High Tariff Men May Weaken Ike's Program

Trade Bill Is Moving
Toward OK by House
Late Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's embattled program designed to expand free world trade by lowering U. S. tariffs moved toward expected House passage late today.

But protective tariff forces, after a surprising show of strength yesterday, said there were good prospects that they could water down the administration bill.

Eisenhower reportedly planned a last-minute appeal for support through a message to be read by House Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass.).

It took three roll calls within 2½ hours yesterday merely to establish procedure for considering the bill.

In the windup, supporters of the program succeeded by only one vote, 193-192, in adopting a rule which limits foes to offering just one amendment.

But in the tentative first test yesterday, supporters were startled by a 28-vote licking. It appeared then the bill would be opened to a flood of trade-restricting amendments. The picture was reversed only after Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex.) stepped down from the rostrum to plead for the limitation.

On the roll call, a majority of Republicans voted against the procedure curbing amendments. A majority of Democrats supported H. Democrats did most of the shifting to save the day for supporters of the trade program.

The bill would extend for three more years the President's power to negotiate reciprocal trade agreements, under which the United States cuts tariffs on foreign goods coming into this country in exchange for reductions in trade barriers to American products shipped abroad.

Most of the tariff-cutting authority under the present law has been exhausted. The new bill would permit the President to cut rates an additional 5 per cent each year for three years. He could make even bigger cuts in some cases.

Eisenhower and his supporters in Congress argue this would help U. S. allies sell more goods here, help Americans sell more abroad, and knit the free world closer together in every way.

Opponents claim that increased imports might undermine competing American industries.

Reds No Pikers; Find New Peak Hiding in Siberia

LONDON (AP)—Russian geographers are claiming vast new discoveries that have "completely remade" their maps of eastern Siberia.

They said their finds include new rivers, plateaus, glaciers, mountain ranges and a 22,500-foot peak which was named for Joseph Stalin.

Moscow radio, announcing this, quoted an article in the Soviet government organ Izvestia by academician Evgeny Pavlovsky, president of the U.S.S.R. Geographical Society.

The report said "one of the highest mountain formations on the earth" was also turned up. Henceforth it will appear on Russian maps as "The Range of The Academy of Sciences."

Chiang Sinks 7 Red Vessels

Nationalists Pounce on Communist Convoy in East China Sea

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist warships attacked a Red Chinese 14-ship troop and supply convoy in the East China Sea in daylight today and the Defense Ministry claimed seven Communist landing craft and possibly three gunboats sunk.

Nationalist fighter-bombers roared out from Formosa on a mission to hunt and destroy the surviving craft. The Defense Ministry said the vessels, including two warships of 500 tons or more, "led to nearby enemy harbors."

The ministry said none of the Nationalist ships was lost. The sea battle erupted off the Chekiang province coast about 130 miles northwest of Formosa between the Nationalist northern outpost of Nanchuan and Red-held Taitung Island.

The Red convoy was spotted at 7:50 a.m. moving southward from the Wenchow Bay area. Two warships and four gunboats were conveying eight landing ships each capable of carrying 200 troops.

In the first 30 minutes of action, seven Red landing craft were sunk. Col. Lu Ta of the Defense Ministry said. He reported three of the four Red gunboats were set afire and possibly sunk.

Lu said the small transports were loaded with troops and supplies but he refused to speculate on their mission.

County Democrats Name Delegates to Convention

Oakland County Democrats last night endorsed the candidacy of Thomas Giles Kavanagh Jr., of Southfield Township, for nomination to run for State Supreme Court justice April 4.

They elected delegates to the State Democratic Convention Feb. 26 in Grand Rapids where the April 4 ticket will be selected.

Kavanagh also served as chairman of the county meeting held in the county office building at 1 Lafayette St., with T. C. Holland of Pontiac acting as secretary.

Group authorized delegates to the state meeting to adopt unit rule at Grand Rapids by majority vote if they so desire.

Unit rule would allow the delegation to cast its 86 votes in a bloc, rather than individually.

Another resolution was passed supporting Gov. G. Mennen Williams' program for educational, highway and other improvements.

County Chairman Charles G. Richardson, in immediate past County Chairman Willie M. Brewer and L. Gov. Philip A. Hart, who attended the meeting were named delegates-at-large.

Brewer was honored for his work while county chairman and support was pledged for Richardson. Both winning and losing candidates in last November's election were congratulated for their campaign work.

A resolution was introduced by the Avon Township group calling for a change in the state election law requiring persons seeking nominations to township committees of political parties in direct primary townships to circulate petitions.

Otto Wendell, of Rochester, said the change is needed "to establish party responsibility for the township committee in direct primary townships."

Donald E. Adams, of Waterford Township, proposed an amendment to the Avon resolution. He said the law is confusing in several places and no specific remedy should be proposed until the Legislature has time to study every angle.

The amendment was passed, as amended by Adams, urging the Legislature to study the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Her body stabbed about 20 times and her head hammered with a huge blunt rock, 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin of Farmington Township was discovered by her father and sister last night dead in an icy, spring-fed pond, only 200 yards from her home.

A 16-year-old boy, who moved with his family two months ago to the year-old Franklin Knolls subdivision, stunned police with his confession to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and State Police.

Seized within three hours of the bludgeoning, Floyd Diamond of 32545 Nottingham Knoll is held for investigation of first degree murder and is undergoing further questioning today.

In 30 minutes last night the youth, who was released from Wayne County Training School for boys in Northville Dec. 18, blurted out his statement with little apparent emotion.

He faced police and reporters, easily telling how he earlier had repeatedly stabbed the pretty little girl and left her knife-punctured body in a snowy, mushy pond near Northwestern highway and Middlebelt road.

Kathleen, who had gone to the wooded area to ice-skate numerous times after school, usually had been accompanied by her dog.

