Ziegler Replies to Andrews

Highway Head Defends Policy After Criticism

Commissioner Claims Proposed Toll Road Wouldn't Cut Tieups

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler today replied to charges made by Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Floyd Andrews in a letter to Ziegler published in yesterday's Press.

Andrews asked Ziegler to stop blocking construction of the proposed north-south toll road and abandon plans to build a parallel freeway which would make it practically impossible to sell toll-road bonds.

Ziegler told the Press "construction of a toll road would not relieve local traffic congestion in Oakland County."

He asserted the turnpike authority "is in trouble" and might take longer to finish its project than the five years it will take him to complete the freeway.

The commissioner declared that upkeep and expansion of non-state, county and township roads is the responsibility of local units through use of money assigned them from the state motor vehicle fund.

"The law requires we spend our money on interstate highways and state trunklines," he stated.

Andrews had asserted that the state could save the $115,000,000 it will cost to build a freeway by letting the turnpike do the job and spend the money on improving and expanding other roads.

"The turnpike authority engineers told us we should do nothing but maintain interstate and state roads bordering the proposed turnpike so enough traffic would be forced onto it to make it a paying proposition," Ziegler said.

"We could not agree with this. It would mean that Stephenson superhighway couldn't be extended as four lane from Big Beaver north to Rochester or that M15 cutting off the Dixie north of Pontiac couldn't be enlarged.

"It would require us to maintain the status quo on roads within a 50-mile-wide belt. But we are obli-

Showers, Thunder Predicted for Tonight

This morning's sunny skies will be followed by showers and thundershowers this evening, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The weatherman foresees cooler weather tomorrow with increasing cloudiness. The mercury may go to a high of 64-68 tomorrow.

Today's high of 72 in downtown Pontiac was reached by 1 p.m. The thermometer will go down to a low of between 48 and 52 degrees tonight.

Downtown, today's low before 8 a.m. was 52 degrees. The thermometer registered 74 at 2 p.m.

Women Are Chief Buyers

Pontiac Press Photo

WHICH ONE?—Mrs. Hilding Berquist, of 3650 W. Walton Blvd., puzzles over which tie style her husband will like best. Women buy between 60 and 75 per cent of the ties sold in Pontiac, retailers report.

National Tie Week Fails to Stampede Gal Buyers

This is National Tie Week, but the principal tie-buyers, women, are refusing to be stampeded.

A check with several retailers yesterday established that women lay out the cash for between 60 and 75 per cent of the cravats during the year.

But they are letting Tie Week go by without any tremendous surges of buying, salesmen report. Husbands' tie racks throughout the area are not nourished with any new blazers, to speak of.

This is despite new, conservative styles in neckwear which are reputedly very popular with wives and girl friends.

The buyer for one men's shop says the new conservative, slim ties have been on the way ever since he got into the business 30 years ago.

"They were 5 inches wide and had big splash patterns then," he said. "The trend ever since has been to narrower lines. Five years ago, they were down to 3½ inches and now they are under 3 inches."

Another buyer pulled out a 5-year-old green and white paisley-print silk he recently came across in the basement storeroom. It measured 4½ inches at the bottom.

Businessmen's ties at his store are 3 inches at their widest point and the style young men are buying is but 2½ inches wide.

Both buyers agreed the new "natural" trim look in clothing which has come into vogue during the last two or three years has accelerated the narrowing trend.

One brand-new facet is the square end on many of the thin models being bought chiefly by the younger Beau Brummels.

"It's the first thing I ever knew that started in a lower price range and crept into the higher priced goods," one of the buyers said.

Color and design-wise, ties are extremely tasteful and toned-down.

Repps, or diagonal striped, ties are probably the most popular, the merchants said. Practically any neat tie is a seller these days. The era of the broad, bold, brash tie is gone.

Bow ties are continuing to hold between 5 and 10 per cent of the local market. Governor Williams' first term brought a sudden upswing in sales for the sprightly neckware, but sales have tapered somewhat since, the stores report.

According to one buyer, ties are much easier to sell currently than they were in years past. He explained:

"We don't have the big splashy patterns women used to be worried about buying and getting kidded about. Most colors are good and it's pretty hard for a woman to go wrong nowadays."

Ike Continuing to Sleep Well

Doctors See President's Nine Hours Last Night as Encouraging Sign

DENVER (AP)—A bedside bulletin reported today that President Eisenhower had "a very good night" last night.

A 7 a.m. Denver time report from two of the chief executive's physicians said that:

"The President had a very good night. He slept almost continuously under the oxygen tent from 9 p.m. to 6:15 a.m."

The doctors have been saying that rest and sleep are essential to repairing the chief executive's damaged heart and putting him on the road to recovery.

Thus the some nine hours of sleep last night appeared to be an encouraging sign.

On the basis of a procession of similar bulletins over the past few days, an atmosphere of increasing but still restrained optimism has developed here about his condition.

There still is an inclination here to say that the President probably will cut himself loose from politics and turn down any attempt to induce him to try for a second term.

Janet Thunders Along Mexico's East Coastline

Hurricane Toll Reaches 400; Torrential Rains May Start Floods

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Weather Bureau announced that Hurricane Janet, with an estimated death toll of 350 to 400 already, lashed at the Mexican coast today, a little north of Veracruz.

It said winds of 119 miles per hour blew along the coast at daybreak, with the eye of the storm not due for several more hours.

The bureau said 16 inches of rain had fallen in 12 hours but that the apparent course of the year's 10th hurricane will carry the center past major populated areas. The region north of Veracruz is sparsely populated.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Miami reported Janet nearly at a standstill at midmorning, suggesting a possible change in direction.

The U.S. Navy dropped a battery operated radio on Swan Islands, off the Honduran coast, and received reports that the islands suffered no deaths or serious injuries but that almost all buildings had been destroyed. The U.S. Weather Bureau and Civil Aeronautics Authority maintain stations on the islands, which asked for food for 32 persons.

Reports from Belize said British Honduras had come through the storm in good shape but that some fears were felt for northern portions of the country.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at New Orleans said in its midmorning advisory that Janet was centered about 40 miles east of Nautla, a tropical seaport of 7,000, 100 miles north of Veracruz.

Highest winds were estimated at 125 to 150 miles an hour near the center with hurricane force winds extending 60 miles from the center and gales 200 miles to the north and 100 miles south.

The advisory said the indications were that Janet would break up over the mountains tonight, after moving inland. High tides and torrential rains were forecast, with high tides and rough seas as far away as Port O'Connor, Texas.

British Use Force Against Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British troops and police used tear gas and clubs to break up a crowd of youths attempting to mass in Metaxas Square here today. Meetings in the square were banned as a general strike began.

Extremist leaders called on workers to bring this Mediterranean British island colony to a standstill in protest against an adverse committee report on U.N. Assembly debate of the Cyprus issue.

Ezra Benson Officiating at Daughter's Marriage

The ceremony takes place in the Salt Lake temple of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church. Benson is a member of the church's ruling Council of Twelve Apostles. Members of the council are empowered to perform marriages.

State Hospital Employes Asking for Larger Staffs

LANSING (AP)—Spokesmen for employes of the Pontiac State Hospital pleaded with a legislative committee today for larger staffs to permit better nursing care for the mentally ill.

Mrs. Marie Larrison, president of the CIO employes union at the hospital, told the Francis committee that the nursing staffs were concerned about their inability to give even minimum care for patients.

She said that in many wards one nurse must care for 50 or 60 patients and that this averages out to about four minutes per patient when other necessary duties are included.

"Many of these patients became mentally ill because they were rejected all their lives," Mrs. Larrison said, "and now they are more rejected than ever in the hospital.

"Patients have to resort to faking illness to get the attention of doctors and nurses."

The state is paying "good money" for in-service training of nurses but then never gives the nurses time enough to use their training, she said.

Marcus Tompkins, president of the hospital chapter of the Michigan, State Employes Association, said that more patients could be allowed to go home if the nurses had time to train them better.

He conceded that it was difficult to fill nursing vacancies under present appropriations, but he said that better salaries and fringe benefits in competition with industry would help that problem.

Dictator Was Well Heeled

Fabulous Hoard of Wealth, 'Love Nests' Left by Peron

BUENOS AIRES (INS)—Fourteen Bacchanalian "love nests," nearly 22 million dollars and enough jewels for a coronation were found in Buenos Aires Wednesday—left behind by the hasty departure of Juan D. Peron.

Investigators of the government that overthrew the Argentine dictator also uncovered almost enough liquor and champagne to float the gunboat on which Peron has taken refuge.

Their discoveries were the first real evidence that Peron had been, in fact, a ladies' man and a party lover.

The dictator's feared "gestapo" had prevented South America's most powerful nation, and even newsmen, from ever learning even minor details of his private life.

But the insurgent army and navy officers, led by Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi, forced Peron to flee so quickly nine days ago that he had no time to cover up his past.

Today, as investigators gaped with surprise, the man who had publicly loved only two women—his first wife Aurelia Tizon, and his second wife, Eva—had reportedly left a Paraguayan gunboat for exile in Spain.

But the Spanish Embassy in Buenos Aires said the Franco government had not granted him asylum.

The investigators found, in addition to the house in Calle Pena where Peron spent his last night as president, 14 luxuriously appointed apartments in different sections of Buenos Aires.

At these apartments, Peron met groups of intimate friends—male and female—for secret revels.

That they were well-liquored parties was made evident by broken furniture, mirrors and glassware found in storage rooms.

The liquor on hand at the former president's private homes exceeded

Strong Kidnap Case Promised

California Woman Held in Psychiatric Hospital After Giving Up Baby

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vigorous prosecution was promised today for Betty Jean Benedicto, blonde wife of a Filipino lodging house keeper, who snatched 2-day-old Robert Marcus from his crib at Mt. Zion Hospital here 10 days ago.

Robert was returned in good health to his deliriously happy parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus, in Stockton early yesterday. That was shortly after the 27-year-old Mrs. Benedicto had been spotted with the baby by a sharp-eyed deputy sheriff at the prize fights in Stockton Tuesday night.

While the deputy investigated her story that the infant was hers, Mrs. Benedicto telephoned Dr. Marcus in San Francisco that she would deliver Robert to him in Stockton.

Mrs. Benedicto was held under guard in a psychiatric ward in San Francisco Hospital after collapsing.

Dr. F. H. Adams, superintendent of Stockton State Hospital, said Mrs. Benedicto spent a week in that mental institution last spring.

Adams said Benedicto got a court order to have his wife put under observation because she had threatened to kill him. A week later Benedicto petitioned for her release.

Her story of motherly love and an irresistible maternal instinct was denounced yesterday by her own mother, who said Betty Jean had abandoned her only natural child—a daughter—10 years ago.

Youngest Dionne Resumes Convent Life in Quebec

QUEBEC (INS)—Marie Dionne, youngest of the famed Dionne quintuplets, has re-entered the cloistered convent in Quebec she left 15 months ago, to resume the life of a novice.

The 21-year-old Marie, who was the "youngest" of the quints, first entered the cloistered order of the Servants of the Most Blessed Sacrament in 1953, but obtained permission to leave the order in June 1954, because of bad health.

She suffered severely from shock following the epileptic death of her sister Emilie two months later, but is now reported to have regained her health.

The decision means that Marie will forfeit the $200,000 she inherited from a $1-million trust fund set up for the five sisters by the Canadian government.

Her family may now share the bulk of Marie's inheritance, which she was awarded on her 21st birthday last May 28.

Bus Pay Hike Recommended

Commission Favors Retroactive Increase, Uniform Allowance

A special fact-finding commission in Lansing today recommended an across-the-board wage increase of eight cents an hour for employes of the Pontiac City Lines, Inc.

The commission recommended the increase be retroactive to last July 1.

* * *

It also recommended the company share with employes the cost of their uniforms—15 dollars a year for each employe after the first year of service and $30 a year after the end of the second year.

Union demands for an additional week's paid vacation were rejected by the commission.

The members of the commission appointed by the governor to seek a solution of the labor dispute were Leo W. Walsh, Hayward Whitlock and Ervin O. Slater. The union involved is the AFL Street Railway and Motor Coach Employes union.

Contract talks between company and union had been carried on since January. Later, the State Labor Mediation Board tried to bring accord.

When no agreement was reached, the board asked the governor to appoint a fact-finding commission to review the dispute.

Brussels' Policemen Guarding Townsend

BRUSSELS (INS)—The Brussels Police Department has set up a 24-hour guard at RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend's residence to keep away "unwelcomed callers who inconvenience the neighbors."

* * *

The "unwelcome callers" are chiefly newsmen who try to press Townsend for comment on his reported romance with Britain's Princess Margaret.

The 40-year-old divorced commoner is scheduled to go to England next month on leave from his job as air attache at the British Embassy.

Prayer for the President

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Hear our prayers, O God, in these hours of great concern. Listen not only to our words but also to the longings of our hearts.

Grant unto Thy servant, our President, the healing touch of Thy presence, the recuperating power of steadfast faith, and the creative peace of Thy unfailing love.

May the devotion and confidence of free peoples everywhere inspire him to health for the unfinished task of rebuilding our shattered world. Amen.

4 to 2 Victory Boosts Hopes for Short Series

Yanks Rout Billy Loes With 4-Run Explosion in Bottom of Fourth

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

NEW YORK—The Yankees took a tighter grip on the 1955 World Series this afternoon by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers 4 to 2 in the second game.

The Yankees exploded in a 4-run rally in the fourth, after Brooklyn had scored 1 in the opening of the frame. The rally drove Loes from the mound.

Both teams were scoreless in the first three frames.

The running account follows:

First Inning

Brooklyn—Junior Gilliam went down swinging at a 3rd strike, both Pee Wee Reese and Duke Snider skied high to Hank Bauer.

Yankees—Bauer singled, Gil McDougald struck out and Bauer was doubled at second. Noren flied out to center.

Second Inning

Dodgers—Campanella fouled out, but after Furillo walked Hodges and Robinson were out on flies.

Yankees—Berra hit by pitcher, Joe Collins and Howard fanned. Martin also struck out.

Yankees were forced to make some lineup changes when the Broks came to bat in the third. Bauer left because of a pulled muscle.

Third Inning

Dodgers—Zimmer struck out, Loes bounced out and Gilliam flied to Noren.

Yankees—Rizzuto singled, but Byrne hit into a Zimmer-Reese-Hodges twin killing and Cerv (batting in Bauer's spot) struck out.

Fourth Inning

Dodgers — Reese scored the game's first run. Pee Wee doubled and scored on Snider's single. The Duke was out trying to stretch his hit into a double. Campanella walked. Furillo popped to Noren and Hodges flied to Noren.

Yankees—Berra singled, Collins walked. Howard singled to score Yogi Martin singled to score Collins with the second run. Eddie Robinson was hit by a pitch while batting for Rizzuto. Gerry Coleman ran for Robinson. Byrne's line single over second scored Howard and Martin. Cerv bounced out.

Fifth Inning

Dodgers — Robinson walked, Zimmer singled and Kellert batted for Bessent, grounded into a double play, with Robinson taking third. Gilliam's single scored Robinson, but Reese fanned.

Yankees — McDougald fanned. Noren walked. Berra singled, but Noren was out at third. Collins fanned.

Sixth Inning

Dodgers—Snider grounded out, Campanella flied out and Furillo popped out.

Yankees—Howard grounded out, Martin and Coleman struck out.

Seventh Inning

Dodgers—Hodges walked. Robinson flied out. Zimmer whiffed and Hodges was doubled at second.

Yankees—Byrne bounced to the mound and Spooner whipped him out. Cerv grounded out, and McDougald struck out.

Eighth Inning

Dodgers — Don Hoak pinch-hit and walked. Gilliam grounded into double play. Reese singled and Snider fanned.

Yankees—Noren was safe on an error. Berra struck out. Collins skied to Snider. Howard grounded into a force out.

Ninth Inning

Dodgers—Campanella popped to short, Furillo flied deep to Noren and Hodges fanned.

Winning pitcher: Byrne; losing pitcher: Loes; errors: Zimmer (two) Bkn. Attendance: 64,707; time of game 2:28.

Arab-Israel War Threats Mount

Dulles' Envoy to Urge Nasser to Keep Power of Nations Balanced

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has the makings of a first-class crisis on its hands in the Middle East, with the danger of a new Arab-Israeli war in the background.

That is the reason Secretary of State Dulles has sent George Allen, his assistant for Midde Eastern affairs, on an urgent mission to Cairo.

Allen has the evident task of trying to persuade Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser not to import such a volume and variety of arms from Communist Czechoslovakia as would upset the delicate power balance between the Arab states and Israel.

Allen was prepared to warn the Egyptian government that if it brought about a radical change in the Middle East power balance the United States would be compelled to review its policies of cooperation with Egypt in the field of economic development—the current U.S. aid program is 43 million dollars—and in policies governing world cotton supplies. The major part of Egypt's foreign income is derived from cotton exports.

Peron Abandons Wealth, Love Nests

200 dozen bottles of French champagne, 90 cases of scotch and dozens of dozens of imported wines and liqueurs.

His wardrobe—spread over official residences and private apartments—totaled 600 suits, 20 dozen pure silk shirts, 80 sets of silk underwear, 200 pairs of shoes and more than a hundred hats.

The former president, who will be 60 years old next week, had one auto for each of his years—all but four of which were well known American makes.

The exposures were a revelation to Argentina about the man who had posed in public and played in private.

He saw his current girl friend the night before taking asylum on a Paraguayan gunboat. There is no evidence she is accompanying him into exile.

The investigators found sixteen canteens of solid gold table cutlery, with plates and dishes to match, and two large trunks—larger than those used by pirates of old—packed with gold medals from admirers.

Peron kept uniforms at each of his many addresses, so he could turn out at a minute's notice to attend public functions.

What is presumed to have been the deposed dictator's "mad money" was found in the wall safe in his bedroom at the executive mansion. The "mad money" would have carried him a long way if he had only had the time to get it out.

It consisted of a large valise with 20 million United States dollars in large bills, sixteen million Argentine Pesos (about a million dollars) and the equivalent of a half million dollars in diverse currencies—possibly for use as small change.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Theodore Johnson

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Theodore Johnson, 74, a former Pontiac resident who died of a heart attack at Cedar Keys, Fla., Sept. 22.

Mrs. Johnson was born in Bothwell, Ont. July 28, 1881. She was the daughter of John and Mary Jane Wiggins Hicks.

Previous to living in Pontiac, she had lived in Cadillac.

Surviving are three sons, Walter Egerton of Pontiac, Alfred Egerton of Rock Island, Ill. and LeRoy Egerton of Cedar Keys.

Two sisters, Mrs. James McMaster of Bothwell and Eva Hicks of Chatham, Ont. also survive.

Service and burial were held in Cedar Keys.

County Director New State Head of TB Workers

Al R. Musson, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, was elected president of the Michigan Conference of TB Workers at a statewide meeting held Tuesday and Wednesday at Haven Hill Lodge. Musson has been director of the county association, with headquarters in Pontiac, for the past nine years.

Purpose of the conference was to give leaders of TB associations throughout Michigan a chance to co-ordinate the work of controlling tuberculosis.

A date of Nov. 16 was set to begin sale of Christmas seals, funds from which are used for TB research, education and patient service programs.

Earl A. McIntyre, professor of journalism for Michigan State University, was the principal speaker at Tuesday's session. He pointed out the need for broader thinking and unity in working out mutual control of the disease, and emphasized the value of a long-range perspective.

Seeking Agreement to Cut Tax Upsets

The Equalization Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday was asked to attempt to reach an agreement with the State Tax Commission which would prevent future upsets of county equalization figures such as occurred this year.

The amounts of county and school taxes all units were slated to pay this year were changed by the state following an appeal by Waterford Township.

Royal Oak Assessor Alger Zapf said the committee already had planned to meet with the state to seek mutual understanding.

He said the state is expected to have a manual ready by year's end setting up uniform standards.

gated to expand those roads where needed."

"I understand the turnpike authority hasn't received actual clearance from any of the communities" along the 113-mile proposed route from Rockwood to Saginaw, Ziegler declared.

"They say they could build the road in 39 months after starting, but it might take them 39 months to get started."

The authority has problems in many communities, said Ziegler. He cited Detroit, Dearborn, Franklin, Allen Park and Bloomfield Hills city as examples.

"They say the turnpike will cost $164,000,000, but planning costs will put the total at $194,000,000."

He quoted part of Andrews' letter which said, "You . . . tell the State Administrative Board you can't say when a four-lane expressway to the new $100,000,000 Mackinac Bridge will be completed because you do not know when you will have the money."

"We've already got surveys submitted to Mackinaw City and the Bridge Authority for their approval," said Ziegler. "There's no question we'll be able to handle all traffic when the bridge opens to travel in the latter part of 1957."

The commissioner said he has reports "from all over the country" saying pressure is being put on the government to pass an increased federal-aid program at Congress' next session.

"I'm sure it will pass and give us a real boost in building freeways.

"We were committed to building the north-south freeway long before the turnpike authority was created and much work has already been done."

Interstate Roads to Affect Cities

Michigan Municipalities Included in Proposed Federal Highway Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Michigan cities have been included in general locations of routes of interstate highways planned by the Bureau of Public Roads which will go into, through and around 102 cities in the nation.

* * *

They are Battle Creek, Detroit and environs, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Saginaw.

The new routes, to be built with federal aid to the states, supplement the original 37,700-mile interstate network designated in 1947 to connect the nation's principal cities and industrial areas.

The general routes' approval completes designation of the 40,000-mile national system authorized by Congress in the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1944.

The Bureau of Roads emphasized they have thus far been determined in general manner only. It said detailed final locations will be made later as the states advance their projects.

Group Will Discuss Library Possibility

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Contemplating the start of a public library here, a group of interested citizens have called a meeting for 8 p.m. Monday at Vaughan Elementary School, to which all school district residents have been urged to attend.

Those spearheading the move hope to learn how to accomplish their goal through explanations to be given by William Barth, adult education consultant at the University of Michigan, and Mrs. Fanny Noonan, of the State Library Board in Lansing.

Mrs. Joseph Lacey and Mrs. Robert Montbach expressed gratitude to the Board of Education for its offer of temporary library space in Vaughan School and presumed that a drive for books and funds would be the first step in such an undertaking.

"We hope our guest speakers can tell us how to get started and on how large a scale we should aim for," said Mrs. Lacey.

In noting current enrollment of 1,500 pupils in the school district, she added that the American Library Assn. calls for at least one book per child and preferably 1½ books.

The Day in Birmingham

End of Water Shortage Seen for Next Summer

BIRMINGHAM—W-Day is coming for Birmingham residents by June, 1956. So predicted City Engineer L. R. Gare yesterday in saying that a supply of Detroit water should be available for local consumption by that date.

His statement followed the awarding of a $222,000 contract for construction of the Webster avenue pumping station in Royal Oak, "the last big project, and a key one," in the $6,000,000 Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority system.

The construction end of the contract awarded yesterday to Miller-Thompson Co., "means the upper part of the system can operate, and Birmingham will depend primarily on water from that station," Gare explained on the William Beaumont Hospital property.

As to water regulations that may be imposed after Birmingham's wells are getting less play, Gare said authority members will naturally be required to observe at least the same restrictions as laid down to Detroiters.

Birmingham is one of seven area communities comprising the authority, of which Gare is chairman of the board of trustees.

Tomorrow marks the final day of registration for the Board of Education adult evening courses, a ten-week series starting Monday. Applications for the classes, to meet from 8 to 10 p.m. once a week, will be taken at the Board of Education offices from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

While a few of the classes have been completely filled, openings remain in basic economics, typing, cake decoration, conversational French, driver training, advanced oil painting, sewing and woodworking.

There is also instruction in beginning or advanced piano, and a course entitled, "Living With Your Teenager."

City Manager Donald C. Egbert reported to the City Commission this week on anticipated approval of the Hamilton crossover at Hunter boulevard, by the State Highway Department.

The project will involve construction similar to the directional crossover on Hunter just north of Lincoln, permitting northbound Hunter traffic to turn left onto Hamilton.

Demanding examination when he appeared yesterday before Municipal Justice John J. Gafill, Richard Bryce, 25, of 1456 Ruffner, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for an Oct. 14 hearing, and released on $1,000 bond.

* * *

Bryce was arrested Monday for investigation of breaking and entering in the nighttime, after allegedly stealing a safe from Keller-Koch, Inc. and placing it in a stolen car. The safe contained over $6,000 in checks, about $250 in cash and all the company books.

A twentieth birthday, locally, will be celebrated by members of Soroptimist International, with a dinner tonight at Devon Gables. Margot Cramer of Holland, Netherlands, new curator at Cranbrook Museum of Art, will be the guest speaker. The founding of the first such club in 1921 in Oakland, Cal., will also be observed during this period.

Charter members still active here include Mrs. Gertrude J. Arnold, Mrs. Ruth L. Collins, Mrs. Harold Turner, Mrs. Gladys Heinze and Mrs. Thomas Maxwell. Mrs. R. H. Dewey is club president.

* * *

Arrested yesterday on an investigation of grand larceny was Richard T. Finkey, 29, of Berkley. Police believe Finkey stole a $210 hardtop, an extra accessory for a Thunderbird car, last weekend from Harold Turner, Inc., 464 S. Woodward Ave.

The hardtop was removed by detectives yesterday from Finkey's Thunderbird. He is to be given a lie detector test today to clear his story that he hired someone to steal the top for him.

Hippos Don't Warn

The hippopotamus of the upper Nile River, often thought of as a harmless, amiable creature, can attack without apparent provocation, says the National Geographic Society.

U.N. Airs French Colonial Woes

North Africa Troubles Have Floor in Assembly Session Today

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—France's colonial woes were set for a double airing today in the U. N. Assembly.

* * *

Speaking this morning in the 60-nation forum's policy debate, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay was expected to review the continuing violence in French North Africa and whether the Communists are trying to take advantage of the unrest in Algeria and French Morocco.

SHOWDOWN VOTE

The Assembly also is due for a showdown vote on the demand of 14 nations of the Arab-Asian bloc to add the question of Algerian independence from France to the Assembly agenda.

The Arab-Asian states hoped to overturn the ruling of the 15-nation Steering Committee to skip the item. The committee acted after the United States backed France's stand that Algeria is a domestic issue on which the Assembly is not competent to act.

* * *

Pinay's speech also was awaited for further indication of the policies he, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Macmillan will push next month in their Geneva meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

In proportion to population, Sweden leads Europe in gasoline consumption. Next in order are Denmark, Great Britain, Belgium, and Norway.

A survey shows that Malaya presents a potentially expanding market for chemicals of all kinds, Singapore reports.

Stubborn King's Mansion Shown

George III Seemed Devoted to His Family While Revolution Raged

WASHINGTON — England's George III may have been a tyrant to his American colonies. But at home he was a devoted family man with 15 children to multiply his domestic joys and woes.

Yankee sightseers find King George's old Kew Palace refurnished with many reminders of the stubborn monarch who provoked and lost the American Revolution, says the National Geographic Society.

The mansion has been a museum since 1898. An impressive Jacobean red-brick pile, it stands beside the Thames amid the green and flowering wonderland of Kew Gardens. Its new exhibits, mostly loaned by the present Queen, include a variety of personal mementoes and portraits of the 18th-century royal family.

Palace furnishings and decorations date from 16th, 17th and 18 centuries. There are framed silks from India, samples of old English needlework, a collection of Queen Charlotte's poems. Several portraits show young princesses or princes working on tapestry or gardening.

NINE ACRE EDEN

After Augusta's death in 1772, George II took over both house and gardens of Richmond Lodge, he laid the foundations in landscaping and plant collections for the nation's future botanical laboratory and show place.

An outstanding beauty spot, now Rhododendron Dell, was excavated in 1778 by one of George's landscape architects engagingly named Capability Jones.

Dutch House became a sort of outlying royal nursery for the overflow of children from the parental estate across the way.

The King retired there during several of his insanity attacks. Three of the princes were married at the Kew house in 1818 and there, near the end of that year, Queen Charlotte died.

But the Gardens continued to thrive, first under private direction and after 1841 as a national institution.

Road Death Toll for Summer Has 1,000 Increase

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavy summer vacation travel has boosted the nation's traffic death toll to 1,000 more than it was at the same time last year.

* * *

The National Safety Council said today this year's death toll for eight months was 23,470, compared with 22,430 last year.

The last quarter of the year, the council said, normally is the worst because of bad weather and earlier sundown. The council urged cautious driving and walking for the balance of 1955.

* * *

Viewed from a mileage standpoint, the council said, the accident picture is much more favorable. Travel figures are available for only seven months, but they show travel was up 7 per cent and deaths for the same period only 4. This produced a figure of 5.8 deaths for each 100 million miles, the lowest seven-month rate on record.

Guided Missile Secrets Bared

Army Dispels Citizens' Fears of 'Nike' Danger as Home Defense Move

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Hitherto secret details of Nike, the guided missile guardian of major American target cities, were disclosed yesterday.

• • •

To illustrate how Nike works, and to dispell unfounded rumors of the danger of Nike installations, the Army today took newsmen on a tour of Nike nests in the bay area and into the control center, where the plotting and firing will be done.

The Army spokesman was explicit and emphatic about the safety of the Nike installations insofar as surrounding areas are concerned. But he was more secret as to the accuracy of the devices—how high, how far and how fast they travel.

• • •

Maj. Gen. Hobart Hewett, commanding the 6th Antiaircraft Regional Command, said:

"It doesn't miss in tests, either mechanically simulated or actual. It will track and shoot down any combat aircraft now known."

The Nikes, fully armed, nestled in underground chambers ready to be moved by powerful elevators to ready positions for firing at a moment's notice. Three groups of four Nike rockets make up a battery at each launching nest, and each battery is backed up by dozens of other spares ready in rows in the racks below.

Each of the slim missiles is 20 feet long, and with its booster weighs just over one ton.

When the missile is fired, if it ever is, it will be pointed out to sea, so that when the booster breaks loose, it will be in unoccupied territory. It makes no difference which way the missile starts. The guiding radar beam immediately takes over and starts swinging it to its target.

Only a Sliver, but Nurse Sees Crimson Splotches

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—The nurse on duty at the University of Connecticut infirmary jumped to her feet when a student walked in, his white shirt splotched with red.

"What's wrong?" she cried.

"I'd like to have this sliver removed," the student said, holding out his hand. He explained the red on his shirt was strawberry syrup. He works in an ice cream shop.

Katharine Cornell Slated for Lung Lobe Surgery

BOSTON (AP)—Stage actress Katharine Cornell is scheduled to undergo an operation today for the partial removal of a lung lobe.

She entered New England Deaconess Hospital yesterday where her physician, Dr. Richard H. Overholt, described the ailment as a "small, chronic lung abscess."

The hospital said she will be able to fulfill a planned November tour.

Working Jurors Hear Series Inning by Inning

DENVER (AP) — Superior Court jury duty didn't stop the panel from hearing the first game of the World Series.

Judge Mitchel Johns, a baseball fan himself, had bailiff Bill Koolbeck bring inning by inning results to the courtroom.

The judge would interrupt the court proceedings long enough to give the jury the latest score.

Texas City Treasurer Felony Trial Date Set

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The felony theft indictment trial of Roy Floyd, fired city treasury director, has been set for Oct. 17 in Dist. Judge L. G. King's court.

Investigation of land scandals has resulted in indictments against Floyd and seven other persons, including three former city employes.

New Light on Subject of Mentally Retarded

Comments of Oakland County school teachers recently have shed new light on the subject of mentally retarded children, about which so much is being said and written these days. From their comments it seems logical to believe that the increase in the number of so-called mentally retarded children may in part be due to the crowded condition of many of our grade schools.

★ ★ ★

It is possible that a child may seem to be mentally deficient because he cannot adapt himself to the association of others in his age group. Perhaps his parents have not done their part in helping him to overcome this situation.

Every teacher finds pupils that need some individual attention to acquaint them with the school curriculum, who through bashfulness or otherwise are not of the mixer type.

Without some family or teacher help such a child soon comes to be regarded by others in his grade as queer or even dumb. And the others often have no hesitancy in letting him know it. He gets their sneers and their laughs.

That has a tendency to cause him to further withdraw within his shell, and lose interest, not only in his school work, but in most everything else. He begins to feel that he is deficient.

★ ★ ★

When a teacher has in her class only the number of pupils she can properly teach and supervise, she finds time to give such a child the attention that may set him right in his school surroundings, and give him a feeling of self-confidence.

But when the number under a teacher approaches twice what is considered the maximum for efficient teaching and supervision, a big problem arises.

Then the backward pupil cannot have this prop and incentive instilled in him by suitable individual attention from his teacher. She simply does not have the time to do it.

A number of grade teachers have reported that they give much time outside of the school hours to single out the seemingly backward pupils — and often find that they are not backward at all.

One teacher stated that a pupil who last year seemed about ready to be classed as mentally deficient responded to her individual attention to such a degree that he seemed to take a new lease on life, and now stands well up in his class.

★ ★ ★

A solution of many of these cases may rest in this procedure. A return to the days of fewer pupils per teacher may well mean a return to the days when mentally retarded pupils were rare exceptions.

U.S. Crime Rate Drops After 7 Years' Increase

Among important current news is the fact that the U.S. crime rate has dropped slightly after a 36 per cent increase over a seven year period.

It is true that the overall drop during the first half of 1955 is only seven-tenth of one per cent, according to FBI figures. This decrease, however, is significant in that it came after crime had reached an all time record high in 1954.

The improvement trend has been most noticeable in some of the country's largest cities. In Kansas City the decrease reached 21 per cent, Cleveland 20.6, Spokane 18, Chicago 14.1 and New York 8.4 per cent.

As a result there were 130 fewer murder and manslaughter cases in the first six months of this year than in the same period last year. There also were 5,390 fewer robberies and 8,790 fewer burglaries.

★ ★ ★

Despite the lower rate, crime remains big business in the United States, with murder and manslaughter causing 3,290 deaths through June. In the same time 30,360 persons were held up and robbed and there were 254,330 burglaries. But the underworld's biggest take is in auto theft, totaling $105,766,290 in the six month period.

★ ★ ★

In an interview FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover suggested to U.S. News & World Report that the lower crime rate may be due to at least three factors. These he names as the possible beginnings of a religious renaissance, better police work and an upsurge in public opinion against crime.

Mr. Hoover disagrees with those who believe national prosperity has been an important factor. He pointed out that business has been good since the end of World War II. Yet for the past seven years the rate of crime has risen over each preceding year.

If the current upward trend of prosperity and production of automobiles continues for a few more years, cars more than five years old will be a dime a dozen f.o.b. junkyard.

David Lawrence Says:

Any Move to Help Egypt Harass Jews Will Be Felt Politically in Big City Vote

WASHINGTON — The big story today in national politics is not confined to the effect of President Eisenhower's illness on the 1956 campaign, but it directly and concretely involves what policies the Department of State eventually adopts toward the sale by Soviet Russia of arms to Egypt. For these policies can have a clear-cut and controlling impact on the electoral vote of New York State and other key states, too.

