Floods Ravage Four Southwestern States

Wild West Scene? Nope, It's Pontiac

PARKED PONY — This picture might have been snapped in the wild west — but it wasn't. It was taken by a Pontiac Press photographer in downtown Pontiac yesterday. The pony, a 14-year-old shetland answering to the name of "Duke," is owned by Joe Stines of St. Louis, Mo., a traveling photographer. Stines, a disabled World War II veteran, uses the pony as a prop for kiddies' pictures. Duke appears accustomed to his parking meter "hitching post."

Find 4 Guilty of Kidnaping, Raping Woman

Set Sentencing May 31 After Jury Returns Verdict Here

An all-woman Oakland County Circuit Court jury today found four men guilty of kidnaping and raping a 21-year-old Pontiac mother of three last March 6.

Slated for sentencing May 31 are Oscar Chavers, 26, of Gary, Ind., his brother, Richard, 23, of 38 Lake St., Joe Williams Jr., 23, of 38 Lake, and Winston Johnson, 25, 312 Hughes Ave.

The verdict at noon today capped a 9-day trial of the quartet now convicted of dragging the woman from a mud-stuck auto off South Blvd. while her escort was absent summoning aid and criminally assaulting her during an hour-long ride.

The jury deliberated 1½ hours. Both counts carry penalties of up to life in prison.

The four, who registered no emotion at hearing the verdict, were returned to Oakland County Jail to await sentencing.

The woman, whose husband was then hospitalized, had attended a wedding and asked Martin Weiberg, 24, of 102 S. Merrimac St., to take her and a young girl companion to the girl's home. Weiberg and the victim then took a short ride and were attempting to turn around when his auto became mired.

The pair said two of the defendants attempted to help them get free, then left, taking a dime from Weiberg allegedly to call a tow truck. The men returned later with two companions and left with Weiberg, again supposedly to get help.

The four stopped their auto and Oscar Chavers began running back across the field toward the car containing the woman, Weiberg stated. Weiberg flagged a passing car and went to summon police.

The woman said Chavers dragged her from Weiberg's auto and the four then assaulted her during a ride in the area just south of Pontiac. They were stopped by police, with the housewife still in the car, at Saginaw and Wilson Sts.

The convicted quartet claimed the woman submitted willingly. The trial was handled by Prosecutor Frederick C. Zeim and his chief assistant, George F. Taylor.

TRAIN TRAINING—Youngsters from Williams Lake School in Waterford Township and Pontiac Crofoot School tried their hand at train riding yesterday, and liked it fine. The trip was made in coordination with the study of transportation in the classroom, and observance of Michigan Week, which calls for a view of at least part of the state. Brakeman J. J. Justin here assists Linda Nyhuis, Don DeBeauclair and Margaret Van Horn of Williams Lake second grade to the platform after their trip from Birmingham to Pontiac. "They were all thrilled, and think it was the best trip we ever made," Williams Lake teacher Mrs. Zella Mitchell said today. Both classes are discussing the outing in class today, and writing experience stories. One youngster even lugged his electric train to class today.

5 Dead as Rain, Storms Swamp Extensive Area

Two Cities Evacuated in Colorado as Rivers Rise Over Banks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five persons were dead. Four schoolboys were killed during a rainstorm when a lightning bolt felled 42 youngsters at Kingsville, Texas. A Colorado woman drowned.

Mass evacuation was in progress at two southeast Colorado cities, where the state civil defense director declared an emergency. Scores of homes and business stores were abandoned to rising waters elsewhere in Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas. Northeast New Mexico also was hit by heavy rains.

Authorities in Colorado estimated at least 2,000 persons were isolated or have been evacuated. An additional 300 persons were removed from homes in scattered Oklahoma communities.

Despite the destructiveness of the four-day storm, it brought the first substantial moisture of the year to once-rich agricultural and ranching areas. Texas logged up to 15 inches of rain and Oklahoma 12.

At Conchas Dam, in New Mexico the rains increased water storage by 60,000 acre - feet. That was typical of once - dry reservoirs throughout the irrigated west.

Highways were closed in much of the four-state area as rolling streams reached flood stage. Bridges were washed out or threatened. Communications were disrupted. At Lufkin, Tex., a windstorm partially unroofed a supermarket while 80 persons scurried to safety.

Senate Committee Kills Anti-Toll Road Proposal

The last anti-toll road measure in the state Legislature was killed yesterday.

An earlier attempt to repeal the toll road law died in the same committee.

Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), one of the chief toll road foes and author of the first attempt to kill turnpikes in the state, said there was nothing more which could be done.

"It is unfortunate because I believe a majority of the Senate wanted to pass this bill," he said.

"Nothing has aroused Oakland County in years as this matter has. All we were asking was the same power the legislature has already given Monroe."

MOTIONS NOT SECONDED

Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), chairman of the highways committee, said two motions to report out the McCullough bill were made, but that neither was seconded.

The motions were made by Rep. Patrick J. Doyle (D-Dearborn), Nichols said.

Nichols said protesting communities still can appeal to the Michigan Turnpike Authority. "They have a new public relations program and will sit down with anyone," he said.

"Dearborn already has protested to the toll road authority, as late as last Thursday," Doyle countered, "and received no support at all."

The McCullough bill, formulated by Rep. Lucille McCullough (D-Dearborn) had passed the House. It had been bitterly opposed by turnpike authority officials who said it would mean the end of turnpikes in Michigan.

OPPOSITION BACKED BILLS

Both the Broomfield and McCullough bills stemmed from violent opposition to the route of the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw Turnpike. Residents and cities alike along the route were aroused by its proposed location.

Approximately 1,000 Oakland County residents appeared in the Senate chamber when a public hearing was held on the Broomfield bill a month ago.

Sparking the opposition forces has been the Citizens Protective Assn., of Michigan, comprised chiefly of county residents.

School Bonds Bill Approved

LANSING (AP) — Legislation went to the governor for signature today to put into effect the voters' approval of a 100 million dollar state school construction loan fund.

The last obstacle was removed when the Senate accepted without a murmur a House insistence that the state be allowed to loan money for school gymnasiums and auditoriums as well as classrooms. Earlier, the Senate had banned loans for these, as well as swimming pools, athletic plants and similar facilities.

Manslaughter Trial Ends Here

Jury Finds Metamora Woman Guilty Today of Negligent Homicide

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury this morning found Mrs. Erlene Wagenshutz of Metamora guilty of negligent homicide in an accident which took five lives last Dec. 5.

Mrs. Wagenshutz, 19, was charged with manslaughter after the headon collision on M24's "Slaughter Hill", a mile north of Oxford. Negligent homicide is a lesser count, and conviction carries a maximum prison sentence of two years.

Judge Archie D. McDonald, a Hastings jurist here to help handle an unusually large circuit docket of criminal cases, was to pronounce sentence at 3 p.m. today.

Witnesses for the prosecution had testified, during the past two days, that Mrs. Wagenshutz had been drinking prior to the accident and was attempting to pass another auto in a no-passing zone when the collision occured.

The defendant admitted yesterday, under questioning by Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue, that she had a bottle of beer and two mixed drinks on the night of the tragedy.

The 9-woman 3-man jury deliberated one and one-half hours before returning the verdict.

Japan Reveals Foolproof Way to Tell Rainfall

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Five Tokyo University scientists have developed a method which they say tells not only if it is going to rain, but how much.

They claimed 100 per cent success in predicting time and extent of three typhoon-borne rainstorms here last year and in other tests, dating back to 1939.

The new system, the report said, is based on the amount of vapor in three stages of the earth's atmosphere — on the ground, at three kilometers (1.86 miles) and five kilometers (3.1 miles).

'Rainbow' Around Sun Solar Halo, Say Experts

It was a solar halo, similar to the halo sometimes seen around the moon, according to experts at the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus.

The halo, which the observatory said is not uncommon, is caused by reflection of sunlight from ice crystals in extremely high clouds.

8,000 Attend Zoo

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's zoo opened the season yesterday with a record-breaking crowd of more than 8,000. Director Frank McInnis attributed the big crowd to a new amphitheater, a chimp show and an added attraction, the zoo's first gorilla, Jim-Jim.

Area Farmers Hoping for Rain

Eye Weekend Weather as Water Lack Starts to Hurt Crops

Oakland County farmers waiting out an unusually dry spring were hopeful of a weekend rain today, as continued lack of rainfall began to seriously affect their crops.

Weather forecasts indicate only slight crop-saving rains in the southern agricultural portion of the state for the next few days.

The forecast is mostly fair tonight and tomorrow, and somewhat warmer tomorrow. The low expected tonight will be near 50 degrees, with a high tomorrow near 75, with variable winds.

Farmers who depend on the usual rainy week or 10 days during the spring are still waiting for it.

State agricultural officials say that unless the weather picture changes, there could be trouble. The hay crop is getting to the size now where it definitely needs a lot of water.

NEXT MONTH CRITICAL

"The next 30 days are very critical for the new seedings in oats. Wheat, planted last fall, is just as critical. Corn planting time is here, and continued lack of rain could affect it.

"If we don't get rain fairly soon, most farmers will have a lower pasture carrying capacity for the summer, and will have to be cautious in the use of pasture," local soil conservationist Merrill Ray said today.

If Labor Peace Continues at GM

Curtice Sees Record 2nd Quarter

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — General Motors, which set a production and sales record in this year's first quarter, expects to top that mark in the second quarter if it enjoys continued labor peace.

• • •

Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, so informed a stockholders meeting in an address prepared for delivery today. The January-March quarter showed net sales of $3,101,000,000 and net income of $309,000,000.

He reported that production and sales in the second quarter are now scheduled at 1,350,000 cars and trucks. Passenger car sales in the United States and Canada in the first quarter numbered 1,147,094.

• • •

He said: "Indications are that total output this year by the auto industry in the United States and Canada and for export to other markets may reach 8,300,000 vehicles. It could well be the biggest year in the history of the industry. It certainly will be General Motors' biggest production and sales year if current labor negotiations are concluded peacefully."

• • •

April was a record month for General Motors both in production and employment, Curtice told the shareholders. Employment during April averaged 534,000 in the United States and 638,000 world-wide, he said.

"In April GM produced more passenger cars and trucks in the United States and Canada than in any previous month in the company's history," he reported.

"Retail sales of passenger cars in the United States have continued to set new records all year and at an accelerating rate," Curtice said. "In the latest period for which figures are available, the first 10 days of May, deliveries were 50 per cent over a year ago, representing the highest percentage increase over a corresponding 1954 period for any 10 days since February.

"Nineteen fifty-five passenger car deliveries January through May 10 were 43 per cent above the same period in 1954 and the highest in General Motors history for this period. This reflects the strong retail market for our products."

Recalling his January prediction that the gross national product this year would reach a new peak in the area of 370 billion dollars, the General Motors president said first quarter official figures indicate that "the economy was operating at exactly that annual rate."

• • •

Currently, he said, it is indicated the gross national product is at an even higher rate.

• • •

While Curtice emphasized that his optimistic outlook was hinged to "continued labor peace" in the auto industry, he gave no indication of what progress, if any, is being made in the negotiations between the corporation and the CIO United Auto Workers. These negotiations, in which the union is demanding a guaranteed annual wage, have been under way in Detroit for several weeks.

Late Move Kills Water Study Aid

Royal Oak Lawmaker Blasts State Health Commissioner

An eleventh-hour move yesterday touched off by State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis killed a bill to enable Oakland County to obtain state financial aid for a water-resource survey.

The action brought a strong blast against Heustis from the measure's sponsor, Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) who said, "Why Heustis suddenly considers himself Oakland County's water commissioner I don't know."

The plan had passed the Senate and been reported out of the House State Affairs Committee. It had gone through general orders and was due up for final consideration.

APPEARS BEFORE GROUP

Heustis appeared before the State Affairs Committee yesterday and shortly afterward the committee's chairman, Rep. Lloyd Gibbs (R-Portland) moved that the bill be returned to his committee.

Rep. Walter McMahon (D-Hazel Park) supported the motion. It was passed, killing the bill since yesterday was the final day for reporting matters out of committee during this session.

According to Broomfield, the health commissioner told the committee the bill would not materially benefit the state or municipalities. Heustis claimed cost of a survey would be lost since financing an actual project would be impossible.

WOULD REQUEST MONEY

The bill would have allowed the State Water Resources Commission to request money from the state to join with Oakland, the north half of Wayne, Macomb, Genesee and Lapeer Counties in a preliminary study of water needs.

"This project would have enabled us to get a much better idea of our actual water needs and launch a plan to solve them on a long-range basis," said Broomfield. "Oakland's water needs are expanding daily and future growth and prosperity will be hurt if we don't get a program under way."

"Heustis made no objection while the Senate was debating the bill or last year when I had a similar plan under consideration in the Legislature. I consider this an underhanded maneuver killing chances of honest debate on the plan in the House."

Holly Surgeon Pontiac General's Chief Resident

Appointment of Dr. Arthur Weaver, of Holly, as senior resident in surgery and chief resident was sanctioned last night by the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees.

Dr. Weaver will assume the 1-year term of duties July 1.

The board referred to its medico-administrative committee a request that house staff members be given up to six months sick leave with pay.

The request was made by the executive committee of the hospital staff.

Trustee Willis M. Brewer urged that consideration be given a parking lot for visitors to the hospital in conjunction with the hospital expansion program.

It was reported that architects are continuing work on sketches of the new $3,000,000 addition approved by voters last November.

Kidnaped Girl, Suitor Located

Gun-Toting Detroit Man Arrested Near Monroe; Victim Unharmed

DETROIT (AP)—State police reported they took into custody today a 6-foot-1, pistol-toting suitor who abducted petite 21-year-old June Dallen from the apartment of a girl friend in Detroit last night.

Police said they found Murray Sinuk, 28, and Miss Dallen shortly after 6 a.m. four miles north of Monroe, Mich.

The troopers said they took a .45 caliber automatic from Sinuk. He was taken to the Flat Rock state police post for investigation of carrying a concealed weapon.

Detroit Police Inspector Thomas Maxon said Sinuk was wanted for "investigation of kidnaping and felonious assault."

Before finding the couple, police said they feared for the safety of Miss Dallen. Sinuk was reported to have threatened suicide if she did not marry him.

Mrs. Michael Dallen, stepmother of the girl, told police she received a phone call from her at 1 a.m.

"She seemed nervous and frightened and talked as though she had been coached on what to say," Mrs. Dallen said. "She told me she was going to be married."

Police traced the call to Bowling Green.

Police Seeking Robber Who Kidnaped, Slew Gas Attendant

BRIGHTON (AP) — The driver of a gray sedan was hunted today in the apparent robbery and abduction slaying of an 18-year-old gasoline station attendant.

* * *

A trucker police refused to identify said he saw a 1949 or 1950 gray Mercury speed early yesterday from the gasoline station where Lawrence A. Jackson was on duty.

Jackson's body was found three hours later on a lonely dirt road three miles south of Brighton. He had been shot twice through the heart.

Detroit police last night sent out a three-state radiogram on a stolen car they said fitted the description of the vehicle seen by the trucker.

POLICE THEORY

Police theorize Jackson was abducted during a holdup of the all-night gas station where he worked alone. He was shot, police believe, either in the abductor's car or along Rickett road where his body was found.

* * *

The body was discovered by one of Jackson's closest friends, Lawrence Antieu, 23, who was on his way with his wife to Ascension Day Mass in this Livingston County community between Detroit and Lansing.

Police found the station cash register empty. Its tape showed Jackson had taken in $128. Also missing was $40 from the youth's wallet but overlooked was $200 in an unlocked safe in the station.

Jackson, whose father, Lawrence G., 64, is a retired Detroit police man had been working three weeks at the station. He was highly thought of by his employer, Buel Weatherwax, station owner.

Scout Council Convenes

By JOE HAAS
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The forty-fifth annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America opened here today.

These grown-up scouters number more than 1,000 and come from every state and territory in the nation, including Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

These men have come up through scouting and number among them many leaders in industry, finance and civic life in the nation.

They annually meet to lay plans for the coming year for all of the Boy Scouts in the United States, now numbering more than three million. They propose to make scouting available to every boy in the nation.

After last year's national meeting in Washington, D. C., the 1955 meeting was awarded to Detroit. But that city does not now have auditorium facilities to accommodate such a large gathering, and it was transferred here.

The opening session this forenoon was presided over by National President John M. Schiff of Oyster Bay, N. Y. Following the convention theme, "Training to serve the boys of America," awards were made and seminars arranged to cover every phase of scouting.

Clinton Valley Council, with headquarters at Pontiac, and comprising most of Oakland and Macomb Counties, is one of the key councils in Region Seven which includes Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. The "Pontiac" Indian is in evidence everywhere.

The annual luncheon of Region Seven today was the largest among the regional events of its kind, even larger than that which includes the home state of Missouri. Much of the talent on its program came from Michigan.

Clinton Valley Council, with its membership in excess of 6,000 scouts, is one of the nation's top councils in percentage of growth in membership during the past year. It's camping program is set up for a national example.

It has one of the most diversified memberships in the nation, covering city, suburban and rural troops. In its percentage of Eagle Scouts it is among the nation's leading councils.

The annual National Council banquet and evening session, top flight events of the convention, place tonight.

The convention runs through Saturday, closing with a national court of honor ceremony, when awards will be given for the highest honors in distinguished service to boyhood.

200 Pets to Go on Parade in City Contest Saturday

BIRMINGHAM—Prettied up pets and their youthful owners will compete for prizes tomorrow in the annual Pet Parade, sponsored by the St. James Episcopal Church.

An estimated 200 kindergarten through sixth grade students of Birmingham schools have entered pet dogs, cats, birds, snakes and even turtles, according to Mrs. W. L. Bones, chairman of the affair.

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN

Prizes will be awarded in various divisions for the "best looking" pets. In addition, 40 other prizes will be passed out to the youngsters in a lucky number drawing. Some 7,000 tickets distributed to students have been returned for the drawing to be held during the parade.

The Pet Parade will begin at 11 a.m. at St. James Church. The procession will move up Chester St., down Maple to Henrietta and down Henrietta to Martin and back to the church grounds.

Pony rides, games, hotdogs and pop, and music will carry out the carnival air, Mrs. Bones said.

Members of the National Catholic Women's group at St. Hugo of the Hills Church, are telephoning residents in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area asking for blood donor pledges. The Red Cross bloodmobile will visit the St. Hugo School from 2-8 p. m., June 3. Mrs. Mathew J. Gill is chairman of the group.

Joan Gassaway, rated second highest among all freshmen in the University of Michigan's school of music, was elected to membership in the Alpha Lambda Delta, national honorary freshmen's women's sorority, and also Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary college band-women's society.

Alice Holmes was elected chairman of the National Student Association for Colorado Woman's College. And Sharon Stanton was elected campus queen at Valparaiso University's field day event.

The first annual semi-formal dance sponsored by the Holy Name Newman Club will be held at 9 p. m. tonight at the Birmingham Country Club.

At least two Birmingham city officials will attend a dinner meeting next Thursday of community leaders from Southeastern Oakland County to hear a general report on plans for the north branch of the 12-town drain system.

City manager Donald Egbert and Luther Heacock of the board of supervisors, will attend the meeting at Northwood Inn.

Current and future plans and the status of developments will be discussed at the meeting. The proposed sanitary system would relieve parts of Birmingham, Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township and Troy and Southfield Townships.

A proposed building code and operation of the building department will be reviewed at a special council meeting at Franklin Monday.

Senate OKs Change for 4 State Colleges

LANSING (AP) — If Governor Williams approves, the names of four state teachers colleges will be changed next fall.

The Senate passed House-approved bills to make the changes and has sent them to the governor.

The bills would change Michigan State Normal College to Eastern Michigan College, Central Michigan College of Education to Central Michigan College, Western Michigan College of Education to Western Michigan College and Northern Michigan College of Education to Northern Michigan College.

The Senate also sent to the governor a House bill repealing a law requiring students entering Michigan State Normal to declare their intention to teach in the Michigan Schools.

Sponsors said the law was impractical and unfair.

About 46,000 miles of highways were to be built in the U.S. during 1955.

Without fanfare or attendants, Queen Elizabeth's handsome aunt occupied a box at Wembley Stadium for the fifth night meeting of the American evangelist's one-week London crusade.

The crowd was estimated at 56,500, above the 50,000 that turned out for the first three rainy nights of the revival but below the 65,000 on hand Wednesday night when it didn't rain.

Last night there was 3,036 "decisions for Christ," about average for the crusade so far. This brought the total to 15,010.

Sperry, Union Agree to Terms

Gyroscope Co. Closed by Electrical Workers Since April 19

NEW YORK (AP)—A "substantial agreement" was reached early today between the Sperry Gyroscope Co. and strikers who closed its three Long Island defense contract plants, a federal mediator announced.

Technical problems will be worked out at a secret meeting today.

The agreement between the company and Local 450, CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, was announced by Commissioner Sidney S. Sheiner of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

No announcement of the terms was made.

Sheiner said that in any event production could not start before Monday.

The strike began April 19 in a contract dispute at Sperry's mile-long plant at Lake Success and two smaller plants. Most of the plant's output, including electronic devices, was for the armed forces.

The strike involved 9,000 IUE members. The company has a total of 16,000 employes.

Violence flared outside the Lake Success plant gates several times when nonstrikers sought to pass picket lines. Several persons were injured.

The union's latest demand was 17½ cents an hour in improvements over a two-year period. The company offered 12 cents. Several nonmoney issues also were in dispute. The basic average wage is $2 an hour.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Secretary C. E. Wilson Finding Shortage of Men

"It is very difficult for me to get the type and kind of administrators the nation needs so badly," said he, "at the price the Government offers. Really, it gets down to a question of patriotism."

The Defense Secretary took an exceptional group of talented individuals with him when he first assumed his cabinet position. As time passes, many of these feel they have made their contribution and are anxious to return to their original callings — and at the original salaries.

This poses a tough problem.

Who will replace them?

Probably no individual has made a greater financial sacrifice than C. E. Wilson. He left a position that was paying approximately $600,000 a year and accepted the government post at $22,500. Then over and beyond this he was compelled by governmental edict to dispose of his General Motors holdings which approximated 40,000 shares.

Today that same stock is worth in excess of a million and a half dollars more than it was when he bowed before the Washington decree. Also, he surrendered whatever prestige goes with commanding the greatest corporation in the world.

His current defense budget shows a savings of two and a half billion dollars over the Truman set-up. This all goes to the nation's taxpayers. Their income tax bill is reduced by this amount. Furthermore, the Defense Secretary has produced more Army, more Navy and more Air Force for the lesser sum. This is a titanic achievement.

Such results have been made possible by the introduction of the scientific methods used in private industry.

But now the Secretary faces an added problem along with all of the originals. He must keep constantly on the alert for exceedingly capable men who are willing to pass up big salaries and accept their recompense in deep-down, personal satisfaction and the knowledge they are doing something big and something worthwhile for their nation.

★ ★ ★

When the final roll call of patriots for this era is written into the archives of time, the name of Charles Erwin Wilson will edge towards the topmost level.

Teachers See What Makes Pontiac's Economy Tick

Pontiac's fourth annual Business-Industry-Education Day not only was enjoyable for guests and hosts alike but was a complete success.

All told 680 teachers were entertained by nearly 60 firms. During the day the educators visited automobile, parts and paint plants, public utilities installations and many downtown business establishments.

As in former years the Press was proud to entertain a group of 35 teachers and give them a clearer understanding of the complex processes which go into the making of a modern daily newspaper.

Many of the guests voiced appreciation of the program co-sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Education. They felt that what they saw would enable them to make their students see more clearly how the various businesses here contribute to the City's general prosperity.

This especially is the case with teachers of students not planning to attend college. They felt that they could offer these students better advice on the job opportunities available and the courses needed to qualify for such jobs.

We believe the B-I-E Day program to be of great value and worthy of its annual status. As Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer put it, "there is no better way for us to find out about our community."

Waterford Orator Wins

The oratorical ability of Myles Watkins, Waterford Township High School senior, has brought new distinction to that institution.

Watkins was among contestants from Pittsburgh, Chicago and Milwaukee in the regional oratorical contest at Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit. There he won the regional title with his address on the great Confederate General Robert E. Lee.

Earlier this month Watkins had scored victories in area and district competition. His latest triumph made him eligible to enter the national contest at Albany, N.Y.

We congratulate this young son of Mr. and Mrs. Mortyndale Watkins and his speech teacher, Miss Patty Looman.

Correction

In an editorial discussing the increasing number of Social Security retirements, we inadvertantly included erroneous data regarding maximum benefits.

The error occurred in a sentence pointing out "today workers of 65 who have paid maximum social security taxes, and their wives, can draw $162.80 a month."

The maximum benefit for such a couple now is $147.80. It will be increased to $162.80 next year providing the husband earns at least $4,200 in 1955 and $2,100 in the first six months of 1956.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) called Gov. Craig of Indiana a monkey, and in turn was called neurotic (euphemism for nuts). The governor shouldn't be upset. As little as Jenner knows about diplomacy, he probably knows even less about anthropology.

Big Oil and Gas Well Strike in Our Neighboring County

A recent big oil and gas well strike near Northville brings renewed hope for the nearest venture to Pontiac, that on the

who has been in charge of operations for over two years, still feels that prospects are good, both around the 4,000 level and below 6,000 feet, to both of which the pipe has been driven. The Northville well is a producer in paying quantities both at 3,100 and 4,100 feet.

Is the model railroad hobby petering out in Pontiac? A few years ago a number of local men were working at it, but advices from the now holding its annual convention in Flint, say there are no entries from Pontiac. It is at the Hotel Durant Friday and Saturday; about 300 hobbyists attend.

