Hot Tar Vat Explodes Killing Orion Roofer; Fall Fatal for Boy, 5

A Lake Orion roof builder died this morning and his partner remained in critical condition with severe burns suffered yesterday when a bucket they were filling with hot tar exploded, setting them afire.

★ ★ ★

A drowning and a fall from a tree by a five-year-old boy resulted in two deaths in Oakland County Tuesday.

Dead are: roofer David Jerry Smith, 38, of 605 N. Lapeer Rd.; Collin Wyckoff, of 10280 Fish Lake Rd., Rose Township and Raymond Siaczka, 20, of 4239 Western St., Detroit.

On the critical list at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Frank Hill, 37, of 916 Premont St., with third degree burns of the arms and legs. Smith died of third degree burns of the entire body.

4 ON JOB

Smith, owner of the Jerry Smith Roofing Co., and Hill were working on a house at the corner of Ferry and Jesse Streets with Smith's stepson, Frank Bell, 17, and Donald Reamer, 28, of Clarkston, when the incident happened.

Smith and Hill were drawing tar from a kettle when it exploded showering hot tar all over them and their truck. The other workers rushed to their aid, put out the flames and sped them to the hospital.

Firemen said the explosion apparently was caused by the hot tar striking some cold water in the bottom of the bucket.

Oakland County Sheriff Department Diver Bill Jackson was still searching for the body of Siaczka in Walled Lake this morning after efforts failed last night.

Siaczka drowned when he dived from a boat to recover a pair of water skis and a tow rope which had broken loose.

Demetrio Montes, 28, of Detroit, owner and operator of the boat, told county deputies his companion went down after complaining of a leg cramp.

CAN'T HOLD ON

Montes said he drove his boat to the drowning man and grasped Siaczka's body but couldn't hold onto him.

He said he was unable to reach the body again because of high winds and rough water.

The men had been towing water skier Paul Giarre, 21, of Detroit, when the rope broke. Siaczka went over the side to recover the rope and skis.

Howard Moore Mute at Hearing

Court Appoints Lawyer for Accused Sex-Killer of Martha Little, 3

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick this morning appointed an attorney for Howard Wayne Moore, 23-year-old Lake Orion furnace repairman charged with the sex killing of three-year-old Martha Little, after Moore stood mute to the charge upon arraignment.

* * *

Appointed to defend Moore was Carl Ingraham of Birmingham. Moore's mother, Mrs. Minnie Fairchild of Oxford, reportedly told Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem she would prefer Ingraham.

Moore, shifting from foot to foot during the legal maneuvering, was quiet and composed. His hair slicked back, he was dressed in a blue pinstripe suit and flanked by lawmen.

Among spectators in the packed courtroom was Moore's wife, Irene, 20. The two did not speak.

Ingraham's appointment came after Moore told Judge Hartrick he wanted a lawyer, but could not hire one.

Ziem said after the court proceedings Moore will be tried in September. Judge Hartrick entered a plea of innocent for Moore, and returned him to Oakland County Jail to await trial.

There is no bond for men charged with first-degree murder.

Clouds Over Oakland Will Be Rain Loaded

The Weather Bureau again forecasts fair to partly cloudy weather tonight in the Pontiac area. There is a chance of scattered showers or thundershowers later this evening. The low will be 64 to 68 degrees.

Tomorrow it will be cooler with a high near 80.

In downtown Pontiac, the lowest temperature reading before 8 a.m. was 64 degrees. The mercury rose to 87 degrees at 2 p.m.

ON THE RECEIVING LINE — If there is one thing a candidate must do, it's meet people and shake hands. This time it is Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Mrs. Harriman greeting Gov. and Mrs. G. Williams is a favorite son candidate of the Michigan delegation for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gas Blast Levels Utah Restaurant

Rush Hour Explosion Kills 15 Diners, Injures 26 Others

MONTICELLO, Utah (AP) — An explosion shattered a crowded cafe in this southeastern Utah uranium mining community last night, killing 15 and injuring more than 26 of the 50 or more diners at the height of the busy 7 o'clock dinner hour.

The small Monticello Hospital counted 26 injured. Others were flown to hospitals in Salt Lake City and to Cortez, Durango and Grand Junction, in Colorado.

The blast was believed caused by leaking gas. A resident, Steven Hazelwood, risked his life to shut off the gas system after the explosion.

"The cafe was there one moment I looked," said Mrs. Bernice Saull, "then the next — it just wasn't there."

Officials said the cafe had been connected only yesterday to Monticello's new natural gas system.

The Red Cross flew blood and serum albumen from Salt Lake City, 240 miles northwest of here, to aid the injured. Doctors and nurses from towns as much as 100 miles away were rushed to the scene.

Prince Fahad of Kuwait Tours Pontiac Motor Plant

Prince Fahad Elsabah, ruler of Kuwait, a small nation on the Persian Gulf between Saudi Arabia and Iraq, and his family visited the Pontiac Motor plant in one stop of their around the world tour.

Their first stop in the United States was in New York City, where their first purchase was a new Pontiac.

From New York, the Prince and his wife, Princess Badvia and three children, Princess Jouliva, Princess Fatima and Prince Salim, toured Washington D. C.

"Everything" was the Prince's answer when asked what impressed him most about the United States. He was especially impressed, he said, with the kindness and hospitality of the people.

The Elsabahs will leave Detroit tomorrow for San Francisco, Hawaii, Japan, India and home by the end of October.

Prince Elsabah and one of his officers of state Foaud Abdelbaki, were dressed in native costume. The rest of the party which included Issam Abdelbaki of Austin, Tex. and interpreter M. Faraj, the Princess and children, affected western dress.

This is the Elsabahs' second visit to the United States. Their first was in 1950.

Shepilov Flies to Suez Parley

Tells London Reporters Truce Must Include All Nations Using Canal

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri T. Shepilov arrived today for a conference on the Suez Canal crisis and expressed a desire for peace.

* * *

The graying broad shouldered Shepilov told reporters at London Airport, however, any agreement would have to be one that included all countries using the canal plus Egypt, which is boycotting the meeting. He said in a statement:

* * *

"The Soviet delegation has arrived in London to this conference of certain states in order to discuss views on shipping through the Suez Canal. In our time international disputes can be settled only through negotiations by the countries concerned."

* * *

The conference opening Thursday will be Shepilov's first big international meeting since he succeeded V. M. Molotov as foreign minister June 1.

Just before Shepilov arrived, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles said in a White House statement in Washington he was confident of a peaceful solution of the canal dispute. Dulles is to arrive tomorrow.

As delegates gathered for the 22-nation conference, statesmen and newspapers put on mounting pressure for a compromise over the canal that would save the pride of both Britain and Egypt.

44-Vote Michigan Slate Rumored for Stevenson

Governor Says Labor Boss Won't Influence Delegation From State

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today the endorsement of Adlai Stevenson by Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers chief, will have no influence in the Michigan delegation.

Williams, head of one of the Democratic National Convention's largest uncommitted delegations, said he still is undecided between Stevenson and New York Gov. Averell Harriman for the party's presidential nomination.

"I think this (Reuther's endorsement) is news to nobody," the governor told an early morning news conference. "Stevenson has been Walter Reuther's candidate for a good many months."

"Whatever effect it might have had has been counted, recounted and discounted. It's not going to change the existing situation at all, not in the Michigan delegation,"

★ ★ ★

Reuther came out formally for Stevenson late yesterday.

The 44-vote delegation reportedly is swinging toward Stevenson again after a wobbly period following former President Truman's announcement of support of Harriman Saturday.

Estimates of the Stevenson potential range as high as 80 per cent. The delegation is committed only to a complimentary vote for Williams on the first ballot. It has caucused twice, the second time following the Monday evening convention session, without discussing candidates.

At the second caucus, Williams said, a report was made by Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. of Detroit, representing Michigan on the Platform Committee.

He declined to go into detail on what Diggs said, especially on the potentially explosive civil rights plank.

"I think there's a very good possibility that the majority report will be a sufficient expression of the liberal idea to make a floor fight unnecessary," he said.

Before coming to Chicago, Williams repeatedly has said specific party endorsement of the Supreme Court-antisegregation decision is a minimum requirement for acceptance of a proposed platform by liberals.

He refrained today from any discussion of the exact wording that would be acceptable.

Diggs told a reporter before the caucus Rep. Emmanuel Celler of New York was at work drafting a proposed minority report for presentation should the majority report prove "insufficient" in the civil rights area.

Diggs said he felt sure the necessary 10 signers, and probably many more, could be found to force a floor fight on the issue.

Williams said there was no significance to his attendance Monday, along with Reuther, of a reception by labor delegates for Adlai Stevenson. He said he dropped in on a neighboring social function sponsored by Harriman a few minutes before.

WILLIAMS VISITS

During the day, Williams received visits from Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, reportedly campaigning for the vice presidential nomination; Henry Sullivan, national committeeman from New Hampshire, and Frank Theis, Kansas State chairman.

Reuther called on him about an hour after his announcement for Stevenson. Williams would say only that the two "reached no final conclusions."

Reuther, in making his announcement for Stevenson yesterday, told a reporter:

"I'm for Stevenson. Everybody knows I'm for Stevenson. I don't see why I should make a big production of it."

Stevenson talked yesterday with delegates from New Hampshire, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Idaho, Hawaii, Alaska and Kansas. Visits with delegates from Maryland, Iowa, South Carolina, Montana, Maine and Rhode Island were on his schedule today.

Betsy Is Veering From Gold Coast

Georgia Hoists Warning Flags; Hurricane Moves Northward in Ocean

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Betsy veered away from its beeline course toward Florida today and forecasters said that if the trend continues the center of the small but violent tropical storm may never reach the Florida coast.

Hurricane warnings were lowered along the thickly-populated southeast Florida "Gold Coast" from Palm Beach southward at 11 a. m. EST as the storm continued its gradual swing away from its earlier northwest course to a more northerly direction.

The checkered warning flags still flew, however, along the 100-mile stretch of coast from Palm Beach to Melbourne and a "hurricane watch" was advised from Melbourne to Brunswick, Ga.

A "hurricane watch" is a warning for residents to keep abreast of storm advisories and be ready to take precautions if they become necessary.

Centered 230 miles east of Palm Beach, hurricane Betsy was moving northwestward about 14 m.p.h. Forecasters said it probably would continue on its present course the next six to 12 hours.

After that, the 11 a. m. EST advisory said, "there are some indications of a more northerly movement.

The storm's intensity was unchanged. Winds of 120 m.p.h. whirled in a small area around the "eye" and winds of hurricane velocity — 75 m.p.h. or greater — reached out 150 miles to the northeast and 40 miles in other directions.

GOP in Oakland Expect Overflow Here Tomorrow

County Republican Chairman Chad Ritchie today predicted an overflow crowd in the County Office Building tomorrow night for the Republican County convention.

"This is the strongest ticket Michigan Republicans have ever presented to the voters, and the prospects for a sweeping victory are excellent if we all do our job," Ritchie said.

At tomorrow's gathering, 124 delegates will be selected to attend the Republican state nominating convention in Grand Rapids Sept. 1.

At the state convention, candidates for secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer, auditor general and two state supreme court justices will be nominated to the GOP ticket Nov. 6.

Twenty presidential electors also will be nominated.

Truman Continues Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman's all-out fight to prevent Adlai Stevenson's nomination as Democratic presidential candidate continued without letup today.

Clement Breathes Life Into Listless Session

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO — A young Southern orator last night pulled the Democratic National Convention out of the listless and tiresome grind in which the dull afternoon opening program had engulfed it.

* * *

He is Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, the convention's keynoter. And he won more sincere and unpacked applause than had been accorded a half dozen or more speakers who held forth during the afternoon.

In a thought and delivery somewhat akin to the late Alben Barkley who at more than twice Clement's age always could be depended upon to rescue the convention from the skids, he was stopped 35 times by applause. And at its conclusion his speech drew a 12-minute ovation.

Following only partially filled side lines and one-tenth filled galleries during the afternoon, the evening session came close to a full house.

AROUSES CROWD

There is no doubt about Clement putting the fighting spirit across to his listeners, and making it look like we may have an aggressive campaign after the Republicans finish their doings at San Francisco next week.

Here's how our roving convention correspondent, Joe Haas, looks to an NEA cartoonist in Chicago. More of Joe's convention notes appear on pages 2 and 17 today.

The afternoon had abounded in "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours" introductions and responses until the audience wondered if there ever can be anything new in the conduct of a party.

Mayor Richard Daley's address of welcome was a typical chamber of commerce talk, and well done. But it would have been easier to forget if most of the other speakers had not felt duty bound to keep repeating much of the same line.

* * *

Chairman Paul Butler lacked the punch to keep the convention in listening order, and his voice droned away in a manner of similarity as each talker was introduced. The music was the best part of the program.

Following Clement's keynote, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt gave a few minutes' talk that was quite apt and correctly timed to continue the spirit that had been engendered. It will be a different convention when it resumes work this noon.

Today Michigan climbs into a key spot in the selection of candidates for President and vice president. Our state may have the balance of power to throw the contest either way.

Its 44 votes may spell the difference between Harriman and Stevenson.

UAW STRONG

With Walter P. Reuther on the side of Stevenson, it is pointed out that over half of Michigan's delegation is UAW members, and they may not be as strong for Harriman as anticipated.

Gov. Williams insists they're

Survey Monday on Close Vote

6th Legislative District Returns Up for Study by County

A canvass of the vote in Oakland County's Sixth Legislative District, where first returns showed the Republican winner had a three-vote margin over his nearest competitor, is scheduled for Monday at 9 a.m., County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said today.

* * *

Winning Republican candidate for the legislative nomination was Bruce P. Wheeler, with 980 votes. Gordon D. Haupt, runner-up, had 977.

Two other candidates for the nomination were John D. Cantrall, with 631, and William R. Rotsted, with 157.

* * *

In the Democratic legislative race in the Sixth District, John C. Hitchcock, who lost to incumbent Walter T. McMahon in the unofficial tabulation by 159 votes, has said he will ask a recount.

* * *

McMahon's vote was 2,267. Hitchcock had 2,108. Billy S. Huffman, third Democratic candidate, had 1,408.

* * *

All candidates have been notified of the canvass and invited to attend, Allen said.

individually on their own after they cast their first ballot for him in the spirit of a favorite son. They are not bound by the unit rule.

* * *

However, several of them have asserted they will largely be governed by Williams' advice on what they do after that initial ballot. So it still can be safely assumed he will have the say until the final showdown.

* * *

Political veterans are beginning to see smart doings in Truman coming out for Harriman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt doing the same for Stevenson.

* * *

It savors of a Truman strategy and may all have been framed up by him to put the party in a fighting spirit that will carry over into the campaign after the convention choices have been made. If that was the plan, he could not hope for it to work better.

* * *

Harriman's reception here last evening brought out about as many as did Stevenson's the day before. To the man on the street—who also votes—it looks like a 50-50 proposition, even in Stevenson's own state.

Pontiac Deaths

William T. Matheny

William T. Matheny, 38, of Highland Rd., Lakeside, Calif. died of a heart attack Saturday evening in New Orleans, La.

A former employe of the American Forging & Socket Co., he had been a resident of Pontiac 34 years before moving to California four years ago.

While in Pontiac Mr. Matheny played amateur baseball, and in 1940 was a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox.

He was born in Detroit on Jan. 20, 1918, the son of William B. and Edna Doll Matheny.

Surviving besides his wife, Mary Jo, are his mother and two sons, William E. and James Matheny, all of Pontiac; a sister, Mrs. Henry Morgan of Toledo, Ohio; two brothers, W. Howard of Lemon Grove, Calif. and Carl G. Matheny of Pontiac.

Convention Notes from Joe Haas

Adlai Recalls Drenching in Our Own Murphy Park

CHICAGO — Stevenson remembers going through that awful rain storm with me in Murphy Park in Pontiac four years ago, when he says, "Soapy got so mad he was sudsy." The hole which developed in the sole of Stevenson's shoe that day became a campaign emblem, and has carried over for four years. Some of the Stevenson printed matter now pictures the sole of a shoe, with the wording, "Our sole candidate."

* * *

Stopped by a drunk on Michigan Ave. the other night, he asked, "Where you from?" When I told him Michigan, he said, "I know only one Michigan man, and he's a crook." Then he noticed my press badge and said, "That settles it."

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elias of Royal Oak, here for the convention, are friends of Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, and heard him going over his keynote speech in his hotel room Saturday.

* * *

Gus Scholle, union labor man and said to be a power in the Williams regime, is a delegate, and active in the Michigan proceedings. He recently became a resident of Oakland County, now living in Royal Oak.

* * *

Discussions over what is the proper parliamentary procedure took up almost as much time as doing business in the first meeting of the Michigan delegation. At the rousing Michigan meeting an old timer reminded me that it was once said that our state's delegates to a Democrat convention could meet in a telephone booth.

* * *

NANCY TO CAMPAIGN

A five-dollar dinner is being given among Michigan's women Democrats to raise a Nancy Williams fund, to pay her expenses on a campaign tour of the state, speaking before women's clubs.

* * *

Oakland County's Billie Farnum was placed in nomination for honorary vice president of the national convention, but withdrew in favor of James P. Dunnigan of West Branch.

* * *

Convention annexes are piled high with both Harriman and Stevenson banners attached to long poles, and painters and carpenters still are working on more. Several of the dark horses also have lesser numbers ready. All that is lacking is that stroke of lightning.

* * *

"Demi-crates for Democrats" is the label on the box lunches on sale at the convention.

* * *

The demonstration when FDR was first nominated for president in 1932 lasted 70 minutes. In both Stevenson and Harriman camps they're preparing to beat that.

A trap drummer in a Chicago orchestra tells me that they are to come to the hall Thursday noon and get full union pay for every afternoon and night, just to join the parade for Harriman when he's introduced, and then wait for the parade if he's nominated.

* * *

In spite of the fact that he's only a favorite son, I see quite a number "Williams is a winner" badges, each with a full-size bow tie.

* * *

Political history shows that "planted" gallery stampedes have won nominations. That had much to do with Willkie's convention success in 1940.

* * *

From Chicago papers I learn that Pontiac has clinched the championship in the Tri-county baseball league. It's an Illinois town with a good name.

* * *

MILK $1 PER QUART

My mental arithmetic tells me that, at the rate of 25 cents for each of those paper boxes, milk is a dollar a quart at the convention. But it's good milk.

* * *

A pretty young thing at Happy Chandler's headquarters told me she knows a lot about Pontiac because her dad drives one.

* * *

The Stevenson forces are hoping for a rainy convention. They've distributed thousands of umbrellas with his name in large letters between every rib.

* * *

The release of Eleanor's endorsement of Stevenson was at almost the same minute as that of Harry's endorsement of Harriman.

* * *

The rumor persists that John Knight, newspaper tycoon, has his eye on the Republican nomination for president in 1960.

* * *

Bell captain at the Palmer House who has predicted every nomination in both parties since 1928, also the winner in the election, says Harriman will win this week — but not in November.

* * *

The only Texas delegates who wear big hats are not native Texans. The old ten gallon hat is hardly in evidence. It went out with the longhorn steer.

Both Wisconsin and Minnesota call themselves the "Land of Lakes." It requires extraordinary self-control to let either get away with such libelous stuff.

* * *

A visitor at the Michigan delegation was Benjamin Fikes, formerly of Pontiac, now a Chicago retired street car conductor. He remembers when Dan Davis ran the Democrat party in Oakland County.

* * *

An Oakland County top man is remembered in a cook's recipe for an imaginary "Democratic stew," (they're usually in one), in which part of the seasoning is "salty language by Charlie Wilson."

* * *

Corporations with houses both in Chicago and San Francisco have worded their convention welcome signs, in such a manner that they can be rushed to Frisco over the weekend.

* * *

I've heard several times that every candidate who loses out will blame it on the fact that the convention started on the thirteenth.

* * *

Chairman Sam Rayburn wears his hat most of the time — and no wonder. He uses a wash rag for a comb.

* * *

I liked that remark of Happy Chandler after Truman's endorsement of Harriman: "Now we have got the haystack on fire."

* * *

The air-conditioning at the amphitheater works OK at the start. But it did four years ago — and later became a Turkish bath.

* * *

The convention hot dog stands are prepared to serve 150,000 of them. I'm doing my best to create a shortage.

* * *

A leak in the roof, directly over the speaker's rostrum, developed during Saturday's rain. But that's not the only "leak." Harriman forces have discovered that Stevenson's backers have 1,000 husky-voiced demonstrators scattered through the galleries.

* * *

General sentiment is that Harry made a loser out of the man he picked for the nomination in 1952, by being too generous and nasty in his "support" in the campaign that followed.

* * *

Mayor Daley entertains the newsmen at the Cubs-Red Legs doubleheader Wednesday. They also have free bus service between their hotels and the convention hall.

* * *

The Pontiac Press was assigned seat 7 in row H of section J in the press section, with good company all round me. If I miss anything it will be my fault.

* * *

Then living in Pontiac, on Auburn Ave. near Paddock St., Ulysses Morehouse was a delegate to the 1896 convention that nominated Bryan. Now at 85 he's a retired Chicago policeman, very active for his age, and peeved because he cannot get a seat, "even on the roof," for the 1956 event.

Stevenson's bodyguard is a son who is a spittin' image of his dad. He tells me his wife is expecting in October. P. S.: Now I'll quit for the day, before this deteriorates further into a New York or Hollywood column.

Press Secretary Says GOP Gets In Its Licks Next Week

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower gave 22 GOP congressional candidates a pep talk on the Republican Party today but spurned reply to Democratic oratorical blasts coming from Chicago.

In his first big handshaking session of the campaign, Eisenhower posed for pictures in his office with each of the candidates. He told them he firmly believes in the mission of the Republican Party and what it stands for.

Rep. Frederic R. Coudert Jr., (R-NY) said Eisenhower told the group Republicans "represented the vast judgment of a majority of the thoughtful people of the United States."

Meanwhile, White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty stuck to his policy of declining all comment on proceedings at the Democratic National Convention, except for this one needle:

"Just remember that this is only the first inning of a two-week ball game."

That was a reminder to Democrats assailing the administration that Republicans will have their chance when their own convention opens in San Francisco next week.

The smiling Hagerty resisted all efforts of newsmen to draw him out on the violent attack delivered against the administration Monday night by Democratic Keynoter Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee.

Hagerty reminded newsmen:

"I said yesterday I wasn't going to comment on anything that was said or took place in Chicago this week and I have no intention of changing that statement."

