

Carpenters Strike Area Construction Jobs

Many Projects Eventually May Be Held Up

Union Leaves Work in Dispute Over Fund for Health Insurance

Construction projects throughout Oakland County and five other southeast Michigan counties were hampered today as 16,000 carpenters in the Metropolitan Detroit area went on strike.

Lucian M. Weir, secretary of the Carpenters District Council in Detroit, estimated that at least 5,000 carpenters had been working on projects in Oakland County alone.

Facing a slowdown were building projects, at Oakland University, the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, the expansion of Hudsons at the Pontiac Mall, and all residential development.

Members of the carpenters union stayed off the job in a dispute over a workers' health insurance fund financed by contractor-employers.

The carpenters withdrew from the plan in an effort to establish their own program.

FUND ADDITION

To do this the carpenters are demanding that contractors contribute 12 per cent of a worker's hourly pay to the fund, or 40 1/2 cents over the 15 cents now provided by the employers.

The strike does not immediately halt construction projects since other craft trades will continue to work until they catch up to the work done by the carpenters.

Weir said that in some projects this may be as long as four weeks. In others, construction could end in less than two weeks.

"We have no intention of picketing or interfering with the other trades," said Weir, "unless it comes to the point where they begin to do our work. Then we'll have to protect ourselves."

Weir said four contractor groups have already refused to allow the carpenters to substitute their plan for the existing fund, while four others have refused to meet.

"We'll conduct this strike until they're ready to meet," said Weir.

He said the carpenters can do better with their own insurance program.

"We're getting as much benefit from the fund as anyone else, but we're not getting enough," Weir said.

Unions Shun LBJ Plea at 2 GE Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least 14,000 union employees of General Electric Corp. ignored President Johnson's contention that a strike would damage the Viet Nam war effort and walked off the job early today at two GE plants.

The remaining 106,000 union employees of the huge defense supplier apparently were honoring Johnson's plea for a two-week reprieve from a nationwide walkout scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today, when their contracts expire.

About 12,000 workers walked off the job at GE's Schenectady, N.Y., plant and another 1,000 workers struck the firm's Cartholoy Products Division at Warren, Mich.

Three Cabinet members, including Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, are joining negotiations that shift today to Washington after stalemating yesterday in New York.

A nationwide strike had appeared imminent when the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers rejected the key defense supplier's latest offer yesterday.

FOLLOW LEADER

Ten other unions representing 40,000 GE employees had been expected to follow the lead of the 80,000 IUE workers.

But Johnson asked the company and unions to continue plant operations.

The Cartholoy plant, sole producer of manmade diamonds in the United States and a maker of tungsten carbide cutting tools, was struck by members of the United Auto Workers Local 771 whose contract expired at the same time as IUE's. The plant employs 2,000 workers.

Showers Predicted for Later in the Day

This morning's clear October skies may change to showers by the afternoon or evening.

The weatherman has predicted that although today will be warmer with highs in the 70s, the Indian Summer type of day will change to showers later on.

Tomorrow should turn cool again with high temperatures in the 60s.

Viet Shipping Tie-Up Snags U.S. Supplies

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A shipping backlog, cut to near zero only a few months ago, has again become so serious that more than 60 freighters are waiting to be unloaded at this key port, U.S. officials and shipping sources said today.

These experts blamed the situation largely on feuding between the Army, the Agency for International Development and mismanagement.

The situation can be cured only by firm action at a high level in Washington to make the Army and AID work together, said the sources, who asked to remain anonymous.

The shipping experts urged, among other things, that U.S. contractors with proven performance in the field be given the job of supervising the unloading of vessels bearing war goods and aid material.

Additional port facilities are being built along the river near Saigon, but the new berths may not be ready for months.

Other U.S. authorities acknowledge a bottleneck but attribute it chiefly to the South Vietnamese government's drastic economic reforms. They say this resulted in jammed warehouses.

The government and shipping sources said there was practically no backlog of ships in June.

Now, they said, there are about 60 freighters moored off Vung Tau, near the mouth of the Saigon River, and another dozen anchored and waiting in the river near Saigon. Other ships are being held as far away as Manila and Yokohama.

They estimated the average waiting period at about 30 days.

While waiting, crews of the merchant ships draw double pay, nearly $800 a month for an average seaman. But one U.S. government maritime official said it has become difficult to recruit enough men for ships bound for Viet Nam.

Inez Brushes Florida, Roars Into Bahamas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Inez, a brawling killer of the tropics, brushed harmlessly past the southeast Florida coast today and roared on with growing new fury into the resort islands of the British Bahamas.

Gale warnings came down in Miami as Inez roared past to eastward, flicking the city with gusty winds and squalls, but a tornado snaking out of the storm's leading edge brought death to the Bahamas.

The twister lashed a group of shacks occupied by field hands outside the Bahamian capital of Nassau, killing a 16-months old child. Three other persons are missing.

Inez was 80 miles west of Nassau, but water already has risen two feet deep in some streets and flattened palm trees blocked roads. A gust of 100 miles an hour battered the airport area.

The 2.5 million people of the southeast Florida coast from Palm Beach to Miami spent an uneasy Sunday as Inez sent occasional squalls whistling into the area; whipping the palm fronds.

But as her winds built back up toward 100 miles an hour after a weakening battle with the mountains of Cuba, Inez veered slightly to the east on a new track that appeared to take the lower Florida coast out of danger.

WINDS HIT MIAMI

Gusts up to 50 miles an hour blasted into Miami, but in a city where the building code requires structures that will stand up to 125-mile-an-hour winds, it was no worse than a summer thunderstorm out of the Everglades.

Ford Battery Could Return Electric Auto

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported today it has achieved a major breakthrough by developing a new type battery which could pave the way for return of the electric-powered auto to U.S. highways.

Michael Ference Jr., Ford vice president for scientific research, said the new battery could store up to 15 times as much energy as present lead-acid storage batteries.

The firm disclosed Sept 15 that it was working on the electric car project.

Ference said in a prepared statement that Ford Motor Co. and Ford of England have joined forces to build two prototype models of the proposed electric car.

The two companies described the new product, the first experimental model of which is being built in England now, as "a low-cost, subcompact limited performance 'city car' to carry two adults and two passengers."

Traffic Toll 24 Over Weekend

State Deaths Highest Since Labor Day

By the Associated Press
Twenty-four persons died in accidents on Michigan highways during the weekend, the highest death toll for the period since the Labor Day weekend when 35 were killed.

In the worst mishaps, three 18-year-old youths were killed Saturday in a crash in Bay County and three New York State men aged 19 and 20 died when their car hit a tree Saturday in Kalamazoo County.

The victims:
Linda Lou Ahles, 19, of Blissfield, when her car ran off a road yesterday in Lenawee County.

Mae Shearer, 70, of Detroit, when the vehicle in which she was riding ran off a Detroit street yesterday and hit a tree.

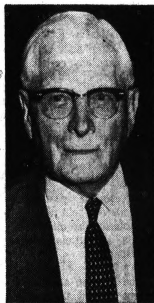

Darlene S. Kraus of Mount Clemens, who was fatally injured when her car was hit broadside by a vehicle at a Roseville intersection yesterday. Police said the other driver fled the scene of the accident.

THROWN FROM VEHICLE

Doris A. Herman, 59, of Flint, when thrown from a vehicle that ran off a road in Gladwin County Saturday.

Robert Tracy Faw, 18, of Bancroft, when his car went out of control on a road in Shiawassee County Saturday and overturned.

HARRY O. WHITFIELD

Long Illness Claims Noted City Resident

Harry O. Whitfield, 96-year-old patriarch of a leading Pontiac family, died Saturday after a long illness.

Service will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Danelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial following in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Surviving are two sons, Mac T. and Stuart E., and a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Golden, all of Pontiac; 11 grandchildren; and 23 great-grandchildren.

Whitfield, 22 Waldo, operated a wholesale grocery business for more than two decades before his retirement in 1941. Born in Waterford Township, Whitfield was the son of Jane Windate and Thomas Whitfield, members of pioneer Oakland County families.

HAS OWN FIRM

In 1893, he began working for a drug-grocery business and, three years later, established his own firm.

From 1917 to 1919, he was vice president of the Oakland County Savings Bank.

Whitfield organized the wholesale grocery firm of Whitfield, Walter and Marcotte in 1919. The last of the three names soon was replaced by Dawson.

The nonagenarian was the last surviving charter member of the Pontiac Rotary Club.

CHARTER MEMBER
He also was a charter member of the Wednesday Dancing Club, a 22-year member of the Knights of Pythias, a member of the Indian Club, and a life member of the Pioneer Society — now the Oakland County Historical Society.

Contributions may be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Inc.

U.S. Copter Units Catch Reds, Kill 117

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Helicopter-hopping U.S. troops pounded on a fleeing Communist force today and reported killing 117 more of the enemy in mountains near South Viet Nam's central coast.

The added dead raised to 227 the two-day toll taken by units of the 1st Air Cavalry, Alamo Division which fought a furious battle Sunday with the Communists and reported 110 killed.

Reports from the battle area, 30 miles north of the coastal city of Qui Nhon said the number of Communist dead was still climbing.

MIXED FORCE
The Communist unit was a mixed force of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong.

Official U.S. sources said casualties among the chopper-lifted cavalrymen were light.

"They've really got them on the run," said a spokesman.

The battle began after the enemy shot down three U.S. helicopters, prompting the cavalrymen to charge the force of more than 300 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops. The helicopters were recovered.

The new fighting along the coastal coast shifted attention away from the prolonged fight by the U.S. Marines just south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

U.S. B52 bombers struck a little below the buffer zone today for the fourth straight day of raids inside or close to the zone.

The bombers rained explosives on North Vietnamese troop concentrations and infiltration routes 20 miles west of the Marines' forward headquarters at Dong Ha.

NEW ACTION
The Marines reported one new small action Sunday. A unit of the 9th Leatherneck Regiment spotted 20 North Vietnamese near the "Rockpile" and reported killing six of them with mortar fire and air strikes.

In the two months of fighting against the rebuilt 324th North Vietnamese division below the demilitarized zone, the Marines have reported killing 955 North Vietnamese and capturing four and seizing 17 weapons. But some Leatherneck units have been hard hit.

U.S. planes flew 113 bombing missions against North Viet Nam Sunday, and pilots claimed damage or destruction of 46 bridges, 13 trucks, and 10 buildings, and numerous hits on oil depots.

Navy planes from the aircraft carrier Oriskany returned for a second day to the important Phu Ly Island and transshipment point 35 miles south of Hanoi.

Two waves of A4 Skyhawks hit the complex in a campaign to cut movement of supplies and men. Previous such raids had hit hard at the Viet Binh and Thanh Hoa military complexes, also south of Hanoi along the main rail line leading to South Viet Nam.

3 Bandits Get $400 at Service Station
A Pontiac service station employee was robbed last night of $400 by three men who came into the station just before 9 p.m., Pontiac police were told.

Charles Potvin, 28, an attendant at the Progressive Oil Co., 477 S. Saginaw said one of the men held in his pocket what "appeared to be a gun."

Potvin said he was forced to turn over the money after the three had first asked for one dollar's worth of gas. The trio fled after taking the money, Potvin said.

Ex-AF Chief LeMay Attacks U.S. Policy on Viet Fighting
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Air Force Chief of Staff Curtis E. LeMay today denounced U.S. Viet Nam strategy as the "ultimate in military blindness" and called for stepped-up bombing of the North.

"The only way to win a war is to escalate it one way or another above what the enemy can take," the retired general said in a copyright article for U.S. News & World Report.

As to the "outside risk" that escalation would bring Communist China into the war, LeMay declared that South Korea and Nationalist China with U.S. air, naval and logistical support — "should provide more than enough to bring an unstable Red China to her knees."

LeMay, who retired in February, 1965, with four stars and a glowing tribute from President Johnson, has long argued that the United States is doing "too little too late" with airpower in the Viet Nam war.

But his criticism today was among some of his harshest sounded by military men who have openly attacked the Johnson administration's strategy.

MIRRED DOWN
Another former Air Force chief of staff, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, said in a book published last week that while the Johnson administration was "bolder" in Viet Nam than the Kennedy administration, it "continues to operate under self-imposed restrictions and seems to be getting mired down in a man-to-man war of attrition on the Asian land mass."

LeMay said, "the popular philosophy that we can, by cautious and timid military tactics, keep the war from escalating into a larger conflict is the ultimate in military blindness... if we can't win without unacceptable risk, we have no business fighting in the first place."

Two Detroit men are held in the Oakland County Jail in bond of $30,000 each following their arraignment on charges of larceny by impersonation.

Felix Wallis, 24, a construction worker and William C. Yorke, 35, a self-employed interior decorator, are accused by Pontiac police of stealing a television set and rings valued at $1,500 from a city store.

Detective Dallas J. Fleisher said the pair was apprehended in Port Huron and then linked to the Pontiac larceny when identified by three employees of WKC, Inc., 108 N. Saginaw.

Fleisher said Walls and Yorke were originally sought after a Pontiac man testified he had been induced by the pair to purchase the goods on credit in return for promised payment in cash.

The victim told police he bought the goods on a time payment plan, then turned them over to Yorke and Walls.

Police said, however, the two men paid their victim only $900 of the sum before disappearing with the television set and rings.

A young plant worker is credited with a key role in the apprehension Saturday of a man Pontiac police believe to be a key figure in a "pigeon drop" operation.

Facing arraignment today on a charge of larceny by trick is Homer Rogers, 38, of Detroit.

Rogers was arrested by Patrolmen R. Kenneth Davidson and William D. Bookie on a downtown street about noon Saturday. He is accused of trying to swindle a victim by making him believe money had been tied into a handkerchief.

The two patrolmen had been alerted by James W. McMorris, 25, a Fisher Body Plant employee.

McMorris said he was approached on South Saginaw Street shortly before noon Sat-

Hunter Traffic Report Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission tonight is scheduled to receive a report from its traffic engineering consultants on the use of Hunter as the east leg of the proposed ring road and on one-way versus two-way traffic on the road.

The commission has received numerous letters from residents and merchants objecting to the use of Hunter as the east leg.

They all support the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce contention that Hunter as the east leg and a one-way traffic flow would "irreparably harm the business district and not accomplish the intended objectives."

They explain that at the time it was decided to use Hunter as the east leg of the ring, the whole project was in the thinking stage and that "it may now be well to make an in-depth study of the east leg, setting forth the pros and cons of the various proposals."

A few openings are still available for the Birmingham Recreation Department's Saturday swim class which began Saturday.

Registrations are being taken at the Recreation Department office, 151 Martin, through Wednesday.

Suspect Flees Police Station After Arrest
Pontiac police early today apprehended two men after a break-in at a city market, but one of the suspects broke from custody at the police station and is still sought.

At large is Larry E. Stephens, 23, who gave his address as 109 Henry Clay. Held at the Oakland County Jail and facing arraignment is Clarence E. Douglas, 23, of 449 S. Edith.

The two were arrested shortly after 4 a.m. when police were tipped to a burglary in progress at People's Market, 100 Bagley.

Stephens was apprehended by Patrolman Thomas H. Crandall not far from the market on the basis of a description given police by a witness.

Douglas was arrested by Patrolmen Norman R. Kilmer and Richard W. Blower, who said they found bottles of liquor reported stolen from the market in the suspect's car.

DETENTION ROOM
Police said Stephens escaped from a detention room at the police station where he had been locked following his arrest.

Police believe the prisoner successfully tripped the bolt lock and walked out of the station through a rear door.

3 Firemen Injured Fighting Blaze in West Bloomfield
Three Walled Lake firemen were injured last night while fighting a fire at a vacant house at 3340 Fourteen Mile near Farmington Road in West Bloomfield Township.

Fire Chief Beld Stoddard sprained his arm and ankle, Delbert Stanfield received a slight sprain of his hand and Richard Tremper broke an arm.

Chief Stoddard and Stanfield were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. Tremper is due to be released today.

Arson is suspected in the fire which broke out about 11:26 p.m. West Bloomfield Fire Department was assisted by Walled Lake, Farmington Township, Franklin and Union Lake. They fought the fire for more than two hours.

The two patrolmen had been alerted by James W. McMorris, 25, a Fisher Body Plant employee.

McMorris said he was approached on South Saginaw Street shortly before noon Saturday by a "well-dressed" man who flashed a large roll of bills and promised McMorris $25 for a ride to a city address.

GOT IN CAR
Rogers then walked up, joined in the conversation, McMorris said, and the three men got into McMorris' car.

The intended victim said at that point he was offered a large sum of money if he would put up cash of his own as "security."

McMorris said he then ordered the men from his car and flagged down Davidson and Bookie in a patrol car nearby.

Minutes later Rogers was spotted and arrested not far from where McMorris had been approached.

The second suspect is still being sought.

Traffic consultants Reid and Cool have recommended in their report that an in-depth study be made of the various proposals for the east leg, that the ring road operate two-way during leave Maple, intersections will be less congested and safer and crossing the ring road will be easier for pedestrians and motorists.

They point out that they "very strongly" favor one-way traffic for the westerly three legs of the road because it will induce significant traffic volumes to be less congested and safer and crossing the ring road will be easier for pedestrians and motorists.

A few openings are still available for the Birmingham Recreation Department's Saturday swim class which began Saturday.

Registrations are being taken at the Recreation Department office, 151 Martin, through Wednesday.

Griffin Tops Soapy in the Ice Cream Poll

By the Associated Press
G. Memmen Williams got in a few last licks in the Ice Cream Poll, but he didn't top Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., his opponent for fall election to the U. S. Senate.

