Bit of Summer Brings Death to 18 in Michigan

Drownings Kill Nine; Nine Others Perish on Roads During Weekend

By The Associated Press
Summer-like weather lured thousands into Michigan's outdoors during the weekend. Eighteen of them will never go home again. Strange accidents brought nine drowning fatalities. The same number died in traffic.

The drowning toll was the highest of the year. Highway deaths were down from the previous weekend's 17.

Three of the drowning victims were young boys. Another was a mother of three children who lost her life in a freak accident.

Mrs. Nancy Herro, 28, of Escanaba, drowned Sunday when a cloudburst undermined the foundations of a cottage she was in and toppled it into a rain-filled ravine near Sault Ste. Marie. She was trapped inside.

Donald R. Landeryour and Steven Myrtle, both 15 and both of Saginaw, drowned Sunday in the Cass River near Saginaw.

Police said Myrtle fell into the river and shouted for help as he was swept along. Landeryour swam to the boy in an effort to rescue him but both drowned while struggling in the water.

William H. White, 66, of Pontiac, drowned Sunday when a canoe he was in tipped over in North Londo Lake near East Tawas.

HORSE FALLS
Donald Estelle, 10, of Tekonsha, drowned Saturday when the horse he was riding in a water-filled gravel pit near his home tripped and fell.

Roy Prater, 27, of La Salle, drowned in Lake Erie near Bolles Harbor Saturday when a boat he was fishing from capsized.

Ralph Lahue, 45, of Woodland Beach, drowned Sunday while swimming in Lake Erie.

Ross M. Cady, 35, of Grand Rapids, drowned in the Betsie River near Bendie Saturday night while swimming.

Gay D. Penegor, 3, of Greenland, drowned Sunday when he fell into a pond at a saw mill in Elm River Township, Houghton County.

Four of the traffic victims were young boys. One died when his bicycle and an auto collided. The other three were struck and killed by cars.

Ike Invites HST to White House but He Can't Go

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower invited former President Truman to a White House stag dinner for Sir Winston Churchill Wednesday evening but Truman has sent regrets.

Announcing this today, Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Truman informed Eisenhower that he has a New York engagement that evening. Relations between Eisenhower and Truman have been strained since the 1952 campaign. Political charges and counter-charges at that time ended the friendly relation which had existed previously.

Novi Wife Knifes Mate, Kills Self

Husband Satisfactory at Pontiac Hospital After Sunday Morning Attack

A 63-year-old husband, Henry Waino of Novi is reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after his wife, Aino, 55, stabbed him with a hunting knife Sunday morning and then took her own life.

The incident took place at breakfast in the Waino home at 45082 Grand River Ave. "I sat down to eat and suddenly blacked out," Waino was quoted as saying.

"As I tried to get up I realized she'd hit me with a rolling pin. Then she stabbed me," he explained. He ran next door to the Young Door Co., 43240 Grand River, where a night watchman called Novi police.

Police Chief Lee BeGole said Waino's wife was found moments later in the bathtub. Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Preston W. Fort of Farmington pronounced her dead and counted 18 slashes on her arms inflicted by a razor blade.

Will Reconsider His Tax Plan for Vet Fund Use

GOP Opposes Trade; Sticks to Demand for 1 Cent Sales Levy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has offered to trade reconsideration of his tax program for use of the veterans trust fund in solving Michigan's cash emergency.

But he was met with an immediate Republican rebuff. First reaction from the GOP indicated little chance of agreement.

The Democratic governor acted as the state's financial muddle moved toward the impending payless payday — Thursday — for 28,000 state employees.

Unless there's a solution, the bi-monthly payday will come and go without pay checks.

That would be the second such instance. Last week members of the Legislature and state court judges failed to get paid as a result of depletion of the general fund.

Williams' new proposal — his reconsideration of "all tax proposals," including his own and those of others — was tied directly to Senate approval of using the 50-million-dollar veterans fund in the crisis.

Red Envoy Hijacked in Freedom Attempt

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — A Soviet military attache who apparently had tried to escape by leaping from a hospital window was flown out of Rangoon on a Communist plane yesterday.

A screen of 40 hefty Russians from the Soviet embassy, roughed up newsmen and prevented them from questioning him.

Sources at the hospital said the attache was Col. Mikhail I. Stryguine, who apparently wanted to get political asylum in Burma. The embassy neither confirmed nor denied published reports of his identity.

The slightly built, haggard-looking man was brought to the airport in a Soviet embassy car minutes before a Chinese Communist transport plane took off for Kunming and Peiping.

A weeping woman identified as his wife, a Russian nurse and two guards accompanied him. Hospital sources gave this account:

Stryguine was brought to the hospital a week ago suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills. It was reported he had tried to commit suicide when told he must return to the Soviet Union. His wife and two Russians sat with him all night, the woman weeping almost continuously.

The next day, upon recovering, Stryguine shouted invectives in English against the Soviet regime and against his associates at the embassy.

The two Russians then demanded that he return to the embassy and tried to remove him when he refused.

He broke away and threw himself through a first floor window in what one witness said was "a leap for life," not a suicide attempt.

He was brought back, given a sedative and bundled into a car by the Russians, who drove off.

The newsmen waited at the airport all night. Three hours before the plane's departure, members of the Russian embassy staff began to arrive.

By plane time 40 of them were on hand. They kept a close watch on the newsmen, following them wherever they went.

Ten minutes before takeoff time, a car carrying Soviet Ambassador Alexi D. Shiborin and the Stryguine drew up. As Stryguine stepped out, a newsmen called out: "Have you anything to say to the press?"

Before he could say a word, a wedge of three Russians rushed the reporter and threw him several feet. Guards shoved and pushed the other newsmen aside and seized the cameras of two photographers.

Looking bewildered, Stryguine was almost lifted from the ground by two Russians, who rushed him inside the customs room and locked the door.

Shortly afterward, he was escorted to the plane, his wife trailing behind.

On shore was the victim's daughter, Mrs. Mary Menard, 8105 Studebaker St., Warren, who said White struggled briefly to swim then sank from sight.

Annual Auto Safety Check Begins Today in Pontiac

Today is the first day of Pontiac's annual May vehicle inspection program.

Autos are being given thorough but brief checks at five safety-check lanes throughout the city at no cost to drivers.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Traffic and Safety Committee in cooperation with the Pontiac Automobile Dealers Assn., the safety checks will be given through Friday.

The five lanes will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. today through Friday.

The check points are at Huron street at the Crofoot School playground; Auburn avenue at East boulevard; Montcalm street at Lincoln Junior High; Johnson avenue near State street; Orchard Lake avenue at Berwick boulevard.

One police officer, four volunteer workers and mechanics will be stationed at each lane to operate the check.

Warning violations will be issued to motorists whose cars have serious defects.

These must be cleared up at an inspection lane or at the Public Safety Building police garage within 72 hours or tickets will be issued, according to Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

Approximately 10,000 vehicles are expected to pass through the lanes during the week.

Nab 2 Youths in Crime Spree

Steal Cars, Kidnap 1, Tie Up 3 in Northern Michigan Rampage

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Two youths sought in a four-day crime spree across northern Lower Michigan and eastern Upper Michigan, were captured today 11 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie.

"They're the ones," said Police Capt. William D. Shunk as he led the two to jail here. "They fit the descriptions."

Shunk said the two identified themselves as Robert Squires, 17, of Grand Rapids and Jay M. Holloway, 16, of Muskegon.

Capture followed a police chase and abandonment of one of several cars involved in the crime spree that also involved kidnapping and the tying up of at least three people.

Giving chase to a newly stolen car from Sault Ste. Marie's southern city limits, Shunk, two of his policemen and U. S. border patrolman Jack Goodwin were in on the capture.

Both boys were armed with hunting knives, but had neither a pistol nor rifle reported taken in one of the north country robberies mushrooming since Friday.

Shunk said the youths, hotly pursued, abandoned the newly stolen car in the Donaldson area and fled into a field toward a woods, but the swollen Charlotte River cut them off.

The two were attempting to find another way out. Shunk said when Goodwin, topping a rise, came face to face with the two and demanded surrender. The two threw up their hands.

Overnight a Mackinac City man was kidnapped, at least two cars stolen and a young couple tied up as police played cat-and-mouse with two youths sought since Friday, when Alonzo (Dad) Morris, an elderly woodsman was tied up in his cabin and a nearby farmhouse broken into and a rifle and pistol taken. This was outside Chestonia in Antrim County in the northwest corner of the Lower Peninsula.

Williams Offers Deal for Use of Vets Fund

jected liquidation of the fund unless this were accompanied by an indirect one per cent sales tax increase, meets tonight as the Legislature reconvenes.

The Legislature is now in its fifth month of grappling with the financial dilemma.

Williams, offering to meet with Republican leaders "around the clock," made his offer in a telegram last night to senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair.

He told Beadle: "I will reconsider all tax recommendations which I have made, and discuss with an open mind not only my own ideas on taxes but all tax proposals others have or may wish to put forth."

Williams and the Democrats have plunked for a graduated state income tax and a corporations tax. Beadle said he and Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland) chairman of the Senate Tax Committee, would be willing to meet with Williams. But he gave no hint that the GOP would change its position on the trust fund.

Beadle said he would present Williams' proposal to the Republican caucus but that he was satisfied the group would "not be inclined to go along with passing the trust fund bill until after the tax question is settled."

As the political poker game went on, pressure mounted from other sources for a solution.

The Michigan State Employees Assn., meeting at Jackson, adopted a resolution demanding a quick solution to protect employee paydays "now and in the future."

By order of the governor, all payments from the general fund except for welfare and debt service were stopped last week.

Williams, calling the Senate's use tax (sales tax) increase proposal "hastily devised and highly defective," said it was "unacceptable."

He told Sen. Beadle he was making his new offer to assure that the May 7 payroll could be met. He said the Senate tonight could make sure of this "in 10 minutes," if it desires, by approving use of the trust fund.

In the telegram, Williams referred to the trust fund as a "bargaining weapon in the tax fight."

"The only way this purpose (meeting the May 7 payroll) can be accomplished," Williams said, "is for the Senate to pass, without delaying amendments, the trust fund bill which is now held as a bargaining weapon in the tax fight."

OKs Home Searches Without Warrants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today approved searches of private homes by health inspectors without warrants.

The court split 5-4 in ruling on the case of a Baltimore resident who had been fined $20 for refusing to admit to his home a city health inspector who had no search warrant.

Justice Frankfurter wrote the majority opinion which said, "In light of the long history of this kind of inspection and of modern needs, we cannot say that the carefully circumscribed demand which Maryland here makes an appellant's (the Baltimore home owner) freedom has deprived him of due process of law."

Justice Douglas said in his dissent that "The decision today greatly dilutes the right of privacy which every home owner has the right to believe was part of our American heritage."

"We witness indeed an inquest over a substantial part of the Fourth Amendment," Douglas wrote.

Pontiac School Board to Discuss Band Issue

A special meeting of the Pontiac Board of Education has been set for next Monday to discuss the controversial Pontiac Central High School Band.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, announced today that the Board has invited interested citizens, school administrators and members of the Band Parents and Alumni Committee to discuss the issue.

The band has been in the spotlight since April 9 when 100 members of the Band Parents and Alumni Committee protested Board policies concerning the band, particularly the reducing of practice time and not allowing junior high instrumentalists to practice with the senior organization.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the McCarrall School.

"This citizens group will not be asked to make any decisions," Whitmer said, "but will be asked for their ideas."

"We want to present all the information in this controversy. Those who attend will have an opportunity to present their viewpoints and ask questions."

MAY RELEASE REPORT
Whitmer said that a school administration report on the controversy might be released at the meeting's conclusion, but that no official decision on the report's release has yet been made by the meeting.

Representatives of his committee have recently refused to meet with the school officials, saying

To Use Portable Throne but Pope Doesn't Like It

VATICAN CITY (U)—Pope John XXIII says he does not like being carried around on a portable throne. But he says he will go on using it because it gives more people a chance to see him.

Speaking Sunday to 100,000 persons at the new Church of Saint Giovanni John Bosco, the 77-year-old pontiff said he preferred to walk "like other persons."

The portable throne is carried on the shoulders of 30 papal chair bearers. Last December, the 205-pound Pope ordered a bonus of 15,000 lire ($25) paid to each bearer.

Ike Determined to Have Strauss for Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wide-ranging Democratic attacks apparently have strengthened President Eisenhower's determination to have Lewis L. Strauss for his secretary of commerce.

Strauss' nomination has been opposed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and others in appearances before the Senate Commerce Committee. They have centered their fire on his activities when he was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Republican leaders quoted Eisenhower as telling them in recent White House conferences he regards it as a shame that Strauss has been deprived of confirmation for so long.

Senate soundings have indicated Strauss will be confirmed when his nomination is finally brought before the Senate. He has been serving in the Cabinet post under a recess appointment. His formal nomination was sent to the Senate Jan. 17.

City's Spring Value Days Set Downtown Booming

Downtown Spring Value Days provided a busy retail weekend in Pontiac, probably the busiest of the year.

George Richman, Downtown Merchants Assn. chairman of the sale, said that downtown crowds Thursday through Saturday were the largest so far in 1959.

Norman Pattison, DMA president, said reports indicated business was "very active" during the sale, and described the whole promotion as "very successful."

Several stores reported their weekend business as the heaviest of the year, said Pattison.

One indication of public interest in the promotion was the fact that most of the 600 gift certificates distributed were turned in for retail goods almost immediately, said Pattison.

Story of Revolt in Castro Book

Chicago Tribune Man Writes of Rebellion, Leader's Personality

Fidel Castro: Rebel, Liberator, Dictator?
By Jules Dubois

By CORENNA M. ALDRICH

"He has known how to win the admiration and affection of all. He will make law his career and we do not doubt that he will fill with brilliant pages the book of his life. He has good timber and the actor in him will not be lacking."

The student who wrote this for a high school yearbook couldn't have known how prophetic a description it would prove to be in the life of Fidel Castro, leader of the Cuban revolution.

From his first political skirmishes in college to the last moments of the revolt, this determined doctor of law, with a flare for dramatic appeal and eloquent language, gained the hearts and loyalty of outraged Cubans fighting to regain freedom.

"Fidel Castro: Rebel, Liberator, Dictator?" could have been written only by a man so intimately aware of the situation as Jules Dubois. The book describes events which led to the rebellion and propelled it to victory. Direct quotation from both rebel leaders and members of the Batista regime give a dramatic picture almost impossible to achieve any other way. Much of the material has never been published in English; some never before published.

Dubois brings into clearer focus many points Americans have been questioning. Some of these concern Castro's sincerity, his rumored Communist ties and the revolutionists' antagonism toward United States foreign policy. The author deals with problems and contradictions of the present provisional government, but offers no sure prediction for Cuba's future.

