Bus Mutilated in Head-On Smash

AP Wirephoto

GNARLED GREYHOUND — Before a bloody collision, this Greyhound bus was a bi-leveled one. You'd never know that now. The impact of a head-on crash with a double-decker cattle truck east of Tucson, Ariz., completely gouged out the lower level. Nine were killed, including both drivers; 32 were injured. Most of the bus passengers were going home for Christmas.

State Traffic Brings Death to 19

Ortonville Man, W. Bloomfield Mother Perish

One Auto Rolls Over in Groveland Twp.; Other Strikes Tree

Two people were killed in Oakland County traffic accidents over the weekend.

A mother of four was fatally injured Saturday when her auto struck a tree in West Bloomfield Township. An Ortonville man died Sunday morning when his car rolled over on him in Groveland Township.

Dead are Joseph E. Brown, 23, of 144 Ball St., Ortonville, and Mrs. Leatra M. Wilson, 28, of 6870 Aeroview St., West Bloomfield Township.

Brown was alone in his car driving west on Grange Hall road shortly before 3 Sunday morning when his car missed a curve, sheriff's deputies said.

He was killed when struck by the vehicle he was driving. Deputies said the car rolled over several times.

As it began rolling, he was thrown from the car into a sitting position about 10 yards ahead. The auto continued rolling and came to rest on top of Brown, said Deputy Everett M. Fredericks.

He was pronounced dead by Deputy Coroner Dr. R. W. Bullard Jr. of Clarkston.

Mrs. Wilson was returning from shopping Saturday afternoon when her auto struck a tree along Green Lake road south of Commerce road less than a mile from her home.

She was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The car traveled some 73 feet on the road shoulder before impact.

Michigan Turns From a 3-Year Trend of Safety

Grim Figure Is Triple Previous Weekend Toll; 1,376th Fatality Listed

By The Associated Press

Deaths of 19 persons over the weekend brought Michigan's traffic toll thus far this year to 1,376 and reversed a three-year downward trend in traffic deaths.

Donna Francisco, 16, of Lansing, who was killed Sunday in a two-car crash near Lansing, was the 1,376th victim of 1959.

State Police said traffic claimed 1,375 lives in Michigan in all of 1958. They said such deaths had been decreasing for three years but the Francisco girl's death signalled an upswing.

The death toll was more than three times as large as that of the previous weekend when six died in traffic. Only minutes before the Associated Press death count began at 6 p.m. Friday, eight persons were killed in a car-train collision at Fowlerville. They are not included in the weekend roundup which ended at midnight Sunday.

Three persons died in miscellaneous accidents this weekend, compared with four last weekend. A teen-age Flint girl succumbed to carbon monoxide fumes while sitting in a parked car, a Wayne County General Hospital inmate was killed by a train, and a Cadillac woman suffered fatal injuries when she slipped and fell on an icy driveway.

There were two Oakland County traffic deaths. Others around the state included:

Verna Jean Michols, 30, of Grand Rapids, Frances K. Lee, 55, of Indian River, Margaret E. Hitchings, 29, of Grand Rapids, and Ralph D. Stewart, 34, of Grand Rapids, killed in a two-car head-on collision Sunday about 20 miles north of Grand Rapids on U.S 131.

State Police said Stewart was alone in one car and the three women were in the other car.

Bus-Truck Collision Kills Nine

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — A Greyhound bus and a cattle truck traveling on the wrong side of the road collided about eight miles east of here Sunday killing nine persons.

The bus driver and six passengers were killed along with the truck driver and his relief man. Thirty-two others aboard the double-decked bus were injured, five critically.

Also killed were thirty head of cattle, mostly calves. Some other animals were maimed and had to be shot.

Highway Patrolman Jimmy Williams said truck driver James R. Stewart of Del Rio, Tex., apparently missed a "keep right" sign where the road divided for repairs.

The truck, he said, was on the wrong side when it struck the Los Angeles-to-New Orleans bus.

The double-decked truck was hauling 67 steers from Jackson, Miss., to Arlington, Ariz.

THE DEAD:

Ronald Philip Spence, Las Vegas, Nev., and Hawthorne, Calif., relief truck driver.

Barney Boyd, 44, El Paso, Tex., driver of the bus.

Florence Minium, 65, Kingsville, Tex.

Johnny Lee Rodden, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodden, Redondo Beach, Calif.

Benito Casanova, 55, Guantanamo Oriente, Cuba.

Carmen, 53, his wife.

Carol Hall Reed, 38, 304 Chestnut St., Pensacola, Fla.

Pearl Grogan, 64, Los Angeles.

"God bless that man who told us to sit still and shut up," said Delois Gaines, 39, a restaurant worker from Los Angeles. "If it weren't for him, we probably would have hurt each other trying to get out."

Osbelia (Osbie) Butler, 24, of Moses Lake, Wash., and Richmond, Calif., was taking her 5-year-old daughter Stella to San Antonio.

Just across the aisle Johnny Lee Rodden ran ahead of Stella to the

Let's Try April in Paris, West Tells Khrushchev

PARIS (AP) — The Western Big Three today invited Nikita Khrushchev to an April-in-Paris summit conference that may launch a round of summit gatherings in London, Washington and Moscow also.

The Soviet Premier is expected to accept the bid to the first summit session, suggested for the week of April 25.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle wound up their talks by charting the steps to be taken to the summit that Khrushchev has long been clamoring for.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer also attended the weekend Western summit meeting although he will not be at the conference table with Khrushchev.

Here are the salient points from the weekend session.

★ ★ ★

1. To quiet West German fears the Big Three gave Adenauer assurances that the Allies are determined to hold on to their war-won occupation rights in West Berlin.

ARMS TALKS FIRST?

2. They agreed to press for the opening of disarmament talks by the 10-nation East-West commission before the proposed summit conference — a move that could serve as a test of Soviet intentions. Late March was talked of as a likely starting time. Originally the commission had been expected to meet in February, in Geneva, but a new Western disarmament proposal will probably not be ready then.

3. De Gaulle accepted an in-

Auto Crash in West Kills Area Sailor

A young Navy airman, Melvin Ray Werth of 598 Keith Dr., Milford, was killed yesterday when a stolen car being pursued by police at more than 80 m.p.h. crashed into a house front in Marysville, Wash.

WERTH

An airman first class, Werth was stationed at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, 40 miles northwest of Marysville.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stammen.

No one inside the house was injured.

No more information was available regarding the accident.

Werth's body will be brought to Richardson-Bird funeral home in Milford tonight, according to Stammen.

A Night to Remember?

LONDON (UPI) — A London newspaper today printed an error from translation in its story of the Shah of Iran's wedding. "Ladies will wear nightgowns with long white gloves," the item said.

Bad News for Santa; Snow to Go

Winter officially begins at 9:35 a.m. Tuesday, but the Weather Bureau predicts the snow that fell last night will be gone before Christmas.

★ ★ ★

The five-day forecast calls for a warming trend after Tuesday with temperatures in the 40s. They will average about four degrees above normal. The normal high is 34, the normal low 21.

Precipitation will average about one-tenth of an inch in occasional light snow during the week.

Tonight's low will be 24. The mercury is expected to climb to a high of 34 tomorrow. Light variable winds will become easterly 8-15 m.p.h. Tuesday.

At 8 a.m. this morning the mercury read 22 degrees, and easterly winds registered 8 m.p.h.

The reading at 2 p.m. was 26.

Leukemia May Beat Christmas

She Needs Flood of Cards

By PETE LOCHBILER

Carolyn Carr needs a lifetime of Christmas cards right now.

Like most children, the 11-year-old leukemia victim likes Christmas best — Santa Claus, Christmas trees, presents, carols.

Christmas is only four days away. But the fatal blood disease may not let Carolyn live to enjoy it.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carr, 54 N. Jessie St., can only cross their fingers.

ENJOYS FAMILY'S CARDS

Carolyn wants Christmas cards, they said.

★ ★ ★

"She's enjoyed so much the cards the family has received so far this Christmas," her mother said.

"She said to me, 'Mommy, I'd like to get Christmas cards myself—lots and lots of them.'"

Mrs. Carr shows Carolyn the cards during the few hours of the day that she is not slumbering under sedation.

Carolyn likes to read the cheery messages, finger the glittering colors, observe the familiar figures of the Holy Family and Santa Claus.

If anyone cares to send Carolyn a card, Mrs. Carr hopes he does it immediately. She asked, too, that the messages be cheerful and without any reference to the disease, which Carolyn thinks is "real bad measles."

★ ★ ★

The Carrs and Carolyn's six brothers and sisters have tried to give Carolyn some advance Christmas joy.

The family tree has been up for some time and Carolyn has had her own little tree next to her bed for two months.

A Christmas thrill came last week when Carolyn's letter to Santa Claus was read on a television program. Carolyn watched the show and won a large, stuffed dog.

It lies on her bed.

Touched by her plight, friendly store owners have sent Carolyn presents — mostly dolls, her favorite companions.

With the help of an ambulance last night Carolyn saw part of the Christmas play staged by the Sunday School class she used to attend at United Missionary Church.

Saturday she briefly joined 75 other victims of childhood diseases at a party at McCarroll School.

She played a Christmas carol on the organ.

A moving company transported Carolyn's own organ to the party for the occasion.

Carolyn was first hit by leukemia 16 months ago. In the hospital two months, she was able to attend fourth grade classes at Central School only a couple times last year.

★ ★ ★

But she tried to keep up with her class at home and the school, knowing of her illness, promoted her into the fifth grade in June.

As sometimes happens with leukemia, the disease seemed to go away this summer.

Carolyn appeared normal when she went back to school during the first two weeks of September.

Then the disease came back, this time with a crippling ferocity.

Carolyn's been in bed most of the past two months.

"She begged us to let her go to the party and the play. We couldn't say no, even though she's grown much weaker in the past 10 days," said Mrs. Carr.

"We thought, 'This may be her last chance to enjoy life.'

"She's fought so long and bravely against the disease, even when it was most painful. She has so much will power for a little child and so much fight in her.

"This has been an inspiration to all of us. Watching her fight, we haven't been able to give up hope either."

Businessman Dies in Hospital

Henry P. Gaukler Jr. Belonged to One of the City's Oldest Families

Death came yesterday to Henry P. Gaukler Jr., well known Pontiac businessman and a member of one of the city's oldest families.

GAUKLER

Mr. Gaukler, owner of Gaukler Storage and Moving Co., died Sunday evening at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He was 41.

Service will be Wednesday at Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church at 11:30 a.m. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Mr. Gaukler lived with his wife, Marilynn Davenport, and their four children, David, Elizabeth, Julie and Henry P. III, at 3305 Interlaken Rd., Bloomfield Township.

BRIEF ILLNESS

Mr. Gaukler died after a brief illness. Death came following an operation.

Besides his wife and four children, survivors include sisters, Mrs. Robert Sauer and Mrs. Edward Rockwell, both of Birmingham, Elizabeth Gaukler, and a brother, Edward, both of Pontiac.

Mr. Gaukler was a member of the Pontiac Rotary Club, Pine Lake Country Club, Pontiac City Club and Pontiac B.P.O.E. 810.

He was a lifelong resident of the county.

He attended Culver Military Academy and the University of Southern California.

Born in Pontiac Feb. 11, 1918, Mr. Gaukler later served as a captain in the Air Force during World War II.

Burial arrangements are incomplete.

Tom Tracy's Son Found Dead in Crib

Professional football player Tom Tracy's infant son was found dead in his crib today at the family's home, 709 S. Blair St., Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Police said death apparently was due to suffocation. An autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death of 7-week-old John Thomas Tracy Jr.

★ ★ ★

Tracy played with the Detroit Lions and now is with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

BRAUNSCHWEIG, Germany (UPI) — One more inalienable right is on the law books today. A judge this weekend ruled in favor of a group of tenants that "a renter has a basic right to erect (a television) antenna on the roof."

GMC Truck & Coach Back at Full Strength Today

500 REPORT FOR WORK — With the calling back of the remaining 500 workers laid off due to steel shortages, Pontiac's General Motors Truck & Coach plant was back in full swing today. Light duty truck assembly lines began rolling again a week ago, while heavy and medium-duty truck production resumed today. The steel shortages, caused by the steel strike, resulted in a series of temporary shutdowns at the GMC plant.

'Let's All Spy,' Castro Urges

Asks Islandwide Setup to Make Every Cuban a Potential Informer

HAVANA (AP)—Setting Cuban against Cuban in an island-wide spy system, Fidel Castro has promised an even tougher crackdown against his enemies.

★ ★ ★

The Prime Minister's promise came as antigovernment violence flared in the capital.

★ ★ ★

In a television speech of almost three hours — his fifth public speech in seven days—Castro Sunday night told the Cuban people the next session of his cabinet will pass laws stripping all property from persons convicted of counterrevolutionary activities.

★ ★ ★

"They will lose their money, their houses and their lands," he thundered. Castro spoke at a packed meeting of the commercial workers and barbers unions.

He accused the rich of fomenting a counterrevolution and an invasion from abroad to regain their privileged status.

★ ★ ★

Castro said a system of informers is operating throughout Cuba to point out the enemies of his revolution. Slang for the informer —"chicato," or bleating goat—is one of the most hated words in Cuba because of the operations of the informers under the Batista dictatorship.

★ ★ ★

Earlier the union members heard Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez warn that "counterrevolutionaries, the press and reactionary businessmen" would get the same tough treatment as aggressors in the event of an invasion of Cuba.

How About April in Paris, Mr. K?

in April only days in advance of the contemplated Paris summit meeting. By then, the French President will himself have been host to Khrushchev and formed a personal opinion of the Soviet leader.

4. Eisenhower suggested the possibility of a series of summit talks with the Soviets. The White House Press Secretary, James C. Hagerty, told newsmen. "The President feels it would be very difficult to solve all problems at one summit conference."

5. Eisenhower failed to persuade De Gaulle to abandon his opposition to giving the NATO military command control of French forces assigned to the defense of Western Europe. But Eisenhower reportedly convinced the Frenchman that, although the United States abstained in the U.N. vote on the Algerian issue, Washington still endorses De Gaulle's proposal for a self-determination referendum in Algeria after peace is restored.

6. The Western Big Four moved toward setting up a sort of Atlantic economic council aimed at averting a trade war among the Allies in Europe. It would seek to coordinate European and North American trade bodies and reconcile West Europe's rival economic groupings, the six-nation common market and the "outer seven" free traders led by Britain.

Khrushchev's invitation to the summit conference went to the big three ambassadors in Moscow for delivery to the Kremlin today.

★ ★ ★

An informant said they left the door open for the Soviet Premier to suggest an alternate meeting site or date.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower was clearly enthusiastic about the outcome of his meetings here with De Gaulle, Macmillan and Adenauer, a major event in his 22,000-mile good will mission now drawing to a close.

Iran Monarch's 3rd Bride Is 21

Son-Seeking Shah Weds Again

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi took a pretty young student as his third wife today in hopes she will bear him a son who can help secure his throne.

Farah Diba, a 21-year-old commoner plucked from relative obscurity as an architecture student in Paris, becomes the queen of this ancient nation in a simple Moslem ceremony.

The handsome, 40-year-old Shah divorced his first two wives because they failed to bear him an heir to the throne. His first wife, an Egyptian princess, bore him a daughter, Princess Shanaz.

He divorced Queen Soraya 20 months ago after a childless but obviously happy marriage. The red-haired Iranian beauty now lives in Rome and is spending a lonely winter vacation at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Speaking to newsmen Sunday, the Shah explained that, aside from human reasons, he is marrying Farah for reasons "of a monarchial order." Iran's constitution requires that the successor to the throne be a male, and the Shah has no son.

The throne itself is ancient and rich in history—but the Shah's family is not. His father, Reza Khan, was a rough army officer who seized power in 1921 and had himself crowned Shah-in-Shah (King of Kings) four years later.

A shah without an heir is obviously not as secure as a monarch whose line of succession is clearly fixed. The Shah himself has openly acknowledged the possibility of assassination. The absence of an heir in such a situation would be an invitation to political chaos.

★ ★ ★

The scene of the ceremony was the Shah's office, known as the Mosaic Room.

Part of the ceremony included financial conditions—payment the bride may expect if ever divorced, as well as the groom's dowry to the bride.

Both are symbolic. The dowry is an elaborately bound copy of the koran and one gold coin. The separation settlement would be half a million rials. (The rial is worth little more than one American penny.)

★ ★ ★

The wedding schedule included, after the ceremony, a state banquet for 150 guests and two hours later a wedding ball for some 2,000 in the palace's glittering Hall of Mirrors, where the Shah entertained President Eisenhower last week.

The couple will start their honeymoon in a few days on the Caspian Sea. They plan a trip early next year to Pakistan and later to Europe.

36 Hurt—Icy Road Blamed

Girl Killed in Bus Wreck

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — One girl was killed and 36 persons were injured when a double-decker Greyhound bus swerved to avoid sliding automobiles, skidded off U.S. 40 east of here and rolled over on its top last night.

Killed was Daisy Mae Harris, 15, of Cleveland. She was one of 37 passengers aboard the New York to St. Louis bus when it crashed on the icy four-lane divided highway 10 miles east of here.

"I can't tell what really did happen," the driver, Robert Everman, 41, of Franklin, Ind., said.

"We suddenly hit a slick spot and the cars in front of me started sliding. I tried to swing to the left to avoid them and the bus turned over," Everman, who was unhurt, related.

The driver, who took over on the bus in Columbus, said he received a 10-year safe driving award from Greyhound Dec. 6.

CLIMB FROM WINDOW

He said there was not too much confusion following the crash.

"People just started climbing out the windows. I started giving first aid to as many people as I could," he continued.

Everman said several motorists stopped to give aid.

Only four of the injured were reported in serious condition.

One, Mrs. Daisy Harris, 35, the mother of the dead girl, sat dazed in City Hospital.

"I grabbed for Daisy Mae but I had to hold onto Debra (Mrs. Harris' 2-year-old daughter). The next thing I knew Debra and I were standing in the snow. I don't know what happened to Daisy Mae," she mumbled.

L. C. Pollard, 35, Freeman Edwards, 29, and Ovory Lee Head, 33, all of Muskegon Heights, were killed Saturday when their car struck a roadside culvert at Muskegon Heights.

Stephen Hudek, 20, of Detroit, was killed Saturday when his car collided with another at a Detroit intersection.

Delores Guthoerl, 59, of Roseville, was killed Friday night when a car struck her as she crossed a Roseville street.

Leroy E. Washburn, 20, of Bronson, died Saturday night after being pinned beneath a car that went out of control, slammed into an embankment and flipped over. The accident occurred in Bronson Township, 14 miles west of Coldwater.

Mrs. Dovie Watson, 48, of Detroit, was struck and killed Saturday as she crossed a Detroit street.

FLUNG AT TREE

Donna Francisco, 16, of Lansing, was killed Sunday after she was thrown from the front seat of a car that struck the rear of another one mile south of Lansing on Aurelius road. The girl was flung against a tree and then crushed by a door from one car. She was a passenger.

Floyd Rodgers, 70, of Detroit, died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday when the car in which he was riding struck a utility pole on the Ford expressway, west of Detroit.

John D. Green, 83, of Frontier, was injured fatally Sunday when he was struck by a car on M99 in Woodbridge Township of Hillsdale County.

Earl Wood Jr., 24, of Albion, was killed Sunday when a car in which he was a passenger slammed into the rear of a truck on M99 in Calhoun County.

Andrew M. Przybycki, 29, of Cass City, was killed Saturday night in an auto collision on M81, 2½ miles west of Cass City.

Tobacco advertisers increased their investment in daily newspapers 23.4 per cent in 1958. The $28,432,000 spent by cigarette companies represented an 18 per cent increase; the $5,038,000 spent by cigar manufacturers a 36.4 per cent gain.

Waterford Twp. to Debate Bonds

Request to Purchase $1,000 Worth Will Be Presented Tonight

A request from Waterford Township Clerk James Seeterlin for the purchase of $1,000 in revenue bonds authorized in 1952 will be presented to the Township Board tonight.

★ ★ ★

The bonds, due to mature in 1961, would be retired with a saving of $64 to the township if approved by the Board.

★ ★ ★

The township attorney also is expected to present his report and recommendations on the setting up of a child guidance and youth clinic.

Part of a countywide project, the new department would work with the police in seeking to reduce juvenile delinquency in the township.

The Board will set a hearing date on establishment of a special assessment for blacktopping parts of LaSalle and Meigs streets.

★ ★ ★

Several applicants will be considered for the position of licensed sewer operator for the three sewer treatment plants in the township. The State Health Department has warned township officials that the sewer operator must be hired in the very near future.

★ ★ ★

Rollin Francis of Detroit has requested that the Board consider the transfer of a 1959 Class B hotel and dance permit to him from the Stanton Langs estate. The hotel is located at 5803 Dixie Hwy.

No, No Albert! That's Not a Phone Booth

Albert L. Lighthall wanted to make a phone call.

★ ★ ★

He banged on the front door of the building Sunday morning. No one answered.

He went around to the back and banged on the rear door. No response.

He went through this three times.

KICKS IN WINDOW

Finally Lighthall became annoyed. He kicked in the plate glass window of the front door.

Before he could say "Albert L. Lighthall," he was arrested by Pontiac Police.

The building he was trying to enter was the Baldwin avenue branch of Pontiac State Bank.

Lighthall, 23, of 3033 Glenbrook St., Keego Harbor, told police he wanted to get into the building to "call a friend."

He had been drinking heavily the previous evening, he told police.

He was arrested on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

PETER TOWNSEND

Townsend Weds Belgian Girl

Erstwhile Suitor to Princess Margaret of England Is Married

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Princess Margaret's onetime suitor, Peter Townsend, was married in Brussels today to Marie-Luce Jamagne, 20-year-old daughter of an Antwerp tobacco tycoon.

The engagement of Townsend, 44, and Marie-Luce, his 20-year-old secretary, was announced by her mother Oct. 9.

Townsend's romance with Princess Margaret broke up four years ago. He had been divorced. The Church of England forbids marriage of a divorced person so long as the other party to the divorce is living. The former Mrs. Townsend is living and Princess Margaret bowed to the church rule.

Townsend conceded on Oct. 11, when he introduced his fiancee to the press that he also had a religious problem in this Romance, since Marie-Luce is a Roman Catholic, which is no more tolerant of divorce than the Church of England to which Townsend belongs.

Marie-Luce is a slim, long-legged brunette whose friends call her "mosquito." She likes horses and has been a frequent winner in jumping contests. She met Townsend at a riding club about five years ago.

Townsend, since his romance with the British Princess collapsed, has been roaming the world, writing a book and making a movie. He says Belgium is his home now.

On his second world tour he took Marie-Luce along as "secretary-photographer."

The Western leaders invited Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to an East-West summit meeting in Paris next April 27 in the continuing drive for world peace.

The President will wind up his journey to three continents with a visit to Morocco tomorrow and a return to Washington tomorrow night for the Christmas holidays.

Speaking to a large welcoming crowd at heavily guarded Torrejon, 13 miles outside Madrid, Eisenhower said "on this mission, I say to Spain and the Spaniards, let us work together so that in our own days we may see a long advance toward a world free from aggression, from hunger and disease, free from war and a constant threat of war.

★ ★ ★

"Let us work together so that we may pass on to our children a golden promise that mankind will achieve peace with justice, friendship in freedom."

Friends Don't Wish Her Merry Christmas, She Is

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — Central Michigan University has its own Merry Christmas—Merry Ann Christmas, a freshman from Saginaw.

Merry Ann has a brother whose name is in keeping with the season, too. He is Robert Noel Christmas, a sophomore at Saginaw High School.

Traffic Club Meeting to Feature Film

The Pontiac Traffic Club will hold its monthly meeting tonight at the Waldron Hotel.

A color film of the Indianapolis 500 Mile Race will be shown as a highlight of the meeting. The film is presented by the Ellis Trucking Company.

Says It's Time for Price Cuts

Saulnier Claims Firms Must Be Responsible for Stability

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser said today the time has come for business to cut prices where possible.

★ ★ ★

Low food prices at the farm level have largely been responsible in recent years for keeping the economy relatively stable, said Chairman Raymond J. Saulnier of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

"Now we have got to the place where responsibility for stability must be shared by industry," he declared.

Saulnier spoke up for what he termed justified price cuts within a wage-price formula. He appeared at a Federal Trade Commission session called to discuss phony bargains and other practices classed by the FTC as "trickery in the market place."

Saulnier expressed his support of the FTC's efforts against deceit and under-informing consumers, and then went on to give what he called "the one and only formula for stabilizing price levels at a high rate of growth."

On the labor side of the formula, he said, "In our economy, as a whole and on the average, wage increases ought not to untrun gains in productivity."

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Consider Repaving of Redding Rd.

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners tonight will consider the possibility of repaving Redding road from Woodward avenue to Chesterfield road at an estimated cost of $90,000.

Should the Commission decide to pave the street, City Manager L.R. Gare has recommended that a hearing of necessity be set for Jan. 18.

In a report to the Commission, Gare said the pavement from Woodward to Lake Park avenue was constructed 35 years ago.

Since then, the pavement has badly deteriorated, Gare said. In the summer of 1946, action was started by the City Manager's office to rebuild the pavement, Gare said.

However, proceedings got as far as ordering the spread of assessment rolls, but the project was never started.

★ ★ ★

Again, in 1958 a hearing of necessity was held for the construction of a 29-foot concrete pavement with storm sewers and drainage structures.

At that time the Commission determined that there was no necessity for such an improvement.

Estimates covering the cost of reconstructing the pavement together with the storm sewer will be submitted to the Commission this evening.

Maps showing the proposed limits of the assessment districts also will be made available to the Commission.

The report results from a request by the Commission that the question of repaving be resubmitted.

★ ★ ★

An attached report from City engineer G. R. Serenbetz states that the poor condition of Redding road from Woodward avenue to Lakeside is due to a complete lack of drainage facilities.

"Therefore, it will be necessary to install a storm sewer with adequate drainage structures as an integral part of the repaving of this portion of the road.

The construction of the needed sewer would add an estimated $5,700 to the street repaving, Serenbetz said.

Registration for the Baldwin Public Library's Pre-school Story Hours will begin Jan. 6.

★ ★ ★

"Those who would like to introduce their three- to five-year-olds to the fun and magic of books will want to phone or visit the library early that day, since a heavy response is anticipated," said Mrs. Ann Burch of the boys' and girls' department staff.

★ ★ ★

The six-week series of 30-minute programs will begin Jan. 13.

The library will close at noon Thursday.

William Wright

Service for former Birmingham resident William Wright, 60, of 278 W. Webster Rd., Ferndale, will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be at Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mr. Wright died suddenly Sunday at William Beaumont Hospital.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Surviving are his wife Jane, a daughter Mrs. Paul Conover of Ferndale, three sisters and a brother.

washroom for a drink. The boy was killed.

"All of a sudden I started flying through the air," said Mrs. Butler. "Then about four people fell on me. I looked up. There was a cow's bleeding head looking at me through the window."

"I could hear Stella crying. A woman was screaming. Then a man started pulling people off me."

Stella, pushed under a broken seat, was almost unscratched.

Ike Turns Down Royal Welcome by New York

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower regretfully turned down today a welcome-home tickertape parade up Broadway.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner received a telegram from the President in reply to an invitation sent last Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"I recognize the high honor you would do me . . . and certainly for all of us a New York welcome would be a most heartwarming sort of return home," Eisenhower said.

★ ★ ★

"Unfortunately, my schedule and every element in all the arrangements for the days between now and Christmas were set weeks ago. None of them can be changed without affecting the Christmas hopes and plans of a great many people."

The parade had been suggested for Wednesday.

Blast Rocks Home of Russian Exiles

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Two explosions rocked the living quarters of a group of Russian exiles early today. All the residents were away and nobody was hurt.

The Russians, members of the anti-Communist central organization for Russian emigrants, lived with their families in a house in a Munich suburb.

★ ★ ★

Munich police after an initial investigation said they believed bombs were thrown by Communist agents, but they were not sure whether the Reds wanted to scare the Russian emigrants or meant to kill them.

Says Purse Was Stolen

The theft of her purse containing $13 was reported to Pontiac Police Saturday by Mrs. John Muldoon, 3170 Orchard Lake Rd., Keego Harbor. She was shopping in a downtown store when the theft occurred.

European Economy Parley Called For

PARIS (AP) — The Western Big Four today called for a meeting in Paris soon to consider a threatening economic split in Western Europe.

The objective of the meeting, the statement said, would be to consider ways of continuing consultations to deal with development of underdeveloped countries and to stabilize the free world's economy.

The group also will consider arrangements to prevent a split of Europe into two competing economic blocs — the six-nation Common Market and Outer Seven.

Truman Biographer Writes on Williams

LANSING (AP)—A book about Gov. Williams, by the author of the biography of ex-President Truman, is due for publication late in January, the executive office reports.

Frank McNaughton, former Washington reporter for Time magazine, is the author of the volume, to be released by Oceana Publications.

McNaughton did a history of the Truman administration in addition to the biography of the Democratic president.

LA Mayor Shuns Politics to Play Christmas Carols

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Norris Poulson played Christmas carols instead of discussing civic problems on his weekly radio program Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

"During the Christmas season the people won't be too interested in my headaches," he said.

★ ★ ★

The 15-minute program (over station KFI) was interrupted by only one "commercial"—the mayor's plea for safe driving over the holiays.

Christmas in our neighborhood

Ours is a big neighborhood, covering 12 states from New York to Tennessee, where over 4,000 Ashland Oil outlets are located. Everywhere the neighborhood is bright with Christmas light, and warm with Christmas greetings.

This is a special time for expressing the good wishes of the 4,900 direct employees in the Ashland Oil family and the thousands of others associated with independent Ashland Oil distributors, jobbers and service stations. It's a time to thank all our neighbors for one of the best years in Ashland's history. And above all, it's a time to be reminded that the true measure of our success depends on the friends we make and keep.

We look forward confidently to a New Year blessed with an ever increasing circle of friends.

Your good neighbor Ashland Oil Dealers all wish you a Merry Christmas and a Bright New Year

State's Financial Dilemma Is Solved—for the Present

Michigan's financial muddle is solved temporarily.

Glory be!

★ ★ ★

Even this fleeting breather is accepted "with praise and thanksgiving." We're sick of having an entire nation and part of the whole world looking down on us and making silly wisecracks that aren't true but which give us a "bad name," partly in jest and partly in earnest.

And now, just to rush in with a quick platitude: "The settlement doesn't exactly satisfy anyone."

That's for sure.

Compromises rarely do.

★ ★ ★

But this one has the saving grace of putting the State "back in business" so we can pay our bills, meet our obligations and become a "welcome customer" — which we weren't for an appreciable span of time.

★ ★ ★

Governor WILLIAMS has already leaped into the public prints with a blast against the Republican Senators and the stop-gap settlement. This is to be expected. Michigan's most distinguished captive has probably been even more carefully briefed than usual.