A Long Way Up—and Down

David Lawrence Asks:

Can West Germany Arm Without Reviving Hitler?

BONN—How can a return to militarism be prevented in Germany and how can an effective army be built without running the risk of bringing back the influences that led to World War Two?

This is the question of the hour throughout Germany. It is debated widely, for the German people have just been entrusted by their allies in Europe with a task they did not want—namely, the rebuilding of a national army.

To get an understanding of how the German people look at it, this correspondent had a long talk today with Franz Josef Strauss, minister without portfolio in the Adenauer cabinet who has been given the assignment of planning the structure of the military force in such a way as to avoid the pitfalls of militarism.

EDUCATION DRIVE

To begin with, the minister impressed upon me that for several years now there has been a campaign of education, conducted by American officials, against militaristic tendencies and this has taken hold. That is why the people didn't want an army. But it's recognized, on the other hand, that Soviet Russia is the common enemy and that Germany is in an exposed position.

* * *

"One thing is sure," he said, "Germany will never be a military power on her own again. Theoretically she will belong either to the defense system of the West or to the East, and we are convinced it must be with the West.

"Our future lies more and more in the direction of a United States of Europe, not necessarily in the sense of a super-state but certainly in a formal federation of some kind."

We talked then about the nature of the debate concerning the building of the new defense force in Germany and of the extreme views of some here who would democratize the army, for example, to the point of where the officers would be on a parity with the privates and discipline would be impossible.

U.S. ARMY MODEL

He argues that the American army is not composed of soft men but that the discipline is pretty fine, and he believes that it is possible to preserve the principles of democracy and still build a fighting army.

As for the kind of command setup that would be best, Strauss is strongly in favor of a separate army, air force and navy, with a commander for each and a top man to coordinate them somewhat as in the American system of a Joint Chiefs of Staff.

There are others in the Adenauer cabinet who lean toward the concept of an over-all boss of all the armed services. It is an issue as yet unresolved.

WHY HITLERISM?

Our talk then turned toward a question that has often been in my mind and which I asked Strauss: "How did it happen that a nation with as fine a culture as Germany has had, a Germany that produced great poets and writers like Schiller and Goethe and Hiene, a people that gave the world some of its greatest scientists and medical men and a nation whom Luther led in a religious crusade could have succumbed to Hitlerism?"

"It is not a simple question to answer," was his reply, "nor is it easy to fix all the responsibility. You had a number of influences working together at the same time. The unwise policies of the Allies, who did not know how to turn their victory in World War One into a reconciliation, was a circumstance that built up a fanatical nationalism in Germany and gave the demogagues their chance.

"Then, coincidentally, we had selfish industrialists who helped to overthrow the Weimar Republic because they thought they could handle Hitler as their tool, though afterwards many of them were killed by him. Finally, we had an unemployment situation that was catastrophic. Everything combined to let Hitler get into office, and then you know what happened.

"Frankly, as I face the future in building up a defense force, I am more afraid of the dangers of militarism that arise from civilians with militaristic minds than I am from generals."

SURPLUS OF GENERALS

Minister Strauss told me, incidentally, that Germany now has a surplus of generals and that 1,400 who served in World War Two still remain, though many are overage. He said 40 of the best have been picked for service and the rest have been pensioned.

* * *

"What is Russia afraid of?" Strauss asked, in parting. "A rearmed Germany or a rearmed West led by the United States? Russia has nothing to fear from Germany alone, as we will not be in a position again to fight alone on two fronts. So her fear must be of the United States, and that is a baseless fear as we all know."

It was an interview that left an indelible impression of the sincerity so typical of the young men around Adenauer who will lead the coalition when he retires from office.

Resident Suggests Repairing Old City Hall for Central City Library Instead of Park

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It has appeared several times in the Press that the former City Hall will be razed and the location be converted into a grass plot along the banks of the most forgotten river in the state.

Let us rise in protest and petition our City Commission that the shell of this building be preserved and rededicated as a Central City library. The location is ideal, the exterior was undoubtedly the best looking edifice within the City of Pontiac at the time of erection. To me it is a beautiful structure and most suitable as a library building after a thorough renovation of the woodwork and replacing the rooms suitable for a library.

The cost of renovation and new partitions will not be greatly more than razing and seeding, plus the cost of upkeep and attention as a park. I feel sure that the citizens of Pontiac will be glad to circulate petitions as well as raise a fund to help reimburse the expense of changing to library requirements.

From the utility standpoint, I might suggest that the main office of the librarian be relocated in this building. I further foresee an additional 40 per cent or more addition to the circulation of books by the end of the first two years of service.

Let us hear from other interested citizens and lovers of books and time-honored thoughts of those who have gone before.

'Thoughtless Drivers Make Any Hill 'Slaughter Hill'

Frequent references have been made recently to a point on M-24 about a mile north of Oxford as "Slaughter Hill." It is true there have been two tragedies at this point, and the last one with five lives lost.

The top of any hill can become slaughter hill, so long as we have crazy drivers with an utter disregard for yellow lines, hills, curves and intersections and other safety rules of traffic.

It is not a matter of two-lane or four-lane traffic, so much as having golden rule drivers with due regard for safety in driving.

Rail Industry Is Becoming Modern and Economical

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

After years of self-serving propaganda, a serious attempt is under way on the part of the various segments in the transportation industry to find their niche.

* * *

Instead of making faces at the newcomers—the automobiles and airplanes—railroad men are re-examining their essential role in the national economy.

The next move should be for the government to stop piecemeal regulation, and to supervise all agencies of transportation from a new perspective in the public interest.

It is now clear to objective observers that the railroads will survive, although perhaps in streamlined and altered form.

In light of the passenger deficits, some security analysts show a preference for the roads which are primarily freight carriers. On the freight side, there is growing doubt that the airplanes will grab the bulk of heavy commodity transportation.

LAW OF GRAVITY

The law of gravity is on the side of surface transportation. Air freight at its necessarily premium cost, because a plane can lift in revenue-producing weight only a fraction of its deadweight, is especially suitable for expensive perishables, and for parts and accessories which are needed quickly.

* * *

At long last, three principal builders of railway equipment are experimenting with lighter freight and passenger cars. This represents an attempt to eliminate a deficit-maker in the traditional tendency of the railroads to haul around unnecessarily heavy equipment, which represents deadweight.

The new approach to railroading makes sense. Heretofore, the rail industry, steeped in tradition and retarded by a fetish for seniority, was in the cost-plus mood, attempting to pass along to passengers and shippers the added costs incidental to the inflation of labor and material costs.

But, though the regulated increases came frequently, they proved on the whole to be too little and too late.

Now there is a new line of rail management thinking. Instead of determining freight rates and passenger fares on a cost-plus basis, there is a tendency to emulate the management philosophy of successful merchants.

LIGHTER EQUIPMENT

In the same spirit, some of the railroads and car builders are thinking in terms of lighter equipment, which will be less costly in original investment and maintenance, and will have greater speed.

* * *

Thus, rail management hopes to achieve profitable rates which will tempt customers and withstand competition from other modes of transportation.

In order to make such thinking effective, governmental agencies, especially the regulatory bodies, should cooperate, and revise inflexible rules, some of which are obsolete and fail to take cognizance of improvement of design and equipment.

Likewise, there should be greater flexibility, with management taking the responsibility for proper and effective preventive maintenance. Many of the old conventions have been outdated by the development of new electronic devices for better measuring the stress and strains on moving vehicles.

* * *

Communities can help to strengthen the national economy by taking a realistic view of the carriers. There should not be closed minds against culling out unprofitable branch lines and eliminating trains which fail to pay their way.

UNION OPPOSITION

In recent years, the regulatory authorities have been more reasonable. But new opposition to discontinuance has come from the labor unions, which ought, in the interests of survival, to review all the feather-bedding rules.

* * *

The Rock Island will pioneer with the American version of the Spanish Talgo train late this year on the Chicago-Peoria run. The New Haven also has the new train on order. The train is 2 feet, 8 inches lower than conventional equipment, and has a lower center of gravity.

Speed is an important factor in reducing the capital cost per mile. Faster-moving equipment is available for more revenue-producing service than slow-moving cars.

Case Records of a Psychologist

No Need to Worry if Children Won't Eat; They'll Eventually Get Hungry Enough

Jimmy's case shows why we psychologists say it isn't children that disturb us but bad parents. For problem youngsters usually get that way because Daddy and Mother don't play the game of parenthood according to Hoyle.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-335: Jimmy T., aged 4, is an "only" child.

"Dr. Crane, he has a bird-like appetite," his worried mother protested.

"In fact, I scold him because he doesn't eat enough. He will sit and toy with his food or wait for us to coax him.

"Then he wants a cookie between meals and I feel he does need some food so I usually give it to him. I suppose that's bad, isn't it?

"But I don't want him to starve. So what can we do to give him a hearty appetite. I always thought boys had big appetites."

Thousands of parents have this very problem, for boys do not have the voracious appetites which many mothers have imagined, unless the youngsters run and romp a great deal or are growing rapidly.

If a youngster isn't growing fast, and if he spends his time in front of TV screens or dawdling around the house, of course he will not have a big demand for calories at meal time.

So one of the first requisites for stimulating a child's hunger is to see that he burns up a lot of energy in physical exercise.

But it is difficult for parents to run and romp for hours with an "only" child. So give your first born a baby brother or sister by the time he is 18 to 24 months old.

Then he'll have a stimulus to prod him into more activity by the time he is Jimmy's age. Even a puppy will help.

Also encourage him to join in the games of the other kids in your block. So fix up swings and other recreational aids in your back yard or basement.

And if that isn't feasible, send your child to nursery school so he can play with others of his own age and also learn to adjust to them in social situations.

Every "only" child ought to be in nursery school if it is at all possible. Churches could profitably schedule such nursery school classes throughout the week to relieve harassed mothers and benefit the children.

Don't make meal time a theatrical event where Junior coerces Mamma and Daddy into playing with him in order to get each mouthful of food down his throat.

And the youngster soon realizes that the more diffident he is regarding food, the more dramatics his parents will inject into meal time.

So stop this bad habit if you are now addicted to it. Calmly serve your child his proper portions of food.

Then compliment if he cleans his plate. You fathers can show your big muscles a la Popeye regarding spinach, etc. But otherwise carry on normal dinner conversation.

If your child refuses to eat, then ignore that fact. Don't scold or even show alarm. When you adults are through, clear the table, even if the child has not touched its food.

If he gets hungry between meals give it nothing more than a drink of milk, unless he is a robust, athletic child who eats normally at meal time and then requires in-between snacks.

But the temperamental youngster like Jimmy should not be fed between meals, for his parents must outbluff him. He may go on a hunger strike for two or three meals, but he'll give in if his parents stand pat.

And a complete fasting for several meals will not injure his health, so don't relent. It is you overly solicitous parents that make these feeding problems.

So send for my 200-point "Rating Scales for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. They contain the rules for playing the game of parenthood according to Hoyle.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Dr. Brady Says:

Tooth Lost, Not Replaced Means 2 Years Off Life

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Though still infested by 19th Century practitioners who adopt the huckster's slogan as a principle of hygiene, that is, "a clean tooth never decays," the dental profession, in America at any rate, commands my admiration today as it has ever since I began to study personal health.

To many unteachable old-timers this may seem ironic. The limit of their IQ is reached when they learn that I regard tooth brushing and anything fancier than plain toilet soap for mouth washing as mischievous for children and silly for grownups.

They tell their customers that Quack Brady must be a "filthy" fellow—he never brushes his teeth!

Neither the old-timers nor dentists of the present, if any still honestly believe brushing with or without trick dentifrices prevents tooth decay, have thought up an explanation of the fact that the people with the finest teeth in the civilized world have never had any use for tooth brushes or nostrums, such as Yankee nitwits with rotten teeth apply so faithfully instead of getting proper prophylactic treatment by the dentist.

The people with the finest teeth, the least tooth decay, are the inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha, one of the "Lonely Isles" in the south Atlantic. Perhaps I should say they had the finest teeth, up to '48 or '49, when a Capetown-London company established a canning plant.

That industrial development brought the first store, where, for the first time, the island people could purchase refined groceries, candy etc. — quick calories minus the vitamins and minerals they formerly got in unrefined foods.

By now, I'm afraid, Tristan da Cunha folk are beginning to know what poor teeth we have in America and England.

But, heck, I like dentists. I admire them for their skill and for their ethical probity. The dental profession commands my respect, even though some fatheads in the profession can't see what I'm driving at.

I respect particularly the way 999 dentists adhere to ethical principles while only one breaks faith and advertises his wares as any cut-price merchant does.

Referring to the "filthy" condition of my mouth, I'm happy to tell you I have 28 teeth in a state of functional efficiency—52 per cent of 'em my own, 48 per cent contributions of my dentists. So I believe I owe to my dentists the fact that I'm pounding away at it here and not harping over yonder.

I tell you, dentists and folks, when I say, in Little Lesson No. 1, Save Your Teeth, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, that "For every tooth lost and not immediately replaced by a functionally satisfactory denture, one must deduct two years from one's life expectancy," I tell only what I believe to be the truth.

Likewise when I say every sound or functionally efficient tooth is worth at least $100—only in desperate need would I sell one of mine for $1,000—I'm trying to make you poor misguided people realize that your dentist's stock in trade includes good digestion, good health, vite, good looks and longevity.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Private Acted 'Pro-Red' in Camp, Witness Claims

* * *

Marchuk is being tried on charges of deserting to the Communists in February, 1949, and of giving the Russians information about his West Berlin intelligence unit.

The court was expected to give its decision later today.

Asked why he believed Marchuk to be pro-Communist Verdine replied: (1) "He said he didn't represent the United States," (2) "His general attitude," (3) "I saw him talking to a lot of other prisoners known to be informers."

* * *

Verdine's testimony was similar to that given by another former inmate of Vorkuta, John H. Noble of Detroit. Verdine made his statement about Marchuk under protest. He said he preferred to withhold his opinions about Marchuk's political beliefs because he felt that his personal dislike of Marchuk made him biased.

He admitted under questioning that he had at one time considered killing Marchuk because Marchuk constantly got on his nerves. He said Marchuk would wake up early and disturb the barracks by shouting and swearing.

* * *

"I think myself it was just from his nerves," Verdine testified. "I heard a lot of people ask whether he was crazy."

Verdine gave his testimony only after the court ordered him to do so.

Verdine also testified that Marchuk refused to have anything to do with efforts to plan strikes in the camp.

"Marchuk said if they wanted to strike, it was their funeral," Verdine said. He added that strikers faced the possibility of being shot.

Marchuk's mental condition was described to the court in a statement signed by Capt. Robert Levy, a New York City psychiatrist.

* * *

Levy said Marchuk was sane but was suffering from "acute alcoholism" at the time he disappeared to have been satisfying "immediate, neurotic psychological needs."

Marchuk's parents were Russian-born and he speaks Russian fluently. Because of this, he was chosen for an intelligence job.

Marchuk was returned to West Berlin last Jan. 8. Verdine came back Jan. 20. Verdine has since been tried by an Army court-martial for being absent without leave and was fined $396, but the sentence was later set aside.

Fishing Firm Set Up

TOKYO (AP) — A joint Japan-India fishing firm will start operating this fall, following private talks between fishing officials of the two countries, the newspaper Nihon Keizai said today. The paper said the firm hopes to net 3,300 tons of tuna and shrimp a year for sale to U.S. and Indian markets.

Almost one-third the area of the U.S. is still classified as forest.

Japan Half-Accepts U.S. Uranium Offer

The United States offered 100 kilograms (220.46 pounds) of nuclear reactor fuel material in line with President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

* * *

Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemistu said Japan will be "cautious in accepting the U. S. offer" and added:

"I am well aware of the Left Socialist demands that Japan not accept the U. S. offer if strings are attached."

U. S. officials say there are no strings.

Tombstone Moved

DETROIT (AP)—Sheriff's deputies sought a prankster who moved a cemetery headstone to a faked "grave" in Dearborn Township. A blooming iris was on the fresh mound. The headstone's inscription was dated 1851, 10 years before burial registrations were begun in the area. A preliminary check of cemeteries failed to reveal a missing headstone.

Trucking Firms Invoke Lockout

West Coast Haulers Hit Back at Strike of Drivers' Union

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Trucking companies struck back at an AFL Teamsters Union strike by invoking a lockout today that started halting major trucking operations in California.

The shutdown is expected to spread through 11 Western states.

The California Trucking Assn. ordered its hundreds of member firms that have contracts with the teamsters to halt all but essential trips.

* * *

The teamsters struck yesterday morning against three major freight carriers in a contract dispute over wages, and health, welfare and pension benefits.

Only "for-hire" trucking firms are involved in the dispute. However, other key trucking industries throughout the West will be affected because of interconnecting shipments.

Eventually the work stoppage is expected to affect 100,000 trucking company employes in the 11 Western states. An industry spokesman said trucking may be curtailed as far east as Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

The struck firms are the Pacific Intermountain Express, Pacific Motor Trucking and Consolidated Freightways.

Both management and union forces said the tieup might be a long one.

An industry spokesman said: "Everything the public uses will be affected—everything we eat, wear and use in production of commodities."

Eastern Junior High Students Go 'Outdoors'

Fifty students from Eastern Junior High School will participate in an outdoor education program at Seepers State Park near Caseville from Sunday through Friday.

A week's study designed to stress the principles of conservation and to acquaint pupils with many of the problems concerning democracy, it provides an opportunity for living, planning, working and playing together.

Daily schedules will include supervision of counselors and state and federal specialists in weather forecasting, forestry, game, fish, soi conservation, compass instruction and hikes and nature appreciation excursions.

Students will be expected to share kitchen and police duties, build and maintain fires and do general cleaning of their cabins.

Edwin N. Rydell will direct the camping project with Charles Beyette, Wesley Mas, Jean Kimple, Christine Agorgianitis, Joyce Schmidt and Herc Renda serving as counselors.

Nine Contract Polio After Kin Get Shots

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Nine cases of polio which developed among close relatives of youngsters given Salk inoculations were reported yesterday by the State Health Department.

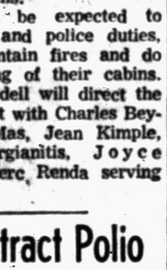

Dr. Malcolm R. Merrill, state health director, said it was not clear whether there was a direct relationship between the nine cases and the immunization of other family members. He said it possibly was a coincidence.

Dr. Merrill said only in one instance did a vaccinated child in these families develop the disease.

To date 36 California children inoculated with the vaccine have developed polio.

At the beginning of this year the proved reserves of natural gas in the United States reached a record high of 211.7 trillion cubic feet.

Hal Boyle Says:

Middle-Aged Men Chase Youth's Rainbows

NEW YORK (AP)—Reflections of a Pavement Plato:

Youth is a dream, but the great dreamers of this world aren't the young. They are the middle-age.

* * *

This is particularly true today, when the generations seem to have reversed their traditional order in the pattern of life.

In the past it was the young man who was regarded as idealistic, impractical and emotionally immature. The middle-aged man was supposed to be a solid, sober, quiet head of the family, practical in outlook and the real balance wheel of civilization.

* * *

He might be in a rut in both a business and social sense, but he enjoyed his rut to a considerable extent. It was at least better than having no rut at all to protect him from the winds of adversity. And he had to remember, after all, he had reached "the age of responsibility."

If this distinction between young and middle-aged men ever had any truth, it seems to have less truth now.

* * *

The young man today is the planner, the schemer, the one who wants to tie all the loose ends of his life in a neat little package. He often isn't trying to avoid a rut; he is looking for a nice soft one he can burrow into and become a settled citizen.

His dreams are all in black and white. He doesn't emerge from college stuffed with a nonsensical dramatic ambition to change the world overnight. He has no yearning to become a martyr in the pursuit of an unattainable goal. His goals are quite practical—a safe and secure job, a safe wife, a good car, a sound house in a sound neighborhood.

* * *

Basically, the average young man seems ruled by one idea—he wants a sure thing in life. He wants to be middle-aged.

It is the middle-aged man now whose dreams are in technicolor and are played on a wide vision screen. He is the great adolescent of our time. He wants to be young in the way youth used to be young.

* * *

Thet less secure a human being feels the more he turns to his dreams, and the wilder grow his fantasies.

Look inside the skull of a middle-aged man—or, to a slightly lesser degree, a middle-aged woman—and you discover a great big confused, overgrown problem child.

Security, which seems a possibility to a young man, is a lost impossible dream to a middle-aged man. He has weathered too many financial depressions and world wars to put complete trust in either the durability of money or peace.

Medicine may eventualy slow the ravages of time in others, but he looks in the mirror and sees any such scientific victory will come too late to benefit him much.

The middle-aged man feels he was born a generation too late to share the resignation of the elderly, a generation too soon to share the present hopes and self-confidence of the young.

Whatever became of the smug middle-aged? It isn't a period of smugness anymore. It is the young who are smug, because they know exactly what they want and feel they can get it.

* * *

It is middle-aged people today who are trying to "live it up," who fight the rutted road they travel, who seek impossible escapes from the prison of reality, who try to do new things they can't and seek to become what they cannot be.

* * *

Whether it be from idealism or foolishness (or both), the middle-aged man, a peculiar victim of history caught without the consolations of the past or the faith of the future, has become the great dream-spinner of the present, a hopeless romantic in a practical present.

* * *

The next time you meet a middle-aged man, don't laugh at him. Just pat him on the back and say: "I understand. Every child wants candy it can't have. Just bear up. When you finally grow up and settle down, everything will look better."

Jap Doctor Reports New Polio Therapy

The doctor, Hideo Sato, of Kitami, Hokkaido, told Kyodo news agency he had used a new drug on nine patients. He said an 11-year-old boy and a 4-year-old girl, crippled by polio, were able to walk in less than a month of treatment.

Dr. Sato said he used adrenocortical hormones, strengthened with special vitamins derived from B2. He found the drug, in tablet form, helped improve the blood circulation in the paralyzed part of the body. He said it is too early to say if his treatment is permanently effective.

Step Up Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Information Agency reports that the Communists have stepped up propaganda in Korea in an effort to beat down non-Communist ideas in the North and plant Red propaganda in the South. A new broadcasting station has been built in Pyongyang, North Korean capital the agency said.

HOMADE FOOD SHOP
144-146 N. SAGINAW STREET

Ask anyone who's used it—

says Mrs. Adolph Mlynarek

You can't duplicate the "3-PLUS" advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield!

1. HOSPITAL SERVICES, NOT LIMITED CASH! No other state-wide plan gives you basic services the way Blue Cross does, through its contract with the hospitals! Other plans give you fixed cash payments, which may pay only a small part of your hospital bill . . . and may leave the big part to be paid by you!

2. DOCTOR SERVICES, NOT LIMITED CASH—with a choice of a $2,500 or $5,000 family income ceiling medical-surgical contract. You get service benefits if your family income meets the requirements of the contract you choose. The service benefits provision is offered only by your Blue Shield Plan.

3. YOUR BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD CARD CUTS RED TAPE—eliminates need for a hospital deposit! No forms to fill out on admission to the hospital . . . no claims to file . . . no wait for payment. Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plans are the only plans that contract directly with your hospital and doctor.

Nothing can replace . . . or come close to replacing . . . the "3-PLUS" advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection against the cost of hospital and doctor care!

Chances are, your family has Blue Cross-Blue Shield. (Nearly half the people in Michigan do!)

And granted, you may think Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection is good. But it's far more than "good." It's so good that millions of Michigan people have found they just can't afford to be without it . . . and here's why—

Hospital services . . . not cash! Unlike plans that provide you with fixed cash benefits (and rarely do you get enough cash!), the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract gives you basic hospital services themselves . . . regardless of the cost.

This protection provides up to 120 days at a time . . . at almost any general hospital in Michigan, and at Blue Cross member hospitals anywhere.

Doctor services . . . not cash! Along with hospital care, you'll surely need a doctor's care, too . . . and it's against part or all of the cost of in-hospital doctor care that Blue Shield protects you.

Blue Shield offers you a choice of a $2,500 or $5,000 family income medical-surgical contract. If your family income meets the requirements of the contract you choose, the cost of your participating doctor's in-hospital services will be covered by Blue Shield. This service benefits provision is made available to you only through Blue Shield. In any event, regardless of your income, liberal amounts will be paid to the doctor of your choice.

Non-profit organizations. Blue Cross and Blue Shield are non-profit organizations . . . sponsored by hospitals and doctors themselves. Together, these plans offer more protection per dollar than any other plan.

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage for you and your family. (A company with as few as five employees may qualify as a group.) Or, contact your local Blue Cross-Blue Shield representative. Mr. Gordon Cox, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Huron Centre, 1058 W. Huron St., Pontiac, Michigan. FE 4-1541.

Say India to Ask Formosa Truce

Japanese Newspaper Reports Cease - Fire Plan Details

TOKYO (AP) — The newspaper Mainichi reported today from New Delhi that India is striving to set up a five-nation truce committee to prevent hostilities in Formosa Strait.

The newspaper said it had learned authoritatively that India's V. Krishna Menon, now in Peiping, also has proposed two conditions for a cease-fire in the Formosa area.

* * *

India wants Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek to waive his claims on the mainland and to withdraw from Quemoy and the Matsus, the newspaper said.

Quoting sources close to Menon, Mainichi said the proposed five-nation truce commission would include India as chairman and two nations each picked by the United States and Communist China.

* * *

Mainichi said the United States wants Sweden and Switzerland, and Red China has indicated a preference for Poland and Finland. Great Britain wants a Commonwealth nation on the commission, Mainichi said.

