Legislature Gets Romney's Districting Plan

Claims Goldwater Gained at County GOP Confab

Even the disagreement was quiet at the Oakland County Republican convention last night.

As a result of all the silence, however, backers of U. S. Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination today claimed victory at the convention.

"We gained 10 or 11 state delegates," said Robert F. Smith of Royal Oak, head of the Michigan Goldwater Committee in the county.

"They were formerly undecided," he said, "but swung over because they resented the restrictions imposed on the convention by party leadership."

He said County GOP chairman Charles L. Lyle had threatened to use uniformed policemen to prevent any demonstrations. Lyle had sent a letter to party leaders warning against a demonstration by Goldwater forces.

"We didn't plan any fireworks," said Smith last night, standing in the back of the auditorium in Southfield High School as delegates plodded through routine business.

But today he said his group's remaining silent won over the 10 or 11 delegates who resented Lyle's banning of signs, banners, posters and demonstrations. "That's unheard of at a political convention," Smith said.

IN ADDITION

Smith said the 10 or 11 were in addition to 53 committed Goldwater supporters among the 161 state convention delegates listed on slates prepared at pre-convention meetings and caucuses.

Of the rest, he said, only 21 were anti-Goldwater.

A party spokesman said today that Smith's estimate of Goldwater strength was "rather high." Another party official last night estimated "25 or 30 committed Goldwater people" in the delegation.

★ ★ ★

Officially the delegation is uncommitted, as requested by Gov. George Romney in telegrams last night to Republican conventions throughout the state.

Ex-Mayor to Run as Write-In

Philip R. Sauer, a former Pontiac mayor, today announced he would campaign as a write-in candidate for the District 2 City Commission seat in the April 20 general election.

Sauer, 55, of 59 Monroe, lost the District 2 nomination in the March 2 primary by a margin of four votes.

His move means there are now two write-in candidates running April 20. The other is Emmett S. Wellbaum in District 7, who fell one vote shy of nomination in the primary.

Sauer, who owns a local restaurant, said his decision came after weeks of encouragement from many citizens and friends.

★ ★ ★

"Many of my loyal supporters in District 2 have insisted, due to the closeness of the primary vote, that I run as a write-in candidate for the Pontiac City Commission," Sauer said.

UNUSUAL INTEREST

"Because of this unusual interest and other encouragement voiced by the voters at large, I feel I am duty-bound to comply with their request and actively campaign as a write-in candidate from District 2 in the April 20 general election."

Robert C. Irwin led a field of five District 2 candidates with 544 votes in the primary. Allan J. Denham finished second with 398 votes. Sauer polled 394 votes.

It has been 20 years since a major write-in campaign has been waged in Pontiac. That write-in candidate won.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, Sauer was the man he beat.

Asked what he thought his chances were as a write-in candidate in a citywide election, Sauer replied, "There was a time I thought the problems faced by a write-in candidate were insurmountable.

"That's no longer true. I think the intelligence of the public is much higher today than ever before," he noted in reference to the complexities of machine voting.

To Avert National Strike

Wirtz Pushes Rail Sessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz pressed emergency negotiating sessions today in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike at midnight.

After a night session running into the early morning hours, Wirtz met with union representatives again at 10 a. m. E.S.T. Railroad negotiators were scheduled to join the session an hour and a half later.

★ ★ ★

The labor secretary indicated that he planned to keep negotiations going "right on through" to the strike deadline if no agreement was reached.

He had reported "no progress" when the night session ended at 3:15 a. m.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who was absent from yesterday's sessions, came to the 10 a.m. meeting.

Gilbert declined comment on the prospects of averting a strike. "I just got here," was his answer to questions from newsmen.

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was expected this afternoon.

Five unions and nearly 200 railroads are involved in the dispute.

GRAVELY WORRIED

As the all-night sessions ended, Wirtz indicated that President Johnson was gravely worried about the prospect that a rail strike might seriously damage the nation's economy.

Because of the strike threat, most railroads posted freight embargo notices effective at 12:01 a. m. (Pontiac time) tomorrow. These were notices that no freight would be accepted for loading or transporting.

The post office department announced that, in event of a strike, it would restrict movement of all mail other than first class letter mail.

Movements of other classes of mail, which include newspapers, periodicals, advertising matter and parcel post, will be curtailed to no more than 150 miles from the point of origin.

Says Interview Was Nonsense

MacArthur Friend Calls Report Fiction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney today called a purported interview with the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur 10 years ago — unpublished until yesterday — "fictional nonsense."

★ ★ ★

Whitney was a long-time friend and close associate of MacArthur and was at his bedside when he died last Sunday.

The interview was reported by Jim G. Lucas, military writer for Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Whitney's statement read:

★ ★ ★

"I have been shocked to read in the New York World Telegram of a purported exclusive interview given one of its correspondents by Gen. MacArthur in 1954 which tended to impugn the character and military competence of such distinguished commanders as Gens. Maxwell D. Taylor, Matthew Ridgway and John E. Hull and the integrity of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, a life-long friend and comrade. The correspondent stated I was present. The report of the interview is fictional nonsense."

Gene Littler, Don January Tie in Masters

AUGUSTA (AP) — Don January and Gene Littler tied for the early first-round lead today in the 28th Masters Golf Tournament, going ahead of Peter Butler of England with 70s.

Sarazen led the first four twosomes with his 73.

Sarazen, whose historic double eagle led to a 1935 Masters victory, finished bogey-bogey but had a 36-37.

He put together 12 successive pars, then went one under with a 13-foot birdie putt on No. 13.

See Story, Page C-11

He parred the next three, including the 520-yard 15th where he made his double eagle 29 years ago.

Bad second shots resulted in bogey fives on the last two holes. He was trapped on No. 17 and missed the green on 18.

Three-time Masters champion Arnold Palmer opened with three pars and Gary Player, 1961 champion, parred the first five holes of the 6,980-yard, par 72 Augusta National course.

First-round finishers and scores are:

Gene Littler	35-35—70
Don January	37-33—70
Peter Butler	34-36—70
Gene Sarazen	36-37—73

It Will Warm Up After Skies Clear

Skies will be partly cloudy with little temperature change in the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman said the low will drop to 28 to 34 tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to climb to 47 to 53. Partly cloudy and slightly warmer is the forecast for Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Morning westerly winds at 10 miles per hour will become west to southwest at 10 to 15 m.p.h. late today.

Twenty-six was the low prior to 8 a. m. today. Temperatures had climbed to 49 by 2 p.m.

City Election Voters Will Get Extra Bargain

By DICK SAUNDERS

For those who look forward to exercising their constitutional right at every election, there's a real treat in store April 20.

The general municipal election a week from Monday won't be like any other biennial trip to the polls in this city's history.

There'll be more exercising of that right to vote than ever before.

Electors will have the opportunity to vote for seven city commissioners. In addition, they'll vote on two ballot proposals.

Previously, a voter could vote only for one of the two candidates running for the city commission in his district.

EACH DISTRICT

This year, electors can vote for one candidate from each of Pontiac's seven districts.

There are 14 candidates on the ballot. They are arranged in pairs, one pair per district.

The two District 1 candidates are located at the far left, then District 2, and so on across the ballot with District 7 on the far right.

There is a voting pointer above each name. To cast a vote for any candidate, the voter merely pulls the lever down above his name.

Voters, however, should remember that while there are seven choices to make, they're on a one-vote-per-district basis.

As always, slots are provided across the top of the machine above the names of candidates in each district for anyone wishing to cast a write-in vote for a candidate whose name doesn't appear on the ballot.

The two ballot proposals are located immediately above the City Commission voting pointers.

One is titled "Charter Amendment Tax Rate" and the other, "Firemen's 56 Hour Work Week Ordinance."

ADDITIONAL LEVY

The first proposes that the city be allowed to levy an additional $1 per $1,000 of assessed property value to pay for a new police and fire pension passed two years ago, and to defray some of the cost of hiring more police and fire personnel.

The second proposes that the present 63-hour workweek

Report Due Tuesday

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney today gave the legislature his version of new congressional districts for Michigan and asked for a report by Tuesday on whether it can get bipartisan support.

Unless a new districting plan is approved by April 24, the governor told a meeting of Republicans and Democrats in his office, the current 1964 election schedule cannot be met.

As Romney showed his population - based redistricting plan, immediate protests were voiced by lawmakers from the Upper Peninsula and from counties whose boundaries would be crossed by the proposed district lines.

Romney told lawmakers they must determine whether there is bipartisan support for any congressional redistricting plan by next Tuesday — and enact it within the next two weeks.

Votes of both parties would be needed in the legislature for the two-thirds required to give any plan immediate effect upon passage.

Romney implied that if the parties cannot agree, Republicans may seek to adjust the election schedule to accommodate a plan of their own which would go into effect 90 days after passage.

"If bipartisan support is not forthcoming by April 14," he said, "then those of us who genuinely are committed to fair and effective representation and equally committed to avoiding the problems of an at-large election must reassess our approach and determine alternate courses of action.

"As long as any course of action is possible that will avoid the worst possible form of election — an at-large election — it should be taken."

★ ★ ★

The governor invited officials of both parties, along with legislators and certain state officials, to the meeting in his office.

DIDN'T ATTEND

Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency and Democratic legislative leaders did not come, but some other Democratic lawmakers attended.

Immediately after Romney's opening remarks, which stressed the press of time, Rep. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, said: "This is grossly unfair!"

Romney asked for a chance to distribute copies of the plan, and then explained it on a map. The eight counties at the northern tip of Lower Michigan would join with the entire Upper Peninsula to form one district.

★ ★ ★

Mack said the Upper Peninsula "is confronted with more area — and the pathetic part of it is the most population — in this plan than any other district."

AFTER MEETING

After the meeting, he told newsmen: "It would complete the rape of the Upper Peninsula!"

Romney said his plan "comes the closest to meeting judicial guidelines — vague as they may appear at times — as any plan put forth in the four years since Michigan was assigned a 19th congressman."

He said the proposal was being offered only "for discussion" but called it "a fair plan, a plan which follows the dictates of the courts, a plan which deserved support of Democrats as well as Republicans."

★ ★ ★

The largest district in the Romney plan would be the 11th, the Upper Peninsula, and northern Lower Peninsula, with a total population of 413,880.

★ ★ ★

Carter to Face Circuit Court

Bound Over in Flint on Charge of Fraud

Former Pontiac City Manager Robert A. Carter and Samuel M. Catsman, a prominent Flint businessman, were bound over to Genesee County Circuit Court today on a fraud conspiracy charge.

Flint Municipal Judge Basil F. Baker bound the case over after hearing final arguments from both sides this morning.

No date was set immediately for the circuit court arraignment, but it is expected to be early next week.

In taking the action, Baker said he felt that evidence presented during the municipal court hearing indicated a crime had been committed and there was "probable cause" to believe Carter and Catsman committed it.

The hearing began March 16 and resumed again today following two postponements requested by the defense.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE

Carter and Catsman are charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud the city of Flint by obtaining money under false pretenses.

The charge grew out of a Flint one-man grand jury investigation this winter.

Baker said this morning that in most conspiracies it isn't necessary to show that any two people sat down and made an agreement.

The judge pointed out that conspiracies are proven by circumstances and circumstantial evidence.

"I find a lot of circumstances and coincidences that are very unusual—a sort of pattern," he said.

"I infer from these circumstances that a crime has been committed and that there is probable cause to believe that the defendants committed it," Baker concluded.

New Method Means Shifts for the County

Chop Livingston County off the 19th District, give Avon Township back to the 18th District and pick up part of northwestern Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

Both 18th and 19th districts in Oakland County would then hit almost squarely on the district average population of 411,790 and the 19th would become a toss-up between Democrats and Republicans at the polls.

This would be the effect on Oakland County of a revised districting that was proposed today by Gov. George Romney.

The plan was prepared to satisfy a federal court panel's requirement for district populations as nearly equal as practicable.

See Story, Page A-12

★ ★ ★

NEAR EQUALITY

Romney's proposal features almost perfect equality in district populations by freely crossing county lines.

Oakland County's 19th, now 16 per cent below the 411,000 average, would be brought up close to that figure by gaining Livonia, Northville and Plymouth Township from Wayne County.

Wayne has too many people for six districts of 411,000 and not enough for seven.

Actually, this would add 90,000 population to the 19th, which covers all of Livingston County and Oakland County north of South Boulevard (including Pontiac) and west of Inkster Road. This would make the district too big.

So, Avon Township would be given back to the 18th District

House Votes Hand LBJ Two Victories

WASHINGTON (AP) — From the sometimes fractious House of Representatives, President Johnson had two legislative plums today.

They were:

The big and controversial wheat-cotton subsidy bill; a top priority election year measure on his desk and ready for his final signature.

House approval of the food stamp program, a key part of his declared "war on poverty." This goes to the Senate, where it must await action in the dim future after the civil rights bill is disposed of.

BOTH MEASURES

The House acted on both measures after a hot, bothered and bewildering session that began at 11 a.m. Wednesday and didn't end until 12:44 a.m. today.

The food stamp plan passed handily by a 229-189 margin in spite of a long campaign of delaying action by Republican opponents. It got the support of 216 Democrats and 13 Republicans, while 163 Republicans and 26 Democrats were opposed.

But the wheat-cotton bill was a cliffhanger, approved 211 to 203. A switch of five votes would have changed the outcome. That vote came well after midnight under a procedure that limited debate to one hour and banned any amendments.

SELDOM INVOKED

A tense hush came over the chamber as the last stragglers were being recorded in the "well" of the House, a circular area in front of the speaker's chair. Suddenly, Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana demanded that the well of the House be cleared, a rule seldom invoked.

★ ★ ★

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts replied mildly that the Democrats should get a turn after a group of Republicans had recorded their votes. He told the remaining Democrats to step back a pace and continue.

TORRENT OF BOOS

A torrent of boos came from Republicans, a measure of the feeling that had built up during the long session. Veteran observers in the press gallery could not recall a similar occurrence.

★ ★ ★

Republicans charged that big-city Northern Democrats had entered into an "unholy alliance" with Southern conservatives, trading their support for the food stamp bill in return for support of the cotton-wheat bill.

PILOT OPERATION

The food stamp program expands and makes permanent a pilot operation. Under it, needy families would buy food stamps with the portion of their income they would normally spend for food.

The stamps would be redeemable at the grocery for more than the cash paid in, and would buy just about any food item.

The idea is to increase the variety and food value for poverty stricken families, some of which are now getting a direct dole of surplus food stocks owned by the government — powdered milk, dried eggs and the like.

Michigan's congressmen split exactly along party lines—with Democrats for and Republicans against — on the cotton-wheat subsidy bill.

All of Michigan's Democratic congressmen voted "yes" while all but one Republican, Rep. John B. Bennett, voted "no" on the food stamp bill.

Sometime in Autumn

British Elections Are Set

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home announced tonight the British general election will be held in the fall.

A statement from the prime minister's office did not set a precise date, but it is expected to be Oct. 8. The statement said:

"In order to remove present uncertainties about the date of the general election, the prime minister thinks it right to inform the country of his decision not to ask the queen to dissolve Parliament before the autumn."

The monarch's dissolution of Parliament is the first constitutional step taken before nationwide polling.

★ ★ ★

The prime minister's announcement ended uncertainty and speculation of the last few weeks over the days of the general election.

PREVIOUS ASSUMPTIONS

It had been widely assumed that polling would take place either in June or in October. About 60 per cent of his cabinet favored the autumn date, and Sir Alec obviously was influenced by their arguments.

Romney Plan Would Cause County Shuffle

The shift of Avon Township back to the 18th would, in the process, bring that district up close to 410,305 from its old figure of 382,526.

To illustrate how equal the districts in Romney's plan would be, the 18th — with 410,305 population — would be the smallest district. The largest in the state would have 413,880.

★ ★ ★

GOP candidate for the 19th James P. Dickerson, while approving of the idea in principal, would not be overjoyed in practice however.

RECENTLY MOVED

He recently moved to Avon Township from Birmingham, which remained in the 18th when the 1963 districting split the county (formerly all in the 18th) into the two new districts to bring its congressional representation more in line with its 1960 population of 690,603.

★ ★ ★

Both districts had been expected to elect Republican congressmen under the 1963 districting bill passed by the GOP-controlled state legislature.

Township Officer Dies of Injuries

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Melvin VanGordon, a township police officer on Pontiac General Hospital's critical list since a March 29 traffic accident, died this morning.

Van Gordon, 37, of 735 Ranveen sustained internal injuries and a broken leg in the head-on collision on Elizabeth Lake Road.

The patrolman was off duty at the time of the accident. His car was struck by one driven by Robert E. Larsen, 51, of 3518 Union Lake, Commerce Township, according to township police.

They said Larsen crossed a double yellow line on a curve just west of Oxbow Lake Road. No charges have been filed.

5 Children in Crash Still Listed as Serious

The five children of a young mother who was killed in a head-on crash Tuesday remain in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital, but are "holding their own," according to a spokesman.

Their mother, Beatrice K. Shoenlein, 26, and the driver of the other car, James M. Kastner, 39, of Centreville, the father of 10 children, were killed Tuesday in the Groveland Township accident.

The Shoenleins live at 1345 Merkle, Groveland Township.

State police troopers from the Pontiac post, Kenneth Duskey and Raymond Olson, who investigated the accident, said Kastner, apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, crossed over the center line and smashed into the Shoenlein station wagon.

The investigation also indicated that Kastner was westbound on the two-lane road. When police first arrived at the scene of the 5:25 p.m. crash they had been unable to determine the direction of either car.

ON HILL CREST

The crash occurred on a hill crest on Grange Hall Road, about two and a half miles west of Ortonville.

The injured children are Dawn, 6; Kenneth, 5; Katherine, 3; Wayne, 2, and forest, 8 months. Katherine was injured more seriously than the others, according to a hospital official.

Claims Gain for Goldwater at Convention

in the county's six legislative districts were confirmed unanimously by the convention without a ripple of dispute.

Smith had said earlier there would be nothing to fight over at the convention. He stated that the 161 delegates for all practical purposes had already been chosen in pre-convention meetings.

Smith's strategy was to place as many Goldwater supporters among the party workers as possible on the pre-convention slates. He said he was pleased with the result.

Lyle had said the party would combat any efforts by Goldwater forces to win committed delegates in a county predisposed to follow the lead of its own Gov. George Romney and predominantly liberal in its Republicanism.

The 161 delegates, with Lyle as delegation leader, will go to the May 9 state GOP convention in Grand Rapids where they will choose two national delegates from the county. A total of 48 national delegates will be chosen by the convention.

The more optimistic backers of Goldwater, the champion of conservatism in America, hope to get more than half of the 48 delegates committed to their man.

Romney wants the national delegation to be uncommitted.

OU May Get Detroit Water

Pontiac Twp. Also In on Negotiations

The Oakland County Department of Public Works is negotiating with Pontiac Township and Oakland University to provide them with Detroit water, it was learned today.

Public Works Director R. J. Alexander estimated that it would cost $1.47 million for a water main to serve some 6,000 acres in the southern portion of the township and the university.

He said the project could be financed by charging users rates comparable with those in Pontiac.

The project would entail the laying of a 16-inch water main along Squirrel Road from South Boulevard north to Walton Boulevard. This could be connected into from east and west between Opdyke (Pontiac city limits) and Adams Road.

★ ★ ★

The main would draw water from a 54-inch main which now carries Detroit water into Pontiac. Alexander said there is sufficient capacity in the main along South Boulevard to serve both the proposed area and Pontiac.

REPLACE WELLS

Detroit water would replace several wells in developed portions of the township and would eliminate the need for any future well drilling.

Alexander described well water in the area as limited and of poor quality.

Approximately half of the 6,000 acres is undeveloped at this time.

Alexander said Detroit water was proposed for the area when it was learned that university officials were considering the expansion and revamping of its well system.

He said the money would be better spent for Detroit water if both the university and the township can reach an agreement.

There was no information on the casualties.

Yesterday's Viet Cong attack on a defense training center was the biggest ever staged so close to Saigon. The guerrillas killed 28 government troops and wounded 26. Thirty-seven Vietnamese were reported missing.

Officials said evidence at Go Den, the scene of the attack yesterday, indicated that some of the recruits in the training center were Viet Cong agents who turned on the other recruits, giving them little chance to defend themselves.

★ ★ ★

"There must have been help from the inside," said one American Army officer assigned to a nearby regular Army unit.

NO U.S. ADVISERS

No U. S. military advisers were in the training center when it was overrun, military sources said.

Communist losses, if any, were not known.

A spokesman said the Viet Cong force, estimated at two companies, moved unchallenged before dawn through a relatively heavily populated area.

★ ★ ★

"They came right up to the wall, laid their rifles on it and opened fire," said a civil guard captain in charge of the relief force at the training center.

Norfolk Waits for MacArthur

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — This normally bustling Naval center awaited sorrowfully today the final homecoming of the Army general who took it as his adopted city.

The body of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was to arrive at 3:30 p.m. for final rites and burial Saturday in a memorial-museum-mausoleum he never saw.

Black-draped photographs, paintings and drawings of MacArthur began to appear yesterday in downtown store windows.

In the museum, a catafalque draped in purple velvet awaited the casket of MacArthur, who died Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C.

The body was to arrive at the Norfolk Naval Air Station, from which it was to be transferred — first by hearse, then by caisson drawn by six black horses — the 8½ miles to the MacArthur memorial.

Beauty Operator Gets Symbol of Slimness

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Betty Whitt, who operates a reducing salon here, received a special gift from friends — a Suriman toad, which is flat as a pancake. The toad comes from South America and sets the proper example for her patrons. His diet calls for a minnow every three days — and he gets plenty of exercise by jumping out of his aquarium.

But Door Still Open

Scranton: Not Running

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton today made what he described as "one final effort" to convince supporters that he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

But he did not close the door irrevocably because "no American has the right to take that position."

Appearing slightly nervous at a news conference jammed with nearly 50 newsmen and another 100 onlookers, Scranton said he would, if the GOP convention deadlocks, accept a draft that is "not engineered."

However, the governor said he wanted to make it "crystal clear" that he is not interested in the nomination for himself and that he is not "playing a cagey game" to secure it when the Republicans meet to pick a candidate at San Francisco July 13.

★ ★ ★

Scranton said the reason for this unusual news conference was that he was becoming "increasingly worried" about the number of people who have been rallying behind his possible candidacy.

LONG THOUGHT

Scranton said he gave long, hard thought to his position during a two-week vacation in Florida which ended yesterday.

He said his statements covered a published report that he is no longer receptive to a draft.

He would not elaborate on the news article, but he said it generated telephone conversations with former president Dwight D. Eisenhower, wintering in California, and other top Republican leaders.

★ ★ ★

The 46-year-old governor, now in his 15th month as chief executive said he explained his position to Eisenhower and that he agreed with my approach."

★ ★ ★

He declined comment on the other conversations.

Birmingham Area News

Sleuths Seek Solution to Grave-Site Mystery

BIRMINGHAM — The two weathered headstones, worn by the elements for nearly a century, stand silently in the middle of a modern-day mystery.

They are keeping a group of amateur historians busy with county records and cemetery files.

Which marks the grave of Birmingham's founder, John W. Hunter, the investigators want to know.

Their concern is increasing as Michigan Week and the city's Centennial celebration draw nearer.

★ ★ ★

The celebration will mark the anniversary of Birmingham's incorporation as a village in 1864. But 45 years before that, John W. Hunter had begun to settle the area.

After blazing a trail here, he was joined by others from his hometown of Auburn, N.Y.

CLAIM PROPERTY

Among those who laid claim to property here were John Hamilton and Elijah Willits. Their graves are in Greenwood Cemetery, along with the one of J. W. Hunter.

The headstone, long ignored because of the absence of the name "John," indicates Hunter died in 1830 at the age of 87.

The problem for the history and heritage committee members came with the discovery of another headstone, marked "John Hunter," in Franklin Cemetery.

Thus, for two months the group has been investigating to determine the final resting place of the city's founder.

★ ★ ★

With much sleuthing behind them, the committee members are fairly well satisfied that the Hunter in which they are interested chose a burial plot in the area he helped to settle.

SAME NAME

Factors supporting this opinion include the determination that the name of the wife of Birmingham's founder was Margaret, the same as that appearing on Greenwood Cemetery records for the wife of J. W. Hunter.

The investigators also have learned that dates of the birth and death of Franklin's John Hunter do not coincide with data on the man who carved out the settlement that became Birmingham.

However, the probe will continue until the last particle of proof is found, according to committee members. They admit they may well be working right up to the beginning of the Centennial May, 17.

Barricades Move West of Saginaw

Street closings which have centered largely to the east of Saginaw, will start shifting to the west side tomorrow in downtown Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

West Pike will be closed to through traffic between Saginaw and Cass late tonight or early tomorrow morning, Traffic Engineer Joseph Koren announced today.

The barricades will go up to allow construction of a 60-inch storm drain under West Pike along the east side of Cass.

The job is expected to be completed in less than two weeks. It is part of the Clinton River Drain project.

★ ★ ★

The 60-inch drain will handle overflow during heavy rains for several years and will someday be a major drainage basin as future improvements are made, diverting the flow of the Pontiac Creek.

West Pike will remain open and one-way westbound west of Cass.

It will be temporarily changed to two-way traffic for employes and customers of business places located in the barricaded block, said Koren.

All such traffic will have to enter and leave the block at Saginaw. Eastbound traffic leaving the barricaded block will be restricted to a right turn only at Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

"Westbound traffic on East Pike should turn right to Huron or left to Patterson or Orchard Lake Avenue," Koren advised.

Further complications are expected soon, as Perimeter Road contractors are due in Pontiac late next week to begin work on Cass south of W. Huron.

★ ★ ★

"As soon as we know the exact construction schedule, we'll announce other changes in traffic movement," Koren noted.

Birmingham Chapter No. 220 Order of the Eastern Star, will present its "Spring Fantasy" bazaar Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The 10 a.m.-4 p.m. event at the Masonic Temple will include a plate luncheon served from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

City Voters to Get Bargain

for uniformed members of the fire department be reduced to 56 hours.

There are "Yes" and "No" pointers above each proposal.

★ ★ ★

Voters favoring a proposal push the "Yes" pointer down; those opposing a proposal push the "No" pointer down.

CAN'T DO BOTH

It is literally impossible to cast two votes in any one district, or to vote both "Yes" and "No" for any one proposal.

When one district pointer is pushed downward, the other pointer in that district automatically locks. However, if voters change their mind while in the booth, they may return a pointer to its original position and push the other pointer in that district down.

In any case, voters are always reminded to leave the pointers down since their vote is not recorded until the big red handle is moved back to the left, opening the curtain across the voting booth.

★ ★ ★

When that handle is pushed back to open the curtain, it automatically clears the board, registering each vote and returning all pointers to their starting positions.

★ ★ ★

Ex-City Man Is Found Hurt

A former Pontiac resident is reported in critical condition at the City Hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

★ ★ ★

Billy Parks, 38, brother of Paul Parks of Pontiac, local sports promoter, was found unconscious in a vacant building yesterday morning by St. Louis police.

★ ★ ★

Hospital officials told Paul his brother had suffered a head injury and was in a coma. Paul said the police were investigating.

Flour that has a granular texture and pours like salt or sugar has been developed and will be put on the market soon.

The finished project will be headquarters for the administrative offices of the school district. The building is located just south of Pontiac City Mall in a so-called Civic Center district. School officials expect the hexagon-shaped office building to be ready for use in early October. Present school board offices are at 40 Patterson.

Unionist Guilty of 'Fix' Charge

Offered Jury Money for Hoffa Acquittal

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI — Henry (Buster) Bell, vice president of the International Longshoreman's Association (ILA), last night became the sixth man to be convicted on charges of tampering with a jury that was to try Teamsters Union President James Hoffa.

A federal court jury convicted Bell of offering $30,000 for two votes of acquittal in Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

Bell, head of two ILA locals in New York City and a Hoffa associate, was acquitted on two other counts of a federal indictment. He was released on $20,000 bond.

U. S. District Court Judge Frank Gray set sentencing for April 27. The conviction is punishable by a maximum sentence of five years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Bell, the eighth person tried on jury-tampering charges involving the 1962 case, declined to comment on the verdict.

His attorneys, C. Allen High and William Harte, said Bell received a "fair trial from a fair judge," but added that a new trial motion would be filed.

Bell was convicted on a charge that he offered a Nashville gambler, Nathan Bellamy, $30,000 if he would "tamper with" two jurors to vote for Hoffa's acquittal.

The federal court jury which deliberated about two and a half hours acquitted Bell on a charge he directed a $25,000 offer to a prospective juror in the case.

★ ★ ★

He also was acquitted, in a directed verdict earlier, of a third count alleging he conspired with persons "unknown" to influence the same juror.

Bell, a tall, heavy-set man, testified he had "never met Hoffa" but frequently discussed Hoffa's 1962 trial "because I'm interested in any trial of a labor leader."

Brazil Congress Due to OK Leftist Purge

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Congress today was expected to grant Brazil's new government sweeping powers to eliminate "Communists and other leftists" from the legislature and supreme court.

The plan was agreed to last night by congressional leaders and the military men who overthrew former President Joao Goulart.

A congressman who asked that his name be withheld said the proposal would empower provisional President Ranieri Mazzilli to strip "certain citizens" of their political rights as well as to remove judges and oust extreme leftists from congress.

Mazzilli's press secretary told newsmen yesterday the provisional president wants to complete his purge of Congress before it meets—probably tomorrow—to elect an interim president and vice president.

★ ★ ★

The purge plan was drafted by 11 congressional leaders flown here from Brasilia yesterday to work on the problem. It was then approved by the generals who ousted Goulart last week.

PROBABLE TARGETS

Although there has been no official announcement of the names of men likely to be affected by the purge, probable targets include Supreme Court Justice Hermes Lima, a Goulart appointee, and anti-American Congressman Leonel Brizola, the ex-president's brother-in-law.

Congressman Francisco Juliao, leader of northeastern Brazil's land-grabbing "peasant leagues," also is likely to be dismissed from the national legislature.

Censorship of the domestic and foreign press continued in force today despite protests from the U.S. Embassy and Gov. Carlos Lacerda of Guanabara State (Rio), who urged that at least the restrictions on the foreign press should be eased.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Humberto A. Castelo Branco still was rated as the man most likely to be elected interim president, but two other high-ranking military men were reported ready to toss their gold-laced caps into the ring.

LEFTIST SUPPORT

Goulart's laborites and other leftists, including some Socialists, were supporting Maj. Gen. Amaury Kruel—like Castelo, a leader of the anti-Goulart revolution—for the interim presidency.

Marshal Eurico G. Dutra, who was president from 1946 to 1951, also was expected to be a candidate.

Jose M. Alkmin, former finance minister of Minas Gerais State, is considered likely to be Castelo's running mate.

The interim president and vice president will hold office until Jan. 31, 1966, when Goulart's term would have expired.

Warren Probe to Visit Dallas?

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sources close to the Warren commission representatives here indicate Chief Justice Earl Warren and other commission members may visit Dallas next week.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Atty. Barefoot Sanders said Wednesday he had no comment on the statement and "anything released about that will have to come from Washington."

The source said commission attorneys here speculated the group might arrive Monday or Tuesday.

25 PERSONS

Commission attorneys in Dallas interviewed 25 persons Wednesday for a total of nearly 260 witnesses in this phase of the investigation.

Junior Editors Quiz on MT. EVEREST

QUESTION: Who was first to climb Mount Everest?

ANSWER: Since the beginning of recorded time until May 29, 1953, the summit of Mount Everest, 29,028 feet high, had remained unvisited by man.

This point, had been the target for the most daring climbers, but toward Everest's summit, the air becomes so thin that it makes it difficult and dangerous to continue. Seven major expeditions had attacked Everest without success; 16 men lost their lives in the effort.

In 1953 a new expedition was organized by an expert mountaineer, Sir John Hunt. This group tackled the mountain on the south side, which former mountaineers had declared impossible to scale.

Hunt set up a series of camps. Camp VIII, at 25,000 feet, was pitched on May 24. From here, supplies were carried still higher.

Then a two-man assault team tried for the summit and failed.

Now it was the turn of the second team of Sir Edmund Hillary and the experienced native Sherper Tenzing. Up, up they went and finally Hillary saw a little mound of snow ahead from which everything sloped down.

It was the summit, and soon they were standing where none had stood before. It was May 29, 1953.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The first victory was by a British expedition, but on May 1, 1963, the American flag was flown from the summit by an American and a native Sherpa. Three weeks later 4 other Americans duplicated this feat. Find and read the thrilling story of the American Mount Everest Expedition.

GM Confab Slated for School Officials

Educators from five states and the District of Columbia will attend the 14th General Motors conference for secondary school counselors, April 12-15.

The visitors will tour GMC Truck and Coach Division here and also facilities in Flint.

Purpose of the conference is to acquaint the school officials with the auto firm's personnel policies, employment practices and training programs for high school and college graduates.

Included among the group will be two Pontiac educators, Gerald G. Hunt of Pontiac Central High School and Hercules G. Renda of Pontiac Northern High School.

Rocky Should Copy Lodge's 'Campaign'

The time of silliness, that invariably coincides with a presidential campaign, is in full swing.

Recently, New York's Governor, NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER, charged that Ambassador HENRY CABOT LODGE is politicking from his Viet Nam "sanctuary."

Well, now.

To date, Lodge's politicking has consisted exclusively of staying on and ably administering the job to which he was assigned and keeping his mouth shut. He hasn't even voiced public interest in the presidency, in violent contrast to Rockefeller who's been a vocal candidate for so long that people are beginning to think that he was born with the words in his mouth, along with the silver spoon.

