HIS BIRTHDAY CAKE — President Eisenhower casts an admiring glance at a big square birthday cake, presented to him on the White House lawn just before his takeoff for Abilene, Kan. where he celebrated his 69th birthday this morning. Three miniature oak trees with real acorns — symbolizing three real trees which also were presented to him as a gift of the Republican National, Senatorial and Congressional Committees — adorn the cake. Abilene people also gave him birthday cakes. He will return today in time for some work in his office this afternoon, followed by a quiet family birthday dinner. The trip to Abilene was to break ground for the Eisenhower Library.

Ike Is Asked for More Time by Fact-Finders

Steelmen and Unions Declare They Will Not Alter Their Demands

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's inquiry board today asked an extension from Friday to Monday of the time for filing its report on the issues in the 92-day steel strike.

George W. Taylor, panel chairman, made the announcement as the three-man group wound up for the day its hearing of industry's side of the case. The industry is to resume its presentation tomorrow.

Taylor said the panel needs the extra time to assemble the voluminous testimony and exhibits and to prepare a report for Eisenhower.

Once the President receives the report he can order the Justice Department to seek a court injunction to halt the strike for 80 days.

Even as the panel continued its hearings, David J. McDonald, the union's president, made public a letter to all his 3,000 local unions saying that "without a decent contract, we will not return to work after the injunction ends."

This spelled out a union pledge to resume the strike — against which the government would have no further recourse — some time in January.

McDonald's letter also instructed the 500,000 strikers "not to return to work until ordered" to do so. The letter added: "We are in a fight for our lives and for the security and well being of future generations of working people."

Panel chairman Taylor told newsmen he expects the industry to complete presenting its side of the dispute tomorrow.

He asked both the industry and union to be available for consultation with the panel either separately or jointly at any time between now and Monday.

Taylor said he expected to bring industry and union repre-

ELECTED AGAIN — UAW President Walter Reuther is borne on the shoulders of his supporters following his re-election in Atlantic City, N.J., Tuesday as head of the giant union. Reuther is 52 and this is an eighth term of two years for him. He was first elected president of the UAW in 1946.

UAW Elects Reuther President 8th Time

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Auto Workers convention has given Walter P. Reuther firm control of the 1,200,000-member union for another two years.

Amid the hoopla and trappings of a major party political convention, the 2,500 delegates re-elected Reuther by acclamation Tuesday.

Re-elected with him were all his top officers and executive board members.

Nomination of Reuther, 52, for an eighth term set delegates marching through the auditorium carrying placards reading "win with Reuther."

They popped balloons shot off toy flares, fired cap pistols, rang bells, sounded sirens and sang their union song "Solidarity Forever."

Then they crowded onto the platform to shake hands with their leader.

All other candidates nominated for top offices withdrew to make the elections unanimous.

Some of the Negro delegates, however, served notice they would insist on election of a Negro to the executive board next time.

Willoughby Abner of Chicago and Robert Battle III of Detroit were offered as Negro candidates for a vice presidency. Both withdrew.

In nominating Abner, delegate Horace Sheffield of Detroit said Negroes are sick and tired of being told to wait until they have a qualified candidate for a high-level office.

"It is not necessary to be a Rhodes scholar to sit on the executive board," he said.

In withdrawing as a candidate, Battle said he was prompted by Reuther's promise "that progress will be made in the near future to put a Negro on the board."

The UAW has several hundred thousand Negro members.

Reuther first was elected president of the UAW in 1946.

Takes Oakland Prosecutor Job in Six Weeks

Present Official Leaves Dec. 1; County Position Carries $13,500 Pay

George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor since 1953, today was named to succeed Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty, H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer and Theodore F. Hughes announced the appointment, effective Dec. 1.

At the same time, in a statement issued by presiding Judge Beer, the five judges made Ziem's Dec. 1 resignation date official.

"George has done an excellent job as my chief assistant," said Ziem. "I'm sure he'll do as good a job as prosecutor."

The four-term Republican prosecutor is stepping down preliminary to becoming circuit judge Jan. 1.

The elevation of Taylor to the $13,500-a-year post came as a surprise to few. He had been rumored as top contender to succeed his boss since Ziem was elected judge in April.

In hearing of his elevation, Taylor said: "Oakland County, under my supervision, will continue to enjoy clean and honest law enforcement."

Taylor's story is one of a man who proved he was not too old to accomplish a new goal in life, even when it meant starting all over again. Taylor didn't get into the law profession until he was 50.

FACES 1960 ELECTION

Taylor, 63, lives with his wife of 41 years, Laurel, at 6310 Franklin Rd., Bloomfield Township.

His appointment will be in effect until November of next year when a countywide election will be held to fill the office. Taylor said he will be a candidate then on the Republican ticket.

His appointment was made by three Republican judges (Doty, Holland and Hughes) and two Democrats (Adams and Beer), although judges are elected on a nonpartisan basis.

Van Doren Sets Subpoena Time

Attorney and Marshal Get Together to Serve TV Quiz Summons

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK—A U.S. marshal awaited only a telephone call today to complete arrangements for serving a subpoena on Charles Van Doren to testify in a congressional probe into fixed TV quiz shows.

Marshal Thomas J. Lunney told newsmen the $129,000 quiz winner's attorney, Carl J. Rubino, had promised to arrange a time and place for serving the document.

Lunney said he personally would serve the subpoena, calling upon Van Doren to testify Nov. 2. Subpoenas ordinarily are served by deputies.

Van Doren shipped back into New York yesterday and announced through his attorney he was ready to answer the $129,000 question—Was he coached when he hit the jackpot on the "21" show?

The attorney, Carl J. Rubino, denied accusations that Van Doren had evaded service of the subpoena. He claimed the popular television personality had no knowledge that a subpoena had been issued for him.

Rubino said Van Doren had been in seclusion at the Cornwall, Conn. home of his father, Mark Van Doren, a Pulitzer Prize winning poet, because he "was distressed by the congressional inquiry."

It was disclosed that Van Doren spent part of last weekend in Deerfield, Mass., where he signed autographs and chatted with admirers. Police Chief James F. Rosenthal said he had not known anyone was looking for Van Doren and no one apparently asked him about the subpoena.

Harris, however, stuck by his charge that Van Doren evaded service. He said Rubino had been notified Saturday that a subpoena had been issued.

Sellers Confused by Use Tax Order

LANSING (AP)—Controversy over the workability of the state's new use (sales) tax law swirled anew in the Capitol today.

Meanwhile, tension grew over expected word from the State Supreme Court on whether the 120 million dollar tax increase meets constitutional standards. A decision is due any day now.

Confusion seemed in order whether the court knocks out the law, throwing the state into a financial tailspin, or whether the act is upheld.

The State Revenue Department, which administers the tax, yesterday cautioned merchants to keep separate tab on use and sales tax pennies they collect.

Some obviously haven't been doing so, said Deputy Commissioner Clarence W. Lock, and it is now showing up in returns filed with the department — the first required since the use tax increase went into effect Sept. 1.

But Otis F. Cook, executive vice president of the Michigan Retailers Assn., said it is "practically impossible" to collect and account for the two levies separately.

"Blending (the three cents sales tax and the one per cent use tax increase) comes out mathematically at four per cent and is fair to the customer," Cook told newsmen.

Although the average housewife doesn't realize it, she is paying two distinct taxes when the merchant charges her six cents tax on a $1.50 grocery purchase — four cents sales tax and two cents use tax.

The rub is illustrated by a $1.49 purchase when six cents is collected, as it is by merchants using the tax collection bracket system recommended by Cook's organization.

Under the law, the retailer has authority to collect only one penny use on this transaction. Does this mean that the other five cents is sales tax?

Actually, retailers take the same amount in tax on purchases down to $1.37.

And so if it is argued the five cents is all sales tax, the rate of tax figures out at up to 3.6 per cent, well above the three per cent provided by law.

The same principle applies on purchases in the 37 to 49 cents range where the new law specifically forbids the retailer to collect any use tax at all.

So while the Revenue Department declared yesterday "the seller cannot merge" collection of the two taxes, Cook said the only practicable answer was in doing just that.

Revenue Commissioner Louis M. Nims, who wrote the department's "clarifying" statement, raised the bugaboo of workability months ago while the use tax increase was before lawmakers.

Yes, Indeed! Says Fire Marshal Metz

Are Heaters Dangerous?

The tragic fire which took the lives of a young Pontiac mother and her three children yesterday left Fire Department officials worrying over a momentous question:

Could there be a repeat of the disaster?

Unfortunately, their answer is yes.

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said the space heater which caused the blaze at the home of the Cecil Goines family was "dangerous" and had been outlawed in several communities.

"I've seen several persons who used this type of heater badly burned—and I've had plenty of experience at fires," commented Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White.

Yet, both men noted, the same type of space heater is on the market in Pontiac. Its sale here is legal. It is used in uncounted Pontiac homes.

White announced that a study would be made concerning possible control of the types of heaters sold in Pontiac.

In the meantime, with cold weather approaching, Fire Department officials advised residents not to buy portable heating devices which are not connected to chimneys.

Metz suggested that purchasers of heaters buy electric devices.

If fuel burners are purchased, Metz said, the consumer should make sure that the fuel tank is an integral part of the heating device.

Metz stressed these points:

1. Most portable fuel heaters are dangerous. Get rid of them as soon as possible.

2. Make sure you know what fuel you are using in the heater.

3. Keep space heaters away from where they may be tipped over and from combustible areas.

4. If you must use a fuel heater, fill the tank outdoors.

Thirsty Burglar Goes Back for More Beer

Pontiac police today were looking for a fast drinking burglar.

Patrolman Raymond Dickinson discovered someone had broken into the Pfeiffer Oakland Distributors, 938 Featherstone Rd., at 2:40 this morning through a garage door panel. Missing were several cases of beer.

At 5 a.m., Patrolman Billy L. Hargraves noticed a broken window on the same building. The burglar evidently returned for several more cases of beer, police believe.

No money was taken.

Milford Woman Dies After Car Accident

A 24-year-old Milford woman died last night in Pontiac General Hospital as the result of injuries received when her car smashed into a tree near Wixom about two hours earlier.

Wixom Police Lt. D'Arcy Young said Sharon Julian of 1355 Moore Rd., Milford, may have lost control of her car when distracted by a dog she had with her.

The car traveled 200 feet in the opposite lane, smashed into a tree and careened back across the road to hit another tree before coming to a stop, said Young.

The accident occurred at 8 p.m. on Pontiac trail about a mile east of the village limits.

The dog, a large collie, is still missing. The victim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Julian, said she had it with her when she left.

Summerfield Hits Blocking of State P.O. Appointments

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield charges Michigan's U.S. senators are putting a crimp in civil service.

The Post Office Department chief was in Detroit yesterday for a press conference kick-off of the four-day "Postal Parade of Progress" exhibition at the former downtown National Bank of Detroit building.

In a personal interview, Summerfield based his accusations on Democrat Sen. Patrick V. McNamara's refusal to confirm the appointment of 30 Republican postmasters in Michigan.

Senator Philip A. Hart has said he is content to let McNamara deal with the appointments.

Among the 30 awaiting confirmation is Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster of Pontiac, who received Summerfield's recommendation in January.

"McNamara's actions are unfair to these men and their families," said Summerfield. "Fair play is not being followed and it is a blow to incentive, endangering the effectiveness of civil service.

Summerfield said also that Hart should think for himself.

"Hart says anything that is all-right with McNamara is allright with him. I think Hart should be a senator in his own right."

'MILLER CAPABLE MAN'

"I can't say whether Bob Miller's chances of confirmation will be hopeful by the next session of Congress," said Summerfield.

"Bob Miller has proven himself. He is a very capable man. The rest is up to McNamara and Hart.

"I can only hope that by January sanity and fair play will rule."

An observer explained the tactic as a stall until, and if, the Democrats take over the White House administration, and then can install their own nominees to the postmaster positions.

McNamara has said the Republicans would engage in the same political game if the shoe were on the other foot.

Summerfield refuted the statement.

'ALWAYS DEALT FAIRLY'

"I have always dealt fairly," he said. "I cleaned house when I took office, but I did not replace a good postmaster, whether he was Democrat or Republican, for political reasons.

"I discharged postmasters for reasons of incompetence and embezzlement."

Keys Are Inside for Miracle Mile 'Sell-Abration'

The Miracle Mile Shopping Center today begins a four-day "sell-abration" commemorating its second anniversary.

Highlighting the special sales, display of 1960 automobiles, glass-blowing exhibition and other feature attractions is a treasure hunt gift bonus.

Keys to four treasure chests at Miracle Mile are attached to the shopping center supplement in today's Pontiac Press. Locks to the chest are changed daily and anyone over 18 years old is eligible to see if his key fits.

If the chest opens and the holder's key matches the one held by the attendant, a valuable gift inside goes to the winner. More than $1,000 in prizes is offered in the treasure chest hunt.

Sell-abration hours are 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. today and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday through Saturday.

Curfew Law Delayed as Students Get Say

By PETE LOCHBILER

Youth won a say-so last night as the City Commission held up action on the proposed curfew and asked for counsel from various adult groups.

More than 30 Pontiac Senior High School pupils who showed up at last night's meeting burst into cheers and good-natured laughter in response to a statement by 17-year-old Judy Canfarella, 65 Vinewood St.

"You'd better take us into consideration," she told commissioners, "because in a few years we'll be voting and if we don't like what you do, we'll vote you out."

Two other seniors spoke, complaining that young people were being kept in the dark about details of the proposed ordinance.

They were Clark Davis, 26 Rose Ct., and Richard Rogers, 180 Chippewa Rd., editor of the Tomahawk, the Pontiac Central school newspaper.

WILL SPEED COPY

They won assurances from Mayor Philip E. Rowston that the Tomahawk would be sent a copy of the curfew plan in time to be printed in full next week.

The mayor gave further assurances that Parent-Teacher-Student associations would be asked to consider the proposal, along with PTAs, teachers, school administrators and the municipal courts.

Commissioners voted to put off action on the curfew one month and asked City Manager Walter K. Willman to get sampling of opinion from the schools, parents and courts before then.

Before the Commission meeting, the youngsters had lots of criticism and nothing good to say about the plan to order all youngsters under 18 years of age off the streets by 11 p.m. or earlier, depending on age.

"Let them pass a law for the 15-year-old," said one 16-year-old senior. "We don't need it."

"I'm not against it or for it," said a 17-year-old. "But I question its workability."

Public Safety Director George D. Eastman recommended adoption of the curfew.

He noted, however, that the plan wouldn't succeed unless the courts backed it and "substantial discretion" was allowed the Police Department in its enforcement.

The curfew question was also submitted for consideration to the 70-member Citizens Advisory Committee in a move that later on contributed to a sharp clash within the Commission ranks.

Mercury to Linger in 50s This Week

High temperatures in the Pontiac area will continue in the upper 50s for the next five days, the Weather Bureau says.

The low will range from 37 - 41. Tonight's low is expected to be a cool 42.

Thursday will be somewhat warmer, the high reaching 58 with temperatures turning a little cooler Saturday. Monday will see another warming up period, said the weatherman.

Precipitation will total one-quarter inch or less in showers about Friday.

Winds light easterly at six miles an hour at 1:15 this afternoon will become southerly 8 to 15 miles tomorrow.

The lowest temperature reading before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 40 degrees. The thermometer registered 48 at 2 p.m.

Call Flushes Out Bookie

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police cased a suspected bookie establishment yesterday and decided it was too heavily barricaded to pull off a raid before evidence could be destroyed. So they telephoned the suspect, told him his place was about to be raided, and grabbed him as he ran out the door with a satchel full of betting notations.

Hold Services for 4 House Fire Victims

Pontiac fire inspectors questioned Cecial G. Goines from his hospital bed today as closed casket funeral services were to be held this afternoon for his wife and three children.

Goines told Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz that he splashed fuel against a hot space heater seconds before the explosion which turned his living room into a roaring inferno.

"This explains why the fuel vaporized quickly enough to create burnable fumes in the air," Metz said.

"We previously had suspected the fuel contained gasoline since kerosene can vaporize only when heated to an excess of 100 degrees."

Metz said the 29-year-old father told him "The fuel can was never used for gasoline as far as I knew. "We always used kerosene or oil in it," Goines said.

FUNERAL AT 2 P.M.

Goines' 24-year-old wife, Mildred, and their children, Marsha Jean, 4, Danny Lee, 2, and Pamela Sue, 5 months, died in the flash fire at their home at 317 Perry St. early Tuesday morning.

Services were to be held at Huntoon Funeral Home at 3 p.m. today with the Rev. Eldon Mudge, pastor of New Hope Bible Church, Independence Township, officiating.

The bodies will then be moved to Bigley and Eversole Funeral Home, Jackson, Ky.

The mother will be buried in her home town of Lawson, Ky., alongside her three children whose lives she tried to save, but in vain.

A silence hung over the Goines' neighborhood today.

Rapist May Get Life Sentence

Pontiac Ex-Convict Is Found Guilty by Jury on Two Charges

Two possible maximum terms of life in prison await a 20-year-old Pontiac ex-convict found guilty yesterday by a Circuit Court jury of kidnaping and raping an 18-year-old mother.

Judge Frank L. Doty announced he would sentence Harold E. Martin, of 739 E. Madison Ave., Nov. 2.

Eight men and four women filed back into Judge Doty's large courtroom at 1:50 yesterday afternoon after deliberating one hour and 15 minutes.

Martin didn't bat an eyelash as the jury foreman said he had been found guilty as charged on both counts. As the jurors stood in their places in front of the jury box, Martin was led from the courtroom by a sheriff's deputy.

After hearing the panel polled upon the request of Martin's attorney, Paul L. Mandel, Judge Doty told the jurors "your verdict is absolutely correct."

Among the few in the courtroom were the girl Martin was accused of raping in a Bloomfield Township woods April 15. She sat silently staring at the jury as the verdict was announced. Beside her was her husband of only a few months.

First Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long pieced together what happened on that night after Martin, paroled a week earlier from Ionia Reformatory, ran his stolen car into the rear of the girl's at block from her mother's home, 436 Midway Ave.

Long said Martin pulled the girl from her car and held her captive for about 10 hours until police found them in the township woods.

Taking the stand in his own defense, Martin said the girl went willingly with him, supposedly to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of a head wound inflicted in the crash.

He said they didn't get to the hospital after he told the girl he wouldn't be able to go in with her because he was on parole and afraid of being sent back to prison.

commissioners, it was decided that the advisory group should also be asked to consider the controversial proposal for a stronger Human Relations Commission, a plan pushed by Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

Voting against the move were Commissioners William W. Donaldson, Floyd P. Miles and Wesley J. Wood.

"How many problems are we going to pass on to this committee?" questioned Wood. "I think we are men enough to take this problem in hand ourselves."

It was noted that the 70-member citizens committee already has a long list of problems referred to it by the city, including the need for more sewage treatment facilities and a new source of water.

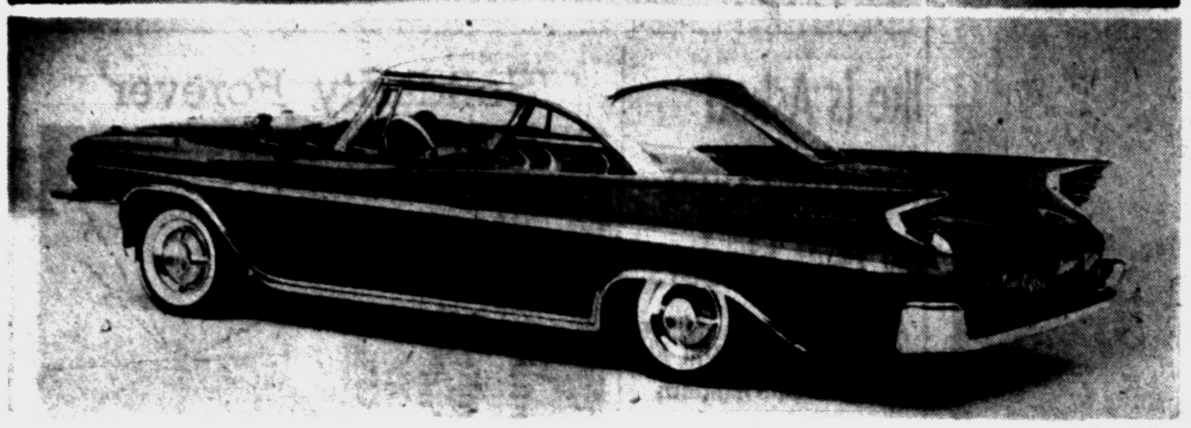

"I think that is sufficient agenda for the committee to work on at present," said Miles.

Donaldson wanted commissioners to discuss Henry's plan at an informal meeting.

Bold Styling Highlights '60 Models

DeSoto Features Stronger Body

Stronger body construction and bold styling keynote the DeSoto automobile for 1960, which was revealed today.

Three models in each of two series show a distinctive grill and a slanting treatment of the rear deck. The cars are of unitized construction, with the body welded to the chassis, rather than attached by bolts.

Electronic computers supplied answers to body vibration problems that would have taken until 2124 A. D. to work out by conventional methods. Answering over 500 questions, each question representing 300,000 individual calculations, these space age machines determined correct thickness in body materials to provide the quietest possible ride.

Newly-designed structural characteristics are such that engine vibration and road vibration cancel out each other.

Abetting the theme of strength, Ram induction, an optional engine package, heads a selection of four engines for 1960.

The Fireflite carries a standard Turboflash V-8 295 horsepower engine. Standard power plant on the Adventurer is a 305 horsepower V-8. Both the Turboflash and the Adventurer engines have two-barrel carburetion. A four-barrel option, the Adventurer Mark I 325 horsepower engine, is available in both series, as is the Ram Charge 330 horsepower engine.

A four-door sedan, a four-door hardtop, and a two-door hardtop are available in both the Fireflite and Adventurer series. As in the past, Sportsman is DeSoto's designation for its hardtops.

In body design, sculptured lines sweep back from the front end flare outward in a distinctive fin treatment.

DeSoto stylists have designed a four bank instrument panel with a raised, canopied speedometer that is easy to see without interfering with driver concentration. Other gauges are ranged just below the speedometer for the same convenience.

Lindemer Says in Birmingham:

GOP Will Stress Issues

Michigan Republicans will strive to "issue orient" voters in next year's elections so there won't be any question, as there was in 1958, about which party is telling the truth about the state's economic climate, GOP State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer said this last night.

He added that Republicans won't sit back and wait for George Romney's Citizens for Michigan Committee to uncover what's wrong with the state.

"This committee, which by its own definition is taking a nonpartisan approach, does not excuse a major responsible political party from keeping itself informed," Lindemer said.

The second-term state chairman came from Lansing to talk at the monthly meeting of the Oakland County Young Republicans Club held in Birmingham.

He praised the county organization as "being on the go all the time."

He told the younger generation of the county GOP that a study committee, an offshoot of a larger national committee, has been developed with the help of influential men and women from various fields "to help us project ourselves into the future."

He debunked some who said this was "aping" Romney's group.

The 38-year-old Stockbridge attorney told the 50 Young Republicans that issue orientation will prevent a recurrence of last year's campaign "which left voters wanting to know who was telling the truth."

He said 55 meetings have been scheduled as a kickoff for the 1960 campaign.

He referred to the recent Upjohn report in which, he said, a noted state economist "substantiated those things our Republicans said last year," namely, that Michigan had lost 180,000 jobs.

"So now the people have met in their own minds who was telling the truth," Lindemer said.

"Now the question is what to do about the situation.

"Since we won't buy the Democrats' syrupy solution, I ask that you lend us your brains and thoughts for 1960 and we'll be able to look back in November on a job well done," Lindemer said.

Blasts Adams Referee Role

Rep. Roberts Suggests He Stay Out of Row in Pulpwood Industry

An Oakland Republican state representative has urged that Democratic Atty Gen. Paul L. Adams keep hands off union-management problems of the Michigan pulpwood industry.

In a letter sent yesterday to Adams, Rep. Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield Township said:

"I wish to suggest that you refrain from attempting to continue to 'referee' in the manner you have been whether your motives are political or not.

"It is not a function of your office," said Roberts, chairman of the House's Labor Committee.

He accused Adams of collective bargaining by calling a meeting for Friday in Marquette at which members of the pulpwood industry and members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters are supposed to discuss "problems of the pulpwood industry."

"I am also aware of the previous meeting which you called and held at Lansing at the suggestion of Mr. Harry Pulver, international representative of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, who I believe presented certain petitions to you asking for the meeting," Roberts said in his letter.

There was no immediate comment by Adams.

Roberts, an attorney, said he found a statement he said Adams made at the earlier meeting "disquieting," and one that would in normal circumstances warrant one's withdrawl as a moderator."

Adams, according to Roberts, supposedly told an industry representative, "There are approximately 15,000 people involved, and at the present time they are suffering for want of a just share of profits while the mills are setting the price of pulpwood."

Roberts said the statement comes from the official transcript of the earlier spring meeting.

Ford Declares Double Dividend

To Pay 60 Cents in 4th Quarter, Plus Extra of Same Amount

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. today declared a fourth quarter dividend of 60 cents a share and an extra dividend of the same amount, the first extra since Ford stock was placed on public sale in 1956.

Both dividends are payable Dec. 10 to stockholders of record Nov. 10.

Ford has paid 60-cent quarterly dividends, except for 40 cents in the third and fourth quarters of last year and the first of this year, since 1956.

Ford's financial report for the third quarter of 1959 is expected next week. In the first six months of this year the company reported net earnings of $285,900,000 compared to only $16,100,000 in the first half of 1958.

Second quarter earnings were a whopping $151,100,000 this year. Ford lost money in both the second and third quarters a year ago.

The third quarter also is expected to be favorable since the company's market penetration was its best of the year, a strong 33.3 per cent.

Third quarter reports generally show a sag for automobile companies because of the heavy expense connected with the model changeover. Additionally this year all three of the major companies were involved in bringing new compact cars to market.

Ferndale Family Is Awarded $26,084

A Ferndale widow and her son will receive $26,084 in damages for a highway crash which claimed the life of the father in Canada last year.

An out-of-court settlement approved yesterday by the Ontario Supreme Court awards $21,084 to Mrs. Frank Pitcher, 52, of 1381 Wordsworth St., Ferndale, and $5,000 to her son, Philip, 16.

The defendant, William Albert Rodgerson of Ontario's Barton Township, must also pay a passenger in the Pitcher car, Mrs. Jenny Watson of Galt, Ont., $2,993 damages and $2,900 for legal and court costs.

Frank Pitcher, 57, died in a hospital three days after the accident on Highway 6 in April 1958.

sentatives together in a joint meeting here Sunday prior to completion of the report for Eisenhower.

The industry's chief negotiator said in presenting its position to the panel today that the union offered the country only two alternatives — "another inflationary increase in steel, or go without steel."

Cooper said "no agreement will be possible" in the three-month-old steel strike unless the union accepts the companies' "non-inflationary" wage offer and changes in working conditions.

Cooper told a presidential fact-finding hearing the steelmakers "are not willing to buy peace at the price of making agreements which will continue to promote inflation and which will prevent them from taking reasonable steps to improve the efficiency of their businesses."

He added that "unhappily" the companies and the Steelworkers Union "are not even in agreement as to what the basic issues are." He blamed the union for the impasse.

This supported the statement of George W. Taylor, chairman of the fact-finders, that it would take a major miracle to break the deadlock before the Friday deadline for the panel to report to President Eisenhower.

441 Students at Crofoot Chip In for United Fund

The Pontiac Area United Fund was richer than ever today as 441 youngsters from Crofoot School gave with their hearts to this year's fund drive.

As the youngsters, in kindergarten through sixth grade, filed into the multi-purpose room of Pontiac's third oldest school, coins were dropped into glass bowls.

All the money collected will go to the 11th annual Pontiac drive.

Lewis Crew, administrative intern of Crofoot, was delighted by the enthusiasm shown by the youngsters.

'WONDERFUL SIGHT'

"It's wonderful to see these children coming into this room singing and putting their money into the bowl," he said.

"Naturally, we feel that youngsters all over the Pontiac area are really the core of the United Fund with many of the agencies devoted to the recreational, health and well being of children.

"Speaking on behalf of our 13 teachers and participating children, we're proud to be able to help this year's fund drive."