India's plan for easing the Formosa situation also calls for a conference sponsored by the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, Red China and India. Nationalist China would not be included, but Japan, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand and the Philippines would be invited, the newspaper said.

Woman Tipples, Never Topples on Liquor Diet

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Haled into court on charges of keeping liquor for sale without a license, Florence Johanson insisted she kept it around for her own use—and offered to prove it.

She told a magistrate's court yesterday that she had downed seven quarts of beer and half a bottle of rum the day police confiscated 35 bottles of ale in her house. The officers also stopped a well-laden man they said was a departing customer.

* * *

Asked how she stayed sober if she drank so much, Florence nodded toward the seized bottles at the back of the courtroom and told Magistrate J. F. McManus:

"Just open them up and I'll show you. I won't stagger and I won't fall down."

President Scoffs at Guatemala Coup

He said ex-Army Capt. Rodolfo Blanco, who sought political asylum in El Salvador's embassy, would be given safe conduct out of the country if he asked for it. Blanco, the President opined, "has delusions of grandeur."

* * *

Civil guard officers said five other men were arrested last night in a search for illegal weapons. Only two of them, both Social Security Institute employes, were held.

Castillo said the men had been planning a movement against the government but evidently couldn't get enough money to buy arms.

Crewmen on Polish Ship Released by Nationalists

Eleven other crewmen who got political asylum in Formosa after the Nationalist government seized the 5,058-ton tanker May 13, 1954, emigrated to the United States last October.

Boat Rammed, Sunk

MANILA (AP)—Nine persons are missing in shark-infested waters, two are dead and four injured out of 22 aboard a sailing boat rammed and sunk in pitch darkness last night by an interisland steamer. The steamer brought the dead, injured and seven unharmed survivors to Manila.

Russian Clinic De-Tattoos 'Barbaric' Ivans

* * *

Pedicure—foot care and treatment—takes only a little space in the neo-classic postwar building which houses the state beauty clinic, known officially as the Institute of Medical Cosmetics.

But tattoo-removal requires the facilities of all three of the clinic's sections — cosmetics, psysiotherapy and surgery.

An educational program brands tattooing a barbaric custom, beneath the dignity of modern Soviet man. And a health campaign warns that marking the skin frequently causes serious infections.

WHAT ABOUT U.S.?

"How do you remove tattoos in America?" a woman doctor at the institute asked.

The reporter said he didn't think it was much of a problem in the states — except, possibly, among sailors.

* * *

"It is now absolutely forbidden for Soviet sailors to get tattooed."

The institute uses chemicals, surgery and diathermy-machine burning to erase the designs. One of their most sensational jobs required plastic surgery to remove the tattoo of a sailor and the name "Kolya" from a girl's chest.

IMITATES THE WEST

The clinic itself seemed to compare with beauty clinics in the West, despite something of a production-line atmosphere. Several cubicles designed for one patient were occupied by two or three.

* * *

But if you've been thinking of Russians only as plain, plump, unlovely—and proud of it—the institute shows another side of Soviet life.

Plastic surgeons liquidate scars, birthmarks, wrinkles and double chins. They build up or barber unsatisfactory noses.

PROUD OF WORK

Dr. Glev Pakovich, the young surgical chief, doesn't believe anyone in the West can match his staff's plastic surgery.

"Surgical scars remain after plastic operations in the West," he commented. "But we carefully conceal skin-graft scars where they will be hidden by the hair.

* * *

Professional secrecy barred Dr. Pakovich from revealing the names of any of the prominent Russians whose faces had been rehabilitated at the clinic.

But he obligingly dug out some "before-and-after" photos of anonymous patients. They showed what appeared to be first-rate face-lifting operations and other corrective surgery.

SAME COSMETICS

Aside from the claims for Soviet plastic surgery, the clinic offers about the same cosmetic treatments available in the West.

Dr. Valentina Timofeeva and Dr. Nina Malysheva, chiefs of cosmetics and physiotherapy, apply the familiar drugs, lotions, ointments, mud packs, special lamps and devices of the beautician's profession.

* * *

Little Less Authority

CARTHAGE, N. C. (AP) — A character witness in a Moore County Criminal Court case had established himself as a God-fearing man and a senior deacon in his church.

"Don't you sometimes preach, too?" inquired Prosecutor M. G. Boyette.

Haiphong Trades Again

PHS Seniors Go To Mackinaw Island

Pontiac Press Photos

SEATED AT THE CLAVIER — Dr. Maurice Garabrant, carillonneur, organist and director of music at Christ Church Cranbrook practices for the carillon recital Sunday at 4 p. m.

Students Buying Electric Organ

PHS Seniors left today, 250 strong, school cares and work behind them and started on their boat trip to Mackinaw Island. They will join seniors from Redford High School of Detroit, returning Sunday afternoon.

Tuesday, students will get their first view of the new electric organ purchased with money earned from the magazine drive. The organ will be presented to principal John Thors Jr. at an assembly by Student Council president Dick Blacklaw. Ole Foerch, staff organist of WWJ will present a musical concert on the organ, with selections given by the Pontiac High School Senior Girls Ensemble. PTA president for Pontiac High School, Mrs. Donald North, will speak briefly.

With summer vacation right around the corner, picnics and parties by various clubs and activities are rounding out the semester, as other clubs are making preparations for the fall semester.

The lab assistants will travel to Dodge Park Thursday for their annual picnic, at which time they will honor graduating seniors Carol Borsvold, Alice Bego, Norma Bloodworth, Russell Anderson, Roberta Johnson, Marilyn Kizer, Royce Lee, Harold Richards, and James Smith. Also at this time they will select the head lab assistant for the coming semester.

Looking to forthcoming football games and basketball games, four girls were chosen to join the present cheer-leading staff.

The new members are Helene Prizant, Barbara Fair, Marcia Petrie, and Muriel Upton. They join the present staff of Margaret Sevala, Barbara Berg, Linda Burt, Judy Coffer, Fran Glisky, and Marie Meyer.

Tomorrow being armed forces day, the PHS band, under the direction of Dale C. Harris, will march and play in the Armed Forces Day Parade. Recently they gave a concert at Eastern Junior High School.

Also Saturday, six PHS students will travel to Ypsilanti and Mich. State Normal College to participate in the 7th annual Poetry Reading Recital, presenting three poems and a one-act play.

The students participating include Janet Carlisle, with the poem "La Cancion Del Camino," Arlene Kehrl, "Tre Arboles," and Walter Hodge, with his poem "Cancion Anonima." The play "La Fonda Imperial" will be presented by Annie Vasquez, Donna Chilvers, and Mark Rubalcaba, in the roles of Teresa, Anita, and Arturo respectively. They will tour the campus, give their selections, and hear selections by students from Michigan State Normal.

Reds Kill 3 Turk Spies

MOSCOW (AP) — Three men charged with using American equipment to spy on Soviet territory for Turkey have been executed. The Soviet State Security Committee identified them as Ahmid Izmailov, Aurud Zinalov and Katib Asianov. The committee said they were arrested in Kishinov with pistols, cameras, binoculars and an American radio transmitter.

Christ Church Cranbrook Is Result of George Booth's Vision 50 Years Ago

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Because one man, George Booth, had a vision 50 years ago, Dr. Maurice Garabrant will be playing the carillon in Christ Church Cranbrook Sunday at 4 p.m.

In the summer of 1905, George Booth and his wife, Ellen Scripps Booth purchased the farm of Samuel Alexander and came to Bloomfield Hills to live. Mr. Booth saw the need for a religious center for people in the area.

He bought a tent and placed it on the hill on Lone Pine Rd. opposite the present church. His father, Henry Wood Booth taught Sunday School classes and conducted services.

In 1918 George Booth and his father built the "Meeting House" on Cranbrook Rd. Attendance at all services increased and the Booths dreamed of a church and boys' school.

Booth turned to the Rev. Samuel S. Marquis D.D. of Detroit and the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, bishop of Michigan Episcopal diocese, for help in working out the plans.

The church proper was used for the first time Christmas Eve for the midnight service in 1927 and was dedicated in September 1928.

One of the most widely known and best loved features of Christ Church is the huge carillon housed in the belfry.

Carillons are very ancient, dating back to the 10th and 12th centuries. At first the bells were small and played by a performer who tapped them with a hammer.

In Europe the perfecting of the making of carillons took place during the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th centuries. The great bell-founders were the brothers Hemony, the many members of the Vanden Gheyn family and later Dumery.

Dunkerque had a carillon in 1437, Antwerp, 1540 and Bruges in 1675.

The bells in the tower at Christ Church Cranbrook were made in England at the Taylor Bell Foundry. They were dedicated on Sept. 30, 1928 by Anton Brees who is at present the carillonneur of the Bok Singing Tower, Lake Wales, Fla.

There are four complete chromatic octaves . . . that is, 48 notes. The total number of bells is 62, since there are duplicate bells for the last 13 high notes.

BELL WEIGHS 3 TONS

The largest bell is five feet eight inches in diameter and weighs over three tons—6,720 pounds to be exact. The smallest bell weighs 14 pounds.

The 14 largest bells have inscriptions upon them; some are quotations from the Bible, others dedicate the bell to certain people or have been given in memory of some person who served the church, such as the Rev. Samuel Simpson Marquis, first rector of the church.

The carillon is played from a clavier about eight feet long with a pedal board of two octaves and mahogany levers which are struck with the gloved side of the hands. This clavier is in the room below the bells and the wires go up and connect with the balanced clappers which strike the bells.

TO PLAY SELECTIONS

Dr. Garabrant, carillonneur, organist and director of music at Christ Church will play the following selections Sunday, including one of his own compositions:

Eight Changes for 10 Bells
Minuet ..... J. S. Bach
Theme and Variations.....Rusterholz
Etude ....Menotti
Campani a Sera ..... Nino Rota
Divertimento ..... Garabrant
Sonata for Musical Clock ..... Handel
Rock of Ages
The Church's One Foundation
Blest Be the Tie That Binds

In this series two more recitals will be given, May 29 and June 5. The public is invited to drive in the vicinity of the church and listen to the bells. They may be heard from Long Lake Rd. to north Birmingham.

Banquets Now 'Top Topic' of St. Frederick Students

Most of the talk around St. Fred's this week was BANQUET. With memories of the Athletic Banquet still fresh in the minds of athletes, conversation turned to the Junior-Senior Banquet to be held next Wednesday.

Busy juniors could be seen constantly coming and going this week with paints, scissors, pastes, and pencils. But where they were going and what they were making cannot be found out by the curious seniors. But those who know are telling seniors they're in for a delightful time.

As the year draws closer and closer to its end, seniors began work on last contributions to be left to the memories of the juniors. History, prophecy and will. The many things that the seniors did or at least tried to do will be written into the class history by Dorothy Bergin and her committeemen. Who will be doing "what-when-and how" in the decades to come will be prophecied by Marlene Green and committeemen. Henry Landry, with the help of other seniors, will draw up The Last Will and Testament.

The worry of what their hard work merited them on term papers was ended this week as the precious bits of work were passed back to fourth year English students Monday.

Excitement reigned high in the senior room early this week as elections took place. The gal rated to draw the most whistles and second looks, thus being the prettiest was Sharon Wolf. Ross Moody was chosen as every girl's dream come true — the handsomest.

The popularity rating was shared by Gail Dean, Jean McHugh and Mark Peck.

The changeable people of many moods and yet of none—are Sharon Wolf and Michael Wells who were named "Ones with the best dispositions." Votes showed Jean McHugh, basketball captain and Jerry Bradley also basketball captain the best athletes of the year. The best dancers, and the ones not likely to get the mad rush at the next dance were Gail Dean and Jerry Bradley.

Announcements that Jane Hoffman won the Edison Scholarship and Jean McHugh, State Scholarship brought many a hand from classmates this week. . . .

Thursday, being Ascension Thursday the school was closed for the day. The high school journeyed to Dodge Park for class picnics, ball playing, and some possible swimming—or dunking.

Friday the school enjoyed another free day in honor of St. Vincent De Paul, patron of the parish, whose feast day comes the last of July but is celebrated now because school is not in session then.

ton, who has held this position three semesters. Joanna Sherman will be treasurer with Madeline Van Matre as cashier, and Della Guigar as typist. Also 11 new members will join the staff next fall.

Officers were elected for the Future Nurses club at the last meeting, with Marcia Thomas as president, Jackie Randall as vice-president, Pat Zielkie, recording secretary; Carolyn Leacher as corresponding secretary; Nola Rogers as treasurer, and Marilyn Hiscock as historian. June 1 the new officers will be installed along with a picnic at the home of adviser, Mrs. Agnes Buckley.

June 3 the school science fair will open in the girls gymnasium, with projects exhibited in biology, chemistry, physics, general science, and photography. They will be judged and awards will be presented.

The radio workshop will round out its series of "It's Story Time" Wednesday with the show "Mr. Putterbee's Jungle." Story Princess will be Carolyn Hawn, with Burton Belant as Mr. Putterbee. Dick Ramsdell will be Clean-Up Man, Cecille Dubrigue, Christopher the Tiger, Ken Lenigan as Uncle Horace, JoAnn Van Tassel as Jimmie, and Alyce Stephens as Janie.

35 'Americans-by-Choice' Visiting Nation's Capital

A long-time dream of 35 Americans-by-choice began shaping into reality today as they arrived in Washington, D. C., for a first-hand look at the capital of the nation they chose to make theirs.

Accompanied by Miss Janice Antona, instructor of the Pontiac High School evening citizenship class, the new Americans are either already naturalized or will be in the fall.

The 35, who come from 14 different countries, are either members of Miss Antona's citizenship class or the Pontiac New Citizens League.

LEAGUE IS ALUMNI GROUP

It was formed 17 years ago, three years after Miss Antona began teaching immigrants the ways of American life and government at evening classes 20 years ago.

Miss Antona said 2,000 people have attended her night-school classes. At them, the newcomers are prepared for the questions on U. S. government and history they must answer to become citizens.

Such a trip has been talked of many times over the years by her students, all of whom are adults. This, however, is the first mass journey taken to Washington by any of her students.

WILL VISIT CONGRESS

On the trip, the 35 will visit Congress, the White House, Library of Congress, Mt. Vernon, Arlington Cemetery and other points of national interest of which they have only heard or seen pictures.

One highlight of their trip will be a luncheon with Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich.) in the House of Representatives dining room Saturday.

Monday, the group will return home to Pontiac, and a dream will have become a vivid memory.

Handcuff Demonstration Embarrassing to Officer

OMAHA (AP) — It was a snappy exhibition of how to handcuff and chain a dangerous prisoner that U.S. Marshal William Raab gave the Kiwanis Club yesterday.

Embarrassing too.

And that was where the pair went to getRemde free.

Senate OKs Fund Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a bill to set up a Senate-House committee on the budget to keep a rein on the federal spending. It now goes to the House, which twice has failed to adopt such a measure.

Michaelite Staff Is Named for 1955

The halls in the little red schoolhouse on the north side of Pontiac were similar to those of a ghost town at two different times this past week because of free days granted the students.

The reasons for the absence of human life at St. Michaels, 100 Lewis, were B.I.E. Day on Tuesday and Ascension Thursday.

On Thursday the juniors held their annual class picnic at Kensington Park. Even though they were weary from the prom the night before, it was reported that everyone had a grand time.

"One successful project deserves another" is the way the juniors feel. The Junior-Senior prom is now considered an accomplishment of the past. The Bake Sale which is to be held Saturday, May 21, and after Masses on Sunday, May 22, are activities calling for cooperation at this time.

Everyone in school is contributing baked goods, with the juniors doing the selling. All profits are going to be used for new desks in the Biology room.

Father Immel reserved the alleys at West Huron Recreation last Friday and members of the C.Y.O. tried their luck at this sport. Some proved to be almost pros while amateurs like Carol Cramer had to learn that it is the ball that should go down the alley, not the bowlers.

Seniors burned the midnight oil this week as they prepared for reviews. The only drawback in completing these tests is that they are then required to do more studying for the final exams.

Monday students began looking into the future as they made out their pre-registration cards for next year. To most, this was nothing out of the ordinary but to our freshmen of '55 this was a big step before their entrance into high school next fall.

Also concerning next year was the naming of the Michaelite Staff. The reporters are as follows: Colleen McEnery, Frances Hayes, Gerald Simpson, Joseph Tatham, Thomas Kollman, Pat Martin, Loretta Lauinger, Jackie Lambert, Fred West, Janet English, and Elizabeth Klinck.

With this able staff, we are looking forward to exceptional papers during the following semesters.

Members of Junior Achievement attended the J.A. Futures Unlimited Celebration in the Masonic Temple in Detroit on May 12.

The evening's activities gave the achievers the opportunity to become acquainted with the men and organizations that are behind them so wholeheartedly in their work in Junior Achievement.

Hoover Predicts $6 Billion Savings

NEW YORK (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover says his commission recommendations will show how to save taxpayers six billion dollars and enable the Federal Treasury to recoup another seven billions.

Hoover spoke last night before the 39th annual meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board.

* * *

Hoover, head of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, said his proposed savings were based on "elimination of waste and not on strangulation of defense or public welfare."

Seven billion dollars, he said, could be returned to the Treasury through liquidation of government agencies and functions which "compete with private business."

He predicted 70 per cent of the commission's new recommendations will be put into effect.

Four Steamers Sold

DETROIT (UP) — Sale of four T. H. Browning Steamship Co. lake freighters to the Continental Grain Co. of Buffalo was announced here. They will be used as floating grain elevators. Sold were the L. D. Browning, Carl W. Myers, D. A. Maloney and Fred L. Hewitt. Browning also announced purchase of the freighter E. N. Saunders Jr. from the Midland Steamship Co., Cleveland.

Defense Strides Indicated by Tokyo-Australia Flight

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The flight of four American fighter-bomber planes from Japan to Australia points up the amazing progress of Allied defense organization in that part of the world.

It was a dramatic illustration of American striking power—and it ought to make both the Chinese Communists and the Russian Communists do some thinking.

Dispatches emphasized that the planes could have carried atom bombs.

REFUEL IN AIR

Though they were refueled three times in the air by tanker planes, it is still interesting to note that the distance from New York to Moscow is 4,665 miles.

Pearl Harbor Day found the defenses of the western world in the vast Pacific Ocean area woefully weak and completely unorganized.

Australians and New Zealanders then—and also Americans and Canadians on the Pacific Coast—had been alert to what was then called the "yellow peril."

Now we have the more dangerous Red peril of Communism.

But the defenses of the free world are no longer either weak or disorganized.

TOO BIG AN AREA

The Pacific area is so great that a compact organization like that of the North Atlantic Treaty is not practicable.

* * *

The European defense problem is one of land warfare. That of the Pacific is one of covering enormous expanses of water.

In the Pacific, there are the "ANZUS" pact and the "SEATO" pact, binding together eight free countries against aggression.

Australia, New Zealand and the United States signed the ANZUS defense treaty in September 1951, after the signing of the Japanese peace treaty.

These three countries are now allied with Great Britain, France, the Philippine Islands, Thailand and Pakistan in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact, concluded last September.

MAP DEFENSE

Eighty-six military experts of the eight countries met late last month at Baguio, summer capital of the Philippines, to organize their defense plans.

The United States striking power which the Tokyo-Sydney jets illustrated has been shown also by the 7th Fleet.

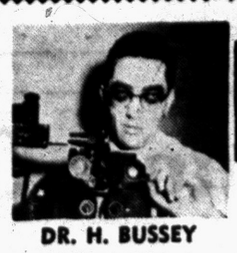

In the evacuation of the Chinese Nationalist garrison and thousands of civilians from the Tachen Islands, and in the evacuation of Indochinese civilians from Communist northern Viet Nam, the 7th Fleet showed what it can do in a cold war.

It was certainly not because he thought the United States was weak in that aera that Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai made his offer at the Asia-Africa conference at Bandung to negotiate directly on problems which are causing tension.

Peale Doses Self With Spiritual Vitamins

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

(This is the last of three articles by Miss Battelle about Dr. Norman Vincent Peale.)

NEW YORK (INS) — Dr. Norman Vincent Peale was a slim young man with fat hopes for saving the world—as quickly as possible—when he came out of Boston University as a bachelor of sacred theology.

Intent upon tackling big things first, he asked the Methodist bishop of New York if he could have a church in the great city.

The bishop, slightly amused but more impressed by the unusual request, gave Peale his first assignment.

GOT $1,000 A YEAR

Peale recalls, "I received $1,000 a year, and the second year was raised to $1,100." (This is less than he makes for some speeches today.) "But I never thought of asking for an increase in salary. To me, that has always been the greatest violation of ministerial responsibility.

* * *

Today, though Dr. Peale is believed to be making as much as a big-business corporation president from his many speaking and writing chores, he is still staying away from "this side of the picture."

"I don't want to hedge," he says, frowning. "But I really have no idea how the family finances are." That, he added, is the problem of his wife, fellow worker and bookkeeper, Ruth.

Peale's Brooklyn church quickly grew. Within three years, the congregation mounted to 800 and a circus tent was built outside to hold them.

In 1927, he was called to the University Methodist Church in Syracuse, N. Y., and once again made sacred walls bulge. Five years later he was offered the 325-year-old Marble Collegiate Church on Fifth avenue in New York City. From a membershop of 590, the church grew into the 4,200-congregation class.

SERVICE TELEVISED

The church itself holds only 1,600, so closed-circuit television brings the service to 500 persons in the basement, while others listen, by loudspeaker, in an upstairs chapel. Still more than 1,000 persons must be turned away each Sunday morning and evening.

The reason is that Peale has a new concept in preaching. He believes that to sell anything, you've got to make your product understandable, and put it in such a way that it will fill the customer's deepest needs.

Peale sells good naturedly and dramatically. He often leaves his audience laughing. He always appears to leave his audience deeply impressed with one basic new though and hope.

Between Friday night and Sunday, the bespectacled minister tries to leave New York for a quick day of meditation and recreation with his family: Wife; daughters Margaret, 21 (a senior at Ohio Wesleyan University) and Elizabeth, 11; a son John, 18 (a freshman at Washington and Lee).

The site is Pawling, N. Y., where the Peales have a farm and a large white house, a full-time farmer caretaker, a maid, an elderly spaniel named Lassie and a youthful cat called Betsy.

'THAT GETS MY GOAT'

Son John went through a period, recently, when he didn't want to go to church. His father asked why. John said, "Oh, everybody nudges each other and says I'm your son. That gets my goat."

Dr. Peale, recalling his own youthful resentment at being a minister's son, arranged for John to leave the family pew and sit, in isolation, in the right balcony. All has been peaceful since, and "now John tells me he is even going to be a minister too," Peale says proudly.

* * *

Although Norman Peale was brought up a firm Methodist, he has modern ideas. He approves of dancing, movies, card games, the theater ("except when those blasted playwrights use words I used to see on back fences.") On the subject of alcholic beverages he is less tolerant.

"People who handle liquor with control can be fine ladies and gentlemen," he says, "but people who are really smart and wise don't get their thrill out of a glass.

"I think we ought to develop a breed of people who can out-laugh, out-love and out-enjoy all other people—and do it because they have deep mental and spiritual stimulation."

That's where he has always tried to get his strength, Peale says, and not from alcohol or pills or other diverting "crutches."

"I take spiritual vitamins," he says, "supplemented by occasional mental capsules. They seem to be quite effective."

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A psychology professor at the state college here was having trouble finding a class room to show his class a film.

He finally found one and set up the projector. Then a fuse blew out. After that was repaired it was discovered that someone had forgotten to bring the film.

The film's title: "Frustration."

Control Asked on Gas Prices

House Group Suggests State Agency Insure 'Reasonable Charge'

LANSING (AP)—The House Public Utilities Committee has asked the Legislature to give the Public Service Commission control over gasoline prices.

Members said the committee had amended a minor Senate bill to give the commission authority to ensure a "reasonable charge" for gasoline and diesel fuel distributed by retailers.

The committee amendment would have to be approved by the House itself, the Senate and Gov. Williams before the commission could act in setting gasoline prices.

Meanwhile, major oil companies doing business in Michigan have been asked to justify recent gasoline price increases.

GAS HIGHER IN STATE

They also have been asked to explain why Michigan gas is higher than in the neighboring states.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, who called the representatives of all the major companies to a meeting in his office yesterday, said all had agreed to submit detailed individual reports.

* * *

Kavanagh called the meeting at the request of Gov. Williams after there was a general gas price hike of a cent for premium gas and a half cent for regular.

"We have an open mind on whether any civil or criminal action is justified," Kavanagh said. "We will go into the matter as deep as need be to see if the increases are justified."

Kavanagh said the companies were asked for a complete breakdown of all the costs that go to make up the eventual price to the customer. He said the companies will report back June 4.

* * *

Companies represented at the meeting included Shell Oil, Cities Service Oil, Sun Oil, Gulf Refining, Pure Oil, Texas, Sinclair Refining, Standard Oil and Socony Mobil Oil.

Top Capitol Dems Give Heifer to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Black Angus heifer was added today to the smal herd of cattle President Eisenhower is accumulating at his Gettysburg farm.

"I'll tell you exactly where she runs," he told the Women's National Press Club last night as he accepted the animal from two top Democrats in Congress — Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, both of Texas.

The President offered that comment—but none on whether he plans to run for a second term—after a series of skits built around his possible future plans.

A CRUISE TO HAWAII—5
Hawaiian Sports

Surfboard riding, especially at Waikiki Beach, is a popular and thrilling sport, both for tourists and the Hawaiians. The long surfboards, made of wood, can carry an expert rider very fast over the water. The trick is to know how to catch the crest of a wave just at the right moment and balance yourself.

