Sir Alec Quits as Leader of Conservatives

LONDON (AP)—Sir Alec Douglas-Home, former prime minister, resigned today as leader of Britain's opposition Conservative party.
An official statement by the Conservative party announced that Douglas-Home had addressed a special meeting of the party caucus in parliament.
The statement added that the first ballot for his successor will be taken next Tuesday, with the result announced two days later.
The former prime minister had been under pressure from factions within the party to bow out on the ground he has failed to provide sufficiently dynamic leadership.
Douglas-Home succeeded Harold Macmillan as prime minister in October 1963, after a bitter struggle for power shook the Conservative ranks. He then was foreign secretary.
He served as prime minister for one year and then, last October, lost a general election to the Labor party. This ended 13 years of Conservative rule.

Planes Hit Nearer to Viet-China Border

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. warplanes flew closer today to the Red Chinese border than ever before on an air strike over North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said.
Three Air Force F105 highway bridge only 41 miles from the Chinese frontier, the spokesman said.
The raiders destroyed the bridge 105 miles northwest of Hanoi and also cratered the Yen Bay railroad yards 80 miles northwest of the Communist capital, he reported.
The pilots reported heavy Communist ground fire, but the spokesman said all planes returned safely.
In raids last week, U.S. bombers hit targets 43 miles from Communist China.
In the only other raid on North Viet Nam reported today, eight F4 Starfighters destroyed 20 buildings and damaged numerous others at the Dong Cao Then barracks 60 miles inside Communist territory, the spokesman said.
He also reported heavy air action against the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam and scattered clashes on the ground.
Eight F105s killed an estimated 15 Viet Cong in a strike against an enemy encampment east of Ca Mau, on Viet Nam's southern tip, he said.
Forward artillery observers said pilots destroyed 24 buildings and damaged 21 others.
The spokesman said eight other F105s teamed up with U.S. Navy planes in a strike against Viet Cong facilities 65 miles northeast of Saigon. Forty-one structures were reported destroyed, 200 others damaged, and a "number of Viet Cong" believed killed.
U.S. Army helicopters were credited with killing 12 enemy guerrillas 25 miles east of Saigon and another 15 about 35 miles northeast of Saigon in Quang Tin Province.
The Viet Cong kept up pressure on troops of the U.S. 1st Division last night for the fourth consecutive night. American casualties again were reported light and the infiltrators were repulsed.

LBj, Military Confer on Viet

Decisions Expected to Increase Use of GIs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and the nation's military high command assessed the outlook in Viet Nam today as a prelude to expected decisions to pour in more American manpower.
And the fourth in a series of sessions on Viet Nam, built around Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's fact-finding visit, was scheduled at the White House in the afternoon with some new participants.
They included, Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor, Secretary of the Navy Paul Nitze, Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert, plus Harold Brown, who has been nominated to succeed Zuckert.
Also invited to sit in were Clark Clifford, chairman of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board; and two members of the presidential panel of consultants on foreign affairs, Arthur Dean and John McCloy.
White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said no one could tell with any accuracy how long the meetings, started yesterday, might go on.
EXPECT STATEMENT
There may be more tomorrow. They could carry over into Saturday. At the end, some sort of public statement or announcement is expected from the President. But Moyers said today there are no plans for anything like that at this point.
McNamara again was a central figure in the discussions and Moyers said the recommendations and reports he brought back from Viet Nam are being combed over not only in the White House but elsewhere in the government.
He mentioned the Defense and State Departments, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Agency for International Development.
Henry Cabot Lodge, the ambassador-designate to Viet Nam who made the Far Eastern trip with McNamara, took part in two conferences yesterday at the White House, but was absent today.
Moyers said he had no explanation for the absence, but was sure Lodge would be around later.

Dems Bulldozing Poverty Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House appeared determined to pass the administration's $1.9-billion anti-poverty bill today despite continuing Republican efforts to trim it.
The big Democratic majority showed impressive strength yesterday in turning back one major GOP onslaught and Republican leaders had only faint hope that others would succeed.
The bill would continue a variety of education, Job Corps and other programs and double the authorization of funds.
Republicans are pushing hardest for an amendment that would again allow governors to veto anti-poverty projects in their states. The House bill would give the federal anti-poverty director authority to override such a veto.
On the first big test yesterday, Democrats shouted down a proposal by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., to give the states final say as to whether a community anti-poverty project should be approved.
Under the existing program enacted last year, local community action groups deal directly with the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in getting plans approved and funded.

Poverty Study Grant to OU

$26,416 Approved Today by Trustees
A $26,416 research grant to Oakland University from the Oakland County Economic Opportunity Commission was approved today by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees at its monthly meeting.

