Boy, 16, Dies in Auto Crash

Birmingham Dentist's Son Was Riding to School With Friend

A 16-year-old Birmingham youth on his way to school was killed instantly early today when the car in which he was riding crashed into the back of a road grader in Bloomfield Township.

The victim was William Rennell, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis W. Rennell of 576 N. Fairbanks.

At the same time, the two free world leaders called on the 86-nation U. N. Assembly to buckle down to "serious, sober and constructive work" on international disarmament.

In a satisfactory condition in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, is the driver of the car, James Boyle, 16, of 490 Tibbury Road, Bloomfield Township.

Township Police Chief Norman Dehnke estimated the vehicle was traveling 60-65 miles an hour when it struck the parked grader on Maple road, near Cranbrook Cross Road.

The grader was being used in the widening of the road. Police had not immediately determined how the accident happened.

Debate Steps Up Campaign

Assembly Told to Get Going Support Piles Up for U.N.'s Dag

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today pledged full support to U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld in the face of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demands he be fired.

An American spokesman emphasized that Macmillan in no way sought to act as a mediator between Eisenhower and Khrushchev or to arrange a face-to-face meeting between the two cold war foes.

Eisenhower-Macmillan-parley was held in a news conference, saying in part: "The President is reported increasingly confident that numerous neutralist nations will join Western countries in defeating Khrushchev's plan to revamp the United Nations to Moscow's design."

Eisenhower is understood to be considerably heartened as a result of lengthy conferences Monday with India's Prime Minister Nehru and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Both men got along very well during their conference, authorities said. Nasser made it clear he backs the United Nations and appreciates the peace-making efforts of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

To continue his personal diplomacy, Eisenhower is understood to be considering a luncheon meeting with representatives of 11 new African states admitted to U. N. membership last week.

Retain Pontiac Identity, Increase Driver Comfort

By HARRY REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

Crisp new styling which retains the Pontiac identity, and increased comfort for the driver are the hallmarks of the 1961 Pontiac, designed to continue Pontiac's superiority in the medium-price class.

Lower, shorter, narrower and easier to enter, the '61 line is tabbed "the most exciting new car in the division's 53-year history" by S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"Pontiac for 1961 has combined dynamic new styling concepts with significant engineering advances," Knudsen said.

The new Pontiac is as much as .9 inch lower, four inches shorter, and 2.5 inches narrower, yet important passenger compartment dimensions have been improved. Pontiac's famous wide-track design prevails.

A newly designed windshield eliminates the corner extension, or "dog leg" on all models.

Also providing more interior comfort are a 12 per cent increase in front seat to steering wheel clearance, a 4 d wider opening doors for greater ease of entrance and exit; a 2.3 inch increase in front seat height on most models for a more natural, relaxed sitting position; and a reduction in floor tunnel height.

Head room has been improved by as much as two inches, according to Chief Engineer E. M. Estes.

Whereas the 1960 model featured a jutting conver appearance to the identifying grille, the 1961 model achieves the three dimensional look with a concave effect.

Accentuating the wide, low front appearance is an expansive hood, channeled on either side of the centerline, which tapers forward with narrower tenders to meet the twin grille housing dual headlights.

Long sweeping sculptured lines highlight the side view. Tasteful chrome moulding spans the entire length of the car, sweeping

Nixon, Kennedy Clash on Issues Before Nation

Area Folk Unaffected by Debate

The Great Debate last night between Vice President Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy was but a mere exercise of the vocal chords for both candidates as far as some Pontiac area residents were concerned.

They had their minds already made up before they even turned on their television sets, a random telephone survey showed this morning.

None didn't even bother to switch on their sets. Their regular Monday night bowling leagues had preference.

Others were working. Prior engagements prevented many from seeing the first in a historic series of four debates between the campaigning candidates.

For Mrs. John E. Sutton and her husband, 1917 Tamm Road, Rochester, it was a case of hearing and not seeing the clash over pressing domestic questions. Their television set was out of order.

The Suttons were and still are for Kennedy. Republicans and Nixon "seem to back off" on questions, "Nixon was quite coy," Mrs. Sutton said.

Kennedy got another vote from Mrs. Alice Sharvett, 191 Beach Road. "Nixon made a very fine speech," she said, "but he said the United States has been going ahead all the time. I can't see that with so many unemployed and the money being so tight."

"Kennedy is my choice, that's all," said Mrs. John W. Park, 6382 Drake Ave., West Bloomfield Township. "I just like the way he talks."

Although she believed the discussion came "out pretty even," Mrs. Paul D. Blystone said she's sticking with Nixon. She said she said that the vice president won the debate on the question of legislative red tape in getting bills passed over the President's threatened veto.

"I had my mind made up before they even talked," exclaimed Mrs. Ella Purdon, 288 N. Perry St. "I'm for Nixon but I think I'd vote for Kennedy except that I'm afraid he wouldn't have his own way," Mrs. Purdon was the only one interviewed that mentioned Kennedy's religion.

Mrs. William T. Schmidt, 1823 Webster St., Birmingham, said the hour-long question-and-answer period didn't help her make up her mind. "I like to listen to Kennedy speak but I like both of them," the housewife said.

Mrs. Dewey Schafer, 379 Field (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

A HART TO HEARTY CHAT — Some of the top Pontiac business, education, labor and professional men gathered at noon yesterday at the Waldron Hotel to hear U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart (center) of Michigan relate his first year experiences in Washington. The luncheon was arranged by Harold A. Fitzgerald (right), publisher of The Pontiac Press. Others chatting with the senator before lunch were (from left) State Rep. Arthur J. Law of Pontiac, Walter K. Willman, city manager, and Clarence K. Patterson, Pontiac attorney.

Warm Weather Being Edged Out; Cool Tomorrow

Warm summer like temperatures are gradually being nudged out of the Pontiac area by cool fronts pushing in.

Skies will be partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, with the temperature dropping to 32 tonight and rising to a high of 70 tomorrow, the weatherman says.

From 10:15 a.m. yesterday until the same time today 34 inches of rain fell in the area. North to northeast morning winds at 1 mile per hour will become northeasterly tonight and Wednesday.

Fifty-three was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the reading was 75.

Kennedy Names Hubert to Head Rights Parley

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy has named Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., as chairman of a conference on "constitutional rights and American freedom" to be held Oct. 11-12 in New York City.

Kennedy will attend both working sessions of the conference at the Hotel Park Sheraton and an outdoor rally to follow.

Meet takes a fourth of the money U.S. housewives spend for food. Sales of most animals provide a variety of all cash receipts from farm marketing.

Nixon, Kennedy Battle to a Draw

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Snap judgments from politicians in both parties suggested today that neither presidential nominee won the 1960 election in their first national debate and that neither was hurt very badly, if at all.

Campaign managers in both parties had suffered from a case of nerves as they awaited last night's radio-television debate between Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential candidate, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee.

Both sides breathed more easily after the debate, in which the candidates sparred cautiously and seemed somewhat nervous but a bit of the tongue being loosened.

"If the fight had been judged on points, Nixon might have had the edge," was one Democratic comment. "If you listened to

A Republican wanted to give Nixon points for asserting that the Democratic platform would initiate the federal budget by $15 to $18 billion a year compared with increased costs of $4 to $5 billion for the GOP program.

These Nixon estimates drew no direct reply from Kennedy, who did argue, however, that a faster rate of national economic growth would yield more tax revenue to finance the programs he favors.

RAISE QUESTIONS

Although both parties welcomed the free time given by the networks, one question asked in political circles was what percentage of the TV audience stuck with the show through the entire hour.

Another question was whether the two and one-half minutes allowed for a candidate to answer a question and one and a half minutes to comment on the rival's answer gave the nominees ample time to make their views clear.

If the pace seemed too fast, the format presumably could be altered to allow more time for answers in the two or three debates still to come.

The debate gave the candidates a chance to reach the biggest audience — measured in terms of millions — ever, available to two men matched in a political campaign. Yet neither used the opportunity to try to drop a blockbuster.

Presidential Hopefuls Speak on Issues

Summary of Points Made by Candidates

CHICAGO (UPI)—Here in topical summary are pertinent quotes from the TV debate between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

PROGRAM
Kennedy — "I don't believe in big government, but I believe in effective governmental action."

NIXON — "His programs would lead to the stagnation of the motive power that we need in this country to get progress."

POVERTY
Kennedy — "I saw cases in West Virginia... where children made home part of their school lunch in order to feed their families."

NIXON — "Sen. Kennedy has suggested... that we lack compassion for the poor... I know what it means to be poor."

FARM
Kennedy — "The only policy that will work will be for effective supply and demand to be in balance, and that can only be done through governmental action."

NIXON — "I would propose holding (farm) income up not through a type of program that Sen. Kennedy has suggested that would raise prices, but one that would indemnify the farmer, pay the farmer in kind from the products which are in surplus."

PROGRESS
Kennedy — "Are we doing as much as we can do? Are we as strong as we should be? ... I am not satisfied as an American with the progress that we are making."

NIXON — "Your wages have gone up five times as much in the Eisenhower administration as they did in the Truman administration... The average family income went up 15 per cent in the Eisenhower years as against 2 per cent in the Truman years... This is not standing still."

PRICES
Nixon — "The prices you pay went up five times as much in the Truman administration as they did in the Eisenhower administration."

Kennedy — "Mr. Truman came to office in 1944 and in 1946 price controls were lifted, so it is rather difficult... Taking those 7½ years and comparing them to the last eight years."

POWER
Kennedy — "At the present rate of atomic power production... the Soviet Union by 1975 will be producing more power than we are."

NIXON — "We have developed more hydroelectric power in these 1½ years than was developed in any previous administration in history."

SCHOOLS
Kennedy — "I am not satisfied when many of our teachers are inadequately paid or when our children go to school in part time shifts."

NIXON — "We have built more schools in this 1½ (years) than in the previous 20 years."

EXPERIENCE
Kennedy — "The vice president and I came to the Congress together in 1946... our experience in government is comparable."

NIXON — "His experience has been different from mine. Mine has been in the executive branch, his has been in the legislative branch."

Voters in Favor of Debates
By United Press International
The judges of last night's Nixon-Kennedy debate — the American voters — won't make their final decision until Nov. 8, but today they appeared overwhelmingly in favor of staging face-to-face encounters by the two presidential candidates.

A survey indicated a split as to whether Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy came across better in their hour-long meeting.

But all of those interviewed appeared inclined to agree with Matthew M. Butschek, 34, of San Francisco, who said the debates were "the best thing that has ever happened in a presidential campaign."

Thomas Hogan, 31, a Denver, Colo., insurance salesman, said "I think both candidates made good appearances, presented their ideas well. Of course, you will be swayed by your political affiliation."

Those who picked a winner often favored the opposite candidates for identical reasons.

"Nixon did very well," said John Walter Lawless, 59, of Wilmette, Ill. "He did a whole lot better than Kennedy. He was more sincere and seemed to have more confidence."

"Sen. Kennedy seemed more sure of himself," said Mrs. Margaret Riley, 52, of Brookline, Pa. "They both appeared sincere and both fine men, but Mr. Kennedy seemed to have a slight edge over Nixon."

Accountant Earl Vetter, 33, of Los Angeles, said "a display of two such facile young men as prospective presidents of the United States was frightening to me. While the debate was dramatic in its form, its content displayed a surprising lack of evidence of the bold new leadership which we all concur the country needs."

One of New York's most prominent men-in-the-street, Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, may not have seen the debate at all. "I think he was busy at the time," said an official at the Soviet U. N. delegation headquarters. "Maybe his interpreter told him something about it, but I am not sure."

Says Candidates Differ on Role of Government
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee said today the TV "great debate" proved "there is a difference" between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon on the role of the government.

Kennedy Won: South's Dems

Conferring Governors
Feel His Aggressive
Attitude Succeeded

By AL DOPKING
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Southern Democratic governors today gave Sen. John F. Kennedy the first round in his television debates with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in their battle for the presidency.

Most of them at the Southern Governors Conference here felt Kennedy had improved his chances of carrying the South by his aggressiveness before the cameras Monday night.

Gov. John Patterson of Alabama and Buford Ellington of Tennessee, both staunch Kennedy supporters, said they thought he was more sure of himself than Nixon.

But Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, the lone Republican at the conference, said he didn't think either candidate had scored a knockout blow.

Underwood said he thought Nixon was "too polite" to his opponent and that neither seemed to televise too well.

Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina agreed it was no knockout blow, although he gave Kennedy the first round.

Chicago Tribune Man Analyzes McNamara

Michigan's Senator, PAT McNAMARA, has been the object of analysis by a Washington correspondent of The Chicago Tribune. We produce the essence of The Tribune appraisal:

"The most astonished winner on election night in November, 1945, was PAT McNAMARA, a hulking, red-faced political unknown, who contemplated, in awe and disbelief, the returns which made him Michigan's Senator-elect."

"McNAMARA is now trying for a second six-year term. In the intervening years, he has frequently displayed on the Senate floor an agitated bewilderment which sometimes explodes into rage against criticism."