★ ★ ★

The GOP isn't too happy, either. Its members believe that the people of Michigan will vote for a one-cent increase in the sales tax next November. The voters have so indicated in several informal polls conducted in various sections of the State. That's what the Republicans wanted.

It is also noteworthy to recall that when we actually voted on a State income tax in the past, the people cut loose with a hearty and well planted kick in the slats every time.

It never got to first base.

We doubt whether it ever will.

★ ★ ★

The Veterans' Fund will be tapped but probably this is relatively unimportant. In that last analysis, it simmers down to a bookkeeping item. The excess of the moment will be borrowed and then restored in the days ahead as fast — or faster — than it's needed.

★ ★ ★

News dispatches suggest the Governor's declaration of "we want more taxes" may set the battle cry for the 1960 election in Michigan. The Democrats could launch a campaign of still higher taxes which would be consistent with Williams' 11-year record.

One studious element in the State contends we already have too much tax money, and an efficient and economical administration could actually get along with less than we get now.

Anyway, the smoke has cleared. Michigan moves onward.

★ ★ ★

The suggestion that the State was "bankrupt" during 1959 was the sheerest nonsense and only emanated from those that didn't comprehend. Michigan is one of the wealthiest States in the Union. Barely half a dozen have our resources and tax potential. We simply lacked ready cash. We didn't lack credit, financial standing or actual wealth. Our cash outgo was greater than our cash income and Lansing couldn't agree on the method of adding to the receipts.

Michigan wasn't insolvent.

Michigan wasn't even staggering.

★ ★ ★

But the days of embarrassment are temporarily over. Next fall the people can declare themselves. If they want the easy one cent increase in the sales tax, they can say so. If they want something else they can thumb that down and the legislature can climb back on the merry-go-round and go into the act all over again.

ANOTHER attempt at integration, this one by Atty. Gen. ROGERS, is resented in some quarters. He is trying to integrate states' rights and states' responsibilities.

THE steel union has already become quite cool during the 80-day cooling-off period. The other day it was so cool to a new wage offer that it turned it down cold.

PAYING and receiving a bribe under any other name, even "payola," doesn't lower the altitude of the obnoxious smell, that reaches to the high heavens.

Today's Hero

David Lawrence Says:

For France, It Isn't Peace on Earth

WASHINGTON—This is a season of moodiness in international affairs rather than of acts that advance or retard the cause of world peace.

LAWRENCE

It seems incredible that the President of the United States should find it necessary to persuade the President of the French Republic that the defense of Western Europe must be integrated.

Twice in the last half century, the United States has come to the rescue of France at a terrible sacrifice. Twice the American forces have had to cross the ocean long after the enemy had won victory after victory in sweeping across the plains of Western Europe.

Today, however, when time would be of the essence in a military struggle and when missiles as well as jet airplanes can cross frontiers to the heartland of an enemy in a matter of minutes, it is unbelievable that the head of any Western government would make even the slightest gesture that could weaken the military unity of the Western powers in an emergency.

The fact of the matter is that General De Gaulle, as a military man himself, knows the importance of an integrated defense but somehow feels he can use Nineteenth Century methods in diplomacy to gain his end in an unrelated question—the future of Algeria.

French leaders have always thought that the "quid pro quo" method of negotiating was the way to deal with Britain and the United States. This is disconcerting because the United States, on the other hand, has always felt that each question should be considered on its merits. Today, for instance, the American viewpoint is that Western defense unity is more important than a thousand Algerian problems.

FRENCH FEELINGS HURT

French feelings seem to have been hurt by American failure to give moral support to General De Gaulle's latest plan for Algeria when a vote was taken in the United Nations. The American delegate abstained because he was instructed to do so on the theory that the United States should not be taking sides. It would have done no great harm, however, if the American vote had been cast alongside of France. Decisions like this are delicate ones to make and undoubtedly, even if this had been handled satisfactorily, General De Gaulle would have seized on something else to give him an opportunity to emphasize anew his independence of all foreign powers.

Thus, outwardly, French policy is concentrated for the moment on getting nuclear weapons of its own. General De Gaulle talks about France becoming a first-class power in the nuclear field.

He overlooks the fact that it would cost the French people a good deal of money to accomplish this doubtful purpose and that also, at the moment, world opinion seems to be urging nuclear disarmament rather than the buildup of nuclear strength anywhere else.

President Eisenhower by his visit to Paris had an opportunity to smooth over General De Gaulle's ruffled feelings. The French leader no doubt has derived additional prestige with his own people as a powerful influence in world affairs because of the decision to hold the big East-West summit conference in Paris. He likes to feel that the world leaders come to him.

★ ★ ★

But Moscow must be smiling. For inside France are plenty of Communist members of Parliament to say nothing of Communist-minded individuals in the universities and the press who manage to wield considerable influence in shaping French policy.

They are said to be very active in fostering a haughty and arrogant attitude toward the United States on the theory that this fits in with General De Gaulle's passion for attention and increased personal prestige.

These moods in international affairs are temporary. Fortunately, the type of friction reported recently in dispatches from France doesn't last too long and permanent prejudices do not have a chance to develop.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Scurvy Still Abounds— Right Foods Prevent It

Today it is standard practice to give every baby, from the age of three weeks or so, orange juice, factory canned tomato juice or other fresh vegetable or fruit juice, daily. You begin with a few drops a day and gradually increase the ration of fresh fruit or vegetable juice to a few teaspoonfuls daily when the baby is five or six months old.

DR. BRADY

A baby getting scurvy is fretful, pale and tender in the legs, so that he cries out when handled. The gums become purple, swollen and tender, so that they bleed from slight irritation. This tenderness of the gums has often been mistaken for "cutting teeth" — babies who get their vitamin C usually have little trouble cutting teeth.

The other baby is cross, sleeps poorly, loses color and weight, has little or no appetite. If not given vitamin C the baby soon becomes feverish and lies as though paralyzed.

From slight or apparently no injury the baby has "black and blue" marks, and such marks have led to false accusations of cruelty to infants or to inmates of institutions.

In adults some of the early signs or symptoms of scurvy are listlessness, lack of energy, failure of appetite, irritability, and later loss of weight. Ankles and sometimes other joints become tender and swollen. Extravasations of blood under the skin produce "black and blue" marks, and similar hemorrhages occur under the mucous membrane of the mouth and other cavities.

The gums are swollen and bleed easily. The teeth become loose and may fall out. Headache and other general symptoms occur.

In his famous book, The Newer Knowledge of Nutrition, E.V. McCollum, Ph.D., Sc., D., LL.D., told of a prep school where laziness, listlessness, lack of pep and backwardness was widely prevalent. The diet was poor in fruits and green vegetables.

When the school diet was revised to supply plenty of vitamin C the boys immediately improved in all respects.

Youngsters who squander their pocket money on colored, flavored, carbonated sugar water (pop) instead of lemonade, orange juice or fresh fruit in season generally suffer from insufficient vitamin C intake.

Some of the best sources of vitamin C are not as widely recognized as they should be, such as fresh and canned grapefruit, fresh and canned tomato or tomato juice, green and red peppers, fresh or canned strawberries, raw cabbage, raw or cooked cauliflower, dandelion greens, beet tops, horseradish, alfalfa (lucerne), mint, mustard, parsley, nasturtium leaves, turnip tops and watercress.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Our Officials Do as They Please'

It's been interesting to read articles by the National Better Business Bureau. We need more of such, and we need more "Oakland County Residents" to awaken the people. Not only do the officials do as they please about the name of the high school, but they do as they please when taxpayers petition for a blacktop street.

★ ★ ★

Probably not all residents are affected, but it has affected my property to the extent there's no way for water to drain off, and this I did not buy. A little ingenuity could have satisfied everyone.

★ ★ ★

Officials seem more interested in satisfying the construction company than taxpayers, as they disregarded two written requests to hold up approval of this street until the condition was corrected. They neither notified us nor put any notice in the paper.

Waterford Township Resident

'Write Eisenhower About Nuclear Ban'

Aug. 26 President Eisenhower announced the U.S. would extend the ban on nuclear tests from Oct. 31 to Dec. 31. England followed, and so did the U.S.S.R., announcing it wouldn't resume tests so long as Western powers didn't.

★ ★ ★

Dec. 31 is almost here and we have no assurance the tests won't be started again. It's up to the people to help the President decide what to do. If he doesn't hear from us, perhaps the military will be successful in convincing him to resume tests and expose present and future generations to deadly radioactive fallout.

★ ★ ★

If, however, enough let him know we want the ban extended, I'm sure he will again find courage to take this bold step toward peace. I urge one and all to write the President. What better gesture for "Peace on Earth — Good Will Toward Men."

'Woman Will Never Get Female Vote'

Whoever said the party with a woman for vice president would "win easy" is all wet. Not only would women fail to flock to that party, but most of them would back the opposition just to prevent a woman getting the office. Sociologists and feminists may shout about equal rights and job opportunities, but most of us like the setup just the way it is — with men running the show. Women have more important functions.

'Freedom Doesn't Mean License'

No one that has read Lady Chatterly's Lover can pass it off easily like a letter in Voice of the People did. Intimate scenes are one thing, but plain dirty, foul words are another and when they are run along in succession, why it makes you sick to your stomach. Freedom of speech does not mean freedom to become low, vile and filthy in public.

One Who Read It

'Why Not Use Some No-Good Humans?'

That little monkey, Sam, didn't look happy about his trip to outer space and why use an innocent monkey when there as so many no-good human beings that rob, steal, rape and murder? Let's use them and then maybe we won't have to pay their room and board any more.

Smiles

A scientist says it's a problem for people to find what to do with their leisure time. What mother is he kidding?

★ ★ ★

Some of the young lads on TV sing with feeling, but not for other people.

★ ★ ★

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Child Must Learn to Like Music

Crystal's wise suggestions bring out the merit in the game called "musical detectives" as played with such tunes as Mitch Miller's arrangement of "Little Sandy Sleighfoot." Urge your youngsters to see how many of the eight backdrop instruments they can identify in "Little Sandy Sleighfoot."

★ ★ ★

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D—431: Crystal G., aged 28, is a music teacher.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I notice that kindergarten youngsters have a poor sense of rhythm.

CRANE

"And they don't care much for music until I tell them a dramatic story and weave the narration into the musical pattern.

"Is this true in general of human beings? And what is the best way to get children to like music?"

'CONDITIONED' MUSIC

Music is like spinach or cod liver oil in that children must be taught to like it.

★ ★ ★

Youngsters show no innate fondness for any musical composition the first time they encounter it.

And Crystal is correct in saying 'they don't even know how to march to music in kindergarten or first grade.

The simple accented beat in music must be taught youngsters. In fact, a lot of recruits of Army age still have trouble keeping time.

★ ★ ★

So don't get the wrong notion that some youngsters just naturally inherit their fondness for music. They don't.

Good mothers and devoted teachers must "sell" a liking for music to toddlers. This can be done by linking the new musical piece to other ego-inflating experiences already known to the child.

You can start by such a simple device as playing "musical chairs" where the youngsters are to grab a seat as soon as the piano playing stops.

Thus, they begin to associate music with the hilarity of a game, though their attention hasn't even been focused on rhythm or melodic harmony.

NARRATIVE MUSIC

Then, as Crystal has shown, it is well to link narration and dramatic stories with a musical backdrop.

Rossini's "Overture to William Tell" can be used for letting them see how the composer portrays the lightning and thunder via musical tones.

Or they can try to pick out the bird calls in Beethoven's "Pastoral Symphony".

★ ★ ★

Religious music, too, means nothing till it has been repeatedly linked in the child's mind with touching tales of unselfishness.

Recently, many teachers have tried to stress the fun of becoming "musical detectives" as they use Mitch Miller's arrangement of "Little Sandy Sleighfoot".

This inspiring Christmas song is accompanied with simple, narrative verses that carry the dramatic plot and also tie-in with the basic religious nature of Christmas.

But Mitch Miller has very deftly included eight types of instrumental and vocal backdrop for the tune.

On first rendition, most of you adults may hardly pay attention to this backdrop.

So encourage your children to listen with you and see how many different instruments you can pick out.

Even now I still can't identify but five or six, though Mitch Miller told me in person that he had used eight.

As we repeatedly weave narration and fun and religious inspiration and unselfishness into the many repetitions of new music, we finally "condition" the child to liking it.

In later life, these early emotional moods will be revived when he then hears these childhood pieces again.

95 Escape Burning Detroit Apartment

DETROIT (AP)—Fire at an eight-story apartment house forced 95 persons to grope their way to safety in smoke and darkness today. No one was seriously injured.

Residents of the Graylawn apartment house fled in their nightclothes when flames in the brick structure's basement filled the building with smoke.

★ ★ ★

Three residents and five firemen were given first aid for minor injuries and smoke inhalation. They were released after treatment.

One of the building's occupants described the escape scene as "something out of a horror story."

Family of Four Brutally Killed

Girl Found Lying Face Down in Tub; Probably Held Under Water

OSPREY, Fla. (AP) — A Christmas tree glitters today in an isolated home, but two youngsters will never open the four gaily-wrapped packages beneath the boughs.

An unknown assailant murdered Clifford Walker, his wife, and their two small children Saturday at their rural home.

★ ★ ★

The bodies of the parents and a 3-year-old son lay on the floor not far from the Christmas tree until discovered Sunday.

Officers theorize the killer was a friend of the family who tried unsuccessfully to rape the mother. They believe the murders occurred when the father and children arrived home from a friend's house.

The victims were Clifford and Christine Walker, both 23, their son, Jimmy, and a 2-year-old daughter, Debbie.

SHOT IN HEAD

The parents and son had been shot in the head. No murder weapon was found, but three .22-caliber cartridges lay near the bodies.

The girl's body was found face down in a half-filled bathtub, and Sheriff Ross Boyer said the killer apparently held the child under the water until she drowned. The girl also had been shot, officials reported.

Although three persons were taken to Sarasota, 10 miles north of Osprey, for questioning, Boyer said he had no real suspects.

Transportation advertisers invested $42,700,000 in daily newspapers in 1958. Of this amount, $25,876,000 by steamships; $3,100,- was spent by airlines; $5,772,000 by railroads; $4,639,000 by steamships; $3,100,000 by tours; $2,157,000 by bus lines and $1,156,000 by miscellaneous advertisers.

Autumn Shakes Snowy Mantle in Swan Song

By The Associated Press

It was snowy and cold across wide areas in the eastern half of the country today, the last day of autumn.

The three-month winter season starts at 9:35 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Tuesday.

Snow falls in most places were light, with depths of generally less than one inch. There were a few isolated spots measuring up to two inches.

The snow belt extended from eastern Iowa and the northeast tip of Missouri eastward through the southern Great Lakes region and most of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and into Western Pennsylvania. It was expected to move eastward into coastal areas late today.

The British Royal Mint produced 593,201,554 coins last year. They weighed a total of 2,940 tons.

Oil Burner Fire Kills 3 Maryland Brothers

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP)—State Police say an oil burner explosion apparently set off a fire in which three brothers were killed and a fourth was critically burned Sunday.

Harry Doane, 14, and his brothers, Herschel, 13, and William, 7, were pronounced dead of suffocation. A fourth brother, Weldon, 17, was in ciritical condition with burns over 90 per cent of his body.

Police said the four Negro brothers were asleep in an upstairs bedroom when the fire broke out shortly before dawn in their two-story frame house. Their parents and three sisters escaped without injury, but the four boys apparently were trapped inside their room by the flames.

Colorado has 11 natural forests covering about 3.5 million acres.

Mr. Common Man: Who's Going to Pay!

Combine Tax and Election Days?

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Editorial writers in two widely separated communities (Omaha World Herald and Houston Chronicle) have endorsed the suggestion that income tax pay day and election day should be combined on the same date in November.

This suggestion had a purpose. It was to focus the attention of voters on the tax-take at the very time when they were being wheedled by spenderama candidates for public office.

The voter-taxpayers of the United States are not wholly witless, despite certain depressing evidence that most of them are not very smart, either.

It is reasonable to expect that a voter-taxpayer with taxes much on his mind would be in an angry mood. It could be a mood to challenge the pie-in-the-sky chmpaign performances of candidates whose greatest claim to public office appeared to be a free-wheeling enthusiasm for spending other people's money.

"Who," the moody voter-taxpayer might ask, "is going to pay for all of this?"

The fact is that the greatest source of income tax revenue is the common man's bracket, the first bracket. There he pays 20 per cent on the first $2,000 of taxable income.

Tax Foundation, Inc., (TFI) of New York, observes:

"In 1957, the latest year for which data are available, the amount of income subject to the first bracket rate was about $108 billion of total taxable income of $153 billion. The first bracket produced about 61 per cent of the total income tax yield."

If the progressive rates had been abandoned and the first bracket rate had been applied to all 1957 taxable income, TFI calculates the first bracket alone would have raised 87 per cent of the actual tax yield that year. That is, the tough progressive rate structure accounted for only 13 per cent of the 1957 tax yield.

The common man does not realize that the money being tossed around by the spenders used to belong to him. He thinks he's getting something for nothing.

More than 1,000 divorce decrees were granted each day last year in the United States.

3 of 11 Fatal U.S. Cases of Rabies Caused by Bats

GENEVA (UPI) — Bats were responsible for three of the 11 fatal cases of rabies in the United States in the past two years, the World Health Organization reported.

★ ★ ★

It said more than 400 persons died of rabies in India and 217 succumbed in the Philippines in 1958.

Nehru Rejects Bid for Talks on Border

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today rejected Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's offer to meet this week on the India-China border dispute.

★ ★ ★

The Indian leader told Parliament that he had replied to Peiping that preliminary discussions would be necessary to make a top-level conference worthwhile.

Chou had suggested in a letter a week ago that Nehru meet him next Saturday either in China or Rangoon, Burma, to discuss in detail the conflicting border claims.

★ ★ ★

The Chinese Premier had proposed both countries withdraw their forces 12 miles from their present positions — a move that would leave the Communists still in control of thousands of miles of territory claimed by India.

Advice Depends on Investment Objectives

Bond Market at Record Low Mark

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Should you buy bonds now? Should you sell the ones you bought a few years back?

Bond dealers say they have some customers in each of these categories.

Those who are buying are attracted by the high yields that U.S. Treasury and corporate bonds bring today. The return is greater than can be had through the dividend payments of most corporate common stocks at present prices.

★ ★ ★

Most of the longer term U.S. Treasury securities are selling now at or near their record lows. Although the fixed interest rates on the ones issued some years ago are low, the bargain prices mean that your dollars buy more bonds than if they were selling at par. Therefore the yield on the dollars you spend is high.

The same is true of many of the older corporate bonds.

The U.S. bonds are the marketable variety sold in large denominations. U.S. Savings Bonds can't be sold—only redeemed at fixed prices—and so aren't involved in this discussion.

★ ★ ★

There has been some switching from common stocks into bonds by those looking for higher yields, and some buying by institutional investment companies for the same reason.

★ ★ ★

But there is a rub that defers some from buying bonds. That is, when the bonds mature the Treasury or the corporations will redeem them at par. The difference between present low prices and the par redemption will constitute a capital gain and therefore is taxable as income.

Dealers say that those who are selling their bonds come under several categories. Some are selling to set up for tax purposes the loss between what they paid awhile back and what they get today. Some are reported switching from U.S. bonds to corporate bonds where yields may be higher.

★ ★ ★

Some see their present bond holdings likely to go still lower in price if the Treasury comes into the market next year with bonds bearing high interest rates.

The treasury already is paying 4½ per cent for its shortest term securities, its weekly offering of 91-day bills.

Some selling of U.S. bonds is to take advantage of still higher returns in other fields, such as mortgages; or, in the case of banks, to get higher returns on loans to business. Many banks are short of funds to meet all of the demand for loans.

The question of whether you should hold onto your old bonds depends, therefore, on your own circumstances and plans: weighing their low interest against the loss at today's low prices, with an eye on greater returns from other investments to offset the loss.

Whether you should put any idle money you have into bonds depends likewise on weighing their attractive yields and certain capital gains against what you think particular common stocks might do for you, or what other more risky but higher yield investments might bring in.

Symington for '60 Drive Is Launched

JEFFERSON ITY, Mo. (AP)—A drive to promote Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) for the Democratic presidential nomination was launched Friday by the Missouri State Democratic Committee.

★ ★ ★

Members were asked to seek support from national party leaders and potential convention delegates, and to volunteer for personal tours into other states in Symington's behalf.

★ ★ ★

Money to finance the drive will be sought through a $100-a-plate dinner in St. Louis Feb. 10. The committee asked local groups throughout the state to organize "we want Symington" clubs for fund-raising purposes.

Secret Provided Moon Pictures

Soviet Scientist Tells of Special Apparatus Stopping Rotation

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet scientist reports a special secret apparatus stopped Lunik III from rotating on its own axis long enough to photograph the moon's hidden side.

He also says electronic signals from the equipment transmitting the photographs came in 100 million times weaker than signals received by an ordinary television set. The little flying laboratory whizzed by the other side of the moon Oct. 6.

An article by a corresponding member of the Academy of Sciences, V. I. Siforov, in the magazine "Soviet Union"—intended for distribution abroad—gave the first fairly full account printed here of the technique used in making the pictures.

Siforov emphasized two things—(1) that the entire operation was controlled by commands from earth, and (2) that all the apparatus was contained in a space measuring only 15.8 by 11.8 inches.

He said the planned trajectory put the sun, the moon and the earth in a straight line at the hour planned for the photographs, with the sun's rays lighting the moon's hidden surface.

Canada May Launch Own Space Probes

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada may launch its own instrument-bearing rockets next year to probe the upper atmosphere, the Defense Research Board said.

The launchings would be part of a series of tests on a new solid-fuel rocket developed by DRB scientists at the Valcartier, Que., armament research establishment.

Two of the new test vehicles were successfully lifted into the upper atmosphere from Fort Churchill, Man., in September.

The 24-foot-long rocket involved, known as the "Black Brant," is capable of a 20,000-pound thrust. The vehicles fired in September reached a height of 60 miles before falling into Hudson Bay.

In 1960 tests will be followed a year later by the launching of a joint U.S.-Canadian satellite to explore the ionosphere's top side. The satellite, to be fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California, will be instrumented by Canadian scientists.

It's No Longer the 5-Cent Beer but the 5-Cent Tax

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan beer-drinkers wondering whatever happened to the nickle beer may soon wonder how come the nickle beer tax.

Michigan's new beer tax could go up as much as five cents for an across-the-bar bottle, according to statements of spokesmen for the beer industry.

Sponsors of the beer tax said doubling of the $1.25—barrel beer tax would amount to an additional one-third of a cent a bottle on the wholesale price.

Cigarette smokers will pay another penny a pack. They already pay a nickle a pack.

When the taxes go into effect Jan. 1, cigar and pipe smokers will pay 20 per cent more, as will those who chew.

Liquor goes up 4 per cent, or 20 cents on the average $5 fifth.

The 3 per cent sales tax will be extended to telephones, telegrams and leased wire facilities.

NO TAKERS—If this "woman" looks a little hefty, maybe it's because "she" is 6-foot, 1-inch Buffalo police Det. Al McDonald. For four nights McDonald walked the city streets carrying a purse he hoped would be snatched. But he walked in vain. All he got were blisters and stares.

Lake Tonnage Drops Little Despite Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite the steel strike, which virtually halted iron ore shipping on the Great Lakes for about four months, total freight tonnage handled by lake shippers to Dec. 1 was down only 6 per cent from the comparable period of 1958.

The Lake Carriers Assn. reported today 105,125,970 net tons were shipped to Dec. 1 this year, compared with 122,290,965 tons for 1958. For November, although the ore carriers were not operating the first week of the month, total shipments were 12,567,049 tons, compared with 11,593,988 for the previous year.

The association reported 5,958,050 net tons of iron ore, 4,818,367 tons of coal and 1,790,632 tons of grain shipped in November. Totals to Dec. 1 were 48,766,305 net tons of iron ore, 44,056,379 tons of coal and 12,303,286 tons of grain.

The November coal shipments were the highest in 11 years, the association reported.

Newsprint Gobbled Up at Record Pace in '59

NEW YORK (UPI)—Newspapers used newsprint at a faster pace during the first 11 months of this year than during any comparable period, the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. said.

The ANPA said newspapers reporting to it used 4,868,727 tons of newsprint from January through November, a 6.9 per cent increase over the 4,555,687 tons used during the first 11 months of 1958.

The ANPA estimated that the total amount of newsprint used in the United States for the period was 6,491,636 this year, compared to 6,074,249 tons in the same period last year.

Interservice, Internation Work Must for Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Secretary of Defense, Thomas S. Gates Jr., has advised military men who want to wear stars that they must first learn to work with other services and with other nations.

The guideline for future generals and admirals was made in a directive Gates issued on the first day in his new job, Dec. 2.

U.A.R. to Get U.S. Loan for First TV Station

CAIRO (AP) — The United Arab Republic signed an agreement with the United States Saturday for a 12-million-dollar loan to build the country's first television station.

The money will come from the sale of U. S. surplus agricultural products to the U.A.R. and will be repaid over a period of 30 years at 4 per cent interest.

The station in Cairo is expected to be completed next July.

Drivers in Fatals Are Mostly Men

State Survey Shows 88 Pct. Involved in Deaths Males

LANSING (AP) — A survey of Michigan auto accident fatalities over a six-month period showed 88 per cent of the drivers involved were men, the secretary of state's office reported.

The survey covered 750 accidents involving 1,035 drivers in which 850 persons were killed.

Drivers over 60 years of age were involved in 105 fatalities and drivers under 21 in 99 fatalities, the report showed.

The report showed 594 of the drivers, or 57 per cent, had one or more convictions for a moving violation during the five years prior to the fatal accident.

A check of violation tickets issued to drivers surviving the accidents showed excessive speed as the most common contributing factor with 196 tickets issued for this violation.

Other common violations included 58 for driving on the wrong side of the road, 46 for failing to yield the right of way and 32 for disregarding a stop sign.

80 Foreign Students Enjoy Yule Adventure

EAST LANSING (AP) — More than 80 foreign students registered Sunday at Michigan State University for the seventh annual Christmas Adventure in World Understanding.

★ ★ ★

The students will spend the Christmas holidays in Lansing and Central Michigan area homes.

They will visit area farms, factories and industries and see the workings of state and local governmental units, labor movements and social welfare programs.

The 10-day program is designed to give foreign students attending colleges and universities in this country a better understanding of our culture and customs.

As a change from previous years, a trip to Kalamazoo is being substituted for the annual visit to Detroit.

"We selected Kalamazoo because of its diversity in industry and because it has been called a typical American city," said Mrs. Louise Carpenter, program director.

Believes Viewers Could Change TV With Letters

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In Hollywood television, the customer may not always be right, but he is never ignored.

"They'd write a lot more letters," says Arthur Rowe, "if people realized what an impression it makes in Hollywood when even one person writes in to say a show's lousy — or good."

★ ★ ★

Rowe, a 37-year-old ex-Marine who has written about a hundred teleplays and also done some producing, isn't given to yep and nope type conversations.

He's full of his subject when he talks about audience reaction.

"Lots of folks say their lonely little letter won't matter. Nonsense! Just one letter can have studio brass moping or singing all day. Believe me, they read them all," he says.

Pine Lake Country Club Addition Embellished With Attractive Decor

For the first time in its 57 years, Pine Lake Country Club has remained open after the summer season. An addition to the original building, built in 1905, provides cold weather facilities. The club will be closed during January and February.

★ ★ ★

Last March the new structure was begun. The architectural firm of Boddy, Benjamin and Woodhouse of Detroit designed the addition erected north of the old building. Except for the old kitchen, all of the original building has been retained.

The addition contains about 20,000 square feet of space. A new dining room with dance floor, a men's grill and locker room, women's locker room, business office, entrance lobby and cocktail lounge. A cement porch runs along most of the east side of the building. F. H. Taylor was the general contractor.

Concealed lighting along one wall and in the trophy case sheds a soft glow of light in the lobby. Two of the walls are paneled in oak squares. The front wall is all windows while the fourth wall is buff brick like the exterior. Other lighting comes from pierced aluminum fixtures.

★ ★ ★

Most of the aqua tile floor is covered with a handmade Puerto Rican rug. This rug has a deep pile and combines several shades of blues and green.

All the draperies are a pale sandalwood semi-sheer material with an overlay of fish net. In the lobby this overlay is aqua.

Four arm chairs upholstered in a rough textured beige material are grouped around in a large round Formica topped coffee table. Nearer the entrance is a small sofa covered in a changeable blue-green fabric. Two long black benches with aqua cushions are placed in front of the windows.

★ ★ ★

Up a couple of stairs and to the left is the men's grill and locker room.

BEIGE DRAPES

Floor-to-ceiling windows on the east wall let in a floor of sunlight. Here the draperies have beige and rust fishnet alternating on the sandalwood background. Lighting fixtures are like those in the lobby, but are copper.

The floor is covered with a rough textured carpeting in a rusty earth shade. Walls are paneled in random width oak. Back of the bar the cement block wall is painted an apricot shade.

Tables and chairs of limed oak are used for meals. Near the windows there are two octagonal shaped game tables, also made of oak. These have a center of apricot colored leather.

The armchairs of Texas oak have seats and backs of apricot leather, laced with rawhide. Similar chairs without arms are used at the bar.

★ ★ ★

A fireplace graces the wall opposite the bar. Made of buff brick, it has a raised hearth. On either side of the chimney, is a wrought iron bench with aqua cushions.

In the mixed grill — or main dining room — a folding leather wall is mounted on a ceiling rack in the middle of the room. This of course, enables the management to close off either side for private parties. This same kind of door is used between the middle section and the old dining room on the lake side.

RUST CARPETING

For larger affairs and for dances the whole room is used. At the southern end there is an oval dance floor covered with aqua vinyl tile. The carpeting around it is the same rusty earth color as in the men's grill. Alternating panels of rust and aqua fishnet cover the inside of the draperies.

In the acoustical tile ceiling there are square lights set flush and a large star spray chandelier at each end of the room.

Tables are topped with white Formica, flecked with gold. All the furniture has black iron frames. The chairs and small sofas have bright aqua cushions.

★ ★ ★

A second fireplace backs up to the one in the men's grill and opens in the big dining room. The entire wall surrounding it is oak paneled.

There are several doors opening onto the porch from this room.

SWINGING DOOR

A hallway runs from the lobby directly through to the old dining room. Here the floor has beige textured carpeting on it. A swinging door is set at about the same spot as the first folding wall.

Beyond this swinging door is the cocktail lounge. A white sunburst clock with one blue and one aqua hand decorate the wall behind the bar. Black and aqua stools are lined up in front.