The congressional candidates came out of the President's office bubbling enthusiasm both about his campaign spirit and how well he looked.

Florence P. Dwyer, seeking to unseat Democrat Harrison William in New Jersey's Sixth District, said:

"I think he looks perfectly wonderful.

"I was delighted to see that we are going into this campaign with such a bounce."

Eisenhower plans to have every GOP congressional candidate for a handshaking picture, as he did in 1954.

Deputies said he was playing with his brothers, Spencer, 10, and Neal, 8, at the time. Collin and Neal were up in a tree together when Spencer called for them to come down. Colin took one step and the branch gave away.

'Genial Jim' Sits With New York at Chicago Show

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

CHICAGO (INS)—The old political pro—James A. Farley, 68—today watched the Democratic National Convention with mixed feelings.

It was Farley's ninth national political convention and in several of them he played a star role. He was the man who twice put the late Franklin D. Roosevelt over for the presidency, a record that will go down in history.

Other names are now in the headlines—Stevenson, Harriman, Truman, et al. but in his day as a political wizard "Genial Jim" was page 1 copy, and without a peer in his field. All veteran newspapermen know that.

I asked Farley to look back over the years and say what political event gave him the biggest "kick."

Farley replied: "The biggest kick I ever got was in the 1940 Democratic national convention when my name was presented by the late Sen. Carter Glass of Virginia for the presidential nomination.

"At the time there was a strong sentiment against a third term for FDR. I knew I couldn't win but I represented sentiment against the third term. It was a thrilling experience."

That night in 1940 Farley went to the rostrum and dramatically gave up his 79 votes. He moved the renomination of Roosevelt be made "by acclamation," and it was so ordered. Yet, in a way, Farley stole the show that memorable night.

The foundation's state headquarters said emergency checks were mailed today in the following amounts: Isabella, $1,900; Mason, $5,500; Newaygo, $2,475, and Sanilac, $1,000.

The checks boost to $116,532 the amount of emergency aid sent Michigan chapters so far this year.

BRIGHTON (AP)—A Farwell woman and her granddaughter were killed last night when their car smacked into the side of an auto haulaway truck.

Killed were Mrs. Margaret Cashion, 52, of Farwell and Sharon P. Gilboe, 15. The accident occured five miles north of Brighton at the intersection of US 23 and M-59.

Bodies of both women are at the Brace-Smith Funeral Home, where arrangements are pending.

The Drinkard boy, riding a bicycle, was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Wilma J. M. Dell, 18, of 98 Center St. at the intersection of Center and Auburn streets.

Orion Grave Opened; Police Seeking Ghoul

County and state detectives are investigating an open grave found Sunday in Orion Township.

* * *

Bone fragments found in the overturned dirt are being examined by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Pathologist Dr. Richard E. Olsen. Part of a woman's shoe was also found at the scene.

Investigators believe there is more to the destruction than usual ghouling.

"It seems to be more than that. They apparently were looking for something," one county officer said.

The open grave was discovered Sunday afternoon by John Waite of Lake Orion.

* * *

Carl Thrush, sexton at the cemetery at Rem and Gunn Roads, told police the grass had been cut two weeks ago in the cemetery and the grave was in order at that time.

Accused Stand Mute in Fisher Body Riot

Two Oakland County residents and two Detroiters stood mute yesterday in Genesee County Circuit Court when arraigned on assault charges stemming from a May 25 riot at the Fisher Body Plant in Grand Blanc.

Pleas of not guilty were entered for Paul C. Allen, 40, of Lake Orion, Nick Cova, 34, of Hazel Park, and John Wozniak, 28 and Thomas Donovan, 27, both of Detroit.

All are officials of Riggers Local 575, AFL-CIO. They were free on continued personal bond of $500. They are charged with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

* * *

Eleven persons were hospitalized as a result of the fighting at the plant.

Malicious Destruction at School, Glass Firm

Pontiac Police today were investigating reports of malicious destruction at a school and a glass firm.

Five windows were found broken and the outside walls marked with wet plaster at the Longfellow School yesterday.

At the Pontiac Glass Co., 371 N. Cass Ave., six windows were smashed in parked vehicles and a crate of window panes destroyed. No estimate was placed on the losses.

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — Palace officials confirmed today Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace will leave Le Havre Sept. 7 aboard the liner United States for a visit of several weeks in the United States.

The Day in Birmingham

Officials Share in Cases on Store Center, Parking

BIRMINGHAM — Circuit Court proceedings gained the focus of city commissioners last night in two cases.

City Planner Herbert Herzberg and other officials have been in court for several days, including today, seeking to gain condemnation for land for the proposed Parking Lot No. 4.

Jurors in the case viewed the site Thursday and then the case was adjourned for the weekend, resuming today.

On the circuit court docket tomorrow is the suit by Patrick Meyerick of the Birmingham Development Co. seeking rezoning of land by the City of Troy at Derby and Adams for a shopping center.

Birmingham officials interested include Asst. Supt. of Schools Richard Featherstone who expects to point out traffic dangers of the center and its parking lot, which would be directly across from Derby Junior High School.

Troy's rezoning of the land over a year ago for multiple housing was turned down by the county coordinating department. Later, about a month ago, the commercial zoning request hit the opposition of Troy and Birmingham residents and officials.

* * *

Because five of the seven commissioners were present last night, a vote was put off until Sept. 10 on the Twining Property zoning to business C.

A vote of six commissioners is required when objections occur, as they did last night.

The zoning of the Socony Mobil Property at Woodward and 14 Mile to Business A was approved, since no written objections were received.

Decision on the Twelve Town drain, for which Birmingham's share will be $1,895,436 according to the new estimates released yesterday, will wait for next week.

L. E. Gare, acting city manager, has been directed to secure additional information before commissioners approve the drain allocation.

Commission approved the removal of a tree at the Community House to allow lowering of the sidewalk, purchase of new radar speed meter, a new rescue truck from Wilson GMC, low bidder, and an air raid siren.

The siren's approval is contingent on the about-$3,000 fund being matched by federal funds.

The application is being submitted today by Civil Defense Director Dana Whitman for the federal funds, through the State CD office.

Widening of Eton Road north from Lincoln for 140 feet was approved, with a seven-and-a-half foot extension voted.

Plat approval of the proposed Mill Race Subdivision at the south end of Quarton Lake must wait for the receipt of the Henkle deed for the land exchange with the city. City officials were authorized to sign the two deeds for the interchange, however.

Commissioners agreed to meet with city planning board members on Aug. 21.

A renewal of the city's insurance system was approved, with minor changes in the plan for the Agent of Record turning his studies and recommendations over to the city 30 days before policy renewals and the agent's receiving of all insurance bids from other than Birmingham businessmen.

Davisburg Killer Still at Large

Police Continue Search for Murderer of County Farm Woman

Questioning continued today as county and state police detectives investigating the murder of 72-year-old Florence Norton of Springfield Township went into their 14th day.

The widow was found brutally beaten in the shed of her Davisburg farm by a neighbor Aug. 1. An autopsy disclosed she had been killed by an ax-type instrument.

Investigators believe robbery was the motive for the crime. The woman was known to have loaned money often to several people in that area.

Detectives have learned the aged recluse had over $11,800 in two different banks but was believed to have had some money hidden on the 120-acre farm.

Two more persons were given lie tests yesterday bringing the total to ten tested in connection with the crime. More tests are planned as detectives continue to question everyone who was in any way known to the slain woman.

* * *

Fingerprints and blood specimens taken at the farm have been of but little help thus far, county detective Leo Hazen said.

Civil Rights Plank Presents Knots to Dem Plan(n)ers

CHICAGO (INS) — The Democratic party platform is being hammered into final form today with the touchy civil rights plank due for completion tonight.

Predictions are that the plank will be designed to pacify the South by omitting direct mention of the Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools while asserting the Democrats' belief in equality under the law for all races, creeds and colors.

The platform is expected to call for a $200 boost in personal income tax exemptions, a 20 per cent increase in the average standard of living, and an all-out effort to assure parity income for farmers.

Still being fought out today is the issue of a declaration calling for a rigid barrier against diplomatic recognition for Communist China and firm opposition to the Chinese Reds' admission to the United Nations.

The platform goes before the convention tomorrow, and the Harriman forces may seize the opportunity to launch a floor fight demanding a tougher civil rights plank.

Clothes, $180 Stolen From House in Pontiac

Clothing and $180 were stolen from a Pontiac house over the weekend, police said today.

The theft took place at 396½ Orchard Lake Ave., where Ismel Campos was in the process of moving to 40 W. Wilson Ave.

Campos told investigators he packed his clothing and money in boxes for moving and left them at the Orchard Lake address Saturday night. He discovered the losses Monday.

Arraigned in Court

Charged with carrying an unlicensed .38 calibre pistol July 4 in Waterford Township, Edgar J. Carter of 451 S. Telegraph Rd. stood mute yesterday at his arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge George B. Hartrick, who entered a plea of innocent for Carter, continued his bond of $500.

Martha Raye Tries Suicide

Gulps Sleeping Pills; Condition Still Critical in Florida Hospital

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Comedienne Martha Raye was rushed to a hospital here today, in critical condition after taking an overdose of sleeping pills.

* * *

Her physician, Dr. Ralph Robbins, said the 39-year-old television star had taken about 20 sleeping pills and was "in very poor condition."

A maid found Miss Raye unconscious on the floor of her Miami Beach home at 3 a.m., about a half hour after the actress had come home for the night. She called the doctor.

Robbins said Miss Raye had been despondent for the past week.

* * *

Miss Raye failed last week in an effort to obtain a Florida divorce from her fifth husband, Edward T. Begley, a dancer.

Circuit Judge Stanley Milledge dismissed her petition on grounds that she had not fulfilled Florida's one-year residence requirement.

Miss Raye also is involved in a court suit with Barbara Ann O'Shea, wife of her bodyguard, Robert O'Shea.

* * *

Mrs. O'Shea is suing the actress for $50,000 damages, claiming that Miss Raye "captivated" her husband and stole his affections.

Death Recalls Farnam From Convention Duties

Billie Farnum, a member of the Michigan delegation to the Democratic convention, was called home today by the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. John (Imojean) Farnum, of Watrousville. Her funeral will be held there Wednesday afternoon.

An estimated 30 per cent of West German TV sets are unregistered or clandestine.

Municipal Juror Pay Hike Seen

Pontiac city commissioners will take another step tonight toward raising the pay of Municipal Court jurors from the present $3 to $6 a day.

City Attorney William A. Ewart will submit an ordinance repealing the present ruling governing jurors' pay for its first reading at tonight's meeting.

This will pave the way for both municipal judges to adopt the 1951 Michigan statute authorizing the city clerk to compile a long list of potential jurors.

Another Michigan statute, passed during the last legislative session and in effect since Saturday, authorizes the $6 daily pay scale.

Commissioners plan to adopt an ordinance calling for the pay hike when the old city ordinance has been repealed.

Commissioners will take action on fire station bids received July 30 and tabled after they overshot the estimated $85,000 cost by $43,000.

One bid received for storm and sanitary sewers in Astor and Clinton Heights subdivision will be tabulated by the Commission.

In other action, public hearings will be held on proposed rezoning of lots on the northeast side of Norton Avenue between Johnson Avenue and Florence Street, and in Joslyn Gardens subdivision. Rezoning of lots on Williams Street is expected to be deferred.

Hearings will be held on intention to construct curb, gutter, gravel and related work on Salmar Avenue from Orchard Lake Avenue to the Clinton river; on Herndon Avenue from Orchard Lake Avenue to the river; and on Clinton River Drive through the Pontiac Apartment Subdivision.

ASSESSMENT ROLLS

Special assessment rolls will be confirmed for sidewalks on the east side of Oneida Road, from Menominee to Algonquin roads; on the north side of Hazel Bend, from Jessie Street to Belmont Avenue; on the south side of Auburn Avenue, through portions of the East Side Park subdivision; on the south side of East Pike Street, from East Boulevard to Astor Street; on the east side of Barkell Street, from LeBaron Farms subdivision to Wesbrook Avenue; and on both sides of Melrose Avenue, from Madison Avenue to Mt. Clemens Street.

Commissioners will consider approval of the plat for "Pontiac Knolls subdivision," and receive a petition for replacing and changing the grade of sidewalk on both sides of Bartlett Street from Johnson Avenue to Lake Street.

Women, If You're 62 This Is Aimed at You

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women covered by Social Security will soon be able to begin drawing retirement payments at age 62 in the first break from the age 65 deadline fixed when the program was set up 20 years ago.

The change, sponsored by Democratic leaders, was embodied in the Social Security bill passed by Congress on the day it adjourned and since signed by President Eisenhower.

The bill makes no change in age 65 retirement for men. However, one provision gives a break to married men who expect to receive retirement checks under Social Security. It will permit their wives to start getting the wife's benefit at age 62. Until now, the wife had to wait until she herself reached 65.

Under the new law qualified women between 62 and 65 will be able to begin receiving payments starting in December. The age 62 retirement is optional.

For one group of women, widows of deceased workers covered by Social Security, the new law provides payments at 62 equivalent to the full amount they now receive at 65.

The widow's benefit amounts to three-fourths of what her husband would have been entitled to at retirement. Thus, if he were eligible for the maximum, $108.50 a month, she would receive $81.40.

Women workers and wives of retired workers must take a reduced rate of payment for life if they go on the rolls before 65.

Women workers retiring at 62 will receive 80 per cent of the full age 65 payment. For those entitled to the $108.50-a-month maximum at 65, age 62 retirement would mean a monthly payment for life of $87.

For each month beyond 62 that the workers waited to go on the rolls, however, she would get an additional five ninths of 1 per cent of her full payment rate. Thus a recipient entitled to the maximum payment would get $94 a month if she retired at age 63, or $101 at age 64.

A wife of a retired worker would receive 75 per cent of her age 65 payment if she elected to go on the rolls at 62. For each month that she waited after reaching 62, her payment would be increased 25 thirty-sixths of 1 per cent.

* * *

The bill does not change the requirement that the husband must have started receiving his Social Security checks before his wife can get hers, which amount to half of the husband's. Thus a woman older than her husband cannot draw benefits until he reaches 65.

A wife going on the rolls at 62, if her husband was entitled to the maximum payment of $108.50 a month, would get $40.50 instead of the $54.30 which she would be paid if she waited to age 65.

Thus a couple in this bracket would get $149 a month if the wife went on the rolls at 62 as compared with the $162.80 they would receive if she waited until age 65. If the wife began receiving payments at 63, the monthly check would be $154. If she started at age 64, it would be $158.

The lower schedules of payments for the two groups were worked out actuarially to give women electing retirement before 65 about the same total amount of money, spread out over a longer period of years, as they would receive if they waited until 65.

Experts for the Social Security Administration estimate about 300,000 working women, 300,000 wives of retired workers, and 200,000 widows will take advantage of before-65 retirement in the first year.

* * *

Since the first checks under the new program will go out in four months, women expecting to take advantage of it are being advised to file claims at their district Social Security offices promptly. Officials expect a heavy crush of applications at the outset of the program.

Dairy Farmers Sue Opponents

Court Asked to Block Splinter Group's Efforts to Organize

DETROIT (AP)—The Fair Share Bargaining Assn., an organization of Michigan dairy farmers, has filed a circuit court suit seeking $100,000 damages from a rebel group within its own ranks.

The suit asks Judge Carl M. Weiderman to issue an injunction prohibiting the insurgents from meeting or collecting money in the name of the Fair Sharers.

Named as defendants in the suit are Homer Martin, former auto union organizer and Leo Van Bonn, Sam Bailo and Arnold Wyss, members of the original Fair Share Executive Board.

Martin, who was ousted from the Fair Share group last spring, took part in a strike by Southern Michigan dairy farmers which brought farmers more money for milk. Martin and his cohorts have continued to organize dairy farmers.

The Fair Share organization, itself a rebel group formed last winter by members of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., charged in its suit the defendants were "confusing members and prospective members." The suit also asked an accounting of money collected by Martin.

Rolland Brengle, South Lyon dairy farmer and president of Fair Share, said Martin's group is using the same name and is giving "unfair competition in organizational efforts" of the original Fair Share organization.

Grand Rapids Area Sees Census Spiral

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—"Explosive growth" will increase the population in Metropolitan Grand Rapids by 45 per cent in the next 36 years, a consultant for the Grand Rapids Community Council's Metropolitan Study Committee said today.

In a report to the committee, Walter DeVriese said he based his prediction on building applications made in the area in recent years.

Grand Rapids Proper is reaching the saturation point and its population of 189,000 should increase by only five per cent in the next 36 years unless the city annexes more area, DeVriese said.

Population of the metropolitan area now is about 290,000. This includes East Grand Rapids, Grandville and Plainfield, and Wyoming, Walker, Grand Rapids and Paris townships.

Young Kenny's No Babe in Political Woods

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

CHICAGO (INS) — A small kid walked into the convention newsroom today and you could tell, by the harried look and the battered notebook on him, he meant business.

"Can you tell me where the Minnesota caucus is," he said, flicking a pencil casually through his crewcut, "please?"

Little boys are the exception at this convention — far rarer than jackasses in the halls or cola bottles that prance the streets — and the assumption was that here strayed a favorite son of a Minnesotan. Quite lost. There were offers to lead him back to his mama.

"Just the room number for the caucus, please," said junior. "No sympathy."

After a certain amount of wheedling from the adults and huff from the kid, it turned out that this was Kenneth Cacerano, aged 11, roving correspondent for a Chicago TV station.

WEEK'S EXPERIENCE

Gently savvy, as befits the 4-foot-8-inch political reporter, he has been covering the convention picture for a week now and commenting on the scene—"and its significance"—for WTTW.

* * *

"I think Stevenson will win the nomination," Kenneth admitted, when pressed for the latest, "but he's not my favorite. Personally I'm impartial and non-partisan, which you must be if you're reporting the news to other people."

Uncertainty flushed suddenly over his handsome boy face. "Don't you agree?"

Though he was itching to get to his caucus, there was enough of the televisionary ham in Kenneth to submit to a few more queries. He admitted that he has not been in this business long, having "originally" been interested more in sports.

"Like," he explained, "when I interviewed Mayor Daley (of Chicago) I just couldn't stick on the subject of politics. I had to ask him if he was considering any steps to help the White Sox win the pennant."

Mayor Daley told the reporter he'd try to think of something.

YMCA TECHNIQUE

Kenny revealed he took up the art of interviewing only recently, studying under the auspices of the local YMCA, and he filled the INS newsroom in on the technique.

"First," he said, leaning forward conscientiously so the info wouldn't leak to the news office next door, "you ask questions that put a person at ease—things like they know about and want to talk on. Then, when they're all relaxed, you ask them the things you really want to know."

Only he's just starting in this "game," he said, "so I never ask a woman how old she is, or a man how much he makes. That might ruin your career. They get so nervous."

Kenneth has interviewed a dozen delegates in the past seven days, not to mention two senators, and he confides that they are "not too nervous." As a matter of fact, "everyone around here is pretty much at ease."

But do they seem really honest? Kenny was asked by his inquisitors. His answer was simple:

"I think politicians talk a lot and some of the time they say something, although most of the time they try to work their way out of it."

Finally mighty Kenneth said he really must go; deadlines were upon him.

* * *

So regretfully, fondly, we bade him farewell and wished him godspeed as a journalist.

"Journalist?" whiffed he. "Not me. I'm studying to be a doctor or a lawyer. I only do this stuff when there's nuttin' else to do."

Roving Bear Reported

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Eaton County residents were mildly disturbed recently by the report of bear tracks near Spicerville, a mile southwest of Eaton Rapids. It was the first bear sign in Eaton County in 30 years. Roy Pierce, junk yard operator, said he found the tracks measuring five inches across with one-inch claw marks. They led from his junk yard to Spring Brook, he said.

Easier Customs Forms Going Into Use Aug. 27, Verbiage Erased

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government has printed a new customs declaration form designed to welcome rather than dismay visitors or returning Americans.

The Customs Bureau said the new form, the first one in half a century, will go in use Aug. 27 at most U. S. ports, airports and land border stations.

Although the first ones are printed in English, supplies are expected to be available soon in French, Italian, German and Spanish.

Greatly simplified and streamlined, the new form is printed in a friendly blue color and generally is free of legalistic wording which made the old form, printed in black, formidable in appearance.

In most cases, it requires only check marks to indicate "yes" or "no" answers to a few printed questions, plus the traveler's name and address and facts about his trip.

The text of the form begins with these words:

"The United States Customs Service extends to you a most hearty welcome on your arrival in the United States and invites your attention to certain formalities attendant to your clearance through customs."

We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 h.p. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball-Joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment . . . shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five cross-members (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Another important factor is the way Fords are consistently styled for the years ahead. And if there ever was a Ford built to stay in style it's this 1956 job. For America's favorite dream car—the Ford Thunderbird—was its styling inspiration.

Then, there's this matter of safety. Ford offers you the extra protection of its exclusive Lifeguard Design. Time and again folks have told us how this family of safety features has prevented serious injury in accidents.

Now — what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

There are many cases where "medium-priced" cars claim to be priced within a few hundred dollars of Ford. Remember, however, these prices are usually arrived at by comparing their lowest-priced models—stripped—with Ford's most expensive models that include all of the comforts of driving.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

NOW! A FORD with AIR CONDITIONING costs less than many medium-priced cars without it. TRY ONE TODAY! Based on a comparison of suggested list prices.

THE BIG SMILE TELLS THE STORY — There's no doubt about how pleased Adlai Stevenson is over endorsement of his candidacy by Walter Reuther, right, the Auto Workers Union chief, as they shake hands at a reception Stevenson held for labor delegates. Reuther came out formally for Stevenson last night.

A Walled Lake service station was broken into and looted of $20 in silver sometime Sunday night, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department learned today.

Convention Goes Solemn for Tribute to Barkley

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (AP) — The Democrats paid tribute yesterday to the late Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the old political warhorse who so often breathed life into their political conventions.

They adopted a resolution honoring his memory, a bugler sounded Taps, and Mahalia Jackson, Chicago spiritual singer, sang, "I See God."

Barkley, who only four years ago was a contender for the presidential nomination, died this year in Lexington, Va.

Stevenson Is Assured of Michigan Ballots

One Michigan political question has been settled.

The state Democratic delegation will go to Stevenson. Walter Reuther made up Governor Williams' mind yesterday noon. He declared that he (Reuther) was supporting Stevenson.