Democratic former Gov. Williams and Griffin visited the Ice Cream Poll booth at the University of Detroit Fall Carnival over the weekend.

Patrons of the booth sponsored by Delta Zeta sorority were asked to indicate their favorite senatorial candidate by buying a "Soapy Special" or "Jumbo Bob" ice cream sundae.

The final score: Griffin, 59 per cent; Williams 37 per cent; undecided, 4 per cent. Those undecided bought a "neutral" sundae.

Griffin, who visited the carnival first, said he wanted "to get there early to cast my vote" in the best American tradition. Williams came later and said, "I had two, but they told me I was trailing a bit behind and I didn't think I could make up the difference all by myself."

The Soapy Special was chocolate ice cream, marshmallow sauce, whipped cream and a cherry. The Jumbo Bob was vanilla ice cream and fruit-tutti. Some observers said all the poll indicated was "more people like little fruit-tutti."

Meanwhile, Gov. George Romney had not-so-sweet words for national and state financial structures in an interview with Detroit Free Press editors and newsmen.

"Unless there is some change in financing policy, unless there is national fiscal reform... then I see no alternative but tax reform," he said.

Romney said that tax reform meant eliminating the "inequity of our present tax structure" and the need for a state income tax.

"We are going to take care of those inadequacies in our tax structure to meet future revenue requirements. Then you have to have a large new revenue source and I don't know of other than the income tax," he said.

Hundreds of Nigerians Are Reported Massacred

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Hundreds of Ibo tribesmen from Nigeria's eastern region have been reported massacred in northern Nigeria over the weekend by hostile Hausa tribesmen native to the north.

Reports reaching Lagos indicated more than 300 Ibos were slain in Kano by northern soldiers, and civilians Saturday night. About 100 of them were killed as they tried to board an airplane to flee the city.

Army troops were moved into Kano from the northern capital, Kaduna, to stop the massacre. The city was put under a dusk to dawn curfew.

The outbreak at Kano was one of several attacks against the Ibos in the past week. Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, governor of the eastern region, has estimated 3,000 Ibos have been slain.

AIRPORT IS SCENE

Reports to Lagos indicated the fighting began at Kano International Airport when northern soldiers apparently fired on a group of Ibo refugees waiting to board a plane for Lagos.

Civilians joined the soldiers and the crowd swept through nearby Sabon Gari, a section that formerly housed thousands of easterners. They also attacked Ibos waiting at the railroad station.

The deep-seated hostility between the Ibos and Hausas stems from both economic and

Proposed Limits on Crime News Hit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three leading press spokesmen have roundly criticized proposals by an American Bar Association study group that limits be put on what police and lawyers may say publicly about pending criminal cases.

The report, prepared by 10 prominent judges and lawyers, "represents a serious, if unintentional assault on freedom of the press, and also the constitutional guarantee of free speech," said Robert C. Notson and J. Edward Murray of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Notson, Portland, Ore., executive editor of the Oregonian, is president of the society. Murray, Phoenix, Ariz., managing editor of the Arizona Republic, is chairman of the society's Freedom of Information and Bar-Press Committee.

Objections also were raised by D. Tennant Bryan, chairman of the Committee on Free Press and Fair Trial of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

"An over-zealous concern for the rights of defendants in criminal cases ought not to be allowed to deprive the public of truthful information which the public needs pertaining to crimes and criminals in our society in the light of growing problems of law enforcement at the local, state and national level," Bryan said.

Nelson and Murray joined in a statement issued in Portland, Bryan, publisher of the Richmond (Va.) Times Dispatch and News-Leader, issued his statement in Richmond.

The ABA study group described its recommendations, which followed a 20-month study, as tentative and designed "for consideration and discussion."

A final report will be submitted to the ABA's Special Committee on Minimum Standards for Criminal Justice for Presentation to the ABA Board of Governors and House of Delegates.

The study group, headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, said the canons of legal ethics should be revised to limit what prosecutors and defense lawyers may say publicly about a suspect, witnesses and evidence from the time of arrest until completion of trial.

RULES RECOMMENDED

Similarly, it recommended that all criminal courts adopt rules to limit release of information by police and law enforcement agencies.

The study group recommended that violators be made subject to contempt of court procedures and, in the case of lawyers, "in more serious cases," to disbarment.

On the whole, the judges and lawyers rejected restricting crime news coverage by new laws or through expanded use of the courts' contempt powers.

But they said that in rare instances of deliberately trying to affect the outcome of a trial in progress, "limited use" of contempt powers should be directed against "a person responsible for dissemination of potentially prejudicial material."

However, the panel said in a preamble to its 226-page report, "We submit that the primary burden for ensuring fair trial agencies which serve and rests on the legal branch and minister to it."

At the same time the study group called on the news media to voluntarily exercise restraint in the reporting of criminal matters.

The reports said the emergency program is separate from the $400-million arms agreement signed by Saudi Arabia, Britain and the United States last year.

'Must Drop Goldwater Line'

Javits: GOP Can Beat Johnson

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., said Sunday he thought the Republicans had a chance of beating President Johnson in the 1968 election, but only if the party got rid of "the Goldwater line."

He said in a radio interview that "right now" the leading contender for the Republican presidential nomination appears much more suspicious if 1968 demonstrates that the overwhelming sentiment of the country is to back progressive Republicans rather than ultra-conservative Republicans," he said. Javits said "there are so many new personalities in the election of '68 right from Massachusetts to Oregon" that it is impossible to limit the field of possibilities.

Counterfeiters Have Busy Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Counterfeiters turned out record amounts of phony money last fiscal year and apparently are headed for even higher production marks.

Reporting this today, the Secret Service said in its annual report that it seized a record $9 million in counterfeit money during the fiscal year which ended last June 30. It said about 90 per cent of the bogus bills were caught before they got into circulation.

Wilson Security Is Tightened

BRIGHTON, England (UPI)—Police tightened security measures around Prime Minister Harold Wilson and other Labor party leaders today in the face of threatened new demonstrations by angry workers against the government's price-wage freeze.

Wilson, who came here this weekend for the opening of a week-long conference of the ruling Labor party and trade unions, was shouted down yesterday by demonstrators attacking his support of U.S. Viet Nam policy as he tried to read the Bible lesson at a Labor Party church service.

Police pulled 20 shouting demonstrators from the service and carted them off to a station house. Nine of them, including three girls, were charged with creating a demonstration in church.

Later police broke up more anti-Wilson and anti-Viet Nam demonstrations outside the prime minister's hotel and on Brighton's sea front.

This afternoon more than a thousand workers from Britain's auto industry, the hardest-hit by layoffs resulting from Wilson's economy freeze, planned to descend on Brighton by train to protest the economic policies that already have forced key factory shutdowns and thrown thousands out of jobs.

The prime minister was scheduled to deliver later today the main address to the 1,200 delegates attending the annual conference. The conference will debate economic policies Wednesday, foreign and defense policies Thursday and wind up Friday.

Although resolutions tabled by various rebel groups lambasted the government on subjects from Viet Nam to Rhodesian policy, the conference was dominated by the bitter controversy over the Wilson government's prices and incomes policy that has torn the party and the labor unions wide open.

The government last August, in a move to fight inflation and bolster the pound sterling, rammed through parliament a bill providing at least a six-month wage and price freeze.

The measure asked that the freeze be adhered to by labor and industry voluntarily, but empowered the government to make it mandatory through a special provision in the legislation — if the voluntary restraints failed.

PRICES CLIMB

Since then prices have continued to climb while wages remained frozen, though many militant unions protested and sought to defy the freeze.

Serious cracks opened up in the dike last week when a London court ruled that a company could not refuse to pay previously agreed on wage raises and when the Newspaper Proprietors' Association announced soon afterwards it would go ahead and pay a small cost of living bonus already pledged to 25,000 printers.

Petnaping Bill Benefits Both Sides

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — Medical research can "live with" the petnaping bill that finally became law after months of dispute between humane groups and scientists.

Though inspection and registration of research facilities were included in the final draft, the new law contains enough safeguards to protect medical experimentation, believes the National Society for Medical Research, which has represented scientific interests throughout the conflict.

Ostensibly intended as a curb on the theft of family pets and their use as laboratory animals, the legislation was aimed at a larger area—humane care of animals by dealers and laboratories alike.

This has been accomplished, says the NSMR, while preserving the integrity of medical research.

Instead of licensing laboratories, as humane groups wanted and medical interests feared, the law provides for a system of registration. It opens laboratories to inspection and sets down penalties for substandard animal care as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. But, most important to medical research, the licensing clause was struck and violation of standards does not mean withdrawal of Government money.

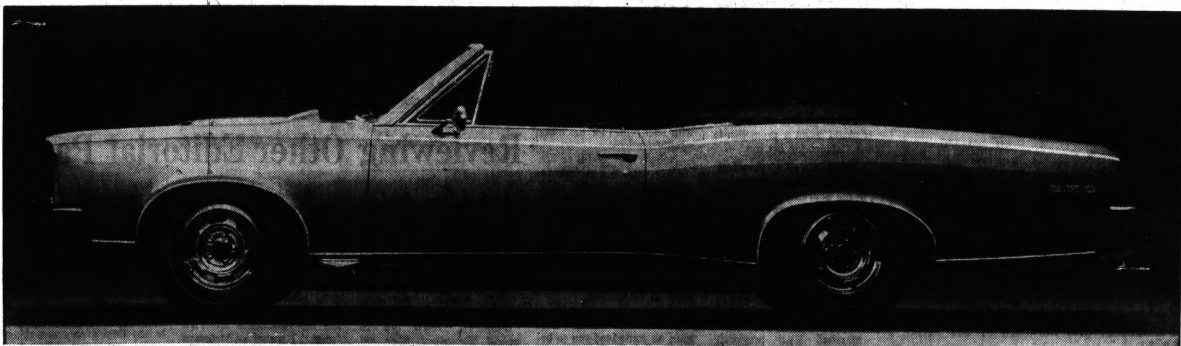

Medical research has blossomed so fast in the past decade that laboratory animal facilities have been somewhat short-changed, and most medical authorities believe a licensing provision would have crippled the nation's research effort.

And, of course, all Pontiacs boast the road-hugging security of Wide-Track ride and handling. But we need not describe it here. A few moments behind the wheel, with a typically Pontiac power plant under the hood, will tell you more than ten thousand choice four syllable words. You say we've said enough and you're already on your way to your Pontiac dealer's? Well hurry. So are a lot of other excited Wide-Track lovers.

It Seems to Me...

Taubman Plan Acceptance Will Eradicate Desolation

Pontiac's modernization moves forward.

Our City Commission voted to replace desolation in downtown Pontiac with a fine, modern setting. Six of the Commissioners deserve warm applause and praise. As Mayor TAYLOR explained, seven or eight good piecemeal plans had been offered, but the Taubman version encompassed an entire area.

The University of Detroit layout can still be utilized for areas aside from downtown.

The Tuesday evening audience was stacked with opposition, including a respectable and ever startling number of outsiders. Hence, the Commission deserves especial commendation. Those that rushed to microphones were militant foes of the Taubman plan. Their intercessions overlapped. In the meantime, those favoring the Taubman plan sat on their hands, blinked at the lights and looked around.

Commissioners commented on this regrettably. Communities aren't built, improved and bettered by silent acquiescence in the face of spirited opposition.

Futjher, I commend the Commission for preserving dignity and a gentlemanly bearing in the light of several unjustified interruptions from excited opponents.

Let's all applaud the statements of KENNETH MORRIS in regard to housing. This wasn't precisely the springboard designed to launch the move, for downtown Pontiac was the avowed object. However, the general idea should find widespread acceptance. He declares we need two basic things:

Many more houses
Hundreds of replacements

For one, I'm willing to accept the verdict 100%. I told him this several weeks ago when he came to discuss it at The Press. Further, we welcome the time, efforts and money which he promises from the unions. Absolutely no one has a bigger stake than union members.

This step requires the cooperation of every segment. It can't be done rapidly enough or well enough by a partisan group. There should be an immediate meeting, and The Press volunteers to play host at the first luncheon.

Let's unite.
Let's get under way.

Our 'Supreme' Court . . . .

In a fit of anger, a Brooklyn woman admitted she killed her four-year-old son, but was acquitted in court.

She "thanked" the judge.

And this is what he said: "Don't thank me. Thank the United States Supreme Court. You ought to go to jail, but there is 'insufficient evidence' because of a Supreme Court decision, so that's that."

The woman confessed the crime but there was no other evidence and that "great" tribunal in Washington has paved the way for this result—and more of it.

Where—where—where we headed?

Perhaps a case like this should be carried through, a verdict of "guilty" reached and the matter sent again to Washington in the hope that some of the quaint new "rules" can be reversed.

Crowns of Glory . . . .

Brunettes, arise and shine.

Our current Miss America is the ninth consecutive dark-haired girl to win the coveted title. The whole world recalls the relatively ancient adage proclaiming:

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." But then recall the subsequent corollary:

"But they marry brunettes."

Personally, I cast a loud and strident vote for the redheads. Remember the ancient sign on the rear of a truck:

"We stop for all railroad crossings, blondes and brunettes. And we back up half a mile for a redhead."

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Canada and the United States are reaping a harvest of discontented British doctors who disavow high taxes and low salaries . . . .

Overheard: "They're going to open some of the freeways so they can repair the detours." . . . .

Texas HUNT, reputedly one of the two wealthiest men in the world, carries his own lunch everyday . . . . . TAMMY GRIMES is the first of the new TV shows to feel the official axe. MILTON BERLE and JEAN ARTHUR are dangling and GARRY MOORE is losing ground.

Trusted scouts advise me Gail Griffin deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . Brooklyn has just killed two diamond back rattlers right around where people live. . . . . Fall sees an increase in that horrible postal blight—the junk mail. Does anyone open any? . . . . . George Jessel, top authority, says no speech should be less than 15 minutes or more than 30. Someone ought to ease the word to Dr. Ylvisaker.

Insider's Newsletter says 120,000 deer were slain on highways last year, a 33 per cent increase over the year before. Drivers are warned to blink lights repeatedly and sound the horn when one is sighted . . . .

JOE DON LOONEY is aptly named . . . . . Overheard: "An elephant is simply a mouse built to government specifications." . . . . . Five of the leading hitters in baseball average 34 points better in the day than they do at night . . . . . 'Go Away, Boy, You Bother Me!'

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ May Tap Son of Top Judge

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — President Johnson has under consideration the appointment of Ramsey Clark to be head of the Department of Justice.

At present the Texas lawyer, 38-year-old son of Justice Tom Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States, is serving as acting attorney general. This is logical because since 1965 he has been the No. 2 man in the department with the title of deputy attorney general.

He was chosen to take over the duties of Atty. Gen. Katzenbach because the latter has just been transferred to the post of undersecretary of state.

If Ramsey Clark is nominated for attorney general, however, it is to be expected that his father would retire from the Supreme Court.

Approximately 95 per cent of the cases that come before the high court are argued by Department of Justice lawyers under the direction of the attorney general.

It has been assumed that no member of the Supreme Court would wish to pass judgment on cases in which a blood relative had participated.

'CONFLICT OF INTEREST'

A "conflict of interest," as it is usually called, could cause Justice Clark, aged 37, to leave the bench, and it is surmised that he probably would be glad to do so, since it would mean a promotion to the Cabinet for his son.

What would President Johnson do about a vacancy in the Supreme Court in the immediate future?

There is considerable speculation that he might appoint Thurgood Marshall, who is at present solicitor general of the Department of Justice, a post to which he was appointed by President Johnson last year.

Marshall had previously served as a judge on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, to which he was named by President Kennedy in 1961.

NAACP COUNSEL

Prior to that time he was the special counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and argued the desegregation cases before the high court.

If Thurgood Marshall were nominated for the Supreme Court, he would be the first Negro ever to serve on the highest court of the land. A Negro has been nominated to the President's cabinet already, and there are Negro judges on the lower courts.

Whether Thurgood Marshall is the man best qualified to be appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States when the next vacancy occurs will be argued with considerable vehemence by many.

If a vacancy occurs on the high court, it is not expected until after the election, so it isn't likely that any development such as the choice of a Negro for the high court would happen during the congressional campaign.

TALK OF 'BACKLASH'

With all the talk of a "backlash" vote and the growing controversy over the interpretations of the Constitution being rendered by the high court, it seems improbable that an unnecessary issue at this time would be injected into the campaign.

It is natural, therefore, for such a nomination to be postponed for several weeks.

Bob Considine Says:

Critics of Johnson Role in Manila Talks Are Daft

NEW YORK—I can't understand the knocks on LBJ's trip to Manila for a halfway-up-the-summit meeting with leaders of South Viet Nam, the Philippines, Thailand, Australia and New Zealand.

We're the biggest Pacific power, have the most invested in the war going on in that part of the earth, and our chief executives have neglected personal contact with such allies for too many administrations.

Nobody who is still on his rocker expects a miracle to emerge from Manila. But to doubt the wisdom of the President's attendance there is daft.

The man is working for peace, traditionally a terminal reached by all kinds of meandering paths, none of them to be ignored.

We're not as alone in Viet Nam as some lead you to believe.

Aid, some of it admittedly tokenish, is being given to the U. S.-South Viet side by Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Nationalist China, Costa Rica, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, El Salvador, France (1), Germany, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, India, Iran, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, Korea, Laos, Luxembourg, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Pakistan, Philippines, Spain, Switzerland, Turkey, United Kingdom, Uruguay and Venezuela.

