Don't Support Iraq Move, Israel Warns Britain

British Ship Picks Up Lost Plane's Wheels

LONDON (AP)—A Royal Air Force spokesman said today a British ship has picked up the wheels and part of the undercarriage from the U. S. Military Transport plane missing since Wednesday in the Atlantic with 59 U. S. servicemen.

"It gives us new hope that there might be a dinghy or dinghies in the area with survivors," the RAF officer said in Cornwall. "A new search is now being gradually built up around the area in which the wreckage was found."

A U. S. Air Force spokesman in London said he could not confirm the wreckage was from the missing plane, a C118 Liftmaster.

The debris was picked up by the British tanker Navicella about 370 miles west of Land's End, the most southwesterly point of Britain.

U. S. Air Force authorities here said the serial numbers of the wheels still had to be checked with the numbers of the wheels of the missing aircraft before it could be definitely established they were the same.

A high-speed British launch was dispatched to the tanker to pick up the wreckage.

The U. S. Air Force announced earlier today that its search for survivors would continue indefinitely.

"We cannot see any curtailment at this time, and the search is continuing on schedule," an Air Force spokesman said.

The big military transport version of the DC6 disappeared last Wednesday night on a flight from England to the United States by way of the Azores. It carried 50 Air Force men returning home after duty in Britain and nine Navy crewmen.

Numerous investigations have been carried out after planes or ships reported picking up distress signals or sighting life rafts, flares, wreckage, dye markers and other objects.

All the reports fizzled out.

Dondero Offers Reliable Text to Young Readers

Retiring Congressman George A. Dondero has a suggestion for parents whose kids can't read—and he has the experience to back it up.

His solution is McGuffey's Reader, the ancient standard textbook used for nearly 100 years in one-room schools throughout the nation.

Dondero brought a number of copies of the old book to a reunion Sunday in Troy's Big Beaver Methodist Church, held by the original class he taught 50 years ago.

Twenty of his 50 students showed up, and some of them brought their grandchildren.

Recalling the start of his three-year stint as a teacher in 1905, 1906 and 1907, Dondero said:

"I was running a small meat shop in Royal Oak when Miss Pearl Lamb, the teacher, became ill. I was asked to take the job.

"I got the big pay of $45 a month."

Expect Dewey Talk to Raise $50,000

FLINT (AP) — Genesee County Republicans said today they expect to raise "more than $50,000" when former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey comes here Tuesday for what is billed as major GOP campaign address.

The affair is a box supper at Flint's 6,000-seat IMA Auditorium, with prices on a sliding scale of $50, $25 and $10.

Dewey, unsuccessful 1948 presidential aspirant, will speak over a nationwide television and radio (ABC) hookup. His 30-minute talk is scheduled for 7:30.

Arthur E. Summerfield Jr., son of the postmaster general and chairman of the "social," said it will raise funds for Genesee County's share of the national GOP's television and radio costs.

County Officials to Eye Longer Highway in Area

See Supervisor Action on Pledge of $90,000 for Northwestern

Meeting tomorrow morning in the County Office Building, Oakland County supervisors will act on a resolution pledging $90,000 a year in Road Commission state weight and gas tax revenues for the next 20 years to aid in extending Northwestern Highway west to US 23 in Livingston County.

Under the current plan, the State and Federal governments will pay equal shares of the $37 million project, with the county's installments returning to the state.

According to the State Highway Department, the project is slated to begin early in 1957.

Supervisors will hear a report from Howard K. Kelley of Royal Oak, chairman of the Southeast Michigan Water Authority, on progress his group has made in planning a water pipeline to Lake Huron to serve Oakland and Macomb counties.

Also slated for action is a resolution creating a central filing system for records of traffic violators. Recommending the action, Miscellaneous Committee Chairman Winson S. Moberely will tell the board such records would facilitate the work of county justices, providing quick checks on previous records of offenders in their courts.

Supervisors will hear a request from municipalities involved in the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer project, asking the county to place its full faith and credit behind finances for the project.

Advocates of the action say the county "couldn't lose" money since it controls payments to all county municipalities of state sales tax distribution.

If the board agrees to the action, bond attorneys say new legislation would be needed from Lansing to make the action legal.

The move is intended to enable Southfield Township to pay its share of the project's cost to facilitate sale of bonds.

In other action, re-appointment of 12 incumbents in county appointive offices is expected.

Plan to Bolster Jordan Troops Stirs War Talk

English Trying to Calm Fears of Arab Attack as Tension Mounts

JERUSALEM (AP) — In a statement apparently aimed at Britain, Israel warned today against support for any move by Iraqi troops into Arab Jordan.

Tension was sharp on both sides of the Israel-Jordan border and there was talk in Israel of renewed danger of war as the result of reported plans by Iraq to send troops to bolster young King Hussein's shaky Jordan regime.

"Whoever encourages and abets actively or passively, Iraq in the realization of its schemes takes upon himself grave responsibility," said an Israeli Foreign Ministry statement.

The statement did not mention Britain by name.

In London, however, a British Foreign Office spokesman said the government of Prime Minister Eden has advised Israel that the dispatch of Iraq troops to Jordan would "contribute to stability in a troubled area."

The British purpose was represented as an effort to calm the fears of the Israeli government that the existing balance in the Middle East would be upset by an Iraqi move.

The British are reported to fear that King Hussein's Jordan regime is in danger of collapse from pressures from extreme Arab nationalist elements backed by Egypt. Jordan is holding nationwide elections next Sunday.

The U.S. government is reported backing the British view.

The British Foreign Office spokesman said today that in Britain's view the sending of Iraqi troops to Jordan would not infringe "either the letter or the spirit of the Israel-Jordanian armistice agreement."

In Cairo, Salah Salem, former Egyptian propaganda minister, declared Iraqi Premier Nuri Said was engineering a "plot" to occupy Jordan.

Iraq is a member of the British-sponsored Baghdad Pact which has been assailed by President Nasser as an "imperialist" agency undermining Arab unity. King Hussein of Jordan and King Faisal II of Iraq are cousins. Both are of the Hashemite family.

Britain and Jordan have an alliance, and Jordan last week formally called on Britain for Royal Air Force support during an alleged attack by Israeli planes in a border clash.

A London spokesman explained today that the fighting died down before the use of Israeli aircraft could be confirmed.

Salem, still a close friend of Nasser's, declared in a newspaper statement that Iraqi Premier Said was the "head agent of British imperialism in the whole Arab world."

Israel today distributed to all foreign legations in the country a report of a Baghdad radio broadcast in which Iraq reminded that a "state of war still exists between Iraq and Israel."

"The Arab world will soon realize that Iraq will stand at the side of her sister nations to repel Zionist aggression," the broadcast was quoted as saying.

The broadcast explained that it was intended to refute "insults" in the Syrian press that Iraq was unfaithful to sister Arab nations. But the Israeli Foreign Office said it confirmed Israeli charges that Iraq desires "territorial expansion and aggression."

Talks on TV Tonight

Adlai Begins Fund Drive; to Restate Bomb Views

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson launched the "Dollars for Democrats" today by knocking at the door of a man who called himself "the other Democrat" in Libertyville and collecting $5.

Stevenson drove into Libertyville from his farm, where he is putting the finishing touches to a major speech he will deliver over nationwide television tonight on his proposal to ban H-bomb tests.

He worked on the speech over the weekend when he and his advisers decided at a two-day conference that the H-bomb and Vice President Nixon would be their primary talking points during the final three weeks of the presidential race.

Stevenson did his fund soliciting at the home of William G. Wells, 74, a retired baby shoe salesman.

"We're covering the neighborhood," Stevenson said. "We're covering every neighborhood in the country."

Wells smiled, held out a $5 bill, and told Stevenson:

"You came to the right place, governor. You know as well as I do that there are not too many Democrats in Lake County.

"Sometimes I feel that I'm the other Democrat."

Stevenson's plans for the rest of the day call for him to leave Libertyville and drive the 37 miles to Chicago early in the afternoon.

After conferring with his staff at his office he will go to the television station to make his 9:30 p.m. (EST) TV and radio address over the American Broadcasting Co. network. (Channel 7 in Detroit.)

The candidate's aides said the TV appearance will be part address and part panel discussion with two Democratic senators, Clinton Anderson of New Mexico and Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Ike to Step Up Campaign Pace

Slates 5 Straight Days of Speeches; Embarks for West Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, leaving tomorrow on a trip to the West Coast, takes the lead this week in stepping up the tempo of the Republican campaign.

For the first time since opening his re-election drive, he has political speeches scheduled — either recorded or out on the stump — five days in a row.

From his standpoint, the quickened campaign pace starts tonight with two filmed five-minute talks on nationwide television.

The first over NBC will be at 8:25 p.m., EST, the second over ABC at 9:25 p.m.

Tomorrow night he will be on coast-to-coast TV again, also for five minutes, with another filmed appeal over CBS for votes.

The time: 6:55 p.m.

These recorded talks are the first in a series of 33 which between now and election day Nov. 6 will feature the President, members of his Cabinet and other leading Republicans. The series is called "Your Government and You."

For Eisenhower, who observed his 66th birthday anniversary quietly with his family yesterday, the business of getting out around the country more in a bid for votes starts tomorrow morning.

He will leave then by plane, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, on a four-day tour which will take him to the Pacific Northwest with stops on the way out in Minnesota and on the way back in Colorado.

First Winds Inflict Damage

Storm Warnings Posted in Florida

MIAMI (INS)—The Florida Gold Coast braced itself for the expected onslaught of a storm drifting northward from Cuba today as winds up to 50 MPH raked the Greater Miami region.

The high winds inflicted minor damage on the coast, smashing windows, uprooting trees and even wrecking a small building in Miami.

The Weather Bureau ordered storm warnings posted from Melbourne, Fla., southward to the keys and at 5 a. m. (EST) placed the storm 120 miles south of Miami, drifting slowly northward.

Driving winds and rain shattered plate glass windows in stores throughout Date (Miami) County and a small frame structure in suburban Miami was demolished.

WIRES DOWN

No injuries were reported, but high tension wires were torn down throughout the area.

* * *

Tides at Miami Beach were more than a foot above normal today, and Miami International Airport reported flights from Cuba and South America were running 10 minutes to two hours behind schedule.

No drownings were reported but the Coast Guard was forced to tow several small boats to shore yesterday as high waves smacked shore lines.

Further north at Cocoa, a 14 year-old boy was tossed from a cabin cruiser and presumed drowned in Lake Poinsett.

The youth was identified as Henry Vukoty, a student at Orlando Edgewater High School. The mishap occurred during a sudden squall yesterday.

Divorcee Killed, Boy Friend Held

2 Daughters Are Shot Trying to Help Mother in Quarrel

A 29-year-old divorcee was killed and two daughters who ran to her aid were wounded by a jealous suitor who emptied his .38 caliber revolver at them in their house Saturday night.

* * *

The man, Zackarios Smoot, 39, turned himself in after shooting Mrs. Bessie McKinney of 18 Clovese St., and firing bullets at Joan, 14, and Tanya, 6, Pontiac police said.

Tanya, who ran downstairs with another sister when she heard the two quarreling, is in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital. She was wounded in the left leg. Joan required only minor treatment for a wound in her right ear lobe, hospital authorities said.

The trouble started, Det. Herbert Cooley said, as Smoot, of 206 Wessen St., was visiting the McKinney home and another man knocked at the rear door, asking for Mrs. McKinney.

DAUGHTERS COME DOWN

A quarrel resulted in the kitchen after the man left, Smoot told Cooley, and Tanya with her sister, Karen, 11, came down to the kitchen from upstairs where they had been sleeping.

Smoot said he fired at Karen to keep her away but hit Tanya by mistake. As Karen helped her sister back upstairs, he said, Joan started down and he shot her.

The mother, he stated, then turned to run out the back door for help and he emptied his last four shots at her.

* * *

Police said Smoot then drove to headquarters where he handed over the gun and gave himself up. They said they expect to seek a warrant later this week charging first-degree murder.

Neither Karen nor a son, Andrew, 2, who was sleeping on a living room couch, were injured, police added.

Eisenhower will be campaigning in Seattle Tuesday night when the orchestra opens its season.

Child Wounds Self With Gun

Police Seek Concealed Weapon Count Against Novi Twp. Father

Detroit police today are planning to request a concealed weapon charge against a Novi Township man whose five-year-old son critically wounded himself Saturday night. Investigators said the father left the gun in the family car with five children.

Paul Holland, who reportedly shot himself in the stomach with a .32 caliber automatic, remained in critical condition at a Detroit hospital late this morning.

His father, James, 27, has been held by police since the incident. Mrs. Lillian Holland, 25, was released Sunday after questioning, in order that she could be with her ailing child and care for the four other boys.

"We're going to talk to the Wayne County prosecutor's office about a warrant today. Holland said he found the gun and a spotlight in some grass and had planned to hold both until today to see if there was any reward offered for them in the paper," stated Det. Riney Paul of the Chene station.

Paul said Holland claims he found the gun and light in a paper bag while changing a tire near a Plymouth gas station.

The shooting occured later in a Sears Roebuck parking lot at 8800 Gratiot Ave., when James left the children to visit his brother, who works nearby, while his wife was shopping. The child found the loaded gun on the floor of the car and was apparently playing with it when it went off, police said.

Investigators have been unable to trace the gun's registration or determine how it happened to be left by the roadside. "We found no registration for it in Detroit and are now awaiting word from Lansing," Paul said.

A French spokesman said it had not yet been settled when the mediation talks with Hammarskjold would be held.

Pontiac's New Junior High Lauded by MSU Educator

Pontiac's new one-and-a-quarter-million dollar junior high school was dedicated yesterday before approximately 600 parents, friends and educators.

The program at Madison Junior High School, 1275 N. Perry, which attracted a double salute by five jet airplanes, featured Dr. Donald Leu as main speaker. Dr. Leu is associate professor of educational administration and director of building planning for Michigan State University.

Dr. Leu's topic "A School for Tomorrow" took guests through a verbal tour of the new school explaining cost, features and the assumptions which must go into planning.

In comparing cost of the buildings to like schools in other cities, Dr. Leu said the new school cost approximately $2,500 per pupil whereas another school in a nearby city cost taxpayers $4,000 per pupil.

Dr. Leu accounted that the new Madison school was built on assumptions, that children learn differently; that success is a better inducement to learning than failure; that a student must be challenged to the utmost and that self discipline is a necessary function of such a building.

"This building does more than any building I have seen or assisted on, to further these aims," the speaker said.

He said the building is used as an example in national educational circles and is regarded as a pioneer in school building for its advanced features.

In presenting the building as a new structure in the list of Pontiac schools, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, urged extra dedication from parents to give the new school the help it needs and will need in future generations.

Accepting for the Pontiac Board of Education was its president, Louis H. Schimmel.

C. H. Haberkorn III, general manager for H. E. Beyster and Associates, the architectural firm responsible for Madison Junior High, presented a banner to the new school. Lynn D. Allen and Mrs. Alice Jewell, of Cook-Nelson Post of the American Legion, presented an American flag to the school. Accepting were student council presidents, Charlene Dortch and Thomas Hoisington.

Mayor William W. Donaldson proclaimed the week Oct. 14-20 as James Madison Junior High School week in Pontiac.

Others on the program were George Yansen, Madison Junior High principal, Dr. Otto Hufziger, administrative assistant superintendent of schools; the Rev. Edmond Watkins, pastor of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church and Mrs. Lyle Cox, president of the Madison PTSA.

The Junior High School Glee Club under the direction of William Coffing provided music. Instructor Jean MacFarlane also sang.

An open house followed the dedication festivities and visitors toured the new building.

Minton to End Judicial Career

Sits for Last Time Today as High Court Ponders Integration Cases

WASHINGTON (INS)—Supreme Court Justice Sherman Minton winds up his judicial career today.

Minton, 66 next Saturday, is retiring from the high court bench and will be succeeded tomorrow by William J. Brennan, 50, of New Jersey, who becomes the 90th justice in the nation's history.

Minton plans to leave Washington for his former home in New Albany, Ind. His final task as a justice is expected to be finished today when the court hands down orders on whether pending appeals will be reviewed.

Minton has participated in conferences in these cases, and sat in on arguments last week. Aides said they had no information on whether he will take part in deciding them.

* * *

One case in which the court is expected to decide whether or not it will hear arguments is an appeal from the Dallas, Tex., School Board from a 2-to-1 circuit court ruling ordering an immediate hearing on integration.

The circuit court had overruled a district judge who held that the school board was making progress and that 27 Negro students who sought admission to white schools were not entitled to immediate entrance.

In another case, six members of the Sumter County, S.C., colony of Turkish descent are asking to attend integrated schools. Most children of the colony—supposedly descended from shipwreck victims of the 1700s—now go to separate Turkish schools.

The Day in Birmingham

City May Join in Drive for Federal Drain Aid

BIRMINGHAM — Commissioners are enjoined in a letter from Garden City officials to join in their efforts by accepting a resolution tonight to seek federal aid against flooding.

"The problem is large enough in scope and character and covers a wide enough area that it has become a state and national problem, Mayor Enos W. Schaller of Garden City tells Birmingham leaders.

That city's voters have voted a $2,750,000 bond issue for storm facilities, but worry about flooding of the Rouge River in other areas that would affect their own area.

Also on tonight's agenda for Birmingham commissioners is adjournment of the Twining Property Zoning hearing until later date, a request for drainage on West Lincoln Road and permission for Birmingham Cleaners to erect a pylon sign.

Charles Randolph III will ask the city to boost for better road care of Derby road by Troy or county forces.

Lengthy reports on employment retirement and allocation of costs of the North Evergreen Authority are being given commissioners for tonight's perusal.

Ferndale Man Jailed for Assault Charge

Clifford Freeman, 38, of 21384 Majestic St., Ferndale, demanded examination when he was arraigned Saturday on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

He was remanded to the Oakland County Jail without bond following the hearing before Madison Heights Justice Hendrick Smith.

Freeman was arrested by Royal Oak Township police last week shortly after he allegedly shot and wounded a man and women at the woman's Ferndale home.

The injured persons, Richard Thornton, 43, of 20818 Eldridge St., and Mrs. Bessie Gill, 36, of 21416 Majestic St., are still under treatment at Mt. Carmel Hospital and were reported in "good" condition this morning.

Kennedy Loses 'Soup and Fish' Before Dinner

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy had a little difficulty here last night before delivering the address at a nonpartisan dinner sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

* * *

The dinner had to be held up until Kennedy could locate his suitcase—and the tuxedo it contained. It had been misplaced at the airport.

One of the K. of C. officials then referred to him as "Sen. Wagner" of New York.

Then it came the turn of Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh to formally introduce Kennedy. With a big smile, he introduced him as "Sen. John Fitzgerald!"

* * *

By this time the crowd was roaring with laughter. Hurriedly Lawrence said he had been thinking of Kennedy's grandfather, former Boston Mayor John Fitzgerald.

Council on Education May Urge U.S. Dollar Aid for College Students

CHICAGO (AP) — A subcommittee of the American Council on Education has recommended the federal government set up a program of college scholarships estimated to cost 200 million dollars a year.

* * *

Payments would go directly to students.

The recommendation still must be considered by its Committee on Relationships of Higher Education to the Federal Government. Then it would go before the full council.

A council official said opinion on the proposal "has not crystallized" enough to forecast final disposition of the subcommittee's recommendation.

DECISION IN MONTH

The relationships committee meets next month. Pending its report, the council has called only for further exploration of scholarship needs.

The council also reaffirmed its stand of previous years in favor of an income tax credit for parents paying their children's way through school.

Noting that each year some 100,000 of the nation's ablest high school graduates are unable to go on to college because of financial reasons, the subcommittee reported:

* * *

1. "In the light of the national needs and in view of the necessary size of the program and the unequal ability of states to meet the needs, the establishment of a national scholarship program by the federal government is recommended."

2. Grants "should not be limited by inequalities in the abilities of states to provide scholarship aid."

3. The program "must be begun soon" but should be "reviewed at regular intervals."

4. It should aim to "supplement and not to replace existing scholarship programs."

100,000 TO BENEFIT

The report contains a table showing grants averaging $500 per year per student. If all 100,000 of those estimated as needing help were to receive this amount, the total cost thus would be 200 million dollars per year after the plan had been in operation four years.

Chairman of the subcommittee is Roscoe West, president of Trenton, N. J., State Teachers College.

The subcommittee urges that federal funds "not be used to encourage students financially able to attend an adequate institution merely to seek admission to other institutions at a higher cost."

* * *

It recommends also that the student have full freedom to choose his own course of study at any accredited college or university and that "there should be no discrimination because of race, creed, color or sex."

The U.S. Office of Education would determine standards for selecting students, with the aid of an advisory council, but the program would be administered by state educational authorities.

A percentage of each year's high school graduates, the same percentage for every state, would be fixed as a quota. Provision would be made to pay administrative costs incurred by states and institutions.

In other resolutions the council voted "wholehearted support" to the President's Committee of Education beyond the high school "in its efforts to bring public opinion to bear on the critical issues with which it is concerned" and called for closer relationships between higher education and business, industry and labor.

Feared Hitler Would Take Dough

Two Bandits Rob $12,000 From Cab Driver's Hoard

WEST BABYLON, N.Y. (AP)—Police plan to count today the hundreds of crumpled bills and tarnished coins they found scattered through the ramshackle house of a retired cab driver and his recluse sister.

Patrolmen stumbled on the dusty treasure hoard Saturday after John Van Huda, 58, telephoned and said two men had robbed him of $12,000 at his home.

When police arrived they were astonished to find money littered through the nine-room Long Island house like so much trash. Each room was also stuffed with old newspapers, rags, boxes and bottles.

Rats had nibbled on some of the bills lying on the floor. Other bills were worn thin from passing feet.

Two thugs posing as deliverymen talked Van Huda into letting them in. They hit him over the head and dug out an estimated $12,000 from under a mattress. The robbers stuffed the cash in a feed bag and fled.

* * *

How much did the thugs miss in the money-cluttered house?