To be directed by Robin Hough, acting chairman of economics and business administration, the study is designed to direct OU resources to the task of identifying the problems of poverty for action groups developed under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Under the project, cooperation of the welfare agencies of Oakland County will be fully utilized as a test of the information retrieval system as a research tool.

It is planned that the data collected will focus on the civic culture of the poor and the economics of poverty.

Former Space Chief Dies After Illness

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Roy W. Johnson, the nation's first space chief, died today in Stamford Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 59.
Johnson had given up a $158,000-a-year job as executive vice president of General Electric Co. in 1958 to become director of the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency. The agency was a forerunner of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Chance of Rainfall for Pontiac Area

Warm weather is finally returning, but so are the showers! High today will be in the 80s. Tomorrow's high is predicted to be 84 to 92, with a low tonight of 65 to 72.
Chance of a few scattered thundershowers is forecast for today and tomorrow.
The low temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was recorded at 65 this morning. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 83.

Undies Hid the Goods Smuggler Loses Battle of 'the Bulge'

LONDON (AP)—The case of the loaded undies ended yesterday with hefty fines for a smuggling, battling midwife.
It started when customs officers noticed an unusual bulge beneath the skirt of the midwife, Henriette Peace MacLachlan, as she returned from a vacation in Switzerland.
They took her to a private room where Miss MacLachlan produced bottles of brandy and whisky from beneath her skirt and a watch from her bra.

The customs men still were not satisfied. They demanded a search. The woman refused. The men called in a magistrate who ordered a search, by force if necessary.
"All right, then," said Miss MacLachlan, "I will resist."

The men withdrew. Two girls from the airport staff were ordered to make the search. For several minutes b.m.p.s and shouts could be heard from the search room.

The airport girls retired bruised and defeated.

Before two policewomen skilled in judo arrived, Miss MacLachlan decided to submit. The airport girls frisked her without resistance and produced a second wristwatch, from inside her girdle.

Miss MacLachlan was fined 3 pounds for trying to evade customs duties, 10 pounds for assaulting the searchers, five pounds for defying the magistrate who ordered the search and three pounds cost—a total of $134.40.

Nixon Building Support Base?

May Be Aiming for '68 Nomination Bid

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to be building a broad base for a potential bid for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination in his political travels around the country.

Nixon dropped in on Republican congressional leaders this week to chat with them about party affairs, including the lean condition of its coffers, and such matters as the GOP position on Viet Nam.

Asked at a news conference Wednesday whether he thinks the 1967 party nominee is likely to become a candidate again, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen replied: "He didn't say."

But Dirksen went on to note that Nixon is topping all other potential GOP aspirants in the public polls. The Illinois senator intimated he thought the polls reflected party sentiment rather accurately.

Nixon's leading position at this point is credited to the fact that few Republicans are and at him, Dirksen and the House leaders along with him well.

Barry Goldwater, the 1964 presidential nominee, finds the former vice president acceptable as a candidate. Most party liberals, with the possible exception of Sen. Thomas H. R. Goldwater, wouldn't object to Nixon.

Goldwater also mentioned Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania as another who could command his support. But reports from Harrisburg indicate that Scranton, who fought Goldwater for the nomination last but campaigned for him afterward, is playing down the presidential bid.

HIT HEADLINES

Gov. George Romney of Michigan can hit the headlines with a bang if he wins reelection next year. But Romney has none of the widespread acquaintance with potential 1968 convention delegates Nixon has accumulated over the last 13 years.

The former vice president also is displaying a new affability with the press. This is an asset that a survey made under the sponsorship of House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., and 11 GOP colleagues said Nixon lacked in the 1960 campaign and his unsuccessful 1962 race for governor of California.

The survey, which urged Republicans to take advantage of what it said was President Johnson's "inability to deal effectively with the press," said Nixon's "bitter denunciation of the press" following his defeat in California was "an intemperance outburst to be long remembered by the candidate, the press and the public."

TransPacific Precedent

'Salty' Sharon Completes 40-Day Sail

HONOLULU (AP) — With the applause of old sailors ringing in her ears, petite Sharon Sites rested today after her gale-raked, 40-day sail from California to Hawaii. She became the first woman to sail the 3,300 miles alone.

In a snug harbor Wednesday night, resting from her courageous trans-Pacific odyssey—done without a radio or fuel for her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp—the 34-year-old Los Angeles widow counted two casualties:

Her right wrist was broken last weekend in a way she was "too embarrassed" to say, and her pet turtle died 12 days out of Los Angeles.

The blonde dental secretary—a sailing beginner—under-took the voyage alone for the same reason men climb mountains: It was a challenge, she told newsmen before she was taken to a hospital for treatment of her wrist.

STRONG WINDS

On shore at Keahi Marina a few miles from downtown Honolulu, Mrs. Sites told of "Six days of 65 mile an hour winds," the most frightening experience.