★ ★ ★

After spending what would be a fortune to most people and campaigning strenuously for weeks before the event, ROCKEFELLER hardly cleared the starting gate in the New Hampshire presidential preference primary. But supporters of the absent and undeclared LODGE wrote him in to a victory that swept up the state's entire slate of 14 delegates.

★ ★ ★

Portents are that Lodge may well score as heavily in next month's Oregon primary. When you add the fact that Lodge has left the Governor far behind in public opinion polls, a pretty good image begins to emerge of what the people like in a candidate.

★ ★ ★

Maybe ROCKEFELLER might benefit by emulation of LODGE'S "campaign" conduct— by staying home and attending to his pretty demanding job of running the State of New York, and not talking so much.

Plastic Cleaner's Bags Dangerous to Tots

Suffocation of a six-month-old tot in a plastic cleaner's bag again points up the danger to children inherent in this harmless-appearing form of apparel covering.

Where children are concerned, adults must be everlastingly vigilant in keeping devices out of reach that might by greatest stretch of imagination be used injuriously.

The ingenuity of the young in converting the most innocuous objects into threats to safety is almost beyond belief, and everything that is within their reach should be viewed in that light by parents and custodians.

★ ★ ★

At least one hazard can be eliminated by the prompt and irretrievable disposal of cleaner's bags upon removal from the garments they cover.

April's Crusade Month for Cancer Foundation

April holds significance for the Michigan Cancer Foundation. It is the month in which the agency, one of 54 affiliated with the Pontiac Area United Fund, launches its Annual Crusade. Not a fund-raising activity, the latter two weeks of it will emphasize educational and preventive aspects of the disease.

Although deaths from cancer in the United States are estimated to reach 290,000 in 1964, scientists engaged in unremitting combat with one of humanity's most dreaded killers find encouragement in results being shown from new patterns of research and investigation.

Two such developments are the Cancer Virus Task Force and the Acute Leukemia Task Force, both sponsored by the National Cancer Society.

No one can tell at this time, says an authority, where the investigations of these multiphased teams of scientists will lead, but there is evidence that hopeful progress is being made in the methodology of resultful exploration.

In the volunteer ranks of the State Foundation are 16,000 dedicated men and women who conduct programs of public and professional education, support research and give service to cancer patients in four Southeastern counties of the State.

We warmly commend both medical and civilian zealots on their spirit and labor in behalf of mankind.

Russia Losing Ardor for War

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Premier Khrushchev's desire for goulash explains why a man in this country can be radical at 19 but conservative at 45.

He had nothing to lose at 19, but a lot at 45: a house, wife, kids to put through school, ambitions to be company president and a pension if he lives long enough.

As Khrushchev said in a jibe at the war-minded Red Chinese who defame him for not being war-minded enough: "We didn't fight the revolution in order to live worse."

MARLOW

Goulash was his way of saying he prefers prosperity to revolution. It's a reflection of Russia's growing affluence, which is a good, practical reason for being less belligerent and reckless.

Like the man of 45, Khrushchev isn't anxious to risk a nuclear war which would wipe out all the Russians have struggled to achieve — a better life — since the Bolchevik Revolution of 1917.

★ ★ ★

This makes the Russian-Red Chinese split in a very deep sense a difference between the haves and the have-nots of communism.

IN REVOLUTIONARY DAYS

The Russian masses in their revolutionary days, like the Chinese now, didn't have much to lose but their lives and must have felt, as their acceptance of communism showed, that anything was better than nothing.

Now after two generations of work and privation the Russians, as a nation and individually, through the acquisition of possessions, have won a sense of domestic security, a condition that can dampen revolutionary ardor.

At least it can by this reasoning: Revolution disturbs, peace preserves.

★ ★ ★

This doesn't mean, and Khrushchev's words can't be interpreted as meaning, the Russians have become too placid to encourage revolt where it suits them if the revolt doesn't risk all-out war.

SOME MISGIVINGS NOW

The Soviet leadership has to feel, by its doctrine, that the best world is a Communist one, and the sooner the better. But even here the leaders must have some misgivings about believing it totally.

They have learned from their unhappy experiences with those renegades from Soviet control — Yugoslavia, Albania, Red China — that a Communist world might not necessarily be a peaceful one after all.

Such divisions in a Communist world might put Moscow in a new jeopardy, but this time from its ideological brothers instead of from capitalism.

This condition has its own irony: If Red China became the center of a Communist world, no doubt, judging from Russia's troubles with her one-time allies, there would be fresh divisions and hostility to Peking.

The reason: Nationalism has been a stronger force than communism, even within the Communist states. So long as this is true, and it shows no signs of diminishing, it will assert itself to the disadvantage of Red harmony.

★ ★ ★

The Red Chinese, being now in the position of the Russians of 1917, can afford to be cantankerous, adventuresome and reckless, since they have less to lose in worldly goods than their prosperous Russian neighbor.

Middle Of The Road

David Lawrence Says:

Rights Fight Heads for Debacle

WASHINGTON — Maybe what has just happened in the Wisconsin primary will give Congress pause.

It may teach a lesson often forgotten — that a substantial segment of the American people resent intrusion into their private lives and their freedom to choose their associates, black or white or brown or yellow, on the basis of their own judgment and their own likes or dislikes.

LAWRENCE

For if resentment already evidenced across the Northern states—not merely in the South—is beginning to be expressed in the form of votes at the polls, then a crisis of major proportions may come to America.

Today, the cause of civil rights, which in many respects is a just cause, is headed for another debacle, largely because its proponents have chosen the wrong methods to win public support.

It is easy enough to say that in Wisconsin mostly Republicans gave a symbolic vote for the arguments of Gov. Wallace of Alabama.

The significant development, however, is that, in a state as far from the South as Wisconsin — known for its progressive thinking — an election was actually conducted in which civil rights was an issue, and 25 per cent of the voters registered their protest against it.

On the same day, moreover, that the Wisconsin primary was being held, a tragedy occurred in Cleveland, Ohio, where an impassioned minister was killed after dramatically throwing himself behind a bulldozer.

Today, many of the Northern cities, including New York and Chicago, are conscientiously striving to handle the difficult problem of racial integration.

But they find themselves not occupied merely with what the Constitution and the law require —namely, that there shall be no racial discrimination in citizenship rights.

They are instead being stampeded to correct "racial imbalance" by methods which introduce a counterdiscrimination — as, for instance, against those white citizens whose children are being prevented from going to their own neighborhood schools.

ONE OF DEMANDS

This is one of the demands of civil rights leaders in their boycotts and other demonstrations.

How can public sentiment express itself against encroachments on private rights?

The citizens of Wisconsin found a way, and so did the voters in Kansas City, Mo., this week when they voted on a city ordinance which dealt with public accommodations.

The ordinance was designed to enlarge the number of places in which discrimination would be prohibited, and went beyond the provisions of the pending bill in Congress.

The measure was under vigorous attack by tavern owners, and the vote was about 50-50, as the ordinance won by a narrow margin.

Why, in a place as far distant from Alabama as Kansas City, would the citizens be divided evenly on this question if the issues were as clear as some of the supporters of the civil rights legislation have described them?

The problem in Kansas City, just as in other cities, is one that turns on the extent to which an effort to prevent discrimination results in a drive whereby governmental authorities control freedom of association and freedom of choice of customers in private business.

All this adds up to civic resentment, the first signs of which are beginning to appear in different sections of the country.

Capital Letter:

Eisenhower for Barry? Ike's Older Brother Is

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Eisenhower for Goldwater! It's official now. Edgar Eisenhower, that is.

While other GOP presidential hopefuls have been wistfully wooing former President Eisenhower, Sen. Barry Goldwater has quietly signed Ike's older brother on the dotted line.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Edgar Eisenhower, a dyed-in-the-wool conservative who practices law in Tacoma, has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the Goldwater-for-president campaign in Washington state.

His decision should surprise nobody — least of all Dwight David Eisenhower.

While Ike was president, a rift developed between the brothers.

"Edgar's burned up at some of these liberal moves of Ike's, particularly his unbalanced budgets," one senator confided. at that time. "He calls it fiscal irresponsibility."

★ ★ ★

CHECKS STORY

After identifying myself, I asked if it were true that he was unhappy about the way his brother was running the government.

"You bet it's true," he exclaimed heartily.

He was just leaving for the ball game, but invited me to come for an interview the next noontime.

★ ★ ★

I went, and for more than an hour carefully took down all of his lamentations about Milton's influence on Ike, and the sad shape of the president's fiscal policies.

STORY'S PRINTED

He was in the midst of an impromptu news conference when the White House called him on the telephone.

Press Secretary James Hagerty had just seen the story, and was apparently reading Edgar the riot act.

A chastened presidential brother emerged from the bedroom, told the assembled reporters that there had been a "terrible mistake," and said he had nothing more to say.

★ ★ ★

The next day, President Eisenhower's press conference at the White House opened with a question about his reaction to his brother's bombast.

ALWAYS CRITICAL

Flashing the boyish, lopsided grin that has endeared him to millions, Ike replied:

"Aw, Edgar's been criticizing me since I was 5 years old."

★ ★ ★

He then joined in the burst of laughter that rocked the staid old Treaty Room.

MacArthur—Japan's 'Governor'

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When I remember Gen. Douglas MacArthur personally, I remember him not as a general but as the "governor" of Japan during the U.S. occupation after World War II.

CROMLEY

I knew the Japanese well for six pre-war years as foreign correspondent in Tokyo. I knew them again for two years under the MacArthur occupation. MacArthur's personal influence as a man on the Japanese was profound.

The Japanese understood MacArthur. He was like one of their shoguns, who kept himself behind a curtain and ruled through third men. MacArthur's genius was in ruling through Japanese forms.

He did not make the mistake of removing Emperor Hirohito. He ruled through the emperor. But he made vast changes in the monarchy.

The emperor renounced his claim to divinity. Nobles lost their titles. The legislature and popular voting dominated the government, but it still operated under many of the forms of the old imperial way. Also, in the old imperial way, MacArthur was the advisor behind the throne.

In a sense, MacArthur was more Japanese to the Japanese than they themselves.

Now, it is true that MacArthur made mistakes. The new constitution was so written that the Japanese could not understand it.

I remember being at a private gathering at the home of Japan's leading constitutional lawyer, Dr. Masamichi Royama, when he attempted to explain the MacArthur constitution to a group of his friends, all university graduates. The meanings were so difficult to explain in Japanese that he was forced to do a goodly share of his explaining in English.

The after-war purges dragged out so long they lost their meaning in many cases. There were excesses in applying western concepts to Japan too quickly. MacArthur created an economic mishmash in his attempts to break up the Zaibatsu (the big family monopolies) with amateur trust busters.

But by and large MacArthur's actions—even those in which his budgets," one senator confided moves leading toward more individual liberty and respect for the average Japanese.

★ ★ ★

MacArthur's programs broke the back of the latent communism, which was very strong in Japan at the end of the war. The Communists were prepared and organized. They had a brilliant theoretician and tactician in Nosaka (Okano).

But MacArthur was giving the Japanese in fact the things Communist propagandists promise as bait but don't deliver.

One example: He instituted one of the most effective land reform programs ever carried out in any country.

Naturally, many of MacArthur's changes failed. Nevertheless, the result was a stable, essentially democratic political system friendly to the United States, and a successful, prosperous, rapidly expanding economic system.

Voice of the People:

Americans' Complacency Concerns Housewife

With crime and immorality increasing, many people are shocked by what they read, see, or hear, but are complacent and not too worried as long as it doesn't concern them. The attitude I find most disgusting is "I don't want to get involved."

★ ★ ★

Standing on the sidelines and looking at the world like a group of sheep, seems to be gaining in popularity. In my neighborhood of smug, self-satisfied people, I have found most of the housewives are not registered voters; care little about politics and world affairs; care less about better schools, mental hospitals and provisions for disturbed children; and little about "reading" and "keeping informed."

★ ★ ★

Where do you start if you feel someone has to care and do something constructive to keep our country free from this "don't care attitude"? Certainly the Communists are gaining ground when it's made this easy for them.

Will Mr. Bruce Scott cite one instance in the last ten years in the City of Pontiac in which a white man has committed a crime against a Negro.

10 Stockwell — Mr. F. A. Nance

In reply to Mr. Scott, there's nothing tailor-made in law. If taxpayers want to do something about it we should ask the State Legislature to give more tax money to state hospitals. Doctors in state hospitals are overloaded to the breaking point. More nurses and social workers would help, too.

We build highways costing millions and neglect mental hospitals. Pontiac State Hospital could easily use an extra $1 million a year.

I urge everyone to write to Gov. Romney about this. Why not have a state income tax of $2 per worker to be used for mental institutions? Here's a good chance for everyone to be a hero.

After having sat in on several Waterford Township Board meetings, I have found the importance stressed on such meetings in my government class was wasteful.

If these members, such as Mr. Loren Anderson, would spend more time listening to proposals instead of being politicians, maybe then the Board's purpose would be fulfilled.

Opposes Proposed Change in Zoning

Pontiac people who live in an area where there is a large number of vacant homes should protest the proposed change in zoning at the April 14 City Commission meeting.

★ ★ ★

A member of the Planning Commission advised our City Commission that there are 493 VA or FHA homes on the market or repossessed presently. These homes are priced for moderate income families. On these facts, it doesn't make sense to change the zoning laws to permit more construction.

Mr. Langs boasted that his proposed structures would be better built than those on the market. I don't believe this—any brick home in my area will meet his proposed standards. Mr. Langs will only create more potential foreclosures for Pontiac if the zoning is changed.

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

U. S. Moving Ahead

Gemini Shot Spurs Program

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The United States today moved confidently ahead on its second manned space program, Gemini, following the success of the first unmanned flight.

A Titan 2 rocket propelled a two-seat Gemini spacecraft into orbit in an almost perfect launching. The rocket lifted off only one second behind scheduled, but a launching official claimed the range clock must have been wrong because the countdown was completed without even a one-second delay.

★ ★ ★

Project Director Charles Mathews of the Manned Spacecraft Center said the flight gave the Gemini team confidence to proceed toward a second unmanned flight and a manned orbital trip this year.

The second flight, set for late August or early September, is to hurl a spacecraft on a ballistic flight to test all systems, atmospheric reentry and recovery.

MANNED MISSION

The first manned mission calls for two astronauts to ride a Gemini capsule on a three-orbit flight, hopefully in November or December.

The opening Gemini shot tested structural integrity of the spacecraft, ability of the Titan 2 to place the capsule in a precise orbit, and aerodynamic compatibility of the rocket-capsule combination.

Maj. Gen. Ben I. Funk, commander of the Air Force space systems division, termed the launching a "storybook sort of flight" in which everything seemed to go right.

Engineers estimated it would require several days to analyze the data, but preliminary study indicated all objectives were achieved.

EXCESS SPEED

The only imperfection was a 14-mile-an-hour excess speed by the Titan 2. It reached 17,534 miles an hour instead of the intended 17,520. This sent the spacecraft into a 204-mile-high peak orbital path, 21 miles higher than planned.

★ ★ ★

Operations Director Walter C. Williams said this was well within tolerance and that on a manned flight, extra height easily could be corrected by the astronauts.

★ ★ ★

Williams, who directed all six manned flights in Project Mercury, bowed out of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration with Wednesday's launching. He recently accepted a position with the Aerospace Corp.

★ ★ ★

AP Photofax

LIFT-OFF — Leaving its launching pad yesterday is the Titan 2 rocket with an unmanned Gemini capsule on top. The success firing from Cape Kennedy orbited the Gemini, a two-man space vehicle, for the first time.

Landing Test on Parachute 'Partial Success'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Officials of the Manned Spacecraft Center have termed a test of the parasail for spacecraft landings only a "partial success."

★ ★ ★

Some of the shroud lines of the parasail snapped Wednesday at the test in Trinity Bay. Test engineers had to trigger a reverse parachute to bring the boilerplate model of the two-man Gemini craft down without damage.

★ ★ ★

The parasail is a parachute which can be steered literally through slits in the chute and special lines. Researchers hope to learn if it can be used to bring spacecraft to safe landings on solid ground, rather than water.

★ ★ ★

Spokesmen said the Gemini model, the reserve chute and other objects were recovered successfully.

Essex Talks Stalled Again

Police Seeking Clues in Blast at Factory

HILLSDALE (AP)—Peace talks in the violence - marked Essex Wire Corp. strike were stalled again today in the aftermath to Wednesday's explosion on the factory roof.

With negotiations called off at the company's request, police kept up a search for clues to the blast.

★ ★ ★

The blast, believed caused by an explosive thrown from the ground, tore a hole in the roof and smashed windows at midnight Tuesday. No one was injured.

Police chief Harold G. Caulkins said a length of dynamite fuse was found in the factory vicinity. He said fragments of a possible dynamite cap also were found.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Officials of Local 810 of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) said they had no knowledge of the source of the explosion.

The IUE's 180 production-worker members employed by Essex Wire have been on strike since Feb. 28 over terms of a first contract.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday's scheduled company - union negotations were suspended because of the explosion.

Chief Caulkins said the results of the police investigation would be turned over to Emil M. Fry, special assistant to Hillsdale County Prosecutor James B. Parker.

★ ★ ★

Fry has been serving as the prosecutor's office representative in strike affairs. Prosecutor Parker disqualified himself in strike court actions because of a prior legal connection with Essex Wire.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reappointment of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay for another abbreviated extension in his job as Air Force chief of staff is stirring curiosity in the capital.

The White House announced yesterday that LeMay — who does not see eye to eye with the Defense Department on some aspects of air-power — has agreed to a request by President Johnson that he remain in his post until next Feb. 1.

When his first two-year term as chief of staff approached completion last year, President John C. Kennedy reappointed LeMay for one year, with the expiration time this summer.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had recommended to Kennedy that LeMay be given only a one-year reappointment instead of a full term.

★ ★ ★

The official explanation for the new reappointment by Johnson is that this will carry LeMay through to the point where he will have completed 35 years service and be eligible for retirement instead of dropping back to a lesser post somewhere in the Air Force.

'LIFETIME DEVOTION'

In a statement, Johnson said that "General LeMay's willingness to continue at his post until next year is another demonstration of his lifetime devotion to the service of his country."

Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert said he has worked with LeMay for three years "and I look forward to serving with him for the remainder of his tour" of duty.

LeMay's comment was "I appreciate the President's confidence in me and will continue to serve the country to the best of my ability."

★ ★ ★

A newsman, recalling that since McNamara usually makes recommendations to the White House on appointments and reappointments of top military and civilian officials in the Pentagon, asked for a statement by McNamara on LeMay's reappointment by Johnson.

NO COMMENT

A spokesman, after checking, returned to say McNamara had no comment.

Did this mean that McNamara hadn't favored extending LeMay's term, but that Johnson had decided to do so anyway? The question was left open.

In addition to the stated reason that this would retain LeMay in his command until he reaches the point of retirement from active duty, there was speculation about possible other factors in the decision.

This is a political campaign year and LeMay is one of the few remaining famous figures of World War II.

To let him go now might draw fire from critics of the administration. Moreover, if LeMay remains in office until next February, when the campaign is over, he may be less likely to find occasion to reiterate his views on some touchy topics.

Order Mental Test for Author Suspect

TOPSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A millionaire author whose ancestry reads like an American-British "who's who" began mental tests today following the strangling of his 64-year-old housekeeper.

Louis Agassiz Shaw, 56, was ordered committed Wednesday for 35 days' observation at Danvers State Hospital by District Judge Philip Durkin.

An innocent plea to a murder charge was entered for Shaw, whose grandfather reportedly left a $23-million estate.

Shaw was brought into court after the body of Miss Delia Holland was found in a second floor room of Shaw's 15-room mansion.

EXAMINER REPORT

She had been strangled manually, a medical examiner said.

Shaw, who police said had been under psychiatric care for 10 years, turned the Salem District courtroom into an uproar when he lay on a wooden bench during the arraignment and shouted as the clerk read the complaint against him.

★ ★ ★

"Cut it out. Cut it out," he shouted. "Shut up or I'll fight you. I'l kill you. Stop bothering me. Stop talking to me."

Shaw had authored many short stories, some of which were used in collections of works by contemporary American writers.

SHAW'S PARENT

His father was Robert Gould Shaw II, whose first wife, Nancy Langhorne, later married Viscount Astor and became the first woman to sit in the British Parliament.

Shaw's grandfather, Quincy A. Shaw, made a fortune in mining. His mother was a Converse, an outstanding family in Boston.

★ ★ ★

Police said Shaw told them he strangled the housekeeper because "she was turning on gas jets in the house," trying to kill him.

School Bond Vote Set in Caledonia District

CALEDONIA (AP) — Residents of this southeast Kent County school district vote Friday on a $420,000 bond issue to finance proposed school expansion. The bonds would cover construction of one new grade school, an addition to an existing school and refurbishing of Caledonia's old high school.

Pope Paul Says Mass at Prison

ROME (AP)—Pope Paul VI went to Rome's Regina Coeli (Queen of Heaven) jail today and celebrated Mass for the 1,100 prisoners, many of whom wept openly.

It was the second visit in modern history by a reigning Roman Catholic pontiff to a jail. Pope Paul's predecessor, Pope John XXIII, visited Regina Coeli the day after Christmas, 1958.

"I thank you for making it possible for me to visit your house," said Pope Paul in a voice breaking with emotion. "I want this to be more than a conventional visit. I want this to be a moment of intimate contact.

"I thank you. I thank all of you for your presence, for your courtesy. You see how difficult it is for me to speak at this moment because I think at this moment words fail me."

CHEER POPE

The prisoners cheered, applauded and thanked the 66-year-old Pope.

Before the Mass, a young prisoner welcomed the white-clad Pope on behalf of the inmates. The Pope embraced the man and gave him a symbolic kiss of peace.

Six prisoners assisted the Pope in the Mass.

Feelings of Death, Frustration Hang Over Viet Nam Village

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

GO DEN, Viet Nam (AP) — "My God, our soldiers were so close — why couldn't they have done something for us — anything," the village policeman cried, waving his arms in frustration and rage.

* * *

The pleasant, tree-shaded streets of this suburban town looked almost normal today, and children were singing in the concrete schoolhouse. But from dozens of houses, the sound of wailing women and the smell of incense proclaimed death such as the Viet Cong had done.

AFTER MIDNIGHT

They came a few hours after midnight Tuesday, moving stealthily in black uniforms from the rich rice fields to the west into Go Den, only 15 miles south of Saigon.

When they left, the police traffic control compound on the main road from Saigon to the Mekong Delta lay in rubble, its occupants dead or wounded.

* * *

Two hundred yards away, the self-defense corps post responsible for the town's safety lay in ruins. The big, thriving town was untouched.

Twenty-eight defenders lay dead, including the lieutenant who commanded the post. Thirty-six were wounded, most of them gravely. Thirty-seven were missing — either captives or traitors.

AIDED BY AGENTS

American sources said the raiders apparently were aided by agents inside the post who sprayed the sleeping men with bullets, signaling the attack.

The Communists also carried off 115 weapons, including 14 machine guns.

* * *

The help that never came was only three miles down the road at Ben Luc, the district capital. Police said they radioed for help as soon as the attack began. The highway is well paved, and the fight occurred almost on the road.

The Viet Cong victory occurred in Long An Province, where Vietnamese and American authorities launched a crash rehabilitation program in January.

BEST TROOPS

Several thousand of Viet Nam's best troops are in the province.

The Viet Cong had at least one machine gun, rifles and pistols, but relied mainly on homemade bombs and grenades.

* * *

Capping their success, the guerrillas went on to blow up a bridge Wednesday night a few miles away.

Today, two battalions of paratroopers parked their trucks under the billboards advertising toothpaste and hair shampoo and set out across the fields to look for the enemy. Mortar fire preceded their advance. They came back empty-handed.

URGED TO ABANDON

The post the Communists overran was of the type that Americans have been urging the Saigon government to abandon for the last two years.

Triangular, about 50 yards on each side, the post was surrounded by a water-filled moat and several aprons of barbed wire.

* * *

The police station was of much the same design.

An earthwork tower was set at each corner of the post. Two platoons of self-defense corps men, most of them trainees, were the defenders.

The Viet Cong waded across the moat and cut the barbed wire in dozens of places. The frame of a chair stood upright in the ruins of one of the towers, its guard dead.

OVER QUICKLY

It was over quickly. All three of the corner towers were blown up, and machine guns began ripping the compound to pieces.

The lieutenant in charge was wounded in his bed and crawled 20 feet to the gate where a foot bridge crossed the moat. He was cut to pieces when he reached the bridge by a Communist machine gun.

At least a dozen of his men died in the same place, trying to get out.

A woman, her teeth blackened by betel nuts and a child at her breast, sat sobbing in a house 50 feet from the compound. Her husband was among the missing.

HOUSES FIRST

"They came through our houses here first," she said, "pulling us out of bed and then throwing us down on the floor. "My children and I lay on the floor when the shooting began. You can see from all the bullet holes here we would have been killed if we had sat up.

"I'm afraid the Viet Cong will be back, but I mustn't leave here. Maybe my husband will be back."

New Trial in German Traitor Case

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — The West German Supreme Court gave permission today for the reopening of the 1956 treason trial of former Bonn intelligence chief Otto John.

The court based its decision on perjury charges filed against a key prosecution witness, journalist Karl Wittig. He fled to East Germany before he could be brought to trial.

John was sentenced to four years in prison in December 1956 for "treasonable falsification" and "treasonable conspiracy" in connection with his apparent defection to Communist East Germany in 1954.

He returned to the West 17 months later, surrendered and claimed he had been drugged and kidnaped. The Supreme Court in 1956 termed his account "untrue and disproved."

* * *

WAS RELEASED

John was released from prison in 1958 on clemency. He has been fighting ever since to get his case reopened.

There was no immediate indication when the new hearings would begin.

John's apparent defection was a sensation in Western capitals, because of his position as chief of West German intelligence. He had recently returned from an official visit to Washington.

Today's News From Washington

Stricter Controls Are Planned for New York Stock Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

★ ★ ★

CONTROLS: The Securities Exchange Commission announced Wednesday it plans to place rigid controls on floor traders in New York Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The announcement apparently ended a long argument between the exchange and the commission which had criticized floor trading as "a vestige of the private club atmosphere" that marked exchanges years ago.

★ ★ ★

NEW STANDARDS

If normal procedure is followed the new standards would be formally adopted about May 15 and would become effective 30 to 60 days after that date.

★ ★ ★

Stock Exchange President Keith Funston described the SEC proposal a compromise and said the standards were compatible" with a rules adopted in principle by the exchange governors March 19.

KREBIOZEN: The Food and Drug Administration has recommended to the Justice Department that distributors of Krebiozen be prosecuted, a spokesman said Wednesday.

In the long and heated controversy over the drug, its sponsors claimed it was effective in combating cancer. But the FDA announced in September that its studies had identified Krebiozen as nothing more than creatine, an amino acid plentifully available from meat in the normal diet. The agency said it found it was ineffective in the treatment of cancer in animals.

Last November the agency cited the product's principal sponsors for alleged interstate shipment of Krebiozen under false claims and other misrepresentations, giving them an opportunity to show cause why they should not be prosecuted.

An FDA spokesman said then the citation was directed at Dr. Stevan Durovic and his brother, Marko Durovic; the Krebiozen Research Foundation; Dr. Andrew C. Ivy and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, all of Chicago.

U.S.-Soviet Union: President Johnson is described as having noted with some satisfaction a "more normal situation" in American-Soviet relations.

This word was relayed to newsmen Wednesday by Foy D. Kohler, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, after he had a 50-minute meeting with Johnson.

Kohler cited as an example of more normal relations the recent cultural exchange agreement and negotiations on an American-Soviet consular conventions.

Ferry service between Manhattan and Brooklyn was discontinued in 1942.

Native Kirtland's Warbler

Urges New State Bird

LANSING (AP) — A proposal to end the robin's 33-year reign as the official state bird of Michigan, replacing it with the Kirtland's Warbler, has been introduced in the House.

Rep. Raymond Baker, R-Berkley, sponsored the resolution which notes that the Kirtland's Warbler is unique to Michigan, whereas the robin is not.

★ ★ ★

"Thousands of persons travel each year to Michigan to see and hear the Kirtland's Warbler in the jackpine forests where it lives, and to photograph this friendly bird," says the resolution.

It notes further that only about 1,000 of the species exist in the world, nesting only in Michigan, and the world's only monument to a songbird, honoring the Kirtland's Warbler, stands in Mio in the Huron National Forest.

★ ★

The Robin was designated Michigan's state bird by legislative resolution in 1931.

Bentley Eyes Appeal of State District Voiding

By JIM DYGERT

News Analysis

Former Republican congressman Alvin M. Bentley will appeal a federal court's invalidating of Michigan's congressional districts and seek to delay its effect if state legislators fail to agree on acceptable new districts this session.

★ ★ ★

This strategy of keeping appeal in reserve while counting first on legislation to resolve the districting crisis was spelled out yesterday by Bentley's attorney, Richard C. Van Dusen.

"If the legislature approves new districts which the court will accept," said Van Dusen, former legal adviser to Gov. George Romney, "there will be no need for an appeal."

Michigan faces an election chaos of statewide at-large balloting for congressmen in November unless new districts are drawn in time or an appeal is filed and a stay of execution granted.

Van Dusen's and Bentley's waiting on the legislature contrasted with the action taken last week by Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn.

A GOP candidate for the 19th District that was ruled unconstitutional along with the 18 others because of population disparities, Kuhn is seeking permission to intervene in the case so he can appeal and request a stay of execution.

HEARING ON MOTION

His motion to intervene and a request for a rehearing will be heard Tuesday by the three-judge panel that threw out the districts drawn in 1963 by Michigan's Republican-controlled legislature.

Kuhn believes it is impossible for the legislature to pass new districts in time, since bipartisan support would be needed to give a districting bill immediate effect, which requires two-thirds approval.

Kuhn said his rights as a citizen and a candidate would be jeopardized by at-large voting.

★ ★ ★

He said he waited a week in vain for Bentley or Secretary of State James M. Hare, both defendants in the case, to file an appeal and seek a stay of execution that would permit the districts to be used this year.

MAY SEEK STAY

Van Dusen indicated Bentley would ask for such a stay as part of an appeal if lawmakers fail to agree on new districts.

Depending first on the legislature has been the approach favored by Romney, GOP leaders and most Republican legislators.

The task of drawing a new district map is in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Roberts withdrew his candidacy in the 19th District when the court's ruling put him in charge of revising that district along with the others.

ONE OF SMALLEST

The 19th — which contained Pontiac, the rest of northern and western Oakland County, and all of Livingston County — was one of the smallest districts, 16 per cent below the average district population of 411,000.

Revisions may attach part of northwestern Wayne County to the 19th, since Wayne's population put its six districts above the average, and shift Avon Township into the 18th to bring it up to average.

The 18th — southeastern Oakland south of Pontiac and east of Inkster Road — is 7 per cent below the average.

★ ★ ★

The 18th previously contained all of Oakland County, but the county's 1960 population of 690,603 was much too big for one district (though too small for two).

The 19th was a new district received by the state for population gains in the 1960 census.

Hearings Begin Today on 'Deadly' Pesticides

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department opens public hearings today to determine whether new restrictions should be placed on three pesticides widely used by farmers.

★ ★ ★

The hearings follow complaints by the Public Health Service and State of Louisiana that water pollution by such pesticides appeared to be the cause of massive killing of fish in the Mississippi River.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall told a Senate subcommittee yesterday that the Mississippi fish kill was symptomatic of conditions throughout the country.

He said lake trout in New York state failed to reproduce because of pesticide in the water and cited other examples.

★ ★ ★

The Agriculture Department hearing was called to discuss uses and effects of Endrin, Aldrin and Dieldrin.

DEADLY TO INSECTS

The department previously certified them as deadly to insects but, when properly used, not dangerous to human beings or animal life.

In a statement prepared for the opening of the hearings, Justus Ward, director of the pesticides regulation division, discussed what the agency knew about the three chemicals and hoped to learn about them.

Ward said several chemicals compounds had been found in significant quantities in dead and dying fish and in the water environment.

★ ★ ★

He said these included at least two unidentified substances and Endrin and Dieldrin.

NOT AVAILABLE

"Data are not available as to the origin of the two chemicals found in the water," Ward said.

"They may have resulted from water runoff from the agricultural land treated with the insecticides, or from discharge of wastes from plants manufacturing Dieldrin or Endrin, or from plants formulating them as finished insecticides, or other sources."

Ward said all information relating to uses of the chemicals and the cause of the fish kill "is essential to the department in meeting its responsibilities with respect to the registration and use of pesticides."

★ ★ ★

He said the information particularly was needed as a basis for determining what corrective measures, if any, should be taken to cancel or modify registration of Endrin, Aldrin, and Dieldrin, whether or not the loss of fish is involved," Ward said.

★ ★ ★

Ward asked for testimony that would point up the cause of the fish losses, the origin of the pesticides found in the Mississippi, and the importance of the chemicals to the production of crops.

KOREA WAR REPORTER —Jim Lucas, Scripps-Howard correspondent who won a Pulitzer prize during the Korean War, interviewed Gen. MacArthur in 1954. The interview was made public following MacArthur's death.

Writer's Prediction: Nixon, Lodge, Scranton

NEW YORK (AP) —Columnist Walter Lippmann says the Republican party probably will nominate Richard M. Nixon or Henry Cabot Lodge for president but may turn to Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Lippmann, noted political commentator, said last night on a television interview that Scranton is "the man I think has the greatest promise as a public man in the coming years."

