SAFETY TEAM — Pontiac Fire Chief Charles Marion (right) and Fire Marshal Charles Metz check preparations for the department's Home Fire Safety Program, which will run for two weeks beginning May 20. During that period, teams of firemen will visit scheduled areas of the city, available for home safety inspections at the request of citizens. The day-by-day schedule will be made public next week.

Kennedy Is Winner in Indiana and D. C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an impressive showing by Richard M. Nixon and the defeat of veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, highlighted five primaries across the nation.

Republican candidate Nixon was unopposed and got an even bigger Indiana vote than in the 1960 primary.

Lausche was defeated by Cincinnati City Councilman John J. Gilligan, a former congressman who had labor support and the Ohio Democratic organization endorsement.

MAY HAVE TO SHARE

In yesterday's primary voting:

—Kennedy got about 42 per cent of the Indiana vote to about 31 per cent for favorite-son candidate Gov. Roger D. Branigin and about 27 per cent for McCarthy.

But it appeared possible Kennedy might have to share with Branigin some of Indiana's 63 Democratic National Convention delegates. Nixon garnered all 26 Republican convention votes.

—All 21 candidates on Kennedy's delegate slate in the District of Columbia were far outdistancing their Humphrey rivals. By unit rule Kennedy gets all 23 of Washington's convention votes.

APPARENT VICTORY

—In Alabama, third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace apparently won the right to run on his state's Democratic party ticket he appeared to have picked up at least 25 of 34 Alabama delegates to the Democratic convention.

—Florida Rep. Edward Gurney won the Republican senatorial nomination by a landslide but the Democratic race between former Gov. LeRoy Collins and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth appeared headed for a runoff.

Kennedy was making no claims for the future after his Indiana victory, including his prospects in the Nebraska primary next Tuesday.

"Vice President Humphrey says he's the front runner, Sen. McCarthy says he's the front runner," Kennedy said. "I'm not making any predictions . . ."

'BROAD BASE OF SUPPORT'

He said the combination of results in the District of Columbia and Indiana "indicate a broad base of support for my candidacy."

But McCarthy and Branigin forces—and promoters of the Humphrey campaign—noted Kennedy was a minority winner. McCarthy said he would have gotten many of Branigin's votes in a two-man contest.

"No one deserves any prizes in this contest," McCarthy said. "We will carry the fight to Nebraska. I think the direct confrontation that was denied us here in Indiana will be given us in Nebraska."

Sens. Walter F. Mondale and Fred R. Harris, co-chairmen of United Democrats for Humphrey said: "In the only primary in which Sen. Kennedy was opposed by other candidates nearly two out of three Democrats preferred someone else."

In another political development yesterday, an Oregon Humphrey for President Committee was announced.

Its chairman, State Sen. Ross Morgan, urged votes for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket in the May 28 primary as it was printed on the ballot before President Johnson withdrew from the race March 31.

Fire Safety Drive Planned in City

The Pontiac Fire Department will launch a two-week voluntary home fire safety inspection program May 20.

Fire Chief Charles Marion said the goal of the drive, during which citizens may have their homes safety inspected by invitation, is the reduction of house fires in the city by at least 50 per cent.

"We'll have five engine companies — at least 25 men — in scheduled areas daily. They'll be available to citizens who either submit written requests to the department or call in invitations," he said.

Marion said the program is basically aimed at preserving life and property by locating and correcting fire hazard conditions and by providing fire fighters a working knowledge of areas of the city.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING

"It will also create a better understanding between the public and the department while providing free safety information to citizens," he said.

Marion emphasized that a schedule of areas to be visited by inspectors will be made public next week so that citizens will know when to request inspections.

An added feature of the program will be the distribution of invalid stickers to persons who want firemen to be aware of an evacuation problem at their homes in case of a fire.

"Of course these are also voluntary and available on request," Marion said.

Rain Is Forecast

The weatherman predicts a chance of showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and evening, ending early tomorrow.

Temperatures registering a low of 42 to 46 to night will rise into the high 60s tomorrow. Partly cloudy and cool is the outlook for Friday.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 40, tonight 50, tomorrow 50.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 46. The 12:30 p.m. reading was 67.

French Hint Talks Won't Be Limited

PARIS (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville expressed the view today the United States and North Vietnam will hold broad talks in Paris on ending the Vietnam war and not limit their contacts to halting U.S. bombing of the North.

Couve de Murville told the French Cabinet it was his belief that the talks, scheduled tentatively to open Friday, will consist of both preliminary talks and true negotiations. He said there are no plans to change the conference site of the negotiating teams for the two stages.

When Hanoi proposed Paris for the preliminary talks it said they should be "to determine with the U.S. side the unconditional cessation of the U.S. bombing raids and all other acts of war" against North Vietnam. Then, Hanoi said, talks would be held "on other problems of concern to the two sides."

SITE CHANGE SEEN

Couve de Murville's remarks to the Cabinet came as U.S. and North Vietnamese officials, with the French assisting, went ahead with technical arrangements for the meetings.

French Minister of State Edmond Michelet told newsmen the talks would be held at the International Conference Center in the former Hotel Majestic near the Arch of Triumph.

Gorse told newsmen later that the negotiations would very likely be held at the conference center, but that a final response from Hanoi had not yet been received.

Commission OKs Pay Hikes

Some 100 supervisors and department heads of Pontiac's city government were authorized 8 per cent pay raises — with the chance of more to come — by city commissioners last night.

On the recommendation of City Manager Joseph A. Warren, the commission approved the raises, plus a longevity package, for 1968 and authorized a study of supervisory salaries and job classifications.

Total cost of the pay raises would be $53,500, while the longevity would cost $18,300. Not included in among the supervisors are those appointed directly by the commission.

Covered by the increases are employes not belonging to organized employe groups. The longevity plan calls for payments of 2 per cent, 4 per cent and 6 per cent of yearly salaries after seven, 14 and 21 years, respectively, of service.

RAISES SIMILAR

Warren said the raises are about the same as given to hourly employes and those proposed for clerical and office workers.

The city police chief and fire chief were authorized $2,000 yearly raises to fall in line with their duties and with pay raises granted police and firemen earlier this year.

Warren said the study — to be made by a Chicago public administration consulting firm — would make recommendations that may be the basis for further pay raises by July 1.

The study, to cost $3,500, will take about 60 days, Warren said.

Mideast Flares Again

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli army reported mortar attacks Tuesday night near the Lebanese and Jordanian borders and an exchange of fire between Israeli and Jordanian troops. The army said there was no damage or casualties.

UAW May Face AFL-CIO Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers union, currently renewing threats to quit the 14-million-member AFL-CIO, faces the possibility of being kicked out next week for nonpayment of dues.

The Auto Workers, issuing new attacks on AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership from its convention in Atlantic City, will be three months and about $250,000 behind in dues May 15 and face automatic expulsion, informed sources said.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, meeting next week, may take up the matter and some sources predict a majority of its members may be angered enough to oust Reuther's union if it doesn't pay up.

Sources say AFL-CIO leaders are miffed at Reuther's announcement the Auto Workers may put its per capita AFL-CIO dues in escrow pending settlement of its demands for internal reform of the federation.

$1 MILLION A YEAR

The Auto Workers, largest of the AFL-CIO's 128 unions, pays about $1 million a year into its treasury.

Meany previously ignored most of Reuther's actions. But there are new elements in the deepening split between the two.

They are also now moving apart on presidential politics and the impending Poor People's Campaign in the nation's capital.

Meany, 73, is throwing the AFL-CIO's support behind Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The 60-year-old Reuther, reelected Tuesday to a 12th term as UAW president, is officially keeping the Auto Workers neutral in the fight for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he is reliably reported leaning toward Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

Reuther has endorsed the Poor Peoples' Campaign. Meany, while taking no official position, is reportedly cool to the idea of thousands of marchers besieging government buildings in Washington.

GM Exec Hafstad Cited for Atomic Contribution

A Bloomfield Hills man has been cited by the Atomic Energy Commission as making an outstanding contribution to the nation's atomic energy program.

Cited by the commission was Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, 64, of 191 Marblehead, who is chairman of the commission's General Advisory Committee.

The award was announced yesterday in Washington, D.C., where Dr. Hafstad is presiding at a session of the advisory committee.

Honored along with Dr. Hafstad, who is vice president in charge of research laboratories for General Motors Corp., was Murray Joslin of Elmwood Park, Ill.

DR. LAWRENCE R. HAFSTAD

CITES PLEASURE

"I am very pleased," commented Dr. Hafstad. "I'm particularly pleased to be honored with an associate (Joslin) with whom I worked years ago.

The AEC credited the Bloomfield Hills scientist with having "brought private industry into the reactor field in 1951."

Dr. Hafstad explained that just after World War II reactors were only in the research stage and the problem was to get practical demonstration.

He said this was accomplished through construction of the privately financed Dresden nuclear power station, the world's first such plant.

NAMED BY JFK

A physicist, Dr. Hafstad was appointed to the advisory committee in 1962 by President Kennedy.

In 1966, the GM executive was awarded the Charles F. Kettering Award, which is given annually by the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Institute of George Washington University.

The latest citation and symbolic medallion will be presented at a ceremony at the AEC's Argonne Laboratory near Chicago on July 10.

Parking Mall to Open May 20

The planned parking mall on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence will open May 20, Director of Public Works and Service Joseph E. Neipling told city commissioners last night.

He said equipment for installation of gates at each end and decorative planter boxes and an attendant's hut will be delivered by May 15.

Plans call for North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence to be closed to through traffic during shopping hours and the street to be used solely for parking. Fees for the parking have not yet been determined.

Related Stories, Pages A-2, A-10

In other business, the commission authorized the city staff to proceed with a program to work with the State Highway Department on traffic control on Huron between East and West Wide Tracks.

The state department notified the city that it has begun acquisition of property for widening of East Huron between Mill and East Wide Track.

Neipling said that during the week of May 27 parking meters will be removed from Huron between the Wide Tracks, parking will be prohibited and the street will be made into a five-lane artery with one lane for left turns only.

Commissioners voted to have administrators urge the State Highway Department to retain parking on the south side of West Huron between Wayne and West Wide Track.

Rescue Drive Continues as Wives Talk to Miners

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — The wives of two miners trapped by water for two days in a southeastern West Virginia coal mine talked to their husbands early today by radio-telephone.

Joy reigned in a virtual tent city near this small mountain town as wives and relatives heard that Mrs. Elwood O'Dell and Mrs. Ottie Junior Walton had talked to their husbands by a radio-telephone lowered 437 feet down a vertical airshaft drilled overnight.

"They are all rooting for you," Mrs. O'Dell hollered to her husband, one of 13 miners trapped by a flooded passageway about a mile inside the mine. "Are you cold? How's your head and nose?" she inquired.

Mrs. Walton asked her husband whether he was "keeping warm and dry." Both men reported they were in good condition and anxiously awaiting rescue.

FATE OF 10 UNKNOWN

Meanwhile, the fate of 10 other miners farther back in the mine remained unknown. They have not been heard from since tons of water poured into the mine Monday from an abandoned mine during drilling operations.

Rescue officials had said Tuesday night they hoped the water level in the mine would recede enough this morning to allow the men closest to the entrance to scamper out. However, all they would say early today was "we hope to have them out sometime Wednesday."

Ten giant pumps are sucking an estimated 3,200 gallons of water from the darkened mine each minute.

The horizontal passageway, only three feet high in places and descending gently for two miles, has been filled with water since the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine burst.

CWA Pickets Still Out; New Vote in Works

The reconsideration will be by mail ballot, a union spokesman said.

Representatives of the CWA met in Lansing Tuesday and agreed to extend the ratification period on a tentative three-year pact until May 19. The agreement was ratified nationally but rejected in the state last weekend.

All CWA locals in the state will take new ratification votes.

MEETING SCHEDULED

Leonard Florkey, strike director of Local 4000 in Detroit, the state's largest CWA unit, said a meeting was scheduled for tomorrow to discuss the situation.

He indicated picket lines would remain up pending results of the meeting.

A spokesman for Michigan Bell said company facilities were being picketed in the southwestern Michigan area, Flint, Saginaw, Bad Axe, Midland and Bay City. Some of the pickets were Western Electric installers.

In Pontiac this morning, the Western Electric installers unit of the CWA had withdrawn its pickets from the Bell office building at Mill and West Huron. Other CWA employes had refused to cross the installers' picket lines even though the Pontiac Local 4012 had ratified its contract.

Some 23,000 installers also have scheduled a new vote on the contract. The installers, who also belong to the CWA, ratified the contract last Sunday but it was charged there were irregularities in the election.

The state CWA and Michigan Bell agreed that if the contract is ratified by May 19, it will bear an effective date of May 1, and all pay increases will be retroactive to April 3.

But Enemy Fights On

Saigon Battle Kills 2,002 Reds

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 2,002 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in the past three days of heavy fighting in and around Saigon. But despite heavy losses, the enemy battled on for the fourth day in streets on the capital's western edge.

In comparison with the 2,002 enemy killed, the U.S. Command said allied casualties in the first three days of the new wave of attacks on Saigon totaled 211 killed and 931 wounded —30 Americans killed and 323 wounded, 181 South Vietnamese killed and 608 wounded.

'THREAT NOT DEVELOPING'

"There isn't much going on today," a senior U.S. officer said. "The key is whether the enemy will be able to reinforce and they don't seem to be able to. As far as the major threat from the west, it doesn't seem to be developing. It looks as if it is petering out, but it's a little early to say officially.

"They haven't brought the forces to bear. Captured documents and prisoners were talking in terms of a 10,000-man attack. I have no firm figures, but it is much, much, much less. Unless they do something quickly, they're not going to make anything out of this."

Refugees from the western section said the Viet Cong were digging bunkers in the rubble of burned-out homes, apparently determined to hold out to the end.

RAYMOND E. HOFFMANN

Ex-School Exec in OCC Race

Hoffmann, who headed the Dublin School District Board of Education in White Lake Township before it was dissolved last year, is out to change all that.

He is one of 12 candidates running for three seats on the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees. The election is June 10.

The 58-year-old candidate, who lives at 1267 Grove Pointe, served on the Dublin board for 10 years, the last two as president.

SALES MANAGER

Hoffmann is district sales manager of the Textron division of the Aetna Bearing Co. in Detroit. He has been with the company eight years.

His statement:

"The ability to communicate at any level is a matter of education. One has but to read the news to recognize how sadly lacking our society is in this capability.

"Oakland Community College through its advanced teaching methods has the opportunity to educate our young people to fill the demands of our society.

"It is up to us to see that those who have any capability are encouraged to reach their goals. We must work to provide the facility and the curricula to meet these ends."

Board Certifies School Tax Vote

The Waterford Township School District's board of canvassers last night certified the results of Monday's election in which voters passed a proposition for renewal of the system's 15-mill taxing authority for operation.

The tally showed that 6,089 voters cast ballots with 4,472 voting yes and 1,539 no. There were 78 void ballots.

The tax was renewed for a 15-year period through 1983.

Heart Recipient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — One of the three men who underwent heart transplants within five days of each other died today.

A St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital announcement said James B. Cobb, Alexandria, La., died eight hours after unexpected complications developed.

Officials at Pontiac Mall Cite Safety Precautions

Despite recent abductions reported at Pontiac Mall, major crime in the parking lot of the huge shopping center is very infrequent, according to Mall officials.

Robert Doran, chief of the Pontiac Mall security police, said except for stolen hubcaps, thefts from automobiles and minor accidents, incidents in the parking lot are infrequent.

"We stop all suspicious people in the lot," said Doran.

Gordon Beckman, president of the Pontiac Mall Merchants Association, said the parking lot is patrolled six days a week and that daylight illumination is provided at night.

THREE ON DUTY

Doran said three patrolmen are on duty inside the Telegraph-Elizabeth Lake Road shopping center most of the time and that other security guards are hired by individual firms.

"We have ordered new radio equipment which we think will help," Doran said.

Mrs. Ruth McCarthy, Mall resident manager, offered these comments:

"Shopping centers are more subject to these things naturally because this is where the action is. Where else is there an accumulation of activity as there is here?"

SEEK IMPROVEMENT

Beckman added that "Over a six-year period hundreds of thousands of customers have used our parking lots without incident and in complete safety, and we are constantly investigating new and better ways to protect our customers' comfort and safety.

"Unfortunately," said Beckman, "because of conditions existing in our society today, violence erupts in many unexpected places and under conditions often unexplainable.

"We deeply regret any such incidents on our property, but feel that the positive side of our continuing efforts to protect our customers and promote our community should be pointed out."

Olympic Athlete Wright Will Be Speaker Tuesday

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Lorenzo Wright, educator and former Olympic athlete, will be the guest speaker at the second "Focus Summer Hope" meeting, to be held in this city Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

The program, a series of three meetings set for the auditorium of St. Hugo of the Hills Elementary School, 380 E. Hickory Grove, is a human relations project of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, and is aimed at providing a broader understanding of urban problems.

Wright, who was a member of the winning United States 400-meter relay team in the 1948 Olympic Games in London, will speak on the New Detroit Committee report, released last month.

Wright has worked with the committee, and was assigned in 1967 to its youth recreation and cultural affairs task force.

TEACHES IN DETROIT

He received the bachelor of science and master of arts degrees from Wayne State University, and is presently a teacher in the Detroit public school system.

In 1961 Wright was granted a leave from his teaching duties to lecture at the University of Nigeria on health and physical education. While there, he coached the university track team, conducted a track and field clinic for Eastern Nigeria, and designed an Olympic-sized swimming pool for the university.

An open discussion by a panel on urban affairs is planned for the last of the "Focus Summer Hope" programs, scheduled for May 21. All meetings are open to the public.

The appointment of Robert Matson to the newly-created position of director of public affairs at Cranbrook has been announced by Edward H. Lerchen, executive director of the Cranbrook Foundation.

Matson will direct and coordinate an expanded program of public relations and communications by the foundation and the six Cranbrook institutions. His appointment is effective July 1.

Matson has been director of development at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., since 1957. He has also served in public relations positions with Republic Steel Corp., Cleveland, O., and the General Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, O.

A graduate of Kent (O.) State University, he is a member of Sigma Delta Chi and the American Alumni Council.

Move to Restore Elks Bowling License Fails

A move to reinstate a bowling alley license for the Pontiac Elks Lodge 810 at 114 Orchard Lake, was disapproved by the Pontiac City Commission last night.

The commission voted 6-1 against District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin's motion to reinstate the license.

The license — up for renewal at last week's City Commission meeting — was not reissued by the commission after a member of the city planning commission, John L. Crump Sr. of 194 Wesson, complained of a discriminatory act at the club.

Several commissioners indicated they would not vote to reissue the license until the club issues a public apology.

LETTER TO CRUMP

Irwin, a member of the club, said that the Elks Club deplored the treatment of Crump, a Negro. A letter from the club's Exalted Ruler Clement Berden and Secretary Walter A. Giddings was read at the meeting.

Addressed to Crump, the letter said it was not the Elks' policy to discriminate in any way and that the alleged discriminatory barring of Crump from the club bar was "the irresponsible act of one of our employes."

The officers said the employe had been reprimanded.

Crump last week told the commission he had been attending a planning commission meeting in one of the Elks' meeting rooms when he and two or three other persons had been invited to the bar by a club member.

The employe admitted the other persons (white) but declined to allow Crump to enter as a guest, Crump said.

Racial Forum Asks for Help

Interest in the task force has lagged in recent weeks, according to its chairman, Edward E. Barker Jr.

The task force was formed to act as an important link between Pontiac area citizens and local government. It is supposed to hear racial and any other community relations problems from individual citizens, neighborhood leaders and leaders of community organizations.

The task force then recommends solutions for these problems to the PAPC.

TOO FEW PEOPLE

The problem to date is that too few people have arranged to appear before the task force with problems.

Persons interested in appearing before the task force, or furnishing written information to task force members, should address their requests to Task Force, P.O. Box 864, Pontiac, Mich.

9th, 11th, 12th Heart Recipients Do Well; Death Issue Raised

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The world's 9th, 11th and 12th heart transplant patients, whose operations took place within five days, were in satisfactory condition today, St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital said.

The latest heart recipient, J. M. Stuckwish, 62, of Alpine, Tex., was either "dead or dying" when the heart of a 36-year-old man was implanted in his chest Tuesday, a hospital official said.

The heart of Clarence A. Nicks of Houston, Tex., who was beaten in a tavern April 23, was transplanted in Stuckwish's chest in 30 minutes.

Everett Claire Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., stood up for the first time since he received a new heart Friday. Thomas ate his first soft food at lunch—a broiled egg, toast and orange juice.

2ND MAN SITS UP

A hospital spokesman said James B. Cobb, 48, of Alexandria, La., was elevated in bed and was breathing unassisted. Cobb received the heart of a 15-year-old boy Sunday night.

The question of when the donor was medically and legally dead arose as Dr. Denton A. Cooley prepared to lead the surgical team in the Stuckwish operation.

Harris County Medical Examiner Joseph Jachimczyk said Nicks was pronounced dead at 10:30 a.m. by Dr. Pedro Caram of St. Luke's Hospital.

Caram said an electroencephalograph showed absence of any brain waves. A respirator was used to keep the donor's heart viable before it ceased to function at 1:58 p.m., a hospital spokesman said.

The implant to Stuckwish began six minutes later.

Cooley called about noon and asked permission to proceed with the operation, Dr. Jachimczyk said.

"I couldn't give legal approval, but I told him I would neither file nor press charges," the medical examiner said.

"I suppose I gave him my tacit approval," Jachimczyk said.

He could not give his legal approval because an autopsy had not been performed, Jachimczyk said.

"A patient is legally dead when a doctor pronounces him dead," he said. "My position is that as long as we operate within the existing statutes, everything is fine. I did caution that this was a homicide suspect case."

Jachimczyk said the autopsy on Nicks, co-owner of a welding shop, will probably show that brain injuries caused the death.

Newell E. France, hospital administrator, said Stuckwish was taken to surgery in an "absolute emergency situation."

"Actually the brain waves were not recordable during this procedure," France said. "So, in fact he was either dead or dying."

The donor's wife, Margie, who signed consent papers before the operation, said Nicks recently told her that if anything happened to him he would want his heart to be used to save someone's life.

Stuckwish, administrator of the Brewster County Memorial Hospital at Alqine, had suffered many heart attacks, a spokesman said. The primary problem was coronary artery disease, which clogged the arteries carrying blood to his heart muscle.

Kalamazoo Sets School Tax Vote

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Kalamazoo City School District seeks voter approval of a 2.5-mill tax levy to provide an extra $903,000 operating fund.

The levy, to be voted June 10, has been cut from a 3.5-mill proposal defeated April 22.

Valuation of County Is Up $400 Million

By ED BLUNDEN

The valuation of Oakland County jumped about $400 million from the 1967 to the 1968 state-equalized figure. The total figure rose from $3.045 billion to $3.46 billion — about 16 per cent.

Though growth in the various communities was large on an average, much of the rise in valuation, on which property taxes are figured, was due to reassessment of property values.

Both inflation and the growing boom in land values due to construction and speculation played large roles in the valuation growth, equalization officials have pointed out.

Hermann Stephens, director of the County Equalization Department, who released the figures to the board of supervisors, said the increase in valuation will mean, in most communities, an increase in income for government agencies and school districts.

INFLATED COSTS CITED

However, he points out, inflated costs of running governments and schools will probably wipe out the gains and a solution of revenue problems remains in the future for most communities.

Of all units of government in the county, Farmington Township shows the most remarkable growth in valuation — about 40 per cent from $119 million (in rounded figures) to $164 million.

This increase has been attributed to a reassessment as well as growth.

In fact, the township is now assessed at a mark deemed closer than true market value than the rest of the county and thus is rated at an equalization factor of .93, or less than one, where most communities are placed.

FOR PROPERTY TAX

The equalization factor is used to bring each community to a point of 50 per cent of market value for property tax purposes. If assessed ideally, the factor is one, which means the assessed value doubled should mean the actual market value.

Among communities still not deemed assessing according to standards set by state law are: Rose Township, factor 3.14; Waterford Township, 2.09; Keego Harbor, .87; Pontiac City, 1.33; and Sylvan Lake, 2.36.

Another community showing a spectacular rise is Oakland Township, almost doubling in valuation from $13.9 million to $23 million, despite little actual growth in the sparsely populated township north of Avon Township and the city of Rochester.

With a population of about 3,000 persons, most of the Oakland land is still divided in farm-size lots. However speculators counting on Rochester area growth have pushed land values up, not equalization officials. This has, of course, greatly added to the actual tax burden of township property owners.

SUBSTANTIAL GROWTH

Steady, but substantial growth is shown in such already prosperous communities as Birmingham and Bloomfield Township, both up over 10 per cent.

Rose and Springfield townships hardly jumped in valuation at all, however.

Following is a list of some Oakland County communities comparing 1968 equalized valuation with 1967. Numbers are rounded off to the nearest highest $100,000, thus 18.1 is $18,100,000 approximately).

School Board in Troy Okays Tentative Budget With Major Cutbacks

By TOM GRAY

TROY — After meeting behind closed doors for over three hours Monday night, the board of education has revealed its newest effort to combat this school district's financial troubles — a tentative budget calling for sweeping cutbacks in many areas.

The board met briefly in public after the long executive session and unanimously approved the tentative budget, which would eliminate around $255,000 of the district's deficit by June, 1969.

HOPES FOR LOAN

Supt. of Schools Dr. Rex B. Smith said the new budget, approved in hopes of securing the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission's okay on a pending $1-million loan, is based on present sources of revenue, assuming no increase in local millage.

Income is pegged at $3,983,000, spending at $3,728,000, Smith said.

However, in order to trim the planned $255,000 from the deficit, presently estimated at $650,000, the board lopped off a total of 50 teaching positions planned for next year 17 new positions planned for growth and 33 present positions, Smith added.

Smith commented, "The board hopes to achieve this reduction by attrition, that is, resignations and retirement, not by dismissal. No more teachers will be hired until further notice, except for reimbursed programs and as needed to fulfill the requirements of the adopted tentative budget."

OUTLINE CHANGES

The spending cuts would result in the following changes:

- Half-day sessions for grades 1-6.
- The elimination of physical education at the elementary level.
- The reduction of the junior high session from six periods to five.
- The elimination of the present "modular scheduling" system at Troy High School, and its replacement with the traditional five-period day.
- Elimination of the school lunch program at elementary schools and curtailment of the program in secondary schools.

COULD RECONSIDER

The superintendent added that if the board's request for 4 mills, slated for a public vote June 10, is approved by citizens, the board would reconsider the budget with the idea of restoring cutbacks and providing for some additional programs.

The June election will be the fourth within a year. Voters earlier turned down proposed increases of 7 mills (June 1967) and 6 mills (September 1967 and February 1968).

The proposed budget follows conditions which Smith said the finance commission staff had placed upon recommendation of the district's loan request.

MUST BALANCE BUDGET

Smith quoted James Barrett, a staff member, as saying that if the district guarantees to balance its budget by June, 1970, a favorable recommendation might be possible.

It is the staff's responsibility to consider requests for funds and submit a recommendation to the finance commission.

While conceding that the tentative budget is "pretty severe medicine," Smith added, "This seems to be what is required to get the loan that we need to finish this year, and to start making up for three successive years of deficit budgets and three unsuccessful millage attempts."

Water Contracts Get Go-Ahead

WALLED LAKE — The go-ahead has been given here for finalizing contracts with the Oakland County Department of Public Works for this city's long-awaited water system.

The City Council last night authorized Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg, Jr. and Clerk Mrs. Eileen B. VanHorn to complete arrangements with the county.

However, the ordinance setting up financing of the system wasn't adopted last night as expected.

CLARIFICATION REQUIRED

The ordinance wasn't acted upon because a section regarding service to apartments requires clarification, explained Kellogg.

Construction of the $1.95-million system is to begin early this fall and be completed in late 1969, the mayor said.

The fee for a single-family dwelling according to the proposed ordinance, is $6 per month for 2,666 gallons and 33 cents for each 1,000 gallons after that up to 10,000 gallons.

The $6 fee includes consumption, debt service, meter and tap-in charges.

MAXIMUM FEE

Persons applying for service beyond a tentatively set date in June 1970 will have to pay a maximum of $605 for tapping in, said Kellogg.

The fee for commercial and industrial establishments with a 1-inch line is now set at $12 per month for 5,333 gallons and 33 cents for 1,000 after that up to 10,000 gallons.

A trailer camp development for Oxford Township has been disapproved at the county level after being approved by township planners.

The County Board of Supervisors Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee gave a recommendation against a proposed 102-acre rezoning on Stanton, east of Baldwin.

Developers wanted the land rezoned from agricultural to recreational for summer trailer camping.

County planners were against the rezoning on the bases of "insufficient justification." Some nearby residents have objected, claiming the site lacks facilities for sanitation and police and fire protection.

ORION TWP. ADDS VOICE

Orion Township Supervisor John Lessiter also objected to the proposed land use. The proposed development would abut his township.

The supervisors' committee acts in an advisory capacity and studies proposed rezonings to insure they do not violate over-all planning principles or conflict with neighboring communities' plans.

Farmington OKs Fair-Housing

FARMINGTON — A "Fair Housing Practice" resolution has been passed unanimously by City Council.

It proclaims that:

- This is Fair Housing Week in the city.
- All citizens are advised that the council supports fair housing practice and urges citizens to abide by civil rights laws in the state.
- All citizens are asked to voice support of legislation "to make human dignity, equal justice and equal opportunity a reality."

The resolution is a combination of proclamations of Gov. George Romney's Fair Housing League and the New Farmington Committee.

In other action, council accepted the resignation of Clerk Mrs. Trena M. Quinn and appointed Mrs. Alwood F. Brines, 45, of 23890 Meadowbrook, Novi, to the post. The annual salary is $7,500.

