Leave Laos, Russ Demand

Call on SEATO to Withdraw Protection Vow

Gromyko Asks Pullout of All Foreign Forces
30 Days After Peace

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia demanded today that the SEATO alliance renounce its pledge to protect Laos and called for withdrawal of all foreign forces from that Southeast Asian kingdom within 30 days after a peace settlement.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko made his demands at the afternoon session of the 14-nation conference on the future of Laos.

Similar views were expressed before him by Quin Pholsena, a representative of the "neutralist" delegation of former Premier Souvanna Phouma, who went into exile but still is recognized by Russia as head of the Laotian government.

At the morning session, Secretary of State Dean Rusk called for a strengthened, veto-free central commission to enforce the cease-fire in Laos, where the Communists and the pro-Western government are reported to have agreed on the principles for forming a coalition regime.

Rusk also complained bitterly of repeated Red violations of the cease-fire despite the present three-power international control commission's report five days ago that the truce was "generally effective."

GROMOYKO VEHEMENT
Gromyko put forth his views in a speech in which he charged that the chaotic situation in Laos was due entirely to "interference" by the United States.

He spelled out in detail the reasons for his charges.

Coming Rain to Wash Smile
Off Your Face

Here comes that rain again! The weatherman says cloudy tonight and Thursday with occasional rain.

Temperatures will be a little warmer tonight, the low about 60. The high is expected to hit 64 tomorrow. Morning northeasterly winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour will become east to southeast at night and northeast again Thursday.

For the next five days temperatures will average 3 to 6 degrees below the normal high of 65 to 75 and normal low of 45 to 55. Thursday will be rather cool, with little day-to-day changes thereafter.

Precipitation will total four to six inches as rain tonight or tomorrow.

Thirty-seven was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. the mercury had climbed to 41 at 2 p.m.

Press Will Publish Annual City Report

The 1960 annual report of the City of Pontiac will be published as a supplement to The Pontiac Press Saturday.

The Centennial is the theme for this year's report, and a big color reproduction of the Centennial Seal will dominate the cover of the supplement.

There'll be a special section in issue on the Centennial year, as well as many photographs and descriptions of the activities and functions of the city.

This is the third year that The Press has published the report.

FATAL WRECK — A 28-year-old Madison Heights man was killed early today in Bloomfield Hills when his foreign car was struck broadside at Long Lake Road and Woodward Avenue by a beer truck. After hitting the small Volkswagen the truck flipped over and landed on top of the car driven by James Schultz. Schultz was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Kennedy Studies Idea of Gabfest With Mr. K

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Under-secretary of State Chester Bowles said today President Kennedy has "under consideration" a meeting with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Bowles told the Senate Foreign Relations meeting that "the decision is up to the President." He said no decision has been made.

Bowles talked with the committee members in a closed session. Word of what he said was given to newsmen later by Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Fulbright said it was his first official confirmation that negotiations looking to a conference between the two leaders were under way.

Bowles himself had told reporters when going into the committee meeting that he couldn't say anything about the matter.

In Ottawa, Kennedy was dislocated to have discussed with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker the possibility of a Kennedy meeting with Khrushchev.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the possibility was discussed privately by Kennedy with Diefenbaker last evening at the start of the President's goodwill trip to Ottawa.

This was the first official recognition that the United States has gone into value of a Kennedy-Khrushchev conference with its allies.

AVOIDS DETAIL
Salinger refused to go into detail on Kennedy's conversation with Diefenbaker on this question.

The fact that Kennedy had taken up the matter with Diefenbaker developed at a U.S.-Canadian briefing on private talks between the President and the prime minister this morning.

From the briefing it was learned that the subject had not arisen at

Dies in Crash

A young Madison Heights draftsman was killed early today when his small foreign car was hit broadside after the brakes of a beer truck failed on a grade in Bloomfield Hills.

Finally injured was James Schultz, 28, of 30523 Whittier St., an architectural draftsman at Swanson Associates in Bloomfield Hills.

Two other persons were injured in the multiple collision accident which occurred shortly before 8 a.m.

Schultz, who was only several hundred yards from his place of business when the accident happened, was traveling west on Long Lake Road when he was struck broadside by a van-type beer truck driven by W. Leonard Cotter of 706 Second St., Pontiac.

Cotter was uninjured. Schultz's car was demolished at the large truck hit it and then flipped over on the small automobile.

BRAKES FAIL
Cotter, in a statement to Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor Robert Sterling, said he was traveling south on Woodward when he saw the traffic light at Long Lake Road turn amber.

He said he applied his brakes but they failed. His emergency brake wasn't strong enough to slow down the speed, Cotter said.

Cotter estimated that he was traveling 30 M.P.H. when he hit Schultz's car at the intersection.

Rashid Orders Ailing Nelle Into Hospital

Issues Call to Commit Woman After Hearing Testimony of Doctors

DETROIT (U-P) — Circuit Judge Joseph D. Rashid today declared a mistrial in the murder-conspiracy trial of Mrs. Nelle Lassiter in order that she may be committed to Ionia State Hospital, a mental hospital.

In making the ruling on the basis of the findings of a three-man sanity commission which examined the 37-year-old blonde widow, Judge Rashid said the trial of her codefendant, Gordon Watson, would continue.

A five-minute recess was called at the request of Mrs. Lassiter's attorney, Joseph Louisell.

There were indications that Louisell wanted to decide whether he would take over the defense of Watson for the slaying of Mrs. Lassiter's husband, Farvin.

Judge Rashid's ruling on Mrs. Lassiter came in court following a brief hearing in her room at Jennings Memorial Hospital.

The three doctors, two of them psychiatrists, testified that she was suffering from "emotional exhaustion" and incapable of continuing.

ILLNESS CERTAIN
The two psychiatrists Dr. Alfred Labine and Dr. Russell Costello, recommended that Mrs. Lassiter, 3650 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, be placed in a mental hospital.

Dr. Ralph Johnson, Mrs. Lassiter's personal physician, said she should be hospitalized for at least a week and perhaps longer, possibly as long as 60 days.

Judge Rashid said "There is no question but that she is ill. In accordance with the law, I have no choice but to send her to a hospital until her health is restored."

Because of crowded conditions at the Ionia Institution, Judge Rashid said Mrs. Lassiter will remain at Jennings Hospital until space can be found for her.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the resolution carrying the increase was being handled on an emergency basis because the FBI is short out of insurance authority. A pickup in home sales is partly responsible, he said.

Sparkman said he would try to get the Senate to approve the resolution Thursday and hoped for equally prompt action in the House. FHIA's present insurance authority ceiling is $37.5 billion.

INTERRUPT WORK
The committee interrupted its work on President Kennedy's general housing bill to take up the emergency resolution.

The $4.79-billion omnibus bill would remove the dollar ceiling altogether on FHA home mortgage insurance but it is not expected to clear Congress for several weeks.

The banking group today approved the key housing program recommended by Kennedy, Indiana's Urban Revolutionary Council, is ill at this home and not receiving visitors.

'I'm Going to Be an Astronaut'

PRELIMINARY CHECKUP — That's what astronaut Robert Hargrave, 35, N. Rosewood St., is getting from space physician (junior edition) Donald McLain of 230 Chandler St. and space nurse Diane Kopelchick of 13 Fiddis St.

They are three of 75 kindergartners at Central Elementary School who offered two space ship launchings for the price of one Tuesday. There was a simulated launching in the morning class and another for the afternoon class.

Two Tiny Shepards Blast Off in Space

Some 75 kindergartner pupils at Central Elementary School did the federal government one better yesterday. They engineered two astronaut launchings instead of one.

The children who gather each day in Dorothy Hollister's kindergarten room were so impressed by the recent flight of Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. that they decided to try it themselves.

Working with wood blocks gathered from every corner of every classroom, the morning and afternoon classes began building a huge superstructure that reached from floor to ceiling.

Last week the paper fuselage was completed, and mock launching preparations began for the orange, blue and tan space ship standing 8 feet tall and 4 feet in diameter.

The launching was postponed once, however, due to "unfavorable cloud cover," according to a team of junior meteorologists.

Yesterday at 11 a.m., Bobby Hargrave became the idol of the morning class when he blasted off. The afternoon astronaut was Dennis Ketterer.

"The flight was very enjoyable," reported the two boys. Robert said he "saw the moon," and Dennis reported "observing satellites and other space ships."

Every pupil played a part in the historic project, from launching to recovery of the "little shepards" of Central School.

FLASHES
WASHINGTON (U-P) — The State Department said today American troops "have not been and will not be involved in any way" in the Korean revolt.

WASHINGTON (U-P) — In a move to speed up highway construction, President Kennedy today ordered the release of $18 million of federal funds that would not normally have become available until July 1. Kennedy told similar action Feb. 2 when he ordered release of $18 million of federal funds not scheduled to be available until April 1.

WASHINGTON (U-P) — The Senate today rejected an attempt by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., to tie to the school bill a rider banning the withholding of grants from racially segregated schools. The roll call vote of 79-25 was the first test vote on the $2.55-billion bill. (Earlier story, Page 2.)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House voted today to cut the amount of duty-free imports Americans may bring back from abroad and to create a federal agency to hire visitors and spend dollars in the United States.

Sewage Plant Cost Reduced

Mosser Has Low Bid, City Only Step Away From Bond Sale

The sewage treatment plant expansion probably will cost "a lot less" than anticipated, City Manager Walter K. Willman said after major construction bids were opened at City Hall yesterday.

Willman reported to the City Commission last night that the bond issue to finance the expansion "probably won't have to be as large as planned."

The city is only a step away from advertising a $12.5-million bond issue for sale.

But general construction bids yesterday were far below the estimated $2.5-million cost of this portion of the project.

Of 15 bids submitted, the lowest apparently was from Mosser Construction Co., of Fremont, Ohio, in the amount of $1,926,378.

This is about $300,000 less than the consulting engineers, Jones, Henry and Williams, estimated it would cost.

Last week, the lowest bid for a big pipeline in the project was about $100,000 less than estimated. The bid was $28,586.

Harold Kelley of Jones, Henry and Williams took the firm's headquarters in Toledo, Ohio, for one week's study.

It is expected that the engineers' recommendation to the City Commission next week on awarding contracts will indicate how much less than anticipated is to be spent on the expansion.

ON GENERAL CONSTRUCTION
Yesterday's bids covered general construction of new buildings at the new Auburn Avenue-Opdyke Road site, plus renovations at existing plant on East Boulevard at Featherstone Road. The pipeline would connect the two facilities.

Four other bidders were bunched behind the Mosser company. The fourth lowest, J. A. Fredman, Inc., of Pontiac, was only about $35,000 higher than Mosser.

The 14 other bidders:
Barrett-Malow of Detroit, $1,940,000; Perron Construction Co. of Oak Park, $1,946,387; Wilson & Tardiff of Brookfield, Ill., $1,965,271; J. A. Fredman, Inc., of Pontiac, $1,966,685; J. A. Eiler of Royal Oak, $1,997,000; O. W. Burke Co., of Detroit, $1,996,378.

Also Darin & Armstrong, Inc., of Detroit, $1,996,515; Miller Thompson Construction Co., of Southfield, $2,042,301; Eisenman & Elliott of Columbus, Ohio, $2,047,188; R. E. Daley & Co., of Detroit, $2,053,904; C. L. Tardiff of St. Louis, Mo., $2,079,592; C & G Construction Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind., $1,996,819; S. N. Nielsen of Chicago, Ill., $2,112,256; and Lamp Construction Co., Inc., of Litchfield, $2,369,674.

Michigan to 'Sound Off' Next Week

LANSING (U-P) — Michigan will hitch up its suspenders, throw out its chest and tell the world next week that it stands second in row among the nation's 50 states.

The eighth annual Michigan Week, the only celebration of its kind in the country, is hailed by the man heading up the May 22-27 event as "the greatest observance of its kind ever held in any state."

"Its impact in spreading the true story of Michigan everywhere will be unprecedented," said John H. Curton, of Battle Creek Insurance executive and general chairman of the celebration.

This year's theme is "Michigan's New Horizons" and the slogan is "Michigan Marching Forward."

Most of the state's eight million citizens will get a chance to take part in one or more of the hundreds of events planned in scores of communities.

At Bay City, the U.S.S. Lynde D. McCormick, a missile-firing destroyer built by the Detroit Shipbuilding Co., will start a "trip" through the St. Lawrence Seaway Tuesday, bound for Boston and formal commissioning.

Port Huron will stage a "John R. Swainson Day" Wednesday in recognition of the "home town boy" who became governor of Michigan this year.

Highland Park citizens will erect a "test city" on the grounds of the old Ford Motor Co. plant, putting on display industrial, business, government and school exhibits in an area as large as a football field.

GOVERNMENT INTERNATIONAL
Leslie M. Frost, prime minister of Ontario, and other provincial officials will make it an international event with a visit to Michigan starting May 24. They'll be escorted by their counterparts in state government.

"Miss Michigan, 1961," will be chosen at Muskegon. All the schools in Saginaw County will receive state flags.

The industrial marketers of Detroit will honor business and industrial firms that have done the best job of advertising Michigan during the year.

Michigan's product of the year, chosen from entries, ranging from molten needs to combat ships to a dry-cleaning machine, will be announced this week. The Chrysler-built Redstone missile that shot astronaut Alan B. Shepard into space May 5 already was designated by the governor as the honorary product of the year.

U.S. Stumbles Into Awkward Korean Position

Ancient Abacus Backs Computer

Scientists Keep Old Standby Close at Hand for 'Emergencies'

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The ancient abacus, one of the first man-made computers, is playing a stand-by role in the heart of the $2.5 million computing center at Case Institute of Technology.

The abacus is enclosed in a wall-mounted glass case, labeled for "Use in Emergency."

The abacus is noted for its lack of mechanical parts and ease of operation. It was originally designed by the Romans and had units—ones, tens, hundreds, thousands, and so on—which were represented by beads which could be moved in grooves.

Case's abacus is similar in style to a game piece still in use in much of China and other Asiatic countries.

The Chinese version, which Case has displayed, uses rods rather than grooves, and although abacus units add and subtract more quickly than those using pencil and paper, multiplication and division present more of a problem.

According to several experts, and students of mathematics, means of counting such as the abacus are no longer necessary, but they are convenient and useful that civilization can never dispense with them.

The use of the abacus has increased greatly within the past few years and the time may come when, in its proper form, the abacus will again find its use.

Tallest Sign in World?

The sign made of steel, porcelain and plastic, is decorated with over 1/4 of a mile of neon tubing.

Texas Weather: Hailstones Big as Baseballs

By The Associated Press
Spring storms raged in several states today but fairly pleasant weather prevailed in most other parts of the nation.

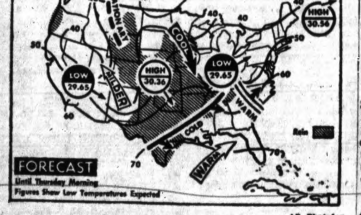

Severe thunderstorms, with rain, hail and strong winds, broke out Tuesday in sections of Texas. Hailstones reported as big as baseballs pelted the community of Pampa, near Amarillo. The Amarillo News said a survey indicated the storms caused an estimated $1 million damage to crops and property in the state.

Canada Noncommittal on Spring Foreign Aid

Kennedy Talks to Diefenbaker

Neighbors to the North Have No Intention of Mediating in Cuba

OTTAWA (U)—President Kennedy today sought, but failed to receive, an outright assurance from Canada that it will increase its aid to underdeveloped nations of Latin America and elsewhere.

The question of expanded assistance was among a number of matters discussed by Kennedy with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in two hours and 35 minutes of private talks with top advisers this morning.

Diefenbaker was understood to have advised Kennedy that Canada has no intention of attempting to mediate disputes between the United States and Cuba. Such an offer of mediation had been broached last week by Howard G. Green, Canada's foreign minister.

Diefenbaker also was reported to have informed Kennedy that Canada had not yet decided how it would vote on a motion of censure of China to the United Nations the next time the question arises.

Consultations between the United States and Canada on this sensitive issue will be held during the next several months.

Kennedy, it was reported, expressed hope that Canada and all nations in the North Atlantic Alliance would be able to expand their economic aid activities to all underdeveloped countries.

He mentioned poverty-stricken lands in Latin America among all underdeveloped countries that need help.

Diefenbaker was said to have noted that Canada had been one of the first countries, with the United States, to extend foreign aid.

He also noted that in recent years Canada had increased its financial assistance to the Colombo Plan for Southeast Asia, to Africa and to other nations of the British Commonwealth.

The Canadian leader was understood to have given no promise that Canada could boost its contributions to other sections of the world.

GREAT IMPORTANCE

He indicated that the matter was of such importance that it would require discussion with other members of the Canadian government.

As for encouragement from the United States to join the Organization of American States, Canada's position was reported to be one of considering alliance with the hemisphere organization but of having reached no decision.

He May Gab With KOK Principles for Coalition

the morning discussions but had been brought up soon after Kennedy landed at Ottawa late Tuesday.

Both are in connection with negotiations on Laos.

Sainger was asked for any comment on numerous published reports that a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting was being arranged for Vienna immediately after the President visits President Charles de Gaulle of France early next month.

Sainger declined to speculate on these reports.

"When it comes to a point where anything can be said about it, we will say something about it," Sainger said.

When the Senate session broke up, Fulbright reported that Bowles had given the committee members reports on the situations in Korea, Laos and other places.

As to the possibility of a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting, Fulbright said:

"Mr. Bowles said such a meeting is under consideration. He said that the decision is up to the President."

Fulbright said Bowles told the committee the President would make his decision "in good time."

Fulbright said he had received no earlier word from anyone in the administration that Kennedy-Khrushchev conference was under consideration.

He commented that consideration of it "comes a little sooner than I expected."

NOT OPPOSED

Fulbright previously has made clear he is not opposed to such a conference so long as it is not given a big advance buildup with a lot of "fanfare."

The senator said Bowles was not asked about reports that Vietnam was under consideration as a possible site for a meeting.

Dispatches from Vienna quoted an unnamed high Austrian official as saying preparations for a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting there have already begun but as adding that "however, it is still not quite certain whether the President and premier will actually come to Vienna."

There was some indication that discussions of a possible meeting were going on in Geneva between the two superpowers.

Rebels, Royal Envoys in First Big Breakthrough of Laos Negotiations

BAN NAMONE, Laos (U)—The royal Lao government and rebel delegates reached a surprise compromise agreement here today on principles of forming a coalition government and a joint military committee to help police the cease fire.

It was the first important breakthrough since formal talks opened here Sunday. And it could pave the way for sending a single delegation to the 14-nation conference in Geneva.

TO MEET FRIDAY

The delegates are to meet in this rebel-held town north of Vientiane again Friday to start talking details of formation of the government. Talks of a cease-fire policing committee will follow.

Both sides today talked of a Lao summit meeting between top leaders of the royal government and the Pathet Lao rebels and Prince Souvanna Phouma's so-called neutrals. But there was no firm agreement to hold such a meeting.

The compromise agreement gave the Pathet Lao and neutrals their main demand—that quick formation of a coalition government get priority over military matters in the talks.

OK PROPOSAL

But the rebel groups agreed to the royal government's proposal for a joint military group working with the control group in checking the cease fire. This was a major concern of the government.

At the close of today's meeting the rebel delegates of each side made statements saying they were optimistic and felt the first real progress had been made.

An American-piloted helicopter, missing since Monday, was spotted seemingly undamaged in Communist rebel territory north of Vientiane.

Search planes were reported fired on and there was speculation the helicopter's occupants had been taken prisoner.

NBC cameraman Grant Wolford is presumed to have been aboard the missing helicopter along with two or three crewmen and possibly eight Lao soldiers.

Abandon Laotians, Russ Tell SEATO

Kremlin's ideas of how Laos should be "neutralized" and insulated from the East-West conflict.

Gromyko's plan for policing the settlement in Laos would give the Communist a veto power over operations of the control commission, a proposal which the United States was certain to reject.

Gromyko agreed with the assertion previously made by Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi that the SEATO Pact should be broken up, but did not appear to make this a condition for agreement here.

The Soviet declaration, second and final speaker at the afternoon session, submitted two resolutions.

The first set forth conditions for reaching international agreement on neutralizing Laos and insuring its "national integrity."

The Soviet declaration said:

—There must be no foreign military bases in Laos.

—All foreign troops must be withdrawn and none permitted to enter in the future.

—All conference countries must pledge to recognize the kingdom's independence and national integrity.

NO STRINGS

—There must be no political strings attached to any economic aid given a unified Laos.

—No forceful intervention from outside is to be permitted.

—Laos will not join any military alliances.

—SEATO must withdraw its protective umbrella from Laos.

—There would be immediate international consultation upon notice of any violations of the agreement.

Gromyko's second declaration called for the present control commission—composed of India, Poland and Canada—to continue as the machinery to enforce the peace in Laos and make certain the neutrality agreement is carried out.

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI)—The lowly seaworm placed second in value in the sale of the Maine Shellfish Industry last year.

The sale of bloodworms and sandworms to sports fishermen amounted to $706,117 as compared with a whopping $1,252,685 return on lobster.

Worms in value among the crustaceans were sea scallops ($575,479) and clams ($547,789).

Wayne State Announces Monday

Two already have spelled out plans—Wayne State University and Ferris Institute in Big Rapids, both have indicated sharp cutbacks in enrollments and special programs.

AT WAYNE STATE

Wayne State announced Monday that it would try to cut enrollment by 20 per cent next fall, mostly by turning away prospective freshmen. Pay raises for staff and faculty were ruled out and the summer program is slated to be sharply cut.

Wayne was handed a $219,998 cut in its appropriation for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Ferris, which received a $148,818 increase, also will institute cutbacks.

Board President Victor F. Spatthel said that despite the increase, economies would be necessary because of previous commitments to an expansion program and a large projected enrollment increase. He said the school would try to limit enrollments and also would begin to abandon its special program for outstanding students that permits completion of a four-year course of study in three years.

The University of Michigan board will meet Thursday.

At Michigan State enrollments will be held to cut levels, meaning more selective acceptance of new students.

The Oakland branch will drop plans for year-round operations because of faculty costs and free-wheel enrollment will be limited.

The four schools under the control of the State Board of Education will meet to map out their programs Friday.

The Day in Birmingham

Bloomfield Cubs Donate for Quorton Bleachers

BIRMINGHAM (U)—For the second straight year, the Bloomfield Village Cub Scouts, Den 16, have presented a gift check to the city to purchase bleachers for the Quorton Elementary School field.

A check for $336 has been accepted by the City Commission and will be used to buy two additional sets of steel-framed bleachers for the school's baseball diamond, presently assigned to Little League teams.

The Cub scout pack made a similar donation to the city in May 1960. The bleachers purchased with the money now are in use at another Quorton School field.

J. J. Rinehart, treasurer of the Cub scout pack, in presenting the check to the city, said:

"We are very happy to be able to do this as we feel with proper seating facilities more parents will attend the Little League baseball games."

"This will allow the parents to become more interested and more closely attached to the summer recreation program."

Bennett Root, incumbent on the Birmingham Board of Education, will be unopposed in his bid for re-election in the June 12 annual school election.

Root was the only candidate to file a nominating petition for the four-year term.

Donald Hays of Birmingham has been named secretary of the Michigan Archaeological Association at its annual meeting held in East Lansing.

Edward V. Gillis of Grand Rapids was elected president of the association.

Robert E. Collins, Service for Robert E. Collins, 30-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collins Jr., 521 Fairfax St., will be 3 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkeley.

The boy died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, following a long illness.

He was in the fourth grade at the Quorton Elementary School.

period of 23 months, meaning that the company could finish the job around the June 1, 1963 deadline set in the Water Resources Commission's General Court order.

Barton-Bloak's time estimate was the shortest—one year. Other time estimates ranged up to two years.

Kelley said that reception of the bid amounted to "a tremendous amount of work" for the contractors, prospective suppliers, subcontractors, city personnel and the consulting engineer.

He estimated his firm spent 22,000 manhours preparing its proposals, distributing more than 9,000 blueprints and 15,000 sheets of specifications.

Thirty-one general contractors took out plans before the bidding, said 25 subcontractors and about $5 suppliers, Kelley said.

The American Incinerator Corp. complained that the specifications for the incinerator at the new site were such that it couldn't enter a competitive bid. In a letter to the commission, the company asserted that only one firm—a product acceptable under the specifications—was in the market.

Kelley answered the complaint, saying in a written report to the commission that of the two types of incinerators suited to the plant, one is produced by only one company but the style recommended for Pontiac is produced "by two or three."

He said American Incinerator's product works best for garbage and rubbish, but not sewage alone.

The type of incinerator recommended for Pontiac "is the most economical and most satisfactory for the job," he said.

Area Driver Killed in Crash With Truck

Police said the truck first clipped a car driven by Mrs. Ann Goodrich, 22, a teacher at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Mrs. Goodrich, of 536 Knox St., Birmingham, was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for shock and released.

Joseph Drankowski, 48, of 6222 Lahar Road, Birmingham, was the driver of the third car involved in the accident. He is in the hospital. The extent of his injuries, however, are not yet known.

Police said that Drankowski, employed at GMC Truck and Coach Division in Pontiac, was waiting to pull away from the light when his car was struck by the truck and Volkswagens.

Schultz, who has been with Swanson Associates since May 1960, is married and has a 4-year-old boy. Harris is expecting another child in September.

Americans Getting OK to Leave Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—An airlift of Americans from Cuba is ready to start Friday, with at least 91 approved for the first flight to Miami.

The Swiss Embassy, arranging the airlift as the representative of the U.S. government in Cuba since Washington's break with Prime Minister Fidel Castro, said about 500 of the estimated 1,200 U.S. citizens still in Cuba have applied to go home.

Among those expected to leave Friday are Robert Berrellez, a correspondent for The Associated Press who was arrested when anti-Castro exiles invaded Cuba in mid-April. He was released last week.

Suspect Makes Clean Getaway

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A San Francisco burglar suspect who was supposed to be taking a bath made a "clean" getaway by leaping three stories to freedom from a window at San Francisco General Hospital.

John Baca, 42, clad in pajamas and a robe, jumped out of a window as a policeman stood guard at the door.