Whether the reader is vehemently anti-Castro or passionately pro-revolution, the book will provide an insight of Castro and his cause which few persons have known until now. The author, brilliant correspondent of The Chicago Tribune, knows more about Latin America and Latin American politics than any one there is. He stands as the unchallenged authority. Hence his book is authoritative.

School Census Scheduled on Last 20 Days of May

BIRMINGHAM — Census takers for the Birmingham school system will make annual house-to-house calls in the district during the last 20 days of this month.

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent, said today that all official census takers can be identified by badges which he has signed. He added that all information will be kept confidential.

Purpose of the census is to record all persons in the district under 20 years of age as an index to possible service schools can render, Dr. Ireland said.

Census figures are used in planning to meet the schools' requirements, as well as the basis for distributing primary school interest funds, he explained.

Money received from this source is deducted from the state aid allotments to the district, Dr. Ireland said.

He added that census takers would be prepared to give dates for kindergarten roundups.

The schedule is: Beverly and Valleywood Schools on May 5; Harlan School, May 6; Greenfield, May 8; Franklin, May 12, 15; Pierce and Midvale, May 13; Walnut Lake, May 18; Pembroke, May 20; Quanton, May 22; Adams and Baldwin, June 3.

Birmingham City Commissioners tonight will discuss the problems of weed growth on vacant lots in Birmingham and what steps the city should take to assure proper control measures.

A survey of city costs as compared to private contractor charges has been made, and they are found to be practically equal, according to commissioners.

Officials also will consider necessary steps for Birmingham to pump water into the South Oakland Water Authority System should the need arise.

Asst. City Manager Robert S. Kenning suggests that Birmingham charge the same amount to the authority as the city pays for water it purchases.

Jackie Schwerin, 20, of 2878 York St., Pontiac, and a juvenile companion were arrested by Bloomfield Township Police Saturday night at Square Lake and Adams roads as they prepared to break milk bottles on the pavement, according to Police Chief Norman Dhenke.

He said the two boys, who had been drinking, admitted to having broken 10 cases of milk bottles on Squirrel road, near the intersection of South boulevard.

Two other youths, Jerry L. Hill, 19, of 2940 St. Clair St., Auburn Hills, and James H. Lane, 20, of 2466 Willow Beach, Keego Harbor, were arrested early yesterday morning at the parking lot of Ted's Drive-In on Woodward avenue.

They were charged with disturbing the peace after they allegedly got in a fight over some girls.

Invasion of Panama Condemned by Castro

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (U)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba condemned today the invasion of Panama by a group of Cuban adventurers.

"We do not hesitate in condemning it because it was a mistake detrimental to the Cuban people and their revolution," Castro told a news conference.

No revolution would get Cuba's support, he added, unless it was an uprising by the people.

Small War Possible, but Big One Unlikely

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — What is the likelihood of war with the Communist world any time soon? And where, since communism is dedicated to conquering the earth, will the Soviets and Red Chinese do their pushing?

The State Department has provided careful answers to both questions. It doesn't rule out some shooting on a limited scale, if the Communists think it worth the price and the danger.

But the department says: for the foreseeable future it is likely the Soviets and Red Chinese will avoid all-out war and try to push their programs by political, economic and psychological means. The State Department gave written answers to a series of questions from the Senate's disarmament subcommittee. Although the department is optimistic about avoiding a world war, it said enough to show it expects this country to have its hands full trying to cope with the Red bloc for years to come.

One thing the department made clear: it is satisfied that Premier Nikita Khrushchev, having eliminated his rivals, is undisputed boss of the Soviet Union and that therefore the political situation there should be stable for years.

It is ironic that just a few days before the May 11 meeting at Geneva—between the Western and Soviet foreign ministers to talk about troubles in Europe—the department should be anticipating no end of trouble from the Communist bloc around the world.

This is the picture. So long as the West remains as well armed as the Soviets — and therefore could make all-out war unendurable — there isn't likely to be a general war.

But the Soviets' main thrust will probably continue to be in the underdeveloped countries, with main emphasis on the Middle East, where anti-Western feeling and native Communist help gives the Soviets hope for takeover.

Latin America and particularly the newly emerging countries of Africa will probably become increasingly important targets of Moscow's political-economic offensive.

The department added: "In Europe the basic Soviet objective is consolidation of Moscow's control in Eastern Europe and reduction of Western military strength, particularly that of the United States. Soviet policies there for the foreseeable future will thus be aimed at tightening Moscow's grip on what it has and depriving the West of its advantage there rather than at direct Soviet expansion, although they will also seek to force the West from its position in Berlin."

As for the Red Chinese: For the immediate future the most likely form of Chinese Communist expansion is continued effort to increase political and economic influence, especially in Southeast Asia, through trade offensives, subversion and political pressure.

The department seems less hopeful that the Red Chinese will refrain from shooting.

It said, "An attack could of course take place anywhere along the perimeter of Communist-controlled territory in Asia."

William Howard Taft is the only man ever to have held the two highest offices in the United States—President and Chief Justice.

DENVER, Colo. — Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Kaiser of St. Charles, Ill., extended their Denver visit an extra day for one reason.

They hoped to get a glimpse of Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower while the nation's first lady was here bidder probably will be able to buy the personal accounts—but not the official reports—of the first American spacemen to orbit the earth.

They were unsuccessful. However, Secret Service agents allowed Kaiser to photograph his wife on the steps in front of Mrs. Doud's home.

An indication on the subject came Sunday in a Pentagon reply to questions from a Washington publisher, M.B. Schnapper of the Public Affairs Press.

He asked, among other things, "would it be fair to let any group of persons benefit privately from the program, considering that billions in taxpayer funds have gone into rocket and satellite development leading up to the first manned orbital flight?"

Schnapper is the publisher who challenged the right of Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover to copyright his speeches.

To Charge Four in Rape of Negro

Florida Men Held After Attack on College Girl; Justice Demanded

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Four white men will be formally charged today with raping a Negro college girl, State Atty. W. D. Hopkins said.

The prosecutor said he would ask that they be held without bail pending referral of the case to the grand jury, which convenes June 1.

Demands mounted from Negro groups for vigorous, fair prosecution of the quartet, quoted by Sheriff Bill Joyce as admitting the crime.

Placards reading "double standards of justice must be eliminated," and "it could have been your sister, wife or mother," bobbed Sunday night over a rally of several hundred hymn-singing praying Florida A&M University fellow-students of the rape victim. A spokesman announced they would stay out of class today.

A deputy sheriff said he found the 19-year-old girl, bound and gagged, still in her armed assailants' car when he arrested four Tallahasseeans at gunpoint early Saturday.

Those arrested were identified as Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, on leave from the Air Force at Ft. Fisher, Wilmington, N.C.; William Collinsworth, 24, a telephone lineman; David Ervin Bagles, 18, a high school student, and Ollie Stoutamire, 16.

Florida's maximum penalty for a rape conviction is death, but no white man has ever gone to the state's electric chair for raping a Negro.

Caldwell Taylor, president of A&M's student body, told the campus meeting it was essential that the students control their emotions.

"But at the same time we must show by peaceful demonstration our determination to get justice," Taylor said.

Oak Ridge Expected to OK Incorporation

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Oak Ridgers vote Tuesday on whether they want this sprawling, federal atomic reservation incorporated as a city under Tennessee law. All indications are that they do.

In a similar referendum in 1952, before any Oak Ridgers owned property, incorporation lost by a one-sided margin.

Incorporation of the 94-square-mile area would make Oak Ridge the second largest Tennessee city in area, behind Memphis, and, based on the 1950 census, the sixth largest in population, behind Jackson.

Oak Ridge's estimated population is 28,000.

It also would mean that on June 16 the federal government would relinquish control of local government to an elected, 12-member City Council. Oak Ridge was founded in 1942.

The Atomic Energy Commission favors incorporation but wants the atomic plants to be outside the city limits, instead of inside as proposed in the charter passed by the 1959 Legislature.

Scientists Will Drill Deep

Earth to Get Dental Treatment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A hole may be drilled into the earth's mysterious insides in two to three years.

This forecast, assuming the necessary financial support is forthcoming, was made by Dr. Willard Bascom, technical director of the Amso-Mohole Committee of the National Academy of Sciences.

Bascom said "we feel the whole project is pretty well within our grasp."

The proposal is to drill a hole through the earth's crust into the so-called mantle, an 1,800 mile thick region believed to constitute about 80 per cent of the planet's mass.

FLOATING RIG

This would be done from a rig floating in the ocean where seismic soundings indicate the crust is thinnest.

It is called the "Mohole Project" because the drill bit would pierce the "moheovicle discontinuity," the boundary between crust and mantle.

The Russians also have a "Mohole Project" and may, Bascom said, try to beat this country to the depths.

Bascom said four drilling platforms, now used by oil companies in digging offshore oil wells in the Pacific could be modified for the much more difficult mohole job.

The mohole platform would anchor in about three miles of water and drill through about half a mile of sediment and 2½ miles of crust onto the mantle, taking core samples all the way.

An ocean site is desirable because the crust under the continents is 25 to 30 miles thick. Moreover, the ocean bottom contains a sedimentary record of the past.

The sediment cores, scientists say will reveal the geological history of the earth and tell a fossil story of life going back about a billion years. The deepest oceanic cores yet obtained go back about 100 million years.

The mohole project would cost five to 10 million dollars, its promoters believe, and would take two to three years to complete.

Inflation is shooting holes in every pocketbook in America

This steady sniping at every pocketbook in America is putting a bigger and bigger hole in every dollar. The dollars you save. And the dollars you put in your pocket on pay day. None of them buy as much as they did 10 years ago, or 5 years ago, or even last year.

It's hard for anyone to escape from inflation. Just since the war, inflation has taken 32 cents from the dollar.

For you, the important questions today are these: What will your dollar buy in the future? How can you protect your money from this stealthy pilfering?

First, let's not fall for the idea that further inflation is inevitable! It can be stopped!

There is a way we can stop further inflation

Think of all government spending as coming out of one big purse! Out of this purse must come the money to pay for our huge defense program as well as the money for all our other requirements.

If we keep on pressing Congress for more and more services when we're already committed to heavy expenditures, it can only mean two things. Higher and higher taxes to replenish the purse. Or more and more inflation—the cruelest tax of all. Either way, you pay.

By tempering our demands to what we can afford, we'll get all we need, just as surely, but not quite so fast. And this principle is as true in our local and state affairs as in federal matters.

This policy of pay-as-we-go will not only help fight inflation. It will encourage millions to add to their savings, giving them a greater feeling of independence and security. And those savings, as they are invested, will provide the capital needed for America's future growth.

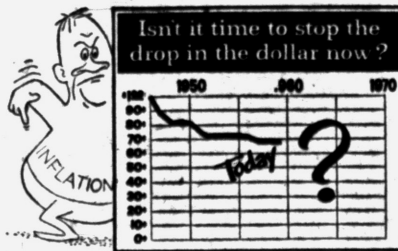

A stable dollar is the surest possible way to the most prosperous years you or America have ever known.

Brought to you in the interest of every American who is concerned with preserving the value of the dollar.

Inflation is "the cruelest tax of all"

Writing Analyst Likes 'Some' Dishonesty

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—In the dim, purplish light of her exotic "office," the Korean woman in the gold kimono studied a scrap of paper. She was dissecting the letters scrawled upon it.

"Dear Madame," was written thereon, "Please tell me . . ."

Suddenly Madame Helen Yun looked up, eyes still squinted with scrutiny.

"It could have been written by a policeman," she said quietly, "or by a crook. Policemen and crooks have much the same handwriting characteristics, you know. Both professions require good imaginations, energy, ambition and a certain degree of dishonesty."

Seeing shocked expressions on the faces of her listeners, Madame Yun—graphologist said: "As a matter of fact, anybody who has no dishonesty in his system is very dull—very, very dull indeed."

"I hate to see that handwriting of people who pride themselves on being completely honest. It means I am facing someone who is very lazy and unimaginative and narrow-viewed, who wouldn't bother to think twice."

"One must have some dishonesty in his soul in order to know the meaning of integrity."

Besides, in covering the glad-some characteristic of dishonesty in a man or woman's penmanship, this short-statured, long-experienced daughter of a Korean noble and scholar can detect ego, emotion, drive.

"Drive," she mused. "This is what you see most in the American's handwriting. They live on the edge of their teeth, so anxious to get the most out of everything, so afraid to be alone with themselves."

"It has always been this way with the men in my experience (Madame Yun has practiced graphology 30 years), but in the last 10 years the women, also, are dynamic and forceful and aggressive."

She shook her head. "There is not much roundness in the letters now. Roundness means sweetness and sensuousness."

Instead, there is in the small, upright or back-slanted handwriting (usually a sign of selfishness) and women, as a sex, are putting more flourish on their t-bars and capital letters (usually a sign of egotism).

Madame Yun's "office" currently is the Purple Tree Room of the Vanderbilt Hotel, and her "patients" for handwriting analysis are the Park avenue socialites, the Madison avenue businessmen, and the Main-streeters from towns all over the world. On off-hours, she occasionally studies her own script—"so I can wheel myself around, if I am developing unlikable character."

She is a naturalized American citizen. Her father, Baron Yun Tchi Ho, was a leader in Korea's progressive party fighting for Westernization, at the turn of the century.

Before that, in the 1880s, he was one of the first Korean students to come to America.

He sent Helen to a boarding school in Kentucky at the age of 7, and she went on to become a Phi Beta Kappa in psychology at Vanderbilt University.

"Graphology has been my profession all my adult life," she said, "but my main interest has been a crusade to fight prejudice. I have seen great steps in both fields."

"Graphology at last is accepted

Alma's Top Industry May Go to Kentucky

ALMA (U)—Alma business, community and union leaders were fretting today over the possibility that the city's leading industry may move to Kentucky.

The Lobdell-Emery Manufacturing Co., which employs about 500 workers to make car paneling in this Gratiot county community, has threatened the move.

John Hiemenz, company general manager, did not identify the Kentucky city.

But a community spokesman said it was understood the offer was received from Corbin, Ky., and that it included five years of free taxes and provisions for a building.

Asks Flint Spending Cuts

FLINT (UPI)—City Manager Robert A. Carter yesterday submitted a proposed 1959-60 operating budget calling for spending of $8,891,000, or $88,000 less than last year. The budget suggests a water rate hike and sewage fee while sustaining municipal employee pay increases.

Yankus to Sail May 18 and Settle in Australia

DOWAGIAC (UPI)—Wheat rebel Stanley Yankus said today he will sail for Australia May 18 and will settle in Adelaide when he reaches that country.

Yankus, who plans to go to Chicago next week to complete travel arrangements for him and his wife and their three children, said he would leave Dowagiac May 14 or May 15 and travel to San Francisco by train. He will sail to Australia aboard the S.S. Orcaades.

Ghana, Guinea Seeking to Unite in Independence

CONAKRY, Guinea (AP)—Premier Sekou Toure of Guinea and Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana will ask their Parliaments to ratify a new constitution creating the Union of Independent African States.