Mrs. Quinn, 63, who has been clerk for the past 11 years, is resigning for health reasons, said City Manager John D. Dinan. The resignation is effective July 1.

SUMMER RETREAT—Edward Hamm of Holly, blind since he was 10, shows the playhouse he built for his nine children to Nick, 5, Linda, 17 and Mrs. Hamm. Mrs. Hamm, Linda and three other children have sight impairments as well.

Handicap Is Accepted

Blindness Fails to Slow Holly Family

HOLLY — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamm, who with their nine children occupy the rambling eight-room house at 403 Sherman, met each other at a bowling alley.

That both the Hamms and four of their children are blind or partially blind is an accepted way of life.

Other than the fact that Hamm finds it difficult to hold steady employment — he's totally blind — life proceeds at the same rapid pace as it does in any big family.

Mrs. Hamm is a Girl Scout leader and she's recently taken on a 4-H project. She intends to teach knitting and sewing to at least her own daughters under 4-H auspices.

HONORED WITH HANDBOOK

There are about 20 girls in her scouting troop and recently she was honored with the presentation of a Braille handbook.

Afflicted from birth with a technical-sounding sight impairment which she calls "small eyes," Mrs. Hamm is a product of the Michigan School for the Blind at Lansing.

Two of the Hamm children will be attending classes there next year. Linda, at 17 the eldest of the children, has completed two years there and will enroll in Holly High School as a senior next year.

"I'm very proud of Linda," said Mrs. Hamm who admits that her family is her major accomplishment. Linda was first violinist and concert master for the Lansing school's orchestra.

Pride is also reflected in her face as she shows the playhouse which her husband started building for the children last year. Complete to hardwood floor and cupboards, the house is an inviting summer retreat in the big back yard.

HELPED REBUILD LODGE

"He helped the Moose Lodge rebuild after the fire here," said Mrs. Hamm, "and he paneled an extra room in the basement."

Hamm says with some pride that he has a basement full of power tools, but there are still some he'd like to get.

A bicycle repairman as well, Hamm says he was trained in electrical motors and X-ray development at different times of his life. He once owned a gas station.

Stricken with glaucoma at an early age, he was totally blind by age 10.

GREW UP IN DETROIT

Both the Hamms grew up in Detroit — "about five blocks away from each other." They moved to Holly four years ago, and the nearby fishing in the Millpond has been a plus factor for Hamm and 5-year-old Nick who starts kindergarten next year. All the other children are in school.

The big old house is sparsely furnished and the furniture in it is placed close to the walls so that it can't trip up a hurrying resident.

The yard is cluttered with playthings as big-family yards generally are, and as Hamm walks he is constantly picking up objects and moving them out of the way.

It sounds typical "big family."

Detroit Water Seen Costing Lapeer More

LAPEER — Detroit water will cost the citizens of this community about 85 per cent more than well water, according to preliminary results of a rate study by a Waterford Township firm.

The "interim report," submitted to the City Commission here by the consulting engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson, Inc., 2300 Dixie, estimates the city's annual bill at $192,000, should water be purchased from the Detroit Water Board.

The result would be a $6.18 monthly bite out of the average Lapeer consumer's pocketbook, compared to the present $3.33, the report added.

Projected rate increases, spread over the various levels of consumption would be as follows: $1.90 to $3.20 per 1,000 for the first 1,500 gallons; 60 cents to $1.25 per 1,000 for the next 28,500; 28 cents to 55 cents per 1,000 for next 270,000; and 11 cents to 25 cents for anything over 300,000 gallons.

COST BREAKDOWN

The projected annual cost of $192,000 includes $59,600 for water purchases, $31,200 for distribution, $22,300 for administration, $10,300 for special services, $30,600 for debt retirement, and $38,000 as a reserve for improvements.

The improvement reserve, the report noted, would include costs of connecting to Detroit mains. The costs would be phased out over 10 years at 5 per cent per year.

City Manager Arnold Whitney said results of the study would be reported immediately to citizens. He anticipates an election in the fall on the question of whether to hook up with the Detroit system.

Independence to Revise Assessments

By JEAN SAILE

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — An informal means of updating property assessments for all homes in the township was initiated last night by the township board.

Clerk Howard Altman abstained from voting on a resolution which would empower Supervisor Duane Hursfall to employ two men at $2.50 an hour for the job.

Hursfall said the men would visit each home in the township, revising assessment drawings and noting improvements.

Altman questioned the method by which the men would gain access to private property in order to do their job.

Hursfall said where they were refused admittance they would have to revise the plans by what they could observe from the road.

'PAY FOR ITSELF'

He said he expected that the job would more than pay for itself because some 500 improvements to private property would be noted and added to the assessment rolls.

Hursfall said people whose assessments were so raised would be notified by mail and would have the opportunity of appearing before the next township Board of Review.

Bridge Hearing Set

The public hearing of the State Conservation Department on the bridge to Dawson Island in White Lake, White Lake Township was incorrectly reported to be at 9 p.m. tomorrow. It is at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Township Hall.

Driver Class Sign-Up

Registration for driver education classes beginning June 10 in Avondale School District is being held this week at the high school. Registrants must be at least 15 years old.

No cost was given for the survey.

The township last night adopted a pension plan for its 22 employes. Sponsored by the Michigan Township Association, the program provides that an employe contribute five to 10 per cent of his salary and the township contribute five per cent towards a pension fund.

No up-to-date cost was given.

A reconsideration of permission to allow Mrs. Sylvia Thompson to operate a pool hall at 7071 Dixie was voted by the board in view of an informal police report on other such establishments in the township.

Supervisor Duane Hursfall said he had been unaware of other trouble when he voted at the last meeting to let Mrs. Thompson open a pool hall.

Members voted to inform her that the matter would be reconsidered at a future meeting.

What to do about a constable who never appeared to be sworn into office was explained to the board in a letter from Attorney Paul Mandel.

ONE OF ELECTED

John Hester, along with Harry Fahrner, Harry Yoh and Harold King, was elected in November, 1966, but Hester never appeared to be sworn in.

Mandel said he could be replaced by an appointment of the township board. The letter was filed for future use.

Family Service Plans Play for Green PTA

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — "The Green Blackboard," a play, will be presented to the Green Elementary School PTA tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the school, 4500 W. Walnut Lake.

The Wayside Players of the Family Service of Oakland County are presenting the play. A discussion about family and child problems and installation of 1968-69 officers will follow.

County Probate Court Income on Rise

The Oakland County Probate Court has begun to realize an increase in income as a result of changes made in the probate fee schedule that was placed into effect a year ago last March, according to Probate Register James R. Stelt.

Based on the $20,000 received during the first four months of 1968, the court could take in $60,000 by the end of the year. This would be an increase of nearly $30,000 over last year, Stelt said.

Several basic changes were implemented in the new legislation, Public Act 315, the most important of which was the establishment of a gross estate fee applied on a sliding scale basis and shared equally by the county and the state, he added.

Another major revision, said Stelt, was the dropping of a charge for the first copy of certified orders of the court and the sharing of other certified copy fees with the state.

The effect of these changes during 1967 resulted in a drop of the Oakland County probate estate division revenue from $44,558 in 1966 to $32,609.

COUNTY GAINS

Stelt pointed out that the county did benefit, however, because the legislation provides that the state pay $10,000 toward each of the county's three probate judges' salary.

The gross estate fee set up by Act 315 does not result in much of an increase in administration cost for the average estate, he said.

"The fee, for example, on an estate having gross assets of $15,000 is $75," Stelt said. "The furnishings of a free copy of certified orders represents a savings that, in theory, can be charged against this $75."

LARGEST ESTATE

"For example, an estate with gross assets of $1 million would pay an estate fee of $940. The increase after $1 million is $25 for each $100,000, or $250 for the second milion."

Currently, the largest estate under administration in Oakland County Probate Court to which Act 315 applies is that of Mrs. Matilda Wilson, benefactress of Oakland University. Her assets have been determined to be in excess of $16 million, so that the estate fee will be over $4,400, said Stelt.

The $32-million estate of the late Royal Oak industrialist, Jim Robbins, was filed with the court prior to the new gross estate fee statute. The administration of his estate is proceeding under the old fee schedule.

Stelt noted that the court is also working under another state law adopted in 1967 which authorizes the county to charge for the service of safekeeping for individuals' wills.

Under this law, Public Act 279, the Probate Court has been charged with the responsibility for filing and indexing in sealed envelopes individual's wills at their request.

"A receipt, of course, is given to the individual so that upon his death, or his desire to change his will, the will can be produced from the probate vault," said Stelt.

Act 279 sets a service charge of $1 for each will deposited, with the proceeds going entirely to the county general fund.

Stelt said that in recent years an average of 2,500 wills have been deposited with the court for safekeeping, and that the trend is continuing so far this year.

TOP PRIZE—Posing with his first-place winning fiberglas model car and accompanying plaque is Kevin Gerndt, a seventh grader at Mason Junior High School. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Gerndt of 3600 Lotus Drive, Waterford Township, Kevin won first prize for his grade in recent competition at the 40th annual convention of the Michigan Industrial Education Society and went on to capture the grand award. The award was based on design and construction. Kevin received a $100 bond.

Find Is 13,000 Years Old

IOWA CITY — The longest documented reach into Michigan's past, almost 13,000 years, has been reported here to a sectional meeting of the Geological Society of America by a University of Michigan geologist, William Farrand.

Farrand reported drilling about 12 miles south of the Straits of Mackinac and extracting organic material, mostly mosses, "sandwiched between two essentially identical layers of red sandy clay till."

Radiocarbon analysis found the organic material to be nearly 13,000 years old. Dating of the moss is possible by evaluation of its carbon-14 content, an element present in all living organisms which slowly begins diminishing when the organism dies.

The smaller the amount of carbon-14, the longer the time since the organism's death.

Use PLUS 2 on your lawn but don't pay for it until your weeds are gone!

That's how sure we are of Scotts famous TURF BUILDER PLUS 2. Time and again we've seen it turn scraggly weed patches into thick, vibrantly green turf.

Put PLUS 2 on your lawn this weekend. For the first few days nothing much will seem to happen. Then one day you'll notice that the weeds have began to shrivel. A few days later they'll disappear completely — roots and all.

In their place will be healthy green turf — the result of the fertilizing action of PLUS 2. It's a full-feeding, too, equivalent to Scotts famous Turf Builder. Makes grass plants spread out to fill in those places where the weeds were.

The time to use PLUS 2 is right now, while weeds are actively growing. You put it on just like ordinary fertilizer. It's clean, lightweight, and easy to handle. So pick up your PLUS 2 this week and don't pay for it until your weeds are gone.

Is PAPC Talking Itself to Death?

The concept of the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC), proposed by community leaders last Sept. 26 and implemented two weeks later, is a good one.

Its objective was to develop "a blueprint for city development" by July, 1968.

But development of the program has not kept pace with that envisioned.

The Council's 32-member Board of Governors, two of whom have resigned, represents a cross section of the area's top civic, business and educational talent.

The agency was approved by the City Commission and significantly given substantial financial support by General Motors Corporation. The general manager of the Corporation's Truck & Coach Division is an active member of its board of governors.

In what way has the Council fallen short of its goal, if indeed it has?

From reports reaching us, the answer would seem to be that the agency's deliberations extending over a score of meetings have been marked by too much irrelevant and prolonged discussion with a corresponding lack of concrete proposals and action.

Many of the meetings have taken on the aspect of an oratorical endurance contest as they have run on past midnight.

If the planning council is to play the role in community development its sponsors hopefully foresaw, it must effect procedural changes in its meeting format that will eliminate marathon sessions, and confine both substance and duration of individual discourse to a constructive agenda.

If this is not done, and soon, we fear that PAPC will wind up as just another well-intentioned civic agency characterized by a wealth of oratory and a paucity of action.

UAW Political Coloration a Blend of Many Hues

Like Br'er Fox, Br'er REUTHER, he lay low. The seven-day United Auto Workers convention now in session in Atlantic City will endorse no candidate for President of the United States.

All candidates, however, including former Alabama Gov. GEORGE WALLACE, have been invited to speak. The 1.4 million-member union will announce no political endorsements until both the Republicans and Democrats have made their nominations.

Not so AFL-CIO President George Meany. Having been heavily for Lyndon Johnson before the Great Withdrawal, he came out on April 3 strong and running for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. The next day I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers, jumped on the Humphreymobile. The Executive Board of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union on April 11 urged immediate announcement of the Humphrey candidacy.

The UAW board is anything but politically monolothic. Vice President LEONARD WOODCOCK is an open supporter of Sen. ROBERT F. KENNEDY. So is Michigan Democratic National Committeewoman MILDRED JEFFRIES, a UAW staff member.

A good part of the board is for KENNEDY, others are pro-HUMPHREY, and one or two may go for Sen. EUGENE J. McCARTHY.

But significantly, Labor writer JOHN HERLING recalls (April 16) that when HUMPHREY addressed the UAW convention eight years ago he outpointed JOHN F. KENNEDY in decibels and "received such tumultuous applause that it was terminated only by adjournment of the session."

As far as the UAW is concerned, the political winds seem to be blowing from all directions.

Dog Gives State Tax Dept. Something to Chew On

It isn't too often that anyone gets ahead of the income tax people in putting a bite on the taxpayer, right?

But it happened in North Carolina. And guess who did it?

A dog!

What happened was that just a few hours before this taxpayer was to turn in his state income tax return and his withholding slip to the Department of Revenue, his dog got hold of the papers and chewed them up.

The Department of Revenue then did two remarkable things for an income tax outfit — remarkable, at least, in light of how most taxpayers regard the income tax people.

One, the department believed the taxpayer's story. Two, it granted a 30-day extension to do his homework on the tax form over again and to get another withholding slip.

As for the pooch, he survived. But they could tell from the way he acted that the income tax bit is hard to swallow, even for a dog.

Angry Soviet Union Can't Slap Castro

By LEON DENNEN

NEW YORK (NEA) — Anibal Escalante, Russia's top man in Havana, confessed that he conspired against Fidel Castro and asked that he be confined at a state chicken farm under an oath of silence.

But Castro, who fears the Soviet KGB as little as the American CIA, said "nyet." His revolutionary tribunal sentenced the aging Escalante and 40 other pro-Russian Reds to 15 years' imprisonment.

For Moscow this diplomatic kick in the shins came at a critical moment; it was further proof that world Communist unity is more myth than reality.

At the end of this month 18 Communist parties will meet in Budapest to prepare an international conference of the world Communist movement. The unity of the movement is now the supreme aim of Leonid Brezhnev, Russia's Communist chief, and Premier Aleksei Kosygin.

Their success or failure as the self-appointed leaders of world revolution will be judged largely by their success or failure at the Budapest meeting.

Castro, by jailing Escalante and his fellow-conspirators, made it clear again that, like Red China's Mao Tse-tung, he does not consider the Russians as genuine Marxist-Leninist leaders.

To add insult to injury, he also announced that Cuba will boycott the Budapest conference. He thus strengthened the position of Yugoslavia, the Communist party of Japan and some Red parties in West Europe who also said that they were not interested in a "unity conference" that intends to excommunicate Red China and reassert Moscow's dominant status in the Red world.

This time the Russians reacted strongly to Castro's treachery. Radio Moscow, in a Spanish-language broadcast beamed to Havana, warned its Cuban listeners against the "danger of nationalism."

It asserted the "American imperialists" placed their hope in the fallacy of a Castro-type nationalism and wished to set Communist countries against each other.

LITTLE CAN BE DONE

Moscow also decided to dispatch Soldatov, a top KGB agent, as the Russian ambassador to Cuba.

But there is really little that Soldatov can do to make Castro toe the line. To be sure, it costs Russia a million a day in military and economic aid to keep the Cuban dictator in power. Without this aid Castro's regime could not last very long.

However, the Kremlin leaders cannot withhold their subsidies or even castigate Castro publicly. They cannot afford to admit that the only Marxist-Leninist dictatorship in Latin America is against Moscow.

Castro knows this. He employs every type of blackmail to force the Russians to adopt his policy of guerrilla warfare and revolutionary brinkmanship in Latin America.

It is not that Brezhnev and Kosygin are less interested than Castro in seizing power in the Western Hemishpere. But they want to achieve their aim cautiously through subversion and not through rash acts that might involve them in another confrontation with the United States.

Any Port In A Storm

Bobby's Juggernaut Felt by Foes

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — The Kennedy men, money and mystique were simply too much for Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Gov. Roger D. Branigin in the Indiana Democratic presidential primary yesterday.

While he didn't get a majority, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy emerged as the winner of the three-man joust with 42 per cent of the vote.

But McCarthy remained politically alive in defeat to fight another day and perhaps on more favorable ground, although his New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries victories were dimmed by his third-place finish. He got 27 per cent of the vote.

For Branigin, an uncommitted favorite son who ran second, there was the consolation that he might yet save some of the state's 63 convention nominating votes. If he did, it was presumed that they eventually might find their way into the roll-call column of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

WON IN 2 DISTRICTS

Branigin got 31 per cent of the total Democratic vote and won in two congressional districts. McCarthy's percentage was 27. He led in no congressional districts.

For Kennedy, the often Republican state of Indiana proved to be a happy hunting ground to continue the lengthy, unbroken skein of political victories by the Kennedys, their kith and kin. They add up to something more than 20 straight wins since the late John F. Kennedy first started running for the House in the 40s.

It was something of a juggernaut that Kennedy mounted in Indiana. He saturated the state with advance men, organizers and follow-up operatives. He spent money liberally to transport himself, his retinue, his relatives and his big-name friends to all corners of the state. He overwhelmed his opponents with television time.

Against this McCarthy's largely volunteer organization, which had worked so well in previous primaries, couldn't muster crowds or stir up interest to rival that of the Kennedy road show. Branigin didn't even try, depending primarily on the state patronage organization to deliver for him.

MORE TO IT

It was popular for supporters of Branigin and McCarthy to say before the primary results were in that Kennedy got all of the attention he did because the people remembered the late President Kennedy fondly and wanted to see what his brother looked like up close and to see how he acted.

There was more to it than that as the voters demonstrated.

The boyish-looking millionaire with the shaggy hair whose shoes and cufflinks were snatched joyously for souvenirs in milling crowds, had a message for Negro and blue-collar workers that they seemed to understand.

They apparently formed the solid backbone of his support at the polls. These votes helped him to win the larger cities, such as Indianapolis, Gary, Fort Wayne, Richmond and Terre Haute.

But that didn't explain it all. He carried the majority of Indiana farm counties, although McCarthy said he was the only real farmer in the race and Branigin's basic strength had been in those areas in the past.

Bob Considine Says:

Scientist Trying to Find What Maser Is Saying

BERKELEY, Calif. — "God put a maser somewhere out there in space and we're trying to piece together what, if anything, it is trying to tell us," Nobel laureate Charles H. Townes said casually.

CONSIDINE

Professor Townes, one of the University of California's 10 Nobel prize winners, was speaking of the mysterious radio signals that have been received from the far reaches of the Milky Way.

He knows whereof he speaks, for it was in the field of maser—an historic breakthrough in the study of beefing up radio waves—that he won his laureate.

Masers enable earth stations to communicate with the satellites now in space. They activate the trans-ocean television programs that are regularly bounced off such orbiting switchboards as Telstar, Lani Bird, and a great number of military satellites which transmit messages.

They sniff at and take pictures of gestating hurricanes, and what's going on in the Soviet Union, Red China, North Vietnam and Cuba.

AID NEEDED

The pictures taken on the surface of the moon by assorted Surveyors could not have been received without the aid of masers.

The remarkable views of the surface of the planet Mars were sent to earth, 4 million miles away, by a beam no greater in power at its starting point than the light that pops on when you open your refrigerator door.

Prof. Townes now is wrapped up in laser, man's newest supertool. Where maser amplifies radio emissions, laser amplifies light to a degree that is billions of times more penetrating than any light ever produced before by man.

A brief burst, properly directed, could drill a hole in the toughest safe, or delicately remove a cataract from a human eye.

It concentrates its beam so tightly that, when aimed at the moon, it illuminated just a few yards of its surface after a trip of a quarter of a million miles.

Two Discuss Lake Orion School Problem

Do all parents in Lake Orion know everything that is going on in our schools? I believe the school is not always obeying the rules. It is my opinion that some children are not given a fair chance but expelled without the parent or child being heard. How many boys and girls are dropping out of Lake Orion and for what reason? I, too, am for obeying rules and for discipline. If my child does something wrong I want him corrected in the right way.

One boy is now in the Army waiting to be sent overseas to fight for you and me because of things going on in the school. He was not treated right and I stand up for him, for my other son, and for the future of other boys and girls in Lake Orion who want and need a fair chance. I teach my child not only the law of the land but the law of God. Why not look at this on both sides and come to our meetings.

OPAL NICHOLSON
84 AXFORD, LAKE ORION

I feel sorry for people who will not take time to attend meetings concerning all children. Smoking is the least of the problems. How would any of you feel if you knew your child did not smoke but was suspended five days because he had the misfortune to be in an area three times and reported for suspicion of smoking?

Even criminals are innocent until proven guilty, and the law provides protection against abusing animals. What protection is there for our children against people who abuse them both mentally and physically? No one thinks we should drop rules in school but these children have the right to be heard.

Question and Answer

What is the new tax on travel and when does it go into effect? What is the limit on the amount of goods each person is allowed to bring back from Ecuador?

PAT BRIEN
5420 BRUNSWICK

REPLY

It will not be in effect until it is passed by Congress. As it now stands the bill would impose a five per cent tax on international air travel (if your plane ticket cost $100, the tax would be $5). We understand steamships would be exempt. The bill also calls for a reduction of duty-free goods from $100 to $10. As of right now, you can still bring back $100 of duty-free goods.

Quakes

Denver Post

The kind of scientific discovery that spawns Nobel prize winners has cropped up —literally from the depths of the earth — at the Colorado School of Mines.

For the first time in history, the earth's hot spots of quake activity, volcanic eruptions, mountain building and mineral outcroppings have been linked together in a worldwide pattern.

The pattern seems to fit the facts and make orderly sense out of what had always been a baffling hodgepodge of widely separated areas.

George E. Rouse, 33, a Wyoming-born graduate student now working for his PhD degree, not in seismology but in geochemistry, was working on an earthquake project for his geophysics course. He began drawing circles on a mercator map of the world, and saw what looked like "correlations between South America and African quake activity."

He knew that major quake zones, such as the famous San Andreas fault in California, don't cut straight down toward the center of the earth. They slant down at a 60-degree angle, which seismologists say grazes the earth's core some 1,800 miles in.

What's around on the other side, he wondered, where such a plane of weakness comes up to the surface again?

Answer — It intersects other centers of volcanic, seismic, sometimes mineralized activity located along a neat circle like beads on a necklace.

It will be a long time before the evidence is all in.

Rouse's theory may lead to accurate forecasting of quakes; to global discoveries of metals and minerals on the bottom of the oceans and practical bonanzas yet unknown.

Infamy . . .

The San Diego Union

May 1st marked 100 days of infamy in the glorious history of the United States of America.

The testimony of that infamy is in the prison camps of North Korea where more than 80 men of the USS Pueblo languish in a prison camp because their nation let them down.

The fact that the crew of the USS Pueblo is in a Communist prison camp marks 100 days of unacceptable impotence on the part of the Administration.

And the 100 days mark nearly a third of a year of eroding prestige for the United States — an erosion that will make the task of defense more difficult in the future.

The last 100 days have been 144,000 minutes of grim mental agony for the captured crew members of the USS Pueblo and their families — each minute like 100 years.

Detroit's New Reaction Shows Signs of Hope

By HUGH MORGAN and BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writers

DETROIT (AP) — "This home is not armed."

That simple proclamation, borne by signs appearing in a small growing number of houses, stands in silent dispute with those who flock to what Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh calls "the arms race" in Detroit.

This new reaction, says the New Detroit Committee, has produced "solid signs of hope" that Detroit, where 43 died in a riot last July, can be spared another summer of fire.

"This home is not armed" appears in the window or door of more than 2,000 houses in the Detroit area, the signs distributors say. If the demand continues at its present pace, the total soon will edge past 3,000, and the campaign already has spread far from the neighborhood that originated it.

OTHER EXAMPLES

Then are other examples:

● Mrs. Edward Watt, a white resident of Warren, a Detroit suburb, led a fund-raising drive that netted $11,000 to be spent to improve understanding between whites and Negroes. She gave $2,500 of the money to help a Negro adult education program in Detroit develop a library on Negro history.

Warren, which is almost all white, has about 100,000 residents and has been in the fore among whites organizing for possible racial trouble, including the formation of a "militaia" to meet any invaders at the city limits.

● Berkley, also a Detroit suburb, a citywide advisory referendum endorsed by a 2-1 margin a proposed "stop and frisk" law which Negroes said would be applied against Negroes more than against whites. The council, flying in the face of the public endorsement, defeated the proposal on a 5-2 vote.

● In Detroit and 11 other Michigan cities, open housing laws have been adopted or improved since the July 23-30 riot, and a proposed statewide open housing law is pending in the Michigan House after getting approval in the Senate. Five of the city ordinances, including Detroit's have been forced into public votes in coming months.

BIRMINGHAM LAW HAILED

In Flint, population 200,000 with about 50,000 Negroes, and in Birmingham, a Detroit suburb of 27,000 with a single Negro family, and in Plymouth, another Detroit suburb, open housing ordinances survived referendums by narrow margins. Of these and the other city open housing laws, the Michigan Civil Rights Commission says: "They're pretty good, solid laws. They've got teeth."

● In Farmington, a group of residents has formed a "new Farmington Committee," similar to the New Detroit Committee to work "on a local level to help progress in race relations."

● Ken Davis, 28, of a Detroit attorney, has joined with other young Detroit businessmen to form Men United for Sane Thought (MUST). Their project, financed by $4,000 contributed by eight members is to cool the arms race through an antigun advertising campaign that is being developed.

The men of MUST, in their opening volley, have put together advertisements with startling impact. One full-page spread shows a helmeted man armed with a shotgun with another weapon slung over his shoulder, a woman at his side holding another shotgun, a small boy before him with a rifle, and a tiny girl clinging to the woman's skirt.

'THIS YEAR IT'S GUNS'

"Keeping up with the Jonses this summer could cost you your life," says the advertisement, remarking that with the Joneses "this year it's guns."

Seventeen companies in Detroit have hired more than 55,000 people since last Aug. 1 when they were asked to help provide jobs to alleviate joblessness in the ghettos and other parts of Detroit.

The automobile manufacturers led the way, with General Motors hiring 19,640 persons, including 7,347 persons directly through antipoverty centers in Detroit areas most heavily populated by Negroes. Chrysler hired 10,000 persons, with 6,000 of them from inner-city areas.

For the ghetto dweller, getting to a job at a plant miles away — Detroit spreads over 140 square miles and the metropolitan area covers much of several counties — is a gigantic problem, Havens said. To overcome it, a coordinated system of public and private transportation has been set up in a six-county area. The system includes some chartered buses. It is aimed basically at getting the ghetto resident to and from his job.

JOB-HUNTER INFLUX

Despite these efforts, Detroit's over-all unemployment rate has risen slightly, with about 31,000 people on the jobless rolls, compared to about 30,000 last August.

J. L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee and a member of the family that owns the department store chain, blames the increase on an influx of job-seekers from outside Detroit.

For many ghetto residents who land jobs, one debilitating factor of their lives is their ghetto homes, many of them old apartment buildings infested with rats and roaches. Many Negroes claim they can get no better housing because of a shortage of funds, or the refusal of realtors to sell them newer houses in white neighborhoods, or both.

The desire for guns, however, has not ended.

Registration of pistols has jumped by leaps and bounds. There were 1,090 registrations last January, up from 626 the previous January, and February's total was 1,421, more than double the 662 registered in February 1967.

DEMAND EASES

Since the murder of Dr. King, though, gun shop owners in Detroit say there has been a downturn in the demand for weapons.

In Detroit, efforts also are under way to change the attitudes that lead to trouble between police and those who live in the slums.

Still, the need for Negroes in Detroit's police force is strong, Cavanagh said, and he has ordered stepped-up efforts to recruit 600 Negroes for the department.

Prior to 1965, Negroes comprised less than 5 per cent of new recruits for the Detroit force of 4,200, which is about 500 below authorized strength. In 1965, the new recruits were 8 per cent Negro, 12 per cent in 1966 and 22 in 1967.

OUT OF PROPORTION

This is far short, however, when compared to the Negro proportion of Detroit's population: About 35 per cent of the 1.6 million Detroiters.

And at one house, "This home is not armed," was insufficient for the head of the household. He made his own sign: "This home has three M-16 rifles, two antitank guns, three bazookas, two divisions of Israeli soldiers, a sling shot, a B-B gun, and one vicious, ranting pregnant woman. Please try next door."

Wreckage Again

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown was wrecked by a tornado three years ago, causing an estimated $30,000 damage. This week, fire swept the rebuilt house with damage again estimated at $30,000.

