PIPE PEEPER—Kenneth P. Robbins, county DPW employe, is the cameraman in a revolutionary new method of checking sewer pipes. Here he checks out the small television camera used to peek inside pipes to spot leaks and cracks. The lens is in the center (covered by a lens cap) surrounded by five 32 candle power lights.

To Expose the Worst

County Branches Into TV to Root Out Sewage Dirt

By DICK SAUNDERS

Sounds like something a cynical TV critic might say. But it was Stanford Schantz, Oakland County's first television technician talking.

That is, Schantz is the first county-employed TV technician. He works for the department of public works.

What does he look at all day? You guessed it—sewers.

Schantz and his crew—Kenneth P. Robbins and Rudy Hall—were in Pontiac for the first time yesterday.

They came to look at sewers on South Parke Street.

The $12,000 in equipment these TV program directors use is quite rare. The county has had the facilities for about a month.

NETWORK EQUIPMENT

They consist of a truck, gas-driven electric generator, TV set, three control panels and a camera that photographs more dirt than all the expose-type magazines in the world.

It's a little over two feet long and less than eight inches in diameter. The idea is to run a cable through the sewer pipe from one manhole to the next and pull the camera back through.

"The lens is so sensitive that we must cap it before bringing it up. One minute of direct sunlight would ruin it," said Robbins.

STAGE MANAGER

Robbins is what you'd have to call a cameraman.

One panel controls mirror rotation, intensity of lighting and focus of the lens. The lens can be focused by remote control to zero in on anything from its glass cover to a point 30 feet away.

There is only one other such closed circuit TV unit being used to explore sewer lines in Michigan. It's in Ann Arbor.

"There is no other way that these small, eight-inch lines could be checked without ripping up the whole street," Schantz said.

Orville Hubbuck, supervisor of sewers, Pontiac Department of Public Works, said this is the first step of the loop highway. "We want to check the pipe and make any needed repairs before we lay a highway over it," he said. "The pipe's about 50 years old."

DON'T TOUCH THAT DIAL — It's "The Sewer Hour" — or the closest thing to it. Stanley Schantz runs the show Monday through Friday. It's a new service of the Oakland County Department of Public Works for inspecting sewer pipes with a closed circuit television setup. Here, Schantz talks to men outside the mobile unit while watching his monitor.

'Neither Red Nor Dead'--Kennedy

Says American People Must Face Up to Risks

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

CHAPEL HILL, N.C.—President Kennedy said today the American people can be assured of being "neither Red nor dead" if the country faces its risks "undeterred by fanatics at home or abroad."

In an off-the-cuff but significant speech at the University of North Carolina, Kennedy said it was time to face the issues of the world "as they are, not as we would like them to be."

He recalled slogans from past U.S. history such as "54-40 or fight," and said it now would be a dangerous illusion to thnk American problems could be encompassed in a single slogan such as "total victory."

The United States, he said, must have policies based on both "firmness and flexibility."

Kennedy said that in the nuclear age for the first time in history two powers have the capacity to destroy one another. And while seeking peace, he said, the United States does not "intend to let the free world be blown to pieces."

Before an audience of 35,000 in the sunlit university stadium, the President said that "we should keep our eye on both our dangers and our opportunities."

He said the American people must take the long view, distinguishing the long range from the temporary.

"If we can face up to the risks" undeterred by fanatics at home or abroad, he said, "we shall be neither Red nor dead."

★ ★ ★

The "neither Red nor dead" phrase he used was coined from the slogan of the antinuclear pacifists in Britain—"Better Red Than Dead."

NO EASY WAY

Earlier Kennedy said he saw no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said.

He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Charge U.S. Invasion Set in Viet Nam

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today the United States is planning an aggressive invasion of South Viet Nam and said this would lead to serious consequences in Southeast Asia.

★ ★ ★

A special commentary on Radio Moscow claimed the aim of alleged American troop movements was two-pronged—to shore up the regime of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and to frighten neighboring Laos away from its neutrality.

UNOFFICIAL VOICE

The commentary, obviously representing the views of the Soviet government but without the force of an official note, was read by Andrei Baturin. He is a well-known radio spokesman on matters of Soviet foreign policy.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday he was awaiting an on-the-spot report from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor before deciding whether there was sufficient Communist intervention in South Viet Nam to justify the dispatch of American or Southeast Asia Treaty Organization forces. He said there was considerable evidence guerrilla fighters in South Viet Nam were coming from beyond its borders.

SOVIET CHARGES

Radio Moscow charged: "Evidently Washington, before the eyes of the world, has decided to trample on the Geneva agreement about Indochina, which prohibits sending foreign troops to South Viet Nam."

★ ★ ★

There was in the broadcast, however, no direct threat to send in Soviet troops, nor was there any mention of North Viet Nam or Communist China.

Hoffa Urges Labor Organize Strong Machine

Says 'Federal Control' of Unions Necessitates Political Involvement

LANSING (AP) —Teamsters President James R. Hoffa urged labor today to form "a strong political machine" and declared that "this country is being controlled by fear, with governmental bodies taking over operations of free labor unions."

Hoffa, speaking before an AFL-CIO group, reiterated his intention to sue AFL-CIO President George Meany for $1 million "for libelous and slanderous statements" about the Teamsters.

The Teamsters were expelled by the AFL-CIO four years ago for alleged corruption, and the statement for which Hoffa said he would sue came Tuesday after the AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 34-3 against inviting the Teamsters back.

Meany was quoted then as saying:

"There is every indication the (Teamsters) union is more than ever now under the influence of criminals and corrupt elements."

Hoffa was given a standing ovation by the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council after he had urged labor to form a political machine to protect itself.

The state council, which has continued Teamsters unions within its membership despite the AFL-CIO expulsion, passed unanimously, shortly before Hoffa spoke, a resolution calling upon the AFL-CIO building and construction trades department to invite the Teamsters back into it.

Hoffa predicted in his speech that government will "press for more and more power to control" and belabored fellow unionists for not protesting more in the past.

"Today," he said, "we are in more danger of being immobilized than at any time in our history."

He said he was "at a loss to understand headlines which we saw Wednesday and the day before where some so-called leaders of labor appear more dedicated to fighting and destroying, if possible, the organized than in organizing the unorganized."

Hoffa said a part of his $1-million suit against Meany would be based on the latter's report that 100 Teamsters locals have applied for AFL-CIO affiliation. He said this was an attempt to disrupt contractural relations between the international and chartered locals.

In New York, AFL-CIO chiefs forecast earlier today a substantial membership exodus from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union now that the federation has hung out a welcome sign.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he was already busy processing affiliation applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamster locals.

Start of Production at Ford's Depends on 25 Local Unions

DETROIT (UPI) — About 300 angry United Auto Workers Union members booed UAW President Walter P. Reuther and called him a "stooge" today as he arrived for a meeting of the union's national Ford council to press for approval of a new three-year contract.

The demonstrators were members of the tool and die unit at Ford's huge Rouge plant in Dearborn, the same group that demonstrated against Reuther here Wednesday.

By BEN PREGAR

DETROIT (UPI) — Individual problems at 25 local bargaining units held the key today to resumption by Ford Motor Co. following the agreement Wednesday night with the United Auto Workers Union on a new three-year national labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would recommend to the union's Ford National Council this afternoon that the settlement be approved and a nationwide strike which began 10 days ago be ended.

However, strikes will continue at the 25 local units which have unresolved problems, pending a review of all issues by the international executive board tonight.

Reuther said locals with "legitimate specific problems" will be authorized by the board to continue to strike. But he expressed hope such problems would be resolved in time to permit the company to return to production by Monday.

★ ★ ★

"We'd like to get the men back to work as soon as possible," said Malcolm L. Denise, Ford vice president-labor relations who led the Ford bargaining team. "Monday would be fine with us."

More than 60,000 of Ford's 120,000 production workers are represented by the locals which have not settled.

Two final pieces of the non-economic section of the national Ford contract were settled at a four-hour bargaining session on Wednesday night.

Reuther and Denise both appeared happy the long bargaining ordeal which began June 29 had ended.

DETROIT (AP)—The International Executive Board of the United Auto Workers Union has told Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., to try again to ratify the profit-sharing contract with American Motors Corp.

The 12,000 member Kenosha local is the lone Rambler assembly plant is the largest in AMC. Last Sunday, by a slim vote of 1,507 to 1,444, it rejected the agreement.

10,000 Troops Going to Europe

Defense Dept. Order Brings to 50,000 Those Sent to Back Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department has ordered another 10,000 troops to Europe, bringing to 50,000 the number of men to be sent overseas to back America's position in Berlin.

Within little more than a month from now, all 50,000 — plus hundreds of thousands of tons of equipment — should be in Europe.

The big movement began Wednesday with the arrival of the first 500 troops at Cherbourg, France.

Later, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered another 10,000, including 2,500 man 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, whose fame goes back to the Indian wars, and 11 Air National Guard fighter squadrons to Europe.

The 3rd Armored, commanded by Col. Donald H. Cowles of Westfield, Mass., is now at Ft. Meade, Md. It traces its lineage to a famous cavalry outfit in the Indian wars and one that raced across France at the head of the 3rd Army in World War II.

The air units, McNamara said, "will result in a significant increase in the tactical fighter strength in Europe.

'IN READINESS'

"Certain heavy equipment and vehicles required by both armored and infantry divisions will be shipped to Europe and held in readiness there," he said.

"This prepositioning of several thousand track and wheeled vehicles and more than 100,000 tons of equipment will permit movement of Army divisions to Europe in a matter of days should the need arise," McNamara said.

Weather to Stay on Nice Side Next Few Days

If luck and the weatherman's forecast hold out, area residents can look forward to several more days of mild, sunny, picnic weather.

Temperatures are expected to average several degrees above normal for this time of year and skies will be bright and clear for the next five days, except for possible light showers Saturday and Monday.

Tonight's low will be around 52, with a high Friday of 75. Winds will be from the southwest at 10 to 18 miles an hour.

The mercury reading in downtown Pontiac was 60 degrees at 8 a.m. today, rising to 77 by 2 p. m. The wind velocity was 3 m.p.h. from the west.

News Flashes

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is ready to meet Western leaders to settle "the present difficult situation," the official Soviet Tass news agency said today. Tass said Khrushchev stated his willingness to attend such a meeting in a letter to Kaoru Yasui, chairman of the Japanese Council Against Nuclear Weapons.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two students who were beaten up in McComb, Miss., Wednesday asked the Justice Department today to help protect their colleagues engaged in a voter registration campaign in McComb. Carl Potter of Philadelphia and Tom Hayden of Atlanta reported to Justice Department civil rights officials today on circumstances of the beating. See earlier story on Page 49.

Teamsters Council OKs Highway Assn. Contract

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan conference of the Teamsters Union has ratified the new contract agreement which ended the strike of 6,000 Teamsters on Michigan highway and bridge projects.

The union rank and file next is to act on ratification. Teamster officials said this vote should be completed by Sunday. The council ratified Wednesday night.

Import Rates Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department reported Wednesday that the rate of foreign imports during June, July and August was 12 per cent higher than the rate in the preceding three months. This was considered an unfavorable development in the government's plan to sharply reduce the outflow of dollars and U.S. gold.

Secret Sessions OKed After Con-Con Battle

LANSING (AP)—Committee meetings at Michigan's constitutional convention may be conducted behind closed doors if such a move is authorized by a majority of the 144 delegates.

Approval of the principle of allowing secret sessions came in a voice vote Wednesday following a heated floor debate on the first major controversial issue to come up at the convention, now in its second week.

The secrecy rule was adopted after rejection by a 41-100 vote of an amendment which would have required that all committee meetings be public.

Balloting on the amendment followed generally along party lines, with Republicans voting in favor of allowing executive (secret) sessions and Democrats against them.

Only two Republicans — Iink White, St. Johns, a newspaper publisher, and Mrs. Dorothy L. Judd, Grand Rapids, a housewife—voted with the Democrats.

The virtually solid GOP lineup was bolstered by four Democrats. They were Melvin Nord, Detroit, Jack Faxon, Detroit, Ray Krolikowski, Hamtramck and Ralph A. Liberato, Warren.

As finally adopted, the rule declares in part:

COMMITTEE WITNESSES

An amendment to the rule declared that committee witnesses shall have the right to be represented by counsel of his own choosing.

William D. Ford, a Taylor Democrat, introduced the amendment which would have required that all meetings be conducted openly. He declared:

"I fail to appreciate that there is any sincere or laudable reason for wanting to conduct closed meetings."

NEW FAIRLANE—The Fairlane line for 1962 comes in two series: the Fairlane and the more luxurious Fairlane 500. Both have a 115.5-inch wheel base that place the cars right between the Falcon and the Galaxie. Thunderbird-like roof and styling modeled after earlier and more costly Galaxies mark the line as a member of the Ford family. The Fairlane will feature twice-a-year maintenance, high performance and full-size interior space, according to the company. New models will be available in showrooms Nov. 2.

Features Twice-a-Year Maintenance

Ford Introduces New Fairlane

The new Ford Fairlane models for 1962 were unveiled today by the Ford Motor Co.

Positioned right between the Falcon and the Galaxie in its outside dimensions, the Fairlane will be available in two and four-door models.

The two sister-lines in the Fairlane series are called "Fairlane" and "Fairlane 500." The latter is a more luxurious edition.

These additions to the 1962 Ford family will be available in dealer showrooms Nov. 2. Dealers in this area are John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave., Pontiac; and Beattie Motor Sales, 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford.

Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Ford division, said that, "in addition to offering the parking ease of the Falcon and the turnpike performance and handling characteristics of the 1962 Ford Galaxie, the Fairlane has all of the 'twice-a-year' maintenance features available on the more costly Galaxie."

The new Fairlane is a standard size car with a passenger compartment larger than the interior of the 1959 Ford and an over-all length almost equal to the 1949 Ford sedan.

It is powered by a new, optional lightweight 221-cubic-inch V8 engine, or the standard 170-cubic-inch six-cylinder.

The optional V8 is expected to produce 145 horsepower at 4,400 RPM. It's all-new "thin-wall" cast iron characteristics cut engine weight by 100 pounds below the original mass-produced X8 introduced in 1932. The new V8 has twice the original's horsepower with the same cubic inch displacement.

Both a three-speed manual and an automatic transmission are available. Overdrive is optional with the V8.

FAIRLANE 500—The 1962 models in Ford's Fairlane series offer a new optional V8 engine in addition to a standard six-cylinder. The Fairlane 500 version (shown here) comes as a four-door sedan or a two-door sedan. Similar models are offered in the less luxurious Fairlane version.

Wilson's Will Filed in Court

Ex-GM Head Left Trust to Wife, 2nd to Children and Grandchildren

One trust for his widow and a second trust for this three sons, three daughters and grandchildren were specified in the will left by Charles E. Wilson, former General Motors Corp. president and former secretary of defense.

It was filed in Oakland County Probate Court. The will is expected to be admitted to probate Nov. 6.

Although the exact value of the estate was not revealed, the will, dated March 4, 1961, listed real estate in excess of $25,000 and personal property in excess of $50,000.

Wilson, of Bloomfield Township, died in Louisiana Sept. 26.

Executors for both trusts are Wilson's oldest son, Thomas E., and the National Bank of Detroit.

Wilson also left a $150,000 promissory note made by the Oswego Shipping Corp. to all six children as well as his interest in the Canterbury Financing Corp.

The Day in Birmingham

Busy Baldwin Library to End 'Open Door Policy'

BIRMINGHAM — The increasingly heavy load that nonresidents are placing on the Baldwin Public Library has caused the library board to notify four area municipalities that it will no longer be able to serve their residents after July 1, 1964.

As an alternative, the library is offering to enter into a contractual agreement with the communities involved. They are Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township, Franklin and Beverly Hills.

James E. Tobin, library board president, in announcing the library's new policy today, said that these four communities now place the heaviest nonresident load on the Birmingham facility.

Of the four, only Franklin provides any library service to its residents.

The policy decision was made after a survey revealed 40 per cent of the library's use is by nonresidents, who paid only 13 per cent of the 1960-61 operating budget of $143,000.

Almost 1,300 families now living outside the Birmingham city limits pay an annual fee of $14.34 for the service provided by the Baldwin Library, according to Tobin.

FIRST STEP

The first step in the library board's plan to foster a cooperative service for the entire Birmingham area comes Oct. 26 at a meeting with Beverly Hills councilmen, who have already expressed an interest in a contract arrangement.

Under an agreement, all residents could use the library in return for a yet-to-be-determined amount to be paid by the village.

The library plan, if it is found acceptable, would allow the governmental units to work together in providing improved library services, according to the board president.

Many municipalities now cooperate in the same way on schools, hospitals, rubbish disposal and other needed public services, he said.

Tobin said the board foresees a system in which some of the neighboring communities eventually will have their own libraries, cooperating with the Baldwin facility.

"All authorities on libraries," he said, "agree that small, separate library units are not desirable. They are costly. A community of 100,000 can support a far better library system than a city like Birmingham, with its population of 25,000.

FEEL CONTRACTS BETTER

For that reason, he said the board believes that cooperating through contracts would be better for both the city and surrounding communities.

The present population of the area is 68,000, but by 1970 it will be an estimated 90,000.

Baldwin Library Director Jeanne Lloyd said a cooperative library system could effect a savings in money and personnel by using a central cataloguing department for affiliated libraries, as well as better volume discounts on book purchases.

John A. Gilray Jr., who headed the study by a Citizens Library Study Council, said, "A district library system would provide better, more complete library service than individual efforts could attain, without incurring higher per capita costs."

Mother Says Son on Trial for Rape Is Solitary Youth

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A 20-year-old University of Michigan sophomore who is on trial for raping and robbing a blind girl last July 9 was pictured by his mother Wednesday as a morose, solitary young man.

Mrs. Olive Wingeart, Niles, also testified that her son, Herald, refused to talk about his baby after the child died last April.

Wingeart has pleaded innocent to charges of criminal assault and robbery in the attack on the 19-year-old girl and her date near Ann Arbor. The defense claims he was insane at the time.

Washtenaw Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr., is trying the case and said the trial probably will end Friday.

Man Is Found Guilty in Boating Mishap

William Hatley, 28, of 108 Mill St., was charged with operating a 13-foot boat on Cass Lake at 11 p. m. July 10, when the boat filled with six people overturned. Two women were drowned in the mishap. They were Mrs. William Gray, 24, of 231 Chamberlain St., and Mrs. Leona Lampson, 48, of 850 Robinwood Ave., Pontiac.

★

Hatley was fined $45 with court costs and given 30 days in the Oakland County jail. He has appealed to Circuit Court and was released on $100 bond.

Small Battle on River Bank

Reds Use Hose on W. Berlin Cross

BERLIN (UPI) — Rock-throwing West Berliners Wednesday night drove off a Communist fireboat that tried to douse a flaming cross at the spot two East Germans died trying to swim the Spree River to freedom.

The Communist boat chugged to within a few yards of the embankment and turned a powerful stream of water on the cross, set up by West Berlin youths.

The young West Berliners guarding the cross showered the fireboat with stones and it finally veered off into the middle of the river.

Last Friday two East Germans dived into the Spree and tried to swim the 150 yards to West Berlin. Communist police set out after them in a patrol boat. They shot one and he sank. The other swam a few more yards and then sank, apparently from panic or a heart attack.

West Berlin youths set up a round-the-clock volunteer watch at the cross.

"The Vopos will be back tomorrow with a more powerful hose but we'll be ready for them," one youth said.

Mayor Willy Brandt flew to the West German capital of Bonn to report his impression that the American people are "deeply determined" to defend this isolated city.

Brandt was expected to report to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on his telephone conversation with President Kennedy while he was in the United States last weekend.

West German confidence in United States firmness has begun to revive sharply as a result of recent statements by a number of American diplomats and politicians.

Says Reds Work Global Ring of 36 Million Spies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee estimated today that international Communism operates "a global ring of about 36 million conspirators . . . in about 86 countries."

Sen. Alexander Wiley, Wis., gave no source for his figures. They were contained in a newsletter dated Oct. 5, but released here today.

Wiley also said Red armed forces totaled about 9 million, "with ever growing nuclear-missile-fire power."

Sam Rayburn Feeling Better

Fading Speaker Is Out of Coma and Appears to Be Stronger

DALLAS (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, ill with incurable cancer and suffering from pneumonia, appeared improved today after being unconscious much of Wednesday.

The condition of the 69-year-old political leader and lawmaker worsened Wednesday after he contracted pneumonia. He regained consciousness during the afternoon.

The 10 a.m. bulletin on Rayburn issued by Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., his attending physician, said:

"Mr. Rayburn is out of coma. He is definitely improved and the major change occurred this morning. He looks and appears stronger this morning and recognizes family and associates.

"His temperature is normal. Pulse, blood pressure and respiration have remained unchanged since the change for the better."

Rayburn's temperature rose to 103 degrees Wednesday.

PSC Sets Rail Hearing

LANSING (UPI)—The State Public Service Commission will conduct a hearing Oct. 20 on a New York Central Railroad proposal to service freight shipments now being handled out of Marshall and Chelsea at Jackson. The railroad said the consolidated proposal was prompted by lack of freight revenue at the smaller depots.

Twenty in County Area Ordered Not to Drive

Drivers' licenses of 20 Oakland County residents were either suspended or revoked during the past week by the Michigan Department of State.

Glenn M. Blayney Jr., 3231 N. Washington Rd., Royal Oak; Warren H. Bushman, 3325 Park St.; and John E. Clark, 210 S. Lafayette St., Royal Oak.

Gerald J. Aiken, 498 E. Meyers Ave., Hazel Park; Richard A. Buchanan, 35 E. Broadway, Lake Orion; Brian L. Cairns, 21901 Ridgedale, Oak Park; Mary E. Clements, 25801 Townley St., Madison Heights; Gary C. Kaiser, 702 Shepardbush Ave., Birmingham; Ralph R. Leland, 118 Cambridge Blvd., Pleasant Ridge; Ronald James Reedy, 216 W. Parent St., Royal Oak; and Payne Van Devender, 400 W. Madge St., Hazel Park.

Ordered to show financial responsibility due to unsatisfied financial judgments was Joan D. Smith, 1827 N. Lafayette St., Royal Oak.

* * *

Failure to appear for re-examination and unsatisfactory driving records resulted in the loss of licenses for:

Boy Oh Boy, It's Not Like Flying an Airplane...

JFK Challenges GOP Critics

Asks for Constructive Alternatives Instead of General Criticism

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has challenged Republican critics to offer "constructive alternatives" instead of generalized criticism of his foreign policy actions.

In his 16th presidential news conference Wednesday, Kennedy also made it clear he will keep hands off if it becomes necessary for the House to select a successor to critically ill Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.

And Kennedy gave his public backing to the action of his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, in canceling his membership in Washington's exclusive Metropolitan Club because of its policy against admitting Negroes.

HIT 'APPEASEMENT'

With Republican leaders laying down a barrage against what they call possible "appeasement" in any Berlin settlement, Kennedy said firmly he is not going to be swerved from his course of trying to find whether it is possible to reach an agreement which will avoid war.

He made it plain he has no intention at this time of answering personally the fire former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and GOP National Chairman William E. Miller have directed against some aspects of his international policy.

"Everyone is free to make any attacks they want," he said.

Then he added: "I think what would be most helpful to the nation today would be constructive and frequently critical suggestions for alternative courses of action, and not merely generalized statements which throw very little light on very complicated and dangerous matters."

Opens Meeting on Conservation

First Upper Peninsula Session Is Started by State Commission

MARQUETTE (UPI)—The State Conservation Commission started its first Upper Peninsula meeting here today with several major items due for consideration.

Legislative proposals advanced by the Conservation Department in August for commission approval, an over-all plan for coordination and development of the state's recreation-conservation facilities, and land acquisition recommendations headed the agenda.

The commission indicated last month it would give full consideration to the legislative proposals during the two-day meeting here.

The plan for coordination of recreation and conservation agencies operating in the state was requested by Gov. John B. Swainson. A department spokesman said the commission would review the plan before it was submitted to the governor, who asked for it by Oct. 15.

Proposals to purchase two parcels of land, totaling more than 44 acres, for the new P. J. Hoffmaster State Park in Western Michigan and 21 acres at Holly Recreation Area were also up for approval.

Changes in fishing license fees and repeal of the state bounty system were among the major recommendations for legislative action.

U.S.A. a Welfare State Within Twenty Years?

Will Russia be a democratic country within the next twenty years? And will our own United States become a welfare state within the same brief span? David Ben-Gurion, Israel prime minister, thinks so.

Of course, that doesn't make it so, but it is just possible that some other world leaders may be thinking along the same lines. And if they are, it might well behoove thinking Americans to reassess their own national policies with an eye on these startling predictions.

When our Nation began to hand out billions of dollars in cash to help prevent the spread of communism in other lands, it was assumed by most of us that this was a temporary program, to be discontinued in a few years when those countries would get back on their own feet and need no more assistance. It hasn't worked out that way.

Our national debt is crowding one hundred billions of dollars. This amount is so huge that few persons can even comprehend it. The interest alone is so much that paying it takes a substantial bite out of every American taxpayer each year. And there is not the slightest intimation from Washington that we expect to stop this huge outlay any time in the foreseeable future.

At home also we continue to increase, year by year, the amounts we are giving away to various groups of citizens. And of course, in our arms race with the Soviet Union we continue to spend more each year on our defense program.

We are a young but tremendously rich country. Like many a youngster, we have grown careless in our handling of money. We have assumed we would always have it; that our industries could always outproduce and outsell the other nations; that we could afford to carry them along financially without endangering our own future.

Perhaps we can. But as time goes on, the future does not appear nearly so bright as it did a few short years ago. Each year more of our industries find they are pricing themselves out of world markets. They are unable to compete on even terms with rivals who pay lower taxes and lower wages. Our farmers compete only with the aid to multimillion dollar subsidies.

At the same time, more and more Russians are learning of the higher standards of living existing outside their own land. They are looking for more of the comforts of life, and, some day, they are going to get more of them than they are getting today.

To be sure, Khrushchev may stall them off for a time with the thought that they must be protected from a threatened attack from without. They may be buoyed up by the progress that already has been made as contrasted with the dark years under their Czars. Or a missile war may void all prior predictions. But inexorably the pressure from Russia's millions of people will make itself felt.

Farmers who do not feel they are being fairly treated will not produce crops. Industrial workers who think they are entitled to a greater share of their product will produce less than the quotas their Communist bosses have set.

There will be no rebellion by the Russian people but, unless there is a shooting war, the time will come when more of Russia's industrial production will be devoted to peacetime products. That is still a far cry from Ben-Gurion's forecast that the Soviet Union will become a democratic country. That prediction could be wishful thinking. But millions of people in the free world will hope that he is right in that portion of his forecast that pertains to Russia.

Crime Rate Increases

We should not be so complacent that world problems overshadow some of our serious domestic threats such as increased crime.

★ ★ ★

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported that serious crime in this country reached a new all-time high last year, an astounding 98 per cent increase over 1950.

There is no question but what we must be ready to protect ourselves from enemies abroad. However, we must also do a more effective job of dealing with enemies of society at home.

The Man About Town

It's Nutting Time

But It Doesn't Mean Much In Pontiac Area Any More

Population growth and the woodman's axe in recent years have practically wiped out an old time autumn diversion in this vicinity. "Nutting time" no longer has much meaning.

Most of the hickory trees have long been gone. The walnut and butternut trees have followed suit. Few of the hazel nut bushes can now be found in our hedgerows where they once were the principal shrubbery.

And the beech trees that have survived no longer bear any nuts. At one time beech nuts were a delicious part of the nut production of the Pontiac area. Do you now know of any beech nuts growing here?

For a century a prominent manufacturer of means of transportation, Pontiac factories used most of the hickory timber in this part of the State. First it went into the making of horse-drawn vehicles, and later into auto bodies in the early gas days.

The walnut and butternut trees are even a more valuable wood, and were cut for their lumber in making interior finish and furniture. The hazel brush largely was cleared out in the path of progress.

Conservation experts claim that the decrease in our squirrel population is caused as much by the wiping out of our nut production as by our hoggish hunters. They now are principally dependent on the oak acorns.

Yes, nutting time has gone the way of the red ear husking bee, the pioneer barn dance, and the quest of other good old get together activities.

Strange as it may seem on this holiday, there isn't a of Flint, formerly of Pontiac. He sends me clippings from the Pontiac Weekly Gazette of April 15, 1861, advertising good building lots within two blocks of the court house in the new city at $125 each, payable $10 down and $5 a month. The clippings predict a big boom for Pontiac, now that it had become a city.

Tomorrow's column will give you some advice about the condition of the autumn color display, and instructions as to where to go to see it at its best.

Tragedy, in Two Acts

David Lawrence Says:

President Grim in His Press Talk

WASHINGTON — If the men in Moscow have been under the illusion that the United States isn't determined to stand firm in the current crisis over Berlin, they must have been dismayed by President Kennedy's grim words at his Wednesday press conference.

LAWRENCE

It was an opportunity for the President to allay rumors that the American position might be weakening, and he made the most of it.

Foreign Minister Gromyko, by his talks with Secretary Rusk and with President Kennedy and with Prime Minister Macmillan, presumably has learned just what the Western position is.

But the world had no definite or authoritative information until the President spoke.

Kennedy was careful in the choice of words. He said that all the conversations with the Soviets thus far had merely been exploratory—an attempt to define precisely the position of each side—and that this should not be called "negotiations."

It was important for President Kennedy to make it clear to the Kremlin that he hasn't retreated or receded and that he means to go ahead—even if it means war. What better way to emphasize this than to say it over radio and television to the assembled press in answer to impromptu questions?

TIME TO DECIDE

For the Moscow government must make up its mind soon whether it will seek any further advances in the Cold War and take risks on the American government's policies.

Thus, for example, Kennedy in a few words gave the Russians something to think about when he announced that he had ordered Gen. Maxwell Taylor of the White House staff to go to Viet Nam and look things over.

The President didn't say what kind of assistance America would give to its ally in Southeast Asia but left the plain inference that, when the general returns with his report, a decision will be made whether to send American military forces into Southeast Asia.

A war in that region could involve Red China, which has no nuclear weapons.

This is a significant way also of advising Moscow that the United States isn't becoming preoccupied by the Berlin crisis and recognizes that there are things to be done in Laos and elsewhere to counter Communist aggression.

★ ★ ★

It was a method of letting the Soviets know that the United States is not willing to give up in Laos either and stands ready there, as it does in West Berlin, to use force if necessary.

★ ★ ★

No light was shed by the President on any specific plan to settle by mutual agreement the disputed points in the Berlin controversy. This is not surprising. For Kennedy purposely gives the impression that he is biding his time and will not take precipitate action of any kind.

He speaks of further conferences by the ambassadors of the two sides and some further talks with the other Western Allies as to how the problems shall be handled in the next few weeks or months.

DE GAULLE DISPLEASED

It has been reported, for instance, that President De Gaulle of France doesn't think there should be any negotiations until the Russians give some sign of making concessions. He is said to have been displeased by the recent talks with Foreign Minister Gromyko here and is inclined to describe them as "negotiations."

Kennedy's words were undoubtedly intended to reassure the French president that no attempt had been made to carry on "negotiations." Externally at least, this helps to preserve allied solidarity.

The country cannot tell from anything Kennedy said to the press on Wednesday whether or not there's going to be war. But neither can Nikita Khrushchev. One point needs to be stressed.

The President of the United States cannot trifle with the security of this country, and the Soviet premier ought to take a good look at Kennedy's exact words. He pointedly referred to America's military build-up in recent months.

The Country Parson

Dr. William Brady Says:

Today's Mothers-to-Be Sensible Young Women

It is inspiring and reassuring to see how sensible, active and happy young expectant mothers are today. Far from slinking, as pregnant women did back in the nineteenth century, these modern young women seem proud of their condition.