St. Lawrence Seaway Will Benefit Michigan

The parade of flags is over and the St. Lawrence Seaway is a reality. Michigan stands to gain and gain immeasurably as the years pass. Shipping to world ports is now opened. We can send things from the Wolverine State to any seaport there is.

However, it isn't going to be all sweetness and light. There's a sizable fly in the ointment in the shape of good, old New York. Gotham is very proud of her port and very proud of her great position in the shipping world. And she proposes to concede nothing to the middle west.

ROGER G. H. GILMAN, of the N. Y. Port Authority, stated in a recent speech that "anyone who thinks New York is going to roll over and play dead to help the St. Lawrence Seaway is just simple minded."

The gauntlet's hurled. Here's a declaration of war.

New York proposes to leave no stone unturned in an effort to make Gotham the most desirable port there is and she plans to feature the fact "they handle shipping twelve months a year against the Seaway's ice-free seven."

This is a competitive world and "all's fair etc." New York is entitled to her innings but we propose equally to wage an unremitting battle and we accept the defy. Furthermore, right off the bat we challenge that "seven months" deal. It reads quite a little more than that in our book. And really, it looks as though there were going to be enough shipping for everyone.

Rebels Call a Truce in Panama's Invasion

Events in Panama for the last few days have all the ingredients of a comic opera — the beautiful ballerina jailed and released, her handsome husband accused of being a ringleader of the rebels takes refuge in the Brazilian Embassy, an off shore yacht, a ragged military force landing on a desolate beach and an American actor's name mentioned in the script.

However, the show had a serious side and a five man ambassador team sent to Panama by the 21 nation Organization of American States has requested and received a screen of U.S. fighter planes. Aid was also forthcoming from other Latin American countries. Panama's north coast was said to have been threatened by a 300 man invasion from a Cuban port.

The committee reports that it has found no evidence that any foreign government was involved in the invasion of Panama. Prime Minister Castro has condemned action from Cuban soil against any neighboring country.

Panama admits that the invading force numbered only 89, all of whom have now surrendered. The New York Times reports, however, that rebels planned a symbolic seizure of the Canal if President DE LA GUARDIA's government fell.

The U.S. has permanent jurisdiction over the waterway and the zone on either side and the rebels knew that American authorities would throw them out. Then, they figured, the question could be brought up before the Organization of American States or even the United Nations.

This country is involved in the matter because of membership in that organization which is pledged to help member nations repel foreign invasions. Panama had asked for help and we are particularly interested in whatever happens around the Canal Zone.

Lakes Are Lower

Water Level Is Under the Averages of Former Years

May: The month that has what April showers bring.

The many lakes in the Pontiac area generally have a water level this spring that is below the average for this season. The levels on the largest of them all, Cass Lake, are quite accurately tabulated by Clifford J. Cartwright

In a system he operates near his home on its shore at Ward's Point. His daily readings show that it is flirting with one of its lowest spring levels.

While it was a long and hard winter, the snow was hardly up to normal, and the slight raise in the water levels caused by its melting was more than wiped out by a spring drought. Although this now has been broken by copious rains, the ground was so dry that it soaked up most of the rain where it fell, very little of the moisture reaching the lakes.

In a Nutshell

David Lawrence Says:

Herter Shows Tact Before Press

PARIS—Secretary of State Christian Herter handled himself with the press here in a manner that would have done credit to any veteran in public life.

Every one of the newsmen present wondered before-hand how Herter would conduct himself under the penetrating ordeal of questions that are usually flung at a secretary of state.

The new secretary seemed ahead of the game all along. He didn't hesitate once for an answer. He said "no" pleasantly and with an engaging smile. He explained persuasively his reasons for not answering a question, and stuck to his position.

This correspondent couldn't help think how much better off like would be at some of his press conferences if he adopted the same technique. For, while the newsmen have a "right to know," there is no good reason why the interests of the American government should be subordinated to the curiosity of the press, without regard to the damage that might be done.

Certainly nothing should be kept secret which the people are entitled to know—and that includes almost everything imaginable—but there is nothing in the rule book that says the information must always be available in time for the next edition of the American press.

It's the timing, therefore, on which discretion should and can be used. Herter wisely refrained from discussing the details of the so-called "package plan" to be presented next week in Geneva, but this doesn't mean it will not be revealed at that time.

Obviously there are good reasons for not publicizing the allied position in advance of the actual negotiations. To do so not only means that the opposing politicians in every country would have a chance to belittle or ridicule the proposals, but it also gives our adversaries a chance to read about them and pile up obstacles which could imperil the negotiations at Geneva.

Domestic politics may make its demands for the fullest publicity, but international negotiations ought to be respected as a higher consideration for which allowance should be made by both the press and the politicians.

Reader Says Law Forbids Use of Vets' Trust Fund

I'm a veteran and feel the fund shouldn't be used for anything but needy veterans. If they use the fund and don't pass any new tax laws or cut spending, what fund will they use next time the Senate needs money?

There's a sentence in the trust fund law that reads, "Said fund shall be excluded in determining any surplus or deficiency in the general State fund."

The Senators take great delight in "dishing it out" so it follows they ought to expect to "take it" once in a while. Mrs. Luce was shadow boxing with the bottom of the barrel and you don't raise your sights very high in cases like that.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Lawsuititis' Evidence of Greed

Please read Tom's case with double care for he is typical of far too many Americans nowadays. And insurance companies are likewise being blackmailed, in a sense, into compromising on all sorts of such far-fetched cases. It's time for a revival of the Golden Rule to offset this rule of gold.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE B-425: Tom T., aged 45, was a hotel patron at Des Moines, Iowa.

"He was attending a convention at the hotel," said the manager, "but returned to his room about 4 p. m."

"Since he had nothing to do to amuse himself till the banquet at 6:30, he decided to take a hot bath."

"So he relaxed in the tub and spent half an hour luxuriating in warm soapsuds."

"But he apparently got bored by the monotony, so he started sticking his big toe out of the water."

"His interest waned in that sport, so he decided to thrust his toe inside the curved water drain that let the hot and cold water into the tub."

"All went well till he tried to remove his big toe. Then it wouldn't come out. It was stuck fast."

"Tom grew frightened and called, but nobody heard him. So he became panicky and with a great heave, he wrenched his toe out of the pipe.

"Unfortunately, the inner wall of the pipe was not polished, but contained many little metal projections. And I suppose some calcium may have deposited around the opening, too."

"Anyway, when Tom yanked his big toe out, he tore off a lot of the skin, and it started bleeding."

"Quickly he wrapped one of our hotel towels around his toe and then called an ambulance to take him to the hospital."

"Later, infection and gangrene set in, and now we have been sued for $12,000 damages."

LAWSUIT-ITIS

This seems to be an age wherein a lot of people are forgetting the Golden Rule in their desire to slap a law suit on their neighbors, as well as any business firm that is convenient.

When I spoke at Omaha under auspices of the World-Herald, one of its executives chaperoned me graciously during the day.

He lived in a suburb where he felt neighborliness was the rule.

But he returned one afternoon in the summer and as he opened his garage door to put the car away, he noticed some red stains on the concrete floor.

A few days later he was sued for $10,000 by one of his supposed friendly neighbors.

The latter's little girl, aged about 4, had sauntered upon this newspaperman's lawn. She tried the door of his garage and found it unlocked, so she entered.

He happened to have one of the old-fashioned types of lawn mower in the corner. She began playing with it, but accidentally got her hand caught in the revolving blade and cut herself.

So her father hired a lawyer and sued this newspaperman for $10,000.

Fortunately, he was insured to cover such situations, so he notified his insurance company.

They later told him they could compromise the suit for $1,000 and they urged him to do so, but he was so incensed at this form of blackmail, that he refused. He demanded they fight the case.

For months, however, they urged him to let them compromise:

"It will cost us probably $5,000 to defend you, while we can settle out of court for $1,000, so it is cheaper for us to pay off."

At their persistent urging, he finally agreed. But I mention such far-fetched types of lawsuits to show the "gimme" tendency that is sweeping America. The Golden Rule is the only sure antidote.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

Sen. Johnson Thankful for Research Stand

NEW YORK—You meet such interesting people. Dr. Howard Rusk, speaking at the Albert Lasker Medical Journalism Awards luncheon, quoted a story about a distinguished American who is a living symbol of the wonders of modern medicine—Lyndon Johnson, the majority leader.

“Senator Johnson ordered two suits, a brown and a blue, shortly before his heart attack.

“His life was saved at the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., where he had reason to be thankful for research and care appropriations for which he had been partly responsible in the Congress.

“In the course of his early struggles to beat the heart attack, the question of the suits came up. The tailor had broached the question to Mrs. Johnson and she in turn, with the greatest of tact, put the matter to Johnson.

“Have them both made, Lady Bird,” he ordered. “I know I’m going to at least use the blue one.”

DISTINGUISHED SENATOR

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, Oregon Democrat, speaking at the same Sheraton-East luncheon, told of his dramatic recovery from cancer by means of cobalt treatments—research in which had had his earlier backing in the Senate.

He was introduced as the “distinguished senator from Oregon.” It reminded him of his first disillusionment with that adjective.

“When I first appeared in the Senate the thing that was most noticeable was that all senators were addressed, and addressed one another, as ‘distinguished.’

“But after I bit I realized that being called ‘distinguished’ if you’re a senator is something like buying olives in a supermarket. The smallest olive is called ‘colossal.’

The oil fields, 500 miles from the Mediterranean, are crying for the kind of know-how to which we and the British and Dutch are accustomed. The French propose to get it out of the ground in their own leisurely fashion and with their own strategies.

“I talked pipeline costs, rigging, use of the natural gas for industrial French and that sort of thing for an hour, to the Frenchman who was my seat mate on the flight to the outpost where the oil is,” my friend said.

Barbary Coast Now Decorating Industry Center

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Swash-buckling seamen and grizzled miners from San Francisco's early days would have a hard time recognizing the city's notorious Barbary Coast today.

What once were several blocks of glittering gambling saloons, dingy basement dives and bawdy houses has been transformed into a center of the interior decorating industry.

There was a time, between 1862 and 1915, when the Coast showed Paris and New York what wickedness really meant. But a reform wave in 1915 closed it down and Prohibition was the final blow.

Repeal brought back the Coast under a new name—the "International Settlement," a string of tawdry night clubs.

Now private enterprise has carried out a redevelopment job that has obliterated all trace of the original Barbary Coast and ultra-fashionable showrooms display fine fabric and modern furniture where once sin was king.

The Great Lakes contain about one-half the fresh water of the globe.

2 Pontiac Boys to Safety Rally

Will Join in Annual Patrolers Meeting in Washington May 7-10

David Herald, 11, McConnell school, and Terry Miller, 11, from Williams Lake school, have been chosen to represent their fellow Pontiac area safety patrolers at the 23rd National AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D. C., May 7-10.

David, who lives at 174 Wall St., Pontiac, and Terry, of 5571 Pleasant, Drayton Plains, will be the guests of Automobile Club of Michigan on the four-day, all-expense trip. They will be among the 100-member delegation of Michigan patrolers attending the rally, representing some 93 communities.

The youngsters were named as outstanding among more than 50,000 patrol boys who each spend well over 200 hours every year safeguarding their classmates at crossings near 2,200 Michigan elementary schools.

During its stay in Washington, the Michigan group will join 35,000 other patrolers from across the nation and Canada for the traditional march down Constitution Avenue. The five-mile long parade is the largest held annually in the Capital.

Michigan's delegation will meet Congressmen from their home districts at a special luncheon arranged by Auto Club. Other highlights of the trip will include meeting well-known entertainers and visiting historic landmarks and federal government buildings in the Washington area.

The youngsters will board their private railroad cars at the Michigan Central Depot in Detroit on Thursday, May 7, following registration and a physical check-up. They will depart from Washington Saturday evening and arrive back in Detroit on Sunday.

Send Envoy of God to Geneva, Ike Asked

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (UPI)—The men's Bible class of the Myrtle Beach church has adopted a resolution calling on President Eisenhower to send Billy Graham or some other distinguished Christian leader "to represent God" at the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva, May 11.

Businessman R. G. Hanna said "This may sound foolish to some of you. But I sincerely believe that if God is given an opportunity to take a hand in the negotiations of the Big Four at this meeting, it will not only end the Berlin crisis, but end the cold war."

THE VICTORS — Fallen idols make a comfortable perch for these Roman workers who take time out for lunch. The giant athletic sculptures once adorned the "Torina" football stadium, which has been torn down and replaced with a modern structure. Pending final disposition, the statues have been dumped in a nearby field.

Avoiding Steel Strike Glum Prospect Now

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prospects of avoiding a steel strike this year were far from rosy today on the eve of contract talks between the United Steelworkers of America and the steel companies.

Both sides have taken firm stands on the matter of wages and have left no doubt they plan to stick by their guns.

Negotiations on a new contract covering 500,000 steelworkers begin tomorrow in New York between the union and the individual companies. Later, four-man bargaining teams, representing union and management will take over.

The present three-year agreement, signed in 1956 after a five-week strike, expires at midnight June 30. A strike by 500,000 steelworkers is in the offing if no agreement exists by that time.

Industry leaders have said many times in recent weeks that no wage increase is justified this year and they have emphasized their determination to hold the line in 1959.

Skiing Added to Curriculum at Tahoe School

STATELINE, Calif. (UPI) — For about 600 students of the Lake Tahoe Unified School District an "S" has been added to the Three Rs. It stands for skiing.

School authorities have designated skiing as a formal part of the school curriculum for pupils from the first to the eighth grades. They receive 15 hours of instruction spread out over a nine-week course at Heavenly Valley resort in the Sierras.

Eric Sailer, former Austrian champion and Heavenly Valley ski school instructor, is in charge of the course. The children are classified as beginners, intermediate or advanced skiers.

According to Chris Kuraisa, Heavenly Valley general manager: "The training these boys and girls receive provides them with the poise that city children might get from ballet lessons or ice skating."

Business Is Banned in Ohio Suburb

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — You can't buy an aspirin or a loaf of bread — or anything else — in the exclusive Cincinnati suburb of Indian Hill.

The community of 2,100 occupies an area one-fourth the size of Cincinnati, which has a population of more than half a million.

Indian Hill has outlawed all business establishments and permits only single family dwelling units.

When the village was first incorporated, a filling station was in operation, but the community purchased and eliminated it.

GOP Chairman Says Unions Key Issue

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, New Republican national chairman, says effective control of union racketeering will be a top issue for Republicans in 1960.

In a talk with newsmen he listed three factors he said unify the party nationally:

1. The Eisenhower administration's record of reduced government costs and "fiscal responsibility."

2. The fact "something must be done" about labor racketeering.

3. The administration's record of containing the spread of communism without American troops firing a shot.

Soviet Book Condemns Pre-War Stalin Purge

MOSCOW (UPI)—A new Soviet history of World War II blames the 1936-38 Moscow political purges for weakening the Soviet armed forces on the eve of the Nazi German invasion.