First estimates placed the total at $50,000. But later Babylon Police Chief Percy K. Hempstead said he couldn't say how much there was.

Asked why the money was kept in the house, Van Huda's sister Jeanette, 64, said:

"That's because of that Hitler . . . Johnnie got very excited because he thought Hitler was going to take over the whole world. He thought if he kept the money in the house, Hitler wouldn't look for it there."

Van Huda said: "You know how it is, you need money around the house for emergencies."

* * *

Neighbors were startled to learn that the shabby Van Huda house was crammed with riches. Some said they had lived in the area for 30 years and had never seen Miss Van Huda.

"That's not true," she said. "I was out 10 years ago. It's my feet. They keep me in most of the time. They always hurt me."

Britain's first trunk phone dialing system, London to Bristol, will start in 1959.

Chicago Killing Charged to Boy

15-Year-Old Youth Held for Ice Pick Slaying of Woman Resisting Theft

CHICAGO (AP) — A slippery 15-year-old boy was held today for grand jury action as the admitted ice pick slayer of a 46-year-old woman who resisted a purse snatch.

Police said Kelly Bennett, a Negro fugitive from a state boys reformatory, admitted he stabbed Miss Mildred Hayes, a high school librarian, because she fought and "started to scream."

* * *

Also awaiting grand jury action as an accessory was Herbert W. Leak, 15, who Bennett said shared in the $6.65 he took from the dead woman's purse last Wednesday.

Leak denied being present when Miss Hayes was attacked in front of her home on the South Side, or getting part of the money.

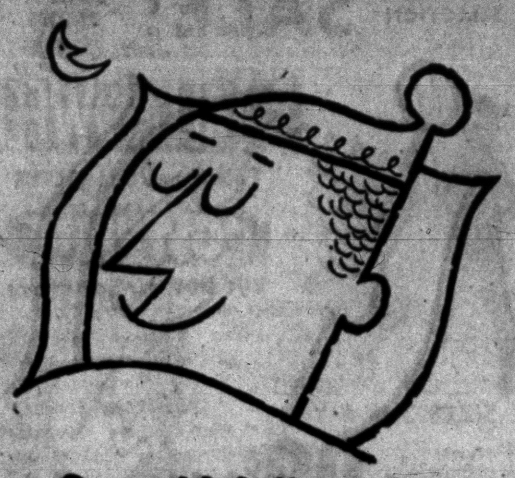

Police Lt. Harold Enright said the Bennett boy broke down yesterday and confessed he killed Miss Hayes, after previously maintaining no knowledge of the crime.

* * *

Police quoted Bennett:

"I grabbed her purse but she wouldn't let go of it. I tried to twist her arm behind her, but she grabbed me by the throat and began choking me."

Miss Hayes, the ice pick's shaft embedded in her back, was found hysterical on a neighbor's front step two hours after the attack. She went into a fatal coma a few minutes later.

SAGGY MATTRESS? When springs get weak in their old age, you might as well be sleeping in a hammock for all the support you get. This old sway-back should be put out to pasture and replaced by a new Beautyrest mattress with matching box spring . . . the perfect combination for restful sleep.

SHORTY MATTRESS? You don't have to take this lying down, especially when you can get a new king-size Beautyrest. They're 6'-8" for extra leg room. Or, if you're a roller, there are extra-wide Beautyrest sizes available. These super-size models give super comfort.

MATTRESS TOO HARD OR TOO SOFT? It's a hard fight to get to sleep, and you lose with so-called posture-type mattress. Too hard for comfort is one extreme, and too soft for support is the other. Only Beautyrest combines the firmness you need with body-fitting comfort you want.

Mayor of Adrian Dies of Hemorrhage

ADRIAN (AP) — Adrian today mourned the death of Mayor Claude E. Porter, who died Saturday night after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage in a downtown restaurant.

Porter, 61, was elected in 1949 and was serving his fourth consecutive term.

He received national attention last year when he led a campaign on Congress to obtain federal payments in lieu of local taxes on government-owned industrial plants. He launched the effort when the federal government refused to pay taxes on a large plant in Adrian owned by the Air Force.

Congress adopted legislation proposed by Porter and last March the city received a government payment of $87,000. Payment to other communities for similar reasons totaled some three million dollars.

Tough '60 Race Seen by Dewey

'All Human Experience' Against Nixon in Fight for GOP Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey forecasts "a real bang-up contest" for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, with Vice President Nixon handicapped in one respect.

Any idea that Nixon is sure to get the nomination runs contrary to "all human experience," Dewey said in a filmed television interview yesterday.

* * *

He described Nixon as the best vice president ever, but said "I think only once or twice in history has a vice president been nominated for president."

Dewey said a vice president must perform his duties quietly lest he "compete with his own president," and that Nixon would be at a disadvantage in building himself up as a presidential aspirant.

Members of the Senate and governors and even Cabinet officers are under no such restrictions — no such wraps," Dewey added. Asked about his own plans, the GOP nominee in 1944 and 1948 said he has no intention of returning to public life.

* * *

Nixon's future prospects came up when a questioner asked whether, in view of the two-term limitation on presidents, Nixon would become the real leader of the GOP if President Eisenhower is re-elected.

"So long as Dwight Eisenhower is president," Dewey replied, "he's going to be running this country, and he'll run the Republican party."

U.S. Clerk Leaves Embassy Post; Spying Charged

VIENNA (AP) — Vera Margaret Osso, a U. S. Embassy clerk ordered out of Czechoslovakia by the Communist government, took refuge in the embassy here today.

* * *

An embassy spokesman said Miss Osso arrived from Prague last night and refused to see any reporters or photographers because "she is in a very disturbed mental state."

* * *

The spokesman added that she will leave for the United States on the first available plane. She is 31 years old, a graduate of Ohio State University and gives Yorkville, Ohio, as her home.

Miss Osso was accused by the Prague government of traveling around Czechoslovakia under false identification papers which were made out in the name of a Czech woman.

* * *

The U.S. State Department admitted the charge was true but denied any espionage was involved. It blamed the affair on a Czechoslovak man "who influenced her to accompany him on a motor trip to Slovakia during which he provided and presented false documentation for her."

250,000 Embrace Buddhism

Untouchables Convert

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Nearly a quarter of a million persons at the bottom of the Hindu caste system embraced Buddhism yesterday in perhaps the biggest mass religious conversion in all time.

India's oldest Buddhist priest, Maha Thera Chadramani, 83, chanted the Buddhist oath in the Pali tongue in front of the untouchable at the city of Nagpur. The converts, many of whom had traveled hundreds of miles, gave response in Marathi.

By Hindu custom untouchables are without any caste—literally outside human society. Traditionally they work only at the lowliest and dirtiest jobs and never associate with their social superiors. The segregation still is practiced widely although it has been made a serious legal offense in modern India.

* * *

The converts are followers of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, a framer of India's constitution who was born an untouchable, and his wife, a doctor who was born into Hinduism's highest caste, the Brahmins. They became Buddhists several years ago.

Ambedkar has been campaigning since India became independent in 1947 for untouchables to leave what he calls the Hindu "oppression and inequality" for Buddhism.

Democrat Praises Registration Booths

Mrs. Pauline Mott, Democratic chairman of voter registration, today praised Pontiac and Royal Oak for maintaining downtown registration booths and called on other county communities to follow their example.

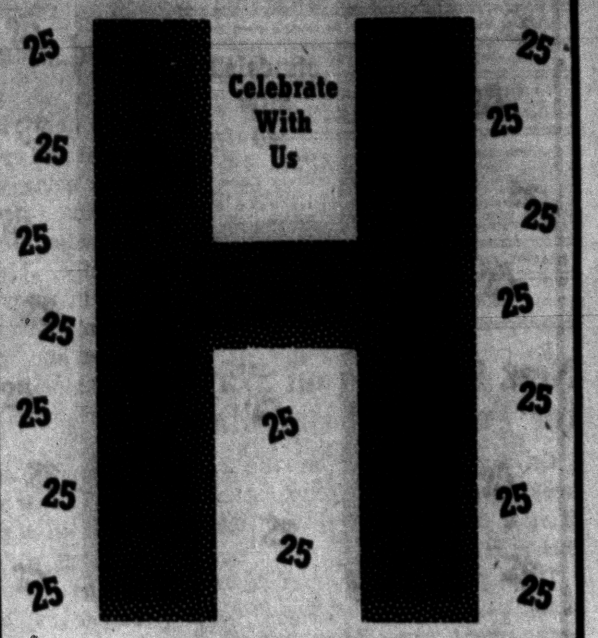

"The city halls perform a splendid service in registration, but they could do a much better job in setting up these booths in the heaviest traveled parts of the city or town," Mrs. Mott said.

She said the Pontiac booth registered 4,658 voters, while about 2,500 were registered in the Royal Oak booth during the first two weeks of its operation.

Unwanted Curb Service

DALLAS (AP)—A man in a quiet residential section reported a 41-passenger charter bus was parked in front of his house. Police had issued a statewide alert for it after the driver reported it had been taken from in front of a downtown hotel during the night. Police speculated someone must have gone for a joy ride in it.

New Facilities on Way for Two Local Hospitals

On successive days in the past week have come two announcements of vital interest to every resident of this area.

These promise sorely needed additional hospital facilities. The first announcement came from the U. S. Public Health Service. It was to the effect that preliminary approval had been given to an $85,892 Federal grant to Pontiac General Hospital for the construction and equipment of an out-patient clinic there.

The second was by Sister Mary William, administrator of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She told the Press that bids on the first secion of the $6,000,000 addition, a boiler room and laundry, already have been received and are being tabulated.

St. Joseph's need for expansion is emphasized by the fact that when this section is completed, the laundry will be used to accommodate 53 beds pending completion of the main structure. The administration added that because of rising building costs, there is a possibility that the 200 bed addition will go over the estimated $6,000,000 mark.

Under the terms of the grant, approved last month by the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, the money to be given Pontiac General must be used for construction and equipment of a new out-patient clinic.

In voicing pleasure over the Federal grant, William P. Babcock, chairman of Pontiac General Hospital's board of trustees, said "we will need more before we get through." He also said that the board will make more applications for Federal assistance.

★ ★ ★

These announcements indeed are good news for Pontiac. Both hospitals have been so overcrowded in recent months that at different times they have been forced to put beds in corridors. In a rapidly growing community like ours, the need for additional hospital facilities also is increasing at a rapid rate.

Return to Two Plates a Long Overdue Step

Michigan's decision to return to the use of two license plates for automobiles for the first time since 1944 is probably wise.

For years the Michigan Sheriffs Association and the Association of Chiefs of Police have urged readoption of the two plate system. They contend that it is a much needed aid to traffic law enforcement as 85 per cent of license reading for that purpose depends on a front plate.

★ ★ ★

The one plate vogue has been in force for 12 years. It began with a wartime effort to save steel and was continued through inertia despite agitation by law enforcement authorities and strong editorial support throughout the State.

The new plates will have white lettering and numerals on a maroon background. This color combination was chosen as most effective after exhaustive tests at the General Motors Milford Proving Grounds.

★ ★ ★

So far none of the new plates have reached Pontiac and LeRoy F. Kellogg, assistant branch manager for the Pontiac Secretary of State's office, said it is not yet known when they will go on sale.

Here is a step in the right direction dictated by common sense and experience and long advocated by this newspaper. It should have support.

Third Avenue's Rebirth

In the wake of the removal of New York's ugly Third Avenue El, a significant and eye pleasing transformation is being wrought on the Lower East Side.

According to the Downtown Idea Exchange, that city's "dreariest street in town" rapidly is becoming Gotham's new Gold Coast. It is being repaved and widened from 60 to 70 feet, fluorescent lighted and planted with trees every 40 feet.

Major office buildings and new luxury apartments are springing up at an unprecedented rate. As a result, thousands of families will be able to move into the city rather than out. They will live in superior apartments within walking distance of many of the city's best business areas.

Undoubtedly East Side merchants and residents alike, as well as visitors will welcome this rejuvenation of what generally was regarded for many years as a slum area and an eyesore.

David Lawrence Says:

Party Politics Can Mislead Voters

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower seems to understand the American system of party politics better than some of the dabblers in it who profess sometimes to speak for him, only to sharpen the differences inside the Republican party and unwittingly stir up bad feeling.

The President handled tactfully at his press conference the other day an obvious attempt to embroil him with members of the Republican party who sometimes have not agreed with his policies. It's a maneuver the Democrats have tried often in the present campaign in the hope of embittering a segment of Republican voters so that they will stay at home on election day.

But it is a little odd to see Paul G. Hoffman, one of the President's closest friends, putting himself into a position where what he says can be used in such a maneuver in the middle of an election battle that depends for success on preserving the maximum amount of harmony in every state organization.

Hoffman, writing in a magazine, sought to describe the President as feeling that "those who are not with me are against me," and implied that Eisenhower would like to read certain senators out of the Republican party. This is suggestive of the kind of "purge" technique that FDR tried on Walter George of Georgia and that Harry Truman tried with respect to Democrats who didn't go along with him in Congress. It never worked. The people resented it at the polls.

Hoffman writes of "the isolationist-fortress-America half of the Republican party" and says that in the fall of 1950 "the isolationist half of our leadership seemed about to smother the modern half of our party." But Hoffman must have forgotten or perhaps he didn't read what was going on in Washington when he was travelling abroad so much those days as head of the Economic Cooperation Administration under President Truman.

The record shows that an overwhelming number of the Republicans in the Senate under the leadership of Sen. Taft voted on July 21, 1949, to ratify the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which ended "isolation" for America by declaring that "an armed attack against any one or more of them (the signatory countries) shall be considered an attack on all."

There are differences of opinion within both parties in Congress on some phases of foreign policy today but these are largely as to the degree or extent that Uncle Sam should play Santa Claus with the American taxpayers' funds.

MEN ALWAYS DIFFER

Again and again in past administrations, in recent years, men of principle have differed with the executive. These are not the days of Mark Hanna or Thaddeus Stevens when a party caucus compelled senators to surrender their honest convictions and vote the party line or be punished when up for reelection by state legislatures controlled by the party bosses. These are the days of party primaries and of direct election of United States senators by the people.

There is still a reactionary, if not a coercionist, school of thought in America which insists that conformity with a president's views on every question supersedes any responsibility a senator or representative may have to his own constituency. Eisenhower himself is more enlightened on this subject than some of his friends who seek to advise him otherwise. He is well aware that good leadership tries to persuade and is not punitive against those who disagree and that open warfare and intervention by a president in party primaries will never make for party harmony. It only widens the cleavages.

Eisenhower has found as have other presidents in their first term—as indeed President Wilson in particular found out—that the conciliatory approach in conference with most opponents often leads to an adjustment of views on both sides. Eisenhower, moreover, can count on substantial support from Democrats in Congress who by voting for his proposals, as worked out this way, are also responding to the wishes of their constituents. There is still a democracy and not a dictatorship in Washington.

LI'L ONES

"From now on I WATCH you swallow those vitamin pills."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Could It Be Iodin Deficiency —or the Gray Sickness?

Wisconsin lady says my formula for draining ear proved really the thing. Instructions for preparing the drops for running ear available to any reader who asks for pamphlet on "Running Ear" and incloses stamped, self-addressed envelope. The lady now complains that she is so tired all the time and has dull headache much of the time. Her hair is getting so gray, and it was always so pretty. Since she has been feeling tired and run down she looks pale or, as her friends say, so gray. Yet she passed her fortieth birthday anniversary only three months ago.

As a long distance diagnostician I haven't won any medals but, on the other hand, the police have been unable to get the goods on me for practicing without a license.

The Wisconsin lady's complaint appeals strongly to something a lot of folks who have followed this column will be astonished to know I have, namely, sympathy.

I don't know just why, but the thought or sight of a woman, who should be at the peak of her health, beauty, and womanhood, getting prematurely gray, not only her hair but her skin and general appearance and temperament is — well, it just is.

Whether the Wisconsin lady's complaint indicates iodin deficiency or hypochromic anemia, I'd rather not guess. She gives insufficient data. But, taking into consideration her residence in the Great Lakes Basin, where soil and water are poor in iodin, I'd plump for iodin deficiency as the explanation for her untimely fading; and to correct that, I hope the lady will cross my palm with two shillings, you know, a clean quarter, that is, one free from messy stickum, accompanied with a stamped, self - addressed envelope, and ask for these two pamphlets (ask in writing):

1. The Iodin Ration.
2. The Gray Sickness.

"The gray sickness" is a nickname for nutritional deficiency anemia, hypochromic anemia. Hypochromia means insufficient red coloring matter (hemoglobin) in the blood.

Such anemia, that is, decrease of coloring matter in the blood without a corresponding decrease in the number of red corpuscles, was prevalent in adolescent girls and young women in the '20s and '30s, when $5 a week was the usual wage for a good cook and housekeeper. Even in my poor practice in Penn Yan when Topsy was a colt, I treated several country girls and young housemaids for this type of anemia—but it was called chlorosis or "the green sickness." The girls who had it really had a grayish-yellow or greenish hue of complexion.

The difference of the color of chlorosis in the twenty-year-old girl and the color of nutritional deficiency anemia in the woman of forty is due to the comparatively well-preserved layer of fat under the skin of the young girl and the loss of this layer of fat from the skin of the mature woman.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Readers Write Letters About Various Issues

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Friday, October 19, will be the 175th anniversary of the British surrender at Yorktown, Va., the culmination of six and a half years of struggle for American independence.

On this date there should be an observance of our first "V. Day" by every citizen in recognition of the beginning of our nation.

It is suggested here that remembrance of this historic event be made by a general display of "Old Glory" from all homes, business and public places. This would be visible evidence of our loyalty and devotion to our nation which was established through the bravery and sacrifices of those patriots who fought for our freedom from the battle of Lexington-Concord in April, 1775, to surrender at Yorktown in October, 1781.

Roy V. Barnes
Past Vice President General
Sons of the American Revolution

We question the sincerity of individuals who have voiced their opinions on the railroad issue recently and have not the courage to sign their names and addresses.

A committee of seven citizens representing schools, churches, unions, business and civic groups compiled a report of facts and reasons why we don't favor an auxiliary switch yard on the site proposed by the railroad. In this report we stated that we are thankful for the industry of Pontiac and want to see a planned expansion of manufacturing, commercial and residential property without destruction to either, if at all possible.

We have no objection to an auxiliary yard, only to the location they have chosen. Other disadvantages are congested traffic tie-ups on Baldwin Avenue, property devaluation, insufficient police and fire protection, safety hazard to children, noise and vibration to the nearby nursing home and location of four churches near the proposed yard.

We commend the City Manager and City Commission for obtaining the services of a consulting engineer to conduct a survey to determine if other sites are workable. The results of this survey showed conclusively that several other locations are practicable.

Mrs. George W. Gray
54 East Yale Ave.

Stevenson is going to have a "New America," so he says, if he is elected president. Another guy with a big head named Hitler had the new order and see what happened to Germany.

America is o.k. as it is is, with a good and smart President in Washington. Let's keep him there and not have some inexperienced upstart experimenting with our future. Truman spoke the truth when he said that Stevenson does not have the experience and the ability to act as president upon assuming that office without risking a period of costly and dangerous trial and error.

And furthermore, why is Adlai blaming the Republicans for the lack of schools, while the record shows that the Democrats voted 96 per cent against the President's vote for Ike and keep an honest government.

Believer in Truth

This is to all you people who are so hot for the railroad switch yard. Can you honestly say you wouldn't mind having a noisy, dirty train in your back yard? I doubt it.

Sure progress must go on, but not at any of your expense. Your children won't have to cross the tracks every day. You won't have the racket or the dirt or the big drop in property. Some of us have saved for years to buy our new homes located on the North end. Do we have to take a big drop now so GM can expand? (And no matter who says what, our property will depreciate.)

I think GM can re-budget their program better than we can ours. How about it? Any one for a new house in the North End? We got ours up for sale. Let's see if all of you who are big talkers are big buyers.

West Strathmore Resident

Someone stated in the Voice of the People that Ike and Mamie are too goody-goody. Well, would it not be nice if everyone were just as goody? Just think what wonderful neighbors we would have.

As for Ike's opponent's remark about Ike not being master of his own house, I will say he kept peace in it and that is more than Adlai did in his. Now if he cannot keep peace in his own home, how could he keep peace with other nations?

In another letter, Mr. Hyde stated facts that cannot be denied, but I think Ike is just as good a President as Hoover. To my memory the per capita debt in the U. S. was $162 when FDR took office. When Ike took office it was over $1600. FDR did two things he promised . . . he got the booze back and put everyone to work.

We made weapons of destruction at home and he sent boys all over the world to use them. As for a monument for FDR, I would suggest putting up a white cross at each and every place that a drunk driver caused a death.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Are You a 'Headline Thinker'?

Lois asks a common question which causes a lot of debate in modern America. But learn to be logical. You members of men's service clubs could do a greater service to your communities if you'd offer more prizes for high school essay and debating contests. Too many people are "headline" thinkers. We need more emphasis on logic.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-391: Lois G., aged 16, is a junior in high school.

"Dr. Crane, what do you think about having candy vending machines in the school building?" she began with a smile.

"Some of the parents are opposed to the idea. They say that sugars cause teeth to decay.

"But a candy bar often comes in handy when a person has missed breakfast and gets a gnawing stomach about the middle of the morning."

SURVEY THE CONSUMER

We psychologists are advocating consumer surveys. Indeed, that is the right viewpoint in our Republic, anyway, for people should have a chance to vote on matters of all sorts.

What do high schoolers think about a candy vending machine? Most of those whom I meet are for it, largely because of the reason cited by Lois.

All of my five kids appreciated having a chance to nibble some candy in the middle of the morning.

"Yes, but what about tooth decay?" you may ask.

Well, dentists often oppose candy. But sugar is not a direct and sole cause of tooth decay or my own teeth would be gone.

For I am doubly fond of sugar, I used to put four heaping teaspoons of sugar in my coffee until my wife finally re - educated me into using only two.