These young women get their confidence from better education. They learn about prenatal care and childbirth in school from extra-curricular pamphlets and books or in classes of instruction for prospective parents. They will be less likely to submit to the regimentation imposed by the "rules" in 19th century hospitals, more likely to have their babies at home — the safest place to have a baby.

DR. BRADY

Folklore has many methods of predicting whether the baby will be a boy or a girl. Such predictions prove correct in 50 per cent of cases. In birth statistics boys and girls are generally fifty-fifty.

A frequent question, inspired, no doubt, by old wives' tales, is whether an expectant mother can limit the size of her baby and, presumably, make delivery easy, by restricting her diet to a minimum. The answer is no. The baby will grow to normal size anyway. But the expectant mother may seriously impair her own vite and good looks by such fool dieting.

Should an expectant mother "eat for two?" In quality, yes, but not necessarily in quantity. She needs, say 250 to 500 more calories daily than she needed before she became pregnant, to maintain normal weight. The extra 250 to 500 calories are best supplied by one or two glasses of milk — a glass at bedtime in the early months; an additional glass at any other time of day in the later months.

The expectant mother doesn't need extra calories so much as extra vitamins and minerals for that new citizen who is coming along.

From a great deal of research in recent years and the recommendations of nutrition authorities based on this new knowledge, there is now available in a single dietary supplement every vitamin and mineral element for which there is a known requirement in pregnancy and lactation, namely, calcium, iron, vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, vitamin C, vitamin D and the intrinsic factor of vitamin B. Generally the expectant or nursing mother has to take two or three different preparations to make sure of getting her requirement of these essentials.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Rest Does Not Cure Breakdown

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-422: Mable L., aged 27, is the wife whom I described yesterday as having suffered a nervous breakdown.

Perhaps you will recall that she spent some time in a sanitarium where she received shock therapy without any appreciable benefit.

DR. CRANE

Because she seemed so weak and ill, she was advised to sleep a great deal: If she showed any slight nervousness, her dutiful husband urged her to go to bed and get some more rest.

★

Sleep and good food cannot solve emotional conflicts, though they may be desirable in building up physical strength.

ANALOGY OF THE AUTO

Suppose your automobile motor isn't firing properly because of incorrect timing. For example, suppose the wires to a couple of your sparkplugs have accidentally been interchanged.

The motor will be weak and backfire. The efficiency of the car will be greatly reduced. It will be slowed down. In short, the automobile will be "sick."

But you cannot make it get well by pouring a better grade of gasoline into the tank. Changing of oil will also not correct this trouble.

Nor will it recover by letting it "rest" in the garage for a fortnight. The only sensible therapy for your auto will be the straightening out of the wires that have been crossed!

By the same token, you folks with emotional conflicts and you who are suffering nervous breakdowns, will not be cured by rest or medicine, diet or change of climate.

★ ★ ★

The latter may help in a general way to divert your attention from your problems and build up your physical body.

PROOF OF THE PUDDING

"I feel like a new person already," Mable telephoned me the day following her visit to Chicago.

"My husband remarked this morning that I was looking so rested and refreshed, that he couldn't believe I was the same person.

"I smiled to myself, for I knew it was simply the result of having got straightened out in my thinking.

"So I told him about my visit with you, and that you had showed me a conflict that had caused all of my trouble.

"Moreover, I explained that you said I would never get well by staying in bed, for my trouble was not the sort that sleep would cure.

"I know I am well already, for subconsciously I think I realized all along what was wrong with me.

"But I wouldn't admit it consciously, and nobody else ever put his finger on the problem, so I just dragged along, never getting any better because I was never being treated for my basic difficulty."

MEDICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Mabel's case is a good example of the need for more psychology in medicine.

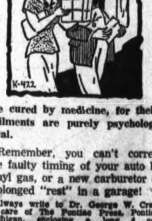

Don't jump to the conclusion that I believe all ailments are mental, for I am a modern trained physician and surgeon, as well as a psychologist.

There are countless times when straight medicine is the best treatment. If you have acute appendicitis, it is well to be operated on as soon as possible.

And the best preventive of smallpox or diptheria is not psychology, but vaccination or inoculation.

Millions of dollars are being wasted each year, however, by patients like Mable who cannot be cured by medicine, for their ailments are purely psychological.

Remember, you can't correct the faulty timing of your auto by ethyl gas, or a new carburetor or prolonged "rest" in a garage!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People:

Raps Government Spending, Excess Federal Control

If our Press waged an all-out attack on Mr. Kennedy and the Democrat Party, I'm sure what they said was true because The Press doesn't happen to be free to print something they can't prove and I sure admire any paper that prints the facts.

★ ★ ★

I'm not siding with any party. They've all been bad in lots of ways. Presidents have been putting us on our knees to other countries ever since the war and have been selling us out as blackmail to keep the peace.

I dont like war any better than anyone else, but why wait until Russia has the whole world bottled up?

Now I suppose since Red China is bankrupt and in a famine, Mr. Kennedy will be sending them some foreign aid. Do you think Europe, Asia and Africa would help us if we were starving?

★ ★ ★

Kennedy's trying to put everything under Government control. FDR started it by putting farmers on relief and the factory worker has to pay that bill. I agree with the woman who says the Government should pay railroads for not shipping the corn that the farmers are being paid for not raising and the retailer for not selling it. Then maybe I can get some for not eating it.

Quotes Bible on Eating Meat

To Bible Reader, if he wants to know if he can eat pork or not, he should read 1st Tim. 4:1-5 and there's no place in the Bible that says you can't eat it on Friday or any other day. It's wonderful to know the truth.

Laments Passing of Jewish Editor

With the passing of William Zukerman, editor and publisher of the Jewish Newsletter, a bi-weekly publication, the American scene has lost a strong independent spirit whose only master was a passionate striving for truth. He reported the facts as he found them, and wrote with an ardor for justice to all people that was not bounded by personal or organizational shibboleths. His simple, clear words touched the conscience of many men in high places. Truly the spirit and courage of Mr. Zukerman will live on in their memory and become the man's most fitting memorial. American journalism has lost an intrepid soul.

'Divorced Mothers Should Help, Too'

I agree that men should be pressed to meet the responsibility of supporting their children. But many divorced women use their children as excuse to get welfare and ADC. They quit their jobs and say they can't find or pay a babysitter. Divorced women should also help support their children.

Acquainted With People in This Condition

Warns Parents About Children

If "Awake" or "Asleep" lived where we do, they'd be glad noise is all they have to put up with. Children from 7 to 15 play along the banks of the Clinton River unescorted. It belongs to the city, but isn't a proper place for children alone.

★ ★ ★

And they also destroy gardens and steal vegetables. Some children have been caught and taken to court, but nothing was done about their destruction. Only one parent appeared to see the damages, and some scat boys to work for the damage done, but how can you trust those who destroy and then enjoy the ride in the police car when caught? Sometimes adults stand with baskets and tell children what to get.

★ ★ ★

Recently I saw a drunk staggering along the bank with several small children in tow. Mothers, be warned about your little girls and know where they are. Don't let them follow or make friends with men who roam the banks with nothing to do. Take care of your children and teach them the dangers before you're sorry.

Press Association Official Charges

Castro Plotting to Destroy Freedom in Argentina

NEW YORK (UPI)—The chairman of the Inter American Press Association Freedom of the Press Committee charged today that "the Communist government that rules Cuba . . . is directing the conspiracy to destroy freedom of expression in Argentina."

Jules Dubois, chairman of the committee and Latin America specialist for the Chicago Tribune, made the charge at the opening of a two-day meeting of the committee, a prelude to the annual IAPA general assembly Monday.

Dubois said the charges were proved by documents obtained from Cuban embassy files in Buenos Aires by the former Cuban Consul there, Vitalio de la Torre Y Perez, who was scheduled to appear before the committee tomorrow to "certify their authenticity."

"Premier Fidel Castro and members of his government have branded the documents as a forgery and a fabrication," Dubois said, but "can one believe the prime minister of a government that deliberately falsifies the facts and the actions of whose leaders belie the honesty of their words?

"Can one believe a man who has deliberately framed an innocent young newspaper editor and 11 others with charges that they plotted to assassinate him, when the editor . . . had been lodged in jail since June 19?"

Dubois referred to Alfredo Izaguirre Rivas, former editor of "El Criso1," a Havana afternoon daily "intervened" by the Castro government, who came to the United States as an exile but later returned.

Two weeks ago Castro said Izaguirre plotted with 11 others to kill him, but Izaguirre's family, in exile, insist this was impossible since they know he was jailed June 19.

★ ★ ★

"This frameup was . . . a maneuver to attempt to confuse public opinion in Latin America and justify before those people the criminal plan to execute Izaguirre and compound the felony of having stolen his father's newspaper," Dubois said.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago newsman said Castro had inflicted upon Cuba "the worst tyranny of its history" and since the Independent press was "mightier than the television and radio with which he was brainwashing the Cuban people . . . and the firing squads," he suppressed it.

'I Make Them Help,' Claims Mother of 18

CARMEL, Calif. (AP) — When Mrs. Helen North was married a month ago, more than one veteran housewife gasped at the 31-year-old widow's prospects for domestic tranquility.

Mrs. North, the mother of eight, married Navy Chief Warrant Officer Francis Louis Beardsley, the father of 10. The children range from a diapered 18-month-old to 17 years.

★ ★ ★

Before the couple went on a short honeymoon, the Beardsley home was being doubled in size with the kitchen geared to restaurant-style operations.

★ ★ ★

"Well," a reporter asked recently, "how are things working out?"

"I'm enjoying myself," she said.

Up a bit earlier than the average family — about 6 a.m. The children take care of the main breakfast chores — "They all have their assignments."

★ ★ ★

During school days, 12 attend classes, leaving six at home "who get along fine." On non-school days, the older children again take over much of the burden.

The children also take care of the housekeeping and help with the shopping.

And what does Mrs. Beardsley do?

OH YES, THE LAUNDRY

"There's the laundry. And I like to make desserts during the day. It is nothing like I expected. I'm enjoying myself."

Before the families merged, the children were brought together for a trial run and "hit it off great," says the father.

"I defy anyone to tell which ones are Norths and which ones are Beardsleys now," says his wife.

"I would love to have another child. It would be pitiful if we didn't have any children of our own," the blue-eyed brunette said.

Physician Not Fearful of Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any genetic damage caused by fallout from the current series of Soviet nuclear explosions will be so slight, in the opinion of a Public Health Service physician, that it may not be discernible even after several generations.

The physician, in the service's Division of Radiological Health, gave his views to this reporter today but declined to permit identification by name.

He said the radiation dose to reproductive cells from radioactivity of levels measured in this country since Sept. 1 will not be as large as that received over a long period from natural background radiation.

There is a considerable variation worldwide in the amount of natural background radiation. For instance, the expert said that in the monazite sands areas of India it is possibly 20 times the usual maximum in this country.

The official said it is not thought that any genetic changes caused by radiation of the levels recently recorded in this country would show up in the nation's younger people or in their immediate offspring.

MANY CHARACTERISTICS

"If changes do occur in far-distant generations, they may be in conditions not identifiable to radiation exposure," the doctor added. He said genetic alterations would not of necessity mean there would be deformed babies. There are hundreds of identifiable genetic characteristics and any of these could be affected.

The doctor's opinion was sought following a statement Sunday by Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a physicist who helped develop the atomic bomb, that fallout from the Soviet explosions in his opinion exceeds what was established by a group of scientists in 1957 to be the "safe annual limit."

The health service expert noted that fallout radiation is an addition to other forms of radiation to which the population is subject.

He said the contribution of fallout radiation to possible changes in the reproductive cells is not yet known—that in fact science has not yet determined what contribution natural background exposure to radiation may have made to the genetic ills of the population at large.

CAN ALTER CELLS

Studies show that heat and certain chemicals, as well as radiation, can alter reproductive cells, he said.

The Public Health Service is concerned not only with the possible genetic effects of fallout radiation but also with the possible effects of bone, bone marrow, thyroid glands and tissues.

It is known, the doctor said, that fallout contains certain specific radionuclides which affect these. Analyses are now under way to determine the amounts of the specific radionuclides in samples of air, water, milk and foods collected since Sept. 1.

Suggests Beach Dorms for 'Nonconformists'

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (UPI) — Tourist director Roger Stake Wednesday suggested that dormitory style housing be constructed on Florida beaches to attract low-budget and nonconformist vacationers.

★ ★ ★

"We must remember . . . the vacationer who doesn't want a TV or telephone . . . or who would put a dime in the juke box for three minutes of silence," he told the Florida Motel Association.

Try 'Shoot the Moon' Game

Space Show Out of This World

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anyone for a fast game of "Shoot the Moon"? Or would you prefer to be psychoanalyzed by a robot?

In either case, try the American Rocket Society's "Space Report to the Nation" exhibit at the New York Coliseum, a show that is really out of this world.

What with most of the nation's aero-space industry displaying its wares in 175 displays of mock-up missiles and spacecraft, the visiting space buff was almost certain to get himself analyzed for free by a robot psychologist.

The robot was designed to do some analyzing in a spacecraft that didn't have any extra space to take along a human psychologist.

HARD TO HIT

The idea of the game, called "Shoot the Moon," is designed to give an inkling of just how hard it will be to hit the moon with a spacecraft.

"Shoot the Moon" consists of a plastic dome-encased, 10-foot wide "space" complete with "earth" in the center rotating 65 times a minute and the moon somewhere out in left field.

Hampered by the earth's spin and the additional hindrances of simulated earth and moon gravity fields, the space buff tried to push a button that "launched" a little steel ball "space craft" so it would "blast off" from the earth and hit the moon.

"It's like playing against a man who had loaded dice," said one visitor.

He went on to stop at an inflated rubber "hypothetical moon base." At another booth he had his watch cleaned by "ultrasonics," a process described as using the energy of sound to blast dirt from missile parts.

By this time the space buff was getting a little leg-weary, having picked up leaflets and folders of information at an estimated rate of a pound every 10 minutes.

He also picked up his free astro guide navigator after being told it was designed "primarily as an emergency navigation aid for low-orbit manned earth vehicles."

The he went home to put together a cardboard model of an orbiting astronomical observatory.

Approve Motion to Name Library at U.N. for Dag

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A motion to name the new U.N. library after the late Dag Hammarskjold was approved Wednesday by the General Assembly's 100-nation administrative and budgetary committee.

★ ★ ★

More than two dozen delegates representing almost all political persuasions and parts of the world except the Communist bloc favor the idea. No formal vote was taken in order to avoid any stated opposition.

The committee action now goes to the General Assembly for final approval.

About 93 per cent of American farms now have electrical service.

JFK Won't Let Him Retire

Gen. Van Fleet Back on War Job

By United Press International

For the third time, the United States has called on a former Army halfback to ply his remarkably successful formula for crushing Communist guerrilla warfare.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy announced Wednesday he had summoned Gen.

GEN. VAN FLEET

James A. Van Fleet, 69, out of an eight-year retirement to help fulfill the President's vow to meet Communist guerrilla tactics in Asia and elsewhere with similar tactics.

The thrice-wounded soldier's-soldier—described in his official Army biography as "no arm-chair general" — reorganized a demoralized Greek army in 1948-1950 and inspired the strategy which reduced Communist guerrilla strength from 30,000 to about 400.

Ten years ago, as a lieutenant general, Van Fleet took command of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea. He is known as the "father" of the modern South Korean army.

★ ★ ★

In both of these post World War II commands he devised ways of combatting a Communist enemy that could hide behind inviolate borders—the officially noncombatant sanctuaries of Albania and later of Manchuria.

TO SERVE PART TIME

He will serve part time beginning Oct. 30 as a civilian adviser to Army Secretary Elvis Stahr. Besides advising on special warfare (guerrilla) training, he will make an assessment of combat readiness and training progress of National Guard and reserve units called to active duty in the Berlin-Southeast Asia crisis.

His guerrilla warfare experience could be used to devise tactics for blocking Communist infiltration of Laos, South Viet Nam and other countries.

A West Point classmate of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Van Fleet rose within seven months from the rank of colonel on D-Day, leading his regiment in the Utah Beach landing, to major general commanding a division and later a corps.

Eisenhower has said Van Fleet's battle record the best of "any regimental, divisional or corps commander we produced."

LIKES HUNTING

The grey-haired, 6-1, 190-pound former football player and coach likes to fish and hunt, often disdaining a rifle to use a .45 caliber, ivory-handled pistol — his trademark.

Married and the father of two daughters, both married to Army colonels, Van Fleet lost his only son in the Korean War. Air Force Capt. James Alward Van Fleet Jr. was listed as missing over North Korea in 1953 and presumed dead in 1954.

The White House said the general would continue to work as a consultant to several private industrial firms. He lives at Jupiter Island, Fla., and maintains an office at nearby Auburndale.

But, before he returns to work as a military tactician, the much-decorated general has a sentimental trip to make. He left Wednesday on a "personal visit" to Greece.

Temporary Job Aiding Refugees Now Permanent

WAKE FOREST, N.C. (UPI) — A temporary job helping refugees has turned into permanent employment for A. Klaupiks, himself a refugee.

When Klaupiks, a native of Latvia, went to work for the Baptist World Alliance in 1947, it was understood it was only a temporary job. His assignment was to help find homes and to provide clothes, food and medicine to the needy.

R. Dean Goodwin, chairman of the alliance's subcommittee on world relief, recently gave the job permanent status, explaining: "World emergencies have become a permanent thing."

Air Crash Kills 13

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A British air force transport plane crashed at El Adem, Libya Tuesday night, killing 13 of the 46 servicemen aboard, a spokesman of Near East RAF headquarters said Wednesday. Thirteen persons were hurt. The plane was carrying engineer troops to Malta after a desert army exercise.

THEY'LL GO BACK — Mrs. Ella Behnert, 65, pours cream for her husband Willi, 69, as they have coffee in the home of their son Horst in Ringwood, N.J. The couple has decided to return to their home, pension and friends in East Berlin after being five months in the United States. Behnert a retired tool and die maker, explained they like it here but they want to return to the old ways. Horst Behnert came to the U.S. 10 years ago. He has a wife and three children.

New Penicillin Is Effective Against Resistant Bacteria

NEW YORK (UPI)—One promise of a new and partly "man-made" penicillin is to put certain surgeons and surgical nurses back where they most love to be, that is, in operating rooms.

* * *

Being a "carrier" of the disease-causing staphylococcal tribe of bacteria doesn't have to be personally unpleasant but one becomes a threat to all one's intimates. It's quite enough to disqualify surgeons and their aides from surgery.

During its long experimental and trial period this new synthetic penicillin demonstrated an ability to decarrierize carriers on what appeared to be a reliably lasting basis. No other chemical routine has done that. Time will tell if the promise will be fulfilled.

This new addition to the now burgeoning penicillin family is 5 methyl-3 phenyl-4 isoxazolyl, penicillin. It is likely to become better known by its trade-name, "Prostaphlin." Its scientific testers reported their test results at an all-day symposium here.

'EFFECTIVE KILLER'

The testing scientists said they had found it an efficient killer of those members of the staphylococcal tribe which are efficient sickeners and killers of human beings and have long since learned how to live and flourish in the presence of ordinary penicillins.

Chief among these are staphylococci aureus which have become entrenched in many hospitals, due to their "resistance" to most bacteria-killers. They are responsible for periodic outbreaks of infections and represent a major medical problem.

* * *

The new penicillin is the third resulting from science's recently won ability to "make" these most publicized of the bacteria-killers. (Nature's own maker is a mould.) The first two are effective against bacteria "resistant" to natural penicillins.

* * *

But they have to be injected to achieve this effectiveness, since their chemical constitution is such they're destroyed by the acids encountered in the human gastro-intestinal tract. The new one can be taken by mouth; it is acid-proof, so to speak.

Furthermore, it accumulates at a steady pace in the blood to waylay lingering bacteria. Its toxicity in laboratory animals is low and in the 100 sick human beings in whom it was tried experimentally, the side-effects were few and minor.

In most of them it could be taken daily for indefinite periods without harm or even discomfort. This is its property which gives it the promise of decarrierizing carriers, this and its high effectiveness as a killer of "resistant" bacteria.

* * *

All this the scientists reported at the symposium of which Dr. William M. Kirby of the University of Washington, Seattle, was chairman, and Dr. Leighton Cluff, the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Dr. Ellard Yow, Baylor University, Houston, and Dr. Vernon Knight, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., were session chairmen.

* * *

Science's ability to "make" penicillin rises from its ability to stop the natural fermentation process of penicillin-making at the precise point it reaches the nucleus of 6-amino penicillanic acid. This is the fundamental molecule. To it can be added a variety of "side-chains" of organic atoms.

Cuban Foreign Minister Leaves N.Y. With Czechs

Another group of Czechs, track and field coaches led by former Olympic distance runner Emil Zatopek, is arriving separately to train Cuban athletes for this year's Central American games.

Singing Strong at 85

Boy, 16, Escapes East Zone; Fast Boat Eludes Red Shots

BERLIN (AP)—Juergen Schaefer, 16, is safe again in West Berlin after his third escape from his Communist-held East German homeland. The third time he and two young comrades in a motor launch outraced four boatloads of gun-firing pursuers.

Juergen fled to West Germany last year but returned to the East zone after hearing his widowed mother was seriously ill.

THEY SPOTTED HIM

He crossed over again last January and reported once more to the West Berlin reception center which flew him to West Germany. He returned to West Berlin in September. Curiosity, he said, drew him for a look at a barbed wire fence dividing the city. East Berlin guards spotted him and forced him to crawl through the wire to the East sector.

★ ★ ★

"They had their guns trained on me. I had no choice," Schaefer recalled.

After questioning, he was sent back to his home in Wildau, about 20 miles from Berlin. There he made new plans to escape, with two friends, Klaus Huebner, 17, and a girl, Marion Lorenz, 16. Huebner's father is district secretary of the Communist party but Klaus wanted to flee because he had been pressured into signing up for the East German army.

"We could have filled the boat with youngsters who want to get out," Schaefer said, "but it was too dangerous. As it was we risked our heads.

"The three of us met at the local railroad station Monday night and went to the boathouse where we knew a Red Cross rescue launch was kept.

MOTOR STARTED

"It took five attempts to get the motor started. Then, just after midnight, we slipped along the dark river.

"All went well until we reached the border of East Berlin. As we roared past at top speed we were spotted by guards on the river bank.

"Two police boats with searchlights chased after us. Suddenly two more police boats came from the other direction.

"The 'captain' (Huebner) did not slow down but zigzagged between them. I switched on the rescue boat's searchlights to blind the pilots of the police boats.

"Our launch was the faster boat.

"The Communists opened fire. I was too excited to count how many shots they fired. The police were damned close when we reached the West sector. We simply rammed the boat into the western bank, jumped ashore and ran for our lives."

Museum Is Missing Irreplaceable Head

What makes the loss so tough, explains museum director C. Bertrand Schultz, is that the 60 to 70-year old shrunken human head is irreplaceable.

Indians in South America — where this specimen originated — have been forbidden to shrink heads for some time.

About 90 per cent of the water of Niagara Falls tumbles over on the Canadian side of the falls.

GOP Out to End Revolt by Women

LANSING (AP) — Leaders of the Republican majority at the constitutional convention moved swiftly today to quell a smouldering petticoat revolt within GOP ranks.

Dissatisfaction of some of the six Republican women delegates stemmed from failure of the party leadership to name a Republican woman to one of 26 key posts — the chairmanship or first vice chairmanship of any of the 13 convention committees.

Mrs. Ruth Butler of Houghton brought the matter into the open less than an hour after Republican Stephen S. Nisbet, the convention chairman, announced the appointments Tuesday.

* * *

She later told newsmen she acted "because someone had to exert some leadership."

The Republicans barred newsmen from the caucus, explaining they were going to deal in personalities and wanted to do it in private. They pointed out the Democrats held a similar closed caucus Monday.

MEETS NEWSMEN

Arthur Iverson of Detroit, who was elected as Republican caucus chairman, met with newsmen after the hour-long session. Ann Donnelly of Highland Park, who was elected secretary, joined Iverson for the news conference.

He said:

"The women are not mad, but they recognized that there has not been enough liason between the delegates and the appointing officers on the matter of committee appointments and other matters. The problem is nothing that we cannot solve.

"A few of the wome are dissatisfied, not unhappy. We will try to analyze the whole situation and make adjustments."

* * *

He said that a representative committee would be set up to review committee assignments and other matters of interests.

"The committee will come back to this caucus with some recommendations," he explained, adding, "adjustments can always be made if there is any unfairness or unjust appointments."

Rejects Motion to Watch Press

Plan Called for Unit to Check Coverage of Con-Con

LANSING (AP) — The constitutional convention Wednesday rejected a proposal to set up a watchdog committee to check on newspaper, radio and television coverage of the convention.

E. C. Wanger, Lansing Republican, made the proposal after calling on news media to give fullest coverage to convention proceedings. He described newsmen as "full partners with us in our task of improving the constitution."

Wanger's proposal was made during debate on rule 34 — the one which would permit the convention under certain conditions to bar newsmen from committee hearings. Rule 34 was adopted.

* * *

It came after several speakers said that having fullest news coverage of open committee meetings was the best way to keep the people of Michigan informed as to what progress was being made in drafting the proposed new constitution.

Wanger's resolution would have provided for a secret polling of the delegates in the final days of the convention to see if they felt press coverage had been full, accurate and objective.

It lost on a voice vote.

Walter De Vries, Grand Rapids Republican, took issue with Wanger's motion and asked, "Are you trying to scare the press or threaten them?"

* * *

Referring to the proposal to poll convention delegates on what they thought of convention coverage, De Vries asked what the poll would prove . . . except that the members did a good job or a bad one.

* * *

Wanger replied that he had no intention of coercing the press.

No Mature Women

CHICAGO (AP) — The Central YMCA in Chicago canceled a course called "careers for mature women." There was a lack of registrants. The course will be called "careers for women" when it is reoffered next semester.

Urges a Change in Library Aid

Claims Book Control Should Not Depend on the Amount of Crime

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A spokesman for the Michigan Townships Association has called upon the constitutional convention to put an end to distribution of fines levied against law violators to county libraries.

* * *

"It's about time we quit this immoral practice, in which the degree and number of books is controlled by the amount of crime committed in the state," Joseph A. Parisi Jr., association executive director, told a meeting here Wednesday.

* * *

"We levy fines against criminals, turn the monies over to the libraries and then turn right around and tax law-abiding citizens for the operation and maintenance of our prisons," Parisi said.

* * *

"This is just about as crazy as prohibiting bingo but permitting a multimillion dollar horse betting system to exist in Michigan," he said.

* * *

As an alternative, Parisi recommended that one-tenth of a mill from the 15-mill limitation on property taxes should be allocated to establish libraries. He estimated this would produce about $2.5 million a year.

Confers With Salazar

LISBON (AP)—The U.S. ambassador to NATO, Thomas K. Finletter, who is visiting here as a guest of the Portuguese government, had a long conference on Wednesday with Premier Oliveira Salazar at the premier's residence.

Romeo to Vote Tuesday for New School Rooms

ROMEO — Voters in the Romeo Community School District will go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots on two proposals to finance the addition of 20 rooms in the district.

The special election, the second this year, is expected to draw a large vote, according to Supt. T. C. Filippula.

The first proposal asks for a levy of 3 mills for 20 years to support the proposed building program.

The other proposition, if passed, would allow the school district to borrow $650,000 for construction and remodeling of the school rooms.

The bond issue is substantially the same as one which was defeated Feb. 3 by a vote of 626 to 415.

This time, however, due to two changes in the measure itself and a more favorable voter attitude, the bond issue is expected to pass, Filippula said.

The amount of the former bond issue of $700,000 has been reduced by $50,000 and plans for a new grade school were abandoned in favor of augmented construction projects and remodeling at the Washington School.

NEW CLASSROOMS

If the bond issue is approved, five new classrooms would be built on the north end of the school. A multipurpose room, kitchen, and boiler room also would be added and the sewage disposal system would be improved.

Alterations planned for the Washington School involve remodeling the corridor so that facilities can be provided for a library, speech room, health clinic and an audio-visual storage room.

Estimated cost of the Washington School projects is $194,360.

★ ★ ★

According to present plans, three classrooms, an arts and crafts room, a drafting room, a guidance counseling room and an audio-visual room would be added to the high school. The cost of these additions is estimated at $151,200.

★ ★ ★

Two new classrooms are to be built on the west end of the South Grade School if the bond issue is passed.

★ ★ ★

A special education room, scheduled to be moved out of the North Grade School to make room for its remodeling projects, also would be added at the South School.

The additions at the South School would cost about $35,000.

PLANNED FOR OFFICE

The space left vacant by the removal of the special education room from the North Grade School would be remodeled for use as the principal's office and as storage rooms. Then the present principal's office would be converted into a faculty room. The remodeling here would cost about $11,700.

★ ★ ★

Special education rooms are to be added at both junior and senior high schools and at the Washington school. They cost $14,400 apiece and will be paid for by the county.

★ ★ ★

If approved by the voters Tuesday, the expansion program is due for completion by the opening of school in September 1963.

Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc., Detroit, are the architects.

Voters on the first proposal must be registered and have lived in the district for 30 days. The second proposal will be decided by property owners and/or their spouses.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Phone Service Is Set for White Lake Area

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP—Nearly 60 per cent of General Telephone's multiparty line users in the White Lake area will be provided with one, two and four-party service beginning at 2:01 a.m. Sunday.

At that time the company's new $500,000 central office here with automatic dial switching equipment will be put into operation, according to Robert M. Keefer, district manager for the telephone company.

The new equipment will provide area residents with a capacity of 800 lines as compared to less than 100 presently serving the area. It will make available terminals for 1,500 main station telephones as compared to present 1,059.

NEW SERVICE CENTER

White Lake and surrounding area residents will no longer be served by the company's Milford central office, said Keefer.

He said calls between the White Lake and Milford exchanges may be completed by dialing the telephone number listed in the directory which is now being distributed.

A completed change has been made in all the Milford-White Lake telephone numbers in that the letter-numeral combination has been discontinued.

The new numbers will consist entirely of seven numerals and are essential to meet the rapid growth and requirements of the nation's telephone users, the district manager said.

The new numbering system merely expresses the two letters previously used in a different manner by substituting two numerals for the corresponding letters.

According to Keefer, when the new exchange begins operation, customers living in the outlying or rural areas will experience a reduction in the number of customers served by the present multi-party lines.

★ ★ ★

Plan Launching of UF Drives

4 Oakland Townships to Start Within Week; Slate Kickoff Dinners

United Fund drives in four North Oakland County Townships will begin within the week.

The fundraising campaigns will follow kickoff dinners, the first being today, in Orion, Independence, Oxford and Brandon townships.

Orion Township volunteers will meet 7:30 p.m. today at Lake Orion Methodist Church House. Independence Township solicitors will meet 8 p.m. Monday at the new community hall in the Powerhouse annex, Clarkston.

Oxford Township campaigners will meet at Collier Lanes Bowling Alley 8 p.m., Oct. 17 and Brandon Township fund raisers will met 1 p.m., Oct. 19 at Brandon High School.

Area chairmen, with township goals, are Joseph Taylor, Orion Township, $6,000; Fred Yeager, Independence Township, $5,800; Gerald Olrich, Oxford Township, $6,092; and Samuel S. Evans and Mrs. Charles Pangus, Brandon Township, $1,890.

Oxford Council Considers Urban Planning Study

OXFORD — The Village Council is considering a proposal to initiate Planning Program 701, an urban planning study, in Oxford.

Discussion of the study has been tabled, however, until funds can be located to foot the village's part of the study fee, Village Manager Robert W. Smalley said.

Estimated cost of the project would be $13,910, a quarter of which would be paid by the village and the rest by federal funds, Smalley said.

