the money back. I've been doing it little by little. I'm now nearly 62. Can I apply for my widow's payments or will I have to finish paying back what I owe first?"

You should apply. The payments you're entitled to get now can be applied against your debt. When the debt has been fully paid, you'll then start drawing your monthly payments.

★ ★ ★

From J. G. of Washington, D.C.: "At what point should a person receiving Social Security tell his Social Security office if he's going to go over the allowable income limits?"

If at any time during the year a person working for wages of more than $80 a month expects his total earnings for the year to be more than $1,200 he should report it to the local Social Security office.

★ ★ ★

From L. P. S. of Minot, N. D.: "My son recently bought a gas station. He's asked me to work for him for awhile until he gets in better shape financially. I retired from my regular job about two years ago. If I go to work for him will he have to pay Social Security tax for me and will I be covered by the Social Security law?"

Work of a parent for his son or daughter is not covered by the Social Security. Thus, your son won't have to pay Social Security tax on your wages.

★ ★ ★

From B. C. of Phoenix, Ariz.: "I've been drawing Social Security payments for three years. My payments are $66 a month. It there any way that I can draw more? I need more badly."

Unless you have had additional earnings on jobs or self-employment covered by Social Security since you started to receive payments, your present payments can't be increased. If you have, check with your Social Security office.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

MICHIGAN FLAG PRESENTED — Miss Janice Antona is shown with the Michigan state flag which she presented this week to the National Conference on Citizenship, in Washington the past week. Start Improvements Soon at City's Municipal Airport

After a six weeks delay, the 1957 improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport is expected to get under way shortly, according to Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

The top priority in the four-stage program will go to the installation of lights on the year-old 4,000-foot east-west runway. "The large corporation aircraft are handicapped in that they can't use the runway at night," Hoskins said.

The $223,000 federal-aided program has been slow in starting, as airport officials have been negotiating with State Conservation Department officials to get 1,000 by 1,700-foot clearance in the Pontiac Recreation Area. This is needed, Hoskins said, at the western approach to the large runway.

Other plans are for lighting the taxi way paralleling the 4,000-foot runway, building two additional taxi strips, removing trees and power lines on Williams Lake road and installing 3½ miles of fence around the northern and western boundaries of the field.

One new taxi strip will be 1,000 feet long and 40 feet wide and will be located in the central part of the field to be used for outgoing traffic.

"We are having so much traffic here we have to restrict the strips to one-way traffic," Hoskins commented.

The present strip, he said, would be used for incoming flights.

★ ★ ★

The planned 40 by 1,200-foot other strip will be located in the northwest portion of the airport to serve the many T hangars there.

The removal of obstructions at the western side of the field will mean safer approach clearance to the 4,000-foot runway, the manager explained.

What part of the 1957 program is not completed before cold weather arrives will be placed on next year's plans, he said.

★ ★ ★

Hoskins said talks were still continuing with state officials on the requested easement. The city asks that no high structures or developments to draw large crowds be placed in the 1,000 by 1,700-foot area.

No New Cases of Asian Flu Found in State

LANSING (AP) — The State Health Department reports that no confirmed new cases of Asian flu turned up in the past week, but said that unusual absenteeism in three county school systems is being investigated.

★ ★ ★

Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of disease control, said Asian flu is suspected in the absenteeism, and laboratory tests will be made on specimens from some of the affected children.

Leeder said unusual numbers of children were out of elementary schools in Saginaw and St. Clair counties. Absenteeism was reported spotty in Wayne County, he said.

Thus far, 14 cases of Asian flu have been confirmed in the state through laboratory tests made after a group of migrant workers became ill and a number of children were taken sick at a boys camp.

All told, Leeder said, probably 60 illnesses could be attributed to the disease in the two instances, including persons on whom no clinical tests were made.

As far as is known, there were no severe cases.

Mating of Minks Forces Workers to Tread Softly

CHICAGO (AP) — Quiet-loving minks apparently will force construction workers building part of Illinois' 445 million dollar tollway to tip-toe during the mink mating season Feb. 1 to April 1.

★ ★ ★

A Lake County mink farmer has served notice he'll demand $130,000 damages if construction noises disrupts mink mating.

George McGurn, tollway counsel, said yesterday, he and the farmer agreed on a zone of quiet during the crucial period. Road builders will be told to keep noise at a minimum.

Wyandotte Rips Outmanned Chiefs, 32-7

Bears Score 3 Touchdowns by Way of Aerials

Pontiac Defense Unable to Stop Ground-Airlane Attack of Dots

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It looks like a long lean season for the football team of Pontiac High School.

★ ★ ★

Wyandotte spoiled coach Jesse MacLeay's debut with the Chiefs last night by a resounding 32-7 triumph which saw PHS outmanned in weight, numbers and experience.

The Bears started an all-senior team sparked by the tremendous defensive play of center and linebacker Steve Stieler, tackle Joe Corollo and end Dick Karagitz.

Quarterback Jerry Noble took advantage of the weak PHS pass defensive unit by firing three touchdowns to end Ron Cornell on 25, 37 and 15 yard aerials.

★ ★ ★

Just after the opening kickoff, a bad pass from center on a punting down gave Wyandotte the ball on the PHS 12. In three plays big Dan Galeski, 195 pound fullback bulled over and Jeffrey added the point.

Pontiac got only six running plays in the first quarter, as the Dots dominated the action.

The best offensive effort for Pontiac came in the second quarter when the Chief's went 70 yards for the touchdown, climaxed by Jim Keller's 23-yard sweep around end. Two fumbles in the series accounted for gains of eight and 10 yards.

★ ★ ★

Four of the six total first downs came in this drive which saw Keller make several good gains. Keller added the point on a plunge to tie the score 7-7.

Jack Donaldson then took the kickoff and nearly broke away after 37 yards, but end John Phlegm, the last man in his path, nailed him. Donaldson almost did it again later when he took the second half kickoff and went 35 yards before the last man, Jim Pritchett, caught him.

Only 1:14 was gone in the second half when Wyandotte scored. Galeski broke over the middle and went 60 yards to the two, and he then rammed over for his second TD as Jeffrey added the point.

★ ★ ★

The third touchdown come after a Chief fumble when a pass from Noble bounced off the hands of defender Harrison Munson into Cornell's waiting arms. It covered 25 yards, the last seven by Cornell's dash. The score read 20-7 after three quarters.

Another fumble gave the Bears possession when Corrollo recovered at midfield. Two plays later Noble hit Cornell again all alone on the sidelines for the 37 yard aerial play. It was then 26-7.

Stieler made it miserable for the Chiefs by shooting through center to nail Dick Whitmer several times. In fact just after the ensuing kickoff Stieler shot over the middle and stole the ball on the Pontiac 36 from where Noble's third TD pass was set up for Cornell a moment later.

★ ★ ★

The Dots found it easy going right down the middle with Galeski grinding out 113 yards and Dick Winn picking up 62.

"We are just too thin to send our boys both ways," said MacLeay. "We tried everyone we had to clog up the middle but it was no use, they had size and power."

Pontiac showed good speed in the backfield but the backs could not shake loose as PHS blockers were unable to move the big Dots swarming through.

Next week the Chiefs travel to Lansing Sexton, before meeting three straight home foes.

Oak Park Falls, 26-6

Oak Park went down to its first defeat of the season by losing a 26-6 verdict to Garden City despite the running of Ray Kovochevich who gained 150 yards on the ground. The 150 pound halfback gave Oak Park a short lead by going 70 yards in the first quarter.

Dondero 26-0 Teacher; Vikings Trim Union

Skippers Get Grid Lesson

By BILL CORNWELL

If stiff competition helps toughen up a football team, Waterford coach Dave Freeman should have a bunch of real "he-men" today.

The Skippers met Royal Oak Dondero last night in the 1957 season opener and found the burly Oaks more than they could handle.

Boasting a big, rugged line and a hard-running corps of backs, Dondero taught Waterford a sound gridiron lesson under the lights at Waterford stadium. The score was 26-0.

While the Skippers were having their troubles with Dondero, Walled Lake was getting off on the right foot by trimming Redford Union 26-12. Southfield was held to a surprising 7-7 tie by stubborn Royal Oak Kimball.

The Skippers showed occasional flashes of ability yesterday and served notice that they will be a rough customer this fall in the Inter-Lakes Conference. But they were still no match for the Oaks.

Dondero hit pay-dirt once through the air and let a pulverizing ground game do the rest. The Oaks built up a 19-0 cushion at halftime and just coasted through the final two quarters.

★ ★ ★

After muffing one golden scoring opportunity early in the 1st quarter, the Oaks struck like a bolt of lightning. Halfback Jack Ruddick gathered in John Keating's punt and scampered 77 yards down the sidelines for a touchdown. Guard Bill Knotts placekicked the extra point.

The Oaks scored twice in the 2nd period. Ruddick put his throwing arm to work and pitched a TD aerial covering 49 yards to halfback Gary Banks. Just before the half ended Banks climaxed a 40-yard drive with an 8-yard sweep around left end.

A pass interception late in the 4th quarter set up Dondero's last tally. The Oaks marched 35 yards in four plays with big Jim Sierns, 215-pound fullback, crashing over from one yard out. Knotts converted from placement.

Waterford's attack was so completely throttled that only two drives carried into Dondero territory. Dave Nelson reached the enemy 48 in the 1st period with a 30-yard sprint and the Skippers lost the ball on downs on the Oaks' 20 in the 4th.

Walled Lake had little difficulty with Union on the Redford field. The Vikings led at intermission 20-6.

Don Yeargan ran eight yards in the 1st quarter for Walled Lake's 1st touchdown. Dennis McClelland dashed 15 yards after intercepting a pass and Mike Wurst tallied from two yards out for 2nd period TDs. Jimmy Pierce bulled eight yards in the 3rd stanza for the final score. Don Proulx booted two extra points.