And I abhor anything sour. Furthermore, I never drank milk regularly as a child. Yet I still have 28 of my original 32 teeth and I am past 55.

So if sugary foods were the primary cause of dental caries (decay), why shouldn't my teeth show the ill effect?

BE LOGICAL

Too many Americans are becoming "headline" thinkers. They grab at a dramatic fragment of information and then jump to a hasty though often illogical conclusion.

"Sugar causes cancer," stated a recent author, "for the American Indians had no sugar and they seldom had cancer."

★ ★ ★

What's wrong with the generalization? You high school debaters should spot at least one fallacy at once.

Cancer is an ailment that doesn't usually appear till people pass the age of 45 or 50.

And the average American Indian didn't have a life span of more than 30 years, so Indians didn't live long enough to enter the cancer bracket.

In George Washington's day, our typical longevity was only about 42 years, so the early settlers also didn't live long enough to show much cancer.

"Ice cream and candy cause our teeth to decay and force us to wear false teeth," said a recent missionary from Africa, "for the native Africans have little sugar and they don't wear false teeth."

Again, that statement is illogical, for the average African dies before he reaches the false teeth stage. False teeth, like cancer, are usually a badge of middle-aged folks.

★ ★ ★

Besides, the more rugged chewing by the Africans could also promote better blood circulation for the teeth and thus be the more fundamental cause.

Negroes in general appear to have better teeth partly due to the fact their dark skin accentuates the whitness thereof.

So learn to challenge statements. Demand logic, even in religion. If a man can't defend his arguments with facts, then be dubious of them.

We also need a course in simple logic at the high school level. More boys and girls should be enrolled in debating classes, too.

Indeed, a star debater often has a better sense of logic than many Ph. D. scientists, so men's service clubs should offer more debate prizes for the local high schools.

Striping May Cut Traffic Accidents

CHEYENNE (INS)—One of the new experiments being tried to cut down highway accidents is edge line or shoulder striping.

Wyoming highway officials explained the stripe acts as a safety aid to motorists in keeping to their side of the road.

Certain number of head-on collisions are believed to be caused by drivers who are afraid to drive close to the shoulder.

The strip of reflectorizing paint is placed about six inches in from the shoulder and is a solid line about four inches wide.

In Colorado, auto license plate officials are trying out special glow-in-the-dark plates in 1957 as a method of cutting down night-time auto accidents. A reflecting material is being used on license tags for two counties. If the plan is successful, all licenses in the state will receive the special treatment.

Lowest annual mean temperature in the U.S. is 26.8 degrees at Mt. Washington in New Hampshire, a record held for the past 10 years.

THE STORY OF GLASS—1
Its Discovery

Glass has many uses and plays a great part in our everyday lives. It can be made as hard as stone and used for bricks, or as soft as cotton and spun into fine fabrics.

Probably the ancient Egyptians first discovered how to make it about six thousand years ago.

Glass is made from sand, lime and soda melted together at great heat. A Roman writer told a story, now disbelieved, that Phoenician sailors first made glass by accident after building a fire with soda blocks on a beach. When the fire was burned out they found a crude type of glass.

Here is the first picture in this week's series which will tell you the story of glass. It illustrates the old legend and shows a Phoenician sailor studying one of the strange chunks of early glass.

Use your crayons to color this picture, and paste it down on cardboard. Punch holes in the top corners so you can hang it up by string.

(Roberta Erhard, Clearfield, Pa., first submitted this idea. If you have an idea for Junior Editors send it in care of this newspaper and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Phyllis Ann Bays of Walkerton had no trouble being dismissed for jury service in the St. Joseph County Probate Court. She is only 11 years old. Phyllis Ann's mother, Mrs. Mildred Bays, said she thought it was strange a child should be called but she said she was afraid to ignore the summons. The jury commissioners said they got the names from tax rolls.

Appeal $1 Year Eviction

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A firm paying $1 a year rent to operate a garment factory in a city-owned building at Cheboygan has appealed to Circuit Court on a ruling it must vacate the premises. The city contended the Great Lakes Garment Manufacturing Co. has forfeited its lease by failing to keep an agreement to maintain a $50,000 annual payroll. The factory has been shut down more than a year.

Prescriptions Average $2.88

Oregon Study Shows Costs Zoom 40 Cents in Two Years

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. (INS)—A statewide prescription study conducted by the Oregon State College pharmacy school reveals the average prescription now costs $2.88, forty cents more than two years ago.

OSC conducts the survey every other year as a service project for students, pharmacists and manufacturers. It gives students an insight into latest prescribing trends and gives pharmacists and manufacturers information about new products.

Increase costs of prescriptions can partly be attributed to new and costlier drugs. The increased costs, however, are more than offset by greater effectiveness of medicines, the survey showed.

New drugs introduced during the past ten years account for approximately 70 per cent of the prescriptions dispensed today.

Tablets made up fifty per cent of the prescriptions followed by liquids, 17 per cent, capsules, 15, ointments, 7, and drops, 5 per cent.

Sedatives showed the greatest prescription purchase increase in Oregon from 1953 to 1955 with hormone type drugs second. Barbiturates showed the greatest loss.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

P.S. DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SPECIAL LAXATIVE TO EASE PAINFUL ELIMINATION WHILE SHRINKING PILES

Venezuela's 'Little Suez' Speeds Oil Flow

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (NEA)—A little "Suez Canal" for the western world has quietly gone into operation at Venezuela's oil-rich Lake Maracaibo while the rest of the world is embroiled in the crisis over the big Suez.

Venezuela's "Suez" is a 20-mile canal through the sandbar barricade at the mouth of Lake Maracaibo. Dredged at a cost of 35 million dollars, it gives huge tankers access to the lake well-sites from which, once loaded, they can sail directly to ports all over the world.

At the same time, Venezuela is granted 380,000 acres in new concessions on the lake that will supplement the estimated 1,000,000 barrels daily production now coming from some 7,000 wells on the lake and its shoreline.

A government spokesman for Venezuela, which ranks second in the world production of crude oil, says Venezuela could up its production by 20 per cent immediately to ease the pinch on Europe should the Suez crisis result in a shutdown of that canal.

The new Maracaibo canal is expected to channel 700,000 barrels of oil a day.

The 35-foot-deep canal had been a long-time dream of the government, but the swiftly shifting sands of the bars had always made the project an impossibility.

A two-mile breakwater to help still the waters and the greatest concentration of dredging equipment in history turned the trick.

The new canal has given such importance to the lake that when the government announced that they would accept bids for new concessions, they were literally swamped with proposals. Of the concessions already announced, American companies are getting the major share.

The government will get about 300 million dollars for the Maracaibo concessions, first to be granted since 1945. Besides this, conditions on the new concessions require the refining in Venezuela of at least 15 per cent of oil extracted.

Three companies have already promised to refine more than that, one as high as 30 per cent

While giving Venezuela's economy a new boost and providing more jobs for oil workers, 95 per cent of whom are Venezuelans, the concessions will also help bulge the country's proven oil reserves that now stand at over 12 billion barrels.

National, daily, production at present stands at 2,500,000 barrels, but with the new concessions it is expected to reach 3,500,000 by 1965.

Not all Venezuela's oil is concentrated in the Maracaibo basin. In the far east of Venezuela there are other fields already developed and producing about one-third of Venezuela's production.

Venezuela's President Marcos Peres Jimenez recently announced his government would soon award concessions in the State of Barinas, southeast of Maracaibo.

The government will also undertake construction of a seaport at the southern end of the lake to help in the development of the Barinas area and the surrounding countryside. A new national railroad network is already pushing its way across the plains towards Barinas in the wake of the recently completed Pan American Highway link.

Hal Boyle Says:

Some Feelings Are Impossible to Describe

NEW YORK (AP) — Odd facts a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail — or eavesdrop:

* * *

That Lord Kitchener, one of Britain's greatest soldiers, had a lifelong fear of cats.

That the average baby is 20 inches long at birth . . . but if the stork short-changed you there isn't much you can do about it.

That your child's fingernails grow faster than your own.

* * *

That in this envious world not 1 out of 100 persons can name a word to describe the feeling of pleasure you get out of another person's happiness. Actually there are two such words—confelicity and macarism—but neither is listed in my Collegiate Dictionary.

That anyone who writes a suicide note in which he tells how he wants his property divided is more likely to really kill himself than one who pens a farewell note which makes no mention of what he'd like done with his possessions—the second guy really hasn't made up his mind to let go.

That anyone who threatens suicide is capable of it, but few who say they are afraid they will commit suicide actually do.

* * *

That many women fear developing cervical cancer during pregnancy, but only 1 in 7,000 does . . . and the rate is even lower among women under 30.

That among the 250 new varieties of fruit developed by Luther Burbank, the "plant wizard," were a white blackberry and a plum that tasted like a pear.

That 300,000 naturalized Americans will be able for the first time to vote for President Nov. 6 — and it's a safe bet that a higher percentage will go to the polls than among our native-born citizens, who inherited freedom.

* * *

That Theodore Roosevelt was the only president who ever officially loaned his name to a toy — the "teddy bear," of which 150 million have been sold.

That tuberculosis, far from being conquered, still kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined.

That to determine the average height of a child between 4 and 12, doctors often use this formula: Multiply the age by 2½ and add 30. Thus a 10-year-old, if average, will be 55 inches tall. A child of 12 averages 60 inches — 5 feet.

* * *

That — now don't tell me you knew this! — fish are born as naked as jaybirds. They don't develop scales until after birth.

Manners by Olga Post?

Russians Take Hats Off to Cultured Ways—at Last

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet society is showing its growing pains. Some people are worrying about such weighty subjects as how to behave in polite society and how to wear what attractively.

Soviet Culture, newspaper of the Culture Ministry, has published a letter from Stalingrad appealing for more books on personal behavior. Not so long ago, in the Stalin days, any good Russian Communist would have snorted "middle class!" at such a notion.

"The time has long passed," said the letter writer, "when one imagined every necktie and hat incompatible with the Komsomol—Young Communist League—handbook in his pocket.

* * *

"I bought a vacuum cleaner and a hat. My wife uses the vacuum cleaner with instructions. But as is well known, there are no instructions attached to the hat . . .

"I met a friend. He was wearing a hat, too. Now, I thought, I will learn.

"'Hello, Petya,'" I said.

"He took off his hat with both hands and crumpled it over his stomach. I still did not know with which hand and which part of the hat I must touch, what shall I do with it after taking it off. I don't even know whether or not I should take it off.

"I believe culture is composed of thousands of such details. I wrote a letter to find out the opinion of others on this problem. Eventually I hope to see some books which would provide instructions on cultural behavior."

* * *

By publishing this letter, Soviet Culture indicates it may be considering the Soviet equivalent of an "Emily Post Book of Etiquette" for the new Soviet man.

That Canada geese don't fly in their familiar V-shape formation to ape the Air Force but to cut down wind resistance. They average 50 miles an hour on nonstop flights of hundreds of miles.

That the chimney swift is the most maneuverable bird that flies because it is the only one known that can beat its wings alternately—flap right, flap left, flap right.

* * *

That experiments indicate bees identify honey producing flowers first by color and only secondly by scent — a color-blind bee with a heavy summer head cold must not be much help to the hive.

That among the few things a nickel will still buy is a trip from Europe to Asia. But first you have to get to Istanbul, Turkey, where a brief five-cent ferry ride across the Bosphorus then you're in Asia.

That Artemus Ward, humorist of an earlier American generation, summed up the present day attitude pretty well when he observed, "Let us all be happy and live within our means — even if we have to borrow the money to do it with."

Tragedy Greets Pair After Sunday Drive

WHEAT RIDGE, Colo. (AP)—For the first time in years, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert left their eight children at home and went off by themselves for a Sunday afternoon drive.

They came home to find 9-year-old Jean Anne dead.

Sheriff's officers said she died of a bullet fired accidentally from a .22 rifle in the hands of a brother, Tommy, 16.

Gilbert said the boy belongs to a rifle club and was getting the weapon ready for target practice.

Pheasants Come Down

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Pheasant hunters bagged 1,090,349 birds in Minnesota last year, compared with 659,357 in 1954, according to state game and fish department estimates.

Duchess Revolts Against Fashion Honors

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—After 14 years of chomping at the bit, the Duchess of Windsor finally has bitten the hand that feeds her flattery — the "best-dressed women" lists.

* * *

It must have been good for her soul. Just as Marilyn Monroe avoids allusions to calendars and Don Newcombe prefers not to be connected with nostalgic World Series' reminiscences, the duchess always has preferred to keep her name out of the annals of fashion.

For one decade and four years, the little woman who caused the big British blowup in the '30s has been high on everybody's annual "best-dressed" listings. Apparently, she didn't enjoy the honor.

A woman who has snatched a king off the most powerful throne in the world is bound to regard sartorial elegance as having no relation whatever to social elegance.

* * *

The duchess long has considered herself, poetically if not figuratively, a queen. And one simply does not ask a "highness" where she got that divine dress.

For one thing, it might make the executive of the exchequer worry; and for another, commercialism has no place in a palace.

STORED-UP STEAM

Thus, when she said this week that she didn't see how a best-dressed list could be "anything but phony, when most of the judges seldom see me or the other people they are voting for"—the duchess was letting off some stored-up steam.

* * *

She was saying, in so many decisive words, that she no longer wanted to be associated with such mundane matters as dress and coat and suit styles.

It was about time she came out and said it too, rather than smouldering mildly as she has in the past when people would ask her what was the secret of her clothes-horse technique.

Her answer, at those times, invariably was simplicity itself. "Simplicity," the duchess would say, if she replied to the question at all.

* * *

We have seen the Duchess of Windsor on several occasions and have been impressed by the casual, almost off-hand manner in which she wore her immaculate but exceedingly inconspicuous clothes.

Never, on a cashmere sweater, was there a fiber out of place. Nor on a tweed suit with a chrysanthemum in the lapel was there a single petal askew.

Yet these facts of supreme grooming never slapped you in the face, making you wonder, uncomfortably, if your stocking seams were straight.

* * *

For the duchess, with her 108 pounds well packed against a short, straight backbone, is a woman whose fashions fade into insignificance as they encircle her regality.

Her own quote: "In my opinion there is only one important rule about clothes: It is that they should be so simple and unobtrusive as to seem unimportant."

Wally Windsor is, of course, asking for future fashion oblivion when she criticizes so caustically the "lists" she has so long reigned over.

And we think it's genuinely a matter of pride and principle with her.

* * *

However—as in the case of Hollywood celebrities who set the stage for remarriage by announcing, after each divorce, that they'll never be wed again—it is almost a certain guarantee that in 1957 the Duchess of Windsor will once again sweep all the clothes-horse races.

IT'LL BE "FOR KEEPS"—When Ingrid Bergman's daughter marries, it will be for keeps, she says. "When I'm married it'll be to someone I'll know I'll love," declares Jennie Ann Lindstrom, 17, pictured in her gym suit at Colorado University in Denver, where she's a freshman. Publicity-shy Jennie changed her name from "Pia" after her parents' divorce in 1951 and her mother's marriage to Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini.

Recent Unrest Among Red Satellites Benefits U.S. Security, Say Experts

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials will begin preparing this week tentative long range plans for building a fleet of big tankers which could carry oil to the free world if access to the Suez Canal was cut off.

* * *

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming announced Saturday, after a White House call, that President Eisenhower had ordered this done.

Flemming said the move did not stem from any critical turn in the situation caused by Egypt's seizure of the canal. But he said "we are trying to get ourselves in the position where we are not as dependent on the Suez Canal as we are now."

The defense mobilizer stressed this is a long range program. He said that after the plans are drafted and studied by representatives of various federal agencies, a decision will be made later on whether to go ahead with actual construction.

* * *

In response to questions, Flemming said "it might well be" that about 50 tankers would be needed. He said he could not estimate the cost of such a program, but he said a 60,000-ton tanker would cost about 18 million dollars.

Flemming said if a decision is made to build the tankers, the work would be done at American shipyards under provisions of the Defense Production Act which allows the government to guarantee to purchase any of the vessels not bought by private shipowners.

An Eisenhower memorandum to Flemming made no specific mention of the Suez crisis, but both Flemming and White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the move is connected with that situation.

* * *

In that memorandum, made public by Flemming, Eisenhower ordered consideration of plans "that will be helpful in assuring the efficiency and adequacy of the distribution of petroleum supplies in the foreseeable future in the free world.

"These plans," Eisenhower directed, "should provide for the building in the United States shipyards of a sufficient number of large tankers to help supplement existing means of distribution and, if necessary, to help serve as an alternative in the transportation of oil in the free world, particularly from the Middle East."

Estes Hits Nixon for 'False Face'

Campaigns in Vermont, Says Foe Trying to Get Into White House

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, choosing Republican territory for his strongest attack of the campaign on Richard Nixon, said today the vice president "is trying to get into the White House on false premises, a false front and a false face."

* * *

"I can't believe," Kefauver said in a prepared speech, "that Vermonters would want Mr. Nixon to possibly succeed to the presidency or at the least to become the center of power in the Republican party that they have so long supported."

The Democratic vice - presidential nominee, recovered from a a sore throat he picked up in dust-plagued Midwest towns, was setting out on a new coast-to-coast tour after only a brief overnight stop at his Washington home. He covered about 6,000 miles and six states in the past week.

He told newsmen on arriving in Washington last night that he felt fine and was ready for an all-out effort in the final three weeks of the campaign.

* * *

His managers apparently felt so, because they laid out a typical Kefauver program for the first day of his new tour. His schedule took him on a 500-mile morning flight from Washington to Burlington, with talks at Essex Junction and Winooski, Vt., in addition to his major effort here. Then he was to fly to New York City for five speeches in Queens and Nassau County ending at 10:30 p.m.

In his Burlington speech, the senator said skeptics had asked him why he bothered to campaign in a state that even Franklin Roosevelt couldn't carry.

But he insisted that "every state is a battleground this year" and that, in addition, "I think the Democrats should have a chance to win in Vermont" because of Nixon.

Radical Socialists Resign in Protest

LYON, France (AP)—Conservative members of France's powerful Radical Socialist party have quit the faction in protest against ex-Premier Pierre Mendes - France's leadership.

* * *

As a result, elder statesman Edouard Herriot resigned the party presidency he had held since World War II. Herriot told the party's annual convention he supported Mendes-France but could not continue as head of a divided party.

At Mendes - France's suggestion, the convention left the presidency open in the hope Herriot would reconsider.

Despite the split, both Mendes-France's forces and the dissidents were expected to continue to support Socialist Premier Guy Mollet's government. The Radicals are the Socialists' partners in the coalition Cabinet.

WEST LOS ANGELES (AP) — Character actor Barry Atwater told police he had cut a 4-by-6-inch entrance in his door for his two cats. A burglar reached in, opened the door and took several hundred dollars' worth of clothing and jewelry, a clock radio and a tape recorder.

Bob Considine Says:

No Fury Like a Woman Storm, Quips Flossy

NEW YORK (INS) — A recent piece here on the names of hurricanes brings a letter from a woman who lives in Belton, S. C., and who just about never misses.

* * *

"I don't know if it's an honor or a disgrace to have a hurricane named for you," she writes. "Two of the worst were Hazel and Irene. My name is Hazel Irene Cushman.

"Last night, with Hurricane Flossy threatening to blow off our roof, my husband came home from work and stumbled over the pots and pans I had placed under the leaks. He looked around and said, "Well, Flossy, you really got things going right this time, haven't you?"

"You see, while Hazel Irene has been my name, or names, officially, I've been known as Flossy since I was a little girl."

The Weather Bureau should give up and name the next one Cushman.

Like Mickey Mantle's home runs, movies are being graded by their length. We went to see "Giant" the other night. It's about Texas, but much bigger.

My friend Henry Ginsberg is said to have snipped enough out of it to make a picture called "Midget," all about a family of rich hogcallers living in Rhode Island. This will be released only to those with new seven-inch TV sets.

A nice tame Texas millionheiress went with us to see the picture and after three hours whispered, "Edna Ferber spent only two weeks down home getting material for her novel."

A saddlesore man sitting nearby wheezed, "Thank gosh she didn't stay a month."

DEAN IN SOLID

Yep, it's a long 'un, but real purty. It will cement Jimmy Dean's status as a bona fide legendary American folk hero, like Wallace Reid, Jack Gilbert and John Barrymore.

Texans may wince at the news, but the state's oil wasn't good enough for Hollywood. In the million dollars worth of equipment and sets Hollywood brought into Marfa, Tex., pop. 3,500, were a typical rich Texas rancher's mansion — the indigenous ones weren't typical enough — and a forest of oil wells.

Special Effects Man Ralph Webb is certain to get an academy award nomination for the gushers he brought in. It was ersatz stuff, there being no oil around Marfa, but it sure looks like a wildcatter's loveliest dream.

* * *

To heap further mortification on the Lone Star State, an Oklahoma bull named Clearview Snuffy 76 was imported to play a champion Texas bull.

At a wine fanciers' dinner the other night somebody handed out slips of paper and said to the well-traveled guests around one table, "Write down the names of your three favorite restaurants."

The resident connoisseur at our table picked up the slips and read, "The Mirabelle of London, Tour d'Argent in Paris, Maxim's, Paris, Chambrod, Twenty-One, Chasen's, The Stork, The Original Alfredo's in Rome, Pavillon, Le Grande Vefour of Paris, Pere Bise in Annecy, Les Ambassadeurs in London, Epaule de Mouton of Brussels, The Pyramid near Lyon, Toots Shor's . . . " the delicate man stopped with a start. His pince nez popped off.

"There must be a whisky drinker somewhere about," the man said with a shudder. He called the sommelier and had the bum evicted.

Carol Haney Resting

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actress- dancer Carol Haney, star of the Broadway hit "Panama Game," was reported in satisfactory condition today at Mt. Sinai Hospital. She collapsed Friday night at a Las Vegas, Nev., night club where she was appearing in the show. Her doctor said she was suffering from exhaustion and a throat infection.

When someone's counting on you...

you can count on life insurance

Americans now own more than twice as much life insurance as they did just ten years ago. Today, about 9 out of every 10 fathers own one or more life insurance policies.