OSMUN'S GUIDE TO MEN'S WEAR

Chapter 5 The Shoes

It's tough to prove, but we think that Ogg invented shoes one bright, sunny morning when he stepped out of his cave and burned his feet on the hot sand. And the next morning, Ugg, in the neighboring cave, set out to make himself a pair of shoes that were better and better looking. The trouble is (if our theory is correct) that shoes have come down to us over seven or eight hundred generations with great emphasis on fashion, but greater emphasis on utility. That's too bad. Because as neatly and as fashionably dressed as most men are, we're afraid too many of them still think that shoes are just to protect their feet. (Answer truthfully: Have you gotten dressed up for the evening and gone out wearing the wingtips you wore during the day?) Osmun's point is that some shoes are dressy, some shoes are casual, some are for business, and some can be used in more than one situation. But a closet with a good assortment of suits, slacks, and sportcoats, and just one or two pairs of shoes is incomplete "fashionwise." Let's illustrate. French Shriner, one of the best names in the shoe business, makes a style called Soft-Life Casuals. It's soft, it's lightweight, and it's physically and fashionably flexible. Take the Black Leather, for example. Even though it's named "Casual," this shoe will dress you up just below formal. In Light Tan Leather, you've got a daytime shoe with a business suit or coordinated jacket and slacks. In pebble grain White Corfam®, you wear it with any of your new, brightly colored summer slacks. Or you can match your slacks to the four shades of suede. (In leather and Corfam®, they're $26.95; in suede, $24.95. And we have other French Shriners from $19.95 to $38.) Naturally, these French Shriners have fully cushioned soles, extra cushioning in the arch, today's modified square toe, the Italian-style angle-front heel, and stitches that stay stitched. Now it's not really important to Osmun's that we sell you this pair of shoes. What we'd like to do is show you which shoes go with which clothes. That's what is important. All of our shoes are guaranteed to protect your feet against the hot sand.

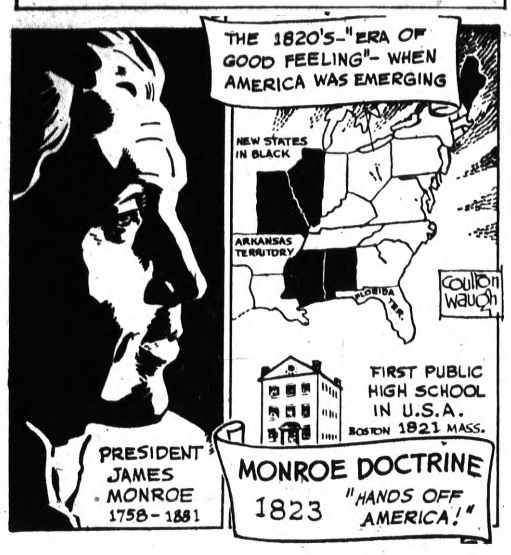
Junior Editors Quiz on MONROE DOCTRINE



QUESTION: When was the "era of good feeling" and in what country?

ANSWER: It is pleasant to record that the "era of good feeling" refers to a time in this country's past, during the two terms of our fifth President, James Monroe, from about 1816 to 1823.

America had emerged from the strains of the Revolution, had survived the troubled days of the War of 1812 and was being accepted into the company of great nations. Political rivalry was not so bitter in those days. The nation was rapidly expanding with new states joining the Union. New industries were appearing and education was being encouraged.

Furthermore, other nations of the Americas were shaking themselves loose from European control. The great South American leader, Simon Bolivar, was at work encouraging South American democracy.

This culminated in President Monroe's policy, announced in 1823, that independent nations of the Americas were not to be interfered with by European powers. This is known as the Monroe Doctrine.

The American people felt that their difficult experiment in democracy was not only succeeding but spreading to other American nations. All these things led to an optimistic mood which became known as the "era of good feeling."

Veep Speaks to UAW Today

Bobby Will Address Convention Tomorrow

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The United Auto Workers, union elections behind them, turned their attention today to U.S. and Canadian politics.

Thomas Douglas, leader of the New Democratic party of Canada, and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey address some 3,000 convention delegates representing 1.6-million UAW members.

12th CONSECUTIVE TERM

Walter P. Reuther, the UAW's leader for 22 years, won unopposed reelection yesterday to his 12th consecutive two-year term.

Unless the union changes its constitutional requirement for retirement at 65, Reuther can serve only one term in addition to his new one. He will be 61 next Sept. 1.

Swept in with Reuther and also without opposition were UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, Vice Presidents Leonard Woodcock and Duane "Pat" Greathouse, and four at-large members of the union's international executive board.

Reuther's salary is $29,500 a year.

Tuesday's News at a Glance From the State Capitol

By the Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Said he would "continue to do what I can within my authority as governor to encourage an ending of the Detroit newspaper strike." The comment followed a federal judge's decision to take no further action in a dispute involving the publisher of the Detroit News, Romney and a special Senate committee investigating the strike.

THE STATE TREASURER

Recommended a short-term state borrowing of some $150 million to maintain the treasury's cash position and meet an accelerated schedule for school aid paymens.

THE STATE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD

Approved without debate the award of a $4.65 million highway contract to the controversial Holloway Construction Co. of Wixom.

Discussed, but did not state a policy on, the question of whether visits to Lansing by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and former Vice President Richard M Nixon constitute official visits or campaign trips.

THE STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Said it plans to cut its budget by $500,000 this year by less trimming of grass and weeds along roadside rights of way.

THE SENATE

Sent to the governor:

X-SB802. Fleming, Kuhn and Richardson. Permit city or county police officers to arrest violators in neighboring counties if violations occur on roads that border both counties.

THE HOUSE

Sent to the governor:

HB2729, Strange. Repeal law governing Sunday sales.

x-HB3551, Brown. Increase maximum permissible interest rate for municipal revenue bonds from 5 to 6 per cent.

x-HB3630, Hampton. Increase maximum permissible interest rate for highway revenue bonds from 5 to 6 per cent.

x-HB2427, Little. Forbid secret votes by county boards except when electing a chairman or dealing with appointments of officials or employes.

x-HB3410, Woodman. Forbid hunter, without permission, to shoot within 150 yards of an occupied dwelling or farm building.

x-HB3518, Strange. Abolish boards of canvassers in cities and villages with five or fewer precincts; transfer duties to county canvassers; authorize bigger units to contract with county boards.

Passed:

x-SB807, Rockwell. Forbid importing live game fish or viable eggs without Conservation Department permit.

x-SB810, Rockwell. Forbid catching fish for sole purpose of stripping their eggs.

x-SB1079, Mrs. Beebe. Raise application fee for state examination in basic sciences from $10 to $25; permit acceptance of nationally accepted tests in lieu of the state test.

x-Immediate effect.

Demolition of Two Buildings Is Authorized

City commissioners last night authorized demolition of two buildings which formerly housed city departments — an old incinerator plant at Featherstone and East Boulevard and the former water administration building behind Hayes Jones Community Center.

Director of Public Works and Service Joseph E. Neipling said consolidation of public works activities in the city's new buildings on Wesson — formerly occupied by Consumers Power Co. — makes the demolition practicable.

Neipling said the water building should be razed since it is a blighting influence in the neighborhood.

In other action, commissioners heard from Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant that some progress had been made in securing safety improvements at an abandoned concrete mixing plant at Paddock and Osmun.

Brinkrant said two pits had been filled and a third had barbed wire placed around it by the property owner. He said other improvements also had been made.

CALLS FOR CLEANUP

District 7 Commissioner James H. Marshall said he was pleased that improvements had been made but said he wanted to see more including a cleanup of the yard area.

Marshall originally complained of the deterioration of the property causing a safety hazard and the city took steps to find the owner and effect the desired improvements.

In other action, the commission:

City Affairs

● Agreed to consider purchasing two downtown lots between Lawrence and Clinton west of Wayne through which Pontiac Creek flows.

● Agreed to follow recommendations of the planning commission in denying a request to rezone a lot at 1220 Joslyn to allow construction of an apartment house.

● Approved spending $23,441 to extend water service mains to the Oakland County Service Center. Neipling said service charges on the projected volume will amortize the construction cost within a reasonable time.

● Approved a request from Metropolitan Club of America to hold a festival May 22 to June 5 on urban renewal land on the west side of Saginaw north of Pike.

Spring Planting Program Over

Nine Pontiac Streets Get 224 New Trees

Pontiac's annual spring planting program has ended with the city placing 224 new trees along nine city streets, Director of Parks and Recreation David R. Ewalt reported to the city commission last night.

Ewalt said 99 trees were grown at the nursery established at Ottawa Park Cemetery and 125 were purchased from tree suppliers.

He said the forestry division had planned to plant more trees but was unable to purchase as many trees as desired.

"Cities that have a yearly contract with large wholesalers are getting first choice," he said suggesting that the city enter into a contract with nurseries for a given number of trees each fall and spring.

Ewalt said streets which were to receive trees in the spring planting but did not, will be added to the fall schedule. He said those included Dick, Hazel, Linda Vista, Astor, Pike, South Boulevard, Seward and Osmun.

13 Named to Panel on Youth Horizons

City commissioners last night authorized creation of a special Mayor's Executive Committee on Youth Opportunities.

Thirteen persons were appointed by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. to the committee.

Coordinator George P. Caronis, the city's youth assistance officer, said the committee will serve as a special advisory group in reviewing existing youth opportunity employment programs, and to aid in the development of comprehensive planning for summer youth programs.

Appointed to the committee were Jack Douglas, president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Labor Council; A. E. Little, manager of Manpower, Inc. and a representative of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce; Bud Prottengier, director of vocational and adult education for the Pontiac School District; B. C. Van Koughnett, director of the school district's community action programs; Merrill Walls, employment manager of the Michigan Employment Securities Commission;

Also, Richard Cain, recreation supervisor for the city; Nicholas Santiwan, city personnel director; Alex Shorter, director of youth incentive employment programs for the Pontiac Area Urban League; Elwood Dunn, director of the Neighborhood Youth Corps of the local Office of Economic Opportunity program; Dr. David Doherty, project director of the Pontiac Area Planning Council; George Putnam, supervisor of vocal and instrument music in the Pontiac School District; James Hunt, planning director of the Pontiac Area United Fund, and James Gallagher, president of the Pontiac area Jaycees.

LBJ, Thai Expected to Air Paris Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to discuss impending U.S.-North Vietnam talks when he meets with visiting Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand—a key military ally in the Vietnam war.

The two leaders are scheduled to open talks today shortly after Johnson extends a ceremonial White House welcome to the prime minister.

The arrival ceremony, featuring full military honors for Kittikachorn, will be carried live on television in Bangkok in the first transpacific telecast from the Intelsat satellite to a new ground station in Thailand.

Women's Champ in Aerobatics Is Air Crash Victim

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Margaret Ritchie, who won the women's aerobatic championship at the National Air Show in 1966, was killed Tuesday night in the crash of her training plane.

Mrs. Ritchie, 43, was known as the Flying Grandmother.

Her custom-made airplane crashed in a barley field as she trained for aerobatics championships to be held in Germany tihs summer.

Investigators said the plane went out of control and crashed five miles northeast of Riverside, where Mrs. Ritchie lived.

Court Won't Hook Suspect in Fishing

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — If there's no hook on the line, you're not fishing, a judge ruled in Superior Court Tuesday.

The case wes the appeal of Army Capt. Michael Harbin, of Ft. Devens, from a $20 fine in lower court on a charge of fishing out of season.

Harbin said he wasn't fishing —just trying out a new spinning reel without a hook.

The case was dismissed.

Science Tunes In Fish in Tests on Sound

They are trying to find out how the air bladders of fish living at various depths of the sea affect the transmission of sound and how many air bladders it takes to make a significant scattering, or "acoustic fog," phenomenon.

"The scattering field, which in general consists of impurities and microorganisms, distorts the path of sound so that signals often are false or too weak to be received at all," expained Paul Moose, project supervisor.

"During World War II, submarines were able to hide under scattering layers and not be detected by surface ships.

"Now that we are on the threshold of living in the sea, we have to be able to locate even small objects at great depths.

"It formerly was assumed that the scattering field could be modeled by homogeneous, densely populated impurities and these could be averaged for practical purposes. But this description isn't adequate for the precise measurement needed for modern warfare and peacetime exploitation."

Off Protection Island in the Strait of Juan de Fuca—the waterway leading from the Pacific Ocean to Puget Sound—A Honeywell engineering team emplaced a device which sends signals to engineers on the research vessel Neper to help determine if there are consistent patterns in the scattering environment which can be programmed into future accoustic instruments.

Mutiny Is Claimed by Ousted Officer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter, stripped of a ship's command after junior officers' complaints, has told a special congressional committee there was mutiny on the vessel.

Arnheiter, a 42-year-old career Navy officer, was relieved as captain of the destroyer escort Vance in 1966 after the Navy ruled he showed "a serious lack of judgment" and "knowingly and deliberately committed many derelictions."

Capt. Richard G. Alexander, 45, who lost command of the battleship New Jersey after interceding with Defense Department authorities on Arnheiter's behalf, is to testify today.

Appearing Tuesday before a committee called together by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y. —who vows to get the case "before Congress or to the White House if needs be"—Arnheiter said that when he assumed command of the Vance, "complete bedlam" existed.

MORALE LOW

He contended morale was low, the vessel was rusty and infested with cockroaches "and I began to wonder what I had inherited."

He testified throughout the first day of the scheduled three-day hearing, saying he wanted his "day in court under proper naval proceedings" and that this had been denied him. His wife sat two rows behind him in the crowded committee room.

There are no official Navy witnesses at the hearing. Resnick said the Navy has refused to cooperate or participate in the inquiry.

Arnheiter, a decorated Naval Academy graduate with seven years of sea duty aboard destroyers, said his intention aboard the Vance was to "take a lax ship and make it into a fighting ship."

MET RESISTANCE

Denying any improper conduct, he said, "My major intent was . . . to take this ship into a war zone with a shipshape crew who would be proud of the ship and of whom the U.S. Navy could be proud."

Arnheiter said he met resistance in his efforts.

"Did you feel there was actual mutiny aboard the Vance?" attorney Marvin Lewis asked Arnheiter.

"Yes," Arnheiter replied, puffing on a cigar.

He said he filed charges alleging mutiny over the objections of the commander of the Pacific destroyer force.

Arnheiter now is shore-based near San Francisco and Alexander has a desk job in Boston.

Ban on Secret Votes by Supervisors Okayed

LANSING (AP)—A bill forbidding secret votes on most issues by county boards of supervisors won final legislative approval Tuesday and was sent to Gov. George Romney.

Also sent to the governor were measures increasing allowable interest rates on municipal bonds and abolishing boards of canvassers in cities and villages with five or fewer precincts.

Passed by the House was a Senate-approved measure permitting state acceptance of nationally recognized tests in lieu of the regular examination in basic sciences, taken by all would-be medical and osteopathic doctors and chiropractors.

The supervisor secrecy bill, given immediate effect by the House Tuesday, requires on-the-record votes by county boards except when they vote for board chairman or on appointment of officials or employes.

EXCEPTION ADDED

The exceptions were added in the Senate. The original House bill, sponsored by Rep. Carl Little, R-Saginaw, would have forbidden any secret ballots by supervisors.

A pair of measures also sent to the governor raise from 5 to 6 per cent the maximum interest rate for municipal revenue bonds and bonds issued in anticipation of highway fund payments. Backers said local governments are having difficulty selling bonds at the 5 per cent figure.

Also sent to Romney with immediate effect was a bill abolishing boards of canvassers in local units of fewer than six precincts and transferring their election-recount duties to the county boards.

The bill authorizes, but does not require, larger local units to abolish their canvassers and contract with the county boards to perform their duties.

PAIR OF AMENDMENTS

The House accepted a pair of Senate amendments which exempt Wayne County from the bll and extend the effective date to Oakland and Macomb counties until 1970. Elsewhere, the measure would take effect July 1.

Rep. Russell Strange, R-Mount Pleasant, chairman of the House Elections Committee, introduced the bill.

Given 97-0 approval and immediate effect, meanwhile, was a bill providing the State Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences to accept results of tests given by the National Board of Medical Examiners, the National Board of Examiners for Osteopathic Physicians or the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

Currently, each applicant for a license to practice healing in Michigan must take a state examination covering anatomy, pathology, bacteriology and chemistry.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, also raises the application fee for the state test from $10 to $25.

The Senate, meanwhile, met briefly and sent to the governor a bill permitting a city or county peace officer to arrest persons in a neighboring governmental unit for violations occurring on a street that borders both units.

A continuous integrated process that will cut the production time of converting stainless iron to slabs from several days to 2½ hours is being built.

Highway Dept. Cuts Mowings

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports it plans to trim $500,000 off its budget this year by less trimming of grass and weeds along roadside rights of way.

The department spent $1.7 million for grass and weed control in 1966-67. The budget for this purpose was cut to $1.2 million in $967-68.

All but essential mowings will be delayed until July 1, when operations will be limited to two complete cuttings a year in the northern 40 counties and a maximum of three a year in the southern 43 counties.

Mowing also will be limited, in most instances, to within 15 feet of the shoulder of the road. Previously roadsides have been mowed an average of three or four times a year, generally to the right of way line.

More complete mowings will be continued on depressed freeways, urban parkways and other areas where the grass should be cut more often for highway safety.

Space Law Specialists Working to Head Off Future Conflicts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Should a U.N. space agency be created to launch all "spy-in-the-sky" satellites for the United States, Soviet Union and any other nation that gets into the act?

Would the United States be breaking the U.N. space treaty, which prohibits "national appropriation" of the moon, if Apollo astronauts bring lunar rocks back to earth as planned?

Should a group similar to the International Atomic Energy Agnecy be created to supervise all space activities, acting as a "space Court" to settle disputes?

Can a nation legally shoot out of the skies a high-flying reconnaissance aircraft of spy satellite passing over its territory? Or, in other words, how high up does a nation's territorial limt go and where does "free space" begin?

MAKING EFFORT

Working through a variety of national and international groups, specialists in space law and from many nations are attempting to settle these and many other provocative questions to head off conflicts before they start.

They are making an effort to project law into space ahead of the mainstream of men and machines.

"More has been accomplished in projecting law in outer space in the last 10 years than all the diplomats in history have accomplished projecting the rule of law on earth," says Harold Berger, Philadelphia attorney and chairman of the Federal Bar Association's Committee on Space Law.

"We already have a space treaty signed by over 60 nations," including the United States and Russia, and approved by the U. N. General Assembly in 1966, he said. More recently another agreement initiated by U.N. members, including Russia and the United States, provides for assistance and safe return of astronauts forced down on foreign territory by space mishaps.

QUESTIONS UNRESOLVED

Many legal questions still remain unresolved, however. In interviews conducted during a recent conference on space law at Cape Kennedy, Berger and other specialists in space law discussed problem areas and steps being considered to overcome them.

"There is need for an international organization dealing exclusively with space matters," said Dr. Isidoro Zanotti of Brazil, a member of the Inter-American Bar Association's Space Law Committee.

"It should be similar in respects to the International Atomic Energy Agency, a general conference in which the governments are represented," Zanotti said. He predicted "some country" will propose to the United Nations that it organize such an agency.

Another suggestion that may someday be considered by the United Nations is to have the international group from a space agency of its own to launch all spy-in-the-sky reconnaissance satellites.

MAIN PROBLEM

"The problem," said Maj. Gen. Albert M. Kuhfeld, former judge advocate general of the Air Force and now associate dean of the Ohio State University College of the Law, "is that the Soviets have not looked upon surveillance as a peaceful use of space."

While the United States and Russia regularly use satellites for military surveillance over each other's territory, there has not been any consensus that the use of spy satellites is peaceful.

The U.S. position has been that the spacecraft are not armed and therefore are for defensive purposes, rather than offensive. Soviets have noted, however, that satellites are used by Americans as an aide in Vietnam, monitoring such things as weather conditions and troop movements. Preparing for war is not peaceful, the Soviets have said.

Fearful that this dispute might cause a rupture of the space treaty, which urges peaceful uses of space, Kuhfeld has suggested in legal conferences with a line to U.N. panels that a U.N. agency "be responsible for all surveillance as a peace-keeping group."

PHOTOS ON REQUEST

Under the plan, which Kuhfeld said he is proposing as an individual rather than a representative of the Air Force, U.S. satellites would take photos as often as a member nation requested and distribute them openly to all members of the international organization.

Decisions must also be settled on how other portions of the space treaty will be interpreted, such as one section which prohibits use of the moon, other celestial bodies and outer space for "national appropriation."

The language of the treaty "raises some fundamental questions," said Prof. Stephen Gorove, of the University of Mississippi's School of Law.

For example, said the specialist in space law, there "is a legal question" whether the United States would be in violation of that treaty if Apollo astronauts bring samples of lunar rock back to this nation as is now planned. National Appropriation of any part of the moon or plants is forbidden under the treaty, he pointed out.

COULD BYPASS TREATY

He suggested that a government could bypass the treaty by mining resources through an individual, rather than a national program, or perhaps through an international endeavor.

Maj. Gen. Richard C. Hagen, assistant to the judge advocate general of the Air Force and secretary general of the International Conference on Water for Peace held last May, said other problem areas in space law include establishing responsibility for damages and answering the question of where a nation's air rights end and free space begins.

In many circles, "the doctrine of absolute liability" is being pushed which, in the case of space, would make the nation or group responsible for launching a rocket or spacecraft the responsible party for any damage caused when it reentered the atmosphere, Hagan said.

The question of how high up a nation's sovereignty ends will affect reconnaissance activities, he said, and might also influence a nation's decision whether it should shoot out of the skies something like an enemy broadcasting satellite beaming undersirable propaganda into public radio and television sets.

Pope Plans to Visit Bogota in August

VATICAN CITY (AP) Pope Paul VI announced today that he would go to Bogota, Colombia, in August for the 38th International Eucharistic Congress.

School Aid for Poor at Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Title I, the federal project on which $3 billion has been spent in the hope of answering the educational needs of deprived children, is not working out. On this point, critics and supporters alike are agreed.

Some critics call the two-year-old project a total flop, and others claim it has actually worked against poor children.

While supporters reject this argument, they concede that Title I isn't functioning as its sponsors intended.

"The Title I program obviously has not even begun to make any impact on motivating ghetto youngsters," said Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., chairman of the House general subcommittee on education. "You go across the length of the country and you find the money being spent on the same tired old ideas. It is a monumental flop and the outbreak of recent riots speaks louder than anything I can say about the total collapse of the program."

ATTENTION GETTER

Joseph Froomkin, assistant U.S. commissioner of education, said that Title I, at the very least, has focused attention on one of America's worst problems, and should be continued, but added, "We still have little evidence that the problem is being licked; in fact, we may even be falling behind."

"I think we probably would need $5 billion a year to do the job adequately," Froomkin said in an interview. "The program is spread too thinly. One billion dollars a year, the present appropriation, spread around the country isn't a lot of money."

Title I is the heart of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act passed by Congress in 1965 to provide funds for the education of poor children. It established a national goal to equalize educational opportunities for all children by compensating for the disadvantages of those who grow up in poor communities.

Educators contend that poor children start school later, learn less while they are there, and drop out sooner. The result, they say, is that poverty tends to perpetuate itself.

BLIND ALLEYS

For the current fiscal year, $1.15 billion has been allocated for Title I. But a national survey by a panel of distinguished U.S. educators has concluded that too much of this amount is going to expand old curricula and ideas that already have proven to be blind alleys.

The National Advisory Council on the Education of Disadvantaged Children said these faults turned up in the course of its nationwide survey:

Small group instruction, a major Title I goal, frequently takes the form of organizing schoolchildren into groups of like ability. In effect this results in groupings by cultural and economic backgrounds.

"Title I will hardly be fulfilling its mission if it fosters a new track system, removing the disadvantaged child from his more stimulated and motivated schoolmates," the council said.

In an area that council members feel any advance might have produced the most dramatic results of all—parent involvement in the child's learning—there was almost no apparent progress.

NO MOTIVATION

"One reason the disadvantaged child is disadvantaged is because he does not bring to school a motivation acquired at home," said the council.

The study found that less than one-third of all projects surveyed involved changes that encouraged experimentation or exploration. And most in-service teacher training—supported by federal funds—worked out to be a couple of hours after each school day with an average length of projects 10 days.

Title I aims at helping all poor children, but the biggest problem is in predominantly Negro schools of the big cities. In channeling aid to those schools, the program has been caught in the middle of a hot dispute between those pressing for racial integration and those who want better schools in Negro neighborhoods.

Harold Howe II, U.S. commissioner of education, endorses both goals but argues that improving predominantly Negro schools "will not by itself do the trick . . . we cannot hope to convince the Negro child that he is as good as any other youngster as long as we quarantine him in schools reserved for racial and national minorities."

'VERY OPTIMISTIC'

Another who shares Froomkin's "modest optimism" about Title I is Dr. Alice M. Rivlin, deputy assistant secretary for program analysis with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"I think we have found the task is much tougher than we thought at the start . . . when it began, we really didn't know how to go about it. We still don't, really, but we're trying to find out. There is no evidence that it (the program) has failed . . . I'm very optimistic. I think what we've got here is a big experimental program and I think it should be continued. At the very least it has focused attention on deprived children — something that wasn't true before," she said.

Dr. Thomas B. Pettigrew, a Harvard social psychologist, charged the program is working against research findings that "the most important thing a school can provide for disadvantaged children is contact—meaningful contact—with affluent children."

Pettigrew said in an interview that the program gives first choice on funds to schools that have a majority of poor youngsters, and "This further separates the poor from the rich."

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

He likened Title I to the federal rivers and harbors programs. "Everybody can get cut in whether he needs it or not . . . that's why it has been so popular politically."

Peace Talk Hopes Wary

LONDON (AP) — While applauding the Hanoi-Washington agreement to open Vietnam talks in Paris, some foreign commentators say it is too early for optimism and an "appallingly intractable task of peacemaking" lies ahead.

"It is hard to recall any negotiation in which the prospects for a settled peace seemed, at least at the outset, to be more remote, or the respective concessions harder to envisage," said the Sunday Times of London.

"Optimism for a successful outcome to the negotiations is still unwarranted," said the Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri.

"Once the two sides are at the same table the pressure of public opinion at home will tend to keep them there. No amount of public pressure, however, can diminish the appallingly intractable task of peacemaking that lies ahead," said the British newspaper Guardian.

GENERAL PESSIMISM

An Associated Press sampling of foreign opinion showed a number of commentators calling for a cease-fire during the talks, but general pessimism about chances for a halt to the fighting.

"Since the talks in Paris are expected to be protracted and difficult, there might be further intensification of military operations in South Vietnam," said the Japan Times.

Marian Mothers Plan Fashions and Luncheon at Oakland Hills

Oakland Hills Country Club will be the setting for a luncheon fashion show May 16 sponsored by the Mothers' Club of Marian High School. Proceeds are pegged for school needs and scholarship funds.

Spring and summer fashions will be shown by Milgrims of Detroit.

The long and short of it will be seen in exciting new fashions from Milgrims of Detroit at the annual general meeting and luncheon of the Mothers' Club of Marian High School on May 16 in Oakland Hills Country Club. Shown from left are Birminghamites, Mrs. Leon Briggs and Mrs. Murray Percival checking over style selections for the event open to members and guests.

Proper Dress Depends Upon Weather, Time

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning a formal wedding and everybody seems to have a different idea about what the men in the wedding party should wear. Can you please tell me the right clothes for them? — Denise

Dear Denise: Formal dress for the male members of the wedding party follows a definite pattern from which no deviation is permitted.

In temperate climates, formal evening clothes means a black tailcoat and matching trousers, stiff white shirt, wing collar, white tie, and white waistcoat. Semi-formal evening clothes mean a black or midnight-blue dinner jacket (tuxedo) and matching trousers, pique or pleated bosom white shirt with attached collar, black tie, and black waistcoat or cummerbund.

Formal day clothes replace the dress described above for daytime weddings and should be worn whenever a wedding is scheduled before six o'clock. The daytime equivalent of the evening tailcoat is a black cutaway coat worn with striped black trousers, grey waistcoat, stiff white shirt, stiff fold-down collar, and four-in-hand black and grey tie. (A dress ascot tie may be worn).

Less formal daytime clothes are the same except that a suit-style black sack coat is substituted for the cutaway, the shirt is soft instead of stiff and only a four-in-hand tie is worn.

In warm climates or very hot summertime, a formal daytime wedding is usually not attempted. In the informal wedding, although the bride may still wear a simple bridal gown, the men switch to Palm Beach suits or to dark grey or navy blue jackets with white trousers.

They may also wear white jackets with dark grey trousers. Shirts are soft white with attached collar, and ties should be four-in-hand with a dark, neat pattern.

Women Voters League Representative Here

Mrs. Robert Rottman, field service director of the League of Women Voters of Michigan, will be at the Community Room at The Pontiac Mall at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Any Waterford Township woman interested in the establishment of an LWV group in her area may attend.

Reception Will Celebrate Opening of New Facility for Child Guidance

Board members and staff of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinics will participate in a tea and reception next Wednesday in the new clinic offices on Elizabeth Lake Road.

The new facilities, replacing former quarters on Franklin Boulevard, will permit handling an expanded case load, reports Jay Van Zoeren, M. D., president of the board.

There are three clinics in Oakland County providing diagnostic and treatment services of the county's emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children.

During the reception, a plaque will be given to Vernon Keye for exceptional services through the years.

Keye, director of the Mental Health Clinic and assistant director of Health Services at Wayne State University, was active in the formation of the original South Oakland Clinic.

Mrs. Alden Hathaway and women of the board and staff will perform hostess duties at the 3-5 p.m. event.

Today's Woman

Extends Self by Volunteering

By JEANNE NELSON

Then there are the five youngsters: Emily, 16; Fred, 14; Mary, 13; John, nine and little Abigail, almost four. Add to this, a current upheaval not so fondly referred to as that "ugh remodeling," and you have about half the picture.

The other half of this Bloomfield Hills woman's life is volunteer community involvement. It all began about 10 years ago back in Greenwich, Conn. where, as a Junior League member, she first discovered the role of volunteer.

On moving to this area, Betty Fisher continued her activities in the League, helping to initiate the New Horizons program. It wasn't long before she added to her already full schedule, by accepting posts on the state and county boards of the Society of Crippled Children and Adults.

Her duties included overseeing school transportation for the children, along with coordinating special education and therapy classes.

BIG JOB

In her newest elective post as chairman of the Oakland Planning Division of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, Betty Fisher assumes an overwhelming amount of responsibility.