The book says the trials contributed to "catastrophe" for the Russians in the first days of the war.

When Hitler struck in June 1940, "theoretically and practically a considerable part of the (Soviet) command did not conform fully to the demand of a modern major war," the history states.

The book, "A History of the Second World War 1939-1945," says the "situation stemmed mainly from the fact that in pre-war years the band of Heinrich Yagoda, Nikolai Yezhov and Lavrenti Beria (three former security police chiefs) were worming their way into J. V. Stalin's confidence."

It blames the three for destroying a "considerable part of the top officer corps of the armed forces, thus doing enormous damage to our army's battle readiness."

The book thus makes what is believed to be the first admission that the purge of Soviet deputy commander-in-chief Marshal Tukhachevsky, Far East commander, Marshal Bluecker, chief of staff Marshal Yegorov and other military leaders on treason charges was partly responsible for Russia's initial war-time reverses.

The volume, written by a group of Soviet officers under the editorship of Lt. Gen. S. P. Platonov, notes that the government adopted a military reorganization plan.

STALIN'S ERRORS

"However, for a number of reasons having mainly to do with J. V. Stalin's mistakes in appraising the pre-war situation and miscalculations in charting the probable date of the Fascist German aggression against the U.S.S.R.," the book says, "serious lags occurred in the industrial shift to production of new military technology and weapons."

In the first stage of fighting the Russians were outnumbered and outgunned and Soviet units were less mobile than the enemy's, the history recounts, adding:

"A considerable part of our tanks and most of our planes were inferior to the Germans'."

"Even in this difficult situation the Soviet army could have prevented the catastrophe which occurred in the first days of the war or reduced its proportions to a significant degree... if frontier units had been warned in time... Since this was not done, the enemy attacked our homeland and took border troops by surprise."

Humphrey Claims Race Wide Open

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey predicted today that at least four convention ballots will be needed to name the Democratic presidential candidate next year.

"It will be a really open convention, the way it looks now," Humphrey said in an interview. The 1960 convention opens July 11 in Los Angeles.

Humphrey said he still has not decided whether to become an active candidate for the nomination, but indicated his recent swing through the West encouraged him along that line.

The week-long swing, interrupted when he rushed back to take part in Senate consideration of the Kennedy labor bill, included speeches and conferences with Democratic leaders in Washington, Oregon, California, Utah and Wyoming.

Discover Body of Girl in Missing Family

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — The body of a little girl, found bobbing in a Columbia River slough, provided a probable solution today to the baffling mystery of the missing Ken Martin family of Portland.

The body, found Sunday and identified as that of 11-year-old Susan Martin, had been in the water for a considerable time, said Coroner Paul Mylan. It may have been submerged since the Dec. 7 disappearance of Ken Martin, 54; his wife, 48, and their three pretty young daughters — Barbara, 14, Virginia, 13, and Susan.

Police, who have run down scores of clues in the five-month-old case, believe the Martin car plunged off a highway into the Columbia River or one of its tributaries. The body of Susan apparently floated free of the wreckage in the spring current and was washed to a backwater slough near Camas, Wash., a few miles east of this lower Columbia River city.

The family, after telling friends they were on their way to the woods to get Christmas greens, happily climbed into their red and white station wagon Sunday morning Dec. 7, and drove east up the Oregon side of the Columbia River to Cascade Locks where Martin purchased a small amount of gasoline. Then they disappeared.

Six Airmen Killed in Highway Crash

BELLVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Six airmen from nearby Scott Air Force Base were killed and another was injured Sunday when the car in which they were riding crashed through two highway barricades and hit a crane.

The only survivor was in serious condition after emergency surgery at the base hospital. He is Airman 3.C Dennis G. E. Buske, 21, of Johnson Creek, Wis.

Killed were: S. Sgt. Billy Smith, 27, Shelbyville, Tenn.; S. Sgt. Virlyn Steele, 26, Elmore, Ind.; Airman 1.C Paul Monte, 22, Milwaukee, the driver; Airman W.C. Gerald Netherlain, 20, Shelburn, Ind.; Airman 2.C Edward Kangas, 20, Hancock, Mich.; and Airman 3.C Michael Sancia, 19, Salem, Ohio.

That's Tea He's Drinking?

Sir Winston Faking?

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON—Backstairs at the White House: The local excitement about the visit of Sir Winston Churchill, scheduled to start at the White House tonight, has turned up two new stories involving the 84-year-old former British prime minister.

When Winnie last visited President Eisenhower a little more than four years ago, a guest at one of the social functions for the prime minister engaged his doctor, Lord Moran, in a chat.

"I see the old boy still likes his spirits," said the guest. "Bosh," said the titled doctor. "That was nothing but tea, plain tea. And I know."

2 IN 30 MINUTES

"Well, I've seen him put away two pretty strong whiskies in the last 30 minutes," the nosey guest insisted.

Which supports a recent report from London that Sir Winston is highly sensitive about the impression that he has slowed down so much that he must lay off the hard stuff.

Most of the time, he just pretends he's drinking.

Another story is a bit more current. It involves the present, planned Churchill visit.

After three days at the White House, Sir Winston is supposed to move to the British embassy on Thursday.

Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia will entertain the former prime minister at lunch and dinner.

British sources say that invitations to both affairs were sent to former President Truman who is in town for part of this week. The former President, according to these sources, declined.

Apparently his schedule for later in the week, particularly his 75th birthday celebration in New York on May 8, interfered.

The British physician seemed puzzled.

Italian Claims 'Death Ray' Device

GENOA, Italy (UPI)—An Italian inventor who has been working on atomic energy inventions for 20 years claims to have invented a death ray machine.

Pier Luigi Ighina says he is about ready to publish the findings of his work with magnetic atoms and the details of his death ray, which he describes as "a transmitter of atomic vibrations capable of melting the hardest metals."

Ighina, who lacks high scientific degrees and training, is indifferent to the scorn of recognized scientists.

Well Dear, Fancy Meeting You Here

DENVER, Colo. (U)—Can a man keep a secret from his wife?

Leonard H. Wilson says no. And what about a woman's chance of keeping a secret from her husband?

Mrs. Wilson says there isn't a chance.

They ought to know.

Wilson received a traffic ticket for a moving violation. He didn't want his wife to know. Three days later, Mrs. Wilson got a traffic ticket for a moving violation. She didn't want hubby to find out about it.

Came court day. Wilson told his wife there was a mistake in their water bill. He'd go down to city hall and straighten it out.

Mrs. Wilson countered that she was going downtown anyway. She'd handle the water bill. Now, you've guessed it.

The Wilsons both went downtown, same day, same time, same court, same fines ($18 suspended). Each pledged there would be no more secrets.

Tulips to Be at Peak for Holland Festival

HOLLAND (AP)—Holland's thousands of tulips will be at the peak of their bloom during their Tulip Festival May 14-16, Assistant Parks Superintendent Jacob DeGraff predicted today.

Early varieties are beginning to bloom and DeGraff said that 2.4 inches of rain which have fallen over the last few days have brought tulips to the right stage for riotous blooming during the festival.

Governor, GOP Not Speaking

Collapse Due to Stubbornness

LANSING (UPI)—There may be many economic factors behind Michigan's cash crisis.

But only one thing let the crisis get so bad the state is in a period of payless pay-days and outright fiscal collapse—inability of elected officials to compromise on the right issues at the right time.

Michigan's Democratic Governor and its Republican Legislature hardly speak to each other. Cooperation between the two branches is at an all time low when it is most needed.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams debated with one GOP senator this week in television, and has been exchanging press releases with others.

But no Republicans have been at his daily briefings on the impact of fiscal collapse.

They said they weren't invited. Williams said his door is always open.

"They don't come and talk with you, they tell you," Williams said.

Assistant Senate GOP leader Lynn M. Francis (R-Midland), GOP Senate "whip," said what few discussions the governor and Republican Senators have had were "frank and fruitful."

Then the channels of communication collapsed between the two political strongholds on the second floor of the state capitol.

At one point, Williams invited "all senators who don't doubt there is a cash crisis" into his office. Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) was the only one that showed up.

Senator majority leader Frank D. Beale (R-St. Clair) and Williams agreed at one meeting on a formula for cashing in the trust fund.

But Senate Republicans in caucus refused to back the Beale plan. A stalemate developed when Republicans insisted on tying the fund plan with a use-sales tax increase.

Republicans claimed it was the time for a showdown between their use-sales tax plan and Williams' graduated income tax plan. Williams said long-range tax problems should not be confused with the current crisis.

And so it went. The treasury collapsed.

In Detroit Unit Competition

City A&P Wins Award

Manager Clare Kramp and the 47 other employees in A & P Food Stores' supermarket at 1185 N. Perry St. were named today as winners in the Detroit Unit competition of the company's 100th Anniversary Awards program.

Vice President M. W. Alldredge of the Detroit Unit, which operates A & P stores in Pontiac and the metropolitan Detroit area, said the Perry street store was one of nine selected in the three-month competition.

The 100th Anniversary Awards program was based on sales, courtesy, service, housekeeping and store operation, he said.

Manager Kramp, 2781 Auburn Rd. who has directed the Perry street store for nearly four years, will be awarded a $100 Savings Bond. Kramp has been with the company since 1928. Raymond L. Cole, assistant manager, will be presented a $75 Bond.

Veteran, Greenhorn Vie for Mayor of Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Republican Theodore R. McKeldin will reach the crossroads of a colorful political career and Democrat J. Harold Grady will try to enhance a promising new one in tomorrow's election for mayor of Baltimore.

Grady, the 42-year-old state's attorney and former FBI agent who unseated three-term Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro in the March 3 primary, is regarded as the favorite.

For McKeldin, who nominated Eisenhower for President in 1952, the role of underdog is a familiar one.

Despite a 5-2 margin held by Democrats over Republicans in voter registration, in 1954 he bucked the Democratic trend and became the only member of his party ever re-elected governor of Maryland.

Freshmen House Dems Get Job-Filling Chance

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The big crop of new House Democrats looked forward today to sponsoring employees for the 14 House folding room jobs from which workers have been fired.

Authorities said the dismissals had nothing to do with an investigation of the office's operations. They said the 14 were fired because they lacked political sponsors.

The dismissals presumably will make room for employees sponsored by the many new freshman Democrats in the House.

Sees Asia, Africa Role in Future U. S. Prosperity

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill. (UPI)—Events in Asia, Africa and other underdeveloped parts of the world may determine the future prosperity of the United States, Clarence B. Randall, special assistant to President Eisenhower, said today. Randall told a Republican party committee responsible for writing long-range party goals that "the great market of the future, both for our farm surpluses and for those of our production lines, will lie in Asia and Africa and the presently underdeveloped parts of the world."

Drives Out to Work, Finds It's His Day Off

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP)—"Who has car four?" Patrolman Vincent Sansone inquired over police radio here after finding the cruiser missing from the department garage. "I have it," came the answer.

Sansone then reminded the officer-driver it was his day off. The officer brought the cruiser in and went home.

Cheer Prince Carlos in Spanish Parade

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Loud applause and some jeers greeted Prince Juan Carlos de Bourbon Sunday as he marched in the annual parade celebrating the Franco regime's 1939 civil war triumph.

The 22-year-old son of the pretender to the Spanish throne was the center of attention as he marched for the first time in the military review. He was applauded loudly as he marched with the flag guard of the San Javier Air Academy, where he is a cadet. But there were scattered boos, and some Falangists who oppose the monarchy sang their hymn as the prince passed.

"Franco, yes; monarchy, no," they yelled.

Franco announced in 1947 that

Spain once more was a monarchy with a regency council and himself as the head of state, but as yet he has made no move to fill the throne vacated when the late King Alfonso XIII was forced out in 1941. Alfonso's son, Don Juan, is the heir to the throne, but Franco is known to favor Juan Carlos, Don Juan's eldest son.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Deputies arrested a 6-1, 180-pound teenager for creating a disturbance at a drive-in restaurant and summoned his mother.

The mother came to the station, heard the report and borrowed a belt from a deputy. She then made her son lower his pants—as deputies watched—and then lowered the boom with the belt. Deputies marked the case closed.

Caller Says Bomb in Williams' Auto

LANSING (AP)—An anonymous male voice warned last night that a bomb had been planted in Gov. Williams' official state car, but a search by State Police failed to disclose any trace of explosives.

The anonymous caller told a switchboard girl "the governor's car is wired with a bomb."

Police took the car, parked behind the Capitol, to headquarters. They said the call probably came from a crank.

However, a trooper was assigned to the governor's home for the night and the car was retained at headquarters. Experts were to go over it inch by inch.

FAIRYLAND AT MIDLAND.— This striking photo is a night scene of the vinyl toluene plant of Dow Chemical Co. in Midland.

From Lumber Bust to Chemical Boom

Midland Is a U. S. Success Story

(This is the ninth in a series of articles on Michigan's industrial and cultural achievements written by Michigan newsmen as an introduction to Michigan Week 17-23.)

By JOHN B. NAUER
Telegraph Editor
Midland Daily News

MIDLAND — Midland is a storybook city. Woven throughout its chapters are fabulous threads of the great American dream.

Its rivers — once jammed with logs — echo the booming lumber era of the 1870s and '80s. When the lumber boom faded, Midland was virtually a ghost town. But the community rose from the sawdust through the hopes and dreams of a then young man — Herbert Henry Dow.

Today Dow Chemical Co. of Midland, is the world's largest chemical center.

It was in the late 1880's when Herbert Dow came to Midland to analyze salt brine. At that time, Midland was one of the two bromine centers of the country. Even that industry seemed destined for future oblivion because of the increased cost of fuel and the crude method of extraction.

But young chemist Herbert Dow had invented a new process for extracting bromine from brine. It was much less costly. He became convinced of the Midland potential.

FAILS AT FIRST

In 1890 Herbert Dow began his first Midland venture. It started in a shed attached to an old flour mill on West Main street. His first start failed.

But in 1892, he was back again with new capital and new ideas. He built a plant, small office building, and drilled two brine wells on property where structures of the Dow Chemical Co. now stand. Within a few years, his process was further adapted to the extraction of chlorine from brine with caustic soda as a co-product.

Then in May, 1897, the Dow Chemical Co. was incorporated. Thus began Dow's fabulous climb. Dow is the fourth largest chemical company in the United States. In Michigan, it rates number one.

Dow's Michigan plants include those at Midland, Bay City, Ludington and Marquette. Among unusual products from chemistry, Dow during the last year has produced: Zefran — an acrylic alloy textile fiber for clothing; Trolene — an agent for controlling cattle grubs inside cattle before they can damage the meat and hide of the back.

Besides its Michigan operation, Dow has plants in nine states, and its activities stretch all over the free world.

With the recent completion of Dow's new administration center, the worldwide headquarters of this vast chemical empire is now located in Midland.

