Introducing Chief Red Feather

UF's Oscar Award Unveiled

A seven-inch high Indian Oscar, depicting Chief Red Feather, the "official conscience" for the 1958 Pontiac Area United Fund drive, was unveiled today at campaign headquarters.

The Oscars will be awarded to Women's Division District Chairmen and other campaign workers who have excelled at their volunteer jobs during the three-week campaign scheduled for kick-off on Oct. 21.

Mrs. Donald White, Women's Division chairman and her chief lieutenants from Pontiac and Waterford, Mrs. Noel Buckner and Mrs. Robert Giroux, are helping their eight area chairmen recruit District chairmen to direct the actual door-to-door solicitations.

"We'd like nothing better than to see each of our District Chairmen receive an Oscar, however, some districts in both Pontiac and Waterford are still without chairmen," stated Mrs. White.

Districts 30 through 32 in Pontiac are included in this group, according to Mrs. Buckner. All three are situated in an area bounded on the north by Featherstone avenue, on the east by Perry street, on the south by Auburn avenue, and on the west by the city limits.

"We don't even have a solicitor for this area, so we're really looking for women to volunteer a portion of their time for this great community-wide effort," stated Mrs. Buckner.

She further pointed out the reorganization of the division since the 1957 campaign has lessened the individual work load, but in so doing necessitated the recruitment of almost twiee as many workers.

"This year's Women's Division campaign will be restricted to a ten day period, and no worker will be asked to make more than 15 calls," Mrs. Buckner added.

In addition to doubling the number of workers to enable the Women's Division to solicit every home in the area, the number of districts have increased from 40 to 95. In 1957, 18 districts handled the Pontiac solicitations—42 are needed this year. Similarly, in Waterford the number of districts has jumped from 22 to 53.

Mrs. Giroux reports that Districts 3, 8 and 47 in Waterford Township are still lacking District Chairmen. Districts 3 and 8 are located south and east of Elizabeth Lake, and District 47 is situated north of Walton boulevard in the Wormer Lake area.

Anyone wishing to volunteer their services and join the nearly 4,500 volunteers working on this year's Tenth Anniversary Campaign, has been urged to stop in at Fund Headquarters, 132 Franklin Blvd.

Pontiac Leader Blackwood Dies of Heart Attack

Appraiser Is Stricken While Driving Auto Near Romeo

The medical finding was made by the Macomb County coroner after Blackwood's body was found in his car by State Police at about 12:45 p.m. The car had left the road and crashed into a tree.

Relatives said Blackwood had suffered a heart attack Friday, but felt better Sunday and went for a drive to inspect some real estate.

Blackwood devoted more than a decade to active public service in various capacities.

He served on the Pontiac Board of Education continuously from 1937 to 1945, and again, briefly, in 1949-1950 to fill an interim vacancy.

He was board president twice, in 1938-1939 and 1944-1945, and board secretary, 1941-1944.

Blackwood served the City of Pontiac twice as its representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, in 1937-1938 and 1940-1941.

During World War II, Blackwood was chairman of the Pontiac draft board. He also served as chairman of the blood donor service for Pontiac under the Oakland County

Early Hearing on 'M'-MSU TV

Detroit Judge to Decide Wednesday if Contest Will Be Shown

DETROIT (UPI)—Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn today set a hearing at 10 a.m. Wednesday, instead of Friday, to decide whether the Michigan-Michigan State Football game should be put into theaters in eight cities by closed circuit television.

Bohn moved the hearing up two days after attorneys representing both Rep. John T. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit) and promoter C. W. (Larry) Smith and Giantivision, and the two universities appealed to him.

The universities and the promoters asked for the quicker hearing. The promoters will get 50 per cent of the receipts, each university 25 per cent. Some 43,000 persons are expected to pay $3 each to see the game via television.

Bohn last Friday granted temporary injunction sought by Fitzpatrick, who cited a 1951 state law making it illegal for a state institution to televise programs on closed circuits. The law, sponsored by Sen. Harold Ryan (D-Detroit), and backed by Fitzpatrick, was designed for just such a situation as Saturday's game.

Supreme Court Rules Integration 'Evasions' Illegal

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared today states cannot resort to "evasive schemes" to continue racial segregation in schools. Thus it dealt a blow to such plans as those calling for leasing public schools to private groups.

The tribunal's views were set forth in a formal opinion following up its Sept. 12 decision unanimously rejecting a plea by the Little Rock School Board to delay further school integration.

The session ended the special August term of court to consider whether the Little Rock School Board could delay integration at Central High School for 2½ years.

"One may well sympathize with the position of the board in the face of the frustrating conditions which have confronted it," the opinion said.

"But, regardless of the board's good faith, the actions of the other state agencies responsible for those conditions compel us to reject the board's legal position."

The Court referred specifically to the actions of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and the State Legislature.

"The controlling legal principles are plain," the opinion said. "The command of the 14th amendment is that no 'state' shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

"A state acts by its legislative, its executive or its judicial authorities. It can act in no other way. The constitutional provision, therefore, must mean that no agency of the state, or of the officers or agents by whom its powers are exerted, shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

"Whoever, by virtue of public position under a state govern-

Lease 4 Schools in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Little Rock School Board today leased the city's four high schools, closed four weeks in the integration crisis, to a corporation for operation as private, segregated schools.

Members of the board and school Supt. Virgil T. Blossom doubted, however, that the schools can be put into operation before Wednesday.

The corporation managed to get the lease signed before the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Could ask a Federal Appeals Court to stop it.

The lease said the rental value of the schools — Central High, Hall High, Little Rock Tech and Horance Mann (Negro) — cannot be accurately determined now.

"The rental value shall be determined at the end of each school year by three arbitrators," the lease said. "It shall not be less than $10,000 a year."

UAW Is Urging Workers to End Local Walkouts

Order Draws Partial Response Only; Some 65,000 Remain Idle

From Our Wire Services

DETROIT — The United Auto Workers union yesterday postponed a strike deadline against General Motors in an effort to end widespread local strikes before the deadline.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther informed all UAW locals of postponement of the strike deadline from Tuesday until Thursday 10 a.m. in a telegram.

However, an order from union leaders to go back to work drew only a partial response today from striking United Auto Workers. Some 62,500 remained idle because of walkouts and resulting parts shortages.

A union spokesman nevertheless predicted that 1959 auto production would be 90 per cent normal by tomorrow in General Motors plants, where 27,000 were out today. Some 18,000 heeded the order to end wildcat strikes which UAW leaders said were hampering contract negotiations at GM.

GM strikers returning to work included 3,500 at the GM Technical Center in Warren; 8,000 at Cadillac in Detroit; 6,000 at Buick and Fisher Body in Flint, and 400 at Fisher Body in Euclid, Ohio.

Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers talked for 90 minutes this morning on a new contract and both sides reported progress toward a possible settlement when they broke up for lunch.

Reuther said the four subcommittees would work during the recess to try to work out the chief problems — SUB, skilled trade, seniority and office workers-engineers. Full bargaining teams will resume talks at 3 p.m.

John B. Leary, Chrysler vice president, said, "We are making some progress and while it is too early to tell about the settlement prospects, we'll be in a better posi-

Body Found at Alpena Linked to Pontiac Area

The body of a man believed to be a Texas racketeer was found Sunday near Alpena. He may have been killed in a swampy wooded area in Alcona County, according to Michigan State Police.

Insp. Jack Warner, of the State Police, said today the body is thought to be that of George Kean, 32, missing from his home in Fort Worth, Tex., since November.

Warner said the fact of the murder and the approximate location of the body was supplied Michigan authorities by the Texas Rangers.

He said the Rangers heard from an informant that Kean was murdered in or near Pontiac and buried near Alpena.

The informant, according to Sheriff Harlan Wright, of Tarrant County, Tex., told authorities that Kean and three members of his gang traveled from Texas to Michigan last winter by car.

On Dec. 16, 1957, they were halted in Collinsville, Ill., about 40 miles east of St. Louis, by two police officers.

They disarmed the officers, Dominic Giofre and John Gagnola, kidnapped them, but left them handcuffed to a tree about 90 minutes later.

Kean wanted to kill the officers to avoid identification, but one of the gang members, a Detroiter, fought with him and persuaded Kean not to shoot.

FIGHT OVER LEADERSHIP

This incident boiled up into a fight of leadership of the gang in the Pontiac area and the Detroiter ended up killing Kean, according to the informant.

Kean's body was placed in the car trunk where it was kept for two days while the gang sought a spot to bury him.

From the wealth of detail given by the informer, it appears likely he was a member of the gang involved. A nationwide hunt is on for the other gang members.

At the time of the kidnapping, the two officers reported they had been taken in a late model car bearing Michigan license plates. The car was later reported seen in the St. Louis, Mo. area.

State's 1st Big Chill Not Too Bad Here

Michigan has had its first taste of topcoat weather, with heavy frost in the central portion of the state and a freezing temperature, 32, at Gladwin, reported overnight.

Locally the weather picture is somewhat brighter. Partly cloudy and warmer is the forecast for tonight, low near 54 degrees.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy and a little warmer with a high near 72.

An extended weather forecast, however, predicts temperatures will average five to eight degrees below the normal 68 high and normal 49 low for the next five days, with scattered showers and windy as the outlook for Wednesday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 42. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 64.

Political Rally Is Tonight

A political rally, at which a large number of Democratic and Republican candidates vying for elected Oakland County offices will speak, will be staged tonight at the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

The League of Women Voters of Pontiac, a nonpartisan organization, will put on the show beginning at 7:45. Admission is free.

League members have invited all candidates running for Congress, the State Senate and House of Representatives, and local county positions on the Nov. 4 ballot.

Each candidate appearing at the rally will be given an allotted time in which to tell of what legislation he or she will strive for if elected, and what qualifications they have as a candidate.

Helene and Ilsa May Collide Out in Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricanes Helene and Ilsa today gave strong indication of merging into a violent "extra tropical" storm far out in the north Atlantic.

Courses plotted by the Weather Bureau here would bring the hurricanes together possibly in the next two or three days, said forecaster Rollo Dean.

Helene today was losing hurricane characteristics but remained a severe storm. Ilsa was expected to decrease in strength from 100 m.p.h. top winds to around 75 m.p.h.

At 5 a.m., Helene was located about 500 miles east of Portland, Maine. It was moving northeast about 35 m.p.h.

Ilsa was located 360 miles east northeast of Bermuda. It was traveling northeastward about 25 m.p.h.

The term "extra tropical," Dean said, is applied to storms generating in temperate zones. They sometimes are as violent as hurricanes.

Both hurricanes threatened shipping in the north Atlantic today and the southeast portion of Newfoundland was told to prepare for winds of hurricane force within hours.

Large Crowd Hears Summerfield

Dedicates New City Post Office

A standing room only crowd of well over 500 people heard Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield dedicate the new Pontiac Post Office, at 735 W. Huron St., Saturday afternoon.

With John A. Riley, president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, acting as master of ceremonies, the dedication speeches got under way at 2:30 p.m.

Summerfield assured the large crowd that our new post office was no "ornate edifice built as a costly and mistaken monument to civic pride."

He asserted that "it is, instead, designed in an architectural style compatible to this community. It is functional so that mails can be handled efficiently.

Summerfield said that support of postal facilities has changed hands. "Now the people who use the mails are paying the cost, which is as it should be."

He emphasized that the cost of carrying the mails is now being paid "through the stamp window rather than through the tax window."

Summerfield also cited The Pontiac Press, among others, who helped reduce the Postal Department deficit.

"You have in this city a newspaper, The Pontiac Press, headed by two men, Harold and John Fitzgerald, who supported the department unreservedly all the way in our effort to adjust the rates and reduce the deficit, because such a course was right."

Describing the new Post Office, he said "This is an adaptable building, able to accommodate any conceivable mail-handling machinery of the future or any changes in postal transportation patterns."

He informed his listeners that this is one of 2,500 modern postal buildings acquired by the Post Office Department in the past five years.

Much credit was given to the country's 540,000 postal employes who have for many years been working against handicaps.

"We lack the facilities we need, we operate . . . under a huge postal deficit, we handle two-thirds of the world's mail and the volume increases each year," he pointed out in the need for new postal buildings.

The dedication program was also highlighted by speeches by Congressman William S. Broomfield, of Oakland County, Mayor William W. Donaldson, and U.S. Senator Charles E. Potter.

Acting Pontiac Postmaster Robert C. Miller was presented with the Michigan State Flag by Les Langford, past president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the American Flag by Broomfield.

SMILES OF CONFIDENCE — Acting Pontiac Postmaster Robert C. Miller (left) and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield were all smiles Saturday. Both seemed confident that Pontiac's new $850,000 main post office would solve the city's growing postal problems. Summerfield made the dedicatory address before a standing room crowd in the new building's spacious parking lot.

Ask Broomfield About Donation

Broomfield, Royal Oak Republican seeking another two-year term in the U. S. House of Representatives from Oakland County, was quick to answer. His answer was "absolutely not."

"At no time have I or any of my authorized campaign representatives solicited or accepted one dime from Hoffa and his Teamsters Union," Broomfield said.

Hudson, Pontiac's representative in Lansing for four years, showed newsmen a photostatic copy of a $1,000 check dated Oct. 11, 1956 which, Hudson said, was paid eventually to one Richard P. Blake. Hudson described Blake as treasurer of the "Broomfield-For-Congress Committee" at that time.

The check was drawn on the account of Detroit Teamsters Local 299, Hoffa's home local. It was countersigned by Hoffa and made out to one John Wilson, who Hudson described as "a young Detroit lawyer."

Hudson said that two days after the date of the check, a record of Broomfield's contributions in the county clerk's office shows one for $1,089 from Wilson.

"I do not believe that this is a coincidence," Hudson, remarked.

Broomfield said he "assumed" the $1,089 deposited with his campaign fund were the collections from a $10-a-plate testimonial dinner for him in October of 1956 held at the Pontiac Elks Lodge. He said Blake did make the deposit, but denied he ever was treasurer for his committee. Broomfield said he never heard of John Wilson.

While he was throwing questions at his Republican opponent, Hudson demanded an explanation why Broomfield "broke bread" with Hoffa in Washington in March of last year, the same night the controversial labor leader was arrested by the FBI with secret documents from the Senate Rackets Committee.

"I was invited by John Thorpe, director of the AFL in the state, to a dinner for Michigan labor officials. All Michigan congressmen were there also," was Broomfield's answer.

Landslide Vote OKs French Fifth Republic

DeGaulle Wins Battle for New Constitution

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle has won his fight.

The most sweeping referendum in French history today gave him a resounding personal triumph and a strong constitution for a new Fifth Republic.

The Fifth Republic will be proclaimed in the official journal next Sunday.

And France will enter into a new, more powerful system of government so daring that many Frenchmen gasped at the conception while they voted their approval by a landslide Sunday.

Complete official tabulations in France showed 17,666,828 "yes" votes and 4,624,475 "no" votes. There was a record turnout of 84.9 per cent of France's registered voters. Counting all those who went to the polls, including some who cast blank ballots, the new constitution was approved by 78.5 per cent.

With one exception — French Guinea in West Africa — the overseas lands of the erstwhile French empire also backed the constitution to the hilt. This set them up with France on the world political stage as a "French community," a sort of global confederation, with commonwealth status and even independence waiting in the wings.

Even the "no" vote of independence-minded Guinea made little impression in the general massive outpouring of approval that exceeded even the most optimistic estimates.

France announced today it is cutting off economic aid to French Guinea, the only overseas territory to vote for independence in Sunday's constitutional election.

A communique said French administrators will be pulled out of the little aluminum-rich country in Africa's west coast within two months.

The landslide raised the prospect that De Gaulle, the 67-year-old World War II hero restored to leadership in a rightist uprising last May, can almost write his own ticket to cure the sicknesses of this long ailing country. Chief of these is the four-year-old Algerian rebellion.

MAY BECOME PRESIDENT

De Gaulle probably will become president, with powers that no French chief of state has enjoyed since Emperor Napoleon III was overthrown in 1870.

De Gaulle's dramatic victory was the worst electoral black eye the Communists have suffered in postwar France. The Communists formed the largest bloc campaigning against de Gaulle's constitution. They said it would open the way to dictatorship.

Gaullist leaders hailed the results as a decisive blow at the Reds, who have hamstrung French politics with disruptive tactics and the biggest single voting bloc — 148 deputies — in the 596-seat National Assembly.

Approval of the constitution automatically rejects the old Assembly. De Gaulle now has four months of near-dictorial powers in which he will write a new election law to seat a new Assembly.

North Carolina Surveys Ravages of Hurricane

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Up and down the coast stand houses with roofs ripped open. Battered trees gleam nakedly against the sky, their shorn limbs piled up on streets and roads. Telephone poles sag crazily.

On the miles of beaches, the surf washes over tens of thousands of conch shells, more souvenirs of the weekend's Hurricane Helene.

DAMAGE IN MILLIONS

Damage from the hurricane is estimated in the millions of dollars. Communications are still out in many areas. But there was no loss of life.

Residents, recalling hurricanes of 1954-55, were prepared when Helene swirled past the Carolinas and the Virginia Capes, well offshore, with winds up to 140 miles an hour.

A civil defense spokesman said the people "gave us no argument" when asked to evacuate.

There were scattered personal injuries. The Red Cross said 4,950 persons were cared for at 65 shelters.

Spinning shoreward Saturday morning from the southeast, Helene passed up most of South Carolina's lush resort area. She knocked down a fishing pier at Ocean Drive Beach, S. C., and damaged two more piers in Cherry Grove Beach.

PIERS, HOUSES HIT

Moving toward the jutting North Carolina coastline, she smashed a 300-foot pier at Ocean Isle Beach, N. C., damaged most of the houses at Holden Beach and sent high water over the protective sand dunes at Long Beach, damaging roads. This was in the forenoon.

She hit hardest at Southport, tucked inside the elbow of the Cape Fear, and Wilmington, 30 miles north. She never came inland, staying about 35 miles offshore. All communications were knocked out at Southport and the town was in need of water until auxiliary pumps were brought in.

"The only thing that saved us," said some Southport citizens, "was that the winds and the tide were working against each other."

State Rep. James C. Boman of Brunswick County said he was "very anxious to see if we get a declaration as a disaster area," adding that the poorer people had suffered the most.

State Highway Patrol Capt. C.R. Williams estimated damage at Southport between $500,000 and $750,000.

Wilmington, the state's biggest coastal city, suffered an estimated million dollars damage, said the highway patrol. Most of this was to residences and businesses.

Farther up the coast, Mayor Pro Tem George Kanoutis of Kure Beach estimated property damage at $250,000, beach erosion at $30,000. Mayor Glenn M. Tucker estimated Carolina Beach damage at 1½ million dollars, but said no property owners were wiped out. Mayor Pro Tem Richard Meier of Wrightsville Beach said all property suffered some damage.

HOWLS OFF TO SEA

By Saturday afternoon Helene had passed the most densely populated areas. Her effect was felt several miles inland in rough weather and rains, but damage there was not severe. Later that evening she howled off toward the open sea.

Morehead City and Beaufort, port cities, were battened down and shook off the blow with comparatively little damage.

Hurricane Helene probably was nearly as strong as Hurricane Hazel of 1954. But Helene kept her distance at sea. Hazel caused 21 deaths in the Carolinas and an estimated 145 million dollars damage in the two-state area alone.

Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Born in Detroit in 1893, Blackwood received his early education in Detroit public schools, graduated from Pontiac High School and finished his education at Wooster College, Ohio.

From 1917 to 1927 he was engaged in the automotive business as a purchasing agent and as a real estate developer in Cleveland, Ohio.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Elks and Mason Lodges, and was a former president of the Pontiac Rotary Club. Professionally, Blackwood was a member of the Michigan Real Estate Appraisers Assn.

He was active with the YMCA and the Pontiac Day Nursery, serving as chairman of the latter for many years.

Besides his widow, Caroline, Blackwood is survived by three children, Thomas T. Blackwood, Richard S. Blackwood, and Barbara Anne Blackwood, and one granddaughter, all of Pontiac.

Mrs. Blackwood and two younger children live at the family home, 31 Ottawa Dr. Thomas, married, lives at 91 Bloomfield Ter.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery in Detroit.

Supreme Court Hits Integration Evasions

ment . . . denies or takes away the equal protection of the laws, violates the constitutional inhibition; and as he acts in the name and for the state, and is clothed with the state's power, his act is that of the state. This must be so or the constitutional prohibition has no meaning."

This elaboration of what a state may not do was quoted from an opinion of the court delivered many years ago.

Warren cited several other cases, from both the Supreme Court and the circuit courts, for this following statement:

"Thus the prohibitions of the 14th amendment extend to all action of the state denying equal protection of the laws, whatever the agency of the state taking the action."

"In short," Warren said, "the constitutional rights of children not to be discriminated against in school admission on grounds of race or color declared by this court in the Brown case can neither be nullified openly and directly by state legislators or state executive or judicial officers, nor nullified indirectly by them through evasive schemes for segregation whether attempted 'ingeniously or ingeniously'."

(The Brown case was the one which resulted in the Supreme Court's historic 1954 decision declaring that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.)

Warren said these views alone are enough to dispose of the case. But he said the court wants to answer the apparent attitude of Faubus and the Arkansas Legislature that they are not bound by the 1954 ruling. He said "some basic constitutional propositions which are settled doctrine" are all that one need call.

Typhoon Toll Reaches 540

TOKYO (AP) — Relief workers recovered the bodies of 200 victims of Typhoon Ida today from the mud and debris of ravaged Izu Peninsula, 10 miles southwest of Tokyo.

This brought the number of known dead from the weekend storm reported by the national police to 540.

Police said 976 persons are still missing—916 of them in the Izu resort area, where the usually placid Kano River burst its banks and wiped out more than a dozen villages.

The death toll may go higher.

Police said 535,307 persons were left homeless.

The United States today formally offered aid in the task of bringing order to ravaged areas. The offer was made by U.S. Ambassador Douglar MacArthur II in a letter to Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi.

Ready to Bomb Enemy—Chiang

Nationalist Planes Set to Go When and If Big Moment Arrives

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today his Nationalist air force will bomb the Communist guns ringing Quemoy when and if the "crucial moment arises."

He added he felt the United States would back him if that time came.

He said this moment would come when the lives of the 130,000 troops and civilians on the outpost fortress are in danger either from the effects of the Communist artillery blockade or other military action.

"When the crucial moment arises I feel the United States will not fall back on its promises to help," he stated. "But the crucial moment has not yet arisen."

"But we will act on our own regardless (of the U.S. attitude) when it comes a question of life and death," he said.

He emphasized Nationalist China is under no obligations to the United States that would prevent it from taking action it feels necessary for its own defense.

Alert and smiling, he also made these points:

1. Nationalist China is following a policy of restraint in the face of heavy losses by Quemoy's civilians and soldiers.

2. It might agree to a United Nations debate on the Formosa crisis under certain conditions.

3. The Red artillery blockade has been rendered temporarily ineffective by air drops and sea supply efforts.

4. There will never be any need for U.S. ground troops to help defend Quemoy.

Chiang spoke as the Chinese Reds carried their artillery assaults against the Quemoy islands into the 38th day with a relatively light shelling.

By Nationalist Defense Ministry count, 1,009 shells were fired on the islands up to midday today, and 4,552 Sunday.

Nationalist's cargo planes dropped supplies on little Tatan Island for the first time and on Quemoy for the sixth straight night, correspondents reported Sunday night. Another Nationalist convoy shoved supplies to the islands by ship despite Red barrages.