Through life insurance they can be sure of immediate protection for the amount they have planned for their families. It's money they can count on. And, because life insurance is flexible, they can fit its protection to their particular family needs.

Your own policies offer various choices that can help you keep your life insurance protection in line with your family's changing needs. Making the wisest choice calls for experienced help. The best person to advise you is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It, which we have prepared as a service for America's policyholders. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. A.

Nixon to Appeal for Ohio Votes

Compares Ike and Adlai for Workers, Farmers, Students

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Vice President Nixon takes his plea that America "can't risk giving up the proved leadership of President Eisenhower" to farmers, factory workers and students across Ohio today.

* * *

The vice president, carrying the main burden of Republican vote-seeking at the grass roots, in the past few days increasingly has been pitching his campaign on what he presents as a contrast.

He says it is a matter of judgment and experience on Eisenhower's part against what he calls good intentions but no better than second rank background for Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

Nixon speaks here and in Toledo, Defiance, Warren and Youngstown today.

* * *

On arrival here yesterday, he predicted to newsmen that the Republicans will lose no farm state on the issue of Eisenhower versus the "Stevenson-Brannan farm plan." Farm conditions, particularly depressed by drought, may count in some marginal states, Nixon said. He cited Missouri as an example.

He told a questioner there is no significance in his not mentioning Secretary of Agriculture Benson by name when speaking for the Eisenhower farm program. He said he never mentioned Cabinet members individually unless there is a special reason to do so.

And he said the question whether Benson, a controversial figure in the Farm Belt, is helping or hurting Republican chances by making speeches there cannot very well be discussed until Benson has had his say.

* * *

"Mr. Benson certainly worked as hard as any man could for a program he believes to be in the best interest of the farmers," Nixon said.

New Road Chief Has Experience

Ike Picks New Yorker to Oversee Nationwide Highway Building Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bertram D. Tallamy says his new job as head of an all-out, nationwide highway-construction program will be "a terrific challenge."

President Eisenhower appointed Tallamy yesterday to direct the federal operation that has a budget of 33 billion dollars—most of it for a 41,000-mile network of interstate highways.

The new road boss is 54, silver-haired, husky, married and the father of one son, also an engineer.

Tallamy is a 1925 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, a Republican, onetime New York public works chief and, since 1950, the guiding force behind the world's longest toll superhighway—the New York State Thruway.

He's an accomplished handyman at his Bowman Lake home in upstate Rensselaer County, the base from which he ice fishes and takes snowshoe hikes in the winter, trout fishes in the spring, swims in the summer and hunts in the fall.

* * *

Tallamy's appointment is subject to Senate confirmation. He'll serve at the pleasure of the President and will report to Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who called the new highway boss "one of the world's greatest builders of roads."

Tallamy was a familiar figure in the field during early thruway construction as he gradually walked the recently completed 427-mile main route between New York City and Buffalo.

At one time he headed his own engineering company and later was chief engineer of the Niagara frontier planning board and state deputy public works superintendent.

He was public works chief from 1948 through 1954 under former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. He resigned when the Democratic administration of Gov. Harriman took over. While public works head Tallamy directed a record program that cost nearly a billion dollars.

The pay on the new job will be $20,000 a year. He's received, $19,-tpp as thruway authority chairman.

Tallamy said the pay wasn't a factor: "It's the challenge of doing the job that intrigues me."

Ribbon falls in Yosemite national park has a drip of 1,612 feet and is said to be the highest single falls to be found any place in the world.

Mr. DiBlasi's Memory Was Aid in Roman Contest

He Placed Among the Top Three of 41 Conductors in Competition

By DORA DAWSON

The retentive memory of Francesco DiBlasi, conductor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, which opens its fourth season of concerts here October 23, at Lincoln Junior High School, is revealed in the experience he had in Rome, Italy, and the number of orchestral scores required to conduct from memory.

* * *

Mr. Di Blasi was one of two conductors representing the United States in the International Competition for Conductors with the famed St. Cecilia Orchestra in Rome last May. Of the forty-one who entered the competition, all except eight were eliminated in their first appearance with the orchestra.

Among the symphonies Mr. Di Blasi conducted were the Beethoven Fifth and Seventh, Mozart No. 39 and No. 40, the Schubert No. 7, the Haydn No. 101 and the Mendelssohn Italian Symphony.

* * *

On the afternoon preceding the conductors appearance with the orchestra, each was given a score of a modern work, some of which were performed for the first time. The works conducted by Francesco DiBlasi included Honegger's Day of Joy. He conducted these new works, as well as the classical symphonies, entirely from memory.

Among the eminent musicians who served on the Board of Judges was Artur Rodzinski, former conductor of the New York Philharmonic. Mr. DiBlasi was one of the three winners.

* * *

The St. Cecilia orchestra is considered one of Europe's finest and is known in the United States for many fine recordings, especially in the field of opera. Mr. DiBlasi tells us that the strings performed with outstanding clarity and precision, responding to the finest shades of interpretation.

* * *

DiBlasi was recently re-engaged as Musical Director of the Michigan Opera Company for his second season. He will also appear as Guest Conductor with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra on Sunday afternoon. He is a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

In his possession is the last grand piano owned by the late eminent world concert pianist and virtuoso, Josef Hofmann.

Sales Tax Should Be Mentioned

Friend Forgets the Extra Levy When Advancing Cash

By EMILY POST

"I work in midtown where many of the large department stores are located. Very often a friend of mine, who is married and does not get to the stores too often, asks me to pick up a certain item which she has seen advertised in the newspapers.

"I am only too glad to do her the favor, as I am in and out of the stores all the time. She always gives me the money in advance. However, there is a tax on many of these purchases which she does not include and which I have to pay for out of my own pocket.

"Up to now I have not asked her for it, as I did not want to seem mercenary. But since she asks me to pick up things for her quite often, these amounts, although small, do mount up and I don't see why I should have to pay for them.

"Would it be proper to ask her for it? If so, what can I do about it without seeming cheap?"

Answer: First of all, get the thought of the word "cheap" out of your mind. Tell her frankly that you hate to ask her for the tax, but while it is only a trifle each time, paying it often does mount up. Any fair-minded person would be glad you called this to her attention.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I work in a branch office of a large company. Yesterday afternoon one of the executives of the firm came in from the main office and I was introduced to him.

"Was I wrong in not rising at my desk to acknowledge the introduction? The office manager also took this man to several other desks and in all other cases, the young women stood up."

Answer: I am sorry to have to tell you that the other young women were right. You were lacking in courtesy.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it, or is it not, proper for someone to enter a house without knocking simply because the door is unlatched?"

Answer: Certainly not, unless one is a member of the family or an especially intimate friend who is definitely given the privilege of entering the house at any time.

It's 'Mauve Decade'

The trend is toward rich satins and brocades, delicate embroidery, jeweled and beaded trimmings, in the manner of the "mauve decade", currently recalled to high fashion by universal interest in the modes and manners of 1912.

MRS. WILLIAM GRANT JOHNSON

Jean M. Watson Becomes Bride of William Johnson

Jean Marion Watson became the bride of William Grant Johnson at a 7 o'clock ceremony Saturday at Wilson Avenue Methodist Church. The Rev. Easton Hazard officiated at the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesleyan Watson of South Edith street are parents of the bride. William is the son of Mrs. Fred Johnson of South Jessie street and the late Mr. Johnson.

For the service, attended by 200 friends and relatives, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace and chiffon. A Queen Anne collar accented the lace bodice and her long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists.

The floor-length skirt was of chiffon over net. Her fingertip veil of French imported silk illusion was caught by a Chantilly lace headpiece trimmed with seed pearls.

* * *

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

SISTER TAKES PART

Mrs. William Cross was her sister's matron of honor wearing a peacock blue taffeta dress trimmed with velvet. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

* * *

Her other attendants, Mrs. David Brannon and Mrs. Edwin Davis, wore similar gowns in a light rose color. Their bouquets were of bronze chrysanthemums. Holly Lloyd, junior bridesmaid, wore a deep rose taffeta dress styled like the other attendants'. Her flowers were bronze chrysanthemums in a cascade bouquet.

Raymond Meyer was best man and attendants were William Cross and Michael Hairabedian. Ushers were Carl Widdis and Charles Oskaian.

A reception was held at the Malta Temple immediately following the ceremony.

GREETED GUESTS

Mrs. Watson greeted her guests wearing a dress of teal blue peau de soie with a matching hat and gray accessories and a corsage of red Happiness roses.

Mrs. Johnson chose a mauve lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red Happiness roses.

When the couple left for a motor trip through the eastern states, the bride was wearing a two-piece gray and black suit flecked with rainbow colors. The orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet completed her ensemble.

The newlyweds will make their home on South Jessie street.

Women's Hair Styles Reflect Era

The "emancipated" loose-falling curls of the Civil War hairstyle bespeak the same kind of artistic freedom that women were beginning to enjoy in the realm of politics.

The highly elaborate colonial coif should be proof enough that women are prepared to go to any lengths to exert their influence through charm and feminine wiles.

Today's softer, mid-length curls and overall simplicity proved especially popular with women attending the two political conventions, according to a recent survey.

Though many of us have occasionally said, "Politicians get in my hair"—there is a connection between women's hair and politics. At least this is what one nationally known research bureau discovered.

* * *

In colonial times, ladies were definitely not invited to the Continental Congress that elected George Washington. So, any woman who wanted to exert her influence in politics had to do it indirectly — through feminine charm.

For this reason, she didn't mind devoting as much as an entire day to the arrangement of her elaborate hairstyle.

All those intricate puffs and coils were padded with white horsehair or cotton . . . and anchored with many bulky hairpins. Sometimes wigs were worn or the hair was powdered with great quantities of white powder. Needless to say, ladies of colonial aristocracy went about with very heavy heads.

Naturally the Colonial head did not get the weekly shampoos we moderns believe so essential. In fact, women sometimes allowed their hair to go two or three months without seriously disturbing it. Talcum and perfume had the interim task of keeping it looking and smelling clean.

WOMEN "FREED"

By the time the Civil War took place, it was not only the slaves who became emancipated. Women, too, had a great deal more to say about the running of the country. In fact, the book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," — written by a woman — is often blamed for touching things off.

Women's new role in politics shows up plainly in the Civil War hairstyle. It was much simpler, with loose curls falling from the popular center parting. Coifs of the 1860's had the same kind of artistic freedom that women were enjoying politically.

Unfortunately, this liberty was partly mirage. No woman had a seat in Congress yet or even cast a vote. To present those natural curls in public, women on either side of the Mason-Dixon line spent many hours in private with their hair up in rags. And because they were still making their own soap, you can be sure the precious stuff was rarely wasted on weekly shampoos.

It was not until the Twentieth Century that women began to participate directly in politics, and nothing illustrates this phenomenon so well as the modern hair-do.

According to the survey taken at the two national conventions, the most popular hairstyles featured soft, loose curls, medium-length tresses, and an overall look of simplicity that belongs exclusively to our era of gentle shampoos and home permanents.

Today's woman looks as charming as her forerunners, yet she achieves it through easier, faster methods. Modern hair care shortcuts allow time for reading, discussion and action on important government affairs.

In fact, it's just such time-savers as these that will give her a decided edge in November—because women outnumber men in voting strength by two-and-a-half million. You can be sure that American women are ready to assert themselves at parties (like their Colonial counterparts)—and at the polls, as well!

Colonial Group Meets at Home of Mrs. Magnus

Mrs. Adolph Magnus of Bloomfield Hills opened her home Friday to members of the Colonial Group of the First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Fred Voelker, president, appointed Mrs. Vierlech, Mrs. Mac Whitfield and Mrs. George Sutton to a nominating committee. Plans were made for a money-making project Oct. 20 at the church.

Mrs. Marcus Scott served as chairman of the luncheon committee, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Kirby, Mrs. Paul Taylor, Mrs. John Niggeman and Mrs. L. F. Hire.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. G. Strauss on James K boulevard.

These Beggars Gain Self-Respect

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last Halloween was the best Jane and Bobby ever had. There's still time for you to plan one like it for your children.

* * *

They dressed up as a witch and cowboy. Then with blackened faces, they went out to ring neighbors' doorbells just like other "trick or treat" masqueraders. But—there the likness ended.

Jane and Bobby begged no candy, cookies or fruit for themselves. Instead they begged pins, needles, thread, school supplies and children's clothing for needy families in faraway lands.

What they received they put in big paper bags bearing the red-and-black star of the American Friends. To givers, they presented an orange paper pumpkin upon which they'd written this verse in black crayon:

"When you've given pencils, thread and pins
Just hang me on your door,
So prowling ghosts and goblins
Will ring your bell no more."

* * *

Jane and Bobby were serving as Friendly Beggars — a movement sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee, the internationally respected Quaker agency.

Last year along with some 200,000 other children in 26 states, they collected more than 16 tons of necessities for overseas distribution by the committee.

MORAL SATISFACTION

A psychoanalyst friend has asked me to tell you about the Friendly Beggars. He said: "The moral satisfaction a child gets from knowing himself useful to others is sweeter than the taste of lollipops—and outlasts it, too.

"Parents who know this is true can present the Friendly Beggars idea to children so that they respond to it eagerly not only because they recognize it as experi- cause they recognize it as experience in self-respect."

You can get information on how the Friendly Beggars operate either on a small scale or a wider community basis by writing to the American Friends Service Committee at 20 S. 12th St., Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Parents who make a definite decision for the Friendly Beggars idea this Halloween will probably want the committee's 25-cent information packet called "It's Halloween."

* * *

In it, they're asked to rehearse youngsters in situations they may encounter as Friendly Beggars. One of the rehearsal questions asks, "What do you say if someone shouts crossly, 'Go away! I haven't anything to give you!' "

BEG THEIR PARDON

The answer taught the children is, "Please excuse me for bothering you. Maybe you'd like to have my paper pumpkin to hang on your door anyway."

* * *

Yes, the self-respect collected by young Friendly Beggars must outweigh all the materials they gather for others.

In the Law Quad "Cluster" taking time out between classes for catching up on "news from home" are these University of Michigan students. They are (left to right) Pat Dernberger, daughter of Mrs. Franklin Dernberger of Oriole road; Kay Perring, daughter of the Raymond T. Perrings of Bloomfield Hills, and Marcia Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lee Thomas of Elizabeth Lake road.

DONNA LOU McCALLUM

Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCallum of Lyford drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Lou, to William L. Saunders, son of Mrs. Lillian K. Saunders of Woodbridge street and George Saunders of Bradenton Beach, Fla. The couple plans a Dec. 29 wedding.

Clean Up Immediately

Water Spotting Problem

NEW YORK (INS) — A common floor problem facing housewives today is water spotting—but there are ways of minimizing it.

The first and most important rule is to wipe up spilled water immediately, using a slightly damp cloth or sponge.

* * *

Water will spot any type of floor finish—varnish, sealer, shellac or wax. On some finishes the water merely evaporates, leaving a whitish deposit of minerals. On other finishes, water actually changes the color, texture or gloss.

Floors finished with a polishing type wax are not nearly so susceptible to spotting as those treated with self-polishing wax and can be restored simply by wiping or buffing.

If the water contains some foreign material such as food or soap, however, recoating and polishing may be necessary.

Self-polishing waxes become more water resistant with age, some taking 48 hours to attain maximum resistance.

If wiping does not restore gloss, a little of the self-polishing wax spread thinly on the affected area may help.

* * *

Water is particularly bad for wood, causing stains and roughness of grain. It also can affect certain pigments in linoleum, vinyl, asphalt and rubber tile, causing a change in color.

Dr. Anita Franco Addresses AAUW

Physician-Student Tells of Life in Brazil

"In Brazil every adult who can sign his name can vote in the national election," Dr. Anita G. Franco of Bahia, Brazil, told members of the Pontiac Branch of the American Association of University Women, when the group met Saturday for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Olin Thomas on Gale road.

Dr. Franco received her medical degree in June from the University of Bahia, which is over 270 years old she stated. At present she is studying at the University of Michigan on an AAUW International Fellowship, in the field of clinic endocrinology.

"I hope to help the women of my country fight some of the dreaded diseases which are typical of Brazil," Dr. Franco remarked, "so I am specializing in further study of two specific types."

Dr. Franco touched briefly on the geography and social background of her country and said that it was common for women to hold the position of mayor in small Brazilian towns.

PICK MAN, NOT PARTY

Regarding their elections, the speaker said, "We choose for the man, not for the party." The president of Brazil is elected for a term of five years.

Concluding, Dr. Franco said "the doctors, teachers and priest sare working together to improve living conditions on the interior of Brazil."

Dorcas Wolfe introduced Mrs. Olive Burgess, Mrs. Clarence Huemiller, Faye Donelson and Viola Kreuger, who led discussion groups on the issues of foreign policy, farm income, civil rights, highway building and education and unemployment.

Assisting Mrs. Thomas with luncheon arrangements were Catherine Thurston, Louise Norton, Garnet Galbraith, Carolyn Muecke, Luella Minard, Jessie Snyder, Mable Double, Laura Wait and Miss Wolfe.

Black is still the top fall and winter color but to keep really up-to-date try accessories in beige, clear red, blues or greens.

Repair Job No. 1

New Permanent Wave Complements Fashions

Beauty repair job No. 1 falls to the hair as days grows shorter.

It is time for a new permanent wave, new hair dye, hair treatments or a new hair style to complement new fall fashions.

* * *

Women who play the glamor role are interested in short-cuts to charm—no more six-hour sessions in the beauty parlor. They want a beauty session to glamorize them in no more time than it takes to make a beautiful cake. These days they can find the answer to their charm problems at home or in a beauty salon in a jiffy.

Hair may be color-tinted at home with a shampoo or given a real dye job in the beauty parlor, all in jiffy time.

Hairdos are more casual, may be shaped in the beauty salon in such a way that they are easier to care for at home.

TREATMENTS EASY

Hair treatments are packaged for home use so that a busy housewife may do household chores as the treatment goes to work on her head. Or an experienced operator may give her an excellent treatment while she catches up with correspondence or the latest novel.

Even home permanent wave time has been shortened. One manufacturer claims wave lotion that cuts winding time in half. Be that as it may, there is no doubt that even this chore of the permanent wave has been made pleasurable whether you wind twenty or forty curls.

Predictions for fall are that hair will be softly waved, if at all—ideal for the girl who relys on the home permanent.

Most people who permanent-wave their hair at home enjoy a dual session with girl friend, Mom or daughter, so that each permanents the other's hair. A gab fest is in order while the hair undergoes its transformation.

If you are experimenting with a home permanent for the first time, be sure to read directions. You should have a faint idea, too, of your hair textures. Is it difficult to wave or easy to wave? The results you get from your kit are entirely dependent on how you size up your hair, and whether you follow instructions carefully. There are special kits too for different textured hair, so if one wave does not seem satisfactory, you might try another.

Home Can Be Chapel or Crowded Subway

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am reprinting a column—the fourth time I have done so during the 20 years I have been writing "Why Grow Old?" I do so because many readers have asked me for copies while others have requested that I run this column again.

Home is a wonderful word! When a person says it spontaneously and with warmth it encompasses all of the best in human experience.

Home means understanding, a lift when you need it, love you can depend on, happiness, fun. It means conversation around the fireplace, a return to loved and nostalgic habits of life. Home is a perpetual welcome. There you can warm your heart at the hearth of belonging.

Yes, home means many things to many people. The thought of home may bring to mind the aroma of a favorite family dish.

* * *

Home can be roses by the door, a hot cup on a cold day and a cold glass on a hot day, the sound of the old familiar clock, furniture so well loved and remembered that each piece seems to be a member of the family.

OTHER HOMES

Perhaps you do not have a home of this sort. Unfortunately not all homes are like this. Then perhaps you have made, or can make, many other homes for yourself. To home—you are at home whenever you feel completely at ease and can be yourself without fear of misunderstanding and without self-consciousness.

* * *

Your home may be a person, or a spot from which you watch the sunset or the sunrise, a chapel where you often spend a quiet hour.

It may be a crowded subway where you feel a part of teeming humanity or a book which inspires or consoles you or a piece of music you have long loved. It may be the first snowfall or the first flower of spring. If you are lucky it may even be the home of others who accept you as their own.

Whenever you feel at peace with yourself and with life, even for a short time, you are at home, wherever you are.

Today I am suggesting that if you do not have the perfect home as we think of home, and even if you do, you enrich your life by developing more of these other homes. They are all about you, waiting to be lived in.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

"WE ARE WHAT WE EAT" HAS BECOME A SCIENTIFIC FACT

I had the pleasure of being a guest of the New England Conference on Human Nutrition which met in Boston last spring. This two-day meeting was sponsored by the Florida Citrus Commission and brought together many distinguished authorities in the fields of nutrition, medicine and dental health.

* * *

I was very happy to attend and gain this information for myself because of my belief that the very best "Fountain of Youth" we have is composed of superlatively good nutrition and happy emotions.

I was even more delighted to have this opportunity because it enables me to bring my readers some of the latest thoughts on the subject of nutrition.

To my way of thinking, the world of nutrition, what has been and what is being learned is one of the most dramatic things which has ever happened in any era. From the time long ago when it was found that a lack of vitamin C caused scurvy to today when poor nutrition has been correlated with many of the killing and crippling diseases of middle life and later years, the unfolding picture has been exciting!

* * *

"We are what we eat" has become a scientific fact. Yet most of us fail to apply to daily life the vast amount of information already available and applicable.

Those of us who are middle-aged, and those who are older, can profit by taking seriously the direction now available. The younger person who does not take advantage of this is passing up the miracle of tomorrow.

EVERYBODY'S JOB

Dr. George R. Cowgill, professor of nutrition, Yale University, moderator of the opening session of the conference said, "The development of good nutritional habits is everybody's job. Professional nutritionists believe we already have a large body of nutritional information that can be applied, that ought to be applied, and if applied, can mean much for the improvement of public health as it is affected by food."

* * *

Public health means individual health. We cannot have public health without a large majority of people who have health.

