BATTLE FLAMES — Firemen fight the blaze which destroyed the Kroger supermarket at Perry Street and Joslyn Avenue last night. Cause of $250,000 fire has not yet been determined. High winds fanned the flames which 75 firemen fought for three hours before bringing them under control around midnight. At the height of the blaze, flames soared 200 feet in the air, attracting a crowd of more than 1,000.

Threat to Berlin Has Dissolved

Summit Blocks Removed, Says Ike to Nation

But President Declines to Claim Assurances From Khrushchev

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today of his talks with Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that the threat to Berlin no longer exists and his personal conditions for holding a summit conference have been met.

But Eisenhower declined to say in so many words that the Soviet leader had given him personal assurances which amounted to lifting the Berlin threat.

He replied to news conference questions on that point by saying he did not want to put words in anybody's mouth.

The President, battling a cold, added he wants to get away as soon as possible for five days in a desert climate.

Ike also stated he is "getting sick and tired of the apparent impasse" in the steel strike.

He strongly indicated the government is planning some action soon to try to end the 76-day-old shutdown.

Eisenhower said he agreed with Khrushchev that the Berlin situation is abnormal — because of the existence of a group of free people inside Communist territory. He said that some system must be found which would be acceptable to both sides.

As things now stand—following the Camp David conferences—no one is under duress, Eisenhower said and no one is under any kind of threat. Khrushchev, he added, stated emphatically that he never intended any kind of threat or ultimatum on Berlin.

He disclosed that in the course of the talks which he had with Khrushchev at Camp David, Md.,

Hurricane Roars Toward Coast

Gale Warnings Go Up From Daytona Beach to North Carolina

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Gracie whirled ominously in toward the mainland today and the Miami Weather Bureau ordered a hurricane watch for coastal areas from Savannah, Ga., northward to Wilmington, N.C.

Gale warnings were issued from Daytona Beach, Fla., north along the coast to Morehead City, N.C., as Gracie's outer winds moved within 75 miles of shore. The hurricane packs a 90-mile-an-hour punch around the center.

★ ★ ★

Winds will increase gradually and are expected to reach gale force tonight from the upper Florida coast to North Carolina. Seas will roughen and tides should reach one to two feet above normal in some places tonight.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today summoned industry and union leaders to separate White House meetings Wednesday morning in an effort to end the 76-day old steel strike.

Farmers to Sell Wares on Curbs Harvest Day

Saginaw and West Huron streets in downtown Pontiac will resemble a farmers' market Saturday, date of the second annual Downtown Harvest Day sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Assn.

★ ★ ★

Merchants will feature special sales events Thursday, Friday and Saturday, said George Richman, DMA president.

★ ★ ★

The Harvest Day is one of many attractions for shoppers sponsored by the association throughout the year. This particular event is designed also to acquaint out-county shoppers with Pontiac's attractiveness as a shopping center, said Richman.

Ike Is Seeking Peace, Says K., Back in Moscow

Reports Darker Spots of His Visit, Too, as He Denounces Cold War

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev told the Russian people on his return today from the United States he believes President Eisenhower "sincerely wants to liquidate the cold war and establish normal relations between our two countries."

The Soviet Premier, in a speech broadcast from the Moscow sports Palace, could hardly say enough nice things about Eisenhower, but reported dark spots about his visit, too.

Some angry faces were spotted on his tour, he said. He called for exposure and whipping of forces which he declared were working in the United States "against easing international tensions."

He lauded the President for "his statesmanship, wisdom and courage in judging the world situation."

"I have no doubt that President Eisenhower would like to make efforts toward universal peace," he said. "I got the impression that there are forces which do not work in the same direction as the President. I do not know how influential they are, for the President is supported by a majority of his people."

The Premier announced that Eisenhower will make his visit to Moscow some time in late May or the beginning of June 1960, with his wife and son, Maj. John Eisenhower. That is the beginning of the Russian spring, in sharp contrast to the wintry weather which the President would have faced any time this fall.

"Let those who want to continue the cold war be angry," Khrushchev said. "They will not be supported by reasoning people."

★ ★ ★

He expressed warm graditude to Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, who accompanied him. He said the American press, radio and television "in the main covered our stay correctly."

"Long live American - Soviet friendship!"

That brought his audience to its feet, cheering and applauding.

Braves and Dodgers Start Playoffs Today

It was a dark weekend for Michigan athletic teams as Michigan and Michigan State lost on the college gridirons and the Detroit Lions were beaten 21-9 by the World Champion Colts.

The Detroit Tigers also closed the 1959 season on a sour note losing 6-4 to the American League champions, the White Sox.

The National League pennant race ended in a tie between Milwaukee and Los Angeles and the two teams start a three-game playoff series today in Milwaukee.

Christmas: Danger

Gunshot Wounds Are Fatal to Briggs Executive, Wife

The wife of a Briggs Manufacturing Company executive died early this morning from bullet wounds suffered Sunday when she allegedly shot and killed her husband and then shot herself in their Oakland Township ranch home.

Mrs. Evelyn Gibb, 51, died at Avon Center Hospital shortly after 1 a.m. today.

Her husband James E. Gibb, 53, was found dead in a bedroom of their $50,000 home at 1380 Gum Rd. yesterday morning. He had been shot three times in the head and abdomen.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and detectives rushed to the scene when they were summoned by William Potere, owner of Potere Funeral Home, Rochester.

CALL HIM FOR AMBULANCE

Potere told detectives that Mrs. Gibb had called him for an ambulance. When he arrived he found her sitting in a kitchen chair, her clothing covered with blood from chest wounds.

Her husband was dead, said Potere. Detectives said one of the Gibbs' daughters, Mrs. Suzanne Dotson of Detroit, had arrived just before the ambulance to visit her parents.

"On the way to the hospital in the ambulance my mother told me she shot him (Gibb) and then shot herself," detectives quoted the daughter as telling them.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Edgar J. Geist of Rochester estimated the shooting occurred between 5 and 7 a.m. The weapon used was a .22 caliber Italian-make pistol.

The daughter and her husband John had come to celebrate the birthday of one of their three children with the grandparents.

NO OFFICIAL DECISION

"We haven't officially written it off as a murder and suicide yet, but all evidence points to that," said Det. Marion C. Bauman today.

Bauman said Mrs. Gibb left a note indicating possible marital difficulties and he added that family friends had told him Mrs. Gibb had been ill recently.

However members of the family said they were unaware of any marital problems between the couple, the detective added.

Detectives said she suffered three bullet wounds in the chest.

The Gibbs lived on a 22-acre plot of rolling countryside, according to Sheriff Frank W. Irons. They had been married 29 years.

Wind, Rain Rap State; to Be Cooler

Winds up to 71 miles an hour lashed lower Michigan over the weekend and most of the lower peninsula suffered damage by storms late Saturday night, early Sunday and early today.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Weather Bureau reports that temperatures will average about six degrees below the normal 68 high and normal 49 low in this area for the next five days. Occasional showers or thundershowers are predicted for tonight and tomorrow. The low tonight will be 65. Tomorrow's high will be near 76.

★ ★ ★

Lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 66. Winds were southwesterly at 10 miles per hour at 10 today.

High winds hit in the Pontiac area about 5:30 this morning. Waterford Township police said a large plate glass window in the Cunningham Drug Store at the Drayton Shopping Center was blown out.

In Livonia a barn literally "blew its top" when the storm hit and carried the structure several hundred yards, smashing into the owner's home.

DEMOLISHES HOME

In the Chesaning area, the storm collapsed a hangar at the village airport, damaging eight planes. A $75,000 loss was suffered.

The storm was responsible for one death, south of Dowagiac, when a tree limb fell across the highway causing a two-car collision which killed a 72-year-old man.

Telephone service between Muskegon and Ludington was cut off from 9 p.m. Saturday to 7 p.m. Sunday, and in the Grand Rapids area cloudbursts flooded roads and backed up sewers.

.98 INCHES RAINFALL

Rainfall from 10 a.m. Saturday until 10 today measured .98 inches.

At 2 p.m. the downtown temperature was 78.

75 Firefighters Battle $250,000 Kroger Blaze

By DICK HANSON

Wind-fanned flames raced through a Kroger supermarket at Perry street and Joslyn avenue last night, gutting the building in a spectacular $250,000 blaze.

Eight fire engines, including one from Birmingham, rushed to the scene at 8:50 p.m. within minutes after the first call came in. By then, the flames had about an hour head start.

Within 20 minutes after hoses were trained on the brick and cement block building, the huge roof collapsed with a roar.

Flames shot up 200 feet through the gaping hole. Several thousand exploding cans of foodstuff flew high into the night, showering a rain of sparks and boiling-hot contents below.

The store had been open for business during the day until 6 p.m. No one was known to be in the building when the fire broke out.

Firemen struggled with the raging inferno for three hours before bringing it under control. Periodically, bright blue flashes further illuminated the blazing building as electrical power lines burst into flames.

FEARED GAS BLAST

Consumers Power workers labored desperately alongside the firefighters to cut off utilities to the doomed supermarket. For two hours before the main was severed the men sweated out the possibility of gas explosions.

The three-alarm fire brought a total of 75 firemen into action. No one was hurt.

When they first arrived, no fire was visible from outside the building. But, thick black smoke billowed from the broken windows of the building, enveloping the area completely.

Once the roof had collapsed, large windows across the front of the store facing Perry street gave spectators a panoramic view of a solid sheet of flames devouring everything inside. Nothing could be salvaged.

Firemen fought to keep the blaze from spreading to other nearby stores as sparks licked at roofs and nearby cars. But no additional damage was reported this morning.

Only the charred brick and cement block walls of the supermarket are left standing today. According to Fire Marshal Charles Metz, they probably will have to be torn down. The building alone was valued at $125,000, said Metz.

Metz said he suspects that the fire started in electrical equipment of the refrigeration unit in the market's meat department. Authorities are continuing their investigation today.

Windows Blew Like Shell Blasts

"It sounded like a bunch of cannons going off; like a string of shells exploding," said Arnold W. Edmunds, 20, describing how the huge plate glass windows of a Kroger Supermarket "blew out" last night.

"Even before the firemen could get their hoses hooked up the windows blew with a roar. Glass flew out into the parking lot," said Edmunds of 1010 Walton Blvd., who is manager of the Vitality Feed Store, about 100 yards from the burned out market at Perry street and Joslyn avenue.

"There was just a lot of smoke, but no flames. They ran ladders up to the roof," he continued.

"Several firemen scrambled up the ladders and over the roof's edge. Then, boom, the roof went in about seven places at once."

★ ★ ★

"It's a wonder they weren't killed. As parts caved in the flames rose up in hot blasts and just seemed to move across the roof like a wave. I never saw firemen move so fast. They almost ran down those ladders."

His store, closest to the fire, was not harmed.

Jim Butcher, 17, of 5115 Rochester Rd., Troy, said, "I was at least five miles away and saw the column of smoke and then the flames as I drove toward Pontiac."

Others reported seeing the fire from distances of six to ten miles away.

"All my customers just burned down," he mumbled. "Most of them (the Kroger employes) ate lunch here."

LONDON (UPI) — A shoeshine boy in Hyde Park has expanded his business by offering a new service to women customers. Pat Downs said he's offering toenail polish in eight colors.

930,000 Lost, Homeless in Japan After Typhoon

TOKYO (AP)—Japan staggered today under mounting casualties from the whiplash of a weekend typhoon which left at least 2,618 dead or missing and 927,708 homeless.

Weary officials at national police headquarters worked around the clock to keep up with the rising toll as rescuers dug through mud and debris for bodies.

By noon, they listed 1,161 known dead, 1,467 missing and 4,668 injured.

MAIN STREET A GUESS

A Japanese newsman who visited Nagashima, a town in central Japan reported: "I could only guess the location of the main street. It was completely submerged by floodwaters. So was the railway station and the movie theater. Everything was gone, it seemed, except for the old man and old woman on whose boat I hitched a ride."

A newsman in nearby Handa told of weeping relatives digging through mud and debris by candlelight for the bodies of 200 Japanese believed buried there.

At Kuwana City 85 bodies had been recovered but 685 persons were still missing.

The harbor of the industrial city of Nagoya was described as a "sea of dead," with seven ocean-going ships grounded like beached whales and debris floating everywhere. Hundreds were killed or missing in the city of two million. There also was heavy industrial damage.

Nagoya, Nagashima, Handa and Kuwana all border Ise Bay, on the Pacific coast of central Japan, where Typhoon Vera first struck Saturday with maximum winds over 160 miles an hour.

The storm swept up the main island of Honshu, crossed Hokkaido Island and finally swirled into the Okhotsk Sea and the northern Pacific with diminishing strength Sunday night.

23 Killed in Michigan

Autumn's First Weekend Breeds Traffic Tragedy

By The Associated Press

★ ★ ★

In addition, there was one drowning. Ernest McKinney, 28, of Albion drowned Sunday in North Lake, near Coldwater, when a boat overturned.

Four of the traffic victims were members of the same family. They died in a car-truck collision in Washtenaw County. Two Benton Harbor area men died in the state's only other multiple fatality accident.

A high union official was among the other traffic victims.

The four members of the same family to lose their lives in Saturday's car-truck collision on U.S. 12 near Chelsea were Speros Karmes, 66, of Hastings; his wife Helen, 44; their son Peter, 18, and daughter Carol, 15.

Roy W. Genther, 48, Dorr, was killed Saturday night when his car hit a cement abutment on U. S. 131 near Wayland.

Mrs. Mary Lemerand, 64, Escanaba, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car as she crossed an Escanaba street.

Laurance C. Mauzy, 67, Pleasant Ridge, was killed Saturday in a three-car accident in Royal Oak.

Connie L. Dolezal, 9, of Dundee lost her life Saturday when she ran into the path of an auto west of Monroe.

George James Murphy, 57, Muskegon, vice president of the state AFL-CIO, was killed Sunday in a highway accident in the Upper Peninsula. State Police said Murphy's car and a truck collided head-on on M64 in Marenisco Township.

Robert G. Heisler, 21, Olivet, was killed Sunday when his car struck a tree in Calhoun Township.

Harry J. Ingram, 41, Detroit, was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision in Highland Park.

Morris Shapiro, 65, Detroit, was killed Sunday when struck by a car while crossing a Detroit street.

Harold D. Bevier, 28, Dearborn, was injured fatally Saturday when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck-trailer in Dearborn.

Arthur Pearson, 74, Detroit, was killed Friday night when struck by a car while crossing a Detroit street.

Victor Kichajda, 61, Detroit, died Friday night when a car struck him as he crossed a Detroit street.

John Gorski, 61, Benton Harbor, and George Johnson, 46, Benton Harbor, were killed Saturday when their car went off a Berrien County road and struck a utility pole.

Mrs. Pearl Sharp, 41, Negaunee, was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding ran out of control and overturned a mile north of Ironwood.

Mrs. Dorothy Ambler, 56, Pontiac, was killed Sunday when a car driven by her husband Harry, 58, collided with another east of Utica.

U.S., Reds Pledge Peaceful Atom Aid

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have reached full agreement to support the East-West International Atomic Energy Agency in its efforts to promote the peaceful use of nuclear energy, the head of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said here today. As an immediate result, more American and Soviet nuclear scientists will be exchanged.

★ ★ ★

John A. McCone said his recent Washington talks on mutual exchange of nonmilitary nuclear information with his Russian opposite number, V. S. Emelyanov, led to the understanding that the agency "is becoming a useful instrument and that its activities should be expanded."

China to 'Liberate' Offshore Islands

TOKYO (AP) — President Liu Shao-chi opened Red China's 10th anniversary celebrations in Peiping today by declaring Formosa and the Nationalist offshore islands will be "liberated."

Radio Peiping said Liu spoke in "the magnificent new assembly hall" of Parliament before Communist delegations from all over the world.

Mao Tze-tung, party chairman and leader of Red China, made his first public appearance at celebration events. Mao was absent from the airport when Liu and others welcomed arriving delegations Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Peiping said Mao, Liu and other Chinese leaders were given "a long, standing, stormy ovation from the assembly."

'American-Led' Rebels Are Foiled in Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — Government troops broke up an attempted air drop of arms to American-led rebels in Consolacion Del Sur over the weekend and arrested an undisclosed number of "counter-revolutionaries," it was reported today.

More than 40 persons arrested in the West Cuban town after two skirmishes last week include two Americans described as leaders of the rebel "Cuban Democratic Legion"—Col. Austin Young of Indianapolis and Maj. Peter J. Lambton of Nassau, Bahamas.

The most recent arrests included a number of prominent local residents, among them Consolacion's ex-Mayor Francisco Sanchez Gonzalez and a number of prominent businessmen.

Second Straight Day

Storms Rake Midwest

By The Associated Press

Sections of the Midwest were raked for the second successive day Sunday and early today by rain, strong winds, thunderstorms and tornadoes.

Tornadoes struck at Welsh and Vinita, Okla., and at Owego and Baxter Springs, Kan., the Weather Bureau reported. A farmer was injured when a tornado struck farms near Chetopa, Kan. Numerous farm buildings were damaged.

★ ★ ★

Funnel clouds, heavy rains and high winds were reported near Columbia, Mo., late Sunday. Trees were uprooted and utility lines downed.

★ ★ ★

High winds and heavy rain struck at northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin late Sunday. At Peoria and Joliet, Ill., winds of 70 m.p.h. were recorded. Avon, Ill., reported 3½ inches of rain, Rockford, Ill., 1½ inches; Joplin, Mo., had more than 2 inches.

★ ★ ★

Chicago and its northern and northwestern suburbs felt the second day of powerful winds and rain. Scores of trees were uprooted and utility lines were felled.

Portions of Colorado had a heavy snowfall Sunday. At Squaw Pass, west of Denver, in the central Rockies, nearly three feet of snow was piled up on a road. Leadville, Colo., had 11 inches on the ground early today.

★ ★ ★

In startling contrast to the violent weather, the area from Texas and the Gulf states northward through the central plains and the mid-Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic seaboard was bathed with warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico.

Boys Gone to Dogs — Girls Cop 16 Prizes

The feminine sweep was even more impressive considering that among the 50 youngsters in the competition about 20 were boys, said Leonard T. Buzz, recreation director.

"This year, it seemed the girls were taking better care of their pets," observed Buzz.

Good dog grooming was one of the important contests in which dogs were judged. Other prizes went for trick dogs and dog and owner combinations and to youngsters who were well informed about care of pets.

Prizes were awarded in two divisions, one for youngsters ages 7 to 11 and the other for those ages 12 to 17.

The grand prize for the best all around dog went to Diane Tietjens, 10, of 408 Alberta St. She and her 2½-year-old German Shepherd, Jet, also won first prize in the pet-owner competition in the junior division.

The only male victory was scored by Billy Dugan, 11, of 363 Nelson St., whose dachshund, Ginger, won a second prize for tricks.

Other winners were Stephanie Bennett, 12, of 212 E. Rundell; Sharon Abney, 12, of 1624 N. Telegraph Rd.; Brenda Massey, 14, of 643 Lennox St.; Jeanne Dodd, 13, of 355 Brooklyn Ave.; Susan Killen, 13, of 94 Glenwood Ave.; Sharon Motzinger, 16, and her sister, Lorraine, 14, of 372 Newport Ave.

by Macomb County sheriff's deputies. Ola F. Greek, 64, of Detroit, stopped for a flashing signal, then pulled out into the path of the Ambler car, hitting the rear bumper and spinning it into the path of a third vehicle.

Driver of the third car was Edward J. Taube Sr. of Grosse Pointe Woods. He suffered injuries to his right leg in the mishap. His wife Joan, 65, had chest, head and leg injuries.

Harry Ambler, 58, who was driving the car in which his wife was riding, suffered neck injuries, and Esther Mataley, 56, a passenger in Greek's car sustained back injuries.

All were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Izvestia Flails Soviet Lag in Baby Carriages

MOSCOW (UPI)—The government newspaper Izvestia has rapped Soviet industry for dragging its feet in a vital field—baby carriage production.

★ ★ ★

Izvestia said yesterday Soviet baby carriages are often of bad quality and poor appearance, subject to continual breakdowns and bought by customers "only due to extreme necessity."

It outlined a plan to create a special baby carriage design bureau at the health ministry level, as well as for producing standard carriage parts for assembly in widely scattered areas.

"Only in this way will our children have houses on wheels worthy of their owners," Izvestia said.

3 Hurt in Collision of Two Cars Here

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident Saturday night at the intersection of Howard street and Baldwin avenue.

A car driven by Barbara J. Holmes, 23, of 46 Allison St., traveling south on Baldwin, collided with one driven by Leon F. Taylor, 22, of 78 Norton St.

Taylor was driving west on Howard.

The woman driver was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured nose. Her condition is reported satisfactory.

Two passengers in Taylor's car, Donald Quiboll, 20, of 2300 Shimmons Rd., and Cora S. Taylor, 19, 78 Norton St., were treated for cuts and bruises at Pontiac General and released.

from Friday night to Sunday afternoon, Khrushchev had said that in a friendly way he would take up with Chinese Communist leaders the problem of five Americans still held prisoner in Chinese Communist jails.

He said they spent very little time talking about Communist China, however, because they immediately found that their views were totally opposed.

He called them very sophisticated in being able to listen to the other fellow's arguments and criticism while remaining strong in their own conviction.

Eisenhower spoke with a slight nasal stuffiness. He said he had come back from Europe with the beginning of a cold.

Although Eisenhower spoke of his conditions for a summit meeting of various nations as having been met, he wouldn't be pinned down as to prospects for one in the near future.

At one point, the President said such matters were subject to negotiations with the Allies, evidently meaning British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Asked specifically when he expected a summit meeting to be held, Eisenhower said he could not guess.

He spoke of reporting to his interested associates, presumably meaning Allies, and said he wanted their reaction so he would make no guess now. Neither Khrushchev nor he tried to fix a real time.

In official quarters here, the impression is strong that there will be a summit meeting before Eisenhower goes to Moscow in the spring — possibly in November or December.

Eisenhower confirmed reports that Khrushchev and his associates had agreed to negotiate for a lend-lease settlement. They also displayed an interest in increasing trade with the United States.

DIFFERENT VERSION

Eisenhower gave a somewhat different version from that given by Khrushchev yesterday of how the President's trip to the Soviet Union came to be deferred from this fall to next spring.

Khrushchev had said that the Eisenhower grandchildren and he had decided spring would be best after Khrushchev had invited them to Russia.

Eisenhower said that he had been thinking about waiting until spring because of his heavy fall schedule, and mentioned this to Khrushchev. The Premier then jovially took it up with the grandchildren when he met them at the Eisenhower farm at Gettysburg Saturday, and that settled the matter.

The President called Khrushchev an extraordinary personality who is dynamic and arresting. He uses every possible debating method to get his points across, the President continued, and is capable of great flights of mannerism and emotion which may take him quickly from a negative and very difficult attitude into a genial and easy type of discussion. He impressed the President as sincere in his convictions about communism.

Eisenhower said with respect to lifting the Berlin threat that it was important to understand that in the negotiations on Berlin which are now to be reopened there is no fixed time, no deadline, although they cannot go on endlessly.

STRIKE INTOLERABLE

At a news conference, Eisenhower called the situation intolerable. But he declined to say whether the Taft-Hartley Law—with its court injunction provision for sending the steel workers back to their jobs for at least an 80-day cooling off period—would be invoked.

Find Hot Clue to Cancer Cause

Evidence Pointing at 'Virus - Like Particles' Discovered

NEW YORK (UPI) — A hot clue to the now unknown causes of cancer in human beings was revealed today at the annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

★ ★ ★

Twenty kinds of cancer have been transmitted from human beings to mice which gives new and powerful support to the theory that as yet undiscovered viruses are capable of causing cancer in people.

Dr. J. T. Grace Jr. reported that he and his associates at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., had produced cancer in mice by injecting them with filtrates of human cancers.

If cancer results from an injection of this filtrate, the evidence is almost overwhelming that the cancer-causing "agent" had to be a virus or a "virus-like particle" too tiny to be detected by the most powerful microscope.

The mice were injected immediately after they were born, when natural body defenses are at their lowest.

Grace disclosed that the Roswell Park scientistis now have 150 of these mice which developed cancer in their first 9½ months of life.

★ ★ ★

The Day in Birmingham

Car-Truck Collision Hurts Two in Bloomfield Twp.

BIRMINGHAM — An auto-truck collision in Bloomfield Township this morning sent a man and a woman to the hospital.

Gordon Myers, 20, of Detroit, had his right leg badly mangled when he was pinned between the car and a construction truck from the rear of which he was unloading supplies.

The car, driven by Mrs. Rose Marie Bell, 24, of 238 Highland St., Clawson, skidded on wet pavement, ramming the parked truck at the side of Square Lake road near Franklin road.

Mrs. Bell was thrown from her car. She suffered lacerations and bruises of both arms and possible internal injuries.

★ ★ ★

Both are in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Myers was to undergo surgery today for compound fractures of his leg.

According to Mrs. Bell, she was traveling west on Square Lake road when a dump truck driven by Harold Ford, 23, of 839 Highview St., Lake Orion, turned into her path from Franklin road.

She told Bloomfield Township police she swerved to avoid hitting the dump truck and lost control of her car on the slippery pavement.

Ford refused to make a statement before talking with his attorney. He was not held.

Algeria Ready to Talk Peace

Would Discuss Terms of Cease Fire, Ways to Self-Determination

From Our News Wires

TUNIS, Tunisia — The Algerian rebel government in exile announced tonight it was ready to negotiate "immediate peace" with France.

It said it was ready to "enter discussions with the French government in order to discuss the political and military conditions of a cease fire and the conditions and guarantees of the application of self-determination" for Algeria.

The rebel declaration came in answer to French President Charles de Gaulle's offer of self determination to Algeria.

The rebels said they were ready to discuss ways and means to carry out self-determination for the territory, where a rebellion has raged for five years.

The Algerians had consulted two other North African states — Tunisia and Morocco — which obtained independence from France in the last four years.

Tunisia's position has been that any chance of peace in Algeria should be seized. Morocco regarded De Gaulle's plan without enthusiasm.

On Sept. 16, De Gaulle announced plans for a referendum in Algeria not later than four years after fighting died down.

The nine million Algerian Moslems will be asked to chose among independence, full integration with France and internal autonomy. International observers will be invited to watch the vote.

Rockefeller Gives Impression He'll Run

CONCORD, N. H. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's "non-political" weekend trip to New Hampshire and Vermont left observers today with the distinct feeling that he has decided to enter the presidential race.

The New York chief executive met with GOP groups here, in Hanover and in Woodstock, Vt., yesterday in a windup to his trip which he said was made primarily to see his old Dartmouth classmates at a reunion Saturday.

It would be hard to believe that the governor was entertaining no political ambitions beyond the State of New York. From the time he bounced off a plane to the blare of a brass band at Manchester Airport early Saturday until the minute he left for New York yesterday, there was a grin for all, handshake for every adult within reach, and numerous pats bestowed fondly on the heads of little children.

★ ★ ★

But if he has made a decision, he gave no hint of this in his statements.

Modern Drive-In Theater to Go Up at Miracle Mile

The Pontiac area will be the home of what may be the nation's most advanced and modern drive-in theater before the first of the year, it was announced today by E. L. Samuels, owner of the Pontiac Drive-In Theater.

Samuels said construction has begun on his new theater, the Miracle Mile Drive-In, to be located at the north end of Miracle Mile Shopping Center, Square Lake and Telegraph roads, Bloomfield Township.

The spacious outdoor theater will have a capacity of 1,500 cars when opened.