It takes many forms. Assistance is as bewilderingly varied as crack Australian, Korean and Philippine troops and Brazil's coffee shipments. France's 417 teachers and 100 million francs in low-interest credits and Israel's $5,000 worth of pharmaceutical products, Japan's $1.5 million worth of ambulances and Nationalist China's warehouses, transport vessels, half a million textbooks for elementary school children, and 100 tons of fertilizer.

Thailand, already risking its neck by providing airfields from which hosts of strikes at North Viet Nam are launched, has also come with flying instructors for South Viet Nam's transport pilots, cement, zinc roofing and tons of rice.

'Did Commissioners Study Revised Plan?'

About thirty members of our class attended the meetings on the Taubman proposal. We feel that the main issue should have been given priority and considered separately by the Commission. It appears that the commissioners had their minds already made up and were not open to any alternate plan.

We were reassured by the lively civil spirit displayed by the large number of citizens who actively participated in the meeting.

We wonder if the commissioners who voted "yes" had had a chance to study the hours-old revised Taubman contract! SENIOR GOVERNMENT CLASS

'Need to Investigate Food Prices on Trains'

I have thought for a long time that prices in the restaurant at Metropolitan Airport were too high. I would like to see prices of food on trains investigated.

We took a trip out west this summer. We were charged $2.75 in the dining car for two cans of beer and two cans of pop. The prices on the menu were 50 cents for beer and 35 cents for pop. When we ordered another round, my husband handed the porter a dollar less and he took it without a word. But it was almost impossible to get him to wait on us afterwards.

The porters' rudeness was discussed often on the trip among many of the passengers.

Air Commuter Service to Metro Praised

I can't say enough for the new air service that Standard Airways is providing between Pontiac and Detroit Metropolitan airport.

Recently, I was delayed on a flight to Metro from Boston, and, much to my surprise, found that the Standard plane had waited for me much past their scheduled takeoff for Pontiac. I surely did appreciate that.

Question and Answer

Can you tell me where I can take practical nurse training during the day? I'm 49.

LADY OF THE LAKE

REPLY

Pontiac Practical Nurse Center tells us you're within the age limit. Apply at Michigan Employment Security Commission, 242 Oakland Ave. If you pass first testing there, you'll be sent to the Center for more testing. If you pass, you'll be interviewed and your application sent for final approval to the Admittance Committee (made up of hospital, MESC, and Center representatives). Classes are in the Hubbard Building 8-4:30 the first 24 weeks; the last 24 weeks are spent in a hospital 7-3:30.

Father: "I'm sorry, son, but tomorrow I have to use the chauffeur and the Rolls Royce for business."

Father: "You'll get to school like every other kid in America gets to school—you'll take a cab!"

A Motor Speaks

Arizona State Highway Magazine

I am a motor vehicle and I resent some of the things people are saying about me. Take that headline in the paper which read "Automobiles Killed 46,000-Plus in 1965."

Then there's the legislator who is introducing a bill to outlaw me because of all the destruction I cause. You know what I'm going to do? Plead not guilty, that's what. And I'm asking you to be the judge. Here's my case.

I am the pride of my antecedeents because I'm so much safer than they were. I have the safest tires ever made, safety padding on my dashboard and power brakes as an added safety measure. I will respond to my accelerator to avoid danger, and I come equipped with safety belts.

I have directional signals to guide others. My windshield wipers are the best ever made and my headlights are the "most." I travel on highways that are the safest ever built.

Now take the fellow who controls me. He's an upstanding citizen, good to his family, polite, and gives me a bath as often as he takes one. He's one swell fellow—that is, until he gets behind my wheel. Just touching it suddenly transforms him into a number one heel.

He immediately begins to abuse my safety features by taking reckless chances and relying on my extra power to get him out of jams. He gets his biggest kick out of "beating" the other guy. It inflates his ego. I don't know why, really. He didn't create me, so why should he feel so cocky about my performance? But it delights him to prove and re-prove that he is heavy in the foot and light in the head.

So, on he goes—breaking the rules—speeding up to beat traffic lights, following too close and over-driving his headlights until some day my shiny fenders may be marred and twisted and my slick paint job stained with red. Will it be my fault? That's for you to judge. Before you do, I wish to say there's only one thing, wrong with automobiles. It's the people who drive them. The defense rests.

For '67, everything new that could happen ...happened!

CHEVROLET

With an Impala Sport Coupe you can get all of the comforts of home, maybe even more.

Chevrolet Impala:

Everything new in styling, driving pleasure, performance and road-feel

Everywhere you look Chevrolet has done something new for you this year. Styling. There's a new recessed grille flanked by new front fenders and a roof line that makes Impala look like it's moving even before you turn the key. Inside, new is everywhere. Like the GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column. An instrument panel you read at a glance. Even a warning light connected to Impala's dual master cylinder brake system that can include front disc brakes if you specify. Start the engine and listen (hmmmmmm). That's Chevrolet power talking to you. Order it all the way up to 385 Turbo-Jet V8 horsepower. As for new things to make Impala even better, you should see the list. Your Chevrolet dealer has it.

The Camaro Sport Coupe. If you think this one looks good, you should see the Rally Sport and the SS 350 versions!

Camaro:

Command Performance (you've been waiting for a Chevrolet like this)

You couldn't pick a more exciting travel companion than Camaro. It's Chevrolet's new long and low machine that comes in many versions. The Camaro Sport Coupe: adventuresome lines. A wide stance to get you through those corners standing tall. And twin Strato-bucket seats to make you wish the trip would never end. Another version is Camaro Rally Sport: headlights that hide away behind the black-grid grille, special exterior trim and identification. With Camaro SS 350 even more good things happen. Tires are red stripe. Hood is louver-styled and the nose sports bold color stripes. Power plant for Camaro SS 350 is the exclusive 295-hp V8, 350 cu. in. Camaro: Command Performance, 1967!

Move on out for a couple of miles and you'll know why the SS 396 is for the driving man.

Chevelle SS 396: Quick-Size for the driving man

Chevelle's impressive black grille and bulging scoop-styled hood are tip-offs that the standard equipment is anything but. A 325-hp Turbo-Jet 396 V8. A transmission with floor-mounted shift and synchronized all the way. Special suspension front and rear. Chevelle SS 396! Let the driving men step forward.

Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan—long on gas mileage.

Chevy II: The stylish economy car

Chevy II. Lot's new. New grille and front fender styling. New colors and interiors. Energy-absorbing instrument panel with a new thicker foam edge. Seven models to pick from. New and different, except for one thing. We haven't changed the economy.

Corvair Monza Sport Coupe—fun to drive.

Corvair: rear-engine road car

Slip into Corvair Monza's new slim-line bucket seats and prepare to get a whole new outlook on driving. Rear-engine traction. Four-wheel independent suspension. Loads of new safety features. Some car!

Dance Precedes Pontiac Symphony Season

At the Saturday dinner dance sponsored by the Women's Association to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Richard C. Poole, Ladysmith Drive, West Bloomfield Township, chats with (center) Mrs. Donald Dawson, Ottawa Drive, and Mrs. Felix Resnick of Huntington Woods, wife of the orchestra's director. Mrs. Dawson is ticket chairman this year for the symphony.

Board of directors member, Robert M. Critchfield, and Mrs. Critchfield, Lake Angelus, pause at the entrance to Bay Pointe Club where the symphony dinner dance was held.

A trio of young artists will appear as guest soloists this season with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

The opening concert on Oct. 11 will feature soprano, Doralene McNelly Davis. Paul Schoenfeld, pianist, will play on Nov. 22 and Sergiu Luca, 45-year-old violinist, concludes the season on May 2.

In between these headliners, will be orchestra concerts with solos by principals of the orchestra on Feb. 14 and more youthful vocalists and instrumentalists on March 21. These latter will be winners of the Pontiac Symphony's contest for young performers.

All concerts are given in Pontiac Northern High School, beginning at 8:30 p.m. Season tickets are still available through the symphony office in the Riker Building.

Doralene Davis has sung a number of times for Pontiac area audiences. She is a soloist in Overture to Opera.

A graduate of BME Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, she continued her studies at the University of Michigan and Indiana University where she was also a teaching fellow.

She has toured the United States and South America with the Roger Wagner Choral and with the Robert Shaw Choral in this country, the U.S.S.R. and South America.

She has sung recently in London, Ont. and Washington D.C. She is a soloist at Kirk-in-the-Hills.

Born in 1947 of Hungarian descent, Paul Schoenfeld began studying the piano at the age of six.

Last fall he was chosen to appear on one of Leonard Bernstein's televised concerts for young people. He also had a recital at Town Hall, New York City and is scheduled for a second appearance there this month.

Sergiu Luca is one of eight young musicians listed by the Leventritt Foundation this season. He was discovered by Isaac Stern in Lucerne in 1960. Luca was born in Bucharest, Romania 22 years ago received his first violin lessons from a gypsy.

Felix Resnick continues as director of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra. He enjoys an active career as violinist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conductor of both Pontiac and Grosse Pointe symphony orchestras and composer.

A graduate of Wayne State University and Juillard School of Music, he was founder and director of the Detroit Sinfonietta. This group performs many contemporary and classical works for chamber orchestra.

Mr. Resnick has written original music scores for films, among them a documentary film for the University of Michigan Law School, an animated cartoon for the Dow Chemical Co., and other industrial and educational films.

At each concert, the Pontiac Society of Artists will have an exhibit of oils, pastels and sculpture.

"Getting to know you" may not be a symphony number, but it expresses this group's preoccupation. From the left are Dr. Leo Wasserberger, Park Circle, West Bloomfield Township, who is on the symphony board; Ann Hamilton, West Huron Street; and the John Martins, Huntington Woods. Martin is president and executive manager of the symphony.

Newlywed D. L. Edmunds Now in South America

Off on a South American honeymoon are Donald Lyle Edmunds and his bride, the former Ida Mae Vaughan after Saturday vows in St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Princeton, Ind.

Their parents are the Alvin Vaughans of Princeton and Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Edmunds of Squirrel Road.

LACE AND PEARLS

Alencon lace touched with seed pearls enhanced the bride's gown and train of candlelight peau de sole worn with veil of candlelight illusion attached to a triple bow.

With Mrs. Charles S. Morgan, her sister's honor attendant, were bridesmaids Nora A. Kennedy and C. Lea Parriggin, both of Cincinnati, and Elaine Bosley, Fairfield, Ill.

Kathleen Edmunds was junior maid; Judith Morgan, flower girl, and Robert L. Edmunds Jr. ring-bearer.

Attending their brother were Arnold W. Edmunds, best man, also Arthur and Robert Edmunds who ushered with Emmett A. Vaughan.

The couple will be at home in Independence Square after the honeymoon. She holds a master's degree from the University of Cincinnati.

Slate Annual Meet

The annual "Christmas in October" meeting of the Pontiac Women of the Moose No. 300 will take place in the Moose Home this evening at 8 p.m.

Ida Mae Vaughan, daughter of the Alvin Vaughans, Princeton, Ind., and Donald Lyle Edmunds of Dixie Highway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon C. Edmunds of Squirrel Road were married Saturday in St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Princeton.

She Objects to Traveling Home Alone

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's "Etiquette," revised by Elizabeth L. Post, has been sent to Sandra Cook of Rockville Center, L. I.

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm 19 years old and live in the suburbs. I am currently dating a man who lives in the city, where, incidentally, I work. My problem is this. My mother strenuously objects to my coming home alone on the train after our dates, during the week.

He cannot come with me as he has to be at work very early, and I do not have any place that I can stay in the city. We do not want to give up seeing each other all week, and I have never had any trouble getting home, but my parents are becoming quite excited about it, and we are turning to you for advice.

Dear Sandra: A number of years ago, etiquette would have said, "Absolutely not." Now, however, we take a more practical view and with the independence and competence of young women today, the old requirement of seeing the lady right to her door no longer is necessary.

But there are certain definite procedures you and your boyfriend should follow. He should see you onto the train, and if possible, seat you near a conductor.

When you arrive at your town, stay at the lighted station until a cab is available, or if you drive to the station, park your car as near to the building as possible.

If you follow these precautions, I cannot believe you could come to any harm; and your parents should relax and respect your ability to take care of yourself.

Matchmaker's in Trouble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have arranged many blind dates — some of which have resulted in successful marriages. A few months ago I introduced two people I thought would hit it off well. She is a 27-year-old school teacher, and he is a 36-year-old professional man I met through a relative. I was told the gentleman was a fine, eligible young man.

ABBY

Naturally, I took eligible to mean marriageable. Well, a romance bloomed like you wouldn't believe, and this fine, eligible young man turned out to be only SEPARATED from his wife—not divorced as I had been led to believe. The girl is Catholic, which complicates matters.

My husband said, "I hope you have learned your lesson and have played Cupid for the last time." Abby, I don't see where any of this is my fault. I only arranged the date with the information I had been given in good faith. Am I responsible for this mess?

CUPID

DEAR CUPID: While match-making (an incurable avocation in most married women) tell each what you know about the other, but advise both to beware and find answers to all of their questions on their own.

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Evening Ceremony Unites Trubas

An evening ceremony and reception Saturday in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints marked the vows of Phyllis Pearl Rife and Larry Steven Truba.

The Maurice Rifes of Dick Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Truba of Olive Street, Oxford Township, are parents of the couple who are presently at Niagara Falls.

With honor matron, Mrs.

Horst Czerana were bridesmaids Mrs. Jerry Tice and Mrs. Craig Pendleton. Pamela and Russell Knight were flower girl and ring-bearer, respectively.

Assisting their brother were best man Vincent Truba with Ronald Rife joining Craig Pendleton as groomsmen. Gordon Davis and Michael Gibbons were ushers.

Couple Wed in Saturday Ceremony

Joan Elaine Lazenby and David Arthur Knight were wed Saturday in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church and later greeted guests in the church parlors.

Parents of the newlyweds are the Leo W. Lazenbys of Highland Road and the LeRoy Millers of Meadowlawn Avenue.

White organza and ruffled lace tiers fashioned a bouffant gown for the bride whose illusion veil fell from a double pearl tiara.

The bridegroom's gift necklace of a teardrop diamond and a bouquet of white roses completed her ensemble.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Donald Burgess, the bride's sister, along with Mrs. Lee Lazenby of Milford, Mrs. Jack Viney as bridesmaids. Robin and Roger Knight were flower girl and ring-bearer respectively.

Richard Miller was best man, with Robert Knight and Danny Miller seating the guests.

Buttonholes Won't Stretch

There will be no more stretched or out-of-shape buttonholes in yours or the children's sweaters, if you will take the precaution of washing the sweaters buttoned. Button the sweater as if to wear it.

Then, with contrasting thread in a needle, tack the end of the buttonhole together firmly and wash the sweater in the usual manner.

After the sweater has been blocked and dried, the thread may be removed in a few seconds.

Rusk Sets U.N. Talks, Gromyko Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will be back in New York Tuesday for more talks with foreign ministers attending the U.N. General Assembly. He is expected to see Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko before Gromyko calls on President Johnson in Washington next Monday.

The war in Viet Nam seems likely to dominate the Soviet-U.S. meetings in both cities. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg bid in the assembly to check the spread of nuclear weapons and for peaceful exploration of the moon.

Rusk will see at least 15 foreign ministers this week, most of them at the U.S. mission opposite U.N. headquarters. On his last visit he saw 26.

After his last meeting with Gromyko, Rusk stressed to newsmen that the United States is serious about "trying to find peaceful solution." He repeated the North Vietnamese and Chinese Communists for calling the latest U.S. proposals a peace swindle. He said they could test the United States by coming to a peace conference and starting deescalation — and "then they will find out that we are genuine."

After seeing President Johnson in Washington Friday, Goldberg suggested that Hanoi's first reaction to the proposals was propaganda and that its door was still open to them.

St. Augustine was the apostle to the English nation and the first Archbishop of Canterbury.

SIMILAR LINE

The Soviet foreign minister is said to have taken a similarly tough line in two private talks with Rusk during Rusk's visit week before last. But Gromyko is understood to have shown interest in progress on treaties

Soviets Admit Crews in Viet

Say Rocket Specialists Came Under U.S. Fire

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia has admitted for the first time that Soviet Army rocket specialists have been sent to Hanoi to train North Vietnamese missile crews.

An article in the military newspaper Red Star also acknowledged that at least one team of Soviet advisers narrowly escaped death or injury during an American bombing raid.

But, the newspaper said yesterday, the Soviet team watched their Vietnamese pupils bring down an American plane with one of the surface-to-air missiles (SAMs) that Russia has sent in increasing numbers to bolster North Viet Nam's anti-aircraft defenses.

The Red Star article confirmed two long-standing western assumptions — that Soviet technicians and rocket specialists were training Vietnamese missile crews and that these advisers have come under American fire.

The Soviets, while admitting shipments of "considerable" military aid to Hanoi, had never before reported publicly on the presence of Soviet soldiers there.

SHIPS ATTACKED
The Soviet press has in the past, however, carried reports of Russian ships coming under fire during U.S. air raids on Haiphong harbor.

The Red Star article concerned only the experiences of one team of eight or more Soviet officers at one SAM site in North Viet Nam.

It said the team returned to Russia "recently" after spending "a certain time" at an unspecified base.

New Satellite for Weather in Successful Orbit

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — A new weather satellite, Essa 3, circled the earth's poles today after a near perfect launch Sunday.

A spokesman said the 320-pound spacecraft was scheduled to take its first test picture, of the northern hemisphere, around 3 p.m. EDT today and relay it to an Alaskan receiving station later.

The hatbox-shaped satellite was hurled into orbit by a Delta rocket, made up of a Thor missile and two smaller stages. It was the first Delta launched from the West Coast.

