Key Sears Man in Senate Quiz on Tactics Used

Shefferman Aid, Guffey Faces Questions About Union-Busting Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the key men who helped Sears, Roebuck & Co. resist a 1953 unionizing drive faces senatorial questioning today about the tactics used.

The special Senate committee investigating improper labor-management activities summoned James T. Guffey, one of the Nathan W. Shefferman representatives assigned to assist Sears in combating efforts of the Retail Clerks Union to organize its Boston area stores.

Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant, heads a firm known as Labor Relations Associates. He has been described by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy as a specialist in "union busting."

A top Sears executive, W. W. Tudor, vice president in charge of personnel and employee relations, testified last Friday that mistakes he described as inexcusable and disgraceful were made in defeating the organization efforts of the Retail Clerks in the Boston area.

He blamed them on Shefferman's firms and "certain personnel" of the big mail order company and told the senators that "a repetition of these mistakes will not be tolerated by this company."

Tudor described the tactics employed as "glaring exceptions" to Sears' over-all handling of its relations with its 205,000 employees. Guffey's name was brought into the hearings Friday, with testimony that he attempted to dissuade Sears' employees from joining the Retail Clerks Union.

One former Sears employee testified that after he urged affiliation with the Retail Clerks his pay was cut $24 a week and he later was fired. However, he said he was ordered reinstated by the National Labor Relations Board.

Shefferman set up his own firm in 1948 after working on "union relations" problems for Sears from 1935. Tudor said Shefferman was retained on a consulting basis until last year, when he was dismissed.

Tudor also said that Shefferman, while a labor consultant to Sears, had been permitted like other employees to buy merchandise at wholesale prices.

Avon Man Dies in Auto Accident

Houston Harris Killed as Car Hits Abutment on Crooks Road

An Avon Township man was killed early Sunday as his car struck a bridge abutment on Crooks road about 100 yards north of Hamlin road in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Houston J. Harris, 28, of 2770 Hartline St. was pronounced dead at the scene by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette.

He suffered a fractured neck and skull fracture.

Deputies report that his car struck the abutment and bounced 51 feet across the road, throwing Harris to the pavement. The accident occurred at 2:33 a.m. on the bridge over the Clinton River.

Harris is survived by his wife, Betty, and two children. His body has been taken to Poterius Funeral Home in Rochester.

Halloween Highlight: Mystery Treat Night

Halloween in Pontiac this year again will be highlighted by the "Mystery Treat Night," sponsored annually by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce and Parks and Recreation Dept.

Prizes will await the kids from elementary to high school age that are at home Thursday to hear if they are the lucky winners of prizes ranging from a bicycle to silver dollars.

But it won't be a complete stay-at-home night for the children, as the usual whirl of parties with all the trimmings have been planned at eight schools and centers in the city.

The night will begin with the "Meet and Treat Hour" from 6 to 7 p.m., when the kids are free to visit homes to stuff those sacks with plenty of goodies. Parents are asked to turn on their porch lights at this time as a safety measure.

Officials of the program stress that at this time only are the children to be on the streets. Parties for elementary school children will begin at 7 and run through 8:30. They will be held at Emerson, Hawthorne, Weaver, Owen, and Whittier schools. These children must be home by 9 to be eligible for the prizes.

Police Quiz Bodyguard in Slaying of Mobster Albert Anastasia

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert Anastasia, the cold-blooded executioner of Murder, Inc., will be buried today in a Brooklyn cemetery.

Although he was a Roman Catholic, no mass will be said for him and he will not be interred in consecrated ground.

As the 55-year-old hoodlum is put to rest in Greenwood Cemetery, police continue their search for the two gunmen who shot Anastasia dead as he sat in a hotel barbershop chair here Friday.

Yesterday Anthony Coppola, Anastasia's paunchy chauffeur-bodyguard, was held in $50,000 bail on a vagrancy charge.

Police described him as uncooperative. They are trying to find out why he was not with Anastasia when the mobster was killed. Coppola, 49, was told of his boss' death Friday at Coppola's home in Fairview, N. J. He has given conflicting stories on where he was that morning.

WAGERS TO LIVE

The erstwhile bodyguard was charged specifically with "having no visible means of support and who has given several conflicting answers as to the location of his legal residence and who states he maintains himself partially from proceeds of successful bets and wagers on horse races."

Police have not publicly stated a motive for the killing. Some officials, however, believe that young gangsters, seeking to climb the underworld ladder, may have a hand in the slaying.

No witnesses were brought in for questioning yesterday.

Turnout Slow Despite Fair, Mild Weather

Only Property Owners Eligible to Cast Ballots on Bond Proposal

Clear skies greeted Pontiac property owner voters today as they went to the polls to decide the fate of a $950,000 bond issue to furnish and equip Pontiac General Hospital.

It was expected to remain this way, along with temperatures in the high 40s, as voters have until 8 p.m. to cast their "yes" or "no" ballot. Polls opened at 7 a.m.

At 10 this morning City Clerk Ada R. Evans described the turnout for the special election as slow.

Mrs. Evans said she hoped for an upswing later in the day.

The city is asking property owners to grant it permission to issue $950,000 in general obligation bonds to provide the funds to furnish and equip the four million dollar addition at the city hospital.

Property owners in the city will be the only ones to cast ballots as it is stipulated by state law that only such persons can tell a city whether bonds of this type may be issued on the full faith and credit of the city.

60 PCT. NEEDED
It will take three-fifths or 60 per cent of the total votes cast today for approval of the issue.

If approved, city officials promised that money to pay the interest and principal on the 30-year issue will come from the capital improvement fund. They also said there will be no tax increase next year because of the issue.