In addition to swimming, boating and sailing, there is also sledding. Not on snow, but down mountain slopes covered with thick, slippery grass. The sleds are made of grass and are called holuas.

Hawaiians love all kinds of sports. Baseball, boxing and wrestling are popular. The children play a game of barefoot football, in which they kick the ball with their bare feet.

Color the drawing of the young boy on his surfboard. Cut around the circle and also around the drawing of the boy in the top part of the circle only. When you fold the top part down, the boy remains standing and you can rock the surfboard rider as he would rock on the waves.

Tomorrow: The hula dance.

Depending upon the amount of milk produced, an average dairy cow requires from 10 to 20 gallons of water per day.

Casablanca Scene of Arab Violence

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP) — Violence is mounting in this French North African protectorate as Ramadan—the Moslem month of fasting—nears its end.

Casablanca, a center of Arab nationalist agitation, was the scene of a series of shootings and other incidents yesterday that left at least one Moroccan dead. At Oujda, a European was killed in a shooting.

Police patrols were increased in Casablanca as demonstrators stoned several buses, cut telephone lines and sabotaged a railroad signal. Many Moslem shops were closed. Police confiscated the stocks of the few merchants who tried to sell on the streets.

Nationalist pamphlets urged a shopkeepers' strike over the weekend. They called for another shutdown to last until May 26 after a brief opening Monday, the end of Ramadan.

Astors Agree About Custody

Millionaire, 2nd Wife Also Involved in Battle Over Separation

NEW YORK (AP)—An out-of-court settlement has been reached between John Jacob Astor and his second wife Gertrude Gretsch Astor over custody of their 6-year-old daughter Mary Jacqueline.

* * *

The Astors were married in September 1944. She is suing for a separation and for a judgment declaring a Mexican divorce Astor obtained in June 1954 is invalid. He has filed a countersuit.

Mrs. Astor won custody of the girl last December, along with temporary alimony of $2,500 and $1,000 a month for the child. The amount for the child later was reduced to $500.

* * *

Astor contended in a State Supreme Court action filed last April 7 that he had not seen his daughter since March 21 and had not been able to talk with her by telephone.

In Supreme Court yesterday, counsel for both sides agreed on "satisfactory" visiting rights for the father. Terms were not disclosed.

* * *

There were reports of an out-of-court settlement of the couple's pending separation battle, but lawyers refused to comment.

After obtaining the Mexican divorce, Astor married Dolores Fullman, from whom he now is separated.

Pats Backs of Employment Agencies

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Because more and more older women continue to write me about the bad treatment they think they are getting at private employment agencies, I'm going to let loose and tell them a thing or two.

First of all, the employment agency is a field in which I myself have worked.

My experience has been that, as a rule, the applicant, who gets treated badly, more than asks for it.

Moreover, many of the people in the field are friends of mine and they are, on the whole, decent, hard-working humanitarians.

They know full well that their livelihood depends on getting good applicants.

If they behave unkindly, it is because the applicant in question has provoked them and has proved, moreover, how totally unemployable she is, on the basis of manners alone.

NEEDS ADVICE

On the other hand, I know, understand, sympathize with and like the older woman.

But she does need advice on how to behave in the employment agency.

Too many times, the older woman, applying for a job, has been at home for years, bossing her children and husband around, and running her own little kingdom.

So, if she doesn't feel like filling in the card, she doesn't.

If she doesn't feel like speaking to the receptionist or secretary, she demands to speak to the boss personally.

This is not good business manners. A business office has a reason for its procedures.

If you want them to help you, you must play it their way.

Don't be aggressive about your age.

Even if people have previously turned you down as "too old"—which is shocking and demoralizing, I agree—don't take out your anger against previous hurts on the people who are now interviewing you.

GIVE IT A TRY

Don't be close-minded.

If the agency suggests a job, don't turn it down in advance because you think it's too far from your home, or the hours don't exactly suit you, or it's a field you think you might not adore.

Youth is characterized, among other things, by the "I'll give it a try" approach.

Don't argue. If the agency advertises a job you think you're perfect for, respect their opinion if they think you are not.

Don't try to force them to send you out. They are responsible for filling the employer's orders.

They will only alienate him—fail to place you—if they send you on a job for which you are not qualified.

Mothers, Girls Attend Banquet

An annual mother and daughter banquet was enjoyed by those who gathered Thursday evening in Stevens Hall of All Saints Episcopal Church.

The invocation was given by the Rev. C. George Widdifield. Following dinner, the girls sang "Davy Crockett" to the mothers and the mothers sang "My Wild Irish Rose," under the direction of Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer.

Mrs. Stanley Watson was toastmistress and toasts to mothers and daughters were given by Jeanette Cockle and Mrs. Frederick Cockle.

Bride Wants No Children at Wedding

Exclude Children by Adding Note to Invitations

By EMILY POST

A bride-tp-be writes: "At several weddings which I have been to in the past, there were quite a few children present who caused much unnecessary confusion.

"I wish to avoid this at my wedding and am wondering what, if anything, I can put on the invitations so that guests will be sure not to bring along their children. Will you help me?"

Answer: If you address your wedding invitations to Mr. and Mrs. alone and make no mention of their children, they should certainly leave them at home.

But if they are known to take the children everywhere they go, you could write at the bottom of the invitations, "Deeply regret that we are unable to include the children."

WANTS 1ST HUSBAND'S NAME

Dear Mrs. Post: My first husband died, and two years later I remarried. This second marriage was a very unhappy one and after several years I divorced my husband.

Would it be proper for me to go back to my first husband's name? I do not want any part of my second husband's name as it is very distasteful to me.

Answer: It is unusual but not unheard of for a woman to go back to her first husband's name—especially when she has children by this first marriage and wants to have the same name as theirs.

THANK YOU IN ORDER

Dear Mrs. Post: A neighbor of ours sent my daughter a birthday card for her sixteenth birthday in which she enclosed a very pretty handkerchief.

I told my daughter that I thought she should write, or telephone, Mrs. Neighbor and thank her for this thoughtful gesture.

But she does not think it is necessary to make a special point of saying thank you as a single handkerchief could hardly be considered a present. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: A handkerchief is definitely a present and should be thanked for.

Use Dry Bleaches for Whiter Whites

For washing all cottons, linens, nylons, dacrons and orlons, the way to make white things whiter and colorfast, brighter, is to use chlorine bleach in dry form.

Food for Thought Is Given to Moms

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Sandra K. is 12. Her mother is worried about the effect of her stubbornness on her younger children.

"If I tell her anything at all, she gets sore," writes Mrs. K. "If I say it's too late to go out with a girl friend, she'll stay in—but get sore. She'll start teasing the younger kids or turn on the TV too loud, just to plague me.

She gives me no backtalk but just acts so stubborn and fresh all the time. . ."

Perhaps Sandra holds some unflattering opinion of her mother.

Does this possibility scare Mrs. K? It shouldn't. Children sometimes do find fault in us, just like a neighbor or other relative. Our daughter may regard us as a nagger, for example.

And instead of putting this opinion into accusing words she fears may touch off some awful retaliation she uses the language of accusing action to tell us what she thinks.

So we say: "Sandra, you don't like something in Mother. Instead of turning up the volume on the TV, tell me what it is."

The problem is, can her mother listen to the words?

It's very hard to listen to an accusing child without a good opinion of ourselves. With a poor one, we can't stand it, but get caught in angry impluses to shout "ingratitude," to explain how mistaken he is and attack him back by itemizing all his own sins for him.

His poor opinion of us, combining with our own, upsets us so that we have to stop listening—and lose a wonderful illumination.

If we cannot listen quietly to Sandra's accusation of nagging, we may never see that it's nothing but an upside-down way of begging us to be more patient with her.

We may never perceive that her accusing words are really an appeal to restore her trust of us. And that instead of being a hateful person to Sandra, we are in fact one of most precious importance.

Once we know this, nothing can ever be really despairing between us and a child again.

However, I cannot say, "Mrs. K., encourage your daughter to attack you in words." I don't know Mrs. K. Even if I did, I should not say it.

For I've no way of knowing how Sandra's poor opinion of her mother might affect her. All I know is, is that human relationships, including those with children, can get terribly snarled up so long as we insist on holding unflattering opinions of ourselves.

It may be just such an opinion of herself that's Mrs. K.'s problem.

Chairs Defy Weather, Storage Just as Simple

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Go without smart little outdoor chairs now — just because of the problems they create in the winter?

You won't, if you look at the new ones. Designers have thought of more than looks and comfort—these new chairs are also solvers of storage problems.

Some fold to a few inches wide. Others have open backs so the chairs can hang high on hooks, to need no floor space at all.

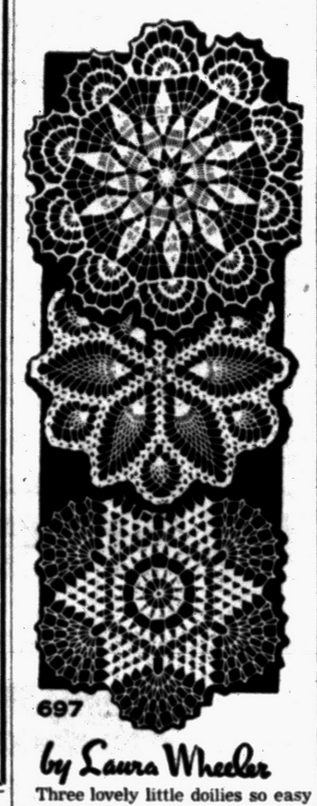

High hanging is possible even for the flash-fold contour type chair sketched. Light weight is also a helpful feature, for storing or moving at any time.

Especially if the chairs must be brought in at night, although all of these take weather lightly with sturdy finishes and duck or even quicker drying saran fabrics.

The chair sketched at lower right could easily become the new classic chair of this kind.

It has looks and comfort that swings it to the top of the list, and comes in two versions: one smaller and higher, and this one, in low and wide lounging proportions.

Learn how to reclaim and restyle old furniture with beautiful finishes—and what to do about furniture finish repair. Send today for Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet Furniture Refinishing—How to Do It Yourself. Address Miss Hillyer at this newspaper and enclose 15c in coin, together with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Intellectual Inferiority Could Threaten Nation

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Anybody who cares to take the trouble can play this kind of snide joke on his fellows.

I know because I checked the possibilities after I heard the story of a pollster who (on a busman's holiday, I guess) submitted to 1,000 persons picked at random a list of 10 questions about proposed legislation that didn't exist.

The thousand were asked to say whether they favored, opposed or had no convictions on such subjects as the Non-Ferrous Metals act of 1955, the Supreme Court decision to close all national parks, station rationing of farm equipment, and finally, government subsidies for life insurance policies.

More than 90 per cent of those polled unquestioningly said they approved or disapproved of each issue—and less than 10 per cent admitted they didn't know what the surveyor was talking about.

It was a mean trick but that dishonest 90 per cent gives me pause, not only about humans but about polls. It's not the first time I've had misgivings, either.

Several years ago, a prominent straw-vote taker came right out and said that fear of intellectual inferiority causes many of those interviewed to answer untruthfully. He cited a poll in which people were asked to name their favorite books.

The results indicated that Americans as a nation spend most of their reading time gamboling through the pages of Hamlet, or other Shakespeare masterpieces.

And judging by another survey, he added, almost every adult in one large city habitually reads a newspaper with a great reputation for respectability and conservatism.

Yet the paper has the smallest circulation of the community's several dailies.

The Non-Ferrous Metals Act of 1955 apparently sounds so official and convincing that nobody likes to say simply, "I never heard of it!"

Most of the friends I queried looked becomingly modest and murmured phrases like "I don't really know very much about it," or "I'd have to read up on it a little more before I could express an opinion." Nobody hinted that there was no such thing or even that they'd never heard of it.

It's easy to smile at the pretension of a few friends too vain to admit ignorance. But the situation changes when you begin to wonder how much thought the average citizen actually gives to real issues.

Walter Lippmann, in his recent book, "The Public Philosophy," raises a question about public opinion and the influence it exerts upon our important servants, the President, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of Defense.

Such opinion, it is evident, may lag far behind events and may be, especially in times of crisis, over-emotional and, worse, ill-informed.

Frightening thought, isn't it, when any minute the issue may be something like peace or war?

Matchmaker Laments His Cupid-Like Tactics

Girl He Tried to Pair With Boy Friend Is Now Only One With Whom He's Smitten

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Three of us boys run around together — we're an inseparable trio.

There's Dud who attracts girls easily and is attracted by them; Buck who's the handsomest but not interested in girls—he's all for sports; and me, Pat, the leader and counselor of the trio.

"I've always been able to solve all our problems up to now. But Cathy is our unsolvable problem.

"When we first met her Dud fell for her, but Cathy didn't like him for a beau. I fell for her too — but Cathy took a liking to Buck!

"Knowing how she felt about him I tried to bring them together (as I've successfully done to other couples before).

"It took me three months to break him down and I'm still not sure he's hooked. Meantime I'm stuck with being crazy about Cathy myself.

"She told me there could be nothing between us now—maybe later. As I figure it Cathy and Buck won't last much longer.

"And there's no point in my looking around for another girl to like— I like Cathy too much. There just might be a chance for me. What do you think?"

Answer—Cathy has been faced with an inseparable trio of boy friends. You've probably been together every time you've seen her. The three of you have your private little jokes, your own language, your own give-and-take in getting along with each other.

And it's been tough for Cathy to find out how each of you ticked individually and alone.

It was normal enough that she should take a liking to Buck. He was the only one of the three who hadn't fallen for her right off the bat!

His indifference piqued her. His hard-to-get act challenged her. And that's probably as deep as her affection for him went. It's likely to evaporate if he reciprocates.

CATCH HER FOR YOURSELF

All of this match-making of yours is big-hearted and generous, of course. But it leaves you out in the cold. It's the John Alden act with no hope of a surprise happy ending.

As I see it, the way to make the climate a bit warmer around your own heart, is to make a real play for Cathy yourself. But quite on your own and separate from your cronies.

But see to it that Cathy has a wonderful time when she's out with you. See to it that Cathy discovers you're the most considerate and thoughtful guy she's ever ran into.

See to it that Cathy finds out how you really tick and learns to appreciate you for yourself alone. As she grows used to you, she'll begin to count on you.

When that time comes, avoid her for a while. Let her miss you.

And there'll be nothing wrong! She'll have made the astounding discovery that she likes you after all! (Now who's playing matchmaker?)

Sweetened Canned Milk Eases Baking

Mrs. John Harlow Makes Lemon Pie Without Cooking

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Would you like a recipe for a lemon pie that needs no cooking? We suggest you try Mrs. John Harlow's condensed milk lemon pie. With it you can use either a regular pie shell or a vanilla wafer crust.

The Harlow family is new in this part of the country. Originally from New England, they have lived some years in the south before moving to Westacres. Mrs. Harlow enjoys reading and bridge. She helps with a Girl Scout troop, working mainly with handcrafts. At this time of the year, however, her chief joy is gardening.

EASY LEMON PIE
By Mrs. John Harlow

1 pie shell, either pastry or vanilla wafer
1 large can sweetened condensed milk
½ cup lemon juice
2 eggs, separated
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
3 tablespoons sugar

Beat egg yolks slightly, add lemon juice and mix well. Add lemon rind to condensed milk, then egg and lemon mixture. Set in the refrigerator while you are preparing the meringue.

Beat the eggs until they stand in soft peaks. Add the cream of tartar and the sugar. Continue beating until stiff but not dry.

Pour the lemon filling into the prepared crust. Cover with the meringue. Bake in a 450-degree oven 5-10 minutes, or until brown. Place in refrigerator again until ready to serve. Makes an 8-inch pie.

If you wish to serve more people, double the recipe for the filling, but use only one crust. This pie is rich and smaller, but thicker helpings will be ample.

Mothers, Daughters Gather at Supper

Members and guests of St. Trinity Lutheran Ladies Guild gathered recently for a mother and daughter night. A cooperative supper was served to 175 people.

Mrs. Donald Woon was honored for having the youngest daughter present. The evening's program concluded with group singing.

Mrs. Allan Hawke Hostess to Group

Mrs. Allan W. Hawke of Dixie highway was hostess to members of the January-March Group of First Presbyterian church.

Godfrey Doesn't Think of Retiring

By CHARLES P. ARNOT

NEW YORK (INS)—Arthur Godfrey, a grandfather with a painful hip, will be 52 in August.

In October, he will complete the 26th year of one of broadcasting's most fabulous careers.

* * *

Is the end nearing for Godfrey? Is he slipping?

One authority close to the subject of Arthur Godfrey is the redhead himself. This is how he views the future:

The hip: "I am going to leave it alone for a long time. It's not a successful hip, but it's amazing how well one can get along without walking."

SLIPPING HE LIKES

The show: "We're doing just the kind of slipping I like to do."

Godfrey chuckles a baritone solo over the latest "Variety" ratings.

"The rating on the Monday night (Talent Scouts) show is as high today as it's ever been. And we're the only Wednesday night show (Arthur Godfrey & His Friends) that 'Disneyland' hasn't hurt.

'There are 165 network TV shows on the air, and we're 13th (Talent Scouts) and 16th (Friends). We're exactly where we were in the standings a year ago, and against tougher competition. We didn't have 'Disneyland' against us then."

Godfrey says listener statistics show that during the past year the Godfrey audience has expanded into 3,000,000 more homes. He says it's still going up as more homes get more TV sets.

"And look at this." He produced a letter from the advertising account executive for one of his biggest sponsors, a permanent wave company.

It read: "We wouldn't swap Godfrey for any other show on the air because of the guy's salesmanship."

* * *

Godfrey volunteered a million dollars worth of famous grin:

"Does that look like this is the end—like we're slipping? Not to me it don't."

HAIR STILL FLAMES

There's not a single gray hair in his flaming red head. He's up to 189 pounds, but is dieting to get down to 170. He's fit and thriving on a 60-hour work week. If only it weren't for that hip . . .

* * *

Two years ago this month, Godfrey went into Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital for a complex operation to correct damage to his right hip socket. It was the aftermath of a 1931 auto smashup outside Washington that nearly cost his life. For 21 years, he couldn't even tie his own shoe.

Surgeons cut and scraped and attached a vitallium cup to the head of the bone part called the "femur." They bitted this into the hip socket, but it's still unstable.

"It slides around in there," Godfrey explains. 'But I'm not figuring on another operation. I'm no longer even taking treatments. The therapy is now my own."

When he sits down after moving around, he gets violent pains. Only three weeks ago he discarded his crutches for the first time and now gets around on a cane. The operation was not a succes, but there are some immediate compensations.

CAN RIDE HORSES

"I can now ride a horse. I can fly better than ever with these legs. And I have almost 100 per cent range of motion."

* * *

Retire? Godfrey says he's never given it a thought.

"When you start to think about retiring in this busines, you might as well be dead."

He also says there will be no sweeping changes in the Godfrey format except for (1) more flexibility in the use of entertainers, and (2) the Wednesday night show will go on film beginning this fall because Godfrey feels it's easier to maintain consistently high quality and correct mistakes.

Godfrey's basic programing philosophy hasn't changed, nor will it.

"I try to do two things. First to entertain by presenting good programs, especially youngsters who are coming along. From now on, we won't stop them on our program, but will help them move along.

* * *

"And second, I try to discuss with people the things I think might be of interest to them. I try to get it so that even when you listen and say he's a dumb guy, you'll know he's telling the truth."

The future will find Godfrey's talent "rotating and moving."

NO MORE GANG

"Never again will we get into anything such as a gang. I got touted into it in the first place. And no more contracts—not in the future."

Singers Frank Parker and Janette Davis and announcer Tony Marvin will remain under their present contracts. Also remaining will be the singing McGuire sisters and Irish songstress Carmel Quinn, who've never had contracts.

"We're all nice and happy," Godfrey says. "Nobody is mad at anybody. We'll keep these people here as long as they want. They're a wonderful, loyal bunch."

Another member of the "family," young singer Lu Ann Sims, has been off the show awaiting the stork, and Godfrey says he does not know just what plans CBS has for her.

"She's under contract to CBS. I don't even know what her plans will be after having the baby."

TEARS FOR ARCHIE

At mention of his deposed orchestra leader Archie Bleyer, a trace of tears showed in the Godfrey eyes.

"In 1953, he came in and said he wanted a week's vacation to go fishing down South. Some days later I was called from Chicago and told that Bleyer had been out there making recordings for our own competition (Don McNeill of ABC).

* * *

"I couldn't believe it, so I decided to ask Archie himself. He said he went on vacation for one day and admitted making the recordings. I fired him and I hated to do it. He is a gentleman and a good musician. He just got his perspective twisted. I still can't understand what happened to him.

'Some of the papers said I fired Blyer because he was in love with one of the Chordettes (who formerly sang on the Godfrey show). That's not true."

The Godfrey blue eyes sharpened at mention of the three writers dropped in the April 11 firings (Charles Horner, Preston H. Miles and Charles Slocum).

"Those writers? Sure I'm a cold fish with guys like that. It's the only way I could get any work out of them. Any time I'd come around and try to be friendly and joke with them, their output for the next few days would fall way off.

ONLY ONE WRITER

"But Andy Rooney — he's the only writer I've got—there's a guy. He's always the same, always plugging."

This is Godfrey. He's the idol of millions, yet he's also been branded a "phony" and called "King Arthur the Tyrant."

* * *

"To Arthur Godfrey, who's like Will Rogers, with a touch of Benjamin Franklin. He takes the swelling out of their heads, puts courage in their hearts and laughter in their lives."

This is the Godfrey who says:

"Every day before I go on the air I pray. I ask for guidance to say the right thing. Some days I guess he doesn't listen as well as others."

He's also the Godfrey who wishes he were a better grammarian, and (off the air) can call on one of the most colorful and scorching barroom vocabularies in the business.

NO FEAR OF DEATH

He doesn't fear death, but would fear being a helpless and hopeless cripple. He says he's personally happy.

H has no political ambitions, says he tries to pattern his life after the counsel of the late Albert Einstein: "Don't try to be a successful man, just try to be a valuable man."

* * *

The most controversial man in the business is a combination of driving perfectionist and sensitive sentimentalist who says:

"I never did something with the idea it would bring me success. I always tried to improve the show."

HOLLAND (AP) — A farmers steering committee, headed by Marvin Smith of rural Zeeland, has scheduled a meeting next Friday to discuss plans for a farmers market in Holland.

Precarious Pedaler

BRENTWOOD, England (AP) — Paul West, 23, was fined a pound ($2.80) yesterday for "riding furiously" on his bicycle. A witness said West crashed into a parked car with such force that his head and shoulders went through the canvas top.

Detroit Man Denies Narcotics Charges

DETROIT (AP) — Hussine Hider, 41-year-old Detroit grocer, now denies he ever had any connection with a purported international heroin smuggling ring.

Hider is under $25,000 bond and facing a federal charge that he was the Detroit end of a heroin smuggling plot stretching from Michigan to the Middle East. Specifically he is accused of conspiracy.

Hider, the father of seven children, said he once had turned down an offer to become involved in narcotics smuggling, despite pressing economic circumstances.

He pleaded for a lower bond, saying he had to work part-time in a factory while his wife operated their grocery store so they could meet obligations.

Two men are held in Beirut, Lebanon, in connection with what federal agents say was a plot to smuggle in two million dollars worth of heroin. They are Mounib Amine El Ghorayeb and Saline Galeini.

Tony and Janet Abandon Plans to Take Long Trip

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—All those plans Tony Curtis made to take a long trip with Janet Leigh have gone out the window. Janet tells me they will have two long weekends, one at Las Vegas before Tony goes to work.

He's doing road work, training, and using the punching bag to get in readiness for "The Square Jungle," a prize fight story which starts the middle of next month.

This is a tale right after Tony's heart. When he was signed by Universal-International he was playing in "Golden Boy" in a Greenwich Village theater.

TO CANADIAN WOODS

Franchot Tone says after "Oh Men, Oh Women" closes he's going to take his two sons to the Canadian woods and spend six weeks shooting and fishing with them.

"I have to be in New York in the late summer to discuss the new TV series I'm going to do for Charles Norton," he said.

"We bought all of William Seabury's stories and my first is 'Witchcraft.' We've engaged Dr. J. B. Ryan, psychologist of Duke University, to adapt some of the stories, as our writer."

Franchot said that Ann Jackson, who is so amusing as the neurotic patient in "Oh Men, Oh Women," expects a baby in about four months.

NEW ROLE FOR PHIL

Phil Harris and Alice Faye are such confirmed Palm Springers, golfing and swimming, that it takes something really important to blast them into town.

But something important did come up for Phil who motored up Tuesday to sign for another role with William Wellman. Remember how good Phil was in that other Wellman opus, "The High and the Mighty"?

Yahnke, Sheldon in Big Wins for Wolves, Maples

Extra-Inning Victories Vital; Lancaster, Wright Turn in Fine Jobs

Bob Yahnke and Dick Sheldon were the toast of their respective schools today after pitching key baseball victories in area high school league play Thursday. Both had to go extra innings to provide triumphs for Clarkston and Birmingham clubs.

Clarkston moved into 1st place in the Wayne-Oakland League with a thrilling 11-inning 7-6 verdict over Clarenceville. Birmingham had to go eight innings to nip Port Huron, 2-1.

Clarkston's Bob Yahnke went the route for the Wolves and struck out 17 batters, while walking 3. He yielded 8 hits. On 3 occasions, Clarkston came from behind. The score was 5-5 in the 7th and each pushed over a run in the 8th.