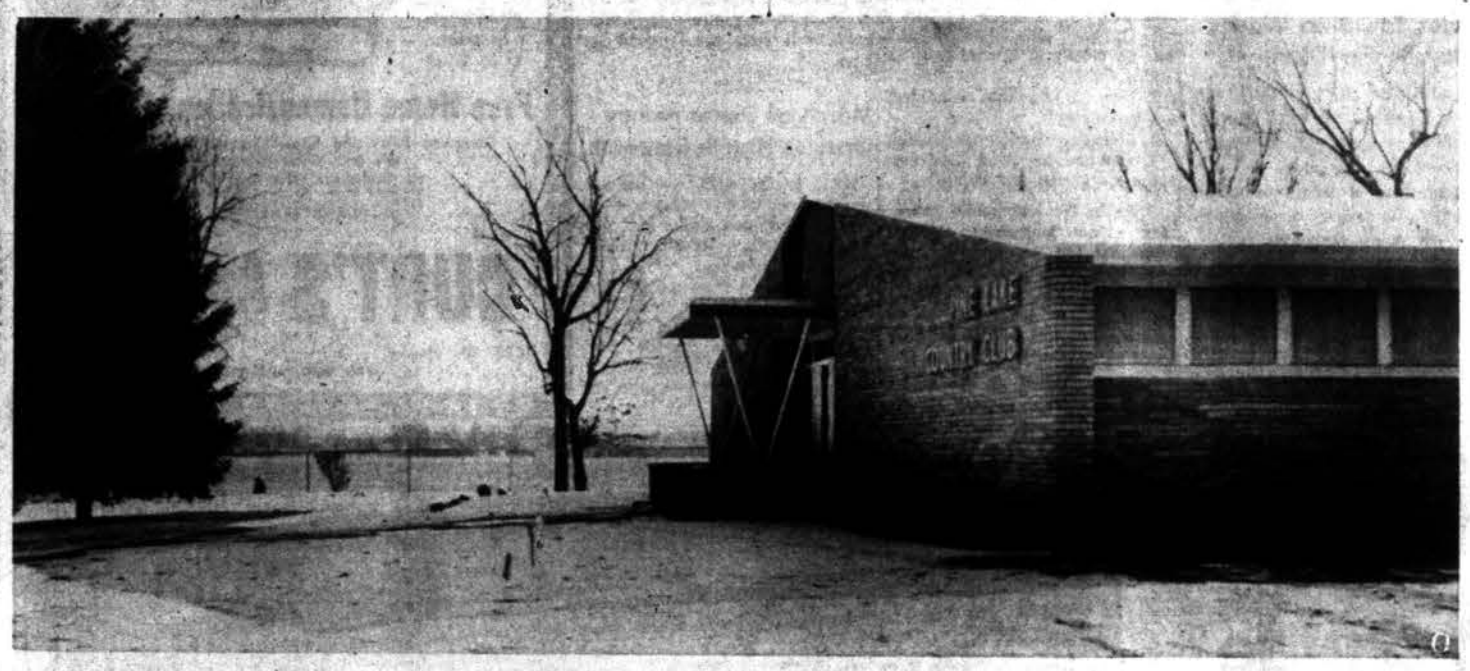

In the women's locker room one end is curtained off with flowered draperies. The entire room is carpeted in aqua and beige tweed. The block walls are painted aqua.

On the locker side of the draperies—which conceal a block wall—there is a long wardrobe where the women can hang party dresses instead of stuffing them in the smaller lockers.

★ ★ ★

In the lounge there are two large card tables, one of which is walnut with a Formica center and brass inlay trim. Chairs are either black or white leather. At one end is a low cinnamon sectional sofa.

George S. Hodges built the first clubhouse in 1905 at a cost of $5,000. He rented it to the club. In 1913 it was remodeled. The present addition cost approximately $300,000.

PINE LAKE COUNTRY CLUB — This view of the addition to Pine Lake Country Club was taken from the north side and shows the entrance to the locker rooms. Started in March, the new building was opened for use in November. Boddy, Benjamin and Woodhouse of Detroit were the architects. F. H. Taylor Company did the building. The exterior is buff brick.

Pontiac Press Photos

MIXED GRILL — This large grill room can be divided in two parts by the folding leather doors in the center of the room. Similar doors close off the old dining room from the new addition. Here, the center of the floor is tiled in deep aqua to resemble a pool. The carpeting around it is a rusty earth color. Furniture is black metal with white tops on the tables and aqua upholstery on the chairs and sofas. A fireplace is set in the paneled wall at the rear.

PANELED LOBBY — Like walls in the other rooms, those in the lobby are paneled in oak. But here they are marked off in squares around the trophy case. Concealed lighting is mounted in the case and just under the ceiling. Other fixtures are pierced aluminum. The long planter at the right and the wall behind are buff brick like the exterior. On the aqua tile floor there is a Puerto Rican rug in shades of blue and green. The lounge chairs have a rough weave beige upholstery.

Waterford Twp. Split on Plan to Rename School

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Thomas Alva Edison is a much maligned man in Waterford Township — not his memory, just his last name.

There's criticism — mostly from high school pupils — of the Board of Education's decision to rename Waterford Township High School.

To avoid confusion, the old high school was named Edison and the new one, now under construction, was named after another native son of Michigan — Charles F. Kettering — whose inventive genius won him the respect of the nation.

A Pontiac Press survey shows that while some like the new names, others don't.

★ ★ ★

For instance, Mrs. Eugene Mihay, 4912 Hobson St., likes them.

MRS. MIHAY

She thinks it would have been confusing for the township to follow in the footsteps of Pontiac where the old high school is now called Central and the new one Northern.

"There will have to be more high schools in Waterford Township some day," she said. "Names based simply on geographical location would be confusing, especially to outsiders.

"I think it definitely was time to establish a policy of selecting distinctive names for our new schools."

Two high school seniors disagreed. They would like to see their school gets its old name back.

★ ★ ★

"Too many things will have to be changed," said Pete Mayo, 4996 Hatchery Rd. "Ever since the school opened in 1948 we've had the "Anchor" (school paper), "Skippers" (football team), the yearbook, "Waterlog," the school rings, and the school song, "Waterford Blue and Gold." All this has to do with Waterford Township," he added.

MAYO

WANTS SAY-SO

MISS GURESAK

Another senior, Veronica Guresak, 3423 Norris St., thinks the students should have had something to say in the renaming of the high school. She Said:

★ ★ ★

"We are the ones who attend this school. I don't know of one single student who wants the name changed.

TONKIN

Floyd A. Tonkin, 3490 Dixie Highway, has nothing but praise for the action of the Board of Education. He said, "I think it's a fine thing to name township schools for prominent Michigan people.

If the students would take a good look at the history of individuals like Edison and Kettering, it might inspire them to work a little harder in attaining a better - than-average life."

WALTON

Township Building Inspector Carl Walton, 2831 Edgefield St., thinks that anything as important as renaming a high school, should have been put to a vote of the people.

ALUMNI ISSUE

"The people who pay for a school should have something to say about changing the name," he said. He added that alumni of a school like to see their place of graduation maintain its original name.

WILSON

A Drayton Plains attorney, John B. Wilson, 73 Fernbarry St., believes that this is the time to establish rules for present and future names for all schools in the district. He said:

"When there is only one high school in a township, it is alright to name it after that area. However, with more than one, each should have its own name, and this policy set up by the Board of Education will eventually prove superior to all others."

A bookkeeper, Mrs. Stanley Irish, 1437 Woodlow St., has a son in the 10th grade and is definitely against the change in the naming of the high school.

MRS. IRISH

"I don't like the idea of a name for a school that does not identify the community it is situated in. Most children are proud of their town, their high school and their home, all identified with the location where they have lived," she said.

GOP Dangles Dollars Hook

State Party Seeking $1¼ Million for 1960's Campaign

DETROIT (AP) — A campaign to raise $1,250,000 for next year's election wars was launched today by state Republican leaders.

★ ★ ★

The drive will begin in earnest Jan. 27 when 15 Michigan dinners at $10 a plate will be held around the state. A highlight will be a closed circuit television appearance by President Eisenhower.

Don E. Ahrens, head of the GOP State Finance Committee, announced plans for the fund drive today after a weekend meeting with 43 regional Republican finance officers, party leaders and staff members.

Ahrens said about $100,000 of the goal will be earmarked for the legislative races.

$400,000 FOR NATIONAL

Another $400,000 will go to the party's national committee and much of the remainder will be spent on party organization, Ahrens said.

Ahrens described the campaign as "the result of long study and preparation." He added that "We know where we will spend every penny."

Ardale Ferguson, state party treasurer, told GOP leaders that the state organization will close its 1959 books with all debts paid and "a small balance."

Ferguson said the party raised $370,000 in the state in 1959, a figure he said was a record for a nonelection year.

Every county in Michigan contributed, the treasurer said, with about 35 per cent of them meeting their quotas.

National Committeeman John B. Martin and State GOP Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer reported on organization plans and prospects for the coming year.

U.S. Will Grow at Faster Rate

Chief Economist Sees Jump to 4.2 Pct. a Year During Next Decade

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The chief economist of the National Planning Assn. predicts that the U.S. rate of economic growth in the next decade will rise to 4.2 per cent annually.

It averaged 3 per cent a year during the 1951-59 period.

The economist, Gerhard Cohn, said his forecast was based on the expectation that the nation's labor force would grow and that world conditions would permit "the adaptation of defense technology to peacetime use."

Writing in the association's monthly publication Looking Ahead, Cohn predicted that Russia's rate of growth during the next 10 years would average 6 per cent, rather than the 7.2 per cent the Soviets boast they will achieve.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has said that Russia's output of goods and services will catch up with this country's by 1970.

★ ★ ★

Cohn siad that if his forecast proved correct, Russia would not catch up to the United States for several decades, although the difference in U.S. and Soviet output would diminish.

Toledo Tonnage Up 277 Pct. Over 1958

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Port of Toledo increased its overseas cargo tonnage by 277 per cent in the first year of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Corp of Engineers credited the port with 30,597 tons of overseas import-export trade last year.

This year, the figure rose to 115,383 tons. It included 41,086 tons of a new type of ocean traffic for Toledo—liquid bulk cargo.

Nearly all of the liquid cargo consisted of molasses from Cuba and fish solubles from Scandinavia brought into the new terminal of the Industrial Molasses Corp. at the port authority's Presque Isle site.

★ ★ ★

General cargo was up 130 per cent—70,805 tons as compared with 30,579 tons in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Grain shipments increased from 149,205 tons last year to 328,680 tons, giving a boost to Toledo's hopes of becoming a major grain center. Most of the grain left here by lake boats for other lake ports or Montreal, but 3,492 tons went directly overseas to Israel and Oslo.

No, Not Carol— She's Merrie Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Latest issue of the Washington telephone book lists 14 Christmases but only one of them is Merrie.

She's 21, blonde, and is virtually beside herself as the big day for which she was named approaches.

Merrie was born in Adrian, Mich., to Margaret and the late Earl Christmas, whose ancestors long ago had Anglicized the French family name of Noel.

★ ★ ★

Merrie, now a secretary to a law firm, says she gets three sorts of reactions wher she identifies herself:

Some say: 1. "Isn't that something!"

2. Some think their leg is being pulled.

3. Some conclude they've heard it wrong.

But almost no one lets it pass.

"It's a wonderful conversation piece, both in and out of season," concludes Merrie.

3 State Men Ordained Priests at Rome College

They were Patrick R. Cooney and Gerald K. Flannery both of Detroit, and Richard E. Jozwiak of Saginaw.

Past Masters at Legion Hold Christmas Party

Members of the Past President's Parley and the Past Commanders of the American Legion, Cook-Nelson Post No. 20, have observed their annual Christmas dinner party.

★ ★ ★

Acting as toastmistress and general chairman was Mrs. L. Gladys Williams, president of the parley; toastmaster was past commander Donald R. Macdonald.

Lewis C. Jarrendt spoke on the history of the post since its formation after World War I. Mrs. Williams introduced the past presidents of the Auxiliary and gave the year in which they served.

Mrs. Homer Sisney, dinner chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Leo Mineweaser and Mrs. Arno Hulet, with Mrs. Roger B. Dean doing table decorations.

Roger Welton played several flute selections, with Mrs. Welton at the piano.

Gift exchange and a community singing closed the evening.

Poison Plot Figure Is Taking 'Vacation'

SALZBURG, Austria (AP)—The Czechoslovak consulate general said that Jaroslav Nemec, accused of trying to poison staff members of the Munich office of Radio Free Europe, is on vacation and it is not known if he will ever return here.

The spokesman said Nemec would spend Christmas in Czechoslovakia.

Rules Township Wages May Be Per Diem

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has ruled that payment of salary to various township officers may be at a per diem rather than a salary rate, and there is no restriction on increasing per diem compensation.

The ruling came at the request of the Kent County prosecuting attorney's office.

It concerned Walker Township, where salaries for township trustees were raised on a per diem basis.

Over 6,000,000 Predicted for 1959

Chrysler Chief Sees Sale of 7 Million Cars in 1960

DETROIT (UP)—Retail sales of new passenger cars in the United States this year may total 6,100,000 units, president L.L. Colbert of Chrysler Corp. said Saturday.

He predicted 1960 sales probably will exceed seven million, second only to the 7,200,000 sales in 1955.

The estimated 1959 total includes 600,000 imported cars.

Colbert pointed out that the steel strike caused hundreds of thousands of sales which would have been in the fourth quarter of this year to be postponed until next year.

He said the industry is planning to produce 2,240,000 cars in the first quarter of 1960 for the highest first quarter production in history.

Colbert gave these reasons for expecting an excellent car market next year:

1. Compact cars introduced this fall have helped to stimulate the entire market.
2. General business conditions are promising.
3. Consumer confidence is high.
4. Demand for good used cars continues strong and steady.

"We in the automobile industry expect increasing automotive demand not only in 1960 but throughout the '60s," Colbert said. We are entering a decade when the base of automotive demand is going to be well above that of the 1950s.

"The population of the United States is now 28 million greater than it was 10 years ago, and the number of households was increased from 42 million to 51 million.

The population will continue to increase by more than 3 million a year, so that by 1965 it will probably be close to 200 million, over 20 million more than at present, and the number of households will have increased by 4 to 6 million.

"The number of young people between the ages of 15 and 24 will increase very rapidly in the years immediately ahead. These young people will provide a strong market for cars, especially used cars and economy cars."

Colbert said that by 1965 it is expected that between 66 million and 69 million cars will be in use, compared with 58 million now and 36 million 10 years ago.

He said the continuing spread of population into the suburbs and the increase in multiple-car households will spur the demand for cars.

March of Dimes Money Goes to Health Research

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Foundation announced it has allocated one and a half million dollars for education in the health professions.

The allocation becomes effective Jan. 1, Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said. He said $600,000 would be used to provide postdoctorial research fellowships in medicine and related biological and physical sciences.

Monitors Get Hoffa Ultimatum

Threatens to Ask Court for Convention; Claims Watchdogs Stalling

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa threatens to bypass court-appointed monitors and go direct to federal court to obtain permission for a union convention.

Hoffa told a news conference yesterday he had given the monitors a deadline of Jan. 1 to arrange for the convention themselves.

The national union leader charged the monitors were delaying the convention and prolonging their life to make money. Once a convention is held, the monitors will be dismissed.

Hoffa said he told the monitors in a telegram last week that "they have failed in their responsibilities and duties to the membership, they have failed to make recommendations on the bylaws, they have failed to get us out of receivership and they have failed to get us a convention."

A Tender Heart Beats Underneath His Badge

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Hope mingled with tears of appreciation today in the eyes of Marie Mackey because a policeman was touched by her plight.

Policeman R. I. Haddix went to the Korean war bride's apartment Sunday after alarmed neighbors reported the incessant crying of children.

★ ★ ★

"It was terrible," said Haddix. He found the tiny mother cuddling two whimpering little girls, Beverly, 2½, and Judy, 1½. The babies wore only underwear. Marie's husband had been gone four days.

NO FOOD

"They hadn't eaten for two days," said Haddix. "She was just resigned to die with her girls."

So Haddix went to a grocer. He had $3.82. The grocer matched it. A customer pitched in. And Haddix left with $10 worth of food.

Police radios buzzed. A captain told his men to give money for his usual present to Marie Mackey and her girls. A cop brought a Christmas tree. Patrolmen took up money in local barrooms. Radio stations took up the cry.

And Marie Mackey watched the parade of gifts come into the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Somers who gave her refuge. Then Sunday night carolers from the First Congregational Church sang of Christmas.

A tear rolled down the cheek of Marie Mackey who had found warm friends far from her native land.

Jazz Sax Man Ventura Claims Dope Frameup

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Jazz saxophonist Charlie Ventura, charged with possession of marijuana, says: "I don't use the stuff; I've been framed."

Ventura, a musician long associated with the fashionable resort hotels along the Las Vegas strip, was arrested early Saturday by sheriff's officers who said he was driving in an erratic manner.

Deputies said they found marijuana in the car and then went to Ventura's home and found some there as well.

Yule 'Allocation' 530 Auto Deaths

Grim Safety Council Forecast 160 Over Normal Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—An estimated 530 persons may be killed during the long Christmas weekend, says the National Safety Council.

The council said the number would compare with 370 deaths on the highways during a non-holiday weekend at this time of year.

The count of traffic deaths will start at 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 24 and continue until midnight Dec. 27, a period of 78 hours.

During last year's Christmas holiday, which covered a four-day period, or 96 hours, 594 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

U. S. families spend an average of $2.56 a week in the nation's 54,000 drug stores. To help sell their products through these and other outlets, manufacturers of toilet requisites spent nearly $35 million in newspaper advertising in 1958.

Lost Portrait Will Be Sold

'Juno,' Lately Found, May Bring Top Price at Spring Auction

LONDON (AP) — Rembrandt's "Juno," a portrait lost for almost 300 years, comes up for auction next spring.

Art experts believe it will fetch at least $420,000 and may even rival the world record auction price of $770,000 paid last June for Rubens' "Adoration of the Magi."

The "Juno," was among 54 other old Dutch masters from the collection of the late Dr. C. Van Aalst.

The "Juno" is a late work by Rembrandt which was the subject of a law suit between the painter and an Amsterdam collector, Harmen Becker, in 1665.

The picture — the model for which seems to have been Rembrandt's devoted mistress, Hendrickje Stoffels — is recorded in the inventory of Becker's paintings. It disappeared after his death and was missing for more than two centuries.

Then, unrecognized, it turned up in a Bonn gallery. The gallery sold it in 1935 for about $22, believing it to be a picture of no great consequence.

"Juno" was bought by a Dutch furniture dealer and passed through several hands before finally being acquired by Dr. Van Aalst. By then it has been accepted as the lost portrait by nearly all experts on both sides of the Atlantic.

Sometimes Clear, Sometimes Fuzzy

Rocky Offers Opinions on Issues

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the past few weeks New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has taken a stand on a number of issues ranging from labor to farmers to foreign affairs. On some he's been direct, on some fuzzy.

On and off for weeks he's been whisking around the country to figure his chances if he ran against Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican 1960 presidential nomination.

★ ★ ★

Since Nixon has had years to line up Republicans on his side—and Rockefeller admits the vice president has a big edge—this has been a little like looking for Santa Claus. So he has had to identify himself by taking a stand.

★ ★ ★

He has had to give Republicans some reasons—beyond a big smile—why they might prefer him to Nixon. Nixon, being in front, has stayed quiet.

In this past week in the Midwest Rockefeller has been banging into Nixon strongholds. But he's kept up a cheerful look. He said he will announce early in January whether he will try to take on Nixon.

AGAINST POLICY

Probably the most controversial thing he has said yet—because it ran headon into President Eisenhower's policy—was his stand on nuclear weapons testing.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have suspended the tests while they try to work out some fool-proof agreement to end them altogether. Rockefeller said he would resume the tests.

★ ★ ★

His reason: To keep the United States from falling "behind in the advanced techniques of nuclear materials."

★ ★ ★

Here are other positions he has taken.

Labor:

He suggests labor forego further reductions in the work week as a help to the country's economic growth; the President should have legal power to compel compulsory arbitration when a long strike threatens the country's welfare.

EXTREME CASES

But—he said he doesn't think compulsory arbitration should apply to all strikes. He made it plain he was talking only about extreme cases.

On the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation:

He said: "I regard it as necessary and historic affirmation and clarification of the essential liberties and the abiding principles by which America must live."

This was a more direct stand than Eisenhower has so far taken on the decision which was handed down May 17, 1954.

Federal aid to education:

He's for such aid — for school construction and scholarships — "where there is proven need."

Birth control:

He said: "If the people of a country requesting technical assistance from the United States in an area where it had knowledge (as in birth control) it would seem to me that the United States would want to cooperate with them if it was in the interest of the other country."

★ ★ ★

Health insurance:

He favored a system of health insurance which would preserve the private kind but supplement it with government action where needed.

Non-Communist affidavit:

He called for repeal of the non-Communist affidavit required of college students seeking loans under the National Defense Education Act but he said he thought they should be willing to take the loyalty oath required by law.

★ ★ ★

He doesn't agree with suggestions by some Republicans that Benson should quit. He said "we are not going to solve problems by seeking scapegoats."

Farm program:

He outlined a 4-point one, based primarily on long-term rentals on farms by the federal government. This was a pretty sketchy proposal. But he said the present price support systems don't meet the needs of the farm problem.

Foreign affairs:

He outlined a 7-point program. This was extremely vague, except for saying the United States should retain maximum military power.

Oil depletion:

In response to a question he said he was favorably disposed toward the oil depletion tax allowance because it has a stimulating effect on industry.

ROCKEFELLER DONS WAR BONNET — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, right, says thanks to Chief James Sun Eagle after being made an honorary chief of the Pawnees and given a war bonnet. The ceremony was at Oklahoma City's airport before Rockefeller left for Texas on his political tour. Sun Eagle gave Rockefeller the Indian name of Nashuro Larwlak-alhru, which means 'Noble Man.' He said Indians now are peaceful, and hopes all people will seek peace.

Detroit Markets Lose $500,000 in Carts

DETROIT (AP)—Supermarkets in the Detroit area have lost an estimated half a million dollars worth of shopping carts in the past two years, a Food Industry Committee spokesman says.

An ordinance became effective here 10 days ago which is designed to prevent removal, abandonment and theft of carts. It carries a maximum of a $500 fine and/or 30 days in jail.

THE TWO LIVES OF THE TELEPHONE MAN

IN YOUR HOME

Here is the Telephone Man. He is in your living room, installing a trim red extension phone to match your new draperies and chair covers. This afternoon he will be down the street, advising newlywed Mrs. Smith about where to put her new kitchen phone. Tomorrow if you glance upward as you drive past the new housing development, you will see the Telephone Man atop a pole installing the cables that will bring phone service to a new community.

IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Here, too, is the Telephone Man. He is aboard a cruiser at sea, instructing naval technicians in maintaining their fire-control radar. Next month may find him on an arid stretch of New Mexican desert, working with his soldering iron on a missile launching pad. The month after—who knows—undersea in a sub perhaps or high overhead in a B58 jet bomber. The Telephone Man is a member of the Western Electric Field Engineering Force—the unit that looks after Bell-installed military equipment.

Today, you see the Telephone Man everywhere. He may be working next door, or he may be half-way across the globe. Working to keep your telephone service and your nation's telephone service the best in the world is a big job.

English Still Tops, French Second

Russian Language Pushing Ahead

NEW YORK (UPI)—English has been the nearest thing to an international language since World War II, but it is beginning to have some competition from Russian.

A look at the international language situation is appropriate because celebrations are being held all over the world this week to mark the centennial of the birth of Dr. L. L. Zamenhof who formulated the artificial "world tongue" called Esperanto.

Esperanto has gained many adherents since its initiation in 1887, but it has fallen far short of becoming a recognized universal medium of communication.

World language supremacy is based on the extent a language is used in business, diplomacy and science. English is at present the prime language in all these fields, with French running a poor second.

French generally was accepted as the common world language 40 years ago. Forty years from now it may well be Russian, depending on the political fortunes and commercial aggressiveness of the Soviet Union and its satellites.

ONE OF THOSE THINGS

"The growing importance of Russian is the current international language phenomenon," said Claude Piron, Belgian-born language expert at the United Nations. "No one could have predicted it two years ago."

Piron said the Russians have become more insistent on the recognition of their language at international conferences. School children in the satellites are taught Russian and publications printed in Russian flood the Iron Curtain area.

★ ★ ★

"Up until last year only the Soviet, Byelorussian and Ukrainian delegations at the United Nations made speeches in Russian," Piron said. "Now the Czechoslovak and Bulgarian delegations are using Russian more and more."

But it is in the field of science that the Russian language is making the greatest inroads, according to the linguist.

"Russian scientific publication is voluminous and the world scientific community finds it must read Russian texts to keep informed on vitally important developments in Soviet science," he said.

"There must be great regret in the United States that so few scientists and students can read Russian publications in the original."

Piron said English is much easier to learn than Russian but is much less precise due to vagueness of English grammar and multiple word meanings. United Nations translators find it less difficult to translate Russian into the official U.N. languages — English, French, Spanish and Chinese — than to translate English into other languages.

Piron also noted these recent language trends:

—The nationalistic new countries of Asia and Africa are promoting their native tongues at the expense of former colonial languages, such as French and English, at the risk of isolating themselves from the world community.

—Arabic has taken on such new importance with the rise of Arab nationalism that it has been accepted as the only half-official language at the United Nations.

—German is retaining its importance in many European, Asian and African areas, especially in commerce, but it has never regained its pre-war primacy in the scientific field.

—Spanish continues to grow in popularity, especially in countries that have trade relations with Latin America.

—Chinese Mandarin is still the most important language in the world from a standpoint of usage. Nearly a half billion persons speak or understand it.

The first patent for chewing gum was issued to William F. Semple of Mount Vernon, Ohio, on Dec. 28, 1869.

Insurance Firms Have No Value Statistics

Faith Keeping Driver Education Alive

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—The insurance industry, which normally demands statistical evidence, is supporting driver education programs on faith alone.

Insurance officials admit generally there is no concrete, statistical evidence yet of few or less serious accidents among young motorists in states where driver education is part of the regular high school curriculum.

But they still have faith that the programs of these states should begin to show positive results within the next few years.

Even in Michigan, the state generally conceded to have the best driver education program in the country, insurance statistics show that young drivers are a far greater risk than adults.

HIGH RATES NOT ENOUGH

During the three years Michigan has had a statewide driver education program in its public high schools, young drivers in most cases have had to pay anywhere from 1½ to 2½ times as much as adults for car insurance.

Michigan Insurance Information Service (MIIS) figures show, however, that these higher rates were unable to offset losses among the young drivers of more than twice the amount among adult drivers.

The margin between premiums paid by the young drivers and the losses paid out by the insurance companies for their traffic accidents was 8 per cent greater than the adult margin, despite the higher rates charges by typical companies for drivers under 25.

The MIIS has prepared a standard speech for delivery before civic groups by insurance officials who belong to the organization.

"It will be another four years, when the ranks of the young driver population will be as nearly saturated as possible with young driver education graduates, before the full effect of this program is really measurable," the speech says.

It also warns that formal driver education is not a panacea which automatically will eliminate the bad experience among young drivers, even when its full effect is felt.

'BETTER BEGINNING'

"Obviously, this is only an effort to provide a better beginning," the speech says. "The rest still is up to him, his parents and all the rest of us who provide the influence of example.

★ ★ ★

"Apparently too much of our guidance of young drivers in the use of modern cars under modern conditions hasn't been all it should be."

The insurance officials say driver education is aimed at teaching four fundamentals of safe driving—driving skills, rules of the road, the need to be a good driver and the proper attitude toward driving.

The first two can be largely taught in the classroom but parental and adult guidance is needed to supplement the formal training in the other two fields, they say.

If losses by young drivers can be reduced to the level of adult driver losses, they say, auto insurance costs in Michigan alone could be cut by some $17,000,000 a year, almost four times the annual cost of the program.

To date there is no statistical evidence to show that the program is even paying for itself in either dollars or prevention of suffering in accidents but the insurance industry still has faith.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H.® Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

LITTLE GABE AND THE GOLDEN STARS — A Christmas Story — By Walt Scott

At Wheel of World Destinies

Four 'Ancient Mariners' Sail On

By EDDY GILMORE

PARIS (AP) — Four remarkable men — whose ages total 286 years—are engaged in a health taxing climb to the summit that would stagger thousands of younger mortals.

★ ★ ★

This unusual quartet is, of course:

West German Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer, who'll be 84 in 17 days.

President Eisenhower, 70 next October.

French President Charles Andrew Joseph Marie de Gaulle, 70 next November.

And the baby of them all, British Prime Minister Macmillan, 66 this coming February.

In looks and action each belies his age.

How do they stand the pace of tedious travel, rough, tough political negotiation, conducted indoors and often under nerve-racking pressure?

★ ★ ★

The only thing their daily routine seems to have in common is — early to bed and early to rise. All of them drink a little. Adenauer likes German white wine and some of the headier vintages of France. And an occasional whisky. Eisenhower will take the occasional whisky and the wines of lunches and dinners. De Gaulle is partial to wine and an occasional cognac. Macmillan likes strong cigars and mellow port.

Adenauer loathes smoking. Eisenhower has abandoned it. De Gaulle hasn't been smoking in years.

But they all like to get to bed between 10:30 and 11 o'clock at night and get up with the dawn.

Two of them, Adenauer and Eisenhower, watch their food and eat lightly. De Gaulle and Macmillan are fair trenchermen.

Ike plays golf. The rest don't. Macmillan is fond of walking, but gets very little chance to do it.

★ ★ ★

Three of them are married and the fourth, Adenauer, is twice widowed.

Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan have soldiered in two world wars. De Gaulle and Macmillan each were three times wounded in World War I.

Adenauer was imprisoned by the Nazis. Eisenhower shouldered for four years the burden of the highest military command.

Is there some inner strength that sustains these men in high office?

One thing is certain—they give unselfishly of themselves. And each is deeply religious.

Rules State Entitled to Unclaimed Stock

MUSKEGON (AP) — Michigan's general fund soon may be increased by upwards of $65,000 as the result of an opinion by Muskegon Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox on unclaimed Continental Motors Corp. stock and dividends.

He ruled the stock and payments credited to persons held to be "disappeared or missing persons" escheat to the state. The opinion is expected to affect similar situations throughout Michigan.

The case in question listed 370 missing persons with about 3,800 shares of continental stock and accrued dividends.

Judge Fox ruled that the escheating process is legal although Continental Motors is incorporated in Virginia. His opinion held the firm's principal seat of operations is in Michigan. Continental is a major employer in Muskegon.

The firm changed its stock setup in 1922 and in 1935 when exchanges of stock were involved. In some instances the old shares were not exchanged and dividends were built up over the years. The company alleged that Michigan had no claim in the matter because the firm is chartered in Virginia.

More than 100 million people in the United States are indirect owners of corporate stock through savings in insurance companies, pension funds and the like.