All the city's 44 precincts are in operation today with one voting machine per precinct.

The clerk said she expected total tabulations by 10 p.m. The Pontiac Press will offer phone service on the returns as they come in, beginning at 9 p.m. The phone number to call is Federal 2-8181.

Mrs. Evans estimated there are between 15,000 to 17,000 property owners eligible to vote today.

Temperatures Up, Only Temporarily

Temperatures are rising, the U. S. Weather Bureau reports — but only temporarily. For the Pontiac area the forecast is mostly fair and not quite so cold tonight. The low will be 34-38 degrees.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high of 52-56. The outlook for tomorrow night is mostly cloudy with little change in temperature. The low, 34-38.

The outlook for Wednesday is generally cloudy and colder with some snow flurries likely. The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33. At 1 p.m., the temperature was 52.

GM Announces Price Tags on New Models for 1958

General Motors Divisions today announced suggested factory prices for their 1958 cars. As anticipated, all prices are higher than for the 1957 counterparts. The increases range from averages of about 1.5 per cent to slightly under 6 per cent, depending upon the model and make of car.

In the Pontiac price list the models in the Chieftain series, which represents almost 50 per cent of the division's production, have advanced from $53 to $114.

Pontiac's 1958 prices disclose the lowest model at $2,335 and its highest at $2,957, except for the new Bonneville series which was on only limited production last year.

In the new Bonneville series, the convertible will be priced at $3,277 and the sports coupe at $3,179.

In all instances the GM divisions said the higher 1958 prices are due to increased production costs, better styling and improved engineering.

All also said that "entirely new" cars are being offered for 1958 with (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Future of Popular Leader Great Moscow Mystery

Khrushchev Unquestionably on Top After Zhukov Dismissal

MOSCOW (INS) — One thing is certain in Russia today — whatever changes have taken place, the Communist party will come out on top with Nikita S. Khrushchev unquestionably the leading personality in the Soviet Union.

The future of Georgi Zhukov, relieved late Saturday as defense minister, still is a mystery in Moscow.

Soviet papers published only a bare six-line announcement.

But the press has stepped up its hailing of the Communist party as the "supreme inspirer and holder of Soviet power."

(Such a move would be natural if Zhukov, a much-decorated and highly popular military leader, were about to be downgraded.)

Radio Moscow broadcast a Pravda editorial saying the party's strength "lies in ideological and organizational unity in its ranks."

And on Sunday the armed forces were told in the newspaper Red Star that the Communist Party is the supreme power in the land and they are "tightly bound to it."

Comments on the Kremlin shuffle are flying thick and fast in the diplomatic colony. But the diplomats are equally divided between those who are expecting Zhukov to get a higher post and those who think he may be facing a period of "rest."

Reports said Zhukov drove directly to the Kremlin from the airport Saturday after he arrived from his three-week visit to Yugoslavia and Albania and met with members of the Communist party Presidium.

Later Saturday evening the Soviet leaders were one hour late attending an Iranian embassy reception. They told their hosts they had been held up by work.

Minutes later the terse Tass News Agency announcement revealed the change of the defense minister's post from Zhukov to career soldier Marshal Rodion Malinovsky.

STRESS PARTY POWER
The absolute supremacy of the Communist party has been increasingly evident on both the political scene and in the newspapers.

Zhukov has great strength in the army, but his "military friends" were out of Moscow when the announcement was made, according to a guarded phone call from Moscow.

The call hinted that soldiers in the capital for the big military (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

WHAT NEXT? — Things have changed in the Kremlin since 1953 when these Russian leaders attended a Moscow celebration. Georgi Malenkov resigned as premier in 1955 and joined V. M. Molotov and L. M. Kaganovich in demotions following the Kremlin crisis last June. Yesterday came the stark announcement that Marshal Georgi Zhukov had been replaced as Russian defense minister. It is yet to be determined by those outside the Kremlin whether Zhukov is in disgrace or in line for a promotion, such as the premiership. Others in the lineup remaining in power are: Premier Nikolai Bulganin, President K. E. Voroshilov, Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Deputy Minister A. I. Mikoyan.

Heavy Drinking, Smoking Linked to Throat Cancer

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy drinking plus heavy smoking equals greater risk of throat and mouth cancer, especially for pipe and cigar smokers, a cancer researcher said today.

Heavy drinking was defined as consistently taking seven or more shots of hard liquor a day.

Heavy smokers who do this run 10 times the risk of cancer of the larynx, or voicebox, and the mouth than heavy smokers who drink moderately or not at all.

The relative risk appears greater for pipe and cigar men than cigarette smokers, said Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research here.

The findings apply only to drinkers of hard liquor, he told the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society. Not enough wine and beer drinkers have been analyzed yet for conclusive data.

Wynder said he cannot tell whether alcohol alone can start the mouth and throat cancer. He (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

4 Persons Die in One Accident

Traffic Crashes Claim Total of 7 in Michigan; Other Mishaps Take 5

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents took seven lives, four of them in one smashup, in Michigan over the weekend.

One drowning, two cases of asphyxiation, a fatal accidental shooting and the death of a man pinned under an overturned tractor also were reported during the 54-hour check period, bringing to 12 the total death count.

The Associated Press tabulation of weekend accidental deaths in Michigan begins at 6 p.m. Friday and closes at midnight Sunday.

Mitchell Crofoot, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Crofoot of Fowlerville, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision near Fowlerville. Seven persons were injured, including the dead child's parents and three brothers.

David Francell, 57, St. Clair Shores, drowned Saturday night when trapped in his car after it plunged into the Clinton River near Mount Clemens. Macomb County authorities said Francell missed a curve and the car sank in about 10 feet of water.