The spacecraft was the third of a series named for the Environmental Science Services Administration of the Department of Commerce. Its two cameras are designed to televise daily picture coverage of the world's weather.

Katzenbach Hopeful on Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — De- leaving the Justice Department to become undersecretary of state. A White House ceremony was scheduled for late today for his swearing in as undersecretary.

Katzenbach blamed the defeats on irrational reaction to riots and demonstrations. MAKE MISTAKE

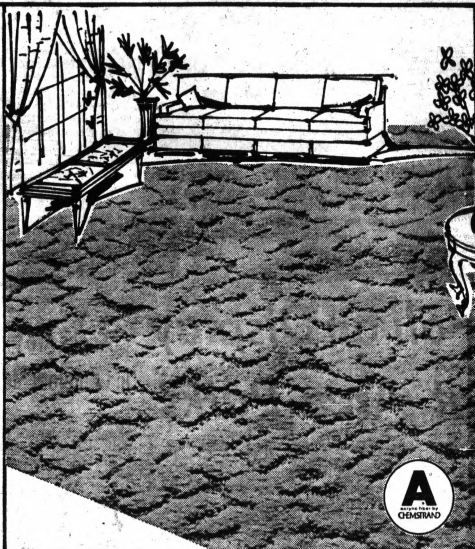

He said some whites mistakenly see a riot or a peaceful demonstration as the same thing.

A small number of extremists are responsible for the riots by Negroes such as last week's outbreak in San Francisco, he said.

5-Mill Renewal Sought in School Vote

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Clarenceville School District voters are being asked today to approve renewal of a five-mill tax levy for 10 years.

It is the second tax renewal proposition submitted to voters this year.

In January, a seven-mill levy was renewed for 10 years to pay for salaries and maintenance.

Schools Supt. David B. McDowell said today's proposition will not increase the present tax levy of 32.95 mills or $32.95 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

He said it is a renewal of millage which expires after the 1966 collection.

SCHOOL YEAR

It is an "extremely important" election, he said, because loss of the five mills would mean a loss of about $185,000 to operate the schools during the next school year.

He said the loss would represent about one-fifth of the local funds for operation. The total operating levy is 32.95 mills.

"If we lose this millage," he said, "we'll just have to come back to the people some time before June, 1967."

"This millage will expire after this year's tax collection, but we will have use of it until the end of the school year next June."

CONSIDERATION

He said there would be plenty of time to hold another vote, so school officials have not considered what economies would have to be made if the renewal is turned down.

"Regardless of whether we like it or not, the fact remains that to operate a good educational system does cost money," he said, "and like all other services and commodities in today's economy, educational costs continue to rise."

The money, he said, is to be used for operating expenses which include salaries of both teaching and nonteaching employees and maintenance of school buildings.

Only property owners who are qualified electors are eligible to vote today. The polls are open until 8 p.m. at Clarenceville Junior High School and Clarenceville Senior High School.

1969 Deadline on Pollution

Walled Lake and Novi and Pontiac Township are among several communities cited recently by the State Water Resources Commission for failing to control water pollution. They have reportedly been given until 1969 to install sewers and facilities to take care of pollution problems.

Novi assessor Harold N. Ackley said today he understands that Novi has been removed from the list although he has heard nothing official. "I think the Water Resources Commission feels we're doing all we can financially to ease this problem," he said.

He said the village has been cited on two storm drains and one house drain that have been picking up sewage. "Pollution could be caused by anything," he said, "not just sewers."

He explained that Novi's problems would be taken care of by the proposed Walled Lake branch of the Huron Rouge Interceptor which would extend from Seven Mile to Nine and a Half Mile. However, a time element of 10 years has been discussed.

He explained this is the reason that Novi is considering a joint treatment plant, trunk line sewer and internal sanitary sewer system with Walled Lake. That system would serve residents of Walled Lake and those residents in the northern portion of Novi.

FINANCING
The two municipalities are presently trying to determine methods of financing.

Ackley said the village is also working on $2 million worth of sewers, of which $1½ million is already completed.

"We're so large, though, that it doesn't come up quite far enough to take care of the problem," he said.

Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey is out of town and could not be reached for comment.

Pontiac Township's problems would be eased through the proposed Clinton-Oakland Sewer. The project is held up until Avon Township makes a decision on joining.

Program Set by GOP Club

ROCHESTER — The Republican Women's Club will host an open meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in Avon Park Pavilion for the purpose of introducing candidates in the November election. Mrs. Edward Ramsay, 356 Charles, president of the group, said candidates for circuit and probate court judgeships and state representative will be present.

Fire Damages Vacant Home

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Fire erupted in a vacant home at 5855 Mill early today, heavily damaging the second floor and causing the roof to collapse.

Independence and Waterford Township firemen collaborated to battle the blaze. Each department used three pieces of equipment in bringing the fire under control in about 45 minutes.

The owner of the two-story frame home was not immediately known. Cause of the blaze, which started at about 2:30 a.m., also was undetermined.

Student at Avondale Honduran Visiting

New president Mrs. Dan Vander Broek of the Auburn Heights Chapter of the American Field Service announces that Ruth Maria Garcia-Martinez of the Honduras is attending Avondale Senior High School as a senior this year.

Ruth Maria is the next to the oldest of eight children of Eliseo Garcia Jlori, Comayaguela, Honduras. She is planning a career in pharmacy or bacteriology.

While at Avondale she is a guest of fellow-student Martha Morrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Morrow, 6837 Beach, Troy.

Other new officers of the sponsoring group are Mrs. Don Allen, vice president; Mrs. Cleo Rock, secretary; Lowell Ruggles, treasurer; David Hackett, student-family liaison; Mrs. Gertrude Swartz, school liaison.

The group plans a tag day sale during the Avondale Homecoming, and an International AFS Fair Nov. 18.

ANOTHER WINNER — Associates of Michigan Christian College chalk up another winner in their sixth annual fall festival Saturday on the college grounds, 800 W. Avon, Avon Township. Workers expected to exceed the $6,300 raised last year to assist the college. Checking one of the booths were Mrs. Everett Golden, 660 E. Columbia, Pontiac, 1965 fall festival queen; Mrs. Argyll Allen, 737 S. Squirrel, Pontiac Township, bazaar chairman; and Mrs. Elmer Dillard, 2551 Toby, Orion Township.

Annual Series of Lectures to Start Sunday

ROCHESTER — Michigan Christian College will convene its Ninth Annual Bible Lecture series starting at 7 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 9 in the Rochester Church of Christ.

"Convictions in Crises" will be the general theme to be developed during the week in lectures, special classes, panel discussions, and luncheon sessions each day.

Principal speakers during the week are Mort Utley, Ira Y. Rice Jr., Virgil Trout, Walter Burch, A. C. Pullias, Hans Nowak, James Petty, Edward Rokeby and Humphrey Foutz.

Dies in Berkley

BERKLEY (AP)—Charles E. McLaughlin, 57, died Sunday in a fire at his home. McLaughlin lived alone in the frame house. The fire caused an estimated $3,000 damage.

Fall on Display at Area Parks

The peak of the Michigan fall and yellows of hickory and aspen season is anticipated within the next two weeks, and Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority workers point out that some of the prettiest country can be seen within the parks around Detroit.

Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair offers a nature trail in an open marsh and a drive along the Metropolitan Beach parkway.

Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, northeast of Rochester, covers 3,500 acres of hilly, rolling countryside abundant with fall color.

The winding park roads provide an excellent view of the blazing orange clumps of sassafras trees visible on the east side of the park as well as the red hues of oaks and sumacs.

Long a popular source of fall foliage is Kensington Metropolitan Park, located near Milford.

For Avon Players

'Stalag 17' Is the Opener

AVON TOWNSHIP — Avon, Rosalk, makeup; and Mrs. Clark Quinn, publicity. Bill Thompson of Utica, a prisoner for two years in Stalag Luft one, is assisting the production staff with technical advice.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of Avon Players or from the box office, 100 E. University, which will be open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays through Oct. 21. Hours are 10 a.m. to noon and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Richard McGowan, director, is assisted by Mrs. Ronald Leopold, Mrs. Edward Ramsey is producer.

Ed Ramsay is stage manager; Paul Stratton, set designer; Mrs. Ray DeStieger has charge of properties; Jim Cochran, lightman here to negotiate a new contract with the township. Ruben Gomez, 47245 Winthrop, vice president of Local 1338, said that a meeting Friday produced a stalemate. Another meeting is set for sometime next week.

The 15 firemen have won a $700 pay increase across the board, a complete hospitalization insurance, additional accumulated sick and vacation time.

In addition, according to Gomez, the fire fighters can look forward to a reduction in work time from 63 to 56 hours a week by July 1, 1967, in compliance with recent state legislation.

Gomez feels the township will have to hire more men.

All benefits, with the exception of the pay raise which the men are now receiving, are retroactive to last July 1, according to Gomez.

Changes Are Made in Cemetery Staff

TROY — The top-level executive staff of White Chapel Memorial Cemetery Association, Inc., has been changed with the recent death of E. Reed Hunt, long-time chief executive of the nationally known facility.

Fred J. Schumann is now chairman of the board with Joseph C. Tremler named president. Walter F. Keip has been named executive vice president and a member of the board of directors. Dorval D. Symons has been elevated to vice president.

Barn, Antiques Burn

AVON TOWNSHIP — An old barn containing an estimated $1,000 worth of antiques burned to the ground at noon yesterday at 684 Bloomer, Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan said cause of the blaze was undetermined. The building was owned by Robert Frank, same address.

Youth Unit to Meet

Britain's 'Freeze and Squeeze' a Bitter Pill

LONDON (AP) — Two months of freeze and squeeze are providing bitter medicine for the British economy.

It's still too early to tell whether the medicine will also cure the chronic English disease of union and management resistance to change, misplaced investment and lagging production.

The government is still searching for ideas to increase productivity, increase labor mobility and reorganize industry after the initial shock of the squeeze wears off.

Two years of wage-price spiral and repeated foreign exchange crises forced Britain's Labor government in July 1964. Prime Minister Harold Wilson applied a classic Conservative squeeze on credit. He boosted taxes, promised government spending cuts and, for good measure, applied the stiffest wage and price freeze since the war.

The emergency aim was to rein in the free-spending British economy, save foreign exchange and restore confidence in the pound. Unemployment was the first price paid.

WILSON DEMANDS

The long-range goal was to anesthetize the economy so it could be reorganized. Wilson demanded a "shakedown" of workers into export and other vital industries.

British workers have clearly been shaken up and some have gone on strike to protest layoffs. It remains to be seen whether the pieces will fall into more productive places after a year or 18 months. So far, the general attitude is one of skepticism.

The first statistics have been right on the form of earlier postwar squeezes. Manufacturing wages are frozen solid. Unemployment is up to 1.5 per cent and is expected to climb to 2 per cent by Christmas. The number of vacancies is at last rising after several years of acute labor shortage that helped force wages up.

The pound sterling is sailing into calmer international waters, as charted by the British treasury. International bankers have arranged new currency support. Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan told Commonwealth finance ministers that Britain's trade deficit would be wiped out next year. They were inclined to believe him.

AS EXPECTED

The first big layoffs also came as expected.

Imperial Chemical Industries, Britain's largest industrial employer, let out a thousand men. Its chairman, Paul Chambers, had said long ago that his firm could produce the same amount with 15 per cent fewer men.

The British Motors Corp. — with an estimated 115,000 cars and other sectors have cut back orders, investment plans and employees.

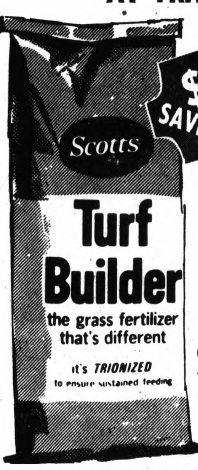

Random checks with workers, especially in the Birmingham area where the auto cutbacks hit hardest, indicate that people understand what is happening.

Scores of smaller firms in housebuilding, retail trade, consumer goods, auto components,

The leadership qualities of Ron Fritz, a Pontiac Northern High School senior, have earned him the nod as Teen of the Week.

Fritz of 401 First is vice president of the student council, secretary-treasurer of the International Club and a member of the Varsity Club.

A straight "A" average college preparatory student, he also is a member of the school's varsity wrestling team.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fritz, the 17-year-old spent the past summer in Holland as an exchange student.

Author to Address Teacher Workshop

Dr. Morton Botel, author of 20 textbooks and eight professional books for teachers, will be the instructor for a one-day Oakland Schrie workshop in language arts Friday.

The session is planned for 12 teachers chosen to set up model programs in a $450,000 program under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Also invited to attend the program are curriculum directors and other educators from throughout the country.

Dr. Botel, associate professor of education at the University of Pennsylvania, will discuss the topic "Using Research in Language for Creative Teaching."

He is one of a series of authorities assisting in training the teachers.

A special Braille edition of American Girl Magazine, published by the Girl Scouts, enables several thousand blind youngsters to "read" the magazine every month.

Earth's 'Dusty' Exterior Gets Thorough Cleaning

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For some seven years now, scientific satellites have been sending back reports which seemed to say the earth is surrounded by a thick cloud of cosmic dust.

The data transmitted by sensitive detectors aboard these spacecraft suggested there was anywhere from 1,000 to 10,000 times as much dust in the neighborhood of the earth as there is farther out in interplanetary space.

This unexpected finding was pretty hard on the theoreticians. If there was all that dust on the earth's threshold, it was up to them to explain its presence.

Some of them reacted almost personally. It was as though a housewife with a reputation for tidiness had been caught with her stoop unswept.

One surprised and puzzled space physicist announced petulantly that he didn't believe in all that dust.

FELT COMPULSION

But there was the spacecraft data, and many another scientist felt under compulsion to try to explain them. That is the way scientists are. They find out something. Then they feel they have to account for it.

So the theoreticians did their best to explain the dustiness of near-earth space. They examined many possibilities and wrote many papers.

Then came a revelation.

Carl Nilsson, an Australian working temporarily with the National Aeronautics and Space

Administration (NASA), reported the following:

The microphones on which scientists depended for reports of cosmic dust hit on spacecraft are acutely sensitive.

CRYSTAL 'PINGS'

So, what scientists have been hearing may well have been "pings" of sensor crystals reacting to temperature ups and downs rather than impacts of dust particles.

The dust cloud around the earth, it now appears, is merely electronic "noise" in spacecraft sensors.

More Michigan people are making more phone calls this year than ever before.

Take local calls, for example. Michigan Bell customers are dialing a million more local calls a day. And the number keeps growing all the time.

Obviously, your telephone company has to grow too, in order to keep up with the growth in calling.

And grow we will—to the tune of $180 million for construction in 1966... $45 million more than last year. That's the largest construction program for any year in Michigan Bell's history.

So, keep talking. To your friends, to

Sandy Florida Key a U.S. 'Micronesia'

MUNSON ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — The clack of bamboo poles echoed off palm trees on this sandy Florida key, and dark-skinned Micronesians chanted of war.

But the object of their chant was peace, not war. Their audience was made up of trainees for the Peace Corps which is sending teachers to the South Pacific islands that make up Micronesia.

As the Micronesians chanted, they danced a dance as old as their civilization. Their stage was the floor of what little remained of a large building. Rotting timbers littered the ground.

Thatched huts showed the ravages of decay.

Once the building was part of the set for the movie PT-109, the story of the late President John F. Kennedy's World War II exploits. The huts and crumbling buildings are all that Hollywood left.

SHELTER TRAINEES

On Munson Island, and near Ramrod Key, new, blue tents shelter Peace Corps trainees and the Micronesians. The island was picked by the Peace Corps for the same reason as Hollywood: It's identical to the Micronesian islands.

The Micronesian islands include the Carolines, Guam, Mariana, Marshall, Wake and two Jima. Different island languages keep the natives from complete union, especially in commercial affairs.

The main job facing Peace Corps volunteers will be teaching English to give the natives a common language.

Most of the 290 Peace Corps trainees are teachers, but there are a few lawyers and students. All said they found the Micronesian languages difficult.

LONG EFFORT

Trainee Marc Spencer of Brooklyn said he spends hours with a headset clamped on his ears to learn an island language.

While they master the language and fight the mosquitoes, the trainees also use their three weeks in the humid keys to learn how the natives fish with nets, cook, weave with palm fronds and sail.

The training started in late June. Although it does not end until October, some of the Americans have already adjusted.

Mary Berylo of Grand Rapids, Mich., for instance, looks right at home weaving a hat out of palm fronds.

And Fred Holt Jr. of Jena, La., has learned to fish all over again — Micronesian net style.

But Gil Hersh puffs as he pumps water from a drum so his wife, Nina, can take a cold shower. Things were never like that in Woodmere, N.Y.

Hunter Killed

A SPECIAL ART—Micronesians, residents of the tiny islands in the South Pacific, can clamber up a palm tree in easy fashion. And so Peace Corpsmen, like Steve Lim of Los Angeles, must learn the art of tree climbing, as he does here at a special training site for volunteers destined for the South Pacific.

Lobbyists May Be Gone From House Floor in '67

LANSING (AP) — The governor may lose his "lobbyist" on the floor of the House next year.

The same fate may befall the secretary of state, the attorney general and other heads of the state's 19 departments.

Each of these heads of non-legislative sections of state government frequently send representatives to the floor of the House and Senate to watch the proceedings, line up votes, encourage wavering supporters of their legislation or explain some detail about a bill.

These people usually have the run of the House chamber — as do former legislators, judges, accredited newsmen, legislators' wives and families and constituents.