Baca, who was being held on a burglary charge, was recuperating from an arm infection.

When the policeman failed to hear water running in the bathroom, he looked inside and found his charge had disappeared.

Travelers' Christopher

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Will St. Christopher go the way of St. Philomena?

Some Catholic scholars believe there is a good chance he will.

"The name of Philomena was stricken from the roll of saints by a recent Vatican directive."

Scholars of the Sacred Congregation of Rites decided there was no sound historical basis for attributing heroic martyrdom to a young girl whose body was found in a Roman catacomb in 1862.

Christopher is known as the "patron saint of travelers." Millions of Catholics, and a considerable number of non-Catholics, carry Christopher medals on trips, or display them from the dashboards of automobiles.

Catholic scholars who are dubious about St. Christopher's future state point to the text of the instruction issued by the Sacred Congregation of Rites at the time that Philomena was dropped.

It noted that there are hundreds of saints, of unquestioned historical authenticity, whom Catholics may venerate.

Therefore, the Vatican document said, it is "important to remove from diocesan calendars . . . the feast of these martyrs and bishops of ancient times about whom there is little or no historical knowledge outside of their names."

Popular legend, which has been enshrined in a famous woodcut by Albrecht Durer, depicts St. Christopher as a riverman who carried stranded travelers across a swollen stream on his shoulders.

Church scholars have found little historical evidence to corroborate the legend.

Passes Rambler and Plymouth Figures for First Quarter

Pontiac was solidly entrenched in third place in the new-car picture during the first quarter, according to just-released registration figures in Automotive News' weekly trade publication.

For the first quarter of 1960, Pontiac placed fifth in new car sales. Chevrolet and Ford held first and second place respectively both years.

51,566 REGISTRATIONS
Following Pontiac's 51,566 registrations for the first three months of this year were Rambler, 75,824; Oldsmobile, 70,733; Plymouth, 67,729; and Buick, 59,953.

Rounding out the first quarter top 10 were Dodge, 49,956 registrations; Comet, 36,735; and Cadillac, 35,542.

In taking third place this year, Pontiac replaced Plymouth, whose 1961 registrations caused that model to slip to sixth, and also jumped ahead of Rambler, which remained in fourth place both years.

Crop yields in the U.S. have increased 45 percent in the last 25 years and milk production per cow has increased by 30 percent.

Wife Elected to Seal of Late Rep. Reece

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP)—Louise Goff Reece, schooled in Republican politics all her life, has been elected in a landslide to the congressional seal held by her late husband 34 years.

Mrs. Reece, widow of the former Republican national chairman B. Carroll Reece, easily defeated two opponents in Tuesday's special election called in the First District of Upper East Tennessee after Reece's death.

March 19. The district has not sent a Democrat to Congress since 1878.

Mrs. Reece, 62, who was making her first political race, is the daughter of the late Sen. Guy Goff and the granddaughter of the late Sen. Nathan Goff, both West Virginia Republicans. She married Reece in 1923.

She will fill his unexpired term until January 1963.

Fear of Ugliness Forced Murder

Father Killed Son, Who He Felt Would Grow to Have Distorted Face

FAIR LAWN, N. J. (AP) — Dante Benzoni decided six months ago that he must kill his son.

The death, he reasoned, would be a just one because it would mean that his son, Daniel, would not grow up to be an ugly man. Benzoni has a facial distortion as the result of a stroke.

As he looked at his boy, Benzoni began to think he saw a hint of the same distortion—the same twisted mouth.

Those who knew Daniel saw nothing abnormal about his face. But it was true that several years ago, Daniel had undergone surgery for removal of an extra tooth. To remove the tooth, the surgeon had to cut a muscle inside the boy's mouth.

"NOTHING TO LIVE FOR"

But that was when Daniel was 9. Now he was 16, and those who knew him saw no distortion.

Benzoni's wife died a year ago. He said then that, "If I go, there won't be anything for Danny to live for."

Last Saturday, Benzoni, 48, decided that the time had come. He bought a .22-caliber rifle and some ammunition.

Early Tuesday morning, he walked quietly to his son's room where the boy was asleep.

He looked once more at the face he was convinced would become ugly. Then he bent over and kissed the youth on the face.

Benzoni told police he placed the rifle against his son's head and fired two shots.

Immediately, Benzoni telephoned the Rev. Randolph Gibbons at the rectory of St. Anne's Roman Catholic Church and said, "I just killed my son."

Will Consider Recreation Sum in Waterford

Consideration of the Waterford Township Recreation Department budget for 1961-62, and the establishment of attendance areas for two new township schools, will be the main topics at tomorrow night's board of education meeting.

The Township Board has approved $18,219 as its share for operation of the recreation department, providing the school board produces matching funds.

The two units split the costs left after anticipated income from fees. The total budget is $45,915.

Supt. of Schools William A. Shunck will recommend attendance areas for children beginning school next fall at the Lotus Lake School in the Windate Subdivision area and in the Douglas Houghton School on Elizabeth Lake Road near Williams Lake Road.

Shunck will also present a request for certain purchases, and recommended teacher contracts for the next school year.

Tests Clear Owners in Suspected Arson

Lie detector tests have cleared the co-owners and employees of the Orchard Furniture Co., 164 Orchard Lake Ave., of any complicity in the suspected arson of the April 28 store fire.

Pontiac Police Detective Orville C. Johnston gave polygraph tests to co-owners Murray and Edward Bloom, both of Oak Park, and four other employees.

Most of the several thousand dollars lost came from smoke damage to merchandise, according to Pontiac firemen.

Urges Warrant for Rep. Young

Wayne County State Lawmaker Charged in Petition Irregularities

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has recommended the issuance of a warrant charging Rep. Maxine Young, D-Detroit, with improperly signing nominating petitions.

Conviction would not bring Mrs. Young, representative from the second Wayne County district, under the law barring service by any state representative convicted of a felony involving breach of the public trust.

Later in Detroit, Mrs. Young said: "I haven't done anything to hurt anybody. I haven't falsified anything."

Adams said Mrs. Young signed in excess of 30 signatures, purporting to be those of Genesee County residents, on nominating petitions for Eugene C. Keys as Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor in last August's primary election.

Keys did not qualify as a candidate. The Board of State Canvassers ruled that they contained an inadequate number of valid signatures.

UAW Executives Gather to Draft Demands on GM

DETROIT (UPI)—United Auto Workers officials representing 300,000 General Motors workers met today to draw up the union's new contract demands on the world's largest manufacturer.

About 300 members of the UAW's national General Motors council opened a three-day meeting to chart the union's course in bargaining talks with GM which start June 28.

The council, representing employees at more than 100 plants in the United States, will work from broad objectives drawn up at a special UAW convention last month.

They will relate the UAW's overall bargaining goals to specific problems at GM.

Makes 'Fatal Mistake'

SHELBY, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Frank Morrison, 38, wife of a garage operator, gave birth to triplets today, one boy and two girls, to bring the family total to nine children. Laughed Mrs. Morrison after the successful delivery. "My husband's gonna shoot me."

Bids $44,000 for Book

Canvassers Confirm Con-Con Vote Tally

LANSING (UPI)—The call for a constitutional convention this fall was official today.

The State Board of Canvassers officially approved the tally of votes cast on the Con-Con question in the April election at a special meeting Tuesday.

Support for a convention to revise the state's 54-year-old constitution was voiced by 506,033 voters, and 573,021 ballots were cast against the proposal.

Your Blue Cross-Blue Shield COVERAGE CLOSE-UP

Members write us . . . phone us . . . ask us countless questions about Blue Cross-Blue Shield health-protection plans. We welcome their questions. We are sure that others ask themselves but not us, the same questions . . . and we'd like to reach all of our members with the facts. That's the purpose of this column . . . and others which will follow it.

$252 million for protection . . . but not one cent for profit

Blue Cross-Blue Shield are in business only to protect and secure the value of health . . . not for profit in any form. This year they'll receive $252 million from subscribers . . . and it will all go back to members in benefits except 4 cents on the dollar for reserves and less than a nickel for combined administrative expense. (This, incidentally, is the lowest administrative cost of the six biggest Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plans.)

A dozen ways to protect your health . . . protection dollar

Blue Cross-Blue Shield act in the interest of 3,600,000 subscribers. Their size is on your side. They have the strength, and the experience, to enforce all reasonable measures for economy in hospital-medical care . . . and together with hospitals and doctors, have put into effect a 12-point program to conserve your health dollar. One of its points is a diagnostic case exclusion program to prevent unwarranted use of hospital beds by Blue Cross members not really ill enough to be hospitalized. Another is a systematic screening program to curb occasional irregularities in hospital charges. There are more . . . and working together, they leave nothing to chance.

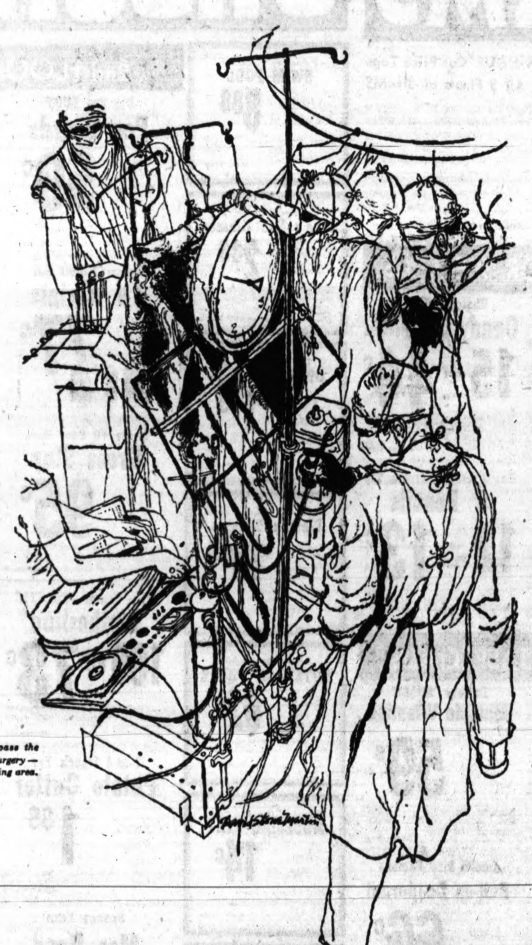

The difference is the difference you don't pay

Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection gives you more for your money, in the form of benefits returned, than any other health-care plans. The difference: Members receive the services they need, and that are in their contracts, rather than limited cash benefits. Participating hospitals and doctors provide specified services without limit, and are reimbursed according to strict formulas set by Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

We want to know what you want to know about Blue Cross-Blue Shield. We'll answer as many questions as possible in this column. Just write, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, 441 E. Jefferson, Detroit 26, Michigan.

Important to Maintain Friendship With Canada

It is particularly fitting that President KENNEDY make his first formal state visit to Canada, our long time ally and friendly neighbor.

Since the cold war began after World War II, Canada has been an integral part of the North American Air Defense Command. Quite often recently, Canadians have expressed fear of domination of their nation by the United States, a cry not heard unfrequently.

But long before the United States and Canada were partners in defense, there was close trade ties which linked the two nations. One third of all U.S. investments abroad are in Canada.

Recently Canada's unemployment problem has surpassed our own, in percentage of the work force idled, reaching a record in mid-February. At that time, our neighbor to the north had 11.3 per cent of the workers out, compared to less than 7 per cent here in this country.

Canada has also joined the United States in mutual border projects, such as the St. Lawrence Seaway, and currently, the development of the Columbia River basin.

Maintaining good relations with Canada, including trips like President KENNEDY's, should never be neglected. Our closest ally is one of our staunchest.

Area's Beautiful Lakes Are Also Hazardous

Living in Oakland County, a beautiful area dappled with inviting lakes, is a true pleasure which is appreciated by more each year. Our rising population indicates this.

But living with the attractions of the sparkling lakes also has its hazards. Before the boating season really gets started, we have had seven people drown in Oakland County waters.

Four of the victims went through thin ice, and three others have slipped beneath the surface since the thaw came. Five of the dead are toddlers, victims of their adventuring and lack of respect for the water.

For some time, many County residents have said that most of our boating accidents, swimming mishaps and drownings are caused by inexperienced persons from outside the lake area. These County residents feel that they have little responsibility toward curtailing such losses, with the thousands who pour into Oakland County's lakes from the Detroit suburbs, seeking relaxation and a cooler spot than the city streets.

But this high ratio of visiting persons in the water death columns is not accurate. Now it's the people who have lived around the water who are adding the grim statistics to our water toll. The dangers are striking home to area residents who have raised several children alongside the lakes, and never had any trouble.

Living close to a lake with small youngsters puts these children in the grasp of a powerful magnet of temptation. Their curiosity knows no bounds, and unless parents cover all the possibilities, more drownings will come.

Any parent knows that keeping an eye on a youngster full-time is an impossibility. There are always those few minutes in the day when he is not in sight or hearing, and these moments can be the fatal ones.

If attempting to instill a healthy respect for the water obviously doesn't impress the child, parents ought to take preventive measures to heart. If fences are out, then perhaps lifejackets are an answer.

But raising children on a lake is not an easy task. This certainly should be considered when the acquisition of lake dwellings is contemplated. Once the decision is made to live in this manner, with the pros and cons weighed, the safety work must begin.

After the first child drowns is too late.

SUBJECTS for the next lesson in geography which follows of the news will learn are Viet Nam and Thailand.

That Flint woman with 50 grandchildren, including her "greats" and "great-greats," who made a challenge to the Pontiac area to name anyone with a larger number, is finding many takers.

Among those reported to date, the best showing is made by Mrs. Ida LeMarbe of 151 Starr Ave. She has 71 grandchildren, including greats and one great-grand.

Another quite wonderful distinction is that all 71 of them are residents of Oakland County.

Wonder if Flint has anything else that they think it has reason to brag about?

Soon celebrating her 103rd birthday, Pontiac's oldest resident, of 217 North Saginaw St., is taking a great interest in her city's Centennial celebration.

Miss Ella M. Green

This column's hunt for old cigar makers still living in Pontiac has brought forward the names of four who rolled the tobacco when cigars were made in several shops here. They are:

Paul Baris

Arthur Felsy

of 160 Willard St.;

Samuel Thurber

who lives on E. Pike St., and

of 37 Elwood St. It should be noted here that cigar making is coming back—if it ever has been away. The rolling is now mostly done by machinery.

Less than a month now remains in this column's whicker contest. A $50 U.S. bond will be given for the longest beard, and another for the best looking beard. The Centennial queen is to be the judge.

Did You Ever Get That Sinking Feeling?

David Lawrence Says:

Education Aid System Threatened

WASHINGTON—The whole federal aid-to-education program, even as it affects public schools, is up in the air now so far as constitutionality is concerned.

The Supreme Court of the United States, by announcing this week its refusal to review a decision by the highest court of Vermont that barred tuition grants for students in sectarian schools, tends to cast doubt on the constitutionality of even such measures as the GI Bill of Rights.

Likewise, a decision rendered just 30 days ago by Circuit Court in Dade County, Fla., sets forth a principle that makes it doubtful whether even public schools whose Christmas or Easter celebrations or Bible readings take place—a widespread practice throughout the United States—will be eligible for federal-aid grants or loans.

It doesn't seem to make any difference that a particular form of religion is not actually taught in a school or that a student has the opportunity to decline to participate in these celebrations or to attend the Bible readings.

For in the Vermont case, where there were no public schools in a certain school district and the only educational institutions available were Catholic high schools, the Vermont Supreme Court decision of Jan. 3, 1961, described the situation there as follows:

"There is no requirement that students of other denominations attend the instruction in religion although some students in this category have elected to do so."

Notwithstanding this option, the Vermont court ruled that tax funds may not be used to pay tuition in a church-related school even where there is no public school in the area to serve the pupils.

It has been argued by able lawyers that, because of a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1953 denying a taxpayer the right to sue the federal government for money that it appropriates money; there could be no court case now to test the constitutionality of legislation for the use of federal funds to aid education.

But Congress itself can provide for the right to sue, and President Kennedy has indicated that he would not be adverse to court tests. Certainly the administration has not hesitated to undertake the unprecedented role of "intervenor" in the case of Prince Edward County, Va., where the parents of students are given tuition grants to help educate their children in private schools.

The Country Parson

The professor of obstetrics in a Philadelphia medical school says the place for an expectant father is at his wife's side when their baby is being born.

Prisonlike isolation of the woman in labor is not for her welfare. It is enforced on unsuspecting customers mainly to keep them ignorant of what goes on in the star chamber.

Not that the husband should be off his gait in a similar manner for sending Jesus to the cross.

So when people become too obsessed with germs and show an abnormal tendency to keep clean, this often means they are compensating.

Indeed, the question is of broad significance, because the U.S. Census Bureau is authority for the statement that more than half of the 42,429 public school systems in the United States did not provide any secondary education in 1960.

Hence, private schools and religious schools have borne much of the burden, and if no aid can be given by tuition grants to the parents, in these 21,646 school systems, this whole plan becomes of doubtful effectiveness, and more public schools will have to be built.

Also New York State's latest plan for tuition grants now becomes open to debate on the constitutional issue, and so does the National Defense Education Act which provides federal aid to private and parochial schools for the equipment of laboratories to teach science, mathematics and modern languages.

Congress is engaged right now in arranging for more federal aid of various kinds to sectarian as well as public colleges, universities and high schools.

Many observers are wondering why the Supreme Court of the United States refused to review the Vermont case, but it may be that this is because the highest court in the land has in the past contradicted itself several times. The precedents are by no means clear-cut.

Storks are really vicious birds, says a writer. Maybe he's been blessed with triplets.

Well, the income tax folks have heard from you—we hope you don't hear from them!

We'd rather listen to the man who talks in his sleep than the man who sleeps in his talk.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Poorly Educated Woman Is Wrong on Childbirth

A poorly educated young woman whose marriage, believe it or not, has lasted at least six years, got up and walked away from a group of women who started talking about natural childbirth, home delivery and rooming-in, and made her position clear before she left.

"If or when I have a baby, I want to be rushed to the hospital, put asleep, and not wake up until it is all over."

"This, I am afraid, is the attitude of a great many young women whose education has been neglected. It makes good picking for sometime obstetricians—like the one who was quoted, though not identified, in a newspaper interview."

"It serves no useful purpose to have father around... So far as the wife needing his comfort, that is ridiculous... 95 per cent of women today are under anesthesia and asleep, when childbirth is taking place."

I submit that such women and such doctors are terribly wrong—but it seems that most people do not share my view of what is right or wrong.

My opinion is the same as it has always been—every woman who wants an anesthetic for childbirth should have it. In some cases an anesthetic is advisable even though the woman does not want it.

The professor of obstetrics in a Philadelphia medical school says the place for an expectant father is at his wife's side when their baby is being born.

Prisonlike isolation of the woman in labor is not for her welfare. It is enforced on unsuspecting customers mainly to keep them ignorant of what goes on in the star chamber.

Not that the husband should be off his gait in a similar manner for sending Jesus to the cross.

So when people become too obsessed with germs and show an abnormal tendency to keep clean, this often means they are compensating.

Germs and dirt thus may sym-born nursery because management is pig-headed about it and determined not to bow to 20th Century progress.

Signs letters not more than one page in length, written on separate sheets of paper, and containing no personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be accepted by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Phobia Is Disguised Sex Complex

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE #487: Clara G., aged 31, is a housewife with a phobia.

"Dr. Crane, Clara is deeply scared of germs," her husband informed me.

"She is afraid to have guests visit us lest they may touch any of our furniture and thus contaminate it."

"And that holds for our own parents and other relatives, too. As soon as they leave our apartment, Clara gets a lysol bottle or some rubbing alcohol and goes over everything to disinfect our home."

"She also washes her hands so often with soap that I've had to take her to a skin specialist, for her hands are raw and bleeding."

"He has told her she doesn't need to be so finicky about germs, but it does no good. She says if she doesn't get rid of the germs, she'll go crazy. What is wrong with her?"

LADY MACBETH

Don't you remember how Shakespeare's Lady Macbeth tried to wash off those imaginary blood spots from her hands?

She felt guilty and thus tried to cleanse herself, for the spots were in her mind, not on her skin.

Pontius Pilate also tried to wash off his guilt in a similar manner for sending Jesus to the cross.

'Filming Fake Launching Seems Unbelievable'

The story in your fine newspaper to the effect that a fake pre-announcement of the launching of our space man was held at Cape Canaveral during which films were made of an actor impersonating Cmdr. Shepard and pretending to be afraid to enter the capsule, is simply unbelievable.

Is there any valid reason based upon security why the government should not reveal to the people (1) whether the story is true? (2) who authorized the performance? and (3) whether the films will fall into the hands of the Communists and be displayed abroad?

Please accept my congratulations on the job you are doing. You publish the best newspaper in southeastern Michigan. Long may it prosper.

TV Needs Better Camera Men

TV needs better trained camera men. On that night New York game, Calavito went into the stands where a couple of hoods were attacking his 70-year-old father. The camera man showed the New York battery playing catch.

Kell described the excitement and when it was all over the camera man showed the Tiger dugout and the cops taking a man out.

What the TV audience wanted to see was what happened to make it necessary for the police to eject men from the park. That same night a whole hung was blacked out by camera failure.

TV needs sprucing up all along the line as the FCC states so plainly, but they must confine their improvement to the programs alone. Their techniques leave much to be desired.

Wired Flowers Were Wilted

It's wonderful to know your children love you and wire you roses for Mother's Day, but it's hard to take when the roses delivered are scraggy, some so far gone they are turning black. Of the dozen roses, only three and life enough to open. They were delivered in an old unmarked truck and the envelope containing the card was torn. No wonder the flowers wilted.

I hope no other mother was disappointed.

The sort of pleasant life place... Where we no longer every year... Another move will have to face... It really would be very nice... To find at least a home and know... That when the lease has run its course... We would not have to pack and go... But year by year across the years... There were assorted reasons why... We found it wise to put up stakes... And bid our neighbor friends goodbye... If it was not the reason to rent... That caused our move each year in Spring... It was the house leaked like a sieve... Or maybe some more vexing thing... For example, a person who has indulged in self sex practices and who has been taught that this is a grievous sin, may try to be unduly diligent in the use of soap and water on his hands.

IMAGINED GUILT
Many a young wife feels somewhat frustrated in marriage because her husband has never learned how to stimulate her adequately.

Indeed, most husbands still haven't learned this vital technique or we'd have very few divorces, for most divorces start in the bedroom.

When a wife is thus frustrated, and when she also approaches the dreaded 28th or 29th birthday, she becomes secretly alarmed.

For she thinks she will be an "old woman" when she is 30 or 35, as the case may be. So she may vaguely wonder if romance isn't passing her by.

"Maybe I married the wrong man," hundreds of such patients have confessed to me.

"If I had accepted John, instead of marrying Bill, then I think I'd be physically satisfied and happy."

In such a mood, many a virtuous wife thus tries with the idea of romance with some other man.

'Urges Everyone to Buy Pontiacs'

Even if the Pontiac automobile had not received all of the national awards that it has in the past few years, I can't understand why some folks in Pontiac drive foreign cars. We make a car here that has been recognized all over the country as an outstanding product, has received the car of the year award for two years, and is in third place in sales nationally. Every place I go people ask me about the Pontiac car. Tell people who live here and receive the benefits from this factory, drive other makes.

I drive a Pontiac and I try to get everybody I know to drive one.

The Press' editorial, "Republicans Asked By Nixon to 'Clean House in Michigan'" is great. This strikes straight at the core of our problems and as a long-time Republican, who is sick and tired of the partisan antics of our legislators, I'm pleased to see the sad truth laid on the line.

Johnson, Sarit Talk in Bangkok

Thailand Seeks Strong U.S. Promises to Help Combat Reds

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Thailand's Prime Minister Sarit Thanarat conferred for more than two hours today in what was described as a " candid appraisal of our strength and what should be done in the future."

Johnson and Field Marshal Sarit were to meet again later in the day. A Thai official who attended the meeting said "we are about ready to accomplish something," but he would not elaborate.

Thailand is seeking strong U.S. assurances of support in the event communism overwhelms neighboring Laos.

Johnson said he had a frank exchange of views with Sarit and that the talk ranged from "improving living standards and health conditions to strengthening our defenses and exploring ways and means to make peace a reality."

He added that there was a " candid appraisal of our strength and what needs to be done in the future."

Johnson reportedly brought a proposal that the eight nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization station small, highly trained military units in Thailand — the SEATO headquarters — as a demonstration of SEATO's determination to meet the Communist threat. But Thai officials said manpower is not their problem and they wanted no foreign forces stationed on their soil.

Sees Faint Light of Hope in Congo Political Jungle

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A tiny gleam of hope is shining through the political jungle of the Congo. But it is still very dim.

The old Belgian colony which never really achieved nationhood despite 11 months of freedom still teeters on the edge of anarchy. The tribe is still more important than the nation.

But there appears to be a growing revolution against the 11-month record of political double-crossing, violence, assassination and backstabbing.

Huge billboard signs all over Leopoldville would have been a confession of inferiority and unthinkable six months ago. Erected by the Leopoldville provincial government, they say:

"If the politicians agree, if national unity is realized, if tribal fighting is stopped, there will be an end of unemployment."

The Congo is still divided, on the brink of bankruptcy and almost leaderless. Yet there is an air of expectancy here. Diplomats who have watched the whole incredible performance since last June 30 are beginning to express a faint optimism.

They point to a slow improvement and the United Nations. Another sign is the frank admission by some Congolese politicians that the Congo cannot afford to be regarded as the world's backward child much longer.

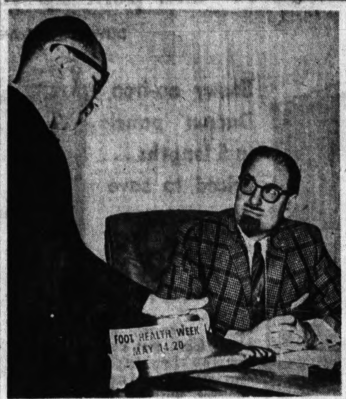

Perhaps the most important sign is the emergence of Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko as a force in shaping policy.