Through April of this year auto dealers sold 2,424,000 American-built cars, compared with 2,180,000 cars being sold during the same months of 1962.

State's Industrial Areas Affected

GOP Blocks Tax Loss Reimbursement

LANSING (AP) — Senate Republicans are trying to fight off efforts to have the state reimburse local governments for income they may lose under a proposed tax break for heavy industry.

The bill would exempt tools, dies, jigs and fixtures from local property taxes, which are a mainstay of county, municipal and school district treasuries.

Senators from heavily industrialized cities which would be hardest hit by the exemption tried to vote the reimbursement feature into the bill Wednesday. They were rebuffed by a Republican bloc.

Sen. William Ford, D-Taylor, immediately cut in half the demands for reimbursement, but further action on the bill was postponed before he could offer his new amendment.

Through its lobbyists, Chrysler Corp. has told Gov. George W. Romney it will expand in Ohio instead of Michigan unless the exemption on tools of production goes through.

Full reimbursement was voted into the bill by the House of Representatives, but later scratched by the Senate Taxation Committee.

Unable to reinstate the rebate, the Democratic leadership tried to send the bill to the appropriations committee.

Sens. William Leppien, R-Saginaw, Kent Lundgren, R-Menominee, and Robert Vanderlaan, R-Grand Rapids, voted with the 11 Democrats. But 17 Republicans defeated the move.

★ ★ ★

"You're cutting the heart right out of the local tax structures of just a few communities," pleaded Ford. He estimated the exemption would cost governments and schools within Wayne County about $4.5 million a year.

A reimbursement from the state general fund would spread the burden of attracting industry, he said.

"Let's all be equally generous in this glorious cause of the Chrysler Corp.," said Ford.

"It's getting to look as though we're not getting elected to the State Senate — we're getting elected to the Chrysler board of directors," Ford said on the Senate Floor.

Traffic Ticket to Assault

DETROIT (UPI)—It started out as a minor traffic violation, but wound up yesterday as a felonious assault charge with Henry Grieer, 38, Detroit, in jail.

Two policemen stopped Grieer early yesterday morning because one of the headlights on his car was out.

When he could not produce his driver's license, he ran through the rear door of a house. The policemen split up, and circled around the house.

Patrolman Charles Chambers was waiting when Grieer came out the front door.

★ ★ ★

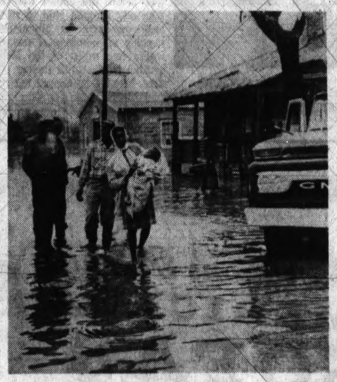

A scuffle followed, during which Chambers' gun dropped to the ground. Grieer picked it up and threatened to shoot the officer unless he was released. The other officer, Roy Carter, came up behind Grieer and disarmed him.

Today, Grieer is sitting in jail in default of $500 double surety bond after he waived examination on the felonious assault. He was bound over for trial. No date was set.

A Belgian expedition commanded by Andrien de Gerlache took the first vessel to spend the winter in Antarctic ice. The year was 1897.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more, starting with the Charlotte "600" in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program that cars have ever faced . . . full-scale open competition. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record!

• A dramatic maiden effort at Indianapolis, when two Ford-powered Lotuses came within seconds of taking the 500-mile classic.

• A team of specially equipped Falcons won 2 classes and took 2nd place overall in the 1964 Monte Carlo Rallye.

• The 1964 "Car of the Year" Award from Motor Trend magazine, presented for the concept of total performance and the open competition that proved it.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thriftier in the long run. They're built for total performance.

Why Ford Competes in So Many Kinds of Racing

Ford is committed to racing for one simple reason: every time it goes to the races—win or lose—you always win. Ford engineers always learn something that helps them build a better car. That's why Ford is willing to lay its reputation on the line in almost any kind of open competition anywhere in the world. Ford's not after trophies, it's after knowledge—and it gets it!

All manufacturers have elaborate proving grounds and test facilities. But no proving ground can come within a country mile of the intense pressures and the immediate deadlines of racing. That's understandable; the will-to-win can't be built in as a proving ground factor and any failures are obviously hidden from the public view.

Ford didn't enter the world of open competition on a whim or for amusement. The history of the automobile shows that open competition is the most severe of all testing procedures; it really does "improve the breed." It tests—but it also spurs ideas and brings them to the open market sooner. Better still, it creates a cadre of adventurous and forward thinking engineers and nurtures them with a climate of challenge and change.

Particularly important, Ford didn't enter open competition on any narrow front or for any limited time. Ford wanted all the lessons it could get—and wanted to keep at it long enough for the findings to be passed down, in whole or in part, to the kind of cars you drive. That's why Ford is in stock car racing and the far-out sphere of the Indianapolis "500" . . . in the world's great rallies such as the Monte Carlo and the Shell Trans-Canada . . . in the intense competition of quarter-mile drag racing . . . in hill-climbs like Pikes Peak . . . in sports car road racing (and stock car road racing) . . . in endurance runs and economy trials. And why Ford is about to enter the super competition of Grand Touring racing with our 200-mile-per-hour Ford GT.

No auto manufacturer in history has ever been in so many categories of competition. And Ford believes that no line of cars has ever benefited so much, so quickly—and that means the owners of Falcons, Fairlanes, Fords and Thunderbirds are the ones who really benefit.

New 200-mph "GT" is Ford's next competition entry

Within a few weeks Ford will enter the fantastic world of Grand Touring competition. Ford will start with a 200-mile-per-hour projectile, a sleek, tiny coupe called the Ford GT. This vehicle will explore ducted ventilation, forced-air cooling of seats, integral seat-and-body construction, high-performance automatic transmission, streamlining, low-rate independent springing —and fabulous standards of roadability and control. Ford believes that this remarkable new car will eventually come up with many solutions to make travel safer, smoother and more economical.

The unexpected . . .

Old MacArthur Interviews Show Bitterness Over Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two 10-year-old interviews with Douglas MacArthur published as the general lay in state have revived memories of the bitter Korean War dispute which ended his military career.

★ ★ ★

The two interviews were given in January 1954 to Bob Considine of Hearst Headline Services and to James G. Lucas of Scripps - Howard newspapers, and were withheld until MacArthur's death. They were published in copyrighted stories Wednesday.

In a memo on the interview, Lucas quoted the famed old warrior as blaming British "perfidity" and Washington "harassment and interference" for failure to crush the Communists in Korea.

CONSPIRACY VICTIM

According to the Lucas story, MacArthur became convinced he was the victim of a conspiracy in which the State Department was showing his communications with Washington to the British, who in turn relayed these to the Chinese Reds.

A British Embassy spokesman denied the charge, saying: "British Commonwealth troops were serving in Korea at the time and it is unthinkable that the British government would endanger the lives of their own troops by passing information to the Communist Chinese as alleged."

A State Department spokesman declined comment "on this purported statement" by MacArthur "at any time and particularly at this time."

Considine said MacArthur told him "he proposed to win a decisive victory in Korea by the employment of 500,000 Nationalist Chinese, an atomic attack on the enemy's air and supply bases in Manchuria, and the spreading of a huge belt of radioactive cobalt across the northern frontier of that battle scarred land."

CAMPAIGN PLANS

Considine quoted MacArthur as saying:

"Of all the campaigns of my life, the one I felt more sure of, was the one I was deprived of waging. I could have won the war in Korea, in a maximum of 10 days, with considerably fewer casualties than were suffered in the so-called truce period.

"The enemy's air power would first have been taken out. I would have dropped between 30 to 50 atomic bombs on his air bases and other depots strung across the neck of Manchuria."

The Hearst writer also quoted MacArthur as saying he almost convinced President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower on Dec. 17, 1952, to adopt an undisclosed plan by MacArthur to end the cold war but was frustrated by the late John Foster Dulles who was to become Eisenhower's secretary of state.

TRUMAN TRIBUTE

Although it was former President Harry S. Truman who ended his military career in a dispute over the Korean War, the Scripps-Howard story said MacArthur paid grudging respect to Truman as "a man of raw courage and guts."

A spokesman for Truman said Wednesday the former president would make no rebuttal and was sticking to his praise of MacArthur, upon his death, as "one of the great military men in our history."

★ ★ ★

Truman relieved MacArthur of his Korea command on April 9, 1951, in an order which climaxed a series of rows between the general and Washington headquarters. After Peking sent in troops, MacArthur proposed expanding the military effort to Red China's "coastal areas and interior bases." Truman and U.N. allies favored limiting the campaign in Korea.

★ ★ ★

MacArthur gave his version at lengthy, censored Senate hearings upon his return. Among other things, he testified then that the British were "cutting their own throats" by giving "such complete support to Red China."

PREVENTED WINNING

The Lucas story quoted MacArthur as saying "those fools in Washington" prevented his winning the Korean War with his plan for bringing in Nationalist Chinese troops and sowing a 5-mile-wide belt of radioactive cobalt along the Yalu River after defeating the Red Chinese to permanently seal China off from Korea.

MacArthur reportedly said the United States had cobalt "in abundance" as a by-product — presumably from atomic weapons manufacture — and the radioactive belt would make it suicidal for an army to try to cross it.

The story said MacArthur was told of British "betrayal" by a field commander, Lt. Gen. Walton Walker, but "said he became convinced he was the victim of a conspiracy" only after he had ordered Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer to bomb the Yalu River bridges after the Chinese intervened.

Just as the bombers were about to take off four hours later, MacArthur was quoted as saying, his order was "peremptorily" countermanded by Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of defense.

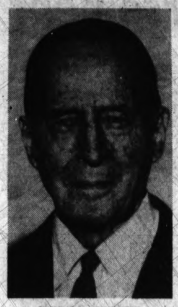

GOT MESSAGE

Truman has written in his memoirs that quickly upon receiving a message from Stratemeyer that MacArthur had ordered bombing of a Yalu bridge connecting Korea with Manchuria, the President conferred with Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Acheson in turn had checked with various State and Defense Department officials, including Dean Rusk, then assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. (Acheson declined comment on the Lucas story.)

★ ★ ★

Truman said Rusk, now secretary of state, had "pointed out that we had a commitment with the British not to take action which might involve attacks on the Manchurian side of the river without consultation with them."

So only an hour and 20 minutes before the planes were to take off, Truman said, a message was sent to MacArthur banning all bombing of targets within five miles of the Manchurian border until further orders. MacArthur obeyed but replied the limitations would have "disastrous effect."

GEN. MacARTHUR

The Lucas story quoted MacArthur as expressing these opinions about various individuals:

President Eisenhower — "He (MacArthur) was extremely bitter toward Gen. Eisenhower whom he referred to several times as 'once a man of integrity.'" (A spokesman for Eisenhower said the former president would have no comment.)

Walker, killed in Korea in 1950 — "Of all his field commanders, Gen. MacArthur rated Lt. Gen. Walton Walker highest" and complained that Walker was consistently vilified by the "left-wing press" and the State Department. Washington rejected three MacArthur requests for Walker's promotion.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as Far East commander — MacArthur rated Ridgway at the bottom of his list of field commanders and referred to him as a "chameleon." He said Ridgway favored MacArthur's plans for winning the war but did a "complete flip-flop in 24 hours" upon learning of Washington's disapproval. (Ridgway declined comment.)

Gen. Mark Clark, who succeeded Ridgway — MacArthur said Clark "initiated his own retirement" because "he couldn't take it any more." (Clark said he did initiate his own retirement but only after he had signed the Korean Armistice and returned to Korea at Eisenhower's request. He said there had been "many, many frustrations" during the war.)

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, now chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff — MacArthur foresaw a great future for Taylor even while he was a cadet at West Point but said "he will never make a move without contacting higher echelons. When such a man is finally cornered and forced to make his own decision — as such men inevitably are — they sometimes come up with some weird ones." (No comment from Taylor.)

Marshall, now dead — MacArthur said the then secretary of defense was "acting as the errand boy of the State Department" in vetoing MacArthur's plans to bomb Yalu River power plants.

Even in Prison, Italians Remain Music Lovers

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The convicts sat in rapt silence. After each piece of music there was eager applause. For even in jail the Italian is a music lover.

★ ★ ★

The "Famiglia Artistica Catalani," and Italian musical society, took this into consideration when it worked out its new series of concerts this year.

★ ★ ★

The first of them—with solos by some of Italy's best known singers and classic music of Schubert, Verdi, Bizet, Gounod and Puccini by an orchestra—was given in Milan's San Vittore for the prisoners.

★ ★ ★

SEATO Military Chiefs Open Talks on Red Threat

MANILA (AP)—Military advisers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization opened top secret talks today on the growing Communist menace to this war-torn area of the Far East.

Officers from the eight nations of the alliance—the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines—met in the Philippine foreign ministry in preparation for the 10th anniversary meeting Monday of the SEATO council of ministers.

Among subjects to be reviewed by the military delegations were the war in South Viet Nam, maintaining the neutrality of Laos and Cambodia, the Malaysia crisis and Communist infiltration and subversion in Thailand.

Sources said the advisers also took note of Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman's statement that he considers the cease-fire with Indonesia along the border between the two countries in Borneo to be at an end.

Indonesia's opposition to formation of Southeast Asia's newest independent country could escalate into another protracted border war.

14 Rochester Area Couples Push for Festival Success

ROCHESTER—Fourteen husband and wife teams of prominent local citizens are pooling their efforts to "sell" the upcoming Meadow Brook Music Festival at Oakland University.

* * *

They are members of the Rochester Area Committee who are serving under the cochairmanship of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., 404 W. Third, and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Goble, 5621 Orion.

Each of the husband and wife teams is responsible for one phase of the promotional and ticket sales program for the summer concert series.

They are joined by Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones and Alice Serrell, 1005 Romeo, who are acting as secretary and historian.

Heading the chamber of commerce coordination committee are Mr. and Mrs. William Tousaint, 875 S. Rochester. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, 341 Mead, are in charge of the finance committee.

* * *

Directing the newspaper publicity campaign are Mr. and Mrs. Clair Magoon, 320 W. Third.

Other committee chairman include Mr. and Mrs. Donald O'Dowd, 624 Sorbonne — OU coordination; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dayne, 321 Ironstone—public presentations; and Mr. and Mrs. William Mitzelfeld, 134 Tartan — retail promotion and display.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Schools Supt. Dr. and Mrs. William Early, 5630 Thorny Ash, head the Rochester School District coordination committee. In charge of special events are Cochairmen Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jerome, 229 Wimberly, and Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Kresge, 1500 Walton.

Subscriptions chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Watson Jr., 1213 N. Main, and village and township coordinating directors, Mr. and Mrs. John Boeberitz, 347 Northwood.

The teams have already begun their work after a briefing on details by Festival Manager James Hicks.

* * *

Twelve concerts will be presented in this year's series from July 23 through Aug. 15 by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Construction of the Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion which will be the setting for the concerts, is slated for completion by the Festival's opening date.

Engineers Tell Avon Twp. Water Shortage Solution

AVON TOWNSHIP—The township's engineering consultants have arrived at a sure cure for water problems confronting residents along the township's eastern border.

Phillip Hampton, of Johnson & Anderson Inc., last night recommended to the township board that the distraught home owners should get rid of their wells —as soon as possible.

Hampton discussed a 38-page report compiled by the Waterford Township engineering firm at the request of the board. The board had responded to a delegation of people in attendance at its March 11 meeting, many of whom reported their wells had run dry.

The area suffering greatest from the water loss is bounded by John R, Dequindre, School and Avon roads.

* * *

Hampton explained the main reason for the lack of the precious liquid is because precipitation in the area has been down 20 per cent in the last five years.

OTHER FACTORS

Other factors are the recent draining of a swamp where the Southeast Oakland County Incinerator Authority now exists, construction of an underdrain in the area, and draining of Faulkender's gravel pit on School into the Honeywell runoff.

All these have caused water to run out of the area instead of recharging the underground water table, Hampton explained.

Although he recommended some temporary remedies, the engineer said the best correction method is to establish a special assessment district and tie it into the Avon Water system.

The board agreed to have the firm study the idea in depth and present proposed boundaries of the assessment district at the board's April 22 session.

The engineers are also scheduled to have estimated cost figures on hand at the meeting.

Officers Installed for Scouts

Albert Graebner, 7175 Richardson, West Bloomfield Township, recently was installed chairman of the Ottawa Boy Scout District.

Serving as vice chairmen are Reo Brink of 850 W. Buno, Milford Township, and William Dunn of 32081 Bonnet Hill, Farmington Township.

George DeCourcy of 32770 Briarcrest, Farmington Township, and Otis Walton of 6251 Willow, Orchard Lake, are district representatives to the Clinton Valley Council executive board.

Among those elected as district members-at-large are Lionel Eastty of Union Lake, Gordon Alton of Orchard Lake, Guy Boatman of Novi, Earl Gruber of Orchard Lake, Albert Lorenger of Farmington, William Heil of Milford, Ken VanConant of Pontiac and Alfred Masini of Milford.

Others are Clare Reading of Milford, Everett Sherrick of Orchard Lake, Charles Shull of Birmingham, Robert Skellenger of Walled Lake, Hartley Thornton of Farmington, John Watzke of Farmington and Herbert Zachow of Milford.

Fatality in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Chester Melek, 21, of Detroit was killed last night when the car in which he was riding skidded into the path of an oncoming car in Southfield.

PTA to Hear Social Worker

LAKE ORION — Featured speaker at Monday's 8 p. m. meeting of the Blanche Sims PTA will be Clarence Cole, psychiatric social worker from Oakland County Juvenile Court.

Cole will talk on the topic, "Elementary School Child Today — Delinquent Tomorrow?"

* * *

He will explain the problems elementary age children have that could lead to delinquency, and what signs teachers and parents can look for.

Request OK for 3 Issues Saturday

SOUTH LYON—A high school building program, the construction of several additions to existing schools and increased operational millage — all await voter approval here Saturday.

For the third time in a year, sufficient support is being sought for a second high school in the district. Taxpayers turned down similar proposals in January and last June.

The $1.6-million facility now on the ballot would be basically like the one considered last June.

It would house 800 students where January's proposed $1.3-million issue would have accounted for 650.

* * *

BOARD BREAKDOWN

Favoring it are Harry Colestock, J. W. Erwin, William Markham and Donald Riddering. Opponents are Mrs. Rita Chenoweth. Alfred Ueker and President Wilford Heidt.

Shortly after failure of the high school issue in January, a group of citizens came up with their own building program. The signatures of 266 persons required the board to place on the ballot a $600,000 bond issue.

The funds would be used for construction of additions to buildings in the district.

Also facing voters will be the question of a millage increase for operations.

REPLACE LEVY

The board is asking that the present 7-mill levy due to expire this year be replaced by one for 8.5 mills. The new levy would continue for five years.

* * *

Levy for the proposed high school has been estimated at $4 per $1,000 of state equalized property valuation.

Rochester Pupils to Get Swim Class

ROCHESTER — Sixth graders of the Rochester School District will soon be swimming their way through physical education classes.

Following the recommendation of Schools Supt. Dr. William Early, the school board agreed to provide transportation, once a week, for each of the 15 sections of sixth grade boys and girls.

The students will be taken to the pool at Oakland University for their swimming instruction. Lifeguards and teachers will be on hand to prevent any accidents.

By Lake Orion Board

Record School Budget Adopted

LAKE ORION —The Lake Orion School Board has adopted a tentative record budget of $1,438,906 — and done so with plans to levy only one of four additional mills okayed by voters in July.

Schools Supt. A. A. Reed said today the board included all costs necessary for efficient operation in the proposed 1964-65 expenditure total.

A teachers' pay hike is a major factor necessitating the increased budget, which is up $224,282 from this year's.

Reed today explained that only one mill will be added to this year's levy because of the increased valuation of the school district.

* * *

This will bring next year's total charge to 25.50 mills per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

INSTRUCTOR COSTS

Instructional costs account for 77.8 per cent of the budget next year, a boost of 1.5 per cent.

The new teacher salary schedule calls for an across-the board hike of $300. Those with a four-year degree will begin at $5,100 and progress to a maximum of $7,300 after 10 years.

Master's degree holders will start in the system at $5,300 and climb to $7,750 on the 10-increment scale.

* * *

Factors causing the budget hike, besides the pay raise, include the necessary addition to the staff of 10 teachers and 11 teacher aids.

These instructors will be brought in to assist handling of the anticipated enrollment jump of some 200 students.

Others expected to be added to the staff include two custodians, a junior high assistant principal and a girls' counselor at the high school.

The budget also covers the purchase of four buses, three for replacement.

In the new construction category, a mechanics garage and replacement of the Blanche Sims roof accounts for $24,000 of the new budget.

Although only one of the okayed four mills will be levied during the 1964-65 academic year, Reed said he expected all four would have to be charged the following year.

He explained that the new junior high school is expected to be opened on schedule, in the fall of 1965, and will require the extra millage to staff.

Voters okayed the millage by a slim 31-vote margin. They also voted in a $2 million school expansion package which is being used to finance construction in progress at most of the district's schools.

Three From Avondale Attend School Confab

Three Avondale School District officials are attending the 4-day annual meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Chicago that ends today.

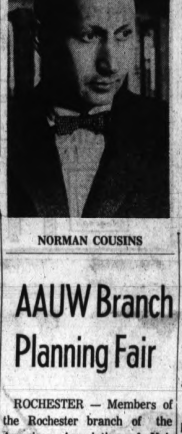

They are Charles L. Johnson, assistant superintendent of instruction; Lawrence Scharer, principal of Avondale Junior High School; and Rosco V. Crowell, high school principal.

Political Analyst Will Speak at OU

Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, will speak April 21 at Oakland University.

* * *

The appearance of the internationally known lecturer and political analyst is being cosponsored by the Rochester Area and Oakland County chapters of the American Association for the United Nations.

NORMAN COUSINS

Cousins' talk will be particularly timely, area AAUN officials say, because he has just returned from an extensive tour of the Far East.

He will present a "World Report" at a public meeting in the Gold Room of OU's Student Center. It will start at 8 p.m.

Also a renowned author and recipient of many honors, Cousins has visited and lectured in the Soviet Union under the Soviet Cultural Exchange Program.

As an interpreter and analyst of history in the making, he has made many trips abroad since the end of World War II. He has represented not only the Saturday Review but the major broadcasting companies as well.

A question and answer period will follow Cousins' talk.

AAUW Branch Planning Fair

ROCHESTER — Members of the Rochester branch of the American Association of University Women are completing plans for the 2nd Annual AAUW Art Fair set for May 3.

* * *

The fair, which will be held in the Avon Park Pavilion, will feature all forms of art media by area artists and craftsmen.

Those interested in displaying and selling their works at the fair should make reservations by contacting either of the cochairmen, Mrs. William Bunto, 5965 Orion, or Mrs. Wendell Wilson, 281 Orchardale.

In addition to exhibitions, there will be weaving demonstrations, pottery making, portrait painting, silhouettes and other crafts.

* * *

The fair will be open to the public from noon to 6 p.m.

School Is Due Accreditation

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Three-year-old North Farmington High School has come of age.

* * *

The school at 32900 13 Mile has been recommended for accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

* * *

Rochester Lions Set Next Travelogue Film

ROCHESTER — The next travelogue in the current series sponsored by the Rochester Lions Club will be "Wings to Wonderland — Our National Parks" Saturday at St. John Lutheran Church.

James Metcalf, photographer, adventurer, pilot and chemist, will show the all-color film at 7:30 p.m.

Teachers Vote for '1 Group'

Bargaining Method Decided in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's 10,000 public school teachers voted Wednesday in favor of one group as their spokesman before the Board of Education.

* * *

The vote came in an unprecedented teachers' election of its type. Eighty per cent of the voters chose the one group proposal on a ballot giving three choices.

Currently, the Detroit Federation of Teachers (DFT) and its rival, the Detroit Education Association (DEA), deal separately with the school board.

MEETS FRIDAY

The Board of Education meets Friday to act on the balloting results.

Prior to the election the Board said it would regard the results as advisory.

* * *

The "one spokesman" proposal received 7,510 votes from the 9,332 teachers who took part in the election, a nearly 100 per cent turnout.

The other two proposals called for a continuance of present practice—609 votes—or adoption of a teachers representation committee chosen from the DFT and DEA—1,245 votes.

STRIKE THREAT

The DFT, an AFL-CIO affiliated union claiming 6,000 teachers as members, has threatened to strike unless the Board grants a collective bargaining election.

The DEA, an affiliate of the National Education Association, is the DFT's rival for teacher support. The DEA has opposed the strike proposal.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Ellen Riordan, federation president, was "very pleased" with the election results.

"The results are conclusive," Mrs. Riordan said. "The next move is up to the board."

The DFT's executive board met after learning the election results and ordered a previously-set April 15 strike date held "in abeyance in order to give the board of education an opportunity to act."

There was no immediate comment from DEA officials.

Avon Garden Unit to Hold Meeting

AVON TOWNSHIP — Drawings and illustrations of landscape architecture will be featured at Monday's 1 p.m. meeting of the Stiles Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

* * *

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Robert W. Bills, landscape architect. The meeting will be at the home of new club Treasurer Mrs. Charles Dodson, 3750 Rochester, Troy.

Other officers recently elected for the 1964-65 year are President Mrs. Frank Brim, 6809 Adams, Birmingham; Vice President Mrs. Herman Trost, 5352 Rochester, Troy; and Secretary Mrs. Ferdinand Kersting, 1081 Auburn.

Rochester Class Sets Reunion at 300 Lounge

ROCHESTER— A fifth-year reunion is being planned for June 20 by Rochester High School Class of 1959.

* * *

The reunion will be staged in the banquet room of the 300 Lounge, 100 Cass Lake, Waterford Township.

Refreshments will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. with dinner to follow at 8.

* * *

All members of the class as well as other students who were in the ninth grade or above from 1955 to 1959 are invited to join in the planning, according to Tom Powell, 911½ N. Main.

Urges Mental Plan in Health Dept.

By DICK HANSON

Should Oakland County's proposed mental health program become a responsibility of the County Health Department?

The department's acting director, Dr. Bernard Berman thinks so, based on the premise that "mental health is an integral part of total human health."

He has conveyed his thoughts to the county's new mental health board in a nine-page report, supported by a budget proposal for $160,000 less than the board has recommended spending next year.

Berman concedes that the board should remain responsible for policy and development of a mental health program.

But, he said "the responsibility of program operation and implementation should be placed in a division of mental health created within the County Health Department."

He further stated that in his opinion the county's health director should become the administrator for the board.

The board currently is interviewing for a program director, or administrator, at a proposed annual salary of $12,000 to $15,000.

ALREADY STARTED

"The health department is already engaged in several of the program areas desirable in a sound community mental health program," Berman said.

He proposed making mental health assistance available through his department's two health centers. One of these is at the County Service Center, the other in Royal Oak.

The mental health board has recommended the establishment of out-patient clinics in various communities to serve as the nucleus of its program.

* * *

"The first priority," in Berman's opinion, "should be to develop and implement a community health information center with specific emphasis on the role of mental health agencies in the community and to provide some coordination for the referral and channeling of services.

"Through resources already developed, in-service education programs should be promoted for all community agencies dealing with mental health problems, so that each has a greater understanding and awareness of what can be done for mental illness," he added.

"The program, he said "should undertake the stimulation of community education working with the local mental health society through the use of newspapers, radio and other mass media and the setting up of a speaker's bureau to carry the mental health message to groups throughout the community.

"The current Alcoholism Information program of the health department centered in Pontiac should be included as an integral part of the mental health information center.

NURSING STAFF

"Efforts should be taken to increase the public health nursing staff so that expansion of follow-up and after-care services can be undertaken in Oakland County.

"Consideration should be given to the hiring of a consultant psychiatrist on a part-time basis . . .

"Contractural arrangements should be entered with existing clinics, that is child guidance clinics, other outpatient clinics and practitioners, for outpatient treatment.

* * *

"Consideration should be given to the subsidy of patients needing short-term hospitalization in the general hospital, as well as the promotion of an increasing number of psychiatric hospital beds in the general hospital and the promotion of increased outpatient services associated with the hospital."

MOST REALISTIC

Berman called his proposal the most realistic to date. He said it presents the most economical way for the board to achieve its goal of improved mental health in the county through early treatment at the community level.

According to Berman, the county can be suitably launched into a mental health program for an initial $94,000.

The mental health board recommended a $254,190 appropriation in next year's budget for its program.

* * *

The figure was trimmed to $196,000 by the County Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee, after the board of auditors recommended only $40,000.

Looking for Way to Save Doctors' Faces

Belgian Government Confident of Strike Outcome

BRUSSELS (AP) —Belgium's 12,000 striking doctors and dentists found themselves increasingly isolated today with the government claiming the walkout will fail regardless of how long it asts.

★ ★ ★

Some strikers, particularly general practitioners in rural Flemish areas, resumed house calls and seeing patients in their offices.

★ ★ ★

Strike leaders in Brussels declared, however, that the doctors would fight on to prevent implementation of changes in the socialized medical law which would set a scale of fees for treatment of persons covered by the state health insurance system and open doctors' treatment records on such patients to government inspection.

Each side waited for the other to make the first move to reopen negotiations.

CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

Premier Theo Lefevre's Catholic-Socialist coalition government was so confident of eventual victory that it began looking for some way to save the faces of the doctors and not leave them permanently embittered.

Government sources said the Cabinet was bound to stand fast because it would risk a general strike if it surrendered to the doctors.

One government spokesman said:

"The government waits now for the doctors to come around to a more realistic view of the situation. The era of social paternalism is over.

FINE CITIZENS

"Doctors by and large are fine citizens, but they want to decide themselves who has a right to free or inexpensive medical care.

"We do not agree. Everyone in this day and age is entitled to medical care as a right and not as a charity."

★ ★ ★

Some striking physicians have taken up temporary residence in France, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

A few have threatened to stay away if the controversial act is not watered down or scrapped.

The strike is in its ninth day.

'Identity of Views'

Hungary Backs K in Red Rift

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UPI) —Hungary today gave Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev unconditional support in his bitter ideological fight with Communist China.

A statement issued on the eve of Khrushchev's departure from Hungary said there was "complete identity of views" between him and Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar on topics including "consolidation of the unity of the Socialist world system and the Communist world movement."

Diplomats awaited a major speech by Khrushchev this afternoon to see how far Moscow is willing to carry the dispute with Peking. His address to a giant Hungarian-Soviet friendship rally was expected to show whether personal attacks on Chinese Communist chief Mao Tse-tung would continue or whether another attempt might be made to bring the Chinese to the conference table.

Although the bitterness of the attacks from both sides appeared to rule out any chance of success at this time, unconfirmed reports here said Romania, which tried and failed to heal the rift with a mission to Peking last month, may be planning another try.

The Soviet theoretical journal Kommunist this week repeated the call for a summit among the world's Communist parties, and warned Peking that the feud was only helping the West.

But other Soviet pronouncements, by Khrushchev here or by the press in Moscow, have made chances of talks seem slight.

Since Khrushchev left Moscow for his visit to Hungary, Peking has accused him of selling out to capitalism and has demanded that the Sovet Communist Party oust him.

Khrushchev and his press have replied that Mao has set himself up as a Stalin-like "idol," that "only an idiot" could advocate violent revolution and war as Mao does, and that the Chinese are engaged in racism abroad and lawbreaking with the Russians.

The latest charge was made yesterday by the Soviet news agency Tass. It accused the Chinese of "gross and provocative" border violations along the 5,000-mile frontier the two Communist nations share.

"This is impermissible from the point of view of contemporary international law," Tass said.

★ ★ ★

Hungarian support of Khrushchev had been expected. But experts here said some other Soviet bloc nations may be reluctant to follow Moscow into a venture that could mean a formal and perhaps permanent split of the world Communist movement.

Film on Christianity

New Fight for Fair Head

NEW YORK (UPI)—Robert Moses' opponent this week is the Protestant Council of the City of New York.

Fresh from a victory over a supermarket chain and one of its advertising signs, Moses has challenged the propriety of a council film about Christianity, to be shown at the New York World's Fair.

The council said it had received a letter from Moses, president of the fair, which said: "The staff of the fair have grave misgivings about the propriety, good taste and validity of the film presenting Jesus as a clown."

The Rev. Dan M. Potter, executive director of the council, said the film would be shown, and added: "We do not feel that it is within his (Moses') province to prejudge our film as being the proper method of proclaiming the gospel, especially since he himself has not seen it."

Moses recently won the right to erect a fence to block the supermarket's sign from the view of visitors to the fair.

Present Was Right, but Day Was Wrong

MEMPHIS (UPI) — Paul Savage, opening his car trunk, noted a dusty package inside.

It was the beautiful brass wastebasket he had bought to give his wife for Christmas and then forgotten it. He took it home and, sheepishly, handed it to his wife. She almost burst into tears of joy. . .

Rites Off: Send Back the Presents

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Six months ago my daughter was engaged. We gave a large engagement party for her and she received many presents.

Two weeks ago, the engagement was broken. I have been told that my daughter should return the presents.

I can see where this may be true when no engagement party was given, but when there was a party and the guests wined and dined at a great expense to the family, I think she should be allowed to keep these presents "in payment" so to speak, for an evening's entertainment.

Will you please give me your opinion on this?

★ ★ ★

A: To keep the presents in payment for an evening's entertainment would be shocking.