To the south of the site is the center's Food Fair Market and Pontiac Pottery is situated to its north. Construction should be finished in early December and Samuels is hoping for a grand opening at Christmas time.

It is being built and equipped at a cost of more than a half-million dollars.

"We'll be fully equipped to handle 70mm Todd AO films. No other drive-in theater in Michigan has the equipment needed to show these films—and we may be the nation's first, I don't know of any others," asserts Samuels.

The theater will have two pay booths handling four lanes of traffic. It is located on a 32-acre plot of land. To begin with the theater will cover 22 acres.

"We'll have plenty of room for expansion," says Samuels. "Our concession building will be the most modern anywhere and we'll have electric in-car heaters and be open year around.

Patrons will be able to enter the theater via Telegraph, Square Lake or Franklin roads. It will have one of the largest screens in America, 134x39 feet, a third larger than the Pontiac Drive-In screen.

★ ★ ★

Grandchildren Deal With Ike

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

President Eisenhower seems to have set up an additional savings plan for each of his grandchildren, the details of which slip out only in rare public disclosure.

The children are the daughters and son of Maj. and Mrs. John S. Eisenhower. The family lives in a renovated, attractively decorated schoolhouse on the northwest corner of the President's farm in Gettysburg.

The three older children—David, 11; Barbara Anne, 10; Susan Elaine, 7—attend public school in Gettysburg. Their deal with grandfather is $1 for an "A" on their report cards, 50 cents for a "B".

And recently, the President told of his savings plan for Mary Jean who will be four years old next December. At the end of the day, the President gives all the loose change in his pockets to his valet, John Moaney, who promptly deposits it in the White House equivalent of a piggy bank for young Mary Jean.

Another family note: Susan is turning into a proficient young horsewoman under the tutelage of a riding instructor and almost daily periods in a training ring on the Eisenhower farm. She's won several horse show ribbons in the Gettysburg area.

Young David was taking golf lessons at the Gettysburg Country Club some time ago, but this type of instruction has been shelved. The President told friends recently that David had to give up playing golf, as well as taking lessons, because his school program becomes increasingly demanding. David, too, is becoming interested in other sports, including football.

The visit of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to this country had one effect—it produced an upsurge in the applications from reporters who want to accompany President Eisenhower to Russia.

There were something over 300 applications on file even before Khrushchev arrived in the United States. Now Press Secretary Jim Hagerty faces the problem of how to keep the number of reporters and photographers within logistical reason.

This poses a difficult problem for Jim—the workings of a free press versus the intricacies of moving an enormous working party halfway around the world.

While the Khrushchev party was in the United States, their photographers devoted a good bit of film to making pictures of American secret service agents and power plants, even down to small neighborhood transformer stations.

The photographer then went to Lafayette Square in front of the White House. He unerringly stationed himself behind a group of people, mostly women, whom he knew in some uncanny way would cheer enthusiastically when Khrushchev drove by an hour later on his way from the airport to Blair House.

Steel Chief Munford in Critical Condition

★ ★ ★

Munford was taken to the hospital last Wednesday with a knife wound suffered accidentally in the family summer home in Chatham.

The following day Munford suffered a cerebral thrombosis which paralyzed his right arm and hindered his speech. Sunday the head of the biggest steel company in the nation took a turn for the worse and his name was placed on the critical list.

A hospital spokesman said Munford's condition today is unchanged. He said there is no connection between the stab wound and the brain stroke.

Says Man to Be Walking on Moon Within 5 Years

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UP)—Man will be walking the moon within five years, an American rocketry pioneer believes. He doubts, however, that moon landings will have any military significance in our lifetime.

Lovell Lawrence, past president of the American Rocket Society, said Wednesday man-to-the-moon shots will have little more than scientific value.

Lawrence, one of the founders of Reaction Motors Inc., believed to be the first commercial enterprise devoted exclusively to rocket development, spoke informally before addressing the rocket society's local chapter. He is chief engineer for weapons systems at Chrysler Corp. in Detroit.

Expect Discoverer V to Burn Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discoverer V, America's 1,600-pound satellite, is expected to drop into the earth's atmosphere and burn up sometime before wednesday.

★ ★ ★

It will have orbited for a month and a half.

The Air Force, which made the prediction Sunday, also said a companion, Discoverer VI, will enter the earth's destructive atmosphere between Oct. 10 and 12.

★ ★ ★

The death of the two Discoverers will leave six artificial satellites in space, all but one American. The Soviet Union's Sputnik III is the exception.

Bell Rate Hike Fight to Continue on Oct. 19

LANSING (UP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. will return Oct. 19 in the final round of its fight for an estimated 25 million dollar annual rate increase.

The State Public Service Commission Friday turned down a motion to delay resumption of the hearings, started in March, until February.

Robert Reese, assistant Detroit corporations counsel, and Edward J. Ryan, of Michigan Utilities Taxpayers, Inc., asked for the delay until February.

But Premier Himself Missed It

Khrushchevs Saw Lighter U.S.

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's family got around to see much of the lighter side of America while the Soviet Premier himself was occupied with serious aspects — the pomp and circumstances.

U.S. officials say they are certain members of the Premier's family had a good time and were impressed with what they saw.

Nina Khrushchev, the Kremlin leader's gray-haired, plump and pleasant wife, had new experiences ranging from viewing a Broadway musical to holding her own news conference.

The whole family collected all sorts of souvenirs and gifts — from husks of Iowa corn to copies of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's three autobiographical books.

They tried out a wide assortment of American cooking, from hot dogs and hamburgers to the fanciest dishes offered by swanky hotels and restaurants.

Mrs. Khrushchev was treated everywhere to corsages. Her dresses bloomed with orchids and gardenias.

She and the Khrushchev daughters, Rada and Julia, had a tour through a Pittsburgh children's hospital, a San Francisco Elementary school and the capital's National Gallery of Art.

Mrs. K. spent $150 in a Sears-Roebuck store. But they never got to a big department store or into any small homes, which Mrs. Khrushchev said was a disappointment.

But that wasn't because no one made plans for them to do so.

In Coon Rapids, Iowa, for example, officials wanted to show Mrs. Khrushchev how ordinary folks live in a small American town. They wanted to take her to a few homes, to see an automatic laundry, a supermarket, frozen food lockers, a school and to a typical coffee party.

Instead, the Soviet Union's first lady preferred to walk with her husband through the black soil of Iowa farms and look at the hybird seed corn, cattle and silos.

Often, though, while Khrushchev was making speeches and touring plants, his wife and daughters attended luncheons and dinners in fancy places, where they met some of the top women in U.S.

New Microscope Can Magnify Up to 2 Million

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—A new electron microscope — so powerful and so secret that it was flown from West Germany with elaborate security precautions— is now in use at the Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston.

The high-powered instrument can magnify electronically up to 1600,000 times. With photographic enlargement, a magnification of up to two million is possible.

The new $28,000 instrument will be used at Baylor in research and training studies of the ultra-structure of both plant and human cells.

"No cell can escape its powerful eye," Dr. J. C. Hampton said. "It lends itself to experimental biology as well as use in clinical investigation of specimens taken at biopsy, and can be used as a diagnostic tool."

Unlike the conventional microscope, the electron miscroscope utilizes an electrostatic or electromagnetic field as a lens. In this particular model, there are five such lenses.

Weatherman Bases Theories on Rocks

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York City's weatherman, Ernest J. Christie, tells this story to show what he thinks of long-range forecasting based on non-meterological evidence.

"Far up in the North," Christie said, "a meterologist noticed an Eskimo building an igloo with walls of almost double thickness. Deeply interested, the weather man decided the Eskimo somehow must know a severe winter was ahead.

"When asked, the Eskimo said he was sure a hard winter was in prospect. How did he know? 'Well,' replied the Eskimo, "I noticed the white man has extra big coal piles this year.'"

Carrollton, Sebewaing Plants Cut Sugar Beets

By United Press International

Michigan Sugar Co. has started slicing sugar beets at its Carrollton and Sebewaing plants, but late rains have slowed the harvest.

A record sugar beet crop is predicted in the Thumb area and continuous 24-hour-a-day processing is expected to last until next March.

Michigan sugar's processing plants at Caro and Croswell will start beet slicing as soon as enough beets are received to assure continuous operation of the plants.

More Americans—67,594,000 in all—were employed this past July than at any other time in the nation's history, according to the Labor Department. That same month, all nine newspaper advertising classifications measured by Media Records showed linage gains over July, 1958. Automotive advertising — up 39 per cent — scored the largest increase.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

"Our oil heat furnace is one of the smartest investments we've ever made."

"I don't know a British Thermal Unit from a gyrocompass. All I know is that our oil heat is clean and economical.

"Bob says the best thing about our oil heat is that it's safe — and it's completely automatic too. Did you know that our oil furnace doesn't even have a pilot light? Bob says that's because it's fired by an electrical ignition system that's practically foolproof and with our fuel dealer filling our storage tank automatically, we never have to worry about a thing, especially pressure drops, when the weather gets cold. My Bob knows just everything."

Your Oakland Oil Heat Council doesn't know everything, but they do know everything about heating a home with fuel oil. If you're planning to install a new furnace this season, it will pay you to contact a member of the Oakland Oil Heat Council, you will see his symbol everywhere. New Labor Law Suit Filed Here

Charge of Interference Leveled by Oakland Electrical Workers

In what is believed to be the first suit of its kind filed under the new labor reform law, the Oakland County Electricians Assn. started action in Federal District Court in Detroit today seeking to prevent a Detroit local of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, from interfering with its drive for a local in the county.

The lawsuit alleges that Local 58 members have been intimidating and threatening association members in their job and personal security because of their efforts.

Association members, numbering upwards to 150, have petitioned the International for a charter which would enable them to form a local of their own in Oakland County. So far the International has refused to recognize their communications, according to Wallace D. McLay, Waterford Township attorney for the association.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac police on Sept. 17 were called to a meeting of the association in the city after Local 58 members sought to stop the meeting by blocking driveways at 761 W. Huron St., where the meeting was being held, with their cars. They also took down license numbers of association members' cars, McLay said.

★ ★ ★

He said today's suit was initiated under the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act of 1959, the so-called labor reform bill, which guarantees civil rights and allows members to meet freely.

Judge Ralph M. Freeman set a hearing for next monday on why the injunction shouldn't be issued.

Medical Building Rising in Lansing

LANSING, (UPI) — Michigan will be healthier than ever when the year 2000 rolls around.

That was the consensus of predictions in a cornerstone laid yesterday at the Michigan Medical Society's $525,000 headquarters.

★ ★ ★

A Kent Schafer, Traverse City, president of the Michigan Hospital Association, predicted hospitals will be automated.

Claim Smoking Can Lower Blood Pressure

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI)—A team of Birmingham University scientists Saturday reported smoking—especially a pack or more a day — may help health.

The scientists, led by Dr. Thomas McKeown, said research indicated cigarette smoking keeps blood pressure down. They said a survey of 1,000 men over 60 years of age revealed that life-long non-smokers had the highest blood pressures.

McKeown and his fellow scientists reported chain smokers had the lowest blood pressures among the men interviewed. These were men smoking 20 or more cigarettes a day.

Pipe smokers generally registered blood pressures between the non-smokers and the chain smokers.

McKeown's report said consumption of alcoholic beverages tended to raise blood pressure. However he said drinking does not raise blood pressure to the extent that smoking lowers it.

The doctors said the highest blood pressures of all came from those men who didn't smoke but did drink.

Star's Dog Wins Fight in Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Customs officials bowed to Audrey Hepburn's pleas Sunday and let the film star's Yorkshire terrier "Famous" enter the country.

★ ★ ★

At first the officials told Miss Hepburn and her husband, actor Mel Ferrer, the dog would have to stay in quarantine.

"But he has never, ever been left alone before," said the actress, with tears in her big brown eyes.

Newsmen and press photographers swarmed around. Hundreds of fans milled about outside and broke several windows at the airport building. Police reinforcements had to be called. After 57 minutes, the customs men gave in.

★ ★ ★

"Famous was permitted to enter Sweden on a promise that he is not allowed to meet Swedish dogs while staying here," the customs office said.

Probe Macomb Water Interest

Oakland County Sets Up Exploratory Session at Mount Clemens

A meeting has been called for tomorrow morning in Mt. Clemens to see if Macomb County is as interested in a Detroit metropolitan water system as some Oakland County officials are.

★ ★ ★

Also invited to the meeting is the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority, whose proposal to bring water from Lake Huron would conflict with the Detroit plan, Oakland officials said Friday.

Tomorrow's meeting at the Macomb County Health Center has been set up by the Special Water Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

It met Friday in Pontiac to hear plans outlined for the metropolitan system, which could bring water to areas of Oakland County by late next year, according to Harold K. Schone, director of the Department of Public Works.

★ ★ ★

Fred L. Yockey, committee chairman from Huntington Woods, said his group wants to know where Macomb County stands before taking a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors.

Schone proposed that the SMWA plans to bring Huron water to Oakland and Macomb Counties be scrapped and that Oakland join in the metropolitan plan.

Traffic Stalls as Nude Strolls Along Freeway

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five hundred motorists stopped on the Names Lick Memorial Freeway Sunday before police removed the distraction—a nude blonde.

She bit patrolmen Robert Flynn and Frank Miles when they tried to clothe her in a pair of mechanic's coveralls. She was taken to the psychiatric ward at San Francisco General Hospital.

She was about 33, 5 feet 6, 125 pounds, had shoulder length blonde hair and exceptionally white skin, Miles said.

Risky Venture Pays Off

Amateurs Raise Tanker

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A shoestring salvage operation that defied even the experts is expected to bring enormous profit to the new owners of the broken-backed German - built tanker African Queen.

The tanker reached port Sunday after a snails-pace tow of about 72 hours.

Lloyd Dier, chief of the salvage team which refloated the broken freighter, said scraping work and some repairs had already begun at dockside here.

It was a grimy and weary crew that arrived Sunday aboard the rusty, oil-streaked tanker.

It was a major feat for the eight amateur salvagers. Last March a New York salvage firm had decided raising the African Queen would be too risky.

Dier says he is optimistic that the patched-up tanker, minus her bow, will bring nearly half of the original cost.

Sees Chevy Halt in Steel Strike

Expect Lines to Stop Oct. 20; Other Makers Can Last Longer

DETROIT (UPI) — The first shutdown of automobile assembly lines because of steel shortages is expected on the Chevrolet lines Oct. 20, Automotive News said today.

The trade paper said Chevrolet Division of General Motors will continue to produce its new compact car, the Corvair, until Nov. 1 but the full-sized Chevrolet assembly will halt by Oct. 20 if new steel supplies are not forthcoming before then.

Ford expects to be able to continue its assembly lines until Nov. 15.

Some GM fabricating plants will will begin closing this week. Automotive News said. Scattered layoffs and cutbacks to four-day weeks began last week.

The trade paper said GM was being hit first by the steel strike because company officials decided last winter that a 60-day supply of steel would be sufficient in case of a strike.

Chrysler and Ford both decided to build up a 90-day supply and are in much better shape at the present time, Automotive News said.

Both Ford and Chrysler report they have enough steel to carry them into November, the trade paper said.

American Motors and Studebaker both report sufficient supplies to carry them as far as into December.

Two UP Fugitives Abduct, Free Man

ST. IGNACE, (UP)—A swamp area north of here was searched today for two Mackinaw County jail fugitives believed to have stolen a churchgoer's car after abducting and releasing him.

Sought were Thomas Glennie 21, of Alpena, and Gerald Brauley, 25, of Engadine, an Upper Peninsula community.

Glennie and Brauley escaped Friday. They had been held on breaking and entering charges.

Waterford Fire Chief to Request Survey

A request for a state fire inspection survey in Waterford Township will be presented by newly-hired Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner at tonight's 7:30 township board meeting.

Purpose of the survey would be to determine which areas in the coverage need more fire protection coverage, and what sections are adequately protected, according to Fangboner.

In other business, bids for fleet vehicle insurance policies will be opened at 8 p. m., and bids for selling two township-owned cars will be opened.

A discussion will be continued from last week's meeting regarding procedures and restrictions for new land developments springing up in many parts of the township, according to James Seeterlin, township clerk.

Man Is Held in Two Gas Station Entries

★ ★ ★

Held in the Oakland County Jail for investigation of breaking and entering is Robert E. Thompson, 42, of 13 LeGrande Ave.

He entered the building by breaking a window, the report says.

Earlier in the evening he broke into the Pure Oil service station, 867 Baldwin Ave., by breaking a window, and took some change from vending machines, police said he told them.

Women 'Weaker' Sex? Foiled Bandit Wonders

Myra Dice, 71 Williams St., reported to Pontiac Police that a male bandit attempted to grab her purse in front of her home early Sunday morning.

Farm Surpluses Create Ridiculous Problems

★ ★ ★

Spending money and time to discover new ways to give away food surpluses seems a bit ridiculous. On the other hand what are we to do with our excessive stocks from agriculture? Any suggestions?

★ ★ ★

BENSON'S current trip to peddle our farm products will take him to Yugoslavia, West Germany, Finland, Sweden, Norway, Poland and the Soviet Union.

The way we share our agricultural abundances with the world is through the Agricultural Trade Development Act of 1954 (Public Law 480), more widely known as the Surplus Disposal Program.

Because a great many countries are short of dollars, we must take local money which cannot be repatriated. This is the fly in the ointment. As might well be expected under Public Law 480, the schemers have really come up with a flock of odd ball methods of getting rid of these dollars abroad.

We spend the money, for example, to buy and translate foreign technical books and periodicals, to finance exchanges of trade and civic leaders, to buy buildings for the U.S. Government (obviously not needed), and of course to pay for our junketeering congressional committees.

But even with the phony spending of U.S. money, the currencies are piling up faster than they can be used. So if Secretary Benson is successful in unloading some of our excessive surpluses, we will have to find new ways to get rid of this money overseas.

★ ★ ★

It occurs to us that we must look pretty silly to many of the governments abroad. It's high time our food surpluses were taken seriously and some curb brought to this wasteful Federal spending.

Russian Expert Bohlen Gets Appropriate Office

It's good news that Ambassador CHARLES E. BOHLEN is returning to Washington from his post in the Philippines to be senior adviser to Secretary of State HERTER in the field of Russian affairs.

Mr. Bohlen, now 55, is an expert on Russia and speaks the language fluently. He joined the foreign service in 1929 and in 1934 was on the staff of the first U.S. Embassy set up in Moscow after the revolution. From 1953 to 1957 he was our ambassador there.

★ ★ ★

But because he was at Yalta with PRES. ROOSEVELT and defended our part in those 1945 agreements, he won the political enmity of a small group of Republican Senators. In 1957 MR. BOHLEN, at the insistance of SEC. DULLES, was sent to Manila where he served our interests well but his special knowledge of Soviet affairs was of little use.

★ ★ ★

A civil servant, such as Ambassador BOHLEN, must be dedicated indeed to withstand unmerited Congressional abuse and comparatively low pay. As Special Assistant to Sec. HERTER, he does not need Senate approval. Had it been otherwise, rather than undergo the ordeal again, MR. BOHLEN would have resigned from the foreign service and accepted an executive position in private enterprise.

★ ★ ★

Sec. Herter is to be commended for his insistence that the highly qualified Mr. Bohlen be recalled from Manila and given this appointment. The whole country benefits.

U.N. Inspection Team Finding Little in Laos

The special United Nations team now in Laos to investigate the trouble there is not finding any evidence to support Premier PHOUI'S contention of a reign of terror in the north.

A month ago the Western World heard reports of a Communist campaign to over-run Laos. The jungle was said to be full of Reds from the north and 80 villages had been captured and the populations murdered.

The United States sent more military aid. The U.N. Security Council was called into session and representatives from Japan, Italy, Argentina and Tunisia were charged with finding out the facts.

So far they are getting little if any evidence to support charges of invasion. On-the-scene information is at variance with earlier communiques from Vietiane, the capital. There are no prisoners and the damage seems to be confined to the burning of two grass huts and the loss of two lives.

The size of the loyal force engaged in a "battle" two weeks ago has shrunk from the 300 reported in the capital to the 110 men the field commander says he had. The enemy has vanished across the borders. No one seems to know whether they were North Vietnamese, Chinese or Pathet Lao rebels.

The crisis at the moment seems to be more political than military. That doesn't mean that the danger is past. These skirmishes may be a prelude to full scale Red aggression.

4,129 in Contest

But First Game Brought a Great Many Eliminations

Good sports to the number of 4,129 made entries in our football contest before closing time Friday. This is the largest number in its history.

Each predicted the outcome of 14 games. The prize of $300 in U.S. savings bonds goes to the one making the best prediction on an elimination basis.

Probably depending too much on the forecasts of the "experts," 2,415 of them picked Marquette to win the opening game Saturday between that team and the University of Detroit, which was favored by 1,316.

Without doubt somewhat influenced by the fact that the opening game two years ago resulted in a tie, 398 forecast a tie in the Marquette-Detroit game.

Detroit won Saturday by a 14-0 score, so 2,813 contestants were eliminated in that first game.

The 1,316 survivors divide their prediction on the next contest game, which is between University of Michigan and Michigan State University next Saturday, as follows: Michigan State, 907; Michigan, 368; tie game, 41.

"Oh, and Also No Inspection"

David Lawrence Says:

Eisenhower, Mr. K Talks a Standoff

WASHINGTON — He came, he saw—but he didn't conquer. Nikita Khrushchev tested President Eisenhower and found him firm in his convictions that the people of West Berlin cannot be abandoned by the free world. The ultimatum filed by the Soviet Premier last November was not withdrawn.

LAWRENCE

There may be a "summit" conference, to be sure, in a few weeks, but it will start where the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference left off. No progress has been made toward a solution unless the better climate created by the Soviet Premier's visit is a kind of progress in itself.

Likewise, it must be said that Nikita Khrushchev stood firm. If he yielded on any point, it might be found some day somewhere in the ambiguity of the many phrases he poured out in his visit to America.

The Sunday afternoon press conference and the farewell address later on television together with the many opportunities for the Soviet Premier in the last 12 days to give his side of the controversy between the East and the West are indications of a mutual desire, on the surface at least, for improvement in the relations between the Soviet Union and the United States.

But this is the way Soviet propaganda works—it gives a glowing description of its intentions, but, when it comes down to brass tacks, the only solution that seems peaceful to the Moscow regime involves the surrender by the other side of all its convictions.

The whole trip was a diversionary tactic—an effort to simplify the "cold war" on the propaganda front as if it were merely an argument between two economic systems like socialism and capitalism and as if all the pending questions could be settled easily around the conference table.

But even as the Soviet Premier was talking at the press conference table on Sunday afternoon there came over the United Press International wires the following dispatch:

"Chinese Communist troops from Tibet are taking over land previously considered India's and have reinforced their garrisons along the border."

The "cold war" is still a hot war in many parts of the world. Nikita Khrushchev has done nothing to stop the fighting by the Communists in Laos or along the border of India. He signed nevertheless a communique of the usual pious kind issued after formal meetings of governmental officials.

It said that the Soviet Premier and President Eisenhower had "agreed that all outstanding international questions should be settled not by the application of force but by peaceful means, by negotiations."

Yet throughout the world the Soviet subversion continues as billions of rubles are being spent to stir up revolutions in southeast Asia and in North Africa, and to foment friction between the United States and the countries of Latin America.

To cause each side to give up its missiles and nuclear weapons is the stated objective of the forthcoming discussions on disarmament, but Khrushchev didn't say anything about disarming the infiltrators who are operating in behalf of the Communist cause throughout the world on the direct orders of the Soviet government in Moscow.

As for the status of West Berlin, it hasn't been changed by the Khrushchev-Eisenhower conferences. It is still up to the various governments concerned to argue further about this. Presumably there is to be a "summit" meeting soon at Geneva to continue the discussions, after which the matter will again be passed on to the four foreign ministers to consider.

★ ★ ★

It's a good thing that President Eisenhower's trip to the Soviet Union has been postponed till next spring. It gives time for the Soviets to build up through the negotiations in the meantime a better basis for consultation with Eisenhower on outstanding issues—possibly some minor concessions.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.—Proverbs 24:34.

★ ★ ★

Dr. William Brady Says:

Notions on Somersaults Are Now Overturned

I don't care what Webster says about it, in turning my kind of somersault, ladies and gentlemen, you never for an instant lose firm contact with the ground or floor. I may be as nutty as some doctors would have you believe, but I assure you that when I do my morning somersaults I do not leap or jump. I merely do forward rolls, coming up on my feet after each roll.

DR. BRADY

If you are an old crock, past 40, 50, 60 or 70, and unaccustomed to exercise other than dragging your weight from bed to chair, I do not advise you to try somersaulting. For that matter, I do not advise anybody to roll somersaults. I believe somersaults are good for everybody. But if you decide to try 'em, you do so at your own peril.

The vast network of blood vessels in the greater body cavity, the abdomen, is capable of holding one-fourth of all the blood in the body, out of circulation, so to speak, in the stagnant splanchnic pool.

Moderate general exercise, such as a brisk two-mile walk threee times a day or six miles once a day, brings back into circulation considerable blood that would otherwise stagnate. Turning somersaults does, too, but I'd say six somersaults would be equivalent to a walk around the block in this respect.

Somersaults are especially good for sedentary persons who just won't get enough exercise.

It is quite understandable that most persons 60, 65, 70 or 75 are afraid to do somersaults if they haven't tried the stunt since they were children. Expecially understandable if they suffer from calcium deficiency, as do most mature adults who consume less than 1½ pints of milk daily.

★ ★ ★

It is difficult to explain, but let us say the wisdom of the body makes these poor stiffs fearful of breaking their calcium depleted bones—and they are indeed likely to sustain fractures from slight injuries.

Some things to remember if you decide to try somersaulting.

(1) The tighter you curl up the easier it is to roll.

(2) Flex your head with your chin on chest, and put the crown of your head, not the top of your head, on the mat, floor or ground before you shove off.

(3) Make up your mind you're not going to flop, but rather roll right up on your feet.

(4) Finally, if anything untoward happens, I didn't advise you to somersault, you durn fool.

'This System Will Break Socialism or Capitalism'

Let's analyze Khrushchev's statement on socialism hanging on the coattails of capitalism. No one gets a merit raise any more. Raises are given at contract time where the poor worker, as well as the good worker, is given the same thing.

★ ★ ★

This one simple economic fact is overlooked by both labor and management. We cry inflation. How in the world can business in socialism or capitalism hold its price line and still give ten cents more an hour to the rubby dub as well as the man that can produce the ten cents?

★ ★ ★

If you, as an individual, by your ingenuity, foresight and good, hard work, can produce ten cents more an hour, your company can pay it and not raise the price of its product and you'll truly have gotten a raise. Our country couldn't have reached its present heights if our forefathers had the outlook that they should all share equally, regardless of effort expended.

★ ★ ★

When we get back to being paid for what we produce individually and not collectively, incentive will once more reign supreme and America will be first, last and always.

'Democrats Have Earned Pay Raise'

I'm glad the Democrats voted to raise their pay in Lansing. They have worked very hard and they deserve it.

Urges Support of Sunday Closing

Large super market chains are again attempting to eliminate Sunday as the Lord's Day by enticing customers with "special sale coupons" good only on that day. One chain again held out on the commercialism and remains closed to shoppers. The same stores continue to employ teenage boys in large numbers for "carry out" jobs, one of the few jobs left for young boys. This is a real asset to the community.

★ ★ ★

Do others share my admiration for this policy? They'll get my trade to the exclusion of others that apparently don't respect majority morality in respecting Sundays.

★ ★ ★

Let's unite and eliminate commercialism on Sundays. The few cents "saved" won't be worth it as Sunday becomes just another work day.