* * *

To understand the deep-seated implications of that story, it is necessary to bear in mind that a large part of the Jewish vote—for sentimental reasons similar to those which for years motivated Irish voters in America who were interested in the independence of Ireland—is decidedly sympathetic to Israel.

Any move which helps Egypt to harass the little republic in the future will have its serious repercussions in certain big cities which can influence greatly where the electoral vote goes in New York, New Jersey, Illinois, Pennsylvania and other states.

In 1948, when President Truman was a candidate to succeed himself, he had a hard time raising money for his campaign. Governor Dewey was out in front, and all the polls indicated that he would win easily. It was important for the Trumanites to raise not a few dollars but big money to pay for radio time and other vitally important expenses of the last few weeks of the campaign.

IDEAS POPULAR

Truman's statements about Palestine, promising recognition and loans to Israel, got a better reception than the views of Dewey on the same subject. In the State Department there was a lukewarm attitude toward Israel. Indeed, efforts to get a loan from the American government for the fledgling republic were reported as being blocked in the Department of State because of the pressure of certain American companies with interests in the Arab world.

* * *

Truman changed everything. He was outspoken in his sympathy for Israel and, without the funds that came from Jewish sources, veteran Democrats familiar with what happened say the 1948 campaign couldn't have been financed.

Both Republican and Democratic candidates for high office and local posts have had to declare themselves on the Israel issue in certain localities, and in varying degrees they have usually shown a desire by such tactics to win the Jewish vote.

Earlier this week news leaked out that the United States was willing "in principle" to sell arms to Egypt. The State Department hinted that this was not by any means a consummated arrangement, but merely a proclamation of willingness to sell arms only for local defense and protection against aggression.

CZECHS OFFER AID

But almost immediately afterward came the news that the government of Czechoslovakia, a puppet of Moscow, had agreed to sell Egypt all the arms sought by that country and that the United States government had really been trying to stall the shipment of arms into the Middle East.

* * *

What seems to be called for in the present circumstances is a limitation on arms to the whole area, at least until the exact purposes and possible use of such arms are clarified. A warning to both Cairo and Moscow that no arms shall be brought in until the present tension between the countries of the Middle East is clarified, would appear to be inevitable. Secretary Dulles has already approached foreign minister Molotov on the subject.

It certainly seems a paradox that the Moscow government, which has been preaching peace and disarmament for the last several months, should be so ready to arm Egypt, whose only reason for seeking such arms is considered by Israel's supporters to be the potential use of such arms against Israel.

The NATO organization is an example of a military setup that is international rather than national. The same formula of integrated military units on a regional basis could be applied to the Middle East if the Western powers took a firm stand. To allow Egypt to become an armed ally of Soviet Russia would be a victory for the Communists in the "cold war." To persuade Egypt to avoid alignment with the Communists who would stir up more friction with Israel becomes a logical aim of Anglo-American policy. It is a significant development in the whole "cold war," as well as in American politics.

Diagnosis and Treatment Not in Brady's Province

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

When I reach into the appalling pile of letters on my desk, say eeny, meeny, miny, mo, and pull one out to answer I like to find I can answer it without violating the Hippocratic injunction — Do Good If You Can but Do No Harm. This gives me a smug feeling that I'm helping some poor soul to gain better health.

* * *

But when I pull out the letter that shouldn't have been written to me at all, I'm annoyed. First, because the letter asks for advice about the diagnosis or treatment of the correspondent's ailment or disease, which is not in my province.

Second, because the scrounger clutters up the mail and takes the time of my assistants. And third, because that kind of critter can and often does make a tremendous squawk to publisher or editor about Brady's racket. It is worthy of note that some such letters are thrown out because they go over my head.

This one, for example:

My doctor tells me I have sugar in my urine and he has put me on a low salt diet . . . Already I'm lost—I haven't the faintest idea why the doctor prescribed low salt diet.

ENJOYS NIP

Since this dignified old gentleman would be appalled to learn that I take an occasional—and I sincerely mean occasional—glass of beer or a Tom Collins . . .

(Just how often is occasional, I wonder.)

* * *

I turn to you for a bit of private advice . . .

You mean you want me to help you deceive your doctor? Even if I answered your query, Mr. Nitwit, it could do you no good and it might do you harm.

The answer to your first question: Could beer, or gin mixed with tonic, sugar, lime etc. cause sugar to appear in the urine?—is that it would depend on the amount of carbohydrate in your diet, your carbohydrate tolerance and on the amount of sugar (blood sugar) you burn at work or play.

The answer to your second question: May malt beverages or liquor be taken in moderation by one on a low salt diet?—is that no matter what ails you or whether you have enjoyed good health up to now, malt beverages or liquor in moderation can't do your any good.

And only the doctor who prescribed the low salt diet can tell you whether you can safely take malt beverages or liquor in (say it with a silly grin) "moderation."

From all I have been able to learn the low salt diet is beneficial only for persons who habitually consume too much salt in or on their food.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Voice of the People

"Calling Russia 'Socialist' Discredits Real Socialism"

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It is not difficult to understand why the benefactors of Russian state despotism persist in calling their system 'socialist.' For more than 100 years the name of socialism has been an inspiration and hope to millions of downtrodden the world over.

But why do capitalist spokesmen insist on calling Russia a socialist country? Only a few weeks after the Russian Revolution on Nov. 7, 1917, took place, Arnold Petersen, then and now National Secretary of the Socialist Labor Party of America, wrote that there was no industrial basis for the establishment of a genuine socialist society in Russia.

During the rule of Stalin and since, the Socialist Labor Party has repeatedly demonstrated that what exists in Russia is a 'monstrous state despotism.'

Could it be that capitalism's spokesmen insist on calling Russia socialist with the view of discrediting socialism by holding up an example that is the very opposite of socialism? If so, isn't that rather dishonest?

Smiles

Fall styles now are showing. The more change in women's clothes, the less in men's.

* * *

Think of what could be done with all the time wasted on people who are hard to please.

Hal Boyle Says:

Don't Let Them Kid You About Gal Poker Players

NEW YORK (AP)—It has been an open secret for some time that men find women puzzling.

But the one thing about women that most men feel surest about is — they can't play poker well.

This hardy superstition is perpetuated in a new book called "Dealer's Choice," a collection of famous poker stories by Jerry D. Lewis, a former New York newspaperman.

* * *

Lewis, who cautiously dedicated his book "to Louise, without whom there could never be a fullhouse," quotes a psychiatrist as follows:

"The average woman is too curious to play poker well. In an evening's play, she'll have a dozen hands where 'calling the bet' displays a suicide complex. Yet, she can no more resist throwing in the chips than she can help looking at the label in a friend's new coat."

* * *

Personally, I think this remark only shows the psychiatrist needs to have his head examined.

According to this theory, psychiatrists themselves should be lousy poker players, because they are more curious than the average woman. They are always asking if you have an overwhelming urge to stick thumbtacks into your mother or salt your daddy's beer with arsenic, and if not, why not.

* * *

And if curiosity alone were the hallmark of idiocy, then it naturally would follow that the worst poker player of all would be a lady psychiatrist.

The sorrowful truth is that the old saying "lucky in cards, unlucky in love" doesn't apply to the ladies. They are lucky in everything.

"Poker Alice," the famed cigar-smoking pal of Wild Bill Hickok, was renowned for her skill with the pasteboards during the palmy past of Deadwood, S. D. But I'll wager there isn't a community in America today that doesn't have some beldame or matron able to beat "Poker Alice"—if the chips were really down.

* * *

The curiosity to see what's in the fellow's hand may be a sign of weakness in women at poker. But it is more than balanced by their uncanny ability to see what's in the other fellow's mind. And that is much more important.

Poker isn't a game. It's a matter of practical psychology. And who can figure out what a man will do even before he makes up his own mind? A woman—every time.

* * *

Men say they don't like to play poker with women because they talk too much, stall too often, and insist on playing insane games in which deuces, aces, the joker and one-eyed jacks are wild.

"One woman in a poker game is consternation—two are chaos," they claim.

But they say these things only to bolster their own male egos. I used to play poker with women. I don't any more. I found I couldn't afford to.

* * *

If wives really want to know why husbands don't like to let them into their poker games, here are the honest reasons:

1. They win too often.
2. You can't bluff them. They can see through a man's feeble pretense that he holds three aces when he actually only has a feeble pair of tens.
3. They cheat. If their instinct doesn't tell them what you have in your hand, they're always trying to peek and see.
4. After they win all the money, they expect the losers to walk home. They rarely offer to lend a man taxi fare.

* * *

The male prejudice against women poker players stems from one thing only—the manly need of self-defense. Let all men call me traitor for admitting it. But it's true.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Diagnosis of Complaint as Tuberculosis Gives Rise to Symptom in Healthy Man

Joe's case is such a classical example to show the significance of psychosomatic medicine, that I am repeating it today. For Joe is a brilliant college man. Yet his subconscious mind tricked him into severe night sweats just because he was told he had TB and he thought he should have them.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-352: Joe M., aged 29, had been a school teacher for several years; then turned newspaperman.

One day, after having had the "flu" and a continuing cough for a week, he decided to have a check-up of his lungs.

* * *

The examiner made a quick inspection and concluded by asking: "Joe, don't you have night sweats?"

"No, Doc, I never do," replied Joe.

"Well, you should for one of your lungs is entirely destroyed by tuberculosis.

"You are through with your job as of now, and I am making a reservation for you at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in my private sanitarium.

* * *

"And I hope you realize what this means, for you'll be laid up for one year and maybe two or three."

MENTAL MEDICINE

When Joe's wife saw him enter the door that night, she knew something terrible had happened, and Joe then informed her he was dying of TB.

* * *

But she was a positive thinker and a cheer leader kind of wife, instead of the wet blanket variety.

"You do not have TB," she declared emphatically, "and if you do, I'll not believe it till you have a thorough examination by an M. D. and get a chest X-ray."

Then she telephoned Joe's doctor to give him a piece of her mind and cancel that reservation at his private sanitarium.

She gave Joe a good dinner and tried to pep him up, but he was dejected and demoralized.

They retired about 11 p.m., and at 2 a.m. Joe woke up in a terrific night sweat. Perspiration was oozing from every pore as if he were in a steam bath.

* * *

His wife had to get him a pair of dry pajamas. Joe was so sure he was dying of TB, but he finally drifted off into slumber again.

About 4:30, however, he again awakened simply drenched in another terrific night sweat. His wife informed me he was so wet with perspiration that she not only had to give him a third pair of dry pajamas, but she had to change both the upper as well as lower sheets, for they were so damp.

Next morning Joe demurred about any further medical check-ups, saying they couldn't afford the expense, but she demanded that he get a thorough chest examination.

* * *

And that check-up proved Joe didn't have a sign of TB. But Joe refused to believe it, so a sputum test was made, and again Joe was declared absolutely free from any tuberculosis.

MENTAL SUGGESTION

Please note that you and I, even if offered a $100 bill, cannot turn on a heavy sweat even by the act of our conscious will.

* * *

But Joe, though sound asleep, became drenched in two night sweats just because a quack doctor had implanted this negative thought in his mind in mid afternoon of the previous day.

So the mind can actually produce organic symptoms of disease. Sweat is not imaginary. It is tangible. And it is sometimes an indication of TB.

Joe's subconscious mind produced an organic symptom of TB just because Joe was obsessed with fear of this germ disease and had received the suggestion.

Don't ignore psychology, therefore, as a factor in all disease, even though the major component of that ailment seems wholly organic.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (INS) — Double dosage doesn't mean twice as good when it comes to spraying fruit.

He explained that under certain conditions both chlordane and toxaphene tend to impair flavor and quality in some fruits and vegetables.

States Spend Average of 50 Million Daily

WASHINGTON — The 48 states are spending an average total of $50,000,000 a day and in nearly every state taxes are at least double what they were in 1946.

The states spent a total of 18.7 billion dollars in fiscal 1945 compared with seven billion in 1946.

All states except six borrowed cash in 1954 to finance part of their spending.

Loans to states during the year totaled 2.24 billion dollars.

The average U.S. farmer now spends about $3,000 a year for feed, seed, fertilizer, petroleum products, machinery, building materials and hardware.

Bogus Check Artists Enjoying Field Day

EAST LANSING (AP) — Donald Schoof, Detroit postal inspector, says bad check artists are having a field day at the expense of merchants who still think the customer is always right.

Addressing a law enforcement conference at Michigan State University, Schoof said it has become ridiculously easy to cash a forged check.

"Rank novices are swarming into the racket because merchants are so afraid of offending a customer," said Schoof.

He said one Detroit market recently cashed a check on "the Bank of the United States" and that another cashed a photostat of a check.

Honor Narvik Battle

PARIS—The square in front of the Norwegian Embassy in Paris was recently named Place de Narvik to commemorate the Battle of Narvik, Norway, in the early part of World War II.

Key to Survival: Article 4

New Water Sources Must Be Found

By ROGER D. GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's "dust bowl" disaster of the 1930s showed what can happen to a land parched for water.

• • •

Today scientists warn that water shortages are becoming a serious problem in many parts of the United States—and will become more acute from year to year.

Why is water getting scarce? Is the weather turning hotter? Is America's once abundant rainfall beginning to dwindle?

Meteorologists say there is little question that winters have been warming up over the last 50 or 60 years, averaging about two degrees in most U. S. cities. Since 1870 the mean annual temperature has risen 4 degrees in Philadelphia and 2½ degrees in Montreal.

That doesn't sound like much of an increase, until you realize that an average annual drop of only 10 degrees would put us into another ice age.

• • •

As for rainfall, there are violent regional fluctuations from year to year, but the nationwide average remains almost constant at 30 inches annually—some 4,300 billion gallons a day.

Why, then, isn't there plenty of water as usual?

Scientists explain that about 70 per cent of the water that falls on the land as rain returns to the atmosphere by evaporation or evapotranspiration action by vegetation. The other 30 per cent—some 1,300 billion gallons a day—is either "consumed" or flows into rivers en route to the sea.

The 1,300 billion gallons is thus the maximum quantity of water "available" in the United States, unless fresh water can be obtained from other sources than normal rainfall.

• • •

At present, the U. S. Geological Survey says nationwide usage totals about 200 billion gallons daily. By 1975, it is expected to rise to 400 billion or roughly one third of the total "available" supply.

That's getting uncomfortably close to the limit, considering the vast and unwieldy problem of distributing the water where it is needed.

So it is that scientists, subsidized by government and private industry, are anxiously searching for new sources of supply. The long-range possibilities include:

1. Artificial rain making.
2. Distilling fresh water from the sea.
3. Pollution abatement (since pollution of the nation's streams and lakes robs us of clean water by making it unfit for use).
4. Increased storage capacity (dams, reservoirs, ponds).
5. Recirculation of water, particularly in factories, so that it is used again and again instead of being replaced by fresh supplies.
6. Tightening up on waste and leakage.

The loss from leakage in municipal water systems, for example, is estimated at 10 to 20 per cent of the total pumpage. Chicago sent leak-hunting squads through its 130-mile maze of underground water supply pipes a few years ago and discovered leaks which were costing the city 10,635,000 gallons a day.

• • •

Americans today use more than half again as much water as they did in 1890. Here are some of today's common household water requirements: bathtub or shower, 30 gallons; toilet flush, 4 to 6 gallons; automatic home laundry, 13 to 30 gallons per minute; lawn sprinkle (100 square feet, ¼ inch of water), 16 gallons lawn soak (100 square feet, one inch of water), 64 gallons.

Most Americans in recent years have become familiar with summertime restrictions against lawn sprinkling and car washing. As a further move to save water, the government is now urging farmers to replace open irrigation ditches with evaporation proof pipes.

Industry, the nation's No. 1 water user with an intake of 80 billion gallons a day, is also seeking new ways to cut down its usage.

A steel mill at Fontana, Calif., found it could produce a ton of steel with only 1,700 gallons of recirculated water compared with the nationwide average of 65,000 gallons per ton.

And Bethlehem Steel's plant at Sparrows Point, Md., conserves fresh water by purchasing 65 million gallons of treated sewage water daily from the city of Baltimore.

About two dozen firms in this country, operating under government contracts, are experimenting with various methods of removing the salt from ocean water to make it drinkable. It's still an expensive process.

Rain hungry farmers in our Western Plains still hope that artificial rain making experiments will bring them water from normally rainless skies.

Dwight Kline, U.S. Weather Bureau expert, says the government still has an "open mind" about rain making.

Sugar cane is a giant grass growing 6 to 15 feet high.

Sees Straits Bridge Peninsula Shrinker

MARQUETTE, Mich. (AP) — Michigan officials say the new 100-million-dollar Straits of Mackinac Bridge will do fabulous things when it is completed in 1957.

George E. Bishop, secretary manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau puts it this way:

"The bridge will bring the two Peninsulas of Michigan at least 100 miles closer together. It takes an average of two to three hours to cross the Straits of Mackinac by ferry boat, if you include waiting in line.

"That's equivalent to 100 miles of driving. Hence, the bridge will act like an accordion—squeezing the two parts of the state closer together."

And Bishop thinks the Upper Peninsulas tourist industry, already worth 60 million dollars yearly, will double with the increased traffic.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

OUR FRIENDS THE TREES—4.
The Leaves Come Tumbling Down

All summer long and through early autumn most of the leaves on our trees remain green, the color provided by a substance called chlorophyll.

When the first frosts come in the northern part of the country, the leaves start to turn yellow and red. In dry weather the colors are likely to be less brilliant.

Maples may be mottled yellow, orange and red. Oaks range through brown, bronze green and scarlet. Elms and beeches are russet yellow, birch and poplar and cottonwoods golden, sumac bright red.

With diminished sunlight their days of growth are over, their supply of sap cut off. They come loose and drift downwards perhaps, for several weeks to pack down and decay into rich soil.

Here is a Junior Editor scuffing through the autumn leaves. For your collection, color the leaves and the boy with crayons, using all the bright colors you like. Paste the picture down on a cereal box. Cut the boy out carefully along the black outlines and fasten the upper body to the lower with a paper fastener or bent pin thrust through the indicated holes. Fold back the sides of the cutout along the dotted lines and the figure will stand and move.

TOMORROW: More gifts from the trees.

State Press Group Urges Road Safety

EAST LANSING (AP)—The board of directors of the Michigan Press Association has urged Gov. Williams and the Legislature to put forward their "best efforts" in developing a highway safety program this fall.

The board adopted a resolution which said the people of the state have a right to expect that political consideration will be kept at a minimum and special interests ignored in working out a safety program.

Williams has set Nov. 1 as the tentative date for a special session of the Legislature to consider a program to reduce the highway accident toll, emergency care of mentally retarded children and teachers' pay.

Road Tax Defeated

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Ottawa County voters have defeated a proposed one mill tax increase for county road improvements. The total vote was 1,580 to 1,426 in turning down the increase which was to have run for three years.

County Backs College

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Grand Traverse County voters have adopted a proposal which permits the county to become a financial backer of Northwestern Michigan College.

Hayes Buys Stoker Stock

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Hayes Manufacturing Corp. has announced purchase of most of the outstanding shares of Detroit Stoker Co., Monroe.

Lass, 18, Knows All Ways to Men's Hearts

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — I have always questioned seriously the validity of that old dictum, "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach."

Maybe it's because I have a particularly queasy group of men friends. But the ability to laugh at the right jokes and spot the change-of-pace pitch always seemed to work better for me.

Today, however, I met up with a girl who bakes pies and gathers maple sap for her papa's pancakes and is doing all right indeed in the male hearts department.

"I believe," she said, "that a girl should be able to cook and bake, because the way to some men's hearts is through some men's stomachs.

"However, she must be able to do just about anything else also, because other men's hearts are reached through other channels—and you never know, do you, which kind of heart you're going to be angling for?"

• • •

There it is. As simple at that. The expert on this matter is Miss Brenda Hitchcock, 18, queen of the Deerfield (New Hampshire) fair, and the cutest little sap-swiper and fruit-pickler in the East.

ROSY OUT LOOK

Miss Hitchcock wears brown braids down to her hips, a coral corduroy coat, the expression of a brown-eyed cherub, and rose-colored glasses on the subject of life, love and the pursuit of gentlemen.

• • •

"There is one trouble with my theory," she conceded, "and that is a teenage girl today who learns how to do everything in preparation for winning a man's heart—well, she has no time to meet any men." Brenda leaned forward confidentially. "But I have a solution to that . . .

"Bake your pies with packaged-mix crusts."

This simple solution (and a little sneaky) to life's mysteries was offered on the first day of Miss Hitchcock's visit to New York in the job of promoting interest in the Deerfield Fair, which opens tomorrow.

She offered it to us along with an apple pie, wrapped in cellophane and tagged with a blue ribbon marked "First Premium."

"This is not my own pie. It was baked by a woman in Concord," Brenda confessed. "It is a new pie, but made from an old recipe," she added.

Because she feels strongly that girls should equip themselves to hurdle the harts of any type of man, Brenda is a multi-expert in the following:

She is first in her senior class at Concord High—in case she should meet an intellectual man.

A PRINCESS, TOO

She not only can bake, but was Cherry Blossom Festival princess in Washington last spring—in case she should meet Billy Boy, for whom one must bake a cherry pie.

• • •

She has acted in summer stock and studied ballet—in case she meets a culture lover.

She was featured in the new "Cinerama Holiday" film — in case she meets a man who wants a girl with cash.

Blue Shield Reports

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Shield will pay out $32,000,000—93 per cent of its income—in 1955 for medical and surgical services. Seven per cent went for operating costs. Dr. Robert L. Novy, retiring president, said payments for Blue Shield members will reach the 40 million dollar mark in 1956.

As early as 450 B. C. the Greeks made window panes of thin translucent marble.

Bob Considine Says:

A Nazi Admiral's Opinion of Hitler's Men

NEW YORK (INS) — Admiral Erich Raeder, released the other day from Spandau, where the shabby spectres of Hitler's inner circle are imprisoned, suffered more openly on the witness stand at the Nuremberg trials than any fellow war criminal.

* * *

He was haunted by a document which narrowly missed being read into the record. Had it been read, and the opportunity arose for the other Nazis to get at him, he might not now be alive.

While under questioning by Sir David Maxwell Fyfe, then assistant prosecutor for the British and now Home Secretary, Raeder became all but apopletic when Fyfe started to offer a certain paper in evidence.

The German admiral beckoned his lawyer to his side, whispered in a most anguished way, and the lawyer then formally objected to the introduction of the still unrevealed paper.

Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, asked to see the document, read it and declared a ten minute recess in his chambers. There he conferred with, among others, Judges Francis Biddle and John J. Parker of the U.S.

ONE DID HEAR

During the recess nearly everyone except the defendants and their guards left the courtroom for a smoke. The Nazi big-wigs put aside their earphones. Raeder remained in the witness chair, pulled his lawyer to his side and quietly began explaining his terror, making certain that his fellow defendants were not listening.

But he overlooked a man and an electronic device. The man was Capt. Harry Sperber, U.S. Army, working a crossword puzzle in the interpreters' box; the device was the witness chair's microphone. Raeder had forgotten to turn it off. By chance Sperber had not taken off his earphones.

"For God's sake do anything you can to keep them from reading this paper in public!" Raeder quietly but tensely instructed his counsel. "Oh, How did I know that I would ever be brought to Nuremburg . . how did I know?"

CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS

The lawyer was puzzled and asked for details. Sperber was no longer working on his crossword. He was taking the notes he gave me today.

"I was captured by the Russians at the end of the war," Raeder explained. "They found me and my wife in our house near Berlin. They took us to Moscow. I thought this was the end: they would send me to Siberia and I would never see Germany again.

"Then they began asking my opinions of Hitler and Goering and Himmler and all the others there," he said, nodding to the defendants' box. "I thought I would never see these men again so I told the Russians what I had really thought of all of them.

"Can't you see my position? This document is full of what I said about Goering, Keitel and the others. If my remarks become public, I don't know what will happen to me. And it surely will throw the whole defense into an uproar."

JUDGES RETURN

The judges filed back in and ruled that the document would be accepted in evidence but not be read publicly. Raeder's wheeze of relief whistled through Sperber's earphones.

Later, Sir Geoffrey permitted Sperber to see the paper. In it Raeder described Goering as "a fat, greedy, untidy pig who would step across dead bodies to attain what he wanted for himself."

Field Marshal Friedrich Keitel was "a frightened Boy Scout who would lick the boots of anyone, especially those of Hitler, to advance himself." Raeder's next in command, Adm. Karl Doenitz, was called "a ruthless opportunist of limited ability."

Goering committed suicide. Keitel was hanged, Doenitz got ten years and will be out a year hence. The others, at long last, will know now what their salty old co-conspirator truly thought of them.

He'll Use His Head Next Time and Pay

CHICAGO (AP) — The next time Philip Palmer wants to ride the "L" he'll pay his fare at the entrance.

Philip, 12, tried to climb over a turnstile at an exit of an elevated railroad station and caught his head in a narrow space near the top. He shouted, and six companions awaiting their turn shouted.

Someone called police, and the police called the firemen. Under the supervision of Lt. Leon Abrahamson, the crew freed Philip's head by sawing off an iron bar with a hacksaw. He was uninjured.

Pennsylvania Group Reports New Snake

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The heavy rains of recent weeks have brought much havoc to this state—and also a new snake.

The Pennsylvania Herpetological Survey, sponsored by Carnegie Museum, discovered the new snake. It was the first such discovery in Pennsylvania in 62 years.

The snake, evidently, only comes out of the ground in very rainy weather. It lives mostly in mountain areas. Rather appropriately it's been named "Mountain Ground Snake" with the scientific tag of "Halda Valeriae Purchra."

Neil D. Richmond of the survey says the snake, never growing longer than 12 inches, is of reddish brown color with black specks.

Flies Flee the DDT on Mackinac Island

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The flies have flown Mackinac Island.

Ten years ago, the tails of the horses which pull tourist carriages twitched constantly at the swarming pests.

Chief of Police Ozrow I. Smith recalled that "the flies almost ate you up and you couldn't talk without getting a mouthful."

Then the State Health Department went to work. A concoction of DDT and other chemicals was sprayed regularly in the business district and on the buggy trails.

Most of the flies—and rats and other rodents, too—now are gone.

Air-Minded Deer Leaves

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Bucky, the air-minded deer who has been greeter at Kinross Airport for the past few weeks, has disappeared.

Bucky made his home at the airport and met all incoming planes. Pilots and crew members gave him lumps of sugar. He also ate rubber bands.

Ed Clark, operations manager for Capitol Airlines at Kinross, said Bucky "may have headed back to the woods to find a little doe of his own."

Scientists Seeking New 'A' Smasher

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — Physicists, representing a newly-formed organization of eight midwestern universities are designing a super "atom smasher" which the group plans to build somewhere in the midwest. The site is to be chosen later.

The physicists are from the Universities of Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin, Purdue, Indiana and Iowa State College. They are members of a design committee of the Midwestern Universities Research Associatoin (MURA). They plan a giant proton accelerator about five times as powerful as any now in existence.

Costing an estimated 25 million dollars, the new 20 to 30 billion electron volt accelerator is expected to enable MURA to regain a prominent place in the new and important field of high-energy physics, a field of research in which east and west coast groups have excelled.

Rita, Daughters Sail for Europe Minus Haymes

NEW YORK (INS) — The bon voyage bouquet of roses read "To Dick and Rita" but Rita Hayworth was alone when she sailed for France yesterday.

Her estranged husband, Crooner Dick Haymes, was among the missing, but the beauty queen still wore his wedding band on her third finger, left hand.

• • •

Rita looked wan but beautiful when she met newsmen aboard the Queen Elizabeth for a brief and non-committal news conference.

She said she was taking along her two daughters, Yasmin, 5, the son of previous husband Ali Khan, and Rebecca, 10, the offspring of Orson Welles.

The flame-haired actress, her hair dyed a dark color, said Yasmin would visit her father in Paris while Rebecca takes in the cultural sights.

• • •

As for any nformaton on when or whether she intends to file for a divorce from Haymes she had a curt "No comment." Her attorney, Bartley Crum, described questions about her marital affairs as "impertinent."

World Rice Production Down 4 Per Cent in '55

WASHINGTON — The Foreign Agricultural Service estimates world rice production for the 1954-55 season at 261,200,000,000 pounds, 4.4 per cent less than the record harvest of the year before. The crop, however, is the second largest on record and 17 per cent above the postwar average.

White Pine Worth 'Gold'

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. — It is lumber cut in Michigan has been worth 10 times as much as all the gold ever taken out of alaska and three times as much as all the gold ever dug in California. Michigan produces nearly half the timber marketed in the Great Lakes region.

WHO'S WHO?—One's James, and one is John. But which? That's what Mrs. Dale Seigman of Madison, Wis., wanted to know after her twins kicked off their identification bracelets. Police and FBI agents were called in to identify their footprints. Mrs. Seigman is holding one of the bracelets.

Pigeons Polite, They Don't Fight Over Free Food

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—More than three years ago, T. E. Elkins, a bakery route salesman, fed a loaf of bread to a bunch of pigeons—now he has a daily breadline for hundreds.

The birds gather at 7 o'clock each morning to share a couple of loaves of stale bread and the 61-year-old driver says he has counted as many as 324 of them at breakfast.

Elkins draws the line at feeding them on Sundays when he's not working but does arrange for his relief driver to lay out the chow when he's on vacation.

Sometimes Elkins has to drive seagulls away from the food but he has only praise for the manners of the pigeons, saying:

"Pigeons are polite. They don't run all over each other, they don't make any noise and they don't fight over their food."

City, Oakland County Disease Rate Down

Communicable diseases were at a low mark this week in Pontiac and Oakland County.

Polio headed the list with seven cases reported—the same number as for the previous week, but a drop of 10 cases over those listed for the same period last year. Of these, one case was in Pontiac, one in Birmingham, one in Farmington and four in Royal Oak.

Three cases of scarlet fever showed up, two of measles, and single cases of chicken pox, mumps, strep throat and tuberculosis.

Following is a breakdown of communicable disease reports, as released this week by Dr. John D. Monroe, city and county health director. Comparative figures for the past week and a year ago are included.

German Ship Sinks

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—Fifteen seamen were reported missing today after the sinking of the 398-ton German trawler Elbe in the North Sea 80 miles northwest of the Dutch island of Texel. The trawler collided with the 8,066-ton Norwegian tanker Havprins, which radioed she had picked up only two of the Elbe's crewmen. The tanker said she was not damaged.

UP AND OVER — An athletic policeman somersaults over a car at the annual West Berlin, Germany, police show. Some 120,000 spectators attended the show, put on to show the citizenry the skill and efficiency of their police force.

2 Mississippians Cited for Alleged Race Integration

TCHULA, Miss. (AP)—Two white men, asked to leave Holmes County because of alleged pro-integration speeches, said they have no immediate plans for leaving.

• • •

The two are Dr. D. R. Minter and E. C. Cox, directors of a cooperative farm at the nearby Providence community. They do medical and missionary work among Negroes.

More than 700 citizens met here Tuesday night and passed a resolution asking them to leave. The citizens heard a two-hour tape recording of questions asked seven Negroes. Four of the Negroes questioned were arrested last week and charged with using obscene language to a white teen-age girl.

In the recording, the Negroes reportedly told of mixed swimming parties at the farm and mixed meetings at which Dr. Minter and Cox advocated integration.

Dr. Minter and Cox denied the charges. Both said their personal opinions differed from the majority in the area but they tried to follow the customs in a segregated system.

Iron Bolts May Unhinge Fate of First Lake Ship

MUSKEGON (AP) — A new page in history may be written from a handful of iron bolts and rough marks found on an ancient ship's hull.

The story involves the fate of what is believed to be the first ship built on the Great Lakes, the Griffin, constructed 276 years ago at the order of the famed French explorer Sieur de la Salle.

For many years it was thought that the Griffin went down in a storm when she disappeared Sept. 18, 1679, some 42 days after she had sailed from near what is now Green Bay, Wis.

But Mrs. David J. Vail of North Muskegon says her brother-in-law has uncovered evidence that the ship was stolen by its captain for its rich cargo of furs, then came to grief at the hands of Indians.

CALLED AUTHENTIC

Mrs. Vail, widow of the former vice president of Campbell, Wyant and Cannon Foundry Co., learned of the wreck's discovery by her husband's brother, Orrie Vail of Tobermory, Ontario, in Canada's Georgian Bay.

Vail, a 65-year-old retired commercial fisherman, said a team of Canadian government scientist has pronounced as authentic the wreck found in a small cove on an island near Tobermory, at the tip of the western arm of land enclosing Georgian Bay.

Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de la Salle, had the Griffin built and launched on the Niagara River above the falls. Father Hennepin, another famed explorer, was aboard on the vessel's maiden voyage up the lakes.

WAS TO RETURN

En route the party traded for furs with the Indians and had a full cargo when the Griffin reached Washington Island near Green Bay.

La Salle ordered the vessel's Captain Duc to deliver the valuable furs to a ship waiting below Niagara Falls. Duc then was to return to Washington Island, where La Salle stayed behind to set up a center for trading and exploration.

However, the Griffin never arrived and La Salle died without knowing the fate of the ship whose loss ruined him financially.

It was believed the ship went down in a storm on the return voyage. But discovery of a blackened hull at Tobermory, far off the Griffin's course, led to the theory that she was seized by pillaging Indians who then beached the craft and burned it.

EXPERTS AGREE

Some three years ago Vail reclaimed pieces of the wreckage, including unusual iron bolts hand made with a wedge of iron and a washer at the end instead of a threaded nut and bolt.

Experts from the Royal Ontario Museum, interested by Vail's find, inspected the hull and said ax marks helped date it as "definitely 200 to 300 years old."

It was also shown that the size and shape of the wrecked ship tallied with a drawing of the Griffin made by Father Hennipin.

* * *

Vail believes the Canadian Government will soon authenticate the find of the Griffin, naming him its official discoverer.

. . . and a Heavy Fine

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — "There ought to be a law," said State Rep. John M. Lewis, who sponsored a bill to pin a $25 fine on persons who deliberately mutilate their license plates or make them illegible so they cannot be read.

Raw Silk Production Hits Peak in Japan

TOKY—In the year ended in May, both production and domestic deliveries of raw silk set postwar records.

Raw-silk output amounted to 265,806 bales and domestic deliveries totaled 192,868 bales; each was a 9 per cent increase over the previous year.

Raw-silk exports increased by 17 per cent, to 76,592 bales, the highest figure since the 1950 silk year.

Domestic stocks of raw silk and cocoons were the lowest in the postwar years.

The former declined by 3.4 per cent, to 8,219 bales, and the latter by 3.5 per cent, to 1,422,689 kilograms.

Shivers Claims High Court Erred

Texas Governor Scores Action on Segregation as 'Unconstitutional'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas says the Supreme Court justices "stepped out of their judicial robes" when they ruled segregation in public schools was unconstitutional.