"The greatest handicap facing McNAMARA in 1950, missing in 1945, is his six-year voting record. This stamps him as one of the Senate's freest spenders of the taxpayers' money for programs which can only be financed by keeping taxes crushingly high."

"McNAMARA NEVER MARRIED his career by a single vote in behalf of sound money or against inflation. He consistently opposed legislation designed to protect individual liberties and supported government intervention at all levels of American living."

"He had a perfect zero record through the years and wound up at the tail end of the Senate list which indexed the percentages in favor of safeguarding or strengthening constitutional rights and guarantees. He never hesitated to vote for any bill which dug another billion or two out of the taxpayers' pockets."

"When he ran against the incumbent, FERGUSON, lost the election to McNAMARA by only 39,000 votes out of 2,137,978 cast. This was a stunning upset and a surprise to everyone but WALTER REUTHER whose United Auto Workers union had poured $700,000 into the campaign in behalf of McNAMARA."

"Reuther regarded McNAMARA with a great lack of enthusiasm. He had no particular love for an American Federation of Labor union president (this was before the AFL-CIO merger)."

"Details of any deal between REUTHER and McNAMARA are lacking and must be deduced from the record of devoted loyalty to REUTHER's interests which McNAMARA has written since his elevation to the Senate."

"REUTHER was apparently satisfied that he would get his money's worth because the UAW coffers were opened and the state treated to a spending campaign in behalf of the Democratic candidate which startled the political world. A $700,000 estimate of the fund was given the Senate later by Senator KARL MUNDT. R-S-D McNAMARA angrily called the amount 'fiction'."

"In 1950, McNAMARA will have strong Republican opposition which will resist any compromise with conservative principles."

"His first political exercise of strategy is still talked about in Detroit. McNAMARA was elected to the city council in 1946. A few months of meetings with his fellow councilmen convinced him that they were not the type with whom he wished to mingle."

"In the midst of a council meeting, he picked up his papers and stalked out. He never returned."

"I choose not to be associated any longer with those jerks," he told a reporter."

"He staged his Senate walkout in 1948. He had been picked by Democratic leaders to serve on the Senate Labor Rackets Investigating Committee."

tee, headed by Senator JOHN L. McCLELLAN, D-Ark. He played his role as a stout labor partisan for a time but his vacant seat was frequently conspicuous as the evidence of thievery and corruption began to pile up.

"He finally resigned from the committee with a declaration that the hearings had been 'rigged against labor.' He later called upon the committee to dissolve itself as 'dangerous . . . a sort of extra-legal police force.'"

"McNAMARA was 37 when he arrived in Detroit as foreman on a construction job. He became president of Pipe Fitters Union Local 638, a quarter of a century ago, and never relinquished the post.

"Meanwhile, he gradually rose to be sales manager and vice president of the Stanley-Carter Company, mechanical contractors. His salary was larger than the $22,500 he gets as a Senator."

"He found nothing incongruous in working both sides of the labor-management street although he left no doubt where his sympathies resided."

"Just turned 65, McNAMARA is now a leading explorer of the vote-rich domain inhabited by 16 million elder citizens. Almost daily from his office come statements outlining grandiose plans, at untold cost, for dealing with the problems of the aged and aging. There are no bounds to his generosity with public money in behalf of free medical care, hospitalization, and public housing for the aged and he ridicules the idea that some of the elderly may be able to take care of themselves."

"Unrestrained spending may have lost its appeal to Michigan voters. It may take more than $700,000 to push McNAMARA to victory in November."

The Man About Town

Wells Are Alike

Traces of Oil Are Found at Quite Uniform Depth

Chip on shoulder: Usually just a splinter off the head.

The "geological slant" which is said to maintain in this area's oil and gas deposits is being proven by present soundings. Profitable strata get deeper as the east side of the state is approached.

In Central Michigan some guahers are found even above the 4,000-foot mark. But in the Pontiac area these deposits have slanted down until they are below the 7,000-foot mark.

The same downward slant is found in a strata that contains some traces of oil and gas but not in paying quantities. This strata has been encountered in all of the wells that have been sunk in this vicinity.

It was found in the well sunk on the Ellis farm in Springfield Township several years ago; also in a well just northeast of Clarkston, and in the well at Andersonville, a few years ago. All of these projects were abandoned without finding anything profitable.

The wells now being sunk near Holly and between Lakeville and Leonard have struck this same trace of oil and gas, and at a level that indicates the truth of the slant.

Neither of these wells have turned up anything profitable, but their promoters say they're going down to pay dirt.

Prospectors of guaher wells are now further accented by the finding of both oil and gas in satisfactory quantities in our neighboring counties.

In the meantime, the prospectors are busy among our property holders, seeking oil rights leases. The current price is one dollar per acre, but is upward bound.

"I Propose More Than a Handshake"

David Lawrence Says:

Undecided Voter Is Main Target

WASHINGTON — Now that the first of a series of so-called "great debates" between the two rival candidates for the presidency can be aired up, what is the effect upon the relatively small number of voters who are "undecided?"

For, so far as the "undecided" voters are concerned, they have their minds made up to such an extent that in all probability what they have heard thus far confirms their judgment. This is mostly because their decision has already been influenced by issues or prejudices about personalities or other factors in the presidential campaign.

The "undecided" voter is not necessarily one who is waiting to hear the issues expounded thoroughly before rendering a profound judgment on their merits.

Now, after the "undecided" voter is entirely unaware of the background of a candidate or the issues and just hasn't taken the time to become informed. He rarely does until late in October.

It has often been argued that the "undecided" voters, while in the minority, do hold the balance of power and can swing an election. But what is it that ultimately "decides" them? Is it a liking for the face of a candidate or his manner of speaking or what he says on the stump that appeals to the individual voter?

All these factors have their influence, but there is also the factor of the man or woman who shifts from one candidate to the other as something is said, or on television news, or some dramatic expression of the face in answer to a question creates a doubt or a liking.

In many campaigns the remark is heard, "He looks like a president to me" or "He just doesn't look like a loser." These impressions are based on the impressionable and judge by looks. The more mature voters look at things a little more carefully and tend to ask basic questions.

"What kind of time will we have? Will I keep my job? Will things cost more? Will my son be drafted and have to go to war? Which candidate seems to have more experience and will know how to deal with the Russians?"

Most decide early. Previous canvasses of the electorate tend to show that most voters have decided on the answers to such questions long before the campaign begins.

Selection surveys reveal that things which were often regarded as spectacular issues during a campaign did not really amount to very much in influencing the voting.

The Country Parson

A preacher who preaches what his members want to hear would be popular . . . and superfluous.

Just what causes 15 million voters to make up their minds to vote for one candidate or the other? Party affiliation and tradition have much to do with it. New voters to a small degree follow their family voting record, but most of them like to make up their own minds.

Often they talk in independent terms during the campaign but, on entering the voting booth, they follow the viewpoint of their friends — they are indeed to a large extent influenced by other voters.

Dr. Henry Brady Says:

Women Are Most Subject to Evils of Early Aging

At 20 to 25, her "finger-nails become brittle. At 25 to 30, the nails lose their normal luster and become vertically ridged; at 30 to 35, the nails lose flat or even hollowed out (concave) instead of convex.

At the same time her skin and hair betray the ravages of early aging. Her complexion grows sallow; her hair turns gray and thin. Her skin becomes dry and itchy. Her hair falls out and she is left with a thinning scalp. Her skin becomes dry and itchy. Her hair falls out and she is left with a thinning scalp.

We're talking about malnutrition, the malnutrition that is so widespread in America today. Among women, that is, it occurs in men, too, though far less frequently.

Perhaps the most preoccupation of women with making-up, hair-dos and nail polish is one factor and their constant "dieting" and calorie-counting is another.

The first factor dulls their consciousness of what's happening. The second factor makes them feel that they are doing something to help themselves.

Most of these prematurely old women are "trying" to diet and that magic remedy until they develop some irreversible degeneration — degeneration being the inevitable consequence of nutritional deficiency which goes uncorrected beyond a certain limit.

HOW TO PREVENT IT. How to prevent the malnutrition (nutritional deficiency) responsible for these changes in hair, nails and skin:

Build your own diet on the pattern or model for the basic health, reduction, regeneration, corrective, protective, rejuvenation diet described in "The 7 Keys to Youth" (33 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope).

To the extent that your own diet departs from the basic health diet, you need a regular dietary supplement to keep your daily vitamin-mineral intake up to the health level.

Many victims of malnutrition give up without a struggle when they discover that the rejuvenation or model health diet includes no refined carbohydrate. But wait a minute — this does not mean that alterations made to meet YOUR requirements may not allow you a little bread, toast, cake, breakfast cereal, ice cream or candy.

In fact, I'd advise any man who undertakes this radical revision of everything diet to take easy. Don't try to break all your bad habits at once.

Although Oct. 1 is approaching and the final stretch is likely to be filled with dramatic exchanges of view between the candidates and their lieutenants in the battle for votes, the biggest single issue doesn't seem to have been focused upon thus far as sharply as it probably will be in the closing weeks of the campaign.

Fundamentally, it is whether this is the time for a change in administration.

Dr. Henry Brady Says:

Women Are Most Subject to Evils of Early Aging

Indulge your taste or liking for cereal, pancakes, toast, cake, pie, ice cream or candy at whichever meal you prefer, once daily for a while, until you realize you are feeling better without cheat-food.

These pamphlets may help you to improve the condition of your nails, skin and hair: "Weat to Eat," by Young Folks and Old Folks; "Nutritional Deficiency Anemia" — (The Gray Sickness); "Acne" — (Blackheads and Pimples); "The Red Blood Vitamin" — (B-12). For any one pamphlet, send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Personal letters not more than one with or without stamps, and no return address, will be answered by Dr. Henry Brady of the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1950)

Many Reasons for Abnormalities

Laura might be written off with a cynical, wisecrack, as some advice writers do, but that is medically unfair. Memories will Rogers shared comment before, and then learn to help expose the subconscious poisons that drive such patients into abnormal action.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE F - 400: Laura J., aged 27, has been married 6 years.

"Dr. Crane," a medical colleague phoned me, "will you please take Laura off my hands?"

"She has shopped around among half a dozen physicians. I am the last one."

"And she always develops an abnormal 'crush' on her doctor. It is so pathological that even a layman can see something is wrong with her."

"But I haven't time to deal with her type of case, so will you please send me a favor and let me refer her to your office?"

"That you have really got me into a marriage and sex adviser for most doctors don't want such cases."

Laura not only develops a crush on her doctor, but has even had numerous affairs with salesmen and other chance contacts.

"Dr. Crane," she pleaded tearfully, "I know I am bad but I just can't help it. I am running my family and I know it is unfair both to my husband and my two little girls, but I am like the drunkard who can't resist another glass of whiskey."

Mr. Konkile's Letter Sparks More Replies

Congratulations for printing an article like that of Raymond Konkile in Voice of the People.

Thanks for printing the letter written by Raymond Konkile.

George Clark
Thank you for printing in the Voice of the People regarding a Catholic for president. It was the truth.

The John Clarke
Thank you for publishing the letter by Raymond Konkile.

Mrs. Wyle McCallahan
I cannot keep myself from visualizing Mr. Konkile surrounded by all kinds of articles depicting the Catholic Church as a potent political force.

Others who would prevent a man from attaining the presidency because of his religion would have made a deeper study of the ideas and methods behind the foundation of this great nation. They would realize that they are doing more to hinder our freedom than any religious or political group on earth.

Does Mr. Konkile happen to recall a term called "checks and balances" in our governmental system? It is the method used by the creators of this great republic to insure that no man regardless of his position in our government could wield enough power to force unpopular or harmful legislation upon the people.

Mr. Konkile would choose the part of our Constitution he would consider worth adhering to and discard the rest.

Mrs. William Terry Jr.
Drayton Plains

If it were not for the public school taxes, sales tax and federal tax, you, Catholic friends, pay from which the majority of us get no benefits, you would not have as many schools or be able to pay your teachers, supervisors and other personnel the salaries they receive.

At the risk of becoming more unpopular than I am, as a Catholic I do believe the majority of the Church is the true Church of Christ, but I also believe that other people have the right to choose their own faith.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Many Reasons for Abnormalities

"What is wrong with me? Please help me. If only for my children's sake."

Well, readers, do you think any patient wants a flippant return or a humorous prescription?

Yet we now have several newspaper advisers who are ridiculing sincere cries of newspaper "patients" and making jokes in human misery.

"Everything is funny," said Will Rogers, "as long as it is happening to somebody else!"

REJECTION COMPLEX. In a nutshell, here is Laura's lifelong tragedy. She was no more passionate sexually than the average wife, and the latter is trifled by the normal husband's standard.

So why did Laura remember some great looking male and suddenly become so attracted to him even to the extent of entering into an affair if he would accept her?

This is a classical case of the rejection complex. When she was a shy, lonely little girl, her father had shown his distaste for Laura because he had wanted a son; not a daughter.