In other business the council awarded the contract for a new police car to the Pontiac Retail Store, Pontiac. The Pontiac dealer's bid of $1,095.70 with the present police car as a trade-in was the only bid offered.

★ ★ ★

The award for a bid of $559.01 for the village's commercial liability policy went to the Curtis Insurance Agency, Oxford. Two other bids were considered.

Avon Mothers Plan Tea to Honor New Principal

AVON TOWNSHIP — Parents of children in the Stiles School, 3976 S. Livernois Road, are invited to a tea from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday in honor of the new principal and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Pelton.

★ ★ ★

Puffballs Roll In to MSU Man

But Professor Says He Has Plenty for Cancer Research Work

EAST LANSING (AP)—Don't roll in any more of those giant puffballs, pleads Dr. Everett S. Beneke, professor of botany and plant pathology at Michigan State University.

Beneke sent out an appeal for the mushroom-like fungi three weeks ago, hoping to get perhaps 500 to 1,000 pounds for use in cancer research.

So far he has more than 300 puffballs, weighing about 1,400 pounds, in the deep freeze and there is a promise of more to come. The balls average around 4 pounds each but one weighed out at 19 pounds.

The puffballs were sent in from all parts of the Lower Peninsula Nearly 100 pounds of puffballs were contributed by a group of boys from Grand Rapids.

"I've been overwhelmed by the tremendous response," said Beneke. "It is greatly appreciated. We know it will be of value in our testing program. But for now, no more puffballs, please."

An extract from the giant puffballs is being studied as a drug for cancer. Known as Calvacin, it has stopped cancer in animals and will be tried on seriously ill human patients by the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research.

Troy Man Dies in Roof Tumble

Frank A. Miller, 2919 Spencer St., was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital. He had a fractured skull.

Miller had been cleaning the gutters on his garage when the accident happened. His wife found him and called police.

Glengary PTA to Hear Talk on CD at Meeting

WALLED LAKE — A state regional civil defense coordinator will be guest speaker at the 8 p.m. meeting Monday of the Glengary Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. John Warren, civil defense emergency welfare service coordinator for Southeastern Michigan and West Bloomfield Township CD director, will discuss emergency methods used in civil defense.

She will also present a film depicting one phase of what can be done in the event of a nuclear attack. The film uses two Pontiac schools to show an orderly evacuation from one location to a safe receiving point.

★ ★ ★

To be discussed at the business meeting will be the PTA budget and a proposed fund raising project.

Juvenile Offenders, Code to Be Aired

Interpretation of the juvenile code and juvenile court procedure will be the two topics to be discussed Tuesday at a meeting of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association.

Oakland County Probate Judge Donald E. Adams will explain the code and James Hunt, director of the Oakland County Juvenile Court, will speak on the course of action to be taken in court with a juvenile offender.

The meeting will be held at Kingsley Inn, 1495 Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Hills, beginning 6:45 p.m.

Weds Raymond D. Brendel

Mary Hebner Married

ROSE TOWNSHIP—Honeymooning in the East following their exchange of marriage vows Saturday at First Presbyterian Church, Flint, are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Brendel.

The bride, the former Mary Laura Hebner, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hebner, Flint. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Berton Brendel, 11875 Milford Road.

The 100 guests were seated by Donald Brendel, brother of the bridegroom, and Phillip Pettis, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

A reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the service.

At Auburn Heights

Deanna Myhrs Wed

AUBURN HEIGHTS — White delustered satin with bodice of Alencon lace and bell skirt was chosen by Deanna Lyn Myhrs for her exchange of marriage vows with Richard C. Kramp Saturday evening in the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Robert Hermanson of University Presbyterian Church officiated.

MRS. RICHARD C. KRAMP

In the receiving line at the Auburn Heights Community Club were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Myhrs of 1153 Grace St., and the L. Clare Kramps of 2791 Auburn Road, parents of the newlyweds.

Judith Ann Myrhs attended her sister as honor maid. Their cousin, Martha L. E. Rogers, Birmingham, and Mrs. Thomas Schmidt, Utica, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

★ ★ ★

On the esquire side were best man John Mullen, Detroit, with Joseph Machiorlotti, Royal Oak, and Thomas Schmidt ushering.

★ ★ ★

The newlyweds will live in St. Louis, Mo., where the bridegroom is with the U.S. Army.

Big Brothers Member to Speak at School

CLARKSTON — A representative from the Big Brothers organization will be a guest speaker at the Andersonville Elementary School at 8 p.m. today explaining the operation of his group.

★ ★ ★

Mothers of the kindergarteners will serve refreshments at a coffee hour to follow the program, presented by the Parent-Teacher Association of the school.

To Hear About School Needs

Walled Lake Board to Get Recommendations on Building From Unit

WALLED LAKE — Recommendations on the building needs of the Walled Lake School District with emphasis on elementary facilities will be presented Oct. 23 at a special meeting of the board of education.

★ ★ ★

The findings of a citizens committee during a six-month study will be submitted to the board at the 8 p.m. meeting in the Walled Lake High School.

While the contents of the report are not known, Supt. Clifford H. Smart said that grade school facilities will probably take priority because they are most urgently needed.

At least 12 additional elementary classrooms are needed to meet the anticipated increased enrollment in the school district by September 1962, he added.

Another major need in the school district in the near future is an addition to the high school, according to Smart.

If the shool board decides on a bond issue vote on the citizens committee proposals, it would have to be scheduled as soon as possible if the classrooms are to be ready by next fall, the superintendent emphasized.

Rambler in 3rd place! Now outsells all other U.S. cars but two!

RAMBLER Announces Major Improvements, Lower Prices On All Models!

We're giving an obviously better value in product and price to get you to switch to Rambler

Rambler now outsells all but two makes of cars. Over 60% of our customers switch from other makes. We expect to sell more than half a million 1962 Ramblers. We, and the 3,000 Rambler dealers, intend to do this by sharing with our customers the success their purchases have brought us.

More built-in value

• Major styling improvements • New Double-Safety Brake System —one system for front brakes, one for rear • Self-adjusting brakes • New Road Command Suspension on Classic, Ambassador for easier steering, more stability, smoother ride, with lubrication that lasts 33 times longer • Dowgard Full-Fill Engine Coolant—low cost, good for 2 years • 4,000-mile engine-oil change, oil filter standard • New E-Stick Transmission—no-clutch-pedal driving at ½ usual cost, stick-shift economy — option, American • New optional Lounge-Tilt Seat that adjusts front-passenger seat cushion for knee height • More road clearance • 2-year battery.

Proved Rambler features

Deep-Dip rustproofing clear to the roof (now even better). Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe (now even better). Rambler-pioneered Single-Unit construction. Acoustical ceiling of molded fiber-glass on Classics, Ambassadors.

Lower prices

On every '62 Rambler, our suggested factory-delivered price is lower than on the comparable 1961 model. Of 27 regular models offered, 13 show prices lower by $112 or more, and seven of these are lower by $209 or more.

Rambler Ambassador V-8—Every model priced at least $200 lower.

Rambler Classic 6—From $50 to $230 lower.

Rambler American—Already America's lowest priced, but most models now lower by at least $100.

As American Motors' President George Romney recently stated for the press: "Our price action is based on the opportunity we have at the present time to take another big step forward in expanding Rambler's portion of the car market. Our progress-sharing program . . . is the key to building a stronger competitive position and a stronger future earnings position in the automobile industry.

"Rambler success has placed us in a position to capitalize on it by steps that will increase our sales volume and increase our earnings even faster. . . . Our concentrated output in low-cost, largely depreciated but highly efficient facilities gives us a particularly favorable cost position and a high earnings ratio as volume increases beyond present levels."

Other automakers are having to spend hundreds of millions to switch to compact cars and Rambler-type Single-Unit construction. Our production lines are paid for. We avoid drastic change for change's sake; maintain styling stability. Our Kenosha plant produces more cars than any other single auto plant in the country. Thus our costs are lower. We have spent our money to bring you important new "under-the-skin" benefits and have lowered our prices.

Expect trouble-free quality

Owners will tell you that Rambler is the most trouble-free car they've owned. Now, with our workers as progress-sharing partners, you can expect even more superior craftsmanship in Rambler. American Motors' company-wide objective is to make trouble-free Ramblers a symbol of American industrial integrity — to make Rambler quality superior to that of even far costlier cars built anywhere in the world.

You step up into trouble-free quality when you step into a Rambler. See your Rambler dealer today—take a Discovery Drive. You'll be glad you did.

DICK KEFGEN

Ball, Banquet Will Aid Boys

Police Officers to Stage Affair Friday Night at Waterford CIA

Dick Kefgen, a professional harmonica player, will step into a spotlight at the Waterford CAI Hall Friday night and kick off a show that could help a lot of kids in Pontiac.

Four acts will follow Kefgen's. The show will begin at 8 with dancing from 10-1 a.m., and is open to the public.

Tickets are selling for $10 per couple, but $8 of that is a donation to the youth of Pontiac. It will be used to support PPOA-sponsored youth activities during the coming year.

Last year, the association granted a $1,250 scholarship to a high school graduate who otherwise couldn't have afforded to enter college. They hope to repeat this grant in 1962.

Last Christmas the PPOA distributed about 30 baskets of food and gifts to needy families, and drew on the fund to help needy families at other times during the year.

Among the many youth activities sponsored by the PPOA are midget football and little league baseball teams.

YMCA to Conduct Course in Crafts

The YMCA is offering an eight-week craft workshop beginning Oct. 17. The workshop will be held two days a week, from 10 a.m. to noon.

Mrs. Raymond Ellsworth will instruct the group in charcoal sketching, pastels, water coloring, beginners' oil painting, mosaics, textile painting, copper tooling, aluminum etching, glass etching, wooden ware painting and as a special seasonal interest, Christmas and holiday decorations for the home and tree.

Nursery service will be available.

Woman Is Bound to Circuit Court in Slaying Here

Lucille Harris, who is charged with second-degree murder in the stabbing of a Pontiac man, was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

★ ★ ★

Miss Harris, 29, of 298 Prospect St., was being held in the Oakland County Jail today in lieu of $5,000 bond. Her Circuit Court arraignment will be Monday.

Pontiac police said she admitted stabbing Frank Avery, 36, of 153 Raeburn St., during an argument at a party. His body was discovered Sept. 30 between two houses on South Edith Street.

She told police she stabbed Avery after he slashed at her with a knife outside the home of Roy L. Thomas, 479 Going St. However, officers said she told them she didn't know Avery was dead when she left him.

Police are unable to determine how Avery's body was moved to South Edith Street, located about one-quarter of a mile from Thomas' home.

Musicians, Met Chiefs to Meet With Goldberg

NEW YORK (AP)—Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians and representatives of the Metropolitan Opera Association will meet here Friday under the baton of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

The musicians and the Met agreed to arbitration of their labor dispute last August after the Met had announced cancellation of its 1961-62 season. The season was reinstated, and Goldberg was named as arbitrator.

BOUND FOR PHILIPPINES — Waving farewell just before their departure from San Francisco International Airport for the Philippine Islands are these 29 Peace Corps volunteers, part of a group of 128 now departing for the Islands. It is the largest Peace Corps contingent to be dispatched overseas to date. These volunteers are destined to be teachers aides in English and general science in villages and rural areas of the Central Philippines.

To Experiment With Monkey for Radiation

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Memphis scientists plan to expose a monkey to continuous low-level radiation soon to determine whether it impairs its ability to perform physical feats.

The monkey will be placed in a rotating plexi-glass cage at the University of Tennessee medical unit. The rotating speed will vary, exercising the animal slightly, or running him to the point of exhaustion.

★ ★ ★ ★

The scientists said daily comparisons of the monkey's stamina and performance should show how it is being affected by low-level radiation such as fallouts from the Soviet Union's nuclear bombs.

Columbus Would Have Been Surprised to See the Fuss

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—Columbus Day is celebrated in 34 states and Puerto Rico, in several Latin American republics and selected towns in Spain, Portugal and Italy. There is a Columbus in Ohio, Georgia, Kansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Nebraska, Texas and Wisconsin. The Knights of Columbus is composed of tens of thousands of patriotic God-fearing Americans. Columbus Circle, in New York City, is one of the busiest areas on earth.

Nobody could be more surprised than Columbus.

Christopher Columbus (or Cristotoro Columbo, or Cristobal Colon) died a discredited, forgotten man, bereft of patron and friend, six years after being returned from his brave new world in chains. The show had passed him by. The man of the hour was Amerigo Vespucci. The rap against Columbus was that he was a poor navigator and a bad administrator — this man who found an incredible new land by dead reckoning over an uncharted sea, and who established the first colony of white men on this side of the world.

Not many titans of history were treated shabbier by his contemporaries than this man of Genoa. His father intended him to be a weaver but he soon ran off to sea and made a trip to the far eastern Mediterranean in 1475. The record is foggy, but there is reason to believe he was in England the next year and possibly Iceland. He settled down in 1477 in Lisbon and married into a family that was part and parcel of that adventurous Portuguese clique concerned with the better knowledge of navigation and exploration.

SOUGHT BACKING

For years he sought backing to open a new westward route to the Far East, and met with the same indifference and skepticism which was to crush the early efforts of American space- and missile-minded Americans centuries later. But, as every schoolchild knows, Ferdinand and Isabella provided the funds for his three small ships once the Moor finally had been defeated at Granada.

He had a mutiny aboard the Santa Maria Oct. 10, 1492, cracked up his flagship the following Christmas Eve on the north coast of Hispaniola. His pal Martin Pinzon, skipper of the Pinta, who had touted him into turning southwest at a time when Columbus was headed for what became Florida or Georgia, tried to slip home ahead of his shipwrecked leader and take the gold and glory the Spanish court was certain to bestow. Columbus had to commandeer the remaining ship, the Nina. He beat Pinzon to the fleet of the monarch—and became the biggest man in the world, the Lindbergh and Gagarin of his day.

The Indians ate the colony he left behind. Hard luck, hostility and politics beset him most of the remainder of his life. He made his fourth and last voyage after the chains had been removed from him. It was to have been his comeback. But the four vessels were poorly provisioned. He was still looking for Asia. He led his little flotilla westward past the now familiar islands and southward along the coast of Central America to the Isthmus of Panama—so close, yet so far from the door he yearned to open. It was the end of the road. The admiral of the ocean sea turned for home and bleak rejection.

"The essential difference between Ruth and Maris was not merely that Maris was a better all around ball player but that all around Maris had to worry about Ruth and Ruth didn't have to worry about Maris.

"The Babe swung with a free mind and, as I remember it, often with an empty mind. The difference wasn't that Maris had a livelier ball or bat than Ruth but that he had a livelier imagination . . ." James Reston, in the New York Times, Oct. 1.

God saw you write that, Scotty.

4 Area Students Honored for Merit Test Scores

Four Waterford Township High School students from approximately 500,000 throughout the nation who took examinations last spring, have been honored for their high performance in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

One of the students, Daniel Schultz, was named as a semifinalist in the contest. Daniel has since moved to the Upper Peninsula and will be honored at his present school.

Others to receive letters of commendation were Connie Windeler, William Forbes and John Bawden. These teen-agers will receive formal recognition at next May's annual convocation assembly at the high school.

President of the National Merit Scholarship Corp., John M. Stalnaker pointed out that one of the main objectives of having the program was to "foster the pursuit of excellence among all students whose high performance indicates great promise."

★ ★ ★

Byron Merritt, Waterford Township High School teacher in charge of the local program said that registrations for next year's examination will be taken within the next two weeks, and urged all junior classmen to participate.

Khrushchev Riding High but on a Raft Full of Troubles

(Editor's Note: Soviet policy under Nikita Khrushchev appears to be riding high, but the Communist chief has plenty of headaches, at home and in the world Communist camp outside the U.S.S.R. Some of these problems are likely to become evident during the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress which opens in Moscow next week. In the following article, AP News Analyst William L. Ryan outlines some of the problems and gives some of the background on what the congress is.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The Soviet Communist party opens its 22nd congress Tuesday. Intensive propaganda promises it will mark the beginning of a march to Communist world supremacy. To dramatize Communist prospects, the Kremlin may even time a new spectacular space shot for the congress opening.

Despite the showmanship, there are in the background suspicious signs of nervous strain in Soviet party and world Communist ranks.

A TURNING POINT

Premier Khrushchev, first secretary and party chief, promises the congress will be a turning point. It will consider a 20-year program to build the "base" of communism. Theoretically, the U.S.S.R. has built "socialism." Communism, implying promise of abundance, is many years away.

Party congresses in their 43 years of history often have been billed as momentous turning points. Many have cloaked internal struggles. In recent years congresses provided—as the 22nd will—platforms to consider problems and strategy.

What is the party congress?

The congress supposedly is the party's ruling body, to which the central committee and its directing presidium are responsible. Required to meet once every three years, it is made up of functionaries from major political subdivisions of the U.S.S.R. It is supposed to hear and pass on programs of the central committee and party presidium, amend programs and statutes, fix tactical lines on fundamental policy questions and elect various party leaders.

★ ★ ★

Actually it does none of this, instead merely applies the automatic stamp of approval. The congress is window-dressing for a claim to democracy. Under Stalin the dictator's hand-picked politburo was the law. Under Khrushchev, the key body appears to be the central committee, where his own political machine has been strong enough to outmaneuver his enemies in the past.

UNDER STALIN

Congresses date to 1898, when the Russian Social Democratic Workers party, forerunner of the bolsheviks, met in Minsk. Under Stalin, the 15th congress marked an intense power struggle that resulted in Stalin's victory over Leon Trotsky. The 17th party congress heralded Stalin's purge of the 1930s and the 18th, in 1939, brought consolidation of his total power after rivers of blood were spilled.

Stalin, violating party regulations, held no congress thereafter until 1952—the 19th—when apparently he was preparing for a new purge. He enlarged the politburo to a presidium in which old bolshevik stalwarts could be outvoted. But Stalin's death prevented the purge.

The 20th congress in 1956 rocked world communism. Khrushchev, by then clearly the boss, denounced the dead Stalin as a murderer and egomaniac.

Early in 1959, with a Berlin crisis fading away, the 21st congress ostensibly was concerned with approving a seven-year economic plan. Actually it cloaked a world strategy meeting. By then the problem of the bulky Red Chinese was much in evidence. Despite Chinese resistance, the congress was forerunner of the intense peace offensive that brought Khrushchev to the United States for a visit to President Eisenhower.

PROGRESS SLOW

Since then Khrushchev has turned truculent again—perhaps because of pressure, perhaps even because his leadership was at stake. He turned back to the brink of war policy practiced by Stalin in attempts to push communism forward by violent aggressiveness.

Khrushchev had stood for the notion that the U.S.S.R. could so build its economy that its political and economic drives would make communism invincible in the world without the risk of nuclear war. It was a cautious policy.

But while a half dozen years of supremacy by Khrushchev made headway for communism with the economic and political infiltration in many areas, Soviet Communists added no new slices of real estate to the empire. Indeed, in some respects, they experienced losses.

For hard-shell Stalinists, the world revolution moved too slowly. Communists were set back in the Middle East, notably in Iraq. Moscow quarreled with Gamal Abdel Nasser, spokesman for Arab nationalism. Communism was hesitant about pushing ahead in Indochina. It was plagued by ideological bickering with Yugoslav Communists on one hand and Chinese on the other. It made no headway in economically flourishing Europe. It gained Cuba, but that was dumped in its lap and was by no means reliable or secure.

PROBLEMS ARISE

Inside the Communist world there were political and economic strains. Attempts to integrate the European Red bloc economies brought problems to individual Communist governments.

There were strains in the U.S.S.R. itself. Party propaganda makes no bones about the fact that "building communism" will mean many more years of labor for a people impatient to share in riches now poured into heavy industry to build world power.

Clear testimony to trouble was the rash of new decrees. One reinstituted the death penalty and applied it to such ordinarily non-capital offenses as stealing and embezzlement.

Khrushchev's virgin lands program, supposed to help solve the chronic Soviet bloc agricultural problems, fared badly again in 1961. That is his own baby, and conceivably he could be made to answer for the failure to the central committee, which has been his crutch in past battles with his foes.

Khrushchev obviously has had difficulties with the military, resenting his plans to reduce investment in a topheavy conventional war establishment.

All in all, Khrushchev goes to the congress with a raft of troubles. Signs indicate he can ride them out, but in all likelihood he will have to make compromises to do so.

Cross Border After Defector

E. Berlin Police Invade Western Sector to Hunt 1 of Escaped Comrades

BERLIN (AP) — Ten East Berlin police invaded West Berlin territory today hunting for a defecting comrade, West police reported.

The incident, regarded by the Western authorities as a serious border violation, occurred at 3 a.m.

West police said the Vopos—as the East police are dubbed by West Berliners — were evidently searching for one of four of their comrades who fled to the West during the night.

NEAR RAIL STATION

The four fleeing East Berlin police were among 12 refugees who reportedly escaped to the West during the night.

The East police blocked civilian traffic Wednesday night for an hour at the Friedrich Strasse crossing point, the only one available for foreigners.

All traffic both ways was held up until a loudspeaker truck operated by the West Berlin city government stopped broadcasting a program of news and commentary to the East.

Man Pleads Innocent to '24 Murder Charge

Dali Religious Work Presented to School

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The first religious work of the internationally famous artist, Salvador Dali, has been presented to Marquette University by Mr. and Mrs. Ira Haupt of New York City and Asbury Park, N. J.

Titled "Madonna of Port Lligat," the painting was done in 1949 and was blessed by Pope Pius XII.

Burglars Take to Drink When Foiled by Safe

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Burglars who broke into the Ohio Restaurant apparently know how to open beer bottles better than they did safes.

A battered, but unopened, safe containing about $300, surrounded by nine empty beer bottles, was discovered in the restaurant one morning, police said.

Not Responsible, Claim Doctors

Say Peebles Mentally Ill at Time of Murder Psychiatrists in Court

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two psychiatrists testified in Grand Rapids Circuit Court Wednesday that in their opinion J. Otto Peebles was unable to know right from wrong in the March 18 slaying of his wife.

★ ★ ★

Peebles claims a defense of temporary insanity on a charge of murder in the gunshot death of his wife Louise. The medical experts were called by the defense.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Andrew S. Watson, professor at University of Michigan Medical School, and Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher of Baltimore, Md., had examined the Rockford industrialist earlier.

Dr. Watson said Peebles "manifested gross mental illness . . . a schizoid character disorder" and had no free will at the time of the shooting.

Dr. Guttmacher said, in his opinion, Peebles went into a panic state in which his subconscious was given free reign and the man was not aware at the time of carrying out a wrongful act.

Mrs. Peebles was killed and Roy Staples of Columbus, Ind., a male companion, was crippled by bullets from Peebles' .44 magnum pistol.

Scarbeck Faces Questioning On Threat Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A former diplomat accused of spying faced more questions today about his charge that an American security officer threatened to send his mistress to jail if he didn't confess.

Irvin C. Scarbeck, on trial charged with passing secret documents to Communist agents in Poland, made the charge Wednesday.

He claimed that State Department Security Officer Kenneth W. Knauf told him that Scarbeck's Polish mistress, 22-year-old Urszala Discher, faced a jail sentence in West Germany for being a Communist spy.

Hanover Refuge for Czech Expellees

UPI Foreign News Analyst

This is not exceptional in the West German Federal Republic's state of Lower Saxony, which borders the Communist East Zone and which was a creation of the Western powers in a dismembered Germany.

Half of Lower Saxony's six million population is made up of "expellees," refugees from Czechoslovakia, the territories beyond the Oder-Neisse line now occupied by Poland, and from Communist East Germany.

* * *

Herzig is a neat, grey-haired man, with the comfortable well-fed and well-dressed look that today is common to West Germany.

But he remembers his return from the United States where he spent time as a prisoner of war, and his return to his family in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

His sole possession was the cast-off British army uniform he wore.

As the Communists moved up on Czechoslovakia, Herzig, his wife and their small daughter fled ahead of them to Hanover where, once more penniless, they begged two iron cots to sleep on.

THINGS CHANGED

Those things have changed for Erhard Herzig. Today, he is a successful newsman and press chief to Lower Saxony's prime minister.

Herzig has resigned himself that he will not return to Czechoslovakia.

The wish to return is not as strong in him as it is in his father.

But there is a sadness in him that exists scarcely at all in his children. His daughter does not remember Prague, and his son, born in Hanover, has no interest in it at all.

* * *

His son does not understand why his identification card also should be stamped "Expellee," for he is a native of Hanover.

The three generations of Herzigs are illustrative of a sentiment gradually taking over most of the refugees who sought refuge in West Germany from the Communists to the east.

DESIRE FADING

The desire to return gradually is fading away and will fade more as memories grow more dim.

As for Hanover itself, it also is illustrative of the new life.

Allied bombs destroyed more than 80 per cent of Hanover, and the city which was old before Columbus discovered America was forced to rebuild.

Today, the scars of war have all but disappeared and in their stead has appeared a city among the most modern in the world. Schools and universities occupy one sector of the city, government buildings another, banks and insurance still another, and so on through all phases of education, commerce and government.

Developing Devices for Detecting Life

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is developing devices capable of detecting life on other planets, if it exists. They will be installed in unmanned devices that "in the foreseeable future" will be landing on Mars and Venus.

James Webb, National Aeronautics and Space Administrator, told of this Wednesday in a talk to the Space Flight Report to the Nation meeting. He said the detecting devices are being developed at Stanford University's School of Medicine.

Fund-Raising Course Offered at Columbia

CHICAGO (AP) — Fund-raising now has become a braintrust problem.

The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc., has set up a graduate course in educational promotion and fund raising at Teachers College, Columbia University.

The first graduate course of its kind leads to advanced degrees for persons concerned with public relations and financial support for schools and other gift-supported agencies.

Two Frosts Attend Army Ice Specimens

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — The Army picked the right men to supervise the transfer of glacial ice cores, crystals and permafrost from Wilmette, Ill., to its Cold Regions Research Laboratory in Hanover.

The specimens were driven in a specially designed refrigerated trailer, attended by the Army's Robert Frost and civilian Ralph Frost of Chemetron Corp., designer of the trailer.

The Frosts are not related.

After World War II a Missouri-sized piece of Poland was given to Russia. In compensation, Poland was awarded the Kentucky-sized chunk of Germany now known as the Western Territories.

Sylvan Lake Gives Advice to Fallout Shelter Builders

If you want to build a fallout shelter in the City of Sylvan Lake, better stick to existing regulations governing all building.

This suggestion was made by Sylvan Lake City Council at its meeting last night.

The council also unanimously passed an ordinance prohibiting burning of leaves on or near black-topped streets and handed over papers regarding a long-disputed 16-foot strip (between Woodland and Sherwood Forest subdivisions) to the new city attorneys.

The Council was advised by City Attorney James Howlett that to his knowledge no model ordinance existed on fallout shelters. Trafton also reported that federal Civil Defense agencies had run out of copies describing government-approved specifications.

Council decided to table possible changes in the building code until more information would be available on the shelters.

TWO RULES

Meanwhile, it suggested property owners adhere to two main rules:

1—Don't build a shelter where building regulations prohibit construction of other buildings (for example, keep it out of the front yard).

2—If the shelter is underground, it should meet the same specifications as a basement.

The ordinance on burning of leaves was prepared by new city attorneys Howlett, Hartman and Beier.

It is designed to protect black-topped streets from fire and heat damage, the council was told by Howlett. Property owners are prohibited from burning leaves on or immediately adjacent to the black-top or a sidewalk.

★ ★

However, leaves may be burned in private driveways.

The ordinance also prohibits trucks from being loaded in such a manner as to dump their contents on streets. The intent again is to prevent damage to street surfacing from foreign substances.

Punishment for violation of either part of the ordinance was set at a maximum fine of $100 or 90 days in jail, or both.

On the disputed 16-foot strip, council instructed its new attorneys to find ways to help the city intervene in the dispute aside from court actions taken by individual property owners.

JFK Retreats on Budget Vow

Military Spending Rise Ruling Out Pledge to Avoid Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has retreated from his pledge to send a balanced budget to Congress next January even if he has to call for a tax increase to do it.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that rising military spending to meet dangers in Berlin and Southeast Asia could put the 1963 federal budget in the red.

He emphasized that an increase in defense outlays would be the only grounds on which he would plan a budget deficit for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Kennedy was asked whether increased defense spending would curtail his legislative program, including revision of the tax structure.

He replied that before the Berlin crisis it had been hoped that a budget surplus could be achieved to permit a tax cut, but that "we have lost that hope.

"We have still a strong desire to balance our budget," he said, "but I cannot predict what extra military demands may be made in the next month or two which may lessen that chance."

REMINDS PRESIDENT

A reporter reminded Kennedy that he had told the nation in a July 25 speech on the Berlin crisis that he would ask Congress to raise taxes if necessary to keep the 1962 budget "strictly in balance." He asked if Kennedy still felt that way.

The President replied that there would be sufficient revenue to balance the budget unless there were "excessive and substantial" military expenditures—"and they may come because of the events in Southeast Asia or Western Europe."

"At that time we will then make a judgment as to how much we can cut from nondefense expenditures. And secondly, how much of a tax burden can be sustained without strangling the economy," he added.

Thus, Kennedy seemed to be adopting for himself the fear of some advisers that a general tax increase next year would crimp economic expansion by draining purchasing power out of personal pocketbooks and corporate treasuries.

Bartender Finds New Fuel That's Out of This World

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— A jet-age bartender at the local Thunderbird International Hotel has concocted a whole new group of "super drinks" for the Metropolitan area's scientists and engineers.

His specialties are the "Blast-off," a blend of creme de menthe and vodka, and the "Orbit," a mixture of scotch and a special tonic.

Weddings at Sea Legal but Often Prove Risky

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Many a romance springs up during an ocean voyage and one of the most common requests a ship's captain hears is, "Can you marry us?"

Matson Lines reports ships' captains do have the authority to marry — as well as to bury — but today's legal technicalities make the romantic notion of a marriage at sea a bit risky, except in an emergency.

If a ship is bound for a foreign port, rulings are a bit more relaxed. But captains are still reluctant to perform a marriage ceremony because the legality of such marriages is sure to be questioned in the event of later problems, like estate settlements.

'62 CORVAIR MONZA

NEW FACE, SAME SPORTING HEART

We might as well tell you straight off: Corvair's the car for the driving enthusiast. Think that lets you out? Maybe. Maybe not.

Until you've driven one, you really can't say for sure, because Corvair's kind of driving is like no other in the land. The air-cooled rear engine sees to that. You swing around curves flat as you please. You whip through the sticky spots other cars should keep out of in the first place. (Especially this year, now that you can get Positraction as an extra-cost option.) You stop smoothly, levelly with Corvair's beautifully balanced, bigger brakes.

Corvair's found other new ways to please you this year. A forced-air heater and defroster are standard equipment on all coupes, sedans and both Monza and 700 Station Wagons. So are dual sunshades and front-door armrests and some other goodies. You'll note some new styling, inside and out. Nice. And safety-belt installation is easier, too, and cheaper.

So you can see we haven't really done much to Corvair this year. Why on earth should we? If this car, just as she is, can't make a driving enthusiast out of you, better take a cab.

CHEVROLET

A New World of Worth

And here's America's only thoroughbred sports car, the '62 CORVETTE. We warn you: If you drive a Corvette after your first sampling of a Corvair, you may well end up a two-car man. And who could blame you?

No cholera has been reported here since Sept. 23. Cholera, believed to have originated in food-short South China, broke out in Hong Kong Aug. 16, the colony's first outbreak in 14 years, and 129 were stricken. Fifteen died.

★ ★ ★

Health authorities in the nearby Portuguese colony of Macao also lifted quarantine restrictions on cholera. No cholera case has been reported there since Sept. 14.

Police Relieve Warm Vagrant of 11 Coats

Wilson looked like a turtle, his head barely showing above a heavy brown coat, the officer said. After the 25-year-old was booked for vagrancy Wednesday, officers discovered he was wearing 11 coats, including a leather jacket and an Army coat, 16 pairs of pants, 3 shirts and a pair of long red flannels.