★ ★ ★

Until that moment, it was quite generally believed that Governor Williams would ping for Averell Harriman. He seemed to be the Governor's choice. However, Tuesday's pronouncement by the CIO official settled everything. G. Mennen Williams will never, never run counter to his boss.

★ ★ ★

This newspaper definitely predicts that the Michigan delegation will be in the Stevenson column. The first and courtesy ballot must be cast for Williams as it should be. There might be a scattering fusilade immediately afterward while a few delegates discharged personal obligations or promises. But when the serious balloting starts—and it will start early and quickly—Michigan's delegation will be dutifully lodged in accordance with Mr. Reuther's "suggestion."

Voting Machines' Value Proved by Cost Figures

Figures supplied by City Clerk Ada R. Evans prove what most users in the primary undoubtedly realized, that voting machines save time and therefore money.

The 80 machines provided for Pontiac's 44 precincts exceeded the most optimistic expectations. The transition from paper ballots to machines was smooth. More than that, the actual savings could be expressed in dollars and cents and hours and minutes.

★ ★ ★

For example, $1,633 or more than the purchase price of one machine was saved in clerk hire. Moreover, primary results were available on the average two and a half hours after the polls closed. The average time in paper ballot voting here has been seven hours.

In planning the handling of the primary returns, we ourselves underestimated the savings. If the Press had had a larger force tabulating the rapid inflow of returns, our work could have been completed an hour and a half to two hours earlier than it was.

★ ★ ★

When the City Commission wisely decided to test voting machines this year, arrangements were made to rent them at $150 each. If it decides to buy them at $1,355 each, this rental will apply on the purchase price.

Certainly, their introduction here was a complete and unqualified success. Because it was and because even greater savings are expected in November, we feel confident the Commissioners will decide that voting machines are here to stay.

Withholding Passports for Newsmen Protested

There is solid foundation for the protest against a State Department decision denying 15 American news correspondents passports to visit Red China.

The protest was wired to Washington by Herbert Brucker, editor of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant. As chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Mr. Brucker challenged the right of the Department to deny the passports.

★ ★ ★

In discussing Red China's invitation to the newsmen to make a month long tour, the department pointed out that we have no diplomatic relations with Peiping. It added that China remains an aggressor nation and continues to detain U.S. citizens.

Then, without mentioning any names, the department said that any American traveling to China without a U.S. passport would be liable to penalties ranging up to five years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

★ ★ ★

One can agree, as Mr. Brucker does, that China is an aggressor and is detaining Americans. It also is easy to agree with the Courant editor's protest that "this retention of an Iron Curtain of our own is a violation of the principles" in which the American people believe.

Another valid point made by Editor Brucker, is that if these newsmen were granted passports, they might dig up information that could result in the release of our nationals. Moreover, he makes sense when he emphasizes the ability of the American people to "evaluate any information our newsmen get from China."

We hope Secretary Dulles reconsiders this matter.

The Visionary Architect

David Lawrence Says:

There Will Be No 'Dark Horse'

CHICAGO—Convention strategy, never visible to the naked eye, always follows a certain pattern—and today it may be summed up this way: Truman's effort to demoralize the Stevenson contingent by endorsing Harriman failed to achieve its objective. Stevenson followers have stood firm. They say: "We like Truman but——

Usually no "dark horse" situation develops unless two strong factions remain uncompromising. In this convention, while there is strategic hostility between Stevenson and Harriman, their followers could unite quickly at the proper moment. One could give way to the other in an outburst of harmony and the delegates would feel they were making a demonstration of "unity."

Truman concluded the Stevenson strength was overrated. He believed Stevenson delegates were not committed too strongly and that their first-ballot strength would be a maximum. It hasn't turned out that way.

When Truman threw his bombshell, reporters began canvassing to see the effect. The Stevenson bloc shook but didn't waver. Especially significant was Mrs. Roosevelt's intimation that Harry Truman was angling for the nomination for himself or for Senator Symington.

The Missouri delegation is pledged to cast a ballot or two for Symington. He has some strength in other states, but it is scattered.

The nomination will not go to a "dark horse," because no large bloc of votes is of the bitter end or "never-never" kind. Either Harriman and Stevenson would be acceptable to this convention.

Basically, Harriman would antagonize the South and cause a political revolt there and perhaps give rise to a third party on the "States' Rights" order. Most delegates realize support of the South is essential. Harriman may be eliminated on that ground unless the platform adopted is drafted as a major concession to the South and then Harriman would improve his chances if he said he would stand upon it without reservation or change.

"GRADUALIST" ADLAI

Stevenson has sold himself to the South as a "gradualist," which means no stampede to enforce integration in the schools. Stevenson's worries are with what the platform finally says, especially if he is to be committed to a more extreme approach than the South would like to see.

So the way the platform shapes up will have a good deal to do with the outcome of the convention and could furnish some surprises. It seems improbable the Stevenson managers would let the situation grow precarious. Even Senator Humphrey of Minnesota is talking in conciliatory terms.

It looks now as if Senator Kefauver made a mistake in releasing his delegates. Had he held on, there would have been a three-cornered fight here and Truman might never have taken the chance he did.

The net result would have been that, when the Kefauver delegates were told their hero was swinging to Stevenson, it would have created a "band wagon" psychology of great importance on the day before the balloting starts.

More and more jockeying can be expected, with subtle hints to various delegations from the Stevenson and Harriman managers that the vice-presidency might go to their states.

* * *

In the final analysis, there's always a good political reason advanced in picking the vice-presidential candidate—he must bring strength to the national ticket. Governor Meyner of New Jersey is a good example. He is strong in a state Democrats desperately need to win. Senator Humphrey brings strength from Minnesota. Missouri is "in the bag." Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas could emerge as a real peace-offering to the South. It looks more and more like a Stevenson-Meyner ticket or a Stevenson-Johnson campaign button.

Pamphleteer Levels Blast at Stuffed Shirt Physicians

"We had the finest doctor I ever knew, plainspoken and conscientious. He was very successful. But he finally gave up general practice and, much to our regret, limited his practice to (a specialty).

"He said he had been unable to gain entrance to hospitals for his operations. Hospital doors were closed to him as a general practitioner. As a specialist he could operate in the hospital. If a general practitioner's patient has to go to the hospital, the G. P. must turn the patient over to a member of the hospital staff. Just who is responsible for this? Is it the politicians or just some stuffed shirt doctors? I do not see what the politicians have to do with such a situation." (H. O. W.)

In remarks about "politicians" controlling the great licensing racket I mean, of course, petty medical politicians, the nonentities you find serving as members of state examining boards.

Maybe your term, stuffed shirts, would more accurately describe the men who decide arbitrarily which doctors may or may not attend their own patients in the hospital. It makes very good business for the stuffed shirts—generally the patient is too timid to insist on having his own doctor. And besides, the entire staff of nurses, attendants, superintendents, maids, interns, assistants, etc., cheer for the stuffed shirt—they have to or else—and the patient finally submits to the indignity of being deprived of his choice of physicians.

* * *

You say your physician was a fine doctor, conscientious, plainspoken, honest. Then shame on you and his other patients. You were lured away from him by the wiles of the trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers.

The latest census of doctors in America shows there are more specialists than general practitioners. If the trend from general to special practice continues a few years more, there'll be nothing but specialists—which will be tough for you snobs.

Every day I get letters from people who want to know where they can find a doctor who delivers at home. It seems that even in the tiny villages now the doctors are refusing to attend childbirth unless the patient is confined in a hospital—where everything is much easier for the doctor.

Every day I get a letter or two from someone who wonders how a doctor who knows what is going on this past quarter century can advise people to have babies at home, or to have natural childbirth or to choose rooming-in—these are the $300 snobs. They don't mind going to the hospital and submitting to all the rules and regulations. The idea of having a baby at home doesn't appeal to the $300 snobs because, even if they have a home fit to have a baby in, they don't know what home means.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Mrs. R.' Asks More Effort to Help Emergency Cases

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Today my heart goes out to Mrs. Carolyn McAbee. She is the mother of little 15-months-old Jimmy McAbee, who died Wednesday at Childrens Hospital. My heart aches, for only a year ago I went through a tragically similar experience in one of our city's hospitals.

I think I will always wonder why nurse after nurse and intern after intern paraded by my little boy lying on an emergency table in this hospital and never came close enough to take a pulse count or to listen to his feeble little heart beat.

Only after an hour and a half of anxious waiting did a child specialist on his morning rounds stop and diagnose his case. It was then that we learned what a terrible and fatal disease our little boy had contracted only the day before. The doctor told us he could die any minute, but I would not believe this; he couldn't die in a hospital where all the latest miracle drugs and modern scientific equipment were to be had. Yet one half hour later, despite their delayed efforts to save him, he was gone.

Maybe it was too late to save my little boy, but what about little Jimmy McAbee? Couldn't a little more effort and human interest be taken to try and save these precious little lives? A little more effort by those who are trained and paid to do this and yet are all too often indifferent to suffering and toughened to the tragedy of death.

Moviemakers Gamble All on Super-Duper Pictures

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It is a poor year when Hollywood doesn't come up with "the greatest picture ever made."

* * *

But these are boom times, and this year the film industry has spent in the neighborhood of 25 million dollars on three pictures vying for the title of "the greatest ever."

LITERARY CLASSICS

Each is based on a literary classic the ordinary man has heard of all his life, but spent precious little time studying. They are Herman Melville's "Moby Dick," Leo Tolstoy's "War and Peace," and—the shortest of the three — the 10 Commandments Moses brought down from Mount Sinai.

And if this 25-million-dollar gamble doesn't lure the American public away from its television sets and back to the box office, the homes of the movie moguls won't be decked with holly come Christmas. They'll be hung with black crepe.

* * *

Veteran Director King Vidor, who spent a year and a half filming "War and Peace," believes Hollywood's return to the colossal epic is its best bet for survival.

TOO BIG FOR TV

"The day of the cheap grind film is over," he said. "To get people out of their homes and into the movie houses you have to give them productions too big to fit a TV screen.

* * *

"And they have to be pictures big in theme, too, something they'll remember a long time."

* * *

It cost six million dollars to make "War and Peace," a saga of Napoleon's fatal invasion of Russia and regarded by many as the greatest novel ever written.

MOST EXPENSIVE

"That's why I like this business," mused Vidor. "You can go from $40 to six million dollars in a single lifetime. It's the most expensive picture ever made up until now."

* * *

But this record, if it is one, has already fallen. Cecil B. DeMille is reported to have spent from 12 million to 15 million dollars on The 10 Commandments, the figure depending on which Paramount Pictures spokesman you talk to.

Vidor had three big problems in bringing "War and Peace" to the screen for the first time.

* * *

First, he had to read the novel, which runs to 700,000 words. It took an international crew of writers — two English, two Italian and one American — plus Vidor to turn out a script.

OUTRACES RIVALS

Second, he had to outrace two other producers — Mike Todd and David Selznick — who separately were trying to film the same novel. Vidor won by signing up Audrey Hepburn to play the leading feminine role and the Italian army to play Napoleon's battered legions. With these two aces showing, Todd and Selznick picked up their chips and got out of the game.

* * *

Third, the picture was made in Italy, and Vidor's knowledge of Italian didn't include even the word for aspirin. But it soon did.

"There were all kinds of language difficulties," he said. "It took a lot of talk even to get to a paper clip.

* * *

"To impress anyone you had to put on an act. You had to learn how to yell. You can't get anything done over there in a low voice. Hell, I was born in Texas, and not used to talking that way. But I learned."

After a year and a half of yelling, Vidor is hoarse but happy. He feels "War and Peace" is his masterpiece. He is mildly hopeful it may even gain him an Academy Award for direction, an honor that has eluded him through his long career.

But he is sure of one thing.

"You have to wait a lot of years before a big subject like 'War and Peace' comes along," he said soberly. "But I'll never make another grind picture.

* * *

"I have no neurotic desire to be a millionaire. Merely making money isn't my big goal. I can afford to sit down now and play the guitar until another really good story comes along, and I like to play the guitar."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Here Are Remedies for Boredom

Bored with life? Jittery or lacking a zestful interest in the future? Then you may need a mental tonic! So read about the triple tonics Mrs. Harold Linaberry recommends. They are excellent for both children and adults. And some of them are dandy aids to school teachers, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-338: Florence Linaberry follows this column regularly in New York City.

"Dr. Crane, I want a copy of your booklet 'How to Write Salable Copy'," she began.

* * *

"For I am a contest fan and I understand your booklet contains a section on prize contesting.

"But I also enjoy other fascinating hobbies which you might like to pass along to your readers.

"For example, let them add bird-watching to their contest hobby. It can become actually exciting, for a little food and water outside the window will attract many species.

"Identifying them with the aid of inexpensive glasses and a good guide, can then be a real adventure.

"I prefer Cruickshank's for beginners and Peterson's for the more experienced bird-watcher. Keep a list of the different species you see.

HAPPY HOBBIES

"And I find that armchair trips are also great fun. Equipped with maps, travel folders and books, I take a trip every winter, stopping at places I couldn't possibly afford, otherwise.

"It is really astonishing the amount of information and pleasure one can have by carefully planning a trip and reading of the historical background, scenic points and customs of the native people.

"I think that many folks know less after actually taking the real trips abroad, than others do from these armchair excursions.

"So, whether people are shut-ins or just wishing mental stimulation, I can recommend these three hobbies of prize contesting, bird-watching and armchair tours of the world."

HINTS FOR TEACHERS

Mrs. Linaberry has already given you readers a cue as to her personality. You know that she is a vivacious, cultured woman, even without having met her in person.

But her ideas are not limited just to adults. Many school teachers can profitably employ her "armchair" touring as the basis for fascinating geography and history lessons.

* * *

Mrs. Linaberry lives in Johnson City, New York, but I wish she could have been a geography teacher here in Chicago when our five children were in grammar school.

For "motivation" is the most important factor in educational psychology. If the teacher can get the child's enthusiastic interest, then study becomes fun.

And we all remember excellently the things we like, so children will not forget as much of their lessons when the latter are converted into living, vital hobbies.

GEOGRAPHY TOURS

Teachers, I'd suggest you appoint various students as Captains of specialized geography tours. Let them appoint a few officers and the remainder of the class can serve as the "crew".

* * *

The Captain and his staff of officers should be responsible for digging out the interesting facts about the new state or country. The "crew" can ask questions.

On the next tour, a different Captain and a new set of officers can be in charge. Try this armchair touring as an adjunct of geography lessons.

And if you have backward pupils, urge their parents to send for my booklet, "How to Tutor Your Child at Home," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It has salvaged thousands of children who were called "dummy" and set them on the road to high marks, plus a fondness for school.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Glamor in Supermarket Is Latest Sales Gimmick

NEW YORK (AP)—Glamor in the supermarket is the latest gimmick in this highly competitive business.

Its aim is to take the chill off the present day miracles of efficiency and push-button self service our groceries have become.

First, designers glamorize the market to lure the woman shopper away from another giant down the street. Then they try to soothe her so that she will slow down her headlong pace among the stacks of cans and prepackaged vegetables. The theory is that when relaxed she becomes a prey to impulse buying.

Pink marble stairwells, bronze statues, even wild ducks in a pond are some of the new gambits. With picture windows overlooking the meat cutting and packaging room, as one supermarket designer puts it quaintly, "we're trying to recapture the feeling of the old sawdust butcher shop."

A new shopping center opening on Long Island in October plans an ice skating rink that can double for fashion shows.

A midwest food chain decorates its markets with glass and steel giraffes whose heads sway in the breeze. Another chain in the east displays food products on spokes of colorful wheels.

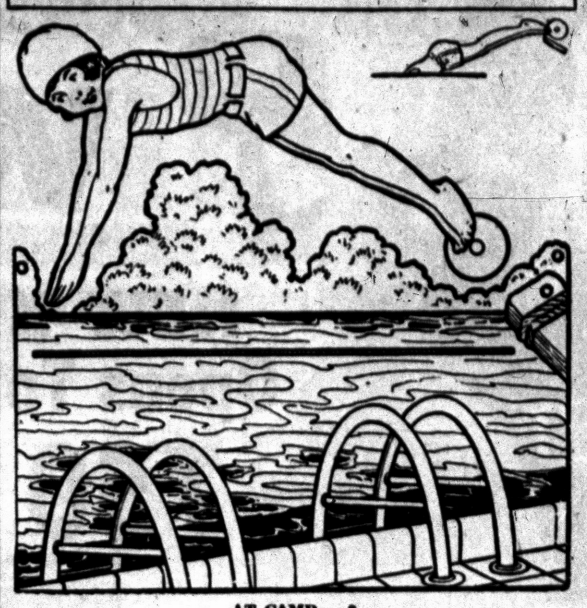

Some of the older supermarkets are repainting their walls in pumpkin, chocolate or canary. A New York design firm says this is "to bring warmth, color and gaiety into the markets and to offset the coldness of gadgetry and the super efficiency that was the average customer and sends her scurrying for the door."

Glamor entering the supermarket doesn't mean the end of gadgetry, designers assure you but "as still more automation takes hold to provide efficiency and speed in the marketplace, even newer methods and techniques will be devised to offset the coldness."

With mobiles, murals and sculpture already there — and walls decorated with cutouts of cows, butter churns and straw hatted farmers — what is there left, except maybe soft lights and sweet music? And already some of them pipe in the music.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

AT CAMP — 2

The Dive

At camp, Junior Editors who do not know how to swim are taught, and those who are already good swimmers are shown how to dive by the instructor.

It is a great experience to sail through the air off the end of the springboard, hands pointed down, feet together, in a big curve and then to splash into the water. When you dive, always be sure that the water is deep enough. A dive takes you down with a good deal of force, but if the pool is the proper depth you will not hit the bottom.

Use your crayons to color this picture, and then paste it down on cardboard. If you leave a wide margin at the bottom and sides when you mount it there will be more room for Polly to dive. Cut out the parts carefully. Cut the slit marked in the water, and make holes as shown at each corner so the picture can be hung up.

Fasten Polly to the springboard by attaching her through the indicated holes, with a brass fastener or bent pin, then push her forward so she will dive down into the slot as shown in the small diagram above.

AAA tests prove Blue Sunoco gives more miles per dollar

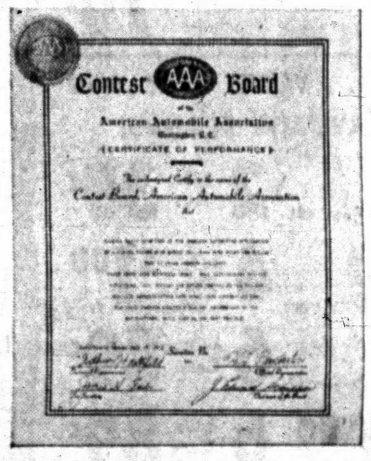

...than 12 other leading premium gasolines

On $3.00 worth of Blue Sunoco, test cars were driven till they ran dry. Retracing the exact route, they couldn't get back on $3.00 worth of any of the other premium gasolines tested. Blue Sunoco averaged 23.0 miles farther! Tests were sanctioned, supervised and certified by the American Automobile Association.

Blue Sunoco averaged 7.67 more miles per dollar!

These tests were conducted by the American Automobile Association in 6 cities under normal city-country driving conditions using typical drivers in late model high-compression cars whose manufacturers recommend a premium gasoline.

Results of tests confirm, once again, the fact that Blue Sunoco is America's greatest gasoline value. Why not take advantage of it—get more miles for your gasoline dollar? Stop in at your neighborhood Sunoco dealer's today, and try a tankful of Blue Sunoco.

Knight Moving for Nixon's Job

Governor of California Says Labor Backs Him as Ike's Running Mate

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's Gov. Goodwin Knight, no political friend of Vice President Nixon, said yesterday he would be honored to be nominated to run in Nixon's stead with President Eisenhower.

* * *

But Leonard Hall, the Republican national chairman, said, "It will be Eisenhower and Nixon on the first ballot."

Knight has offered himself before. But yesterday he said it at the Long Beach convention of the State Federation of Labor (AFL)—just a week before Monday's opening of the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

"Many respected leaders and members of organized labor throughout the nation have been kind enough to suggest that the Republican convention should nominate me for vice president," he said.

* * *

He repeated that twice in Hollywood for radio and television programs but he told a reporter:

"I am not a candidate. I have no buttons, no stickers, no campaign organization and no money."

Traffic Groups to Meet

CADILLAC (AP)—A traffic administration conference will take over the Cadillac Armory Aug. 23 under sponsorship of the highway traffic safety center at Michigan State University, the State Highway Department, State Police, Michigan Municipal League and the County Road Assn. of Michigan. The session, one of a planned statewide series, aims to provide guidance and assistance on urban and rural road problems.

After Lunch - - - Crunch!

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Ralph K. Steeds was thankful he ate his lunch quickly. Fifteen minutes after finishing the meal, the right front wheel of a large truck flew into his kitchen and bounced around the room. Highway patrol trooper Leo Maxwell said that anyone in the kitchen at the time would have been killed or seriously injured. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

In German legend, Lohengrin was the son of Parsifal, a Knight of the Holy Grail.

Cheboygan Plans Bigger Boat Cruise

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—The annual Venetian night, a parade of more than 60 cabin cruisers through inland lakes, has been postponed in favor of a bigger, better celebration next summer.

* * *

The reason the Labor Day night affair was passed this season is the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers decision to take bids for a $293,000 dredging project.

It will open a channel reaching from Lake Huron to within 15 miles of Lake Michigan.

The project would allow cruisers of up to 60 feet in length pass from Cheboygan through Mullet, Crooked, Burt and Pickerel Lakes. The area has previously been open only to boats up to 42-feet in length.

Engineers will dredge 900,000 cubic yards of lake bottom sludge from five places along the scenic water route.

Orchard Lake Church Honors Rev. Roepcke

Pontiac Press Photos

Community Pastor Leaves for Kalamazoo Pulpit

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Several hundred friends attended the Open House honoring the Rev. and Mrs. Barney D. Roepcke last night at the Orchard Lake Community Church.

* * *

The historic white frame church once known as the "Church in the Wildwood" was dedicated 82 years ago by Governor John J. Bagley.

In early days a small steamboat, "The Pride of the Lake" brought worshipers to the chapel from the two Orchard Lake hotels, people on Apple Island and other points on the lake.

Mrs. Colin Campbell was the organizer and founder of the church. Her husband, a Detroit merchant, bought Apple Island situated in the middle of Orchard Lake for a summer home.

MAINTAIN THE CHURCH

After living in the section several summers, Mrs. Campbell dreamed of a church for the community. Peter Dow gave an acre of wooded land for the site, and the church was organized in 1871, the building dedicated July 18, 1874.