"I had to latch everything down, hang on for dear life, and pray, she said.

"Maybe it was foolish," the exhausted woman said, groggy with drugs she had taken to kill the pain of the fracture. "Some-times out there I wondered. But I didn't do it as a stunt."

Her voyage, which began June 12, ended Wednesday afternoon 25 miles north of Honolulu when the sport fishing boat Catherine S. spotted her sloop and radioed the Coast Guard.

SLOOP IN TOW

The cutter Cape Corwin took the brown-and-white sloop in tow. In port at last, Mrs. Sites had swiftly changed into white slacks and a black-and-white sweater, and was welcomed with applause.

Many of her 150 greeters gave her jels of aloha, the traditional flowery greeting of the islands. She acknowledged the welcome with a weak wave of her left arm and blew kisses to the crowd.

The doughty sailor, who has only six months of sailing experience, vowed she would never attempt such a feat again, and she added she wouldn't advise anyone—man or woman—to do it alone.

"Now it's over, it's fine," she said of the long run before the

ON THE HOUSE

Richard Holtzman, general manager of Sheraton Hotels in Hawaii, offered her free accommodations at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. Mrs. Sites sleepily accepted.

"She's the greatest," bubbled an excited Al Adams of Los Angeles, Mrs. Sites' sailing instructor who boarded the 80,000 Sea Sharp as it was being towed to harbor.

When asked about whom she credited most with her success, she said: "I thought about this a great deal while I was at sea.

"I take very little personal credit for the voyage. The main credit goes to Al (Adams) who bought the boat and rigged her and had great confidence in me.

OTHER CREDITS

"I also give credit to Hugh McDonald (of Los Angeles) who taught me my navigation."

"And next the Lord Himself. He had his hand on my shoulder many times during the crossing."

Despite the tow the last few miles to port, Mrs. Sites said she considered that she had completed the full trip.

mately 25 miles north of Honolulu. She left Los Angeles June 12 on her solo voyage across the Pacific from California to Hawaii.

Racism Occasionally Appears in Usually Harmonious Hawaii

By MALCOLM BARR

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii is considered an example of racial harmony, but once in awhile the racial lid blows off even in the islands.

A Boston woman, Mrs. David B. Ekman, island resident for nine years, is the latest public critic of racism as practiced in the 50th state.

She turned up at Honolulu's Kamehameha School for Girls last month requesting enrollment for her Caucasian daughter, Lola, 14. Mrs. Ekman was told there are no vacancies in the private school this year or next.

Its president, Dr. James W.

SPECIAL REPORT

Bushong, admitted the Kamehameha schools — one for boys and one for girls — give preference to students of Hawaiian or part-Hawaiian blood. The schools were established in 1887 under the will of Bernice Bishop, who stipulated that preference be given to orphans and needy children of Hawaiian or part-aboriginal blood.

IN PRACTICE
The practice has been, however, to admit only Hawaiian or part-Hawaiian students, from needy or affluent families.

Gov. John A. Burns said last February that with an admission system based on "quotas" at certain educational institutions, "we cannot enter the court of human rights with absolutely clean hands."

Mrs. Ekman said she may try to test the Kamehameha schools' policy in the courts.

"They told me there was no room for my daughter, but that's what they told James Meredith at the University of Mississippi," she said.

TO BAN BIAS

A state Fair Employment Practices Act, enacted last year, was considered necessary to ban racial discrimination within business and industry.

Passage of a law also became necessary to stop landlords from restricting property rentals to people of a certain race. Newspaper classified pages were once peppered with the notation

"AJA preferred," the "AJA" standing for "American of Japanese ancestry."

Even now, one of Honolulu's high-class residential districts has an unwritten rule forbidding the sale of property to anyone other than Caucasians.

The military housing office keeps a list of apartments which consistently turn down Negro applicants.

BARRED NEGROES

Last year, some dance hall owners in downtown Honolulu refused to admit Negroes. They said Filipino patrons objected. When a new Japanese theater was opened in 1964, vaudeville painted obscene racial words on its outside walls.

There are approximately 286,000 whites living in the 50th state. The next largest segment of the population is people of Japanese descent, who number 208,000. There are 4,900 Chinese; 103,000 part-Hawaiians; 10,000 full-blooded Hawaiians; and 73,000 Filipinos.

Slightly less than 16,000 Koreans and Samoans, and 9,000 Negroes, make up the state's 900,000-plus population.

Forty per cent of these people are of Japanese ancestry.

CROSS-SECTION
"Balance" in Hawaii politics almost always means: a slate of candidates who stem from divergent racial backgrounds and therefore represents a cross-section of the community.