Wilson weighed 208 clothed, 150 stripped.

He told police he likes to be warm when he travels, and, anyway, his duffle bag wouldn't hold everything.

Letter Draws Fire From 'Taxpayer'

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)— County Treasurer Eddie Ryan often writes letters to delinquent taxpayers urging them to pay before penalties are incurred.

He received a letter this week from a woman who protested that she is not delinquent.

She added: "I am a heart victim. You caused an extra doctor bill. Please be more careful in the future."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Chemical Week, a McGraw Hill publication, reports that American parents are now spending an average of $600 on each child during the first year of life.

X15 Test Shows Astronaut Can Re-Enter Safely

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—In the most dangerous X15 flight yet, a pilot set a world's record for going up—to prove this important point about coming down:

★ ★ ★

That an astronaut doesn't have to ride back to earth as a prisoner in a falling capsule—but can fly safely through the earth's atmosphere in a winged craft and land where he wishes.

★ ★ ★

Air Force Maj. Bob White Wednesday set a new world's altitude record for winged flight, 40 miles, and then made a belly-flopping reentry into the atmosphere which cracked the windshield of the rocket plane.

★ ★ ★

The plane dropped spread-eagle into the atmosphere the way a diver belly-flops into a swimming pool. The stress and friction heat would have torn a conventional plane apart.

Keep Tobacco Habit Sitting Behind Bars

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina, a big tobacco state, makes sure its prisoners don't lose the smoking habit while behind bars.

★ ★ ★

It's such an old custom to dole out smoking tobacco and chewing plugs to prison inmates that no one around state officers seem to know when it started.

The custom costs the taxpayers about $27,100 a year.

Step by Step, Syrian Rebels Seize Control

(Editor's Note: United Press International Middle East correspondent David Dugas was one of the few foreign newsmen to reach Damascus after Syria revolted and split from the United Arab Republic Sept. 28. Here is the detailed story of the revolt as Dugas learned it from those who took part.)

By DAVID DUGAS

DAMASCUS (UPI) — The pilot of the Kuwait flight already had started the motors of the green and white DC6B when a Syrian soldier ordered him to stop.

The 81 passengers on United Arab Airlines Flight 321 were told that the flight had been "delayed" and that they should return to their homes.

They piled out into the hot darkness, many of them wondering why so many soldiers were around.

The time was a few minutes after 2 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 28. The passengers went home.

The soldiers stayed—they had just captured the first target in a revolt that was to rip apart the United Arab Republic of Gamal Abdel Nasser and turn Syria back into an independent Arab state.

Into darkened Damascus and along its broad, tidy avenues rolled tough Syrian army desert troops. Their red and white checkered kaffiyas (head covers) flapped in the breeze as Soviet-built armored cars sped them to their targets.

Under orders from Col. Haidar Kuzbari, their short, stocky commander, the troops seized control of Damascus radio. One by one other strategic installations around the still sleeping ancient city fell.

By the time rebel troops had surrounded his palatial home Amer was at army headquarters in a wooded park on Kuwait Boulevard.

Rebel troops fought a 25-minute battle at Amer's home with the still-loyal, and left-behind guards. Four guards and two attackers were killed.

At 5:45 a.m. the rebels won control of the army headquarters and the city itself. At 7:30 a.m. Damascus radio broadcast communique number one from the "Supreme Arab Revolutionary Command."

* * *

It said that the army had struck "to preserve security, freedom, dignity for the country and to eliminate tyranny and corruption . . ." and promised that the rebels would "restore the legal rights of the people."

* * *

At army headquarters an apparently shaken Amer learned that the coup leaders included some of the most trusted Syrian officers in the Egyptian-dominated army.

Among the rebels were Col. Abdel Karim Nehlawi, who after three years as guardian of the army's top secret plans, had recently been named chief of Amer's private secretariat.

LIST OF TOP REBELS

The others included Col. Mahib Hindi, commander of the Syrian army's first battalion at the main army base of Katanah, north of Damascus; Brig. Abdel Ghani Dahman, commander of the Damascus military area; Maj. Gen. Mohammad Mansour and Col. Kuzbari. They represented the conservative pro-Western class of Syrian landlords and businessmen.

While Damascus radio blared military music and urged the people to be calm, Amer talked with the rebel leaders. They demanded more freedom for the Syrian army, abolition of Nasser's recently imposed nationalization laws.

They told Amer that if Nasser agreed to their demands they would keep Syria in the U.A.R.

At 1:45 p.m. the radio announced that Amer had promised "appropriate measures" would be taken toward meeting the demands.

* * *

Word swept through Damascus and the capitals of neighboring Arab countries that the revolt was over.

The word was wrong. At 5:30 p.m., after 3½ hours of "negotiations," the rebels put Amer on a plane for Cairo. For a traveling companion they gave him the pro-Nasser Syrian army Commander-in-Chief Maj. Gen. Jamal Feysal.

* * *

Cairo radio's powerful transmitters had already sent out the announcement that Nasser refused to negotiate with the rebels.

Nasser ordered the 1st Syrian army to march on Damascus and capture the rebels, and sent Egyptian reinforcements to invade Northern Syria. Nothing worked out for Nasser.

In Damascus confused demonstrators roamed the streets, sometimes shouting pro-Nasser slogans, other times hailing the revolt. Radio communiques banned demonstrations, announced closing of the frontier and airports and seaports, and warned against molesting foreigners.

SET UP CURFEW

A curfew was set up from 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. During the first day Damascus radio held off directly attacking Nasser or the Union.

But as the sun set on the miarets of Damascus, it also set on Nasser's hopes of regaining control of his one-time "northern region."

U.A.R. flags were ripped down and the huge, smiling portraits of Nasser that dominated bazaars and coffee shops were torn from the walls.

Aleppo, the northern city where Nasser had concentrated a number of Egyptian troops and officers, remained under U.A.R. control during the day. Again night spelled defeat for Egypt. Aleppo radio began beaming prorevolt slogans by the time darkness had set in.

When the 120-man vanguard of the invading Egyptian paratroopers landed near Latakia just before midnight they were quickly surrounded and captured by rebels. Their three Soviet-made Ilyushin transports were also captured. Nasser called off the invasion.

* * *

Earlier in the day rebel troops had scoured Damascus for Egyptian officers as well as Syrian officers of uncertain loyalty. These included Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, the dreaded Syrian who had returned to Damascus two days before, after having resigned his figure-head post as U.A.R. vice president.

* * *

Civilians in Damascus had believed Serraj was head of the revolt. It appears instead that his resignation opened the way for the army.

The rebel government quickly began deporting the first of the 7,000 Egyptian officials back to Cairo.

Members of the "Supreme Arab Revolutionary Command" then carried out their pledge to remain anonymous and turned the government over to a civilian cabinet headed by Mamoun Al-Kuzbari.

Al-Kuzbari, 47, is a pro-Western politician lawyer. His selection was such a surprise to Al-Kuzbari that when the officers called at his home before the end of curfew Friday morning, he thought they had come to arrest him.

But by afternoon he had assembled his cabinet, taking the defense and foreign affairs portfolios for himself.

PROMISES ELECTION

Al-Kuzbari announced free elections within four months. This was later scaled down to "two or three months."

Syrian students, torn between admiration for Nasser and opposition to his Egyptianization of Syria, held demonstrations for three days in Damascus and Aleppo. Some of them were violent.

By Monday calm had been restored throughout the country and foreigners were allowed to leave. The curfew was lifted Wednesday. Thursday the airports were reopened.

Diplomatic observers here feel that the death toll was not more than 100. They consider the Syrian army estimate of 25-30 too conservative.

* * *

New Interior Minister Adnan Kuwatli announced that 3,000 political prisoners, jailed under Nasser, were being rapidly released.

Then last Thursday, Nasser announced that Egypt would not oppose Syria's membership in the United Nations or the 11-member Arab League. The break was apparently safely completed.

534 Officers Dropped for 'Good of Service'

PARIS (AP)—The French Defense Ministry has dropped 534 officers and 574 noncoms from active duty "for the good of the service" during the past few months.

* * *

The action was not of a disciplinary nature, the ministry said, but an effort to improve army leadership as part of a "long-term renovation of the military structures."

Islanders Bound for Cape Town

Volcano-Stricken Area Left Deserted; Liner Rescues People

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — The entire population of volcano-stricken Tristan da Cunha sailed aboard the Dutch liner Tjisadane Wednesday night for Cape Town. The liner rescued the 260 men, women and children who had fled the island for refuge on nearby Nightingale Island, an uninhabited rock, after Tristan was shaken by earthquakes and volcanic eruptions.

* * *

The Tristanians wept on bidding farewell to their primitive homeland in the South Atlantic where they have lived an 18th century existence virtually cut off from the rest of the world.

An official of the British Embassy in Pretoria is flying here to arrange for the transportation of the islanders to England. Only about a dozen of the islanders had ever left Tristan before; the rest have never seen a train, automobile or town.

Golden Squash a Meaty Vegetable

JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The butternut squash that is baking in my oven as I write this article may have been on the market only a few years; but its ancestor has been around so long that the origin of squash is lost.

In the book, "Foods America Gave the World," the author says, the Indians of Peru cultivated several distinct varieties of squashes which no white man has ever seen, for long before the arrival of Europeans in the New World these vegetables had become extinct." Seeds found in ancient graves bear this out.

Horticulturists have given us several new varieties to cook, varieties that have much richer flavor than the squashes even our mothers depended on 20-30 years ago.

Take the same butternut squash mentioned in the first sentence. They are the deep golden squash with the bulbous end. Like all small squash, they are excellent stuffed.

Stuffed Butternut Squash

1 large butternut squash
¾ teaspoon salt
dash of pepper
1 pound sausage meat, cooked
1 cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup diced onion

Wash squash, cut in half lengthwise and scoop out stringy portion. Invert in a shallow baking pan. Pour in ¼ inch boiling water. Bake in 400-degree oven until tender, 20 to 30 minutes. Remove from oven and turn cut side up. Sprinkle squash with salt and pepper.

Crumble cooked sausage meat and combine with bread crumbs and onion. Spoon into cavities of squash. Place in a pan and pour in ½-inch boiling water. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes or until crumbs are brown. Makes 4 servings.

Another recipe for butternut squash spices it.

Spiced Butternut Squash

Peel 2 butternut squash (1 pound each) and cut into crosswise slices ½-inch thick. Place in a buttered baking pan large enough to arrange squash in a single layer.

Combine 3 tablespoons brown sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1/16 teaspoon ground white pepper, ½ teaspoon ground ginger, ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon, and sprinkle over squash. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Pour in ¼ cup boiling water.

Cover with foil and bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 35 minutes or until squash is tender. Remove foil and place under broiler to brown. Makes 6 servings.

O'Brien Peas in Squash

3 medium size acorn squashes
1 can (16 to 17 oz.) peas
½ small onion
Salt
¼ cup light cream, or top milk
1 tablespoon butter, or margarine

Wash and cut squashes in half; remove seeds. Put cut side down in a shallow baking pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 minutes. Turn and fill squash halves with drained peas. Sprinkle each with finely chopped onion and salt.

Pour cream over peas and dot with butter. Return to oven and continue baking 15 to 20 minutes, until squashes are done and peas are hot. Six servings.

Our final suggestion for using squash is to fill it with creamed turkey or chicken — or even creamed tuna fish. Bake small butternut or acorn squash first before spooning in the creamed mixture.

STUFFED SQUASH — Deep golden halves of butternut squash hold a flavorful filling of sausage, diced onions and bread crumbs. The squash are baked until tender before stuffing. A short additional time in the oven browns the crumb mixture. With apple salad and a dessert, you have a fine fall dinner.

School Children Look Forward to Snacking

Got the baking bug now that fall is here? Why not take advantage of your inclination and make an extra special snack to greet the youngsters when they come home from school? Iced Fruit Muffins can be mixed from ingredients you're sure to have on hand, and they'll taste just like cupcakes to your hungry snackers.

★ ★ ★

Prepare your plain muffin recipe, but increase the sugar from two tablespoons to four. Stir some raisins, currants or candied cherries into the batter and bake as usual. Then remove from the pans and ice the tops with a thin confectioners' sugar icing.

Two-Week Supply of Food Suggested

Are you prepared with a stockpile of food and water to safeguard your family's well being in case of emergency, including a nuclear attack upon our country?

You should be, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization. And here are some of their recommendations:

Build and keep a two-weeks supply of regular food in your home at all times, or assemble and maintain a special two-weeks stockpile of survival foods in your fallout shelter or home.

This two-week stockpile of food and water is necessary until authorities inform you of safe sources. Exposed food is subject to contamination by fallout.

The foods you stockpile should be in cans, jars or tightly sealed paper containers and able to last months without refrigeration, or eaten with little or no cooking.

Choose foods that will provide a reasonably well-balanced family diet. You have a long list from which to choose. Included are milk, canned meat, poultry, fish, cooked dry beans and peas, fruits and vegetables, cereals and baked goods, spreads for cookies and crackers, fats and vegetable oils, sugars, sweets and nuts, and family preference foods.

If your food freezer is located where you would have safe access to it after attack, count foods in it as some of the reserve. Food spoilage in a well-insulated freezer doesn't begin until several days after power goes off.

All stored food should be replaced after a minimum period of time so your family always has fresh food in readiness. Try keeping older foods nearer the front.

LIQUIDS

Your water supply must be well-looked after. In emergency, some liquid can be obtained in large supplies of fruit juice and soft drinks. Other requirements could be satisfied by using water in hot-water tanks and toilet tanks. Any water tested and approved by health authorities is safe to store.

You will probably want to store a large part of your supply in clean containers of heavy plastic or glass with tight fitting caps. Check the supply periodically and keep it well-packed.

If you doubt the water's purity, boil it 1 to 3 minutes, use two drops per quart of any bleach containing hypochlorite or 3 drops of 2 per cent tincture of iodine. Double dosage if water is cloudy. Or you many but water-purification tablets at any drugstore.

For additional suggestions, write to the Office of Information, U.S. Department of Agriculture, for a free copy of "Family Food Stockpile for Survival" (HG-77).

You'll Be Eating Lots of Turkey

More turkeys — more sizes to choose from than ever before. That's the turkey supply situation, as reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Because of the large supply, turkey prices are so attractive that you can hardly afford not to serve this delicious meat frequently.

You needn't sigh over turkey left-overs, which can be the basis for many delicious and thrifty meals. Turkey teams up so well with so many foods that left-overs don't need to be monotonous in flavor or looks. Dishes can range from the family turkey a la king, pies and dumplings to hearty chowder, noodle scallop and baked hash.

Foreign cookery offers many cues for giving a lift to routine recipes — such as Italian turkey with spaghetti, tomato sauce, and grated cheese; French with a bit of nutmeg; and Mexican with chili seasoning and a topping of cornmeal mixture.

One dish that will really please the family these fall days is Turkey Dumplings, prepared like this—

Sift 1½ cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking soda and 1 teaspoon salt together. Add 2½ cups of finely chopped cooked turkey and mix thoroughly. Add 1 cup milk to 1 egg, beaten, and stir into the turkey and flour mixture.

Heat about 3 cups of thin turkey gravy or broth in a deep pan. When the gravy boils, drop mixture into it by spoonfuls. Cover tightly at once. Cook about 15 minutes, and do not remove cover at any time during cooking. You'll have 10 medium-sized dumplings.

Jiffy Raisin Cookies Nice to Fill Up Jar

School's in, vacation's out — and before you know it the cookie jar's run out of cookies, too. Fill it up with delicious Raisin Drop Cookies, quick-mix so you can whip them up in a jiffy.

To prepare, sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and ¾ teaspoon salt. Add 1 cup brown sugar, ¾ cup shortening, 1 egg, ¼ cup milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Mix well to blend all the ingredients, then beat 300 strokes by hand or 2 minutes at medium speed on electric mixer. Add 1 cup raisins (or currants or finely-chopped dates, if you prefer) and mix thoroughly.

Drop by spoonsful on ungreased baking sheet and bake in moderate over (375 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen 2-inch cookies.

APPLE PANDOWDY — Now is the time for all good cooks to make a wheat germ apple pandowdy, an easy-to-prepare, family-style dessert that's deliciously tart and nutritious, too.

Apple Pandowdy Is Given New Crust

Now that the 1961 crop of apples has dropped from the trees into the grocery marts, many of us are thinking of ways and means of adding this most versatile of all fruits to our dinner desserts.

★ ★ ★

And what better way is there than to make up a wheat germ apple pandowdy, an easy-to-make, old-fashioned dessert that has just as much tarty appeal today as it had way back when it was one of grandmother's specialties. In fact, it's even better today because the dough is fortified with toasted wheat germ, which, while lending a pleasing nut-like flavor, adds lots of protein, iron and all of the essential B vitamins.

★ ★ ★

So, our wheat germ apple pandowdy is good eating from two important standpoints. The sweet-tart juicy apples make the dowdy a top-off-the-meal taste delight, and it's highly nutritious too. Grandmother's family never had it so good.

Apple Pandowdy

Filling:

6 cups sliced peeled cooking apples
2/3 cup water
1 cup sugar
1½ tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Dough:

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup wheat germ
½ cup shortening
¾ cup milk

Place apples and water in covered saucepan; cook until almost tender, 10 to 15 minutes. Pour into shallow 6x10-inch (1½ quart) baking dish. Combine sugar, flour, cinnamon and nutmeg; sprinkle over apples and dot with butter or margarine.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl; stir in wheat germ. Cut shortening into dry ingredients with pastry blender or knives until consistency of coarse meal. Add milk and stir to make soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured board; knead lightly until smooth, 10 to 12 strokes.

Roll and shape into a rectangle, 6x10 inches. Cut into 8 rectangles or serving portions. Top apples with dough. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until dough is done, about 30 minutes. Serve warm with cream or vanilla ice cream. Yield: 8 servings.

It's Edible

How would you like to order hippoglossus hippoglossus the next time you go to your supermarket? Just look in the frozen food cabinets for halibut, which comes in convenient a teak form, frozen and packaged. The double tongue-twister is the scientific, biological name for the huge white-meated halibut, which swim in our northern waters.

Cold Water Helps

Another Way to Prepare Ground Beef

New Rumaki Beef Patties

2 pounds ground beef
1 can (5 ounces) water chestnuts (drained)
Mango-type chutney
Butter or margarine
Soy sauce

Make 16 flat patties of the beef. Slice each water chestnut into 3 wide pieces and place 3 slices over each of 8 of the patties. Spread remaining 8 patties generously with chopped chutney and its syrup. Place chutney-spread patties over the others; mold edges together thoroughly.

Brown stuffed patties over high heat in a skillet in hot butter; reduce heat and cook gently until done as much as desired; remove from skillet.

To drippings in skillet (remove any excess fat) add about 2 tablespoons each water and soy sauce and a couple of teaspoons of chutney; let sizzle and stir; pour over patties. Use any leftover water chestnuts for garnish. Makes 4 to 8 servings—1 or 2 patties per portion.

Almond Intensifies Flavor

A dessert with personality is Cherry Ambrosia. Combine one pound cans of dark sweet and light sweet cherries with about half of the syrup, two peeled and sectioned oranges, one cup fine grated coconut and a few drops of almond extract. Chill. Makes eight servings.

HAM IN A BLANKET — Take one good canned ham. Wrap it in a blanket of pastry made with sharp cheddar cheese and put it back in the oven to bake. Your guests will be intrigued when you slice this interesting main dish. It's an old trick; old-time bake shops used to bake ham in rye bread crust for their patrons.

Use Sharp Cheese Dough to Blanket Canned Ham

Traveling can certainly boost an appetite, even when it's armchair traveling with the slides from last summer's vacation. After traveling 'round the world, your traveling party guests will be glad they're back home when you bring out a canned ham bedecked in a blanket of cheese pastry.

Canned hams vary in weight from 1½ to 13 pounds. Using 4 to 5 servings per pound as a guide, you are able to select the weight that will best suit your needs. It is important to remember that most canned hams are perishable and thus must be refrigerated.

The hams are fully cooked and boneless for easy slicing all the way through. When serving hot, the ham may be sliced before eating and then held in shape with a string which is removed at serving time. Simply slice and heat, or heat and slice.

Canned hams are handsome to serve just as they slip out of the easy-out enameled can. But, for a special occasion a cheese pastry blanket baked on the ham will please your guests. Allow 10 to 15 minutes per pound in a moderate oven (350 degrees). The cheese pastry can be prepared ahead and refrigerated. Then as the guests swap tall tales of their daring vacation adventures you can roll out the cheese pastry, cover the ham, and return the ham to the oven for about 15 minutes.

Ham in Cheese Blanket

5 pound canned ham
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
Dash of cayenne
3 tablespoons shortening
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
3 to 4 tablespoons water

Heat ham according to directions on the label.

Sift together into a bowl the flour, salt, paprika, and cayenne. Cut shortening and cheese into flour mixture, using a pastry blender or fork until the mixture is the consistency of corn meal and small peas.

Sprinkle cold water, a little at a time, over different parts of flour mixture. Toss together lightly with a fork. Use as little water as possible, just enough to moisten dough.

Place dough on waxed paper. Knead 3 times. Press gently with the paper into a ball. Let stand at room temperature for 15 to 20 minutes. The pastry may be prepared ahead and refrigerated until ready to use.

Remove ham from oven. Adjust oven temperature to hot (425 degrees F.). Lightly flour pastry cloth or board and covered rolling pin. Roll dough into a rectangle ⅛ inch thick. Cover top and sides of ham with cheese pastry, tucking the edges of the pastry under the ham.

Return the pastry covered ham to oven and continue baking in hot oven (425 degrees F) for 10 to 15 minutes or until pastry is lightly browned. Remove ham to platter. Slice and serve hot.

Tomatoes Less Acid Need More Time

All tomatoes are less acid this year, and so require about ten minutes longer in the hot water bath, according to the Michigan State University Food Technology Laboratory. They recommend that tomatoes and tomato juice be canned according to United States Department of Agriculture recommendations, with the processing time increased 10 minutes.

* * *

According to Mary Hardy, Oakland County Extension Agent, Home Economics, many new varieties of tomatoes are less acid every year, and homemakers canning tomatoes of any variety would be wise to increase the time. Tomatoes and tomato juice may be packed into jars while boiling hot, sealed, and processed 20 minutes in the boiling water bath.

When raw tomatoes are packed into jars, they need 45 minutes for pints and 55 minutes for quarts.

Some Sandwich!

Spread one slice of rye bread generously with peanut butter, plain or crunchy. Sprinkle the peanut butter with chopped raw onion and top it with a good thick slice of boiled ham. Spread another slice of bread with butter and add it to the pile (butter side down, of coruse). Boy is it good eating!

Apricot Half Surprise End to Muffins

Split Pea Soup with Croutons
Broiled Tomato Halves with Cottage Cheese
Upside-down Muffins Milk

Upside-Down Muffins

¼ cup butter or margarine
⅔ cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
24 canned drained apricot halves
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup milk
¼ cup butter or margarine (melted)

Melt ¼ cup butter over low heat; stir in brown sugar; divide mixture evenly among 24 muffin-pan wells (each 2½ inches); place apricot half, hollow side up, in each well. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar.

Beat egg until thick and pale colored; beat in milk; stir in melted butter. Add sifted dry ingredients; stir only until moistened. Turn into prepared muffin-pan wells, filling ⅔ full.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out at once, apricots up.

Half Century of Food

Significant changes in food consumption during the last 50 years are the substantial decline of potatoes and cereal products, the substitution of vegetable for animal fats, and the increase in poultry consumption.

Fruit Cocktail Dessert Ideas

Try these dessert ideas for children's parties. They are simple to do and use bright canned fruit cocktail which is always a favorite with the little ones.

Fold drained canned fruit cocktail and whipped cream into partially set strawberry-flavored gelatin. Spoon into plastic animal-shaped molds and chill until serving time. Unmold and decorate with whipped cream "faces."

Or make cupcake cones by folding well-drained canned fruit cocktail into cupcake batter. Spoon into flat-bottomed ice cream cones, using ¼ cup batter for each.

Place on baking sheet and bake in hot oven about 15 minutes. Frost and decorate to suit the occasion. Ideal for individual birthday cakes.

Dried dill weed, now available in jars, is delicious added to summer-type squash, an omelet or a green salad.

UF Drive Gets Rolling as Volunteers Train

Pontiac Press Photos

Training chairman for the United Fund, Joseph H. Schultz, Pontiac Motor Division (at left), answers questions of volunteers following Wednesday evening's session at the Community Services Building. Among area workers participating in the course were Mrs. William E. Hotchkiss, West Ann Arbor Avenue, Mrs. Charles J. Woon, South Telegraph Road, and Geraldine Whiters, Harvey Avenue.

Waterford area volunteers left their Wednesday United Fund training session loaded with materials and enthusiasm. Workers (from left) are Mrs. Charles S. Curry, Griggs Avenue, Mrs. Creighton Kerr, Motorway Drive, Mrs. Gordon Raatz, Shaddick Drive, and Mrs. William Healy, Breaker Street. They will be among a throng of Waterford Township women participating in the Women's Division of the annual fund-raising drive.

Calls on Man to Justify Himself

By MARJORIE EICHER
Woman's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall has been fortunate in its short existence to have heard an impressive array of men of conviction and stature.

His theme was the art of peacemaking is not highly developed in this world, while the arts of destruction are. "The next war," he said, "will not be a war of ideologies or nations, of man against man—but a war of man against God. If war comes, we will attempt to smash the delicate balances of nature itself."

PAINTS A GRIM PICTURE

Painting a grim picture, Mr. Cousins ticked off the destructive potential of newly developed bombs. He described the present atomic bomb as equivalent to the destructive force of the bomb at Hiroshima if that bombing were repeated daily for four years.

Visibly shaken, his audience heard him describe bombs that are capable of producing heart disease, spreading plague, cholera and resistant strains of germs.

"These thoughts smash at the moral imagination, but they are real," he said. "Nor do they exhaust man's destructive inventiveness!"

Mr. Cousins does not propose that we resign from the human race, scuttling its attendant responsibilities in fear and futility. Rather, he proposes that we educate the whole man to address himself effectively to the problems of his world.

Forthrightly laying it on the line, he stated, "We must apply our intelligence to the problems of war and peace . . . recognizing the basic fact that two parties to a dispute inevitably will move toward a showdown if either's ego is involved. We must not allow anarchy to prevail, recognizing that we cannot have law and order without the institutions of law and order."

★ ★ ★

American policy, said Mr. Cousins, has defined the essentials of peace, yet peace eludes us. We must transform statement of these beliefs into active policy: calling for revision of the United Nations charter.

SINGS AN OLD SONG

This is not a new song he sings. For 14 years, as those who read him in The Saturday Review of Literature will attest, he has advocated a strengthened UN with laws, law enforcement and a judiciary.

"Leadership can define this need," said Mr. Cousins, "as President Kennedy did in his recent speech before the U.N. But the President has a sensitivity to the nature of the constitutional mandate. We have to want it."

Norman Cousins called on his audience to participate in this mandate. "If the President were to receive a flood of bi-partisan letters of appreciation about his speech—if he knows the American people recognize this as a key issue, he will go before the United Nations calling for a charter revision conference."

Time is running out, Mr. Cousins believes, but we have the opportunity of embarking on the greatest human adventure: making human want obsolete. We can do this by channeling the resources now poured into the spiral arms race into dynamic and creative works. He admits the Communists may resist initially, but says we must be patient and persevere for "The problem has been made by man and it is within man's power to solve.

"We still have time to think, act and justify God's great gift of life," he concluded.

Drop Those Scissors, Abby Says

You Can't Keep Son in the Dark

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When the newspaper comes, my mother gets it first and cuts out all the pictures she thinks my 14-year-old brother shouldn't see. This includes pictures of girls in bathing suits, and low necklines and so forth. When my father sees the paper all cut up he blows his stack.

ABBY

★ ★ ★

I am a girl, 16, and have tried my best to explain to my mother that she is making a big mistake trying to hide these things from my brother. He knows more than I do, and I don't think I'm stupid. Will you please put something in your column to convince my mother that she should leave the newspaper alone?

SIS

SHARPER THAN SCISSORS

DEAR SIS: If your father "blows his stack," and you have tried to appeal to your mother's reason, and she still "censors" the newspaper hoping to keep your 14-year-old brother wide-eyed and innocent, I fear my efforts will be futile. But I'll try: Dear Mom: A 14-year-old boy today is sharper than your scissors.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My father and I were having an argument, and I thought you might be able to solve our problem. If teen-age children drive the family car, does the insurance go up?

TEEN-AGE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: And how!

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and he is 25 and I am very much in love with him. We went together almost a whole year, and we spoke of being married in two or three years. It has been a month since I last heard from him, and he lives right in this town.

A mutual friend told me he went back to his old girl friend. I can't understand it. We didn't have a fight or anything. He just said goodnight after a date and I never heard from him again. I hate to crawl to him, but I know if I saw him again we could straighten everything out.

★ ★ ★

My friends say to forget him, but it's not that easy. I love him. Please tell me if I should call him up. I can't eat or sleep.

JILTED

DEAR JILTED: Your friends gave you good advice. Take it!

CONFIDENTIAL TO WILLIE: Don't marry a drinking man. If he won't stay sober for his sweetheart, he won't stay sober for his wife.

Disputes Greeting Card Stand

By the Emily Post Institute

Q. Not long ago you wrote that it was unnecessary to acknowledge greeting cards. Against this, may I enter a protest? Peopde who have grown lax about thanking me for my cards have been stricken from my list because I think when friends are thoughtful enough to remember birthdays, anniversaries, etc., saying thank you is the least that can be done in return.

★ ★ ★

A: It is of course always courteous and polite to acknowledge a greeting card if you want to, and have the necessary time; but most people haven't. There would be few cards exchanged if busy people felt acknowledgements were exacted. There is, in fact, very special delight in receiving a greeting card because it is the one 'gift' which requires no 'thank you.' We receive them and we send them as occasions arise and we do try to remember to thank someone we see.

REMOVE WEDDING RINGS

Q: I am a widow and have just recently become engaged.

I have been wearing my first husband's wedding and engagement rings up until now. I would like to know what to do with them now that I have another engagement ring.

A: You remove your wedding ring, but you may properly transfer your engagement ring to your right hand if your fiance does not object to your wearing it. Or you may put both of these rings away for one of your children.

Q: When invited to a shower and one is unable to go, is it necessary to send a gift anyway?

A: Since those invited to shower's are usually the bride-to-be's best friends, they do, as a rule send presents even if they cannot go to the shower. If others who are friends of the hostess rather than of the bride-to-be are invited and are unable to accept the invitations there is no obligation on their part to send presents.

Q: A friend of mine who lives out of town is going to spend some time in our city and is going to stay at the house of one of my friends. This past winter this out-of-town friend invited my husband and me to dinner at her house and was most gracious to our son who was attending a nearby college. I should like to reciprocate in some way, perhaps by taking her out to dinner and a show. Is it necessary to also invite her host and hostess with whom she is staying, who by the way, introduced us to this person.

A: To invite your friend without her hosts would be very rude to them.

Bloomfield Hills Notes

Residents Taking Trips

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Wonder if the last century author of the rhyme — "Some flew east," ever imagined how literally it would come true? In the east this week are Mrs. W. S. Gilbreath who is visiting the junior Gilbreaths in their New York City apartment. Others heading in the same direction come Sunday are Mrs. Harry B. Leinbach, Mrs. Royal Decker and Mrs. W. C. Deveraux who will drive to Princeton, N.J. for a visit with Mrs. Harry M. Bitner.

Flying west in November will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Deveraux of Lone Pine Road. They are anticipating their rail trip home on the deluxe "Feather Bed" route just before Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Fox (Virginia Beresford) announce the birth of a daughter Katherine Anne Oct. 2.