A 30-yard touchdown run by Tom Ridley and Bob Brown's conversion handed Southfield a 7-0 halftime lead, but an 18-yard TD aerial from Jerry Riutta to John Kennedy plus Dale Sparrow's accurate toe gave Kimball a tie at Royal Oak.

CAUGHT IN GRASP — Harrison Munson (15) intercepted a pass and went 28 yards before the big arms of Steve Stieler grabbed him around the shoulder pads to end the dash. Stieler was a nemesis throughout the game for PHS. The Dots won a 32-7 decision at Wisner Stadium.

SAD DEBUT — Pontiac's new head football coach Jesse MacLeay had an unhappy debut last night as Wyandotte walked off with a 32-7 victory before 4,000 fans in Wisner Stadium. Here he talks with quarterback Dick Whitmer.

All So. Central Teams Defeated

All South Central League teams lost yesterday in non-league competition.

★ ★ ★

Ortonville started the season off on a losing note by falling to Goodrich 31-13.

The Blackhawks scored first when Chuck Graves took a 40-yard pass from Pat McNulty. Graves added the point to make it 7-0.

Goodrich then added six in the first period, 19 in the second stanza and six more in the third period to ice the game.

★ ★ ★

Ortonville's last TD came in the 4th period when Gilbert Withey went 13 yards around end.

Imlay City could get no farther than the 40-yard line as the Spartans dropped a 19-0 decision to Marine City.

★ ★ ★

Marine City touchdowns were by Al Malcolm, 3 yards; Ken Coumber, 4 yards, and a 25-yard pass Arnold Recor to Fred Reynolds.

North Branch, also of the South Central League, fell to Marlette 12-6. Lone TD for North Branch came in the third period when quarterback Jim Nietzke sneaked over 1 yard.

★ ★ ★

Millington's defeat came at the hands of Vassar 25-0 with Mike Biele going 28 yards and passing 27 yards for two touchdowns.

Maples 19, Cranes 7

By CHUCK ABAIR

A steady ground attack led by rugged fullback Chuck Gibson and some pinpoint passing in key situations paved the way for a 19-7 Birmingham victory over Cranbrook in the traditional opener between the schools at Birmingham last night.

Gibson, a 220-pound converted tackle who failed to make the switch a year ago, looked like a veteran in the backfield piling up an average of better than six yards per carry.

The big senior did not take part in the scoring but had a hand in setting up all three touchdowns with his bull-like rushes through the line. He gained 109 of the Maples 217 yards rushing.

Two of the three Birmingham six-pointers resulted from passes although the Maples had only one other completion for the night in nine attempts as receivers were constantly dropping the wet ball.

★ ★ ★

End Jim Sechrist gave Birmingham a lead it never relinquished early in the 2nd period on the receiving end of a pass thrown by reserve Phil Russell that covered 42 yards.

★ ★ ★

Mark Hall and Ed Estes tallied the other Maple TDs. Hall went over from the 23 late in the 2nd stanza to produce a 13-0 lead at halftime. Estes reached paydirt in the final minute of play on a 7-yard aerial from Dave Ritchie. Bob Stephenson kicked the only successful extra point for the winners.

The outmanned Cranbrook eleven stayed right in the battle until the last quarter when the home team dominated play. Ossie Jacobsen garnered the only Crane touchdown on the play of the night with 3:50 remaining in the 3rd quarter when he galloped 47 yards after taking a pitchout. Larry Demrick's placement made it 13-7 at the time.

★ ★ ★

Some spirited Crane line play and occasional good runs kept things interesting until the Estes clincher.

The victory kept Birmingham Coach Carl Lemie's perfect record intact against Cranbrook. He now has won four straight over the neighboring Cranes since taking over the Maple reins.

East Detroit, a Birmingham rival in the Eastern Michigan League, whipped Van Dyke 18-0 in a non-league game as Ray Dries threw two touchdown passes. Another EML team, Ferndale, bowed to Berkley 19-6.

Milford, Barons Triumph

Clarkston Downs Oxford

By JERRY BARNFATHER

A crushing running attack and a magnificent defensive performance spelled the difference as Clarkston's Wolves spoiled Dick Figg's coaching debut at Oxford with a 13-0 triumph. The visitors struck for touchdowns in the 3rd and 4th periods in administering the defeat.

Milford tripped West Bloomfield 28-20 as Art Paddy also had his opening ruined and Bloomfield Hills, paced by big Jim Kearney, blanked Clarenceville 18-0 in Wayne-Oakland League games.

Scoring gestures were limited until early in the 2nd stanza, when Clarkston's Jim Jenson galloped 44 yards followed by a short drive to the 1 yard stripe where the Wolves fell shy.

Oxford found the Wolves threatening seconds later when Leroy Parks grabbed a kick-off following a safety and raced to the Wildcat's 10 yard line. Clarkston failed, once more, to penetrate the forward wall.

Chuck Slyter scored the initial touchdown early in the 3rd quarter by climaxing a drive of 45 yards with a 6 yard thrust off tackle. Jim Snower's plunge made the count 7-0.

★ ★ ★

Leroy Parks plucked Mike Lewis's aerial in the waning moments and climaxed the contest in the finale, racing 35 yards for paydirt. Ed Eaglen's conversion attempt was wide.

Oxford provided a promising preview of what may be expected later by sparkling brilliance of halfbacks Doug Chartrand and Jim McCullum.

Milford and West Bloomfield engaged in a real scoring duel. The Redskins scored twice in the first period, Pat Kelley went 10 yards for one, and a Kelley to Frank Redman pass tallied another.

John Lucadem went around end 18 yards after a drive of 50 yards to make it 14-7 at the half. Tom Bell made it 14-13 by going 12 yards in the third period.

Redman went 15 a minute later, and in the 4th quarter Redman scored his third TD on a 40 yard jaunt up the middle. With a minute left, Jim Ramsey scored W. Bloomfield's last tally. Anderson kicked four points for Milford and Ken Armstrong two for the Lakers.

Kearney helped Bloomfield Hills to a successful debut in the Wayne-Oakland League by picking up 117 yards himself from scrimmage plus two touchdowns.

★ ★ ★

He took the opening kickoff and ran 85 yards, and then he went 40 yards from scrimmage in the second quarter to make it 12-0 at the half.

After recovering a fumble on the seven, Chuck Mezey went five yards for the final Bloomfield score. Clarenceville pentrated to the Hills' five in the first period for the only threat.

Romeo Wins 6-0, Rochester Bows

Romeo got off to an impressive start downing Richmond 6-0 but Rochester ran into an experienced Davison aggregation and bowed 13-0 as the local entries in the new Tri-County League opened play in non-league contests last night.

The Bulldogs, slight favorites for loop honors, had to settle for the one touchdown victory despite numerous chances to score. Halfback Dave Proper scooted over from the three in the final quarter to cap a 60-yard march.

One other Romeo tally was nullified by a penalty as the visitors dominated the game led by the offensive play of Proper, Ray Rinke and Butch Dallwitz.

Rochester is rebuilding and had the misfortune of running into a team loaded with veterans on opening night. Coach Gene Konley was "pleased with the Falcons' showing" despite the setback.

The running of Dave Heck and passing of 145-pound "Peanuts" Montross were bright spots for the losers who trailed only 7-0 until the final quarter. Rochester's deepest penetration was the 12-yard line.

Speedy halfback Dick Smith went over for both Davison touchdowns.

One of the area thrillers of the night occurred at Caro where Lapeer, Class A entry in the Tri-County, pulled out a 7-6 verdict in the waning seconds of play.

The teams were locked in a scoreless tie until the final period when Caro broke the ice but missed the conversion. The deciding points followed the ensuing kickoff.

Quarterback Tom Hubbell passed 35 yards to Rochester transfer John Englert to set up the score. John McKillen went over from the five to tie the count with 10 seconds to play. He then added the important point after to clinch it.

Avon Routed, 50-7; Troy Wins

Lake Orion 11 Impressive

Coach Frank Crowell said that his Avondale football team was green and would make a lot of mistakes. So far he's right. Lake Orion was predicted to be strong this year. And so far that forecast is right.

Orion made its backers look good Friday night with a 41-13 walloping of Roseville in the Wildcat den. Avondale was almost driven from its own premises by Inkster Roosevelt, 50-7.

Clawson, defending Oakland B League champion, and Troy posted impressive wins yesterday, Fitzgerald scored a 6-0 upset over Utica and Madison squeaked by Royal Oak St. Mary, 7-0.

The Dragons raced to a 34-7 halftime lead over Roseville and loafed through the 2nd half. Halfback John Schoff turned in the game's most sensational play when he returned a kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown.

Jim Drake tallied three times, once on a 40-yard gallop and twice on passes from Nick Niera. Doug Storey and Larry Kelly also hit pay-dirt for Orion and Jack Schaeffer, Jim Recknagel, Storey and Niera added extra points.

★ ★ ★

Inkster led Avon at intermission, 32-0, and broke fleet-footed runners loose from all points of the field. Perry Robinson made four touchdowns, one an 81-yard jaunt, and Bill Wintersteen crossed the goal twice.

The Jackets scored their only TD in the 4th quarter on a five-yard run by Duane Lau. Jerry Hill kicked the extra point.

John Volk and Dave Rehse each scored two touchdowns as Clawson's bone - crunching power crushed Center Line, 28-0. Troy's Wayne Figley chalked up three TD's, one a 98-yard punt return, as the Colts whipped Detroit Lutheran, 26-0.

Fitzgerald made a 3rd period touchdown stand up for its 6-0 surprise of Utica. George Collier's 15-yard TD dash in the 2nd stanza was enough to give Madison a hard-earned win over St. Mary.

Northville Edged, 13-12

Dick Biery scored twice but Northville lost a 13-12 decision to Plymouth. Biery went 1 yard in the first quarter and scored on a 60 yard pass play from Ed Wittenberg in the 4th quarter.