So she felt rejected and obsessed from his masculine attraction.

This psychic injury (trauma, as psychiatrists name it) had left such an indelible imprint on her personality that she had a compulsion to win male affection wherever she could find it.

And it wasn't because of any conscious animosity that she became what is termed a "rejection maniac" or "sex-maniac."

Indeed, I have never seen a passionate woman as measured by the usual meaning of that word "passion."

Every e-called sex-mad woman I have ever had as a patient, has shown the same pattern into her numerous affairs by some latently complex.

Some have had their breasts amputated or have been badly scarred by burns, so they have felt born per psychology.

Others have been goaded, like Laura, by psychological scars that go far back into childhood.

And it does no good to chide such victims or write them off as incorrigible. No, you must dig up the core of their complex. See tomorrow's follow-up.

Makes U.N. His Soapbox

Nikita Revealed as Bully in Staggering World Body

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev, having done his best to paralyze the United Nations, has no reason for staying around now except to watch a cripple try to walk.

He had two purposes in coming here—to make propaganda and to undermine the United Nations. He accomplished both.

By his performance last week in New York—despite the bleeding heart he exhibited to backward peoples—he showed himself a hypocrite, a destructive force, a bully and a bore.

It is perhaps no accident he seems upset by the thought of death and disaster. It may be a pattern of his mind. Just read his speech to the United Nations and many previous speeches. He dwells on annihilation.

SPEECH DULL, WINDY

His two-hour speech to the United Nations could have been delivered in an hour. It was a long-winded kind he delivers to captive audiences in Moscow. It had a few moments of thunder. As a whole it was a bore.

Khrushchev talks peace but he acts like a man frightened of it. For more than a year he desperately wanted a summit meeting. Then at the last moment, after the U2 spy plane incident, he backed away and wrecked it.

It was thought at the time he might have been trying to save face.

But he came to this country where it was possible at the United Nations to make a new start toward peaceful settlement. Instead, he exploded in demagoguery and undermined the world's greatest agency for peace.

He talked, as he has many times before, of the need for disarmament. The next day he made disarmament impossible by declaring there could be none unless he had his way in demanding a basic change in the U.N. itself.

This was when he compared 'Dag Hammarskjöld, U.N. secretary-general, who had been critical of the Soviet's efforts to penetrate the Congo when the United Nations was trying to restore peace there.

SEEKS PENSION

Khrushchev called for revising the fundamental structure of the United Nations by eliminating Hammarskjöld's job and creating a three-man secretariat to run the show.

One man would represent communism, one the West, and the third the neutral nations. Under the setup a veto by any of the three would paralyze the United Nations.

But Khrushchev knew his idea was impossible of achievement when he offered it.

What it boils down to is an effort to bulldoze the world organization into not interfering with Russian adventures in the future. Khrushchev did it by expressing a lack of confidence in the organization.

This leaves the future usefulness of the United Nations badly damaged if not ruined.

Says Nasser Asked Neutrality of Cuba

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said Arab leader Gamal Abdel Nasser has asked Fidel Castro of Cuba to join in an alliance to stand between the West and the Communist nations.

The president of the United Arab Republic conferred with the Cuban prime minister at the latter's residence in the Hotel Theresa in Harlem Sunday.

The Times said the major topic was the similarities between the problems of their countries. The pair also exchanged invitations for state visits to Cairo and Havana, the Times said, but no dates were set.

Beets of different varieties have been cultivated in various lands for more than 2,000 years.

"CREDO" STAMP — This is the fifth of the American "credo" stamps and features Abraham Lincoln's words. "Those who deny freedom to others deserve it not for themselves." It will be placed on sale in New York Nov. 15.

College Sessions at Kalamazoo Propose All-Year

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — A faculty study committee has approved a change from the present two-semester with the traditional summer vacation lull at Kalamazoo College to a full schedule of classes the year around.

The proposed school year would consist of four 11-week terms, with two-week intervals between each. This would make it possible for ambitious students to complete work for a bachelor's degree in three years instead of the usual four by taking classes the year around.

The change was proposed last spring by Dr. Walter K. Hicks, president of the college. He said if the board of trustees approves the proposal at its October meeting, the new system can be put into effect in the fall of 1962.

Hicks said the year-round operation would save a considerable amount of money per student and also make it possible for the college to handle larger enrollments.

Battle Creek to Decide on Type of Government

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Battle Creek voters will decide today whether to replace their present commission government with a city manager.

Battle Creek residents called for a charter revision and elected a nine-member charter commission in an advisory vote last spring. It had an advisory committee for approval, the new charter would go into effect in April.

Organized labor has opposed the proposed Battle Creek charter because it favors representation by wards and direct election of the mayor.

U. of M. VP Heads Swainson Advisory Unit

DETROIT (AP) — James A. Lewis, a University of Michigan vice president, was appointed Monday to head an advisory committee for Swainson in his campaign for governor.

Swainson headquarters said Lewis would be chairman of an advisory committee on education which is to prepare a series of recommendations for the candidate.

Wood Furniture Orders Post Increase in August

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Wood Household Furniture Industry orders ran 9 per cent above those sharp gains in August over the normally slack July period, according to a regular analysis. Seidman & Seidman, certified public accountants, reported orders ran 3 per cent above those of July and continued a trend-set in recent years—for a slight August decrease. An average of more than 10,400 new residents have settled in the 13-county San Francisco Bay region every month since 1950, the city's Chamber of Commerce reports.

Castro Not Himself, Acts Quite Squelched

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — One of the biggest dangers to the future of the United Nations is that Nikita Khrushchev can accomplish basically what he has set out to do without any necessity for compliance to the will of the majority.

This is being discussed in the U.N. corridors in an atmosphere of deep concern. The Soviet leader has made it as clear as possible that he is out to get Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld by one means or another.

His proposal to replace the office of secretary-general with a three-member pre-eminence—with built-in veto powers—can be looked upon more as a maneuver than as a proposal with any chance of reaching a formal vote.

But it is, in effect, a signal for all-out war by the Communist bloc against the secretary-general. The purpose is to make things so hot for Hammarskjöld that he will feel his effectiveness at an end and see no choice but to resign.

Should this come about, Khrushchev will have accomplished his objective. It would be next to impossible to get a new secretary-general who would be satisfactory to both East and West. The search could go on for months—perhaps even years.

Meanwhile, the office would remain vacant, and the peace-making functions of the office paralyzed.

That actually is Khrushchev's major objective. It would leave the field open for Communist interference in future emergencies such as the one which has kept the Congo in an uproar since the beginning of July.

U.S. observers here give this interpretation of Khrushchev's aim: What he cannot control he will attempt to crush. He has found he cannot control Dag Hammarskjöld. Nor can he hope to control any future secretary-general who would be wholly satisfactory to the West. So Khrushchev is attempting to crush the office itself.

OK Lotus Lake Water Action

Treatment Plans Asked of Waterford Township Engineers

The Waterford Township Board last night approved a request to have township engineers Johnson & Anderson prepare construction plans for treatment of rusty water in the Lotus Lake Subdivision.

Residents in the subdivision have complained of rust, corrosion and plugged screens for the past month. This area is only one of many troubled by the same problem, according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin. Developers of future subdivisions will be required to provide rust treatment before a plat is approved, he said.

The board accepted a well house and water pumping station from developers of the Highland Estates Subdivision, and authorized that it not be held in escrow be returned to the developers.

A contract was awarded to the Gay Brothers Construction Co. for installation of 22 feet of one-inch water main on Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road, and Seeterlin was authorized to advertise for bids for the sale of a used 1953 water department truck.

Seven bids for township vehicle insurance were opened and referred to the township attorney for recommendation. The Nationwide Insurance Co. submitted the low bid of $1,382.

Absentee Ballots Ready Wednesday

Absentee voter ballots will be available at Pontiac City Hall and at all election clerks' offices in Michigan tomorrow, the Secretary of State's office announced.

Early delivery of the ballots makes it possible for military and civilian personnel overseas to preserve their voting franchise, said Secy. of State James M. Hare.

All voters unable to appear in person at the polls Nov. 8 are eligible to cast absentee ballots, he said.

Flatter, Retrial Opens Before Jury in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The retrial of George D. Flatter, 34, charged with the strangling of a Detroit housewife after she left a neighborhood movie, opened Monday before a predominantly woman jury.

A plea after the first trial last April that the jury had acted on evidence obtained outside the courtroom, won the young parolero a new trial.

Proposed Codes Will Be Aired

Commission to Hear Details for Control of Electricity, Explosives

The proposed electrical and explosive codes will be detailed in full before the City Commission tonight.

Introduced last week, the measures are scheduled for adoption after a public hearing Oct. 11.

The electrical ordinance would supplant the existing code with one similar to the state code. Other codes concerning construction and housing already have been strengthened in connection with the urban renewal effort.

The explosives measure would ban unnecessary transport of explosive and inflammable liquids from downtown.

Five hearings are scheduled. Assessment rolls will be aired for sidewalks on Shirley Street, Lois to Fiddle; Astor Street; curbs and gutters on Dresden Street, Woodland to Hollywood; and blacktopping on Arlene Avenue, Second to Columbia. Another hearing will be on the proposed sidewalk on the west side of Jessie Street, south of Chandler.

Shield Deficit Seen by Head

Another Rate Increase Is Tabled Necessary to Stop $3-Million Loss

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Blue Shield medical insurance plan will end the year with a $3 million deficit unless a rate increase is put into effect, delegates of the Michigan State Medical Society were told Monday.

Dr. G. Thomas McKean, president of the MSMS, predicted the deficit in the year's operations depends a rate increase put into effect last month. The society operates the Blue Shield plan.

Dr. McKean said the deficit is being caused by increasing demands for medical services, a problem being encountered by all health insurance plans.

He did not indicate when another increase would be sought from the State Insurance Commission, nor how much of an increase would be asked.

The society's House of Delegates is currently holding its annual meeting here.

Wife Stands Mute in Murder Case

Charged with her husband's murder, Mrs. James Cannon, 38, of 20887 Bethlawn St., Royal Oak Township, stood mute yesterday before township Justice of the Peace Lonnie Case.

She was returned to the county jail pending examination of the charges Oct. 4 in justice court.

Mrs. Cannon is accused of fatally shooting her 36-year-old husband Friday night as they sat arguing in their car. His body was found Saturday at the township litter section of Eastlawn and Little Eight Streets.

Thief Makes Fast Use of Hospital Locker Key

Pontiac police today were on the lookout for an opportunistic thief.

Mrs. Jessie Kinsey, 760 Bigham Ave., told Pontiac police yesterday that the thief stole her billfold containing $21 and miscellaneous papers from a locker room at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Kinsey, employed by the hospital as a housekeeper, had closed her locker — but forgotten to remove the key from the lock, she told police.

Pair Demanding Day in Court

2 Pontiac Men Face Charges of Felonious Assault

Two Pontiac men have demanded examination on charges they attacked a 23-year-old man when he drove into a drive-in restaurant with his wife early Saturday.

Charles Theobald, 21, of 276 S. Parks St., today demanded a pre-trial hearing in Municipal Court. He was released by Judge Maurice E. Finnegan pending examination Oct. 5.

James H. Hudson, 30, of 999 Northfield Ave., demanded examination yesterday before Judge Finnegan.

The pair is accused of felonious assault in the beating of George W. Hall, 23, of 538 Overton St., Waterford Township, at the Buttercup Drive-in, 910 Oakland Ave.

Hall told Pontiac police he was set upon without warning by the pair with tire irons and knives. Hudson told police he had been attacked by Hall, who fled after a tire iron had been grabbed from him.

Hall required hospital treatment for face lacerations and bruises following the fight.

State Med Plan Will Be Tested

Maxey Hopes to Try It Out for Aged by Oct. 17 in Detroit Area

LANSING (AP) — State Welfare Director Willard J. Maxey says Michigan's new program of medical care for the aged may be put into operation on a limited basis by Oct. 17.

Unless federal authorities object, the program will be launched in Wayne County on that date and progressively extended across the state, he said Monday.

"I hope we can start it on an experimental basis so we can iron out the bugs before it goes into operation statewide," Maxey said. "Wayne County is a compact area and would be a good place to start."

However, he added, a provision in the newly enacted federal plan that state programs must be put into service in all political subdivisions may not allow experimentation.

Maxey met Monday with welfare authorities from Oakland, Wayne, Genesee and Kent counties to discuss the mechanics of the program approved Friday by a special session of the legislature. It will bring new or improved medical benefits for 120,000 of the state's needy old folks.

About 60,000 elderly residents receiving old age assistance will get home nursing services and those applying for assistance at age 65 will get a physical examination.

Another 60,000 medically needy children and collecting old age assistance will receive standard Blue Cross-Blue Shield-type hospitalization and surgical benefits.

The county share of hospitalization costs for old age assistance recipients will drop from 40 to about 10 per cent, Maxey said.

Annual cost to the state will be about $4.5 million although the legislature provided financing only from Oct. 1 to March 31. The federal government will pay half the $11.5 million annual cost and counties 10 per cent.