'More Than One Can Play the Game'

So the auto union votes a million to the steel union and so why not the big companies all vote the steel company a million apiece and make it even. They might even give them two million to give the union something to shoot at.

If it is fair one way, it is fair for the other and who can say that it is not, I'd like to know. The unions don't have a corner on the millions, even though they are rich off their high dues.

Urges Rejection of New Library

Waterford officials are calling a special election for Oct. 27 asking us to vote for a $300,000 public library and 1½ mills extra to maintain it. All our schools have libraries. Waterford High has 4,800 books available, Pierce Junior High has 1,200 on its shelves. Crary has 3,800 and all other schools have nice libraries in accordance with their size.

★ ★ ★

So why do we need a public library? Our taxes are now higher than any other township around us. I'll tell you why they're so anxious for this library. It's just to save that 17 acres of land.

★ ★ ★

Tells Fall Beauty in Rockies Area

As a native of Utah, I must take exception to your delightful editorial on autumn coloring. While I hasten to admit our Michigan autumn is magnificent, the Rocky Mountains (which are many miles west of North Dakota) are magnificent, too. High on the mountains the aspens turn to gold and brilliant orange, the colors accentuated by the dark pines and snow covered peaks, while all the foothills are deep crimson, due to their dense carpet of scrub maple. The show often lasts for a full month due to the great variations in altitudes.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

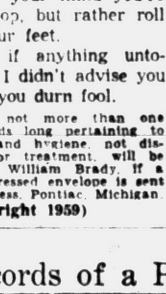

Have You a 'Manana Complex?'

Dr. Galen has a common problem. He can help solve it by remembering that there is magic in the number 2. You readers already know 2 members of the family can diet more successfully than just one, for the 2 will prod each other. That's a form of "symbiosis."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"But, Dr. Crane," he began, "I still have a little difficulty getting people to come in for their routine dental check-ups.

DR. CRANE

"What makes patients so forgetful. Even after I send them a card or have my nurse telephone them, they may still procrastinate."

MANANA COMPLEX

We try to put things off. We procrastinate, even about services that we really need and should be glad to have a dentist or physician or insurance salesman bring to our attention.

In this hectic modern age, husbands kiss their wives as they rush out the door for their morning bus. They try to read their newspaper while hanging to a strap in a subway or commuter train.

Many busy folks don't even take time to read all their mail, especially if it is loaded with advertising matter.

In former days, a first class stamp would make us pull out that letter. Now we find so much advertising sent under 4 cents postage that we tend to ignore the 4 cent stamped letters, unless the envelopes have some special "gimmick" to attract our attention.

But Dr. Galen can help prod busy housewives into returning for their routine appointments by remembering it is easier to get two people to do a thing than just one.

You dieters thus realize it is much simpler to lose weight if two of you in the family are dieting together, for then one will prod the other and vice versa.

"Dear Mrs. Brown," Dr. Galen can thus begin his reminder note, "since you and Mrs. Smith are neighbors and both scheduled for appointments next month I am assigning her the 3 o'clock hour and you the 3:30 appointment.

"Thus, you can probably drive down together."

"Dear Mrs. Jones," they begin, "Since Thursday is 'Bargain Day' at the downtown stores, I am scheduling you for 3.30 on Thursday.

"In that way, you can sit down and rest for half an hour while I fix your teeth, and then you can go back to the stores for the balance of the afternoon."

SYMBIOSIS

Earlier this year I addressed a combined meeting of the Indianapolis Dental and Medical Societies, talking on the value of more "Professional Symbiosis."

★ ★ ★

Symbiosis usually refers to the fact that sometimes two types of bacteria will thrive better together than when alone, for each helps the other.

In like manner, as many dentists observe signs of eye cataracts or mouth cancer or infected tonsils they can thus tactfully steer such patients to a physician for adequate treatment.

Physicians, meanwhile, as they examine a child's throat, can likewise note the decayed 6-year molars or other dental problems and thus urge the patients to consult their dentist.

This professional symbiosis benefits the sluggish patient, for he is far more likely to obtain the needed medical or dental care.

'Killer Mosquitoes' Worry New Jersey

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—A disease that acts like polio and meningitis and is transmitted in the bite of "killer" mosquitoes spread uneasiness today through parts of rural southern New Jersey.

It may have been responsible for the deaths of nine persons, mostly children, and the hospitalization of at least eight others. Two cases have been confirmed, including one death.

The disease is Eastern Equine Encephalitis, according to the state health department. Until yesterday, it had not been identified because of the slowness in isolating the deadly virus.

The suspense of not knowing what they were up against had heightened the concern of most south Jersey residents. It may ease their worries now that they know, but the end still is not in sight.

Health officials face the task of stamping out the disease before it kills others or before it becomes a full-blown epidemic.

Senate Sets Hearing on Medicine Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee will begin public hearings Nov. 30 on complaints that some medical drugs are priced so high older people don't have enough money to live after buying them.

Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said the hearings will concentrate first on prices charged for drugs needed by arthritis sufferers and then include testimony on other drugs, including tranquilizers, antibiotics, hormones and those for diabetics.

He said more complaints have been received in the last two years about the prices of drugs than all other products put together. The hearings will continue into next year.

Nearly-Ousted Kishi Fights for Western Ties

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, almost ousted by his own party nine months ago, is firmly back in the saddle directing Japan's fight to stay in the Western alliance.

He is cracking the whip over all factions in his ruling Liberal-Democrats. In the past three weeks he has told party leaders Japan definitely will sign a new security pact with America.

He has warned the party's Foreign Affairs Study Council he will dissolve Parliament and call new elections if the new pact is not ratified when submitted early next year.

Chicago Cabby Boss Indicted for Perjury

CHICAGO (UPI)—Joseph (Joey) Glimco, boss of Chicago's cab drivers, has been indicted for perjuring himself on two drivers' license applications.

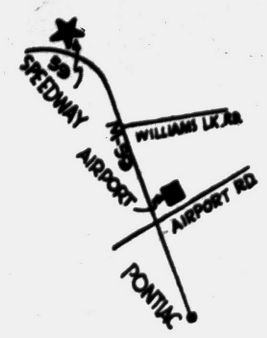

The grand jury returned two indictments Friday charging Glimco with stating he had no traffic convictions and did not own a car. Both statements were made on license applications, the jury said.

Actually, the jury said, Glimco had been convicted on four traffic arrests and had transferred ownership of a car.

Evidence before the Senate Rackets Committee recently led to a demand by court-appointed monitors for the Teamsters Union that Glimco be suspended from his presidency of Teamsters Local 777 of the Chicago Cab Drivers Union.

Bob Considine Says:

Nikita Leaves Under a Veil of Lies

WASHINGTON — One week and six days ago our Great White Father brought forth upon this continent the embodiment of a new nation, conceived in infamy and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created unequal.

Now we are engaged in an agonizing appraisal of the man who typified this notion, testing whether this man or any other man so conceited and so dominating can long endure.

Nikita Khrushchev, the spokesman for the notion that his system will supplant our own, departed for Moscow under cover of not only night but an umbrella of emphatically stated lies. Here are some of his bolder prevarications:

In the distorted primer he opened to the American people in a color telecast over NBC he said "the Constitution of the Soviet Union is the most democratic one. We have universal, equal and direct elections, with secret ballots." That is not true. More than 90 per cent of the citizens of the U.S.S.R. are without true political representation.

He said, "We are grateful to Marx, Engels and Lenin, who gave us our system. We've been followed by many nations of Europe and Asia." That's a lie. No nation has ever voluntarily embraced communism. Including the U.S.S.R.

"If it were not for this (losses suffered in World War II) we probably would already have overtaken the United States in production and the standard of living," he told the people. West Germany suffered as much or more, was stripped of whole industrial complexes by Russia, endured punishing reparations, but has a much higher standard of living than Russia. And we are far beyond West Germany.

"In a few years we are going to abolish all taxation of our people," he said. "Our Communist Party and the trade unions will care for all needs." But since everything's controlled by Nikita, he'll simply raise prices all around and get the dough he'll need.

"As the Bible says . . . Christ took a scourge and drove them out." He doesn't believe in either the Bible or Christ, nor can anybody who professes thusly progress under him.

★ ★ ★

"Whether you live under either system, capitalist of communist, is purely an internal question. If all countries are guided by this principle there will be no difficulty in assuring peace among nations." Yet his operatives are everywhere through the world.

ODD SUGGESTION

"We want to do away with all armies, navies, air forces, generals, admirals, fliers, privates, give up all weapons, atomic bombs, missiles . . ." and thus forfeit Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Bulgaria, East Germany, Estonia, Latvia, Luthuania, Albania?

N. S. Khrushchev, like March, came in like a lion—brutishly comparing the human tragedy of Hungary to a rat in the throat and threatening to bolt without ever seeing the President at Camp David, because of some mild if not very bright remark by Los Angeles Mayor Paulson.

He went out like a lamb. This metamorphosis was caused chiefly by the fact that he did a good job of cowing the State Department, which in turn blunted the nature of the reception he might normally have received from officials in San Francisco, Des Moines and Pittsburgh. He demanded Sunday at the last moment, that all questions submitted to him in his news conference at the National Press Club be presented in writing. These were carefully screened by Andrei Gromyko.

★ ★ ★

They turned out to be very friendly questions by the time they reached Gromyko, or worse, questions from Russians beginning, "As is well known . . ."

★ ★ ★

This is just to set the record straight on one aspect of what I think was a useful trip. The communique noted that not much was accomplished at Camp David. I don't agree. We shouldn't overlook the great fact that Nikita came, he saw and comprehended how difficult it will be to conquer.

British Conservatives Struggle for Strength

LONDON (UPI) — The Conservative Party, still slipping in pre-election public opinion polls, seized today upon the Eisenhower-Khrushchev communique as proof that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan should be re-elected.

★ ★ ★

Conservative newspapers lost no time in telling the public it was Macmillan's initiative in visiting Moscow last spring that started the cold war thaw and that Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell was not versed enough in international diplomacy to take over now.

★ ★ ★

The latest political poll, published today by the Daily Mail, showed the Conservatives held only a 2 per cent edge over Labor although the gap was reported as 7 per cent only two weeks ago.

Short, Fat Woman Rate 3-2 Over Beanpole Type

LONDON (UPI) — To girls who want to get married: you've got a better chance if you are fat, fairly muscular and somewhat on the short side.

Dr. R. W. Parnell, an Oxford University researcher, said a girl with those qualifications has a 3 to 2 chance of getting married over a girl of the lean, willowy or beanpole type.

U.S. Whirlybird Takes Khrushchev by Storm

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has an idea of his own on how to increase trade between the U.S. and Russia — he'd like to buy an American helicopter.

Nation No Longer 'Spaghetti' Link

Premier of a Stronger Italy to Visit

ROME (UPI)—Premier Antonio Segni arrives in the United States Sept. 30 to confer with President Eisenhower as the representative of an Italy more powerful than at any time since World War II.

★ ★ ★

But it is an Italy with its troubles—economic and political. Economically, there is unemployment. Politically, there is a complex of parties from the extreme left to the extreme right, each with its own axe to grind.

But militarily, Italy is in fine shape. Segni has behind him an army of more than 500,000 men—smaller but more powerful than the Italian forces at the time Benito Mussolini threw his Fascist legions into World War II.

In addition, there are 5,500 American troops stationed in Italy and the country soon will receive 30 Jupiter IRBM missiles.

Italy has come a long way since 1952 when an American journalist claimed the Italian link in the Allied defense chain was "made of spaghetti."

★ ★ ★

The country, one of the most pro-American nations in Europe, has tried to fulfill its commitments in the Western defense plan. It has the added incentive of being on the border of Yugoslavia and right across the sea from Communist Albania.

Besides its modern army, Italy has some 100 vessels — most of them small—and five fighter air commands, one reconnaissance wing, one transport command and two anti-submarine commands.

Since Segni took over as premier early this year, he has turned a good deal of his attention to improving Italy's prestige and authority in the Western camp. The country has long felt it has fully recovered from World War II and should be given an equal voice with some of the other European nations, such as Germany and even France.

During the recent foreign ministers conference, both Segni and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella consulted many times with American and other Western officials at Geneva, putting forth the Italian views. In addition, Secretary of State Christian Herter and other U.S. leaders paid visits to Rome during the meeting.

Its industrial output is double the pre-war level. The merchant fleet, 90 per cent destroyed by the war, has been rebuilt and is back on the seas as a world leader. The chronic foreign trade deficit has been overcome, at least temporarily.

In addition, extensive reforms have been carried out, including a land reform—long Segni's pet political project—that gave land to 100,000 peasant families.

One of the biggest is unemployment. There are nearly two million unemployed, virtually all of them unskilled workers who can hardly find a job unless they first get some training

But there still are a number of problems to solve.

★ ★ ★

Another is the Communists. They have lost power since 1948 when they were on the verge of taking over at the polls, but they still are the largest Communist party outside of the Iron Curtain bloc.

Keeping what is known as "Italy" from falling apart at the seams is a problem that is getting worse by the moment. Italy includes the autonomous regions of Sicily, the German-speaking region of Alto Adige and the French-aligned region of Valle Daosta.

Each region has its local govture and language. They want more freedom from th Rome govern-

So far he has done the job. But no one knows how long he will be able to do so.

Complicating his task is the unsolicited and unwelcome support he has received from the MSI Party, which is nothing more or less than a neo-Fascist group.

Oily Mallards Pose Problem on Washday

OWOSSO (UPI) — Want to wash a duck? Then come up to Leo Guenthensberger's house.

Leo, his wife and daughter, Grace, have caught 15 mallards from the Shiawassee River in front of their house—and washed them. There are some 85 others still around, unwashed.

Leo's family had made pets of sorts out of the wild flock. When Guenthensberger came home each afternoon they quacked over to his lawn and he fed them.

Suddenly, they quit coming.

The river was gummy with oil. An Owosso Auto-Lite factory fuel line burst and storm sewers carried the oil into the river. The ducks got coated. They couldn't fly and the strong oil burned their skins.

State School Revenue 70 Pct. From Sales Tax

LANSING (UPI) — More than 70 per cent of the revenue to finance state schools in the last fiscal year came from the sales tax, the Michigan Education Assn. reported today.

The sales tax accounting for $198,702,886 of the total $280,027,201 allocated to the schools, according to figures supplied by Thomas J. Northey and Wesley E. Thomas of the MEA's research division.

Day and Night Classes Offered

Avon Hosts Students From All Over Country, One From Africa

AVON TOWNSHIP — Both regular classes and night school courses will be held for the first time today at North Central Christian College here.

★ ★ ★

Some 150 students from all parts of the country, and one from Port Elizabeth, Africa, reported this morning for classes in the new multi-purpose building, on which work was speeded over the weekend to be ready for opening day.

Registration for night school courses will take place at the time of the first class meeting.

A night course in Bible 121 (Personal Evangelism), to be taught by Otis Gatewood, college president, will be given at 6:40 p.m. on Mondays. It is one-hour credit course.

3 CREDIT HOURS

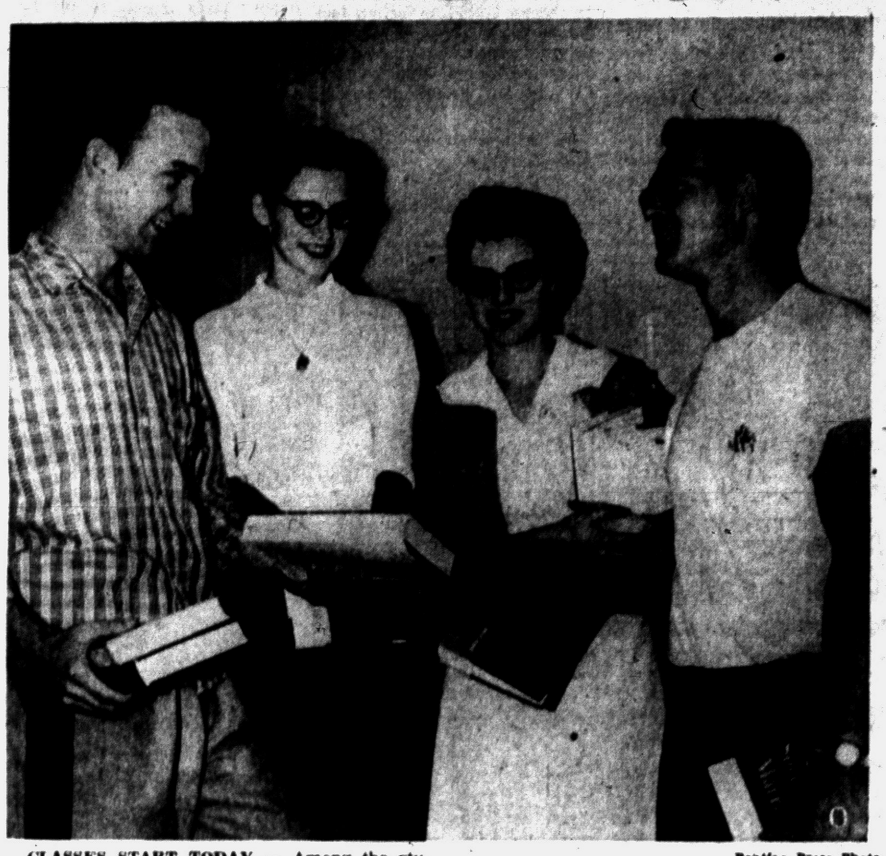

Others to begin at the same hour are History (church history), English composition, Fundamentals of Speech, Survey of Civilization, Bible (Homilectics), and Elementary French. All are for three hours credit.

Courses set for 7:40 p.m. are a two-hour credit course in methods and techniques of teaching the Bible, a two-hour course in Beginning Typewriting and a two-hour course in Social Aspects of Mission Work.

Three-hour courses to be offered beginning at 6:40 p.m. Thursday are Secretarial Science, Ukrainian, Greek, Church Music and Missions.

A one-hour course in Bible (The Christian Family) will be given, and also a two-hour course in Bible (The Work of the Local Church).

The new liberal arts junior college is located on the former Lou Maxon estate on W. Avon road, two miles southwest of Rochester.

2 Students Will Be AFS Guests

Ervin Gingrich, Girl From Finland to Share Program With Consuls

AVON TOWNSHIP — Two Avondale High School seniors will be honor guests at a reception tomorrow night at the local high school. They are Marjatta Eskelinen of Kuopio, Finland, and Ervin Gingrich of Avon Township, who was an exchange student in The Netherlands this past summer.

The student and adult committees of the American Field Service in the Avondale School Community have planned the event which will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Marjatta is a senior this year at Avondale High School under the AFS exchange student program. While in Avon Township she is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Tallman of 950 Francis St.

★ ★ ★

Other special guests will be The Netherlands Consul, William K. VonWeiler, and the Finnish Consul, Harri M. Virjo.

A short program, which will feature several selections by the high school glee club, will be followed by dancing.

An invitation has been extended to the entire student body and residents of the school district interested in the local AFS program. Mrs. Paul White is chairman of the reception committee.

Reward Offered for Their Return

Three Oxford Girls Now Missing a Week

OXFORD—A week has gone by, and still the parents of three missing Oxford girls have received no word as to their whereabouts.

The local police department has received a number of tips which have been checked out to no avail, Chief Al Roberts said today.

A $500 reward is being offered for any information leading to the whereabouts of any one or all members of the trio.

Missing are Linda M. Martin, 16, of 22 S. Broadway; Barbara H. Hamilton, 13, of 106 East St. and Anita L. Behnke, 13, of 136 S. Washington St.

The girls skipped afternoon classes Monday and their distraught parents have not had a card or telephone call from any of them since they left.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Raymond D. Martin said today that "it's the longest week I've ever spent" as she issued a plea for her daughter to send her a card or call home collect to let her know that she is alive and well.

Another mother, Mrs. Ray Hamilton, said, "Please, Barbara, call me. I'll come and get you wherever you are. We love you and miss you."

Linda is described as weighing about 135 pounds, with brown hair and eyes and wearing a white pullover sweater, grey and black striped skirt, black coat and shoes.

★ ★ ★

Barbara is five-feet, five inches tall and weighs 110 pounds. She had reddish blonde hair and hazel eyes, and when last seen was wearing a beige sweater, green tweed skirt and a green plaid jacket.

Anita has blonde hair and blue eyes and was wearing a plaid tweed skirt, white blouse and brown loafers and carrying a brown purse.

School Millage Vote Will Be Discussed

DRYDEN — The forthcoming vote on a 2½-mill school tax levy will be discussed at a public meeting set by the Board of Education for 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Dryden School auditorium.

Voters in the local school district will cast their ballots on the millage proposal Oct. 5. The 2½ mills are needed, school officials said, to help pay off the anticipated deficit in the 1957 Building and Site Fund.

If approved, the millage hike would provide about $20,000 of the $23,000 needed. The remaining $3,000 would be paid from the general fund, the board stated.

The extra millage would be levied for two years.

Nationalist China Fetes Confucius' Birthday

TAIPEI (U P I) — Nationalist China today celebrated the 2,509th anniversary of the birth of Confucius with prayers and a national holiday.

President Chiang Kai-shek officiated at a meeting held in his office suite in honor of China's most renowned teacher and philosopher.

County to Supply 42 for Army Induction

Oakland County Draft Boards will deliver 42 registrants for Army induction during the month of November, according to the State Selective Service Headquarters in Lansing.

Board 65 will call 13 men, while Board 67 will induct 14. Both are in Pontiac.

Board 66 in Royal Oak will call 15 men for induction.

Plan Harvest Supper

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — Mount Bethel Methodist Church will hold its annual Harvest Supper Wednesday in the church hall. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. The public is invited. The church is located at the corner of Jossman and Bald Eagle roads.

Newlyweds Are Residing in Oxford After Trip

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ludwig is the former Delores B. Kastelic and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kastelic of 65 S. Washington St. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William Ludwig of 106 Pontiac St.

The double-ring wedding was performed in the First Baptist Church at Lake Orion by the Rev. Walter Ballagh.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of Viennese lace and net over satin. Her waist-length veil fell softly from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ted Seefield of Oxford was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Paula Johnson of Grosse Pointe and the bride's sister, Maryann. Her cousin, Debra Kastelic of Inkster, was flower girl.

★ ★ ★

Duties as best man were performed by the bridegroom's brother, David, of Lake Orion. Ushers were William Kennedy of Metamora and the bridegroom's brother, Paul.

Jimmy Stewart Says It Hurts

He's Weary of AF-Rating Hubbub

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Jimmy Stewart slouched on a couch in a Manhattan Hotel suite and said, "I'm gettin' a little fed up with it — and I think the people of America are gettin' a little fed up with it too."

This was Jimmy Stewart, the actor. But he wasn't acting.

A Senate subcommittee had taken another poke at his reputation, and at his promotion last July to the status of brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve. They had claimed a man more qualified for promotion had been ousted to make room for the movie star.

"What can I say?" Stewart asked. "Must I defend myself? I don't know what there is to defend. All I can do is stand on my record, that's all I can do. My selection was approved by the President — and that's good enough for me."

It was quite obvious the latest political blast hurt, though the graying actor — "America's boy friend" a quarter-century ago — admits only to irritation. He is intensely proud of his military record, as his father and grandfather were before him. His grandfather fought in the Civil War, his father in the Spanish-American War and in World War I, and Jimmy himself flew 20 missions over Germany and rose from private to colonel in World War II.

LET'S FORGET IT

"But let's forget it, huh?" he said. And we went on to talk about the day 40 years ago when he began his two-pronged career as actor and pilot. He was 11, and there was a combination of ham and adventurer in him.

"We lived (in a town with the unlikely name of Indiana, Pennsylvania) in a house that a roof sloping down to the back yard. I built myself the kind of flying machine a fella of 11 years old would build. It was made out of wood and torn sheets donated by my mother, and three wheels from my wagon.

"I thought I was way ahead of my time with that tricycle landing gear — and I was."

"A neighbor, fella by the name of Bill Banks, climbed up on the roof with me and held the rope while I went down." He grinned. "Shoulda broke my neck, but I just broke the flyin' machine instead."

The next year, his father took him to a nearby corn field for his first gen-oo-ine plane ride. Fifteen dollars for five minutes, in a Curtis "Pusher," where you sat out in front of the wings. "Father brought the family physician along, but he wasn't required. Father didn't believe in the flyin' machine. I went to my home town last week to dedicate the 'Jimmy Stewart Airport.' And my father, who's 87, still doesn't trust the flyin' machine."

HE'S 'DISCOVERED'

After graduating from Princeton, Jimmy went to Hollywood in 1935 and took flying lessons. If the movie studios didn't discover him quickly, he was going to be a commercial pilot. They discovered him quickly.

In March 1941, before Pearl Harbor of course, Stewart joined the Air Force. He was six-foot-three and only 139 pounds, so they at first rejected him. He quickly put on 10 pounds and was accepted.

By the time he was promoted to colonel and discharged in late 1945, Jimmy had won, among other awards, the Distinguished Flying Cross.

He still flies, owns his own plane, and is checked out for 150 hours in jet bombers.

"Jets," he says, "are a much more unforgiving type of airplane than piston planes. Meaning, the highest technical proficiency is demanded." At the age of 51, Stewart apparently still has technical proficiency; he loves piloting the fastest.

In town now to attend the premiere of his latest movie, "The FBI Story," Jimmy Stewart was asked why he has stayed in movies and done relatively little television. Does he, like some Hollywood stars, resent TV for cutting in on the film business?

Quite the contrary, he says: "Those old pictures of mine on TV — well, they sorta helped. They keep reminding people I'm still a movie actor, I'm still around and in business. . ."

Australia at one time was known as New Holland. It did not become a part of the British Empire or assume its new name until about 1770.

Some party-goers think that a balanced diet means a cocktail in each hand . . . Middle age is when you are impressed, not with the fact that the grass is greener on the other side of the fence, but rather how hard the fence is to climb. —Earl Wilson.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . .

as different as night and day!

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years undergoing revisions and refinements.

Consequently, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional-sized car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars—each one designed to best fill the needs it was meant to fill.

One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power, linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb (and America's most popular) 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

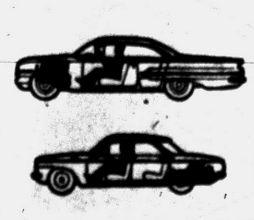

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies its great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually squeak- and rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: the Corvair will be the only American compact car with this type of suspension system—the only one that rides so comfortably, holds the road so firmly and handles so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

CHEVROLET

CHEVY MOUNTS THE ENGINE TO MATCH THE CAR

The front-mounted engine provides most efficient weight distribution in a conventional-sized Chevrolet, splitting the load almost evenly between front and rear wheels. Since a 4-door Chevy sedan weighs 3,550 lbs., this design puts adequate weight in the rear for sure-footed traction and road-grip while giving a solid, consistently balanced big-car ride.

A rear-mounted engine gives the best weight distribution for a lighter, compact car like the 2,340-lb. Corvair. This design puts some 60% of the weight on the rear wheels for extra traction in cornering and driving on ice, mud or snow. Corvair, by avoiding nose-heaviness of front-engine compact cars, also gives you better riding, handling and braking characteristics.

Chinese Puzzle – Will K Meet Frowns in Peiping?

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washinton interest was swinging today towards Peiping where a familiar figure—Nikita Khrushchev — is about to make an appearance.

A visit by the Soviet Premier to his No. 1 Communist ally is a matter of note any time. It is especially so when the Soviet leader has just completed an historic trip to the United States, Red China's No. 1 hate in the cold war.