Correctly, when an engagement is broken, the presents are returned regardless of whether or not a party was given.

Q: When invited to a friend's house for a meal and after having helped yourself to a portion of it, you find it poorly cooked, greasy or overly spiced, would be be considered rude to leave most of it uneaten on your plate?

★ ★ ★

A: You do not have to finish the food you have taken if it is really uneatable and you are afraid it will make you ill.

If your hostess speaks about how little you have eaten, make some excuse about indigestion or lack of appetite.

The clothes of the bride's and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

George Wasserberger New Boss of the Year

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Tipacon chapter, American Business Women's Association chose a "Shangri-La" theme for the 11th annual "Boss Night" Wednesday in Edgewood Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Lillian Laska, charter president, reviewed the aims, purposes and benefits of the ABWA which has 475 chapters and 26,000 members.

★ ★ ★

Howard Heldenbrand, Pontiac Press columnist, served as master of ceremonies as Mrs. Howard C. Hess offered a toast to the bosses.

★ ★ ★

A message from Dr. Edith Roach Snyder, 1963 honorary boss, presently in Miami, was read.

Brigadier Robert McMahon, director of the Salvation Army Eventide Home in Detroit chose the sombre title "This Changing World" for a humorous talk.

BOSS OF YEAR

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Elbert Hubbard trophy to George A. Wasserberger, president of the General Printing and Office Supply, by Mrs. Ossie Gates, 1963 woman-of-the-year, Tipacon chapter.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charles Irish presented a trophy to William B. Hanby for a perfect attendance record at Boss Night banquets.

★ ★ ★

Assisting "Boss Night" chairman, Mrs. Carroll Welch, were Mrs. H. C. Brooks, Arlene Newcombe, Mrs. Gates and Miss O'Brien.

★ ★ ★

Others are Mrs. Edward Furse, Mrs. Ervin C. Richards, Mrs. Richard Veazey, Mrs. Hess, and Mrs. George Wilmot.

Maxine Davison of Atkinson Street, president, Tipacon chapter, ABWA, samples the hors d'oeuvres with her boss, Ray A. Probst Jr. of Troy.

Deadbeat's Brother-in-Law Not Responsible for Debt

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In 1959 my husband lent a man $500. He was so sure that he was good for it that he didn't ask him to sign a note or anything.

ABBY

This man has made no effort to pay back one cent of it. Now deadbeat's sister is married to one of the richest and most prominent men in the state! Everybody knows him.

He has given away millions, yet his own brother-in-law has owed a man $500 for four years. I told my husband to get in touch with this rich brother-in-law and ask him for the money.

★ ★ ★

It would be like five cents to him, but it is a lot of money to us. My husband refuses to do it.

I am tempted to contact him myself. Would that be wrong?

C'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes. No man, rich or poor, is responsible for his brother-in-law's debts.

In cases such as this, it is probable that he has already given his brother-in-law all the help he intends to, and has washed his hands of him (which is his privilege).

Stay out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband started accusing me of things I never thought of doing.

My hand on a Bible, Abby, I never looked at another man in the 34 years we have been married.

★ ★ ★

He kept at me and kept at me until I finally "confessed" just so he would leave me alone.

Now he is worse than ever. I have tried to tell him that I am not guilty, and I only said I was so I could get some peace and quiet, but he doesn't believe me.

★ ★ ★

Life is not worth living any more. If it weren't for our children and grandchildren I would know what to do.

Can you help me?

MISERABLE

★ ★ ★

DEAR MISERABLE: Try to get your husband to your family physician for a "check-up."

If he refuses to go, call your physician and tell him your problem.

Excessive suspicion, without cause, is a common symptom of mental illness.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HENRY: Indecision has killed more cats than curiosity.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Jazz Session Set for Teachers

A day-long institute on jazz improvisation for piano teachers will be held at Oakland University April 21.

Bert Konowitz of Columbia University, New York, will preside over the third annual piano teachers' institute.

Konowitz will give a lecture-demonstration during the morning session. Over 100 teachers attended the OU institute last year.

Joseph Hamline Wins Award for Textile

A new Bloomfield Hills artist, Joseph Hamline, is one of the top winners in the 18th national decorative art and ceramics exhibition which opened Sunday in Wichita, Kans.

Hamline won first prize in the woven-textile category.

The exhibition, known as "The Wichita" this year drew 2,100 entries from craftsmen and artists in 47 states.

Categories included ceramics, textiles, jewelry and metal work, sculpture, glass, mosaics, goldsmithing, enameling and silversmithing.

The show will continue through May 5 at the Wichita Art Association galleries.

Square Set Will Dine, Dance

Reservations are now being taken for the annual dinner dance of the Square Set square dance club. "Spring Frolic" will be held April 25 at the Roosevelt Lodge.

★ ★ ★

The affair concludes the dance season for the year and all intermediate level dancers are invited.

★ ★ ★

A family style turkey dinner will be served at 6:45 p. m. with dancing to follow.

★ ★ ★

Tickets may be obtained from club members or by calling club president, Don Harris of Rochester. Reservations for the dinner must be made in advance.

Williams Play Next for Group

Performances have been scheduled for the next two Fridays and Saturdays for the St. Dunstan's Guild production of "Summer and Smoke" by Tennessee Williams.

Mrs. John Warner has designed the opening set. A new cyclorama is being constructed to permit special skylighting effects which are important to the plot.

Tickets are available at Grinnell's in Birmingham or by contacting St. Dunstan's Guild on Lone Pine Road.

To Meet Saturday

Pontiac Vasa Lodge 510 will meet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Voorheis Road for business and dancing.

With Julie O'Brien of Lotus Court, committee member of Tipacon chapter, ABWA are guest bosses Mark H. Frank of Birmingham (at left) and Malcolm R. McKellar of North Pemberton Road.

Cathedral Scholarship Benefit Set

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mrs. George Cary of Timberlake Road is entertaining at lunch today committee members for the benefit project "A Man for All Seasons" which takes place at the Fisher Theatre Tuesday evening April 21.

This benefit is for scholarships to attend the newly established College for Church Musicians at the Washington Cathedral, Washington, D. C.

Ticket cochairman Mesdames Howard Barker and Herman Scarney happily report that among those attending the performance are: Mr. and Mrs. Denton Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Paterson, Mr. and Mrs. Graham J. Graham, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Gatley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeLong, the Semon Knudsens, the Theodore Yntemas and the James Foxes.

Others are the Max Fruhaufs, the Milton Manleys, the Frank Chapmans, the Ari Be-Goles, the L. H. Coles, the Hobart Andreaes, the George W. Smiths, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. MacMahon, the Roy Stringers, the Donald Whithers and Dr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer. Concluding her list are Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Ekelund, Mr. and Mrs. William Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Pryale, Mr. and Mrs. William Wiggins, the Phillip Pratts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dumville and Mrs. M. M. Burgess.

Anyone wishing tickets should contact committee members, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Scarney or Mrs. Cary.

Mrs. Archie Crowley, regional chairman is presently traveling with her husband, Bishop Crowley, in Alaska. They will be back in time to attend the benefit.

Mrs. Luther R. Leader, the immediate past chairman, has just returned with Dr. Leader from their home in Miami, Florida and is making plans for a group of friends to join them for the performance.

The Francis C. Gallaudets have a party scheduled for Sunday afternoon. The occasion is the celebration of two birthdays within the family. Out of town guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Nixon of Rochester, New York. They are the parents of Mrs. Edson F. Gallaudet.

Recently the Edson Gallaudets moved to Birmingham from Chicago. Others at the party will be R. R. Anderson of Kalamazoo who on June 6 will be married to Andrea Gallaudet.

JUDITH ANN PARRY

The Keith Parrys of Lewistown, Ill. announce the engagement of their daughter Judith of Scott Lake Road to M. Theodore Wade, son of the Morrison T. Wades of Orchard Lake. She is an alumna of Knox College and graduate student at University of Michigan.

Do Women Dislike Figures?

By MIRIAM NEAL

A penny saved is a penny earned whether for men, women or bank tellers.

In spite of stereotypes to the contrary, all savers are pretty much alike. Women are no more allergic to figures than men. They don't faint at the sight of decimal points or cringe at the thought of deposit slips.

Interviews with employes of local savings institutions reveal that on the whole women are just as business-like and conscientious when in the marble-floored marvels as are men.

There are, however, exceptions.

If anything, women tend to be MORE conscientious. They show more interest in interest rates; their budgets are more detailed; they rely a great deal on the advice of lawyers, and often have several bank accounts.

Dr. Austin S. Murphy, an eminent New York economist is interested in unusual savings patterns of women. He would like to hear how YOU save. Is it in teacups, piggy banks, 12 banks, and old handbag a hollow bedpost, under the mattress or how? Send your answer to M. L. T. Brown, 37th Floor, 150 East 42nd St., New York City, 17.

SOME ARE NOT

There are those, of course, who are not so conscientious. Some of the older women make a trip to the bank a social affair. They bring their knitting, chat with the guards and bring their favorite teller up to date on what's going on with their families.

One teller said that it is not unusual to see this type of woman three times in one day. She added "at the end of the day you feel like you've gathered a lot of information about people."

★ ★ ★

Many women make banking a personal affair. They have their favorite tellers and their own reasons for their preferences.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

Another teller related the story of one woman who came to her once a month each time with a continuation of her personal story. When finally she moved away, her daughter began banking with the same teller to 'keep it in the family'.

Statistics proving that women control most of the money in the United States are backed up by a quick glance at the lines at tellers' windows. Housewives, business women, school teachers and nurses make up more than half of a bank's daily clientele.

The fact that banks continue to function, that tellers don't throw tantrums when they see females coming and the unprejudiced testimony of these institutions' employes indicates that women can handle money just as well as men.

Since I've pretty well pricked that stereotype, pardon me while I go count my money.

'Sociable Sally' thinks a trip to the bank is a real excursion. 'Her' teller is hearing one more story about the customer's grandchildren or backache or geraniums. Sometimes the teller is sure that "money talks."

Savings institutions' employes assert most women pay more attention to the details of a budget than do men. Often, as in this case, it it figured down to the very penny.

The Clarence R. Pippengers of New Canaan, Conn. announce the engagement of their daughter Jeanne Louise to Frank Louis Robar, son of the George Robars of Keego Harbor. Both are attending the University of Bridgeport in Connecticut, but will enroll at Michigan State University as juniors in the fall. A May 9 wedding date is set.

Chapters Meeting on Business

Pontiac area sororities have been holding active programs this week.

DELTA KAPPA GAMMA

Officers were elected for the year at a Wednesday meeting of Xi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma society.

Accepting the gavel for the 1964-65 season was Mrs. John Decou, incoming president.

Assisting her will be Mrs. Kent Webb, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Smith, second vice president; Elizabeth McDonald, recording secretary; Margaret Luther, corresponding secretary, and Virginia Otten, parliamentarian.

★ ★ ★

Committee chairmen presented their reports at the home of Mrs. William Cheal on Cherokee Road.

Dessert was served by Mrs. H. Erwin Gottschalk, Mrs. Orville Gauthier, Violet Crawford and Doris Haynes.

City council reports on final arrangements for the Founders Day celebration April 29 at Edgewood Country Club were discussed at the Wednesday evening meeting of Epsilon Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Plans were also discussed and an early June date set for the chapter's annual mothers and fathers day dinner.

★ ★ ★

Program "Tools for the Art of Life," that evening was presented by Mrs. Elmo C. Jones.

Sharing hostess honors at the Lorberta Lane home of Mrs. Jones were Mrs. Stuart Hill and Mrs. John Ketvirtis.

Calling All Brides

If you've said "yes" to him and haven't told us, do it now.

We want to have your engagement announcement at least two months before the wedding, if you want pictures both times. No engagements are announced within a month of the wedding date.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's name for a married woman) and other pertinent details. Please include a telephone number so that we may check, if necessary.

We prefer to receive bridal pictures and stories before the wedding. The deadline for bridal pictures is two days after the ceremony (that is, no later than Tuesday a.m. for Saturday weddings),

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots will not reproduce well. Color and tinted pictures are not acceptable.

While The Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved, nor can we promise the size of a picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

Their children are Mrs. Stanley Long, Laverne G. Cox, Lyle F. Cox, Mrs. D. J. Bourque of Lake Orion and Norvelle Cox of Farmington.

Alumnae to Honor Nurse Graduates

Final plans for the annual reunion breakfast of St. Joseph's Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association were made at a Tuesday evening meeting in the nurses home.

★ ★ ★

May 24 has been set as the date when the class of 1939 will be honored.

Mrs. Barney Reardon of Berkley and Mrs. Edward Omans of Pinegrove Avenue are chairman and cochairman respectively.

★ ★ ★

Welcoming class members will be Mrs. Don Lumsden, assisted by Mrs. Robert Halm, Mrs. Robert Herring and Marion Bullard.

Invitations are being extended by Mrs. James Adams and Mrs. Edwin Nichols.

Working on decorations for the affair are Mrs. Kevin Ritter, Mrs. Raymond Pardee and Mrs. Howie Ogg.

Sister Mary Xavier, administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital and Rev. Joseph B. Brady, spiritual director of the League of Catholic Nurses of Oakland County, will be speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Theophil J. Dobski of Empire Drive have announced the engagement of their daughter Theresa Jane to Jere Jerome Dirker, son of the Harold W. Dirkers of Bloomfield Terrace. Miss Dobski was a former student at Eastern Michigan University and her fiance attended Oakland University. They plan an August wedding.

Initiate New Chapter of Sorority

Ten members were formally initiated into Phi Gamma Zeta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority, Tuesday evening in the home of Ruth Webster on Argyle Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Carol Smrcina and Joan Vess presented the sorority flower, a pink rosebud, to Beverly Brummitt, Martha Gaches, Mary Lawerence, Marlene Loucks, Patricia Nordman, Connie and Linda Pyle, Gloria Roush, Valerie Wilson and Miss Webster.

★ ★ ★

Sue Urbonovic, Jacqueline Talley and Janet Fiscus assisted with the ritual of the badge ceremony.

Officers for the 1964-5 sorority year were elected.

Miss Lawerence will assume her duties as president in September along with Miss Webster, vice president; Miss Wilson, recording secretary; Miss Pyle, corresponding secretary and Miss Loucks treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Sue Filatley, a new member from Lansing was welcomed.

Flowers Mark Garden Gloves

You can change white work gloves into an ideal pair of mitts for gardening. Stamp a flower design on the back of the gloves.

Color the design with crayon, then lay a white cloth over the design and press with a hot iron to set the crayon wax.

Washable Walls in New Ovens

Many new kitchen ranges feature silicone-treated oven walls which can be removed and washed at the sink—using hot soap or detergent suds.

★ ★ ★

Some ranges are also equipped with hinged burners which stand up so that they and the drip cups underneath can be sponged with suds.

Pontiac Symphony Will Play Family Concert

The first family concert presented by the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will be given April 19, according to George H. Putnam, youth concert chairman for the symphony board.

★ ★ ★

Under the direction of Felix Resnick, featured artists will include Bernice Rosenthal and Martha Welton, duo-pianists, playing "The Carnival of the Animals" by Camille Saint-Saens.

Stuart Packard, dramatics director at Pontiac Central High School, will read the Ogden Nash narration.

★ ★ ★

The program will open with Roger Quilter's "Children's Overture." This will be followed by "Petite Suite" (Jueux d'Enfants) by George Bizet and "American Salute" by Morton Gould.

FAVORITES

A Rodgers-Hammerstein favorite, "Carousel," has also been selected, along with the closing number "Knightsbridge March" (London Suite) by Eric Coates.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Symphony board has arranged two previous youth concerts, one in 1958 and another in 1962. However, this is the first time for this type of family concert in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Identical programs will be presented at 2:15 and 4 p.m. in Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Young people will attend with their parents and tickets of $1.50 will admit the entire family. All music teachers in the Pontiac school system have tickets.

★ ★ ★

Area families wishing to attend may contact the Pontiac school system music department to obtain tickets.

Sisterhood Sees Slides

Ted Panaretos, community relations director of the Pontiac State Hospital narrated a series of color slides which illustrated treatment at the hospital to members of the Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel.

Plans for the donor luncheon next Wednesday at Holiday Manor in Oak Park were announced by Mrs. Morris Bletstein, president, at the Tuesday evening meeting in the synagogue.

Mrs. Harry Serwin, cosponsor of the youth group, announced that six members of that unit will be attending the regional convention in Dayton Ohio this weekend.

Mrs. Belmont Kershenbaum and Mrs. Ralph Merkowitz were in charge of hospitality.

Bright Idea for Washing

Chemists down through the ages have labored long and lovingly to make the little woman's weekly wash whiter and brighter.

As far back as 1774, a Swedish chemist, Karl Wilhelm Scheele, scored the first real break-through in modern laundering when he discovered that a solution of chlorine in water possessed definite bleaching ability.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

It is true that lots of room is needed to do many of the best exercises. You do not realize this when you see them done on a gym floor or in an exercise room of some salon, but when you begin trying them out for size in your own bedroom or living room it is often a different matter.

You may find yourself under the piano or crack an ankle against a chair. Many a man, after leaving for work, has rushed back for something he forgot to find the living room looking unfamiliar.

The furniture may be pushed back against the walls and in the midst of all this confusion his little lady may be doing her figure-molding exercises.

I know this to be true because even though I have a fairly large living room I have heaved a few pieces of furniture around.

★ ★ ★

In a small apartment it would be impossible to find the space for some of the splendid motions for beauty.

SMALL AREA

However, there are other exercises which can be done easily in small quarters, not on a dime, but almost.

There are excellent exercises for the abdomen, hips, thighs and waist, which require very little space.

Most of the ones for waist slimming can be used. However, some are better for the small home or apartment than others and they will reduce your waist measurement successfully.

★ ★ ★

For instance, this is one of the best for tricking the inches on your waist measurement. You could almost do it in a telephone booth. Stand with your feet comfortably separated.

Bend forward, dragging the fingertips of both hands down your left leg. Go as far as you can without bending your knees. Drag your fingertips up your left leg as you straighten your trunk completely. Continue.

After a while, drag your fingertips down your right leg and drag them back up your leg. If you can only go as far as midway between your knee and ankle at first, that's good for a starter.

Later on you will reach your ankle and maybe your toe.

I have a leaflet which gives you nine exercises which can be done in a small space. If you would like to have it send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet number 30 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Niagara Falls Loses June Honeymooners

Is June losing its popularity as the traditional month for weddings — or is the June bride more shy than her September sister?

Canada's honeymoon capital isn't sure.

Last year, the Visitor and Convention Bureau at Niagara Falls, Ontario, distributed 2,250 complimentary honeymoon certificates in September. In June, it distributed only 2,006.

This year, the center expects visits from about 14,000 honeymooners.

Also entertaining for the bride-elect were Mrs. Fred Schwarze of Northville, linen shower; Mrs. Richard B. Gould of South Lake Angelus Shores, luncheon shower and Mrs. Ralph Carr of Voorheis Road, kitchen shower.

Patricia Swift, honored her former college roommate at a personal shower at her home in Utica.

Miss McLaughiin is the daughter of the Charles J. MacLaughlins of Mohawk Road.

It May Be Outmoded

Why Public Education?

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE S-429: Father Paul is a Catholic priest with whom I dine occasionally.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "we have literally millions of students in our Catholic parochial schools.

DR. CRANE

"And we do not receive a penny from taxes, for our pupils are all enrolled on a voluntary basis.

"The Lutherans and some other church bodies likewise operate schools without any assistance from the taxpayers.

"Yet we are taxed to support free public schools in competition with our own institutions.

"That doesn't seem quite fair, do you think?

"Suppose we were running grocery stores for customers who paid for their purchases. IS IT FAIR?

"Would it then be fair to tax us private operators to finance free grocery stores where the public could get its bread and meat and vegetables for nothing?"

"Yet that is exactly what is happening in the field of education.

"In our church, as well as all private schools and colleges, the parents of our pupils voluntarily pay for their education.

"But then those same hard-working parents are taxed to support rival and free public schools that operate in direct competition.

ALL EDUCATION

"So why shouldn't all education be conducted on the sound, 'free enterprise' plan of pay-as-you-go?

"As you pointed out in an earlier column, George Washington and all other pioneer Americans had no access to free public schools.

★ ★ ★

"Yet they were unusually well-read men. They produced our Declaration of Independence and Constitution, which I doubt if we could duplicate afresh even now.

"So what is wrong with eliminating all free education and putting schools on a business-like or pay-as-you-go plan?"

OUTMODED CUSTOMS

In this educational column. I present ideas that often challenge outmoded customs.

And it may be possible that free public schooling is now outmoded as too costly and inefficient.

★ ★ ★

Remember, it wasn't till the last century that free schools were offered as one of the many "welfare" inclusions of government.

★ ★ ★

The full eight grades in free public grammar schools didn't arrive till about 1850.

And it wasn't until 1872 that the Supreme Court affirmed the right of a state to tax its citizens to support free public high schools.

RECENT INNOVATION

So free schooling is a recent innovation in mankind's civilization, but if it becomes too costly, we may need to curtail it, at least above the 6th grade.

★ ★ ★

Americans would NOT become illiterate if all free schools were eliminated, for parochial and private schools would mushroom to meet the need, and at no cost to taxpayers!

★ ★ ★

Moreover, children would then get more English and math instead of gymnastics and frill courses on bowling, Squash, badminton, etc.

Then we'd not see any teachers' strikes! And teachers would then show far more interest in their pupils, for their salary would depend on every new pupil!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Use Lid on Brush

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I clean paint brushes in a large can that has an attached lid.

★ ★ ★

Let the brushes stand until clean and when ready to remove from the cleaning solution, close the lid as much as possible and slowly pull the brushes out.

You will not have to squeeze the excess liquid out by hand. —MARIANNE

DEAR POLLY — A small piece of foam rubber carpet padding makes a wonderful typewriter pad.

It not only protects the table surface but keeps the typewriter from sliding around. This is especially good for a portable.

Put the cloth covered side of the pad next to the typewriter.

● My elderly mother hates addressing envelopes as her handwriting is shaky and hard to read.

Every time I send her a package, a bunch of stamped envelopes, addressed to me and other members of the family, is included.

She especially appreciates them and I hear from her more often. —Mrs. D. L. S.

DEAR POLLY — Those who have more than one teen-ager who goes out at night should leave a light on that can be seen from the parents' bedroom.

The last youngster to come home should turn out the light.

The parents can then tell when everyone is in without getting up to check, or worse still, worrying about it.

Mrs. E. M. L.

DEAR POLLY — When making covered buttons, fold the material in eighths and it will be easy to cut a circle for the covering.

Baste closely around the edges leaving a couple of inches of thread on each end. Pull up through the metal backing and the button top will be smooth and even. —LOUISE

Players Rehearsing for Show

A cast of 28 singers, dancers, and actors is rehearsing the musical "Pajama Game" at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre for presentation at 8 p.m. May 8 and 9 at Pontiac Northern High School.

A number of Will-O-Way students preparing for professional stage careers have leading roles in the musical tale of labor - management strife in a New York pajama factory.

Serwind Netzler, music student at Oakland University plays the lead role with Pat Patrick Unick, former vocalist with the Don Pablo orchestra playing opposite him.

THE DIRECTOR

Duane Peck, associate director of Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, directs the show, assisted by Signa Johnson.

Accompaniment and Musical arrangements are by pianist Mrs. A. Roger Banfield. Mrs. A. Roger Welton, wife of a Pontiac Symphony Orchestra flutist, is also vocal coach.

Celia Merrill Turner, director of Will-O-Way and associate director of the Pontiac Symphony, is musical director of the production.

Tickets are available at Osmun's Tel-Huron, Pontiac and Birmingham stores.

Resusci-Anne Visits

"Resusci Anne, a girl dummy from Norway" was introduced to the members of the Fashionette club Tuesday evening by Oakland County Sheriff's department deputy Henry Hanson.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Hanson stressed the immediacy of mouth-to-mouth rescue in the case of a drowning or similar accident.

★ ★ ★

He concluded the demonstration by showing the proper position in which the body should be placed, the urgency of getting the first breath of air into the victim and staying with him until the doctor arrives.

Club members at the Adah Shelly Library then attempted to follow instructions.

Two new members were received into the organization by Mrs. Robert Hoffman.

Welcomed into the group were Mrs. Lloyd Lewis and Mrs. John Irwin.

Wear Neutrals With Bright, Bold Cosmetics

Beige, like many olive greens, once were considered fashion dynamite as a background for most complexions.

However, beige and many neutral shades are becoming important in the fashion world. You can wear these colors if you accentuate your make-up rather than play it down.

Select a foundation that contains a greater amount of rose tone than you normally wear with other colors.

Emphasize your eyes with green, blue and lilac eye shadow, use an eye-liner and mascara rather than leave your eyes untouched.

When selecting a lipstick use a vibrant shade but one that complements your complexion and a slight touch of rouge.

Indict Judges in Oklahoma

Tax Evasion Charged to High Court Jurists

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. —(AP)— Federal indictments have charged two prominent judges, who together have served 56 years on the Oklahoma Supreme Court, with evading payment of $25,000 in income taxes.

★ ★ ★

The indictments returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury named Justice Earl Welch, long a leader in Oklahoma Indian affairs, and supernumerary Judge N. S. Corn.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Dist. Atty. B. Andrew Potter said both said they would appear before a U.S. Commissioner today and post $5,000 bond. The judges were not taken into custody after the indictments were returned.

★ ★ ★

Welch, 72, is senior member of the state's highest court with 32 years continuous service. Corn, 80, went into semiretirement in 1958 after 24 years as a Supreme Court justice. As a supernumerary judge, he is assigned by the Supreme Court to hear a few cases a year.

BOTH DEMOCRATS

Both judges are Democrats.

Welch was indicted on five counts and faces a maximum prison sentence of 25 years and a $50,000 fine. Corn was named on three counts of tax evasion and two counts of wilfully filing an incorrect tax return. He faces up to 21 years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

★ ★ ★

Neither judge would comment on the indictments. Corn said: "I had a heart attack some time ago. I don't want to be bothered." A spokesman at Welch's home said the judge would have nothing to say.

★ ★ ★

The indictments accused Welch of evading payment of $13,462 in federal income taxes from 1957 through 1961.

Corn was indicted for evading $11,763 in taxes from 1957 through 1959.

Leading Cause of Heart Deaths

Well-Fed Nations Have High Rate of Clogged Arteries

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth article in a series on diseases of the heart and blood circulation system generally known as cardiovascular disease. The series is produced in cooperation with the Michigan Heart Association, a member of United Fund.)

"Atherosclerosis, a medical term now used to define a disease of the arteries, is a pretty name that came to us from the Greek.

"Athero" means wheat meal, "sclerosis" means hard. So the word simply means a hardening of the arteries caused — in this one kind of disease — by the deposit of a mealy like substance inside them.

"This disease with the pretty name is the basic cause of almost all that group of diseases that are called cardiovascular, including heart attack," says the Michigan Heart Association (AHA).

Many things are not known about atherosclerosis; some things are not yet proven; and others are known without question.

"It is a disease of prosperity. Its prevalence is greatest by far in nations that eat the best.

HEART ATTACKS

"Prosperous, well-fed Americans, Scandinavians and English die in tremendous numbers from heart attacks; underfed Africans, Southern Italians and Japanese have almost none," the association added.

Atherosclerosis is easy enough for a physician to see, especially after the victim has suffered a fatal heart attack or had an operation that allows for crosscutting an artery. In small arteries you need a microscope; in the big ones you often can see deposits with the naked eye.

What is not easy about this disease is diagnosing it early when something can be done about it.

★ ★ ★

The MHA alone has spent more than $3 million on heart research during the past 10 years. Scores of millions have been spent on heart research by still other agencies, but no real answer has been found.

TREATMENT TOOLS

"We have drugs that thin the blood, and lower clotting rates. These are very valuable in treatment of persons who have suffered a heart attack. We have operative techniques that allow us to ream out clogged arteries. We have many tools for treatment," it continued.

"Perhaps most important for the health of Americans is not the treatments we have evolved, but the suspicions we have acquired, not from laboratories, but from public health statistics gathered in many ways.

"Most valuable is the Framingham, Mass. study begun about ten years ago, which calls for regular detailed cardiovascular examination of a selected 5,200 residents. Other studies are now under way, including one in Tecumseh, Michigan.

"The results so far come to something which gamblers and baseball managers know can't be beaten — the odds.

The odds computed in all the studies show that anybody has a better chance to avoid a heart attack if he avoids the following:

- High blood cholesterol (a kind of fat) level
- High blood pressure
- Overweight
- Low physical activity

"If you are subject to these things, it doesn't mean you are guaranteed a heart attack; they just mean your chances are better.

"Who wants a better chance for a heart attack?" the association summed up.

Take Advantage of Beef Bargains

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Beef has been in abundant supply for more than a year now. The prices are more favorable than in several years past. It's time for you to indulge your family's liking for this meat.

Remember that all cuts offer the same nutritional value. Calorie value varies with the amount of fat which interlaces the lean.

Your budget and your personal preferences will decide which cuts you buy.

Take round steak as an example. It can be prepared as a delicious Swiss steak or as a broiled steak. Top round is more tender.

Penny-Wise Swiss steak has fine flavor to which a bit of Tabasco and some raisins contribute. Remember that this kind of dish needs long, slow cooking.

Penny-Wise Swiss Steak

2 pounds round or rump steak, 1½ inches thick
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 cups (1 pound can) tomatoes
3 thinly sliced large onions
3 carrots, sliced
½ teaspoon Tabasco
¼ cup raisins

Trim excess fat from meat. Combine flour and salt. Lay meat on board; sprinkle with half flour mixture. With rim of saucer, pound in mixture. Turn meat, repeat until all flour is used.

Brown meat well on both sides in oil in heavy skillet or Dutch oven over medium heat about 15 - 20 minutes. Add remaining ingredients except raisins.

Simmer, covered, about 2½ hours or until meat is fork-tender. Add raisins during last half hour of cooking. Yield: 4 servings.

If you want to broil round steak, you will need to tenderize it in some way. Using one of the modern meat tenderizers is the easy way. Letting it marinate for several hours or overnight in wine or french dressing is another method.

You can buy seasoned or non-seasoned tenderizer. Three simple steps are all that are needed.

- Sprinkle tenderizer generally over all surfaces.
- Pierce meat generally on all sides with long-tined fork.
- Allow to stand at room temperature for one hour. Or you may cover the meat lightly and leave in refrigerator overnight.
- Broil like any sirloin to desired degree of doneness.

Stew sounds ordinary, but you can make it as delicious a dish as anything more elaborate.

We like to cook it the night before we want it for dinner and let it stand in the refrigerator for 24 hours. We don't add potatoes until just before serving. But letting the cooked mixture stand seems to give it an even better flavor.

Carrot and Beef Stew

2 lbs. beef stew meat
3¼ teaspoons salt
1 bay leaf
2 cups water
12 small white onions
1 cup shredded carrots
1 cup sliced celery
6 medium - sized whole carrots
⅛ teaspoon finely chopped garlic
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup water
1 teaspoon fresh lemon juice

Trim off and discard excess fat from meat. Cut meat into 1-inch pieces and place in a 4-quart saucepan. Add salt, bay leaf, water and one of the onions. Cover and cook slowly 1½ hours or until meat is almost tender. Peel remaining onions and add to meat along with shredded carrots and celery.

Peel whole carrots and cut into 1-inch pieces. Add to stew. Cover and cook 35 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add black pepper. Blend flour with water until smooth and add. Cook 2 to 3 minutes or until thickened. Yield: 6 servings.

An Austrian variation of stew is this beef goulash recipe. The gravy is creamy, not brown. Dill pickle adds an unexpected dash of flavor.

Austrian Beef Goulash

¼ cup butter
2 pounds beef chuck, cut in 1-inch cubes
3 medium onions, cut in rings
1 teaspoon paprika
Dash of pepper
Dash of garlic salt
½ teaspoon salt
1 medium bay leaf, crumbled
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup evaporated milk
2 medium dill pickles, diced

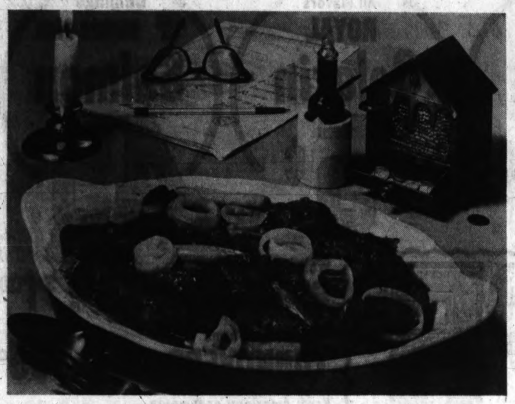

Melt butter in a large skillet over medium heat. Add meat and brown lightly. Add onion rings and cook until transparent. Stir in paprika, pepper, garlic salt, salt, bay leaf and vinegar.

Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water and pour over seasoned meat. Stir to blend well. Cover, reduce heat to low, and simmer until meat is tender, about 2 hours. Remove from heat.

Sprinkle flour evenly over meat, stirring to blend in smoothly. Return to medium heat and cook until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally. Add evaporated milk and dill pickles and stir until heated through. Serve over hot cooked noodles. Makes 8 servings.

CARROT AND BEEF STEW

PENNY-WISE SWISS STEAK

Dress Up Tomatoes

Tomatoes Country Style will put a little zip in your dinner menu. Cook two slices of bacon until crisp. Put aside to use later. Fry onion rings in bacon fat until tender; add 1 can of tomatoes and ¼ teaspoon celery seed; heat. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve the tomatoes topped with crumbled bacon.