• • •

"When the Supreme Court, basing its opinion on sociological studies . . . said how the cities of Houston and Woodville were going to operate their schools it stepped outside the role of judicial interpretation . . . Nine men sitting 2,000 miles away are not going to tell Crossroads, Tex., how they are going to run their schools."

Concerning the small number of school districts in Texas that have desegregated, the governor last night said:

"I will not argue with the right of a particular locality to integrate, although I might doubt their judgment."

• • •

Basically, the governor said, the segregation issue is a "political problem" and only one in a long series of attempts to bring about the centralization of government.

In his opening remarks of a 10-minute speech to a meeting of oil well drillers, Shivers took a wry slap at Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic candidate for president who spoke last night at the University of Texas in Austin.

Without naming Stevenson, Shivers, smiling, noted the reason for his absence from Austin:

"Pressing business and important visitors in Austin caused me not to be there. I'm sure they will have a wonderful time."

DARING MERCY MISSION — A basket bearing a workman stricken with appendicitis is lowered from the "Texas Tower" radar island 110 miles east of Cape Cod, Mass., to the deck of the Coast Guard cutter Cook Inlet. The vessel's bow was held close to the man-made island despite dangerous, boiling seas. The ailing man, Ralph Oxenrider of Winthrop, Mass., was taken to a Boston hospital.

The number of tractors on U. S. farms has more than doubled since 1941.

Texan Hideaway

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — One of Austin's original old mansions was being torn down and workmen discovered a secret cellar to be used to hide from Indians. The house was built in 1857.

Pork Emerges as Best Buy for Shoppers This Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Housewives will be pleased with what they find in the meat sections of the nation's food stores this weekend: prices on many cuts will be down from a week ago and there will be unusually good buys on a couple of items.

• • •

The emphasis wil be on pork. Wholesale prices on that meat came down quite a bit last week, and now the food store operators are passing these lower prices along to consumers.

Loins of pork will be a particular favorite as a weekend special. They'll be down four cents a pound in some stores and even more in others. Pork chop prices are being cut nearly everywhere, with reductions averaging around four to six cents a pound from a week ago.

Other pork items mentioned as specials by a number of stores: smoked picnics, fresh hams and pork shoulder roast.

Broiling and frying chickens are going to be prominently featured, too, and some markets will have unusually low prices. There'll also be specials on stewing chickens.

Prime rib prices will be about the same as a week ago, but sirloin steaks will be cheaper in a number of sections. Legs of lamb will be unchanged or a bit lower in price. There will be some good buys in lamb chops.

Egg prices will be up a couple of cents in some regions and down a bit in others. The same will be true of butter.

Potatoes, onions, eggplant and peppers rate as the very best buys in vegetables. Produce men comment that the small and medium size peppers offer the best value.

LETTUCE—GOOD BUY

Lettuce—Iceberg, Big Boston and Romaine—is back in the list of good buys. Others: Escarole, spinach, sweet potatoes, beans, bunched and topped beets, cabbage and cauliflower. Corn is in lighter supply and good quality ears are somewhat higher. Cucumbers, squash and carrots are moderately priced.

Apples are an outstanding buy in fruits. Limes are cheap and prunes are reasonable. Canteloupe prices are about the same as a week ago while Honeydews are higher, with a wide range in price.

Peaches are not too plentiful. Quite a bit of riped stock is coming to market and can be picked up at reasonable prices for immediate consumption.

Fruit specialists rate oranges, grapefruit and lemons as moderately priced.

Honolulu Ham Relays U.S. Accident Report

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—The accident happened in Rawlins, Wyo., but police say the speedy report went by way of Honolulu.

A ham radio operator saw the accident on Highway 30 about 23 miles west of Rawlins and broadcast an appeal for aid. The message was picked up by another amateur operator in Honolulu, some 2,200 miles west of here.

The Honolulu operator relayed the appeal, which was received by a ham here and reported to police. Officer Freeman Calvert, who sent a teletype message to Rawlins, said the entire transmission took less than 20 minutes, probably quicker than if a witness at the crash scene had driven directly to Rawlings.

Entire World Writhes Under Uneasy Peace

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Former East-West Cold War opponents may be hoisting highballs in toasts to one another in post-Geneva spirit of smiles and sociability, but a few hot little wars are still raging in the world. Plenty of squabbles spot the globe, some ready to explode, some simmering on a back burner, some cooling off.

Occupied with quarrels at or near furnace heat are France and her North African possessions; Britain with trouble in Cyprus, Kenya and Malaya; Israel and her Arab neighbors; the two Germanys . . . the two Koreas . . . the two Chinas . . . the two Indochinas. The accompanying map shows the location of 18 trouble spots around the world.

Some old quarrels seem to have vanished, only to be replaced by similar ones. The last year has seen the Trieste control question settled. But France and Germany are waging a diplomatic tug of war over the ultimate fate of the rich Saar.

The British pulled out of the Suez Canal zone at Egypt's insistence. Now both of them are having some rough spots in the move to give the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan self-determination.

GOA UNDER THREAT

The French gave up peaceably their little pieces of France in India. But Portugal refuses to give up Goa and two other Portuguese enclaves in India. Indian demonstrators in "peaceful nonresistance marches" died under Portuguese police guns and clubs. Then more Indians died under Indian police guns and staves when they demonstrated against Indian leaders' passive policy on the Goa question.

The independence of Morocco and of Algeria has been pushed by fellow Arabs in the United Nations for years. Britain, Greece and Turkey tried and failed in London to reach some accord on the future of the Mediterranean island of Cyprus, a British crown colony once controlled by Turkey but peopled by Greek descendants who want union with Greece. Cypriot riots preceded and followed the talks and the Assembly is certain to hear new debates.

Arab unwillingness to accept Israel as a nation has complicated the situation which recently burst into flame around the Gaza Strip. There are continued sporadic clashes on other Israeli borders and relations with Jordan, Syria and Iraq are always tense. The Arabs still insist on internationalizing Jerusalem and partitioning Palestine.

South Korea and North Korea have an uneasy truce.

Red China and a newly-leashed Nationalist China appear to have an unofficial cease-fire in the Formosa strait but its observance is far from perfect.

MAJOR AND MINOR DISPUTES AROUND THE WORLD

1. Long Israeli-Arab fight over boundaries has reached new climax.
2. Moroccan and Algerian nationals are pressing France for more freedom.
3. Sporadic air and sea clashes threaten uneasy truce in Formosa Strait.
4. India is demanding that the Portuguese quit Goa.
5. Britain, Greece and Turkey are involved in dispute over future of Cyprus.
6. Britain and Egypt each hoping to retain influence as Sudan becomes independent.
7. Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia fear new attacks by Communist Vietminh.
8. Pakistan and India are at odds over Kashmir.
9. Pakistan and Afganistan quarrel over Pushtoonistan.
10. Indonesia wants new talks with Netherlands on ownership of West New Guinea.
11. North and South Korea maintain an uneasy truce.
12. East and West Germany continue their war of nerves.
13. France and Germany are competing for ultimate control of the rich Saar.
14. Ethiopia and Italy disagree on border between Ethiopia and Somaliland.
15. South Africa defying U.N. insistence on South West Africa settlement.
16. Britain and Argentina dispute ownership of Falkland islands.
17. Some nationalists campaigning against Puerto Rico-U.S. federal system.
18. Fishing rights off Peru, Chile and Ecuador are in dispute

Communist rebel and nationalist troops constantly menace Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, and Viet Nam fears it will be engulfed some day by a Vietminh movement it accuses of violating truce agreements.

These are the hottest quarrels. Some others:

Pakistan and India are still at odds over Kashmir but keep a semblance of truce. Pakistan and Afghanistan constantly quarrel over the Pushtoonistan area of Pakistan the Afghans want.

Ethiopia and Italy have been unable to reach agreement on the border between Ethiopia and Italian trust territory Somaliland, where tribesmen die in sporadic raids.

Britain and Argentina continue bickering over ownership of the Falkland Islands and the whole Antarctic area question may explode over questions of ownership some day, with Russia now moving into the area.

Indonesia was reported dropping her hotheaded attitude for new talks with the Netherlands on the disputed ownership of West New Guinea, or West Irian as the Indonesians call it.

South Africa still defies U.N. insistence that Southwest Africa come under U.N. trust jurisdiction or be classed as a non-self-governing territory. The South Africans also reject U.N. pleas to allow a mediator to negotiate for better treatment for Indians and other colored foreigners in South Africa.

In the Western Hemisphere, the squabbles are minor.

Some Puerto Rican nationalists still try to stir up sentiment against the Puerto Rico-United States federal system the Puerto Ricans voted for.

The United States is trying to make peace with Peru, Chile and Ecuador over southern Atlantic and Pacific fighting rights. The Latin American countries want a 290-mile boundary limit. U.S. fishermen want to catch tuna closer to shore. The question is being debated in and out of the United Nations.

Meantime, two other intensive battles are going on. The United Nations is still straining to help underdeveloped areas around the world with financial and technical aid. And in the fight on disease, an all-out campaign to stamp malaria out of Mexico highlights the worldwide program of the U.N. Children's Fund and the World Health Organization.

Champagne Man Says It Contains Nominal Calories

PARIS (INS)—Just in case you lead one of those gay social lives in which champagne flows like water — don't worry about getting fat.

A champagne expert, Joseph Dargent, says "there's no basis to to rumors that French champagne is fattening."

Dargent, who's international representative for the French Champagne Committee, says a glass of champagne contains only 50 or 60 calories.

Chemistry Class a Must for Russian 13-Year-Olds

WASHINGTON — The Manufacturing Chemists Association reports that the Soviet Union requires all 13-year-old children to take a 33-week chemistry course, with homework, laboratory, and independent experiments among the essentials.

The association reports that only one in 13 American high-school students takes chemistry today and then not until he reaches 15 or 16.

They're Well Stacked

PHILADELPHIA (INS)—Crown Cork & Seal Co. has developed a new rectangular can that stacks one on top of the other in a unique way. The container features a center spout, and each can bottom is indented to accommodate the spout of the can underneath.

Carolina Senator Wary of Wily Spinster Witness

SHELBY, N. C. (AP) — North Carolina's Sen. Sam Ervin, who has established quite a reputa- in Washington, is the subject of this one related by a Shelby friend:

When the senator was a state Superior Court judge, a spinster was called as a witness, and before the oath could be administered, Judge Ervin said, "Let the witness state her age first, and then you can swear her in."

Reds Study in Russia

TOKYO (AP)—More than 2,400 students in Red China have been selected to study in Russia, says Peiping radio. Before leaving, they will get a 1-year course in the Russian language in Peiping.

Pontiac Educators' Conference Planned for Weekend

CONSULTANTS GATHER—Dr. Dana P. Whitmer (left) superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools talks over plans for the fifth annual Pontiac Educators' Conference with two conference consultants, Dr. James M. McHugh (center) psychiatrist at Pontiac State Hospital and Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, administrative assistant, Pontiac Public Schools. The conference will be held Friday through Sunday at Higgins Lake.

3-Day Program Opening Friday

Slate General Session to Precede Address by MSU's Guy Hill

A busy program is in store for teachers and administrators attending the fifth annual Pontiac Educators' Conference at Higgins Lake this weekend.

The 3-day conference begins Friday with a general session followed by the keynote address by Dr. Guy Hill of Michigan State University.

Donald Dolan of the University of Michigan will preside at the evening's session when discussion groups will be organized.

Discession groups will form Saturday morning followed by a talk on conservation by Edward Ray, superintendent of Higgins Lake Conservation Camp.

Consultants are Dr. Paul Carter, assistant superintendent of Birmingham Public Schools; Dolan; Dr. Hill; Dr. Otto Hufziger, administrative assistant, Pontiac Public Schools, and Dr. James M. McHugh, psychiatrist, Pontiac State Hospital.

Philip Proud, Department of Public Instruction; Edward Ray, superintendent, Higgins Lake Conservation Training School, and Mildred Sommers, Jackson Public Schools also will be resource personnel.

GO OVER PROGRAM — J. C. Cox (center) assistant superintendent of Pontiac Schools, discusses the program for the Pontiac Educators' Conference with two of the participants Dr. Russell W. Curtis (right), coordinator of secondary education, and Richard C. Fell, director of vocational and adult education.

Scouts Turn Out for Council Camp

Hundreds of Boy Scout tents dotted 50 acres of Bald Mountain Recreation Area last weekend during the largest camporee ever held by the Clinton Valley Council.

Called "Roundup '55," the western-style campout drew 52 Scout units from northern Oakland and Macomb Counties. More than 850 boys and leaders were assigned to four "ranch" sites and an additional 150 Scouts came out to participate in special program events.

Enjoying "sunburn" weather, the boys were decked out in cowboy shirts, bandannas and jeans, in line with the western theme.

Highlight of the week end was a rodeo-type show Saturday night, directed by Bill DeGrace, Pontiac District vice-chairman. A performance by Oakland County Sheriff's mounted posse brought forth five minutes of cheering by the boys.

Harry Booker of Royal Oak, who narrated the posse's horsemanship maneuvers, said his group was "much impressed by the Scouts' ovation."

Also featured was an elaborate Indian ceremonial by Pontiac troop 244 of Grace Lutheran Church.

Camp Chief Kenneth H. Sanderson of Westacres said "the event was a big success, both as fun and as a kick-off of the council's participationin a nation-wide campaign to 'roundup' new members to Scouting."

Fifty candidates received special award pins in a ceremony Sunday morning. The "rounding up" program ends Jan. 1.

Sanderson and his general staff of 35 leaders reported that the Scout units overwhelmingly were in favor of more frequent council-wide camporees. The last one was held nearly five years ago. Recent campouts have been on a district basis.

Other events at "Roundup '55" were inter-unit competition in knot tying, first aid, pony express riding and fire building; Sunday field services of several faiths; district meetings; and brief Scout ceremonies.

Flag stramers were given to participating troops and miniature cowboy chaps were provided as special neckerchief slides.

Williams Asks Study of State Bar Closing

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams asked three state agencies today to survey a Republican senator's proposal for earlier bar closings.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) suggested that Williams instruct the State Liquor Control Commission to close public drinking places at 11 p.m. on weekdays, 1 a.m. on Saturday mornings and 2 a.m. on Sunday mornings, as well as forbid Sunday afternoon sales. Bars now operate until 2 a.m. every morning and Sunday afternoons for the sale of beer and wine.

Williams asked the liquor commission, state police and State Safety Commission to study the proposal.

Coleman contended that it would reduce highway fatalities. Many, he said, are traceable to the combination of liquor and late night driving.

Pontiac Press Photo

WHAT'S UP — Tom Kilian of 999 Berwick, Daniel Whitfield troop 2, wondered what was next as he peered out from his mountaineer tent. His two-man tent was one of several hundred set up by 52 Scout units on the hills of Bald Mountain Recreation Area last weekend. (Jerry McKelvey of 2229 St. Joseph looks on.)

Bear Invited on Tour

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Forest Supervisor Frank C. Curtiss says he is going to invite a big, black bear along on the next Custer National Forest tour. Curtiss says he might as well invite the bear because "he muscles in anyway." This year the bear sneaked into a tent and ripped a mattress to shreds. Last year the marauder gobbled up a mess of fresh fruit in the tour's camp.

Pontiac Press Photo

PLENTY OF CAMPFIRE WOOD — Pontiac Boy Scouts of troop 29 helped transfer logs from this big woodpile over to five-acre campfire arena, where 1,000 boys and visitors later attended "Roundup '55" western-style show.

Pontiac Press Photo

High Water Prevents Help From Rescuers

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—It was a shocking message the crew of the Norfolk tug Wizard heard as they rode at anchor in Bogue Sound, N. C., with a broken rudder.

The Coast Guard said the tug Mamie was unable to get to them because of high water!

"Because of what?" they asked.

"High water," insisted the Coast Guard. The tide, swollen by a storm, prevented the opening of a draw bridge. The Mamie was on the other side.

Florida Brush Fires Caused by 'Rabbit'

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—State Forester Frank S. Hill, who investigates brush fires, hears all kinds of excuses.

A man accused of setting one told him: "I was burning trash in my backyard. A rabbit ran through the fire, caught fire and ran into the woods, setting them on fire."

A housewife explained another: "I threw a package of old meat in the trash I was burning. Our dog ran into the fire, grabbed the burning package, and ran off into the field, setting the brush on fire."

Man Miscalculates Death by 10 Years

OVID, Mich. (AP)—It says on his gravestone he died in 1945, but Charlie Starr was still going strong on his 102nd birthday in 1955.

When his wife died several years ago, Starr thought he would save some trouble by having a gravestone made for himself. He had "1945" chiseled on it, figuring a couple of years' difference wouldn't matter.

Now the stone is 10 years off, and Charlie only last year gave up his regular exercise of chinning himself on an apple tree in the back yard.

Novelist's Daughter to Settle in Canada

VANCOUVER (AP)—Carol Lucy Greene, daughter of novelist Graham Greene, is coming to British Columbia from England and hopes to become a rancher somewhere in Western Canada.

Her visit will last a month during which she will look over ranch land in the Alberta foothills and in B. C.

"I chose Canada because it is a young country and I like the wide open spaces," she said.

Dogs see only black and white, having no color perception.

Scandinavian Workers Rate 3-Week Vacations

OSLO — At the turn of the century hardly any Norwegians had paid vacations. In 1916 an arbitration court awarded ironworkers a four-day annual paid vacation. This was extended to 12 days in 1922 and cut to eight in 1932. In 1936 a nine-day paid vacation for all workers was established by law. At present Norway and Sweden are the only countries in the world where all wage earners get a year.

Plucky Cat Is Killed After Vigorous Life

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Longshoremen found a cat in a railroad freight car which had been sealed a month earlier far down in Mexico.

They named her Wetback, a term applied to Mexicans who cross the border without benefit of passport. She survived the many dangers of life on the waterfront and produced two litters of kittens.

Then, one day after her customary siesta, she wandered onto Harbor drive. An American automobile killed her.

Say GIs in France on 'Good Behavior'

ORLEANS, France (AP)—American soldiers stationed in France are behaving better than they would at home, says Maj. Gen. Philip E. Gallagher, who commands the European communications zone.

He has men stationed in towns and villages throughout France.

Such results don't come without work. The General pores over statistics from his command every day. Incidents—now largely confined to traffic mishaps—get a quick checkup.

"There is a growing tendency in the areas where our people are located to accept us," Gallagher says, "and most of our soldiers recognize their responsibility."

A Delight for Collectors

JAMAICA — Buterfly collectors find cool Jamaica a delight. According to a report from the island, there are 94 separate species including the famous and beautiful Papilio Humerus.

Stretch 160,000 Miles Pentagon Phone Lines

WASHINGTON — The telephone system of the Department of Defense, located in the Pentagon and 32 other Washington buildings, uses more than 160,000 miles of wire. In the Pentagon alone more than 1,000 electric-light bulbs a day are replaced.

Persevere and Succeed —and Get Car for $1.99

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Claude Wilhite, 65, and his wife spent the night in an auto at Bill Smith's used car lot in order to buy it for $1.99.

Smith advertised four cars for sale from 99 cents to $1.99. Told that the sale didn't begin until 8 a.m. the next day, the Wilhites said "We'll wait," climbed in a 1947 model, spent the night, and drove it off in the morning.

BROOKSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Monroe W. Treiman is a county judge and also—he's a graduate agricultural engineer, operates a big-time orchid raising business and helps manage his family's 1,500-acre ranch with its herd of 400 shorthorn cattle.

He Told the Wrong Man —Man Owned the Joint

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — During the opening of a new motel, a broom slipped from the hand of one of the water show performers. It struck a spectator on the head.

"Fall down, fall down," another spectator whispered. "You can collect insurance on this."

Connecticut Industries Refuse Out-State Bids

NEW YORK (INS) — The governor of flood-devastated Connecticut claims "not one" of the ravaged industrial plants has deserted his state despite invitations from Southren and Midwestern states to relocate elsewhree.

Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff, speaking in New York yesterday, said most of the flood damage was a result of outmoded industrial sites, set up along river banks in earlier times, when needed for near-by power, shipping, and waste

43 Independent Airlines Flew Safely in 1954

WASHINGTON (INS) — Forty-three U.S. non-certified independent airlines flew approximately 1,300,000,000 passenger miles in 1954 without a passenger or crew fatality in domestic and international operations.

The Air-coach Transport Association says the larger part of their work is flying military personnel and freight on official movements and unofficial furlough trips.

Barrels Spout Perfume; Workers Are Delighted

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Perfume is potent stuff, especially when it leaks from barrels on a transport truck. Workers in the southside area took advantage of the windfall and dipped the perfumed oil from puddles into any sort of containers available.

At $15 a pound, the company which uses it to compound the luscious liquid figured its loss at about $10,000.

'Fill 'er Up Mister?' 'No, Just 300 Gallons'

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — City police were summoned to the grand opening of a new North Broadway service station after an Air Force pilot complained that he almost landed on the station's apron.

Mistook the searchlight's beam for a ceiling light at McGhee Tyson Air Force Base, he said.

"That's okay," said the station to douse the light, "I had more business than I could take care of anyway."

Soviet Releases Germany's PWs

Bonn Claims Russian Records Vie With Known Number Interned

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, keeping its promises to the Germans, is releasing 9,626 German war prisoners.

The Moscow press today published a decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet ordering 8,887 of the prisoners freed outright.

The Presidium said the other 749, because of the "special gravity" of their offenses against the Russian people, would be handed over for further disposition to the East or West German governments, depending on their original residences.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin told West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during their talks here earlier this month that Russia would release the prisoners. This was the principal condition Adenauer fixed for opening diplomatic relations between Moscow and Bonn.

The West Germans claim the Soviets have not accounted for 80,000 to 100,000 German prisoners, but Bulganin insisted Soviet records show only the 9,626. He agreed, however, to make a further check.

The big question in the West has been whether the Russians would give West Germany or Communist East Germany credit for negotiating the prisoners' release.

The Presidium's decree divided the credit. It said the action was being taken in response to requests by both West and East Germany and because of the long period since the war ended.

Optical Bribe Case Hearing Starts Today

LANSING (AP)—The head of a Chicago optical firm faced preliminary examination today on a charge of attempting to bribe three members of the State Board of Examiners in optometry.

Municipal Judge Earl E. McDonald denied a defense motion seeking a further delay in the preliminary examination of Benjamin F. Ritholz, head of the King Optical Co., after one previous delay was allowed.

Ritholz is accused of giving three members of the optometry board $100 each after promising them a total of $2,000 each.

The state contends he was trying to get the board to drop charges of unprofessional conduct against Dr. Edwin L. Sanchick, Lansing optometrist accused of steering patients to the King Co.

GRANDFATHER ATTENDS COLLEGE — Col. Percy Walter Thompson, 56, grandfather of Dwight David Eisenhower II, carries book on campus of University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., where he is studying law. David's other grandfather is President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Thompson's daughter, Barbara Jean, is Mrs. John Eisenhower, wife of President's son, an Army major.

Mental Health Critic Apologizes to Solons

LANSING (AP)—An official of a parents' group who charged key legislators with not being interested in caring for mentally retarded children told a legislative committee yesterday he had been "misinformed."

Wendell E. Morris of Pleasant Ridge, vice president of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children, was called before the committee because he had circulated a letter listing 11 legislators as a key minority opposed to expanding state care for such children.

Morris said he got his information from a Detroit newspaperman and agreed to try to correct the impression he had circulated.

Members of the interim Legislative Audit and Appropriations Committee were angry at Morris' charge and spent several hours attempting to prove that they had taken many steps to improve the lot of mentally retarded youngsters.

Motorist Smashes Car—Looking at Safety Display

RAHWAY, N. J. (INS)—Motorist Donald D. McLaren of Scotch Plains took his eyes off the road for a better look at a wrecked auto and promptly crashed into the car in front of him.

The eye-catching wreck was part of a roadside exhibit near Rahway to warn passing motorists to be more cautious.

The nation's railways transported an aggregate of 2,308,000,000 tons of freight in 1954, a decrease of nearly 322,000,000 tons from the year before.

Seek Road Name Change

LUDINGTON (AP)—Members of the Mason County allied labor council are seeking official aid to have signs placed on U. S. 31 marking it the Pere Marquette memorial highway and listing directions to the Marquette deathsite shrine built with volunteer labor by the council. The shrine is located at Buttersville where the explorer-priest died in 1675.

Shipments of aluminum foil from American manufacturers climbed to some 153,000,000 pounds in 1954, an increase of 30 per cent over the year before.

City Didn't Even Know

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Richmond has lost another Federal agency office. It might be missed if citizens know why it was here in the first place. It was a hush-hush section of the State Department housed for some months behind a set of double doors in the Lombardy Street Federal office building. No one would say what it did or why it moved.

City Payroll Higher Than Towns of Similar Size

Pontiac has more employes on its municipal payroll, in proportion to population, than most cities in the United States, a U.S. Census Bureau survey has revealed.

The survey, which used October, 1954, as the test month, showed that 1,239 employes were on the city payroll. This figure includes Pontiac General Hospital workers but is exclusive of teachers and other school workers.

The total represents 15.3 employes for every 1,000 residents, well over the rate found in other cities, 12.9 workers per 1,000 residents.

This was based on a population of 81,484.

Payroll for the test month amounted to $378,900, equivalent to $4.65 a month for each resident.

Nationally, the per capita cost was $4.12 per month. Among cities under 100,000, the cost was lower, averaging $3.65 per person.

By dividing total payroll by number of employes, both full and part time, an average wage of $305 per month was arrived at by the Census Bureau. The survey was conducted in more than 1,000 cities with populations above 10,000.

William L. Collins, city personnel director, said the statistics are "interesting but don't mean a lot."

"It's like comparing tax rates," he said. "You have to compare the services rendered by the cities. Services are the important part and services here are more than a lot of cities provide, particularly cities that aren't as well off financially."

Collins said city employment rose 20 per cent from October, 1950, to October, 1954. Employment has held steady during the last year and Collins said he foresees little expansion.

"There may be a slow increase in the police department, and if another fire station is built it will take 15-20 more firemen," he said. "Those are the only places I see very much of a change."

Positively Negativistic but Court Isn't Positive

LONDON (INS)—Juvenile court officials at Hastings staggered when they heard a psychiatrist describe a boy as "negativistic."

One official said he thought it meant "the opposite of positivistic" while a second official told the chairman:

Women Kill Live Belt

WARWICK, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Sadie Martin went into a bedroom to wake her sister. She saw a belt on the floor. When she reached to pick it up it coiled up. The two women killed the snake — a non-poisonous variety.

Historical reports studied by the Oakland County Planning Commission indicate that the present county court house was built in 1904. Two earlier courts occupied the same site; one being built in 1823 and the other in 1856.

Argentine Junta Will Rule Nation

Lonardi Invites Parties to Serve in Formation of Democratic State

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine provisional government moved today to broaden its support and give a shot in the arm to the nation's slowly reviving democratic political life.

Interior and Justice Minister Eduardo Busso announced a four-party "consultative junta" would be formed to advise Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi and his Cabinet until a new Congress is elected.

Busso said four parties—the radical, Democratic, Socialist and Progressive Democratic — had agreed to serve on the junta. Each was expected to contribute four representatives.

The minister made no mention of ousted dictator Juan Peron's Peronista party or of the Communists. But he added that representatives of labor, business and industry probably would be included on the junta.

The government's roundup of potential troublemakers continued. Federal police last night arrested Alejandro Leloir, wealthy, 49-year-old president of the Peronista party's Supreme Council. Reliable sources said several other Peronista party leaders would be picked up soon.

Peron himself still was a virtual prisoner on a Paraguayan gunboat anchored three miles off Buenos Aires. As yet there was no explanation of the delay in his departure for Asuncion and exile, promised him earlier by Lonardi.

West Watching Indonesian Vote

Red Victory Can Cause Serious Repercussion in South Asia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Protected by steel-helmeted troops and national police from terrorists and extremists, Indonesians began voting today in their first popular national elections.

• • •

The big question: Will the anti-American Communists fulfill their promise to win a majority.

Voting is by stages in the 3,000 scattered islands that form the republic of 42,320,000 registered voters. Final results in the contests for 260 seats in Parliament may not be known for six months, but the general trend may emerge in two or three weeks.

ILLITERATE PEOPLE

A Communist victory would have serious repercussions throughout Southeast Asia.

The voters, a little more than half the country's population of 80 million, are largely illiterate. Confronted with ballots the size of a newspaper page, they entered rough wooden booths to stick nails through the symbols of the parties of their choice.

• • •

Under this system, the Communists maneuvered themselves into a specially favorable position. They succeeded under the election law passed two years ago in having their hammer and sickle emblem adopted not only as the Red symbol but also for "all non-party people." This meant thousands of Indonesians who are not organized politically would consider the hammer and sickle their emblem.

• • •

But Indonesia is 90 per cent Moslem, and leaders of the principal religious parties insist the people are basically anti-Communist. The leading Moslem parties, Masjumi and United Islam, are confident they will beat the Reds.

GOP Doorbell Survey Will Sample Opinions

WASHINGTON (INS) — GOP women plan to ring more than one million doorbells throughout the U.S. today in a 1-day drive to find out what voters are thinking about leading issues.

Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant to the Republican national chairman, said the purpose of the poll is to "assemble a cross-section of public thinking on key issues and also stimulate interest and activity in the 1956 presidential campaign."

Sweden Cancels Liquor Rationing

Government Discovers Restrictions Encourage Greater Usage

STOCKHOLM (AP)—With a sign of relief, Sweden is giving up its system of liquor rationing. Next week Swedes can buy all the booze they want and can afford.

• • •

Sweden has never tried total prohibition. Instead, 36 years ago, Swedes imposed on themselves a complicated system limiting the quantity of liquor they might drink and when.

• • •

Time has proved to the government's satisfaction that making it difficult to obtain liquor does not necessarily curb drinking. The authorities therefore decided on a new course of action to fight alcoholism, with emphasis on large-scale temperance propaganda.

HAS ALCOHOLICS

With the rationing system, this nation of seven million consumed 11.1 million gallons of liquor at a cost of 200 million dollars in 1954. The country had 60,000 advanced alcoholics.

Under rationing, two thirds of an ounce of hard liquor went with a restaurant meal, which had to be a hot one and cost at least 45 cents. Women got half the men's liquor ration. In package stores, men could buy three quarts a month. Married women got no ration but single women over 30 could buy one quart a month.

• • •

The psychology of the system was such that many persons bought their ration regardless of need or financial ability.

Under the new law, package stores sell any amount and restaurant patrons can get a prediner drink.

After 28 Years

'Frisco to Unveil Statue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Benny Bufano's statue of St.Francis of Assisi, which lay for 28 years in a Paris warehouse, will be officially unveiled in San Francisco next Tuesday.

But the eccentric sculptor, who considers the statute his masterpiece, is not expected to be around for the unveiling. At last report he was visiting in Paris.

The dedication and blessing of the statue by the Most Rev. Merlin J. Guilfoyle, auxiliary bishop of San Francisco, will climax the celebration of the feast day of St.Francis of Assisi, patron saint of San Francisco.

Roger Fry, the late English art critic, called Bufano's work "the most significant piece of scupture done within 500 years."

The completed statue stands 16 feet high, not counting the pedestal, and weighs 12 tons. It was chiseled out of a 32-ton block of black Swedish marble Bufano found in Paris.

The story of the statue goes that the rather unworldly Bufano wrote wealthy California friends, seeking their support for the proposed work. They promised to underwrite the project—if the design was approved.

Confident and absorbed with his ideas, Bufano sent off the design, bought the marble and started to work. A year and a half later, he was finished and decided to open his stacked-up mail. A letter more han a year old informed him the design had been rejected.

So the great statue went into a warehouse, where it stayed until early this year when patrons of the church collected enough money to pay the bills against it.

The French Line, as a gesture of friendship to the United States and to a prominent artist, brought the statue to San Francisco on the liner Washington last June free of charge.

It has been placed on the steps of St. Francis Church.

The annual loss on worthless checks may run as high as $300 million.

Child Study Group III Marks Its Silver Anniversary

Pontiac Press Photos

Arriving early for the silver anniversary luncheon of Child Study Club Group III, Mrs. Paul Gorman of North Genesee avenue, general chairman, Mrs. Bruce Hubbard of Cherokee road and Mrs. Charles Rogers of Miami road, (left to right) arranged the centerpiece and table appointments before the guests arrived. The luncheon was held at Grace Lutheran Church Tuesday commemorating the 25th anniversary of the organization of the group.

A silver anniversary is an occasion for honorary members to gather with active members and compare notes. Members of Child Study Club Group III were happy to find a group of four honorary members checking their programs for the year. Pictured (left to right) are Mrs. George Wasserberger of Illinois avenue, Mrs. Joseph J. Panter of Pingree street, Mrs. F. R. Pickering of Alice avenue and Mrs. Grant Helwig of Old Orchard drive. The silver anniversary luncheon was held Tuesday at Grace Lutheran Church.

Caught by the photographer as she pinned a corsage on Mrs. Leo Donaldson of Ferndale avenue (left), is Mrs. Roy Jones of South Roslyn drive, president of Child Study Club Group III. Mrs. Donaldson, first president of the organization, was on hand to help the group celebrate its silver anniversary at Grace Lutheran Church Tuesday.

Members Gather for Luncheon

Ex-President Tells of Organization's 1st Meeting in 1930

By MARGARET COLE

Organized to foster parent education and child nurture, Child Study Club Group III is celebrating its silver anniversary.

Through the 25 years, 175 members have participated in furthering this objective, with 43 members active at the present time.

The Family, Laboratory of Life, Labor and Love is the theme of their 1955-56 program.

Members and guests gathered at Grace Lutheran Church Tuesday for the silver anniversary luncheon. Places at the U-shaped table were marked by individual corsages commemorating the 25th anniversary.

FOUNDING REVIEWED

Mrs. Leo Donaldson, a charter member and first president of the organization, reviewed briefly the organization meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Hodges, who is at present visiting in the city from her home in San Benito, Texas.

A reminiscent air was evidenced when the group joined in community singing accompanied by Mrs. Joseph L. Bennett.

Among the charter members present with Mrs. Donaldson were Mrs. Donald Dickerson, Mrs. Don Stoll, Mrs. George Wasserberger, Mrs. F. G. Forley, Mrs. Vern Sutton of Rochester and Mrs. R. T. Morris of Royal Oak.

As each past president was introduced by Mrs. Roy Jones, present president, she received a token of appreciation from the group in recognition of her leadership. Each told briefly the outstanding events of her years in office.

OTHERS LISTED

Past presidents attending included Mrs. Donaldson, Mrs. Wasserberger, Mrs. Torley, Mrs. Carroll C. Braid, Mrs. Clifton Tibbals, Mrs. F. R. Pickering and Mrs. Gerald Kirkby.

Others were Mrs. William Beattie, Mrs. Allen W. Palmer, Mrs. Grant A. Helwig, Mrs. D. Charles Janter and Mrs. Keith L. Leak.