Lima, Ohio, Blaze Kills 6 Men in Hotel

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Six elderly or middle-aged men were killed in a fire that swept through the upper floor of the two-story Holleran Hotel here Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

The victims were identified by police as Barney McCloskey, about 50; John Phalen, about 67; Patrick Moran, about 68; Fred McCoy, about 60; Wasil Kierucok, 52, and Thomas O'Day, 89. The hotel catered to railroaders and old-age pensioners.

★ ★ ★

The building, on Lima's South Side, is probably 60 or 70 years old, police said. While the upstairs interior where the fire broke out virtually was destroyed, firemen contained the blaze and the frame of the building remained standing.

Trumpeting Out of Tune With This Teacher's Aims

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jazz trumpeter F. Allen Smith is back teaching fifth grade pupils after a brief but successful career with big name bands.

★ ★ ★

Smith, 34, said in an interview Sunday that jazz and his desire to teach had been in conflict for years. He left a public school teaching job in 1958 to go on tour with Benny Goodman. In addition he filled New York nightspot engagements and made recordings. But, he added: "New York is a rat race. Some people like it."

★ ★ ★

He conceded that he had made good money, but worked day and night with very little sleep.

Smith got his teaching credentials after graduating from San Francisco State College after World War II. He teaches at Burnett elementary school.

Petrified tree trunks are so common in the vicinity of Piggott, Ark., that many have been used as cemetery tomb stones.

Broadcasters Happy Rogers Offers Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Broadcasting officials welcomed Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers' offer to help draft a radio-TV good practices code which would not violate antitrust laws.

They said his action removed a major stumbling block to stricter self-regulation.

Some circles were known to believe that the industry had not been moving as vigorously as it might in policing itself because of a professed fear of antitrust action.

Official Snubs Status Car as Waste of Taxes

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Here is a state official who is more interested in saving public money than he is in status.

Charles A. Kilvert, Rhode Island director of administration, said Thursday night he will turn in his expensive car for one in the low price field to save the state money.

"I just don't see any sense in assigning expensive cars to directors," he said. "Low priced cars can get us around just as well and a lot cheaper."

The divorce rate in the United States is six times that of Canada, three and half times that of France.

Who's Heavier Smoker? Surprise! Not He-Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Harvard scientists reports that he-men smoke less than non he-men.

The scientist, Dr. Carl C. Seltzer, based his conclusion on studies extending over several years of 252 Harvard men.

The men were classified according to their "masculine component" as indicated by body build and anatomical traits.

In a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, Seltzer said that "the heavier smokers show the greatest proportion of individuals with weak or very weak masuline components."

Conversely, the more masculine men smoke less than those of more feminine build, he said.

REFLECTS PERSONALITY

Seltzer said this "suggests that for a specified type of individual smoking may be a reflection of certain personality and behaviorial traits which are characteristic of his biological makeup."

In addition to being heavier smokers, Seltzer said, the "less masculine persons tend to have an aversion for strenuous exercise and sports, are apt to be low in physical fitness for hard muscular work, and are often poor in muscular coordination."

"They are apt," he continued, "to be less well integrated and more ideational, creative and intuitive.

★ ★ ★

"They are more frequently shy and antisocial and more frequently have traits of self-consciousness and inhibition . . .

"Academically, they most often select the area of grts, letters and philosophy as a college major, and their choice of career tends to follow these same lines of interest."

Seltzer recommended that further studies be undertaken to determine whether heavy-smoking, less masculine men are more subject to lung cancer and coronary disease than their he-men fellows.

Prison Population Keeps Up With State

LANSING (AP)—The state's prison population seems bound to increase along with the general state population, a Corrections Department study concludes.

The study also said no changes in the law or administrative policies are foreseen that might offset the continuing increase in the prison population.

The increase in inmate numbers was temporarily halted by a stepped-up policy of parole releases through scheduling parole hearings 90 days ahead of the normal hearing date.

During the past three weeks, it was reported, the number of inmates has been on the rise and stood at 9,749 at the last count.

Temperatures deep inside the earth probably range from 1,000 to 3,500 degrees Fahrenheit, according to John Verhoogen, professor of geology at the University of California.

UPI Lists 10 Top Stories of Decade

Frenzied Fifties—Years of Terror and Hope

(Editor's Note: A famous reporter casts his experienced eye over a busy decade of newsmaking in the following dispatch.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK (UPI)—The "Frenzied Fifties" were great newsmaking years—a decade of heartaches and successes foreshadowing more startling things to come.

The Space Age was born. And as the 10-year span 1950-59 came to a close man was getting set for interplanetary travel.

In the decade great events tugged at the hearts of men everywhere.

It was a fast and exciting period. The gloom and pessimism occasioned by the outbreak of war in Korea in 1950 changed to cautious optimism and hope in 1959 as a result of Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States and President Eisenhower's unprecedented goodwill tour to Europe, Mideast and Asia.

Science made phenomenal strides. With the Space Age, American and Russian probes into outer space brought within range the possibility of interplanetary travel.

A Soviet rocket hit the moon. The United States fired a variety of missiles into orbit and selected seven astronauts, or spacemen—one of whom may be hurled into space in 1961.

JETS AND A-SUBS ABOUND

Jet planes brought nations closer together. A nonstop flight whipped around the world in less than 48 hours. Travel time between the United States and Europe was cut to about seven hours. And the United States shot to the forefront in the development and production of atom-powered submarines.

Familiar names usurped the page one headlines — Eisenhower, Khrushchev, Macmillan, Truman, Nixon, MacArthur, DeGaulle, Pope John XXIII, Churchill, Queen Elizabeth II, Princess Grace Kelly Ranier, Nasser and Fidel Castro.

The '50s were sometimes frantic, often fearsome and never secure as the cold war poised the threat of a nuclear war that could annihilate millions of people in double-quick time.

In this period of stress and strain, America's role as a world power reached its zenith. Competitively, the Soviet Union flexed its military and economic muscles and rose to the most exalted stature in its history.

★ ★ ★

Heavily populated, ideological-minded China stirred itself and menaced peaceful India. Freedom-aspiring Hungary was violated and its revolution crushed by Soviet tanks. The free world, of necessity, fightened its alliance through NATO. And the United Nations carried on its ceaseless struggle to maintain peace.

Selecting the biggest stories of this stirring decade was no easy task.

DECADE'S TOP 10 STORIES

However, in the opinion of United Press International clicnt newspapers and UPI editors who balloted year after year in nationwide polls, these were the top 10.

1950—Communist invasion of Korea and U. N. intervention.

1951—Truman fires Gen. MacArthur as U. S. commander in the Far East.

1952—Eisenhower wins GOP nomination and is elected first Republican president in 20 years, defeating Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

1953—Death of Stalin marks new alignment of power in the Kremlin.

1954—Army - McCarthy hearings and subsequent condemnation of McCarthy by Senate.

1955—President Eisenhower's heart attack.

1956—Revolt of Hungary against Communist rule.

1957—Sputniks.

1958—America's continuing struggle over racial integration of schools.

1959—Khrushchev tours United States, agrees with Eisenhower to negotiate further on Berlin with a deadline.

Of course many other big stories broke in those 10 years —from the conviction of Alger Hiss for perjury in 1950 to the confession of Charles Van Doren in the TV quiz show scandal in 1959.

Beginning with 1950, there was the sensational stickup of the Brinks express office in Boston. Masked men got away with $2,775,395.12, of which $1,218,211.29 was in cash.

The same year two Puerto Rican fanatics invaded Blair House and tried to assassinate President Truman.

PERSONALITIES MAKE NEWS

Armistice negotiations in Korea were instituted in 1951, Sir Winston Churchill returned to power and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) launched his spectacular televised crime hearings.

Harry S. Truman decided not to run again for president in 1952 and Gen. Eisenhower became the Republican nominee, defeating Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio at the GOP convention and beating Stevenson in the presidential election in the fall.

The United States conducted its first successful H-bomb experiments. Elizabeth II became Queen on the death of her father, King George VI.

Iran broke relations with Britain over oil and King Farouk was ousted from his Egyptian throne.

The death of Stalin in 1953 paved the way for Khrushchev's ultimate rise to No. 1 man of Russia. Rioting broke out in East Germany, the coronation of Queen Elizabeth was staged in London, a British team scaled Mt. Everest, and Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin launched hearings on subversive influences in government.

KOREAN WAR ENDS

A truce ended the fighting in Korea. Sen. Taft died. History's worst air disaster killed 129 persons in Tokyo and atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were executed in Sing Sing Prison.

In 1954 the nation was shocked by the shooting of five congressmen in the House of Representatives by Puerto Rican fanatics.

The U. S. Supreme Court outlawed segregation in the nation's schools and the trial in Cleveland of Dr. Samuel Sheppard for the murder of his wife hit front pages.

President Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955 evoked deep sympathy and concern throughout the country and abroad.

The AFL-CIO merged. In Argentina the Peron government fell. And at the University of Michigan it was announced that Dr. Jonas E. Salk's polio vaccine is an effective preventive of paralytic polio.

Brooklyn's beloved Dodgers won their first World Series, defeating the highly touted New York Yankees in seven games.

Top news of 1956 was the revolt in Hungary which was put down by Russian troops and tanks in a blood bath. The Suez Canal crisis also worried the world, and violence broke out in the South over school integration.

★ ★ ★

Don Larsen of the Yankees pitched a perfect World Series game against the Dodgers. Feminine readers reveled in the fairy princess story of the wedding of Grace Kelly to Prince Rainier in Monaco.

President Eisenhower suffered a mild stroke in 1957, precipitating a controversy over presidential disability.

The Soviets were busy sending up Sputniks. Federal troops were used in integration trouble at Little Rock Central High School. The Milwaukee Braves won the World Series, and the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants moved to the West Coast.

In 1958 the indictment of industrialist Bernard Goldfine on charges of contempt of Congress stirred up a lot of excitement in Washington. Soon thereafter presidential assistant Sherman Adams resigned.

Pope Pius XII died and John XXIII was elected as his successor. Business toop a sharp turn for the better in the United States and Lana Turner's daughter fatally stabbed Johnny Stompanato in Hollywood.

The visit of Khrushchev to the United States followed by President Eisenhower's triumphant goodwill tour of Europe, Asia and the Mideast commanded world attention in 1959.

Of great interest, too, was the Soviet Union's announcement that it had hit the moon with a rocket, and Vice President Nixon's visit to Russia.

Ingemar Johannson of Sweden won the world's heavyweight championship from Floyd Patterson in New York. The Los Angeles Dodgers took the World Series.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles died of cancer. Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro assumed control of Cuba. Gen. Charles de Gaulle was proclaimed first president of the Fifth French Republic.

And Alaska and Hawaii were accepted as the 49th and 50th states in the union.

Sees U.S. Tax Cut in Jeopardy

Piecemeal Relief May Chip Away Hopes of General Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury says piecemeal tax relief measures now could jeopardize a future general reduction for all taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Fred C. Scribner Jr. gave that advice Friday in a letter to Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee had just completed five weeks of hearings on the federal tax structure. Mills said taxes are too high but there is no likelihood of tax revisions during the next session of Congress.

★ ★ ★

Scribner said the Treasury will welcome the chance to cooperate with the committee to improve tax laws. He noted that most witnesses had agreed lower taxes would foster economic growth, but also said tax revision should not cut revenue needed for "responsible financing of government."

Ocean-going tankers can load petroleum products at the rate of 40,000 barrels an hour.

Burke Favors Easing Curbs on German Navy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, said he favors the West German bid for permission to build larger submarines and surface warships.

Returning from a week's trip to Britain and Germany, Burke said exceptions were needed to the treaty which limits West Germany to submarines of not more than 350 tons displacement and to surface warships of not more than 3,000 tons. The Republic has applied for an undisclosed number of exceptions.

Israeli-Yugoslavia Pact

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Israel and Yugoslavia signed a trade agreement Friday for an exchange of goods worth 12½ million dollars in 1960.

America Mourning Williams, Its Last Veteran of Civil War

By JIM BOWMAN

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The last of the faded ranks of the Blue and the Gray, Walter W. Williams, lay in state today in a gray and gold uniform symbolizing his beloved Confederacy he served nearly a century ago.

★ ★ ★

The nation's flags flew at half-staff by executive order in honor of the Civil War's last survivor, his comrades and, the soldiers of the Union.

"With millions of Americans throughout our land, I pause in respectful silence," President Eisenhower said in a statement released by the White House.

Williams won countless battles against serious illness in recent years. He died Saturday of complications that followed his fourth attack of pneumonia since summer.

Relatives placed his age at 117.

"The wounds of the deep and bitter dispute which once divided our nation have long since healed, and a united America in a divided world now holds up on a larger canvas the cherished traditions of liberty and justice for all," the President said.

"No longer are they the Blue and the Gray. All rest together as Americans in honored glory. An era has ended."

★ ★ ★

Tributes also came from many other public officials, along with messages of sympathy from citizens of all walks of life.

Texas Gov. Price Daniel and South Carolina Gov. Fritz Hollings paid their respects personally. They were here on a weekend visit.

The body lay in a specially designed casket of solid copper tinged with gray. On its velvet inner lining rested five white stars of the honorary rank of general given him by a service organization.

★ ★ ★

The old soldier will rest in the rotunda of the Harris County Civil Courts building for 48 hours, an honor guard of 4th U.S. Army soldiers at his side.

Federal, state and local governments will pay tribute to him Tuesday night in special services at the Houston Music Hall.

A military procession will escort the body to the South Main Baptist Church for funeral services at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Graveside military rites will be held in the small town of Franklin, Tex., about 125 miles northwest of here.

★ ★ ★

The processional will include a 25-man fife and drum corps of the Sons of Union Veterans of Mount Vernon, Ohio, birthplace of the composer of the song "Dixie"—one of Williams' life-long favorites.

Williams listed his service connection as a forage master in Company C, Fifth Regiment of Hood's Brigade during the closing months of the Civil War.

Newspaper stories published several months ago questioned whether he actually had served as he claimed. State and federal authorites sided with Williams, who, deaf and blind in his latter years, was unable to reply.

★ ★ ★

He listed his birthdate as Nov. 14, 1842, in Itawamba County, Miss., and came to Texas after the war. He farmed most of his life before moving here to live with a daughter several years ago.

He had more than 200 surviving descendants, including five sons and five daughters.

West Heads Claim Success

Summit Talkers in Clouds

PARIS (AP) — The windup of the Western summit conference today finds each of the four nation's leaders happily convinced that he has scored a personal success.

★ ★ ★

In their frank exchanges of views President Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer blunted the sharp edges of disagreement within the Western alliance even if they were not able to resolve all their problems.

LIKE APRIL INVITATION

One result achieved without much trouble was the invitation to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to meet with Eisenhower, De Gaulle and Macmillan in Paris in April. If Khrushchev really desires serious negotiations with the West, it would seem he, too, has reason to be pleased by the weekend talks in Paris, which he must have watched with so much interest.

★ ★ ★

Ideally, diplomatic negotiations conducted among Allies should make each man feel like a winner. In that sense the Western summit talks were a success even if many tough details were passed on to working groups of experts. Eisenhower was described as highly satisfied with the outcome.

He succeeded, for example, in convincing De Gaulle that the United States supports the French President's plan for settling the Algerian problem on the basis of self-determination after peace is restored.

STILL PROBLEMS

Eisenhower and De Gaulle were unable to resolve their differences over integration of the North Atlantic alliance's defensive system which France opposes. There was hope in the American camp, however, that this matter ultimately can be adjusted, at least to provide for unifying Western Europe's air defenses.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle clearly secured greater consideration for various French views among Western leaders. The Western preference for Paris as the site for the East-West summit next spring also could be regarded as a triumph for the proud French leader.

Macmillan secured agreement from his allies for one of his long-range goals—the move toward a series of summit conferences. Only a few months ago Macmillan alone favored this idea of a chain of summit meetings with each one attempting only limited objectives.

★ ★ ★

Adenauer was believed to be the happiest of the four. His allies assured him that they would not begin negotiating with Khrushchev on Berlin at the point where the Geneva foreign ministers' conference left off last summer. Now, Adenauer believes, the Americans, British and French will have more line to pay out slowly when they talk with the Soviets about the German and Berlin problems.

'Bread, Water' Youth Arrested

Battle Creek Judge's Severe Sentence Fails to Slow Him Up

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—Richard Lee Babic, 17, who spent a short jail sentence in solitary confinement on bread and water, was back in the arms of the law today.

He was captured yesterday after he wrecked his stolen car in a two-mile chase by police. Babic was a police prisoner in a Battle Creek hospital, held for car theft, investigation of burglary and as a parole violator.

Judge Alphonso A. Magnotta came under fire for his "severe" sentence of the juvenile delinquent. Informed of Babic's latest arrest, the judge said, "You can't expect miracles."

He still believed, however, his bread and water and solitary confinement sentences would help some of the juveniles he has had locked up.

★ ★ ★

William Einhardt, also 17, was the first of the solitary group to backslide. Einhardt was arrested for disorderly conduct in a fight Saturday morning.

Judge Magnotta said that despite the two cases last weekend he had no intention of abandoning his "experimental" sentences.

Relative Calm Over Formosa

Red China Menace Still Hangs Heavy After Ten Years of Peril

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — It's been just 10 years—years of peril and progress — since the government of Nationalist China fled from the mainland to Formosa.

★ ★ ★

The red shadow of Communism, constant and menacing, still looms across the 110 miles from the China coast to the island. It hangs even more heavily over the Quemoy and Matsu islands, crouched close to the shore 150 miles apart.

At the moment, things are quiet, and have been comparatively so through the year. There is little evidence of reinforcement among the Red forces across the Formosa Strait. For as long as a week at a time, the Communists skip their schedule of shelling the offshore islands on odd-numbered days.

Communist leader Mao Tze Tung could spark another incident in an attempt to torpedo further peace talks between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Whether real trouble comes or not, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his 11 million people on Formosa are in far better shape to meet it than they were a decade ago.

From a near impotent, near bankrupt state in December, 1949, Nationalist China has developed into a major military power in the Far East with 600,000 under arms. At the same time, it has managed to stage a social and economic spurt.

United States military and economic aid has been a vital factor in the change.

Althea Takes Swat at Segregationists

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—"This is a sport, an international thing. And yet you have some people sitting here and some people sitting there."

Indignant over the segregated seating of an audience at the City Arena Sunday was Althea Gibson, 32, who recently turned professional after a reign as queen of the world's lady amateur tennis players.

"I don't like it," exlaimed the Negro star. "I didn't know this sort of thing still existed."

10 Coal Miners Killed in Japanese Explosion

TOKYO (AP)—Ten coal miners were killed and 10 seriously injured in a gas explosion 2,000 feet inside a mine at Fukuoka today, Kyodo News Service reported.

The Japan Broadcasting Corp. announced at least 12 more miners were still in the pit, which is 800 miles west of Tokyo.

Wisconsin Opposes Loss of Railway Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State of Wisconsin has objected to abandonment by the Chicago North Shore & Milwaukee Railway, an electric railroad, of its entire line between Chicago and Milwaukee.

The state, through Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds, filed a brief with the Interstate Commerce Commission opposing an examiner's recommendation in favor of the abandonment.

Bus Rides to Cost More in Detroit's Suburbs

DETROIT (AP) — Intertown Suburban Lines Corp. will increase bus fares in Dearborn, Inkster, Wayne, Garden City, Lincoln Park, Melvindale and Allen Park.

Regular fares within the cities will go from 20 to 25 cents; student fares from 10 to 15 cents. The company said fares between the various communities would remain the same.

New Bridge in UP Opened to Traffic

HOUGHTON (AP)—A bridge, replacing an old span linking the twin cities of Hancock and Houghton since 1895, was opened officially to vehicular traffic yesterday.

★ ★ ★

In the first 11 hours after the barriers came down, 11,000 cars crossed the new steel structure. The 11-million-dollar vertical lift bridge crosses the Portage Lake Canal. It is 1,310 feet long.

The bridge has four lanes and eventually will carry vehicle, pedestrian and railroad traffic. Trains of two railroads will continue to cross the old bridge for six more weeks.

There are two levels on the bridge. Autos and walkers use the upper portion, trains will use the lower level.

The bridge was designed to permit 2,000 vehicles to cross in an hour, twice as many as the old span.

★ ★ ★

There was no fanfare as the bridge opened at 8 a.m. police officers removed the barriers and transferred them to the approaches to the old bridge. Dedication ceremonies will be held in June.

Portions of the old bridge unused by trains were to start coming down today.

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Santa and Oonik have discovered that the reason the Ice King is making life miserable for everyone is that he believes nobody loves him. Santa has a plan to find him a wife but first needs the reindeer he set loose back in Santa Land.

Chap. 13

Santa's eight reindeer did not want freedom. Neither did they want to find food for themselves if it meant leaving Santa Claus.

So when Santa turned them loose they had merely hidden behind a snow ridge. When he had started out on his journey with Oonik the reindeer had followed, always from a distance always out of sight.

They were very jealous of Keotuk because he pulled Santa's sled. When the polar bear started pulling the sled the reindeers' hearts were broken. They thought Santa had turned them free to get rid of them. But still they trailed him loyally.

It was true that Oonik had a fine hunter's eye and his father had trained him well. From the very beginning he had seen the reindeers' antlers far behind and sometimes heard the clatter of their hooves.

So now he said to the Ice King, "Do you have some salt?"

The Ice King replied. "Certainly. I have taken salt from sea ice and I use it to keep my ice from melting in the summertime. But this year there has been no melting and I have salt to spare."

★ ★ ★

Oonik took the salt the Ice King gave him and spread it on the steps of the castle. Then he clapped his hands and waved his coat and shouted.

By and by the reindeer, who were hiding behind a hill, came up, one by one, and gratefully licked the salt from the steps. Then Santa came out and greeted them and embraced them with tears in his eyes.

"Now," said Santa to the Ice King, "you must come and woo the Sun Daughter."

The Ice King trembled with eagerness. He took a comb of icicles from his pocket and carefully combed his silken hair.

"Do I look all right?" he asked nervously.

"IRRESISTIBLE"

"Irresistible," said Santa.

He harnessed the reindeer to the sled and he and Oonik and the Ice King and Keotuk and even the polar bear, who did not want to be left behind, got on the sled. The eight reindeer, overjoyed to be working for Santa again, did not mind the heavy load. They lifted the sled into the sky and away they sped.

In no time at all they arrived in a land far to the East where the Sun Daughter dwelled.

Now this maiden was the favorite daughter of the Sun. She dwelled in the East so that her father could see her face the very first thing in the morning when he came over the horizon at dawn.

Though she was very beautiful she had never married because she was very finicky and hard to please. Still she realized she was getting older every year and she often longed for a husband to spoil her when her father was not around to do it.

★ ★ ★

So she was overjoyed when Santa Claus suddenly appeared at her bright little cottage and announced he had brought her a suitor.

"GET OUT! Get out!" screamed the shocked Sun Daughter.

★ ★ ★

"Show him in!" she cried eagerly and then rushed to her little bedroom to change into a yellow frock and arrange her lovely yellow hair.

When she came back there was the Ice King standing there, overcome with admiration, the icicles trembling from his whiskers and the hoar-frost gleaming in his hair.

"Oh Beautiful One," he murmured tenderly and moved to take her hand.

But the Sun Daughter stepped back in horror. She snatched up a blanket and threw it around her shoulders.

"Get out! Get out!" she screamed. "I can't bear the cold!" And she went in her bedroom and slammed the door.

Furious, the Ice King stalked from the house. "See!" he shouted angrily at Santa Claus. "Everyone hates me. Take me home! I shall go back to my castle and make a winter that will last a thousand years!"

Dem Committee to Plan 1960 National Convention

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee will meet here Jan. 22 to discuss 1960 national convention and campaign plans.

★ ★ ★

While the meeting's agenda has yet to be decided several state leaders have indicated they will fight National Chairman Paul M. Butler's proposal to penalize states behind in their campaign donations.

★ ★ ★

Some committeemen also have spoken up in favor of the Butler proposal which would assign convention seats and hotel rooms on the basis of state records of financial support of the National Committee in the 39 months up to April 1, 1960.

★ ★ ★

The Democrats have been having difficulties meeting current operating expenses at national headquarters while at the same time raising money to pay off a huge deficit from the 1956 campaign.

Another scrap that may materialize at the Jan. 22 meeting is a proposal which Illinois Committeeman Jacob M. Arvey has promised to put forward which would give the larger states greater voice in National Committee decisions.

★ ★ ★

Arvey would give each state the same number of votes in the committee as it has in the national convention instead of the traditional two votes each. On the basis of the 1960 convention vote apportionment, this would give New York 114 votes and Illinois 69 votes, with only 9 each for Vermont and Hawaii. All these states now have an even voice in the committee.

★ ★ ★

Committee officials see little chance of the Arvey proposal getting committee approval because many of the smaller states would refuse to give up the equal power they now enjoy with the larger states.

★ ★ ★

Arvey could take the fight to the national convention for a showdown vote but he has not indicated he would take that step.

Thirty-one states now have boat numbering laws in line with the Federal Boating Act of 1958. After April 1, 1960, the U.S. Coast Guard will number every boat of more than 10-horsepower operating on navigable waters of the United States.

Convention Compromise?

Staebler Predicts Dems Will Back League Plan for Constitution Meeting

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Democrats will back a "compromise" proposal for calling a constitutional convention state party, Chairman Neil Staebler predicts.

The compromise proposed by the League of Women voters calls for delegates to a constitutional convention to be chosen on the basis of one delegate from each state representative district and one from each senate district.

Democrats up to now have been cool toward a constitutional convention because delegates would be chosen only on the basis of Senate districts, which are Republican-dominated.

On the basis of present strength in the Legislature Republicans would hold a 30-vote edge in a convention if delegates would be named only from Senate districts. They would hold only a 10-vote edge if the compromise was accepted.

★ ★ ★

Staebler, speaking at a political seminar at Wayne State University, said "I predict that the Democratic party will endorse the compromise" and agree to ask the voters next summer to call a constitutional convention.

Paul D. Bagwell, 1958 Republican candidate for governor said he still favors a constitutional convention.

U. of M. Has List of Translators for Any Language

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A language broker system is helping University of Michigan scientists and engineers boost their stock in research.

Hundreds of scientific articles and treatises written in foreign language journals can be translated and made available to researchers here under a unique intra-university translation system.

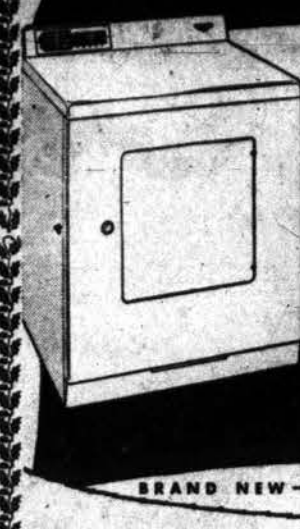

Formerly, a faculty member who came across a scientific paper in another language often had to dig, search and scrape to find a person qualified to translate it. Now all he needs to do is call the university's technical translation service and within minutes he will have a list of qualified translators.

The service is the brain child of Rudolf B. Schmerl, a member of the university's research institute. Schmerl has compiled a card file of persons available to translate articles in 15 languages: Chinese, Dutch, Danish, French, German, Hungarian, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Norwegian, Russian, Persian, Romanian, Spanish and Swedish.

"I felt that if a technical man needed a translator, the university being what it is, there would be someone around to do it," Schmerl said. "The arrangement is advantageous to both because the fee is generally lower than that charged elsewhere and because the translator has an opportunity to use his proficiency and earn extra income."

TO GRANDPA'S HOUSE WE GO — Harry S. Truman carries his sleepy grandson, Clifton Truman Daniel, as he arrives in Independence, Mo., with his mother, Margaret, to spend Christmas with the ex-President. In the rear a nurse carries the newest grandson, William Wallace Daniel, 7 months. The children's father, Clifton Daniel, will join the family this week.

Marriages, Deaths Big News

What a Decade Hollywood's Finishing!

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — What a decade!

Lana Turner watched her daughter slay a ranting boy friend.

Elizabeth Taylor had four husbands.

THOMAS

Bing Crosby lost Dixie to cancer, later married Kathryn Grant.

Grace Kelly won an Oscar and a real-life Prince.

The giants disappeared — Louis B. Mayer, Cecil B. DeMille, Harry Cohn.

Ingrid Bergman mothered an illegitimate baby but returned to Hollywood's esteem.

Death came fast to Tyrone Power, James Dean, Errol Flynn, Mario Lanza; with cruel slowness to Humphrey Bogart, Suzan Ball.

★ ★ ★

Frank Sinatra battled in and out of a marriage to Ava Gardner and back to the top of the movie heap.

Rita Hayworth tired of Aly Khan, took husbands 4 and 5.

Marilyn Monroe went from a baseball great to an egghead playwright.

ELVIS, DAVY, WEREWOLF

It was a decade colored by Kim Novak's lavendar, Jayne Mansfield's pink and Liberace's gold lame.

It was the decade of Elvis Presley, Davy Crockett; Brigitte Bardot, wide screens, 3D and "I Was a Teen-age Werewolf."

It was also the decade of greatest change since Hollywood rose out of the grapefruit groves. There was even greater change than during transition from silents to talkies in the 30s.

★ ★ ★

Ten years ago, there were 150 stars making important pictures. Today, only a dozen are considered box office naturals.

Ten years ago, the studios ruled supreme and controlled long lists of stars. Today, hardly any stars are under contract and the bigger ones can dictate their terms to the studios.

The major studio operation is as dead as the nickelodeon. Two studios have gone out of the picture business — Republic and RKO; others are selling their property and leasing back.

All of the lots are now largely clusters of independent producers.

Even the social aspects of Hollywood have changed. No longer do the Cohns, Warners, Mayers, Schencks, and Zanucks rule filmtown society.

STARS ARE BIG GUNS

The big guns are the top stars—the Sinatras, Coopers, Stewarts, Douglases, Grants.

As the 40s were closing, Hollywood was just beginning to feel the pinch of change.

Theater men across the nation were complaining that Tuesday was a dead night for business. Folks were staying home to watch Milton Berle on television.

TV was the major factor that shattered Hollywood's prosperity of the frantic 40s.

Theater attendance plummeted from the 1947 high of 90 million weekly to 45 million in 1957.

Six-thousand movie houses (out of 18,500) closed their doors in the past 10 years. Few new theaters have been built, although drive-ins have increased from 1,200 to 5,000.

While the population rose from 150 million in 1950 to 175 million in 1959, nearly every other industry expanded.

But the film business shrank. The major companies turned out 408 features in 1937 and 320 in 1951. This year the total will be under 200.

There were other factors besides TV that brought about the films' decline. The move to the suburbs helped kill off many downtown theaters. The new leisure changed people's entertainment habits.

Americans had time and money to lavish on home projects, motoring, boating, etc.

And Hollywood itself failed to come up with attractions to maintain moviegoing, once a national habit.

CHICAGO (UPI) — For the first time in world series history, no starting pitcher was able to go the distance in the 1959 classic between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Chicago White Sox.