Gov. Romney indicated he would sign the enabling legislation, probably on his return Sept. 30 from a California speaking tour.

U.S. Protests to Cuba on Secretary's Treatment

HAVANA (AP)—The U.S. Embassy said it is protesting strongly to the Cuban government the disregard for the diplomatic immunity of Second Secretary Ruth Schneider of Elyria, Ohio.

She was reported removed from a Miami-bound plane and searched at Havana Airport Saturday.

Miss Schneider was en route to the Bahamas on vacation. The embassy said she was taken from the plane despite the fact she showed credentials issued by the Cuban foreign ministry and was forced to submit to a search that included her handbag, from which papers were taken.

Under normal procedure, persons with diplomatic immunity are not subject to detention or search.

Mayor Rowston Chosen Delegate to Civic Congress

Mayor Philip E. Rowston has been named a delegate to the Congress in San Diego, Calif., Oct. 15-22.

Rowston was appointed by Mayor Raymond Tucker of St. Louis, Mo., president of the American Municipal Assn.

The Pontiac mayor will be one of 200 mayors, councilmen and civic leaders from North and South America meeting to study municipal problems and further municipal cooperation.

The congress has been staged seven times in 22 years. It was held the first time in Havana in 1938 and the last time in Rio de Janeiro in 1958. It was held on the North American continent only once before in New Orleans in 1950.

Various types of cancer were recognized and described by lipoproteins as early as within the years of 400 B. C.

Her father was married to actress Lana Turner, and her uncle, Dan Topping, is part owner of the New York Yankees baseball team.

Flight Pay Cuts Ordered by U.S.

Over 3,000 Officers in All Four Branches to Lose This Bonus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Monday ordered the armed services to take away the flight pay of 3,153 officers who now receive the bonus.

The order, the first of its kind, puts into effect a reduction plan initially announced last January, canceled in February, and reconsidered in August.

The department said the Congress has placed a ceiling of $9,000 automatically rated or designated officers to receive flight pay.

The current total is 102,150. The reductions must be put into effect between next Jan. 1 and June 30.

The secretary of defense allocated the new limits as follows: Air Force, 70,620; Navy 18,125; Army 6,438 and Marine Corps 3,863.

This means that the Air Force must reduce its officers on flight pay by 2,285, the Navy by 500, the Army by 182 and the Marines by 116.

Typical examples of the importance of flight pay are the major or lieutenant colonels of 24 years service, who get $20 a month in addition to regular pay by flying at least 100 hours a year.

An Air Force captain as flight pay gets the same pay as a lieutenant colonel without flight pay.

Last January the Air Force announced it had reviewed for the first time the military records of each pilot, navigator and observer on flying status, and had recommended that 2,107 be suspended from flying status.

In February the Air Force announced a top-level decision to reverse the recommendations concerning suspensions, and instead, to continue the practice of annually reviewing officer flight status in the light of changing requirements.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the morale and efficiency of the Air Force would be impaired if the suspension was carried out.

State Hopefuls Debate Issues

Bagwell Blasts 'Labor Politics' and Swainson Hits 'Propagandists'

By The Associated Press
Democratic "Labor politicians" and Republican "propagandists" at the state legislature were attacked by Michigan gubernatorial candidates Monday in a debate of issues before the Economic Club of Detroit.

Republican Paul D. Bagwell blasted the "confronting, uncompromising, programmatic politics" he said is practiced by labor leaders and the Democratic Party.

Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson lashed out at Republicans for trying to "reduce Michigan — and every other industrial state — to the level of the most backward state in the nation."

Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara and his Republican opponent, Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Orono, talked about education and transportation Monday.

McNamara told the Detroit Education Association that the attitude of the Republican Administration was responsible for Congress' failure to pass an education aid bill.

President Eisenhower, McNamara said, failed to "intervene in the congressional fight on behalf of schools."

Instead, he said, the President threatened a veto "when we Democrats had finally passed a decent (education) bill through the Senate." The bill later died.

Bentley, campaigning in the Upper Peninsula, said at Menominee that President Eisenhower scored a major prestige victory in the United Nations over Russia's Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"Khrushchev's ranting and table pounding brought him an incalculable loss of respect," Bentley said.

Delegates from the newly seated nation, Bentley said, saw an Eisenhower who "talked positively as the spokesman for a nation that sincerely desires peace and a general improvement of world conditions."

McNamara also criticized Vice President Richard M. Nixon for making "pretty phrases" while taking a negative attitude on federal aid to education.

The senator said that Nixon had broken a Senate tie vote to kill a liberal aid-to-education amendment on the McNamara-Hart bill which would have provided funds to improve teacher salaries or build classrooms.

On the subject of taxes, Bagwell said he favors passage of the sales tax increase to pay the state's bills while the entire tax system is being revised.

Swainson attacked the personal property tax as probably the most unfair tax on business. But approval of a penny increase in the sales tax would not affect the personal property level, he said, since it is a local tax.

Swainson called the income tax "the biggest Republican publicity bugaboo of all" and said that 29 states had such a tax — and that 33 states have a corporate profits tax.

Waterford Township to Vote on Walk Tax

Waterford Township residents will be asked to approve a one-half mill tax hike for five years to provide sidewalks for children walking to and from the 24 schools in the district.

Spurred on by the increasingly large number of parents protesting the lack of safe walking conditions for their children, the township board decided to place the proposition on the February primary ballot.

Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson said, "I think that before we have sewers, a water system, or nice smooth blacktop roads in the township, we should provide safe walking conditions for our children. This is a responsibility of the township board."

Revenue from the one-half mill increase would amount to more than $45,000 annually. The proposition would specify that all funds would be used exclusively for sidewalks. Just what type of construction has not yet been determined.

It would cost Waterford Township taxpayers 30 cents per each $1,000 assessed valuation, an increase annually of $150 for the $3,000 average assessed home owner.

McShane Joins Monitor Board

Teamster Boss Hoffa Grimly Vows Appeal on Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts Monday swore in Terence F. McShane as chairman of the board of monitors over the Teamsters Union.

In doing so, Letts brushed aside objections from Teamsters President James R. Hoffa that McShane, a former FBI agent, is prejudiced against him.

While with the FBI, McShane investigated Hoffa's affairs for the government.

The monitors board is a court-appointed body of three given the duty of supervising a cleanup of the Teamsters Union.

SUCCEEDS O'DONOGHUE

McShane succeeds Martin F. O'Donoghue, a Washington attorney, as head of the panel. O'Donoghue resigned last July.

Hoffa, coolly grim after Judge Letts' decision, immediately announced the Union would take to the U.S. Court of Appeals a challenge of the McShane appointment.

"I believe that McShane, without question, is prejudiced," Hoffa said.

57th Street 'Old Lady' Born Anew

NEW YORK (AP) — Carnegie Hall, once doomed to the wrecker's hammer, was born anew Monday.

Six months ago the "Old Lady of 57th Street" was in dowdy shape—her facade black with decades of smoke and her interior tired and run down.

Wrecking crews were scheduled to destroy her. Then, in a last-minute intervention by a group of citizens headed by violinist Isaac Stern, the hall was saved.

State legislative action permitted the city to buy the hall for $5 million. A vast renovation began. New paint, carpeting, stage curtains, chandeliers and seats were added.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner cut a blue and gold ribbon across the center doorway Monday to open the new Carnegie Hall to the public. The mayor, who said he once took violin lessons in Carnegie Hall as a boy, even stole a march on conductor Leonard Bernstein.

GMC Addition Under Way; to Cost $300,000

A $300,000 addition is under construction at GMC Truck and Coach Division on South Boulevard.

Excavation has started for a 38,600-square-foot structure in which, a spokesman said, the division plans to house its frame assemblies.

The one-story building, with metal walls, roof and steel framework, should be completed in December, he said.

Rooting of assemblies through the new unit will smooth production procedures and eliminate some existing congestion, said the spokesman. Contractor is Schurr Construction Co. of Pontiac.

WARNING

It has come to the attention of the association that many, many people in our area have been victimized, gouged, misled, and just plain tricked into signing contracts for gas heating by smooth talking salesmen who are at the door or on the phone almost before the ink is dry on their gas space heating permit.

These salesmen misrepresent the length of time their companies have been in business, claiming up to as much as (80) years. If they get in the house they start by quoting prices double what the job is actually worth. Then comes all the special concessions to trap the unwary into signing a contract. Ridiculous allowances for old furnace. Special discount because the customer is to recommend their company to friends. If that doesn't work then comes a call to the president; another special discount in the price.

Some agreements look harmless, but the next day a furnace is delivered to the house because what actually was signed was a contract for complete furnace installation. If the customer tries to refuse delivery he is threatened with lawsuit for violation of contract and other dire consequences.

If you are interested in a new furnace conversion, or complete heating job:

- (1) Obtain at least two estimates from reliable local heating contractors.
- (2) Check the reputation and responsibility of these contractors through the gas company, your bank, or city inspection department, and Better Business Bureau.
- (3) If possible insist that these companies give you the names and addresses of completed jobs and ask to see at least one sample of their workmanship.
- (4) Know the people you do business with and sign no papers unless you have read them carefully and are assured that they are what the salesman claims, and nothing more.

The undersigned association prints this notice only in the public interest and to help promote honest business relations with prospective heating customers in our area.

Patricia Eaton Marries in a Triple-Ring Rite

Patricia Kay Eaton exchanged vows with George D. Crockett in a triple-ring ceremony Saturday evening in Joslyn Avenue Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Edmund Watkins solemnized the candlelight nuptials before a background of white gladioli and snapdragons in chapel vases.

Receiving with the bride's parents the Harry W. Eatons of West Longfield Avenue in the church parlor were the Robert F. Belevs of West Ypsilanti Avenue, parents of the bridegroom.

For her wedding, the bride chose the gown of white silk organza previously worn by her sister Mrs. Richard Lehman. It was styled with embroidered bodice and chapel train. Fingert veiling of silk illusion fell from a crown of pearls.

WEARS MINIATURE KING

She wore a miniature of her engagement ring on a sterling silver chain, gift of the bridegroom. A white orchid centered her cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy foliage.

Mrs. Lehman, her sister's matron of honor, appeared in orchid silk organza over tulle with purple satin cummerbund and purple shoes. A scalloped circular nose veil was caught by a crown of seed pearls.

In identical ensembles were Virginia Myers, sister of the bridegroom, Madeline Johnson and Helen Bostright. All attendants held colonial bouquets of white and purple carnations.

On the quire side were Carl Richardson, best man, and others. Richard Lehman, the bride's uncle Raymond Bostright and Dwight Clapton of Tolono, Ill., uncle of the bridegroom.

Also in their aunt's wedding party were Christine and David Lehman, flower girl and ring-bearer.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Eaton chose heliotrope satin styled with unpressed pleats. Her corsage was of white carnations. Purple car-

Parents Unfair to Navy Beau: Abby

Her Ship of Love Is Sailing in Mighty Troubled Waters

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About three weeks ago I met a sailor at a dance. I am 16 and Jim is 19. We liked each other right away, and he asked if he could see me again. I asked my mother and she said I couldn't go out with any sailors.

I told her I was going to a girl friend's house and I went with him anyway. When I told Jim I was going to a girl friend's house and I went with him anyway. When I told Jim I was going to a girl friend's house and I went with him anyway.

When I asked them if they would please meet Jim they said no. Abby, he's the nicest boy I've ever known, but he refuses to see me without my parents' permission. And they

DEAR ABBY: I am fed up with invitations to baby showers, wedding showers and all the other kinds of showers for people I wouldn't know if I saw them on a bus. This has happened to me several times, and I am sick and tired of being told to buy a present for someone who wouldn't recognize me on the street. I am not poor, but I'm not rich, either. I enjoy buying gifts for people I know, but I am fed up on —

BEING TAKEN DEAR BEING: The solution is simple. When you are invited to a shower that gives you the impression that you are being soaked — turn it down.

DEAR ABBY: A girl who works with me recently got a letter from a man she just met, and it was signed, "TRULY YOURS." Now this girl is so kid, but she went fluttering all over the place, showing the letter around like it was a big deal. Isn't it true that most business and formal letters are signed "YOURS TRULY?"

Then don't you think "TRULY YOURS" should also be considered impersonal and businesslike? She took it to mean the man was "truly HEARS," which is ridiculous. The girls at the office want your opinion.

DEAR GIRLS: A formal and impersonal business letter IS signed "Yours truly." But his letter was signed "Truly yours." So, maybe he meant business. Pull in your claws, girls.

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIRGO: You feed your face three times a day whether you are hungry or not. Why not throw your soul a bone once a week and go to church?

Ceremony in Auburn Heights

Dover-Tate Nuptials Read

Tiffany baskets of white gladioli against a background of potted palms and lighted candelabra graced the chancel of Stone Baptist Church, Auburn Heights, for Saturday noon of Donna Sue Tate and John E. Dover.

The Rev. Lawrence Dickens read the service in the presence of some 150 guests.