Bomboko is only 33, but he is one of the most sophisticated of Congolese. He was foreign minister in Patrice Lumumba's government apparatus established in the same capacity under the interim government apparatus established by Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu last September. He has remained close to Kasavubu throughout his cooperation with the United Nations rather than cooperate in the work of the Congolese constitutional conference.

Tshombe had chosen to issue an ultimatum to President Kasavubu.

Kasavubu has ordered Tshombe detained indefinitely while a communist deputy who has set up a separate government in Orientale Province will participate.

It seems unlikely that copper-rich Katanga Province will send any delegates to represent its ruling Conakat party.

And another province now under the thumb of Gizenga, Kivu, is far gone in anarchy, tribal excesses and disintegration.

Just how the central government would explain its part in this if Tshombe were brought to trial for Lumumba's murder is undetermined. Lumumba was flown to Elisabethville at government orders and beaten unmercifully on the way.

Bomboko could be a disaster for the Congo, for nobody really knows what motivates him. But he impressed foreigners during the army mutiny last year.

He constantly toured the city and embassies, trying to prevent incidents. He opposed many of Lumumba's wilder ideas and particularly the introduction of the Russians and their satellites into the Congo.

BACKED RED OUSTER

He backed Mobutu in expelling the Communists when it became clear they were here to fly Lumumba's troops, supply his army and prop up his dictatorial regime generally.

Bomboko is a pleasant, gregarious person, one of the few Congolese who was allowed to study in Belgium before independence. He studied political science at a Brussels University and became a follower of the Liberal party there.

He has no important political following but, working through Kasavubu, he could exert a powerful influence of future policy.

Kasavubu's closer relations with the United Nations and his decision to summon parliament after the Coquilhatville conference undoubtedly were pushed by Bomboko and Mobutu.

It is still doubtful that a session of parliament will be anything more than a Kasavubu clique. Only three of the original six Congolese provinces were represented at Coquilhatville.

Shelters Would Shield Most Russ—CD Chief

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's civil defense chief said today a secret study indicates Russia is building enough air raid shelters to protect the great majority of its people in any nuclear war.

Frank B. Ellis, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony published today the study showed Russia is spending from $500 million to $1.5 billion a year on shelters.

Ellis asked for $2 million to provide shelters in 25 U.S. peacetime government buildings and $6.2 million to include shelters in planned new buildings. He said he hopes the pilot project would encourage Americans to build their own.

Congress rejected a similar request last year and Ellis ran into hostile questioning in renewing the appeal. Subcommittee members indicated doubts that Ellis has any new information to back up the appeal.

SECRET REPORT

At this point, he mentioned the secret report on Russian shelters. He said it was made by a man who speaks Russian fluently and who spent six months in the Soviet Union. He did not name the man but offered to present the study to the subcommittee in secret session.

Ellis said the report "specifically indicated that great majority of the Soviet population would be protected from fallout."

Urging approval of a pilot program in this country, he said: "I believe, gentlemen, that we are dealing with human survival."

Most deaths in a nuclear attack would result from fallout rather than the blast and heat of an explosion, he said. He added that most people would have time to take shelter if there were any available.

Lunch-Counter Drive Evidently Won by Negroes

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Negroes apparently have won their campaign to be served with white persons at Jacksonville lunch counters—a campaign that erupted into three days of racial violence last August.

Some variety stores Tuesday served small groups of Negro young people, but at least one department store continued to refuse service.

The move apparently was organized by store managers and other spokesmen refused to comment on it. Most white persons paid no attention when Negroes were served.

The largest American basswood tree on record is in Whitlington Park, Hot Springs National Park, Ark.

Admiral Guilds Picked to Head Banking Institute

The Oakland County Chapter of the American Institute of Banking has elected Admiral D. Guilds, assistant manager of the Troy branch of the Wayne Oakland Bank, as president.

Guilds, of 3754 Greenfield Road, Berkley, has been a member of the chapter for 13 years and has held several offices.

He succeeds Clarence Sellers, also of the Wayne Oakland Bank.

Other officers for the coming year are Paul Breining, first vice president, and Ellen Jones, secretary, both of the Community National Bank in Pontiac; Robert Mason, second vice president, of the Detroit Bank & Trust Co., Birmingham; and Harry Kreger, treasurer, with the Wayne Oakland Bank in Royal Oak.

Members of the board of directors elected to two-year terms include Burton Hauwells and Donald Taylor, both of the Community National Bank; Fred Harroon of the Pontiac State Bank; Truemy McGraw of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank; and Mrs. Margaret Wipp of the Wayne Oakland Bank.

Gets 1 to 4 Years for Taking ADC Funds by Fraud

Carried into Circuit Court on a stretcher, a 25-year-old former Waterford Township mother was sentenced to one to four years in the Detroit House of Correction yesterday for fraudulent receipt of $1,019 in welfare funds.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer sentenced Mrs. Jeanette M. Roteman in the ground-level courtroom of Judge Frederick C. Glenn because the expectant mother had experienced premature labor pains while confined earlier in the county jail.

Her sentence, originally set for Monday, was moved up after Judge Beer on May 11 found her guilty of receiving the Aid to Dependent Children funds for two children while at the same time she was receiving support from a man. Asst. Prosecutor Richard P. Condit said she withheld this information from investigators when applying for ADC funds.

Planner Blamy's Last Meetings Resignation Is Accepted by City Set by 2 PTAs

City commissioners last night accepted "with regrets" the resignation of John F. Blamy, manufacturing manager of Pontiac Motor Division, from the City Planning Commission.

Blamy, who has served on the planning board since April 1958, explained that he is moving outside the city limits and can no longer serve under the residency requirements of the City Charter.

He said he will continue to attend meetings, under the charter, until a successor is named.

Blamy is leaving his home at 358 W. Iroquois Road for a new one in Bloomfield Township.

Ocean More Important Than Outer Space

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—The existence of a missile gap is open to argument. We are unquestionably behind Russia in some phases of the space race, but are ahead in others, and by the end of the 10-year program, the U.S. could conceivably come out on top.

The same cannot be said for oceanography. In this crucial field, which may be more important than space in the event of war, we lag far, far behind the Soviets.

In an effort to shorten the gap, Chairman Warren G. Magnuson and the Senate Commerce Committee have just reported out a bill to set up a 10-year national program of oceanography at an overall cost of approximately $700 million.

President Kennedy has thrown the full weight of the White House behind it, and for that reason even the "House," which let a similar Senate-passed bill die last session, may now realize the urgency of the situation.

OCEAN IMPORTANT
Magnuson, who has long been

the chief congressional backer of ocean science, is convinced that sending a man to the bottom of the sea is more important than sending him into outer space.

Even some of the top space scientists, in testimony before the commerce committee, were inclined to agree that in the final analysis, knowing about the ocean depths may be more vital than what happens in space.

The Soviet fleet of submarines, conservatively estimated at 250, vastly exceeds that of the entire free world combined. Our own approximates only 120.

The Russians have a huge flotilla of fishing vessels in the Bering Sea near Alaska, and another strategically located off the African coastline. Every ship of any size harbors four or five oceanographers, who are busy charting the seas and coastal areas, testing currents, and studying the effect of the ocean on weather.

By comparison, we are babes in the woods. We do not have ocean scientists even on our Coast Guard ships. Only one college in America—the University of Washington—offers a degree in oceanography. Most of the college laboratories for marine science are at least 30 years old, and desperate for additional space.

Sixteen different departments of government, including commerce, Navy, Army, Treasury, public health, state, atomic energy, and the Bureau of Mines have a finger in the pie of oceanography.

Many of them are making grants to colleges to study certain phases of the subject, but each grant expires at the end of the year.

The Magnuson bill would set up a division of marine science within the National Science Foundation. Its duty would be to coordinate all phases of oceanography, eliminate duplication and overlapping.

The program would be set up on a 10-year basis, like the space program, so that colleges and private industries could launch studies with some assurance of continuity.

JFK Will Stand Pat on Economy Moves

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has ruled out any massive spending efforts or income tax cuts to speed the reviving U.S. economy.

Kennedy has told Democratic congressional leaders he is going along with a group of his economic advisers who believe the recovery is solidly based despite a hard core of unemployment.

This was represented as a presidential decision to gamble on the effect of measures he already has recommended to Congress—some of which have passed, some still pending.

Some of the President's advisers are convinced that Kennedy's programs for housing, aid to education, highway construction, Social Security expansion, depressed areas and agriculture will give the economy's climb sufficient impetus.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION
There is a frank difference of opinion among his advisers, however. Some contend the recovery bears signs of weakness that can only be overcome by increased government spending or by tax cuts.

LANSING UP — Winners of five Wolverine Frontiersman awards for contributions to the social and economic progress of Michigan, have been announced by the Michigan Week Committee.

The awards will be presented at a meeting of the Detroit Economic Club in Detroit Monday.

Selected for honors this year were: Dr. Clarence Hilberry, president of Wayne State University, for leadership in education; William M. Day, president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., Detroit, for efforts to expand the industrial growth of Michigan.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, a native of Lansing and chairman of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, for distinguished contributions in the field of nuclear chemistry and as winner of a Nobel Peace Prize.

Dr. Harold C. Taylor of Kalamazoo, director of the W. E. Upjohn Institute for employment research, for research into the causes and effects of unemployment.

Dr. Leland I. Doan of Midland, president of Dow Chemical Co., for service as a regent of the University of Michigan and for aid to medical education, research and practice.

Door Firm Moves Into Birmingham

The Berry Door Sales Co. has moved from Detroit into new quarters in Birmingham. Glenn Berry, company president, announced today.

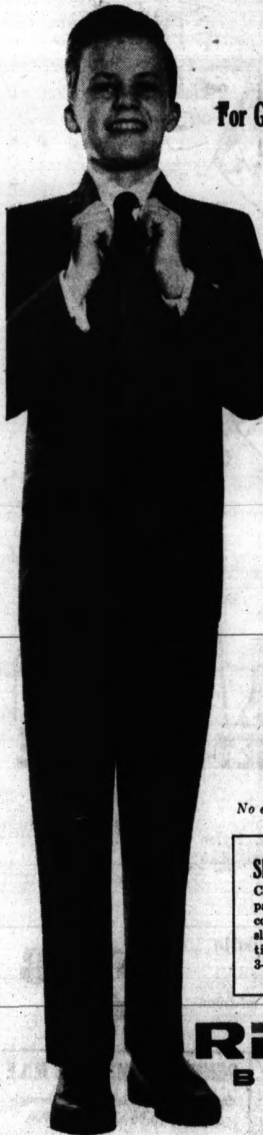

A subsidiary of the Berry Door Corp., nationally known garage door manufacturer located in Birmingham, the sales organization has been relocated in offices at 2308 Cole St. next to the main plant.

The move was made to provide additional space for the increasing number of services and products now offered by the company.

Berry Door also has a plant at West Bend, Wis.

Oklahoma has one-fifth of all the Indians in the U.S.

South Korean Army Stronger Than Leaders

(Editor's Note: John Randolph went to South Korea in December 1959, when the Korean War was at its height. After the armistice he moved to the U.S. to write. He is now a general news writer for the U.S. Press in New York City. He has written a book, "The Korean War: A History of the Conflict," which is now being published by the U.S. Press.)

By JOHN RANDOLPH
NEW YORK (AP) — The military coup in South Korea confirms long-standing fears that the little nation's huge army might someday prove too strong for its feeble semblance of democracy.

It also underlines deposed President Syngman Rhee's ironclad subordination of the armed forces to his civilian control.

Driver, 89, Dangerous

WOKINGHAM, England (AP) — William Hutchinson was convicted today for dangerous driving and his license was suspended for 30 years. He is 89.

For seven years after the end of the Korean War Rhee kept his 300,000 troops—one of the largest standing armies in the world—eating peacefully out of his hand. It took only 13 months after he fell from power in a student's revolt last year for the soldiers to turn on his well-intentioned but weak successors.

The coup was another blow to western hopes for democracy in the new nations of Asia and Africa. Beginning with Egypt, army dissidents have either swept away or transformed parliamentary regimes in the Sudan, Iraq, Thailand, Burma, Pakistan, Turkey, Laos and the Congo.

U.S. IRRITATED

American irritation at the coup was shown immediately in the Seoul embassy's unusual call for support of Prime Minister John M. Chang's civilian government.

With the South Korean army in apparent physical control, this looked like a bold bid to either persuade the coup's leaders to modify their stand or else to rally national support for Chang, possibly from other army units not involved in the coup.

American intervention has been decisive before in Korea. It was the American embassy's indication of loss of confidence in Rhee that helped bring about his fall. The reasons for the coup are simple. The bulk of the army's enlisted men are drawn from Korea's rice farms, where grinding poverty and depression have lingered for years. Their officers—an unusually large share of the nation's educated and talented young men—are drawn from the educated classes of the towns and Korea's old nobility and country gentry.

OFFICERS HAVE DREAM

Tried and tempered in the sufferings of the Korean War, passionately patriotic, terribly underpaid, and unusually idealistic, many of the younger officers have dreamed of making over their country. Egypt's fiery Nasser and Pakistan's deliberate Ayub Khan have been their principal models.

Korean farmers' hopes for reforms and price supports — high after the 1960 revolution — have

MEMBER OF THE WEDDING

Editor's note: The sketches on this page and research for the Centennial costumes were done by local artist Jean Marie Dore. Mrs. Dore has adapted her sketches from commercially available patterns with suggestions for appropriate fabric and trim.

The Centennial spirit brings many of our belles to town in period dress. Not only are these gowns fun to wear, they are fun to make. Might as well be authentic about it, if you're going to join in the festivities!

Today's miraculous sewing machines (wouldn't our forebears envy us!) and the wonderful variety of ready-made trims makes it relatively simple to put together a gown worthy of an Infantry Ball.

Pontiac women are not alone in decking themselves out in Centennial fashion. Down in Georgia, they are preparing a Centennial observance of the burning of Atlanta. While a lot of these women will be able to dig into trunks for their finery, we set our town afire with some easily made Centennial fashions that fairly shout 'this is 1861!'

NO COMFORT IN THESE

Basic fashion notes of the period are bell sleeves, tiny waists and voluminous skirts. Comfort was not the rule. For the appearance of a swan-like neck, shoulders were so severely sloped that a lady could not raise her arms. Tightly laced waists caused many an attack of swooning or the "vapors" as this indisposition was termed in Civil War days.

On this page are some adaptations of high fashion gowns of a hundred years ago. Modify and change these as much as you wish. The only rule is decoration and lots of it.

MILADY'S AT HOME GOWN

Golf, Tennis Tourneys for Women on June 21

Golf and tennis tournaments will be a morning feature of the Centennial Week Ladies' Day program, June 21.

Registrations for both events are being accepted from women 18 years of age or more at Centennial Headquarters in the Pontiac Public Library.

Both tournaments will begin at 8 a. m., running about four hours. Golf matches will be played at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course and tennis matches at Pontiac Central High School.

Medal play will be the rule in the nine-hole golf tournament, with first, second, third and fourth prizes for the winners.

The tennis tournament is aimed at encouraging novices. No one who has advanced beyond the quarter-finals in any previous tournament will be registered.

Each tennis match will be held to three games at most, with the winner decided by the best two out of three games. There will be a first, second and two third prizes.

Mementos will be distributed to participants in both matches. There will be no charge or fee for either tournament.

Registrations for the golf match will be accepted until the last players are on the fairways. The tennis registrations will close at 5 p. m. June 16.

If it rains June 21, the events will be played June 23.

The Ladies' Day Committee of the Greater Pontiac Centennial is cooperating with the Parks and Recreation Department in staging the tournaments.

Personal News

Dusting off some 40 years of memories in Hawaii this week are Mrs. Raymond Tharp of Brooks Avenue who flew Saturday to join her childhood friend Mrs. Lester Trimblett at International Airport, Los Angeles. The women were identified over the public address system.

Mrs. Tharp will spend three weeks in Honolulu as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Trimblett.

A huge sign painted with coconut trees and a plane on the lawn of the J. C. Pickering home in Rochester said "Aloha" as Mrs. Tharp was surprised by her friends at a bon voyage party.

Lt. and Mrs. William Hanger (Elaine Thompson) of Cedar Island Road, White Lake Township, announce the birth of a daughter, Lynette Marie, on April 27.

The George Thompsons and the Vance Hangers are grandparents of the first daughter born in the Hanger family in four generations.

Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Deves of Mansfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Peter Schue of Grand Forks, N. D., have returned to their homes after attending the Saturday marriage of their niece Rebecca DeLong to Virgil L. Oswald. They were houseguests of Mrs. Harold DeLong of Russell Street, mother of the bride.

Mrs. Forrest B. Narrin who, with her aunt Mrs. Frema Leonard of Sylvan Lake, has been visiting the newlyweds Sidney B. Narrin at North Providence, R. I. has returned to her home on Lakeview Avenue.

Making up a threesome for the trip east was Mrs. Anthony Petrouella who came from North Providence for the Harris reception honoring their son and daughter-in-law. The former Roberta Edgite Petrouella visited here while on the honeymoon trip.

Smart, but Not Wise

Ought to Know Better

DEAR ABBY: How important are college degrees? I have a son-in-law who is a brilliant young man. He has several college degrees, but he is very intolerant of anyone who has not had the education he has had.

He constantly talks about things in the company of folks who have no knowledge of his specialties (Literature and the arts), and he takes great pleasure in showing up their ignorance.

How does a father-in-law, who has a limited education, cope with a problem of this kind?

I don't want to create a problem for my daughter. Yet I know she, too, is embarrassed and humiliated by her husband's actions.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: A pompous young peacock is not likely to heed the advice of a lesser educated man. This is a job for someone who ranks him academically. If you don't know such a person, pray your son-in-law outgrows the need to strut before he kills himself (socially) by "degrees." All colleges should require a course in common sense.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a man who is 44 years old should marry an old gray-haired woman of 53?

DEAR "SPRUCE STREET": Only if he loves her.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is getting my husband to be a man! I don't mean for him to be cruel, but if he would just show me that he is boss I would be so much happier. I constantly try to get the best of him, but deep down, I don't really want to win the battle. Why are men too dumb to know this?

I am tired of making all the decisions and being the strong one. Please print this. Maybe it will ring a bell, and he will become the strong man I need so badly. Every time we disagree I secretly pray for his victory. Sign me—

"THE STRONG ONE"

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think a girl of 15 should be allowed some privacy? I want to carry the telephone into another room when I talk to my friends but my mother makes me talk in the room where the phone is so she can hear everything I say. Do you think that's right?

DEAR NO: I think everyone who is old enough to talk on the phone deserves privacy.

Loving Care Given to 'Home' Patients

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Weathered brick buildings formerly used as a school for the Chippewa Indians now provide a haven for people of all races unable to compete in a modern society.

The state of Michigan acquired the property from the federal government more than 20 years ago and recently has added units and service facilities.

The institution is known as the Mount Pleasant State Home and Training School.

Some 1,300 mentally retarded persons are cared for and trained here. Their ages range from infants to 65-year-olds. All have need of dedicated service from a staff of more than 500.

The aim of the home is to provide for the "humane, scientific, educational and economic treatment of mentally retarded persons."

Two-thirds of the staff are involved in patient care and more than 100 in industrial services. There are three full time and three part time doctors, four social workers, two psychologists, one psychiatrist, one recreational director and four assistants.

Through recent training programs 250 nurses have finished work that qualifies them in licensed psychiatric nursing.

Some of the things accomplished by trainable patients are amazing considering their handicaps. In the occupational therapy rooms for instance, intricate loom work and similar crafts are mastered in a degree to 'put normally endowed persons to shame.'

Much is accomplished with the use of music and the use of gay and cheerful colors in the cottages. Housing and help are on the cottage plan. There is progress to another cottage as training progresses.

Many advances are seen in the way of treatment with newly available drugs.

All patients are referred to the home through the probate courts. Since 1950, patients have been received by direct admissions as well as transfers.

Families contribute toward the care of patients as they are able. Individual counties are responsible for collecting what parents can afford.

More personnel is needed in a program to meet the emotional needs as well as the physical and educational needs of the patients.

Those who work with the patients say:

"Of all the handicapped groups, you will find that none needs you more, wants you more or will reward you more, than the mentally retarded."

Give Honors at Girl Scout Gathering

Two hundred adult members and friends of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council met Tuesday evening at Madison Junior High School for the organization's annual May Council Meeting.

The affair combined recognition of graduating members of the Senior level program, tributes to leaders and the presentation of citations to friends of scouting in the community.

Principal speaker was the honorable Arthur E. Moore, well-known locally for his interest in youth affairs. His topic was "Youth" and his speech followed a preview showing of films taken at the recent 49th Birthday Jubilee by the council at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Following the opening flag ceremony, musical selections were presented by Costalaters, girls' ensemble from Pontiac Northern High School. Rev. John Mulder of Walled Lake Methodist Church presented the invocation.

Citations for their interest and service to the local council were presented to John F. Ivory, Alfred Masini, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crisman, Janet Odell, Alice Reitmeyer and Marjorie Elcher.

Cookie Chairman Mrs. Carlyle Bragen announced the annual cookie sale results. The sale of more than 7,500 cookies brought profits to the individual troop treasuries of some $4,000. Balance of the cookie sale profits benefit the council's local Camp Sherwood near Lapeer.

Winning two weeks of the camp for their selling efforts were Carl Beamish, Brownie; Cindy Turnbull, Intermediate; and Sandra Bragen, Senior. In addition 47 other girls earned a weekend campout at the camp for their successful efforts.

Graduating from the Girl Scout program, an event achieved when a girl reaches 18 years of age, were Ann Crebassa, Kathy Schultz, Dawn Haynes, Sue Hill, Linda Chapman, Margaret Fife, Joan Davis, Judy Squires, Janet Johnson, Kay Gaddes, Carol Dooley, Ann Raedke and Janet Schenck.

Other graduates receiving citations were Sally Evans, Nancy Crawford, Helen Wheeler, Esther Schlett, Patricia Gunning and Dolores Arango.

Completing the list were Billie Shepard, Sandra Watkins, Marise Potter and Sue Millspaugh.

A dozen yellow roses and a book for their district library were presented to Mrs. Charles Winters of Southwest District for having the greatest number of members in attendance.

The social hour which followed the program was arranged by Mrs. Joseph Hogan, Mrs. Leonard Barton and Mrs. Wayne Helfrich.

Fashionette Club Hears Policemen Talk on Narcotics

Officers Marvin Blum and Gerald Navarre of the Pontiac Police Department showed a film and discussed the subject "Narcotics" at Tuesday's Fashionette Club meeting in Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. Devere Bergquist won the weekly trophy for losing the most weight. Last week's winner was Mrs. Donald Hicks.

Three new members, Mrs. Oscar Vandever, Mrs. Claudie Key and Mrs. Hicks have been added to the club.

At next week's meeting members will play miniature golf after appointing the nominating committee for next year's officers.

Area women interested in the club, sponsored by Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, may attend meetings, held each Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Shelly Library.

MOMS Stitch for Hospital

An afternoon of sewing for Pontiac General Hospital followed a schoolgirl luncheon Tuesday for Unit 2, MOMS of America, at the home of Mrs. Frank Vanhorn on Mechanic Street.

The MOMS state board card party May 29 at 8 p.m. at Sam's Civic Center, Clawson, was announced, also a Centennial open house June 21 at the North Saginaw Street home of Mrs. Maude Place.

Mrs. Duncan McVean and Mrs. Edgar Thomas are attending the MOMS convention in Fairmont, Minn., this week.

Mrs. Clarence Hickmott of North Johnson Avenue will be hostess for the June 6 meeting.

Child Diseases Discussed for Twins' Mothers

The Twins' Mothers' Club heard Dr. Robert E. James, pediatrician, discuss childhood diseases at Thursday's meeting in the Young Women's Christian Association headquarters.

Fifty members and guests heard Dr. James emphasize the importance of polio immunization. The talk was followed by a question and answer session during which the doctor pointed out the dangers of aspirin overdosage to children.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ted Nowakowski, Mrs. John Toski, Mrs. Roland Armstrong and Mrs. James Cleary.

Church Groups Gather

Twenty-four members of the July-August Group of First Presbyterian Church attended the May luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. S. A. Warwick on South Josephine Avenue. Costesses were Mrs. Harold E. Howlett, Mrs. Herbert Wettlaufer and Mrs. Samuel Bailek.

Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin spoke on "Separation of Church and State" and Mrs. C. L. Mulkey gave the Bible study from the Book of St. John. Speaking on national missions, Mrs. Ted Koella called United Church Women "the second mile."

Mrs. Ethel Mortari, mother of the hostess, was a guest.

The June meeting will be with Mrs. E. H. Graham in Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Marion Benson Jr. of Old Orchard Drive Waterford Township was hostess to the January-March Group of First Presbyterian Church.

The Bible study was presented by Mrs. Carl H. Rehm.

Group was observed Friday in Ronda Inn.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Robert Anderson who gave several readings.

Mrs. A. A. Annis and Mrs. W. C. Francis were guests of the group.

Mrs. Floyd Salow, chairman, announced the June meeting will be at the Berkshire Road home of Mrs. John Livingston.

FLORA SHELLEY GROUP

Flora Shelley Group of First Presbyterian Church observed an anniversary dinner Friday in Ted's Restaurant.

Highlights of the meeting was a talk on church history "Women in the Church Over the Years" by Laura Cobb who wore an old-fashioned costume. Beginning with Old Testament history, Miss Cobb carried her theme through to the work of the group in the history of the Pontiac church.

Dinner arrangements were under the chairmanship of Julia Dabritz, Clara Gaylord and Ethel St. Clair.

Mildred Hill presented a devotional service on a garden and spring theme. Pauline Parks also participated in the program.

The next meeting will be a picnic June 9 at the Cobb cottage on Union Lake.

Can You Make a Godey Gown?

Proper fit is most important. Don't be afraid to take in the side seams or nip the darts.

Choices of fabrics is wide. Fashion books of the day list silk, satin, shot taffeta, silk damask, brocade and watered silk for everyday or winter wear. Summer and parties brought out crepe-de-chine, gauze, muslin and tulle (a sheer stiff muslin).