Through the years the Campbell family maintained the church and secured speakers during the summer months. After the death of their daughter, the Central Woodward Christian Church kept the church going for several years until the Presbyterians took over.

Under the guidance of the Rev. Mr. Roepcke, the church was redecorated, a modern heating unit installed, a basement and fellowship hall added. The present plans include two floors above the new addition. The Orchard Lake Church had previously only been used during the summer.

The Rev. Mr. Roepcke, who has been pastor of the church the past 13 years has accepted a call as associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Kalamazoo.

When Elder John Emmett presented Mr. Roepcke with a replica of the little early church and a purse from the congregation, he said:

"Our pastor came to us not only as a preacher just out of seminary, but he was pianist, choir director and leader of the Sunday School; He has built our membership from 59 to a present enrollment of nearly 600 and has helped many young people establish Christian homes.

The pastor thanked his parishioners and told them that foundations were laid for a great future for the Orchard Lake Church and an associate pastor was now needed. He thanked the members for their loyalty, their prayers and many hours given for the church.

Mrs. Roepcke expressed her appreciation for the friendliness and fellowship of the many families and invited everyone to their home in Kalamazoo.

The three refreshment tables were covered with floor length lace cloths and centered with arrangements of yellow and white chrysanthemums and galdioli.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rutledge, general chairman, was assisted by Mrs. H. C. Woodbridge, Mrs. William David, Mrs. Harry Fox, Mrs. Harold Welch and their committees.

The Roepckes and their children, Karen and Tommy, will be at home in Kalamazoo the first of September.

Troy Considers Firehall Plans

OKs One Gas Station but Denies Second as Planner Objects

TROY—City commissioners last night considered fire hall architecture and gave one would-be gas station builder a go-ahead while denying another gas station request.

The commissioners indicated that the architect who designed new firehalls in Southfield Township and Royal Oak might be the one to design their proposed new station on the city's west side.

Further investigation is planned before an architect's hiring, but meanwhile the board approved rezoning land, recently purchased as a site.

One section of a masonry building may be put up, with others planned within a few years, officials plan tentatively.

Construction permit for a Standard Oil station at Big Beaver and Livernois was issued. But the planning board's suggestion that land be rezoned at John R. and South boulevard for a gas station and store was turned aside by commissioners.

The latter request was that of Manuel Guerro. The city planner told commissioners that commercial zoning on the corner might interfere with residential development in that area. No business places are on the corner at present.

Wendover and Town Acres subdivision water mains were discussed with the developers.

They agreed to install six and eight inch mains within the subdivisions, and to furnish a well, but asked that the city pay the difference between installation costs of an eight inch and a twelve inch main line along Adams. The 12-inch main is to be installed.

City officials directed their attorney to rework the agreement with the subdividers, but hedged on the additional line cost.

The subdividers have sunk one well but have not secured enough quantity of water for the area needs.

DONNA J. SCRAMLIN

Altar Dedication Recalls Pioneer

Honor Thomas M. Caley With English-Made Items at Metamora

METAMORA — The new altar, altar carpet and flower stands of Grace Episcopal Church, Lapeer, were dedicated Sunday in memory of Thomas Matthias Caley, who died April 10, 1952.

Mr. Caley was the father of Glenn Caley of Lapeer and Mrs. William (Marguerite) Hubbard of Flint, and was one of the original settlers of Metamora. His parents, himself and his family were among the first members of Grace Church.

A grandson, attorney Thomas Caley, now lives at the old home in Metamora township, known as "The Locusts."

It is believed that the beams for the present Grace Church were obtained from the Caley farm.

The memorial altar, together with the carpet and stands, were made by Mowbray's & Sons of London, England. The altar and stands are of ash.

Unfortunately when the altar arrived in this country, the mensa (top) became warped because of our extreme dry climate in comparison with England, where it was cured.

Donald Sitts of Lapeer made a new one for it on the order of Mowbray's of London.

The carpet is of damask, bordered with gold braid, and is brightly patterned with the Tree of Heaven design.

The son and daughter and four grandchildren were present at the service.

CONVENTION TIME IS HUDDLE TIME — Adlai Stevenson, making the rounds seeking to garner enough votes to win the Democratic presidential nomination, has an attentive ear for words of Gov. G. Out of Hodgepodge, Will Harmony Ensue?

CHICAGO (INS)—Now the drama and excitement, the triumph and heartbreak, the pageantry and warfare of a political convention sweep and roll and thunder across the nation's stage.

* * *

Fantastically expensive wire service and newspaper coverage plus the magic eye and ear of television and radio place the whole country in the audience as Democratic delegates meet in Chicago to choose a presidential nominee and build a platform.

Out of the preposterous hodgepodge of sweat and tears, ringing oratory and hoarse whispers, facts and rumors, deals and rebuffs, angry accusations and jubilant victory whoops, unforgetable moments will emerge.

Here are day-to-day highlights to read about and watch for as the rampaging Democrats make history in Chicago's international amphitheatre this week:

Tonight—Will the address of the permanent chairman, "Mr. Democrat" of many Congresses, the Hon. Sam Rayburn, speaker of the House, spell out a formula meaning that Adlai E. Stevenson is "in" as the presidential nominee?

* * *

Wednesday Night—Will the report of the Platform committee, delivered by its chairman, Rep. John W. McCormack, Mass., touch off a violent floor battle on the civil rights issue?

* * *

Thursday Noon—When Rayburn announces "roll call of states for presidential nominations," will Alabama, alphabetically first, yield so Stevenson's name can be placed in nomination before any other man's? Will a gigantic demonstration for Adlai stop the show?

* * *

Thursday Night—When the balloting for presidential nominations begins, will Stevenson's bandwagon turn into an all-conquering steamroller or can Gov. Averell Harriman of New York block it, throw the convention into a deadlock, and crush Adlai's hopes?

* * *

Friday Noon—Will a hot battle develop in the balloting for the vice presidential nomination? Will young Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts be chosen? Will fiery Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota be the choice? Can Estes Kefauver of Tennessee grab the second spot on the ticket?

* * *

Friday Night—Will ex-President Harry S. Truman "pour it on" and "Give 'Em Hell" so effectively in his warm-up speech that when he is followed by the presidential and vice presidential nominees the cheering Democrats will accept their standard bearers as true harbingers of victory over Ike in November?

Speed Demon Jailed

DETROIT (AP)—A young construction worker who Patrolman Donald Pohl said raced through 50 open intersections, 30 stop streets and 10 red lights at speeds up to 115 m.p.h. was sentenced Monday to 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction. Traffic Judge George T. Murphy also placed 20-year-old Gordon Pohl on two years' no-driving probation. The Pohls are not related.

Girl Darts Into Street, Is Shaken Up by Car

Two-year-old Deborah A. Howard, of 234½ Wessen St., was shaken up but suffered no apparent injuries when she ran into the side of a passing car on Walnut street Monday afternoon.

The girl was released after examination at Pontiac General Hospital. Pontiac Police reported the child had been standing on the side of the street with another youngster when she suddenly broke away and ran into the rear fender of a car driven by Otis H. Miller, 49, of 3193 Howe Ct., Waterford Township.

Deborah was knocked to the ground. Miller was not held.

Holland Housewife Held in Shooting

HOLLAND (AP) — A 17-year-old wife was held for investigation today in the shotgun slaying of her husband in their tiny frame home in nearby Jenison Park.

* * *

Emerson K. Thomas, 24, died shortly after he was admitted to Holland Hospital last night. The blast struck him in the stomach.

Andy Vandervliet, Ottawa County sheriff's deputy, said Thomas' young wife, Helen, told him she shot her husband shortly after he returned home. Vandervliet said she told him her husband had been dating another woman.

Thomas was employed by the Holland Municipal Light Company.

* * *

State police said curiosity seekers who converged on the area soon after the shooting snarled traffic and slowed the ambulance taking Thomas to the hospital.

Belgians Unearth 80 Dead Miners

MARCINELLE, Belgium (INS)—The bodies of 80 victims of Belgium's worst mining disaster were brought to the surface today by a grim procession of rescue workers.

Amid harrowing scenes, the bodies were brought out of the Cazier Woods coal mine at the rate of one every three minutes, where at least 252 miners were entombed Wednesday.

They were placed in provisional coffins at the pithead and loaded aboard army trucks pending burial nearby.

Belgium yesterday observed a day of national mourning for victims of the mine disaster. An estimated 100,000 persons attended six miners whose bodies were the national funeral for the first recovered.

Convention Starting Slowly

Moderation Sets the Mood at Democratic Whingding

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (AP)—The motto of today's Democrat seems to be: Everything in moderation, including excitement.

* * *

While few political shindigs are breathtaking in their early stages, Democrats were, for Democrats, unbelievingly subdued at their afternoon session yesterday.

It almost seemed planned.

Usually a simple way to bring any Democratic convention to life is just play "Dixie" then listen for those Rebel yells.

But neither the organ nor the orchestra let out a peep, of "Dixie" or anything else, while delegates were settling in their seats.

FIRST CHEERS

The first cheers of any note came for those two well tested Democratic names, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

The man who has preached moderation most, Adlai Stevenson, seemed to be a victim of his own doctrine. Normally the first mention of any candidate, especially a front-runner like Stevenson, will set off a demonstration.

But when Mayor Richard J. Daley, in listing Democratic governors of Illinois, said "Adlai E. Stevenson" not more than a score of delegates cheered. Moderation, you might say, with a vengeance.

* * *

All this, however, may not be Stevenson's fault: Daley was winding up one of the longest commercials in the history of television, a seven-page advertisement for Chicago listeners. Perceptions may have been lulled, if not downright blunted.

When Daley pointed out the convention hall is in the heart of the stockyards, it was one of the most unnecessary reminders in political history.

Each delegate had to beat his way through a wind—stirred by some trouble-making Republican, no doubt—blowing enthusiastically and pungently from the cowyards.

ADLAI'S TIRED

Stevenson, after dashing madly about, finally made his way wearily to his hotel headquarters.

There were two patrolmen who guard his suite. Stevenson shook hands with both and said, "You must be getting sick and tired of me."

And then, with the air of a man who has shaken too many hands and met with too many politicians, Stevenson added: "Not half as tired of me as I am of myself."

A-Sub Could Circle Earth Under Water

WASHINGTON (AP)—A duplicate of the atomic engine which powers the submarine Nautilus has been run continuously at full power for 66 days and nights without refueling.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing completion of the test run at its Idaho testing station, said the experiment was made "to prove the reliability and stamina of pressurized water reactors for ship propulsion." It added:

"If the Nautilus itself had made a cruise for this length of time—1,600 hours — she could have steamed at top speed, submerged, around the world and many thousands of miles more."

Speech Teacher Claims Clement Can Do Better

DICKSON, Tenn. (AP) — Folks in this little Tennessee town fairly popped their buttons last night as they watched their former neighbor receive the plaudits of the Democratic National Convention he had just keynoted.

* * *

Most of them thought he did a bang-up job of it. But one person at least thought she had seen him do "infinitely better."

That one is probably the best authority on the history of Gov. Frank Clement as a speaker — his aunt and long-time speech teacher, Mrs. Joe B. Weems.

"Aunt Dockie," as the governor calls her, was his elocution teacher in high school. And she said her star pupil looked to her as if he were "sick" during the speech.

* * *

She pointed to a tenseness of style and strained voice that she said "weren't the real Frank." She said she thought he had a cold and was "trying too hard."

* * *

The keynote speech climaxed 42 years of speech teaching for Mrs. Weems, now a spry 62. She recalls that she knew her nephew "had something wonderful when I realized that he could hold an audience for 30 minutes and give them nothing to chew on."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A clergyman opens the Los Angeles city council meeting with prayer each Monday morning.

"Hear a prayer for men of high station

"Who serve the city, first in the nation.

"May they know the spiritual elation

"To praise the Lord and pass the legislation."

'Moving In' Proves Challenge, Fun for Newlyweds

By JOAN RITTER

Statistics, gathered from somewhere or other, claim that June and September are the leading marriage months. Well, we at The Pontiac Press believe it.

Weddings, weddings and more weddings were celebrated in the area in June and we're expecting to write many many more for the last two weeks of August and the month of September.

The brides shown here aren't all June brides but they show a good cross section of what newlyweds are planning for in the Pontiac area.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glowzinski (nee Patricia Zielinski) had a June wedding. They have just moved into a new six-room home on Plum drive in Clarkston.

FURNISHING HOME

One of their three bedrooms is completely furnished already and the kitchen is also complete. A new washer and dryer will be installed in the utility room tomorrow.

* * *

Pat is waiting for her new living room drapes to arrive Saturday to give her new home that 'homey look'. In the whirl of moving in and planning their home, Pat says, "It just doesn't seem real."

Married July 14 at Grace Lutheran Church were the Ralph Kophengsts (nee Ardis Henderson). They built their new home on Cass Lake road themselves with the help of friends and relatives. The shell of the home was the only thing sub-contracted.

Their home also has six rooms with the dining room, kitchen, one bedroom and the utility room completely finished. Their living room is still in the rather 'lean stages' of furnishing. With the help of friends, they spent over three months in building. Ardis is now making drapes for the entire house in her spare time.

STODDARDS ON SASHABAW

Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Stoddard (nee Marilyn Enden) are now living in an apartment on Sashabaw road. Their apartment is completely furnished with an eye to 'add to' pieces for their future home.

Early America is the theme of furnishings throughout the apartment and the oil paintings on the walls are Marilyn's handiwork. Even her paintings reflect the Early American theme.

The Glenn Gidcumbs (nee Francine Brown) are making final plans to move into a new home within the next couple weeks.

BUSY SHOPPING

They are spending their spare time visiting furniture stores, comparing types of wood, styles of furniture and, of no small consideration to any future home owner, the price of furnishings.

Now living in an apartment on St. Joseph street, their new home is on Independence drive in Drayton Plains. First Christian Church was the scene of their July 7th wedding.

Also living in an apartment are the Louie Fairbrothers of Sylvan Shores drive. She is the former Barbara Lawless.

They were married July 7 at St. Benedict Church and have furnished their apartment home in the colonial period with an eye to furnishing their future home in the same style.

* * *

These couples are typical of the new current newlyweds. Whether living in an apartment and planning for a new home or already living in new homes, they are all vitally concerned in home furnishings and livability of homes for themselves and their future families.

Showing her husband, Ralph, just where "his" linens will be kept in their new home is Ardis Kaphengst. Married July 14 at Grace Lutheran Church, she is the former Ardis Henderson. Their new home is on Cass Lake road.

Pontiac Press Photos

Burdett C. Stoddard attempts to hang the newest painting by his wife, Marilyn, in their studio apartment on Sashabaw road. Just to make sure the picture entitled "A Small Western Town" is hung properly, Mrs. Stoddard supervises the job. Early America is carried out in their home.

"Hmm- - - what's cooking?" is Frank Glowzinski's question to his wife, Pat. The Glowzinskis moved into their home on Plum drive in Clarkston a week ago and are working on furnishings, room by room. Pat is especially proud of her new stove and shining kitchen equipment. She is the former Patricia Zielinski. They were married June 16 at St. Vincent de Paul Church.

The group will meet with Mrs. Marcus Scott of Marlborough drive, Sept. 14.

Co-An Club Slates 'Builderama' Dance

The Co-An Club announces plans for a semi-formal dance, "Builderama," Sept. 14 at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Proceeds will be given to Pontiac General Hospital. A localorchestra will furnish music.

Style After Beauty

Changing your hairdo along with current fashions may or may not be a good thing. You decide. A new hairdo is refreshing, true, but it it isn't becoming too, best to stick with the old one.

JUNE DOLORES LIND

Stealing Ideas Sure to Boomerang

By ANNE HEYWOOD

What can you do if the person you work for steals your ideas and passes them off as his own?

You prepare a report, full of good suggestions. Then he rewrites it, hands it to his superior and describes it modestly as "a few ideas off the top of my head."

* * *

That is Peg's problem.

"I've been here for nearly a year," she writes. "At first, it seemed like the ideal job, a chance to present ideas for new merchandising programs — just what I've always longed for!

"But now I've found out, beyond all doubt, that my boss is happily taking my ideas and palming them off as his own. I don't know what to do.

IN QUANDARY

"If I call him on it, he'll fire me and I don't want that. If I go over his head to the big boss, the big boss probably will not believe me because my boss does it so cleverly.

* * *

"I've tried to stop having good ideas, but then there's nothing to do but the routine details. Besides, I like to think!

"I'm lying awake nights, trying to figure what to do. Have you any suggestions?"

The worst possible course is the one Peg is presently pursuing.

* * *

To stay at the job, continue to give ideas and to stew about the boss stealing them will make a nervous wreck of her. Moreover, to confront her boss with it is no good since, as she says, he will simply fire her.

And to go over his head is also no good because she will be pegged as a troublemaker and probably be fired.

There are only two alternatives.

One is to resign and go after another job, and hope that the new employer will believe her when she tells of the creative work she did and shows her reports. Chances are he will because, when we know we did something, it tends to get across to people.

STAY ON JOB

The second, and the one I favor, is to stay put, continuing to give out with good ideas, even though they get stolen.

If she remains calm and refuses to fuss about it, justice will eventually prevail. The man who has no ideas of his oen, and steals them from others, always gets caught.

A big meeting will come up during which it will be necessary for him to really think "off the top of his head," but he won't be able to do it.

* * *

I have never known this to fail, although often it does take longer than we would like. You just have to wait.

TRUTH WILL OUT

The truth is, people can fool others only so long.

Peg's boss will eventually look like a man without ideas. And she will in the long run look like a creative person, if she continues to create.

There is an intangible air that transcends any act we may put on, provided we give ourselves time and refuse to get flustered and bitter.

VIRGINIA ANN ALEXANDER

Mrs. Blanche Alexander of Prall street announces the engagement of her daughter, Virginia Ann, to Robert E. Hoisington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hoisington of Giddings road. He attends Highland Park Junior College.

Watch Sizes If You Shop on Trip Abroad

NEW YORK (INS)—Ask for a size 34 dress in a European shop and you'll wind up with something fit for a midget.

In England, they'll just stare at you blankly.

Only gloves follow American sizes and it's a good idea to check clothing sizes carefully.

For example, according to an airlines company, American sizes 34, 36 and 38 in women's dresses correspond to sizes 40, 42 and 44 on the continent. In Great Britain, they would correspond to sizes C2, D2 and E 2.

In misses suits and dresses, American sizes follow the number series 10, 12, etc., British follow the A-1 A-2, etc . . ., series, and on the continent the sizes are 34, 36, etc.

Boredom Is Sure Sign of Stagnation

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some people retain a feeling of excitement all through their lives while others lose the "feel" of adventure soon after early youth has passed.

I am sure you know what I mean. If you yourself have not experienced this maintained eagerness you have seen it in others, those who somehow lift daily life out of the ordinary and make everything seem fresh and new.

This instinctive zest for life washes it clean of boredom and paints it in vivid colors. How does one get this way?

I am sure that physicians would say that our glandular make-up has lots to do with it and I feel certain that physical condition plays an important part. Chronic fatigue and petty physical disabilities dampen our enthusiasm.

However, I believe that there are other elements which have sabotaged vital living, especially for women.

Foremost, there is the age bugbear. Women are so conscious of their age that they follow a set pattern as they pass through each stage. Many married women behave in such a stereotyped way that every detail is patterened after the life of every other young married couple, with no thought of originality.

* * *

Then these women reach 40 or 45 and begin using such phrases as "At my age I cannot do what I used to do."

Well, who wants to do what she used to do? The aim should be to find new and enjoyable things to do. Later, when the children are grown, many women settle down without anything very constructive to do, with no goals ahead. By this time many develop aches and pains out of sheer boredom.

The development of personal tastes and skills all through life and habits of thought which keep us aware of the great sweep of life outside our own little family circle, will help prevent such boredom in later years.

New Bride Fails to Pay Return Visit

Puzzled Caller Told Invite Girl Only If Manner Is Friendly

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "My husband and I were invited to a reception given by the bridegroom's mother in honor of the new bride—a stranger in town. I went to see the bride after the party but she has not returned my visit.

"I'd like to invite her to something, but may I when she has shown no willingness to be friendly?"

Answer: Don't judge her willingness to be friendly by the fact that she has not returned your visit, but by her manner. If she is really aloof or indifferent to you, more so than to others, then that is one thing, but otherwise give her at least the benefit of the doubt and invite her by all means.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Will you please advise me concerning the following matter: I recently left my home town to take a job in another city. Before I left a man I know asked me to write to him.

"I think it is his place to write to me first, but he says that since I am the one who left, I should be the first to write to him. Is it proper for a girl to start such a correspondence?"

Answer: Perfectly. There is no rule about which one begins.

Dear Mrs. Post: "Will you please answer the following questions concerning table manners? (1) Is it proper to push peas or corn, etc, on one's fork with a piece of bread? (2) Is it ever proper to put salt on the tablecloth? (3) Is it good manners to pick up fried shrimp in the fingers?"

Answer: (1) You may use a small crust as a stop against which you push the fork.

(2) Putting salt on the tablecloth and then pinching it between the fingers to put on food is a very old custom and, therefore, not taboo. But dipping celery or radishes into this salt on the table never is permitted. Salt that is to be dipped into should be put on the bread and butter plate. (3) Fried shrimp is not a finger food and should be eaten with a fork.

Coming Events

A benefit bake sale will be held Friday at 146 W. Lawrence St. from 3 until 6:30 p.m.

WSCS of Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church will sponsor a lawn supper Wednesday at 5 p.m. The public is invited.

Zone 8, Past Presidents Club, MOMS of America, Inc., will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Emory Clark, 3551 Baldwin Ave.

Huron Gardens Auxiliary FOE 2887, wil hold officers' meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m., following a regular meeting at 8 p.m. at the hall on M59.

These outfits are out on the bias—political bias, that is. Mrs. George E. Eyrich Jr. (left) of Cincinnati, Ohio, models her Republican apparel. Bright felt letters on the skirt proclaim, "More Than Ever I Like Ike," while banners on the straw hat and bag raise the "Farm Issue." Mrs. John Gilligan (right) also of Cincinnati, displays the proper attire for women attending the Democratic national convention. Her campaigning skirt contrasts in color with a red-white-and-blue-fringed white coolie hat and straw bag.

Campus Clothes for '56 Feature the Spruce Look

NEW YORK (NEA) — Fashions come and go, but in the life of a college girl, the shirt and the sweater are permanent. Whoever heard of a co-ed without them?