There has been little indication so far that Khrushchev will make much of a public splash in Peiping. To the contrary, there has been a curious silence.

The official purpose of Khrushchev's China journey is to attend the 10th anniversary celebration of the Peiping regime Oct. 1.

The Kremlin leader himself has made few references to his Asiatic ally despite China's prominence in cold war trouble spots.

Soviet aides at his news conference Sunday selected for Khrushchev's reply none of a number of questions concerning Red China which were submitted by American newsmen.

★ ★ ★

Instead of delivering the Soviet delegation's main speech in Peiping as the head man, Khrushchev has handed the job to Mikhail Suslov, secretary of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee.

One is that Peiping is engrossed in internal affairs for the moment. The 10th anniversary celebration talk has focused on claims for the great leap forward, the Red Regime's far-reaching plan for economic advancement.

Something of a purge has been under way in Communist Chinese ranks. Word of more than 400 job changes, reaching high into military and other positions, has reached the West.

Khrushchev may not want to put himself on the spot with a major speech now that would anger either Peiping or Washington.

★ ★ ★

Staying backstage in Peiping would not rule out serious private talks by Khrushchev with the other Communist leaders, however. He also may have some bones to pick with Peiping's leadership. For instance, the Red Chinese have now publicly admitted the error of former production claims —claims which had been used by Khrushchev in his boasts of Communist bloc strength.

Root For Tax Hike In Court Battle

State School Money Needs Mushroom

SAGINAW (AP)—Michigan schools are hoping the Supreme Court will find the use tax penny constitutional, and if it is they'll be after a bigger share of it from the next Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Schools are into the general fund $39 million this year. How much more they'll want next year isn't known.

The Michigan Assn. of School Administrators at Mackinac Island last week avoided asking for a new formula, but let it be known it wants more money.

Sid H. Sixma, executive secretary of the Michigan School Board Assn. said when the association meets Oct. 13 at Kellogg Center, East Lansing, the school board men will pass a resolution asking for an increase.

Michigan's elementary and secondary schools this year have a state aid budget of $325,950,000. Earmarked incomes from sales tax, liquor and cigarette taxes, and primary fund totals $286 million. The balance comes from the state's general fund.

★ ★ ★

This constant demand by schools for more state aid is the result of a series of problems. Here are some of the reasons for the schools' plight:

1. School district annexation law permits a school district to be superimposed over city, township, and county lines. This bumps into the 15-mill tax limitation law which says schools, townships, and counties must get local operating millage within this framework.

Districts such as Saginaw, Flint, Grand Rapids and Dearborn are coterminous with their city limits. They get a break because they split the 15 mills only with the county. Others must include the township share. The more the townships take, the more state aid the school districts must get to keep their heads above water.

2. The school program has expanded and new and expensive things added. Some of these are driver education, special education, advanced placement, special classes for the mentally talented, and classes to teach etiquiette.

3. The population explosion has gotten ahead of school district valuation. Any superintendent will admit it isn't the cost of building a school that's difficult to finance, it's the operation of hat school.

★ ★ ★

Superintendents are leary of asking voters for extra operating revenue above the 15-mill limitation. A district that builds a budget on five extra mills for a period of three years must go back to the voters at the end of that period for a renewal of the five mills.

★ ★ ★

Superintendent of public instruction Dr. Lynn Bartlett, some legislators and superintendents contend schools need new sources of income, just as cities need them. Property they argue, has reached the limit in many districts.

School people view federal aid as the most likely source of new income. Russell L. Isbister, Plymouth superintendent and past president of the MASA, said it's no longer a question of federal aid coming—it now is a question of how soon and how much.

Progress Reported for Laotian Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Government troops have driven pro-Communist rebels across the Nam Ma River in northern Laos, five miles from the border of Communist North Viet Nam, a pilot reported today.

This would mean the Red Pathet Lao forces have been pushed into a narrow strip between the river and the twisting Communist border, which has been a staging area for major rebel moves since July.

The government, often days slow in getting frontline dispatches, has not officially confirmed the report.

An Australian pilot who carried military supplies to the north said that three days ago government forces, after little rebel resistance, recaptured the town of Muong Het, 30 miles north of the royal army's headquarters at Sam Neua and only five miles from the frontier.

Recovery of Muong Het would be a major achievement for the government. It was the first town to fall in the Pathet Lao advance of Aug. 30, the biggest operation of the 10-week-old war.

Nikita's Visit —What Result?

No One Is Quite Sure, and Details of Ike Talks Aren't Yet Revealed

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has finished his sensational and historic visit to the United States. What does it add up to? If you had to give the answer in one sentence, this would be it: "I can't be sure."

Reaction varies from skepticism to hope, mixed with wonder whether there's a gimmick in it, that he wants peace. One thing is sure. He didn't lose anything by his trip. He probably gained a lot.

So far as is known he didn't budge an inch on anything. Even that can't be said with certainty, since he implied that the full result of his talks with President Eisenhower won't be known for some time.

He tried to create an image of Khrushchev and the Soviet Union extremely anxious for peace. And no doubt he did in some areas of the world, at least.

If he's not sincere, then the obvious question must arise in the most hostile minds: why did he go to all this trouble? That's an advantage he knew he would have when he undertook this trip in the first place. He never lost it.

He gave the impression of a man fed up with seeing the world's leaders frozen in fixed positions, and determined at any cost to shove the world loose. That's exactly the impression he probably wanted to give.

★ ★ ★

Just because he created that impression, he put the Western leaders on a psychological defensive. They will perhaps feel compelled somehow, in some way, to do something to match in the world's eye Khrushchev's show of good intentions.

Delay Nuclear Ban Talks at Britain's Request

LONDON (UPI — The United States has agreed, at Britain's request, to put off the scheduled reopening in Geneva of negotiations for a ban on nuclear testing from Oct. 12 to Oct. 26, it was announced today.

A foreign office spokesman said Britain proposed postponement of the talks to the United States and Russia, the other nations concerned. No reply has been received so far from Russia.

Diplomatic sources said Britain wanted to delay the reopening of the talks because Oct. 12 is too short a time after the parliamentary election scheduled Oct. 8.

Message of Hope Sent by Nikita on Way Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev today sent a farewell radiogram to President Eisenhower from his Moscow-bound plane, saying his American visit convinced him the trend toward "mutual understanding between our countries is on the ascendancy."

Reds Link Cancer to Tobacco Element

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet experiments have proven there is no doubt that tobacco smoke causes cancer, a Soviet researcher reported today.

Dr. L. M. Shavad, in an article in Komsomolskaya Pravada entitled "An Offensive Against Cigarettes," said:

"Experiments aboard and in our country by me and my colleagues have turned up an ingredient in tobacco smoke that causes cancer.

"The experiments were made on animals, but there is no doubt it has the same effect on the human organism."

"There are times when it is almost impossible to express one's appreciation..."
This is the beginning of a letter to us from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henry of Traverse City.
Around 9 p.m. one night last November, the Henry baby, Bucky, suddenly became unconscious. Bucky already had a temperature and now his breathing had nearly stopped.
Desperate, Mr. Henry rushed for the phone, explained the critical emergency to Operator Pearlie Newbauer.
Mrs. Newbauer called in Senior Operator Dora Leabo and Operator Ruth Estes. While one called the ambulance, another called the fire department and the third made sure that a doctor would be ready at the hospital.
Bucky was rushed to the hospital in minutes and his life saved.
THE HENRY LETTER CLOSED WITH THESE WORDS:
"It is tremendously gratifying how efficient and dependable the telephone company is in time of need. Please extend to those on duty that night our indebtedness."

Zippers! That's Our Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Once a boon to mankind, the lowly button rapidly is going into discard because of man's desire to save time and energy.

That's the word from Dewey Albert, who says the zipper is symptomatic of what's wrong with our world. Albert, of Highstown, N. J., is a delegate to the National Button Society Convention, now under way here.

And to Albert's way of thinking, the question of buttons vs. zipper is ah open and shut case, so to speak.

"Is the world any better because of the zipper?" he asks. "I'll tell you what the trouble is—people are lazy, that's what. They don't want to take the time to button buttons. So they use zippers.

KING'S IDEA

Some of his findings:

Coat sleeves have three buttons "so you won't use your sleeve for a handkerchief. King George III thought of that during the revolution."

Buttons played a strategic role in the Civil War—"The South didn't have any button factories and so the North blockaded all the British ships bringing buttons from England.

The South had an awful time. They couldn't get any buttons at all and they had to try to make their own. Just imagine. Some Confederate soldiers had to tie on acorns instead of buttons."

★ ★ ★

Albert says soldiers were extremely proud of their regimental buttons in the old days but now "even policemen and firemen are using zippers. It's something I can't understand."

★ ★ ★

"It used to be that buttons were things of beauty. You could tell a man's good taste in things and his wealth by the kind of buttons he wore on his waistcoat. Not any more. A zipper doesn't tell anything about a man."

Husband Has Right to Object

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it right and proper on occasion for the married employes of an office to go out in a group to celebrate some of fice event, without inviting the husbands and wives? It is to be a strictly office celebration. My husband insists that after business my place is to come home, and for a woman to be seen out in public without her husband definitely cheapens her and shows lack of respect for her family. Will you please give your opinion on this?"

Answer: The husbands and wives of married employes are not invited to a party which is held in the office, and your husband should not object to your staying on for an occasional one. Quite different however, is a party held in the evening at a restaurant or night club, and if your husband is not invited to such a party he has a right to object to your going.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother and I are twins and we plan on being married at a double wedding. The brides are not sisters, nor are they related in any way. The question has been raised as to which mother is accorded the honor of being seated last and also seated in the first pew. Will you please tell us how this can be handled so that one of them won't feel slighted?"

Answer: The mother of the older bride is correctly accorded the honors you mention.

Rings, Vows Exchanged Before Lutheran Altar

MRS. JERRY L. RUSH

A double-ring candlelight ceremony performed Saturday evening at Christ Lutheran Church united Janet Louise Rice and Jerry Lester Rush.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Rice of Savoy drive. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie V. Rush of Meadow avenue.

★ ★ ★

Back detailing on the skirt was a large lace bow. A band of seed pearls and sequins caught her illusion veil and she held a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Robert Brown of Flint acted as best man. Larry Wall attended. Ushering were Kenneth Rush of Drayton Plains, brother of the bridegroom, and John Potter of Drayton Plains, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Cyril Pelican, Mary Papke Vows Spoken

Mary Owen Papke of Rochester married Cyril Pelican, son of Mrs. Cyril E. Pelican of South Anderson street at Bethany Baptist Church Saturday afternoon, Sept. 19.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Robert Mead of Rochester. Mrs. Emmett Flynn of Pontiac was matron of honor and Mr. Flynn was best man.

★ ★ ★

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the groom's mother. After a honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula, the newlyweds will live on South Squirrel road in Auburn Heights.

★ ★ ★

Shower Honors Carol Olson

Mrs. Carl Leonard of Elsinore drive gave a miscellaneous shower Friday evening in honor of Carol Olson who is marrying Thomas Sherwood Oct. 10. There were 35 guests present.

★ ★ ★

Carol announced her attendants, who will be: Carolyn Smith, maid of honor; Jeanette Ohanesian and Rita Olson, bridesmaids, and Ruth Anne Olson, flower girl.

★ ★ ★

Chitchat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Pres Home Editor

There's magic in the air — that is, the air inside a new type garment bag now available in a local store. This plastic garment bag, accidentally discovered by a Detroit furrier, actually rejuvenates your garments.

It was found that the type of plastic out of which Vacpaks are made generates more static electricity than an ordinary bag. The static electricity magnetizes the surfaces it contacts and draws out dust and lint. Designed originally to protect furs and allow them to breathe while in storage, the bags can be used for any type of clothing.

Chemists have solved a problem that was bothering many homemakers. While they loved having wash and wear fabrics, they were unhappy when these fabrics didn't turn out to be fadeproof. The combination of two separate products gives fadeproof, crease resistance and shrinkage controlled wash and wear fabrics. Whew! Watch your labels.

★ ★ ★

You've all seen the little pans that cook poached aggs in perfect rounds. Now your fried eggs can be done the same way. All you need is an egg frying ring. Our information says restaurants have been using them for years. Four will fit into a 9-inch frying pan.

★ ★ ★

We're used to bug bombs now, and spray cans for paint. But it looks as if we're going to have to get used to dozens of other products in push-button cans. Here's a list of some of the newer ones. They may not all have found their way into your favorite store, so keep on looking. Incidentally, we received no brand names with this information.

There's dry shampoo for fabrics that can't be washed; there's leather preservative and a spray to preserve metal surfaces. There's clear shellac that will fix up worn spots in the floor pronto. There's a spray that penetrates the pores of marble and prevents stains.

But best of all is a new waterless cleaner that takes the stigma of toil off your hands — literally. This one contains lanolin for softening the skin.

An Ounce of Prevention . . .

Oak Trees From Acorns Grow

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Frequently you advise your readers to consult a clergyman or psychiatrist in an attempt to solve their problems. This is certainly sound counsel if the person involved is mentally or morally unbalanced. But for the average person, this is like suggesting they call the fire department to put out a cigarette butt. Sincerely yours,

ABBY

AVERAGE PERSON

DEAR AVERAGE: Perhaps you are right, but isn't it better to err on the side of over-cautiousness? Many a forest fire has started with a cigarette butt. The fire department could easily put out a cigarette butt, but an "average person" could never hope to extinguish a forest fire with his tears.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a boy who is 18. My parents think he is the wrong kind of boy for me. I am 17 and think I am old enough to choose my own husband. I love this boy very much and we plan on getting married. Do you think my parents should interfere in my business?

GIRL IN LOVE

DEAR GIRL: When your future is at stake, your "business" becomes your parents' business. Should you marry this boy and discover later that you made a mistake, where do you think you will run at the age of 17? And on whom can you depend for help? When you are self-supporting and independent, you may make your own decisions. But not until.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a very good friend who always calls me up and tells me who had a party and didn't invite me. Usually she wasn't invited either, but she knows who has parties.

Sometimes she says the party was real big and I find out later it was just a little get-together with only a few people.

I don't like to tell her it bothers me to hear about all these parties I'm left out of, but how can I do it? Is there any way I can get my point across without hurting her feelings?

NOT INVITED

DEAR NOT: What feelings? With "friends" like her, you don't need any enemies. Tell her in plain English that you are not interested in her party reports.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: While visiting my husband's brother recently, his wife told me that we are supposed to buy their son his confirmation suit because they named him after my husband.

They say that this is the custom. I have never heard of this custom. Have you or any of your readers ever heard of it? Thank you.

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I, too, am "puzzled". I have never heard of this "custom." In my opinion, there is only one good reason for giving a gift of any kind. And that is because the giver wants to.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO DOROTHY: Sorry. You came to your senses ten years and three children too late. When a woman gives herself to a man for nothing (not even a marriage certificate) he usually figures she is worth exactly what she cost him. Nothing. He can be forced by law to support his children. But no law in the land can compel him to live with you.

Parents Make Mistakes but Not Always

Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the fourth of six articles that will appear during her absence, reprinted by permission of Random House, Inc., from "The Happy Child," by Irene M. Josselyn, M.D. Copyright, 1955, by Irene Milliken Josselyn.

Wise discipline gives a child a choice when a choice is acceptable. But if the choice has more implications than the child can comprehend, or if parents will accept only one answer, the child should not be given a choice.

Parents often make tyrannical noises because they have such a poor concept of their own strength. They assert themselves as if certain that they will not only be opposed but probably defeated. They gird to fight windmills.

Hiding behind the windmills is the surprised child. The battle is then on, anger-arousing for the parents and often frightening to the child. Both want to win. The parents fear they won't. The child may be terrified because he doesn't know what he'll do with his victory.

Many times when a child forces the parent into battle he does to with the hope that finally the parents will win because it is their victory, not his, that gives him security.

Parents forget they are in control. Unsure of themselves when confronted by the obstacles created by the child, they fear him as the "immovable object." Unless parents give away their secret, the child evaluates the situation quite differently. To him parents are the "irresistible force" to which he will finally have to bow.

Though the parents may be weak, to the child they are very big and very strong. Confident parents will achieve their goal. They are not wishy-washy in their discipline. They are reasonable in a request, certain that it will be carried out and tolerant of an understandable delay.

Some parents are ineffectual in discipline because the child's particular behavior is in an unconscious way vicariously gratifying to them. When parents gleefully recount some mschief of their child, they are obviously enjoying it.

Such a sense of humor in indirectly experiencing a less stodgy life than their own can lighten an overly solemn hand of discipline. But if the parent unconsciously gains gratification out of serious violations by the child, out of every successful evasion of parental or other authority, unfortunate consequences can result.

Studies have indicated that many delinquent children are acting out the unconscious wishes of their parents.

Songs Open McConnell PTA Meet

The solos "Getting to Know You" and "I'll See You Again," sung by Mrs. Dodge Melkonian, opened the program at the first McConnell School PTA meeting held Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

President Mrs. Mark Newman gave a welcome which was followed by an introduction of the teaching staff by Thomas Temple, principal.

Program chairman Mrs. John Vanderlind gave a general outline of plans for the year which will include programs covering activities of interest considering local, national and international needs of children.

A highlight of Thursday's meeting was a presentation of picket line posters by chairmen of health, safety, finance, membership, homeroom representatives and adult legislation committee. The posters described the committees' duties and solicited participation.

★ ★ ★

Announcement was made that the aim of the McConnell PTA Board is to secure an over-all membership participation in activities.

Wear Only One or Two Pieces of Jewelry Set

One of the biggest mistakes that many women make is in going all out for jewelry when they're partybound.

They own a matching necklace, earrings, and bracelet so they wear all three. They may also wear glasses which make for additional shine. Quite possibly, they add a clip or a pin because they're uncertain as to what will look well. The result is complete confusion.

When you're in doubt, underplay it. Remove a piece or two of jewelry and things improve immediately. By all means, own a set of jewelry but don't wear all three pieces at one time. Even the designer didn't really intend that you should do this.

Forget It

Age Won't Cost You a Job

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I couldn't believe my eyes when I read the classified advertisement sections of two metropolitan newspapers yesterday. I knew that there had been a big change in thinking about hiring more mature women. However, I had no idea HOW different things are since I have not looked at the help wanted sections for some time.

Over and over again the advertisements called for a good personality, for attractiveness, for alertness, but only twice did I see age mentioned. One ad wanted a stenographer "over 25." That's a switch! Another wanted a "mature woman."

If you are middleaged or older and want to get a job, first look at yourself objectively. Are you overweight? Do you need a permanent or a new hair style? Are your clothes up to date and are you well-groomed?

SOME SABOTAGE SELVES

There are many middle-aged and older women who want jobs and many who need them desperately. Lots of these women feel that they will fail in landing one because of age. Others sabotage themselves with their own age consciousness when they apply for a position.

The day has passed when you must be apologetic about your age. As a matter of fact middle-aged women always have gotten work when they applied for it with verve and enthusiasm rather than with timidity and apology. However, it is easier now.

If you are middle-aged or older and want to get a job, first look at yourself objectively. Are you overweight? Do you need a permanent or a new hair style? Are your clothes up to date and are you well-groomed? If you require renovation in any of these departments, it will pay to do what is needed BEFORE going job hunting.

APPEARANCE COUNTS

There is no doubt about it—the first impression we make depends quite a lot on our appearance, so do not handicap yourself in this area.

If you are looking for secretarial or stenographic work and feel that you are rusty, take a refresher course before applying for a position.

Look alert and enthusiastic. In fact, feel that way. Don't lie about your age, just forget it. Your skill and competence and reliability, personality and verve, are the things which count.

Do not hesitate to "sell" yourself, describing your qualifications without self-consciousness. Unless you believe in yourself no one else will. When giving your qualifications do not go into detail but include all of the important highlights. Your interviewer is probably a busy person so avoid being tedious. Good luck!

(By the way, there are a couple of very large agencies which employ women of all ages for temporary or part time jobs.)

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Wondering what to serve when you entertain your card club for brunch or lunch—or for a quick and easy supper? This Ham and Egg Pie will be different as well as good. If you do not have ham in the house, use a can of lunch meat.

Mrs. Frank J. Moreau is today's cook. She spent most of the summer enjoying visits from her grown-up children. The Moreaus have a teenage daughter still at home. Mrs. Moreau is active in civic affairs and club work. She enjoys bridge games with her friends.

HAM AND EGG PIE
By Mrs. Frank J. Moreau

4 eggs, beaten
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup milk
2 cups cubed cooked ham or lunch meat
1 cup grated cheese
1 unbaked pie shell

Beat eggs, add pepper, baking powder, milk, ham and cheese. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in 425-degree oven for 35 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Anita Louise Bowers Marries Pontiac Man

The bride wore a bouffant skirt of white chiffon over taffeta with a chapel train. Her gown featured a lace bodice with an oval neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy centered with a white rosebud corsage.

Billie Ann Mouser, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length dress of apple green chiffon over white taffeta. The dress had an empire sash with a back drape and she carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations and apricot rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The new Mrs. Wrinkle changed to a brown tweed suit with black suede accessories and the white rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet. After a honeymoon in northern Michigan they will live on High street.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bowers chose a dress of avocado lace with black and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a taupe lace dress with white accessories and both wore orchid corsages.

Marriage Never Has Been 50-50 Deal

By RUTH MILLETT

"Why is it," asks a woman reader, "that in your columns you almost always give husbands better than an even break?" You certainly don't make marriage sound like a fifty-fifty proposition—which it certainly should be, even if it isn't."

In writing of marriage, I don't worry too much about what ought to be. I don't even worry about trying to please my women readers by constantly hitting at the men and letting women off with a pat on the back.

Nor do I pretend that marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition and urge women to demand everything they feel is their due.

Marraige isn't a fifty - fifty proposition—and never has been. To have a happy marriage a woman has to work harder at solving problems, keeping home life pleasant, making a home run smoothly and keeping a husband happy.

Sure, a woman can, if she wishes, stand up and fight for her rights, snap back when she is snapped at and show no more consideration than she receives. But that kind of attitude rarely makes for a happy marriage.

Happy marriages are created by women who don't keep books on what they give and what they receive, women who want a happy home more than they want anything else in the world, and who gently and quietly go about the business of making their marriages succeed.

So when I write of marriage, I am not in the least concerned about what's fair and what's not fair. I am concerned with "what is" rather than with "what ought to be."

The fact is that marriage has always been and still is more important to women than to men. Women may hate to admit this. But unless they do and generously try to give more than they demand—they are making a big mistake.

The Continental model suit is the latest thing in men's suits for Fall and Winter. Creating a more elegant and slimmer look, it promises to make the American male look worldly and sophisticated. The new look features a narrow, lapeled coat—semi-peaked two button, single front and slimmer and narrower trousers with or without cuffs and a single front pleat.

Baptist Mission Unit Meets for Luncheon

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary ociety of the First Baptist Church met Thursday for a dessert luncheon in the church parlors. The Golden Circle Class served about 75 members and guests.

Mrs. Paul Hanselman, the speaker, told of the work done by her and her husband in the Belgian Congo for the past four years.

She Calls It Organized Bedlam

Moves Firm Over Weekend

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—As one of the estimated 35 million persons to change residence in 1959, my chapeau is off to a former model named Gertrude Palmer.

For most of us, there is all too much truth in the old saying that "Three moves are as good as a burn-out." Moving means chaos and clashing tempers no matter how well the planning ahead, I've found.

Yet Miss Palmer is supervising one of the most unusual moving jobs of the year—and not a hair of her auburn tresses seems ruffled. She is responsible for the transfer of an entire company—its office equipment, home furnishings, families and pets—from New York to Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

The first stages of moving began six weeks ago, she said. It will be climaxed this weekend when the last of the 70 adults, 29 children, three dogs, two goldfish, one cat and one parakeet heads West by jet plane.

"We close the offices here today (Friday)," she said. "Monday morning, the staff reports to work at the same desks, the same typewriters, even the same pencils in Los Angeles."

Behind this "organized bedlam" lies plenty of planning on the part of the 38-year-old Miss Palmer, who is personnel director for NTA.

It took her several trips to Los Angeles to plan the decor and furniture placement for the new headquarters. She also surveyed new home prospects, driver license requirements, taxes, churches, school locations and starting dates — "since the move was to be around the start of school, this was important," she said.

★ ★ ★

All such information on the new environment was put into booklet form for each employe from president to secretary. Each couple or single employe also gets a free one-week trip West, to case the new surroundings and shop for home or apartment.

Meanwhile, at New York headquarters, experts from a moving firm were calling on the households of each family to work out details of packing. The experts also started tagging with shipping instructions every desk, chair, rug and picture in the office.

"The only thing we're not taking is the greenery," said Miss Palmer. "They won't let it into California."

In all, she said, there were 20 trailer-truck loads of household goods and two cargo planes of office furnishings. Total cost of the move was not disclosed.

All live items either already have gone or will go this weekend by passenger jet, including the parakeet who belongs to a secretary and will ride on her lap to Los Angeles. Miss Palmer said one of her worries is the time element for a couple of wives of executives — the women are expecting babies at any hour.

The personnel director, a native New Yorker, modeled for many years and before joining NTA was "liaison man, press agent, companion and girl Friday" to Jane Froman, the singer.

White House Was Not Home to Roosevelts

By ROSE McKEE

Does life in the White House spoil one for living in a more modest setting?

Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif) eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, says no. He was in and out of the White House during the "F.D.R." years and lived in the executive mansion for a time.

Roosevelt said that perhaps it was because he, his sister and brothers were grown by the time their parents went to the White House that "we never considered it home in the same sense we did Hyde Park."

He added that "there was always the strong feeling the White House belonged to the people of the United States and not to its individual occupants so probably we treated it with a little more reverence and, therefore, it was not so homelike. But father and mother tried to make it homelike upstairs."

Most of the time during the two years he was his President-father's secretary, Roosevelt lived in a Washington house he bought rather than in the White House because "I have a theory people are happier in their own home."

The Congressman's present Washington home is a contemporary house of field stone and white brick with a basement, two-car garage, two bedrooms, two bathrooms, a den, living room with a dining area attached and a kitchen, with a family room in the basement along with an extra bedroom and bath.

Roosevelt, who bought the house new, told the National Association of Home Builders that it is "not an unusual house—it is a modest one but it has modern conveniences and fits our size and we like it because of the trees around it."

The Roosevelts, who have an infant son, do not have a maid unless they are going to have company. The Congressman said that "Mrs. Roosevelt is the best cook in the world — she enjoys cooking and I enjoy having her cook."

MSUO Faculty Stresses Youth and Brains

Numbering 24, the faculty group is the youngest in the country. Average age of instructors is 33.

Twenty-two faculty members have their Ph. D. degrees, which is unusual since in the average university only one in three members has the doctorate.

MSUO's two faculty members without their doctorates have accomplishments more than comparable because both are prolific writers in their fields.

Half a dozen are men whose department heads have called them "the best of their generation or among the best they have ever taught."

* * *

All Russian language instructors and one of three French instructors are of foreign birth and none have taught in a regular session of an American university.

ONE A DIPLOMAT'S WIFE

Faculty members were chosen for ability, youth, vigor, enthusiasm and sense of mission, said D. B. Varner, chancellor of MSUO.

"Budget limitations did not permit hiring of established scholars," Varner said, "but they probably couldn't have built the kind of university envisioned — imaginative, bold, ready to find new ways of doing a university's job better."

Before recruiting faculty members, Varner asked 150 leading universities for their ablest young men or new Ph.D.'s. The 24 chosen were from approximately 250 to whom Varner talked.

* * *

The first faculty member was hired late in March of this year — the last one on Sept. 9, only 12 days before MSUO's opening.