No Agreement on A-Controls

West, Soviet Scientists Fail to Reach Pact on Underground Blasts

GENEVA (UPI) — Western and Soviet scientists Saturday failed to reach agreement on a workable control system for underground nuclear explosions that could escape detection by present methods.

Their failure after three weeks of discussions ruled out Western approval for a complete ban on all nuclear testing, as demanded by the Soviets, because the West fears sneak tests would be possible.

American scientists discovered that some underground nuclear blasts could be muffled so that detection was nearly impossible. Others might be mistaken for earthquakes. The West presented this information to the Russians and asked them to cooperate on finding ways to close the loopholes.

Today's failure meant that the West probably would renew its offer to agree to a step-by-step ban on all but underground nuclear blasts. Surface, air and water explosions are easy to detect with present equipment.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet rejection of the U. S. information marked a new low in the test ban negotiations, which have been going on for 14 months here among the world's three nuclear powers, the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

The scientists also failed to reach agreement on an objective scientific basis for dispatching inspection teams to check suspected underground blasts on the spot.

Their only agreement was on suggestions for better equipment in the 180 control posts that would police the ban throughout the world.

But the United Nations representative at the conference, T. G. Narayanan, said the governments might call the scientists back together at a later date.

All three nations have banned nuclear testing while the negotiations continue. The Soviets want to make the ban for all tests and for all time, but the West wants a foolproof control system established before agreeing.

The delegates recessed Saturday until Jan. 12. The scientists' report will be sent to the three capitals for study.

The birthplace of the Prostestant Episcopal Church in the United States was at the Old Christ Church in Philadelphia. The services were attended by 15 signers of the U.S. Declaration of Independence.

High grade gold ore was found in 1880 at White Oaks, N.M., by George Wilson who was then fleeing from a sheriff's posse. He immediately sold his claim for $40.

About Mormons on Beaver Island

Rare, Old Book Published

LANSING (UPI) — A rare book written by one of Michigan's most controversial and colorful historical figures has been published in a limited edition by W. S. Woodfill, chairman of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission.

Carrying the cumbersome title "Ancient and Modern Michilimackinac, Including an Account of the Controversey Between Mackinac and the Mormons," it was written by Beaver Island Mormon King James Jesse Strang and published on his own press in 1854.

Although it was again published in 1885 and 1894, it has long been virtually unobtainable at any price, and is found in only a few libraries.

The book is a contemporary account of the conflict between "King" James' Mormons, who formed a colony on the island in 1847, and their opponents on Mackinac Island, the political headquarters of the region.

★ ★ ★

Dr. George S. May of the Michigan Historical Commission and editor of the book, said the publishing was a private venture for both he and Woodfill, who also operates the island's Grand Hotel.

"But I guess you could call this a public service," May said. "Woodfill will probably break even when all the books (at $7.50 each) are sold." About half of the 500 copies printed have already been sold, he said.

Strang, who took an offshoot of the main Mormon branch which followed Brigham Young to found Salt Lake City, Utah, surveyed the island in 1847 and the main body of colonizers came in 1849.

★ ★ ★

By 1856, Strang's colony numbered 2,000. He served two terms in the State House of Representatives and from all accounts was "a surprisingly competent legislator," May said. One of his contributions was to straighten out hazy county lines in the area.

But the slight, bearded Mormon king was in trouble right from the start. He threw Irish settlers off the island and his colony began the practice of polygamy. Strang himself had five wives and fathered about 12 children.

In June 1856 two disgruntled followers shot Strang as he prepared to board a U.S. naval ship at the island, and he died two weeks later in Wisconsin, where he was taken by others in the colony.

The Irish mainlanders, former settlers on the island, in July invaded the colony and dispersed the Mormons, burning their village to the ground.

"This book is probably the best account we have of Strang's 'kingdom'," May said. "Strang's history of the area before he arrived is pretty inaccurate and his discussion of his opponents is prejudiced, but the account of his own colony is probably accurate.

May said the Strangite Church has revived in recent years, with headquarters in Voree, Wis. of which Strang was a native. "But it still numbers in the hundreds, not thousands," he said.

"One of Strang's sons lived in Lansing and didn't die until some time in the 1940's," May said. "He was a Congregational minister. None of Strang's wives or children remained Strangites."

Woodfill's publication is almost an exact replica of the original, May said. Printers were shown photographs of the 1854 edition and even misspellings were not changed, although obvious typographical errors were. A photograph of Strang is one of several illustrations.

Today Beaver Island has a year-around population of about 400, mostly Irish fishermen. The Beaver Island historical society has taken over Strang's old print shop, the only surviving building of the Mormon colony, and turned it into a museum.

California Dems All for Brown in 1960

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California's Democratic congressmen are for Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown 16 to 0 as a favorite son candidate in their party's 1960 state presidential primary.

Brown also told his news conference Friday that while dining with six of the congressmen here Tuesday, he was informed that the state's entire delegation to his party's 1960 convention—representing 81 votes—is for him as favorite son candidate.

Saginaw Hospital Drive Gets Gift From Fund

SAGINAW (UPI) — A gift of $75,000 was received by the Saginaw General Hospital building fund drive committee.

Officials said the gift, from the C. K. Eddy Family Memorial Fund, brought to $940,000 the total received toward the campaign goal of $1,700,000.

Indonesia Slates Trial for U.S. Flier in Bombing

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Allan Lawrence Pope, an American flier accused of carrying out bombing attacks for North Celebes rebels in May 1958, will go on trial here Dec.

They said Pope, who has been detained since his B26 bomber was shot down over the sea 19 months ago, will be defended by a local lawyer.

He is accused of causing the deaths of several civilians and

There's Punch in the Acting of Archie Moore

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In Archie Moore, movieland figures are convinced they have a rarity — an athlete who can act.

"That man has a naturalness and sincerity that shines from the screen," says actor Norman Lloyd who first suggested that Moore try acting.

Moore's initial effort, still in production, is "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn." He plays Jim, a runaway Negro slave.

Lloyd's opinion was echoed by John Carradine who appears with the light-heavyweight title holder in the Mark Twain story.

"What a sweet, expressive face," says Carradine. "No one would ever guess that man is a professional fighter."

★ ★ ★

Moore himself is deadly serious about his new career. He is on the set at MGM going over his scenes long before others in the cast show up at the studio.

He talks enthusiastically about doing at least three more movies.

An extinct volcano named Nevado de Toluca, 67 miles southwest of Mexico City, is being converted into a resort for such sports as skiing and ice skating.

Citizens Program Describes World's Christmas Customs

The New Citizens League of Pontiac and Janice Antona's citizenship class celebrated "Christmas Around the World" Friday evening at Pontiac Central High School. Miss Antona at left examines the authentic Greek costume of Bessie Fotineas of Hill street. Joining in admiration of the rich fabric is Ma Yee of Park street.

Pontiac Press Photos

"Christmas Around the World" was celebrated by the New Citizens League of Pontiac and Janice Antona's citizenship class on Friday evening. One hundred and fifty members and guests were at the party in Pontiac Central High School.

Mrs. Joseph Bennett accompanied the group in carols directed by Mrs. Theodore Wiersema. Mrs. Wiersema told of Christmas customs and their origins, and showed slides.

CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS

Customs of their native lands were explained by Tina Prince, Violet Walker, Mrs. R. A. Perkins, Renata Melinat, Anna Cantarella and Helen Parsons.

Some of these:

In Holland Christmas is a family and church affair with religious programs on the 26th, following the family gatherings on the 25th.

The traditional plum pudding with its sprig of holly and blazing brandy sauce is the climax of the English Christmas dinner. Food is given to the poor at this time. Boxing Day is celebrated the day after Christmas.

With the beginning of Advent early in December a candle is lighted each week until Christmas in Switzerland. Saint Nikolaus comes down from the mountains on Dec. 6 with toys for good children and switches for bad ones. Much is made of the religious services on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Advent marks the beginning of the holiday season in Czechoslovakia also. An evergreen decoration is suspended from the ceiling of the living room. Four red candles and gaily colored figurines are fastened on the upper side with gold — or silver-coated nuts and cones underneath. The candles signify the four weeks to Christmas. On Christmas Eve gifts are brought by the Christ Child.

WARM AND HOMEY

Germany's Christmas is warm and homey. Many and rich are the traditional foods.

Homes are decorated and church bells ring out everywhere. This is a land where music is very much a part of Christmas.

★ ★ ★

In Greece the children go from house to house on Christmas Eve, carrying the manger scene and singing carols. St. Basil is the gift giver. Presents are given on New Year's Day and festivities end Jan. 6.

Children must prove their talents for Santa Claus in Esthonia by reciting poems or singing. The traditional Christmas dinner is roast pork and black pudding.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Daisy Langton was chairman of the refreshment committee. Christmas cakes and cookies from all over the world were served from a table centered with a Christmas cake from France. Mrs. Perkins in native Swiss costume and Ma Yee in a Chinese dress poured.

Mouth-watering goodies from many lands tempted guests. Eying the Christmas cake from France are Clyde Allen of Joslyn road and Connie Bastrico of North Perry street.

East meets West in "Christmas Around the World." Mrs. R. A. Perkins of Hilltop street admires the rich native costume of Mrs. Lin Hong of West Huron street, holding son Kim. Pony-tailed Aline looks on with interest.

Woman Driver Cares for Car

NEW YOR K(UPI)—When it comes to taking care of the family car, women are way ahead of men.

More than 70 per cent of the sales of auto replacement parts are made to women, says Joseph Weiss, president of a manufacturing firm. More women also bring cars in for check-ups and installation of safety belts, probably because they usually drive with children in the car.

Luncheon at School

A luncheon for teachers, executive board members and room mothers of Willis School is slated for Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. in the library.

Mrs. William Davis, home room mother chairman, will be in charge, with Mrs. Lawrence Smith assisting. The Service Squad Girls will serve. Gifts will be exchanged.

Albert Krueger will chairman the old newspaper and magazine sale on Jan. 11.

Berean Class Elects Officers for Next Year

Andrew Bee was elected president of the Berean Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church when Mr. and Mrs. Omar MacNutt opened their home on Neome drive to the group Friday evening.

Other officers elected include Lester Bell, vice president; Mrs. David Duval, recording secretary; Stanton Levely, treasurer; and Mrs. Max Eaton, corresponding secretary.

Members brought food and gifts for a needy family basket and exchanged gifts. The Marion Group and the Williams Group, respectively, provided the entertainment and served the refreshments.

JUDITH ANN GREER

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Greer of Dresden street announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Ann to William Highfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benson McClaughry of Walled Lake. January nuptials are planned.

Parents Often Give Children False Faces

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

He's three years old and this past Halloween, according to his grandfather, he went "trick-or-treating" for the first time.

He chose to go as a ghost. I didn't see him so I can't tell you how he acquired a phantasmal look. Maybe an old pillow case, cut for eye holes and dropped over his head, did it. Anyway, off he trekked at dusk, his mother trailing at a distance that would not too focibly suggest inexperience in the Halloween game.

When he knocked at the door of the first neighbor, she opened it and feeling obliged to support the only-too-recognizable small boy in his assumption of spectral appearance, cried with pretended terror:

"Oh, who is this on the front porch? It's a ghost!"

But my friend's little grandson wasn't having any such silly confusion of appearance with reality. In the manner of one correcting the extremely stupid, he said sternly:

"It's ME! It's Brad!"

To such small ones who can still insist on the difference between what they seem to be and what they are, be Life, Health and Strength!

As they grow up, only a happy few retain their knowledge of the difference. Instead of declaring, "It's me!" they begin to believe that their false faces are their true ones.

Because, like the neighbor lady, we take appearance for reality. We say:

"Who is this naughty boy jumping up and down on the sofa when he's been told not to?"

And our "naughty" boy, instead of saying, "I am jumping up and down on your sofa from exuberance, not from naughtiness," accepts the character of a disobedient child. We say:

"What untidy girl left her skates in the hallway?"

And our "untidy" girl, instead of saying, "I left my skates in the hallway partly from untidiness but mostly from my need to get to the library before it closed," becomes convinced of her sloppy character.

* * *

Gradually, our children take on the false-face identities we've given them; and unlike Brad shouting the truth from under his pillow case, lose the innocent power to cry out, "Hey, you've got me wrong! This is Me!"

Just Look Grieved With 'Em

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a bellboy in a large hotel in an all-year-round resort city. It happens quite often that guests who obviously have traveled very little, give me a smile and a paltry dime for dragging several heavy bags to their rooms.

Since we depend for our living chiefly upon the tips we receive, is it possible to tell these people that more is expected for such service?

Answer: The propriety of your making any comment about the insufficiency of the tips offered would be inexcusable behavior on your part. In fact, any sign of discontent would simply lead to their resentment rather than their sympathy.

The hope that certain guests will overtip for the same services is about the only bright prospect that I can see in your situation. If you can skillfully show rueful disappointment, rather than ill-humor, this might help.

* * *

THANK HER

Dear Mrs. Post: Last year a neighbor offered me the use of her very beautiful baby carriage. Now that my baby is growing out of this model I soon expect to return it. I'd like to know the proper way to show my appreciation and thanks for her kindness.

Answer: The important thing is to return it in perfect condition. Just say "thank you" appreciatively, and when opportunity offers, do something for her.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to the 50th wedding anniversary of very dear friends of mine. I know the 50th year is gold, but I cannot afford to give anything expensive. Will you please tell me what else would be suitable to give on this occasion?

Answer: Anything in gilt or brass or anything with gilt or gold ornamentation on it — or something in golden yellow —would be suitable.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man is waiting for a bus and finds himself the only man among a large group of women, is he supposed to wait until all the women get on the bus before he does?

Answer: In a crowd, it is best to move with it in the turn you happen to come. When there are only a few, it is courteous that he wait.

To Avoid Frizz, Don't Set Hair Dripping Wet

Never, never set your hair when it is sopping wet. This can ruin a permanent or wreak havoc with naturally curly hair.

If you want to set your hair after a shampoo, towel it dry first and then dampen it, curl by curl. But be sure that you dampen it rather than wet it.

* * *

Wet hair stretches easily and therefore is easily damaged. By working with dry hair and applying just enough moisture, you'll achieve a pretty, springy lasting curl rather than a frizzy one.

NEWER HAIR SHADES

by Rowena Wilson

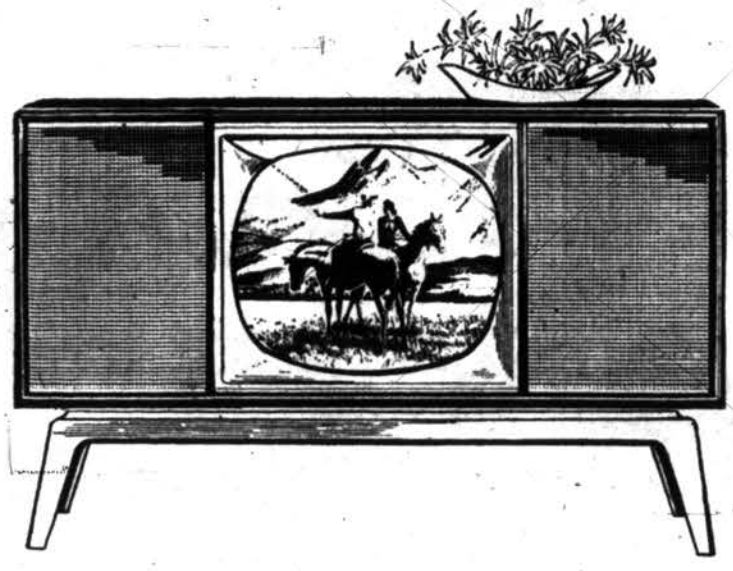

As far as hair coloring is concerned, the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association reports that women are just as excited about the new brown shades as they were about last season's candlelight blondes. The brown hues are getting highlights of other colors to give fascinating effects of rose-brown, golden brown and multi-color mahogany. Hop on the beauty band wagon now by deciding that color will go to your head.

Since color has gone to milady's head, we would like to put it there. Add this important touch to your tresses this season with a visit to Rowena's Beauty Salon, 4831 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, OR 3-3541. 14 S. Main, Clarkston, MA 4-1000. 1216 Baldwin, Pontiac. FE 5-3735.

Happy Holidays, but Go Lightly on the Goodies

NEA—The holidays, with all the delights of roast turkey, plum pudding, eggnog, Christmas cookies and cakes, are just ahead. While no one wants to forego Christmas feasting, bear in mind that all of these delicious things are fattening. It's time to throw caution completely to the winds and it's also no time to ruin your pleasure in the season by nibbling on a lettuce leaf.

★ ★ ★

What you can do is be moderate about the portions you take. Pass up the second helpings. Don't stuff until you feel uncomfortable, even though this may be in the good old American tradition.

Learn to say a polite "No, thank you" to your hostess and mean it. If she's wise, she won't insist. If she does insist, pretend you didn't hear her. Have your plum pudding but then don't decide you'll just celebrate by having the pumpkin pie, too.

★ ★ ★

And when the holidays are over, put yourself on a cottage cheese diet for two days. You'll take off five pounds in the two days, eating cottage cheese three meals a day. And you'll feel better.

Dear Abby Says How About Male Help?

Husband Is to Blame for Office 'Messes'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a wife should have something to say about what kind of woman her husband spends between 8 and 10 hours a day with? I refer to his bookkeeper, secretary or cashier. I won't identify myself because I am well-known in town. My husband has a habit of getting too chummy with the women who work for him. After the last mess (and believe me, it WAS a mess!) I made up my mind that I was going to interview all applicants for jobs calling for a woman. The one I hired lasted exactly four days. Now he's looking again. He refuses to let me interview them. I'd like your opinion on this.

ENOUGH SAID

DEAR ENOUGH: I think you are interviewing the wrong people. It is your HUSBAND who needs to be questioned.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: If you answer this by telling me it is none of my business you will probably be right.

A rather poor family who lives on our block has five children of school age. Nobody seems to care if they go to school or not. Almost every day two or three of them are seen walking up and down the street having the best time. The older girls stay out of school a week at a time and I know there is nothing wrong with them.

If you were in my place would you notify the school authorities?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: If you are interested in doing a public service, call on the mother of these children and find out whether she is ill, incompetent or absent from the home. Perhaps this family needs some friendly assistance.

DEAR ABBY: I've been a rural mail carrier for the past 11 years. In that time I've driven approximately 160,000 miles, worn out 9 automobiles and served approximately 1,200,000 boxes.

You were correct. The Federal Postal Regulations manual states that rural mailboxes should be "about 3½ to 4 feet from the ground." Although those specifications were made in the Model-T days, they are still in the manual. The manual also states that "the rural box should be convenient for the carrier to serve without leaving his conveyance." You failed to mention that. If you print this, Abby, I know several thousand rural mail carriers will appreciate it.

P. R. H. (Orwigsburg, Pa.)

DEAR P. R. H.: One million, two hundred thousand apologies. My local postmaster informed me (right out of his 1959 manual) that rural boxes should be "about 3½ to 4 feet high." Of course everyone on the route should have his box at the most convenient height for his mailman. I wouldn't have intentionally offended the mailmen for anything in the world. They're my best friends.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN LOVE AND MILES APART": "Absence is to love what wind is to a fire; it puts out the little, it kindles the great." (de Bussy-Rabutin.)

Rise to Occasion

(NEA) — Heels rise to the occasion. When it's just a hen party, they're low. Walking out on a date, though, usually means a Queen Anne or a one-inch squashed heel. A Friday night dance or a formal class prom calls for a slender mid-heel pump.

Macaroon Type Cookies Decorated With Cherry

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you have an extra egg white or two in the refrigerator, this cookie recipe will help you use it up. It comes from another of our teen-age cooks, Vicky Landsparger.

★ ★ ★

The recipe is correct. There is no flour in it.

SCANDINAVIAN SWIRLS
By Vicky Landsparger

1 cup blanched almonds, finely ground
1½ cups confectioners sugar
1 egg white
¼ teaspoon almond extract
Candied fruit or nuts

Mix almonds and sugar in bowl. Beat egg white slightly with fork and add gradually to sugar mixture. Blend well. Add almond extract.

Put through a pastry tube or cookie press, or drop from a teaspoon on well greased and floured cookie sheet. Decorate tops with candied fruits or nuts. Bake about 15 minutes in 350-degree oven, or until golden around edges. Makes 15 cookies.

Skin at Bottom of It

Wives, Working Girls Have Beauty Problems

Who's prettier, the housewife or the career girl? That's a provocative question.

But, basically — and considering that beauty is the result of care and good grooming — each group has a few special advantages. And problems.

Consider the most basic of all beauty problems — the skin. The housewife has certain advantages here. She can omit makeup during most of the day; and cosmetics often dry, sometimes irritate, the skin. She can even use medicinal creams and lotions during the hours when she is doing her housework.

The business girl, however, has a very important psychological advantage — she must look her best; it's "good business." She's surrounded by others who take pains with complexion care and with makeup and the competition spurs her on.

To take the other side: the housewife constantly works with compounds, polishes and waxes which may irritate her skin. Many women just get into trouble because they neglect to dry hands thoroughly or use protective lotions before tackling rough jobs.

And does the business woman have a problem to balance this out? Indeed she does. In her effort to look smart throughout a hectic day, she is inclined to put one layer of makeup on top of another — a truly rough way to treat the skin.

FOR HOMEMAKERS

Make your daily bath a period of relaxation as well as a thorough cleanser. Don't wear makeup (except for lipstick) while alone at home. Instead, apply a cream or lotion — moisturizing or drying — which suits your skin and let it work while you work. Put your makeup on at five, so you'll look your best when the breadwinner arrives home. Remove it before going to bed and skip night creams. Husbands resent them, and you've used them during the day.

FOR BUSINESS GIRLS

A daily bath — or two is for you, too. If your skin is dry, apply a moisturizing cream under your makeup in the morning. When you repair makeup during the day, remove it first, then start from the beginning. When you are at home in the evening, clean face thoroughly with soap, then apply a cream designed for your skin type. Leave it on overnight.

FOR BOTH

Stock up on bottles of hand lotion. Keep them in bathroom, kitchen (and in desk). Use lotion after each handwashing.

'Tis the Season for Grand Illusion

(NEA) — This is open season for sirens, says Ceil Chapman, famous for formal fashions.

"After five, every woman has the right to be a femme fatale," says the knowing Ceil, who dresses many of the leading glamor girls of stage, screen and television. "Evening fashions should create a great illusion, turning every Cinderella into a princess for a night."

VEILED LOOK

Pursuing her theory, the designer presents the "illusion" silhouette in formal fashions for the festive holiday season.

* * *

Over a closely fitted sheath she drapes gossamer black lace, chiffon or organza, giving a veiled look to the figure. The effect is all that any siren could desire.

* * *

The new after dark "illusions" come in both short and long styles, usually strapless, always figure-revealing and strong on allure.

A short dance dress with a hobble-skirt look poses a transparent barrel skirt of black lace over a strapless black sheath.

A long evening gown features a spiral drape of sheerest black organza from strapless top to hemline, with a floor-length drape at one side caught up by a cabbage rose.

FIGURE FIRST

"I always start with the basic shape of the feminine figure," says Ceil, "and then figure ways to accentuate the positive, eliminate the negative."

Next to black, Ceil Chapman likes white for evening, whether in floating chiffons or lustrous satins.

She also is partial to the brightest possible red chiffon, skillfully draped over the ever-present figure-fitting sheath.

Go Well Supplied

(NEA) — When you travel, take along enough lingerie to keep you comfortable through the entire trip. You won't want to spend all of your time hanging over a washbasin and laundry service is not always reliable.

Friday fare: Skillet-fried patties made with canned salmon and served with cream sauce and a garnish of hard-cooked egg slices and minced parsley or chives.

Legion Fetes Children

The Chief Pontiac Post 377 of the American Legion entertained 200 children Saturday afternoon at the annual Christmas party.

Christmas carols by the Mothersingers and dancing by students of a local studio comprised the program.

Highlight was the arrival of Santa Claus with a candy-filled stocking for each child.

Light refreshments were served.

To Cleaners Often

(NEA) — Wearing leather gloves until the dirt is ground in is false economy. If you like gloves in vivid colors, plan to have them dry-cleaned often. Otherwise, the soil may never really come out.

Bonneville Bridge Winners Announced

Why Be Weak and Flabby?

Exercise to Remain Young

Today's exercise for stimulation.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is becoming more and more apparent that inactivity leads to early deterioration while activity prolongs the youthful portion of life.

When muscles are not exercised they become weak and flabby. When the mind is not used vigorously it loses its keenness. Unless we dust off our hearts quite often, nothing much seems worthwhile.

Stimulation is an important factor in beauty, health and happiness. Poor circulation probably has an influence in hardening of the arteries, heart attacks, constipation and many other physical troubles.

Let's begin with the skin. Its care should include stimulation of the circulation. You can accomplish this with gentle patting and facial exercises. Circulation creams which whip the blood up are helpful in overcoming a rough, sallow or goose-pimply neck. The complexion also profits by general exercise which sends the blood zooming to all parts of the body.

One of the best known specialists in gerontology feels that it is most important to stimulate the liver with special exercises. Here are two of them.

Lie on the bed on your back, legs straight. Keep your back on the bed as you push your abdominal muscles up toward the ceiling as far as you can. Now pull your abdominal muscles down toward the bed. Pull hard and hold for a few moments. Continue, doing this exercise slowly but firmly.

BEND KNEES UP

Another. Lie on your back on the bed or floor, legs straight and arms resting on the floor overhead. Bend both knees up close to the abdomen. Grasp the knees with the hands and pull back toward the abdomen. Hold for a few moments. Return legs and arms to the floor. Continue. These exercises are corrective to constipation as well as liver-stimulating.

Parents Should Ask Questions of Selves

By RUTH MILLETT

So junior is flunking high school algebra or sis is failing English literature. Since junior isn't dumb and sis's IQ is nothing to be ashamed of, their worried parents can't understand the "why" of failing marks.

* * *

In a large public high school in one Southern city the parents of 54 per cent of the students are wondering why their kids are failing in at least one subject.

There is going to be an investigation to try to find out why so many students are making failing grades.

If the parents of the students who are getting one or more F's would ask themselves a few questions and answer them honestly—they wouldn't need any investigation.

They might very well start with these:

Is sis or junior going steady? If so, school work is sure to seem far less important than the teen-age romance.

Does sis or junior have a car, is the youth allowed to monopolize a family car? The teen-ager who is on wheels can always find something more exciting to do than studying.

* * *

Is sis or junior so loaded down with school activities that there is actually little time for studying? If you haven't looked inside a high school year book lately you'll be amazed at the number of clubs, organizations and social activities that are school-sponsored.

Do you have a hard-and-fast rule that sis or junior doesn't go out at night except on weekends? How do you expect a teen-ager to get homework done if you don't keep him at home so he'll have a chance to do it?

* * *

Any parent whose teen-ager is making poor grades shouldn't depend on an outside investigation to tell him why.

He ought to start looking for the reasons himself.

Yellowstone Park was established by Congress in 1872 as the first national park in the world.

After Shampoo: Thorough Rinse

(NEA) — Despite what many women believe, frequent shampooing does not hurt the hair.

Hair will be dull and dry, however, if it isn't rinsed thoroughly after each shampoo. In hard water areas more care must be taken and perhaps lemon juice used to cut the deposit.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Harvey Berin

Easy living along sophisticated lines is created by Harvey Berin with a transitional two-piece dress. The waistline is just relaxed enough, and the top, with a narrow inverted pleat in back, is buttoned on to the skirt in front. The skirt, although slim, has released pleats on either side in front to add to fluidity of silhouette. Make it in thin wool, chiffon broadcloth or flannel, mixtures of rayon and worsted, rayon and silk, or town cottons. From this size chart, select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
8	33	23	34	16¼
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 2½ yards of 54 inch material for two piece dress and 2 yards of 39 inch material for lining.

To order Pattern No. 1351, state size, send $1.00.

For HARVEY BERIN label, send 25c. For Pattern Book No. 15, send $1.00. Address SPADEA, Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. If paid by check, bank requires 4c handling charge.

If Wrappings Appear Cheap, See the Inside

(UPI) — The humor of "contemporary" greeting cards that deflate some of our more stuffy traditions makes its debut this year on Christmas gift wrappings.

Don't be surprised if you receive a package wrapped in an offbeat paper that declares, "I'm giving you this gift because . . . I like to help the needy."

Another says, "If you think this wrapping looks cheap, wait until you see what's inside!" Taking a poke at itself, the paper advises buyers that "This gift wrap is so cheap, it makes any present look great."

Answer to Bad Skin Is in Her Own Unconcern

(NEA) — The woman who is careless about removing make-up at night, who applies layers of make-up during the day without using a cleanser is the woman with a poor skin.

Most likely she smokes heavily, takes a daily cocktail and is careless about diet and rest. She probably doesn't drink enough water. And she wonders why on earth other women should possess crystal-clear skins while she has enlarged pores, blackheads, oily areas and thickened, coarse skin.

The answer lies in her own neglect.

San Francisco Family Paints, Sells Together

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The family that paints together sells together, in the case of the Keanes of San Francisco.

The Keanes — Walter, 39; Margaret, 32; their daughters, Susan, 11, and Jane, 9 — came to New York three weeks ago, rented a vacant store, brightened the interior with a coat of paint, hung some of their latest works, announced that it was the first time in New York history a whole family of artists had exhibited together, and opened their home-done gallery to the public.

The public came, saw and conquered. It bought 20 of Walter's, 20 of Margaret's — both of whom get from $450 to $1,500 for a painting.

It also bought six from the girls, and one customer commissioned Jane to do three more works. The girls' paintings cost much less than their parents', but even so it's pretty good savings for summer camp. The range was from $6 for Jane's "Mr. Potato Head" to $35 for Susan's "Clown."

★ ★ ★

The head of clan Keane said about the only thing left in the gallery as they prepared to go home for Christmas was postcard reproductions of some of their works.

The artist foursome came about this way:

Margaret, a fragile-looking blonde, was painting even as a first grader in her native Nashville, Tenn. At 18, she was in New York for study at the Art Students' League and the Traphagen School of Fashion.

★ ★ ★

Walter, a native of Lincoln, Neb., followed his father into the business world, although he had studied art in Paris and had a grandfather and two uncles who were painters. He did keep up his Sunday painting, and a dozen years ago met Margaret at an art show. "She admired some of my works," said Walter.

When they married, Walter decided to devote full time to painting and closed his successful real estate business in Berkeley, Calif.

"We never pushed the children into art," said Keane. "But as soon as they could scribble they began to paint with us. If a parent makes available the tools, the children will start."

The head of the family is best known for his canvases of wistful, wide-eyed children. His wife, a recognized portrait artist also portrays adolescence with an ethereal quality. Customers include Joan Crawford, Kim Novak and Red Skelton whom Walter said "plans to have a Keane in every room. We hope so, it's a big house."