Just for the kids are little Clown Cupcakes. Frost the tops of cupcakes with a plain butter frosting, then add eyes and other facial features from cut-up gumdrops or candied cherries.

Whipped Date Butter Is Elegant

Something delightfully different—and nutritious—to spread on hot breads comes your way in the form of "Whipped Date Butter."

All you do is beat together butter, salt and apricot or peach jam until light and fluffy, then mix in fresh lemon juice and small pieces of fresh dates.

It's an ideal flavor mixture for almost any kind of bread but is especially tasty on hot popovers. Try it, too, on biscuits and toast.

You may have noticed in local markets recently an attractive new packaging for some fresh dates from California. The popular round plastic cup container now has a handy, easy-to-reseal plastic lid bright with circus colors, peppermint stripes and a map of California.

Under the lid are luscious, truly fresh dates from this year's crop in the renowned Coachella Valley. You can buy them pitted or unpitted to suit your fancy — and, of course, you can also buy them in the familiar bags, cartons and tray packs.

Enjoy this quick-energy fruit often.

Whipped Date Butter

⅔ cup fresh California dates
½ cup soft butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup apricot or peach jam
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

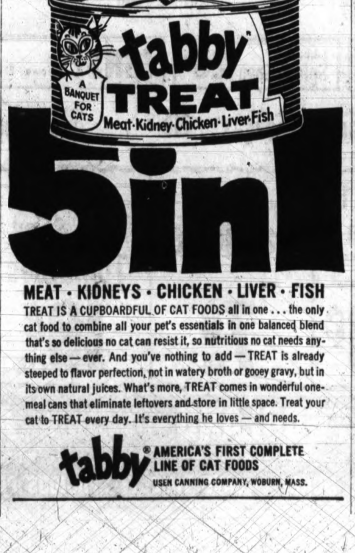

Cut dates into small pieces. Beat together butter, salt and jam until light and fluffy. Mix in dates and lemon juice. Serve with hot popovers, toast or biscuits or on crackers. Refrigerate any remaining mixture for later use. Makes about 1½ cups.

May Get Brittle

If you use clear plastic film for wrapping packages for the freezer, seal the fold and ends with freezer tape; over-wrap with ordinary wrapping paper because the plastic film may become brittle at the low freezing temperature.

Oniony Hamburgers

Ever think of the everyday hamburger as a gourmet dish? It can be, say the home economists for The R. T. French Company. Just prepare hamburgers as usual, then blend an envelope of onion sauce mix with pan drippings and one cup milk. Simmer until sauce thickens, spoon over burgers, and sprinkle with parsley flakes.

3 Good Dressings for Lettuce Wedge

From O. Henry's Steak House in New York's Greenwich Village come these superb dressings for wedges of western iceberg lettuce. Russian, Blue Cheese, or French are the choices Chef Levy Lome offers diners.

The seasonings in each are right on the button. You'll look far to find better. It's no wonder Chef Lome makes gallon lots. Home-size quantities are given here for you.

For 50 years, before it became O. Henry's, the steak house was the site of a butcher shop. Owner Vito Di Lucia took advantage of every unique feature in converting it into a restaurant.

Heavy old chopping blocks, scrubbed smooth and bleached through many years of use by the butchers, became tables. Two walk-in refrigerators are now dining rooms. Meat hooks along the wall serve as coat racks.

There's still sawdust on the floor. Gas-burning light fixtures, originally street lamps in Baltimore, Md., Tiffany lamps, and waiters in straw hats and white butcher coats are other trademarks of this gay-nineties style restaurant.

Did the famous author of short stories, O. Henry, frequent the butcher shop when he was living in New York? Nobody knows, but Di Lucia doesn't think so.

As a teen-ager, Di Lucia's son, Gil, admired O. Henry's stories so much that when he took over the restaurant 5 years ago, he named it for his story-writer hero.

Blue Cheese Dressing

½ pound blue cheese
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
¼ cup tarragon wine vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil
½ cup dairy sour cream
¾ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon onion powder

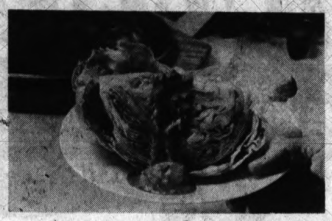

Core lettuce; rinse in cold water; drain well. Place in plastic bag or transparent film; refrigerate. Combine blue cheese, Worcestershire, wine vinegar, oil, sour cream mayonnaise and onion powder in electric blender or mixer. Blend well. Makes 2½ cups dressing.

★ ★ ★

Russian Dressing

1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup chili sauce
½ cup catchup
¼ cup drained pickle relish
1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped

Combine mayonnaise, chili sauce, catchup, pickle relish, onion and egg. Makes 3 cups dressing.

SIMPLE SALAD—Currently "in" in New York are restaurants with a gay nineties decor. And none is gayer than O. Henry's in Greenwich Village where crisp wedges of western iceberg lettuce with Blue Cheese, Russian or French dressing are the accompaniments to charcoal-broiled steak and fish.

French Dressing

1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup salad oil
¼ cup red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons white wine vinegar
3 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
Dash Tabasco
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire
Dash salt

Blend egg yolk and paprika; slowly add salad oil, beating constantly. Stir in red and white vinegars, sugar, monosodium glutamate, Tabasco, Worcestershire and salt. Store in cool place. Makes 1½ cups dressing.

Nifty Thrifty Casserole Calls for Tuna Fish

Here's a terrific tuna casserole you can whip up in jig time.

Cook 4 ounces of elbow macaroni and drain. Combine 1 can condensed cream of celery soup and ⅔ cup evaporated milk. Add macaroni, 2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil, ¼ cup finely cut pimiento and ½ cup grated American cheese. Turn into a greased 1½-quart casserole; sprinkle ½ cup more grated American cheese around edge.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 minutes. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Substitute for Cream

If you're cutting down on calories, but you like your desserts to wear the glamorous touch of a whipped topping, try a wonder whip!

For 2½ cups of whipped topping with nonfat dry milk crystals use:

½ cup nonfat milk crystals
½ cup ice-cold water
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Place water in a bowl and stir in milk crystals. Beat until stiff (about 5 minutes if beater and bowl are very cold, 10 to 15 minutes if they are at room temperature).

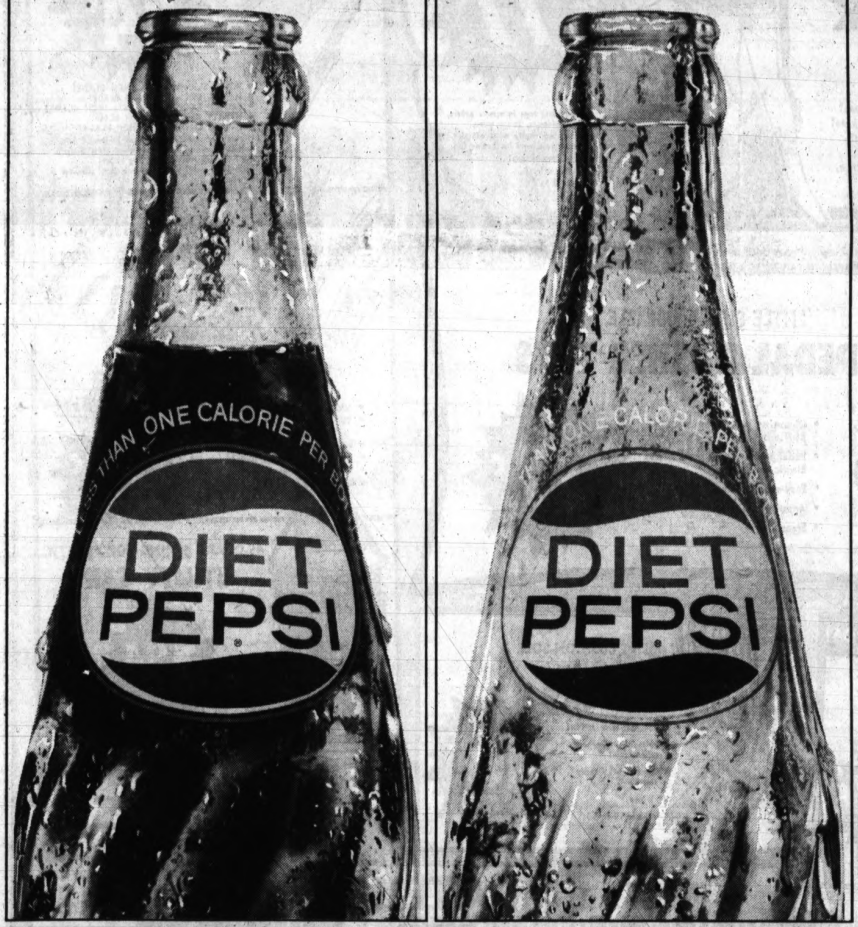

Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat. Add lemon juice and beat until thoroughly mixed. Chill well before serving.

For whipped topping with evaporated milk, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service suggests: Chill ½ cup evaporated milk in an ice tray until almost frozen around edges.

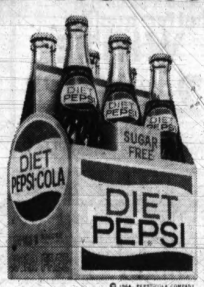

Then place in a cold 1-quart bowl and add 4 teaspoons granulated sugar. Whip with cold beaters until fluffy. Add 2 teaspoon frozen lemonade concentrate.

Whip until stiff; keep chilled for serving. Yield: 1 cup topping.

Cohn Charges Justice Plot

Says Bob Kennedy Leader of 'Vendetta'

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy M. Cohn, testifying in his own defense against charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice, says his trial is an attempt "by a few people in the Department of Justice to get me."

Cohn, 37, an attorney, told the U.S. District Court jury Wednesday "certain people within the Justice Department were hell bent to get me."

VENDETTA LEADERS

Before the trial started, Cohn charged publicly that Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Robert M. Morgenthau, U.S. attorney here, were leaders of a "vendetta" against him.

Cohn, a top aide to the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., head of a Senate committee that investigated alleged Communist infiltration of the government, referred to this service at the start of his testimony.

He noted that Kennedy had been a fellow counsel on the committee. Cohn and Kennedy were reported to have quarreled at that time.

Cohn said the McCarthy committee's investigation included the Treasury Department at a time when Henry Morgenthau, father of the U.S. attorney, was secretary of the Treasury.

NEW YORK LAWYER

Cohn is on trial with Murray E. Gottesman, 57, also a New York City lawyer.

On the witness stand Cohn denied that he conspired with Gottesman to prevent the indictment of four swindlers in a 1959 investigation of a $5-million fraud in United Dye and Chemical Corp. stock; that he lied to a grand jury; that he induced other witnesses to lie to a grand jury.

He also denied an allegation —not included in the indictment but made in government testimony—that he split a $50,000 payoff with a former federal prosecutor here.

Two-Truck Collision Halts Phone Service

PLEASANTON, Calif. (AP)—The collision of two trucks led to interruption of telephone service for several hours at Pleasanton Wednesday.

* * *

A truck pulling two cement hoppers and another carrying seven pickup trucks collided in an underpass. A telephone pole was knocked down and wires fell on nearby railroad tracks. Moments later, a train passed and severed the wires.

Judge 'Plastered'; Policeman Wary

GASTONIA, N.C., (AP) — Judge William Copland was holding court in Gastonia when there was a loud noise.

A 10-pound piece of brightly colored ceiling came loose on Copland's head.

The judge reported a sore head, but he felt well protected.

So loud was the noise that a police officer, thinking the judge had been attacked, drew his revolver before he realized what was happening.

Easy Payment Plan: 100 Per Cent Down

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A sign in the window of a local furniture store proclaimed: "Use our easy-payment plan: 100 per cent down and nothing else to pay."

Girl Asks Teacher: Where Are Jiffies?

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky. (AP) — One Elizabethtown kindergarten teacher was using an oversized clock to show her students how to tell time.

"These are the hours," she said, "and these are the minutes and these are the seconds.

* * *

Any questions?"

One little girl shot up her hand. "Where are the jiffies?"

Girls Get Fine, Work Duty for Bomb Scares

CADILLAC (AP) — Two 17-year-old girls who admitted causing false bomb scares at their high school were fined $100 each by a judge and sentenced to 30 days in jail Wednesday.

But, Recorder's Judge Frank Miltner, father of six children, suspended the jail sentences, the girls accepted his proposal that they clean windows, wash blackboards and perform other menial tasks at the school at a $1-an-hour rate to pay the fines.

During the last few years the girls' school, Cadillac Senior High School, has had four false bomb scares.

Miltner said the girls' sentence was meant as a "possible deterrent" to other pranksters.

Both girls were suspended from school for this semester. They admitted telephoning fictitious reports that bombs were in the school March 26 and 27. Both times the school evacuated its 700 pupils.

Judge Miltner preferred not to make public the names of the girls. He said it was the first time either had been in trouble.

Dismiss Charge Against Man in Fatal Collision

PORT HURON (AP) — Negligent homicide charges against 18-year-old Clifford Agnew Jr. of Port Huron in a bus-car collision fatal to four children were dismissed Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Justice Charles Sheridan held after a three-day hearing there was insufficient evidence to hold Agnew for prosecution in a higher court.

★ ★ ★

A car driven by Agnew rammed into the rear of a stalled bus Jan. 31. Four teenage bus passengers were killed. Sheridan said marker lights of the bus were not visible.

To Let Park Contracts

CADILLAC (AP) —Contracts for $90,000 in improvements at Lake Mitchell State Park here will be let this week, the Conservation Commission says. The project will add campsites for 500 persons and is scheduled for completion next April.

Add Rehabilitation Center to City's Medical Facilities

A $1-million rehabilitation center and nursing home will be a major addition to Pontiac's expanding medical facilities when it opens about May 1 at 845 S. Woodward.

★ ★ ★

Woodside Medical, which will boast a 139-bed capacity and complete physiotherapy unit, is described as one of the most advanced institutions of its type in the Detroit area.

Monroe M. Title, Woodside administrator, said the physiotherapy section is comparable to some hospitals. Additional medical services include occupational therapy, laboratory, and dental and X-ray facilities.

Title, former assistant administrator of Detroit's Brent General Hospital, explained that Woodside Medical is designed for patients who need not remain in a hospital, but are too infirm to be treated at home. The building is across Woodward from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Woodside will accommodate both temporary or permanent patients, said Title, as well as establishing a day care program for the aged.

Other features in the three-floor, T-shaped building include day rooms with color television; a chapel, beauty salon and barber shop, gift shop and recreation areas.

Organized as Woodside Medical, Inc., Title said the facility will be owned and operated by several local physicians and businessmen.

Mrs. Constance DeClerq, R.N., of Detroit, has been named director of nursing for the building's staff of 70, which includes both medical and housekeeping personnel.

Building architects were Green and Savin of Ferndale, while the firm of Englehardt, Buetter and Holtd of Royal Oak was general contractor.

Ape Causes False Alarm

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — An ape turned in a false alarm yesterday.

Indiana Dems Map Strategy

Fight Wallace Repeat in State Primary Vote

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) —Indiana Democrats mapped strategy today for an intense presidential primary campaign to prevent Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace from repeating his surprising showing in Wisconsin.

* * *

Wallace's march through the North brings him to the Indiana primary May 5.

He will face Indiana Gov. Matthew Welsh, who entered the race solely to prevent the Alabama segregationist from walking off with the first-ballot Hoosier votes at the national convention.

Wallace, fresh from polling more than 250,000 votes in Wisconsin Tuesday, promised his Indiana campaign would be a strenuous one. He is expected to open headquarters here early next week.

* * *

But state Democrats promised a battle to the wire with the Alabamian.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

"We do not underestimate the challenge of Wallace," Welsh said. "We intend to conduct a vigorous campaign in Indiana."

Welsh and Democratic State Chairman Manfred Core, after strategy meetings yesterday, refrained from mentioning the civil rights question in their formal statements.

The civil rights issue promised to be a big factor if the primary in Indiana, described by sociologists "as the most Southern state north of the Mason-Dixon line."

* * *

"I was told by a political strategist in Wisconsin that we in Indiana would have much more difficulty than they had in Wisconsin," said Core.

* * *

But Indiana Sens. Birch Bayh and Vance Hartke, both Democrats, said in Washington yesterday Wallace will not draw as big a share of votes in Indiana as he did in Wisconsin because it is harder for Hoosier Republicans to cross over to vote in the Democratic primary than their Wisconsin counterparts.

Primaries Befuddle the Political Pros

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Befuddled political pros are wondering what's happening with the American electorate. Something is going on, but they're not sure what.

When the segregationist governor of Alabama walks off with about 35 per cent of the vote in a Democratic presidential primary in nearly all-white Wisconsin, the politicians have all kinds of explanations but most of them have a hollow ring.

News Analysis

Depending on their own position, the politicians attribute the vote to: Republican crossovers, Wallace's appeal to states' rights conservatives, opposition to civil rights, expensive advertising campaigns and local issues. There is some feeling that maybe the voters are just independent-minded this year.

The political pros already were shaken up by the bad guesses most of them made in the New Hampshire Republican primary. In that contest Henry Cabot Lodge, the man who was not there, won a write-in runaway over Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

GESTURE TO LODGE

At first the pros shrugged this off as a gesture to Lodge, a Massachusetts resident. Now, however, they are beginning to hedge their bets with predictions that Lodge will do it all over again in the May 15 Oregon primary, where the name of the U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam is on the ballot.

Democratic strategists in Washington were giving Wallace 10 per cent of the vote before Tuesday's election.

* * *

Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, elected head of a favorite son delegation pledged to support President Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination, had said in advance that a vote of more than 100,000 for Wallace would be "catastrophic."

After Wallace polled 261,000 to his own 508,000, Reynolds called the outcome satisfactory. He added that it only showed "what we've known all along, there are prejudiced people in the North as well as the South."

The White House got into the matter with press secretary George Reedy's interpretation that the outcome was "not in the slightest" a repudiation of the administration's civil rights program.

Administration spokesmen attributed much of Wallace's showing to a Republican crossover into the Democratic primary. But Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., a former GOP national chairman, said it just wasn't so.

* * *

Some of the confusion of the pros over what the Wallace showing meant may be cleared up in the May 5 Indiana and May 19 Maryland Democratic primaries. There will be no Republican cross-overs to complicate matters in these contests.

Boy in Refrigerator Found Unharmed

FLINT (AP)—Four - year-old Roy Bailey spent hours inside a locked refrigerator Wednesday before being freed — evidently unharmed.

As police were searching the neighborhood, Roy's grandfather, John Remore, 53, found the boy in the unused refrigerator in a neighbor's garage.

* * *

Roy apparently had trapped himself in the refrigerator while alone at play. He had been missing from midmorning until afternoon.

Witches Worship Once a Month in Britain 'Convens'

Britain has 400 practicing witches who meet in "covens" once a month to worship pagan gods like Hern the Hunter and the Earth Mother.

They contend witchcraft is just another minority religion.

Rituals have been handed down through thousands of years in rule books copied by hand by each witch as he or she passes through probationary, first, second, and third class stages.

2 Men Found Shot: 'Slaying, Suicide'

HILLSDALE (AP)—Two men were found shot to death in the home of one at Cambria six miles south of here Wednesday. State police said evidence indicated a slaying and suicide.

* * *

The victims were identified as Charles Sloan, 30, an employe of the struck Essex Wire Corp. here, and Ralph Dean Torrey, 18, of Reading.

State police of the Jonesville post said Sloan apparently shot Torrey with a 32-caliber automatic pistol and then turned the gun on himself.

Officers said the incident had no evident connection with the Essex strike.

Smoking Ban Studied

LUDINGTON (AP)—The City Commission has under study a proposal to ban smoking by minors of 18 and under in Ludington. A report is expected at the next commission meeting.

21 Defendants Emotionless

Pole Testifies on Nazis

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Gestapo guards pulled screaming children from under beds and dragged them off to gas chambers at the Auschwitz death camp, Polish witness Wojciech Barcz testified today.

* * *

The 21 defendants at West Germany's largest war crimes trial stared at the witness with no sign of emotion as he implicated two of them in the killings.

Barcz added his testimony to the thousands of words spoken since last December against the former death camp guards accused of taking part in the murders of 2.5 to 4 million inmates.

He said Gypsy children "fought for their lives" on the night guards killed thousands of Gypsy prisoners.

* * *

"The children hid under the beds and ran away from the Gestapo men," he said. "The guards chased them down and pulled the kids out from under the bunks.

"Then the Gestapo men threw the screaming bundles onto the waiting trucks which headed for the gas chambers."

FIRST SHIPMENT

"Barcz told the court he came to Auschwitz in the first shipment of prisoners June 14, 1940, "and I left Auschwitz with the last shipment."

Barcz then swung on defendant Wilhelm Boger.

Boger, the 57-year-old alleged Gestapo torture master of Auschwitz, stared back at Barcz. The witness, speaking slowly in Polish, said, "Boger took part in nighttime executions in barracks 11," the Gestapo's prison-within-a-prison.

"Boger and other Gestapo men would come into the basement of the barracks — sometimes they were drunk — and they would just pick inmates at random for shooting. At random . . . just anyone . . . at random . . ." Barcz said.

Fellow defendant Joseph Klehr, 59, hung his head in apparent embarrassment when the Pole named him as the Gestapo man who always studied prison hospital charts.

"Klehr watched the sick charts and when he figured a patient was really sick, the patient went to the gas chamber.

"Klehr also made sure his victims didn't try to hide in the closet or somewhere when the death trucks came," said Barcz, a man in an almost shabby gray suit. He said he now works as a journalist in Warsaw.

There are 40 18th century homes in historic Beaufort, N. C., which have been marked with red, white, blue and gold plaques for visitors to see.

School Board Okays Report on School Bias

CHICAGO (AP) — The board of education approved a far-reaching report on school segregation yesterday, but delayed action on a controversial shared time proposal which would let Catholic high school students attend a public school part-time.

The board voted to accept "in general principle" the Hauser report, a study recommending more flexability in drawing school boundaries.

Civil rights leaders have charged that neighborhood boundaries result in de facto school segregation.

The report, prepared by a committee under Philip Hauser, University of Chicago sociologist, also proposes a massive attack on education problems on predominantly Negro schools.

★ ★ ★

For the third time, the board deferred action on the experimental shared-time plan.

OPPONENTS' VIEW

Opponents of the controversial plan contend it is an indirect method of helping finance Catholic schools and would violate the principle of separation of church and state.

Backers of the plan say Catholic youngsters are entitled to attend public schools either full- or part-time.

★ ★ ★

The responsibility of putting the report into effect lies with School Supt. Benjamin C. Willis.

Australia has 2,380,000 telephones, an increase of 83 per cent in the last decade.

Slipup Omits Halfway Funds

Officials Confident Money Will Come

LANSING (AP) — Because of an apparent oversight, funds to start six halfway houses for youthful lawbreakers were left out of a public welfare appropriation approved by a House committee.

"But I have no doubt the governor will get halfway houses this year," said Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which must approve such spending.

WILL GO ALONG

"This will be brought to the attention of the committee and I'm pretty sure they will go along with amending the money back into the bill. The bill is alive—there's no problem there," he said.

Gov. George W. Romney had asked Engstrom to add $273,000 to the public welfare appropriation for the coming fiscal year "to start six additional halfway houses after July 1, to be in operation before Dec. 31."

"We got so much correspondence at about that time that this one just did not even come up in committee discussion," Engstrom said.

TWO IN DETROIT

Romney had at the same time asked the Senate Appropriations Committee for $13,500 to start two halfway houses in Detroit this fiscal year, and the addition was approved by the Senate.

The proposed institutions are to serve as way-stations between incarceration and freedom for juvenile delinquents, and became a part of Romney's legislative program after the budget bills had been submitted in the two houses.

More Families Have Two

Latest Figures Show Rise in Car Ownership

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Auto Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today that almost 80 per cent of U.S. families own a car and 15.6 per cent own more than one.

Evidence gathered for the 43rd annual edition of the AMA booklet "Automobile Facts and Figures" showed the auto is becoming an ever increasingly important part of American life.

Over 95 per cent of families with incomes of over 10,000 now own a car and about 2.1 per cent of U.S. families have over three cars.

The AMA breakdown of car ownership by 43,300,000 households showed:

	Number	Per Cent
1 car	34,600,000	61.9
2 cars	7,500,000	13.5
3 or more cars	1,200,000	2.1
No cars	12,600,000	22.5

Total car registrations in 1963 in the U.S. hit 63,384,000 of which 53,250,000 were owned by households. AMA said the difference in the two figures is accounted for by government vehicles, by cars owned by armed services personnel residing on base, by individuals living in institutions and by cars scrapped during the year.

AMA's report, published this week, showed the average age of the U.S. car on the road is six years, the same figure it has been since 1960. The average truck age is 8 years old, a slight increase over the 1962 average.

The four-door hardtop was the most popular model purchased in 1963 according to registrations which gave it 36 per cent of the year's total. The two-door hard top got 2 per cent; two-door sedans and station wagons 13 per cent each; four door hardtops 10 per cent and convertibles six per cent.

Of those who bought new cars last year at the nation's 42,147 franchised dealers, 38 per cent paid cash for their new cars, including the trade-in allowance on their old car. About 49 per cent of used car buyers paid cash.

Those buying cars on time payments still remained numerous however as the AMA said over $22 billion in auto credit was extended in 1963. This was a jump of $2.6 billion over the previous year.

Surprisingly enough, the AMA said over 60 per cent of trips taken by U.S. motorists are less than five miles long.

The auto still remains the favorite family vacation transportation with 82 per cent of U.S. vacations taken in cars. More than 50 per cent of American families use their cars to vacation at spots less than 500 miles from their home.

AMA figures showed that one out of every seven persons now employed in the U.S. is employed in automotive or related business.

States derive 26 per cent of their tax receipts from the motoring public, AMA said. On a national level, motorists paid almost $12 billion in taxes last year, including auto purchase taxes, federal excise taxes, bridge, freeway and ferry tolls and other incidental taxes.

As for motorists who want to get away from it all, AMA said there were 684,525 mobile home registered in the U.S. last year and over 3.6 million miles of U.S. roads for them to travel on.

Hare Didn't Know

GORNJI MILANOVAC, Yugoslavia (AP) —Hunting has been so good this year that the Pranjanja Hunters' Association decided to hold a celebration. They promised a big dinner with a main dish of hare caught by the hunters themselves.

Then the hunters went out to catch the hare. They trudged home at nightfall wearily and called off the celebration.

News From Around the World

U.S. Victory in Viet Nam No Solution, Says French Leader

TOKYO (AP) French Premier Georges Pompidou said today a military victory for U.S.-backed forces in the war in South Viet Nam "would not solve anything."

* * *

"I don't want to seem to be a prophet of doom to our U.S. allies, but we have kept the memory of the bitter experiences in Indochina and Algerian wars. We are convinced that such a war, even if victorious, does not solve anything, and the solution can only be political," he told a news conference.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that surrender of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu to the Chinese Communists could be the straw that would break the camel's back of resistance to communism in South Viet Nam.

Nixon, ending a two-day visit to Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek, said "the free world cannot afford to surrender another inch of territory, particularly in Asia."

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Communist sources report that Romania has informed the Soviet Union and Red China they were willing to try again to mediate a truce in the ideological dispute between Moscow and Peking.

The Romanian Communists sent a peace mission to Peking in February, but it failed. Angry exchanges between the two Communist giants have resumed since Soviet Premier Khrushchev began a visit to Hungary last week. Moscow has called for a world Communist meeting for a showdown.

LONDON (AP) — Zanzibar's revolutionary government today charged that Britain and the United States had plotted to establish American rocket bases on the island off the east coast of Africa.

The Zanzibar news service statement was distributed through the official Communist Chinese news agency.

LONDON (AP) — The United States, Canada and 17 other nations may agree before the end of the year to create a worldwide system of communications via satellite.

Main problems to be solved are what kind of global administration will control the communications agreement and how much each nation will spend to establish the system.

* * *

The other nations are Britain, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Austria, Switzerland, Portugal, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Spain, Greece, Ireland and Iceland.

PARIS (AP) — The Soviet Union has destroyed all copies of the anti - Jewish pamphlet "Judaism Without Disguise," Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, said on Wednesday.

* * *

Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government paper Izvestia, denied that his country practices anti-Semitism, although he said as a Communist nation it is opposed to religion.

Tax Tips

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following income tax information is furnished by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

QUESTION: If I received dividends and interest during 1963 do I have to include these items in my income tax return for the year along with the wages I earned?

ANSWER: Yes. Both of these items are properly includable in your income tax return and are required to be reported. Even though the interest credited to your savings account was not entered in your passbook, it still must be included in income for 1963. However, you are entitled to a $50 dividend exclusion on all dividends from domestic corporations. But this dividend exclusion does not apply to dividends received from savings and loan associations because these so-called dividends are actually interest income and, therefore, fully taxable.

For the answer to YOUR question, call your Internal Revenue Service Office.

Illinois Delegates Favor Goldwater

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater drew strong support today for the Republican presidential nomination in a poll of Illinois candidates for delegates to the party's national convention.

Of the 78 candidates seeking election as delegates in Tuesday's primary, 51 replied to an Associated Press survey.

* *

Thirty-four said they favored Goldwater, 3 preferred former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 1 backed Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, 1 said he would abide by the Illinois preferential primary, 12 were undecided.

'Battle Royal' by Turk Solons

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Members of Parliament battled with fists, shoes and briefcases Wednesday night after a deputy spoke disparagingly of 80-year-old Premier Ismet Inonu's age.

Shinasi Osma of the opposition Justice party was the only casualty, with a head cut and bruises. He was hit by a flying briefcase and a shoe.

* * *

The fracas started during a debate on a tax bill opposed by the Justice party. "We are young," said Ihsan Ataov. "We are not robots to follow an old chief."

IN FRONT LINE

Inonu's Republicans attacked, and Osma was on the front line.

The session was adjourned after the fight.

MacArthur's 'Home for Christmas' Vow Left Unfulfilled

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a four-part series on Gen. Douglas MacArthur by Pulitzer Prize-winning Relman Morin of The Associated Press. Morin, who was there when MacArthur said it, tells how the "Home by Christmas" slogan came about and how the hopes to end the Korean conflict were lost.)

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Writer

"Home by Christmas" was a happy sentiment.

But it became a mocking memory for Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his admirers, and a barbed taunt hurled at him again and again by his critics.

★ ★ ★

MacArthur uttered the words on an icy morning in November 1950, at a moment when it appeared that the Korean War was all but ended—and victoriously. This writer was present.

The circumstances of the episode, which figured heavily in the end of MacArthur's career, are these:

On Thanksgiving Day, one of MacArthur's aides telephoned and said, "The general would like to see you in his office this evening at 6:30." Four other correspondents also were summoned to the headquarters in Tokyo.

ALONE IN OFFICE

MacArthur was alone when we entered his office.

His desk was completely cleared. His aides always said he would never go home at night until he had disposed of even the semiurgent business of the day, no matter how late he had to work.

★ ★ ★

MacArthur's hands were always restless. Now he was rubbing the bowl of one of his pipes. He looked up with a slight smile and said he hoped he hadn't interfered with any Thanksgiving dinners. He said he was about to go home and settle down to his turkey. Then he said:

"I am going to Korea in the morning. I can take five of you. Takeoff is at 5 o'clock. You will be briefed on the plane."

SOMEWHAT UNUSUAL

This was somewhat unusual. Generally, when he went to Korea, he disclosed the purpose of the trip. Dispatches could be prepared by the correspondents for fast transmission and there was time to look up any necessary background. In this case, he said nothing was to be written in advance.

★ ★ ★

Shortly after takeoff the next morning, his aides handed around a communique. It was dated Nov. 24, 1950, and numbered No. 12. It said:

"The United Nations massive compression envelopment in North Korea against the new Red armies operating there is now approaching its decisive effort.

"The isolating component of the pincer, our air forces of all types, have for the past three weeks, in a sustained attack of model coordination and effectiveness, successfully interdicted enemy lines of supply from the north so that further reinforcement therefrom has been sharply curtailed.

"The eastern sector of the pincer, with noteworthy and effective naval support, has steadily advanced in a brilliant tactical movement and has now reached a commanding envelopping position, cutting in two the northern reaches of the enemy's geographical potential.

CLOSE VISE

"This morning the western sector of the pincer moves forward in general assault in an effort to complete the compression and close the vise.

★ ★ ★

"If successful, this should for all practical purposes end the war, restore peace and unity to Korea, enable the prompt withdrawal of United Nations military forces, and permit the complete assumption by the Korean people and nation of full sovereignty and international equality. It is that for which we fight."

The tone of this communique reflected the high optimism of the moment.

Weeks earlier, when the North Korean capital city Pyongyang, was taken, MacArthur had said, "This war is very definitely coming to an end very shortly." There were reports that he had made a similar statement in more positive terms to a United Nations commission shortly before Thanksgiving. Now, communique No. 12 told the world, "If successful, this should for all practical purposes end the war."

NEW ARMIES

But what of the Chinese?

These were the "new Red armies" to which the communique referred. They had started appearing at the front in October. Peking said they were "volunteers." By the end of the month, however, they had lashed out with a strong counterattack. Organized units of the Chinese Red army — not a handful of "volunteers" — had conducted the operation.

★ ★ ★

Then a strange set of events took place.

Mysteriously, the Chinese vanished. Large fighting patrols went out hunting for them but found none. Next, they released groups of American prisoners. The soldiers said a Chinese woman translator had told them:

"The Chinese do not want to fight Americans."