Due to the buildup of its overseas organization, there is added significance for Dow's marine terminal facilities on Saginaw Bay. This will permit Dow's Midland and Bay divisions to take advantage of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

A plan is also being considered to deepen the Tittabawassee River to permit barge traffic between Midland and Saginaw Bay.

On the civic side, Midland's unofficial population count stands today at more than 30,000 double that of 10 years ago. To keep pace with the growth, Midland has facilities in education, recreation and culture that are singularly outstanding in Michigan and America.

CITY OF MUSIC

The city's place in the realm of music has brought national acclaim. The reason is Midland's symphony orchestra, 100-member male chorus, 75-member girls' chorus, madrigal singers and the Chemical City Band.

Midland is often referred to also as the "City of Churches." There are more than 21 churches in the community, representing most of the major denominations.

Most of the churches, public buildings and many of Midland's homes have been designed by Alden B. Dow, noted architect. He is a son of Dr. Herbert H. Dow, founder of the firm.

Midland is looking forward to the 1960 completion of the Tri-County College. This $7.9 million community college will serve Midland, Saginaw and Bay counties.

Midland is expanding toward its neighboring counties — and expand it has. Its sprawling 23 square miles make it the fifth largest city area in Michigan.

Thus Midland — "The City of Modern Explorers" — seeks new horizons in the tradition of Herbert H. Dow.

Just 2,000 at Youth Rally, So Lucy Flies Away

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Flame-haired Lucille Ball, television and movie comedienne, says she'll return here to talk on juvenile delinquency, but only if an adequate crowd can be assembled.

Lucy left in a huff for Hollywood Sunday after a look at the 2,000 persons, mostly youngsters, who turned up for a Kiwanis Club youth rally in 12,000 seat Taft Stadium.

She was slated to run through a comedy routine and give a talk on delinquency. Instead she caught the first flight back to Hollywood.

Lots of Fellows Want to Share Her Apartment

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Miss Mona Gilling will be more careful the next time she inserts an advertisement in a newspaper.

She ran this one: "College grad wanted to share apt. Swimming pool." She included the address, and this happened:

"So many boys came around or called up," Miss Gilling says, "I had to move and change my phone number. I did meet an awful lot of very nice fellows, though."

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be

Mrs. Aas Is Luncheon Speaker

U. S., Norwegian Ways Contrasted for AAUW

"Women are taking a more prominent place in society in Norway," said Mrs. Berit Aas, AAUW grantee, when she spoke at the Saturday luncheon of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Aas is studying in the department of psychology at University of Michigan working on social-psychological theory. She was graduated from the University of Oslo in 1953. Mrs. Aas is here in this country with her husband, who received a Rockefeller Foundation scholarship for study at the U. of M., and their four children.

"Man has been pushed forward for years, but now women are becoming equally educated, have equal jobs, are drawing equal pay for equal work, and are assuming roles other than that of just homemaker," Mrs. Aas told the group. "All this is a result of the feminist movement taking place in Norway."

The speaker also contrasted the social customs and behavior patterns of the United States and Norway.

The luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Olin Thomas on Gale road. Assisting her were Mrs. A. L. MacAdams, Mrs. Lloyd Wait, Mrs. George Snyder, Mrs. Thomas Peterson, Mrs. Thomas Hollis, Lillian Davidson, Ora Hallenbeck, Mrs. Kenneth Ollis, Helen Voss and Mrs. Melvin Taig.

Mrs. Duane Miller was in charge of the table decorations. Guests included Mrs. Gordon Earhart, Mrs. William Hadsell, Mrs. Paul Hedden, Mrs. Glenn Hustad, Mrs. Charles Koella, Mrs. Philip Lockhart and Mrs. Charles Wiseman.

Show Your Interest in New Home

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other day I went to visit a neighbor of mine who recently moved into a new house which I was very anxious to see. I waited for the hostess to show me through the house but she did not do so and I went away without seeing it. Needless to say I was very disappointed. "When I told my husband about this he said that it was up to me to ask to see the house and that I was very lacking in interest not to do so. Was it up to me to ask to see the house or should she have offered to show it to me without my asking?"

Answer: Your husband is right, your interest would have pleased her and she could have refused gracefully by saying, "I'm so sorry I can't take you through the house now because it is not yet finished enough to be shown to anyone."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Somewhere I read lately that four o'clock was the fashionable hour for a formal wedding. Is this true?"

Answer: For Protestant church weddings in New York, yes, or else at noon. The hour of the day has no special effect on "formality," since the hour of a wedding depends upon the denomination of the church, personal choice, climate and local custom. Many Catholic weddings take place in the morning; Southern weddings, in the cool of the evening, and so on.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have just received an invitation to a cocktail party. It is written on one of those fold-over cards, which I believe are called "informals," and asks for a reply. Will you please tell me the proper way to reply to such an invitation. I do not have visiting cards."

Answer: As you have no visiting cards you will have to write your answer on your note paper either formally in the third person, or informally in the second.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to cut hard rolls with a knife, or must they always be broken by hand?"

Answer: They should be broken by hand.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When serving dishes are put on the table and the person seated a place away from me asks to have a dish which is in front of me, passed to her, do I hand it directly to her, passing it in front of the person next to me, or do I hand it to the one seated next to me and have her pass it?"

Answer: You hand it to the person next to you who will pass it to her.

Prince Charles Tries Patience of Queen Lisbet

LONDON (U)—A boy of 10 can be an awful pest even if he happens to be the future king of England.

His mother can also get annoyed at his behavior even if she happens to be the Queen of England.

This was demonstrated Sunday at a polo game between Ascot and Windsor Park, led by Prince Charles' father, Prince Philip.

Queen Elizabeth II, wearing a green raincoat, scarf and low heeled shoes, drove to the game from Windsor Castle, accompanied by Charles and his 8-year-old sister, Anne, she went to a canvas-roofed canopy because it was raining.

The roof sagged from the weight of pools of water on either side of the center pole. Suddenly Charles punched the canvas, causing water to splash on his mother's stockings. Mother frowned. Charles repeated the maneuver against the other bulge.

As 4,000 spectators watched, the Queen's high girlish voice was heard saying: "Charles! Sit down!" Charles sat down.

Philip's team won, 4 goals to 3½.

Your hands—your nails—in particular—are always on display. While you cannot change their shape, you can make your hands attractive by keeping them meticulously clean and well cared for. To keep your nails really clean, you should make use of a small nailbrush as religiously as you do your toothbrush and hairbrush. Keep them shaped and shortened with an emery board. To look attractive at all times, we suggest one of the newer "dos" adopted for you alone. A new hairstyle is a great morale booster. Be Glad for Gift of Lasting Beauty

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband buys me a plant every Easter. I have told him many times that I like a bouquet of cut flowers but he says a plant is better because he can plant it outside later. I say if that's the reason he buys a plant he isn't buying it for ME. He is buying it for HIMSELF. It's not that I don't care for plants, Abby, but if he was really thinking of me he would buy what I wanted, not what he wanted. What do you think?"

ABBY

LIKES FLOWERS
"DEAR ABBY: Don't look a gift flower in the roots. Be satisfied that he remembers you with something lovely at Easter."

"DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a boy who goes to a boarding school. He says he likes to get letters from me, but I shouldn't expect to get any letters from him because he hates to write. I have written him every day since last September, and he has never written to me once. "When he comes home for weekends he calls me up for a date when he feels like it, and I go, like a fool. I know he has been home for weekends and hasn't called me. Before he went away he said we would be married in nine years and he gave me his sweater. I am 15 and so is he. Should I break the engagement?"

GLORIA
"DEAR GLORIA: You'll need more than a sweater to take the chill off this romance. He is not ready to make any long-term promises, and you aren't ready to accept any. Go out with the gang, and don't regard yourself as anybody's private property. Quit writing, and don't be so available when he calls."

"DEAR ABBY: A close friend of mine is planning her wedding. Last week her doctor told her she was pregnant. Tomorrow she plans to order her invitations and procure her dress. My friend's mother has not been informed of her daughter's condition. This girl is selfish and ridiculous to go ahead with this affair. Her poor mother will simply die of embarrassment when she learns the truth. How does one explain to a 20-year-old girl that a simple, quiet wedding is in order and soon? Kindly publish your reply."

CONCERNED
"DEAR CONCERNED: One explains it to her exactly as you have explained it to me. The decision is hers, right or wrong."

"DEAR ABBY: We have been told by our children (a son 24 and a daughter 20) that it is quite old-fashioned for a young man to ask the father of a young woman for "her hand." They say that this is not being done any more. Are we out of step or not?"

OLD-FASHIONED
"DEAR ABBY: There are still many young men who have a "chat" with the father of the young lady to assure him that he is able to provide for a wife, but nowadays when a fellow asks for a young lady's

"hand" he usually has both feet in the door."

CONFIDENTIAL TO DISAPPOINTED DAD: If your son wants to be a mechanic, let him be a mechanic. Not everyone reaches the top by "degrees."

Swim Suit Season

Firm Arms Needed Now

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some figure faults become crucial with the onset of summer. I am thinking of the upper arm. Flabbiness in this spot is often a feminine problem at middle age. With this in mind, many women select evening gowns which have short sleeves or filmy scarves. BUT, when hot weather arrives and the old swimming hole beckons, that spells real trouble. Exercise is the only answer. Today I want to give you a few motions which will firm up the situation.

Stand tall, arms at sides. Raise the arms sideward-upward and clap the hands overhead. Lower arms down and swing them back behind you as far as you can with the palms facing the back of the room. Continue raising arms and swinging down and back. Reach as far in each direction as possible.

Another: Stand tall, bend your elbows and place your fingertips on your shoulders. Lift the elbows. Keep the arms in this position as you make circles with your elbows. Circle back for a while and then forward.

Another: Raise the arms side-ward, shoulder height. Keep the elbows stiff as you circle the arms forward for a while and then backward.

A GOOD ONE

Try this one: Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height. Bend the elbows and touch the fingertips to the shoulders. Straighten arms to sideward, shoulder-height position. Continue doing this briskly, keeping the arms at the shoulder height level and completely straightening the arms in between elbow bends. This is an especially good one.

The swimming season will soon be here. Take advantage of this sport to firm up the upper arm. The sidestroke, breast stroke and the crawl are all splendid.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Armfuls of Beauty" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Stuffed Olives Colorful Layer in Meatless Dish

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

New ways of serving canned tuna are always welcome. Do you know that it is one food for which we pay less than we did before World War II? This recipe calls for either tuna or salmon.

Mrs. Guy Marsh of Farmington is today's cook. Horseback riding is her favorite occupation. She is a member of the Eastern Star.

FRIDAY RICE SPECIAL
By Mrs. Guy Marsh

1 1/2 cups packaged precooked rice
1/2 cup milk

1/2 pound thinly sliced processed American cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 can solid pack tuna OR 1 can 17 1/2 oz. salmon
1 cup chopped stuffed olives

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare rice as directed on package. Meanwhile, in double boiler, combine milk, cheese, salt and pepper. Heat, stirring occasionally, until well blended and smooth.

In a 1 1/2 quart casserole arrange layers of cooked rice, flaked fish, olives and cheese sauce, ending with sauce. Bake uncovered for 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Boyhood Church Greets Spellman on 70th Birthday

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, 70 years old today, isn't skipping church activities even for the day.

He is marking his birthday by celebrating Mass at the Church of the Holy Ghost in Whitman, Mass., the town where he was born and the church where he served as altar boy.

Tuesday he will be guest of honor at a birthday reception and tea given here by the Ladies of Charity of the New York Catholic Charities.

Cardinal Spellman has been archbishop of New York 20 years. He said in an interview at his residence Sunday that his ministry to the men and women in the armed forces has been his most rewarding experience.

The Cardinal is military vicar of about two million Roman Catholics serving their country in the United States and overseas. In recent years he has spent most Christmas seasons with American troops in countries around the world.

Cardinal Spellman received a birthday letter from President Eisenhower.

Says Integration Works in D. C.

School Chief Reports Standards Up, Decline in Delinquency

ATLANTA (AP)—The superintendent of the Washington, D.C. public schools says integration of the school system has proved to be a sound educational move.

Carl F. Hansen said Sunday that academic standards had risen and delinquency declined since desegregation in 1954.

In reply to questions Hansen said that tests given in 1954 and 1955 and again in 1958 indicated there was a "phenomenal increase in the rate of learning."

Delinquency among non-white school pupils dropped from 37.1 per 1,000 in 1954 to 21.2 in 1958, he said. He did not cite figures for white pupils.

The school official explained that Washington's schools grouped pupils by ability into four divisions, honors pupils, college preparatory, general and basic.

This grouping, he said, was a major factor in keeping the superior pupils from suffering the bad academic effects that many predicted would accompany integration.

Asked if any racial differences were noted in the four divisions, Hansen said the larger proportion of honor pupils were white and that the larger proportion of the basic pupils were Negroes.

"But this was to be expected," he said. "A great number of the Negro pupils had not been given the kind of educational opportunities they needed."

School Law of Arkansas Challenged

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A last-ditch defense state law used to close Little Rock's four public high schools against integration faces a legal challenge in U.S. District Court here today.

A three-judge panel will hear the suit testing the constitutionality of Act 4 of 1958. Attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored people contend it is an evasive scheme to block court-ordered integration.

Another state law, which permitted the transfer of public funds from closed schools to schools which admitted displaced pupils, also is being challenged.

The school-closing law was upheld last week by the Arkansas Supreme Court in a 4-3 decision. Attorneys for the state argued the law merely extended the police powers of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and was invoked to prevent violence he felt would come with integration.

Today's hearing is an extension of the original Little Rock school integration suit, filed by the NAACP in 1956. It challenged as too slow the Little Rock board's voluntary plan for gradual integration.

The plan was upheld by U.S. District Court and the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. It called for integration of grades 10-12 in 1957 and gradual integration of other grades.

Rebels Won Only Headlines

Panamanian Fiasco Over as Invaders Surrender

PANAMA (AP) — The Panama panic involving a wealthy aristocrat, a famous ballerina, a night club owner and a boatload of Cubans 'desperately' trying to make like Fidel Castro seems to have simmered down.

The Cuban invaders surrendered last weekend, ending the immediate threat to President Ernesto de la Guardia's government. The peace team from the Organization of American States announced Sunday night that the threat to Panama was over.

De la Guardia, elected for a four-year term in 1956, is still fairly popular with the people. But some members of his administration are not, and there is discontent and talk of a change.

Talk turned to action several weeks ago when some dissident students visited Cuba and asked for help from some of Castro's veterans.

There were reports that wealthy Roberto Arias, who comes from a family of presidents, was financing some sort of uprising.

Arias' wife is British Dame Margot Fonteyn, one of the most famous ballet dancers west of Moscow. The government asked up a witness who said she took pictures while Arias and some men raised some arms cached in a rowboat at the bottom of the Gulf of Panama.

Arias eluded government forces, and finally took refuge in the Brazilian Embassy. The frustrated government meanwhile arrested no one helped the Cuban invaders," said a bartender.