But last night the girl came home from school, changed her school uniform—the customary habit girls wear at the Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic School where she attended the fourth grade, said her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. McLaughlin of 39430 Gilchrist.

Pontiac to Be Warmer With Rain Tonight

Warmer weather is due to arrive tonight and tomorrow, but rain coming with it may dampen enjoyment of higher temperatures.

Tonight will be increasingly cloudy and warmer with rain beginning late and continuing tomorrow, the U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts.

Low tonight will be a warm 32 to 36 with Saturday's high from 40 to 44 degrees. Tomorrow night will bring more rain and a low of 32 to 36. Sunday is expected to be a little colder with snow flurries.

Down town Pontiac's temperatures yesterday ranged from a low of 16 in early morning to a high of 33 by mid-afternoon. This morning the mercury stood at 18 at 8 o'clock and rose to 32 by 1 p.m.

Ten Years Sure Made Big Difference in Pay

LONDON (AP)—Ten years ago Dickie Valentine, a 15-year-old page boy, was fired from the Palladium Theater for sassing the head jaitor. His pay at the time was 30 shillings—$4.20—a week.

Today the Palladium announced that Valentine, now Britain's top crooner, will top the stage bill for a fortnight in April. His pay: $2,100 a week.

49 Teenagers in Pie Contest

Waterford's Beth Rose,

Included in Bake-Off

CHICAGO (UP)—Two teenaged boys and a 15-year-old miss from Hawaii took on 46 other oven experts today to see who could turn out the best cherry pie.

It was the 23rd annual National Cherry Pie Baking Contest, where the winners of contests in the 48 states match their culinary magic.

Michigan's entry is Beth Rose, 15, of Waterford Township, Oakland County, who won the state bake-off in Grand Rapids last week.

The contest started (at 9 a.m. EST) in the Grand Ballroom of the Morrison Hotel, which was turned into a giant kitchen and littered with thousands of feet of electric cable for the occasion.

About five hours later (at 2:15 p.m. EST) the best cherry pie and its proud cook were to be announced.

The contest, sponsored by the National Red Cherry Institute, represents the pick of 75,000 young cooks ranging in age from 14 to 21 who competed in bake-offs throughout the nation.

There were some new twists this year, however.

William B. Powell, the institute's executive secretary, said "for the first time in the 23-year (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Ferguson Slated as Manila Envoy

Capital Sources Claim
Ex-Michigan Senator
Eisenhower's Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) is slated to become ambassador to the Philippines, according to highly placed and usually reliable Washington sources.

Ferguson said any comment would have to come from the White House. The White House declined comment. Usually ambassadorial nominations are not announced until sent to the Senate for confirmation.

If nominated, Ferguson would succeed Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, who has served since Navy retirement in 1952. Spruance is reported to be seeking to step down.

Usually reliable quarters reported Ferguson's name is in the process of being cleared with Magaysay of the Philippines.

Customarily the Senate gives unanimous confirmation without a hearing to former senators nominated for governmental appointment. Ferguson was a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in his two terms. He was defeated for re-election last Nov. by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara.

Ambassadors receive $20,000. In Manila they are provided with a residence apart from the embassy and also with a summer residence in the mountains at Baguio.

The Philippine Embassy has a staff of 64 in Manila and 1,243 representatives elsewhere in the islands. It is the center of government intelligence gathering for the entire Far East.

A former Michigan man, the late Frank Murphy served as governor-general of the Philippines, when they were a territory in the early 1930's. She was appointed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who later appointed him attorney general and a supreme court justice. Murphy, a Democrat, started his political career as mayor of Detroit; later was elected governor of Michigan.

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—As a small-town correspondent of the Amarillo Daily News finished his telephone report of a high school basketball game, sports writer W. L. Powell questioned him: "By the way, was this a conference game?"

124 Going From Oakland State GOP Convention Opens Today at Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Some 124 Oakland County Republicans gathered at the Hotel Statler here today for the state GOP convention with both immediate and long-range goals in mind.

The immediate objective is to assure the nomination of Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, of Rochester, to run April 4 for a third term on the State Board of Agriculture.

At the group's county convention Feb. 8 it endorsed Miss Jones for re-nomination to serve on the board which is the governing body of Michigan State College.

The convention will name two persons to run for twin posts on the board. Other candidates for the MSC positions include Dale Stafford, former sports editor of the Pontiac Press and now publisher of the Greenville Daily News.

Also in the field are Edward Geldhoff, of Berrien County; Howard Beatty, of Saginaw and Frank Merriman, of DeKerville.

As an incumbent office holder, Miss Jones is likely to have little opposition for one of the nominations, observers say, unless one of the other candidates should attempt to combat her directly.

Long-range goal of the country group is to use the bargaining power of the county's 124 votes, second in number only to Wayne County, to gain support of other delegations for an Oakland person's nomination to a major state administrative post in 1956.

"Although we're the state's second largest county, its been a long time since an Oakland Republican has been selected to run for auditor general, secretary of state, attorney general or treasurer," said Robert A. Sutton, chairman of the county delegation.

"We hope to lay the groundwork for that at this convention."

The group will have to decide whether to vote individually or in a block. This will probably be done in caucus before the actual convention begins at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Cass Technical High School.

Present Supreme Court Justice Leland W. Carr is expected to be nominated to run for re-election.

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has been mentioned as a possible candidate to run for the Supreme Court spot left vacant by the retirement of Justice Henry M. Butzel.

Moore, however, has not announced candidacy for the nomination. Opening in the race for the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Interview With Youth Who Killed Girl Leaves Reasons for Crime Unanswered

By WILMA GREENWAY

I talked with a boy killer today. A 16-year-old youth who looked about 12, a slight boy, 5 feet 2 inches tall, with a mop of curly brown hair, a pleasant, pale face, and vulnerable brown eyes.