For instance, the State Senate is split 12-12 Caucasian and Japanese, with one Hawaiian. The House has 26 members of Japanese ancestry; 13 Caucasians; four Hawaiians; five Chinese; and two Filipinos.

LBJ Fills U.N. Post by High Court Appeal

President LYNDON JOHNSON made a dark-horse appointment to fill the post of U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations vacated by the shocking and untimely death of ADLAI STEVENSON.

Supreme Court Justice ARTHUR J. GOLDBERG is the man chosen. Reportedly, he was offered the ambassadorship Monday evening and gave the President his reluctant acceptance the following morning.

GOLDBERG

The United States should be well represented in the 114-nation organization by the new appointee. His fine legal background, honed by service in the Kennedy Cabinet as Secretary of Labor and later on the bench of the Supreme Court, will qualify him for the technical and temperamental exactions of his new assignment.

That GOLDBERG is dedicated to a life of public service there can be little doubt. In relinquishing his seat on the High Court for the U.N. he sacrifices $9,500 annually in salary and lifetime tenure; while as ambassador his continuity in office is subject to Administration decision.

In accepting his new post, GOLDBERG modestly voiced the sentiment expressed by THOMAS JEFFERSON when he assumed BENJAMIN FRANKLIN's ambassadorship to France: "I only succeed ADLAI STEVENSON, none can replace him."

The best wishes of the Nation go with Arthur Goldberg in his new sphere of responsibility.

Clyde Beatty

A man whose way of life kept death constantly at his side, succumbed to it when Fate confronted him with one of mankind's inexorable enemies.

CLYDE BEATTY, for half a century a circus animal trainer who became a luminary of the sawdust arena, died of cancer at the untimely age of 62.

A native of Ohio, he fell prey to circus fever at 16 and a year later had his own animal act.

Subsequently he was a long-time star of the Ringling Bros. Barnum & Bailey Circus before assuming in 1944 full ownership of the animal circus in which he had become a partner nine years earlier.

The 5-foot-6 performer who was mauled and wounded more than 100 times by his ferocious charges became a movie favorite in 1933 and continued to be a film attraction for a quarter-century. He also was gifted with exceptional literary talent, as his authorship of several best sellers bore witness.

Beatty brought diversion and thrills to a multitude of spectators. Among those of his calling, he was the nonpareil, a personality unlikely to be matched in the entertainment world. May his spirit find the peace and serenity that his mortal being scorned.

Our Embassies Allergic to Foreign Ferment

You'd have to fine-tooth aggregate Federal expenditures, with your efforts probably going unrewarded, to uncover a continuing item of expense that hits the State Department right in its budget. The outlay, approximating $1 million over the last two years, is what it cost Uncle Sam to repair his embassy buildings damaged in propaganda and protest demonstrations in foreign countries.

Some of the host countries, of course, pay the cost of damages inflicted by their overheated countrymen and, ironically, it is those of the Iron Curtain that have the best record. It is our "friends" who leave us holding the bag.

Both Russia and Czechoslovakia paid up promptly for the depredation committed on our state establishments in Moscow and Prague.

But in Panama, Venezuela, Cyprus, Turkey and Viet Nam, where American embassies were targets of assault, the check for the destruction was picked up by the U.S.

In a few instances this is so because the countries involved ignored our requests for redress, in others because we were disinclined for policy reasons to press claims for damage.

To date, the U.S. is badly outscored in the embassy clobbering department, since our buildings have taken it on their diplomatic chins in seven foreign countries while but one—Russia—had its Washington headquarters molested.

Viet Nam War More Perilous

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The South Viet Nam conflict apparently is a different and far more dangerous war than it was a year ago.

Secretary of Defense ROBERT S. McNAMARA says that while the picture is not all black, it has deteriorated in many aspects since he last visited Saigon 16 months ago.

The war may be nearing its most crucial phase, and 1965 may be a payoff year.

On his return in 1964, McNAMARA spoke of a long, hard war ahead and a need for millions more in U.S. military and economic aid. Since then the U.S. military manpower investment has quadrupled.

Americans became combat troops as well as advisers. Technically, the United States then was not a participant in an Asian mainland war. Now it is.

DECISIVE STAGE

About the turn of the year, the Communists seemed to sense a decisive stage and prepared for tactics reminiscent of the last days of the struggle against France.

North Viet Nam broadcast what purportedly were its own preparations for war on "an imperialist enemy."

Actually, these broadcasts, dealing with problems of guerrilla warfare, seemed to be directed instructively at the Viet Cong in the South. They recalled Vietminh tactics in 1964 at the decisive time of Dien Bien Phu, a shift to "position warfare."

Shortly thereafter, a change was detected in Viet Cong tactics and its propaganda stressed that the war had entered "a new phase."