DR. GEORGE T. MATTHEWS

Dr. George T. Matthews comes closest at MSUO to filling the traditional position of department head.

* * *

There aren't any department heads, as such, at MSUO—one of the many departures from tradition the fledgling college has decided to take.

But Dr. Matthews, 42, will be responsible for the university's accent on contemporary civilization.

(This emphasis is another departure from tradition — the university feels its students should be well-acquainted with all the influential areas of today's complex world.)

* * *

Dr. Matthews has a background well-suited to his new job. He was the principal architect of Columbia University's courses in contemporary civilization.

* * *

Prior to his 1956 appointment (as an assistant professor of history) to chair the contemporary civilization program, Dr. Matthews had acted as an instructor and as assistant to the dean for nine years.

History will be Dr. Matthews' main classroom subject at MSUO.

Dr. Matthews was a Phi Beta Kappa scholar at Columbia, graduating in 1939. He earned his master's degree at Columbia in 1940 and his doctorate in 1954.

* * *

A native of New York City, Dr. Matthews got his early education in the public schools and during World War II was an Air Force officer, serving in Europe as a historian, intelligence officer and public relations officer.

Dr. Matthews is author of a two-volume textbook on western civilization and several other scholarly works.

His wife Mildred is a painter and art historian who has lectured at Columbia. They have one daughter.

Dr. Paul Tomboulian was one of the youngest scholars ever to receive a doctorate from the University of Illinois.

He won the degree in chemistry

DR. PAUL TOMBOULIAN

at age 21. That was only three years ago.

The quality of Dr. Tomboulian's postgraduate work is attested to by the Du Pont Postgraduate Teaching fellowship he won at Illinois. These are awarded annually to only the most promising graduate students who also show an interest in teaching.

* * *

A native of Rochester, N.Y., Dr. Tomboulian was graduated from public high school in Ithaca, N.Y. at age 15. He had obtained his bachelor's degree at Cornell University by the time he was 18.

Although young in years, Dr. Tomboulian has had several years experience teaching on the college level at Illinois.

During the past three years he has been a teacher employed in postdoctorate research and teaching at the University of Minnesota.

* * *

The results of this research were the subject of a paper which Dr. Tomboulian presented recently to the American Chemical Society in Atlantic City.

Married, but with no children, Dr. Tomboulian so far is the only chemistry specialist at MSUO. One of his ambitions is to set up a research program at the school within a few years.

* * *

Dr. Orrin E. Taulbee, although only 31, has specialized in computers—the so-called "mechanical brains" — for both peaceful and wartime purposes.

For Remington-Rand Co. he was involved in pure research and work on the Univac computer, 1955-1958.

In 1958 he joined Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and became involved in design of computers in advanced military weapons.

* * *

Dr. Taulbee is not a stranger to faculty row, however. He was a teaching fellow at Michigan State University while obtaining his master's degree and doctorate there in 1951 and 1955.

Two years ago, Dr. Taulbee instructed a special course in advanced mathematics at St. Thomas College in St. Paul, Minn., location of the Remington-Rand research center.

Dr. Taulbee is author or coauthor of a dozen scholarly works, including three published by Remington-Rand.

* * *

He is a native of Taulbee, Ky., a small town named after his ancestors and was graduated from Berea, Ky. College in 1950. He served in the Army 1946-48.

DR. WILLIAM E. RHODE

The first student at Michigan State University to receive a doctorate in political science is on the MSUO faculty.

* * *

Dr. William E. Rhode, 28, won the degree in 1958. An assistant professor, he is the only political science expert on the MSUO faculty.

An instructor at MSU three years, young Dr. Rhode was graduated from MSU in 1952 and took his master's there two years later.

He has also studied police administration and sociology and took part of his master's training at Syracuse University.

* * *

As a Falk Fellow at MSU, Dr. Rhode included close observations of political life in Lansing in his studies.

He served six months as an assistant to Gov. Williams' legislative secretary and has been in attendance at both national and state political conventions.

Dr. Rhode won a research assistantship and one other fellowship at MSU and a fellowship at Syracuse.

Mrs. Helen Kovach is once again beginning a new career — this time at MSUO.

The Russian-born linguist brings to her new post as Russian teacher a long history of new and brave beginnings in the face of repeated oppression by totalitarian governments.

Mrs. Kovach immigrated with her parents to Yugoslavia soon after her birth. In 1941, just after her graduation from Law School at the University of Belgrade,

MRS. HELEN KOVACH

Yugoslavia was attacked by the Axis powers and the province in which Mrs. Kovach lived fell into the hands of Hungary.

Her law career temporarily thwarted, Mrs. Kovach learned the Hungarian language and took a doctorate in political science and public administration at the university in Pecs.

In 1943, she was allowed to go to Czechoslovakia where she set up law practice for the first time and married a fellow lawyer.

But Kovach was interned by the Germans in a concentration camp and Mrs. Kovach was forced to turn to another career, that of social work.

When the Russians occupied Czechoslovakia in 1944, Mrs. Kovach learned Russian, won a teaching certificate and began teaching that language in the Russian-supervised public schools.

For a while, Mrs. Kovach worked with the American Red Cross, then went back to college for a year in order to be eligible to teach again.

The re-arrest of her husband as a political prisoner — this time by the Red Communists—caused Mrs. Kovach to flee to the Western-controlled part of Germany.

* * *

Despairing that her husband ever would be released from a forced-labor camp in Siberia, Mrs. Kovach took her son to Canada in 1950 and was admitted to the United States a year later.

She is now seeking a master's degree in social work at Wayne State University and for the past three years has been employed as a social caseworker at the International Institute in Detroit.

* * *

Although born and raised near Seattle and the snow-capped Cascade Mountains of Washington, 31-year-old Dr. James McKay never handled a fishing pole or passed the night in a tent until he came to this state to teach five years ago.

He and his family have been doing both ever since.

Dr. McKay came to Michigan as a mathematics instructor at Michigan State University in 1954 and had been an assistant professor one year when he returned to Seattle in 1957 to teach at Seattle University.

The lure of Michigan's countryside and the pleasant memory of professional acquaintances at MSU were two reasons why Dr. McKay wanted to teach at MSU's sister university.

LIKED LIBERAL ARTS PROGRAM

"Another reason was because I was impressed by the new liberal arts outlook and wanted to become a part of it," he said.

Dr. McKay was graduated from Seattle University in 1948 and took his master's degree and doctorate at the University of Washington in 1950 and 1953.

He was an instructor at the University of Washington before going to MSU. This summer Dr. McKay taught at the National Science Foundation Institute in Seattle.

Married with four children, Dr. McKay will start out teaching calculus at MSUO, then higher forms of mathematics when the university begins serving advanced students.

FORMER AREA RESIDENT

A one-time Rochester area resident has returned to Oakland County as an assistant professor of English at MSUO.

Dr. Justus R. Pearson is a native of Detroit but was raised near Rochester and was graduated from Rochester High School in 1929.

Now 44, Dr. Pearson has been an assistant professor at Emory University, Ga., where he has taught four years.

"Part of my interest in MSUO stems from the fact that I was raised in Oakland County," said Dr. Pearson.

Dr. Pearson attended Cass Technical High School in Detroit after high school graduation, then won a four-year scholarship from the Michigan Yale Alumni Assn.

GRADUATE OF YALE

He was graduated from Yale in 1940 and took his master's degree there in 1942, after teaching a year at Hopkin's Grammar School in New Haven, Conn.

After World War II, Dr. Pearson taught a year at Vassar College, then took his doctorate in English and comparative literature at Columbia University in 1955.

He has been an editor and writer for the Encyclopedia Americanna.

Like many World War II veterans who saw combat in Europe, J. David Danielson was impressed by the countries he visited — especially France.

The 33-year-old native of Manistique returned to Michigan after the war to take up the French language as a career. He is now a French instructor at MSUO.

Danielson was graduated in 1949 from Northern Michigan College in Marquette, then went to the University of Michigan where he took a master's degree in comparative literature in 1950. He will receive his doctorate shortly from Michigan this fall.

Danielson has traveled extensively and studied in various institutions.

A FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

He was a Fulbright scholar at the University of Paris in 1954 and 1955 and studied at Columbia Universtiy afterwards.

For four years he taught French at the University of Michigan and was an instructor in romance languages at Clark University in Worcester, Mass., until this summer.

Dr. Peter H. Amann, assistant professor of history at MSUO, is following in his father's footsteps.

Dr. Amann was born in Vienna where his father was a professor at the University of Vienna.

* * *

During the early days of World War II, the family migrated to France and from there to America during the early 1940s.

Dr. Amann graduated from Oberlin College as an economics major in 1947. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He received his master's degree and doctorate from the University of Chicago.

For the past three years, Dr. Amann has been on the faculty of Bowdoin College.

Dr. Amann is 32, married and the father of two children.

* * *

DR. PETER H. AMANN

He is John Andrew Hannum, 30, who has also founded a rocket-testing laboratory at Lake Orion.

Hannum registered the first of his 30 patents when 17. He began working as a chemical consultant in a wool reclaiming industry at the age of 14.

* * *

Hannum graduated from the Case Institute of Technology, took his master's degree in chemical engineering at the University of Michigan and completed most of the requirements for a doctorate there in 1932.

During the course of his graduate work, he also operated the H & C Laboratories in Cleveland, a research and consulting firm operating mainly in the chemical field.

For nine years Hannum was a research staff member of the U.S. Rubber Co. in Detroit. In 1944 he opened his own business, the Hefco Laboratories of Detroit, which furnished consultation in chemical, electrical and mechanical engineering problem.

The company was founded on a rocket fuel contract and dealt mainly with the fields of guided missiles and high explosives.

An amateur radio enthusiast, he was a ham operator for many years. He is married and the father of three sons.

Hannum is a member of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, American Chemical Society, American Society for Testing Materials, American Society for Metals, American Rocket Society, New York Academy of Sciences.

Dr. June M. Collins taught at seven other universities before joining the MSUO faculty.

Her teaching positions included Wellesley College, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, University of Missouri, Seattle University, Penn State University, and Chicago Teachers College.

* * *

Dr. Collins attended Mt. Vernon Junior College and the University of Washington, from which she graduated as an anthropology major.

DR. JUNE M. COLLINS

She did two years of graduate work at Radcliffe College in anthropology.

Dr. Collins received her master's degree and doctorate from the University of Chicago in 1946 and 1949.

She has won a fellowship at Radcliffe, a scholarship from the University of Chicago, and research grants from Columbia University and the University of Chicago.

Dr. Collins, who will be an assistant professor of sociology and anthropology at MSUO, has just completed two articles for Collier's Encyclopedia, and is presently writing a text in cultural anthropology.

She has carried on research among the Indians in the Pacific Northwest, studying their religious life and family organization.

In recent years she has done research on the symbolism of clothing in American society.

Her many publications on the American Indian have appeared in the American Anthropologist, Southwest Journal of Anthropology, and the Journal of American folklore.

Dr. Gertrude Mason White, who will teach English at MSUO, is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College, and completed her graduate work at the University of Chicago in comparative literature.

* * *

* * *

Dr. Mary Ann Cusack, another English instructor, graduated from Manhattanville College in Purchase, N.Y., received her master's degree from the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, and the doctorate from Wayne State University.

* * *

Before joining the staff of MSUO, Dr. Cusack held positions on the staff of the New York Times, the United Press in Detroit and Chicago, and was director of public relations of the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council, San Diego, Calif.

A member of the American Women in Radio and Television, she previously had been on the faculty of Wayne State University.

Her major area of graduate study has been in communications, radio and television. As a holder of a graduate fellowship at Wayne State University, she directed and produced educational radio and TV programs.

* * *

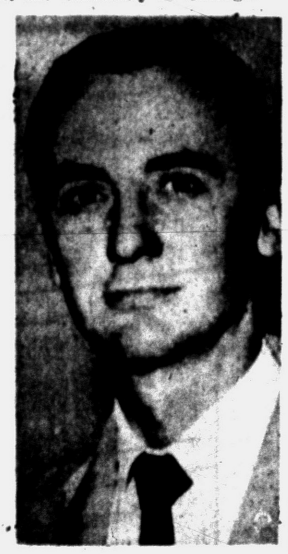

RICHARD J. BURKE

A philosophy instructor, Dr. Richard J. Burke Jr., is teaching the introductory history course in Western civilization.

Dr. Burke did his undergraduate work at Georgetown University. After attending Columbia University, he transferred to the University of Chicago where he received his doctorate in philosophy in June.

He graduated magna cum laude from Georgetown University and was elected to the National Classics Honor Society.

He has taught at the University of California at Los Angeles as an assistant in philosophy and during the past two years has served as a lecturer at the University College at the University of Chicago.

JAMES A. GHERITY JR.

Dr. James A. Gherity Jr., economics instructor, completed his undergraduate work at Highland Park Junior College and Wayne State University, received his master's degree from the University of Michigan, and his doctorate from the University of Illinois.

He taught one year at the University of Illinois and before coming to MSUO was on the faculty of Michigan State University.

He is a member of the National Economic Assn. and Omicron Delta Gamma, national honorary economics fraternity.

He is married and the father of two sons.

A MAGAZINE WRITER

Fitzsimmons, 33, is considered a youthful expert on foreign affairs, human relations and world events.

He was a staff writer for three years for the New Republic magazine, contributing monthly articles on foreign and domestic affairs.

Fitzsimmons, a graduate of Columbia and Stanford universities, left the magazine in 1955 to become a research associate at Yale University, which involved heading a project that has resulted in the preparation of more than 30 volumes on the cultures and societies of various foreign countries.

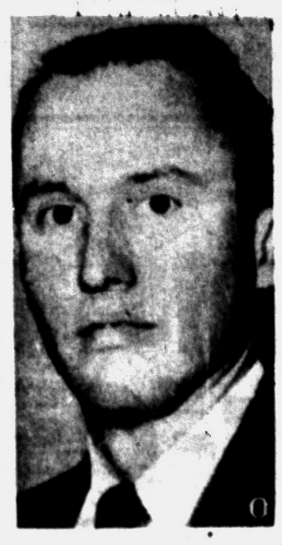

* * *

Besides authoring a novel titled "Out of Any Dawn," Fitzsimmons has published short stories, criticism and some poetry.

He received a master's degree from Columbia University in comparative literature in 1951 and a certificate from the Institute of Political Science in Paris in 1950.

Married, Fitzsimmons, has two children. He served in the Merchant Marine and the Air Force during World War II.

An expert in the field of guided missiles, rocket fuels, and high explosives is the curator of the chemical and physical laboratories at MSUO.

WILLIAM G. HAMMERLE

Dr. William G. Hammerle, associate professor of physics, did his undergraduate work as a physics major at the California Institute of Technology. He worked from 1947-1950 as an assistant physicist for Engineering Research Associates in Arlington, Va., and as a physicist for Ballistic Research Laboratories in Aberdeen, Md.

Both positions involved the study of underground explosions.

He received his Ph.D. in physics and physical chemistry in 1954 from Princeton University. For the next two years he was a research assistant in the chemistry department of Yale University.

His research subjects have included the rheology of high polymers, theory of liquids, and infrared absorption in solids.

Dr. Hammerle is a member of the American Physical Society and Rheology Society.

He is married and the father of two children.

WILLIAM KLUBACK

Dr. William Kluback, once a student at the world-famous Sorbonne in Paris, is now an assistant professor of history at MSUO.

He received his undergraduate degree from George Washington University, and his master's degree and doctorate from Columbia University.

He was religious and philosophy editor for Bookman Associates, a New York City publishing house.

Dr. Kluback attended the International Conference of Philosophy in Venice last year and in 1957 attended the 500th anniversary of Heidelberg University.

NADINE POPLUIKO

Nadine Popluiko, foreign language instructor, graduated from a Moscow Pedagogical Institute of Modern Languages in 1939 as a French major.

She remained as a graduate student at this institute and passed her final examination in 1941. Her thesis was on the history of the origins of Romantic languages.

She enrolled in 1947 as a student at the University of Hamburg where she studied Romantic philology and comparative literature. In 1950 she took a course at the Sorbonne on teaching techniques for French teachers.

She taught in Moscow at the Institute of Modern Languages and, during World War II, she taught German and Russian in a secondary school in Russia.

During 1945-46, she taught French in schools in DP camps in Germany. She also taught in a German elementary school.

She taught Russian in the U. S. Army Intelligence and Military School in Oberammergau, Germany, from 1951-54. Later she worked on the news desk of the Voice of America in Europe.

WILLIAM SCHWAB

Dr. William Schwab, assistant professor of English, is another of several instructors coming to MSUO from MSU.

Born in Germany, the 35-year-old teacher did his undergraduate work at Bethany College, received his master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, and his doctorate in 1951.

Dr. Schwab was an instructor in English at Purdue University and held summer appointments as lecturer in the English Language Institute at the University of Michigan in 1952, 1953 and 1955.

He did post-doctoral work in London.

During the academic year 1954-55, Dr. Schawb was a Fulbright lecturer at the University of the Philippines, Manila.

A contributor to professional journals, he is a member of the Modern Language Assn., Speech Assn. of America, and the Michigan Linguistic Society.

GERALD M. STRAKA

Gerald Milton Straka, history instructor, was an undergraduate at Wisconsin State College and awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for his studies at the University of Virginia where he obtained the master's degree.

FRANCIS P. TAFOYA

Francis P. Tafoya, who will join the MSUO faculty in January of 1960 as an associate professor of foreign languages, was an undergraduate at the University of Colorado, received his master's degree from the University of Colorado, and is currently a Ph. D. candidate at Yale University.

A Fulbright fellow at the University of Paris, he has traveled in Spain, France, England, Switzerland and Italy.

He has taught at the University of Colorado, Yale University, was assistant professor of French at Goucher College.

'Live Free or Die'

The motto of New Hampshire is "Live Free or Die." The Granite State soldiers were among those fighting at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Men to Be Outnumbered

By 1975, it is expected that the number of women in the United States 65 years old and over will total 12.6 million, compared with 9.3 million men.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest who is trying to win permission for his 71-year-old mother to leave Lithuania called on Nina Khrushchev Sunday. The Rev. Joseph Prunskis of Chicago's St. George church said later she promised to try to see that something is done.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy yeoman has a bowling score sheet autographed by Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower as a prized souvenier of the two leaders' Camp David talks.

Khrushchev wanted to see an American bowling alley. So Saturday afternoon President Eisenhower took him to the recreation hall for the Navy and Marines personnel who staff the Maryland mountain camp.

The two watched as Yeoman John Halferty of Fennimore, Wis., rolled a 218 game. Then they shook hands with the sailor and autographed his score sheet.

Satellite Transmits 1st Photo of Earth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Explorer VI, the paddlewheel satellite, has provided the first crude picture of the earth and its cloud cover from out in space, the space agency announced today.

The picture, taken when the satellite was 17,000 miles out in space, covered the area of Mexico. It was made from signals received by the South Point, Hawaii, tracking station Aug. 14.

"Thus the area photographed was more than 20,000 miles from the satellite," the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said at a news conference.

Braves, LA Battle While Sox Wait

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves and Los Angeles Dodgers clash today at County Stadium in the opener of their best-of-three playoff series for the National League pennant.

Closing day victories by both the Braves and Dodgers left them tied for first place after the regular schedule. They will shift to Los Angeles for a second game Tuesday and a third Wednesday, if necessary. The teams will take a day off for travel before starting the Series.

Heavy thundershowers pelted the city during the night and more of the same was forecast for today.

The third playoff in National League history already has shoved back the World Series to Thursday or Friday. If the weather acts up, it could be postponed further.

Game time in Milwaukee is 2:30 p.m. (EST.) All the games will be carried on network (ABC) television.

Although the Dodgers, the Brooklyn variety, lost the two previous playoffs, Manager Walter Alston's opportunists were slight 6 to 5 favorites to take this Series. However, the Braves were the 6 to 5 choice in today's opener on their home grounds.

Alston indicated after the Dodgers' 7-1 victory in Chicago that he planned to use a left-hander at Milwaukee. He listed Sandy Koufax (8-6), Johnny Podres (14-9) and Danny McDevitt (10-8) as possibilities.

★ ★ ★

Koufax started a losing game in St. Louis last Tuesday. Podres was knocked out early in the Dodgers' 12-2 defeat by the Cubs Saturday. McDevitt, an erratic pitcher who can be superb when he has control, has been used largely in relief in recent weeks.

After the first game, Alston is expected to turn to his right-handed aces, Don Drysdale (17-13) and Roger Craig (11-5) for the games in the huge Los Angeles Coliseum.

Manager Fred Haney also was indefinite about his starters. He listed either Lew Burdette (21-15) or Carton Willey (5-8). Both are right-handers. Haney also hinted strongly that he did not expect to use Warren Spahn (21-15), his left-handed ace, in the Coliseum with its handy 250-foot left field screen. Spahn, a magnificent winner Saturday when the Braves pulled up to a tie, seldom pitches against the Dodgers.

"We'll go out there and knock the daylight out of Burdette and his spitter," boasted Coach Chuck Dressen of the Dodgers who was managing at Brooklyn when they lost the 1951 playoff to the New York Giants on Bobby Thomson's "miracle" home run in the third game.

"You know the team that gets the breaks and is the hottest will win," said Duke Snider, a Dodger veteran who saw the breaks go against his team eight years ago. This was Haney's first experience in a playoff but he had been through a baptism of fire in the last two World Series against the Yankees. He welcomes the chance for a stand off battle.

"Whichever team wins will deserve it," he said. "That's the way it should be settled with two teams playing each other."

Two veterans of the first playoff in 1946 when St. Louis whipped Brooklyn in two straight will be on the Milwaukee squad. They are 43-year-old Enos Slaughter and Red Schoendienst of the old Cardinals.

An examination of the averages showed the Braves hit .265 as a team to the Dodgers' .257 during the regular season. They also had a 176-146 edge on Los Angeles in home runs. However, they clinched a tie Sunday by beating Philadelphia 5-2 on five unearned runs.

The Milwaukee lineup included Hank Aaron, whose .355 led the league in hitting, and Eddie Mathews whose 45 homers tied Chicago's Ernie Banks for the league homer title. As performances in these games will count in the regular season averages, it is possible that Mathews can win the homer title outright and receive the first Mel Ott Memorial Award.

There was an interesting possibility in the delay of the Series for which the Chicago White Sox, American League champs, have been waiting 40 years.

If the playoffs go three games through Wednesday, the Series wouldn't start until Friday at Chicago's Comiskey Park. There is a scheduled off day for travel after the first two games, if the Dodgers are in it. That would be Sunday, which would make the TV people and the baseball brass most unhappy.

The working man, with Sunday off, would miss his big chance to see a game. Some baseball people already are urging Commissioner Ford Frick to consider such a possibility and either eliminate the travel day or leave a two-day gap before the Series opens, if the playoffs last three days.

There will be no day off for the playoff contestants who will fly to Los Angeles immediately after today's game.

The players will be paid on a pro-rate basis of their regular salary with no cut of the gate.

League President Warren Giles will be in charge of all detail and will decide on any postponements.

Tigers 'Interesting' Right to Finish

Champ Chisox Pull Triple Play in 6-4 Victory

Rookie Bob Bruce Hit Hard; Maxwell Socks Sunday Special

DETROIT (UPI) — "They can't say we weren't interesting right up to the end," was the way Jimmie Dykes summed up the season finale for his Detroit Tigers.

Dykes referred to a rare triple play in the third inning yesterday which killed a Tiger rally and helped the pennant-winning Chicago White Sox to a 6-4 victory over Detroit.

Chicago jumped on rookie Bob Bruce, a Highland Park product making his first Major League start, for five runs in the first inning with the aid of two Detroit errors.

The Tigers banged out four successive singles by Steve Demeter, Ron Shoop, Tom Morgan and Harvey Kuenn for two runs in the third.

Gail Harris tapped back to pitcher Bob Shaw and he started a triple play by catching Morgan off third. His throw to Bubba Phillips retired Morgan and Phillips noticed that Harris had rounded first.

He raced across the infield and tagged Harris out. Kuenn, meanwhile, had rounded third and was heading for the plate. Phillips threw to catcher John Romano and Romano's throw to Luis Aparicio at third retired Kuenn for the third out.

"It was a case of bad base running all the way around," Dykes said.

Actually, the loss didn't have any bearing on the final standings. But it forced the Tigers to finish under the .500 mark for the first time since 1954.

Detroit wound up in fourth place —one notch higher than last year — with a record of 76 wins and 78 losses.

Chicago's rally against Bruce started with a single by Aparicio, who stole second and third to equal the club record of 56 thefts in a season set by Wally Moses.

★ ★ ★

Ted Kluszewski's infield roller scored Fox and Landis came home when Demeter fumbled Romano's grounder. Jim Rivera's fourth homer of the year completed the first inning scoring.

Detroit cut the deficit to a single run in the sixth when Charley Maxwell cracked his 31st homer of the year after a single by Lepcio. It was Maxwell's 12th Sunday homer of the year.

Shaw worked the first five innings and was credited with his 18th win against six setbacks.

TWO BIG RUNS — Junior Gilliam, whose 4th inning homer against the Chicago Cubs scored two runs, is congratulated by manager Walt Alston. Maury Wills (30) scored on the homer. Gil Hodges (14) joins in the congratulations. At the right background is coach Chuck Dressen. The Dodgers won, 7-1, to tie for the National League lead and force a playoff with the Braves.

Seeks Infield Help: Yanks Fire Turner

Dykes Drops Henrich and Hudlin

DETROIT (UPI)—The 1959 season had just ended and already Jimmie Dykes was looking ahead to next year.

"We've got to do something about first base and shortstop," he said after his Tigers had bowed to the Chicago White Sox.

Dykes said he might move either Charley Maxwell or Harvey Kuenn in from the outfield to first base.

"But that wouldn't really solve anything," he said. "It would leave a hole in the outfield."

Dykes said no help can be expected from Detroit's farm system.

"They tell me we just don't have anything promising in the way of first basemen, shortstops or outfielders in the minors," Dykes said. "So it looks like the only way we can help ourselves is through trades."

"We have some guys who can throw and maybe they'll help next year," he said. "Take (Dave) Sisler. He can throw as hard as anyone when he wants to. We got him from Boston in May. I'm hoping that working with him in spring training will help.

Dykes said he plans to attend the World Series and then spend the winter at his home in the east.

HENRICH

HUDLIN

Dykes, re-hired as manager of the Detroit Tigers last week, released two of his coaches, ex-Yankee star Tommy Henrich and Willis Hudlin, but retained third base coach Billy Hitchcock.

The Yankees also announced that pitching coach Jim Turner will not be back next season. His replacement will be announced sometime during the World.

All-Star Pin Points

SHIFT TO GET SPARES
By ED LUBANSKI

Shooting for spares, the first thing to do is forget using that second arrow from the right as the approach guide.

Move around to pick up leaves. Move to the right to this marker for any spares on the left side of the headpin—that's any part of the 1-2-4-5-7-8. Move to the left for anything in the 1-3-5-6-9-10 category.

The tricks are numerous for getting spares. Single pin leaves, for example, should be as near to dead center as you can come.

One rule always applies. Approach the front pin of the set you are aiming at squarely and have your arm swing right at it.

Double-wood spares (1-5, 2-8 or 3-9) should be converted by hitting the front pin full to take out the back one.

The 4-5, 5-6 and 9-10 leaves can be made by fitting the ball between the pins.

Thoroughbreds End in State Saturday

Michigan's 117-day thoroughbred racing season ends Saturday when Hazel Park Race Course presents an outstanding nine-event card, featuring two traditional handicaps.