Among a number of agencies under her direction in this new job are Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, Family Service of Oakland County and Catholic Social Services of Oakland County.

She also finds time to be secretary of the board of Oakland County Volunteer Bureau and a board member of the Oakland County Family Service.

So far she has never escaped the room mother job for one child or another, all of whom are enrolled in Cranbrook school, except for the youngest.

Out of town trips are frequent in her husband's business and long ago Mrs. Fisher learned to pack in a hurry. She and her husband are both avid antique collectors and enjoy entertaining small groups in their stately old colonial home.

As a Radcliffe College alumnae, Mrs. Fisher is also a member of the Seven Eastern Women's Colleges Association and acts as interviewer for area girls interested in gaining admittance to one of them.

Quit Seeing Him

One-Sided Love Doesn't Last

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a 29-year-old man for the last eight months. I am 22. He's nice looking, well-mannered and can afford to show a girl a good time. He has bought me some rather expensive gifts (a stereo for Christmas and a color TV for my birthday.) He tried to give me a diamond for St. Valentine's day, but I wouldn't accept it.

ABBY

I just don't love him and he knows it, but he says he's desperately in love with me. I never tried to lead him on. I told him from the beginning that I didn't love him and didn't think I ever could. I've even asked him to quit calling me, but he calls anyway, and if I have nothing better to do, I go out with him.

I have acted bored in his company, and been rude to him, but he can't be discouraged. Any suggestions?

TOO HONEST

DEAR TOO: If you really don't see any future with this man, don't go out with him again because the more you see of him, and the more you accept from him, the harder it will be to get rid of him. He plans to "wear you down." And if he succeeds, you'll both be sorry. A one-sided "love" doesn't last long.

DEAR ABBY: I am 31, have been self-supporting since I was 18, am well-groomed and have lots of friends. But in spite of my jolly disposition and happy smile, I am very unhappy. You see, I am one of those big-boned women who could diet herself down to nothing, but I would still be big.

I know I am fat, but I am naturally so large that if I were to lose any weight it would show in my face and neck, and I would rather be a little on the plump side than haggard and wrinkled.

This letter is a plea for more consideration on the part of those who make fat women the butt of their jokes. We have feelings, too, and although we are good sports on the surface, we are crying on the inside. I want love and companionship like any other normal woman, but it's hopeless. Men don't want fat women. Yet, no woman ever turned a man down because he was fat.

Don't tell me to go on a diet. No matter how much weight I lost, I would still be

BIG, AND HATING IT

DEAR BIG: Alas, all men (and women) were not created equal. And that goes for the undersized as well as the oversized. Don't try to rationalize your excess poundage by saying you "need" it to go with your "bigboned" frame. A "big boned" woman only accentuates her size by being fat as well.

Get a sensible diet from a doctor and stick with it. Plenty of "big" women are enjoying the love and companionship of big men. And some "little" men have shown their true "bigness" by marrying a bigger woman.

Dr. Appleton, Speaker

Dr. Sheldon Appleton of the Political Science Department at Oakland University will be the guest speaker at the May 15 meeting of League of Women Voters of Rochester.

Dr. Appleton's talk is entitled "American Public Opinion and its Relationship to Our Foreign Policy with Red China."

The 9:30 a.m. meeting in St. Paul's Methodist Church is open to any interested person.

Mrs. B. B. Roush Is Elected Head

Elected to the board of trustees were Mrs. Harcourt S. Patterson, Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Fitzgerald

New members of the association are Mrs. Arthur E. Moore of Royal Oak and Mrs. Merrell D. Petrie of Pontiac.

The group observed a brief memorial for the late Mrs. Frederick J. Ward, former member of the board of directors, and for Emma Howard, who was president of the association at the time of her death.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Makeup is tricky business! Most women today are fairly experienced and clever in its application, but there are perhaps some little tricks which are unfamiliar to some of you.

For instance, let's consider the eyebrows. How long should they be, and what shape? Stand in front of a mirror. Take a pencil and place it vertically at the side of your nose. The pencil pounts straight up. The inner end of the brow should end where the pencil makes contact.

In order to discover how far the outer end of the brow should extend, place the pencil against your nostril, slanting out and up toward the outer corner of the eye. The brow should end where the pencil makes contact.

DEFINITE FASHIONS

Periodically there are definite fashions in the shape of the brow. Some years ago the very thin, highly arched brow was the vogue. For some time now the tendency has been toward the natural brow. Only stray hairs are plucked usually. If the brows are too straight across, arch them a little by removing a few hairs from underneath the brow.

Many women make mistakes in the selection of their makeup baee. Try to match your skin tone as exactly as possible. I think most women find a liquid base easiest to apply. Be sure that this extends all the way to the hairline and completely covers the neck. Do not have any line of demarcation.

Cleanse your face and neck and apply a moisturizer before using the base. Blushers can create magic. If your complexion is too florid, tone it down with a light beige-toned blusher. If it is too sallow, use a blusher which has quite a bit of pink in it.

EXPERIMENT

As a matter of fact if you experiment a little you may find yourself with a blusher "wardrobe." Costumes of different colors call for different colors in lipsticks and blushers.

Once you learn to use a lipstick brush you will be "hooked." You can outline the lips so much more accurately.

Case No. E-558

Retirees Lose Their Zest

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-558: Horace G., aged 64, is worried.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I've noticed that when my friends retire on Social Security, they soon die.

DR. CRANE

"If they had continued on the job, wouldn't they have lived longer?

"In fact, some of the fellows at the factory have now decided it is smarter to retire at 62, even though they draw less Social Security, for they figure in that way they'll get three years more Social Security checks before they die.

"Is is really true that people die earlier when they quit work?"

CALISTHENICS

Yes, people often involute and cut off their external social "roots" when they retire.

So they lose their zest.

Then they become hypochondriacs or "Worry Warts" about every little ache and pain.

Their concern deals with Medicare and hospital insurance, so they begin to analyze themselves for hidden aches and tumors.

A working person is more extroverted. He has his attention on his job and focusses more on other people.

So he overlooks these trivial pains and thus doesn't become a chronic worrier about his health.

Man wrapped up in himself also makes a dandy source of revenue for physicians, for he soon sprouts all sorts of trivial ailments!

God apparently places us down here in the classroom called Earth so we may develop new ideas and solve external problems, with our attention extroverted upon our external surroundings.

When we focus on ourselves and withdraw from the classroom work, why should God let us remain alive?

For then we are deadheads or idlers, merely taking up valuable classroom space that might more profitably be occupied by others with less selfish concern.

In the overcrowded modern colleges, if a student occupies choice desk and laboratory space but fails to do his lessons or perform the lab experiments, isn't he a drone and thus rendering an injustice to those other eager students who are debarred from college entrance by lack of space?

So why should God extend the lifespan of anybody who is merely a drone; taking in the benefits of this earth but not giving out anything constructive or unselfish?

Oldsters better develop a new code of living and begin to realize that God expects active partners instead of idlers.

You can be forced to retire from your office or factory (because of the foolish F. D. Roosevelt doctrine) but that doesn't mean you can't become an active "home missionary" of your church.

Or participate in precinct work for stopping the rapid take-over by socialistic Washington, D.C., of our former rights and "free enterprise" system!

Uncle Sam is now trying to replace God as the source of handouts and medical aid. That's foolish! It makes voters idolatrous, too!

Home Sewn Bibs Nice Baby Gifts

Bibs of terry towelling make nice gifts for the new baby. If you are not an old hand at cutting out a pattern for the bib, place an oblong china platter upside down on wrapping paper, mark around with a pencil and use this as your pattern. Then cut out the neck hole about 2½ inches from one end. Cut an opening through the back cutting a straight line. Finish by binding with bias tape, leaving the tape extending on each side of the back of the neck for tying.

Swiss Villagers Competed for 'Cleanest Wash'

Easter Monday, 1889, marked the start of a Fete de Blanchisseuses — a washing competition which pitted against each other washerwomen from many towns on Lake Geneva.

There would be little point in such a contest today in the U.S. where every woman can turn out a fine wash every day by means of automatic home laundry equipment, efficient soap and detergent products, fabrics engineered for washability — and even fabrics that iron themselves in a dryer.

Sponge Pencil Marks

To remove lead pencil marks from woolen material, try sponging them with half and half solution of denatured alcohol and water. This does not harm the fabric but removes the marks.

Let Son Learn Limitations the Hard Way

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: Our 16-year-old son has taken on so many extra activities at school that all his marks have slumped. He's advertising manager for its paper, plays trumpet in its band and is his class treasurer. He has left himself no time for study, but if we try to tell him this, we are told we are "dominating" him. If you know of any way to get him to give up one of these extra responsibilities . . .

ANSWER: I don't, alas. Indeed, it's my view that these superman adolescents of ours have to fall flat on their faces before they listen to anyone, however wise. It is about them that Dr. Jack L. Rubins, associate professor of psychiatry at New York Medical College, writes these most helpful words:

"They feel that they possess magic control and power, that they can do anything. The need for self-sufficiency . . . may be so absolute that even the slightest compromise may be experienced as complete helplessness."

So, were this too-proud one mine, I'd let his marks slump, even if the slump meant no promotion this June. However, this doesn't mean you have to. You're free to nag at him to your heart's content. But I would not. Quiet as a mouse I'd be while he reveled in his delusion that he can do, not just anything but everything.

And this quietness would be extremely easy for me to come by for a very simple reason: I regard the adolescent's realization of his limitations as his most vital lesson.

Thus, I'd divert no energy at all to nagging at him but expend it all on maintaining my own uncritical self-possession. For, after all, this superman of yours has only undertaken the impossible because he's so critical, so scared of any weakness in himself. Which is why he can take no criticism, no advice from you, no matter how kind you try to make it. It carries with it the appalling suggestion that he can't do everything.

Do you know the old Greek story about that adolescent kid, Icarus?

His father fashioned him wings which he attached to him by wax. But so drunk did Icarus get on his flying power that he mounted so high the sun melted the wax and he crashed down into the sea.

It's this crash-down by our high-flying supermen kids we have to husband our strength for. So merciless to themselves are they that they'll insist on seeing the crash as intolerable shame if we aren't there with the love that can make them see it as liberation from their superman nonsense and the beginning of adulthood.

HERNANDEZ-RAMIREZ

Sandy Ramirez became the bride of Arthur Hernandez of South Roselawn Street in vows spoken Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Ramirez of South Boulevard West was attired in full-skirted lace over taffeta with cathedral train and double crown of pearls securing her bouffant veil. Honor attendants were Mary Ramirez and David Cervantes with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maya, Mr. and Mrs. Lino Davila. The Albert Amadors, Mary and Richard Gonzales, Theresa Augilara, Joe Hubble, Paul Ramirez, Carmen Contreas, Hope and Fred Amador and and Josie Fielder. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert V. Hernandez of University Drive.

Birth Controls Now Urged in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (WMNS) — Faced with a runaway population — and an illegal abortion problem that takes an estimated 11,000 lives a year — the Turkish government has reversed its 40 year ban on contraception, making family planning a matter of national policy.

The call to family planning is coming not only from physicians' offices, public health centers, hospitals, and clinics, but from mosques, which usually perform the religious task of calling the Moslem faithful to worship.

It seems that one persuasive gynecologist, a British - born physician enthusiastic about birth control, enlisted the help of imams, priests in charge of mosques, in his family planning campaign. He may now announce family planning classes over the mosque's loud speakers. Drifting over the minarets is a voice chanting: "A small family is a happy family," and urging young wives to come to class.

Milk won't scorch so easily if heated in a pan which has been rinsed in cold water before the milk is poured into it.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I want to sew exactly as you suggest because you have inspired me to use more beautiful fabrics as well as to make much better garments. In fact, I have become such a snob with my clothes that I couldn't be satisfied with ready-made unless I could purchase them in the costume room.

Here is my problem: I am making a summer wardrobe for my children and myself and am wondering just how much underlining I should do. When I see the clothes that I consider expensive for my girls, they are never underlined, so I am really confused.

Mrs. V. C.

Dear Mrs. V. C.:

Children's clothes are usually made of sturdy, washable, crease resistant fabrics that aren't actually improved too much by underlining. I would say you should make their clothes as simply as possible because they tire of them or outgrow them in such a hurry.

As to your own clothes, once again you will have to decide if you want them to look like costume room clothes or the kind you see on racks at the shops. I personally find that underlining gives most garments a more beautiful line and also seems to avoid that old problem of wrinkles.

One of the nicest advantages is the way a hem looks when you have underlined, you won't see a single stitch! If you are speaking of washable fabrics, that is a different story, these may or may not be underlined. If you are underlining washable dresses, be sure to wet the underlining fabric as well as all trimmings before using. This will prevent any chance of shrinking.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Dan Wilhelm, Elkin, N.C., is this week's pressing board winner for her sewing tip.

"Here is the way I make a dress with tucks, it's fast and easy! Leave part of your material with the right side facing the pattern, still pinned to the pattern, and press the material while still pinned, on each pleat line. Unpin the piece of material already pressed, pin the other half of the dress or blouse with the right side of the material facing the pattern and do the same thing again.

Most sewing machines have a little attachment that comes with the machine that will help make a straight stitching on these tucks, or a narrow tuck can be easily stitched by using the edge of the presser foot as a guide."

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I'm making a sleeveless brocade dress and lining it with taffeta. Should the taffeta or the brocade be used for the neck and armhole facings?

Mrs. C. S. F.

Dear Mrs. C. S. F.:

If you are using a heavy brocade such as an embossed or matelasse cotton, you would use a lighter weight fabric for the facings. Some of the most attractive dresses I have seen have had the neckline and armhole facings made of a contrasting color. Today anything goes — so dare to be different!

You will find answers to questions about everything from knotty thread to correct yardage in Eunice Farmer's excellent booklet, "Twenty Questions."

To obtain your copy, send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Eunice Farmer, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Some Philosophy a la Milk Crate

By BETTY CANARY

It was just such a day as this, in the season of daffodiles and chicken pox, when I gave up trying to be organized.

Until then, I had tried to live according to plan and schedule, to run a taut ship, as they say. Not only did I write up work lists alloting time for mundane chores (cln. kit. cpbds-Thurs.) but I boosted my efficiency level by providing time for emergencies (cuts, sknnd. knees & misc. — 30 mins. daily).

Then one day, on just such a day as this, as I chased our escaped parakeet through the neighborhood trees while a roast burned in my oven and the washing machine overflowed in the kitchen, well, I gave it all up.

Since then, I have lived listless but not listlessly. I greet each new day with a bit of recklessness, a certain sangfroid.

And, thinking about it as I sit waiting patiently beside the bubble gum machines, well, I'm glad I no longer worry about broken schedules and burning butter beans and that kind of thing.

Without emergencies, I might not get out of the house for days at a time. Enjoy, enjoy . . . and first things first is what I say.

The reason I am writing this in the market is because my daughter Cissy asked for a penny and because my son Rick collects coins. And because little Babs, in bed with chicken pox, decided a ball of bubble gum would make her feel much less itchy. This seemed reasonable, so I sent Cissy for the gum.

"I think there is a penny on the living room mantel," I said. "Just take that one."

In the time it takes to peel five potatoes, Cissy had done her Girl Scout deed for the day, Babs was less itchy (pink bubble gum works extra fast) and we had a crisis.

"Where's my penny?" Rick screamed. "A 1931 S! Worth almost $20! Why was I born?"

"Gone. Thought it was just a penny. Interesting but very long story," I answered.

Well, the last I saw of them, my potatoes were still unpeeled, Cissy was working at getting Bab's gum off the sheets and Rick was frantically dialing the phone and begging the store manager to call the bubble gum man.

I don't care if he comes or not. Really, I find it very restful, just sitting here on this milk crate.

Braves Wove the Trousseau

Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Ferris of Flint announce the betrothal of their daughter, Terrie Lynn, to Roger Rohlfs. He is the son of Mrs. Lawrence Rohlfs of Oak Park Drive, Independence Township and the late Mr. Rohlfs. Vows are slated for Aug. 24.

The modern American bride provides her own trousseau, but in one ancient culture, the bridegroom had to make the trousseau from scratch.

Thousands of years ago the Pueblo Indian bridegroom had to present his bride with plain white robes and a fringed sash woven of cotton. He and his relatives did the weaving.

'Faithful Five' Keep Tradition

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Forty-five years ago, five local women who were the only ones to show up for a meeting in Holy Name Hall on St. Joseph's Day decided to stay together and have regular meetings, and they have kept their resolve.

"The Faithful Five," as they call themselves, recently met at the home of Mrs. Fred J. Bainbauer, who now lives in Silver Springs, Md. The other four, who stayed several days with their out-of-town hostess, are Mrs. Julia Phillips, Mrs. Marion Olsofsky, Mrs. Stephen Matko and Mrs. Joseph Ganofsky.

Total Beauty Must Include Lovely Nails

While a smooth, colorful application of flowing, gleaming nail polish has always been an important part of a woman's total look of beauty, in this age of "shiny" beauty fashions it becomes absolutely essential. To light up your spring and summer appearance, Max Factor has some useful hints on how to apply polish so as to minimize the possibility of peeling or chipping.

- Be sure your nails are clean and dry before you begin the application. If a film of moisture or oil is present, the polish may peel off within hours.
- Always check the consistency of nail polish before using it. Too-thick polish can cause peeling.
- Allow the first coat to dry thoroughly before applying the second. If applied correctly, in an even film using a minimum number of strokes, the polish should be hard enough to feel "slick" to a light touch within seconds after application. Applying a second coat before the first dries is another cause of peeling.
- Nail polish should be allowed to dry naturally. Forced drying by running cold water over the nails or holding them near heat may cause the enamel to begin chipping off in small, brittle bits and pieces shortly after it is applied.

American System Must Work for All

By W. M. YOUNG, JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

Just a very short time ago, people were talking about how our political system wasn't working. Dissatisfaction with the war was growing, but there didn't seem to be any response from either party.

YOUNG

Students and other groups were beginning to turn their backs on our society. "No one is listening to us," they said.

But they suddenly found that the nation's leadership was indeed listening. Candidates came forward who expressed their views on the war, and the President renewed efforts to negotiate our way out of Vietnam.

These events proved that the system does work. They prove that it is flexible enough to bend with the popular will, and they prove that the way to change the system is not to refuse to have anything to do with it, but to challenge it and fight for what you believe is right.

The American system, with its careful checks and balances and divisions of power isn't easy to move. But when faced by crisis, it shows it can adapt quickly.

It seems to be doing it now; it did it over 30 years ago when the Depression called for changes in the role of government; it adapted from a peacetime economy to a war economy in 1941; and it responded to the challenge of aiding foreign countries with the Marshall Plan in 1948.

It has proved that it can change when the national interest is at stake or when enough white people get together to demand a particular course of action.

Now it has to prove that it can be flexible enough to respond to the legitimate needs of Negro citizens.

For the same disbelief in the system and the same alienation which is slowly fading among concerned white citizens who find their views being adopted, has flourished for years in the ghettos of America's cities.

IT'S ABOUT TIME

It's about time the system began working for them too.

Our country has to respond to the people who want decent jobs, better housing, and first-class education for their children.

If it can come up with a Marshall Plan for Europe, it can come up with a Domestic Marshall Plan to do for the victims of the ghetto what it did for victims of the war.

But these are old complaints, and our nation has turned a deaf ear to them before. Perhaps it will start listening now that the Poor People's March on Washington will once again bring them to the public's attention.

NOT JUST BLACKS

And it isn't just poor Negroes who are marching, it's also poor whites, Spanish - speaking citizens, Indians, and all who are oppressed and left out of our country's prosperity.

But our system seems to be far more responsible to change when white people advocate it. That's why I recently called for a White March on Washington, led by the white leadership of the nation, to back up the demands of Negroes and other minorities.

And that's why I want white people to get into the ghetto to see what it is like to live on the wrong side of town.

That's what the President's Commission on Civil Disorders did. The political, industrial, and labor leaders who made up that group smelled the uncollected garbage, saw the misery, heard the grievances, and went back to their offices to write a powerful report which shocked the nation with its attack on white racism and the lack of opportunities.

NO SLUMS?

Just a few weeks ago the mayor of Jackson, Mississippi told people: "There are no slums in the city of Jackson."

Two days later he was given a conducted tour of those very slums he wasn't aware of even though he'd been mayor for 20 years, and he emerged shaken. "I've seen things today," he said, "I wouldn't have believed existed . . .".

White America is going to have to open its eyes and stop sweeping these problems under the rug of indifference and apathy. It has to demonstrate that it can change when change is called for by Negroes, as well as by whites.

Saginaw Voters Approve Fair Housing by 2-1 Margin

SAGINAW (AP) — Voters in Saginaw approved an open-housing ordinance Tuesday by a two-to-one ratio in unofficial returns, as Mayor Henry G. Marsh, a Negro, admitted that while "confident of the outcome, I am surprised at the margin."

Saginaw, a city with 100,000 population near Lake Huron's Saginaw Bay, became the fourth Michigan city to approve open-housing laws by a vote of the people this year.

Flint, the third largest city in the state, and the Detroit suburbs of Plymouth and Birmingham, previously adopted fair housing ordinances, but by closer margins than in Saginaw, which is about 20 per cent Negro.

The city clerk's office said final, unofficial returns showed the referendum was approved 11,668-5,214.

'EMPHATIC VOTE'

"This is the first city in the nation to say emphatically that we will insist on all persons having equal constitutional rights," the mayor said.

"It was a team effort, believe you me, from business, industry, churches to labor groups and ethnic groups," Marsh said.

In all four cities, the city councils first adopted the open housing ordinance, only to have them suspended after petitions were filed forcing a citizens' vote.

Marsh, the only Negro on the city council and named mayor by a vote of his fellow councilman, introduced the ordinance Jan. 2.

It was passed by a 7-1 vote on

A 7-1 VOTE

Jan. 22, and went into effect Feb. 1.

Petitions containing 3,027 valid signatures, 37 more than enough to force a vote, were filed Feb. 21 and were certified Feb. 26, suspending the ordinance.

During the 26 days the ordinance was in effect, no complaints were registered about alleged violations.

George Taylor, who works in a cleaning business and organized the local Wallace for President Club, led the petition campaign, but he did not conduct an active drive to defeat the measure.

Taylor said his sole intent was to get the issue on the ballot, so the people and not the council could decide it.

Taylor said Tuesday night that he also was surprised by the margin of passage, but that he will "abide by it and support it to the best of my ability."

He said in the future if the council or Marsh "try to force upon the citizens of Saginaw any law of such a nature, I will reach our citizens with a referendum petition."

"I won't resign from anything," he added, referring to a remark made by March 1st week that if open housing were defeated, he would think seriously of resigning as mayor.

The measure was approved in 40 precincts, and defeated in two. It was turned back by only one vote in one precinct.

City Attorney W. Vincent Nash, who is white, said the people "didn't speak. They shouted."

Federal-Style Code Okayed in Oak Park

OAK PARK (AP) — The city council Monday night approved an open housing ordinance based on the federal model.

The new code permits an owner-occupier to sell or rent privately if his dwelling contains four or fewer units. An individual also may sell up to three homes within 20 months to anyone he chooses. Those who sell more than three homes in such a period must abide by the open-housing law's provisions.

Religious and nonprofit groups or private clubs also are exempted.

Mayor Joseph Forbes said the city had a "moral commitment to pass a law uniform" with the federal model.

TWO REJECTIONS

The council rejected a bill based on a Birmingham law that allows no exemptions or deviations.

Law Tightened in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP) — This city Monday night stiffened its fair-housing code to provide a fine of $500 or 90 days in jail for persons convicted of discrimination in housing sales or rental.

The revised ordinance still exempts owner-occupied houses of two units or less and any religious or nonprofit group wishing to give preference to a member.

The ordinance now allows both oral and written complaints to be made to the community relations board, which then has 30 days to try to mediate. The board previously lacked investigative procedure.

Unresolved complaints are forwarded to the city attorney for study and possible prosecution.

Zoo's Who

It's All Ready for the Kids

By ED BLUNDEN

The 40th anniversary year of the Detroit Zoological Park begins tomorrow with a few extra added attractions, as well as the regular exhibits of animals, reptiles and fowl.

Curator, Keith K. Kreag, reports most of the animals weathered the winter well and are ready to greet the expected horde of visitors, who will probably amount to two million this summer.

Hours are unchanged this year, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and Saturday and 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Sundays.

Kreag anticipates a continued shortage of parking space. Room for 1,400 cars is available but this is often not enough, especially on Sundays, he said. Additional parking space is being planned.

POLAR BEARS NEW

Expected to be a prime attraction are two Siberian tiger cubs, also winter arrivees.

Still under construction and slated to open in the summer is an entirely new attraction, the Penguin House. Curator Kreag said at first 56 of the tuxedo-wearing birds will be installed in the specially constructed facility.

The atmosphere will be chilled by air-conditioning and kept as close as possible to the antarctic conditions natural to the aquatic birds, he said.

OLD FAVORITES

Long-time favorites, the chimp and elephant shows, will again be conducted by the staff. The chimp show is offered three times a day during the summer, except Mondays. The elephant show is once each day except Friday and Saturday, and twice on Sunday.

"If I could talk to the animals . . ." the song goes—and what if they could talk back?

They might very well have some interesting things to say, as the captions under these photos indicate.

The pictures were taken at Detroit Zoological Park by Edward R. Noble, Pontiac Press chief photographer.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

The bidding of today's hand is interesting in that each player had a decision to make at almost every turn to bid. East might well have responded with one spade. He only held four high card points, but six-card spade suits don't grow on bushes.

JACOBY

South might well have passed and tried to set one heart, but South's hand might well produce a game if North could make some move to help.

North didn't move right away, but after East reopened with two spades, North gave a belated club raise. West got into the act and pushed to three spades, whereupon North made a slightly unsound four-club bid.

South wasn't supposed to go on. You don't go to game after both you and your partner have shown a desire to try for a part score, but South decided that he had underbid his hand materially and that he wanted to play at game.

South's decision was unfortunate but we can't criticize him for making it. He had made only one mild bid with his tremendous hand.

West opened his ace of hearts to have a look around the table. He suspected that there might be a singleton heart somewhere and if his partner held it. West was going in give him a ruff.

When North showed up with a heart singleton and East played the discouraging deuce, West shifted to his ace of spades.

East wanted his partner to lead another heart. East could overruff dummy, but how could East make sure of that heart shift?

East worked it out! He dropped his king of spades under his partner's ace. West was surprised, but he wasn't too surprised to lead a heart and set the contract.

For Thursday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Cast about, meaning look, explore and investigate. Social activity tonight could prove meaningful. Be knowledgeable about what you really desire. Spotlight on permanent alliance—act accordingly.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): People you work with need consoling. Set example by maintaining sense of balance. Check details—be thorough. Friends who sing the blues should be avoided. Set your own pace.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You get chance to express feelings in meaningful manner—do so. Don't feel others can guess or perceive. State your case with clarity. Emotions have their place—but logic also deserves a chance.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Close alliances may be tested. Accent on apparent minor matters, but before day is over you know what must be done. Some details are more important than you imagine.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You are drawn in more than one direction at once. Key is to avoid self-deception. Find out where you really must go. Then eliminate the frills. Relative insists on being heard—listen.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Money, possessions, income potential are spotlighted. Key is to be realistic. Study LEO message—face facts as they exist. Older individual offers sound advice.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Cycle moves up. Take special care with dress, appearance. You may be called upon for surprise display of abilities. Circumstances due to turn in your favor—you emerge a winner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Cycle up. You can win back friendship of one who has been alienated. Make such an effort today. Circumstances, timing in your favor. Move with the tide. Take initiative.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Be sure of details. Cooperate in community or group project. Work behind the scenes. Surprise comes from one who serves you. Show appreciation. Throw aside fears.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Friendship, genuine affection shown for this day is a two-way street. You must give as well as receive. Let others know your feelings. Express yourself through calls or actions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Results of past labors could pay dividends. Celebrate by entertaining family, friends. Best bet is close to home base. Don't tire yourself on wild-goose chase. Stick to the familiar.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Good lunar aspect today coincides with chance to talk, communicate with one at a distance. You can settle travel questions, find out where you stand. You feel more secure.

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are a natural leader. Some consider you eccentric because of your interests in unusual subjects. Time to check details, to build on solid base. You are a loyal friend and can also create fierce opposition.

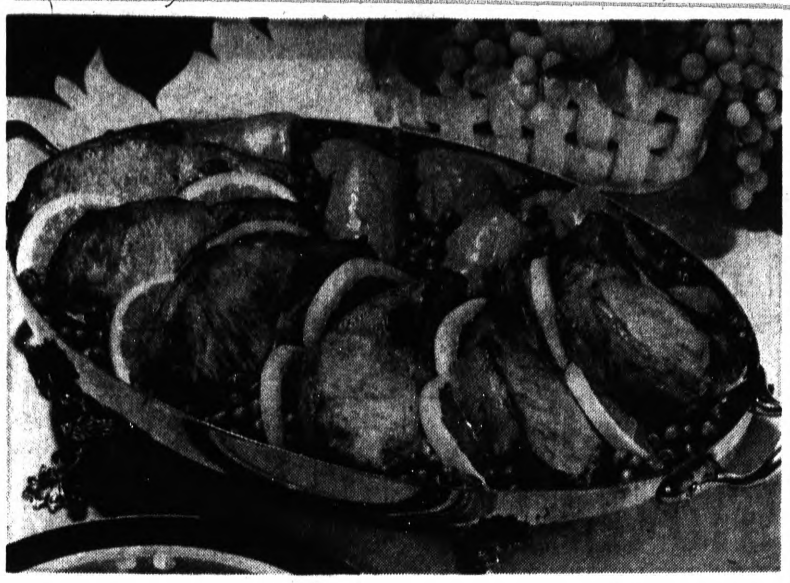
Who's the Cook on Mothers Day?