So, when you take to your daily menus the best in nutrition you are not only opening up vistas of improved energy and beauty for yourself but you are contributing to the general welfare.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Watchwords of Science for Youth after 40," send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 61 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Home means many things to many people . . . a conversation . . . roses by the door . . . or even the home of others who accept you as their own.

Clean Togs Made Safe for Storage

Everything you plan to store should be washed or cleaned before putting away.

Cottons or linens should be stored unstarched (silverfish relish starch and in a dry place to prevent mildew. All woolens should be brushed thoroughly, even inside the cuffs and-or collars and the pockets shoud be turned inside out.

Mothproof — either have your dry cleaner mothproof the garments, wash them yourself with mothproofing preparations in the wash or rinse water or store in closets equipped with moth preventatives. If you use the latter, make sure the closet is air tight to keep the killing vapors locked in.

Man-made fibers and silks should be clean when stored. Badly soiled areas are best cleaned by rubbing with a thick paste made of a heavy-duty detergent and warm water.

Synthetic fibers are not generally attacked by moths and their friends, but any blend of synthetic and natural fiber is in danger. Treat a blend as though it were all natural fiber.

Place straw hats in boxes and store in a place that is not too warm; the fibers can dry out and crack if exposed to too much heat.

Store your summer shoes wrapped in tissue paper and in a cool place, so they won't crack. First, though, give them a good shine. That helps retain the leather oils. Shoe trees help prevent wrinkling.

Teenagers Should Make 'Yes' and 'No' Check List

They Can Learn How Many Things Parents Actually Permit, Deny

By RUTH MILLETT

"My mother just won't let me do anything," a 15-year-old girl wails in a letter to this column.

* * *

That is a common cry from teenagers hurrying to grow up. Yet each teenager feels it is his—or her—problem alone.

I would like to suggest to the writer of this letter, and to any other teenager who feels his parents are more strict than anybody else's, a little exercise in accounting.

For one month on one sheet of paper list everything you have permission to do. This should include shows you attend, ball games you go to, parties your mother okays, friends you have over to spend the night and all the rest of the "plus" items.

* * *

Put down every single thing you are allowed to do that you want to do.

LIST THE REFUSALS

Then on another sheet of paper put down the things you wanted to do but which weren't permitted.

* * *

Be fair on this list, putting down only those things you honestly think you should have been allowed to do. Don't list any crazy ideas you didn't even hope your parents would go along with.

Then at the end of the month look at the two lists. It may come as a great shock to you to find that you have actually been allowed to do a great many more things than you were prevented from doing.

The average teenager, allowed to do nine things out of any 10, forgets about the nine and wails "I never get to do anything" when the 10th comes along.

So be fair enough to your parents to keep a strict accounting for a while.

* * *

If it should turn out that your "No" list is larger than your "Yes" list—which isn't likely—just showing the lists to your parents may convince them they actually are being too quick to say "No."

23 Girl Scout Leaders Train

Twnety-three Girl Scout leaders representing Lake Orion, Milford, Clarkston, Walled Lake, Sears Lake, Orchard Lake, Union Lake, Rochester and Westlakes met at Camp Sherwood Thursday for "Training in Pussyfoot Camping." Mrs. Evelyn Copeland gave the course.

Purpose of the course was to teach fundamentals in taking Girl Scout troops on cookouts and overnight campouts. Courses to be scheduled in the future include those in special skills, such as crafts, outdoor cooking and nature study.

The courses are requisites for leaders so they will be qualified to take their troops to Camp Sherwood on troop outings.

Cues on Eye Care for Older Women

Eye cues for older women might include these:

Avoid the too-thin eyebrow as well as the straggly brow.

Do not use too much mascara or eye shadow.

Eye liner may enhance your eyes but try it out on the family first. Use an eye cream faithfully, not just once in a while.

Blink the eyes frequently during the day.

Do not rub your eyes.

Wear eyeglasses if you should.

Wear sunglasses in strong sunlight.

The dress and your height should govern your choice of skirt lengths. Some styles require a short length, others need a longer line. The tall figure looks smarter in a shorter length, while the short figure should wear a longer skirt line.

Cake Recipe Calls for Yeast

Mrs. McCullough Recommends This for Large Parties

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you have need of a large and luscious cake to serve a group, try Mrs. Charles McCullough's Foamy Chocolate Cake. It is made with yeast which makes it an unusual cake indeed.

We know Mrs. McCullough has been doing some experimenting with recipes lately, especially biscuit recipes. They've been so good that she says she has gained weight. Mrs. McCullough is active in the Eastern Star.

FOAMY CHOCOLATE CAKE
By Mrs. Charles McCullough

1 cup shortening
¼ cake compressed yeast
2 cups sugar
3 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
3 squares bitter chocolate or 3 heaping tablespoons cocoa
1 cup milk
2¾ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ cup lukewarm water
3 tablespoons hot water
1½ teaspoons vanilla

Sift flour once before measuring, then sift again with salt. Cream shortening, add sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and beat well. Add melted chocolate and milk.

Add yeast which has been mixed with the lukewarm water. Add flour and salt and blend well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in refrigerator over night.

In the morning add soda dissolved in the 3 tablespoons hot water. Add vanilla. Bake in two 9-inch square tins at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Professional Tricks for Serving Soup

There's a smart restaurant in the East Fifties in New York where they give a final touch to soup-serving at the table that any hostess could well copy.

If your order is for vichyssoise, for instance, the waiter comes with a huge grinder and a whiff of freshly ground pepper contrasts against the white soup in the cup; if you're having their special tomato soup with crabflake or a cream of shrimp, in goes a splash of imported sherry. And this you can do right in your own home.

Keep Foods Frozen Until Time to Use

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (INS) — Frozen foods should be kept frozen until ready for use because once frozen they spoil more quickly when thawed.

Fruits and vegetables may be refrozen if ice crystals still remain on the food, according to specialists but meats and fish should be cooked as soon as possible.

Re-frozen vegetables, however, are inclined to toughen and re-frozen fruits may become soft and mushy.

Compliments Few?

If you've been wearing the same hairdo for more than a year, or haven't received a coif-compliment for more than a month—it's time for a change! Make a date with a hairdresser, have him restyle, shape and set your hair, and teach you how to care for it.

Choose a simple hairdo that will look well all the time and not only when you take special pains. If you have straight hair, but object to permanents, try an end permanent to give more body to your hairdo.

Too Much Leisure Proves Boring

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One of the strangest things about life is that things almost never turn out the way we had pictured them.

When you're planning a trip to a foreign country, for example, you a foreign country, for eample, you have a pretty clear idea of what it will be like; but when you get there, it's totally different.

The same thing is true of retirement. People picture what it will be like but it is never the same.

That's how it was with Mr. and Mrs. R.

They had been very careful financially and knew they would have enough to live on very comfortably when Mr. R. retired.

SELL HOME

They planned to sell their house, which, with the children grown and gone, was much too big and they were going to get a comfortable apartment and just relax and do the leisurely things they had always planned to do.

* * *

"But it wasn't like that at all," Mrs. R. write me.

"We moved into a charming apartment in a big, brand-new housing development. In fact, the place was just barely finished when we moved in—we were among the first tenants.

"We spent about two months fixing up the apartment, catching up on our reading and doing the things we had planned.

* * *

"And then, boredom set in!

"Jack had always been in sales work. He began to miss the contact with people. I had always been in club work and had had hundreds of friends.

"I found it very difficult to make new friends in the new place and spent all my time writing chatty letters back home to old friends and living for the mail.

"Jack just began pacing around and taking long, pointless walks. "One evening," she continued, "One evening," she continued, "Jack had a brainstorm.

"A lot of new stores were moving into the development — grocery stores, children's wear shops, shoe shops, a drug store. The development had thousands of tenants and could support a lot of stores.

* * *

"Jack decided that we should start a small weekly paper, just mimeographed, which we could give away free to all the tenants. He would sell ads in it to the different stores, so we'd make some money and I would be responsible for writing the news and gossip.

NO EXPERIENCE

At first I thought he was mad, because I had never done any real writing. But he said, 'You write plenty of letters and you love to gossip. This will be a gossipy, friendly, chatty sheet which tells of the doing of the tenants.'

"Well, it has worked out beautifully. I call on people to get the news and have made all kinds of friends.

"Also, I started a kind of classified section for people who want to exchange a bassinet for a tricycle or odd furniture or some such thing. Jack is selling ads and we are really making a good deal of money.

"How different, and how much better this is, than the life we had planned!"

Practical Styles in Paris Serve Double Purposes

PARIS (INS)—The most practical Paris styles this season are double purpose garments which change their looks at the snap of the finger.

Manguin shows a dress which is reversible and can even be worn as a coat. It is a slim-styled garment with three-quarter sleeves and buttoned down the front from the collarless neck to the hem. To shape the waist it is slightly frilled into a set-in belt. The dress is double. One side is of grey and black glen-checked wool for daytime wear which reverses to a wine-red satin side for evening.

You can also wear it as a coat over a tube-dress in which case the red satin side acts as a lining.

Balenciaga and Madeleine De Rauch both have the same idea. They show evening capes of taffeta or satin which can also be worn fastened around the waist as long evening skirts. The top of the cape is frilled into a "collar" band which also fits just around the waist to become the belt of the skirt. That way your evening wrap can turn into your evening skirt as soon as you arrive at the party or ball.

Madeleine de Rauch has another practical idea. She has designed a black wool daytime coat which can be made dressy looking for evening wear with a satin cover. This "coat-cover" is cut in the same simple style as the basic wool coat but roomy enough to be slipped over it. The basic wool coat is for warmth and the shiny black orlon satin cover is for after-dark elegance.

For a quick snack party, pass a platter of carrot curls and celery for dunking in a cheese dip.

Variety Keynotes Sportshirt Styles

Fabrics and stylings offered in this winter's sportshirts are almost limitless, as are the variations in pattern and color. There are stripes, plaids, checks, regimentals and miniature tartans, along with the usual solid colors and special designs.

Among the most advanced and interesting stylings for fall are those in worsted jersey and challis.

Lightweight wool challis — a smooth and durable fabric which is both warm and light in weight — is the medium used for many striking new prints. Typical of such prints is a group of "military medal prints" produced in subtle, deep-toned contrasting colors by one leading manufacturer.

Blousing is even more significant for resort wear. It softens the severe sheath silhouette. The belt that curves low to permit back blousing gives terrific chic to the waistline area.

It Irks 'em! Man Hates Sloppy Date

Learn These Dont's and He'll Stay Out All Evening

"Much adieu about nothing" can worry a girl. It's getting to be as easy to lose a beau these days as the curl in your hair on a windy day.

* * *

If you've had the problem lately, consider the answers to twenty questions asked of a number of young men.

1. Table hopping. He doesn't like the second fiddle role at the expense of his wallet, so keep your seat at his table when he's dating you.
2. Criticizing his mother. (One boy said his steady date annoyed him by criticizing his mother's cooking.)
3. Wearing "whistle-bait" dresses — too low-necked or in flamboyant colors or design.
4. Gossiping, particularly about friends.

* * *

5. Bad table manners. (Leaning ungracefully over the table, combing the hair or making up at the table.)
6. Ridiculing the interests of others such as baseball, football, hockey and making no attempt to understand these ventures.

* * *

7. Acting too anxious to dance with somebody else or making the pointed statement that "he's such a wonderful dancer."
8. Ordering the most expensive items on a menu.
9. Smoking excessively, tapping a cigarette nervously and other mannerisms such as dangling a cigarette from the mouth.

* * *

10. Being overly possessive or displaying too much affection in public.
11. Sloppy dress (too-long slip, straps showing).
12. Acting neglectful the moment the date is distracted to other entertainment.
13. Talking about how poor or how rich her family are. "Why mention it," asks one young man.
14. Apeing a man in dress, speech or humor, and especially the telling of man-style jokes.
15. Unkind attitude toward animals, children and own parents.
16. Incessant talking.
17. Gushy letters (one boy abhors gruesome stationery — garnish colors or designs).
18. Telephoning him too often and seeming too anxious for a date.
19. Bursting into tears at the slightest provocation.
20. A pushover in the necking and petting department.

You'll find this matching set of hat-ascot and mittens the perfect coverings for the cold days ahead. Worked in simple stitches, you'll want to make a set for yourself and others for gift-giving.

Pattern No. 5721 contains full crochet directions for hat-ascot and mittens—sizes small, medium and large incl.; material requirements; stitch illustrations.

Almost certainly by spring there will be a cape in most wardrobes. And the cape can be proportioned to every figure. The cocoon-wrapped cape, which narrows toward the hem, does not cut the silhouette as the extended, wide cape does.

Time to Check Up on Makeup Habits

Experiment with your makeup at the dressing table. Try a make-up base a shade lighter than your skin color and powder a shade lighter than that. Learn how to emphasize your eyes with proper tweezing, mascara, eyeshadow and eyelash curler.

Test some new lipstick shades — a deep rose or an autumn-touched red. Use your lipstick as a fashion accessory, changing colors often to match your clothes.

Easy Party Pudding

Packaged puddings quickly become party puddings when they are made with instant cream. Just buy your favorite pudding in vanilla, chocolate or butterscotch flavor. Combine contents of standard package of pudding with two tablespoons of instant cream. Add milk and cook as directed. Instant cream dissolves in cooking. Chill before serving.

Ohio Dems Count on Lausche, GOP on Ike

By JACK BELL

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Between the Democratic political strongholds of industrial Cleveland and Toledo U.S. Highway 20 swings southwest to Norwalk and then stretches like a taut string westward over the flat, fertile Republican farm areas of northern Ohio.

* * *

In the slice of about 50 miles of typically rural Ohio traversed by No. 20 before it reaches the Maumee River—and in other areas like it—may lie Ohio's verdict on the presidential race between President Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson as well as the outcome of a close Senate contest.

For the Democrats depend primarily on what they contend is unrest among the farmers and distress among small businessmen in their campaign to reverse the half-million vote defeat Eisenhower handed Stevenson in the state four years ago.

Another factor is the popularity among Republican voters in past years, at least, of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Lausche is battling Republican Sen. George Bender for a Senate seat which could be decisive in the two-party struggle for control of that body.

* * *

William L. Coleman, Democratic state chairman, says Ohio's farmers are "quite incensed" over their economic situation. And he contends the average small town business man is "suffering".

Coleman predicts both the farmer and the store owner in farm-supported communities will vote Democratic in large numbers this year, along with the working man in Ohio's great industrial centers.

Ray Bliss, Republican state chairman, concedes there is some farm dissatisfaction. He has not missed the grumbles of some of the small town businessmen. He leans heavily on Eisenhower's popularity to carry the GOP state ticket and Bender into office.

* * *

You find some support for both sides as you roll along Highway 20.

On the outskirts of bustling little Bellevue, Clarence Danklefsen sells farm machinery.

"Yeah," he said leaning over his counter and picking up a spare part, "the farmers are bellyaching but that's nothing new. They're always bellyaching. Maybe it means something and maybe it doesn't. You can't tell about a farmer. He's liable to talk one way and vote the other."

* * *

Out for a morning stroll, C. G. Setzler was free with his political views.

"Yes, sir, I'm for Stevenson," he said, whipping out his wallet and extracting his Railway Conductors' Union card. "The only time we ever got anything was under the Democrats. Eisenhower, he promised he was going to have the Taft-Hartley act repealed but nothing has been done.

"Nixon is the worst man for labor that ever was. As far as I can see and read and hear, Eisenhower never was President."

In Clyde, further west on No. 20, Clarence Mosier was cutting up chickens for the retail markets in his feed store.

The way farmers were talking, he said he guessed they were divided about evenly between supporters of Eisenhower and Stevenson, though Eisenhower might have a little edge.

"The big thing is," he said, "that Ike's kept us out of war."

Down the street in Clyde, R.G. Rogers runs a restaurant, a motel and an antique shop. A soft-spoken man, Rogers has firm political convictions.

"I've been a Democrat all my life," he said, "but I'm going to vote for Eisenhower and Nixon. I think they have done as good a job as we have had in Washington for years. I think they are more sincere and trustworthy than their opponents."

Rogers said he will vote for Bender, too, because "I never have voted for Lausche—I don't think he's a Democrat."

Stassen Lights H-Ban Problems

Says Reds Might Test Bomb Secretly, Avoid Detection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen says "scientists cannot guarantee" that all Russian H-bomb tests could be detected outside that country.

Stassen, President Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament, made the statement during an ABC - TV discussion with Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) of Adlai E. Stevenson's suggestion that this country take the lead in halting H-bomb tests if other atomic powers agree. Stevenson has said tests by other nations could be detected, and this country could change its policy accordingly.

* * *

On another program, Secretary of Defense Wilson said he "wouldn't be interested in making —or testing—any bigger bombs." But he said "there was something to be gained" in this year's H-bomb tests at Eniewtok. He said new things were learned about radioactive fallout and the possibility of controlling it.

Both Stassen and Wilson stuck to the Eisenhower administration's contention that the tests can safely be halted only if other countries agree to a system of inspection that would guarantee compliance.

* * *

Stassen said that without an inspection system, scientists say it is possible that "somewhere in the vast recesses of Russia," with special precautions, it might be possible to explode an H-bomb without detection.

Bordon Stevenson, son of the Democratic presidential nominee and one of a panel questioning Stassen and Sparkman, asked about reports that Stassen himself had favored stopping the H-bomb tests before Stevenson made the proposal.

Stassen said there was no truth to the report.

The United States has given some $203,000,000 in credits an dgrant assistance to Indonesia since 1945.

Klansmen Trot Into Rural Church During Services

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Robed klansmen invaded a small rural church last night in an unscheduled demonstration that startled evening worshippers.

More than 100 men in Ku Llux Klan regalia marched to the altar, left contributions and walked out again. There was no disturbance.

The pianist was playing "Onward Christian Soldiers" when the hooded but unmasked KKK members appeared. She continued with the same tune during the 10 minutes required for their single file parade through the Culvert Street Baptist Church at Whistler, 10 miles north of here.

E. C. Barnard, a Klan spokesman, said the Klansmen had visted other churches but that this was the first time they had gone in their robes.

THE POWERHOUSE
By Jimmy Powers

Once last season against Detroit, the grid Giants' Frank Gifford broke downfield, shook off the defenders, raced into the clear and made a diving catch of a pass thrown by Don Heinrich.

Without slackening speed, he recovered his balance and dashed for the Giants' first touchdown.

A few minutes later, with the Giants in scoring position again, Gifford took a hand-off and ran wide in an apparent end sweep. Suddenly, he stopped and geared to pass.

The defense scattered, recognizing the option play which had made Gifford the most feared outside threat in the game.

Gifford didn't pass. He had spotted an alley back the way he had come. He tucked the ball under his arm and ran diagonally into the opposite corner for a second touchdown.

★ ★ ★

Within a few minutes he had made touchdowns on two widely dissimilar plays. Detroit fans, much to their regret, had been treated to a graphic display of the gifted Mr. Gifford's spectacular versatility.

HE MADE BROWN BLINK TWICE

Cleveland fans, who already knew something of Gifford's feats, might have warned them. Last season, in two games against the champion Browns, Gifford broke 27 yards off tackle for one score, snatched a pass out of the arms of a defender for another, and threw a 71-yard TD pass to Kyle Rote for a third. Then he casually added a 62-yard runback of a punt.

What has the former USC All-America done this season? He's merely average 9.8 yards a try carrying the ball. In the first two games he made runs of 59 and 69 yards, caught nine passes for 97 yards and made 16 points on a touchdown, field goal and seven extra points.

"The only surprising thing about Gifford," said coach Jim Lee Howell last week, "is that he's still improving."

If you care to name him the outstanding left halfback in the National Football League, you will face no serious objections.

★ ★ ★

The nation's sports writers will agree—they named him to their All-Pro team. The NFL coaches also will agree—they selected him for the Pro Bowl Game.

Finally, the league's 420-odd players will agree, for they chose him to their own All-Pro team in a poll taken last year for the first time.

Lead Dwindles but Lions Hang on to Win, 24-21

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — Sid Gillman, Los Angeles football coach, tried to undo a disastrous decision, but his change of heart came too late and as a result the Detroit Lions handed the Rams a 24-21 setback before 56,281 fans at Briggs Stadium yesterday.

Just before the game, Gillman said he was starting quarterback Norm Van Brocklin against the Lions instead of Billy Wade who had started the two previous games for LA.

For a quarter and a half Van Brocklin was pushed around unmercifully by the Lions' defensive unit. Two of his seven passes were intercepted and both led to Detroit scores.

After the Lions had scored 17 points, Wade came into the game for LA and injected new life into the Rams who scored all three touchdowns via Wade's arm.

Fullback Gene Gedman, who displayed spectacular running throughout the game went over from the one yard line after five minutes of the 1st period.

It climaxed an 85 yard march in 16 plays, spearheaded by Bobby Layne's passes to Dave Middleton and the running of Gedman and Don McIlhenny.

After the kickoff Van Brocklin's pass was intercepted by Jack Christiansen on Detroit's 45. Layne's passes to McIlhenny and Gedman moved the Lions into field goal distance and Jim Martin made the 3-pointer from the 35 yard line to make it 10-0.

* * *

Again after the next kickoff, Joe Schmidt intercepted another Van Brocklin pass on the Rams' 36 as the quarter ended.

In five plays McIlhenny completed the drive by taking a flat pass from Layne and stepping into the end zone. Layne's placement made it 17-0.

Wade replaced Van Brocklin and started hitting his targets, but three direct passes were dropped by Ram receivers. When the half ended LA was perched on Detroit's 30.

In the 3rd period, Wade lost no time in the airlanes. He hit Leon Clarke on Detroit's 45 and Clarke went all the way to score. The play covered 60 yards.

* * *

After two minutes of the 4th stanza Detroit completed a 54-yard march with McIlhenny going over from the three to score and Layne's point made it 24-7.

In only three plays covering 70 yards after the kickoff, the Rams made it 24-17 as Wade hit Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch on a 29-yard pass play. A 37 yard dash by substitute Tom Wilson was the big gain in the march.