The $15,000 Auld Lange Syne should attract a star-studded field, and the concluding race of the year, the $7,500 Hazel Park Cup for marathoners, will provide an exciting finale.

The L-K Stable's Hymient has returned to the Motor City racing scene to capture two straight features, the Maple Leaf and Labor Day handicaps, and will be the "horse to beat" in the closing day headliner. Claimed at Hialeah for $7,500, Hymient has already earned nearly $30,000 in purses for his owners, Long and Kersey, Detroit electrical contractors.

Scheffing Quits Cubs; Grimm Named Manager

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Scheffing today resigned as manager of the Chicago Cubs and the club's president, Phil Wrigley, announced Charley Grimm would be Scheffing's successor in 1960.

Huddle Around Radio After Clinching Tie for NL Flag

Dodgers Win, Then Sweat

CHICAGO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers left for Milwaukee to open their best-of-three playoff for the National League pennant today but they didn't like the idea.

The Dodgers went through one of the greatest sweating periods in baseball history yesterday after defeating the Chicago Cubs, 7-1, to clinch a tie for the championship.

They huddled around radios listening to the Philadelphia-Milwaukee game. They cursed, they prayed, they hoped and they sweated. But it was to no avail. Milwaukee defeated Philadelphia 5-2 and Dodgers were involved in another playoff.

As representatives of Brooklyn, the Dodgers were in playoffs in 1946 and 1951. Both times they lost.

However, Manager Walt Alston was confident his club could come through and whip the Braves.

There was no victory celebration as the Braves, tired but happy, trooped into their dressing room.

"We're still playing 'em one by one," said a grinning Manager Fred Haney, as he reached for a chunk of barbecued ribs from a table heaped with food and soft drinks.

The Giants actually weren't eliminated until the final day of the season. But their loss of a doubleheader by scores of 2-1 and 14-8 to the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday was an anticlimax.

Rigney's men accepted their fate after the first game with quiet resignation. They had hoped for a miracle, but didn't expect one to happen.

The Braves, playing with the Los Angeles victory on the scoreboard, kept the deadlock with all their runs unearned. They beat Jim Owens (12-12) with three runs in the seventh.

Two singles, an error, a walk, a passed ball and a balk, by reliever Humberto Robinson, clinched it, giving the victory to Bob Buhl (15-9) after he had been tagged for fifth inning homer by Carl Sawatski that tied it 1-all. Sawatski, like Robinson an ex-Brave, doubled home the other Phillie run in the ninth, off reliever Don McMahon.

The Giants, beaten in the opener when the Cards scored two unearned runs in the eighth, lost seven of their last eight games—after leading by two with nine days to go.

Cincinnati tied Chicago for fifth place in the final standings, beating fourth place Pittsburgh 9-7 in the other NL game.

AL Campaign in Miniature

Final Day Depicts Season

By the Associated Press

It's impossible to crowd a whole season into a single day, but the American League came close to doing just that, painting the picture in miniature in the final games of the year.

★ ★ ★

There was right - hander Bob Shaw, the big surprise who helped boost Chicago to its first pennant in 40 years, winning his 18th as the White Sox beat Detroit 6-4 yesterday.

★ ★ ★

There was Harmon Killebrew, the quiet kid who exploded the season's first home run opening day and made a run for Babe Ruth's record, hammering the final homer of the campaign as Washington lost to Boston 6-2. It was Killebrew's 42nd, tying Cleveland's Rocky Colavito for the title in the AL and matching the Senator high set by Roy Sievers in '57.

★ ★ ★

There was Herb Score, the southpaw who slumped and took Cleveland's second place Indians with him, losing his sixth in a row since July 3 (when the Injuns were first) as Kansas City beat the Tribe 6-5.

And there was New York's 3-1 loss to Baltimore, putting an end to the year the Yankees didn't win the pennant, a year in which they lost more and won fewer than any other Yankee club in 34 seasons.

With Killebrew's 42nd homer and Sievers hitting his 21st, the Senators pushed their club record to 163 (the old Nat high was 121 last year), but finished last for the third straight season. The Red Sox, with Ted Williams knocking in two runs with a single and a double in what may have been his final game, finished fifth, a game ahead of Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles, blanked on five hits by rookie John Gabler for 7 2-3 innings, put together five successive singles for all their runs in the eighth, leaving New York with a 79-75 record. The Yankees, who had won four straight flags, hadn't done so poorly since the 69-85 seventh place finish of 1925.

Cranes Victorious in Football, Soccer

Cranbrook athletes entertained Chicago's Lake Forest Academy soccer and grid teams, Saturday, and chalked up victories in both.

Led by Tom Demerick's two tallies, Cranes won at football 20-13. Larry Dewitt counted two of six Cranbrook goals to lead the soccer team to a 6-0 win.

Jim Williams started Cranes grid scoring with a first period 40-yard gallop. Visitors came back with a TD by Fred Nachman, but Demerick hit from the nine and added his 2nd PAT to give Cranbrook a 14-6 halftime edge.

Lake Forest made it 14-13 in the 3rd period, then Demerick clinched the win with a 4th period tally.

"THE HORSE" STOPPED — Detroit tackle Alex Karras stops Alan "The Horse" Ameche, Baltimore fullback after a short gain. Moving in on the play are also Lions' Joe Schmidt (56) and Bob Long (86). The Lions were able to successfully stop Ameche and Colts in the first half, but in the second half Baltimore scored all of its points for a 21-9 victory.

They Stun Bears, 9-6; Steelers Tople Browns, 17-7

Dig Those Crazy Packers!

By United Press International

Lombardi's Packers and the Layne Inspired Steelers stole the opening weekend show by upsetting two of the other title favorites.

Green Bay, which has the worst season (1-10-1) in its history in 1958, shocked the Bears Sunday, 9-6. It was a tremendous opening triumph for Lombardi, who became head coach and general manager of the Packers this year after five seasons as offensive coach for the Giants. It was scored before a capacity crowd of 32,150 victory-starved Packer fans at Green Bay.

Cleveland, seeking its eighth Eastern crown in 10 tries, was upset by Pittsburgh, 17-7. The Steelers haven't lost since Layne began deciding after joining them during the 1958 campaign. He fired two touchdown passes and booted a field goal and two extra points to erase a 7-0 Cleveland lead Saturday night and boost Pittsburgh's unbeaten string to eight games.

New York, defending Eastern Division champion, frittered away a 17-0 lead Saturday night in the Los Angeles Coliseum, then stunned 71,297 Rams rooters by rallying to win, 23-21. The Giants won on two Pat Summerall field goals in the final period, the decisive boot traveling 18 yards with only 1:58 remaining.

In Sunday's other openers, Bobby Joe Conrad of the Chicago Cardinals scored 25 points on three touchdowns and seven conversions to spark at 49-21 triumph over the Washington Redskins and punt returns by Abe Woodson (65 yards) and Eddie Dove (62) helped the San Francisco Forty-Niners down the Philadelphia Eagles, 24-14.

★ ★ ★

The Bears, who averaged 33 points in each exhibition game this year, clung to a 6-0 lead midway in the fourth period after 46 and 42-yard field goals by John Aveni. Then John Petitbon fumbled a Max Magee punt and center Jim Ringo recovered for the Packers on the Chicago 27.

★ ★ ★

Fullback Jim Taylor smashed six yards for the game's only touchdown a few plays later and Paul Hornung kicked the decisive extra point. The Packers got a safety in the final seconds when Dave Hanner downed Ed Brown in the Chicago end zone.

Two of the league's oldest players, Charley Conerly, 38-year-old New York quarterback, and Layne, 32, were praised by coaches after their first 1959 games.

Conerly completed 21 of 31 passes for 321 yards, including a 35-yarder to Bob Schnelker in a fourth-and-11 situation that set up Summerall's winning field goal. Coach Jim Lee Howell of the Giants called Conerly's performance "one of the best any quarterback ever produced."

★ ★ ★

Lions Stop Him for 40 Minutes Then Colts Win

QB of World's Champs Passes for Two TD's in 21-9 Victory

BALTIMORE — Holding Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts for 40 minutes without a touchdown pass was a tribute to the Detroit Lions' defense yesterday afternoon.

But there are 60 minutes of action in a pro football game and for the final 20 at Baltimore, Unitas hit twice for touchdowns and guided the Colts to another as the Lions went down to defeat 21-9.

It was a case of Unitas clicking when it was necessary. Earlier, his Detroit quarterbacking counterpart, Tobin Rote, wasn't quite as sharp when the Lions had first half scoring chances.

★ ★ ★

"The difference was that their quarterback was hitting his receivers and ours was not," lamented Wilson. "We had our chances in the first half and should have come out of it with possibly a two-touchdown lead."

Detroit jumped to a 3-0 halftime lead on Jim Martin's 33-yard field goal in the first period. It looked for a while as if the Lions would break their opening game jinx under Wilson. He hasn't captured an opener since becoming head coach when Buddy Parker quit before the 1957 season.

★ ★ ★

The Lions lost one golden scoring opportunity in the first half after reaching the Baltimore 7. Gino Marchetti intercepted Rote's pass which was deflected. It was one of five interceptions charged to the Lions.

But Danny Lewis' seven-yard touchdown run in the third quarter brightened the Lions' outlook. They had a 9-0 bulge and the Colts weren't doing anything.

Unitas, however, was a master of the gridiron last season. And after Lewis tallied, he became one once again.

He guided the Colts on a 66-yard drive, connecting on three passes to Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore en route to a touchdown. Ameche went over from a yard out and suddenly the Colts, frisky again, trailed 9-7.

Before the third quarter closed, the Colts marched another 66 yards and took a 14-9 lead. Unitas again was the big man in the scoring drive. The little quarterback from the Pittsburgh sandlots hit Jim Mutscheller with a 34-yard aerial before passing 16 yards to Raymond Berry for the touchdown.

Carl Taseff swiped a Rote pass to set up Baltimore's final touchdown. Unitas connected with Mutscheller in the end zone 40 yards away for the tally.

It marked the 26th straight game in which Unitas has passed for a touchdown. He completed only 13 of 30 passes for 230 yards, which is an off-game for him. Rote had 11 completions in 27 tries with Earl Morrall completing one of two.

'M', MSU Defeats Told in One Word—Inexperience

Elliott's Debut Spoiled by TD in Final Seconds

Soph McRae Scores Twice in 20-15 Loss to Missouri

From Our Wire Services

Inexperience stood out like a sore thumb combining with four pass interceptions to turn Bump Elliott's coaching debut at the University of Michigan into a nightmare Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Despite many mistakes, however, the young Wolverines appeared to have the game won until final two seconds of play when second team quarterback Bob Haas cracked over for a touchdown from the one which gave Missouri a 20-15 victory.

That is where the inexperience showed up, according to "M" Athletic Director Fritz Crisler.

"If those kids had been thinking, they would have stalled to eat up the clock," Crisler said. "If they had slowed down getting up from the pileups at the goal line, that much time wouldn't have been left."

"There's no question about it. We need experience," said Elliott following the exciting finish. "I won't 2nd guess the kids on anything they did. They held good on the line on that final score for two plays but could not do it for the 3rd time."

Michigan held a 15-13 lead on the basis of a 22-yard field goal booted a couple of minutes earlier by end John Halstead. Halstead set up the scoring play himself by grabbing a fumble on the Missouri 23-yard line.

★ ★ ★

Elliott elaborated little on the defeat by Missouri, but he thought some of his sophomores did a good job, including halfback Bennie McRae, end Jim Korowin, tackle Jon Schopf and center Todd Grant.

McRae, a shifty runner, seems the sophomore most likely to succeed in the Michigan lineup, however, after scoring both of the Wolverines' touchdowns Saturday. He gained 55 yards in 13 carries.

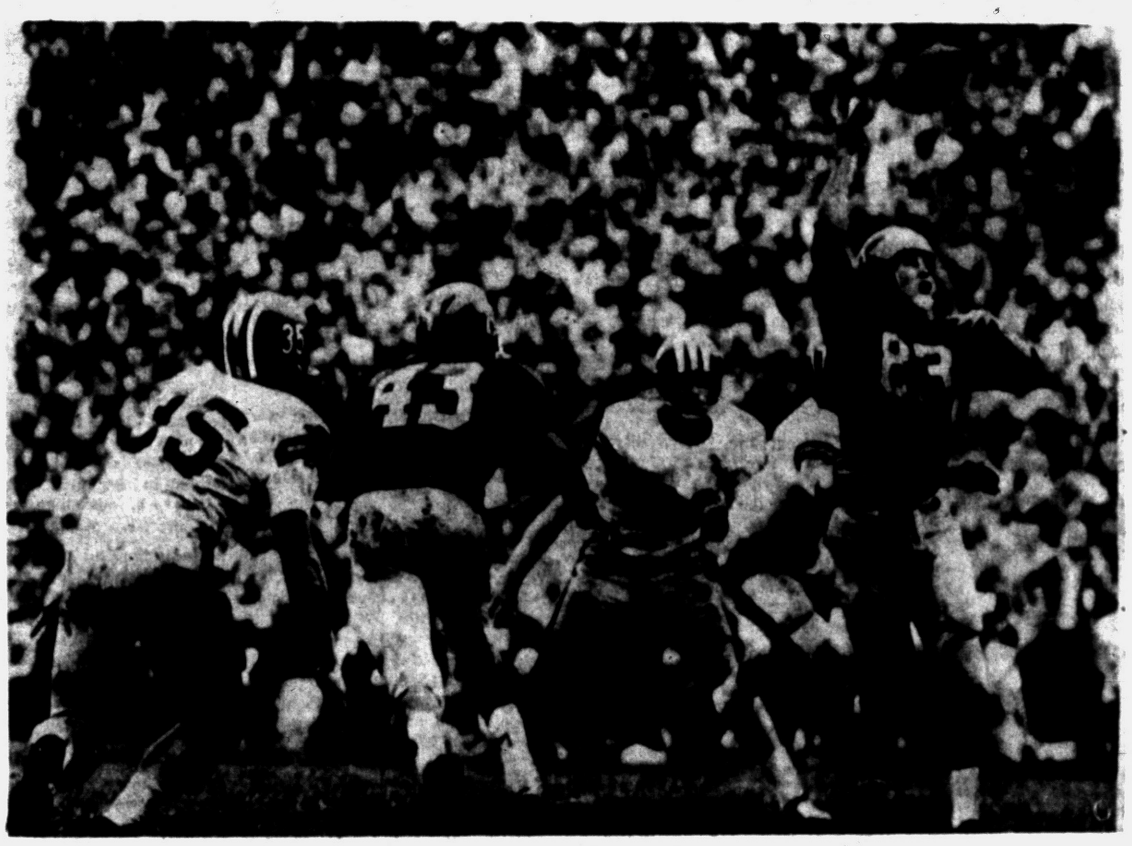

Ben was listed as No. 2 left halfback behind senior Darrell Harper, but is likely to take over the starting job for next week's Big Ten opener against archrival Michigan State.

McRae rambled around right end for a 10-yard touchdown run in the last quarter. He scored a third-period TD after taking a 34-yard pass from quarterback Stan Noskin and running it into the end zone.

Noskin had two of his passes intercepted in the first half and another picked off by Missouri in the decisive fourth quarter.

John Stamos, a second-year signal caller, was also the victim of a Missouri interception in the second quarter which is likely the reason why he wasn't on Elliott's list of preferred sophomores.

AP Wirephoto

OUT OF REACH — Sophomore end Jim Korowin of the University of Michigan reaches high but not high enough as a pass from quarterback Stan Noskin goes for an incomplete toss in the second period Saturday. No. 35 for Missouri is fullback Ed Mehrer. No. 43 for Michigan is another sophomore Benjamin McRae. McRae was hailed by coach Bump Elliott for his fine running. Missouri beat the Wolverines with two seconds on the clock, 20-15.

Duffy Looks for Bright Side After 9-7 Defeat

Sophomores and Juniors Dominate Spartan 11 in Loss to Aggies

EAST LANSING — Leave it to Duffy Daugherty, the genial Irishman who coaches football at Michigan State University.

Even in the aftermath of a bitter defeat, the witty Spartan mentor always looks for something on the bright side of the picture and pops up with an appropriate remark.

After Saturday's hard-to-take 9-7 loss to spirited Texas A&M, Duffy quipped:

"Maybe we're starting a new trend. Last year we won all of our non-conference games and lost all of our games in the Big Ten. Maybe we're going to do it the other way around this season.

★ ★ ★

Inexperience definitely showed its face in the setback at the hands of the Aggies. The Spartan lineup was filled with sophomores and juniors, all promising gridders but all subject to the mistakes inexperienced players make.

Of the first 33 players on the Spartan roster, 22 are either sophomores or juniors. There are six undeclassmen on the starting offensive unit.

"We made a lot of mistakes," a glum Daugherty said, "the kind committed by inexperience, and we couldn't capitalize on our scoring chances. We beat ourselves."

★ ★ ★

"Five fumbles and loss of the ball on four of them. Then they score after two of the fumbles," Daugherty said.

"That's the story of the game."

Statistically, the Spartans were impressive? They had 18 first downs to nine for Texas A&M, led in yards rushing, 167-129, and completed 11 of 25 passes for 158 yards to four of seven and 48 yards passing for the Texans.

But the Spartans were able to piece together only one payoff drive out of all that yardage. So Texas A & M broke an MSU string of 15 straight wins against non-conference foes dating back to a 20-19 edging by Notre Dame in 1954 — Daugherty's first year as head coach.

Michigan State was deep in Texas territory three times in the second quarter. The first surge took the Spartans to the 10 where an incomplete pass on fourth down let the Aggies take over.

Sophomore Art Brandstatter was sent in for two field goal tries later in the quarter — one from the 34, the other from the 16. Both went wide.

Texas A & M had its nine points with only 2:43 gone in the second period.

A fumble by quarterback Larry Bielat and a 15-yard penalty put the Aggies in position for their touchdown on the MSU 16.

Quarterback Charley Milstead, who called a masterly game and was leading ground gainer for the winners with 56 yards, bucked over from the one for the score.

Milstead missed two tries at the extra point but halfback Randy Sims added a three-point field goal a few minutes later. Another costly fumble — this one by Blanche Martin — allowed the Texans within booting range.

Bill Engel shot a 72 Saturday at Redford Golf Club to win the 9th annual John J. Considine municipal golf championship. Tom Adams won the title in the handicap flight with a 13 stroke handicap for a net score of 64.

Sunnybrook's four-man golf squad won the Michigan Publinx Golf League title Sunday with a 29-4 triumph over Bob-O-Link in their divisional playoff. John Kurach and Sam Lima scored four points apiece for the winners, Sunnybrook was the White Division champ during the regular season while the Bob-O-Link team won the Red Division.

★ ★ ★

Chuck Kocsis won another golf crown Sunday. Kocsis teamed up with John Lasko to win Washtenaw Country Club's 1st annual invitational best ball golf tournament. Kocsis and Lasko fired a 54-hole total of 206 on rounds of 71-67-68 to win the three-day event by four strokes.

★ ★ ★

Two former Southfield High School players starred for their respective colleges Saturday. Center Todd Grant, an All-County performer, called defensive signals for the University of Michigan and did a bang-up job for the Wolverines in their loss to Missouri. Halfback Tom Ridley, another All-County ace, returned a punt 56 yards for a touchdown in Hillsdale's massacre of Adrian.

★ ★ ★

Gary Ballman, former All-State halfback from East Detroit High, gave promise of great things to come in Michigan State's loss to the Texas Aggies Saturday. The Spartan sophomore showed great power and speed carrying the ball despite being ganged by the Aggie defense.

Xavier Trips Villanova

CINCINNATI (AP)—Xavier of Ohio found Villanova a soft touch in the first half Sunday and tamed the Wildcats, 48-20, in a lopsided football upset.

Xavier's light cavalry rocked Villanova for two fast touchdowns. Then the Musketeers took to the air with repeated strikes that set up a 34-7 halftime advantage.

Canadian Pacer Aims for Double Win at Jackson

Andy Mc, the pacing property of J. R. Miles of Riverside, Ontario, scored his eighth victory of the year in the mud Wednesday, in the featured Saginaw Pace by a half length over the fast-closing Honey Guy.

The six-year old gelding prefers fast footing to the slop and that is the predicted track condition today for the featured Flint Mile.

Honey Guy, owned by Roger Williams of Pontiac, was never a factor in the Saginaw feature until the final turn for home when driver Joe Marsh, Jr., had the mare doing her best. Honey Guy is back for revenge in the Flint Mile and has drawn the number five post position.

Fair Wins Ohio Title in Sandusky Feature

Driving a "super-modified" car powered by a modified 1959 Pontiac motor, Joy Fair yesterday won the Ohio state race title in the two 20-lap feature at Sandusky.

The Pontiac area pilot was 2nd in the first event, won the dash in the big show that included some 100 cars. Fair will return to Sandusky for the Oct. 11 international title race, when Canadian and U.S. drivers will compete.

Sooners Taste Northwestern Power, Hawkeyes Rout California

Iowa, Wildcats Impressive

By The Associated Press

Iowa and Northwestern, two of the Big Ten's stronger teams who opened the season with convincing victories, clash Saturday at Iowa City.

Although only one conference game has been played so far, the Northwestern-Iowa game could go a long way in determining the eventual champion.

Northwestern, led by quarterback Dick Thornton and Ron Burton, crushed Oklahoma, the nation's No. 2 team, 45-13 last Saturday. Iowa, in a repeat performance of its Rose Bowl victory, powdered California, 42-12.

Could this be the year of the turning worm in college football, the year of the uprising of the meek?

★ ★ ★

Oklahoma, Auburn and Southern Methdoist, proud and mighty, have been ground into the soil.

The case of Oklahoma shows the most intriguing possibilities. For 11 years now, the powerful Sooners have ruled the Big Eight with an iron fist. They have gone through 71 conference games without defeat.

But last Saturday, they were battered and bruised by Northwestern for their worst beating in 14 years. To be sure, a dozen members of the Oklahoma squad were laid low by food poisoning Thursday night. But they all played and coach Bud Wilkinson refused to offer any alibis.

Likewise, it was the first time since Wilkinson took over as coach 13 years ago that Oklahoma has ventured into the Big 10 conference.

Missouri and Nebraska, two more outfits that have suffered long years of humiliation by Oklahoma, might not be so easy. Missouri clubbed Michigan, 20-15, and Nebraska whipped Minnesota, 32-12. It's a rare day, indeed, when two Big Eight teams score victories over Big 10 opponents.

As for Northwestern, until last year the Wildcats had spent the last decade floundering around in or near the Big 10 basement. Their last appearance in the Rose Bowl was back in 1949. Two years ago, things couldn't get worse. They didn't win a conference game. Last year, they finished with a 5-4 overall record after a big start.

Wisconsin and Ohio State, the two big boys of the Big 10 this year, didn't distinguish themselves—a fact duly noted by Art Parseghian and his Wildcats. The Badgers beat Stanford, 16-14, and the Buckeyes turned back Duke, 14-13.

Shug Jordan's Auburn club now shows a 0-1 record as a result of its 3-0 loss to Tennessee. The defeat snapped college football's longest unbeaten streak, 24 games, and makes the Vols the chief hurdle to Louisiana State's drive toward the Southeastern conference title.

Iowa, the defending Big 10 champion, went four points better than its 38-12 victory over California in the Rose Bowl last January. Olen Treadway and Wilburn Hollis did the quarterbacking with Bob Jeter, Don Horn, Ray Jauch and a string of other backs sharing the pass-grabbing and running honors.

Wisconsin's Tom Weisner scored two touchdowns and Karl Holzwarth booted a 26-yard field goal to give the Badgers a 16-0 lead. Wisconsin then had to hold off Stanford's second half rally.

Titan Defense Strong in 14-0 Win

DETROIT (UPI)—New head coach Jim Miller has worked wonders with the University of Detroit Titans.

The Titans turned a pass interception and a 38-yard run by halfback Jim Post into a 14-0 upset victory over Marquette at Milwaukee Saturday night to remain unbeaten.

It marked the first time since 1953 that Detroit has started a season with two successive triumphs.

Detroit's opening 38-6 romp over George Washington was not unexpected. But the win over Marquette was anything but expected.

Marquette had opened its season a week earlier and battled to the final gun before dropping a 21-15 decision to powerful Pitt.

A downpour resulted in poor footing but the Titans still picked up 162 yards rushing, or more than four times as much gain on the ground as Marquette.

★ ★ ★

Guard Emerson Dromgold broke up a scoreless battle in the second period when he picked off a pass from Marquette quarterback Pete Hall and ran 26 yards for a touchdown.

★ ★ ★

Post, a 21-year-old junior right halfback from Coldwater, added an insurance touchdown in the final period with his 38-yard run and also picked up two more points by running for the conversion.

Kentucky was nipped by Georgia Tech., 14-12, in its opener and dropped a 16-0 decision to highly-regarded Mississippi Saturday.

Pistons' Problems— Too Many Rookies

WEST BRANCH, Mich. (UPI) — Red Rocha of the Detroit Pistons has a problem, but it isn't the kind that will draw sympathy from the rest of the coaches in the National Basketball Association.

★ ★ ★

Rocha simply has too many promising rookies and he has to cut four or five players from his squad before the Pistons move back to Detroit today.

There are still 17 men listed on the Piston roster after two weeks of pre-season practices. All NBA teams have to be down to the 11-man limit before the league schedule opens up three weeks from today.

★ ★ ★

Sword Dancer Is Master of Thoroughbred Racing

Old timers have recalled the great match race of 1920 at old Aqueduct when Man O' War out fought John P. Grier in the Dwyer Stakes. Now those in the crowd of 52,290 who watched Sword Dancer surge up in the final strides to nip Hillsdale by ahead Saturday can tell their grandchildren about this one.

★ ★ ★

The spectators, plus a national TV audience, learned again why jockey Eddie Arcaro has been dubbed "the master" as he followed the instructions of trainer Elliott Burch to the letter and won the race of the year in one of the greatest finishes seen on an American track.

Sword Dancer, only 3-year-old in the field of four, won the 1¼ mile battle by a head. Hillsdale was second by 1¾ lengths over Round Table. Inside Tract was fourth.

Young Burch said today plans for Sword Dancer call for "only one or two more races this season."

Sword Dancer, ace of Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane's Brookmeade Stable, has been invited to start in the $100,000 Washington D.C., International at 1½ miles at Laurel Nov. 11. Burch said also there had been some consideration for the $100,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup, a 2-mile event at Aqueduct Oct. 31.

Sword Dancer netted a purse of $70,170 in winning his seventh race in 12 starts this year. He has been second four times and has earned $466,212 in 1959.

Hillsdale took the lead almost at once and Round Table went with him. They were only necks or heads apart until the top of the stretch, as Arcaro laid back in third place.

"When I got the stretch I thought I was trapped and was waiting for them to straighten out before I went around," Eddie said. Hillsdale suddenly came off the rail and left a hole.

"I said—'There is it,'" and went through on the inside," Arcaro continued. "I had plenty of room but I had so much horse I didn't need much room to go through. He's certainly a game champion. When I hit him left-handed he just took off and dug in. I was in so tight quarters I couldn't hit right-handed."

Tommy Barrow, up on Hillsdale admitted he didn't see Sword Dancer moving along the rail.

"I didn't know Arcaro was coming through inside of me until I saw Sword Dancer's head, and then it was too late."

FLYING EAGLET — Flashy halfback Ted Barszczewski did some flying for his OL St. Mary grid team, yesterday, as the Eaglets pummelled St. Clement 42-13, for their first win in two starts. Ted "flew" to three TDs.