The Day in Birmingham

Religious Art Exhibition Will Open Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM—The Holy Name Parochial School gymnasium was turned into a modern art gallery last night when the National Exhibition of Contemporary Religious Art had an advance showing for members of the press.

The free exhibition will be opened to the public tomorrow through Oct. 16 from 2 until 9 p.m. daily.

Oil paintings, mosaics, ceramics, glass, metalworking, sculpture, textiles and the graphics arts are represented. The works of many of the nation's leading artists are included in the display.

Prizes totaling $1,300 have been awarded by a three-man jury including William Woolfenden, curator of the Detroit Institute of Arts, Zoltan Sepeshy of the Cranbrook Academy of Art and the Most Rev. Alexander Zaleski, Auxiliary Bishop of Detroit.

More than 300 entries were received for the exhibition.

The Rev. William D. Davidson, assistant pastor of Holy Name Catholic Church, said, "In sponsoring the exhibition, Holy Name Parish is upholding the traditions of the Church which has been responsible for much of the great art through the centuries.

"Patrons were enthusiastic when the show was suggested," Rev. Davidson said.

"They felt as we do — that individual artists should be encouraged through exhibitions of this kind.

"Many of the entries will be for sale, and the artist will receive the full purchase price from any sales at the show."

James M. Roche, chairman of the exhibition, said, "individual sponsors have assumed full financial responsibility for the exhibition in the hope that more American artists will be encouraged by this event.

"It is our hope," Roche said, "that others may become interested and make this an annual event."

Baldwin Public Library will conclude its fall film series at 10 a.m. Tuesday with "Skippy and the Three Rs" in the library auditorium.

The film was chosen because of mounting interest in the nation's educational program, the library said.

The half-hour film will point up the latest techniques developed for introducing the first grader to reading, writing and arithmetic.

Name George Taylor County Prosecutor

Ziem that he planned to step down as prosecutor Dec. 1.

Although Ziem's Dec. 1 resignation surprised few, the speed with which Taylor was named did.

Some believed the judges would make the interim appointment between Dec. 1 and when Ziem ascended the bench Jan. 1 to start his first six-year term as judge.

Taylor's name got into national headlines during the 1958 sensational Frank Kierdorf torch death investigation.

Born in Hamilton, Ont., Taylor gave up a profitable advertising business at the age of 40 to begin his study of law.

He graduated 10 years later and passed his bar examination at 50, while a grandfather of two children. The Taylors have one married son.

Taylor got his first desire to enter the legal field in 1913 when as a schoolboy he worked as a $2.50 a week office boy for a lawyer in his hometown.

"I liked the profession even then and made up my mind that some day I would go to law school," he recalled.

But for one reason or another, Taylor instead went on the road for a shoe polish firm at the age of 20 and subsequently became a salesman for a grocery wholesaler.

Later he purchased a theater in Toronto and married his wife the same year, 1918.

He moved on to bigger and better jobs in the sales field and in 1932 headed his own premium advertising firm, with an annual income of between $10,000 and $12,000 in the worst of the depression.

But still in the back of his mind was the ambition to one day become a lawyer, he recalls. In 1936, while still running his business and managing 42 salesmen, he began attending the Detroit Institute of Technology at night.

He had to make up some high school credits and received 70 hours of college credits before entering Detroit College of Law in 1940.

He is today a director of the Detroit College of Law Alumni Assn., and past president of the Sigma Nu Phi legal fraternity.

He remembers now that his wife had been a little dubious about their giving up his ample income and changing his vocation at that age, "but she is happy now because I am happy," he said.

In 1944 Taylor closed his advertising business and became clerk to Judge Doty. Two years later he received his bachelor of law degree and joined the prosecutor's staff.

Taylor is proudest of his Off-the-Record Court, a special court to handle youthful offenders whose past records indicate they have the potential to be good citizens.

Close to 700 kids have been given another break in life, without a criminal record hanging over their heads, thanks to this novel court.

Taylor likes to remember that it didn't make any difference to him when he launched his law studies that his fellow students averaged 25 years of age and that he was old enough to have been their father.

Only one of his professors in college was older than him, yet he was elected vice president of his class and named chancellor of his law fraternity. He even submitted to the boyish initiation ceremony, he remembers.

During his 13 years on the prosecutor's staff, the bespectacled white-haired Taylor has helped develop more than 30 young attorneys into competent trial lawyers.

tary-Treasurer Emil Mazey, Vice Presidents Leonard Woodcock, Richard T. Gosser, Pat Greathouse and Norman Matthews, Canadian Regional Director George Burt and 17 U.S. regional directors. They make up the executive board.

The convention voted a dues increase on a standing vote which Reuther said showed 80 per cent in favor. Opponents failed in their effort to get a roll call. Reuther ruled that less than 500 delegates stood up to vote for a roll call and the rules required at least 775.

Basic union dues will be increased Jan. 1 from $3 to $5 a month.

The convention earmarked $1.25 of the $5 rate to build up the strike fund. When the new rate goes into effect, union members no longer will have to pay a $1 special strike assessment.

'No Political Ambitions,' Says Summerfield

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has scotched reports that he intends to seek policital office.

In Detroit yesterday for a preview of the "Parade of Postal Progress" exhibition, Summerfield said:

"I have no such ambitions. I am a businessman, not a politician. My name has never been on a ballot.

"I'll leave that for the bright young men who have long futures ahead of them."

One of the bright young men, in Summerfield's estimation, is Michigan Congressman (Rep.) Robert P. Griffin, coauthor of the successful labor reform bill.

"Griffin will go places," said the postal chief.

Summerfield said any number of men could seek the Republican presidential nomination. He declined to pick a favorite.

"But," he said, "it looks like Stevenson again for the Democrats."

Another prediction:

"I think Michigan and the nation will have a Republican administration. The Republicans will gain the majority of the House."

Clothes Bargain to Aid Patients

Air Force Blue at 10c to Cheer Up State Sick by New Garments

LANSING (AP)— State mental patients accustomed to comparatively drab costumes have some finer garments on the way—fashioned from the grade-A wool material worth $4.25 a yard.

And as part of the bargain there is a $70,000 windfall for taxpayers who usually foot the bill, Michigan taxpayers that is.

Acting Gov. John B. Swainson explained yesterday that Michigan has been given 60,000 yards of Air Force blue surplus material made available by the state - federal surplus property section.

The price—10 cents a yard to cover the cost of handling.

Swainson said 12,000 yards will be fashioned into garments for men and women by 150 inmate workers in prison industry shops at the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

The material will be made into women's skirts, jackets and jumpers and men's suits, slacks and shirts. Two thousand pairs of pants and 180 dozen shirts already have been ordered for mental patients.

The annual cost of clothing an adult patient, $24, is expected to be cut to a small fraction.

Swainson said yardage not required for this purpose will be made available to high schools for use by home economics classes, for window draperies and similar uses.

He said Michigan is the first state to start utilizing the surplus cloth.

It's Full of Lies

Desert Newspaper All Wet

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Harry Oliver, 71¾ years old, is working overtime these days thinking up lies for the next issue of his newspaper, the Desert Rat Scrap Book.

This publication, issued four times a year, has two slogans: "Price 10 cents—only one lousy thin dime," and "Only newspaper in America you can open in the wind."

The latter refers to the fact that the scrap book is printed on one big piece of paper, folded four times. Its content consists of philosophy, wit and facts.

Oliver says his memory produces the jokes, his imagination produces the facts. The philosophy comes from everywhere — and nowhere.

This is a fact: A mosquito has 22 teeth.

This is a joke: His "100-year-old" adobe home was built 20 years ago, by himself.

This is philosophy: The future is getting here quicker than it used to.

Oliver's house, called Fort Oliver, is far out on the desert. He says the buzzards come back every year like the swallows come back to Capistrano.

Its front yard is full of rusty relics, including Oliver's 17-year-old dog, Whiskers. Whiskers is getting deaf. Oliver bought him a hearing aid, but Whiskers ate it. He thought it was a peanut.

"Now he keeps hearing his stomach rumble and thinks it's thunder," Oliver explains. "He goes in the house to get out of the rain."

Rain on the desert? Well, a six-inch rain means the drops are six inches apart, Oliver explains.

Oliver too has whiskers. They're white, like his hair. He is 71¾ years old because "after you pass 70 you count your age like children. You put in the quarters and the halves."

Besides Whiskers, Oliver has two bob-tail cats, Dot and Comma.

"They're supposed to help me punctuate," he says. Right now he's trying to teach Whiskers to bark in italics.

Oliver invented the mule-cussing contest and the lazy dog contest. The best cussed-out mule and the laziest dog get the prizes.

Whether you like Oliver's paper or not, it only costs one lousy thin dime.

Mackie Fears Federal Act Will Torpedo Urban Roads

BOSTON (AP)—Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie says he has caught wind of a move in Washington that would have near-disastrous effects on Michigan's road building program, in metropolitan areas.

He said it threatened to deal the state's urgan area construction plans a "knockout blow"—coming on the heels of a 30-million-dollar cut announced last week in the state's 1960 share of federal funds for improvements on interstate routes.

Mackie said yesterday he learned that an Eisenhower administration committee studying the nation's road effort has recommended elimination of, or at least a cut in, spending on urban connectors.

This would halt or "slow to a walk" vital projects in the Detroit and Grand Rapids areas, he said.

BACK 15 YEARS

"It will turn the clock back at least 15 years to the old concept that expressways connecting urban areas should dump traffic at the gates of major cities and let the local communities solve the problem from the city limits to downtown," he said.

He said cities cannot bear the staggering costs involved without substantial federal help, and urban motorists paying federal gas taxes would not be getting a fair shake.

If the administration goes along with the committee recommendation, the Michigan commissioner said, it would halt or greatly retard work on the Walter P. Chrysler Expressway, the Edsel Ford Expressway extension and on linking the Grand Rapids Expressway with the Detroit-Muskegon Expressway.

"The theory seems to be the administration fear that even though the federal gas tax has just been increased by one cent, sufficient funds won't be available and that further cuts have to be made somewhere," he said.

Mackie was in Boston for the National Assn. of State Highway Officials convention.

New York Thruway Death Toll Is Doubled

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A total of 48 persons have been killed in accidents on the New York Thruway this year—more than double last year's toll. The Thruway Authority said the recession was evidently an important factor in holding 1958 deaths to 17. Less driving and less drinking, they said.

'Miraculous Vision' Fails 4th Appearance

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Dwdindling crowds waited in vain last night for another "miraculous vision" to appear atop a Roman Catholic Church in this Communist capital.

Poor viewing weather and press skepticism apparently slimmed the crowds at red-brick St. Augustine's Church where the Virgin Mary was rumored to have appeared in a blaze of light three times last week.

Norwegian Hits Wedding Coverage

Play Blasts World Press

OSLO (AP) — The Norwegian state radio broadcast a play Tuesday night attacking the world press for its coverage of the wedding in Norway last summer of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's son to the daughter of a small-town grocer.

The play told with biting irony of a bored journalist who invented a romance between the son of a "French truffle baron" and the daughter of a poor fisherman.

The journalist whipped up such a frenzy in the world press that the young couple was forced to marry although neither they nor their families wanted the match.

The play was set in the fictitious French village of Milanaise. The author, Hans Heiberg, chief of the state radio's drama department, said he was inspired by the wedding of Steven Rockefeller and Anne Marie Rasmussen in Sogne.

Several Oslo papers agreed with the play's scathing attack on the "world press which falls down in its duty to inform the public of important events and instead creates idiotic sensations where none is to be found," as Morgenposten expressed it.

The play will be given later on the Swedish, Danish and Finnish radios.

Vermont's first settlement was a French military outpost on Isle La Motte, Fort St. Anne, in 1666.

Initiated Income Levy in Civil War

Accept Portrait of Tax Pioneer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service today paid tribute to a whiskered gent of Civil War vintage who gets the credit—or the blame, if you will—for much of our income tax system.

Commissioner Dana Latham accepted on behalf of the tax service the only known portrait of this stern-faced tax pioneer, Joseph Jackson Lewis of Philadelphia.

The 77-year-old charcoal portrait was given to Latham by a great grandson of Lewis, Navy Capt. Charlton L. Murphy of nearby Arlington, Va. Murphy found the picture in an attic.

While Lewis was the second commissioner of internal revenue, he was the first to suggest the income tax. Serving President Lincoln, he inaugurated a series of tax innovations which were abandoned after the war but revived years later.

Many people believe, for instance, that tax withholding was first tried during World War II. Lewis instituted withholding from the salaries of federal employes during the Civil War.

With the passage of the income tax amendment to the constitution in 1913, every taxpayer was given a $600 exemption for himself and each dependent. Lewis first established a $600 exemption in 1864.

Part of the present tax system involves information returns, in which employers tell the government so the tax service can find out if the recipients reported their income. Lewis first required information return from federal paymasters.

Even in those days, tax collecting was not easy. In 1863, Lewis decided that tax fraud was getting out of hand in big cities and assigned special agents to ferret out evaders.

Still another first claimed for Lewis is the establishment of an internal inspection system. He sent a special investigator to New York and Philadelphia after getting complaints about agency operations in those cities.

In at least one respect, Lewis was even farther ahead of his time. He permitted taxpayers to list as deductions for repairs an average figure for the past five years. There now is pressure for premitting corporations to claim deductions in this faction.

Lewis had a philosophy of tax collection which he once stated in this fashion:

"It is not the policy of the government to make the excise law unnecessarily odious nor to press with undue severity upon those who are delinquent from ignorance rather than ill will or who from their poverty find it difficult to pay the taxes assessed."

Nevertheless, he said it was wise occasionally to jail some tax cheats as "salutary examples."

Sinclair Heiress Getting Divorce From Mdivani

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Oil heiress Virginia Sinclair Mdivani has sued Georgian Prince David Mdivani for divorce, alleging cruelty. She is 44, he 59. They have been married 15 years but separated in 1956.

Simultaneously with the filing of the suit Tuesday the court issued an order restraining Prince David from molesting his wife or disposing of certain properties pending a hearing. He once was married to actress Mae Murray.

He was one of the three "Marrying Mdivanis." His brother Serge was married to Pola Negri, Mary McCormick and Princess Louise Astor Van Alen; his brother Alexis to Louise Astor Van Alen and Barbara Hutton.

Their sister, Nina, divorced Charles Huberich, Paris attorney, in 1936, to wed Denis Conan Doyle, son of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Rossellini Will Return Three Children to Ingrid

ROME (AP)—Roberto Rossellini said today he will return his three children by Ingrid Bergman to their mother but will continue to fight for a final court decision giving him custody of them.

Mario Sotis, the Italian film director's attorney, said Rossellini will return the children to the Swedish film star as soon as their passports are in order. Miss Bergman lives outside Paris with her third husband, Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt.

NATO Nations Asked to Push Soviet Trade

ROME (UPI) — Soviet Russia has asked the NATO countries for hundreds of millions of dollars in credits to stimulate trade between East and West, Premier Antonio Segni disclosed last night.

The Italian premier said the Russians requested the equivalent of a hundred million dollars in credits from Italy alone to be used to buy Italian-made goods.

AND FROM JAPAN — A new entry in the already packed small car field is unloaded from a freighter. It's the Japanese Suzulight, a four-seater weighing 1,100 pounds. The manufacturer claims its 18-horsepower engine will drive it to a top speed of 50 m.p.h. Price will be about $1,300.

Carl Sandburg Approves of Play on His World

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Carl Sandburg is thoroughly pleased with his world, as interpreted by Bette Davis and Gary Merrill.

The white-haired prairie poet was among 1,500 watching the movie stars open their dramatic presentation of Sandburg's works at State Theater Monday night.

"One of the finest things that has ever happened to culture, in Maine or anywhere," said Sandburg.

The 82-year-old bard was given a standing ovation after Merrill escorted him to the stage at the end of "The World of Carl Sandburg."

Written by Norman Corwin, the script threads together 54 Sandburg poems, 15 of them hitherto unpublished, with some Corwin commentary. The central theme is life itself—from beginning to end.

Folk singer Clark Allen joined Miss Davis and Merrill in presenting the poetry. They worked as a trio, the attention shifting from one to the other.

Miss Davis and her husband, Gary, who live in suburban Cape Elizabeth, will take the new venture on the road.

Sales of Foreign Cars Up in State Last Month

LANSING (AP) — For the first time in four months, sales of foreign-made cars in Michigan jumped sharply in September, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

Registration went up from 1,642 in August to 2,062 last month. Volkswagen led the upward trend with 504 compared with 349 the previous month.

Renault was second high with 387 units sold in September, followed by Simca with 156, Fiat 151, Opel 145 and English Fords 106.

Awards Chrysler Job on Mobile Airport Lounge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. has been awarded the prime contract for a prototype mobile lounge vehicle at Dulles International Airport, Chantilly, Va., the Federal Aviation Agency announced Tuesday.

The $750,000 contract provides that the prototype model be completed by April 30, and structural tests finished within the following two months.

Preliminary work should be completed and initial operations begun in early 1961.

The mobile lounge will be designed to transport passengers from the terminal of the new airport serving Washington to jet airliners on the field.

Officials hope it will solve the problem of protecting passengers from the noise generated by the huge jet aircraft and relieve them of long walks to planes that cannot be taxied close to the buildings because of superheated exhaust from their engines.

New Car Enthusiasm Great News for Area

As the automobile companies are completing the announcements of their new models, increasing confidence is apparent throughout the country.

From all the signs, people clear across the land are receiving these new cars with enthusiasm and applause. Pontiac Motor reports that expectations have been exceeded by the appraisals accorded the new models by dealers and the public alike.

This is big news here.

It's our bread and butter.

Other companies are also enthusiastic over the widespread support given to their new offerings and all in all, it looks as though the nation would have another really good automobile year. And this is of tremendous importance. The automobile has been the bell cow of American economy for years and years.

Its ramifications are so far-reaching that it spreads into every sector of the country and into widely diversified lines. In scores and scores of cities across the country, local industries are serving the automobile trade. Frequently they are the biggest plants in their respective communities. Hence, the way the automobile goes is of prime importance.

Here in Pontiac, we have additional cause for solid satisfaction because of the fine showing and prominence of the new products of our GMC Truck and Coach Division. Always a reliable and dependable balance wheel, the great advances made recently in design are beginning to pay off on South Boulevard. We possess the most modern institution in the business, headed by a young, aggressive group of executives that are turning in one of the outstanding performances in automotive circles.

No one is really competent to forecast business activities a year ahead, but the self-elected soothsayers, who have no hesitation in taking this precarious step, foresee a fine and active year throughout the balance of 1959 and right through 1960. Whatever comes, it does seem reasonable to assume that Pontiac will be well forward in industrial activities.

The outlook is promising.

Birthday Wish to Ike Is for Continued Health

Happy Birthday, IKE.

Today President DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER is 69 years old. He was born in Denison, Tex., on October 14, 1890.

He joins a rather select group, since only two other Chief Executives have reached that age in office. They were Andrew Jackson and James Buchanan.

Our country has never been represented by a President that has reached the age of 70 while in office, but Ike hopes to be the first. We certainly second this wish and sincerely hope we are congratulating him one year hence.

Naturally Ike does not take his desire for granted. Recently he remarked that no man can foretell what his life span is to be. On the other hand, he talks of his retirement and the long leisurely trip around the world he plans.

While his political foes may snipe, we hope he continues his golf, vacations and guards his health for his family of 170 million Americans.

The President looks healthy, and with all the wonderful advances in medical science, we hope that he has many, many more birthdays to celebrate.

Try This Little Game When You Must Wait

This little tidbit filtered in to our office and for a smile it seems worth passing on.

DID you ever get bored or impatient waiting for your wife? Do you develop a case of fidgets because a friend is late for a luncheon or business appointment?

Here's a little game to play that not only eases such nervous tensions but affords considerable amusement. Simply look at all the women passing by and note what they have done to their eyebrows.

Try it sometime. You'll be amused, astonished and—at times—positively awestruck.

The Man About Town

Freeze Is Delayed

Pontiac Area Is Favored; Best Record in 30 Years

Daughter: What when some fathers get off their hands they must put their son-in-law on his feet.

With the middle of October almost here, this area has not had a killing frost. Some tender garden vegetables and other vegetation have been a little nipped, but no serious damage has resulted.

My dependable weather watchers tell me that we're making a record. Among them, out on Pontiac Trail, says that this is the latest that Jack Frost has held off his first chilling bite in over 30 years.

Howard Halliman,

Everything has matured to such an extent that

who rents a farm in Oxford Township, says a killing frost would now do but little damage. Corn and potatoes would be the only farm crop victims. And frozen corn loses none of its food content, either in the grain or for silage use. As to potatoes, a frost would now be welcomed by the growers, as it would kill off the vines and make digging much easier. Check up another credit mark for 1959.

Should the Pontiac-Saginaw game Friday evening result in a tie, our football contest would be over, and of Auburn Heights would win the $300 prize. He is the only remaining contestant to predict a tie on that game.

What looks like guests for the winter is a report coming from

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vernon of 2740 Sylvan Shores Drive, as a family of five raccoons has moved into their attic.

A squash vine has climbed a tree in the garden of

Mrs. Arnew Holdsworth

of Birmingham. Ten feet above ground it is bearing a squash as large as a football.

Quite in agreement in this column with

of Rochester, who sends me a clipping about an inmate of a mental hospital winning honors in modern art. His only comment is "Well!!!"

Knowing his leaves and their actions, tells me that they don't put on rainbow colors on account of the cold, but on account of lack of food. Such a condition would cause any of us to turn green.

Always hunting for the unusual, of Ortonville, Supervisor of Brandon Township, brings in a queer looking plant that he found growing in a gravel pit. Its identity baffles all of the botanical experts that I've consulted.

Invasion of Privacy . . .

David Lawrence Says:

Nikita Admits Guilt (Unwittingly)

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev has just made a confession of the international crime the Soviet government committed in Hungary. He probably did it unwittingly. For he never has completely understood the case that the free world has been making against communism as an international conspiracy.

LAWRENCE

The confession about Hungary is in an excerpt from the speech which the Soviet premier made last week in a Siberian city, as released in the last three days by the official news agency in Moscow:

"When the forces of counter-revolution in Hungary attempted to overthrow the popular system, we considered it our international duty to satisfy the request of the revolutionary workers' and peasants' government of Hungary to help the Hungarian working class, to smash the counterrevolution."

To understand the full significance of this utterance, it is necessary to be sure what is meant by the term "counterrevolution" and "the popular system."

Hungary was put under Soviet occupation by force after the close of World War II. The elected government was ousted by the Communists in 1947, and a puppet government was established without affording any opportunity then or subsequently for free elections.

But Khrushchev calls any government imposed by Moscow "the popular system" and regards it as a fulfillment of the Communist "revolutionary" purposes.

Actually what happened in the autumn of 1956 was that the people of Hungary, resentful of the tyrannical regime which had been ruling them and particularly of Soviet domination of their country, rebelled and set up a free government under Imre Nagy.

Several thousands of the Soviet troops stationed in Hungary at the time went over to the side of the people of Hungary and allowed Soviet tanks to be used to help resist the Communist forces.

But the Kremlin order to crush the rebellion prevailed as an overwhelming number of troops was sent into Hungary by Khrushchev, even while Moscow was "negotiating" with the Nagy government for the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from Hungary—the major demand of the Hungarian people.

The Soviet government not only overthrew the government in Hungary, but later ordered the arrest and execution of its premier, Imra Nagy, after he had been lured by a promise of safety from the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest, where he had been given asylum.

The United Nations authorized an inquiry but lacked the courage to threaten to expel the Soviet Union for failing to let the U. N. investigators do a fact-finding job in Hungary. The U. N. General Assembly did vote in September 1957 to condemn the Soviet Union for aggression in Hungary.

Again and again since the tragic events in Hungary, the Soviet government has insisted that it was complying with principles of international law and that it was merely aiding an established government at its request. This argument is the basis usually given by the Soviets as justification also for controlling all the other "captive" states such as East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

Nikita Khrushchev's speech in Siberia is a surprise. But he may have been emboldened as a consequence of the visit he made to the United States and by the polls which show that many millions of persons in America fell for his deceptive tactics.

For what the Soviet premier wants more than anything else is acceptance of what is called the "status quo"—the idea that what has happened is final and that it cannot be changed.

In effect, Khrushchev says, "Let bygones be bygones," as he overlooks the injustices and calls for "peaceful coexistence" between the free system and the Communist system.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Poor Geek' in Trouble Cutting Off Cigarettes

A nice (I hope) kind lady wants to know how she can help her little boy — I mean her husband —in his attempt to quit cigarette smoking. He earnestly desires to quit, but having gone for six weeks without smoking he says he can hardly stand it any longer. He says it gets more difficult each day. Also now he takes a chew of tobacco when he gets the craving.

DR. BRADY

Sometimes the nice kind lady feels like saying "Go back to cigarettes — that would be better than the filthy habit of chewing." The poor fellow's struggle with his habit has made his disposition very bad. He is 50 and has smoked a pack a day for 35 years.

Here we have a weak character to begin with — anyone who begins smoking at the age of 15 years is of weak character.

Still, the lady doesn't say what is the matter with the little boy, that a diet patterned on the regeneration or model health diet won't cure. And she doesn't say whether her husband drinks. If he drinks, he is not likely to break the smoking habit.

If the man is worried about lung cancer, why should he worry about that now? After all, he has been smoking cigarettes 35 years and no cancer in all that time.

Whether cigarette smoking is a direct or contributing cause of cancer is still a matter of opinion. In my opoinion, that is. And it is likely to remain so until we learn the cause of cancer.

I'd call smoking a pack of cigarettes a day excessive. That would cost over $2 a week, and I doubt that any such smoker derives as much solace and serenity from his smoking as I get from my pipe — at less than one-third of the cost.

Moreover I'm sure that, ounce for ounce, tobacco smoked in a pipe is a lot less harmful than either cigarettes or cigars because tobacco burning in a cigarette or a cigar produces more carbon monoxide than tobacco burning in a pipe, and a pipe smoker, rarely inhales whereas cigarette smokers often do and cigar smokers sometimes do so.

I hope by now you know that it isn't the nicotine that does harm, but the carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke. There is precious little nicotine in tobacco smoke. There is always a certain amount of carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke.

It is the carbon monoxide in a smoke-filled room that makes nonsmokers sick. Breathing air containing only 1 part of carbon monoxide per thousand may cause headache, tightness across forehead, flushing of face, throbbing in temples, weakness, dizziness, maybe vomiting.

The Country Parson

"Just being a Christian makes it easier for others to be Christians — for men find it easier to imitate others."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

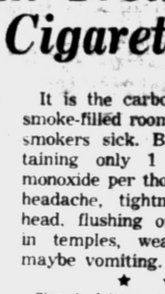

Extra Weight May Kill Romance

Notice the thrilling change in Doris. But that is only part of the miracle. Listen to her mother's report of how romance again returned to a stodgy married couple! Wives, it isn't the age of 40 that makes you lose your mates, but that roll of excess upholstery around your equator! So send for the dieting booklet below and salvage your waning romance.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case C-469: Doris B., aged 16, is the "fatty" high school junior mentioned yesterday.

She launched on the 10-day dehydration diet, and after the 10th day her weight had dropped from 154 to 143, or 11 pounds.

DR. CRANE

That elated her, for dieters need quick reassurance. Then she shifted to her family doctor's moderate diet and lost two pounds per week thereon.

It was eight weeks later when I saw Doris again. She had streamlined her figure remarkably, for now she weighed only 128 pounds.

She was as happy as a lark, for her mother had bought her some new clothes to fit her more slender figure and a couple of the boys had started asking her for dates.

"Dr. Crane, it took me less than three months, and it was well worth it," she added.

MOTHER'S STORY

Later I met her mother and found that she, too, had joined Doris in a mutual dieting contest.

"Dr. Crane," her mother began, "I am only 38 and my husband is 39, yet we had degenerated into a dull, stodgy type of couple. Our affection was largely platonic. My husband didn't show much of his former ardor or physical interest in me.

"So I also had a serious problem myself, in addition to my worry about Doris. As a result, when she asked me to join her on a diet, I decided to do so, for I weighed 158 and am just the same height as Doris.

"Now my weight is only 135, and I feel like a new woman. And my husband has certainly changed, too, for he comes out into the kitchen as soon as he reaches home at night, and kisses me as if I were a young girl again.

"That's something he hadn't done for 10 years or more. For he used to come home and just drop down in an easy chair in the living room.