The Grover J. Tate of East Beverly Avenue were hosts at their daughter's church reception. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Juanita Knight of South Marshall Street and Dr. John B. Dover of Haverhill, Ky.

Styled along modified princess lines, the bride's gown of white silk tulle de sole featured a front panel of Chantilly lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. The full skirt cascaded into a chapel sweep from a French puff bustle bow.

Imported silk illusion veiling fell from a crown of seed pearls. A white orchid rested on the bride's white Bible.

Attendees wore bouffant dresses of chiffon over net with chiffon cummerbunds and jackets. Mrs. Garry Cox, honor matron, chose auburn; the bridegroom's sister Mrs. Roger Luckado, raspberry pink; and Betty Armstrong of Auburn Heights, yellow.

They wore velvet caplets and carried white carnations streamered to match their dresses.

On the square side were the bridegroom's cousins Winston Hendricks as best man and Larry Hendricks as ring bearer.

The bridegroom's sister Mrs. Roger Luckado, raspberry pink; and Betty Armstrong of Auburn Heights, yellow.

Her Husband Appreciates It

She's a New Wife Now

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There are almost always two sides to every problem. When romance disappears and marriage becomes dull, it is sometimes the fault of one person, but not often!

I want to share the following reader's letter with you. Evidently her marriage had lost its glow and there were many arguments. She says:

"Last year I was many big pounds overweight. You've encouraged me to lose a lot of it, but this letter is in another vein. I hope my own experience will help some other wife."

"I suddenly realized that I did not feel feminine because I had not kept myself attractive. I went to a mirror and took stock of myself. There I stood, still some overweight, my hair in strings, my nails half chewed off, my complexion blotchy—one perfect mess!"

CHANGED HAIR

"That very night I cut and shaped my hair into a short, easy-to-manage style and began a daily brushing routine. I gave myself a good facial and used a healing cream on the blemishes. The next day I gave myself a manicure. I had been making excuses to myself that I was too busy to do all of these things."

"Money is not plentiful at our house but I decided that my marriage is as important as the bills, so last payday I bought some pretty lingerie, and a well-fitting bra."

"Next payday I intend to buy material and make some new house-dresses that fit me. Mine are all much too big and nobody is attractive in a dress two sizes too large. And I've gotten out of the perfume I had been saving for a special day. I have found that when my husband comes home and finds me well groomed and fragrant THAT is a special day!"

Yes, there have been some changes at our house and they are not all in me. As I have changed so has my husband's attitude. Even the children seem to notice the difference and act accordingly."

What could I possibly add to that?

Washing hands often with plenty of soap and a bit of vital lotion in the night against psoriasis.

Soft Raisin Cookies Are Good for Lunch Boxes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you pack several lunches each day, you have to keep the cookie jar full. Here is a rain oatmeal cookie recipe to help you out.

Mrs. Arthur Dean's granddaughter suggested she give us this recipe. Mrs. Dean does a little church work. Crocheting is her favorite form of handwork.

RAIN OATMEAL COOKIES

By Mrs. Arthur Dean
1 cup raisins
1 cup oats
1 cup soft shortening

1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup quick oats

Cook raisins and water together until just 5 tablespoons of liquid remain. Drain and keep liquid. Mix shortening, sugar and eggs thoroughly. Stir in cooled raisin liquid and vanilla. Sift dry ingredients and add. Stir in oats and raisins.

Drop by teaspoonfuls on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Makes 4 to 5 dozen cookies that keep well.

Bringing Up Baby.

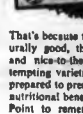

Things is over so important when you introduce new foods to baby. The morning is usually a good time because baby is in a pleasant frame of mind, refreshed from sleep. It should be when he's reasonably hungry, but not necessarily at the beginning of a meal. Little ones vary greatly in when they are most receptive to new foods, and it may take a bit of experimenting to find out which time your cherub prefers.

A "baby's first" biography is an excellent way to keep an accurate record of his achievements. If you post immunization dates, baby's height and weight at intervals, you'll find it a mighty handy family reference. If you sprinkle it with baby's humorous antics and lots of snapshots, it will make a fine toddler's story book.

New and comfy, too. Gerber Baby Pants are just about the softest thing on this side of a diaper. Made of silken-soft polyester, they're waterproof, leak-proof, acid-proof. Won't stiffen, will stay soft for the life of the pants. Medium, large, extra-large. Gerber Products Co., Farmington, Michigan.

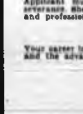

That's because the Savors are naturally good. The texture smooth and nice-to-the-tongue. Over 50 tempting varieties... all specially prepared to preserve the utmost in nutritional benefits for your baby. Point to remember: When you start one new food, give baby a chance to get used to it before you offer another.

12:00 Noon — Trim Time 12:05 — Listen to the Bones Creak 12:15 — Must Be a Muscle Somewhere

12:55 — a Quick Snack

Would You Give 2 Hours to Stay Physically Fit?

12:20 — Going Into Orbit

Are you looking down these days to find the tips of your shoes slipping out of your sight because of an obstructing bulge at the mid-riff?

Or do you look in the mirror now trying to figure out which chin is the original one?

Maybe those dress slacks have to be taken out because of the growing spread from the office easy chair.

If you say no because you hate to admit it, or if you say yes because you are ashamed to deny it, then it's time to do something about it now.

The YMCA has the program for you and just for a mere two hours a week; or three hours with a little more effort.

It might mean giving up those high calorie luncheons to settle for a snack or having dinner at a later hour.

Jim Templeton, physical director at the YMCA, calls his fat-finding one-hour program "Jim's Slim-Gym" club, and all men, fit or fat are welcome to join.

Right now the membership campaign at the YMCA is in process, and there's a program available for everyone, six to 96, man or woman, boy or girl.

Staying physically fit means staying healthy, and Templeton believes that his program for men, one hour a day and two days a week, will put back that slowly disappearing vigor and youth.

Having the reputation of being the guinea-pig for judo experts, polo ponies and water skiers, Templeton made his "dare" to this writer to try his program.

"If just one visit, only one hour, doesn't make you feel like a different person, I'll eat that typewriter," he promised.

(What a story that would make, I thought, especially in detail).

Well, at noon the next day Templeton led the way into the door leading to the YMCA Athletic Club.

In five minutes we were in the midst of sit-ups, push-ups, wind-mills and few other bone-cracking calisthenics.

"Got to tone the muscles," he said as he dropped a 100-pound bar-bell into my hands. Five minutes later we were on the trampoline,

"to help the breathing and coordination," he said.

At 12:25, John LaMotte, aquatics instructor supervised a quick cooling off in the pool. From there Templeton turned on the steam bath and the achin' muscles were in the hands of Bill Blower.

Bill gave us the works. After the steam-basting, he moved us to the "operating" table and a good rub with ever-soothing compound.

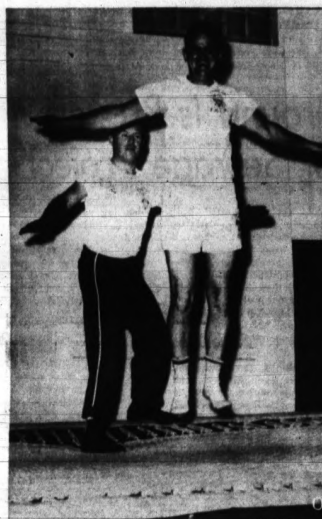

A couple minutes under the ultra-violet lamp, a shower and at 1:00 p.m. we enjoyed a sandwich and a cup of coffee.

At 1:15 p.m. these fingers were ripping along at the rate of 62 words per minute, because Templeton didn't have to eat this type-writer.

He has the answer for those searching for the fountain of health—take it from this experienced guinea-pig.

URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT UNDER WAY — Officiating at groundbreaking ceremonies for a $7.35 million urban renewal project in Royal Oak Township yesterday were (from left) Sen. Philip A. Hart, Township Clerk Mrs. Artie Gray and Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens. Mrs. Gray turned the first spadeful of earth to start an $800,000 sewer construction project, the first phase of the township's extensive redevelopment program.

Ground Is Broken for Sewage Project

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Work and housing codes, according to the first phase of an extensive urban renewal program here is under way today following yesterday's groundbreaking for an $800,000 sewer construction project. Representatives from the state, county and neighboring communities joined township officials in an hour-long ceremony marking the start of a huge rehabilitation project.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, the main speaker at the festivities, said the project will benefit "neighboring communities as well as the citizens of Royal Oak Township."

Among the nearly 300 residents present at the ceremony were the 7th and 9th grade classes from Grant School.

Township Clerk Artie Gray turned the first spadeful of earth for construction of the sanitary sewers at Cloverdale and Woodside avenues.

The sewer project is scheduled for completion before cold weather sets in. Bonds will be paid and elevations constructed in later stages of the program.

Estimated cost for the entire redevelopment project, which also includes demolition of temporary wartime housing units, is $7.35 million.

Substandard housing on the west side of the all-Negro community will be razed. Land bought by the township will be sold to developers who will build houses under limitations of recently adopted zoning.

Hart said he was pleased to see the students present since they were the ones who will be responsible for the future of the township.

Proposal to Switch Route Defeated by Commission

By DON FERMOTIK

TROY — An unsuccessful bid to alter the route of the proposed Chrysler Expressway here resulted in another split between political factions on the City Commission last night.

The commissioners passed a resolution on Jan. 14, 1959 giving the State Highway Department approval on the general route of the expressway through Troy.

A motion to amend that resolution last night failed to pass by a narrow 4-3 vote.

Commissioner Louis Yanich, who made the motion to alter the route in the northwestern section of the city, accused Mayor Robert J. Huber of political favoritism.

Huber reminded Yanich that the city presently is defending its original approval of the route in a circuit court case against White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

"That circuit court case was instigated by you for political purposes," Yanich told Huber.

Yanich said the mayor originally was opposed to the present alignment of the super highway in the city, and sought to have it changed to benefit his friend Jim Robbins, a local businessman.

Huber said he still is opposed to the route but felt that nothing could be gained by rescinding or amending the resolution already passed by the commission.

City Attorney Stanley Burke agreed with the mayor from a legal standpoint.

YANICH SWITCHES — Yanich, who spearheaded the drive to have the resolution amended last night, voted in favor of the present route more than a year ago.

"You led the fight to put this route in here," Huber said in answer to Yanich's charges.

"We didn't have any choice," Yanich countered. "They (the State Highway Department) pressed us into it." He said the commission didn't have enough time to study the route.

Irving Rubin, executive assistant to the State Highway Commission, also was on hand for the meeting. He said the present route was a compromise between his department and the city.

STATE COMMITTED — Even if the commission rescinded its original resolution, Rubin said the department would go ahead with construction on the super highway.

Huber said $200,000 already has been levied by the state in plans for the present route. He said a legal precedent had been set in an expressway case involving the state and the city of Benton Harbor.

That case, taken all the way to the Supreme Court, ended in a victory for the State Highway Department.

Joining Yanich in voting to amend the 1959 resolution were Commissioners Stanley B. Smith and Clifford Sutermeister Jr.

The motion was defeated when Commissioner Roy L. Duncan, who votes with the "old guard" on most issues, cast his ballot against the motion.

Also voting "no" on the motion were Huber and Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson and Vincent J. McAvoy.

An elderly man was found dead in his White Lake Township home Monday afternoon.

Assistant County Coroner Dr. James Ferretti said Kadamer J. Bakley, who lived alone at 3148 Julia St., suffocated due to escaping gas fumes from a stove. Wires and doors of the house were all locked.

A neighbor became suspicious when he smelled gas while passing in front of the house. He broke in through a window and found Mr. Bakley's body. The neighbor then notified sheriff's deputies.

Dr. Ferretti estimated that the victim had been dead at least five days.

The two others are Lindell M. Ross of 2089 W. Nine Mile Road, Farmington, a senior in marketing, and Judith McKillen of 440 E. Fifth St., Inlay City, a junior in biological science.

No Candidates File for Board Carver Steps Closer to Dissolution

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — The way was paved here yesterday for dissolution of the Carver School District when no candidates filed nominating petitions for the school board election Oct. 26.

This move was not the result of apathy but rather one of prearrangement so the district could be assigned to either the Oak Park or Ferndale districts.

The only action that could block dissolution of the Carver district now is a write-in at the election, still to be held.

A write-in candidate would have to get 10 votes to be elected, and five persons must be elected if the Board is to continue.

Three weeks ago the Oakland County Board of Education recommended that the five Carver board members resign to solve the problem of what to do with the district's 50 ninth graders.

The local district has no high school. And previously its high school students had been paying tuition to attend school in Detroit.

The local district has since housed its ninth graders in makeshift classrooms pending the outcome of an annexation agreement.

Other high school students from the Carver district are being allowed to complete their educations in Detroit.

Oak Park, however, has certain questions it wants answered before deciding whether to accept the Carver district. Its board wants to know who will assume Carver's $250,000 debt and who will get the state school aid earmarked for Carver as a distressed school district.