Plymouth got its winning TD by blocking a punt on the Northville 18 and scored a few plays later.

Holly Misses 3 Field Goal Tries in 6-6 Deadlock

Three missed field goal attempts in the last half spoiled Holly's chance of opening the season on the winning side of the ledger but the Broncos gained a moral victory in coming away with a 6-6 tie against strong Grand Blanc.

Two of the kicks went wide and the 3rd, which was on the final play of the game, was blocked as the two nearby rivals battled on even terms right down to the final whistle.

Holly led 6-0 at the 1st half as a result of a 15-yard touchdown pass from Bob Letson to Bill Taylor. But Grand Blanc ace Bob Suci got the equalizer in the 3rd quarter on a 58-yard scamper.

Brighton Nips Lions

An early touchdown by Ron Visel was all Brighton needed to defeat South Lyon for the first time in three years. The final tally read 6-0 as South Lyon could not cash in on several chances to score in the last half.

No Opponent and No Field for Lamphere

Madison Heights Lamphere, Oakland County's only Class D high school, was supposed to play a football game with Detroit Country Day Friday afternoon.

But one very important ingredient was missing — no field.

Coach Joe Borovick carted his gridders to Country Day and found no gridiron there. Then he was told that the game was scheduled at McCabe Field so he lugged them over there.

Alas — Borovick and his boys were doomed to frustration. McCabe Field was too wet to play on and the opposition didn't show up.

So Joe took his team back to Lamphere, then found out that the Country Day had telephoned to cancel the game.

Borovick was just as well satisfied. Four of his regulars were out of the lineup with illness.

FRIDAY'S FIGHTS

LOS ANGELES — Archie Moore, 175, San Diego, Calif., knocked out Tony Anthony, 172, New York, 7. (Moore retained light-heavyweight title).

MELBOURNE, Australia — Ray Rioja, 137½, Austin, Tex., and Sauveur Chiocca, 148½, France, declared no contest.

Milford, Laker Harriers Win Season Openers

West Bloomfield defeated Orchard Lake St. Mary 23-37 in the opening cross country meet for both teams yesterday. Steve Rogers came in first for the Lakers who also took positions four to seven. St. Mary's Chet Witkowski was second and Don Donakowski third.

★ ★ ★

Milford harriers took a close meet, Friday, from Clarenceville in the season's opener for both squads. The Redskin runners compiled a 28-point total to 34 for the visiting cross-country squad.

Thumb Co-Champs Win

Both of last year's co-champions in the Southern Thumb League got away to fast starts on the 1957 campaign last night.

Almont dumped Flint Atherton 13-7 and New Haven crushed Clintonville 40-12. Another Thumb team, Capac lost to Anchor Bay 19-6.

Almont iced its win in the 4th period on Frank Hartway's short TD dive. Hartway also scored the first tally in the first period on an 8-yard bust after a long drive.

New Haven wrapped up its win in the first period on two TD's and two place kicks. Nate Petty scored one of his three touchdowns in the first quarter, Dick Burden got the other in the opening period. Pete Griffin in the third period and Narron Lee in the final quarter got the others. Two were on passes of 30 and 65 yards by Tom Braasch.

The annual fall meeting of the Michigan Professional Golfer's Association will be held Monday, Sept. 30 at Hotel Fort Shelby in Detroit. The meeting was originally set for Battle Creek, but the state PGA tournament at Birmingham Sept. 29 caused officials to move it to Detroit in the belief that more pros would attend.

The Lions and the New York Giants have a 1:30 p.m. kickoff time in Briggs Stadium tomorrow afternoon.

Aging Archie Kayos Youthful Tony

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Venerable Archie Moore of the 1936 vintage winks when he says he'll fight for another 10 years, but young Tony Anthony won't say it isn't possible.

Ole Arch, who started fighting 21 years ago and may be 41 or may be 43 or perhaps older, slammed the 22-year-old Anthony without mercy last night to score a seventh round knockout and preserve his light-heavyweight title.

★ ★ ★

The champ reigned supreme in the ring at the Olympic Auditorium in giving New Yorker Tony a boxing lesson and again after the fight as he met newsmen in the confines of his dressing room.

DECIDING BLOW — Tony Anthony was on the way out after light heavyweight champion Archie Moore clipped him on the jaw in the 7th round of last night's fight in Los Angeles. Challenger Anthony went down under the punch and the referee stopped the bout for a knockout under California rules. He didn't toll a count. Moore's back is to the camera.

Taking first things first, the champ says he would like to tangle with French-Canadian Yvon Durelle in a match for the 175-pound crown which he thinks will aid Uncle Sam's relations with Canada.

★ ★ ★

Anthony, on the other hand, battled a draw with Durelle and doesn't give the Canadian a chance.

Then Archie said he believes he might be of help to fat people, and probably would write a book on weight control.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday morning, as he battled to take off four ounces and make the light-heavyweight limit, he didn't have such a ready quip. But after the fight he pointed out that his "secret Australian diet" had brought him down from more than 200 pounds in two months.

The titlist parried questions about any desire to battle for the heavyweight crown against Floyd Patterson. He lost via knockout in a fight with Patterson last Nov. 30.

Moore collected a $90,000 guarantee, including the $70,000 from national television. With a gross gate of $53,000 this left Anthony with less than $5,000 balm for his wounds under contract terms. Yet he did receive an education.

"He gave me a lesson tonight that I won't forget," Tony said in his dressing room before breaking down in sobs. "I hope nobody says anymore that I have a glass jaw."

★ ★ ★

If he had, the challenger would have gone down to stay long before the actual end. In the sixth, Moore staggered him with a right to the head and scored repeatedly with rights and left hooks. He had pulled a surprise earlier that hurt when he rammed home right hand leads.

Six seconds before the stanza ended, Moore decked the young challenger with a right and the bell rang before Tony reached his feet.

★ ★ ★

As the seventh opened, Anthony appeared to have recuperated, but Moore found him midway in the round and relentlessly slugged him with lefts and rights. Finally Tony went down and struggled to get up. Referee Mushy Callahan didn't wait but immediately declared Archie the winner by a knockout at 2:29.

Under California rules a referee can so rule instead of awarding a technical knockout.

The 172-pound Anthony won two rounds on the card of the referee and a judge but received only one from the other judge.

He didn't appear to hurt Archie, although the champ wore a mouse under his right eye from the second round on. In that stanza the challenger hit a low blow and cracked Archie after the bell, which annoyed the champion. Callahan had to separate the two to prevent battling during the intermission.

★ ★ ★

About the proposed fight with Durelle, Moore quipped: "He's been crying for a chance, and I might as well give it to him," adding that he expects to go on fighting for another eight to 10 years.

Already he has fought 186 battles, winning 159, with 117 by kayo.

Reibel in Line Opposite Wings

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Veteran Red Wing Dutch Reibel will line up with Edmonton when the Flyers meet Detroit tomorrow night in their third exhibition hockey game of the season.

The veteran center from Kitchener, Ont., is having a tough fight this year to keep a starting berth with the National Hockey League champions.

Reibel, never an eye-catcher in the pre-season workouts, got off to a slow start this summer. But he turned in a top performance in Thursday's preliminary game between Hamilton and Edmonton.

★ ★ ★

He scored three goals and had a fourth goal called back. At the time he was skating against a line which had two proven veterans of NHL play—Billy Dea and Billy Dineen.

Yanks, Braves Seek to Pad Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What a Hellzapoppin' weekend this is going to be in that National League pennant brawl! Anything goes today and tomorrow as Milwaukee's Braves shoot to pad their lead at Chicago and the scrambling St. Louis Cardinals battle to stay close at Cincinnati before opening a three-game show down at Milwaukee Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The kids are off the street now and it's officially a two-team race. Brooklyn's defending champs, last of the outsiders, have been eliminated and it's Milwaukee by four as the Braves and Cards go to work on their last eight games.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals, scrapping from behind for the third time in their last four victories, tied Cincinnati with a run in the ninth, then beat the Redlegs 7-5 in the 10th last night on Joe Cunningham's home run. They knew they had to do it—Milwaukee's 9-3 afternoon victory over the Cubs was up there on the Crosley Field scoreboard all the while.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, who now have won four in a row, cracked a 2-all tie with five in the seventh, then wasted no time in yanking their ace, Warren Spahn, when the Cubs managed their third hit of the game in the seventh and added a walk. Don McMahon hustled in and the righthanded reliever struck out six in the final 2 1-3 innings as Spahn became

Fire Kills 2 Birds, Dog, Cat

Grief for Rochester Couple

ROCHESTER — Mr. and Mrs. David Sexton of 911 W. Third St. grieved today for the loss of all their pets—two parakeets, a dog and a cat—killed in a fire in the Sexton home last night.

The Sextons have a way with animals, neighbors say, and though dogs, cats and birds are traditional enemies, their's were just part of a happy family.

Last night the young couple went off to a local movie, leaving the pets at home. Shortly after 7 p.m., neighboring children noticed smoke coming from the house, and reported a fire.

Rochester firemen were too late to save the pets. The two birds were dead in their cage; the puppy was lying on the bathroom floor, and the kitten was in the kitchen. All had been suffocated.

★ ★ ★

Firemen, who estimated damage to the house and furnishings at $1,000, said two lighted burners in an electric stove had caused the blaze.

The four-room frame home is owned by Earl Wolf of Pontiac. The young couple who rented it had no insurance on their furnishings.

Skim milk has been gaining in popularity in recent years, particularly among the diet-conscious. Much of the butterfat in milk has been removed from the skim milk.

Feed Grain Surplus Expected to Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reports that record supplies of livestock feed grains and forage crops are in prospect for the marketing year beginning Oct. 1.

The agency foresaw some increase in feeding of grains, but predicted that despite this surpluses would be enlarged.

The supply of feed grains, by-products feed and imported grains was expected to toal 210 million tons, or 10 million more than the current marketing year's record.