There was no look of viciousness about him. No look of sullenness or hatred. If I had found him playing with my own youngster, I'd have said, "What a nice lad," and felt like tussling his hair.

Yet, on his own confession, Floyd Diamond admitted that only a few hours before he had slain 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin, plunging his pocket knife repeatedly into her back, chest and arms. He admitted he had beaten her on the head with a jagged rock, dragged her to an open pond and left her to lie in the icy water.

What made him do it? A boy whose favorite comic book characters were cowboys, Rin Tin Tin and Lassie—who loved his two Boxer dogs, Mugs and Penny, and his mongrel, Snowball—whose favorite sport was fishing?

A well-mannered boy, who says of his father and mother, "I don't think you could find any better parents than I've got. If anything, they were too good for me."

But a boy, too, who couldn't get beyond the fifth grade in school, whom state police say was considered incorrigible and a truant.

A boy who studied to be an electrician at Wayne County Training School, left there at the age of 16, and made no effort to find a job or study.

A boy who never learned of God or went to church, except during the time he spent at the training school.

"How do you feel?" I asked him. And the boy slayer, who had showed no emotion during hours of police questioning, put his hands over his face and said, "I don't feel good."

He didn't appear contrite, but he appeared nervous, sitting there in the prosecutor's offices in his black and red warmup jacket and faded blue jeans.

He showed little emotion until he told about his attack on the girl, and then he began to shake. "I didn't mean to kill her," he (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3) body, then pulled off her brown reversible plaid, snow-suit "jack-of" and her yellow black-squared shirt.

"I dragged her by her feet to the pond about 20 feet. Then I picked up a rock about 10 inches across.

"She said to me again: 'Please, don't hurt me anymore, don't hit me again with that rock.'

"But I hit her three times."

He said he left her limp body in the four feet of partially frozen water.

When the girl failed to return home about 5:30 p.m., McLaughlin said, he and his daughter, Theresa, 17, and a neighbor, E. F. Kovary, of 2948 Gilchrist, began a search for Kathleen.

Meanwhile, Kathleen's mother, Martha, saw the boy walking in front of his home. She grabbed the boy by the arm and demanded to know where her daughter was. She said she had been told that he was the last to be with her at the pond.

"I don't know. I didn't do anything to her... didn't do anything to her at all," police quoted the boy as saying.

His stepmother, Marge, 43, said the boy came home without her notice. Floyd ate supper with his father, Benny, and mother, not showing the least sign of distress, they said.

During the time, the search produced Kathleen's body. Her father suddenly heard a scream from his daughter, Theresa. She had found one of Kathy's gloves near the pond and as she pointed toward the open water McLaughlin spotted the child's form in the water.

He plunged in, pulled her to the bank and tried to administer artificial respiration. Shocked and in tears, McLaughlin picked up the body of his daughter.

Police were called and immediately went to the boy's home. While he was being questioned in a state police auto outside, other Farmington Police and State Police of Redford Post searched the house.

The boy gave different accounts of his whereabouts and offered three different alibis. He said he left Kathleen at the pond with three other boys and described one boy perfectly to himself.

Finally, the boy admitted to Lt. Fred Davids and Detective Frank Barkman, both of the post, that he had slain the girl.

In the meantime, police found Floyd's blood-stained shoes and dungarees underneath his bed. He had changed his clothing in the bedroom and sat down to a hearty dinner of dumplings and sauerkraut. He later helped his mother with the dishes and then walked back to the McLaughlin home, where the frantic search had started.

The youth was returning to the scene to recover his broken blade when he was stopped and asked about the child's whereabouts.

Western States Lashed by Snow and Arctic Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow and arctic air spread over some Western states and more snow fell in New England today. The cold air swept southward over the northwestern Great Plains during the night, moved to the west side of the Rockies and extended southward over Idaho, Utah and parts of Nevada.

Temperatures dropped moderately, generally 5 to 20 degrees lower than yesterday. Lowest readings were under 10 degrees in Montana.

Heavy snow fell during the night in northern New England, with new falls measuring up to 10 inches at Rumford, Me., which reported 28 inches on the ground. Warm Gulf air moved northward over the Southern Plains with temperatures in the 50s northward to Kansas. The warmest part of the country was southern Texas, with a reading of 69 at Brownsville early today.

Most of the eastern half of the country, excluding New England, was fairly mild and partly cloudy.

He had lived with his family in the vicinity of Seven Mile Rd. and Gratiot Ave. in Detroit before moving to the modest subdivision of 165 residents. The homes in the new community are spacious ranch-type dwellings.

Floyd's mother, who said the youth attempted to "kill me once", said that he had only finished the fourth grade in school. Although 16 years old and not attending school, he has not been working.

He was described by his mother and juvenile authorities as an incorrigible boy, small for his age and with a violent temper, always on the aggressive.

Ziem today said he would seek a waiver on the boy's juvenile status to be prosecuted as an adult, due to the nature of the crime.

The prosecutor also said he would recommend questioning of the boy in connection with the unsolved murder of Detroit's Jo Ann Gillespie.

Before moving to the new community, the boy's family lived on Detroit's east side about four miles northeast from where the Gillespie girl was ravished and bludgeoned to death.

The McLaughlin home last night was the scene of shocked neighbors who came to Kathleen's home to hear the unbelievable account.

They all had recalled that the young girl had been the most popular child among the children in the community.

Her distraught mother and older sister had to be placed under doctor's care last night when the child's body was brought into the home by the grieving father, who placed her body on the kitchen floor.

The mother and Theresa refused to enter the kitchen. A nearby doctor was called to give medical treatment to Kathleen's mother and sister. Another sister, Judy, 15, who also attends Our Lady of Sorrow High School with Theresa, wept, "My little sister, my little sister."

MORE
The mother had to be restrained several times by her doctor as she burst into tears, crying "My baby... my baby."