"Oh, he'd call out a greeting, such as 'Hello, Honey,' but he would stay in there with his newspaper or watch TV till I called him to dinner.

"But now he actually invites me to go out for a date. Previously, I would hint at this idea and even suggest a good color movie, but he'd say we could see plenty of movies on TV so why waste our time going out.

"Now he actually takes the initiative and asks me to go out, so I wish you'd tell other wives about the romantic improvement that occurs when they regain their youthful figure."

WIVES, TAKE NOTE

Girls, watch your hips when your allure slips.

And don't think a tightly laced girdle will fool your husband the way it does the general public.

For he sees you at times without that girdle! Those rolls of ugly fat may curb his ardor and kill the romantic devotion he used to have.

Do you waddle like a walrus when you walk? If he tries to revive some of that former courtship romance, does he find he is juggling a baby hippo on his knee?

If he gallantly tries to steer you around the ballroom floor in a dance, does he feel as awkward and conspicuous as if he were a gigolo hired to cavort with a fat dowager? Don't be elephantine!

How do you wixes expect to hold the lifelong devotion of your mate if you throw away those alluring charms, including the slender figure, of your wedding days?

Get hep! That means, send for the booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," including a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

You can duplicate what Doris and her mother did. Nobody else can slenderize you but yourself!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Tells Effect of Labor Costs on Consumer Goods Price

Raw materials consist mainly of coal, oil and metals in the ground, lumber on the stump, hides and wool on the backs of animals. These raw materials are worth very little before being touched by labor.

Labor does everything but put raw materials in the ground, on the stump, or on the animals' backs, and even helps grow the animals. Many people think wages paid in auto factories are the total labor cost of making automobiles, but this is only a fraction.

Raw materials in my electric typewriter were probably not worth a single dollar before being touched by labor, yet its completed sale price was more than $250, of which labor from start to finish must have received $160. The gross sale profit to the manufacturer may have been about $100, out of which he had to pay all non-manufacturing expenses, such as office salaries for labor, rent, heat, lights, advertising, insurance, taxes, telephone, postage, selling costs, etc.

The manufacturer is lucky if he made a net profit of $15 or $20, to be divided perhaps among a few hundred or a few thousand stockholders who invested their money in the company.

You hear people say wages paid are only a small part of the cost to the purchaser. Those people just don't know what they're talking about. Prices are about 80 per cent caused by the wages paid to labor.

Seconds Suggestion by Woman Lawyer

I commend you for printing the recent excellent article, "Woman Lawyer Speaks Up." I'm a former teacher who has had to give up teaching due to school conditions.

I've recommended for years that to help improve the situation, classes such as those recommended in the article be required of every prospective bride and groom. I've not been able to understand why the most important institution man and woman ever enter should have so few requirements. Business, industry, the trades, the professions, even driver training courses have many more requirements than those stipulated for a marriage license.

Your paper is in a position to improve present conditions. If you promote such classes, you'd be doing the community, even the country, a great service. Broken homes, delinquency, poor education, teacher resignations and scarcity, crime can and will be greatly diminished should such classes be established. Organizations such at PAL, Boys' Club, etc., are very good, but the greatest need lies with the parents.

There's a TV program entitled "Who Do You Trust?" and they taught me in the eighth grade to say "Whom do you trust?" What company is sponsoring bad English and grammatical mistakes? A cold war could be easily . . . And quicky made to end . . . If we could change each enemy . . . Into a trusted friend . . . But that is quite impossible . . . When enemies refuse . . . And when they twist the facts around . . . And falsely they accuse . . . We could not win them over in . . . A hundred thousand days . . . As long as they would not give up . . . Their avaricious ways . . . And so we have no choice except . . . To ready our defense . . . Whatever labor it may take . . . Or national expense . . . But some day all the world will learn . . . Though it may be too late . . . That God made Earth for love and peace . . . And not for greed and hate.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.—John 15:18.

Hate belongs with sin. If we do a wrong, we hate either the thing or God, or ourselves, or somebody else.—Duffield.

Collector Pays $12,320 for Stamps Worth 43c

LONDON (UPI) — Forty-three cents worth of stamps sold here Monday for $12,320.

A private collector whose name was not revealed paid the sum for a block of 43 unused "penny blacks," made in 1840 and claimed to be the world's oldest postage stamps.

The block, discovered in 1931, is the largest known block of the stamps, which originally went on sale at a penny each.

Women Retreat to Base Camp in Mountain Trek

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — The first all-women expedition to climb the highest Himalayas has been forced down from the side of Cho Oyu (Big Head) Mountain by severe blizzards.

The foreign office reported the dozen women from Britain, France, Belgium, Switzerland and India had to retreat from Camp Four, high on the side of the 26,867-foot mountain, to their base camp.

The expedition will begin the trek back to Katmandu within a fortnight, the foreign office said. It was not clear whether this means that the attempt to conquer Cho Oyu has been abandoned.

They'll Try Anything

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — Some of the items that turned up among nickels and dimes taken from parking meters: one penny hammered to the size of a nickel; three pennies whittled to the size of a dime; one wrapped in plastic tape; five painted with fingernail polish; and two with paper glued to one side.

Questions Size of Staff in Spain

Congressman to Ask Ike Why 5,000 Back Six SAC Bombers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Connecticut congressman said Tuesday he will ask President Eisenhower why there are 5,000 GI's, civilian workers and dependents in Spain for every six Strategic Air Command (SAC) bombers "on the line" at U.S. air bases there.

Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn.), who just returned from a 26-day trip in Europe for the House Armed Services Committee, said he was "disturbed about the utilization of manpower" at many of the 23 installations he observed.

Kowalski told newsmen that at each of the three SAC bases in Spain there was six nuclear-armed bombers ready "on the line." He said back of the six planes were 2,000 to 3,000 military men and about 2,000 dependents plus 1,200 to 1,500 Spanish civilians working at the base.

He said each base was a $100,000,000 "little American" city.

"Do they need all these people?" Kowalski asked.

Fire Truck Is on Job

PLYMOUTH, Wis. (UP)—A new fire truck purchased by Superior, Wis., was on its way through Plymouth when a fire broke out. Fire Chief Max Giebler said the aerial ladder truck, quickly pressed into service, saved a two-story downtown store.

Eden's Book to Defend British Action in Suez

LONDON (AP) — Sir Anthony Eden will launch a personal defense of the 1956 British-French invasion of Suez he ordered. It will be in the publication of his memoirs next Feb. 29.

Eden, Britain's prime minister at the time of the Suez action, has spent two years working on the book.

The memoirs will be in two volumes. The first deals with the period 1951-1957 when Eden was foreign secretary and then prime minister. The second, not yet complete, covers the earlier part of his life.

Louisville Police Seek Night Football Ban

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Teenage rowdyism has prompted police to ask school officials to discontinue night high school football games.

City Safety Director W. G. Matton said he believes night games prompt many teenage misdeeds, including drinking, which would not occur if games were in the daytime.

City School Superintendent Omer Carmichael said he preferred not to comment until after his talk with Matton.

He did say the proposal is not new, but the argument against it has been that night games draw bigger crowds.

The oiltown of Smackover, Ark., got its name from a corruption of "Sumac-couvert," which is what early French hunters called the place because of a dense cover of sumac in the vicinity.

Three Meet Death in State Plane Crash

JONESVILLE (AP)—Three men, including two U.S. airmen, plummeted to their deaths in a foggy pasture early today when their private plane crashed.

Killed were S. Sgt. Eugene R. Burnham, his father Christy R. Burnham, 59, both of Bronson, and A. 3.C. Thomas C. Hatke of Lafayette, Ind.

The airmen were stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mount Clemens. The plane, piloted by Hatke, crashed 2½ miles west of Allen, a village about eight miles west of here.

The craft, a four-place Cessna, nosed into a pasture on the Hillsdale County farm of George Marshall who told state police he heard the engine sputtering in dense fog. The plane did not burn and wreckage was strewn over 100 feet.

The plane belonged to the Selfridge Aero Club, a private flying group made up of base military and civilian personnel.

Charles Van Doren Hit Jackpot

Found Family as Well as TV Fame

By United Press International

Charles Van Doren, now 33, was just a fledgling college instructor with a famous family name when he entered the isolation booth before a television camera three years ago.

He came out a little over three months later a national hero with a $129,000 jackpot, a $50,000-a-year television job and a bride-to-be.

He still teaches English, also, at Columbia University, from which faculty his father, the noted writer Mark Van Doren, retired last spring.

Shortly after his retirement from the winner's box on the NBC quiz show "Twenty-One," Van Doren married the secretary he had hired to help with his unaccustomed fan mail. Geraldine Ann Bernstein was 23, Van Doren, 31, when they were married in April 1957. A daughter was born to them a little over a year ago.

Van Doren's first book, "Lincoln's Commando," a biography of a Civil War figure written in collaboration with Ralph J. Roske, was published at the time of his marriage.

The young quiz whiz came from a solidly literary and scholarly family.

Both his parents are writers; Carl Van Doren, the late biographer, was his uncle. The wide store of knowledge he exhibited during his weeks on the TV quiz was to a large degree, he said, the fruit of years of family conversation.

He was graduated from St. John's College, Annapolis, Md., received a Columbia master's degree in mathematics and was teaching and studying for his Ph.D. in English at Columbia when he became the nation's favorite well-educated young man in the winter of 1956-1957.

Television viewers have had regular glimpses of him since, on scholarly NBC panel shows and as a morning TV commentator.

Reds to Probe Antarctic

MOSCOW (AP) — The fifth Soviet Antarctic expedition will sail aboard the polar ship OB early next month to continue geological and meteorological research in eastern Antarctica under the international geophysical cooperation program, Tass said Tuesday. New Cookbooks

If You Like to Cook, Read On!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With three new cookbooks on our desk in the past ten days, we have been having a reading feast. Today we want to tell you about the two smaller ones, saving a review of the third one for later.

Latest in the group of dollar cookbooks put out by Betty Crocker is "Betty Crocker's Guide to Easy Entertaining." (Golden Press, New York.) This small spiral bound book was written to show that it "can be easy and fun for the hostess as well as the guest."

Bits of etiquette, suggestions for ice-breaker games, even the wording for invitations are included along with recipes in this helpful book. It is profusely illustrated with clever little drawings on almost every page and with a section of colored photographs that will make your mouth water.

Whether you're a brand new homemaker who is still a bit shaky about entertaining your husband's friends and your in-laws — or whether you're a homemaker with years of experience to help you over the rough spots — you'll find something in this gay little book with the needlepoint sampler cover design.

BLUEBERRY HILL

The second book is the Blueberry Hill Cookbook by Elsie Masterson ($5.95. Thomas Y. Crowell Company, New York.) Some of you may have read an account of her life on a Vermont farm in "Nothing Whatever to Do." This cookbook is in answer to many requests Mrs. Masterson has had for her recipes.

It is not a general cookbook, full of canning directions and simple instructions on how to boil water. But it is full of exciting recipes that you will want to try immediately.

Mrs. Masterson runs an inn so that her meal preparations may be just for the family in the winter or for 100 guests at other times. In between recipes she tucks in bits about her life and amusing comments on the recipes. There are excellent leftover suggestions.

As you would expect, there are lots of recipes featuring blueberries which grow wild around Blueberry Hill Farm. We can always get frozen berries here. You might try this fruit dessert.

Baked Bananas and Blueberries

6 bananas
½ cup blueberries
⅓ cup orange juice
¼ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons light sweet red or white wine
Sour cream sauce

Peel bananas and slice them in half lengthwise. Arrange the halves symmetrically in buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with fresh blueberries and brown sugar. Pour orange juice carefully around sides, so as not to disturb brown sugar, using enough to cover bottom of dish. Dot with butter.

Bake in 350-degree oven for 10 minutes. Pour in wine. Bake another 5 minutes, until bubbly and brown. Serve directly from baking dish at table with bowl of sour cream sauce.

Sour Cream Sauce

1 pint sour cream
1 teaspoon pure vanilla
1 tablespoon sugar

With a fork mix all ingredients until well blended. This can be used in place of whipped cream.

NEW CHICKEN PIE — The use of prepared packaged herb-seasoned stuffing as a crust, makes this chicken pie a real taste sensation.

Herb Stuffing Used as Crust

Everyday chicken can be transformed into an unusually different dish through the addition of herb-seasoned stuffing which lends it a spicy piquant flavor. Both body and tang are added through the use of prepared packaged stuffing in this delicious poultry pie, in lieu of the traditional crust.

Chicken Pie De Luxe

1¼ cups packaged prepared herb-seasoned stuffing
⅓ cup butter
½ cup milk
1 10½-oz. can of condensed cream of celery soup
1½ cups cooked, boned chicken in pieces
¾ cup cooked peas
1 tablespoon minced onion
Dash of pepper
¾ cup prepared packaged herb-seasoned stuffing finely crumbed for topping

Mix stuffing with butter; press mixture firmly to bottom and side of 9" pie plate.

In a saucepan, stir milk into soup; add chicken, peas, onion, pepper, heat; turn into pie shell.

Bake at 425 F. about 10 minutes or until bubbly. Then on top of pie, arrange border of ¾ cup stuffing crumbs; sprinkle center with parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Quick Tartar Sauce

Tartar sauce for fish is made quickly by mixing a teaspoon each of instant minced onion and water. Let stand a few minutes, then add mayonnaise, chopped parsley, pickle relish and a squeeze of lemon or lime juice.

Practice Shot Success

Air-Launched Missile Could Destroy Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —The Air Force used an earth satellite for target practice Tuesday.

And, relatively speaking, it scored a bullseye.

An Air-Launched Ballistic Missile (ALBM) which streaked away from a B47 bomber over the Atlantic 20 miles off the Florida coast flashed 150 miles high toward the orbiting paddle wheel satellite which the United States launched from Cape Canaveral Aug. 7.

The shot could lead to development of air-launched missiles to knock down enemy satellites.

There was no official estimate, but informed sources said the missile whizzed to within 10 to 20 miles of the satellite which is circling the earth at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour. This combination of speed, altitude and timing made the feat all the more impressive.

Air Force officials emphasized that there was no attempt to intercept or actually hit the paddle wheel. The purpose of the firing was merely to "demonstrate the feasibility of firing ballistic missiles from aircraft," the Air Force said.

The Martin Co., which manufactures the ALBM, said the missile's second stage fell back to earth and plunged into the sea 1,100 miles off Nov Scotia. Thus much of the North Atlantic was the firing range for the spectacular demonstration.

The Air Force said the missile passed near the path of the paddle wheel in a test "to check the accuracy of the guidance system at exit angles approaching the vertical."

No More Peeling So Mickey Will Marry Candy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ex-gambler Mickey Cohen says he'll marry nightclub stripper Candy Barr within 30 days.

Mickey said she's going to give up peeling.

Her lawyer, A. L. Wirin said Tuesday he will file a petition with the U.S. Supreme Curt for a rehearing of her appeal from a 15-year prison term on her conviction in Texas of possessing marijuana. The high court had rejected it.

Several months ago Cohen said he planned to marry Miss Barr, whose real name is Juanita Dale Phillips. They became estranged and Mickey announced his engagement to another stripper, Beverly Hills. That one cooled, too.

Woodhull Group to Meet

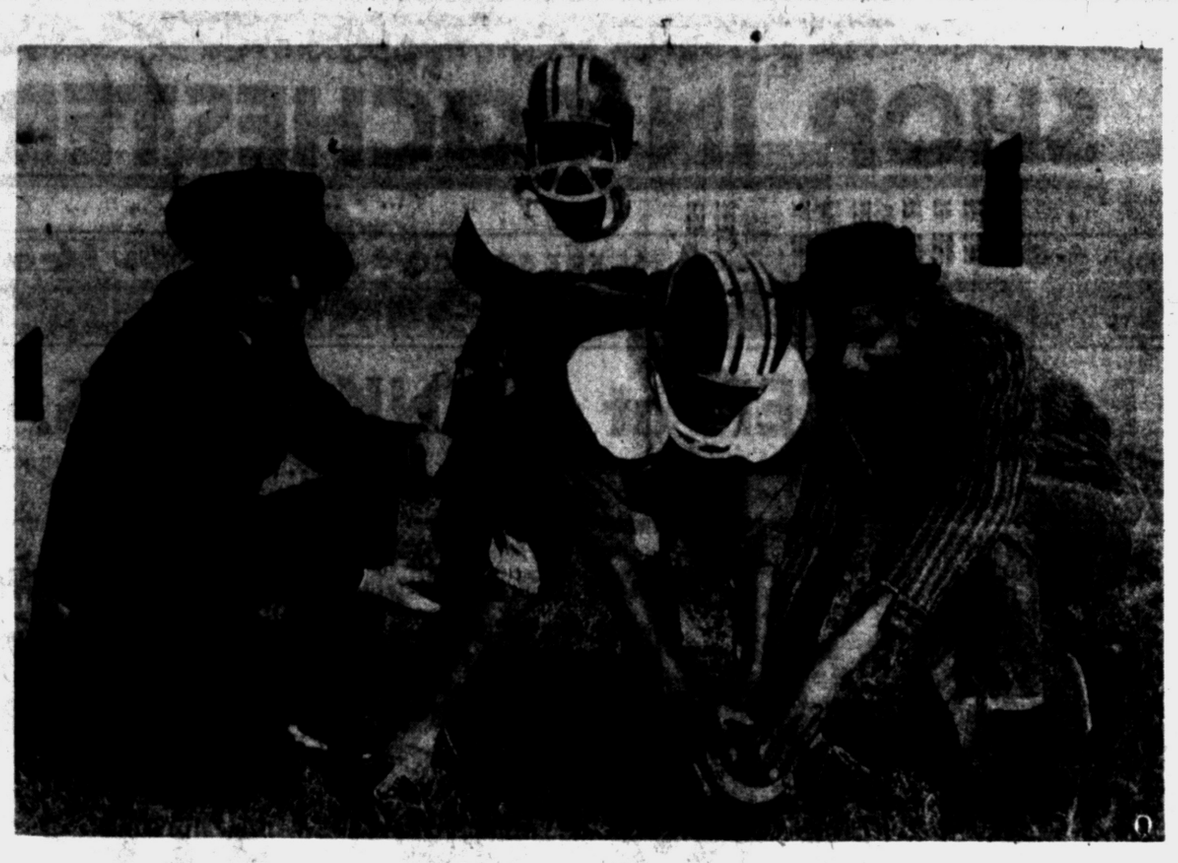

A meeting to elect officers, approve by-laws and collect dues of the Woodhull Lake Civic Assn., Inc. will be held at 5:30 p. m. Saturday at the McVittie School in Drayton Plains.

Once on Probation for Hatchet Attack

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A man accused of fatally knifing an actress in Texas Sunday was placed on probation five years ago for attacking his former wife's roommate with a hatchet, police records show.

Chester H. Smith, 32, charged in the slaying at Del Rio, Tex., of LaJean Ethridge, was accused by his former wife of attempting to run down her and her friend with his car.

Smith, an actor, also was accused of attacking a bus driver here in 1958.

Street, School Bonds Approved in Lansing

LATHRUP VILLAGE — Authorization to issue $10,500 in special assessment bonds for street improvements locally was granted yesterday by the Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing.

The commission also approved general obligation bond issues totaling $1,661,000 for school construction and to meet school operating expenses throughout the state in anticipation of tax receipts.

Steelmen's Families Hitting 'Rock Bottom'

MORRISVILLE, Pa. (AP) — "It's getting difficult. As a matter of fact we are at rock bottom, although there are other families far worse off than we are."

This, explains Helen Galambos, 33, is how the steel strike has affected her family. Her husband is one of the 6,100 employes on strike at U.S. Steel Corp. Fairless Works. They have a 6½-month-old daughter.

Mrs. Galambos says they are a month behind on their mortgage payments and have not been able to pay other bills.

"We're cutting on food where we can," she adds. "We are not eating the way we used to. Many of our meals are stews. We are buying less meat and when we do get it, it's the cheaper grades."

Many other families like the Galambos are in financial trouble. Mortgages are going unpaid. Bills are piling up. Christmas is approaching and there's no money for childrens' toys.

But the wives are not pressuring their husbands to rush into a settlement. Most take the position that their husbands, since they've been out this long, might just as well stay out a little longer until they get what they want.

Margaret Gribbin, 28, feels that President Eisenhower "should have stepped in before this" to effect a settlement.

"Too many families are hard up for food, clothing and money to have allowed this thing to go this far," she declares. "As far as the strike is concerned I think the men are right. They are trying to take away things that the men fought for years to get."

Symphony Opening Huge Success

By GOLDA HOGUE

Musical history was made Tuesday evening at the opening of Pontiac Symphony's seventh season. A capacity audience in Northern High School auditorium was most enthusiastic in its approval of the well balanced and beautifully executed concert.

Perfect for a gala opening was the highly dramatic and colorful presentation of the second act of "Tosca" by members of the Michigan Opera Company. Puccini, the composer, has given to the world a remarkable example of his skill in adjusting both instrumental and vocal effects to the sense of the story, interpreting both the characters and the orchestra.

Francesco Di Blasi again displayed his genius in molding singers and players into an exciting dramatic production, excelling in his role of operatic maestro, the most exacting and difficult phase of all conducting art. In listening to the economy and conciseness of his directing, one is aware of his keenness and precision of mind coupled with matured emotional, spiritual and musical powers.

REAL TRIUMPH

Pontiac audiences have thrilled before to Maria Roumell's singing but her return last evening in the role of Tosca was a real triumph. With a voice of limitless power and richness, she combines passionate intensity with tragic pathos rarely equalled in operatic literature. "Vissa d'arte," the aria in which Tosca pleads with Scarpia on her lover's behalf, is regarded as the most beautiful air of modern Italian opera. Beginning quietly, it works up to an impassioned outburst of grief. In this, as in the whole act, Miss Roumell was superb.

Even more arresting than the role of Tosca is Puccini's wonderful musical delineation of character in the description of Scarpia, the chief of police of Rome, who is bent on the destruction of Tosca's lover, Cavaradossi. In the aria "Mi dicon venal" where Scarpia seeks to square his corruptness with his desire for a beautiful woman, Nicholas Billardello was equal in vocal and histrionic deportment to any Scarpias to come our way.

Sharing the spotlight was Jonathon Swift, in his excellent singing of the role of Cavaradossi, Anthony Ruda and Guiseppi Del Monte and other outstanding members of the Michigan Opera Company. A chorus of local singers directed by George Putnam provided an off stage background of beautiful balance and tone quality.

Much credit for Tosca's success goes to Stewart Piggins of Detroit, operatic coach and director and to Joseph Tessmer of Chicago who was in charge of scenery, staging and costumes. But singers and actors withal, one is most conscious of the splendid playing of our own symphony. Having already gained a reputation for artistic ability, these musicians last night scored another triumph. Very few major orchestras ever attempt a full operatic production such as this.

There was drama and beauty and inspiration in the first half of the concert by the orchestra. A spritely opener in Chopin's "Polonaise in A Major" was followed by the familiar "Dance of the Hours" by Ponchielli and the nationalistic "Finlandia" by Sibelius. A new composition, "Kingsport Overture" by the Royal Oak composer Clark Eastham lent relief with its unfamiliar dissonances so characteristic of contemporary art.

All numbers were enthusiastically received by the audience. In fact, there was a reluctance on the part of the listeners to leave their seats after the long program, even with the prospect of the coffee hour to follow.

Add Calories to Family Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As most of you know I am printing my Trick and Treat Diet this week. It tricks the pounds while it gives you treats in food. You can use the menus as a skeleton when planning meals for your entire family so that you do not have to plan or prepare two sets of meals, one for you and one for them.

For instance, your family can have larger helpings and can use more butter. They can drink whole milk instead of skim or powdered fat free milk. More bread and desserts and sugar can be added to their menus. All of these seemingly minor changes add up to a big difference in calorie count.

Here are the menus for tomorrow (Thursday).

Breakfast

Six ounces tomato juice
Two baked or hard poached eggs with the poacher lightly greased with butter and a dot of cheese on each egg
One piece of toast
Coffee, with one teaspoon sugar

Luncheon

Broiled lean meat patty (three ounces)
One-half cup carrots
One glass skim milk
One medium apple

Dinner

Six ounces vegetable juice
Two Rye Krisps
Four ounces lean beef
One-half cup carrots and peas, flavored with one teaspoon butter
One-half cup grapefruit sections (fresh or water packed canned)
One small potato, baked or boiled with salt and parsley
Eight ounces skim milk
Apple Snow (See recipe at back of booklet)

If you would like to keep my Trick and Treat Diet in your kit of first aids for the figure, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the complete Trick and Treat diet in booklet form. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Appealing Foods Let You Lose Weight Pleasantly."

You can use the Trick and Treat menus as a skeleton when planning for your entire family. For one thing, they can drink whole milk instead of skim or powdered, fat free milk.

The jewel-neckline blouse is styled by Pilot in a new crepe. Beautifully tucked and fagoted, it launders quickly, dries smoothly and can be worn with little or no ironing. Available locally.

First Musicale Program Pleasing

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

Members of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale were enthusiastic in their response to the first program of the fall Tuesday afternoon in Fellowship Hall of Grace Lutheran Church.

Artists for the day were Sue Timyan, soprano of Flint, and Eugene Bossart, pianist and accompanist from Ann Arbor.

Miss Timyan's mezzo-soprano voice is warm and pleasing in quality. Although it is neither big nor brilliant, it shows excellent training and she uses it with skill, fine musicianship and obvious enjoyment. These assets plus a most attractive appearance made Miss Timyan's performance thoroughly enjoyable.

Songs from classic and romantic periods made up the first solos. "Voi che Sapete" from Don Giovanni by Mozart was sung with gentle grace and smooth flowing tone, evenly supported.

It was followed by a secular composition of classic beauty, "Bist dú Bei Mir," by Bach. Miss Timyan's interpretation showed sensitive insight into the emotional depth of this master's work. "Mallen-Spruchlein" by Hugo Wolf and two folk songs by Brahms provided variety of mood, from whimsical to meditative to lovesick.

Two arias "Il Est Doux" from Herodiade by Massenet and the "Sequidilla" from Carmen formed the second group. The soloist seems to excel in the vocal warmth and feeling of the Massenet. In this aria Salome is singing of John the prophet who had once saved her life. "Il est doux, il est bon." (He is kind, he is good).

Mr. Bossart is head of the accompanying department at the University of Michigan and is a vocal coach. He is considered one of the outstanding accompanists in this country and is soon to tour with Dorothy Maynor.

He played a group of piano solos in addition to providing perfectly coordinated and beautifully interpreted backgrounds for the singer throughout the afternoon. The "Rondo" from the "C major Sonata" by von Weber, a perpetual motion type of thing, was done at high speed with sparkling clarity. Arpeggios and runs in "Hungarian Rhapsody No. II" by Liszt demonstrated again the pianist's clean cut dexterity and brilliance. An encore, "Music Box," was crystal clear and done with a feather touch.

Miss Timyan's last group contained five modern pieces. An aria by Barber from his opera "Vanessa" was followed by "The Bird and the Beast" by Doughtery. This highly amusing piece describes the bird (the owl) and in detail, the beast (the cow) with childlike but somewhat sophisticated cleverness. Works by Diamond, Benjamin and Klemm completed the group.

Mrs. Ralph Norvell presided at the short business meeting preceding the program. She introduced Mrs. Gordon Woolcock who presented to Mrs. John Doig a life membership in Tuesday Musicale in recognition of her years of service to the club.

Mrs. Doig, who is soon to move to Florida, has been a member of Tuesday Musicale since its origin in 1923.

Mrs. James Forman, vice president and program chairman, presented the artists. Mrs. Timyan is a niece of Mrs. Paul Kantz of Pontiac, member of Tuesday Musicale.

Tea table hostesses were Mrs. F. E. Bonner and Mrs. W. S. Francis.

Mrs. P. E. Rowston and Mrs. W. O. Kline were hostesses at the door.

Mrs. Elsie Vierlech was in charge of flowers.

Cochairmen of the social committee were Mrs. L. S. Salathiel and Mrs. Ted Koella.

Serving on their committee were Vera Bassett, Mrs. James Covert, Mrs. J. P. Livingstone, Mrs. O. R. Briney Jr., Mrs. J. F. Endress and Mrs. B. B. Kimball.

Somebody's Way Out of Step ---Either You or Your Hubby

DEAR ABBY: Every time my husband takes me to a place where there's dancing, he pulls the same stunt.