Largely anticipating the big supply, feed grain prices have dipped substantially below those of a year ago. Taken as a whole, these grains are down about 15 per cent from a year ago. Prices of corn, the major grain, averaged $1.23 a bushel in mid-August, or 22 cents below a year ago.

Don't Throw It Away; Refinish It and Use It

Imaginative people enjoy making pieces of furniture into something they were never intended to be. Old, but not old enough to be classed as antique furniture, can take on a new look and a new purpose. Old buffets with legs shortened become under-the-window chests. Old cumbersome-looking picture frames become shadow-boxes or tops for coffee tables.

If you want to concoct a score of new usable pieces, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., Washington 5, D. C., will be glad to send you the booklet, entitled "Something for Nothing Adventures." Just send your name and address and the name of the pamphlet.

Insist on Ladder Safety

You can paint a house from ladders, but it's easier to have plank suspended between two ladders, from which to work. For safety, the foot of a straight ladder should be one-quarter as far from the wall as the ladder is high. If the ladder rests on a cement walk, use ladder shoes to prevent slipping.

Make Porch Winter Proof

One of the unhappiest things about the arrival of cold weather for many families is giving up the extra living space provided in summer by an enclosed breezeway or porch.

But builders say this isn't always necessary. Many breezeways and porches can be made livable for many extra months with thick insulation and a small space heater.

Insulation engineers, recommend that mineral wool at least three inches thick be installed in ceilings and walls which are touched by cold on the outside. If the porch or breezeway is built over an unheated area, such as a crawl space, the floor also should be insulated.

Areas which the home-owner can reach easily can be insulated with batts or blankets obtainable from building material dealers. "Enclosed" areas, such as finished walls and small attic spaces, can be filled with insulation by a contractor who pumps mineral wool in under air pressure.

★ ★ ★

For greater comfort and heating efficiency, windows should be fitted with air-tight storm sash, and any cracks or air leaks around doors, windows, or in framework should be filled with caulking compound. Tight fitting stodm sash of ponderosa pine are available to fit windows of all sizes and can be paintel to harmonize with both interior and exterior color schemes.

Tight Windows Save Heat, Reduce Drafts

Early fall is the time to check windows and exterior doors throughout a house to make sure they are functioning efficiently for the winter ahead.

★ ★ ★

A drafty house and high heating bills often can be traced to windows and doors which do not fit properly, or to faulty weatherstripping.

Old windows and doors can be replaced with units of ponderosa pine pre-fitted at the factory. These pass laboratory tests for tight fit and easy operation, and weatherstripping is precisely installed.

★ ★ ★

The clear ponderosa pine also is chemically treated to resist moisture and keep shrinking or swelling from causing trouble.

Slavik Bonus House Is Spacious and Economical

A revolutionary new home design which combines the best features of the 2-story, split-level and contemporary styles is being unveiled this weekend in Waterford Township by Slavik Builders, Inc.

The new design, called the Bonus House, offers modern appearance, an impressive 1,250 square feet of living space, one and a half baths, 75-foot lots, carport and lake privileges for only $11.11 a square foot.

Joseph F. Slavik, president of the building firm, noted that full price for the Bonus House, attached carport, wide lot, asphalt-paved streets and curbing, community water system service and lake privileges is only $13,990. It is being offered on 40-year mortgage terms to veterans and civilians alike, with only $750 down.

Each resident of the new community, Lotus Lake Subdivision, which is on high ground overlooking the wooded shoreline of Lotus Lake, will have access to a reserved beach area, Slavik said. Sales of the 250-home community are being handled by Cox Realty.

Borrowing from an innovation developed by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Slavik's designers dropped the main floor of the Bonus House about 4 feet below grade, thus taking advantage of the economy of the 2-story and split-level designs, while maintaining the architectural appearance attributes of a conventional ranch house or bungalow.

FIRST LEVEL LOWER

Both the main entrance and the sheltered door at the carport are at grade level. The picture-windowed, spacious living room, roomy kitchen and separate dining space are reached by descending five steps. Also on the main floor is a half-bath, two large storage areas and utility-laundry room.

The second level has three bedrooms, bath and additional utility storage. Built into the carport is a large storage cabinet for garden tools, bicycles, storms and screens, etc.

The Bonus House gets its name, Slavik pointed out, from the 313 square foot area, large enough for two rooms each 11x14 feet, added without additional cost by the below-grade design innovation.

The design, he added, is being marketed on a national scale by Modern Homes Corporation, Dearborn. Already, its design features and low cost are attracting wide acclaim in the home-building industry.

A model now is open for inspection in Lotus Lake Subdivision at 6220 Williams Lake Road.

Scrub Out That Pool

Home wading pools for the children need frequent scrubbings. Drain the plastic pool and wash down the sides and bottom with hot suds. Use a hose to rinse and refill with clean water.

Windows Add Space, Light to Attic Room

Extra living space for a growing family can be obtained by adding a pair of dormer windows to an expansion attic. Dormers increase head room and usable floor space in the attic, besides providing needed light and ventilation.

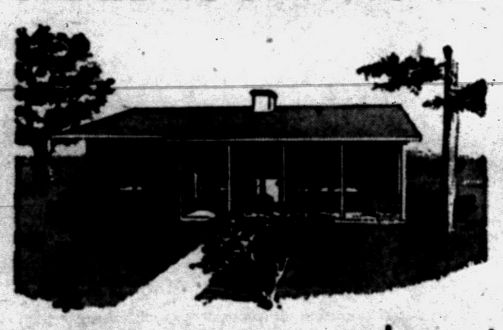

Windows of ponderosa pine are preferred for dormers and for most remodeling, since the clear wood can be painted to harmonize with th exterior of the house, and painted or stained to fit the interior color scheme.

For ease of installation, wood windows are made in units, with frame and sash combined, and are equipped with weatherstripping and hardware at the factory.

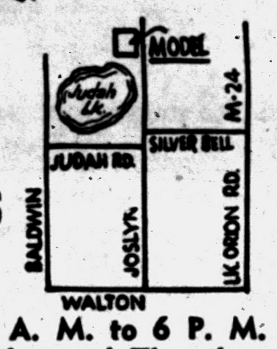

New Clothes Line Hides

An indoor laundry room may also be the recreation room. The problem is to control the clothesline so it won't interfere with activities or spoil the decor. A clothesline reel which holds four or five plastic-coated lines is the answer. It unreels the lines to the opposite wall for laundry day and keeps the lines out of the way on other days.

U-SHAPED RANCH STYLE — This U-shaped ranch style house has six rooms, but it can be built on a plot as small as 60 feet. Horizontal siding is used as the exterior wall with a brick planter outside the living room windows.

SUNKEN LIVING ROOM — A sunken living room for formal living with a view of the patio and the family-living room takes up most of one side of the house. A louvered panel separates it from the foyer.

SHELTERED PATIO — The patio, sheltered by three sides of the house, has privacy plus outdoor living. A decorative brick wall provides privacy at the open end. Note how the closets insulate the bedroom section of the house.

U-Shaped Ranch Style Has an Outdoor Patio

This unique, U-shaped ranch house emphasizes the role of light, air and sun in healthful, zestful living. No freak, it's a sound, stylish, six-room home that can be built on a small area of land—as little as a 60-foot plot. And it has a patio, which becomes an outdoor living room with all the privacy of an interior area.

Designated as HW-70 in The House of the Week series, it was created by Architect Samuel Paul. His happy exploitation of the U-shaped arrangement has achieved a number of unusual features with distinct appeal and advantages to the discriminating home builder.

In examining this house, let's first look at its size and what it has to offer. It has 1,598 square feet, exclusive of the garage. It has six rooms—three bedrooms, a family and dining room, a living room and a kitchen. And on the plus side, the patio and the garage.

A feature, of course, is the patio. It is surrounded on three sides by walls of the house; a decorative, perforated brick wall, angled slightly from the center, provides privacy at the open end.

As a safety measure for small children, the patio could be enclosed completely by making only a minor alteration in the plans.

From the patio, you enter the family-dining room through sliding glass doors. The patio is visible from the living room through a large window. Windows in the master bedroom also open onto the patio, but these windows have been set high for bedroom privacy. On sunny, fresh days the sliding glass doors can be thrown open, converting the patio into an outdoor living room.

SMART KITCHEN STYLING

Add zest to the patio with potted flowers and brightly-colored furniture and, perhaps, colored ceramic tile as the flooring material.

The kitchen, always an important part of the home for mother, has a six-burner, counter-top range, a built-in refrigerator unit, a built-in freezer unit a built-in oven, a built- in broiler, and sink, dishwasher and abundant cabinet space.

The kitchen units are arranged in an L-shape; this permits a large corner of the kitchen to be used as a dinette. A corrugated glass partition separates the kitchen from the family-dining room, and allows a blending of the light in the two areas.

There are characteristics immediately discernible which create a feeling of luxury and felicity in this home—an angled entrance (which also places the door in a position for maximum shelter), and the living room and the entrance foyer both sunken two steps below the level of the rest of the house.

A louvered panel separates the foyer from the living room. Quarry tile in the foyer is both practical and ornamental. The tile flows into the two-way fireplace ensemble, which can be seen upon entering the house and serves both the living room and the family-dining room.

The architect suggests that the floor of the family-dining room be covered with material similar to that used in the kitchen for ease of maintenance you have a wide choice of materials here—vinyl, asphalt or rubber tile; or other durable flooring materials which may better suit your taste.

The living room flooring, however, should be developed in more formal fashion.

Another advantage of the architect's use of the U-design is that it creates a separate wing for the bedrooms. The bedroom wing thus is separated from the living wing by a bank of closets. The closets in themselves provide a sound barrier between the bedroom wing and the living areas. Further, they develop privacy for the bedrooms.

The master bedroom has through-ventilation, a walk-in closet as well as a wall closet, and a private bath.