★ ★ ★

Margaret has painted the portraits of various members of the DuPont family, has done Adlai Stevenson and recently was paid $4,500 for a portrait of George Christopher, San Francisco's mayor.

"I never intended an artist-in-the-garret existence," said Keane, "but there were lean years when we started. The first seven, we were strictly workhorses."

"We used to trade paintings for groceries," said his wife.

Coach at Cal Is Interviewed in Champaign

Former Michigan Star Hints He May Receive Illinois Post

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Pete Elliott, former Michigan star and football coach at California for the past three years, appears ready to take over the head coaching job at Illinois.

Elliott was interviewed in Champaign Saturday night by Illini officials and on his return to San Francisco Sunday he said there is a "strong possibility" that he will become Illinois' coach.

Elliott and Dave Nelson, head coach at Delaware, have long been regarded the top choices to succeed Ray Eliot.

Eliot stepped aside at the end of the 1959 season to become assistant athletic director after coaching the Illini for 18 years.

★ ★ ★

Nelson, 39, a Michigan graduate who gained football fame as a strategist and helped devise the wing-T offense, was considered the top candidate a week ago. However, Nelson's name has not been as prominent the past few days.

Illinois athletic director Doug Mills yesterday said Elliott's interview was routine and that half a dozen other candidates have been interviewed in the same manner.

Mills has managed to keep secret the names of those interviewed, with the exceptions of Elliott and Nelson.

★ ★ ★

After Mills talked to Nelson some two weeks ago, the Delaware coach said:

"He (Mills) asked if I was interested and I told him I might be. But I would have to know what was being offered before I could say I would take the job." Nelson said the job was not offered to him at the time.

Elliott, 33, said his weekend meeting with Illini officials was a followup of an earlier session with Mills in Denver.

"We met to talk things over in greater detail," he said. "They got to know me and I got to know what they had in mind. Any further comment will have to come from Illinois."

Elliott played football, basketball and golf at Michigan and is the only 12-letter man in the school's history. His brother, Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, is head football coach at Michigan.

The fact that Illinois has contacted Elliott twice to talk about the job indicates more than routine interest in the native of Bloomington, Ill. In all probability, Elliott will talk the matter over with officials at California before further action is taken.

Liberty, Bluebonnet Games Added to 'Family'

Success for Two New Bowls

By United Press International

The Liberty and Bluebonnet bowls, although mere infants, could develop into strapping additions to college football's "family" of post-season classics.

Many experts laughed when a Philadelphia group announced plans for its first annual Liberty Bowl game.

"Imagine any team accepting an invitation to play in Philadelphia in late December?" one coach snickered. "Instead of the Liberty Bowl they ought to call it the ice bowl."

However, a crowd of 36,211 turned out for the North's first major post-season bowl battle Saturday and watched Penn State turn back Alabama, 7-0, on an 18-yard touchdown pass from sophomore quarterback Galen Hall to sophomore halfback Roger Kochman.

★ ★ ★

The Bluebonnet Bowl inaugural was even a greater success—at least at the gate—as Clemson rallied in the final period to upset Texas Christian, 23-7, before 55,000 fans in the Rice Institute Stadium at Houston.

The Liberty Bowl promoters got a fair shake from the weatherman for their initial venture. The temperature was a crisp 42 degrees but the skies were clear and sunny, and the field at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium was in good condition.

Ambrose (Bud) Dudley, president of the Liberty Bowl Assn., estimated Penn State and Alabama each will take home close to $100,000 as its share of the gate, television and radio receipts.

★ ★ ★

"We might even have made a little money for ourselves," Dudley added. "But, more important, we're off the ground now and already looking ahead to next year's game."

Both head coaches, Rip Engle of Penn State and Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama, also were convinced the Philadelphia game was a boon to eastern football and should eventually take its place among the leading post-season attractions.

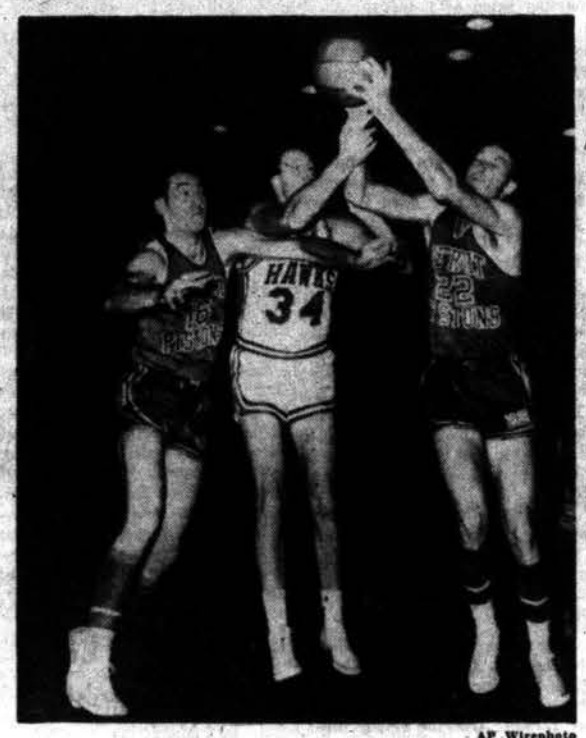

Other Liberty Bowl supporters pointed out that the Orange Bowl at Miami drew only 5,134 fans for its inaugural in 1933 and the first Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans in 1935 attracted 22,026.

Officials of the Bluebonnet Bowl still are busy tabulating the receipts from their first promotion, which, like the Liberty Bowl, was televised nationally. However, Elvin Smith, president of the Houston group, promised "We'll put on a bigger and better game next year."

Hall's winning touchdown pass to Kochman at Philadelphia came in the final seconds of the first half and developed from a fake field goal formation. Hall had taken over in the second period for All-America Richie Lucas, who suffered a painful hip injury.

Another second-stringer sparked Clemson to its upset victory at Houston. Sophomore Lowndes Shingler tossed one touchdown pass and set up another touchdown and a field goal with his classy pitching. He also wound up as the Tigers' leading ground gainer with 65 yards in three carries.

FOUL IN MAKING — Clyde Lovellette (34) of the St. Louis Hawks is caught in the act of committing a personal foul as he grabs the arm of Archie Dees (22) of the Detroit Pistons in the first period of their game yesterday. Leaping in from the side is Gary Alcorn (16) of the Pistons.

Pistons Now Are 5½ Games Back of Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Since their quick visit to first place the Detroit Pistons have learned the St. Louis Hawks aren't very hospitable hosts.

The Hawks have had first place in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division to themselves for three seasons. They, as well as the Pistons, were startled a few weeks ago when Detroit surprisingly found itself occupying top spot.

St. Louis quickly saw to it that the upstart Detroiters were evicted, knocking them out of first place personally Thanksgiving eve. The Hawks haven't let up the pressure since, dropping the Pistons in four straight meetings. Yesterday the Hawks rode roughshod over Detroit, 102-86.

It was the Pistons' lowest scoring game this season.

★ ★ ★

"We couldn't buy a hoop and finally hit on only 29 per cent of our shots," complained coach Red Rocha.

Detroit now has lost six of its last eight games and has fallen 5½ games behind the Hawks.

The Pistons, sharp in downing Syracuse 120-112 Saturday, fell behind by 10 points in the first quarter. They never got an offense going until the final period. Detroit narrowed the score to 88-80, but St. Louis then went on a scoring binge to regain command.

Walt Dukes, with 20 points, was the only Detroiter on target. Gene Shue added 15 points. Bailey Howell, who had two better than 30-point games last week, was held to four points.

★ ★ ★

Cliff Hagan led St. Louis with 21 points.

The Boston Celtics, meanwhile, ran up their 12th straight victory. Bill Sharman led the way with 30 points as the Celts downed Syracuse 132-127. Carl Braun got his first victory as New York coach as the Knickerbockers routed Cincinnati, 132-118.

Hawks Clip Leafs, Rangers Also Win

Hull Gets 2nd Hat Trick

By The Associated Press

When names of hockey's future super-stars are discussed, a player sure to be included is Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks.

Many around the National Hockey League already feel that Hull has "arrived" as a super-star.

Hull, in his third season with the Hawks, certainly has fulfilled his potential this year. The blond bomber, who will be 21 Jan. 3, collected his second three-goal "hat trick" of the campaign last night in propelling Chicago to a 7-4 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs.

In other games last night the New York Rangers erupted for four goals in the final period to nip the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 6-5 and Gary Aldcorn's pair of goals sparked the Detroit Red Wings to a 4-2 victory over the Boston Bruins.

Chicago bunched all its seven goals in the second period. The barrage missed the league record for most goals in a period by one.

★ ★ ★

Hull's three goals boosted his output to 19, one more than he scored last season. Ken Wharram also tallied twice for the Hawks. Ed Chadwick, who replaced regular Leaf goalie, Johnny Bower, in the Leaf nets Saturday night, was the victim.

★ ★ ★

The Rangers overcame a 4-2 deficit to defeat the Canadiens for the third time. Ken Schinkel, Larry Popein and Brian Cullen—working as a line—scored in a four-minute span to put New York in front 5-4 and Red Sullivan contributed the decisive goal with his own team short-handed. Montreal had turned back the Rangers 5-3 Saturday night.

Newcomers Rescue Red Wings Again

Gary Aldcorn, Jerry Melnyk Pace 4-2 Win

Whitewashed for Two Periods, Wings Rally to Conquer Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Just when it appeared the Detroit Red Wings were in that long-expected tailspin, their newcomers bailed them out again.

★ ★ ★

Their six-game unbeaten streak snapped Saturday at Toronto, the Wings were blanked at Boston for two periods last night.

Then within seven minutes, rookie Jerry Melnyk scored once and draftee Gary Aldcorn twice and the Wings were on their way to a 4-2 victory.

General manager Jack Adams had said all along the difference in the last-place Wings of last season and this year's second-placers were the new faces.

★ ★ ★

The Bruins were ahead 1-0 when Melnyk got the equalizer right after the third period faceoff. Aldcorn scored twice in 27 seconds before the seven-minute mark. Veteran Alex Delvecchio boosted Detroit's lead to 4-1 before Boston came back with its final tally.

Detroit lost for the first time in seven games Saturday to the Maple Leafs, 4-2. But after the weekend's play, the Wings were no better, no worse in the standings than they'd been before. They still trail Montreal by six points and lead Toronto in third by five.

The Wings had to be egged on before breaking into their third-period scoring spree in the wild game with Boston.

★ ★ ★

Assorted articles including a wooden seat of a chair, paper, apples and an egg were tossed onto the ice by the demonstrative crowd of 13,909.

The egg hit Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk in the left eye while he was losing, 1-0.

Referee Dalton McArthur was hit in the head by an apple later. The fans were protesting a two-minute minor and 10-minute misconduct to Bruin defenseman Fernie Flaman.

★ ★ ★

The New York Rangers, like the Wings, scored four times in the third period for a 6-5 triumph over the Canadiens.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago Black Hawks, battling to oust the Bruins from fourth place, whipped the Maple Leafs, 7-4. Bobby Hull scored his second three-goal hat trick in a week in pacing the Hawks, who have climbed to within two points of the Bruins.

Ready for Olympics

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—David Jenkins, world figure skating champ, says his leg injury is healed now and he's ready to represent the United States in the Winter Olympics.

The 23-year-old Jenkins, back home from college for the holidays, was cut on the right leg in an accident while skating here last Aug. 25.

All-Star Pin Points

BACKUP — Carol Christensen, like most women, must be on guard against backup.

BACKING UP
By BILLY WELU

The bane of the bowler is the backup delivery.

Sometimes, of course, the ball is purposely rolled so it backs up, or veers on the alley from left to right, but usually the delivery is accidental. This is evidenced by the number of times you hear the plaintive cry, "The ball backed up on me!" It is a particularly common fault with women.

To best describe a backup delivery, think of a left-handed bowler rolling right handed, causing the ball to start from the left and back up to the right. The backup delivery may be likened to a slice in golf, whereas the preferred delivery corresponds to a golfing hook.

In the backup, the hand is almost directly under the ball, the thumb pointing at the pins in what would be one or two o'clock on a dial.

★ ★ ★

To throw a backup delivery is dangerous and foolhardy. The delivery is difficult to control. It has little value as a pin getter.

It is not a comfortable delivery, although women, whose arms have a natural tendency to turn out, find it easier than others.

Former Detroit Tiger catcher Bob Swift has been named pitching coach of the Washington Senators. Swift, 44, will replace Walt Beck who was put on the Washington scouting staff.

★ ★ ★

Detroit Lions' end coach Bob Dove resigned Saturday. He held the job for two seasons. His resignation leaves two vacancies on the staff as Buster Ramsey quit last week to take a job with Buffalo of the new American Football League.

★ ★ ★

John Doerr, a junior from Pontiac at Wooster College in Ohio, is one of the lettermen on the swimming team this season. He holds the school record in the 50 yard freestyle.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago Cards of the NFL signed Clemson tackle Harold Oldson for the 1960 season. He is 6-3 and weighs 250 pounds. Another Clemson player, quarterback Harvey White has signed to play with Boston of the American Football League.

Holiday Tourney Madness Tips Off

By United Press International

West Virginia rests on its laurels after its smashing victory in the Kentucky Invitational but the nation's other top fives face stern tests this week leading up to the whirl of holiday tournaments starting next Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Second-ranked Ohio State plays a pair of toughies on the road tonight and tomorrow, first-ranked Cincinnati goes against rugged eighth-ranked Bradley in a real back-yard brawl Tuesday night and St. Louis, Kansas, Kentucky, Indiana and Georgia Tech also see action in the next 48 hours.

The frantic action comes to a complete halt Thursday and Christmas Day but then reaches a new season peak Saturday with the start of the holiday festival tournament in New York and the West Coast A.C. tourney in San Francisco. And the activity really boils over a week from today with outstanding tournaments in every section of the country.

It's doubtful, however, if any team will come out of the holiday "madness" with a victory to top the one achieved by West Virginia at Lexington, Ky., Saturday night.

Jerry West, playing the second half with a broken nose, scored 33 points in the 79-70 victory that stretched the third-ranked Mountaineers' winning streak to eight games. West suffered the injury when struck by a stray Kentucky elbow near the end of the first half and play was stopped several times during the second half when bleeding resumed.

"It's always a great challenge to play Kentucky on its home floor," said Mountaineer coach Fred Schaus. "West played his usual great game but he had to share honors in this one with Lee Patrone."

Patrone, a 6-1, 195-pounder who has been a "Minute Man" for West Virginia the last two seasons, tossed in 21 points.

"West really proved he is an All-American," said Schaus getting back to the 6-3, 175-pound star. "Not only with his scoring but with his rebounding and defense. It would be a long cold winter without him."

Sixth - ranked St. Louis ripped fifth-ranked North Carolina, 68-52, in the consolation game of the season's biggest tournament to date and goes on to meet Kansas, No. 9 Tuesday night.

First-ranked Cincinnati walloped Louisville, 97-74, fourth-ranked California crushed Colorado, 79-46, seventh - ranked Utah beat St. Mary's (Calif.), 72-63, Kansas defeated Brigham Young, 96-64, 11th-ranked Indiana whipped Detroit, 89-83, 12th-ranked Georgia Tech downed North Carolina State, 80-53, 14th-ranked Iowa topped Oklahoma, 62-49, and 18th-ranked New York University walloped Denver, 91-68.

Oscar Robertson had 39 points and passed off for a dozen more as Cincinnati ran up a 14 - point lead at the half and went on to an easy triumph. Robertson was four points below his game average but easily maintained his national scoring lead.

Big Ten Fives Back in Action

By The Associated Press

Ohio State, Illinois and Michigan State — the Big Ten's only undefeated basketball teams—head a seven-game card tonight against intersectional opposition.

★ ★ ★

Ohio State, searching for its seventh straight victory, invades undefeated Utah State while Michigan State (4-0) will be at Brigham Young. Illinois (4-0) is home against Oklahoma.

★ ★ ★

Other games find Denver at Michigan (1-3), UCLA at Minnesota (3-2), Northwestern (2-2) at Washington, and Stanford at Wisconsin (1-5).

★ ★ ★

Following tonight's games there will be a drop off in activity during the week. Northwestern goes against Washington again Tuesday night while Purdue and Indiana participate in the Hoosier Classic in Indianapolis.

Tech, Georgia, Texas Listed in Jan. 1 Contests

Choices Based on Past Performances; All-Star Tilts Dec. 26-31

NEW YORK (AP) — If past records in post-season football mean anything, Georgia Tech, Georgia and Texas should be winners in three of the five major bowl games New Year's week-end. Mississippi has a slight edge over Louisiana State on that basis, even.

Though LSU won its regular-season encounter, 7-3, and the Wisconsin - Washington Rose Bowl meeting rates as a tossup.

This figuring is entirely on a past-performance basis. But it has been demonstrated that experience in bowl competition is a factor in the games, even though it may be a slight one.

The ten colleges involved in the five biggest and best-known bowl games have been in bowl games on 50 previous occasions. Georgia Tech, Georgia and Texas are the only ones with winning records.

Leading up to the New Year's Day doings, three all-star games are scheduled Dec. 26 — the blue-gray game at Montgomery, Ala., the North-South at Miami and the Copper Bowl at Tempe, Ariz. The Sun Bowl game between North Texas State and New Mexico State will be played Dec. 31 at El Paso, Tex.

In addition to the Big Four of football bowling — Rose, Sugar, Orange and Cotton — the Jan. 1 program includes the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., and the Prairie View Bowl at Houston.

The Gator Bowl game will be played Jan. 2, as will the Shrine East-West game at San Francisco and the All-American game at Tucson, Ariz. the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 9 and the Hula Bowl at Honolulu, Jan. 10, wind up the season.

Since 1929, when Roy Riegels' never-forgotten wrong way run made Rose Bowl history, Georgia Tech has appeared in eleven bowl games and has lost only twice — to Texas in the 1943 Cotton Bowl and to Tulsa in the 1945 Orange Bowl.

Tech and Arkansas, this season's Gator Bowl rivals, are the only schools on the major bowl list that have met previously in a post-season game. That was in the 1955 Cotton Bowl, when the Georgians won 14-6.

'M' Skaters Win Easily

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan clobbered Toronto 6-1 Saturday in a non-league hockey game. Joe Lunghamer scored a three-goal hat trick for the Wolverines. The victory was Michigan's second in two nights over Toronto and its sixth in eight games this season.

Cold All-Night Vigil

Baltimore Grid Fans Prove Their Loyalty

BALTIMORE (AP) — Some 500 Baltimore Colt fans proved their loyalty by spending last night in sub-freezing weather outside Memorial Stadium.

As dawn approached, the hearty group of all-night campers was joined by thousands more seeking tickets for the National Football League championship game between the Colts and New York Giants here next Sunday.

About 7,000 general admission tickets went on sale at 9 a.m. with a limit of two to a customer.

While their fans were fighting the battle of the ticket line, the Colts rested yesterday and today. They will resume practice tomorrow. Intensive workouts are set for Wednesday on offense and Thursday on defense, and they will taper off with a light drill Friday, Christmas Day.

Four of the Baltimore fans spent 56 hours waiting for their tickets after starting the line at 1 a.m. Saturday. The number grew to 100 by 1 a.m. Sunday and numbered 500 at midnight.

★ ★ ★

The area around the ticket window last night looked like a cross between an Army bivouac area and a hobo camp. The fans huddled under blankets, in sleeping bags, on beach chairs and around fires in charcoal stoves or oil drums.

Some joined in group singing. Other shouted Colt cheers.

★ ★ ★

Officials were sympathetic. The stadium rest rooms were made available to the waiters, and park police brought out a load of wood when some of the fans started burning the police barricades.

Many of the fans were supplied food by friends, but a number of them seemed to be subsisting on a liquid diet from pocket flasks or kegs.

Three or four policemen kept order throughout the night. They didn't object to the singing or cheering but had to quiet one fan with a bugle.

Rumors swept through the Colt encampment last night that a band of Giant fans would try to crash the line at daybreak. Four Marines—the first four men in line—immediately organized some of their fellow fans into a platoon of guards to protect the ticket windows.

California Trip for 'M' Skaters Is Called Off

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A California trip by Michigan's hockey team has been canceled due to lack of spectator interest in Los Angeles.

The Wolverines had been scheduled to play the Los Angeles Canadians, an all-star sextet consisting of Canadians now living in California, next Saturday and Sunday.

Promoter Bob Hannam, president of the California Hockey League, informed Michigan coach Al Renfrew yesterday that the advanced ticket sale for the games had been small. The games had been slated for Los Angeles' new Sports Arena.

Renfrew said he sent his players home for Christmas vacation yesterday upon receiving word of the cancellation.

Junior Wings Can Gain 1st Tonight

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Junior Red Wings of the Border Cities Hockey League can take over first place from the Chatham Junior Maroons with a win over the Riverside Regents tonight.

The Junior Wings have trailed the Chatham team all year, and a win would move them one point ahead of the idle Maroons.

Detroit moved into the challenging position Saturday with a 6-5 win over the Leamington Flyers when Bernie Roch scored a three-goal hat trick in the third period.

Riverside is in the BCHL cellar, but beat the Junior Wings the last time the teams met to keep Detroit from climbing into first place that time.

Shamrocks Blank Shrine

Royal Oak Shrine dropped its fifth contest in six starts in the International High School Hockey League, Sunday, when Catholic Central's Shamrocks shut out the Knights, 10-0.

READY FOR CHIEFS — Ralph Clauson, left, a 127-pounder, and Stan Hertel, 133, will be among the Pontiac Northern starters when the Huskie wrestlers invade Central for a big city dual battle tomorrow night. PNH won out 24-22 last winter. That still stands as the only Northern win in any sport over PCH.

It's Official—Kuenn AL Bat King

CHICAGO (UPI)—Harvey Kuenn possibly the finest natural hitter in the American League, finally owns that elusive batting crown he has eyed for six years.

It was made official today when league averages released here showed the Detroit outfielder was far and away the leading hitter with a .353 average last season.

Until this year, the 29-year-old Kuenn had placed among the top six hitters in the circuit for five of six previous seasons, but he never was able to win the title. This year, though, he won going away, slamming out 198 hits in 561 official times at bat to beat teammate Al Kaline, who was runnerup with .327.

Kuenn, converted from a shortstop to a center-fielder in 1958, thus became the seventh Detroit player to win the A.L. batting title.

* * *

Ty Cobb captured the title 12 times, Harry Heilmann four times, and Heinie Manush, Charley Gehringer, George Kell and Kaline once apiece.

Never much of a slugger, Kuenn hit only nine homers last season, but his 198 hits were high for the league as were his 42 doubles. He drove in 71 runs while boosting his life-time batting average six points to .314.

Pete Runnels of the Red Sox wound up third behind Kaline with a .314 average and the top five was rounded out by Nellie Fox of the White Sox, who batted .306, and Minnie Minoso, recently traded by the Indians to the White Sox, who hit .302.

The other three players who managed to hit .300 or better were Bobby Richardson of the Yankees, .301, and Bill Tuttle of the Athletics and Gene Woodling of the Orioles, each .300.

* * *

Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox led in runs batted in for the second straight year although his batting average slipped from .286 to .277. Jensen drove in 112 runs last season compared with the 122 he led the league with in 1958.

Harmon Killebrew, the Senators' strong boy, hit 42 home runs and that total earned him a tie for the leadership with Rocky Colavito of Cleveland. Colavito was runnerup to Jensen in the RBI department with 111, Killebrew had 105 and Jim Lemon of Washington 100.

Luis Aparicio of the White Sox was the stolen base champ with 56 thefts, a total that equalled the White Sox club record established by Wally Moses in 1943.

Cleveland didn't win the pennant but had the consolation of leading the league in team batting. It was small consolation because their .2628 average was only a fraction better than the .2627 compiled by the Kansas City Athletics.

The penpant-winning White Sox were sixth in team batting with .250 and the Senators were last with .237.

High Games Scarce in Petersen Start

CHICAGO (AP)—There was a dearth of high games in the first weekend of shooting in the rich Petersen bowling classic.

Not many of the scores of bowlers who competed in the $296,000 tourney posted scores of 1,500 or higher for eight games. The three top leaders were closely bunched.

* * *

Leading was James Bucci of St. Francis, Wis., whose 1,554 total was two pins higher than the eight-game total posted by Ray F. Bellamy of Akron, Ohio. Both rolled Ssaturday.

* * *

Ed Gajkowski of Milwaukee took over third place last night, two pins behind Bellamy.

State Holiday Tourneys Start Tonight

By The Associated Press

The holiday basketball tournament craze, relatively new to Michigan, begins in earnest tonight with two tournaments starting in the state.

Before it ends Jan. 2, 17 Michigan colleges will participate in eight tournaments from New York to California.

Five tournaments will be held in Michigan — at Flint, Sault Ste. Marie, Grand Rapids, Albion and Detroit.

The Soo Tech holiday tournament and the Flint Junior College tournament get under way tonight.

Soo Tech plays Alma and Central Michigan meets Alpena Junior College at Sault Ste. Marie. The winners pair off the championship game Tuesday.

At Flint, defending champion Eastern Michigan battles Hillsdale and host Flint JC meets Aquinas tonight. The championship will be settled Tuesday.

After a respite over Christmas, the tournaments shift into high gear next week.

The state's oldest tournament — the Eight Annual Motor City — starts next Monday at the University of Detroit. The host Titians face New Mexico and Western Michigan plays Valparaigo in the opening round.

Michigan Tech starts play in the eight-team Technical College Invitational Tournament at Rochester, N.Y., next Monday. The Huskies face Pratt Institute (NY) in the first round.

Lawrence Tech will be in the Christmas tournament at Akron, Ohio, also starting next Monday. Others in the tourney are host Akron, Toledo and Western Ontario.

Calvin College Invitational and the Albion College holiday tournaments get under way New Year's night. Central Michigan, playing in its second holiday tourney, Northern Michigan, Wooster (Ohio) and will join Calvin in the tourney at Grand Rapids.

Host Albion, Kenyon (Ohio), Kalamazoo and Manchester (Ind) are entered in the Albion tournament.

While preparing for tournament play, several teams had unfinished business Saturday.

* * *

Western Michigan dropped a Mid-American Conference decision to Marshall 90-81.

Lawrence Tech got 46 points from Cap Pethers and 35 more from John Bradley in a 104-88 victory over Otterbein (Ohio).

Central Michigan was tripped up 95-68 by unbeaten Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

National Squash King

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ralph Howe of Philadelphia Sunday won the national junior squash racquets championship, defeating top-seeded Bob Netherington of Baltimore 15-9, 15-11, 15-9.

Following Good Showings in Big Weekend Tourney

PCH, Northern Wrestlers Resume War Tuesday

The long-awaited return match of the Pontiac Central and Northern wrestling teams is on tap tomorrow night at 7:30 at the PCH gym.

* * *

Coach Bill Willson's Huskies battled to a 24-22 triumph last winter and the Chiefs have been looking forward to another shot at Red and White ever since.

That mat victory has been the only sports event PNH has won over Central since the Huskies started playing on the varsity level.

Both teams should be in top form for the clash — their only meeting of the season — after good showings in the big Southeastern Michigan tournament at Allen Park over the weekend.

* * *

Chief 154-pounder Sam Wiscombe was a runnerup, while Winfred Miracle took a 3rd place and Jerry Heard ranked 4th, both for Northern.

The Huskies had the over-all edge with 21 victories and 22 defeats. Central won 17 of 46 matches. Ten different PNH boys won at least once.

Charles Peterson and Henry Smith each had three straight victories for the PCH squad before bowing. Peterson's were all pins. Bob Kaiser took two in 95 before bowing to the evetual champion. Smith's conqueror also went on to a 1st place while Peterson lost to a runnerup. All three dropped decisions in consolation semifinals with Kaiser's a referee's verdict after a scoreless tie.

* * *

Waterford and Walled Lake grapplers turned in good showings along with others from Farmington, Southfield, Oak Park, Berkley, Kimball and Dondero of Royal Oak.

Jack Comas of the Skippers made a good showing in the 154-pound class as did Dave Sherman in 112. John Van Sicklen led Walled Lake with a 4th in the 180 group bowing to Berkley's Bill Florence, who also cut down Viking Jim Teddy. Mike Cosgrove of WLHS was also impressive.

Jerry Cassell, 133, paced Farmington with a 2nd while Bob Mazur of the Falcons was 4th in 95. Southfield's Wolgast turned in a good showing in the 103 contests.

Oak Park and Berkley were Oakland County schools with champions gaining one crown apiece. Ypsilanti took four titles, Thurston three, Garden City, Ann Arbor and Fordson had one each.

Several of the boys wrestled as many times as eight in the two days in the excellent test of conditioning. Miracle of PNH was in action five times Saturday.

Jan Lawrence, Tyson Daniel, Ralph Clauson, Art Swartz and Jim Miller were other impressive Huskies.

* * *

Strong showings were also turned in by the following: Mikus (Fitzgerald) 3rd and Cunningham (Hazel Park) 4th in 103; Blackwood (Dondero) 3rd in 120; Harris (Kimball) 3rd in 127; Harris (Kimball) 3rd in 133; Freeman (Berkley) 4th in 138; Barzzin (Berkley) 3rd in 145; Ferguson (Hazel Park) 3rd in 154; Miller (Fitzgerald) 2nd in heavyweight.

* * *

Over 521 boys from 30 schools took part in the biggest mat event in state history.

MSU Skaters Fall Again

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (UP)—Colorado College whipped Michigan State 6-3 Saturday night in a Western Collegiate Hockey Assn. game. The victory gave Colorado a tie for first place in the league with Michigan Tech. Each has a 5-1 record. MSU is 0-5-1.

COLT STRATEGISTS — Five Baltimore Colt coaches look at the movies of New York Giant football games in planning their strategy for the Dec. 27th title game. Tidwell Hits 31 in M's First Win

ANN ARBOR (AP) — John Tidwell back in form and Michigan has become capable of springing some basketball surprises.

As Tidwell slumped following his fine sophomore season, the Wolverines dropped their first three games this year.

But the lanky shotmaker from Herrin, Ill., found the range Saturday with 31 points. The Wolverines broke into the win column for the first time, upsetting Tennessee 70-66.

Michigan returns to action here tonight against another intersectional opponent, Denver. Denver has only one victory in three starts, losing 91-68 Saturday to New York University.

Tidwell's resurgence, coupled with the promising play of sophomore Scott Maentz, has given coach Bill Perigo encouragement for the future.

Maentz scored 19 points in the victory over the Volunteers, who had been touted as one of the better teams in the South.

He has taken up some of the slack caused by Capt. Terry Miller's leg injury. Miller has chronic knee trouble. He plays with most of his leg wrapped in bandages and tape.

Miller, who with Tidwell are the only returning starters from last year's Big Ten runnersup was held to only three points against Tennessee.

Michigan jumped to an early lead of 10 points and then lost all its edge. Tennessee caught up early in the second half and fled to a five-point advantage.