ORANGE-GLAZED PORK CHOPS — Luscious and lean orange-glazed pork chops with sweet potatoes is one of America's favorite food combinations. They cook so easy, taste so good and look so festive!

By JANET ODELL
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

This is one time we address our remarks to the younger generation. You can take over the cooking on Sunday, Mother's Day, and give your Mom a deserved vacation.

You can cook if you can read. It is as simple as that and you don't have to limit your meal to frozen dishes that need only thawing or heating.

Since this is Sunday and you can be more leisurely, plan to have some kind of hot bread like individual coffee cakes. Add bacon or sausage, plus the family's favorite beverage and you're all set.

INDIVIDUAL COFFEE CAKES

- 1¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ⅓ cup butter
- 1¼ cups sugar
- 2 eggs
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ⅓ cup milk
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ⅓ cup chopped nuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream ⅓ cup butter. Add 1 cup sugar and cream well. Add eggs and vanilla; beat until fluffy Add dry ingredients, a small amount at a time, to creamed mixture alternately with milk, blending well after each addition.

Line 18 ungreased muffin pans with paper baking cups. Spoon an equal amount of batter into baking cups. Mix together remaining ¼ cup sugar, cinnamon and nuts. Sprinkle an equal amount atop each cake.

Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, until done, 18 to 20 minutes. Makes 18 cakes.

Dinner takes a bit more planning. You may want to make your dessert the day before. If you're having a molded salad, that can be done on Saturday too.

This cake is baked in a jelly roll pan which is only a cookie pan with raised edges. After it bakes and cools, you cut it in strips and put it together with a chocolate custard.

CHOCOLATE MOCHA RIBBON DESSERT

- ¼ cup butter
- ¾ cup milk
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1½ cups sugar
- 1⅔ cups sifted flour
- 2 tablespoons instant coffee powder
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- Cup whipping cream, whipped and sweetened

Heat butter and milk until butter melts. Cool. Gradually add sugar to eggs, beating until thick and glossy. Fold sifted dry ingredients into egg mixture. Add milk-butter mixture and flavorings.

Pour batter into greased 15½x10½x1-inch jelly roll pan lined with waxed paper and then greased. Bake at 325 degrees for 35 minutes.

While hot, loosen sides; turn out into waxed paper sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Remove paper from cake. Cool. Cut into 4 strips crosswise.

Spread chocolate custard filling between layers. Chill. Spread whipped cream on sides and top. Slice and serve. Makes 8-10 servings.

Chocolate Custard Filling

- 1 cup chocolate milk
- 1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat chocolate milk and chocolate until chocolate melts. Gradually add to mixture of sugar, salt, and cornstarch. Bring to boil; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens.

Stir half of hot mixture into eggs. Add to remaining hot mixture. Cook 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; add butter and vanilla. Chill. Makes 1¼ cups.

Chicken is always a good choice for Sunday dinner. The recipe here is for baking a cut-up broiler-fryer (that's the kind most supermarkets sell).

SESAME BAKED CHICKEN

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut up (about 3 lbs.)
- 1 envelope (5-servings) instant mashed potato granules
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons water
- 2 teaspoons seasoning salt
- ½ teaspoon black pepper
- 1 package (2¼ oz.) sesame seed
- 3 tablespoons salad oil

Moisten chicken slightly; shake in a bag containing the dry potato granules. Combine eggs, water, seasoning salt, and pepper. Dip chicken in egg mixture; sprinkle both sides with sesame seeds.

Line bottom of broiler pan or a large baking pan with foil; spread oil evenly over foil. Arrange chicken in pan, skin side up. Bake in 350-degree oven 1 to 1¼ hours, or until chicken is golden brown. 4 servings.

You'll have the oven on so bake the potatoes. Be sure to prick them with a fork before baking and rub them with butter or margarine if you like the skin soft.

ORANGE-GLAZED PORK CHOPS WITH SWEET POTATOES

- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 1 clove garlic, sliced
- 4 pork loin chops 1¼ inches thick or 6 chops ¾-inch thick
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup orange juice
- ½ cup water
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon rosemary
- 1 can (1 pound 7 ounce) sweet potatoes in syrup, drained
- 2 oranges, thinly sliced
- 1 package (10 ounce) frozen peas, cooked, drained and seasoned

Melt shortening in heavy skillet over moderate heat. Add garlic. Brown chops well on both sides in hot shortening, turning as needed to brown evenly. Remove chops from pan and keep hot; discard garlic.

Blend sugar, flour and salt into pan drippings. Stir in orange juice, water, lemon juice and rosemary; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Return chops to pan. Cover; simmer until chops are almost tender, 45 to 50 minutes.

Add potatoes; cover and heat, 10 to 15 minutes. To serve, garnish with orange slices and hot pears.

SESAME BAKED CHICKEN — Golden brown baked chicken wears a coating of instant mashed potato granules and sesame seed. The Mardi Gras Cake in the background is a quickie. Bake or buy a round sponge or angel food cake. Frost with sweetened whipped cream and decorate with confetti colored candies.

You Can Have the Party Anytime

These gourmet meat balls can be made ahead of time and frozen. A few last minute touches turn them into a sure-to-please main course. Instant bouillon is the secret seasoning.

For unusual flavor, cover the meat balls with creamy yogurt sauce, sparked with dill-weed and instant bouillon. Weight watchers note: the yogurt sauce has only 14 calories per serving.

Mini meat balls, grilled on an habachi and dipped in sauce, are also delicious with cocktails or as a teen-age snack.

MINI MEAT BALLS

- 1½ cups soft bread crumbs (without crusts)
- ¾ cup milk
- 3 lbs. chopped round steak
- 2 tablespoons instant bouillon (beef or onion)

Soak break crumbs in milk, add meat, broken in pieces. Sprinkle with instant bouillon. Mix lightly until ingredients are combined. Form into ¾" balls. Make 150 meat balls.

Divide into servings, packaging 1, 2 or 3 servings in plastic sandwich bags; tie and freeze.

When ready to use, brown required number of servings in butter, reflavored oil or margarine. Drain, simmer in your favorite sauce. Serve over quick-cooking rice, thin spaghetti or noodles.

Yogurt Sauce

Beat well together until smooth: ½ pt. yogurt, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon instant beef bouillon, ¼ teaspoon dry dill weed. Simmer over moderate heat until thickened. Pour over drained meat balls. Makes enough for 6-8 servings. (⅓ meat ball recipe).

Piquante Wine Sauce

Combine ⅓ cup of wine vinegar, ⅓ cup prepared salad mustard, ⅓ cup of dark molasses, 2 tablespoons teriyaki sauce. Add to meat balls and simmer until sauce is thickened (8-10 minutes.)

Men's Annual Cooking Contest Now Open

Any adult amateur male cook may compete for the coveted title by submitting an original main dish recipe with potato chips as one of the ingredients.

FISH 'N CHIPS SWEET 'N SOUR

- 2 onions, thinly sliced
- 2 lemons, sliced
- ⅓ cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup seedless raisins
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1½ lbs. or 6 slices whitefish or salmon
- 2 cups water
- ½ cup potato chips crushed
- ⅓ cup cider vinegar
- ¼ cup sliced blanched almonds

Combine the onions, lemon slices, brown sugar, raisins, fish, salt and water in a saucepan. Cook over low heat for 30 minutes. Remove fish and place on a platter.

Add potato chips, vinegar and almonds to the fish stock. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth. Pour over the fish. Serve warm or cold. Garnish with fresh parsley and potato chips. Serves 6.

More than fifty substantial awards, including cash and vacation trips for two will be given in the 1969 Championship. The wives of both Irwin Schumacher and 1968 Cooking Champ Vincent Gentilcore successfully inspired them to enter their original recipes.

Contestants may send in as many main dish recipes as they desire before Nov. 15, 1968. Mail recipes to the Men's National Cooking Championship, P.O. Box 933, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Women cooking authorities will do the judging. As the Championship progresses, state and regional winners will be selected to compete in the finals to be held in the beautiful Marriott Hotel, Atlanta, Ga. on Jan. 28, 1969.

Pumpkin Will Give Cake Moist Texture

Pumpkin Gingerbread

- 1 cup unsifted regular flour (stir to aerate before measuring)
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ⅛ teaspoon baking soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pumpkin-pie spice
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup finely packed light brown sugar
- 1 large egg
- 2 tablespoons dark molasses
- ½ cup canned mashed pumpkin

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and spice.

In a medium bowl cream the butter and sugar; beat in egg, then molasses and pumpkin.

Stir in flour mixture in several additions; do not beat; mixture will be rather thick.

Turn into a buttered 8 by 8 by 2 inch cake pan. Bake in a 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 25 minutes.

Green Salads Give Meal Healthful Zest

Iceberg lettuce is a good base for most tossed salads but the other types of salad greens complement it in texture and flavor. The soft, light green, oily textured butterhead, the leafy bunches of bronze or red, oakleaf or salad bowl give color and contrast.

The Romaine, or Cos, an elongated bunch of leaves, is a sturdy green and especially good served with Roquefort or Blue Cheese Dressings.

CONTINENTAL SALAD

- 1 head romaine
- 1 head iceberg lettuce
- 1 head butter lettuce
- 1 bunch of watercress (break off stems if they're too long)
- ½ cup sliced green onions
- 1 6-oz. jar artichoke hearts
- 6 radishes, sliced accordion style
- 8 mushrooms, raw, washed and thinly sliced

Wash and drain vegetables well. Line salad bowl with attractive outer leaves of romaine. Break up remaining romaine, iceberg and butter lettuce with hands into bite-size pieces. Add watercress, green onions, sliced artichoke hearts, radishes and mushrooms.

LEMON JUICE-OIL DRESSING

- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ¼ cup fresh lemon juice
- ¾ cup olive oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon fresh ground black pepper

Place all ingredients in small jar. Shake well. Makes approximately 1 cup of dressing.

LETTUCE BOWL

- 1 head iceberg lettuce
- 1 teaspoon chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons French dressing
- 2 oz. sharp cheddar cheese, grated
- 2 tomatoes, quartered

Break lettuce into bite-sized pieces and place in salad bowl. Combine onion, paprika, salt, salad dressings and cheese. Pour over lettuce and toss well. Garnish with tomato wedges. Makes 6 servings.

Lettuce with lemon cream dressing

- 1 bunch red leaf lettuce
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ½ cup light cream

Wash lettuce and tear into bite-size pieces in salad bowl. Mix sugar and lemon juice, then slowly stir in cream. Pour dressing over lettuce. Garnish with radish slices, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

WILTED ROMAINE SALAD

- 2-3 slices of bacon
- 2 tablespoons bacon fat
- 1 tablespoon wine vinegar
- Dash of salt
- 1 head romaine

Tear crisp leaves of Romaine into bite-size pieces. Meanwhile, fry bacon until crisp. Cool. Crumble bacon into greens. Meanwhile, dissolve sugar and other ingredients into hot bacon fat. Bring to a boil and pour over greens. Toss until greens are coated. Makes 4-6 servings.

War Became Real When Hanoi Drafted Nguyen

DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) —The 15-year-old boy lay tucked like an infant in the hospital bed, a smiling kid with wondering eyes whose medical tag incongruously read "prisoner of war."

Military accounts of tough North Vietnamese soldiers and gruelling jungle marches somehow seemed ridiculously remote from the smooth-cheeked boy with the bandage on his right arm.

In the past three months, however, Nguyen Van Qui was uprooted from his North Vietnamese village, hastily trained to fight and marched 1,000 miles to a war he understands hardly at all.

American intelligence men say the youngster is typical of replacements Hanoi is feeding into the Vietcong, which already is composed mainly of Northerners.

MINOR CELEBRITY

In the hospital of the U.S. 9th Division at Dong Tam, young soldier Qui is a minor celebrity. Generals and colonels ask about his progress. His nominal guards keep him well supplied with the menthol cigarettes for which he acquired a taste.

"I am lucky," the young man said through an interpreter. "If I had not been captured by the Americans I would surely have lost my arm."

An American bullet slashed down the arm and lodged in his wrist. Operations have restored some movement in Qui's fingers and doctors are confident the arm will soon be almost normal.

Until he was captured, Qui had never seen an American. Until he was drafted last January he had never even seen a foreigner. Never been outside his district and knew only vaguely that a war was going on.

THE SOLDIERS CAME

He recalls that on Jan. 15 of this year the soldiers came to his village of An Thanh, about 50 miles below Hanoi.

"My mother cried and tried to stop them," he said. "But they said that 15-year-olds now have to serve."

A bemused young "chien sip," or ordinary soldier, Qui got a months's training and political indocrination and after a short leave started for Nam Dinh by truck on Feb. 13.

The indoctrination left little marks on the 15-year-old peasant boy with only five year's schooling and a hankering to be a carpenter. He knew that Ho Chi Minh was the "leader" of North Vietnam but the name of Vo Nguyen Giap, the Hanoi military boss, means nothing to him.

He does recall most vividly that he was told the cities of South Vietnam were under Viet Cong control and the people would welcome him.

"They lied to me," he shrugged.

He doesn't regard his 1,000-march as any great hardship. He was never bombed, though nearby units were. He pleasantly recalls marching through Cambodia where the people were kind and young girls served as their guides.

Once in South Vietnam, however, things changed. He was assigned to the 261st Main Force Battalion which was always on the move. His only friends were the five comrades from his own village who came south with him. The Southerners in the battalion were stand-offish.

HE WAS LEFT BEHIND

When the first battle came and he was wounded, he was left behind, which made him angry. Now he says he is glad he was left behind.

The U.S. Army is going to forward a message to Qui's mother through the International Red Cross but the young prisoner can't understand that—he had never heard of the Red Cross.

After more than two weeks in the American hospital, Qui claims to like the Americans and says he is willing to fight for South Vietnam.

That, however, is put down by his interrogators as just "prisoner talk." The young man still doesn't understand fully what has happened to him.

'HE'S JUST A KID'

"He's just a kid," said a ranking American officer. "When he gets well he will go into the prisoner cages with the hardened types. You know what will happen then."

Most Basements Lacking as Shelters

LANSING (AP) — Less than three per cent of Michigan homes with basements meet public fallout shelter standards, reports Col. Ferderick E. Davids, State Police and civil defense director.

Davids said a recently completed home fallout protection survey reveals that 79 per cent of the homes had basements. Of these, only 57,012 met public fallout shelter standards.

More than 1.9 million dwellings were included in the statewide survey. Public fallout shelter standards require an occupant to be subjected to only one-fortieth of the radiation that would endanger him in an unprotected area, Davis said.

Alabama's Lurleen Wallace Lies in State

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The body of Gov. Lurleen Wallace was to be moved to the Rotunda of the Alabama Capitol today to lie in state until funeral service tomorrow.

Mrs. Wallace, 41-year-old mother of four, died yesterday after a three-year bout with cancer. President Johnson and Vice President Hubert Humphrey sent their condolences to former Gov. George Wallace, husband of the nation's only woman governor.

Wallace, his eyes red and puffy, watched yesterday as Lt. Gov. Albert Brewer, 39, an old friend, was sworn in as his wife's successor. Brewer, a north Alabama attorney, becomes Alabama's 48th governor less than 13 hours after Mrs. Wallace died in the executive mansion.

Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. from St. James Methodist Church.

Mrs. Wallace died in her sleep at 1:34 a.m. yesterday after taking a turn for the worse during the past weekend. She had been home since the Easter weekend after nearly eight weeks in St. Margaret's Hospital when she underwent cancer surgery Feb. 22.

It was her third major cancer operation in three years. One came before she ran for governor in 1966, but she was declared free of any malignancy at the time she decided to run as stand-in candidate for her husband.

SECOND IN JULY

The second surgery was required in Houston last July. She took weeks of radiation treatments and was well enough in the fall to return to office duties and even attend a football game in December.

Abolition of House Unit Staved Off by Supporters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supporters of a House subcommittee that has fought for public access to government information appear to have staved off—at least temporarily—a proposal to abolish the panel.

Chairman William L. Dawson, D-Ill., of the full House Government Operations Committee, had suggested a committee reorganization that would have dropped the information subcommittee.

He cited economy in informally proposing the reorganization after his request for $875,000 for over-all committee operations had been slashed to $555,000 by the House Administration Committee.

But Dawson asked the House Tuesday for another $250,000.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the government information panel—which also has probed alleged corruption in U.S. aid program in South Vietnam—vowed to fight the reorganization.

He drew support from key Republicans on the subcommittee as well as from several Democratic members.

In requesting the extra $250,000, Dawson announced no decision to continue the subcommittee but said it would make unnecessary "substantial changes in our structure."

Saying his position had been misrepresented—but not specifying by whom—Dawson added his only goal in proposing abolishment of the subcommittee was "putting the committee in shape to meet its financial emergency."

ALASKAN FARE—Mrs. Harriet Waggy dishes up sourdough hotcakes in the kitchen of her famous restaurant, The Fo'c'le, in Seward, the fun capital of Alaska.

Sourdough Hotcakes Are a Real Treat

Alaskan Sourdough Hotcakes are one of America's most delicious but as yet unheralded gourmet foods. The people of Seward, the Fun Capital of Alaska, think that all Americans who enjoy the fun of eating good food should know how to make Alaskan Sourdough Hotcakes.

In the early part of this century Sourdough Hotcakes were so much a part of the Alaskan diet that even today old time Alaskans are called Sourdoughs. It is thought that they were introduced to Alaska by French miners from the California gold fields because the recipe is something like the recipe for French sourdough bread.

FROM AN EXPERT

Here is a well-tried recipe for Alaskan Sourdough Hotcakes from Mrs. Harriet Waggy who owns one of Alaska's most famous restaurants, the Fo'c's'le in Seward:

First you make the starter: Peel, quarter and boil four potatoes in plenty of water. When well done remove potatoes and let potato water cool. Then add to cold potato water one tablespoon salt and stir in enough flour to make a thin batter.

Pour this batter into an earthenware crock. Cover with cheesecloth so that batter can absorb wild yeast from the air. Put in a warm place for two or three days until batter has obviously fermented.

The night before you want to make hotcakes put two cups of starter into a large mixing bowl. Stir in one cup of flour and enough water to make a medium batter. Cover and let set overnight in a warm place.

In the morning mix in two beaten eggs, one tablespoon sugar, two tablespoons butter or oil and one tablespoon baking soda. Let rise for a few minutes then drop batter on a hot griddle as for making regular hotcakes.

Spread cakes with butter and cover with syrup or jelly. If you have never before eaten sourdough hotcakes you will enjoy the taste thrill of a lifetime.

Served with ham, bacon or sausage, sourdough hotcakes make an excellent Sunday brunch or a midnight supper. This recipe makes 12 hotcakes.

After you have made hotcakes you will remember to add a little more flour and water to the starter so that it will keep its same volume and consistency.

Never put leftover hotcake batter into the starter. Keep starter covered in a warm place and it will last for years.

Shrimp Bits Fill Mushrooms

Appetizers designed to delight your guests shpuld fulfill several specifications. First, they shpuld be finger foods that are not difficult to handle.

In this day of weight-conscious party-goers, theses foods should be high in appetite appea, but neither filling nor high in calories.

Above all, appetizers, which are classified in three main groups—cocktails, canapes and hors d'oeuvre—must promise more good foods to come.

Shrimp Atuffed Mushrooms

- ⅛½ pounds shelled and deveined small shrimp, fresh or frozen
- ⅛¾ Large mushroom caps
- ⅛ Egg, beaten
- ¼ Tablespoons milk
- ¼ cup dry bread crumbs
- ⅛ Tablespoon lemon juice
- ⅛ Tablespoon grated onion
- ⅛ Tablespoon chopped parsley
- Aalt and pepper
- Melted butter or margarine (about ¼ cup)

Cook shrimp in boiling salted water to cover. Drain, then chill. Wash mushrooms and remove stems. Trim ends from mushroom stems and chop. Chop shrimp, reserving 16 whole shrimp for garnishing.

Combine chopped shrimp, chopped musfroom stems, bread crumbs, egg, milk, lemon juice, onion and parsley. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Spoon into hollows of mushroom caps.

Arrange in greased baking pan and bake in moderare oven (375 degrees) for 15 minutes or until mushrooms are tender. Serve with Mornay Sauce. Makes 4 main-dish servings; 8 appetizer servings.

Let Him Catch Fish for You

Baked Fish With Vegetables

- 2½ pound striped bass (or similar variety), split on one side only and backbone removed
- ¼ cup butter
- ½ cup finely diced onion
- ½ cup finely diced celery
- ¼ cup minced parsley
- 1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained well
- 2 small tomatoes, peeled and diced
- 1 teaspoon salt

Butter a glass 12 by 8 by 3 inch baking dish (or line with foil and butter foil) and place fish in it.

In a 10-inch skillet, heat the butter and add the onion, green pepper and celery; cook gently until softened — about 10 minutes. Stir in parsley mushrooms tomatoes and salt; heat.

Spoon mixture into fish but do not skewer to close — it doesn't matter if stuffing laps over into dish.

Bake in a 425 degree oven, basting a few times with liquid in pan, for 20 to 30 minutes or until fish looks opaque through when flaked with a fork and top is lightly browned. Makes 4 large servings.

Thick slices of rare roast beef may be coated with prepared mustard and bread crumbs, then broiled. The broiling should be quick so that the meat becomes warm, but not overcooked.

Gambling Junkets Bring Cash to Caribbean Isles

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — If gambling is an evil, thousands of North American tourists are willing to jet several thousand miles across the water to meet that evil head-on among the Caribbean Islands.

The gambling fraternity does have the choice of flying to Las Vegas, Nev., where you don't need an up-to-date smallpox vaccination but where you do meet the ever present Internal Revenue Service agents who may sidle up to you in the midst of a winning streak and whisper in your ear: "Don't forget to declare your winnings on your Form 1040."

And if you lose, what glamor is there losing in just another of the 50 states when you could say: "They took me in Curacao; they busted me in Antigua; look at my tropical tan."

But without junkets gambling would be a minor enterprise. Briefly the junket is a chartered plane or a group of tourists who pay $300 and get everything else free including the free chips.

TOUR GUIDE

A junket requires a junketeer or an agent, or a tour-guide as he may be called. It's his job to develop tours from his particular city for a particular Las Vegas casino. So successful is this system that the plane traffic at Las Vegas looks like Kennedy Airport.

The small islands of the Caribbean, short of income to meet the needs of their poverty-stricken population, have not been blind to the "Vegas junket syndrome."

With their tropical beaches, low-salaried help and cooperative governments, the gambling syndicates have set up shop on the islands by simply taking over the junket format. For today, I am told, no casino can depend upon the casual tourist dropping in for a twirl at dice...They too need tourists in bunches with substantial cash and who want to gamble.

In a manner, these gambling junkets have an "almost-free" hooker attached. For instance, if a person wanted to go to Antigua or practically any other island in the Caribbean for the purpose of trying his luck against the casino odds, his fare plus four or five days at a luxurious hotel including most of the extras would be $500. He could take his wife along too (and many do) for only $225 extra. And in addition he would receive $500 free in nonnegotiable gambling chips.

GAMBLING ONLY

The term "nonnegotiable" designates the chips that are to be used for gambling only and can't be cashed immediately upon arrival at your destination.

These special chips are "seed", to start your streak of luck. It would be indeed a rare bird who failed to succumb to the gaming tables when he or she is sure that he can win on his free chips. So sure is the house that you will gamble and lose, that if you show a sincere desire to play the games, they will even give you the cash for your free chips. All you've got to do is play a little and pray a lot.

Gambling with free "junket" chips is much the same as eating peanuts. Whoever stopped at one peanut? There is obviously something wrong with the logic of those who go on a gambling junket.

For the casino to give you $500 of free chips which reimburses you for the $500 junket expenses, they must expect you to lose. To break even, the house must figure on your losing your $500 free chip money plus an average of $500 in hard cash. Thus the average player is out his $500 tour expense plus $500 in cash.

FAVORITE GAMES

The favorite casino gambling games seem to be of the standard American variety: blackjack or 21, roulette and dice.

At blackjack the $5 chip table was just as popular as the $1 ones. The dealers at these tables were mostly well dressed Antiguan natives who were wonderfully adept at shuffling the cards. The dealers have to "stand" at 17 and draw to 16, and the play was lightening fast. I watched a number of people from the junkets playing at the four tables, but the odds favor the dealer and I saw no winners except the house.

Most everyone has played roulette if only at a charity bazaar. The ball-wheel gives this game action and people can play modestly for a long time. With 36 numbers on the board, and the house paying only 33 chips for one, the odds again favor the house by 10 per cent.

Dice is where the big money changes hands. The attendants at these tables were mostly young white men with quick mathematical brains who could figure the odds instantly. I was told that one lady gambler won $4,000 a few nights previously, shooting dice.

WIVES CAUTIOUS

Many players were accompanied by their wives, which surprised me. The ladies either chatted about the children or played cautiously at roulette. Some women watched their men folks at blackjack but they may not have been their wives.

Some women gamblers go on the trip. They have to be carefully checked for a truly professional gambling attitude, as a sore woman loser can make trouble. Several men told me they didn't think a junket was the proper place to take a wife.

"It just wasn't in good taste," I was advised.

Auto Overturns, Killing State Girl, 6

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Denise Triick, 6, of Grand Rapids, was killed Tuesday while riding in a car that overturned in Grand Rapids.

Police said the car was driven by the girl's mother, when it apparently slipped partly off a road, then overturned when the woman tried to get the car back onto the pavement. She was hospitalized for treatment of shock.

Three other children and another woman escaped with only minor injuries.

PIN-WORMS
A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Paper Honors GI's Request

In a letter to the Denver Post, Spec. 4 Bockh said: "On Mother's Day I'd like to run a full page ad in your paper saying, 'Dear Mom. I love you and miss you much. Happy Mother's Day —Greg.'"

The soldier said he would pay something each month toward the bill.

The Post did better than that. After the regular press run of Tuesday's home edition, it set a special front page with a five-column headline reading: "Mother's Day Greeting to Mrs. Andrew Bockh." Beneath the headline was Bockh's letter.

Tampering Charged in Derby Incident

AP Wirephoto

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Charges of tampering reverberated in the turf world today over the disqualification of Dancer's Image from first place in America's most famous horse race, the Kentucky Derby.

"I'm going to get to the bottom of this and I'm going to offer a large financial reward to find the individual or individuals who tampered with my horse," the Boston sportsman said. "Anybody could have got to the horse before the race."

PLACED LAST

In what may become the most controversial incident in American thoroughbred history, Dancer's Image was disqualified and placed last by the Churchill Downs stewards Tuesday. This was three days after Dancer's Image, the 7-2 second choice, finished first in the Derby by 1½ lengths over the favored Forward Pass.

They said in a statement: "The chemist for the Kentucky State Racing Commission has reported that the analysis of the urine sample ... contained phenylbutazone and/or a derivative thereof."

Trainer Lou Cavalaris said he was stunned by the announcement. "Nothing like this has ever happened to me." Later in an interview over radio station CFRB in Toronto, Cavalaris denied he or any member of his staff administered phenylbutazone after the prescribed 72-hour ban before the Derby.

FIVE DAYS BEFORE

He said Dancer's Image was given the drug on Sunday, five days before the Derby, but not thereafter. He said he and any of his crew would take lie-detector tests "anywhere and anytime the Kentucky racing officials want us." He said it was possible someone might have slipped into the horse's stall and administered the drug.

The drug, often called butazolidin, is used for the suppression of pain, but has been barred at Kentucky and others tracks since 1962.

Who administered the drug? When was it given? Why?

Churchill Downs, which announced the disqualification, declined to go beyond its statement.

FIRST TIME

"I have no idea who the guilty party is," said Wathen Knebelkamp, president of the Downs. "We consider this a tragic misfortune."

AP Wirephoto

WHY ALL THE FUSS? — Dancer's Image contentedly samples some hay in his stall Tuesday at Churchill Downs near Louisville despite the fact he had just been disqualified as the winner of Saturday's Kentucky Derby and placed last. He allegedly won the race while under the influence of a pain-killing drug. Dancer's Image suffers from tender ankles (note bandage on leg at right).

Tiger Rookie Delivers in Pinch

AP Wirephoto

NOTHING BUT ZEROES — Cleveland hurler Luis Tiant happily displays three weighted doughnuts to symbolize the three straight shutouts he has hurled this season. No. 3 came last night at Yankee Stadium on a five-hitter as the Indians won, 8-0, for six straight victories. It was his third blanking in 10 days.

Tom Matchick's 2-Run Double Halts Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Tom Matchick, who almost ended his own baseball career last season during a batting slump, has ended the eight-game winning streak of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles.

A two-run pinch double by the Detroit rookie, with two out in the ninth inning Tuesday night, gave the Tigers a 2-1 victory and pulled them to within 1½ games of the top. A loss would have left the Tigers 3½ games out.

SOME DIFFICULTY

The hit fell at the base of the outfield fence, after right fielder Curt Blefary had some difficulty retreating from his somewhat shallow position. The length of the drive resulted in some good-natured criticism for Matchick from Detroit batting Coach Wally Moses.

"He told me I was swinging too hard if I hit the ball to the fence," Matchick said. "Wally likes me to hit line drives."

Thw 24-year-old Matchick has a lot of respect for Moses, who led him out of the baseball wilderness last year.

"I went about 14-for-104 with Toledo at the start of last season," Matchick said, "and I was about to quit the game. Then the Tigers sent Moses down to work with me, and I credit him for straightening me out."

ALL-STAR TEAM

Matchick wound up 1967 with a .289 batting average, was named the All-Star shortstop in the International League, league, and decided to make baseball his career.

Lolich pitched hitless ball until Blefary singled with two out in the sixth. In the seventh, following an infield single, a sacrifice and an intentional walk, Lolich knocked down Andy Etchebarren's vicious two-out liner and threw him out.