Houston J. Harris, 28, Rochester, was killed early Sunday when his car struck a bridge abutment in Avon Township.

Asphyxiation caused the death of Everett Webb, 27, and Alice May Slet, 23, who were found in a car in Wyandotte Sunday. Police said the car, which was parked at a curb, apparently had a faulty exhaust system.

Killed in the head-on crash Friday night were George Fountain and his wife, Lucille, both 55, of Sault Ste. Marie, and S. Sgt. Wallace H. Harrell, 28, Okla. City, and M. Sgt. Ernest Goodman, 41, Terre Haute, Ind., both stationed at Kinross Air Force Base. The crash occurred on M-129, 18 miles south of the Soo.

John Cheney, 44, Bellevue, was crushed to death Saturday when a tractor he was using to load gravel onto a truck at a gravel pit near Marshall overturned, pinning him underneath.

Ferdinand H. Herfeld Jr., Huron Township, was killed when his motor scooter and a car collided near his home Friday night.

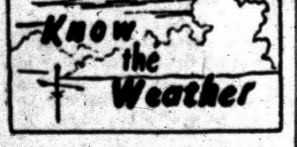

Karen Jean Schultz, 10, was killed Saturday when her 20-year-old brother, Bayle, accidentally discharged a shotgun he was cleaning at their Monroe County home.

3-Year-Old City Boy Hit by Auto, Bruised

Three-year-old John T. Little of 19 Clark St. was hit by a car and bruised Saturday at 2:45 p.m.

James L. Boyer, 34, of 48 Oak Hill St. told Pontiac Police he did not see the boy come out from between parked cars while driving on Clark near Oak Hill.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Little, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Is there much difference between winters today and the winters of yesterday? Were winters years ago really far colder and more severe than today?

Winters today and those of yesterday vary surprisingly little. It is true, however, that there is a slow tendency toward warmer winters but this is in fractions of a degree over a period of a year, or years, as the trend continues.

The winters were felt far more in the "old days" because we did not have the efficient heating systems we have today, and other modern conveniences. But the difference between them is very small.

The memory tends to remember the unusual and therefore the unusual or very severe winters of years back are retained in the memory while the mild ones, or the average ones, are forgotten.

hasn't enough data on heavy drinkers who aren't heavy smokers to make a comparative study.

Purely as theories, he said, alcohol might make the throat and mouth tissues more permeable to tobacco smoke, or heavy drinking might produce diet deficiencies making the tissues more susceptible to cancer-causing agents.

Lung cancer has been associated with cigarette smoking by some statistical studies, with little effect blamed on pipe or cigar smoking.

Wynder said pipe and cigar smokers in this new study had a higher incidence of cancer higher up in the respiratory tract.

The study is based on 209 men with cancer of the larynx, 209 men of the same ages, free of cancer, 132 men with lung cancer, 543 men with cancer of the oral cavity and 207 patients who had either non-cancerous sores of the head, neck or chest or cancers of the lower gastro-intestinal region.

OKLAHOMA CITY — A radiologist from the University of Michigan medical school says the idea pipe smoking causes lip cancer is nonsense.

"If pipe smoking was a cause," said Dr. Isadore Lampe, "you could get as many cases of cancer of the upper lip as the lower lip. You rarely see one of the upper lip."

Dr. Lampe, a pipe smoker himself, said in an interview he believes long exposure to strong sunlight is a factor in malignancies of the lip.

First prize for the grade school children will be the bike. Second prize will be a radio, while third prize will be five silver dollars.

Junior and senior high students will be awarded identical first, second and third place prizes of wrist watches, pen and pencil sets, and five silver dollars respectively.

"The kids must be present at home when the call is made to win the prize," Buzz said.

Drawings will be made from 24,000 tickets signed by students in the public school system.

Don't Let Life Upset You, Says Centenarian

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mrs. Emma Keller threw a cocktail party yesterday afternoon on the occasion of her 100th birthday.

Exhibiting a birthday card from President Eisenhower, she offered this advice:

"Eat and drink what you like. Above all, don't worry. Life is too short to let it upset you."

About 70 guests crowded into the weathered brown house her father built 92 years ago.

They found "Aunt Emma" presiding over the Manhattan and glad to see everybody.

"I have so many friends," she twinkled. "None of them is really of my generation, but they are dear friends."

"I like to meet men. Any woman who has anything to her likes men."

Mrs. Keller, the widow of a Marine engineer, can recall the city in mourning for the death of Abraham Lincoln. The earthquake which leveled the city in 1906 is not so vivid. It merely cracked the plaster in her kitchen.

Also significant was the fact that the announcement published briefly in routine fashion by the Soviet press did not include key working other duties or that he had requested his removal.

The Soviet press harped loudly on loyalty of the public to the party and that the military is "tightly bound" to the party.

There were also hints from Moscow that the Kremlin was waiting to find out the reaction to Zhukov's removal before making any decision on his future.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners to Hold 1st Zone Ordinance Hearing

BIRMINGHAM — Expecting the recently completed proposed zoning ordinance to be one of its major items in some time, city commissioners are scheduling several "hearings" to have all phases of the ordinance thoroughly understood by the public.

The first informal hearing will be held in the city hall tonight, dealing with R-1, R-2 and R-3 Zone Districts, single family residence districts.

Residents learned the first facts of the new ordinance last Wednesday when Herbert Herzberg, city planner, explained it in a session held in the Community House auditorium.

This meeting was held to accommodate more persons. The current official hearings before commissioners are being split into separate groups since the seating capacity of the commission room is limited.

When the plan was announced for "split" hearings, City Manager R. L. Gare stressed the importance of having every interested resident fully informed. The plan was worked out after lengthy discussion and ample notification is being planned for all.