But later Mrs. McLaughlin gazed aimlessly and philosophically upon her family's move to Farmington from Cincinnati last March. They were the first family in the subdivision.

"We came here on St. Patrick's Day, because I thought it would be lucky, she said with a forced smile and tears welled in her eyes. You know, we're all Irish through and through."

Clasping her hands as though in prayer, she said with hesitant voice:

"She was a beautiful child with dark brown hair and bright blue eyes. She had a face like the map of Ireland. I always told her that you know."

The girl's body was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where a post mortem is being performed today.

The only apparel left on the child's body, was her blue-jeans, which had not been disturbed, and a girl's type undershirt with shoulder straps.

Kathy's father, a salesman, was transferred to Detroit from Cincinnati. He is employed as a salesman with the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

The youth last night was lodged in the Oakland County Children's Home, guarded by police, because he still is a juvenile.

Ziem said he is awaiting an autopsy report expected to determine if the victim's being submerged in water had anything to do with her death.

The prosecutor said he would probably ask later today that the boy be waived to his jurisdiction.

"A hearing date on the waiver will then be set by Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore," Ziem stated.

Judge Moore will conduct a brief hearing this afternoon to decide where Diamond will be held. He is now in the County Children's Home.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons aided police in the questioning of the boy. Irons said that a team of detectives today would be assigned to question the youth about other cases.

said. "But she called me names. 'I chased her with the knife, but I only meant to scare her.'

"Then when she tripped, I fell on her and the knife went in. I got scared, thinking about the police and everything, so I killed her."

"What kind of movies do you like?" I asked. He told me that he liked all movies, but especially dog and cowboy films.

"Anything except love movies," he said.

Suddenly his voice took on a peculiar tenseness.

"I don't like love pictures," he repeated. And then, insistently, "Whenever they show a love picture, I get up and walk out."

"Why don't you like them?" I asked. His eyes were expressionless. "I just don't like them."

Questioned as to what his ambition was, the youth admitted that he hadn't tried hard to find work. "I quit school when I was 16 because I found it hard to learn, when I needed money. I just asked my parents."

"I don't know why I did the thing I did. My parents were always good to me. I ain't blaming them... though I think I was spoiled. 'I think I should have been punished when I did things wrong. Sometimes I was punished, but most of the time I'd get away with things."

The thing I wanted to do most in life was fish. I'd like to have made a career out of fishing. I'd planned to go on a fishing trip to Florida with some friends, but now I can't."

"I've got a glass fishing rod... Well, maybe my brother Benny can use it when he gets out of the Navy."

What does it feel like to interview a boy killer? Not what you'd think.

You don't feel rage. You don't feel hatred. You don't feel disgust. You feel only the momentousness of the immense imponderable "Why?" revolving in your mind—and in your heart an infinite sorrow for the senseless waste.

second high-court nomination are former state treasurer D. Hale Brake and Circuit Judge John Simpson of Jackson County.

Another key issue facing the delegation is who to support in the rivalry for the GOP state chairmanship.

Present Chairman John Feikens, former Eisenhower manager in Michigan, is seeking reelection with opposition from another Wayne County man, Arthur T. Iverson, former Wayne chairman.

Another Wayne resident, Richard T. Durant, has been mentioned as a compromise, but has not announced candidacy.

Outstagers have advanced the name of former Auditor General John B. Martin Jr., of Grand Rapids, also without his authorization.

The Feikens opposition is based on the disappointing showing of state Republicans in last November's election.

Feikens said he would stay in the fight to provide leadership for the younger and liberal elements of the party—the so-called Eisenhower bloc.

Iverson has carefully avoided the label of anti-Eisenhower and no one has been able to successfully pin it on him.

His election probably would be considered a victory for the Republican old guard, but it would be a victory mixed with disappointment at the party's lack of ballot box success.

Iverson has said Feikens should not receive the whole blame for the party's ill luck—but has argued that new leadership is wanted.

Iverson said he was a "liberal"—defining that as one who recognizes the views of all segments of the party.

At this point it seems likely that other present office besides Miss Jones and Carr will be renominated. They are Supt. of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor and University of Michigan Regent Joseph Herbert.

William G. Cadlip, Detroit attorney, hopes to be Herbert's running mate for the Regency, but Flint attorney Harry Gault is also mentioned.

Unopposed so far for the second spot on the State-Board of Education ticket is Stephen Nesbit, of Fremont.

U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell will give the "keynote" address kicking off the formal convention Saturday.

The Oakland group will caucus first at 7 p.m. tonight in their Statler headquarters and later at midnight.

They will gather again Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Hotel Tuller before adjourning to the high school.

County group's steering committee consists of Willis E. Kushman, Edward E. Wilson, Harry W. Horton, John P. Wood, Chad M. Ritchie, Richard Blake, Everett F. Hayes, Ernest Huthwaite, Howard K. Kelley, Wilson Severance and Richard Sauerbrun.

Another task before the convention is naming a new State Central Committee and prefecting an organization to carry the party through the next presidential campaign.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (U)—Thomas M. Wilson of Cleveland, Ohio, will replace Richard Hintermeister in the art department of Cranbrook School, Harry D. Hoey, headmaster, has announced.

Wilson will specialize in industrial art and mechanical drawing instruction and will serve as an assistant track coach in the spring.

He has taught in the Wheeling, W. Va. public school system and the Thomas Edison Opportunity School in Cleveland. Wilson studied at West Virginia Institute of Technology and the Cleveland Institute of Art.

Pontiac Sales Boom in Early February

Pontiac dealers throughout the United States sold 14,018 new 1935 cars during the first ten days of February, R. M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, revealed today.

This figure is nearly 50 per cent greater than the same period a year ago. Sales of all General Motors cars for the first ten days this month totaled 99,754.