Sheldon outdueled Port Huron's Dick Turner as each tossed 3-hitters. The Birmingham ace fanned 19 men in the 8 innings and walked only 1. He walked to lead off the 8th and scored the decisive run all the way from 1st on a misjudged fly ball.

It was the Maples' 7th straight win, 5 of which have come in defense of their Eastern Michigan title.

Elsewhere, Milford whipped Brighton, 9-1, as Dan Lancaster gave 2 hits and whiffed 12. Northville's Aubrey King shutout West Bloomfield, 3-0, with 5 hits and 11 strikeouts.

Another pitching masterpiece was turned in by Lynn Wright of Avondale who faced only 22 men as he set Lake Orion down with a lone single. He fanned 8. In another Oakland-B game, league-leading Clawson blanked Troy, 4-0, although getting only 3 hits.

Chiefs Prepare for State Meet

Pontiac High School's golf team left for Battle Creek this morning for a practice round at the Battle Creek Country Club in preparation for Saturday's MHSAA state finals over the same 18-hole layout.

Coach John Maturo's Chiefs qualified for the Class A meet by finishing 3rd at the Brighton regional a week ago today. Among their competitors will be Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Midland, and the unbeaten Birmingham squad.

PHS' linksmen concluded their regular season with a respectable six victories in nine matches, and led by Bill Martin and Tom Cross with 85 apiece, captured 2nd in the SVC meet at the Owosso Country Club last Monday. They were nosed out, 340-341, by the champion Flint Northern crew and had to settle for a 2nd-place tie with Saginaw Arthur Hill in final Valley standings.

Davison Trotter Sets Track Mark

DETROIT (UP) — Lord Pick, four-year-old trotter owned by A. L. Baster, of Davison, cracked the track trotting record twice at Hazel Park Raceway last night to win the $5,000 Ville De Troit.

The champion trotter, who tied the track record of 2:03-4/5 last Saturday, won the 1st heat in 2:03-1/5 and came back in the final dash to outdistance a field of nine in 2:03.

MUSIAL SCORES — Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals' slugging outfielder, is safe as he slides across the plate to score in the 3rd inning of a benefit exhibition game at Busch Stadium Thursday night. Cleveland catcher Hal Naragon is receiving the ball from outfield too late to tag Musial. Umpire is Bill Engeln. Musial scored from 1st on Bill Sarni's double to right field.

Chief Thinclads Set Sights on State Title

With one of the largest, if not the largest corps of qualifiers in the Michigan high school state track and field championships, Saturday, at East Lansing, Pontiac high is generally rated over the state as "the team to beat."

Coach Wally Schoerke's Chief thinclads qualified 19 athletes at Ypsilanti's MHSAA regionals last Saturday. They are represented in all events bu the 100 and 220 yard dashes. In their sensational 95 point regional victory, Chief's qualified three men in at least two events, two in most of the others.

Pontiac will be exceptionally strong in the two relay events. As far as PHS sports officials can determine no state school has posted better times in the sprint medley or the half-mile relay than those the Pontiac quartets have turned in (2:30.2 and 1:32.0).

Archie Brooks (soph), Willie Wilson (senior), Charles Spann (junior) and Jim Shorter (junior) set the regional and PHS mark last Saturday. The quartet is capable of beating the Michigan prep mark of 2:29.7, Schloerke believes.

"With perfect baton passing the boys should better the state record, set by Northern in 1953," Wally figures.

Other big threats to the state's best include the Chiefs most consistent point-maker, Hayes Jones, who holds the PHS (and other meet) record for the 120 yard high hurdles at 14.8. Hayes has turned in a 15-point per meet average all season. He wins the high sticks, usually the broad jump, and places in the high jump and low hurdles.

Perry Williams in the mile is another. Perry set a new PHS mark 4:37.6 last weekend. Val Creger set the old mark at 4:38.0 in 1928, and Arnold Rhodes (1950), and George Johnson (1953) tied it.

One of the most improved athletes on the squad is Hudson Ray, who set the PHS mark of 6 feet 2 inches this season. He's a sophomore who may develop into the finest high jumper in the area.

Wilie Wilson's 20 seconds for the 180 yard low hurdles is a new school record this year. Schloerke thinks Willie can do even better.

The coach voiced the views of the entire squad today when he said "we're going to the state meet with an understandable selfish attitude. We're hoping to bring back three trophies; the state championship team trophy, the sprint medley trophy and the half mile relay.

"As for the season so far, personally I'm glad to see my five cross-country leaders all finding places going to the state meet, Pery Williams and Gene Cretel in the mile, Bill Douglas, Norris Jackson and Rod Treais in the 880. All but Jackson, who will be lost by the age ruling, will be back next year, solving any distance problems."

Classes A-C will be held on Michigan State Jenison field. Classes B-D will be run at University of Michigan Ferry Field.

'Important' Rehearsal

Members of the Old Timers' Baseball club will engage in an "important" practice session Sunday. Workout will be at Washington Junior High School field, starting at 9 a.m.

Top U. S. Amateur Golfers Open Walker Cup Defense

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 20 (UP) — The United States' top amateur golfers opened their Walker Cup defense today against what may prove one of Great Britain's stiffest challenges in years.

Optimistic Britons, who have seen the Cup in American hands for 17 years, caim their team has looked just as impressive as the Americans in practice rounds over the windswept Old Course. They argue, too, that their golfers are just as experienced and have as many first class tournament records as the U.S. squad.

* * *

Harvie Ward of San Francisco and Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Texas, were the first Americans off the tee (4 a.m., EST) as the foursome matches began. They played Britain's Joe Carr and Ronny White.

British observers felt that continued rough weather during today's matches might give them a slight edge going into tomorrow's singles.

* * *

The Americans, however, enerally are favored. But Capt. Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., admitted just before the matches got under way that "this British team will be tough to beat here at St. Andrews. It's a tough assignment."

The course, whipped by sea winds and a nightmare of weather, is a demanding 6,936 yards with a par of 72.

Class A Loop Opens Season Monday Night

Jets and Motors Tilt Is Opening Feature of a Twin Bill

Another Class A City League baseball season gets under way Monday on the Wisner Field diamond at 5:30 p.m. with the opening game featuring defending champion Anderson Jets and runnerup General Motors.

Jets are managed by Walter Drake, while Paul Parks directs the GMC nine, which represents Pontiac in the Michigan State Baseball League.

A 6-team circuit is set for action. Rounding out the league roster are Auburn Merchants, managed by George Shanks, CIO 594, led by Art Hearn, Elks 723, piloted by Dave Lee, and Don Nicholie Real Estate, whose manager is Dave Zittel.

Auburn Merchants and CIO will tangle in the 2nd game of the season Tuesday, while the Union nine will be in action again on Wednesday against the Elks. The 1st week's schedule is completed Thursday as GMC meets Auburn Merchants.

The Nicholie Club is composed of college and high school personnel and their opener has been deferred until the school's seasons close. Zittel's club will play Elks 723 Friday, June 3.

The league, as usual, is cosponsored by the Pontiac Baseball Federation and the city Parks and Recreation Department with George Gary serving as director.

Record Field Ready to Play in Monday Test

Maples Bid for Third Victory in High School Links Feature

A record field of 15 schools will begin teeing off at 10 a.m. Monday at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course in the 4th annual Pontiac Press Prep Tournament.

The total of 15 entries exceeds by one the number which entered the event two years ago.

Birmingham's Maples, champions of the tourney for the past two seasons, have been installed as pre-meet favorites in the 5-man, 18-hole medal play event, but they are sure to encounter strong opposition from Livonia Bentley, a very strong Class B school; Southfield, the Inter-Lakes Conference champion; Pontiac, Waterford and Royal Oak.

The five players on each team are divided into separate playing groups so that no two players from one school are in the same foursome. Nearly every school has a candidate for individual honors in either Class A or B-C and those that won't score with the top players are afforded an excellent taste of tournament competition.

Teams compete on a 5-man total medal score basis for a year's possession of the Pontiac Press rotating trophy and a small, permanent award. Members of the winning school are awarded medals.

Individual medals await the low scorer and runnerup in the entire tourney regardless of class and medalists in both Class A and B-C also will be honored.

Vying for individual honors in Class A will be players from the defending champion Birmingham club, Pontiac, Waterford, Southfield and Royal Oak. Eight Class B schools are in the field including Avondale, Bentley, Brighton, Fitzgerald, Northville, Rochester, Shrine and Troy.

Two C schools, Bloomfield Hills and St. Frederick, are listed and their players are eligible for medalist honors in Class B.

Getting the tournament under way at 10 a.m. on Municipal's north nine will be Neil Mitchell of Southfield, Tom Jacobson of Pontiac, Bob O'Neill of Bentley and Mike Cullen of Troy. Starting the south nine at the same time are Cleland Charboneau of Waterford, Jerry Paul of Avondale, Bud Fulton of Fitzgerald and Pat Nunn of Rochester.

With a fine field of prep shotmakers entered, both team and individual records for the 3-year history of the affair are in peril.

Pairings for Monday's event are listed elsewhere on this sports page.

Barrage of Hits

Slugfests took place in two Pontiac Church softball league games Thursday night. Memorial Baptist outscored First Presbyterian, 18-14, at LeBaron field, and First Baptist defeated Church of the Brethren, 19-6, at Wever Junior High.

Memorable Day

ST. LOUIS—In his first two trips to the plate as a major leaguer, Bob Nieman of the Browns hit two home runs in a game at Boston in September 1951.

Good Pitching, Slugging Highlight Softball Play

Men's city softball league Thursday night had a little bit of everything—fine pitching, heavy stickwork, and a forfeit.

Two well-pitched games were seen at Beaudette field. In the opener, Stadium Inn shut out K.C. 4-0, behind the two-hit hurling of Bob McManus. McManus was touched for only two singles, while striking out three and walking one. Third baseman Bird smashed two home runs, a bases-empty clout in the 1st inning and one with a mate aboard in the 5th.

Bob Reynolds, who pitched a no-hitter in a losing cause Wednesday night, was more fortunate last night. Reynolds twirled a two-hit shutout as Riteway Cleaners defeated Elks 2-0. Losers got only two singles off Reynolds, who fanned seven and walked one. Riteway scored both its runs in the 3rd frame on three hits, including a triple, and an error.

For variety's sake, Mike's Used Cars overwhelmed Franklin Products, 21-6, in a six-inning contest at Northside. Mike's crew did all its scoring in three innings. Franklin Products used five pitchers.

In the other scheduled game at Northside, Chuck & Louie's Market was awarded a 7-0 decision on a forfeit when Pontiac & Opdyke was unable to field a team.

Oregon Man Hits .857

Spots in College World Series Up for Grabs

NEW YORK, (AP) — Eight undefeated Pitchers, a batter with a .857 average, a couple who are hitting better than .500 and two teams on which every regular is a .300 hitter are among those battling for places in the 1955 College World Series.

* * *

The season's first roundup of outstanding individual performances in college baseball by the NCAA Service Bureau showed these and other amazing performances.

The College baseball season is at the stage where most of the contenders for district titles are being decided. The eight district winner, to be decided in playoffs in the next couple of weeks, will go to Omaha for the final series June 10-14.

* * *

Five conference titles carrying automatic entry into the district playoffs already have been claimed by Alabama, Colorado State, Texas A&M, Wake Forest and Western Michigan. In all, a dozen conference winners qualify automatically and 12 to 18 "at large" teams will be selected for the playoffs.

The .800 hitter is Oregon outfielder Norm Forbes.

Bengals Spend $10,000 to Make Room for Kaline

Removal of Seats Make It Easier to Play Right Field

DETROIT (UP) — It cost the Detroit Tigers an estimated $10,000 to knock out a section of lower deck boxes down the right field foul line but President W. O. (Spike) Briggs figures the money was well spent.

Briggs ordered the boxes removed to protect fleet-footed Al Kaline, the 20-year-old "bonus baby" whose speed caused him to crash into the seats several times last year while chasing fly balls.

"Kaline is a youngster who has a great future with the Tigers," Briggs explained. "We couldn't afford to have him risk an injury by crashing in the boxes."

Removal of the box seats has made the job of playing right field easier and less hazardous, Kaline admitted.

Davey to Be Guest at OCCH May 26

Chuck Davey will be guest of honor at a program in the Oakland County Children's Home Thursday night, May 26, at 7 o'clock, according to Harold Duggan, recreation supervisor of the home.

Davey, collegiate boxing champion at Michigan State and former professional now planning a comeback, will speak briefly and show films of the 1949 NCAA boxing finals held at his alma mater. Davey was NCAA champion for the Spartans at that time.

Regional Showings Are Part of NCAA's TV Grid Plan for '55

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System will telecast five Big Ten Conference and five Pacific Coast Conference football games next fall under the 1955 NCAA regional television plan.

The NCAA plan this year—drawn up as a compromise with Big Ten and PCC regional telecast demands—calls for national telecasts on eight dates, including Thanksgiving Day, and five regional dates. The National Broadcasting Co. will telecast the national program.

The Big Ten games to be telecast regionally:
Sept. 24—Washington at Minnesota
Oct. 8—Wiscosin at Purdue
Oct. 22—Michigan at Minnesota
Nov. 5—Wiscosin at Northwestern
Nov. 12—Iowa at Ohio State

The Pacific Coast Conference regional programs:
Sept. 24—Illinois at California
Oct. 8 — Southern California at Washington
Oct. 22—Stanford at Washington
Nov. 5 — Oregon at Washington State
Nov. 12—California at Oregon State

In addition, four games involving four Big Ten and three Pacific Coast Conference teams are on the national program. They are Ohio State at Stanford, Oct. 1; Notre Dame at Michigan State, Oct. 15; Iowa at Michigan, Oct. 29, and UCLA at Southern California, Nov. 19.

The NCAA plan provides a team may make one national and one regional or two regional appearances during the season. Washington gets a third because it's Minnesota game will not be relayed to the Pacific Coast.

One More Win Can Nail Title for Birmingham

Birmingham's high school golf team, defending Pontiac Press Invitational tourney champions, has just about won the Eastern Michigan League crown for 1955.

Coach Joe Borovick's Maples yesterday afternoon defeated Mt. Clemens, at Gowanie, 322-332. They now need only a win over Port Huron, at North Hills, to clinch the title for the 2nd straight year.

Consistent shooting by a quartet that included two alternates, senior Jerry White and soph Pete Jackson, produced the victory. However, medalist was Ray Puffpaff, Bathers' ace, who had a shining 75 (37-38). "This boy," Borovick reported, "in my opinion is one of the finest young golfers in the section. His personality and conduct are outstanding, and his game is really exceptional."

Maples today are in Battle Creek for the state tourney. Bob Goldsmith and Mike Conroy, regulars, had a rest Thursday, but will play today. Cards for the Gowanie match; Tim Baldwin 40-39—79; Sandy Siegel 43-38—81; White 42-40—82, and Jackson 39-41—80.

Cagers Better Paid

Nixon Shouldn't Feel Bad

Great Hurlers Like Matty, Lyons, Bobo Newsom, Fitzsimmons Lost Runaways

NEW YORK, (AP) — If Willard Nixon, the losing pitcher in Cleveland's 19-0 rout of the Boston Red Sox Wednesday, is disconsolate he should take refuge in the fact that he is in pretty good company. Some great pitchers, including a couple of Hall of Famers, were on the short end of humiliating shutout defeats.

* * *

None other than Christy Mathewson, the immortal New York Giants righthander, generally acclaimed as the greatest pitcher in National League history, once was beaten 19-0 by the Chicago Cubs. The date was June 7, 1906. That is still the modern National League record for the most one-sided shutout.

Ted Lyons, who joined the late Mathewson in Cooperstown's Hall of Fame only last January, dropped a 16-0 decision to Philadelphia in 1928. On two other occasions, the former Chicago White Sox ace was beaten 14-0.

Bobo Newsom, a 200-game winner with a flock of major league clubs, was the loser when Detroit drubbed the St. Louis Browns 18-0 in 1935. A year later, Freddy Fitzsimmons, another 200-plus winner with New York and Brooklyn, was charged with a 15-0 loss in a game between Cincinnati and the Giants. Eddie Lopat, the New York Yankees' fine lefthander, lost a 15-0 decision to the Chicago White Sox in 1950.

* * *

Back in 1884, the Giants' Mickey Welch, one of the few 300-game winners in major league history, was charged with a 16-0 loss to Providence. The winner, incidentally, was Charles (Old Hoss) Radbourne, who, the year before (Aug. 21, 1883) pitched Providence to a 28-0 triumph over Philadelphia, a record that still stands. In 1885, Jim Galvin, who won 370 games, was the loser when Welch and the Giants blanked Buffalo 24-0, and Larry Corcoran of Chicago, the first of three pitchers to turn in three no-hitters, was beaten 15-0 by Detroit.

Turley Might Erase Feller's Strikeout Mark but Yankee Ace Doesn't Figure It's Possible

At his current rate, Bullet Bob Turley of the New York Yankees could erase the mark. But the fireballing righthander isn't interested. He doesn't even think he can do it.

* * *

When Feller set his mark, he pitched in 48 games. Tonight, the Baltimore Orioles, Bob makes his eighth start. It is the club's 31st game, about one fifth of the total. He could get 40 starts, but that wouldn't be possible because of the late season double-header jam.

Say he gets into 36 or 37 games. If he continues his pace, (he has 69 in 62 innings), he could wind up operations with about 350 and a new mark.

"I don't think I have a chance to break Feller's record," he said. "He had two advantages when he had his big year. He was able to pitch in relief and he was on a team which had no chance ofwinning the pennant. That meant he could pitch out of turn to get more strikeouts."

But there are no relief assignments in sight for Turley. Yank aMnager, Casey Stengel has all the firemen he needs. And that's fine with Bob.

"I relieved only in my first season with the St. Louis Browns when I came out of the service in midseason," he said. "They wanted to look me over before starting me. Last year, in Baltimore, I didn't work in the bullpen at all.

'No. I'm not going for Feller's record. Anyhow, winning the pennant is more important than any records. Maybe Feller pitched too much that year and hurt his arm. He must have taken something out of it because half the pitchers of his age in this league right now can throw harder than he does. I don't want one big year if it does that to a fellow."

Turley is curious about Herb Score, the southpaw sensation of the Cleveland Indians with 66 whiffs in 56 innings. He hasn't seen Score, but some of the Yank rookies who played against him in the American Association last year have.

"It was his curve that got him the record 330 strikeouts," Tom Sturdivant told Turley. "He has a real good one."

Hearn First in NL to Win Six Games

The Associated Press

Guess who's the first National League pitcher to win six games this season. Roberts, Antonelli, Spahn, Erskine, Newcombe? Nope. It's a guy named Jim Hearn, the righthander nobody wanted.

He picked up No. 6 yesterday at Milwaukee as the New York Giants beat the Braves 3-2 in the only major league game scheduled. That edged the Giants into second place, three percentage points ahead of Chicago's Cubs.

It was the fourth complete game for Hearn, who has lost two. Only Milwaukee's Gene Conley and Philadelphia's Robin Roberts have completed five.

* * *

The Braves touched Hearn for 10 hits, but only two went for extra bases and he left eight stranded. After getting his 3-2 lead, the 6-3, 200-pounder gave just four hits over the last five innings. In all, he fanned six and walked only one.

It was wildness that contributed to Hearn's 1954 disappointment. He was put on the shelf as a starter with the world champs after September 1 by Manager Leo Durocher. And at season's end, he was on the block.

* * *

But nobody stepped up to get Hearn, one of the hero's in the Giants' little miracle of 1951. He won 17 that year, including the first game in the pennant playoff with Brooklyn.

Hardly anyone wanted Hearn in 1950, either, when St. Louis let him go to the Giants for the waiver price. Yet Jim, who came up with the Cards in 1947, led the league in 1950 with a 2.49 earned run average.

* * *

Hearn had just one really shaky moment yesterday. Danny O'Connell made his fourth straight hit a leadoff double in the ninth. But Hearn let him get only as far as third on a sacrifice fly. Hank Aaron got the other long hit off Hearn, a solo homer in the second.

* * *

Willie Mays' single drove in the first Giant run in the fourth and his sacrifice fly brought home the winning run in the fifth after Don Mueller's double had tied it and chased loser Ernie Johnson.

* * *

The Braves, incidentally, twice walked Hank Thompson, purposely filling the bases, to pitch to Mays, the NL bat champ of last season.

The victory sent the Giants homeward from the West 7½ games behind Brooklyn. Tonight New York is at Pittsburgh to play the Pirates, who have lost seven straight, with Brooklyn at home trying to snap a three-game losing streak against the Phils, who have lost 15 of their last 16.

* * *

St. Louis is at Cincinnati and Chicago at Milwaukee in two other night games.

In the American, also playing under the lights, Cleveland takes its 1½ game lead to Detroit. Runnerup New York is home to Baltimore, Kansas City is at Chicago and Boston at Washington.

Call Matchmaker Adviser to Manager of Johnson

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Matchmaker Pete Moran, one of six charged by the Pennsylvaia State Athletic Commission with actions detrimental to boxing, has been identied as an advisor to the manager of light heavyweight Harold Johnson.

* * *

Johnson's trainer, Clarence (Skinny) Davidson, testified yesterday that Moran always has been an advisor to Tommy Loughrey in the business affairs of the fighter.

Johnson, Loughrey, Moran, Davidson, another trainer and a second have been charged by the commission with participating in a "sham, fake or collusive boxing match."

The commission is investigating the Johnson-Julio Mederos match of May 6 in which Johnson collapsed after the second round. Mederos being awarded a TKO victory. Subsequent tests and investigation disclosed that Johnson was drugged with a barbiturate.

* * *

Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania then suspended boxing in the state for 90 days and ordered a "searching investigation" of the sport.

Leader said in a press conference yesterday at Harrisburg that he would "have no hesitation in recommending that" the suspension be extended "if I don't feel the job (of cleaning up boxing) is properly and thoroughly done."

Injury Forces Romack to Quit

U.S. Girl Unable to Continue Quest for British Title

PORTRUSH, Northern Scotland, (AP)—Little Barbara Romack sadly turned her back on a nightmare of agony today and vowed to come back again in pursuit of the British Women's Golf championship which has proved so elusive for Americans.

25 Positions Open for Memorial Day '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Drivers will try to hit 140 miles an hour tomorrow and Sunday in time trials on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway where Jimmy Snyder supposedly reached the limit in 1937 at 125 m.p.h.

Twenty-five positions are open in the 33-car starting field for the 39th annual 500-mile race May 30. Only eight qualified in gusty winds last weekend, the fastest a record 142.58 for the 10 miles by Jack McGrath of Inglewood, Calif.

* * *

The slowest in the field is Andy Linden of Manhattan Beach, Calif., at 139.098. He'll be the first to be bumped from the lineup if 26 cars exceed that speed over the weekend. Nobody theoretically is safe from being eliminated by a faster car until the trials end.

* * *

Minimum speed of last year's qualifiers was 137.673 by Frank Armi of Hanford, Calif. It probably will be higher this year, judging by the average of 140.574 by the first eight qualifiers.

Nobody slowed down in practice runs this week in spite of wrecks that killed Manuel Ayulo, No. 2 ranking American Automobile Assn. driver last year from Burbank, Calif., and smashed the supercharged car of veteran Paul Russo of Fort Worth, Tex.

Art Cross of LaPorte, Ind., former national midget racing champion, has been up to 141 in the Belanger 99, a new car with the same name and number of Lee Wallard's 1951 winner.

Wallard and Bill Holland, the 1949 winner, are both available but neither has a car.

* * *

Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., who has won $165,000 for himself and car owners by capturing the last two Memorial Day races, is the only former winner definitely in the field. He qualified last Sunday at 141.071, a record until McGrath ran.

* * *

Veteran drivers and cars with orthodox, unsupercharged Offenhauser engines probably will dominate the race as they did last year. An experimental gas turbine car built exclusively for tire testing will be demonstrated Saturday and it will be the only novelty on the track. It isn't entered.

The original 57 entries included a gas turbine, a four-wheel drive 6 and a Kurtis-Kraft powered with a new Ferrari 6, but none of them was completed in time for the race. Efforts to modify stock car engines within the piston displacement limits also were unsuccessful excepting the Dean Van Lines Special powered by a Dodge.

* * *

The Dean car hasn't been assigned a driver. Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., AAA national racing champion last year, may try to qualify it if he can't get into the lineup with another Dean Special which has the conventional Offy 4 engine.

In the night's other game, Drayton Drug scored a 21-1 rout of Sylvan Center as the Drug nine collected 10 hits and were aided by 9 Sylvan errors. Hank Shell paced the Drug attack with 3 hits, including a 6th inning homer with one aboard.

Arlo Flesher worked 6 innings and permitted 2 hits. Bill Goulet finished up for Drug. Play will resume Monday with Drug meeting Day's.

Carbo's Name Is Bandied in Ring Boycott Hearing

NEW YORK, (AP)—Vince Martinez' future as a welterweight title contender hung in the balance today as the New York State Athletic Commission continued its hearing on an alleged boycott of the Paterson, N.J., boxer by fight managers.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, took the witness chair yesterday to say he was unaware that Martinez had been "grounded" by members of the International Boxing Guild after the fighter broke with his former manager, Bill Daly.

While the inquiry centered around various manipulations of the managers' guild, such as charging promoter Ray Arcel $1,500 a page for advertising in its now defunct monthly magazine, it swung into a wider arc.

The name of Frankie Carbo, long rumored to be the "undercover" manager who was the power behind the throne in boxing, kept popping up in the questioning. Witness after witness was asked by Julius Helfand, commission chairman, if he knew Carbo.

Norris said he had known Carbo for 20 years. Billy Brown, Madison Square Garden matchmaker said he had known Frankie 30 years.