I can sit there snapping my fingers and tapping my toes to the rhythm of the music and he pays no attention to me. But when the end of the song is near, he will say, "Would you care to dance, Dear?"

No sooner do we get to the dance floor than the music is over, and we have to sit down. Have you any helpful advice?

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Perhaps you can find the answer in your mirror. Are you as slim, attractive, and well-groomed as you were the day you said "I do"? (He probably isn't either, but this doesn't matter.) Is he self-conscious about his outdated style of dacing? Teach him the new steps. If you don't know them, maybe both of you should take lessons. Women have been known to sulk for weeks over this problem. Don't skip it. Talk it over with him and find out why he fiddles while you burn.

DEAR ABBY: We have a question we would like your opinion on. If a person commits suicide do you think it is a courageous act or a cowardly one?

We had a very lively discussion at our home last evening and we were divided fifty-fifty in our opinions.

Would you please print your answer. RICHARD L.

DEAR RICHARD: It is my opinion that when things appear hopeless, it takes more courage to go on living and to work out one's problems than to 'end it all."

DEAR ABBY: While baking a pie today, I ran out of flour. Since the grocery store is quite a ways off, I borrowed some from my neighbor. After baking the pie, I discovered there was a weevil in the flour which was left over.

That evening I got more flour and returned it to my neighbor. My neighbor (who appears to be a spotless housekeeper) poured my flour into her canister. I don't like to tell her that her flour had weevils, but I don't want her to think they came from the flour I returned to her. What shall I do? PERTURBED HOUSEKEEPER

DEAR PERTURBED: If YOU had weevils in your flour, wouldn't you appreciate knowing it? The fussiest housekeepers have had weevils brought into their homes, (in nuts, fruits and grain) so your neighbor need not be ashamed. Tell her.

The Pine Lake Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Assn. played hostess at an all day workshop Tuesday at West Bloomfield Township Hall.

The following branches were guests: Waterford, Wing Lake, Osage, Foxcroft, Valley Wood, Maple Brook, Meadow Lake, Walnut Lake, Springfield, Sylvan Manor and Holiday Farms.

Mrs. R. D. Aughmaugher of Detroit conducted the workshop using a variety of materials, both fresh and dried.

She demonstrated how all types of baskets, jugs, small containers and even straw mats can be used effectively in arrangements.

Each guest brought sandwiches and the Pine Lake group served coffee and cookies.

Meet Mrs. Dorothy Robinson, president of the Motormaids of America. At 47, she is a grandmother and has been riding motorcycles for 30 years. She travels between 25,000 and 30,000 miles a year to club meetings astride a deluxe Harley-Davidson. It is painted pink and gray to match her specially-tailored cycle suits—trim slacks and bellboy-style jackets.

Takes Mother Up Pike's Peak

Tiny Woman Heads Cycle Maids

By NORMA GAUN

DETROIT (AP)—Think of a lady motorcyclist and what's the picture — a gum chewing hoyden, hair combed with an eggbeater, striding about in tight jeans and a black leather jacket?

Meet one in person — the president of Motormaids of America — and get ready for a pleasant shock.

Mrs. Dorothy Robinson is auburn haired and blue eyed, cute of face, shapely of figure and not much bigger than the motorcycles she has been piloting for the past 30 years.

It's hard to believe she's 47 and a grandmother. But it's not surprising to hear that her husband, Earl, and married daughter also are ardent motorcyclists; that her year-old grandson is as much at home in a sidecar as a baby buggy.

700 IN CLUB

Dot Robinson heads a 700-member club of women. They own and ride their own motorcycles. She travels between 25,000 and 30,000 miles a year to club meetings astride a deluxe Harley-Davidson. It's painted pink and gray to match her specially tailored cycle suits — trim slacks and bellboy style jackets.

It's been years, she says, since motorcyclists wore kidney belts — three wide leather nail studded girdles. As for black leather jackets with eagles on the back, Mrs. Robinson says with dignity:

"I do have a gray leather jacket. But I've never owned a black one."

Generally Mrs. Robinson rides solo. But at least once a year she takes along her mother, 73-year-old Mrs. James Goulding of Saginaw.

Mrs. Goulding rode on a double saddle up to the age of 65 when she retired to the relative luxury of a sidecar.

The two women traveled 2,800 miles last year to New Orleans and back; the year before, Mrs. Robinson piloted her mother up the tortuous, 25-mile corkscrew road to Pike's Peak.

The problem of packing all her feminine necessities aboard a motorcycle is no problem to Mrs. Robinson. She stows everything in a single 24-inch suitcase on a rear luggage rack, and in two plastic sidesaddles. A metal box between the handlebars carries on-the-road needs such as suntan oil, glasses, makeup and a miniature fire extinguisher.

On a recent jaunt — 6,500 miles round trip to Santa Ana, Calif., she packed the club uniform — royal blue shirt, gray slacks and white boots; a matching royal blue uniform dress; and these outfits, most of which she made herself:

A beige and white dacron print; a dressy navy georgette cocktail dress; a powder blue and white cotton and a pink silk print with white cotton jacket.

Into the saddlebags went a coffee pot and steam iron; a rubber suit and hood for rainy weather; an overnight bag, and heavy sweater and long red underwear in case of sudden cold.

On the road, Mrs. Robinson slips a hand-sewn bright pink coverall over her slacks suit to keep it free of dust and travel stains; she wears a plastic safety helmet.

She could infect the most confirmed stay-at-home with enthusiasm for the joys of fresh air and freedom aboard a motorcycle.

"It's so comfortable," she says. "Since I started riding I've gone over a million miles without an accident. And there have been a couple of scrapes I got out of because I could push my cycle faster than any car.

"I can cover 700 to 800 miles in daylight hours without going over the speed limit, and not be as tired as people going 300 to 400 miles by car. Partly it's the fresh air, sitting up straight instead of slumping as you do in cars, and the fact that traffic doesn't bother a motorcyclist."

Mrs. Robinson, Australian born, came to this country when she was 13. Her father opened a motorcycle shop in Saginaw and daughter Dot took her first ride when she was 17.

She and her husband subsequently took over the business, moved to Detroit and went wholeheartedly into sport motorcycling. Their ranch home in suburban St. Clair Shores is crowded with more than 600 trophies for victories in marathon, speed, endurance and obstacle racing.

1918 PATHFINDERS

Mrs. Robinson recalls that her parents, pioneer motorcyclists, went to California in 1918 and virtually had to break their own path. But pictures show the eternal feminine—strapped on the back of their cycle and sidecar was a big box for Mrs. Goulding's picture hat.

Dot and her husband did that feat one better in 1935 when Robinson set a transcontinental record of 77 hours. Then he returned with his wife in a sidecar and they set a non-stop mark of 89 hours between California and New York.

Grandma Robinson is proud of never having lost a woman's event in marathon competition. This is a grinding, no-sleep 24-hour test and Mrs. Robinson consistently finishes high against men contestants.

Typical weekend sport for motorcycle fans is to ride several hundred miles to a meeting place; take part in a tough handicap race; run off some men-only speed contests; sign up survivors for the marathon run and then head home in time for work Monday.

At home, Mrs. Robinson is likely to clean her carpeting, hop into her pale blue sports car for grocery shopping, then catch up on the bookkeeping she handles for the family's motorcycle store.

"The secret of my success in motorcycling is enjoying it," she said. "Because of all my traveling I'm in good shape. I can honestly say every time I get off my cycle, I'm sorry the trip is over."

Mrs. Robinson vastly enjoys her highway trips but makes a disquieting observation on speeding autos:

"I notice that so many families on vacation, carrying children in the car, go past me as though I were tied to a post. And I'll be going the speed limit of 60 to 70 miles an hour."

Let Widow Know How You Feel

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our one and only son lost his life two years ago in a tragic accident. He had been married only a very short while to a lovely girl. His wife is going to be married again soon. We are glad for her sake that she has found sometone else, but we just could not bear going to the wedding.

"Would it be wrong for us not to go? I don't want my daughter-in-law to think that we are staying away because we disapprove of her remarrying, but it will only bring back a hurt that we are trying to forget. My husband thinks that much as it will hurt us it will be wrong to stay away and for the sake of our daughter-in-law we should go. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Your daughter-in-law surely will understand your not going to the wedding. Write her a letter and tell her that you sincerely wish her every happiness and that you do hope she will not go out of your life, and that you are sure she understands that it would be too trying for you to be present at her wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I went to a wedding where the men in the wedding party wore tuxedos. The ushers wore black ties but the groom and best man wore white ties. Was this correct? I have always thought that a white tie was improper with a tuxedo. Have I been mistaken about this?"

Answer: You are not mistaken: a black tie should always be worn with a tuxedo and a white one with a tail coat.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When picking up a party line to make a call and you find that someone is talking on the other line, should you apologize for breaking in on the conversation, or should you just hang up and say nothing?"

Answer: Hang up quickly without saying anything.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong to introduce oneself to a new neighbor by saying, "I am Mrs. John Smith"—or is it a must to say, "I am Mary Smith?" Personally, I prefer to go slowly with new neighbors, and use first names only after a friendship has developed."

Answer: You are quite right in saying, "I am Mrs. John Smith." Only a young girl would say, "I'm Mary Smith."

70 Expected at Yacht Club Banquet

Some 70 members and guests of the Watkins Lake Yachting Association are expected to attend the 14th annual Trophy Banquet at 6:30 p. m. Saturday at the Detroit Yacht Club.

Don Zannoth will award trophies to Frank Hill, thistle class winner; Charles Morris, snipe class winner, and Glenn Fries, lightning class winner. Mr. Morris will show movies of several races and boat club activities.

Chairman of the entertainment committee is Mrs. Bruce Brede, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Hoover, Mrs. Neil Wheeler, Mrs. Sheldon Covert and Mrs. Fries.

ROBERT O. WELCH

Lynching Case Testimony Due

Vermont Is Expected to Recall Witness Who Was Interrupted

CHELSEA, Vt. (AP)—The state today is expected to recall an important witness in its prosecution of Robert O. Welch, 46, charged with a murder which the state contends was a vigilante action.

Welch is charged with killing Orville A. Gibson, 47, prosperous Newbury farmer, to avenge the beating of a farmhand for spilling two cans of milk on Christmas Day, 1957.

The testimony of state police Lt. Chester L. Nash about the rope with which Gibson's body was trussed was cut off by defense objections Tuesday.

Judge Natt B. Divoll promised a ruling today on the objections which prevented Nash from disclosing Welch's statement when he was confronted with the price of rope. The rope had bound Gibson's hands behind his knees which were drawn up against his chest.

Nash said the rope was shown to Welch when he was questioned two days after Gibson's body was found in the Connecticut River seven miles from his home.

Nash said one of the police investigators asked Welch, "Is that a piece of your rope?"

Henry Black, chief defense counsel, blocked the answer. The jury had been sent out of the courtroom pending a decision on objections to Nash's testimony.

Nash also testified that after the conversation about the rope state police searched both Welch's home and the Newbury grade school where Welch is still on janitor duty in the early morning and evening hours.

Welch is free on $40,000 bail, although the jury is locked up.

Gag Attempt Speaks Poorly of Castro

Cubans Lift Eating Ban on Critic

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

They are getting downright statesmanlike in Havana these days.

For example, Jules Dubois, the correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, is now entitled to eat again.

This decision of the Cuban Federation of Hotel and Restaurant Workers undoubtedly was referred first to the highest authority. It had forbidden its members to serve food or drink to the Chicagoan because it didn't like what he had been writing about the rule of Fidel Castro.

This change of heart on the part of the patriotic bosses of the waiters' union coincided with the arrival in Havana of delegates to the annual convention of travel agents. Only a churl would suggest that this coincidence had anything to do with the decision.

Dubois had written ably and hopefully about the Cuban revolution before the New Year's Day fall of the Fulgencio Batista dictatorship. If ever a nation had needed a revolution, it had been Cuba. But many a well - wisher was to learn that the only way to get along with Castro was to agree with him all the way on all things.

The abandonment of an attempt to starve a critic out of the country hints, however faintly, at the appearance of some logic in the upper reaches of the Castro revolution. It is possible now that the logic will be carried a few steps further.

It would be a welcome development, for example, if the leader of the revolution would get a shave and get out of uniform. A prime minister in uniform smacks of the same old trouble with which Cuba had been afflicted so many times before.

It would be noteworthy, too, if Castro would lay aside the pistol he totes with him about the city, or that rifle with the telescopic sight he likes to carry with him when he ventures outside Havana.

It would be even more worthy of note if he would put an end to his constant whining about the United States and his habit of stirring up anti-American agitation to cover up his own shortcomings.

It would be healthy if he abandoned his attempts to regiment the young people of the country into goose-stepping, disciplined little mobsters, taught that their duty to the state is to squeal on neighbors and relatives.

It would be logical for Castro to take steps to prevent Cuba from drowning in seas of economic red tape and incompetence. There are a lot of boys in the Cuban government trying to do men's jobs.

Fidel Castro someday might even persuade his 30-year-old brother Raul, who boasts the magnificent title of commander in chief of the armed foces, to cut off his pony tail and consider the swashbuckling stage of the revolution at an end.

Above all, it would be a heartening development if Fidel Castro would stop trying to muzzle the press and his critics. Maybe there's hope. After all, one critic is being allowed to eat again.

Philippines Accept Successor to Bohlen

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine Foreign Office today announced formal acceptance of career diplomat John D. Hickerson as successor to U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

The appointment was announced in Washington Tuesday. Bohlen leaves Thursday for Japan and the United States to become an adviser to the State Department on Soviet affairs.

Hawaii-Chicago Flight in 3 Hours Predicted for '69

HONOLULU (AP) — Travelers will be flying from Chicago to Hawaii in less than three hours by 1967, says Robert F. Six, president of Continental Air Lines.

Six said he thinks his company can introduce supersonic craft on Hawaiian runs in 1967. He said the transports would fly 1,980 miles an hour or three times the speed of sound.

That speed would cut the Honolulu to San Francisco flight time to an hour and 40 minutes; to Los Angeles, an hour and 45 minutes, and from Honolulu to Chicago, two hours and 35 minutes.

Six is here to explain his company's position in the transpacific route case. Nine air lines are vying for new routes.

Auto Owners Tend to Have Low Grades

MANHATTAN, Kan. (UPI) — College freshmen should leave their cars at home, a Kansas State University psychologist says.

Donald P. Hoyt, head of Kansas State's counseling center says his advice is based on a study made on the relationship between car ownership and the grades of undergraduates at the university.

Freshmen with cars tended to have lower grades than those without cars, he said. This was particularly true of those majoring in engineering.

Khrushchev Wears a 'Sputnik Tie'

Plans Busy Year as President

Ike's Health Fine . . . Watches Diet

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower was 69 years old today. At an age when many men are puttering around in their carpet slippers, he was speeding cross-country in a jet airplane.

This was typical of the President who survived three grave illnesses in his middle sixties to go on to the most active period of his life since the days of World War II when he commanded the Allied forces against the Axis.

PLENTY OF BURDENS

As the President flew back to Washington after an overnight visit to his boyhood home of Abilene, Kans., there seemed little chance that his remaining 15 months in office would include any appreciable surcease from the burdens of the presidency.

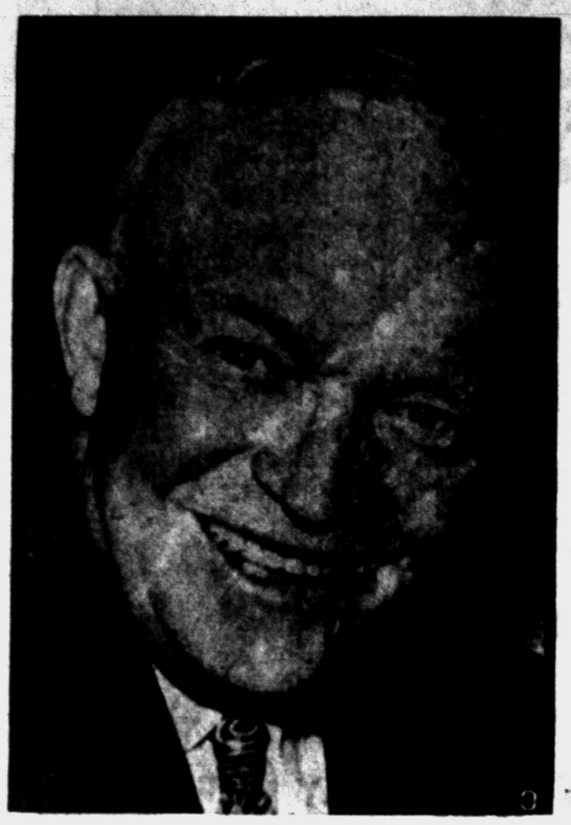

In fact, his final 15 months in the White House promise to be unusually active, including one or more summit conferences, a trip to Russia, probable journeys to Hawaii and Alaska and possibly one of the longest presidential jaunts in American history — a trip to the Far East.

From all external evidence, Eisenhower on his 69th birthday was in good health; possibly better health than at any time since his 1955 heart attack. His associates described his condition generally as "fine."

He still has trouble with colds. This, however, is not a condition that disturbs his doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard MC. Snyder.

The President only last week returned from eight days in Southern California where he went to lick a cold. Sunshine and relaxation worked effectively and although Eisenhower came home with a few traces of bronchial irritation, he seemed to be feeling much better.

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER AT 69

PLAYS REGARDLESS

While Eisenhower leads a highly active life, his daily way of living still shows evidence of his 1955 coronary illness. There was a period when he and his staff were sensitive about the amount of time he devoted to recreation, but this has disappeared for the most part. Golf is part of Eisenhower's health program and frankly, he doesn't care what people say about it.

* * *

He must watch his diet. He stays away from fats, starches and sweets. Instead of bacon for breakfast, he has a small piece of lean steak. He uses little or no butter on his toast and takes his coffee black.

He's in his office virtually every morning before 8 o'clock, but after lunch stretches out in bed for a rest of from 30 minutes to an hour.

Eisenhower seems less inclined to outburts of temper than during his earlier years in the White House.

NOT FEARFUL

For a man with a record of serious illness late in life, the President seems surprisingly free of apprehension about his future. He evidences no doubt whatever that he will be the first President to reach the age of 70 in office.

Only two other presidents ever reached 69 years of age while in the White House. They were Andrew Jackson and James Buchanan.

Eisenhower and his wife privately are planning the type of life they expect to lead after they leave the White House in January 1961.

They have talked with friends about the possibility of spending their winters in Arizona or Southern California. They may call their Gettysburg farm "home" after they leave office, but they're expected to spend a good bit of the year in Washington and New York.

PROBABLY WILL WRITE

Eisenhower is not likely to take a job as such after leaving office, but he is expected to resume writing about his career as a sequel to "Crusade in Europe" which dealt with World War II.

In physical appearance, Eisenhower has a few more lines around his eyes, but generally he is trim, erect and walks with an easy, sure-footed stride of the military man.

Currently he still is somewhat pinkish from the Southern California sun. He wears realtively heavy glasses for reading, but his sight is better than average for his age. His hearing also seems unimpaired although he does cup an ear occasionally at a question lost in the hubbub of a press conference.

The President is putting in office hours frequently longer than those of his pre-heart attack period. Many days when for all practical purposes he closes shop at 4 or 4:30, he strolls back to his office an hour later to put in an additional hour or two.

During the last session of Congress, he held numerous late afternoon and early evening conferences with legislative leaders in the residential section of the White House. He also uses the telephone a great deal.

When he's out of town, he telephones back to the White House several times a day to check with key members of his staff. Even on the golf course, he is apprised by shortwave radio if some urgent matter awaits his attention.

As he approached his 69th birthday, the President ranged from bemused detachment to rather sardonic laughter when confronted with another public analysis of "The New Eisenhower." Such commentaries have been appearing with increasing frequency since last fall.

As far as political theory is concerned, there is no "New Eisenhower." But there can be no effective denying of the fact that he has been a much more active President in his second term than he was during his first four years in office.

Board to Study Teacher Credits

Waterford's Dr. Reid Will Tell of In-Service Training Program

Reports, consideration of new school plans and regulation of automobiles on school property are on the agenda of tomorrow night's Waterford Township Board of Education meeting, according to superintendent William Shunck.

Dr. Chandos Reid, assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, will explain the operations of the unique in-service collegiate program being conducted in the school system by Wayne State, Eastern and Michigan State Universities, and the University of Michigan.

Waterford Township is one of the few schools in the state that makes available to teachers, opportunities for obtaining additional college credits while teaching in the school system, according to Dr. Reid.

Architects Smith & Smith are expected to present plans for a new elementary school building to be located on Merrie Road. The firm also has been awarded contracts for a second elementary building after construction is completed on the Merrie road school.

Because of a recent ruling by the State Department of Education, the Waterford Township Board will discuss adequate regulations to control the speed of motor vehicles on school property.

According to the ruling, school boards may establish and approve speed limits in the school zone.

Lift Travel Curbs on State Employes

LANSING (UPI) — Tight travel restrictions on state officials and other employes have been lifted.

Acting Gov. John B. Swainson said Tuesday that the State Administrative Board six weeks ago decided the ban could be removed and that technically, the restrictions were lifted with the end of the 1958-59 fiscal year, June 31.

He said the state's financial situation was still "precarious at best" but that the Legislature, in approving the budget for the current fiscal year, authorized state agencies to spend budgeted amounts.

YEAH, ME — Nigel Mulsworth, a Washington, D.C., basset hound, is up for sale. He peers out the window while his owner, Nancy Norman, is at work. Asking price—$125.

Want Reporting Plan for Patient Abuses

LANSING (UPI) — A uniform reporting method covering "all alleged incidents of patient abuse" probably will be set up by the State Mental Health Commission, Director Charles F. Wagg said today.

The method was recommended last week by a "blue ribbon" governor's appointed committee investigating Michigan's mental health program.

"We'll bring all these recommendations up for discussion at our meeting Thursday," Wagg said, "and most of them will probably be instituted."

The committee, appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, also had asked that all such cases and ones of patient deaths or injuries be reported to a patients' relatives as soon as possible by a hospital staff member, not "by a policeman or newspaper clipping."

Retirement at 65 Wrong, Says Doctor

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The president of the American Medical Assn. yesterday called for a complete overhaul of America's retirement patterns and the "illogical caprice of personnel policies that put men out to pasture after 65."

Dr. Louis M. Orr said:

"England with Winston Churchill and West Germany with Konrad Adenauer would have been in bad shape if they put an age limit on their public servants."

"Some men are old at 40 and some are young at 80."

Tot, 6, Chief Witness for Murder Trial

CHICAGO (UPI) — Six-year-old Nancy Hansen will take the stand today as the chief defense witness at her father's trial on charges of murdering her mother.

Nancy's father, Duncan Hansen, 29, was accused of killing his socialite ex-wife, Susan, 25. She was found dead of a broken neck in her fashionable South Side home May 24.

Hansen's defense attorneys were confident the little girl's testimony would show Hansen was not near the scene of the crime at the time his ex-wife was slain.

According to Nancy's testimony outside the jury's hearing Saturday, her first contact with her father the day of the slaying was by telephone after the established time of her mother's death.

Ruling on the tot's competency as a witness followed heated arguments from opposing attorneys, who cited precedents purportedly both supporting and denying the ability of a youngster of her age to recount accurately circumstances surrounding the scene of a crime.

Dog Bites Man, Dies

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — Airman Roger B. Clapp Jr., stationed at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station, leaned over and patted a stray. The mongrel bit him. Both were given tests and neither had rabies. Clapp's wound healed. Five days later the dog died.

Michigan School Man Says: Use Vet Fund

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett says the 50 million dollar veterans trust fund should be liquidated and all proceeds applied to alleviating education money problems.

Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, made his recommendation at the 11th annual meeting of the Michigan Assn. of School Boards yesterday.

The trust fund, subject of much debate by the 1959 Legislature, would be worth about 40 million dollars in cash on the current market.

* * *

Bartlett said state aid payments to local school districts already are 25 million dollars behind for the fiscal year begun July 1, and that many districts will have to borrow heavily to make ends meet.

Revive Old Dispute Over Gulf Oil Lands

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Price Daniel of Texas and U.S. Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin clashed in the Supreme Court Tuesday over whether Congress in 1953 actually granted Texas a 10½-mile seaward boundary which would include fabulously rich submerged oil lands.

Rankin argued that the submerged Lands Act, passed that year, did not settle the off-shore boundary of Texas and other Gulf Coast states. He said Congress merely fixed a three league, or 10½-mile limit, in the gulf and left the rest for the state to prove in court.

Daniel, who was a Senator and cosponsor of the legislation, contradicted Rankin. He referred to the solicitor general's "unheard-of policy of boundary shrinkage."

"The issue was met head-on, Daniel told the court.

The multi-million-dollar dispute involves the question of whether the federal government will receive huge sums from oil companies which drill in the offshore area. The states affected are Texas, Louisianna, Alabama, Florida and Mississippi.

The first settlement of Boston was by Puritans headed by John Winthrop in 1630.

Hal Boyle Says Parents Get SO TIRED

Teenagers Remarks Grind Out Like These:

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Teen-age rmarks that parents get tired of hearing—or overhearing:

"I'll do it later."

BOYLE

"The trouble with you and Dad is that you've forgotten what it's like to be young."

"Hey, Sis, I hear Dad got a five - buck raise. Let's ask him to double our allowance."

"I know it's a weekend night, Jot, but you'd better go now — even if it is early. The old folks need their rest."

"Hey, Mom, can I borrow $19.95 to take this muscle-building course by mail?"

"Mother, pul-l-lease act your age. You can't wear a dress that short. It makes you look ridiculous."

"You think the pictures in your family album are funny? Boy, wait'll you take a look at ours."

"What makes all parents such squares? Were they born that way?"

"Sure, I said I'd cut the grass and I will — tomorrow, when it's cloudy. You don't want a fellow to get sunstroke, do you?"

"You know how hard Dad says he had to study when he was a kid? Well, I found one of his old high school report cards in the attic, and guess what."

"Tell me, Mom, what was life really like in the old days, when you were young?"

'WHY CAN'T I?'

"What's wrong with me, Mom? Here I am 13 — and not even going steady."

"Yeah, I'm looking for a job after school, too — about five years after."

"I don't see why you're so shocked at what I wrote in my diary. I found some of your old love letters and."

"Why can't I? Every other kid my age does."

"Every family in the block has a new car but us."

"If you think I tie up the phone so much, why can't I have a phone of my own?"

"Papa, what's a depression?"

"Yeah, and they danced something called 'the Charleston' and 'the Big Apple,' and made fudge in the kitchen. Weren't they quaint?"

"Wonder what Dad looked like when he had hair. Was he handsome?"

"He says that since it's Saturday night we can stay out until midnight. Big deal!"

"Well, if the television's broke, I guess I might as well do my homework."

"Go on, Dad, the walk'll do you and Mom good. I can't spare the car tonight."

"What do you and Pop know about love anyway?"

Bagwell Has Worldwide Idea

Suggests 'Seaway Fair'

EAST LANSING (AP)—A floating world's fair on the St. Lawrence Seaway was proposed to a presidential committee today by Paul D. Bagwell, 1958 Republican candidate for governor.

Bagwell came up with the suggestion after learning President Eisenhower had named a three-man committee to consider prospects of holding a world's fair in this country in 1964.

The committee will work with Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller of Grand Rapids and his department.

Bagwell, in telegrams to Mueller and the committe, said he and others already have started looking inot the possibilities of a "floating festival" on the Great Lakes and the Seaway.

"Each participating nation could outfit a ship as a pavilion to display its wares," he said. "The fleet would visit major Great Lakes seaports."

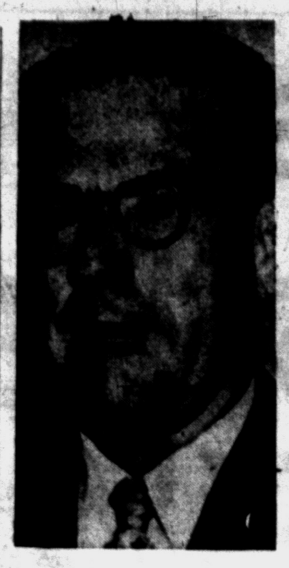

Bagwell, scholarships director at Michigan State University, said the fair would encourage expansion of international trade and bring the exhibition to many people.