GM Strike Deadline Changed by UAW

tion to evaluate that when we come back this afternoon."

Reuther urged the local unions to get their members back on the job before the original strike deadline, and said talks with General Motors would be recessed until that time.

"The local strikes are a handicap to us in trying to reach a settlement with General Motors," Reuther said. "They undermine our ability to reach a settlement."

Meanwhile, Ford Motor Co., which already had settled with the union, laid off 23,000 workers at plants throughout the nation today because of a shortage of parts caused by the strikes and model changeovers.

The number of strikes at Ford plants was steadily dwindling, however. The nation's second-largest auto company reported only 1,500 of its employes still on strike at its Chicago Assembly Plant.

Reuther said the decision to attempt to get the GM employes back to work came from a meeting of top union officials and a telephone poll of members of the UAW's executive board.

EFFORT 'CONSTRUCTIVE'

General Motors Vice President Louis Seaton called the union's effort to end the strikes "the constructive thing."

But he said he could see no reason for the union setting another strike deadline.

"Whether the union sets another strike deadline is up to them," he said. "But I don't think one is needed. We made an offer equated with the Ford settlement, which Reuther said was fair.

"If that offer was fair there, I can see no reason for a strike deadline. I think the union should accept the offer we have made them."

But Seaton said GM was "prepared to negotiate to conclusion" for a new contract.

He said GM was "not impressed much" by any strike deadline set by the union.

Giofre's life, was reported to have spoken to him in Italian.

In Michigan Sheriff Wright and Texas Ranger Capt. E. J. Banks told State Police that the informant had said Kean's body was near an old hotel with a stairway leading up the right side, a real estate office opposite it and a Standard gasoline station next door.

Officers searched 800 miles of the state to find this location, then followed the informant's instructions to go north, left at the first paved road right at the next intersection and on to the second hill with a guard rail. They found the grave 200 feet from U.S. 23.

Although authorities know the identity of the other gang members, all ex-convicts, they are withholding them.

Insp. Warner said, "This looks more like a killing growing out of a fight among individuals rather than any sort of fight for control of rackets, as first reported."

The slaying at first was said to have resulted from efforts by Kean to seize control of Fort Worth's reported million-dollar gambling and prostitution rackets.

Warner stated that no definite identification of the body as that of Kean had yet been made. Dr. Richard Olson, Pontiac pathologist is to examine the body today to determine cause of death.

Texas authorities believe Kean, an ex-convict, was active in Dallas and Fort Worth rackets for some time. An attempt was made to kill him last November by planting a bomb in his car but he discovered it in time to avoid triggering it.

Kean then dropped out of sight, telling his wife he was going to his brother's home in Fayetteville, N.C.

She said she last heard of him two weeks before Christmas when he called from somewhere in Texas and said he would be home as soon as he raised some money.

The Day in Birmingham

Kick Off Ticket Sales for Children's Theater

BIRMINGHAM — Ticket sales are starting in Birmingham schools today for the annual Children's Theater, sponsored by the Birmingham Branch of the American Assn. of University Women.

The first of the plays, "Circus Day," will be presented Oct. 13. All will be staged in the Birmingham Theater with performances at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The holiday special, slated for Dec. 29, will be "Broken Doll," presented by the Willow-O-Way Apprentice Theater.

On April 28, Wayne State University Players will produce "Rumplestiltskin."

A hearing on confirmation of a special assessment district for paving on Brookside alley will be held during the Birmingham City Commission meeting tonight.

A second public hearing, held over from last week, will be on the access drive on the west side of Woodward avenue, south of Redding road.

Commissioners will consider the request of Robert L. Wink of the Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce to sell pumpkins Oct. 25 and 26 to raise funds for the Children's Christmas Shopping Tour sponsored by the Jaycees.

Brig. Gen. S. L. A. Marshall of 897 Westchester Way, Birmingham, will address the Michigan State Bar Assn. Convention Thursday at Grand Rapids.

Gen. Marshall, military analyst and editorial writer at the Detroit News, recently returned from an extensive tour of the Middle East. He will give his first-hand opinions of the political situation there.

The 34 scout troops in the Birmingham area this week are distributing "Handbooks for Emergencies" to all homes. The project will be completed by Oct. 11.

The books, published by the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization, list emergency measures for natural or man-made disasters.

Mrs. William Christian

Service for Mrs. William (Annabel) Christian, 76, of 27349 Morningside Plaza, Lathrup Village, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Christian, widely known church and club worker, died Saturday at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit after a short illness.

She was a member of the Board of Methodist Chelsea Home in Chelsea, Mich. Her interests in Christian education resulted in the establishment of the Rice-Allen Fund at the Metropolitan Methodist Church in Detroit.

Mrs. Christian was past president of the Detroit New Century Club, the WSCS of the Metropolitan Methodist Church and Chapter I, PEO. She also served on the Board of Directors of the Detroit YWCA.

Clear Neil Watson on Burglary Charge

Neil Watson, 23, of 4404 Clintonville Rd., Waterford Township, was released Saturday from police custody on orders of the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

Watson was believed implicated in four burglaries and a grand larceny along with Robert A. Garrison, 22, of 274 W. Brooklyn St., and Robert A. Putnam, 23, of 244 W. Brooklyn.

Statements taken from the three by the prosecutor showed that Watson was not implicated in any of the crimes although his truck was used in the larceny without his knowledge.

Warrants were issued against the other two men for grand larceny. They will be tried in Pontiac Municipal Court Wednesday at 10 a.m.

DETROIT (UPI) — Unethical bandits were on the loose in Detroit today. Burglars took about $350 from the safe of St. Johns Lutheran Church yesterday.

Little Rock Leases Four High Schools

by turning public schools into private schools.

The Department of Justice contends that the public school plan, which Gov. Orval E. Faubus sponsored in Arkansas, is merely a dodge and promised to fight it.

The heart of the private school plan is a law passed by the Arkansas Legislature in 1875. It provides that a corporation may rent unused school buildings and operate them as private schools.

A special session passed supplementary laws a month ago. The schools were closed under one of them when the Supreme Court ordered immediate integration.

Another law provides that the state will pay the tuition of students who attend the private schools. In the case of the Little Rock schools, this is the tuition of more than 3,000 students.

The school board, as a preliminary to the leasing, met today and declared the buildings are subject to lease, contingent upon Attorney General Bruce Bennett's opinion that the lease was legal.

Bennett already had an opinion ready saying leasing was legal and the papers were signed.

In its resolution declaring the buildings surplus, the board said it wants to aid "any feasible plan leading to a high school educational program although it is capable of and would prefer to operate its own high schools as part of a system of public education."

NEW SCHOOL HEAD

Dr. Thomas J. Raney, president of the Little Rock Private School Corp., said a new school superintendent will be announced later today.

An authoritative source said the new superintendent will be Louis Henderson, director of secondary education for the Little Rock School District. The principals of the four schools will not be changed.

Blossom said he expects to stay on to help direct the new system from the background.

"There has been no friction, no drawbacks in reaching this agreement," Raney said. "We hope this will be the real thing."

The school board agreed to lease the buildings "until such time as the Little Rock School District requires all or part thereof for operation of its schools."

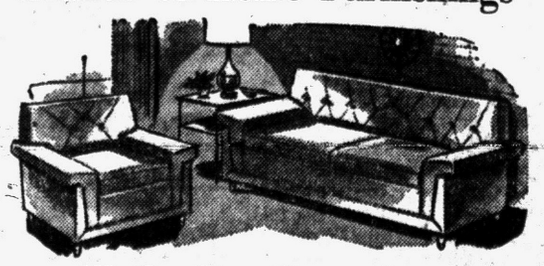

The corporation agreed to hire both certified and non-certified personnel of the school system and to release them for re-employment by the school board if the schools are taken over again by the state.

The personnel of the high schools will get the same salaries they do now. However, if a teacher or any other employe does not wish to work for the corporation, he or she will be retained on the state payroll with no loss of time.

The teachers are under contract to the school board and have been at their posts since Sept. 2, when the schools were originally supposed to open.

The lease specified that it shall "terminate immediately and be held for naught, in event it is determined improper or invalid by final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction."

Consider Ike in New Light With Adams Due to Depart

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTO N(UPI) — The redistribution of authority at the White House today led politicians of both parties to take a new look at the role of President Eisenhower himself.

Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons (USA Ret.) was named over the weekend to succeed Sherman Adams as The Assitant to the President. Persons, a 62-year-old Alabamian, is a veteran specialist in executive liaison with Congress. He was No. 2 man to Adams from the start of this administration.

Adams, now arranging the "orderly transition" of White House duties, resinged a week ago because of political repercussions from his relations with Bernard Goldfine, the Boston textile millionaire facing federal grand jury action on a contempt of Congress charge.

Adams was due shortly to depart from his White House desk with its big presidential seal, leaving behind a legacy of power and a legend of indispensability that is now subject to reappraisal.

The President, by participating in the decision on Adams' resignation and selecting Persons as his successor, did away—at least for the present—with what long had been a favorite theory of certain national political figures—that Eisenhower could not get along without Adams.

Administration insiders forecast little or no change in Eisenhower policy and practice as a result of the former New Hampshire governor's departure. In fact they saw a strong chance the President might concern himself more actively with administration problems formerly preempted by Adams to avoid overloading Eisenhower with unessential detail.

Such an expectation, however, seemed to avoid the fact that Eisenhower will be 68 years old next month. In his remaining two years in office there might be an increase in the frequency and duration of periods away from his desk encouraged by his doctor, family and staff.

Eisenhower, with his global military background, has concentrated much official effort in the past on foreign and defense policies. His friends said however that recently he has been probing more deeply into other areas such as education and the domestic economy.

One of Eisenhower's personal friends recently told United Press International he was somewhat surprised to hear that while the President was vacationing in Newport, R.I., he was keeping much closer tabs on the political battle for control of Congress than shown by reports of his recently-announced activities.

This fitted in with the plan of the President to take a major personal part in the Republican campaign this fall, swinging from coast to coast in support of GOP state tickets. Some Republicans though earlier this year that Eisenhower, in the sunset of his own officialdom, would undertake no more than a fairly routine role in the off-year campaign.

Thus a picture of Eisenhower-without-Adams began to take shape — a shape that may not be distinct for some months to come!

The President, as always, will be influenced heavily by persons closest to him. The weight of such advice applies particularly in technical fields like science and finance where his knowledge is less expert. His friends report the President's interest in his own historical record is increasing: his overriding hope to avoid war; his intense desire for a stable economy to prove that relatively unfettered private enterprise is better for the country than extensive federal intervention.

Administration figures in a position to forecast think life in the White House before and after Adams will differ in degree, not direction.

Because Persons does not have the political experience Adams brought to the White House, the change in "chief of staff" might result in more direct influence on Eisenhower's political decisions by such people as Vice President Richard M. Nixon, GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty and Thomas E. Stephens, Eisenhower's appointment secretary who, with Hagerty, is one of the few veteran political technicians in the White House inner circle.

Pigs of Today Eat Much Better Meals

Three pigs from the same litter were fed rations commonly used in 1910, 1930 and 1958 as part of an experiment at the department of animal husbandry at Cornell.

The 1910 menu added 25 pounds to one pig during the 67-day test. The pig fed the 1930 ration gained 44 pounds, but the pig with the modern menu put on 105 pounds.

221 Tons for Each Foot

NEW YORK — The average person in good health weighs about 140 pounds and walks about three miles a day. Figuring the average step at 30 inches, this gives a total of 6,336 steps a day. Multiplying average body weight by 6,336 steps results in the total of 887,000 pounds, or 443,520 pounds per foot, the burden the average foot carries per day—more than 221 tons.

Collectors' Stamps Net

WASHINGTON — The United States Post Office's Philatelic Agency sells about $3,000,000 worth of stamps a year to collectors. Local Post Offices also sell a huge number of stamps to philatelists. Since the stamps aren't used for mailing letters, the Post Office Department nets a nice profit from their sale.

Farmer Catches Deer in Yard With a Lariat

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — It may never catch on as a deer-hunting tactic but John Scott, poultry farmer near Lincoln, captured a full grown mule deer with a lariat.

After lassoing the animal which had wandered onto his farm, Scott and a companion threw the deer to the ground and tied it up in the manner of a calf ready for branding. In short order, the deer became the newest addition to a Lincoln zoo.

Whaling Outlook Dim

STAVANGER, Norway—Because of the uncertain outlook for whale oil, all Norwegian whaling companies have notified officers and crewmen that their contracts have been terminated. The cancellations cover about 5,000 men. More than half of last season's whale oil remains unsold and the market outlook is dim. It is uncertain whether any expedition will be launched next season.

China Reds Execute Alleged Spies Quickly

TOKYO (UPI) — Eleven alleged Nationalist Chinese agents have been executed in Kwangtung province, Peiping radio said yesterday.

It said the Supreme People's Court of Kwangtung passed sentence on the men Friday and that the executions were "carried out" at once.

Florida Auto Smashup Leaves 5 Persons Dead

BONITA SPRINGS, Fla. (UPI)— Five persons were killed yesterday in an auto collision south of here.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Chiritree, both about 68, of Fort Myers Beach, Fla.; James Kinard, 30, of Fort Myers; Deborah Ann Hobbs, 11 months, of Chshire, Conn.; and her seven-year-old brother.

The children's mother, Mrs. Margaret Hobbs, was in critical condition with leg and hip fractures and back injuries.

Homes Tumble in Texas Flood

Rio Grande Sweeping Through Presidio Valley Isolating Thousands

PRESIDIO, Tex. (AP)—The Rio Grande, a swollen monster three to four miles wide, crumbled homes as it swept through the Presidio Valley of southwest Texas and isolated thousands at border cities today.

New walls of water were expected from continued deluges along the Rio Conchos in northern Mexico.

About 30 families were evacuated in Presidio and about 10 adobe houses on the U. S. side of the river crumbled from the water. Many more houses were reported crumbled on the Mexican side and one man was reported drowned there.

The river, normally four feet deep here, hit more than 17 feet Sunday, 1.19 feet higher than the record 1932 flood.

The water washed away about 1,000 feet of Santa Fe track, cutting rail connections to northern Mexico. Furniture and mattresses floated down the river from homes washed away on the Mexican side.

Despite continued rains, the river started to fall Sunday night and continued falling today.

More than 16,000 were isolated in the Ojinaga area on the Mexican side. Pemex, the Mexican government oil company, flew in milk and baby food. Food, fuel and gasoline were reported running low in the Mexican town.

Reports from Falomier, about 80 miles into Mexico on the Rio Conchos, said that river was the highest ever recorded and was still rising.

The U. S. customs and immigration offices here were flooded.

New rises here on Cibolo Creek and at Alamido Creek eight miles east of here could seriously endanger this town of 1,000.

Ralph English, a Presidio newsman, said more than 5,000 bales of cotton, the entire crop, was washed away. Many irrigation dikes and other equipment were damaged.

Gertrude Jennings, 81, Playwright, Succumbs

FITTLEWORTH, England (AP) — Gertrude Jennings, 81, who wrote comedies for some of Britain's greatest stage stars, died Sunday.

She began her career as an actress, appearing in the United States under the name of Gertrude Henriques. Her mother was the American actress Madeline Henriques. Her father, L. J. Jennings, was an editor on the New York Times and later a British member of Parliament.

Miss Jennings wrote her first play, "Between the Soup and the Savory," in 1910 and her last, "Bubble and Squeak," in 1945.

Relman Morin Writing for Hal Boyle:

Hope to Uncover Mystery of Akhen-Aton

By The Associated Press

Snaps from a traveler's album: I had a here-we-go-again feeling when they told me their plan—and also the old, unfailing excitement of the story.

"We have found many thousands of pieces of his temple," the archaeologist said. "We are going to put them together and try to reconstruct the temple. Perhaps it will tell us more about him."

He had built a temple to a god. After his death, the people tore it down. Their fury was such that they even smashed the stones to small bits.

These are the pieces the archaeologist mentioned. They were used as fill in later royal buildings. Now, he said, they are about try to reassemble them, a jigsaw puzzle of unimaginable dimensions.

Why undertake such a gigantic task?

Because the story of Akhen-Aton for years has puzzled, fascinated, and infuriated Egyptologists. They fight like tigers over the meaning of his works.

One called him "the first individual in human history," a very high compliment. But another says he is "the most overrated figure in all history."

Apart from that, his actions may—repeat may—hold the clue to the mystery of the origin of the Christian belief that there is only one God.

He lived eight centuries before the Hebrew prophets. At that time, everywhere in the ancient world, men worshipped a whole pantheon of gods. The idea of a single, all-embacing deity was completely foreign to their thinking.

Did Akhen-Aton invent the concept of monotheism? Did this concept pass, possibly through Israelite captives in Egypt, to the Hebrews? Is it possible that Moses learned this concept in Egypt and passed it on to them?

These are only a few of the questions that swirl around the name of Akhen-Aton, nearly 4,000 years after he lived.

Briefly, what he did was break away from the established religion of Egypt in which Ammon-Ra presided over a host of gods. He asserted that the "Aton," manifesting itself in the life-giving essence of the sun, was the only God. Thus, he changed his name to embrace the term, "Aton."

He left Thebes, the capital, and built a new capital at Amarna. His temples, in complete contrast to those of the old religion, were open to the sun and the sky.

His "Hymn to Aton" is startlingly similar to passages in the 104th Psalm. Place them side by side and you find not only the same thoughts expressed but frequently the identical phrases.

He also revolutionized Egyptian art forms, freeing the artists from the conventional ways in which they portrayed royalty. You can see graceful, informal pictures of the king, playing with his children, and with his arm around his wife—who, incidentally, was his sister, Nefertiti, of the long, swan-like neck.

After he died, the priesthood of Ammon quickly re-established the old religion. And, of course, their own high stations in society.

The temples were torn down. Chisels chipped the name, "Aton," off monuments wherever it appeared. Everything possible was done to obliterate forever the memory of the "great heretic" and his God.

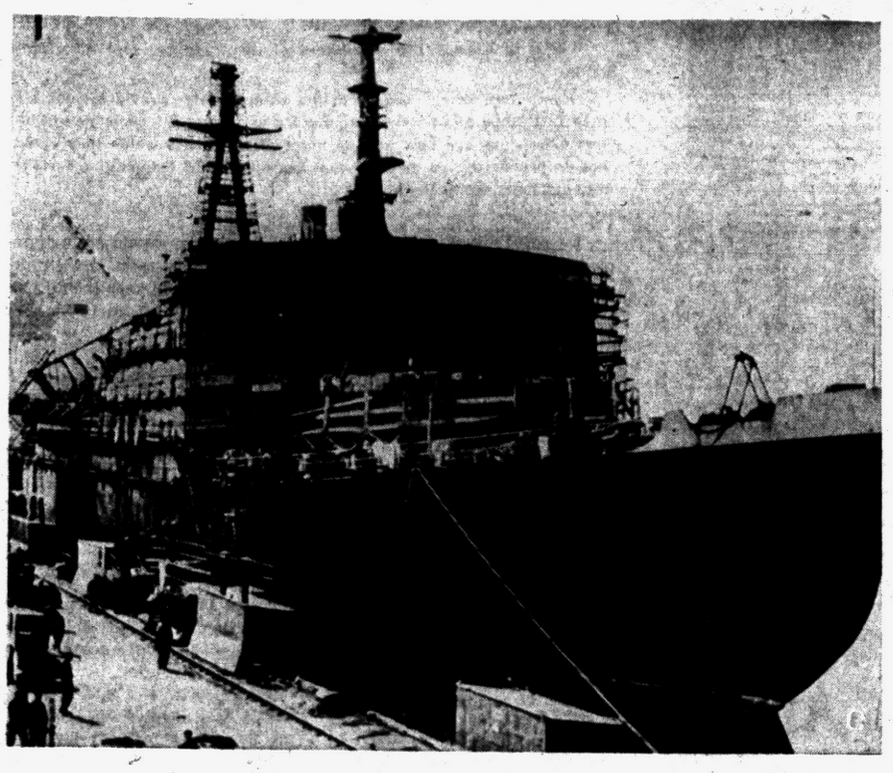

In recent years, scholars have tended to downgrade Akhen-Aton. Some claim he had political rather than religious motives for his acts. Some say the Egyptians worshiped an "Aton," among all the others, before he was born. Some say the concept of monotheism was not new and could not have been transmitted to the Israelites. Others disagree flatly.

And so on. Yet the story is eternally fascinating because of its implications for Christianity.

I was in the glorious ruins of Karnak in Egypt recently when the archaeologists told me about the jig-saw puzzle plan.

"Here we go again," I thought. "Here comes a new set of arguments."

RUSSIA'S ATOMIC ICEBREAKER — This is Russia's atomic-powered icebreaker, Lenin, which they say will be completed soon. The ship, being built in Leningrad, will be powered with atomic engines said to produce 44,000 horsepower. The Russians say the ship will be able to operate a year without refueling and will be able to break through ice six feet thick. The U. S. Navy icebreaker, powered by two 10,500 horsepower electric motors, will smash ice up to 20 feet thick.

Nasser Says UAR Ready to Fight Israel

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser has told an interviewer the United Arab Republic "will not hesitate to intervene" should Israel attack Jordan.

The statement was made to R. K. Karanjia, editor of the Blitz news magazine of India, in a recent interview released for publication by the United Arab Republic Information Department.

Asked whether he considered an Israeli attack imminent, Nasser was quoted as saying: "I expect an Israeli attack on the Arabs at any moment. The United States, Britain and France support Israel and these states might want the Israelis to march in and complete their intervention of July after the Iraqi revolution, when American forces landed and occupied Lebanon and British forces occupied Jordan after flying over Israel."

Truman Builds Influence on Choice of Dems' No. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Truman, 74, but still full of fight, apparently is building himself into a position to have some strong influence on the Democrats' choice of a presidential candidate in 1960.

With potential contenders for that prize generally tending their knitting at home, Truman is bouncing about the country whooping it up in old-time style for the party's candidates for governor, Senate and House seats.

If a number of these candidates win in the November balloting—and it now seems likely they will—Truman will come up with a reservoir of political good will upon which he can be expected to draw in 1960.

Trumar already has been active along the East and West coasts. The Democratic National Committee announced eight more Truman speech dates which will take him into Wyoming, Ohio, Iowa, North Dakota, Minnesota and Michigan during the first 12 days of October.

Former presidents ordinarily don't carry much weight when they try to influence the choice of subsequent heads of the ticket. Truman rediscovered that when he backed the losing bid of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York in 1956.

But the former President was never one to be discouraged by a setback. Truman has indicated he intends to be in there pitching for an individual candidate two years from now. If he has picked his man yet, he is keeping that to himself.

Thus far Truman has eclipsed all of the other Democratic campaigners.

Shots Ring Out in Beirut Again

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Shooting broke out in Beirut today for the second successive day.

The firing opened at dawn and consisted mainly of shooting in the air in an effort to intimidate shopkeepers.

In the mountains behind Beirut agitation against Karami, a former rebel leader, went on Sunday and again today. These areas are largely populated by Maronite Christians who have been strong supporters of former President Camille Chamoun.

The shooting and agitation are aimed at the next meeting of Parliament when the Karami government will ask for a vote of confidence. The meeting is scheduled for Tuesday but it might be postponed.

Phalangist leaders claim that more than half the 66 deputies have decided to vote against the Karami Cabinet.

Meanwhile, the last U.S. Marine battalion is loading up and will quit Lebanon in a few days, leaving about 7,500 Army personnel in the country.