Oak Park board members will meet with Dr. William J. Emerson, county school superintendent, at his office Oct. 13 to discuss the annexation problems.

Waterloo, Ind., vice president; William Schmiedich of Madison, Wis., secretary; and Aaron Davis of Detroit, treasurer.

Blake said the election of sophomore class officers is slated for Oct. 7, with balloting for freshman representatives scheduled for Oct. 19.

Farm Finances Parley Topic

MSU States Conference on Credit at Kellogg Center Oct. 4

The hazards of farm financing during a period of upheaval and change in agriculture will be analyzed at a farm credit conference Oct. 4 at Michigan State University.

About 100 bankers, insurance representatives and other officials connected with agricultural financing will participate in the Kellogg Center meeting.

Dr. Myron Kellogg, of MSU department of agricultural economics, explains that the trend is toward the larger, more efficient farming unit. This trend, he notes, demands a greater investment by the individual operator and the granting of more credit and larger loans.

But, with some areas of agriculture in a precarious position due to large surpluses and other factors, Dr. Kellogg states, it is necessary for the financing institutions to analyze carefully the economic situation.

A team of agricultural economists from the MSU faculty will explore the financial prospects in the 1960's, as related to crops, poultry, dairy, cattle and hog production.

The conference is a continuing education activity of the MSU college of agriculture.

The scholarships, ranging in value from $150 to $450, are awarded to juniors and seniors who have demonstrated superior academic ability and promise.

The recipients of the awards must be of good character, have a record of good school citizenship, and show promise of personal development through the advantages offered by higher education.

The award winners include Judy K. Crawford of 2535 S. Hill Road, Milford, a junior in home economics, and Judith McKillen of 440 E. Fifth St., Inlay City, a junior in landscape architecture.

Also winners are Allen J. Pyke, 1904 June St., Rochester, a senior in radio, TV, film.

Patricia Ann Hall Is Wed

LAKE ORION — Gerald P. Gattion claimed Patricia Ann Hall as his bride in a ceremony performed recently by the Rev. R. Vincent Attyck at St. Joseph Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Henry C. Hall of 254 S. Andrews St. and the late Mrs. Hall. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Gattion of 4353 Lakeside Road, Orion Township.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle. A pearl crown held her fingerless illusion veil.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered with miniature pink roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. David Robertson. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gerald Paquette of Pontiac and Lee Durand of Pleasant Ridge.

Laurie Jean MacMillan, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Serving as best man was Richard Mayo of Pontiac. Seating the guests were Joseph Cronan of Pontiac and Gordon R. Hazell of Orion.

A wedding breakfast at Villa Inn followed the nuptials. An evening reception for 200 was held at Walt's Hall.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Northern Michigan.

Girl, 17, Missing Since August 16

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The parents of a 17-year-old Shelby Township girl, missing for six weeks, have asked the help of The Pontiac Press to try and locate her.

Nada Maloney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maloney of 2009 Collins Road, left home Aug. 18. Her family has had no word from her since.

Described as a shy girl who didn't like school, Nada gave no indication that she wanted to leave home, her distraught mother said.

The missing girl is 5 feet 6, weighs 130 pounds and has light brown hair and blue eyes. When last seen she was wearing black cotton slacks and a striped jacket.

Anyone knowing of her whereabouts is asked to contact the nearest police department or the girl's family.

Students at NCCC 'Must Work Harder'

AVON TOWNSHIP — At opening day ceremonies here yesterday, students at North Central Christian College were told that they must meet stricter scholastic requirements in 1960-61.

Otis Gatenhead, president of the institution, explained that students will have to work harder this year because the college is seeking accreditation by the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges.

He said NCCC officials hope to meet the requirements for accreditation by June.

There are approximately 130 students enrolled this fall at the college, which now is entering its second year of operation following its founding last September.

Kennedy-Nixon Debate

Each Had One Fluff but Dick More Folksy

By RAUL PETTY

CHICAGO (AP)—On fluff, Sen. John F. Kennedy may have defeated a more experienced, but Vice President Richard M. Nixon, for a tiny fraction of a second, must have held the whole farm vote. Sen. Kennedy's one fluff in Monday night's television debate came when he put Harry Truman in the White House in 1944 instead of 1945.

Nixon, however, fell into deeper and hotter water in discussing farm policies. In the middle of one answer to a question about "Get rid of the farmers' Bill" in less than it takes to say "There goes the election," he quickly scrambled back onto shore by adding, "Ah, that is, farm surpluses."

On general folkiness, both before and during the debate, my scorecard showed Nixon easily ahead, at least 8 to 1.

In the pre-debate chat while the cameras were warming up, it was the vice president who made the hardy small talk, about campaign crowds, about the tan both candidates had, about the way the wind could give you more of a tan than the sun. You might have thought the boys were discussing their summer vacations.

In the debate itself, it was again Nixon who led in the department of good fellowship. He smiled more often and more broadly, especially at the start and close of a remark. Kennedy only allowed himself the luxury of a quarter-smile now and then.

Nixon also led by scorecard in personal touches. Several times he called public attention to the fact that he sincerely believes that both he and his Democratic opponent are sincere in their motives, their goals, and their judgments.

On other tactics, Kennedy seemed to be quicker to answer questions, sometimes even before they were finished, and Nixon was quicker to bow in the direction of his opponent.

Of the two, Nixon was the browner. Kennedy the brow-wrinkler. Kennedy was a right-hand pumper. Nixon was the left-hand pumper. Kennedy held his head higher. Nixon showed more poise.

Hold Funeral Service for Famed Photographer

ELK RAPIDS (UPI)—Funeral service will be held today for Max T. Habrecht, an internationally recognized portrait photographer. Habrecht, German-born, died late Saturday at his home here. He was 88.

Habrecht came to Detroit from Europe in 1923 and moved to Traverse City in 1944.

Globe-Democrat Backs Nixon for President

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The morning Globe-Democrat today editorially endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president.

The newspaper is independent. Republican. In 1956, it endorsed President Eisenhower.

In a front-page editorial, the Globe-Democrat said it believed that Republican Nixon was more experienced in both Foreign and domestic matters than his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

The newspaper said it believed that in domestic policies, Kennedy "has been promising all sorts of 'all men' at a cost which 'would bankrupt the nation.'"

Congo Soldiers Demand Pay, Invade U. N. Offices

By DAVE MASON

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Several thousand national Congolese soldiers surrounded United Nations headquarters at Stanleyville Monday night and demanded their overdue pay. Some of the soldiers invaded the U. N. offices, but there was no violence, according to word reaching Leopoldville.

U. N. officials calmed the soldiers with a promise that pay would be flown in from Leopoldville, whose 3,000-man garrison had previously been paid by the U. N. Some of the money will reportedly come from Congolese funds and the rest from the United Nations.

The Congolese soldier gets the equivalent of $24 a month, plus small living allowances. But since trouble broke out in the Congo in early July, many of the soldiers have gone without their pay due to the administrative chaos. Leopoldville informants said today a U. N. Ghana officer had been rebuffed for providing a personal report for deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba when Lumumba left the premier's residence Sunday to cruise through Leopoldville streets "to reassure the public and the military by his presence."

Col. Joseph Mobutu, who staged a coup d'état Sept. 14, has complained to the U. N. about what he terms favoritism to Lumumba. Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah is openly supporting Lumumba and the Ghana chargé d'affaires, N. A. Welbeck, is openly advising Lumumba, who refuses to admit he is out of a job.

School Rolls Top 20,000

Biggest Rise Comes in Junior High Ages, as Expected

Pontiac public school enrollment has topped 20,000 for the first time. There were 20,277 pupils enrolled as of Friday, according to unofficial figures from the board of education. Official figures, totaled for state aid purposes, will be announced next Tuesday.

There were 19,928 enrolled at this time last year. A breakdown of the unofficial count shows 12,857 in elementary school, 4,418 in junior high school and 2,907 in senior high. This includes 1,924 at Central High School and 983 at Northern High School.

The biggest increases by grade came, as expected, in junior high school.

Children born during the baby boom following World War II are now reaching junior high school age, explained Philip Proud, assistant superintendent of schools.

Other increases were noted in the elementary grades but high school enrollment fell off. Both changes were expected, said Proud.

The board of education several years ago began emphasizing expansion of junior high school classroom facilities in anticipation of heavier enrollments there this year.

Lindbergh's Son Weds Daughter of Illinois Lawyer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Land Morrow Lindbergh, 23, son of famed aviator Charles A. Lindbergh, was married Aug. 30 to Susan Miller, 21, daughter of a Chicago lawyer. The ceremony at the San Diego home of the bridegroom's brother, Jon Lindbergh, a researcher at Scripps Institution of Oceanography, was disclosed Monday. The brothers' wives are cousins.

The bridegroom's mother, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, attended the wedding and has since returned to the family home in Darien, Conn.

The newlyweds live in Palo Alto, Calif., and attend Stanford University, where the bride is a junior and young Lindbergh a graduate student of anthropology. The bride's father is William W. Miller, Northfield, Ill.

Loudermilk Quits Michigan State 11

Second-String Play-Caller Also Leaves School

Bert Smith Calls 'M' Greatly Improved in Scouting Report

From Our News Wire
EAST LANSING, Mich. — Loudermilk, considered Michigan State's No. 2 quarterback, has dropped out of school, the dean of students office confirmed today.

Reports Loudermilk left school were touched off yesterday when he failed to report for football practice. The dean's office said a dropout card was filed by the Williamsburg, Pa., Junior yesterday morning.

Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty said Loudermilk would be off the football squad unless he changed his mind and returned to school and the practice session today. A team rule drops a player if he misses two practices without an excuse.

Daugherty first thought Loudermilk missed yesterday's practice because he was disappointed he did not play last weekend against Pittsburgh in what was a sort of homecoming for him and several other players.

Tommy Wilson, the No. 1 signal-caller, worked the entire game except on defense.

Daugherty explained afterwards the game was such a tight one he decided to stick with his top quarterback.

Loudermilk also didn't get much chance for action last year. He threw only one pass for 14 yards and his total offense was 23 yards. But he came off the bench to toss a touchdown pass that gave the varsity a victory over the outliners in the spring game. Despite injuries, he was figured on as the relief quarterback this fall.

The first two teams slipped scrimmages yesterday while coaches studied the scouting reports on Michigan's 21-0 defeat of Oregon.

"They're greatly improved over last season," said defensive line coach Bert Smith in his preliminary scouting report. "We're in for an exciting Saturday."

"When we play Michigan," Daugherty added, "we never need anything to stir up the players. They rise to this one. They enjoy playing Michigan — our greatest rival."

Flint Central 1st in 'A' Ratings

By The Associated Press

Those familiar old towers are cropping up again in the state high school football ratings. Flint Central and Grand Rapids Catholic are issuing for first place in Class A in the first weekly Associated Press rankings, while defending state champion Kalamazoo University High is well in front in Class B.

Flint Central was awarded 187 points in 148 for removing Grand Rapids Catholic by the Associated Press' 50-member panel of sportswriters and broadcasters keeping close tab on scholastic football in every corner of the state.

Five Nebraska Players Were Burned on Field

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—University of Nebraska athletic officials are trying to determine what caused burns suffered by five Husker players in Saturday's game against Minnesota.

Lime in the field markings was first suspected, but a telephone check with Minnesota trainers disclosed that none of the Gophers was similarly burned.

A check of pants worn by the graders was being made to see if anything in bleach used in cleaning could have caused the trouble.

Tackle Ron McDole was hardest hit, suffering second degree burns on buttocks and back. He may not be able to play Saturday against Iowa State.

Others burned but okayed for practice were center Don Fricke, tackle Bernie Haney and Bill Cornstock and Don Purcell.

Earns Defense Trophy

Dallas (AP) — Nick Munley, 255-pound end who blocked a punt in the final minute of play to set up the New York Titans winning touchdown, today was selected as the American Football League's player of the week on defense.

The former Purdue lineman and Tom Flores, the Oakland Raiders' second string quarterback who held the week's outstanding player on offense, each will receive a trophy.

Kalamazoo University High, rolling up 146 points in the first ratings, held a 47-point edge over second place Sturgis. The Class B ranks are tightly packed with top flight teams from there on down, and ties for fifth, eighth, and 10th places threw a dozen teams into the top 10.

The panel awards 10 points for each first place vote, nine for second, eight for third and so on down to one for 10th place.

The ratings are certain to be scrambled after the weekend action. Flint Central meets third place Ann Arbor Saturday night in Flint.

Here's how the AP panel rates the teams, with records and poll points:

Olympic Hurdles King Reports to Lions

New Partnership Bids for Athletics

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The American League team before the man who once offered $8 million in an unsuccessful attempt to buy the old Brooklyn Dodgers, has re-entered the baseball market, this time intending to purchase the Kansas City Athletics.

Elliot Evans, a Los Angeles financier, and his partner, Kansas City banker Donald F. Roberts, plan to make "an offer for the team, with the same result. He said last week he had made a 'definite offer' to buy the Athletics, but his independent bid was not accepted.