He made a similar suggestion in his unsuccessful campaign to unseat Gov. Williams.

Standard Oil Buys Up Leonard Refineries, Inc.

ALMA (AP) — Plans to acquire Leonard Refineries, Inc., of Alma, one of Michigan's larger oil firms, have been announced by Standard Oil of Ohio and Leonard.

The two companies announced will buy the Michigan company for about 17 million dollars, pending approval by Leonard stockholders. Leonard has refineries at Alma and Mount Pleasant.

3rd Hunter Killed, Officer Wounded

By The Associated Press

A third hunter met death and a state conservation officer was badly wounded Tuesday in the Michigan small game season.

Vernon Barnes, 67, of Elk Rapids, was shot and killed accidentally by his own shotgun as he hunted alone east of his Grand Traverse County home.

Gary Butcher, 33, Jackson County conservation officer, was shot in the face, neck and shoulder by a rabbit - hunting teenager near Portage Lake in the Waterloo area.

Doctors at Mercy Hospital in Jackson said Dutcher may lose the sight of his left eye.

Pontiac City Affairs

Ask Improvements Near Bethune

The city was asked last night to consider sidewalks, traffic control signals and better street drainage in the vicinity of Bethune School.

All are needed for the protection of school children, city commissioners were told by Mrs. Harold Hall, chairman of the Bethune PTA safety committee.

City Commissioner Milton R. Henry said he would propose next Tuesday that improvements be declared a public necessity. Meanwhile, City Manager Walter K. Wilhman was asked to study Mrs. Hall's recommendations.

She said that children were forced to walk in the street in heavy traffic because of lack of sidewalks. She said that deep pools of rainwater accumulated in the children's path and that some existing sidewalks are in poor condition and dangerous to pedestrians.

In other action, contracts for construction of the $500,000 Pontiac Public Library came back signed by contractors.

The Bundy Construction Co. contract was in the amount of $366,690 for general construction plus $30,700 for shelving and stacks. Paul's Electric Co.'s was $40,516 for electrical work and Joseph P. Krepf Inc.'s $93,325 for plumbing and heating.

A hearing was set next Tuesday on assessment rolls for a new sidewalk on the north side of Walton boulevard at Stanley avenue.

No objections were raised at a hearing on intention to construct a 525-foot water main on the south side of Walton boulevard west of Telegraph road.

Although there was some neighborhood opposition to construction of a sanitary sewer on three District 4 streets, Commissioner Floyd P. Miles won support for the project "because most people want it."

The sewer will be on Emiry street, Sawyer to Hollister; Hollister street, Emiry to Crittenden, and Crittenden street, Hollister to Kenney.

Confirmed were assessment rolls for new sidewalks on the east side of Arlene avenue, Madison to Columbia, and on North Saginaw street, Rundell to north of Virginia.

By a 6-1 vote, permission was granted The Pontiac Press Sports Department to begin its annual bowling tournament at 11 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 18 at Westside Recreation, 199 Orchard Lake Ave.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles objected to "repeated exceptions" to the law forbidding bowling alleys to open before noon on Sundays.

Fritz Crisler Denies Report

Says He Hasn't Agreed to Head New League of Pro Football

DETROIT (AP) — Fritz Crisler, athletic director at the University of Michigan, today denied a published report that he has agreed to become commissioner of the new American Professional football League.

"It's a lie, and it's a big lie," Crisler screamed.

He was reached by phone at a Beverly Hills hotel. Crisler went to California Monday night and conferred Tuesday with officials of the new pro league.

The Detroit News said today that Crisler would head the new league. It said he had accepted the job at a salary of $50,000 a year.

"I've talked with these people but I've made no decision," said Crisler, athletic director at Michigan since 1941. "When I have something to say about it, I'll say it. But I'm sick of people making up my mind for me, and saying things that aren't so."

Crisler has met at least three times with Lamar Hunt, H. P. Skoglund and Barron Hilton, owners of three of the franchises in the new league and members of a committee to select a commissioner.

Two of the meetings were held in Ann Arbor. Crisler became coach at Michigan in 1938 and retired after his 1947 team won the Big Ten title.

Waterford Man Found Innocent in Auto Death

A 32-year-old Waterford Township man yesterday was acquitted of negligent homicide in the auto crash death of a friend in June by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury of nine women and three men.

Isidio Aguilera of 2901 Peerless St., was found not guilty by the jury which had to return to Judge H. Russel Holland's court in the afternoon to be reinstructed after it was having trouble arriving at a verdict.

Jurors, who said they were deadlocked 7-5, said they couldn't decide who was driving the car when the accident happened June 27 on Kennett road.

Killed when the car in which he was riding ran off the road and rolled over twice was Raymundo N. Vasquez, 23, of 2897 Peerless St.

Aguilera at first admitted, police said, that he was driving the car, then denied it.

OKs City's Annexation of Future Courthouse Site

With an assertion that "no deals were made," city commissioners last night approved annexation to Pontiac of Oakland County Service Center property on part of which the new courthouse is to be located.

The move also must be approved by Waterford Township before it becomes official.

Commissioners acted on a petition submitted by the county and signed by 11 persons who reside in the service center, including William G. Moulton Jr., director of the Juvenile Home; Mrs. Moulton and nine inmates of the Oakland County Infirmary.

Annexation was sought since the courthouse must be located within the city limits of Pontiac — the county seat.

Commissioners unanimously approved the annexation, a move which clears the way for the county to move the courthouse from downtown Pontiac to the northwest side.

"Some of us went on record as long as five years ago approving this move," said Commissioner William W. Donaldson.

"It was the county that chose the new site, not us," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston. "It's only logical and common sense now for us to cooperate."

Donaldson denied that the city was getting favorable consideration of two road proposals in exchange for its cooperation on annexation.

The city brought up the road proposals two weeks ago with the Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee after tentatively agreeing to annex the service center.

"It was our first meeting with the county in many years and it just happened that we had several items on the agenda," Donaldson said. "But there was no connection between the items — no deals made."

At the meeting, the Ways and Means Committee looked favorably on proposals for a big entranceway to Michigan State University Oakland on the Pontiac side of campus and paving of Featherstone road between the city limits and Opdyke road.

Crash Into Tree Hurts 2 Pontiac Teen Girls

Two Pontiac teenagers were injured slightly when the car in which they were riding struck a tree along Airport road near Elizabeth Lake road in Waterford Township last night, according to Pontiac State Police.

Charles DeLisle, 15, of 4662 Siebert St., and Janet Gibson, 14, of 5825 Eldridge St., were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

This Time the Sippers Are Friends

DETROIT (AP)—Walter Nau's Sno-White dining room was jammed again by coffee sippers yesterday, but these didn't come from the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Union which twice before had jammed the place with coffee sit-downers.

Those who came yesterday were some 300 friends, mostly Northwest Detroit businessmen neighbors of Nau, and they left $1,893 in a punch bowl.

Nau had estimated that the union sit-downs, staged in conjunction with picketing to force a union contract, had cost him $1,250 in lost business, lost silverware and broken plumbing.

Nau contends the union does not represent a majority of his employes and contends none are on strike.

He said he proposed an election and that the union rejected the proposal.

The restaurant owner described himself as overwhelmed "by this show of confidence" yesterday, adding that "after six months somethnig nice has happened."

Antimissile Missile Scores 1st Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army today announced the first partially successful flight launching of a Nike Zeus antimissile missile at White Sands, N. M.

The powerful booster rocket lifted the missile from its pad at 11:30 a. m. EST and the sustaining engine performed successfully, the Army said, although the test missile slowed down during the coasting stage and fell somewhat short of the 70 miles it was supposed to have traveled.

The first attempt on Aug. 26 to launch a missile under the multi-billion dollar Zeus program failed when the power packed rocket blew up in midair.

The Army said the test launching today appeared to indicate that the trouble encountered on the first try had been overcome.

New Explorer 7 Spinning in Orbit

Scientists Pleased at Extra Good Circle Trip Because of Gauges

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —America's new Explorer VII satellite is spinning about the earth every hour and 41 seconds gathering data about space radiation and the weather.

A four-stage Juno II rocket lifted the gyroscope satellite into orbit Tuesday and it immediately began transmitting valuable information.

Space scientists were pleased with the orbit attained—which takes the Explorer VII 664 miles from the earth at its farthest point and as close as 346 miles at its nearest point.

Dr. Homer Newell Jr. of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported this orbit is more nearly circular than hoped for and said it would be an advantage because of the nature of some of the seven experiments carried in the instrument package.

For one thing, he noted, gauges designed to measure cosmic rays will not be unduly flooded by high altitude radiation.

Newell announced one of the two satellite radio transmitters was weaker than hoped for and that it probably will die in about two months. The transmitter is designed for precision tracking of the satellite. Newell said, however, that when the radio stops, the satellite can be tracked by telescopic means.

UP FOR 20 YEARS

Explorer VII is expected to stay aloft for 20 years, but it will relay information for only one year. After that period, an automatic device will shut off the second transmitter. This is to prevent the radio signals from cluttering up satellite broadcasting wavelengths.

The main mission of the new satellite was to study the lower levels of bands of radiation hovering above the earth. This data may help ease man's way to the moon.

Comic Stripper Weds, Retires

Britons Mourning 'Jane'

LONDON (UPI) — Millions of readers of the Daily Mirror bade farewell today to "Jane."

Jane got married last week. Britons mourned.

"Jane" was a comic strip, with the emphasis on strip, a blonde, innocent, cute, virtuous girl who from 1932 to 1959 specialized in getting herself in situations with her clothes mostly off.

She had adorned the inside of the Mirror's pages every day up to last week, when the Mirror finally married her off and dropped her from the paper forever.

She was quite a girl. One lord said that I remember at the admiralty during the war no admiral ever settled down to his day's work until he had looked to see whether the young lady's clothes were on or off that morning."

During periods of bad news, Jane kept up British Army morale by keeping her clothes mostly off. Her picture was painted on the first tank to go ashore at Normandy.

Many British newspapers paid tribute to her marriage, with the Daily Telegraph pinpointing the reason the Mirror dropped her:

"Last week," it said, "Jane retired from the Daily Mirror. So the world of the Forties, the era of austerity, of dig for victory and work or want, passed into history."

Humorist's Son Nailed for Sounding Off

ORILLIA, Ont. (UPI)—Stephen Leacock Jr., son of the famed humorist, was handed a suspended two-year sentence yesterday for creating a disturbance.

During that period the 44-year-old Leacock must not operate a car or motorboat or own a firearm.

Police testified that Leacock grounded his boat on the west shore of Lake Cuchicing, Oct. 5, operated his siren, which is normally a distress signal, swore at a large number of spectators and threatened to shoot anyone who came near.

Edward G. Robinson Jr. Jailed on Drunk Charge

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI) — Actor Edward G. Robinson Jr. was held in jail on a plain drunk charge today following a run-in with police.

The 26-year-old son of the famed "tough guy" actor was found wandering last night with a friend identified as Jack C. Ward in an alley behind a Beverly Glen apartment house.

Teamster Is Pushing His Probe Libel Suit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — William E. Bufalino, a Detroit Teamster official, has asked for a federal court order to force the Senate Rackets Committee to produce all records and correspondence it has concerning him.

Bufalino, president of Teamster Local 985, said yesterday he needed the documents for a $5,000,000 libel suit he had pending against former committee counsel Robert Kennedy in Detroit. The suit was filed in September 1958.

It has languished on the calendar there because Bufalino was never able to serve Kennedy with a summons in Michigan. He recently asked the Sixth U.S. Circuit Appeals Court to transfer the suit to Washington, where he believes he can serve the necessary papers.

Bufalino testified in 1958 that a committee investigator had pulled a gun on a union business agent in Detroit. Kennedy denied it on a television program here. Bufalino charged that Kennedy libeled him by implying that he had made up the story.

Algerian Conflict Nearly Settled (?)

MADRID, Spain (AP)—French officials and Algerian nationalists are nearing a settlement of the bitter Algerian revolt in secret talks beng held across Africa, according to usually reliable Arab sources here.

The informants, who are close to the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN), report that the talks aimed at settling the five-year-old conflict have been under way since the latter part of September.

They said the two adversaries began meeting even before Sept. 28, when the rebels announced they were ready to discuss the political and military implications of French President Charles de Gaulle's offer of a self-determination election in Algeria four years after the end of fighting.

Party Line Gabbers Better Hand It Over

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Refusal to give up a party telephone line during an emergency could prove costly in Wisconsin.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson has signed into law a bill calling for a $500 fine in such cases.

The Community Chest idea began in Cleveland, Ohio.

2 Electrical Firms, Presidents Indicted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two Texas electrical contracting firms and their presidents were indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of making illegal kickbacks to a former union official in their plant.

The indictment was handed down in Houston, Tex., and announced here by the Justice Department. The action was taken under the Taft-Hartley law which outlaws payoffs.

One 12-count indictment charged that the Hirsh Electric Co. of Houston and its president, Daniel Hirsh, made illegal payments to Bufard B. Morgan, former business agent of Local 716 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

A second seven-count indictment accused the Dallas firm of Fischbach and Moore of Texas, Inc., and its former president, Robert E. Moore, of making payments to Morgan at a time when he represented the company's employes.

In all, the indictments said, Morgan received money and other things of value from both companies amounting to about $23,000.

The indictments charged the companies made the payments to influence Morgan "in the conduct of his duties as a union business manager and to cause him to assist them in acquiring a competitive advantage in obtaining industrial electrical contracts."

U.S. Proposes World Police

Wants U.N. to Study Plan, in Event Powers Agree to Disarm

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The United States called today for a U. N. study on a system of international and domestic police forces to preserve peace in the event of total world disarmament.

The new survey was proposed by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge as a parallel to discussions of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's total disarmament plan laid before the U. N. General Assembly Sept. 18.

Lodge told the Assembly's 82-nation Political Committee the United States would join other members of the new 10-nation disarmament group in Geneva early next year in giving to the Soviet proposals the most serious scrutiny.

He said, however, that the United States still does not know what kind of inspection and controls the Soviet Union will accept and this is a key to whether the Soviet plan is acceptable.

"There cannot be 100 per cent disarmament with only 10 per cent inspection," Lodge declared.

He urged the Soviet Union to elaborate a detailed control plan before the Geneva disarmament talks begin if it wants the Khrushchev plan to get serious consideration.

Wrestler Takes On Auto

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)— Steve Lux of Waldron, Ind., told police he glanced out his car window at a stop light, saw a familiar face in the next car, and told his companions "There's the meathead who was wrestling tonight." The wrestler got out of his car, kicked a dent in Lux's car, broke a window, climbed back in his car and drove off.

Swainson Lauds Michigan Press, Proclaims Week

LANSING (AP) "Newspapers are one of the most important factors in our everyday life," said Acting Gov. John B. Swainson today in proclaiming the week of Oct. 15-21 newspaper week in Michigan.

"The newspaper is not designed to be solely a source of information," Swainson said, "It has the added responsibility of civic leadership.

"During the past year, this was demonstrated when over 300 Michigan newspapers presented at no cost advertisements promoting a better understanding of Michigan's economic and industrial potential."

From a total circulation of a few hundred 150 years ago, newspaper circulation in Michigan has grown to $3,273,000, illustrating "the great responsibility which rests on each newspaper," Swainson said.

Cross Co. Talks Set to Start Next Monday

DETROIT (UPI) — State and federal mediation officials have scheduled a meeting next Monday to get the Cross Co. back to bargaining with the union that has been on strine against it for 72 days.

The break in the long deadlock between company and Local 155 of the United Auto Workers came yesterday when the Cross Co. announced it would resume bargaining on a new contract.

The company had refused to bargain with the union since last June, claiming a majority of its production workers did not want the union as its agent. But the United States Court of Appeals in Cincinnati last Friday turned down an attempt by the company to overturn a National Labor Relations Board ruling that the UAW local was the proper bargaining agent.

Ford Prices Stay With Chevy on 2 New Models

DETROIT (UP) — Ford matched Chevrolet Tuesday in offering two additional models of its least expensive line of 1960 cars.

The factory list price tags of $2,026 for a two door and $2,076 for a four door sedan are the same as for two new Chevrolet models announced last week.

All prices are before federal excise tax dealer handling charges, freight and state or local taxes.

Ford said its new models are $25 less than the previously announced fairlane models.

Both Chevrolet and Ford are aiming at fleet sales with the cars which have a minimum of trim and equipment.

Nixon Going to Florida to Rest for '60 Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon heads for West Palm Beach, Fla., Thursday for a vacation before stepping up his politicking next month.

At a time when New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller remains undecided whether he will contest Nixon for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, the vice president gives every evidence of confidence he could win such a battle if it develops.

Although Nixon himself has said he doesn't put much dependence in polls, his associates are getting a big kick out of gathering the results of various public opinion surveys that show him highly favored over Rockefeller and running ahead of Democratic hopefuls.

Rockefeller once said he would take a look at the polls in November and make up his mind whether he thought he could offer the Republicans a better chance to retain the White House next year than Nixon could.

The governor subsequently downgraded the polls, however, saying his decision would depend on whether he thought he could be of service to the country by offering himself as a candidate.

Nixon's associates discounted a published report that President Eisenhower might abandon his announced neutrality between Nixon and Rockefeller to support the latter because of a disagreement with the vice president over Soviet policy.

Newsweek magazine said this conceivably could happen. It said Eisenhower is not now relying on Nixon to carry on for him as he has in the past and is not consulting Nixon about advance planning for a summit meeting.

Nixon's friends replied by pointing to an Oct. 4 statement by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty that he knew of no differences between the two men in their atttude toward Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peace offensive.

Granddaughter of FDR to Wed News Reporter

NEW YORK (UP) — Miss Kate Roosevelt, whose grandfather was the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and William Haddad, a New York Post reporter, Tuesday applied for a marriage license.

Miss Roosevelt, 23, is the adopted daughter of John Hay Whitney, U.S. ambassador to England and publisher of the New York Herald Tribune.

She is the daughter of Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif) and the former Betsy Cushing, now Mrs. Whitney.

Haddad, 31, is the son of the late Charles Haddad of Madeira Beach, Fla., and Esther Dubin.

The couple will be married Saturday at a small family ceremony.

Siamese Twins Gain on Rally From Brink

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Jeanett Subblefield today is breathing more easily than at any time since she was separated from her Siamese twin sister a week ago Tuesday.

While both still remain on the critical list, they are beginning to eat well.

Denett is up to 4½ ounces of formula every three hours. Jeanett's diet Tuesday was jumped from 2 to 4 ounces every three hours.

The girls were born June 29 at Nyssa, Ore.

Yes sir! When it came time for me to install a new furnace last year I had a heck of a time trying to make up my mind what type to install. After a lot of checking, I finally decided on oil—and that's the smartest thing I ever did.

Do you know—I discovered there are more homes in America heated with oil than with any other type of fuel. As a matter of fact—oil is the safest and cleanest method of home heating yet devised. That's mighty important, and something many people don't know. Yes sir, Jim, if I were you I'd look very carefully into the matter, and I'd check with a member of the Oakland Oil Heat Council for some good, sound advice, too.

Hot Dogs au Gratin?

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)— "Whatcha got today?"

A Roanoke hot dog stand proprietor has the answer to this question ready made. His menu is posted on the wall, but he hands an inquirer a lengthy menu in French from a famous Montreal restaurant. Old customers roar with laughter at the puzzled looks it brings.

For especially delicious cole slaw, moisten the cabbage with old-fashioned boiled dressing.

Brown Meringue Top Over Bananas in Cake

Sponge cake shells filled with sliced bananas, covered with Vanilla Meringue and baked to a golden brown turn for 10 minutes at 350 degrees F. makes a perfect dessert in jig time.

To make Meringue: Beat 2 egg whites until soft peaks are formed. Add ¾ teaspoon pure vanilla extract and 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating until stiff. Makes sufficient meringue for 6 shells.

Pickled Beets Spice Cooked Spinach

Unusual and flavorsome combination of vegetables.

Spiced Spinach

1 package (10 ounces) frozen leaf spinach boiling water salt
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup thin strips drained pickled beets
1 tablespoon liquor from pickled beets

Cook spinach according to package directions using the amount of water and salt called for on package; drain. Cut spinach into shorter lengths; return to saucepan with butter, beets and beet liquor; reheat. Makes 3 servings. Double recipe if you like.

Add lots of minced chives to the mayonnaise you are going to use when making cucumber sandwiches.

Good With Fruit

Top fruit salads with a flavorful dressing made by mixing equal amounts of dairy sour cream and creamed cottage cheese. For tartness add a bit of lemon juice and grated lemon rind.

KALAMAZOO'S MALL — A band concert in the park instead of a traffic jam.

Kalamazoo, Toledo Malls Hit With Shoppers, Businessmen

TOLEDO (NEA) — The citizens of this bustling Lake Erie city are generally enthusiastic over the method used to cut out the noise, danger and ulcer-producing scramble of its busiest downtown section.

The method was to cut out the section. Literally. Four blocks of it.

In its place is a shopper's mall, a shady retreat from the cars and cares of the concrete day — with grass, flowers, foliage, fountains, music piped in from hidden loud speakers, and sidewalks and pavements painted to blend with the planted areas.

Opened on Aug. 3, the "shoppers' see-way," as the four-block pedestrians-only mall is called, is a $15,000 experiment to tranquilize the city's nerve center which seems to be paying off.

Although mixed, the initial reaction to the mall on the whole was complimentary enough to have the oroginal 45-day trial run extended to Nov. 15.

The glass-making city is not the only one taken with a pedestrian plaza which cuts through the riot of its business center.

Kalamazoo has just made its two block-long mall opened Aug. 19 a permanent fixture, and has plans for more; Fort Worth, Tex., boasts one; and smaller Middletown, in southern Ohio, also lets the buildings along its busiest street look out on flowers and shrubs instead of meters and asphalt.

Kalamazoo and Toledo, in fact, are locked in a mall-running rivalry.

Dan Ryan, editor of the Kalamazoo Gazette, charges that Toledo officials visited the city on pretext of consulting about mall plans, and then "rushed back and threw up a few potted plants ahead of us to get national publicity."

Toledo, in turn, charged that Kalamazoo's mall, which covers the entire street width, is not adaptable to fire trucks on emergency calls.

FIRE RUNS OK

Answers Ryan: "We had a trial run recently and it's OK. The engine knocked down a few shrubs, but no other trouble."

Kalamazoo, which has provided a complete children's playground at one end of its mall, plans to complete the conversion of its entire 52-block downtown core into pedestrian malls before its originally scheduled date in 1980.

Downtown merchants report sales increases of 20 per cent and up.

The idea for the Toledo's mall came into being last June when the county planning commission met to hear a plan for the redevelopment of the entire downtown area.

Sparked by commission president Ned Skelton, the group decided to try a small section of mall at once.

They created a special committee, enlisted the support of professional and civic organizations, got an apupropriation granted by the city council and, less than a month later, the mall was completed. The actual construction took only two days.

SALES UP

Reactions from storekeepers and businessmen along the flowery freeway generally have been enthusiastic. A poll indicated that 70 per cent of the merchants reported increased sales, some up to 40 per cent.

One candy store operator reported an increase of 200 per cent.

Typical non-professional reactions are summed up in the comment of one housewife:

"It gives the downtown area a suburban atmosphere. People are relaxed and casual. They forget they are in the busy city."

"It would be OK if they could just find a place besides the streets to put it in."

Other comments range from "it just gives the town bums another place to loaf" to "it made the parking situation worse."

With the latter complaint Toledo Chamber of Commerce president Vern Buchenberger agrees.

TOLEDO'S SHOPPERS' SEE-WAY — A $15,000 bid to tranquilize a noisy nerve center.

"Parking is the biggest problem. We have plans for a number of city-owned garages. The 'see-way' is only a part of the over-all downtown redevelopment program.

"In the meantime, we're using existing lots and count on employing cleared land until the garages are built," Buchenberger says.

Despite these accompanying problems, the Toledo mall has attracted 60 delegations from other cities, as far away as Ottawa, Canada, and inquiries from 100 others.

Prince and Princess Go Visiting

Grace Is Toast of Paris

PARIS (UPI)—Prince Rainier of Monaco and his Philadelphia-born Princess Grace end a three-day state visit to Pa is today by giving a formal luncheon for President and Mrs. Charles de Gaulle.

For Rainier it was a state visit, but for Grace it was a personal triumph.

Her pictures—with or without Rainier and with or without De Gaulle—filled the Paris newspapers, and everywhere the couple went there were cries of "Viva Grace."

The luncheon was at the Monegasque Legation in the chic Passy neighborhood on Paris' west side. it was in return for a formal welcoming lunch De Gaulle gave the Rainiers Monday when they arrived for the state visit.

PROTOCAL TAKES OVER

The Paris visit was the traditional visit paid by the rulers of Monaco to the new French president. State protocol starched almost every moment of the stay but a series of receptions and parties gave Parisians a chance to applaud the visiting couple.

Last night Grace, in a dazzling evening dress, and Rainier became the official "toast of Paris" at a banquet given them by the city council. Tonight the prince and princess hold a formal reception at the legation.

Then for the first time in three days Grace will have time free to spend with her children, Caroline, 2, and Albert, 1, who accompanied the royal couple here from Monaco.

Mac Shakes Up Government

Appoints New Defense Minister for England, Shuffles Others

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan completed a broad reshuffle of his government today including appointment of a new defense minister.

Harold Watkinson, minister of transport in Macmillan's last cabinet, was given the defense post.

He replaced Duncan Sandys, son-in-law of Sir Winston Churchill, who was transferred to the new job of minister of aviation.

The three top cabinet jobs were untouched.

Home Secretary Richard A. Butler, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Chancellor of the Exchequer Derick Heathcoat Amory kept their jobs.

SECRETARY RESIGNS

Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd, who had been sharply criticized for the Cyprus revolt, Nyasaland disorders and the Hola Prison Camp massacre in Kenya, resigned, it was announced.

He was replaced by Former Minister of Labor Iain MacLeod.

The former ministry of transport and civil aviation, previously held by Watkinson, was split into two parts—a ministry of transport and a ministry of civil aviation.

Postmaster General Ernest Marples was named transport minister, while Sandys became aviation minister.

A new job of minister responsible for scientific affairs was created. It was given to Lord Hailsham, chairman of the Conservative Party, who at the same time received the sinecure post of lord privy seal which formerly was incorporated in the home secretary's post.

MacLeod's job as minister of labor went to Conservative Party Chief Whip Edward Heath, who held no cabinet post previously.

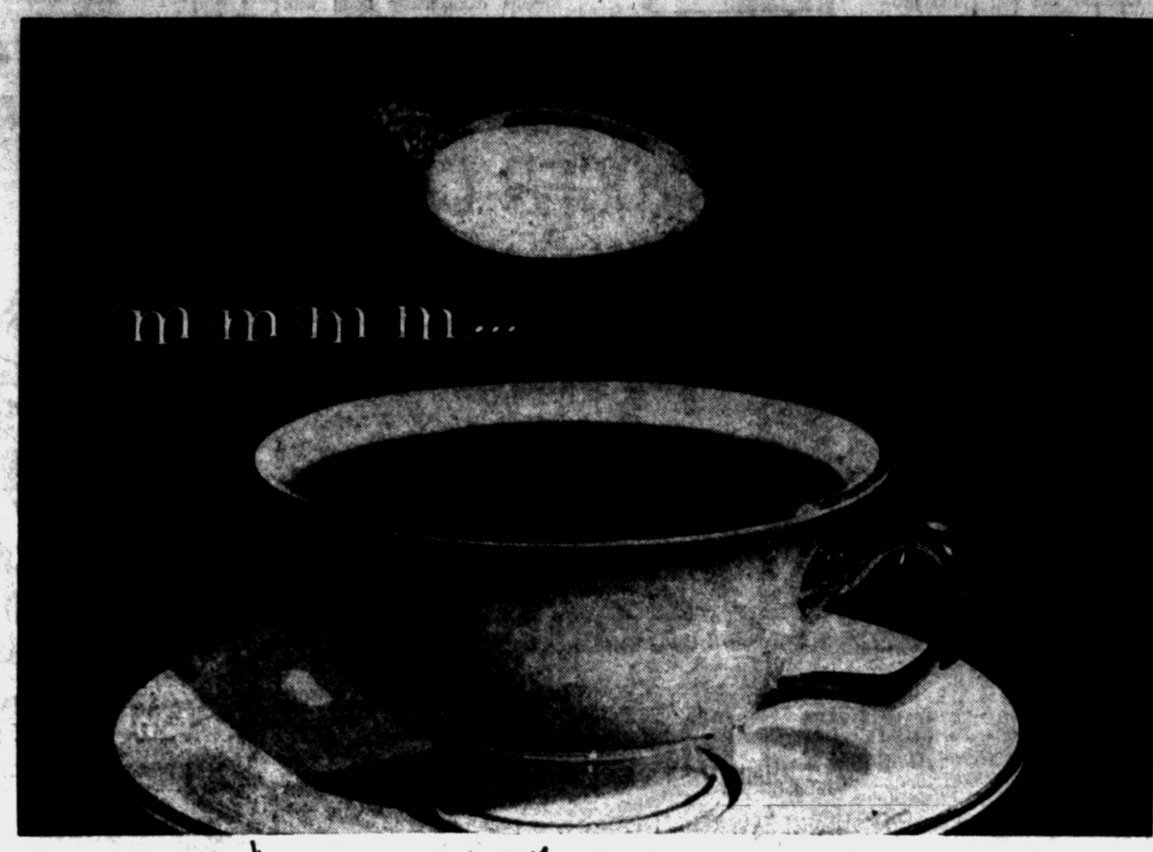

The Earl of Home retained his post as secretary of state for commonwealth relations with the job of lord president of the council attached to it.