Early February sales of both Pontiac and GM cars generally shattered all previous records, according to Harlow H. Curtice, GM president.

problem, but without recommending the Avon solution.

Another resolution allowed the various county units to double their delegation to Grand Rapids, if they desire, by giving each person only a half vote.

Committee chairmen last night were Hayward Whitlock, of Pontiac; Leonard Bennett, of South Lyon; Howard Coleman, of Southfield Township; and Brewer.

49 Teenagers Show Cherry Pie Skill

history of the bake-off, the male sex is represented."

It seems that the girls weren't able to make the grade in North Dakota and Missouri. So the states are represented by 16-year-old David Ludtke of Grand Forks, N.D., and 17-year-old Gene Marlin Goff of Jefferson, City, Mo.

Another first was recorded when the Hawaiian Islands sent a representative.

She's 15-year-old Kay Ooka of the town of Paia, a girl who likes best to cook Chinese food but is still the best cherry pie baker in all the islands.

She brought along some fresh pineapple juice to put in her pie filling instead of the lemon juice most cooks use to cut the sweetness.

She said she means to bake the "best cherry pie in the 49 states."

The contestants were provided with electric ranges and all the necessary supplies needed to bake the pies of their choice.

The national champion will win a $500 home economics college scholarship, the range on which the prize-winning pastry was cooked and a trip with all expenses paid to Washington and New York.

The four runners-up are to win $250 scholarships, plus the ranges which they used in the contest.

Hot Radiator Thieves Get 30 Days to Cool Off

BALTIMORE (U)—Three men were jailed here yesterday for stealing a radiator from an apartment building about to be dismantled.

Police testified the radiator was still heated—fresh off the pipes. As he sent Frank Johnson to jail for 30 days and gave Wallace Clavon and Harry Thomas 15-day terms, Magistrate Howard L. Aaron commented:

"I've heard about people who would steal anything but a hot stove, but here is a case of stealing a hot radiator."

The Day in Birmingham City May Abandon Plans for Participation in Drain

BIRMINGHAM (U)—The city may take independent steps to abate pollution of the Rouge River, as ordered by the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert said today he is recommending to the City Commission that "studies be initiated for enlargement of the city's sewage treatment plant" at the Rouge River. A year and a half ago the project was estimated at $200,000.

Meeting here yesterday, the six municipalities in the proposed $2,740,000 Evergreen interceptor sewer project came no closer to settling on the proper allocation of costs, Egbert said.

Egbert said Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the Water Resources Commission, indicated that he would recommend the commission seek court action at a Feb. 24 meeting in Lansing.

Greatest contributor to the project would be Southfield Township, with $1,700,000. But Southfield and the City of Lathrup Village contend their shares are too great and that the percentage of costs were not figured equitably.

Egbert said the Evergreen advisory board may have an independent check made in efforts to clear the way financially, for the project.

Representatives from the municipalities mentioned, plus Troy and Bloomfield Townships and Bloomfield Hills, will meet again here at 9:30 a.m. Monday. All but Troy have been cited by the water commission.

For the next two Saturdays the Secretary of State's office at 820 S. Woodward will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Edwin P. Dowd, branch manager, urged residents not to put off their purchases any longer since he anticipates increased crowds each day until the Feb. 28 deadline.

Dick Reed and his orchestra will play for all Catholic high school students in the area at a dance sponsored by the Holy Name Newman Club from 9 p.m. to midnight tonight at the Community House. Carol Whitty is dance chairman.

Kindergartners through sixth graders are invited to tomorrow's 10:30 a.m. story hour at Baldwin Library. Children's librarian Kathleen Pickett will read "Jack and the Beanstalk" and "Peter Humberg and the White Cat."

A bake sale will be held at Nan's Hat Shop on N. Woodward starting at 9 a.m. tomorrow, by MOMS Club Unit 3.

Trumans Are Planning to Visit Key West Soon

KEY WEST, Fla. (UP)—Former President and Mrs. Harry Truman plan to come to Key West for a vacation soon, former Secretary of Defense Louis A. Johnson said today.

Johnson said he invited Truman to join him here and that Truman said he would be down "as soon as he finishes the manuscript on his memoirs."

While in office, Truman used Key West as his little White House.

No More Bowling in the White House

WASHINGTON (INS)—The bowling alleys installed in the White House while Harry S. Truman was President are being removed to make room for more office space. The White House announced today that the $5,000 twin alleys which have such deluxe features as automatic pinsetters and electronic scoreboards will be set up across the street in the basement of the old State Department Building.

President Eisenhower has never used the alleys in the basement of the White House's west wing, but they have been used regularly by White House guards, who bowl in the Police Bowling League.

Truman visited the alleys once or twice to practice, but he was not a bowler either.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty said the bowling alleys will be available to more members of the executive staff in their new location.

The White House also contains a swimming pool and a fully equipped gymnasium. A golf putting green also has been installed on the south lawn for Eisenhower.

Two Men Admit Illegally Luring Ducks to Death

DETROIT (AP)—An Ohio conservation official and a Detroit area factory worker pleaded guilty in federal court yesterday to a charge of illegally luring wild ducks to their death in an Erie Township marsh last Nov. 17.

Maurice Kocher, Toledo industrial oil salesman and a member of the Ohio Wildlife Council, and Fred LaPointe, a Ford Motor Co. employee, were charged with violating the federal migratory bird treaty act. Assistant U. S. Attorney Ronald L. Greenberg said it was the 1st case under the act in 14 years.

Federal agents said the two men had spread corn and wheat among decoys in front of their duck blind. Decoys alone, the agents said, are permitted.

Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman released the two men under personal bond pending a federal probation report.

St. Fred Lettermen Hold 'Varsity Ball'

Girls in ermine and taffeta and boys in suits and ties dancing under red and white decorations with figures of basketball, football and baseball players will be the scene tomorrow night at St. Fred's Lettermen Club's Varsity Ball.