"That's in addition to 110 House members," said Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, majority floor leader and a House member of a joint committee aimed at reforming rules and the legislative process.

The chamber was built in 1879, when the House membership stood at 100. The membership has increased since then — but the space hasn't.

The proposal is one of several developed by a House subcommittee of the Joint Committee on Revision of Rules and Procedure — a group organized to modernize the legislative process.

Under the proposal, the only persons allowed on the floor, besides the members, would be legislative staff members, newsmen accredited to the House and guests invited by the speaker.

Radar Is Helping Study of Earth's Atmosphere

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — A revolutionary way of looking at the first few miles of earth's atmosphere has been discovered.

Radar waves bounced back to ultrasensitive receivers are the key to the new method for probing the structure of invisible layers in the atmosphere.

The method could be used to detect high-altitude clear air turbulence, or CAT — the unseen cause of unexpected bumping of high-flying airplanes when the sky is blue. CAT is not the usual turbulence associated with storms, but freakish vertical updrafts and downdrafts that occur without warning at the altitudes used by jets. No fatal crashes have yet been attributed directly to CAT.

The system can also be used to determine the best paths for sending radio communications the longest distance with the least power.

The use of radar waves as delicate probes of previously un-detected layers in the atmosphere is an "exploding field," Dr. David Atlas of the University of Chicago told Science Service in a telephone interview. He said the reason meteorologists did not discover the invisible layers before is because the radar sets they were using were not sufficiently sensitive.

SYSTEM
Dr. Atlas suggests that radar waves from ground-based antennas could be used to set up a practical system of detecting CAT. This system would work on the basis of "forward scattering" of the radar waves.

Forward scattering of radar waves could also be the key to finding the best method of radio communications over long distances, Dr. Atlas said. The reason, he explained by telephoning, is that the exact levels of the disturbed layers of the atmosphere carrying radio messages by forward scattering can be determined from radar

Many Slum Merchants Take Advantage of Poor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The poor, who can least afford it, pay the highest prices for the things they buy.

Because they don't know how to shop wisely, and also because they can't get credit at regular stores, they are wide open to exploitation by unscrupulous slum merchants.

Surveys financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) show that people in poor neighborhoods often pay two or three times as much for household appliances and furnishings than would be paid by a middle-class family which purchased the identical items in a department store.

For example, in Los Angeles, comparison shoppers found a television set, which elsewhere retailed for $105, on sale in a slum store for $280.

The extra-high markup in cash prices is just the beginning, however.

CARRY CHARGES
Where the poor really get stuck is on "carry charges." Lured by "dollar-down" credit terms that sound deceptively attractive, they sign installment contracts on which the effective interest rates often amount to 50 per cent or more.

One OEO shopper, posing as a Harlem housewife, was offered furniture priced at $750 on a monthly payment schedule that totaled $1,350 over a three-year period.

The poor also get gouged on food purchases. Unless they've learned to buy at the more ethical supermarkets, they are very likely to get inferior and even spoiled food, at prices much higher than suburban housewives pay for top quality products.

To help poor families learn how to get the most for their money, the OEO has launched consumer education programs in scores of big city slums.

DEMONSTRATION
Like most other aspects of the war on poverty, this effort is still on a "demonstration" scale, which means that it is actually reaching only a tiny fraction of the nation's poor.

But the results have been sufficiently promising to persuade OEO officials that consumer education is a good front on which to fight poverty — if and when more money is available.

In the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, Mrs. Gladys Aponte, a Puerto Rican woman who holds three university degrees, is conducting a school for "consumer aides" — neighborhood women who are expected to pass along their shopping expertise to other wives and mothers unable to attend a class.

Detroit Police Probe Assault on Two Girls

DETROIT (UPI) — Two 15-year-old girls, waiting at a bus stop Saturday night, were forced into a car by three men and assaulted.

The two girls told police they were waiting for a bus near the downtown area when the men offered them a ride. The refused and boarded their bus.

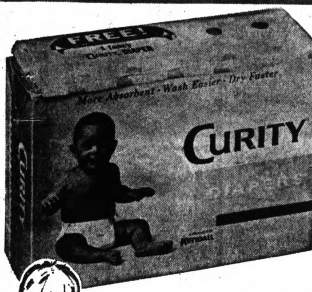

When they got off at their destination, the three men forced them into the car where they assaulted the girls and then released them.

Sex Hormone Addition Found in Lung Cancer

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Hormones called gonadotropins, which stimulates the sex glands, have been reported in lung cancer for the first time, two scientists said here.

Lung cancer, which causes many hormonal abnormalities, has now added the sex hormones, a finding never before documented, Dr. Saul W. Rosen, senior investigator, National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases, Bethesda, Md., told Science Service.

The discovery was made by Dr. Rosen, in collaboration with Dr. Frank D. Fusco of Georgetown University School of Medicine, in studies of four male patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

All four of the patients had enlarged mammary glands, a condition called gynecomastia which has long been associated with lung cancer. They were all cigarette smokers.

"We do not mean to imply that all cases of gynecomastia in patients with lung cancer are invariably related to increased gonadotropin," the researchers warned, "but the lesson is clear."

WARRANTS EXAM

"Whether or not it is associated with increased hormone, when a physician discovers enlarged mammary glands in an adult smoker, it demands careful evaluation and observation for carcinoma of the lung."

All four of the men had smoked from one to two packs of cigarettes a day for 20 years. Three of them were in their forties, sexually active and with children. The fourth was 77 and childless.

Lung cancer has been known to cause endocrine disorders such as Cushing's syndrome in which there is increase function of the adrenal glands.

It also has been reported to produce hyperparathyroid hormone as well as the antidiuretic hormone, which causes the body to hold onto water, Dr. Rosen explained.

"We believe we are the first researchers to have documented the production of gonadotropins by lung cancer, however," he said.

Is De Gaulle In or Out?

French NATO Status in Doubt

PARIS (UPI) — French President Charles de Gaulle's pull-out from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) now has reached a point where many Western diplomats are asking whether he still can be considered a member of the alliance at all.

De Gaulle himself insists he still is.

In various speeches since he first served notice last February that he is getting out of NATO's military setup, de Gaulle has emphasized France still remains a member of the North Atlantic alliance signed in 1948.

He draws a fine distinction between the alliance and NATO as the organization which sprang from it several years later.

De Gaulle likes to recall that during the Cuban crisis in 1962 he was the first allied leader to pledge all-out support to President John F. Kennedy.

IF CHIPS ARE DOWN
He insists it would be the same if the war chips were down again.

But since the beginning of this year, de Gaulle has been denigrating France's relationship from NATO in a way that many allied diplomats consider leaves his membership of the alliance in shreds.

He first served warning of his intention in a news conference Feb. 21.

He followed this in March with memoranda to the United States and all other NATO member countries giving them formal notice.

ALL FRENCH UNITS
On July 1 all French troops and air units in West Germany were pulled out of NATO command and French officers were withdrawn from NATO headquarters.

NATO was ordered to remove its two military headquarters from France by April 1, 1967.

The United States and Canada were given notice also to get their troops and air bases out of this country by the same deadline.

Livonia Votes on School Issue

LIVONIA (UPI) — Voters in this Detroit suburb will be asked today to approve a $24-million school building at site buying proposal.

The new revenue would be used to build a fourth high school, two new junior highs, two elementary schools, additions and improvements to present buildings, buy library books and equipment and secure sites for future schools.

Holland Pilot Home on Leave

HOLLAND (UPI) — Major Charles E. A. Van Duren of Holland is home on leave after completing 183 flying missions in South Viet Nam.

Maj. Van Duren will leave in mid-October for a new assignment with a NATO fighter weapon delivery branch near the French border in Southeast Germany.

Pressures Tied to Viet Turnout

United Press International SAIGON (UPI) — When more than 80 per cent of South Viet Nam's 5.29 million registered voters cast ballots Sept. 11 for a constituent assembly, the Saigon government and the United States described the huge turnout as an overwhelming endorsement of democracy and anticommunism.

Now that the shouting is over more subtle reasons for the big vote are filtering in from the country's 43 provinces.

These reports suggest that the government did a masterful job of organizing the election and providing security against Viet Cong threats.

They also suggest that many Vietnamese feared that government officials would make trouble for them if they didn't vote.

One diplomat with long experience in Viet Nam expressed the suspicion that the people inherited this fear from the days when President Ngo Dinh Diem ruled Viet Nam as a virtual dictator.

'CERTAIN PRESSURES'

"People who didn't go to the polls in the Diem days might be subjected to certain administrative pressures," the diplomat said.

"It was hinted that you might have trouble getting an identification card or a marriage license later on if you didn't vote."

"This is a feeling that has carried over until today."

"There were five elections under Diem, and this fear has been pretty well ingrained in the people."

NO EVIDENCE

All this is not to say that the Sept. 11 election was "rigged," U.S. officials have said they found "no evidence of hanky-panky" in the voting.

What is certain is that the government pressured the people to vote as much as the Viet Cong pressed them to disrupt the election.

The idea was simply to get out the biggest vote possible.

On election day, many Vietnamese living in outlying areas were herded into trucks and buses and driven to polling places.

ARMY MARCHED IN

Most of the 600,000-man South Vietnamese army was withdrawn from the field to provide security for voters and to vote themselves.

Some units were marched to the ballot box in formation.

One soldier told a UPI correspondent at Tan Son Nhut Air Base near Saigon that his outfit was ordered to vote. "But we don't mind," he said "it's our duty."

VIGIL IN THE RAIN—A Viet Cong guerrilla, captured as U.S. paratroopers took a village near Bong Son on South Viet Nam's central coast, huddles beneath a poncho for protection from the rain. Meanwhile, the pants of his guard, a member of the 1st Air Cavalry, are spotted from the downpour.

Rice Process May Cut Hunger

By Science Service

HOUSTON, Texas — Whiterice, and more of it, as well as protein-rich rice bran and inexpensive rice oil can be produced by a new milling process announced here.

Improved nutritional benefits are seen for the nearly one-quarter of the world's population dependent on rice as a principal source of food.

Called Solvent Extraction Milling Process (SEM), the new method marks the first departure from traditional abrasion and pressure milling techniques in 5,000 years.

Whole grain rice crops, with less fat content and longer shelf life, can be increased up to 10%.

Rice bran, commonly dark, bitter and used almost exclusively as animal feed, turns out to be creamy white, stable, clean and 50% higher in protein value with the new milling process.

Star Is Found to Be Brighter

1st Flare-Up by Orb Since 1901 Explosion

By Science Service Writer

WASHINGTON — A star that suddenly exploded to great brilliance in 1901 has been discovered flaring up again.

The chances that the light from this nova, the first spotted in 1866, will rival the light output of the same star when it brightened 65 years ago are not yet known.

In 1901, Nova Persei blazed forth from an obscure 11th magnitude star to first magnitude, a change of 100,000 times in brightness, in slightly more than one day. The same nova in 1906 has so far brightened only two magnitudes, or six times, and is still too faint to be seen without the equivalent of a four-inch telescope.

The brightening star is in the constellation of Perseus, which rises in the northeast as the sky turns dark in last August.

Nova Persei 1906 was discovered by Leslie C. Pelletier of Delphos, Ohio, who has detected 12 comets and several novae during his many years as an amateur observer. Pelletier told Science Service in a telephone interview that he had been checking up on Nova Persei whenever possible for 45 years, hoping that it would brighten.

His last look before he found it brightening on Aug. 24 through his 12-inch telescope was on July 15, at which time the star was its usual dim magnitude of 13.

WE PAY A 4 1/4% DIVIDEND

BUT

WOULD YOU BELIEVE A 6 1/2% DIVIDEND?

Every dollar you have in your Pontiac Co-op Credit Union savings account — from $5 to $2,000 — is matched, dollar for dollar, with LIFE INSURANCE on your life.*

The actual cost you would pay if you purchased $1,000 term insurance at age 25 would be approximately $10.30 per year. So the value to you is equal to an extra dividend of 1% — making your total dividend value 5 1/4%. If you are age 40 the cost would be approximately $15.70 or an extra dividend benefit of 1.6%. If you are age 50 the cost would be approximately $22.50 or an additional 2.3% dividend value — making a total dividend value of 6 1/2%.

This is an important feature of your credit union savings and should be considered as a bonus dividend.

Cut in Red Tape Sought to Speed Pollution Grants

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—The Michigan Water Resources Commission has asked Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall to "cut down the red tape" in the system of federal grants to fight water pollution.

Some officials claim the red tape in Washington is delaying Michigan's clean water projects.

The commission told Wakefield in the Upper Peninsula that it faces loss of a federal grant unless it completes plans by Dec. 1 for a sewage disposal plant. The commission, which ended a study in the Upper Peninsula Saturday, also told the McLaughlin Steel Corp. of Detroit to cease pollution the Detroit River at a rolling mill in Gibraltar.

E. Grand Rapids Holds Tax Vote

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — East Grand Rapids school district voters ballot today on a 16 1/2 mill tax authorization for school operations.

The total represents an extra mill plus seeking extension for 5 years of the present 15 1/2 mill authorization which expires this year.

Morsels From the Mailbag

Dogs Like Flavor of Mailmen

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Many dogs seem to like the flavor of mailmen. They bite about 7,000 a year, and the cost Uncle Sam a million bucks in sick leave and medical expenses.

One of the hoons to man-hand that Marco Polo brought back to Italy from China was macaroni. Last year U.S. families ate 1,751,044,800 pounds of macaroni products.

If you think highways are crowded now, here's a forecast to mull over: Beginning in 1970, the annual crop of boys and girls who become old enough to drive will exceed four million.

Sweet courtship: In Honduras, an Indian lad proposes marriage by offering his girl a gift of cocoa beans. If she accepts, they serve chocolate at the wedding.

SUICIDE TRIES

Psychologists say that up to five million Americans — one out of every 40 persons — have tried to take their lives at least once. But obviously most of them didn't try very hard.

War is still a young man's game — and particularly jungle warfare. The average age of combat soldiers in many U.S. wars in Viet Nam is only 18½.

Quotable notables: "Fear has always seemed to me to be the worst stumbling block which anyone has to face. It is the great crippler. My childhood and early youth were one long battle against fear!" — Eleanor Roosevelt.

Political payoff: Members of the Greek Parliament have the use of two telephones each with out charge. So, to win good will and votes, they usually install one of the telephones in their home district and let constituents make free phone calls to relatives all over Greece. Wouldn't that work wonders for a U.S. politician!

History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president to wear long trousers at his inauguration? It was John Quincy Adams on March 4, 1825. The five presidents before him wore knee breeches and long stockings.

MOST POPULAR

Tea, not coffee, is the most popular beverage in the world. Americans alone drink 31 billion cups a year.

The good old days: Doctors sometimes put the letters "P" on a prescription. It was their way of letting the pharmacist know the patient was a "poor person," and should be charged accordingly.

Life is getting easier all the time. For surfboard fans, they've created a big machine that makes artificial waves.

BAD LUCK

Folk lore: It's bad luck to carry a hoe into the house. You'll have a bad accident if you put both sock and shoe on one foot before putting a sock on the other foot. The first dream you have while sleeping under a new blanket or quilt will come true. Munching caraway or dill seeds will keep you from having hiccups in church.

Bachelor Event in France Fails

Big Crowds, but Little in Way of Romance

ESPARROS, France (AP) — The bachelor derby staged by the lonely males of Esparros brought a lot of attention to the village but little lasting sentiment.

Faced by a dismal shortage of eligible marriage partners, the bachelors of Esparros decided to hold an open house May 29. Single girls, widows and other unattached women were invited to look over the supply of marriage-hungry males—and to line up for inspection themselves.

When the day arrived, thousands of curious visitors flocked to Esparros and neighboring villages facing the same problem high in the Pyrenees.

The advance planning broke down. The bachelors were supposed to wear an armband. The interested girls were supposed to wear a numbered white bouillonne. In the picknicking crowds, few of the lonely heart signals were sighted.

SIGNS OF UPTURN

Charles Duthu, mayor of Esparros, reports there has been a sign of romantic upturn, however. Two weeks ago he performed a marriage for Francis Pommerie and Elise Marcelluill—the first in Esparros in 10 years.

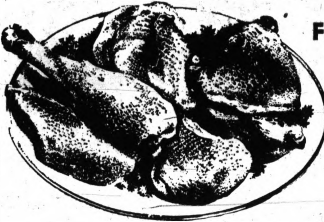

As a sign of celebration, the bachelors' committee gave the newlyweds a week's honeymoon in Biarritz.

Unfortunately, Pommerie and his bride have no plans to live in Esparros. Pommerie is an army career man and is stationed in Dax.

Junior Editors Quiz on BOTTLED SHIPS

QUESTION: How did old-time seamen put ships inside bottles?

ANSWER: It is possible to cut a glass bottle, put a ship model inside and seal it up again. But most old-time model makers wanted to boast that the ship had passed through the bottle's neck. Here's how many of them did it. The model was made outside the bottle with the masts hinged at the bottom so they could be folded back and the yards and sails turned edgewise. (1).

By compressing the masts, sails and hull together, the little ship could just be squeezed through the neck.

The maker would previously have pushed putty in with a long stick and arranged it to look like waves; the ship was held into position on this putty sea.

A long thread (2) was left coming out through the neck. When one pulled on this (3), the masts would spring up and the sails fall into place.

When the ship was stuck fast in the putty, the maker pulled this thread, and the masts jumped upright.

A touch of glue on the end of the bowsprit held the thread tightly. The rest of the thread was burned off.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you see a 'ship in a bottle,' ask the owner to let you look at the bottom. A ring or line will show if the glass has been cut to put the ship in.