SAID UNLIKELY

Further, correspondents in the Far East were given to understand that the Central Intelligence Agency judged that large-scale intervention by the Chinese Reds was unlikely.

It was against this background that Gen. MacArthur launched the offensive in the West on Nov. 24 and issued his communique.

★ ★ ★

When his plane landed that morning, jeeps carried the party on a jolting ride across country to 9th Corps headquarters. Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the 8th Army, rode with MacArthur. The jeeps drew up in front of a wooden shack.

Waiting inside were Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter, corps commander, and his intelligence officer.

MacArthur took a chair directly in front of a large situation map. The offensive had started some five hours earlier. The blazing blue and red symbols on the map showed troop dispositions and the progress of the advance. Coulter told MacArthur of the latest reports from "up forward."

★ ★ ★

MacArthur asked a few terse questions. His knowledge of the terrain ahead was impressive. He seemed familiar with its smallest features.

Then Walker said to Coulter: "I notice you haven't mentioned any objectives, Jack. I don't like that word, 'objectives.' I think we should just keep pushing as hard as we can go."

★ ★ ★

"That's what we're going to do," Coulter replied. "We're not thinking in terms of objectives."

MacArthur rose. He put his hand on Coulter's shoulder, smiled, and said: "That's right, Jack. You tell the 3bys that when they get to the Yalu, they're going home. I want to make good on my statement that they are going to eat Christmas dinner at home."

This was the origin of the "home by Christmas" statement.

MacArthur could not have meant it in the literal sense. Even if the 8th Army had reached the Yalu River, if there had been no Chinese opposition whatever, the troops could not have been withdrawn immediately to bases in Japan—much less "home"—by Dec. 25.

Hence, the optimistic "home-by-Christmas" probably was designed for two purposes — to reassure Peking that the advance would end at the Yalu and not go into Red China, and to encourage the troops.

In any event, it backfired badly.

The savage, forbidding mountains on the frontier concealed a Chinese horde.

After the briefings, MacArthur flew over these mountains. Looking down from an oversize window in his plane, he carefully scrutinized the tortuous terrain.

If he suspected that it crawled with enemy infantry, the only way to flush them out was to order a general advance. This he did.

For two days, the offensive moved ahead smoothly. Then the Chinese came out of the mountains like an avalanche and hit the 8th Army. A general retreat began.

There was to be no "home by Christmas."

Masters Play Opens on Water-Logged Augusta Course

AP Photofax

WATER HAZARDS EVERYWHERE—Heavy rain yesterday left a few temporary water hazards on the Augusta National Golf Course in Augusta, Ga., washing out the morning practice round for professionals who were tuning up for the Masters Tournament. The main course was closed to practice but three hardy fans showed up to survey the new hazards. The tournament opens today.

Arnie, Nicklaus Early Favorites in Tournament

Rain-Soaked Links Tailored for Drives of Heavy Hitters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Nearly 100 of golf's greatest players teed off today in the 28th Masters Tournament over the Augusta National course that days of steady rain have turned into a links built for two—defending champion Jack Nicklaus and three-time winner Arnold Palmer.

Nicklaus, the 24-year-old Ohio Golden Bear who is the youngest winner ever, was a 4-1 choice to repeat—something no Masters winner ever has done.

Golf's longest driver, Nicklaus has the length to handle the nearly 7,000 water-logged yards of the course that Bobby Jones designed.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, 34, winner in 1958, 1960 and 1962, is the only other player in the field of 96 who can hit the ball far enough to get it to the top of the hills that loom up in front of nearly one-half the holes.

COMPLAINTS

The other pros have complained the course's roll is gone and it will take plenty of sunshine and wind to bring it back before the tournament ends Sunday.

The predictions are that the rains are through, but the man who picks the weather around here must have bet on Tom Dewey in 1948. He is batting about .025 lately, according to the local inhabitants.

Open champion Julius Boros, the 44-year-old smooth swinger, had the best practice round, a 66 on Tuesday.

Boros won the Greater Greensboro Open last Sunday.

Nicklaus has won only one tournament all year, and Palmer none, but they still rank first and fourth on the money list.

Top prize at the Masters is usually $20,000. The payoff, based on gate receipts, runs in the $100,000 neighborhood.

Impressive as those totals are, they are small compared to the value of a Masters victory for endorsements and personal appearances. That has been put in the million dollar class.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus also listed former Open champion Billy Casper, Tony Lema, who was the runner-up last year, and 1961 Masters winner Gary Player of South Africa among the leading threats to his title.

Ike's Ex-Caddy a Forlorn Figure

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — He sat on the wooden steps near the caddy quarters at the Augusta National Course, his pinched, wrinkled face a picture of complete gloom.

"Nobody wants me any more," Willie Frank (Dead Man) Porteet said disconsolately. "Looks like I'm all washed up. Guess I'll go back to playing the drums."

A decade ago he was the most famous caddy in the world, the personal bag toter for President Dwight Eisenhower.

He had access to classified secrets carefully guarded from the rest of the world. What did Ike shoot? Did he slice or hook? Did he blow his stack when he flubbed a three-foot putt?

IN LIMELIGHT

Dead Man had his picture in the slick magazines. He was written up in newspapers. He was always being interviewed by sports writers. He was in the limelight and he loved it.

Today he is broke, dejected and without a job.

★ ★ ★

Ninety-eight players came here to compete in the Masters tournament, starting today.

Every day Dead Man, 54, almost toothless, gray and at 112 pounds looks like a scrawny bantam rooster, reported to the caddy master.

One by one, the bags were assigned. Each day, Dead Man's jaw dropped a little lower and shoulders sagged a little more. His name never was called.

"I've been caddying for 35 years," he said. "I've toted bags for the best. I wanted to get Bob Goalby or Dr. Cary Middlecoff. But they must think I'm too old and decrepit."

"I'm still spry. I got eyes like a hawk. I can spot a ball in a thicket 50 yards away."

Augusta caddy master Freddie Bennett said Dead Man's physical attributes had nothing to do with his failure to grab a masters bag.

★ ★ ★

"Dead Man works at night somewhere else and showed up too late. Besides most golfers have their favorite caddies which they get from year to year," Bennett said.

Porteet caddied for President Eisenhower between 1952 and 1956. Then he was replaced because the late Augusta pro, Ed Dudley, said he couldn't keep up with the President's pace.

The old caddy got the name "Dead Man" years ago because once he was cut up in a knife fight and sent to the hospital to die.

Tigers Set for Trek to Detroit

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)— The Detroit Tigers prepared to break training camp today for the trip home after their last game on the spring exhibition baseball schedule.

Only today's game with the Kansas City Athletics in Lakeland was left in their Florida circuit tour. Detroit opens the American League season at home against the A's next Tuesday.

The Tigers had an exhibition record of 10 victories against 14 losses as they took the field today.

On the homeward jaunt, the Tigers will play weekend games in Charleston, N.C., and Knoxville, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers crowed a little Wednesday over their 4-1 victory over the Houston Colts the night before when southpaw Mickey Lolich went the distance, striking out 11 men.

29 STRIKEOUTS

The strikeouts gave Lolich a total of 29 in 29 innings of spring work.

★ ★ ★

Manager Charlie Dressen, happy about Al Kaline's three hits that broke the star outfielder's batting slump, predicted:

"He'll really be swinging the bat by opening day."

Detroit, Chicago in Showdown

Winner Moves to Cup Finals

Hall Back in Nets for Crucial Clash

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks and the Detroit Red Wings, squared at three victories each, clash tonight in the deciding game of the Stanley Cup hockey semifinal playoffs.

The winner will meet the victor of a similar seven-game series between Montreal and Toronto in the finals, which will start Saturday.

Chicago Coach Billy Reay was grimly confident his reeling Hawks could snap back and take the final game, despite their crushing 7-2 defeat in Detroit Tuesday.

"Certainly they can get up for this one," he said. "They're professional athletes."

HALL BACK

Reay said goalie Glenn Hall, who was yanked during the Detroit clobbering, will be back in the line-up for the crucial game.

"He was just a little sick, that's all," Reay said. "He definitely will be our starter."

★ ★ ★

The Hawk coach indicated the only change for the decisive game will be the suiting up of winger Johnny McKenzie, who had been benched since the fourth game in favor of farmhand Doug Robinson.

The Hawk-Wing set, before it started, had been pegged as a goalie series and a record five netminders have seen action, two for the Hawks and three for Detroit.

The Hawks used Hall in all but the last period of the sixth game when he was replaced by Dennis DeJordy.

Detroit used Terry Sawchuk, their Cup veteran, in five of the six games but he failed to finish twice because of a pinched shoulder nerve. Bob Champoux, their practice goalie and Roger Crozier, their No. 1 minor league netminder, shared replacement roles.

★ ★ ★

The deciding game will be on Chicago ice where Detroit has won only once in 10 tries this season.

AP Poll Has Yanks Again Meeting LA

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers will again win the National League pennant after a tight, three-way struggle with San Francisco and St. Louis while the New York Yankees run still another American League pennant up the flag pole with considerable ease.

That's the script authored for the 1964 season by the sports writers and broadcasters voting in the Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll.

CLOSE IN NL

The voting indicates the Dodgers will nip the Giants and Cardinals, becoming the first National League champion to repeat since Milwaukee in 1957-58. At the same time, the Yankees will be emphasizing their supremacy over Minnesota and Chicago en route to their fifth consecutive American League pennant.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers edged the Giants for the top spot by only one first place vote and a mere 62 points.

Behind the top three there was a big drop in the voting with a second-line trio of Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Philadelphia containing the biggest surprises in the NL voting.

The Braves, sixth last year finished fourth in the voting with 1,835 points, edging Cincinnati, which polled 1,810. Philadelphia followed with 1,694.

The Phillies, fourth last year, proved the toughest team to handle for the forecasters. They were the only team in either league to get at least one vote for all 10 positions in the standings.

In the American League, the Yankees re-emphasized the respect they command. The Yankees rolled up 205 first-place votes and 2,626 points.

That was some 400 points more than Minnesota's homerhitting Twins, who grabbed 39 votes for the top spot and 2,375 points. The Chicago White Sox finished third with 28 first-place ballots and 2,276 points.

★ ★ ★

In the AL's second echelon, Detroit edged Baltimore, 1,957 points to 1,944 for fourth place in the closest voting in either league, Cleveland was sixth, followed by Boston, the Los Angeles Angels, Kansas City and Washington.

FINGER TIP CONTROL — New York Mets catcher Jesse Gonder has baseball but only on his finger tips and can't make put out on Kansas City's Manny Jiminez who has started slide for plate. Play follows pitcher Johnny Wyatt's right-field single in sixth inning of yesterday's game at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Rookie Third Baseman Giving Phils a Boost

Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Allen of Wampum, Pa., promises to be a lucrative rookie for the Philadelphia Phillies in their bid for greater riches this season.

★ ★ ★

The Phils expect the 22-year-old Allen to end their six-year search for a regular third baseman. Based on Allen's spring performance, the Phils may wind up with even more than that.

7TH HOMER

The right-handed slugger slammed his seventh home run and increased his runs batted in total to 23 Wednesday as Philadelphia trampled the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-4. He had three hits and four RBIs and is by far the team leader in both departments.

★ ★ ★

Philadelphia has converted Allen into a third baseman from the outfielder he has been the past two seasons. Before that he played shortstop and second base.

The latest move was made to plug what probably was the Phils' biggest hole for their long-shot pennant chances. The team is striving for even better prospects after its fourth-place finish in 1963.

★ ★ ★

Not since Willie (Puddin' Head) Jones have the Phillies been free of third-base worries. Jones started there for 10 years. During the first seven years of his tenure, Philadelphia finished in the first division six times.

★ ★ ★

As a rookie for Arkansas in the International League last season, Allen led all hitters with 12 triples, 33 homers, 97 RBI and 299 total bases. He batted .289. Then in 10 games with the Phils at the end of the season he hit .292.

"Allen looked last year like he was going to hit up here," Manager Gene Mauch said. "He is fast and quick with long arms and good speed."

★ ★ ★

Allen's home run Wednesday was only one of many that dominated exhibition baseball action. Cleveland got three of them in trouncing San Francisco 14-4 for the first time in 10 spring games.

★ ★ ★

Willie Mays was struck on the right wrist in an attempted pickoff throw in that game and may be sidelined until Saturday or Sunday.

Julian Javier's two-run homer in the eighth beat the New York Yankees 5-4 while pinch hitter John Goryl gave Minnesota a 5-4 triumph over Houston with a two-run homer in the ninth.

Baltimore crushed Cincinnati 8-1, the Chicago Cubs nipped Boston 7-6 in 11 innings, the New York Mets downed Kansas City 11-9 and Milwaukee beat Washington 5-2.

Bengals Land Larry Sherry From Dodgers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers today obtained relief pitcher Larry Sherry, a hero of the Los Angeles Dodgers' World Series victory in 1959, in exchange for a minor league outfielder and $10,000.

★ ★ ★

Sent to Los Angeles was Lou Johnson, who played in the International League last year for Toronto and Syracuse and batted .296.

To make room for Sherry, a 28-year-old right-hander, the Tigers sent second baseman George Smith to Tigertown for assignments, probably to Syracuse.

★ ★ ★

Sherry had a 2-6 record last year. Asked if he thinks Sherry still can be an effective pitcher, Detroit manager Charlie Dressen said, "I think so. We've been trying to get him for a long time."

State Prep Cage Meet Had Record Attendance

LANSING (UPI) — The state high school basketball tournament, despite a dropoff in attendance at the quarterfinals, drew a record crowd of 695,796 last month.

For the 28 games that constituted the quarter-, semi-and final contests in all four classes the attendance was 100,374, an average of 3,584 for each game.

★ ★ ★

State High School Athletic Director Charles E. Forsythe said gross receipts from the tournament totaled $524,967. Of this sum $299,705 has already been paid to host and participating schools.

Another $75,000 to $85,000 will be distributed to competing schools next month under a formula based on the number of games they played in the tournament.

The remainder of the receipts will go into the treasury of the Department of Public Instruction to support the activities of its section for interscholastic athletics.

Forsythe said attendance at quarter-final games this year was down about 3,000 from 1963.

Northern Golfers Drop Opener by One Stroke

Dick Drager fired a 39 over the par-35 Lakepointe Country Club course Thursday in leading Roseville's golf team to a 237-236 victory over Pontiac Northern.

Larry Sherfield and Mike Koskela led the Northern squad with nine-hole scores of 46. Dave Schieb (48), Dennis Burwell (48) and John Balley (49) rounded out the Huskie scoring.

National League Team in Mourning

Death Takes Houston Pitcher Umbricht

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Colts will wear black arm bands during the National League baseball season in memory of Jim Umbricht.

The big right-handed relief pitcher died Wednesday of cancer, 13 months after it was discovered. He was 33.

The Chicago native underwent surgery a month before the baseball season started last year and made a remarkable comeback with a 4-3 record.

TOP RELIEFER

During the second half of the 1963 season he was one of the National League's leading relief pitchers with a 2.61 earned run average for 76 innings while appearing in 35 games.

Russ Kemmerer, a former teammate now with Houston's Oklahoma City farm club, will give the eulogy at funeral services Friday afternoon. The body will be cremated.

★ ★ ★

Colt Manager Harry Craft, Coach Luman Harris, infielder Bob Lillis and pitcher Ken Johnson will fly to Houston from the Colts' Cocoa, Fla. spring training camp for the services.

CANCEL GAMES

Houston's scheduled exhibition game Friday with Milwaukee at Cocoa was canceled.

George Kirksey, Colt executive vice president, said Umbricht remained in good spirits until the end and said he was determined to get back into uniform.

Colt General Manager Paul Richards said Umbricht was "one of the finest competitors I've ever known on or off a baseball field."

Colt officials said the players will wear black arm bands on opening day and the remainder of the season.

Last year's operation involved what doctors called a rare but lethal "black mole" tumor, a form of cancer which starts with a black mole on an arm or leg.

The disease began to appear in the chest area last season but Umbricht and Colt officials kept the development a closely guarded secret.

The cancer continued to spread and Umbricht, who weighed 210 pounds and stood 6-4, entered the hospital again March 16.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eduard Umbricht and a brother, Ed, all of Houston.

Cranes Cold in '64 Opener

Cranbrook 9 Battles Kentucky to 1-1 Tie

Cranbrook's baseball team did not get the most pleasurable Kentucky welcome yesterday as the Cranes started their season.

They tangled with usually powerful Newport, Ky., Catholic and settled for a 1-1 tie when darkness forced a seventh-inning curtailment in cold, damp weather.

★ ★ ★

Pitcher Steve Hanway scored the only Cranbrook run when he scored from second base on an infield error.

Bob Heavenrich had a key single in the inning, one of two he garnered in the contest. Dave Foster had the other Cranbrook single.

Two walks and an error led to an unearned Newport tally in the fourth inning. The visiting Cranes committed three errors in the game but also executed two infield double plays.

They play today in Cincinnati as the five-game tour continues.

Coach Quits Aquinas Job

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Aquinas College basketball coach, Ralph Goldstein, said Wednesday he has resigned because of his health.

He said he has no immediate plans and the school has made no choice of successor.

Goldstein, 29, former University of Detroit star, took the post last September. His team posted a 10-11 record.

Late in the season, Goldstein suffered an attack of pneumonia and was forced to remain away from his duties for parts of five weeks.

Goldstein said he would remain at Aquinas through June as a physical education instructor and coordinator of intramural sports.

Table Tennis Victory

Pine Knob's table tennis squad romped to an easy 15-1 victory over a Lansing all-star team last night at the Pine Knob Ski resort.

Leading the winners was Carol Wolverton, who downed former state champion Helen Bailey in two straight games.

NBA Warriors Square Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) — San Francisco evened its National Basketball Association playoff with St. Louis in a "dog-eat-dog" battle Wednesday night, and taking the biggest bite out of the Hawks was Nate Thurmond.

"Thurmond did it all — defense, offense, rebounds," said Warrior Coach Alex Hannum after his club had whipped the Hawks 111-109.

SERIES TIED

The victory tied the Western Division best-of-seven final playoffs at two games each and returned the home-court advantage to the Warriors.

The next game will be played in San Francisco Friday night with the teams returning to St. Louis Sunday. The final contest, if needed, will be played on the West Coast.

★ ★ ★

Boston can wrap up the Eastern Division playoff tonight when the Celtics and Cincinnati meet in Boston. The Celtics lead their series, 3-1.

Thurmond didn't start the game, but when Wayne Hightower's ankle began to trouble him, the 6-foot-11 inch reserve entered and scored 17 points and pulled in 15 rebounds in 42 minutes.

Thurmond teamed with Wilt Chamberlain, who notched 36 points and gathered 23 rebounds, to push the Warriors to a 109-109 lead with 2:52 remaining.

St. Louis made a final rush on points by Bob Pettit and Zelmo Beaty, closing to 110-109, but close-in shots in the final seconds by Cliff Hagan and Richie Guerin went astray.

Pettit paced the Hawks with 29 points.

Those final seconds led to a brief scuffle as a young fan tangled with referees Norm Drucker and Richie Powers as they left the court.

Powers landed a punch to the jaw that floored the young man.

"He bumped me," Powers said, "and when he didn't apologize and kept coming at me, I figured I had to defend myself."

"Then he cursed me," Drucker said, "so I got into it before the guards got him out of the way."

Title Bout Seen Even With One Big If . . .

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Bobo Olson said today he rates the Willie Pastrano-Gregorio Peralta light heavyweight title fight a toss-up "unless weight-making has weakened Peralta."

★ ★ ★

"That's the big if in my mind," said Bobo, the former middleweight king who wants to fight the winner of Friday's 15-round championship contest at Municipal Auditorium.

"It's harder to make weight and keep your strength as you get older," said Olson, a light heavyweight contender at 35.

★ ★ ★

"I know. I had to make it when I was 26 and it definitely hurt me. Peralta is 28. I understand he hasn't made 175 in more than a year. He's a big fellow and it could hurt him, especially over 15 rounds.

"Pastrano is a natural light heavyweight. He's much better and faster when he's carrying only 175 pounds. He's got a lot of speed. Peralta is a real good body banger, especially with his left hook. He could slow up Willie if he gets enough of them in."

★ ★ ★

Peralta, according to his handlers, has been hovering around 176 for days. He has to make 175 pounds at noon Friday.

Japanese Players in Camp

Imports Unhappy With Giants

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP)—The San Francisco Giants aren't exactly elated over the three teen-age Japanese baseball players they've imported, and the players aren't too happy with their training.

* * *

The opinions were expressed during interviews this week at the Giants' minor league training camp, Francisco Grande, near the central Arizona city of Casa Grande.

AP Photofax

ONE OF TRIO — Pitcher Masanori Murakami, one of three Japanese baseball players who have been working with the San Francisco Giants, may head back to Tokyo unhappy over the fact that he and his two countrymen are not getting to play much.

The Giants are the first major league team to import Japanese talent, thanks to owner Horace Stoneham's friendship with Capt. Harada.

Harada, who has an interest in the Nankai Hawks baseball team in Japan, signed pitcher Masanori Murakami, third baseman Tatsukiko Tanaka and catcher Hiroshi Tkahashi to Giant contracts.

The three high school graduates, who speak very little English, are training with the Giants' Fresno, Calif., team of the Class C California State League.

Of the three, Fresno Manager Bill Werle praised most the 19-year-old Murakami, a 6-foot, 175-pound lefthander.

"He's got control, an excellent curve and a fair fastball," Werle said. "He could do alright at Fresno, but the other two probably will be sent to Class D or rookie league teams."

AREN'T HAPPY

The players themselves, through an interpreter, said they don't feel they are playing enough.

"In Japan," said the more talkative Murakami, "we run and get in shape for two weeks before we even play any ball. Here, they've had us playing games since our arrival and we've been doing a lot of sitting around. I feel the Japanese players train much harder than the Americans."

Murakami, however, has done alright in spring games. In nine innings he's walked one and struck out five batters.

Mets Option Prized Rookie

Chisox Keep Vet Minoso

By The Associated Press

Minnie Minoso, a 41-year-old graybeard who possibly has been shaving almost that long, has survived baseball's unkindest cut.

As the Chicago White Sox trimmed their roster Wednesday to get down to the opening day limit of 28, Minoso was signed to a contract for his 14th season in the major leagues.

SPARE OUTFIELDER

Generally presumed to be older than his announced 41, Minoso will be back for his third tour with the White Sox, this time as a spare outfielder and the club's No. 1 pinch hitter. He had been working out with the White Sox as a free agent.

* * *

While Minoso was added to the roster, three players were cut—pitchers Tom Hoagland and Bob Guzek and catcher Gary Mykkanen.

The New York Mets surprised by cutting first baseman Bill Haas, picked off the Los Angeles Dodgers' roster last winter in a special National League draft designed to aid the Mets and Houston Colts. Haas hit .322 in exhibition games.

The Mets also cut outfielder Duke Carmel, infielder Pumpsie Green and pitchers Dick Selma and Ron Locke.

* * *

Other players cut:

Houston—Pitchers Jerry Morawski and Jay Dahl, outfielders Ivan Murrell, John Paciorek and Howie Goss and infielder Ernie Fazio.

New York Yankees—Pitcher Tom Metcalf, outfielder Elvio Jimenez and catcher Bill Madden.

Milwaukee — Pitchers Ron Piche, Frank Funk and Dan Schneider.

Philadelphia — Pitcher Gary Kroll and first baseman Costen Shockley.

Crozier Sharp in Ice Playoffs

Roger Keeps Club Alive in Series

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Roger was there and the Pittsburgh Hornets are still here as far as the Calder Cup playoffs of the American Hockey League are concerned.

The Hornets, with Roger Crozier in the goal, stung the Quebec Aces 5-1 Wednesday night. The victory kept them from being eliminated from the playoffs as the Aces lead the best-of-seven semifinals series, 3-1.

* * *

The Hornets don't always win with Crozier but it seems they seldom win without him.

Wednesday night's game was only the second for Crozier since the playoffs began. He missed the second and third games, being called up to Detroit of the National Hockey League because of goalie Terry Sawchuk's injured shoulder.

* * *

In tonight's action, Hershey plays at Cleveland in the other semifinal playoff. Cleveland leads that best-of-seven series, 1-0.

Weather Halts Local Openers for College 9s

By United Press International

Bad weather Wednesday once again cancelled regular-season opening games for the University of Michigan, Michigan State, University of Detroit and Wayne State baseball teams.

The Michigan-Bowling Green game, scheduled to be played Tuesday at Bowling Green and rescheduled for Wednesday at Ann Arbor, was called off due to cold and damp weather.

The game will be rescheduled at a later date.

A doubleheader at East Lansing between the Spartans and Albion was postponed because of poor weather.

The two teams were scheduled to play a single game today, in effect cancelling one of the games.

U-D and WSU were scheduled to face each other today, marking the third straight day the two schools had tried to start the season.

Their inter-city game at U-D was postponed Tuesday and Wednesday.

NBA to Delay Growth 1 Year

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Basketball Association owners have decided to forego expansion for the 1964-65 season, President Walter Kennedy announced Wednesday.

The unanimous vote by the board of governors, made up of the club owners, came despite firm offers by Kansas City, Chicago and Pittsburgh for a franchise. Two cities in the Southwest also expressed interest.

The board also instructed Kennedy to continue negotiations with a major network to televise weekend games next season.

Ski Resort to Open

BOYNE FALLS (AP) — Boyne Mountain Lodge said Wednesday that it would be open for skiing Saturday and Sunday with spring skiing conditions reported excellent on a base of 10 to 60 inches topped by two inches of new snow.

SETTLES FOR DOUBLE—Pitchers don't often hit for extra bases and when they do sometimes it is difficult to stop running. Here Baltimore's Dave McNally hastily returns to second after starting for third base on his right centerfield blast yesterday at Tampa, Fla. Cincinnati's Gordy Coleman tried to trap the hurler by trailing him from first base, but the throw from the outfield was off line.

Officials Reject Purchase Offer for Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington Redskin officials, after a two-hour huddle, announced Wednesday that all offers to purchase the National Football League club were rejected.

Officials said they had no further comment. Attending the session were C. Leo Deorsey, Jack Kent Cooke, Edward Bennett Williams and Bernard I. Nordlinger. They met in the office of John J. Carmody.

Previously two $7 million offers for the club had been reported.

Softball Managers' Meeting Scheduled

Waterford Township's Recreation Department will have an important men's softball managers' meeting 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Community Activities Building.

In Defending Baseball Crown

Kimball Faces Strong Opposition

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of preseason roundups of county high school baseball teams. Today, the Eastern Michigan League.)

The top county prep baseball team last year was Royal Oak Kimball. The Knights won the Eastern Michigan League title and the Pontiac High School invitational tournament en route to a 16-0 season.

Coach Paul Temerian is known as one of the top diamond coaches in the county and despite the loss of almost all of last year's team the Kimball squad is not counted out of this year's EML race.

But strong opposition looms for the Knights. Runner-up Roseville has a lot returning. Seaholm is bolstered by transfer students and Hazel Park commands respect.

Kimball has Dan Sherban, perhaps the top catcher in the county, and letter winning pitcher Kim Hillstrom returning along with Bob Nowakowski, an outfielder.

★ ★ ★

The reserve team must fill the other spots. It lost only one game last season and the Knights could be tough again this year.

Seaholm has a new coach, Don Sackett, and experienced pitching in Brant Conley and Mike Fremuth. The infield and catching appear strong with three transfer students figuring prominently.

Sackett also has experienced returnees in Mark Fritz and Ken Savage to build around.

Ferndale lost a lot from last season but has mound depth in George Morey, Dean Zoellner and Al Ferrari.

Roseville had a strong hitting team last season and new coach Arv Swartout welcomes key returnees on the mound as well as at bat. Newcomer Jeff Davidson, 6-5 and 200 pounds, shows promise at first base and pitching.

★ ★ ★

East Detroit has one of the EML's top hurlers in lanky Gary Geister who leads 11 returnees. Hazel Park is seeking a mound leader to complete a good lineup.

Port Huron also has experience in the infield and outfield with a strong hitter in Floyd Hubbard. Pitcher Bruce Brandenburg tops a promising Mount Clemens' roster.

Two-Week Truce Set to Study Cleveland Rights Dispute

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—All sides in a civil rights dispute have agreed to a two-week truce that includes appointment of a special group to study Cleveland's whole problem of school integration.

The agreement, hammered out Wednesday night at a seven-hour City Hall meeting, will end all demonstrations and picketing and new school construction. It may be extended an additional two weeks if all sides show progress is being made toward resolving a situation that resulted in one death and violence this week.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Ralph S. Locher helped work out the agreement at a closed-door session with top city, school, civic and civil rights group leaders. He announced the truce terms.

Some 125 civil rights demonstrators, outnumbered by police, ended their long City Hall sit-in without incident after they heard the announcement. They had waited in the lobby while their leaders met in the mayor's private chambers.

LOUD CHEERS

They cheered and applauded loudly as they heard the terms of the truce.

The demonstrators had gathered at noon at school board headquarters to pay tribute to the Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, 27, a white Presbyterian minister, who died for their cause Tuesday when a bulldozer ran over him at a school construction site. They then marched to City Hall.

★ ★ ★

Earlier Wednesday, Common Pleas Court Judge John V. Corrigan had issued a temporary order banning further construction, picketing or trespassing at the site of the new Lakeview public elementary school on the East Side. The city had requested the court order on the grounds it has legal contracts with builders to go ahead with the school construction.

A hearing for a permanent injunction is set for 2 p.m. Friday.

STUDY PROBLEMS

Another point in the truce provided that the school board appoint a group of technical experts who will study the problems of school integration. The United Freedom Movement, composed of several civil rights groups, must okay those named to that study group.

Under terms of the agreement these technical experts must complete their study before contracts for a third proposed grade school will be let.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the UFM, the Congress of Racial Equality and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People attended the meeting called by Locher.

Those civil rights groups are opposing construction of three new elementary public schools in the predominantly Negro Glenville area on the East Side. Demonstrations in that area led to violence in January and February and produced an earlier agreement between the school board and civil rights leaders. That pact provided for full integration of bus-transported Negro pupils in predominantly white schools.

Involved are nearly 1,000 pupils unable to attend overcrowded schools in their Negro neighborhoods.

Civil rights leaders maintain the new grade schools in the Negro residential area would "resegregate" the bus-transported pupils. They argue that transportation of pupils outside their neighborhoods should be expanded so that integration accomplished by this method so far will continue. The school board has endorsed the neighborhood school concept.

Conference of Mayors to Meet in Cadillac

CADILLAC (AP)—The Michian Conference of Mayors Inc., a new organization, will meet at Cadillac April 17-19.

Mayors of the some 110 cities in Michigan with a population of over 5,000 are eligible to belong. The membership now includes 80 mayors.

Pontiac is faced with the problem of rebuilding our obsolete central shopping area, caused by the trend toward urban living and the popularity of shopping centers. How fast we proceed rest on your decision to elect a qualified City Commission.

The commission, manager, administrative staff and all municipal employees, through their combined efforts, must work to create the image, that through UNEXCELLED SERVICE—Pontiac is a fine place to live. From this service, municipal employees have the right to expect a standard of living equal to industrial and surrounding municipality employees.

With our municipal team united we shall then work to create long range redevelopment plans for vacant urban renewal lands and enlist the aid of all qualified persons. We will restore confidence and respect to our Police Department. We will improve garbage and trash collection, road grading, snow removal, repairs, recreational and all other services.

We will promote a favorable climate for residential, commercial and industrial developers to choose Pontiac as their location. We will find that in working together, Pontiac can be a place to be proud of and after all, ISN'T THIS WHAT WE WANT?"

Tests Show Sunburn Protection Is Good Skin Cancer Safeguard

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO — When you hide under a shady beach umbrella on a hot, sandy shore this summer, ask only that it keep you cooler.

For you could still get 80 per cent of the sunburn you'd receive under the open sky.

If you go sailing or fishing on a mountain lake, you need less sunburn protection than on a wide-open bay or the ocean.

* * *

These sunburn tips came from new scientific measurements of the effects of the sun's ultraviolet rays. It is the ultraviolet rays that give you a prideful tan, or painful sunburn. And too much exposure is a prime cause of skin cancer, especially among the Irish and other peoples.

The cancer danger led Dr. Frederick Urbach and associates of Philadelphia to "dope" the heads of mannikins, or dummies, with special chemicals to give accurate measurements of how much ultraviolet rays hit a person's head and neck under varying conditions of exposure.

The chemical treatment makes the mannikins skin color change from yellow to red, according to the degree of exposure. The mannikins were exposed to the sun on the roof of the Skin and Cancer Hospital of Temple University in tests described by Drs. Urbach, Ronald Davis and P. Donald Forbes.

Dr. Urbach summarized initial results today in a report to the American Association for Cancer Research, amplifying in an interview.

The sunburn rays come not only directly from the sun, but from refraction or reflection through the air and terrain, he explained.

Water reflects only about 5 per cent of the rays, he said.

The mannikin studies seek a better understanding of skin cancers which are up to 95 per cent curable when detected early. About three-quarters of skin cancers occur on the head and neck. Outdoor workers, especially in warm, sunny areas, are far more susceptible than the usual season sun bather.

* * *

Sunlight exposure plays a main role in one form of skin cancer known as squamous cell carcinoma, affecting upper layers of the skin, Dr. Urbach said. But it is only part of the story in causing basal cell cancer occuring in deeper layers of the skin.

The mannikin studies could point ways to better protection against sunburn and skin cancer hazards.