Highlighting the affair will be the crowning of the king and queen, Jerry Bradley, senior, and Nancy Morey, junior, and their court. First in attendance will be Jean McHugh, senior, and Aaron Koenig, junior. Next will be Betty Jo Fitzpatrick and Ed Kast, sophomores, with Judy Ermel and Martin Koenig, freshman, the third couple making up the court.

Club officers Mike Wells, president, secretary Jerry Bradley and treasurer Don Cox will oversee jobs done by other club members. Among them will be Mark Peck, Don Younce, Del Chavez, Ross

Moody, Jerry Crawford, Dick Doyon and David Dumas.

Others are Jim Duran, Martin Koenig, Jim Kraus, Henry Landry, Dan Morrissey, Larry Morrow, John Powe, Walter Quafes, Jesse Ramierz, Tom Sweetman and Daniel Wagner.

Chaperones of the affair are Mr.

and Mrs. Al Serra and Mr. and Mrs. Orbe Quarles.

Tickets may be bought at the door from any member of the club. The public is welcome.

Next will be Betty Jo Fitzpatrick and Ed Kast, sophomores, with Judy Ermel and Martin Koenig, freshman, the third couple making up the court.

Club officers Mike Wells, president, secretary Jerry Bradley and treasurer Don Cox will oversee jobs done by other club members. Among them will be Mark Peck, Don Younce, Del Chavez, Ross

Moody, Jerry Crawford, Dick Doyon and David Dumas.

Others are Jim Duran, Martin Koenig, Jim Kraus, Henry Landry, Dan Morrissey, Larry Morrow, John Powe, Walter Quafies, Jesse Ramierz, Tom Sweetman and Daniel Wagner.

Chaperones of the affair are Mr.

and Mrs. Al Serra and Mr. and Mrs. Orbe Quarles.

Tickets may be bought at the door from any member of the club. The public is welcome.

ST. MICHAEL

Senior Theatians heaved a sigh of relief this week as their play drew to a very successful close Monday evening. After the performance, all seniors gathered at the homes of Barbara Cooper and Mary Carol Trudell to celebrate.

Big news on the North Side this week is the intense campaigning for the Coronation Ball Royalty, and the suspense is mounting steadily. Who will be the reigning monarchs? No one will know until tonight at the dance.

Sophomores completed their study of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" by attending a special matinee of the film, which is playing at a local theater.

Juniors Mary Singles and Fred West attended the recital given by blind pianist Alec Templeton last weekend. Mary secured an interview with the star for the Michaelite and all students are awaiting the next issue.

Colleen McEnery, St. Mike's contribution to figure skating, copped second place in the Grayling Winter Sports Carnival. First place was won by a third-year college student, so we are all very proud of Colleen.

A clever Valentine's Day stunt was sponsored by CSMC this week. In return for a contribution for the missions, members passed out red paper hearts which students pinned to the left side of their blouses or shirts. Very romantic. Beneficiary is a missionary in the South.

"Sign my book" was the most used sentence in Room 1 this week, as all seniors collected their classmates' autographs on the playbooks to preserve for posterity.

The "latest thing" at St. Mike's this week is the fad for senior girls to alter their hair color. The shades vary from brick red, chestnut brown, bright blue and jet black to a festive silver-gray.

Thursday, St. Michael was honored with the visit from Michigan State College's inspector for accrediting.

Feb. 13 was Holy Name Sunday at St. Michael, and the high school boys accompanied their fathers to Mass and Holy Communion. The Mass was served by Mr. Kravetz and his sons, Adam and Fred. After Mass the group was served breakfast in the Parish Hall.

Tuesday found the majority of seniors sleeping in as they enjoyed a half-day off after the closing of the senior play.

Senior American history class is studying labor unions this week, and rumor has it that the group plans to picket for less homework.

St. Michael girls' basketball team had its hands full this week, playing Clarkston and St. Mary of Mount Clemens. After a long rest of several weeks, the girls were glad to be active again, but tired.

Election of new Student Council officers and work on the forthcoming Playcrafters' production of "Mr. Barry's Etchings" highlight the news at PHS this week.

Forthcoming plans of the council include selection of a TV set by a special committee. The set will be purchased with money earned in last year's magazine drive.

The student body has been treated to a number of assemblies this past week. Tuesday being a discussion of religion with five men speaking on the home, church and school in commemoration of National Brotherhood Week. Wednesday, two pianists performed for the students.

Spring must be just around the corner, for the Speech Department and speech students are preparing for the forthcoming contest. A statewide affair, the contest includes original oratory, humorous and dramatic interpretation and declamation, and extemporaneous speaking.

Also looking forward to spring are the students making plans for the Junior Academy of Science State Fair to be held in May at Hillsdale College. John Youngpeter and Mary Kennedy represented Pontiac High's Linnean Society at the State Council in Ann Arbor Saturday.

Also attending to complete the agenda for the fair were Alex Sekies, James Stewart and Jack Hemming. Others were Janet Deem, John Knight, John Doerr, Devone Stone, James Smith and Richard Moats.

Besides making plans for the fair, the group visited the Natural Science Building, the University Museum and the Botanical Garden. The tour was especially interesting to masculine members of the group, for their guide was Margaret McLaure, Miss Michigan for 1954.

Retailers worked up appetites and cooked tasty dishes last Wednesday when they held a box social at the home of Linda Fenchel. The girls' boxes, filled with treats, were auctioned off to the boys.

Future Nurses Club installed new officers recently, giving the duties of president to Elizabeth Davis. Kathie Armstrong took over as vice president, with Carolyn Leach becoming corresponding secretary. Marica Thomas is treasurer and Norma Bloodworth, historian.

Seniors are busy making plans for the boat trip they will take May 20-22. They will go to Mackinac Island on the SS South America with students from Redford High School.