★ ★ ★

Lois Fredericks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fredericks, and her close friend Sheila Rogan will go to South Bend, Ind. to attend the Notre Dame football game on Saturday. Lois is teaching this year at St. Regis School on Lahser Road.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lee W. Keating and Mrs. John T. Annas are co-chairmen for the Bal Carnival Oct. 28 to be given by the Christ Child Society at the Country Club of Detroit.

Mrs. Frank B. Audette is chairman of hospitality for the affair and among her assistants are Mrs. James K. Campbell, Mrs. Timothy Cruice, Mrs. F. M. Anderman, Mrs. C. M. Hammel and Mrs. Edward Staff.

Groups will meet that evening at the Birmingham Athletic Club to go from there to Grosse Pointe by charter bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugo C. Hesse of Yorkshire Road have this week announced the engagement of their daughter Patricia Amanda to Frederick Alan Shorey whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shorey of Berkley. He attended Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Miss Hesse attended Barat College of the Sacred Heart and is completing her senior year at Mercy College. They will be married Feb. 3.

Women's Section

The toque returns to fashion favor this fall. Emme's collection includes this design by Adolpho in turquoise corded velvet with rows of black stitching. A black silk tassel dangles from its crown comprised of a cluster of vertical pleats.

High crowned and luxurious, this deep-brimmed cloche of ranch mink was designed by Emme for her fall 1961 "Great White Way" Millinery collection. Fashion arbiters predict the cloche will continue in favor because of their almost universal flattery.

Draped angora jersey is supple and soft in this head-hugging gypsy turban. Designed by Adolpho, it is a confectious mound of charcoal and pink. The reappearance of the turban on the fashion scene should delight the woman who is happiest in a close-fitting hat.

'Character' Has Lost Its Best Connotation

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Character is the Key to a Home" said the headline over a homemaking article.

"Well put and very true," I thought, as I started to read the story.

★ ★ ★

But do you know HOW this article suggested that you bring character into your home?

Through the individuality of its furnishings.

This flippant use of the substantial word "character" was quite a shock, until I suddenly realized that we don't often hear "character" used in its good, old-fashioned sense any more.

We used to talk of a person of "good character," and it summed up a great deal, bringing to mind such traits as honesty, integrity, dependability, and industriousness.

But now the word is used loosely to describe all kinds of things that have nothing to do with the basic qualities of human beings.

Furniture now has "character," and so do fabrics and even dishes.

So I guess it isn't at all surprising that when we talk of the "character" of a home, it isn't the character of the parents and the children we are referring to—but the character of the furnishings.

★ ★ ★

Like so many once good, substantial, meaningful words, this one has gone astray. And it's a pity. For character was once a word that wasn't used lightly.

★ ★ ★

Predinner Soaking Does Wonders

Bath Floats Cares Away

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The time of day best for exercising or eating the largest meal depends in the individual woman's life. However, it seems to me that there is only one best time for the daily bath, and that is late in the afternoon.

Some women prefer their baths just before going to sleep at night, but this does not provide a hiatus from the cares of the day—a time to let little annoyances and worries and problems float away with the water.

The predinner bath can make the evening pleasant after a hard day. It bridges the gap between the work-a-day-world and an evening of companionship and pleasure.

The daily bath should not be thought of as something to get done as quickly as possible. This is the time to use all of those little extras which make bathtime luxurious and refreshing.

A handful of bath salts or even a few drops of your favorite cologne, tossed into the water, will make you forget that you have just put in an eight hour day.

There are all sorts of ingenious but inexpensive bath gadgets, such as a long-handled brush for reaching otherwise inaccessible mid-back areas, and a brush for scrubbing "pump bump" heels.

You might find a head rest or bath pillow relaxing. There are many such rests available, including inflatable pillows and foam rubber head cushions. Loll back against one of these for even 15 or 20 minutes and you will feel like a new person.

The late afternoon bath is an especially nice break for the woman in the home who does her own work. She can do all the hard, time-consuming preparation for dinner before she takes her bath, and finish up quickly afterward. In this way, she is refreshed and lovely when she meets her family at the end of the day.

A warm, sudsy bath, a cool rinse and bath powder and a spray of cologne after drying, will lift your spirit as well as wash away fatigue.

Bathtime can be relaxing. Try tossing a few drops of your favorite cologne in the water. It will make you forget that you have just put in an eight-hour day.

Enthusiasm Seems to Be Lacking, However

Teens Have Mixed Feelings on Modern Art

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Inc.

Well, what do YOU think of modern art?

The young people we've been talking to lately have mixed feelings about it, but on the whole their enthusiasm is not high, even though Picasso is a favorite painter of theirs.

The statistics show them equally divided on liking it and not liking it. But if you look more closely at the results of the thousand-person survey you discover:

1. Only a third of the boys for it.

2. Of the young people, boys and girls, who say they are for it, there is a distinct division into two schools of thought—those who claim to understand it and those who say they'd like to understand it.

For the dissenters, Alecia Fleming, 14, of Boone, Ia., commented: "I like something I can understand." And Nancy Gray, 17, of Detroit, chimed in: "Modern works of art are a mass of colors which usually have little meaning to anyone but the painter."

'CAPTURES FEELINGS'

But Roger Berman, 15, of Hartford, Conn., asserted that "modern art captures best what I feel and think," while another Detroit girl, 16-year-old Jean Stansfield, added with a certain hopeful desire: "I like to figure out the meanings."

A number of the youngsters appeared to share Jean's sentiments. They told us they liked modern art even though they didn't fully understand it. We deduced it this way:

The teen-agers in our poll were evenly divided on the question: Do you like modern paintings? But when we asked them if they understood it, only 25 per cent said yes; 65 per cent said no.

The boys were more consistent than the girls in equating what they liked with what they understood.

Roughly three out of every 10 boys told us they liked modern art against six out of 10 who didn't. The same percentage held true on the question of whether they understood it.

Among the girls, however, while six out of 10 said they were fond of the current abstract trend in art, nearly seven out of 10 said they had no idea what it was all about.

Perhaps the case for the girls was summed up by 14-year-old Ruth DeBoskey of Detroit, who said she very seldom understood this type of painting—"but I have fun trying."

CUBISM POPULAR

Of all the modern schools of painting, the cubists—the boys who try to catch reality in geometric signs — are the most popular among young people.

Gloria Girard, 17, of Hartford, Conn., said she thought that "everything is very clearly expressed" in cubism. She was one of the four in 10 who said they liked that type of art.

"A cubist-type painting is strange," added Carol A. White, 17, of New York City. "It makes you look and think of what the artist was attempting to portray or reveal."

Expressionism (the attempt to portray emotions through symbols and distortion) proved popular with three out of 10 and surrealism (the production of fantastic imagery by unnatural combinations) was applauded by one out of four.

PICASSO BIG FAVORITE

Pablo Picasso, whose long career has pretty much run the gamut of all schools of modern art, proved to be far and away the most popular of the current crop of artists among the young people.

Forty-one per cent of those polled named him as their favorite. Slightly more than half of the girls turned out to be Picasso fans.

American abstractionist Jackson Pollack, one of the very few modern artists on display at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, was a distant second in popularity. He was listed by 7 per cent.

★ ★ ★

We asked them what they thought of nine painters: Picasso, Pollack, Paul Klee, Salvador Dali, Eligio Pichardo, Henri Matisse, Franz Klein, Mark Rothko and Braque.

★ ★ ★

Most of them knew of Picasso. Some offered comments on Pollack, Klee, Dali and Matisse. The others drew a blank as far as the teen-agers were concerned.

The summer home of Mrs. Percy Rose on Walpole Island was the setting for Tuesday's meeting of the Dirt Gardeners' Club. Mrs. Vivian Tubbs and Mrs. Harry White served the cooperative luncheon.

Mrs. James Weaver reported on the annual meeting of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, District I, at the Detroit Yacht Club.

Guests for the day were Mrs. F. R. Alspaugh and Mrs. Bula Lasley.

Mrs. William Bachmann, Mrs. E. R. Labadie, Mrs. Tubbs and Mrs. Weaver will be hostesses at an exhibition of table settings and flower arrangements Oct. 25-27 at Charles W. Warren and Co., Detroit jewelers. Entitled "Detroit: Port of Call" the show will feature "Enchantment from Afar" by District I.

Meeting Held by Presbyterian Women's Assn.

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church met Friday with the November group serving the luncheon.

Joseph Reynolds, executive director of Christian education at the Detroit settlement houses, spoke following the program "Heritage and Horizons in Home Missions" led by Mrs. Ted Koella.

Mrs. John Heitsch was elected president for the year beginning in January. Mrs. Philip Meacham will be first vice president; Mrs. R. J. Wright, world service vice president; Mrs. H. J. McGrath, fellowship vice president and Mrs. B. B. Kimball, auditor. Mrs. Koella will serve as treasurer for the coming year, completing the term of Mrs. Heitsch.

Art Director Sets Talk Before Group

Michael Church, art director of the University of Michigan Extension Service, will be guest speaker at a meeting of the Pontiac Society of Artists 8 p.m. Friday in the committee room of the Community Services Building, Franklin Boulevard.

Slides of the regional art exhibit sponsored by the U. of M. Extension Service will be shown.

To Investigate Death of Widow

Plan Autopsy on Wife of Ex-Rep. Burdick of North Dakota

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An autopsy was scheduled today on the widow of former Rep. Usher L. Burdick, R-N. D., following a disclosure that she refused hospital treatment before she died in her apartment.

The body of Mrs. Jean R. Burdick, 34, was found Wednesday by her 8-year-old son Michael who summoned help. Dr. Kelvin Minchin, her physician, told police she had refused hospital treatment for a liver ailment.

The Burdicks scored a Capitol Hill sensation in 1958 with a May-December marriage when he was 78 years old. Mrs. Burdick, a divorcee, had served as the congressman's secretary for a short period.

Ironically, on the day Burdick died in a Washington hospital Aug. 19, 1960, Mrs. Burdick had entered the same hospital for an undisclosed ailment and was not able to attend his funeral.

★ ★ ★

The Burdicks had been married Feb. 29, 1958 in Arlington, Va., despite the fact that Burdick, who made a fortune in a ranching business among Western North Dakota oil fields, had been in and out of the hospital a few days before with pneumonia.

ASKS ANNULMENT

Three months later, however, he filed for annulment in Fargo, N. D., charging her with extreme cruelty. He said their marriage had not been consummated and that his wife's divorce from her first husband was not valid.

Mrs. Burdick filed a separate maintenance suit two days later, charging that since their separation, she had been living on $250 borrowed from a friend. She asked $400 a month from Burdick.

The congressman dropped his suit a month later and Mrs. Burdick also abandoned her legal action. He retired from Congress a short time later.

★ ★ ★

Burdick, an author, had been married twice before his wedding to his secretary. His son Quentin is a U. S. senator. Mrs. Burdick's son was by her first marriage.

U.S. Aide to See Goulart

BRASILIA, Brazil (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Lincoln Gordon is scheduled to present his credentials to President Joao Goulart Oct. 20, the presidential palace announced today. Gordon is due to arrive in Brazil Friday. He succeeds John M. Cabot.

Check on Drug Quality

NEW YORK (UPI) — A total of 20.1 per cent of all production employes in the drug industry spend their time not actually turning out drugs—but checking on the quality of the products the other 80 per cent are producing, the magazine New Medical Materia reports.

Finland, smaller than California, has 60,000 lakes.

Call Off Their Practice

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI) — A scheduled practice session on an abandoned house was spoiled for volunteer firemen in suburban Brighton three days before the event when the house caught fire and burned to the ground. The cause was not determined.

2 Boys Die in Mishap

ACWORTH, Ga. (UPI) — Two young school boys were killed Wednesday when they ran across a road to catch a bus and were struck by a car driven by a 16-year-old girl. Authorities ruled the accident unavoidable.

About 75 per cent of Connecticut's total population is concentrated in three of the state's eight counties, pointing to urban trends.

Problem Movies Export False Picture of U.S.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

THOMAS

Says Price: "Whatever good will Americans have engendered over the years is virtually wiped out by the kind of picture we are sending to Europe nowadays. We used to give them entertainment. Now we send them problems.

★ ★ ★

"We are giving them a sort of Tennessee Williams view of America. This is not America as all of us know it.

"But Europeans don't know it, because they judge us by our movies. I had people over there ask me if the United States was undergoing a bad depression. They had gathered so because of our downbeat pictures. It was all I could do to try to convince them that we are more prosperous than ever.

WHERE'S GLAMOUR?

"What has happened to the glamorous movies Hollywood used to make, especially at MGM? They may have been somewhat fanciful, but they were closer to reality than today's downbeat films.

"And they did a better job for us. In those days, every European wanted to come to America. Now they don't."

Price's sentiments coincide with what I encountered on journeys to the Orient and Europe this year. There was puzzlement and dismay over the portrait of America in such films as "I Want to Live," "Butterfield 8," "Inherit the Wind," "Elmer Gantry," "The Fugitive Kind," "The Apartment," etc.

"The ideal picture for us to send abroad is 'Oklahoma!'" Price remarked. "It is cheerful and beautiful and vastly entertaining. True, it doesn't show a picture of contemporary America, but you also judge a nation by its art.

'OKLAHOMA' O.K.

"What we know of ancient Egypt comes from its architecture, its art and its writing. A great deal of how foreigners consider us stems from what kind of art we send them. 'Oklahoma!' is a wonderful example of basically American art form."

Camel Cart Driver Excited at U.S. Trip

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Bashir Ahmad has sworn on the Koran before his wife and four children that he will not look at another woman during his visit to the United States.

★ ★ ★

But the 44-year-old camel cart driver is having trouble convincing other jealous members of his clan that he won't go astray on the trip he is making at the invitation of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. And his good fortune has aroused considerable jealousy among his associates.

Armed police have been posted outside Bashir's hut since he reported receiving death threats.

Bashir is all set to leave by plane Saturday, but his relatives think he will come home with the big head. They fear that in the foreign land he will eat pork and ham and drink intoxicating liquor —all forbidden to Moslems. They threaten to ostracize him on his return.

Bashir's three sons and his daughter are excited about his journey—but not his wife. She's afraid he will marry a "maim"—a white woman.

TAKES AN OATH

"What will happen to my four children and who will support me and feed them if he brings a white wife with him?" she moaned.

★ ★ ★

So Bashir took an oath that he would remain faithful and he promised his children he would bring back a cap and a pair of shoes for each of them as a present.

★ ★ ★

Johnson noticed the gray-haired camel cart driver on the roadside during the vice president's visit to Karachi in May. Johnson suggested Bashir visit the United States and a Pakistani newspaper seized on the idea. A group of American businessmen agreed to finance the trip under the people-to-people program.

★ ★ ★

For his trip to the United States he will wear the jinnah, a fur cap named for Pakistan's founder, a long coat known as a "sherwani" and flowing baggy trousers called "shilwar." But his new shoes hurt his feet since he has never worn shoes before.

He is taking a model of his camel cart as a gift for Johnson to "remind him of his visit to Pakistan and our binding friendship."

'U.S. Working at Disarmament'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the United States "will work diligently to move the world along the road toward disarmament."

Rusk told the United Church Women's convention Wednesday night that the United States once had a monopoly on atomic weapons "but we were willing to put these weapons aside and share with the world our knowledge of the peacetime uses of atomic energy."

★ ★ ★

He said there would have been no nuclear arms race "but for Soviet obstructionism."

Rusk said this nation will stand firm in direct dealings with the Soviets, in building an Atlantic alliance and in working with the United Nations.

He said the paramount objective of our new program of helping underdeveloped nations is to foster long-range social and economic development.

In an interview prior to his address, Rusk said the United States is consulting with Latin-American governments on the problem of Cuba.

Rusk said there is no prospect of peaceful coexistence with Cuba and that the Cuban problem is not negotiable.

Won't Let Smells Prevent Weddings

NEW DELHI (AP) — An Indian alderman has come to the rescue of some girls who, he said, were being sniffed right out of matrimony.

★ ★ ★

Ganpat Ram Vaid opposed a move to shift a city slaughterhouse to the suburban village of Badli. He pointed out that Badli already has a public dumping ground—a bad smell—and a surplus of unmarried girls.

Vaid said the dump, the smell and the lack of bridegrooms were all connected. He claimed that young men who came courting at Badli were likely to be repelled, and demanded:

"Must we further reduce the matrimonial prospects of the girls of Badli?"

★ ★ ★

MSU Suffering From Crowded Living Conditions

EAST LANSING (UPI)—A record enrollment at Michigan State University has created over-crowded living conditions, both on and off campus, officials report.

Men's dormitories which normally house 4,127 were accommodating 4,909 and women's dorms which were built for 4,141 have 5,159 coeds living in them, housing officials said.

★ ★ ★

The coed's living conditions were alleviated somewhat this fall when the opening of the women's wing of Case Hall cut the percentage of women living three to a room from 60 to 40 per cent, the officials said.

Bob Scheffing Named Manager of the Year

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Could Pontiac support a pro football team?

No, the Lions aren't planning to move, nor is any team in the NFL looking for another "gold mine" city like Green Bay, a city of 60,000 which has a sellout for every home game at 36,000 people.

There has been talk that the Detroit Redskins of the American Football Conference would like to establish a home base in Pontiac.

Reasons are Wisner Stadium and hope for local support. Other teams in the conference include the Port Huron Raiders, Sarnia Bears, Cincinnati Indians, Massilon Tigers, Columbus Colts, Toledo Tornadoes and Dayton Triangles.

Currently, the Redskins, coached by Joel Mason, play their games at Melvindale where they draw only a handful of fans for their Saturday night games.

The thought was given to move their home games to U. of D. Stadium, but again it was felt that Detroit would support only the Lions.

Wisner Stadium would offer the best seating of any prep field within striking distance of Detroit. In order to have financial success, the Redskins would have to draw at least an average of 3,000 fans per game.

Whether or not Pontiac would support a team as such would remain to be seen, but it couldn't be any worse than the situation at Melvindale.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Interest in the talk about re-alignment of prep leagues in Oakland County has stirred interest from other cities and leagues.

At a recent writers' meeting, these were some of the comments made by sports people from Monroe, Saginaw, Royal Oak and Detroit.

SAGINAW WRITER: "Saginaw school administrators have long been against Pontiac staying in the Valley. The attitude is the same in Bay City. It's too far for us to travel, and besides we will be lucky to have 900 people for the game when Pontiac plays Saginaw."

MONROE: "If we had as many class A schools as Oakland County, we wouldn't hesitate to quit the Border Cities League. There is very little interest in some of our league games, but we have no other league to play in."

ROYAL OAK: "We don't draw beans when Dondero plays Monroe or some other teams in the Border Cities. There's too much costly travel involved and besides we could draw much better crowds with schools like Ferndale, Berkley, Southfield or Pontiac."

DETROIT: "A Woodward league as suggested from Pontiac to Ferndale would certainly have crowd and sports page appeal. Rivalry and close competition would make it the most interesting league in this part of Michigan."

DETROIT: "Such a league from Pontiac to Ferndale in Oakland County, where the longest distance of travel might be 12 or 15 miles, would be an ideal setup for a league, especially today when school officials dislike the idea of their students driving 60 to 100 miles for a Friday night game."

Wings Take On Leafs in NHL Home Opener

Strengthened by the summer acquisition of veterans Ed Litzenberger and Bill Gadsby, the Detroit Red Wings, last season's fourth place finishers but playoff finalists, open the 1961-62 NHL season tonight against Toronto at Olympia at 8 o'clock.

The Red Wings follow up the inaugural with a home and home set with the Stanley Cup champion Chicago Black Hawks, Saturday at 8:00 p.m. in Detroit and Sunday at 7:30 at Chicago.

Litzenberger came to the Wings from Chicago while Gadsby, a 15-year vet, was obtained from New York. Other than these two, coach Sid Abel has a holdover squad ready for the new campaign.

Detroit will use the two-goalie system once again with Terry Sawchuk and Hank Bassen dividing the chores as directed by Abel. On defense with Gadsby are All-Star Marcel Pronovost, 10-year man Warren Godfrey, Pete Goegan and sophomores Gerry Odrowski, and Howie Young.

Up front, the Red Wings have a strong first line of captain Gordie Howe, who warmed up for his 16th NHL season by scoring a hat-trick in the 14th and final pre-season game Monday, left wing Alex Delvecchio and Litzenberger at center.

Other forwards working together are Norm Ullman, Vic Stasiuk and Al Johnson, the team's hottest unit during the exhibition schedule; and rookie Bruce MacGregor, Val Fonteyne and Howie Glover. Spares are Leo LaBine and Parker MacDonald. John McKenzie has been sent to Hershey as of Wednesday morning.

Toronto starts with two missing injured regulars, Bert Olmstead and Larry Hillman. Replacing them are former Red Wings Al Barbour, drafted from Chicago, and Bill Dineen, up from the AHL. The Leafs ended second in 1960-61, two points back of Montreal, but Detroit knocked them off in five games in the playoff semi-finals.

"I felt a little off on my skating out there but our guys got the goals and that's what counts."

The combination led the Rangers to a 6-2 victory over the rookie-packed Bruins in Boston Wednesday night, New York striking for four goals in the second period as the league opened the 1961-1962 campaign.

Harvey, nine-time NHL all star defenseman, scored what the Bruins considered the "big goal of the night. Doug lifted a 30-foot heavy in the second period, with the score knotted 1-1, and the puck caromed off Boston defenseman Doug Mohn's hip past rookie goalie Don Head.

"I still haven't seen that goal," said Phil Watson sadly. Watson, former Ranger coach, is at the Boston helm this season, replacing Milt Schmidt.

The Rangers tallied four times in less than eight minutes of the second frame. Three of them came within 2 minutes, 16 seconds.

Yankees Start Contract Talks

Houk Signs for 2 Years at $40,000 Per; Arroyo Gets Bonus

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, happily paying the price of their 19th World Series championship, are expected to sign Manager Ralph Houk to a two year contract today at an estimated $40,000 a season.

The champs, who set the trend Wednesday by handing relief ace Luis Arroyo a bonus reported at $5,000 for his performance during the 1961 season, have called a press conference at which Houk's signing is expected to be announced.

The 42-year-old fighting major is anxious to get started on a no-telephone, much-fishing junket to Florida and Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey indicated the club is just as anxious to get him under contract before he heads South.

Houk signed a one-year contract for about $30,000 when he succeeded Casey Stengel as Yankee manager last fall. That he'll be back in charge next year and probably 1963 as well has been taken for granted. He is the third freshman manager in baseball history to win a World Series.

★ ★ ★

The bonus to Arroyo, who made 65 relief appearances, had a 15-5 record, saved 19 other games, won the fourth game of the World Series and spent all season as Whitey Ford's second wind, unprecedented for the Yankees.

Congolese Too Serious About Their Soccer

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Minister of Youth and Sport, Michel Mongali, rapped the Congolese for taking their soccer too seriously.

A man should play football to relax his mind and spirit—not to win, he asserted.

"But here in Leopoldville it is no secret that the sporting instinct is lacking among many footballers and their supporters," declared the Minister in an official statement.

"Referees, linesmen and players are frequently attacked and some football fans even go as far as to burn cars, stone houses and threaten people with death.

"I must draw attention to the anti-social and unsporting character of this behavior."

The result of this sort of conduct last weekend was four broken feet, four broken legs and numerous dislocations, reported the minister.

"From now on," urged Mongali, "Let us strive to be more sportingly correct."

New Western Loop Has Six Universities

DENVER (AP) — Formation of the Western Athletic Conference was completed Wednesday by presidents of six major universities of the Rocky Mountain region.

The conference, which will formally replace the Skyline next July 1, includes four Skyline members and two Border Conference pullouts.

For all six common-interest schools, the new league offers assurance of greater crowds and greater income, more stability in athletics and the promise of closer dealings in college affairs other than athletics.

The six are Wyoming, Utah, Arizona State University, Arizona, New Mexico and Brigham Young of Provo, Utah.

Talk About Carry Back Ready for Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—The Carry Back controversy is back again today—did he pull up with soreness after finishing third Wednesday in the $54,600 Lawrence Realization at Aqueduct Race Track? Will his racing days be numbered?.

Or was the colorful colt most everyone had awarded the 3-year-old championship just having an off day in this gruelling mile and five eighths race?

Jack Price of Miami, who trains Carry Back for his wife Katherine, says the horse apparently is OK. Others believe Carry Back will be having a vacation for a while.

MANAGER'S TOP FAN — Mary Scheffing, wife of Detroit Tiger manager Bob Scheffing and his top fan, gives him a happy kiss on learning he was named American League Manager-of-the-Year in the annual Associated Press poll. The couple arrived at their Scottsdale, Ariz., home Wednesday night. Scheffing said his players deserved the honor more than he.

Tiger Skipper Easy Winner Beating Houk

Detroit Boss Gets 105 of 174 AP Votes in Poll of Writers

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Scheffing, a weather-beaten ex-catcher who'd been fired by the Chicago Cubs, became manager of the Detroit Tigers before the 1961 season knowing he faced an obstacle course.

He took over one of baseball's most mixed-up clubs, guided it to second place and Wednesday was named the American League's Manager of the Year in The Associated Press' annual poll.

★ ★ ★

"I'm grateful to the fellows on the team," Scheffing said when he learned of the honor on arrival at his home in Scottsdale, Ariz., Wednesday night. "They deserve the award, not me."

Scheffing said he was very happy about the award. He added that he expected the Tigers to have about the same club next season as they had this year.

"But we've got to improve our pitching and bench," he said. "Our hitting is good. But we have to improve our defense, too."

Scheffing was confronted by many problems when he came to Detroit:

—Seven other men had held his job in the previous nine seasons. None was able to get the Tigers above fourth place.

—Detroit had finished sixth in 1960 and there wasn't promise for much improvement in 1961.

The front office was cleaning up after a season of turmoil. John E. Fetzer had just assumed majority ownership of the club. Bill DeWitt had been let out as president after a turbulent one-year rule.

—He would have to embark on a rebuild-with-youth porgram. Fetzer gave him a two-year contract to show his ability.

—He was a second choice. Casey Stengel, let loose just a few weeks before by the New York Yankees, was Fetzer's first choice.

"I don't mind it at all," said Scheffing the day he was introduced last November as the Tigers' new manager. "I'd like to be second to Stengel all the time."

Scheffing received 105 votes from 174 voting members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. Second to Scheffing was Ralph Houk, the man who replaced Stengel as manager of the Yankees. Houk received 62 votes. Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels received six and Jimmie Dykes, fired recently by the Cleveland Indians, one. The voting was based on regular season play with the Yankees' victory in the World Series not considered.

"Bob deserves this honor more than anyone," said Rick Ferrell Tiger vice president and the man Fetzer placed in charge of finding a manager. "He had a fine year and we're real proud of him."

Under Scheffing, the Tigers spurted at the start of the season, leading the league most of the way until late July. They kept close to the Yankees through August and started their long expected tailspin Sept. 1 at New York. They lost a three-game series to the Yankees and fell out of the race, finishing eight games behind.

Scheffing was fired in 1959 after three years of managing the Cubs.

Rams Also Need Victory Sunday

Lions Now Play to 'Save-the-Season'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Couple salvage crews which are affiliated with the National Football League will get together for a "save-the-season" party at Tiger Stadium Sunday.

The Detroit Lions, after a great start on the road, must start salvaging a victory or two out of the four game stand after a pair of consecutive setbacks.

Two of the LA defeats were by close margins, 27-24 to Baltimore and 21-17 to Chicago. The victory was a 24-14 verdict over the Steelers. The other setback, as was in the Lions' case, was a 35-0 shotgun blast at the hands of the 49ers.

Who will be at quarterback for the Lions remains to be seen and the way coach George Wilson feels about the situation he may make his choice with a flip of the coin.

Neither Earl Morrall nor Jim Ninowski have been effective in the four regular season games thus far. The Lions are at the bottom of the statistical column in passing in the NFL. Because of this, the pass receivers are also out of the top 10. Jim Gibbons and Earl Cogdill, two of the best receivers, have literally been ignored by the quarterbacks.

The Los Angeles story is just as weird. The Rams have been considered to have a highly potent offense with Ollie Matson, Jon Arnett and Tom Wilson, yet they are at the bottom of the Western Division running statistics.

Coach Bob Waterfield expects this fine array of backs to break out in a rash of yardage and scoring. The Rams have had no complaints about the quarterbacking from Zeke Bratkowski and Frank Ryan. Bratkowski has a 57.4 completion record in the NFL with 39 completions in 68 attempts.

The Lions will be without the services of field goal specialist Jim Martin who suffered a hairline shoulder fracture against the Bears. Wayne Walker proved to be a satisfactory replacement for kickoff duties however. He boomed three kicks out of the end zone against the Bears last Sunday, thereby prohibiting any runbacks.

The two games last year between the two teams were exact opposites. LA, by virtue of five pass interceptions, rolled over Detroit, 48-35 on the coast. In Tiger Stadium they looked like two great defensive teams as the Lions eked out a 12-10 victory.

Game time Sunday is 1:30 p.m. and the ticket windows will have reserved and bleacher seats on sale starting at 11:00 a.m.

U.S. Davis Cup Netters Prep for Interzone Finals

ROME (AP) — A determined U.S. tennis team vowed today to jar confident Italians who expect their Davis Cup squad to beat the American easily in the interzone final.

The Americans were not predicting victory for themselves, as Italian sports writers and tennis buffs were doing for Italy. But the Americans were not conceding either.

Many Italians were forecasting a 5-0 victory once play starts Friday. One was Marquis Ferrante Cavriani, a former non-playing captain of the Italian Davis Cup team and now an official of the Italian Tennis Federation.

Told of the marquis's prediction, Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., said:

"If I were them, I would not bet on it."

★ ★ ★

David Freed, non-playing captain of the American team, admitted the Italians had the edge "on paper." But he said the encounter was wide open.

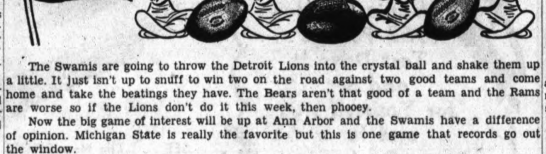

Other members of the American team—Jon Douglas, of Santa Monica, Calif., Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Martin Riessen of Evanston, Ill.—were equally confident in their ability to halt the favored Italians.

Italian sports writers noted that the United States in playing without two of its top amateur players—Chuck McKinley and Bernard Bartzen—while an Italian team of Sirola and Pietrangeli had beaten a stronger United States team in the interzone final last year. At that time Barry MacKay, now a professional, was playing for the United States.

After four days of strenuous workouts on the red clay courts at the Rome Tennis Club, where the matches will be played, Freed today scheduled only a light workout.

Competition will start Friday at 6:30 a.m. EST.

Off The Grape Vine

The Swamis are going to throw the Detroit Lions into the crystal ball and shake them up a little. It just isn't up to snuff to win two on the road against two good teams and come home and take the beatings they have. The Bears aren't that good of a team and the Rams are worse so if the Lions don't do it this week, then phooey.

Now the big game of interest will be up at Ann Arbor and the Swamis have a difference of opinion. Michigan State is really the favorite but this is one game that records go out the window.

The picks look so easy on the Grapevine this week, that is until about midnight Friday, then the question 'rises—wha' hoppen?

Gross Second on Offense for Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — Their teams are not among the nation's top 10, but James Earl Wright of Memphis State and Pete Pedro of West Texas State are accounting for a lot of scoring.

Wright has passed for nine touchdowns and scored seven others for a total of 16 in four games, while Pedro has tallied 12 touchdowns in three games.

Pedro is the rushing offense leader with 494 yards, supplanting Furman's Tom Campbell who has 404.

Wright, a senior quarterback from Columbus, Miss., has taken over the individual total offense lead from Detroit's idle Gerald Gross. Wright has a total of 671 yards, 516 from passing.