Hawaiians Brace for Tidal Wave

HONOLULU (AP) — Sirens sent Hawaiians fleeing to higher ground today as the Coast and Geodetic Survey said a powerful earthquake north of Japan might cause a tidal wave.

The federal agency said the wave is expected to reach Kauai at 3:30 a.m., Hawaiian time, and Oahu 15 minutes later. Kauai is the most northwestern of the major Hawaiian islands and Oahu the most populous.

Dr. Don Tocher, seismologist at the University of California at Berkeley said the quake occurred 3,700 miles from there; probably near the Kamchatka Peninsula in Siberia.

Seismographs throughout Japan also recorded the quake and a seismologist in Tokyo said he believed it was strong enough to produce a tidal wave.

WESTON, Mass. (AP) — The Weston College seismograph station today reported a "severe earthquake" some 5,000 miles south of Boston—"probably northern Chile, South America"— at 3:27.25 a.m. EDT.

Lead is eleven and one-third times heavier than water.

North and South Dakota were admitted to the Union as states on the same day, which was Nov. 2, 1889.

Shelby Race Track Trial to Start Wednesday

Five Nations Will Confer on 'Food for Peace' Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will be host to a five-nation conference here tomorrow and Wednesday on using surplus wheat in a "food for peace" program of aid to countries needing more food.

Other nations to participate in the conference are Canada, Argentina, Australia and France. All are wheat exporting countries.

Participation will be by officials of cabinet and ministerial rank. The conference was arranged by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson with State Department aid to put into operation a "food for peace" plan promised by President Eisenhower in a message to Congress in January.

The idea, as sketched by the President, is to help make larger amounts of surplus foods in this and other countries available to those countries needing more food but unable to make adequate commercial purchases.

53 BILLION SURPLUS

The United States alone has more than three billion dollars worth of surplus wheat and about nine billion dollars worth of all surplus farm products.

Under questioning, the secretary said he could not say just what specific plan might come out of the conference for moving more food to needy areas. He speculated, however, that there should be a coordinated program involving supplies from all the countries.

Benson emphasized that this country, as well as some of the others, already has contributed large quantities for charitable use abroad.

Since mid-1956 the United States has donated or sold at easy terms more than 3½ billion dollars worth of its food surpluses to foreign countries.

100TH ANNIVERSARY—The Armada Methodist Church was the scene of a centennial celebration yesterday marking the 100th anniversary of its founding in February, 1859. Three special services were held including one at 2 p.m. at which Bishop Marshall R. Reed delivered the sermon. A luncheon and dinner were served during the day-long event. Members of the church and guests are shown leaving the church after the 2 p.m. service. The original structure was destroyed by fire in 1942. The present building was completed on Aug. 3, 1943.

Lapeer Man Badly Hurt

2 Cars, Tractor Pile Up

LAPEER — A Lapeer factory worker was badly injured Saturday, when hurled from the tractor he was driving, in a chain reaction accident involving two cars, Lapeer County sheriff's deputies reported today.

The tractor burst into flames after overturning.

Harry E. Holman, 59, of 1458 N. Saginaw St., suffered two broken shoulders, four broken ribs, cuts and bruises. Taken to Lapeer County General Hospital he was first reported in "serious" condition, but is considered much improved today.

Driving the two cars were Joseph E. Morey, 49, of 1383 Cedar Dr., Birmingham, and Kenneth L. Wilcox, 48, of 396 E. Nepessing St., Lapeer.

Morey told sheriff's deputies he was traveling on M24, north of Lapeer, when he saw the tractor on the shoulder swing out in front of his car. He said he tried to stop but his car was hit in the rear by Wilcox's forcing him to run into the tractor.

Morey lost control of his car but was unhurt in the mishap.

Police said Wilcox was unable to tell how the accident happened. He also escaped injury.

4 Persons Hurt in 2-Car Crash

Driver Pulls Out on M59, Oncoming Vehicle Hits Her Auto Broadside

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Four persons were injured Saturday night in a two-car crash on M59 east of Dequindre road, Romeo State Police reported today.

Injured in one car were the driver, Mrs. Joyce L. Baker, 18, of 38722 Dequindre Rd., her husband John, 20, and another passenger, David Kutchev, 16, of 45466 Custer St., Utica.

The driver of the other car, Lyle L. Root Jr., 31, of 583 Lenox St., Pontiac, suffered a cut mouth, bruises and abrasions. He was treated by his own physician.

Mrs. Baker suffered possible head and neck injuries and bruises. Her husband had a cut forehead and bruises and Kutchev suffered cuts, bruises, broken teeth and possible head injuries.

All three were taken to Van Dyke Memorial Hospital where Mrs. Baker and young Kutchev were reported in satisfactory condition today. Baker was treated and released.

Mrs. Baker told troopers that she pulled out onto the highway after stopping and did not see Root's car approaching. Her car was hit broadside.

Officers ticketed Mrs. Baker for unsafe starting and Root for driving with a restricted license.

Woman Dies, 3 Hurt as Cottage Topples

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A woman weekend guest was killed and three other persons were injured yesterday when a cottage toppled into a 30-foot hole after a cloud-burst.

Flood waters from the rainstorm apparently had dug a hole in the sand beneath the house.

As five occupants were sleeping at 6:30 a.m., the one-story frame house suddenly fell in the hole. Water and more sand poured into the hole.

Mrs. Nancy Herro, 28, Escanaba, mother of three children, was drowned. Rescuers had to dam off waters to recover her body.

The house stood at the top of a shore bank overlooking Lake Superior's Whitefish Bay at Iroquois Point about 2½ miles west of here.

"It was like a bad nightmare," said Hal Smith, 38, Sault Ste. Marie, furniture dealer and owner of the cottage.

"All of a sudden I was flying through the air," Smith said. "I didn't know where I was. Things were crashing about and I was terrified."

Smith said he and his guests were sleeping and "everyone was buried through the air and seemed to land in one corner of the living room."

Donald Cocella, 32, Green Bay, Wis., was trapped in sand and water up to his waist. Neighbors used a rope to pull him out.

Also injured and hospitalized were Mrs. Herro's husband Joseph, 29, and Mrs. Thelma McKinnon, Sault Ste. Marie, an employee of Smith.

Smith said all were sleeping at the time of the mishap about 6:30 a.m. and the first inkling he had of anything wrong was when he was awakened by a loud crack apparently made by timbers in the house.

"A few seconds passed and all of a sudden it appeared as though the house fell from underneath me. I saw a brilliant flash of light which apparently was caused when the house separated from its electric service line," said Smith.

Smith said there was pandemonium for a short time with the women screaming and the men shouting. He said that furniture was tossed about and appliances flew across the room.

"I looked out a picture window on the east side of the house which was at a severe angle and it appeared I was looking into a hole which hadn't been there before," Smith said.

Meanwhile water and sand were

Kuter Top Choice to Succeed Partridge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, Air Force commander in the Pacific, is considered the likeliest successor to Gen. Earle Partridge as commander in chief of the North American Air Defense Command.

Partridge will retire at the end of July, the Air Force said, for "mandatory" reasons in that he will have completed 35 years of commissioned service after having served more than five years in his permanent grade of major general.

Air Force and defense officials scoffed at published reports that Partridge is quitting because of unhappiness over the way his multi-service, two nationality command is set up.

U. S. Army, Navy and, of course, Air Force units are part of his overall command, as are units of the Canadian Air Force.

Graham Basks on Sydney Beach, 'Envy Yankus'

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—American Evangelist Billy Graham basked in the sun on Sydney Beach today and said he envied the American farmer who is migrating to Australia because he is fed up with agricultural controls.

Graham said he was highly impressed with Australians and Australia, and added that he liked Australia so much he hates to leave it.

In that respect, he said, he envies Stanley Yankus, a Dowagiac, Mich., wheat farmer who is giving up United States residence to live in Australia because he objects to limits placed on the amount of wheat he can grow.

"I envy Yankus but I'm going back to America," Graham said.

The evangelist soon will wind up his Sydney crusade and move on to Perth.

The Judge Did Notice

MIDDLESBROUGH, ENGLAND (UPI)—Judge Clifford Cohen, a bachelor, awarded pretty Jean Himsforth, 18, damages of $150 for injuries received when she was knocked down by a motorcyclist. "The cyclist must have been dreaming. I thought everyone would notice a pretty girl like you," the judge said.

To Auction $5 Billion in U. S. Securities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five billion dollars worth of government IOUs go on the auction block during the next four days.

It's significant that this is the highest total on record for one week. It points up the Treasury's difficulties in managing the biggest national debt in history, 286 billion dollars.

Most government securities sell at fixed prices. But because of unsettled market conditions, debt managers have held more and more auctions in recent months, permitting investors themselves to determine the price and interest rate.

Under the auctions, the high bid gets them. Then the securities mature, the government will pay them off at face value. The lenders will collect what amounts to interest in the difference between the purchase price and the cash-in price.

Action Delayed Several Times

Home Owners Fight Rezoning of Property by Township

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Barring any further postponements, the trial brought last January by a group of area home owners against the township for rezoning the Curtiss-Wright property here to permit big car automobile racing is scheduled to get under way at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Macomb County Circuit Court.

Since the case was initiated a number of events have occurred which add to the complexity of the suit.

One is that the April 6 election brought a change of command in the township. Republicans, formerly in power, were defeated by the Democratic state, necessitating the appointment of a new township attorney to handle the court case.

In the beginning the township was the sole defendant. Soon after the suit was launched, Curtiss-Wright joined the township as a party-defendant.

The case was slated to come to trial early this spring, but a series of postponements in pretrial hearings and subsequent delays in scheduling the trial itself have forestalled any court action thus far.

Curtiss-Wright officials, who had hoped for an early settlement of the case, now have given up plans to construct the big car track this year, they said. The first of the year they set up a tentative construction program which covered about six months.

The corporation had announced plans to convert the former Packard Motor Car Co. test facility into a track for national and international races of Indianapolis-type cars.

A smaller track was to be built inside the existing 2½-mile oval for sports car races, they said.

The Curtiss-Wright property covers 675 acres and is bounded by 22 Mile, 23 Mile, Mound road and Van Dyke.

Home owners protesting the big car track said in their bill of complaint that the township acted illegally in rezoning the Curtiss-Wright property to permit auto racing.

They also said the proposed track would create a nuisance due to excessive noise, litter, traffic and other factors, which, they added, would depreciate property values in the area and cause a hike in taxes.

Will Explain Area Summer Music Program

There will be an Open House held every night this week (May 4-9) at Waterford Township's two junior high schools to acquaint pupils and parents with the summer musical program.

Teachers will be in their classrooms from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Isaac Crary junior high school on Ciss Lake Rd. and at the new John Pierce junior high school on Hatchery rd. near Crescent Lake rd.

The summer music program will get underway June 22, and will conclude July 31. Three-hour classes will be scheduled five days a week during the series, and a band concert will be presented at the close of the program.

More than 150 pupils are expected to enroll for beginning and advanced band classes, as well as beginner stringed instrument classes, according to band director Donald Perrin.

Guard Yemen Women From Cameras in Italy

ROME (UPI)—Scimitar and pistol-packing guards today watched over the Imam of Yemen's suite at a beach hotel near here to make certain no one again gets close enough to photograph his women.

Some 70 members of the suite of the ailing king of the Arabian peninsula kingdom were moved under guard yesterday in a fleet of limousines from a hotel in the Alban hills south of Rome to the beach resort of Fregene on the Mediterranean coast.

The move followed attempts by Italian and foreign photographers to take pictures of the veiled women in the party at the hotel.

One photographer was slashed by the scimitar of a Yemen guard earlier in the week. The wound was superficial.

Merger Is Approved by Two Churches

BOSTON (AP)—By a 3-1 margin, Unitarian and Universalist churches and fellowships have approved a proposal to merge the American Unitarian Assn. and the Universalist Church of America "at the earliest feasible date."

Dr. William B. Rice of Wellesley Hills, chairman of a joint merger commission, said Sunday the vote was the result of a preliminary plebiscite.

The commission reported that about 600 of a possible 930 churches and fellowships of both denominations participated in the plebiscite and 75 per cent favored merger.

Dr. Rice said the commission would prepare a detailed plan of merger for presentation in October to a joint biennial conference of the two denominations at Syracuse, N.Y.

It was estimated the Universalists number 75,000 members and the Unitarians about 105,000.

Sharp Thief Strikes

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Someone jimmied the trunk of a car owned by salesman Blanchard T. Morris of Kansas City and stole $1,495 worth of razors and blades—enough to keep the thief clean shaven for 700 years, police calculated.

AF Trainer Crashes, 2 Instructors Killed

EUSTIS, Fla. (AP)—Two Air Force ROTC instructors from Oklahoma died Sunday when their T33 jet trainer crashed and exploded near Lake Johanna two miles from Eustis.

Hurling pieces of wreckage from the two-place craft smashed into two homes in the Lakeshore housing development as children dashed for safety.

McCoy Air Force Base at Orlando identified the dead man as Maj. Jack L. Slatton and Capt. Willis L. Sutton, members of the ROTC detachment at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater.

1st Canadian Beatified by Catholic Church

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Mother Marie-Marguerite du Frost de La-Jemmerais Sunday became the first Canadian to be beatified by the Roman Catholic Church.

The nun, who devoted her life to children, the sick, poor and old, was honored in St. Peter's basilica before a crowd of 10,000 persons including eight cardinals and representatives of the Sisters of Charity, the order she founded.

Beatification is the church's highest honor next to sainthood.

More Trading in Sight, Says Chisox' Veeck

CHICAGO — "We're going to keep trading until we come up with some help," said Bill Veeck after he swapped Ray Boone for Harry Simpson of Kansas City yesterday. The Simpson trade was the second in two days for the Sox who earlier sent pitcher Don Rudolph and outfielder Lou Skizas to Cincinnati for Del Ennis.

5th Win for Lew; Bucs, Cards Brawl

By United Press International

Lew Burdette contributed his fifth victory toward a spring training prediction that he and team mate Warren Spahn will win 50 games between them when he pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a 9-4 triumph over the San Francisco Giants Sunday.

A pair of home runs by Hank Aaron and a five-run fifth-inning outburst which knocked out lefty Johnny Antonelli eased the path to Burdette's victory. Burdette yielded only six hits, but three of them were homers, by Willie Mays, Daryl Spencer and Andre Rodgers. Del Crandall also hit a Milwaukee home run.

A three-run double by Frank Torre was the big blow in the Braves' fifth-inning splurge. Giant errors by Spencer and Rodgers and a pair of bases on balls also contributed to the Milwaukee rally.

In addition to his two homers, Aaron also hit a single and a sacrifice fly to keep his Major League-leading batting average at an even .500.

There were two "beanball" rhubarbs in the double-header between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals. The Pirates won the opener, 4-3, in 10 innings, but the first-swinging nightcap was suspended by the Pennsylvania curfew after 6½ innings with the Cards ahead, 2-1.