Views of Europe and America will be seen by members of the Latin Club when they journey to Detroit Wednesday to see "Cinema Holiday." A number of the Latin students saw the movie "Julius Caesar" recently in connection with their class work on Caesar.

Arts and techniques of skin divers were told to the Projectionist Club by Mike Clark at the meeting recently. Mike, while relating experiences, also showed the equipment skin divers use, with Dave Fitzwater and David Nicholson as models.

Viola Fitch and Russell Buhler, librarians, have announced new members of the library staff, Ruby Buse, Nancy Coggin, Harold Hanson, Karva Keel and Mary Kennedy are among them. Other new members, Ernest McClelland, Charles Moss and Bill Walkerdine, bring the staff of assistants to 30.

Students viewed all sorts of interesting things in the hall showcases this week. The displays ranged from entries by the Photography Club to exhibits of marine animals made by Biology Club and "designs of line" sketches from art classes.

St. Frederick

With the groundwork having been well-laid for the senior play, the cast having been picked, regular Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night rehearsals got under way. The play, "The Little Dog Laughed," under the direction of Natalie Sayers, will have Dorothy Bergin and Mike Wells in the leading roles.

Gail Dean, Ross Moody, Carlyn Robichaud, James Russell and Marlene Green are other players in the single cast. Don Cox, Judy Dean, Ida Jane Arcand, Pat Nicholson, Nenta Paramo, Elinor Schutt, Barbara Johnson, Mark Peck, Jim Kraus and Mary Jane Leahy complete the cast. The production will be ready for presentation the last week of April.

"What can be done about juvenile delinquency?" was a question that caused much discussion in U. S. history classes this week. "Do girls like rough and tough boys?" and "Why are girls finding it necessary to form gangs of their own?" were other questions bringing forth varied opinions.

Nancy Morey and Jerry Bradley reported that by Wednesday noon new shoulders and right arms were needed to replace their old ones, which were well-worn from receiving so many congratulatory handshakes. They won the honor of reigning as king and queen for the Varsity Ball tomorrow night.

Panel discussions highlighted senior English classes this week. After reading seven novels, the students were ready to tell everyone about them in panel fashion. Second-year Latin students would have everyone believing they're scholars after finishing their first book of the battles of the Helvetians, except that third-year classes know different. Old timers warn that the worst is yet to come.

Red hearts and arrows being passed, sent and accepted by underclassmen made it very unmistakable that Valentine's Day has come and gone for another year. Fifth graders busied themselves by making pretty white baskets trimmed in red for the big day.

The more the snow fell, the louder the complaints came from the girls this week. Visions of dragging their pretty new formal through it and balancing on one high heel while pulling off boots were nothing for the girls to be happy about.

History notes, history books and lots of history talk marked sophomores early in the week, as they tried to put everything into readiness for the exam today.

Juniors were busy showing movies on the lunch hours Monday and Tuesday. A review of some of the big league football games ended with a comedy, sending students back to school in jolly spirits.

Girls' basketball team travels to St. James of Ferndale Sunday.

St. Mike's to Crown King, Queen at Ball

Juniors at St. Michael High School are giving their Coronation Ball tonight in the school hall. Featuring the crowning of king and queen, the dance is under the direction of Jerry Steinhilber. Janet English heads the decoration committee with Jack Erb in charge of refreshments. Tickets are under the direction of Gloria Vizza, Marcia Kramer head the advertising and Dick Soucy will see to the coat checking. Candidates for king and queen are Margaret Bateman, Marlene Cook, John Adams and Ed Sutherland. The announcement of final selections will be made tonight. The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly will preside at the coronation.

Congress Dairy Surpluses by Raising Consumption

Drop in Production of Milk Not Answer, Says Official

ORTONVILLE—Increased consumption of dairy products is the best alternative in solving problems of surpluses and low prices, Michigan Milk Producers Assn. secretary-manager Howard F. Simmons said yesterday.

He addressed 140 members of the Brandon Township local of the National Grange, at that group's annual meeting.

Simmons posed the alternative of increased consumption of dairy products against the milk producer "laying himself off as a laborer, part time," which he termed improbable.

Avondale PTSA Program Slated

District Schools to Join in Founders' Day Event Thursday Night

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Avondale High School will be host to other schools of the district at a meeting Thursday commemorating PTSA Founder's Day. The program will begin at 8 p.m. with Toby Aldrich as master of ceremonies.

Four of the district schools will have a part in the program. Fifth grade students from Stiles School will give a choral recitation, under the direction of Mrs. Elsa Levesque.

The second grade of Stone school will present its rhythm band, with Mrs. Beryl Hill conducting. Mrs. Betty Smith's first grade dancing class from Auburn Heights School will be featured, and Helen Boyer will present a tableau from the Elmwood School.

During intermission and between school presentations, Miss Wigle will conduct the mixed ensemble and boys ensemble.

PTSA differs from other PTA organizations in that students also are members. Many of the students worked in the preparation of the Founder's Day program.

Nan Harleyvetch worked on program arrangements; Nancy Riggle, refreshments; May Han on the publicity committee in cooperation with a parent and a teacher; and Richard Han prepared the posters and various other notices.

The PTSA will hold its regular meeting at 7 p.m. preceding the program. At this meeting officers nominees for next year will be presented.

Tri-County Association Sets New Meeting Date

MARLETTE — A meeting of the M38 Tri-County Improvement Association originally planned for this Monday, has been postponed to Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. in the Marlette Village Hall.

The executive committee will report on a recent conference with state Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler. The meeting is open to the public.

Take Crippled Children on Circus Outing

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Six members of the Waterford Township Business and Professional Women's Club turned out Wednesday night to help transport 47 crippled children from the area to the Shrine Circus in Detroit.