★ ★ ★

Hugh Campbell of Washington State, 1960 pass catching leader, is back in that spot for the first time this season with 20 receptions in three games for 295 yards.

★ ★ ★

Titans Play Old Rival in Homecoming Contest

DETROIT—Homecoming seems to be a jinx when University of Detroit and Boston College meet each other and in the alltime series between the schools there have been some bitterly fought contests.

Friday night it will be Detroit's homecoming for the third time against Boston College. The previous two, in 1952 and 1954 were won by the Eagles 23-20 and 12-7. Last year at Boston, the Titans spoiled homecoming with a 19-17 victory.

This season has turned out to be a bitter disappointing start for the Boston team. Picked to be one of the best in the East and given a chance for a bowl bid, probably the Gator Bowl, the Eagles started out with a 33-0 win over Cincinnati and have been whipped in their last two games by Northwestern and Houston.

Detroit coach Jim Miller is fearful Boston College may be angry enough to attempt to salvage the rest of the season.

The Eagles have one of the biggest lines in collegiate football. They have four tackles who average 255 pounds, including a pair of 270 pounders. From end to end they average 230 pounds.

★ ★ ★

U. of D. will depend on its smaller but speedier line and of course the passing arm of Jerry Gross, who will be out to regain the NCAA offensive total leadership. In two games he has amassed 500 total yards. The leader, Jim Wright of Memphis State, has four games under his belt with 671 yards.

Boston College's quarterback Jim VanGott is also among the total offense leaders despite the 1-3 record of the team. He has 402 yards in three games.

Pontiac's Jim Shorter has turned out to be one of the top offensive players on the team. He leads the team in rushing and is running a close second to captain Steve Stonebreaker for pass receiving honors. Both Shorter and Stonebreaker have caught six passes but the latter has the edge in yardage 96-93.

This game is figured by coach Miller as one of the key games of the season. He has the fear that the Titans may be looking ahead to next week when they host Navy in Tiger Stadium.

The kickoff in Titan Stadium Friday night is 8:15 p.m. and about 20,000 are expected for the homecoming celebration.

Rassling Back at Armory

Professional rassling returns to the Pontiac Armory Friday night with 3 matches on the schedule. Leaping Larry Chene faces Chauncey Pringle and Wee Davis Duncan meets Precival Pringle in a couple single bouts.

★ ★ ★

Lions Sets Records With Pontiac

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., set world records for one and four laps over a mile and one-half race track at Charlotte Motor Speedway Wednesday and won the pole position for Sunday's National 400-mile race for late model stock cars.

Pearson, in a 1961 Pontiac, toured the high-banked asphalt course at 139.032 miles per hour for one lap and 138.577 m.p.h. for four laps.

He broke the one lap mark of 138.710 set May 24 by Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla., and his own four-lap mark of 138.381 set the same day.

Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach, also in a '61 Pontiac and the third driver to qualify, broke the old records an hour before. His one lap average was 138.746 and a four-lap figure of 138.497.

I. L. President Thinks Baseball Is in Trouble

MONTREAL (AP)—Harry Simmons, secretary of the International League, says baseball men are going to have to make a study of North America's social habits to save the game.

"Social patterns have changed and left baseball no longer in a position to compete for the entertainment dollar and hour," he said Tuesday night in disclosing the Class AAA league took another attendance drop this season.

The drop was 10 per cent to 1,244,000. That's little more than half of what the league drew in its peak year of 1946. In terms of cash, it meant an operating loss of at least $300,000.

A decrease of almost 24 per cent in aggregate attendance for the eight-club league was recorded the previous year.

Angels Release Klu, Bridges and Rice

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have cut three veterans from their roster in an attempt to better their eighth place finish in the American League last season.

Given their outright release Wednesday were first baseman Ted Kluszewski, who had a $30,000 contract; catcher Del Rice and infielder Rocky Bridges.

Walled Lake at Waterford

PNH Vs. Farmington

By CHUCK ABAIR

Pontiac Northern heads into the 3rd weekend of Inter-Lakes football play needing victories the rest of the way to keep alive any championship hopes.

The Huskies should be able to bounce back Friday night at Wisner against winless Farmington although the Falcons have been improving slowly.

Co-leaders Walled Lake and Berkley will be playing on foreign fields. The Vikings are expected to run into a fired-up Waterford contingent in a battle of old rivals. The Bears are at Southfield in what could be the best game of the night if the Jays look anything like they did last week.

Key games are also on tap in the Wayne-Oakland, Oakland B and Tri-County leagues.

Unpredictable West Bloomfield will be trying to put a dent in Northville's title plans at Keego Harbor. Holly will seek its 3rd straight success at home against up-and-down Clarenceville, Clarkston attempts to rebound as host to Brighton and Bloomfield is back home in the afternoon to meet Milford rounding out the W-O slate.

Avondale surprised by gaining a tie with favored Troy in its Oakland B opener a week ago. Tomorrow the Jackets entertain Madison. Troy will invade Clawson while Lake Orion makes its debut in loop action at Oak Park.

Romeo at Lapeer is a big one in the Tri-County. How well the Bulldogs have recovered from the walloping by Rochester may determine the outcome of this one. Kettering will be at L'Anse Creuse.

In the Eastern Michigan, Birmingham Seaholm makes its 4th try at gaining a victory playing high-powered Ferndale, Mt. Clemens and Port Huron tangle in an expected close one. Hazel Park should get back on the winning side at East Detroit.

Oxford will be resuming South Central action as host to North Branch. Imlay City will be out to make it 3-0.

Utica goes to Center Line, Royal Oak Dondero vs Dearborn Fordson, South Lyon plays Lutheran West, Groves is at Dearborn Haston, Country Day vs Whitmore Lake and Lamphere meets Lutheran West.

Emmanuel Christian will keep up the busy schedule at Wisner taking on Grosse Pointe University School Saturday night. EML power RO Kimball vs Oakland B favorite Fitzgerald. Cranbrook plays its Inter-State opener tomorrow morning against Nichols at Buffalo.

Table Tennis Loop to Start Tonight

The Pontiac Table Tennis League, one of the largest groups in Michigan, gets under way tonight at Pontiac Central High with 12 teams and 100 players participating. The league is sponsored by the Pontiac Recreation Department.

Officers for the 1961-62 season include: Perc Secord, president; Adolph Magnus, first vice-president; Sidney Briton and John Stevens, second and third vice-presidents; Ralph Irish, secretary treasurer and Carl Knaack, advisory.

Member teams include: Seaman Mfg., Capital Barber, Midwest Ambulance, Frostop Drive Inn, A&W Root Beer, Crocker Candy, Fox Cleaners, Aluminum Sales, State Hospital, Ice & Fuel, Nutrilite and Dorris & Son. Anyone who wishes to participate can call Secord at FE 8-4800.

Quick Starting Car

STANTON (AP) — Nick Bakewell, an Akron, Ohio, schoolteacher, will be shooting for 210 miles per hour Sunday when he drives a 7,000-horsepower car named the green monster at the Central Michigan Dragway. The car is powered by a jet engine made for a navy fighter plane and has previously hit speeds of 230 and 247 miles an hour on other tracks.

Winless Thumb Elevens Battle at Almont Friday

By DON VOGEL

"I hope we don't fumble on our 10-yard line and at the same time I hope they fumble on their three," said Dryden's Bob Mason.

"We'll have 11 players on the field, but only a handful on the bench," is the word from Almont's Bill Briggs.

These comments from the opposing coaches just about sum up Friday's Southern Thumb League game at Almont. A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand for the 8 p. m. kickoff.

There will be full stands at the other three league games Friday. Capac is host to Armada, Brown City plays at Anchor Bay and Memphis is at New Haven. The six teams competing in these games are tied for first place.

Although neither team has won a game this season, Almont hasn't won since 1959, the game between Dryden and Almont is natural rivalry that always draws well.

"That's about the only thing you can say about the game — it's a big rivalry," commented Mason. "Let's face the facts. Both teams are way down this year.

"I feel the outcome will be determined on breaks. Almont has a good passing attack and pass defense is our weak point. We have been using eight freshmen most of the time and this lack of experience has hurt us. Everytime we seem to get something started, there is a penalty."

Mason singled out freshmen Larry Panduren and Bill Harley, both backs for special praise and had some good words for 297-pound sophomore guard Fred Yorks.

"He's a big man in the center of our line. We use him exclusively on defense. Fred isn't very mobile, but he has a lot of desire."

An eligibility problem has hit Almont this season.

"We only have 22 players in uniform, and each week five to eight of them have been scholastically ineligible," said Briggs. "This week will be no exception. There will be 16 dressed for the game."

"We have been playing good ball for the most part," he said, "but every time we get something started, the other team intercepts a pass and runs for a touchdown or we fumble."

Senior quarterback Bill Harris will be the key player on the field for the Raiders. He is an excellent passer and recorded 18 tackles in the loss to Armada last week.

Neither team has shown much offense. Almont hasn't dented the scoreboard since it posted seven points against Ortonville in the first game. Dryden has been blanked the last two times and has 13 points to its credit.

Almont will have a weight advantage. The Raiders front line will average about 196 pounds compared to 143 for Dryden. The appearance of Yorks on defense will help offset the deficit.

Milford Wins Wayne-Oakland Harrier Crown

Milford literally ran away with the Wayne-Oakland League cross country championship Wednesday.

Runing on his home course, Milford's Ted Nelson was first to cross the finish line in the league meet. Milford also took the next two places.

This gave the Redskins 22 points, Trailing far behind were West Bloomfield 7, Clarenceville 74, Boomfield Hills 91, Clarkston 118 and Northville 142.

A strong wind kept Nelson's time at 10:46 for the two miles. This is over a half a minute slower than his best effort this season.

W-O MEET

1. Nelson (M), 10:46; 2. John Heuriblse (M); 3. Joe Veresh (M); 4. Mike Orulke (WB); 5. Bob Smith (BH); 6. Larry Wehner (Clv); 7. Bob Paught (M); 8 Jim Ward (WB); 9. Rick Adams (M); 10. Jerry Clark (Clv); 11. Tom Harpendarner (BH); 12 Dan Craven (Clk); 13. Jim Rue (M); 14. Larry House (M); 15. Lee Carcaran (Clv).

Pony Backs Lead MSU

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Shades of Michigan State's pony backfield, which carried the Spartans to the top of the football world in the early 1950s, are seen prancing around the MSU corral preparing for Saturday's encounter with Michigan at Ann Arbor.

The ponies—three sophomores and a junior—have been highly instrumental in Michigan State's two wins this year and their speed will be counted on to offset Michigan's fast backfield combination of Bennie McRae and Dave Raimey.

Michigan State Athletic Director Biggie Munn, who coached MSU when it lost only one game in 1951, '52 and '53, said the four reminded him of his pony backfield of that era.

"Particularly Sherman Lewis reminds me of Leroy Bolden and George Saimes of Evan Slonac," Munn said. "The four look to me to be almost as fast as my ponybacks. I like their explosiveness."

Lewis, the smallest of the current herd of ponies at 154 pounds and 5-9, has gained 120 yards in 20 carries. The sophomore halfback from Louisville, Ky., has scored one touchdown.

Saimes, a 180-pound fullback from Canton, Ohio, has bolted to three touchdowns while gaining 119 yards in 17 carries. He is a junior.

The other new pony who has played regularly is Dewey Lincoln, out of Hamtramck, who paced all Spartan rushers in the win over Stanford Saturday with 85 yards in 10 carries. He scored one TD.

Bill Yeoman, Michigan State's backfield coach, said, "Lewis will run about even with McRae and Raimey. Lincoln is not as fast. But Saimes is faster than Bill Tunnicliff and Ken Tureaud, Michigan's fullbacks."

The fourth small Spartan back is sophomore Ron Rubick, who scored 184 points in his senior football season at Manistique High School. While not playing as regularly as Saimes, Lewis or Lincoln, he has gained 57 yards in five carries—more than 11 yards average per try.

★ ★ ★

"We're not afraid to stick Rubick into the game in any situation," Yeoman said.

With all the talk about Michigan State's sensational sophomore and junior backs, what has happened to the veteran backfield which started the season for the Spartans?

"Nothing," Yeoman said. The vets are contributing to the attack and doing a good job. Don't think there isn't a place for Gary Ballman, Carl Charon (the senior halfbacks) and Ron Hatcher (the senior fullback).

Hatcher has scored one touchdown and gained 40 yards in 12 line plunges, while Ballman, from East Detroit, has run 60 yards in 11 attempts. Charon, Boyne City, has toted the ball 10 times to rack up 51 yards.

Player Eyes $20,000 Ontario Open Purse

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—Play got underway today in the inaugural $20,000 Ontario Open Golf Tournament, with Masters champion Gary Player generally favored to add the winner's purse to his bulging bankroll.

The 72-hole tournament winds up Sunday. Par is 70 for the 6,800-yard course.

McRae Having Best Year in Wolverine Backfield

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Benny McRae, Michigan halfback who finally got the "long gainer" against Army that had eluded him for two seasons, is United Press International's midwest back of the week.

★ ★ ★

McRae, a lean, six-footer, played only two quarters in the Wolverines' 38-8 romp over the previously unbeaten Cadets Saturday but left considerable wreckage behind when he departed with a slightly bruised leg muscle.

★ ★ ★

He rushed for 95 yards in nine carries for a 10.5 yard average and scored the Wolverines' second touchdown in the second period on a beautiful, twisting scamper through the Army secondary for 47 yards.

Running comes naturally to the 21-year-old senior from Newport News, Va. One of the big Tyn's fastest backs at 185 pounds he holds both the conference indoor hurdles titles and is a 120-yard outdoor champion.

Oddly enough, prior to the Army game, the "long gaining play"—as McRae puts it—always had eluded him. "I like that long gainer," McRae says. "I love to run away from guys."

★ ★ ★

But while he didn't run away from too many "guys" during his first two years in Wolverine uniform, McRae streaked through enemy yardage for heavy short yardage.

In his sophomore year, hailed as the fastest halfback to hit Ann Arbor since 1957 All-American Jim Pace, McRae played 144 minutes, scored two touchdowns and averaged 3.2 yards on 76 plays.

Although he hit a scoring drought which lasted through his junior year, he led the Wolverines in rushing last season with 353 yards in 80 carries.

He finally broke his touchdown famine two weeks ago in the Wolverines' opening victory over UCLA, 29-6, from four yards out.

★ ★ ★

Against the Bruins, he compiled 74 yards on 12 carries for a 6.1 average and the individual rushing leadership of both teams for the day—a feat he duplicated Saturday against Army.

★ ★ ★

McRae's injury is not expected to keep him out of this weekend's crucial battle with cross-state rival Michigan State, but he said after the Army game that the leg "pained quite a bit at times."

But, he added, "I couldn't think of anything else but getting behind that secondary."

Dodgers Name Alston Boss Again in 1962

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Walt Alston, quiet-spoken former school-teacher, will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers again next year as they move into their new stadium in Chavez Ravine.

Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi announced Wednesday night that the 49-year-old Alston, a resident of tiny Darrtown, Ohio, will lead the Los Angeles club for the ninth consecutive season. He started in 1954 when Charlie Dressen quit because the Dodgers wouldn't give him a long-term contract.

Alston has been operating on a year-to-year basis ever since and has accounted for three National League championships, two world championships, two seconds, a third, fourth and seventh place. He is the oldest manager in the National League in point of service.

The Dodgers finished second this year, going into a 10-game tailspin after taking a two-game lead over Cincinnati. The team had an unusually long string of injuries and the retirement of relief pitcher Ed Roebuck because of a sore arm added to Alston's problems.

★ ★ ★

There were rumors late in the season and during the World Series that Alston might not be rehired, but Bavasi said there was no basis for them. There may be certain changes in the coaching staff, but Bavasi said he and Alston would discuss the coaching situation in a few days when they meet to plan for the 1962 season.

Hunters Bring Crocodiles Back Tied and Gagged

KAMPALA, Uganda (UPI) — A highly successful new method of crocodile hunting is reported from Uganda's West Nile District. The hunters paddle hollowed-out logs through the papyrus swamps at night, trailing decayed fish as a lure.

When a crocodile comes alongside, one man dazzles it with a powerful torch while the other stuns it momentarily with a club.

Before the crocodile has time to recover, the hunters bind its jaws and lash its tail alongside the dug-out.

"The advantage of this method," explained a local administrator, is that they can collect several crocodiles on one trip. If they killed the crocodile they would have to return immediately or the skin would spoil.

★ ★ ★

"If the man with the club fails to hit the exact spot, or if the crocodile recovers before they finish tying it up, that's too bad, of course. We advise amateurs not to try this method."

Major Hoople Picks Tougher Each Week

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The Original Man in Motion

Egad! Seldom before in my illustrious career as a football forecaster have I been faced with so many difficult decisions.

Indeed, this is truly a weekend of decision. All across this glorious land of ours titantic struggles are in the offing.

Having been temporarily deserted by the two regular members of my staff, Dr. I. M. Inorbit and Hannibal Wottaburp, both of whom are enjoying a fall holiday, I have been forced to go it alone.

After laboring mightily—hak-kuff—for several days and nights (Ed: Note: Shooting Kelly pool at the Owls Club) the Hoople System is prepared to give you the results of these sectional headliners.

In the East, it will be Penn State over Army, 21-15. In the Midwest, I predict a spinetingling 8-6 victory for Michigan State over Michigan. In the South, powerful Georgia Tech, which this season little resembles a "Ramblin' Wreck," will conquer Duke's Blue Devils, 16-10.

The most nerve-wracking contest of the day will take place in the Southwest, where Oklahoma will triumph, 13-12, over arch rival Texas. In the Far West, California will administer a surprising 20-10 thrashing to Washington — harrumph!

Fortunes Change Sharply for PCH, Flint Northern

SVC Grid Foes, Minus Victory, Collide Friday

Both Were Undefeated a Year Ago When They Met at Wisner

By BILL CORNWELL

What a difference a year makes. Last season Pontiac Central and Flint Northern were undefeated when they tangled in a Saginaw Valley Conference football game at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

Friday night the same two schools butt heads again in Valley warfare, this time at Flint's cavernous Atwood Stadium, and neither team has yet to taste victory during the 1961 campaign.

In one of the most exciting games ever seen at Wisner, Northern won the 1960 clash by a 25-21 margin and then carried on to win the SVC title.

No championships are at stake for either team tomorrow evening in the 31st renewal of a rivalry that dates back to 1931.

The heated rivalry still exists, however, and no letdown of thrills is anticipated when they line up for the 8 p. m. kickoff.

Pontiac Central has only a 13-13 tie at Arthur Hill to show for any kind of a positive effort in four starts. Surrounding the deadlock, the luckless Chiefs have lost to Flint Central (26-6), Bay City Central (19-0), and Midland (7-6).

The Vikings, under new head coach Ed Krupa, have been just as unlucky. Despite some good performances, they're even worse off than the Chiefs after four weeks of action. They've lost all of them.

Northern has been victimized by Midland (13-6), Grand Rapids, Catholic Central (7-6), Bay City Handy (20-13), and Saginaw High (12-0).

Four straight losses, the longest in Northern's proud history, may have the Vikings all fired up for this otherwise meaningless contest.

The defending Valley champions have been extremely difficult for the Chiefs to beat. In 30 previous meetings, the Chiefs have won only five while losing 29 and tying one.

Although Northern has a 0-4 record, it should be noted that three of those setbacks add up to a difference of 15 points against rugged foes.

Unbeaten Bay City Handy, Michigan's No. 1 ranked Class A power, had a hard time conquering the Vikings and so did the Chemics from Midland. Their poorest showing came in the defeat at Saginaw where the Trojans won their first Valley decision since 1957.

Krupa's problems this year rest in the line. The entire 1960 forward wall was graduated and the Viking offense has been unable to move the ball consistently, despite the Herculean efforts of halfback Ed Johnson, a fleet-footed senior who accounts for about 65 per cent of the attack.

The injury problems at PCH are slightly improved this week. Junior guard Wayne Lee, who missed the Arthur Hill and Midland games with a hip injury, will return to the lineup in a defensive capacity. Tackle Jerry Madden, sidelined by a knee injury last week, is not expected to play.

Northern's Sickler Leads State Scorers

By The Associated Press

The Wildcat booter kicked three extra points and a field goal Saturday in the victory over Hillsdale and now has 32 points in four games.

Ferris' Butch Koklay, who scored three touchdowns in a victory over Eastern Illinois, moved into second position with 25 points. Gene Valesano of Northern Michigan didn't score against Hillsdale and fell to third with 24 points. Olivet's Dave Cutler also has 24.

★ ★ ★

Olivet continued to lead the team standings with a 4-0 record as Hillsdale's loss whittled Michigan's list of unbeatens to five. Michigan, Michigan State, Albion and Detroit are in the undefeated ranks along with Olivet.

Still Using Single Wing

AMES, Iowa (AP)—There still are things about the "good old days" that remain hard to beat.

It has lost out in recent years to more picturesque offenses such as the T formation, split T and wing T.

But to Tennessee-trained Clay Stapleton there is only one offense—the single wing.

He has used this ancient formation to turn Iowa State, long a second division team, into a Big Eight Conference contender in each of his four seasons here.

"It gives us an advantage from week to week when we come up against a team that is seeing the single wing for the first time.

"I hope the time comes when I'm the only single wing team in America," the 40-year-old Stapleton says.

Only a handful of teams—UCLA, Tennessee, Penn, Princeton—still run from the power-packed formation synonymous with Tennessee's Gen. Robert Neyland.

"Contrary to the opinion of many coaches who say they can't find a single wing tailback (the key player in the offense)," Stapleton says, "we find this no cause for concern.

"We can pick up a good T halfback and can make a single wing tailback of him."

Stapleton, whose Cyclones are undefeated in three games this fall, has three fine tailbacks—Dave Hoppmann, Madison, Wis., junior and the conference's leading rusher; Ozzie Clay, Hickory, N. C., sophomore, and Dave Hoover, Dallas center, a sophomore who doubles as a fullback.

Are there disadvantages to the single wing?

"The greatest disadvantage is not so much the recruiting but that each time we lose a game we have to justify the offense," he says.

So far the stocky, one-time Tennessee guard has used no alibi.

Robin Roberts Asks Phils for Waiver Release

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Both owner Bob Carpenter and General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies have declined comment about pitcher Robin Roberts asking to leave the club. But the feeling among observers is that he'll be released on waivers or as a free agent.

Wednesday was the first time Roberts stated publicly that he wanted to leave the Phillies but it was said that he had asked Carpenter privately in 1960 to be traded.

"It would be better for everyone if I left the Phillies," Roberts said Wednesday after being bypassed by the two new National League teams in a player draft.

Many baseball observers feel that Roberts wasn't picked because of his salary, reported $35,000. They also point out that New York or Houston will pick him up for much less than the $75,000 in the draft if he is offered on waivers or given his release to negotiate as a free agent.

Jensen's Adviser Doubts His Return

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Professional hypnotist Arthur Ellen, a close advisor of baseball player Jackie Jensen, expressed deep doubt today that the one-time Boston Red Sox slugger will play ball in 1962.

★ ★ ★

"If Jensen is to return, he must lick a deep-rooted personal problem before he can regain his form of 1959 and previous years," said Ellen.

★ ★ ★

Jensen repeatedly has said that fear of flying influenced his retirement moves.

"His fear of flying has now become an innocent sub-conscious excuse for other reasons he might have to leave baseball," Ellen continued. "Hypnotism can go just so far toward helping a person, then the individual has to help himself."

★ ★ ★

Ellen said he could not discuss what he termed Jensen's "personal problem."

Gator Bowl Candidates Headed by Mississippi

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mississippi, the nation's No. 1 football team, heads a list of 10 teams under consideration for the Gator Bowl game Dec. 30.

The selection committee for the bowl game also lists three other Southeastern Conference teams—Alabama, Louisiana State and Georgia Tech; two from the Southwest Conference—Texas and Baylor; two from the Atlantic Coast Conference—Maryland and Duke, and two independents—Navy and Syracuse.

Pontiac Pace Winner

The Last Roundup

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League put Don McIlhenny, veteran back, on waivers Wednesday.

Sparks First Win

Sparked by the addition of Ted Panaretos, Scott Lake recorded its first victory of the season and at the same time handed first-place Lotus Lake its first loss after seven triumphs Tuesday night in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's men's volley ball league at Pierce Junior High.

Lotus won two of three from Scott Lake, 16-14, 15-15, 15-10. Other results: Williams Lake 15-15-15, Stumble Bums 7-2-5, Comets 15-15-15, Pontiac Lake 10-13-11, Wilson Street 15-15-15, Lake Oakland Heights 10-13-10, Bouncers 15-15-15, Highland Estates 8-12-17, and Lake Oakland 11-15-15, Highland Estates 15-6-11.

Northern Michigan Second in UPI Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mississippi Southern, seeking to repeat the small college football championship it won in 1958, led the United Press International ratings today for the second week in a row and Northern Michigan vaulted into the No. 2 spot.

The southerners received nine first place votes from 35 coaches representing seven geographic sections of the country. With the strong support of second, third and fourth place votes, Mississippi Southern had a total of 182 points, an increase of 38 over last week.

Northern Michigan, with four first-place votes and 131 points, jumped all the way from sixth to second place, and Louisiana Tech was only two points behind in third place.

Hillsdale (Mich.), second a week ago, dropped into a tie for 13th place.

'Have Better Chance to Survive'

Favors Machine-Made Marriages

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Marriages are supposed to be made in heaven, but a young psychologist here believes machine-made matings have a better chance for survival.

BOYLE

"They do as much as possible to eliminate chance," said Dr. Eric Riss, 32, who feels a scientific approach to marriage pays off in greater wedded bliss.

Dr. Riss, a Brooklyn College faculty member, is board chairman of Scientific Introduction Service, Inc., which puts his theories into practice—for a price.

KNOWN FOR YEARS

"Sociologists have known for years the factors that go into making a happy marriage, but little was done about it," he said.

★ ★ ★

"There are many cultural pressures to get married at a certain age, but we do little or nothing to help young people make the right choice.

WANTS RATE HIKE

"As a result, only about 50 per cent find in marriage the kind of happiness they expected. I think this figure could be raised to 90 or 95 per cent."

How does a scientific approach to marriage operate? Dr. Riss or his assistants submit each marital prospect to an exhaustive interview to find his likes and dislikes, family background, and goals in life.

The cards are then run through an electronic sorter.

The machine acts as a preliminary, not a final matchmaker. It picks out the people who, according to scientific theory, have the best chances for a successful marriage.

They are then introduced—and it is up to them to decide whether the machine is a prophet, or merely a push-button mechanical busybody.

"We look for personality factors that complement each other as well as those that are alike," Dr. Riss said.

NOT 'JUST-A-LIKES'

"People don't look for someone just like themselves, but for a partner who can fill their needs. For example, a man with a stern outlook on life might need and want a wife with a more relaxed nature."

Here are some of Dr. Riss' findings:

"Perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of people don't really need marriage. They don't have room for it in their lives. They are too much in love with their work, their hobbies —or temselves.

★ ★ ★

"The most important factor is this: Both partners must have the same basic values in life, and share the same philosophic goals, besides being physically attracted.

WOMEN'S CONCERNS

"Women are more concerned about character than appearance in men. They want a husband they can respect and who is brighter and more successful than themselves. This poses a very difficult problem for the very superior woman. Such men are hard to find.

★ ★ ★

"As for men, if a woman isn't physically attractive to them, they aren't particularly interested in her other values. They don't take the trouble to find out."

Does the system work?

"The divorce rate for the United States as a whole is one for every four marriages. There has been less than one divorce for every 500 marriages we have helped arrange on scientific principles.

★ ★ ★

"This is not a cold method—but a real ally to romance. Those who fall in love do so head over heels."

Dr. Riss and his wife, a former medical social worker, have a young son. His card won't go into the marriage machine for some years.

Firefighters Unable to Cook—No Power

PINEDALE, Wyo. (AP)—Plenty of heat was generated from a 420-acre fire in the Bridger National Forest of western Wyoming, but it couldn't be used for cooking meals for the 160-man firefighting crew.

★ ★ ★

A hurried-up call for cooking stoves was sent to forest service headquarters, which promptly sent out a supply of electric stoves.

There was only one hitch. The fire was 10 miles from the nearest power line.

And Just Try to Jail 'Em on Breaking and Entering

Park Supt. L. A. Garrison said rangers made a special effort to warn visitors about the bears this season, adding:

"They are getting so smart they can open car windows."

Garrison said the bears have found they can spring a car window open if the small wind vent window is open wide enough for them to reach in.

Oils, Aircrafts Are Exceptions

Key Stocks Moving Narrowly

NEW YORK (AP)—A jump by Honolulu Oil was a feature of a mixed stock market early Tuesday afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Volume was dampened by semi-holiday conditions due to the Columbus Day observance. Some financial institutions were closed.

★ ★ ★

Changes of most key stocks were narrow but there were a few wide moves.

★ ★ ★

Buyers swarmed into Honolulu Oil on news that a Federal Judge had denied the Justice Department's plea to halt this company's $362 million assets sale.

The stock soared 9¾ points to 35½ on a delayed opening block of 11,000 shares, reaching a new high, and held a 9-point gain as the session wore on.

NO SOLUTION

Some of the aircrafts were higher as President Kennedy reported that he saw no hope of an easy solution of the Berlin crisis. This news was accompanied by word of reinforcement of U.S. troops in Europe.

Motors were off and steels were unchanged to lower.

★ ★ ★

Argo Oil, regarded as a candidate for a deal similar to Honolulu Oil's, was up 4 points at the start then halved the gain.

Despite the reaching of a three-year agreement with the United Auto Workers, Ford continued to drop from its recent high, losing a point or more. General Motors and Chrysler dropped fractions.

A report of a pickup in consumer borrowing may have helped General Finance which rose more than 2 points. CIT Financial, which rose yesterday, was about unchanged.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher in moderate trading. Murray Ohio Manufacturing rose about 3 points and Technical Material about 2. Other gainers included Hazel Bishop, Dome Petroleum, Noma Lites, Cinerama and Gulf American Land.

Corporate Bonds Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The corporate bond market opened mixed today with losses outnumbering gains in rails but with industrials and utilities balanced between losses and gains.

Because of the holiday, there was no trading in government issues.

The biggest advance was in a utility, Consolidated Edison 2⅝s of 1977, which spurted 2½ points to 81. Canadian Pacific 4s perpetual led the rails with a 1⅛-point advance to 74⅜. Seagram 2¼s of 1966 led industrials with a gain of 2 points to 94.

KNOCKED TO GROUND — Carl Hayes, 28, McComb, Miss., plumber, stands over one of two white men he knocked to ground Wednesday while they were watching Negro pupils who left Burgland High School in McComb, protesting the suspension of two pupils. On the ground is Paul Potter of Philadelphia, who was jerked out of the car from the driver's side. The other white man, Tom Hayden of Atlanta, had already been beaten.

Iodine Fallout Found in Food

But Health Service Says Public Has No Worry Yet From N-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fallout from Soviet nuclear tests has introduced radioactive iodine 131 into fresh food supplies in many areas in the southeastern United States and probably throughout the eastern half of the country, the Public Health Service announced today.

"However, present fallout does not warrant undue public concern, nor initiation of public action designed to limit the intake of radioactive substances," Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said.

The service said its announcement was based on analysis of milk in six cities—New Orleans, La.; Atlanta, Ga.; Charleston, S.C.; Jackson, Miss.; Tampa, Fla., and St. Louis, Mo.

The Soviet Union resumed nuclear testing Sept. 1. Since then, according to President Kennedy's disclosure Wednesday at a news conference, the Soviet Union has fired more than 20 nuclear explosions into the atmosphere.

Iodine is a source of potential concern because physicians say extensive overdoses might result in cancer or other injury to the thyroid.