MINNEAPOLIS — Electron mirror microscopy, a new technique, permits the photographing of the invisible magnetic patterns on magnetic recording tape. Is There Motive Behind Higgins' Hedge-Hopping

Feuding in politics is nothing new, but switching over to the other side after defeat is not taking your licking like a gentleman.

After a lifelong service to the Republican party, HIGGINS' current actions seem childish. Besides backing HUDSON'S campaign, it is rumored that he is throwing support into the campaign of Lt. Gov. PHILIP HART, Democrat running for the U.S. Senate.

In this day and age if you play both sides, there must be a reason. Could it be that Higgins is coaxing a Democratic appointment to the Civil Service Commission from the Governor?

Don't Turn to Drink for That Rosy Glow

That well known saying that a few drinks or cocktails will enable you to "look at the world through rose colored glasses" is just a lot of hooey. Medical authorities recently reported that the color is more likely to be gray.

So if you have any idea of getting things in a better light by histing a few, just remember things will look a little grayer and not as rosy as you had previously thought.

A study revealed that alcohol had the same effect on vision as that of setting a gray glass in front of the eyes, or driving with sun glasses in twilight or darkness. Stronger light is needed for distinguishing objects and dimly lighted objects may not be seen at all, Dr. ROLLO N. HARGER, Professor of Biochemistry and Toxicology at the Indiana University School of Medicine, reported in the journal of the American Medical Association.

Furthermore, after tipping a few you may not be able to hear what others are saying quite so well, since alcohol tends to cloud the ability to differentiate between tones.

Take your choice. It it's a quiet subdued time you want, then join the party.

Push the Positive— It Beats the Negative

In spite of some undesirable publicity that occasionally comes the way of any up and coming municipality, the balance always is on the favorable side of Pontiac.

Nobody but a pessimistic and invariable town knocker will allow his (or her) mind to become muddy and beclouded by anything that might cast a smear on our good name.

And this is particularly true (and it usually is) if that occurrence had its inception elsewhere, and was only an aftermath perpetrated here by the guilty party who sought to hide behind Pontiac's skirts because he knew they were clean and might serve to shift the blame from him.

In anything claimed to be undesirable that is of local origin, it always is a good plan to await the facts. It might be the brain child of a clique.

Just give some sober reflection to what we have that makes Pontiac such a desirable place in which to live and do business.

Think about our civic life, our means of livelihood, what nature did for us, our schools, churches, service and other clubs, financial institutions, shopping possibilities, public utilities, pavements, capital improvements that are paid for — and the heart of a recreational district that cannot be matched in the entire world by a city so contiguous to so many millions of population.

Let's do some bragging. We're too modest. Let's exploit Pontiac, especially when talking to outsiders face to face, or when writing or phoning them. We have plenty to brag about.

Push the positive; it beats the negative.

of Keego Harbor has one that tops 15 feet—higher than his house—and still growing.

"After reading The Pontiac Press story about stopping both ways for a school bus," phones of Waterford, "I noticed that the driver in your illustration failed to put out his stop sign."

Bertrand Hearnman

of Drayton. He says that over 50 years ago a popular soap (B. T. Babbit) flooded the country with them as premiums for wrappers. His sister, now deceased, whirled one for five hours.

Recently reading a newspaper of April 6, 1913,

Harold Marshall,

Personnel Director for the City of Pontiac, learned that "The New York Yankees will do well if they can edge their way out of the second division."

Voice of the People

Urges Union to Save Jobs With Reasonable Demands

Because of frequent strikes and demands for higher wages and greater fringe benefits, Pontiac factories are moving parts of their operations out of this city, throwing men here out of work and affecting business.

Other communities are happy to have Pontiac factories move to their cities and give work to their citizens. This is Pontiac's loss and their gains.

Automobile prices here have become so high that Americans are buying more and more foreign-make cars. Automobiles can be produced much cheaper in Europe than here.

Every foreign car bought in the United States provides work for men in Europe and makes that much less work for men in this country. Europeans are now able to mass produce cars which they could not do previously, so they are now becoming stiff competition for the automobile factories here.

I certainly would not like to see wage scales here reduced to European standards; but I think unions should be reasonable in their demands, if they want to continue to live in Pontiac and keep their jobs.

Protestant Regrets Church Segregation

Your editorial regarding integration in Southern Catholic schools was appreciated. Your query as to how this is done, however, is quite pointless. Catholics, at least their leaders, are interested in winning converts and showing respect and love to others to do so, including the Negro.

What is my pet gripe? That I am a Protestant of fundamental doctrine, and I am ashamed to say that though Catholic churches here in Pontiac welcome the Negro to attend their churches (and he does so), it is a rare Protestant church where he would feel welcome.

Is it possible to be a real Christian and be a segregationist? Will the Lord stand at the door of Heaven and separate the races as they enter? In the Bible, God says, "Why call ye me Lord and do not the things I say?"

Realist

Analyzes Batting to Find Problem

Analyzing the batting habits of the Tigers, gives one an idea why the team has made such a poor showing for years. In 519 innings, 519 times a Tiger batter has been out at the first pitch from an opposing pitcher, and this failure has accounted for 41 double plays and force plays, this for the 1958 season.

It is provoking to see a Tiger just fly out when a pitch comes from a pitcher the team has never seen before, most always from the first throw of the ball. And, too, all this futile bunting gives me the hebejebes.

Wants to Eliminate Phone Soliciting

I wonder if there's a law that prohibits the use of the telephone for soliciting. I'm sure other housewives have the same trouble I do.

Ten times to one you'll be in the basement, outside or in the pie dough when the phone rings. Someone wants to know if you've heard of a new product and they won't take no for an answer. You have to get rude.

Now I have sickness in my family and when the phone rings I have to answer, otherwise I'd sure let it ring. Something should be done about this — let's keep the telephone for personal use or business that we know about. Let them find another way of soliciting.

Doubtful Golfer Receives Replies

The Pontiac Golfer should have said he read with doubt the story of the girl's 140 yard hole in one. In 19 years of golf he should know a statement of this kind has to be witnessed. Also, he should know that anything can happen in golf. I've been playing 30 years and played the course very near the girl when she did it. I have an 11-year-old son who has been inches from the cup on this hole many times. It's 140 yards all down hill roll to the green. Thank the Sports Department.

Another Pontiac Golfer

Nineteen years of golf and can't hit a golf ball 140 yards with a nine iron? Better give it up as a bad deal or join the Y and build yourself up.

I've only played a little over a year and could hit one that far with a cane. Before you make your statement and put yourself on exhibition, you should have checked the ninth hole at the Clarkston Golf Course. I believe you have a handicap other than golf.

"Our Troubles Would Be Over If We Could Bomb the Mainland"

David Lawrence Says:

Surrendering Islands Not Answer

WASHINGTON — American public opinion has been unwittingly misled into believing that the United States is risking war just to defend two little islands off the coast of Red China.

LAWRENCE

The erroneous impression has been widely spread that, if America could only persuade our ally, the Nationalist government on Formosa, to surrender the islands of Quemoy and Matsu by negotiation with Red China, peace would come to the Far East.

1. Red China would welcome, but would not be content with the acquisition of Quemoy and Matsu and will never give up its demand for the surrender of Formosa itself.

2. Every one of a long series of broadcasts from Peiping has insisted that the Nationalist Chinese must get out of Formosa.

3. At no time, either in the informal negotiations at Geneva or at Warsaw, has Red China's ambassador hinted that the plan to capture Formosa would be abandoned. On the contrary, the demand has been and is that all Nationalist and American forces get out of Formosa and that it be evacuated in favor of the Red Chinese. Khrushchev's latest letter supported this demand.

4. Both the Nationalist government of China and the American government will concede that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu have no strategic military value in and of themselves. If an invasion of the mainland were undertaken, certainly it would not be by way of Quemoy or Matsu.

5. The United States never advised the Nationalists to send any large portion of their army to Quemoy and Matsu, but the free Chinese have felt and still feel that the two islands are a symbol to their own people of the determination of the Nationalist government to some day regain control of the mainland. It's morale rather than a military factor. The collapse of a nation's spirit and morale can, of course, disintegrate any army overnight.

6. The two islands mean as much to the free Chinese today as Berlin means to the West Germans. Indeed, Berlin is still an "island" surrounded by Soviet military forces. To mention giving it up is to strike a blow at the morale of the free government of West Germany.

On this point, one official in the State Department said today to this writer:

"Since Alaska now is a state in our Union, supposing the Russians should demand that we give up our small island of Diomede, which is only 2½ miles away from a Soviet island in the Bering Straits. Would the people of the United States sanction the giving up of territory flying the American flag, just to satisfy a Communist demand? Well, that's the way the Nationalist Chinese feel about it, and I may add that they are just as devoted to their country as the people of Hungary or any other nation that has been the victim of Communist action."

But supposing the United States were able to prevail upon the Nationalists to agree to give up Matsu and Quemoy on the condition that the Communists would agree to a cease-fire in the Far East?

This is often suggested, but it is explained by officials here that this is an unrealistic question because the Communists do not have the slightest intention of agreeing to a cease-fire. For it would prevent them from capturing Formosa.

From their viewpoint, they cannot recede either—it would be a blow to their own morale, too.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Transurethral Resection Solves Oldster's Problem

"Dear Doctor Brady: Your article 'Don't Be a Social Menace' interested me greatly, for I personally had the problem in my lap, literally and figuratively, four years ago.

DR BRADY

"Enlarged prostate. Unable to urinate. Dribbling. Up half a dozen times every night.

"My trusted family doctor recommended a local urologist, who suggested transurethral resection or removal of the prostate gland through the urethral canal. This the urologist did the following week, with highly satisfactory results.

"Can truthfully say I suffered no pain at any time, no bad after-effects. I am most grateful to modern medicine for this easier, safer way out of a predicament.

"The only criticism I can think of is the absence of any wound or scar I can brag about or show to the interested populace!

"I reached 70 last January. Whoops for modern medicine, I always say. Most sincerely, ——"

Hypertrophy (enlargement) of the prostate gland occurs in most men 50 to 60 years of age. I don't know why.

The prostate gland lies upon the neck of the bladder, one lobe on either side, the lobes connected by an isthmus or median bar that saddles the urethral canal close to the bladder outlet.

Great enlargement of the prostate lobes may cause little or no trouble—from obstruction of the urinary outlet. But enlargement of the isthmus or median bar causes plenty of trouble.

Removal of the obstructing portion of the isthmus through the cystoscope—tube passed through the urethral canal—has given complete and permanent relief in thousands of cases, although many good urologists still maintain that the more radical perineal or suprapubic operation is the method of choice.

If I ever needed treatment for prostatic hypertrophy I'd have transurethral resection.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Is there a test which proves that a man is the father of a baby?" (Mrs. R.C.H.)

Ans.: A blood test will prove that a given man is NOT the father of the baby, but no test will prove that a given man is the father of the baby.

"I have had high blood pressure for years. When I am run down I drink milk and it helps me pick up again. But my neighbor says it will make my blood pressure higher. She wants me to use soya milk instead." (Mrs. H.M.)

Ans.: No food is better for one with high blood pressure than milk. You should drink milk every day, not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) of it daily, and not just when you are "run down." Never mind your blood pressure. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and 35c for booklet CVD about heart and artery troubles.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

"Too bad our parents can't always be as proud of us as they were at our christening."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Early Influence Affects Job Choice

John's case should be discussed in every high school. For it reveals several challenging ideas about Vocational Guidance. You parents, too, might get a dentist or lawyer or physician to help "condition" your grade school kids to such careers, a la the method used on John.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-331: John W., aged 13, was in the 7th grade.

His uncle had a toothache, so he took John with him to the dentist's office in Clinton, Indiana.

The latter saw that John was an alert kid, so he went out of his way to show him how to mix plaster and make some molds.

DR. CRANE

John soon developed a fondness for dentistry, and even at that early age, he resolved to go to dental college.

But he had no money, so as a high school freshman he started delivering Special Delivery letters, for schoolboys were paid to do it in those days (1921).

He had to be on the job at 5 a.m. to get the letters when the mail train arrived. In the afternoons he ran errands.

And on Saturday he worked in a shoe store selling shoes. But when he finished high school, he felt he lacked enough money to go to dental college.

So he enrolled at Terre Haute in State Teachers College. But he took courses in chemistry and physics so he'd be qualified to get into dental school.

Even during college, however, he worked in a drug store where he could help use his chemistry. Meanwhile, he played tennis for the school and kept a keen interest in sports.

WHEN MEN WERE MEN!

After two years at State Teachers College, he got a job as a chemist at the Gary Steel Mills.

He spent two summers and the winter season at the mills, working every shift he could obtain, for he wanted to pile up money for college.

After a long day at the office, he'd work far into the night to referee basketball games, for he got paid for such officiating.

With $2,100 of savings, he now headed for Indianapolis to enroll in dental college.

But as he got off the train, he saw a restaurant and applied for a job waiting tables.

"Have you ever waited tables?" the owner inquired.

"No, but I can do it," John confidently added, and he did.

He worked at the restaurant from 4:30 till 6 p.m. all through his dental schooling.

But he saw he would need additional income, so he also got a job at a nearby garage where he was on duty till 2 a.m. For this work he drew $15 per week, plus 75 cents for every car he could wash.

"And I certainly tried to sell everybody on having shiny cars," he grinned as he reminisced recently.

Despite his job in the restaurant and in the garage, he also sold shoes in an Indianapolis store on Saturdays, all throughout dental college.

When he graduated, he soon developed a thriving practice and was elected president of his dental association.

I have crisscrossed with him the past 20 years on the lecture platform, for we both address many dental conventions.

But I cite John's case to show that Vocational Guidance should start early. John picked his career while in the seventh grade, all because of the tact and kindliness of a dentist.

But John also had great ambition to succeed and was willing to work double shifts to reach his goal.

And he was smart enough to plot his courses so he could capitalize on his chemistry in the drug store and steel mills.

Many modern teenagers have little motivation to become anything. Is it due to our refusal to let kids work?

Maybe our sentimental "welfaring" of children is backfiring and killing off the leadership America needs to stay ahead of Russia, eh?

Critics Blasting Far East Policy

Calling for Searching Inquiry Into U.S. Stance on Quemoy Islands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two congressional critics have renewed their call for a searching inquiry into the Eisenhower administration's Far East policy involving Quemoy.

Senators Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) linked their demands with criticism of Vice President Nixon and his weekend charges of sabotage within the State Department.

Both Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles sought to discount the significance of mail received by the State Department opposing current Far Eastern policies. Nixon called release of unevaluated reports on the mail "the patent and deliberate effort of a State Department subordinate to undercut the secretary of state and sabotage his policy." He did not name the subordinate.

State Department officials said in reply to queries that about 5,000 letters on the subject have been received, many of them expressing fear that war may break out. But they said published reports that 80 per cent of the letters were critical were exaggerated. They gave no alternate figure.

Dulles said he was not surprised at the volume of critical letters, and said mail "is not terribly significant" in determining U.S. policy. He declined comment on Nixon's statement.

Nixon said he is confident the American people will support the administration policy when they realize what is at stake. This, he said, is not the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu off the China mainland, nor the Nationalist headquarters island of Formosa, "but the whole free world position in the Far East."

Nixon said the expression of people's opinions, by mail or otherwise, can be constructive and helpful "but it can never be considered the decisive factor in determining the course of policy."

Little Karen, 5, Doomed to Die Within Year

CHICAGO (AP)—Five-year-old Karen Hildreth made her first—and perhaps final — communion Sunday. She is scheduled to undergo a second brain tumor operation today, but doctors have no hope it will save her life.

The operation will be for the removal of a piece of bone which doctors say blocks further X-ray treatments.

Mrs. Hildreth does not share the doctors' dim outlook. "We always have God," she said. "No matter what the doctors say it is all up to god."

With a veil covering her bandaged head, Karen knelt beside her mother, Mrs. Albert Hildreth, 26, of Urbana, Ill., at the altar rail of Holy Trinity Catholic Church to receive communion.

The nuns had a party for Karen and her mother in the rectory after the Mass. Karen's father stayed home to care for the couple's three other children.

Amusement Park Ride Ends in Death of Girl

The Los Angeles youngster was riding with her mother Mrs. Sydney Hurst, 25, and her brother Earl, 7, in one of several cars that rolled over into a fence.

Mrs. Hurst and eight other youngsters were hurt. The train operator, Peter Perkins, 19, escaped injury.

Blithe Spirit Lives Dangerously and Fully

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Joe E. Lewis is a guy who likes to drink. ("In high school, I was voted most likely to dissolve.")

Concurrently with drinking, he likes to gamble. ("Mostly I follow horses, and the horses I follow follow horses.")

In addition, he is one of the world's most adored entertainers, though he is modest about it. ("Someday I'll be a big name in show business—because I smoke in bed, ladies and gentlemen.")

Joe E. Lewis, then, is exactly the man to talk to about your friend's little boy who thinks he has outgrown hula hoops and has taken up making deliveries for a liquor store in order to do business with the bookies. He is quite successful in this operation, except that he drops much of his winnings shooting craps, and this worries his mother.

He says, "I would take a bromo but I can't stand the noise right now. What age is the kid?"

Under 15, you say. He looks thoughtful.

"Funny thing," he says. "Vice is right, but it's no good. If you wanta double your money, fold it in half and put it in your pocket."

You save your money, then? Joe cringes.

"Don't be vulgar, darling," he says.

About children gambling, he points out that he started in P.S. 65. "The summers in New York were so hot, it was such a relief to feel those cold dice."

He doesn't gamble with bookies any more, however, and doesn't approve of young kids doing it. "It's Kefauver changed me — showed me the way. Things were a little warm when he was around, and I gave up betting off the track. If Kefauver came in 20 years earlier, I'd been a millionaire today. Now I only bet at the windows. I went to the race track the other day and met with a costly accident—I got there safely."

"To sum up about children. Kids under 10 should not gamble. Unless they're absolutely not drinkin' and know what they're doing."

Lewis recently underwent an operation. "I felt this pain, and I remembered swallowing this shotglass the night before."

So he went, he reports in his act, to see "a Dr. Schenley—a highly suspected physician."

Dr. Schenley put him on the operating table for 5½ hours. "That's more sleep than I've had in 10 years." The recuperation was rough, but Joe has suffered more on an 8th race. "I always said when things look black send them to the laundry."

Anyway, he's recovered now and looks fit. Partly it may be because he's been playing golf: "I shoot in the low 70's. When it gets colder'n that, I quit right away."

Mainly though, it's a blithe spirit. Joe E. Lewis, who has lived dangerously and fully, has learned to cope with his vicissitudes. With keen insight and without hesitation, he solves each little problem as it arises.

"Like I've been reading about how dangerous smoking is," he sums up. "So naturally I gave up reading."

Smoking More With Change to Filter-Tips

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some apparently cancer-conscious smokers who switch from plain to filter-tip cigarettes tend to smoke more than they did before making the change, the Agriculture Department has found.

This is one reason why U.S. factories will produce an estimated record 457 billion cigarettes this year compared to 442 billion in 1957. Other factors in the mounting cigarette consumption is the increasing number of women smokers and the growing population.

Filter-tip cigarettes may account for half of all the cigarettes smoked this year, the department said in a report yesterday. This compared with less than 40 per cent a year ago and about five per cent five years ago.

The big switch to filter-tips began after a number of scientists linked smoking to lung cancer. The U.S. Public Health Service said in July there was a "growing weight of evidence that there is a high degree of statistical association between lung cancer and heavy prolonged smoking."

A House government operations subcommittee headed by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D-Minn) held hearings earlier this year on the validity of claims by manufacturers that filter tips strain harmful substances from cigarette smoke.

The subcommittee concluded that the public was being bilked by these claims. Industry scientists disagreed.

The department said the switch to filters was a definite factor in the cigarette production increase. It said "some persons smoke filter-tip cigarettes at a higher rate than they smoked non-filter tips." The report gave no reason for this.

The department said cigar, cigarillo and pipe smoking will top 1957 levels this year. For smoking tobacco used in pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes, this is the first upturn in nine years.

Government economists attributed the gain for pipe and roll-your-own tobacco partially to the recession. Some smokers in areas hit by recession and rising cigarette taxes probably started using more smoking tobacco. They said this trend probably will not continue because the outlook for consumer income is good.

Production of chewing tobacco will drop five per cent below 1957, the report added. This decline seems likely to continue as far ahead as anyone can see.

Snuff production, down another two million pounds this year to 35 million pounds, the lowest in 40 years, may have hit bottom. In certain industries, workers use snuff because smoking is too dangerous. If activity in these industries continues to increase, department officials explained, snuff consumption may hold up next year at the current level.

New Law Aimed at Syria

Nasser Fights Feudalism

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Nasser regime struck a hard blow at feudalism in Syria this weekend with a new law affecting nearly 3,000 big landowners.

Land in excess of 200 acres will be taken over by the state for redistribution to peasants. The old owners will be compensated over a 40-year period.

The minister of agriculture, Ahmed Haj Yunes, said 95 landowners in Syria hold 2,500 acres or more. But one estate in northern Syria is reported to consist of 750,000 acres.

As in Egypt, the landmeasure appears to be intended to eliminate the power of feudal lords. In the past, big landlords could count on peasants votes and economic power to give them a powerful political voice in the country.

The situation here differs from that in Egypt in many respects, however. Egypt is overpopulated and hungry for land while Syria is underpopulated.

Highest Court Judge Was Aide to NAACP

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—The New Bedford Standard-Times today reported that Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter advised the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People on matters of policy for about 10 years immediately before his appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The newspaper also said that "within months after his appointment, he wrote a court decision which reversed a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in a case termed by the 30th annual report of the NAACP as a 'U.S. Supreme Court victory.'"

The Standard-Times said in the article that "Justice Frankfurter also has participated in the court's most recent decisions on the school segregation issue, brought by the NAACP and argued by its paid attorneys."

The article was based on a letter from Justice Frankfurter in which he answers inquiries from Edward B. Simmons of the Standard-Times staff.

Grasshoppers moving through the wheat and corn belt west of the Mississippi in 1934-38 cost farmers more than 315 million dollars.

Mouse-Launching Proves Success for Five Boys

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Five St. Louis boys launched a mouse into the wild blue yonder Saturday and then recovered it—a feat tried unsuccessfully by the U.S. Air Force.

The pet white mouse was alive and healthy after a four-mile trip in a handkerchief gondola slung under seven helium-filled balloons.

The airborne mouse went out of sight of the launching pad before the youngsters could scramble to their bicycles and trail it. A householder in whose yard the mouse descended—after two of the balloons popped—notified a radio station.

A "missing mouse" bulletin was put on the air, and the boys promptly claimed it.

The pet mouse is the property of Ed Gruenenfelder, 12.

Ed's colleagues at the launching pad in a city park were Jack Julius, 12, Jim Poehling, 12, Terry Beckerman, 11, and Steve Schoenbeck, 11.

There now are 82 medical schools throughout the nation graduating physicians each year. Within the next five years the number will be raised to 88, according to the American Medical Association.

Hatteras Is Sanctuary

PEA ISLAND, N. C. (UPI) — More than 10,000 Greater Snow Geese spend each winter at the Pea Island National Wildlife Refuge, some 5,800 acres in the National Seashore Park on Hatteras Island. The Snow Geese arrive in early November and leave Jan. 5.

Norfolk Closes Public Schools

10,000 Children Start Indefinite Period of Idleness in Virginia

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Ten thousand Norfolk secondary school children began an indefinite period of idleness today as the state closed white public schools rather than acquiesce to federal court-ordered racial integration.

A formal order declaring Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr.'s seizure of six junior and senior high schools was delivered to city school officials in the port city Sunday.

The action does not affect the city's Negro high school and two junior high schools.