They all knew Carbo but nobody knew what his business was.

None ever talked boxing with him and none ever had any financial dealings with him.

Gil Turner Seeks 6th Straight Win Tonight

NEW YORK, (AP) — Gil Turner aims for his sixth straight victory tonight and he's an 11-5 choice to do it. The middleweight contender meets Ramon Fuentes, fourth ranking welterweight challenger, in Madison Square Garden.

Turner is a 151-pounder who is in between the welterweight and middleweight classes. He fights best at 151 as Fuentes should very well know.

Hamtramck Trio Still in Action

Three seeded net stars advanced to the next round in Thursday's matches of the Michigan State Girls' Open tennis championships for 18-year-olds at Kingswood School, Cranbrook, in Bloomfield Hills.

Second-seeded Joyce Pniewski, 4th-seeded Phyllis Saganski, and 7th-ranked Virginia Hesse, all of Hamtramck, were winners, Pniewski ousted Kingswood's Jane Underhill, Saganski eliminated Elaine Ohr, of Monroe, and Hesse removed Detroit's Barbara Cossin.

One Oakland County girl was a 2nd-day casualty. Jane Collister, from Birmingham, bowed to Joy Staunton, of the host school. Only remaining area netter is Sharon Gray, also from Birmingham, who has yet to see action.

Thursday's results:

Mary Foree defeated Lynn Burrows, 6-3, 9-7; Virginia Dykes def. Eleanor Hauser, 6-0, 6-1; Sylvia Trythall def. Thayer Bice, 6-1, 7-5; Janice Malone def. All-Star Cast Set for Coast Relay Feature

Quarter, 880 and Mile Loom as Big Events on Tonight's Program

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Featuring expected close competition in the 440, 880 and one-mile races and several relay events, the 15th annual Coliseum Relays go on tonight with an all-star cast of track and field athletes.

* * *

The experts were divided in pinpointing one event over another.

Some picked out the 880-yard run between world record holder Mal Whitfield and two younger aspirants who already have beaten the 30-year-old king of the half milers, Arnie Sowell, of the University of Pittsburgh, and Lon Spurrier, of San Francisco's Olympic Club.

* * *

Talkative Wes Santee is due to make still another stab at the elusive four-minute mile. Santee figures to race more against the clock than competition. He holds the American record time of 4:00.5, set last spring and equaled once this season.

* * *

The quarter-mile race features Lou Jones, the ex-Manhattan flash, and Jim Lea, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Both bettered the 400-meter world record of 46.0 held by Herb McKenley in a torrid race in the Pan-American Games in Mexico City in March.

Jones hit the tape first in 45.4 and Lea was clocked at 45.6. This is their first meeting since Mexico City.

* * *

Whitfield holds the official 880 record, 1:48.6. But the veteran has been off schedule thus far this season and both Sowell and Spurrier ran him into the ground at Mexico City. Later Spurrier was clocked at a record-breaking 1:47.5.

* * *

Hardtop Pilots Eye $750 at Gay-Day Oval

Hardtop drivers will race for a guaranteed purse of $750 Sunday at the Gay Day Speedway, a three-eighths of a mile oval on Lake Angelus road.

* * *

Land o' Lakes Racing Assn. is sponsoring all racing events at this track and drivers from this area as well as from Canada will participate.

Some of the drivers who will appear, according to track management, are Joe Doyle, Len MacAbee, Chuck Partello, Rusty Kelly, George Moore, Carm Ragatz, Bennie Howell, Dorris Sanders and Marvin Main.

Qualifying will start at 1 p.m. with the 1st race set for 2:30 p.m. Children under 12 are admitted free when accompanied by an adult.

Tribe Opens 2nd Round for Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers, hailed as the most improved club in the league, start their 2nd go-round against the seven other American League teams tonight with the high-flying Cleveland Indians furnishing the opposition.

The Tigers have won 17 and lost 15 games in the 1st set of home - and - home competition. they are in 4th place, 4½ games behind the 1st place Indians and 3 in front of the 5th place Boston Red Sox.

Fourth is as high as the supporters dared hope for the Tigers. However, if the Bengals happened to catch fire as they did on their previous home stand they could make things interesting right up to the half way mark.

They have three games with the Indians now and will be back for an extended stay at Briggs Stadium late next week after a series in Kansas City.

Cleveland won both of its previous games here. Tigers surprised the Indians by taking two out of three in Cleveland.

The chances of repeating the Cleveland surprise were dimmed when 3rd baseman Ray Boone went to the sidelines with an aching arm. A former Indian, Boone cut loose for three home runs at Cleveland.

Boone will be available for limited duty and probably will appear at least as a pinch hitter. He's expected back in the regular lineup early next week.

Indians plan to use one of their favorite Tiger tamers tonight in Bob Lemon, who has beaten Detroit 25 times in his career while losing 13.

Billy Hoeft, who beat the Indians 3-0 on three hits earlier in the season, will try to regain that form. He's lost his last two outings on 9th inning collapses.

To stay on the right side of .500 the Tigers are going to have to find more punch to go with the red hot bats of Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline. Kuenn is hitting a merry .391 with Kaline close behind at .379. But the No. 3 hitter on the club is centerfielder Bill Tuttle at .274. Hatfield, Malmberg, Boone and both catchers are under .250.

Fazio Winner of Pin Masters

Stroh Captain Holds Slim Edge Over Kegler From Chicago

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The American Bowling Congress tournament returned to a regular schedule today, the 56th of a 72-day run, after a lull all week because of the fifth annual Masters tourament.

The veteran Buzz Fazio, captain of the Stroh's Beer team of Detroit, won the 1955 Masters championship last night, defeating Joe Kristof of Chicago by two pins, 770-768.

Shamrocks Send 2 to State Meet

Dan Dropps and Charlie Brown will represent St. Mike's Shamrocks in the Class C meet at Michigan State Colege in East Lansing on Saturday.

Dropps and Brown accounted for all eight of St. Michael's points in last week's meet. Dropps finished 2nd in the high jump and 3rd in the broad jump, while Brown was 3rd in the 440-yard dash.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Mr. Senior Golfer should not expect to blast out 250 yards of straight flight but Mr. Senior Golfer can make the muscle boys with the power house swing look to their score cards by playing his own game. Mr. Senior Golfer's game is to stick to the straight left arm in his shots, not attempt to make a full back swing, but compensate with superior accuracy. Let Mr. Senior Golfer take 90 as par for his course and shoot his rounds with that thought in view. The smart move for Mr. Senior Golfer, is a short game, straight down the middle. Placement, not distance. The days when Mr. Senior Golfer was limber and had rubber in his spine and steel cords in his arms and hands are no more. But Mr. Senior Golfer can make up for this with accuracy.

Watershed Improvement Now Paying Dividends

LANSING (AP) — A long-range project to improve the living quarters of fish making their homes in Michigan is paying real dividends, conservation officials say.

The project is the conservation of the state's watersheds—a program which Michigan pioneered.

Next year, the conservaion department alone will spend more than $350,000 for stream improvement. Other agencies, state and federal, will chip in to tidy up the state's trout streams.

The program started back in 1950 with the Rifle River watershed near West Branch in Ogemaw County.

By Mr Clawson.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Board:

As Chairman of the Special Court House Committee, I believe I voice the sentiments of every member of this Board when I say that the newspapers in Oakland County lent splendid cooperation with this Board of Supervisors in publicizing the recent August 3, 1954 election on the bond issue and millage questions submitted to the electors in connection with the proposed Court House. That the millage question failed, was certainly no fault of the press.

I have not talked with all of the members of this Board but knowing those with whom I have talked feel, I believe we would be remiss in our duties if we failed to publicly acknowledge our gratitude to the press of the County for its help so willingly given.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Committee, I move that this statement be spread upon the records of this Board that it may be recorded for all time as the unanimous acknowledgment of this Board of its gratitude to the press for conveying to the people of the County the message concerning the Court House situation, the inadequacy of the old and the compelling need for the new.

I further move that the Clerk of this Board be instructed to forward a copy of the foregoing acknowledgment to every newspaper in Oakland County.

SPECIAL COURT HOUSE COMMITTEE
H. LLOYD CLAWSON
Chairman

Moved by Clawson supported by Dennis the foregoing acknowledgment be adopted. Carried.

Report.

By Mr. Clawson.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Not much time has intervened since the last meeting and as a consequence, there is not much to report. However, I can advise you that our legal counsel, together with Mr. Claude Stevens, bond counsel, has settled on and cleared with the County Clerk on forms of notice for the election on the Court House matter.

The County Treasurer's report on outstanding voted millage in all of the political units and school districts was procured as of September 10 and is in the Clerk's hands as part of the election notice.

Some of the rural supervisors are joining in recommending through the press, a "yes" vote on the millage the County is seeking. Emphasis is being placed on the savings to be had by issuing general obligation bonds as contrasted with revenue bonds. You know that Mr. Carey places the savings between $1,415,434.00 and $1,850,579.00. I recommend that every rural supervisor make such a public statement in the local press within the week preceding the election. I also urge the city supervisors in each city to join in such a statement.

You men and women are each a committee of one and charged with responsibility in your area. You should immediately get a list of prominent people in your area who will authorize the use of their names endorsing the project and supply the list to the press so some names can be used every issue.

If you haven't yet made arrangements to contact your luncheon clubs and other groups to bring the story to them, you should do so at your earliest convenience.

We are an organization within ourselves with representatives from every community in the County and I urge each one of you, who know best the need for the project, to carry the word back home.

At the last meeting, we had an estimate from Mr. Carey, delayed over the phone. We now have Mr. Carey's written estimate. His letter of transmittal is as follows:

Board of Auditors
Court House Annex No. 1
Pontiac Michigan

Gentlemen:

Mr. Merritt has asked me to provide you with a comparison of interest costs involved in financing a $4,500,000 court house project as between General Obligation bonds supported by a 20 year voted millage increase and revenue bonds of a Building Authority established under the provisions of Act 31, P.A. 1948.

On today's market, it is my opinion that the interest rate on GO bonds would be 2.10 per cent in comparison with a rate of 2.60 per cent on Revenue bonds.

The spread is not altogether a measure of the difference in rating between GO bonds and Revenue bonds but results partly from the fact that the GO bonds would be for a maximum period of 18 years and the Revenue bonds for a maximum period of approximately 33 years. In general, average interest cost of a bond issue increases as the term of the issue is lengthened. This latter factor is an important policy consideration in deciding between GO and Revenue bonds. The provisions of the Building Authority Act (and court interpretations thereof) necessitate a minimum term of approximately 30 years with the issue so set up that the Authority cannot possibly retire the issue in less than 25 years. The term of a General Obligation (limited tax) bond cannot exceed 20 years (is practically limited to 18 years) and the term can be shortened to the extent that extra millage is voted and applied to the retirement of the bonds.

Keeping these factors in mind, I believe that use of Building Authority Revenue bonds would entail an increased cost to the county of from $1,415,434 to $1,850,579. I am enclosing a memorandum giving the reasons for my conclusions.

The above figures are predicated on the assumption that the proposed Revenue bond issue would be approved by the Michigan Supreme Court in a test case before the bonds are issued.

Another important consideration is the fact that use of Revenue bonds would entail the County to provide approximately $250,000 from its existing revenues, whereas funds for retirement of General Obligation bonds would come from a voted increase in County revenues.

Very truly yours,
MATTHEW CAREY

Building Authority Revenue Bonds (as authorized by Act 31 PA 1948)

Only three bond issues (developed under the provisions of this Act) have been sold as follows:

Sale Date	Amount of Issue	Annual Rental	%	Term of Issue	Est. Period to Retire
St. Clair County-Port Huron Joint Building Authority—
11-7-52	$ 3,200,000	$178,000	5.47	35 years	29 years
Detroit-Wayne Joint Building Authority—
1-1-53	13,500,000	900,000	6.67	30 years	25 years
Chippewa County-Sault Ste. Marie Joint Authority—
7-26-54	700,000	39,250	5.61	33 years	25 years

The validity of this type of joint authority revenue bonds was upheld in a test case involving the Detroit-Wayne issue—Wallinske V. Detroit-Wayne Joint Building Authority (325 Mich. 562).

Muskegon County has undertaken to set up the Muskegon County Building Authority to construct a welfare building (estimated cost of $200,000) to be leased by the county. A test case on such a single municipality created building authority was decided favorably to the Muskegon Authority on November 23, 1953, in Rode V. Muskegon County Building Authority (338 Mich. 369). In its decision, however, the Court stated that "the lease contemplated between the parties shall provide for Reasonable Rental Only without right on the part of the Authority to require more rent than what is or shall be reasonable Rental". This specific statement supports the set-up of the 3 joint authority issues in providing 30 to 35 year terms. In comparing General Obligation with Revenue bond financing, it should be kept in mind that the term of a GO issue may be as short as the county finances permits, whereas a Revenue issue must of necessity extend for more than 25 years and entails interest costs for the longer period.

I understand that bond counsel for the proposed $4,500,000 Oakland County financing has advised that he would require a specific test case on this issue before providing his approving legal opinion. The following estimates of interest cost for revenue financing are based on the assumption that such a test case would be decided in favor of an Oakland County Authority.

If so, it is my opinion that the interest rate would approximate that set by the Chippewa County-Soo sale on July 26, 1954 (market practically unchanged since that date). Summary of sales factor in connection with this issue is given in Schedule A attached. They should be multiplied by 0.43 to make them comparable with a $4,500,000 Oakland County issue

Comparison

If the two issues are figured to maturity (12-1-75 as to GO bonds and 2-1-87 as to Revenue bonds) the interest cost would be $776,156 for GO Bonds and $2,626,735 for Revenue bonds—indicating an interest saving of $1,850,579 by using GO bonds.

If figured for the shortest time, resulting from exercise of call features (12-1-65 as to GO bonds and 12-1-79 as to Revenue bonds) the corresponding figures would be $589,279 and $2,004,713 —indicating an interest saving of $1,415,434.

Revenue Bonds Would Not Give County Additional Revenue

For an issue of $4,500,000 Revenue bonds the county would have to provide fixed annually rentals (exclusive of operation and maintenance expenses) of 5.61 per cent or $252,450 which is 3.84 per cent of the tentative county budget reported in April and 5.16 per cent of the proposed county tax total. It represents 0.261 mills on the 1954 equalized valuation of $966,600,000.

To The Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Pursuant to the provisions of the Statute, the Board of Auditors is required each year to submit a detailed estimate of receipts (other than from taxation) and expenses estimated for the ensuing year. The Statute requires that this estimate be filed with the Board of Supervisors on or before October 1st.

We have prepared the estimate called for and, in order to facilitate matters, have submitted the same to the Ways and Means Committee. Some adjustments have been made at the suggestion of the Committee but the budget the Ways and Means will submit today embodies our recommendations and the concensus of opinion of the Board of Auditors as well as the Ways and Means Committee.

This report is submitted in order that you may know that we, as a Board of Auditors, have not omitted our function but rather have cooperated with the Ways and Means Committee to avoid the delay reference back to the Ways and Means Committee would involve, with a subsequent meeting of the Board to approve the Committee report.

The amount of money to be raised by taxation, as it appears in the Ways and Means Budget coincides with our estimate and may be considered as such.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,
OAKLAND COUNTY BOARD OF AUDITORS
ROBERT Y. MOORE,
Chairman

Vice-Chairman

To The Honorable Board of Supervisors
Oakland County, Michigan
Ladies and Gentlemen

Your Auditor General Committee respectfully reports that it has examined the list of 1953 and prior years tax rejections by the County Treasurer, which were approved by the Auditor General as of June 30, 1954, which have been reported to this Board for reassessment according to schedule as shown below and recommend that such taxes as constitute a valid assessment on the description on which they were returned, be reassessed to the year 1954.

We further recommend the said taxes which do not constitute a valid assessment on the description on which they were returned, be charged at large to the respective Township, City or Village.

Be It Further Resolved that the Legislative Committee of this Board and the Corporation Counsel cooperate with any other counties or organizations interested in bringing about the change above suggested;

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The new market is nearly completed and will soon be ready to open. Your Market Committee has prepared a set of Rules and Regulations governing the operation of the new Oakland County Market and the amounts to be paid for each stall by the producers.

Rules and Regulations for the Oakland County Market

Section 1. The Oakland County Market is herein defined to be a county owned and regulated market place, together with buildings thereon, designed for the sale of farm products and the accommodation of producers and hereinafter designated the "Market".

Section 2. The word "producer" is herein defined to be any person or persons who are actually engaged in the business of producing farm products. Producers shall be allowed to sell on the market wholesome, fresh, sound, canned, dried, preserved or prepared food products either raised or processed by the producer, grown and prepared by him in whole or from products raised by him, but shall not be permitted to sell processed or manufactured foods or other articles. Producers shall also be allowed to sell certain other products of their farm, greenhouse, apiary, rabbit hutch, such as live or dressed poultry and rabbits, and flowers, plants, nuts, herbs, shrubbery, provided that in so doing they comply with all rules and regulations and provided further that all live poultry and rabbits brought to the market shall be confined in suitable crates and that dressed poultry and rabbits shall be kept in iced containers covered with glass. The sale of all meat and meat products, except those herein mentioned, is prohibited.

Section 3. Producers must keep a price list of all items offered for sale, evidenced by legible price tags placed either on the articles offered for sale, or otherwise posted, to inform prospective buyers of such prices. The indicated price must be maintained until prices are changed and tagged.

Section 4. Market Masters and their duly authorized assistants shall have the authority to direct the arrangement of all vehicles on the market grounds and persons in charge of such vehicles shall conform to the directions so given. No person on the market shall refuse to comply with the direction of or interfere with the Market Masters or their assistants in carrying out the provisions of these rules and regulations.

Section 5 Stalls at the Oakland County Market may be rented yearly for $120.00 or outside stalls for six months for $51.00. All yearly stall rentals shall begin May 1st of each year and rentals must be paid in advance. All six months rentals shall begin May 1st and end October 31st each year and be paid in advance. A fee of $1.50 will be collected from non-renters for the use of each stall. Any person who seeks to evade or refuse payment of the proper market fees when called upon to do so will be refused the use of any market privileges.

Section 6 No person renting a stall on the market shall sell, sublet or assign such space or any privileges pertaining thereto. Exchange of rented stalls may be made, with the approval of the Market Master.

Section 7. Payment of the daily fee gives the producer both space and selling privileges. This fee will be collected from every producer not renting a stall, regardless of space occupied or location on the Market premises. Arrangements made between producers to share a stall and thus avoid payments will not be recognized by the Market Master.

Section 8. The market will be open at 6:00 A.M. and close at 1:00 P.M. The time of opening and closing may be changed or regulated by the Market Master as conditions may arise to make a better market for the producers and buyers. The Market Master may set the time that rented stalls must be occupied by the renter and if said stall is not occupied at the time so set, the Market Master may rent it for the day.

Section 9. A rented stall is reserved for the renter until an established hour, any person previously occupying such stall must be prepared to vacate promptly, without inconvenience to the renter, when he appears for the stall.

Section 10. Prior to the opening of the market for selling, an unrented stall may be reserved for the day only, by occupying the stall with a full load or a car, trailer or truck containing a full load intended for sale on the market. Stalls to be reserved in no other manner. No producer shall occupy more than one stall with the same load. Every producer is required to submit to the Market Master, an annual statement, under oath, of his planned operation.

Section 11. Any person engaged in the business of buying and selling farm produce will not be permitted to sell any such produce on the market.

Section 12. Attempts to establish or the establishment of abnormal or artificial prices for products sold on the market by agreement between sellers or between buyers, or by other unfair and irregular means, verified complaints of any producer who sells on the market giving reasonably conclusive evidence that such person has practiced deception in his or her dealings on the market by displaying or selling his or her produce so packed or faced as to misrepresent the size, quality, condition of the produce of the package or by knowingly giving false information regarding the origin, variety quality, condition or value of the products which he or she sells or by similar sharp practices shall in addition to any other penalties which may be inflicted, cause for the Market Master to bar such person from the privileges and grounds of the market for such period of time as may be deemed advisable by him. Any such action shall be preceded by a hearing at which the person involved shall have an opportunity to be heard on any charges made against him before the Market Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

To The Honorable Board Of Supervisors

At a joint meeting of the Extension Advisory Board and the Agricultural Extension Committee of the Board of Supervisors held on October 12, 1954, a resolution was passed by the Agricultural Committee, upon the advice of the Advisory Board, to request an increase in the 1955 Extension budget of $80.00 for the purpose of taking care of the sixth agent who would work directly and entirely with farmers on farm level doing what is commonly called farm and home planning.

There will be no other cost to the County, as there will be sufficient secretarial help and supplies in the budget to cover the additional worker. Michigan State College will assume all other expenses.

In Re: Amendment To Auditor General Committee Report

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Pursuant to the direction of the Board at our last meeting your Auditor General Committee met on October 19, 1954 in the office of the Treasurer to reconsider the Committee Report. Members of the Committee present were Charles Miller, Ferris Clark, Alex Majer and Francis H. Schneider. Others present were Harold Schone, City Manager of Oak Park and Carl Forsythe, attorney for the City of Oak Park; also, Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt, Treasurer Charles A. Sparks and Deputy Treasurer Lloyd Sibley.

The matter of the charge-back to the City of Oak Park which appeared in the report of the Auditor General Committee, previously made to this Board on September 20, 1954, was open to discussion. Mr. Forsythe explained that it would be a distinct hardship if this charge-back is made to the City of Oak Park and the City had to pay the tax before a bill could be put through the Legislature appropriating sufficient moneys to pay the tax and he requested that the Committee, if it was within its power, recommend to the Board of Supervisors, that the tax be not ordered spread this year but be deferred for one year to give the City of Oak Park an opportunity to get a Bill through the Legislature securing an appropriation to pay the tax.

Mr. Forsythe further advised the Committee that the City of Oak Park would waive any claim to a defense against the tax if any statute of limitations ran against it and he urged the Committee to defer the assessment to help Oak Park as much as possible in the situation.

The facts were reviewed as outlined in Mr. Merritt's letter to the Attorney General dated April 7, 1952. Also, as outlined in "Summary of activities of 1948 County and School Taxes on Vickers Defense Plant" as supplied by the County Treasurer's Office. These facts were reviewed in the light of an opinion of the Attorney General dated October 15, 1952, and an opinion given to Senator Higgins dated March 18, 1953. It was the conclusion of the Committee that the City of Oak Park has been entirely in good faith in its handling of this matter and that the request should be granted, particularly in view of the fact that it will create no hardship on the County. It was definitely the understanding of the Committee that if the matter is not cleared up in the ensuing session of the Legislature that interest would be ordered reassessed against the City of Oak Park at large in the fall of 1955.

Summarizing the discussion, it was moved by Schneider, supported by Majer, that the report of the Auditor General Committee previously presented to the Board on September 20, 1954, be amended by striking out the charge-back to the City of Oak Park in the sum of $17,601.88. Motion was carried unanimously.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Auditor General Committee, I move that the charge-back of $17,601.88 against the City of Oak Park, be removed from the report filed September 20, 1954 and that in all other respects, the report stand.

I offer this motion as an amendment to our previous report and move the adoption of the amendment.

In Re: Sheriff's Maintenance

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

When the term salary for the office of the Oakland County Sheriff has been set in previous years, no consideration has been given to defining the scope of 'household maintenance expense' to which the person holding this office always has been entitled in addition to cash salary. Your Salaries Committee was not able to consider this matter before submission of the 1955 Salaries Budget resolution to this Board on September 20, 1954, for passage.

The Committee, therefore, by unanimous action, feels that the following resolution should be adopted by the Board as an amendment to the Salaries Budget resolution No. 2940 adopted on September 20, 1954.

"Resolved that the term 'full maintenance for self and family' used in describing the term compensation for the office of Oakland County Sheriff in Board of Supervisors Resolution No. 2940, dated September 20, 1954, shall consist of quarters in the Oakland County Jail Building, meals, laundry and incidental household expenses supplied in connection therewith to the Sheriff and his family."

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Salaries Committee whose signatures appear below, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution as a supplemental amendment to the Salaries Resolution No. 2940 as previously adopted by this Board on September 20, 1954.

In Re: Local Taxes Committee Report To The Honorable Board Of Supervisors Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Committee on Local Taxes has examined reports from the various townships and cities having taxes to be spread upon the County tax roll and has checked these reports with the pertinent law (Sec. 37 General Property Tax Law), has caused corrections to be made where necessary and now certifies that such reports are correct and in order.

Your Committee has tabulated the total amount of taxes to be spread on the tax rolls, which tabulation is attached hereto and made a part thereof.

Your Committee has prepared tax warrants showing the amounts authorized to be spread, which warrants are submitted herewith and which are the basis for the tabulation above mentioned and it is recommended that your Honorable Body authorize the Clerk to sign these warrants.

Current drain-at-large taxes are a municipal (Township and City) charge and in townships where no millage was allocated, they must be paid from contingent (general) funds. If millage was allocated and inclusion of drain-at-large items would cause the levy to exceed the allocated rate, the spread must stay within its allocated rate and the excess be paid from the contingent (general) fund.

1. Be It Resolved that this Board adopt this report of the Committee on Local Taxes with the recommendations therein contained as a part of the permanent records of this Board.