The brick square facing of the stone fireplace can be left alone, as it is; or it can be used as a showcase background or panel for the family's taste in art—abstract sculpture in metal, a grouping of oil paintings, or a smooth-faced design in colored tile. These are just a few of the art possibilities offered by this panel.

An optional lavatory off the service hall could function conveniently for a family with small children. The stairs to a partial basement are directly off the service entry and also off the garage. The basement also has plenty of light and air, and its ample space could be developed into a bad-weather recreation room.

The one-car garage could be expanded to accommodate two cars provided the land plot is large enough.

The exterior? It's simply roofed with a hip around the three sides of the "U." The horizontal siding used as the exterior wall material could be either brick or shingles, if desired. A brick planter outside the living room window harmonizes with the brick of the chimney and the brick of the patio wall.

Too much brick? Then use shubbery in place of the wall at the open end of the patio!

Throughout this smart, U-shaped ranch style house, large areas of glass are used. The glass provides adequate light and ventilation—and, as Architect Paul envisions, "allows nature to become a part of the house."

Buyers to View Models During Nat'l Home Week

WASHINGTON (INS) — "National Home Week" will take on a new meaning this year as potential buyers size up the offerings and builders check their reactions for a clue to the 1958 market.

★ ★ ★

The builders' tenth annual promotion, scheduled in most cities for Sept. 21-29, will be joined by appliance manufacturers who are beginning to feel the pinch of the decline in construction.

★ ★ ★

Mortgage lenders also will pitch in with a plea for savings toward making the down payment on a new home.

Visitors who find a model home to their liking will have to place an order rather than being able to move in the next week — few builders have constructed houses on speculation this year.

And those orders — or at least genuine interest by potential buyers — are what builders will be looking for to judge acceptance of current terms and to gauge the volume of building likely in 1958.

★ ★ ★

National Home Week will give builders their first real chance to test reported buyer resistance to higher prices and to find out if the recently-liberalized FHA terms are going to be effective.

On display in 185 cities across the country will be 10,000 "open" houses, ranging all the way from low-cost homes to a million-dollar research house near Washington, D. C.

With a wide choice between $14,000 and $20,000, most of them best year-round use of outdoor space.

The average house will have about 1,230 square feet of floor space. By good organization, the house will have plenty of space for storage and a family room near the kitchen.

With American families getting will be in the average $16,000-$16,500 price range.

Whatever the location, the model houses will feature the latest design for family living with emphasis this year on colors inside and larger, more bedrooms are being added. One house out of 10 has four or more bedrooms, seven have three bedrooms and only two have fewer than three.

Bathrooms are still growing. Less than one-half of the houses built now have only one bath; two out of 10 have one and a half, and the same proportion has two full baths.

Kitchens are coming more fully equipped with automatic appliances — dishwashers, garbage disposers, wall ovens, clothes washers and dryers — to lighten the housewife's chores.

Indoor living spaces are being placed closer to the outdoor living areas with better utilization of colors and natural and artificial lights to blend the two together.

Swedes Use Hot Spray

In Sweden, it has been estimated, nearly ninety per cent of all lacquers used industrially are now applied by hot spray method. This method is also widely used in this country.

Keep Items Together

A housewife can pull a room together or pull it apart depending on basic arrangement tricks. For a unit, hang pictures and mirrors near a piece or group of furniture. Then, they appear as part of the furnishings and will not stand out alone.

A water softener converts hard water to a softness comparable to distilled water, so far as its reaction with soaps and cleaning agents is concerned.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Water seeps through one wall of our basement. We've been advised to dig down on the outside of the wall and give it a coating of tar, but have delayed doing this since digging would disturb a grouping of well-established shrubbery. Is there another way to stop the leakuage?

A—Waterproofing agents are available today which can be applied to the inside of leaky basement walls. These generally do a good job, and would be worth trying in your case.

Q—I plan to enclose an open porch and hope to add a bedroom above it at a later date. Will 2x6 joists be adequate for the ceiling of the porch?

A—No. These would be fine if they supported only the porch roof and ceiling, but are too light for the weight of an overhead room. Use 2x8 joists for safe construction.

Q—We've used a lot of unfinished furniture in our home, putting it together and painting or staining the pieces in colors we like. Now we'd like to install some "built-in" closets, cabinets, and other storage units, but department stores don't seem to have what we want. Are such units available? If so, where?

A—Building material dealers carry as stock items many styles and sizes in cabinets of ponderosa pine that are ideal for built-in storage. These come K.D. (knocked down) and can be assembled with standard tools. The Ponderosa pine is a clear-grained wood which takes stain or paint well.

Q—We're installing a water softener. Is it necessary to bypass the outdoor hose faucets with the soft water system?

A—Yes, since sprinkling of lawns and flower beds with soft water would deposit sodium salts from softener in soil. In time, this could retard growth of plants.

Q—What's a good mortar mix for outdoor brickwork?

A—Use a type "B" mortar mix made from 1 part Portland cement, 1 part hydrated lime and not less than 5 or more than 6½ parts of sand. Type "B" masonry cement also is available. Mix this with 3 parts sand, 1 part cement.

Q—What kind of bit should I use with my electric drill to cut anchor holes in a concrete block wall?

A—Use carbide-tipped bits. A heavy-duty ¼-inch drill will handle holes in masonry up to ½ inch. Larger holes require a ½-inch drill. Use as small a bit as is practical for the job to avoid overtaxing the drill.

Average family size is on the way up; it was 3.60 persons in 1955 anl the Census Bureau says it may range between 3.65 and 3.68 persons in 1960.

Plastic Covers Help

Some housewives scamper for their good outdoor furniture at the first drop of rain. Keep plastic covers handy and toss them over the pieces you want to protect most. This saves much unnecessary lifting. The covers also protect outdoor furniture from dew and dirt.

A long-lasting soldering acid brush can be made quickly from a few rubber bands pinched together with a piece of sheet metal bent around them for a handle.

Home Fire Alarms Going Into Models

The fire alarm, long a familiar fixture on the American street corner, is moving into the American home.

★ ★ ★

Millions of families have equipped their homes with alarms since the end of World War II, and a number of home builders throughout the U.S. are installing them in new models, according to Herman Perl, president of Fire Detective, Inc., largest distributor of the home equipment. Sales have risen sharply in the last three years, he said.

★ ★ ★

Home fire alarms differ in two major respects from their outdoor counterparts, Mr. Perl explained, pointing out that these devices detect home fires automatically, and sound a sharp warning to occupants and neighborhood rather than the fire department. With a special device, they can be arranged to notify the fire department, as well.

"These systems are designed for one primary purpose — to save lives," Mr. Perl said. "Purchasers are instructed to evacuate their homes as quickly as possible after the alarm sounds. They should then use a neighbor's telephone at once to call the fire department, if help has not already been summoned by neighbors who heard the outside warning bell."

★ ★ ★

The "detectives" of the Dictograph system are small thermal detector units placed on or near the ceiling of each room of danger area. When one of these units spots heat of 135 degrees or more, it sends an impulse to a central control panel, normally located in the basement. Two alarms are immediately activated, one a vibrator alarm in the bedroom, the other a gong alarm outside the house. Installation can be completed in a day, and systems are inconspicuous.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Perl cautioned homeowners on their selection of a system. "According to the National Fire Protection Association," he said, " 'any equipment which is not reliable in operation or does not awaken sleeping occupants may give a false sense of security. Attention is directed to the fact that self-contained unit alarm devices located in basements or other space remote from sleeping rooms may not awaken sleeping occupants.' "

Eskimo's Igloo Keeps Fuel Bills at Cozy Zero

If you could examine an Eskimo's igloo you'd discover a really economical heating system in operation. The igloo is kept warm by body heat and a small oil lamp.

The igloo's thick dome of snow is a good insulator. It seals in the heat given off by the oil lamp and the people and keeps the chill Arctic winds out. The entrance slopes down through the igloo floor before emerging outside. Since warm air rises, heat doesn't escape along this route.

★ ★ ★

Home-owners can't very well pack their walls and attic floors with snow or ice cubes, but they can install an even more efficient type of insulation—modern mineral wool. This insulation can be blown into walls and ceilings by experienced contractors with pneumatic equipment, or batts and blankets of mineral wool can be installed in accessible areas by the home-owner.

Insulating engineers recommend at least a 4-inch thickness of insulation in ceilings and 3 inches in walls. All walls and ceilings exposed to winter cold on one side and warmed on the other should be insulated.

Norway City Attracts Tourists With Paint

News comes from Oslo, Norway, of an enterprising project in the town of Fredrikstad, inspired by the desire to attract tourists. First of all, the citizens decided on a paint-up, clean-up campaign for the city itself and surrounding areas.

★ ★ ★

The city council arranged a big show in the market square to mark the opening of the campaign. The mayor and the council's forty-two men and women arrived riding on elephants and camels belonging to a visiting circus. Others came in the town's fire-trucks with all bells and whistles going full blast. In a half hour, the ugliest house in town had been repainted and gardeners had planted flowers all around it.

Within two weeks after this, 20,000 people had changed the color of their houses and the city had received more press mentions than ever before accredited to a Norwegian town.

If a room is too light, dark paint will soak up the excess light, giving a charming muted effect to the room. On the other hand, light paints serve as reflectors.

NEWS VIEWS

Seems like in recent years folks have been getting fussier and fussier about titles. In most cases we want to change plain words into fancy ones. For example, a woman newspaper columnist suggests something ought to be done about the word "housewife." According to their spokeswoman, most adult females like the word about as much as a kid likes castor oil. Just the sound of "housewife" is supposed to lower milady's morale ten notches . . . or twelve on a Monday.

The lady journalist admits that a woman doesn't mind being a wife, so the word "house" must be the problem. And yet, most wives certainly want a house of their own. So, until somebody explains the difficulty, we might offer "kitchen engineer" or "custodian of the can-opener." We might get in trouble, too.