The number of children affected was by far the largest to be caught up in the struggle between state authority and the federal government on the boiling school issue.

The Norfolk School Board dispatched a request to the governor asking that he move to reopen the schools as soon as possible.

While the closings in Norfolk were certain to provide the first wholesale test of public sentiment toward the state's no-surrender school policies, a private segregationist group in the city was preparing to soften some of the impact.

The Tidewater Education Foundation claimed more than 2,000 of the affected pupils had signed up for private classroom instruction in advance of the actual school shutdown. The private educational system was expected to swing into operation early next month.

The Norfolk closings had been impending for several weeks. School openings had been postponed twice while the city waged a legal fight to stall the court integration directive, at least for one more year.

The defense attorneys made last-ditch pleadings on this score Saturday before the three-judge Federal Circuit Court at Baltimore.

Just a few hours after adjournment the Circuit Court handed down its unanimous decision denying the appeal for a stay. The Norfolk School Board went into session immediately and carried out its plan to assign 17 Negro children to the six schools. Almond's action closing the schools came on the heels of this move.

Urge U.S. Set Up Space Launchers Along Equator

DALLAS (AP)—Some scientists are urging that the United States establish facilities along the Equator soon for launching manned space craft.

Informal surveys of potential sites have been made. They include Christmas Island in the Pacific, the Marshall Islands, a British island east of Africa and the African mainland.

He said launching directly over the Equator would make possible establishment of an orbit that always would trace the same path through the sky. This would require a minimum number of communication stations.

Link Flu, Encephalitis

LONDON — An article in the British Medical Journal reports that encephalitis may occur as a complication in one in 10,000 cases of influenza. It says that during an Asian-flu outbreak in Dundee, Scotland, four patients developed encephalitis connected by virus and antibody studies to the Asian-flu virus.

North Carolina has produced three million pounds of pecans in a year.

May Have Left Fortune Behind

Vanishes After Failure to Market Device for Air Collision Prevention

Elmer C. Meukel disappeared from his home here June 22, broken and discouraged by long, unrewarded effort to market an electronic device for preventing airplane collisions.

Now an engineering firm that Meukel contacted before he left says the government is willing to put five million dollars into developing the device, with 3 per cent, or $150,000 going to Meukel.

Parts of the prototype he built have been found at the home of a friend. They have been turned over to police for safekeeping. But Meukel took other parts with him.

Dr. Fred Haglestein, vice president of Polaris Engineering Corp. of Los Angeles, said Defense Department officials have expressed keen interest in the invention.

"It will see anything approaching an aircraft from any quarter and will automatically divert the aircraft to avoid a collision," he said. "It is imperative that we find Meukel."

The story of Meukel's struggle against debt and discouragement was told by his wife Jean, mother of three children.

"Things just piled up on him and he couldn't stand seeing his family go without," she said. "He said he was going to San Francisco to look for work."

She has traced him from San Francisco to Spokane, Wash., to Reno, Nev., where the trail ends. A brother, Melvin Meukel of Spokane, said Elmer wrote him three weeks ago from Reno asking for money, which he sent in care of general delivery.

"I haven't heard from him since," he said.

Mile a Day for Health

STAMFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Postal officials in Stamford have proof that a brisk walk every day keeps a man healthy. Postman Edward O'Connor, 69, retired after having walked an estimated 120,000 miles over his route in almost 50 years. He left with a year and a half of unused sick leave to his credit.

MRS. JOSEPH H. S. MILLS

Married Saturday evening at Grace Lutheran Church were Joan Elizabeth Lauckner and Joseph H. S. Mills. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Curt C. Lauckner and Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Mills.

Pontiac Girl Is Bride

Joan Elizabeth Lauckner and Joseph H. S. Mills were married Saturday evening at Grace Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Curt C. Lauckner of South Telegraph road and Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Mills of Farmington.

IN LACE AND TAFFETA

Judith Lauckner was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Thariel Wicker was bridesmaid. They wore turquoise satin sheath dresses with long-sleeved lace coats and satin bow headpieces. The matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of yellow fugi chrysanthemums and the bridesmaid carried a cascading bouquet of bronze tipped chrysanthemums.

ATTENDS BRIDEGROOM

John Mills of Garden City was his brother's best man. Ushers were Kurt Lauckner, John Harrington of Midland and Roy McAnnally.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Chicago, the new Mrs. Mills was wearing a beige wool dress with dark brown accessories.

Mrs. Lauckner chose a rose lace dress with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Mills was dressed in a twi-piece ensemble of slate blue and wore a white tea rose corsage.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Michigan State University.

Miss Wohlgemuth Feted

Virginia Wohlgemuth, bride-elect of H. James Albright, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at the Eason road home of Mrs. Otto Liewart. Mrs. Emma Wohlgemuth was cohostess.

Miss Wohlgemuth announced the following as her attendants: Mrs. Dale Hannan, matron of honor; Norma Jane Balmer and Mary Beechum, bridesmaids, and Patty McBride, flower girl.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wohlgemuth of Voorheis road and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Albright of Avon street.

Barbara Hunley to Wed in October

Mrs. Deci Hunley of West Strathmore avenue announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Barbara Sue, to Larry Joe Pankey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Pankey of Pontiac Lake road. The bride-elect is also the daughter of John Hunley of Kankakee, Ill.

The couple will be married Oct. 25 at Grace Lutheran Church.

Parliamentary Club to Hold Luncheon

John Hirlinger of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce will be guest speaker when the annual fall luncheon of the Parliamentary Study Club is held at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday at Grace Lutheran Church.

Non-members interested in the club may attend by contacting Mrs. Russell French fall luncheon chairman.

MRS. JAMES HEATH COLE

Married Saturday evening in St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church, Detroit, were Sylvia Loretta de Steiger and James Heath Cole. Parents of the couple are the Raymond P. de Steigers of East Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Cole of Drummond Island and Clearwater, Fla.

Sylvia de Steiger Wed to James Heath Cole

The lace formed a fitted bodice, short sleeves and a rounded neckline. The floor-length gown ended in a cathedral train. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of Alencon lace which was accented with tiny seed pearls.

Two gardenias, stephanotis, myrtle and ivy adorned the prayerbook, and she carried a handkerchief made of the lace from her mother's wedding gown.

IN LUTHERAN RITE

The Rev. William O. Leitz and the Rev. E. C. Peterson performed the ceremony in St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church of Detroit. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. de Steiger of East Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Cole of Drummond Island and Clearwater, Fla.

Rose Marie de Steiger was her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Raymond R. de Steiger, a sister-in-law, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Alvin Gnesda Jr. of East Detroit, Mrs. Daniel J. Donahue of Detroit, and Mary Lou Wermouth, a cousin of the bridegroom, of Fenton.

The honor maids wore iridescent blue-green taffeta gowns with trapeze backs and harem skirts. Flat bows of matching material formed their headpieces and they carried cascade arrangements of chartreuse fuji chrysanthemums and ivy.

The bridesmaids wore gowns in identical styles of jade green. Their bouquets were comprised of chartreuse fuji chrysanthemums, bronze pompon chrysanthemums and ivy. Their bow headbands matched their gowns.

Diane Rein of Grand Rapids and Lauren Kay Schulz were their cousin's junior bridesmaids. Their jade green gowns were identical to those worn by the bridesmaids and they carried miniature bouquets of chrysanthemums and ivy.

Willard Hart of Cedar Island was best man, and Raymond R. de Steiger of St. Clair Shores, the bride's brother, was groomsman. Ushers were Ward Veen of Cedar Island, Hugh McPhail of Birmingham, B. J. Ellerthorpe, Richard de Steiger of Roseville and Richard Smith of Detroit.

RECEPTION FOR 400

A reception for 400 was held at the Hillcrest Country Club in Mt. Clemens, following which the new Mrs. Cole changed to a sapphire jersey dress with all-one-color matching accessories. She wore the gardenias from her bridal bouquet.

The couple left for a motor trip to Florida and will fly to the Bahamas. Upon returning they will reside in Milford.

The bride was graduated from Michigan State University and the bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology where he was affiliated with Theta Tau fraternity.

Pair Wed in Local Church

First Presbyterian Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Martha Jane Varney and James Robert Chalmers. Dr. William H. Marbach officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Varney of Nelson street and Mrs. Alice Chalmers of Battle Creek.

IN PRINCESS GOWN

The bride wore a princess style gown of peau de soie with a chapel train. The Sabrina neckline of scalloped silk lace was outlined with iridescent seed pearls.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a crown of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and moth orchids. Her only jewelry was a miniature rhinestone necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Joseph Edwards was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Sharon Hubbell, Beth Tenny and Donna Hinkley of Muskegon. All wore princess style frosted apricot dresses of peau de soie and matching headpieces of silk net and velvet.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Best man was James Hoffman of Battle Creek, with ushers Raymond Burdge of Battle Creek, Douglass Mohney of Grand Rapids and Larry Stout of Bloomingdale.

A reception was held in the church parlors.

When the couple left for the honeymoon, the new Mrs. Chalmers was wearing a gray wool costume suit with matching accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Varney selected a beige lace dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Chalmers wore a navy silk dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Western Michigan University.

MRS. JAMES R. CHALMERS

Martha Jane Varney and James Robert Chalmers were married Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Varney and Mrs. Alice Chalmers.

Hite-Cardwell Nuptials Said in Episcopal Rite

Wearing a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, Judith Cardwell became the bride of Donald Hite in a ceremony Saturday at St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham. The Rev. Lloyd Hackwell officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Cardwell of Grosse Ile. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Hite of Birmingham.

ATTEND BRIDE

Maid of honor was Gwen Drake from Grosse Ile. Jo Anne LaMastus of Detroit, Paula Gould of Evanston, Ill., Molly Du Ross of Cleveland, Ohio, and Gloria Hite of Birmingham were bridesmaids

The attendants' gowns were of forest green velveteen, fashioned with bateau necklines, short sleeves and flared bouffant skirts. Satin bow-knots accented the bodices of the gowns. They wore matching veils, and their flowers were small cascade bouquets of variegated brown chrysanthemums.

Best man was Richard Schmidt of Birmingham. Ushers were John Summerlee of Detroit, Richard Sommers of Saginaw, Kenneth Bargne of Detroit, and Timothy Cardwell of Grosse Ile.

RECEPTION AT CLUB

Mrs. Cardwell was gowned in a cinnamon colored lace sheath with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. She carried two green orchids.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Hillsdale College and is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. The bride also attended Hillsdale where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The couple will reside in Birmingham.

Save Worries Till He Sings Duet

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: The place where my husband works put a notice up on the bulletin board for employes to join a choral group. My husband signed up and he's the only man with 14 women, but it didn't seem to bother him one bit. Our phone rings constantly with the choral members wanting to know about sheet music, rehearsals and singing dates.

ABBY

"They all fuss over him and fight to pick him up for rehearsals. He's acting like a high school kid and he is 46. I say a married man has no business singing with 14 women and he should resign out of this group. What do you say?"

READY TO SCREAM

DEAR READY: Let him have a good time and don't worry. There's safety in numbers. You're lucky he isn't singing in a duet.

"DEAR ABBY: We will leave it up to you. Should a mother or a father tell a 14-year-old boy the facts of life? My husband is a quiet man who finds it hard to put those kind of thoughts into words, and he says I should tell him. I say it is the father's place to tell his son. What is your opinion?"

THE MOTHER

DEAR MOM: The boy should be told by his father, but he'd better hurry. Telling a 14-year-old boy "the facts of life" is like giving a fish a bath.

"DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old daughter took a job in a drug store for the summer. She earned about $40 a week and I felt since she worked hard for it, it was her own money and she could do anything she wanted with it? She spent it on entertaining her friends, scads of records and magazines, and so forth. Not one dime was saved.

"Her father said I should have MADE her save part of it. I say she earned the money herself and if she wanted to throw it out the window we had no right to stop her. Who was right?" MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Parents have an obligation to teach their children sensible and practical economy habits. Many children (and some adults) are capable of earning money, but must be taught how to handle it. Papa was right!

"DEAR ABBY: I am 22 years old and married to a man who is 31. My husband doesn't know what it is to find a button off his shirt or a hole in his sock. We have a baby a year old (been married two years) and my house is spotless. I do my own cooking and bake fresh bread every day.

"I was a model before I married and am still 38-24-36. My husband doesn't come home nights or weekends. He gets perfumed letters delivered to the house about once a week. Should I examine his mail?" IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: Examine his HEAD!

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my husband and I were invited to a friend's house to play bridge. Before I left I told my daughter that if a 'Mrs. A.' called to tell her to call me at this friend's house, and I left the number with her.

"I was expecting a call from 'Mrs. A.' and thought she might call while I was out. My husband thinks it was not right for me to do this. I would like to know if it is wrong to receive calls at another's house?"

Answer: If it was an important call and you could not have reached "Mrs. A." later it was quite all right to leave your hostess' telephone number, but under ordinary circumstances you would not do this.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What are the duties of the bridegroom's parents before the wedding? They live in the same city as the bride's family but they are not personal friends."

Answer: There are no special duties beyond the visit you are expected to pay to the girl's family when the engagement is announced, and to buy the bride as nice a wedding present as you can afford. It is always very friendly on the part of the man's relatives who don't know the girl to invite her (and if possible her family) to a gathering some time before the wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man and woman are leaving their seats in a theater, does it seem rude if the man goes out of the row ahead of the woman if he happens to be sitting nearer the aisle, or is he supposed to stand and let her pass in front of him so that she may go out first?"

Answer: They go out in the order in which they are seated. When he gets to the aisle he stands aside and lets her go first, but if there is room they walk out together.

Perfume Choice an Individual One

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In our grandmother's day we always could tell whether she or Aunt Mary had just left the room because of the fragrance which lingered. Perfumes were highly individualistic.

Today most women have perfume wardrobes which include a couple or more scents to be used on different occasions. It is about as inappropriate to wear a heavy, sultry perfume in the office as it is to wear an evening gown to work. Daytime perfume should be spicy and light. You should save the more provocative odors for evening or for very special occasions.

Of course a woman should also consider her personality when selecting perfume. Some women do not enjoy wearing a heavy fragrance at any time any more than they would be caught dead with a balloon hairdo. You should be happy with your fragrance.

Many women make the mistake of buying perfume without first trying it on their skin. Alcoholic gases form in the neck of the bottle. Therefore, when you smell from the bottle you miss the true overtones and undertones of a well-blended scent.

There is another reason for trying perfume on your skin. The chemistry of the skin affects the odor and the body chemistry of each person is different. Therefore, the same perfume will smell differently on different people. Try out any perfume you buy on your wrist before making a final choice.

One more warning—it is fatal to dash into a store to select perfume when you are in a hurry or in a hectic mood. You are buying these to enhance your pleasure and attractiveness and should give time and thought to their selection just as you would when choosing a costume or a hat.

Today perfumes are not such a great luxury as they once were. There are many lovely fragrances on the market which are within the reach of the average pocketbook. Take advantage of this very feminine beauty aid!

Tomorrow: "The Tables Have Turned—Men Now Look Older."

Mrs. Donald DeVoe of Center street opened her home to the Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Wednesday.

Zeta Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will be cosponsors with Alpha Omega Chapter in the annual "Sno-Ball" dance. Chairmen chosen from the Alpha Omega Chapter include Mrs. Michael Gollogly, hall arrangements; Mrs. Milton Ott, decorations; Mrs. Ralph Marriott, publicity; Mrs. George Pudduck, patrons.

Plans were made to attend the state convention of the sorority to be held in Traverse City Oct. 19 and 20.

The group's next gathering on Oct. 8, will be a Model Meeting with new members invited, held at the home of Mrs. Ott.

Consider Individual Not Whole Group

By RUTH MILLETT

"I'm sick and tired," writes a working wife, "of having the 'average' working wife compared with the 'average' stay-at-home housewife.

"I know there are working wives who neglect their children, because the aren't good managers and planners.

"But looking around my neighborhood I can also see wives who don't earn a nickel neglecting their families for sorority meetings, club meetings, morning coffee klatches, afternoon bridge sessions and so on.

"Is a child more neglected because his mama is earning a pay check than because she is out playing bridge?

"On the other hand I know plenty of working wives like myself who have the energy and the family cooperation and the know-how to combine a career with running a home. It can be done and a lot of women are doing it, thereby helping to pay for homes and send kids to college.

"I'll gladly admit, of course, that many full-time homemakers do an excellent job, too. But there just isn't any 'average' career housewife or stay-at-home housewife. There are only individuals.

"Some can be of most use by being full-time homemakers. Others can serve their families best by combining a job and homemaking. And some are going to be poor homemakers and mothers whether they escape from their duties by taking on a job or by filling their days with outside activities for which they are paid nothing.

"So let's quit making comparisons. Let's just have a kind word for the woman whose home is happy and whose children are well cared for whether she works or doesn't work outside the home."

Nancy Lou Jackson Wed

White gladioli, snapdragons, pompons and palms banked the altar of First Methodist Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Nancy Lou Jackson and R. Kenneth Davidson. The Rev. Paul Hart officiated at the ceremony before 250 guests.

The bride wore a princess style gown of antique taffeta appliqued with Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held by a cap of Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her chapel bouquet was of white butterfly roses, feathered carnations and stephanotis.

ATTEND BRIDE

Luana Mehlberg was maid of honor with junior bridesmaids, Katherine Jackson, the bride's sister, and Lora Lynn Sparks, and Kathleen Rouse as bridesmaid. All attendants wore leaf green taffeta dresses.

Crowns of matching velvet and sequins held their circular veils and they carried crescent bouquets of mahogany pompons, wheat and wood roses.

Following a reception held in the church parlors, the bride changed to a brown figured imported silk sheath dress with brown accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet for a honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Your Haircut

by Rowena Wilson

Find a hairdo that is most flattering and easy to manage. Remember not to let hair length and weight, thickness of the new growth, spoil the style. A chic coif requires good basic cutting and shaping. To avoid the look of being long overdue at the hairdresser, have your hair cut in a pretty shape and maintain the cut with regular beauty appointments. Haircutting is not a do-it-yourself job and requires a professional touch.

Your little girl can have an attractive hairdo. We suggest the advantage of a permanent for foundation. Children under 12 years of age can receive a good wave here for just $5.00. Ingrid Bergman Breaks Silence, Tells Her Life Story

(Eight years after she shocked the world by leaving her husband, daughter, home and Hollywood career for Roberto Rossellini, Ingrid Bergman again is at a crossroads of her turbulent life. Her marriage with Italian film director Rossellini is at an end and she waits only for legal clearance to wed a new lov, millionaire Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt. It was while she was in Wales with Schmidt and her three children by Rossellini that British newsman Ralph Cooper visited Miss Bergman and induced her to break her long silence and speak frankly of her life. This is the first of five dispatches in which Miss Bergman tells her own story.)

By RALPH COOPER
Written for UPI

It was on a Welsh hillside that I met Ingrid Bergman and for two weeks stayed with her and talked with her of life, and love . . . and man's inhumanity to woman.

After all she has been through, and all she has had to suffer I found Ingrid could almost shrug away the last eight years by saying:

"I'm a very lucky person. I have had so much given to me in my life—so much that is good—that I cannot complain.

"I would like to have my private life to myself, but there does not seem to be much I can do about that . . . so," another shrug . . . "I don't complain.

"I am not bitter about all the stone throwing and mud slinging . . . in some respects it was to be expected because so many who knew me only on the screen thought I was perfect and infallible and then were angry and disappointed when I wasn't."

"People were of course shocked when you had a baby by Roberto Rossellini before you were married," I said.

"Let's not be hypocritical about this," said Ingrid. "It's not the first time this particular mistake has been made, and I don't expect it will be the last.

"I believe people should be judged by the way they act after they've made the mistake . . . that's what's important.

"Perhaps time and tears change everything.

"My children mean everything to me. But sometimes a woman can be faced with a terrible decision—I was, when I had to decide whether to give up Roberto, with whom I was in love, or give up the love I wanted and needed for my daughter's sake.

'A SELFISH DECISION'

"I know the decision I made (to leave her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom) was a selfish one. I was sick at heart having to hurt my daughter Pia to find happiness for myself. No decisian I have ever made in my life ever gave me so much heartache.

"What you turn out to be in life depends a lot on your environment, how you were brought up. There has to be a certain amount of luck about that . . . but, perhaps not . . . perhaps you are what you make yourself. That is something you can sit up all night arguing about.

"But if you are lucky, as I have been—and in spite of everything I still think I have been lucky—you can learn from life as you go along.

"I learned early that you can't take from life all the time without giving . . .

"Some people, even when they have suffered, do not learn. Instead the vengeance takes them and that to me is a terrible, frightening thing.

"There are very few things in this life, I have come to the conclusion, that are worth getting steamed up or angry about.

"I don't like to get angry . . . and I can't get mad and throw things . . . because I think people look so funny when they are angry. It all seems so childish and not the way grownups should behave.

She told how she felt the day a granite-faced VIP from Hollywood went to see her in Rome shortly after her son Roberto had been born . . . before her divorce from Dr. Peter Lindstrom had been finalized, and while Italian cameramen were clambering 'round the balconies of the nursing home trying to get pictures of her in bed within hours of her son being born.

This visitor from Hollywood told her that she could come back to Hollywood if she wanted to . . . but only on certain conditions. And he was there to present the terms:

"Give up this passing infatuation," demanded the movie mogul, "never see Rossellini again; send your son to a home—he need never know who his father is."

And, added the man: "Return to America, apologize to your husband and to the people of America over the radio for your behavior."

Ingrid's answer was brief and to the point. She told the man: "Get out!"

"It is fortunate I was born with a sense of humor," says Ingrid, "I have been very grateful for it—many times. If you can find something to laugh about when things are looking their blackest . . . then you can usually find it in your heart to forgive."

(Tomorrow: Ingrid Bergman says she believes "the capacity to love . . . is the most important thing in the world.")

Toasted Almonds Add Texture to Chicken Dish

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Stewing chickens are on the bargain counter these days. Pick out a nice fat hen, stew it gently and use the juicy meat to make Mrs. William Johnston's Chicken Indienne. If you have two cups of chicken left over from Sunday dinner, it will do just as well.

Mrs. Johnston, a resident of Clarkston, has two older children. Membership in a bridge club and a bowling team keeps her leisure hours happily filled.

CHICKEN INDIENNE
By Mrs. William Johnston

⅓ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or shortening
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon curry powder (optional)
1 can undiluted onion soup
½ cup water
2 cups diced cooked chicken
4-ounce can sliced mushrooms
¼ cup chopped toasted almonds

Saute green pepper in butter or shortening. Blend in flour and curry powder if used. Add soup and water. Cook until thick, stirring constantly.

Add chicken, mushrooms and almonds. Simmer 10 minutes. Serve on rice. Garnish with additional almonds. Serves 6-8.

MISLEADING ADVERTISING — "For Sale" and "Sold" signs greeted surprised pupils on opening day at the high school in Mayfield, a suburb of Cleveland, Ohio. But their hopes were quickly dimmed by the principal, who shooed them inside for their classes. Ambitious pranksters had "borrowed" the signs from houses in the neighborhood.

Walls Bulge More Than Ever

1 of 4 Persons in U. S. Enrolls in School

WASHINGTON — American schools this semester bulge with more students than they have ever had before.

With education in a scientific and sociological spotlight, school and college enrollments are setting a record for the 14th consecutive year.

One of every four persons in the United States will be in school this year. The United States Office of Education estimates school and college enrollment will total 44,945,000 — some 1,750,000 more than last year.