BOLD ATTACKS

Viet Cong troops began attacking boldly in big units, advised by Hanoi to "move forward, stroke repeatedly, very strongly, very accurately in such a way that the U.S. aggressors... will not have time to breathe."

The deterioration found by Secretary McNAMARA is along lines outlined by Vietnamese Communist strategists. The Viet Cong has more force than ever. The rate of operations has increased. Intensity of attacks has expanded. There is more disruption of communications. Terror is on the upgrade.

Behind the Viet Cong is a big potential of guerrillas which can be infiltrated from North Viet Nam, to say nothing of direct involvement of North Vietnamese regulars.

Behind North Viet Nam is a threat of millions of Chinese militia.

Chances are that North and South Vietnamese Communists neither expect nor want direct Chinese interference. This is reflected in their statements about fighting on 10 or 20 years if necessary.

The way things look, however, the Viet Nam situation has little prospect of getting better from a U.S. standpoint, and much chance of getting worse.

We've Just Got To Find The Real One

Johnson Smart to Pick Goldberg

WASHINGTON — President Johnson made a wise choice in selecting Associate Justice Arthur J. Goldberg of the Supreme Court to become U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations to replace the late Adlai Stevenson.

The President recognized the need for a man of national and international LAWRENCE stature — someone who could carry on an extemporaneous debate in the United Nations Assembly or the Security Council and make an effective impression with his words.

Another basic reason for Mr. Johnson's decision undoubtedly was Justice Goldberg's keen perception of the many legal questions that affect governments throughout the world today in their relations with each other.

Justice Goldberg has spoken often before national and international law organizations here and abroad.

While the United Nations has among its ambassadors from other countries men who are versed in diplomacy, some of those who have proved most effective in the past had a deep insight into international law.

IMPORTANT ASSET

Goldberg's previous identification with the labor movement could be an important asset.

Not only was he general counsel of the United Steel Workers union — winning the respect of many of the men on the management side of the steel industry—but he also was able in his post as secretary of labor in President Kennedy's Cabinet to make his influence felt even further.

This is a background which can be useful to him in his new post in the United Nations. For in many countries the labor problem has become more and more significant in its relation to national government policies.

USED SUCCESSFULLY

Also, in the area of mediation and negotiation, Goldberg will bring to his new task an ability which he used successfully as a labor lawyer.

Many labor lawyers naturally became masters of a kind of diplomacy in dealing with labor-management disputes which enabled them in many cases to end strikes or to prevent them.

They use well-balanced phrases in proposed agreements that must meet the tests of public opinion both inside and outside of the labor unions.

Justice Goldberg's willingness to leave the Supreme Court has caused many members of Congress to wonder why he would abandon a lifetime position for something else in government.

But there are some men who find that, while the service of a Supreme Court justice is intensely interesting, there are in critical times other fields to which duty calls them.

Justice Goldberg, in reaching his decision to leave the Supreme Court, may just possibly have thought that, with only a few years of service in the United Nations, he could achieve a position which would entitle him to consideration for a higher office in the country.

Seven years hence, it would not be at all surprising to find him active in politics if he has made a good record in the United Nations and the country has come to know him through the numerous exposures he will have on TV.

On the whole, it would seem apparent that, since there was no one sufficiently outstanding on the diplomatic side to impress foreign governments, President Johnson came to the conclusion that he could add to the prestige of the United States at the U.N. by selecting a man from the highest court in the land.

Capital Letter:

No Official Declaration of Independence Exists

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — We may "hold these truths to be self-evident," but did you know that there is no such thing as an official version of the Declaration of Independence?

Although it is among the most sublime and frequently quoted documents in the world, MONTGOMERY neither the Supreme Court, the Congress, the U.S. archivist nor the librarian of Congress is able to say which of these differing versions is the legally correct one.

Brant Cooper Smith, an official of the American Jewish Committee, was making a speech on civil rights in which he quoted from the Declaration of Independence: "... that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights..."

A woman in the audience interrupted to say that the correct quote was "inalienable," but Cooper Smith advised her to read the Declaration.

The following week she mailed him a photograph of the carving on the Jefferson Memorial. It did indeed read "inalienable rights."

WROTE TO EXPERTS

Seeking enlightenment, Cooper Smith wrote to Dr. Julian P. Boyd of Princeton University, a recognized Jeffersonian authority who edited the Jefferson papers and was president of the American Historical Society; and to L. Quincy Mumford, the librarian of Congress.

He learned that, besides Jefferson's, there are three versions of the declaration: the rough draft printed in the Journal of Congress, the corrected draft which Congress adopted, and the engrossed parchment which the founding fathers signed.

All are official in character, but there are slight variations in text and innumerable differences in capitalization and punctuation.

All three versions carry the word "unalienable," rather than Jefferson's "inalienable," but no one seems to know who was responsible for that change.