I read where thieves slipped into a menagerie in Florida and stole 23 alligators. I wonder how a fellow's supposed to get rid of "hot" alligators . . . Here's a cool idea, if you should need to get rid of a house, farm or business—list it with Realtor Partridge. That way, you'll save yourself needless worry, time and expense . . . and end up on a high plane of satisfaction when the sale has been made . . . always remember Realtor Partridge is the "bird" to see. 1050 W. Baking Center Aids Housewife

Here's how to cater to the baker—when the baker is you!

The plan involves a definite "baking center" for the housewife. The area should have a pastry board built into the waterproof ceramic tile counter that runs around the room, and it should be separate from the usual mixing, cooking and serving areas that are standard for modern kitchens.

There are several advantages to a separate baking center. By far the best of them is the fact that "floury" activities are isolated. Another advantage is that all the utensils, bowls, pans and ingredients are in one spot, not scattered through various cupboards and drawers.

A tile council association offers these suggestions for creating your own baking center:

All fruits, vegetable dyes, flavorings, shortenings and sticky substances used in creating "masterpiece" cakes won't harm the mixing area if surfaced with stainproof, easily cleaned ceramic tile. You can chop and cut on it, too, without scratching the surface.

★ ★ ★

Your electric mixer should be on a swing-out shelf directly below or adjacent to your pastry board.

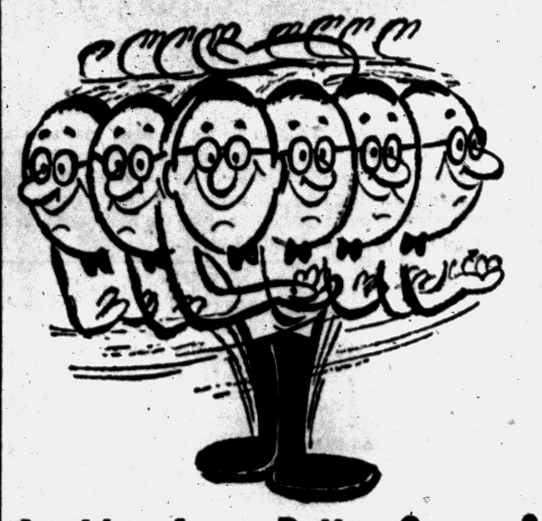

Have racks and shelves built into the cupboards to hold pans of various sizes and shapes, so that they are always ready at hand.

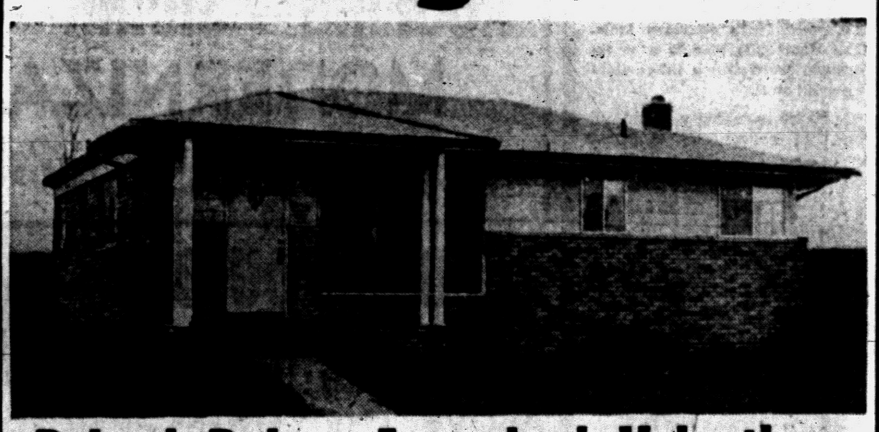

An easily accessible spice and flavoring shelf is a good idea. It may be installed in the same cupboard which holds canned fruits, sugar, flour and other bulky ingredients.

PRIZE WINNERS — Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Johnson of 554 Montana street were winners this week of a home improvement contest, sponsored by Waltham Construction Corporation of Center Line. Buyers of homes built by this firm last year competed by landscaping their lots, painting their houses and generally improving their property. The Johnsons put in a lawn, added a garden and did extensive painting on their house. Judges for the contest were John Hirlinger, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Howard Powers, president of the same organization and Mrs. S. Dewey Allen, secretary of the Better Homes and Gardens Club. Sidney C. Barnes, secretary of the Waltham company, awarded the prize to the Johnsons.

Paint Can Be Textured

Many couples learn to paint to rejuvenate a room at a minimum expense. There is a new ready-mixed paint which can be textured while drying. With 12 colors and white available, it may lead to some home originals. It is for resurfacing interior walls and ceilings and may be washed with a sudsy sponge.

Manganese was first discovered in 1774.

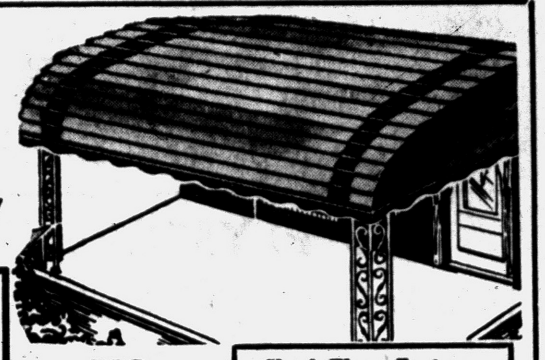

Leftover Ceramic Tile Has Many Exciting Uses

Wondering what to do with the extra pieces of ceramic tile your contractor left behind after beautifying kitchen, fireplace, entranceway or bath? There are many ways you can put them to decorative and practical use around the home.

For instance, why not surface the umbrella stand with random chips of tile? How about glueing some over two old wine bottles for candlestick holders? Perhaps you keep flowers in your stairway window. Best way to waterproof the windowsill is to surface it with colorful tile.

New Group Promotes Modular Standards

WASHINGTON — Four leading building industry groups have joined forces to boost acceptance of a program designed to hold down building costs through adoption of a basic unit of measurement.

★ ★ ★

The project got underway with election of officers and approval of by-laws of the newly-organized Modular Building Standards Association at the first meeting of the Board of Directors at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., on Aug. 12.

The Association was incorporated July 15, 1957 in the District of Columbia under sponsorship of these groups: The American Institute of Architects, the Associated General Contractors of America, the National Association of Home Builders, and the Producers' Council, Inc.

The four sponsoring organizations will initiate membership programs within their respective industries.

Mr. C. E. Silling of Charleston, W. Va., architect and chairman of the American Standards Association's committee which deals with coordination of dimensions of building materials and equipment was elected president.

"The objectives of MBSA," said Silling, "are to promote the acceptance and application of the principles om Modular Dimensioning Standards as applied to the field of planning for construction, and the dimensioning of the materials, appliances and items of equipment employed in construction and related activities."

Mr. Silling noted that the adoption of the 4-inch module as the basic unit of measure will assist manufacturers in effecting economies by standardization. Thus, they would have to produce fewer sizes. "It is a saving which can be passed down the line," Silling pointed out, "for suppliers will have less of an inventory problem; and standard dimensioning means less labor cost for installation at the construction site."

The movement for the promotion of modular standards, or modular measure, began in 1935 when the National Bureau of Standards of the U. S. Department of Commerce proposed a project for coordinating building material sizes. Subsequent activities in this direction have been closely identified with the American Standards Association. The movement has shown considerable progress since the end of World War II, not only in the United States but in other countries.

Basements Are Gaining

Houses with basements showed a slight gain in 1956, according to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, which reports that 82 per cent of all homes have basements or crawl space. Greater use of lumber for floor construction seems assured. Women find it much easier on their backs and legs if their floors are built of wood, which has a fine "give." Most tiresome is the floor of solid concrete.

Priming is a must in preparing all new surfaces for painting. Primers fall into three main classifications; plaster, wood and metal.

PLASTIC RUBBER — Chemical action sets a new, rubber-like plastic compound. Handy man, shown, is renewing seal along perimeter of his windshield.

Rubber Joins the Ranks of Tube-Packaged Aids

There's something new in a tube for you. Termed a "plastic rubber," it joins the ever-increasing family of ready-to-use repair substances now on hardware and building supply dealers' shelves nationwide.

Don't confuse this material with rubber cement, which is an adhesive substance only.

The new product is puttylike in nature as it is squeezed from the tube or dug from the larger size cans.

It dries to a tough, elastic state and looks and feels just like rubber.

Thin applications dry to the touch in about 30 minutes; thicker coatings of the material dry overnight. Maximum strength is reached in 24 to 48 hours. Once completely set, extremes of temperature do not affect it. So says the manufacturer.

It is said to bond itself to any type of rubber product without application of heat.

Water soluble before it hardens the plasticlike rubber can be thinned, and used to coat previously dampened fabric as a waterproofing agent.

Application is simple. Surfaces are cleaned thoroughly and enough material is squeezed from the tube to fill the space or area indicated. After a few moments for partial setting, it can be smoothed with a putty knife or the fingers.

Among uses suggested for the product are the following:

It can be used to repair gloves, hot water bottles, tubing, galoshes, raincoats, sink mats, garden hose, tennis shoes and a host of other rubber based items.

Possessing good insulating qualities, the material is declared useful in furthering electrical repairs. It can be used to repair cracks in rubber lamp cords, and to cover base terminals in light cord plugs. Properly applied, it helps to eliminate the hazard presented by bare terminals when the conventional cardboard shield is misplaced or worn out.

Used as a coating on the handles of pliers, wire cutters and screw drivers, it helps to protect the handy man from shock when making electrical repairs.

The rubberlike material is said to be suitable for use in calking operations, especially on boats. It sticks well to all materials, and is said to be completely waterproof.

The homemaker can use it, in a diluted form, to coat the back of throw rugs with a non-skid surface. And it can be used to patch hood and body of baby buggies.