Hailsham previously was lord president of the council, another sinecure position.

Woman in Court on Two Counts

Insurance Man's Wife Charged With Armed Robbery in Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The government contends Mrs. Charles Anderson's urgent need for money drove her to armed robbery.

The 34-year-old blonde wife of an insurance company executive is on trial in U.S. District Court on two counts of armed robbery.

The attractive mother whom neighbors described as a model housewife is accused of robbing two savings and loan association offices last year of $2,974.

U.S. Atty. W. L. Longshore began to piece together testimony showing that Mrs. Anderson needed money and had sought to borrow from friends, relatives and former employes.

One key witness Tuesday was Frank Burson, head of Buckhorn Insurance Co. in Atlanta, where Mrs. Anderson was employed before she and her second husband moved to Birmingham.

Burson testified Mrs. Anderson's accounts were short $2,500 when she resigned. He said he notified a bonding company and eventually was paid $1,518.63.

LA Favored to Ruin Perfect Packer Record

Green Bay Underdog

By United Press International

The Los Angeles Rams are three-point favorites to smash the National Football League's ony remaining perfect record Sunday when they tackle the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee.

Los Angeles is favored although it dropped two of its first three games while Green Bay, surprise team of the campaign, swept its first three starts.

In another key Western Division game, the champion Baltimore Colts (2-1) are slim, one-point choices for their game with the Bears (1-2) at Chicago. The Lions (0-3) are favored over the San Francisco Forty-Niners (2-1) by two points at Detroit in the other Western Division clash.

The New York Giants are Sunday's heaviest favorites. They are 6½ point choices to whip the Eagles at New York although they took a 49-21 walloping from the Eagles two weeks ago at Philadelphia.

New York, Philadelphia and the Washington Redskins are tied for the Eastern Division lead with 2-1 records. The Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers (1-2) are rated even for their game at Washington. In the other Eastern Division pairing, the Browns (1-2) are 4½ point choices to beat the Chicago Cardinals (1-2) at Cleveland.

Green Bay has been winning with a good defense that has allowed only 36 points, an average of 12 a game, in defeating the Bears, Lions and Forty-Niners.

The Rams, who feature long-range offensive power, are favored over Green Bay although Bill Wade, their No. 1 quarterback, has a knee injury which may hamper him. Wade likes to fire long passes to Jim Phillips and Del Shofner. Jon Arnett, his other top target, is injured. The Packers also must stop Ollie Matson, who cracked the Bear line for 199 yards during a 28-21 Ram triumph last Sunday.

John Unitas, Baltimore's passer, has been off target with some of his throws this season. Ray Berry and Lenny Moore, two of his key receivers, have been hampered by injuries but should be in better shape for the clash with the Bears.

Milt Plum, Cleveland's quarterback, has a bruised chest and a gash on his ankle but will play against the Cardinals.

Philadelphia and New York are in good physical condition for their Yankee Stadium game. Tommy McDonald of the Eagles, top target for Norm Van Brocklin's passes and the league's leading scorer this season with 30 points, suffered a hard blow on the face in last week's game with Pittsburgh but X-rays revealed no fracture. He'll play.

POINTS FOR MSU — Notre Dame has been hampered this year because of the injury to George Izo, considered as one of the best long passers in the country. Izo, however, is expected to start his first game Saturday against Michigan State at East Lansing. He played a little last week against California, but did not start.

Annual Battle Against Irish Tops Calendar

Coach Duffy Daugherty Expects Improvement From Spartans

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's football team, which flunked a regionally telecast test against Iowa last week, will try to redeem itself before a nationwide TV audience Saturday against Notre Dame in Spartan Stadium.

The Spartans, winners of three game, meet a Notre Dame team which handily defeated North Carolina 28-8, lost to powerful Purdue 28-7, and last Saturday beat California 28-6.

The game will be televised as NBC-TV's "game of the week." Kickoff time is 1:30 p.m. (EST).

MSU coach Duffy Daugherty said yesterday sophomore halfback Gary Ballman will miss the game because of a broken finger on his left hand which will be operated on tomorrow. He said the finger, which has a compound dislocation, should keep Ballman out just one game.

Daugherty, speaking at a Football Writers' luncheon at MSU's Kellogg Center, said Dean Look will start at quarterback for the first time.

"As the season goes along, Look is going to be more of a threat," Daugherty said. "A good day by Dean will pull this team together."

Daugherty admitted senior fullback Blanche Martin still hasn't achieved his old form, but said he was hoping Martin would return to his 1957 standards "soon."

The Spartan coach also offered the following:

—The MSU line has problems which may not fully be resolved this year.

—About 80 per cent of the nation's football coaches have indicated they favor the return of free substitution.

—Sportswriters and gamblers—not students and alumni—apply the first pressure to a coach when he has a losing season, which is because the sportswriters and gamblers aren't informed.

Daugherty said except for the losses he was enjoying the season because of his team's high morale.

Bennie Oosterbaan, who retired as Michigan coach last year, said he too was enjoying this season.

MSU athletic director Biggie Munn and Hillsdale coach Frank "Muddy" Waters also attended the luncheon.

Notre Dame publicist Charley Callahan offered a tale of tape and bandages for the Irish. He said this team was hurt physically more than any team at Notre Dame in recent years.

"Only consolation," he said, "is that quarterback George Izo may get a starting nod for the first time." Izo has been out with a knee injury and played for the first time in a short appearance against California last week, throwing one long TD pass.

Callahan said 18 of 36 players making the trip will be sophomores.

From The PRESS BOX

C. W. (Larry) Smith of Detroit, owner of Hillsdale, has added Dave Hill of Jackson to his list of sports promotions. Hill, 22-year-old golf pro at Kalamazoo Country Club and 1959 Michigan Open champion, will take a whirl on the pro tour this winter under Smith's sponsorship.

Dick Hoffheins, head football coach at Wyandotte since 1953, will give up his coaching duties at the end of the current season. His teams have won 31, lost 18 and tied two in the six years he has been head coach.

The Philadelphia Phillies reported Tuesday that they had renewed their agreement with Des Moines, Iowa, their farm affiliate in the Class B Three-I League.

Pine Lake Country Club reported a hole-in-one yesterday. Tom Eccles was the lucky golfer as he posted his first ace in 18 years of effort. Eccles aced Pine Lake's 210-yard 14th hole with a No. 4 wood.

American Legion Junior Baseball Commissioner Lou Brissie notified Hastings (Neb.) Legion officials Tuesday that the Legion's Little World Series will be held in Hastings again next year.

"Gentleman Jim" Hady and Ricki (The Crusher) Cortez will collide in tonight's feature professional wrestling attraction at the Pontiac City Armory on Water St. Tom Thumb and Pee Wee James will oppose the Brown Panther and Dandy Andy Moore in a midget tag team bout while Raoul Romero battles Roy Campbell in the opening match. Tonight's starting time is 8:30.

Abilene Christian and Trinity will be reconsidered for entry in the Border Conference when the league meets in El Paso, Tex., Dec. 12.

Search Begins for City's Top Bowler

'Actual' Meet Feature Part of Bowlerama

Pontiac Area's Best Keglers to Be Invited in Scratch Tourney

Who is the best male bowler in the Pontiac area on the basis of actual pins?

The feature part of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama includes the Pontiac Invitational Actual Championship."

All the top bowlers competing in the Bowlerama will be invited to take part in an actual championship on the day of the tournament finals, October 25th at Huron Bowl.

Bowlers will be invited to compete by The Press on the basis of average and scores in the Bowlerama, and invitations will be made regardless whether the bowler has qualified in handicap tournament or not.

There is no special entry fee for this special part of the tournament. Those invited merely pay their lines fees.

A large trophy, donated by The Press, and a runnerup trophy, will be awarded in this actual score bowling feature.

All bowlers will bowl scratch. The Press reserves the right in averages or best actual scores in the Bowlerama.

There are many top Pontiac area bowlers who are competing in the Bowlerama.

Such top average bowlers as Paul George, Bill Bull, Joe Bonfiglio, Monroe Moore, Bob Gormong, Gerry Jackson, Clark Balch, Curtis Neal, M. Figa, R. Bentley, and many others are entries in the Bowlerama and are eligible for the Actual's Championship.

A large group of the Pontiac "700" club is also entered in the tournament and should produce some candidates for the honor of Actual Champion.

Many of the top actual bowlers failed to qualify in the Bowlerama which is of greater advantage to the handicap bowler, but this does not eliminate them from tourney for the "City Actuals Champion."

Meanwhile, the final deadline for the Bowlerama will sound at midnight tonight. Entries by mail must be postmarked before midnight.

Those left at the alleys or delivered to The Press Sports department must be at The Press before noon Thursday.

This deadline is for both men and women. The women will bowl their qualifying round Sunday at Lakewood Lanes and the men at West Side Recreation.

Starting times and squads will be printed in Friday's Press.

BONING UP — Northwestern's sophomore quarterback Bob Eickhoff does some laboratory work on bones in his biology class, but on the football field he does his "boning" with plays which he will use against the University of Michigan Saturday at Ann Arbor. He sparked Northwestern to its lone TD in the 6-0 win over Minnesota last week.

Unique Honor for Wilhelm

Oriole Pitcher Is First to Capture ERA Title in Each League

NEW YORK (AP)—Hoyt Wilhelm of the Baltimore Orioles, making the transition from a relief specialist to a starting pitcher, is the first pitcher ever to capture the earned run crown in each major league.

The knuckleball artist won the American League ERA title in 1959 with a 2.19 average, figures compiled by The Associated Press revealed today.

In 1952 Wilhelm led the National League in the earned run averages with a 2.43 mark. Then with the New York Giants, he was used strictly in relief.

Baltimore Manager Paul Richard made Wilhelm a full-time starter this past season and the veteran right-hander came through in excellent fashion. Wilhelm gave up 55 earned runs in 226 innings and appeared in 32 games. He made 27 starts and posted a 15-11 won-lost record including three shutouts.

Bob Shaw of Chicago was runnerup with a 2.65 ERA.

Egan Rides Horse to Hunter Crown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Blue Monday retained the green working hunter title Tuesday in the Washington International Horse Show.

The 6-year-old gray gelding, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Egan, Birmingham, Mich., acquired the most points performing over fences during the six-day show which ended Tuesday night.

Going into the afternoon final, Blue Monday was trailing. But Egan rode the gray defender over the jumps to first place in the deciding $500 Working Hunter Stake and took the championship with a total of 10 points.

Who Will Succeed Him?

Last Rites Scheduled Today for Bert Bell

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bert Bell, the gravel-voiced beloved commissioner of the National Football League will be buried today—and then the difficult hunt will be on for a successor.

The shoes of the portly Bell, who died Sunday at the age of 65, won't be filled easily. Everyone in the pro game agrees there was one Bell—and there will be no other.

The 12 NFL club owners, all serving as honorary pallbearers, will be present at services in St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church in suburban Narberth where Bell made his home. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, near historic Valley Forge.

Thousands viewed the body last night in a center Philadelphia funeral home. Top sport figures and unknown fans walked side by side in silence past the casket. Tears were in many eyes. Those who knew him spoke quietly of Bell's friendliness, his humility, his joy for living and football—particularly.

After the funeral, the owners will hold an informal meeting. Prompt agreement on a new commissioner is unlikely. The tempers of NFL club owners aren't known to be cool. They've boiled over frequently, and it always was Bell who patched up the quarrels.

Now that Bell is gone, it is believed some old resentments may appear—and this is bound to make it difficult to reach quick agreement on a new commissioner.

Support of a man by one owner possibly will prejudice him in the eyes of another. It is expected that a committee representing all the opposing viewpoints will be formed. This group will screen the candidates and report to the NFL draft meeting scheduled for the end of November.

What kind of a man will succeed Bell? Some of the owners feel the successor should come from the NFL ranks, like Bell himself. Others prefer an outsider, a public figure — perhaps a judge or a governor.

Before he became commissioner Bell owned the Philadelphia Eagles, and later the Pittsburgh Steelers. Pro football was his life. He died Sunday of a heart attack while watching the Eagles play the Steelers at Franklin Field.

Numerous names have cropped up as successor to the man who held the top NFL post for 13 years.

Frequently mentioned is Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Detroit Lions. Anderson said he'd accept the post if it was offered, but cautions against undue haste.

"I don't think we should decide such an important thing in a few hours," Anderson said.

Probe Puts Return Bout in Jeopardy

NEW YORK (AP) — A heavy cloud today hung over the proposed return world heavyweight championship bout between Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson in the wake of findings by the New York State Athletic Commission.

After hearing 800 pages of testimony on the manipulations of the promot9on of the first fight last June 26, the commission yesterday:

1. Directed Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager; Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the bout along with his former organization, Rosensohn Enterprises, to show cause why their licenses should not be revoked.

2. Banned Charles Antonucci (Charlie Black) from promoting or even attending a fight in New York state.

3. Recommended that the state legislature enact a law requiring the licensing of the company or individual who controls the television, radio and movie rights to fights.

The action left the future of the return bout up in the air. Johansson, who is making a movie in but a spokesman said he still was willing to fight Patterson if the "mess" is cleaned up.

One direct result of the commission's findings is apparent, namely, the return won't be held in New York. Vincen tVelella, the currsent head of Rosensohn Enterprises, is not licensed in New York, so the commission couldn't bar him. But revoking the license of Rosensohn Enterprises has achieved the same result.

Actually, Rosensohn, Rosensohn Enterprises and D'Amato all have an opportunity to go before the commission and make their pleas before their licenses are revoked permanently.

But it appeared that only Rosensohn wanted to go down fighting. He said he would request a hearing and in the process charged that it was "agreed on the part of the commission as well as on my part to keep the fight in New York' that caused the behind the scenes razzle-dazzle.

D'Amato, for his part, never answered the commission's call to testify despite dire warnings.

The commission, in a 3,000-word statement, also criticized Rosensohn for accepting a $10,000 loan for Tony Salerno, whom it described as a shady character, and for failing to tell of Velella's role in the promotion.

Scoring Race Tightening

Walled Lake flash Bob Christian was held to one point last time out but held his Oakland County scoring lead as top threat Doug Stott was able to manage only one touchdown in defeat for Oxford.

"Chris" now has 59 points — 10 more than the big Wildcat. Jack Newton of West Bloomfield has moved into the picture with 48 while Glen Haas, Orchard Lake St. Mary, and Ferndale's Mike Brown have 42 apiece. Chuck Olesek of Clawson has 36 and eight others 30.

The individual race could be a tight one from here in unless Christian can bounce back with a big night against Southfield Friday.

Brown had his 2nd straight 18-point game to feature last week's county scoring. Newton, Haas, Jack Long of West Bloomfield, St. James' back Paul Mullen and Jerry Jaffe of Country all had two TDs.

Don Donar ran wild scoring four times to take over the area lead. The St. Benedict veteran has 42 digits. Don Kurkowski of St. Rita dropped to 2nd with 38.

Mike Zink of Millington tallied 19 and Jim Baniere, St. Clement, 18 to lead the outside schools over the weekend.

New Scratch Leagues Set at Auburn Lanes

Auburn Lanes has come up with something new in league bowling for this sector.

New manager Archie Moore is setting up two "scratch" leagues with awards going to the high average team after each four-week period of a 28-week schedule.

A loop for bowlers who average between 165 and 195 will begin Oct. 21. Another for keglers averaging below 165 opens the 15th. Each league will have 10 teams of three men each.

Fourth Straight Win

Walled Lake junior varsity football squad continues to roll along an unbeaten path, with a 42-19 victory over Berkley Jayvees. The junior Vikings were led by Jim Webb with two TDs, but scoring honors Tuesday went to the Bears' Gallagher who accounted for all his teams' points, all TD on long runs. Win was Walled Lake's 4th straight.

Vikings gained 430 yards, never threw a pass, while Berkley had 284 rushing, 57 by air.

All-Star Pin Points

By JIM SPALDING

Some hook balls are natural and some are forced.

Personally, I feel that one of the greatest improvements I have made in my own bowling came about three years ago when I abandoned a big bending hook (almost a curve ball) that I had forced. Now I use what feels to be a more natural hook. I use only the lift of my fingers to apply spin and hook to the ball. The "big bender" is gone and in its place is a small hook that breaks more sharply just before it reaches the pocket.

I can control the small, sharp-breaking hook much better than the big bender. It also works more uniformly under all bowling conditions and on strange alleys.

Bear in mind that a hook ball is good only if you can control it at all times. If you can't, you are better off with a straight ball because accuracy is the way to a good bowling average.

Spin and a resultant hook can, of course, be put on the ball by turning the wrist (right to left for a right-hander) just at the moment you release the ball.

A more natural, more effective hook and one that is more accurate for most bowlers can be developed by using "finger-lift" alone. To do this, keep the "V" between thumb and index finger pointed at the pocket as you release the ball (a handshake position). The upward sweep of the arm in the follow-through motion will give a lift and spin to the ball at that instant when the fingers alone control it after the thumb slides out of the ball first.

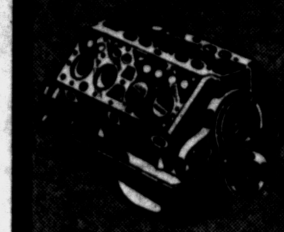

This type of hook is not a "big bender" but it can be a mighty good strike-getter because you can control it.

STRIKE-GETTING HOOK BALL

V FOR STRIKES—The V between thumb and forefinger should point to the 1-3 pocket as you release ball.

Coaches! Are Your Wives in Football Fog?

BALTIMORE (AP)—This is the time of year when the wives of football coaches are used to being ignored.

Mrs. Weeb Ewbank, wife of the coach of the Baltimore Colts, describes the condition as "football fog."

"Even if I held a football to attract his attention," she said Tuesday, "probably the only thing he would say would be 'Lucy, you're going to fumble. That's got the way to grip it.'"

Weeb confuses his wife at times as much as the Colts' opponents in the National Football League.

"He has often said about our marriage," she related, "'If I had to do it all over again, I would make the same mistake.'

"I have never been able to decide whether that's compliment or a slam."

Winless Trojans Next Grid Rival for Chiefs at Wisner Stadium

Pontiac Central's smarting football forces eye a return to the victory trail this week after being detoured by Arthur Hill last Friday evening.

The Chiefs collide with another Saginaw opponent, the Trojans of Saginaw High, in a Saginaw Valley Conference game at Wisner Stadium.

It will be Central's 2nd consecutive battle against a team which is winless and the Chiefs sincerely hope that this engagement will be more profitable than the first one.

Arthur Hill also was winless when the Lumberjacks invaded this city last Friday for Central's Valley opener. The Jacks capitalized on mistakes by previously unbeaten PCH and used the Chiefs as a stepping stone to their 1st win of the year.

Now hungry Saginaw visits the Wisner arena, hoping to make these same Central warriors the stepping stone to their 1st victory of the season.

Coach Jesse MacLeay's Chiefs have no intentions of being such obliging hosts again if they can possibly help it.

Football fortunes have been at low tide at Saginaw High in recent years, but there are indications that the Trojans are on the road to recovery under the guidance of head coach Jim Blenkhorn, himself a former All-Stater at Saginaw and later a grid star at Michigan State.

Although the eastsiders have yet to win a game this fall, they have shown marked improvement from week to week and their gradual momentum may mean plenty of trouble for the Chiefs when the two teams line up for the 8 o'clock kickoff.

The Trojans have lost to Bay City Handy, Midland and Flint Northern following a weird 2-2 tie with Alpena in the 1959 season opener.

The alleys at Westside Recreation should be in great shape for some high scoring when the final men's qualifing round of the Press Bowlerama is held Sunday if recent scores at the Orchard Lake Ave. establishment are any indication.

A 3350, reported to be the highest actual team total in the last 10 years, was turned in by the house quintet there Monday night.

Joe Foster paced the sizzling spree with 715, followed by Frank Sparadore 677, Jim Walker 675, Bob Gormong 645 and Paul George 638. The big effort ruined a 3000 by the Triple X team.

The Elks alleys also had a history-making event in league play. Howie Fields became the 1st to score a 700 series in loop competition hitting the magic number right on the nose with a final 254. His John Miller Eectric Co. is in first place. Howie gets a lot of chance to practice as alley manager at Lodge 810.

A combination 233-564 by Helen Godhardt, Margaret Grubbs' 223 and Gerry Bender's 209 burned up the alleys at Sylvan Lanes in Lakeland Ladies League. Barb Gibson had a 580 actual in the Elks Mixed while Marie French hit 197, Lucille Mayes 188 and Madge McGowan 181 at Montcalm.

E. Bolinger has rolled games of 242 and 205 at Westside. C. Germain has posted a 202 and 523 combop in the "A" adies loop there. J. Treacy had a 644 in the Guys & Dolls League.

Several of these bowlers have entered or will be joining the Bowlerama tourney before tonight's deadline but there are others mentioned who will not. Why?

Kegers should need little encouragement to enter such an interesting tournament right in their own backyard. The prizes are much higher than the majority have ever bowled for before. The handicap system gives the average performer an outstanding chance to win the big money.

Many of the same people who have not entered this meet in three attempts to make it a major even by The Press will annualy travel to tourneys either in other parts of Michigan or even to other states with a very small chance of winning much while paying out a great deal in expenses.

PIN NOTES

They're Going for Three

NEW YORK (AP) — There's a field goal craze in college football this year.

The NCAA Service Bureau said today that 73 field goals have been kicked in 216 games among the major colleges so far this season.

That averages about one every three games. The all-time record is one every 5.6 games.

First Win for PNH Harriers

Maples Edge PCH, 23-31

Hurt by the absence, because of illness, of Ken R. Byrd, Pontiac Central High harriers yesterday afternoon dropped a 28-31 decision to Birmingham's strong squad of distance runners. Ken has always finished in the top group.

However, the meet gave Joe Anderson of the Chiefs his 5th straight individual win of the year. Joe won easily, at 10:20, after setting the pace all the way. Maurice Johnson (PCH) was 2nd at 11:08, Dave Reid (BHM) 3rd at 11:02. The next three, Dick Kelly (BHM), Jim Nelson (PCH), Ted Egner (BHM) finished in a tie at 11:08.

Jock McPhee (BHM), Al Baughmann (BHM), Dave Hunter (BHM) and Tim Tout (BHM) rounded out the top ten.

Chief Jayvees also lost, 20-43.

PNH's squad finally chalked up a victory. The Huskies defeated Flint Mandeville, Tuesday, 22-35 with Eddie Murray the top runner, with a Mandeville record of 10:12. Gary Holtz, Dick Pointon, Ted Lorensen and Lynn Locklear were in the top 10. Mandeville's Gary Weber was runnerup.

Paced by Bill Lang's 11:47, Austin High yesterday turned back OL St. Mary's hill-and-dale runners, 23-32 at Palmer Park. Ervin Jaskoloski, Eaglets' ace, was runnerup at 11:51, and teammate Bob Kutlarz, was third.

State's Parks Set New Marks for Attendance

Visitors' List Spirals to 18,093,414 During First Nine Months

LANSING — With three months left in 1959, Michigan's 59 state parks and recreation areas have already chalked up a record year.

Parks attendance spiraled to 18,093,414 through the last weekend in September to surpass the previous high of 17,865,346 set in 1955. Almost 138,000 camping permits had been issued through this period, breaking last year's record of 134,500.

This marks the eighth straight year a new high has been established for issued camping permits. While permits have been issued at almost a five-per cent clip above last year. More than 40,000 camping families have been turned away due to a lack of facilities.

Michigan's traditional attendance leaders — Grand Haven, Dodge 4 (Oakland County) and Holland state parks — have again topped the million mark. Sterling state park has also reached the one million plateau as its attendance has risen 400,000 above last year's figure.

Fox Hound Show, Trial Winners

Although the major wins went to the big kennels of James Eadie of Byron, Ontario, with six firsts, in the recent Michigan Fox Hunters annual show and field trial at Lapeer, area hound owners did all right.

Eadie's dogs won the best in show (Richwood Tomboy); best opposite sex (Eadie's Blackie); best pack, natural carriage (Blackie); all-age female (Tomboy).

Area winners included:

Herb Cork, Royal Oak, all-age male (Col. Pickett), with Ray Jarreet (Ike). Cliff Hicks Jr. (My Sorghum), Ed Vandewalker (Andy), all Pontiac, 4th, 5th, 6th.

Hard Rock (Cork), won all-age field test, with Jarrett 2nd, Bill Sasser (Pontiac) 3rd (June).

Rachel (Tim Childress) Lapeer, derby field winner.

Howard Fish, Lapeer, A. T. Roy and Ellis Moore of Goodrich also placed hounds in the several events.

41 Farmers Clubs in Williamston Plan

LANSING — Conservation Department workers sent signs and tickets this week to 41 farmer clubs which are participating in the Williamston Plan.

The clubs represnt approximately 2,000 farmers and 122,000 acres in southern Michigan.

The Williamston Plan is designed to regulate hunter kill in proportion to available game and reduce hunter trespass problems in this sector of the state where most lands are privately owned.

Landowners post their lands with signs provided by the Department and personall yissue tickets to hunters. Only ticket holders are allowed hunting access to their lands. The landowner, himself, determines hunter quotas.

WILDFOWL PRIZES — A pair of happy hunters with the handsome wildfowl prizes shown above are proof that the early season shooting was OK. The birds were downed at Wildfowl Bay, on Saginaw Bay, by Dr. Jerome Fink (left) and James (Jim) Nye, both Pontiac area residents. They took four bluewing teal between them, and each accounted for two Canadas.

Area Sportsmen Report Excellent Fall Hunting

By The Outdoors Editor

The case last week, where two men in a boat (it is too bad the boat didn't leak), shot and killed a pair of muscovy ducks at an Oakland county lake home, points to one rule of gun safety, and sportsmanship. This pair certainly didn't know what they were shooting at, or, if they did, their act was a wanton disregard of all sportsmanship precepts.

"Be sure of what you are shooting at," the rules say.

"Don't shoot at anything you do not wish to kill."

There's only one way to treat deliberate acts of the kind mentioned above—bar the offender forever from legal rights to enjoy hunting in Michigan.

RATTLER BITES DOG, PAYS WITH LIFE

A big, fat Michigan rattlesnake, abroad much later in the fall than usual, made the mistake of biting a dog and paid for it with its life. The dog, a busy little cocker spaniel, was struck over the right eye. After quick treatment by a veterinarian, it is recovering speedily, says owner Ken Davis.

Davis killed the serpent, which was 32½-inches long and carried six rattles. He was with neighbor James Edwards, walking in a field near their home (3125 and 3020 S. Adams rd.) making color movies, when the spaniel discovered the massasauga in a weed patch. Snakes in this area usually den up by the last of September.

It required a bit of hard work for William (Bill) Gjelhaug, 1366 Taylor rd., and his young companion, Archie Barnett, 68 Parkdale, Pontiac, to get out Bill's first moose, from a swamp northeast of Winnipeg, Man. The big bull, estimated to weigh 1,400-1,500 pounds, dressed out at 1,000 pounds, and sported a rack of antlers 54-inches wide.