Three weeks ago, the top-level Federal Radiation Council cut sharply its recommended maximum safe limit on the intake of radioactive iodine 131. The cut was recommended particularly for the protection of children.

Under the old standard, a daily intake of up to approximately 1,300 micro-microcuries was considered acceptable. A micro-microcurie is a measure of radioactivity.

Under the council's new recommendations, a range beginning as low as 100 micro-microcuries a day for a year is indicated as a possible danger point that would require the most strincent kinds of control. The council stressed the hazard to small children of concentrations of iodine 131 in their diets, particularly in milk.

Though agriculture still is largely undeveloped in Katanga Province, some cotton, corn and tobacco are grown. Huge cattle ranches stretch over a 6,500-foot-high plateau in the eastern section of the province.

No Rest for Weary

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — About six months after the cremated remains of John Foster, 79, of Brooklyn, N.Y., were cast into Lake Champlain by his brother as requested, the can containing them was snared by two fishermen.

Sales Tax Revenues Point Up Auto Sag

LANSING (UPI) — Sales tax collections during the first nine months of 1961 show this has been a poor car sales year, the secretary of state's office reports.

★ ★ ★

Collections during the period this year totaled $33.7 million against $34.7 million during the same period last year, a drop of $1,009,365. The drop occurred despite a penny increase in the three-cent sales tax last Jan. 1.

There were 555,675 vehicle sales during the nine months, a drop of 159,176 from the 714,851 sales during the similar period in 1960, the department said.

$100 Million Offered in College Scholarships

NEW YORK (UPI)—It is estimated that there are about 690,000 annual college scholarships available today and they are worth about $100 million.

The average scholarship is $145, and all scholarships together account for about 5 per cent of the students' aggregate annual bill for higher education.

Jazzed Up Mass Isn't Cricket, Prelate Rules

LONDON (UPI) — "The arch-bishop's not with it—he's a square," the young choirmaster of St. Cecilia's church said after William Cardinal Godfrey banned the Mass in jazz time the choir had been rehearsing for weeks.

★ ★ ★

The choristers had planned to sing the Mass Oct. 29 for the feast of Christ the King. A number of priests heard it and liked it. But Westminister Cathedral's musical director, Colin Mawby, heard it and ruled it "quite unsuitable for church performance." Cardinal Godfrey, the archbishop of Westminister and Britain's top Roman Catholic prelate, agreed.

★ ★ ★

"I'm most annoyed," said Malcolm Williamson, 29, the composer of the Mass.

Construction Worker Hospitalized With Bends

CHICAGO (UPI) — A Chicago construction worker was hospitalized here today with what medical authorities described as caisson disease — "the bends."

★ ★ ★

James Dixon, 23, was stricken a few hours after his first day on a tunnel construction project 300 feet underground near Mijwaukee. He was rushed to a city decompression chamber, which was hauled to the hospital. Diver Charles Rinck volunteered to operate the chamber and Dixon spent six hours in it.

Worker Beats 2 Newsmen in Southern Race Incident

McCOMB, Miss. (UPI) — Police arrested a husky workman Wednesday night and charged him with dragging two reporters from a car and beating them as they drove alongside Negro antisegregation marchers.

Officers said the white man, Carl Hayes, 28, admitted the attack but claimed the reporters' car almost ran him down and one of the newsmen cursed him.

FBI agents also were investigating to determine if any federal laws were violated in the attack which occurred before about a dozen white spectators, one of them a woman who yelled, "Beat the hell out of them."

The slender newsmen identified themselves as Paul Potter, 22, of Philadelphia and Tom Hayden, 21, of Atlanta. Potter said he was a reporter for the National Student News and Hayden said he was a free-lance reporter.

★ ★ ★

They were driving alongside a band of 57 Negro youths who were marching to a Masonic temple for a meeting after walking out of Burgland High School. It was the fourth walkout in a series touched off by school authorities' refusal to readmit two students who participated in a bus station sit-in here last summer.

PULLED FROM CAR

When they stopped at a traffic light Hayes yanked open the right front door, pulled Potter from the car and struck him several times. Hayes then yelled to Hayden, "Come on out of there," reached across the front seat and pulled him down from under the steering wheel. He knocked him down and, as Hayden held his arms over his head, struck him again.

Several police cars also accompanied the marchers but no officer arrived at the scene of the beatings, in a business section of McComb, until Hayes had driven away in his truck. Several witnesses said the two young men simply fell out of their car. Others said they fought each other. No one professed to recognize the attacker.

The pair, both bruised and one bleeding, went to the police station where they signed affidavits charged the then-unidentified assailant with assault and battery. They were then escorted out of town, at their request, by police and they drove to Jackson, 80 miles north of here, where they had rented the car. They left Jackson Wednesday night for Atlanta.

A photographer who took pictures of the beating left his camera in a car parked in front of the police station and it was broken into and the film removed. However, he had hidden the beating pictures elsewhere.

Wednesday night police arrested Hayes, an employe of a McComb electrical company, and said he admitted the attacks. Charged with assault and battery, Hayes was released under $100 bond. If he wishes, he may forfeit bond and forego a court appearance.

The Judge Misjudged

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — District Judge F. Ryan Duffy Jr. admitted Wednesday he goofed. Duffy said he "inadvertently gave instructions pertaining to a civil rather than a criminal case" to a jury hearing a theft charge against Raymond F. Doyle. The jury found Doyle innocent by a split decision. Duffy ordered another trial.

Army to Control Colombia Nation

President Calls It State of Siege After Rioting Against Government

BOGOTA (UPI) — President Alberto Lleras Camargo clamped martial law on Colombia Wednesday night in hopes of putting a stop to attempts at subversion such as Wednesday's short-lived "lieutenants' revolt."

★ ★ ★

Lleras announced his proclamation of a "state of siege" — equivalent to what other countries call martial law — in a nationwide broadcast.

The decree establishing the national emergency said recent disorders at various points in Colombia had in some cases amounted to virtual "open rebellion" against the government.

"Although all of them have been brought quickly under control, there is always the danger of continued attacks on the nation's democratic institutions," the decree said.

Lleras promised that he would use his emergency powers only to restore order.

★ ★ ★

The president blamed his troubles on a "black international" group including extremists of both left and right — Communists and ex-dictators "retired or in exile."

★ ★ ★

Lleras' reference to ex-dictators appeared to be directed at ex-President Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, who has been campaigning vigorously in the provinces despite an order forbidding him to engage in political activity.

It might also include ex-President Laureano Gomez, who has lived in Spain most of the time since he was overthrown by Rojas.

State Corn Crop Goes Into Silos

Saved Immature Cobs When Frosts Hit in Central, Southern Area

LANSING (AP — Michigan farmers were busy filling silos with corn during the past week, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said Wednesday.

Central and Southern Michigan field corn was hit by frosts in late September and most of the immature corn was going into silos.

The crop was ripening well in Southern Lower Michigan except in Southern Michigan counties where some rain and wind damage was reported. A few farmers started picking corn this week in southern counties.

Wet fields delayed field work in many areas of the state. Soil moisture was reported adequate to surplus in Lower Michigan and adequate to short in the Upper Peninsula.

The dry bean harvest was expected to be completed this week, weather permitting. Harvest of an excellent fall potato crop was continuing with the quality described as excellent.

About one-sixth of the soybean crop was harvested. About 10 per cent of the sugar beet crop was harvested and first yields were above average although the sugar content was below average.

Fall planting of winter wheat made good progress and about 85 per cent of the acreage was in.

The fall apple harvest was well under way in southern counties. The harvest of McIntosh apples also was in full swing in northwestern counties. The harvest of fall vegetables continued active.

Kennedy Flying South to Speak, Watch Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flies to North Carolina today to receive his 21st honorary degree, make a speech and watch airborne troops demonstrate their readiness for combat.

Kennedy was scheduled to take off from National Airport at 9:15 (Eastern Standard Time) for the one-hour flight to Raleigh-Durham airport.

★ ★ ★

Before traveling by motorcade to the University of North Carolina's Kenan Stadium at Chapel Hill, he planned a few remarks at the airport to open the North Carolina Trade Fair in Charlotte.

His airport talk was to be recorded on tape for immediate dispatch to Charlotte and broadcasting at the fair's opening ceremony.

TV Features

By United Press International

FRONTIER CIRCUS, 7:30 p.m. (2). "The Smallest Target" stars Barbara Rush as a circus sharpshooter who meets her ex-husband and their son during a visit to a frontier town.

DR. KILDARE, 8:30 p.m. (4). "Shining Image." A young woman (Suzanne Pleshette) is told that she will die in two weeks. Costars: Raymond Massey and Richard Chamberlain.

MY THREE SONS, 9 p.m. (7). "The Crush." Mike (Tim Considine) introduces his new girl to the family and she falls for another Douglas.

HAZEL, 9:30 p.m. (4). Hazel (Shirley Booth) insists upon playing nurse when her boss (Don Defore) comes down with a cold.

MARGIE, 9:30 p.m. (7). Cynthia Pepper stars as Margie Clayton in half-hour filmed series about teenage girl growing up in the 1920's. Tonight, "The Vamp". Sophisticated Aunt Phoebe shows Margie how to succeed with the boys.

★ ★ ★

EISENHOWER ON THE PRESIDENCY, 10 p.m. (2) "CBS Reports" returns with the first of a series of informal conversations with the former chief executive. Filmed at Gettysburg last spring over a five-day period, the series gives Eisenhower an opportunity to discuss the burdens of office, the qualities of leadership and such men as the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, Sen. Robert Taft and Gen. George Marshall.

SING ALONG WITH MITCH, 10 p.m. (4). Songstress Gloria Lambert again joins Leslie Uggams, Diana Trask, Mitch Miller and the Singalong Gang.

UNTOUCHABLES, 10 p.m. (7). Peter Falk guest stars in "The Troubleshooter" as series begins its third season. Ness is putting heat on the punchboard racket, and hoodlum Nate Selko is brought in by the syndicate to cool things off. Robert Stack stars.

Paar Agrees to New Contract

To Continue With NBC Despite Statements He Wanted to Leave Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar, one of television's most controversial personalities, has signed a new contract with the National Broadcasting Co. There had been numerous hints from Paar himself that he wanted to leave the show.

★ ★ ★

In announcing the new contract today, NBC said Paar would continue with his current nighttime show until March 30. Then, next fall, he will begin a weekly series of programs to be aired in the prime evening hours.

★ ★ ★

Paar said he wanted to leave the show at the end of the year, pointing out the amount of work involved in performing four nights a week from 11:15 p.m. until 1 a.m. His old contract would have lasted until next fall.

TO CONTINUE

"The new program will be live and in color," NBC's announcement said. "Its format will be comparable to the present 'Jack Paar Show,' with big-name guest attractions."

The network said the present late-night program emceed by Paar would be continued with someone else, to be named later, as host.

Western Dock Strike Ends After 2 Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A two-week deck officers strike that idled 44 ships along the West Coast has ended.

Spokesmen for the Masters, Mates and Pilots Union and for the shipowners, represented by the Pacific Maritime Association, credited U.S. Undersecretary of Labor Willard Wirtz with bringing the two sides together.

The union voted 335-252 to return to work today. The three-year contract still is subject to a referendum of the union membership.

Detroit Bars Free to Hire Gal Waiters

DETROIT (AP)—An order preventing a Detroit bar from dressing its waitresses in a manner likened to "burlesque queens" was dismissed in Circuit Court Wednesday.

Judge Nathan J. Kaufman said his court didn't have jurisdiction and besides, the Police Censor Bureau and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission should look after such things.

He granted the order Sept. 27 after the Detroit Bartenders Union Local 562, AFL-CIO, sought it on behalf of Madalin Haviland, 30.

The divorcee had balked at wearing a uniform provided her at Edjo's Palmer House in Detroit. She described it as "bikini-cut ballet tights with mesh hose" and called it "immodest and offensive." She was fired.

R. Marie Wheeler, attorney for the bartenders union, told the court that if attractive women were allowed to work as barmaids in "suggestive" costumes, male bartenders might become a thing of the past.

Chico Marx Dies of Heart Ailment

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leonard Marx, a tailor's son who wanted to be a businessman but instead became Chico of the Marx brothers comedy team, is dead at 70.

Chico, oldest member of the irreverent brothers whose vaudeville and movie fans included low-brows and intellectuals alike, died of a heart ailment Wednesday. He had been ill for several months.

Was Reds' Yuri or Someone Else on That Flight?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The press officer for the U.S. Mercury astronaut team has suggested that someone other than Yuri Gagarin may have been aboard the first manned Soviet space craft to orbit the earth.

"We have some question whether it was Gagarin or not," the press officer, Lt. Col. John Powers, told a Sigma Delta Chi dinner meeting Wednesday.

"There have been so many inconsistencies in the reports by Gagarin in connection with program details," Powers said, "as to lend doubt as to whether he was the guy who went into orbit."

He added that there was little reason to doubt that the Soviets did have a man aboard the craft. And, Powers said, there was less reason to doubt that Maj. Gherman Titov was aboard the second orbital space ship, which landed last Aug. 7 after more than 17 trips around the earth.

To Study Mental Retardation

JFK Names New Medical Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treatment, and if possible, prevention, of mental retardation is the ambitious goal of a new presidential advisory group.

President Kennedy announced Wednesday that he is establishing a panel of experts in medicine, psychiatry, science, law and the social sciences to tackle the problem of mental retardation. He told his news conference he will meet with the group next week.

The panel's primary purpose, Kennedy said, is to recommend possible paths of research leading to prevention of retardation plus steps toward better diagnosis, the treatment and rehabilitation of the 5 million Americans affected.

White House aides said the action is "a continuation of a long founded interest by the President, as illustrated by gifts of millions of dollars by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. foundation for the aid and encouragement of research in this whole field, and for aid to hospitals and clinics."

The foundation, named for the President's older brother who was killed in World War II, was founded by their father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

FOR RESEARCH

In his statement, the President noted that mental retardation—not to be confused with mental illness—"strikes those least able to protect themselves from it. It affects not only the people themselves but also the members of their families. It is a serious personal matter to at least one out of every 12 persons. It disables 10 times as many as diabetes, 20 times as many as tuberculosis, 25 times as many as muscular dystrophy, and 600 times as many as infantile paralysis."

★ ★ ★

He said research on the causes and prevention of mental retardation "will pay enormous dividends in knowledge about ourselves, for the functions of the brain represent an almost completely uncharted frontier."

The President said further, "exploration and discovery in this field may uncover the secrets of life and man's capacities, and the answers to many mysteries of social behavior."

He added: "Perhaps even more important, an understanding of the motivation and effects of human behavior offers the hope of fostering the rational behavior of nations."

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk Gets a New Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees management, happily paying the price of the 1961 World Series championship, signed Ralph Houk to a two-year manager's contract today at an estimated $40,000 a season.

The champs, who set the trend by handing relief pitcher Luis Arroyo a bonus reported at $5,000 for his performance during the 1961 season, announced the Houk signing at a press conference.

"We felt sure a year ago that Ralph was the man for the Yankees' future," said General Manager Roy Hamey, "and now we are sure of it."

Dems at Con-Con Ponder 1st Loss; Eye Open Door

LANSING (AP) — Democrats held a brief caucus Wednesday after losing the first major test of strength on the constitutional convention floor.

Thirty-nine of the 45 Democrats fought unsuccessfully for a convention rule that all convention sessions and committee meetings must be open to the public and the press. They lost 100 to 41.

Some Democrats expressed indignation at what they considered steamroller tactics by the Republican majority. They centered some of their ire on Edward Hutchinson, former state senator from Fennville, who served as temporary chairman of the committee of the whole while the convention considered the open door policy.

Demands French OK Withdrawal 'Idea'

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba demanded today that France agree to the principle of quitting its giant Bizerte base. He laid this down as a condition before Tunisia will sign any political or economic agreement with the French.

★ ★ ★

In a major policy address, Bourguiba announced a note to that effect has been sent to the French government.

★ ★ ★

'32 Pontiac Grad Is Director of Trucking Assn.

Appointment of Jack L. McNamara, 46, a 1932 Pontiac High School graduate, as managing director of the Michigan Trucking Association is announced by Charles Cooper, MTA president.

McNamara brings to the association more than a quarter century of experience in transportation. He became widely known as a hard-hitting sales chief when he became vice president of sales for Red Star Transit Co., in the 50s. He joined Red Star as district general sales manager in 1955.

When Red Star was taken over by Jones Motor Co., Inc., Detroit, in 1960, McNamara stayed on as Western Regional sales manager. He resigned that position to assume his new job with the MTA.

Post Office Deciphers Vague Address on Letter

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — The Marietta, Ga., Post Office has recorded another victory in the never-ending struggle with vaguely addressed mail.

★ ★ ★

Reds Kill 'Saboteurs'

MOSCOW (AP) —The Soviet news agency Tass reported today that fighters of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao movement killed 40 "saboteur agents" of the pro-Western Vientiane government and wounded many others in the North Laotian area of Sam Neua.

Unions Fight for Vote

MUSKEGON (AP) — A battle of ballots was in progress at Brunswick Corp. today where workers were being asked to choose between the International Association of Machinists, AFL-CIO, and the Teamsters Union as bargaining agent.

Pilot Rescued After 4 Days

Though Badly Injured Directs Searchers to Isolated Mountain Spot

PROVO, Utah (UPI) — A courageous pilot who had nothing but snowballs to eat as he lay injured in a wrecked plane four days was rescued today from the 9,200-foot level of a towering mountain near here.

Joel T. Honey, 52, Needles, Calif., was determined not to die. Although he had a broken hip, broken jaw and possible broken ankle, he signaled to search aircraft with a flashlight and later helped ground crews find him with the same light.

In seeming good spirits, he gave instructions to rescuers who carried him two miles by stretcher to a road where he could be transferred to an ambulance.

Honey, a fireman on the Santa Fe Railway, crashed Saturday afternoon during a snow storm. He was en route to visit his son Bruce, 27, a senior at Brigham Young University.

Bruce was in the first party to reach the plane. The father and son were reunited joyfully but four days later than intended.

Honey told rescuers he had spotted a hole in the clouds surrounding 12,000-foot-high Mt. Timpanogos, a landmark in Central Utah, and was turning toward it when his passenger, William Royal, about 45, also of Needles, panicked and grabbed the plane's controls.

★ ★ ★

Glass Company Dislikes Ruling on Beer Bottles

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — The action of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in banning the use of nonreturnable beer bottles in Michigan after Jan. 19, 1962, was called "punitive and discriminatory" today by a glass container manufacturer.

The commission said its action resulted from a litter problem.

Smith Rairdon, executive vice president of Owens-Illinois Glass Co. here, said, "Litter on highways, beaches, and other public places results from the careless disposition of hundreds of different items, of which the one-way glass bottle is only one."

He added: "Banning one such item is the wrong way to handle the litter problem. This is especially true in view of the discrimination against glass which the ruling involves."

Rairdon said his firm played a leading role in developing the "handy" one-way beer bottle now competing with the metal can on the beer market.

Fund-Raising Course Offered at Columbia

CHICAGO (AP) — Fund-raising now has become a braintrust problem.

★ ★ ★

The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc., has set up a graduate course in educational promotion and fund raising at Teachers College, Columbia University.

★ ★ ★

The first graduate course of its kind leads to advanced degrees for persons concerned with public relations and financial support for schools and other gift-supported agencies.

Students Win Awards for Rocket Fuel Paper

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. announced today that a 20-year-old Harvard student and a 19-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) student have won a $1,000 award for a joint paper on rocket fuel.

Lepers Stage Revolt

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)— Lepers confined to a plantation near Cuenca seized the plantation land Wednesday and divided it up among themselves. The plantation is owned by the city of Cuenca.

Rayburn Gets Cancer Drug

Fluoro-uracil Attempts to Control, Not Cure, Growth With Poison

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The cancer control drug used in the treatment of House Speaker Sam Rayburn attempts to trick a hungry cancer cell into accepting a chemical which looks like food but is really a poison.

The drug is 5 Fluoro-uracil.

Dr. Charles Heidelberger, 40, of the McAardle Memorial Institute for Cancer Research at the University of Wisconsin, directed the scientist team which developed the drug in 1954. He said it is a deterrent to further cancer growth rather than a cure.

The scientist said he was told that Rayburn received the first injection of the drug on Sunday and physicians said that continued use would depend upon Rayburn's condition.

EXTENSIVE TRIALS

The drug has undergone extensive clinical applications at the University of Wisconsin under the direction of Dr. Anthony Curreri, professor of surgery. He said he drug has proved satisfactory in the treatment of a number of kinds of cancer, but has some side effects such as changes in blood pressure and blood cell count.

$10,000 Bond Set for Three Held in Burglary

Justice of the Peace John C. Weick has set bond at $10,000 apiece for three persons charged with breaking into a Commerce Township appliance store early yesterday morning.

They will appear before Justice Weick Oct. 26.

The trio was stopped by police in a car speeding through Orchard Lake at 3 a.m., minutes after a burglary at the Peer Appliance Store, 8161 Commerce Road.

Police found two television sets, a television stand and a floor polisher valued at nearly $300 in the car. The appliances were identified as those stolen from the store.

The three suspects were unable to meet bond and are being held in the Oakland County Jail.

Consideration for Wife Leads to Baked Phone

★ ★ ★

Take one young husband on his way to work, add one white phone, mix in a little consideration for a wife who had been up with the baby all night.

★ ★ ★

Frank Fraser didn't want the phone to bother his wife, Babette, so he put it in the oven before leaving for work. Later, Mrs. Fraser turned on the oven to preheat it. When she started to put in a dish, she discovered one melted telephone.

A total fo 358,557,075 lines of color advertising was run in newspapers last year, representing a gain of 25 per cent over 1959. Biggest users were cigarettes, gasolines and oils, dairy products, liquors and beers.

Now Television Is in the Sewer

DON'T TOUCH THAT DIAL — It's "The Sewer Hour" — or the closest thing to it. Stanfor Schantz runs the show Monday through Friday. It's a new service of the Oakland County Department of Public Works for inspecting sewer pipes with a closed circuit television setup. Here, Schantz talks to men outside the mobil unit while watching his monitor.

Checks Oakland Sewers

County Runs TV Station

By DICK SAUNDERS

Sounds like something a cynical TV critic might say. But it was Stanford Schantz, Oakland County's first television technician talking.

That is, Schantz is the first county-employed TV technician. He works for the department of public works.

Pontiac Press Photo

PIPE PEEPER—Kenneth P. Rollins, county DPW employe, is the cameraman in a revolutionary new method of checking sewer pipes. Here he checks out the small television camera used to peek inside pipes to spot leaks and cracks. The lens is in the center (covered by a lens cap) surrounded by five 32 candle power lights.

Schantz and his crew—Kenneth P. Robbins and Rudy Hall—were in Pontiac for the first time yesterday.

They came to look at sewers on South Parke Street.

The $12,000 in equipment these TV program directors use is quite rare. The county has had the facilities for about a month.

NETWORK EQUIPMENT

They consist of a truck, gas-driven electric generator, TV set, three control panels and a camera that photographs more dirt than all the expose-type magazines in the world.

It's a little over two feet long and less than eight inches in diameter. The idea is to run a cable through the sewer pipe from one manhole to the next and pull the camera back through.

STAGE MANAGER

One panel controls mirror rotation, intensity of lighting and focus of the lens. The lens can be focused by remote control to zero in on anything from its glass cover to a point 30 feet away.

There is only one other such closed circuit TV unit being used to explore sewer lines in Michigan. It's in Ann Arbor.

"There is no other way that these small, eight-inch lines could be checked without ripping up the whole street," Schantz said.

Orville Hubbuck, supervisor of sewers, Pontiac Department of Public Works, said this is the first step of the loop highway. "We want to check the pipe and make any needed repairs before we lay a highway over it," he said. "The pipe's about 50 years old."

What does he look at all day? You guessed it—sewers.

President Sees No Immediate End to Conflicts

Mankind Faces Gravest Danger in All History, He Tells Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sees no easy or early halt to East-West collisions which have pushed mankind to, as he views it, the gravest danger point in all history.

"There still are very major differences," he says, between the Western powers and the Soviet Union.

The talks he and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have had with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in the last few weeks have failed to produce immediate hope of achieving agreement on Berlin, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war which destroys and doesn't really represent a victory for policy," Kennedy said.

He added that Americans are rightfully concerned in this age of annihilating weapons because: "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race."

Other areas of conflict exist outside Germany, he said—and announced he is dispatching Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor for an on-scene survey of South Viet Nam.

Taylor, the President's military adviser, leaves Sunday and will meet with Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem and U.S. officials to discuss ways of helping South Viet Nam cope with expanding Communist attacks.

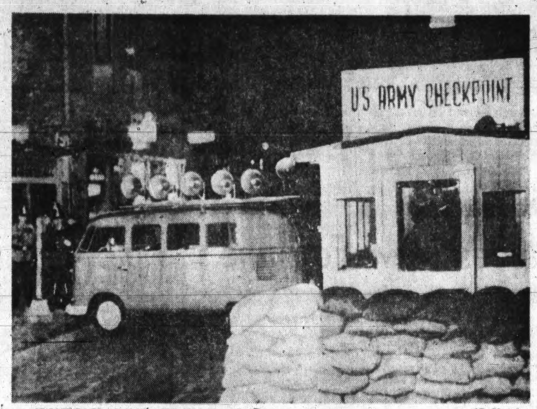

Taylor also may visit Laos and Cambodia.

CROWD PRESENT

A crowd of 336 newsmen and visitors attended the news conference, which also could be seen across the country via live television. It was the chief executive's 16th news conference in Washington, the first in nearly 1½ months and the first opened to televising as it happened since March.

Kennedy, wearing his usual news conference dark blue suit and purple tie, provided a few chuckles but for the most part was solemn in tone and manner.

Declaring "we move through a period of maximum hazard," he ticked off steps his administration has taken in an effort to build up the country's nuclear and conventional forces. That buildup has dashed hope for a tax cut next year, he said. The government still aims for a balanced budget—an aim he said is threatened only by further demands for defense spending.

CLOSE BORDER FOR ONE HOUR — Communist East Berlin border guards closed Friedrichstrasse checkpoint to all civilian traffic for an hour Wednesday night until a West German loudspeaker truck (left) stopped its broadcasting. The truck read out news for an hour, then shut off its loudspeakers and departed. The East Berlin guards then opened the gates. See story on Page 2.

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. announced today that Jack Paar, controversial TV personality, had signed a new contract to continue with his nighttime show until next March 30. There had been reports Paar was to be dismissed.

Expect Mass Exodus of Teamster Locals

NEW YORK (UPI)—AFL-CIO President George Meany today characterized as "the funniest thing I've heard in a long time" the threat of Teamster President James R. Hoffa to sue Meany for defamation of character.

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs forecast today a substantial membership exodus from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union now that the federation has hung out a welcome sign.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he was already busy processing affiliation applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamster locals.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 Wednesday to authorize Meany to issue charters to locals defecting from Hoffa's rule. Federation officials said they have no idea how many Teamsters may thus decide to switch allegiance, but expect a sizable number.

Hoffa can be relied upon to fight back. He has said he will meet head-on any AFL-CIO threat to his union and is confident that "we'll come out on top."

Hoffa said in Detroit Wednesday night that he will sue Meany for $1 million on grounds of slander.

LANSING—The Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council, which has continued the the Teamsters Union within its membership despite AFL-CIO expulsion, today unanimously approved a resolution asking the AFL-CIO Building and Trades Department to invite the Teamsters back in.

As a further show of Teamster fellowship, the AFL-CIO unit invited Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to address its convention here. Hoffa broke other dates to fly to Lansing and was scheduled to speak before the group shortly after the resolution passed.

Sam Rayburn Feeling Better

Fading Speaker Is Out of Coma and Appears to Be Stronger

DALLAS (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, ill with incurable cancer and suffering from pneumonia, appeared improved today after being unconscious much of Wednesday.

The condition of the 69-year-old political leader and lawmaker worsened Wednesday after he contracted pneumonia. He regained consciousness during the afternoon.

The 10 a.m. bulletin on Rayburn issued by Dr. Robert F. Short Jr., his attending physician, said:

"Mr. Rayburn is out of coma. He is definitely improved and the major change occurred this morning. He looks and appears stronger this morning and recognizes family and associates.

"His temperature is normal. Pulse, blood pressure and respiration have remained unchanged since the change for the better."

Rayburn's temperature rose to 103 degrees Wednesday.

10,000 Troops Going to Europe

Defense Dept. Orders Brings to 50,000 Those Sent to Back Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department has ordered another 10,000 troops to Europe, bringing to 50,000 the number of men to be sent overseas to back America's position in Berlin.

Within little more than a month from now, all 50,000 — plus hundreds of thousands of tons of equipment — should be in Europe.

The big movement began Wednesday with the arrival of the first 500 troops at Cherbourg, France.

Later, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara ordered another 10,000, including 2,500 - man 3rd Armored Cavalry Regiment, whose fame goes back to the Indian wars, and 11 Air National Guard fighter squadrons to Europe.

The 3rd Armored, commanded by Col. Donald H. Cowles of Westfield, Mass., is now at Ft. Meade, Md. It traces its lineage to a famous cavalry outfit in the Indian wars and one that raced across France at the head of the 3rd Army in World War II.

The air units, McNamara said, "will result in a significant increase in the tactical fighter strength in Europe.

'IN READINESS'

"Certain heavy equipment and vehicles required by both armored and infantry divisions will be shipped to Europe and held in readiness there," he said.

"This prepositioning of several thousand track and wheeled vehicles and more than 100,000 tons of equipment will permit movement of Army divisions to Europe in a matter of days should the need arise," McNamara said.

He is known to be considering sending as many as six more divisions to Europe if necessary. The United States now has five divisions in Germany.

At a news conference Wednesday, a reporter asked President Kennedy for comment on charges the United States has not fully convinced the Soviet Union of its determination to meet force with force in Berlin or elsewhere.

The President replied, "We have indicated that we will meet our commitments with whatever resources are necessary to meet them."

Kennedy Sends General Taylor on Asia Survey

Red Pressure Grows in South Viet Nam; to Help or Not?

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of direct U.S. military intervention in South Viet Nam appeared to be sharpened today by President Kennedy's decision to send Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor on an urgent mission to assess the growing Communist threat to the Southeast Asian country.

Taylor, a top Kennedy military adviser, is scheduled to leave Sunday, make a fast survey of the increasingly dangerous situation, then give Kennedy an "educated military guess" on the size of the Communist menace and steps that could be taken to meet it.

Officials said the U.S.-supported government of President Ngo Dinh Diem is coming under very heavy Red pressure.

The President annouced the Taylor mission at a news conference Wednesday at which he also made clear that he will send Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson back to Moscow shortly to resume exploratory talks with Soviet leaders on possible settlement of the Berlin crisis.

TO WARN REDS

Thompson, in adition, is expected to warn the Soviets anew of the dangers of expanding control in Southeast Asia and urge that they cooperate in trying to prevent an outbreak of open warfare which could spread beyond South Viet Nam.

As the President discussed the Southeast Asian and Berlin situations in response to news conference questions, the impression grew among his hearers that he is grappling with the complex and interlocking problems of crises on two fronts.

Other administration officials said his decisions on Southeast Asia when Taylor returns can hardly be made without consideration of American force commitments and possible further needs in the East-West dispute over Berlin.

The President himself gave a universal significance to the problems of war and peace in today's world by referring to the destructive potential of any conflict that leads into the use of nuclear weapons.

★ ★ ★

"Our ambition is to protect our vital interests without a war," he said. "We happen to live in the most dangerous time in the history of the human race," he added. "We are moving through a period of maximum hazard."

★ ★ ★

He left no doubt that he intends to use every resource of diplomacy to minimize conflict and try to find peaceful solutions for disputes with the Sino-Soviet bloc. But he reported that his efforts and those of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to explore a settlement of the Berlin crisis with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko have not been productive so far.