Mikemen Snap Back to Batter ROSM, 54-7

St. Mary Runs Wild, 42-13, Over Clements; Rams Stunned, 39-7

By H. GUY MOATS

Reversal of opening games results, Sunday brought welcome victories to two of the Pontiac parochial prep elevens, but dropped the other with a resounding thumping.

On the bright side of the picture were the tremendous 54-7 win over RO St. Mary by St. Michael, and the 42-13 success over St. Clement for the Orchard Lake Eaglets. Each area club lost its season's opener a week ago.

The day's unexpected, and biggest, surprise was the 39-7 defeat handed St. Frederick by St. Rita. The loss brought a blast from Tom Kennedy, Rams' mentor, who turned his "disappointing club" out on the St. Frederick practice field after returning home from the game. The weary Rams went through a full hour of hard work before being dismissed.

In Sunday's other Suburban Catholic loop starter, St. Benedict won over RO St. James, 20-12.

It didn't take the Shamrocks long to get going. A recovered Royal Oak fumble by Nick Schlicht, two minutes after the start, set Shamrocks on the way, with Mike Ganje going over for the first of his three tallies. Pat Campbell then intercepted a RO aerial, scampered 25 yards for the first of his two counters. Near the end of the period Ganje went in again, back of some of the best blocking seen this fall by this observer.

Those TDs were enough for the win, but there was no stopping the hard-working Shamrocks, as Nielbauer shunted in new men every few minutes. Mikemen counted 21 points for a start.

Midway the 2nd period Tommy Dabbs fired one of four pass completions, to Pat Campbell for that period's only scoring. Mikemen scored twice more in the 3rd, with Ganje and Dan Dunny going over, then added two more in the finale, Dunny and Dabbs accounted for them, while penalties robbed Campbell and Ganje of two others in that finale.

Ron Katoles scored ROSM's lone tally two minutes from the end on a 46-yard pass play.

Just how much Shamrocks dominated the action is seen in the statistics. St. Michael piled up a 406-yard total to 266 for ROSM, 374 of it by rushing. A much improved defense, and more effective help for runners were highlights of Shamrock play.

Ted Barszczewski sparked the Eaglets' victory with some great running, going 75 yards with the opening kickoff, then adding tallies in the 2nd, and 3rd frames for an 18-point performance. OLSM scored twice in the 1st and 2nd periods, once each in the last two. Bill Krull (45 yards), Ken Kowalski (pass 9 yards), Milt Wojtowicz (pass) were other scorers.

Will Jensen, Williams Return?

Guessing Game for Bosox

At the moment, even they may not know.

Jensen, who passed up yesterday's final game to get an early start for his home in Crystal Bay, Nev., said before he left he will decide in about a month.

Williams, before leaving for a fishing trip to Canada, told a Red Sox official he has not yet made up his mind.

Jensen, the 32-year-old former football star from California, is at or near the peak of his career. He was the American League's Most Valuable Player last year. He led the league with 112 runs batted in this season.

Williams is at or near the end of his career. He is 41. This season he batted .254, almost 100 points below his lifetime average. It is the first time he has hit below .330 He was plagued with a neck injury most of the season.

Kuenn Wins 1st AL Batting Title

Kuenn is the first Detroit player to win the title since Al Kaline in 1955. Kaline was runner-up to Kuenn this season with a .327 mark.

In the National League, Hank Aaron, of Milwaukee appears to have sewed up his second title. The Braves' outfielder is hitting .355. Joe Cunningham of St. Louis, in second place, finished with .345.

Rudolph Wins on Anniversary

Celebrates One Year of Marriage With 1st Pro Golf Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was handson young Mason Rudolph's wedding anniversary and the Tennessee pro golfer told his bride of a year:

★ ★ ★

The 25-year-old sharpshooter from Clarksville, Tenn., playing his first year on the professional circuit, proceeded to do just that yesterday, winning the Golden Gate Open tournament with a low score of 275 and taking home a check of $6,400.

★ ★ ★

Combined with the $8,709 he already had won this year, he had $15,109 to show for his efforts. This was the 14th tournament for Rudolph in 1958 and he finished in the money in all except the Dallas Open, where a cold forced him to drop out.

Bowlerama Opens Sunday

Wednesday Last Chance to Enter Opening Round

By CHUCK ABAIR

The time is growing very short for bowlers to enter the opening round of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama tournament.

★ ★ ★

Sunday will be the first day of action of the 3rd annual event. All entries for the start of the qualifying must be in by Midnight Wednesday.

Application blanks may be obtained at any keg establishment in Oakland County or at The Press. They may also be clipped out of The Press and used as official entries. One is printed elsewhere on this page today.

Blanks may be turned in or mailed to any alley or to The Press Sports Department.

★ ★ ★

A big advantage in participating early in the meet is the fact that this year early contestants who fail to qualify will be given a chance to re-enter on later dates to try again.

The top percentage of scores posted at each of four qualifying sites will determine the finalists who will vie for county honors Oct. 25 at the new Huron Bowl.

One of every 10 entries will share in the prize money which has grown each year.

The men's champion will earn $500 with $250 and $125 guaranteed for the next two places. Women will be shooting at cash prizes of $300, $150 and $100. There will be many other awards of cash, trophies and merchandise.

The scene of the opening qualifying round will be announced in Friday's Press. Bowlerama officials will make their selection from Westside Recreation, Rochester Lanes, Maple Lanes and maining trio will be used the following Sundays.

All women will qualify together on Oct. 18. A big change for the ladies this year has been a reduction in entry fee while their prizes have been increased.

★ ★ ★

Deadline for women is Midnight Oct. 14 under the plan calling for entries to be in the Wednesday before each bowling date.

★ ★ ★

All sanctioned bowlers in Oakland County are eligible to take part.

Defending champion Dick Cork of Pontiac will be among the 1st round hopefuls. Several different communities are already represented on the list which will get things rolling Sunday.

Ingo Meets Marciano – on the Golf Course

FT. LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) —Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and ex-champ Rocky Marciano battled it out on the golf course here Saturday, and it appeared that the current title-holder came out second best.

Johansson, who said he hadn't touched a club since he played in New York before winning the crown from Floyd Patterson in June, admitted he was "a bit rusty."

The two boxers finished nine holes, and although no scores were available, Marciano said it was "an enjoyable round."

But the comment passed unheard, as the champ made his second attempt, a lofty hook into the rough.

Marciano also drove into the left rough.

The first hole ended with Johansson marking up a seven and Rocky a six. The score backed up Ingemar's earlier claim "I only go out for fun — I never count my shots."

He said he may return to south Florida in late October before launching a $100,000 exhibition tour through South America, Mexico and Cuba.

This year the top guaranteed prize is $500.

Fries, Morris, Hill Capture Sailoff Honors

Frank Fleck was first in snipes, with Morris and Neil Wheeler in order. Fries won the lightning test, with Dave Green close, and Bruce Brede 3rd. Hill led the thistles, followed by Carl Kreitz and Harm Gillan.

Tuneup Bout for 'Sugar'

BOSTON (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who will defend his two-state version of the middleweight title against Paul Pender in Boston Dec. 14, has signed for a tune-up bout in Holyoke, Mass., Oct. 26, Promoter Sam Silverman said today.

Robinson will fight Andre Tessier of Springfield, Mass. He also has a non-title bout scheduled in New York in November.

Hillsdale 11 Ready to Dominate MIAA

By The Associated Press

Hillsdale is in that domineering mood again, so MIAA football foes beware.

★ ★ ★

The Dales were relentless in their 51-0 drubbing of Adrian Saturday in one of three MIAA openers. Hope beat Albion 7-0 and Kalamazoo brought Olivet back to reality 28-0.

★ ★ ★

In other games, Miami of Ohio stopped Lovell Coleman and defeated Western Michigan 21-0, Ohio Northern dumped Ferris 26-12, Northern Michigan trounced Michigan Tech 49-12 in a traditional Upper Peninsula clash, and Alma lost to Findlay (Ohio) 14-7.

★ ★ ★

Coach Muddy Waters' Hillsdale crew, unbeaten league champions in 1954 through 1957 before settling for a cotitle last year, scored 26 first-period points in beating Adrian for the sixth straight year. Adrian now has won only one encounter of the last 26 between the traditional foes.

★ ★ ★

Sherwin VanderWoude's 78-yard punt return in the second period brought Hope's lone touchdown in its muddy conquest of Albion.

Kalamazoo snapped its 9-game lasing streak against Olivet, which had won its opener a week ago. The Hornets hadn't won since beating Olivet two years ago. Jim Smith tallied two Kalamazoo touchdowns on short quarterback sneaks.

★ ★ ★

Coleman, who netted 1,068 yards rushing last year, was restricted to 59 by Miami's Mid-American Conference champions. The Redskins, meanwhile, ran wild.

★ ★ ★

Gordon Reid and George Medley each scored twice as Northern Michigan beat archrival Michigan Tech in the Upper Peninsula's big game. It was Northern's fourth straight triumph over its bitter foe.

The Marquette speedsters had a 35-0 bulge before the Huskies could score. One of their touchdowns came on Gene Valesano's 73-yard return of the second-half kickoff.

★ ★ ★

Clyde Quinby scored three touchdowns in Ohio Northern's victory over Ferris. Alma lost to Findlay after entering the fourth quarter with a 7-6 lead. Jerry Northrup's 57-yard touchdown pass and run to Tom Taber produced Alma's score.

Orion Archers Take 2 Titles

John Hughes Jr., Sister Kathy, Junior Champs in Bow Hunters Tourney

MIDLAND — A brother - sister combination from Lake Orion walked off with both the junior championships here Sunday in the Michigan Bow Hunters Association 10th annual deer silhouette shoot.

★ ★ ★

It is Kathy's 2nd straight year as the Michigan Bow Hunter junior girl champion. The youngsters are the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes.

The shoot, Michigan's most famous archery event is a prelude to the October bow and arrow deer season. 500 bow hunters from all corners of Michigan, and many from Indiana competed for the several thousand collars in merchandise awards.

It was the second highest registration in the history of the big 2-day tournament, despite heavy rain Saturday. But the weather was perfect Sunday and total attendance topped the thousand mark.

The archers use only hunting equipment and shoot at life-like cutouts of deer and bear. The 28 target course duplicated exact hunting conditions.

Other championships went to Joseph Portlock of Nils, (instinctive men): Fran Lozon of Marine City, (instinctive women); Louise Earl of Niles, (free style women), and Gene Ellis of Elkhart, Indiana, (free style men).

It's Not How Often You're 1st but When

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It isn't how many times you're in first place in a pennant race that counts. It's when.

★ ★ ★

Ask San Francisco's Giants. They were in first, either alone or tied, 79 days this season. Milwaukee was in first 83 days.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles? Well, the Dodgers were in first ony 13 days but they've been there eight days in the last nine, forcing a playoff with the Braves for the National League pennant while the Giants wound up third.

OLS Defeats St. Leo

Mike Sutter led Farmington's Our Lady of Sorrows School 11 to its first win, Sunday, over Detroit St. Leo, 27-6. Mike ran for two TDs on 25 and 48-yard gallops, compiled a 151-yard total for 13 carries.

★ ★ ★

George Geddis on a 45-yard run, followed by two more for the TD, and Jim Goebels' 32-yard pass interception provided other counters. Ron Discher kicked two PATs and Jeff Barth took a pass for the other.

Playoff in NL Does Not Bother Chisox Manager

CHICAGO (AP)—The National League playoff between Milwaukee and Los Angeles isn't going to make any difference to the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Al Lopez said last night: "It's hard to say whether it will be to our advantage but I don't think it'll hurt."

"At most it means two days," said Lopez. "And it could be only one day if somebody over there takes two in a row. "It'll help Sherm Lollar but I don't think it'll make any difference in our pitching setup."

Lollar, the Sox star catcher, has a bruised hand as a result of being hit by a pitch.

L'Anse Creuse Wins

A 4-yard plunge by quarterback Bob Wilson with 1:11 to play climaxed 70-yard march and produced a 7-0 football triumph for L'Anse Creuse over Harper Woods Saturday. Wilson's passing and the running of Earl Peeples sparked the drive. L'Anse Creuse has a 2-0 record.

If Not Change of Heart

Seems K Had Change of Mind

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — What impact did America have on Nikita Khrushchev?

While in the Soviet Union, Vice President Richard M. Nixon said the Soviet leader suffered from misconceptions about the United States, which could be corrected by visiting us. Well, Khrushchev has been here and gone.

Did we change his mind at all?

Indications are that we did, unless, of course, he never believed his own propaganda to begin with.

Reporters on the Khrushchev tour repeatedly asked him whether his visit was altering his own image of America. Repeatedly, Khrushchev ducked a direct answer.

But there were several indirect answers from the round, volatile Communist chief.

In San Francisco, Khrushchev said — maybe he was merely being polite, but he said it — that he saw no difference between the American government and the American people in their desire for peace.

For the last 14 years of the cold war, Communist propagandists have been saying that Americans as a people want peace but the government is warlike.

For years Pravda has been screaming that American business leaders and the "ruling classes" had to keep the cold war going because to end it would bring a depression.

But after meeting with top businessmen in New York, Khrushchev conceded that the United States could move from a war economy to a true peace economy without economic disaster.

Traditionally, the Moscow propaganda mill has insisted the American worker is oppressed, exploited, underpaid, ill-fed, ill-housed and eternally afraid of sudden unemployment.

But the Khrushchev we saw on this side of the Atlantic said the American worker's situation is "not a bad one at all." He remarked several times about American prosperity and our high standard of living.

While he criticized some of our industrial and farming techniques, he also had high praise for others. He publicly admired our "beautiful cities" and our "wonderful roads." He even commited the heresy of conceding that most American newspapers had been objective in reporting his hectic tour.

In many places he noted the friendliness of Americans, although in some of those places he definitely mistook polite curiosity for friendship. He spoke warmly of the "pleasant talks" he had had with businessmen, political leaders, farmers, intellectuals, workers and ordinary Americans.

Khrushchev Does the Talking at Conference

Press Secretary James F. Hagerty was asked whether anyone else in the Soviet group spoke up.

"No," he said.

Hagerty said a number of Americans present joined briefly in the discussion — including Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Senate Hearings Set on Similar TVA Bids

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—The Senate antimonopoly subcommittee will convene hearings here today on identical bids submitted by suppliers to the Tennessee Valley Authority and Tennessee Valley cities.

Paul Fahey of Chattanooga, TVA procurement chief, is scheduled to testify that TVA has received bids from as many as eight widely separated manufacturers of electrical and other equipment that were matched down to a fraction of a cent.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) will also hear public power officials from Knoxville, Chattanooga, Nashville, Memphis and Hokinsville, Ky., on identical bids received by their power boards.

A federal grand jury in Philadelphia, Pa., is presently investigating identical bidding by electrical manufacturers on government projects.

Biography Wins Prize

Dr. Margaret Clapp, president of Wellesley College, won a Pulitzer Prize in 1947 for a biography entitled, "Forgotten First Citizen: John Bigelow." The latter was a newspaperman who became American minister to France during the Civil War.

Here's Results of Those Talks

Specific Pacts Missing as Generalities Rule Heralded Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—What did President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev accomplish in their weekend Camp David talks?

NEGOTIATIONS — They agreed problems should be settled by peaceful negotiations rather than by force.

DISARMAMENT — the two agreed it is the most important question facing the world today. Khrushchev said he favored appropriate disarmament inspection and control, but was not specific. The Western powers long have insisted on fool-proof controls.

★ ★ ★

COLD WAR — Khrushchev said he and Eisenhower found a great deal in common "in our understanding of our positions and of the need to improve relations between our two countries."

GERMAN REUNIFICATION — Apparently no progress.

BERLIN—Some progress. They agreed to reopen formal negotiations—subject to the approval of other countries concerned. This could be at a sub-foreign ministers level, at a foreign ministers meeting or a summit conference.

EISENHOWER VISIT—The two agreed that Eisenhower's visit to the U.S.S.R., scheduled tentatively for this fall, will be deferred until spring.

★ ★ ★

U. S. — SOVIET EXCHANGES—Substantial progress with respect to an increase in exchanges of persons and ideas. Certain agreements expected soon.

SOVIET PAYMENTS — Agreed to reopen negotiations on U. S. claim of 800 million dollars against the U.S.S.R., mostly for lend-lease aid.

Put Love Back a Bit

TALADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Love is getting put back a pace or two in this tiny east Alabama town. City officials said they plan to renovate telephone booths — with more glasswork and better lighting — to reduce necking in the booths.

ROUGH STUFF—Scenes like this are becoming a trend in today's Hollywood movies. Not everyone likes it. But filmland producers defend the moral change. Here, in a scene in which Rita Hayworth is almost raped, she is roughed up by Van Heflin and Richard Conte. The movie is "They Came to Cordura."

Drastic Change Defended

What's Happened to Movies' Morals?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

(First of four articles on morality in movies.)

In "They Came to Cordura," Rita Hayworth is almost raped by Van Heflin and Richard Conte, later gives herself to Heflin for the night in order to save Gary Cooper.

In "Cry Tough," Linda Cristal and John Saxon appear clothed on a double bed after 10 days of living together illicitly and she asks, "What for are you dressed?"

In "Anatomy of a Murder," such terms as spermogenesis, sexual climax and panties are discussed in testimony.

In "Horse Soldiers," Constance Towers in a low-cut dress leans toward John Wayne with a plat of chicken and asks if he would like to have a breast.

These and many other recent films have pointed up the fact that morality in Hollywood movies has undergone a change. And what a change!

The mossy old "boy meets girl" formula for movie plots is as dead as nickel beer. Producers are looking for new and often shocking stories with which to entice the public into the theaters. They feel they must—or else be wiped out as an industry.

Of course not. Says studio boss Buddy Adler: "It would be a very bad day for the industry if there were no production code or some form of restriction on producers. Anybody who wants to do away with the code is crazy."

There are some movie makers who would like to scrap the code, which has censored Hollywood films for nearly 30 years. Cooler heads prevail. Industry leaders know the code is the bulwark against the multitude of would-be censors in government and religion.

The film business has won its legal battles for freedom of the screen. It doesn't want to lose that ground and submit once more to state and local censorship.

But although the code will remain, it is a human document, just like the U.S. Constitution. It can be interpreted to suit the times, and it can be changed.

The last big change came in 1956. Until then, movies could not even suggest dope addiction, abortion, miscegenation or white slavery and swearing was never heard.

Nowadays, most dramatic pictures have a sprinkling of "hells" and "damns." There is no restriction on miscegenation, but the other matters must be treated with restraint. The code did tighten in one respect: no more open-mouth kissing.

The effects of the 1956 revision can be witnessed on the movie screens today. Hollywood is tackling subjects that had long been forbidden.

The movie makers are at the crossroads. Should they face the wrath of the moralists or the apathy of the public? The latter seems more fatal. And so the movies are becoming outspoken about things that were once never discussed in the nicer parlors.

Part of Code

Adultery and illicit sex, sometimes necessary plot material, shall not be explicitly treated, nor shall they be justified or made to seem right or permissible.

Seduction or rape should never be more than suggested, and then only when essential to the plot.

The subject of abortion shall be discouraged, shall never be more than suggested, and when referred to shall be condemned.

The sanctity of the institution of marriage and the home shall be upheld. No film shall infer that casual or promiscuous sex relationships are the accepted or common thing.

In general, passion should be treated in such a manner as not to stimulate the baser emotions.

What Did Ks Discuss on Way Home?

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—What do you suppose the Khrushchevs talked about on the jet flight home?

"I'd give plenty to know that," said the wife of an American official who escorted them around America.

She voiced the curiosity of many others who had a hand in the Khrushchev trip.

Nina Khrushchev said her last day in America—spent at George Washington's home and other historic places in the beautiful Virginia countryside — was "the freest and nicest" of the whole trip.

"They saw so much and enjoyed what they saw. They must have had a better understanding of our way of life," said Mrs. Cabot Lodge. She and her husband, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, had served as official hosts for the trip.

The Soviet party, especially the women, had seen a goodly slice of America, and they obviously had plenty to talk about.

Youngsters Influential

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Grandchildren are a great institution.

That was one point on which President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev reached quick agreement.

In fact, the way Khrushchev tells the story, their mutual fondness for grandchildren prompted postponement of Eisenhower's return visit to Russia until next spring. (American diplomats thought there were other reasons.)

The story came out when Khrushchev was asked at his press conference yesterday what reason the President gave for putting off the visit, originally scheduled for this fall.

A grin spread slowly over Khrushchev's face. "I would like to reveal a secret," he said, obviously relishing the suspense.

"Yesterday the President was kind enough to invite me to his farm where I met his wonderful grandchildren. I established direct contact with those wonderful grandchildren of his, and we held a conference as to whether they should accompany their grandfather to our country, and if so, when.

"They and I reached a unanimous decision that they certainly should come with the President. I took it upon myself to suggest that perhaps springtime would be the best time of the year for a visit like that because everything is in flower then. The weather is warm. Nothing is frozen up."

Still beaming, Khrushchev went on to relate that he had "an exchange of views with the President" and that Eisenhower endorsed their conclusion that springtime would be best for a family visit.

"I'm sure that my grandchildren will approve of this action of mine," Khrushchev said, "and therefore is agreement both among the grandchildren and among the grandfathers."

The "wonderful" Eisenhower grandchildren to whom Khrushchev took such a shine are David, 11; Barbara Anne, 10; Susan, 7; and Mary Jean, 3. Mary Jean may be too young to make the trip to Russia next spring, but the other three are reported to be raring to go.

Ceylon Fears Religious Strife

Assigns Bodyguards to 15 Cabinet Members; Augments Police Patrols

★ ★ ★

Bodyguards were assigned to all 15 Cabinet ministers and sentries were posted at their homes. The guard at the official residence of the new prime minister, Wijayananda Dahanayake, was doubled. Soldiers and sailors augmented police patrols.

★ ★ ★

Though Ceylon is a predominantly Buddhist nation, feeling ran high against the monks. People were shocked and saddened by the assassination of Bandaranaike by a gunman clad in saffron robes at the prime minister's private bungalow Friday.

The monk accused of the slaying, 43-year-old Taluwa Somarama, is being held under heavy guard. Police said they have not been able to determine his motive.

Ode to Beauties Will Crowd License Plates

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UPI)—Mississippi residents are wondering where motor vehicle officials will put the numbers on the 1960 auto license tags.

The state has announced it would let the world know that the last two Miss Americas are Mississippi girls by printing on the new license plates: "Mississippi, Home of Miss Americas, Home of Beautiful Women."

Hollywood Headlines:

Some Actresses Seem in Trance — This One Is

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Something new has been added to the Hollywood scene — a hypnological director — and it could mean the end of ulcers among directors who have to deal with temperamental actresses.

Boyne, who takes his work seriously, soon had almost everybody on the set hypnotized, including Merry Anders, the leading lady. Now Merry is doing several of her scenes while under hypnosis. She may be the first actress to perform in a deliberate trance.

★ ★ ★

There's some basis for it in the script. Jacques Bergerac plays a professional hypnotist. He first meets Merry when she volunteers as a subject from the audience.

Bergerac hypnotizes her onstage. On the first take, Merry acted it out, but it didn't look convincing to director George Blair. He called on his director of hypnology.

Boyne spoke a few words into Merry's ear and her head dropped. He continued talking and told her that when she awakened, Bergerac would talk to her and when he mentioned the word "sleep," she would go into a trance.

★ ★ ★

The scene over, director Blair commented: "Great! That's the way to make pictures. One take, no back talk and a performance that even Garbo couldn't equal."

Boyne, like a baker with a prize cake, had two stagehands stretch the unconscious Merry across two chairs. As the 110-pound redhead hung there, the 190-pound Boyne sat on her.

★ ★ ★

Ex-Convict Flees Woman Who Flipped Him

Police said Robert W. McManus, 31, jumped Mrs. Catherine Dinallo, 24, outside her home. Mrs. Dinallo — who stands five-foot-three — flipped the six-foot-three inch attacker over her shoulder then tackled him when he tried to flee.

In court, Mrs. Dinallo identified McManus and said later "I'd like to take him for five minutes and beat the daylights out of him."

File Suit in Behalf of Nudist Magazine

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — A suit has been filed in Macomb County Circuit Court to prevent officials from interfering with publication of two nudist magazines.

Erwin Ellman, Detroit attorney who filed the petition in behalf of the publisher of Sunshine and Health — and its international affiliate, Sun — said a new Michigan law is being used in the case.

Ellman said the basic contention is that nudism is not necessarily obscene. He said some pictures in the magazines are taken in nudist camps, but added the pictures are not suggestive.

Ellman said the publications are official publications of the American nudist movement.

Marginal Risks Only Losers

Loans Leap Scarce Money Barrier

By SAW DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Only marginal risks need fear being turned down by the small loan companies because of scarce money. That's the opinion of a cross section of consumer finance companies.

They say funds will be available, although at higher rates, despite any efforts to keep credit tight.

The total of outstanding consumer credit will grow despite that, almost all of those in the field believe. It's already at a record high.

The Securities & Exchange Commission says consumer debt of individuals rose 2.2 billion dollars in the April - May - June quarter. And latest Federal Reserve Board figures put total instalment debt at 36½ billion dollars.

★ ★ ★

A poll of executives of small loan companies on the eve of the annual meeting of the National Consumer Finance Assn. in Seattle Tuesday shows all agreeing that the big companies expect to find the necessary funds to finance increased credits, expects a high rate of repayment and a rapid turnover of money. But here are some of the changes the coming year may see:

L. M. Curtiss, President of America Investment Co., St. Louis, says, "It will be easier for larger companies to obtain additional credit than for smaller ones."

Agreeing with him is H. E. MacDonald, president of Household Finance Corp. of Chicago, who says increasing demand for bank loans will mean that "some individual companies without satisfactory bank lines may find it necessary to curtail their operations."

But Stephen B. Straske, president of Sun Finance & Loan Co., Tampa, Fla., says, "Bankers are now turning down capital investment loans but not curtailing loans for consumer credit because of its importance to our economy."

And L. M. Boyd, president of Thrift Industrial Bank, Denver, thinks the consumer's record for repayment will help the consumer finance business find the money it will need.

To this Leland M. Feigel, president of Interstate Finance Corp., Evansville, Ind., adds: "The trend toward credit is so unmistakable that a downtrend in its legitimate users will not be possible." He also notes "a general trend today of larger loans."

How are borrowers reacting to the trend toward tighter credit and higher interest rates?

M. L. Goeglein, vice president of Pacific Finance Corp., Los Angeles, says: "Where incomes rise fairly steadily, and people are optimistic about continuance of the rise, consumers are likely to consider future installment payments, including charges, as less of a burden than full cash outlay at the time of purchase."

And J. M. Tusing, president of Tusing Finance Co., Portsmouth, Va., agrees that "tight money doesn't interest them when they need funds."

Others Receive New Rugs, but Not Williams

LANSING (UPI)—House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) is getting a new rug, which is more than Gov. G. Mennen Williams can say.

The celebrated rug in Williams' office is so worn the patches put on earlier this year are wearing out.

Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson got a new rug in his office earlier this year.

"The speaker's office needs redecorating," said House Clerk Norman E. Philleo, "and because the carpet is wearing badly, we need to save it."

The carpet design is a special one patterned on the great seal of the state. The carpeting is specially made by a firm in the east and because it is special, is sold only in 550 yard orders, Philleo said.

"We need that carpeting in the speaker's office for patching the carpet in the House chamber," Philleo said. "We've got to get it out of there before it's worn too badly to be used for patching."