ONE PROTEST RECEIVED

One written protest has already been received concerning the proposed switch from business to two-family residence for a section of East Lincoln avenue, a short distance from Woodward avenue. The writer says that, in his opinion, the trend toward increasing rental property will lower real estate value in the city.

When the "trick or treat" brigade takes over here Wednesday evening there will be two groups—the customary youngsters garbed in masks and costumes out for fun, and a more serious group, out to "help the poor."

Seeking contributions for UNICEF, the young people from several churches will ask for cash donations rather than the goodies which are the popular gift of former years. Following the completion of the UNICEF collections, receipts will be sent as a gift sum from the entire community.

Clarkston Family of 10 to Benefit

Start Fund for Dying Mom

The story of the plight of the Edward Luebke family of Clarkston has spread throughout the Pontiac area, and warm-hearted citizens are preparing for an organized fund-raising campaign Monday night.

Mrs. Luebke, a mother of ten children who is dying of cancer, has given her full consent to the establishment of a trust-fund which has been set up in the Clarkston State bank for her children after she is gone.

Although Luebke is now working, bills have become unmanageable, and "Mickey" is concerned with her children's welfare after she is gone.

After adopting out the three youngest children, 6-month-old Judy, Terry, 2, and Cindy, 3, there remains at home Johnny, 5, Molly, 10, Edward, 12, Elizabeth, 13, Susie, 14, and Lester, 15. George, 7, is with relatives up north.

Mickey Luebke is again home with her remaining family since her release from St. Joseph's hospital Oct. 16, and is being cared for by Susie, who must remain out of school to be with her mother. Leading the fund-raising drive are Mrs. Lucille Richardson of 153 S. Josephine St., and Mrs. Ben Harris of Clarkston.

The women have contacted numerous residents, organized canister operations and has set the wheels in motion to get help for the stricken family.

Head man for the Pontiac area drive is Rev. Robert North, pastor of the Zion Nazarene church. Many of the churches have pledged full cooperation, after an organizational meeting held last night.

Elvin Gaines has charge of the Oak Park area, and his telephone is FE 2-0904. At Five Points, Robert Clark, FE 5-3974 and Harry Perry, FE 4-5555 have volunteered to answer calls, and canvass.

In the Indian Village section, John Burton, FE 8-3683 and at the Crescent Lake Estates subdivision Wesley Endress of FE 4-0228 will be in charge.

In the Windsor School area, Harry Turner, FE 5-2676, and on the southside of Pontiac Mrs. Newton E. Drake, FE 2-4162 will take charge of the area.

When the all-over porch light parade gets under way Monday from 6 to 9 p.m., all canvassers have been asked to be at the Zion Nazarene church, and return at the conclusion.

The legal firm taking care of all legal matters for the project are Beer, Rowston and Currah, of Pontiac.

Church organizations in the Clarkston area have set their drive for 6-9 p.m., Tuesday night. The Clarkston Baptist Church is the central location for canvassers, under the direction of Rev. Walter Gibson, and Rev. Elvin Mudge of the New Hope Church.

Would Increase Basic Research

National Science Body Suggests Measures for Greater Support

WASHINGTON — The National Science Foundation, calling for greater American support for basic scientific research, says Russia has given "special and significant attention" to it.

The NSF in a report yesterday recommended far reaching measures designed to increase the national effort in this type of research.

Among the key recommendations was one calling for revisions of federal income tax laws as a means of increasing "philanthropic giving for basic research" by industries, other non-federal organizations and individuals. It proposed a tax credit for such support, and one especially aimed at encouraging greater support from low- and middle-income individuals.

The principal purpose of the foundation is to foster basic research and education in the sciences. It was created by Congress in 1950 to promote scientific progress.

Basic or fundamental research is research for new knowledge which may or may not have practical value. But the NSF calls such research "the indispensable basis for practical developments."

The 64-page report declared that Russia apparently is devoting a greater proportion of its total research effort to the basic type than is the United States. A spokesman said a tentative estimate is 14 per cent for the Russians compared with about eight for the United States.

Right Answers Will Win $800 in Pot-O-Gold

The money in Pot-O-Gold now stands at $800, but that's the trouble. All it does is stand. How about you fans working up a little circulation in the pot by sending us the right answers? That way the pot's emptied into your own pocket and more can be added so things don't get stale. Try the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

- Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employees or their immediate families.
- Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.
- To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 74 must bear a Tuesday, Nov. 5 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.
- Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.
- The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.
- Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers or record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.
- Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.
- Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keepers of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, proprietor of Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzle, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.
- There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.
- Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mail.

Hollywood Headlines

Lancaster, Douglas Set to Team Up Once Again

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(For Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Ever since Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas made a bank of money for Hal Wallis in "Gun Fight at OK Corral," Burt has been looking for another good story to make with Kirk.

He's found it in "The Siege at Dancing Burg" and even before Kirk landed in New York after eight months in Europe, making two pictures, but had his okay on the script. With that title, need it be added that "Dancing Burg" is an outdoor opus about two men in love with a half-white, half-Indian girl.

The girl hasn't been selected, but Delbert Mann who directed "Marty," the movie that swept the academy awards for Hecht-Hill-

Lancaster, will again occupy the director's chair.

From Louella Parsons reporting from New York: "The long-awaited opening of my young friend Anna Maria Alberghetti in the Empire Room of the Waldorf Astoria was all she for any of us who love her could hope for."

"All New York is talking about the marriage of Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant. Remember a luncheon we went to last year which Kathy gave at Bing's house? The favors were tiny records of 'Love and Marriage,' and I thought it would surely be a marriage announcement."