Participating were Mrs. Ray Kingsbury, Mrs. Fred Allyn, Mrs. Raymond Swaney, Mrs. Chester Arnold, Mrs. Harry Ault, and Mrs. Edward Rockwell.

County Deaths

Mrs. Avis L. Turner
MILFORD—Service for Mrs. Avis L. Turner, 78, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, with burial in Commerce Cemetery. She died today.

Surviving are five sons, Lloyd, William, Sidney, and LeRoy, all of Milford, Jarvis of Walled Lake, a daughter Mrs. Herman Westphal of Milford, 36 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Albert Schultz
METAMORA — Service for Mrs. Albert (Anna) Schultz, 68, of 2447 S. Lapeer Rd. will be held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the Baird Funeral Home, with burial in Rochester. She died today.

Surviving besides her husband is a daughter Mrs. Elton Stocker of Lapeer, two sons, Albert Jr. of Melvindale and Bruce of Lapeer, 11 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, a brother, Henry Ross of Romeo, and three sisters, Mrs. Nettie Cryderman, Mrs. Jay Gladstone, Miss Netta Ross, all of Rochester.

The New Hudson Extension Club will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. Russell Smith at 3000 Road for a lesson on hat making.

Waterford Township
Four Towns Old Scout Leaders will hold a meeting at the Waterford Scout Leaders Association meeting to be held Monday afternoon in the GAI Building.

TOP FARMERS—Six of the nation's top farmers were guests of industry in the Oakland County area this week. The national officers of the Future Farmers of America, on their annual good will trip, are shown above at Tractor and Implement Division, Ford Motor Co. Birmingham, with Merritt D. Hill, assistant general manager. The officers include Billy Gunter of Live Oak, Fla., president; Philip Brouillette, Richford, Vt., Lowell Gisselbeck, Watertown, S. D.; Jay Wright, Alamogordo, N. Y.; Charles Anken, Holland Patent, N. Y. and Bob Futrelle, Mt. Olive, N. C. They represent the 371,000 FFA members in visiting firms which sponsor the work of the FFA.

4-H Members to Go on Livestock Tours

First in a series of livestock tours for Oakland County 4-H Club members will start at 1 p.m. tomorrow, when county 4-H Club Agent Jack Worthington takes the group through Great Oaks Farm in Rochester and Lakefield Farms in Clarkston.

Worthington said the expeditions will continue each month, traveling to farms where different breeds are raised.

"Purpose of the tours is to show 4-H members the overall methods of raising livestock, chiefly to get experience for team judging competition next fall," said Worthington. "At the end of 3 or 4 months they will have seen all the different enterprises in this field."

Waterford GOP Women Set Luncheon Meeting

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Waterford Republican Women's Club will hold a luncheon meeting at 12:30 Monday at the Old Mill Tavern. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Robert Suttin.

Mrs. Lynn D. Allen is in charge of reservations.

Card Party Is Tonight

NEW HUDSON—The Maccabees are holding a card party tonight at their hall, with the public invited to attend.

U.S. January Purchase of Dairy Surplus Drops 60 Per Cent Over 1954 Period

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department says that price-support purchases of butter, cheese and dry milk in January were about 70 per cent smaller than a year earlier.

This is a continuation of the trend which began last fall. For a period of some days during December, it wasn't necessary to make any purchases of butter at all.

On the surface, such reports appear to be very encouraging but the decline in government buying doesn't tell the whole story. For instance, the winter of 1953-

PTA Carnival Slated Saturday at Dryden School

DRYDEN—The carnival spirit will reign at Dryden High School Saturday night when the school PTA puts on its winter festival.

To be held from 7-11 p.m., the carnival will include two door prizes and approximately 20 booths. Both merchants and residents have donated prizes and articles to help make it a success.

Included among the many booths will be a fish pond, always popular with the youngsters, and a hot dog stand.

Proceeds from the fair will be divided between the high school music program and the athletic fund, according to Mrs. William Thorman, general chairman.

Children will be admitted free, and a 10-cent admission charge will be made for adults.

Keego Library Given Time to Find Quarters

KEEGO HARBOR — At the monthly meeting of the West Bloomfield School Board, permission was granted to the Keego Harbor branch of the township library to remain in the Community Center Building until the building is disposed of.

The Library Board was informed that a 60-day written notice would be given when the time comes to vacate.

Bid Date Named for New School

Superintendent Asks Part Time Classes in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The board of education last night set March 17 as the date to receive bids on the elementary school to be built at Crescent Lake and Hatchery Rds.

The 12-room building will serve portions of the Williams Lake area as well as Drayton Woods.

In order to handle the school enrollment next year, Sept. of Schools William Shumack recommended to the board that grades 7 and 8 be on a part time program.

The recommendation was discussed, and further study will be made of it.

The board received a request from Waterford Township Girl Scout leaders for use of the school buses in connection with their camping program next summer. The superintendent was directed to contact the state department of public instruction about such arrangements.

MARION DOBERKOE
Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Doberkoe of Mark Twain Avenue, Detroit, have announced the engagement of their daughter Marion Christine to Edward N. Chyz. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chyz of White Lake. A September wedding is planned.

Slaying Confession Deemed Worthless

DETROIT (AP)—Police today discounted as worthless the confession of a 34-year-old convicted peeping Tom in the investigation of the two-year-old rape-slaying of JoAnn Gillespie.

Marvin Lane, chief of detectives, said in an intensive police investigation and the findings of three psychiatrists showed Richard Ballingall, of Detroit, was innocent of the crime.

Ballingall, a former gravedigger and odd-jobs man, admitted orally and in a formal statement Sunday that he had and dragged the 18-year-old junior college student into the alley near her home where her mutilated body was found Jan. 3, 1951.

Monday, Ballingall retracted his confession, saying he was "confused."

After three days of examination, psychiatrists recommended Ballingall be placed in the psychiatric ward of a city hospital until he could be committed to a mental institution.