But while the shirt may be a fixture, it doesn't retain the same old look year in and year out.

Each season sees changes, just as there have been enormous changes in sweater styles in recent seasons.

It was so long ago that shirts (on the campus, at least) were just exactly that. They were copied from men's shirts and sometimes the girls wore men's shirts which they bought or borrowed.

Uusually, the shirt was topped with a nondescript cardigan, something a little out at the elbows.

All of that has changed. The look on the campus this fall will be a spruce one.

Something new: Size convertibles designed to fit figures that fluctuate as a result of diet. Back gathering or wraparound allows expansion.

Side or back gathering and panels can disguise the convertible element allowing the figure to fluctuate from one size to the next, say 12 to 14, 14 to 16. Watch for this new idea in the shops this fall, or do-it-yourself.

Shades of ancient Egypt's Queen Sefertiti. Women's hat fashions have completed the cycle of about 3,300 years. Ronnie Goodlett (left) models the "latest" in winter hat fashions at a show in London, England. The famous bust of Queen Nefertiti herself show her modeling the "latest" in feminine headdress.

The Ivy Look; How It All Started

NEW YORK (NEA)—You hear considerable talk about the Ivy look these days. Many men's stores now feature an Ivy Department, or something similar. Ivy clothes are shown in magazines and movies and maybe even an occasional up-to-date medicine show.

But just what is the Ivy look?

It is, basically, a new cut to a suit. It is a conservative cut. And, consequently, the accessories that round out the picture are on the conservative side, too.

The Ivy look started some years back in the exclusive tailoring shops that catered to the wealthy boys at some of the Ivy League universities—notably Princeton and Yale. It began, more or less, as rebellion against the sloppy attire that had been fashionable — the blue jeans and the dirty white saddle shoes.

REVERSE TWIST

They went to an extreme in the other direction—neat, conservative to a degree that often bordered on the uncomfortable. As the Ivy look has been modified by tailors for the mass market, it is still neat and conservative but not to such an extreme degree. It's a style that is especially suitable for a lean, youthful figure. If you're stout, steer clear of it.

The chief ingredient of an Ivy outfit is an Ivy suit. Here's how one of the specialists in the field describes it.

"The three-button jacket of the 'Ivy League' suit is a fraction shorter than others. It sits higher on the neck, has natural and very lightly padded shoulders, narrow 2½-inch lapels and is tailored to hang straight. The trousers are unpleated, slightly narrower and tapered. These suits are marked by conservative fabrics and patterns."

* * *

There are, in fact, some colors that are strictly Ivy colors—you won't find them in any other model. The brown-and-black combinations and drab—olive green—are Ivy look exclusives.

To go with an Ivy suit, a button-down collar shirt is a must. This is usually white, but more and more you'll find stripes and plaids being used. (This may be the beginning of the counter-swing away from conservatism.) A striped or solid-color knit tie is preferred. If a hat is worn, it should be a narrow brim, center-crease job.

There's a sports Ivy look, too. Slacks are plain and pleatless. The sportsjacket follows the same lines as the regular suit jacket. Button-down sportshirts have been introduced to go with this.

That's the Ivy look. You'll be seeing more of it every day.

Off the rack: Would you like to know what the best-dressed man in America wears? Down at Asbury Park, N. J., they picked a "Mr. Fashion '56," and he turned out to be a $65-a-week New Jersey disc jockey named Alan Smith. He wore a $45 suit, a three-buttoned model in slate blue; a $3.95 white shirt; a pair of $1 navy blue socks; a $2 blue-grey-black striped tie; a $2.50 braided dark blue belt; a $1 black-and-powder-blue handkerchief; a $5.95 blue-black panama hat; a $1.50 gold tie clasp, and a pair of $11.50 cordovan-colored, mocassin-type shoes. Total cost for the outfit—$74.40.

For Better Form: Wash Girdles Often

The cool, uncluttered sheath dress will carry you through better than the dirndl ever did, but can you stay coolly svelt to enhance the sheath?

The foundation for an affirmative answer is in easily washable corsets, girdles, garter belts and bras made of air-conditioned cotton and cotton-dacron blends.

They give cool control without constriction and wash and dry so quickly that you'll never make the mistake of wearing the garment more than once between sudsings.

Eleanor Roosevelt Sees Dem Youth as Party Hope

Harry Truman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt had big smiles as they posed for a handshake. But there is a sharp division of view between them as to whom should be the Democratic convention's presidential nominee. Mrs. Roosevelt favors Adlai Stevenson, with Truman backing New York's Gov. Averell Harriman.

'Grand Old Lady' Still Has Fighting Spirit

Tells Delegates Stevenson Only 56

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
International News Service
Special Correspondent

CHICAGO (INS)—The Grand Old Lady of the Democratic party, youthfully bedecked in a flower petal hat of royal purple, pink and yellow, subtly struck the first official blow at Averell Harriman's candidacy last night by demanding "young leadership" for the party.

Cheered onto the convention platform to the strains of "Sidewalks of New York," 71-year-old Eleanor Roosevelt promised the jam-packed session that she would talk, not about her personal choice for the Democratic standard bearer, but of her hopes for the party.

The temptation, however, must have proved too great. Although she carefully avoided any reference to Adlai Stevenson by name, the import was obvious as she shouted in her familiar falsetto:

"Our party must live as a young party and must have young leadership."

Harriman is 65, Stevenson 56.

TRUMAN SERIOUS

Septuagenarian Former President Truman, fighting as tenaciously for Harriman as Mrs. Roosevelt is for Stevenson, joined in the one-minute ovation for the former first lady, but found nothing to smile about during her address.

* * *

Throughout the preceding keynote speech by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, Truman had flashed dimples, rocked with laughter, and all but slapped his thighs over the youthful orator's broad digs at the Republicans. It was a give-'em-hell speech in the tradition of Truman himself.

Not so, Mrs. Roosevelt's. Speaking without notes, FDR's widow pleaded for party unity—a hope which Truman all but blasted with his unprecedented public endorsement of Harriman—and called for "new ways" to meet "new problems."

Never by so much as an innuendo did Mrs. Roosevelt, during her nearly half-hour address, suggest a word of praise for the last Democratic president, although Clement had repeatedly plugged Truman's record and had once paused to encourage a rousing standing ovation for the proudly smiling ex-prexy.

JOB TO DO

Instead, Mrs. Roosevelt reminded the delegates: "My husband said in one of his speeches that our job was not finished because one-third of our people were still 'ill-housed and ill-fed'. It would be a marvelous achievement if this job could be finished."

Truman, who has been actively matching wits with Mrs. Roosevelt over their rival candidates, sat politely through her speech, but left the hall at its conclusion.

To those who twice before had heard Eleanor Roosevelt address a national convention, she seemed this time a little more frail, her shoulders a little more stooped, but her fighting spirit still unquenched.

A thrill swept the jam-packed hall as Mrs. Roosevelt, to the strains of Al Smith's old battle song, strode onto the kleig-lighted stage. She leaned a trifle heavily on the arm of National Chairman Paul Butler, but her step was firm and her eyes were bright.

SCORNS TELEPROMPTERS

Scorning both spectacles and teleprompters, she rambled in familiar fashion about the needs of the world and the arguments against Communism.

Her strongest plea for party victory came when—in a phraseology which her late husband might have termed "iffy", she declared: "It is absolutely imperative that the Democrats come back to power, but they must come back with the right leader—your choice."

The great hall was noisy, and some of the delegates milled restlessly about the floor as she spoke.

Very little applause interrupted her address, but at its conclusion the delegates again leaped to their feet to acclaim the widow of the only four-term president in American history.

* * *

To Mrs. Roosevelt, however, her half-hour of party homage was a mere interlude in the much more rigorous task she has set for herself between now and the Thursday balloting—winning the nomination for Adlai Stevenson.

Wearing a green baseball-type cap, Adlai Stevenson looks jaunty and confident as he arrives at a Washington State meeting yesterday just before opening of the Democratic National Convention

Here's a gal who's sure to be noticed at the Democratic convention, and what is more, she wants to be heard. She's Mrs. Albert Pollak of Miami Beach, a member of the Florida delegation, and she's for Adlai Stevenson.

Wife's Tug at Elbow Helps Many a Man—Including Ike

Mamie's — or Judy O'Grady's — Nudge Can Alert Husband to Small Oversight

By RUTH MILLETT

When President Eisenhower recently left the hospital where he had been a patient, only a wifely tug at his elbow kept him from neglecting to say goodby to one of the surgeons who operated on him.

In his hurry to be on his way, the President didn't see the doctor. His wife did.

Over and over again you read such little incidents about our charming First Lady who seems always to be sensitive to the feelings of other people and who never hesitates to give her busy, and perhaps sometimes distracted, husband a wifely tug on the elbow to call his attention to some small, personal matter.

This, of course, is nothing more than most wives of busy men do. But how many husbands really appreciate how much such wifely tugs at the elbow do to smooth their personal relationships and enrich their friendships?

DOES PROMPTING

It's usually the wife who does most of the social prompting. She remembers names and reminds her husband to ask an acquaintance about his new baby (she'll know whether it is a boy or a girl, too).

* * *

She's the one who suggests having the new man in the office and his wife to dinner, who reminds her husband of thank-you notes, and so on.

Most married men take this kind of help for granted and probably never give it a second thought.

And yet it is probably of much more value to them than they could possibly imagine.

* * *

For little gestures of personal kindness, interest and consideration are of inestimable help to a man in his business or professional as well as his social life.

And many a man with a reputation for personal charm probably owes more of that reputation than he knows to the wifely tugs at his elbow that help keep him human.

Let Ashtrays Stand

After a party, stack the overflowing ash trays on the sink overnight. Makes a mess to face in the morning, but a mess is better than fire which could start in a wastebasket from smoldering butts.

Space Limited? Cut Down on Unessentials

When suitcase space is at a premium, take only the essential fragrance items along . . . those that you are sure to use.

They should include two perfumes, one for daytime and the other for evening wear, perfumed soap, a large bottle of cologne or toilet water, a small size box of dusting powder or talc, and if space permits, a small container of one of the bath softeners, either oil, bubbles or crystals.

And be sure to tuck a purse flacon of perfume in your handbag, for touch-ups when away from your hotel dressing table.

Fragrance is essential to your good looks, for it not only helps to make you look beautiful, but also makes you feel beautiful.

Break 'O' Day Corn Crop Better Than Ever!

BY KATHRYN KENNEDY
Wrigley Food Reporter

Get your taste buds primed for the treat of the season —Wrigley's Break O' Day corn—the sweetest, freshest corn ever!

It's harvest time now for this pride of the Kool Krisp counters—the time to enjoy Break O' Day every day, roasted in the husks on the outdoor grill or steaming hot and tender from the kitchen pot.

Wrigley's are proud of Break O' Day corn. Grown from special seed and carefully controlled throughout the growing season, this is corn that is picked fresh daily and rushed to the 93 Wrigley stores.

FRESH, NEW corn every morning is the Wrigley rule for Break O' Day—your guarantee that every ear is the very best you can buy.

A special machine installed right in the corn field is used to spray ice water over the ears as they are pulled from the stalks. This is very important because corn, unlike most vegetables, goes right on ripening after it is picked.

As it travels through the "stericooler" on a conveyor belt, the ice-chilled water reduces the temperature from sunshine heat to about 45 degrees in a few minutes, stopping the ripening process immediately.

Once chilled, the corn travels in refrigerated trucks to the stores where it is quickly transferred to ice-packed Kool Krisp counters.

TO GET the most enjoyment from your Break O' Day corn, refrigerate it as soon as it comes into the kitchen. Cook it the same day you buy it or not later than the second day. Then serve it dripping with gobs of Country Churn butter.

JUST BEFORE cooking remove the husks and silks and cook in one of two ways; covered in a very small amount of boiling, salted water for about five minutes or drop into a pan filled with cold water and bring the water to the boiling point.

A bit of sugar in the water or half milk and half water are methods used by some cooks. A few husks added to the cooking liquid increases the flavor.

Roasted in the husks over a charcoal fire, Break O' Day is some of the finest of feasting. To prepare the corn, carefully strip down the husks, remove the silk and rewrap the husks around the corn. Tie the ends with string if you wish.

Soak in a pan or pail of cold salted water for about an hour before cooking. The water absorbed by the husks help to steam the corn.

Place ears on the grill and allow from 10 to 15 minutes for the corn to roast, depending on size and fire heat. Turn frequently.

Another way to roast the ears is to strip away all the husks and silk, spread with Country Churn butter and wrap each ear in a square of aluminum foil. Place on grill for about eight minutes, turning frequently.

THERE ARE several advantages to cooking the corn in foil, especially when you're cooking for a crowd. All the cleaning and preparation can be done in advance and when it's time to serve there is no litter of husks about the table.

START by cooking as many ears as the grill will hold then place the "done" ones in a warm place. The foil will keep them steamy hot for quite a while.

For variety in taste, you may want to flavor the Country Churn butter with a little garlic powder. But do so with a light hand because too much garlic will destroy the delicate flavor of the corn. Or a bit of your favorite blend of herbs may be used in the butter.

When rainy weather rules out a "cook-out," roast the corn in foil indoors. Clear off the husks, spread with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and then wrap it securely in aluminum foil. Roast in a 400-degree oven for from 15 to 25 minutes, depending on the size. Turn the ears frequently to roast evenly.

Wrigley's Butter Earns Top Rating

The wording "AA" 93 score you find on every pound carton of Wrigley's Old Fashion Country Churn butter tells a story.

It tells you that this is quality butter that has passed inspection with flying colors and is described by butter graders as possessing "a fine, highly pleasing flavor."

ALL Butter must be graded by a state or federally appointed inspector. Determination of the grades is made on the basis of five qualities, each receiving points for scoring—flavor, body, color, salt and package.

The higher the score, the better the butter. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture commercial butter never exceeds "AA" 93.

BUTTER receiving the highest points can be depended upon to have a flavor which is fresh, fine, sweet, mild and clean tasting with a richness of flavor. It will also have a firm, wavy texture, a uniform color throughout [illegible] or streaks and [illegible]ntly salted.

Dinner-Redy Chicken Makes Debut

There's a new bird in town — in residence in the frozen food cabinets of Wrigley's stores.

It's the amazing new "Dinner-Redy" chicken, completely cooked by 'Solar-Ray' and quick frozen, ready to heat and eat. After thawing, it can be ready for the table in just seven minutes.

And if you don't want to bother about heating it, just allow the bird to thaw then carve it and serve cold for a buffet meal.

The "Dinner-Redy" chickens are prepared by an exclusive process that uses sun-like rays that seal in the flavorful juices with no shrinkage — juicy, moist and wonderful tasting.

BECAUSE the chicken is already cooked, you can buy a smaller bird than usual, yet still serve your same generous portions.

In planning your purchases, buy two-thirds the amount of "Dinner-Redy" chicken as you would if you were buying raw chicken. A "Dinner-Redy" bird weighing one and three-fourths pounds will go as far as raw chicken weighing three pounds and will furnish four generous portions.

The length of time necessary to prepare the chicken for the table depends upon your favorite style of chicken. Once the birds have been thawed, you can split them and place them under the broiler for about seven minutes to heat through; cut into serving pieces and heat in a skillet until heated through or place whole in a pre-heated 450-degree oven for about 25 minutes.

Whichever method you choose for heating, or serving cold, just set the table, toss a salad and dinner's ready with a "Dinner-Redy."

You'll find these birds convenient to keep on hand at all times because the hard-frozen "Dinner-Redy" will keep indefinitely in the freezer.

"Kool Krisp" Holds Garden Freshness

"Kool Krisp" is the password for fruits and vegetables that are cool, fresh and appetizing—the standard set for all produce sold in Wrigley's Stores.

To keep them at the heighth of garden freshness all the fruits and vegetables displayed on the counters are divided by narrow metal racks filled with finely crushed ice, called Ice Channels.

The ice channels extend deep down to the bottom of the counters where the cool, moist air is gently circulated between the layers of fruits and vegetables, substituting for nature's cool nights and morning dew.

Because of this careful attention to the selection and grading on the farm and the protection given it in the stores, Kool Krisp has come to mean top quality fruits and vegetables throughout Michigan.

Gives 'Em Hell; Crowd Loves It

Calls GOP 'The Party of Nixon, Dixon, Yates ...Privilege and Pillage'

CHICAGO (AP) — It was, as the man said, "a give 'em hell and heaven" speech.

But Frank G. Clement, 36, governor of Tennessee, boy orator of the Cumberland and an old-fashioned spellbinder, lived up to his advance billing last night.

In the keynote address of the Democratic National Convention, Clement said the Republican administration has "a sordid record of broken promises and unredeemed pledges" and President Eisenhower can't escape the responsibility.

He assailed the GOP opposition with cries of "Nixon, Dixon and Yates" .. . "party of privilege and pillage" . . . "the Republican triple B—Benson, Below parity and Bankruptcy."

He said President Eisenhower "cannot Jim Hagertize his way through this whole campaign." He said, "The farmer has been devitamized by the GOP and Bensonized by Ezra B." He said, "Foster Dulles fiddles, fritters, frets and flits," called him alternately the "wandering minstrel" and "the unguided missile."

AUDIENCE HOWLS

The cheering, howling delegates in the blue-trimmed convention hall loved it, though they seemed to run down on steam toward the end. Not Clement. His energy and breath control showed no letup.

A literary purist might argue that the length of his sentences left you breathless and his metaphors occasionally wrestled each other to the ground.

Clement also aimed some sharply barbed shafts at Vice President Nixon, "the vice-hatchet man of the Republican party," and at Secretary of State Dulles, "unquestionably the greatest unguided missile in the history of American diplomacy."

Toward the end, Clement recited a catalogue of what he called Republican sins, his arms upraised, sweat streaming down his angry, handsome face, down his blue collar, blue shirt, blue suit. Before each stipulated sin of the enemy, he asked, "How long, oh, how long' would they be tolerated. There were a dozen "how longs."

And at the very end, his fist raised high, he shouted, "Precious Lord, take our hand. Lead us on!"

NO SMEAR CAMPAIGN

In calling on the Democrats to wage a fighting campaign, he said they were not going to engage "in the 'smile and smear' technique" and would not tolerate it from the opposition.

"We are not going to sit back and watch one of the Republican candidates smugly attempt to lift himself above and beyond his party, meantime holding hands with the vice-hatchet man of the Republican party who—without interference from Gettysburg—charges 20 years of treason to the Democrats," Clement said.

He was referring to Nixon's campaign speeches in the 1954 congressional elections—still rankling with many a Democrat.

"That kind of double-faced campaign by the opposition—the vice-hatchet man slinging slander and spreading half-truths while the top man peers down the green fairways of indifference—will not be tolerated by the Democratic party," Clement said.

He also struck out at the "Peace and Prosperity" slogan of the Republicans.

FARMERS FORGOTTEN

In a 10-count indictment against the GOP Clement accused them, among other things, of forgetting the farmer, liquidating labor's gains and of sacrificing the small businessman to his big corporate competitor.

"You cannot judge the prosperity of a nation by the earnings of a privileged monopoly," he said.

And he accused the administration of following "a fantastic, frantic and fatal foreign policy." He also said the one word that accurately describes the nation's present foreign policy is "drifting."

But while slapping vigorously and caustically at GOP policies on the domestic and international front, Clement said the Democrats "are not just against the Republican party."

PARTY FOR PEOPLE

He pictured the Democratic party as "close to the heart of the people—alert and responsive to their changing needs and requirements, unbound by ties to any special groups, bearing no leopard spots of privilege."

He also said it "possesses the leadership and experience to conduct the affairs of America successfully on the home front and on world missions."

HST Out-Paces Newsmen

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO — The biggest issue under discussion at some sessions of the platform committee was how to dispose of the parlimentarian.

* * *

Seems that all of the hundreds of newsmen here, coming from every state in the union, our territories and some foreign countries, had heard about The Pontiac Press winning all of those national honors.

* * *

Some members of the Michigan delegation feel that last week's primary proved that it was smart politics when Democrat Williams got Republican Higgins to go on the turnpike authority.

* * *

Tried to follow HST on one of his early morning walks, but he had all the newspaper men and others in the party all pooched out in two blocks.

* * *

With the finest auditorium in the nation completed by 1960, Detroit already is pulling for both of the next national conventions.

* * *

Now I surely do have a completed excuse for feeling real chesty. After being mistaken several times for John L. Lewis, a woman asked me today if I was Herbert Hoover. What would he be doing here?

The donkey on a billboard overlooking Michigan Ave. grew a pair of elephant tusks over the weekend. It was an amateurish job of painting.

* * *

Never did understand this half-delegate business, but there are some from the eastern states who look it. And there's a woman delegate from Mississippi who rates fully two and one-half.

My first candidate for capital punishment is the critter who says, "So you're from Michigan, where all the automobiles are made in Detroit."

* * *

A Chicago paper has a cartoon showing Harriman and Stevenson each trying to persuade the other to accept Truman's endorsement.

* * *

Age surely has its recompenses. In a number of the humanity jams here I've heard somebody say "Give that old guy a break." Or did they mean "brake?"

A member of the Michigan delegation suggests to me that The Pontiac Press call attention to the fact that we are one of the few states that haven't an avowed candidate for the nomination for vice president.

When he learned I was from Michigan, a Chicago luncheon partner said, "I wish Chicago and Illinois had a Cobo."

A replica of a donkey, with a man in each end, surely got in a mess at a Stevenson demonstration. The parts got separated, and the front end couldn't find a place to stand up, nor the rear end a place to sit down.

The Chicago Daily News, one of the world's great newspapers, is building a magnificent new home beside the river. Its city editor is Clem Lane who got his start on The Pontiac Press. His old friends will be sorry to learn that Clem suffered a heart attack a month ago, and has since been off the job. He is expected back soon. Incidentally, there's a Joe Haas working for him.

Tennessee to Nominate Clement for President

CHICAGO (INS) — Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement will be nominated for President as a "serious" candidate.

The Tennessee delegation voted in a caucus this morning to cast its 32 votes for the young governor, who keynoted the Democratic convention last night.

Delegate W. M. Haynes of Winchester, Tenn., in making the motion, said: "I nominate him, not as a favorite son, but as a serious, fighting candidate. He can appeal not only to Tennesse, and not only to the South, but also to the rest of the nation."

Stevenson: 554 Votes

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press poll of delegates willing to express a public preference showed Stevenson with 554 of the 686½ votes needed for the nomination. Harriman trailed with 229½, other candidates had 283 and 305½ were uncommitted.