To add to the mystery, the "final" text voted by the Continental Congress differs slightly from the engrossed parchment to which the famous signatures were appended.

The latter version is the more familiar one, and most often appears in school textbooks, but it is as official as the one Congress actually passed?

Reds Play Cat-and-Mouse Game

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA)—It is not likely that North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh will allow President Johnson to turn the South Viet Nam struggle into a conventional war now.

If he is following the strategy he used successfully against the CROMLEY French, the Viet Cong will wait for the right time and place to "take on" American troops.

Mealy, the V.C., when facing Americans, will fade away while waiting for that opportunity.

They'll bide their time until some American commander lets down his guard and moves too hastily without the proper knowledge of where the Viet Cong are or how many of them there are on his flanks or rear.

Then the Viet Cong will hit with superior numbers and concentrated fire power and attempt to wipe out this American unit. The V.C. aim will be to cut to pieces at one stroke an entire U.S. company or battalion. Their hope will be to let few Americans escape.

The Viet Cong will then fade back and look patiently

Wonders If Government Forgot Surplus Spending

In your issue of July 17, I noticed a small article, dateline Washington, which informed your readers that a $1.4 million contract had been awarded for construction of a permanent grave for the late President John F. Kennedy. Where is the money coming from?

I turned the page and found another article with dateline Washington that informed me "LBJ Begins Fiscal 'Lesson,' Wants 'Bare Bones' Policy for Next Year."

Could it be our government has forgotten about surplus spending this year, or is someone talking out of both sides of his mouth at the same time?

Says Smokers Are Getting More Careless

Smokers today are getting more filthy and careless with cigarettes than ever before, and causing more fires than any other cause.

Office help should be prohibited from smoking on the job. They not only allow it in the more respectable ones. In many offices they have their coffee-stained mug and a burning cigarette in front of them all the time. Before they come to wait on you they'll take a last drag and by the time they get to you they're belching smoke from both nostrils.

Steps should also be taken to prohibit smoking in supermarkets. Ashes are dropped in the food counters and the butts are crushed on the floor.

DISGUSTED TAXPAYER

Doesn't Agree With Reuther's Suggestion

Mr. Reuther wants the automobile manufacturers to cut $100 million of the price of each car. I have saved a small sum of money and I have put it in automobile stock, they are so well run and in such demand everywhere. I do not like Mr. Reuther trying to tell the U.S. what to do with my money.

Why not cut eight or ten cents an hour off every automobile employee and $200 a year off each official and then pass this saving to the buyers? Reuther's men are overpaid already. The public is the victim of the union's selfish and ruthless adding to costs, every year.

We want justice and auto companies make a very small percentage now.

'Parents Are at Fault in Some Accidents'

I have just heard about an accident caused by two boys of ten years playing in a garage where some adult had left gasoline. They lit a match and one of the boys is in the hospital badly burned.

Granted, a boy of that age should know better than to light matches, but why do parents leave gasoline in a garage where children play? Such parents should be brought before the law.

Lynda Bird Johnson continued her "see America first" canoeing trip today somewhere north of Ely, Minn., in the three-million-acre Superior National Forest.

The Secret Service told Larry Neff, supervisor of the national forest, to be vague about the exact location of the President's elder daughter and her canoeing party.

Neff and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman were with Lynda Bird yesterday.

Franco Decrees Amnesty for Prisoners

Spain's chief of state, Gen. Francisco Franco, has ordered a special amnesty for prisoners in honor of the 1965 holy year.

The country celebrates a holy year every 25 years in honor of St. James the Apostle. The decree affects political and criminal prisoners.

It was the 10th general amnesty ordered by Franco since 1945. The most recent one was April 1, 1965, which commemorated the 25th anniversary of the end of the Spanish Civil War which brought Franco to power.

Cuba's Guevara Seems Still in Favor

Ernesto (Che) Guevara, Cuba's No. 3 man who has not been seen publicly for four months, apparently still is in good favor.

The government indicated his retention of power in a government-controlled radio broadcast yesterday.

It said the next edition of Bohemia Magazine, the largest in Cuba, will contain an article by Guevara. The article will deal with the attack on the barracks at Santiago de Cuba on July 26, 1953, the start of Fidel Castro's revolution.

India's Shastri Changes Roles, No Longer a 'Political Softy'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has shocked his image of political softy and launched a shrewd backroom election maneuver.

His aim is to force a change in the bylaws of his ruling Congress party and stack the odds in his favor in time for general elections in 1967.

It now is clear Shastri likes being prime minister and will fight to hold the job.

SHASTRI'S MAN

Kamaraj is Shastri's man, a member of the powerful syndicate that put him in office and since has protected him against attacks from left and right.

The party leader is dedicated to arranging candidate lists in state party organizations to insure all-out support for Shastri.