Tough Fight Faces Foe of Wallace

By WILLIAM O. BRYANT
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Republican Congressman James D. Martin of Alabama has a problem in his quest for the governor's office—his opponent is a lady, and a Southern gentleman just doesn't speak ill of a lady.

Not only that, the lady isn't really running.

The name George C. Wallace which appears on the Alabama ballot in the governor's race has a "Mrs." in front of it. But there is no mistake about the real candidate.

It's the "fighting little judge," as Wallace is known in Alabama, and he's shooting straight for the White House with the state capitol only a necessary launching pad in his plans.

Martin is a rich and handsome young man with a beautiful wife, a flare for public speaking and next-to-impossible task.

BIG UPSET

A victory by him Nov. 8 in this Deep South state where Wallace is idolized would be one of the political upsets of the century.

Few outside the GOP camp give him a chance. Martin admits he's behind, but insists he's gaining and has 40 per cent of the vote.

Wallace is running his wife, Lurleen, for governor simply because he can't succeed himself. He has freely admitted he would be the real chief executive if she is elected.

Wallace, a former bantam-weight golden gloves fighter and rural circuit judge, has no qualms about violating the spirit of the state constitution in seeking to win his second consecutive term.

'WILL OF PEOPLE'

He says it's the will of the people. The constitution forbids a governor from succeeding himself.

He also has no reservations about admitting the real reason he wants the governor's seat again. It's because he believes he can either win the presidency in 1968 or scare the national political parties enough to force them to pay attention to the desires of Alabama and the South.

If he quietly stepped out of office at the end of this year he would be in the background for more than a year before the presidential campaign starts. The Wallace magic almost certainly would diminish.

Frogs Growing Extinct in Britain Due to Teaching, Research Use

By Science Service
NOTTINGHAM, England—The common frog has almost been eliminated in Britain because of its use in biology teaching and in university research, the British Association for the Advancement of Science was told here.

Uncontrolled exploitation of a species of animal or plant for research or teaching can quickly and easily "remove it from the realm of usefulness," said Prof. J. W. S. Pringle of Oxford University.

The fauna of the sea around marine biological stations have been depleted to the point where irreversible changes may have been caused in the natural environments, Prof. Pringle added.

Physiologists now compete with one another for the remaining specimens of the squalid in the seas around Britain. The situation is possibly even worse in North America, he said.

"We are cutting our own throats if the discovery and use of a valuable species is not also accompanied by a proper study of its natural habitat and way of life," Prof. Pringle went on.

"The problem is going to get a lot worse when the new curricula of biology teaching in schools get under way, with their demand for a much greater variety of animals."

Marines in Grueling Battle to Clean Out Red Bunkers

BY JOHN LENGEL

NEAR THE DEMILITARIZED ZONE, VIET NAM (AP) — For 11 days U.S. Marines dashed up 30-degree rises along a spiny mountain 5,000 yards south of the demilitarized zone trying to take an elaborate system of bunkers stretching four miles along the ridge.

Artillery, hours of pounding by B52s and other aircraft, and napalm had damaged "only small portions of the bunker system, which Marine intelligence officers believe housed at least a battalion guarding key infiltration and supply trails."

Kilo Company of the 3rd Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment was the first to slog up the trail and be hit by withering fire from the bunkers. After two days, Kilo claimed 48 enemy dead.

On Friday, India Company moved up, the lead men hacking through vines and bamboo. After walking four hours, India Company entered a bombed out clearing. The lead man walked past a bunker. The bunker spouted machine-gun fire on the ranks of Marines.

The North Vietnamese threw more grenades and increased the machine-gun fire.

India Company withdrew, drawing more fire on its flank from below the ridge. The battalion dug in for the night. There was no water for 24 hours. As dawn broke Saturday, some Marines were slashing bamboo to suck out a precious few ounces of juice.

India Company tried again Saturday afternoon.

The company moved single file along a trail and another bunker opened fire.

Artillery shells and fighter-bombers came over the company and hit the hill. One artillery round fired from the valley below exploded short of the target and wounded four Leathernecks. India Company again withdrew under fire, carrying its wounded. Sunday it was Mike Company's turn to try to gain the rise. More artillery and air power worked over the hill until the three were spare and black. Still the bunkers were intact. Mike Company's commander, Capt. Edward Croell of Lincoln, R.I., inched his men carefully past the bunkers where India Company had been set back the two preceding days. Mike Company advanced, pouring fire in every direction. They still were unopposed. Croell decided on a charge to the top.

A squad hunched forward past the advance position, jumped up and ran. The Leathernecks tossed grenades, and moved up the hill, yelling encouragement to each other. The 100-yard charge was over in five minutes. Not one Marine was injured. The North Vietnamese had disappeared. The battalion action was part of Operation Prairie, which began Aug. 30. Operation Prairie has killed at least 933 Communists troops, the Marines say.

Stars Shine in California for Election

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Hollywood is turning to politics again this year, with big show business names pitching for Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Republican Ronald Reagan — a veteran actor himself.

The stars always have been part of campaigns in the nation's most populous state, where candidates try hard to catch the attention of almost eight million voters.

Sometimes the politically active stars cross over and become politicians.

Reagan, who was acclaimed by Republicans for a 1964 televised speech supporting U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater, is the latest example. Another is U.S. Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif. And actor Wendell Corey was an unsuccessful Democratic congressional candidate in the June primary.

MORE STARS

This year, political strategists appear to be making more use of the stars in the Brown-Reagan governorship race.

Lined up on one side are the Brown forces, led by Frank Sinatra and supplemented by Gregory Peck, Gene Kelly, Henry Fonda and others.

Included on the Reagan roster are Ray Bolger, Pat Boone, Andy Devine, Chuck Connors and Ed Nelson, who plays Dr. Rossi in the Peyton Place television series.

Bomb Found on Ball Field

AMES, Iowa (UPI) — A home-made bomb triggered to blow off under the first person to step on it exploded Saturday on the 45-yard line of the Iowa State University football field a few hours before State was to meet Nebraska.

The buried bomb detonated when a workman pushed a roller across it.

Authorities said the bomb had apparently been intended to go off sometime during the Saturday afternoon football game while thousands watched.

BOMB HIDDEN

Authorities said a small section of the turf had been removed and the bomb implanted. The sod then was replaced over the bomb.

The explosion blasted what was described as a "small" hole in the turf.

The container for the bomb was destroyed by the explosion, but authorities said the triggering device remained intact.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Electric Shock Aftereffects Often Serious

Many people have the impression that if an electric shock doesn't kill you, you have nothing to worry about. Unfortunately there is mounting evidence that those who survive may incur serious injuries.

There are a number of factors. The type of current is important.

Other circumstances being equal, an alternating current is three or four times as dangerous as a direct current.

Death may result from as little as 220 volts if it causes the heart to fibrillate.

PARALYSIS OF BRAIN

Although some persons survive exposure to several thousand volts, deaths from over 1,000 volts are caused by paralysis of the respiratory center in the brain.

Other important factors are the duration of contact with the current, the part of the body through which the current travels, electric resistance at the contact point and the victim's general health at the time of the accident.

The late effects of electric shock may be seen in the nervous system (paralysis or sensory disturbances) or the blood vessels (hemorrhage and clotting two weeks or more after the accident).

Recently Drs. L. B. Brinn and J. E. Moseley of New York observed a man who received a 2,500-volt shock that lasted about 20 seconds.

He didn't pass out or even require artificial respiration. The current went in one hand and out the other.

As a result he had pain, swelling and limitation of motion of both shoulders. This was attributed to internal burns and no X-rays were taken until 18 months later.

At that time this man was found to have fractures in both arms produced by the intense jerking of his arm muscles at the time of the accident.

Furthermore the boy shall the humerus forms around the marrow had become very thin. Every household nowadays contains dozens of electrical gadgets that would be extremely hazardous were it not for the excellent job being done by the Underwriters Laboratories, Inc.

Your television set, electric fan, toaster, razor, hair curler, etc., should carry the UL label to insure that it has been properly tested for safety.

Q — In the past I have applied castor oil to warts and they disappeared. Would castor oil have the same effect on moles?

A — Since warts disappear spontaneously after several months, whatever you used last is likely to get the credit for making them disappear.

Moles will not go away unaided and I doubt that they would go away after any number of treatments with castor oil.

New Zealanders' Currency Switch Should Be Snap

AUCKLAND (AP) — Plastic "practice money" is to be used in preparation for New Zealand's change to decimal currency next July.

The decimal currency board has ordered 600,000 plastic coins for practice in banks, shops and schools.

One side shows the design of the forthcoming decimal coins. On the reverse side, instead of the queen's head, there will be large figures representing the new values.

Sabin Warns About Viruses

By Science Service CHICAGO — Viruses both old and new require constant vigilance to prevent unforeseen epidemics, noted virologist Dr. Albert B. Sabin warned here.

Dr. Sabin, who developed the live polio sugar-cube vaccine that has saved children all over the world from crippling polio, said experience of the past 10 years has shown how viruses "not definitely associated with disease suddenly appeared as the cause of epidemics."

Life-Saving Plan Offered

Would Widen Nurses' Role in Heart Cases

DETROIT (AP) — A doctor practicing in the Arenac County community of Standish has offered a plan to give nurses more authority in emergency situations.

Dr. Malcolm Dolbee said the plan which he has put into operation at tiny Standish Hospital could save the lives of thousands of heart attack patients each year.

Dr. Dolbee, 48, described his plan to some 200 doctors attending a regional conference of the American Heart Association over the weekend.

Under the system, Dolbee said, specially trained nurses are allowed to administer cardiopulmonary resuscitation to patients who are suffering heart stoppages.

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation is the forcing of air into the lungs through mouth-to-mouth breathing and, if necessary, chest squeezing at the same time.

SEVEN DEATHS
Dolbee reported that after a year of operation, the Standish hospital had seven deaths among 70 heart attack patients. Heart association researchers estimate that ordinarily one out of four heart patients die within a few days.

The Standish Hospital has 40 beds and no full-time staff doctors.

"In our hospital the girls are doing everything," Dolbee said.

"Recently I had an emergency call from an orderly, and I rushed over like mad. When I got to the hospital, I found that the nurses had already hooked the patient to a Pacemaker machine and were forcing air into his lungs. They didn't need a doctor."

MRS. CWIKIELNIK

Woman Has Septuplets, but All Die

BOSTON (AP) — After successful treatment with a fertility hormone, Sandra Cwikielnik was told she might have "twins or more," but scarcely expected septuplets.

The seven babies — four girls and three boys — were born Saturday four months premature, but one was dead at birth and the others died shortly afterward.

Mrs. Cwikielnik, 24 years old today, and her husband, William, 30, a shipper for a clothing firm, have one child, William Jr., 3.

Mrs. Cwikielnik is the first American woman known to have given birth to septuplets.

MIGS SPOTTED — Here is what a U.S. Air Force reconnaissance plane caught with its cameras at Phuc Yen airfield, 20 miles northwest of Hanoi. The photograph, released in Saigon on the weekend, shows two MIG-17 fighters in a protective shelter at the airfield. No date was given as to when the Soviet-built fighters were photographed. The week of Sept. 17-23 accounted for 32 encounters with Soviet jets, the Air Force caption states.

Supreme Court Justices Face Record Agenda as Term Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — With tradition-dictated ceremony the Supreme Court opens its new term today — and starts down the road toward what will be its busiest year.

As the nine black-robed justices troop to the bench through parted, long maroon drapes, they already face a record-high docket approaching 1,500 cases.

Included are deeply controversial puzzles on eavesdropping, privacy, church-state relations, obscenity and civil rights.

But, as is customary, the opening session is brief, without announcements of any decisions.

"DRAW NIGH"
"All persons having business before the honorable, the Supreme Court — and the justices adjourn to a week-long series of conferences to decide whether they will hear hundreds of appeals filed during the summer."

Next Monday the court will begin handing down its rulings.

14TH YEAR
This is Earl Warren's 14th year as chief of justice and the 76th year in court history. Warren is 75.

Then lawyers are admitted to practice before the Supreme Court — and the justices adjourn to a week-long series of conferences to decide whether they will hear hundreds of appeals filed during the summer.

He's Anti-Interview, but Going Anyway

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Producer-director-writer Billy Wilder, a man with a distaste for interviews, is embarking on a personal appearance tour on which he will be profusely interviewed.

Wilder viewed the prospect sourly in his Hollywood Studio office, where he was interviewed about his forthcoming interviews. That gave him no particular pleasure, either.

"I don't like it, but I'm going," said the film maker, who was booked for appearances in New Orleans, Chicago, New York and Europe. "I don't look forward to the onslaught of questions, which become so standardized that I reply by rote. The trouble is that when you get out of this town, the average interviewer doesn't know what to ask, and you end by making up your own questions."

The reason for Wilder's enforced travels is a film called "The Fortune Cookie." It is another one of Wilder's acerbic views of midcentury America, concerning a shy lawyer, Walter Matthau, who cons his brother-in-law Jack Lemmon into faking an injury to win a munificent settlement.

Wilder has been on this anti-greed kick through "The Apartment" and "Kiss Me, Stupid." The former won the best-picture academy award and lots of money at the box office; the latter did neither.

He refused to admit that he had any particular point of view, caustic or otherwise, in his treatments of the American scene.

"The Fortune Cookie" is not a social treatise, and should not be treated as such," he insisted.

"It is not particularly joyful, perhaps. But then, there is so much joy in some other films, that perhaps I should supply a balance." He added that he did not mean to mention "The Sound of Music" and "Mary Poppins." But he did.

NEXT PROJECT
Asked about his next project, he said he and co-writer I.A.L. Diamond will compose another film for Matthau, in whom they have great faith.

The actor had appeared at the beginning of the interview and said: "I don't get ulcers; I give them."

Market Tests '66 Lows Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made another "test" of its 1966 lows today. Trading was moderately active. Prices rose at the start in a resumption of Friday's technical rally. The advance soon fizzled, however.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 5.24 at 768.96.

On Friday the market sank temporarily below the 1966 closing low of 767.03 in the Dow Jones industrials, then rallied and finished well above that line.

Traders were disappointed when the market failed to show more sustained strength. Some of the high flying glamor stocks were dumped, taking sharp losses.

Selling spread to many other groups. Airlines and chemicals were among the worst losers.

AVERAGE OFF

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks at noon was off 2.78 of 444.44 with industrials off 2.74 and 44 utilities off 2.5.

Peking Taming the Red Guard

Change in Attitude Is Seen at Celebration

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese newspaper reported from Peking today that Red China's leaders are transforming the militant young Red Guards into the labor force, curbing the excesses of their purge and taking them out of the spotlight.

The Peking correspondent of the Yomiuri Shimbun said the new attitude toward the young guards was apparent at the Oct. 1 celebration of Communist China's 17th anniversary.

He said the rampage by the Red Guards, as they swept through the streets of Chinese cities, has been attacked by officials and Red Guards themselves as an "anti-revolutionary act to destroy the assets built with the blood and sweat of ancestors."

ATTACKS CHECKED

Yomiuri reported that the Red Guard attacks on wealthy Chinese merchants and foreign residents have been checked by the Chinese army. Telegraph and postal offices and shops exclusively for foreign residents have reopened along with high-class restaurants which had been closed at the height of the Red Guard campaign.

Antiques and art objects which had not been seen in Peking shops since August are reappearing. They are cited as evidence of foreign currency.

The Red Guards' campaign appears to have been staged to tighten the control of Mao Tse-tung and Lin Biao, who has emerged as Communist China's No. 2 man as a result of the current "great proletarian cultural revolution" purge.

Doubt Reflected

Business Mirror Hazy

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — An emotion muddled of bitterness, concern and doubt has enveloped many businessmen as they see the tax credits that have spurred their spending with a sudden twist.

For a while, it seemed as if business had given up. Many more support a tax credit than it has to the President's anti-inflation plans. Much of the apparent support was anything but that.

Few industrialists or corporations gave broad endorsements, as did Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., and William Murphy, president of Campbell Soup Co.

Some of the endorsements were like skim milk masquerading as cream.

TWO OUTLOOKS

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States proclaimed the "Chamber believes LBJ's moves to curb spending," but it also stated as loudly that suspension of the investment tax credit would be ineffective or damaging.

The chairman of American

Telephone & Telegraph Co., Frederic R. Kappel, endorsed the proposal to suspend the investment tax credit and fast tax write-offs. As a utility, AT&T received a credit of only 3 percent, not 7 percent, as did manufacturers.

Stuart Saunders, chairman of the Pennsylvania Railroad, endorsed the proposals but suggested that railroads and other industries be considered candidates for exemption.

Wall Street saluted the anti-inflation action, but the considered judgments that followed a few days later showed their views scaled down to approval of the moves as "psychological" important.

FOREMOST WEAPON

Many businessmen believe in less government spending as the foremost anti-inflation weapon and they complimented the President for offering to cut $3 billion from federal plans. Beyond that there is barely a consensus.

1. Some believe suspension of tax credits would be unfair in that it singles out business. "Corporation's can't vote; individual taxpayers can," said the Chamber of Commerce. If an increase in taxes is needed, the chamber said, let it apply to everyone.

2. Another group believes the recently voted law is ineffective. A study by the National Industrial Conference Board, a private organization, found that most businessmen surveyed thought this would be the case.

3. Still another group feels the suspension of tax credits might be damaging, that it might produce its biggest impact when the economy needs a spur — not a restrainer.

PAST ACTION

Industry has already defied the law. The National Industrial Conference Board, a private organization, found that most businessmen surveyed thought this would be the case.