STRESS BASIC SCIENCE

Although no statistics are available to show increased interest in science and mathematics in this first full school year after the rise of Russian sputniks and American satellites, schools across the country have been taking a hard look at their science curricula. The National Education Association reports many inquiries about possible improvements. More and more science teachers are emphasizing basic concepts and dropping such studies as "The Chemistry of Cosmetics."

Again this year, American schools will be crowded and short of teachers. Some 132,200 qualified teachers are needed beyond the 1,334,800 now employed. The shortage will be made up in part, the Office of Education believes, by former teachers returning to the profession and by further crowding of pupils.

The figures make no allowance for teachers needed to reduce present overcrowding, or to enrich the curriculum.

As classrooms are too few, students in many locations are forced into two-shift schooling. The NEA estimates that 132,800 needed classrooms will be missing this semester—despite the building of 70,500 since last year.

FEDERAL AID OFFERED

Students of 1958-59 will benefit from the $40,000,000 Federal aid to education bill recently signed by President Eisenhower. It makes available $6,000,000 for loans to students this year. A student can borrow up to $1,000 each year, with interest not charged until a year after his graduation.

Matching grants of $19,000,000 are also available to the states for purchase of equipment for teaching science, mathematics and foreign languages.

The law is designed to encourage students to enter a teaching career. It provides fellowships to enable teachers to improve their skills; matching grants to states to promote testing, counseling and guidance; centers to teach little-known foreign languages; funds for experiments in the possibilities of classroom television, radio and other audio-visual aids; and vocational training in skills necessary to defense.

In addition to the efforts of the federal government and the schools themselves, foundations and private groups are working to improve the education system. An example is the National Geographic Society, which is issuing its weekly Geographic School Bulletins for the 37th year. Devoted to explaining in clear, concise, well-illustrated articles the rapid changes in world geography, science and social studies, the bulletins are distributed weekly to teachers and students throughout the country.

Pentagon Is in Virginia

Actually the Pentagon Building is in Virginia, but for legal purposes it is not. Virginia courts do not have jurisdiction over such federal properties.

Bob Considine Says:

U. S. Drifts Nearer Recognizing Red China

NEW YORK — Slowly, terribly, we are drifting toward recognition of Red China. A blind man can see the irrefutable signs: The lukewarm attitude in U.N. toward our policy of non-recognition, the mounting antagonism toward Chiang Kai-shek, the growing irritation over our involvement in Quemoy, the alacrity with which we sat down with Wang Ping-nan.

If Mao Tse-tung plays it smart and lets this thing simmer down for a time, Mr. Dulles may well invoke the tail end of a clause in our Far East policy which says, in effect, "no recognition now, but perhaps later if those fellows play the game."

It is to stay that day that Edward Hunter, former INS man and one of the most informed writers on the topic, has feverishly written "The Black Book on Red China." Hunter turned it out in seven solid weeks of work in a bedroom in the McAlpin Hotel, after months of research among church groups, refugees and "old China hands" who maintain contacts on the mainland.

The first 10,000 copies are to be sold for the benefit of The Committee of One Million—a needy organization against recognition of Red China whose officials include former U.N. ambassador Warren R. Austin, senators Paul Douglas and H. Alexander Smith, representatives Walter H. Judd and Francis E. Walter, Charles Edison and former ambassador to Japan Joseph C. Grew.

Moscow Radio has bitterly denounced the book, the finest endorsement it could receive, but many of the shocking revelations which the Reds have cried out against are actual excerpts from Red China's official records. The grisly Kang Sheng Plan to reduce China's population by 20,000,000 to 50,000,000 in purge or battle is dealt with with appealing realism. So is the smashing of China's ancient family system, and the shocking reorganization of China's religions.

Communist "priests," "ministers," "nuns" and other religious are now being ordained by bogus or brainwashed bishops and sent into the churches and schools to teach and preach that Godless creed.

"There'll be the usual obstacles in getting the book reviewed, put into bookshops, referred to," Hunter writes moodily, having had his fill of some of our more esteemed critics and bookstores. "What worries me most is that we are in a trap, answering old Red questions, on the defensive, and we need to shake ourselves out into the offensive on actual conditions, making the Chinese answer the facts that incriminate them."

"The Black Book on Red China" should give us many new and awful answers to the questions posed by Red China and that land's growing list of supporters in the U.S.

Speaking of off-shore islands, the little isle of Strome, which sits at the entrance to Britain's great naval base at Scapa Flow, is about to hit the news again. Last month the TV quiz "Bid 'n' Buy" offered this 2-mile bird sanctuary as a prize. John Bull's wattles flapped so indignantly that the producers backed off. Anyway, they didn't own the place to give away.

The man who owns Strome, Yorkshireman named John Hoyland, and who is offering it for sale for $23,800, has had a nibble —from the Russian Embassy in London!

Beastly situation, wot? Here's this blinkin' spit of land looking right down the nozzles of her majesty's fleet and if Hoyland sells to the Russian chaps they'll be wanting to make all sorts of modern improvements on the land, such as putting up a missile base. That wouldn't do a thing to improve the property of the queen mother's castle at nearby May, would it now? And what about the 18 head of human beings on the land? Are they included in the bargain? And what of all that guano?

Previews, Inc., the international real estate brokerage, is pretty put out, too. Can't get mixed up in a thing like that, you know. But it's cruel hard, too, to kiss off that fee if old Hoyland ups and sells and t'ell with pride and honor and all that sort of rot. Sticky.

Stop Hanging Around Schools, Dogs Told

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (UPI) — The Little Lamb that Mary is supposed to leave at home now has company. Police chief Clem Young issued thefollowing warning to youngsters:

"The police department has been beleaguered with complaints about gangs of dogs hanging around schols and we are forced to issue a warning. Any more complaints of dogs will mean they must be picked up as nuisances, whether they are licensed or not."

Iron Ore in Concrete

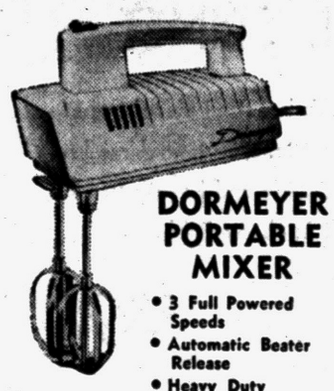

STUDSVIK, Sweden — Iron-ore concrete—mixed with ore instead of stone to increase the protection against radiation—has been used to a great extent in Sweden's new atomic-research station at Studvik, south of Stockholm. This type of concrete has been used for the nearly 3-foot-thick basement flooring of the hall housing a research reactor and for the nearly 6-foot-thick walls of the reactor pool, which is 27 feet high.

Shy Max the Dachshund Wins 1st Prize in Pontiac

By PETE LOCHBILER

A shy, unassuming dachshund with the unpretentious name of Max captured judges' hearts and the grand prize at the ninth annual Parks & Recreation Department Pooch Party.

Max, who is a good deal longer than he is tall, was proudly displayed by Brenda Massey, 13, of 643 Lennox St.

The dachshund's long frame was also judged the best groomed in the senior division.

About 40 pets and pet-owners entered this year's competition for 25 prizes and ribbons.

It was hard to tell who was having the most fun — dogs, children or the Pontiac Kennel Club judges, who presided over the closely contested matches.

"It was a picnic for us," confessed Leonard T. Buzz, department recreation supervisor in charge of the event.

Behind the fun were some serious lessons that all young dog owners should know.

Others went to the youngsters who had the best scores in a quiz on the care of their pets.

There were prizes for dog tricks, because a well-performing dog is responsive to the commands of his master.

And in that connection, there were prizes for something more intangible — for the way dog and owner got along together, for how much they love each other.

There was a lot of the latter displayed Saturday.

Some of the pooches were outfitted with bows, ribbons or dog jackets. All looked content and frisky. There were no dog fights.

Besides Brenda, other first prize winners were Lorraine Motsinger, 13, of 372 Newport Ave.; Elizabeth Shuler, 14, of 1155 Fairfax St.; Candy Love, 12, of 218 Oliver St.; Teddy Hagberg, 7, of 738 Third Ave.; Penney Pepper, 10, of 128 Oliver St.; Judy Eastman, 10, of 178 E. Kennett Rd. and Thomas Gelen, 8, of 5329 Clintonville Rd.

Other winners: Jean Dodd, 12, of 355 W. Brooklyn Ave.; Sharon Curtis, 12, of 924 Argyle Ave.; Stephanie Bennett, 11, of 212 E. Rundell St.; Sharon Abney, 11, of 1624 N. Telegraph Rd.; Freddie Arnold, 7, of 660 W. Walton Blvd. Connie Weber, 10, of 2483 Walce Rd.; Billy Dugan, 10, of 363 Nelson St.; Sandra Ebert, 10, of 480 Harper St.; Linda Dennison, 10, of 200 Washington St.; Deborah Killen, 9, of 94 Glenwood Ave.; and Diane Tietsens, 9, of 1380 Lake Angelus Rd.

GOOD, HUH? — Tiny Ginger, a two-year-old toy terrier, and her owner, Freddie Arnold, 7, of 660 W. Walton Blvd., got along so well together that they won a second prize in the best pet combination contest.

SIT UP! — Obedient Sir Sharvell, a two-year-old German shepherd, performed so well for Thomas Gelen, 8, of 5329 Clintonville Rd., that they won a first prize for the best executed trick.

DETERMINED — Outfitted in a pretty dress and an attractive bow, Patricia Doolin, 331 Elizabeth Lake Rd., and her cocker spaniel make a serious effort to capture the judges' attention.

HAPPY PAIR — Patricia Spaysky, 10, of 59 S. Edith St. and her poodle, Pepe, have fun together like this every day, which is why they clicked so well at Saturday's Pooch Party.

Treasury Secretary Stops Over in Italy

ROME (UPI) — Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson had a one-day stopover in the Italian capital today before continuing on a flight to India to represent the United States at a monetary conference in New Delhi.

Anderson, accompanied by Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va) and Assistant Treasury Secretary Thomas B. Coughran, will attend the annual meeting of the boards of governors of the International Monetary Fund, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development and the International Finance Corporation.

Emotional Problems Cause Aching Backs

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — The California State Department of Mental Hygiene said failure to come to grips with everyday emotional problems is the most common cause of the common backache.

It explained that such problems cause an excess of muscle function and electrical activity which lead to a gradual accumulation of potassium in the tissues.

Menon to Chinese Nationalists:

'Leave the Islands'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon was in the open today with his view that the Chinese Nationalists should get out of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

On a Washington television program, he said peaceful evacuation of Quemoy would mean "the Quemoy problem is settled" and the Nationalists and Chinese Communists then could negotiate a settlement of their conflicting claims to Formosa.

Diplomats and others at the U.N. recognized this as the line Menon has been promoting privately at the U.N. General Assembly, where he heads India's delegation.

He told television interviewers the situation in Formosa Strait, where the Communists are shelling the Quemoys, was one of extreme gravity that could engulf the world in flames.

He said the Communists should be persuaded to permit peaceful evacuation of the islands now under shellfire, and Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek "must be told that in no manner is the United States going to assist him in any war adventures."

Indonesia told the U.N. General Assembly today the offshore Quemoy and Matsu islands were for Communist China "a matter involving its national security and integrity."

Indonesian Delegate Ali Sastromidjojo said "no self-respecting government can allow its ports to be blockaded, its shipping interfered with, and its coastal islands transformed into arsenals for purposes of provocation and even invasion."

In another Washington television interview, Nationalist Chinese Ambassador George Yeh said the Nationalists do not intend to make any concessions to the Chinese Communists. He added the Communists could be checked "if you do not yield any ground."

Meanwhile, U.N. delegates waited to see how far along Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had come in building an Arab good-neighbor scheme to get foreign troops out of the Middle East. He will publish a report to the Assembly Tuesday under its Aug. 21 resolution. There were reports he was having trouble.

That unanimous resolution, presented by all 10 Arab countries, pledged them to be good neighbors. It asked Hammarskjold to make arrangements that would uphold peace for Lebanon and Jordan and facilitate early withdrawal of American and British troops.

Statements Soar Hopes in U.S.-Red China Talks

WARSAW (AP)—Hopes soared here today that statements from Washington and Peiping had given a new lease on life to the Formosa talks and eased war threats.

The Warsaw talks between U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Chinese Communist envoy Wang Ping-nan entered their third week today. The envoys hold their fifth meeting here Tuesday.

Among developments which diplomats here considered conciliatory was the declaration by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai Sunday that the Red Chinese "do not give up their efforts to find a solution to the disputes between China and the United States through peaceful negotiations."

That was what the diplomats had left after they had stripped away much anti-American verbiage from Chou's Peiping broadcast. Among other statements, he said Communist China would lead the United States to "final and complete disaster if the United States insists on provoking war."

In Washington an announcement on the details of the closed-door talks was postponed beyond the date such an announcement had been expected. This was interpreted as meaning that the highest quarters expected new developments.

It had been reported that if Washington became convinced the talks were fruitless the United States would disclose the details and take the case to the United Nations.

Sunday's statement by Chou was regarded here as the highest ranking use of what diplomats here call the 40-hour technique. They say that 40 hours before each meeting between Wang and Ambassador Beam the Chinese have issued a press statement which sets the tone for Wang.

The talks will continue here without much sense of urgency. Diplomatic circles think the two ambassadors are not negotiating, but merely delivering messages from their governments.

Informed circles say the Chinese Communists have been impressed by American military buildup in Formosa Strait and the ability to supply Quemoy. They said this has moderated the tone of the talks.

BIG SWITCH — Most gourmets anticipate a steak with mushrooms, but Kirk Saltz, who found this king sized specimen near his cottage at Shore Acres, Minn., does a switch and plans to eat a mushroom with his steak. The huge plant weighed six pounds before it was skinned and sliced.

Lebanese Capital Turns Presence Into Dollars

GI Joe Becomes a Fixture in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — For good or ill, GI Joe has made his impression on the Lebanese capital.

As has been true from Tokyo to Berlin to Paris to Seoul, the cry heard in Beirut now is, "Hey, Joe! Gotta cigarette?" or "Any gum, Joe? . . . I gotta sister . . ."

SIX-HOUR LIBERTY

Every day some 2,000 soldiers, sailors and marines pull a six-hour liberty in a narrow section of Beirut, and in the yellow and brown walled, soiled streets of the area they have left the inevitable mark, sometimes good, sometimes bad, of the American serviceman's stamping grounds.

The streets along which they regularly pass have already blossomed with signs like, "Hey, Joe, why not stop for one cold bear?" and "best bye in town, three bears for one dollar."

("Dollar" is the one word consistently spelled correctly on all signs.)

Outdoor book sellers line a wire fence along the seashore below the Hotel Saint-Georges with copies of Time, Life, Newsweek and the Saturday Evening Post.

In crates they sit on are ample supplies of fast-selling pamphlets referred to in the trade as "spicy French literature."

Other hucksters along the GI's way juggle stacks of red fezzes that sell for $3 apiece and are worth about 25 cents. Others hold up trailing Arab headdresses.

NASSER'S PICTURE

One rug dealer admitted ruefully that this last item was not a very fast moving item with GI's.

The GI's have behaved remarkably well on liberty. Thus far there has been only one real incident, itself a minor one, when three sailors ran off with a cashbox containing the day's take at a local sporting house.

The good discipline stems partly from the fact that U.S. authorities have been laying down the law as hard as possible. The men are told to stay out of trouble with even more emphasis than usual.

Also, the city is partolled by tough and efficient Military Police units.

"We've had to hand out a few tough court martials to first offenders," said Marine Corps First Lieutenant Mike Sullivan, executive officer of a communication company.

He added wryly: "That makes Christians out of the rest of them."

The Americans' good behavior is doubly notable because there is little for them to do in town and their living conditions on duty are often hot and dirty.

Most of the GI's are taking their liberties around swimming pools at good hotels or on the beach.

Those interested in a gamier afternoon head for "Little Pigalle" (or "The Solid Gold Mile") a long, narrow street lined with night clubs and bars that have thrown open their doors to the U. S. military.

Most of the bars are sleazy, hot gin mills stuffed with ladies whose charms, barely appreciable in the dark, do not stand up well in sunlight.

Ingenious Lebanese have opened at least four new bars to cater to the American servicemen.

The city's biggest night club, the "Kit Kat," is going in for tea dances to conform with liberty hours.

'Centipede' Checks Condition of Roads

DETROIT — The Michigan Highway Department is using a "centipede truck," a 22-wheel recording vehicle, to measure the year-round traffic-carrying ability of the state's highways. It will be run over 9,300 miles of Michigan highways this year.

Recording wheels in the center, 16 small wheels at the front and rear, and recording instruments detect a road's profile (pavement irregularities) and roll (elevation difference among wheels).

Moving 4 to 5 miles an hour, the device detects road irregularities as small as 1-32nd of an inch and records these on graphs showing soil, drainage, and construction Running the truck over given segments at different times of the year tells whether the subgrade is stable and whether the route can carry a full traffic load.

Lightning Strikes Twice

SPARTA, Wis. (UPI) — Local businessman Lou Apple is a rare "weekend golfer" who has two holes-in-one to his credit. He got his first in 1951, then repeated the feat this year on the same golf course. His witness was Dr. H. H. Williams, also a member of the 1951 foursome.

Americans spend $25 million a year for Valentines.

Sniper Takes Aim on 2 Balloonists

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) —A sniper on the ground fired at two balloonists as they drifted over Iowa Saturday in a low-altitude flight to qualify one of the men for a trip to the edge of space.

Air Force Lt. Clifton McClure, 25, Anderson, S. C., and a veteran balloonist, M. Lee Lewis, 45, Minneapolis, said bullets from a high-powered rifle whizzed within 15 feet of their balloon.

McClure was making the flight as practice for his planned Manhigh III flight to 100,000 feet Tuesday. Lewis, a former Navy balloonist, was along as an instructor.

Private School Plan Spreads

Virginia Experiment to Avoid Integration Gets Growing Support

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Virginia's first experiment in an emergency private school program began to assume the proportion of a communitywide effort here today.

Parents, teachers and pupils appeared determined to make the best of the situation.

Lane High School and Venable Elementary School, with a total enrollment of 1,700, were closed a week ago.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. shut down the white schools and took control by authority of the state's laws which resist federal court-ordered race imxing.

Almost everyone here agrees that arrangemenst made thus far in churches, fraternal lodges and private homes won't measure up to the public schools, but many are optimistic that an acceptable substitute can be provided — at least on a temporary basis. For many, "temporary" means the entire school year.

"Everybody has to make sacrifices on something like this," said Mrs. T. B. Riggins, whose 8-year-old son attends his first class today in a previously unoccupied 10-room house. She is typical of many parents.

"My husband and I are going to help get things organized," she said. "I'm going to make curtains and bring a few plants, and after it's fixed up I think they (the private schools) could go all year."

Separate programs for Venable pupils are being conducted by two groups. The Charlottesville Education Foundation begins classes today for 185 children in the 10-room house. The Parents Committee for Emergency Schooling started classes last Wednesday for 355 in the basements and playrooms of 15 private homes. Venable teachers are doing the instructing in both cases.

The two groups have pooled their facilities for a high school program to be conducted by the Lane faculty. It gets under way today for 140 seniors and 160 juniors in three churches, the private dining room of a restaurant and a fraternal lodge.

Physics and chemistry courses will be taught in the laboratories of the Institute of Textile Technology about a mile west of the city.

Students expressed mixed feelings about the unusual schedule for high school classes, made necessary by the scattered classrooms. Classes will be held six days a week from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. and students will take up one course each day.

"I think it can work out okay if everybody just sticks with it," said Billy Lang, cocaptain of the Lane football team.

A note of disappointment came from one senior, who helped circulate a petition asking Gov. Almond to reopen the high school.

"I guess it's better than no school at all," she said. "But it's nothing to rave about."

"I'm so excited to start school anyway, but I'm going to miss Lane...I've just not been raised to go to school with the Negro race," she said.

Lane teachers agreed there will be hardships on both students and faculty but voiced some optimism.

"I don't think anything is a substitute for the program we had, but this is as good a substitute as it would be possible to devise," said Lane Principal W. I. Nickels Jr.

"We have set it up so we could move back into Lane at any time with as little lost motion as possible," he noted.

Pair Cuts Short Honeymoon to Save Dog's Life

HEREFORD, England (UPI) — A Dachshund named Otto was the happiest dog in England today and a bridegroom named Ron knew the full meaning of that old saw, "Love me, love my dog."

Maureen Prece, 21, cut short her honeymoon in Wales with bridegroom Don Prece, 27, after four days when she learned that Otto was grieving his heart out back home.

Maureen had telephoned her mother every day on the honeymoon to ask about Otto. Her mother reported that Otto refused to eat or drink and had crawled into a cupboard and just whined.

"Otto is dying of a broken heart," the mother said on the fourth day of the honeymoon.

Maureen and Ron hurried home. Otto bounced from his cupboard to greet them, barking with delight. Then he wolfed down his first meal in four days.

"All the time I was courting Maureen, Otto wouldn't let her out of his sight," Ron said today with a note of resignation.

"He used to snuggle between us on the sofa, follow us if we went for a walk and even come to the pictures with us. Once I felt I could shoot him, but I never thought he could have ruined my honeymoon."

Over 1,100 Scouts Attend Clinton Valley Roundup

Boys Camp Out Over Weekend

58 Units Participate in Field Competition at Camp Oakland

More than 1,100 Oakland and Macomb county Boy Scouts spent last weekend camping out in tents and participating in competition events at the Clinton Valley Council's 1958 Fall Roundup.

Assistant Director A. J. Stilwell of Cass Lake said the program and facilities "worked out just as planned — and that's hard to manage for an event of this large a scope." He said the weather was perfect, the parking was adequate and that there were no serious first aid cases.

Winners of a council-wide contest in fire building to boil water in a pot were Troop 102 of Rochester, first; Troop 123 of Rochester, second; and Troop 165 of Clintonville, third place. Rochester Troop 40 won third place in the signalling contest.

All of the troops and posts participated in eight scoutcraft competition events, to earn "silver nuggets" for their districts. Manitou District received the most nuggets.

Manitou District also had the most boys and men on hand, 354. Ottawa District had 293, Macomb, 291, and Pontiac, 147. There were 15 roundup staff members.

Nearly 1,900 gallons of water were used by the scouts, transported in by tank truck by the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Romeo Explorer Post 87 directed traffic and the parking of cars. Some Scouts from Utica troop 90 were able to catch fish in Lake Oakland.

Milford's recently-formed Troop 171 said its members particularly enjoyed participating in the scoutcraft competition.

South Lyon's Kiwanis Club Troop 38 said they "got the biggest kick out of camping in the field with so many other units from all parts of the council."

Harvey Beach of Lake Orion directed a mass campfire program on Saturday night, which featured an archery demonstration and included unit stunts. William P. Pascher of Gingellville led songs.

After field services on Sunday for Catholic, Protestant and Lutheran scouts, the giant "tent city" was quickly dismantled, cooking fires were extinguished and the boys packed cars and trailers for their homeward trip.

AT THE WATER TRUCK — Living outdoors is fun, especially during a nice weekend like the one just past. But it also involves taking extra sanitary precautions and lots of hard work. The more than 1,100 Oakland and Macomb county Boy Scouts who participated in the annual Fall Roundup over the weekend at Camp Oakland will attest to this. Filling their buckets with water for dishwashing chores are members of Milford Post 33 (from left) Edward Stoughton, 1736 Pettibone Lake Rd.; Robert Crawford, 323 Hickory St.; Fred Heil, 524 General Motors Rd., and John Heutebise, 2942 Lone Tree Rd., all of Milford.