"I've always liked Kathy and I came to admire her even more when she and Bing broke up and even though her heart was breaking she conducted herself with such dignity. Bing is a lucky boy and Kathy is a brilliant girl and a lovely, lovely person."

Hollywood in shorts: A newsome that may become a who's who. Susan Strasberg and Borden Stevenson (Adlai's son) at their favorite spot, Phil Ahn's Moongate. With all his kidding about Bing's marriage ("I thought he was dating Grandma Moses," Variety quotes him) Bob Hope and Dolores sent the first wedding gift to the Crosbys.

The Ronald Reagans won't care if their second is another girl. "Bonnie just loves little girls," Nancy told me.

Dined at Romanoff's with Marion and Joe Fields and Joe's "Tunnel of Love" star from Broadway, Elizabeth Fraser, and Jimmy Van Heusen. Elizabeth will repeat her stage hit in Joe's movie which is Hollywood's gain. She's a delightful comedienne.

Later we went and got "insulted" by Don Rickles, the insult expert at the State Brothers Club, the funniest nightclub entertainer ever to hit this town.

Dennis Crosby was there saying he was just as surprised as everyone else about his dad's marriage. "But I sure wish them every happiness."

Saw George Raft and told him I thought his book, "Out of My Past" will make a whale of a movie and I like the idea of Dean Martin playing George. "Don't sell him short as a dancer, either," said Raft. "Dean can hoof almost as well as he sings."

Exhausted Mom Adds 4 Girls to All-Boy Clan

ELGIN, N.D. (AP)—Mrs. Peter Meier, who gave birth to four daughters yesterday, says she has always wanted a girl since the first of four sons was born 10 years ago.

"I'm so happy, but awfully tired," said 32-year-old Mrs. Meier last night in an interview at Lorenzen Hospital.

The quads—Charlene, Marlene, Arlene and Jolene—are "doing well," according to Drs. R. Hankin and William Buckingham who assisted in their births.

"The first 24 to 48 hours are the critical period," Buckingham said. "If we can pull them through that far, they stand a good chance of surviving."

The girls, all sporting mops of dark hair, were being kept in incubators and were receiving oxygen and humidified air.

Mrs. Meier saw the babies shortly after their birth, but did not see them again during the day.

Did she want a girl?
"Did I?" she said. "I have wanted a girl since the first boy was born 10 years ago."

All the other Meier children are boys. They are Michael, 10, Milton, 8, Lawrence, 6, and Virgil, 3. The family lives in a house small enough to cause somewhat of a problem when the new members move in. Mrs. Meier said the house has two rooms downstairs and two upstairs.

Where will they put the girls?
"Well, we haven't thought much about it yet," Mrs. Meier said, "but we'll find room for them somewhere."

The first baby weighed 3 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces; the second 3-5/8; the third 2-12/16; and the fourth 3-2.

Michigan Man Heads Coast Guard Auxiliary

CLEVELAND (AP)—Edward M. Lieblein of Hancock, Mich., is the new commodore of the U.S. Coast Guard auxiliary for the 9th district. He was elected Saturday to head the 2,000-member auxiliary which aids the Coast Guard with private boats, planes and radio stations in the Great Lakes.

6-Month-Old Tot Dies After Starving

DETROIT (AP)—Six-month-old Latonia Brown, who was found in a room where her dead parents lay for four days Friday died yesterday without regaining consciousness.

The child was taken to receiving hospital after she and the bodies of her parents, James Brown, 22, and his wife Clara, 17, were found in the bedroom of their two-room apartment in downtown Detroit.

Latonia was suffering from malnutrition and dehydration. Doctors said she had been without food and water for the four days.

Dr. F. X. Krynicki, assistant medical examiner, at first tentatively attributed the Negro parent's death to food poisoning. Later, however, he said it might have been due to a flu-type ailment.

It was believed the two died late Monday night or early Tuesday morning.

A THEATER MANAGER'S LATE PREVIEW REPORT

This is an extraordinary picture. Its story, direction, production and acting all seem to me virtually flawless. It is not only an hilarious shipboard frolic, but a beautiful love story as well. Luxurious and worldly, tasteful and gay. It radiates a luminosity certain to excite the emotions. A good laugh—a gentle tear, they are the ingredients. I urge you not to miss it.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: What bird can sink like a submarine?

ANSWER: Lots of birds can swim under water but one of these, the grebe, has puzzled hunters and scientists alike. The piedbill grebe, shown here, might be mistaken at a distance for a little duck. But its bill is unlike a duck's bill and its feet instead of being webbed have wide lobes on each toe to help it swim. What puzzles hunters is the way a grebe will dive at the flash of a gun and thus often escape unharmed. What puzzles scientists is the way it will sink gradually into the water sometimes, just as a submarine is apt to submerge. Nobody knows how it makes its body less buoyant, little by little. On land the grebe, nicknamed the hell diver, is very awkward, but in water it swims extremely well.

FOR YOU TO DO: It isn't easy for most of you to see a grebe, so let's cut out a grebe that will sink. It's mostly brown, with a black marking across the bill that gives the bird its name. After coloring it, paste on cardboard. Cut out the grebe and the tab. Fold back the end supports. Cut out the dotted-line slits as indicated. Paste the tab behind the bird at point marked X. Slip the tab through the long slit and down through the short slits, and out the back. Now you can prop up the picture with the end of the tab and use the tab also to pull the grebe down into the water when danger threatens.

Pope Pius Dedicates
New Radio Station

SANTA MARIA DE GALERIA, Italy (AP)—A powerful new radio station, dedicated by Pope Pius XII, today sent Vatican broadcasts throughout the world. The Pope made the longest trip he has taken since he became pontiff—35 miles—to inaugurate the station's service yesterday. Speaking in Latin, the Pope called for dedication of modern inventions to the spreading of the Christian gospel. He urged the world to strive "for peace and fraternal unity."