25 Union Locals Hold Key to Ford Settlement

By BEN PHLEGAR

DETROIT (AP) — Individual problems at 25 local bargaining units held the key today to resumption by Ford Motor Co. following the agreement Wednesday night with the United Auto Workers Union on a new three-year national labor contract.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said he would recommend to the union's Ford National Council this afternoon that the settlement be approved and a nationwide strike which began 10 days ago be ended.

However, strikes will continue at the 25 local units which have unresolved problems, pending a review of all issues by the international executive board tonight.

Reuther said locals with "legitimate specific problems" will be authorized by the board to continue to strike. But he expressed hope such problems would be resolved in time to permit the company to return to production by Monday.

Teamsters Council OKs Highway Assn. Contract

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan conference of the Teamsters Union has ratified the new contract agreement which ended the strike of 6,000 Teamsters on Michigan highway and bridge projects.

The union rank and file next is to act on ratification. Teamster officials said this vote should be completed by Sunday. The council ratified Wednesday night.

Secret Sessions OKed After Con-Con Battle

LANSING (AP)—Committee meetings at Michigan's constitutional convention may be conducted behind closed doors if such a move is authorized by a majority of the 144 delegates.

Approval of the principle of allowing secret sessions came in a voice vote Wednesday following a heated floor debate on the first major controversial issue to come up at the convention, now in its second week.

The secrecy rule was adopted after rejection by a 41-100 vote of an amendment which would have required that all committee meetings be public.

Balloting on the amendment followed generally along party lines, with Republicans voting in favor of allowing executive (secret) sessions and Democrats against them.

The virtually solid GOP lineup was bolstered by four Democrats. They were Melvin Nord, Detroit, Jack Faxon, Detroit, Ray Krolikowski, Hamtramck and Ralph A. Liberato, Warren.

As finally adopted, the rule declares in part:

COMMITTEE WITNESSES

An amendment to the rule declared that committee witnesses shall have the right to be represented by counsel of his own choosing.

William D. Ford, a Tayor Democrat, introduced the amendment which would have required that all meetings be conducted openly. He declared:

"I fail to appreciate that there is any sincere or laudable reason for wanting to conduct closed meetings."

Mild Days to Stay So Plan That Picnic

If luck and the weatherman's forecast hold out, area residents can look forward to several more days of mild, sunny, picnic weather.

Temperatures are expected to average several degrees above normal for this time of year and skies will be bright and clear for the next five days, except for possible light showers Saturday and Monday.

Tonight's low will be around 52, with a high Friday of 75. Winds will be from the southwest at 10 to 18 miles an hour.

The mercury reading in downtown Pontiac was 60 degrees at 8 a. m. today, rising to 76 by 1 p. m. The wind velocity was 3 m.p.h. from the west.

Yesterday's temperatures ranged from 39 to 75 degrees.

NEW FAIRLANE—The Fairlane line for 1962 comes in two series: the Fairlane and the more luxurious Fairlane 500. Both have a 115.5-inch wheel base that place the cars right between the Falcon and the Galaxie. Thunderbird-like roof and styling modeled after earlier and more costly Galaxies mark the line as a member of the Ford family. The Fairlane will feature twice-a-year maintenance, high performance and full-size interior space, according to the company. New models will be available in showrooms Nov. 2.

Features Twice-a-Year Maintenance

Ford Introduces New Fairlane

The new Ford Fairlane models for 1962 were unveiled today by the Ford Motor Co.

★ ★ ★

Positioned right between the Falcon and the Galaxie in its outside dimensions, the Fairlane will be available in two and four-door models.

The two sister-lines in the Fairlane series are called "Fairlane" and "Fairlane 500." The latter is a more luxurious edition.

These additions to the 1962 Ford family will be available in dealer showrooms Nov. 2. Dealers in this area are John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave., Pontiac; and Beattie Motor Sales, 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford.

Lee A. Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Ford division, said that, "in addition to offering the parking ease of the Falcon and the turnpike performance and handling characteristics of the 1962 Ford Galaxie, the Fairlane has all of the 'twice-a-year' maintenance features available on the more costly Galaxie."

The new Fairlane is a standard size car with a passenger compartment larger than the interior of the 1959 Ford and an over-all length almost equal to the 1949 Ford sedan.

It is powered by a new, optional lightweight 221-cubic-inch V8 engine, or the standard 170-cubic-inch six-cylinder.

The optional V8 is expected to produce 145 horsepower at 4,400 RPM. It's all-new "thin-wall" cast iron characteristics cut engine weight by 100 pounds below the original mass-produced X8 introduced in 1932. The new V8 has twice the original's horsepower with the same cubic inch displacement.

Both a three-speed manual and an automatic transmission are available. Overdrive is optional with the V8.

FAIRLANE 500—The 1962 models in Ford's Fairlane series offer a new optional V8 engine in addition to a standard six-cylinder. The Fairlane 500 version (shown here) comes as a four-door sedan or a two-door sedan. Similar models are offered in the less luxurious Fairlane version.

Small Battle on River Bank

Reds Use Hose on W. Berlin Cross

BERLIN (UPI) — Rock-throwing West Berliners Wednesday night drove off a Communist fireboat that tried to douse a flaming cross at the spot two East Germans died trying to swim the Spree River to freedom.

The Communist boat chugged to within a few yards of the embankment and turned a powerful stream of water on the cross, set up by West Berlin youths.

Last Friday two East Germans dived into the Spree and tried to swim the 150 yards to West Berlin. Communist police set out after them in a patrol boat. They shot one and he sank. The other swam a few more yards and then sank, apparently from panic or a heart attack.

★ ★ ★

"The Vopos will be back tomorrow with a more powerful hose but we'll be ready for them," one youth said.

Mayor Willy Brandt flew to the West German capital of Bonn to report his impression that the American people are "deeply determined" to defend this isolated city.

Brandt was expected to report to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on his telephone conversation with President Kennedy while he was in the United States last weekend.

West German confidence in United States firmness has begun to revive sharply, as a result of recent statements by a number of American diplomats and politicians.

MSUO to Get Athletic Center

$1.5-Million Structure OKed by Board; Plan Ground Breaking

The Michigan State University Board of Trustees yesterday gave final approval to plans for construction of a $1.5-million intramural building at Michigan State University Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new structure, which will serve as a recreational center for both students and faculty, are scheduled for 4 p.m. today.

★ ★ ★

Construction is expected to start immediately now that the MSU board of trustees has given final approval to the project, according to Lauren D. Pope, assistant to the chancellor.

The 350-foot long I-shaped structure will be located just east of the student center and academic buildings, Pope said. It will be built of brick and glass, similar to existing facilities on the MSUO campus.

It will contain an olympic-sized swimming pool, four basketball courts, three indoor tennis courts, a combination exercise and weight lifting room, a combination wrestling and gymnastics room and facilities for volleyball, handball, badminton and tennis.

STUDENT FEES

The recreational center, which will be financed with income from student fees, will be completed by Labor Day of next year.

D. B. Varner, chancellor of MSUO, will speak at tomorrow's ceremonies.

★ ★ ★

The event will be attended by legislators from Oakland County, executive trustees of the MSUO Foundation, members of the university's board of trustees and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson who donated their 1,400 acre estate as the site for the campus and $2 million for buildings.

Man Is Found Guilty in Boating Mishap

★ ★ ★

William Hatley, 28, of 108 Mill St., was charged with operating a 13-foot boat on Cass Lake at 11 p. m. July 10, when the boat filled with six people overturned. Two women were drowned in the mishap. They were Mrs. William Gray, 24, of 231 Chamberlain St., and Mrs. Leona Lampson, 48, of 850 Robinwood Ave., Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Hatley was fined $45 with court costs and given 30 days in the Oakland County jail. He fias appealed to Circuit Court and was released on $100 bond.

Locals Hold Key to Ford Settlement

More than 60,000 of Ford's 120,000 production workers are represented by the locals which have not settled.

Two final pieces of the noneconomic section of the national Ford contract were settled at a four-hour bargaining session on Wednesday night.

BOTH HAPPY

Reuther and Denise both appeared happy the long bargaining ordeal which began June 29 had ended. Asked whether the contract could be called inflationary, Denise said: "I know of no contract which does not cost money, but we do not feel our new agreement will be a rock around our neck."

★ ★ ★

The two sides agreed to the economic sections of the contract just prior to the strike Oct. 3. The walkout came over the non-wage sections with production standards, union representation, outside contracting and the Ford steel plant proving the major stumbling blocks.

DETROIT (AP)—The International Executive Board of the United Auto Workers Union has told Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., to try again to ratify the profit-sharing contract with American Motors Corp.

The 12,000 member Kenosha local in the Jone Rambler assembly plant is the largest in AMC. Last Sunday, by a slim vote of 1,507 to 1,444, it rejected the agreement.

The Day in Birmingham

Busy Baldwin Library to End 'Open Door Policy'

BIRMINGHAM —The increasingly heavy load that nonresidents are placing on the Baldwin Public Library has caused the library board to notify four area municipalities that it will no longer be able to serve their residents after July 1, 1964.

As an alternative, the library is offering to enter into a contractual agreement with the communities involved. They are Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township, Franklin and Beverly Hills.

James E. Tobin, library board president, in announcing the library's new policy today, said that these four communities now place the heaviest nonresident load on the Birmingham facility.

★ ★ ★

Of the four, only Franklin provides any library service to its residents.

The policy decision was made after a survey revealed 40 per cent of the library's use is by nonresidents, who paid only 13 per cent of the 1960-61 operating budget of $142,000.

Almost 1,300 families now living outside the Birmingham city limits pay an annual fee of $14.34 for the service provided by the Baldwin Library, according to Tobin.

FIRST STEP

The first step in the library board's plan to foster a cooperative service for the entire Birmingham area comes Oct. 26 at a meeting with Beverly Hills councilmen, who have already expressed an interest in a contract arrangement.

Under an agreement, all residents could use the library in return for a yet-to-be-determined amount to be paid by the village.

The library plan, if it is found acceptable, would allow the governmental units to work together in providing improved library services, according to the board president.

Many municipalities now cooperate in the same way on schools, hospitals, rubbish disposal and other needed public services, he said.

Tobin said the board foresees a system in which some of the neighboring communities eventually will have their own libraries, cooperating with the Baldwin facility.

"All authorities on libraries," he said, "agree that small, separate library units are not desirable. They are costly. A community of 100,000 can support a far better library system than a city like Birmingham, with its population of 25,000.

FEEL CONTRACTS BETTER

For that reason, he said the board believes that cooperating through contracts would be better for both the city and surrounding communities.

The present population of the area is 62,000, but by 1970 it will be an estimated 90,000.

Baldwin Library Director Jeanne Lloyd said a cooperative library system could effect a savings in money and personnel by using a central cataloguing department for affiliated libraries, as well as better volume discounts on book purchases.

John A. Gilray Jr., who headed the study by a Citizens Library Study Council, said, "A district library system would provide better, more complete library service than individual efforts could attain, without incurring higher per capita costs."

and libel. The Teamsters chief said the suit will be filed in U.S. District Court in Detroit next Monday.

A grand jury at Orlando, Fla., also reindicted Hoffa Wednesday on mail fraud violation charges involving alleged misuse of $500,000 Teamsters funds in a land development scheme. A prior indictment was dismissed on technical grounds.

Hoffa may retaliate against the AFL-CIO by going ahead with a blueprint plan already authorized by the Teamsters to establish a union federation rivaling the AFL-CIO. Hoffa may seek to take away some of the AFL-CIO's own unions.

Pin Embezzling Charge on Little League Booster

IONIA (AP) — The treasurer of the Ionia Little League Mothers' Booster Club was arrested Wednesday on charges of embezzling $373 in club funds.

Mrs. Ann J. Smith, 33, denied taking the money and blamed her troubles on "poor bookkeeping." She pleaded innocent on arraignment in justice court and was freed on $1,000 bond pending examination Oct. 18.

Twenty in County Area Ordered Not to Drive

Drivers' licenses of 20 Oakland County residents were either suspended or revoked during the past week by the Michigan Department of State.

Glenn H. Blayney Jr., 3835 N. Washington St., Royal Oak; Warren B. Bushman, 2332 Park St., and John E. Clark, 210 S. Lafayette St., Royal Oak.

Gerald J. Aber, 405 E. Meyers Ave., Hazel Park; Richard A. Buchanan, 55 E. Broadway, Lake Orion; Brian L. Cairns, 21901 Ridgedale, Oak Park; Mary E. Clements, 28801 Townley St., Madison Heights; Gary C. Kaiser, 700 Shepard-sush Ave., Birmingham; Ralph R. Leland, 116 Cambridge Blvd., Pleasant Ridge; Ronald James Reddy, 219 W. Parent St., Royal Oak; and Payne Van Deventer, 400 W. Madge St., Hazel Park.

Ordered to show financial responsibility due to unsatisfied financial judgments was Joan D. Smith, 1827 N. Lafayette St., Royal Oak.

* * *

Failure to appear for re-examination and unsatisfactory driving records resulted in the loss of licenses for:

Losing his license because of physical incompetence was Murray D. Jones Jr., 4690 Clinton Drive, Clarkston. Ordered off the roads for driving with a previously suspended license were James T. Pyne, 631 E. Marshall Ave., Ferndale, and Charles T. Burcar, 470 John R St., Clawson.

JFK Won't Let Him Retire

Gen. Van Fleet Back on War Job

By United Press International

For the third time, the United States has called on a former Army halfback to ply his remarkably successful formula for crushing Communist guerrilla warfare.

President Kennedy announced Wednesday he had summoned Gen.

GEN. VAN FLEET

James A. Van Fleet, 69, out of an eight-year retirement to help fulfill the President's vow to meet Communist guerrilla tactics in Asia and elsewhere with similar tactics.

The thrice-wounded soldier's-soldier—described in his official Army biography as "no armchair general" — reorganized a demoralized Greek army in 1948-1950 and inspired the strategy which reduced Communist guerrilla strength from 30,000 to about 400.

Ten years ago, as a lieutenant general, Van Fleet took command of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea. He is known as the "father" of the modern South Korean army.

★ ★ ★

In both of these post World War II commands he devised ways of combatting a Communist enemy that could hide behind inviolate borders—the officially noncombatant sanctuaries of Albania and later of Manchuria.

TO SERVE PART TIME

He will serve part time beginning Oct. 30 as a civilian adviser to Army Secretary Elvis Stahr. Besides advising on special warfare (guerrilla) training, he will make an assessment of combat readiness and training progress of National Guard and reserve units called to active duty in the Berlin-Southeast Asia crisis.

His guerrilla warfare experience could be used to devise tactics for blocking Communist infiltration of Laos, South Viet Nam and other countries.

A West Point classmate of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Van Fleet rose within seven months from the rank of colonel on D-Day, leading his regiment in the Utah Beach landing, to major general commanding a division and later a corps.

Eisenhower has said Van Fleet's battle record the best of "any regimental, divisional or corps commander we produced."

LIKES HUNTING

The grey-haired, 6-1, 190-pound former football player and coach likes to fish and hunt, often disdaining a rifle to use a .45 caliber, ivory-handled pistol — his trademark.

Married and the father of two daughters, both married to Army colonels, Van Fleet lost his only son in the Korean War. Air Force Capt. James Alward Van Fleet Jr. was listed as missing over North Korea in 1952 and presumed dead in 1954.

The White House said the general would continue to work as a consultant to several private industrial firms. He lives at Jupiter Island, Fla., and maintains an office at nearby Auburndale.

★ ★ ★

But, before he returns to work as a military tactician, the much-decorated general has a sentimental trip to make. He left Wednesday on a "personal visit" to Greece.

Temporary Job Aiding Refugees Now Permanent

WAKE FOREST, N.C. (UPI) — A temporary job helping refugees has turned into permanent employment for A. Klaupiks, himself a refugee.

When Klaupiks, a native of Latvia, went to work for the Baptist World Alliance in 1947, it was understood it was only a temporary job. His assignment was to help find homes and to provide clothes, food and medicine to the needy.

R. Dean Goodwin, chairman of the alliance's subcommittee on world relief, recently gave the job permanent status, explaining: "World emergencies have become a permanent thing."

Cuban Foreign Minister Leaves N.Y. With Czechs

★ ★ ★

Air Crash Kills 13

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A British air force transport plane crashed at El Adem, Libya Tuesday night, killing 13 of the 40 servicemen aboard, a spokesman of Near East RAF headquarters said Wednesday. Thirteen persons were hurt. The plane was carrying engineer troops to Malta after a desert army exercise.

THEY'LL GO BACK — Mrs. Ella Behnert, 65, pours cream for her husband Willi, 69, as they have coffee in the home of their son Horst in Ringwood, N.J. The couple has decided to return to their home, pension and friends in East Berlin after being five months in the United States. Behnert a retired tool and die maker, explained they like it here but they want to return to the old ways. Horst Behnert came to the U.S. 10 years ago. He has a wife and three children.

New Penicillin Is Effective Against Resistant Bacteria

NEW YORK (UPI)—One promise of a new and pagly "man-made" penicillin is to put certain surgeons and surgical nurses back where they most love to be; that is, in operating rooms.

Being a "carrier" of the disease-causing staphylococcal tribe of bacteria doesn't have to be personally unpleasant but one becomes a threat to all one's intimates. It's quite enough to disqualify surgeons and their aides from surgery.

During its long experimental and trial period this new synthetic penicillin demonstrated an ability to decarrierize carriers on what appeared to be a reliably lasting basis. No other chemical routine has done that. Time will tell if the promise will be fulfilled.

This new addition to the now burgeoning penicillin family is 5 methyl-3 phenyl-4 isoxazolyl, penicillin. It is likely to become better known by its trade-name, "Prostaphlin." Its scientific testers reported their test results at an all-day symposium here.

'EFFECTIVE KILLER'

The testing scientists said they had found it an efficient killer of those members of the staphlococcal tribe which are efficient sickeners and killers of human beings and have long since learned how to live and flourish in the presence of ordinary penicillins.

Chief among these are staphlococci aureus which have become entrenched in many hospitals, due to their "resistance" to most bacteria-killers. They are responsible for periodic outbreaks of infections and represent a major medical problem.

★ ★ ★

The new penicillin is the third resulting from science's recently won ability to "make" these most publicized of the bacteria-killers. (Nature's own maker is a mould.) The first two are effective against bacteria "resistant" to natural penicillins.

★ ★ ★

But they have to be injected to achieve this effectiveness, since their chemical constitution is such they're destroyed by the acids encountered in the human gastro-intestinal tract. The new one can be taken by mouth, it is acid-proof, so to speak.

Furthermore, it accumulates at a steady pace in the blood to waylay lingering bacteria. Its toxicity in laboratory animals is low and in the 199 sick human beings in whom it was tried experimentally, the side-effects were few and minor.

In most of them it could be taken daily for indefinite periods without harm or even discomfort. This is its property which gives it the promise of decarrierizing carriers, this and its high effectiveness as a killer of "resistant" bacteria.

★ ★ ★

All this the scientists reported at the symposium of which Dr. William M. Kirby of the University of Washington, Seattle, was chairman, and Dr. Leighton Cluff, the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Dr. Elliard Yow, Baylor University, Houston, and Dr. Vernon Knight, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., were session chairmen.

★ ★ ★

Science's ability to "make" penicillin rises from its ability to stop the natural fermentation process of penicillin-making at the precise point it reaches the nucleus of 6-amino penicillanic acid. This is the fundamental molecule. To it can be added a variety of "side-chains" of organic atoms.

Hanover Refuge for Czech Expellees

UPI Foreign News Analyst

This is not exceptional in the West German Federal Republic's state of Lower Saxony, which borders the Communist East Zone and which was a creation of the Western powers in a dismembered Germany.

Half of Lower Saxony's six million population is made up of "expellees," refugees from Czechoslovakia, the territories beyond the Oder-Neisse line now occupied by Poland, and from Communist East Germany.

* * *

Herzig is a neat, grey-haired man, with the comfortable well-fed and well-dressed look that today is common to West Germany.

But he remembers his return from the United States where he spent time as a prisoner of war, and his return to his family in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

His sole possession was the cast-off British army uniform he wore.

As the Communists moved up on Czechoslovakia, Herzig, his wife and their small daughter fled ahead of them to Hanover where, once more penniless, they begged two iron cots to sleep on.

THINGS CHANGED

Those things have changed for Erhard Herzig. Today, he is a successful newsman and press chief to Lower Saxony's prime minister.

Herzig has resigned himself that he will not return to Czechoslovakia.

The wish to return is not as strong in him as it is in his father.

But there is a sadness in him that exists scarcely at all in his children. His daughter does not remember Prague, and his son, born in Hanover, has no interest in it at all.

* * *

His son does not understand why his identification card also should be stamped "Expellee," for he is a native of Hanover.

The three generations of Herzigs are illustrative of a sentiment gradually taking over most of the refugees who sought refuge in West Germany from the Communists to the east.

DESIRE FADING

The desire to return gradually is fading away and will fade more as memories grow more dim.

As for Hanover itself, it also is illustrative of the new life.

Allied bombs destroyed more than 80 per cent of Hanover, and the city which was old before Columbus discovered America was forced to rebuild.

Today, the scars of war have all but disappeared and in their stead has appeared a city among the most modern in the world. Schools and universities occupy one sector of the city, government buildings another, banks and insurance still another, and so on through all phases of education, commerce and government.

Fund-Raising Course Offered at Columbia

CHICAGO (UPI) — Fund-raising now has become a braintrust problem.

The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, Inc., has set up a graduate course in educational promotion and fund raising at Teachers College, Columbia University.

The first graduate course of its kind leads to advanced degrees for persons concerned with public relations and financial support for schools and other gift-supported agencies.

Development of Devices for Detecting Life

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is developing devices capable of detecting life on other planets, if it exists. They will be installed in unmanned devices that "in the foreseeable future" will be landing on Mars and Venus.

James Webb, National Aeronautics and Space Administrator, told of this Wednesday in a talk to the Space Flight Report to the Nation meeting. He said the detecting devices are being developed at Stanford University's School of Medicine.

Ford Declares Dividend

DEARBORN (UPI)—The board of directors of Ford Motor Co. Wednesday declared a 75-cent quarterly dividend, payable Dec. 1 to holders of common stock at the close of business Nov. 1.

Most Gains Are Narrow

Oil Trade Boosts Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—A big spurt by Honolulu Oil featured a generally higher stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

★ ★ ★

Honolulu Oil rose 9¾ points to 95¼ on an opening block of 11,000 shares, reaching a new high, and kept most of the gain in later trades.

Argo Oil jumped about 4 points. Other oils were mixed.

Steels, aircrafts, utilities and rails were up on balance but most gains were narrow. Chemicals were mostly off.

Ford dropped about 2 even though it had reached agreement with the union to end the strike. Chrysler was up a fraction. General Motors eased.

Fractional gains were made by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, International Harvester, Boeing, Westinghouse Electric, Illinois Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Opening blocks included: Delta Air Lines off ⅞ at 43 on 22,000 shares; San Diego Imperial, off ¼ at 17 on 10,500; and General Motors, off 1/8 at 50⅝ on 3,000.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gains were made by Anken Chemical, Technicolor and Aerojet-General. Among losers were Sherwin-Williams, Molybdenum and General Development.

Corporate Bonds Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The corporate bond market opened mixed today, with losses outnumbering gains in rails but with industrials and utilities balanced between losses and gains.

Because of the holiday, there was no trading in government issues.

The biggest advance was in a utility. Consolidated Edison 2¾s of 1977, which spurted 2½ points to 81. Canadian Pacific 4s perpetual led the rails with a 1¼-point advance to 74¾. Seagram 2¼s of 1966 led industrials with a gain of 2 points to 94.

One of the worst earthquakes of recent years took 12,000 lives in Agadir, Mexico, in March 1960. This is an area where quakes are virtually unknown.

Pontiac Driver to Be Arraigned

Charge He Assaulted, Attempted to Kill Man With Auto

The driver of a car which struck and seriously injured a Pontiac Motor Division engineer Sept. 5 will be arraigned in Circuit Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

★ ★ ★

Robert L. Hackey, 20, of 469 Orchard Lake Ave., was bound over to the Circuit Court in his examination yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Mark A. Lightfoot, 45, 2069 McClintock St., Bloomfield Township, was struck by Hackney's car while crossing a parking lot at the Motorcar Transport Co., 1280 Joslyn Ave.

Lightfoot, assistant experimental engineer at Pontiac Motor, was critically injured in the mishap. He was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Asst. Prosecutor Robert P. Condit said witnesses stated that Hackney, an unemployed mechanic, drove his car onto the lot, followed Lightfoot and knocked him down.

Detroit Bars Free to Hire Gal Waiters

DETROIT (AP)—An order preventing a Detroit bar from dressing its waitresses in a manner likened to "burlesque queens" was dismissed in Circuit Court Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Judge Nathan J. Kaufman said his court didn't have jurisdiction and besides, the Police Censor Bureau and the Michigan Liquor Control Commission should look after such things.

He granted the order Sept. 27 after the Detroit Bartenders Union Local 562, AFL-CIO, sought it on behalf of Madalin Haviland, 30.

The divorcee had balked at wearing a uniform provided her at Edjo's Palmer House in Detroit. She described it as "bikini-cut ballet tights with mesh hose" and called it "immodest and offensive." She was fired.

R. Marie Wheeler, attorney for the bartenders union, told the court that if attractive women were allowed to work as barmaids in "suggestive" costumes, male bartenders might become a thing of the past.

Students Win Awards for Rocket Fuel Paper

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp. announced today that a 20-year-old Harvard student and a 19-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) student have won a $1,000 award for a joint paper on rocket fuel.

Lepers Stage Revolt

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)— Lepers confined to a plantation near Cuenca seized the plantation land Wednesday and divided it up among themselves. The plantation is owned by the city of Cuenca.

To Study Mental Retardation

JFK Names New Medical Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treatment, and if possible, prevention, of mental retardation is the ambitious goal of a new presidential advisory group.

President Kennedy announced Wednesday that he is establishing a panel of experts in medicine, psychiatry, science, law and the social sciences to tackle the problem of mental retardation. He told his news conference he will meet with the group next week.

The panel's primary purpose, Kennedy said, is to recommend possible paths of research leading to prevention of retardation plus steps toward better diagnosis, the treatment and rehabilitation of the 5 million Americans affected.

White House aides said the action is "a continuation of a long founded interest by the President, as illustrated by gifts of millions of dollars by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. foundation for the aid and encouragement of research in this whole field, and for aid to hospitals and clinics."

The foundation, named for the President's older brother who was killed in World War II, was founded by their father, Joseph P. Kennedy.

FOR RESEARCH

In his statement, the President noted that mental retardation—not to be confused with mental illness—"strikes those least able to protect themselves from it. It affects not only the people themselves but also the members of their families. It is a serious personal matter to at least one out of every 12 persons. It disables 10 times as many as diabetes, 20 times as many as tuberculosis, 25 times as many as muscular dystrophy, and 600 times as many as infantile paralysis."

★ ★ ★

He said research on the causes and prevention of mental retardation "will pay enormous dividends in knowledge about ourselves, for the functions of the brain represent an almost completely uncharted frontier."

The President said further, "exploration and discovery in this field may uncover the secrets of life and man's capacities, and the answers to many mysteries of social behavior."

He added: "Perhaps even more important, an understanding of the motivation and effects of human behavior offers the hope of fostering the rational behavior of nations."

WORKING IN CLUB — Ingrid Bayer, 20-year-old blond who three months ago came to the U.S. as Miss Austria in the Miss Universe contest, serves customers at the Gaslight Club in New York where she works as a cocktail waitress. "Not one Miss Universe contestant in a hundred gets a Hollywood or stage offer," said the 5-foot, 8-inch beauty. "I wanted to stay in this country for a while and find modeling work . . . there wasn't anything else to do," she said.

Newhart, Brinkley a Real 1-2 Wallop

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The button-down mind of Bob Newhart and the eye-opening scorn of David Brinkley gave NBC-TV's Wednesday night roster a snappy one-two wallop.

"The Bob Newhart Show" had a relaxed, fresh manner about it and got off to an impressive start. Newhart went through three monologues and a full-scale sketch and each performance succeeded in piling up phenomenal laugh totals.

His timing is fine-tuned to the audience's vibrations. His material, supplied by himself and four sympatico comedy spirits, was consistently entertaining and never wavered from the image of Newhart's halting but perceptive nudger.

One inspired routine about Phil's Fires, Inc., a privately-owned city fire department (he asks a frantic caller, "Do you have an account with us?") went off with a laugh-a-second vigor, almost. It lasted a few beats too long.

TUCKERED-OUT TARZAN

More sly digs came in a routine that had Newhart portraying a tuckered-out, high-pitched Tarzan. Seems his tree house was depressing real estate values in his section of Africa and he was having trouble with his neighbors. Or, as Tarzan put it, "Go argue with a head-hunter who's been to Princeton."

Newhart's comedy was on-target throughout and I hope it wears even better than the best, most expensive button-downs in his wardrobe.

The Brinkley format, however, is in the news category. He deals with explorations, via perceptive words and films, of the modern vulgarities that infest our civilization.

Obviously, perspective is lost by this sort of format, but the charm of the thing is that we're not asked to look at the big picture.

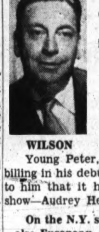

★ ★ ★

We're just asked to look with Brinkley at the warts on our 20th Century civilization. If we're seriously concerned with perfecting our experiment in freedom, it's a valuable pursuit.

Even Fonda Succumbs to Fatherly Bragging

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Maybe you wondered how Henry Fonda responded when his son Peter, 21, walked away with rave notices in the play, "Blood, Sweat and Stanley Poole," and was consequently asked to take star billing?

WILSON

First he laughed hysterically and uproariously when his son was doing his acting.

And afterward Hank walked up to a gent we know pretty well and what do you suppose Hank Fonda said? He said, "Now not because he's my son, you understand, BUT"—and he went on from there, just like all fathers — which we think is the way it should have been.

Young Peter, the bridegroom, didn't want to accept star billing in his debut on Broadway but the producers pointed out to him that it had been done by other actors in their first show—Audrey Hepburn, June Lockhart—and Jane Fonda.

On the N.Y. scene: Rita Moreno, also European glamour boy Horst Buchholz . . . Because actor Robert Shaw got involved in the John Osborne-Mary Ure divorce, 15 people wrote letters to Producer Fred Brisson protesting about him appearing in "The Caretaker" . . .

Chuck Connors delayed a trip back to L.A. for hours so he could have a date with beautiful, shapely Fon Tayne, the designer . . . They claim Johnny Mathis will earn more'n $2,000,000 in '61.

Pan Mail: "Dear Earl, That is surprising news that Anna Maria Alberghetti gets $3,600 a week in 'Carnival.' If she got $200 it would be big pay as she does not add one thing to the play. Las Vegas is where she belongs.—Rene Jay, Houston Tex."

Joe Louis wants to become a boxing promoter . . . The Screen Actors Guild is still getting bags of fan mail for the late Jeff Chandler . . . Actress Nora Hayden's putting together a cafe act . . . New gimmick for the Christmas trade: A gold-plated bust of Elvis Presley.

EARL'S PEARLS: A Texan is a fellow who knows if he likes his wife's new dress before he learns the price.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Modern inventions are wonderful. Once we had to pull burned toast out of the toaster. Today the burned toast pops up automatically.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The old-fashioned wife was expected to cook a full meal. Now a gal figures she deserves praise if she carries the pizza home from the store by herself.

PSC Sets Rail Hearing

LANSING (UPI)—The State Public Service Commission will conduct a hearing Oct. 20 on a New York Central Railroad proposal to service freight shipments now being handled out of Marshall and Chelsea at Jackson. The railroad said the consolidated proposal was prompted by lack of freight revenue at the smaller depots.