Train Hits Car, Holly Girl Dies

Edith Sutton, 2 Others Meet Death in Crash at Hammond, Indiana

A 20-year-old Holly girl and two companions were killed early Sunday morning when the small foreign car in which they were riding darted into the path of a freight train in Hammond, Ind.

The Holly girl was Miss Edith Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sutton of 300 Davisburg Rd.

A student nurse at the Hinsdale (Ill.) Sanitarium and Hospital, she and three companions, all on the staff at the hospital, were returning from an outing at Emmanuel Missionary College in Berrien Springs, Mich.

Other victims were Daniel Phillips, 24, of Jackson, and Florence Dippold, 23, of Hinsdale, believed to have been the driver.

The fourth passenger, Lois Bray, 21, of Lebanon, Ind., was seriously injured. She was asleep in the back seat of the car at the time of the collision, according to Hammond Police.

Miss Sutton died about 2 a.m. Sunday at St. Margaret Hospital in Hammond, about an hour after the accident.

Her body was brought to Dryer Funeral Home in Holly.

Polio Siege Nearly Finished for Two Little Girlfriends

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO—Two little girls, who both had paralytic attacks of polio in 1953, are eagerly awaiting the day when they will be able to use hula hoops like other children their ages.

And it won't be long now because both youngsters recently had similar muscle transplant operations which will enable them to walk again soon, their doctors say.

Lorraine Dietlin, 8, of Romeo and Yvonne Waterloo, almost 7, of Richmond, suffered severe attacks of polio five years ago. Both were patients in Herman Kiefer Hospital, Detroit, at the same time, and that's where their mothers met.

Lorraine's mother, Mrs. Joseph Dietlin, 192 Bradley St., Romeo, would sit in the waiting room and compare notes on her daughter's progress with Yvonne's mother, Mrs. John Waterloo, 36344 Division St., Richmond.

Before the girls were allowed to come home, the two mothers were sharing the ride to the hospital, but it was not until Sept. 18, 1958—just about two weeks ago—that their daughters met for the first time.

A week or so before that date, Mrs. Dietlin made her regular telephone call to Mrs. Waterloo and found that both girls were facing surgery only a day apart.

Lorraine was operated on Sept. 11 at Grace Hospital, Detroit, and Yvonne, the following day at Port Huron General Hospital. Both had muscle transplants on their left feet.

It was when the girls returned home again that the meeting was finally arranged at the Waterloos in Richmond. Lorraine and Yvonne found their lives had paralleled for several years, although Lorraine's hospitalization was longer, 14 months to Yvonne's three.

They both have been able to attend school on crutches during their convalescence, but they have missed classes so far this fall because of their operations. They are being tutored at home by their mothers until their casts come off or their doctors release them.

"It will only be a month now before both girls will be able to walk without the aid of braces or crutches," Mrs. Dietlin said with a slight catch in her voice.

All members of both families are well aware of the approaching joy they will feel when the girls can finally walk again. Mr. Waterloo, a Detroit Edison employe, Mrs. Waterloo, and little Eric, almost 2, say they can hardly wait.

And the Dietlins say they will be chanic at Ford's Michigan Proving Grounds, mother Phyllis, two brothers, Hugo, 5, and Joe Jr. 10, and sister Yvonne, 11.

"Lorraine's always wanted a bicycle, and it looks like this Christmas she'll have one," Mrs. Dietlin said wistfully.

SHARE EXPERIENCES — Two little girls who suffered paralytic attacks of polio five years ago met for the first time recently after undergoing surgery that would enable them to walk again. They are Yvonne Waterloo (left) almost 7, of Richmond, and Lorraine Dietlin, 8, of Romeo. They now meet frequently to compare notes on their experiences from iron lung to the promise of complete recovery.

Missile Battalion Formosa Bound

U. S. Nike - Hercules Outfit Will Beef Up Island Defenses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. Nike-Hercules missile battalion is en route by sea to beef up the defenses of Formosa, the Army said today.

For security reasons the Army could not say when the 2nd Battalion of the 71st Artillery set sail or when it would arrive. It did say the troops were aboard the Navy transport Breckenridge. An advance party from the battalion flew to Formosa last week.

Launching sites are under construction on the Nationalist Chinese stronghold for the deadly anti-aircraft missiles.

The battalion originally was stationed at Ft. Bliss, Tex. It is composed of four batteries of about 140 each. The battalion is commanded by Lt. Col. Bernard I. Greenberg of Wilmington, Del. Each battery is equipped with 12 rocket launchers.

The 27-foot long Nike-Hercules can be equipped with either conventional or nuclear warheads. An Army spokesman said the battalion was not taking nuclear warheads with it to Formosa aboard the Breckenridge.

But he said this did not rule out the possibility that atomic warheads could be shipped in later.

The Nike-Hercules is directed to enemy planes as far away as 75 miles by an electronic guidance system.

Arrest AWOL Sailor

Seaman Jerry D. Lawson, 17, of 26 Cross St., was arrested this weekend by Pontiac Police on the request of U.S. Naval authorities for being absent without official leave since Sept. 2.

His station is the U.S. Navy small craft facility at Annapolis, Maryland.

Little Johnny Doing the Town —for Awhile

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI) — Johnny Walker Jr. is a big spender—even though he's only 12.

Take this past weekend, for example.

Johnny borrowed $340 in cash from home without his father's knowledge and set off to do the town Friday night.

He hailed a cab and went for a $20 ride. The cabbie cashed a $100 bill for him.

Meanwhile, back at his home, Johnny's parents called police. A patrol car spotted the boy in a second taxi.

Back home came the spender with $176. He spent all the rest, Johnny said.

Discipline followed, and so to bed.

Saturday Johnny was gone again. But he was sent home quickly after a suspicious hotel clerk called police when the boy tried to cash a $100 bill.

Johnny explained he had hidden the bill as a reserve before setting out the previous night.

Burglars Strike 6 Times in City

Pontiac Police Receive Reports From Victims of Weekend Crimes

Six burglaries were reported to the Pontiac Police Department over the weekend.

Thieves broke into B & B Gulf Service Station, 1556 Baldwin Ave., Friday night, and made off with auto accessories and $6 in small change.

Dr. Burton Ross, owner of the Pontiac Veterinary Hospital, 817 S. Saginaw, reported Saturday thieves broke into the building and took $70 in cash and $175 in checks after ransacking the office. The burglars entered by removing a screen from an unlocked window.

The City Side Market, 1716 Joslyn Ave., was broken into and $3, six cartons of cigarettes and several old coins stolen.

Thieves broke into Kennett Lunch, 52 E. Kennett Rd. and took three cases of beer, cigarettes, gum and $2 in change.

Burglars broke into an apartment at 62½ Sylvan Ct. and stole a television set, Mrs. H. C. Greenwood, owner of the apartment, reported Saturday.

Missile Crews Get Protective Garment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new garment offering more protection for missiles-servicing crews has been adopted by the Army.

A suit, made of rubber-coated cotton fabric, has been designed to protect the crewmen against highly corrosive chemicals used around missile sites.

Developed by the Quartermaster Corps, the new suiting covers a crewman from head to foot. It consists of a coverall, hood, gloves and boot. It is impervious to liquid oxygen, hydrogen, peroxide, red fuming nitric acid, and the other chemicals employed as missile fuels.

Cash in Shopping Bag Is Short-Lived Bargain

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—Benjamin Oxenandler of New Britain figured it was bargain day when he returned home and found his shopping bag contained $230 in cash.

While he was calling authorities, store manager Carl Legesky of Middletown was on another phone reporting the loss, Legesky got his money back.

Home Burns Down in Area, Save Other

A Waterford Township house was burned to the ground and the house next door badly damaged by fire early this morning.

A $12,500 home at 6998 Terrell St., owned by Michael Chernick, of 1344 Plymouth Rd., Livonia, was completely enveloped in flames when firemen answered the call at 2:30 a.m.

The cause of the fire is unknown and there was no insurance on either house. Damage to the Pollina house is estimated at $300.

Mrs. Pollina and a nephew were in her home when the fire broke out. Neither was injured.

Waterford Boy Hurt Playing With Fire

Twelve-year-old Guy Stafford, of 2914 Voorheis Rd., Waterford Township, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital last night with first and second degree burns on both legs.

The boy told police he had been baby sitting for this three younger brothers while his parents were in Ann Arbor yesterday. The boys were filling paper cups with water and pouring gasoline from a power mower into the cups and lighting them.

He said one of the cups flared up and he tried to put out the fire by stamping it. His brothers summoned a neighbor, W. W. Edwards of 2825 Otsego St., who rushed Guy to Pontiac General Hospital. He was treated and released.

Safety Demonstrator Stopped by Accident

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Television station WRAL-TV was filming a farm safety show which featured demonstrations by extension service experts.

A corn-husking expert was talking about safety as he approached the mechanical husker. Suddenly the cord of the microphone about his neck became entangled in the whirring machinery.

The cord drew him closer and closer to the de-husking blades. Horrified cameramen leaped to his rescue just in time.

Street Lighting Hearing Tonight

Necessity, Cost in Area of Crescent Lake, M59 to Be Weighed

A hearing for establishing a special street-lighting district in several subdivisions near Crescent Lake and Highland roads will be held at tonight's Waterford Township Board Meeting.

The district will include the assessment of 138 parcels of land in the area and the Detroit Edison Co. will assume the installation costs.

In other business, bids for fleet vehicle insurance policies covering $60,000 worth of township-owned equipment will be opened at 8 p.m.

Rather than award several different insurance policies covering separate township department vehicles, the board will award one overall policy, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Because of a newly enacted law, the township board rather than state officials will establish the number of constables to be elected at the bi-annual election in the spring.

According to the law there cannot be more than four or less than one to be placed on the ballot and this must be done six months prior to the election.

Four Persons Injured as Car Hits Pole, Tree

Four persons were injured early Sunday morning when a car driven by Booker T. Newcomb, 34, of 540 Arthur St., ran into a light pole and tree on Wesson street east of Maple.

Newcomb suffered minor head injuries and is under observation at Pontiac General Hospital. His condition is described as satisfactory.

Also injured were Fred Williamson, 26, of 488 Arthur St., who was treated for contusions of the left knee at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released, and Ellora Owens, 43, of 488 Arthur, who was treated for a possible arm fracture and released. Also slightly injured was Sarah Joyner, 32, of 488 Arthur.

Youth Snatches Purse, City Woman Reports

A Pontiac woman reported to police Saturday night that her purse was snatched by a boy between the ages of 12 and 14 while she was walking on W. Huron Street near Mohawk Rd.

Mary W. Breidinger, 832 W. Huron, told police that the youth snatched the wallet containing $90 and personal papers, and fled between adjacent buildings.

Bears Roll Over Packers

Galimore at It Again

By The Associated Press

George "Poppa Bear" Halas, one of professional football's founding fathers and its chief innovator, today had made a successful return to the coaching ranks after a two-year absence.

Taking an outstanding batch of players like Willie Galimore, an unknown picked off the campus of little Florida A&M; quarterback Ed Brown; brilliant end Harlon Hill, and a sturdy forward wall, Halas has mixed well and apparently has a winner.

Bolting away from the wire as the National Football League season opened yesterday, the Bears toppled Green Bay 34-20 to continue their outstanding play which saw them compile a 6-0 exhibition record.

In other games, Frank Gifford scored three times as New York trounced Chicago's Cardinals 37-7; Cleveland overcame Los Angeles 30-27 on Lou Groza's field goal with 25 second left in the game; Baltimore upended defending champion Detroit 28-15; Washington beat Philadelphia 24-14, and San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 23-20.

Galimore scored three touchdowns as the Bears won their first opener in six tries. The NFL soph, who can run the 100 in 9.6, scored on dashes of one and eight yeards and combined with Brown on a 79-yard pass play for another six-pointer. Galimore's eight-yarder was the clincher, putting the Bears ahead to stay in the second quarter after the Packers had taken a 10-7 lead.

Movie star Gifford, ably abetted by Alex Webster and Charley Conerly along with an alert defensive unit, made it a dismal debut for Frank "Pop" Ivy, the Cards new coach. The Giants converted a pass interception and a Chicago fumble into two quick TD', both by Gifford and wrapped it up with the game barely five minutes old. Webster scored twice and Conerly quarterbacked flawlessly in the first neutral city opener in HFL history. The game was played at Buffalo, N.Y.

The Browns got off to a good start before 69,993 fans, the day's largest crowd, at Los Angeles, coming from far behind with 16 points in the last quarter. Fullback Jim Brown shared the hero's spotlight with Groza, scoring two touchdowns and gaining 171 yards in 24 trips with the ball. Brown scored the last Cleveland TD, Groza tied it with the extra point and won it a few minutes later with a nine-yard field goal.

Redskins quarterback Ed LeBaron directed two fourth period drives of 69 and 60 yards for a come-from-behind victory over the Eagles. Dick James and Don Bosseler scored the deciding TDs. It was the first pro game played on the University's of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field and the debut of Eagles' coach Buck Shaw and newly acquired passer Norm Van Brocklin.

Forty-niner Coach Frankie Albert went with alternate quarterback John Brodie in the late stages and San Francisco rallied for 16 points. Brodie completed 19 of 28 passes for 244 yards. The winning three points came with 2½ minutes left, Gordy Soltau supplying a 22-year field goal.

HIGH AND WIDE — Baltimore halfback L. G. Dupre (45) and Detroit defensive back Terry Barr really did some stressing for this pass thrown Colt quarterback Jonh Unitas in the 2nd quarter of their NFL opener at Baltimore yesterday. Baltimore rallied in the last period to win 28-15.

Baltimore Wins Season Opener in NFL, 28-15

Detroit Misses Chance to Score at Crucial Moments of Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BALTIMORE — Opportunity knocked more than once in the season opener for the Detroit Lions yesterday in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium, but the defending champions of professional football failed to open the door and as result the Colts walked away with a 28-15 victory.

From a spectator's standpoint, and there were 48,377, it was an exciting contest. But from a coach's viewpoint it was a matter of which of the two teams played the worst.

"Neither team was sharp," said Lions' coach George Wilson, "it was a case of which would make the least number of mistakes and win it."

The Lions' offensive line threw a lot of blocks but failed to hit a target most of the time, while the Baltimore defensive line was slow and lacking pursuit.

Baltimore scored in the first series it had possession after the Lions were forced to punt.

Carl Taseff returned the punt 34 yards to the Detroit 42 and eight plays later Lenny Moore went the final eight yards for the touchdown. Steve Myhra converted.

The Lions again failed to move the ball and were forced to punt following the kickoff, and the Colts went from their own 36 to the Detroit 32. Myhra's field goal try from the 39 was wide.

The quarter went by with both teams exchanging punts, but early in the 2nd period a bad punt by rookie Dick Horn gave the Lions the ball on the Colt 29.

After getting only five yards in three plays, Jim Martin came in and booted a field goal from the 31 to make it 7-3.

On the next Colt series, Horn again got away a bad punt and the Lions took over on the Baltimore 38. Bobby Layne hit Jim Doran and Dave Middleton with a couple passes and on the 8th play Layne fired a running pass to Hopalong Cassady in the end zone for the touchdown.

Layne's attempted point failed. He had previously kicked 58 straight in pro competition. He missed two in the All-Star exhibition game.

After the kickoff, Johnny Unitas' arm got warmed up and he hit on seven passes, finally connecting to Ray Berry on the 12. Berry carried Terry Barr the last five yards with him into the end zone and the Colts again moved out in front 14-9 with Myhra's kick.

Just before the half ended, Layne passed 34 yards to Ken Webb and another 21 to Middleton in two plays and had a first down on the Colt 13. Trying to pass again, Layne fumbled and the scoring chance died as Baltimore recovered.

Early in the third quarter Tobin Rote flipped a screen pass to Cassady and the little Buckeye went 30 yards for the TD. A bad pass, going way over Layne's head, lost the Lions their second point, but Detroit led 15-14.

Later in the third quarter, came what was probably the key situation in the game.

Bob Long intercepted a Unitas pass and got to the eight-yard line. Gedman got two yards, then Gedman took a pitch out from Rote and headed laterally for the sidelines.

A block by John Henry Johnson at this point against an oncoming Colt would have opened the way for those cruicial six yards to the goal line, but Johnson failed to deliver and Gedman was smeared for no gain. Martin then missed a field goal from the 15, and as the final quarter started the fired-up Colts then started the first of their two touchdown marches.

The Lions helped the Colts in their first march, when Johnson swung at Bill Pellington to cause a needless 15-yard penalty. Instead of starting from their own 25, Baltimore was on the 40 and in eight plays Unitas hit Berry for the touchdown.

L. G. Dupre scored the insurance TD by going 12 yards with 1:42 left in the game. Myhra again converted.

Midway in the 4th quarter a play took place which brought both teams into a huddle with the officials. Rote went back to pass on his own five-yard line. He fumbled as he was hit, and the ball rolled into the end zone. In the scramble for the ball a Colt kicked it out of the end zone.

The officials did not rule it a safety as the Colts argued, instead it was ruled a touchback because the defensive team had kicked it out of the end zone. The Lions were then awarded the ball on the 20.

Fumbling Bothers Duffy in MSU's Grid Opener

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — In almost every respect, Duffy Daugherty was highly satisfied coach here Saturday after his Michigan State football team opened the 1958 season with a 32-12 romp over California.

The genial MSU mentor was pleased with the defense, he was happy about the offense and the opportunity to send a lot of sophomores into action also broadened his famous Irish smile.

He admitted that his players made mistakes. But only one thing really bothered him—fumbles.

"I'm bothered by our fumbling," Duffy remarked. "We're not losing the ball because of faulty ball handling, but we drop it when we get hit."

Daughtery continued, "I'm not sure what the answer is, but at the same time, I don't want our boys to lose the aggressiveness for the extra yard and sometimes they fumble when trying for that little extra."

The speedy Spartan backs fumbled seven times against the Golden Bears and the alert Californians recovered four of them. It made little difference to the Spartans in this game because they won going away.

It was simply a case of a powerful gridiron machine methodically crushing a fighting and spirited but outclassed opponent in spite of the seven bobbles.

But the rigorous Big Ten campaign is at hand and as Duffy and his gridders have already learned from bitter experience, fumbles can be fatal to title ambitions, a Rose Bowl trip and national honors.

A year ago the Spartans flattened Indiana, California and Michigan in their first three games and never had the slightest hint of a fumble. They were so impressive beating the U. of M. that they shot to the top of the national poll.

Then they came home to friendly Spartan Stadium to face Purdue, a three-touchdown underdog, and fumbled themselves into a startling defeat. It was their only loss of the season in nine outings, but it was a costly one.

After studying game movies, Daugherty said that the spectacular touchdown pass from halfback Dean Look to quarterback Greg Montgomery in the 3rd quarter should have been ruled illegal Look, standing in deep punt formation, passed to Montgomery for a 57-yard TD after the snap from center went high and wide.

"Montgomery actually was ineligible to receive the pass because he wasn't on the end of the line of scrimmage," Duffy stated. MSU held a 20-6 lead at the time. It wouldn't have made any difference in the long run because the Spartans had touchdowns to spare.

Mickey Walker, sophomore guard from East Detroit, performed impressively for MSU in his first collegiate action. Quarterback Tom Wilson of Lapeer played briefly on defense in the 4th quarter. A total of 45 Spartans entered the contest.

The lure of the two-point conversion was strong as MSU took the gamble after four of its five TDs. Art Johnson's run was the only success and Sammy Williams also missed his placekick. Quarterback Mike Panitch was awarded the game ball.

Wings Skate to Easy Win in Exhibition

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings drove in five goals in the second period to roll to a 7-1 victory over the Winnipeg Warriors in an exhibition hockey game here last night.

The teams battled on even terms for the first period, but the Wings found the range in the second chapter.

Gordy Howe, Duncan Fisher and Gerald Ehman were the big guns in the Detroit attack, each scoring two goals. The other was by Charles Burns, late in the second period.

Saturday night, the Red Wings beat the Warriors 2-1 in an exhibition game at Winnipeg.

Hemus Is Named Cards' Manager

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—Solly Hemus, former player with the club was named by the St. Louis Cardinals today as the new manager of the club.

The contract of the fiery little Hemus is for one year. He succeeds Fred Hutchinson, fired recently when it became obvious the club would not finish as high as the Cardinal bosses had expected.

The announcement confirmed an exclusive Associated Press report of two weeks ago that Hemus, the personal choice of owner August Busch, would be the new manager.

The Cardinals, who wound up the 1958 season in a fifth-place tie with the Chicago Cubs, also named Johnny Keane and Harry Walker as coaches.

Wilson, Sox Hurler, Will Quit Baseball

The veteran right-hander had a 9-9 record this season after a 15-8 mark in 1957, when he enjoyed his best year.

Cold Finish for Tigers

Stuck With 5th Place After 6-2 Loss to Indians

Kaline's Homer Averts Shutout in Last Game of 1958 Season

DETROIT (AP) — An American League season that began with warm hopes and ended in a cold fifth place finish for the Detroit Tigers was just another record book entry today.

All that remained was an unhappy post-mortem following yesterday's season-finale 6-2 loss to the Indians at Cleveland in which the Tigers let slip their last chance for a first division windup.

With the defeat, in which Detroit was the victim in rookie Gary Bell's 12th victory, the Tigers lost out on about $500 apiece in fourth-place shares of World Series money.

Their fifth place finish was one notch lower than last year's fourth place windup. They missed duplicating this by half a game.

Bell held the Tigers to six hits while the Indians found starter and loser Jim Bunning less than himself after only two days rest. It was Bunning's 12th defeat against 14 victories. Jim lasted only until the fourth inning.

One of the Indian blows was Rocky Colavito's 31st home run. Al Kaline's 16th homer with a man on base in the sixth saved Detroit from a shutout.

Victorious in the preceding Chicago White Sox series, the Tigers invaded Cleveland in position to take third place and the $1,000-each series money but the Indians spoiled it all.

In Kaline and Harvey Kuenn they had two of the five top batters in the league. Kuenn finished third at .319 and Kaline fourth at .313.

Wolverines Back at Work

By CHUCK ABAIR

ANN ARBOR — The Michigan Wolverines went back to the practice field today for the first of four rugged workouts to be held prior to their big annual debacle against powerful Michigan State at East Lansing Saturday.

Despite some impressive play in the opening day 20-19 triumph over Southern California, head coach Bennie Oosterban and his aides realize they have their work cut out this week in prepping for the highly-rated Spartans.

Oosterbaan says he will not commit himself on possible lineup changes until he can study scouting reports of State's walloping of California and look over the movies of his own team's victory.

The running of big John Herrnstein and all around play of Brad Myers were the bright spots in the Wolverine triumph.

Herrnstein, sidelined by injuries most of last fall and part of the current practice slate, reeled off 144 of Michigan's 190 yards on the ground in 26 carries and scored the first and third touchdowns.

Myers tallied the other TD and was the 'M' defensive leader all afternoon. The climax came when he halted the final USC threat with a pass interception at his own 30 with only 1:45 remaining in the game.

Bennie just beamed when asked about Herrnstein's return to top form after the game but said there was numerous occasions when the line did not open up holes for the big guy.

"Myers did a fine job. You know he had only 10 minutes practice at left halfback," commented Oosterbaan. Brad, who powers his way like a fullback, kicked one of the extra points as Michigan went for the boot each time despite the fact the school's athletic director "Fritz" Crisler had a major hand in insterting the new rule allowing a team to go for two points by running or passing.

Southern Cal went for the two-pointer following its final tally after bouncing back from a 20-7 deficit with two last period scores in a span of two minutes and 47 seconds.