Glenn Davis Is Taking a Fling at Pro Football

OHIO STATE TRACK STAR Was a Halfback During Prep Days

DETROIT (U)—Can speed, durability and a strong competitive sense make a professional football player out of a track star?

The Detroit Lions and Olympic hurdler champion Glenn Davis are trying to find out.

Davis, who was the 600-meter hurdler in the 1956 and 1960 Olympics, joined the National Football League Lions yesterday. Davis stands 6 feet and weighs

AL Champs Delayed Him

Labine Very Anxious for Shot at Yankees

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Probably nobody on the Pittsburgh club is looking forward to facing the New York Yankees in the World Series with more eagerness than Clem Labine, the veteran relief ace.

Not that this would be the first World Series for Labine; he has been in four of them. Not that he is seeking to vindicate himself against the American League champions; he has already beaten them twice in four Series decisions.

LONG TIME BETWEEN SHAVES — Joseph Strouse said 4 years ago that he wouldn't shave until the Pittsburgh Pirates won a pennant. This picture was taken during the weekend and today Strouse said he still hasn't made up his mind whether to shave, even though the Pirates have won the National League flag for the first time since 1927. Seems like Strouse has become accustomed to the beard.

Robertson Sparks Cincinnati Past Pistons

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—With Oscar Robertson scoring 33 points, the Cincinnati Royals whipped the Detroit Pistons 117-102 in a National Basketball Association exhibition game last night.

Robertson, the former University of Cincinnati all-American who signed a pro contract last week, scored 15 points in the first half and 18 in the second.

Young Ralston Is Strong Cup Singles Candidate

NEW YORK (AP)—While nothing definite has been decided, and won't be decided for more than two months—young Dewey Ralston stands a good chance of playing singles in the Davis Cup Challenge Round against Australia.

Ralston, the 19-year-old Bakersfield, Calif., sharpshooter, was a virtual unknown until the past season. He raised a lot of eyebrows when he teamed with Rafael Canais of Mexico to win the Wimbledon title.

GLENN DAVIS

Ford Offers 8-Passenger Station Bus

DETROIT (AP) — Ford today announced three new small trucks and its version of an eight-passenger station bus.

The bus is similar to the Volkswagen Bus except that the engine is mounted in the front beside the driver's seat. It is built on a 90-inch wheelbase and powered by a modified version of the 85-horsepower Falcon engine.

The same engine and styling are used for a small, closed Van and a Pickup. All three are in what Ford calls its Econoline Series.

Ford also will market a panel delivery truck version of its compact Falcon, similar in size to the Falcon Station Wagon. During the summer it introduced the Falcon Ranchero, a pickup truck on the 100-inch Falcon wheelbase. This will be continued.

Chevrolet also will be marketing a Volkswagen-style bus for 1961, with the engine mounted in the rear.

Gaitskell Fights to Retain Power

Antiarms Group and Left-Wingers of Labor Want New Party Head

LONDON (AP)—Hugh Gaitskell is musing the political light of his life against the ultra left-wingers and nuclear disarmers who hope to remove him as leader of Britain's Labor party.

The struggle is expected to be settled at the Spa, an ornate Victorian seaside hall in Scarborough where the battered Labor party will hold its annual conference next week.

The party row stems from this basic difference: The left wing—powerfully supported by Frank Cousins, head of the Transport Workers Union, demands that Britain give up her own nuclear weapons regardless of what the United States and the Soviet Union do.

GAITSKELL DOESN'T Gaitskell and his group oppose such an approach. They say it would make British policy entirely dependent on Washington because this island kingdom would be sheltering behind the American H-bomb. They contend it also would mean a British withdrawal from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and a rupture of the West's protective shield.

Gaitskell, in a fiery speech Sunday to 500 Labor party delegates in London, accused Cousins and the other nuclear disarmers of being prepared to "hand over the West lock, stock and barrel to the Russians."

Railroad Brotherhood Pioneer Is Dead at 95

ONEONTA, N. Y. (AP)—Elmer Wessell, 95, last survivor of the right men who organized the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in 1883, died Saturday at a nursing home here.

Wessell started his railroad career at 16 as a brakeman for the Delaware & Hudson Railroad. He worked for several other railroads, but was back with the D&H in Oneonta as a conductor when he retired in 1937.

The eight BRT organizers met in a caboose in the D&H yards here Sept. 23, 1883. Wessell was elected a trustee when the grand lodge was established.

Williams Appoints U.N. Day Chairman

LANSING — Gov. Williams has announced appointment of a Michigan State University political science professor as chairman of the state's United Nations Day observance.

Ralph H. Smuckler will head the Oct. 24 observance of the 15th anniversary of the United Nation's founding. Smuckler was chief adviser to the MSU Viet Nam project.

Other appointments announced were:

Mrs. Martha Reynolds of Grand Rapids as a new member of the Michigan Council of Health, for a term expiring June 16, 1961, and Clinton R. Fitch of Lansing in succeed himself as a member of the Michigan Electrical Administrative Board. His term expires Aug. 10, 1961.

Both appointments require Senate confirmation.

Wild West Acts Set for Children From Institutions

A wild west show is in store for 150 children in Pontiac area state and county institutions.

The youngsters, most of them under 14, will be guests of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce today at Miracle Mile Shopping Center, where the show begins at 6 p.m.

Among the highlights will be tricks by a trained horse, plus demonstrations of roping, shooting and riding, said Thomas Hunt, show chairman.

The show is a first for area Jaycees, said Hunt, reflecting their many programs in behalf of underprivileged and emotionally disturbed youngsters.

Invitations have gone to children at Pontiac State Hospital, the Oakland County Children's Home and the Oakland County Crippled Children's Society.

U.S. Steel Pays Court for Bradley Disaster

CLEVELAND (AP) — U. S. Steel Corp. has submitted a check for $1.5 million to the U. S. District Court for distribution to estates of men who lost their lives in the sinking in 1938, of the freighter Carl D. Bradley.

The ore carrier sank 10 miles off Gull Island in Northern Lake Michigan during a storm.

Due for benefits from the settlement are the estates of 33 crew members who drowned. The only two survivors of the tragedy also will benefit.

The check comes from the redemption by U. S. Steel of matured U. S. bonds which the company had posted as surety. The check goes into the court registry, to be distributed at a later date.

Norwegian Government Purges Pro-Red Faction

OSLO (AP)—Norway's governing Socialist party purged itself of its pro-Communist, anti-NATO faction during the weekend.

The National Executive Committee unanimously decided that party members cannot be members of the extreme leftist "Orientations" group, which takes its name from the group's magazine.

Driver Safety Unit Wants Law Changes

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — The Michigan Driver and Safety Education association today gave notice it wanted changes in the present driver education law.

The organization of high school driver education teachers said it would urge the 1961 legislature to change the present law, to limit driver education responsibility to secondary schools.

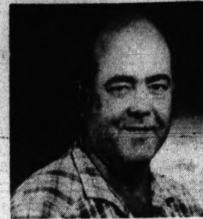

A recent opinion by the attorney general's office said the present law permits driving schools to offer qualifying courses, if they meet state standards.

Homer Earl, president of the driver and safety education group, said standards for certification of teachers in driver education should also be raised to compare with requirements for teachers of other high school subjects.

Birmingham Dentist's Son Was Riding to School With Friend

A 16-year-old Birmingham youth on his way to school, was decapitated early this morning when the car in which he was riding crashed into the back of a road grader in Bloomfield Township.

The victim was son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Russell of 916 N. Cranbrook Road. The youth's father is a Birmingham dentist.

In satisfactory condition in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, is the driver of the car, James Boyle, 18, of 480 Tilbury Road, Bloomfield Township.

Township Police Chief Norman Dehake estimated the vehicle was traveling 60-65 miles an hour when it struck the parked grader on Maple road, near Cranbrook Cross Road.

The grader was being used in the widening of the road. Police had not immediately determined how the accident happened.

A BABY TO REBAPT CHAT — Some of the top Pontiac business, education, labor and professional men gathered at noon yesterday at the Waldorf Hotel to hear U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart (center) of Michigan relate his first year's experiences in Washington. The luncheon was arranged by Harold A. Fitzgerald (right), Pontiac attorney.

Debate Steps Up Campaign

Has Coffee With Macmillan

President Lines Up Dag Support

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today agreed to give "full support" to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld in his task. Hammarskjöld has been a target of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting was a breakfast conference in the President's 33rd-floor suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

After an hour they called in their foreign policy chiefs, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Lord Hailsham, to help plan co-ordinated Allied strategy for checking Khrushchev's anti-Western offensive in the U.N.

In the afternoon, Eisenhower arranged to get together with Canada's John G. Diefenbaker before ending his busy round of foreign policy talks and heading back to Washington.

The President is reported increasingly confident that numerous neutralist nations will join Western countries in defeating Khrushchev's plan to revamp the United Nations to Moscow's design.

Pressing ahead on his one-man diplomatic mission, he also arranged to meet with top representatives of two more independent-minded nations, Premier Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia and Deputy Premier Adilou Abte Wold of Ethiopia.

Eisenhower's chats with the Cambodian and Ethiopian leaders will raise of 10 the number of neutralist leaders he has met since he launched his personal drive last Thursday to line up votes for the West in the diplomatic battle against Khrushchev.

Eisenhower is understood to be considerably heartened as a result of lengthy conferences Monday with India's Prime Minister Nehru and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Both men got along very well during their conference, authorities said. Nasser made it clear he backs the United Nations and appreciates the peace-making efforts of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

To continue his personal diplomacy, Eisenhower is understood to be considering a luncheon meeting with representatives of 13 new African states admitted to U. N. membership last week.

Eisenhower's tactics, unlike Khrushchev who has been leading the Soviet delegation at the United Nations, have been to talk quietly backstage, assisting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter who heads the U. S. working representatives at the United Nations.

The President appealed Monday for "voices of calm" to help still the flame in the United Nations charged up by Khrushchev's assault.

Nixon, Kennedy Clash on Issues Before Nation

History-Making Match Ignores Religion, Only Touches Civil Rights

CHICAGO (AP) — The 1960 presidential campaign gained momentum today from a history-making face-to-face clash of the rival candidates for the presidency.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy opened up over their differences on farm, school, housing, medical care for the elderly and other issues Monday night before a huge television-radio audience.

The question of the Roman Catholic faith of Sen. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, never

Area Folk Unaffected by Debate

The Great Debate last night between Vice President Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy was but a mere exercise of the vocal chords for both candidates in the Pontiac area, residents were concerned.

They had their minds already made up before they even turned on their television sets, a random telephone survey showed this morning.

None didn't even bother to switch on their sets. Their regular Monday night bowling leagues had preference.

Others were working. Prior engagements prevented many from seeing the first in an historic series of four debates between the campaigning candidates.

For Mrs. John E. Sutton and her husband, 191 Tamm Road, Rochester, it was a case of hearing and not seeing the clash over pressing domestic questions. Their television set was out of order.

The Suttons were and still are for Kennedy. Republicans and Nixon "seem to back off" on questions, "Nixon was quite cozy," Mrs. Sutton said.

Kennedy got another vote from Mrs. Alice Shurette, 191 Beach Road. "Nixon made a very fine speech," she said, "but he said the United States has been going ahead all the time. I can't see that with so many unemployed and the money being so tight."

"Kennedy is my choice, that's all," said Mrs. John W. Park, 414 S. 28th St., West Bloomfield Township. "I just like the way he talks."

Although she believed the discussion came "out pretty even," Mrs. Paul D. Blystone said she felt that the vice president won the debate on the question of legislative red tape in getting bills passed over the President's threatened veto.

"I had my mind made up before they even talked," exclaimed Mrs. Ella Purdon, 28 N. Perry St. "I'm for Nixon but I think I'd vote for Kennedy except that I'm afraid he wouldn't have his own way." Mrs. Purdon was the only one interviewed that mentioned Kennedy's religion.

Mrs. William T. Schmidt, 1223 Webster St., Birmingham, said the hour-long question-and-answer period didn't help her make up her mind. "I like to listen to Kennedy speak but I like both of them," she housewife said.

Retain Pontiac Identity, Increase Driver Comfort

By HARRY REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

Crisp new styling which retains the Pontiac identity, and increased comfort for the driver are the hallmarks of the 1961 Pontiac, designed to continue Pontiac's superiority in the medium-price class.

Lower, shorter, narrower and easier to enter, the '61 line is tabbed "the most exciting new car in the division's 53-year history" by S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"Pontiac for 1961 has combined dynamic new styling concepts with significant engineering advances," Knudsen said.

The new Pontiac is as much as .9 inch lower, four inches shorter, and 2.5 inches narrower, yet important passenger compartment dimensions have been improved. Pontiac's famous wide-track design prevails.

A newly designed windshield eliminates the corner extension, or "dog leg" on all models.

Also providing a more interior comfort are: a 12 per cent increase in front seat to steering wheel clearance, and wider opening doors for greater ease of entrance and exit; a 2.3 inch increase in

Sides will be partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday, with the temperature dropping to 53 tonight and rising to a high of 70 tomorrow, the weatherman says.