Mrs. Joseph J. Panter, in reply to the recognition she received from the past presidents, expressed her congratulations to the organization for the progress it has made during the past 25 years.

She thanked the group for the enjoyment she has received having had a part in their endeavors.

Mrs. Paul Gorman was general chairman of the silver anniversary luncheon, assisted by Mrs. Donald S. Smith, Mrs. L. Jerome Fink, Mrs. Charles A. Rogers, Mrs. Bruce Hubbard and Mrs. Ralph W. Humphries.

OES Chapter 228 Initiates Member

Mrs. Clayton Randolph was initiated into Pontiac Chapter 228, Order of the Eastern Star, when the group met Monday evening at Masonic Temple.

Officers advanced for the initiatory work and the Memoriam was in charge of Mrs. Sam Smith, assisted by Mrs. Davy Gilpin, worthy matron.

Mrs. Bea Mundy, past grand warder of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, was presented in the East.

All new members of the past year were introduced as were visitors from Areme Chapter, Lake Orion, Lexington, Davisburg, Milford, Calumet and South Dakota.

Members Gather

Fifteen members of the Interlake Home Extension group met with Mrs. L. W. Pilcher of Crescent road for a dessert luncheon.

Mrs. George Quine gave the group a lesson on making enamel copper jewelry. Ten members of the Interlake section are attending the Oakland County Extension Service program being held today at the Dublin Community Center.

Speech Club Gives Oscar to Mrs. Arthur Vernon

Mrs. Gerald McLeod was Toastmistress for the evening when Pontiac Toastmistress Club met for dinner at the Hotel Waldron on Tuesday.

Mrs. Eugene Miller inspired the group to greater civic pride when she spoke on "The Will and the Way." Mrs. Leon Windsor accompanied her speech, "Let's Bring Autumn Indoors," with a demonstration of the use of dried flowers in floral arrangements.

Mrs. Alice Sinclair used as her topic, "Autumn at Jack Miners Bird Sanctuary" and Mrs. Robert Bunce discussed the joys and fears of hospitalized children in her topic, "Children's Ward."

Critics for the evening were Mrs. Howard Wheatley, Shirley Dovre, Mrs. Joseph McLeod and Mrs. Orben Wilkins.

Mrs. Arthur Vernon was chief evaluator and grammarian was Mrs. Evelyn Cole. Timekeeper duties were performed by Mrs. Milton Freet with Mrs. J. Wendell Green acting as tailtwister.

The oscar was awarded to Mrs. Arthur Vernon.

Reports on the Council Four Northeast Region Conference held at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Sept. 24 were given by Mrs. Orben Wilkins, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Cole who attended as representatives of the club.

The Rev. Richard W. Thomas, pastor of St. Benedict Church, consults with Mrs. Earl McHugh (left) of Sylvan Shores drive, general chairman of all guilds and general chairman of the parish dinner, and Mrs. Michael Glisky, guild treasurer, over the sale of tickets for the St. Benedict Fall Festival featuring a parish dinner. The dinner will be served Sunday from noon until 6 p.m. in the church hall.

Parish Plans to Serve 2,500 Dinners

Final plans for serving an expected 2,500 dinners at their 10th annual Fall Festival were made by St. Benedict parishioners when they met Tuesday evening.

Proceeds from the parish dinner, to be held Sunday at the church hall from noon until 6 p.m., will be used to furnish the newly completed 7th grade room at St. Benedict school.

Besides the roast beef dinner there will be a sale of fancy work, aprons and pillow slips during the afternoon. The items were made by women from the seven guilds in the parish.

Parish women, under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Earl McHugh, have divided the jobs of cooking and serving into three hour shifts. Assisting Mrs. McHugh are Mrs. James R. Smith and Mrs. Ralph Cotcher.

OTHERS NAMED

Mrs. Roy M. Jones is dining room chairman assisted by Mrs. Donald Raymond and Mrs. Leon Thomas. Mrs. James L. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Novotney, Mrs. M. E. Daniels and Mrs. F. H. Grady will serve as hostesses.

* * *

Table captains are Mrs. Herman Charboneau, Mrs. Wayne Miller, Mrs. Allen Neville, Mrs. Vern Crake, Mrs. Ernest Mallery and Mrs. John Gottschalk.

Tickets are being handled by Mrs. Michael Glisky and Mrs. Walter Hiller. Serving table under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Brandt will be Mrs. Donald Fraser, Mrs. Donald St. Dennis, Mrs. Jack Jackson, Mrs. Bert Cederleaf, Mrs. Charles Vismore, Mrs. Joseph Kushion and Mrs. Angus McDonald.

Food purchased by Mrs. Peter Aldo will be cooked by chefs, Paul Willhite, Angus McDonald, James L. Brown, Thomas Clifton and Michael E. Daniels.

Robert Erickson, Richard Frye and Mrs. Jack Seebald, assisted by Boy Scouts and young girls of the parish, will handle kitchen detail.

Dieters See Film on Calorie Control

Mrs. Donald Ball, Pontiac City Health Nurse, presented a movie "Weight Control By Counting Your Calories" when the Fashionette Club met Tuesday evening at the Adah Shelly Library.

The trophy for losing the most weight was presented to Mrs. William Woodruff.

It was announced that the Pontiac Tumbling Club will present the program for the next meeting of the group held on Oct. 6.

Choosing Furniture Is Extension Topic

Mrs. Millard Bixler discussed furniture selection and arrangement when she spoke to members of the Seymour Lake Extension Club at their first meeting of the year Monday evening at the Seymour Lake Community House.

Mrs. Ralph Markus and Millicent Solley were hostesses for the evening.

Waterford GOP Women Hear Mrs. Gibson

Mrs. Peter Gibson, of Monroe, national vice-president of Republican Women's Club, spoke of the importance of organization at the Waterford Republican Women's Club meeting, Monday evening.

* * *

The affair was a family night featuring a cooperative dinner under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Vernon, program chairman, and Mrs. Vivian Tubbs, social chairman.

Chad Ritchie of Birmingham, chairman of the Oakland County committee, gave a review of the Republican conference held at Mackinaw Sept. 17 and 18. Lynn Allen, county clerk, introduced county officers who outlined their duties for the group.

Guests attending the meeting were Fred Beardslee, state representative from Oxford, and Mrs. Beardslee; Clare Fuller, state committeeman, and Mrs. Fuller; Mrs. Robert Sutton, vice chairman of the county committee, and Mrs. Kenneth Nichols of Franklin, president of Oakland County Republican Federation. Waterford Township officers also were guests of the club.

CONTINUOUS PAYMENT PLAN

ARTHUR'S NEW CHARGE ACCOUNT PLAN GIVES YOU 6 MONTHS TO PAY!

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS

This popular new "CPA" plan features no down payment. You decide how much you will pay a month and thus establish your monthly payment. You are then entitled to carry a charge account balance up to six times the amount of this payment.

For example: If you wish to pay $10.00 a month you have put a limit of $60.00 on your account. If you wish to pay $15.00 a month your limit will be $90.00.

Let us assume that you have a $90.00 limit and you have charged up to this limit. After making two regular monthly payments your account would be $30.00 under your original $90.00 charge limit. You could then charge $30.00 more which would bring your account back up to its $90.00 limit.

(There is a 1% service charge on the unpaid balance each month)

OTHER FEATURES

1. You may raise your credit limit at any time by notifying the credit office.
2. You may pay more than your agreed monthly payment if you wish.
3. Any authorized member of your family may use your CPA account.
4. You will receive a monthly statement showing purchases, payments, returns and balance, so that you know exactly where you stand.
5. For further details regarding CPA, a call to Arthur's credit department (lower level) will insure a prompt and courteous explanation.

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Arden Bigham. She is the former Beverley Burton, daughter of the R. D. Thompsons of Cameron avenue, and he is the son of the James E. Bighams of Royal Oak.

MR. and MRS. ARDEN BIGHAM

Arden M. Bigham Claims Beverley Burton as Bride

A waltz-length gown of white silk shantung was worn by Beverley Jean Burton when she became the bride of Arden M. Bigham Saturday evening. The Rev. Charles Race of Central Christian Church performed the wedding service before 100 guests.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Thompson of Cameron avenue, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bigham of Royal Oak.

A cuffed scoop neckline and small cap sleeves accented the fitted bodice of the bridal gown. The dress featured a bouffant skirt. A pearl crown secured her fingertip veil of illusion. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. A white orchid and baby chrysanthemums with ivy covered her satin-bound Bible.

Maid of honor Elaine Martin and bridesmaid, Linda Sue Thompson wore waltz-length gowns of crystallette with flower headpieces. Their gowns were deep violet and gold toned respectively. They carried arrangements of orchids and baby chrysanthemums on satin covered Bibles.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

Robert D. Burton served as best man. Edward Sage and Kenney Buckley seated the guests.

A deep purple dress with pink accessories was worn by Mrs. Thompson, the bride's mother, when receiving guests in the church hall immediately after the wedding ceremony. Her corsage was of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore an aqua dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

For a northern Michigan honeymoon, the bride changed to a white knit suit with red accessories. The newlyweds will reside in Pontiac on their return.

Guild Entertained at Russell Home

Mrs. E. C. Russell entertained members of the Pontiac Music Guild at her home on West Iroquois road Tuesday evening.

Working Wives Stir Resentments

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The working wife who has children usually sees to it that a capable woman replaces her in the home, taking good care of the children. As a rule, things run smoothly.

* * *

But the working wife without children, my experience has been, usually thinks she can handle everything herself. All too often, the result is chaos.

We got on this subject at a dinner party the other night. The men who were present had some interesting remarks to make.

The first to leap into the subject was a personnel director whose comments about the childless working wife are worth our careful consideration.

* * *

"I don't like her," he said flatly.

"First of all, she always takes the approach that she doesn't have to work; after all, there's a man behind her. All too often, this makes her casual in her approach to her job.

MORE MONEY

"Then," he contonued, "she's apt to make it pretty clear to the other girls that she has more money to spend on lunches, clothes and little extras then they have. This doesn't help office morale very much.

* * *

"And again, she refuses to work overtime, even when it's necessary, because she has to get home and cook dinner for her hsband. Many times in our office, the married ones walk out, leaving the unmarried ones to do all the overtime."

And this, from a husband:

"My wife works because she wants to after all, my salary would support us decently. True, it wouldn't buy all the fancy extras, but the fact is we don't have to have them.

"We could get along nicely without Mary's salary. But to hear her talk, especially to her girl friends, she works because 'we need the money.'

"I'm fed to the teeth with the whole thing."

* * *

These criticisms, of course, do not apply to more than a small percentage of working wives: But that small percentage gets a lot of notice and hundreds of innocent women are judged—and criticized — accordingly.

FORESTALL CRITICISM

Therefore, if you are a working wife without children, it behooves you to bend over backwards not to give people any ammunition for criticism.

* * *

Be very careful, at the office, to work just as hard as you would if you were entirely self-supporting. Never make the unmarried girls feel that you are luckier than they or better off financially or more "needed."

Do your share of the overtime, and don't preface every remark with "My husband says . . ."

Again, in your social life, bend over backwards not to give the impression that, but for your paycheck, the family would be starving to death.

In fact, the Victorian principle of never discussing money is a good one to revive. It would keep a lot of working wives from looking and sounding like harpies!

Remember, You Don't Own Steady!

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been going steady for nine months, and I like him enormously. But lately he's been going with some boys over to another girl's house more than he comes to mine.

"I've asked him many times if he wants to break up and he always says no. I've asked him if he'd rather be with the boys than with me, and he says me, but never does anything about it.

"When he calls me he always has to hang up quickly. And if I ask him to call, he says he will, but he doesn't. I don't know what to do about him. Can you help me out?"

Answer: In the months you've been going steady with him, you've grown to count on him considerably. He monopolizes most of your thinking, always comes first with you. So it burns you up that you don't get the same priority rating in return.

* * *

Not that he likes any other girl better than he does you. It's that he likes to do things and go places without you. That you can't bear.

And it makes you resent his boy friends, and any girl whose house is a magnet for them as a group. You want more of his attention than he's willing to give—perhaps even capable of giving.

Keep talking about a break, and you'll make one happen. Keep showing him that you're jealous and he's going to find you unattractive. Make up your mind, instead, to realize that you're two separate people who date together because you've a special feeling for each other.

You don't own him, and you can't control him, either. It might make it easier for you to put yourself out to be more fun when he's around. Just so he'll come around more often.

"Dear Miss Woodward: After three years of adoring him from afar, we're finally going steady. He tells me that he doesn't care for the girl he used to go with, but I hear (and he tells me) that he goes over to her house.

"He says it's just to give her a thrill. Please tell me what to do. I don't want to break up with him!"

Answer: And why should you break up with him, now that you are finally where you've wanted to be—his steady girl? His feelings about you are quite different from any he might have for an old girl friend, or any new girl he might meet. He has an arrangement with you. The other things are just fun.

Maybe his old girl still likes him, calls him on the phone, writes to him, bothers him to death. So he goes over to see her occasionally to quiet her down. You ought to feel sorry for her.

Maybe he has a liking for her dad, so drops around now and then for a visit with him. That shouldn't worry you.

Maybe he still feels friendly and likes the fuss she makes over him, so he stops by to say hello. If you're the only girl he takes out you shouldn't fret.

Future Bride Should Plan Trousseau

Bad Buys Disrupt Later Homemaking Plans, Furnishings

Buying a trousseau is fun for the bride-to-be—but it can be confusing, too.

To do the job right, a girl should try to anticipate the kind of home she will have.

No one cotton trousseau can fit the needs of every bride. So much depends on personal plans. A city apartment calls for one type of living, a farm home another.

In choosing your household cottons, consider whether a short stretch of apartment life may be followed by building your own home in the suburbs.

Perhaps your husband's job may involve a great deal of traveling, or at least moving your home frequently from one part of the country to another.

Another consideration is how much entertaining you plan to do after marriage.

Visiting relatives, overnight guests and frequent family reunions can have a real effect on your requirements for bedroom, bath and table cottons.

Frequency of laundry service at your new home will also determine the size of your cotton hope chest. A gracious hostess never runs short just because the laundry is late in delivery.

Home economists advise purchase of quality towels, sheets and blankets, even if a limited budget means buying fewer items than would otherwise be possible.

"Clever gal, my Carol!"

I'm tickled pink with the smart way my Carol handles her housework. Take wood floors for instance. Most gals complain about all that scrubbing and waxing. But not my Carol! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. It takes her half the time and a lot less elbow grease. And we've yet to have a guest who hasn't commented on our beautiful wood floors. My Carol and her Bruce Cleaning Wax really make easy work of a hard job. I'm mighty pleased with both of them.

P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Carol uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

Predict Greens in Male Styles

Burnt olive, black olive and burnt grass in softer woolen fabrics are forecast as style leaders, and some experts predict greens will almost replace the charcoal grays in men's clothing this fall. Others agree up to a point, but insist that a total conversion is impossible, since green is a hard color for many men to wear.

Some will wholeheartedly welcome the idea of green as occasional relief from the charcoal gray uniform. Anything for a change. But should it catch the man's imagination and become established as a style "must," 1956 looks like being one long St. Patrick's Day for everyone concerned.

Sport Coats See Fall Innovations

This fall we're going to witness the American male breaking out in a rash of new, bright colors.

The sport coat seems to be the vehicle by which this innovation will be introduced, and through the noticeable swing to suburban living, we're to see a renaissance of the sport shirt, in style, pattern and color.

Even though the accent will fall on casual clothes, there'll still be the tendency towards "dressing up" for informal occasions. Sloppy clothes are out, and this is where the sport shirt comes in.

Due to the advent of glen plaids, overchecks and stripes in sport coats, it will now be difficult to wear a patterned sport shirt at the same time.

Bible School Holds Rally

Fellowship Hall of the Oakland avenue United Presbyterian Church was the scene of a Round-up Rally for the boys and girls and their friends of the Bible School Tuesday.

The rally preceded the Bible School attendance contest which starts Oct. 2 and continues through Nov. 13.

The hall was fashioned as a corral with rope fence, brands, saddle, copper tooled horse heads and rope corral signs to add to the western atmosphere.

Diane Walker of Wyandotte sang two numbers, "Christian Cowboy" and "The Lord Is Counting on You." The Rev. C. J. Walker Jr. played a saxophone solo.

Western stunts and group singing were also featured on the program which was planned by Mrs. Glora Luck, youth director.

Fred Froede, master of ceremonies, was assisted by the pastor, the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach.

After a cooperative luncheon, the group sewed on their project for the American Cancer Society. The next meeting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue.

A terry cloth apron is a good idea for the cook who is constantly wiping her hands on her apron. Terry cloth is highly absorbent and can be tossed into the washing machine, with no ironing necessary.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored

Lillian Lazaroff of Chippewa road entertained a group of friends at a personal shower honoring bride-elect Pauline Brutus, Tuesday evening.

Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Brutus of Crawford street, will exchange vows with Wendell M. Doolin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Doolin of East Pike street Oct. 22 at the First Congregational Church.

The bride-elect chose this occasion to announce her bridal party. Miss Lazaroff will be maid of honor and her other attendants will include Mrs. Stanley Dudek, Mrs. Richard Allen and Pauline Dequis.

Barbara Hillsey, niece of the bride, will act as flower girl and Tommy Hillsey, nephew of the bride, will be ring bearer.

BEST MAN NAMED

Performing the duties of best man will be Wayne Long. Eugene Simpson, Ted Lazaroff and Robert Bego will seat the guests.

* * *

Shower guests included Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Robert Bego, Marjie Courtney, Mrs. Daryl Donaldson and Mrs. Robert Knight.

Others were Mrs. Robert Lyons, Mrs. Jack Pote, Mrs. Bradley Scott, Mrs. Harold Wedow, Mrs. Wayne White and Mrs. Richard Zumbrunnen.

Agnes Mazza, Mrs. Harold Hayden, Mrs. Theodore Lazaroff, Mrs. Dudek, Pauline Dequis, Mrs. Paul Brutus, Mrs. Elmer Doolin, Mrs. Lazarus Lazaroff, Mrs. Dallas Nelson and Mrs. Dimitri Lazaroff completed the guest list.

Floral Gift for Hostess Is Unusual

It's Proper but Not Customary to Give Bouquets

By EMILY POST

"I was invited to dinner at a friend's house and I took my hostess a bunch of red roses. Several weeks later I invited this same woman to dinner at my house, and she brought nothing.

"Please do not misunderstand me, Mrs. Post, I was not looking for any gift, but want to know what is the proper procedure. A friend of mine told me that when I took the roses I had discharged my obligation.

"I do not feel this way, as I invariably take something to my hostess even though I later invite her to my house for dinner. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: There is absolutely no objection to your taking flowers if you care to, but this is never expected by any hostess—and is not even customary.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I always find it embarrassing when, while dining with others, I happen to get a piece of tough meat or gristle in my mouth that I cannot swallow.

"To see someone take food out of his (or her) mouth is nauseating, but sometimes this is absolutely necessary. What is the best and most inconspicuous way to do this?"

Answer: First of all, you make the food as dry as you can in your mouth and then you take it between your thumb and other four fingers, pressed together forming a screen, and lay it down on the plate. This, of course, should be done as quickly as possible without drawing attention to it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My cousin and I have had a disagreement on the subject of wearing gloves which we would like to have you settle for us. It has always been my belief that gloves should not be worn when one goes without a hat. My cousin thinks it is in perfectly good taste to wear gloves and no hat. Who is right?"

Answer: In the evening it is always correct to go without a hat and with gloves. In the afternoon you always wear a hat with gloves, unless you are receiving.

If the person to whom you are talking mispronounces a word, and you use it correctly in the same conversation, you are almost sure to embarrass him. The considerate thing to do is to avoid usng the word.

Egotism Demands 'Unselfishness'

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago I was visiting the wisest old lady I know.

That cold winter afternoon her telephone rang. In great distress, the father of four small children was calling from his isolated farm 30 miles away.

* * *

His 6-month-old son was gravely ill. For four days without sleep, his wife had been combining the work of nursing him with cooking and care for the other children. Now she was numbed by fatigue. They could locate no help. Could my friend suggest any? Surely there was some answer . . .

My friend said, "There is"—and hung up the phone.

I can still remember how she described the need in that isolated farmhouse. It was an unagitated, unsensational, objective description. In neither her words nor manner was there the slightest suggestion that I might be the answer to the need.

So to my astonishment, I heard my own voice saying, "Call him back, Mrs. Porter. Tell him that if he will come for me, I'll go out and take over for his wife until the baby's well."

Throughout that night, I was supported by my appreciation of my own charity. That was just as it should have been. For I needed support.

The sick baby frightened me. Sometimes I rocked him. Sometimes I prayed. But always I was conscious that I was performing generously.

QUITE REMARKABLE

Then, soon after dawn, I was sure that I was a remarkable young woman. For the baby's fever broke—and he began to suck ravenously at his bottle of warm milk.

* * *

But, as I said before, that was some years ago.

Today, I am not overcome with appreciation of my own charity. What moves me is the charity of the friend who allowed me to express mine spontaneously by making no demands upon it.

Always, it is our egotism that demands "unselfishness" from children. Always, when we tell Tom to be "unselfish" and lend his paints to Buddy, we are saying, "I am good. You are not. So I must make you good."

Oh, I know it's not easy to subdue this form of egotism. When we're trying to dish supper, it's disturbing to have to listen to Buddy's whining over Tom's refusal to lend his paints.

We want to shut Buddy up. What we really want is to grab Tom's paints from him and by giving them to Buddy shut him up.

* * *

However, though few people would approve our use of muscle to get Tom's paints from him, lots of them would beam at our command that he be "unselfish." Few would object to our grabbing them with moral force.

I do. I think it's theft of Tom's own moral opportunity.

I think our obligation begins and ends with the undemanding statement of his brother's need, "Buddy has lost his yellow crayon, Tom—and is unhappy because he cannot color his giraffe."

Jobs Daughters Plan for Dance

Plans were completed for the Harvest Frolic Dance to be held at the Roosevelt Temple on Oct. 22 when members of Jobs Daughters Bethel 40 met Monday evening.

Sandra Clark, honored queen, announced the installation of the Bethel Council Oct. 10 at the Temple.

New Daughters recently initiated into the Order were Judy Kline, Ruth Ann Newman and Dorene Santala.

Principal and Staff Introduced to PTA

Mrs. Vida L. Walker, principal, and members of the teaching staff were introduced to members of the Whittier School PTA when the group met at the school Wednesday evening.

Fall Festival plans were announced by Mrs. Walter Drake, president. The affair will be held at the school on Oct. 14 with Mrs. J. T. Bass serving as general chairman.

A movie showing the benefits of the United Fund was shown during the evening.

Blue Star Mothers Hear Area Report

A report of the district meeting held in Mount Clemens recently was presented by Mrs. Wilbur Fitzthomas at the Tuesday evening meeting of Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four.

Attending the district meeting were Mrs. Fitzthomas, Mrs. George Leinenger, Mrs. Allen Smale, Mrs. James Dando, Mrs. William Morris, Mrs. Lettie Hancock and Mrs. Edward Schram.

The group voted to purchase a banner for the national convention being held in Detroit in October.

Olives Enliven Appetizer Dips

GREEN OLIVE DIP — Fall time means party time. Whether you're having a dinner party or friends in for the evening, you'll enjoy having assorted relishes with a green olive dip. Include some raw vegetables as well as potato chips and pretzels in your assortment of dippables.

Varied Relishes Go With Them

Include Potato Chips, Some Raw Vegetables and Pretzels

To get your next dinner party off to a flying start, serve assorted relishes with a tangy green olive dip. One excellent recipe combines catsup, mayonnaise and onion.

To supply the needed zip, prepared mustard and horseradish are added. Overlapped stuffed olive slices top the dip at serving time.

A good assortment of relishes to go with the dip includes raw cauliflowerets, cheddar and Swiss cheese sticks, pretzels and celery hearts. Pass a tray of chilled tomato juice with lemon wedges.

Another green olive dip suggestion you'll want to keep handy for entertaining teams chopped stuffed olives with liverwurst, cream cheese, milk and onion. Try this one with potato chips, radish roses, cucumber slices and carrot sticks.

Green Olive Appetizer Dip

¼ cup catsup
½ cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons chopped onion
¼ cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives

Combine all ingredients. Mix well and chill. Serve with cauliflowerets, cheese sticks, pretzels and celery hearts, as desired. Makes 1½ cups.

Liverwurst Olive Dip

½ pound liverwurst, mashed
1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened
¼ cup milk
1 small onion, finely chopped
¼ cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Serve with potato chips, radishes, cucumber slices and carrot sticks, as desired. Makes 1½ cups.

Serve Muffin Snack for Supper on Sunday

For an attractive, but easy, Sunday night supper snack, buy a package of English muffins from the food store. Split them, and toast lightly in the oven. Brush with melted butter or margarine.

Spread with a mixture of minced seafood and chopped hard-cooked egg. Pour melted process cheese, mixed with a little milk, over all and garnish with a sprig of parsley.

Serve with fresh tomato slices, potato chips, iced tea, ice cream and brownies.

Top toasted cheese sandwiches with creamed ham or eggs.

Maraschino Cherries Put New Color Into Breakfast

The day-in-and-day-out routine of family breakfasts has a way of becoming dull at times both to the cook and the family. So every now and then why not perk up the whole meal by adding gay splashes of bright color to your breakfast courses to make them interesting?

Simply add maraschino cherries. Youngsters will love them in cereal, and will eat to the bottom of the bowl without any urging. For your fruit introduce a change by trying Cherry Breakfast Fruit Bowl.

Serve Cherry Currant Muffins for your bread. Your family will leave the table with full stomachs and cheerful faces.

Cherry Breakfast Fruit Bowl

2 medium-sized grapefruit, peeled and cut in sections
2 medium-sized apples, cored and thinly sliced
2 medium-sized oranges, peeled and sliced
2 bananas, cut in quarters
½ cup maraschino cherries, cut in half about 15 cherries
½ cup grapefruit juice
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon sugar
2 sticks cinnamon

Combine fruits and chill. Combine juices, water, sugar and cinnamon. Cook over low heat 10 minutes. Chill. Pour over fruits and serve. Makes four to six servings.

Cherry Currant Muffins

1 8½ ounce package muffin mix
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries drained (about 15 cherries)
¼ cup currants

Combine muffin mix, cherries and currants. Prepare batter according to package directions. Pour into greased 2½-inch muffin pans and bake according to package directions. Makes eight muffins.

Chocolate Pudding Made for Dieters

Top off a diet menu with chocolate pudding!

* * *

This may sound like an overweight's dream of an Eater's Eden, but it is now a logical step, with a low-calorie chocolate pudding which has been developed, along with other "sweet tooth" diet foods, by a diet expert who has made a study of scientific weight reduction for the past decade.

One regular third-of-a-cup portion of this chocolate pudding has only 87 calories, as against 96 calories for the usual type. However, careful blending of the ingredients used in the pudding mix has resulted in full retention of flavor—and even texture.

Thus there is none of the uninteresting lack of taste which so often characterizes low-calorie food.

The pudding may be converted into a variety of delicious diet desserts. It may be served in pudding form with a topping of whipped white of an egg. It may be used with a low-calorie angel cake for an especially delicious ending to a diet meal, or it may be converted into a parfait in combination with low-calorie fruits or ice cream made with skimmed milk and a sugarless sweetener.

* * *

The pudding may also be used in a luscious chocolate pie using graham cracker crumbs, which are low in calories, for the crust.

A companion to the chocolate pudding is a chocolate sauce which is equally low in calories and which may be used as a dessert topping in a great variety of ways.

Canned tomato aspic helps to make a pantry shelf meal interesting—especially when you serve it with mayonnaise seasoned with curry powder.

Boned Chicken, Turkey Make Luscious Dishes

Prominent on grocers' shelves, and homemakers', too, are the 5-ounce cans of boned chicken and turkey.

Wonderful in salads, casseroles, and creamed dishes, the chicken and turkey come in handy so many ways. These recipes get a vote of confidence from homemakers far and wide.

Star of Paris Salad

1 package frozen asparagus
2 cans (5-ounce size) boned chicken or turkey
2 ripe tomatoes, cut in chunks
½ cup diced celery
4 large stuffed olives, sliced thin
Salt, pepper, paprika, to taste
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
Crisp lettuce leaves

Cook asparagus according to directions on package; chill. Lightly toss together chicken, tomatoes, celery, olives, seasonings, mayonnaise, and mustard. Chill.

Arrange asparagus on lettuce in star pattern. Place tomato-chicken mixture in center. Garnish with wedges of hard-cooked egg. Five servings.

Turkey Macaroni

2 cans (15½-ounce size) macaroni with cheese sauce
1 can (5-ounce size) diced cooked turkey
¼ cup chopped stuffed olives

Combine ingredients in a 1½-quart casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (375) about 25 minutes. Four servings.

Leftover Bacon Can Be Used for Seasoning

There are lots of ways in which you can use any bacon left over from breakfast.

Stir into peanut butter or egg salad for sandwich filling.

Top servings of spaghetti and meat sauce with the crisp bacon.

Add to heated canned pork and beans just before serving.

Sprinkle over hot baked potatoes—right on top of the melting butter!

Frost With Baby Fruit

Spread a store bought layer of sponge cake with a couple of jars of baby food fruit dessert. Top with another layer of the cake and sweetened whipped cream.

Glazed Apple Rings Team Well With Pork

Glazed apple rings or wedges are a favorite with pork chops or a pork roast meal.

Bring 1 cup of sugar and 1 cup of water to a boil and cook for five minutes. Add apple wedges or slices and let simmer in the syrup for 10 to 12 minutes.

A drop of red food coloring or cinnamon candies added to the syrup will enhance the color.

When you're having a sumptuous pork roast dinner, a big, colorful apple salad is just right. Or for the dessert of the pork dinner choose large, firm apples, core and stuff with chopped dates for baking.

Pour creamed chicken over crusty cornbread.

Treat Your Family to Cottage Pudding

Your family will enjoy the flavor of this old-fashioned cottage pudding.

Cottage Pudding

1½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground mace
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅔ cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and lemon rind thoroughly.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, beating just until smooth after each addition.

Bake in buttered pan (7x11x1½ inches) in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Makes six to eight servings. Serve with Lemon Sauce.

Consider Egg Weights When Checking Prices

Ready for the fall are abundant supplies of small eggs. Spring-hatched Michigan chicks are growing up. They are laying small eggs high in quality and low in price.

Large eggs have dwindled in supply, and with more of the small and medium sizes wise shoppers will check for dollar value. When checking prices consider what you are getting in weight.

EGG SIZES ARE JUDGED BY WEIGHT

Eggs have the following minimum weights per dozen:

Peewee	15 oz.	Large	24 oz.
Small	18 oz.	Extra Large	27 oz.
Medium	21 oz.	Jumbo	30 oz.

When measuring eggs:

	Small	Medium	Large
Number of whole eggs to fill a cup	6	5	4
Number of egg whites to fill a cup	9	8	7
Number of egg yolks to fill a cup	10	17	14

Source: New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University "Egg-Buying Guide."

EGG QUALITY IS JUDGED BY WHAT'S INSIDE

Egg quality is determined by what's inside the shell. Grade refers to interior quality which is measured by candling. A grader looks through an egg in front of a strong beam of light and checks the color, the egg yolk, and the air cell.

Grade A—for cooking in the shell, poaching, for angel food cakes.

Grade B & C—for scrambling, omelets, puddings, muffins, shortened cakes, sauces, salad dressing, etc.

Set Deviled Noodle Ring Before Famished Family

Line up the hungry ones, set this colorful deviled noodle ring in the center of the table, stand back for knife-and-fork action!

Whether you serve noodles in a ring, or in a casserole, or on a platter — noodles will be served several times in the course of a family menu. Perk up the dish and tantalize the tastes with generous scoops of deviled ham mixed into the noodles.

The zestfully seasoned deviled ham makes this a sturdy supper dish that's full of nutrition and flavor . . . and adds very little to the cost of the meal or effort to the meal planner.

Discover for yourself how simply deviled ham adds whole-ham goodness to main dish meals . . . how it glorifies everyday foods. Add a spoonful to canned vegetables, mixing it in when vegetables are warming or just putting a hefty dab on top of the serving.

RECIPE

Deviled Noodle Ring

1 eight-ounce package wide noodles
1 (4½ oz.) can deviled ham
1 small white onion, chopped
¼ cup shredded cheese

Cook noodles in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain well. Combine with remaining ingredients. Season to taste. Pour into greased ring mold.

Set mold in pan of hot water and cover. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 minutes. Serves six.

Put Fish Sticks in Pastry Wrap

The first week of October has been designated as National Fish Week to remind us of the great contribution the fishing industry has made to the nation's economy.

It was America's very first industry, and today the total annual catch amounts to 4,700,000,000 pounds of fish and shellfish, worth $345,000,000 to the fishermen. This, in turn, means the investment of millions of dollars in boats and equipment and the employment of hundreds of thousands of men and women.

America can well be proud of its great industry, represented by about 180 varieties of fish and shellfish caught commercially in lakes, oceans and rivers, and sold fresh, frozen and canned—as well as processed in such forms as crab cakes, breaded shrimp, fillets and sticks.

Speaking of fish statistics and fish sticks, the popularity of this latest contribution to today's dinner table has been phenomenal; from all indications Americans will eat more than 75,000,000 pounds of fish sticks this year.

And for your table, here's a brand new idea of wrapping them in little pastry squares.

Fish Stick Pastries

For one box of fish sticks, make short, flaky pastry, using a recipe calling for 2 cups of flour. Roll pastry about ⅛ inch thick, and cut into 3-inch squares. Spread the center of each square with prepared mustard.

Lay a narrow strip of cheese diagonally across each square and a fish stick on top of each piece of cheese. Fold opposite covers over center of stick and secure with a toothpick.

Place on a baking sheet and bake in a hot oven until brown.

Fix Romano Crisps for Nibble Pleasure

New seasonings for a favorite before-dinner nibble!

Romano Crisps

3 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits
4 tablespoons butter
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon onion powder
½ cup grated Romano cheese
Paprika

Do not include any broken shreds when measuring bite-size shredded rice biscuits. Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over low heat; stir in salt and onion powder; add shredded rice biscuits.

Stir almost constantly until cereal is lightly browned — three to five minutes. Remove from heat.

Stir in cheese to distribute well; sprinkle with paprika. Cool in skillet to allow cereal to get crisp. Makes enough for six to eight servings.

Store any leftover in tightly covered container.

Bacon, Squash Are Teammates in Casserole

Bacon is one of those foods that "stand by" the homemaker because it's popular for tasty meals any time of the day.

Lunch or dinnertime finds bacon right on hand atop or in favorite casserole dishes that are extra hearty and flavorful.

This recipe features tender fall squash with a crisp bacon topping. You can prepare it casserole style in the oven or in a skillet over low heat.