Two successive penalties had set the Trojans back to the 13 from where a pass play fell short as Herrnstein made a key tackle.

Michigan seemed to ease up with its 13-point lead before Rex Johnston's 66-yard gallop and an aerial score made it a new game.

Oosterbaan got a good look at his 2nd backfield unit of Stan Noskin, Darrell Harper of Royal Oak, Tony Rio and Al Groce. The unit performed well paced by Noskin's five pass completions.

Herper helped set up the 2nd touchdown with a leaping catch of a 16-yard pass and later completed one himself for 18. He punted once for 35 yards and had one blocked and recovered by the visitors at the 'M' 21 late in the 3rd canto. The play might have proved costly but USC fumbled the ball back after reaching the four.

Oakland County's other Wolverine, John Walker, did not see action. The former Walled Lake fullback was kept out "because he is not ready to play yet," said Oosterbaan. The sophomore is behind on assignments due to a run of injuries.

Walker said he is finally feeling "good again" and hopes to get a shot at the Spartans Saturday.

Archie Floored in Altercation

But William Samuel Ross, 38, told the San Diego Union he also floored the champion.

Ross told police Moore owed him back pay as an employe at the champion's training camp-ranch at nearby Ramona. The altercation occurred when they met at the bus depot Saturday.

Ross received an eye cut that required several stitches.

Ex-Scribe Opens Series

MILWAUKEE (AP)—James C. Crusinberry, one of the two living founders of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America, will throw out the first ball at the opening game of the 1958 World Series between the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees here Wednesday.

3 Hurlers Added to Yankee Staff

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Larsen, Tom Sturdivant and Murry Dickson, three right-handed pitchers, Sunday were added to the New York Yankees list and pitcher Ernie Johnson replaced ailing Joey Jay on Milwaukee's roster of World Series eligibles.

The Yankees' original list included 23 men. After Larsen, Sturdivant and Dickson were added. The name of Virgil Trucks was dropped to conform to the 25-man limit.

Millers Go 3 Up

MONTREAL (AP)—The Minneapolis Millers of the American Assn. took a 3-0 lead over the Montreal Royals of the International League with a 3-2 victory Sunday in the Little World Series.

Spahn and Ford Get First Call

Southpaws Open Series at Milwaukee; Started in 1957 Opener, Too

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee's Warren Spahn and New York's Whitey Ford, the same pair who pitched last October's opener, will face each other in the first game of the 1958 World Series here Wednesday.

The selection of the star southpaws to open the post season proceedings was taken for granted even before the official announcements, scheduled to be made some time today.

Spahn, 22-11 during the regular season, warmed up for his important assignment with a six-inning chore against Cincinnati Saturday, during which he permitted only one run. Ford (14-7) also turned in an impressive performance for his lead-off role with a one-hit, six-inning performance against Baltimore Friday.

25th Straight Win Eyed

Birmingham's unbeaten Maple harriers (in 24 straight duels) Tuesday seek to run their phenomenal string to 25, against EML opponent Ferndale. Meet is over the Birmingham course, where Kermit Ambrose's squad last Friday notched its 24th in a row, with a 24-33 win over Hazel Park.

Will Concentrate on Fishing Now

Williams Is Not Certain About Future as Player

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ted Williams, who draws $125,000 a year for swinging a bat as few have ever done, won't say whether he'll be back next year for another try.

"I wish I knew," the Boston slugger said yesterday after capturing his sixth American League batting championship with a .328 average.

"I'm not going to worry about that now.

"I'm going fishing."

The 40-year-old Williams said he was "extremely lucky" to have won another crown, his second straight. But his blazing finish was in the tradition of the confident heroes. He was under .300 in June.

The .328 was the lowest championship average of Williams' career. He won in 1941 at .406, which hasn't been equaled since. In 1942 he was tops with .356, in 1947 with .343, in 1948 with .369 and in 1957 with .388.

In 1942 and 1947 he was a triple champ, also winning the home run and runs batted in titles. Teammate Jackie Jensen led the league in RBIs this season with 122, and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees was tops in homers with 42.

Shrine 11 Ends Two-Year Grid Victory Drought

There's a rosy aspect at Royal Oak's Shrine High today regarding its football team. Ron Horvath's boys came through with an unexpected 21-0 victory over Lake Shore, in a Saturday afternoon contest at Lake Shore.

All scoring was in the 2nd period of this Shrine season's opener, with Ed Seymour, Dick Whitney and Ron Bishop getting TDs, respectively on a buck and two aerials. Mike Glynn of Pontiac ran the three conversions.

Glynn accounted for 121 yards of the Shrine's 230 rushing total, turned in a 67-yard run for a TD that was nullified by a Shrine penalty.

Lake Shore was held to two first downs.

ALMOST! — St. Frederick halfback Tom Nesbitt almost got away on a TD run in the 3rd period of yesterday's Ram-St. Clement tilt at Wisner Stadium. The Press' camera shot shows Clement's tackle, Bob Van Pamel, reaching for the elusive Ram. He connected a second later. Rams won a smashing victory, 44-6.

Alert Play Marks Parochials' League Start

Rams, Shamrocks Win

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac area parochial football teams got away to flying starts on their 1958 title campaigns, Sunday afternoon.

St. Frederick, host to Center Line St. Clement rolled over the visitors with a stunning 44-6 victory before an enthusiastic audience at Wisner Stadium. This win was a sweet reversal from last week's opener against St. Patrick of Wyandotte.

An alert, hard-driving Ram eleven made few mistakes, converted several relapses by opponents into tallies and dominated the play in all departments.

Pontiac's north side Shamrocks bounced back afttr taking a licking from West Bloomfield to snatch a hard-earned 20-13 victory over a stubborn Ferndale St. James club. St. Michael and the Dales were tied at 13-13 at the last minute of play. Then, with time running out Mike Flynn hit Chuck Steinhelper with a pass that covered 29 yards and clinched the win.

St. Mary Eaglets encountered RO St. Mary, for their season's opener at Royal Oak, and returned to Orchard Lake with a comparatively easy success, 27-6.

The Suburban Catholic League's champion St. Rita and runnerup St. Benedict clubs tangled at St. Ben's in Highland Park in what was expected to provide a clue to the loop's direction this season. Art Massucci's club smothered the '57 champs 32-0, led by Dan Donar's three TDs.

Royal Oak Shrine, Saturday, won its first victory in two years with a 21-0 walloping of Lake Shore.

For just one period the Rams-Center Line scrap looked like Gene Wright's club was going to have trouble. But after that scoreless session the situation changed swiftly. Freds smashed for four TDs, added a point-after for 25 counters, then rolled for two more in the 3rd, added a final one in the wind-up. Al Baumgart's boys collected their lone tally against the Ram reserves.

It was a team victory for the Rams, although there were a number of standouts. Tom Derocher went for three TDs. Jack Lyon contributed two. Lyon also galloped 55 yards on the first play of the finale to cross Clement's goal. That dash, one of several spectacular sprints the 1957 city scoring leader turned in went for "just exercise." Rams were caught offside!

On the next play Ron Neinzbrici intercepted a Ram pass, and the Center Line eleven drove all the way in. Dick Oberliesen just got over on a 3rd down smash of inches.

Oberliesen, Bob Fortin and Fred Forbuch were the Clement offensive mainstays, while Bill Cassidy was the big power in Rams frontline defense. Tom Nesbitt was a hard-to-stop runner and Jim Kennedy's ball handling and passing proved very effective.

Prior to the Shamrocks' last-minute win over the Dales, it was rough sledding for Jim Niebauer's team. On the third play of the game Dales' Larry Yezak (All-County in 1957) rambled 43 yards for a quick counter. He did the trick again in the second period. Mike Flynn's toss to Chuck Steinhelper put the ball on the two, from where Bill Flanigan went over to start St. Michael on its way. Chuck ran for the PAT leaving the halftime count at 13-7 for 'Dales.

Mikes tightened their defense after intermission, and after taking over on downs on Dales' 30 climaxed a sustained drive with Flynn's heave to Steinhelper from the 48 for the TD that knotted the count. That's the way things stood until the last minute Shamrock winning play.

Niebauer mentioned Joe Gallardo, George Drake, Paul Pruente as defensive standouts, along with Tom Dabbs, Flynn, Flanigan and Steinhelper.

Bill Krull, Eaglets' rambling fullback, accounted for two of St. Mary's tillies. He went 77 yards in the first period on a breakaway, then repeated in the 2nd frame, with a 5-yard smash after a St. Mary drive of 60 yards. A Royal Oak punt, blocked by Marty Fryt, was grabbed by Bob Argazinski for the TD. He ran 20 yards.

Cranes Win Soccer Tilt, Lose on Grid

Cranbrook won in soccer but lost its 2nd straight football outing Saturday at Lake Forest School of Chicago.

John Plew scored twice, Larry DeWitt, Tito Cortella and Gordy Buckman once apiece while goalie Kent Strickland held the enemy scoreless in a 5-0 triumph. The Crane booters are now 3-0.

Chips Snap Dales' String

By The Associated Press

The end of Hillsdale's 35-game regular-season winning streak and Hope College's touchdown-on-no-time headlined Michigan's small college football weekend.

The season's first big Saturday of play also saw Eastern Michigan's successful opening of its Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship. Eastern won from Illinois Normal 13-0.

Central Michigan, scoring its three touchdowns in the last quarter, snapped the Hillsdale winning streak 19-13 in an upset at Saginaw. It was the Dales' first regular season defeat since 1954.

Available records don't show anything like the touchdown that Hope scored in trouncing Alma 32-12 at Holland.

It came on the first kickoff before the clock had a chance to start running.

Officials held that under the free kick rule no actual time had elapsed. The clock doesn't start until the ball is touched or from the first play from scrimmage.

Hope, with fullback Ron Bekius driving for three touchdowns, went on from that point to run away with the game.

Two touchdowns by Pontiac's Walter Beach and another by Jerry O'Neil, all in the last quarter, won for Central over Hillsdale after the Dales appeared sure winners with a 13-0 lead.

A Hillsdale fumble recovered by Central on the Dales' 25-yard line opened the way for the first score —a short plunge by O'Neil. Beach added a pair on runs of 18 and 85 with Waterford grad Clayton Roth booting an extra point.

Albion began its MIAA season by routing Kalamazoo 27-0. With halfback Ron Hale scoring all three touchdowns, Ferris won its opener over the University of Illinois Extension School 20-6. In another MIAA game Adrian won from Olivet 13-6.

Michigan Tech, making good on two kicks for points after touchdowns, shaded St. Norbert of West Depere, Wis., 20-18. Northern Michigan broke its two-game losing streak by beating Taylor University of Upland, Ind., 27-7. Halfback Dick Allen ran 75 yeads for one touchdown.

Ted, Ashburn Win Batting Championships

Aging Williams Ends Up With .328 Mark; Ashburn Hit .338

Ted Williams in a walkover and Richie Ashburn in a fight to the finish—that's the story of Sunday's grand windups of two of the most exciting fights for batting championships in big league history.

Williams, the Boston Red Sox' 40-year-old super-star who got off to one of the slowest starts of his career, wound up with his sixth American League title while Ashburn, the Philadelphia Phillies' spray-hitting center-fielder, walked off with his second National League crown.

Williams, turning back the clock 17 years to when he won his first title in 1941, went 2-for-4 to finish at .328 and beat out teammate Pete Runnels, who went 0-for-4 yesterday and 5-for-19 in his last four games to close at .322. Williams, trailing Runnels by four points when the four-game series with the Washington Senators started Friday, went 7-for-11 over the weekend recalling his magnificent last-day 7-for-9 that boosted him to .406 in 1941.

Ashburn, who won his first N.L. title in 1955 with a .338 mark, had three singles in four tries as the Phillies beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4, in 10 innings to finish at .350. San Francisco's Willie Mays starting his game at about the time Ashburn's season was over, needed a 5-for-5 day to beat Richie.

The great San Francisco center-fielder gave it all he had with a 3-for-5 day but that was only good enough for .347. Had Willie gone 5-for-5 he would have finished at .350 and beaten Ashburn, whose average carried out to four places is actually "only" .3495. Because the fourth place is not needed to determine the champion, Ashburn's official average became .350.

Williams smashed his 26th homer of the year in the seventh inning to provide the Red Sox with their margin of victory in a 6-4 decision and also enable them to clinch third place. The loss extended the Senators' season-ending losing streak to 13 games.

Jack Meyer shut out the Pirates for the last two innings to win his third game for the Phillies and give them the season series, 12-10, over Pittsburgh. Bill Mazeroski had three hits for the Pirates.

Mays' homer, double and single enabled him to score three runs and bat in one, leading the Giants to a 7-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Jim Davenport also had three hits for the Giants while Joe Cunningham had three and Stan Musial two for the Cardinals.

Don Larsen and Tom Sturdivant, pitched the New York Yankees to 7-0 and 6-3 victories over the Baltimore Orioles. And the Chicago White Sox downed the Kansas City Athletics, 11-4, in other A.L. windups. Alex Kellner gained his seventh win as the Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Milwaukee Braves, 4-0, in the other N.L. finale. Chicago and Los Angeles were idle.

As Colleges Show More Wide Open Stuff

Passing Features Openers

By The Associated Press

This could be the year college football abandons the traditional running game and begins a new era of wide-open offense.

Already two of the nation's top coaches — Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma and Red Blaik of Army — have started the swing. Both were successful in their openers, so other coaches are certain to follow the pattern.

The new two-point conversion rule has nothing to do with the change. Rather, it was a case of tightly packed defenses snagging t-formation attacks. Something had to be done about it and this seems to be the answer.

Oklahoma, which overwhelmed West Virginia, 47-14, last Saturday, showed split ends, flankers, wide laterals and long forward passes. The entire show was fabulously successful, for West Virginia is no one's pushover.

It also raised the possibility that this could be one of Wilkinson's greatest machines. His club plays Oregon this Saturday and more of the same strategy can be expected.

As for Army, the Cadets well could be the class of the east. They overwhelmed South Carolina, 45-8, using change of direction plays, optional passes on almost every wide run and a lonely end who is so far out he doesn't even get into the huddles. Pete Dawkins scored four times for Army.

The Cadets play Penn State this week. The Nittany Lions, who beat Penn 43-0, know what to expect, so it should be interesting.

Ohio State, no. 1 in last week's Associated Press poll, apparently is sticking to its grinding ground game. The Buckeyes just did get past Southern Methodist, 23-20, and stayed right on the ground for the victory. Ohio State entertains Washington this week.

Auburn, last year's national champion, appears to be a carbon copy of the '57 crew. . . tremendous defense and score when you can. The Tigers ran their winning streak to 15 — highest among the major colleges — with a 13-0 decision over Tennessee. The Vols couldn't make a first down and wound up with a minus-30 total offense. Auburn should have no problem with Chattanooga this week.

Notre Dame, no. 5, shut out Indiana, 18-0. But Texas Christian, no. 6 and the favorite in the Southwest Conference, was upset by Iowa, 17-0. Pitt, no. 8, whipped Holy Cross, 17-0, and Mississippi, no. 9, which harbors ambitions in the Southeastern Conference, turned back Kentucky, 27-6. Northwestern, which didn't win a game all last year, surprised 10th ranked Washington State, 29-28.

Coach Ara Parseghain of Northwestern, who once described himself as "apathetic" to the new two-point pass or run conversion, said today it was "a very nice rule."

Parseghian's decision to try for two points with a pass after his team's fourth touchdown was successful and turned out to be the biggest two points in the game.

GREAT CATCH — Bob Ptacek, Michigan quarterback, made this sensational catch of a pass in the first period on the Southern Cal 12 with Trojan arms around him. The Wolverines won 20-19. Ptacek suffered a split finger in the final quarter but is expected to be ready for the big one at Michigan State Saturday.

NL Attendance Shows Increase

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League, helped by the shift of the Dodgers and Giants to the West Coast, increased its baseball attendance 15 per cent in 1958 while the American League had its lowest total in five seasons.

The final figures compiled by The Associated Press showed that the National League drew 10,163,568 through the turnstiles compared with 8,819,601 last year. The all-time NL record is 10,388,470 set in 1947.

The American League 1958 total was 7,295,914—the lowest since 1953 when it drew 6,964,076. All AL clubs except Kansas City and Washington showed decreases.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

For the next few articles let's discuss what happens with each step of the bowling approach. Today it's the first step.

As you can see in the illustration, the first step is a short one, designed to get your body into motion easily. Too long a step here would make it very difficult to blend in the movements of the arms in the push-away.

As the right foot steps forward, the arms should be extended directly forward, pushing the ball straight out and away from the body. Push the ball directly toward the pins, your target. The ball will then fall easily into the backswing as gravity takes over.

Husband Lets Her Act; Divorce Suit Dropped

She said at the time the suit was filed last month Provas objected to her resuming her career. Now he has agreed to let her accept acting roles if they don't keep her away from home too long, said.

Rebels Free Missionary

American Held 40 Days After Being Kidnaped in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—The Rev. Lester E. Griffith, an American Methodist missionary, is free again after 40 days in the hands of Algerian nationalist rebels. He was kidnaped Aug. 18.

U. S. consulate officials announced he was turned loose in good health Saturday night at Mekhta, 75 miles east of Algiers, in the Grand Kabylie Mountains.

The mountains, a rebel stamping ground, had become thick with French troops escorting voters and guarding polling places in the weekend referendum on Premier de Gaulle's new constitution.

His wife Janice and their children—Valerie Jean, 11, Forrest, 10, and Eric, 3—had waited in a suburb of Algiers through the weeks since his car was found abandoned and burned on a mountain road between Tizi-Ouzou and Fort National.

Word that Griffith remained active was received three weeks ago by Hans L. Aurbakken, the head of the American Methodist mission in North Africa.

Authorities here speculated that the rebels, once they learned the identity and nationality of their captive, decided to hold him for a while to impress upon him their fight for independence from France.

The United States consumed 212,073,384 gallons of distilled spirits during 1957, a decrease of 1.5 per cent from 1956.

His Baby Daughter Used as Shield

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Alfred J. Brunetto, 22, held his pajama-clad baby daughter as a shield against police Sunday after an attempted reconciliation with his wife ended in her death and that of a pretty teen-age neighbor girl.

Brunetto, who waved a .38-caliber revolver, was finally talked into releasing his daughter and surrendering. The curly-haired girl, Vickie Lee, 14 months, was not harmed.

Brunetto orally admitted shooting his wife Lorraine, 19, and Zehrel McKrill, 16. Police said he told of firing four times at his wife when she rejected his letter of reconciliation and three times at the neighbor girl when she tried to flee the scene.

Vera Miles Comes Out for Beards on Husbands

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Supposing the husbands of America would sit down stubble-chinned to the breakfast table and say to their wives: "I don't care what you say, I'm going to grow a beard!"

The wives might scream, along with the razor and electric shaver makers. But actress Vera Miles declares it would be a great thing for the country. Her reasoning: It would help make the male the dominant sex again.

"Women have taken everything from the male province—short hair, long pants, all kinds of things," she said. "Here at last is something that can be entirely the men's."

Vera, a bright doll who has blasted the theory that beauty contestants can't become movie stars (she was a Miss America runner-up), believes that the appearance and functions of the two sexes should be differentiated.

"Beards could offset this unhappy trend," she reasoned. "What could be more masculine? Even in the days when the males wore frilly shirts and lacy cuffs with handkerchiefs stuck in them the men were masculine. Why? Because they wore beards.

"If a man is slightly henpecked—and my husband isn't; who could henpeck that monster?—his defiant growing of a beard might be just the thing to restore his power in the house."

The "monster" she spoke of visited her on "The FBI Story" set and demonstrated why Vera started her hirsute hullabaloo. He is Gordon Scott, onetime smooth-shaven Tarzan of the apes. Now he sports a luxuriant beard and mustache.

He explained: "When I quit the Tarzan series, I wanted to get as far away from it as possible. The only way I could get producers to look at me differently was to change my appearance. And it has worked. I've had some pretty good offers for westerns."

How is it for kissing?

"After the first few days of stubble, you hardly notice it at all," she replied clinically. "The beard becomes nice and silky."

"Wouldn't it be wonderful," Vera asked pointedly, "to get up in the morning and not have to shave?"

Well, wouldn't it?

2ND BIG HIT!

THE CITY THAT DIDN'T EXIST A MONTH AGO

Every 30 days the U. S. adds as many new Americans as live in Norfolk, Va.—creating brand-new wants and needs which must be satisfied.

What does this mean to you? It means greater opportunities than ever before—in all fields. Home construction is expected to double by 1975. Power companies plan to increase output 250% in the next 20 years to provide the power for scores of new labor-saving devices. Clothing suppliers predict a one-third increase in 7 years.

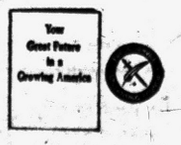

With 11,000 new citizen-consumers born every day, there's a new wave of opportunity coming.

7 BIG REASONS FOR CONFIDENCE IN AMERICA'S FUTURE

1. More people . . . Four million babies yearly. U. S. population has doubled in last 50 years! And our prosperity curve has always followed our population curve.
2. More jobs . . . Though employment in some areas has fallen off, there are 15 million more jobs than in 1939—and there will be 22 million more in 1975 than today.
3. More income . . . Family income after taxes is at an all-time high of $5300—is expected to pass $7000 by 1975.
4. More production . . . U. S. production doubles every 20 years. We will require millions more people to make, sell and distribute our products.
5. More savings . . . Individual savings are at highest level ever—$340 billion—a record amount available for spending.
6. More research . . . $10 billion spent each year will pay off in more jobs, better living, whole new industries.
7. More needs . . . In the next few years we will need $500 billion worth of schools, highways, homes, durable equipment. Meeting these needs will create new opportunities for everyone.

Add them up and you have the makings of another big upswing. Wise planners, builders and buyers will act now to get ready for it.

Superior Training Pays

Why Nationalists Winning War in Air

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Superior training and tactics account for the drubbing that Chinese Nationalists are giving Chinese Reds in jet air battles over the Formosa Strait.

That summarizes the authoritative opinions of military experts here who have followed, not without amazement, accounts of the Nationalists' victories when outnumbered three or four to one.

Since August 23, when the Reds stepped up their artillery siege of Quemoy Island and began to send their Russian built MIG jets aloft, the Nationalists have knocked down 25 to 30 of the Red planes without losing any of their American built F86 Sabres.

There was an unverified report here that the Nationalists may be using "side-winder" guided missiles, relatively simple weapons which are heat seekers.

Dispatches to the Pentagon from American military men in Formosa accept the Chinese Nationalist claims without question. They have been verified through studies of gun camera photographs and pilot interrogations.

The Reds are supposed to be flying, in the MIG17, a superior fighter plane of later design than the F86, which is a contemporary of the MIG15. F86's made a shambles of the Chinese Red air force in air battles near the Yalu River in Korea in 1950-53. The Reds flew MIG15's and there is a supposition here that many of their jets may still be of that vintage.

The MIG17, if that is the plane being defeated in Formosa Strait battles, is not as superior to the F86 as it has often been pictured. It is rated a "trans-sonic" aircraft, which means it probably has a speed of 700 to 750 miles an hour, giving it something of an edge on the F86. Like the MIG15, it also operates at higher altitudes.

Authorities said, however, that the current battles indicate the Sabre still has superior radar gunsights and profits from the rapid rate of fire in its 50 caliber guns as compared with the slower firing cannon mounted in the MIGs.

But the chief factor in the Nationalist victories has been the pilots themselves, authorities believed.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force Vice Chief of Staff, assured military leaders here, on returning from his recent Formosa trip that the Nationalist pilots were of extremely high quality, well trained, and of such high morale that they had no hesitation in taking on forces that outnumbered them.