But Tidwell and Maentz changed the tide. They combined to pull Michigan ahead by a point with five minutes left. Then Maentz scored a pair of free throws and Tidwell added four points on driving layups to salt away Michigan's first triumph.

2 Pro Clubs Loom for Twin Cities

Seek Franchise in NFL

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul may wind up with two professional football teams.

But backers of both clubs do not seem worried about "crowded conditions."

The possibility of a National Football League franchise arose yesterday when Ole Haugsrud, a veteran Duluth, Minn., football promoter, confirmed that an application had been made for a NFL franchise by Minnesota Sports, Inc., a group of "seven or eight" men who are prepared to put up the necessary money.

But the move did not phase H. P. Skoglund, part owner of the Minneapolis-St. Paul entry in the newly-founded American Football league. Skoglund said his group would go ahead with plans "no matter what happens."

However, the bid for a Twin Cities entry in the promised expansion plans of the NFL will no doubt be a top discussion point when commissioner Joe Foss of the AFL comes to town this week.

★ ★ ★

He is expected here to complete arrangements with backers of the local franchise in an effort to wind up preliminary spade work and to cement the Minnesota entry in the AFL.

Haugsrud, meanwhile, said he was not worrying about competing with an AFL club, although he admitted that "we'll be providing some opposition alright."

Farmington Quintet Bows to Northville

A disastrous 3rd quarter was fatal to the Farmington High School basketball team Saturday night as Northville handed the Falcons a surprising 47-41 setback in a non-conference game at Farmington.

Northville outscored the Falcons by a 14-6 margin in the 3rd period to take a 38-31 lead and the home club was unable to close the gap. Farmington did not score until the final 30 seconds of the 3rd stanza after leading at the half, 25-24.

Farmington's Harvey Chapman captured individual scoring honors with 21 points. Jim Patterson tallied 14 points and Gary Morgan and Wade Deal each made 13 for the Northville squad.

Former Cadet Star to Coach at Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Henry C. (Hank) Foldberg, 36, a great end at Army in his college days, has been named head football coach at the University of Wichita.

For the last eight years, Foldberg has been line coach at Florida. He played at Army in 1944-45-46, went into pro ball and was an assistant at Purdue and Texas A&M before going to Florida in 1952.

Olmedo's Pro Net Debut Losing One

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Alex Olmedo has had his baptism under fire on the professional tennis circuit and, he reported today, things are bound to get better.

Lew Hoad of Australia whipped him, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2, yesterday, and Olmedo, ex-U.S. Davis Cup ace by way of Peru, showed signs of rustiness.

"I enjoyed it, though," he said. "Lew was real good and I think he's improved a lot since his amateur days.

Promoter Jack Kramer, who signed Olmedo three weeks ago for a $35,000 first year guarantee, was happy with the performance.

After dropping the singles to Hoad, Olmedo teamed with Pancho Gonzales in the doubles. They turned back Hoad and Ken Rosewell 6-4, 6-4. Gonzales won the other singles match, cutting down Rosewall, 6-2, 64.

Parseghian, Nelson Lead Florida's List

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—For practical purposes it looks as if University of Florida President J. Wayne Reitz' choice for a new football coach has narrowed to Coach Ara Parseghian of Northwestern and Coach Dave Nelson of Delaware, the Miami Herald reported today.

It said Reitz interviewed the men in Washington, D.C. Saturday "in the first serious meeting between Reitz and a candidate for the Florida football coaching job since Bob Woodruff resigned under pressure early this month."

Unbeaten Spartans at Brigham Young Tonight

State Cage Five Seeks 5th Win in West Game

Good Balance Paid Off Saturday in 82-72 Victory Over Wyoming

PROVO, Utah, (AP) — Superior rebounding and the knack of different players leading the scoring parade in each game ar helping Michigan State make a myth of the pre-season basketball estimates.

★ ★ ★

The unbeaten Spartans, who lost the guts of their 1959 Big Ten champions, won their fourth straight Saturday night. They swarmed around under both backboards and shot well in a 82-72 victory over Wyoming at Laramie, Wyo.

Michigan State moved here to play Brigham Young tonight in the third game of a Western swing.

★ ★ ★

Lance Olson was the sharpshooter against Wyoming, scoring 26 points. Art Gowens, the team's top scorer when it left for the West, added 21, Horace Walker, the big man in the Nebraska double-overtime victory last week, had 14.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans, standing shorter, were able to ride higher in the saddle against the Cowboys. Michigan State pulled in 69 rebounds to Wyoming's 46.

Michigan State spurted to a 48-32 lead at halftime. But for a few hectic minutes seven minutes from the final buzzer, the Spartans were in command the rest of the way.

Wyoming rattled off 10 straight points in its final threat and narrowed Michigan State's lead to 76-67. But John Young sank two easy layups and the Spartans spurted again.

★ ★ ★

The Brigham Young game will be Michigan State's next-to-last on the trip west. The Spartans move on to Berkley Wednesday and face NCAA champion California. The Bears are coached by Pete Newell, who once was Michigan State's coach.

Texans Sign Up Coaching Aide, Star Fullback

DALLAS (AP)—Henry (Hank) Stram, who has been an assistant coach at four major colleges, and Jack Spikes, all-Southwest Conference fullback, joined the Dallas Texans Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Owner Lamar Hunt, founder of the new American Football League and owners of the Dallas entry, disclosed the additions in separate announcements.

★ ★ ★

Stram has coached at Southern Methodist, Purdue, Notre Dame and Miami.

Titans' Big Guns Hot in Weekend Struggles

Press Hoosiers, Dump Boston

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's toughest weekend ended on a happy note and it isn't too hard for the Titans to envision clear sailing ahead to a postseason basketball tournament.

Two games within 18 hours, more than 200 miles apart, left the Titans leg and travel weary. Nowhere along the rest of the schedule should coach Bob Calihan's five find an opponent of the caliber of Indiana.

The Hoosiers, pre-season Big Ten favorites, had to scrap and battle the Titans all the way before eking out a victory Saturday. Indiana won 89-85, handing Detroit its first loss. But Detroit's sophomores were brilliant—and almost victorious—in what developed into a titanic struggle at Bloomington, Ind.

"I'm not happy we lost," said Calihan. "But I'm not dejected. We convinced everyone that we have a basketball team."

The Titans flew right home and awoke from their weariness in time for a second-half onslaught that rolled Boston College under 94-81 yesterday afternoon.

Sophs Dave DeBusschere and Charlie North were the Titans' big guns in both gruelling weekend games.

DeBusschere scored 28 points in the Indiana defeat and came back against Boston with 33 points, best in his short college career. North tallied 24 points against the Hoosiers and 28 against the Eagles.

Boston College stayed close to Detroit for half a game, trailing only 40-37 at intermission. Then DeBusschere and North broke the game wide open with 10 quick points at the start of the second half. DeBusschere pulled in 27 rebounds.

Bill Donovan, a jumpshooting wizard, scored 30 of Boston College's points, hitting on 10 long jumps in the first half alone.

Detroit and Indiana were tied 70-70 when Bob Wilkinson pitched in three quick baskets and gave the Hoosiers some working margin. The game was tied 13 times before Indiana went ahead for good.

Walt Bellamy, a 6-10½ giant, was the difference in the game. He scored 35 points for Indiana.

The Titans will get a good rest before starting the Motor City Tournament on their home court next Monday against New Mexico. They play Buffalo State at home Saturday, a team they should rout easily.

Boston Wins 12th in Row

Celtics, Hawks Pull Away

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celts and St. Louis Hawks posted a pair of victories each over the weekend to extend their winning streaks and pull further away from the pack in the Eastern and Western divisions of the National Basketball Assn.

Boston stretched its victory skein to 12 last night with a 132-127 triumph over the Syracuse Nats after edging the New York Knicks 119-116 in a nationally televised game Saturday afternoon.

St. Louis boosted its string to five by whipping the Detroit Pistons 102-86 yesterday. The Hawks routed the Philadelphia Warriors 102-89 Saturday night.

The Celts now own a 6½ game lead over runner-up Philadelphia in the East and the Hawks are 5½ games ahead of Detroit in the West.

In Sunday's remaining game the Knicks snapped a five-game losing streak by downing the Cincinnati Royals 132-118 before a national television audience.

Saturday's other action saw the Minneapolis Lakers romp over Cincinnati 131-113 and Detroit turn back Syracuse 120-112.

The Celts withstood a late surge by Syracuse last night in breaking the Nats' home court winning streak at nine. Bill Sharman paced Boston with 30 points as the Celtics hit on 50 per cent of their field goal attempts. Dolph Schayes' 32 points were high for the Nats.

★ ★ ★

Carl Braun, the Knicks' new coach, made a successful home debut as New York moved to a 38-15 first-period lead and 77-52 halftime advantage. Willie Naulls led the victors with 28 points.

TV Actor Desi Arnaz Buys Race Horse Farm

CORONA, Calif. (AP) — Television actor - producer Desi Arnaz is the new owner of the Circle Jr, a 40-acre thoroughbred stock farm just northwest of Corona.

The previous owner, Jack Robinson, did not disclose the purchase price in announcing the sale Sunday.

There are seven buildings on the property, including a long, low spanish-style ranch house. The farm also has the appropriate corrals, tracks and exercise areas for training race horses.

Rickey Still Sees '61 Start

Continental Prexy Says He Was Misquoted on New Loop's Inaugural

DALLAS (AP)—Branch Rickey, president of the Continental League, said last night the target date for his circuit still was 1961.

Arriving to talk to Dallas-Fort Worth interests regarding a franchise in the league, Rickey said he had been misquoted last week when it was reported from Pittsburgh that he had said the third major league now probably could not get under way before 1962.

★ ★ ★

"My actual statement," said Rickey "was that it would be possible for the existing major leagues to throw enough roadblocks in our path to delay our start a year. The majors have not been as helpful as they might have been up to date, but I do not believe they will offer any active opposition."

★ ★ ★

Rickey said he expected the Continental would announce the seventh and eighth franchise cities "before Jan. 1. We are hopeful that we can complete our organization by then."

Infantry Given Important Role Eying Missiles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, the Army's infantry boss, declares an increasingly important mission for the foot soldier is protecting missile launching sites.

"As we build more and more pushbutton sites, they become more and more vulnerable to guerrillas or other ground forces," said Clarke, head of the Army Continental Command.

"Any football fan knows you can't throw passes with the other team's rushers in your backfield. "Some one has to protect the missile bases."

Bird Spotters Holiday Count Next Sunday

While bird lovers of one kind are finishing off those last few turkey sandwiches Dec. 27, those of another kind will be participating in the 60th Christmas Bird Count sponsored by the National Audubon Society in the Pontiac area.

Under surveillance will be an area including Pontiac Recreation Area, Holly Recreation Area and Haven Hill. Observers will be active from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Groups will meet at the Cranbrook Cabin, Cranbrook Institute of Science, for assignment to specific areas under the supervision of Neil T. Kelley of Birmingham, Detroit Audubon Society's bird survey chairman.

Last year 8,000 birds of 45 species were counted in the nationwide study. Any interested area residents are invited to participate.

Refreshments will be served in the cabin, but participants should bring a lunch to be eaten in the field, and be equipped with binoculars and warm clothing.

U.S. Wars on Fraud in Ads and Selling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today opened a drive to recruit millions of consumers in a war on false advertising and fraudulent selling.

★ ★ ★

The Federal Trade Commission invited representatives of 47 civic, consumer and welfare groups into its first "conference on Public Deception"—a two-day course in how to spot phony merchandising and what to do about it.

Chairman Earl W. Kintner told the delegates that FTC's records on thousands of cases against gyp operators contain information which "the public needs and hasn't been getting."

If this conference proves useful, Kintner said in his prepared opening statement, it will become the first in a series of meetings to which additional groups will be invited.

★ ★ ★

The consumer education campaign was conceived before the quiz show and payola scandals, but has gained impetus from these and from recent criticism of questionable TV commercials and other misleading advertising.

★ ★ ★

FTC officials were primed for the session with reports on adroitly phrased ads which misleadingly imply medical approval or government endorsement; spurious sales at big reductions from fictitious "regular" prices; mislabeling of furs and fabrics; "bait" advertising—the offering of bargains which, when the customer comes into the store, "aren't available," and other illegal tricks.

Prominent Businessman Dies in Ford Hospital

DETROIT (UPI) — A prominent Northern Michigan businessman died yesterday at Ford hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident more than a month ago.

Drug Price Drop Seen by Kefauver

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) says his Senate subcommittee hearings on the drug industry will force voluntary price reductions.

★ ★ ★

Kefauver, winding up a week-long vacation here yesterday, said companies "charging unreasonable prices" will make the reductions because "the people won't put up with them."

Award $40,000 Verdict Against Brighton Doctor

HOWELL (UPI)—A $40,000 verdict awarded by a jury here was the largest in the history of Livingston County courts.

The verdict was against Dr. Hartly Holmquist of Brighton, a chiropractor.

His office secretary, Alice Ruth Wright, was driving his car when it crashed with one driven by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dering of Deford, Tuscola County. The Derings were killed.

The average American spent $27 a year on medical services in 1929, compared with $124 today.

NOVEL CHRISTMAS TREE—Patricia Vogelsburg, 20, of 2014 Willow Beach Rd., Keego Harbor, adds the finishing touch to a Christmas tree she made of toothpicks. Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne F. Vogelsburg, said she used more than 8,000 toothpicks in constructing the novel tree. The tree was built by placing the toothpicks in balls of plastic foam, placing some of the balls in a circle and then pyramiding others on top.

Ask Closer Ties on Farm Rules

Milk Producers Want FDA, Agriculture Dept. Liaison on Drugs, Etc.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Milk Producers Federation has called for closer cooperation between the Agriculture Department and the Food and Drug Administration in regulating the use of pest control chemicals, drugs and antibiotics.

★ ★ ★

E. M. Norton, secretary of the milk federation, said that some farmers now following practices recommended by the Agriculture Department find themselves confronted by crackdowns from the Food and Drug Administration.

Norton said this was "intolerable." It results in scare headlines, needless consumer worry, and losses to farmers and the government, he declared.

The milk federation leader said misuse of drugs and insecticides should not be allowed. But at the same time, he said, farmers should not be penalized for following recommendations of the Agriculture Department.

★ ★ ★

Government economists warned that dairymen may begin producing surpluses again in the near future.

The warning came in an Agriculture Department report entitled, "The Dairy Situation."

The report said that in recent months the relationship between beef and milk prices has begun to change, with beef prices dropping and milk becoming relatively more profitable.

★ ★ ★

Economists believe this will soon lead to an upturn in milk production. Their report pointed out that while beef has turned down, milk prices during the second half of 1959 have been stronger in comparison with support levels than at any time since 1952.

Building Gives W. Bloomfield Trouble

Eyesore Township's Headache

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Given 30 days to remove an unsightly, frame real estate office at Orchard Lake and Walnut Lake roads, a representative of the owner offered it to the township.

In trying to locate a key so that a check of the interior could be made, Township Clerk Dorothy M. Chamberlain was told that a mistake had been made and the owner had no intention of parting with the structure.

However, a building inspector checked it anyway and found that timbers at its foundation had been rotted by mildew and termites.

The building inspector made his report to the township and it was decided immediately that the township didn't want the building even if it had been given to them.

★ ★ ★

So back to the original problem of having the building removed.

The clerk was asked if a bond had ever been set when the building had been constructed that would cover the cost of razing if the township had it torn down.

No, a bond hadn't been set, explained Clerk Chamberlain, instead a bill of sale had been recorded. This means the township takes ownership of the building, according to the township attorney.

So, now the township owns one unsightly, frame real estate office at Orchard Lake and Walnut lake roads.

★ ★ ★

No action will be taken on the building, township trustees said, until a thorough check is made of the legality of the recorded bill of sale.

Plenty of Christmases, but None of 'Em Is Mary

FARMINGTON — Christmas all year 'round?

Farmington has 11 of them, but not one Mary Christmas.

★ ★ ★

There's Harry William and Edward Christmas and their wives Clara, Winifred and Eunice, and there's Peggy, Jimmy, Kathleen, Colleen and Danny.

They're all related, and live within a block of each other. William and Edward are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christmas of 28700 Independence Rd.

Peggy, 5, and Jimmy, 6, are the children of William and Winifred of 21550 Hamilton Rd. Kathleen, 6, Danny, 3, and Colleen, 1, are the children of Edward and Eunice of 21534 Rockwell Rd.

★ ★ ★

None of the Christmases was born on Christmas, but Jimmy will be 7 on New Year's Eve, Colleen was born on Dec. 5 and Danny on Jan. 2.

"We come close but we never quite make it," said Mrs. Christmas, Mrs. Eunice Christmas, that is.

"It's a nice name to have," she said, "people never forget you."

Who would ever forget Christmas?

Wheat Program Second Target

Federation Delegates Approve Creation of Marketing Association

From Our News Wires

The nation's largest farm group—The American Farm Bureau Federation — is shooting for more bargaining power for farmers with food processors and distributors and sweeping changes in the country's wheat program.

The federation's 160 voting delegates gave unanimous approval to creation of a national marketing association in final sessions of the group's 41st convention at Chicago.

The national group will coordinate market information on prices, supplies and demand to help stabilize farm income by enabling farmers to plan production to meet demands.

The new group also will service local bargaining associations, conduct research on contract terms and if necessary negotiate agreements with processors and distributors.

★ ★ ★

The proposal suggests that first consideration be given to the bargaining position of fruit and vegetable growers with other producers to be brought in later.

The federation also called for sweeping changes in the nation's wheat program—changes more in line with the Eisenhower administration's proposed new program.

The federation voted final approval of resolutions urging elimination of wheat acreage allotments and marketing quotas and suggesting that support prices be linked to corn and market prices.

Wheat prices now are supported on a sliding scale of 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

MIGRATORY WAGES

The federation also has come to the defense of wages paid to migratory farm laborers.

"Incomes of farm workers may not be high; neither are those of farmers," said a resolution passed by the nation's biggest farm organization.

But wages of migratory workers "have increased approximately twice as fast as the cost of living during the past 10 years," the resolution said.

"Virulent and often uninformed criticism of farm wage rates has ignored the fact that such rates in 1959 averaged 47 per cent above 1947-59 levels."

★ ★ ★

The resolution also asked state legislatures to enact or improve "statutes relating to housing for migratory farm workers."

Another AFBF resolution attacked the nation's new interstate highway system as "unnecessarily" expensive.

The Farm Bureau, which fought for years to get hard roads past farm houses, went on record as "opposed to any expansion of the interstate highway system beyond the 41,000 miles now authorized and to any change in the federal share (90 per cent) of the interstate highway construction costs."

★ ★ ★

The resolution also opposed "diversion of federal highway funds for the purpose of reimbursing utility companies for relocation costs incident to highway construction in cases where facilities are located on highway rights-of-way."

The delegates also aimed a resolution at the railroads, shippers of many farm products. They voted to oppose both rail rate increases and "'make work' practices in transportation operations which result either from labor-management agreements or legislation."

The delegates re-elected Charles B. Shuman, 52, of Sullivan, Ill., president and voted to hold next year's convention in Denver. Shuman has headed the organization since 1954.

Orion Twp. Power Vote Wednesday

ORION TOWNSHIP — Voters in Orion Township are reminded of the special election Wednesday on renewal of Consumers Power Co.'s 30-year franchise with the township.

Clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephen said polls in all precincts will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p.m.

The franchise, if adopted, will give the power company authority to lay, maintain and service gas mains, pipes and services in the township for another 30 years. The present franchise expires next April.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Stephen also announces that the township offices will be closed Saturday because of the Christmas holidays.

With Poland, Yugoslavia

4-H Eyes Red Exchanges

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National 4-H Club Foundation says farm youth delegations may be exchanged next year with Poland and Yugoslavia as part of the international farm youth exchange program.

Negotiations to include Poland and Yugoslavia in the 1960 program are under way.

They would be the first Communist countries ever to take part in the program.

Forty-one states and at least 50 foreign nations will take part in the exchange of farm youth delegations in 1960.

A total of 108 young Americans will visit farms in foreign countries and about 130 young men and women from overseas will pay return visits to rural areas in this country.

The cost of the program in the United States is financed entirely with private funds.

The FBI released the identity of Thomas Oliver Moore, a sullen, unbalanced criminal.

★ ★ ★

The FBI had planned to publicly list Moore as one of its most wanted tomorrow.

Tractor Chief Fined $500 for Shooting

ST. JOSEPH (UPI)—J. R. Love, owner of the Love Tractor Co. of Eau Claire has been fined $500 on his conviction of felonious assault in the shooting of one of his former employes.

★ ★ ★

The industrialist faced a maximum sentence of four years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

In a tear-choked voice Love told Judge Thomas N. Robinson Sr. "Thank you" after the sentence was handed down.

★ ★ ★

Love had lost a motion for a new trial in the Nov. 4 conviction of wounding Charles Goff Oct. 21, 1958 in a fight during a plant party celebrating the defeat of a UAW-CIO representation vote at his company.

Yanich Must Wait —No Meeting Tonight

TROY—City Commissioner Louis Yanich, who tendered his resignation on Dec. 14, will have to wait another week to find out if it is accepted.

★ ★ ★

For the first time in many weeks the Troy City Commission will not meet on Monday (tonight), but will resume its business Dec. 28.

Yanich resigned because he said politics in city affairs were "getting out of hand" and that he was "tired of doing nothing and wasting the taxpayers' money."

Action on his resignation was tabled at the last meeting which Yanich could not attend because he was at a relative's funeral out of town.

Corn Crop a Whopper

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has estimated this year's corn crop at 4,361,170,000 bushels.

If the year's final estimate holds up, it will be the largest corn crop ever produced.

Michigan is expected to harvest 12,581,000 acres of corn at a yield of 57 bushels per acre for a total of 125,571,000 bushels.

★ ★ ★

Other estimates for Michigan included:

Winter wheat — 1,133,000 acres harvested, 31 bushels per acre, 16,920,000 bushels last year and 14,045,000 this year.

Oats — 940,000 acres harvested, 41 bushels per acre, 53,856,000 bushels last year and 38,540,000 this year.

Dry beans — 515,000 acres harvested, 1,160 pounds per acre, 5,226,000 hundredweight produced last year and 5,974,000 this year.

Choruses Will Sing Before Smart PTA

WALLED LAKE — The Clifford H. Smart Junior High School PTA meeting at 8 p.m. today will feature Christmas music by the school choruses and instrumental groups.

★ ★ ★

The boys', girls', and mixed choruses, under the direction of Eugene Guettler, will offer a collection of well-known holiday selections.

★ ★ ★

A highlight of the evening will be the showing of color slides depicting scenes from the "Christmas Story" with the choral and instrumental groups providing background music.

The public is invited.

Finance Challenge Remains

Capital Brews Speculation Williams Will Run Again

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's new 87-million-dollar revenue package gave legislators nothing more than a breathing spell in their struggle to solve the state's nagging money problem.

It also fanned speculation that Gov. Williams might try for a seventh term next year in an attempt to clean up the financial mess before he bows out.

Bills setting up the money program adopted Friday by the Legislature—a combination of taxes and the veterans trust fund—were ready for the governor's signature today.

To become law, they must be signed by Friday noon.

WON'T VETO THEM

Williams labeled the measures "inadequate and miserable" but promised he would not veto them. The alternative, he said, would be "utter financial chaos."

He was far less revealing on whether the state's continuing financial sickness and failure of his campaign for a personal and corporate income tax would lead him to try for aother two-year stay in the governor's office.

"I haven't made up my mind," he told reporters.

★ ★ ★

When lawmakers rang down the curtain Saturday on the longest legislative session in state history, they left behind a hodgepodge of consumer and business taxes that will net the state 65 million dollars a year.

But they will not begin to pay off the mountain of debts accumulating more than a year.

The veterans trust fund will be cashed within a few weeks—bringing in about 40 million dollars to pay the most pressing bills.

RESTORED BY 1971

It will be restored by 1971 and the Legislature will appropriate the $1,200,000 it yields annually for benefits to needy veterans.

Starting Jan. 1, smokers, drinkers and telephone and telegraph users will pay new or higher taxes totaling 34 million dollars a year.

Corporations will pay a five-mill franchise fee, a one-mill increase, to bring in another 13 million dollars a year.

Another 18 million dollars in business, sales and use taxes passed last August remain in effect.

In patching together the new package, Republicans blocked the governor's demands for an income tax, crux of a bitter feud that tied the Legislature in knots for months.

And they voted less than half the money he said was needed to pay off the state's 95-million-dollar debt piecemeal and meet demands of a fast-growing citizenry for state services.

STEADY DEFICIT

Except for the most optimistic revenue calculations of some Republicans, the concensus is that the general fund deficit probably will stay at or above 80 million dollars through 1960.

Next November, voters may get a chance to ballot on whether they prefer a sales tax increase, the tax solution favored by Republicans, or the Democratic-backed income tax.

Romeo Lass, 17, 'Takes the Cake' With Cherry Pie

ROMEO — Five years of cooking experience paid off Friday for Claudia Johnson, 17, when she won the Cherry Pie Baking contest at Romeo Community High School.

★ ★ ★

Claudia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max S. Johnson of 5485 Lockwood Rd., Washington, won the competition over six other contestants. She is a senior.

Runnersup were Donna Kay Posey and Susan Jersey.

BIG JOB, BUT FUN — The Russell Blackett children merrily decorate their huge Christmas tree. It measures 12 feet high and 10 feet around, and just fits in the lofty living room of their home at 8351 Big Lake Rd., Clarkston. Big trees like this cost no more than the regular-sized ones because there's not so much demand for them, explained Mrs. Blackett. The youngsters from left are Larry, 16, Corinne, 13, and Nadine, 7.

Church Opens Doors for 1st Time in Oxford

OXFORD — Climaxing eight months of work and years of planning the new Free Methodist Church here opened its doors for the first time yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Ground was broken for the new structure on April 26 at the new location, 790 S. Lapeer Rd. It is T-shaped with the main sanctuary measuring 80 by 32 feet and a wing 32 by 72 feet.

The new edifice is finished in brick, and the interior decor is in a soft shade of turquoise to blend with the natural wood finish of the open beam ceiling and stone planters on each side of the rostrum.

★ ★ ★

Using the wing for the overflow crowds, the main floor seats 400 people.

The first service in the new church was the Christmas program at 10 a.m. yesterday.

40 Pct. of State Counties Are Free of Brucellosis

LANSING (UPI) — Nearly 40 per cent of Michigan's 83 counties have no known herds of cattle infected with brucellosis and there are 21 others which have five or less infected herds.

State Agriculture director George S. McIntyre said this today after getting a report from State Veterinarian J. F. Quinn.

This highly infectious animal disease has cost cattle owners millions of dollars in calves and milk. The disease gets to man under certain conditions in the form of undulant fever but there is little danger of contamination because of pasteurization.

Claim Patients Return Due to Cost Outside

Drug Prices Hit at State Hospital

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Inability of convalescing mental patients to meet the cost of drugs on the outside market has been explained as one of the reasons for "returnees" to Pontiac State Hospital.

Cited also as an indirect cause for relapse of the released patient is an inadequate rapport between the family physician and the medical staff of the mental institution.

The problem was aired at a meeting of representatives of the hospital's pharmacy, medical staff, nursing staff, caseworker staff and administrative staff.

A psychiatrist, who chose to remain anonymous, said that patients have sufered relapses and returned to the hospital because they did not meet the expense of drugs it was necessary for them to buy.

★ ★ ★

He said 98 per cent of the 3,100 patient population at Pontiac State Hospital are on tranquilizers. The cost to the hospital per patient for a month supply is an average of $7.50.

"When we discharge a patient," the psychiatrist said, "we give him a two-week supply of the tranquilizer (if it is required) on our dosage. Then he is in the hands of his physician.

"On the outside a month's supply of the same prescription will cost him twice as much as what we paid to supply him with the drug. He pays an average of $15 a month on the outside, not to mention the physician's fee for office calls during the month."

A Pontiac State Hospital official also said that once a patient is released he remains on convalescent status and is carried on the hospital's books for three years.

NO COUNTY AID

For that three year period, or until the patient is judged sane by Probate Court, the Oakland County Social Welfare Department cannot be of assistance.

The psychiatrist said also that discharged patients have had to return to hospital care because their private physicians weaned them off the tranquilizer dosage prescribed by the hospital medical staff.

"Patients are released who will be fine on the outside," he said, "as long as they remain on the drug . . . and they must remain on it in order to stay out of the hospital.

"Many family physicians, however, are reluctant at the size of dosage we prescribe. They may try to cut down the dosage and then the patients come back to us. Many people must continue with the dosage we prescribe in order to function."

NOT SPECIALIST

The phychiatrist explained that the general practitioner is not a specialist in the field of psychiatry and oftentimes is not versed completely on the use of drugs. He knows of the ill side effects and doesn't want to take a chance because he has had no experience with such large dosages.

★ ★ ★

"There can be bad side effects," acknowledges the psychiatrist, "but they are not determined by the size of dosage. If a particular drug would be of harm to a patient, it would make no difference whether it was administered in a small or larger quantity."

A hospital pharmacist said the tranquilizers are not habit forming and that patients cannot become addicted to them.

"Tranquilizers have not emptied out the hospital," the psychiatrist said. "They have enabled patients to function more comfortably in all areas and some get home who otherwise would not.

ONLY HELP

"They allay anxieties, enabling the patients to be more accessible to hospital therapy."

Since the tranquilizers began to be used extensively at Pontiac State Hospital in 1953, the phychiatrist said:

Medicines used now have increased six times.

★ ★ ★

In 1953 approximately 100 patients had grounds privileges. The number today has risen to 600.

It was not uncommon in the hospital's disturbed wards before the advent of tranquilizers to have violence and destruction of property. This kind of behavior now is unusual.

Some patients today can visit their homes from a disturbed ward . . . unheard of prior to tranquilizers.

In 1953 there were only four or five open wards (no locked doors). There now are 11 open wards.

More patients are able to go home for convalescent leaves.

All these things have been attributed to tranquilizers. But, the drug is not a cure.

Nina Khrushchev Hopes Women Can Guide Peace

MOSCOW (UPI)—Nina Khrushchev, wife of the Soviet Premier, expressed hope that contacts between Soviet and American women would be broadened to produce "peace on earth and clear skies over the heads of our children."

The Soviet First Lady made the statement in an article she wrote for the magazine Soviet Woman as her "Christmas message" to the American people.

Futures Prices Dip in Sluggish Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market ranged from steady to weak today during the first several minutes of dealings on the Board of Trade with rye leading the setbacks on losses of more than a cent on most contracts.

★ ★ ★

Soybeans were off major fractions in a light trade.

Trading in all December contracts ends today and a good deal of transactions appeared to be toward evening up commitments in that delivery. Commercial business was slow.