With five minutes left, Wade threw a long pass that went 55 yards in the air and Hirsch made a spectacular catch of the ball. He outmaneuvered defender Jimmy Davis and ran the last 20 yards beautifully to score. With Les Richter's point it was 24-21.

* * *

Wade would have gotten another crack at Detroit's air zone, but a crucial penalty ended LA's chances.

There were 2½ minutes to play when Yale Lary went back to punt. He got the kick away but linebacker Dick Daugherty smeared Lary and was called for roughing the kicker. Instead of taking possession the Rams had to take a 15-yard penalty and give up the ball which Detroit froze.

In winning its third straight NFL game, Detroit's defensive line led by Ray Krouse and Bob Miller were strong factors, but it was hard working Gene Gedman with the old pro Bobby Layne who powered the Lions' attack.

* * *

Van Brocklin completed two and had two passes intercepted in the seven he threw. Wade connected on 12 of 22 passes.

DETROIT: Touchdowns — Gedman (3, plunge); McIlhenny 2 (2, pass, run from Layne; 3, plunge). Conversions—Layne 3. Field goal—Martin (35 yards).

ROAR LION ROAR — Hard running fullback Gene Gedman thrilled over 56,000 fans at Briggs Stadium yesterday with his shifty running in leading the Lions to victory over the Los Angeles Rams. Gedman, former Indiana University star, is one of the reasons for Detroit's success in winning three straight NFL games thus far. He returned to the team this season after two years in the service, and took the fullback job away from Leon Hart.

Wiffi Wins Trans-Miss

Scores One-Sided 8-6 Win Over Mrs. Ferrie in Tourney Finals

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — As far as Marge Ferrie is concerned, Wiffie Smith, the new Trans-Mississippi amateur champion, is a much improved golfer.

Mrs. Ferrie of Gardena, Calif., said she found this out yesterday as the freckled redhead from Orange, Tex., scored a lopsided 8 and 6 victory in the Trans-Miss finals over the scenic Monterey Peninsula Country Club's 6,071 par 73 layout.

* * *

Mrs. Ferrie, who won the first of her two state titles in 1940—when Wiffie was 3—said she played the long hitting champ four years ago and the teen-ager then shot a 97.

* * *

The sturdy Texan in adding the Trans-Mississippi to her laurels—British and French champion, ex-national U.S. junior champ—went but two over par in the 30-hole finale.

She was just six over par for the 106 holes she played in the 26th annual event.

Tournament officials announced that the 1957 Trans-Miss will be held at the Desert Inn Course in Las Vegas, Nev.

Inman Enters Golf Playoff

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Bob Inman of Detroit and Dick Chassee of St. Louis meet today in an 18-hole playoff to determine the winner in the Rolling Hills Country Club Open Invitational Golf Tournament here.

The winner will receive $2,000, the runner-up $1,000.

Both fired 3 over part 36-hole totals of 147 to tie for first place in the $5,000 tourney yesterday.

Three Inside-the-Park Home Runs Amaze Fans

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—It's a rarity to see an inside the park homer these days. But three in one night caused the fans here to rub their eyes in disbelief.

The feat occured in a twilight double header between the Indianapolis Indians and the Minneapolis Millers of the American Assn.

All three round trippers were hit by the Indians. Bill Harrell smacked one in the first contest. Dave Pope and Larry Raines did the trick in the second game.

*Played tie game.

The Suburban Catholic League football championship for 1956 was virtually decided Sunday afternoon when Orchard Lake St. Mary disposed of Hazel Park St. Rita, 18-0, at Orchard Lake.

While the Eaglets were taking great strides towards their 2nd consecutive crown, St. Michael was outscoring St. Clement of Center Line, 41-25, and the St. Frederick Rams were bowing to St. Benedict, 20-0.

Although Orchard Lake's attack sputtered frequently against St. Rita, it was plenty good enough to bring the Eaglets their 4th victory this season and their 17th in a row.

Fullback Terry Raymond scored two touchdowns for Orchard Lake. He cracked over from the two in the 2nd quarter and hit paydirt from the same spot in the 3rd. Paul Franckowiak's 53-yard aerial to end Pete Madelans in the 1st quarter accounted for St. Mary's other touchdown.

Halfback Chuck Brown scored five touchdowns as the Shamrocks defeated St. Clement in a free-scoring affair at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium. Dan Dropps contributed his share to the wild afternoon by heaving four touchdown passes.

Dropps hit Brown for a 28-yard touchdown in the 1st quarter to start things rolling. End Kenny Rogers grabbed a 16-yarder and Brown galloped 58 yards with another pass to give St. Mike a 20-12 lead at halftime.

Dropps found Brown free again for a 14-yard aerial strike in the 3rd quarter. The Mikes scored twice in the last period. Brown swept around end for 14 yards, then intercepted a Crusader pass and dashed 54 yards for the other.

Sid Houghton scored twice for the Crusaders, a 72-yard run in the 1st period and a two-yard plunge in the 2nd. Chuck Pazzi's one-yard buck in the 3rd quarter and a one-yard slant by Forbush in the 4th completed St. Clement's scoring.

St. Fred's winless string was extended to 30 games when the Rams lost to St. Benedict at Highland Park. Runs of 15 and 25 yards by halfback Larry Gackt gave the Ravens a 14-0 halftime advantage. A 35-yard pass play from Art Massucci to Art Clark late in the 4th quarter wound up the point-making.

The Rams were unable to make a serious touchdown threat. Defensive guard Jack Lyon sparkled for St. Fred.

In Sunday's remaining SCL game, St. James of Ferndale defeated Royal Oak St. Mary, 20-12. St. Theresa downed Shrine, 14-7.

Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., finished second with a 292 and received $616.

Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., was third with 296 and 4th place was taken by Faye Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, with 297.

Providence Reds Trounce Indians in AHL Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Providence Reds are losing no time showing the polish which carried them to the American Hockey League title and through the Calder Cup playoffs last season.

* * *

The 1956-57 season is just under way and already the Reds are showing the way with an attack that has tallied 13 times in three games and a defense that has held their opponents to six goals.

In the only one of the three games that went to a decision last night, the Reds defeated the Springfield Indians 7-2. Buffalo and Hershey played to a 2-2 overtime tie.

Fifty Spartans Share in Rout of Hoosiers

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — Depth and speed to spare!

Those are the only words that can be used to adequately describe the Michigan State University football squad following Saturday's effortless 53-6 rout of the Indiana Hoosiers.

* *

Depth and speed became strong characteristics of Michigan State teams when Biggie Munn took over the coaching reins in 1947.

With head coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty now serving his 3rd season at the MSU helm, these characteristics are every bit as evident.

A seemingly endless parade of Spartans flowed on and off the Macklin Field turf with no sign of decreased power or speed. Duffy sent 50 players into the fray, including a 4th string quarterback named Bob Popp.

The Spartans rolled up eight touchdowns and eight different players received credit. Pat Wilson, Clarence Peaks, Larry Harding, Walt Kowalczyak, Don Gilbert, Dennis Mendyk, Art Johnson and Blanche Martin each crossed the Indiana goal.

No attempt was made to pour it on. As Duffy himself said afterwards, "We didn't want to run the score that high, but it was very difficult to contain all those young players."

* * *

Bernie Crimmins, the dejected Hoosier coach, was generous in his praise of the MSU legions. "They are powerful, aggressive and fast," said Crimmins. "They do everything well and they have speed to burn."

Crimmins would make no actual comparison between State and Notre Dame. He did say that the Spartans had greater overall team speed than the Irish. "Notre Dame has speed with only a few men," he said.

Peaks, a tremendous halfback in anybody's language, was probably the most calm, cool and collected gridder on the field. This was demonstrated in the 2nd quarter when penalties had backed State to its one-yard line. Peaks nonchalantly faked a quick-kick in the end zone, then passed to Mike Panitch for a 28-yard gain.

Jimmy Hinesly, who replaced the ailing Dave Kaiser at end for the Spartans, was awarded the game ball.

Cadets Humiliated by "M", 48-14

Army Needed Heavy Armor at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR — The Army could have used more than its ground corps when it invaded Ann Arbor Saturday.

The Cadets, who were humiliated 48-14, should have recruited help from the Air Force and the heavy armored division in trying to contain a band of 49 Wolverines.

After the onslaught, Army coach Red Blaik told newsmen, "We actually came out here believing we would win this game."

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan used his entire pack of Wolverines in trying to ease what could be considered a sad picture for Eastern football.

* * *

Army came to Michigan hailed as the pride of the East and when the train headed back to the Atlantic Coast the Cadets were given a taste of football as played in the Midwest.

The West Pointers showed weak blocking, timid tackling and found that footballs without handles are not used out this way.

Army fumbled nine times and Michigan cashed in on five of the six recoveries.

* * *

Eight Wolverines figured in the scoring. The touchdowns via the ground included Jim Pace, 1 yard; Terry Barr, 3 yards; Bob Ptacek, 1 yard; John Herrnstein, 60 yards; Jim Van Pelt, 2 yards, and Jim Maddock, 3 yards.

By the airlanes Gary Prahst scored on an 11-yard pass from Ed Shannon. The placements were added by Kramer (2), Maddock (2), Van Pelt and Shannon.

In the first seven minutes of play both teams fumbled away twice. But just before the period ended, Michigan started a 45-yard march to score the first of seven touchdowns.

* * *

It was 27-0 with the second stringers playing for "M" and the score read 48-0 with third and fourth stringers on the field.

When Army scored its 14 points in the last six minutes of play, Oosterbaan had only the water boy who hadn't entered the game.

One of the Cadet touchdowns was scored by former Cranbrook gridder Pete Dawkins from Royal Oak who skirted end for nine yards. Regular quarterback Bob Kyasky went 15 yards earlier to score.

Terry Barr, Jim Pace and John Herrnstein were the big three of Michigan's attack.

Nashua Retires by Winning Gold Cup

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons says farewell to his beloved Nashua today, the sadness of parting tempered with the knowledge that he has in the 2-year-old Bold Ruler a horse that may well emulate the performances of the millionaire thoroughbred.

Nashua entrains for Lexington, Ky., and stud duty today after winning the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park—the race that the 82-year-old trainer wanted "most of all to win."

The 4-year-old of Nasrullah, for whom a syndicate headed by Leslie Combs II paid $1,251,200, closed out his racing career with a record of 22 victories in 30 starts and world record earnings of $1,288,565. Six of his triumphs and earnings of $343,150 came in 10 outings for the syndicate.

National Bowling Day
Keglers Aim at Champions

CHICAGO (AP)—Men who bowled better than 728 and women who topped 590 will get "I Beat The Champion" recognition in National Bowling Day competition.

All star champions Bill Lillard and Anita Cantaline of Detroit posted those respective totals last night as the targets of the many thousands of the nation's participating bowlers.

* * *

The challengers, of course, can add their handicaps to their National Bowling Day competitive scores in stacking them against those of the champions. Meals go to the men, charm bracelets to the women whose aggregates better the champions' figures.

The competition was jointly sponsored by the American Red Cross and the Bowling Proprietors' Assn. Fifty-cent entry fees of all competitors go to the Red Cross.

* * *

The 600 high scorers will participate in a later roll-off for 300 prizes, including 10 expense-paid vacations in Mexico.

Lillard compiled his total on games of 265-206-257. Miss Cantaline's game totals were 204-172-214.

Welterweights in TV Bout Tonight

Garnett "Sugar" Hart of Philadelphia and Earl Dennis of New York, a couple of young, eager welterweights who have wailed that the stars won't fight them, collide tonight in a television 10-rounder, DuMont, TV, 9:30 p.m., EST, at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

Hart, a solid swinging 21-year-old with a record of 14 knockouts in 17 pro fights, is an 8-5 favorite over the dangerous 24-year-old Dennis, naturally known as "the menace" in New York gyms. Sugar's complete record is 16-1, the loss coming on a one-round knockout by one Fred Terry. Since then Hart has won eight straight.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The $4,500,000 Metropolitan Stadium, built to lure a major league baseball franchise to the Twin Cities, played host to everything but a potato race in its first year of operation.

It accommodated the Minneapolis Millers of the American Assn., music concerts, rodeos, American Legion baseball, a professional football exhibition and an auto race on perimeter roads.

Wings Lone Unbeaten in NHL

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, already performing like champions stood at the top of the National Hockey League today, the only undefeated team in the NHL.

Competing without the services of two regulars, the Wings drilled in two goals in the first 13 minutes, then hung on for a 2-1 decision over the New York Rangers last night in their first home appearance of the season.

The victory was the third in as many starts for Detroit and boosted the club into a three point lead over the second place Boston Bruins.

It has been a far different showing than the one the Detroiters put on to open last year's campaign. After dropping its first contest, it went into a six-week skid that ended in the NHL cellar. From that point on, the Red Wings never caught up with the front-running Montreal Canadiens, giving up the league title for the first time in eight years.

* * *

Norm Ullman and rookie Billy Dea connected for Detroit's two counters against the Rangers, each hitting for the second time this year.

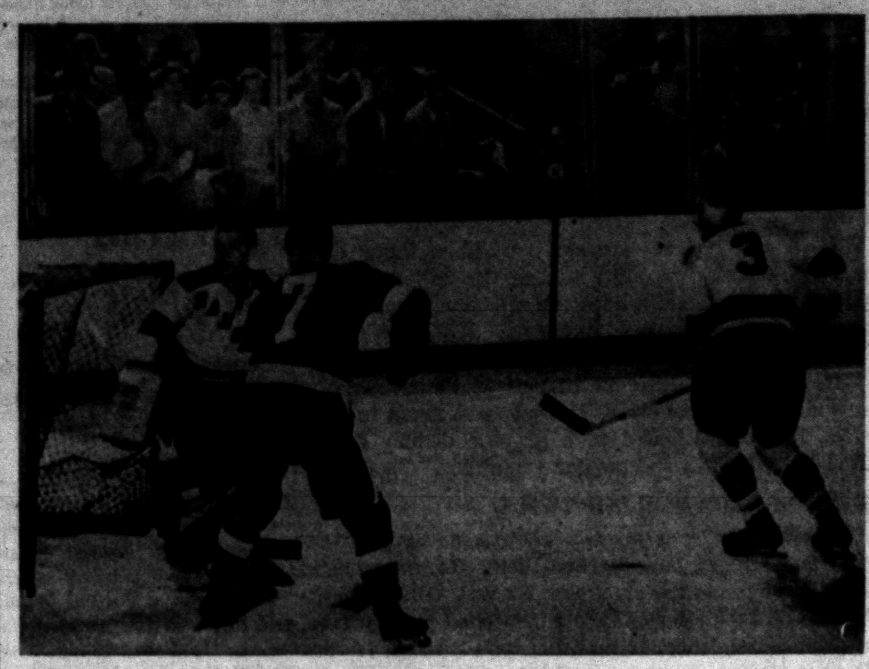

Ullman's, a fluke, came at 6:17 of the first period. He fired an intended pass from the boards but the puck hit Ranger defenseman Harry Howell on the leg and skipped past New York goalie Lorne Worsley.

Dea's goal came at 12:38 of the same period when he took a pass out from Dutch Reibel and connected from 10 feet out.

The Wings, obviously tired after a tough encounter with the Toronto Maple Leafs Saturday night that ended in a 4-1 victory, gave New York its only goal in the second period. Guy Gendron got it at 4:07 tipping Lou Fontinato's long shot in flight and turning it past goalie Glenn Hall.

Playoff in Western Open

4 Golf Pros Fight It Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four tournament golf professionals battled it out today in a playoff for $5,000 top money in the Western Open after usually steady Doug Ford blew his chance to take it all.

* * *

Ford, one of the finest short game players in the business, came apart on the last three holes of yesterday's climactic round to finish in a 284 dead heat with Don January, Flashy Lampasas, Texas, youngster; Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., and Mike Fetchick, Mahopac, N.Y.

Coming off The Presidio's breezy 15th hole, Ford was sailing along four under par and nothing apparently stood in his way of grabbing the big prize. Then, as shocked spectators watched in amazement, his play around the greens went completely haywire.

The 33-year-old winner of the 1955 PGA championship 3-putted the 16th for a bogey, carded another bogey by taking three to get down from the edge of 17 and, as the gallery watched open-mouthed, blew himself into the playoff on the 18th.

On this decisive hole, where he still had a chance to recoup, his second landed in thick grass about 25 feet to the left of the pin. He carefully chipped toward the cup and the ball skidded 10 feet past on the lightning fast surface. From there he barely missed his putt and went down in 5, another bogey.

In the playoff starting at 12:30 p.m., PST, today the Yonkers, N.Y., veteran, who hasn't won a tournament this year, is up against three tough competitors who did considerable scrambling to reach the payoff. Anyone of them could take it.

* * *

The lanky Texan, January, 26, has won just one major tournament, the Dallas Centennial last May. He was leading the Western Open midway. He came in today even par, one stroke higher than Ford.

Hebert, who at 33 has never won a major tournament, came right out of the dark, for he had 216 for his first three rounds and had not been putting too well. But his 69 in yesterday's final round shot him up to the top for a chance at the $5,000.

* * *

Three sub-par rounds, including a final 70 yesterday, earned the steady Fetchick, who celebrated his 34th birthday Saturday, his spot in the unprecedented playoff. This is the first time such a thing has happened in the Western Open, although other tournaments have had four-way ties.

Shanty Conks Out at Sahara

Hawaii Kai III Victor in Speedboat Race With 1,200 Points

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Edgar F. Kaiser's Hawaii Kai III won the first Sahara Cup on speedboat race on nearby Lake Mead today when her chief rival, Shanty I, conked out after two laps of the final 6-lap heat.

Jack Regas, driving Hawaii Kai, was behind Shanty I at the start and after the first lap Shanty was leading with Hawaii Kai gaining ground, after Shanty's engine went out, Regas led the rest of the way.

Hawaii Kai wound up with 1,200 points for its victory in two elimination heats plus the final championship race. Shanty I, driven by Col. R. S. Schlee, had 800 points for winning two elimination heats.

The last elimination heat was a racing thriller. George Simon's Miss U. S. I from Detroit and Miss Wahoo, the Seattle entry of Bill Boeing Jr., took off almost abreast at the start and came around the first lap virtually even.

Talks Scheduled Between Oriole Brass, Richards

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager-General Manager Paul Richards and officials of the Baltimore Orioles are scheduled to meet today, presumably to wrestle with the problem of finding a new general manager.

Originally scheduled to meet Friday, the club officials decided to move the meeting up to today because some board members said they will be away later this week. Also, Richards said he might not remain in Baltimore that long.

Richards came to town yesterday with the statement that the less said about a new front office official the better. "We'll be talking it over for a day or two and chances are there will be an announcement soon," he added.

Supertest Driver Escapes Injuries

PICTON, Ont. (INS)—A Detroit driver narrowly escaped serious injury in Picton, Ont., while attempting to break the world speedboat record held by Slo-Mo-Shun IV.

Danny Foster, who escaped with only a cut nose, was piloting J. Gordon Thompson's Miss Supertest at better than 190 miles an hour Saturday on Lake Ontario when a sponson ripped away from the craft.

The accident washed out Foster's attempt to top the 178 mph mark of the late Stan Sayre of Seattle.

Podoley Bids for Honors

(By The ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Jim Podoley, whose football prowess sometimes is over-shadowed by his decathelon feats, has made his move in a bid for Michigan's football scoring honors.

The flashy halfback with rare athletic ability ran his season total to 36 points Saturday as he led undefeated Central Michigan to a 44-20 victory over western Illinois.

Podoley, now tied for the state scoring lead with Ferris' Russ McLean, took a pass on a 42-yard touchdown play and ran for a 6-yard score. Podoley had been lagging behind five players in the scoring race with 24 points.

Meanwhile, Hillsdale's Nate Clark, the nation's small college scoring leader last year, ran his 1956 total to five touchdowns. He scored on a 45-yard punt return and plunges of one and four yards as his undefeated Dales ruined Alma's homecoming, 23-3, in an MIAA contest.

Detroit, visiting Wichita, was upset in a Missouri Valley Conference game, 19-13. Wichita's speedy halfback Jim Klisanin scored three times on runs of 20, 23 and 12 yards. Detroit led 7-6, in the first quarter when quarterback Steve Piskach shot a 25-yard touchdown pass to Billy Dando and Piskach converted, but Klisanin's third period 23-yard run ended it.

Colleges Withdraw From Schedules

Segregation Held in Louisiana Sports

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Louisiana today segregated all sports.

It will be illegal for white and Negro amateur or professional players to compete in the same "athletic training, games, sports or contests." Spectators also must be segregated. The maximum punishment is a $1,000 fine and one year imprisonment.

* * *

Although the law passed in the regular May session of the Legislature did not take effect until today, its provisiins have been felt for weeks.

Soon after Gov. Earl Long signed the bill July 17, some colleges began cancelling their commitments to appear in Louisiana. Some withdrew because of Negroes on their squads. Others said they were withdrawing on grounds of principle.

* * *

The University of Wisconsin was the first to act. It ended its 1957-58 home-and-home agreement for football games with Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge.

Seven schools called basketball games set for next season. Notre Dame, Dayton and St. Louis quit the Sugar Bowl tourney. The Sugar Bowl substituted Alabama, Houston and Virginia Tech to play with Kentucky, only team remaining of the original four invited.

Santa Clara dropped out of the Louisiana Invitational Tournament at Shreveport and was replaced by Virginia Military Institute. Loyola of New Orleans lost Harvard, Marquette and American University from its basketball schedule.

* * *

Boxing previously was the only sport specifically segregated throughout the state. That ban was applied through a rule of the Louisiana State Athletic Assn. The new state law goes further; it will prohibit white boxers from working out with Negro boxers in gyms, a not uncommon practice here.

* * *

Because of the new law, only a few major league baseball exhibition games are expected in the state each training season. But the biggest baseball question is what will happen to take care of Shreveport's entry in the Texas League.

Shreveport has no Negroes, but other clubs in the loop play Negroes there. Some solution may be forthcoming at tomorrow's league meeting in Dallas.