From 10:15 a.m. yesterday until the same time today .04 inches of rain fell in the area. North to northeast moving winds at 1 mile per hour will become northeasterly tonight and Wednesday.

Fifty-three was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m., the reading was 72.

Warm summer like temperatures are gradually being nudged out of the Pontiac area by cool fronts pushing in.

Accentuating the wide, low front end appearance is an expansive hood, channeled on either side of the centerline, which tapers forward with narrower fenders to meet the twin grille housing dual headlights.

Long sweeping sculptured lines highlight the side view. Tautened chrome molding spans the entire length of the car, emphasizing (Continued on Page 3, Col. 1)

Social Authority Emily Post Dies

Well-Known Expert on Etiquette and Writer of Books Lived to 86

NEW YORK (AP)—Emily Post, the international authority on etiquette and author on all matters of social good form, is dead at 86.

She died Sunday night at her East Side apartment, but the death was not anticipated by many friends until Monday night. She had been in failing health for years.

The Baltimore-born expert on which fork to use and how to behave at a dinner party was a pioneer in simplifying good manners.

(Emily Post's column on etiquette has been a popular feature of The Pontiac Press for many years.)

Her philosophy was what was socially right was what was socially simple and unaffected.

Mrs. Post believed that if you picked up the wrong fork, there was a possibility that your hostess was wrong in having too many forks.

She offered advice on a wide range of subjects from how to install good manners in an active boy to how to address royalty and how to drive your car without meat or snow.

Ms. mainly she advised the debutante, the confused couple and the newly married couple. She stayed clear of giving heavy heart-to-heart advice.

WRITER BLUES BOOKS

Her most widely known book, "Etiquette: The Blue Book of Social Usage," has sold more than a million copies in 10 revisions and 10 printings.

For many years she had a radio program and a daily syndicated newspaper column.

She was born Emily Price in Baltimore in 1873, the daughter of an architect. She grew up in her native city and New York surrounded by luxury and secure in social position.

How did she begin writing? She recalled that early in the century a bank failed somewhere and she had to do something. She turned to the letters she had written her father from Europe into her first book, "The Flight of a Moth."

By 1922, she had written five books. Upon by a friend's book that contained what she said was misinformation on etiquette, she set about to write her own handbook on manners.

In 1946 she founded the Emily Post Institute for "continuing the tradition of good living."

Surviving are her son, Edwin M. Post Jr., and a grandson. Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at St. Anne's Episcopal Church in New York. Burial will be in Tuxedo Park, N. Y.

Rainy Belt Runs From Texas to Atlantic Area

By The Associated Press

Showery weather continued to move south from Texas and into the middle Atlantic states.

The rainy-drippy belt extended from northern Texas and Oklahoma eastward into the middle Atlantic states and northward into New England.

Fog covered the middle Atlantic states and northward into New England.

Dewey Comes Home for GOP Dinner

DETROIT (UPI)—Michigan Republicans leaders, having just bid goodbye to one New York governor, are preparing to welcome another.

Nelson A. Rockefeller returned to New York Saturday after a one-day whirlwind campaign through the state. Thomas E. Dewey will arrive here Thursday, Dewey, twice the Republican party's presidential nominee, will visit his hometown of Onondaga during the day, then join another Onondaga native — Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate — at a Republican fund raising dinner here.

The dinner, one of many being held simultaneously across the nation, will be addressed via closed-circuit television by President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and other GOP notables.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield will be honored at the dinner in Flint, which will be addressed by former GOP National Chairman Meade ALCORN.

Labor Secretary James Mitchell will address the Grand Rapids gathering and Leonard Hall, another former GOP national chairman, will speak at the Lansing affair.

Ex-Turkey President Attempts Suicide

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Former President Celal Bayar attempted suicide in the prison where he awaits trial by the military junta that overthrew him, a spokesman for the junta said Monday.

Mr. Orhan Erhan said 76-year-old ex-president locked himself in his cell bathroom Sunday and tried to strangle himself with a belt. He was revived after a guard became suspicious and broke the door down.

The prison is on Yassada, an island in the Sea of Marmara near Istanbul. It holds hundreds of former government officials and legislators seized when Premier Adnan Menderes' 10-year rule ended last May. Menderes himself is there.

Campaigning Still the Same

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political paraphernalia of America changes not down through the years.

These days maybe you don't wear a celluloid collar inscribed with the names of your candidates as men used to do, but you can get a tie or a tie clip proclaiming your man.

Maybe in the old days you couldn't get a blue plastic flag inscribed "Pat for First Lady" for your car radio antenna. But even in 1800 you could get a hand-painted banner bearing a portrait of Thomas Jefferson.

Nothing has changed fundamentally since 1800, when the American presidential campaign emerged in its present form.

The main changes are more or less technical," said Dr. Wilcomb E. Washington, curator of political history at the Smithsonian Institution.

The purpose of all the buttons, banners, balloons, photographs, symbols, slogans and hoopla remains the same—to project a favorable image of the candidate.

In the 1800s it may have been a metal token. Dr. Washington said. When photography was developed, hundreds of thousands of pictures of the candidates were distributed. They played much the same role that television does now in getting the candidate's face known.

SYMBOLS

That 1860 campaign between Martin Van Buren and William Henry Harrison was a hounding. The campaign symbol appeared with the miniature log cabin and cider barrel for Harrison.

Come on down through the years with symbols—the axe and rails for Abraham Lincoln, the plumed knight of James G. Blaine in 1884, the beaver hat of Benjamin Harrison in 1888, the gold and silver bugs of 1896 in the silver-gold issue, the red handkerchief or the rough rider hat of Theodore Roosevelt in 1904, the sunflower for Al Landon in 1936, the worn-out shoe sole for Adlai Stevenson in 1956.

This year Democrats are wearing miniature PT boats for John F. Kennedy, who commanded one during the World War II.

This year the Republicans are putting the slogan "Experience counts" on their banners and posters. The Democrats are trying "Leadership for the 60s."

Going backward through history there were I Like Her, the Fair Deal, the New Deal, We Want Willie, Keep Cool with Coolidge, the New Freedom of Woodrow Wilson, the "Cross of Gold" of William Jennings Bryan, Tippecanoe and Tyler, too.

It hasn't changed much at all.

McShane Joins Monitor Board

Teamster Boss Hoffa Grimly Vows Appeal on Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts Monday swore in Thomas F. McShane as chairman of the board of monitors over the Teamsters Union.

In doing so, Letts brushed aside objections from Teamsters President James R. Hoffa that McShane, a former FBI agent, is prejudiced against him.

While with the FBI, McShane investigated Hoffa's affairs for the government.

The monitors board is a court-appointed body of three given the duty of supervising a cleanup of the Teamsters Union.

SUCCESS OF O'DONOGHUE
McShane succeeded Martin F. O'Donoghue, a Washington attorney, as head of the panel. O'Donoghue resigned last July.

Letts, sitting alone after Judge Letts' decision, immediately announced the Union would take to the U.S. Court of Appeals a challenge of the McShane appointment.

"I believe that McShane, without question, is prejudiced," Hoffa said.

A month later, while McShane was conferring with Godfrey P. Schmidt, attorney who had proposed McShane's appointment, Hoffa ordered: "Get your orders, Hoffa."

The other two members of the monitor board are Lawrence T. Smith, also originally recommended by Schmidt, and William E. Rutledge, a Detroit Teamsters official.

The monitor system was established early in 1958 in compromising a law suit that challenged the legality of Hoffa's election as president of the Teamsters.

SEIZES UNDER GUIDANCE
The compromise permitted Hoffa to serve provisionally as Union president under the guidance of the monitor board.

Schmidt brought the original law suit against Hoffa in behalf of a group of Teamsters members.

McShane formerly served for a time as a monitor board member in the place now occupied by Smith.

Judge Letts had removed Smith and named McShane, but the Court of Appeals reinstated Smith.

The Appeals Court instructed that Judge Letts consider carefully all the circumstances before again naming McShane to the board.

Russian Trawler Sails Through NATO Fleet

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet trawler with extensive radar gear sailed right through NATO's giant war games fleet over the weekend, NATO headquarters reports.

The 60-ship strike force, due to go into operation today against imagined targets in Northern Europe, was taking on fuel and supplies when the Russian trawler turned up.

The fleet's air cover spotted a Soviet TUDM jet transport, too, but surmised it was on a scheduled New York-to-Moscow run.

LABORING TRADE — Astride his trick horse, Comanche, cowboy Bob Gordon twists his torso at Miracle Mile Shopping Center as Donald Shaw, president of the Miracle Mile Merchants association, looks on from a real wild west stage coach.

Gordon headlines the Frontier Days promotion that began at the shopping center yesterday, continuing through Oct. 1. Rodeo stars, stage coach rides and a "tasteful gun in Pontiac" contest are featured.

Visits by Foreigners Up 13 Pct. Recently

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department reported that during the 12 months ended June 30 permits were issued for 670,833 foreigners to visit the United States. This was an increase of 13 per cent over the previous 12 months.

The department also reported that 252,641 permits, or visas, were issued during this period to foreigners seeking permanent residence in the United States.

The largest number of immigrant visas went to Canada, 32,553. Germany came next with 32,321; Mexico, 30,782; and Britain, 25,587.

John W. Hanes Jr., administrator of the State Department's Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs, said part of the increase in visitor's visas reflects the result of President Eisenhower's designation of the year 1960 as "visit the United States of America year."

Statue of Nude Male Just a Pest to Budapest

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist authorities have passed the death sentence on the nude statue of a male recently set up in a Budapest park. The half-nude, half-reclining figure will be melted down.

Somebody photographed a girl sitting in the nude's lap and sent it to the Budapest City Council. The newspaper Magyar Nemzet reported other "frivolous jokes" were played daily on the statue.

Early Bermuda settlers called the island chain "Virginia" in honor of the Virginia colony.

Jack, Dick Exchange TV Stage for Stump

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Presidential opponents John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon today left behind the television cameras which carried their historic "great debate" to millions of homes and returned to the traditional means of seeking votes—stumping the hustings.

Nixon returned to the campaign trail today with another foray into the South. The Vice President arranged appearances in Memphis, Tenn., West Memphis, Ark., and Charleston, W. Va., before flying to New York City to spend the night.

Kennedy carried his campaign into Ohio, with stops at Cleveland, Mansfield, Plainville, Lorain, Akron and Canton, before winding up the day at Erie, Pa.

Red's Method: Continual Ire

K Out to Paralyze U.N. by Forcing Dag to Resign

By ROBERT REBERLLE
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — It was a relatively subdued Fidel Castro who addressed the U.N. General Assembly Monday.

It was not an address that will be endorsed by the Daughters of the American Revolution. But the 4½-hour blast against the United States lacked much of the usual fire.

The Cuban revolutionary chief, incoherent rage that comes over him when he opens up against the United States in his speeches back home.

The fact that the audience—except for the Soviet and Cuban delegates—did not respond as Cuban audiences do may have been a factor in Castro's failure to reach his explosive peak. Castro thrives on a big cheering section.

There were perceptible halts in his oratory when he gave the impression he was waiting for the familiar revolutionary chants that punctuate his speeches in Havana.

COULDN'T TAKE IT
He also might have been acutely aware that his audience contained people whom he considered infamously. The strapping lawyer-revolutionary seems incapable of tolerating criticism or opposition.

If the explosiveness was lacking, the usual maneuvering he employs to dramatize his remarks were not. He jabbed the air with his fingers and went into the familiar saving gestures with both arms. But it was like a symphony orchestra conductor leading a string quartet.

There was perhaps another factor in the Cuban chief's failure to blast off in usual style. The reception he has received in New York so far, including in Harlem, has been far under what he probably anticipated. This could have dampened his spirits.

Although he has emphasized that he feels more at home in Harlem among the "poor and humble folk," the response from his new neighbors has been lukewarm. The noisy pro-Castro demonstrations by Cubans, Puerto Ricans and Dominican exiles in the city have attracted only a few Harlem Negroes.

There is a noticeable difference in the Castro of today and the one who came to the United States in April 1959.

Strained relations between the United States and Cuba may be largely responsible for his virtual isolation in his exile. He has said he doesn't want to create problems for the security forces around him. But under similar circumstances Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been holding regular and irregular press conferences.

In the sole instance so far that Castro permitted U.S. newsmen to question him, he appeared ill at ease and restless. His attempts to be the self-assured, jovial figure he cut for the American press in 1959 appeared to be forced.

State Chamber Starts Vote Registry Drive

LANSING (AP) — A statewide voter registration campaign — designed to hit every house in the state — was kicked off by the State Chamber of Commerce Monday.

The campaign is being run like a contest, Chamber Vice Chairman Harry R. Hall said. A trophy will be awarded to the chamber in the community that shows the largest percentage increase in registrations by Oct. 16, Hall said.

The contest, aimed at getting business firms to encourage their employees to register, will run from July 5 to Oct. 16 each election year, he added.