The intentional walk backfired in the ninth for Baltimore, resulting in Detroit's second run of the inning. Don Wert was passed after Willie Horton walked and moved into scoring position on a sacrifice. Both runners advanced as pinch hitter Gates Brown grounded out, and then Matchick delivered while batting for Lolich.

DRIFTED AWAY

"I was cheating a little bit," said right fielder Blefary. "In case of a short hit, I wanted to prevent the second run from scoring. The ball sort of drifted on me, and I couldn't reach it. I would have had a chance if I had been playing in the normal spot."

Boog Powell hit a two-out homer off Fred Lasher in the ninth, and after Dave Johnson singled, Jon Warden came in to retire pinch hitter Don Buford.

Warden, a rookie, who has pitched seven innings in six appearances, recorded his first save to go with a 3-0 record.

The Tigers wind up a three-game series against the Orioles tonight. Earl Wilson will pitch for Detroit.

12th Straight for Santiago

Sox on Run in Pennant Race

By the Associated Press

Jose Santiago's luck is holding up, Joe Horlen's fortunes finally have taken a turn for the better and the Sox are on the run again.

Santiago hurled the Boston Red Sox to a 3-2 victory over Washington Tuesday night, extending his regular season winning streak — begun last year — to 12 games.

Horlen, meanwhile, earned his first triumph of the season after a run of five setbacks as the Chicago White Sox trimmed California 6-4 with the help of a grand slam homer by Tom McCraw.

Their respective victories ended a three-game tailspin for Boston and moved last place Chicago within one game of the struggling New York Yankees.

AP Wirephoto

INFIELD ACROBATICS — Second baseman Luis Alcaraz of the Los Angeles Dodgers does some fancy maneuvering to catch an off-target pickoff toss from pitcher Claude Osteen. Umpire Lee Weyer joins the "ballet" with his emphatic sign that the Cubs' Don Santo (10) has reached the base ahead of the tag by Alcaraz yesterday at Wrigley Field in Chicago.

Cleveland's streaking Indians buried the Yankees 8-0, Detroit edged Baltimore 2-1 and Minnesota shaded Oakland 2-1 in other games.

ASSISTANCE FROM FOE

Santiago, who had strung together eight straight 1967 victories beginning last July, got help from his mound opponent, Joe Coleman, and Red Sox reliever Lee Stange in posting victory No. 4 this spring.

A balk by Coleman in the third inning sent home Boston's third run and Stange came out of the bullpen to get the last four outs after the Senators closed the gap with a run in the seventh and another in the eighth.

Joy Foy's first inning double and Carl Yastrzemski's third inning single drove in the Red Sox' first two runs, starting Washington on the way to its fifth loss in a row.

"I'm just lucky," said Santiago. "But I'll take them all. I'll take 50 more."

EARLY TROUBLES

Horlen, whose early troubles paralleled the White Sox' sorry send off this year, blanked the slumping Angels until the seventh inning, when he needed relief help to nail his first victory.

The slender right-hander, who won his first eight decisions a year ago, has fallen victim to erratic control and spotty fielding support.

McCraw helped put Horlen over the top with his grand slam off loser Sammy Ellis in the White Sox' five-run third, then hastened the pitcher's seventh inning exit with an error.

The Chicago first baseman said he's developed a "thing" about making bad fielding plays when Horlen is pitching. "I've been doing it for over a year now and I think now that I tighten up and try too hard when Horlen is on the mound," McCraw said.

The Sox led 6-0 when McCraw's boot and singles by Tom Satriano and Jimmie Hall filled the bases for Jim Fregosi, who stroked a two-run single that knocked out Horlen.

THIRD SHUTOUT

Luis Tiant scattered five hits and struck out 10 on the way to his third consecutive shutout as the Indians rolled past New York for their sixth straight victory.

Tiant contributed a two-run single, Tony Horton a two-run double and Jose Cardenal a two-run inside-the-park homer to the Indians' attack on loser Jim Bouton and two successors.

Cleveland pitchers have allowed just four runs during the winning streak.

The Twins, who had dropped four straight, ended a four-game Oakland victory skein by pushing over two early runs and holding off a late rally by the A's, whose hopes for an eighth inning blitz died in a freak double play.

After yielding singles by Rick Monday and Danny Cater, winning pitcher Jim Perry grabbed Bert Campaneris' tap to the mound and trapped Monday off third.

Montreal Player Beats Ex-Mentor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Scotty Bowman could be proud of the hockey player he helped develop, if that player hadn't helped beat Bowman's St. Louis Blues.

The player is Montreal's rookie defenseman, Serge Savard. He scored the only goal of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup game and gave the Montreal Canadiens a 1-0 victory over the Blues Tuesday night.

That leaves the best-of-7 series 2-0 in Montreal's favor. The next two games will be played Thursday and Saturday in Montreal.

"I played two years as a junior for Scotty," Savard grinned, "when he was a coach in the Montreal organization.

WANTED PUCK

"I fell on the puck as soon as it went in," the 22-year-old defenseman added. Actually, I fell on the ice because I was trying to push it in, but I wanted that puck anyway."

That's understandable. It was his first goal in Stanley Cup competition.

"(Claude) Provost sent the puck in to me from the corner," Savard recalled. "It was a perfect pass."

It appeared St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall tried to make a stab at the puck and let it get away to Savard, who had to fight off St. Louis' Jim Roberts to push the puck in.

"Roberts might have been too close to Hall. He (Roberts) was trying to get hold of the puck and it was between his legs and I don't think Hall could see it."

PLAYER SHORT

The goal had come with Montreal short-handed. Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake pointed out that the short-handed goal isn't too rare.

"I'll tell you what—I hear the Blues have scored some goals short-handed, and we've scored our share," Blake observed. "We got the break, that's the only way to put it, because the Blues played a heckuva game.

"So far this has been two of the toughest games we've had," Blake added. "There's no way it could have been tougher unless we had gone into another overtime. You can't get a tougher game than this and win."

"Worsley (Montreal goalie Gump Worsley) played a perfect game and so did Hall," praised Blake. "I think the goalies made the game.

Bowman smiled at the fact his past, namely Savard, had come back to haunt him. His team had lost, but he had enough to smile about.

"I don't think we could ask for too much more," Bowhan conceded, "except maybe a little luck. There were two strong goalies and the defense on both teams was too strong for the forwards."

Davis Cup Needs Revamped Format

NEW YORK (AP) — The Davis Cup tennis competition is one-sided and unfair because of the format which permits the champion to sit out most of the tournament, Gardner Mulloy said today.

"It's easy to understand why Australia has dominated the Cup in recent years," the 54year-old international veteran from Miami added.

"All the other countries knock themselves out playing each other all summer on clay surface, and Australia just waits down there to gobble up the survivor on grass.

"I think the only thing to do is eliminate the Challenge Round, and make the cup holder go through the eliminations just as other countries must."

Mulloy was in New York with other tennis personalities, such as Dennis Ralston, Cliff Drysdale and Doris Hart, to introduce a revolutionary new racket made of aluminum.

Detroit Cougars Win Over Washington, 2-1

DETROIT (AP) — Roy Cheetham scored with one minute left in the first half to give the Detroit Cougars a 2-1 victory over the Washington Whips in a North American Soccer League game Tuesday.

Detroit took the lead in the game after less than five minutes of play on a shot by Andy Buren. The Whips tied it up with 2:30 remaining in the half when Roberto Mauro scored.

Mets' Pitcher Leaves Cardinals in 4-1 Pickle

By the Associated Press

Nolan Ryan might soak his pitching hand in pickle juice, but after several whiffs, the St. Louis Cardinals were comparing him to Sandy Koufax and his odorless ice water.

The 21-year-old hurler zipped his fast ball by the National League leading Cardinals for eight strikeouts and a three-hitter Tuesday night and the New York Mets had themselves a 4-1 victory.

"He's faster than Kouftax and he's the fastest I've seen in the major leagues," marveled the Cardinals' Mike Shannon, although he'd rather face Ryan than Koufax "because Koufax had the tougher curve."

ICE WATER

Mike Ryan, who is trying to make a name for himself in the majors as a catcher, might need some pickle juice for blisters himself after extra hitting practice paid off with a game-winning hit in Philadelphia's 5-2 victory over Cincinnati.

In other NL games, the Atlanta Braves edged Pittsburgh 2-1 and Houston bombed Juan Marichal and San Francisco 7-1 at night and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in the afternoon.

TIE-BREAKER

Ryan fell behind in the third when Bobby Tolan singled in the St. Louis run, but he was in command the rest of the way. Art Shamsky gave him the runs he needed in the seventh against Nelson Briles, 4-2, when he followed Dave Boswell's single with his first home run of the season for a 2-1 lead.

Mike Ryan, who hasn't hit better than .214 in 2½ seasons in the majors, lined a tie-breaking two-run triple out of the reach of diving outfielder Pete Rose in the seventh inning in Philadelphia's triumph.

Lakers, Kettering Win Over Prep Track Foes

The Lakers won a triangular match by posting 70 points to 54 by Milford and 21 by Holly. Groves defeated North Farmington, 88-28, and Bloomfield Hills Andover, 65-52, in another three-team affair.

Kettering outclassed Brighton, 92-26, to up its mark to 5-1. Both West Bloomfield and Groves are 4-0.

Bob Bock set a school record in winning the two mile run (9:55.8 for Groves while North Farmington's John Mann cleared 6-3 in the high jump for a track standard.

Bill Middlekauff and Dave Anderson each won two events and ran a leg on the 880 relay winner for the Falcons.

John Van Wagner won the high jump and high hurdles and Mike Farah took the long jump with a leap of 20-5 to pace Novi to a 68-50 Lakeland C track victory over Whitmore Lake.

It was the fifth win in six league meets for Novi.

STILL A CHEERLEADER — Although Yogi Berra has retired as an active player, his pretty wife Carmen (left) still is leading the cheers as their 18-year-old son Larry plays a key role batting and catching with the Montclair (N.J.) High school team. Yogi was a backstop and hitting star with the New York Yankees and currently is a New York Mets' coach.

Catholic Nine Tied for Lead

Pontiac Catholic remain tied with Detroit St. Rita for first place in Northwest Catholic League baseball race by downing Farmington OLS yesterday. 4-1.

St. Rita kept pace, but had to go 13 innings before defeating Orchard Lake St. Mary, 7-4. Waterford Our Lady missed its first win of the season when Ferndale St. James came up with two runs in the last inning for a 7-6 decision.

Paul Schmansky's two-run single in the third inning was the big blow for Pontiac Catholic which is 4-1. Gary Roediger hurled the victory, leaving 10 OLS players on base, and being helped along by two Lancers being thrown out at the plate.

Tim Megge fanned 18 St. Rita batters, but the visitors came up with three unearned runs in the 13th to up its mark to 4-1. Mike Krogulecki had a double and single for the Eaglets who are 1-4.

FIFTH LOSS

WOLL dropped its fifth game when two errors in the last of the seventh permitted St. James to come from behind. Dennis McCollough had a double and single for the Lakers.

MOVES UP

Dick Peters' four-hit shutout hurling and four errors by Romeo enabled Troy to take home a 3-0 win as well as sole possession of fifth place in the race with a 2-3 mark.

Jerry Caudill drilled home four runs and had three hits to make Steve Arbuckle's varsity mound debut a success in Madison's 7-4 win over Lake Orion. The Eagles tied Rochester for third place at 3-2.

Larry Niedowicz scattered five hits and whiffed 11 in upping his mark to 4-1 and Clawson's to 9-2. Mike Heist's single went through the center fielder's legs for the two game-deciding unearned runs in the 4-2 triumph over the Rams.

Ever wonder which pro golfer in history won the most tournaments in one year? . . . Record held by Byron Nelson . . . In 1945 he finished first in 19 different tournaments . . . no one else has ever won that many in one season.

One question a lot of fishermen ask is what's the biggest fish ever caught? . . . The official record for catching a salt water fish with rod and reel, is held by an Australian, Alfred Dean, who hooked a shark that weighed 2,664 pounds! . . . The shark was just two inches short of being 17 feet long . . . Dean made his record catch in 1959.

Dick Tiger Looking Sharp in Workouts

"Good, very good," said Ferrara. "He's been training real well. I haven't seen him going so good in a long time.

At 38, world light heavyweight champion Dick Tiger seems to be as good as ever despite his deep concern over the civil war in Nigeria and the negotiations in London to end the strife.

WANTS PEACE

"I hope we will have peace," said Tiger, "but Biafra will have to remain separate. Too much blood has been shed. It will do no good to put Biafra under Nigeria. In five years, war would break out again.

"Now I must concentrate on my defense against Bob Foster. He is a big man and very good. After the fight, I will return to Biafra."

Foster, 29, 175-pounds and 6-3½, will have eight years, eight points, 7½ inches in height and eight inches in reach—79 to 71—going for him in the light heavyweight title bout at Madison Square Garden, May 24.

Winner of eight straight, seven by knockouts, Foster is a 9-5 favorite. The former Air Forceman from Washington, D.C., has a 29-4 record, including 23 knockouts. Tiger has won four straight, eight of his last nine, and has a 58-15-3 record. The champ has scored 26 knockouts and has never been stopped.

Spartan Nine Nearing Mark

MSU Defeats Irish for 22nd Triumph

EAST LANSING (AP) — Rich Miller drove in two runs with a pair of hits as Michigan State defeated Notre Dame 6-2 in a nocnonference baseball game Tuesday.

The victory, MSU's 22nd in 29 left the Spartans only six games short of the school record of 28 triumphs.

Mickey Knight, who pitched the first six innings, got credit for the victory, with relief help from Larry Hooper and Dave Williams. Mike Karkut, the first of three Irish pitchers, took the loss.

Dick Vary led the MSU attack with three hits and two sparkling defensive plays at shortstop. He drove in one run.

The loss left Notre Dame with a 9-8 mark.

BEING TREATED

Dancer's Image had been under treatment for sore legs but, said Fuller "I know my trainer, Lou Cavalaris, wouldn't give any medication he shouldn't have. I am convinced he is innocent."

Fuller expanded his comments when he returned to Boston. He said if Cavalaris is suspended Dancer's Image would not run in the Preakness at Pimlico May 18 or in the Belmont Stakes in New York June 1.

"They are a team," Fuller said. "My horse is not going to race without him."

Fuller said he had retained Louisville attorney, Arthur Grafton, Sr. to protect his interests.

"I am absolutely amazed at the way this thing was handled," he went on. "First they told us we would have a hearing next Monday, but then they just went ahead and announced all the changes."

GUARDS POSTED

Knebelkamp expressed surprise after Fuller's claim that "anybody could have gotten to the horse before the race." Knezelkamp said the track posted guards outside each barn and "I think we have better security than at many tracks."

Jockey Bobby Ussery, who thought he had been the first in 66 years to ride consecutive Derby winners, said, "This won't set me back any. I'll lose the money, but I'll still go on record as winning the Derby."

"What people must understand is the drug is not a stimulant," the native of Vian, Okla., told Dave Spitzer, sports writer for the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City. "It doesn't make the horse run faster, it's just a pain killer."

Mrs. Gene Markey, owner of Forward Pass, said she was "awfully sorry for Mr. Fuller. It's such an awful thing, to go through the ecstasy of winning and then have it taken away from you But I'm still glad we've won it. I can't help but be glad."

WMU Defeats U. of M., 8-1, on 4-Hitter

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Chuck Mestek set Michigan down on four hits as Western Michigan defeated the Wolverines 8-1 in a nonconference baseball game Tuesday.

Jim Redmon gave Mestek all the help he needed with a bases loaded triple in the second inning. Catcher Dan Benoit drove in two runs with an eighth-inning single.

Mestek, now 4-1, fanned nine and walked one, retiring 18 of the last 19 men he faced in order. Michigan's Andy Fisher accounted for the lone Wolverine run with a third-inning homer.

The victory was the 13th this season for the Broncos against seven defeats and a tie. Michigan has won 10 and lost 12.

'Nightmare,' Says PNH Coach

Unearned Runs Decide I-L Contests

Pontiac Northern baseball coach Arnie Wilson called it a "nightmare."

Livonia Stevenson's Spartans said "Thank you," and Walled Lake's Vikings had similar words for Waterford as unearned runs were the determining factor in yesterday's Inter-Lakes League games.

PNH committed 11 errors and lost, 5-1, to Stevenson. All runs scored by the league-leading Spartans were unearned.

Walled Lake made three unearned runs in the first inning stand up for a 3-1 decision over Waterford. The Vikings (3-1) take on Stevenson at Walled Lake Friday in a game that could decide the championship.

O-A CONTEST

Utica ran its Oakland A record to 4-0 by downing Rochester, 3-2.

"I've never seen a senior ball club such as ours make so many errors in one game," said Wilson. The loss was Northern's second in I-L play. The Huskies have won one.

TWO OUTS

In the last of the first, Tom Johnson doubled and the next batter was safe on an error. Waterford hurler Roger Kennedy got the next two batters and faced Billy Welsh with runners on second and third.

The third baseman booted Welsh's grounder and two runs scored. Welsh stole second and third and scored on a balk. Dennis Alvis produced Waterford's only tally with a homer in the third.

The Skippers are 1-3 going into the second round of league play.

A two-run homer by Grant Cramick in the fifth inning gave Utica the deciding runs. Rochester, now 3-2 in the league, rallied for two in the top of seventh when Leg Littlejohn and Mike Skally doubled and Stan Babiuk singled.

Utica pitcher Grodon Schwartz ended the game by striking out the next two Falcons. Schwartz wiffed 12 and walked two.

Two Home Runs Trigger Victory

Herb Brietzki drilled two home runs, one with the bases loaded, last night to lead Williams Research past Haggerty Lumber, 14-6, in the Walled Lake Industrial Softball League.

Lahser Downs Rival

Turbine Car Hits Wall

Indy Crash Fatal to Driver

Spence, 31, of Maidenhead, England, was injured in a practice run for the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30 and died in a hospital 4½ hours after the crash.

He was a member of the Lotus team which drives cars built by Colin Chapman of England. Spence was driving a car assigned to another driver when it slammed into the wall on the Speedway's No. 1 turn. He suffered multiple head injuries and never regained consciousness.

Walter Myers, Speedway chief observer, witnessed the crash. He said Spence was driving higher and higher on the track each time he neared the first turn.

LOOSE SAND

He said just before the crash the car went above the normal groove into loose sand and other material that accumulates outside the normal running surfaces.

Harlan Fengler, chief steward for the 500-mile race, impounded the death car and the three other Lotus turbines entered for the race.

Meanwhile, Carroll Shelby of Los Angeles, international auto racer and builder, withdrew his three turbine-powered cars from the 500. Shelby said he feels it is impossible at present to make a turbine-powered race car competitive "with a reasonable degree of safety and reliability."

A few hours before the crash, Spence ran the second fastest lap in the Speedway's history—169.555 miles an hour.

He was the 34th driver killed at the 59-year-old Speedway and the second Lotus team member killed this year. Jim Clark of Scotland was killed April 7 in a crash at Hockenheim, Germany.

Spence was a veteran of 10 years of Grand Prix driving but he had only one Grand Prix victory to his credit. He won the South African Grand Prix in 1966.

Spence also finished first in the B.O.A.C. International 500-mile race at Brands Hatch, England, in 1967.

Record Payoff for Wolverine

Adios Rip, an eight-year-old pacer, making his first start of the season, won for the first time in two years Tuesday at Wolverine Raceway and shocked a crowd of 4,997 with the biggest win payoff in history.

With Cliff Kent in the sluky, Adios Rip took the lead at the end of the quarter and just did hang on to hold off the fast-closing Knight Dew at the wire, for the victory. He went off at better than 88-1 odds and paid $179.00 for a $2 win ticket.

That bettered the previous all-time high of $175.40 set on June 2, 1966 when Song Cycle won the first heat of the Motor City pace.

Adios Rip had gone through the 1967 season without a victory in 28 starts although he was second on seven occasion and finished third five times

There was quite a difference in the payoff from win to show with Adios Rip paying $179, $47, and $8 across the board.

House Okays Fines Schedule

LANSING (AP)— Anticipating the hunting and fishing seasons of 1968, the House of Representatives passed five conservation-related bills Tuesday and sent two of them to the governor.

Two of the measures are aimed at poachers of moose and wild turkey and at hunters who bang away within range of farmhouses. Another authorizes the Conservation Department to negotiate agreements with other states of fishing regulations.

Sent to Gov. George Romney for his consideration was a bill setting mandatory fines of from $200 to $300 per animal for each moose illegally killed or possessed and from $100 to $200 for each wild turkey.

ELIGIBILITY CLAUSE

A poacher not paying the extra judgment would be ineligible for a hunting license for three years. Rep. Raymond Baker, R-Farmington, introduced the measure.

Also before Romney for final action is a bill sponsored by Rep. Blair Woodman, R-Owosso, forbids hunting and shooting within 150 yards of an occupied dwelling or related building unless the owner or occupant has given permission.

Exempt from the "safety zone" bill would be the land's owner or occupant or invited guests, or to hunters shooting fowl over a lake.

A pair of bills introduced by Sen. Gordon Rockwell, R-Mount Morris, and passed by the House without amendment, forbid catching fish merely to strip their eggs, and require a Conservation Department permit to bring live fish or viable eggs into Michigan.

All five bills were given immediate effect by the House, meaning they would become law as soon as the governor signed them.

Service Center Boating Class Is Scheduled

The two-session free course is for youngsters and adults, according to Lt. Donald Kratt of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department water safety division.

The class will run two and a half hours each night.

It is patterned after the state-approved course now being taught in area schools by members of the water safety division.

Stony Creek Park Site of Field Trip

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park will be the site for a field trip Saturday by members of the Pontiac Audubon Club.

Bob Rogers will be the leader for the excursion which will start from the Nature Center parking lot at 8 a.m.

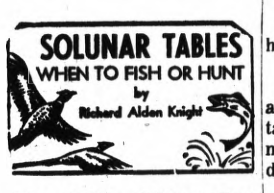
Wayne Wilson will present a program on 100 common poisonous spring plants during tonight's monthly PAC meeting in All Saints Episcopal Church at 7:30.

The weekly field trips and regular meetings are open to the public.

New Coho Film Now Available

"Coho," the Conservation Department's new color-sound movie, is now available free from the agency's film loan section in Lansing.

Because of the heavy demand for the 28-minute film, sportsmen's clubs and other organizations must make their loan reservations three weeks in advance. They are also urged to list an alternate showing date in case a booking cannot be made for their first choice.



The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Pontiac Duo Wins Elks Keg Doubles

A Pontiac couple, Marge and Howard Fields, took top honors in the 12th annual Elks Lodge 810 Invitational Mixed Doubles that concluded on the temple's lanes Sunday.

Led by Howard's 670 actual on the same lanes he used to manage, the Fields rolled a 1310 handicap total the opening weekend of the five-weekend tournament. They won $150 plus trophies.

DOMINATE TRIAL — Medallion Quail Finder, a pointer, and his handler, Dave Grubb of Lake Orion, took most of the honors in the recent Orange County Field Trials in New York. Medallion became the first dog in the trial's 46-year history to win the Open and Amateur Shooting Trials. Grubb became the first handler to win three Open titles.

Area Handler, Dog Make Trial History

Medallion Quail Finder, a pointer owned by Roger M. Kyes, became the first dog in the 46-year history of the trial to win both the Open Shooting Dog and Amateur Shooting Dog divisions.

Medallion Quail Finder was handled in both events by Dave Grubb. There were 48 dogs in the Open and 40 in the Amateur.

Grubb, of 4155 Mill Lake, also made history when he directed Paladin's Vignette to the Open Puppy title and Bellwood White Knight to first place in the Open Derby.

SAME OWNER

It was the first time that a handler had taken all three events. Kys, a General Motors vice-president also owns Vignette and White Knight.

Grubb will take his charges to the Kalamazoo Field Trial Club for competition May 18-19.

Michigan Shooters Named All-America

Four Michigan shooters were named on the 1968 Sports Afield All-American skeet teams, announced today by Jimmy Robinson, skeet and trapshooting editor of the magazine.

Hannaford won the world senior skeet all-around championship at Savannah, Ga., last August with 539 x 550 and the .28 Ga. when he fired 99 x 100 and he teamed up with Howard Confer to win the world two-man team .28 Ga. title with 199 of 200.

Fish Program Jeopardized

Lamprey Treatment on Shelf

Officials of the Michigan Conservation Department, fearing that the entire fish restoration program is jeopardized in the upper Great Lakes, are mounting a crash effort to revive lamprey control treatment in this state's Lake Huron streams.

Chemical treatment of those tributaries opened in 1966, but the Lake Huron program ground to a halt last year for the lack of federal funds and it will remain on the shelf for the same reason in 1968 unless $150,000 can be mustered.

In a bid to make up for that shortage in federal money, Conservation Department leaders have put out a feeler to the State Department Appropriations Subcommittee which determines allotments for lamprey control work.

They are also trying to have their case heard before Donald McKernan, assistant Secretary of State for Fisheries and Wildlife.

CHEMICAL WAR

In another move to remobilize the chemical war on lamprey in Michigan's Lake Huron watershed, the department has scheduled a May 24 meeting in Bay City with board members from 14 countries in that part of the state.

At this point, the only answer left may be for those counties to "pass the hat" to raise the $150,000 needed to underwrite the lamprey control program for this year.

"Whatever the answer, the stakes are high, much higher than the price tag on this year's work," reports Wayne H. Tody, the department's fish division chief. "In the balance is a sport and commercial fishery in Lake Huron waters which, by a conservative estimate, could boost Michigan's economy by at least $20 million a year."

FIRST ROUND

Tody explains that if the first complete round of chemical treatment isn't completed on the U.S. side of Lake Huron by next year or 1970, at the latest, "we will lose everything we have gained from initial work and have to start all over again" in that part of the state.

This would also mean, he adds, that the fisheries rehabilitation program for Lake Huron would be delayed to 1975 which he says is "unthinkable."

Originally, the Department fixed its sights on 1969 as the target date for effective lamprey control in Lake Huron streams. Its plantings of trout and salmon have been keyed to that schedule and this year releases of these fish are being made in the Lake Huron watershed.

Tody observes: "We are committed to the original timetable and we are going ahead with our plantings, but with the lamprey control program bogged down, we face a calculated risk and know that our released fish will suffer fairly severe lamprey predation."

Stock Northern Streams With Lake-Run Rainbows

The Conservation Department reports it has started planting 270,000 lake run Rainbow trout in Upper Great Lakes streams.

The Steelhead trout plantings, the largest ever undertaken by the state, are scheduled to be completed in 18 streams of Lakes Superior, Michigan and Huron by the end of June.

"Our releases this spring should have a big impact on the Steelhead fishing, particularly in the years from 1969 through 1971," said department fish specialist Dave Borgeson.

Most of the fish being stocked average about seven inches, the minimum legal size on streams. When they reach the lakes, the legal size will be 10 inches.

URGED TO WAIT

Fishermen were urged not to catch the fish out of the streams but to wait until they reach sizes that will go up to seven pounds or more.

The department will stock the following Lake Michigan streams with these Steelhead totals: Muskegon, White and Pere Marquette Rivers, 25,000 each; Big Manistee and Betsie rivers, 15,000 each; Sturgeon, Pentwater, Boyne, and Bear rivers, 10,000 each; and Black River, 5,000.

For Lake Huron waters, the department will release 25,000 Steelhead in the Au Sable River, and 10,000 each in the St. Marys, Ocqueoc, and Au Gres (East Branch) Rivers.

This springs's Steelhead plantings for Lake Superior will total 15,000 each in the Presque Isle, Big Huron, and Two Hearted rivers, and 5,000 in Baraga County's Silver River.

New Huron River Canoe Maps Ready

The 1968 set of four Huron River Canoeing Guide Maps, illustrating routes from west of Pontiac to Lake Erie, are now available from the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

The new maps show portages, campsites, launching areas, access roads and include a mileage chart indicating distances between important points and travel time between these points.

These maps may be obtained by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

'State Should Insure Itself'

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James Hare, whose department has lost one of its insurance policies and faces loss of another, says Michigan's government ought to consider insuring itself.

A resolution to set up a legislative committee to study the question has been introduced in the Senate at Hare's request.

The secretary told the state Administrative Board Tuesda that the department's "money and security" insurance, covering holdups and burglaries at its branch offices around the state, was canceled a month ago.

Without it, he added, the department would have to pay what it considers unreasonable rates of $100,000 a year, an $87,000 increase, for insurance covering embezzlement and "mysterious disappearance" of funds.

One solution to the dilemma, Hare said, would be state self-insurance, where money lost would be considered lost revenue and made good from other state funds.

WHAT ARE HIS RIGHTS? — Brandy, a 140-pound lion cub, sits in the vehicle of his owner, John Marquis, a Kalamazoo commercial artist, as the City Commission studied the animal's legal rights yesterday. Dr. Milton Brawer, a Western Michigan University sociology professor, asked for the study, contending that the 9-month-old cub represents a neighborhood safety hazard.

Kalamazoo Lion: A Pet or a Threat?

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Brandy, a 9-month-old lion cub that sleeps in the basement of a house at Kalamazoo, occasionally is pestered by people but his owner says he never tried to hurt anyone.

Now the cub's neighbor, Western Michigan University sociology Prof. Milton Brawer, has complained to city authorities that the animal is a menace to children and wants to know the law on lion control.

Brandy's owner, commercial artist John Marquis, says the lion stays in the basement when he is not home and only goes out on a leash.

The lion, which has no claws or fangs yet — eats five pounds of horse meat a day, now weighs 140 pounds but will weigh 400 pounds at maturity.