Bacon Squash Casserole

1 pound sliced bacon
1 pound crookneck squash
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon salt
6 slices American processed cheese

Wash but do not pare the squash. Cut into thin slices, then cut the larger slices in half. Cook in salted water for 15 minutes or until squash is tender. Drain.

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper.

In a quart casserole arrange layers of squash, cheese then bacon. Sprinkle the flour over the bacon. Top with remaining squash and cheese with bacon over all.

Bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes or until cheese melts. Serves six.

This combination can also be prepared in a skillet, over low heat.

To clean your electric iron, remove dark or burnt spots by rubbing with vinegar and salt heated in an aluminum pan, then polish as you would silver.

SALAD BAKED IN AVOCADOS — This is a delightful main dish for a luncheon when next you entertain the bridge club "girls." Peeled avocados are stuffed with chicken salad, topped with crushed cornflakes and baked in a slow oven. Serve garnished with ripe olives.

Stuff and Bake Ripe Avocados

The avocado is a comparative newcomer on American markets. It has been produced here for a little over 40 years. Some areas call it a calavo; others Alligator pear, but whatever its name, shape and color, it's a favorite festive food, and a base for salads.

There are many ways of serving this popular fruit. Here's a recipe that's one of the best. Cut the avocado in half lengthwise, brush with lemon juice and amply fill with chicken salad.

Then, top with cornflakes that are slightly crushed and mixed with melted butter. Bake in a slow oven for 15 minutes. Serve hot garnished with ripe olives.

Avocados with Chicken Salad

3 ripe avocados
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 cups cooked diced chicken
1 cup finely cut celery
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
1½ cups cornflakes
2 teaspoons melted butter

Cut each avocado in half lengthwise, remove seed and peel. Brush with lemon juice. Combine chicken, celery, salt, pepper, and mayonnaise. Fill avocado shells with mixture.

Crush cornflakes slightly and mix with melted butter. Sprinkle over chicken salad. Place shells in lightly greased baking pan.

Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) about 15 minutes or until heated through. Serve at once. Yield: Six servings.

When serving any kind of seafood, home economists suggest brown bread or pumpernickel to go with it. The flavor combination is really delicious.

Scramble Beef and Lima Beans

Ground beef is always a good buy so you'll be glad to have this tasty and different recipe for a ground beef main dish. The limas and rice make it an inexpensive "meat and vegetable" one-dish meal.

The seasonings are just right and your family will like the tomato touch. Save dishwashing by cooking and serving this delicious dish in your fanciest skillet.

Beef and Lima Skillet Scramble

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 pound ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
2 teaspoons steak sauce
Generous dash of garlic powder
1 cup uncooked white rice
3 cups water
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
1½ to 2 cups uncooked fresh or frozen lima beans

Melt the butter or margarine in a large skillet or large saucepan. Add the beef and onion and cook until the meat browns. Stir in the salt, pepper, steak sauce, garlic powder, rice and water. Add the tomatoes, and the lima beans.

Cover and simmer for about 30 minutes or until the lima beans are cooked and most of the water is absorbed. Stir occasionally. If a thinner mixture is desired, add additional water. This recipe makes eight servings.

Good Canned Corn in Plentiful Supply

We have the heaviest supply of canned corn in five years. Therefore, let's include it often in our home menus. Try this side dish.

Fried Corn

Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a skillet. Add one-half cup chopped onion, one-half cup chopped green pepper, 2½ cups whole-kernel canned corn, drained, one-half teaspoon salt, and dash of pepper.

Cook until the vegetables are somewhat dry and lightly browned. Add one-fourth cup milk or cream, and heat all thoroughly together. Four big servings.

Revolutions Traced to the Lack of Bread

Lack of bread to feed the people has been a contributing factor to overthrow of governments and loss of wars.

It is interesting to conjecture about two cases in point . . . would there have been a French Revolution if King Louis XVI had not exported much of the bread made in France for exorbitant prices—thus leaving the peasants starving? . . . would Napoleon have lost the war with Russia if his bread wagons had kept up with his army?

Have a Favorite Menu? Share It With All of Us

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Pontiac area women do their share of entertaining, we know. We read about the parties in the paper. We know hundreds of dinners and luncheons take place without getting into the social news.

As a hostess, do you have a favorite menu, one you use often because it is just right? We're sure that many women do. They have found using the same menu frees them from worry; doing a familiar thing is easier than attempting something new.

Perhaps you don't serve the same dishes each time you have company, but you do have a pattern. That seems to be the way I plan my company menus.

I like to serve buffet style as we don't have a table big enough to seat more than six comfortably. My planning for a party meal goes something like this: we'll have some kind of a casserole since that takes care of meat and potatoes and sometimes the vegetable part of the meal too. There has to be a salad of contrasting texture and flavor. Hot rolls or fresh homemade bread and a relish plate are a must. Dessert is probably some new idea I just heard of and want to try out on some one.

Lots of women practice on their families first before they serve any new dish to company. Not me. I find I put my best foot forward if I experiment on my guests. So far, I've had no complaints. I must admit that once or twice I have decided not to use a particular idea again.

Everyone—and I insist everyone—has some specialty in the cooking line she likes to be known for. When women protest that they aren't fancy cooks and therefore have no recipe to give the food editor, I always ask what they like best of all to cook. Invariably that gives them an idea about a favorite recipe.

Mrs. Francis T. Lohff made the suggestion some time ago that it would be fun to see what people's favorite menus are. I think so too. Why not send me yours, including a recipe, or not as you wish? I'll be glad to share all I receive with our readers. Here's one of mine as a starter:

Lasagne Casserole
Fresh Fruit Salad
Homemade Bread — Relish Tray
Sunshine Cake — Coffee

The only recipe I can give you here that is at all different is one for a fruit salad dressing.

Easy Fruit Dressing

Juice and rind of an orange
Juice and rind of a lemon
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
Speck of salt

Combine all ingredients and cook until smooth and clear, about 5 minutes.

Blend Soup, Cheese

Heat a can of condensed tomato soup with a cup of finely grated cheddar cheese over low heat. Serve over veal chops for something delicious and different.

NEW...from Duncan Hines:
Old-fashioned BURNT SUGAR Cake Mix

Caramel Flavor in the Cake—Caramel Flavor in the Frosting!

Enough Burnt Sugar Syrup for both included in this exciting new mix

DUNCAN HINES
America's Foremost Authority on Good Eating

Duncan Hines says: "If you've ever tasted a real old-fashioned Burnt Sugar Cake the way it's best . . . with a Burnt Sugar Frosting that enhances the caramel taste . . . you know how delicious it is. If you've ever made it the old-fashioned way, you know there's quite a trick to caramelizing sugar to just the right flavor.

"With my new Burnt Sugar Cake Mix, you don't have to do any caramelizing at all! I've found a way to package enough Burnt Sugar Syrup to flavor the cake, and make the perfect frosting for it, too.

"Try it soon! I guarantee you'll serve a cake that will make memories . . . the old-fashioned, caramel-rich kind of cake that always went first at church suppers. I consider it a real adventure in good eating."

Duncan Hines

NO SUGAR TO CARAMELIZE!

This packet contains a concentrated burnt sugar syrup—inside the package.

Just dissolve the contents of the packet in enough water to make ⅓ cup. It's liquid, so it mixes instantly with a stir of the spoon.

Add half of this mixture to the cake batter, as directed on the package. The cake will have a true caramel flavor and color.

Every Cake You Bake an "Adventure in Good Eating"

Bacon, Cheese Top Off Krisps

Here is an appetizer idea that is literally the hottest one you're likely to find any place.

* * *

Prepare Bacon-Cheese Krisps ahead of time, then bake them as needed, whisking them from the oven to your waiting guests. Be ready to receive many compliments—and many requests for your recipe.

Bacon-Cheese Krisps are simple to make, thanks to the crisp rye wafers that are used as the base. The wafers are already toasted and are scored so that each one can easily be broken into two appetizer-size squares.

Each square is spread with a mixture of grated cheddar cheese and Worcestershire sauce, topped with a piece of bacon, then stored in the refrigerator until just before serving time.

A few minutes of baking is all that's necessary to melt the cheese, cook the bacon, and blend the flavors that make these appetizers distinctively different.

"The more you eat, the more you want" applies to Bacon-Cheese Krisps; so be sure to have plenty ready and waiting, to be baked and served piping hot as the occasion—and guests—demands.

Bacon-Cheese Krisps

18 crisp rye wafers
4 slices lean bacon
¼ pound sharp cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt

Break each crisp rye wafer in half. Cut each slice of bacon crosswise into nine pieces. Grate cheese fine. Put into 3-cup bowl. Add Worcestershire sauce and salt. Mix well.

Spread each half wafer with a generous half-teaspoonful of cheese mixture. Top with a piece of bacon. Place on a shallow pan or cookie sheet. Cover and store in the refrigerator until needed.

Shortly before time to serve, heat oven to hot (400). Take appetizers from refrigerator. Uncover and bake on center rack 10-12 minutes, or until edges are browned but not burned.

Serve piping hot. Makes 36 appetizers.

Light Meal Topped by Date-Walnut Pie

Wonderful flavor and substantial texture make this a fine pie to serve with a light meal.

Date-Walnut Pie

2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup quick-cooking rice cereal
9-inch unbaked pastry shell
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 eggs (separated)
½ cup sugar
½ cup finely chopped walnuts
½ cup finely chopped dates
2 tablespoons grated orange rind

Heat milk and salt in top of double boiler over boiling water. Sprinkle in quick-cooking rice cereal and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened.

Cover and continue cooking for 10 minutes. Cool slightly.

Meanwhile prepare pastry shell. Blend together the butter, egg yolks and one-fourth cup of the sugar. Add walnuts, dates and orange rind. Combine with the slightly cooled cooked rice cereal.

Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually beating in remaining one-fourth cup sugar. Fold beaten whites into rice mixture.

Pour into unbaked shell. Bake in moderately hot (375 degrees) oven until lightly browned, about 45 minutes. Serve warm.

Delicious Tea Snack

Want a delicious snack for teatime? Mix grated cheese, broken walnut or pecan meats and chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives; spread over slices of fresh white bread. Cut the crusts off the bread and roll up each slice. Put the cheese rolls, one touching the other, in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a hot oven until crusty and touched with golden-brown.

FILLED DATE COOKIES — Date filling nestles inside these sugar cookies — a richly satisfying dessert favorite. These cookies are easy to make and are sure to give the family plenty of eating pleasure. You'll have them all in the kitchen when they smell the good fragrance of Filled Date Cookies.

Family Comes A-Running for These Date Cookies

There's nothing like baking sugar cookies to wrap the old-fashioned aroma of "grandmother's kitchen" around your oven.

* * *

And when you tuck a rich date filling inside each cookie, you're bound to bring the family flocking out to see what's cooking.

To make Filled Date Cookies, roll out easy sugar cookie dough and cut it with a 2-inch circular cutter. Spread date filling on every other cookie. Finally, place a second cookie atop each filled one and press the two together with a fork.

The filling is chock-full of ground dates and brown sugar. There's no problem to making it. Just combine these ingredients with one-eighth teaspoon salt, a tablespoon of cornstarch and a half cup of water. Then cook the mixture till it thickens.

* * *

If fall housecleaning leaves you with no time for cookie-baking you can still have plenty of delectable desserts. Buy them from your baker. He uses enriched flour, too, to give his products added B vitamins and food iron.

Filled Date Cookies

2½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Date Filling

Sift together flour and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and vanilla extract. Beat well. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture, mixing only enough to combine ingredients.

Chill. Roll out one-eighth inch thick on floured board or pastry cloth. Cut with cookie cutter. Put about 1 teaspoon filling on every other cookie. Cover with remaining cookies, pressing edge together with fork.

Bake on ungreased baking sheets in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 10 minutes. Makes about 2½ dozen 2-inch cookies.

Date Filling

1 cup ground dates
¼ cup brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup water

Mix all ingredients except water. Add water gradually, mixing well. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool before using. Make about 1¼ cups.

Crunch Sandwiches Feature Honey Butter

When the youngsters come in from tiring play and want a quick-energy snack, give them something that's wholesome and nourishing as well—Honey Butter Crunch Sandwiches.

To make enough filling for four sandwiches, combine one-half cup peanut butter, one-fourth cup orange juice and one-fourth cup honey. Mix until smooth. Add one-fourth cup chopped pecans. Spread on enriched bread and top with a lettuce leaf.

Loaf Combines Cereal, Meat

What a loaf ! ! ! Delicious hot and delectable cold . . . made with quick-cooking rice cereal . . . good for the whole family, even those members with an allergy to wheat . . . economical and easy to prepare . . . just put it in the oven and forget it . . . it's also good sandwich material for those box lunches for the school set.

Baked Meat Loaf

1 pound chopped beef
½ pound chopped pork
½ cup quick-cooking rice cereal
1 egg
¼ cup finely diced onion
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon marjoram
½ cup tomato juice

Place all ingredients in large mixing bowl. Mix thoroughly with hands or large kitchen fork. Pack gently into greased loaf pan, about 8 x 4 x 3 inches, taking care to avoid air spaces.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees until meat is done, about 1¼ hours. Turn out onto serving platter. Serve hot or cold with any desired sauce or gravy. Yield: six servings.

Hot vinegar takes paint spots off glass.

Don't overcook minute or cube steaks. They need only two to three minutes on each side in the skillet.

Use Plentiful Rice in Autumn Dishes

Pontiac Press Home Editor

American cooks are being asked to help relieve a food surplus. There is a bumper crop of rice this year.

Because of this unusually large crop of grain, the Rice Industry and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Plentiful Foods Program are planning a Fall Rice celebration. Ways of serving rice will be emphasized by food editors everywhere.

Although rice is a more important staple food to the people of Asia, it is grown in great quantities in the United States. we export over 800 million pounds a year and have more commercial rice mills than any other country.

Rice is an easy food to use. It takes up little space on your shelf. It keeps well, except in summer when occasionally it becomes infested with weevils. It can be served as a breakfast cereal, a luncheon starch dish or a dinner dessert.

It combines well with other foods, its bland taste going well with any flavor. It's inexpensive. And it cooks quickly.

Last weekend we had chicken for Sunday dinner. In place of the usual mashed potatoes I served rice. In fact, I cooked the rice with the chicken in my electric skillet. Perhaps you would like the recipe I used.

Skillet Chicken with Rice

1 broiler-fryer, 2½ lb. cut up
⅓ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅓ cup fat for browning
2 cups boiling water
1 onion, sliced
¾ cup rice
Parsley and paprika

Coat chicken with flour and seasonings and brown in fat. Reduce heat, add boiling water and onion. Add rice. Cover and simmer until chicken is fork-tender, rice is fluffy and water is evaporated, about 40 minutes. Garnish with parsley and paprika. 5 servings.

Lamb makes an interesting meat loaf for a change. The one for which we print the recipe has a special attraction. Between layers of lamb a savory stuffing of rice and apricots makes this loaf pretty and elegant enough for your best company.

Apricot-Stuffed Lamb Loaf

¾ cup diced celery
3 tablespoons minced onions
1 tablespoon minced parsley
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups cooked rice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon savory
¾ cup cut dried apricots

Cook celery, onions, and parsley in butter until soft. Add remaining ingredients and toss lightly. Remove from heat.

1 egg, slightly beaten
½ cup fine, dry crumbs
¾ cup water
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ pounds lean ground lamb
1 tablespoon honey

Combine egg, crumbs, water, and seasonings. Add meat; mix thoroughly.

Spread ½ of the meat mixture on bottom of 10x5x2-inch baking pan. Spread stuffing over meat and press down firmly. Cover stuffing with remaining meat mixture and smooth with spatula.

Drizzle honey over top and spread evenly over meat. Bake in moderate oven (350F.) about 45 minutes, or until meat is done. Cut into squares to serve. Yields six servings.

Try the different kinds of rice to see which one your family prefers. You may find that you like the brown rice best. It provides you with more vitamin B, in fact four times as much as white rice does. For a very special treat serve some wild rice.

Wild Rice Amandine

2 cups wild rice
3 tablespoons chopped onion
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped chives
½ cup butter or margarine
4½ cups hot consomme or bouillon
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon celery salt
⅛ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
½ cup blanched chopped almonds

Wash rice in several changes of water. Drain and dry well. Saute onion, parsley and chives in butter until tender but not brown. Add dry rice and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until rice begins to turn yellow in color. Gradually pour in consomme. Add seasonings and almonds. Mix until blended.

Pour into greased casserole. Cover and bake at 325 degrees for 1½ to 2 hours or until rice is tender. Remove cover and carefully stir with fork to fluff rice before serving. Serve hot with duck, squab, venison or other game. Serves 4-6.

Cooked rice may be made into an interesting pudding such as this one:

Mocha Rice Pudding

4 eggs, separated
⅓ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups strong hot coffee
1 cup scalded thin cream
3 cups cooked rice
4 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons chopped blanched almonds

Beat egg yolks with electric or hand beater until thick and lemon-colored. Add brown sugar and beat until creamy. Add salt and vanilla. Gradually stir in coffee and cream. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add rice. Pour into buttered baking dish.

Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff, but not dry. Spread over pudding. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake in 375-degree oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until brown. Serve warm or cold. Serves 6.

Remove Sugar Lumps

When you make brown-sugar hard sauce to serve with a fresh berry cobbler, be sure to see that there are no lumps in the sugar before creaming it with the butter or margarine. You can do this by mashing the sugar through a fine strainer.

For a hearty breakfast serving, cut luncheon meat into thin strips and add to scrambled eggs.

Orange, Cranberry Sauce Flavor Dessert Pancakes

Sometimes it seems as if the ideal dessert is made up of many "buts." It should be pretty to look at — but not too hard to make; different — but not too exotic; gala — but not overly rich.

* * *

Well, there are no "buts" about these filled dessert pancakes. The delicately brown pancakes are tender, yet not so fragile they can't be made in advance and kept warm. The filling is luscious, cloud light — a blend of cream cheese and sugar, lifted out of the ordinary by orange juice and tangy grated orange peel.

And the final touch is cranberry sauce, (with lots of uncrushed cranberries in it, please), served hot and poured over the whole. If you've never tasted a touch of orange paired with cranberries, you've been missing an unbeatable combination!

Did we say "paired"? Trioed would be a better word, the third party being coffee. Bounteous cups of piping coffee, (or, if you prefer, coffee served demi-tasse style), pay the dessert the compliments it richly deserves.

* * *

Your guests will pay compliments too — we wouldn't be a bit surprised if they toasted your culinary skill in cups of the hearty, steaming brew.

Orange Cream Dessert Pancakes

Pancakes:

1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup pancake mix
2 eggs, well beaten

Heat milk and butter in small saucepan until butter melts. Cool to lukewarm. Blend cooled mixture and pancake mix into eggs and beat with rotary egg beater until smooth.

Bake on hot griddle, using about 2 tablespoons batter for each 5-inch pancake. Stack by fours and cover to keep moist until filled. Makes about 16 pancakes.

Filling:

4 packages (3 ounce each) cream cheese
¼ cup sugar
1½ tablespoons grated orange peel
2 tablespoons orange juice
Cranberry sauce

Soften and mash cream cheese. Beat in sugar, orange peel and orange juice. Spoon a "ribbon" of cream cheese mixture across center of each pancake and roll pancake around filling.

Place pancakes fold side down in shallow baking pan. Heat in hot oven, 400 degrees, 10 minutes. Top with heated fresh cranberry sauce. Makes eight servings.

Add Dill to Egg Salad

Add minced fresh dill (or dried dillweed) to egg salad and use as a filling for scooped-out tomatoes. Serve these stuffed tomatoes on salad greens as a luncheon main course.

Sardine Sandwiches Are Susie's Favorite

Children grow pretty independent pretty young these days. Little Susie is only 8, but she packs lunch for herself every day.

One of her favorites is a Maine sardine sandwich made with lettuce and hard-boiled egg slices; oatmeal cookies and a piece of fruit, with a thermos of chocolate milk.

Her busy mother merely makes suggestions as she is preparing the family breakfast. She's delighted that Susie likes sardines because she knows that they contain as much high protein as a sirloin steak and will give her daughter full energy throughout her busy day.

Australia has airline service to and ranches.

Too Many Young Cooks Con't Spoil This Supper

We're supposed to encourage independence in the young, so no oldster should feel slighted when the youngsters want to get supper for the bunch, with no grownup help — or interference.

Frankfurters are proven successes wth the young, of course. But never more so than in the grownup-sounding dish, Skillet Frankoroni.

This is the kind of thing that "too many cooks" can't spoil! Definitely cooperative. A boy can slice onions and cut up frankfurters. A girl can heat the shortening. (And what a lucky girl, if there's an electric skillet on the premises!)

They both can stir in the seasonings, while their pals get lettuce wedges ready, and shake up some Olive French Dressing, cut rye bread in hearty chunks and, when the time comes, scatter chocolate sprinkles on the chocolate sundaes.

* * *

Here's the Skillet Frankoroni recipe — and not a reason on earth it should be confined to the young!

Skillet Frankoroni

⅓ cup shortening
½ pound elbow macaroni
1 medium onion, sliced
½ medium green pepper, slivered
½ teaspoon garlic salt or seasoning salt
1½ cups tomato juice
1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire
6 franks, cut on angle in 1 inch pieces

Heat shortening in skillet, electric or top of stove kind; add macaroni, onion and green pepper, saute until macaroni turns yellow. Stir in garlic salt, tomato juice, bouillon, salt, pepper, and Worcestershire.

Bring to boil; turn heat low and cook, covered, without stirring, 10 minutes. Lay franks on top; cook, covered, 10 minutes longer. Makes six servings.

Here's a suggestion for the rest of the menu.

Skillet Frankoroni
Lettuce Wedges with Olive French Dressing
Chunks of Rye Bread
Chocolate Sundaes with Chocolate Sprinkles

If you plan a no-meat omelet meal, garnish the platter with grilled sugared apple slices.

Fix Chow Mein With Thrift Beef

There are many tempting dishes made with less tender cuts of beef, and here's an excellent recipe for one—Beef Chow Mein.

Serve this with lots of fluffy-pre-cooked rice and a tossed green salad with a tangy French dressing. Top this off with fresh fruit and beverage for a dinner that's economy at its tastiest.

Chow Mein

1 onion, sliced
1 pound beef shoulder (cut in ½ inch cubes)
½ pound pork shoulder (cut in ½ inch cubes)
3 cups chopped celery
1½ cups water
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon bead molasses
1 can bean sprouts, drained
1 can Chinese vegetables, drained
1 small can mushrooms
½ cup chopped almonds
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 can Chinese noodles

Cook onion in small amount fat; add meat and brown slightly. Add celery and water; cook until meat is tender. Add soy sauce and bead molasses; salt to taste. Cover and cook about one hour.

About 15 minutes before serving, add drained bean sprouts and vegetables. Thin cornstarch with a bit of cold water; stir into meat mixture and cook to thicken. Add mushrooms and almonds.

Serve piping hot on buttered rice and sprinkle with Chinese noodles. Serves six to eight.

Try This Dessert for Kiddies' Parties

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Parents planning children's parties just about always include ice cream.

Here's a recipe for something just a little different in the dessert line that would probably appeal to Pop, also.

It's called Cherry Biscuit Tortoni and serves 12.

Cherry Biscuit Tortoni

2 egg whites
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup quartered maraschino cherries (about 30 cherries)
1 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
Additional graham cracker crumbs

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add sugar gradually and beat until stiff but not dry. Fold in one-third cup crumbs, walnuts, cherries, cherry juice, vanilla, cream and confectioners' sugar.

Line muffin pans with fluted paper cups. Sprinkle additional graham cracker crumbs in bottom of cups.

Pour cherry mixture on top of crumbs. Sprinkle with additional crumbs. Freeze until firm.

Old Favorite Rice Treat Made Quickly Atop Stove

Remember the old days when preparing rice pudding was an all-day job? Today you can make it right on top of the stove.

And what is even better news, when this family favorite is done this quick, simple way, it loses none of its homebaked goodness despite the ease of preparation.

Made with packaged pre-cooked rice, creamy milk, and the usual eggs and sugar, it's a real quickie. Top each serving with a generous amount of nutmeg and it's soon ready to serve.

Made the modern way, this fine old American favorite will appear often on your lis tof desserts.

Quick Rice Pudding

⅔ cup packaged pre-cooked rice
1 cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
⅓ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg (optional)
¼ teaspoon cinnamon (optional)
1 tablespoon butter
½ teaspoon vanilla

Combine packaged pre-cooked rice, water and salt in saucepan. Bring to a boil, cover, and boil gently four minutes, or until water is absorbed. Remove from heat.

Combined milk and egg yolk; add to rice in saucepan and blend. Then add sugar, spices and butter; mix well. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and stir in the vanilla. Cover and let stand in saucepan about one hour. (Pudding will be thin when removed from heat. It will become creamy on standing since the rice continues to absorb milk as the pudding cools.)

Serve at room temperature or chilled. Makes about 3 cups, or four servings.

Save Those Cold Cuts

Don't throw away those leftover cold cuts. Try freezing them instead. Then, on a day when you have a yen for something "different," dip the slices (without defrosting), into an egg and milk batter, and then in bread crumbs. Saute or deep-fry. You'll find them delicious.

Perk Up Peaches With Maple Cream

Here's a simple delectable way with peaches.

Peaches With Maple Cream

½ cup heavy cream
Salt
2 tablespoons maple-flavored syrup
Sliced peaches (fresh, frozen, or canned)

Whip cream with a dash of salt until stiff; fold in maple-flavored syrup, a tablespoon at a time. Serve as a topping for sliced peaches.

If frozen peaches are used, thaw but have them still frosty. Makes enough topping for four servings of peaches.

Salad Dressing Mixes Can Be Easily Varied

Want to vary the flavor of the new salad dressing mixes that come in envelopes? In place of the amount of water called for, try using white wine, red wine, vermouth, chili sauce, catsup, tomato juice, sour cream, fruit juices, mayonnaise, canned tomato soup or V-8 juice.

Or use 2 tablespoons of any of these, in addition to the water. In short, experiment! Add vinegar and oil as directed.

When you serve your salad with this freshly made dressing, be sure to use chilled plates. So make room in your refrigerator for them beforehand.

Stuff Spareribs With Apple Mix

The bright red-skinned apples that appear in grocery stores during September and October tempt most cooks into using them often, not only in salads and desserts, but in main dishes as well.

A particularly tasty use of the crunchy fruit is in a stuffing for meaty spareribs:

Apple-Stuffed Spareribs

2 sides spareribs
Salt, pepper
½ pound salt pork, diced
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
8 large red-skinned apples, diced
¼ cup brown sugar
2 cups toasted bread crumbs
½ cup chopped parsley
¾ cup water or bouillon

Sprinkle both sides of ribs with 1 teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Fry salt pork until crisp; remove pieces.

Cook onions and celery in drippings three minutes; add apples, sprinkle with sugar.

Cover pan and cook 10 minutes longer. Add remaining ingredients and 1 teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, and spread on one section of spareribs, cover with other section and skewer or tie together.

Cutting a frosted cake? You can keep your knife free of frosting and cake crumbs if you dip the knife into hot water before each cut.

Pep Up White Sauce

Pep up that white sauce with curry powder, minced onion and a dash of ginger.. Serve with fish or seafood. Another good sauce for fish is made from condensed cream of mushroom soup diluted with a little light cream and cooking sherry.

Here's a tip on easy measuring of lard. A 1-pound brick equals 2 cups. Halve it for 1 cup. One-fourth pound equals one-half cup.

Frost Without Fuss

To frost a cake with a minimum of fuss, just cut a large square of wax paper diagonally across to form four triangles. Re-form the square on the serving plate and place cake on the paper. After frosting it is easy to remove each triangle of paper in turn, leaving a clean plate underneath.

Creamed asparagus goes well with toasted leftover hotcakes.

Curry Adds Zip to Fish Fillets

One of the most popular ways of making a gourmet dish from an inexpensive, everyday food is to curry it, and this recipe for Curried Fish Fillets is no exception.

It is a delectable use for the boneless pieces of fish found in convenient packages of ocean perch, cod, haddock, sole and all the rest of the filleted fish which is so easily available in frozen form.

And to make this dish still more interesting, the recipe directions suggest that you serve the curried fish with shell macaroni.

Curried Fish Fillets

2 packages frozen fish fillets
¼ pound butter or margarine (½ cup)
2 cloves garlic, finely minced
¾ cup flour
2 tablespoons curry powder
2 tablespoons vinegar
5 cups milk*
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
3 chicken bouillon cubes
2 teaspoons salt

*If desired, substitute one-half cup sherry for one-half cup of the milk. This gives the sauce an added fillip.

Thaw fish on refrigerator shelf. Cut fish into bite-size cubes. Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter or margarine in a skillet, add fish and garlic, and cook, stirring frequently, about 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork.

Melt remaining butter or margarine in a large saucepan. Remove from heat and stir in flour and curry powder until well mixed. Add vinegar and milk and mix until smooth. Add ginger, nutmeg, cayenne pepper, bouillon cubes and salt.

Cook, stirring constantly until thickened, about two to five minutes. Add fish fillets, being careful not to break up fish too much. Serve in dish with shell macaroni garnished with parsley. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

CURRIED FISH FILLETS—Lovers of things curried will be pleased with this gourmet dish of curried fish. It's an interesting way to dress up everyday fillets. Serve with shell macaroni and garnish with parsley for color contrast. With it serve a tossed salad.

Add Corn to Pancakes

Add uncooked corn kernels to your favorite pancake recipe. Shape into small cakes and fry as usual. Wonderful with sausages for a leisurely breakfast!

Use French Dressing to Marinate Seafood

Using seafood for a salad? Marinate it first in a well-seasoned French dressing. At serving time, drain off any of the dressing in the bowl and mix the seafood with diced celery, green pepper and mayonnaise.

Surround the seafood with salad greens and garnish with paprika and capers. Or use sliced hard-cooked egg and gherkins for the garnish.

Use vinegar to remove fruit stains from your hands.

Quick Orange Cake Has Extra Flavor

Extra flavor when you use cake mix this way!

Quick Orange Cake

1 package yellow cake mix
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1 egg yolk
1½ teaspoons grated orange rind
3 tablespoons orange juice

Prepare cake mix according to package directions, adding one tablespoon grated orange rind; bake in two 8-inch layer pans. Turn out on rack and cool.

Blend butter and confectioners' sugar; beat in egg yolk and 1½ teaspoons grated orange rind. Beat in orange juice gradually until of good spreading consistency.

Use a little more orange juice if necessary. Use to fill and frost cake.

Sweeten whipped cream with molasses and spice it with cinnamon and nutmeg; serve with pudding or cake.

Baked Beef Heart Offers Both Flavor and Nutrition

There's a lot of good eating in a tender-cooked beef heart, not only from the standpoint of taste and flavor, but also from nutrition in the form of vitamins and minerals.

A beef heart, which is lean muscle meat, weighs about 3½ pounds and yields 12 to 16 servings—enough for one hot meal and several servings of sandwiches.

For a savory beef heart dish, serve it stuffed and baked. To prepare, wash a large beef heart, then remove veins, arteries and any hard parts.

Blend 3 cups of bread crumbs with 3 tablespoons melted fat, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1½ teaspoons salt, one-half teaspoon each marjoram and pepper, 1 slightly beaten egg, 1 small minced onion, and one-half cup finely chopped celery.

Stuff the heart cavity loosely and fasten opening with skewers. Roll in seasoned flour and brown quickly in hot lard.

Place in casserole; add small amount of water to pan in which meat was browned, heat and pour over heart.

Cover casserole and bake in a 350 oven 2½ to 3 hours, or until meat is tender. Thicken drippings for gravy and serve with heart.

Cut heart in crosswise slices to serve.

Try Butternut Squash for Eating Pleasure

Have you tried Butternut Squas..? After you remove the seeds and stringy portion from the inside of the squash, and you peel it, cut it into small pieces.

Simmer in a small amount of lightly salted water, then drain. Mash it with butter, salt and lots of freshly ground pepper.

Corn syrup and canned whole cranberry sauce make a good glaze for ham.

Use Vegetable Liquid

Use the liquid from canned vegetables in soups. You can save vitamins and minerals that dissolved in the liquid when the vegetables were cooked and canned.

Serve Tidbits of Fried Liver

Here's an entirely new and different way to serve liver. With great supplies of beef liver on the market at low prices, this recipe for French-Fried Liver Twists is a timely one.

The recipe calls for dipping the prepared liver strips into seasoned cornmeal. You may use flour, but the cornmeal coating gives a coarse texture in contrast with the cooked liver.

Coat the strips ahead of time and store in the refrigerator until time to prepare.

French Fried Liver Twists

Cut one-half-inch-wide slices of beef liver into strips about 1-inch long. Dip in seasoned cornmeal or seasoned flour. This may be done ahead of time and the prepared liver stored in the refrigerator until time to fry.

Fry in hot shortening (350 degrees) about one minute. Keep strips separated and do not overload the fry kettle. The temperature of the fat should remain between 325 to 350 degrees so the liver cooks and browns uniformly. Do not overcook.

Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot with dunking sauces, such as commerically prepared sour cream mixed with chives, or a mixture of prepared mustard and catsup or an onion-sharp thick barbecue sauce.

Makes about four to six servings per pound.

FRENCH-FRIED LIVER — French-Fried Liver Twists served with dunking sauces are a new, thrifty, tasty appetizer. Sour cream or a barbecue sauce is a good choice for the dunking. Serve these before a dinner party while you're waiting for the last guests to arrive.

Serve Oysters This New Way for Taste Treat

Time to talk about oysters—not that there's been any reason not to, during these past summer months. There's really no basis to the belief that oysters should be avoided in the "R"-less months. However, the fact remains that oysters are tastier when fished from the cold waters of fall, winter and spring.

Anyway, we are glad to welcome the oyster back on our menus with old favorites: In stews and scalloped dishes, on the half shell, in the baked dishes Rockefeller and Casino, and so on.

Let's add a new one to our recipe repertory—the Oyster Pan Roast, so popular with patrons of New York's Oyster Bar.

Oyster Pan Roast

16 oysters, shucked
½ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon flour
½ cup chili sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Few drops Tabasco
½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon salt
1 pint light cream (or half cream and half milk)
6 slices bread

Drain the oysters. Heat one-fourth cup of butter in a saucepan. Add the oysters and heat until the edges curl. Remove from heat. In another saucepan, melt the remaining butter. Remove from heat and blend in the flour.

Return to heat and add chili sauce and seasonings. Cook, stirring gently, until sauce is well blended and slightly thickened. Blend in cream and cook just until heated.

Meanwhile toast the bread, trim the crusts and cut in half diagonally. Place three triangles in each of four large soup plates and distribute the oysters and sauce over the toast. Makes four servings.

For Perfect Brunch

Here's the perfect brunch time treat. For each serving, place two pork sausage links side-by-side and wrap with a slice of "boiled" ham. Fasten rolls with wooden picks.

Place each roll on a pineapple ring on a rack in an open roasting pan. Cook in a moderate oven, 350, 30 to 40 minutes or until ham is lightly browned and sausage is cooked.