Study Minimum Wage for Migratory Labor

LANSING (UPI) — A minimum wage floor for migratory labor will be considered at a hearing called here today by a U. S. Senate subcommittee.

The public hearing on migratory farm labor will be one of three to be held in the Midwest.

The subcommittee had pending before it legislation that would set a wage law, require federal registration of migrant labor contractors or crew leaders and prohibit child labor in agriculture.

The vice president of a Philadelphia advertising agency recently said, "The newspaper has become so integral a part of everyday living that we don't realize its true importance until some act deprives us of it. The oldest means of mass communication has yet to be confronted with a substitute. No other medium has served so well for so many years."

Detroit Rings Up Bigger August Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Sales in all lines were up in the Detroit area last month, except for women's apparel.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago said today furniture stores turned in the largest gain—23 per cent—over August of last year.

It said other increases were 16 per cent at appliance stores, 13 per cent at jewelry stores, 16 per cent at men's clothing stores and five per cent at department stores. Sales at women's apparel shops dropped by one per cent.

The bank also said checkbook spending for the month was up 15 per cent.

Pontiac Man Gets Theater Group Post

Milton H. London of Detroit was re-elected to his fourth term as president.

Smith, who owns the Huron and Eagle theaters, was a member of the board of directors the past three years. He lives at 1921 Warwick Ave., Sylvan Lake.

Car, Scooter Crash Injures Boy, 15

★ ★ ★

The youth, Larry A. Schultz, 597 Linda Vista Dr., was in fair condition this morning at Pontiac General Hospital.

The car driver, Carl L. Vedane, 61, 388½ Mt. Clemens St., told Pontiac police he was driving west on Mt. Clemens and was making a left turn into his driveway when the boy came from the other direction.

Market Shaky, Trade Moderate

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule for most key stocks. Most changes were narrow.

The market's strong technical rebound of last week had apparently reached a breathing spell. As side effects of the steel strike widened, federal intervention seemed more and more likely. Wall Street also paused to assess the implications of the Khrushchev visit.

Losses of a point or so were shown by American Cyanamid, Du Pont and U. S. Gypsum.

American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Gainers included General Development, Creole Petroleum and Universal Controls. Among losers were Ogden, Imperial Oil and Electric Bond & Share.

Sarah Churchill Pays Drunk, Disorderly Fine

LONDON (UPI)—Sarah Churchill, actress daughter of Britain's wartime prime minister Sir Winston Churchill, was fined two pounds ($5.60) for being drunk and disorderly.

A police officer told a magistrate in Central London's Bow Street Court that Miss Churchill, 45, was holding "a sort of political meeting" in a London snack bar last Saturday night when he was called to eject her.

'59 Births Top Prior Years

January-July Total Is Highest; Marriage and Divorce Rates Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—More babies were born during the first seven months of 1959 than in the corresponding period of any prior year.

There were 2,434,000 registered births during the January-July period this year, compared with a previous high of 2,420,000 in the corresponding 1957 months, the Public Health Service reported today.

The estimated 378,000 live births in July, however, were not a record for any July though they exceeded the 1958 total of 366,000 by 3.3 per cent. The July record was set at 384,000 in 1957.

There were an estimated 129,000 marriages, or 4 per cent more than in July 1958. For the year through July 31 there had been 842,000 marriages, also a 4 per cent gain over the comparable 1958 months.

Twenty-nine reporting areas listed 15,246 divorces, or 8.4 per cent more than in July 1958. This was the 13th consecutive month in which the monthly divorce total for these areas had been larger than the figure for the same month in the preceding year.

For the year there had been 103,838 divorces, 7½ per cent more than in the similar 1958 period and 3.2 above the comparable 1957 figure.

Is a New Small Car in Offing?

DETROIT (AP) — The national dealer organization of Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln meets here tomorrow amidst speculation that the division is ready to announce a new compact car.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer reported last night that such a car will be assembled at Ford Motor Co.'s Lorain, Ohio, plant after the first of the year.

In Detroit an M-E-L spokesman said he had "no comment at this time" on the Cleveland report.

However, Henry Ford II, president of Ford, is scheduled to speak at the dealer meeting tomorrow morning. If an announcement is to be made, that would be a logical time.

Is is known that the division has been testing a compact car. The prototypes first were referred to as the "Edsel B" and later as the "Mercury B."

Disneyland Is Seen by Reds—in Movie

MOSCOW (UPI) — A group of Soviet naval officers and civil officials yesterday inspected the U.S.S. Maury, an American Navy hydrographic survey ship now visiting the Black Sea port of Odessa.

★ ★ ★

The Russian visitors were entertained with a movie about California's Disneyland, which Premier Nikita Khrushchev was unable to visit during his U.S. visit.

Ties Steel Strike to Collectivism

George Romney Seeks Strong Public Opinion and Legislation

DETROIT (AP) — "Excess industry and union power in America must be destroyed or it will destroy us," says George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., in calling for an end to the steel strike.

"The inevitable end of the collective bargaining and industrial concenfration road we are traveling is governmental control and regulation," Romney told the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith Saturday.

In a speech delivered after accepting an "American Democratic Living Award" from the league, Romney said the current steel strike deadlock is taking the nation toward collectivism. He said it should be broken by legislative action and aroused public opinion.

★ ★ ★

"Injuries to the economy of the nation at large can reach catastrophic proportions" if the steel strike isn't ended soon, Romney said. "Apparently both sides have decided to wait through the 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction period before getting down to realistic and genuine collective bargaining."

★ ★ ★

Air's Full of Fuss and Feathers

Capital on Pigeon Patrol

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — This town is going to the birds.

During the peak roosting season ahead, uncounted millions of starlings and pigeons will hover over the unwary and desecrate the capital's classic buildings and monuments.

Mindful that annual cleanup costs run into the thousands of dollars, the Commerce Department's Office of Administrative Operations last week issued a special order on pigeon feeding by employes. It said "This practice must be curtailed since it very obviously creates poor housekeeping and unsanitary conditions."

This was the latest move in a long standing war of nerves between man and bird.

The General Services Administration, which maintains public buildings, has been forced to adopt an expensive bird-proofing program.

★ ★ ★

GSA also uses a putty-gray paint which contains a chemical that is distasteful to birds but will not harm them. Experiments also have been conducted in broadcasting high frequency sound waves.

Before the Archives strung its wires, it used recordings of a hawk's cry to scare away starling and pigeons. This worked, but it also attracted hawks.

One downtown office building several years ago stationed a mechanical owl on a window ledge. Periodically, the owl would flap its wings. This scared the nuisance birds—for a time. Then they started roosting on the owl's head.

Woman Dem Is Threatened

Telephone Call Linked to Bitter Detroit Fight Over Patronage

From Our News Wires

DETROIT (AP)—Police today were investigating complaints by the president of the 14th District Democratic Women's Club that she received threatening telephone calls. The threats were apparently the result of a bitter patronage battle.

Mrs. Theresa McGovern, a mother of three children, said two calls were taken Friday by her housekeeper. She said one caller accused her of being too fond of Negroes, and the other said she would be disfigured "so everybody won't look at her and think she is so pretty."

Officers said jealousy probably was behind the calls. They said they were investigating but added "we're not too worried because almost everybody in a high position gets calls like these."

The patronage battle has prompted a move to close the Secretary of State's branch fee office at 15209 Mack Ave. at Beaconsfield in East Side Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State James M. Hare said today the state would open a branch at a location closer to the geographical center of the area to be serviced. The switch was scheduled for about Oct. 15, but no location has been found yet, Hare said.

The office will be manned by civil service personnel, Hare said.

"The primary reason for taking this step is simply that in recent months a bitter factional battle has developed within the 14th district between the 'ins' and 'outs' as to who should be permitted to hold this patronage office," Hare said.

Asks Easy Payment Loans for Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today called for the creation of a billion-dollar international development association to extend easy payment loans to underdeveloped nations.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower made his suggestion in a brief address of welcome to the governoring boards of the bank and the International Monetary Fund opening their annual meeting here. He told the finance ministers of 68 nations:

"In our view, no other mechanism can perform this task for the free world as well as the international development association."

The U.S. governor of the bank and fund, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, has formally proposed creating the association, a global lending institution. It would help shift part of the increasing burden of foreign aid to European and other countries.

Search for Driver Who Rammed Home

The unidentified driver first collided with a car driven by Philip Landry, 18, 47 Center St., which was stopped at a traffic signal on Parke street, police said.

The same motorist hit parked cars on Willard street and then rammed into a house at 191½ Willard St., police said.

Navy Unveils Nonnuclear $400 Rocket

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new weapon that costs only $400—the Zuni rocket—has been unveiled by the Navy.

★ ★ ★

A little fellow, the Zuni, carries a secret warhead second only to an atomic blast in destructive power, its designers told a news conference Sunday.

The Zuni is 110 inches long, 5 inches in diameter and weighs 107 pounds. It is non-nuclear, unguided and designed for air-to-air and air-to-ground attack.

The Zuni was developed at the China Lake Naval Ordnance test station.

Devote All Your Time to Studies, MSUO Advising Its Students

Chancellor D. B. Varner said today that any student who tries to carry a full academic load along with a full or part-time job off campus is "cheating himself" because the curriculum at MSUO is not a part-time operation.

"We believe it is vitally important that the student stay on the campus eight hours a day," he said.

Varner urged any student who needs an off-campus job to consider instead a student loan, so that his fuel energies might be devoted to what he called "the most important job the young person shall ever undertake."

★ ★ ★

Loans are available to MSUO students under the National Defense Education Act. They bear interest at only three per cent and repayment does not begin until a year after the student leaves college.

Up to half the loan will be forgiven for those teaching in public schools.

Varner stressed that both the parent and the school share the responsibility for the development of the student.

NOT TRAINING

"The task of the university is not to train a student for his first job," he said, "but rather the development of an intellectual discipline which will enable the student to cope with new situations and new problems."

"The university's task is not custodial," he said. "We have selected this student body on the assumption that we have, first of all, ladies and gentlemen.

Link Phone Call With Murder

Mobster Took Message an Hour Before He and Beauty Were Shot

NEW YORK (UPI)—The search for the gunmen who assassinated former Capone lieutenant Little Augie Pisano and murdered a blonde beauty queen appeared today to hinge on a mysterious phone call.

Police revealed that the 62-year-old mobster received the phone call about an hour before he and Mrs. Janice Drake, 32, were shot in the head while riding in Pisano's 1959 Cadillac Friday night. They would give no details.

Pisano, whose real name was Anthony Carfano, also spoke with three men in Marino's Restaurant shortly before the phone call that may have called him to his last appointment.

Chief of Detectives James B. Leggett said one of the men—a businessman—had been questioned. But police would not disclose the identities of the men.

Every gangster who had ever known Pisano was being called in for questioning by a force of 50 detectives. A little red address book found on the slain mobster's body gave police a list of racketeers who were expected to join about 200 persons already quizzed.

Among them were waterfront mobster Anthony Strollo (alias Tony Bender), bookmaker Frank Erickson and reputed Mafia chieftain Michael J. Miranda, who is said to have succeeded the jailed Vito Genovese.

Police said Pisano met Mrs. Drake, who knew him as a family friend, in the plush Copacabana night club around 7:30 or 8 p.m. They went to Marino's for dinner, and left about 10 minutes after Pisano had been called to the bar for the phone call.

About 45 minutes later, they were dead.

Black, White Spots of Holsteins Usual

PRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UPI) — The spots on America's dairy cows are changing.

"Drive down any road in dairy country and you'll see more of the black and white color pattern of the Holstein breed than ever before," says the Holstein Friesian Assn. of American.

★ ★ ★

The cattle registry organization says grade and registered Holsteins make up more than 60 per cent of America's dairy herds, and produce about 70 per cent of the nation's milk supply.

Atomic Ship Passengers to See Reactor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Passengers aboard the N. S. Savannah, the world's first atom-powered merchant ship, will be able to watch the ship's nuclear reactor in operation via closed-circuit television.

They will also be able to hear over an accompanying audio hookup the "heart beat" of the reactor as it turns out the power that runs the 21,000-ton ship.

Two TV cameras will carry the picture from the below-decks "Containment vessel" in which the reactor is housed to a six-by-eight-foot television screen in a lounge.

An as extra safety factor, the cables to the cameras will be installed with a special "potting" process which will prevent any seepage of radioactivity, according to T. A. Smoth, executive vice president of RCA Industrial Electronic Products.

The Savannah was launched July 21, 1959, and is expected to go into service in late 1960.

Mobile County Schools Have Indoor Toilets

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Mobile County finally achieved a long-sought goal—indoor toilets for every school building in the Mobile County school system.

The school board has been working for years to get rid of the outdoor toilets, and the job was completed this summer after one school was moved about a mile so it could be attached to the new newer system at Dauphin Island.

ALMA MATER EXPRESS — Twenty-three New York City area families have found a way to beat the high cost of a college education — at least partially. The parents, whose children attend Knox College in Galesburg, Ill., chipped in to buy a onetime airport bus for $2,500, then donated it to the school, making their shares tax-deductible. At $10 a one-way trip at the beginning and end of school terms and during vacations, the parents estimate they will save at least $670 over four years on each student's travel expenses. Above, William M. Churchill of Sea Cliff, N.Y., helps daughter Jacqueline stow her luggage shortly before 13 students boarded the bus to make the first 1,200-mile trip to the campus.

Negro Honored as Top Doctor

Saginaw Physician Is First of His Race to Be so Honored

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A Negro physician from Saginaw, son of slave parents, received the outstanding doctor of the year award today from the Michigan Medical Society.

A spokesman for the society, which is holding a week-long convention here, announced that Dr. Archer A. Claytor, 66, was the first Negro in state history to win the award.

Dr. Kenneth H. Johnson of Lansing, speaker of the House of Delegates at the convention, was to formally present the Negro physician with the "Foremost Family Physician Award for 1959-60" at ceremonies today.

Dr. Claytor, born in Copperville, Va., the 11th of 13 children, is a World War I veteran and graduate of Temple University in Philadelphia. He received his medical degree in 1934 from Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

In Saginaw, Dr. Claytor is noted for his many civic activities that include the presidency of the first ward community center; membership for 12 years on the Saginaw Housing Commission; directing the Saginaw Community Chest and his appointment by President Eisenhower in 1956 as a director on the Virgin Islands Commission.

He is the father of three teenage daughters and has a brother, Dr. Robert W. Claytor, who practices medicine in Grand Rapids.

Visit Shows Nikita's 2 Faces

U.S. Looks at Jolly Jokester, Cold-Eyed Boaster

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev showed two faces during his fabulous tour—one the jolly jokester, the other the cold-eyed Communist chieftain angrily boasting of the Soviet Union's missle might.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of thousands — perhaps millions—of skeptical Americans appear to have been favorably impressed with his first face, the one he wore 99 per cent of the time.

★ ★ ★

They saw him as a kind little man, quoting God and the Bible, exuding sweet reasonableness, quips and honeyed words, convulsing audiences with his wit.

His message sounded good too: "Let's be friends. Let's banish war forever and compete only in seeing who can make his people happiest."

★ ★ ★

This could be the real Khrushchev—a man who has decided to go down in the history books as one who eventually convinced a suspicious Western world he was sincere in his quest for peace.

But administration leaders, although slightly more optimistic than they had been, are not convinced.

They've had too much experience with broken Soviet promises, plots and doubletalk. Khrushchev's tour could go down as merely an example of a master salesman at work, they realize.

Offsetting the image of the reasonable Khrushchev is the memory of the grim night in Los Angeles, eight days ago, when he suddenly switched to the more familiar role of angry, cocky Kremlin chief.

Meat Supplies Good Despite Swift Strike

CHICAGO, (UPI) — Meat supplies are pouring steadily into the nation's larders despite a three-week-old strike against Swift and Company, giant of the packing industry.

Industry sources said today housewives need have no fear of a shortage.

★ ★ ★

Beef and pork on the hoof are moving to market in substantially larger numbers than before two big meat unions struck Swift on Sept. 4, and other packing companies, most of which have come to terms with the unions, have speeded up slaughtering to handle the increased shipments from farm feedlots.

★ ★ ★

The United Packinghouse Workers of America (UPWA) and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen (AMCBW) recessed negotiations with Swift for the weekend with the declaration that they were still "miles away" from a meeting of the minds.

Robert Taylor Starts on New Career -- TV

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The trouble with meeting one of our girlhood matinee idols several years later is the shocking realization that not only is he older. But so are you.

So it was with seeing Robert Taylor, whose profile so far as I once was concerned out-chiseled any belonging to a Barrymore.

The actor, who played leading man to virtually all of Hollywood's leading ladies in the 1930s and 1940s, came to town this week to talk to reporters about his job in —for him—a new medium, television. His press agent wanted to know, would I like to meet Mr. Taylor?

Would I! After all, in my youth I spent quite a bit of my weekly allowance on the man, sighing along with millions of other females as Taylor made love to Garbo or Dunne or Garson or Leigh. Why not see what the hero of my teen years really was like.

"Okay," said Taylor, "I'm used to people like you who remember me when they were little girls. I don't mind at all."

LEADING MAN DIFFERENT

"Teenagers still have their idols. But now they worship Marlon Brando or Paul Newman or Tony Curtis. Different type of leading man.

"I don't mind that I'm not playing the great lover anymore. Changes in roles are inevitable, if you're going to progress as an actor. Just as age is inevitable.

"At the time I was enjoying that fan hysteria . . . when autograph seekers mobbed us at hotel entrances . . . I was young enough to appreciate it. I don't miss it today. Fans have changed. They're blase. Television has brought the personalities right into the home."

★ ★ ★

As Taylor talked, I was busy looking at Taylor. Sunburned, windburned. More the outdoor type now than the drawing room. But same heavy arched brows. Same chiseled profile, only he did seem heavier under the chin. But same hairline. No gray.

"Well," laughed Taylor, "I'm only 48."

"I'm lucky," he said, when I remarked there was no sign of baldness.

"I got a good crop from my mother, I guess. You should see what a beautiful head of hair she still has.

"Want to know how I've changed?

"I played tennis the other afternoon and Urs (his wife) had to help me out of bed next day. I used muscles I hadn't used in years. The fitness I keep is by fishing or working around the ranch.

★ ★ ★

"I weigh the same as I did when I broke into the movies . . . 174 pounds. Maybe it's just not the same distribution. The sands have shifted."

Taylor, former husband of actress Barbara Stanwyck, now is married to Ursula Theiss, a German-born actress. They live on a 113-acre ranch near Los Angeles.

Taylor said the place is populated with chickens, hunting dogs, horses and four children — Manuela and Michael, who are Miss Theiss' children by a former marriage, and Terence and Tess, who arrived five weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Taylor's television debut is in a detective story series which will begin on ABC Oct. 16. "Sure I'm apprehensive about TV," he said. "But if this thing proves a fiasco, I can always go back and gather eggs."

Economy Cars Boon to Wives, Ford Man Says

DETROIT (UPI)—A Ford Motor Co. executive said today the new economy car will liberate the housewife of America just as the Model-T freed the farm family.

★ ★ ★

"A substantial number of these cars," Will Scott, product planning manager, said, "should be additional sales that the market otherwise would not have generated."

★ ★ ★

Girls' Town a Possibility

Showgirl Talks Over Homeless Haven Plans With Gov. Collins

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Persuasive talk by former showgirl Gregg Sherwood Dodge has apparently heightened the possibilities of a haven for homeless girls in Hernando County, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dodge, wife of auto heir Horace Dodge II, talked over the project here Friday with Gov. Leroy Collins and the state forestry board. She won Collin's backing on her plan to operate a "Girls' Town U.S.A." on 1,000 acres on Lake McKethan near Brooksville.

The property is included in a purchase by the state of the huge Withlachoochee land use project from the federal government.

Mrs. Dodge, who wants the state to let her use the land without cost, said some $3,500,000 is already available for the girls' town project.

★ ★ ★

"We are ready and eager to go," she said, "all we need is the land."

She said the home will care for girls from 10 to 17 years old. They will be taught crafts, homemaking and vocational trades and college scholarships will be available for girls wishing to continue their education, she said.

★ ★ ★

Collins was enthusiastic over the project.

"It will be a fine thing for the girls, the state, the nation and for Brooksville," he said.

The forestry board agreed to take the matter up at a meeting Oct. 3-5 and requested that Mrs. Dodge attend.

Billy Graham Conducts Crusade at Alma Mater

WHEATON, Ill. (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham yesterday opened an eight-day crusade before about 18,000 persons on the campus of his alma mater, Wheaton College.

★ ★ ★

Graham, who was graduated here in 1943, was invited back for the independent christian college's centennial celebration, as its best known alumnus. A series of evangelistic meetings is held here at the beginning of each semester.

The college's new $500,000 centennial gymnasium was dedicated before the start of the rally in a brief ceremony.

TV News and Reviews

Schulberg's 'Sammy' Limps Through 1st Half

By FRED DANZIG

Better casting; tighter, more judicious fidelity to the spirit of of Budd Schulberg's novel; and more adventurous direction could have turned this into a memorable show.

Instead, Schulberg and his brother, Stuart, added traces of a conscience to the TV story of Sammy Glick, the relentless, shoe-loving Hollywood heel who stomps on friend and foe alike in his upward climb.

They also modified relationships and left us with a routine recital of an oft-told TV tale. (Remember "The Velvet Trap" and "The Comedian" on TV?)

Of course, Schulberg has a right to tamper with his creation, and mellow with the years. Unfortunately, he destroyed the impact of some vital scenes and completely bypassed others in the process.

Shortly after Premier Khrushchev invited Americans to look his country over, Ed Sullivan came along on CBS-TV with his own "Invitation to Moscow," a thoroughly-satisfying 90-minute special.

As in Spoleto, Italy, Sullivan's special consisted of many video-taped outdoor scenes. This time, the settings were the parks, theaters, streets and squares of Moscow.

Three Russian acts joined with Rise Stevens, Dick Contino, the Barry sisters, Margaret Tynes, Marge and Gower Champion and other American performers to provide the entertainment.

Because of the locale and the meaning behind the show, each act carried a built-in tingle. It's my hope that our talent had the same electrifying effect on the Russians as the Russian brown bear circus act had on my son.

SHORT SHOTS: Jimmy Durante, who refuses to concede looks, talent or age to any man on earth, served his usual brand of entertainment on his Friday night NBC-TV special. He did himself no harm, although it was an uneventful hour in terms of originality and sparkle.

Milton Berle, the "old" Uncle Milty, this time, was on hand when Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz opened their new CBS-TV season Friday. A few laughs were garnered from the predictable wild situations and, to make it official, Berle put on a dress and Lucy smoked a cigar. It would have been funnier as a 30-minute show.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Jackie Gleason and Irish playwright Brendan Behan are slated for a transoceanic chat via CBS-TV's Small World later this fall . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor and Abbe Lane will appear as panelists on Dick Clark's World of Talent Show, Oct. 18 and 25, respectively, on ABC-TV . . . Pat Hingle, seriously injured in an elevator shaft accident last winter, returns to action on CBS-TV Nov. 18 when the U. S. Steel Hour presents, "The Last Autumn."

$100-a-Plate Banquet Lauds Mrs. Roosevelt

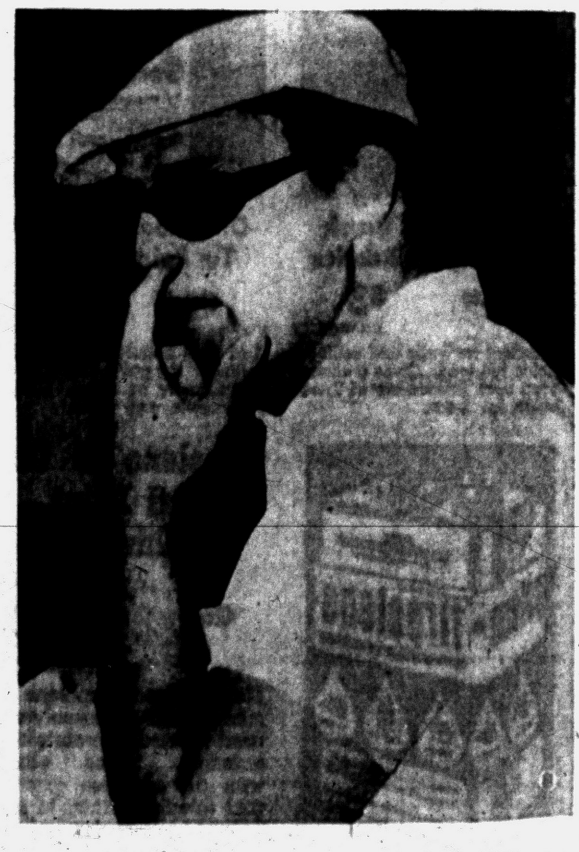

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., (UPI) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was honored last night at a $100-a-plate Diamond Jubilee banquet attended by 1,500 leading figures in the business, entertainment and political worlds.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the dinner at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, combined with cash contributions and pledges, resulted in some $350,000 being raised for the new Eleanor Roosevelt Institute for Cancer Research, which will be built in Denver, Colo.

★ ★ ★

The money came from the Los Angeles chapter of the Eleanor Roosevelt Institute, which sponsored the banquet.

MARLON'S BACK — His name is Marlon Brando. But he wouldn't admit it. The Hollywood actor and actress France Nuyen arrived by plane at Miami yesterday using assumed names. Miss Nuyen created a stir when she attacked a photographer trying to take her picture. Brando said, "This is none of your business." The two reportedly had been in Haiti two weeks on vacation.

Registration Begins for Adult Education

Hours of registration will be 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., today through Thursday, and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., Thursday, in the office of the Vocational Building at Central.

"The usual courses in vocational-industrial subjects will be given this year," said R. J. Graff, director of vocational and adult education.

"These will be automotive diagnosis and tuneup, shop mathematics, blueprint reading, tool and die design, drafting, sheet metal layout, electrical maintenance, machine shop, advanced projection and welding."

BUSINESS CLASSES

Business education classes will be held in accounting and bookkeeping, office machines, shorthand, typing, business English, filing, salesmanship and stocks and investments.

Spanish, French and Russian will be offered this year. Hobby, or leisure time classes in cake decorating, photography, copper enameling, ceramics, china painting, jewelry making, water color painting and oil painting will be organized if enough people show an interest, said Graff.

Tailoring and dressmaking will be offered again along with a class in knitting.

"High School credit classes will be organized if enough people enroll to make a class feasible," said Graff. "These classes are required to meet two evenings per week for 10 weeks."

A class for beginning readers will meet in two hour sessions twice a week for 10 weeks.

Registration fees for adult education classes range from $7 to $20 per term depending on the type of class and number of hours the class is in session.

Find Groveland Man Dead of Gun Wound

Michael J. Murphy, 76, of 5491 Groveland Rd., was found by his son John, who lives next door at 5401 Groveland. A .38 caliber revolver was found near Murphy's body.

He was pronounced dead by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette. Detectives said the wound was self inflicted.

French Finances Sound, Says Antoine Pinay

NEW YORK (AP)—French Finance Minister Antoine Pinay said Saturday his country is in sound shape financially and is ready to resume its place in the world.

The minister, a former premier of France, arrived by plane en route to Washington for sessions of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund beginning today.

French Wine This Year May Be Best in Century

PARIS (AP) — When a Frenchman says 1959 is a great year, he's talking about wine, not politics.

The prospects for this year's vintage have Frenchmen smacking their lips in anticipation. The wine is good everywhere. In the rich Burgundy district experts say this year's product may surpass the exceptional richness of 1929, one of the best years of the past century.

Poets Lie Together

Poets Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, James Russell Lowell, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Edward Everett and Phillips Brooks are all buried in Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.