In other double-headers, the Philadelphia Phillies gained an even split by rallying for two runs in the eighth inning to win the nightcap, 5-4, after the Chicago Cubs had taken the opener, 4-3 and Danny McDevitt pitched the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 7-1 night cap triumph after Jerry Lynch's three-run, ninth-inning homer earned the Cincinnati Reds a 6-3 win.

Bill Mazeroski's 10th-inning single with the bases loaded gave the Pirates their first game victory and ran reliever Elroy Face's record to 3-0. Pirate pitcher Bennie Daniels' brush-back pitches almost produced a riot in the nightcap.

Both dugouts emptied in the first inning after player-manager Solly Hemus was hit by a pitch and started toward Daniels on the mound. In the sixth, another close pitch by Daniels brought the players from both teams charging onto the diamond and Cards pitcher Larry Jackson scuffled with Pittsburgh coach Len Levy.

'Coon-Hunting Makes Real Pals of Hound, Owner

OKLAHOMA CITY — Little Richard, the blue tick hound dog, trapped for days in a rock crevice in Northeastern Oklahoma, had the sympathy of 'coon hunters around the nation.

And Little Richard's owner, Larry Wilson, showed his affection for the unfortunate animal by working around the clock with little sleep trying to free him.

The bond between most dogs and their masters is strong, but that which binds the raccoon hunter and his 'coon dog is the strongest.

There's something about following the baying hounds through the woods in the moonlight that gets in the coon hunter's blood. To the hunter, the bark of a dog that has treed a coon the sound is pure music.

Pontiac Player Sparks Sunnybrook Victory on Opening Day

Wally Smith, the Royal Oak policeman who lives in Pontiac, played the starring role yesterday at Sunnybrook as the Sunnybrook team walloped Morey's, 20½-1½, in the opening round of play in the Michigan Publinx Golf League.

Smith fired an even par 70 for the day's lowest round, including a 25-foot chip shot into the cup for a birdie 3 on the 2nd hole. Two other members of the Sunnybrook squad, John Kuchar and Dick Preston, also holed out chip shots for an eagle and birdie, respectively.

Pontiac's Roy Iceberg carded a 71 at Brae Burn, but his Rochester team still lost a 13-9 decision to the host club. Jim McLaughlin's 73 spearheaded Bob O'Link to an 11½-10½ verdict over visiting Idyl Wyld.

Sunday's other scheduled match between Sylvan Glen and River Bank was postponed. Two of the league's three new members, Bald Mountain and Glenhurst, drew byes yesterday. The other new addition to the MPGA loop is Rochester.

Top Junior Keglers Honored at Sylvan

Young bowlers in two age groups were honored Saturday at Sylvan Lanes when awards were presented completing a successful league season in which 80 boys participated.

Pat Gilkey was the outstanding individual in the Minor League, 10 to 12, with 503 and 201 actual scores. He helped spark The Runaways to team honors. His brother Mike, Ted Williams, Ted Fisher and Morris Brown were others on the team.

The Swamp Rats won the Major League for keggers 13 through 16. Bob Sias, Ed Hermozian, Jack Chambers, Ken Victor and Ken Parly formed that quintet. Ed Walszczyk's 583 and a 243 by Mickey McGuire topped the Majors.

Alley proprietor Art Rosner served as director for the two loops.

Bethune Pupil Wins City Marbles Title

Felman Williams, a 5th grade pupil at Bethune School, won the 12th annual city marbles championship Saturday by defeating Bill Kelly, a 6th grader at Malkin School, in the best-of-five finals at Oakland Park.

The 11-year-old Williams conquered Kelly, three games to two, to climax a month-long session of local tournaments at Pontiac's 22 elementary schools.

Williams was awarded The Pontiac Press trophy for his accomplishment. The tournament is sponsored annually by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department in conjunction with The Pontiac Press.

Al Lopez had a .612 win percentage in the majors.

PCH Tops UD Relays Field

Edges Redford by 2½ Points in Tight Duel

Chiefs Score in 9 of 10 Events, Grab Title on 880-Relay Place

It took the Chiefs three years to do it, but the Pontiac Central High track squad today holds the University of Detroit Relays title. Coach Dean Wilson's crew has a fine big trophy to show for its 34-point victory in Saturday's big meet.

PCH was forced to beat out Redford for 3rd place in the 880-relay, the final event, to achieve the title. Redford, which edged Pontiac last year, was only 1½ points behind at the time.

Pontiac won with 34 points. Redford had 31½ Detroit Eastern 27½. Mumford 25½ among the top contenders. Ecorse won the Class B Division with 51 points, followed by Lake Shore with 37. Bloomfield Hills and Lutheran West tied at 12. Troy had 11 and Romeo 10.

Team balance was the "big thing" for the Chiefs. Coach Dean Wilson said today, "These sophomores and juniors did a fine job. The all-around balance, with our nine seniors eight juniors and nine sophomores was a fine one. The boys all turned in great jobs."

Wilson pointed out that the final race, the two-mile relay (2nd) by PCH's all-soph team, Johnson, Nelson, Byrd and Anderson, the record-breaking shotput trio of Bill Pritchett (51-3½), Charley Brown (50-10½), and Jerry Rush (49-4½) were outstanding performances. The shot record was broken by 10 feet, 151-5½. Chiefs also won the shuttle-burdles.

PCH placed in nine of the 10 events in which it was entered.

Bloomfield Hills in Class B was responsible for a new record in the 4-mile relay, a 19:53.6 mark, set by Ulrich and Goetz Klopfer. Dick Ford and Barry Armstrong.

Winners, with area placements: shot—Pritchett, Brown, Rush (P), record 151-5½. High jump—Detroit Eastern: Pontiac 2nd (Brooks, Robinson, Kimbrell), record 16-4. Pole vault—Redford (33 feet): PCH 2nd (Walker, Carson, Ledesinger). 4-mile relay—Redford (19:53.6). 440 relay—Mumford (43:8 record): PCH 2nd (Brooks, Pritchett, Howe, Ratcliff). Falcons CMC Kings

Paced by the brilliant performance of Warren Cawley, and aided by disqualification of the Birmingham 880-yard relay team, Farmington High clinched Saturday Relays title.

Cranbrook repeated in Class B, with 42 points. Cawley won the high and low hurdles, tied for first in the high jump, and anchored the Central Relay team which set a record 1:07.7. Running with Cawley were Mike Agee (broad jump winner), Clappison and Gordon.

Maples placed 2nd with 44, three back of the Falcons' 47. Others in the top list were Lansing Sexton 45, Walled Lake 31½.

Injured Driver Called Improved

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Veteran race driver Jerry Unser, seriously injured in a practice run accident at the Indianapolis motor Speedway Saturday, was reported improved and resting quietly Sunday.

"His condition is serious but I don't believe it is critical any longer," said Dr. C. B. Bonner, Speedway medical director.

He added that Unser definitely would miss the 500-mile race on May 30.

Dr. Bohner went on to say that X-rays and further examination showed that Unser did not break his neck, as first reported.

But the 26-year-old driver suffered burns over 40 per cent of his body when his Helse Special burst into flames after spinning into a concrete retaining wall.

The worst of the third degree burns were on the lower parts of Unser's legs, his left arm and the back of his right hand.

"The burns are intensive," said Dr. Bohner, "but not as extensive as they might have been."

Unser's first words when rescuers reached him after the accident had been, "my legs are on fire. Call my wife."

Veteran Racer Wins

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Veteran Lee Petty of Randleman, N. C., took the lead on the 310th lap and drove his 1959 Oldsmobile to victory in the fourth annual Virginia 500 stock car race Sunday.

Edward Adams had a 643-153 record at Texas Southern.

Martha Hyer to Play Role of Marie in 'Robespierre'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD — Won't Martha Hyer make a lovely Marie Antoinette? She'll play this historically romantic figure in "Robespierre" (great French revolutionist), Roland V. Lee's next picture.

When Martha called to say au revoir before she took off for Dallas en route to Cannes, she said she had just signed the contract.

"I tested for Marie Antoinette in Norma Shearer's beautiful clothes and wig," she told me, "which are still intact at MGM." (Norma made "Marie Antoinette" in 1938.)

Roland will release "The Big Fisherman" in August, and he'll start "Robespierre" shortly after that. Martha will tour Europe after she leaves the Cannes Film Festival.

Talked to Dr. Milko Skofic, Gina Lollobrigida's husband, who said that Yugoslavia will not be the location of Gina's next picture, "Joudnika" now called "Seven Women."

"There's a political line in the story and a partisan viewpoint that the government will not accept," said Dr. Skofic, "but Northern Italy will do just as well for a location."

He says there are now only five women so the title no doubt will be changed. I don't believe Shirley Maclaine has fully made up her mind about playing another one of the top female roles in the picture.

"Gina, the baby and I love California," said Dr. Skofic. "He just loves the park and he is getting so brown in the California sunshine."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

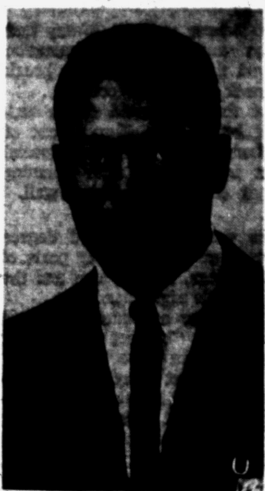

Kathy Grant Crosby telephoned Muriel Roberts, former publicist at Columbia, and told her, "You are on salary at $400 a month until you get a new job."

Writer-director Dudley Murphy, who has two daughters, age 7 and 17, becomes a father again in November. Naturally he's hoping for a boy.

It's an accepted fact now that Ingrid Bergman and Lars Schmidt are expecting a baby in October.

The Freddie Brissons entertained Friday night at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Sieff of England, who are on their honeymoon, the house guests of Roz and Freddie.

Congratulations to the Macdonald Careys on their 18th wedding anniversary tomorrow. Betty is still in bed following her recent surgery but she and Mac and the six children will have a bedside dinner.

Andrew J. Hoover, son of Rev. Robert W. Hoover, 417 California St., has completed his training at the Elkhart University of Medical and Dental Technique, Elkhart, Ind., and graduated as a qualified medical laboratory and X-ray technician. Hoover graduated as an honor student, having had the highest average in his class.

Thieves Like Seeds

CARMI, Ill. (UPI) — Thieves shoveled about 3,500 pounds of uncleaned lespedeza seed through a window into a truck, and also hauled off 1,500 pounds of cleaned lespedeza seed and 1,400 pounds of maize seed in bags.

Strikers' Wives End Blockade, Return to Dishes

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — Striker's wives, who maintained a five-day around-the-clock human blockade of an oil refinery here, are back home today with their housekeeping.

They gave up their unauthorized blockade at the strike-bound Phillips Petroleum Co. plant Saturday. Some weren't too happy.

"Now I can go home, clean house and get the dishes done," she said.

During the five days of their blockade, which kept oil trucks from entering the plant, the women had ignored "go home" demands from their husbands and officials of the striking oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

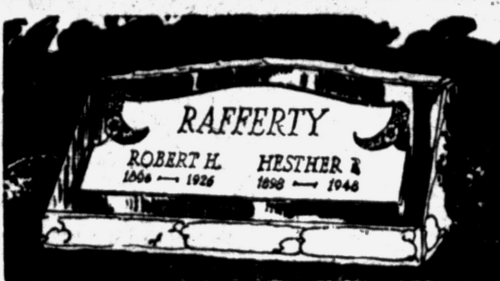

They also ignored a court injunction against their impromptu blockade and five were called into court Sunday on contempt citations.

The charges were dropped when the women agreed to give up their stand. Ten minutes later trucks began rolling into the refinery. The plant has been struck since February on a dispute between union and management over seniority issues.

"TEMPEST"Says West Aid Plan Would Scare Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — British economist Barbara Ward said Sunday the West could throw a major scare into the Communists by making a sustained investment of five or six billion dollars a year to help underdeveloped nations modernize.

She said that when the United States operated the Marshall Plan, "the Communists lost ground in Europe and for a time were disoriented; they didn't know what to do about it."

"I would pray God to see the day again when they're just as worried as they were then," Miss Ward said.

She said a long-range program of aid to underdeveloped nations "would worry the Communists."

"It is my own profound conviction," she said, "given the nature of the struggle against communism, that economic assistance is much, much, much more effective than military assistance."

The economic threat of communism is greater than the military threat, she said.

Waters of the Great Salt lake in Utah are said to contain as much as 23 per cent salt. By contrast average salt water content of the Atlantic ocean is about 3.6 per cent.

Landscape Sprayed On

PARK RIDGE, Ill. (UPI)—New spray products simulate grass, sand or soil to line the routes of those first model trains found underneath the Christmas tree. Kerr Chemicals, Inc., says its sand-colored spray, for example, will transform a crumpled paper background into windswept beach of a discarded mirror into a placid lake.

Average freight train today has about 66 cars.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Jean Simmons has ended a nine-day hospital stay.

He'll Be in Wings at Geneva Talks

Dag Holding Cold War Puzzle Key?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

From the foreign editor's assignment sheet:
STAGE MANAGER
Standing in the wings when the East-West foreign ministers conference opens in Geneva next Monday will be a man who ultimately may hold the key to the cold war puzzle—Dag Hammarskjöld.

The United Nations chief has conferred in recent weeks with both Khrushchev and Herter. He has said he has found a genuine will to negotiate.

So far the West has no "fall-back" plan to turn to if the Russians reject their package on Berlin, Germany and European security. It's anybody's guess what the Russians are up to.

Hammarskjöld will not volunteer advice, as is his custom, but if the talks run into a stone wall he might be asked for suggestions. There is no doubt he would respond.

VATICAN NEW LOOK
Pope John XXIII appears to be slimming down. At least that's the word from some Vatican sources.

They say the rotund Pontiff has lost 14 or 15 pounds since his election six months ago. At that time, intimates of the Pope judged his weight as more than 220 pounds.

LIFTING THE SIEGE
The next step in President Alfredo Stroessner's avowed schedule for returning Paraguay to a democracy is a proclamation of general political amnesty.

His still skeptical South American neighbors are watching closely to see how soon this comes about.

Last week was not the first time in the last 19 years that the state of siege—a sort of modified martial law—had been lifted in Paraguay, always before it was rapidly reimposed.

And so far Stroessner has set no timetable for abolishing censorship and permitting freedom of expression, calling a constituent assembly and adopting a new constitution.

INTERNAL PAINS

To Western diplomats, Communist China's great clamor of outrage over the Tibetan rebellion has a deeper, more significant meaning.

It means something was and is wrong internally and Peiping is trying to divert attention from it.

Authoritative diplomatic sources in London report that Red China's "great leap forward" last year caused so much sacrifice and suffering that Peiping had to find some kind of a unifying slogan quickly.

Thus the tremendous radio, newspaper and mass meeting propaganda trying to rally the people against "foreign interference" in Tibet.