Blend Lemon, Grape Flavors

Here's a cool dessert your family will love; light, refreshing, and particularly right to serve after a heavy meal. Its tang is in the flavor of lemonade and grape juice — two fruit juices that, good as they are by themselves, combine into something really special.

* * *

Best of all, this is an easy dessert — one you can make in the morning and chill in the refrigerator until serving time.

Frozen lemonade, of course,,, is pure lemon juice already frozen with sugar, and it gives delightful flavor to this recipe. Here it is:

Lemonade-Grape Dessert

1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade
¾ cup grape juice
2 tablespoons cornstarch
4 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt

Dissolve the cornstarch in one-fourth cup of the grape juice. Combine concentrate for lemonade with remaining grape juice in small saucepan, and bring to a boil. Add sugar and salt. Stir in the dissolved cornstarch.

Continue to stir until the pudding thickens. Pour into molds, sherbet dishes, or a small, shallow bowl. Dust the top lightly with granulated sugar. Chill well. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

Crumbled Bacon Adds Appeal to Many Dishes

Double the amount of that breakfast bacon you panfry, broil or bake, and use the crumbled leftovers in one or more of these:

Add to muffin batter just before pouring into baking cups.

Toss with crisp salad greens; dress with oil and vinegar.

Use as seasoner for fresh-cooked green vegetables—beans, peas, chopped spinach.

Use as a topping for casseroled macaroni and cheese.

To Vary Tossed Salad

Vary a tossed green salad by adding one of the following along with olive oil, wine vinegar, salt and pepper: Grated Parmesan cheese, grated lemon rind, minced parsley, paper-thin onion rings, crumbled blue cheese, strips of green pepper.

Frozen Chicken Recipes Guarantee Royal Results

Your favorite part of the chicken is packaged, frozen and waiting. Thighs, breasts, wings, drumsticks, and whole frying chickens are now available in grocers' freezer cabinets.

It's nice to know that each package contains carefully selected, tender chicken, government-inspected and quick-frozen.

These tested recipes bring royal results.

Chicken Parisienne

1 package (1-pound size) frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks or wings
Flour (seasoned)
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed onion soup

Thaw chicken as directed on package; dust with flour; brown well in butter in skillet. Add soup; cover and cook over low heat about one hour.

Remove chicken; cook sauce a few minutes longer to thicken, if desired. Three to four servings.

Chicken With Almonds

1 package (1-pound size) frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks, or wings
2 egg whites
½ cup finely chopped almonds
Flour (seasoned)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Thaw chicken as directed on package. Dip pieces in slightly beaten egg whites; roll pieces in almonds, then dust with flour.

Brown well in butter in skillet. Cover and cook in moderate oven (350 degrees) about one hour or until chicken is done. Three to four servings.

Chicken in a Basket

1 package (1-pound) size frozen chicken thighs, breasts, drumsticks, or wings
½ cup flour (seasoned)
Fat for frying

Thaw chicken as directed on package. Roll chicken in flour. Heat one-half inch melted fat in large skillet until drop of water in oil sizzles.

Fry chicken, turning to brown evenly. Fry slowly about 45 minutes or until tender. Serve in baskets (could be plastic berry baskets).

* * *

Variations: Add any of the following seasonings to your flour mixture: 1 teaspoon paprika, sage, thyme, or rosemary.

For a still different flavor substitute 1½ teaspoons celery salt in place of regular salt.

Children Will Love Banana Tuna Salad

If your youngsters come home to lunch, they will enjoy a nourishing Banana Tuna Salad and you will enjoy its ease of preparation.

Bananas go so well with a great variety of foods that you can include this favorite fruit of youngsters in main dishes, desserts, breakfasts, lunchbox treats, and snacks, without the youngsters minding one bit.

In fact, mothers of young children are well aware that bananas are an essential in the family fruit bowl, because the children find them such fun.

Banana Tuna Salad

1 cup diced ripe bananas (2 to 3 bananas)
½ cup diced pineapple, canned or fresh
1½ cups flaked tunafish
½ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons finely chopped pickles
1½ teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
Salad greens

Use fully ripe bananas — yellow peel flecked with brown.

Combine bananas and pineapple. Add tunafish, celery, pickles and salt. Add mustard and mayonnaise. Mix lightly. Serve on a crisp lettuce cup or with other salad greens. Makes four to six servings.

Deviled Baked Eggs Beat the Fall Chill

With the days getting cooler, you'll be looking for hearty luncheon ideas for your family.

One suggestion is Deviled Baked Eggs—it's a good hot dish for an autumn meal. Here is the recipe:

Deviled Baked Eggs

6 hard cooked eggs
1 cup medium white sauce
1 can deviled ham
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced onion
Salt, pepper
Buttered crumbs

Cut eggs in half and place in a greased baking dish. To white sauce add deviled ham, parsley, onion, salt and pepper to taste and pour over eggs.

Sprinkle crumbs over the top and bake at 375 for 20 minutes.

To give enticing flavor to cooked carrots: Melted butter and a dash of nutmeg.

Stock Up on Macaroni for Hurry-Up Suppers

Prepare yourself for meals "on the fly" by putting in a supply of macaroni with cheese sauce; half a dozen cans or so. One sure-pleaser way to cook the macaroni is this:

Cube cooked ham or luncheon meat so you have about 1 cup; brown this in butter in a skillet. Pour in the 2 cans of macaroni in cheese sauce. Then stir in 1½ cups of cooked, whole kernel corn (the canned kind with bits of pepper is ideal).

Let this heat to bubbly lusciousness. Help yourself to the macaroni and a bowl of lettuce-tomato salad. Enough to satisfy four.

Canape Rates High

One of the best of the canape family is a toasted bread stick covered with peanut butter and crisp bacon, with whole salted peanuts to put on top.

Casserole Cornbread and Baked Ham Are Good Buffet Supper Companions

Casserole Cornbread: Good companion for baked ham when you are giving a buffet supper.

Add a big salad—of cooked or raw vegetables, or a combination of the two—and watermelon pickle and you can be sure your guests will fare well.

The cornbread is firmer than traditional Southern spoon bread, but it should be served with a big spoon rather than cut with a knife.

Be sure to have lots of pats of good butter (lighted salted or sweet) to go with it.

This Casserole Cornbread is a recipe we had noted many times but had not tried until recently; the cheese variation makes it doubly useful.

One word of reassurance to remember when you try it: Don't worry if the stiffly beaten egg white doesn't combine perfectly with the thin batter. The little blobs of white will be taken care of in the baking.

Casserole Cornbread

2 cups enriched yellow cornmeal
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
¼ cup butter or margarine (soft)
1½ cups milk
3 eggs (separated)

Stir cornmeal and salt together in mixing bowl. Add boiling water and mix until smooth and free from lumps; stir in the butter until combined. Add milk; beat with spoon until smooth.

Beat egg yolks until they begin to get thick; stir into cornmeal mixture. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff; fold into cornmeal mixture.

Pour into greased 2-quart baking dish. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven about one hour or until puffed and browned. Serve at once.

Variation: Stir in 1 cup grated cheddar cheese and 2 tablespoons finely diced pimiento with the beaten egg yolks. Makes 6ox to eight servings.

Baked ham is not the only accompaniment for Casserole Cornbread. Here are other suggestions:

For brunch — Serve the cornbread with crisp bacon and apple rings. To prepare the fruit, core apples but do not peel. Slice into about ¼-inch thick rings.

Cook in a little butter or margarine in a large skillet, one layer at a time; sprinkle with brown sugar. Turn rings to cook evenly on both sides.

Skillet may be covered through part of the cooking time to help make apples tender. But watch! they should not get mushy.

For lunch — When there's a ladies' party at noon, serve Casserole Cornbread with creamed chicken and green peas.

Add cranberry sauce so its garnet color will make the plates look pretty. The bread is good, too, with fried chicken and gravy.

Automobile Provides Beverage Cup Holder

The practice of carrying Thermos jugs of refreshing drinks on a family motor trip has become so common that one automobile manufacturer has incorporated a special facility for beverage cups in its car.

* * *

The door of the glove compartment can be lowered to provide a convenient shelf and it is fitted with two recessed wells which will hold paper cups steady.

Cheese Cracker Glorifies Eggs

Deviled eggs, all-American favorites, for every occasion, are appearing this season in a new full-dress version with a fresh cheese - accented flavor. Called "Gourmet Deviled Eggs," these made-in-a-jiffy treats for picnics, luncheons or dinners, are prepared with finely crushed inch-square cheese crackers, mayonnaise and seasonings.

Used both as an ingredient and a decorative "frosting" for the eggs, the rich tangy cheese crackers add both appetite interest and eye appeal to these brand-new "deviled eggs with a difference." Follow this easy recipe for making them:

Gourmet Deviled Eggs

6 chilled hard cooked eggs
½ cup finely crushed cheese crackers
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Slice eggs in half lengthwise and remove yolks. Press yolks through a fine sieve into a bowl. Add ¼ cup each of the crushed inch-square cheese cracker crumbs and the mayonnaise; also add mustard, parsley, salt and pepper. Blend well. Refill centers of egg whites with the yolk-crumb mixture. Press the 2 filled halves of each egg together. Dip 1 end of each stuffed egg into remaining mayonnaise, then into remaining cheese cracker crumbs, to make golden cheese-flavored "frosting" halfway up outside of each egg. Garnish each with tiny sprig of parsley. Makes 6 Gourmet Deviled Eggs. Serve with potato chips, cold sliced tomatoes and asparagus or other vegetable, and choice of crispy saltines and round buttery crackers.

Note: To make the cheese cracker crumbs, place whole cheese crackers on a sheet of waxed paper and roll firmly with rolling pin until finely crushed crumbs result.

Serve These Tangy Dips With Crisp Potato Chips

Entertaining picks up again now that fall is here. So how would you like a few of our recipes for dips?

Use fresh, crisp potato chips with them. Place chips in a large bowl and in smaller bowls have two or three dips on the same tray. Makes pleasant before-dinner snacking.

Chip Dip With Almonds, Bacon

¼ cup roasted almonds
2 strips bacon, cooked crisp
1 cup sharp soft Cheddar type cheese
1 tablespoon chopped green onion
½ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Chop almonds fine. Crumble bacon. Combine all ingredients and chill before serving. Makes 1¾ cups dip.

* * *

Teaser Chip Dip

½ cup chopped bologna
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
¾ cup chopped ripe olives
3 tablespoons chopped sour pickles
Mayonnaise
Few drops Tabasco sauce

Chop first four ingredients very fine. Add enough mayonnaise (about one-half cup) to give good spreading consistency. Chill before serving. Makes about 1¾ cups dip.

* * *

Chip Dip With Minced Clams

1 cup creamed cottage cheese
1 clove garlic
½ cup minced clams
1 tablespoon clam broth
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon aromatic bitters
Chives or green onion tops

Put garlic through press or chop very fine. There should be about one-half teaspoonful. Mash cottage cheese with fork. Chop clams very fine.

Combine all ingredients. Pour into serving bowl and garnish with chives or rings cut from green onion tops. Chill well. Makes 1½

Davy Crockett Lunch Appeals to Pre-Schooler

Why not have a surprise "Davy Crockett" luncheon for your pre-schooler? Serve favorite foods and brighten the event with an inexpensive surprise toy.

Not only will it make the day happy, but when the school news is bursting out in evening conversation, our young stay-at-home will have some news of his own to tell.

Davy Crockett Luncheon

Cream of Pea or Tomato Soup
Frankfurter-Cheesewich Potato Chips
Celery and Carrot Sticks
Fruited Custard Lemon-grapeade

Since the beverage is to be a fruit juice, be sure to thin the condensed soup with milk. The custard and cheese will add more of the milk nutrients.

Split a canned frankfurter and insert a strip of cheese in it. Heat in a small steamer.

Sweeten a can or jar of baby's strained applesauce with brown sugar and add two maraschino cherries cut in fourths. Serve under or over a cup custard. Decorate with a stemmed maraschino cherry.

Peaches and Almonds Are Dessert 'Naturals'

Peaches and almonds are "naturals" for a year-round dessert. Cook 4 cups milk, one-half teaspoon salt and 1 cup uncooked white rice in a covered saucepan over a low heat until most of the milk is absorbed and the rice is tender. Stir several times during the cooking. Allow to cool slightly.

Stir in 16 marshmallows cut in half. The marshmallows should not melt entirely. If they do, wait to add the others. Stir in 2 cups peach slices. Serve warm or cold topped with slivered toasted almonds.

Sauerkraut, Peas Are Tasty Mixture

You probably never thought of combining sauerkraut and peas. Well, in Pennsylvania they do just that and the result is good.

Sauerkraut and Peas

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup minced onion
1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut
1 cup cooked peas of one 8½-ounce can peas
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

In a heavy skillet, melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add onion and cook five minutes. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well.

Cook mixture over low heat 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve immediately. Makes four to six servings.

Broil Ham, Peaches for the Main Course

Broiler main course: Squares of cooked ham or luncheon meat are put on skewers and broiled along with drained canned peaches.

Both ham and peaches are basted with a sauce made by simmering a cup of the peach syrup with a couple of tablespoons of lime or lemon juice and a dash of nutmeg.

Include diced fresh prunes in Waldorf salad along with the chopped apples, celery, walnuts and dressing. Or use instead of the apples.

THE BERRYS by Carl Grubert

Observatory Will Publish Section of Universe Atlas

WASHINGTON—The first section of a giant atlas of the universe, fatherest-reaching map ever attempted, is being published from Palomar Observatory after almost seven years' work, the National Geographic Society and California Institute of Technology announced recently.

Observatories around the world are being sent the first 200 photo sky charts, revealing millions of new stars, galaxies, and systems of galaxies far out in space.

The total atlas, expected to help solve many mysteries of the universe, will comprise 1,758 photomaps when finished in 1956. Price per copy, covering only printing costs, is $2,000.

Many of the space regions photographed in detail by Palomar's 48-inch Big Schmidt telescope have never been seen before my astronomers.

Far beyond in outer space there are galaxies similar to the Milky Way. Sometimes they group into clusters. Whereas only a scant three dozen such clusters were known before the Sky Survey, now more than a thousand have been found. They may point to a new general law of nature governing the organization of matter in the universe.

Years of study by astronomers will bring many discoveries. Dr. Lee DuBridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, predicts the new atlas will be "an astronomical bible for 100 years."

SKY SURVEY GUIDE

Work with other telescopes, such as Palomar's 200-inch Hale, will use the Sky Survey as a guide. This is the primary purpose of the atlas, to be a treasure chart showing astronomers where to dig for discoveries.

By analysis of light from the distant clusters of galaxies discovered on the Survey's photographs, for example, more evidence already is being obtained on the intriguing question of whether the entire universe is expanding, with objects racing outward like fragments from a bomb.

Ages of the stars, and of the universe itself, will someday be better understood because of the new atlas. Already differing "populations" of stars have been recognized and studied by Dr. Walter Baade at Palomar.

Is the universe of uniform structure? Did it have a definite beginning in space and time? Does it extend outward endlessly? Could the sun itself ever blaze out as a nova, burning the planets of the solar system to cinders in a few seconds?

Such are the questions astronomers look to the Sky Atlas to help answer.

Each plate of the sky atlas is 14 inches square. Laid out together, the whole map would be the size of a tennis court.

Priceless original plates now are locked three floors underground in Pasadena. A duplicate set is safely buried beneath the huge dome of the Hale telescope at Palomar.

The National Geographic Society has borne the costs of materials as well as astronomers' salaries, while observing time for the Sky Survey was provided by Palomar Observatory.

Count Your Chickens?

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Mary Barbee, a young telephone operator, had to wait awhile before picking up the new automobile she won in a drawing here. First she had to sign up for driving lessons and get a license.

Starlings to Be Startled Out of Business District

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The local chamber of commerce is going to try to rid downtown buildings of starlings with recordings of starlings in distress, interspersed with recorded rifle shots.

The chamber said last night a pest control firm will beam the recordings at the starlings. If the trick works the chamber will pay the firm $250.

Coal miners arse now given cou es in savety and first aid.

Letters End in Wedding for POW of Red Chinese

ORANGE, Va. (AP) — John W. Thompson knew Carol Reynolds but they had never had a date. When Airman First Class Thompson, became a prisoner of the Red Chinese, though, Carol wrote him a letter. Then more letters were exchanged.

A month after Thompson, American airman released by the Reds, was welcomed home here there were wedding bells for Carol and John.

Dem Top Brass Hold Policy Talk

Stevenson and Rayburn Are Guests at Johnson Home in Texas

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP)—Three of the Democratic party's top men ate breakfast together at Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's Pedernales River ranch here today and probably had a lot to say about politics.

• • •

In addition to Johnson, Senate majority leader, they were Adlai Stevenson, titular head of the national party, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn who hopes to get the South back into the Democratic column in 1956.

They spent the night as Johnson's guest after Stevenson's lecture before a crowd of 5,500 at the University of Texas in Austin last night.

NO POLITICS

Stevenson steered clear of serious politics in his speech, and refused to answer most reporters' questions, saying he had promised not to talk politics before his nonpartisan lecture under auspices of a University of Texas student committee.

Asked if he still intended to wait until November to announce his political plans, Stevenson's reply was "Yes."

• • •

Also asked if he intended to reply to Gov. Allan Shivers' statement that he could not support Stevenson if he is the party's nominee in 1956, Stevenson's reply was "I haven't the faintest idea."

• • •

Stevenson said that freedom would suffer a staggering blow if the uncommitted third of the world turns to communism. He suggested a carefully administered program of economic and technical assistance to nations that need it.

Free-Loading Inmates Exposed by Irked Police

HOLLAND, Mich. (AP) — Pranks by inmates of the Holland city jail have backfired. Prisoners used to have the privilege of reloading practice bullets for the police pistol team.

But twice within a week .38 caliber revolvers blew up in the hands of officers firing at targets. Police traced the trouble to an overload of powder in the shells.

After hearing giggling in a cellblock, the officers decided to reload their own shells hereafter.

Model Jail Made to a 'T'

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—Alberta plans a model jail costing two million dollars a few miles northwest of Calgary, Atty. Gen. Lucien Maynard said hardened criminals and troublemakers would be segregated in the projected T-shaped prison—Alberta's third. Maynard made the announcement to legislators after they toured the Fort Saskatchewan jail, 20 miles northeast of Edmonton, and scene of a recent riot.

U.S. Road Maps Require Great Deal of Revision

NEW YORK — An accurate road map requires much work, taking up to a year for United States areas and usually longer for foreign nations.

Road maps are outdated more quickly than women's fashions. Many must be revised two or three times a year and redone from scratch every five years.

Archaeologists in Greece Find Bronze Age Buildings

ATHENS (INS) — American archaeologists have dug up one of the largest and most impressive buildings of the Early Bronze Age ever to be found in Greece.

Under the direction of Professor John L. Caskey, of the American School of Classical Studies, field workers have now completed the excavations on the site of the "House of Tiles" at Lerna, near Argos, dating back to more than 2000 B. C. Eighty feet in length and forty feet wide, this ancient structure received its name from the thousands of terra-cotta slabs that were found in the ruins.

This gave the first indication to archaeologists that tiles were used for roofing as long ago as 2000 B.C.

It is not known whether the building was used as a palace or temple. Professor Caskey figures it might have been a bit of both. "It's builder," he says, "must have commanded great physical resources and much technical skill."

The ruins of stairways leading from its yellow clay floors show that it must have been at least two stories high, possibly three.

Another unique feature about the ruins of this ancient building is a perfect circle of round stones, sixty feet in diameter, which encloses the central heap of broken tiles and stones.

Caskey considers that the stones were placed there as a mark of fear or veneration. The circle was respected by many succeeding generations who refrained from erecting new buildings over the ruins of the "house of tiles."

The discovery of a large tomb covered by two stone slabs and seemingly intact aroused hopes of finding important clues to the living habits of the ancient Lernans and to the building itself.

But, to his great disappointment, Caskey found the grave had been ransacked. The pebble floor had been disturbed and only a jar and a few small bones with fragments of bronze and lead remained.

Prof. Caskey considers it doubtful that grave-robbers would have deliberately removed the skeletons and replaced the slabs, wedging them in carefully with small stones.

He thinks it more likely that descendants of the dead must have removed the skeletons and taken them elsewhere. History records the Spartans recovering the bones of Orestes and the Athenians those of Theseus.

A clue to the women's fashions of the times came up with a small painted figurine showing a woman wearing a striped skirt and a fancy blouse exposing a wide triangle of bare midriff.

Virginia Tobacco Sent to England in 1613

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. — In 1613 John Rolfe, Pocahontas' husband, sent to England the first shipment of tobacco from the Jamestown colony.

It is believed that Rolfe learned from his Indian-princess wife how to cultivate tobacco.

Virginia tobacco met with immediate favor in England and within one generation was known brought peace between the Indians and the settlers, and agriculture throve. Soon tobacco growing became the chief pursuit of nearly all the English in America.

What Do You Know About Your Heart?

Surgery Is Doing the 'Impossible'

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Sick and hungry human hearts are being transformed to health by a new era of bold, brilliant surgery.

• • •

Surgeons, dreaming of things once considered impossible, went pioneering so that today:

Several different operations can bring renewed life and strength to hearts damaged by attacks such as President Eisenhower suffered.

Heart-lung machines can put human hearts and lungs on complete vacations while they are opened and repaired.

The blood circulation of a sick child and healthy adult can be linked together during surgery.

Spare arteries taken from the dead are banked, then used to replace damaged or missing sections of living persons' arteries. Even animal arteries have been transplanted into humans.

Plastic valves have been substituted for damaged heart valves.

Most of these surgical advances have blossomed within the last 10 years.

There are two main techniques for helping some victims of bad heart attacks. In a coronary thrombosis similar to President Eisenhower's, a clot blocks one or more of the branches of arteries that bring nourishment to the heart muscle. Recovery depends upon expansion and extension of other arteries, or growth of new arteries, to nourish the area deprived of blood supply.

• • •

Bad attacks leave many persons weak, short of breath, subject to pain on exertion, often true heart cripples.

One remedy is to irritate the heart, stimulating the heart muscle to create a new blood supply. Sterile talcum powder or asbestos powder is put inside the sac surrounding the heart. The talcum technique was devised by Dr. Samuel Thompson, New York, and the asbestos treatment by Dr. Claude S. Beck, Cleveland.

Secondly, the heart hungry for blood can, in effect, be given a new artery. Dr. Beck takes a piece of vein from the arm, then hooks in on the heart so some blood being pumped from the heart is fed into the heart muscle.

Dr. Arthur Vineberg of Montreal, Canada, snips an artery that runs down through the chest, swings one end of it over and buries it in a tunnel in the heart muscle. It becomes a third artery feeding the powerhouse of life. In time, he reports, an additional network of little blood vessels appears, distributing the new supply of blood.

Even more dramatic perhaps are heart-lung machines, steadily pulsing blood through the human body, putting oxygen into the blood, while the human pump rests —still pulsing but "dry" of blood.

For 20 to 70 minutes, heart-lung machines have worked on while surgeons plugged holes in the walls separating chambers of the heart, or fixed malformed or diseased valves.

Doctors C. Walton Lillehei, Richard Varco and Morley Cohen and associates, University of Minnesota, achieve a dry heart by connecting the bloodstream of the child patient with that of an adult volunteer—usually a parent. They have done this successfully numerous times.

And at least once, this team used the lung of a dog to oxygenate the blood of a boy during heart surgery. Pumps sent his blood through the lung and back into his body while his own heart rested.

Another technique used by numerous surgical teams is just cold temperature— chilling the human body 20 degrees or more. Bodily processes slow down, the brain's demand for oxygen is lowered, and the heart, its rate slowed down, can be opened for a brief time to make repairs.

Another method, by Dr. Robert E. Gross of Boston, is to use a kind of rubber well to contain the blood while the heart is opened.

For many heart repairs, the heart need not be opened. "Blue baby" operations devised by Dr. Alfred Blalock of Johns Hopkins Hospital, and later techniques by others, straighten out some heart defects without opening up the heart.

• • •

To overcome certain valve trouble in the aorta, the main artery from the heart, Dr. Charles Hufnagel, Georgetown University, finds some patients are greatly benefited when a ball-valve, made of plastic, is put into the aortic arch.

Artery banks are spreading, with arteries preserved either in dried form in deep-freezers or in salt solutions. Artery banks saved the limbs of soldiers in Korea so wounded as to have lost entire sections of arteries or veins.

And there's much experimentation now with artificial arteries made of special fabrics coated with plastic.

A number of excellent surgeons are excited about and interested in another dream—transplanting entire human organs. They could be taken from healthy persons killed in accidents, and replace defective, diseased organs in the living.

• • •

As yet, nature has thrown up roadblocks. The borrowed tissue breaks down in the new body, destroyed perhaps by a kind of allergic reaction. There are some experts who say transplantation will never come. Others say it fails only because not enough is yet known.

If they succeed in finding the answers, the day could come when you could exchange an entire healthy new heart for your tired and ailing one.

Tomorrow: Caring For Your Heart.

Loyal Sunday-Schoolers

WOODRUFF, S. C. (AP) — To keep intact Mrs. P. R. Thompson's 28-year record of perfect attendance at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday school here, her class made a 17-mile trip to meet in her hospital room at Spartanburg. Mrs. Thompson broke an arm the previous day while sweeping her front walk.

American trucks would make up a convoy 24,000 miles long.

Jail Hunger Strike Continues on Coast

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)— Thirty-seven inmates at the state penitentiary passed up their fifth successive meal last night in protest against outmoded quarters and the possibility of punishment for rioting in July and August.

• • •

The men are drinking large quantities of water, apparently to assuage the hunger pangs, and a prison physician is checking them regularly.

• • •

Warden Lawrence Delmore Jr. said when "they come to their senses, I'll talk with them again and they can eat whenever they are ready."

Station Attendant Shoots Robber; Decides to Retire

CHICAGO (AP)—When Edward Szcesny, 21, took a job at a gasoline station last Friday his employer told him he was replacing a man who quit after being robbed.

"I'll take my chances," said Szcesny.

He was on the job five minutes when he was robbed by gunmen.

"We'll see about this," Szcesny said, and got an automatic pistol.

He was held up Tuesday by two gunmen, who took $51. He emptied his pistol at them as they fled. Police yesterday picked up a man who appeared at a hospital for two minor gunshot wounds.

Szcesny quit his job, explaining: "Some of those robbers' friends might come around looking for me."

Gotham Husband Held on Wife-Killing Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—Guillermo Mahais yesterday stabbed his wife with a kitchen knife, then pinned a note on her body which read: "I killed her because she was playing round," police said.

Then Mahais took their infant child to the home of a sister with another note which read: "Take care of the baby. The police will take care of me."

Mahais, 23, turned himself in at a police station.

He was booked on a homicide charge early today.

HE DID IT WITH HOOKS—Using hooks instead of hands, Chokichi Irana finishes his portrait of President Eisenhower in Denver, Colo. Britishers Boast 962 Islands

Vacationers Attracted to Fringe Land Sites, Some Still Old World

LONDON—Great Britain is the earth's eighth largest island. You would expect the British to let it stand at that.

Instead, the major British Isles are fringed with hundreds of smaller ones, some in flocks and coveys and others standing in stark isolation.

While this clutters things up considerably, it works out to the advantage of the vacationist, for some of Britain's best travel attractions lie a little way offshore.

Someone has put the number of British Isles at 962. This figure undoubtedly includes every bit of land surrounded by water large enough to stretch your legs on and above water at high tide.

Not all of Britain's islands are tiny, but none of them is without color. Four of the most important groups, for example, keep alive something of the tongues they spoke before English.

The Channel Islands — Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney, Sark and scores of lesser ones—cling to their Breton dialect.

Just off France, they are the last remnants of William the Conqueror's original French realm.

Good-sized Isle of Man and its tiny satellites lie in the Irish sea in easy reach of England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Eire.

Here the Manx language, a form of Celtic, survives in written form, along with assorted wee folk (a fairy queen's own cup is in the Manx Museum).

Water Won't Dilute Pill

Steaming Whisky Kegs Illegal if You Ignore Tax

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Steaming old barrels to get whisky is illegal, especially if you fail to pay the federal taxes on the liquid obtained.

A federal grand jury returned indictments charging 15 men bought more than 16,000 used whisky barrels, took them to farms in Nelson and Anderson counties and obtained a gallon of whisky from each by steaming.

The conspiracy deprived the government of approximately $168,000 in taxes, the indictment charged.

Italy has signed an agreement to purchase 200,000 bales of surplus cotton from the United States, Rome learns.

Collins Erases 1952 Memories With 2 Homers

Joe Forgets Hitless Series by Pacing NY to Opening Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-year nightmare turned into a golden dream for Joe Collins, the thin, sinewy part-time first baseman of the New York Yankees.

His two mighty home runs sent the Yankees off to a 6-5 opening day victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday and erased some of the harrowing memories of his total "bust" in a similar series in 1952.

• • •

In that series against Brooklyn, Collins went hitless in 12 times at bat and struck out four times in one game with Carl Erskine pitching.

"This sort of lets me off the hook," the 32-year-old veteran, a Yankee hanger-on in recent years, sighed today. "It's a wonderful feeling."

• • •

The outstanding individual play of the first game was this raw-boned son of a Polish immigrant reared in the hard coal regions of Scranton, Pa., and a ball player for the last 16 years.

"I'm a glove man," says Collins, pointing to five gloves, including four first baseman's mitts occupying the top shelf in his locker.

His batting average in four World Series is .148. In two he went hitless. For the 1955 season he batted .234.

• • •

"He has a bad foot and the middle of the month he pulled a muscle in his left thigh but I couldn't bench him because we were going so good," the gravel-voiced Yankee pilot said.

• • •

Stengel said in one of the finishing games at Washington, when the Yankees were attempting to nail down the pennant, he started to take Collins out of a game. But then, noticing three good Washington hitters coming to bat, he changed his mind and kept Collins in "for defensive purposes."

• • •

"Then Joe hit a triple that helped us win the game," Casey added. "I was a hero but I got in through the side door."

Casey proved the same sort of hero yesterday in using Collins against big, right-handed Don Newcombe. Under his two-platoon system, Stengel uses Bill Skowron against lefties.

"I may still substitute for Collins against left-handers," Stengel said. "But I've got confidence in Joe. He can hit good pitchers."

Police Worry About Traffic to M-MSU Tilt

ANN ARBOR — Police here are worried about the impending avalanche of traffic slated to come their way Saturday when Michigan meets Michigan State in the sell-out game in Michigan stadium.

They're hoping that most traffic from the West and North gets started early. The reason: rain has delayed the completing of the new Whitmore Lake bridge.

Athletic director Fritz Crisler expects to build his plush press box in Michigan stadium and have it ready for next season. It will boost the capacity of the stadium to an even 100,000 by raising the press box to make room for more spectator seats.

With the Missouri game already under its belt and the Michigan State game sold out, Michigan is assured of a minimum attendance of 417,000 at home this season.

Double Out in 4th, Key Play

NEW YORK (AP)—What was the decisive factor in the first game of the 1955 World Series—the three Yankee home runs? The pitching of Whitey Ford and the relief work of Bob Grim?

It was none of these, in the opinion of Carl Furillo of the beaten Brooklyn Dodgers, and a great many baseball men such as Manager Casey Stengle of the Yankees, sided with him.

• • •

"The turning point was that double play that Billy Martin started in the fourth inning," said Furillo. "It looked as if we had Ford on the run and then boom . . ."

The score was tied at 3-3 and home runs by Furillo and Duke Snider as well as a booming triple by Jackie Robinson had perhaps unsteadied Ford a bit. Then in the fourth Don Zimmer drew a base on balls, and Don Newcombe forced him. But Junior Gilliam worked Ford for another walk and the Yankee dugout began to stir.

Up came the always dangerous Pee Wee Reese. He cracked a sharp grounder deep to Martin, and the peppery Yankee second baseman made a clean stop and a fast throw to Phil Rizzuto. Despite Gilliam's hard slide into second Rizzuto's peg reached first ahead of Reese.

The New York Yankees went on to win 6-5 over the Brooklyn Dodgers, and gain a jump that has proved vital in the series nearly two times out of three. The team that won the opener has won the series 32 times and lost it 19.

• • •

To baseball men this sparking double play at the precise moment it was needed was all important. It overshadowed the five home runs and Jackie Robinson's spectacular steal of home in the eighth.

The game started on a booming note. Furillo opened the second inning for the Dodgers with a homer into the right field stands. After Gil Hodges grounded out, Robinson blasted a triple to deep center, and Don Zimmer singled him home.

• • •

The Yankees retaliated quickly in the bottom of the second. Joe Collins drew a base on balls from Don Newcombe, who had plenty of stuff but, according to Manager Walter Alston, was lacking in his usual control. Elston Howard promptly hit the second homer of the game—this one into the left field stands. This tied things at 2-2.

• • •

In the top of the third Duke Snider hit the game's third homer, a towering blast into the upper deck of right field. Again the Yankees drew even in their half, with a base on balls to Whitey Ford, followed by Hank Bauer's single to left, and grounders by Gil McDougald and Irv Noren, the latter scoring Ford.

This set the stage for the fourth inning double play that, in a sense,

KEY TRIO IN WIN — Pitcher Whitey Ford is flanked by Joe Collins, left, and Elston Howard as they pose in New York Yankees' dressing room after 6-5 win over Brooklyn in opening series game Wednesday. Ford, aided by reliefer Bob Grim, got credit for the win as Collins tagged two homers and Howard hit one.

Younger, Wearing Plaster Cast, Sidelined 3 Weeks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A plaster cast has been placed on the right wrist of Tank Younger, Los Angeles Rams' fullback, and the big fellow will be on the sidelines three weeks or a month.

Team physicians who snapped Younger's dislocated wrist back into position said yesterday the injury, sustained in the game against the San Francisco '49ers last Sunday, was more serious than first believed.

Coach Sid Gillman was reconciled to going without the fullback in next Sunday's home opener against the Pittsburgh Steelers, but he had been counting on him for the battle against the Detroit Lions the following week in Detroit. Dan Towler will have to carry most of the fullback load until Younger returns.

Gillman said that Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch, veteran end who ended his retirement last week, will play against Pittsburgh, although Ron Waller will open at the flanker back spot. Hirsch will relieve him as the occasion demands.

Campy and Martin Feuding 'n' Fussing and Plenty of Games Left for Match

NEW YORK (AP)—A bitter feud is developing between Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella and New York second baseman Bily Martin today and it wouldn't surprise anyone to see them come up swinging. The next time they come in contact.

It all started when Martin proclaimed a couple of days ago that Campy was gun shy—that is, he fell back on contact plays. Campanella laughed that one off, but when Martin tried to steal home in the Yanks opening 6-5 victory yesterday, the Brook catcher really got annoyed.

• • •

"Anytime that shrimp thinks he's going to run over me, little as he is, I'll break every bone in his body," growled the usually amiable Campy. "Just let him take two steps toward me and I'll take care of him. He's been too smart for too long."