'Creative Programs Needed'

Must Rebuild Slums---Rocky

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller called today for the development of "creative programs to rebuild our cities" so that slum areas become "decent and productive places to live and work."

The Republican presidential candidate said in a speech prepared for a University of Minnesota audience, "Such programs mean jobs—not handouts. They mean pay checks — not welfare checks."

"We must have the courage to take corrective action," the New York governor said. "If our hearts don't tell us that this is so, then the violence exploding in our cities certainly tells us."

He said that Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. "died not for the cause of one color but of one idea: The idea of human dignity. It is this all-embracing—all unifying—idea that we must learn to live."

HALF AND HALF

Rockefeller said the nation cannot live "half in prosperity —half in poverty; half in comfort, half in squalor; half in hope and half in despair any more than we could have endured as a nation half slave and half free."

He said prejudice "commits millions to an exile that is wasteful, hurtful and senseless. . .Our responsibility as a democratic society is to set free the best that lies within every man."

"I cannot agree with those who say that we must have order or we shall have no progress," Rockefeller declared.

'Hike Primes Mortgage Pump'---LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is counting on a hike in maximum interest rates on FHA and VA loans to inject vigor into the flagging home-building industry.

An industry spokesmen predicted Tuesday the jump in maximum rates from 6 to 6¾ per cent would spur homebuilding by bringing money into the home mortgage market from lenders who have been seeking higher returns elsewhere.

The boost in the Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration home-loan interest ceilings came shortly after President Johnson signed a bill authorizing the change.

Johnson used the signing to make another appeal for passage of his proposed income-tax hike, saying interest rates on mortgage loans could soar to 10 per cent without the congressional action.

Lloyd E. Clarke of Des Moines, Iowa, president of the National Association of Home Builders, told a Washington news conference the new interest ceiling should boost housing construction.

But he said that while making it easier for Americans to get mortgage loans, it probably would increase the monthly payments for home buyers.

Dr. Doolittle?

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Owners of a pet shop, burglarized Monday, have announced their loss: Two English shepherd puppies, four alligators and several parakeets.

Status of Candidates Puts State Ad Board in Dither

LANSING (AP) — When is a presidential candidate not a presidential candidate: When he comes to town on official business.

Or isn't he?

The State Administrative Board faced the question briefly Tuesday, after noting that both Vice President Hubert Humphrey and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon plan appearances in Lansing next month.

Secretary of State James Hare urged the board to set a governmentwide policy on whether state employes should be given time off to hear the visitors speak or whether they should be required to dip into accumulated leave time.

Hare said he made his employes use leave time when Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., made a Lansing appearance April 11. He added he got himself in trouble with the employes, who said other departments were more lenient.

A POLITICAL YEAR

Gov. George Romney inquired whether Humphrey was officially to appear as Vice President or as a Democratic candidate campaigning for the presidential nomination.

Hare said he understood the visit was to be official, "But, after all, this is a political year and I don't know how you can separate the two."

"Well, I can speak from experience," shot back Romney, a Republican presidential candidate until his withdrawal Feb. 29, "You can keep them separate. I did with mine."

Romney added: "I don't think state departments should release state employes to go to political meetings when candidates come to Lansing.

PROBING BRIDGE TRAGEDY — Witnesses attending the U.S. Department of Transportation board hearing yesterday into the Silver Bridge disaster view a scale model of the former Ohio River bridge. The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads constructed an exact replica of the bridge, which collapsed last December, killing 46 persons.

Strong Gun Controls Asked in Crime Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was asked yesterday to include the strongest gun control measures—including a national firearms registration—in the administration's crime bill. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted such provisions would be weakened, not tightened.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., asked that senators "not be misled or cajoled by the scores of thousands of letters and telegrams which a powerful and highly organized lobby is at present inundating Washington." He asked for the "strictest possible" controls.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., proposing nationwide gun registration, said it was time to count the "vast stock" of weapons in the hands of citizens.

He said he would offer his proposal as an amendment to the firearms control section of the crime bill now being considered by the Senate.

CRITICAL OF NRA

Dodd mentioned no names, but in the past he has criticized the National Rifle Association for opposing administration gun control proposals in favor of less restrictive ones offered by Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb.

Dodd asked the Senate to include rifles and shotguns in the bill's prohibition of mail order sales, now limited to hand guns.

Brooke said guns "should not be traded without restraint." In a senate speech, he said "they constitute a hazard for which a prudent society should make some provision."

Dirksen said Hruska had enough votes to permit even mail order hand gun sales under a provision that local police would be given a chance to veto such sales to criminals, alcoholics or narcotics addicts.

'WOULD REDUCE DANGER"

Brooke contended that gun registration did not infringe on a citizen's rights to own firearms but would "serve the vital goal of reducing the collateral dangers in a nation which has clearly reserved the right of citizens to own weapons."

Pace Is Moderate

Market Advance Is Resumed

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its advance at a moderate pace in active trading early today.

Advances by individual stocks outnumbered declines by about 200 issues.

Gains of key issues were mostly fractional, but a few ranged to a point or so.

Motors and electronics showed strength. Oils declined.

Some brokers said they expected the momentum of Tuesday's advance to carry on as a result of progress in Congress toward a tax increase and reports that full peace negotiations would be carried on by the United States and North Vietnam in Paris.

Opening blocks included McDonnell - Douglas, off ¼ at 49¾ on 10,900 shares; National Service, up ¼ at 43 on 10,000 shares; Occidental Petroleum, up ⅛ at 42¾ on 10,000 shares, and Jersey Standard, off ¼ at 71½ on 45,800 shares.

Volume for the year on the TOPS 1 BILLION New York Stock Exchange topped one billion shares at 10:16 a.m. Last year the one-billion mark wasn't reached until May 26.

Tuesday the Associated Press 60-Stock Average advanced 2.4 to 330.8, a new 1968 high.

Fired Deputy Files Lawsuit for His Job

An Oakland County sheriff's deputy who was fired in March for misconduct has taken his case to Oakland County Circuit Court.

In a suit filed against the Oakland County Personnel Appeals Board and Sheriff Frank Irons, Menden L. Wescott has asked the court to reverse their decisions and return him to work with full back pay.

Last month, the Personnel Appeals Board upheld Wescott's dismissal by Irons.

A hearing before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt has tentatively been scheduled for June 5 at 9 a.m., according to Wescott's attorney Leonard Peres.

Wescott, 53, of 7116 Locklin, West Boomfield Township, was fired after being accused of being involved in a bribe.

BOARD RULED

The Personnel Appeals Board, however, ruled only that Wescott had accepted two cartons of cigarettes "on behalf of two arresting officers as an expression of appreciation for a reduction of a charge against John L. Dobson."

It did not rule on an accusation that Wescott had been given $200 for himself by Dobson, who had committed suicide before Irons received a report about the alleged bribe.

Wescott has denied that he received any money from Dobson for helping to get a charge against him reduced from drunken driving to reckless driving.

Driver Injured at M59 Exit

A Pontiac woman is undergoing treatment in the intensive - care unit of Pontiac General Hospital after an accident yesterday in which the car she was driving went out of control on an expressway exit.

Hospital authorities said Mrs. Gloria H. Hodge, 24, of 132 Carr is in satisfactory condition.

The accident occurred about 5:30 p.m. when the car she was driving north on the University exit from eastbound M59 ran over a curb on the east side of the road, Pontiac police said.

HIT GUARD RAIL

The vehicle hit a metal guard rail, then crossed the ramp and skidded along a concrete barrier, according to police.

Police Action

Pontiac police officers and Oakland County sheriff's deputies investigated 66 reported incidents and made six arrests the past 24 hours.

'Soviet-Czech Talks Less Than Cordial'

PRAGUE (AP) — Jiri Hajek, the new Czechoslovak foreign minister, arrived home today from Moscow after talks with Kremlin leaders he called "routine" but other indicators suggested were less than cordial.

He told newsmen his talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko "concerned mutual information and exchange of opinions on current international-political problems.

"The possibilities of expanding mutual friendly relations were discussed, too," he added.

The Soviet Union's uneasiness with Czechoslovakia's liberalized policy came out Tuesday when the Kremlin angrily denied that Soviet agents murdered Czechoslovak Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk in 1948, as some Prague newspapers are charging.

The Soviet statement on the Masaryk case was released at about the same time Hajek was meeting with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Diplomats in Moscow called the timing less than diplomatic.

The Soviets described the meeting's atmosphere as "friendly" and added that Hajek's mission was not to seek specific agreements with Soviet leaders but to explain Prague's foreign policy.

In another development suggesting that Czechoslovakia was not willing to drop its investigation of old Soviet wrongs, Ladislav Kopriva, Czechoslovak minister of national security during the early 1950s, implicated former Soviet President Anastas I. Mikoyan in the arrest of Rudolf Slansky, a former secretary-general of the Czechoslovak Communist party hanged in 1952. Slansky and other leading Communist functionaries were executived on convictions of anti-state activities.

Ten days ago Karol Bacilek, a former first secretary of the Slovak Communist party, asserted that Mikoyan was involved in the Slansky arrest.

Kopriva said he resigned his post as head of the national security ministry in 1952 after he found out that "other powers" controlled it. He was later told, he said, that "Stalin had allegedly declared that I am not to be relied on in the carrying out of duties as minister of national security."

Friday Is Last Day to Register

Pontiac residents who are not registered to vote have until 8 p.m. Friday to register to vote in the Pontiac school election June 10 and the special fair housing referendum election June 24.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley said state election laws dictate closing of the registrations before Saturday.

Registrations will be taken at the city hall from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday.

In addition, registrations are being accepted at a number of city schools by deputized registrars.

Mrs. Barkeley said persons who have registered in the city and who have voted in the last two years don't have to reregister.

To transfer addresses residents can send signed requests to the city clerk's office stating the present address and former address.

Plan to Bring Girl to U.S. Hits Snag

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Difficulties at both ends have dogged the efforts of a group of Traverse City residents to bring a 19-year-old Vietnamese woman to Michigan.

The group trying to bring Phuon Tran Thi to Traverse City reports that it is still about $850 short of the $2,000 it needs.

And in Saigon Miss Thi reports that she has been unable to obtain a passport from the South Vietnamese government.

"I still trying very hard to get passport," wrote Miss Thi last week to Mrs. Frank Wysong, who has offered her a place to stay while she attends Northwestern Michigan College.

2-MONTH DRIVE

The campaign to bring Miss Thi to the United States began in March when Capt. Richard De Fer, a former Traverse City resident, wrote his aunt, Mrs. Walt Kwasky, of Traverse City.

Miss Thi worked as a civilian interpreter at Qui Nhon Air Force Base where Capt. De Fer was stationed as a forward air controller with the Korean Tiger Division. He now is assigned to Castle Air Force Base near Merced, Calif.

Capt. De Fer wrote Mrs. Kwasky that while in Vietnam "We encountered Miss Thi since we always had a need for an interpreter for both prisoners and civil affairs." He explained that many times Miss Thi risked her life and through her efforts many American and Korean lives were saved.

He said the men wanted to do something for her and decided on a college education in America.

CHURCHES TAKE UP CALL

Jerry McCarthy of Traverse City, chairman of the community concerns committee of the council, said contributions have fallen off. He said a theater in Elk Rapids plans a benefit showing May 21-23 and adds that some service clubs are planning to contribute money.

"Beyond that," he said, "we have nothing organized."

The group's treasurer, Ed Larken, said $1,162 has been raised and $70 paid out to Michigan State University for a 10-week English course which Miss Thi must complete before beginning her college work.

MICHIGAN RESPONDS

"We have had reports from nearly every state in the union." Larken said. "But most of the money has come from residents in Michigan and the Traverse City area."

Mrs. Kwasky said De Fer, in his last letter, reported that Miss Thi, wounded in the Tet offensive, was released from a hospital and that her father had recently escaped from the Vietcong, who had kidnaped him and forced him to work for several weeks.

Mrs. Kwasky added that De Fer and a pilot stationed with him at Qui Nhon and now in this country sent money to Miss Thi for expenses to obtain a passport.

"We're still waiting to hear on her passport," Larken said. "For now we will continue to raise money for her education and transportation to this country."

Easy Job Has Its Moments

ST.LOUIS (AP) — Though they both work for the same painting firm in St. Louis, Lloyd Harris paints all day and Thomas Calvin sits idly in a boat and watches.

But Harris likes it that way. He slipped and fell off the new interstate highway bridge into the Mississippi River Tuesday and Calvin sped over and picked him up. That's his job.

Julie Andrews Leaves Court With Manager

Film star Julie Andrews won an uncontested divorce yesterday in Santa Monica, Calif., from her childhood sweetheart, British designer Tony Walton, after nine years of marriage.

Miss Andrews, star of "Mary Poppins" and "The Sound of Music," testified that their careers came between them. She has been filming her movie roles here while he stayed in their native land.

They had been officially separated since October 1966. The decree was granted on ground of cruelty and Miss Andrews waived alimony.

She won custody of their 5-year-old daughter, Emma, while Walton won full visitation rights. The court held he is under no present obligation to pay child support.

They were married at Walton on the Thames, England, May 10, 1959.

Hitchcock Turned Down 'Boring' Role

Alfred Hitchcock, movie and television director who announced yesterday in New York that he will film "Topaz," the best-selling spy novel by Leon Uris, was asked about his "acting" career, since he nearly always plays a very small part in his movies.

He recalled the time producer-director Otto Preminger asked him to play the part of God in a film.

"I am absolutely bored with playing that part," Hitchcock said he replied.

Suitor Waits Answer After Love Ad Campaign

"I love you," he has said, with albums of love songs, a huge bouquet, a 500-word telegram, a big newspaper ad, a 13-page letter and two 30-second radio commercials.

CAROL APPEL

The 36-year-old real estate investment counselor said yesterday he hopes to hear from the 26-year-old divorced interior decorator in about a week.

Mrs. Appel said her sons, 3 and 6, "think a lot of Dick but we're all overwhelmed by this." His concentrated campaign cost some $500, Annotico said.

"When she feels she has reached a decision, then I figure she will be in touch with me," said Annotico.

Actress Lynn Redgrave Has Baby Boy

Lynn Redgrave, 24, star of the film "Georgy Girl," gave birth yesterday to an 8-pound 11-ounce boy at a London hospital.

"We are not going to call our son Georgy, you can be assured of that," said the father, actor John Clark, 35.

Canada's Pearson, Wife Leave for Irish Tour

"I hope the weather is fine," William Warnock, the Irish high commissioner, said.

"It won't matter," replied Lester B. Pearson as he and his wife Maryon departed for the Emerald Isle last night from Ottawa, Ont.

The two of them, unencumbered by a retinue for the first time in years, planned to spend the rest of the spring visiting Irish villages.

"I ought to back in time to vote even to campaign," said Pearson who stepped down April 20 as prime minister.

An aide said the Pearsons plan a "real vacation" on their first trip to Ireland in 10 years.

I.Q. Tests Err on 'Retarded'

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — There is a kind of intelligence, ignored by I.Q. tests, that allows certain "retarded" children to function well in society. This factor is especially noticeable in slum children.

This basic learning ability or practical intelligence is equally distributed among social classes, and racial and ethnic groups, despite great disparities in economic and cultural background, according to evidence from a new set of mental tests developed in California

Many apparently retarded children from lower-class minority groups possess a normal quota of basic learning ability. But because of abnormally low I.Q. scores — in the 60-to-90-point range — they are classified as retarded.

These children, however, do not look like other retardates, regardless of their I.Q. similarity. They seem brighter socially and on the playground.

Once out of school, they no longer appear mentally retarded at work without apparent handicap.

Retarded children from the middle class, on the other hand, invariably lack basic learning ability and are consequently far more disabled.

Beauty Survives in Okefenokee

WASHINGTON — Way down upon the Suwannee River in southeast Georgia lies a region of mysterious and primitive beauty known as the Okefenokee Swamp.

Hidden lakes mirror tall cypresses bearded with Spanish moss. Lush aquatic plants conceal dozing alligators. Floating islands quiver under foot.

Indians named the 660-square-mile marsh Okefenokee, or "land of trembling earth," because its floating islands of matted vegetation swayed under their weight, the National Geographic Society says.

In the past the Okefenokee has been threatened by drainage projects, scarred by loggers, and blackened by fire. Yet the vast wetland wilderness always recovered the unspoiled beauty that awed the Indians.

To guard against future depredations, President Lyndon B. Johnson has asked Congress to incorporate 319,000 acres of the Okefenokee into the National Wilderness Preservation System.

Tot Sets Truck Off and Running

The truck smashed into Marvin Smith's home Tuesday, causing $2,000 damage. Nobody was hurt.

Expansion of Center Set

Karl B. Robertson, board chairman, said new facilities include a senior citizens center and expanded mens locker room and exercise facilities.

Under the plan, operation of the Dow Chemical Co. recreation department shifts to the community center.

Fluoride Shows Favorable Result in Surveyed Area

CHICAGO, Ill. (WMNS) — What is the state of dental health of five-and-six-year olds who have drunk fluoridated water for all or most of their lives?

Initial examinations of youngsters from fluoride-enriched Newburgh, New York, the American Dental Association reported, showed that 42 per cent of them had no decay in primary or permanent teeth compared to only 18 per cent of youngsters from neighboring Kingston which does not have a fluoridated water supply.

Kingston children averaged 8.3 times as many decayed, missing, and filled permanent teeth when first seen by the dentist. Kingston children needed an average of more than twice as many dental services as the Newburgh group.

Still another use of the chemical was reported recently. According to ear, nose, and throat specialist Dr. George Shambaugh, of Northwestern University, fluoride helps reinforce the cochlea, the spiral-shaped bone in the inner ear that conducts sound.

NEW DEVELOPMENT

In some people that bone softens due to a condition known as cochlear otosclerosis, impairing hearing. When Dr. Shambaugh gave patients with that condition daily doses of fluoride he found that the cochlea of one out of five of them recalcified, and the progressive hearing loss was arrested.

'Friendly Ghost' Is Invited to Castle Wedding

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — Sir John Forbes, the "friendly ghost" at 17th century Craigievar Castle, has been invited to a wedding in the castle where he lived 300 years ago.

Kirstine Forbes-Sempill, 24-year-old daughter of the ruler of Craigievar, Lady Sempill, will be married June 1 in the castle to John Cable, 29, an accountant. The formal invitation to Sir John rests on the mantlepiece in the castle hall.

"The invitation is to Red Sir John and the other castle ghosts to attend the wedding," Lady Sempill said. "I saw one of the ghosts a few years ago. There are 8 or 10 of them." Red Sir John got his name from his bright red rair.

The guest list totals 150—not counting the ghosts.

4 Grads to Hear Governor Speak

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — "Be all you can," urges the motto of the graduating class at Birney School in southern Rosebud County.

Taking it literally, the four graduates-to-be invited Gov. Tim Babcock to the ranching community of about 20 persons to be their commencement speaker May 23. The governor accepted.

A Look at TV

Indiana: Just Practice?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Over the years the television networks have learned their lessons well, and today can handle any election efficiently.

But during the preliminaries to the presidential campaigns, they all seem to handle the state primaries like practice sessions.

The Tuesday Indiana primary was a case in point. It seemed to turn out pretty much the way the advance predictions indicated. But all three networks had their sights on the state balloting and their experts put the totals under the microscope.

NBC preempted the early evening "Jerry Lewis Show" for an hour-long special program. It made the voting seem very important, but it was unable to come up with anything much that was fresh and exciting beyond the changing totals as the votes were counted.

SHORTER WRAP-UP

CBS came along an hour or so later with a shorter wrap-up of the primary battle that covered the same ground but in a more economical style. It devoted the second half of its Tuesday night news hour to a once-over-lightly treatment of the unfortunate plight of many American Indians. The Indians subject deserved a deeper treatment, but the show consisted of material salvaged from a daytime news feature show.

ABC handled the election in a late evening program when the results were established.

That network, which seems to be having problems finding its niche in news coverage, is about to overhaul—again—its early evening news show. On May 27 Frank Reynolds will take over the principal role in the program.

Bob Young, who replaced Peter Jennings at the first of the year, will be reassigned to the network's New York news bureau. Reynolds moves into the network's top news spot after three years as its White House correspondent.

Jennings, a young Canadian newsman, was picked for the news job when ABC was attempting to attract younger viewers to its assorted programs, from soap operas to action shows. He left the show, the network said, because he wanted to get back into the field.

CBS, which spent a reported $250,000 on a special program showing Vladimir Horowitz in piano recital at Carnegie Hall last winter, plans to broadcast the show next Sept. 2.

Recommended tonight: "Best on Record," NBC, 9-10, EDT, performances by winners of the Grammy Awards of the recording industry with stars Bobbie Gentry, Glen Campbell, Lou Rawls and even Sen. Everett Dirksen.

U.S. Will Rest in Miriani Case

DETROIT (AP)—The federal government today is expected to complete its case against former Detroit Mayor Louis Miriani, charged with tax evasion from 1959 through 1962.

The government charges that Miriani, now a Detroit councilman, understated his income during that period by $261,100 and owes additional taxes of approximately $154,000.

About 160 witnesses have been called by the prosecution which has submitted nearly 200 statements and documents in evidence.

The government alleges that most of the unreported income came from political contribution which Miriani diverted to his own use.

Record Try Fails ---Law Takes Ball

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Students from George Fox College in Newberg, Ore., had a run-in with the law Tuesday, but it was nothing like some of the recent student-police confrontations.

The students were trying to break the ball-bouncing record. They had to stop after 73½ hours when a policeman at a Portland shopping center took their ball away.

MacRae Daughter's Birth Steals Earl's Birthday Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There was a surprise party for me — attended, naturally, by the most beloved people in town — and one of them, singer Gordon MacRae, announced: "I'm celebrating a birthday, too."

WILSON

"Yours?" I asked . . . "No, my new baby daughter's!" With a shine in his eyes and a swing to his shoulders, he revealed that his bride Liz Schrafft has given birth at 10:17 a.m. at Doctor's Hospital. When the new mother was having her difficulties, Gordon, a father four times previously, phoned Cindy and Joey Adams for some comfort from Bible-reading. The mother is now feeling almost as colossal as the father, and the baby will be named Amanda Mercedes Elizabeth MacRae.

All the comedians are saying it: "Bob Hope's in NY. Came in to entertain the troops at Columbia University" . . . Marty Allen: "They want me in 'Hair' but I refuse to go nude" . . . Henny Youngman claims the 3 R's are now Reading, Riting and Rioting, and that his nephew, an A student, flunked out of school: couldn't pass Demonstrations . . . Harry Hershfield kidding Gov. Rockefeller's candidacy said: "You are like the actor who said, 'I just signed with MGM. Now I'm waiting for them to sign.'" Rocky said he would insert that in his own speech.

FDR once used a Hershfield joke: A drunk was warned by his doctor that drink was affecting his hearing and sight. Three months later he was still drinking. "But it's affecting your hearing and sight," said the doctor. The drunk replied, "What I've been drinking lately is so much better than what I've been seeing and hearing lately, so I decided to keep drinking."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Don Rickles got up at the Copa and told Louis Prima, "From the bottom of my heart, Louis, you made a fool of yourself" . . . Fred Brisson's here working toward his next play, "Flipside," about wife-swapping, which'll be as common a theme as hippies and spies . . . Secret Stuff: A famous actress got a divorce but is living with her ex-husband for family reasons . . . Joanna Petter, who's expecting, and Alex Cord, are due in from England . . . Tony Curtis and new bride were seeing NY from the Sherry-Netherland.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The optimist studies the candidates and hopes the best man will win. The pessimist figures the best man isn't even running.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The extent of some people's religion is that they know the name of the church they stay away from."

EARL'S PEARLS: Mike Forrest tells of the politician whose campaigning took him to a nudist camp. He picked up 50 votes and a nice tan.

Arlene Francis and Martin Gabel attended the opening of a Broadway show of doubtful promise. Gabel told Arlene, "I've improved our seat locations." "Oh?" said Arlene. "Which direction are we moving?" . . . That's earl, brother.

SAFETY TEAM — Pontiac Fire Chief Charles Marion (right) and Fire Marshal Charles Metz check preparations for the department's Home Fire Safety Program, which will run for two weeks beginning May 20. During that period, teams of firemen will visit scheduled areas of the city, available for home safety inspections at the request of citizens. The day-by-day schedule will be made public next week.

Kennedy Is Winner in Indiana and D. C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two victories by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, an impressive showing by Richard M. Nixon and the defeat of veteran Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, highlighted five primaries across the nation.

Republican candidate Nixon was unopposed and got an even bigger Indiana vote than in the 1960 primary.

Lausche was defeated by Cincinnati City Councilman John J. Gilligan, a former congressman who had labor support and the Ohio Democratic organization endorsement.

MAY HAVE TO SHARE

In yesterday's primary voting:

—Kennedy got about 42 per cent of the Indiana vote to about 31 per cent for favorite-son candidate Gov. Roger D. Branigin and about 27 per cent for McCarthy.

But it appeared possible Kennedy might have to share with Branigin some of Indiana's 63 Democratic National Convention delegates. Nixon garnered all 26 Republican convention votes.

—All 21 candidates on Kennedy's delegate slate in the District of Columbia were far outdistancing their Humphrey rivals. By unit rule Kennedy gets all 23 of Washington's convention votes.

APPARENT VICTORY

—In Alabama, third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace apparently won the right to run on his state's Democratic party ticket he appeared to have picked up at least 25 of 34 Alabama delegates to the Democratic convention.

—Florida Rep. Edward Gurney won the Republican senatorial nomination by a landslide but the Democratic race between former Gov. LeRoy Collins and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth appeared headed for a runoff.

Kennedy was making no claims for the future after his Indiana victory, including his prospects in the Nebraska primary next Tuesday.

'BROAD BASE OF SUPPORT'

He said the combination of results in the District of Columbia and Indiana "indicate a broad base of support for my candidacy."

But McCarthy and Branigin forces—and promoters of the Humphrey campaign—noted Kennedy was a minority winner. McCarthy said he would have gotten many of Branigin's votes in a two-man contest.

"No one deserves any prizes in this contest," McCarthy said. "We will carry the fight to Nebraska. I think the direct confrontation that was denied us here in Indiana will be given us in Nebraska."

Sens. Walter F. Mondale and Fred R. Harris, co-chairmen of United Democrats for Humphrey said: "In the only primary in which Sen. Kennedy was opposed by other candidates nearly two out of three Democrats preferred someone else."

In another political development yesterday, an Oregon Humphrey for President Committee was announced.

Its chairman, State Sen. Ross Morgan, urged votes for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket in the May 28 primary as it was printed on the ballot before President Johnson withdrew from the race March 31.

Fire Safety Drive Planned in City

The Pontiac Fire Department will launch a two-week voluntary home fire safety inspection program May 20.

Fire Chief Charles Marion said the goal of the drive, during which citizens may have their homes safety inspected by invitation, is the reduction of house fires in the city by at least 50 per cent.

"We'll have five engine companies — at least 25 men — in scheduled areas daily. They'll be available to citizens who either submit written requests to the department or call in invitations," he said.

Marion said the program is basically aimed at preserving life and property by locating and correcting fire hazard conditions and by providing fire fighters a working knowledge of areas of the city.

BETTER UNDERSTANDING

"It will also create a better understanding between the public and the department while providing free safety information to citizens," he said.

Marion emphasized that a schedule of areas to be visited by inspectors will be made public next week so that citizens will know when to request inspections.

An added feature of the program will be the distribution of invalid stickers to persons who want firemen to be aware of an evacuation problem at their homes in case of a fire.

"Of course these are also voluntary and available on request," Marion said.

Rain Is Forecast, Ending Tomorrow

The weatherman predicts a chance of showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and evening, ending early tomorrow.

Temperatures registering a low of 42 to 46 to night will rise into the high 60s tomorrow. Partly cloudy and cool is the outlook for Friday.

French Hint Talks Won't Be Limited

PARIS (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville expressed the view today the United States and North Vietnam will hold broad talks in Paris on ending the Vietnam war and not limit their contacts to halting U.S. bombing of the North.

Couve de Murville told the French Cabinet it was his belief that the talks, scheduled tentatively to open Friday, will consist of both preliminary talks and true negotiations. He said there are no plans to change the conference site of the negotiating teams for the two stages.

When Hanoi proposed Paris for the preliminary talks it said they should be "to determine with the U.S. side the unconditional cessation of the U.S. bombing raids and all other acts of war" against North Vietnam. Then, Hanoi said, talks would be held "on other problems of concern to the two sides."

SITE CHANGE SEEN

Couve de Murville's remarks to the Cabinet came as U.S. and North Vietnamese officials, with the French assisting, went ahead with technical arrangements for the meetings.

French Minister of State Edmond Michelet told newsmen the talks would be held at the International Conference Center in the former Hotel Majestic near the Arch of Triumph.

Gorse told newsmen later that the negotiations would very likely be held at the conference center, but that a final response from Hanoi had not yet been received.

Commission OKs Pay Hikes

Some 100 supervisors and department heads of Pontiac's city government were authorized 8 per cent pay raises — with the chance of more to come — by city commissioners last night.

On the recommendation of City Manager Joseph A. Warren, the commission approved the raises, plus a longevity package, for 1968 and authorized a study of supervisory salaries and job classifications.

Total cost of the pay raises would be $53,500, while the longevity would cost $18,300. Not included in among the supervisors are those appointed directly by the commission.

Covered by the increases are employes not belonging to organized employe groups. The longevity plan calls for payments of 2 per cent, 4 per cent and 6 per cent of yearly salaries after seven, 14 and 21 years, respectively, of service.

RAISES SIMILAR

Warren said the raises are about the same as given to hourly employes and those proposed for clerical and office workers.

The city police chief and fire chief were authorized $2,000 yearly raises to fall in line with their duties and with pay raises granted police and firemen earlier this year.