2. Be It Further Resolved that the Clerk be authorized and directed to sign the several tax warrants on which the attached tabulation was based, thereby authorizing and directing the various assessing officers, within the 15 mill limitation, to levy the amounts set forth therein, for 1954.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Committe whose signatures appear below, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

Whereas, under the provisions of Act 205, Public Acts of Michigan, 1941, as amended, and the contract between the State Highway Commissioner and the County of Oakland dated December 21, 1954, which statute and contract authorizes and provides for the issuance of such bonds, it is necessary that the sale of said bonds be approved by resolution of the State Administrative Board and the Board of Supervisors of the County of Oakland, and

Whereas the State Administrative Board has approved said bid on January 20, 1955 and authorized the sale of the bonds to said bidder, and

Whereas the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Oakland by resolution, has approved said bid and recommended its acceptance by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Oakland.

Report.

By Mr. Horton,

In re: Space Needs for County Offices

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors
Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is the consensus of your Buildings and Grounds Committee and the Board of Auditors, which Board is by statute, charged with the custody and the management of all county owned buildings, that the only complete solution to the problem of space for our growing county services is a new County Building. However, the imperative need of immediate relief on the part of some of the county offices has forced us to consider the reallocation of space in the light of available facilities and to this end, we have requested the Board of auditors to make such a study. The Auditors' proposals, as summarized from their report of January 10, 1955, which has been concurred in by this committee are herewith transmitted to your Honorable Board.

Auditors' Proposals:

1. That 5,000 square feet on the first floor of the southeasterly wing of the Welfare Building be freed by moving the drygoods and storage section of Central Stores to the basement of this building.

2. That the Juvenile Division of the Probate Court be moved from the Court House to this space at the Service Center.

3. That the Prosecutor's Office and the County Clerk's Office be given additional space in the quarters vacated by the Juvenile Court, in addition, a portion of this space be used to relocate the present jury rooms as to afford expansion for the Probate Court.

4. That the Board of Education, now occupying the first and sixth floors of the County Office Building, be moved into the Nurses' Home at the Contagious Hospital, which presently houses only three persons. Few alterations will be necessary in this move.

5. That the Equalization Department be moved into the present first floor quarters of the Board of Education.

6. That the Civil Defense Director be moved into the present quarters of the Equalization Department. Moves 5 and 6 would give these two departments the additional space needed for their operations.

7. That the Drain Commission drafting room, located behind the Supervisors room be moved to the sixth floor vacated by the Board of Education and these quarters be used to make at least two much needed committee rooms.

8. The Register of Deeds be provided additional space directly below this office by relocating the storage room of stationery and stock presently occupying approximately 40% of a room presently used by the Register of Deeds.

9. In the near future, it appears quite likely that it will be necessary to provide quarters for a fourth Circuit Judge. If the new proposed Health Building at the Service Center has been completed by that time, quarters for this activity can be had in the Court House by moving other departments in that building into the present Health Building located directly behind the Court House.

If the present Health Building is not then available, the only present available space would be the fifth floor Committee Room. By remodeling the balcony and small adjoining space, it would be possible to provide fairly respectable judge's chambers, office space and jury room. It should be noted, that quarters in the County Office Building are not ideal for this facility due to the distance from the other court services.

The Auditors report further points out that the above proposals do not offer a permanent nor complete solution to our increasing need for space brought about by the growth of county. However, in the opinion of this Committee and the Board of Auditors, the above moves will go far toward relieving the present critical situation without need of outside rental and will most nearly accomplish the results sought, with the minimum disruption of county services as well as expense to the county, possible under the circumstances.

While no action is necessary on the part of the Board of Supervisors, both this Committee and the Board of Auditors are of the opinion that in view of the importance and seriousness of this matter, the Board of Supervisors should be duly advised and informed.

In Re: Special Census In Oakland County

Board Of Supervisors
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the various governmental units of Oakland County have enjoyed a tremendous growth in population during the past three years, and

Whereas state collected revenues are partially returned to local governmental units on the basis of population in the units, and

Whereas the economy of the governmental units is controlled by population and are dependent on an equal distribution of funds on the basis of population, and

Whereas the Board of Supervisors of Oakland County has, in the past, and will in the future based its actions on fair play and the welfare of the residents of the entire county, and

Whereas the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission has prepared a substantiated report on population estimates as of July 1, 1954 which clearly shows the distribution of the tremendous growth does not distribute the various funds according to the full intent and purposes of the State Legislature, and

Whereas the State Legislature apparently anticipated such growths from time to time since they provided for Special County Census for the purpose of redistribution;

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors instruct the County Clerk and County Corporation Counsel, as well as any other County Officials, required by law, to take the necessary steps for conducting a Special Census in Oakland County;

Be It Further Resolved that the cost of such Special Census be borne on the basis of increased per capita gains in the various governmental units which receive additional funds as a result of said census.

Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of this resolution.

HAROLD K. SCHONE
Supervisor,

Moved by Schone supported by Cardon the resolution be adopted.

Report.

By Mr. Horton,

In re: Health Center Building

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen of the Board:

At a meeting of the Building and Grounds Committee, and with the concurrence of the Health Committee, held on the 17th day of January, 1955, the following resolution was passed:

Whereas a Health Center Building is needed to facilitate the handling of the health problems in Oakland County, and

Whereas an appropriation has been made by the office of Hospital Survey and Construction from Hill-Burton money made available to the state for units on the county level and funds are now set aside for Oakland County, contingent on the County committing itself to the expenditure of county moneys sufficient to complete the building, and

Whereas the Ways and Means Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has advised this Committee that sufficient county moneys are available to supplement the state grant and construct a minimum of 10,000 square feet of space for the Health Center at an approximate cost of $270,000.00, 34% of which will be supplied from the Hill-Burton money above referred to;

Now therefore be it resolved:

1. That these Committees recommend to the Board of Supervisors that a building containing a minimum of 10,000 square feet of space be erected for a Health Center;

2. That the building be erected on a site on the Service Center to be selected by the Buildings and Grounds Committee;

3. That the estimated cost thereof is $270,000.00;

4. That 66% of the cost thereof be borne by the County;

5. That the Board of Supervisors, by approval and adoption of this resolution, definitely commit itself to supply, as when needed, the 66% county share of the cost;

6. That it be understood that the $270,000.00 includes architects fees and equipment;

7. That the County moneys be taken, ½ from the current Building Fund Account and ½ from the 1/10 mill levied for building in the 1956 budget;

8. That the Buildings and Grounds Committee bring recommendations to the Board of Supervisors at the April meeting of the Board as to an architect to design the Health Center unit.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the joint Committees, I move that the foregoing resolution adopted by the Buildings and Grounds Committee and concurred in by the Health Committee, be approved and adopted as the action of this Board.

In Re: Twelve Towns Relief Interceptor Drain

To The Honorable Board Of Supervisors

The Board of Supervisors, on the 20th day of September, 1954, adopted Ordinance No. 2944, creating the "Evergreen Interceptor District." The responsibility for the necessary action to secure the construction of the proposed interceptor sewer was delegated to the County Drain Commissioner. He was instructed to report further to the Board in regard to the exact boundaries of the district.

This is a progress report on the present status of the Twelve Towns Relief Interceptor Drain.

The proposed Twelve Towns Relief Interceptor Drain which is intended to relieve the present inadequate sewers in the southeastern part of the county are intended to be constructed under Chapter 18-A of the Drain Act Petitions have been filed by the municipalities requesting the relief.

The Drainage Board consisting of the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, the Chairman of the Board of Auditors and the Drain Commissioner, have been holding numerous meetings.

The Drain Commissioner has held a number of meetings with representatives of the cities involved in this project. A preliminary report was made by the Drain Commissioner, basing the design on a five year rainfall curve. This was presented to a firm of engineers who recommended a ten year curve which naturally will cost a considerable amount more than the earlier design at the meeting of the mayors and councils held with the Drainage Board at Northwood Inn on October 21, 1954, it seemed evident that the cities and townships preferred the ten year design at an estimated cost of $3,000,000.

It has been decided to split the engineering designs into at least three phases in order to facilitate the work. Engineers have been contacted and a meeting of the Drainage Board will be called for next week to award the engineering contracts to the firms.

In the meantime, legislation and work will be going on to hasten the early completion of the project. A meeting has been held an apportionments and another meeting will be held on January 20 to discuss a formula on apportionments.

In Re: Drains For Franklin Knolls Area

Mr. Chairman, Ladies And Gentlemen Of The Board:

Your Drain Committee respectfully reports as follows:

Petitions have been filed with the Board of Supervisors by the Townships of Farmington and West Bloomfield requesting drainage relief for the Franklin Knolls area lying west of Middle Belt Road on both sides of the Fourteen Mile Road and these petitions were referred to the Drain Committee. Your Committee has discussed the matter and recognizes the need for drainage in the area and is of the opinion that the relief can best be afforded under the provisions of Act 342 of the Public Acts of 1939 as amended, which act provides that the Board of Supervisors may, by resolution, adopted by a majority of the votes of the members elect, at any regular or special session of the Board, authorize and direct that there be established a system of "sewers and/or sewage disposal units and services".

That upon authorization by the Board, the Drain Commissioner, if designated as the instrumentality to carry out the provisions of the Act, shall prepare or obtain from competent sources and file with the Board of Supervisors, maps, plans, designs, specifications and estimates of the proposed improvement or facility. The Act also contains this provision in Section 2: "Nothing in this Act contained shall authorize such County Agency (the Drain Commissioner) to create any liability of any kind upon any such county."

Wherefore Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Drain Committee, I offer the following resolution:

Be It Resolved that this Board authorize and direct that there be established, a system or systems of sewers and/or sewage disposal improvements between the Townships of West Bloomfield and Farmington in the Franklin Knolls area, and that the Drain Commissioner be designated as the County Agency to administer the system;

Be It Further Resolved that the County Drain Commissioner be directed to obtain from competent sources and file with the Board of Sup a dog warden, who shall perform in and for said city, all the duties which this act prescribes for the supervisors of townships, and who shall receive the same compensation as is herein provided for supervisors: Provided further, That the Board of Supervisors of any county may, by resolution, appoint for said county for a term of 1 year a dog warden or dog wardens whose duties and compensation shall be such as shall be prescribed by said board of supervisors. And In Counties Of Over 350,000 Population According To The Last Decennial Census In Which A Dog Warden Is So Appointed Said Dog Warden Shall, Any Time After The 1st Day Of March Each Year, Apply To The Prosecuting Attorney For Prosecution Of Owners Of Dogs Who Have Not Procured Licenses As Required By This Act.

On June fifteenth (15th), of nineteen hundred twenty-five (1925) and each year thereafter, in Counties Of Less Than 350,000 And Any Time After March 1st In Counties Of Over 350,000 Which Have Appointed A County Dog Warden, each county treasurer shall make a comparison of his records of the dogs actually licensed in each city or township of his county with the report of the supervisor of said township, assessor of said city Or County Dog Warden, to determine and locate all unlicensed dogs. On and after June fifteenth (15th), Or after March 1st As The Case May Be of each year, every unlicensed dog, subject to license under the provisions of this act, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance and the county treasurer Or Dog Warden shall immediately thereafter list all such unlicensed dogs, as shown by the returns in his office of the supervisors and assessor. And County Dog Warden and shall deliver copies of such lists to the sheriff and prosecuting attorney of said county and to the commissioner of agriculture. On receiving from the county treasurer Or County Dog Warden, the name of any owner of any unlicensed dog, the prosecuting attorney shall at once commence the necessary proceedings against the owner of said dog, as required by the provisions of this act. It shall also be the duty of the sheriff or any member of the state constabulary to locate and kill, or cause to be killed, all such unlicensed dogs. Failure, refusal, or neglect on the part of any sheriff to carry out the provisions of this section shall constitute nonfeasance in office

Section 30, (as last amended by Act 172 of P. A. 1953) M.S.A. 12.341

All cities in this state having a population of 250,000 or more, according to the latest or each succeeding federal decennial census, or that shall hereafter attain such a population and all cities and villages entirely within the limits of such city of 250,000 population or more, or located within 20 miles of the corporate limits of such cities of 250,000 or more, and all townships in counties having a city of 250,000 population or more or townships contiguous to cities having a population of 250,000 or more and having an ordinance or ordinances regulating the licensing of dogs, payment of claims and providing for the enforcement of such ordinances, with the exception of the provisions in sections 10, 10a and 11 of this act, are hereby excepted from the other provisions of this act Any such city, village or township shall be authorized by action of the city, village or township board to adopt an ordinance or ordinances regulating the licensing of dogs, payment of claims and providing for the enforcement of such ordinances: Provided however, in counties which have or may hereafter by resolution of the board of supervisors adopt rabies vaccination requirements set forth in Act No. 25 of the Public Acts of 1948, any city, village or township Which Has Heretofore Adopted Or Which Hereafter Adopts a dog licensing ordinance or ordinances shall also require that such application for a license, except kennel licenses, shall be accompanied by proof of vaccination of the dog for rabies within the Time Prescribed By The Department Of Agriculture As Defined In Section 6 Of This Act.

In addition to the foregoing amendments to the Dog Law itself, it will be necessary to amend the Act by which County Health Departments are created, Act 306 of the Public Acts of 1927, to authorize the taking over of the administration of the Dog Law. It is my opinion that the title to the Act is broad enough so it will not need amending because the provisions for defining the powers and duties of the Board of Health can be added to.

Section 6 (as last amended in 1941) M.S.A. 14.106

The county or district board of health, or the health committee of the board of supervisors, shall have and exercise the same powers and perform the same duties of a board of health as conferred by law upon the boards of health of townships, villages and cities, And In Counties Of Over 350,000 Population According To The Last Decennial Census, Which Counties Shall Have Or Do Hereafter Appoint A County Dog Warden As Authorized Under The Provisions Of The 1919 Dog Law, As Amended, The Health Functions Of The Dog Warden May, By Resolution Of The Board Of Supervisors, Be Coprimated By The County Health Department With Its Administration Of The Health Laws And The Control Of Communicable Diseases And Such Health Departments May Create A Division Of Rabies Control To Be Administered By The County Dog Warden.

A new section could be added to read as follows:

Section 17A. Anything In This Act To The Contrary Notwithstanding, Any County under 350,000 Population May, By Resolution Of The Majority Of The Members Elect Of The Board Of Supervisors, At Any Regular Or Special Meeting Of The Board Called For That Purpose, Determine To Have Sections 16 And 17 Of This Act Applicable To Their County, And Upon Adoption Of An Appropriate Resolution, Said Sections 16 And 17 In Their Entirety Shall Be Operative In Such Counties Beginning January 1st Following The Adoption Of The Resolution

Mr. Chairman, I move that the proposed amendment be approved by this Board and notices of the Board's action, with a copy of the proposed amendment, be forwarded to each of our Representatives in the Legislature, and Senator, with the request that they use their best efforts to procure the enactment of the amendment into law.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas on November 19, 1954, your Ways and Means Committee met with the Board of Auditors and opened bids for a complete appraisal of all county buildings and contents for insurance purposes and the following bids were tabulated:

Company	Buildings	Furniture and Fixtures	Total
Industrial Appraisal Company	$3,540.00	$4,225.00	$ 7,765.00
Appraisal Engineering Corp.	4,000.00	4,500.00	8,500.00

Coats and Burchard Company	4,800.00	5,500.00	10,300.00
Marshall and Stevens Company			4,150.00

Whereas, upon consideration of the bids and the bidders, the Committee determined that the contract should be let to the Industrial Appraisal Company for the sum of $7,765.00 and this company agrees to annually review the appraisal and keep it up to date for 10% of the amount of the bid,

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, I move that the Board of Auditors be authorized to enter into a contract with the Industrial Appraisal Company and that sufficient funds be appropriated from the 1954 surplus to pay the same.

Whereas Oakland County has been carrying its own compensation risk on a self-insured basis, and

Whereas the Board of Auditors have, after considerable study, recommended that this risk be covered by purchase of compensation insurance to the end that personnel relations be better served and the program more efficiently and fairly administered at a cost commensurate with the costs of the present self-insurance program, and

Whereas your Ways and Means Committee concurs in this recommendation, and

Whereas there are sufficient monies in the 1955 Workman's Compensation Fund to pay for this coverage,

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the Board of Auditors be authorized and are hereby directed to purchase Workman's Compensation Insurance, subject to the approval of the Ways and Means Committee and that the costs of this insurance for 1955 be paid from the Workman's Compensation Fund.

This Board will recall that on April 19, 1954, by Miscellaneous Resolution No. 2907, we authorized the closing of all the County offices on Saturday but required some of the offices to maintain service until eight o'clock on Friday evenings.

A survey of the business done on Friday evenings discloses that as low an amount as $5c has been taken in on an evening in the Treasurer's Office and the experience of the other offices reflects substantially the same experience.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, I move, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, as follows:

1. That this Board fix the office hours for County offices, starting Monday, February 7, 1955, as follows:

In Re: Employment Of Acting Director Of Civil Defense To The Honorable Board Of Supervisors Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Civil Defense Committee wishes to report that your Civil Defense Director, Lewis C Jarrendt, was admitted to Harper Hospital on December 14, 1954 for eye surgery and we are pleased to report that he is recovering from the operation and hope that he will within the next few weeks, be able to assume his duties.

Your Committee met on December 22, 1954 and tentatively appointed Mr. Ransford Bromley as Acting Director during Mr. Jarendt's absence, subject to the approval of the Board of Supervisors at its next meeting. Mr. Bromley, former Chairman of the Civil Defense Committee, is well qualified to carry on the duties of Acting Director and we kindly ask that your Honorable Body approve of our action.

During his temporary employment, we recommend that he be paid on a per diem rate equal to annual salary of $5,616.00. Because of the short duration of his employment, the Chairman of the Salaries Committee offers no objection to this rate.

To avoid any complications which might arise between our local Civil Defense Department and that of the Michigan Office of Civil Defense because of the temporary appointment of Mr. Bromley approval was obtained from the State Department which came in the form of a letter dated January 3, 1955 over the signature of G. F. VanBlankensteyn State Deputy Director.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the rapid and anticipated growth of population in the 5-county area, comprised of Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne, has necessitated the expansion of water and sewer facilities beyond the local units ability to provide, and

Whereas the health and welfare of the citizens must be protected by sanitary facilities to prevent the spread of disease and provide for adequate and safe water supply, and

Whereas the proper planning for the area, to be economically sound, must necessarily depend on a combination of local governmental units including counties, and

Whereas no individual unit or combination of units of government has sufficient funds currently available to proceed with the necessary studies and surveys, nor is there adequate legislation to allow such joint action, and

Whereas the state and federal governments have made funds available, on a loan basis, for other types of community planning, and

Whereas an adequate water supply and drainage system is imperative to the orderly growth and development of the 5-county area,

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the members of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee recommend that this Board petition the Congress of the United States and the State Legislature to make available funds for planning future water and sewer facilities on a loan basis, and pass the necessary enabling legislation to allow the local units of government, including counties, to combine for the purpose of such planning.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Boundaries Committee met in the office of the Corporation Counsel on March 21, 1955 and gave consideration to all of the petitions to incorporate or annex, on file at that time.

There are two petitions filed to incorporate the Township of Southfield as a City The first petition is insufficient and I will offer an appropriate resolution to dispose of the same in this, the September Session of the Board. The second petition is sufficient in all particulars and I will later offer a resolution in the April Session to submit the matter to a vote of the people affected at an election to be held June 7, 1955.

There are two petitions on file to incorporate the Village of Bingham Farms. This territory is in the Township of Southfield. The first petition is insufficient and I will offer a resolution in this, the September Session, to so declare it.

Subsequently, in the April Session, I will offer a resolution to approve the second petition which is sufficient.

There will also be a resolution offered to submit the incorporation of a major portion of Troy Township as a city to the voters and a resolution on the petition to annex a portion of Commerce Township to the Village of Wolverine Lake.

This matter was tabled on motion of Mr. Roeser.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Boundaries Committee, I move that Miscellaneous Resolution No. 2934 be now taken from the table and when that is done, I will offer a resolution to declare the petition to be insufficient.

Whereas the County of Oakland does not have in operation, a formal plan for compensation of County employees during unavoidable periods of illness or incapacity, commonly known as a "Sick-Leave Plan", and

Whereas this Committee believes that such a plan would contribute to increased work efficiency through improvement of employee morale and through accurate accounting for personal services rendered on behalf of Oakland County, and

Whereas such a plan would operate most equitably if applied uniformly to employees of all county departments,

Now therefore be it resolved that the plan hereto attached and referred to as Exhibit A (a copy of which has been forwarded to all members of the Board of Supervisors), be adopted as the plan governing sick leave in the Oakland County department.

Oakland County Employees Sick Leave Plan

1. Employees of Oakland County shall accumulate and be credited with thirteen (13) workdays of sick leave with pay per year, to be credited at the rate of one-half (½) day for each completed bi-weekly payroll period.

A. Sick leave shall be available for use for the following purposes:

1. Acute personal illness or incapacity over which the employee has no reasonable control. (Note: Sick leave shall not be taken in connection with leaves of absence for pregnancy.)

2. Absence from work because of exposure to contagious disease which, according to public health standards, would constitute a danger to the health of others by the employee's attendance at work.

3. Medical and dental examinations or treatment.

B. Employees shall accumulate sick leave from the date they are hired, but such leave shall not be used the first completion of three months employment; except in cases where illness or incapacity has been suffered in line of duty.

D. An employee who suffers injury compensable under the Workmen's Compensation Act shall be paid the difference between his regular salary and payment received under provisions of the Act to be deducted from accumulated sick leave on a prorated basis. After sick leave has been exhausted, the employee shall remain on the Workmen's Compensation payroll until able to return to duty

E. Employees who have exhausted their sick leave credit and are still unable to return to duty may be paid by any unused vacation credits. Employees who have exhausted both their sick leave and vacation credit and are still unable to return to duty may borrow up to one week of unearned sick leave; provided that, should the employee be separated from County employment before earning sick leave so borrowed, payment shall be deducted from accrued salary.

F. Employees who are laid off due to lack of work or funds and who are rehired within one year, shall have available any unused sick leave previously earned, effective at the time of reappointment.

G. Employees who leave the County service to enter the Armed Forces of the United States under the provisions of the Selective Service Act, who are members of the Armed Forces and are called to active duty, or who enlist in the Armed Forces during a declared national emergency shall, upon re-employment by the County, have available, any unused sick leave previously earned; provided that such re-employment takes place within 90 days after discharge or release from active duty in the Armed Forces, whichever is later.

I. An employee who transfers from one County department to another shall transfer with him any unused sick leave.

J. Employees on leave of absence without pay shall not accumulate sick leave during such period.

K. Employees on leave of absence with pay shall accumulate sick leave.

L. Employees who regularly work less than full time shall accumulate sick leave at the established rate, prorated according to the average number of hours worked per day.

2. If a death occurs among members of an employee's immediate family or household, the employee may be granted up to three (3) days leave with pay which shall not be charged to his sick leave.

3. All employees of Oakland County shall be covered by the provisions of this resolution except elected or appointed officials and persons hired for temporary employment. Temporary employment shall be considered as appointment to a position anticipated to be of less than six months duration.

4. Each County Department Head shall be responsible for reviewing employee requests for sick leave and determining their validity. He shall, with reference to the needs of his department, require prompt notification from his employees of the necessity for use of sick leave and written explanation of each absence in prescribed form. Prior notification should be provided by the employee whenever possible. The department head may require such additional information as he deems pertinent, such as physicians reports or results of medical examinations. He shall refuse to allow use of sick leave where, in his judgment there is insufficient evidence to support the employee's claim, or where he believes that the employee has not exercised reasonable effort to promptly notify the department of his absence.

5. The Board of Auditors shall be authorized to supervise the administration of the sick leave plan. It shall establish standard practices and procedures and such rules as will aid in carrying out the provision of the plan.

6. For purposes of placing this plan in effect, the following provisions shall apply:

Five (5) workdays for each year of service credited for prior service and membership service as a member of the Oakland County Employees' Retirement System, computed to the nearest half-year, through completion of the year 1954.

2. One-half (½) workday of sick leave credited for each payroll period of employment during 1955 up to the effective date of this resolution.

3. Total credit under provisions (1) and (2) above shall not exceed 100 workdays.

4. In cases where a County department has had a tentative sick leave plan in use prior to the effective date of this plan, the department head may, at his discretion, reduce the sick leave credit granted under provisions (1) (2) and (3) above.

B. The effective date of this plan shall be April 30 1955.

In Re: Sale Of Lots In Bloomfield Hills Addition, City Of Pontiac

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At a meeting of the Buildings and Grounds Committee held on March 1, 1955, the matter of the sale of Lots 17 and 18 of Bloomfield Hills Addition to the City of Pontiac came up for discussion and it was brought to the attention of the Committee that Taft Jackson and Lorraine Jackson, his wife, had submitted an offer to purchase said lots for the sum of $15,000.00, which purchase price meets the figure set by appraisers. Said purchaser is to pay one-half of the purchase price as a down payment, the balance to be paid by land contract within five years with interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) on the unpaid balance.

It was the opinion of the committee that the consideration is adequate and the sale should be made, subject to the concurrence of the Welfare Commission. Mr. MacDonald, Chairman of the Welfare Commission, has been contacted and concurs in the recommendation of the Committee that the property be sold as outlined above.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, I move that the offer of Taft Jackson and Lorraine Jackson, his wife, be accepted as outlined above and that the Corporation Counsel prepare the necessary papers to close the transaction; that the Chairman and Clerk of the Board be authorized to execute the same and that the matter be closed in conjunction with the Board of Auditors.

In Re: Changes At The T. B. Sanatorium

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Tuberculosis Sanatorium Committee wishes to give notice of two changes that have been made at the Sanatorium.

The first has been under consideration by the Trustees for some time. That is to have the County Health Director as professional advisor to the Trustees. A meeting was had with Dr. John D. Monroe on March 19, 1955 and he was requested to act as professional advisor. Dr. Monroe accepted and a suitable resolution was passed on that date.