The powerful transmitter and 24 towers—the tallest rising 260 feet—cost 2½ million dollars contributed by Catholics everywhere. The Vatican's first radio station, built by Guglielmo Marconi, was opened by Pope Pius XI 26 years ago.

Mixed Emotions Surround Death of Dior

By PHYLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Christian Dior, the kewpie-faced gentleman whose shy voice dictated the course of millions of women and billions of dollars, is dead.

Ten years ago, when we were making $50 a week less taxes and he was making expensive demands on our skillful, we wished he should "drop dead"—in the irritated colloquial sense of the expression. But didn't really mean it, of course.

And now that he literally is gone, a great many women surely feel a sense of personal aesthetic loss; a nebulous emotion, but real. Having been intrigued for a decade with stories of the greatness and infallibility of M. Dior in the realm of fashion, a realm so close to the hearts and bodies of women everywhere, they were finally convinced that here was their master and boss, dictator and keeper of the keys to elegance.

Unless she was a rationalist of the first order, the average woman of America never could afford to buy a Dior dress; but she had that comforting assurance that as long as he was in full charge of the fashion picture, everything would be okay.

The style copyists, who made clothes at her prices, had never been so on-their-toes—fashion had never been so exciting—women never so aware—as they were in these last few years which will long be referred to, we don't doubt, as the "days of Dior."

Dior caused a lot of women a lot of trouble in 1947, one year after millionaire Marcel Boussac decided to stake him to a fashion salon. Christian and Marcel came from the same home town in France and they both believed solidly in astrology.

When their horoscopes simultaneously predicted that they should team up, for the benefit of each, Dior's star passed from whatever Zodiac house it was resting in and landed in a chandelied house on the Avenue Montaigne, where he set to work immediately to make women beautiful—and hang the cost.

His first move was all he needed to establish himself. After a short, skimpy-skirted wartime fashion look, he abruptly brought out long, bouffant dresses. For a period of 12 months, he was internationally despised by women and men who vowed such radical, costly spend-thriftery could not be "put over" on them. Particularly by an unknown designer across an ocean.

But by year's end, Dior could not be resisted. Capitulation came quickly. I remember. It was my first year out of Dayton, Ohio, in New York. I was a fashion editor, and had to dress accordingly, even if it meant establishing charge accounts all over town.

In 1947, I went to Dayton for Thanksgiving in a skirt that shadowed the ankles. Everybody stared me down, thought I was "putting on airs." At Christmas, same year, I went home again. In several short weeks, Dayton had succumbed. Virtually all ankles were darkened by Dior.

Meeting Dior, you were in the presence of an unworshipful man; reserved, almost timid in his modesty, yet possessed of a quiet self-assurance that inspired confidence.

In a curious way, in his own field of influence, Dior in fact resembled the stock character of the family doctor—unassuming.

Improve Beauty and Health the Easy Way

Exercising in Bed Appeals to Lazybones

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Human dynamos scare me! They seem so unnatural. I think the natural tendency is to let time flow over us and the chips fall where they may. It usually takes the lash of ambition, the sting of danger or the impact of love to get us into action.

Those who require no prodding from life in order to become go-getters must have some special gift which most of us lack.

I am not entirely sure whether this would be a blessing or a curse. Imagine living as though you had just been shot out of a rocket! You would have no time to smell the flowers like Ferdinand, or to find the laugh around the corner. But the majority of us do not have to worry about this. We are expert procrastinators.

How did I get way out here? I started to write about exercises you can take in bed before arising in the morning or before going to sleep at night. That reminded me of how lazy we all are.

Anyway, exercise is one of those things women are most likely to put off. This is true because those who have not tried exercise do not know what great improvement it can make in health and beauty. It performs miracles for your figure, raises your level of energy and can banish such minor discomforts as stiff joints and creaking spine, constipation and nervous tension.

STRETCHING EXERCISES
If you are too lazy to do more vigorous exercises, or if there is some condition which makes them unwise, you can profit greatly from the habit of taking stretching exercises, plus a few more simple ones, before you get up in the morning or after you are in bed at night.

For instance when you awaken take hold of the headboard or the sides of your bed. Hold on while you stretch all the way to your toes. Relax and repeat several times.

Hold onto the headboard or sides again as you push your hips as far to the left as you can. Return to position. Push them as far out to the right as you can. Return to position. Continue, alternating left and right. Do this VERY slowly, feeling the pull.

Now let go of the bed and turn and twist and stretch in every direction until you feel that you have pulled every muscle in your body. Take time with this. Yawn while you do these stretches. Be LAZY.

Add two more. While on your back, bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Return the legs to the bed. Continue.

Another: Make large circles with the left leg. After a while do the same with the right leg.

Even these few motions will be most beneficial and will send you off to your day or to sleep in a relaxed but toned-up mood and condition.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Setting Up in Bed," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 27 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

MEN DISILLUSIONED BY BEAUTY ROUTINE
It is a well-known fact that although men appreciate the charming results of a beauty routine, they are puzzled and disillusioned by the sight of the product in the making.

We women are so accustomed to the sight of pin curls and curlers and greased-up faces and necks that we may fail to realize what a shock it is to the man in our life to see us looking our best one minute and almost unrecognizable the next.

If you do not believe this, all you have to do is to watch the expression on a man's face when he barges into a beauty salon to call for his wife and is unexpectedly faced with a dozen or more spectacles which only vaguely resemble the human race. Years of habit fail to dull the depressing influence of this experience on a man.