Kamaraj wants Shastri men in Parliament in New Delhi because they will pick the new prime minister. Kamaraj wants other Shastri men in state legislatures to smooth the way for Shastri's policies.

However, party bylaws — as they now stand — dictate that Kamaraj retire in January, at the end of a two-year term.

Waiting to pick up the job is right-winger Morarji Desai, about the only possible challenger Shastri hasn't squelched in recent months.

If Desai or one of his supporters could seize the party presidency in Bangalore, he could build hot political fires under Shastri's dreams of more time at the top.

Shastri's technique is to get powerful party leaders together in small groups behind closed doors.

Shastri explains his recent decisions in both foreign and domestic affairs. There are comments and, often, criticisms.

But by the time the doors open, every party leader present is on record as endorsing, at least broadly, Shastri's policies.

Thus he has made it difficult for anyone to start a serious revolt when the question of by-laws comes up.

Gambling Joints Boom on Mississippi Coast

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Gambling may be illegal in Mississippi but it seems to be booming on the Gulf Coast along the resort strip between Gulfport and Biloxi.

Ex-Con Is Slain After Killing 2

Former Girlfriend, Companion Victims

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — An ex-convict killed two persons Wednesday night and was shot to death by police after his rifle jammed.

Two patrolmen responding to a call were only a block away when the two were slain.

Charles Belcher, 38, Madison, released only two days earlier from a jail term on a morals conviction, was killed by police gunfire.

Police said Belcher ambushed and killed a divorcee, Helen Vernig, 33, and her companion, Harold Koerner, 50, also of Madison, as they drove up in front of her home.

EX-BOYFRIEND

Belcher was described by friends as a jealous ex-boyfriend.

He was sighted hiding in bushes in the neighborhood.

Police said Belcher fled, then turned and aimed the rifle at officers who opened fire.

Police said Belcher's rifle jammed after the two shots that killed Mrs. Vernig and Koerner.

Rhino Flips Park Tourist

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Obongi, the semitame white rhino of Uganda's Murchison Falls National Park, has disgraced herself.

A party of tourists was petting her when one of the men turned his back. Sliding silently behind him, Obongi put her horn between his legs and threw him several yards.

He suffered only "minor" injuries, but his trousers were ruined, Parks Director F. X. Katete reported.

Agree Federal School Efforts Must Expand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Out of all the background papers, formal speeches, panel discussions and comments that made up the White House Conference on Education, one agreed opinion stood forth clearly today.

There is much that remains to be done in education, and the federal government must continue and expand its efforts to help.

President Johnson officially closed the two-day conference Wednesday when he told the 700 invited participants their discussions would be used "as the basis for the evolution of new programs, actions and legislative proposals — wherever such proposals are appropriate."

The conference touched on every aspect of education, from the linest tools to graduate students seeking their Ph.D.'s.

The areas of greatest concern were school desegregation, dropouts, the decline of the big city schools, and preschool programs for deprived children of the urban slums.

In all these areas, and in others, the federal government was asked to step up its efforts and its financial expenditures to get things moving.

Johnson told the conference participants — leaders in education, business, labor and government — "your concern and mine is how we can remedy the serious defects of our present system, and how we can equip it to meet the new challenges which are already engulfing our nation and our world."

He drew a lengthy round of applause when he declared, "We are busy catching up with past failures, and we do not intend to fall behind again."

"We are far too easily satisfied," Johnson said, "when we know that a child has a desk in a classroom and a teacher to instruct him."

"But it is what happens inside that classroom that is finally important. And far too often what does happen is sadly unequal to expectations."

'Swarmed Into Viet Camp'

Like Ants, GI Says of Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "It was like seeing ants on an anthill," said Sgt. Edward Chamberlain as he lay in his hospital bed.

The slender, blood 25-year-old from Watertown, N.Y., was describing the Viet Cong guerrillas who on Tuesday swarmed over the walls of the Vietnamese special forces camp at Bu Dop, 80 miles north of Saigon.

Chamberlain, one of six American Army advisers in the camp, was wounded in the right arm. The other five Americans were either killed or wounded and casualties among the 300 Vietnamese troops were described as heavy.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Vietnamese counted the bodies of 150 Viet Cong.

'FIRED ALL NIGHT'

"We fired all night long," said Chamberlain. "The Lord must have been with me that night." Chamberlain was on guard in the mess hall when the Communists opened the attack with mortars. He said the guerrillas were already in the camp by the time he got to a bunker.

"I wasn't scared until it was all over. Then I started shaking," he said.

Sgt. Willie Cheatham, 28, of Tampa, Fla., called the battle "five hours of hell." Cheatham was hit by submachine-gun fire. Two Americans with him were killed.