Is Johnson 'The Man'?

CHICAGO (INS)—Tall, slim Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas emerged today as a big man—and possibly "The Man"—of the Democratic National Convention.

Reuther for Stevenson

CHICAGO (INS)—"I'm for Stevenson," UAW President Walter Reuther officially declared last night, "and everybody knows I'm for Stevenson."

Open Kefauver Office

CHICAGO (AP)—Headquarters of a "Delegates to Draft Kefauver for vice-president" committee were opened in the Conrad Hilton Hotel last night.

Missouri for Clement

CHICAGO (AP)—Missouri delegates came out in the open today with support for Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Alan Ladd Acts Relaxed in His Businessman Role

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This was a big movie production conference?

* * *

The assistant director lay on the floor, his eyes closed. The director was on a sofa, his legs in the air, his feet resting against a slatted window. The star-producer, Alan Ladd, sprawled in a huge leather chair.

Ladd is one of that new breed of businessmen actors who produce as well as star in their own movies. He handles the business end at luncheon meetings in his dressing room, I was told. So I sat in, expecting to see million-dollar deals, careers bought and sold and epic scenes planned.

But this break between morning and afternoon shooting was for relaxation only. The nearest thing to a million-dollar deal was when Alan handed a stuntman friend 12 bucks to buy Ladd three pairs of athletic-type shorts — "waist-size 30."

"A chance to pick stories," replied Ladd, who is only a thin slice more talkative than Gary Cooper.

Ladd Enterprises, Inc., is a family affair in which Alan's wife, Sue Carol, and their four children are members of the board and could conceivably outvote him. On the screen the company calls itself Jaguar Productions.

"Buffalo Grass" is the company's fourth picture. The first, "Drumbeat," has grossed more than five million. Ladd and Warner brothers, where he produces, split the grosses 50-50.

Alan brought 66-year-old George Berthelon, "the best in the business," out of semi-retirement to be his associate producer. Berthelon, for 10 years Paramount production manager, reads scripts, assembles crews and makes recommendations on story lines.

Alan remembers fellow actors from his radio days and has Berthelon track them down for picture parts. He has Berthelon keep files on promising bit players for future re-use.

Ladd takes no screen credit as producer—"Why should I?"—and seldom watches other actors do their scenes because: "I wouldn't want another actor watching me."

Tarheels to Admit Two Negro Students

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Two Negro women will begin studies next month as freshmen at the hitherto all-white Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and will live together in a dormitory room on the campus.

Miss Mildred Newton, director of admissions, said letters had been mailed giving notice of acceptance to Mrs. Betty Ann Davis Tillman, 19, of Wadesboro, and Elizabeth Ann Smart, 17, of Raleigh. They will be the first of their race admitted to the college, although seven Negro women had sought admission to fall classes.

Of the applicants, said Miss Newton, two did not complete their credentials and three did not meet scholastic requirements.

Acceptance of the two women followed a federal court order of last fall that the Consolidated University of North Carolina must consider the applications of Negroes as undergraduates.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Fire destroyed some 85,000 chickens today at the farm of a British millionaire, P. O. G. Wakeham.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Authorities did not rule out sabotage by EOKA, the underground fighting unit of the Cypriot movement seeking union with Greece. The damage totaled several thousand British pounds.

Wakeham's is the largest chicken farm on Cyprus. He is a partner in a civil engineering firm handling War Office contracts.

Behaving Mississippi Helps Again

BATON ROUGE, La., (INS)—Now that Ole Man River has been taught to behave himself, he is about to be called upon to do his share in the economic development of the South.

* * *

And that share, as envisioned by the Baton Rouge Chamber of Commerce, calls for turning the Mississippi's banks along the 135-mile meandering stretch from the Louisiana capitol to New Orleans into one huge industrial center.

To lay the groundwork for the project, the chamber has scheduled a meeting with its brother organizations from cities along the river in Baton Rouge Thursday.

Chamber president John Barton said the meeting will be the first time an attempt has been made to promote the whole area between the two cities on a unified basis.

TO ACT IN UNION

"Previously," he said, "civic and trade promotion agencies of towns along the river have acted independently in boosting the area. But we feel that if we join forces, we can do a better job in inducing industry to come down here."

The meeting follows completion of a survey to determine whether or not bank stabilization projects have been successful. Barton said:

"We are completely convinced that the river will no longer jump its banks to deluge the surrounding countryside."

Bank stabilization, the civic leader explained, means that the river and its tributaries will remain in their channels.

HAS TAKEN TOLL

The Mississippi hasn't always been so well behaved. As the residents along its shores well know, the great stream has in the past been capable of unleashing a liquid fury that has taken a terrible toll in the destruction of lives and property.

But that's all in the past as a result of federal flood control projects by the Army engineers and other agencies, the planners say.

Gradually, with the taming of the river, industry began setting up shop along its banks to take advantage of inexpensive river transportation.

Several oil refineries and other industrial activities are in operation along the river, Barton said, and the Kaiser Aluminum Corp. is constructing a $60-million plant at gramercy, halfway between Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

Barton, pointing out that the stream is deep enough for ocean-going vessels as far up as Baton Rouge, said the meeting will also deal with development of port facilities.

This is of especial interest to New Orleans, which is behind the project 100 per cent, he said, adding:

"The facilities at the port of New Orleans are already overcrowded. The port has no room to expand and so it is all for further development of the river."

Idaho Primary Election Today

Nine Seek Senatorial Seat in Effort to Stymie Taylor-Welker Fight

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho) seeks nomination to a second term and former Democratic Sen. Glen Taylor makes his second bid for a political comeback today in Idaho's primary election.

* * *

Seven other candidates have jumped into the race in hopes of heading off a slam-bang Taylor-Welker contest in November.

Both men face a tough fight. It's the most crowded field the state has seen since 1940, when Taylor first strummed his guitar in an Idaho Senate primary and Welker was a small town attorney in Payette.

* * *

Four Republicans are in the field against Welker, who has differed frequently with the Eisenhower administration on such questions as foreign aid and farm policy.

Three Democrats oppose Taylor the onetime "singing cowboy senator" who held a seat in 1944-50 and bolted the party in 1948 to run for vice president on a third-party ticket headed by Henry Wallace.

His opponents are Frank Church, 32-year-old Boise attorney; Alvin McCormack, Lewiston farmer; and Claude Burtenshaw, Rexburg teacher. McCormack and Burtenshaw also ran in 1952.

Welker's challengers are William Holden, Idaho Falls attorney; John Sanborn of Hagerman, a former congressman; Ray J. Davis, Pocatello teacher; and Mark L. Streeter, a Shelley farmer.

Governor Proclaims 'Stop Arthritis Week'

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared Aug. 26-Sept. 1 as "Stop Arthritis Week."

H. J. McLaurin of Detroit, president of the Michigan chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, said the event is not one to raise funds, but to educate the people.

He said 300,000 Michigan residents suffer from arthritis and the number of victims nationally is larger than the combined total suffering from heart ailments, cancer, infantile paralysis, diabetes and tuberculosis.

Balks at Contract, Gives Away Beans

BALTIMORE (AP) — A frustrated New York farmer gave away two truckloads of string beans free last night.

Beans spilled from broken bags, crowds gathered and traffic snarled on lower Broadway as Robert Castle of Route 1, Bainbridge, N. Y., handed out the goods. There were 627 bushels.

Castle was quoted as saying the firm bought 426 bushels, then tried to cut the price for the rest of his load contrary to agreement, saying the quality was low. "It was a wonderful crop," said Castle.

"I'm disgusted," he went on. "I'm going back and sell my farm."

Pilot Lands, Collapses —Heart Attack in Air

ELK CITY, Idaho (AP) — Frank Small, pilot for a Missoula, Mont., flying service, stepped from his plane after an emergency landing at Elk City air field yesterday, took a few steps and collapsed.

He died a few hours later. Officials said he apparently had a heart attack while flying.

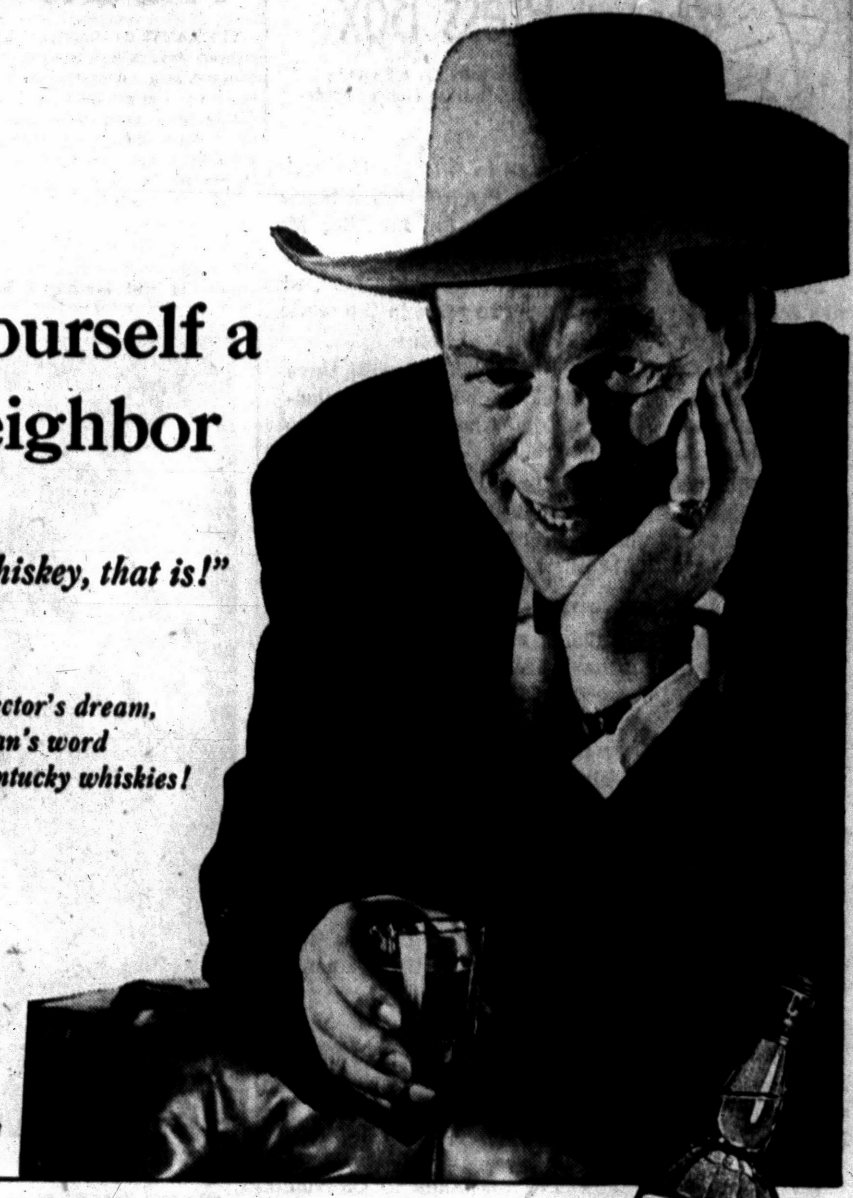

Small had been dropping supplies to rangers who parachuted into Nez Perce forest to fight a fire.

Where does your money go when you buy a gallon of gasoline?

1 TAXES

Good as they are, our roads are getting better every day. And you are responsible for that improvement! Every time you car, truck and bus owners buy a gallon of gasoline a major part of the direct taxes included in the price represents your positive support and contribution to the expanding highway system of which your state is so proud. Exactly how much do you contribute? For example, in mid-Michigan a gallon of STANDARD RED CROWN Gasoline typically costs you only 24 1/10 cents excluding direct taxes. Added to that is a 6-cent state gasoline tax used entirely for roads, 3 cents more for the current federal tax plus more than 8/10-of-a cent state sales tax. These direct taxes total 9 8/10 cents per gallon—equal to more than one-third the cost of the gasoline alone. Cost of gasoline plus taxes—33 9/10 cents!

2 BETTER PRODUCTS

Included in the 24 1/10 cents you actually pay for the gasoline itself is the cost of constant and dramatic product improvements. Here is a case in point—during 1955 and 1956 we made further octane quality improvements. High octane gasoline makes possible the power and performance of the high compression engines in modern automobiles. These octane increases alone have added about 22 million dollars per year to our continuing operating costs. And is gasoline reasonably priced? We believe you'll agree it is when you realize that in America today an hour's pay will buy more than half again as much gasoline, excluding direct taxes, as it would fifteen years ago.

3 WAGES

Our portion of the 24 1/10 cents you actually pay for a gallon of gasoline helps pay the wages and salaries of more than 51,000 members of the Standard Oil Family ...people like yourself who have had to meet rising living costs. In the last 15 years Standard Oil salaries, wages and benefits, on the average, have increased about 170%. General wage increases of slightly over 4 per cent and 6 per cent in 1955 and 1956 increased our costs about 28 million dollars annually. Important as these wages are to each Standard Oiler they are also tremendously important to the economy of all Mid-America where most Standard people live and contribute to the business, social and cultural life of the community.

4 SERVICE

Your independent Standard Dealer knows that his position is just as competitive as ours...that he must meet competition to attract and hold business and at the same time cover all his costs and earn a fair profit. His mark-up is also included in the 24 1/10 cents per gallon. And in the few cents competition allows, he supports himself and family, pays his taxes and his help, pays for the many services he offers his customers. Compare his efficiency and friendly, extra service with that of any retailer you do business with.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There were a lot of doubts as to who got the better of the deal when the Cleveland Browns traded Marion Motley to the Pittsburgh Steelers for Ed "Big Mo" Modzelewski.

Motley had seen his better days, and "Big Mo", who was actually only a rookie after two years in the service, was reported on the Steelers' injured list.

There were many in the NFL who thought there was plenty of good football in Modzelewski, including the Washington Redskins who were willing to give plenty for the fullback.

The Skins were, at the time, holding the younger brother Dick "Little Mo" Modzelewski and there was some conjecture that it would have been healthier for the club to have the brothers on the same team.

★ ★ ★

Anyway in a surprise trade, "Big Mo" ended up in Cleveland. Several officials around the NFL circuit believed there might have been some possum-playing on the part of the ex-Maryland All-American to the liking of Paul Brown.

This attitude grew stronger when all of a sudden Ed regained his health and actually was the big factor in the Browns' championship last year.

In Chicago over the weekend the discussion of the trade and Modzelewski's sudden cure was again brought up during the All-Star game.

★ ★ ★

Just as was the case all last year, Ed was again carrying the ball more than a healthy fifty-percent of the time.

HAPPY ABOUT BEING TRADED

I knew Ed quite well from his high school days at Har-Brack High School in Natrona, Pennsylvania, and so I visited him at the Brown headquarters at the Palmer House.

★ ★ ★

We got onto the subject of his trade to Cleveland. Ed admitted that he was "happy to have left the Pittsburgh Club."

"It's a funny situation with the Steelers," he said vaguely without trying to clarify the statement, "and the trade was the best thing for me."

★ ★ ★

In reference to his brother Dick who is now with the New York Giants, after a three-way trade between Pittsburgh, New York and Detroit, Ed said, "You watch him now, he'll have a great year."

"I got a letter from him recently and he said he's happy with the Giants. That's just where he wanted to go," Ed finished.

In regards to the All-Star game itself, Ed said, "Brown worked us hard for this game, and I won't make any predictions but we're going out to beat their pants good."

The rest is history and as most football fans know the Browns did the beating with very little exertion.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Don't be surprised to hear the Lions make renewed efforts to get one of the backs from the Chicago Cardinals. One reason why the Lions are especially hoping for Bobby Layne to come through may be due to the possibility of using Harry Gilmer as trade bait.

The Cards need a quarterback very badly and even Gilmer could be an improvement. "They would walk away with it if they had a quarterback," admitted coach Buddy Parker, "because they have more running backs than they need."

'Troubles' Cut Lions' Power

YPSILANTI (AP)—Injuries, inexperienced rookies and trouble in the pass-catching department will leave the Detroit Lions at considerably less than peak strength when they open their exhibition schedule Friday night against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Here is coach Buddy Parker's tale of woe:

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, the Lions' prize rookie from Ohio State, is still nursing a bone bruise suffered in the All-Star game last Friday in Chicago.

Fullback Bill Bowman won't report for several weeks.

Cassady, and two other rookie backfield hopefuls, Jerry Reichow of Iowa and Don McIlhenny of Southern Methodist, haven't had time yet to learn Lions plays too well since their arrival from the All-Star training camp.

Jim Doran, who picked off 38 passes for 552 yards in the 1955 season, is the only player who's showing up well as a pass receiver. The retirement of two top pass receivers, Lew Carpenter and Doak Walker, also hurt the Lions and last year's star rookie, Dave Middleton won't report to camp until just before the regular season opens. He's wrapped up now in his medical studies at the University of Tennessee.

On the sunny side, Parker said he was well pleased by progress made in the running and passing departments and his linemen are showing up well.

Two more players dropped off the squad yesterday. Keith Emerson, Central Michigan end, was put on waivers and Bob Chuoke, a guard from the University of Houston, left camp and was put on the reserve list. Their departure cut the roster to 48.

BRENDA MAKES IT—Brenda Fisher, 28-year-old British marathon swimmer, is helped onto crowded east Toronto, Ont., beach where she touched after setting record in completing 32-mile swim across Lake Ontario from Niagara-on-the Lake yesterday. She covered the distance in 18 hours, 51 minutes, cropping two hours and five minutes from Marilyn Bell's recognized record, set in 1954.

British Woman Swims Ontario

Brenda Fisher Makes Crossing in Record Time

TORONTO (AP) — Girls just may be more buoyant than their male counterparts.

Only three humans have managed to stroke their way across lake Ontario and two of those who swam the 32-mile stretch from Niagara-On-the-Lake have been femmes.

Latest to accomplish the feat is Britain's Brenda Fisher who crossed the lake in 18 hours, 51 minutes to break the standard set by Canada's Marilyn Bell in 1954.

Only other to swim it was John Jaremy of Toronto, who did it three weeks ago.

Miss Fisher, also known as queen of the Nile and queen of the English Channel for her swimming accomplishments on these waterways, was making her 2nd try.

Braves Crimp Cincy Hopes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Have the Cincinnati Redlegs, who figured "to go as far as our pitching will carry us," reached the end of the line?

It was Manager Birdie Tebbetts who tagged his pitching the big "if" in the National League pennant chase, and now that his not-so-robust Redlegs are slumping at the plate just when the pitching is in need of a lift, the Cincys are hurtin'.

★ ★ ★

Tebbetts needed a "stopper" last night, what with relief ace Buster Freeman sidelined by a freak mishap and Hal Jeffcoat and Brooks Lawrence taking their lumps, but he couldn't find one. Milwaukee first-place Braves tagged Johnny Klippstein and swept the final three games of their four-game set with a 5-1 decision.

The defeat skidded the Redlegs four games behind the Braves and two back of Brooklyn, rained out at New York in the only other game scheduled in either league.

The Redlegs, who won the series opener behind Larry Jansen, who was just recalled from the minors, were on even terms with the Braves for five innings. Then Del Crandall, whose sacrifice fly produced the first run, tagged Klippstein for a two-run homer, his 13th, to break a 1-all tie in the sixth.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Frank Robinson, who was 1-for-10 in the first three games of the set, supplied the bulk of Cincinnati's inept attack, going 4-for-4 and socking his 26th home run. It was only the fourth homer managed by the heretofore free-swinging Redlegs in the series.

Rookie Taylor Phillips, a 23-year-old southpaw, gained his third victory without defeat with his second straight complete game — scattering seven hits and walking only two while holding Cincinnati's other power guys, Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell, Wally Post and Ed Bailey, hitless.

'Sassing' Boss Puts NY Giant in the Discard

NEW YORK (AP)—He who sasses boss,

Winds up with job a total loss.

Jim Mangan, third-string New York Giants' catcher, didn't like sitting on the bench, so he got up and sat in the locker room in last Sunday's double-header against Pittsburgh.

Then he made an even more serious mistakes. He took Giant Manager Bill Rigney to task publicly.

★ ★ ★

"Rigney is the worst manager I ever played for," he sputtered. "As far as I'm concerned, he couldn't manage in a Class D league. He just doesn't know how to handle men."

He therefore, was suspended. It's unlikely that the Giants will miss his bat. He has two singles in 20 times to the plate for an average of exactly .100.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Foytack will start for the Detroit Tigers tonight as they open a three-game stand against the Cleveland Indians at the Lakefront Stadium.

The Tiger righthander, with nine wins and nine setbacks, has beaten every team in the league at least once.

He will be opposed by another righthander, Early Wynn (13-6).

The Tigers and Indians will play another night game Wednesday and wind up the set with a day game on Thursday. Then the Bengals go to Chicago for a four-game weekend series beginning Friday night at Comiskey Park.

VFW, Gidley Eliminated

Glenn Johnson pitched Emmanuel Baptist to a 3-0 triumph over the VFW and Gidley Electric eliminated Thrifty Drug, 6-2, in the Waterford League softball playoffs last night at Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

Johnson hurled a two-hit shutout and struck out 15 batters as the Baptist team ousted the VFW. Carlton Collins singled in the 1st run in the 5th and Skin Keith tripled home another in the 6th before scoring on a passed ball.

Aided by Bob Feree, who pitched to one batter, Jim Cuthrell twirled a one-hitter for Gidley. Cuthrell's 1st-inning wildness handed Thrifty its two runs. The winners banged out 10 safeties off Art Hockey.

Trojans' Hopes Ride on Arnett

LOS ANGLES (AP) — Southern California's football hopes ride heavily on whether star halfback Jon Arnett decides to play the five games to which he is entitled as a senior this fall, but the youngster is debating several pro offers.

★ ★ ★

"Just about every team in the Canadian League has made me an offer, and the salary ranges from $16,000 to $20,000," Arnett said yesterday before he conferred with his coach, Jess Hill. He said he would decide in a few days what to do.

★ ★ ★

"Arnett is the only one of our seniors who may be going to Canada," said Hill, "and while I advised him, I feel it is up to him to make his decision, and that's the way it will be."

★ ★ ★

The Pacific Coast Conference declared USC seniors ineligible but later ruled that they could play in five consecutive games next season.

Griff's and CIO Advance

Griff's Grill blanked Oliver Buick, 1-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Bob Johnston and the CIO Local 594 chalked up a 7-1 victory over Elks No. 723 Monday night in 2nd round games of the Class A City Baseball League playoffs.