Medical Oddity

Little Treatment, but Cancer 'Cured'

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—The apparent remission of lung cancer in a 42-year-old Navy employe, who describes himself as a medical oddity in whom cancer has disappeared with little treatment, has been confirmed by a Seattle physician.

The physician said use of the word "cure" might be a "little exaggerated.

* * *

"We used to use the word 'cure' if there was no recurrence after five years," he said. 'Now we talk of 'survival' and if a patient has gone five years he might go 10, but we can't guarantee that."

Cancer was first diagnosed in Joe Mayerle, a guard at the Keyport Naval Torpedo Station, in March 1959. His case was widely publicized earlier when it appeared he was making a recovery.

RETURNED HOME

Meyerle returned home two days ago from the Veterans Administration Hospital at Seattle and said he had been pronounced "cured."

He has smoked heavily for some years and continues to do so. But after the 1959 diagnosis he "willed" himself to live and practiced his beliefs that good food, plenty of exercise and "good spirits" would bring recovery.

* * *

A VA Hospital physician at Seattle, who asked not to be identified, said Wednesday: "As far as we can tell, Mr. Mayerle has no evidence of cancer at the present time."

X rays were made and tissue taken by his staff in an exploratory operation early in 1959 and the tissue was definitely found to be malignant, the physician said. The evidence was sent to the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, Washington, D.C.

* * *

Mayerle, who has a wife, Betty, and three children, Wanda, 17, Denise, 13, and Joe Jr., 5, has had between six and seven hundred calls and letters from cancer sufferers. He has tried to answer many of them and a South Dakota family paid his expenses to visit a patient there.

"I don't know what I can do for them, but if it makes them better to talk to me, I'm happy to do so," he said.

After the 1959 exploratory operation, Mayerle received a small amount of X-ray treatment, less than usual, and he had "quite a fever" for a week or two, the physician said.

Confesses Killing Chief of Bhutan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) The Times of India reported today that a Bhutanese Army private has confessed assassinating the premier of the Himalayan state of Bhutan.

* * *

In a dispatch from Phuntsoling, the Bhutanese town where Prime Minister Jigme Dorji was killed last Sunday night, the paper said the shot was fired by Jambay Dukpa, 45. His motive was not reported.

* * *

Dukpa was arrested Wednesday in Tala, 10 miles from the scene of the assassination, the dispatch said.

Indian officials said they had received no official word of the arrest. India is responsible for the foreign and defense affairs of Bhutan, a buffer state between Communist - controlled Tibet and northeast India.

U.N. Troubleshooter Bunche Seeks to Settle Cyprus Crisis

AP Photofax

LIGHT MOMENT — U. N. Undersecretary for Political Affairs Dr. Ralph Bunche (right) and Gen. Singh Gyani, commander of the U. N. peace force on Cyprus, share a light moment before their serious work begins. Bunche said at an airport news conference his task will be to "see and listen well" during his three-day visit.

NICOSIA Cyprus (UPI) — Top United Nations troubleshooter Ralph J. Bunche stepped into the Cyprus crisis today in an effort to avert a clash between the Greek Cypriot government and Turkey.

Bunche arranged a meeting this morning with President Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot community, to be followed by talks with Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, head of the rival Turkish Cypriots.

Informed sources said Bunche would warn Makarios against trying to forcefully remove Turkish Army troops from the strategic Nicosia-Kyrenia Highway. U.N. officials feared that such a move by the Greek Cypriots would trigger an armed conflict with the Turks.

U.N. officials reported some firing this morning around Hilarion castle, a Turkish Cypriot stronghold overlooking the highway, but details of the incident were not immediately available.

★ ★ ★

There were no known casualties.

TRUSTED BY THANT

Bunche, a U.N. undersecretary and one of the Secretary General Thant's most trusted men, arrived last night for three days of negotiations on problems facing the U.N. peace force in policing the truce between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Though few incidents of violence had been reported this week, the island was tense because of Makarios' determination to dislodge the Turkish troops.

Informed sources said Bunche would seek clarification of Makarios' intentions and reinforce warnings already expressed by the U.N. force commander, Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani of India.

★ ★ ★

U.N. officials believed that a Greek Cypriot bid to reopen by force the Nicosia-Kyrenia road, where the Turkish troops and Turkish Cypriots have been dug in for weeks, would prompt the landing of Turkish reinforcements.

★ ★ ★

Any such move by Turkey likely would provoke similar action by Greece, turning this Mediterranean island into a powder keg.

MUTUAL WARNINGS

Turkey and Greece, partners in NATO, already have warned each other against military intervention in the Cyprus situation.

Makarios said earlier this week that reopening the Turkish-controlled highway was a "matter of urgency." The road runs north from Nicosia to the important port of Kyrenia and to Turkish Cypriot strongholds along the northern coast.

Because Turkey refused to withdraw its troops from the highway to their barracks, Makarios unilaterally canceled the 1960 treaty of alliance which permits the stationing of 650 Turkish and 900 Greek troops on the island.

★ ★ ★

Turkey rejected the Greek Cypriot abrogation of the treaty, and said the Turkish troops had to hold their positions for security reasons.

The Turkish troops have been entrenched along the road since heavy fighting broke out in December over communal differences concerning the constitution. Total claims by both sides put casualties at 268 dead, 1,010 wounded and 219 missing.

★ ★ ★

Caught in the middle of the dispute are the 5,500 British and 1,000 Canadian troops of the U.N. force trying to prevent further fighting in an atmosphere of strong enmity and high tension.

Sentiment against the U.N. troops was developing on both sides.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the ODRINEX plan. You must lose ugly fat or your money back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The ODRINEX plan contains a tiny tablet and is easily swallowed. When you take ODRINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your own doctor will tell you, when you eat less, you weigh less. Get rid of excess fat and live longer. Of course ODRINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $3.00 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package to your druggist and get your full money back. No questions asked. The ODRINEX plan is sold with this guarantee by:

Takes Her Citizenship Oath

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Mrs. Aslang Vaieland, 50, neither heard nor saw the ceremony that made her an American citizen.

But Mrs. Vaieland, who is deaf and blind, wanted no special favors.

Mrs. Vaieland came to the United States five years ago from Norway.

When Federal Judge A. Sherman Christensen offered to waive the repetition of the oath of citizenship yesterday, Mrs. Vaieland tearfully told him she wanted to participate in the ceremony.

As the judge read the oath, a friend interpreted it by tapping in sign language on Mrs. Vaieland's hand.

Rooney Is Allowed to Use Trust Fund

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Actor Mickey Rooney has received permission to tap a $120,000 trust fund for $90,000 to pay overdue federal and state income taxes.

★ ★

Rooney wasn't supposed to touch the fund until he was 60, but Superior Court Judge Ben Koening ruled yesterday the 43-year-old actor needs the money now. The fund and another the same size were established in 1940 by Rooney's mother.

Medicine Will Ease Addison's Disease

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

As with the diabetic, one usually sees for the first time the patient with adrenal cortical hypofunction (so-called Addison's disease) severely ill from some complication which has brought his condition to a state of crisis, says Dr. John E. Howard, associate professor of medicine, Johns Hopkins.

For the patient, who has noted browning of the skin, weakness, a little weight loss, and fall in blood pressure . . . one can at once prescribe 2 mg. of desoxycorticosterone acetate daily intramuscularly and 12.5 mg. of cortisone orally (by mouth) after breakfast and supper, with every confidence that he or she will feel as well as ever within one or two weeks and be able to carry on all his or her usual activities.

"I honestly believe that, given the choice, one would today rather be afflicted with adrenal cortical hypofunction (impairment of adrenal gland function) than with diabetes mellitus."

Addison's disease (impairment of adrenal function) is due to idiopathic atrophy (shrinking or wasting of the adrenal glands from unknown or undetermined cause) or hemorrhage into the gland or invasion of the gland by tuberculosis or cancer.

So treatment with the steroids, such as cortisone by mouth and or injections of desoxycorticosterone acetate into muscle, is comparable with regular injections of insulin and or one or two daily doses of Orinase by mouth daily in the treatment of diabetes.

SUBSTITUTION

This is substitution therapy—that is to say, the steroids, given regularly, function in place of the hormone or internal secretion of the adrenal glands which are no longer able to manufacture an adequate amount of it; and insulin given regularly, functions in place of the hormone or internal secretion of the islands of Langerhans in the pancreas (abdominal sweetbread) which can no longer manufacture an adequate amount of it.

Just how Orinase, in tablet form, by mouth, works in place of insulin by injection, in mild or moderate diabetes in adults, I am not qualified to explain.

The chemical name for Orinase is tolbutamide. It is available only on prescription and can be safely used only under the physician's control, at least until the proper dose for the individual case is determined.

* * *

The steroids, likewise, are available only on prescription and can be safely used only under the physician's observation.

NOT LASTING

Here I emphasize that the effect of insulin, cortisone, hydrocortisone, hydrocortone, prednisalone and the other steroids or "miracle medicines" is temporary.

* * *

The latter-day specialist or merchant of medicine who is not frank about this, in the treatment of chronic joint disability, for example, is as trustworthy as the fellow who runs the shell game at the county fair.

* * *

All the more reprehensible if he happens to be a member of the hospital staff, a partner in a "clinic" or a professor in the medical school and by "dignified silence" lets the credulous patient expect or hope for a miracle.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Every time I think of sensational leads, I go back to two that I made against the late Ely Culbertson. I will show the one that succeeded in today's article.

JACOBY

This was in the Culbertson-Lenz match of 1931. Contract was new and there were no such things as four no-trump conventions.

We did have forcing bids and also a huisance bid that I had invented especially for the match.

Today the bid is called the pre-emptive jump overcall. At that time they just called it a psychic.

Actually my bid was not a psychic because my partner and both opponents knew it showed a weak hand with some sort of heart suit.

I shudder today when I see how very weak my heart suit was but I made this bid back in 1931 when I was considered more reckless.

The call did not discourage my opponents at all. If anything, it caused them to overbid to a slam.

The slam would have been made easily without a spade lead, but, playing West, I opened the six of spades.

4 ♥	Pass	5 ♠	Pass
5 ♦	Pass	6 ♦	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ 6

My reason was that I hoped to discourage a finesse against the king in case North held the ace and queen, but instead my partner took his ace and returned the suit.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

East	South	West	North
1 ♦	Pass	1 N.T.	Pass
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 N.T.

You, South, hold:
♠ A 2 ♥ K 8 ♦ 7 6 5 4 ♣ A Q 4 3 2
What do you do now

A — Bid three no-trump. Your close alternate choice is to pass, but your partner's two no-trump bid has certainly invited game and you have 13 points and a five card suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two no-trump your partner raises your two clubs to three. What do you do now?

Sweden Aide Goes on Trial

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) Col. Stig Wennerstroem, former Swedish air attache in Washington, went on trial today on charges of exploiting positions of trust to spy for the Russians for 15 years.

Wennerstroem, 57, a suave, silver-haired Swedish Air Force officer, admitted his guilt when arrested last year and tried to commit suicide by taking an overdose of sleeping pills while in prison.

The trial was behind closed doors, apparently to prevent disclosure of top-secret information expected to come up in testimony.

The full extent of Wennerstroem's activities and their effect will thus not be made public until the secrets act permits the case to be aired 50 years from now.

Conviction could mean life imprisonment for Wennerstroem. Sweden has no death penalty.

WORST SPY?

Wennerstroem is thought to have done more to undermine Swedish defenses than any other spy in the country's history, and is also said to have revealed North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) secrets.

He served as Swedish air attache in Moscow from 1949 to 1952 and held a similar post in Washington from 1952 to 1957. He was then named section chief of the Swedish Defense Command and a military expert in the foreign office, positions he held until his arrest last June.

He also was a member of the Swedish delegation to the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva.

Wennerstroem allegedly received $120,000 for his 15 years as a Soviet spy.

* * *

Wennerstroem's arrest shocked the nation and shook the Social Democratic government of Premier Tage Erlander.

The officer was arrested by two security agents while on his way to the foreign office. He had been under surveillance for some time.

TWO ELVISES — Elvis Presley plays dual roles in "Kissin' Cousins," now showing at the Miracle Mile Drive-In. He portrays a lieutenant trying to help the government set up an ICBM base on a Tennessee mountain occupied by a family including the "other" Elvis. Also starring in the musical comedy are Arthur O'Connell, Pam Austin, Cynthia Pepper and Yvonne Craig (above with Elvis).

Lady Bird Set to Pay Tribute to Mrs. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies to New York City today to speak at the first anniversary luncheon of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation.

* * *

The First Lady planned a tribute to her predecessor in the White House before a gathering of some 2,500 women.

* * *

Mrs. Johnson will fly back to Washington sometime in early evening, the White House said. Her flights were to be on commercial airliners.

* * *

The luncheon marks the first anniversary of the chartering of the foundation by Congress to continue Mrs. Roosevelt's work on behalf of human rights, international good will, cancer research and aid to underprivileged children.

Bob Hope Should Know

Johnson's Jokes Up to Par

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Lyndon B. Johnson can hold his own with his predecessors in the joke department, reports Bob Hope, just back from an encounter with presidential humor.

Hope did his usual skit job at the White House photographers annual dinner last weekend, and Variety reported that the President was equally a smash. The Variety verdict: "Johnson knows the words to punch and the most effective ways to pause. LBJ is in the Bob Hope class in comedy."

THOMAS

The comedian concurs with the show biz bible's review. "He's very fast with a line," said Hope. "When I walked in his office with the other entertainers the day before the show, the President asked me, 'How do you find time to make all that money?'"

Hope classifies Johnson on a par with other recent presidents in the quip department, and he should know. He has performed seven times at Washington functions before the last five presidents.

ALL GREAT

"They were all great," said Bob. "Roosevelt had a wonderful sense of humor, and Truman and Eisenhower do all right, too. Kennedy's wit was marvelous; he loved nothing better than a good joke."

Hope demonstrated some of his own material from the dinner. "I was going to stay at the White House, but I didn't bring a flashlight. They're turning off the lights at the State Department, too. Dean Rusk doesn't want Senator Fulbright to find his office.

* * *

"Faces really change here in Washington. I asked my cab driver what has happened to Jimmy Hoffa, and he said, 'Speaking.' Actually I'm here in Washington as part of a cultural exchange. You sent us Pierre Salinger. If he gets elected, he may be our first wetback senator. He's running against George Murphy, the only campaigner who takes along both a campaign manager and a choreographer."

RUNNING GAG

Hope figures the President and the light switches will be one of the great running gags. The comedian used it himself while Johnson was showing the entertainment troupe around the White House.

Said Hope: "You know, Mr. President, you go out of the rooms first and turn out the light, leaving us in the dark. You may be saving $3,000 a month in electricity, but you're liable to be spending $3,000 on broken legs."

* * *

He added: "It's the first time I ever left a room by Braille."

Hope figures the President knows he has a good gimmick going. That seems to be substantiated by Johnson's parting remark at the dinner, as quoted by Variety: "Will the last one out please remember to turn off the lights?"

Ted Kennedy Lauds JFK's Rights Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D - Mass., joined the Senate civil rights debate today with a declaration that John F. Kennedy's "heart and his soul are in this bill.

"If his life and death had a meaning," said the assassinated president's youngest brother, "it was that we should not hate but love one another; we should use our powers not to create conditions of oppression that lead to violence, but conditions of freedom that lead to peace."

It was the maiden Senate address for the young senator and he conceded he spoke on the legislation with some hesitation for "a freshman senator should be seen, not heard; should learn, not teach."

He said in his prepared remarks that he had planned to make his first speech on issues affecting industry and employment in his home state "but I could not follow this debate for the last four weeks — I could not see this issue envelop the emotion and conscience of the nation — without changing my mind."

To limit himself to local issues "in the face of this great national question, would be to demean the seat in which I sit," he said.

* * *

Kennedy, whose other brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, helped draw up the rights proposals, said he believed "the basic problem the American people face in the 1960s in the field of civil rights is one of adjustment.

"It is the task of adjusting to the fact that Negroes are going to be members of the community of American citizens, with the same rights and the same responsibilities as every one of us."

He said that in 1780 a Catholic in Massachusetts was not allowed to vote or to hold office and in 1840 an Irishman could not get a job above that of a common laborer.

MAKE ADJUSTMENT

"I believe that if America has been able to make this adjustment for the Irish, the Italians, the Jews, the Poles, the Greeks, the Portuguese — we can make it for Negroes. And the nation will be strengthened in the process."

Navy Plane Found Wrecked in Sierra

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP)—The wreckage of a Navy C45 twin-engine Beechcraft missing since March 31 was discovered Wednesday in the High Sierra 65 miles northwest of China Lake. All four men aboard were dead.

A Navy jet spotted the wreckage at 12,500 feet on a ridge three miles south of Mt. Langley and seven miles southeast of Mt. Whitney.

Water Eruption in Anchorage Due to Thaw

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The ground started bubbling up before the eyes of startled Anchorage residents, then water began gushing out.

For those who had lived through earthquake and tidal wave damage, the new upheaval brought apprehension.

"I hope it isn't a volcano," said Mrs. Robert L. Hanson.

It wasn't.

Roger M. Waller of the U. S. Geological Survey, said under ground water pressure probably had built up in the spring thaw and pushed up the soil until it fractured and bubbled out Wednesday.

The result was a bulge about 50 feet across. Residents said the ground had risen 10 feet, pushing up trees as it went.

Despite Strike Possibility

Stock Market on Even Keel

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained on an even keel early this afternoon despite the possibility of a nationwide rail strike threatened for tomorrow. Trading was fairly active.

Although rail stocks were off moderately on average, some leading carriers had steadied and the loss for the entire group was not nearly as sharp as yesterday's.

Meanwhile, leading steels and motors moved slightly higher. Airlines resumed their latest rally.

Cigarette stocks, helped by another published report of gains in cigarette smoking in a recovery from the decline on the Government health report, posted a string of gains.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 303.9 with industrials up .6, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .80 at 824.99.

* * *

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were irregular.

U.S. Government bonds were unchanged to slightly lower in fairly quiet dealings over the counter.

Actor Sellers Near Crisis End

Still on Critical List but Is Resting Well

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British actor Peter Sellers approached the end of his crisis period today with his doctors expressing guarded optimism for his recovery from a heart attack.

The crisis is expected to extend until noon.

* * *

Sellers, 38, was stricken Monday while making his first Hollywood film, "Kiss Me, Stupid."

The three doctors attending him said he was resting well and his general condition was encouraging but still critical.

His agent, Richard Shepherd, told newsmen Wednesday: "I think he's going to be all right because he is so strong in every way."

GOOD SPIRITS

Sellers reportedly was in good spirits.

"He's very witty," said nurse Joan Epstein. "He makes funny faces on occasion to make us laugh."

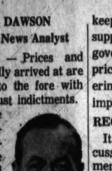

Sellers faces at least six months' convalescence, hospital sources said.

Filming of "Kiss Me, Stupid" probably will be delayed until the first of the year, Shepherd said. A decision on whether Sellers will continue as the star will be up to director Billy Wilder, he added.

* * *

Sellers' bride of two months, Swedish actress Britt Ekland, 21, said she thought her husband had been working too hard, Shepherd said.

Sellers' two children by a previous marriage, who had been visiting their father here, were to return to England today.

DAWSON

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Prices and how they're really arrived at are again sharply to the fore with the steel antitrust indictments.

The average citizen's pocketbook is affected despite the long and often devious road from the prime producer to the retail tag on consumer products. And he wonders just how the price is set. Is he getting a fair shake?

So far the charges against eight major steel companies of conspiring from 1955 to 1961 to fix prices on carbon steel sheet such as used in autos and household appliances are only that—the charges are yet to be proved in court.

* * *

But sure to be aired in coming weeks and months is speculation on how many industries have conspired to fix prices and also the question: What roles do business ethics or fear of prosecution play in fixing prices, or steering clear of fixing them?

Federal antitrust suits in the electrical equipment, steel and other industries seek to answer these questions.

Or are prices just quietly administered, as often charged.

ANY PRICE

That is, are the giants in any industry able to set about any price they think most likely to bring in the most profitable volume of sales, and must the little fellow just tag along?

This theory was advanced after prices failed to slide much in recent recessions in spite of sharp fall-offs in demand and therefore in production. The charge was that the giants were controlling supply to maintain prices.

* * *

Another postwar charge was that the wage-price spiral was opposed by neither labor nor management, that wage demands weren't fought against because companies could just raise prices to meet them. The charge was complacency at the expense of the consumer, with his unsatisfied urge to buy many gadgets.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

The theory in a democracy is that prices are set by supply and demand. And if monopolies are formed, antitrust laws are passed to break them up, and government policing protects the consumer. Then it's just a question of how big is the demand for any product in relation to the supply of it—prices going up when demand outruns supply, and dipping when unsold supplies pile up.

* * *

But in today's complex economy, this law of supply and demand often has a hard time operating.

Government controls often keep prices from responding to supply and demand. The U.S. government used to set the price of sugar by raising or lowering the amount that could be imported.

REGULATE SUPPLY

It now enters into, or discusses, international agreements that regulate the supply, and therefore the price, of such things as coffee, tin, and even gold.

The United States has import quotas on many commodities, such as oil, and tariff barriers on many others, all aimed at preventing low-priced foreign goods ruining higher-priced domestic production. The price you pay for gas, electricity, commutation tickets, phone service, all are regulated by various government agencies—not by uncontrolled supply and demand.

* * *

The government of late has been experimenting with guidelines designed to set barriers for increases in prices or wage scales above the general rate of rise in the economy or the cost of producing a unit of goods as mechanization spread. To some management spokesmen this looks as much like fixing prices as does any corporate conspiracy.

FIGHTS MONOPOLIES

The government actively fights any new monopolies like those that in the old days pushed prices as high as the traffic would bear. But consumers still complain of high prices on newly patented products, just as they suspect the corporate giants of maintaining prices above a level that competition would justify.

* * *

Management can argue that if the giants in any industry lowered prices enough, all the little competitors would die, and you'd be right back to monopolies.

And few, this side of the Soviet Union, would like to see the government take over the role of final arbiter of all prices.

Universal Gets UAW Support

Union, Firm Officials Hit Zone Ruling

Union and management officials for Universal Oil Seal Co. have joined forces to secure city approval for rezoning of plant property, warning it could affect future manufacturing operations in Pontiac.

Ken Morris, codirector of UAW Region 1, in a letter sent to all city commissioners said an unfavorable review of a recent zoning decision could mean the company would leave town.

"There have been discussions for some time about the likelihood of the work of this plant being moved to the Chicago area," by the Parent Chicago Rawhide Corp., Morris said.

Not only would the loss mean the end of one of Pontiac's leading medium-size industries, but would affect the jobs of some 160 members of UAW Local 723 at the plant, he stated.

At issue is an April 1 City Planning Commission recommendation against rezoning a triangular piece of land, owned by Universal, bounded by Mansfield, Hollywood and Kennett.

Nearby home owners objected to a commercial rezoning, saying it would lower nearby property values.

Lou Cudin, company general manager, said the rezoning is being sought now to enlarge the plant's parking area. But he held out the belief the property might figure in a future plant expansion.

"I really can't say what the future holds, but this rezoning would certainly better our bargaining position with the parent company," said Cudin.

Universal now employs about 200 persons, including supervisors and clerical help, said Cudin the highest number on its payroll in recent years.

The firm manufactures stampings, springs and seals which are shipped to Chicago Rawhide for assembly and delivery to major automotive markets.

* * *

With the rezoning approved, a sub-operation in Waterford Township employing about 60 would be brought to the main plant in Pontiac, Cudin explained, a major factor in the company's battle to cut overhead costs and remain competitive.

The plan commission recommendation not to rezone is expected to come before the City Commission for final action next week.

3 Return to 'Attractive' Prison Life

The dull routine of prison camp life is more attractive than the freedom of outdoor living for three escaped convicts — particularly if they have not eaten for three days.

Yesterday, the cold and starving trio, walkaways from Camp Pontiac in White Lake Township, meekly gave up to police after going to a Rose Township home and asking for hot coffee.

They told the home owner, Merle Gordon, 1608 Davisburg that they were wanted and would he please call police.

Waiting and still in their brown prison garb when Holly police and sheriff's deputies arrived were Walter L. Washburn, 19, of Grant; Revere C. Padget, 21, of Lansing; and Larry D. Heise, 21, of Bellevue.

They told police they had nothing to eat since they left the minimum security camp Sunday night and had drank water from streams which run through the area.

Police said they apparently had been lost all the time because they seemed to have been walking around in circles.

Attempts to sleep on the ground were useless because it got too cold and they had to keep walking to stay warm, they said.

* * *

They were returned to Camp Pontiac today.

200 Miles for Birthday

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) —Joe Farris wanted to celebrate his birthday in the big city.

So, he got out his dog sled and mushed 60 miles to Ruby. That took 2½ days. Then he caught a plane to Fairbanks, 140 miles east.

Joe, born in Laurel Bloomery, Tenn., got here yesterday—his 85th birthday.

Rail Strike Catches Illinois Commuters

CHICAGO (AP) — Tempers were a little shorter and dinners a little later Wednesday as 33,000 Illinois Central commuters first frantically, then wearily struggled to find a new route to and from work.

"It can't be," was the stunned reaction of early commuters as they learned of the surprise strike.

* * *

"I thought he was teasing," a secretary said of the bus driver who first told her.

Many of the earliest South Side commuters were caught at the station unaware when the strike began at 4:30 a.m. CST.

LONELY STATION

"I couldn't understand why there wasn't anybody here," one woman said. "It's usually crowded."

Parking lots about the IC stations had a bleak, forlorn appearance. City traffic engineers estimated there were 12,000 to 15,000 more automobiles downtown than usual.

* * *

At the height of the morning rush hour, a trip from south suburban Park Forest that normally takes about 40 minutes by train took nearly two hours by car.

Cars jammed with pooled passengers were bumper-to-bumper on the Dan Ryan Expressway from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.

Many commuters—for the first time—took buses.

* * *

Other travelers used the elevated trains and cabs. The Rock Island Railroad, which runs parallel to the IC about three miles west, reported an extra 2,500 commuters in the morning and pressed extra cars into service at night.

"This kind of caught us with our cabs down," a Yellow Cab Co. official said in the morning, but by evening the cabs, as well as the commuters, were prepared for the homeward rush.

'Study Likely on Home Rule'

Head of Committee Doubtful of Passage

LANSING (AP) — The chairman of the House Committee on Towns and Counties said today a study of county home rule probably will be made this year in lieu of enabling legislation.

Rep. Roy Brigham, R-Battle Creek, said he did not expect a Senate bill now pending in his committee to be reported out. A House bill on county home rule died there earlier.

"I don't think we should have such legislation until the question has been given more study," said Brigham. "There are about three places in the country where they have county home rule and, as I understand it, all of them wish they hadn't adopted it."

Brigham introduced a resolution Wednesday to create a joint House-Senate committee of 10 members, to make recommendations to the 1965 legislature.

The bill would enable three counties—Wayne, Macomb and Oakland—to adopt charter home rule as provided by the constitution.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR father Henry J. Brown who passed away April 8, 1962.
We cannot clasp your hand, dear father,
Your face we cannot see;
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
Sadly missed by son Thomas E. Brown and daughter Ruth Debow.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ADOLPH Frederick Stolt who passed away April 9, 1960.
His memory is as dear today:
As in the hour he passed away.
Sadly missed by wife and daughter.

Antipolio Push Goes Military

'Commanders' Get Briefing

The April 19 tricounty oral polio immunization took on the air of a military maneuver last night at a mass briefing for commanders of some 95 stations to be set up in Oakland County.

The "commanders," mostly housewives, were told they will each have charge of about 60 other volunteer workers in temporary anti-polio centers in schools, shopping centers and union halls.

Working with them will be doctors, nurses and pharmacists. Civil Defense radio cars will be used in a communications network.

"Many of you have worked with us before on other polio clinics, but never on anything this big," said Dr. Worth W. Henderson, chairman of Oakland County Medical Society's public health committee.

* * *

"This calls for a high degree of planning and cooperation," he told volunteers meeting at Birmingham Community House, "since each of these centers may be handling thousands of people."

TWO STAGES

Henderson said the immunization will take place in two stages. Oral vaccine drops on a sugar cube will be given the public in April 19 and again June 14.

The "feedings" are eight weeks apart to ensure maximum protection, but a person missing one of the dosages can go to his family doctor to receive it, Henderson explained.

He said the oral vaccine is available to all comers, even those who may have recently had Salk polio shots. The combined oral shot protection has been found to be the most effective immunization, he said.

* * *

"These oral dosages are a replacement for the injectable vaccine. Once you have two doses you can forget the shot business," Henderson stressed as a selling point. The protection may last beyond five years, he said.

NOMINAL DONATIONS

The Oakland County Medical Society, in cooperation with medical societies in Wayne and Macomb counties is bearing the cost, but hopes to break even with nominal donations collected at the centers. No one who can not pay will be refused the vaccine, he stated.

* * *

The oral vaccine can be given without sugar to small children and diabetics, Henderson said. It can be taken safely by anyone over one year old, and has no effect on other maladies.

Sexton Post Filled in Waterford Twp.

Robert F. Snyder has been named sexton of Waterford Township cemeteries. The post has been vacant since last August when former sexton Ray Graessle resigned.

Snyder's duties include working with funeral directors in arranging funerals and supervision of maintenance at the four cemeteries.

While the sexton position was vacant cemetery duties were handled by the township water department.

U. S. Says No Pact for Drilling in Lakes

WASHINGTON (AP) So far as the United States is concerned, there is no need for an international agreement with Canada to prohibit drilling for oil and gas in Lake Huron and St. Clair and other Great Lakes waters, Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., says.

He quoted a State Department official as saying a recent statement by Ontario Province Premier John Roberts to the Ontario Legislature, to the effect the province does not expect any change in the present prohibition of such drilling, is as good as any agreement.

★ ★ ★

Havey said it was feared that drilling, if resumed after a five-year ban, would pollute the waters and harm recreational facilities, commercial fishing and fresh water.

Six-Year-Old Killed

DETROIT (AP) A car struck and killed Scott Simonetta, 6, of Detroit, Wednesday on a street near his home.

A strong wind that sets in suddenly, lasts for several minutes, then dies away somewhat less suddenly is called a squall.

Woman Guides Thresher Fund-Raising

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the 129 men of the submarine Thresher went down with her to an ocean grave a year ago they left behind almost 200 grieving children — and a lot of people who remembered.

★ ★ ★

A fund was started to help educate the children and on big and little contributions it has grown to more than $140,000 under the guidance of a New England woman with deep roots in American history.

She is Valentine Hollingsworth of West Beach Hill, Beverly Farms, Mass. She is the mother of five children and as a great-great-great granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton she christened the Polaris missile submarine Alexander Hamilton two years ago.

Mrs. Hollingsworth, who started the fund collection with a goal of $500,000 was honored Wednesday in a surprise ceremony at the Pentagon.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze gave her a certificate of appreciation for her "ambitious, unselfish dedication and driving zeal."

★ ★ ★

On hand were high-ranking admirals and civilian officials of the U.S. Navy as well as flag officers of the British, Canadian and Japanese navies.

★ ★ ★

Nitze praised her as a "person who has done a particularly outstanding job" in her year-long-campaign with no hired help.

LEARNED MUCH

She told newsmen that for her this had been an "on-the-job training" experience. But help came from many quarters, including the Navy and a Boston bank, the Old Colony Trust Co., which has volunteered to serve as trustee and receiver for contributions to the fund.

★ ★ ★

The "lion's share of the assistance has come from the Navy, not just our Navy but the Royal Navy, the Royal Canadian navy and the Japanese navy," Mrs. Hollingsworth said.

★ ★ ★

A British navy bandmaster wrote a song in tribute to the Thresher's dead and all proceeds from the copyrighted song goes to the fund.

The fund to send the children to college is for those of both the Navy personnel aboard and the several civilian technicians in the Thresher when she failed to surface from a test dive off Cape Cod.

BORN AFTER

There are 194 children now, 11 of whom were born after the nuclear submarine sank, she said.

★ ★ ★

Contributions range from dimes mailed by children to a stock transfer worth $8,000, Mrs. Hollingsworth said. Last Father's Day, a number of children sent contributions which they said they would have spent for Father's Day gifts.

'Hello Dolly' Show Tune Brings Down White House

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The secret of giving a successful party nowadays is to play "Hello Dolly" every other song . . . It's even the White House favorite . . . Carol Channing and young composer-lyricist Jerry Herman are surprised to see it booming into another "The Music Goes Round and Round" kind of smash hit.

WILSON

"I've bought three new gowns on the strength of the success of the show album," says Carol. "We've now only got Al Hirt's 'Honey in the Horn' and The Beatles between us and first place." . . . Veteran songwriters are skeptical about the lawsuits charging the song resembles previous hits. Tune detectives are busy seeking to prove that the "previous hits" resembled "even more previous hits."

Richard Burton thinks Robert Preston is "the foremost American Shakespearean actor with a voice like golden thunder"—and he will confer with him about doing "Othello" alternating in the role of Iago. So Richard declares in an ABC taped TVcast, adding, "Of course, there's a good woman's role in that, too—Desdemona." . . . Liz Taylor flew Alexandre of Paris here to do her coif for the "Hamlet" opening . . . First night at the Regency, Liz, Richard & Co. had fried chicken in their suites cooked southern style by one of Liz's secretaries, John Lee, suh!

Edie Adams went practically incognito to "The Best Man" premiere: in a flaming red red, in her own all-white Rolls Royce, 1952 model, like the Queen of England has, and smoking an occasional cigar . . . They may be kidding but Lee Remick and Harry Guardino claim they wound up in such a feud after "Anyone Can Whistle" that they virtually expectorate at each other after and even during their love scenes.