When Martin came out of the dust after being tagged out, he made a threatening gesture toward Campanella, but Roy was on his way to the dugout by then, so it didn't mean anything.

• • •

"If it had been a regular-season game instead of a World Series, I'd have punched him in the nose," snarled the scrappy Martin. "That was the second time he hit me in the neck with a tag." I'd be tough too if I had all that catcher's protection.

Martin was referring to an incident in the '53 series when he ran into Campy, only to be tagged out.

Appraised of Martin's remarks, Campanella grunted:

"I missed tagging him where I wanted to by about three inches. I'd like to have tagged him in the teeth."

• • •

Brook third baseman Jackie Robinson and Yank catcher Yogi Berra also failed to see eye-to-eye. Robbie stole home in the eighth and Berra complained long and loud. He thought he had put the ball on Robbie before the Dodger veteran touched the plate.

"Anyway," said Yogi, "It was strictly showboat strategy, stealing home when you're two runs behind like that. It was a bad play."

"The only thing bad about it," snapped Robinson, "is that he didn't get me. Let Yogi play his type of game and I'll play mine."

Reese Still Sees Victory Despite Yesterday's Loss

By PEE WEE REESE
(Special to Pontiac Press)

NEW YORK—All right—we lost that first one. But there was no depression in the clubhouse after the game. You don't like to lose by any score, but this 6-5 loss means exactly one ball game—not the World Series. Naturally, we didn't feel like throwing a celebration, but nobody is down and we all feel we are going to win the series.

The difference was Joe Collins and those two homers, but the real turning point was Elston Howard's game-tying two-run homer—and on his 1st time at bat in a series too.

And the Yankees' defense was fine in the clutch. They really stole a couple of good hits. I've seen big Newk sharper than he was yesterday. His fast ball was right only part of the time and it didn't always go just where he wanted it; but he'll be back and I believe he'll win his next start.

Tuesday I suggested you watch Duke and Campy, and the day before I felt Robby was likely to break loose. Never was a better steal home than he pulled in the 8th and the Yankees will have a lot more trouble with him before the series ends.

Duke's long homer was part of what I expected, so today keep your eye on him and Campy and Gil Hodges. Things are going to happen.

Watch Carl Furillo too. When a guy hits three for four—one of them as long as his 2nd inning homer, it makes you think a little sinus may be good for hitters.

We lost this one, but it's just one. The whole team still expects to win in five or six.

Whitey Ford's Success Against Dodgers Dictates Stengel's Choice of a 'Lefty'

NEW YORK (AP)—Dreary indeed was the Brooklyn outlook today as the Dodgers, striving to win their first world championship, again came to grips with their nemesis New York Yankees in the second game of the 1955 World Series.

• • •

Downed in yesterday's opener by a lefthander, the kind they've blasted all over the National League during the regular season, the Dodgers were to be served the same southpaw dose today. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, encouraged by lefty Whitey Ford's victory despite an admittedly mediocre pitching performance, came right back with another lefthander in Tommy Byrne.

Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers was shaken somewhat by the Yankees' savage home run barrage—their trademark in the annual fall baseball classic—that blasted his ace righthander, Don Newcombe, off the hill and powered them to a 6-5 victory. The sophomore skipper, however, decided to entrust Billy Loes, another righthander, with the "get even" assignment.

• • •

Byrne, who only once before has pitched in a series, made a fine comeback this year at the ripe old age of 35. He won 16 and lost five, pitching three shutouts. Loes, plagued by a sore arm on and off all season, wound up with only a 10-4 record. He has pitched in three previous series games, winning one and losing one, both against the Yankees.

The weatherman, who came through in fine style yesterday after scaring the folks with a wet prediction, promised a perfect baseball day—fair and sunny with temperature ranging from the high 60's to the 70's and gentle westerly winds.

• • •

With one game in the bag, the odds went up on the Yankees to make it six straight series victories over the Dodgers. The American League champions are now 9-5 to take all the marbles and 6-5 to take today's game despite the continued absence of their big power guy, Mickey Mantle, from the starting lineup.

Yesterday's 63,869 cash customers saw a whale of a game that featured the usual Yankee superiority and Dodger jinx. As in a majority of their previous clashes, it was home run power—the hallmark of the Yankees for three and a half decades — that bludgeoned the Dodgers to their seventh opening game defeat in eight World Series.

Five home runs were blasted by both sides, one short of the record for one game. Three of them were hit by the Yankees, two by first baseman Joe Collins and one by left fielder Elston Howard. The pair of part-time performers drove in all but one of the Yankee runs.

• • •

Newcombe, Brookyn's pride and only 20-game winner, was the victim of all New York's homers and runs.

• • •

Ford was the winner, but he was no ball of fire either. The compact little 18-game winner was tagged for 9 of Brooklyn's 10 safeties, including home runs by Carl Furillo and Duke Snider. He also issued four passes but was good enough when he had to be except in the eighth inning when the Dodgers struck back for two runs to cut the Yankees' lead to one run.

• • •

The last Brooklyn run was an electrifying steal home by Jackie Robinson that ignited the only real argument of the afternoon. Yankee catcher Yogi Berra argued Plate Umpire Bill Summer's decision, insisting he had tagged Robinson but the American League umpire stood firm.

• • •

Two innings earlier, Billy Martin tried to swipe home but Summers called him out as catcher Roy Campanella took relief pitcher Don Bessent's low pitch and dived atop the sliding runner. Martin and Campanella tangled angrily for a couple of seconds before Martin wrestled himself free from the bruising backstop. Back in the 1953 series, Martin had rammed into Campanella on his way to the plate and was sent reeling by a hard tag on the side of the head.

• • •

The turning point of the game came in the fourth inning. With two on and one out, Martin made a dazzling stop of Pee Wee Reese's wicked smash to his left and turned it into a double play.

Ford, who now has a 2-1 series record, retired the side in order in the sixth and seventh but after weathering a storm in the eighth, was removed by Stengel.

• • •

Bob Grim, who has become the Yankees' No. 1 reliever during the past two weeks, sealed the victory with a scoreless ninth. He gave up the final Dodger hit but fanned Furillo, who had gotten three hits off Ford, for the final out.

WELCOME HOME — Yankees' first baseman Joe Collins scores on his sixth inning home run against Brooklyn in Wednesday's World Series game. Greeting Joe on his second homer of the game is Yogi Berra, who also scored on the blow. The umpire is Bill Summers.

Monkeyshines Prove Competition's Fierce

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A businessman, long at odds with a competitor, turned up at the police station with this complaint:

"It's the limit. You know the kind of things he's been doing all along. Well, it's gone too far now. He's gone and bought a monkey.

"He shaved the monkey's head to make it look like mine. And now he's dressing that monkey to make him look like me!"

The police decided there was nothing they could do about such monkeyshines.

Lean Bill Rigney's Swan Song a Terrific One as He Jumps Into New York Giant Leadership

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Lean Bill Rigney turned over his glossy credentials to the New York Giants today, a Little World Series championship that climaxed one of the finest managerial jobs of the season.

• • •

Named to succeed Leo Durocher as the Giant skipper just five days ago, the 37-year-old Californian last night brought Minneapolis its first junior series title in history in a 9-4 victory over Rochester of the International League. The game was the deciding seventh of the series.

It was a regal sendoff for the former Giant infielder, who returns to the New Yorkers after just two years apprenticeship in the American Assn.

His 1955 record at Minneapolis was letter perfect, a season's championship and a sweep through the playoffs in the face of trials which once threatened to put the Giants' No. 1 farm club on the skids.

• • •

The club was almost torn apart by Giant player recalls early in the season and by a chain of injuries later on. But Rigney glued it together in what Miller General Manager Rosy Ryan called "one of the greatest managerial jobs I've seen."

• • •

Rigney, hard-hitting and alert in the image of his predecessor at New York yet with a personal warmth that held the unrestrained loyalty of his players, passed out the bouquets handsomely.

"The guys never let up, never quit trying. The big man all the way was Al Worthington."

• • •

Worthington, the righthander who won three playoff games and relieved again last night, almost assuredly is ticketed for a starting job with the Giants next year.

But in the series-winner against Rochester, it was the Miller's celebrated wrecking crew that cleaned up. Bob Lennon, Carl Sawatski, Monte Irvin and Don Bollweg all clouted homers, Lennon's coming with two on in the fourth to give Minneapolis a lead it never lost.

Bums May Hear Strange Voices on Mound Today

Yankees' Tommy Byrne Talks to Hitters if Mood Strikes Him

NEW YORK (AP)—If the Brooklyn Dodgers hear strange voices this afternoon, they will be right. It probably will be Tommy Byrne, the New York Yankees' gabby lefthander.

Byrne, enjoying his finest year at 35 likes to talk to the hitters, if he's in the mood.

• • •

Like the time he pitched against Boston and Ted Williams was up. But let him tell his own story.

"I was 2-0 on him, missing with my nickel slider. Then I threw a slider pretty good for a strike. I was afraid to throw it again because I figured he'd harpoon it like he did once when I pitched against him on relief. But I threw it anyway and he took it for a strike.

• • •

"I ask him 'how you hitting Ted?' and he gave me that funny grin. I said, "They all tell me you're hitting .350.' And he grinned again.

• • •

"I told Yogi (Berra) 'let's give him a fast ball.' And you know what Yogi did? Gave me a sign for a fast ball. I don't want to throw any fast ball to Ted but I don't want to let him know I'm lying. So I just outstare Yogi. Finally, I throw the slider again. He starts to go, holds back and it just gets in for a strike."

• • •

That was one time Byrne's conversation won. It doesn't always work.

• • •

"I got Jackie Jensen with a low fast ball one day," he said. "There was nobody on and we're winning 4-0 so I said 'here comes another fast ball,' thinking he'd be looking for the slider. What happens: Jensen hits the fast ball 17 rows back. Next time up, I said 'I don't think I'll tell you this time.' He grounded out."

20-0 Victory Gives Braves 15th Straight Sans Defeat

Em Ghianni's Washington Junior High Braves opened their 1955 football season Wednesday afternoon at Waterford with a decisive 20-0 victory over Waterford Junior High School.

Runaway decision was the 15th consecutive game without defeat for the Braves, who have won three straight Pontiac Junior High League championships. One tie contest mars an otherwise perfect record.

Quarterback Charles Barge, end Wade Jones and halfback Harrison Munson combined forces to score two touchdowns and Jones personally accounted for a 3rd six-pointer in yesterday's non-league tilt against the young Skippers.

Washington's 1st touchdown came in the 1st quarter when Barge passed to Jones who in turn lateralled to Munson, the latter romping to pay-dirt on a play covering 25 yards. The same trio scored the last TD in the 3rd quarter in the same fashion on a 15-yarder.

Jones hung up the Braves' 2nd tally in the 2nd period when he intercepted a stray Waterford aerial and raced 45 yards to score. A line plunge by fullback Willie Pierson and a pass from Barge to end Roy Smith tallied the extra points.

Most sensational play of the game occurred in the 2nd quarter when the speedy Munson dashed 80 yards for a touchdown, only to have his run nullified by a clipping penalty.

League action in the five-team Pontiac Junior High circuit begins Tuesday, Oct. 4.

All games are slated for Wisner at 4 p.m. and each school lists a four-game card.

Schedule follows:

Oct. 4—Eastern at Jefferson.
Oct. 5—Wever at Lincoln.
Oct. 11—Lincoln at Jefferson.
Oct. 12—Washington at Eastern.
Oct. 18—Wever at Eastern.
Oct. 19—Jefferson at Washington.
Oct. 25—Eastern at Lincoln.
Oct. 26—Washington at Wever.
Nov. 1—Jefferson at Wever.
Nov. 2—Lincoln at Washington.

ANN ARBOR — University of Michigan's seven home-game schedule this fall is the 1st time seven contests have been carded for the Wolverine stadium since 1946 when Fritz Crisler's athletes won four, lost two and tied one on the home field.

Ferndale's big Railsplitters come here Friday night for the 3rd straight home football contest of the year for Pontiac's Chiefs. It marks the final "tuneup" test for Coach Ed Graybiel's club, prior to start of the important Saginaw Valley Conference championship race.

Ferndale probably will be as tough as Wyandotte, but Chiefs will be better prepared this time, Graybiel hopes, after chalking up a victory over Waterford last weekend, and getting in a good week's drill, that closed today.

Defensive maneuvers designed to check Railsplitters' aerials have been stressed this week in PHS workouts. The 'Dales are known to boast an effective overhead game. They are also big, and have a set of backs that can run and pass.

Chiefs, assistant Coach Dean Wilson observed this morning, probably will be outweighed all along the line. It'll take a lot of speed and defensive drive to stop the visitors.

Little change has been made in Pontiac's lineups, either on offense or defense.

Two shifts will send Lonnie Humphrey in for Jimmy Shorter at one defensive halfback spot and either Charley Robinson or Bob McDonald at little Kennie Fusilier's spot on the other defensive halfback position. Both Shorter and Fusilier developed bad ankles last night.

Chiefs are confident, their spirit is very good, coaches report, and, they feel sure of a 2nd victory, come Friday night at 8 p.m.

They hope to wipe out remembrance of last year's defeat at Ferndale, 7-6, in the rain and mud. A 90 yard run on a recovered PHS fumble provided that win for Ferndale after Pontiac had dominated the game most of the time.

Closed Circuit TV for Irish

CHICAGO (AP) — Notre Dame will televise three and possibly four football games via closed circuit network in 11 cities this fall.

The video showings will be handled by a chain of hotels, including Notre Dame at Miami (Fla) Friday night, Oct. 7; Navy at Notre Dame Saturday, Oct. 29; and Iowa at Notre Dame Saturday, Nov. 19.

The Notre Dame at Southern California game Saturday Nov. 26 also may be televised on the closed circuit.

Admission price is $4.00 and this ball-room program figures to gross Notre Dame close to $100,000.

The hookup includes Detroit.

World Series Figures

NEW YORK (AP)—Figuring the World Series:

A well-rested Billy Loes will face the Yankees today. The Brooklyn righthander has pitched only nine innings since Sept. 7—six against the Giants and three against the Pirates. He's 1-1 against the Yankees in World Series competition.

• • •

Billy Martin, whose triple kayoed Don Newcombe in the sixth inning, did not hit a three-bagger in 70 trips during the regular season. Billy, who still is on leave from the Army, slammed two triples in the 1953 series.

• • •

Newcombe's gopher ball habits must be an increasing cause for concern to Manager Walter Alston. Don gave up 35 homers to National League batters this year, finishing third to Robin Roberts of the Phils with 41 and Warren Hacker of the Cubs with 38.

• • •

Joe Collins, who blasted both of his homers off Newcombe, apparently likes to hit his four-baggers in pairs. He walloped two against Cleveland Aug. 2 to beat the Indians 2-1 and another two against the White Sox Sept. 9 to give the Yanks a 5-4 victory.

• • •

Yesterday was the eighth time the Yankees beat the Dodgers by one-run in World Series play. They beat the Brooks 3-2 and 2-1 in 1941, 2-1 in 1947, 1-0 and 4-3 in '49, 3-2 in 1952 and 4-3 in 1953.

Today will mark the 98th World Series game played in New York, which far outranks any other city in this department. Chicago is next as the scene of 37 games followed by St. Louis with 29.

Carl Furillo's three hits boosted his series batting average to .293 with 22 safeties in 75 at bats. The Dodgers' right fielder has hit seven doubles and two homers and batted in eight runs in 23 games.

The attendance of 63,869 was almost 6,000 under that of the first game of the 1953 series when 69,374 fans jamed into Yankee Stadium. The series record is 86,288, who saw the fifth game of the 1948 classic in Cleveland.

Double Pays $271.40 at Jackson Last Night

JACKSON (AP) — The daily double paid $271.40 at Jackson Harness Raceway last night.

Oscar Harmer drove Emma Lawrence to win the 1st half of the double and Jim Carriveau won with Son Of Income in the second.

Donnetta Hanover, a home-town trotter driven by Roy Riegle, won the feature race by nosing out Ohio-owned Justification.

Run for Western

A pair of Oakland County area athletes are members of Western Michigan College and Central Michigan College cross-country teams this fall. The two harriers are Dave Harrington of Walled Lake, who runs for Western, and Ron Jones of Royal Oak, a Mt. Pleasant thinclad. Both are freshmen newcomers to their respective squads.

Mike-Eaglet Tiff Possible Showdown

What might easily develop into an early season showdown for 1955 football honors in the Suburban Catholic League is Sunday afternoon's game at Wisner Stadium between St. Mary of Orchard Lake and Pontiac St. Michael.

Impending St. Mary-St. Michael clash overshadows all other SCL contests scheduled this weekend, although the St. Clement-St. Benedict game Sunday at Highland Park ranks a close 2nd. Shamrocks and Eaglets get under way here at 3 p.m.

Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks are unbeaten in two starts, including one league victory over city rival St. Frederick last Sunday, 26-13. The Mikes, tabbed by some to capture loop honors this fall, will be facing a rugged competitor Sunday.

Orchard Lake 11, this year coached by Rev. John Rakoczy, also has one SCL decision to its credit. The Eaglets opened their season last Sunday with an impressive 25-7 win over Ferndale St. James.

Eaglets make no secret of the fact that they are nursing definite title aspirations this season. After last year's 5-2 mark for a 2nd-place finish in the SCL plus the return of four veteran backs and a couple of linemen, the seriousness of their intentions is readily apparent.

North side Mikes are also aiming at the 1955 crown and carry the artillery to do it. Shamrocks showed considerable improvement while downing St. Fred's over their play in the inaugural against Avondale.

Coach Gene Wright's St. Fred team, still trying to reach the victory column for the 1st time since early in 1953, battles Royal Oak St. Mary in an SCL encounter Saturday under the Wisner Stadium lights. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Royal Oak squad is winless in two games, including a 31-0 pasting by SCL foe St. Benedict. St. Frederick's Rams, minus a victory in their last 18 attempts, list a 13-13 tie this season in addition to the defeat by the Mikes.

St. Benedict-St. Clement scrap rates next in importance on Sunday's league calendar. The Clements are defending co-champs while undefeated St. Benedict has impressed thus far. St. Rita meets St. James at Ferndale in Sunday's other league contest.

Van Pelt's Message Aided M's Trouncing of Tigers

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 19-year-old sophomore came off the bench last Saturday to carry a message from Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan to his faltering Wolverines.

Minutes later Michigan stopped the attack of Missouri's Tigers, took to the air and scored the 1st of six touchdowns that trounced Missouri 42-7.

The sophomore Oosterbaan picked to carry his instructions was a 5-foot-11, 180-pounder from Evanston, Ill., named Jim Van Pelt.

Van Pelt is now probably the 2nd string quarterback behind Chicago's Jim Maddock. His hard blocking, poise and his passing arm have won him advancement, even though the Missouri game was his 1st in a Michigan uniform.

"He's got a good attitude and he works himself hard," Oosterbaan said.

"He's a good boy to work with. He listens and he does what you tell him—but he's got poise and he can think things out for himself."

Van Pelt says that he felt "a little scared" when he 1st went in Saturday.

"But fellas like Lou (Baldacci, fullback), Ron (Kramer, end) and Tony (Branoff, right half) helped me an awful lot."

Although his father and grandfather were Michigan grads, Van Pelt says strongly, "The decision to come to Michigan was mine—dad left it up to me and I wanted an education."

A literary school student now, he plans on a degree in business administration and then law school, "not to be a lawyer—I plan eventually to go into business."

One business Van Pelt has learned quickly is football. He was "the most improved player in spring practice," an award won by All-America prospect Kramer the year before.

Michigan worked on pass defense against the reserve squad that ran off plays that Michigan will meet next Saturday when its bitter intrastate rivals, the Spartans of Michigan State, come to Michigan stadium to open the Big Ten season for the Wolverines.

7 NFL Contests on Michigan Net

TV Plans Include Five Away Games of Lions Plus 2 Others

DETROIT (AP)—A six-station television network in Michigan and Ohio will carry seven National Football League games this fall, the Detroit Lions announced today.

The Lions control television rights in the area. The games will include fvie away from home games of the Lions and two other contests. None of the home games of the Lions will be televised within 75 mile radius of Detroit.

The network will include stations in Detroit, Toledo, Lansing, Kalamazoo, Cadillac and Bay City. The Lions said others may be added.

The complete television schedule:

Oct. 1 (night)—Lions at Baltimore; Oct. 23—Lions at Los Angeles; Oct. 30—Lions at San Francisco; Nov. 6—Green Bay at Chicago Bears; Nov. 13—Lions at Pittsburgh; Nov. 27—Cleveland at New York; Dec. 4—Lions at Chicago Bears.

Willie Mays tied a record by hitting nine home runs in Ebbets Field during the 1955 season. In 1954 Milwaukee's Joe Adcock hit nine in Brooklyn.

Babcock Event Draws 5 Teams for 1955 Test

Golf Team Tournament Takes Place Saturday at PCC Layout

Five four-man teams will compete in the annual Babcock golf tournament Saturday at Pontiac Country Club. Winner will be determined by medal play over an 18-hole route.

Pontiac Motors, Bell Telephone, Fisher Body, General Motors Truck and Baldwin Rubber will vie for the rotating trophy awarded to the winning team. American Forge, twice champion of the tourney, will not compete this year.

Outstanding Pontiac area golfers in the event include city medal play champion Ed Wasik and state amateur semi-finalist Mike Andonian.

Shooting for defending titlist Pontiac Motors will be Stan Savage, Jim Hanes, Wayne Beals and Wasik. Bell Telephone lists Ed Novak, Bill Barnett, John Hanam and Sam Gerlack. Fisher Body's team includes Jack Kelley, Ron Rothbarth, Joe Petroff and George Wright.

Representatives for the five teams are Hap Crowley, Bell; Alex Clark, Baldwin; Walter Stolt, Fisher; Cappell, GMC Truck, and Hanes, Pontiac Motors. Alternates are Charlie Oesch for Baldwin, Nick Contor for Pontiac Motors, Joe Adamczyk for GMC Truck, and crowley for Bell Telephone.

Frank Syron, pro and owner of the Pontiac Country Club, annually donates his course for the Babcock tournament.

Saturday's pairings follow:

12:45 p.m.—Savage, Kelley, Cappell and Halverson.
12:52 p.m.—Novak, Hanes, Barker and Rothbarth.
12:59 p.m.—Barnett, Petroff, Andonian and Wasik.
1:06 p.m.—Burgdorf, Hanam, Beals and Wright.
1:13 p.m.—Osta, Murphy, Gerlack and Lampson.

Shaw Is Hired as Head Coach of Air Academy

Marks Step Towards Boosting New School Into Top Ranks

DENVER (AP)—A step toward pulling the U. S. Air Force academy into the ranks of the future football powers was taken with the signing of Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw as head coach yesterday.

Shaw, a 56-year-old veteran of college and professional coaching, was signed to a five-year contract at an undisclosed sum. It takes effect Jan. 1, 1956.

He was named civilian consultant to the academy football staff last summer. This position will be terminated tomorrow and Col. Robert V. Whitlow, athletic director, will double as head coach of the school's 1st team. It plays an eight-game schedule against regional freshman teams this fall.

The academy's football blueprint calls for stepped up varsity competition starting in 1956. It is to culminate in annual games with Army and Navy and the scheduling of major opponents from top conferences across the nation.

Avondale's Gronski Suffers Broken Leg

Avondale Yellowjackets' chances of retaining the Oakland B league crown were greatly dimmed last night when regular left halfback Dick Gronski suffered a broken left leg in a prictice session. Coach Frank Crowell reported that Gronski, a junior in his 3rd year of varsity ball, would be lost to the team for the season. Sven Blomberg is expected to fill the half position in tomorrow's game with Madison.

LINEMAN OF WEEK — Jim Houston, 185-pound 6-1 end for University of Washington's Huskies, today was named lineman of the week by the Associated Press. He helped jolt Minnesota, 30-0, in last week's upset win with some superb playing. He scored two TDs, intercepted a Gopher aerial among other things.

Hawaii and Wichita Seek Semi-Pro Series Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Hawaii Red Sox bopped little hits around Milwaukee County Stadium last night to defeat the Wichita Bombers 8-6 and carry the final round of the Global World Series of semi-pro baseball to a show-down game tonight.

• • •

The Red Sox carried the taller U.S. champions to 10 innings and handed the Bombers their first defeat in the double elimination tournament. Wichita tripped Hawaii Monday on a 5-3 score.

The Bombers jumped off to a two-run lead in the first inning, added four more in the third and appeared headed for the crown and the $10,000 first place money until the Red Sox rallied for five runs in the sixth.

• • •

All the Red Sox runs came on short hits as Hawaii batters were content to dump the ball into the outfield rather than go for the long ball.

Hawaii added one more run in the sixth and cinched it with two in the tenth. Majo Uyehara started for the Red Sox and was replaced by Chris Mancano who pitched the final eight innings. He gave up seven hits and struck out three.

• • •

Canada rallied for four runs in the seventh inning in the first game of the twin bill to take third place by ousting Colombia, 4-3.

219 Yearlings Sold for $484,600 in Camden

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—The annual yearling sale at Garden State Park concluded last night with a total of 219 head sold for $484,600 during the three-day auction.

Top price at the closing session was $13,300, paid by Mrs. Milton Erlanger, New York, for a chestnut colt by Loser Wepper out of Teaneck Madcap.

National League umpire Lon Warneke, a pitching star for the Chicago Cubs in his playing days, blanked Detroit, 3-0, in the opener of the 1935 World Series.

'Jackets Face Madison on New-Lighted Field

Bright lights will flood Avondale's gridiron for the 1st time Friday night as the Oakland-B defending champion Yellowjackets host an upset-minded Madison eleven highlighting the 3rd week of prep action for the Oakland B gridders.

Three league encounters are on the card along with an inter-sectional contest between league member Troy which will entertain independent Romeo Bulldogs boasting a 2-0 record to date.

Head Coach Frank Crowell's boys will have a new face in its forward wall in former tackle Larry Parker, at center. Switch was necessitated by the transfer of the team's 1st string center 285-pound Alfred Hill to Rochester. Jim Charr will fill Parker's tackle slot.

The Champs came out of last week's win over Troy, 19-0, free of injuries except that halfback Ray Boyl is still nursing two broken ribs suffered in the Jackets 1st game with St. Michaels. However, he will play Friday.

Practice sessions for the Madison Eagles this week have (put) emphasis on defense in preparation for Avondale's split T offense. Only player to miss the game might be end Jim Simer who is suffering from the flu, according to Madison Coach Don Scott. Simer caught the winning touchdown pass for the Eagles 6-0 win over Lake Orion last Friday.

He will start his regular backfield of senior right half Roger Orchambeau, left half Jon Solbery, fullback Larry Skinner and quarterback Jack Tompkins. Dave Robinson will alternate with Orchambeau at the half slot.

In another league clash, Fitzgerald seeks its 1st victory when it entertains Lake Orion Dragons. Spartans were downed by Clawson, 12-6 last week and lost their opener to Lakeshore, 12-7.

Ted Sela's gridders lost a close one last week to Madison, 6-0 after blanking W-O Clarkston in its opener, 26-0.

Fitzgerald Mentor Jerry Udell's eleven will be bolstered by the return of letter winner John Andros to left end after being sidelined by sickness. Leon Laney will be at quarterback relinquishing his former fullback slot to Gordon Kayne.

Roseville will play its 1st league tussle when the Wildcats travel to Clawson, to play the Trojans holding a 1-1 record. Roseville was smothered by non-league Battle Creek, 72-0 in the opener and fell to Lakeshore, 24-13 in its 2nd tilt.

In the single inter-sectional game, Troy will gun for win number one on its home field Friday afternoon against the Romeo Bulldogs.

Hanging onto the ball too long has the same dire result as dropping it too soon. It goes out of control. You hang on for two reasons: A tight thumb hole, or too tense a grip. To finish smoothly, the thumb must be released first, leaving the fingers to finish the delivery, as sketch shows.

With the thumb out first, the position of the back of the hand determines what the ball action is to be. If the thumb is pointed

For a straight ball, the arm swings straight on through. For a hook, the arm is lifted upward at ball release. The lift is smooth, not a jerk. No turn. Just a lift. There's only a little break at the elbow in completing the swing.

MSU Band Plans Satire on Bands at 'M'-MSU Tilt

EAST LANSING (AP) — Fans watching the Michigan-Michigan State football game at Ann Arbor Saturday will see the spectacle of a marching band imitating a marching band.

Leonard V. Falcone, MSU band director, says the Spartan music-makers have planned a satire on marching bands for their part of the halftime show.

Falcone said the 125-member band will "play fanfares to end all fanfares, do formations to end all formations."

The show, Falcone says, is supposed to reveal the plight of bandmasters trying to come up with something new for every game, year after year.

Title of the halftime MSU display: "Where Do We Go From Here?"

New York Yankees drew 1,490,136 fans to Yankee Stadium this year. In 1954 their home attendance was 1,475,171.

Spartans Scent Win Over 'M'

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football team hasn't been beaten before Saturday's game by the fabulous reputation Michigan has this year.

There's no cockiness on the young Spartan squad. But the players, themselves, have the idea they could win this one and surprise a lot of people.

Although there has been no scrimmage for the crew that will bear the brunt of Saturday's few hours of testing at Ann Arbor, this has been a week of hard work in the MSU camp.

It's been a week of polishing plays, assessing weaknesses discovered in the opening win over Indiana and of working on some new stuff to pull on the Wolverines.

Coach Duffy Daugherty has been trading genial wisecracks with his players and sideliners.

Athletic director Biggie Munn sounded a cheerful note as he watched the practice.

"We've stopped some great ones in the past," he said as he observed the elaborate preparations aimed at a try at tripping up Michigan and Ron Kramer.

Then Munn recalled that Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame, Vic Janowicz of Ohio State, Paul Geil of Minnesota and Paul Cameron in the UCLA Rose Bowl game were some of the big names of the past stopped by Spartan teams.

Today, Daugherty announced his traveling roster for the brief jump to Michigan. Again it contained 19 sophomores — exactly half of the 38-man squad allowed for an away game.

There were two changes—one a surprise.

Doug McFetters of Detroit, who wasn't even on the roster earlier, was an added starter at left half. McFetters never played high school football and picked up his experience in the army. He replaces Bob Handloser, another Detroiter.

Karl Perryman, a sophomore guard from Mobile, Ala., unable to make the Indiana trip because of a leg injury, was on the roster replacing Arch Matsos of Detroit.

Washington End Best Lineman

NEW YORK (AP)—Minnesota was a two-touchdown favorite over Washington last Saturday, but the underdog Huskies chalked up a 30-0 upset sparked by the superb play of veteran end Jim Houston.

For his smashing performance Houston, a 6-1 senior, was named today as Football Lineman of The Week by The Associated Press.

• • •

Minnesota was on the Washington 6-yard line early in the game when Houston made the first of his many alert plays that put the Gophers back on their heels for the rest of the game. Minnesota's Don Swanson faded back to pass, but Houston broke through, blocked the attempted aerial, grabbed the ball in the air and ran 54 yards to the Minnesota 34. This set up a 27-yard field goal by Dean Derby.

Before the game was over Houston had scored two touchdowns himself.

Taylor Has TV Game Won: Stop Hopalong – Beat OSU

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—You can throw straight questions at Chuck Taylor, Stanford football coach, and get straight answers.

Question: "Do you think you can beat Ohio State?"

Answer: "Sure."

Q: "What about Cassady, what are you going to do?"

A: "We're going to stop him, that's what we're going to do."

Q: "How?"

A: "We're going to gamble a little bit on our defense. We might get hurt someplace else, but that's a chance we're going to take."

Taylor's attitude today was normal. He's always optimistic, which makes him unique in a profession which has built poor-mouth talk into a tradition.

He had more to say about his "gambling" defense and football fans across the nation will get a chance to watch it in action Saturday when Stanford meets Ohio State in the national television game of the week.

"We think," said Taylor, "that by stopping Cassady we will stop Ohio State, that's not a new idea, of course, and a lot of people have been hurt trying it.

Taylor said he was fully aware of the ability of Cassady, the Hopalong halfback who led the Buckeyes to the national championship a year ago. He is not overlooking the power of the red-haired senior's running mate, Jerry Harkrader, either.

3 Former 'M' Captains Top Big 10 Mentors

ANN ARBOR — Three former University of Michigan football captains are among the Big Ten's most successful coaches.

Bennie Oosterbaan, 1927 leader and thrice All-American end, is in his eighth season as head coach of his Alma Mater; Ivy Williamson, head coach at the University of Wisconsin, captained the undefeated 1932 team while Forest Evashevski, head coach at Iowa, was captain and quarterback of the 1940 team. Each, however, served under a different head coach—Oosterbaan under Fielding H. Yost, Williamson under Harry Kipke and Evashevski under Fritz Crisler.

Yankees Favored Today, and for Series

NEW YORK (AP)—It was 9 to 5 today that the New York Yankees would win their 17th World Series after defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-5 in the first game.

The Yanks also were favored at 6 to 5 to win today's game and take a 2-0 lead into Ebbets Field for the third game on Friday.

Issler Stays in Race, After Overtime Scrap

NASHVILLE (AP)—Eight oldsters from seven states teed off today in the third round of match play in the National Seniors Golf Tournament here.

Medalist Martin Issler of West Orange, N.J., forced into an extra-hole match yesterday, was paired with J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia in the quarter-finals.

Waterless Farmington Township Citizens Begin Action

350 Congregate in Mass Meeting

Dry Area Residents Demand Water Supply From Township

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — About 350 residents attended a mass meeting in the Farmington High School auditorium last night.

• • •

The meeting was called by the Farmington Township Water Development committee to protest the slowness with which the township board has acted to bring a supply of water to dry areas of the township. Ernest V. Blanchard, township supervisor, has maintained that the project is almost impossible.

The water lack, becoming increasingly serious, affects 1,500 homes in a dry area with an estimated population of 5,565. Figures are from a report of Pate and Hirn, engineering firm hired by the township board on committee insistence to make a survey of the water need.

Dry areas of the township are bounded by Orchard Lake Road, from Ten Mile to the Farmington City limits; from Ten Mile, south on Middlebelt to Eight Mile, and Eight Mile to Gill Road, then north on Gill to the city limits.

CAREY WATER

The family of Norman Cellnake, 31181 Westhill, one of many having tried in vain to get well water, uses a cistern for storage of rain water which they catch for sanitary facilities. They carry drinking water from nearby. Many families in the area carry all their water from gas stations, stores, or the township fire station.

Judge Arthur Moore of Pontiac, interested in the committee's efforts was asked to give his views on the proposed project. After pointing out the cost and problems involved, Judge Moore stated that some way must be found to supply water to this community. He then enumerated ways and means by which this could be done, adding, "It is difficult but possible."