★ ★ ★

Despite Johnston's sparkling mound work, Griff's had to go eight innings to dispose of the Buick squad. Starter Boyd Thomason and Don Ernst, who relieved in the 5th stanza, matched Johnston in scoreless effort until the Grill team pushed across the winning run in the top of the 8th.

An infield error on Bill Graham's grounder, a single by Dick Ayling and Dayt Patterson's single, which scored Graham, tagged Ernst with the loss. Oliver's two safeties were garnered by Walt Honchell and Jim Berg.

While Griff's was advancing to the final round at Wisner Field, the CIO got back in a winning groove on the Columbia-Joslyn diamond. Dick Covrea hurled a nifty four-hitter to sideline the Elks in the double-knockout tourney.

A single by starting pitcher Tommy Jackson and Lee Beavers' triple tallied the Elks' lone run in the 3rd. Meanwhile, the Union club was making the most of seven hits against Jackson, the loser, and Bill McGuire.

On His Own

Mantle Has 20 to Go for New Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Gnarled old Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees, let it be known today that Mickey Mantle is strictly on his own in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record.

★ ★ ★

With 43 games to go, starting with tonight's date with the Boston Red Sox, Mantle must hit 20 homers to eclipse ruth's mark of 60 and become the present-day Sultan of Swat.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know how I can help him toward the record," croaked Stengel. "It's a job he'll have to do himself. The pitchers won't help him any.

"They'll walk him half the time anyway or give him bad balls to hit at, so it's a problem he has to face himself."

The suggestion was raised that maybe Stengel would consider batting Mantle in the leadoff spot, so Mickey would get to the plate more often.

★ ★ ★

"No dice," said the professor. "You build your batting order to win ball games, and besides he would get only six or eight more times at bat if he was the first hitter."

"Well, then, does the Professor think his man will break the record?

"Half the time I doubt it," he answered. "They figure to make it tougher and tougher for him. They're sure not giving him much to hit and the longer they do that, the more anxious he might become to take a swipe at some of those bad pitches."

Mantle talks less about the record than anyone. He does admit that he is getting fewer and fewer good pitches to hit.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to hit 75, if I could," he said. "But I'm not worrying too much about it. What I'm trying to do is get a piece of the ball, so I can keep hitting around that .370 mark."

Protest Delays Sail Finale

MARION, Mass. (AP) — The race committee of the Olympic 5.5-meter sailing class trials called a meeting to take up a protest today, but Quixotic appeared a certain winner no matter what the outcome.

A protest was filed against Quixotic after the sixth race yesterday, but officials deferred action after a long meeting.

Quixotic, owned by a three-man Marblehead syndicate and sailed by Ted Hood, finished fourth and third, respectively, in the fifth and sixth races, both won by Complex II, owned by Dr. Britton Chance of Philadelphia.

Pierre du Pont of Wilmington, Del., filed a protest against Quixotic claiming his Little Flica was forced to alter course at the first mark of the sixth race by Quixotic, winner of the second, third and fourth races.

If Quixotic is disqualified in the sixth race, she still needed only a ninth-place finish in the final race of the series to win the right to represent the United States in the Olympics at Australia.

Because of the protest, race committee officials refused to give any total point scores based on six-race competition. However, unofficial observers set Quixotic's score at 4,996 for six races, with 4,695 if disqualified in the sixth race.

Other official point scores after five races were:

Swaps Top-Weighted for UN 'Cap, Sept. 15

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—Swaps, who whipped Nashua to win the 1955 Kentucky Derby, has been assigned top weight of 130 pounds for the United Nations Handicap Sept. 15 at Atlantic City race track.

Nashua, who was assigned 129 pounds, arrived yesterday in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., apparently fully recovered from the colic attack that forced his withdrawal from the Atlantic City Handicap Saturday.

Royal Downs Elks to Win Class B Tournament Spot

Royal Bar won the Class B city softball championship Monday night at Beaudette Park with a 4-1 victory over Elks No. 810. Royal now enters the Class B district tournament here Friday through Sunday.

Cal Atwood's two-hit pitching enabled Royal to annex the "B" crown in last night's 2nd game after Ed Miller gave the Elks life in the opener by hurling a 1-0 two-hit shutout.

Miller's pitching plus a double by Bill Almas and Stan Hester's run-producing single in the 3rd inning forced the double-elimination tourney to go the distance.

Pete Mihay was Royal's victim in the nightcap. The Elks took a 1-0 lead in the 2nd inning, but Royal evened the count in the 3rd, then iced the decision with one run in the 6th and two for insurance in the 7th.

Pontiac's representatives for the approaching district tournaments are now determined. They include: Class AA—Shaw's Jewelers; Class A—GMC; Class B—Royal Bar; Class C—Walled Lake Market.

The Gingellville and GMC girls open their playoff tonight at North Side to decide the city's "C" tourney entry. League-leading North Side Auto Parts battles runner-up Pulver Tire in the 7 o'clock opener to determine the A and B entries.

Texas Circuit Crowds Reduced From Last Year

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas League is behind last year in attendance but is making up lost ground, President Dick Butler said today.

★ ★ ★

Butler reported that the league, for three-quarters, had drawn 805,378 compared to 815,467 for the same period last season. Since the first quarter, which included the poor attendance of opening weeks beset by bad weather, the circuit has gained about 25,000.

★ ★ ★

Butler said he hoped that the final report would find the league at least equalling 1955.

Austin, Fort Worth, Shreveport and Tulsa showed gains. Austin and Tulsa showed gains. Austin was up 50,125 over Beaumont last year. Austin replaced Beaumont. Fort Worth had a gain of 23,684, Tulsa 5,356 and Shreveport 1,678.

HIS 29 DID IT! — With a trophy cradled in each arm, Ron Rothbarth poses for The Pontiac Press photographer after winning the City Medal Play golf championship Sunday at Municipal Golf Course. Rothbarth shot a blistering six-under-par 29 on the last nine holes to tie Lloyd Syron at 136 strokes, then defeated Syron on the 2nd hole of a sudden-death playoff to take his first city golf title. The Pontiac Press silver cup is at the left while the Parks and Recreation Department trophy completes the award list.

Finest pros of the country will match shots in the 5th Motor City Open golf tournament, Aug. 30-Sept. 2 at Western Golf and Country club. That's the word from the tourney's committee handling the affair, one of the metropolitan area's biggest golf features.

Bill Brown, Western's pro, figures that a 276 total will be good enough to win, a 12-round-par figure for the four rounds of play over a 72-hole route.

Purse this year has been boosted to $20,000, biggest ever for the event. Winner gets $4,000. Payoff goes down to 30 places.

THREE TITLES—Representatives from the Pontiac Boys' Club three City Baseball League championship nines show off the trophies the BC teams won in this year's campaigns in Classes F-E and Midgets. A total of 45 trophies was distributed to players. This is the 2nd consecutive year the Boys' Club has won all three titles. Class F won the regional crown Monday, defeating teams from Center Line, Saginaw and Roseville. They play in Jackson Aug. 20 for the state title. From left are Jimmy Pointer, Ron Mastic, Ron Bunch and Eddie Wasik.

Boys Club Wins Regional in 'F' but Midgets Lose

Pontiac's Junior Leaguers both won and lost Monday in the finals of the Michigan Recreation Association regional baseball tournament here.

The Pontiac Boy's Club, representing the city in Class F and Midget divisions, walked off with "F" honors at Columbia-Joslyn, but bowed in the final round of the Midget tournament at Jaycee Park.

Boys Club annexed the Class F crown by shutting out Roseville, 6-0, behind the two-hit pitching of Dave Jones and Darrel Thorpe in their cooperative venture.

Earlier yesterday, Boys Club whipped Saginaw in the semi-final, 8-1, while Roseville was measuring St. Clair Shores, 11-7. The Pike street champions now move on to Jackson for the state tourney.

Ronald Defer was the thorn in Pontiac's side in the Midget final as East Detroit whitewashed the Boys Club, 2-0. Defer limited Pontiac to three safeties while the winners could only muster the same number off Pete Vasquez.

Pontiac reached the finals with an 11-2 rout of Roseville. East Detroit's Midget champs, who also go to Jackson for state tournament warfare, nipped Wayne in Monday's semis, 2-1.

May Try Semi-Pros

One of Pontiac High School's all-time basketball stars, former all-stater and all-Saginaw Valley ace Esmo (Tee) Woods dropped in at this department yesterday to say he was heading for New York to do some tutoring and at the same time work on his master's degree.

Esmo completed some of his master's work at Fisk University last school year and now plans to carry on at Columbia University. He was a Fisk varsity cager during his undergraduate days at the Nashville, Tenn. school. Woods will do private tutoring in New York.

He also expects to try some semi-pro basketball.

Londes Seeking Bout for Spieser, German

DETROIT (AP) — Promoter Nick Londes says he is negotiating for a bout in Detroit Sept. 21 between two top-ranking light heavyweights, Chuck Spieser of Detroit and Germany's Hans Stretz.

Londes said Spieser, currently the fourth-ranked challenger, has agreed to the fight. He said he is awaiting an answer from Stretz, the No. 3 ranked light heavy.

Stretz has 39 knockouts and 25 decisions in 79 pro fights. He has lost seven and has eight draws.

Troy, Luedee Draw in New York Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — Weight continues to be one of the fighter's arch enemies.

That's the way Willie Troy of Washington, D. C., had it figured after his 10-round draw with Jerry Luedee of New Haven, Conn., at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

Troy said he planned to enter the ring at 161, but a two-day layoff added three pounds.

Both boys were "very happy" with the decision and Teddy Brenner, St. Nich's matchmaker, rewarded them with future bouts.

Luedee, came in at 166 pounds.

Mike Green Upsets Young Aussie Star

NEWPORT, R. I. (INS)—Mike Green, 19-year-old U. S. Junior Davis Cup player from Miami Beach, Fla., today had produced the only upset of the Newport Invitation Tennis tournament.

In the opening matches, Green defeated 6th-seeded Roy Emerson, of Australia, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

Neale Fraser, of Australia, ousted Jim Fraser, of Washington, by the same score.

Ed Gaines, of Edgartown, Mass., was the only surviving New Englander, having defeated Shaw Emmons, Dayton, O., 6-3, 6-1.

Prep Coaches Meet

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Iowa's coach Bucky O'Connor winds up discussions on basketball today at Central Michigan College's coaching clinic, but most of the week-long program is yet to come.

Forrest Evashevski, Iowa football coach and former Michigan star in the Tommy Harmon days, will discuss football on Thursday and Friday. Track and first aid help make up the remainder of today's program.

About 200 coaches have registered for the clinic and more are expected.

Tomorrow, the Michigan High School Coaches Assn. will hold its meeting, highlighted by the first annual report. Paul Smarks of Fitzgerald High School said one of the most important parts of the program will be the adoption of a code of ethics for Michigan's high school coaches.

Drawn up by coaches Jim Mantilla of Royal Oak and Dick Hoffhein of Wyandotte, with help from Michigan State athletic director Biggie Munn, the code is modeled after one adopted earlier by college coaches.

The association will have an executive board meeting tomorrow afternoon with a group meeting scheduled tomorrow evening.

The Michigan chapter of the Football Writers Assn. of America will meet on the Central Michigan campus Thursday evening.

Smarks said that 90 per cent of Michigan high schools in the Lower Peninsula now are represented in the coaches' group.

"Even our most optimistic supporters never thought we would grow so fast," said Smarks. "We have a workable organization throughout the state and our coaches are working together and cooperating with each other as never before."

Smarks said the group has grown from 90 members at the beginning a year ago to 1,150. He added he expects the figure to reach 1,500 by autumn.

Batting Slump Blisters

Tuttle Can't Snap Letdown

DETROIT (AP)—Centerfielder Bill Tuttle of the Detroit Tigers has worn blisters on his hands trying to break out of a batting slump.

The 27-year-old outfielder is experiencing his worst year since breaking into organized baseball in 1951. And he doesn't know how to explain it.

"If effort could bring him out of his slump," said manager Bucky Harris, "He would have come out of it a long time ago. He's worked hard but somehow he just can't find the answer."

Going into tnight's contest in Cleveland, Tuttle is batting .247 with 100 hits in 404 times at bat.

"I can't figure it out," says Tuttle. "I've changed my stance and now I'm using a close stance, but it doesn't seem to help. I've been taking a lot of extra batting practice and that doesn't seem to do any good, either."

Tuttle was regarded as the "solid" guy in the Tiger outfield this spring. He had finished the 1955 season with a late flurry of base hits and wound up with a respectable batting average of .279.

With just 44 games remaining on the 1956 schedule, Tuttle has 15 two base hits and only seven home runs. He has grounded into 14 double plays.

Harris is deeply concerned about Tuttle's failure to hit. The former bonus player started the season well enough and was near the .300 mark for a couple of weeks. For a few more weeks he stayed around .275 and .280, then slipped 30 points and hasn't even had a mild batting splurge in the past two months.

New Slogan, New Players for Canadians

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs came up today with a new slogan and a bunch of new faces for the 1956 National Hockey League season. Now, its "rock 'n roll with Howie Meeker and his crew cuts."

The musical note, replacing the 1955 "guts, goals and glamor" motto, was announced today by general manager Hap Day.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT—Shifting hips.

DIAGNOSIS: Head in motion.

TREATMENT: A common fault that's easy to slide into is the lateral hip shift. Cause? The head moving out of position on the backswing. It's so small a movement at times that it is actually hard to detect, but it's the one thing we on the tournament trail guard against most carefully. The least little lateral head shift is exaggerated in the hip to kill the all-important body pivot that produces both a constant groove and power.

That is why I stress using a one-piece swing—no movement of the head whatever—which brings you into the full, comfortable position I show in the sketch. Notice that the hands are high; the left shoulder, through an easy body turn, is under the chin. The left knee has gone around to a position a little behind the line with the ball, and the weight has been smoothly and comfortably moved over onto the right leg.

* * *

The action is much like the turn of a wheel, with your head as the hub and your arms (the spokes) swinging the clubhead in a full, constant circle (the rim). You get this action with the one-piece swing—swinging the clubhead low and straight back from the ball in a sweep, without wrist break to begin with. The wrist break comes of itself, when the left arm has been extended. Concentrate on it. Try it slowly, in ultra-motion manner, and you'll soon have it under control.

Michigan NBC Title Game Set for Wednesday

FRANKFORT, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan National Baseball Congress state championship will be decided Wednesday night in Flint when Sullivan of Grand Rapids takes on Kelly Homes of Flint.

Grand rapids, loser to Flint, 8-6, in the first game of the double elimination tournament, came back to take Kelly Homes, 3-0, here yesterday. The championship game, which followed, was rained out at the end of four with Flint leading, 2-0, and postponed until Wednesday.

The Bay Meadows Futurity of 1957 will be at least a $60,000 race in added value. It is set for April 20, 1957 and is for 2-year-olds.

Broomstick was foaled in 1901 and after a successful racing career served in stud until he was 29.

160-Pound Title Battle Looms for Sugar, Fullmer

NEW YORK (AP) — A middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson, the 36-year-old king of the division, and Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, was in the planning stage today with the International Boxing Club in the unusual position of a rank outsider.

* * *

Also in the talking stage was a feud between Robinson and the IBC, which holds an exclusive contract with the retired song-and-dance man.

* * *

Robinson said he had bolted the IBC stable—he's not worried about the contract—because he couldn't get enough money from President Jim Norris and Co. for a title defense.

"I'm finished with Norris and the IBC," he said. "They don't want to give me a guarantee for theater television, so I'm going to fight Fullmer in Los Angeles for Cal Eaton.

"The fight probably will be Sept. 24 or 25. Eaton and I have almost everything straightened out. He offered me $125,000, including $15,000 for training expenses and 60 per cent of whatever we get for television."

While IBC officials wouldn't say so for publication, most of them privately were hoping that Robinson was bluffing. He has used independent promoters before as "persuaders" to Norris.

In Upper Peninsula:

For Sale—One Dreamland

FAYETTE (AP) — For sale: One "Ghost Town" containing 90 acres of land, a fine sandy beach on Lake Michigan, a natural boat harbor and 100-foot limestone bluff. It's a page out of Upper Michigan history.

* * *

The "town" is being sold to satisfy tax claims against Miss Gladys Edwards of Detroit. Her idea of the area as a resort development never came to be.

Now the Internal Revenue Department will sell the land in public auction Sept. 11 at the Escanaba Court House.

The decline of Fayette began in the 1890's when the Jackson Iron Co. closed down smelting operations.

Fayette's population dwindled from about 1,000 to a few hundred. Finally even these left, with only a few fishermen operating out of the harbor.

OLD IRON SMELTERS

The scenic area, on the Garden Peninsula some 20 miles southwest of Manistique, still has the ruins of two old iron smelters and other mining structures. Some of them date to the 1860's.

In 1946, the state surveyed the area and was about to purchase it as a state park, but before the Legislature could be asked, Miss Edwards completed the deal.

Two years ago, the area was put up for sale at an undisclosed price, but there were no takers.

Now the Internal Revenue Department is ordering the sale by public auction to satisfy tax payments of an undisclosed amount.

Likely it won't make too much difference to yachtsmen and the general public who have been using the area freely for recreation.

CD Handing Out New Attack Plan

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A new Civil Defense "national plan" is being distributed to bring America up to date in case of enemy attack.

* * *

The plan replaces one set up in 1950. The Federal Civil Defense Administration says it has been "outdated by such developments as the hydrogen bomb."

Including recommendations for states and cities, the plan is designed to show "who at various levels of civil defense—federal, state and local—is supposed to do what, when they do it, and by what authority."

* * *

The plan includes texts of the Federal Defense Act of 1950, a model state civil defense act, FCDA regulations and the delegations of authority to other federal agencies.

After an opening flurry of activity, transactions quieted to a slow pace. Price changes were narrow, ranging to around a point.

U. S. Steel and Youngstown declined.

Among motors, Chrysler and Ford moved slightly higher. General Motors and Studebaker-Packard were steady.

Small losses predominated among the rails and utilities registered narrow gains.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were mostly lower.

Losers included Molybdenum, New Jersey Zinc, and International Petroleum. British Petroleum and Strock made small gains.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

* * *

Yesterday the market dropped slowly lower in light trading. Losses ran as high as two points for leading issues and a few registered advances. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.30 to $188.20, with industrials down $1.80, rails off $1.60 and utilities off 20 cents.

Michigan Cattle Can Live High and Be Healthy

GRAND RAPIDS—At least one Michigan cattleman has poked holes in the belief that Michigan-bred beef bulls can't be acclimated to the altitude of western mountain ranges.

Walter A. Reed Sr., Lake Odessa canner and Hereford breeder, has a testimonial from a western rancher to support his point.

Reed said the westerner operates on a range which reaches a 900-foot elevation in parts. Some of Reed's Michigan-bred bulls were brought in from the range a year after their purchase and found to be the best animals on the ranch, said their new owner.

Reed is conditioning a pen of 12 whitefaced Hereford bulls for the coming national western stock show at Denver.

He first started exhibiting his animals at Denver about four years ago when the annual increase of good bulls on the farm outstripped the regional market for breeding animals.

After early skepticism on the part of some western commercial ranches, the Michigan bulls found increasing and profitable favor.

Reed said his carlot entry of 12 bulls last year averaged a return of $550 per head. It cost about $50 per bull to take them to Denver.

Ford Floating Funds From Insurance Firms

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal said today in a dispatch from Boston that the Ford Motor Company has arranged to borrow 250 million dollars in a long-term loan from a group of insurance companies.

* * *

The loan was underwritten, the paper said, by John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., together with other insurance firms, banking houses and pension funds. Details were not disclosed but, the Journal said, the insurance companies reportedly took down a large portion of the loan.

* * *

Ford officials in Detroit had no comment on the financing. It had been rumored for some weeks in Wall Street, however, that the big motor company was negotiating for new capital.

Harriman, Stevenson Look Alike on Campaign Issues

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

CHICAGO (AP) — The great illusion at the Democratic convention is that there is a big difference between Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Harriman on national issues.

There isn't. On most they look like twins.

Harriman himself has helped create this illusion by denouncing the "moderation" of Stevenson and of President Eisenhower too. He has done this for one of two reasons:

1. He thinks there is a difference or 2. he thinks it necessary to make himself sound like a political hot-rod in order to win the Democratic nomination and then the presidential election.

The best way to judge Stevenson and Harriman — on any differences or similarities between them — is on where they say they say they stand on the issues. Under that kind of examination they look alike:

Civil rights — Both are for a careful, gradual carrying out of the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation. Both say that they would not use troops or guns. Both proposed a party platform plank backing the court.

* * *

Harriman would go one step further than Stevenson: he'd withhold federal aid to segregated schools. Stevenson wouldn't.

Natural resources and power development — both — and this is a standard Democratic cry — accuse the Eisenhower administration of a "giveaway" of natural resources. Both favor public development of water power and natural resources.

Labor — Both favor changes in the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and both are critical of the right-to-work laws — in some states — which forbid union shops.

Foreign policy — Both favor sizable economic aid to foreign countries. Stevenson suggests the United States and Russia join in giving economic help through the United Nations instead of separately as now. Harriman suggests a new international agency to do the job with the United States and Russia as members.

* * *

Both, of course, were highly critical of the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign affairs.

Immigration — Both would make changes in the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act of 1952 to permit more people to enter this country.

Farm problems — Both favor 90 per cent of parity support prices and the soil bank plan. Harriman would additionally go along with a food stamp plan for needy families, a world conference on food resources. Both favor liberal farm credit.

Health and medical care — Both back away from the idea of a federal health insurance program. They talked of government help for private insurance plans.

* * *

Texas — Stevenson is against a general tax reduction — if there is a budget surplus — until consideration is given to using the surplus to reduce the public debt and to national needs like housing and schools and lower taxes for low-income families.

* * *

A careful check with Harriman's office here turned up no evidence he has had anything to say about national tax problems.

* * *

Housing — Harriman's office here could produce nothing from its files to show he had any plans on housing. Stevenson talked of housing problems in pretty general terms.

Harriman: The Confident

By WALTER KIERNAN

CHICAGO (INS) — This convention is so streamlined they picked Sinatra over Phil Regan and brought him in through a thinner gate.

* * *

But whoever wins this one, the record will note that Estes is the first candidate in history to resign his disappointment before it became official.

* * *

Now the manufacturer who got stuck with the coonskin caps has 12 boxes of campaign buttons to go with them.