Our present day fabrics have all the elegance and little of the care that these required. Even drapery and slipcover materials lend themselves to the ornate look of the 1800s.

Pretty enough for a wedding is the first gown at upper left. It is an adaptation of a McCall 2178 pattern. A plain fabric or a delicate brocade would be equally appropriate for this elegant gown.

Sleeves and skirt are trimmed in wide eyelet or brocade. Small tassels are set about 14 inches apart around the skirt. Don't forget the small ruffle on each shoulder.

BALL GOWN FRILLY

The ball gown is ornate. Frills and flounce bedeck the skirt and heavily garnish the bodice which were high Paris style in this era. The horizontal trim and large bows applied to the skirt are made of three or four-inch satin strips or ribbon.

The bodice trim is simpler than it looks. The eyelet inset should be cut to fit and basted to the center front bodice, then stitched in place with the flange and its attached ruffling. Add the ruffle inset at the neck, a lace edging around the whole neckline and the sleeve edges.

Mrs. F. W. Todd's 'At Home' gown is adapted from McCall's 2178 and Simplicity's 2294 patterns. Similar but not adaptable to these drawings is Advance Pattern 715.

Make or buy a small lace collar for this outfit. If your pattern provides a center front opening, the decorative swags should be sewn to the bodice on one side, then lapped over to snap on the other side. These are straight pieces gathered at either end.

Swags in the skirt should be larger than those on the bodice and should increase in length as they descend the skirt. It would be easier to attach them before the front skirt is sewn to the back portion.

Children's fashions were a miniature of the adult wear of the day, with everything hinging on the latest Paris mode. With a month to spare before Centennial celebrations hit high gear, we here at The Pontiac Press hope to see some authentic Godey's ladies on our streets.

Mrs. William F. Todd of Norton Street models an authentic turn-of-the-century gown. Made by the late Miss Anna Richardson, white princess style frock is of tucked organza with ball-shaped skirt worn over hoops. Inserts of fine lace embellish the bodice. The tiny buttons that fasten the waist in back are covered with hand crocheting. Mrs. Todd, 92 years young, is a member of the Golden Age Group of the YWCA.

Geranium Sale Scores Sellout

The geranium sale of the Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony is a complete sellout. Committee members (from left) Mrs. Curtis E. Patton of South Eddon, Mrs. Collis A. Scott of Franklin Boulevard and Mrs. William R. Sturgeon of Orchard Lake will help distribute the advance orders at the Cherokee Road home of Mrs. John Waddell and the Ottawa Drive home of Mrs. Maxwell Shadley. Due to the sellout, orders may not be changed and no sale stalls will be operated.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice,
"Is it possible to put a lapped slide fastener at the center back of a dress the way they are used on the side seam?"

Mrs. A. B. V.

Most dresses should have a lapped slide fastener closing so you won't be able to see the teeth of the fastener. The fastener is not an attractive detail of your garment and should be concealed wherever possible.

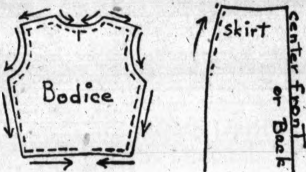

If the fastener gaps slightly at the waistline, sew a small hook and eye at the waistline of your dress and it will lay flat.

WAY TO STAY-STITCH

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,
"You mentioned in one of your columns that 'stay-stitching' should always be done with the grain. Since I am only a beginner, I don't know how to tell the direction of the grain."

Alice M.

Stay-stitching is a row of machine stitching that is put in exactly 1/4" from the cut edge of your fabric with the regular length stitch. The direction is indicated with arrows on the sketch below. Only the sections illustrated must be stay-stitched.

TRY BUTTONHOLE TWIST

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,
"The machine stitching that appears about 1" from the finished edge of jackets and collars looks like it is done with a heavy thread. Do you use embroidery floss?"

Mrs. M. E. K.

This decorative top stitching is usually done with silk buttonhole twist in a matching color to your fabric. You will also find that it is usually done with a very large machine stitch, sometimes there are two rows fairly close together.

EASE ON TRIM

Now that we are all making summer clothes for ourselves and our children, remember that as a rule, they must be washable. A great deal of rick-rack and braid trim is being used for details this year. If you are not careful with the way you apply it, it will pull your garment out of shape after it is laundered.

Do not pull this type trim as you sew it on, but rather, ease it a little as you stitch. Also, wet the rick-rack and braid trim in hot water and allow to dry.

This can be done nicely without taking it off the cardboard if it is wrapped around. May I also suggest doing the same with hem tape to be used on clothes that will be washed instead of drycleaned.

This is YOUR column, we need YOUR questions. Write to Eunice Farmer, in care of Sew Simple, The Pontiac Press.

If sleeves, give you trouble, you'll want a copy of Eunice Farmer's 10-cent leaflet, "All About Sleeves." Obtain it by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Sew Simple, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Instruct PTA Heads at Confab

Twenty-five workshops instructed area Parent-Teacher Association leaders were conducted at the District VII conference of the Michigan Congress of PTA Monday in Pontiac Northern High School.

Mrs. William U. Porter, district director, was in charge of the meeting. Following the invocation by Philip J. Wargelin, Northern high principal, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac Schools, extended greetings to the group.

Mrs. Kenneth Otto, first vice president of the MCPT, brought greetings from the state president and board of managers, and Mrs. George Gray, president of the Pontiac Council of PTA, welcomed visitors.

Among guests at the conference were Mrs. Charles Neidreid and Mrs. Lola King, both past presidents of the MCPT.

Mrs. William Mihalik, general chairman, explained objectives of the various workshops which included: presidents and vice presidents' duties, Mrs. Leslie Hotchkiss; council presidents and vice presidents, Mrs. Theodore Figa; members' role in PTA, Mrs. Sidney Olson; council delegates, Mrs. Cameron Clark; program and Founders Day planning, Mrs. Thomas Fowler; and secretaries' duties, Mrs. Lester Pitt.

Others were: treasurers, Mrs. Robert Trachet; budget and finance, Mrs. Robert Bragan; high school PTA and PTSA, Mrs. Victor Satt; legislation, William Anderson; publicity, Mrs. Ray Ritter; hospitality and social, Mrs. George Bouschamp; membership, Mrs. William Claffing; room representatives, Mrs. John Vanderlind; historians, Mrs. John Turner; PTA magazine and publications, Mrs. Conrad Barilans; and youth groups, Mrs. Arnold Thomas.

Completing the workshop list were: Mrs. John Newman, hostess; Mrs. Ralph Kotter, exceptional child; Mrs. George Walters, safety; Mrs. Thomas Bartle, pre-school; parliamentarians, E. B. Jackson; parent and family life education, Mrs. George Gaches; administrator's role in PTA, Mrs. Vida Walker; and PTA-school board relations, Mrs. Godela Hulebeck.

Following the workshops, the district's 21 council presidents met for a question and answer session with visiting members of the MCPT state board.

Mrs. Erwin Christie prepared a table display of publications and activities of PTA for the meeting. Refreshments were provided by the 33 locals of Pontiac.

Accepts Peace Corps

MANILA (AP) — President Carlos P. Garcia today accepted an offer of a U.S. Peace Corps contingent to aid in educational and rural development. He conferred with visiting Peace Corps chief, Sargent Shriver.

64 Volunteers
Second Project of Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy announced the second project of the Peace Corps, a force of 64 volunteers to work with native counterparts in small farming, handicraft, rural construction and sanitation projects in Cambodia.

The first project of the Peace Corps was to assist the government of Tanganyika with a farm-to-market road surveying program.

The Peace Corps volunteers will assist small rural communities to develop their own economic resources, educational and sanitary facilities.

"I am particularly pleased to announce that the second project of the corps will be in Latin America, because of the many ties of mutual respect and mutual ideals which bind us together as brother republics in this traditionally free and democratic hemisphere," the President said.

Jackie Permits
Film in French

Squeezes Interview Into Rushed Time in 2-Day
Ottawa State Visit

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy unexpectedly consented to a television interview all in French—to be filmed today.

Mrs. Kennedy, who rarely permits personal interviews, planned a special greeting to Canada's French-speaking population. She speaks French fluently.

She squeezed the interview into the only free time in the schedule of her two-day visit, with the President to Canada's capital.

The 15-minute film was to be made late this afternoon at Government House, where the First Lady and the President are staying as guests of Governor General and Mrs. George Vanier.

The film was to be made for the Canadian Broadcasting Company's French-language network. It was understood the film would be broadcast next Monday, or the Monday after.

The First Lady sat by smiling Tuesday as her husband struggled with a few French phrases in his arrival speech. The President jokingly said it was an "unfortunate division of labor" that let his wife sit by silently while he had to do the speaking in French.

This morning, Mrs. Kennedy was scheduled to stop in briefly for a look at Canada's National Gallery in downtown Ottawa and go on to the Royal Canadian Mounted' famous musical ride.

An equestrienne herself, she also was to look over the RCMP stables at Rockcliffe, a section about two miles from the center of downtown Ottawa.

DRESSED FOR A RECEPTION — Mrs. John Kennedy stands in a receiving line at Government House in Ottawa, Canada, during a state function Tuesday night with Mrs. George Vanier, wife of Canada's governor general. Jacqueline is wearing a heavy white silk long evening gown with sleeveless belted overblouse. The neck of the overblouse and the hem of the skirt are embroidered with white beads and brilliants. It was designed by Oleg Cassini.

Treaty of Extradition
With Brazil Is Ratified

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Tuesday ratified a treaty under which the United States hopes to put an end to the use of Brazil as a haven for fugitives from this country's justice.

The agreement — a general treaty of extradition — is similar to those already in existence between this country and all of its other hemispheric neighbors.

Link Eichmann to Grab Deals

Trying to Connect Adolf to 'Legal' Stripping of Europe's Jews

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was described in court today as the sparkplug of the Nazi machinery that confiscated three billion dollars worth of Jewish property in Europe.

The Israeli prosecution of the Gestapo leader assigned to "Jewish affairs" in the Third Reich produced a pile of 80 documents, linking Eichmann to the most minute details of the property gobbler-up.

It was Eichmann, Deputy Attorney General Ya'akov Bar'or said, who directed the precise methods devised to strip the Jews of all they had and even to make it appear legal in German eyes. Letters from Eichmann to Gestapo offices in Nuremberg, Wuerzburg, Kiel, Bremen, Prague, Vienna, and other major centers outlined the procedures and in some cases contained admonitions against laxity.

The confiscation is the lesser charge against Eichmann, compared to the broad indictment that he supervised the extermination of six million Jews. The prosecution gave this phase importance to show that the property seizure was a definite sign that the Gestapo and the Nazi SS Elite Guard were well aware the victims never would survive.

California's gold was discovered in 1946, only 10 days before the treaty ending the Mexican war and transferring the territory to the U.S. was finally signed.

Troy Will Add Six Employees

Salaries Are Budgeted; A City Engineer Also Must Be Appointed

TROY — Six new employees, including Troy's first full-time fire chief and an administrative assistant, will be added to the city payroll here soon for approximately $27,378.

Besides the extra personnel, a new city engineer will have to be appointed by June 2 to replace Joseph Shugart who is vacating his position to enter private business.

City Manager David E. Freston said yesterday that no applications have been received yet for the city engineer's job, which pays from $9,000 to $9,300 a year.

A full-time fire chief will cost the city $6,000 annually, while $3,500 a year will be paid for an administrative assistant.

OTHERS NEEDED
One more patrolman and a clerk are to be hired for the police department and two workers are added to the city's department of public works.

Starting salary for the patrolman is set at $4,670. The police department clerk's starting salary is to be $2,800 annually, while the two new DPW employees will be rated at $2 per hour.

The salaries for all personnel except the engineer are included in new items in Troy's budget of $774,000 for the 1960-61 fiscal year.

The adoption of the budget Monday was overshadowed by approval of a resolution which will enable the Oakland County Department of Public Works to install a complete system of sanitary sewers in the city.

The cost of the sewers will not affect the budget.
A 1.6-mill tax increase was levied to pay over half the existing debts on the Evergreen sewer system. A 1.56-mill tax will be paid next year to meet the rest of Troy's current sewer debts.

Oak Park 1961-62 Tax Rate Will Remain the Same

OAK PARK — The tax rate in Oak Park, one of the highest in Oakland County, will remain the same during the 1961-62 fiscal year under the $1,537,274 budget approved by the City Council.

Despite rising costs and a drop in income from the state, the tax rate will continue to be $21.93 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

City officials said the increased expenditures will be offset by a $1.5-million increase in Oak Park's assessed valuation and a decrease in the amount of funds needed for debt retirement.

The budget makes no provision for additional city services during the coming fiscal year.

Youth Guidance Unit to Hear 3 Speakers

ROCHESTER — Three experts on the problems of youth will speak at a meeting of the Rochester Area Youth Guidance Committee tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Village Council chambers.

The speakers are Arthur E. Moore, probate judge, James Van Leuven, assistant juvenile court director, and Frank Richardson, principal of Rochester Junior High School.

The session is designed to elaborate on the guidance committee's program to prevent youth neglect and delinquency, and to tell how the community as a whole can help with the work.

The experts will explain how their departments function when difficult cases are referred to them.

Report Frost Damage

LANSING (UPI) — "Medium to severe" freeze damage to cherry, peach and strawberry blossoms in the northwestern portion of the Lower Peninsula was reported today by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

BACK FOR CAMP — As a reward for their salesmanship, these three girl scouts will leave Friday for an expense free weekend at Camp Sherwood near Lapeer. Getting ready for their trip are (from left) Nancy Miller, 9, of 6809 Norton St.; Troy; Linda Schumde, 11, of 26

Lewis St.; Pontiac; and Leslie Frank, 14, of 1355 E. Auburn Road, Avon Township. They will be among a group of 47 girls from the Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council whose sales in the recent Girl Scout cookie drive were the highest in their neighborhoods.

Road Repairs Anger Burghers at Holland

HOLLAND (UPI) — Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie was in Dutch with the burghers of Holland who opened their annual tulip time festival today.

Mackie's devotion to keeping the state roads in trim — during political campaigns he dotes on the title "the nation's No. 1 road-builder" — roused the ire of Hollanders.

Tuesday, on the eve of the four-day festival, a pack of concrete churning machines trundled into U.S. 31 on the stretch between Holland and Saugatuck, a community 18 miles to the south.

Quicker than a Dutchman can plug a dike, there were six big hunks of highway missing.

In their place stood barricades and flagmen to slow traffic, which was just a trickle compared with

PTA to Hold Talks on School Election

AVON TOWNSHIP — Issues to appear on the June 12 school election ballot will be explained at tomorrow's 8 p.m. meeting of the Stone-Auburn Heights Parent Teacher Association at Stone School.

The various aspects of teacher tenure will be described by Mrs. Bonnie Norman, visiting teacher for the Avondale schools, and by Mrs. Earl Wilson.

School Supt. Leroy R. Watt will tell how the millage proposal will affect the individual taxpayer and why a hike in millage is needed now to operate the schools in the district.

Youth, 19, Pleads Guilty to Lesser Auto Charge

A 19-year-old Pontiac youth, who was accused of taking a car from his employer, yesterday appeared before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero and pleaded guilty to a second count of taking the vehicle without permission.

Arthur Thomas, of 76 Florida St., will be sentenced May 29. He was returned to the county jail.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the new charge against the youth is taking and without intent to steal. It carries a maximum sentence of two years, Taylor said.

Thomas was a part-time employee of the Auto Reconditioning Service Shop, 138 S. Saginaw St., when the incident took place on April 29.

Plan Reception for Mrs. Evans Friday 2 to 4

Municipal employees are planning a big reception Friday afternoon for Mrs. Ada R. Evans, who attended her last City Commission meeting as city clerk last night.

All city employees, commissioners, former commissioners and friends have been invited to the 2-4 p.m. program in the Board Room at City Hall.

Mrs. Evans entered retirement Friday after 42 years as a municipal employee, the last 13 as clerk.

Speaker Insists Health Demands Our Water Be Treated and Safe

CHICAGO (U)—A New York editor yesterday told a water pollution control conference that waters in the nation "can be cleaned up for the price it would cost each United States citizen to buy a candy bar."

Morris M. Cohn, editorial director of "Wastes Engineering and Water Works Engineering," told delegates to the two-day session sponsored by De Paul University, "We can afford pollution control because we cannot afford pollution."

"It is shocking to learn that a nickel of every dollar of municipal expenditures today, and 2½ cents of every such dollar in 1970, must be spent for handling liquid wastes and preserving the very waters upon which urban areas depend."

Cohn said that the half billion dollars which industries must invest yearly in process wastes treatment facilities "is but a trifling fraction of the $50 billion manufacturers will pour into capital improvements in 1961 and $78 billion they must plan on by 1970."

Cohn told delegates that "we cannot actually use a cash register to ring up the costs of pollution."

However, Cohn cited the losses in manpower and in life which the nation suffers "due to secondary pollution illnesses such as hepatitis, conjunctivitis, skin infections and ear and nose infections."

Kevin and Keith Get Palms Read to Know Future

WAYNE (U)—Kevin and Keith Marston—or is it Keith and Kevin—have been straightened out.

Kevin and Keith are 5-month-old identical sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Marston of Wayne. Their names tags became misplaced shortly after their mother brought them home from the hospital.

The resourceful mother, Patricia, 28, kept them in cribs carefully marked—and only lifted one out at a time to avoid confusion.

But father took care of the twins one night when mother went to a bunko game. He tried to feed the babies and got them mixed up.

"We didn't know what to do so we just called them A and B," Mrs. Marston said.

Finally she called police. Comparisons were made with palm prints on file at the hospital.

The officers announced: "The boy with the blue pants is Kevin."

"I thought it was just the other way around," Mrs. Marston gasped. She tied a strand of blue ribbon around Kevin's wrist. The Marstons have three other children.

Hospital Unit's Meeting to Center on Centennial

Pontiac, Lake City to Switch Top Officials as Part of Exchange Day

Mayor Philip E. Rowston will trade places with Mayor James A. McGinness of the tiny town of Lake City Monday as a feature of Mayor's Exchange Day of Michigan Week.

The Pontiac official said he will take along models of Pontiac automobiles to distribute when he and Mrs. Rowston visit the 100-person town on Lake Michigan Monday in Muskegon County, near Cadillac.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinness, as official guests of the City of Pontiac, are to visit the City Hall in the morning, and lunch at the GMC Truck & Coach Division plant, view the Centennial film "Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise," tour the Pontiac Press and be honored at a reception and dinner at the City Club.

City Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr., chairman of the Mayor's Exchange Day program, has been assisted by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

If all the land underlain with coal in the U.S. could be placed side by side, it would cover an area larger than Great Britain, Erie and France combined.

Oppose Probe of Birch Society

Rep. O'Hara, 17 Dems Object to Organization, but Nix Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Va., chairman of 18 Democratic representatives who Tuesday voiced opposition to the controversial John Birch Society, but urged Congress not to investigate the extreme rightist organization.

In a letter sent to Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the house rules committee, O'Hara and the 17 other Democrats said: "We have the gravest reservations as to the authority of the Congress, or any committee of the Congress, to become final arbiters of what constitutes 'Americanism'."

"Let there be no mistake," the letter said. "We strongly, very strongly, disagree with the program promoted by the John Birch Society."

It is possible that this society is abusing the postal rates made available to nonprofit organizations and the post office and Civil Service Committee is qualified to investigate this and should do so. No select committee is required.

The House Rules Committee is considering a resolution calling for creation of a select House committee to investigate the society.

'Freedom' Unit Ignores Threats

Run Bus Rides Out of Town, Asks Speaker for Citizens' Council

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The "freedom riders," a band of white and Negro travelers who endured curses, blows and a fire bomb in a bus trip through the South, today ignored threats posed by a Louisiana segregationist element.

A White Citizens' Council spokesman called for officials to run the "freedom riders" out of the town and state "before violence erupts."

But 14 of the "freedom riders," burned out of one bus and beaten in Alabama, planned to be on hand tonight for a rally marking the seventh anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision banning public school segregation.

A council official said the arrival of the "freedom riders" "warrants immediate action to rid the community and the state of the agitators before violence erupts." He called their presence an invitation to riot.

"We expected arrests when we left Washington early this month—but not attempted murder," said Dr. Walter Bergman, one of the travelers. In commenting on the bus trip that ended in Birmingham, Ala.

Nevertheless, he hailed the trip as "the most significant thing done in race relations in years." Bergman is a former professor from Michigan.

Most infants have blue eyes because the pigment which determines the eventual eye color does not develop until after birth. The time factor in this change is varying.

Errant Horse in Mishap Not From Duke's Ranch

A story in Saturday's edition of The Pontiac Press about a 12-year-old girl injured when thrown from a runaway horse erred in stating that the horse had been rented from Duke's Ranch on M-10. The Press regrets any inconvenience.

vehicles that might have been caused to Duke Demmon, proprietor of a livery stable in White Lake Township, as the result.

Automobiles used by the White House are not the property of the president. They are leased to the government at nominal rates because of the publicity involved.

Portland Paper Owner Dies After Long Illness

PORTLAND (AP) — Funeral service will be held Thursday for Fred J. Mauren, 61, publisher of the weekly Portland Review and Observer since 1937, who died Monday night at his home after a long illness.

Mauren, a member of the Michigan Press Association and the National Editorial Association, entered newspaper work at an early age under his father, the late Fred J. Mauren Sr.

Lobstermen in the state of Maine produce a volume estimated at more than 3 million per year, and it frequently runs more than that.

Arnold Toynbee to Talk in Grand Rapids June 3

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — British historian Arnold J. Toynbee appears June 3 in Grand Rapids as lecturer in a series sponsored by the adult education committee of the Fountain Street Baptist Church.

Proceeds go toward the Albert Schweitzer education fund. Tickets for the canceled May 3 appearance in 1955 to an estimated 200 acres of "rocket" expert Werner Von Braum are being exchanged for the Toynbee lecture, sponsors said.

An average farm in the U.S. has grown in size from about 140 acres in 1925 to an estimated 200 acres now, land surveys indicate.

Michigan Week Banquet Slated

Bud Guest Will Speak at Waterford-Drayton Rotary Event

For the third consecutive year, the Waterford-Drayton Rotary club will sponsor a gala Michigan Week banquet at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Waterford Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

Edgar (Bud) A. Guest Jr., will be the featured speaker following the dinner. He will discuss his experiences as a newspaperman and radio personality.

Following his graduation from the University of Michigan in 1934, Guest was a reporter, radio editor, assistant city editor and feature writer for a Detroit newspaper. On his release from the Navy in 1945, Guest decided to concentrate on radio work. It was at that time that his "The Sunny Side of the Street" feature came into being.

He is currently heard over a Detroit radio station each weekday with "The Sunny Side of the Street." In addition, he "rides hard" on a nine-piece orchestra each evening from 7 to 7:30 on Detroit's most elaborate "live" radio program, "Guest House."

Supervisors of the Waterford Township school system, William A. Shuck, will be master of ceremonies.

Rotary president William Jackson will point out the advantages of living in Michigan.

Grandson of Founder Baker Furniture Head
GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Hollis M. Baker was elected Tuesday as president of Baker Furniture, Inc., and Grand Rapids Chair Co.

He is a grandson of the founder of Baker furniture and has served since 1953 as executive vice president.

Former President Frank Van-Sienberg becomes chairman of the board of directors. Baker's father, Hollis S. Baker, former board chairman, took up a newly created post as chairman of the executive committee.

Besides Grand Rapids facilities, the Baker firm has showrooms subsidiaries in 13 other major cities across the nation.

To Discuss Con-Con
JACKSON (AP) — A conference on the coming state constitutional convention will be held here May 20 by AFL-CIO unions from nine counties.

County Gets $1,715,768 for Roads From State

A $1,715,768 check is in the hands of county road commissioners. It is Oakland County's share of the first-quarter gas and weight tax receipts.

The many cities and villages of the county received separate checks as their part of the state receipts.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Macklin said not receipts for the first quarter amounted to $81,854,902, an increase of $54,679 over the same period of 1960.

After deductions, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provide that 47 per cent goes to the State Highway Department for use on state highways, 35 per cent to counties for use on county roads and 18 per cent to incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

Under this formula, the department received $38,980,320, the 80 counties a total of $29,033,901, and the 510 incorporated cities and villages $14,931,720.

Oakland County received $887,221 as its share of the last-quarter receipts of 1960, while the state net total for that quarter was $43,553,395, nearly half of the amount just collected.

National Guard Sets Area Practice Alert

National Guard members in the Pontiac area, as a part of the 2nd Battle Group, 125th Infantry, can expect a practice alert in the very near future. Capt. A. J. Largent, Company E commander, announced yesterday.

He emphasized that the alert, which will be sounded by radio and television, which summon Guardsmen to their duty stations is a practice and no cause for public alarm.

The practice alert is a routine training requirement for National Guardsmen as a part of the Army Department. The "dry-run" is intended to give local commanders opportunity to determine how effectively their units will swing into operation in event of a real emergency.

Col. Robert C. McCall, commander of the 2nd Battle Group, is asking cooperation of all employers in releasing the men for the alert practice.

British Ford Co. Plans Campaign in America

LONDON (AP) — Sir Patrick Hennessy, chairman of British Ford Motor Co., today described Europe as the battleground of the auto industry but predicted a new onslaught by British and European producers on American markets.

Unveiling new models of the British Ford at a press luncheon, Sir Patrick said the European market was undoubtedly the world's toughest.

"Europe is the battleground and if you can sell here you can sell anywhere," he said. He continued, "I do not want it thought that British Fords are retreating from the American market. Far from it."

"In recent months we have re-organized our selling arrangements and we have done things which will cause a great deal of interest in the United States—and in other world markets."

3 New Burglaries Under Investigation

Three newly reported burglaries were being investigated by Pontiac police today.

At Montclair Builders Supply, 156 W. Montclair St., burglars took change from a cash register and candy machine, and cigarettes from a candy case.

A jewel case, canned goods and change from a piggy bank were stolen from the apartment of Eleanor Zeiler, 84 Dwight St. An undetermined amount of money was taken from a cigarette machine, jukebox, and cash register at Business Restaurant, 585 Oakland Ave.