The masculine sex much prefers the finished product. It makes men more comfortable to feel that the beauty they see is natural and exists without effort.

They want to hold their picture of us at our best, but most of all, the machinations we go through are completely bewildering and upsetting to them. Intellectually they admire our efforts to be lovely, but just the same, they would rather not know about them.

OTHER QUALITIES
This sounds like superficial twaddle and it would be if you took it TOO seriously. Of course, a man who is capable of loving a woman will not be lost because

Can of Soup Is Liquid in Meat Loaf
Mrs. Woodham's Trick With Onions Leaves Only Flavor
By JANET ODELL
A good moist meat loaf can always be the basis for a dinner. There's a certain trick to making one that isn't dry. Mrs. Richard Woodham used tomato soup for the moisture in hers and says it's fine.

A young homemaker (whom we remember from our teaching days at Washington), Mrs. Woodham has one school age daughter. She works outside her home part of the time. For leisure hours the Woodhams collect hi-fi records, dance and swim. Mrs. Woodham likes to read.

MEAT LOAF
By Mrs. Richard Woodham
1½ to 2 pounds ground beef
½ pound pork sausage
2 eggs
1 can condensed tomato soup
Salt and pepper
1 cup cracker crumbs
Green onions or onion slices
Save a little soup to spread on top of the meat loaf before baking. Mix all ingredients except onions. Place in pan and stick onions down into loaf. This adds the onion flavor but doesn't leave any half cooked bits of onion. Remove before serving. Bake at least an hour in a 350-degree oven. Serves 4-6.

Allemanders Gather for Square Dance
Allemande Square Dance Club members gathered at Isaac E. Cray School Saturday with Sam Joan as caller.
Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ott who came with the George Stouts. The next dance will be held Nov. 9.

New York Stops Canadiens, 4-1

Montreal Loses First as Henry and Lewicki Score Twice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A triumvirate of New York Rangers — Camille Henry, Danny Lewicki and Gump Worsley — handed Montreal's Canadiens their first defeat in National Hockey League play.

With Henry and Lewicki scoring two goals each and goalie Worsley turning aside 22 shots, the Rangers moved into second place last night with a 4-1 victory over the Canadiens. Montreal had won five, tied two.

In the only other game played Chicago goalie Glenn Hall shut out his former Detroit teammates, 3-0.

Early in the second period with the score tied 1-1 the Rangers' Henry, the smallest player on the ice at 150 pounds, notched his first goal of the game and the New Yorkers were never headed. Dick Moore tallied for Montreal.

St. Frederick Impressive in Defeat

Rams Fumble Away Chances in 26-19 Duel

Gacki's Two TDs Pace St. Benedict; Lyon Gets Pair for Losers

By CHUCK ABRAHAM

The offensive-minded St. Frederick Rams proved they could run and pass with the best of them yesterday giving unbeaten St. Benedict its closest scare of the season before bowing 26-19 at Wisner Stadium.

Two successive fumbles at the Raven two-yard line in the final seconds spoiled a gallant St. Fred bid for a tie following an 81-yard march in the interesting Suburban Catholic clash.

The game had a professional atmosphere with all the scoring, a total of 36 1st downs and not a single punt.

St. Frederick finished with a combined yards-gained edge of 366 to 345 led by the outstanding running of junior fullback Jack Lyon. He and St. Ben ace Larry Gacki put on a running show that will be long remembered by all who saw it.

Each scored a pair of TD's. Lyon had the top total rushing mark of 162 yards for 22 carries, a 7.4 average, while Gacki posted the best average of 9.7, by gaining 145 in 15 tries. Raven Bill Behrend added 129.

Both teams signified they were ready to pour it on by scoring the 1st time they got the ball. St. Fred drove 77 yards following the opening kickoff to gain a short-lived lead with only three minutes gone by.

Lyon went over from the three-climbing the march which he had paced with runs of 16 and 13. The victors went ahead to stay just 3:17 later when a 21-yard pass from Art Massucci to Gacki reached paydirt and Mark Storen kicked his 1st of two extra points.

A fumble recovery at the SF 38 started another St. Benedict surge in the 1st stanza. Al Philian took a 24-yard pass from Massucci for this one.

The visitors upped the count to 20-6 early in the 2nd period going 43 yards with Dan Donar cracking over from the one. But the Rams fought right back going to score after the ensuing kickoff. Larry Derocher reached the end zone from the two and Dick Deschaine converted.

It took St. Benedict just four plays to go 62 yards for its final points, 54 by Gacki in two runs. He tallied from the 28.

The Ram line made its best showing of the day in the 3rd period stopping an enemy threat inches short of the goal line and then the Red and Black went the entire length of the field to score.

Quarterback Dick Kast, an all-around standout all afternoon, engineered the excellent drive and hit on two passes. Lyons went in from the 15.

A fumble recovery by St. Fred on its own 17 with 6:30 remaining set up the dramatic finish.

Orchard Lake Bows, 21-6

St. Mike Wins, 13-7

The offense still left something to be desired, but a pair of 2nd quarter touchdowns and a staunch defense brought St. Michael a 13-7 win over St. Clement yesterday in a Suburban Catholic League football game at Center Line.

Scoring dashes by halfback Bob Mineweaver and fullback Jim Fox were enough to hand the Shamrocks their 2nd league victory in four starts and boost them into 4th place in the standings.

In other SCL games Sunday, St. Rita stayed at the head of the pack with a 21-6 triumph over Orchard Lake-St. Mary and Ferndale St. James drubbed Royal Oak St. Mary, 31-6.

St. Mike spent most of the afternoon in Crusader territory, but muffed one scoring opportunity right after another. Three blocked punts by the Mikes kept the Crusaders bottled up in their own end for the bulk of the contest.