Rep. Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District, agreed to take the message of area Latin American citizens to President Johnson.

We will urge the President to keep the promise he made in March — to hold a national conference on the problems of the Latin American minority in the U.S.

Is Surprise for Local Woman

"You're kidding me?" Mrs. Harvey Bumpous replied when the telephone called said she had won the 1967 Pontiac Tempest in the Wide-Trac Pontiac '67 Contest ending Saturday.

But she wasn't Mrs. Bumpous, 302 E. Wilson, said she plans to use it as a family car.

She was home with her husband, who works for the department of public works, and eight children when they heard the news.

The winning ticket was drawn from a barrel at the end of the three-day display of new 1967 Pontiac models on Saginaw.

The event was sponsored by the Downtown Pontiac Business Association in conjunction with the Pontiac Motor Division.

Patrons Vanish at City Eatery; So Does $365

Three men who came into a city restaurant asking for change for a large bill stole a cigar box containing $365, Pontiac police were told.

Alliv Whitaker, 51, a waitress at The Pantry, 107 N. Saginaw, said she was asked to change a $100-bill Saturday morning.

She said she went to a cash register and returned to find the three men and the money box gone.

Treasury Position

The tentative contract drawn up by five companies to supply liquefied gas to two Japanese distributors, was announced in the making. Shipments will not begin until 1969. Meanwhile the contracting parties want to secure some relief from the current Japanese import duty of 20 percent on gaseous hydrocarbons. It is generally believed that the success as Japan's energy requirements are soaring.

A) I think so. Your friend's advice was good and you were ready for college — or a business venture — your GM shares should show a substantial increase over your purchased price.

Red Chinese Women Discard Ways of Past

TOKYO (AP) — The women of Red China have been described as serious, sexless, and shapeless. Their energies are channeled into loving Mao Tse-tung and stepping up production. Admittedly, this appraisal by recent travelers is a generalization. It could be influenced by the fact that Chinese women no longer resemble those of the past.

Dressed in baggy, ill-fitting tunics and pants, their hair cut short, China's 350 million women nowadays often look like men.

No longer do they wear the body-cling cheongsams of the past, with the slits high up the sides. Paint, powder and lipstick work no miracles for the proletarian plain or ugly. BLANKED OUT The few who held out for femininity, and kept an occasional beauty parlor in business, have all but disappeared in the Red Guard surge. The youthful Red Guards made a prime target of women still clinging to such Western beauty aids as lipstick, permanent waves and spike heels.

Emancipated, given the vote put beside their husbands in the factory or on the farm, Chinese women now play as large a part in production as the menfolk. They run steam rollers, operate bulldozers, mine coal, drive automobiles, deliver the mail — on bicycle — sit in Congress, are members of the ruling Communist party Central Committee.

Official publications say women make up 40 to 46 per cent of those in the rice and wheat fields bringing in the harvest. In the cotton fields, 70 per cent of the workers are women.

There are 542 women deputies in the National People's Congress, somewhat less than half of the total membership. And 1.43 million women serve as deputies in local People's Congresses.

IN PROMINENCE

Teng Ying-chao, wife of Premier Chou En-lai and Tsai Chang, wife of Vice Premier Li

Fu-chun, as leaders of the All-China Federation of Women, sit on the Communist Central Committee. Another woman who has shot into prominence is Mao's wife, former movie star Chiang Ching. She is the new deputy to Chen Po-la, head of the cultural purge.

No woman has yet reached the rarefied heights of the powerful party Political Bureau.

In today's China, the accent is less on femininity and love, more on production. Women are expected to work as hard as men, and on some cases work even harder. Theoretically, they are free from the old go-between marriages of the past, and may choose their own mates.

This right was guaranteed by a 1950 marriage law which swept away some other ancient customs such as concubinage, betrothal of children, polygamy, bans against remarriage of widows, arranged marriages, and unequal divorce laws.

DIVORCE GRANTS

Divorce is given without question on application from either party unless the wife is pregnant or her husband is an old revolutionary.

Marriages, on paper, are as simply arranged. However, the old go-betweens of the past have been replaced in many instances by the party local committee if either of the lovers is a Communist.

Economic crises and an already frightening birth rate have latched off a birth control campaign in which early marriages are discouraged. Once married, women get 56 days off at full pay for maternity leave; their children are looked after in community creches and kindergartens.

All this gives more time for more work, more study of the thoughts of Mao.

Killed by Horse

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Ingrid Mary Krembel, 19, of Detroit was killed Saturday when she was thrown from a horse in nearby Chesterfield Township.

DOWN ON THE FARM—A woman field hand pauses in her work during the harvest of a garlic crop in northern China. Under the Communist regime on the China mainland, women have been emancipated, given the vote and put to work in the fields and factories alongside the menfolk.

Negro Leader Elated by Interest in a Domestic Marshall Plan

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR., Executive Director National Urban League

It is gratifying, even after a lapse of three years, to find an important proposal I made in 1963 again receive nationwide discussion.

In 1963, and again in 1964, in speeches, magazine articles, interviews, and in my book, "To Be Equal," I called for a domestic Marshall Plan.

This was a proposal for a massive governmental and private attack on the causes of poverty and discrimination through immediate action to bring first-class education, housing and employment to Negro citizens.

The reasoning behind such a special effort is that the Negro received "preferential treatment" in his 300 years in America — first in bondage, then in second-class citizenship — and that it was time to right past wrongs.

Now Dr. Martin Luther King and Sen. Jacob Javits have both called for a domestic Marshall Plan.

I sincerely hope that the addition of their voices to mine will engender new interest in the original proposal.

TENSIONS TOO HIGH

Racial tensions are too high, and the problems of poverty too pressing, for anything less than a national effort, a domestic Marshall Plan, well-financed and with top priority.

Now another major proposal has evolved from the National Urban League's annual conference. It is called Operation Urban Survival, and I hope that it too, can get wide support.

Briefly, it is a plan for coordinated action to keep our cities from becoming vast racial ghettos of Negro poor.

Increased demands for social services and a shrinking tax base caused by the middle-class emigration to segregated suburbs, place the very existence of cities as we know them in danger.

MASSIVE PROGRAM

Operation Urban Survival calls for a massive program of building in the ghetto.

It suggests that every large city with a significant ghetto population needs to construct sites, commercial buildings, cultural centers and the like, in ghetto areas. Only in this way can meaningful communication between whites and Negroes come about.

The ghetto, and this is fast coming to mean the central city, suffers from a tragic lack of communication between the races.

Unless white people can come to the ghetto — to work, to concerts, for a variety of reasons — this gap will widen.

END OF ISOLATION

The ghetto's isolation from the rest of the metropolitan area must be ended if urban civilization is to survive and grow.

Such a building program would put the ghetto back into the city; make it a living part of the city, a symbol of urban vitality and strength, not a showcase of weakness and brutality.

Along with such building, there must be massive construction of integrated low and middle income housing, and supportive social services — training centers, schools, recreational facilities. For the city itself, such a program would mean renewed vitality and life; for the ghetto, it would be a visible sign of acceptance and hope for a better future.

In New York, the major candidates for governor have responded to community pressure by supporting construction of a state office building in Harlem.

The enthusiastic response of the community shows how important this would be for Harlem, an area which has no major structures of this kind.

Dallas, Washington, Cleveland Post Wins in Eastern Division

By the Associated Press
The delayed take-off isn't part of Charlie Winner's game plan, but his St. Louis Cardinals are making the most of their 30-minute flight.

St. Louis struck for 24 points in the second half Sunday and continued its National Football League resurgence under new coach Winner with a 41-10 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles.

It was the fourth victory without a loss for the Cards, who lead the NFL's Eastern Division after a frustrating 5-9 finish last year, and each time they have gone on a second-half point spree after sputtering at the start.

In their four starts, the Cards have outscored their opponents 77-10 after intermission. They had been outplayed by the Eagles in the first half Sunday but led 17-10 — thanks to an 86-yard punt return by rookie Johnny Roland.

Then Larry Wilson intercepted a pass and raced 91 yards for a touchdown, Jerry Stovall ran 18 yards to score with another pass that, Charlie Johnson hit Billy Gambrell with a 12-yard scoring pitch and Jim Bakken kicked a 34-yard field goal as St. Louis turned the game into a rout.

HALF GAME

Last week the Cards rallied for three touchdowns in the second half and a 34-28 victory over Cleveland's defending Eastern champions. Two weeks ago they swept past Washington 23-7 with a second-half surge after nipping the Eagles 18-13 in their opener on Bakken's field goal with five seconds to play. Sunday's victory kept St. Louis one-half game in front of the Dallas Cowboys, who overpowered week Atlanta 47-14 for a 3-0 mark.

Chicago edged Minnesota 13-10, Cleveland drubbed New York 28-7 and Washington topped Pittsburgh 24-10.

Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 34-13 in a Friday night game.

St. Louis rolled up the points against the Eagles despite being held to 141 yards passing and running. The Cardinals' defense dumped Philadelphia quarterback Norm Snead for losses to 42 yards and picked off four of his passes.

Roland returned three punts for 142 yards over-all, setting an NFL single game record with an average of 47.3 yards per runback.

The Cowboys, ahead only 7-14 in the third quarter, pulled away on Don Meredith's 46-yard touchdown pass to speedster Bob Hayes and linebacker Chuck Howley's 57-yard scoring jump with a recovered fumble.

Rudy Bukich's 19-yard touchdown pass to Mike Ditka with 2:15 minutes to play capped a 45-yard drive that lifted the Bears past Minnesota for their first victory in three starts.

Leroy Kelly led the Browns to their runaway victory over New York, smashing 138 yards on the ground, scoring five touchdowns and setting up another.

Sonny Jurgensen teamed with Bobby Mitchell on touchdown strikes covering 70 and 51 yards and hit Charley Taylor with a 60-yard TD bomb as the Redskins romped to their second victory over the Steelers in two weeks.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — When Illinois stopped the Michigan State running attack that had steamrolled over two previous opponents, MSU's offense developed a new play to save the day.

The play: pitch the ball out to end Phil Hoag by jarring it loose from an enemy back.

Variations of this play — including a 40-yard touchdown rambly by a defensive tackle — helped give the No. 1 ranked Spartans revenge with a 26-10 victory Saturday in Champaign, Ill., where they have the win in four previous visits.

The Spartans gave the jinx a final kick in the last quarter when sophomore end Al Brenner returned an Illinois punt 96 yards for a touchdown — a Big Ten record.

Illinois coach Pete Elliott admitted later that the Illini had goofed, and had only 10 men on the field for the play. But about that Hoag play:

On the Hoag play, variation No. 1 came when Illinois seems to be building up momentum in the first quarter and had moved to the MSU 37-yard line. Hard tackling forced a pitchout from Illinois' Doug Harford to Hoag. Harford ran it back six yards.

Variation No. 2 came when MSU end George Cathos, once a high school teammate of Illinois quarterback Bob Napone at Youngwood, Pa., smashed into Napone as he was about to pass, causing a pitchout to Hoag. Hoag ran a few yards, was trapped and lateraled to bulky 5-foot-10, 220-pound tackle Pat Gallinagh, who ran 40 yards for a touchdown.

Chatlos, incidentally, also was a high school teammate of Michigan quarterback Dick Vidmer. When MSU plays Michigan next Saturday, Chatlos says he hopes he can bring off the same play "because I don't want to show any partiality."

Variation No. 3 came when the Illini's Bill Huston was trying to run the ball out of his own end. Defenders Charles Bailey, Charles Thornhill and a few others made him pitch out to Hoag at the three-yard line. One play later, MSU quarterback Jimmy Raye dove in for a touchdown.

MSU's first touchdown followed a 50-yard pass from Raye to end Gene Washington. Dwight Lee dashed 11 yards for the score on the next play.

That brought the Spartans from behind. Illinois led 3-0 for about two minutes on a 27-yard field goal by Jim Stotz.

The other Illini score came on a 62-yard pass play — Napone to John Wright, who shook off an MSU defender at about the 10-yard line and danced into the end zone.

The Spartans gained just 137 yards rushing, compared with their average of 298 for two previous games.

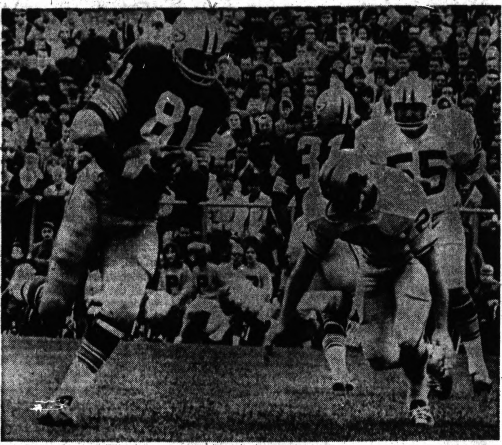

Clint Jones was held to an average of 1.6 yards a carry and Bob Apisa to 1.9. Jones' total was hurt by a long loss on an attempted pass.

In passing, Raye hit five of eight attempts for 108 yards. Illinois added 205 yards through the air.

Napone completed 9 of 20 attempts for 173 yards and Dean Volkman had 32 yards on two completions in six tries.

Wright caught four passes for 114 yards. Craig Tinkle caught five for 63 yards and tackle Bob Robertson — on two tackle-eligible pass plays — gained 28 yards.

When MSU tackles Michigan at East Lansing next Saturday, Chatlos will be a key one in MSU efforts to win a second straight Big Ten title. The game will be the Big Ten opener for the Wolverines, which lost 21-7 to North Carolina last Saturday, while MSU's victory over Illinois makes it 1-0 in the conference.

yesterday in Green Bay. The Bruins Maher (21) coming up to try for the tackle, but Maher missed and Fleming moved on to complete the 47-yard play.

Redskins Acquire Looney

Running back Joe Don Looney is gone.

Defensive back Bruce Maher figures he also might be after admitting he "made a bad play and I might not be playing with this team," as result of the 53-yard touchdown by Marv Fleming in the Packers' 23-14 win over the Lions yesterday.

Looney, who was suspended last week after claiming he was not "a messenger boy," went to the Washington Redskins for a reported fourth draft choice.

Looney was reinstated, fined and then traded all in one day, according to a Lions' spokesman.

A report early in training camp said coach Otto Graham wanted Looney, and it was reported in The Press the Redskins would go to Washington.

Graham, however, received some opposition from the upper echelon of the Redskins and let it rest until now when all they had to give up was a draft choice.

Maher, the scrappy little defensive back, also figured he was on the trading block early in training camp. Yesterday, after missing the tackle on Fleming which resulted in the touchdown on the fourth play of the game, he said, "I made a bad play and I guess I've had it."

He implied that this was what the Lions needed, a reason to trade him.

Coach Harry Gilmer, however, did not finger Maher directly when Green Bay writers asked what he thought of Maher who had thrown away wasn't it?" asked a Green Bay writer.

"Let's say it was one of our players. Instead of a seven- or eight-yard gain it resulted in a touchdown," he added, "but there were a few other mistakes which hurt, even though I thought it was our best game of the year."

Denver's 'Poor Kicker' Puts Boot to Houston

By the Associated Press
The book on Denver's Gary Kroner is that he is "not a good long kicker" and will have a "tough fight to hold his job."

Somewhere he will have to write a new book.

In this case, the offending words come from the Broncos' very own press guide. Sunday Kroner surprised the Journal's author not to mention Coach Ray Malavasi, with four field goals. Two were from 46 yards and the last of these gave the Broncos a 40-38 victory over Houston.

It was Denver's first victory of the AFL season and came over a team that had humiliated the Broncos 45-7 just four weeks ago in the season opener.

Kroner, 25, a University of Wisconsin graduate, was 10th best scorer in the league last season on the strength of his points after touchdowns, but until Sunday he had never kicked a field goal longer than 37 yards.

In other AFL games, San Diego crushed Miami 44-10, New York and Boston fought to a 24-24 tie and Buffalo took Kansas City 29-14.

Steve Tensi came off the bench in the second half for San Diego and rifled four touchdown passes. The winless Dolphins had led the Western Division leaders 10-6 at the half, but Tensi's passing and 28 last-quarter points won for the Chargers.

Joe Namath came up with two scoring passes in the final period and Jim Turner kicked a field goal with 32 seconds left as the unbeaten Jets had to scramble for a tie. The Patriots had taken a 21-17 lead in the second half.

Kansas City suffered its first defeat of the season by the Bills, whom the Chiefs had beaten 42-20 just three weeks ago. The Bills' defense made life difficult for Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson and friends while Buffalo quarterback Jack Kemp directed the potent Bills' attack.

Senior Golf Title to Dutch Harrison

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — E. J. (Dutch) Harrison has won his fifth U.S. National Senior Golf Open championship by shooting a 277 for 72 holes.

Harrison shot a par - 70 in strong winds at the Tropicana Country Club course Sunday to overtake Freddie Haas and a number of other players.

The undefeated Haas, who has started the final round a stroke ahead of him.

Haas shot a 72 and fell one stroke behind Harrison, who earned $7,500 for first place. DeMassey sagged to an 80, and finished in a five-way tie for 11th place.

Harrison won the Seniors from 1961 through 1964.

Hornets Buzz in Midgets' Football Play

The Hornets posted the biggest win in the Waterford Midget Football League over the weekend, but the Bobcats and Lake Orion Packers remained tied for first place.

The Hornets routed the Skipper, 37-4, for their first triumph. The Packers nudged the Lancers, 18-13, and the Bobcats blanked the Colts, 13-0, each gaining their third win against no losses.

The undefeated leaders will clash at 4:30 p.m. Saturday on the Isaac Cary JHS gridiron.