Says Reds Are Winning Asian Ideological Fight

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The United States is losing the ideological struggle with communism in Asia, but this country will win out in the end, says Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court.

"With all the laws and ideals of freedom we have on our side, I do not see how we can possibly lose the ideological contest," Douglas said Tuesday night in a speech at Allegheny College.

WSU Enrollment-Cut Plan Is Termed 'Dramatization'

LANSING (AP) — Two Republican lawmakers have branded Wayne State University's announced cut in enrollments an attempt to "dramatize" its drive for more money. Sen. Elmer R. Porter of Bloomfield Hills and Rep. Arnel Engstrom of Traverse City, in a joint statement Tuesday, said they expect to hear from other state-supported colleges and universities.

The Wayne State move probably is only the first in this direction," they said.

The Wayne State board of governors voted Monday to reduce new student enrollments by 20 per cent — from the expected 5,000 to 4,000 — and all university activities by 6 per cent.

Porter heads the Senate Appropriations Committee and Engstrom, the House Ways and Means Committee, the groups that mapped out the spending programs for the state-supported institutions of higher learning.

They advised the Wayne board of governors to reconsider its plans.

UNION WEEDING
"This is the time to judge the value of specific programs rather than take the hatchet approach on all operations," they said.

"It is significant that two of the areas mentioned specifically (by the board) for cuts are teacher education and medical education. These are fields in which cuts are intended to hurt the most," the two lawmakers said.

"Nothing is said about courses offered in badminton, archery,

Wayne State had asked for a $3.5-million increase in its current $15.56-million budget, but the legislature set the 1961-62 budget at $17,000 less.

The legislators said Wayne received $10 million from tax sources before it was taken over by the state, adding it now receives more than $15 million.

"On the basis of projected enrollments and other data, Wayne should have been able to maintain its program without across-the-board cuts this year, they added.

Lard Good Shortening for Many Recipes

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

In the past, when farm families killed their own pigs, lard was an important by-product. Lard and butter were the only shortenings the cook had to use.

In recent years, since the hydrogenated vegetable shortenings have become so popular, lard has suffered reverses. However, there are many cooks who think that lard has no equal for certain uses — pie crust, for one. We call for lard. This was an old happen to like lard best of all farm recipe. Use a big cutter for the shortenings for what little deep the cookings and keep the dough as soft as possible.

Lard may be substituted for other shortenings with little or no change in taste in certain recipes. Whenever there are spices involved, molasses or chocolate, lard is acceptable as a shortening.

Lard makes excellent biscuits. Lard can be used for the shortening in bread. And lard makes American fried potatoes make things special.

Mrs. Howard Green of Birmingham offered us an old-time recipe for soft sugar cookies, one that she calls for lard. This was an old farm recipe. Use a big cutter for the shortenings for what little deep the cookings and keep the dough as soft as possible.

FARM SUGAR COOKIES
By Mrs. Howard Green

2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup lard
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
2-4 cups sifted flour (not more than 4 cups)

Cream lard and sugar until fluffy. Add eggs, beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add, alternately with milk. Chill.

Roll out 1/4-inch thick. Cut with a large cutter or use the top of a coffee can. Bake 10-12 minutes, or until done, in 375-degree oven.

In case you do not have, or have

FLAKY PASTRY

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup lard
1/2 cup ice water
Sift flour and salt. Cut in lard until mixture resembles peas. Add water quickly. Chill before rolling out. Makes 3 crusts.

The following cake is made with lard. It has the distinction of having no eggs and no milk in it which makes it perfect for people with certain allergies.

CAKE WITH LARD

2 cups brown sugar
2 cups hot water

4 tablespoons lard
1 package medium raisins, cut one
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup water

Combine sugar, water, lard, raisins, salt and spices. Boil 5 minutes. Let cool. Dissolve soda in water and add to cooled mixture. Stir in flour. Pour into 2 greased loaf pans. Bake at 300 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.

In Jamaican Style

NEW YORK (UPI) — A popular Jamaican dessert uses two of the island's native products, bananas and rum. Slice ripe bananas lengthwise, brown them lightly in butter for a few minutes, sprinkle with sugar, and remove from heat. Add a few tablespoons of rum, light and let burn for a few minutes, and serve.

Give Fresh Spinach New Interest, Taste Appeal

You'll welcome these off-the-beaten-trail recipes for fresh spinach.

Fresh Spinach Greens Salad

The young tender leaves of spinach are delicious served raw with a tart French dressing. Remove any tough stems and toss the leaves with the dressing in your best salad bowl. Garnish with hard-cooked eggs.

Wilted Spinach

Wash and dry spinach. Remove tough stems. Fry a few strips of bacon and drain. Add a little sugar and some lemon juice to the hot bacon fat. Pour over the spinach leaves. Add grated onion. Toss well and serve garnished with crumbled bits of bacon.

Fresh Fluffy Spinach Omelet

Beat 4 egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Beat 4 egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add 1/2 teaspoon onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1/4 cup milk, and 1 cup finely chopped uncooked spinach (use only the leaves of fresh spinach and chop very fine); carefully fold into beaten egg whites. Turn into a buttered, hot 9-inch skillet or omelet pan.

Cook over very low heat until omelet puffs up and is browned on bottom, about 10 minutes. (Test by raising edge of omelet with spatula.) Place in slow oven 225 degrees F., until top springs back when pressed with finger, 3 to 10 minutes. With a spatula crease down across the center of omelet and fold over. Slip onto platter.

Garnish with parsley and crisp bacon. Serve for breakfast, lunch or supper. If desired, top with cheese sauce to which fresh lemon juice, to taste, has been added, if served as luncheon or supper dish.

This omelet, served with cheese sauce and crisp bacon or cold boiled ham makes a pleasant main course for dinner.

Lamb shoulder makes an easy-to-serve roast if it is boned and tied into a roll. Economical, too!

Fruit Punches Flow at Spring Parties

Just in case you've always thought the ever-popular drink punch, got its name from its flavor impact, you are almost right. Actually "punch" was once the Hindi word "panch" meaning "five": alcohol in some form, water, lemon, sugar and spice.

Modern punch may or may not include alcohol, but it relies heavily on fresh fruit juices and carbonated beverages. Now, however, we suggest another ingredient for fruit punches. Surprising as it may seem, many punch lovers, a little pure vanilla extract does wonders for the flavor enhancing the taste of the fruit.

The vanilla bean is itself a fruit, therefore mingling with and builds up other fruit essences. True vanilla first pleased the senses of Europeans — Spanish Conquistadors — when Montezuma served Cortez a regal vanilla-scented chocolate drink in a golden goblet. The use of vanilla with fruit is something the French started and is the secret behind the excellence of many of their desserts.

Punch is an ideal beverage for a reception or party. Pour into the handsomest bowl you own or can borrow and set it right in the middle of all your party goodies. Float whole strawberries on it, complete with stems. Orange and lemon slices, too, are buoyant. Or let a scattering of daisies, small roses or violets drift lazily on the surface.

Sink a little dry ice in your punch and it will not only cool the beverage most efficiently without diluting it, but will send up a fizz of little bubbles, best champagne style. Another handy thing to do: drupe opulent clusters of grapes over the rim of the punch bowl, letting some of the grapes spill down into the punch.

To wreath the punch bowl with fresh flowers, cut a styrofoam base for your punch bowl and punch holes in it with a pencil or other object. Let flowers drink their fill in deep water for an hour, then wrap stems ends in wet cotton and set in styrofoam.

Fresh Asparagus Is With Us Now

Springtime is fresh asparagus time! Although asparagus appears on the markets in March and the season extends through July, the greatest supply is available in April, May and June. The Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Sawyer reports that Michigan's supply is plentiful in May and June.

Ninety-two per cent of the 1960 Michigan asparagus acreage went to processors while only eight per cent went to the fresh market. Wayne, Macomb and St. Clair counties produce primarily for the fresh market, in the Detroit area. The majority of the processed asparagus is canned in Michigan. The fifteen firms processing asparagus are located primarily in the southwest part of the state.

How can you tell whether asparagus is fresh? It's easy! Close compact tips is one clue. Wilted stalks or those with spreading tips have probably been cut for a longer period than is desirable. Look for deep green or bluish-green color in the tips. Avoid offerings with an excessive amount of white stem for they are likely to be dry, withered and tough. The thicker stalks are more tender than the thin spindly ones.

You'll need one pound of fresh asparagus for four servings. One to 1½ pounds of fresh asparagus will freeze one pint. One crate (12 2-pound bunches) will yield 22 to 25 pints frozen.

Fresh asparagus deteriorates rapidly at temperatures above 32 degrees. For best flavor, refrigerate asparagus immediately after the store purchase, and use it soon. Seventy-five per cent of the eating quality can be lost in a period of twelve hours at room temperature of 70 degrees.

Cheese Sauce Gives Broccoli Colorful Zest

Nutritious vegetable dish.
Broccoli With Cheddar Sauce
1 bunch (1½ pounds) broccoli
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ cups milk
1 pound processed American cheese (finely sliced)
2 pinches (dried)
Pare outer covering from broccoli stalks with serrated-blade vegetable peeler; divide stalks evenly. Wash in cold water and drain.
Cook broccoli in large skillet with boiling water and salt covered, just until tender—7 to 10 minutes. Drain and keep warm.
Melt butter in saucepan; stir in flour and mustard; add milk; cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Remove from heat; add cheese and stir until melted; add pinpoints. Serve sauce over broccoli. Makes 6 servings.

Handy to know: you can use 3 quarts of boiling water and a couple of tablespoons of salt for each half-pound of pasta (spaghetti, macaroni or noodles) to be cooked.

Vanilla Party Punch
1 quart apple juice
1 quart pineapple juice
1 cup orange juice
1 cup grapefruit juice
1 cup apricot nectar
1 cup cold water
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 quart club soda
1 cup fresh strawberries, sliced
1 cup fresh lemon slices
Fresh mint leaves

Combine fruit juices, water, sugar and pure vanilla extract. Pour mixture into a punch bowl over ice cubes. Add club soda just before serving. Float sliced strawberries and lemon slices over the top. Yield: Approximately 4 quarts.

Vanilla Cranberry Punch
1 quart cranberry juice
1 cup orange juice
1 cup sugar
1 cup cold water
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 cup fresh mint leaves

Combine fruit juices, sugar, water and pure vanilla extract. Pour into a punch bowl over ice cubes. Add cranberry juice and lemon slices over the top. Yield: Approximately 2 quarts.

Vanilla Pink Lemonade
1 package (16 oz. each) frozen raspberries
1 cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup sugar
1 cup cold water
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 cup club soda
1 cup fresh mint leaves

Thaw berries and put through a sieve or buzz in a blender. Strain and mix with lemon juice, sugar and pure vanilla extract. Add club soda. Chill before serving. Serve in a punch bowl over ice.

Vanilla Graduation Fruit Punch
1½ cups sugar
1½ cups orange juice
1½ cups pineapple juice
1½ cups grapefruit juice
1½ cups cold water
1½ cups pure vanilla extract
1½ cups fresh orange slices
1½ cups fresh lemon slices
1½ cups fresh mint leaves

Add sugar to hot tea. Cool it. Add fruit juices, water and pure vanilla extract. Pour mixture into a punch bowl over ice. Add ginger-ale just before serving. Float orange slices and fresh mint over the top. Yield: Approximately ½ quarts.

Stuffed Celery
Stuffed celery gives glamour to a relish tray. Combine ½ cup cottage cheese, 1 3-ounce package cream cheese and 1½ teaspoons salt. Fill centers of celery pieces with mixture; sprinkle with seasoned salt. Chill before serving. Yield: 1 cup.

Crabmeat Mixture Stuffs Green Peppers

An old standby with a delicious new filling, these special stuffed peppers will boost your reputation as a good cook when you serve them for luncheon or supper.

Stuffed Peppers
1 medium green pepper
1 cup butter or margarine, melted
1 dash Paprika
1½ cups crabmeat, flaked
1½ cups onion, minced
1½ cups celery, minced
1½ cups tomato, minced
1½ cups cold water
1½ cups salt sauce
1½ cups tomato juice

Parboil peppers in boiling water 5 minutes. Drain and dry on paper towels. Combine melted butter or margarine and crabmeat, crumblings. Combine flaked crabmeat, 1 can condensed soup and milk.

Fill peppers with alternate layers of crabmeat mixture and crumbs. Blend remaining condensed soup with chili sauce and lemon juice.

Pour sauce in bottom of baking dish. Add peppers. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Marinate Macaroni Salad for Proper Flavor

Give the month of May and summer days, and salads again become a menu possibility. Perhaps not the fruit or tossed green vegetable salads so acceptable on hot summer days, but this shrimp and macaroni salad combined with crisp vegetables and refreshing pineapple, makes a perfect beginning-of-summer salad for lunch or Sunday night supper.

Sometimes one hears "but I don't care for macaroni salads!" They are quite right about those macaroni salads combined the last minute with other ingredients and not allowed to marinate.

Just after a salad in which the hot macaroni has been marinated in French dressing and the tasters will probably very definitely change their opinions and say "delicious" — "interesting" — "very, very good."

For this salad, the dressing combines mayonnaise and sour cream and tomato mix. Stir lightly into salad materials. Makes 6 servings.

Cabbage Au Gratin Takes Little Work

There's almost no end to the delicious ways of serving green cabbage, alone or in combination. Cool crisp cole slaw; hot savory slaw, cabbage boiled in meat broth, chopped cabbage quick cooked in milk, and cabbage boiled in quarters.

However, one of the nicest ways to delight your family is with Cabbage Au Gratin, prepared this way:

Cut washed cabbage into quarters, steam about 5 minutes, or until almost tender. Drain well and chop coarsely. Place about ¼ of the cabbage in greased baking dish. Sprinkle with cheddar cheese. Repeat layers until cabbage is used.

Pour 1 cup of hot white sauce, diluted with ½ cup whole milk, over cabbage. Scatter top with buttered bread crumbs and bake in hot (400 degrees F.) oven about 10 minutes or until top is golden brown. Serve hot.

Expect 30,000 at Scout-O-Rama on May 27-28

Attendance for the two-day scouting exposition—Scout-O-Rama—to be held May 27-28 at Walled Lake is expected to reach the 30,000 mark, Earl L. Gruber, general chairman, said today.

The weekend "extravaganza" showing scouting in action is sponsored by the Ottawa District of the Clinton Valley Council. It will be held in the Walled Lake Senior High School.

Gruber, who is directing his seventh boy scout showcase, said 60,000 tickets were printed for the event and he anticipates nearly half of them will be used.

Most of the 3,500 boy scouts and leaders in the nine Oakland County townships comprising the Ottawa District will participate in displaying their scouting skills and activities.

In addition to the 65 exhibits on display, there will be three stage shows presented during the two days.

The Scout-O-Rama will be open to the public both Saturday and Sunday beginning at 2 p.m. It will close 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 8 p.m. Sunday.

Talent shows will be presented Saturday at 3:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. and Sunday at 4 p.m.

STARTED IN 1954

The Ottawa District held its first Scout-O-Rama in 1954 at Farmington. It has been presented every year since, with the exception of 1960 when activities for the Boy Scout's 50th birthday took precedence.

Each year Gruber has taken charge of the program from start to finish, handling every aspect from arrangements and exhibits to transportation and feeding.

And every year he becomes more enthused about the annual event though he literally "burns the midnight oil" as he directs and co-ordinates.

Gruber, who has 32 years of scouting experience to his credit, is a special expert in the purchasing department of the Pontiac Motor Division.

The 35-year-old scout admits that he gets little sleep while preparing for the Scout-O-Rama. But the task is a happy one, he explains, and as soon as the 1961 affair is over he will start working on next year's program.

Gruber comments that his greatest satisfaction comes from "the opportunity to contribute to a program for boys dedicated in purpose and practice to building their self-reliance, courage and character."

Gruber and his wife Gloria live at 7429 Sweetbriar Road, West Bloomfield Township, with their 3-year-old daughter Leandra Lee.

Former Official Atlee Visits Ex-President Ike

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower met for an hour today with a World War II colleague—former Prime Minister Clement Atlee of Great Britain.

"It was a very great pleasure to meet my old friend," Eisenhower said after the meeting in his red brick offices on the Gettysburg College campus.

Atlee was deputy prime minister in Sir Winston Churchill's wartime coalition government.

Rochester Board Lets Contract for 16 Rooms at High School

ROCHESTER — Construction is scheduled to start within 10 days on a 16-room addition to Rochester High School which will be built for $366,491 by Meyer-Weingarten & Sons, Inc., of Detroit.

The Board of Education awarded the contract to the Detroit firm after receiving assurance from company spokesmen that the addition would be ready for occupancy Jan. 1.

There had been speculation that the board, anxious to have the new section opened by the second semester of the 1961-62 school year, would award the contract to the Schurr Construction Co. of Pontiac.

The Schurr Construction Co., which built the original high school building, placed the second lowest bid of $367,740 and said it would complete the project in 150 days.

When bids were opened May 8, Meyer-Weingarten & Sons said it would take 270 days to build the addition. However, the company later notified board members that the work could be finished by the Jan. 1 deadline.

SAVE $40,000
Designed by O'Dell, Hewlett and Lucksbach Associates of Birmingham, the new high school addition will include 11 regular classrooms, three science rooms, a drafting room and a language laboratory.

It will be built for some $40,000 less than was budgeted for the work by the school board.

Although the contract for the high school job has been awarded, plans for renovation of Central Junior High School are being revised by Lisa Smith Associates, Inc., of Birmingham.

Bids for the junior high school project received May 1 were from $28.00 to $196,000 higher than was anticipated.

The architects reported to the board that they should have revised plans ready soon which will bring the junior high school project within the budget.

The Junior Henry Meleskys

Honeymoon in Miami

ROCHESTER — Honeymooning for two weeks in Miami, Fla., are newly wed Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melesky Jr. who exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday evening at St. John Lutheran Church here.

Rev. Richard L. Schlecht performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Ardith Rose Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Patterson of 3748 Tienken Road, Avon Township. Her husband's parents are the Henry Meleskys of Warren.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown designed by Chantilly lace gown featuring a scalloped Sabrina neckline embellished with tiny seed pearls and sequins and ending in pointed sleeves and a fitted bodice.

The skirt consisted of four tiers of lace, alternately sprinkled with pearls and sequins and ending in a chapel train.

A Swedish type crown of crystals held her butterfly illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Joyce Patterson was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Willis of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Michael Salvino of Rochester and Mrs. Gerald Wiegand of Warren.

Assisting his cousin as best man was Thomas Dzagoules of Detroit. The guests were seated by Michael Savino of Rochester and Harold Bjornstad and Gerald Wiegand, both of Warren.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake, following the ceremony. Upon their return, the newlyweds will live in Warren.

Included will be exhibitions of stamp, miniature toy, rock, gun and Indian relic collections as well as handicraft by the pupils, teachers and parents.

Artificial flower making and arranging will be demonstrated, and cakes decorated for special occasions also will be on display.

A feature will be the showing of colored slides of his recent trip to Europe by Robert Snow, a substitute teacher. Slides about Michigan and several Southern states will be shown by James K. Fritts, a parent.

Those with exhibits to set up at the last minute are asked to be at the school at 7 p.m. by Mrs. Paul Kivari, general chairman of the event.

The Clarks, who were married in 1932, have a 5-year-old son, Dickie.

English ivy which grows on the trees and fences at Washington, Ark., came from stock at the home of Sir Walter Scott.

Centennial Cars Visiting Detroit

Rowston Meets Miriani With Tapper, Beard to Publicize Pontiac

A big automobile caravan, headed by Mayor Philip E. Rowston, was to carry the Centennial message into Detroit today to the offices of Mayor Louis C. Miriani.

Leaving shortly before noon, the parade of bearded men and bonneted women was to swing around downtown Detroit before pulling up at the City-Country Building.

Rowston, wearing a Centennial top hat and bow tie to complement his beard, was to meet with the Detroit mayor at 2 p.m.

He said he would give Miriani a similar tie and hat, plus a hint about to stick on his chin.

"If he wears the beard, I'll give him a Brother of the Brush button, too," Rowston said before the caravan left.

The trip is the first in a series designed to publicize Pontiac's 100th anniversary as a city and the official Greater Pontiac Area Centennial celebration June 17-24.

Henry Gotham and Mrs. Peter Hoogerhyde arranged the caravan as co-chairmen of the Caravan and Promenade Committee.

PTA at Johnson Niles Plans Last Meeting
TROY — The last regular meeting of the Johnson Niles Parent-Teacher Association for the current school year will be at 8 p.m. today at the school.

Mrs. William U. Porter, director of PTA District VII, will install the new officers.

A chore group will provide the evening's entertainment after which refreshments will be served by the kindergarten room mothers.

Nicholas Kelley, Dann Foe, Quits as Chrysler VP

DETROIT (UPI) — Nicholas Kelley Jr., a son of a partner in the New York law firm that has long represented Chrysler Corp., has resigned as a Chrysler vice president, the auto company confirmed today.

Kelley, 50, had been with Chrysler for 20 years. He left March 3 to take a post as manager of the downtown branch of the City National Bank.

Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann, who has been in a long running feud with the Chrysler management, has been critical of Kelley's holding a post as vice president.

Kelley's father is a partner in the New York law firm from which Chrysler President and Board Chairman L. L. Colbert moved on to Chrysler.

First Space Trips Just Short Hops

Editor's Note—Two men, Russia's Yuri Gagarin and America's Alan Shepard, have flown in space. Shepard's trip was a little more than 15 minutes and Gagarin's was 1 hour and 48 minutes. Both trips were compared to the distance from Washington to New York. Future trips are into space, not to New York.

LEWIS L. MILLER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Man still has a long way to go in space. Yuri Gagarin hit a peak altitude of 20,119 miles, according to the Russians, in his orbital flight around the world April 12.

Alan B. Shepard Jr. got 115 miles away from the earth in his briefier trip May 5.

But the moon is still some 240,000 miles distant. Venus never gets closer to earth than about 28 million miles. Mars, at its nearest, is around 35 million miles away.

The other planets are either too close to the sun, in the case of Mercury, or too far from it, in the case of Jupiter and the others beyond, to be considered for the time being in man's space travel plans.

So where do we stand? Both the Soviet and American astronauts proved that man can go into space and survive. Their flights mean that most, if not all, of the really basic scientific and engineering problems of space flight have been solved.

ODDS FAVOR REDS
Higher and longer flights can be undertaken just as soon as more powerful rockets and bigger and better space ships are built. How soon will this come about? Which nation will be the first to land men on the moon and bring them back?

The answer to "how soon?" can only be guessed—in six to 10 years, perhaps. As to whether the first step on the moon will be an American or a Russian, the only honest answer now is that the odds strongly favor the Russian.

The Russians, by their own account, have been preparing for manned space flight for at least 10 years. This country's Mercury man-in-space program got underway about 2½ years ago.

At the moment, Russian space rockets are more than twice as powerful as America's best.

The year 1967 has often been mentioned speculatively by American space experts as the Soviet target date for a manned moon landing. But only the Russians know the Russian schedule.

GOAL CHANGES
The U.S. moon goal, like the moon itself, changes from time to time. Last year it was "some time after 1970." Early this year the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) mentioned a specific year, 1971.

A few weeks ago Dr. Robert C. Seamans, associate director of NASA, advanced the target year to 1969 or 1970. Could the United States send a man to the moon and back as early as 1967?

Yes, Seamans told Congress—if it wants to spend an extra $20 to $40 billion in an "emergency kind of about effort."

There is little to indicate the administration, the Congress, or the people want to do that.

Michigan College Presidents to Rush for Needed Funds

By STUART GROSS
Saginaw News
Written For The AP

SAGINAW — Michigan's college presidents are planning new strategies in their campaign to persuade Michigan's governor and legislature to grant them all the money they feel is necessary to run the state's top educational institutions properly.

It will take until the fall of 1965 to really prove any of the things now being predicted.

But all population projections, the growth in new high schools (five in the Saginaw area alone), indicate that starting in 1965 there will be more youngsters applying to colleges than colleges can accommodate, unless there is a major building program.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state school superintendent, and Dr. Gordon Sabine, Michigan State University vice president, however, say the college buildings that should open in 1965 should be on drawing boards today but aren't.

Within the next year, the college presidents can be expected to have carried their story to the public. The move started last Tuesday in Saginaw, when Dr. Sabine was invited to talk to the Saginaw Board of Education on the college crisis.

He pulled no punches: Either the colleges get money for classrooms and more professors or 30 per cent of the qualified high school students who want to go to college won't get in by 1970.

It's quite a switch for some higher education officials. Not long ago, colleges were free with criticism of high schools. Now local school boards are recognized as being the door to the local people whose support the colleges need if the legislature is to be impressed.

"MUST TELL PEOPLE"
"We must go to the grass roots," Dr. Sabine said. "We must go to the people and tell them about public higher education from the very beginning, just as though it were something brand new, which it is to all too many of them."

"We must tell them of its aims and goals, of its accomplishments and contributions to society, of the dangers it faces in not being able to serve their children."

He said the public must be asked if it is "really interested in educating every young man and every young woman in Michigan to limits of his or her learning power."

He said the colleges would supply speakers if the school boards

Church-Union Proposal Eyed

4-Way Merger Is Key Issue of 173rd General Presbyterian Assembly

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
L. O. N. Y.

They glimpsed the road. Today, they gathered to decide whether to travel it in a far-reaching quest for retention of the churches.

This was a key issue at the 173rd general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church opened here.

"The first step is up to us," said the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, of Philadelphia, the church's chief executive officer, a vast, four-way union of Protestants, including Methodists, Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Congregationalists and possibly others.

ACCLAIMED BY FIRE
Known as the "Blake-Pike" plan, it first was advanced five months ago by Dr. Blake, with the enthusiastic acclaim of California Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike, and various other church leaders.

It also has drawn some criticism, but in any case it has generated keen interest among Christians across the country.

Action on it by the assembly here — the first official consideration — isn't expected until late in the eight-day meeting.

Pauli Jewelry Gets New Front for Centennial

The Fred N. Pauli Co. jewelry store at 28 W. Huron St., is getting a centennial facelift.