Two horses were needed to drag the moose to the road and to the Caribeau river where it was floated by barge to the hunters' car for the trip home. Gjelhaug fired five shots from a .300 Savage before finishing the huge animal.

THREE DUCKS, ONE SHOT—2 SHOTS, 4 GEESE:

The story of what happened on a waterfowl hunt, opening day, at Wildfowl Bay, to Dr. Jerome Fink (Quarton rd.) and Jim Nye (2555 Sylvan Shore) is one of those "believe it, or not" things.

Jim says it's Gospel that Dr. Fink downed three teal with one shot, and equally true that each brought down two fat Canadas with single blasts. "Of course we used up 12 more rounds to finally bag the geese," Jim explained.

Hunting pressure on Saginaw Bay wasn't as heavy as during last year's opening, the Pontiac pair reported, and they found ducks were plentiful.

"There are plenty pats" reports Jack Patterson after a recent jaunt upstate, but the Pontiac shotgunner says there is still too much foliage for really good shooting. Jack's bag also included some woodcock.

BIRD SHOOTING GOOD IN PORCUPINES

Fast and exciting shooting was enjoyed in the Upper Peninsula's Porcupine Mountain area (Bruce Crossing) by a group of GMC (Truck plant) outdoorsmen, a few days ago. The party of six partridge hunters bagged 40 of the succulent morsels.

The hunters included Earl Barker, Stanley Barker, Irv Humbaugh, Bill McGovern, Harold Welch and Bill Fairse. They saw many large geese congregations, and a lot of deer. One somber note—Earl Barker's 7½-year-old springer, Vel, died, apparently from eating some poisonous article.

With the fall upland game season just around the corner (Oct. 20 at 10 a.m.), most bird dog owners will have their pointers, setters, cockers, springers and other canine hunting companions in the field, but there are still several field trials on tap.

Oakland County Beagle club has arranged a five-day trial, starting Thursday at 54 Tyler street, Detroit. No firearms will be used.

English Springer Spaniel club of Michigan has trial for retrieving dogs, Nov. 7, at Bald Mt. Recreation area. Pigeons and pheasants will be used for the trial.

MEXICAN SAIL — Vacationing at Acapulco, Mexico, recently, Robert Frayer (with Mrs. Frayer), 2530 Middle Belt, landed the big sailfish, beside which he is standing above. The "sail" was 9-feet 5-inches long, weighed 98 pounds. The fish put up a 35-minute battle.

Hunters' Control May Be Slipping

See Deer Policy Shift

ESCANABA (AP) — Next month's deer hunt in Northern Michigan may be the last of an era in which hunters have such strong control of deer policy.

As the area tries to bolster an economy which is largely dependent upon wood-using industries, it becomes increasingly apparent that the deer are destroying forest wealth and jobs.

To make matters worse the deer are doing this with no benefit to themselves. Hunters are not killing enough deer and not permitting conservation policies which increase the kill in problem areas.

While hunters and legislature have argued over management of the forests to produce deer, the conservation department has tried to establish a multiple use policy so forests produced both game and wood.

Now a fourth voice is being heard with increasing vigor. It is that of the professional foresters, who are saying that if Michigan wants commercially useful forests in the future it must control the deer herd.

The foresters are saying this at a time when Michigan is lagging behind some other states in the development of forest industries.

On roughly a million acres of Upper Peninsula timberland new stands of timber cannot be started because of the damage done to young trees by deer.

Winter Sports Area Expanded

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association announced today that a record number of 29 winter sports centers will be operational in the western area of the state for the 1959-60 season.

The association said that four of the 29 areas will be opened for the first time and that their addition gives West Michigan one of the greatest concentrations of winter sports centers in the United States. The new areas are Jordan Valley Lodge near East Jordan, Hu-Lu Heights at Hudsonville, Indian Hills in Grand Rapids and Goshorn Hills at Saugatuck.

Twenty-two of the areas are skiing centers, two provide tobogganing, skating and skiing, one has skiing and tobogganing, three have tobogganing and skating, and one has tobogganing only.

Oxford Lawman Successful on First Bear Hunt

"I guess I was just lucky," reports Oxford police chief Albert Roberts, relating how he bagged a black bear on his first bear-hunting expedition.

Roberts hunted with a party that included several Lake Orion and Oxford men, all of whom were part of a big group at Gaylord.

"The dogs ran the bear (a 172-pound sow) out onto a grade near where I was. It was the first bear I ever saw in the woods, and it was fat and glossy from raiding farmers' bee-hives," said Roberts.

Trophies Costly, but Worth Effort

Buffalo Hunt in Canada

EDMONTON (AP) — Canada's first buffalo hunt in 66 years is a strenuous, time-consuming and expensive affair, but the trophies are worth everything.

The hunt has been going on since Sept. 15 with parties going out from Fort Smith, 450 miles north of here on the plains of the Northwest Territories. The season will end Nov. 30.

So far only 30 licenses have been issued, each good for one buffalo. Already one head has been taken that measured 30½ inches across the widest point, only 4½ inches off the record head taken in Wyoming's Yellowstone Park.

The hunt is for strays which drift out of Albert's Wood Buffalo National Park across into the Northwest Territories. Hunters have been seeking old bulls, driven from the herds by their stronger juniors. They make the best trophies.

A veteran outfitter, Claude Brewster of Banff, Alta., describes buffalo hunting as being similar to moose hunting but "a lot more dangerous."

The special licenses cost $50 for Canadians and $200 for Americans. Brewster's fee is $500. A round trip from Edmonton to Fort Smith, the jumpoff point which is accessible only by air, costs at least $76.

MSU Sanctuary Is Top Tourist Bird Show Place

HICKORY CORNERS — Michigan State University is providing one of the state's top tourist attractions near here.

Approximately 50,000 feathered tourists drop in every year at the MSU Kellogg Bird Sanctuary to the delight of about 180,000 human sightseers.

Located on 180 acres of land around 40-acre Wintergreen Lake, this home and show place of most types of Michigan birds is the largest such sanctuary in the world.

Waterfowl are the main attraction, especially the swans and big Canada geese. In fall months at the peak of migration, when the ducks and geese stop over at the lake on their way south, the sanctuary may draw as many as 10,000 birds and 10,000 persons on a weekend, reports Roswell D. Van Deusen, biologist in charge.

The birds are smart, Van Deusen said.

Finder's Keepers

HEAVENER, Okla. (AP) — Al Freeman lost a big bass, along with his fancy lure, in a nearby river. Two days later fisherman Ples Pilkington was at the same spot and hooked the same fish — lure included.

Returns to Steelers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Defensive halfback Ronnie Hall of Missouri Valley College is back in the line-up of the Pittsburgh Steelers, bringing their roster up to the 36-player limit.

Hall was signed to the squad Tuesday. He fills the spot vacated by the firing of Don Bishop earlier this week.

Hall was drafted last winter by the Steelers, but after several practice sessions was waived to the Chicago Bears. The Bears then dropped him.

Shoot Fowl in Front of Home

Duck Hunting Vandals 'Murder' Family Pets

David R. Steinhoff, 354 Union Lake, route 5, Walled Lake was boiling mad, just after opening of the duck season. It seems he had a perfect right to feel that way, according to Mrs. Steinhoff.

Two unidentified shotgunners, shooting from a boat in Middle Straits lake, near the Steinhoff home, shot down the family pets, a pair of young muscovy ducks. "The birds were near the shore. They couldn't fly. We heard the shots, then saw two men in a boat rowing away as fast as they could. Then we found our ducks, dead."

The pets were gifts to Mrs. Steinhoff, from her daughter. "Why, they'd follow my husband to his car, try to get in with him. They'd walk into the house, eat from our hands," Mrs. Steinhoff explained, and added, "if those men had made a mistake, they should have been honest about it, and at least told us."

MIGHTY MOOSE — One of the biggest moose in years taken by an Oakland county hunter is that shown above, with its captor (left) William Gjelhaug, 1366 Taylor Rd., near Holly, and his companion, Archie Barnett, 68 Parkdale, Pontiac. The big bull that sported the huge, palmated rack (54-inches wide), is estimated to have weighed some 1,500 pounds, (dressed out at 1,000). It was downed in northern Canada during a recent trip.

Ability, Inc., Productive Two Ways

Factory Proves Handicapped Make Good if Given Chance

ALBERTSON, N.Y. (NEA) — If you were offered a six-figure salary by a large corporation, would you turn it down?

Henry Viscardi Jr. vehemently says he would. "I would rather dig clams than go back to scrambling with the normal guys for a job as v.p. with a large company."

Physically scrambling for the job might be difficult because Hank Viscardi was born without legs.

Son of an immigrant Italian, he shook off neighborhood taunts of "apeman" worked his way through college and then attended law school. When he was 26 years old, he stood a manly heighth of five-eight for the first time, with the aid of artificial limbs.

From there on he couldn't be sidetracked and as personnel director for a major fabric firm he was a rising young executive.

NEW GOAL

Seven years ago, after working with World War II casualties, he struck out on his own. He was going to prove to industry and to indivjduals who are not disabled that the physically handicapped can work as efficiently, productively and competitively as anyone else.

Thus Abilities, Inc. was born. It was a colicky infant firm with a drafty garage for a nursery. Two years ago it moved to a three - quarter million dollar 40,000 square - foot factory near this Long Island community.

"We're doing a two million dollar a year business," President Viscardi revealed in a memento-filled office. "Of course, we're in debt for the new plant and we're adding a new wing. But we've proved our point."

He outlines the trials and tribulations of Abilities, of the blind, epileptic, palsied, paralyzed or limbless employes who made it all possible in a new book, "Give Us the Tools." At Viscardi's factory, the book comes to life.

From her wheelchair, personnel director Ellen Vaughn happily pointed out, "You can see we're rather proud of what we have done."

PIONEER PLANT

As a pilot factory for employing the physically handicapped, Abilities keeps its payroll to around 400. "We hate to turn people away but a larger number breaks down the personal supervision needed."

Men and women who come to Abilities usually have never held a job. Many never finished high school. They don't have to pass a physical exam, but they do have to show they are highly motivated.

Art Nierenberg, the company's first employe, said: "We've proved that a guy can learn to do anything if he has the motivation."

Murray Nemser agreed. He works on his back with tools on a table on his wheelchair. "What would've become of us if this hadn't come along. I couldn't get a job. I was in a hospital for nine years. Now I can hold my head up to my neighbors. I'm a man.

"But I was scared to death the first few days on the job."

The old-timers laugh about the employes "becoming more normal" as they regain their confidence. Alex Alazraki, who has stumps for arms and legs, told about one man socking his chair-bound friend in the nose during an argument.

Abilities does more than produce electronics components, airplane parts, cable and harness. It serves as a laboratory for therapists, sociologists, psychologists, safety engineers and production experts through the firm's offspring, Human Resources Inc.

Research work here and in similar firms is invaluable to aid 30 million men, women and children in the United States who have some type of chronic disease or impairment. Millions of these can work if given the opportunity. Seven million now are employed.

Viscardi and his busy, cheerful crew prove they don't want handouts. "We expect to struggle for the rest of our lives. All we ask is the right to struggle."

AT WORK AT ABILITIES, INC. — A case of being able to hold up your head.

Parents Set Example for Youngster in Smoking

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Smoking habits of parents determine, to a considerable extent, whether or not their children smoke. So indicates a study by the American Cancer Society covering 21,980 high school students in this area. Some of the findings:

The ratio of smoking is highest among children in families in which both parents smoke; lowest in those in which neither parent smokes. Smoking habits of boys tend to conform to those of the father; girls follow mother.

Sends Plenty of Cards

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP) — Harris Miller, 77, estimates he sends 20,000 birthday cards a year. He started sending them daily 10 years ago after a fellow hospital patient was saddened by a birthday no one remembered.

Oxford Council Replaces Mathie

Kenneth Huff Sworn In; Village Planners Hear Ann Arbor Expert

OXFORD — Kenneth C. Huff, 44, of 7 Jersey St., last night was sworn in as a member of the Oxford Village Council. He was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Gordon Mathie, who resigned because his work was taking him out of town on council meeting nights.

Special guest at last night's session was Richard Blodgett of the planning director's staff, City of Ann Arbor. He was here to explain the work of a professional planner in coordinating and directing the efforts of a local planning commission.

Blodgett is scheduled to meet with the village planners tonight. The council will decide at its next meeting what amount can be allocated from the current year's budget to pay for professional planning assistance.

In other action, council members awarded the contract for painting the interior and exterior of the water tank to Dixie Tank and Bridge Co. for the sum of $1,850. The work will be done next spring.

The Gas and Oil Heating Equipment ordinance was adopted, to become effective upon publication.

The purpose of the code adopted by this ordinance is "to regulate the design, construction, installation, maintenance and use of oil and gas heating equipment, appliances and appurtenances" in the village.

It further provides a reciprocal arrangement for recognition of examinations and licenses issued by other municipalities in the state.

Village Manager Ralph Precious submitted a plan for construction of a new DPW garage, 60 by 48 feet, with cement block siding and the top of channel steel. It is needed, the manager said, to house eight pieces of large village equipment.

The cost will be about $4,500 including $4,200 for the building and $300 to lay the block. If approved, it will be erected near the water wells, Precious said.

The council also allocated money to support two forthcoming village projects. A sum not to exceed $125 was approved for use by the Oxford firemen for their Halloween party on Oct. 31.

A total of $300 also was appropriated for the village's Christmas decorations.

MRS. THOMAS V. JONES

Thomas V. Jones and Ruth Mayes Exchange Vows

ROCHESTER — Ruth Mayes and Thomas V. Jones were married recently at St. Paul Methodist Church by the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Roy Mayes of 109 Cloverport St. and his former wife, Lucinda McIntosh of Middletown, Ohio. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Jones of 1880 School Rd., Avon Township.

For her wedding, the bride chose a chantilly lace ballerina-length gown with a high neckline. A pearl crown secured her fingertip veil of illusion silk and she carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Thelma. Her other attendants were Rosetta Deaton and Kitty Rie of Rochester and Veronica Mayes of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Terrance Johnson of Rochester was best man, and Roger Spaven and Frederick Weaver, both also of Rochester, seated the guests.

After a reception in the Avon Pavilion the newlyweds left for their honeymoon at Mackinaw. They reside on East Avon road, Avon Township.

To Elect King, Queen at Avondale Festival

Electin of a king and queen will highlight the Avondale Junior High School Fall Festival to be held tomorrow evening at the school, 2900 Waukegan St.

Eighteen projects are planned by the PTSA for the entertainment of parents, students and friends.

The doors will open at 6:30 p.m., and a small donation will be asked. The festival is open to the public.

Clubs in Rochester Area to Consider United Front

ROCHESTER — The possibility of uniting 75 area service clubs under one community council to better achieve civic improvement goals will be considered at a special meeting here.

Representatives of the groups have been invited to the meeting in the North Hill Elementary School at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, when the objectives of the proposed council will be explained.

Rochester Councilman and Kiwanian, John Boeberitz, will act as moderator. Jack Taylor past dent, will explain the objectives of a proposed council.

Many hours of research have been spent by Mrs. Leroy Aldinger, Mrs. Robert Chandler and Mrs. Joseph Watson, members of the Rochester Junior Woman's Club, to determine the practicality of organizing a community council.

This investigation shows its application to this community would be as profitable as it has been to others, they said.

Northville has a community council which has been operating successfully for 18 years, the researchers reported.

A community council serves to implement the civic endeavors of organizations, the proponents said, rather than to usurp any freedom of programming or service.

As planned, it can serve as a clearing house of ideas and projects.

With a central council, groups can join forces to work on projects for community development which might be too large for any one group, such as a community center, swimming pool, hospital, or Junior Achievement program, the women said.

A steering committee will be appointed to set up the structure for future organization.

Any group which may have been inadvertently omitted from the mailing list is invited to send a representative to the Oct. 21 meeting, the sponsors said.

Rochester's Baldwin Unit Meets Tonight

Woodward PTA Readies Fair

ROCHESTER — The halls and classrooms of Woodward Elementary School will echo with the sounds of children's laughter and "vendors" hawking their wares during the school's first PTA "Fun-O-Rama" fair on Saturday.

It is the one big money-raising event of the year with proceeds to go toward various PTA-sponsored projects.

Featured will be a tea room, fortune tellers, shooting galleries and a country store where such items as baked goods, house plants and white elephants will be sold.

A specialty at the country store will be a cook book for which mothers of Woodward School pupils have compiled their favortie recipes.

PONY RIDES

Another attraction will be pony rides for children.

Booths and concessions will be open from 3 to 7 p.m. with beef barbecue sandwiches and coffee available.

Mrs. Homer L. Allen is general chairman of the event with Mrs. Frank R. Wolff assisting. Mrs. M. F. Littell is directing ticket sales and Mrs. V. L. Hodghten is in charge of publicity.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. C. R. Clauson, kitchen; Mrs. Harry Huber, tea room; Mrs. Graydon Owen, soft drinks; Mrs. Robert Chandler, recipe books; and Mrs. C. A. Maish and Mrs. John Sovey, country store.

Setting up booths are Mrs. Ervin Gerber, Mrs. Walter Ashbrook, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. L. P. Fedigan, Mrs. Eugene Waggener, Mrs. Arthur Mitchell and Myron F. Littell.

Again this year by popular demand Baldwin School PTA has scheduled a "You Asked For It" type program for its regular meeting tonight.

First tried successfully last year, the program again will demonstrate methods used to teach pupils arithmetic and reading.

Douglas Lund, director of instruction in the Rochester Community Schools, will present methods of teaching elementary arithmetic. He will trace development of arithmetic experiences of children in grades one through six.

READING IN READINESS

Donald Weston, Baldwin School principal, will present a program on reading readiness.

In his unique demonstration, the parent will face the same confusion that confronts first graders when they first face the printed page.

Meeting time is 8 p.m. in the kindergarten room. A brief business session will precede the program.

Officers will be elected to two vacancies on the PTA Board with nominations to be called for from the floor. Refreshments will be served by the sixth grade mothers.

Plan Dryden Dinner

DRYDEN — Final plans for a dinner meeting to be held Nov. 5 will be made at tomorrow night's monthly business meeting of the Dryden Area Development Assn. The session will be held at 8 p.m. at the high school.

Friday at Rochester High

Expect 400 at Workshop

DR. A. WESTLEY ROWLAND

ROCHESTER—An enrollment of 400 is expected at the 10th annual Oakland County School Lunch Workshop Friday at Rochester High School.

The program has been arranged to provide sessions of interest for all county school lunch room personnel and school business administrators.

One of the two out-of-county guest speakers will be Dr. A. Westley Rowland, university editor of the department of information services at Michigan State University. He will speak on the topic, "Who's Laughing Now?"

Dr. Rowland received his B.A. degree from Western Michigan College, his M.A. from the University of Michigan and his doctorate in education from MSU.

He is a member of the American College of Public Relations Assn. and director of its national packet service for new members. He also is serving this association as a member of the awards committee.

Dr. Rowland is a charter member of the Public Relations Assn. of Michigan.

"A Day in the School Lunch Program" is the title given to the afternoon session. It will be introduced and led by Norman Tellar, chief of the school lunch division of the State Department of Public Instruction, Lansing.

The attendance of this year's workshop will show an increased participation of about 370 over the first year when the total enrollment was approximately 30 persons.

Keego Votes Today on Urban Renewal

KEEGO HARBOR—Voters here are going to the polls today in a special referendum election to decide if this city of 3,300 favors having an urban renewal plan. The polls will be open until 8 p. m.

If the issue is favored, it will be up to city officials to apply for federal funds. Before applying, however, the city must have a master working plan for future development of the community.

Should urban renewal be approved by the federal government, the city would receive $2 for every $1 spent by Keego Harbor on improvements.

An example would be the sewer construction that the voters recently approved. The city is spending a half-million dollars for construction of laterals to tie into the county interceptor sewer. If the city does get urban renewal, the government would contribute $1 million dollars on the two to one basis.

Four Towns Church to Hold Potluck Supper

The Men's Club will put in a sidewalk on the north side of the church as part of the program.

15th Anniversary Dance

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Lions Club will mark its 15th anniversary with a dinner dance Thursday at Northwood Inn in Berkley.

The buffet dinner will be served at 7 p.m. with entertainment and dancing to follow. House committee chairman Wesley Holyoke is in charge of arrangements for the anniversary celebration.

Rail Union, Companies Far Apart on Demands

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the nation's railroads appeared far apart yesterday after a meeting designed to "explore" opposing demands.

The BRT renewed its claim for a 14 per cent pay hike for the 175,000 employes it represents. The individual railroads previously made a counter demand that employes take a 15-cent pay cut.

Negotiations reached the national stage for the first time yesterday under provisions of the Railway Labor Act.

Hollywood Headlines:

Skoal! To Johansson! Says 'Yup' Like Cooper

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Found: the successor to Gary Cooper. He is the heavyweight boxing champ, Ingemar Johansson.

It's too early to judge his acting prowess; he has only started his first film role in Hall Bartlett's "All The Young Men." But as an interview subject, Ingo beats the veteran Coop by three yups.

Q. Did you ever act before?

A. No.

Q. In school, perhaps?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Do you remember what roles?

A. No.

Q. Are you a movie fan?

A. Yes.

Q. Who are your favorite stars?

A. Lots of them.

Q. Are you nervous about acting?

A. (wry smile) No.

Admittedly, the champ may be more voluble in his native tongue and on matters concerning the ring. As an actor, he is going to give interviewers the fits.

In the Columbia makeup department, Ben Lane applied pancake to the broad face of the Swede, darkened his eyebrows and gave him a day's growth of beard. Ingo's brother Rolf, who also will play a role in the film, watched nearby and scoffed at the suggestion that the champ would be nervous.

"They expected him to be nervous when he fought for the championship," Rolf said, "but he wasn't. He certainly wouldn't be nervous about acting."

Meanwhile, back in the makeup chair—

Q. How much money are you getting for the picture?

A. I don't know. (It is reported in the neighborhood of $50,000, which is the kind of neighborhood Ingo likes.)

Q. What are your plans after the picture?

A. I have to fight (Floyd) Patterson first.

Q. What about Archie Moore?

A. (wry smile) I have to fight Patterson first.

Johansson changed into the uniform of a United Nations soldier. He plays a navy gunner who has lost his ship during the Korean War.

His first scene was in a hospital, greeting a soldier he had recovered from a foxhole. Ingo got his first scene in one take, as coolly as if he were cutting down a ring opponent.

At press time, he had this to say: "I like Hollywood. But where's the smog?"

AP Wirephoto

JOHANSSON IN NEW ROLE — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johannsson, a newcomer to the ranks of movie actors, gets his face made up for the cameras as he prepares for a day's shooting on the set of "All the Young Men." Makeup man is Ben Lane. Johansson plays the role of a machine gunner in the Korean War. Hollywood reporters found him almost as silent as an earlier Swedish import to Hollywood, Greta Garbo.

Mobile Spikes Heel Suits

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—The City of Mobile operates under a law today that could cost milady five bucks for wearing high heels over 1½ inches high and one inch in diameter.

The ordinance was passed yesterday by the 3-man City Commission to put legal liability for women who fall down on city streets and sidewalks wearing spike heels back on the women.

The city blamed some suits filed by women on their high heels. Now the women will be strutting illegally if they persist in wearing the high heels.

There is one out, however. City Hall will issue a permit to the women who want to wear the shoes. The permit relieves the city of any responsibility.

The ordinance actually calls for a $5 fine for women caught violating the ordinance but it was not even intended to be enforced. The city commissioners said they just wanted to stop some of the damage suits filed by women against the city after falls in downtown Mobile.

Detroit Taxi Ordinance Applies to Suburb Firms

LANSING (AP) — Five cab companies have lost a State Supreme Court fight to prevent the city of Detroit from applying its taxi regulation ordinance to suburban cabs traveling in the city.

The high court yesterday ruled that the State Motor Carrier Act does not apply to cab companies and supersede local ordinance, contrary to claims of the five firms.

The court also:

1. Affirmed a Wayne County decision granting the Ohio Department of Taxation three judgments totaling $11,400 against a Michigan trucking firm.

2. Upheld suspension of a Flint chiropractor's license for fraud.

Cab companies who brought suit were Lorraine Cab, Vinewood Cab Co., Redford Veteran's Cab, Veteran's Cab of Grosse Pointe and Skyview Veteran's Cab Co. They are licensed in Dearborn, Redford, Grosse Pointe Park and Harper Woods.

Their drivers have been frequently arrested in Detroit for failing to comply with the city's taxi licensing provisions.

In a unanimous opinion written by Justice Talbot Smith, the court reversed Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane of St. Clair County, sitting in Wayne County, who ruled for the cab companies' move to prevent enforcement of the ordinance.

Of the State Motor Carrier Act, Smith said: "It would be difficult to frame a code less applicable to operation of taxicabs."

Climaxing a fight over Ohio's axle tone mile tax on trucks, the court held it did not represent an unfair burden on a Michigan firm.

By sending its trucks over Ohio highways, Kleitch Bros., Inc., of Dearborn "plainly submitted itself to jurisdiction of that state and its highway use tax law," the ruling said. The U.S. Supreme Court already has declared the Ohio tax consititutional in another case.

Circuit Judge Paul V. Gadola of Genesee County and the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners were upheld in suspending the license of Dr. James W. Latreille.

The board said Latrielle obtained his license after producing a certificate showing he enrolled at Ross College in Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1936. The certificate had been altered and actually was issued to his father when Latrielle was 13 years old.

Latrielle argued he did not personally alter the certificate and therefore should not be penalized. The examining board ordered his license suspended until he fulfilled the requirements for a chiropractor's licnse.

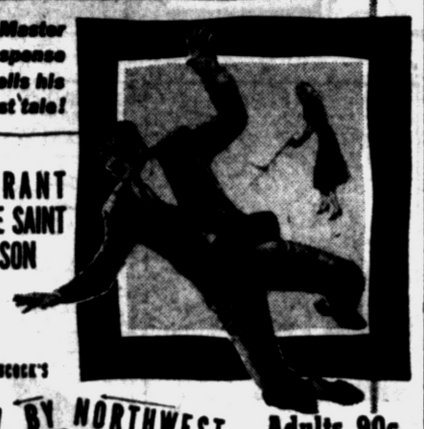

L'Anse Killer Must Stand Trial as Adult

L'ANSE (AP)—Eugene Paquet, 16, must stand trial as an adult in the slayings of his girl friend's father and her 10-year-old sister.

Probate (Juvenile) Judge Mae Campbell waived jurisdiction in the case yesterday. Prosecutor William G. Konstenius of Baraga County already has said he will seek a murder charge against Eugene.

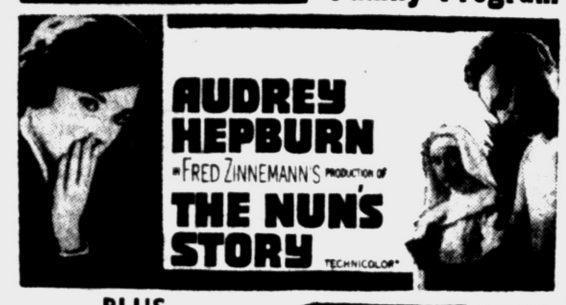

Described as a "model boy," Eugene has admitted shooting Edward Frosland, 44, father of his girl friend, Shirley, 16, and strangling Lila Lynn, another daughter, at their home Sunday, police said.

Police said Eugene admitted leaving church services to carry out the killings. "I don't know why," he said.

Why Are You Pooped Mrs. Jones?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Dora Albert is an author who wants to tell women how to "stop feeling tired and start living."

It makes me quite tired to read what she has to say. Tired, and a little dead.

Mrs. Albert uses, as her symbolic figure of American womanhood, a woman named Jones.

Mrs. Jones, wife and mother of several children who squawk, Mrs. Jones who, the author writes vividly, is "pooped."

ALL EMOTIONAL

All of them emotional

"1. She fought with her husband at breakfast. This is the worst possible time for an argument.

"2. Mrs. Jones had a dispute with the serviceman. Arguments exhaust us.

"3. The children probably wouldn't be squalling if Mrs. Jones had given them the example of a serene disposition, and had spent more time with them.

"4. She is looking forward to telling her husband about the awful day she has had. She'll wear the poor man out with the tale of her grievances, and wear herself out reliving them."

Now, with lovable Mrs. Jones as our leading character, author Albert goes on to tell readers what she has learned in 25 years of interviewing Mr. and Mrs. Joneses all over this great, emotionally weary land.