The Nationalists were trained in the United States and in Formosa by Americans. The chief of the Air Force section of the U. S. military assistance group on Formosa is Brig. Gen. Fred M. Dean, a 41-year-old officer who also heads U. S. Air Force air defense units on the Nationalist stronghold. A fighter pilot himself, Dean formerly was vice commander of the flying training air force at Waco, Tex., where both U. S. and foreign pilots are trained.

The Communist pilots engaged in air battles are an unknown quantity. They may or may not be Red China's best. It could be, experts said, that the Reds have tried to go too far too fast in making a transition to the higher speed MIG17.

They may recall vividly what happened in the Yalu battles when they faced the F86 before, for there have been some indications here that the Reds panicked in the face of Nationalist assaults.

Their tactics were said to be considerably inferior. Air combat is an art and there are no such things as dog fights of the World War I type with fast flying jets. The Nationalists were said to have all the best of it as far as tactics were concerned.

As one example, authorities pointed out that the Communists have been willing to engage F86's at altitudes where the Sabre could put on its maximum performance. Also, the Reds appear to have jumped Nationalist cargo and reconnaissance planes, blissfully ignorant that F86's were flying top cover and would pounce on them.

Death Sentence Cut for Negro

Term for $1.95 Robbery Commuted to Life by Alabama Governor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Jimmy Wilson's death sentence for a $1.95 robbery was commuted to life imprisonment today by Gov. James E. Folsom.

The governor read a prepared statement at a news conference today which said: "After careful consideration of the fact and circumstances it is the opinion of the governor that the said Jimmy Wilson is a fit subject for executive clemency."

Wilson must serve 15 years before he is eligible for parole.

The Negro, whose fate has attracted worldwide interest and brought thousands of protesting letters and telegrams to the governor, was sentenced to death for robbing an elderly white widow of $1.95 in coins.

Under Alabama law, robbery by force, or threat of force, regardless of the amount involved, is punishable by the death penalty.

Wilson had been tried and convicted by a jury, and twice had lost appeals to the state's highest court.

He had been schduled to die in the electric chair Oct. 24.

MSU Professor to Head Portland State College

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dr. Branford Peter Millar, 44, an English professor at Michigan State University, has been appointed president of Portland State College.

Millar's appointment was announced Saturday by Dr. John Richards, chancellor of the Oregon System of Higher Education, who said Millar will take over the post next February. He will replace John Cramer, who resigned because of health earlier this year.

Small A-Bomb Exploded Over Nevada Desert

The device, packing half the power of the A-bomb that leveled Hiroshima in World War II, was detonated while hanging from a balloon 1,500 feet in the air.

Newsmen clustered on a hill 10 miles away felt the jolt.

Light winds carried the fallout from the mushroom cloud directly toward the observer's post. Forecasters had warned of this.

The test was the second in the current series being conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission. It has been postponed twice.

President Eisenhower has proposed a one-year ban on nuclear tests after the completion of the current series next month.

The devices being tested are small as atom bombs go. Today's was rated at 10 kilotons. The emphasis on smaller devices is seen as an attempt to develop nuclear weapons with a wider range of military uses.

Pete Licavoli Begins Prison Term Today

DETROIT (AP) — Pete Licavoli, 56-year-old prohibition era racketeer, surrendered today to begin a 2½ year federal prison term for income tax evasion.

The neatly dressed, wealthy Licavoli, with real estate holdings in Michigan and Arizona, told newsmen as he surrendered shortly before noon he was innocent, although he pleaded no contest in court.

Asked why, in view of his claim of innocence today, Licavoli said: "You wouldn't want your wife and mothers and others dragged into court, would you?"

He also told newsmen that 90 to 95 per cent of taxpayers don't file correct income returns.

Licavoli said he had not yet paid a $10,000 fine which U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin levied in sentencing him in July, but added "They can have it any time they want it."

Industrial markets now use only 7 per cent of the nation's annual farm production.

Burglary Rash Hits Oakland

Thieves Enter Cottage in Orion, Avon Home, Store in Highland

A rash of break-ins and larcenies were reported to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department over the weekend.

Raymond Aldrich, of 4830 Harding St., Clarkston, told deputies that someone had stolen a power mower valued at $109 and five chickens from his property.

Deputies also reported that a break-in at the home of Carl Coker, 1761 John R Rd., Avon Township, netted thieves miscellaneous items valued at more than $100.

Several cottages were reported broken into but only one, located at 1533 Bayview St., Orion Township, suffered any loss.

The cottage, owned by a Detroit man, William Reid, was ransacked and $15 cash plus two bottles of liquor were reported missing.

In thefts reported Sunday, a sporting goods store at 2821 Highland Rd., Highland Township, was burglarized of about $336 by thieves who broke through a window in the front door, said deputies.

The garage of a house under construction at 2700 Buell Rd., Oakland Township, was broken into and a clock radio plus $85 worth of plumbing tools taken.

Move Against Hold on GM by DuPont

CHICAGO (UPI) — The government has moved to halt any possible Du Pont influence over General Motors pending decision on how the chemical company must divest itself of its 63 million shares of GM stock.

Earl Jinkinson, head of the Justice Department's anti-trust division in Chicago, said he will go before Federal Judge Walter La Buy within the next two weeks to ask for a series of procedural curbs.

These would enjoin Du Pont from having representation on the General Motors board or permitting its officers to attend meetings, restrain Du Pont from voting its GM stock or increasing the percentage of its holdings, and restrain the Christiana and Delaware holding companies from serving on the GM board or voting their stock holdings.

The Supreme Court ruled that Du Pont's 23 per cent stock interest in General Motors violates anti-trust laws and at issue now is the procedure for stock disposal.

Cool Weather Prevails Over Much of Nation

By The Associated Press

Dry and cool weather prevailed across most of the Eastern half of the country today but some warmer air headed into the Midwest.

Rains diminished in southeastern New Mexico and western Texas during the night but scattered thundershowers continued in northern Arizona. More rain was forecast from Arizona into western Texas and the lower Rio Grande Valley during the day.

Temperatures dropped into the 30s in parts of the northern and central Appalachians. Freezing weather was reported in central Pennsylvania. Readings in the 50s extended southward into the south Atlantic states and central sections of Alabama and Mississippi. They were in the 60s along the Gulf coast, but warm air clung to southern Florida.

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Larceny in Building

Bernard W. Cassidy, 32, of 1911 Auburndale St., Pontiac, pleaded guilty this morning in Berkley Justice Court to a charge of larceny in a building.

Berkley Police said they arrested Cassidy Sunday morning after he emerged from the Berkley Inn, 1881 Woodward Ave. They found $80 on him, which he admitted taking from the inn, according to Detective Sgt. Harry Bailey.

Cassidy had been suspected of burglarizing several hundred dollars from the inn last March, Bailey said, and police had been watching for him.

Dow Chemical Opens New Plant in Midland

MIDLAND (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. opened a semi-commercial $500,000 plant for pharmaceutical and food chemical, aromatic and cosmetic raw materials in Midland today.

A spokesman said volume production of four to six different products can be undertaken at one time at the new plant.

Production for the first week was to include a new compound to kill the sea lamprey and a flavorant and odorant.

Business and Finance

Prices on Grains Down Slightly

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices for grain futures were mostly a bit lower in early dealings on the board of trade today.

Transaction in wheat were fairly active at the outset with prices ranging from a fraction lower to a fraction higher in a mixed trade. There was only a small amount of demand for the bread grain. Export demand, expected for sometime, continued absent.

Corn eased in a rather light trade. Several brokers representing northwest interests were on the buying side at the start but a heavier wave of selling offset purchases.

Scattered selling of soybeans depressed the market as much as a cent in fairly active early transactions. Oats followed the pattern set by corn. Rye was down fractionally.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ⅜ higher, December $1.95½; corn ⅛ to ¾ lower, December old tyle contract $1.41½; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, December 63¾, rye ¼ to ⅝ lower, December $1.32½; and soybeans ⅛ to 1⅛ lower, November $2.18½.

Boy, 4, Missing in UP Forests

Air-Land Search On for Child Lost Since Sunday Afternoon

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—A 4-year-old boy was missing in rugged, wild bear country 35 miles east of Iron Mountain in the Norway Lake region today. He wandered away unnoticed from an Upper Michigan hunting camp about 2 p.m. Sunday.

An estimated 500, including planes and horse patrols, joined the search for Kenneth Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scott of adjoining Kingsford.

Kenneth was visiting a Dickinson County hunting camp with his mother and father when he vanished in the brush and swamp region, which has one of Michigan's highest bear and deer populations.

Marquette County Sheriff's Deputies rushed bloodhounds to the scene and K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base sent a helicopter today. Also joining in the search were two Civil Air Patrol planes, a mounted horse patrol from the Dickinson County Sheriff's Department, volunteer student groups from Iron Mountain, Kingsford and Felch High Schools and volunteers who left Upper Peninsula industrial jobs.

Remanded on Charge of Negligent Slaying

Alfred H. Thompson, 51-year-old Davison man charged with negligent homicide in the auto death of two men in Drayton Plains Sept. 14 today was remanded back to Waterford Township Justice Court for examination.

Thompson is charged with driving the car which struck and killed Alfred R. Adkins, 21, of 163 Augusta Ave., and David J. Williams, 33, of 6831 Saline St., Waterford Township. The two men were fixing a flat tire on their car stopped on U.S. 10 at Hatchery road when they were hit. Thompson told police he must have fallen asleep at the wheel.

X-Ray Unit Permits TV Heart Examination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new X-ray unit, which will permit doctors to examine the heart on a large television screen, was unveiled here yesterday.

The unit, called a specialized cardiological table, was demonstrated to the American Roentgen Ray Society. It would make fluoroscopic examinations for possible heart disease easier, faster and safer, according to its developers.

Rush of Trading Boosts Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved higher in heavy early trading today.

The market was higher at the start in a rush of trading that put the ticker tape behind transactions for a period of 10 minutes. Prices held and in some cases improved as turnover moderated.

Douglas Aircraft leaped about 2 points following publication of a report that its Thor missile had been chosen over the Jupiter for mass production.

American Telephone fell more than a point at the start, then virtually erased the loss. The stock had a sensational run-up last week but has been backing away as optimistic reports on greater benefits to stockholders were discounted.

Business News remained favorable on the whole and the market was once again moving forward just below the latest record high. Coppers, electric equipments, aircrafts, rails and drugs were generally higher. Chrysler was firm but the other big three auto makers were off fractions. U. S. Steel was up about a point. Other steels showed little change.

Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were about a point higher. Higher price expectations for copper were reported.

Merck rose about 2. Gains of about a point were made by Baltimore & Ohio and Du Pont. Smaller gains were made by Boeing, International Nickel, Lorillard, Pfizer and American Smelting. Losses were taken by Montgomery Ward, Southern Railway, and Goodrich.

Bleachers Fall, 70 Hospitalized

Sinking Support Braces Blamed in Crash of 200 at Football Game

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—The Ladd Stadium maintenance supervisor said a portion of the field's wooden bleachers collapsed during Saturday night's Alabama-Louisiana State football game because support braces sank into the rain-softened ground.

W. R. Manint said about 200 spectators were sent crashing to the ground when they jumped up and down and "forced the supports to sink lower in the ground, tilting the stands and throwing the weight off the wooden support beams."

"Every ambulance in the city, including one from Brookley Air Force Base, were sent here," added Tuthill.

Manint said he and police officers had tried to evacuate the bleacher section before the collapse occurred after they noticed the stands were beginning to lean. He said they were only able to get a few persons to leave.

A few minutes before the temporary stands fell, he said, 1,500 spectators were evacuated from another section which had also been sinking.

British Answer to Elvis Presley Tapped by Draft

LONDON (UPI)—British rock 'n' roll star Terry Dene has received his army call-up papers.

But unlike Elvis Presley, Terry doesn't intend to go peacefully.

The Empire News Reporter quoted Terry Sunday as saying: "They haven't nabbed me yet."

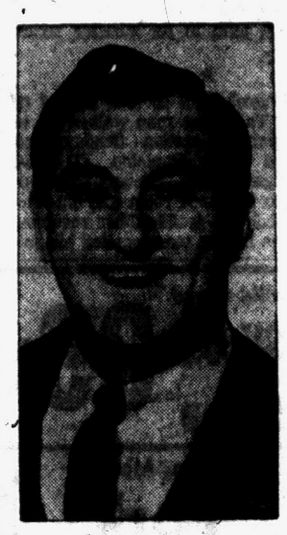

"I can't stand being shouted at — never could since I was a kid. I ran away from school when the teachers bawled me out and I may do the same again," he said.

Dene went on, "Look, mate, I'm sick. I'm all nerves. If I go into the army I'd feel like a trapped animal.

"And I reckon that everybody should be free in this life. If after six weeks I know the army isn't for me then I'll come home.

"Look what a lift the American Army is getting because Elvis Presley has joined up."

DANNY THOMAS

'Self-Seeker,' Howl Accusers

TV Star Goes All Out to See Hospital Built to 'Pay Debt'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Sooner or later every movie and TV star who donates time or money to charity is accused of using his altruism for one purpose: Publicity.

Danny Thomas is no exception. He's still smarting from a newspaper dispatch written about him almost a year ago.

And the closer his St. Jude Hospital in Tennessee comes into being, the more vulnerable he becomes.

The upshot of it is that the dark-haired entertainer whose weekly television show is back this fall on CBS-TV is cautious whenever the subject comes up for public discussion.

"I've been accused of using it as a gimmick," Thomas said, "as a means of building a high rating on my show."

Nothing could be further from the truth, Thomas says.

The comedian soon may be subject to additional criticism on the subject. Music from "The Jazz Singer," sung by Thomas, has been issued on a special record which will be sold on behalf of the hospital project.

It's inevitable that some people will doubt that all of the proceeds of the $5 record will be going to charities. (Half of the profit will go to the hospital and the other half will revert to individual charities sponsoring the sales of the record throughout the U.S.)

Thomas hopes to raise a final $500,000 for the hospital by the time construction is begun in November. During the last six years Thomas and some of his show business friends have raised $1,250,000 for the hospital which will specialize in the free treatment of leukemia-stricken children. Patients will be admitted regardless of race, color, creed or financial status.

Thomas has been fund-raising since 1940 when he hit a low period in his entertainment career and, as a devoted Catholic, prayed for a sign from St. Jude, the patron saint of the hopeless. When he returned home a short time later there were two telegrams waiting for him, both offering jobs.

His career took an almost immediate turn for the better and since then has surged upward at a steady rate.

"The hospital is my way of saying 'thank you' for all that I have come to be," Thomas said.

The entertainer has not limited his charity work to his own project, however. Every year he receives hundreds of pleas for assistance and he estimates he has worked for "almost every major organization and charity in the United States."

But that's all changing now, Thomas said. "I'm limiting myself to children's work. If you aren't careful you spread yourself too thin. I don't want the public to say, 'Oh, no, not Danny Thomas again,' every time they see me make an appeal for funds."

Princess Meg Going to Visit Bachelor King

LONDON (UP)—Princess Margaret is going to spend the next three days in romantic Brussels —and her big date is bachelor King Baudouin.

Margaret's rejected suitor, Group Capt. Peter Townsend, an old Brussels boy friend, doesn't even seem to be in her engagement book. Informed sources say Townsend, who has made Brussels his self-exiled home, is not in the city.

It was from the gay capital of Belgium that Townsend once paid court to Margaret by telephone and letters.

That was when he was air attache at the British Embassy, a job to which he was hurried from London to get him away from Margaret.

Few, if any people, are speculating on any love match between Margaret and Baudouin, but certain facts about them stand out like diamonds on a tiara.

But—there are also certain facts that might discourage any romantic coupling of Margaret's and Baudouin's names.

He is a Roman Catholic. She is an Anglican Protestant.

Varying Layer of Peat Covers Northern Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland — A survey by students of Queen's University, Belfast, shows that about one fifth of the area of Northern Ireland is covered with a layer of peat varying in thickness from a few inches to 40 feet. About 500,000 acres of these deposits are "blanket bog" — peat in a relatively thin layer, usually found on high moorland. The remainder, about 100,000 acres, is "basin bog," usually found in valleys or other depressions.

St. Lawrence Seaway Uses Much Concrete

MASSENA, N. Y. (UPI)—It took more than three million cubic yards of concrete to build the U.S. portions of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Projects.

About two million cubic yards went into the Long Sault Spillway Dam, the Iroquois Control Dam and the Massena Intake Structure, enough concrete to provide every resident of New York state with a 550-pound slab.

Plans 'Unified Dress' for Egyptian Workers

CAIRO — If plans now afoot are carried out, all the workers in Egypt will soon be wearing a standardized uniform. The Ministry of Social Affairs has approved the introduction of a "unified dress" and has asked the Egyptian Industries Federation and employers to adopt it in their establishments.

The new dress — shirt and trousers or an overall to replace the traditional flowing garment known as the galabia—will be introduced first in towns and then in rural areas.

Elaine's Making Sure She Won't Be on Relief

By EARL WILSON

WILSON

"I got into it when things happened at MGM and they began cutting down," Elaine, who's from Montclair, N. J., told me.

"I'd been wanting to try it, anyway. Because you can get so wrapped up with a town called Hollywood and a thing called Show Business that you forget the rest of the world.

"Besides I thought it would keep me from getting a neurosis worrying about what was going to happen.

"And I just happened to hit it lucky. One of my stocks split 3 for 1 . . . I picked up some land in Palm Springs and you know what that's doing . . . Many people said I was crazy to invest in oil but you can ask my bank in Abilene where I have an interest in four going wells . . .

ELAINE

So now the situation's reversed: Elaine looks upon acting as the thing she wants to do but isn't sure she can afford.

"Now I don't think I'll ever eat my heart out thinking one of these days I'll be old and it'll all be over and then what do I do—go on relief?

"When I first went to Hollywood, I got some pretty unrealistic coaching," she remembered. "It was the year everybody wore dresses without underwear and said 'Oooooooh, darling,' with rounded lips.

"Life isn't 'Oooooooh, darling,' all the time. Part of the course was learning to walk. When the coach said, 'Tomorrow, darling, we walk,' I said, 'Dear God, take me away from this.'"

Elaine may not have learned to walk but she took a walk, anyway—out of the course. She's just gone back to Beverly Hills—"to clear up some things"—and may come back here and do B'way shows and TV.

It'd be strange, wouldn't it, if somebody married her for her money?

EARL'S PEARLS: Have you heard about the B'way character who used to be a chain-smoker—then switched to cigarets?

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "If you're careless enough, your car will last you a lifetime."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A man in Minneapolis told his 7-year-old son, "Tommy, I've a surprise. Mother found a tiny baby brother for you in the garden this morning. Why don't you write sister the good news?" The father sneaked a peek at the letter which said, "Dear Sis: You owe me a buck. It's a boy!" (via Oscar Jay).

Morning Thirst Lands Driver in Jail 10 Hours

MAPLEWOOD, N. J. (UPI)—Warren Dixon, 21, was thirsty.

So he ended up in jail for 10 hours.

Nothing came out.

Dixon started to bang and jiggle the machine.

Out came two policemen from the shadows an arrested him for attempted larceny.

Chirping of Parakeet Adds Flair to Concert

A woman in the audience took a parakeet from a cardboard box, perched it on one index finger and used the other to beat time while the bird chirped an accompaniment to Goodman's playing.

The act over, she put the bird back in its box and left the hall.

Former AF Engineer Builds Plane at Home

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Ray Looft, a former Air Force flight engineer, has built his own light plane in the garage of his home. And it flew on the first try.

The single-seat craft, with an 85-horsepower engine, has a 22-foot wingspan and an 18-foot fuselage. It cost Looft about $1,200 to build, flies 125 miles an hour and can cruise two and a half hours on a full tank of gas.

One Second Too Late to Start School in 1958

NEW BEDFORD, Mass (UPI) — Gary Pereira missed kindergarten this year because he was a second late.

Born one second after midnight on New Years Eve in 1954, he can't start school because he won't be five before the end of this year, the school board ruled.

Labor Party Asks Quemoy Evacuation

The was only one dissenting vote.

"I cannot accept that Britain's attitude toward America should be one of obsequious silence when we disagree with them," party leader Hugh Gaitskell told the delegates.

"We cannot and we will not be a party to a war designed to uphold and maintain dictator Chiang on the offshore islands."

Philippines Ask Japan for Big Loans on Dam

TOKYO (AP)—The Philippines called on Japan today for big loans to help build the Marikina River power dam northeast of Manila and expand Philippines communication facilities.

Japanese officials have previously expressed willingness to help in these projects, whose total cost is estimated at 78½ million dollars.

Ancient Pistol Death Weapon

Find Museum Piece Lying Near Body of Despondent Artist

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)— An out-of-work artist and museum executive today was found shot to death with an ancient pistol lying nearby in the Hudson River Museum here where he formerly was assistant curator.

The former employe, Ned Cornish, 32, had returned here in a despondent mood a few days ago and was permitted to live in the museum, once a mansion. He had left the museum in 1957 to become assistant director of the art center at Kalamazoo, Mich.

The director of the museum, Thomas Voter, who had lent his keys to the building to Cornish, was unable to get into the locked museum at 2 a.m. today.

Cornish, who had been out of a job since June, leaves a widow, Carolyn, and two small daughters and a son in Falls Church, Va.

He received a Bachelor's degree from American University, Washington, D.C., and a Master's degree from New York University. His education was interrupted by service in the Marines in the Pacific during World War II.

Cornish was employed for a time at the Corcoran Art Galleries in Washington and came to the museum here in 1954.

Why 'Love' in Tennis?

The term "love" in a tennis match comes from the French "l'oeuf," meaning "egg" or "zero." When tennis came to England from France, the term was spelled "love."

Movie-Maker Says Holmes 'Mean, Moody'

He's About to Expose Nasty Sherlock

The Holmes the modern public knows, says Tony Hinds, is a fake. He may have been a magnificent detective, but he was mean and moody too.

Hinds makes horror movies. He's planning to give the horror treatment to "The Hound of the Baskervilles," one of the best known stories about Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's fictional crime-buster.

"Every movie so far gave Sherlock the romantic treatment," said Hinds, a 38-year-old Londoner with horn-rimmed glasses and a quiet manner. "You know the sort of thing. The great man. Amiable, patient, considerate. Pondering crimes like Rodin's Thinker.

"But the truth is that Holmes was—well, not quite top drawer, you know. Took cocaine. Kept cigars in the coal scuttle. Moody, cynical, bad tempered, rude — that's the sort of man he was."

Hinds said Holmes' contempt for Scotland Yard detectives was first class egoism and his rudeness to his sidekick, Dr. Watson, was "absolutely deplorable."

"The old way was to treat Holmes and Watson as a sort of comic opera act with the intelligent and kindly Holmes trying to cope with well meaning but stupid Watson," said Hinds.

"But Watson was no fool. He was an intelligent physician. Not the equal of Holmes in brainpower but a solid, courageous man with both feet on the ground."

Holdup Man Returns; Completely Foiled

A week ago, he was robbed of $70. The same man walked up to Stapleton's station Sunday and found that Stapleton (1) had recognized him, (2) was barricaded in the back room and (3) was armed with a .38-caliber revolver.

The holdup man emptied his gun into the door of the back room. On the other side, Stapleton emptied his gun right back. No one apparently got hit.

When the smoke cleared, Stapleton told police, he could hear the holdup man rifling the cash register. But Stapelton was ahead of him there too. It was empty.