Utility Room Needs a Plan

Here's how to change futility to utility with one little room!

That old pantry off the kitchen, the short leg of an L-shaped kitchen, or extra basement space can be converted into an all-purpose utility room. Such a room will add new efficiency and convenience to the busy housewife's work day.

In planning a utility room keep these things in mind:

1. It should be accessible by door from the kitchen and the outside. If it's to be in the basement, the utility area should be near to the cellar stairs. And all basements should have an outside exit.

2. Besides laundry equipment, the utility room should be able to house garden tools, play and hobby equipment, extra food storage.

3. The utility room should be decoratively appealing. There's no reason for the housewife to work in drab surroundings. Practicality can be combined with charm by such surfacing materials as ceramic tile which comes in 200 colors.

4. A half-bath in the basement is eminently practical, especially with children in the family. Because of the savings in plumbing costs, it should be located back-to-back to the utility room.

5. Laundry countertop space should be covered with a really durable, stainproof material such as ceramic mosaics or quarry tile.

6. Proper heating and lighting must not be neglected to make the room usable year-'round.

★ ★ ★

These half-dozen suggestions do not have to be followed up all at once by the budget-minded family planning a utility room. First thing is to start with the right space near the kitchen. Improvements can be made as time goes by.

SOLVES TOY STORAGE PROBLEM — Rolling toy chest is of sturdy construction and not too difficult to build. It's a boon to parents at pick-up time.

Mobile Toy Chest Helps

This mobile toy chest is designed to encourage the small child to keep his toys picked up and in order, it says here.

In practice, it will help mommy and daddy to spare their aching backs as they round up the day's litter each evening.

A do-it project for the average home handyman, it should fill a real need which will be created in the wake of Santa's visit.

You'll need 1"x12" lumber for bottom, sides and ends; 1"x14" lumber for the two-part lid.

The inside rails can be made of 1"x2" lumber or finished lath. Fitted across the corner posts on each side of the box, they'll provide storage racks for children's books and boxed games.

Corner posts and axle rails are of 2"x2" lumber.

HOW TO BUILD

Here's how to construct the mobile toy chest:

First, cut all lumber to the dimensions shown in the sketch.

Edge-glue the bottom, end, and el to the axle rails with glue and el to the axle rails with blue and 2¼-inch No. 10 flathead wood screws. (Countersink the screw heads.)

Assemble sides, using wood screws and glue, and fasten to floor of the box with wood screws which have been driven through the bottom boards. Add the box ends to the assembly.

The wheels are each made of two pieces of 1"x8" lumber, glued together in such fashion that the grain is crossed.

Inscribe a circle six inches in diameter for each wheel and cut out with a coping saw. Drill ¼" diameter hole in center of each wheel.

Drill pilot holes in ends of axle rails, using a No. 25 drill for hard woods. For soft woods, use a No. 32 drill.

Attach wheels with 3½-inch No. 14 wood screws.

★ ★ ★

Round all sharp edges by sanding or rasping, and finish corners with soft, 1-inch cotton rope, glued and fastened with finishing nails.

Quarter-round molding may be used instead of the rope, if you're naive enough to believe that the chest won't become the children's favorite wheeled vehicle. Rope helps protect the furniture.

A pull rope attached to the front axle rail completes the job.

Turpentine Is Not for Brushes With New Paint

Cleaning brushes used for the new latex paints is a tough job, but it can be made easier if you do it right after painting before the pai has a chance to set and dry, says Assistant Oakland County Agricultural Agent, Jay Poffenberger.

★ ★ ★

He reports that B. F. Cargill, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University recommends the following method: First, flush the paint out of the brush with water. Then thoroughly clean it with water and a modern kitchen detergent. Rinse it in clear water again, comb, shape and hang it up to dry. If the paint has set and dried in the heel of the brush or on the surface of the bristles you'll have to use a solvent. Here are some solvents Cargill advises.

For butadiene-styrene and acrylic types of latex paint, use benzol-alcohol-acetate type paint and varnish remover.

For polyvinyl acetate latex paints not completely hardened, methyl alcohol is the most effective solvent, but you can also use the above type of paint remover. If the same type of paint is in gummy condition use denatured alcohol. After using the solvent, rinse the brush thoroughly in clean water, comb and hang it up to dry.

If you have Tynex nylon brushes you'll need to use some method other than solvent, says Cargill. One good one is to suspend the brush in a boiling 10 per cent solution of trisodium phosphate in water. Do not allow the solution to reach higher than the ferrule edge of the brush. Leave the brush in the boiling solution until it becomes soft. Then wash it out with detergent water and rinse with clear water.

Comb, shape and hang it up to dry as you did with the other methods. Never use this method on brushes that have hog bristles because the trisodium phosphate will destroy them in the boiling solution.

Recover Your Doors

Solid doors are a rarity in the average home being built today. The expense of replacing hollow-cored doors is prohibitive for many of us; the solution is to cover present doors with suitable matting material. This, in turn, is covered with hardboard or one of the laminated plastic panels for appearance and cleanliness' sake.

Don't plane plywood edges if you can avoid it, but if you have to, always plane toward the center, as moving the plane off an end usually causes chipping.

Rome Adopts U.S. Favorite

Hot Dog (With Mustard) Makes Appearance at Outdoor Opera Theater

ROME (INS) — The Eternal City of Rome is going the way of that young country discovered by Christopher Columbus only some five centuries ago.

The "hot dog" has made its appearance last summer at no less a cultural site than the ancient baths of Caracalla. It's here that the aristocrat's aristocrat comes to the most magnificent outdoor opera theater in the world for music — and mustard on his "hot dog."

The wieners are imported from Germany, sliced into bites, peppered Romanesque with olives and deviled eggs. All in an American-style bun and guaranteed to hold you through the first act. Just 20 centuries ago, Romans took "milk baths" here.

Rome's most fashionable avenue, the Via Veneto, is now called by Italians "Hollywood on the Tiber." There are two reasons for this:

Along and near the Via Veneto, "snack bars"—hardly translatable in a country where two hour lunches are the rule—sell hamburgers (with katsup), "Cokes," popcorn (no' butter), American cigarettes and a host of American gadgets.

JAMES DEAN RAGE

James Dean is the rage in Italy's movie magazines. Young seamstresses gather on the Spanish Stairs to learn the latest on Jimmy while licking an American-type ice cream cone.

In the vicinity are "night clubs" and "hot clubs." A "night" club features all types of entertainment. A "hot" club, mostly jazz. Rock 'n' Roll is still somewhat of a rage but only for, as the Romans call them, the "long hairs." The expression is quite different in Italian. It means those young men who let their hair and sideburns grow for months—a la Elvis Presley.

Flashy shirts of all colors and types were a big market last summer for the young set. Also, blue jeans. Sedate Italian families frown on this, however, referring to the entire range of this type of dress as "Truman haberdashery."

One of the big mysteries from America is the debut of the do-nut. The do-nut makes absolutely no sense to Italians since it has a hole where bread should be. Italy has long since had the do-nut's counter-part — the "Ciambelle" — but the hole has a purpose: to carry on a long stick.

Bridge to Open on Short Notice

LANSING (AP) — The Straits of Mackinac Bridge likely will be opened to traffic on mighty short notice — possibly less than two days, the secretary of the bridge authority said today.

"It mostly depends on the paving and electrical contractors," said Lawrence A. Rubin. "They're scheduled to wind up their work on Oct. 21 and the bridge conceivably could open within 48 hours after they finish."

Allowing for possible delays, however, bridge officials still are pointing toward a Nov. 1 opening, the date originally scheduled, he said.

Rubin came to Lansing to confer with State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and Asst. Atty. Gen. Eugene Krasicky on the possibility of hiring special state police to patrol the big bridge.

Krasicky, however, said the authority would have to look for other law enforcement personnel since laws regulating the state police force do not specifically authorize assignment of troopers to the bridge.

Library Reports Record Months at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE—The Community Library of Walled Lake reports August as a record month, with 328 books loaned out.

Dutchman Named Champ in World Plowing Contest

PEEBLES, Ohio (AP) — The world's plowing contest is over. The champion is William DeLint, a 27-year-old Dutchman.

But restoration of "The Good Earth"—as writer Pearl S. Buck so aptly put it—is yet to come.

★ ★ ★

For DeLint, the sandy-haired Hollander who won the golden plowing trophy yesterday, it's all over, except for personal appearances with his 26 competitors later this month.

But for Russell Webb, whose farm was one of 16 used for the world's conservation exhibition and plowing contest, the work is just beginning.

★ ★ ★

Most of the other farmers in this southern Ohio community, whose land was used for the 2,500-acre contest site, have reason to rejoice today. The plowing actually benefitted the land. And some farmers, including Webb, had pools built by contest officials.

But 100 of Webb's 360 acres was used for the exhibition and display portion of the event. That 100 acres alsao was plowed, but in a different way.

The multitude of persons who trampled over the exhibition area virtually plowed the land under. Officials estimated four-day attendance at the contest at 247,000.

Frank Heckman, service division chairman of the contest, said it will take at least two years to get Webb's 100-acre portion back in shape. He said he advised Webb to put the 100 acres in the soil bank so he can get compensation for it while it remains idle.

He said the contest organization will make arrangements to put the land back in shape.

Finishing behind DeLint, who acquired 147.89 points out of a possible 200, were John Mason of England, with 136.56, Arvo Jokinen of Finland, with 135.14, William G. Wright, North Ireland, 134.62, and fifth place R. J. Miller, England, with 132.15.

★ ★ ★

The two Americans entered, Lawrence Goettemoeller of Celina, Ohio, and John C. Daniels, Mulberry Grove, Ill., finished 9th and 21st, respectively.

Distracted Driver Smashes Into Car

A car driven by Bruce Blodget, 21, of Clarkston, smashed into the auto of Albert Kuerbitz, 25, of 69 Fairgrove Ave., at 10:50 p.m. last night on Baldwin at Kennett road.