William G. McLean and George F. Grogan, partners in the firm, said remodeling is under way to spruce up the appearance of the shop for the June 17-24 celebration.

The new facing will be of a stippled gray porcelain-like material with ribbed aluminum. New double doors of glass and an awning will complete the picture.

A Pontiac establishment for 65 years, Pauli's is the oldest jewelry store in Pontiac. The interior was remodeled a year ago.

Energetic Burglars Do Moving Job Free

LA SALLE, Ill. (AP)—Burglars juggled a 1,000-pound safe 40 feet through two doors of the Ulica Stone Co. office to a parked truck Tuesday. The safe fell and its door flew open. Only some useless papers were inside.

Said manager Bob Harvey: "I've been wondering how to get that safe out of here but didn't want to spend the money for it."

Banana Dishes Timed for Any Hour of Day

Nine billion bananas a day of bananas but that's about the number Americans ate in 1959. We are the banana-eating country in the world apparently, for we did away with half the world's shipments of bananas. Our appetite for this treat from the tropics helps make us the best-fed nation in the world.

One reason bananas are always a good buy is that Mother Nature produces them lavishly in the Central American tropics. One slash with a machete and a bunch of 150 to 180 bananas is ready for the narrow-gauge railway which will start it on its trip to your fruit bowl and breakfast table.

Bananas must be harvested while green in order to taste right; then shipped at a comfortably cool temperature. Once they've arrived at the American wholesaler's ripening plant they get red-carpet treatment, with experts regulating the temperature, ventilation and humidity which will bring the bananas to your local produce stand when they have turned yellow with slightly green tips. At this point they are good for cooked dishes, such as breading. For eating out-of-hand, as every mother knows, they are ready as soon as they are all yellow or yellow flecked with brown.

Putting bananas in the refrigerator stops the ripening process but once they have reached sweet-butter-smooth perfection, keep them moderately cold.

Bananas can be served in hundreds of ways, to be enjoyed at any time of day and by all seven ages of man. Here, from the test kitchens of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, are some delectable dishes featuring bananas.

Banana Chocolate Pudding
1 package chocolate pudding mix
2 cups milk
30 vanilla wafers
2 medium bananas, sliced
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

Combine pudding mix and milk in a saucepan. Stir and cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into a bowl. (Place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding to prevent a surface film.) Chill. Line the bottom of a 1-quart casserole with a layer of vanilla wafers. Top with sliced bananas. Cover with a layer of chocolate pudding.

Repeat until all ingredients are used, having pudding as top layer. Chill until ready to serve. Just before serving, sweeten whipped cream with sugar and add pure vanilla extract, and spread on top. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Baked Bananas
1 firm ripe, not too soft, bananas
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon brown sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup maple syrup
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown or white sugar
Whipped cream, optional

Peel and split bananas in half. Brush with lemon juice. Place in buttered baking dish. Mix salt, spices, honey and maple syrup and pour over all. Dot with butter or margarine. Top each banana with pure vanilla extract. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Bake bananas with spiced syrup during baking period. Serve as dessert with whipped cream or serve plain. Yield: 6 servings.

Banana Pie
Baked 8-inch pie shell
1 medium banana, sliced
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/2 cup pure vanilla extract
Half fill a baked 9-inch pie shell with sliced bananas mixed with the 1/2 cup sugar and the 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Put remaining bananas as through a potato ricer. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and the 1/2 cup butter for each pancake. Serve hot with butter and honey or syrup with sausage or ham. Yield: 1 1/2 dozen griddle cakes.

Banana Milk Punch
2 medium fully ripe bananas
3 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup heavy cream, optional
1/2 cup pure vanilla extract
Whipped cream, optional
Graham cracker
Slice bananas, mash and mix with 1/2 cup of the milk. Add remaining milk, sugar and pure vanilla extract. Mix well. If desired beat with a rotary or electric beater. Serve chilled in tall glasses topped with whipped cream. If desired and sprinkled with nutmeg. Yield: 1 quart or 4 servings.

Thoroughly combine egg yolks, milk and shortening. Add to flour mixture stirring only enough to dampen flour. Stir in bananas. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into the mixture. Cook on a hot, lightly greased griddle allowing 1/2 cup batter for each pancake. Serve hot with butter and honey or syrup with sausage or ham. Yield: 1 1/2 dozen griddle cakes.

Fruit Mixture Can Be Soup or Sauce
A Caribbean Combo is a very enticing name and it could stand for many combinations. However, the intriguing mixture we are recommending today calls for 1 cup cranberry juice cocktail, 2 jars (4 1/2 oz. each) strained peaches and 2 ripe bananas, mashed. Combine all the ingredients and chill.

Serve icy cold in soup cups as an appetizer and garnish with sour cream. Or serve over ice cream or fruit for dessert. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Two Pa. Cities Approve Sunday Sale of Liquor

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Public sales of liquor, wine and beer on Sunday will be legal — in a limited way — in Pennsylvania shortly. It's the first such dent in the state's centuries-old blue law.

Actually, it's a pretty small dent. It will be legal only to buy the drinks in Philadelphia and, probably, Pittsburgh hotels, and then only between 1 p.m. and 10 p.m. in rooms customarily used for serving food. The change is expected to boost the number of conventions.

Philadelphia voters approved the Sunday sales in Tuesday's primary by an unofficial count of 156,017 to 74,381.

The liquor proposition maintained a steady margin of almost 2-1 in Pittsburgh, where paper ballots slowed the count. With 173 precincts of 436 reported, it was 26,331 in favor and 14,607 against.

Man Shares His Grain Equally With Animals

ROME (AP) — Man feeds as much of the world's grain to animals as he consumes himself. A survey published today by the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) which reported that in recent years animals have been eating about 50 per cent of the world's total grain production.

Miss Michigan's Sister Wins Title of Her Own

DOWAGIAC (UPI) — Sherry Shepard is showing the same kind of beauty queen ability as her older sister Donna Jean, the current Miss Michigan. Sherry's selection as District Sweetheart for district eight of the DeMolay, a youth organization, was announced.

Miss Shepard will now compete for the State Sweetheart title later this year.

Softball Runs Are Cheap

Runs were cheap in Tuesday night's City Softball League action at Beaudette and Northside parks. A total of 57 runs crossed the plate in four contests.

Langdon's Boat Livery walloped Auburn Bar 14-4, and 300 Loungers blasted Universal Oil Seal 14-1 in International League games at Beaudette.

In Continental League activity at Northside, the Northside Rockets outscored Stadium Inn

11-11, and Harry's Mideaway

whipped St. Joseph's Hospital 17-9. Four different players made two hits apiece and Bill Hunter hurled a two-hitter to feature Loungers' easy win in a contest halted after three innings by the 10-run rule. John Mayer garnered three safes to spark Langdon's one-sided triumph.

Northside routed Stadium Inn in a 12-hit assault, three by Bud Sabourin. The Rockets scored 10 runs in the fourth stanza. North end's Joe Lipka and Stadium's Jim McKinnon each slammed a home run.

Harry's launched a 12-hit attack against St. Joe with Ed Johnson and Jim Brown both bagging three safe blows to lead the lop-sided victory.

Grosse Pointe Tops PCH, Cranbrook

Grosse Pointe's track team served notice Tuesday at Wiser Field that it would be a top contender for state Class A honors this Saturday at East Lansing.

The Blue Devils ruled past defending state champion Pontiac Central and Class B hopeful Cranbrook in convincing fashion.

Grosse Pointe thralldom good for 44 points, PCH was second with 38, and Cranbrook scored 34. The winners were first in six events.

Cranbrook's Barney Crouse posted two wins. The hard running athlete turned in victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. He failed to place in the broad jump, as he was captured in last Saturday's regional action.

Jim Nelson gave Central its only first in the running events. He took the half mile in 2:01.4. Coach Dean Wilson's charges fared better in the field events.

Dick McCauley won the broad jump with a good leap of 21 feet 10 inches. Brad Pitts, PCH, tossed the shot 58 feet 6 inches.

Charles Montgomery was in a four-way tie for first in the pole vault and Paul Brown tied for honors in the high jump.

Grosse Pointe scored points in 13 of the 15 events. Only in the broad jump were the Blue Devils blanked. PCH jumpers gained three of the four places.

Central's crack mile relay team was a disappointing second to Grosse Pointe. The Chiefs trailed badly after the first half mile and good efforts by Bob Crockett and Ken Hyrd failed to overcome the deficit.

The Blue Devils posted a good time of 3:24.4 in this event. This clocking was bettered by the Chiefs in winning the regional.

The Chiefs failed to score a point in both hurdles, won by Grosse Pointe runners. Central's 880 relay team was last. This meant no points in that event.

SHORT NOTES FROM THE BOWLING SCENE.

The ABC tournament ends a 79-day run at Cobo Hall Sunday afternoon. Howe's Lanes, captained by Bill Wood, and Bill Kirkland's Crosslin Real Estate Five of Rochester compete tonight. Pfeiffer's-South Oakland and Torrance Oil of Birmingham will complete the list of local contestants Thursday.

No trial date has been set yet in the lawsuit filed here by Joe Bonfiglio, Dom Mazza and Frank Benning against AMF brought about by the firm's contract to supply "300" Bowl with lanes and equipment. Work on the new establishment on Cass Lake Rd. near M59 is going along well.

It seemed like more people were following the battle for the championship at the recent ABC Masters. Popular area star Joe Joseph won the less important affair backed by a strong cheering section.

Furness Press Bowlerama, king Joe Myers helped lead Don's Barber Shop to the Rochester Major Classic crown. Enjoyed Madison Jr. High bowling banquet where Sundry Loney stole the show by taking home four trophies. Attendance records amazing for loop.

Dale Seavoy of Birmingham won $3,250 at National Invitational whipping such stars as Steve Nagy and Jack Aydelotte. Many area keg followers saw Roy Lown beat fellow unknown Rich Robette for title in telecast.

Joe Robichaud of Motor Inn "B" league beats Mrs. Myre with 16 years of perfect attendance. He will be vice-president next season. Huron Bowl had one student bowler from five schools during the past bowling year.

Monroe Moore continues his bowling tour in the All-American Classic Thursday through Sunday at Dallas, Texas. Edgewood Country Club in Commerce Township may add bowling alleys.

Pontiac women Shirley Pointer and Gerry Hintz will bowl in the BPAA National Women's Doubles Championship tournament Saturday and Sunday in Latham, N.Y. Each will have a Detroit partner in the $10,000 meet.

Chet Jerome's 780 was the best series in the Farmington Major Classic this year. Perfect games by Bill Beckman and Mort Friedman topped the singles department while Carl Klenon paced the averages at 208. Champ Carver Jewelry had high series of 3550 and Team 7 the best game of 1150.

Norm Andress of Pontiac may be trying to beat himself when he bowls with his wife May 27 in the final round of the Elks Mixed Doubles tourney. He and Marjorie Thorne have been 1st all the way at 1327.

Latest check reveals 41 sanctioned 300 games in Detroit during 1960-61. Record is 55 posted last year. Bill Bull had high series 731 and high average 207 in Cecil Ward Major Classic.

Lane Is Unanimous in 10-Round Victory

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI) — Veteran lightweight Kenny Lane punched out a unanimous 10-round decision last night over Manuel Gonzalez of Odessa before a crowd of about 1,500.

Lane, from Muskegon, Mich., staggered his opponent in the third round for the only thing near a knockdown. Lane weighed 137 pounds, Gonzalez 140.

Lane, ranked ninth by the National Boxing Association, is campaigning in Texas hoping for another shot at Joe Brown's title. He lost a unanimous decision to Brown two years ago.

Lane's southpaw style seemed to confuse Gonzalez, second-ranked welterweight in Texas, but the fight was close.

Titan Nine Rallies to Beat 'M' Again, 8-7

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit overcame a fourth inning 7-0 deficit yesterday to surprise Big Ten leader Michigan 8-7 for the second time this year.

The Titans, behind the relief pitching of Dave DeBuschere, rallied for 4 runs in the sixth, a single run in the seventh, and a final three run burst in the ninth.

DeBuschere, the Titans' star waterfoll player, struck out 12 Wolverines in 4 2/3 innings of relief work and belted out three singles. His third hit provided two runs and tied the score 7-7 in the ninth. Fred Bowers knocked the winning run across the plate with a single.

Mike Joyce, who had won nine straight games overall for Michigan, was given the loss.

WESTERN BLUNDERS
KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan blundered through eight errors yesterday as Wisconsin won the second game of a two-game series 9-1.

Western was limited to seven hits by pitcher Jim Schack. Pat Richter led the Badgers with a single and a double in four tries. Wisconsin won the first game Monday 10-8.

TWO FOR WAYNE
DETROIT (AP)—Wayne State swept a non-conference baseball doubleheader from Hillsdale yesterday 5-2 and 4-2.

A double by George Agin in the bottom of the seventh lining scored outfielder Tom Riggs and broke a 2-2 deadlock in the first game.

Wayne then grabbed an early 4-1 lead in the second contest, mostly on the big bat of catcher Bob Inman. Inman hit three for three, scoring twice himself and driving in a third Wayne score.

Hillsdale is now 6-4 for the season while Wayne has a 10-8 record.

ALMA (AP)—Alma goes after its meeting only a doubleheader split 10th MIAA baseball pennant in 11 with Albion to take the flag. years today with its best pitcher. A doubleheader sweep by Albion Jack Osborne, well rested and would give it the championship.

Thinking About Car Insurance?

SAVE THE WAY SO MANY DO!

More than 500,000 Michigan people are insured with the Exchange at the Auto Club . . . far more policyholders than any other company selling car insurance in Michigan.

These people are Good Drivers and, therefore, enjoy insurance rates that have always been among the very lowest in our state.

If you are a Good Driver, you should save the way so many of your friends do. Call your nearby Auto Club office and apply!

Plan to Continue Winter Fishing for Rainbow Trout

Thirty Oakland County Lakes Remain Open

Experts Claim Waters Underfished for Trout in Michigan

Oakland County fishermen who like to try for rainbow trout in the winter have received good news from the Conservation Department.

Ice fishing for rainbows probably is here to stay in Michigan, according to A. B. Cook, head of the department's fish division.

Thirty Oakland lakes were opened to rainbow fishing last winter. The season closed at the end of February on more than 200 such lakes in the state.

This was the second special season and the state fish experts say creel commodes have decided there will be no harm in keeping the lakes open in the future.

"The take wasn't as big as we expected (last winter)," said Cook, "but it is quite a popular sport and I see no reason why it shouldn't continue."

No rivers or streams are open to winter trout fishing.

CANT REPRODUCE

The theory is that rainbows don't reproduce in lakes. The few not hatchery-reared ones are lost in tributary streams. Lakes thus can be opened for extended seasons without any worry over protecting the brood stock.

A good many ice fishermen, too, caught rainbows while fishing for perch or other fish. State conservation men figured this was wasteful mortality, not to mention the law enforcement problem they posed.

Experiments on several lakes led to the conclusion that winter seasons were feasible.

State fish experts survey lakes to determine which can be designated for special seasons without any concern that the rainbow population will be seriously depleted.

"These are all lakes where we feel the rainbow population isn't being adequately harvested," Cook said.

Only in a few small lakes has the take been more than what was thought it should be and these, removed from the list of winter season lakes this year.

"Only in a very few did the take approach those of the special fall season in September, October and November."

WHY NOT BROWNS?

Brook trout were not included in the special seasons and the rainbow lakes contain virtually none of them. Experiments showed that brooks are especially vulnerable to ice fishing and would be caught in far greater numbers than rainbows. Cook feels there is no reason for not having an open season on browns, the hardest of the three species to catch.

The three-month fall season, on both rivers and lakes, gives anglers the chance to take rainbows nine months out of the year.

Experts Study Road Losses

Don't Fence Me In-Deer

LANSING (AP)—How high can deer jump?

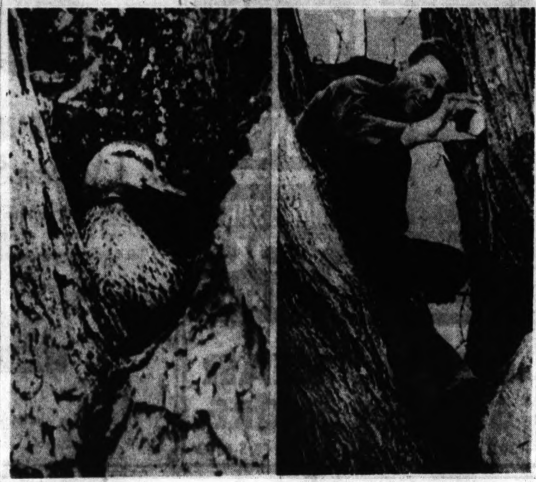

State highway engineers would like to know so that they can plan protection for motorists zipping along the state's superhighway system.

Hundreds of deer are killed on Michigan highways each year and damage to cars runs into millions of dollars. The hazard is increased on the freeway system where cars roll along at 65 or 70 miles an hour.

Four-foot fences topped with a strand of barbed wire border the Interstate Highway system, but they're not designed to contain deer. State conservation experts figured the department would have to build fences 11 or 12 feet high to contain deer.

Fences of that height pose a considerable expense problem. The federal government, which foots the bill for 90 per cent of the interstate system, probably wouldn't share in the expense of deer control, the department said.

Engineers conceded that conservationists and animal lovers might

Vibration of Lure Is Important

DOWAGIAC —Ever wonder how those strange-looking fishing lures are dreamed up?

Maybe they look like nothing that swims, but there's a logical reason for them looking the way they do, says Earl Miller, director of research and development for James Heddon's Sons.

And, since the firm figures it costs $40,000-$50,000 to put a lure on the market, Miller does his best to make sure it will catch fish as well as fishermen.

"We figure out what we want a lure to do, then we make one that does it," Miller said. The tall, graying designer held up something called a "Deep 6."

The lure looks roughly like a putty knife.

How do you know it will catch fish?

"Well," Miller said, "we know from experience pretty much what type of action will attract fish, but we test them under actual fishing conditions. We have a group of expert fishermen who field test the lures before we put them on the market."

But still, why don't they look more like fish?

"I think it's much more the way a lure acts than the way it looks," Miller said. "The action of a lure represents to a fish—as far as we can tell—the flash of a frigate mackerel or frog trying to get away."

"The sound also attracts them. I was skin-diving watching some lures and how they work under water when the water became oily and I couldn't see the lures. But I could still hear them. So I got the idea sound must be a big factor in attracting fish. This includes the vibrations sent out by the lure plus hook rattle."

"We kept working on the idea and came up with our line of sonic lures. These have proven extremely successful," Miller said.

Miller said he whittles the first pilot models of lures out of plastic. They are tested in a long tank in the firm's basement. More models are made and sent to the field testing crew of guides, outdoor writers, etc.

Once the decision is made to market the lure, the final design of the plastic body is set up and the bodies are ordered from an outside firm. When they arrive they are polished and checked. Then weights, hooks and the eye for the line are attached.

Heddon started making plugs in his kitchen and finally turned to selling them. F. C. Woods of Alliance, Ohio, put his "Expert" on the market at about the same time Heddon's "Dovagiac" appeared, so honors apparently were divided.

State Land Oil Leases Placed on Auction Block

The State Conservation Commission has approved putting oil and gas rights on 43,325 acres of state-owned land on the auction block.

No date was set for the auction of the leases.

Most of the land is located in the northern Lower Peninsula, where oil drilling activity has picked up in recent years, a commission spokesman said.

One parcel, about 470 acres, in the west half of the Algonquin state park was included in the lands up for auction. A stringent regulation of the department prohibits drilling on state park or recreation areas unless reserves are being drained because of nearby wells.

State forest lands are also subject to drilling for oil or gas only after the commission approves.

The attorney for a Grand Rapids prospector has warned the commission it faces possible "boycott" of state oil leases.

ISSUES WARNING

The commission's stand against drilling for oil or gas in state parks might arouse resentment in the "oil fraternity" and result in the boycott, Grand Rapids attorney John Carey told the commission at a recent informal meeting.

Oil prospector Neil Wagenaar, Carey said, has an oil and gas lease in Ludington state park over 3,175 acres that he can't touch.

He asked the commission to reverse its decision or refund Wagenaar's $3,500 in bond and lease payments.

When Wagenaar bid for the lease, Carey said, "He had only one thing in mind — and that was the prospect of a successful oil well."

To the boycott threat, commissioner Stanley A. Cain of Ann Arbor answered:

"I can't imagine oil men passing up oil on state land just to spite the conservation commission."

Commission chairman Joseph P. Rahilly of Newberry, told Carey the commission was not prepared to reconsider the ban — a legally adopted policy — but added it was possible to appeal the commission's refusal to grant Wagenaar a drilling permit.

Nicholas V. Olds, attorney for the department, advised the commission he had received a letter from the attorney general of Louisiana saying that the federal government is trying to claim the title to river lands at the mouths of major rivers.

ST. CLAIR FLATS

Land in the St. Clair flats near the St. Clair River might be affected, Olds said, and Michigan was asked to join Louisiana in fighting the claim.

The commission was told the department has given up plans for this year to lower the water level in Martiny Lake near Big Rapids. An injunction was obtained by local land-owners to halt the draw-down.

The project has been cancelled for the year because the draw-down, to be effective, should have been started by May 15, the commission was told.

Chris Jones, Debbie Willson and Renee Ross each won two events in the sixth annual spring schooling show Sunday at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Chris was first in the open jump and then won honors in horsemanship under 13 years old, over fences. Miss Willson took first in the horsemanship under 13 and also won the working hunter hack.

Renee Ross was winner in junior working hunter (PHA) and junior F.E.I.

Other winners were Whitley Calkin, green working under saddle; Allison Cram, horsemanship 14-17; Elizabeth Bridge, beginner's horsemanship; Karen Showbo, horsemanship 14-17 over fences; Robert Egan, green working hunter; Bob Sample, open jumpers; and Sue Foley, open working hunter.

Peter Foley placed second in two classes. Jimmy Williams rode the second and third place horses in open jumpers and junior F.E.I.

Beaver Season Shows Increase in Success

LANSING (UPI)—The recent beaver and otter season showed a marked increase in trapping success, Conservation Department officials said today.

The beaver take rose to 16,336 from 14,442 last year and the otter kill was a record 988. This year's beaver harvest was third highest on record, surpassed only by 1953 and 1958.

Seedlings Available

Approximately 2,000,000 red pine seedlings and white spruce transplants are still available at state nurseries for spring reforestation, the Conservation Department reminds landowners.

Heddon got its start just before the turn of the century. James Heddon, the story goes, was whittling on the bank of Dovagiac Creek while waiting for a fishing companion. He tossed a stick into the water and saw a bass hit it.

Heddon started making plugs in his kitchen and finally turned to selling them. F. C. Woods of Alliance, Ohio, put his "Expert" on the market at about the same time Heddon's "Dovagiac" appeared, so honors apparently were divided.

Duck Outlook Poor After Slow Runoff

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Duck hunters won't be heartened by the latest news from the Canadian prairies.

Ducks Unlimited reports "the spring runoff in the prairie region has been disappointing with almost no supply (of water) to sloughs and ponds."

Habitat conditions are said to be poor and rain, is badly needed in many areas if the necessary waterfowl production is to be achieved. Otherwise, shorter seasons and bag limits might be ordered this fall.

The report indicates that the hopes for runoff after a good snowfall in February failed to materialize. An early and prolonged spring that allowed available water to seep into the ground is blamed.

Angus Gavin, general manager of Ducks Unlimited, said that "a rainy spring and summer could result in good production, but if dry and warm it could be poor."

The Canadian prairies are the nesting grounds for over 75 per cent of the North American waterfowl.

CONTEST WAITING FOR ENTRIES

Where are the big fish?

Only one division has a leader in The Pontiac Press' annual fishing derby. Rainbow, northern pike and bluegill divisions are open. Black bass become eligible when the season starts next month.

Several phone calls have been made checking the rainbow class, but no fish has yet appeared that was heavier than John Adams' 3 1/4 pounder. The Clarkston angler caught the trout opening morning in Schoolhouse Lake.

Savings bonds worth $50 each will be awarded to the anglers turning in the heaviest pike and bass by the time the contest closes in September. There will be $25 bonds for the winning rainbow and bluegill.

May is a good month for big northern. Some good bluegills are taken this time of year. The contest was opened six weeks earlier than in past years to make it possible for these early catches to be eligible.

Trout fishing on Oakland lakes and streams has slowed considerably. The eight streams planted with trout are pretty well fished out and the lake rainbows are always difficult.

Calicos are biting at Lakeville Lake and bluegills have been showing up in Upper Spring and Spring Lakes. The walleye run has started in the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers but the fish are still small.

WHAT BIRD IS THIS?

Mrs. Mark Fessenden of Maddy Lane, Keego Harbor, is having a problem identifying a bird she observed feeding in the back yard of her home.

"It has a black body like a starling," she reported, "and a bright yellow stripe about a half inch wide on the neck. Its head is black. The bird is about the same size as a starling."

"I saw one bird at first, but five or six came along a little later. They stayed about two days and then apparently left. I haven't seen them for a couple of days."

Mrs. Fessenden looked through several bird books and also had friends checking their information for the species. No one has been able to come up with an answer.

Possibly a reader of this column can help.

Sewage Plant Cost Reduced

Mosser Has Low Bid; City Only Step Away From Bond Sale

The sewage treatment plant expansion probably will cost "a lot less" than anticipated, City Manager Walter K. Willman said after major construction bids were opened at City Hall yesterday.

Willman reported to the City Commission last night that the bond issue to finance the expansion "probably won't have to be as large as planned."

The city is only a step away from advertising a $3.34-million bond issue for sale.

General construction bids yesterday were far below the estimated $2.8-million cost of this portion of the project.

Of 15 bidders submitted, the lowest apparently was from Mosser Construction Inc., of Fremont, Ohio, in the amount of $1,929,378.

This is about $900,000 less than the consulting engineers, Jones, Henry and Williams, estimated it would cost.

Last week, the lowest bid for a big pipeline in the project was about $100,000 less than estimated. The bid was $28,206.