Louis H. Schimmel, Municipal Advisory counsil from Pontiac offered a definite and concise message of financing the proposed project breaking down his figure of $1,000,000 into actual monthly costs to the property owner. He believes that a survey giving a comprehensive picture of the situation could be completed in three weeks.

Lawrence Pate reviewed the engineering survey made by his company last winter and was optimistic about an adequate supply of water. Joe Crumley, representative of the Michigan Department of Health, stressed the importance of an adequate supply of water from the standpoint of good health.

In reply to a question from Dr. Joseph J. Gadbaw, chairman of the committee and Farmington health official, Russel Colson, of the Oakland County Department of Health, said, "Unless enough water can be found or hauled in, some of Farmington township schools may be closed."

• • •

G. P. Nolan and C. Kirk, officials of the civic group in Ridgewood Manor subdivision, where proposed test wells may be sunk, expressed fears for their own water supply and were assured that one area of the township did not propose to benefit at the expense of another.

Vicious Parakeet Dies After Biting Its Owner

READING, Pa. (INS)—Mrs. Arlette Orth, 38, of Reading, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital in Reading last night for a lacerated right thumb.

She explained the wound was inflicted by her pet parakeet, Penny. After the biting, according to Mrs. Orth, the bird dropped dead in its cage.

Booster Night Slated

ORTONVILLE—Brandon Grange 973 will meet in Grange Hall at 8 p.m. Saturday to observe "Booster Night." A reception for Brandon Township teachers will be given and refreshments will be served.

PROPOSED HOSPITAL PLAN — This hospital is planned to serve parts of four counties, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair and Lapeer. Located on M-53 south of Almont, the $350,000 structure will contain 30 beds and all the necessary facilities for a community-type hospital. It will be operated by the Community Hospital Foundation, a non-profit organization. Plans are now in progress for a fund-raising campaign to finance the proposed project. Local merchants and organizations in each community have already begun money-making projects.

Set Troy Adult Education

TROY TOWNSHIP — The Troy Adult Education program will start the week of Oct. 3 in the Troy High School, Livernois and 16 Mile Road. Registrations will be accepted from residents of the neighboring communities.

Mrs. Robert Nyquist will offer instruction in the waltz, fox trot, rhumba, samba and tango. Registrations will be accepted by couples only.

An afternoon course is being offered in addition to the evening class in millinery. Mrs. Mary Ayres of Detroit, instructor of the course, asks registrants to bring any equipment they may have to the first meeting, also an old felt hat.

The touch system control of the keyboard and simple letter forms will be taught by Mrs. Boyd Larson, in typing. Typing paper should be brought for the first session. This class should plan on continuing as a unit the second semester.

Mrs. E. Mayo is the instructor in sewing. Dresses and other articles of clothing may be made. Individual instruction is a feature of the course.

Steve Gitlelt, attorney, will include income tax forms and filing, legal accounting, tax law, individual and partnership law, as a part of the income tax and business law course. Each class member will be expected to purchase a text book.

Government in the 20th century will consist of five two hour sessions under the direction of Dr. Murray Seidler of Wayne University.

Registrations will be accepted at the Board of Education office or you can obtain further information from them.

If group demands call for more classes they will be organized.

Future Farmers to Congregate at Waterloo, Iowa

WASHINGTON (INS) — Future Farmers of America national judging contests are scheduled to be held at Waterloo, Iowa, next Monday and Tuesday.

• • •

FFA members from 42 states are expected to participate in the contests, which are staged in connection with the National Dairy Congress.

CAROLE THOMPSON

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Thompson of 2411 Pine Lake Ave., Keego Harbor, announce the engagement of their daughter, Carole, to Jerold Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wagner of Oak Park. No date has been set for the wedding.

Lapeer Couple Married in St. Paul Lutheran Rite

LAPEER—Luella Marie McInally and Theodore Carl Fitch exchanged marriage vows recently in St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

• • •

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mable McInally and the late Basil McInally and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fitch, all of Lapeer.

Gowned in white lace and nylon net over white satin the bride carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. Her dress was fashioned with side tiers of nylon net attached to a peplum of lace panels back and front. Her fitted bodice was accented with a lace jacket and her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of seed pearls.

Matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Morris Ross of Columbiaville and bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Coffman, another sister, and the bridegroom's sister, Diane Fitch.

• • •

Best man was Richard Blake of Lapeer and the ushers were David Fitch and Robert McMains.

A reception was held in the church parlors. After a wedding trip through northern Michigan, the newlyweds will be at home at 123 Nepessing St., Lapeer.

Asks Increased Recreation Fund

Conservation Aide Tells Legislature State Parks Need $5 Million More

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Commission will ask the Legislature to appropriate more than five million dollars next year for improvement and expansion of state parks.

• • •

The commission, meeting yesterday, approved a 1956-57 budget request of $5,467,575 for park improvement and recommended spending more than 20 million dollars in the parks during the next five years.

The commission asked the Legislature to appropriate some four million dollars for park improvement this year, but the lawmakers authorized only $800,000.

L. N. Jones, assistant chief of the park division, told the commission the parks are badly overrun and need more rest rooms, roads, picnic areas and maintenance facilities.

FACILITIES NEEDED

"Attendance at the parks has already passed 16 million this year," Jones said. He predicted it would top 17½ million by the end of the year.

The department told the commission the parks' greatest need is better rest room facilities. Many of the rest rooms and bath houses now in use were built more than 20 years ago and are now obsolete, department officials said.

In many cases, Jones said, gates had to be closed and visitors turned away when parking areas and camp grounds were filled to overflowing.

• • •

The five-year plan for park improvements includes two million dollars for land acquisition in 1956-57 and one million dollars for each of the following four fiscal years.

Holly Pair Announce Daughter's Marriage

HOLLY—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Lahring announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean Welch, to William Phillips Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Scott of Farmington. The wedding took place last Saturday in Detroit.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. John Scath of Alma. After a trip through the south the couple will reside in Detroit.

County Deaths

Mrs. Jessie Harris

GINGELLVILLE — Service for Mrs. Jessie Harris, 97, of Oak Creek Canyon, Ariz., formerly of Gingellville will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Gingellville Baptist Church, with burial at Kingston. The body will be taken immediately from the train to the church on Saturday.

She is survived by one daughter, Ila Armitage of Oak Creek Canyon; one son, Oscar Harris of Dryden, and three sisters.

Mary Lou Maxlow

UTICA—Service for Mary Lou Maxlow, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Maxlow, 8677 Grace St., was held Monday at Schwarzkoff-Milliken Funeral Home with burial in St. John's Cemetery, Fraser. Mary Lou died shortly after birth. She is survived by her parents, three brothers and two sisters.

Oakland Area Owners Ready Entries for World Event at Chicago

CHICAGO — A number of Michigan Quarter horse entries have been received for the International Quarter Horse Show which will be held in conjunction with the International Dairy Show and World's Championship Rodeo in the Amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards, Oct. 8 — 15.

• • •

In Oakland county, Alice Gougeon, of Red Top Farm, New Hudson, is readying two fillies for the halter classes of the competition. They are Glenda Bubbles and Dexter's Sue. She has won grand championships and a number of top places with her animals at shows in Columbus, Ohio, the Michigan State Fair and other events.

Windrow Farms, Troy Township, one of the country's top Ayrshire herds, will have its usual show string of 15 prize animal at the dairy show.

Another Troy Township exhibitor is Helen Miles, who will show a senior yearling heifer.

Groups in Opposition at Madison Heights

MADISON HEIGHTS — Two factions in Madison Heights are working for opposing goals.

Madison Heights charter commission at their meeting last night, set Dec. 6 as election day for voters to vote on a new charter.

Meanwhile, another group is circulating petitions which would take away a section of the proposed home-rule city and annex it to Royal Oak.

Lawson J. Carrothers, leader of the group, says he hopes to file petitions Oct. 7 with Oakland County Clerk asking for a date to be set for an annexation vote.

Clifford Woman Named

CLIFFORD — Mrs. Ivah Hallenbeck was elected and installed as president of the Auxiliary of the Seventh District American Legion at the recent meeting at Harbor Beach.

County Delays Oak Park Tax

Board of Supervisors Puts Off Reassessing Disputed Levy

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday put off for another year reassessing $17,634 in taxes against Oak Park which the city claims the state should pay and the state asserts the city should pay.

The sum was the major amount in a total $18,029 which the Supervisors' Auditor General's Committee said had gone unpaid last year because of improper tax descriptions and should be reassessed against various county units this year.

The land involved is the former Vickers plant in Oak Park purchased by the state for National Guard use in 1947.

Oak Park City Manager Harold K. Schone said the state contends it owned the plant when the assessment was made and therefore the city erred in making the levy.

The city holds the assessment was made before the state took control.

A motion made by Schone was passed removing the amount from this year's roll to give Oak Park a chance to get a bill through the State Legislature requiring the state to settle the account.

Postal Worker Names Saturday for Retirement

LAPEER—After thirty-five and a half years in the Lapeer postoffice, Bernice North Dickerson has tendered her retirement notice to postmaster, Robert L. Taylor, effective Oct. 1.

• • •

Miss Dickerson, born in Goodland Township, Lapeer County, attended Walker School. She moved to Lapeer in November 1905 and her father, the late George W. Dickerson became Lapeer County Clerk in January 1906, serving until January, 1920.

Graduating from Lapeer High School in 1914, she attended Lapeer County Normal in 1915 and Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti in 1917, majoring in physical education.

She was the first physical education teacher in Lapeer school and taught two years, entering the postoffice in January 1920. Appointed in March 1920, she has completed 35½ years under the following postmasters: John Loughane, Fred Kay, Guy Thompson, (all deceased) and the present postmaster, Robert L. Taylor.

• • •

Southfield Turns Down Request for Road Funds

SOUTHFIELD — Southfield Township voters have turned down a special election request for a half-mill increase in taxation which would have raised $58,000 for operational funds, of which $48,000 would be used for road repair.

Voters went to the polls Tuesday and 606 voted "no" while only 403 voted "yes" on the matter.

Teacher training facilities of St. Mary's College at Apowa, Gold Coast, have been doubled during the past three years.

EDWARD S. LADD

Milford has lost one of its neat pioneers in the death of Edward S. Ladd Tuesday. Mr. Ladd watched three or four small stores grow into the thriving suburban town of Milford. In 1871 Ladd saw the first steam engine roll into town and 1949 marked the year he saw the last one steam out. Eighty-eight years old, Mr. Ladd was an active businessman in Milford for 62 of them with his drygoods store on Main St. Service for Mr. Ladd will be tomorrow at the Richardson Bird Funeral Home.

Floodlight Drive Gains in Action

Waterford Students on Committee Reporting $6,000 in Pledges

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Now that classes have been stabilized and new student council members and officers have been elected, the committee in charge of the drive for high school football field floodlights and fencing will really swing into action.

With less than a dozen students working on the project, pledges amounting to nearly $6,000 have been turned in. Approximately 250 students will take over the drive to secure the balance of the $25,000 in pledges.

Only pledges in denominations of $50 and $100, are being taken at this time. When enough support of the project is shown, efforts will be made to obtain the necessary money through issuance of bonds in denominations of $50 and $100.

The bonds will bear one per cent interest and will be retired in numerical order, beginning five years from the date of issuance at the rate of $1,500 a year. Money for this purpose will be acquired from gate receipts. At present, gate receipts are ample to cover this indebtedness.

• • •

Members of the football lights committee are Jerry Kruskie, chairman, Janet Hudson, Julie Hickman, Judy Boardman, and Robert Hope. Howard Bennetts is faculty sponsor.

Civil Defense Meets Tonight at Davisburg

DAVISBURG — A Civil Defense meeting will be held at the Davisburg Town hall at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Reports will be given on civil defense progress. Persons who have enrolled in First Aid and Nurses Aid courses are especially requested to attend.

According to Director Bob Haslock, progress is being made toward the construction of the new sky watch tower.

Lapeer WSCS Slates 15th Anniversary Meet

LAPEER—The WSCS of the Monroe Street Methodist Church will meet in the church parlors at 8 p.m. Tuesday, with the Ruth Circle in charge of the program and devotions.

The outstanding event of this meeting will be the celebration of the 15th anniversary of the organization of the WSCS. Every member is urged to be present.

Patrick Duggan Pleads Guilty

October 24 Date Set for Court Sentencing on Kidnaping

A 21-year-old Pontiac man pleaded guilty yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court to kidnapping two women and forcing them to commit grossly indecent acts last Aug. 8.

Patrick W. Duggan, of 56 Mathews St., admitted forcing the two into his truck while they were walking on Whittemore Street near Center Street. He released them about four hours later, police said.

Judge George B. Hartrick set sentencing for Oct. 24, but Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said a hearing is slated on committing Duggan as a criminal sexual psychopath.

Twop psychiatrists, who have examined the offender, will testify as to his sanity in Circuit Court Oct. 10.

Sentencing on the kidnaping charge could bring any number of years up to life in Jackson State Prison.

Waterford Plans Dance Lessons for Students

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Fall Dance lessons for young people's preparation for school and recreation parties and dances are announced by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Twelve weekly lessons for students from grades six through twelve will begin Monday at the Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

Popular dance steps, rythm, and courtesies will be taught by the recreation department dance instructor, Carol Wolfe.

Registrations can be made at the Community Center.

Walled Lake Offers Adult Education

WALLED LAKE — Registrations are still continuing for the adult education program at Walled Lake.

The program offers a variety of courses for the adult student: Bookkeeping, bridge, cake decorating, china painting, ceramics, choral music, driver education, interior decorating, landscaping, photography, piano, sewing, shorthand, office machines, square dancing, typing, woodshop, and upholstery.

An expectant parent class is also planned with the cooperation of the Oakland County Health Department.

The fall term starts next Tuesday and registrations not already filled by that time, will be taken on opening class night.

Mrs. Patricia Jackson Found Dead in Home

A 27-year-old West Bloomfield Township woman was found dead in her home by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Officers found Mrs. Patricia L. Jackson, of 2747 St. Joseph, sprawled across her bed, a self-inflicted gunshot wound in her heart. A .380-caliber automatic was found near her body.

Mrs. Jackson, a divorcee, had threatened suicide earlier in the day, deputies said. She had no children.

It's Wheat Planting Time

LANSING (AP)—Recent rains have put lower Michigan farmlands in good shape for winter wheat planting, the Federal-State Crop Reporting service said today.

TROY—A fair slated for Saturday, Oct. 8 is next on the agenda for the Poppleton PTA. The event will be held at the school and promises, besides dinner, games, movies, pony rides, booths of fancy work, flower cart, bake sale, and white elephant sale.

Mrs. R. Bevier, Mrs. L. Fondale, Mrs. Waddell Wardrop, Mrs. L. Stage, Mrs. A. Tunstall, Mrs. T. Rector, and Mrs. O. McDirmid are in charge of the booths and Lloyd Stage is chairman. Door prizes will be awarded. Proceeds will go to the PTA fund.

Waterford Township

The Stringham School PTA will have its first meeting next Thursday, Oct. 6.

Mrs. M. Sax, director of the speech department for Stringham School will be the evening's speaker.

The executive board has elected presiding officers for the year: President, Lester Carlson; vice president, Mrs. Marlene Barnhard; secretary, Mrs. Richard McFarlin, and treasurer, William Meyers.

A dessert social was the first project of the year, held recently at the school.

Commerce

Open house for parents and teachers will take place at the 7:30 meeting of the Commerce PTA Monday night. Nina Fropidloski, elementary school consultant, will be guest speaker. Other evening activities will include a business meeting and refreshments.

Town Also Surveys for 2nd Water Tower

Milford to Move Landmark for Parking

MILFORD — Council members here have voted to permit the Chamber of Commerce to purchase and move the old Chester Arms home on Union Street, clearing the way for relief of the Milford off-street parking problem.

The house will be moved to a different location, rebuilt and sold by the Chamber.

The village will buy the land after removal of the house, then install parking meters for 25 cars. Negotiations are being arranged with the Oakland State bank for a ten-year contract, to be paid off with money from the parking meters.

Headed by Don Breen, representatives of the Chamber of Commerce also agreed to blacktop and light the land when the house has been removed.

• • •

A proposed plat of 52 lots was submitted to the council members by the Jack Hyman Real Estate Co. of Detroit for subdivision approval. The lots will be on the Wixom road, and north on Crystal, and homes built immediately, according to Hyman. The organization is now in the process of building 28 new homes in the Peach Hill subdivision here.

WATER TOWER SURVEY

Due to the sharp increase in Milford population, water is becoming a major problem and the Hubbell, Roth and Clark Engineering firm of Birmingham was authorized to make a survey for another water tower on the south side of Milford.

The additional water tower would not only supply more water but would equalize the pressure when necessary, according to President Bartlett B. Smith.

The Compass Realty Co. has consented to donate a portion of its 131 acres on N. Milford road for the water tower, in line with its new development. The company told council members that they plan to build homes in units of 75 and will try to retain the rolling contour of the land in landscaping.

Salaries of patrolmen Chester Heckmott and Kenneth Adams were raised $5 a week, and Chief of Police Stu Brophy will receive $10 more a week, by action of the council.

• • •

Milford's only taxi cab stand will now be in the parking lot next to Weaver and Watkins store on Main street, as council took action permitting owner Harold Caswell to change locations.

Fowler Damage Suit Dismissed by Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $600,000 damage suit filed against author Gene Fowler last March 30 by the daughter of the late Sadakichi Hartmann, eccentric German-Japanese poet, has been dismissed.

* * *

Hartmann was a leading character in the latest of Fowler's books of reminiscences of his old old friends, "Minutes of the Last Meeting."

* * *

In filing the suit as administratrix of her father's estate, Mrs. Wisaria Linton charged that Fowler had appropriated material from a manuscript of her father's, entitled "Autobiography." In a statement released yesterday by her lawyers, she stated the book was entirely the original work of Fowler and he had full and exclusive rights to everything contained therein.

High Mortgage Loans

NEW YORK—The nation's life insurance companies lent a record $3,102,000,000 on real-estate mortgages during the first half of 1955, an increase of 35 per cent over the mortgage funds they lent in the like period of 1955.

Jose Ferrer to Don Nose for Last Fling at Cyrano

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Again for the last time, it's Jose Ferrer as The Nose.

"Every time I do it, I swear it's the last time," says the actor, who has become as firmly identified with Cyrano de Bergerac as was the late Walter Hampden.

* * *

Ferrer did the part for a full year on Broadway, then repeated his success in a 1950 movie. His dramatics netted him the Academy Award that year. Oh yes, he also did it in an hour's condensed version during the early days of television.

Now the TV gold has lured him into donning the monstrous schnoz again. This time he's going first class. He'll perform Cyrano in a 90-minute NBC spectacular for Producers Showcase Oct. 10.

For such auspicious goings-on, the actor is even growing his own beard. When friends inquire about the stubble on his chin, he replies, "that's television money."

Ferrer was caught in a rare moment of relaxation beside the pool of the Beverly Hills mansion he shares with his wife, Rosemary Clooney, and their one-year-old, Miguel Jose. Between wrestles with a Great Dane named Cuddles and various other canines, the actor told of his long association with Cyrano.

* * *

"I keep saying I'll never do him again, but something always comes up to make me do it," he remarked. "The only medium I haven't done him in is radio.

Of all the mediums, Ferrer has favored the stage best for Cyrano. He feels the three-hour play suffers when cut to fit the limits of TV and movies. And although he won the Oscar with it, he thinks the movie lacked much of the dash of the original.

Humphrey Urges Cut in Defense Wastes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey reportedly has urged the Defense Department to conduct a "never give up" search for waste, extravagance and duplication in an effort to trim defense spending.

This, rather than a reduction of military force or equipment levels, was said yesterday to have been Humphrey's suggestion after Secretary of Defense Wilson decided it was unwise from a military standpoint to cut service spending more than already contemplated.

Wilson was said to have agreed to the campaign against waste.

The immediate goal is a billion dollar reduction below the present 34-billion-dollar level of defense spending, as part of a drive toward a balanced budget by next June 30.

GOP Undecided on 2nd Choice

Party Mentions Nixon as the Best Candidate if Ike Retires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Great indecision exists among professional Republican party workers over who would be the GOP's strongest candidate next year if President Eisenhower elects to return to private life.

* * *

Vice President Nixon was mentioned far more frequently than any other GOP figure by state Republican chairmen, national committeemen and national committeewomen reached by The Associated Press.

Twenty-three named Nixon as being currently the strongest possible standard bearer next to Eisenhower. Some said he had gained this stature by his own efforts; others indicated they regard him as a logical successor now because of his position as vice president.

But 74 party leaders declined to voice any opinion, and 10 more mentioned up to a half a dozen possible candidates as strong, without ranking them in any order. Most of those in the latter category included Nixon; several did not.

* * *

Others designed as the "strongest candidate" by two or more party officials were Chief Justice Earl Warren, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Milton S. Eisenhower; one each mentioned Thomas E. Dewey and Sen. William F. Knowland of California.

Similarly inconclusive were the party officials' replies to the question: "Do you believe Eisenhower should run again?"

More or less firmly, 5 said he should and 12 said he should not. The vast majority said he should if physicians tell him he is sound and would not be endangering his health.

About 80 per cent of teachers in U. S. public schools are women.

Skin Divers Plan Catalina Crossing With Midget Sub

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Two skin divers say they plan a unique crossing of the 21-mile Catalina Channel next Tuesday in a two-man Italian submarine.

The pair, Gustav Dalla Valle and Richard Anderson, hope to keep the stogie-shaped "Seahorse I" cruising steadily at six knots about 15 feet below the surface. They will surface twice to change breathing tanks.

The sub, a peacetime version of the World War II Italian piglet boat, measures 16 feet long and weighs 2,500 pounds.

The two occupants sit tandem and control the sub with controls similar to those of an airplane. Diving and surfacing are controlled with compressed air. The sub can cruise 37 miles without refueling its four gallon tank.

Valle and Anderson are employes of a sporting goods company that brought the submarine from Perugia, Italy. They plan to use it to demonstrate the company's skin diving equipment.

Ike Gets Assurance He'll Lead GOP Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) assured President Eisenhower today he should be able to head the Republican team in next year's campaign despite his recent heart attack.

* * *

The 38-year-old Bolton, who recently recovered from a heart attack himself, said all the President has to do is take a good rest and then "live rationally and calmly" with his job.

* * *

Bolton said he personally looks forward to the 1956 campaign, and plans to conduct it "as vigorously and enthusiastically as ever."

He added: "I anticipate with pleasure your early return to your desk and look forward to next fall with you again at the head of our team."

College Teacher Studies Habits of Migrant Duck

TUCSON, Ariz. (INS) — American hunters will be able to get more ducks in their gunsights thanks to the efforts of a University of Arizona professor.

Dr. Lyle K. Sowles, a professor of zoology at the university and one of the leading authorities on American waterfowl, recently completed a five-year study of the private life of prairie ducks.

His main method of observation was by marking individual birds with a total of 2,181 ducks banded.

He found that some ducks travel more than 4,000 miles between winter headquarters and summer breeding marshes.

While basking under the warm southern sun, their fancy turns to members of the opposite sex and before they reach their northern homes again they are ready to settle down to raise ducklings.

However, it's up to the female of the species to decide where to set up housekeeping, and the male merely concurs with his lady's wishes.

Dr. Sowles' findings have influenced the revision of hunting regulations and have led to the development of new techniques in waterfowl management.

* * *

He also found that the repopulation of marshes by artificial release of birds is too costly over large areas.

Pickets Follow Circus on Cross-Country Tour

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The circus came to town—and also some union pickets who are making the grand tour too.

The pickets are members of AFL Teamsters Union Local 447 of St. Louis, Mo., national bargaining agent for circus and carnival workers.

They were calling attention to a dispute between the union and Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey over wages and working conditions by displaying placards and passing out leaflets whenever the circus sets up its canvas.

Coffee Price Break Seen by Year's End

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coffee prices should tumble before the year's end, more than erasing the recent retail price boosts which ranged up to 4 cents a pound.

This was the consensus today of trade observers here, who noted a world surplus of coffee is expected and new harvests start coming to market in November and December.

Prices might break even before November, the observers said, should coffee-growing Brazil soon go ahead with a long-rumored currency devaluation which would make her coffee cheaper in terms of U.S. dollars.

Sixteen persons were already reported injured by advance winds with two small vessels sunk and several houses smashed.

Airport Has No Scents

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Allegheny County commissioners voted down a proposed installation of cologne dispensing machines in the women's lounges at the airport here. They said too many women would object that they didn't like the particular odor being dispensed.

Railroads Spur Stock Buying

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads provided the buying spark today in the stock market.

By early afternoon, prices were up from 1 to 3 points while losses went from 1 to 2 points at the outside.

The rise today was the third straight since the major break that came Monday on news that President Eisenhower had suffered a heart attack.

The market opened higher with a brief rush. Thereafter prices turned mixed and leaned lower. That trend was replaced by a gradual improvement headed by the railroads.

Among higher stocks were New York Central, Northern Pacific, United Air Lines, American Telephone, Anaconda Co., American Tobacco, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Boeing and North American Aviation.

Auto Firms Set 8-Month Record

Factory Sales Climb to Over Six Million Units Through August

DETROIT (AP)—Factory sales of 6,348,117 motor vehicles in the United States during the first eight months of 1955 set a record for the period, the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. reported today.

Sales came within 253,000 units of matching the 6,601,071 vehicles sold during all of 1954, the association said.

Sales through August this year included 5,506,075 passenger cars, and 842,042 motor trucks and coaches. August sales dipped to 716,163, low for the year but considerably higher than every 1954 month but December.

Export sales for January to August this year reached 310,365, or 4.9 per cent of the total, the AMA reported. The figure compares with 272,895, or 5.9 per cent, for the comparable period in 1954.

Peak sales month for the year so far was March when 894,597 units were marketed.

Business Notes

Cost reductions, averaging 10 per cent in property damage and 20 per cent in bodily liability in Michigan by the Allstate Insurance Co. was announced by George C. Powell, resident manager of the Detroit branch office, Pontiac was one of the seven Michigan cities affected.

The amounts of reductions will vary with the make and model of car, the amount and kind of use to which it is put, and the area in which it is principally driven, Powell said.

The Farm Equipment Institute recently elected officers for the ensuing year at the closing session of the two day 62nd annual convention at the Roosevelt hotel in New Orleans.

One of the four members named to the Farm Equipment Institute executive committee for three year terms was I. A. Duffy, vice president and general manager, Tractor and Implement Division, Ford Motor Company, of Birmingham.

Stephen Stepanian has been announced as the new manager of the L. G. Haig Shoe Store locally. Present manager Harold Martin is leaving to assume new duties with the organization, but will continue to make his home in Pontiac.

William H. Knudsen, Pontiac realtor, is attending the Great Lakes Appraisers Conference of the Society of Residential Appraisers, being held the last half of this week at Cleveland.

Jack Habel, former automobile dealer in this city, has joined the staff of Leslie R. Tripp, Realtor, 22 West Lawrence St., as a salesman.

New Sales Record for Pontiac Dealers

Pontiac sales for the second ten day period of September ran 110 per cent more than during the same period a year ago, R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac General Manager announced today.

Sales of the 15,600 new cars constitutes a record high.

Mr. Critchfield also pointed out that Used Car Sales remained high with the sale of 26,563 cars, 71 per cent higher for the ten-day period than last year.

No Plates or License Brings 115 Days in Jail

For driving with neither an operator's license or a license plate on his auto, Clayton Ortwine, 25, of 31307 Rexwood, Farmington Township will spend the next 115 days in the Oakland County Jail

• • •

Ortwine pleaded guilty to both charges when he appeared before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle yesterday.

He was sentenced to 90 days on the first count and 25 days on the second.

35c Dividend Declared

DETROIT (AP)—Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit pharmaceutical firm which manufactures Salk Polio Vaccine, Wednesday declared a dividend of 35 cents a share on common stock, payable Oct. 31 to stockholders of record Oct. 10. The payment is the firm's fourth this year and will increase to $1.40 the total per share in 1955.

NBC Signs Allen for Three Years

LuAnn Simms' Career Easing Into a LaRosa Pattern, Critic Says

NEW YORK (INS) — The LuAnn Simms story is easing toward a La Rosa ending . . . she's still on $1,500 weekly salary . . .

* * *

Fred Coe's NBC pact will end next May and you can bet your bottom rating they'll want him to stay. He's the best of TV's serious producers.

"Casablanca started its ABC-TV series looking like a budget basement version of the Bogart - Bergman - Rains movie original . . . Not bad, except in comparison to the swell old movie.

Pretty much the "old" Berle Tuesday night, which is serviceable if not brilliant, noisy and brash. . .

Esther Williams exposed her heroic figure in a scanty sequined swim suit and pool to match and even acted with a neat sense of nonsense in a sketch.

It was perky Berle commercial but we can't help feeling a little sad that Kukla, Fran and Ollie have to take such subservient jobs . . .

NBC signed Steve Allen for another three years . . .

Somehow "The $64,000 Q." seems limp when the contestants take the cash and run for the bank without trying for more, but of course that's the sensible way and it's easy to be brave in the audience with nothing at stake. . .

Frank Leahy's football forecasts start Friday on NBC-TV, probably the most dependable of all the grid guessers in TV.

Judy Garland's opus clobbered all network and local competition, highest rated special show in quite a while . . .

Judy had a doctor in the wings throughout her show. Treated her several times when the delays presumably were for costume changes.

* * *

Can't say we're not getting top directors in TV — John Ford is guiding "Bamboo Cross" for Jane Wyman's Fireside Theater, adapted from a script the Blackfriars Guild staged here, about two nuns captured by the Chinese Reds.

Bob Hope will aim lots of his comedy this season at the kids; surveys show they're the ones who run the dials, Hope discovered.

NBC's "The Big Surprise," supposedly a $100,000 giveaway owned by Lou Cowan who invented the $64,000 skyrocket, has hit serious complications. They've called in a crew of emergency thinkers to clear away the creative confusion in time for its planned Oct. 8 premiere . . .

Italy Gets Army for NATO Gap

U.S. Soldiers Entering Brennero to Plug Hole in Western Defenses

BRENNERO, Italy (AP) — U. S. combat troops leaving Austria entered Italy before dawn today for NATO duty. Their mission: to help the Italian army plug a gap in Western defenses by Austrian neutrality.

* * *

The new arrivals are the first Americans combat troops to be stationed in Italy since October 1947 when the 88th Infantry Division was deactivated as a combat unit. American soldiers based at Leghorn and Naples are from service units.

Crossing the Austrian - Italian border through historic Brenner Pass was a convoy of 214 officers and men under Lt. Col. William W. Hawke of Terryton, Tex., commander of the 1st Battalion of the 350th Infantry Regiment.

* * *

The convoy was the vanguard of some 5,000 Americans who will form a new Southern European Task Force Command under Brig. Gen. John H. Michaelis. It will operate under Italian Lt. Gen. Clemente Primieri, NATO's commander of land forces in southern Europe.

* * *

Two soldiers — Sgt. Thomas E. Curry of Delaware, Ohio, and Pfc. Vernon D. Fletcher of Moultrie, Ga. — were first across the border.

The convoy headed for Vincenza, 150 miles southwest of here, to set up headquarters in concrete Italian army barracks.

State Teachers Attend Special Forum at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—More than 500 Michigan high school homemaking teachers are expected to attend a conference today and tomorrow at Michigan State University.

Theme of the meeting is "More Satisfying Personal and Family Living Through More Realistic Approaches to Teaching." Topics include visual aids, curriculum planning and simplified teaching of clothing and home crafts.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Quizmaster Hal March Knows All the Answers

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—This Hal March guy is very sharp, I suppose you could say he knows all the answers (Ho, ho, that's rich!), but he gets nettled when some square spots him on the street and gurgles, "Hey, hey, you're, you're ——."

"I'm about to nod nicely and say 'Yes, I'm Hal March,' and they say, 'You're a friend of Capt. McCutchen's'," Hal told me the other day at lunch.

HAL MARCH

"Another thing, I've been in show business 18 years—burlesque, vaudeville, legit, radio, TV—learning my craft, and now people say, 'There's that nice young fellow with no talent!'"

At only 35, Hal is more famous than Julius Caesar was and will give away more dollars than John D. Rockefeller gave away dimes.

"The only one I blew," the good-looking, smooth-talking quizmaster of the $64,000 Question continued, "was when I forgot to ask Capt. McCutchen the question after reading the lead-in. He figured I was in up to my neck and he'd let me get out.

"Ohhh," groaned Hal, "if he'd missed the question because of me, I'd have paid him the $16,000 myself. I'd have sold my sister or something."

"How did you happen to be picked?" I asked.

"Apparently because I worked quietly instead of getting hysterical like some. Actually I wasn't quiet—I was just tired.

★ ★ ★ ★

"When I was 17 I was a kid with a dinner jacket and 16 naked dames behind me in a burlesque in San Francisco feeling frustrated because nobody in the joint'd listen to me sing.

"I worked night clubs . . . traps, real traps. I kept gettin' fired, but each time I didn't get fired so fast as I got fired the time before. Progress!"

Hal's contract calls for him to go on and on with the show which he figures to last at least three years.

"It's a breeze as a job. I go to the studio three hours before and the only way it resembles a job is that I put makeup on. One thing I mustn't do is throw any funny lines or sing anybody. I wanted to be a dramatic actor and got on a quiz show and here it's the most dramatic show in the world."

ROSEMARY

Hal, a bachelor, loves them all.

"You know Myrtle Power is cute. She's a doll. One day she says 'Hal, you're a real doll. If I was 20 years younger . . .'

"This," laughed Hal, "gives me a 51-year-old girl friend!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rita Hayworth the brunette, Joe DiMaggio, James Michener and Jack Leighter saw "Damn Yankees" together—but Joe hadda leave Rita and go to a banquet. (Dick Haymes was due next day.)

Wm. O'Dwyer's steady date here this week'll be shapely Rosemary Ridgewell of the Latin Quarter line.

Maurice Chevalier's haunting El Morocco . . . An unusual job's open for a shapely, pretty gal willing to live two weeks in a store window (must sleep there, too) in 14th St.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: Some old-fashioned mothers who can remember their husbands' first kiss have modern daughters who can't remember their first husbands.

★ ★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A hypochondriac's a fella who, when nothing makes him sick, it makes him sick."

★ ★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bob Olin hears that Lassie objects to type casting, and in her next movie she may play a horse. That's earl, brother.

Burglars Steal $300 While Employes Sleep

While two employes slept overhead, burglars took $300 from the Tomahawk Restaurant, Auburn and Opdyke Rds., early today, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies reported.

Mrs. Lillian Briggs, owner, told deputies two kitchen helpers, Early Hendrix and Joe Hart, were sleeping on the second floor of the building when burglars entered the restaurant, and emptied the cash register and safe. Deputies said entry was gained apparently through a broken pane in a rear door.

Thief Exchanges Clothes

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A burglar liked his clothes so much, H. B. Lumpkin told police, that he changed into them on the spot. The culprit left his old dungarees and a red corduroy coat behind in Lumpkin's bedroom.