Japan bought a small amount of soybeans and Pakistan has asked offers tomorrow on a moderate amount of wheat. The Department of Agriculture accepted subsidy bids of two cents a bushel on 700,000 bushels of corn for export this month and next.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ cent a bushel lower to ¼ higher. December $1.96½; corn ¼ to ⅝ lower, December $1.08⅜; oats ⅛ to ¼ higher, December 76⅝; rye ⅝ to 1⅝ lower, December $1.23¼; soybeans ⅝ to 1⅛ lower, January $2.09¼.

Leaun Harrelson Withdraws Suit

Will Seek Settlement of Land Profit Deal With Louis Linteau

The 16-month lawsuit started by Leaun Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, against Louis C. Linteau, a former secretary-treasurer of the union, has been withdrawn, Harrelson's attorney said today.

★ ★ ★

Harrelson filed suit in August 1958 claiming he had been cheated out of $5,700 by Linteau and other persons after he entered into a three-way deal for the purchase of real estate, known as the Northridge Subdivision in Waterford Township.

Harrelson's attorney said the complaint against Linteau was officially withdrawn in Circuit Court without prejudice, with hopes a settlement "might be negotiated privately."

★ ★ ★

Harrelson said Linteau paid him but $300 of what he believes should have been a $6,000 share from the reported $17,000 land deal profit.

Industrials Flirt With New High

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrials nudged close to a record high in active trading today. Motors paced the stock market early this afternoon.

In an irregular and labored advance, gains of fractions to about a point among pivotal stocks outnumbered losers. A number of specially situated stocks made better showings.

For the second time in a week, the Dow Jones industrial average flirted with a new historic top. At noon the Dow industrials were up 1.54 to 678.19, topping the record closing high of 678.10 reached last Aug. 3.

Last Tuesday at the same hour the Dow industrials were above the previous record closing figure but sank below it by the time the session ended so no new record was set.

The industrials were bolstered by a gain of more than 2 by Allied Chemical. Du Pont also helped, rising about a point, but the chemical blue chip erased the gain and was easy as the session wore on.

Motors were helped by continued optimism over 1960 auto sales.

American Motors, not represented in the market averages, was outstanding, rising about 3 points before clipping a point from the rise.

Sharply stepped-up production plans for the Rambler next year drew buying to American Motors. Ford continued strong, rising a point. General Motors added a fraction.

Steels, after an uncertain start, edged to the upside, the major steelmakers showing small fractional gains. Rails were a bit easy. The Friday optimism about a steel strike settlement no longer prevailed.

Morrell was active and up more than 2 on news of a 25 cents stock dividend. American Cable & Radio opened on a 19,000-share block and was more than a point higher in active dealings. Favorable ru-

GETS CUSTODY — British heiress Frederika (Bobo) Sigrist holds her 2-year-old daughter Bianca as she was awarded custody of the child for nine and one half months of the year. Both Bobo, heiress to a 19-million-dollar fortune, and her estranged American husband, Gregg Juarez, were present in the London court for the verdict. Juarez will have the child for the remaining two and a half months of the year.

Remote Caribbean Isle Is Civilized Shangri-la

COZUMEL, Mexico (AP) — If you want to go off almost to the end of nowhere, and still remain in a civilized atmosphere, you might try this island of Cozumel.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-five miles long and 15 across at the widest point, it is located 12 miles east of the Yucatan peninsula and is part of the Mexican territory of Quintana Roo.

Historically, it once was one of the religious sanctuaries of the ancient and highly civilized Mayan Indians, and was a stepping stone of Cortez in his conquest of Mexico for Spain.

Of the islands 3,000 inhabitants about 2,500 live in this town—also Cozumel—on the eastern coast.

This is a quiet and peaceful place, with little activity except for bursting growth of vegetation. There are no nightclubs, and only one movie theater which operates two nights a week.

★ ★ ★

It is a busy day when two cars or trucks pass on the principal street.

Some have taken advantage of the island's tranquility to come here to read, write, or just rest. Others fish or skin dive in the crystal waters.

The island has not been overrun by tourists, and some residents say they don't want it to be.

Still, they welcome well-behaved visitors who want to share the island's charm and friendliness. The island is almost crimeless.

HAS AIR FIELD

The only way to get here comfortably is by private plane or yacht, or a daily cargo-passenger plane from Merida, capital of the state of Yucatan.

There is a good air strip, built by the United States for use of planes scouting enemy submarines in the Caribbean during World War II.

There are two hotels, the Palace, a converted government building, and the small Mayaluum with a garden of lush tropical plants.

The food, especially at the Mayaluum, is good. There, two world-travelers, Ilya Chamberlain and his wife Jane, can whip up plain or exotic dishes with equal knack.

★ ★ ★

Those wishing to fish or skin dive should carry their own equipment. There is no adequate rental service at present.

Boats now available for fishing are not comfortable for catching big ones. They are converted sailboats with tillers, leaving no room for swivel chairs in the rear.

Skin divers, besides enjoying the underwater beauty, can spear fish and giant crayfish which hang around the coral reefs.

The sun is hot, but a balmy breeze constantly flows across the island, and the nights are comfortable.

★ ★ ★

In the olden days Cozumel was noted for its oracles, or talking idols. People came from all over the Mayan world for counsel. The idols were hollow and fastened to temple walls, with an opening for the priests to enter.

Bread Around Before History

It Used to Be Made Out of Water Lily Seeds —Not Wheat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wheat and bread go hand in hand, but try to convince an Australian aborigine of that. More than likely he'll just shake his poison dart tube in bewilderment. The aborigines don't know what wheat is.

But they do eat bread.

Which brings up the natural question, bread made from what? Made from water lily seeds — ground water lily seeds molded into loaves and baked.

Even though we grow it by the billions of bushels today, man hasn't always known about wheat. But it seems he always had bread.

In comparatively recent times, the American Indian used acorns. First the redmen boiled them, then laid the molded acorns in the sun.

The natives of the Spice Islands use the pithy substance of palm plants. It makes a wholesome—but tasteless—loaf.

Two thousand years ago, baking was booming in Rome, with 250 bake shops and a couple of baking schools. It was said that "bread and circuses" were enough to keep the people happy, and emperors of the day manipulated the populace with step-ups or cutbacks in the bread allotment.

The ancient Greeks got along on a coarse barley cake for their bread needs.

But before them, the Egyptians were wise to making bread from wheat. Triangular loaves have turned up side by side with rare gems in Egyptian tombs. Wages were paid in loaves of bread.

Even 10,000 years ago, man ate bread. Swiss lake dwellers used to grind up crude grains, mix them with water, roll the dough into sheets and bake it on hot stones.

Today such things as soya beans and pine bark—plus those water lily seeds—are still used for breadmaking.

In the United States, we consume 14,000,000,000 pounds of bread each year, most of it the soft, white variety. Only an infinitesimal amount is returned to the baker as unsold or faulty.

Crash Injures Two in Waterford Twp.

A Pontiac Township man and Waterford Township woman were injured early Sunday morning when their car went out of control on Lansdowne street near Hatchery road, Waterford Township, and struck an abutment, according to Pontiac State Police.

The driver, Thomas J. Waller, 34, of 2300 Shimmons Rd., is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with a fractured right leg. His passenger, Barbara Combs, 25, of 6435 Barker St., was treated and released.

DAVID S. NEAL

Installed as president of the Pontiac Shrine Club at ceremonies Saturday night was David S. Neal, of 245 Voorheis Rd. Neal is a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason, a Knight Templar, and a Knight of York Sovereign College. He has been a member of the local Shrine Club for seven years. The installation of officers and annual club Christmas party was held in the banquet room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Assn. building.

Shoots His Foot While Hunting in Oakland Twp.

A Highland Park man, Joseph F. Gavlin, 35, was treated at Rochester's Avon Center Hospital Saturday after accidentally shooting himself in the right foot, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Gavlin, of 362 Highland Rd., told them he was hunting in a wooded area near Rochester and Romeo roads in Oakland Township with his brother when his .22 caliber rifle brushed against a tree branch and discharged.

The shot struck one of his toes.

Meeting Tonight of Pontiac CFM

To Elect Officers and Establish Study Groups at First Session

The Pontiac chapter of "Citizens for Michigan" will hold its first meetin at 8 tonight at 8 N. Genesee Ave.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the organization meeting will be to elect permanent officers and establish study groups along the lines outlined by CFM founder George Romney at the organization meeting held last Monday.

Dr. S. J. Dalley, temporary chairman of the Pontiac chapter, said it was not necessary to have attended last week's meeting to join the city group tonight. "Any citizen of voting age wishing to help his state is cordially invited tonight," he said.

Dr. Dalley said already some 50 persons have indicated a desire to be members of the Pontiac chapter.

★ ★ ★

"Citizens for Michigan" is an independent non - partisan group created by Romney and others in September to seek remedies for Michigan's economic and governmental ills, brought to the forefront by the 175-day political stalemate which ended in Lansing Friday.

Warns Teachers Against Taking Yule Payola

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Teachers here have been warned against students who try to curry favor with "Christmas payola."

★ ★ ★

Supt. of Schools Cecil I. Rice sent teachers a memrandum indicating they may accept gifts which "represent love and respect." But, he added, "if a kid gives you a $50 gift you're going to think a long time before you flunk that kid."

★ ★ ★

He left it to the teachers to decide which gifts are sincere and which are "payola."

Ask Arms Ban Before Summit

Five West Ministers Agree Today to Sound Out Red Bloc

PARIS (AP) — Five Western foreign ministers agreed today to propose to the Communist bloc that general disarmament negotiations be started before the East-West summit conference proposed for April 27 in Paris.

★ ★ ★

Italy's Giuseppe Pella told newsmen of this decision upon leaving a 75-minute meeting at the French Foreign Ministry. He did not disclose the exact date decided upon.

★ ★ ★

The ministers met to plan a revival of disarmement talks. Others present were Maurice Couve de Murville of France, Christian A. Herter of the United States, Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Howard Green of Canada.

★ ★ ★

The United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy make up the Western five of the 10-nation commission charged by the United Nations with conducting general disarmament talks. The Soviet bloc members are the Soviet Union, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Bulgaria.

Stalin Barely Noted on His 80th Birthday

MOSCOW (UPI) — The 80th anniversary of the birthday of Josef Stalin, once hailed as the "supreme genius of all mankind," drew only passing notice here today.

★ ★ ★

No memorial services were scheduled for the late premier whose body lies with V. I. Lenin in the hugfe mausoleum in Red Square.

The official Communist Party newspaper Pravda both praised and criticized him in an editorial.

★ ★ ★

"Stalin permitted serious mistakes to be made, particularly in the last years of his life and thus inflicted considerable damage upon the cause of the party and people," the newspaper said.

Harness Racing Writer Gahagan Dead at 83

DETROIT (AP)—Tom Gahagan, 83, veteran harness racing writer, died here today after an illness of six months.

★ ★ ★

Public Hearing on Zoning Tonight at Sylvan Lake

There will be a public hearing at the Sylvan Lake City Hall tonight at 8 p.m. to discuss possible change in the city's zoning ordinances.

The major issue will be spot zoning and bringing ordinances up to date.

Changes in the zoning of property at Warwick street and Orchard Lake road have been requested. Property owners living near the intersection have been urged by City Manager David E. Firestone to attend the hearing.

SEC Halts Traiding in Stock of Skiatron

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC) has blocked, at least temporarily, all trading in the common stock of Skiatron Electronics and Television Corp. of New York City.

The commission said it acted "to prevent fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative acts or practices in the Skiatron stock."

The firm was organized in February 1948. Its main efforts are in promotion of pay-as-you-see television, the SEC said.

GIFT—Poinsettias need "early to bed" lighting during certain months to prolong their lives plus regular spray treament.

Give Poinsettia Reasonable Care —and It'll Last

Unlike Topsy, Chrstmas poinsettia don't "just grow." But with reasonable care they'll bloom for several weeks after the holidays and you can keep them alive to blossom again next year.

Just learn the plant's peculiarities and humor them, say the experts.

The poinsettia is stubborn about what it will do in certain day-lengths. Its lighting requirements vary at different times of the year.

At Christmas it demands lots of light, so keep it in a cool, sunny window and make sure that it receives artificial light until bedtime. A fluorescent lamp or a 75-watt bulb will do the trick.

Unlike Topsy, Christmas poinsettias don't "just grow." But with A native of Mexico, the poinsetger and water only when the surface feels slightly dusty.

When you notice discolored leaves, take heed; a dash of fertilizer or plant food is in order. Mix ½ teaspoon of complete fertilizer with a gallon of water. Then use portions of this mixture, rather than tap water, the next time the plant is dry.

After the leaves have dropped, reduce the water supply gradually until the soil is completely dry and put the plant into storage (any spot where the temperature is a constant 60 degrees).

Forget about it until April or May. Using a sharp shears, cut back the old stems near the base of the plant to force new growth. Remove thin stems and trim the sturdy ones to make a shapely rich loam (mixed with a broken egg shell) and water and fertilize as necessary.

Remember, too, that poinsettas can be troubled with mealy bugs and scale insects. You can prevent insect attack by spraying regularly with a handy aerosol insecticide, the Antrol African violet and house plant insect bomb.

In September, keep the plant away from artificial light after sundown and pinch back growing tips to keep it busy. Then you can enjoy a blooming, home-grown poinsettia in time for next year's Yuletide season.

Economist Jolts Smug Optimism

Eliot Janeway Expects Trouble in Six Major Areas Next Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Economist Eliot Janeway challenges the smug optimisim over the U.S. economic outlook for 1960.

He sees trouble building up in six areas: The unresolved state of the steel dispute, the serious slide in farm income, the stepup in price competition by foreign producers, defense cuts, tight money and narrowing profit margins.

Also, he notes, the severity of the housing industry decline is dangerously underestimated. "Our sick industries such as agriculture, oil and housing, are likely to get a lot sicker next year and even recently healthy industries such as steel and aluminum are likely to find conditions far from ideal."

Janeway believes that many factors responsible for the 1957 recession are hard at work now.

Reynolds & Co. says at present levels Singer Manufacturing Co. shares offer sound value for income and long-term investment.

In the few remaining sessions of the year, traders will doubtless have an opportunity to buy up "depressed" stocks which have been pounded down by year-end tax-loss selling, notes Walston & Co.

However, it adds, this selling will evaporate after Dec. 31. "Then such 'depressed' issues may rebound into January and February — and the holder can take a trading profit . . . "

Standard & Poor's comments on White Motor: "Based solely on medium and longer-range, prospects, the stock appears attractively priced."

With growing demand for molybdenum and copper on the upward march, American Metal Climax should enjoy a higher level of earnings this year and next, says Oil Statistics Co., Inc.

It recommends purchase at current levels for intermediate and long-pull capital appreciation.

Bache & Co. says Pittston Co. shares appear to have completed another base formation and further gains are likely to follow.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY loving husband, Warren C. Kennedy, who passed away 1 year ago today Dec. 21, 1958.
The face I loved is now laid low,
His loving voice is still,
The hands who often clasped in mine,
Lie now in death's cold chill.
I often sit and think of him,
When I am all alone,
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by wife, son, daughter, and grandchildren.

Power Tool Gift Very Perplexing

Settle for Only the Best When You're Shopping for 'His' Present

Buying someone power tools for Christmas can be perplexing. However, the question of how and what a woman should select in the tool line is greatly simplified by following a few simple hints.

The first essential in equipment for the home handyman is never settle for less than the best. The buyer should insist on well-made, easy-to-use tools and should select the most basic tools first.

Examine the equipment carefully and ask for a demonstration before buying. It's better to purchase a few good pieces at a time and make additions later as the wallet or purse allows.

The basic power tool for beginner and seasoned amateur alike is a quarter-inch drill. This versatile favorite can be equipped with a full assortment of A-to-Z attachments to tackle most craft, maintenance and repair chores.

★ ★ ★

The safest and easiest type of drill to operate, according to tool makers, is one with a pistol grip and a switch conveniently located at the base of the handle.

★ ★ ★

This trigger switch should have a push-button locking device so that it can be instantly used or released by the thumb.

The chuck, or part which holds the drill bit or attachment, should be geared and have a key. And the drill should have a powerful motor which will not overheat.

One of the most popular gifts is a kit which contains the quarter-inch drill, as well as an assortment of attachments for jobs from boring holes in wood or metal to sanding and polishing.

TV Won't Let Anyone Forget: It's Christmas

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — After a weekend of off and on television watching, I am suffering from a severe case of snow blindness and an overdose of Santa Claus plots.

★ ★ ★

Even a little boy on "Wanted —Dead or Alive" asked Santa to give him a gun for Christmas.

Everywhere the dial could turn on the TV set there were twinkling Christmas trees and ground frosted with snow.

★ ★ ★

Between the commercials everybody except Perry Mason was a-blowin' on their chilly hands, a stampin' the cold feet and delivering gift-wrapped bundles.

123 Million Americans Have Health Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 123 million Americans were protected by some kind of health insurance by the end of 1958, the Health Insurance Institute said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The institute said regular insurance companies provided health insurance for 72 million persons, while Blue Cross-Blue Shield covered 55 million and other plans five million.

ART OR "MERCHANDISE"? — Sculptor Louis Dlugosz ponders his clay statuette of Albert Einstein in Toronto, Canada. Canadian customs authorities are holding 18 of Dlugosz's works on the grounds that they are "merchandise" and thus subject to duty. They were headed for an exhibition in Toronto when they were held up.

Mr. O'Malley and Barnaby Perks on 7.9 Cylinders

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—One successfully cartoon-based family series deserves another, I suppose.

★ ★ ★

Last night, CBS-TV's GE Theater — presumably noting the TV success of Dennis the Menace — presented Crocket Johnson's old cartoon characters, Mr. O'Malley and Barnaby in a half-hour colorcast written by Louis Pelletier.

Bert Lahr starred as the winged, cigar-smoking, fumbling fairy godfather, Mr. O'Malley, and Ronny Howard was his little pal, Barnaby.

The approach was slowed by a schmaltz-slippery path, but in general, it succeeded in showing off a refreshing, perky spirit.

★ ★ ★

I especially enjoyed the sight of Lahr as he flapped around, or grumbled about nose cones and rockets in his flight path, or the utter unpredictability and unreliability of leprechauns.

"When you want a leprechaun, you never can find it," he snorted.

But the prize line went to Barnaby, who told an uninitiated little friend, "People will think you're goofy if you go around imagining you don't see things."

Although Master Howard was strident and Dody Goodmanish at times, the videotape was badly corrugated and the saccharine was mishandled, I'll go on record as pro-O'Malley anytime he wants to fly around again.

The time-honored cry of "We'll head 'em off at the pass" rang out last night as part of another tongue-in-cheek Maverick episode called, "A Cure for Johnny Rain."

★ ★ ★

In this ABC-TV hour, Jim Garner discovered that a town's best-loved male citizen — fellow named Johnny Rain — became a low-down highway robber when soaked.

After Garner captured this Jekyll-Hyde character, no one in town wanted to punish the loveable bandit.

Up to the three-quarter mark, the plot was suitably entertaining, breezy and easy to take.

But writer Leonard Praskins seemed to run out of gimmicks at that point and finished off with some standard western flourishes and some puzzling exits that only diluted the show's quality.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Sunday Workshop, the CBS-TV series that will feature new talent in original TV works, makes its debut on Jan. 24, from noon to 12:55 p.m. (EST) . . . Vacation replacements for NBC-TV's Jack Paar: Arlene Francis for the first week, starting Dec. 28; Joey Bishop for the week of Jan. 4.

The public affairs programs that replace NBC-TV's Five Fingers starting Saturday, Jan. 23, will come in under the title of World Wide 60 . . . The comedy team of Wayne and Shuster will offer a sequel to their "Julius Caesar" sketch on the Jan. 10 Ed Sullivan Show. It's called, "The Burning of Rome."

Tramp, Tramp, Tramp the 'Girl' Goes Marching

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Barbara Moore, the world's walkingest woman, still plodded on her way from Edinburgh to London early today after a five-hour rest.

The 56-year-old marathon walker reached Rossington Bridge, Yorkshire, about 185 miles from London, at 5:30 a.m. Police reported she was then "walking pretty fair."

She had covered 215 miles of the 373-mile distance since she left the Scottish city last Thursday.

★ ★ ★

She trudged past the halfway mark Sunday on blistered feet and said: "I shall be in London by Tuesday to celebrate my 57th birthday."

The weather has improved a little. Earlier she had been soaked by rain and buffeted by high winds which once blew her into a ditch.

Dr. Moore, a Russian-born dietician, lives on a diet of fruit juices, honey and water. She is against drinking and says that life with "mastered sex" is the key to her powers of endurance.

★ ★ ★

This is her third long-distance walk in less than a month. She undertook the first walk to prove she was as tough as a succession of young men competing to see who could walk the 110 miles from Birmingham to London in the shortest time.

Yule TV Show Tonight Unites Musical Greats

NEW YORK (UPI)—To Marian Anderson, who owns one of the great voices of her era, the sacred music of the Christmas season offers the opportunity not only of religious experience but of remembrance of warm times past.

Miss Anderson will sing and read from the Gospel of St. Luke tonight on the "Christmas Startime" program on NBC-TV. It will be her first joint broadcast performance with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic.

★ ★ ★

"It seems good for people at least once a year to get back to sacred music," she said in an interview. "When they go to church they sometimes hear it superficially, sometimes give it only lip service.

"But at Christmas, even walking down Fifth Avenue you can hear the music coming out of the stores, and I remember how I enjoyed it so when I was a little girl."

Bob Hope Does Take-Off (at Airport, for Alaska)

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Comedian Bob Hope took off yesterday for his eighth Christmas tour of military bases.

Hope and his troupe will visit Army, Navy, and Air Force installations in Alaska to entertain American servicemen. The group includes Jayne Mansfield, Frances Langford, Jerry Colonna and Skinnay Ennis. They will be gone eight days.

Inspired 10 Commandments for TV

Goody: More (Ugh) Specials

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Now that the super-special TV season is well along, it seems time to assess the rights and wrongs of the system.

★ ★ ★

The 1959-60 TV year must be a source of satisfaction to Pat Weaver. It was he who conceived the idea of the special (he called 'em spectaculars) during his brilliant, brief career as NBC chief. He theorized that viewers would suffer boredom from the weekly diet of series.

What a blessing the special has been this year! Never has the program of series been so lacklustre —the steady, violent outpouring of gunslingers, both in chaps and blue serge. The season has seen no truly original series introduced to weekly programming.

★ ★ ★

The specials have saved the day. Some were bound to be good—there are so many of them. There is still plenty of room for improvement. Perhaps we can devise 10 commandments for special makers, drawing from the hits and errors of the season thus far:

1. Don't be name-crazy. Putting Jack Benny, Eddie Cantor, George Jessel and George Burns on a stage together is not enough. They must have something good to do.

2. Strive for a different combination of names. Too many stars have been seen together too much —Frank Sinatra-Dean Martin, etc.

3. Take Time. If it's special, it deserves special care, not sloppy work. Fred Astaire's success shows how adequate rehearsal can pay off.

★ ★ ★

4. Spend for writing. A beautifully written version of "Turn of the Screw" with Ingrid Bergman can be a hit while a sloppy job of "The Jazz Singer" with Jerry Lewis can flop.

5. Make sure it's something special. You've got to provide more dimension than having Jimmy Durante or Maurice Chevalier repeat their standard routines.

6. Don't rely on tape or film. The quality of good specials is the excitement of a Broadway show. Canned stuff robs spontaneity.

★ ★ ★

7. Don't underestimate your audience. There are no sticks any more: the folks are getting more hep all the time.

8. Don't get carried away with scenery. The play is still the thing, especially on the small screen. Let the movies try for scope.

9. But beware of underdoing scenery. Bare stages are okay—if you've got something great to play before them, such as "Our Town."

10. Don't be afraid to repeat a good thing. The best specials warrant replays, as with Astaire. A lot of folks may have missed the first showing and many would want to see it again.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps we should add another commandment — for networks to lavish some of the same thought and care on the pallid weekly shows that they do on specials.

Big Suits Filed in Heater Deaths

$1.5 Million in Damages Sought for 5 Who Died in Trailers

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Suits asking almost 1½ million dollars damages for the gas heater asphyxiation deaths of three men and two women have been filed in U. S. District Court here.

★ ★ ★

Named defendant in all the suits was the Thurm Engineering Co., Elkhart, Ind., maker of low-cost trailer heaters blamed for 16 deaths across the country this fall.

Fan Trailer Co., Wakarusa, Ind., was named codefendant in three suits, and Layton Homes, Elkhart, in two.

Damages totaling $1,275,000 were asked from Thurm and Fan in suits by the survivors of three hunters who died at Grayling, Mich., Nov. 14.

★ ★ ★

Relatives asked $350,000 for the death of Frank Macyda, West Dearborn, Mich., owner of the trailer; $425,000 for Joseph Zakruzewski, Detroit; and $500,000 for Stanley Damilowicz, Dearborn.

Two suits asked $100,000 from Thurm and Layton by the husbands of Mrs. Sylvester Anthony, McClellandtown, Pa., and Mrs. Danny M. Vlad, Detroit.

The two women died while attending a religious meeting at Dimondale, Mich., Sept. 17.

★ ★ ★

Anthony and his four children and Vlad and his two children survived in a neighboring trailer.

Japan's 1959 rice crop has been estimated at 12.1 million metric tons, one per cent above last year's production but two per cent below the 1955 record.

Miss America Signed as Featured TV Warbler

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America of 1959, plans to serve as a regular featured vocalist on a network television series of variety shows, beginning Jan. 27.

Miss Mobley's mother, Mrs. David Williams of Brandon, Miss., said her daughter signed a three-year contract with CBS-TV as a singer on a new series, "Be Our Guest."

Detroit Prof to Head TV Station Newscasting

DETROIT (AP)—WJBK-TV has appointed Dr. John W. Dempsey as the station's news and public affairs director effective Jan. 4.

Dr. Dempsey will continue to teach at the University of Detroit where he is a professor of political science.

★ ★ ★

He will be given responsibility for the station's over-all news performance and at the same time continue his nightly program of news analysis as well as special programs and interviews. Dr. Dempsey joined the WJBK-TV staff in 1958.

Even New York D. J.'s Are in Hot Water Now

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Now those New York disc jockeys are getting into the stealing.

Three affidavits charging one of the local boys with a payola system which earned him $60,000 in one year (he got 1 cent for each record that a big company sold) are down at D. A. Hogan's office—and the disc jockey'll be down there with them very soon.

And So They Were Married —They Thought

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP)—Elsie Foster takes her marriage problems to a judge today.

Actually, Miss Foster doesn't have personal problems. These belong to some dozen or so couples she's married since July 1. Main thing is that Miss Foster, a justice of the peace for 15 years, isn't legally qualified right now to perform marriages—and hasn't been since July 1.

★ ★ ★

The crux of the matter: Miss Foster was reappointed a magistrate by the 1959 General Assembly. She had until July 1 to take the oath before her old term ran out. She didn't. But she stayed right on in the marriage business.

Now, legal experts say the couples she's married since July 1 aren't legally married. They may have to get married over again.

"It really is embarrasing," said Miss Foster Sunday. "I thought I had until next April to take the oath. How could I have slipped up on such a thing?"

Visit From Ike Latest Feather in His Cap

Franco's Good Fortune Legendary

By LOUIS NEVIN

MADRID (AP)—Few have had the good luck of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, President Eisenhower's host today. His good fortune is proverbial in Spain.

Even his choice of an Army career, which took him to the command of rebel forces in the Civil War and to his present position as chief of state, chief of government and head of the only authorized political party, had an element of luck.

As the son and grandson of naval officers he had every intention of going into the Navy. Americans sank the Spanish fleet in 1898 and the Naval Academy closed. He went to the Toledo Military Academy instead.

Francisco Paulino Hermenegildo Teoduló Franco Bahamonde was a brilliant student on graduation in 1910. Sixteen years later he was appointed brigadier general at 34, the youngest general in Spanish history.

His luck against the Moors in the Riff campaigns of Morocco was legendary. Horses were shot from under him; snipers put holes in his coat or cap. Only once was he wounded.

The Republican government exiled him to the Canary Islands in 1936, putting him in position to fly to Morocco to head the uprising there against the Republic.

Franco was third in line to head the rebel movement, but the two officers above him were killed in plane crashes. He became chief of state Oct. 1, 1936.

With the end of the Civil War in 1939 and the start of World War II, Franco found both Allies and Axis bidding for Spanish favor—the Germans to bring Spain into the conflict, the Allies to keep her out.

At the end of the war, when Franco's position at home was shakiest, the Western democracies had the United Nations declare his regime a menace to peace. That rallied the Spanish to people to support him.

A few years later the conflict between the Communist and Democratic countries brought

FRANCISCO FRANCO

Franco into Western councils. This gave him desperately needed foreign credits and, for all practical purposes, an alliance with the United States.

The visit of President Eisenhower provides the Generalissimo further support. One Spanish news commentator wrote, "No Western chief of state will think of refusing to receive Franco after the Eisenhower visit."

★ ★ ★

Franco's cold, patient self control has brought his country the full sweep—from Nazi Germany to international pariah to association with the Western Alliance.

Franco proudly proclaims that neither he nor his regime has changed. It is the West which now accepts "our truths."

Franco lacks the excitable Latin temperament. He has the traditional character of the son of Galicia, a province of northwestern Spain: "Coolness, reflection, tenacity and intuition." But his understanding of the Spanish people and how to manage them is profound.

Short and stocky, he is at 67 a quiet family man who neither smokes nor drinks. He has a good grasp of English. His sports used to include tennis but are now limited to hunting and fishing. He enjoys watching Spanish and foreign movies in his private cinema at the Pardo Palace, 10 miles northwest of Madrid, where he lives.

In 1923 he married Carmen Polo, daughter of a wealthy Austrian businessman. Their daughter married Cristobal Martinez Y Bordiu, Marquis de Villaverde, a chest surgean. Five children are their grandfather's delight.

Dogs should not be bathed more than three or four times a year, says the American Humane Assn.

Was Misunderstood

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — It was just a misunderstanding, defendant Larry Thomas, 22, told the jury. He didn't say anything about a "holdup" to the liquor store proprietor; he merely asked him to "hurry up."

Michigan Allocated Sugar Beet Acreage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan has been allocated an acreage of 83,265 for 1960-crop sugar beets. The state's 1959 acreage was 78,185.

The Agriculture Department said that the national acreage limitation for 1960 has been set at 985,000 acres.

Except for a small reserve, the acreage has been allocated to the states for distribution proportionately among individual farms.

The allocation is 60,000 more than the 925,000 acres allocated for the 1959 crop. It exceeds somewhat the recommendations made several months ago by a majority of representatives of sugar beet producers and processors.

Since these recommendations were submitted, the 1959 beet sugar quota has been increased and marketing allotments for beet sugar companies have been rescinded.

Better Than Gold

Choice cuts of cedar, one of the species of woods used to build the Biblically famous temple of King Solomon, have — in historic times — been exchanged for more than their weight in gold.