Majors' All-Stars Dominated by AL

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Sporting News 1956 Major League All-Stars baseball team was dominated by the American League for the first time in four seasons, with seven of the 11 places.

The National League held a 7-4 edge in places the previous seasons.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox was selected in the outfield over Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals. This set a record, breaking a 10-time tie with Stan the man.

The baseball weekly polled 211 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. to select the team.

THE 1956 TEAM:

Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati, first base; Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox, second base; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, shortstop; Ken Boyer, St. Louis, third base; Williams, Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees, and Hank Aaron, Milwaukee, outfielders; Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox; Whitey Ford, New York Yankees and Don Newcombe, Brooklyn, pitchers, and Yogi Berra, New York Yankees, catcher.

Cranes Drop I-S Opener at Western Reserve, 27-7

Cranbrook's opening defense of its Inter-State League football title was a futile one as Western Reserve Academy spanked the Cranes, 27-7, Saturday afternoon at Cleveland, Ohio.

An 80-yard run by Dave Johnson handed Western a 7-0 lead in the 1st quarter. The Cranes tied the score in the 3rd period following a blocked punt by Chuck Grube. Quarterback Dave Cooper passed five yards to Hank Bartholemew for the tally.

Western came right back to take the lead for good on a 25-yard pass from Johnson to Carl Swartz. Moments later tackle Howard Coffin fell on a blocked punt in the end zone for another Western touchdown.

The Clevelanders drove 75 yards for their final touchdown in the 4th quarter. Quarterback Bob Weiss sneaked over from three yards out.

Cranbrook's soccer team won its 4th straight match, defeating Western, 6-4. Holm Sembach booted four goals for the Cranes to raise his average to three per game. Sig Snyder and Bruce McCaul kicked the other goals for Cranbrook.

SPARTAN GAINER — Michigan State right halfback Jim Wulff speeds around end for a long gain as Indiana's Bernie Gruinza moves in for the tackle. Bears, Giants, Packers Get Victories

NFL Teams Click at Gate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"There'll Be Some Changes Made" might well be the National Football League's theme song this year, played to the accompaniment of clicking turnstiles.

* * *

Nearly a quarter-million fans turned out to see yesterday's play, in which last year's conference titlists—Los Angeles in the Western Division and Cleveland in the Eastern—lost to teams they used to handle easily, and in which weak teams seemed suddenly transformed into powerhouses.

* * *

A throng of 60,042 saw the Browns succumb to the New York Giants, 21-9, for the first time since 1952 as the once-awesome Cleveland offense could manage only 40 yards rushing and 104 passing. And 56,281 saw Los Angeles become last year's cellar-dwelling Detroit Lions' third victim, 24-21.

Only the Chicago Bears, living up to their rave notices, provided a touch of sanity, rolling almost at will through the San Francisco 49ers, for 397 ground yards, 86 air yards, 22 first downs and a 31-7 victory. A capacity crowd of 49,714 sat in on this one.

* * *

In other games, the upstart Chicago Cardinals retained their spotless record with their third victory, 31-3 over Washington before 25,794; Philadelphia rode with Bobby Thomason's aerial circus for a 35-21 decision over Pittsburgh before 31,375, and Green Bay's Packers used veteran quarterback Tobin Rote's two touchdown passes and two scoring plunges for a 38-33 verdict over Baltimore. A near-capacity crowd of 24,214 braves a second-half drizzle to see Green Bay notch its first victory.

* * *

Halfback Alex Webster, an NFL sophomore, scored three touchdowns for the Giants. The New Yorkers perforated the Cleveland line for 256 yards rushing.

Rick Casares contributed 111 yards and two touchdowns to the Bears' attack. He was aided by rookie Perry Jeter with 86 and Bobby Watkins with 69. Behind 24-0, San Francisco finally countered on a fourth-period pass play from Y. A. Tittle to Joe Arenas.

George Blanda, besides booting a field goal, clicked with four conversions, upping his consecutive string to 154.

* * *

Ollie Matson's spectacular kickoff return, a Griffith Stadium record-breaking 105 yards, featured the Cardinals' victory. Earlier, Card rookie Frankie Bernardi dashed 95 yards on a punt return for a first-period score. Matson's run came immediately after Washington's only score, a 19-yard field goal by Sam Baker.

The Eagles, winning their second after an inaugural loss, jumped to a 23-0 lead on two touchdown passes by Thomason, a 28-yard pass interception by Eddie Bell and rookie Don Schaefer's 1-yard plunge. The effort offset three touchdown tosses by Ted Marchibroda.

Saw Cleveland-Milwaukee Series

Reese Gives Maglie Credit for Flag

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP)—"If we didn't have that fellow over there it would have been a Cleveland - Milwaukee World Series," said Pee Wee Reese.

Reese nodded in the direction of Magoo, sometimes called Mr. Blackbeard but better known to the baseball world as Sal Maglie, the fellow who was labelled as lazy by Leo Durocher.

Down the hectic National League stretch drive it was Maglie every fourth day and it was Maglie behind whom the Dodgers played inspired baseball, despite a 27-game winning season from Don Newcombe.

He beat Milwaukee 4-2 to pull the Dodgers to within one game of the team that led the league most of the 154-game season. In the same final month he pitched a no-hitter against the Phillies and the day before the season ended he beat Bob Friend and Pittsburgh to tie the Dodgers for first place.

Four days later he won his first World Series game against the Yankees. Mind you, all this from a 39-year-old pitcher waived out of the National League by the Giants in July of 1955 and then waived back by Cleveland in mid-May of 1956, less than a year after he had been a "washed-up" Giant.

So, it's easy to see why Reese, playing shortstop and watching Maglie's every slider and sharp-breaking curve with awe, gives a big nod to the calm Barber of Niagara Falls.

"Without Sal we would never have had a chance to be even close in the pennant race," says Reese. "He picked us up when we were down."

Roy Campanella, the man who caught for more than half the year with a bad hand from sticking it in the way of errant pitches and foul tips, is another Maglie man.

"For my money Sal is baseball's comeback man of the year," says Campy, "and I'm not forgetting the wonderful recovery made by Vic Wertz of Cleveland after his polio attack of a year ago."

Wineburg Comes Into Stardom at Texas Christian

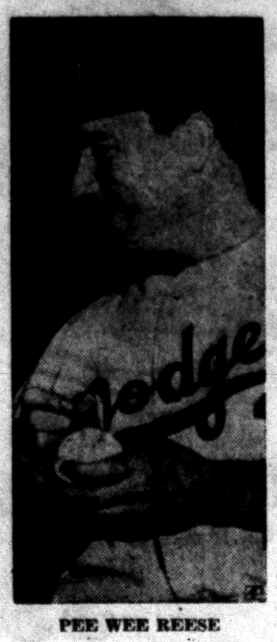

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—For two years Ken Wineburg played in the shadow of a lot of guys on the Texs Christian football team. He was second string to Ray Taylor at halfback and Taylor, of course, played in the shadow of All-America Jim Swink.

* * *

This year they're all playing in the shadow of Ken Wineburg, Swink included. Ken leads TCU along the unbeaten path with running reminiscent of Swink at this stage of the race last season.

* * *

Through three games he leads the Southwest Conference in scoring and ball-carrying. He has made 42 points and he has romped to 364 yards with an average of 10.4 per carry. He has passed for 54 yards, caught a half-dozen passes and punted 6 times for an average of 26.2. Coach Abe Martin is a trifle disappointed in the latter but is confident Wineburg will straighten that out.

Laurel Race Bid Accepted by Swede

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The Laurel International Race on Nov. 12 got its first entry from Sweden today while losing one from France.

Chanteclair, 3-year-old winner of the Danish and Norwegian derbies, is the first horse to be invited from the Scandinavian countries to the Laurel Race inaugurated in 1952.

Acceptance by his owner, Kurt Laurin, who is president of the Stockholm Racing Assn., arrived with word from Marcel Boussac of France that his Macip has to be scratched.

Macip broke a small bone in a leg galloping at Newmarket in England, Boussac reported, and will be out of competition for a year.

Wing Out 6 Weeks

DETROIT (INS) — Alex Delvecchio, the Detroit Red Wings' star center, will be out of the lineup for about six weeks with a broken bone in his ankle.

The flashy center was injured Saturday night in Toronto and was taken to a Toronto hospital for X-rays.

Worst Season in Sight

Foes Awaiting Chance to Join Beat ND Wagon

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Can this be the year that Notre Dame football foes have been awaiting?

Defeated in two of their first three games, the Irish meet the nation's two top teams the next two weeks—Michigan State and Oklahoma—and might become the first Notre Dame team in history to lose four of its first five games.

The 1956 Irish already have the dubious distinction of becoming the first Notre Dame team since 1896 to lose two of its first three games.

* * *

The Irish fell before Purdue, a long time nemisis, Saturday, 28-14. It was Purdue's third triumph over the Irish since 1950 when the Boilermakers snapped a 39 game undefeated string by the identical 28-14 score.

Way back in 1896, Notre Dame lost its opener, 4-0, to a team known as Chicago P&S. The following game saw the Irish drop an 18-0 decision to the University of Chicago but they scrambled out a 24-0 triumph over Albion and finished the season with a 4-3-0 record. Notre Dame's other defeat that season was to Purdue, 28-22.

* * *

This could develop into Notre Dame's most disastrous campaign since 1933 when the Irish won three, lost five and had one tie. In 1950 after Purdue had exploded Notre Dame supremacy, the Irish finished with a 4-4-1 mark.

The 1933 season, incidentally, was the worst in Notre Dame history.

States Rights Party to Kick Off Campaign

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A rally touching off the campaign of an independent conservative presidential ticket will be held here tonight.

* * *

The candidates on the states rights-tax reform ticket, backed by a loose organization of small conservative parties in 14 states, are T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond for president and Thomas H. Werdel of Bakersfield, Calif., for vice president.

Andrews, foe of the federal income tax, is a former director of the International Revenue Service in the Eisenhower administration. Werdel is a former Republican congressman from California.

Both men will be notified tonight of their selection as candidates and will make their acceptance speeches.

The Andrews-Werdel ticket is backed in this state by the newly formed States Rights party of Virginia.

Ike May Okay Limited Tito Aid

Decision Is Expected; Red Ties to Determine Duration of Assistance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is expected to issue tomorrow a policy decision to continue limited economic and military assistance to Communist Yugoslavia.

How long the aid would continue would depend on results of frequent reviews of Yugoslavia's relations with Russia.

* * *

Officials said the administration is determined to avoid any action which might push Yugoslavia into closer association with Russia. At the same time there is considerable concern over how rapidly Yugoslav President Tito may be rebuilding tight links with Moscow on his own initiative.

Those in decisive positions say privately they do not believe that Tito wants to alienate the support of Western nations which enabled him to survive and establish his independence after his break with the Soviet bloc under Stalin in 1948.

* * *

Tito's urgent need right now is for an estimated 200,000 tons of wheat from the United States to meet a severe food shortage.

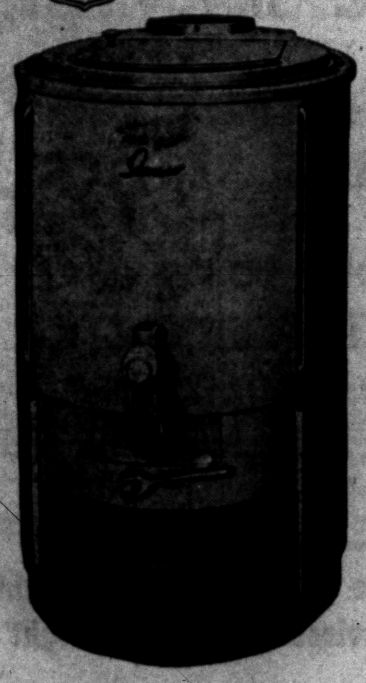

It was understood that Eisenhower's decision would emphasize the importance of the wheat shipment. Yugoslavia would have to turn to Russia for this if it was not forthcoming from the United States.

Furthermore, agricultural interests in this country are anxious to reduce grain surpluses, and the distribution of U.S. food abroad involves humanitarian considerations — points which may be emphasized for domestic reasons, since aid to Yugoslavia is a matter of controversy.

* * *

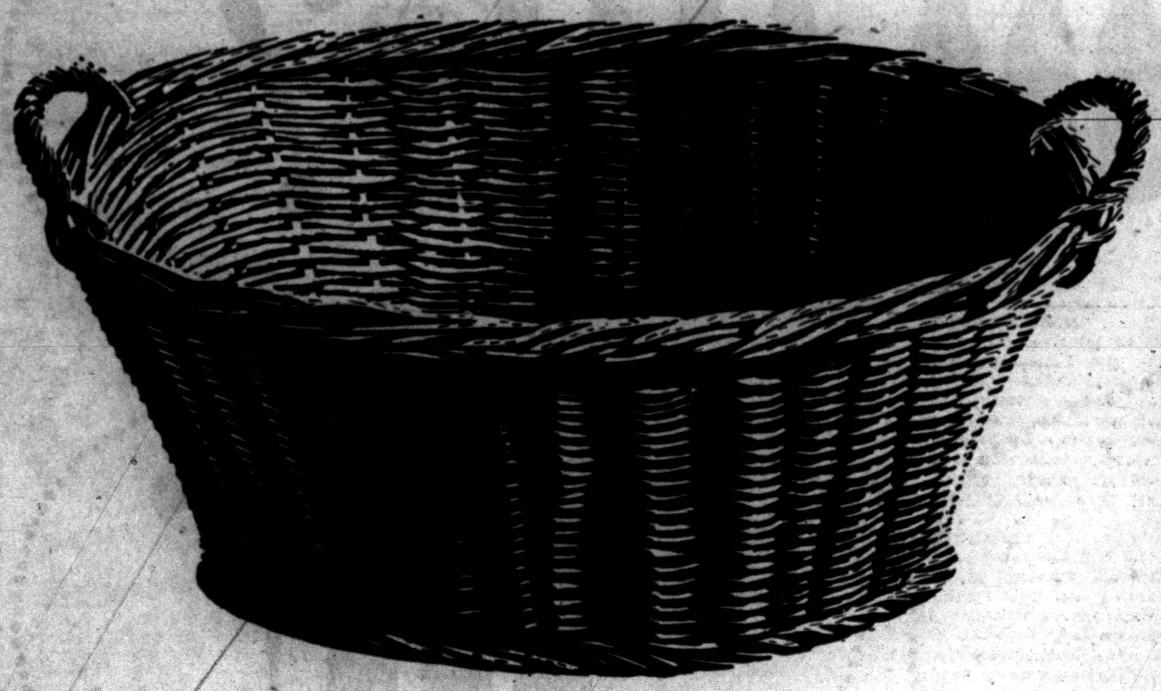

A critical Congress voted last July that the Yugoslav aid program must stop unless Eisenhower determined by Oct. 16 that Yugoslavia was independent of Soviet control, that it was not participating in a program for Red conquest of the world and that granting assistance would be in the U.S. national interest.

Ask Annexation for 300 Homes

Firm Seeks Services Before Development at Farmington

FARMINGTON — Annexation of 120 acres of land, where the Time Land Co. wants to build 300 homes and several light industrial buildings, was considered at an informal conference of interested city residents late last week.

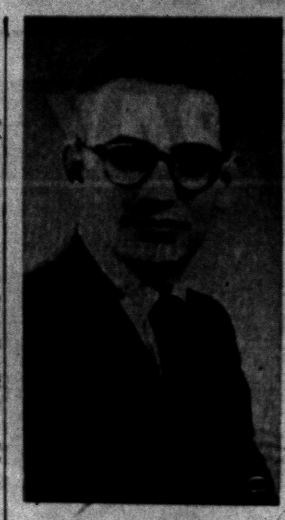

Earlier petitions for annexation of the area had been received by the township board.

The land lies along the east side of Farmington Road between Eight and Nine Mile roads and needs city water, sewers and street lights before development according to Edward Moseman, attorney for the Time Land Co.

He urged homeowners between his firm's land and the city that joining in the drive for annexation would make the city services available to them also.

City Manager Earl Scherffeus said that the city's engineers have certified that the city has enough water to supply 500 more homes.

Both township residents and officials expressed displeasure of the action, with some residents charging laxity of the township board for what they termed probable loss of a desirable and valuable parcel of property to the city.

Movie Moguls Focusing on Plans to Film Cleopatra

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—This well may be a "Cleopatra" year, with several producers interested in bringing the life of the Siren of the Nile to the screen.

* * *

James Mason had a meeting with Anna Magnani in Venice four weeks ago to ask her if she will be in his film version of "Cleopatra," starting the first of the year at 20th. Anna was interested in the idea. So is Buddy Adler.

Mason said, "It is a coincidence that after I started on the 'Cleopatra' idea, I was approached by Raymond Hakim in Paris, who wanted me to co-star with Gina Lollobrigida in a Cleopatra story."

Italian producer, Del Guidice, also is preparing Shakespeare's play "Anthony and Cleopatra," to be made in Rome with Margaret Leighton.

MRS. DEMPSEY IN

The second Mrs. Jack Dempsey, Hannah Williams, "the cheerful little earful" of the Broadway musical stage, has consented to have her name used in the Jack Dempsey story. She met with Jack, likes the way the script is written and it's agreed a pretty girl with a beautiful singing voice will play Hannah.

So far, Estelle Taylor, the first Mrs. Dempsey, has refused to let her name be put in the Jack Dempsey story. So Sam Weisenthal, the producer, has decided to skip the Estelle Taylor episode in Jack Dempsey's life unless, of course, Estelle changes her mind —which is always possible.

Merle Oberon, who has had a perfectly wonderful summer in Southern France, is a house guest of Mary and Douglas Fairbanks in London.

* * *

Merle is set to star in the play "The Royal Enclosure" in London, which starts on a tour of the provinces in about six weeks. This play may be instrumental in taking Mike Wilding's mind off Liz Taylor. He has been sent the script, with the offer to have him co-star with Merle.

By the way, I hear Merele has Dr. Rex Ross out of her mind and is being seen everywhere with Lord Dudley.

A practical joker is putting our luxury hotels in a panic by calling in with phoney reservations for Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller. The Bel-Air Hotel really believed it was a New York operator talking, with Milton Greene making the reservations for Oct. 22. Marilyn will finish "The Sleeping Prince" Nov. 9.

OTHER ANTICS

The joker also made reservations at the Beverly Hills and the Chateau Marmont for the Millers—and called a real estate agent about renting a beach house.

This hoaxer may be the one who once took out phoney reservations for Susan Hayward at the Beverly Hilton and engaged a suite for Rock and Phyllis Hudson while they were honeymooning. He'd better watch out or he'll have a reservation in jail.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Any edition Julie Adams and Ray Danton expect their baby. Ray is standing by to take Julie to the hospital.

Writers Edna and Ed Anhalt have made their property settlement and Edna files for divorce sometime this week.

Several sponsors are bidding for Edgar Bergen's top-rating show, "Do You Trust Your Wife," which I understand will be on at the same hour.

Sy Devore gave a musician-studded party for Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong to celebrate his 15th wedding anniversary.

FOUR-HOUR JOB

In honor of the event, 24-year-old Glenn Holse painted a huge mural of Armstrong and his famed trumpet. Took Glenn just four hours to complete it.

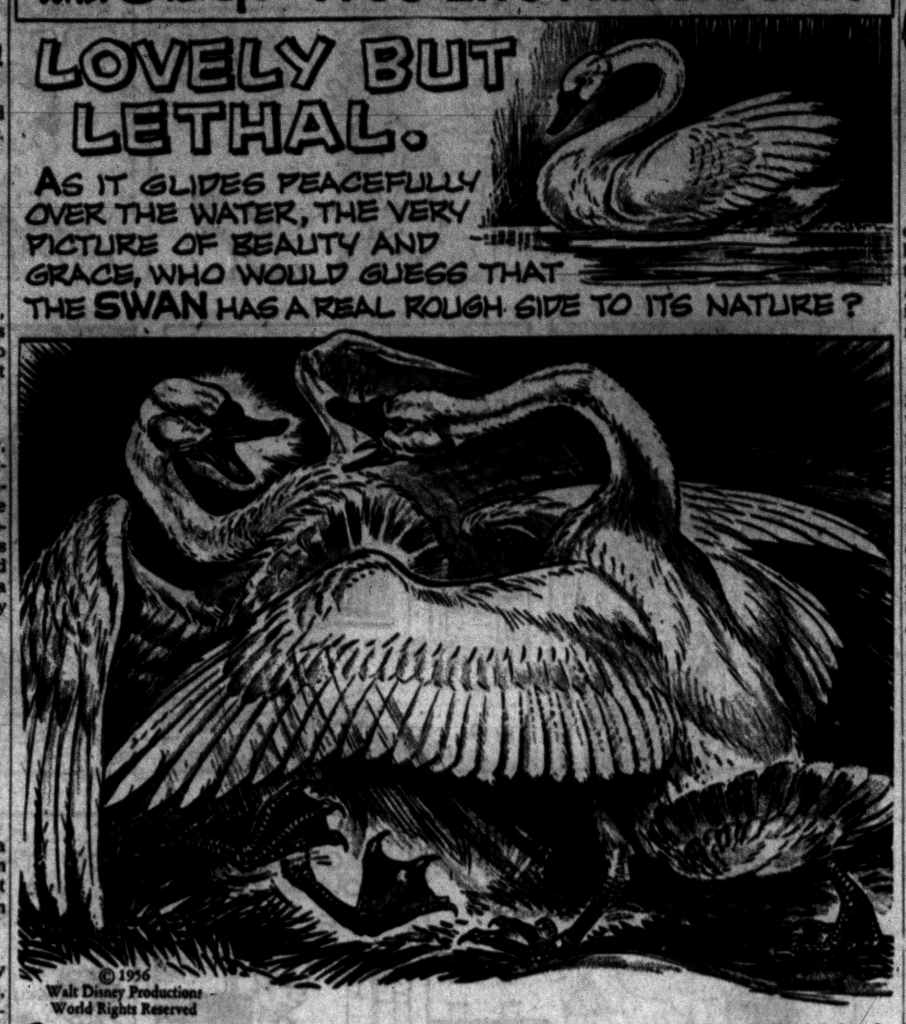

Peggy Lee and her bridegroom Dewey Martin, whose careers have kept them apart for so many weeks, were at the party.