Harold Kelley of Jones, Henry and Williams took the general construction bids back to the firm's headquarters in Toledo, Ohio, for use in its study.

It is expected that the engineers' recommendation to the City Commission next week on awarding contracts will indicate how much less than anticipated it is to be spent of the expansion.

ON GENERAL CONSTRUCTION

Yesterday's bids covered general construction of new buildings at the new Auburn Avenue-Opdyke Road site, plus renovations at the existing plant on East Boulevard at Featherstone Road. The pipeline would connect the two facilities.

Four other bidders were today below the Mosser company. The fourth lowest, J. A. Fredman Inc. of Pontiac, was only about $35,000 higher than Mosser.

The 14 other bids:

Two Tiny Shepards Blast-Off in Space

Some 75 kindergarten pupils at Central Elementary School did the federal government one better yesterday. They engineered two astronaut launchings instead of one.

The children who gather each day in Dorothy Hollister's kindergarten room were so impressed by the recent flight of Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. that they decided to try it themselves.

Working with wood blocks gathered from every corner of every classroom, the morning and afternoon classes began building a huge superstructure that reached from floor to ceiling.

Last week the paper fuselage was completed, and mock launching preparations began for the orange, blue and tan space ship standing 8 feet tall and 4 feet in diameter.

The launching was postponed once, however, due to "unfavorable cloud cover," according to a team of junior meteorologists.

Working with wood blocks gathered from every corner of every classroom, the morning and afternoon classes began building a huge superstructure that reached from floor to ceiling.

Yesterday at 11 a.m., Bobby Hardenburg became the first of the morning class when he blasted off. The afternoon astronaut was Dennis Ketterer.

"The flight was very enjoyable," reported the two boys. Robert said he "saw the moon," and Dennis reported "observing satellites and other space ships."

Every pupil played a part in the historic project, from launching to recovery of the "little shepards" of Central School.

Michigan to 'Sound Off' Next Week

LANSING (AP)—Michigan will "sound off" its supporters, throw out its chest and tell the world next week that it stands second to none among the nation's 50 states.

The eighth annual Michigan week, the only celebration of its kind in the country, is hailed by the state heading up the May 22-27 event as "the greatest observance of its kind ever held in any state."

"Its impact in spreading the true story of Michigan, everywhere will be unprecedented," said John H. Carlson, Battle Creek insurance executive and general chairman of the celebration.

This year's theme is "Michigan's New Horizons" and the slogan is "Michigan Marching Forward."

Most of the state's eight million citizens will get a chance to take part in one or more of the hundreds of events planned in scores of communities.

At Bay City, the U.S.S. Lyned D. McCormick, a missile-firing destroyer built by the Defco Shipbuilding Co., will start a trip through the St. Lawrence Seaway Tuesday, bound for Boston and formal commissioning.

Port Huron will stage a "John B. Swainson Day" Wednesday in recognition of the "home town boy" who became governor of Michigan this year.

Highland Park citizens will erect a "rent city" on the grounds of the old Ford Motor Co. plant, putting on display industrial, business, government and school exhibits in an area as large as a football field.

GOING INTERNATIONAL

Leslie M. Frost, prime minister of Ontario, and other provincial officials will make it an international event with a visit to Michigan starting May 24. They'll be escorted by their counterparts in state government.

"Miss Michigan, 1961," will be chosen at Midland.

All the schools in Saginaw County will receive state flags.

The industrial manufacturers of Detroit will honor business and financial firms that have done the best job of advising Michigan during the year.

Sanity Commission Ruling: We Can't Stand Trial

Pull All Troops Out of Laos—Rusk Demand

Secretary Says Reds Violate Truce; Offers a 3-Point Neutrality Plan

GENEVA (UPI)—Russia demanded today that the SEATO alliance renounce its pledge to protect Laos and called for withdrawal of all foreign forces from that Southeast Asian kingdom within 30 days after a peace settlement.

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk today demanded the withdrawal of all military forces from troubled Laos and charged the Communists are violating the cease fire there.

Rusk told the East-West foreign ministers' conference on Laos that the United States is willing to pull out its military mission from Laos if Communist North Viet Nam does the same.

Rusk offered the conference a three-point plan to turn Laos into a neutral country removed from the pressures of the cold war so it can make "progress toward more stable political institutions, economic well-being and social justice."

In calling for Laotian neutrality, Rusk insisted that absolutely all foreign military personnel should be withdrawn.

"There is no problem about the withdrawal of the limited U.S. military personnel assisting with the training and supply of government forces," Rusk said. He insisted that the Communists from North Viet Nam who have been assisting the rebels must also leave the country.

AGAINST U.S. TOOL

He said the United States does not want to see Laos "as a staging area or as a thoroughfare for agents of subversion, saboteurs or guerrilla bands to operate against neighboring countries."

Rusk called for effective international machinery to insure the cease fire and charged that the Communist led Pathet Lao is repeatedly violating it.

"The meeting was told that a new report from the Canadian-Indian-Polish control commission had been received. A British spokesman said it confirmed that 'some sporadic fighting is continuing.' But he said it was not immediately clear whether this is significant."

Rusk said the fighting must be stopped "as a matter of first importance, and 'proper instructions' must be issued to the combatants." (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Mrs. Lassiter 'Emotionally Exhausted'

Not Known Whether Findings Will Result in Mistrial

DETROIT (AP)—Circuit Judge Joseph D. Rashid today declared a mistrial in the murder-conspiracy trial of Mrs. Nelle Lassiter in order that she may be committed to Ionia State Hospital, a mental hospital.

DETROIT (AP)—A sanity commission of three doctors today ruled that Mrs. Nelle Lassiter is unable to continue to stand trial for murder and conspiracy in the 1959 slaying of her husband.

Dr. Ralph Johnson, Dr. Russell Costello and Dr. Alfred C. Labine, agreed following separate examinations of the 38-year-old defendant at Jennings Memorial Hospital, that she is suffering from "emotional exhaustion" and is not capable of continuing with the trial at this time.

Circuit Judge Joseph D. Rashid appointed the commission after a motion by Mrs. Lassiter's attorney for a mistrial.

Dr. Labine and Dr. Costello said Mrs. Lassiter's condition was such that she "is suffering from hysterical catatonic reaction."

The commission said the blonde defendant is capable of understanding the charges against her and court proceedings in general but is "incapable of assisting in her defense."

Dr. Johnson, Mrs. Lassiter's personal physician, said the defendant indicated in his interview with her that she wanted to continue the proceedings. He said he told her that to do so might have serious consequences.

The commission recommended that Mrs. Lassiter, of 1800 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, remain in the hospital for "a minimum of a week, and maybe more," for treatment.

"This patient is very close to a nervous breakdown," Johnson said, "there is no mental derangement or insanity, but this condition will lead to insanity if not in private with her attorney."

"As far as I am concerned her malady is nervous exhaustion," Dr. Johnson said, "it is not insanity or mental derangement, but rest is required or these things might be a result."

Madison Heights Man Killed as Car Is Hit by Beer Truck

A young Madison Heights draftsman was killed early today when his small foreign car was hit broadside by a beer truck when its brakes failed on a grade in Bloomfield Hills.

Fatally injured was James E. Schultz, 28, of 36225 Whittier St., an architectural draftsman at Swanson Associates in Bloomfield Hills.

Two other persons were injured in the multiple collision accident which occurred shortly before 8 a.m.

Schultz, who was only several hundred yards from his place of business when the accident happened, was traveling west on Long Lake Road when he was struck broadside by a van-type beer truck driven by W. Leonard Cotter of 76 Second St., Pontiac.

Cotter was uninjured.

Schultz's car was demolished as the large truck hit it and then flipped over on the small automobile.

BRAKE'S FAIL

Cotter, in a statement to Oakland County Asst. Prosecutor Robert Sterling, said he was traveling south on Woodward when he saw the traffic light at Long Lake Road turn amber.

It came out after a local newspaper said Lee had ordered his men to remain neutral in the crisis.

The junta met today with some captive members of Chang's cabinet while troops backing the coup took up defensive positions on the outskirts of Seoul.

There were no reports of open military opposition to the army rebels who seized control of Seoul early Tuesday. But the rebel troops dug foxholes on the north-south highway.

Report Army Leader Joins Korean Junta

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Radio Seoul said today Lt. Gen. Lee Han-lin, commander of South Korea's powerful 1st Field Army, has pledged full support to objectives of the military junta now running the government.

If true, this is a setback for both the elected regime of Premier John M. Chang and for U.S. Lt. Gen. Carter B. Magruder, the commander of United Nations forces who had urged the rebel junta to return power to the regular authorities.

The radio station, controlled by the military committee of Lt. Gen. Chang Do-Young, broadcast what it said was a statement of full support by Lee.

The statement declared all officers and men under Lee's command, which helps guard the Korean true line as part of Magruder's forces, would wholly cooperate to complete the junta's revolutionary task.

That task, as outlined by the junta, is to wipe out political corruption and incompetence and rebuild South Korea.

The radio said the statement was issued through the information officer of the 1st Field Army's headquarters in Wonsu, 60 miles east of Seoul.

Unconfirmed reports said Lee made the statement after he held separate conferences with Magruder and with Brig. Gen. Yoon Pa-il, a member of the junta.

Might as Well Smile: More Rain Coming

Here comes that rain again! The weatherman says cloudy tonight and Thursday with occasional rain.

Temperatures will be a little warmer tonight, the low about 49. The high is expected to hit 61 tomorrow. Morning northeasterly winds 10 to 15 miles per hour will become east to southeast tonight and northeast again Thursday.

For the next five days temperatures will average 52 to 62 degrees below the normal high of 66 to 72 and normal low of 43 to 49. Thursday will be rather cool, with little day-to-day changes thereafter.

Precipitation will total four to six-tenths inches as rain tonight or tomorrow.

Thirty-seven was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. the mercury had climbed to 60 at 1 p.m.

Press Will Publish Annual City Report

The 1960 annual report of the City of Pontiac will be published as a supplement to The Pontiac Press Saturday.

The Centennial is the theme for this year's report, and a big color reproduction of the Centennial Seal will dominate the cover of the supplement.

There'll be a special section inside on the Centennial year, as well as many photographs and descriptions of the activities and functions of the city.

This is the third year that The Press has published the report.

12 Are Arrested for Smuggling

Said to Have Tricked Unknowing Immigrants Into Importing Drugs

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. — Federal narcotics agents arrested 12 men in New York today in an international drug smuggling ring, said Westchester Dist. Atty. Robert Trainor.

Trainor said the group was accused of smuggling $50 million dollars worth of heroin into the United States in the last year.

The district attorney identified Vincent Masro of Manhattan and Frank Casuso of Brooklyn as the top men of the group arrested.

Kennedy in Ottawa to Appeal for Cooperation All Must Fight Soviet Growth

JFK and Diefenbaker in Huddle but Canada May Be Balky

OTTAWA (AP)—President Kennedy met today with Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker to outline what the United States expects of its neighbor by way of helping protect Latin America and other areas from Communist designs.

The two leaders left behind the pages of the President's state visit for a brass tacks discussion of the aims of the Kennedy trip. Those are known to include a request for Canadian money and moral support to help shore up Latin-American nations.

CANADA TO BALK? There were indications that Canada would balk.

Kennedy and Diefenbaker went into their huddle in the prime minister's office after the President had laid a wreath at the base of the Canadian National War Memorial.

Prior to that, Kennedy had talked briefly with U.S. Embassy employees and told them they served not only their country but the cause of freedom.

About 200 members of the embassy staff and their families packed the small marble-clad lobby of the embassy office building opposite Ottawa's Parliament to hear the chief executive.

In these "very difficult hard-core days," Kennedy said, diplomats must be performing "mutual service to the cause of the North American continent."

Kennedy drove from Government House, where he and Mrs. Kennedy are staying, to the embassy building in an open car. He wore a black topcoat and carried a hat.

They are performing "mutual service to the cause of the North American continent," Kennedy said.

The Day in Birmingham Bloomfield Cubs Donate for Quorton Bleachers

BIRMINGHAM — For the second straight year, the Bloomfield Village Cub Scouts, Den 18, have presented a gift check to the city to purchase bleachers for the Quorton Elementary School field.

A check for $335 has been accepted by the City Commission and will be used to buy two additional sets of steel-framed bleachers for the school's baseball diamond, presently assigned to Little League teams.

The Cub scout pack made a similar donation to the city in May 1956. The bleachers purchased with the money now are in use at another Quorton School field.

J. J. Rinehart, treasurer of the city school board, in presenting the check to the city, said: "We are very happy to be able to do this as well as proper seating facilities more parents will attend the Little League baseball games."

This will allow the parents to become more interested and become more attached to the summer recreation program.

Bennett Roof, incumbent on the Birmingham Board of Education, will be unopposed in his bid for reelection in the June 12 annual school election.

Root was the only candidate to file a nominating petition for the four-year term.

Donald Hays of Birmingham has been named secretary of the Michigan Archaeological Association at its annual meeting held in East Lansing.

Edward W. Gillis of Grand Rapids was elected president of the association.

Robert E. Collins Service for Robert E. Collins, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collins Jr., 521 Fairfax St., will be 3 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church, Burien.

Kelley said that reception of the kids completed a "tremendous amount of work" for the contractors, prospective suppliers, subcontractors, city personnel and the consulting engineers.

He estimated his firm spent $2,000 manhours preparing its proposals, distributing more than 30,000 blueprints and 35,000 sheets of specifications.

Thirty-one general contractors took out bids before the bidding, as did 25 subcontractors and about 55 suppliers, Kelley said.

The American Incinerator Corp. complained that the specifications for the incinerator at the new site were such that it couldn't enter a competitive bid. In a letter to the commission, the company asserted that only one firm — not American Incinerator — makes a product approved by the specifications.

Kelley answered the complaint, saying a written report to the commission that of the two types of incinerators suited to the plant, one is produced by only one company but the style recommended for Pontiac is produced by two or three.

He said American Incinerator's product works best for garbage and rubbish, but not sewage sludge.

The type of incinerator recommended for Pontiac "is the most economical and most satisfactory for the job," he said.

The commission accepted Kelley's explanation and flew away of the entire industry combined.

Travelers' Christopher Saint May Lose Status

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Will St. Christopher go the way of St. Philomena?

Some Catholic scholars believe there is a good chance he will.

The name of Philomena was stricken from the roll of saints by a recent Vatican directive.

Scholars of the Sacred Congregation of Rites decided there was no sound historical basis for attributing heroic martyrdom to a young girl whose body was found in a Roman catacomb in 1802.

Christopher is known as the "patron saint of travelers." Millions of Catholics, and a considerable number of non-Catholics, carry Christopher medals on trips, or display them from the dashboards of automobiles.

Catholic scholars who are dubious about St. Christopher's future status point to the text of the instruction issued by the Sacred Congregation of Rites at the time that Philomena was dropped.

It noted that there are hundreds of saints, of unquestioned historical authenticity, whom Catholics may venerate.

Therefore, the Vatican document said, it is "important to remove from diocesan calendars... the feast of those martyrs and bishops of ancient times about whom there is little or no historical knowledge outside of their names."

Popular legend, which has been enshrined in a famous woodcut by Albrecht Durer, depicts St. Christopher as a riverman who carried stranded travelers across a swollen stream on his shoulders.

Church scholars have found little historical evidence to corroborate the legend.

Claims June Summit Planned for Vienna

WASHINGTON — Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles said today President Kennedy has "under consideration" a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

VIENNA — An informal summit meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev is being planned for Vienna in early June, a high Austrian government official said today.

The official, who asked that his name be withheld, said that preparations for the get-together have already begun.

"However, it is still not quite certain whether the President and premier will actually come to Vienna. We have to wait until the announcement has been made in Washington and Moscow," the official said.

He added that, "It is highly probable the American President will come directly to Vienna from his Paris meeting with President De Gaulle which is due to end on June 2."

In Geneva Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said after a 45-minute talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk that he had nothing to say about a meeting between Kennedy and Khrushchev "for the time being."

Gromyko acknowledged that he and Rusk discussed "other questions" but the 14-nation conference on Laos which they are attending, but did not specify.

In Washington Acting Secretary of State Chester Bowles told reporters he couldn't say anything at all about reported negotiations.

REACH COMPROMISE Rusk made his charges as news dispatches from Laos said government and rebel delegates reached a surprise compromise agreement to form a coalition government and set up a joint military committee to police the peace.

But protracted negotiations have been required before the government and the military group are actually formed.

The report of agreement at Ban Namone also raised the possibility that a single Laotian delegation might eventually be sent to Geneva, to replace the separate delegations here representing the three rival factions.

Rusk took only slight notice of the attack on American policy made by Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi, saying Chen's statements about the United States "were not true and new—we have heard them often before."

The newspaper Hangkou Ibo reported that Lt. Gen. Lee Han-lin, head of South Korea's powerful 1st Field Army in the front line had ordered his men to remain neutral in the crisis.

FATHERLAND FIRST "We must bear in mind again and again," said Gen. Lee, "that under any political circumstances our enemy remains the Communists and our primary mission is to defend the fatherland against this enemy."

The junta met for 25 minutes with five members of Premier Chang's Cabinet, apparently trying to force official resignations in an attempt to put a stamp of legality on the seizure of government authority.

It first was reported that a sixth minister, Yun Pank-jung, was present at the meeting but later it developed that he was not there. His absence was not explained.

Income and Outgo! LANSING — State Treasurer Sanford A. Boun reports income into the state treasury during the past week at $23.8 million. Expenditures during the same period totaled $11.3 million and the treasury balance at the end of the week was $14.1 million.

At WAYNE STATE Wayne State announced Monday that it would try to cut enrollment by 20 per cent next fall, mostly by turning away prospective freshmen. Pay raises for staff and faculty were ruled out and the summer program is slated to be sharply cut.

Wayne was handed a $23.8 million cut in its appropriation for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Peris, which received a $102.5 million increase, also will institute cuts.

Board President Victor F. Spathe said that despite the increase, economies would be necessary because of previous commitments on an expansion program and a large projected enrollment increase. He said the school would try to limit enrollments and also would begin

OK Principles for Coalition

Rebels, Royal Envoys in First Big Breakthrough of Laos Negotiations

BAN NAMONE, Laos (AP)—The Royal Lao government and rebel delegates reached a surprise compromise agreement here today on principles of forming a coalition government and a joint military committee to help police the peace.

"I can't say anything about that at all," Bowles said when asked whether he could confirm reports that negotiations are under way for a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting.

"You've got to let the President handle that one," he added.

troop commission so it can get out in the field to observe the truce.

"Information from Laos indicates that rebel forces continue to attack in a number of localities and that rebel troop movements are occurring which are prejudicial to an effective cease fire," Rusk said.

After considerable diplomatic dickering, the conference finally opened Tuesday on the basis of a report from the control commission that in general fighting had ceased between the Pathet Lao and the pro-Western Royal Lao forces of Premier Boun Oum.

REACH COMPROMISE Rusk made his charges as news dispatches from Laos said government and rebel delegates reached a surprise compromise agreement to form a coalition government and set up a joint military committee to police the peace.

New Car Sales Climb Way Up

Run Higher 1st 10 Days in May Than Any Like Period Since Fall

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales averaged 18,348 daily in the first 10 days of May than they have for the opening 10 days of any month since last November, Ward's Automotive Reports said Tuesday.

The trade paper said sales averaged 18,348 daily in the first 10 days of May, a total of the nine selling days of 165,120. The daily sales average compared with 16,177 in the first 10 days of April, but ran 12.5 per cent below the same period of May 1960.

Ward's also predicted total sales for the month of May may reach 500,000 cars.

One of the main reasons given for the upswing was that of factory-sponsored contests for dealers and salesmen. One of the major contests just begun is offered by Chevrolet.

The division of General Motors reported an increase in daily sales of 210 units over the opening 10 days of May, more than the rest of the entire industry combined.

Planner Blamy's Resignation Is Accepted by City

City commissioners last night accepted "with regrets" the resignation of John F. Blamy, manufacturing manager of Pontiac Motor Division, from the City Planning Commission.

Blamy, who has served on the planning board since April 1958, explained that he is moving outside the city limits and can no longer serve under the residency requirements of the City Charter. He said he will continue to attend meetings, under the charter, until a successor is named.

Blamy is leaving his home at 338 W. Iroquois Road for a new one in Bloomfield Township.

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—The existence of a missile gap is open to argument. We are unquestionably behind Russia in some phases of the space race, but are ahead in others, and by the end of the 10-year program, the U.S. could conceivably come out on top.

The same cannot be said for oceanography. In this crucial field, which may be more important than space in the event of war, we lag far, far behind the Soviets.

In an effort to shorten the gap, Chairman Warren G. Magnuson and the Senate Commerce Committee have just reported out a bill to set up a 10-year national program of oceanography at an overall cost of approximately $700 million.

President Kennedy has thrown the full weight of the White House behind it, and for that reason even the House, which let a similar Senate-passed bill die last session, may now realize the urgency of the situation.

OCEAN IMPORTANT
Magnuson, who has long been

the chief congressional backer of ocean science, is convinced that sending a man to the bottom of the sea is more important than sending him into outer space.

Even some of the top space scientists, in testimony before the commerce committee, were inclined to agree that in the final analysis, knowing about the ocean depths may be more vital than what happens in space.

The Soviet fleet of submarines, conservatively estimated at 250, vastly exceeds that of the entire free world combined. Our own approximates only 130.

The Russians have a huge flotilla of fishing vessels in the Bering Sea near Alaska, and another strategically located off the African coastline. Every ship of any size harbors four or five oceanographers, who are busy charting the seas and coastal areas, testing currents, and studying the effect of the ocean on weather.

By comparison, we are babes in the woods. We do not have ocean scientists even on our Coast Guard ships. Only one college in America—the University of Washington—offers a degree in oceanography. Most of the college laboratories for marine science are at least 30 years old, and desperate for additional space.

Sixteen different departments of government, including commerce, Navy, Army, Treasury, public health, state, atomic energy, and the Bureau of Mines have a finger in the pie of oceanography.

Many of them are making grants to colleges to study certain phases of the subject, but each grant expires at the end of the year.

The Magnuson bill would set up a division of marine science within the National Science Foundation. Its duty would be to coordinate all phases of oceanography, eliminate duplication and overlapping. The program would be set up on a 10-year basis, like the space program, so that colleges and private industries could launch studies with some assurance of continuity.

JFK Will Stand Pat on Economy Moves

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has ruled out any massive spending efforts or income tax cuts to speed the reviving U.S. economy.

Kennedy has told Democratic congressional leaders he is going along with a group of his economic advisers who believe the recovery is solidly based despite a hard core of unemployment.

This was represented as a presidential decision to gamble on the effect of measures he already has recommended to Congress—some of which have passed, some still pending.

Some of the President's advisers are convinced that Kennedy's programs for housing, aid to education, highway construction, Social Security expansion, depressed areas and agriculture will give the economy's climb sufficient impetus.

There is a frank difference of opinion among his advisers, however. Some contend the recovery bears signs of weakness that can only be overcome by increased government spending or by tax cuts.

South Korean Army Stronger Than Leaders

(Editor's Note: John Randolph went to South Korea in December, 1960, when the Korean War was at its height. After the armistice he moved to the AP bureau in Tokyo, where he is now general executive coordinator. AP operations in Asia. Randolph is now in Japan, and from the background of 10 years of close observation of events in Korea, he tells what lies behind the coup in South Korea.)

By JOHN RANDOLPH

NEW YORK (AP) — The military coup in South Korea confirms long-standing fears that the little nation's huge army might someday prove too strong for its feeble semblance of democracy.

It also underlines deposed President Syngman Rhee's ironclad subordination of the armed forces to his civilian control.

Driver, 89, Dangerous

WORKINGHAM, England (AP) — William Hutchinson was convicted today for dangerous driving and his license was suspended for 20 years. He is 89.

For seven years after the end of the Korean War Rhee kept his 500,000 troops—one of the largest standing armies in the world—eating peacefully out of his hand. It took only 13 months after he fell from power in a students' revolt last year for the soldiers to turn on his well-intentioned but weak successors.

The coup was another blow to Western hopes for democracy in the new nations of Asia and Africa. Beginning with Egypt, army dissidents have either swept away or transformed parliamentary regimes in the Sudan, Iraq, Thailand, Burma, Pakistan, Turkey, Laos and the Congo.

U.S. Irritated

American irritation at the coup was shown immediately in the Seoul embassy's unusual call for support of Prime Minister John M. Chang's civilian government.

With the South Korean army in apparent physical control, this students' revolt and sent the aged president into exile in Honolulu.

The reasons for the coup are simple. The bulk of the army's enlisted men are drawn from Korea's rice farms, where grinding poverty and depression have lingered for years. Their officers—an unusually large share of the nation's educated and talented young men—are drawn from the educated classes of the towns and Korea's old nobility and country gentry.

Soviet Paper Denounces Iraq May Day Arrests

MOSCOW (AP) — The newspaper Trud denounced Iraq today for arresting Communists who led May Day celebrations in Baghdad. Trud said Premier Abdel Karim Kassam's government, which the Soviet Union had high hopes of influencing after it took power in 1958, is "conducting a broad offensive on the working class."

been dashed by confusion in Chang's government and among the politicians in Seoul. It is said widely in Korea that the farmers, the bulk of South Korea's 23 million population, are worse off than ever before. When rice crops are bad they are in deep poverty; when the crop is good the price falls.

Got 430 Traffic Tickets — Victim of Prejudice?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Herman Abrams, 69, retired postal clerk who says he received 430 traffic tickets in 40 years of driving, will get a new trial June 13 on nine traffic convictions.

Superior Court Judge Frank G. Swain set aside the convictions on ground that the punishment—a two-year jail sentence and $300 fine—indicated prejudice on the part of Municipal Judge Byron J. Walters.

Korean farmers' hopes for reforms and price supports — high after the 1960 revolution — have

Two hundred adult members and friends of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council met Tuesday evening at Madison Junior High School for the organization's annual May Council Meeting.

The affair combined recognition of graduating members of the Senior level program, tributes to leaders and the presentation of citations to friends of scouting in the community.