Warren said the study — to be made by a Chicago public administration consulting firm — would make recommendations that may be the basis for further pay raises by July 1.

The study, to cost $3,500, will take about 60 days, Warren said.

Mideast Flares Again

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli army reported mortar attacks Tuesday night near the Lebanese and Jordanian borders and an exchange of fire between Israeli and Jordanian troops. The army said there was no damage or casualties.

UAW May Face AFL-CIO Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers union, currently renewing threats to quit the 14-million-member AFL-CIO, faces the possibility of being kicked out next week for nonpayment of dues.

The Auto Workers, issuing new attacks on AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership from its convention in Atlantic City, will be three months and about $250,000 behind in dues May 15 and face automatic expulsion, informed sources said.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council, meeting next week, may take up the matter and some sources predict a majority of its members may be angered enough to oust Reuther's union if it doesn't pay up.

Sources say AFL-CIO leaders are miffed at Reuther's announcement the Auto Workers may put its per capita AFL-CIO dues in escrow pending settlement of its demands for internal reform of the federation.

$1 MILLION A YEAR

The Auto Workers, largest of the AFL-CIO's 128 unions, pays about $1 million a year into its treasury.

Meany previously ignored most of Reuther's actions. But there are new elements in the deepening split between the two.

They are also now moving apart on presidential politics and the impending Poor People's Campaign in the nation's capital.

The 60-year-old Reuther, re-elected Tuesday to a 12th term as UAW president, is officially keeping the Auto Workers neutral in the fight for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he is reliably reported leaning toward Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York.

Reuther has endorsed the Poor Peoples' Campaign. Meany, while taking no official position, is reportedly cool to the idea of thousands of marchers besieging government buildings in Washington.

GM Exec Hafstad Cited for Atomic Contribution

A Bloomfield Hills man has been cited by the Atomic Energy Commission as making an outstanding contribution to the nation's atomic energy program.

Cited by the commission was Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, 64, of 191 Marblehead, who is chairman of the commission's General Advisory Committee.

The award was announced yesterday in Washington, D.C., where Dr. Hafstad is presiding at a session of the advisory committee.

Honored along with Dr. Hafstad, who is vice president in charge of research laboratories for General Motors Corp., was Murray Josling of Elmwood Park,

CITES PLEASURE

"I am very pleased," commented Dr. Hafstad. "I'm particularly pleased to be honored with an associate (Joslin) with whom I worked years ago.

The AEC credited the Bloomfield Hills scientist with having "brought private industry into the reactor field in 1951."

Dr. Hafstad explained that just after World War II reactors were only in the research stage and the problem was to get practical demonstration.

He said this was accomplished through construction of the privately financed Dresden nuclear power station, the world's first such plant.

NAMED BY JFK

A physicist, Dr. Hafstad was appointed to the advisory committee in 1962 by President Kennedy.

In 1966, the GM executive was awarded the Charles F. Kettering Award, which is given annually by the Patent, Trademark and Copyright Institute of George Washington University.

The latest citation and symbolic medallion will be presented at a ceremony at the AEC's Argonne Laboratory near Chicago on July 10.

DR. LAWRENCE R. HAFSTAD

Parking Mall to Open May 20

The planned parking mall on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence will open May 20, Director of Public Works and Service Joseph E. Neipling told city commissioners last night.

He said equipment for installation of gates at each end and decorative planter boxes and an attendant's hut will be delivered by May 15.

Plans call for North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence to be closed to through traffic during shopping hours and the street to be used solely for parking. Fees for the parking have not yet been determined.

In other business, the commission authorized the city staff to proceed with a program to work with the State Highway Department on traffic control on Huron between East and West Wide Tracks.

The state department notified the city that it has begun acquisition of property for widening of East Huron between Mill and East Wide Track.

Neipling said that during the week of May 27 parking meters will be removed from Huron between the Wide Tracks, parking will be prohibited and the street will be made into a five-lane artery with one lane for left turns only.

Commissioners voted to have administrators urge the State Highway Department to retain parking on the south side of West Huron between Wayne and West Wide Track.

Rescue Drive Continues as Wives Talk to Miners

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — The wives of two miners trapped by water for two days in a southeastern West Virginia coal mine talked to their husbands early today by radio-telephone.

Joy reigned in a virtual tent city near this small mountain town as wives and relatives heard that Mrs. Elwood O'Dell and Mrs. Ottie Junior Walton had talked to their husbands by a radio-telephone lowered 437 feet down a vertical airshaft drilled overnight.

"They are all rooting for you," Mrs. O'Dell hollered to her husband, one of 13 miners trapped by a flooded passageway about a mile inside the mine. "Are you cold? How's your head and nose?" she inquired.

Mrs. Walton asked her husband whether he was "keeping warm and dry." Both men reported they were in good condition and anxiously awaiting rescue.

FATE OF 10 UNKNOWN

Meanwhile, the fate of 10 other miners farther back in the mine remained unknown. They have not been heard from since tons of water poured into the mine Monday from an abandoned mine during drilling operations.

Rescue officials had said Tuesday night they hoped the water levelin the mine would recede enough this morning to allow the men closest to the entrance to scamper out. However, all they would say early today was "we hope to have them out smetime Wednesday."

Ten giant pumps are sucking an estimated 3,200 gallons of water from the darkened mine each minute.

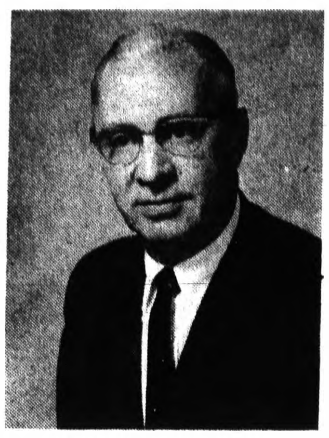
The horizontal passageway, only three feet high in places and descending gently for two miles, has been filled with water since the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine burst.



RAYMOND E. HOFFMANN

Ex-School Exec in OCC Race

Hoffmann, who headed the Dublin School District Board of Education in White Lake Township before it was dissolved last year, is out to change all that.

He is one of 12 candidates running for three seats on the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees. The election is June 10.

The 58-year-old candidate, who lives at 1267 Grove Pointe, served on the Dublin board for 10 years, the last two as president.

SALES MANAGER

Hoffmann is district sales manager of the Textron division of the Aetna Bearing Co. in Detroit. He has been with the company eight years.

His statement:

"The ability to communicate at any level is a matter of education. One has but to read the news to recognize how sadly lacking our society is in this capability.

"Oakland Community College through its advanced teaching methods has the opportunity to educate our young people to fill the demands of our society.

"It is up to us to see that those who have any capability are encourage to reach their goals. We must work to provide the facility and the curricula to meet these ends."

Move to Restore Elks Bowling License Fails

A move to reinstate a bowling alley license for the Pontiac Elks Lodge 810 at 114 Orchard Lake, was disapproved by the Pontiac City Commission last night.

The commission voted 6-1 against District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin's motion to reinstate the license.

The license — up for renewal at last week's City Commission meeting — was not reissued by the commission after a member of the city planning commission, John L. Crump Sr. of 194 Wesson, complained of a discriminatory act at the club.

Several commissioners indicated they would not vote to reissue the license until the club issues a public apology.

LETTER TO CRUMP

Irwin, a member of the club, said that the Elks Club deplored the treatment of Crump. A letter from the club's Exalted Ruler Clement Berden and Secretary Walter A. Giddings was read at the meeting.

Addressed to Crump, the letter said it was not the Elks' policy to discriminate in any way and that the alleged discriminatory barring of Crump from the club bar was "the irresponsible act of one of our employes."

The officers said the employe had been reprimanded.

Crump last week told the commission he had been attending a planning commission meeting in one of the Elks' meeting rooms when he and two or three other persons had been invited to the bar by a club member.

The employe admitted the other persons (white) but declined to allow Crump to enter as a guest, Crump said.

Olympic Athlete Wright Will Be Speaker Tuesday

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Lorenzo Wright, educator and former Olympic athlete, will be the guest speaker at the second "Focus Summer Hope" meeting, to be held in this city Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

The program, a series of three meetings set for the auditorium of St. Hugo of the Hills Elementary School, 380 E. Hickory Grove, is a human relations project of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, and is aimed at providing a broader understanding of urban problems.

Wright, who was a member of the winning United States 400-meter relay team in the 1948 Olympic Games in London, will speak on the New Detroit Committee report, released last month.

Wright has worked with the committee, and was assigned in 1967 to its youth recreation and cultural affairs task force.

TEACHES IN DETROIT

He received the bachelor of science and master of arts degrees from Wayne State University, and is presently a teacher in the Detroit public school system.

In 1961 Wright was granted a leave from his teaching duties to lecture at the University of Nigeria on health and physical education. While there, he coached the university track team, conducted a track and field clinic for Eastern Nigeria, and designed an Olympic-sized swimming pool for the university.

An open discussion by a panel on urban affairs is planned for the last of the "Focus Summer Hope" programs, scheduled for May 21. All meetings are open to the public.

The appointment of Robert Matson to the newly-created position of director of public affairs at Cranbrook has been announced by Edward H. Lerchen, executive director of the Cranbrook Foundation.

Matson will direct and coordinate an expanded program of public relations and communications by the foundation and the six Cranbrook institutions. His appointment is effective July 1.

Matson has been director of development at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., since 1957. He has also served in public relations positions with Republic Steel Corp., Cleveland, O., and the General Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, O.

A graduate of Kent (O.) State University, he is a member of Sigma Delta Chi and the American Alumni Council.

Michigan CWA to Take a New Vote on Pact

LANSING (AP) — Michigan members of the Communications Workers of America will have another go this week at ratifying new contracts with Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Western Electric Corp.

Representatives of the CWA met in Lansing Tuesday and agreed to extend the ratification period on the contract offer until Sunday, May 19. The agreement was ratified nationally but rejected in the state last Saturday.

The pact would provide wage increases of $11 to $24 a week spread over a three-year period.

All CWA locals in the state will take new ratification votes.

PICKETS WITHDRAWN

Pickets had kept the building from being entered by other CWA employes since Monday even though the Pontiac Local 4012 had ratified their contract.

Across the country, 23,000 Western Electric installers will also take a new vote on the contract. The installers, also CWA members, ratified the contract last Sunday but it was charged that there were irregularities in the election.

State CWA Director William Shelton said after Tuesday's meeting that he expected picketing to end at all Michigan Bell facilities today.

However, Leonard Florkey, strike director of Local 4000 in Detroit, with 5,300 members, the state's largest CWA unit, said a new ratification meeting is scheduled for Thursday in Detroit.

Florkey indicated that picketlines would remain up pending results of that meeting.

The state CWA and Michigan Bell agreed that if the contract is ratified by Sunday, it will bear an effective date of May 1 and all pay increases will be retroactive to April 3.

But Enemy Fights On

Saigon Battle Kills 2,002 Reds

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 2,002 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed in the past three days of heavy fighting in and around Saigon. But despite heavy losses, the enemy battled on for the fourth day in streets on the capital's western edge.

In comparison with the 2,002 enemy killed, the U.S. Command said allied casualties in the first three days of the new wave of attacks on Saigon totaled 211 killed and 931 wounded —30 Americans killed and 323 wounded, 181 South Vietnamese killed and 608 wounded.

'THREAT NOT DEVELOPING

"There isn't much going on today," a senior U.S. officer said. "The key is whether the enemy will be able to reinforce and they don't seem to be able to. as far as the major threat from the west, it doesn't seem to be developing. It looks as if it is petering out, but it's a little early to say officially.

"They haven't brought the forces to bear. Captured documents and prisoners were talking in terms of a 10,000-man attack. I have no firm figures, but it is much, much, much less. Unless they do something quickly, they're not going to make anything out of this."

Refugees from the western section said the Viet Cong were digging bunkers in the rubble of burned-out homes, apparently determined to hold out to the end.

Board Certifies School Tax Vote

The Waterford Township School District's board of canvassers last night certified the results of Monday's election in which voters passed a proposition of renewal of the system's 15-mill taxing authority for operation.

The tally showed that 6,089 voters cast ballots with 4,472 voting yes and 1,539 no. There were 78 void ballots.

The tax was renewed for a 15-year period through 1983.

Heart Recipient Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — One of the three men who underwent heart transplants within five days of each other died today.

A St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital announcement said James B. Cobb, Alexandria, La., died eight hours after unexpected complications developed.

"The transplanted heart was not rejected and functioned well until the unforseen complications occurred," the announcement said.

Racial Forum Asks for Help

Interest in the task force has lagged in recent weeks, according to its chairman, Edward E. Barker Jr.

The task force was formed to act as an important link between Pontiac area citizens and local government. It is supposed to hear racial and any other community relations problems from individual citizens, neighborhood leaders and leaders of community organizations.

The task force then recommends solutions for these problems to the PAPC.

TOO FEW PEOPLE

The problem to date is that too few people have arranged to appear before the task force with problems.

Persons interested in appearing before the task force, or furnishing written information to task force members, should address their requests to Task Force, P.O. Box 864, Pontiac, Mich.

Officials at Pontiac Mall Cite Safety Precautions

Despite recent abductions reported at Pontiac Mall, major crime in the parking lot of the huge shopping center is very infrequent, according to Mall officials.

Robert Doran, chief of the Pontiac Mall security police, said except for stolen hubcaps, thefts from automobiles and minor accidents, incidents in the parking lot are infrequent.

"We stop all suspicious people in the lot," said Doran.

Gordon Beckman, president of the Pontiac Mall Merchants Association, said the parking lot is patrolled six days a week and that daylight illumination is provided at night.

THREE ON DUTY

Doran said three patolmen are on duty inisde the Telegraph-Elizabeth Lake Road shopping center most of the time and that other security guards are hired by individual firms.

"We have ordered new radio equipment which we think will help," Doran said.

Mrs. Ruth McCarthy' Mall resident manager, offered these comments:

"Shopping centers are more subject to these things naturally because this is where the action is. Where else is there an accumulation of activity as there is here?"

SEEK IMPROVEMENT

Beckman added that "Over a six-year period hundreds of thousands of customers have used our parking lots without incident and in complete safety, and we are constantly investigating new and better ways to protect our customers' comfort and safety.

"Unfortunately," said Beckman, "because of conditions existing in our society today, violence erupts in many unexpected places and under conditions often unexplainable.

"We deeply regret any such incidents on our property, but feel that the positive side of our continuing efforts to protect our customers and promote our community should be pointed out."

9th, 11th, 12th Heart Recipients Do Well; Death Issue Raised

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The world's 9th, 11th and 12th heart transplant patients, whose operations took place within five days, were in satisfactory condition today, St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital said.

The latest heart recipient, J. M. Stuckwish, 62, of Alpine, Tex., was either "dead or dying" when the heart of a 36-year-old man was implanted in his chest Tuesday, a hospital official said.

The heart of Clarence A. Nicks of Houston, Tex., who was beaten in a tavern April 23, was transplanted in Stuckwish's chest in 30 minutes.

Everett Claire Thomas, 47, of Phoenix, Ariz., stood up for the first time since he received a new heart Friday. Thomas ate his first soft food at lunch—a broiled egg, toast and orange juice.

2ND MAN SITS UP

A hospital spokesman said James B. Cobb, 48, of Alexandria, La., was elevated in bed and was breathing unassisted. Cobb received the heart of a 15-year-old boy Sunday night.

The question of when the donor was medically and legally dead arose as Dr. Denton A. Cooley prepared to lead the surgical team in the Stuckwish operation.

Harris County Medical Examiner Joseph Jachimczyk said Nicks was pronounced dead at 10:30 a.m. by Dr. Pedro Caram of St. Luke's Hospital.

Caram said an electroencephalograph showed absence of any brain waves. A respirator was used to keep the donor's heart viable before it ceased to function at 1:58 p.m., a hospital spokesman said.

The implant to Stuckwish began six minutes later.

Cooley called about noon and asked permission to proceed with the operation, Dr. Jachimczyk said.

"I couldn't give legal approval, but I told him I would neither file nor press charges," the medical examiner said.

"I suppose I gave him my tacit approval," Jachimczyk said.

He could not give his legal approval because an autopsy had not been performed, Jachimczyk said.

"A patient is legally dead when a doctor pronounces him dead," he said. "My position is that as long as we operate within the existing statutes, everything is fine. I did caution that this was a homicide suspect case."

Jachimczyk said the autopsy on Nicks, co-owner of a welding shop, will probably show that brain injuries caused the death.

Newell E. France, hospital administrator, said Stuckwish was taken to surgery in an "absolute emergency situation."

"Actually the brain waves were not recordable during this procedure," France said. "So, in fact he was either dead or dying."

The donor's wife, Margie, who signed consent papers before the operation, said Nicks recently told her that if anything happened to him he would want his heart to be used to save someone's life.

Stuckwish, administrator of the Brewster County Memorial Hospital at Alpine, had suffered many heart attacks, a spokesman said. The primary problem was coronary artery disease, which clogged the arteries carrying blood to his heart muscle.

Kalamazoo Sets School Tax Vote

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Kalamazoo City School District seeks voter approval of a 2.5-mill tax levy to provide an extra $903,000 operating fund.

The levy, to be voted June 10, has been cut from a 3.5-mill proposal defeated April 22.

Seventy per cent of the $7 million of U.S. paper money printed each day is in $1 bills.

'Nightmare,' Says PNH Coach

Unearned Runs Decide I-L Contests

Pontiac Northern baseball coach Arnie Wilson called it a "nightmare."

Livonia Stevenson's Spartans said "Thank you," and Walled Lake's Vikings had similar words for Waterford as unearned runs were the determining factor in yesterday's Inter-Lakes League games.

PNH committed 11 errors and lost, 5-1, to Stevenson. All runs scored by the league-leading Spartans were unearned.

Walled Lake made three unearned runs in the first inning stand up for a 3-1 decision over Waterford. The Vikings (3-1) take on Stevenson at Walled Lake Friday in a game that could decide the championship.

O-A CONTEST

Utica ran its Oakland A record to 4-0 by downing Rochester, 3-2.

"I've never seen a senior ball club such as ours make so many errors in one game," said Wilson. The loss was Northern's second in I-L play. The Huskies have won one.

TWO OUTS

In the last of the first, Tom Johnson doubled and the next batter was safe on an error. Waterford hurler Roger Kennedy got the next two batters and faced Billy Welsh with runners on second and third.

The third baseman booted Welsh's grounder and two runs scored. Welsh stole second and third and scored on a balk. Dennis Alvis produced Waterford's only tally with a homer in the third.

The Skippers are 1-3 going into the second round of league play.

A two-run homer by Grant Cramick in the fifth inning gave Utica the deciding runs. Rochester, now 3-2 in the league, rallied for two in the top of seventh when Les Littlejohn and Mike Skally doubled and Stan Babiuk singled.

Utica pitcher Grodon Schwartz ended the game by striking out the next two Falcons. Schwartz wiffed 12 and walked two.

Two Home Runs Trigger Victory

Herb Brietzki drilled two home runs, one with the bases loaded, last night to lead Williams Research past Haggerty Lumber, 14-6, in the Walled Lake Industrial Softball League.

Lahser Downs Rival

Turbine Car Hits Wall

Indy Crash Fatal to Driver

Spence, 31, of Maidenhead, England, was injured in a practice run for the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30 and died in a hospital 4½ hours after the crash.

He was a member of the Lotus team which drives cars built by Colin Chapman of England. Spence was driving a car assigned to another driver when it slammed into the wall on the Speedway's No. 1 turn. He suffered multiple head injuries and never regained consciousness.

Walter Myers, Speedway chief observer, witnessed the crash. He said Spence was driving higher and higher on the track each time he neared the first turn.

LOOSE SAND

He said just before the crash the car went above the normal groove into loose sand and other material that accumulates outside the normal running surfaces.

Harlan Fengler, chief steward for the 500-mile race, impounded the death car and the three other Lotus turbines entered for the race.

Meanwhile, Carroll Shelby of Los Angeles, international auto racer and builder, withdrew his three turbine-powered cars from the 500. Shelby said he feels it is impossible at present to make a turbine-powered race car competitive "with a reasonable degree of safety and reliability."

A few hours before the crash, Spence ran the second fastest lap in the Speedway's history—169.555 miles an hour.

He was the 34th driver killed at the 59-year-old Speedway and the second Lotus team member killed this year. Jim Clark of Scotland was killed April 7 in a crash at Hockenheim, Germany.

Spence was a veteran of 10 years of Grand Prix driving but he had only one Grand Prix victory to his credit. He won the South African Grand Prix in 1966.

Spence also finished first in the B.O.A.C. International 500-mile race at Brands Hatch, England, in 1967.

Record Payoff for Wolverine

Adios Rip, an eight-year-old pacer, making his first start of the season, won for the first time in two years Tuesday at Wolverine Raceway and shocked a crowd of 4,997 with the biggest win payoff in history.

With Cliff Kent in the sluky, Adios Rip took the lead at the end of the quarter and just did hang on to hold off the fast-closing Knight Dew at the wire, for the victory. He went off at better than 88-1 odds and paid $179.00 for a $2 win ticket.

That bettered the previous all-time high of $175.40 set on June 2, 1966 when Song Cycle won the first heat of the Motor City pace.

Adios Rip had gone through the 1967 season without a victory in 28 starts although he was second on seven occasion and finished third five times

There was quite a difference in the payoff from win to show with Adios Rip paying $179, $47, and $8 across the board.

Status of Candidates Puts State Ad Board in Dither

LANSING (AP) — When is a presidential candidate not a presidential candidate: When he comes to town on official business.

Or isn't he?

The State Administrative Board faced the question briefly Tuesday, after noting that both Vice President Hubert Humphrey and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon plan appearances in Lansing next month.

Secretary of State James Hare urged the board to set a governmentwide policy on whether state employes should be given time off to hear the visitors speak or whether they should be required to dip into accumulated leave time.

Hare said he made his employes use leave time when Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., made a Lansing appearance April 11. He added he got himself in trouble with the employes, who said other departments were more lenient.

A POLITICAL YEAR

Gov. George Romney inquired whether Humphrey was officially to appear as Vice President or as a Democratic candidate campaigning for the presidential nomination.

Hare said he understood the visit was to be official, "But, after all, this is a political year and I don't know how you can separate the two."

"Well, I can speak from experience," shot back Romney, a Republican presidential candidate until his withdrawal Feb. 29, "You can keep them separate. I did with mine."

Romney added: "I don't think state departments should release state employes to go to political meetings when candidates come to Lansing.

PROBING BRIDGE TRAGEDY — Witnesses attending the U.S. Department of Transportation board hearing yesterday into the Silver Bridge disaster view a scale model of the former Ohio River bridge. The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads constructed an exact replica of the bridge, which collapsed last December, killing 46 persons.

Strong Gun Controls Asked in Crime Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was asked yesterday to include the strongest gun control measures—including a national firearms registration—in the administration's crime bill. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted such provisions would be weakened, not tightened.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., asked that senators "not be misled or cajoled by the scores of thousands of letters and telegrams which a powerful and highly organized lobby is at present inundating Washington." He asked for the "strictest possible" controls.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., proposing nationwide gun registration, said it was time to count the "vast stock" of weapons in the hands of citizens.

He said he would offer his proposal as an amendment to the firearms control section of the crime bill now being considered by the Senate.

CRITICAL OF NRA

Dodd mentioned no names, but in the past he has criticized the National Rifle Association for opposing administration gun control proposals in favor of less restrictive ones offered by Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb.

Dodd asked the Senate to include rifles and shotguns in the bill's prohibition of mail order sales, now limited to hand guns.

Brooke said guns "should not be traded without restraint." In a senate speech, he said "they constitute a hazard for which a prudent society should make some provision."

Dirksen said Hruska had enough votes to permit even mail order hand gun sales under a provision that local police would be given a chance to veto such sales to criminals, alcoholics or narcotics addicts.

'WOULD REDUCE DANGER'

Brooke contended that gun registration did not infringe on a citizen's rights to own firearms but would "serve the vital goal of reducing the collateral dangers in a nation which has clearly reserved the right of citizens to own weapons."

College Building Held

Students Ready to Surrender

CHEYNEY, Pa. (AP) — Cheyney State College students said they were ready to surrender today the school's administration building as soon as state investigators arrive for hearings on their grievances.

An end to the student demonstration was indicated Tuesday night after David. H. Kurtzman, state superintendent of public instruction, had met most of the day with committees of the protesting students, of the faculty and of parents.

Kurtzman said he had promised the students and their parents that state officials would be on the campus to go over student financial accounts, to check courses in the curriculum and to determine whether complaints that some subjects are not offered frequently enough to permit graduation within fo ur years are valid.

SEIZE BUILDING

The demonstration was touched off by student demands for "better curriculum, a better faculty and a better system of finances" at this predominantly Negro institution 25 miles south of Philadelphia.

A Look at TV

Indiana: Just Practice?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Over the years the television networks have learned their lessons well, and today can handle any election efficiently.

But during the preliminaries to the presidential campaigns, they all seem to handle the state primaries like practice sessions.

The Tuesday Indiana primary was a case in point. It seemed to turn out pretty much the way the advance predictions indicated. But all three networks had their sights on the state balloting and their experts put the totals under the microscope.

NBC preempted the early evening "Jerry Lewis Show" for an hour-long special program. It made the voting seem very important, but it was unable to come up with anything much that was fresh and exciting beyond the changing totals as the votes were counted.

SHORTER WRAP-UP

CBS came along an hour or so later with a shorter wrap-up of the primary battle that covered the same ground but in a more economical style. It devoted the second half of its Tuesday night news hour to a once-over-lightly treatment of the unfortunate plight of many American Indians. The Indians subject deserved a deeper treatment, but the show consisted of material salvaged from a daytime news feature show.

ABC handled the election in a late evening program when the results were established.

That network, which seems to be having problems finding its niche in news coverage, is about to overhaul—again—its early evening news show. On May 27 Frank Reynolds will take over the principal role in the program.

Bob Young, who replaced Peter Jennings at the first of the year, will be reassigned to the network's New York news bureau. Reynolds moves into the network's top news spot after three years as its White House correspondent.

Jennings, a young Canadian newsman, was picked for the news job when ABC was attempting to attract younger viewers to its assorted programs, from soap operas to action shows. He left the show, the network said, because he wanted to get back into the field.

CBS, which spent a reported $250,000 on a special program showing Vladimir Horowitz in piano recital at Carnegie Hall last winter, plans to broadcast the show next Sept. 2.

Recommended tonight: "Best on Record," NBC, 9-10, EDT, performances by winners of the Grammy Awards of the recording industry with stars Bobbie Gentry, Glen Campbell, Lou Rawls and even Sen. Everett Dirksen.

U.S. Will Rest in Miriani Case

DETROIT (AP)—The federal government today is expected to complete its case against former Detroit Mayor Louis Miriani, charged with tax evasion from 1959 through 1962.

The government charges that Miriani, now a Detroit councilman, understated his income during that period by $261,100 and owes additional taxes of approximately $154,000.

About 160 witnesses have been called by the prosecution which has submitted nearly 200 statements and documents in evidence.

Record Try Fails ---Law Takes Ball

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Students from George Fox College in Newberg, Ore., had a run-in with the law Tuesday, but it was nothing like some of the recent student-police confrontations.

The students were trying to break the ball-bouncing record. They had to stop after 73½ hours when a policeman at a Portland shopping center took their ball away.

MacRae Daughter's Birth Steals Earl's Birthday Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There was a surprise party for me — attended, naturally, by the most beloved people in town — and one of them, singer Gordon MacRae, announced: "I'm celebrating a birthday, too."

"Yours?" I asked . . . "No, my new baby daughter's!" With a shine in his eyes and a swing to his shoulders, he revealed that his bride Liz Schrafft has given birth at 10:17 a.m. at Doctor's Hospital. When the new mother was having her difficulties, Gordon, a father four times previously, phoned Cindy and Joey Adams for some comfort from Bible-reading. The mother is now feeling almost as colossal as the father, and the baby will be named Amanda Mercedes Elizabeth MacRae.

All the comedians are saying it: "Bob Hope's in NY. Came in to entertain the troops at Columbia University" . . . Marty Allen: "They want me in 'Hair' but I refuse to go nude" . . . Henny Youngman claims the 3 R's are now Reading, Riting and Rioting, and that his nephew, an A student, flunked out of school: couldn't pass Demonstrations . . . Harry Hershfield kidding Gov. Rockefeller's candidacy said: "You are like the actor who said, 'I just signed with MGM. Now I'm waiting for them to sign.'" Rocky said he would insert that in his own speech.

FDR once used a Hershfield joke: A drunk was warned by his doctor that drink was affecting his hearing and sight. Three months later he was still drinking. "But it's affecting your hearing and sight," said the doctor. The drunk replied, "What I've been drinking lately is so much better than what I've been seeing and hearing lately, so I decided to keep drinking."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Don Rickles got up at the Copa and told Louis Prima, "From the bottom of my heart, Louis, you made a fool of yourself" . . . Fred Brisson's here working toward his next play, "Flipside," about wife-swapping, which'll be as common a theme as hippies and spies . . . Secret Stuff: A famous actress got a divorce but is living with her ex-husband for family reasons . . . Joanna Petter, who's expecting, and Alex Cord, are due in from England . . . Tony Curtis and new bride were seeing NY from the Sherry-Netherland.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The optimist studies the candidates and hopes the best man will win. The pessimist figures the best man isn't even running.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The extent of some people's religion is that they know the name of the church they stay away from."

EARL'S PEARLS: Mike Forrest tells of the politician whose campaigning took him to a nudist camp. He picked up 50 votes and a nice tan.

Arlene Francis and Martin Gabel attended the opening of a Broadway show of doubtful promise. Gabel told Arlene, "I've improved our seat locations." "Oh?" said Arlene. "Which direction are we moving?" . . . That's earl, brother.