Estes crept away before the weather bureau announced the direction of the lightning. Then having lost the decision to himself, Estes went dancing with Nancy at the Blackstone and in 10 minutes there was a "Beat Arthur Murray" movement going for him.

But today we are sitting in gadget hall watching Democrats grow. They've got an elevator on the platform that can make a small Democrat a big man while he is clearing his throat. It can make any Democrat seven feet tall in seven seconds but this is tough on the Texans who were nine feet erect when they stopped through the doors. Sam Rayburn is one of the shorter Texans but he has lived through some short times in Washington in recent years.

CONFIDENT AVE

We have several pieces of earnest business to get through before the candidate enters the isolation booth but most experts seem to think Adlai will get on the first, second or an early September ballot.

Averell is so confident of victory he has just ordered Carmine to switch from blue to rose colored bifocals.

And don't count out Happy Chandler. If he can get a banjo through the turnstile he may become the compromise candidate on the first three bars of "My Old Kentucky Home."

As we understand it, Kefauver will take second place and if he can't get second he'll take third. This would leave him with his senatorial air travel card still in force.

Many delegates would pick John Kennedy of Massachusetts for vice president but he looks young enough to be his own son and you can't have a candidate who has to keep saying "But I am over 21!"

They're still discussing whether Truman's endorsement of Averell put a hole in Adlai's other shoe but I hear Adlai is happy that Harry just didn't announce for himself.

* * *

Right now we don't know how it will come out but keep in touch.

Democrat Gavel Made of Famous Georgia Hickory

CONVENION HALL, CHICAGO (AP)—The Democrats' official gavel, presented to the National Convention yesterday by Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, was made from hickory grown on the grounds of the former little White House at Warm Springs, Ga.

The mention of the man who made Warm Springs famous, Franklin D. Roosevelt, brought the first rousing cheer from the delegates.

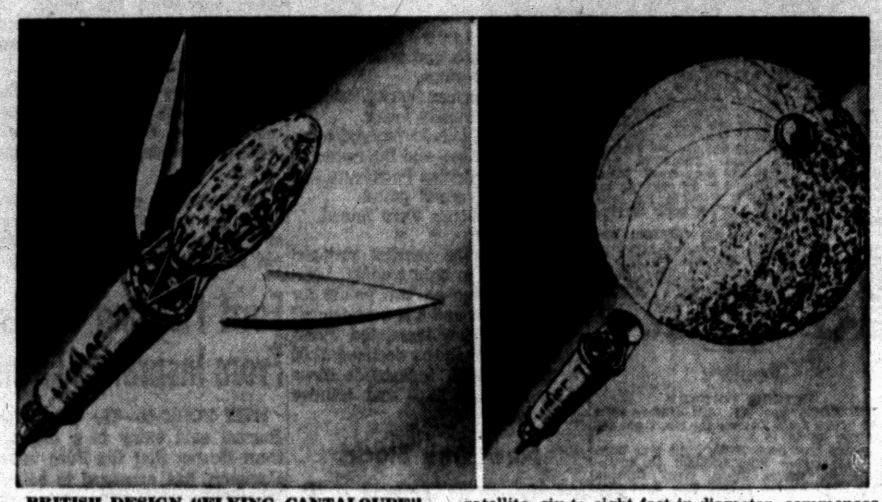

Paul Butler, Democratic national chairman, in accepting the gavel, said he was particularly happy to get it since, he said, it came from the only state in the Union which invariably has gone Democratic.

Nursing Scholarships

DETROIT (AP) — Funds for 14 scholarships for nursing students have been granted Wayne State University by the state Public Health Service to reduce the shortage of nurses in hospital administration and supervision.

Fisherman, 18, Drowns

ERIE (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Gene Darrington of Toledo, drowned Monday in Lake Huron behind the Consumers Power Co. plant. Darrington was fishing with his cousin, Clyde Darrington, and stepped into a hole.

BRITISH DESIGN "FLYING CANTALOUPE" — The above drawings by British artist John W. Wood show a projected man-made satellite for outer space. Looking like a monster cantaloupe, it was designed by three members of the British Interplanetary Society. At left, the 166-ton, three stage rocket is shown jettisoning its ballistic nose-al cone prior to the inflation of the lightweight metal-foil satellite. At right, the fully inflated satellite, six to eight feet in diameter, commences its orbit around the earth at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour. The satellite would be tracked from ground stations just before dawn and shortly after sunset by means of reflected light from the sun. The design was first presented at the second International Congress on astronautics in London in 1951.

Wedding Held Up as Pair Admits Three Holdups

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wedding of Pvt. Jerry Dewan, a soldier on leave from Fort Carson, Colo., and Mrs. Mary Farkas, Van Nuys, Calif., divorcee, will have to wait a while.

* * *

Police interrupted their plans yesterday. They arrested the pair in a service station and booked them on suspicion of three holdups.

* * *

Authorities said Dewan told them they attended a drinking party Sunday and decided on the holdups to finance a wedding in Las Vegas, Nev. In their car police found a wedding gown, complete with veil.

Freak Truck Accident Strangles Detroit Man

DETROIT (INS) — A bakery deliveryman was found strangled to death today with his neck caught between the door jambs of his truck and garage.

Samuel Gray, 49, of Detroit, apparently stuck his head out the cab of his truck as he backed through a narrow garage door on his way to work.

Given Probation Term

Ronald Przeadzki, 18, of Orchard Lake, who pleaded guilty Aug. 8 unlawfully driving away another man's car Aug. 2 in West Bloomfield Township, was sentenced yesterday to three years' probation and payment of $100 in court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Civic Leaders Inspect Guard

Citizen - Soldiers Start Firing on Range; Attend Specialist Courses

CAMP GRAYLING (AP)— Delegations of visitors from five Michigan cities were to watch training maneuvers of some 10,000 citizen-soldiers today at the annual Michigan National Guard encampment here.

* * *

About 70 civic, industrial and business leaders from Lansing, Charlotte, Grand Ledge and Eaton Rapids planned to observe the troops of the headquarters and headquarters Co., 46th Division; the 119th Field Artillery Battalion; the 746th Ordnance Battalion; the Guard's state detachment and the newly organized 46th Replacement Co.

A large Detroit delegation headed by Mayor Albert E. Cobo and members of the common council scheduled a tour of the camp hospital operated by the 117th Medical Battalion.

Most guardsmen took up weapons firing at the opening day of the two-week training period yesterday, but the school bell rang for nearly 1,500 others. Six schools were organized by major units of the "iron fist" division to give basic training to men who have enlisted in the guard since July 1.

Refresher courses were held for chaplains, mess officers, intelligence personnel and unit chemical-biological-radiological officers.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MOUSCheg Hermoyian who passed away 2 years ago today.
Come is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach
Sadly missed by wife and children.

Television and Radio Steer Clear of Political Humor

Wilson Quotes Quips of Adlai Stevenson

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO—Adlai Stevenson refuses to become stuffed-shirty.

His humor has become more subtle in four years, but he hasn't quit making with the quips. He turns most of them on himself—as his staff here at the Conrad Hilton campaign headquarters will point out, at the same time hoping that nobody will think it's unstatesmanlike to tell jokes.

Arriving in Florida during the primaries, tired from much traveling, he was told he should come out against the Mediterranean fruit fly which was attacking orange trees.

"Then there's a disease that's worse," spoke up another Floridian. "It attacks trees at the roots. It's called 'spreading decline.'"

★ ★ ★

"Say no more about it," replied Stevenson. "I've got a bad case of it myself."

His favorite farm story is about the city motorist who ran over a pig, killing it. Its owner was about to attack the motorist, who said, "Don't worry, I'll replace it."

"You can't—you're not fat enough!" growled the farmer.

Another farmer was desolate because a flood had killed all his livestock. "How about Bill Smith's hogs?" . . . "All lost, too" . . . "How about Fred Jones' hogs? . . . "All drowned, too" . . . The farmer grinned broadly and chuckled, "'Tain't as bad as I thought."

One of Stevenson's greatest performances in professional company was at a Friars testimonial for Jack Benny around 1951. He followed Fred Allen, who gave perhaps the funniest speech of his life.

In this very tough spot, Stevenson said that he and Fred had been dissatisfied with their speeches so they'd swapped.

★ ★ ★

"Fred gave my speech, which you've just heard. The one Fred wrote wasn't much so I won't bother delivering it."

That was all, but it won him the respect of the pros.

His latest is about a little old woman who said she would vote for him because his grandfather gave her a doll when she was a little girl.

"That's very nice," Stevenson purportedly said, "but isn't there any other reason you're going to vote for me?"

"Well," replied the little old woman, "I can't think of any."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra'll take his three children to Atlantic City to sop up some sun . . . Sophie Tucker'll play Stockholm . . .

Lawrence Tibbett's been on the wagon for weeks . . . Irving Hoffman the Bwayite's studying Italian at Berlitz . . . After making a fortune out of mispronunciation, Denise Darcel's seriously studying English!

John Ireland and Joanne Dru are working out a property settlement . . . Movie star Sal Mineo busted his nose on a film set . . . Peter Lawford may join Judy Garland's Palace act . . . Ed Hand, now in Europe, was surprised by tennis star Gussie Moran's sudden marriage; he'd planned a big Harwyn party for her on his return . . . The Edinburgh film festival will be typically Scotch—no prizes . . . Ginger Stein, a former Nat'l College Beauty Queen, is a hostess at Grossinger's.

GINGER

The Wally Cox baby is due in November . . .

Frank Parker's gradually easing most of the Godfrey gags from his cafe routine; says they aren't important to the act . . . Sylvia Syms, who got a whopping check for her record of "I Could Have Danced All Night," says that all she has left (after paying commissions) is "enough to pay cab fare to make another record."

Mark Leddy, talent agent for the Ed Sullivan TV'er, used to book the team of Montrose and Allen—Steve Allen's parents . . . Fred MacMurray's daughter, 16, is working as a waitress in an L. A. restaurant this summer.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Sign on a front lawn: "Anyone is welcome to use my lawn mower—provided he doesn't take it out of my yard."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Money isn't everything," says Rube Rustic. "In fact, when I reached for my wallet the other day, it wasn't anything."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Allan Drake claims his neighbor is sneaky: "He drives his Cadillac with the windows closed in the hottest weather, so we'll think it's air conditioned." That's earl, brother.

Quits $$$ Shows

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Plays the News Hen

NEW YORK (AP)—Mercedes McCambridge has been signed to portray a news correspondent in "Wire Service," the new film series that starts on ABC-TV Oct. 4 from 9 to 10 p.m. EDT.

Virgin Peak Conquered

LIMA, Peru (AP)—A French expedition led by Lionel Terra reports it has scaled 20,013-foot Mt. Chacraraju, a previously unclimbed peak in the Peruvian Andes.

Requirements to become citizens of the U.S. are waived in the cases of certain veterans of the U.S. armed forces.

Indiana Editor Plans Celebration of 100th Birthday

ROCKVILLE, Ind. (AP) — There will be an open house Wednesday at the Hargrave home in this county seat of 2,700 amid the low hills and Sycamores of Western Indiana.

Friends and relatives are expected throughout the day for the 100th birthday of Arthur A. Hargrave, editor of the Rockville Republican the past 67 years.

The occasion was announced last Thursday in the weekly edition of the Republican. It amounted to a statement of hours when folks are invited to drop in and say hello to the slender man who writes the column called "Club Man's Talk."

It's chatty column of homey observations by a man who as a young Hoosier editor vowed he would use it to criticize "anyone he felt like criticizing."

But the daughter living with him, Mrs. Ethel Henderson, remarks that the column never became sharply critical, and the now mellowed editor with grey hair still thick and strong agrees with a bemused chuckle.

It was as a printers' apprentice of 14 that young Art Hargrave moved into the Republican shop across from the courthouse in 1870. He was born in nearby Portland Mills of Virginians who had come into Indiana after a brief stay in Ohio.

Country Needs Another Rogers

Reporters Now Treat Conventions With Great Solemnity

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) —The television and radio audience is seeing and hearing many things from the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. The scenes and words will continue next week at the Republic National Convention in San Francisco.

* * *

But one thing we have not seen or heard, and unquestionably shall not during these weeks, is a humorous interpretation of anything political. There's a church-like solemnity to the proceedings that cries out for the wry comments of the late great Will Rogers.

An era of American humor died with Rogers and neither television nor radio has revived it — or even tried. In fact, television and radio have gone to extraordinary pains to make sure that no fun is made of politics. Can anyone recall hearing a political joke on the big communications mediums? We have heard mild jokes concerning religion and numerous ways of life have been held up to satire, both sharp and flat.

* * *

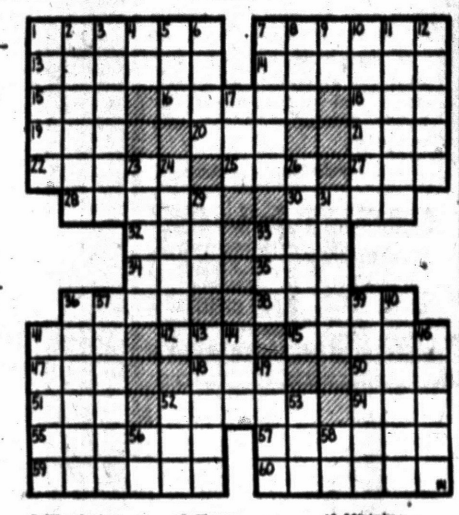

But the pointed and often hilarious remarks on politics of such men as Mark Twain, Josh Billings and Petroleum Nasby have passed from the American scene — at least as far as television and radio are concerned. Political jokes have become an under-the-counter trade. The faithful of all parties laugh privately at the many excellent political jokes that constantly circulate. But it's a rare comedian who repeats one on the air.

It's difficult to decide whether the big communications media have abetted this state of mind or merely reflect it.

* * *

Maybe it would be appropriate to lay one small wreath on the grave of American political humor, once one of the strongest voices in our country. And what will be the epitaph? Perhaps a line from James Russell Lowell, who wrote long ago: "There are some things so elastic that even the heavy roller of democracy cannot flatten them altogether down."

Spoon a layer of custard into a baked tart shell; add a peach half, cavity side down. Melt some currant jelly and pour it over the peach to form a pretty glaze.

Bob Considine Says:

Handbooks Offer Wealth of Political Trivia

CHICAGO (INS) — Any reporter who goofs up on his facts at the Chicago or San Francisco conventions just hasn't taken the trouble to lift one of the manuals and handbooks prepared in advance by the wire services, a few newspapers and the networks.

Months in preparation, these documents bear the hallmark of U.S. journalism, accurate reporting.

One learns from the "1956 National Convention Handbook" compiled by Bill Theis of International News Service, such things as:

The word "caucus" is Indian for elder or leader . . . the device we call the convention, unknown in the earliest days of American politics, was contrived by the Anti-Mason Party in 1831.

Andrew Jackson whipped the first Democratic National Convention into being in 1832 to drum up interest in Martin Van Buren as his running mate . . . the Republican Party was born in Pittsburgh Feb. 22, 1856 . . .

John Tyler cried himself into the presidency. Seems that he was so riled at the 1840 Whig convention for nominating William Henry Harrison over Henry Clay that he burst into tears.

The convention promptly chose him as its vice presidential nominee. Harrison caught pneumonia at his inauguration and died a month later, making Tyler President.

103 BALLOTS IN '24

John W. Davis was nominated on the 103rd ballot at old Madison Square Garden in New York in 1924 . . . A permanent chairman is assisted by a parliamentarian, a reading clerk and a sergeant-at-arms . . .

* * *

GOP National Chairman Len Hall was a sheriff before he became a surrogate judge, and he went to Georgetown . . .

Adlai Stevenson was managing editor of the Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph . . . President Eisenhower won by 6,616,233 votes, carried 39 states, received 442 electoral votes to Stevenson's 89 . . . and so forth.

NBC's convention handbook reports:

San Francisco's Cow Palace was named in derision. "While people are being evicted from their homes, a palace for cows is being built in Visitacion Valley," a San Francisco newspaper complained during its construction. The fellow who wrote the headline shortened it to "cow palace." . . .

Henry Clay ran for the nomination until he was 71. He couldn't even carry Kentucky by then . . . Millard Fillmore and Andrew Donelson comprised the "Know Nothing" party's ticket . . .

If Harriman and Symington get it here, it won't be history-making. The Democrats nominated New York Gov. Horatio Seymour and Gen. Francis P. Blair of Missouri . . .

Andrew Jackson, on leaving office, said he had only two regrets. One was that he had not shot Clay, and the other that he did not hang Calhoun . . .

PROMISE NOTHING

Nicholas Biddle of the United States Bank advised William Henry Harrison "to say not one single word about his principles or his creed—let him say nothing—promise nothing. Let no committee, no convention, no town meeting ever extract from him a single word about what he thinks now and will do hereafter. Let the use of pen and ink be wholly forbidden."

* * *

Songs were lustier in the old days of politicking. One that helped drive Andrew Johnson out of office went, "Drive out old Andy, his treachery and sin, break all his bottles of brandy and gin. Put in his place our young bright rising star, the wise little general who smokes his cigar."

It doesn't seem likely that there can ever again be a campaign that will approach the rancid bitterness of the 1884 campaign.

The Republican, James G. Blaine, was assailed with a chant that went, "Blaine! Blaine! James G. Blaine! The Continental Liar from the state of Maine!"

Cleveland, charged with having an illegitimate child, heard everywhere he went, "Ma! Ma! Where's my pa? He's gone to the White House—ha! ha! ha!"

Laud Ragweed Foe

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A one-man army against ragweed got official commendation for his work. Nine-year-old Ted Grimes read that the city would be unable to finance its usual ragweed destruction program, so he began a campaign of cutting the weeds in vacant property near his home. W. L. Ettesvolt, city public health engineer, wrote a letter of thanks to Ted and urged others to follow his example to slow the spread of hayfever.

It is the belief of most fishermen and scientists that the most common of all fish are herrings.

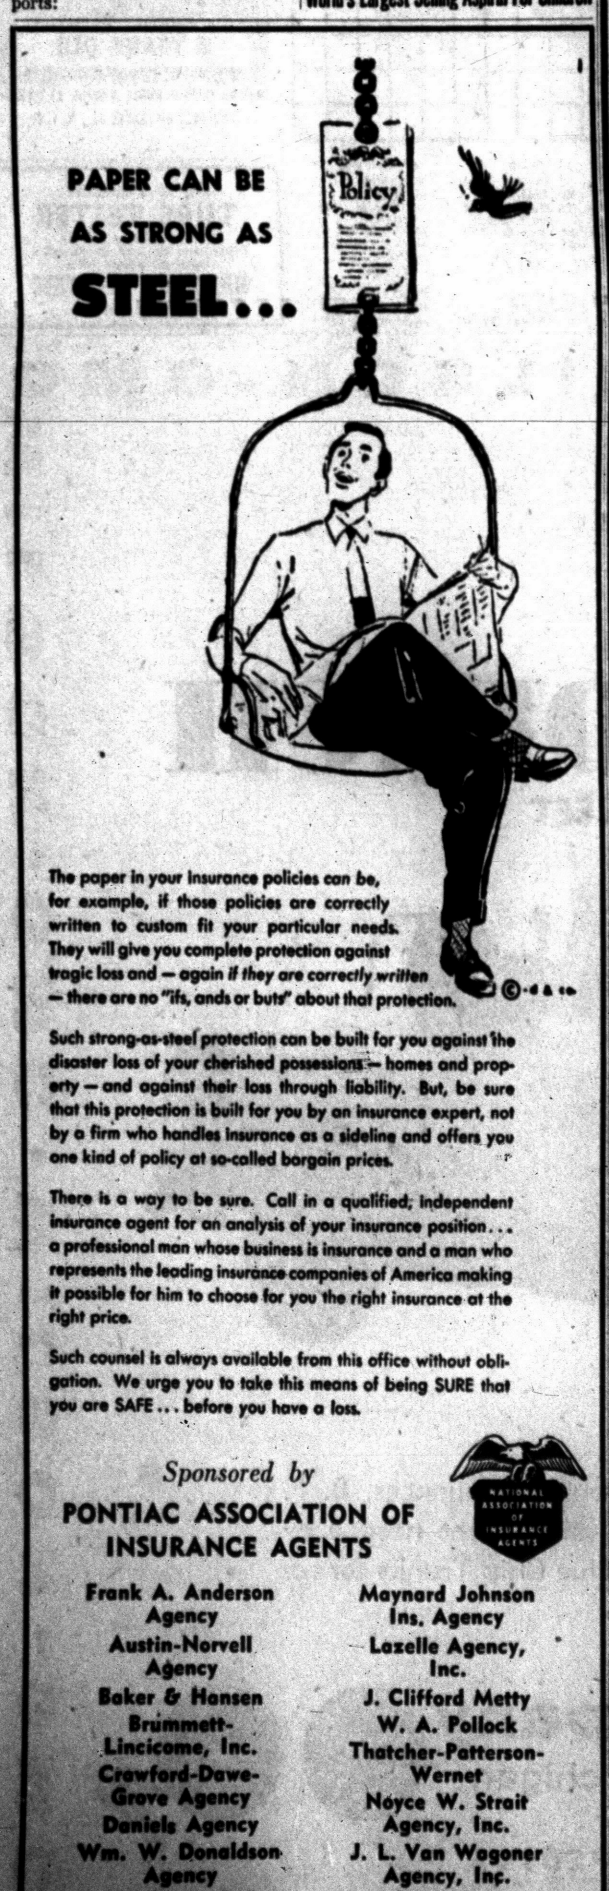

Bobcat Hunt Set

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A December bobcat hunt will be sponsored by the Cheboygan County Chamber of Commerce. A property owner in the Black River area will furnish the dogs. Bobcats are numerous in the area.

The paper in your insurance policies can be, for example, if those policies are correctly written to custom fit your particular needs. They will give you complete protection against tragic loss and — again if they are correctly written — there are no "ifs, ands or buts" about that protection.

Such strong-as-steel protection can be built for you against the disaster loss of your cherished possessions — homes and property — and against their loss through liability. But, be sure that this protection is built for you by an insurance expert, not by a firm who handles insurance as a sideline and offers you one kind of policy at so-called bargain prices.

There is a way to be sure. Call in a qualified, independent insurance agent for an analysis of your insurance position . . . a professional man whose business is insurance and a man who represents the leading insurance companies of America making it possible for him to choose for you the right insurance at the right price.

Such counsel is always available from this office without obligation. We urge you to take this means of being SURE that you are SAFE . . . before you have a loss.
