CAMPUS STAFF, STUDENTS BRAVE HEAVY SNOWSTORM TO KEEP THINGS RUNNING

Some 420 men, women and children attending an AAU Swim Meet on campus the weekend of March 17 found themselves snowed in, but befriended by the accommodating staffs of the residence halls, public safety and campus development departments.

Resident assistants, head residents and volunteer student residents cooked meals for the group after public safety officers made arrangements with the Michigan State Police to contact food vendors for bread and milk. Officers walked on foot off-campus to meet delivery trucks which could not get to the campus and took the food by foot to Wilson Hall where students carried it back to the dorms. Officers also disbursed blankets to those that were bedded down in rooms of students and lounges of the residence halls. The group was entertained by residence hall members of the Slavic Dance Ensemble who staged an impromptu program of ethnic dances and songs during the evening.

Public safety and campus development staffs, meanwhile, worked in freeing motorists' cars from large snow drifts. Officers, who stayed on campus from Friday evening through Sunday night, maintained a foot patrol of all buildings because their cars could not be used. They also took turns standing at the main gates alerting motorists not to try entering the drifted campus. The campus development crew worked long hours to clear roads and parking lots so that the campus might once again return to normalcy.

THE FEMINIST MOVEMENT: WHAT ARE ITS GOALS?

What are the feminists' short-range and long-range goals? Where do men fit in? Joan Israel, president of the Detroit Metro chapter of National Organization of Women (NOW); Audrey L. Rentz, president of the Michigan division of Women's Equity Action League (WEAL); and Valerie Snook of the Socialists-Feminists, will discuss these topics at the Tuesday, April 10 session of "Women: New Reflections", 2-4 p.m., Varner Recital Hall.

PROMISING PIANIST TO PERFORM AT OU

Beethoven's Waldstein Sonata and Debussy's Suite Bergamasque are two of the selections Allen Regueiro will perform in piano recital at 8 p.m., Saturday, April 7 in Varner Recital Hall. The 15-year-old freshman music major will also play selections from Bach, Poulenc, Griffes and Liszt. The recital is a faculty presentation of a promising music talent and is offered to the public at no charge. Regueiro is studying under Flavio Varani, noted pianist who has recently joined the OU faculty.

STUDENT ART SHOW OPENS APRIL 5

The student art exhibition opens in Meadow Brook Art Gallery, Thursday, April 5 at 3 p.m. with a reception and runs through Friday, April 20. Painting, sculpture, video work, film and graphics will be featured. Works are selected by a panel of guest jurors from other universities. Gallery hours are: Tuesday-Friday, 1-5 p.m.; Tuesday-Friday, 7:30-8:30 p.m. on nights of Meadow Brook Theatre performances; Saturday, 2-6 p.m.; and Sunday, 2-6:30 p.m.

O'CASEY AND MOLIERE DOUBLE-BILL AT MEADOW BROOK

Two rollicking one-act comedies, Sean O'Casey's "Bedtime Story" and Moliere's "A Doctor In Spite of Himself", are now sharing a double-bill at Meadow Brook Theatre through April 22.

"Bedtime Story" captures the spirit of the Irish in a robust farce that revolves around a misguided Dublin romance and its wild consequences. "A Doctor in Spite of Himself," the rompish expose of a reluctant quack and his bawdy bedside manner, is a witty commentary on marriage, medicine and the foibles of human nature. Performances are: Wednesday, 2 p.m. matinee; Tuesday-Friday, 8:30; Saturday, 6:00 and 9:30 p.m.; and Sunday evening at 6:30. Tickets at Hudson's, Grinnell's, campus ticket office. Or call Meadow Brook Box Office, 377-3300.

ADA SEASON CONCLUDES WITH TWO PLAYS

The Academy of Dramatic Art Studio Company will round out the season with two entirely different plays this month, one a little known fantasy of protest, the other a bittersweet comedy. Tickets for both productions are now available.

The first, "Hail! Scrawdyke" (Little Malcolm and his Struggle against the Eunuchs) by David Halliwell, will be presented April 12-15 in the Studio Theatre, Varner Hall. Curtain is 8:15 nightly, 6:30 p.m. on April 15. "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" by Jay Presson Allen adapted from the novel by Muriel Spark will follow April 19-22.