The second change concerns the Medical Superintendent of the Sanatorium. Dr. Webber has been very ill for the past four weeks and it is evident that his condition is such that he will be unable to assume the responsibility of the duties of the job again. With Dr. Monroe's advice the Trustees have requested Dr. Donald Smith, the Sanatorium's consultant in internal medicine, to assume, for a temporary period, the responsibilities of acting Medical Superintendent of the Sanatorium. When a permanent change is effected in this position, you will be notified.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Roy B. Cowdin of Oxford, Michigan died December 22, 1954 in Sacramento, California.

He was Chairman of the Board of Auditors in 1920 and a member of this Board for ten years as the Supervisor from Oxford Township.

He was born in Oakland County, Brandon Township, February 19, 1873. He attended the local schools and farmed with his father on the one hundred sixty acres settled by his grandparents when they came here from New Hampshire around 1800.

When he reached the age of twenty-two, the spell of the Yukon took him to Alaska where, for three years, he prospected the Yukon River basin.

When he returned, he purchased a farm in Lapeer County but after three years, came to Oxford where he opened a general supply company, harness, coal, lumber etc.

He was a highly respected member of his community, a faithful public servant and a citizen of which we can all be proud.

He was affiliated with the Gleaners and the Free and Accepted Masons.

He is survived by his wife, Erma, and two brothers, Ernest of Portland and Frank of Lake Orion.

Use Care When Transplanting Vegetables

Better to Avoid Oversize Plants

Evening Is Best Time to Replant Seedlings; Starter Solutions Help

Pontiac area gardeners setting plants in gardens are urged to use great care when transplanting vegetable plants. Unless care is taken, they may be so stunted that they will never recover and will produce poorly.

Water thoroughly before removing the plants so that the soil will remain on the roots. To remove from the transplant flats cut through the soil between the plants with a trowel or large knife about a week before transplanting. This will permit plants to be moved with as much soil as possible.

SHIELD FROM SUN

The best time for transplanting is evening or on a cloudy day. A paper cone, shingle or board will make a good shield from sun or wind in hot weather.

Holes for the plants should be large enough to hold the roots without crowding. Seedlings of cabbage, cauliflower, kohlrabi, onions, eggplant, tomato, and peppers should be slightly deeper than they grew in the flat.

Tall tomato plants may be angled in a trench. They will root along the stem. Lettuce and celery should be planted with the crowns just at the surface.

ALTERNATE SOIL, WATER

After setting the plant, half fill the hole with soil. Then water the plant. As soon as the water and soil have settled, complete filling the hole with soil and firm it around the plant.

Use of a starter solution will help greatly. Use a soluble fertilizer and follow the instructions on the container. Usually about two tablespoons per gallon of water is right.

Use a cupful of this starter solution on each plant. The plants will need watering each week if weather continues dry.

Prepare for Gardening by Protecting Hands

While you are making up your list of needed garden supplies, include a bottle of baby oil and a cake of soap. Before starting each gardening session, wipe a film of the baby oil all over your hands and scrape your fingernails across the soap.

This will prevent dirt from working into the pores or under the nails. It will make cleaning up easier and will help keep your hands soft and smooth.

Clear the Driveway

Use a non-selective weed-killer for unwanted growths in the driveway and along walks — and the earlier this is done, the easier it is to dispatch the young growths.

GROWS PRIZE GLADIOLI — Above, Andrew C. Maier of Waterford Township, nationally known gladiolus fancier, looks over one of the many cups and trophies he has received for gladioli he has developed. This year Maier will grow over 1,200 varieties of the plant, all of them hybridized by himself, at his place at 2174 Old Lane Drive. He has acquired more than 25 cups and trophies with his prize-winning specimens. A member of the international New England Gladiolus Society, he is also supervisor of judges for the North American Gladiolus Council. He started growing the attractive flowers when his wife purchased a bag of assorted gladiolus corms some 27 years ago. Photograph to the left is of an exhibit Maier arranged, showing the correct planting depth for gladioli, according to the size of the corms. Maier claims most anyone can grow beautiful gladiolus blooms if they will follow a few simple rules. Good soil is a "must," he says, and advises growers to have soil tested before planting.

Here's Tipoff on Gladioli

Anyone can grow prize-winning gladiolus blooms if they will follow a few simple rules, says Andrew C. Maier of Waterford Township, nationally known authority on the plant and holder of more than 25 cups and trophies.

Maier's home at 2174 Old Lane Dr. is filled with medals and awards he has won with the many new varieties of gladioli he has hybridized and developed. He is the supervisor of judges for the North American Gladiolus Council and a member of the international New England Gladiolus Society.

Gardening is Maier's business, and he got into gladiolus culture 27 years ago when his wife purchased a bag of assorted corms. The spikes were scrawny and pale but they caught his fancy and this year he will be planting 1,200 varieties of his own creation. Some of these are the old standbys; some just young hopefuls.

HAVE SOIL TESTED

For success in gladiolus growing, good soil is of primary importance and Maier recommends that gardeners have their soil tested by the county agriculture agent and build it up according to his recommendations.

Select good healthy corms. These should be firm of flesh, and yellow, white or pinkish is color. If they have brown specks or spots, they are diseased and will have to be treated with Ceresan or corrosive sublimate.

Planting time may be anytime from May to July 1, depending on the maturation period of the individual varieties.

SANDY LOAM IS BEST

The gladiolus is a sun-lover and does best in a sandy loam, so choose your planting area accordingly.

For the largest No. 1 corms (those about 1½ to 2 inches in diameter) Maier digs a trench five inches deep and mixes a small amount of superphosphate in the bottom. The corms are planted six inches apart.

When plants are about six inches tall, side-dress with a 5-10-5 fertilizer, about one pound to 20 feet of row. When the stem thickens with the bud inside, fertilize again, this time using 1½ pounds to every 20 feet of row.

* * *

Fertilizer is applied six inches from the plants in a two-inch trench. Cover, then water well.

Thrips, the gladiolus' worst enemy while growing, often cause the foliage and flowers to appear warped. For control, dust with 5 per cent DDT, at the 6, 12, and 18 inch stages, when the dew is on the plant.

For storage, the plants should be dug five or six weeks after blooming. Cut off the tops and store the corms in shallow boxes, giving them plenty of air to dry.

After three or four weeks, clean off the old corm and store in a cool dry place that is well ventilated. Temperature should be kept at 40 degrees — thrips breed when it is much warmer.

Dense Grass, Chemicals Keep Lawns Weed-Free

If you have put on a few extra pounds around the waist, pulling weeds by hand would be good exercise. But don't expect top results if you use this method to de-weed your lawn.

"Weeds can be controlled by the use of chemicals," says William Aho, forester with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., "and needless to say this method saves those aches and pains one gets from using the hand weed digger."

For the most effective weed control, Aho offers the following suggestions:

KEEP GRASS THICK

Maintain a dense healthy growth of grass. This condition usually will keep out most of the weeds, although unfortunately this is not always the case.

When more of the common weeds such as plantain, buckhorn and dandelions become established on your lawn, its time to reach for the chemical weed killer.

2-4-D is sold in different concentrated forms so be certain to follow the manufacturer's directions as to the method of application. One can spray weeds from May until around the first of October.

* * *

Good results will be noted if you spray once during the spring and again in the fall. Spraying should be done when temperatures are above 60 degrees for best results.

POISON IVY, TOO

Weeds such as crabgrass, quackgrass and golden rod are not usually killed by the water soluble formulation. Poison ivy can be killed by applying a double strength of 2-4-D.

Bent grasses should never be sprayed with the chemical. White clover wilts after applying 2-4-D but will come back to life again.

When you have killed the weeds on your lawn you will probably notice bare spots. If these areas are not reseeded weeds and undesirable grasses will take over again.

The use of herbicides is not intended to take the place of proper lawn care. Remember that fertilizing, watering and mowing your lawn will aid greatly in keeping out the crabgrass and broad leaved weeds from becoming established in your lawn.

Oakland County Corn Growing Contest Planned

To stimulate interest in higher corn yields, a corn-growing contest is being sponsored jointly this summer by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Oakland County Agricultural Extension Service.

Those who enter the contest will be given a tour of the Pontiac Motor Co. followed by a luncheon, at which time a cup will be presented to the winner. The afternoon will feature a tour of corn farms.

Oakland County's most important field crop is corn. According to the latest figures available, the average yield is only 42 bushels per acre.

The Oakland County Agricultural Extension Service feels that most farmers using improved practices should be shooting for 75 bushels per acre, according to John Trock, farm and home development agent.

If farmers can come close to this average, over $1,000,000 additional income will be produced in Oakland County. Some county farmers are now raising over 100 bushel per acre.

Entry blanks and rules for the contest are available at 1260 West Boulevard. Those entering the contest will plant one acre of corn and follow recommended practices by the Oakland County Extension Service.

"It is felt that when farmers can see what higher levels of fertilizer and other improved practices can do for one acre, they will be willing to try it on their whole corn acreage the following year," Trock said.

Prune Flowering Shrub

Thin Out Seedlings

Be strong, be brave: Thin out those rows of seedings, particularly the rows of hardy vegetables. Root crops must have root room. The others, too, if crowded, will be short on produce or bloom.

If you can, transplant strong seedlings. But even if you can't, thin them to a good growing distance anyway.

Spray Lace Bugs

Rhododendron, azalea and others of that family of plants may be attacked by lace bugs. Nicotine sulphate in a spray with a few soap chips added to make it stick, should be applied to affected material — with special attention to the undersides of the leaves.

Wheat, Beans Progress Some

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and soybeans made a little upward progress on the Board of Trade today but were unable to carry feed grains with them.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅞ higher, July $1.99⅝; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, July $1.46⅝; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, July 67⅞; rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, July $1.03; soybeans ¼ to 1 cent higher, July $2.44¾; and lard 2 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.62.

Japan bought five cargoes of white wheat overnight but this grain is not hedged in the futures pit. The Agriculture Department sold 1½ million bushels of wheat to exporters, but here again the transaction resulted in no lifting of hedges in wheat.

It was still raining in some sections of the Southwest, where floods have replaced drought as the chief cause for concern. In Enid, Okla., for example, rain totaled 10.50 inches since the start of May, far above normal.

Strikes, Shortages Hit Chrysler Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Curtailed production was expected at Chrysler plants in Detroit and Evansville, Ind., today following strikes and parts shortages that idled some 15,000 workers yesterday.

The company said 8,500 were sent home yesterday from the Dodge main plant in Detroit because of a shortage of trim materials from suppliers.

In addition, 121 salaried engineers at the company's Vernor Highway plant in Detroit walked off their jobs because of a cut in overtime work, the company said.

Chrysler said the Evansville strike followed the firing of a body plant employe for insubordination. The Evansville workers are represented by the CIO United Auto Workers union.

Admit Blocking Rails

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Two 8-year-old boys have admitted they put more than 200 steel rods on the New York Central's main line through here last Saturday. A freight train hit the rods but was not wrecked and no one was hurt. The boys' parents were ordered to bring them into Juvenile Court Thursday.

Aircrafts Dip; Others Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts were lower today in a generally higher stock market.

In early dealings losses went to around a point in a few cases while gains were fractional. The plus signs, however, were slightly more numerous.

Aircrafts have been strong for the past two days, inspiring advances in the stock market as a result. Today they sagged.

Lower were Douglas Aircraft, General Dynamics, Bath Iron Works, RCA, Zenith Radio, Westinghouse Electric, Baltimore & Ohio, and American Cyanamid.

4 Millionth Vehicle Is Due Next Week

DETROIT (AP) — Motor vehicle production this week will consist of 175,769 cars and 30,975 trucks, Automotive News said today.

The factories built 177,650 cars and 30,990 trucks last week.

Next week's assemblies, the trade paper said, will include the four millionth vehicle to be built in the United States in 1955. The same production milestone was not reached last year until late in July.

Automotive News noted that labor troubles during the last two weeks hampered production. It said, however, that indicated output for the present month still stands at around 73,000 (T) cars and 128,000 (T) trucks.

Union Office Worker Strikes Against It

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. John H. Callahan says she's on strike today against Local 225, CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, for "unfair labor practices."

Mrs. Callahan is a clerical worker in the local's business office. She said yesterday the "conditions" have existed "for quite a while, but reached the breaking point today." She did not elaborate.

Senate Debates Road Aid Boost

GOP May Substitute Ike's Plan for Dem Bill on Highway Building

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate opens debate today on a Democratic bill to double present federal aid spending for road building.

Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said there would probably be no votes until the middle of next week. Both sides expect the issue to be settled by late next week, however.

* * *

The Democratic measure, written by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), would greatly increase spending on all of the four federal-aid highway systems—interstate, primary, secondary and urban. For these it would authorize a federal-state outlay of $17,941,000,000 over the next five years. It would double the present rate of spending in the first year, and triple it by the fourth and fifth years.

The Eisenhower proposal would allot 38 billions of federal and state funds for the four systems over 10 years, but would concentrate 26 billions of this on the 40,000-mile interstate system designed to link up all parts of the nation.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS)—The American Railway Car Institute reported today that orders placed for new freight cars totaled 2,706 during April. This compared with 2,156 in the preceding month and only 909 in April, 1954. Deliveries of new domestic freight cars dipped to 2,750 last month as compared with 2,833 in March. It was well below the 4,038 cars delivered in April, last year. Backlog of cars on order as of May 1, this year, was 17,930. This was little changed from the 17,914 on order April 1, and 17,817 a year ago.

NEW YORK (INS)—Glidden Co. announced net income for the quarter ended April 30 of $2,055,137, equal to 89 cents a common share. This compared with $1,596,689, or 70 cents a common share, in the same period last year. Sales increased to $54,511,580 from $53,593,551 a year ago. Dwight P. Joyce, chairman, said the outlook for the balance of the year is excellent.

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Federal Reserve Board reported that business loans of member banks $114,000,000 in the week ended May 11. The principal gains were $24,000,000 in the San Francisco district, and $18,000,000 each in the Philadelphia and New York City districts. Outstanding borrowings now total 22 billion 721 million dollars, a rise of 676 million dollars over this period a year ago.

Two Pontiac Men Attend Meeting in East Lansing

Two Pontiac men are in East Lansing this week attending the National Conference on Police-Community Relations, an Institute sponsored by the Michigan State College Police Administration Department and the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Present are Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Thomas Gerls. The latter was selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce on request of the Pontiac Urban League, according to league director, Everett C. Spurlock.

"The conference was planned to have one representative from the police department and on from the community at large selected to attend," Spurlock explained.

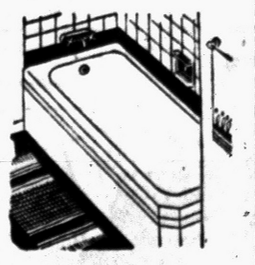

The league here received a $65 scholarship from the Detroit Round table of Christians and Jews and asked the Jaycees to pick the recipient.

"The delegates are studying problems of communities hit by a large population increase, particularly of minority groups," Spurlock stated. Straley and Gerls will later plan a similar local institut to be sponsored by numerous civic groups, he added.

In explaining the meeting's purpose, Prof. Arthur F. Brandstatter, head of MSC's police school, said, "In recent years communities have become increasingly aware of the need to improve human relations at the local level.

"Many police departments have instituted training programs and have held regional conferences on the subject. Social agencies, religious groups, schools and community groups have started programs to study techniques for bettering personal and inter-group relations in communities.

"However, in too many cases there has been a lack of communication between police and community leaders in the field."

Here's the Way Scout Leader Figured Out Missing Letters in Message From Group

ON BIG MESA. This could have meant IN BIG MESS, but it is much more to the point to have the Scouts give their present location immediately. This could mean simply a large MESA, or could be a name, BIG MESA, from one of the maps mentioned, thereby locating them specifically.

* * *

GLAD YOU GOT OUT. FLASH WEAK AND EIGHT MATCHES LEFT. This is more in accord with the situation than GLAD YOU GOT OUR FLASH, for the story clues stated that they had "lost contact with the others," and actually this is the first FLASH to be received. FLASH WEAK is evident from the fact that the receiver of the message missed some of the letters, when the FLASH failed to function.

EIGHT MATCHES LEFT is better than NIGHT WATCHES or any other combination here. Information was given that the weather was foggy, and in wet weather the difficulty of starting a fire is usually great; hence the mention of the low supply of MATCHES.

GUIDE IS MAD. This fits the situation more aptly than GUIDE IN BAD SHAPE. Actually, the Indian guide would probably be in better shape than the boys, for he is on his home ground and is used to strenuous climbing. He IS MAD because he would probably have known the best route to the "forked path," and would not have approved of the Scout leader's decison to split up the group.

GUIDE IS MAD

The "worried consultation" mentioned in the story clues point toward this, and in addition the Indian guide IS MAD because he has been sent off in the wrong direction.

* * *

Since IN BAD SHAPE is ruled out, the message goes on SHALE CLIFF MADE GOING ROUGH. MADE is better than MAKE because the group is on the mesa and their climbing would therefore be in the past tense. ROUGH is indicated by the word SHALE, which would make the going rougher but not necessarily tougher.

WOOD NEARBY BUT DAMP is tied in with the foggy weather and the reference to the precious EIGHT MATCHES. FOOD NEARLY OUT would not be likely here; each of the two groups would have had the same amount of food, and it may be assumed that on an extended camping trip they would have adequate supplies.

Also, FOOD NEARLY OUT would have to be followed by CAMP NOT SHELTERED, whereas NOT SHELTERED is adequate to describe their situation atop a mesa, or flat plateau, where it would be difficult to find any shelter. Needless to say, there is no NEARBY HUT.

HOPE, NOT ROPE

BILL FELL TO LEDGE, WE LOST HOPE. If they had lost ROPE, they might not have been able to save him, as stated a few words later. The inference is that they lost HOPE because the boy fell to a LEDGE out of their sight, for the message goes on to say THEN BILL FOUND, a more dramatic phrasing than WHEN BILL FOUND.

And SAVED HIM SAME WAY WE PRACTICED. The Scouts would have had some practice in the use of a rope, in preparation for this trip, but the sender of this urgent message would not have bothered to specify LAST MONTH.

The AT begins a new sentence, and again refers to the maps the Scouts were using. AT EAST MOUTH OF CAVE WAS PARK TRAIL. This points toward the way out for them; they have discovered an old PARK TRAIL which the other group can also find on their maps, AT EAST MOUTH OF CAVE.

IF DAVE HAS PACK TRAIN would not pertain to the situation, for Scout leader DAVE would not be able to assemble a PACK TRAIN, that is a group of PACK animals, at this juncture in the mountains. Nor is CAN REACH US BY HORSE logical in this situation. The Scouts have had a rough climb to the top of the mesa, and it is improbable that they can be reached BY HORSE.

ASK INFORMATION

On the other hand, they have an injured boy, and so they suggest that the Scout leader CAN TEACH US BY MORSE — the only method of communication at the distance involved — AND WE WILL WEAVE MAT TO LOWER PATIENT. This is more practical than WEAVE MAT TO COVER PATIENT, since they expect early rescue and this would not be necessary. They would not be apt to LEAVE MAN TO COVER or LOWER PATIENT.

* * *

CAN GET DOWN IN DAY is more informative than IN DRY WEATHER. They would not wait for the weather to improve, and their estimate of DAY is based on the two days it took them to arrive at the mesa top, plus the old PARK TRAIL that will speed their way down. They know that the Scout leader is worried about them so they give the assurance that LEATHER JACKETS KEEP US WARM.

PLEASE HEAD RESCUE PARTY is a more definite plea to the Scout leader than LEAD RESCUE PARTY would be. They want him to HEAD, and not merely LEAD or guide, the rescue party, especially in view of the final WILL NEED INSTRUCTIONS. It goes without saying that the stranded group will HEED instructions.

The signature is not BORDEN, the Scout leader's name. It is suggested by the method of sending the message, that is, FLASH — the first name of at least one famous GORDEN.

ON BIG MESA. GLAD YOU GOT OUT. FLASH WEAK AND EIGHT MATCHES LEFT. GUIDE IS MAD. SHALE CLIFFS MADE GOING ROUGH. WOOD NEARBY BUT DAMP, NOT SHELTERED. BILL FELL TO LEDGE; WE LOST HOPE. THEN BILL FOUND, SAVED HIM SAME WAY WE PRACTICED. AT EAST MOUTH OF CAVE WAS PARK TRAIL. CAN TEACH US BY MORSE AND WE WILL WEAVE MAT TO LOWER PATIENT. CAN GET DOWN IN DAY. LEATHER JACKETS KEEP US WARM. PLEASE HEAD RESCUE PARTY; WILL NEED INSTRUCTIONS.

CD Role Is Planned for Michigan Hams

LANSING (AP) — A plan under which Michigan's 3,000 amateur radio operators will assist established communications systems in time of disaster has received federal approval, the State Civil Defense office said today.

For the purpose of civil defense communications, the state's 83 counties have been grouped into 10 areas, each with a civil defense radio officer in charge. County radio officers, whose duties will be to organize operators and facilities in their areas, will work under the area officers.

Francis E. Gary of Flint has been approved by the Federal Communications Commission for the post of state civil defense radio officer who would share with the state civil defense director the authority to order the plan into operation.

More than 250,000 Americans are admitted to mental hospitals each year.

Poor Golfer Takes It Out on Interfering Pine Tree

Many a hacker had cussed the pine tree to the right of and a few yards in front of the fifth tee. Thousands of drives had ricocheted off the pine.

That is, until an unknown golfer came back to the course after dark and apparently decided to "get revenge" for poor scores. He hacked down the tree.

Tennessee Boy Glorifies State

Cornfed TV Joker Who Is Favorite of Queens to Be Feted at Home

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Tennessee Ernie Ford, noted for raising cornfed jokes on TV, would rather be raisin' cattle and hay up at the old homestead—a fancy 1,000-acre farm in Lake County, Calif.

"I never have got all hopped up about all this singin' I'm doin'," Ernie insisted, "but o' course I'm grateful for my success and a lotta nice things have happened to me."

The strapping, six-foot TV and radio star, started mushin' to Alaska eight years ago, but ran into a financial snow-slide in San Bernardino, Calif., and had to hire himself out as an air-wave announcer instead of a hog-caller.

"Ma wife and I never wanted to do anything but farm," Ernie related.

"So back in 1946 Betty and I decided to head for gold country. We heard you could file a homesteading claim there and own your own land in five years.

"We put most of our money into a car, packed up our duds and took off. Then we ran out of money and I had to go to work."

Ernie began annoucing on a part-time basis, but three weeks later he was put on full time and two weeks after that the Fords gave up the idea of being neighbors with the Eskimos.

The Tennessee-born performer thinks he might have been a disc jockey the rest of his life if he hadn't moved to Pasadena.

It was here that Ernie got into the habit of moseying onto Cliffie Stone's "Hometown Jamboree" to kid around and join in the gospel sings.

He eventually was hired as a regular and later won a Capitol records recording contract.

He got a TV show, night club dates and guest appearances on the nation's top network shows. Now, he does a five-a-week, 30 minute TV show over NBC-TV plus a 30-minute daily radio stint with Gary Crosby over CBS.

Ernie's Alaskan snowball really started to roll last year when he was signed to sing the title song in "River of No Return" starring Marilyn Monroe and Robert Mitchum.

That year he also appeared on the Red Skelton show, two "I Love Lucy" shows and numerous Ed Sullivan shows.

But is he happy?

"Yeah, I like what I'm doin'," Ernie agreed, "but I like to hunt and fish and I just don't have enough time for it."

His closest pals say the man from Tennessee is tired of the sound of his own voice.

Just Wants Little Quiet

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Pilot William Marsh of the Peninsula Air Rescue Service spotted a farmer crumpled beneath his tractor and swooped low to investigate.

On closer view, Marsh saw a red blob on the man's head and quickly landed his Piper Cub in an adjoining field.

When Marsh arrived at the tractor, the farmer sat up and said he didn't want to be rescued, but he would like a little quiet so he could continue his nap.

U. N. Scientists Rehearse for First Nuclear Confab

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A group of scientists here is taking an experimental approach to the world's first conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy. They're learning by doing.

Their job is to help the U.N. set up that conference, scheduled for Aug. 8-20 in Geneva. They've moved, 19 strong, into 20 rooms high in the 39-floor secretariat building.

* * *

They include 17 "scientific secretaries" from 11 countries; the conference secretary general, Walter G. Whitman, of Concord, Mass., and his deputy, Viktor S. Vavilov, of Moscow.

They sat down the other day with assorted U.N. employes in a conference room for a dry run of a conference session. It took about an hour. The real thing next summer will take considerably longer; more than 50 countries are sure to be represented, and 84 altogether have been invited.

* * *

The subject of the rehearsal, chosen somewhat haphazardly, was the abstract of a Canadian paper on "Experiments on Some Characteristics of the NRX Reactor." The NRX is an atomic pile Canada has been operating at Chalk River, Ont., since 1947. Robert A. Charpie, 29, assistant director of research at the national laboratory in Oak Ridge, Tenn., presented the abstract. He is one of the scientific secretaries.

The main object was to give U.N. interpreters practice in talking about nuclear physics in English, French, Russian and Spanish. They had already worked up their own glossary, and the scientists had been checking it for accuracy.

* * *

Now the American scientist sat at a table with his colleagues in the conference room and presented the Canadian paper in English. His colleagues in turn offered multilingual comments on it.

The interpreters, wearing headphones, caught their remarks by wire in enclosed booths overlooking the chamber and put them simultaneously into the other languages. The interpretations went back to the scientists listening at the table, through little plastic receivers that hung over one ear.