Joanne Gilbert was escorted by Gene Norman, Jackie Barnette with "Miss Sweden," blonde beauty; Betty and David Rose and Marie and Nat "King" Cole were among those who congratulated the Armstrongs.

Court Awaits Decision From State Department Before Acting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The wife of a Yugoslavian vice consul may have to appear in Municipal Court to answer a complaint if Dist. Atty. Thomas C. Lynch files one in connection with a shoplifting arrest.

* * *

Mrs. Sonje Juznic, pretty, 26-year-old citizen of Yugoslavia, was arrested Saturday and held for five hours while police consulted with a State Department official.

She had been halted earlier in the day by a store detective in the downtown branch of the J. C. Penney Co. Police Inspector Al Corrassa said that in her shopping bag was $26.75 of store merchandise, including two sheets, two pairs of men's socks, five towels, a woman's sweater and five slide fasteners.

She was released on her own recognizance. Lynch said he was awaiting definite word from Washington as to whether she has diplomatic immunity.

* * *

In Washington, Victor Purse, deputy chief of protocol for the State Department, said the United States has no convention with Yugoslavia and that any such convention would only cover a minor misdemeanor.

Her husband Stanislav insisted that his wife had gone Christmas shopping for her family in Yugoslavia and had thrown away her sales slips. Mrs. Juznic said only it was a "terrible mistake." She spoke little else in English.

* * *

Inspector Corrassa said Mrs. Juznic first identified herself as Zinka Kokak and said she arrived from Poland only a month ago. Later she acknowledged her connection with the consulate.

Wheat Prices Decline Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat prices dropped on the Board of Trade today in the wake of beneficial moisture over the weekend in the drought areas of the southwest.

Prices declined a little more than a cent at the worst, recovering partly in active dealings. The decline was cushioned by the fact no additional moisture of importance was expected over the next five days.

Rye declined with wheat while corn eased in reflection of receipt of 490 cars of cash corn, largest of the new harvesting season. Soybeans started out steady and then slumped. Oats resisted selling pressure.

Wheat near the end of the first hour ⅛-¾ lower, Dec. $2.28⅛, corn ⅛-¼ lower, Dec. $133¾, oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. 76⅞, rye ⅛-¾ lower, Dec. $1.52¼, soybeans unchanged to ½ lower, Nov. $2.37, and lard 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher $12.02.

C. of C. Votes to Alter Name, Add Services

A special meeting of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce was held today to vote on the proposed extension of the group's services and to change the group's name to the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The two amendments to the chamber by-laws were recommended last month by the Board of Directors.

John W. Hirlinger said then: "In changing our announced objective and name, we are simply accepting the fact that more than 10 per cent of firms belonging to the chamber are outside the city limits."

Results of today's vote will be made public Tuesday, he said.

Police Question Man on Breakin Charge

Pontiac police today questioned a 34-year-old man, believed to be the getaway driver in a grocery store breakin Friday night.

Police have arrested another subject, who admitted he cut his wrist climbing through a broken window into the store. He is James H. Chambers, 29, of 446 Branch St., who told police the driver escaped with several bottles of whisky.

Police expect to seek warrants charging breaking and entering after questioning today. Both men are held at Oakland County jail.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market slogged ahead to further gains in early trading today.

Pivotal stocks posted gains running generally to around a point. A few specialties went beyond this and there was a sprinkling of fractional losers.

Turnover was moderate as the business news picture remained spotty. Home building was reported lower and copper consumers were said to be limiting orders but steel production and demand were strong and auto assemblies were increasing.

Douglas Aircraft gained about a point and United Aircraft a small fraction. American Telephone, American Cyanamid and Allied Chemical nudged upward.

Gulf Oil was another gainer in the 1-point zone. New York Central, Royal Dutch and Loew's were up fractions.

Lukens added around 2, American Hawaiian Steamship about 3 and International Business Machines about 4, continuing their gains of last week. Youngstown, International Harvester, Commonwealth Edison and Sinclair took small losses.

On the American Stock Exchange the price trend was higher. Gains were made by Molybdenum, Creole Petroleum and Eastern Gas & Fuel.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

On Friday the Market advanced moderately. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.00 to $180.00.

Chevy Price Up $50 to $166

Blame Increased Costs for Boosting '57 Cars; New Transmission Due

DETROIT (AP)— Chevrolet said today it still is offering the lowest priced passenger cars in its field despite 1957 model price increases from $50 to $166 over 1956 models.

E. N. Cole, Chevrolet general manager, said the higher prices result from increasing costs.

The smallest increase is on the Bel Air four-door station wagon, which will list at $2,325 for a six-cylinder model, an increase of $50.

The largest increase will be for the Bel Air four-door sedan, up from $1,890 to $2,056 for the six-cylinder model.

Prices do not include distribution and delivery charges, preparation and conditioning charges, federal excise taxes, state or local taxes.

Chevrolet's price for a V-8 engine is $93 above the price of a six, the same as 1956. Hardtop models increased from $74 to $102.

The Powerglide transmission costs about $190. Chevrolet did not announce prices of its two new extras—a fuel injection system and a new automatic transmission.

400 Stove Builders to Lose Philco Jobs

MT. CLEMENS (INS)—Some 400 employes will be permanently laid off Oct. 26 when Philco's Electromaster Range Division closes its Mt. Clemens plant.

Philco has been one of Mt. Clemens' three biggest employers.

A company spokesman said the plant's personnel office will remain open through Jan. 1 in the hopes of finding other jobs for workers.

Reason for the plant closing reportedly is that Philco will discontinue making ranges.

White Lake Twp. Man Found Dead at Home

A White Lake Township man died Sunday night at his home of a gunshot wound believed by deputies to have been self-inflicted.

Ralph Strasser, 49, of 440 Elkin Ford Rd., was found dead under a table by his wife, Gertrude, who had been in an adjoining room talking on the telephone. The man's deer rifle was left on top of the table.

He reportedly was suffering from poor health and had been stricken six times by strokes since February. Surviving besides his wife are two daughters, Mrs. Gail Gidley and Barbara, 17.

Cab Driver Slugged, Abducted; Man Jailed

A taxi cab driver was slugged and abducted last night by a 25-year-old man held for investigation of attempted robbery, Pontiac police said.

The man, Walter J. Cree, no address, was arrested driving the cab while the driver, William Snyder, 48, of 61 Stout St., lay unconscious on the floor of the front seat.

Officers John Bridgewater and Donald Brown stopped the cab, they said, because Cree, who had been drinking, was driving erratically.

Snyder, who did not require hospital treatment, police said, had picked up Cree as a fare and had stopped for a traffic light on Oakland avenue when suddenly knocked out. He could not describe what happened after that, police said.

'Most Powerful Ever Built'

Chevy to Show Off Trucks for '57 at Dealers Friday

"The most powerful and versatile we have ever built," Chevrolet engineers said today in describing the division's line of trucks for 1957. They are scheduled to go on display Friday.

* * *

The line ranges from pickups and sedan deliveries to giant tandems capable of performing on or off the highway, and has been expanded to an all-time high of 88 models on 22 different wheelbases.

Two new forward control models — offering greater hauling capacity for bottled beverages, dairy products and a variety of other delivery operations — have broadened the fleet to meet 95 per cent of all trucking requirements.

Mettle of the new vehicles was demonstrated last summer in a secret pre-announcement test up the punishing 1,523-mile Alcan Highway. Certified by officials of the American Automobile Assn., six trucks representing a cross-section of the fleet negotiated the tortuous mountain route into the heart of Alaska in less than 45 hours, lopping off more than a day from the time required by vehicles that normally ply the road.

PLENTY OF POWER

Powering the cargo-laden two-ton model on the run was Chevrolet's new 175-horsepower Super Taskmaster V8, a 283-cubic-inch engine which is pound-for-pound one of the most powerful truck V8s introduced.

Paired with this compact power plant as standard equipment on many of the models is the new Taskmaster V8 which packs 160 horsepower. The third new engine, a high-torque 322-cubic-inch V8 called the Super Loadmaster, delivers 210 horsepower—a full 15 horsepower higher than any previous Chevrolet truck.

Offered as standard equipment on the larger heavy-duty models is the 195-horsepower Loadmaster V8 introduced last year. Combined with four engines available on light-duty and small medium-duty models—three six-cylinder engines and a 155-horsepower V8—the selection of truck engines for 1957 comes to a total of eight, two more than last year.

* * *

New safety features applied throughout the line include interlocking crash-tested latches on all side doors and steering wheels with hubs recessed three inches below the rim.

For greater braking force, full air brakes are offered on many models. The air brakes are an option in conjunction with new extra-sturdy cast-spoke truck wheels.

Most striking styling change appears in the bolder, more integrated grille that has replaced last year's latticework pattern on the 24 light-duty models.

Juliana Shuffles Royal Palace

Reorganization Results From Furor Over Her Ties With Faith Healer

THE HAGUE (AP)—The Dutch government today announced that Queen Juliana is reorganizing various departments of the royal household as a result of the recent furor over her relationship with the faith healer Miss Greet Hofmans.

A communique denied recent reports that the Queen still had direct or indirect contact with the 61-year-old woman whose influence over the monarch reportedly caused a deep rift between Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard.

* * *

The Queen will consult with Prince Bernhard of the reorganization at the Royal Court after he returns from his visit to the United States early in November, the communique said.

The announcement followed reports that a new crisis was brewing because the Queen was still in touch with the faith healer and had been slow in ridding the palace of persons still loyal to Miss Hofmans.

* * *

Earlier today the Dutch government issued a communique denying a British newspaper report of a plot among Dutch government ministers and politicians to induce the Queen to abdicate in favor of her 18-year-old daughter, Princess Beatrix. The government said there was "not a shred of truth" in the report.

The Queen became acquainted with the faith healer in 1948 when the Queen and her husband hoped she could heal their partly blind daughter, Princess Maria Cristina, now 9.

* * *

On Aug. 24 Juliana and Bernhard announced they had settled their difficulties with the assistance of a commission of three veteran political leaders. The settlement, the commission said, involved the Queen's severing relations with the faith healer and changes in court personnel.

Doorstep Riots Annoying Chou

Red China Boss Raps British in Handling of Hong Kong Disorders

LONDON (AP) — Red China declared last night it cannot tolerate further disorders on its doorstep in British Hong Kong.

Premier Chou En-lai told a group of foreign correspondents in Peiping last week's riots, in which 47 persons were killed, could be traced to "the policy of the British of keeping large numbers of anti-Communist elements in Hong Kong."

"If the British authorities continue the policy any longer," Chou said, "then such disorders can arise in the future and on an even greater scale. The Chinese government cannot ignore such disorders on the doorstep of China."

Chou's comments were reported in a Tass dispatch broadcast by Moscow radio.

The Communist premier-foreign minister already had protested officially to Britain about the riots. He called in the British charge d'affaires in Peiping Saturday to complain of the "failure so far of British authorities to adopt effective measures to stop the violence."

Chou expressed indignation over "cold - blooded murders and looting perpetrated by Kuomintang (Chinese Nationalist) agents." He demanded that the British authorities punish the offenders and protect the Chinese in Hong Kong.

* * *

Hong Kong authorities blame the three-day riots on secret Chinese societies and underground criminal organizations who took advantage of animosity between Chinese residents loyal to Red China and those loyal to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

In Hong Kong, Gov. Sir Alexander Grantham said complete restoration of law and order depends on the "masses" cooperating with police and military forces. He said the situation is already well in hand.

IN A PLAYFUL MOOD — Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson seems to be in a playful mood as he reaches from his car to tweak the ear of a symbolic sign-bearing donkey in Morristown, N. J. He was William E. Turner of Lincoln Park. Police said Turner, a railroad yardman, was thrown under the train when it started up as he was uncoupling cars.

Utah's Lee to Stay in Race for Governor

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Gov. J. Bracken Lee, beaten in his intra-party bid for an unprecedented third term, was back in the running today after a dramatic announcement that he will make the race on his own.

* * *

And though the two other candidates have a long head start, some political observers are predicting Lee will give them a run for their money.

The Republican governor announced he will allow his name to remain on the ballot as an independent. It was put there by a group called Citizens for Lee after the governor lost the nomination to George D. Clyde. The Democratic candidate is L. C. Romney.

* * *

In a bristling speech, Lee blamed his primary troubles on Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah).

Lee gained national attention with his challenge of the legality of the nation's foreign aid program. To emphasize his protest he refused to pay a portion of his 1955 federal income tax. The government collected anyway, by enforcing a lien against his bank account.

NAM Compares Labor to Hitler

Likens Union Activities to Marx, Sees Threat to Government

DETROIT (AP)—"Organized labor is boldly attempting to seize political control of the United States," the president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers said today.

* * *

In an address prepared for delivery before the Economic Club of Detroit, Cola G. Parker, director of the Kimberly-Clark Corp. and NAM president, likened the "outspokenness of the AFL-CIO'S political activity" to Hitler's "Mein Kampf," and Karl Marx' "Das Kapital."

"There has been no effort to conceal this power-grab from the nation," said the Wisconsin paper manufacturer. "What appalls me is the stark indifference . . . which prevails all over the country.

"If it succeeds to the extent the labor political masterminds contemplate, we will have government responsive to the wishes of union leadership and no one else.

BUSINESS WATCHES

"Businessmen of America sit back like rabbits hypnotized by a snake, seemingly helpless to organize a program to defend the American political and economic system," Parker continued.

Unions, Parker said, are "pouring money and manpower in the election drive at a rate which makes previous efforts seem strictly bush league."

He accused labor of using more than 60,000 full-time paid union officers to further its political aims.

Hungarian Bosses Visit Marshal Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A party of top Hungarian Communist leaders arrived today to reestablish ties with President Tito's brand of "independent" communism.

* * *

The head of the delegation, Hungarian party boss Ernoe Geroe, said the visit was an expression of Hungary's wish to resume relations with Yugoslavia on principles of noninterference and independence.

* * *

It is the first visit of Hungarian officials to Belgrade since Yugoslavia was ousted from the Kremlin-led Cominform in 1948. Geroe had an unofficial visit with Tito two weeks ago during Tito's visit with Russian leaders at Yalta. Geroe later conferred with Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan in Moscow.

2 Boys Badly Mangled by Bomb They Built

CHICAGO (AP)—Two high school boys, mangled in the explosion of a bomb they fashioned of iron pipe and chemicals bought in a drugstore, were in critical condition in Holy Cross Hospital today.

The explosion of the potassium chromate and sulfur bomb blew off the left forearms of both William Ryan, 16, and Walter Prohaska, 15; badly mangled their right hands; and shredded their leg muscles.

Michael Rennie Names 10 Most Beautiful Girls

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Things were much too peaceful around here; so I asked handsome Michael Rennie of Hollywood and TV to pick "The 10 Most Beautiful Girls in the World."

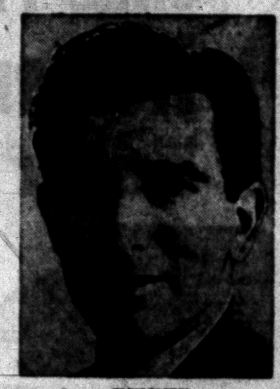

"Sure," said the brave Englishman, "Ava Gardner is probably the most beautiful.

"Dorothy Dandridge should be in there, not necessarily in that order, and Anita Ekberg," he added, a picture of a man liking his work, "is beautiful in a different way."

"I know the way you mean and I agree," I helped him along. "And of course Eva Gabor," he went on with calm and assurance. "Eva is more beautiful than her sister Zsa Zsa."

★ ★ ★

Promising to keep this list away from Zsa Zsa, I begged him to hasten on. "How about Marilyn Monroe and Diana Dors?" I asked.

RENNIE

"No," said the executioner, intrepidly.

"Entirely different but one of the most wonderful-looking women in the world—forget about age—is Marlene Dietrich," he added.

"How about Gina Lollobrigida?" I inquired.

"Yes, of course, she's one of the 10—and Sophia Loren, even more so. Vivian Leigh is one of the most beautiful."

Inasmuch as he brushed off my suggestions of Lana Turner, Elsa Martinelli, Joan Collins, Dagmar, Dana Wynter and Martine Carol, I said, "You have only two more. Any strip-teasers ever appeal to you?"

"Oh, all of them! And that reminds me, Lili St. Cyr has a beautiful figure and I think we should put her in the list but only from the neck down."

"One to go," I said. "You've got one Hungarian, one German, two Italians, one Englishwoman, one Swede, three Americans ... how about Grace Kelly?"

"Very good idea!" Mr. Rennie, who's in town to do "Producers' Showcase" on TV, has had dates with most of the women he chose on his Big 10, and has observed their beauty closeup. "Grace Kelly! Of course! Funny I didn't think of her."

"Oh, not so funny," I said, "considering she's married. You know, I think you're biased!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ...

Purty Gene Tierney was with socialite Milton Holden ... Mrs. Martin Block's getting an Alabama divorce, then marrying Oklahoma City oilman Arthur Holliday ... Pitcher Don Larsen's making as much on TV, etc., as his season's salary. One TV show which thought $500 was too much, in the third inning of the big game had "never heard of him," found a few innings later his price was five times that.

Liz Taylor's chums say she'll really marry Mike Todd ... Beldon Katelman of El Rancho Vegas gave his wife Millie a Li'l ole chinchilla ... Betty Reilly'll ride a chauffeured motor scooter to Le Reuban Bleu when she opens there, in a mink, and park both in the checkroom while performing.

Rob't Q. Lewis is burning at George Raft, who walked out on his show just before air time. (Lewis says, "I'm gonna see 'Scarface' eight times—Raft gets killed in it.") ... Jayne Meadows Allen, expecting in May, says jokingly, "I bet Audrey'll have one, too — the copycat." ... The D.A. will appeal the dismissal of Billy Daniels' indictment.

The Louis Armstrongs celebrated their 15th ann'y ... It cost $85 to haul Marlene Dietrich's luggage from the airport to the hotel—in Cadillacs. She arrived later.

Earl's Pearls ...

Don't run over a pedestrian—he may be on his way to take his car out of the parking space you are looking for.—Art Moger, Boston.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Compatible color, defines Richard Willis, means that the lipstick on a man's collar is his wife's.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "In marriage the husband is the provider; the wife is the decider."—Lonnie Sattin.

A young Bostonian was hired by radio station WHO, relates Peter Arnell, but his very grammatical parents insisted he quit and go to work for station WHOM ... That's earl, brother.

Cerf, Winchell End Their Feud

Magic Brains Will Get Another Video Tryout on Election Night

BY JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Nat King Cole's NBC-TV Monday night quarter-hour series is officially signed for a Nov. 5 start ...

Jim Jordan (Fibber McGee's son) will produce-direct and Nelson Riddle arrange the music ... It'll originate in New York, Los Angelus and Chicago.

Bennett Cerf told us he and Walter Winchell ended their generation-long feud (TV did it) ...

Despite the fierce flubs of magic brains four years ago in election night radio and TV coverage (they had Stevenson winning), all networks will try-try-again with the statistical monsters.

"Person to Person" may visit Joe E. Lewis ... Edward R. Murrow quit the CBS board of directors. He's now negotiating a new CBS long-termer ...

BRENDA AND PERRY

Brenda Lee, the cutiepie kid everyone loved on ABC's Ozark Jubilee, will be on Perry Como's Oct. 27 show, also signed for 12 big-pay Las Vegas weeks, starting Dec. 8 ...

Groucho's radio stuff is just the sound (very sound) taken off his TV voice track but it leads the national Nielsen radio ratings ... Henry J. Taylor's newscast also is in the Nielson top 10 ...

NBC's David Brinkley has a new chattercast in the works, "First Meeting," bringing celebrities together via split TV screen, a sort of stationary "Person to Person" ...

The Pittsburgh Variety Club show lost more than $4,000 so Hal March, who emceed it, gave back $1,000 of his $3,500 one-nighter fee.

David Niven has the temporary "What's My Line" chair for two weeks ...

NO MORE BERGEN

The Edgar Bergen show gets dropped in January despite high ratings ...

While Margaret Whiting's at New York's Copacabana she'll pick up another fortune in TV appearances.

Mike Wallace interviews Roy Cohn, the Red-chaser, Wednesday on his DuMont "Night Beat."

Guy Mitchell's so amazed at his new Danish bride's cooking, he's trying to get her on "The $64,000 Question" in Capt. Dick McCutchen's old category.

Bob Hope outbid everyone and captured Yankee perfect-game-guy Don Larsen for his Oct. 21 NBC-TV show ...

Fat Sergeant Changes Mind, Stays in Army

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —it's another hitch in the Army for Sgt. James Love, a hefty mess sergeant once threatened with a court-martial because he wasn't peeling off weight fast enough.

* * *

The 34-year-old native of Cincinnati had said he would join the Air Force after his Army enlistment expired. He changed his mind when discharge day came last Wednesday and re-enlisted Saturday.

* * *

"The Army has more to offer," he said.

Love weighed 237 when "Operation Fat Man" was put into effect at nearby Ft. Carson last March by Maj. Gen. Thomas Watlington, then commanding general.

* * *

When the court-martial threat came, Love protested. An investigation was started, the weight losing order was rescinded by the Pentagon, and charges against Love were dropped.

His weight is now 220 and he says he eats "just hwen I'm hungry."

Already at $200, Pot-O-Gold Is Filling Up Again

Even though Pot-O-Gold was relieved of quite a bit of its burden, this week's puzzle is worth $200 again. So don't give up on your old friend yet . . . just try matching wits with the two previous winners. Two people have solved it so far, and there are bound to be more. You might as well be one of them. Puzzle No. 20 is worth at least $100, even if there's a winner for last week's puzzle.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 20 must bear a Tuesday, Oct. 23, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.