Another QB in Spotlight for Alabama

Crimson Tide Rips Ole Miss; Irish Duo Teams Up Again

By the Associated Press
After Joe Namath and Steve Sloan and two national football championships, what do you do for an encore?

Bear Bryant introduced Ken Stapler—and Alabama stepped into the spotlight in quest of its third straight collegiate title.

The Crimson Tide won critical acclaim by topping mighty Mississippi 17-7 Saturday night and Stapler's routine was a show stopper. The sophomore junior quarterback, in his debut against a major rival, put on an aerial display that featured 16 completions in 19 passes for 144 yards, no interceptions and a 29-yard touchdown pass.

Nine of his passes went to Ray Perkins, an Alabama record, as the Tide, No. 3 ranked but a pre-season pick to make it three titles in a row, won its second game without a loss.

Stapler, who will need another top notch performance to get Alabama by tough Clemson next Saturday, was not the only quarterback to lead a top 10 team past tough opposition Saturday.

PASSING COMBO

High-flying Notre Dame, No. 4, unleashed its Terry Hauriaty-to-Jim Seymour combo as the Irish gained 225 yards through the air and Nick Eddy ran 56 yards for a score in a 35-7 rout over Northwestern.

Jon Brittenham landed scoring passes of 48 and 72 yards for Arkansas as the No. 7 team crushed Texas Christian 21-0 in preparation for Baylor. Baylor rode Terry Southall's arm past Washington State 20-14.

Utica, Cranes Big Winners

Utica turned Gordon Schwartz loose on Fraser while Cranbrook displayed an overpowering team effort against Howe Military Academy for lopsided Saturday prep football wins.

Utica romped, 42-0, in a Big County League game. Cranbrook piled up a 59-6 margin after leading 40-0 at halftime for the Cranes' biggest victory under coach Del Walden.

In their Saturday action, Lamphere lost a 20-12 verdict to Clintonville, and Detroit Thurston outplayed Livonia Franklin, 19-6.

Utica's Schwartz tallied four touchdowns, one in each quarter, to pace the Chiefs' second straight win. The junior halfback now has seven scores for the season.

Cranbrook's Craig Tuohy, John Clement, Nat Heaverich and Ed Hande each went twice, while Skip Meier notched one. Randle's two included a 65-yard scoring jaunt.

Country Day of Birmingham ended the 10-game winning streak of Cleveland's Hawken School with a 13-0 victory that saw all the scoring in the opening six minutes of play.

The visitors ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown; but the host Yellow Jackets retaliated on their third scrimmage play with a 29-yard screen pass from Jack Zwemer to Steve Tarzany after Tarzany ran the kickoff to the Hawken 35.

The next time Country Day had the ball, Zwemer scooted 40 yards up the middle aided by key blocks from Tom Kerr and Rudy Becker. Country Day now is 2-1.

TOUCHDOWN HALTED — Kettering's Captains were within a couple of yards of a first half touchdown against Romeo Saturday, but a fumble stopped the drive. The ball bounced past Romeo's Michael Ebeling (left) and into the endzone, where Ebeling fell on it for a touchdown and Romeo took over on its own 30-yard line. Kettering won, 27-6.

Kettering Passes by Romeo, 27-6

Kettering's Captains have added a sharp passing attack to their stockpile of offensive weapons.

Kettering, unimpressive in a win and tie in its first two games, turned on the air power Saturday afternoon before a Dad's Day crowd and sailed past Romeo in a Tri-County League opener, 27-6.

Sparking the passing attack for the Captains was quarterback Dick Miceli, back in action after recovering from a dislocated elbow.

Miceli hit on 8 of 21 attempts for 154 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

End Bob VonBargen was on the receiving end of both of Miceli's touchdown pitches. The slender VonBargen caught a 33-yard strike at 9:46 of the first quarter and he picked off a 30-yard pass in the fourth to spark a 20-point period for the Captains.

RALLY IN FOURTH

The defensive units of both teams stayed in command through most of three quarters, but both squads broke through with offensive fireworks in the fourth.

After stalling twice early in the first, Kettering launched a drive midway in the period that ended with VonBargen's catch of Miceli's 33-yard pass. Gene Brunner's PAT run made it 7-0.

The same combination clicked on the 30-yard effort early in the fourth to push Kettering in front, 13-0, and Romeo made its move on the series after the kickoff.

The losers moved 75 yards in six plays with the payoff coming on a 69-yard pass from quarterback Richard Hanley to end Richard Schampman.

The Captains came back with a 60-yard drive of their own that ended with sophomore fullback Brunner diving over from the one-yard line. Tim Donaldson ran the first of his two extra points.

FUMBLE HELPS

A fumble set up the Captains' final score.

Romeo bobbled the kickoff and Kettering recovered the loose ball on the Bulldogs' 20 and moved in to score with Kent Aeschliman running the final three yards.

The victory raised Kettering's record to 2-0-1, while Romeo suffered its first setback after two victories.

In another league contest, Mickey Tier scored twice on runs of 18 and 13 and teammate Rick Saunders returned a punt 33 yards for a touchdown in leading defending champion L'Anse Creuse to a 20-0 verdict over Lapeere.

WOLL Defeats St. Mike, 20-13

Macomb Catholic League title favorite Waterford Our Lady had a tense struggle Saturday night with St. Michael before emerging with a 20-13 conquest at Wisner Stadium.

Defending Northwest Parochial champ Ferndale St. James upended Orchard Lake St. Mary, 33-8, Sunday for its 21st straight win and 23rd in a row during league play.

Farmington Our Lady staged close to St. James by routing St. Francis De Sales, 46-0, and Royal Oak St. Mary spanked Highland Park St. Benedict, 35-0. In other Macomb titles, Anchor Bay Catholic nipped Detroit St. Rose, 19-13, and Marine City Holy Cross dumped Richmond St. Augustine, 31-0.

St. Michael (1-1) held a 13-6 halftime lead on Our Lady 3-0 after Lakes had taken a 6-0 following a costly 5 h a m rock fumble.

Jerry Methner of WOLL ran the recovered midfield fumble to the St. Mike five, and Vic Ter-signi went over from the two. The Shamrocks then drove 55 yards in 10 plays with Mike Oliver scoring the tying touchdown from the three, and Gregg Glynn ran the go-ahead PAT.

A lost fumble at the 21 by Waterford OLL enabled the Shamrocks to make it 13-6. Buddy Cook scored from the two. The Lakers later stopped St. Mike on their five, and drove down to the Shamrocks' one-foot-line just as the half ended.

HOST COUNT

WOLL gained the tying score after a costly error by the Mike-men. The hosts suffered a penalty after a third-down play had been completed, but ran another scrimmage play thinking they had two more downs. They yielded possession at their own 25 and the Lakers promptly tied it on a Tom Sirbaugh to Steve Dunckley pass.

The winning tally was a two-yard run by Rick St. Louis midway through the final period.

FAIR CATCH
Willie Wood called for a fair catch on the Green Bay 14. After catching it, he lost his balance and fell over his own blocker into Detroit's Bobby Smith. Smith was called for 15 yards for touching a fair catch receiver.

The Lions then muffed another chance after forcing Chandler to punt. They moved to the Green Bay 42 where it was second down and one to go. Two running plays lost one yard and Pat Studstill had to punt.

Green Bay got the ball on the 20 and on the second play Starr hit Carroll Dale down the middle at the 45 and he went all the way for a 78-yard touchdown to make it 17-0. Again after the completion, roughing Starr was called and the Packers kicked off from the Detroit 45.

With Nowatzke pounding for yardage, the Lions moved 80 yards in 10 plays despite a 15-yard penalty to score with Nowatzke going over from the one.

With time running out in the half, the Lions again faltered. Plum passed 24 yards to Nowatzke to the Green Bay 47. The clock showed 35 seconds and a clock-stopping out of bounds play seemed in order.

Plum, however, threw down the middle to Ron Kramer. The ball was intercepted by Tom Brown and the half ended a play later when Darris McCord smeared Starr for a loss.

Late in the third quarter Chandler booted a 22-yard field goal which was set up by a 22-yard pass interference penalty and it was 20-7.

The Lions held the upper hand in the fourth quarter. A 17-yard run by Nowatzke and another 17-yard gainer on a pass to Studstill were the big plays setting up Marsh for an eight-yard TD to make it 20-14 with the point.

With 10:27 left the biggest break came. Chandler punted to Tim Todd. It appeared that Todd was going to let the ball bounce as the Packers swarmed around him, but instead, he went for the ball, was hit and fumbled and Green Bay recovered on the 16.

a 31-yard field goal to make it 23-14.

"The way we were moving, I know we would have gone all the way with it," said Nowatzke, "but those are the breaks. It's a shame to play such a game and lose it."

Pair Robbed at Gunpoint

Two men who started out at 3 a.m. yesterday after "some drinks" wound up being robbed of $370, at gunpoint, they told Pontiac police.

Edward Williams, 29, of 6338 Saline, Waterford Township, and Daniel Hall, 24, of 114 Oakland said they met three other men at a drive-in restaurant on South Saginaw.

After following the three men in their car to a purported after-hours place, the intersection of Harrison and Motor, Williams and Hall said one of the trio brandished a .22-caliber revolver.

Williams surrendered $245 in cash and a paycheck and Hall was robbed of $125 in cash and a watch. The two said the men left after taking the valuables.

Touch of Home
Right FormulaSpeed Up Recovery of Ill South Viet Boy

NHA TRANG, Viet Nam (AP)—American medical care plus some home-cooked rice have 7-year-old Kna Hoen on the recovery path.

He was suffering from malaria and a bladder stone.

"Very unusual in so young a child," said Maj. Carlton G. Reiley of Bellare, Mich., a physician at the Army's 8th Field Hospital who had the task of curing Hoen's maladies.

Hoen was found ill in the village of Plet Toan near Pleiku by U. S. Special Forces troops who placed him in the province hospital. When Hoen showed no progress, the Green Beret soldiers contacted doctors at the 8th Field Hospital in Nha Trang.

PERMISSION
Before a helicopter could take Hoen to the Army hospital, however, the boy's grandfather also had to agree to go to Nha Trang. Hoen didn't want to go without granddad.

Once Hoen was admitted to the Army hospital, an operation was performed for the bladder stone and he was treated for malaria.

Then the real problems began, Reiley said.

Hoen didn't like the purified water or GI food.

Another helicopter was summoned to fly to Plet Toan and get a five-gallon can of water from the village well. American soldiers in Hoen's recovery ward took up a collection to buy rice and other native foods.

Grandpa became the cook and now Hoen is eating regularly.

"Miracle drugs just won't cure everything," Reiley said.

Vaudeville Star
Is Buried Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dorothy Jordan Oelrichs, longtime vaudeville entertainer and opera singer, is to be buried today following a requiem mass. Mrs. Oelrichs, 83, died Friday. Under her maiden name, Dorothy Jordan, she was a vaudeville headliner from 1915 to 1921, leaving to join the Chicago Opera Co. as a soprano. She retired in 1927. She is survived by her marriage to the late Edward M. Madden, who composed several hit tunes of the early 1900s.

Drowns in Race

GROSSE POINTE (AP)—Thomas B. Beard, 45, of Grosse Pointe Woods left overboard from a 25-foot sailboat during a race sponsored by the Bay View Yacht Club Sunday and was presumed drowned. A Coast Guard search failed to locate the body.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

State Teen-Agers
Work to Get Vote
at the Age of 18

LANSING (AP)—Eighteen-year-olds in Michigan have learned if they want to vote, they have to work for it.

A bipartisan group of Michigan teen-agers hopes to win voter approval Nov. 8 for a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age in Michigan from 21 to 18.

Young Democrats and Republicans met in Lansing Saturday and formed a new group to demonstrate bipartisan support for the proposition. They said the biggest problem is to overcome apathy among both youngsters and adults.

The new group, called "Teen Republicans-Teen Democrats for the 18-Year-Old Vote," joins organizations with similar objectives already operating and based at Central Michigan University and Detroit.

ADA Cites
Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action has given "100 per cent" ratings to two Michigan congressmen based on what the ADA termed a "Liberal Quotient" or LQ.

This is defined as "a measure of liberalism of a member of Congress determined by the percentage of his votes cast, paired or announced in support of liberal policy, measured against the number of votes counted."

Reps. John C. Mackie and Weston E. Vivian were among 20 House members, all Democrats, who were awarded 100 per cent.

Wilson Sees Lynda Bride of Hamilton Next June

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Some of the gossips have claimed Lynda Bird Johnson and George Hamilton have passed the Merge Verge... but it'll be romantic even five June, 1967, as the wedding date... anyway, "Lynda Bird and George" were whispering secrets to each other at 21... sitting next to Republican Senator Javits and some clown even said to me, "Which do you think will get to the White House first? Mr. Hamilton or Mrs. Javits?"

"Mr. Hamilton," I said, noticing how Lynda Bird leaned on George's every word, even when he was eating soup, which, I have found, after many romantic adventures, is a true test of masculine magnificence. I never passed the soup test and all my girls (?) turned away when I was spooning my soup. Lynda Bird kept looking right into George's spoon so I got to think it's love.

They went to El Morocco in a trail of "Isn't she attractive?" and "Doesn't she look better than her picture?" remarks.

Alan King, one of the "Dinner at Eight" producers, chatted with Lynda Bird and George at El Morocco... telling them he told me at a bash at Chaudier's when he heard the reviews were 50-50. "I'm gonna continue being a producer. I got to go back to Las Vegas and steal more money, bring it back to put it in Broadway shows, and get it stolen from me here." (Sort of a "Robin Hood" which title I just registered for a movie through Jolly Joe Levine.)

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

The first auction of Billy Rose's choice furniture from the 93rd St. House has been scheduled by Parke-Bernet for Jan. 5... Why doesn't somebody (like me) come out and say that Pamela Tiffin of "Dinner at Eight" is probably the most beautiful girl in the world, next to my readers and members of my family.

Lael Johnson Nugent and husband Pat sent a best-wishes wire to Peter Duchin, opening at the Rainbow Grill. (He'd played at their wedding party)... Johnny Carson'll be toast-master at the Friars' luncheon for Mayor Lindsay... British film star James Fox's date at La Galerie was Playboy sexpot Donna Mitchell.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Page Morton heard of a rock 'n' roll singer who didn't have to record his latest hit over and over—he sang it off the very first time.

WISH FD SAID THAT: An advertising exec sighed that he didn't like being a Yes man, "but I notice there are very few No men working."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The worst cliques are those which consist of one man."—George Bernard Shaw.

EARL'S PEARLS: Sammy Kage described an out-of-shape acquaintance: "He gets winded riding up in an escalator." The price of fruit is so high today, notes Jesse Kaplan, that his supermarket is selling grapes by the dozen. That's earl, brother.

Woman May Get $1.6 Million

SWARTZ CREEK (AP)—A 42-year-old Swartz Creek housewife may be heirress to a $1,668,000 estate. Mrs. Rosemary Jelneck has been advised that she apparently is the closest living relative of a millionaire Chicago insurance executive who died last February.

Alfred Kruse, 67, died of a heart attack. He was a bachelor and left no will. Executors of his estate say Mrs. Jelneck apparently is Kruse's niece. They say Kruse had a sister who gave birth to a girl. The child was placed in a Grand Rapids orphanage and later was adopted.

A hearing is scheduled in Ottawa County Probate Court Wednesday to determine the heirs to the fortune. The court had been ready to divide the Kruse estate among six cousins until the executor's discovery Mrs. Jelneck apparently was Kruse's niece.

The Virgin Islands, recently declared free of brucellosis in swine and tuberculosis in cattle, became the first state, or territory of the United States to eradicate all four of the most costly livestock diseases, the other two being sheep scabies and brucellosis in cattle.

Success Vital to Mental Being

DR. NASON

The feeling of being a satisfactory member of the family group allows the pupil to attack the problems of school in a quiet and undisturbed manner.

Certainly, given the opportunity, a child can be successful in listening to music either at home or at school. His personal pleasure is enough.

Rhythm bands, long a standby in preschool and kindergarten, were found to be especially effective with disadvantaged children in the Head Start program. Here was an area in which a child, through his sense of rhythm, could cooperate on a successful basis with other members of the group.

In helping children achieve more in school, my first concern is to discover places where the child can quickly make and recognize his own improvement. He must see some success in meeting the problems of school.

Here are some of the areas in which success can be quickly recognized by the student as it is achieved:

Learning in Class—A student who fails to learn in class needs a new approach. I talk over with him the upcoming lessons and make sure he understands new words that will be used. I suggest he make an effort to understand the ideas as they are presented.

The feeling of satisfaction on the part of the pupil is obvious in his speech and manner when he reports back that, for the first time in a long period, he has understood.

COMPREHENSION

Reading comprehension—When a student admits that he reads and rereads a paragraph and remembers little of what he has read, a simple procedure usually brings him recognizable success.

Have him decide what sort of things he is supposed to find out by reading a section of the material. Then have him study as he reads, stopping at the end of the section to immediately restate the ideas.

Two or three days of practice in this procedure will bring recognizable success to the student.

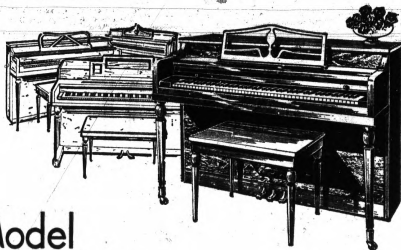

To get started on the road to success, particularly in schoolwork, a student needs outside help. The person guiding him in such an endeavor must select the plan and procedures to be used, with this idea as a criterion:

"This child needs some initial successes."