If this doesn't work for Peiping, the Communists can be expected to manufacture a diversion soon.

RUSSIAN WORKERS

Whether it is genuine or not, the Russians at the Geneva nuclear conference are giving the appearance of being worried about the Pentagon's attitude on nuclear test explosions.

Russian negotiators make much of statements by high U. S. military officials that American defenses would suffer if all nuclear test explosions were banned.

The Soviets have been slow in replying to Anglo-American proposals for a first-step halt of explosions in the atmosphere.

One theory is that they fear the Pentagon would persuade the U. S. government to drag its feet on extending the ban, once the first step was taken.

Richard L. Serwin, a Pontiac Central High School senior who won top prize in the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair for two consecutive years, has been awarded a $1,000 science fair scholarship by the Student Aid Foundation of Michigan to the college of his choice.

Richard, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serwin of 189 Oneida Rd., won the 1958 fair with his project, "The Treatment and Prevention of Frostbite." It was selected over 1,337 other entries by high school students as the top exhibit.

Last year his entry was "The Effect of Plant Hormones."

The young scientist is vice president of the Linean Society, the school biology club, and hopes to become a physician.

PARNEL, Mo. (AP) — The Rev. Louis V. Hubbard, a Methodist minister, in announcing special services, concluded his mimeographed message with this sentence:

U. S. Steel President to Retire Tomorrow

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP)—Clifford F. Hood today said he will step down as president of U. S. Steel Corp. tomorrow.

Hood, at the company's annual meeting, explained he passed the company's mandatory retirement age of 65 in February. He succeeded Benjamin Fairless as president in 1953 and has been with the nation's largest steel firm since 1917.

A stockholder, Wilma Soss, President of the Federation of Women Shareholders of America, asked who would succeed Hood as president. Chairman Roger Blough replied that a successor has not been picked.

Mrs. Soss, heckling the chairman repeatedly, asked if Hood had been drawing salary as president since he passed his 65th birthday. Blough said Hood had been paid full salary.

Ask U. S. N-Test Ban From Appeals Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals was asked today to order the United States to halt further nuclear tests.

The appeal was made by 39 individuals, including scientists, churchmen, Japanese fishermen, residents of the Marshall Islands and others.

Among the well known plaintiffs were Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize winning chemist professor at the California Institute of Technology, Socialist leader Norman Thomas and British philosopher Bertrand Russell. The appeal probably will be heard by the court next fall.

The group asked the Court of Appeals to overturn a ruling of last July 31 by U. S. District Judge Richmond B. Keach. He dismissed two suits, saying the complaints failed to show there was a controversy within the court's jurisdiction. He held also that none of the 39 plaintiffs had standing to sue.

Passes Bill to Control Uppity House Janitors

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Some janitors have become too uppity to suit members of the Missouri House of Representatives. The Legislature hires only two janitors and others are loaned by the director of public buildings. Members complained that they got nothing but backtalk when they made a request of one of the "boredom" janitors. So the House approved a bill giving it complete control over all janitors on the premises.

Youth Fined, Jailed in Simple Larceny

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Gerard T. Offer, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Offer, 165 E. Highland Rd., Pontiac, was fined $50 and sentenced to three days in the Oakland County Jail when he pleaded guilty to simple larceny before Justice of the Peace Elmer Dieterle Saturday morning.

The youth was arrested Thursday night by Bloomfield Hills Police when he attempted to remove the tire and wheel from a car in the Grand Trunk Railroad Station parking lot there.

Order Federal Hearing for Accused Killer of 6

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ordered a federal court hearing for Leslie Irvin, accused killer of six persons, who is under death sentence in Indiana.

Justice Brennan delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Harlan wrote a dissenting opinion joined by Justices Frankfurter, Clark, and Whitaker. Frankfurter also wrote a separate dissenting opinion.

The high tribunal directed that the U. S. Circuit Court in Chicago decide the merits of Irvin's claim that his rights under the U. S. Constitution had been violated.

Soybean Prices Drop Sharply

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavy selling took old crop soybean futures down sharply today in early dealings on the Board of Trade while wheat weakened moderately and other grains held about steady with small gains and losses.

May and July soybeans skidded well over a cent a bushel within the first few minutes on an unconfirmed report that large offers to deliver on the May contract would be made later today.

The setback in wheat ran to major fractions of a cent.

After about an hour wheat was 1/4 cent a bushel lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.93 1/2; corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May 66 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May 66 1/2; rye 1/2 lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.39 1/2; soybeans 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $2.28 1/2.

Dillon Goes to Senate With Ike's Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—C. Douglas Dillon presents President Eisenhower's case for a $3,930,000 foreign aid program to the Senate today in his new role as the State Department's No. 2 man.

Dillon appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said he would be given a warm welcome.

The Senate has not yet acted on Dillon's promotion, but Fulbright said Senate approval "is a foregone conclusion." Eisenhower nominated Dillon last week to the No. 2 post vacated when Christian A. Herter was named to replace John Foster Dulles as secretary of state.

Fulbright said the committee will not waive for Dillon, as it did for Herter, its rule requiring a six-day wait before holding hearings on diplomatic nominations.

"The circumstances are not the same," Fulbright said.

Truman Against Ban on 3rd Term for President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry Truman goes back to Congress today to tell members he thinks adoption of the anti-third term amendment was a mistake.

The bouncy former President scheduled testimony before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee in support of a resolution by Chairman Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) to repeal the constitutional provision that limits a president to two terms.

Truman told a House Judiciary subcommittee by telegram in February he never did like the third term ban. He said then it seemed to him to rank with the 18th Amendment for prohibition, which was repealed.

Eisenhower, disclaiming any thought of a third term for himself, has said of the amendment "I would rather see it repealed than kept."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), one of the co-sponsors of the Hennings resolution, has contended that the amendment was pushed through Congress by the Republicans because of Franklin D. Roosevelt's election to four terms.

Why Is 'Record' Cluttered?

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you have ever wondered why poems, recitations, and high school essays are printed as part of the Congressional Record, you have company in Congress.

Rep. Paul C. Jones (D-Mo.) also wonders. In fact, he has put out feelers for support of some relatively modest curbs on the amount of non-legislative material included in the official record of Congress' doings.

Jones made a one-minute speech inviting colleagues to think about the problem. He said he might propose rule changes later. Jones is up against time-hallowed custom that unanimous consent is always given by a member who wants to "revise and extend" any remarks, and include extraneous matter.

True, the rules say the material must have a connection with legislative business. But, as Jones noted in an interview, each member is his own judge on that.

There is, in theory, another limitation. Each insertion is limited to two pages, except by special permission. In practice, a member with more expansive ideas to commit to print gets an estimate at $81 a page—from the public printer. The member then asks for unanimous consent to revise and extend "notwithstanding cost estimated at—"

"I've never heard anybody object," Jones said. His idea is simply to prescribe a quota for each member, a number of pages per session that would not hamper the average member, but would require heavy or habitual revisers and extenders to be more selective.

"In one recent Congress," Jones said, carefully avoiding names, "some 40 members inserted nothing at all. One member inserted 200 items."

Why do members fill up the appendix of the Record?

"Well, some of the new members apparently have been advised it's good to have material in there," Jones said. "Suppose, for example, you put in editorials on both sides of a question. Then, later on, if you're challenged, you could point to one of these. You could even get reprints and mail them out."

Anything printed in the Record becomes eligible for mailing free under a member's frank. The member pays the actual cost of reprints (about $27 per page per thousand). But the government provides the envelopes, the folding and stuffing and the mail service.

A veteran of 25 years in the newspaper publishing and job printing business, Jones calculates possible annual savings conservatively in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, conceivably in the millions.

The Martin show was a different cup of tea-tee. Bob Hope and Mae West were on board and when I say that I guess I've said it all.

The show was stuffed with amiability and free-flow, but it was flawed by its complete predictability; there were the usual inside jokes and jokes about drinking, the usual plugs for that nationwide chain of gymnasia, some single entendre about sex and a comfortable chain of tunes to tie the hour together.

It was a very serviceable hour, but one that I might have missed without much pain.

I don't feel that way about the Caesar hour—it was the kind of show that you talk about the next day, that you recollect with pleasure and that makes you want more.

SHORT SHOTS: I have one hope for the new CBS-TV Ray Milland series, Markham, which debuted Saturday and that is that every-body concerned may be kidding.

Congressmen Wondering Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you have ever wondered why poems, recitations, and high school essays are printed as part of the Congressional Record, you have company in Congress.

Rep. Paul C. Jones (D-Mo.) also wonders. In fact, he has put out feelers for support of some relatively modest curbs on the amount of non-legislative material included in the official record of Congress' doings.

Jones made a one-minute speech inviting colleagues to think about the problem. He said he might propose rule changes later. Jones is up against time-hallowed custom that unanimous consent is always given by a member who wants to "revise and extend" any remarks, and include extraneous matter.

True, the rules say the material must have a connection with legislative business. But, as Jones noted in an interview, each member is his own judge on that.

There is, in theory, another limitation. Each insertion is limited to two pages, except by special permission. In practice, a member with more expansive ideas to commit to print gets an estimate at $81 a page—from the public printer. The member then asks for unanimous consent to revise and extend "notwithstanding cost estimated at—"

"I've never heard anybody object," Jones said. His idea is simply to prescribe a quota for each member, a number of pages per session that would not hamper the average member, but would require heavy or habitual revisers and extenders to be more selective.

"In one recent Congress," Jones said, carefully avoiding names, "some 40 members inserted nothing at all. One member inserted 200 items."

How Did He Withstand the Long, Hard Climb?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Have you ever wondered how boy singers like "the Fabulous Fabian" got discovered?

Bob Marcucci, 29, manager of "the Fabulous Fabian," 16, who's in South Philadelphia High School and about to be signed by Hollywood, relates:

"I was going by my friend's house—his wife was having a baby—and this young boy in a T shirt and glasses came out on a porch next door. I said to him, 'Do you know you resemble Ricky Nelson?'"

"He said, 'Who's Ricky Nelson?'"

Marcucci, also manager of young Frankie Avalon, asked the boy, Fabian Forte, a policeman's son, if he could sing. He said he couldn't. Months later, Marcucci returned, said he'd teach him to sing. "Mama, that crazy man is here again," the boy said. Mama said, "You go with the crazy man."

He did, to the Dick Clark and Perry Como show, and now toward a Hollywood fortune though more worried currently about homework. Crazy—Man!

Dorothy Shay was at her very funniest opening—among those howling were TV's Bess Myerson. To a table back of her, Dorothy said: "You'll pardon my back—I hope the rest of you'll pardon my front." To a ringsider with a lot of hair whose head she patted: "Try to be bald next time." Dorothy said she's writing a book. One title: "Those Who Helped Me—And How I Hate Them."

Goodman Ace—already loaded after years as top radio and TV writer—is sure of a bigger bundle by becoming producer and writer of the new big Revlon show (via corporate capital gains).

"I will hate leaving the Perry Como show which was so pleasant, but I'm a masochist—I like to work," he says. Surprised that his demands were accepted, he said, "Usually you have a meeting and talk over all the details, and if you play your cards right, you never see each other again." He contends that his claim to fame is that he thought of having Perry sit on a stool.

One of the wits of our day, Joe Laurie Jr., died five years ago today. It was he who said, "He who laughs, lasts." His friend and biographer, Jerry Lieberman, just reminded me of some of his lines: "Two can be as cheap as one... If at first your marriage does not succeed, try, try a gun... For Easter my wife gave me a rabbit punch... A commercial is a pause that depresses... The good die young but chances are if they lived they'd grow up to be just as mean as the rest of us."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack E. Leonard saw Private Lawrence in his fancy Army band uniform, and snapped: "Where'd you take basic training—Disneyland?" That's earl, brother. (Copyright, 1959)

NEW YORK (UPI)—There really may be no difference between New York television and Hollywood television, but two NBC-TV specials last night certainly provided a curious study in contrasts.

One was a Sid Caesar hour cabled in New York. The other was a Dean Martin spec spawned in Hollywood. Each show had its merits, but their approaches to the medium were quite different.

The Caesar hour was the sort of romp that pokes alive the screen. It was a beautifully molded show, imaginative, sparky, fertile.

Its materials—the movies as a source of fun—were not particularly original, but Caesar, working in harness with Art Carney and Audrey Meadows, made those materials seem fresh and untouched.

The Martin show was a different cup of tea-tee. Bob Hope and Mae West were on board and when I say that I guess I've said it all.

The show was stuffed with amiability and free-flow, but it was flawed by its complete predictability; there were the usual inside jokes and jokes about drinking, the usual plugs for that nationwide chain of gymnasia, some single entendre about sex and a comfortable chain of tunes to tie the hour together.

It was a very serviceable hour, but one that I might have missed without much pain.

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey was reported in satisfactory condition today at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center where he is recovering from an operation to remove a lung cancer.

The 55-year-old TV and radio star was out of bed several times Sunday, the hospital reported. He walked about the room unaided for the first time since the five-hour operation Thursday.

Tito's Labor Secretary to Visit U. S. for 3 Weeks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Moma Markovic, labor secretary in President Tito's Cabinet, left Sunday night for a three-week official visit to the United States.

He was invited to study labor relations, the system of wages and salaries, and other problems in the field of labor and social insurance. Markovic will visit New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Boston and other industrial and economic centers.

2 Girls Report Attacks in State Over Weekend

Authorities today were investigating two reported attacks on girls, one a Michigan State University student.

The Michigan State girl, 19, a sophomore, told police she was attacked Saturday night on the campus. She said a man about 21 years old dragged her into a wooded area near the women's gymnasium and raped her.

At Lexington in Sanilac County, an 11-year-old girl vacationing with her family said a man who approached her with a gun assaulted her on the Lake Huron shore Sunday.

She said she was walking on a beach at the time. Sheriff's men picked up four men for questioning.

It's Ham Park's line: "Russia may be the first nation to reach the moon with a rocket, but the U.S. will get there first with foreign aid." When a girl marries she gives up the attentions of many men for the inattention of one. —Earl Wilson.

45 Corporations in $ Billion Club

Put Out One-Fourth of Gross National Product in 1958

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United States has 45 giant corporations in the billion-dollar-a-year class, according to "News Front," a magazine for management.

Among them they produce one-fourth of the nation's entire gross national product.

Heading the so-called "billion dollar club" is General Motors, followed by Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone & Telegraph, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., Ford Motors, General Electric, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Steel, Socony Mobil, and Gulf Oil ranked in that order among the top ten.

In 1957 there were 47 corporations in the billion-dollar category, according to "News Front," but three fell below the magic mark in 1958 while one climbed into it.

Those which dropped just under the billion mark last year were North American Aviation, which fell from $1,255 million to $904 million, Republic Steel from $1,227 million to $910 million, and Armco Steel from $1,074 million to $910 million, "News Front" reported.

The newcomer to the exclusive billion-dollar rank, the magazine said, was General Foods whose sales rose from $986 million in 1957 to $1,009 million last year.