Romney Presents Districting Plan

Push Rail Talks to Avert Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz pressed emergency negotiating sessions today in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike at midnight.

After a night session running into the early morning hours, Wirtz met with union representatives again at 10 a.m. (Pontiac time). Railroad negotiators were scheduled to join the session an hour and a half later.

★ ★ ★

The labor secretary indicated that he planned to keep negotiations going "right on through" to the strike deadline if no agreement was reached.

He had reported "no progress" when the night session ended at 3:15 a.m.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, who was absent from yesterday's sessions, came to the 10 a.m. meeting.

Gilbert declined comment on the prospects of averting a strike. "I just got here," was his answer to questions from newsmen.

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was expected this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Five unions and nearly 200 railroads are involved in the dispute.

GRAVELY WORRIED

As the all-night sessions ended, Wirtz indicated that President Johnson was gravely worried about the prospect that a rail strike might seriously damage the nation's economy.

★ ★ ★

"The ability or failure to reach agreement will determine whether there is or is not a major disruption in the nation's present encouraging economic advance," Wirtz said.

Wirtz earlier had announced he would hold the union and management negotiators in continuous sessions but a snag developed when two union presidents were unable to arrive here in time for the hastily called conference.

The recess came at 3:15 a.m. after about seven hours of talks.

★ ★

Wirtz said that when the discussions got down to the specific points in dispute, the absence of the two union chiefs became important.

NOT ANTICIPATED

"It is a complication that I had not fully anticipated," the secretary said.

★ ★

The dispute enters on the railroads' proposed changes in wage structure, job classifications, length of train runs and other working conditions.

Congress Seats Follow Guide of U.S. Court

Units Vary by Less Than One Per Cent in Population Factor

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney's plan for congressional redistricting, presented today, adheres close to the standard of equal population as the controlling factor, as ordered by a U.S. District Court.

All districts in the Romney plan would vary less than 1 per cent from the population average of 411,790 persons per district.

The governor explained it also attempts to keep districts compact and contiguous and preserve existing districts as much as possible.

It cuts across seven county lines — in Montcalm, Clinton, Genesee, Allegan, Cass, Oakland and Wayne.

★ ★ ★

"But the determining factor whether to cross a county line and where, once again, is equal population," said Romney.

RETAIN LEAD

The plan possibly would enable Republicans to retain their 11-8 lead in Congress, or lose no more than one.

Romney said his plan "comes the closest to meeting judicial guidelines — vague as they may appear at times — as any plan put forth in the four years since Michigan was assigned a 19th congressman."

He said the proposal was being offered only "for discussion" but called it "a fair plan, a plan which follows the dictates of the courts, a plan which deserved support of Democrats as well as Republicans."

★ ★ ★

The largest district in the Romney plan would be the 11th, the Upper Peninsula, and northern Lower Peninsula, with a total population of 413,880.

The smallest would be the 18th, composed of southern and eastern Oakland County, with 410,305.

★ ★ ★

New Method Means Shifts for the County

Chop Livingston County off the 19th District, give Avon Township back to the 18th District and pick up part of northwestern Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

Both 18th and 19th districts in Oakland County would then hit almost squarely on the district average population of 411,790 and the 19th would become a toss-up between Democrats and Republicans at the polls.

This would be the effect on Oakland County of a revised districting that was proposed today by Gov. George Romney.

The plan was prepared to satisfy a federal court panel's requirement for district populations as nearly equal as practicable.

★ ★ ★

The court said last year's districting attempt by the State Legislature was not good enough.

NEAR EQUALITY

Romney's proposal features almost perfect equality in district populations by freely crossing county lines.

Oakland County's 19th, now 16 per cent below the 411,000 average, would be brought up close to that figure by gaining Livonia, Northville and Plym-

Claims Goldwater Gained at County GOP Confab

Even the disagreement was quiet at the Oakland County Republican convention last night.

As a result of all the silence, however, backers of U. S. Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination today claimed victory at the convention.

"We gained 10 or 11 state delegates," said Robert F. Smith of Royal Oak, head of the Michigan Goldwater Committee in the county.

"They were formerly undecided," he said, "but swung over because they resented the restrictions imposed on the convention by party leadership."

He said County GOP chairman Charles L. Lyle had threatened to use uniformed policemen to prevent any demonstrations. Lyle had sent a letter to party leaders warning against a demonstration by Goldwater forces.

★ ★ ★

"We didn't plan any fireworks," said Smith last night, standing in the back of the auditorium in Southfield High School as delegates plodded through routine business.

★ ★ ★

But today he said his group's remaining silent won over the 10 or 11 delegates who resented Lyle's banning of signs, banners, posters and demonstrastrations. "That's unheard of at a political convention," Smith said.

IN ADDITION

Smith said the 10 or 11 were in addition to 53 committed Goldwater supporters among the 161 state convention delegates listed on slates prepared at pre-convention meetings and caucuses.

Of the rest, he said, only 21 were anti-Goldwater.

A party spokesman said today that Smith's estimate of Goldwater strength was "rather high." Another party official last night estimated "25 or 30 committed Goldwater people" in the delegation.

★ ★ ★

Officially the delegation is uncommitted, as requested by Gov. George Romney in telegrams last night to Republican conventions throughout the state.

The 161 delegates on the slates chosen in caucuses of the GOP

Partly Cloudy for Tomorrow

Skies will be partly cloudy with little temperature change in the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman said the low will drop to 28 to 34 tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to climb to 47 to 53. Partly cloudy and slightly warmer is the forecast for Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Morning westerly winds at 10 miles per hour will become west to southwest at 10 to 15 m.p.h. late today.

Twenty-six was the low prior to 8 a.m. today. Temperatures had climbed to 42 by 1 p.m.

Ex-Mayor to Run as Write-In

Philip R. Sauer, a former Pontiac mayor, today announced he would campaign as a write-in candidate for the District 2 City Commission seat in the April 20 general election.

Sauer, 55, of 59 Monroe, lost the District 2 nomination in the March 2 primary by a margin of four votes.

His move means there are now two write-in candidates running April 20. The other is Emmett S. Wellbaum in District 7, who fell one vote shy of nomination in the primary.

Sauer, who owns a local restaurant, said his decision came after weeks of encouragement from many citizens and friends.

★ ★ ★

"Many of my loyal supporters in District 2 have insisted, due to the closeness of the primary vote, that I run as a write-in candidate for the Pontiac City Commission," Sauer said.

UNUSUAL INTEREST

"Because of this unusual interest and other encouragement voiced by the voters at large, I feel I am duty-bound to comply with their request and actively campaign as a write-in candidate from District 2 in the April 20 general election."

Robert C. Irwin led a field of five District 2 candidates with 544 votes in the primary. Allan J. Denham finished second with 398 votes. Sauer polled 394 votes.

It has been 20 years since a major write-in campaign has been waged in Pontiac. That write-in candidate won.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, Sauer was the man he beat.

Asked what he thought his chances were as a write-in candidate in a citywide election, Sauer replied, "There was a time I thought the problems faced by a write-in candidate were insurmountable.

★ ★ ★

"That's no longer true. I think the intelligence of the public is much higher today than ever before," he noted in reference to the complexities of machine voting.

Aviatrix Off From Mideast

ADEN (UPI) — Aviatrix Mrs. Joan Meriam Smith of Long Beach, Calif., took off from Aden at 6 a.m. today (11 p.m. EST yesterday) for Karachi on the next leg of her solo attempt to fly around the world.

Mrs. Smith, 27, spent last night here after arriving from Khartoum, Sudan, in her twin-engined Apache plane.

The other American aviatrix trying to fly alone around the world, Mrs. Jerri Mock, 38, of Columbus, Ohio, arrived in Manila last night from Bangkok.

MacArthur Charges Denied by Attlee

LONDON (UPI)—Earl Attlee, who was prime minister at the time of the Koeran War, today described as "perfect nonsense" reported charges by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur that he was betrayed in Korea by the British.

"It is perfect nonsense," Attlee said. "Why on earth should we want to do a thing like that?"

Government circles here said the report was "too obviously absurd" to warrant any official comment. They said Britain had troops fully committed in Korea, and were as anxious as MacArthur to win the war.

Emanuel Shinwell, who was the defense minister at the time in Attlee's Labor party government, said, "I can hardly believe that Gen. MacArthur said anything so foolish."

One of MacArthur's reported claims was that the British told the Communist Chinese of his plans to bomb the Yalu River bridges after the Chinese intervened in Korea.

Shinwell said, "I can remember that when Gen. MacArthur wanted to bomb the Chinese at the Yalu River, we protested most strongly because we felt it would bring the Chinese into the war. The prime minister, (then) Mr. Attlee, went to see President Truman, and Truman dismissed MacArthur."

Authoritative diplomatic circles said the accusation that Britain had leaked all MacArthur's messages to the Chinese Communists in Peking was clearly false.

Reports of MacArthur's statements were headlined in British newspapers.

See Story, Page A-14

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — This normally bustling Naval center awaited sorrowfully today the final homecoming of the Army general who took it as his adopted city.

The body of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was to arrive at 3:30 P.M. for final rites and burial Saturday in a memorial-museum-mausoleum he never saw.

Black-draped photographs, paintings and drawings of MacArthur began to appear yesterday in downtown store windows.

In the museum, a catafalque draped in purple velvet awaited the casket of MacArthur, who died Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C.

The body was to arrive at the Norfolk Naval Air Station, from which it was to be transferred — first by hearse, then by caisson drawn by six black horses — the 8½ miles to the MacArthur memorial.

Traffic Toll Hits 520

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 520 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 378.

Palmer 1st Off in Golf Classic

Masters Tournament Starts in Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Arnold Palmer had a 30-minute start on favorite Jack Nicklaus today as golf's power boys took the field in the opening round of the famed Masters tournament.

Palmer, three-time champion who is still looking for his first tournament win of the year, teed off at noon with young Labron Harris Jr., the 1962 National Amateur champion.

Nicklaus, the 24-year-old defending champion from Columbus, Ohio, went off at 12:30 p.m. with Downing Gray, the man Harris beat 1-up two years ago to win the amateur crown.

The weatherman has predicted clear, mild weather after torrential rains washed out two of the last three days of practice.

See Story, Page C-11

Most of the golfers were able to try out the tricky 6,980 - yard course only on Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Palmer and Nicklaus are both 3 to 1 choices, but a run of heavy rain has left the Augusta National course in soggy condition for the 27th annual tournament.

Mink Skin Shipment Costliest on Record

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The costliest air freight consignment ever sent through the Copenhagen airport, which is the third largest in Europe, was 70,000 mink skins worth $1,400,000, recently flown to New York.

Voters Get Election 'Bargain'

By DICK SAUNDERS

For those who look forward to exercising their constitutional right at every election, there's a real treat in store April 20.

The general municipal election a week from Monday won't be like any other biennial trip to the polls in this city's history.

There'll be more exercising of that right to vote than ever before.

Electors will have the opportunity to vote for seven city commissioners. In addition, they'll vote on two ballot proposals.

Previously, a voter could vote only for one of the two candidates running for the city commission in his district.

EACH DISTRICT

This year, electors can vote for one candidate from each of Pontiac's seven districts.

There are 14 candidates on the ballot. They are arranged in pairs, one pair per district.

The two District 1 candidates are located at the far left, then District 2, and so on across the ballot with District 7 on the far right.

★ ★ ★

SEVEN CHOICES

Voters, however, should remember that while there are seven choices to make, they're on a one-vote-per-district basis.

As always, slots are provided across the top of the machine above the names of candidates in each district for anyone wishing to cast a write-in vote for a candidate whose name doesn't appear on the ballot.

The two ballot proposals are located immediately above the City Commission voting pointers.

★ ★ ★

One is titled "Charter Amendment Tax Rate" and the other "Firemen's 56 Hour Work Week Ordinance."

ADDITIONAL LEVY

The first proposes that the city be allowed to levy an additional $11 per $1,000 of assessed property value to pay for a new police and fire pension passed two years ago, and to defray some of the cost of hiring more police and fire personnel.

The second proposes that

Examination Asked in Traffic Deaths

CADILLAC (AP) — Leslie Brunette, 26, of Fife Lake demanded examination in recorders court here Wednesday on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in a double traffic fatality. Judge Frank Miltner released him on $1,000 bond pending the hearing April 15. Brunette is charged in the deaths of Mrs. Beatrice Paris, 51, and Charles Clewly, 29, both of Rogers City, after a collision Friday on U. S. 131 in Wexford County.

Prohibition Party Seeking Signatures

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Dr. D. D. Gibbons, executive national chairman, says the Prohibition Party is going to make a new stab at qualifying a slate for state office by May 1. Dr. Gibbons said a drive to secure a required 14,900 signatures on petitions failed by April 1, thus washing out signatures obtained last October, but that a new campaign had been started.

Feelings of Death, Frustration Hang Over Viet Nam Village

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

GO DEN, Viet Nam (AP) — "My God, our soldiers were so close — why couldn't they have done something for us — anything," the village policeman cried, waving his arms in frustration and rage.

★ ★ ★

The pleasant, tree-shaded streets of this suburban town looked almost normal today, and children were singing in the concrete schoolhouse. But from dozens of houses, the sound of wailing women and the smell of incense proclaimed death such as the Viet Cong had done.

AFTER MIDNIGHT

They came a few hours after midnight Tuesday, moving stealthily in black uniforms from the rich rice fields to the west into Go Den, only 15 miles south of Saigon.

When they left, the police traffic control compound on the main road from Saigon to the Mekong Delta lay in rubble, its occupants dead or wounded.

★ ★ ★

Two hundred yards away, the self-defense corps post responsible for the town's safety lay in ruins. The big, thriving town was untouched.

Twenty-eight defenders lay dead, including the lieutenant who commanded the post. Thirty-six were wounded, most of them gravely. Thirty-seven were missing — either captives or traitors.

AIDED BY AGENTS

American sources said the raiders apparently were aided by agents inside the post who sprayed the sleeping men with bullets, signaling the attack.

The Communists also carried off 115 weapons, including 14 machine guns.

★ ★ ★

The help that never came was only three miles down the road at Ben Luc, the district capital. Police said they radioed for help as soon as the attack began. The highway is well paved, and the fight occurred almost on the road.

The Viet Cong victory occurred in Long An Province, where Vietnamese and American authorities launched a crash rehabilitation program in January.

BEST TROOPS

Several thousand of Viet Nam's best troops are in the province.

The Viet Cong had at least one machine gun, rifles and pistols, but relied mainly on homemade bombs and grenades.

★ ★ ★

Capping their success, the guerrillas went on to blow up a bridge Wednesday night a few miles away.

Today, two battalions of paratroopers parked their trucks under the billboards advertising toothpaste and hair shampoo and set out across the fields to look for the enemy. Mortar fire preceded their advance. They came back empty-handed.

URGED TO ABANDON

The post the Communists overran was of the type that Americans have been urging the Saigon government to abandon for the last two years.

Triangular, about 50 yards on each side, the post was surrounded by a water-filled moat and several aprons of barbed wire.

★ ★ ★

The police station was of much the same design.

An earthwork tower was set at each corner of the post. Two platoons of self-defense corps men, most of them trainees, were the defenders.

The Viet Cong waded across the moat and cut the barbed wire in dozens of places. The frame of a chair stood upright in the ruins of one of the towers, its guard dead.

OVER QUICKLY

It was over quickly. All three of the corner towers were blown up, and machine guns began ripping the compound to pieces.

The lieutenant in charge was wounded in his bed and crawled 20 feet to the gate where a foot bridge crossed the moat. He was cut to pieces when he reached the bridge by a Communist machine gun.

At least a dozen of his men died in the same place, trying to get out.

A woman, her teeth blackened by betel nuts and a child at her breast, sat sobbing in a house 50 feet from the compound. Her husband was among the missing.

HOUSES FIRST

"They came through our houses here first," she said, "pulling us out of bed and then throwing us down on the floor.

"My children and I lay on the floor when the shooting began. You can see from all the bullet holes here we would have been killed if we had sat up.

"I'm afraid the Viet Cong will be back, but I mustn't leave here. Maybe my husband will be back."

New Trial in German Traitor Case

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP) — The West German Supreme Court gave permission today for the reopening of the 1956 treason trial of former Bonn intelligence chief Otto John.

The court based its decision on perjury charges filed against a key prosecution witness, journalist Karl Wittig. He fled to East Germany before he could be brought to trial.

John was sentenced to four years in prison in December 1956 for "treasonable falsification" and "treasonable conspiracy" in connection with his apparent defection to Communist East Germany in 1954.

He returned to the West 17 months later, surrendered and claimed he had been drugged and kidnaped. The Supreme Court in 1956 termed his account "untrue and disproved."

★ ★ ★

Wittig testified that John went to the East voluntarily.

WAS RELEASED

John was released from prison in 1958 on clemency. He has been fighting ever since to get his case reopened.

There was no immediate indication when the new hearings would begin.

John's apparent defection was a sensation in Western capitals, because of his position as chief of West German intelligence. He had recently returned from an official visit to Washington.

Today's News From Washington

Stricter Controls Are Planned for New York Stock Exchange

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

★ ★ ★

CONTROLS: The Securities Exchange Commission announced Wednesday it plans to place rigid controls on floor traders in New York Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The announcement apparently ended a long argument between the exchange and the commission which had criticized floor trading as "a vestige of the private club atmosphere" that marked exchanges years ago.

★ ★ ★

The proposed new rules, accepted by the exchange, would prohibit a broker from trading for his personal account while executing orders for his customers.

NEW STANDARDS

If normal procedure is followed the new standards would be formally adopted about May 15 and would become effective 30 to 60 days after that date.

★ ★ ★

Stock Exchange President Keith Funston described the SEC proposal a compromise and said the standards were compatible" with a rules adopted in principle by the exchange governors March 19.

KREBIOZEN: The Food and Drug Administration has recommended to the Justice Department that distributors of Krebiozen be prosecuted, a spokesman said Wednesday.

In the long and heated controversy over the drug, its sponsors claimed it was effective in combating cancer. But the FDA announced in September that its studies had identified Krebiozen as nothing more than creatine, an amino acid plentifully available from meat in the normal diet. The agency said it found it was ineffective in the treatment of cancer in animals.

★ ★ ★

Last November the agency cited the product's principal sponsors for alleged interstate shipment of Krebiozen under false claims and other misrepresentations, giving them an opportunity to show cause why they should not be prosecuted.

An FDA spokesman said then the citation was directed at Dr. Stevan Durovic and his brother, Marko Durovic; the Krebiozen Research Foundation; Dr. Andrew C. Ivy and Dr. William F. P. Phillips, all of Chicago.

U.S.-Soviet Union: President Johnson is described as having noted with some satisfaction a "more normal situation" in American-Soviet relations.

This word was relayed to newsmen Wednesday by Foy D. Kohler, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, after he had a 50-minute meeting with Johnson.

Kohler cited as an example of more normal relations the recent cultural exchange agreement and negotiations on an American-Soviet consular conventions.

Ferry service between Manhattan and Brooklyn was discontinued in 1942.

Native Kirtland's Warbler

Urges New State Bird

LANSING (AP) — A proposal to end the robin's 33-year reign as the official state bird of Michigan, replacing it with the Kirtland's Warbler, has been introduced in the House.

Rep. Raymond Baker, R-Berkley, sponsored the resolution which notes that the Kirtland's Warbler is unique to Michigan, whereas the robin is not.

★ ★ ★

"Thousands of persons travel each year to Michigan to see and hear the Kirtland's Warbler in the jackpine forests where it lives, and to photograph this friendly bird," says the resolution.

It notes further that only about 1,000 of the species exist in the world, nesting only in Michigan, and the world's only monument to a songbird, honoring the Kirtland's Warbler, stands in Mio in the Huron National Forest.

★ ★ ★

The Robin was designated Michigan's state bird by legislative resolution in 1931.

State's Industrial Areas Affected

GOP Blocks Tax Loss Reimbursement

LANSING (AP) — Senate Republicans are trying to fight off efforts to have the state reimburse local governments for income they may lose under a proposed tax break for heavy industry.

The bill would exempt tools, dies, jigs and fixtures from local property taxes, which are a mainstay of county, municipal and school district treasuries.

Senators from heavily industrialized cities which would be hardest hit by the exemption tried to vote the reimbursement feature into the bill Wednesday. They were rebuffed by a Republican bloc.

Sen. William Ford, D-Taylor, immediately cut in half the demands for reimbursement, but further action on the bill was postponed before he could offer his new amendment.

Through its lobbyists, Chrysler Corp. has told Gov. George W. Romney it will expand in Ohio instead of Michigan unless the exemption on tools of production goes through.

Full reimbursement was voted into the bill by the House of Representatives, but later scratched by the Senate Taxation Committee.

Unable to reinstate the rebate, the Democratic leadership tried to send the bill to the appropriations committee.

Sens. William Leppien, R-Saginaw, Kent Lundgren, R-Menominee, and Robert Vanderlaan, R-Grand Rapids, voted with the 11 Democrats. But 17 Republicans defeated the move.

★ ★ ★

"You're cutting the heart right out of the local tax structures of just a few communities," pleaded Ford. He estimated the exemption would cost governments and schools within Wayne County about $4.5 million a year.

A reimbursement from the state general fund would spread the burden of attracting industry, he said.

"Let's all be equally generous in this glorious cause of the Chrysler Corp.," said Ford.

"It's getting to look as though we're not getting elected to the State Senate — we're getting elected to the Chrysler board of directors," Ford said on the Senate Floor.

Charges Grow

Traffic Ticket to Assault

DETROIT (UPI)—It started out as a minor traffic violation, but wound up yesterday as a felonious assault charge with Henry Grieer, 38, Detroit, in jail.

Two policemen stopped Grieer early yesterday morning because one of the headlights on his car was out.

When he could not produce his driver's license, he ran through the rear door of a house. The policemen split up, and circled around the house.

Patrolman Charles Chambers was waiting when Grieer came out the front door.

★ ★ ★

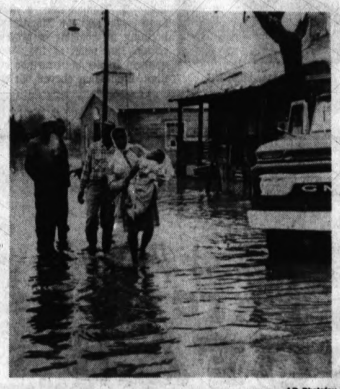

A scuffle followed, during which Chambers' gun dropped to the ground. Grieer picked it up and threatened to shoot the officer unless he was released. The other officer, Roy Carter, came up behind Grieer and disarmed him.

Today, Grieer is sitting in jail in default of $500 double surety bond after he waived examination on the felonious assault. He was bound over for trial. No date was set.

A Belgian expedition commanded by Andrien de Gerlasche took the first vessel to spend the winter in Antarctic ice. The year was 1897.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

For the 3rd time in three years, Fred Lorenzen takes the grueling Atlanta "500" at the wheel of his Ford.

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more, starting with the Charlotte "600" in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program that cars have ever faced . . . full-scale open competition. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record!

• A dramatic maiden effort at Indianapolis, when two Ford-powered Lotuses came within seconds of taking the 500-mile classic.

• A team of specially equipped Falcons won 2 classes and took 2nd place overall in the 1964 Monte Carlo Rallye.

• The 1964 "Car of the Year" Award from Motor Trend magazine, presented for the concept of total performance and the open competition that proved it.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thriftier in the long run. They're built for total performance.

Why Ford Competes in So Many Kinds of Racing

Ford is committed to racing for one simple reason: every time it goes to the races—win or lose—you always win. Ford engineers always learn something that helps them build a better car. That's why Ford is willing to lay its reputation on the line in almost any kind of open competition anywhere in the world. Ford's not after trophies, it's after knowledge—and it gets it!

All manufacturers have elaborate proving grounds and test facilities. But no proving ground can come within a country mile of the intense pressures and the immediate deadlines of racing. That's understandable; the will-to-win can't be built in as a proving ground factor and any failures are obviously hidden from the public view.

Ford didn't enter the world of open competition on a whim or for amusement. The history of the automobile shows that open competition is the most severe of all testing procedures; it really does "improve the breed." It tests—but it also spurs ideas and brings them to the open market sooner. Better still, it creates a cadre of adventurous and forward-thinking engineers and nurtures them with a climate of challenge and change.

Particularly important, Ford didn't enter open competition on any narrow front or for any limited time. Ford wanted all the lessons it could get—and wanted to keep at it long enough for the findings to be passed down, in whole or in part, to the kind of cars you drive. That's why Ford is in stock car racing and the far-out sphere of the Indianapolis "500" . . . in the world's great rallies such as the Monte Carlo and the Shell Trans-Canada . . . in the intense competition of quarter-mile drag racing . . . in hill-climbs like Pikes Peak . . . in sports car road racing (and stock car road racing) . . . in endurance runs and economy trials. And why Ford is about to enter the super competition of Grand Touring racing with our 200-mile-per-hour Ford GT.

No auto manufacturer in history has ever been in so many categories of competition. And Ford believes that no line of cars has ever benefited so much, so quickly—and that means the owners of Falcons, Fairlanes, Fords and Thunderbirds are the ones who really benefit.

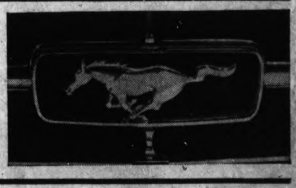

New 200-mph "GT" is Ford's next competition entry

Within a few weeks Ford will enter the fantastic world of Grand Touring competition. Ford will start with a 200-mile-per-hour projectile, a sleek, tiny coupe called the Ford GT. This vehicle will explore ducted ventilation, forced-air cooling of seats, integral seat-and-body construction, high-performance automatic transmission, streamlining, low-rate independent springing —and fabulous standards of roadability and control. Ford believes that this remarkable new car will eventually come up with many solutions to make travel safer, smoother and more economical.

The unexpected . . .

Killed in 2-Car Crash

TEMPERANCE (AP)—Roger Scott, 27, of Lambertville was killed Wednesday night in a two-car crash about two miles west of Temperance in Monroe County.

Sweden Aide Goes on Trial

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) Col. Stig Wennerstroem, former Swedish air attache in Washington, went on trial today on charges of exploiting positions of trust to spy for the Russians for 15 years.

Wennerstroem, 57, a suave, silver-haired Swedish Air Force officer, admitted his guilt when arrested last year and tried to commit suicide by taking an overdose of sleeping pills while in prison.

The trial was behind closed doors, apparently to prevent disclosure of top-secret information expected to come up in testimony.

The full extent of Wennerstroem's activities and their effect will thus not be made public until the secrets act permits the case to be aired 50 years from now.

Conviction could mean life imprisonment for Wennerstroem. Sweden has no death penalty.

WORST SPY?

Wennerstroem is thought to have done more to undermine Swedish defenses than any other spy in the country's history, and is also said to have revealed North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) secrets.

He served as Swedish air attache in Moscow from 1949 to 1952 and held a similar post in Washington from 1952 to 1957. He was then named section chief of the Swedish Defense Command and a military expert in the foreign office, positions he held until his arrest last June.

He also was a member of the Swedish delegation to the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva.

Wennerstroem allegedly received $120,000 for his 15 years as a Soviet spy.

* * *

Wennerstroem's arrest shocked the nation and shook the Social Democratic government of Premier Tage Erlander.

The officer was arrested by two security agents while on his way to the foreign office. He had been under surveillance for some time.

TWO ELVISES — Elvis Presley plays dual roles in "Kissin' Cousins," now showing at the Miracle Mile Drive-In. He portrays a lieutenant trying to help the government set up an ICBM base on a Tennessee mountain occupied by a family including the "other" Elvis. Also starring in the musical comedy are Arthur O'Connell, Pam Austin, Cynthia Pepper and Yvonne Craig (above with Elvis).

Lady Bird Set to Pay Tribute to Mrs. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson flies to New York City today to speak at the first anniversary luncheon of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation.

* * *

The First Lady planned a tribute to her predecessor in the White House before a gathering of some 2,500 women.

* * *

Mrs. Johnson will fly back to Washington sometime in early evening, the White House said. Her flights were to be on commercial airliners.

* * *

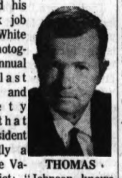

The luncheon marks the first anniversary of the chartering of the foundation by Congress to continue Mrs. Roosevelt's work on behalf of human rights, international good will, cancer research and aid to underprivileged children.

Bob Hope Should Know

Johnson's Jokes Up to Par

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Lyndon B. Johnson can hold his own with his predecessors in the joke department, reports Bob Hope, just back from an encounter with presidential humor.

Hope did his usual slick job at the White House photographers annual dinner last weekend, and Variety reported that the President was equally a smash. The Variety verdict: "Johnson knows the words to punch and the most effective ways to pause. LBJ is in the Bob Hope class in comedy."

The comedian concurs with the show biz bible's review. "He's very fast with a line," said Hope. "When I walked in his office with the other entertainers the day before the show, the President asked me, 'How do you find time to make all that money?'"

Hope classifies Johnson on a par with other recent presidents in the quip department, and he should know. He has performed seven times at Washington functions before the last five presidents.

ALL GREAT

"They were all great," said Bob. "Roosevelt had a wonderful sense of humor, and Truman and Eisenhower do all right, too. Kennedy's wit was marvelous; he loved nothing better than a good joke."

Hope demonstrated some of his own material from the dinner. "I was going to stay at the White House, but I didn't bring a flashlight. They're turning off the lights at the State Department, too. Dean Rusk doesn't want Senator Fulbright to find his office.

* * *

"Faces really change here in Washington. I asked my cab driver what has happened to Jimmy Hoffa, and he said, 'Speaking.' Actually I'm here in Washington as part of a cultural exchange. You sent us Pierre Salinger. If he gets elected, he may be our first wetback senator. He's running against George Murphy, the only campaigner who takes along both a campaign manager and a choreographer.'

RUNNING GAG

Hope figures the President and the light switches will be one of the great running gags. The comedian used it himself while Johnson was showing the entertainment troupe around the White House.

Said Hope: "You know, Mr. President, you go out of the rooms first and turn out the light, leaving us in the dark. You may be saving $3,000 a month in electricity, but you're liable to be spending $3,000 on broken legs."

* * *

He added: "It's the first time I ever left a room by Braille."

Hope figures the President knows he has a good gimmick going. That seems to be substantiated by Johnson's parting remark at the dinner, as quoted by Variety: "Will the last one out please remember to turn off the lights?"

Ted Kennedy Lauds JFK's Rights Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D - Mass., joined the Senate civil rights debate today with a declaration that John F. Kennedy's "heart and his soul are in this bill.

"If his life and death had a meaning," said the assassinated president's youngest brother, "it was that we should not hate but love one another; we should use our powers not to create conditions of oppression that lead to violence, but conditions of freedom that lead to peace."

It was the maiden Senate address for the young senator and he conceded he spoke on the legislation with some hesitation for "a freshman senator should be seen, not heard; should learn, not teach."

He said in his prepared remarks that he had planned to make his first speech on issues affecting industry and employment in his home state "but I could not follow this debate for the last four weeks — I could not see this issue envelop the emotion and conscience of the nation — without changing my mind."

To limit himself to local issues "in the face of this great national question, would be to demean the seat in which I sit," he said.

* * *

Kennedy, whose other brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, helped draw up the rights proposals, said he believed "the basic problem the American people face in the 1960s in the field of civil rights is one of adjustment.

"It is the task of adjusting to the fact that Negroes are going to be members of the community of American citizens, with the same rights and the same responsibilities as every one of us."

He said that in 1780 a Catholic in Massachusetts was not allowed to vote or to hold office and in 1840 an Irishman could not get a job above that of a common laborer.

MAKE ADJUSTMENT

"I believe that if America has been able to make this adjustment for the Irish, the Italians, the Jews, the Poles, the Greeks, the Portuguese — we can make it for Negroes. And the nation will be strengthened in the process."

Navy Plane Found Wrecked in Sierra

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP)—The wreckage of a Navy C45 twin-engine Beechcraft missing since March 31 was discovered Wednesday in the High Sierra 65 miles northwest of China Lake. All four men aboard were dead.

A Navy jet spotted the wreckage at 12,500 feet on a ridge three miles south of Mt. Langley and seven miles southeast of Mt. Whitney.

Water Eruption in Anchorage Due to Thaw

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) —The ground started bubbling up before the eyes of startled Anchorage residents, then water began gushing out.

For those who had lived through earthquake and tidal wave damage, the new upheaval brought apprehension.

"I hope it isn't a volcano," said Mrs. Robert L. Hanson.

It wasn't.

Roger M. Waller of the U. S. Geological Survey, said under ground water pressure probably had built up in the spring thaw and pushed up the soil until it fractured and bubbled out Wednesday.

The result was a bulge about 50 feet across. Residents said the ground had risen 10 feet, pushing up trees as it went.

Market Irregular

Railroads Continue to Lose

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly in fairly active trading today.

Rails continued to give ground as the threat of a nationwide railroad strike Friday remained. Most losses were small, however, and some carriers firmed.

★ ★ ★

Airlines edged ahead. Tobaccos posted a string of moderate gains as it was reported that about as many cigarettes are being consumed as before the government report linking cigarette smoking with disease.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler continued in heavy demand, rising ⅜ to 47½ on 17,900 shares. Some Wall Streeters looked for a dividend increase.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped .2 to 303.7.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex gained about 2.

Corporate bonds were mixed.