Blodget told Pontiac police he took his eyes off the road momentarily. He was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises and then arrested for driving without an operator's license.

His passenger, a 16-year-old girl, was found to be a truant from the Oakland County Children's Home and was returned there after being treated for lacerations of the chin.

Military Junta Bars Politicking

End Campaigning in Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haiti's heated presidential and congressional campaign ended last night as the ruling three-man military junta clamped a tight lid on all vote-getting activity.

★ ★ ★

The junta ordered a halt to campaigning to give the voters a 36-hour breather before going to the polls tomorrow to elect a president, 21 senators and 37 members of the Chamber of Deputies.

★ ★ ★

The military trio which has ruled this politically strife-torn republic since June also announced it will take control of all interior telegraph and other communication systems tomorrow to prevent their use in stirring up possible disorder.

★ ★ ★

The military chiefs barred the sale of gasoline and other explosive fluids from noon today through Sunday to avert their possible use in any violence.

Brig. Gen. Antonio Kebreau, army chief of staff and junta head, pledged the armed forces will guarantee free and honest elections. Haiti's 2,500-man army already has been alerted and 3,000 reserves also can be called up if violence breaks out.

★ ★ ★

The presidential post is being sought by three men. They are Louis Dejoie, a former senator; Dr. Francois Duvalier and Clement Jumelle. Another candidate, Daniel Fignole, was exiled to New York June 14.

Fignole, who had a large following among the masses, was acting president at the time he was sent from the country. Other candidates charged he was using the office to strengthen his bid to be elected. Trouble mounted and the junta took control.

★ ★ ★

Presidential elections were last held in Haiti in 1950 when Paul Magloire was named to the office. He attempted to extend his tenure last December in violation of the constitution and was ousted after a general strike.

Pulls His Son Out of White School

DEALE, Md. (AP)—Dr. Harry N. Jones, bowing to the pressure of brick-throwing, cross-burning segregationists, made plans today to enroll his 6-year-old son in another school.

"It's hard to understand, but maybe one of these days it won't be this way," the 42-year-old Negro physician said of the events which had swirled around him since he enrolled his boy in a nearby white school Sept. 5.

★ ★ ★

He was talking on the telephone to Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin while newsmen waited in his office. Jones had withdrawn his son from a newly-integrated schoolroom following a series of window-smashing, telephoned threats and the burning of a cross in his yard.

McKeldin promised him state police protection if he wanted to put the boy back in school and apparently was sympathizing for the turn of events. The governor proclaimed in a public statement that it was the "moronic" work of community "misfits" and would not be tolerated.

★ ★ ★

"It's just as shocking to me as it is to you, governor," Jones said. "I've been familiar with this area for 20 years. Up until the last five days I couldn't believe what was happening."

During that time:

1. Bricks smashed the windows of the rented-store where Harry Jones Jr. attended first grade with 25 white children.

2. Threatening phone calls came to the Jones residence advising the family to "buy a one-way ticket" across the Mason-Dixon line "and you had better sit on the back seat of the bus."

★ ★ ★

3. A "motorcade" of whites drove past Jones' house late at night.

4. A kerosene-soaked cross was burned Thursday night by a tree in front of Dr. Jones' office.

5. He received a notice from Anne Arundel County zoning authorities yesterday that his two-year-old office was being operated in violation of zoning laws and he had 15 days to get a special exemption or close it.

Jones said he plans to put his son back in school Monday — but not at Deale Elementary where he had started or at Shadyside, the Negro elementary school six miles from here.

He indicated he might enroll him in Washington, D.C., where he practices medicine four days a week and still maintains a residence, an apartment in the building in which his office is located.

Since Accident 2 Months Ago

Girl Talks for First Time

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa (AP) — Christine Sandstoe, 13, made a lot of people happy this week. She talked for the first time since July 22, when she was in an automobile accident.

★ ★ ★

Christine's father and the staff at the Evangelical Hospital here were almost as happy as she was.

For four weeks, since she recovered consciousness, they had waited for her to speak. She had tried to talk but cried when she failed.

★ ★ ★

Christine had verbal aphasia. Her doctor said there was a fracture behind her right ear in the area of the brain's speech center. She could understand things all right, he said, she just couldn't talk.

Hers was an unusual case, the doctor said, because of her long unconsciousness, the loss and sudden return of the power of speech. Aphasia occurs in only about one per cent of persons who have the type of brain lesion Christine had.

★ ★ ★

Christine made her first sounds Wednesday while her father, Ingwald Sandstoe of Beaman, was visiting her at the hospital. He encouraged her to try to make more sounds.

★ ★ ★

Soon she was talking eagerly of going home to see Tillie, her dog, and Brownie, her cat.

★ ★ ★

She said nothing about her mother, who, she knows, was killed in the crash.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LYLE (Murph) O'Neil who passed away Sept. 22, 1955.
Deep in our lives is a lonely spot,
Your bright face used to fill;
But, naught can take your memory,
That shines there, and always will.
Sadly missed by wife and children.

Steve Allen's Versatility Shows Up at All Times

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There can be no doubts about Steve Allen's versatility.

When he was late for an appointment, he explained he had been at the home of his ex-wife, who was ill. He had made breakfast, gotten their children off to school, cleaned up the house and had done the shopping at the supermarket.

Allen is here in his old stamping grounds for one of his Sunday night shows, which will be a preview of the new NBC TV season. Also here is his arch-rival, Ed Sullivan, and they almost came out on the same plane together. Both are staying at the Beverly Hills Hotel, but I haven't heard if the thoughtful management put them in different wings.

Is it coincidence that the rivals should be doing shows in Hollywood the same week?

★ ★ ★

"I don't know," said Steve. "All I know is that we were scheduled to come out here long ago, so maybe Ed jumped on the bandwagon."

Isn't he a little bored by the constant comparing of the two shows?

★ ★ ★

"Yes," he admitted. "All I'm trying to do is put on the best show possible. It's unfortunate we have to be thrown into a competitive situation all the time."

What are his current relations with Ed?

"The same as they have always been," he replied. "I knew him casually in New York. Once or twice I've done favors for him, replacing him on benefit shows he couldn't make."

★ ★ ★

Is he enjoying his work?

"Absolutely," he said. "I'd do this show for nothing.

"The nice thing about it is that I'm working with most of the same gang who did the 'Tonight' show with me. But on the 'Tonight' show I could come in a few minutes before show time and go on. It was five per cent preparation and 95 per cent ad lib. The Sunday show is the reverse."

Never one to stand still, Steve also keeps up his song writing, writing short stories, and recording. He has some smooth albums of piano playing and mood backgrounds on the market.

★ ★ ★

And what does he do in his spare time?

"I eat apples," he said, munching on an apple.

Network Radio Programs Fare Best in the Daytime

NEW YORK (INS) — The average nighttime network show, says the new national Neilsen ratings, has an audience of 337,000 radio homes, while daytimers pull in an average audience of 770,000 sets.

Biggest audiences went to "Nora Drake" and "Ma Perkins," with 1,348,000 radio homes apiece, a fraction of the good old days' listeners.

Rex Harrison, very unhappy with his lines in CBS-TV's "Crescendo" script, has brought in London Pal Peter Ustinov to perk up his dawdling role.

Vick Knight, one of early radio's funniest fellows, was offered a CBS show but refused. "It would interfere with my paper route," Vick explained . . . Actually Vick's well-heeled, and his next project is Bob Feller's life story for a movie.

Sponsor magazine cites the newest trend: "High fashion models replacing the homey girl-next-door type." (Those skinny characters in TV, too:) . . . .

ANOTHER WESTERN

Jimmy Saphier, Bob Hope's partner, now owns the title "Western Union" for a TV series set in, naturally, the old West. . . .

Both NBC and CBS are bidding for Shirley McLaine.

Chico Marx owns — off the top — 15 per cent of all theatrical reruns of old Marx brothers movies, which keeps him in gin rummy money.

Playhouse 90's trying to corner the market on TV's best directors; Alex Segal signed aboard . . .

John J. Anthony has a problem! John wants a network TV show and no bites so far.

"Meet the Press" picks up a fine full-network NBC sponsor in January.

"The Old Philosopher" is our newest commercial pain in the ear and eye . . .

Basel, Switzerland, which is 500 miles from the sea up the Rhine River, takes in and moves out about 4 million tons of overseas ship cargo each year.

Drivers to Get New Eye Test

Optometrists to Assist in License Experiment Tuesday, Wednesday

If you intend to apply for a driver's license or renew an expired one Tuesday or Wednesday, you will also participate in a statewide vision testing program.

Eight area optometrists will be on duty at the Pontiac Police Violations Bureau then to assist in a series of tests conducted throughout the state by the Michigan Optometric Association, according to Dr. George Harkless, chairman of the local Motorist Vision and Highway Safety Committee of the group.

They are: Drs. Lynn Allen Jr., F. Milton Hathaway, Henry Miller and Harkless, all of Pontiac; Paul Connolly of Royal Oak; Sherman Harding of Romeo; James St. Louis of Drayton Plains and Lawrence Stoll of Union Lake.

A special screening test for motorist vision developed and used by the secretary of state's office for drivers who have been in violation of the law will be used according to Harkless.

The purpose of the testing is to try to strengthen the belief of the association that the Michigan driver's vision test should be modernized and such tests should also be standardized throughout the United States by enabling legislation.

Bitten in Wooden Leg

ROY, N.M. —Herman O. Ogren, biologist for the New Mexico Game Department, was gathering wood near here when bitten by a rattlesnake. His companion, Shelvy Lowrance, ran to his aid with a first aid kit. "Don't get excited," soothed Ogren. "This fool snake sank his fangs in a prosthetic appliance — commonly known as a wooden leg."

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonofone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.

Women's hairdos hide it completely. On men, this amazing hearing aid is barely noticeable from any angle.