Practical speaker was the honorable Arthur E. Moore, well-known locally for his interest in youth affairs. His topic was "Youth", and his speech followed a preview showing of films taken at the recent 49th Birthday Jubilee by the council at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Following the opening flag ceremony, musical selections were presented by Crystalstars, girls' ensemble from Pontiac Northern High School. Rev. John Mulder of Walled Lake Methodist Church presented the invocation.

Citations for their interest and service to the local council were presented to John F. Ivory, Alfred Masini, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Christman, Janet Odell, Alice Reitmeyer and Marjorie Eicher.

Cookie chairman Mrs. Carlye Bragen announced the annual cookie sale results. The sale of more than 7,500 cookies brought profits for the individual troop treasuries of some $4,600. Balance of the cookie sale profits benefit the council's local Camp Sherwood near Lapeer.

Winning two weeks at the camp for their selling efforts were Carol Beamish, Brownie; Cindy Turnbull, Intermediate; and Sandra Bragen, Senior. In addition 41 other girls earned a weekend campout at the camp for their successful efforts.

Fashionette Club Hears Policemen Talk on Narcotics

Officers Marvin Blum and Gerald Navarro of the Pontiac Police Department showed a film and discussed the subject "Narcotics" at Tuesday's Fashionette Club meeting in Adam Shelly Library.

Mrs. Devere Bergquist won the weekly trophy for losing the most weight. Last week's winner was Mrs. Donald Hicks.

Three new members Mrs. Oscar Vandever, Mrs. Claude Key and Mrs. Hicks have been added to the club.

At next week's meeting members will put miniature golf after appointing the nominating committee for next year's officers.

Area women interested in the club, sponsored by Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, may attend meetings, held each Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Shelly Library.

MOMS Stitch for Hospital

An afternoon of sewing for Pontiac General Hospital followed a schoolgirl luncheon Tuesday for Unit 2, MOMS of America, at the home of Mrs. Frank VanHorn on Mechanic Street.

The MOMS state board card party May 29 at 8 p.m. at Sam's Civic Center, Clawson, was announced, also a Centennial open house June 21 at the North-South Street home of Mrs. Maude Place.

Mrs. Duncan McVean and Mrs. Edgar Thomas are attending the MOMS convention in Fairmont, Minn., this week.

Mrs. Clarence Hickmott of North Johnson Avenue will be hostess for the June 6 meeting.

Child Diseases Discussed for Twins' Mothers

The Twins' Mothers' Club heard Dr. Robert E. James, pediatrician, discuss childhood diseases at Thursday's meeting in the Young Women's Christian Association headquarters.

Fifty members and guests heard Dr. James emphasize the importance of polio immunization. The talk was followed by a question and answer session during which the doctor pointed out the dangers of aspirin over-dosage to children.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ted Nowakowski, Mrs. John Toski, Mrs. Rolland Armstrong and Mrs. James Cleary.

The club has four new members Mrs. Harry Meharg, Mrs. Frank Melina and Mrs. Frank Wall, both of Drayton Plains, and Mrs. George Van Horn. Five candidate members also are associated with the group.

The club's second annual dinner will be June 1 at Hotel Waldron.

Woman to Discuss Flowers on Altar

"Flower Arrangements for the Altar" will be the theme for a talk by Mrs. Wilson McClellan of Birmingham at a silver tea Thursday, sponsored by the altar guild of St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church. The affair will be in the undercroft of the church, located at Joslyn and Greenfield roads.

Mrs. Halsey Davidson and Mrs. George Kimber of Lake Orion are chairmen for the 2 p.m. meeting to which women of the area have been invited.

Plans Initiation

Mrs. Alexander McVean, royal matron of Esther Court, Order of the Amaranth, has announced a practice session for the order at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

An initiation of candidates is slated May 26.

Mrs. Thomas C. Cox was refreshments chairman for a meeting of the group Friday in Roosevelt Masonic Temple.

Church Groups Gather

Twenty-four members of the May-August Group of First Presbyterian Church attended the May luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. S. A. Warwick on South Josephine Avenue. Cohostesses were Mrs. Harold E. Howlett, Mrs. Herbert Wettlaufer and Mrs. Samuel Baillo.

Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin spoke on "Separation of Church and State" and Mrs. C. L. Muller gave the Bible study from the Book of St. John. Speaking on national missions, Mrs. Ted Koella called United Church Women "the seed and the sower."

Mrs. Ethel Moriarty, mother of the hostess, was a guest.

The June meeting will be with Mrs. E. H. Graham in Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Mahlon Benson Jr. of Old Orchard Drive Waterford Township was hostess to the January-March Group of First Presbyterian Church.

The Bible study was presented by Mrs. Carl H. Rehm.

FELLOWSHIP CLASS
The Fellowship Class of Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church met Saturday evening at the home of the Paul Sprague on West Stratmore Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. William Gaddis assisted the hosts.

Mrs. George Holts conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Omar Johnson gave devotions.

The next meeting will be at the home of the Leslie Bellis on Putnam Avenue.

TALK ON GOSPEL
The Rev. Warren H. Lawrence chose "The Mind Enriched Through the Gospel" for his topic at the Mothers' Day banquet in Community Bible Baptist Church.

Mrs. Kisse Lee, oldest mother present, spoke in "Regeneration, Then Peace Through Christ."

STANDISH GROUP
Mrs. Charles Bost of Nelson Street was hostess at a salad luncheon for Standish Group of First Congregational Church's May meeting.

Mrs. Harry Mams was co-hostess for the Friday gathering.

Following devotions from the Gospel of St. Luke by Mrs. Gertrude VanHorn, poems on "Motherhood" were presented by Beulah Phillips; guest at the meeting.

APRIL-MAY GROUP
The birthday dinner of First Presbyterian Church's April-May Group was observed Friday in Roulton Inn.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Robert Anderson who gave several readings.

Mrs. A. A. Annis and Mrs. W. C. Francis were guests of the group.

Mrs. Floyd Salow, chairman, announced the June meeting will be at the Berkshire Road home of Mrs. John Livingstone.

FLORA SHELLY GROUP
Flora Shelly Group of First Presbyterian Church observed an anniversary dinner Friday in Ted's Restaurant.

Highlight of the meeting was a talk on church history "Women in the Church — Over the Years" by Laura Cobb who were an old-fashioned cook. Beginning with Old Testament history, Miss Cobb carried her theme through to the work of the group in the history of the Pontiac church.

Dinner arrangements were under the chairmanship of Julia Dalzell, Clara Gaylord and Ethel St. Clair.

Mildred Hill presented a devotional service on a garden and spring theme. Pauline Parks also participated in the program.

The next meeting will be a picnic June 9 at the Cobb cottage on Union Lake.

Youth, 19, Pleads Guilty to Lesser Auto Charge

A 19-year-old Pontiac youth, who was accused of taking a car from his employer, yesterday appeared before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Daniero and pleaded guilty to a second count of taking the vehicle without permission.

Arthur Thomas, of 76 Florida St., will be sentenced May 29. He was returned to the county jail.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the new charge against the youth is taking and using without permission and using without intent to steal. It carries a maximum sentence of two years, Taylor said.

Thomas was a part-time employee of the Auto Reconditioning Service Shop, 138 S. Saginaw St., when the incident took place on April 29.

Plan Reception for Mrs. Evans Friday 2 to 4

Municipal employees are planning a big reception Friday afternoon for Mrs. Ada R. Evans, who attended her last City Commission meeting as city clerk last night.

All city employees, commissioners, former commissioners and friends have been invited to the 2-4 p.m. program in the Shrine Room at City Hall.

Mrs. Evans enters retirement Friday after 42 years as a municipal employee, the last 13 as clerk.

Speaker Insists Health Demands Our Water Be Treated and Safe

CHICAGO UP.—A New York editor has told a water pollution conference that waters in the nation "can't be cleaned up for the price it would cost each United States citizen to buy a candy bar."

Morris M. Cohn, editorial director of "Wastes Engineering and Water Works Engineering," told delegates to the two-day session sponsored by De Paul University. "We can afford pollution control because we cannot afford pollution," he added.

"It is shocking to learn that a nickel of every dollar of municipal expenditures today, and 2 1/2 cents of every such dollar in 1970, will be spent for handling liquid wastes and preserving the very waters upon which urban areas depend."

Cohn said that the half billion dollars which industries must invest yearly in process wastes treatment facilities "is but a trifling fraction of the $50 billion manufacturers will pour into capital improvements in 1961 and $78 billion they must plan on by 1970."

Cohn told delegates that "we cannot actually use a cash register to ring up the costs of pollution."

However, Cohn cited the losses in manpower and in life which the nation suffers "due to secondary pollution illnesses such as hepatitis, conjunctivitis, skin infections and ear and nose infections."

Kevin and Keith Get Palms Read to Know Future

WAYNE (B)—Kevin and Keith Marston—or is it Keith and Kevin—have been straightened out.

Kevin and Keith are 5-month-old identical sons of Mr. and Mrs. David Marston of Wayne. Their name tags became misplaced shortly after their mother brought them home from the hospital.

The resourceful mother, Patricia, kept them in cribs carefully marked "K" and "E" and lifted one out at a time to avoid confusion.

But father took care of the twins one night when mother went to a bunko game. He tried to feed the babies and got them mixed up. "We didn't know what to do so we just called them A and B," Mrs. Marston said.

Finally she called police. Comparisons were made with palm prints on file at the hospital.

The officers announced: "The boy with the blue pants is Kevin."

"I thought it was just the other way around," Mrs. Marston gaped. She tied a strand of blue ribbon around Kevin's wrist. The Marstons have three other children.

Hospital Unit's Meeting to Center on Centennial

The Oakland County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital will hold its monthly meeting tonight at 8 in the Community Services Building, 132 Franklin Blvd.

The program will center around the Centennial film, "Pontiac—Story of Progress and Promise." Arthur Heaton is program chairman.

Naval Reserve Unit to Stand Inspection

The Naval Reserve Unit at the Pontiac Training Center will stand annual inspection by the district commandant this evening.

Cmdr. R. C. Reid, head of 9th Naval District training, is scheduled to review the men here at 7:30. He is coming from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Ill.

Following inspection of personnel and equipment, Cmdr. Reid will be present to observe division exercises, according to Lt. Cmdr. William C. Remick, officer in charge of the Pontiac unit.

Entertainment will be provided by "The Revelaires," and community singing led by William E. Pascher, a member of the council executive board.

Chairman of the annual meeting is John Ostrander.

Recognition will be given to scouts who earned their Eagle awards—the highest in scouting—during the past year. They will conduct the opening ceremony and the retiring of the colors at the conclusion of the program.

Presenting his yearly report will be Edward H. Leland, council executive.

Ted Pearson Jr., retiring council president, will also speak on the activities of the past year.

Guest speaker will be Harry J. Reed, managing editor of The Pontiac Press.

Expect 30,000 at Scout-O-Rama on May 27-28

Attendance for the two-day scouting exposition—Scout-O-Rama—to be held May 27-28 at Walled Lake is expected to reach the 30,000 mark, Earl L. Gruber, general chairman, said today.

The weekend "extravaganza" showing scouting in action is sponsored by the Ottawa District of the Clinton Valley Council. It will be held in the Walled Lake Senior High School.

Gruber, who is directing his seventh Scout-O-Rama, said 60,000 tickets were printed for the event and he anticipates nearly half of them will be used.

Most of the 3,500 Boy Scouts and leaders in the nine Oakland County townships comprising the Ottawa District will participate in displaying their scouting skills and activities.

In addition to the 65 exhibits on display, there will be three stage shows presented during the two days.

The Scout-O-Rama will be open to the public both Saturday and Sunday beginning at 2 p.m. It will close 9:30 p.m. Saturday and 6 p.m. Sunday.

Talent shows will be presented Saturday at 3:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. and Sunday at 4 p.m.

STARTED IN 1954
The Ottawa District held its first Scout-O-Rama in 1954 at Farmington. It has been presented every year since, with the exception of 1960 when activities for the Boy Scouts' 50th birthday took precedence.

Each year Gruber has taken charge of the program from start to finish, handling every aspect from arrangements and exhibits to transportation and feeding.

And every year he becomes more enthused about the annual event though he literally "burns the midnight oil" as he directs and co-ordinates.

Gruber, who has 22 years of scouting experience to his credit, is a special expeditor in the purchasing department of the Pontiac Motor Division.

The 35-year-old scout admits that he gets little sleep while preparing for the Scout-O-Rama. But the task is a happy one, he explains, and as soon as the 1961 affair is over he will start working on next year's program.

Gruber comments that his great satisfaction comes from "the opportunity to contribute to a program for boys dedicated in purpose and practice to building their self-reliance, courage and character."

Gruber and his wife Gloria live at 7429 Sweetbriar Road, West's Bloomfield Township, with their 13-year-old daughter Leandra Lee. The Grubers have three grown sons.

Area Pastor Delegate at Church Assembly

AVON TOWNSHIP — Rev. Robert F. Hermanson, pastor of University Presbyterian Church, will be a commissioner (voting delegate) today through May 21 at the 173rd General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in the USA in Buffalo, N. Y.

At the assembly, Rev. Hermanson will be one of the 98 commissioners who will consider the policies, programs and finances of the 3,209,682 denominations.

A major issue this year will be the proposal to invite discussions for union with the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Although the contract for the high school job has been awarded, plans for renovation of Central Junior High School are being revised by Linn Smith Associates, Inc., of Birmingham.

Bids for the junior high school project received May 1 were from $88.00 to $186,000 higher than was anticipated.

The architects reported to the board that they should have revised plans ready soon which will bring the junior high school project within the budget.

Country Corners Club Elects Its Officers

LEONARD — Mrs. Louis Hantz Jr. has been elected chairman of the Country Corners Extension Club for the coming year.

Named to serve with her were Mrs. Gary Sutherby, secretary; Mrs. Clarence Ridgeway, community and health chairman; Mrs. Cecil Lineman and Mrs. Eugene Mallia, project leaders; and Mrs. Kenneth Mapleton, marketing information chairman.

The Junior Henry Meleskys

Honeymoon in Miami

ROCHESTER — Honeymooning for two weeks in Miami, Fla., are newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melesky Jr. who exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday evening at St. John Lutheran Church here.

Rev. Richard L. Schlecht performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the former Ardith Rose Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Patterson of 2748 Tienken Road, Avon Township. Her husband's parents are the Henry Meleskys of Warren.

For their wedding the bride chose a rose designed Chantilly lace gown featuring a scalloped Sabrina neckline embellished with tiny seed pearls and sequins and ending in pointed sleeves and a fitted bodice. The skirt consisted of four tiers of lace, alternately sprinkled with pearls and sequins and ending in a chapel train.

A Swedish type crown of crystals held her butterfly illusion veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of lilacs of the variety centered with a white orchid.

Joyce Patterson was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Willis of St. Petersburg, Fla., Mrs. Michael Savino of Rochester and Gerald Wiegand of Warren.

Assisting his cousin as best man was Thomas Dzagoules of Detroit. The guests were seated by Michael Savino of Rochester and Gerald Wiegand of Warren.

A reception for 200 guests was held at Rotunda Inn, Pine Lake, following the ceremony. Upon their return, the newlyweds will live in Warren.

Hobby Show Set for This Friday by Stiles PTA
AVON TOWNSHIP — The Stiles Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a hobby night Friday from 8 to 10 p.m. at the school.

Included will be exhibitions of stamp, miniature toy, rock, gun and Indian relic collections as well as handicraft by the pupils, teachers and parents.

Artificial flower making and arranging will be demonstrated, and values decorated for special occasions also will be on display.

A feature will be the showing of colored slides of his recent trip to Europe by Robert Snow, a substitute teacher. Slides about Michigan and several Southern states will be shown by James K. Fritts, a parent.

Those with exhibits to set up at the last minute are asked to be at the school at 7 p.m. by Mrs. Paul Kivari, general chairman of the event.

Smaller Tax Cut in Farmington

Half as Much as Was Anticipated; New Rate Off 50 Cts. a $1,000

FARMINGTON — City taxes here will be reduced in the 1961-62 fiscal year, but only by half as much as originally anticipated.

The new tax rate was set at $11.50 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation by the City Council in April. The current tax rate is $12 per $1,000.

The 1961-62 budget, which goes into effect July 1, is $9,000 higher than the one first submitted by City Manager John Dinan in April.

The city manager said he had anticipated a $1 reduction in taxes, but the council, in adopting the budget, added $9.50 for the codification of city ordinances and a sidewalk-repair program.

INCREASE IS OFFSET
But the slight increase in his proposed budget is offset when a comparison is made with current expenditures of $481,000, about $70,000 higher than the 1961-62 allocations, Dinan said.

The sharp cutback was due chiefly to substantially lower allocations for street and road improvements for 1961-62, he said.

The city has no plans for major road improvements in the coming year, as it did in adopting the 1960-61 budget.

While the budget has been drastically reduced, it still provides pay raises of approximately three per cent for all municipal employees.

Car Kills Cub Scout

EMERYVILLE (O)—Fred Parent, 12, an Emeryville cub scout, was struck and killed by a car Tuesday night as he walked to a scout meeting.

PTA at Johnson Niles Plans Last Meeting

TROY — The last regular meeting of the Johnson Niles Parent-Teacher Association for the current school year will be at 8 p.m. today at the school.

Mrs. William U. Porter, director of PTA District VII, will install the new officers.

A choral group will provide the evening's entertainment after which refreshments will be served by the kindergarten room mothers.

Elect Holly Publisher Press Club President

HOLLY — Joseph McCall, publisher of the Holly Herald-Advertiser, has been elected president of the Wayne State University Press Club.

Duck Outlook Poor After Slow Runoff

By DON YOGEL

Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Duck hunters won't be heartened by the latest news from the Canadian prairies.

Ducks Unlimited reports "the spring runoff in the prairie region has been disappointing with almost no supply (of water) to sloughs and ponds."

Habitat conditions are said to be poor and rain is badly needed in many areas if the necessary waterfowl production is to be achieved. Otherwise, shorter seasons and bag limits might be ordered this fall.

The report indicates that the hopes for runoff after a good snowfall in February failed to materialize. An early and prolonged spring that allowed available water to seep into the ground is blamed.

Angus Gavin, general manager of Ducks Unlimited, said that "a rainy spring and summer could result in good production, but if dry and warm it could be poor."

The Canadian prairies are the nesting grounds for over 75 per cent of the North American waterfowl.

CONTEST WAITING FOR ENTRIES

Where are the big fish?

Only one division has a leader in The Pontiac Press' annual fishing derby. Rainbow, northern pike and bluegill divisions are open. Black bass become eligible when the season starts next month.

Several phone calls have been made checking the rainbow class, but no fish have yet appeared that was heavier than John Adams' 3 1/2 pounder. The Clarkson angler caught the trout opening morning in Schoolhouse Lake.

Savings bonds worth $30 each will be awarded to the anglers turning in the heaviest pike and bass by the time the contest closes in September. There will be $25 bonds for the winning rainbow and bluegill.

May is a good month for big northerns. Some good bluegills are taken this time of year. The contest was opened six weeks earlier than in past years to make it possible for these early catches to be eligible.

Trout fishing on Oakland lakes and streams has slowed considerably. The eight streams planted with trout are pretty well fished out and the lake rainbows are always difficult.

Calicos are biting at Lakeville Lake and bluegills have been showing up in Upper Spring and Spring Lakes. The walleye run has started in the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers but the fish are still small.

WHAT BIRD IS THIS?

Mrs. Mark Pessenden of Maddy Lane, Keego Harbor, is having a problem identifying a bird she observed feeding in the back yard of her home.

"It has a black body like a starling," she reported, "and a bright yellow stripe about a half inch wide on the neck. Its head is black. The bird is about the same size as a starling."

"I saw one bird at first, but five or six came along a little later. They stayed about two days and then apparently left. I haven't seen them for a couple of days."

Mrs. Pessenden looked through several bird books and also had friends checking their information for the species. No one has been able to come up with an answer.

Possibly a reader of this column can help.

Double Winners in Horse Show

Chris Jones, Debbie Willson and Renee Ross each won two events in the sixth annual spring schooling show Sunday at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Chris was first in the open jump and then won honors in horsemanship under 13 years old, over fences. Miss Willson took first in the horsemanship under 13 and also won the working hunter hack.

Renee Ross was winner in junior working hunter (PHA) and junior F.E.I.

Other winners were Whitey Catlin, green working under saddle; Allison Cram, horsemanship 14-17; Elizabeth Bridge, beginner's horsemanship; Karen Skowbo, horsemanship 14-17 over fences; Robert Egan, green working hunter; Bob Sample, open jumpers; and Sue Foley, open working hunter.

Peter Foley placed second in two classes: Jimmy Williams rode the second and third place horses in open jumpers and junior F.E.I.

Campground Is Opened in Holly Recreation Area

A new campsite has been developed in the Holly recreation area with 75 sites, according to State Conservation Department.

The new location replaces the Wildwood Lake campground which had only 75 sites. There are 45 new campsites in the Proud Lake recreation area.

The department has added 765 campsites. This is expected to relieve the crush that caused 147,000 campers to be turned away last season.

The new and added camping facilities in Oakland County are part of a state-wide program to ease the pressure on parks and recreation areas.

MALLARD TURNS WOOD DUCK — Marilyn the mallard, a waterfowl that thinks like a wood duck, again has the management at the Remington Farms near Chesterdown, Md., all a-jitter. Marilyn is nesting in the cradle of a tree, 14 feet above the ground, for the third straight year. She is keeping a clutch of 12 eggs warm while her sisters are 2,500 miles away in Canada doing the same thing. Wallace Miller shows an egg from the nest.

Vibration of Lure Is Important

DOWAGIAC (U)—Ever wonder how those strange-looking fishing lures are dreamed up?

Maybe they look like nothing that swims, but there's a logical reason for them looking the way they do, says Earl Miller, director of research and development for James Heddon's Sons.

And, since the firm figures it costs $40,000-$50,000 to put a lure on the market, Miller does his best to make sure it will catch fish as well as fishermen.

"We figure out what we want a lure to do, then we make one that does it," Miller said. The tall, graying designer held up something called a "Deep E."

The lure looks roughly like a putty knife.

How do you know it will catch fish?

"Well," Miller said, "we know from experience pretty much what type of action will attract fish, but we test them under actual fishing conditions. We have a group of expert fishermen who field test the lures before we put them on the market."

But still, why don't they look more like fish?

"I think it's much more the way a lure acts than the way it looks that catches fish," Miller said. "The action of a lure represents to a fish—as far as we can tell—the flash of a frantic minnow or frog trying to get away."

"The sound—also attracts them. I was skin-diving watching some lures and how they work under water when the water became roly and I couldn't see the lures. But I could still hear them. So I got the idea sound must be a big factor in attracting fish. This includes the vibrations sent out by the lure, plus hook rattles."

"We kept working on the idea and came up with our line of sonic lures. These have proven extremely successful," Miller said.

Miller said he whittles the first pilot models of lures out of plastic. They are tested in a long tank in the firm's basement. More models are made and sent to the field testing crew of guides, outdoor writers, etc.

Once the decision is made to market the lure, the final design of the plastic body is set up and the bodies are ordered from an outside firm. When they arrive they are polished and checked. Then weights, hooks and the eye for the line are attached, the sides are glued together and the lure passes through a bewildering series of operations, mostly by hand, which colors it, attaches everything needed, and boxes it for the store.

Lure-making is big business with Heddon, which claims to be the world's largest manufacturer of fishing lures. The firm sells about three million annually for 60 per cent of its business. Heddon also makes rods.

Heddon got its start just before the turn of the century. James Heddon, the story goes, was whitewashing the bank of Dowagiac Creek while waiting for a fishing companion. He tossed a stick into the water and saw a hit.

Heddon started making plugs in his kitchen and finally turned to selling them. F. C. Woods of Algonquin, Ill., put his "Expert" on the market at about the same time Heddon's "Dowagiac" appeared, and now apparently were divided.

Experts Study Road Losses

Don't Fence Me In-Deer

LANSING (AP)—How high can deer jump?

State highway engineers would like to know so they can plan protection for motorists zipping along the state's superhighway system.

Hundreds of deer are killed on Michigan highways each year and damage to cars runs into millions of dollars. The hazard is increased on the freeway system where cars roll along at 65 or 70 miles an hour.

Four-foot fences topped with a strand of barbed wire border the interstate highway system, but they're not designed to contain deer. State conservation experts figured the department would have to build fences 11 or 12 feet high to contain deer.

Fences of that height pose a considerable expense problem. The federal government, which foots the bill for 90 per cent of the interstate system, probably wouldn't share in the expense of deer control, the department said.

Engineers conceded that conservationists and animal lovers might raise protests. How, for instance, would a system of high fences affect deer migrations, and what about deer that can't get back?

State engineers said "deer areas" warning signs on the highways aren't of much help, especially on the freeways.

"Motorists must learn to expect the unexpected when they enter a deer crossing area," said the highway commissioner John C. Markie. "They also should know that when they see one deer there are usually three or four others close behind."

Tells of Flight From Hungary

Secretaries Hear Talk by Mrs. Zwertschke at Bosses Banquet

"America for Me" was discussed by Hungary-born Mrs. Eric Zwertschke at the annual Oakland County Secretaries Association Banquet.

Night banquet at Griffin's restaurant in Farmington.

Mrs. Zwertschke told the 235 secretaries and their bosses of her many experiences both here and in Hungary, and of her flight from her native land to Munich, then America.

Preceding her talk, the Waterford Township Board's Quartette, under the direction of Richard Moller, presented several numbers.

Waterford Sup. of Schools William Shuck presented a talk entitled, "One of Our Bosses Says Goodbye to Three of Our Bosses."

It was directed to Paul Schwan, Clawson school superintendent; William S. Schroeder, assistant superintendent of Oak Park schools; and A. R. Ambrose, superintendent of the Oakton schools.

Three elementary school principals who are also leaving and were named were Vera Clark, Clawson schools; Marjorie Long, Hazel Park; and Myrtle Besselo, Troy. Officers installed were: Myrtle Bungard, Clawson; president; Bertha Brown, Waterford; vice president; Jeanne Barr, Hazel Park; treasurer; and Jeannie Stepleton, Pontiac, corresponding secretary.