All of the point-making was confined to the 2nd period. The Shamrocks piled up a 13-0 advantage, then permitted St. Clement to hit pay dirt through the air just 10 seconds before the 1st half ended. Mineweaver broke the scoring ice with a 15-yard slash off tackle in the early moments of the quarter.

Fox tallied the clincher with a 30-yard sweep around end after taking a pitchout from quarterback Mike Flynn. Mineweaver plunged over for the extra point.

The Crusaders struck swiftly for their touchdown to beat the clock. Quarterback Tom Daldine passed to fullback Bob Fortin for a TD play covering 50 yards.

St. Clement had only one other scoring chance. A blocked punt gave the Crusaders possession on the Mike 35, but the Shamrocks braced and stopped them right there.

Dennis Marcola sprinted 58 yards for a touchdown and Mike Young rambled 33 yards for another to spark St. Rita's conquest of Orchard Lake on the Hazel Park gridiron. It was the 5th straight SCL win for the Vikings and the Eagles' 3rd loss in four tries.

Bill Tunnichiff tallied on runs of 35, 85 and 70 yards as the Dales routed the winless Irish at Royal Oak.

Shrine went down to its 4th straight defeat Saturday at Royal Oak. The Knights were trimmed by Detroit St. Theresa, 19-6.

Area Boys Help Dales Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For a moment in the first quarter it looked like the Hillsdale Dales were off and running to their 31st consecutive football victory.

That was when they struck for a touchdown on a 53-yard pass play from quarterback Doug Maison to Walt Poe. Wayne O'Shaughnessy booted the extra point.

But Hope College came back with a touchdown on Jack Sabber's 18-yard pass to Mike Blough in the second quarter. The conversion attempt was wide. The score was 7-6.

Then the two teams battled without a score until the finish when O'Shaughnessy's kick stood as the factor that extended Hillsdale's victory streak, which is second in the nation only to Oklahoma's string.

The victory kept Hillsdale atop the MIAA standings. In other MIAA games over the weekend, Alma trimmed Olivet 24-0 and Kalamazoo beat Adrian 21-13. Albion smacked Michigan Tech 21-0 in a non-conference game.

Other scores involving Michigan teams: Louisville trounced Central Michigan 40-0, Wayne State rolled over Western Reserve 21-10 in a President's Conference game, Toledo defeated Western Michigan 27-16 in a Mid-America Conference contest, Eastern Michigan held its IIAAC lead with a 21-7 triumph over Southern Illinois, Boston College tripped Detroit 20-16 and Grand Rapids JC walloped Ferris Institute 26-0.

Wayne State came up with two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to trim Western Reserve. The winning touchdowns were scored by Jim MacMillan on a 34-yard pass play from Ron Kowalczyk and on a two-yard plunge by John Hatcher.

Oxford and Millington Wage Scoreless Draw

Oxford and Millington high schools battled to a scoreless tie Saturday night in a South Central Conference football game at Millington. Oxford now has a 1-1-1 league record while Millington stands 0-1-1.

The Wildcats made their best scoring threat in the 3rd quarter when they drove to the Millington 10 yard line before losing the ball on downs. Millington had two drives stopped inside the Oxford 20 in the 4th period.

Rezoning Topics Facing Board

Central Water Systems Slated for Discussion at Waterford

The rezoning of four different areas in Waterford Township from residential to commercial will be the main topic when the township board meets at 7:30 tonight.

The rezoning of property on the corner of Walton boulevard and Clintonville road, along with five lots in the Elizabeth Lake Estates on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road, will be discussed.

Four lots on Dixie Highway across from Our Lady of the Lakes Church and the Waterford Farms subdivision plus nine more lots on LaSalle street near Telegraph road are also scheduled for airing.

The township zoning board and the Oakland County Zoning Commission have approved the changes. The township board is not expected to take final action tonight, Supervisor Elmer Johnson said.

Two other problems loom as potential trouble for board members when representatives of the Holiday Farms subdivision on M59 near Airport road again submit their plan for approval.

The township wants the company to construct another road leading from the subdivision to M59 before full approval is given.

The controversial issue of establishing a policy that all new home developers install a central water system will be discussed between board members and representatives of Balmoral subdivision on Hatchery road near Crescent Lake road.

The developers originally presented a plan for 102 homes. Since the time that it was approved by the township board, the developers decided to build only 31 homes, and now claim they cannot afford a central water system for so few dwellings.

The Rainbow Lake subdivision plan on Airport road near Rural avenue will also be presented for approval.

Oregon Solons Meet to Vote on Tax Relief

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—Oregon's Legislature opens a special session today to give tax relief from a general fund surplus that will reach $69 million dollars by next June.

Republicans and Democrats agree tax relief should be given to the state which is being hit by growing unemployment.

The question is how much relief.

Gov. Robert Holmes and members of his Democratic party have proposed that 10 per cent be lopped from the 1957 state income tax bill of each resident.

Holmes said this would mean a tax reduction of about 18 million dollars. In addition, Holmes said five million should be added to the basic school support fund. This in effect, would cut property taxes.

Republicans, however, want $50 million dollars lopped from the 1957 income tax bill.

6 Area Youths Pay $35 for Hunting Damages

BAD AXE — Six Pontiac area youths, age 15 to 18, escaped criminal charges yesterday when $35 was paid for damage they reportedly had caused at a Bad Axe farm while on a hunting trip.

The farmer, William Grill, told sheriff's deputies that the boys shattered his barn window with a shotgun blast, stole light bulbs, fired on a watering tank and took a quantity of gasoline.

The boys were released by the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department after the $35 estimated damage was paid by their fathers.