START POSITIVELY

She advises that you, Mrs. Jones, start each morning with a positive thought.

Like, "This is going to be a wonderful day." And don't have arguments for breakfast. If you must argue, "do it later in the day."

"Try to avoid becoming unnecessarily angry during the day. When you are tempted to be angry, keep your voice down. Think of the person to whom you are talking as a fictional character; in that way you can keep yourself from becoming emotionally involved.

"Don't harp on the things that go wrong, either to your husband or to anyone else, Mrs. Jones. They don't make sparkling conversation and you become doubly worn out concentrating on gloom.

"Always stop a chore before you become tired. Take frequent brief breathers.

"During these brief 'rest cures' notice the way the leaves on the trees are shaped, or notice the way a bird's wing curves.

'FORGET PERFECTION'

"Stop trying to be a perfectionist. Only a perfect woman could keep a house immaculate at all times.

"Bring up perfectly behaved and happy children. Always look stunning yourself, and still remain serene.

"If your children are happy and well-adjusted and you yourself are radiant with happiness, your husband won't even notice that speck of dust in the corner. It isn't fatal."

I suppose all this advice may help revitalize the weary Mrs. Jones—this perfectionist who fights her husband, screams at the help, bullies and ignores her kids and wears herself out yakking over her woes. This advice, and a few years with an analyst.

But for the rest of us, the girls who get pooped from trying to avoid arguments, working to be good to the kids, hurrying to clean up the house so the cleaning girl won't overdo, fighting to withhold our personal anxieties from the man of the house—what's the solution?

Two suggestions.

Avoid tiresome advice. And stop trying to keep DOWN with those Joneses.

Humphrey Expecting Oregon Primary Win

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey expects to be in the Oregon primary and he expects to win, Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota said Monday night.

Freeman came here to tie up the loose ends of a recent swing by Sen. Humphrey through Oregon to promote his bid for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

Oregon's presidential primary—unique in that the state's secretary of state must put on the ballot generally recognized candidates—is next May.

Plan Park, Bandshell for West Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP)—A 2.34-acre park, complete with a half-million-dollar bandshell, is slated for Manhattan's West Side. The park, to be named Damrosch Park in honor of the noted family of musicians, will be included in the Lincoln Square area set aside for the city's Performing Arts Center.

Argentina's population increased from about 9.9 million in 1914 to about 19 million in the 1954 estimate.

Soybeans Lead Prices Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures weakened on the Board of Trade today. Soybeans led the downtown, declining more than two cents a bushel on the January delivery at the opening.

Wheat started steady on early demand by commercial interests, but scattered selling by commission houses offset purchases and the bread grain turned fractionally lower after a higher start. Some demand for wheat was attributed to exporters.

Weather was a factor in both soybean and corn futures. Forecasts of more favorable weather for harvesting brought selling of both commodities.

Rye was off as much as a cent a bushel on the March contract at the opening under pressure of liquidation by longs.

Acquit Father of Assault

Farmington Man Is Tried for Breaking His Son's Leg

An all-woman Oakland County Circuit Court jury today acquitted a Farmington man of aggravated assault in the breaking of his 13-year-old son's leg in June.

Raymond E. Paquette testiifed his son "started to smart aleck and talk back to me" when he asked him to empty the garbage.

"I clipped him one on the ear," said Paquette, 37, a partner in an asphalt paving company.

"After he fell over a chair," he continued, "he cried, 'Don't hit me, don't hit me, you broke my leg'."

Breaking down several times while he recalled what happened, Paquette said Robert's pleadings didn't convince him he had broken his leg.

"I didn't believe him, of course. I picked him up by the shoulders and shook him violently. Then I threw him to the floor. He again cried that I had broken his leg."

Paquette's attorney, Paul W. Harty, contended it was a parent's province to decide what amount of force is necessary to discipline a child.

Assistant Prosecutor Donald A. Brown urged the 12 jurors, many of them mothers, to return a guilty verdict. "By his own admission he said he used too much force," Brown said.

During the close of the trial yesterday, Judge Holland had to quiet the boy's mother when on several occasions she interrupted the testimony. The boy sat beside her. His parents have been divorced since 1957.

On Harty's request, Judge Holland in his charge to the jury this morning reminded jurors of a statute which states that "the parent is the sole judge of the necessity of the disciplinary right and the nature of the correction to be given."

"The mere fact that the castigation may appear to others to be unnecessarily harsh or severe does not make of the parent's conduct a subject of judicial cognizance."

Jurors listened and 30 minutes later returned a verdict of not guilty.

Fails to Halt Sale of Vernor Shares

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Shirley C. Vernor of 707 W. Long Lake Rd., lost in Wayne County circuit court yesterday her plea for an injunction to halt sale of a majority share in the Vernor Ginger Ale Co. to firms which plan to market it publicly.

She also lost her bid to force sale of 945 shares, representing 63 per cent of the stock, to her for $2,268,000.

Mrs. Vernor is the widow of James Vernor Jr., a son of the founder of the ginger ale company. James Vernor Sr. willed the stock or proceeds of the sale of it to a trust fund the younger Vernor had set up.

Baker Simonds & Co. of Detroit and William J. Mericka of Cleveland were successful bidders for the stock, which Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore ordered sold to them.

Steels, Motors Under Pressure

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, motors and rails were under pressure in the stock market today as effects of the nation's longest steel strike continued to spread.

Recently favored space age issues came in for profit taking.

Tobaccos displayed independent strength. A recent magazine article was viewed as favorable for these shares.

In the steel list Lukens tumbled almost 3 while Youngstown was off about 2. U.S. Steel and Bethlehem lost about 1. Republic sank nearly 2.

Trade magazines called attention to the fact that even if the steel strike should end immediately the steel companies would utilize considerable time just filling their own pipelines.

Layoffs in the auto industry continued to grow with General Motors hardest hit. It lost about 1½. Ford was down a similar amount. American Motors dipped only a small fraction.

The rails, hard hit by the steel strike, sank under mild but steady selling pressure. New York Central fell more than 1 while Southern Pacific Coast line gave up fractions.

The aircrafts declined, General Dynamics losing 1 point, but the airlines were little changed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 50 cents at $22.10. Industrials were off 50 cents, rails $1 and utilities unchanged.

Drug Price Hearings Get Under Way Today

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The federal government today was to spell out its price-fixing charges against five major drug companies.

And defense counsel for the companies, including former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, were to explain how the companies produced and priced their salk antipolio vaccine.

Opening statements by the lawyers were expected to take about six hours. Attorneys estimated the trial will last from five weeks to three months.

MACHINE SORTS ADDRESSES—The Roosevelt Park Annex of the U. S. Post Office in Detroit has the world's largest semi-automatic mail sorting machine, demonstrated yesterday in a press conference preview of the "Postal Parade of Progress" exhibition taking place today through Saturday in the downtown former National Bank of Detroit Building. Designed by Burroughs Corporation, the machine can sort 43,000 letters each hour and send them off to 279 destinations. A hand-sorter averages about 1,800 an hour for 49 destinations.

Lands in Woods to Save Pupils

Plane Avoids Cleared Waterford Areas to Spare Children

A young pilot yesterday risked his own life landing a crippled airplane in wooded terrain between two school playgrounds filled with children.

George J. Garcia, 35, of Detroit said when he realized his engine had stopped he circled and glided above the Lambert and William Burt schools in Waterford Township, looking for an open site in which to land his Continental 65 plane.

Both schools had recessed, and although there were cleared areas on the outskirts of the grounds, Garcia said he decided not to endanger the lives of hundreds of children. He headed for the woods.

Garcia made a three-point landing in the thickly populated area near Cass-Elizabeth Lake and Cass Lake roads, climbed out without a scratch and walked to the Donald Bowen home at 760 Ledyard St.

CARBURETOR TROUBLE

Garcia told Waterford Township police he had taken off from the New Hudson airport and was bound for Pontiac Municipal Airport when he developed carburetor trouble.

Police said if the Garcia plane had landed 20 feet from the spot the pilot chose, it would have flipped over because of a deep mucky swamp in the area.

The plane hit a small hill and came to rest 10 feet back of the Bowen house, barely missing tall trees, fences and highways.

The plane is owned by Garcia and his brother William, also of Detroit.

Afghanistan Assures U.S. of Friendship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Afghanistan has assured the United States that its acceptance of large-scale Soviet aid has not altered Afghan friendship with this country.

This assurance came from Afghanistan's deputy prime minister and foreign minister, Prince Sardar Mohammad Naim, who is completing a two-day visit here Tuesday.

Juan D. Peron was overthrown as President of Argentina on Sept. 19, 1955.

State Draws Praise for Lending Minds

A borrowing technique has jolted Post Office Department progress from a standstill closer to the realization of a one-day delivery goal.

In Detroit yesterday for a preview of the "Parade of Postal Progress" exhibition, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield cited Michigan as the chief "lender."

"Washington has gone along with what we have wanted," said Summerfield, "but industry has given us the big push.

"We have borrowed brains and facilities from industry, such as some top minds from the Burroughs Corp., for a year or more in our development program.

"The brains are centralized in this Michigan area. These people are loaned to us free of charge.

'FAR BEHIND'

"We have been far behind. There hasn't been progress in the Post Office Department for many, many years. We have much to make up for. Tapping the brains of industry has been a huge help."

Summerfield predicted one-day delivery to any point in the United States within three years.

Examples of the gains toward that end are on exhibit 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. today through Saturday at the First National Building, Woodward avenue at Cadillac Square in Detroit.

Major developments of the Post Office Department's crash program of mechanization and modernization on display are:

1. A machine with electron'c eyes that "reads" and sorts typewritten envelopes.

2. Models of a patron-operated postal substation which sells stamps, envelopes, stationery and accepts parcel post.

3. A model of the automatic parcel post acceptance unit which computes the total cost, including insurance, affixes postage and returns change.

4. A machine which "faces" letters (places them in position for cancellation) and cancels them at the rate of 30,000 per hour.

These and many other exhibits are highlighted by the Burroughs Corp. letter sorter, unveiled yesterday by Summerfield and Burroughs President Ray Eppert.

279 DESTINATIONS

The machine can sort 43,000 letters each hour and send them off to 279 destinations. A hand sorter's average is about 1,800 an hour for 49 destinations.

Also on display is the Farrington Automatic Address Reader, which can read addresses an sort mail to 20 destinations.

Elizabeth Taylor Accepts Part After Hassle

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor has agreed to star in an MGM film she once refused to appear in because she considered it pornographic.

Miss Taylor an the studio came to terms yesterday after a prolonged squabble when she learned the film "Butterfield 8" will be:

—Filmed entirely in New York.

—And that script changes will be made to fit her demands.

Miss Taylor and the studio came role of a fallen woman, was appeased by the New York location for the film because she cannot live in Hollywood with her new husband, singer Eddie Fisher, until his divorce from Debbie Reynolds becomes final next February.

Sixma Resigns Post With School Group

EAST LANSING (AP)—The resignation of Executive Secretary Sidney H. Sixma surprised the Michigan School Board Assn. as it started its annual conference Tuesday.

Sixma has been widely credited with being the guiding voice of the organization. He shrugged off pleas by some delegates that he reconsider his decision.

Sixma said he had no plans for the future. He said he thought the post should be "handled by a younger man."

He said he will stay on with the organization until the end of the fiscal year in June to break in a successor.

Sixma also served as the association's legislative consultant and put out its monthly magazine.

GM Steel Strike Layoffs Zip Toward 30,000 Mark

DETROIT (AP) — Layoffs by General Motors Corp. because of the steel strike headed toward the 30,000 mark today.

By the end of week, there will be that many jobless in plant shutdowns or steel shortage-caused production curtailments, GM officials estimated.

New layoffs are scheduled this week for factories in Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Lansing.

For the auto industry as a whole, the steel shortage pinch so far has had little effect on employment.

The industry employs more than half a million U.S. workers. Neither Ford nor Chrysler, others of the industry's "Big Three," has announced any layoff because of steel shortages.

GM's Fisher Body plant at Lansing yesterday laid off 500 of its 5,000 workers. The plant makes car bodies for Oldsomobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet models.

The GM Chevrolet foundry at Saginaw will lay off about half its 5,500-man force tonight and will close down entirely Friday. The foundry makes engine blocks and castings.

Between 30 and 40 steering gear factory workers at Saginaw were laid off yesterday following a prior layoff of 250 transmission plant employes.

The two plants regularly employ about 2,300 men.

By the weekend, there are to be 5,200 more layoffs at Chevrolet plants in Flint. These will be in addition to 19,500 earlier GM layoffs during the weeks of the steel strike.

Fisher body at Grand Rapids, employing 1,200, plans to close Friday night.

Some 4,100 employes were to be sent home after today's shifts at Flint Chevrolet V-8 engine and frame and stamping plants as part of previously announced layoffs. The plants laid 2,400 off yesterday.

British Auto Firms Hit by Steel Strike

LONDON (AP)—The American steel strike hit Britain's booming auto industry today, and a new political row appeared in the offing.

Vauxhall Motors announced that a shortage of sheet steel is forcing cutbacks at its two big plants at Luxton and Dunstable. Nearly 25,000 workers were told that a five hour Saturday morning shift would be stopped for at least two months, meaning a loss of up to $8.40 a week in wages for each worker.

Temperature Hits 87 for San Francisco Mark

By United Press International

The mercury soared to 87 degrees in downtown San Francisco yesterday, shattering that city's all-time record for Oct. 13 set in 1874 and 1929.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said sweltering residents could expect another broiling today from the unseasonable heat wave.

Steel Pinch to Be Chaotic; Present Action Too Late

NEW YORK (UPI) — An enforced return of striking steelworkers to the mills under the Taft-Hartley Act will not prevent "complete chaos" in steel markets, Iron Age magazine said today.

The country already is nearing the worst steel shortage in its history and any injunction now, at best can only prevent steel supplies from drying up completely, the trade publication said.

It would come too late to head off additional layoffs and no one in the industry is "under any illusion" that an enforced truce will produce peak effort by the steelworkers, Iron Age said.

An 80-day resumption of operations will result in only about 50 days of full steel production, the magazine said, explaining that there will be a lag in refiring the furnaces and filling the mills' own pipelines.

WILL TAKE WEEKS

Iron Age estimated that steel inventories have dwindled to about 7 million tons and that steel shipments could not reach top volume until from four to six weeks after the steelworkers go back to the mills.

Some mills, if added, will be unable to maintain full operations in January and February because of lack of Great Lakes' iron ore that has been strike-bound during the ice-free shipping season.

Some steel shortages will persist through the first six months next year or longer, cutting into auto output, the magazine estimated.

The auto industry, which normally consumes from 15 to 20 per cent of all steel output will be trying to grab off 25 to 30 per cent of available steel to achieve its ambitious fall and winter production goals, it said.

This would further tighten the steel pinch for other industries, the magazine pointed out.

'60 Chrysler Prices Show Little Change

DETROIT (AP) — Prices on 1960 Chrysler models are virtually unchanged from 1959.

There are some cuts and some increases. However, the company says the models on which prices are unchanged account for about 94 per cent of all Chrysler sales.

Chrysler announced the prices yesterday. 1960 models go on sale Friday.

Prices range from $2,909 for the Windsor four-door sedan to $4,691 for the New Yorker town and country three-seat station wagon.

All the prices are factory retail. They do not include the federal excise tax, dealer handling charges, freight or state and local taxes.

In the Windsor series, the convertible was raised $16 and the two-seat station wagon $49. The three-seat station wagon was reduced $50.

Each of the three Saratoga series models was cut $25. A dual exhaust system, standard in 1959, was made extra cost optional equipment. The two-seat station wagon of the New Yorker series was raised $37 while the three-seat wagon was cut $62.

Report on Laos to Accuse China

Expect U.N. Group to Charge Red Marshal Leading Rebels

TOKYO (UPI)—The Japanese diplomat who headed the United Nations' four-man fact-finding team in Laos is expected to report that the Communist campaign there is headed by Marshal Peng Teh-Huai, commander of Red Chinese troops during the Korean War.

An important diplomatic source who read excerpts from the findings of Shinichi Shibusawa, the Japanese diplomat, said today the fact-finder found that all evidence pointed to the fact the Laos campaign was under the direct supervision of Peng, former Red Chinese defense minister.

The U.N. fact-finding team has just completed a 27-day mission to the tiny Indochinese kingdom of Laos and chairman Shibusawa is expected here today. Other members of the team will meet here tomorrow night and the entire group is expected to return to New York by Oct. 26.

Fine Market Manager for Short-Weight Meat

West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle imposed a fine of $50 plus $15 costs on Jack Rose, meat manager at the Miracle Mile Food Fair Market, 2105 Telegraph Rd., for selling packaged meat labeled three pounds and weighing only two pounds 12¾ ounces.

Investigators for the Michigan Dept. of Agriculture said 31 of 41 packages weighed were short.

Rose blamed it on carelessness or oversight by employes at the store.

AMC Reduces American Price

All Models Are $40 Cheaper in '60, Says George Romney

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors announced a price cut of $40 across the board on its smaller Rambler American models as it put its new 1960 cars on sale today.

George Romney, AMC president, said the price cut was possible because of higher volume production and increased efficiency.

The price of the regular Rambler six-cylinder model is not changed nor is that of the top-line Ambassador series. The regular Rambler V-8 was cut $11.

The two-door Rambler American Deluxe sedan is priced at $1,795, including the federal excise tax and dealer handling costs.

The least expensive model of the regular Rambler six is $1,998. This has a 108-inch wheelbase.

Other comparable prices in the compact field are: Ford's Falcon $1,912, Studebaker-Packard's Lark $1,976 and Chevrolet's Corvair $1,984.

These prices include federal excise tax and dealer handling costs but do not include freight, optional equipment, or state and federal taxes.

American Motors reportedly held off price announcements until the last minute in hopes of a settlement of the steel strike.

In the price announcement Romney said his company hopes to increase its 1960 sales to 500,000 from the estimated 380,000 of calendar 1959.

Ford, whose Falcon is the lowest priced among the new compact cars, has said it does not regard Rambler's American as competitive. Ford said the American is a five-passenger car while the Falcon is a six-passenger car.

American Motors has not claimed a capacity of six passengers for its American. However, Vice President Roy Abernethy said the American is "priced $117 below the lowest price competitive car."

Offers Soviets $1 Million for Moon Photos

HOLLYWOO D(UPI)—A television producer bid a million dollars today for the film and photographs of the dark side of the moon taken by Russia's Lunik III.

David L. Wolper, seeking exclusive rights to the films for his "Race for Space" TV show, said he is dealing with the U.S.S.R.'s film representatives, Sovexport Films and Artkino Pictures.

Wolper made his bid in a wire to the Soviet agencies. He said that after using the films on his show he would donate them "to universities and other scientific groups for study."

Wolper has already purchased films of other Soviet space experiments.

According to a recent survey, newspaper advertising influences purchasing most. Eighty-one per cent of the people made purchases because of newspaper ads, only 4 per cent because of television. The same survey showed that only 1 per cent found advertising in newspapers objectionable, while 16 per cent disliked advertising on television and 45 per cent objected

Peruvians Drooling Over U.S. Tiny Car

WASHINGTON (AP)—Detroit's new compact cars may regenerate demand for U. S. automobiles in South America, Assistant Secretary of Commerce Henry Kearns says.

Kearns has just returned from an eight-day tour to Ecuador, Peru and Chile.

In Lima, Peru, he said, one importer had brought down one of the new compact models, and Peruvian who visited the fair were "drooling" over it.

There has been some disillusionment with European cars, he said, and "I think we can regain our market." U. S.-made vehicles, he indicated, generally have shown more durability.

Mexico and some other of the Latin American nations have adopted restrictions on vehicle imports which—by weight, price or horsepower—have resulted in making European autos more attractive.

Philippine Dancers Excite Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—An exotic company of barefoot dancers, in costumes highly colored and dance numbers highly charged, brought an exciting Philippine spectacle to Broadway Tuesday night.

But the farther they were from Broadway in the tales they acted out and the steps they shuffled, stamped and tapped, the better they were.

It was Bayanihan, the Philippine dance company at the Winter Garden here for two weeks and then due for a two-month cross-country tour.

READY TO SING SOLO — Singer Alice Lon, former Champagne Lady with Lawrence Welk, has a bright smile as she talks on the telephone and says she is ready to sing for her supper. Alice opens a two-week engagement tonight at the Coconut Grove, plush Los Angeles nitery. She says she turned down several offers after leaving Welk so she could develop her own act.

Michigan Crop Mark Predicted

Rain Doesn't Dampen Rosy Outlook for Corn, but Freeze Threatens

LANSING (UPI) — Wet fields have delayed late harvest activity but not enough to dampen predictions of a record year for Michigan farmers, state and federal officials said today.

"There is danger of crop loss in some areas but we still should have an over-all record production," said C. J. Borum, chief of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

Borum said it was too early to put a dollar value on the year's production. Cash receipts from marketings of farm products totaled $714,118,000 last year.

John Ferris of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service predicted the Michigan corn crop would be 35 per cent larger "than we have ever produced before — four ears for every three we produced last year."

Rain has plagued farmers so far this month, Borum said.

"Now it is going to be a race against the freeze," he said.

Although 85 to 90 per cent of the state's dry bean harvest was completed last week, some areas in the thumb face high crop damage and discoloration.

Wet fields brought sugar beet harvesting to a virtual standstill in some areas. Some sugar beet factories had to close because of lack of beets to process.

The men who measure Michigan's farm production focused most attention on the whopping corn crop.

Woman Had a Reason

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The woman wrote a note when she paid her parking fine by mail. "The meter said 'expired' so we thought it had expired for the day and didn't put any money in," she explained.

TV News and Reviews

Sincere Try Goes Awry in Jerry's 'Jazz Singer'

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — An attempt to recreate the classic story, "The Jazz Singer," on NBC-TV last night was so obviously sincere that it was a pity it was so cliche-ridden and often misguided.

The familiar story by Samson Raphaelson was adapted and modernized by Ernest Glucksman and Ralph Nelson (producer and director, respectively, of last night's presentation, second in the new Star-time series.)

Jerry Lewis starred as Joey Robins, Cantor Rabinowitz's son, who broke his father's heart by breaking a family line of five generations of cantors to go into show business.

Because there was only one hour for the story, there was no time to explore the merits of the father-son conflict, or to present full portraits of each.

Nor was there an attempt to resolve the question, although the play did make the point that children cannot roam too far from their heritage.

The telescoping caused many of the serious scenes to take on burlesque - style dimensions, for every line had to cover too much ground.

It had to try to present symbolic values as well as down-to-earth ones, and when characters become open symbols, they make for troublesome dialogue.

By burlesque - style scenes, I mean such things as: Joey's arrival home during his father's birthday party. When his father slaps him for joking about ritual and says, "Better I should be dead than my son should sing jazzed holy songs in my house. Get out of my house." Joey gets.

Later, when his father suffers a stroke before the start of Yom Kippur services, Joey tries to put off a bedside visit because he is about to make his TV debut.

He tells his mother, backstage, that he can't because . . ."Just look — all this." Someone shouts, "You're on, Joey," and he goes on to sing part of "Be a Clown," in clown makeup. It made me groan, it was so creaky.

Lewis was convincing as an insecure, nervous, guilt - ridden comic at the start of the show, but he pounded too hard on his big dramatic scenes.

Molly Picon played his mother and gave it the old schmaltz, as did Edward Franz as the father. Anna Maria Alberghetti was Joey's discoverer in the show and she had very little to do.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Dave Garroway has selected Florence Henderson to be the new "Today Girl" on his weekday morning NBC-TV show. Miss Henderson, signed to the role after a year-long search for a successor to Betsy Palmer and Helen O'Connell, is a frequent guest on the Jack Paar Show and was costar of last season's Oldsmobile Theater.

Heavyweight boxing champ Ingemar Johansson continues his show business career in CBS-TV's Nov. 19 production of Ernest Hemingway's "The Killers." Ingo will play Oley Anderson.

Zsa Zsa Is Decoration for Union Boss' Table

NEW YORK — Right at the peak of the steel strike, Zsa Zsa Gabor dined swankily with United Steelworkers Prez David J. McDonald and Phil Regan. 'Twas perfectly innocent, because the union boss is a pal of Zsa's off-and-on-again fiance, Hal Hayes. Anyway, Ben Fairless, retired U.S. Steel boss, was observing from the next table.

WILSON

Jackie Gleason, shocked by the Mario Lanza death, ordered himself to watch his weight and give up feasting.

Ann Corio and Bob Williams (of the dog act) are scrapping over $400,000 in California community property—the stakes including the top dog, a Springer Spaniel named Louie. "Jerry Lewis raises Springer Spaniels and gave us this dog; he belongs as much to me as to Bob," says Ann. "I don't want to take the dog and hurt the act; I just want a fair settlement."

Ann helped train Louie "and with my burlesque background, I helped write some material for the act": presumably some of Louie's ad barks.

Glad to Shed 'Lucy' Role

Bids 'Ethel' Goodby

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — For nine years Lucille Ball and Vivian Vance were a set—you rarely saw one without the other on TV, but with "I Love Lucy" taking a dive the girls are going their separate ways.

With Lucy it's easy. She can sit back and clip coupons from the profitable Desilu Corp. which she and Desi Arnaz own.

Red-haired Vivian is well off too. Residuals from reruns of more than 200 "Lucy" shows bring her a tidy income. Still, TV's Ethel Mertz wants to continue her career on her own.

To lose her identity as the wacky, scatter-brained Ethel, Vivian has just completed a dramatic role in a horse opera, "The Deputy."

"The role is a far cry from that biddy Ethel," Vivian laughed. "The woman I portray is a strong individualist who rides horses and drives buggies. It's given me a new lease on life.

"In all the nine years I was with 'Lucy' I never appeared in a movie or TV show. Toward the end I thought I was getting tired of acting, but I was just weary of the same role. From now on I hope never to be seen wearing a marcel and house dress."

Vivian wasn't being disloyal to the show. She happily admits the program has made her financially independent for life.

"You'd think after all those years people would call me Ethel, but I'm seldom recognized. Off screen I look entirely different," she smiled. "However, I'll be delighted when audiences realize I'm not really married to Bill Frawley, who played Fred Mertz on the show."

A close friend of Lucille offscreen, Vivian and her madcap buddy are planning an hour-long TV musical with Vivian playing second banana.

"I learned my comedy early in life on the stage working with such greats as Ed Wynn, Victor Moore, Bob Hope, Jimmy Durante and Bill Gaxton," Vivian said. "I think it's the most difficult part of acting.

"Right now I'm hoping to star in my own series. The pilot already has been filmed. It's the story of a couple who open a dude ranch in New Mexico. We've titled it 'Guestward Ho' with Leif Erickson costarring."

So Vivian Vance is back in circulation, free of Ethel Mertz forever—or almost, anyhow. She has one more hour-long "Lucy" show to go and then she is n her own.

Irish President Marks His 77th Birthday

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—President Eamon de Valera quietly celebrated his 77th birthday with his work and his family today. The New York-born Irish statesman, frail and nearly blind, canceled none of his routine presidential duties.

South Dakota, Utah, Alaska and California account for 74 per cent of the total domestic production of gold in the U. S.

SPEAKING of BEAUTY

We know you're different! No one in the whole world looks exactly like you!

Not even an "identical twin" is just like her sister! So we adapt every new fashion, every hair cut, to your features alone. For instance, if yours is a round face, we avoid a "round" style, even if you have set your heart on one you saw on somebody else! But we'll show you why just a bit of extra height here, a special curl there gives special interest to your prettiest feature ... the curve of your lips maybe, or the colour of your eyes.

Consider the shape of your face

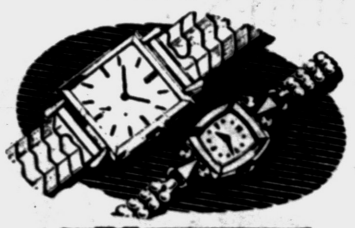

We do, first, last, and always! But a good professional hairdresser, doesn't stop there. many things go together to make up the right silhouette for you . . and that's what a hair-style really is, a silhouette that flatters your whole figure! So we also consider your height, your posture, your neck and shoulders. We custom-create a style that doesn't just flatter your face . . . it pleases your profile and looks right from back or sides . . . makes folks turn to look at you as you walk on the street.