NO PLACE TO HIDE

"I had to watch for them behind me as well as in front of me," he said. "There was no place to hide. I was suddenly alone."

Cheatham, a husky man, said he first used an M79 grenade launcher, then switched to an automatic rifle to hold the guerrillas at bay.

"They moved toward the wall slowly and cautiously," he said. "Then they would charge and I'd open up on them."

"It looked to me like they were charging six at a time. We'd get one group of six and another was right behind them."

BROKE OFF ATTACK The Communists broke off the attack just before dawn when U.S. jet planes joined the battle.

Capt. Richard Nugent, 28, of Groveton, N.H., the commanding officer, was wounded by shrapnel in the first 10 minutes.

"I had to take 20 steps to get to a bunker," he said. "I was hit three more times before I could lie down and just wait there."

Make No Bones About It, Argentines Like Meat

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — Down here where the barbecue has been a way of life for more than 100 years they take an unimaginative approach to the serious business of eating meat. No hamburgers for instance.

When 10 Argentine couples gather at the old quinta for an asado — a barbecue at the weekend house in the country — the menu is something like this:

Four and one-half pounds of beef; 4½ pounds of flank beef; a little more than two pounds of matambre, which is a strip of meat cut off the ribs and rolled; three pounds of sweetbreads; three cow kidneys with fat; two pounds of chitlins or intestines; two pounds of blood pudding; and 20 sausages made of beef, pork and seasoning.

If the group is a bit hungry, the cook may throw in some sirloin steak and/or roast a kid, called chivito.

The gaucho or cowboy started this preoccupation with reducing the supply of cattle as rapidly as it might be cooked and eaten. It hasn't slowed down too much in a century or more.

BIT MORE SIMPLE
Of course, in the early days things were a bit more simple. The gauchos stopped on the pampa, and killed off the nearest cow.

With a bit of time and refinement, Argentine natives used iron standards or spits to hang their meat around the rim of a fire. Nearby was a kettle of water heated up for the bitter tea called yerba mate — pronounced ma-lay — which is sipped from a gourdlike container.

When the cook was ready, the gauchos pulled their daggers, pushed them in and out of the ground to clean the blades, sharpened them a bit with honing on the rope sole of their shoes, and whacked off a slice of meat.

One end went into the mouth. The dagger sliced it off close to, but, with luck, not including, the tip of the nose.

After wine grapes were imported and grown, the gaucho became one of the most enthusiastic drinkers of them all — 22.9 gallons per capita — washing down his beef with big draughts of the grape.

The Argentine wouldn't be caught putting something on the meat while it is cooking, but fancy sauces adorn the meat after it is served.

For a Creole sauce they put together four large green peppers, a medium onion, a big tomato, salt, oil, vinegar, white and red pepper and mustard. Part of the secret is not to allow any prospective guest see the ingredients. Otherwise they lose their nerve.

Argentines reduced their beef intake in 1964 — down to 132 pounds per capita. In 1963, each Argentine statistically ate 169.4 pounds. It was 243.10 pounds in 1956.

If you plan to drop down 6,000 miles to taste an Argentine asado, don't worry about a shortage of meat — even though the government has decreed two beefless days a week. The same government says the herds have been built back up to 42½ million head.

Of course, there are those who say government figures are wrong and that there are only 37 million head.

St. Johns Is Granted Urban Renewal Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $75,368 advance to St. Johns, Mich., was announced Wednesday by the Urban Renewal Administration. The money is for planning a 22-acre central business district urban renewal project. URA said it has earmarked a $1.4-million grant for the project in anticipation of a future application.

House Committee to Meet With Hatcher on U-M Tuition Hike

LANSING (AP) — A House committee will ask the University of Michigan Board of Regents Saturday to explain U-M's recently announced tuition increases of up to $100 for this fall.

Rep. Vincent Pettipren, D-Wayne, chairman of the House

Committee on Colleges and Universities, notified U-M President Harlan Hatcher Wednesday of plans for the meeting in Ann Arbor.

Pettipren called the tuition increase "sudden." He said he hoped other universities throughout the state would not consider the U-M action as opening the door to increase their tuition rates.

State Board of Education President Thomas Brennan and acting Superintendent of Public Instruction Alexander Klueter also will attend the meeting, Pettipren said.

He said the U-M move would strengthen his arguments for establishment of more junior colleges in Michigan.

The new U-M tuition schedule announced for this fall sets undergraduate rates at $348 a year for Michigan residents and $1,000 for out-of-state students.

Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency attacked the increase as having the effect of closing college doors to an even greater number of youngsters seeking a better education.

Gov. George Romney, without specifically agreeing or disagreeing with the tuition boost, has defended the U-M regents' right to take the action.

Michigan State University's board of trustees meets today to consider MSU's 1965-66 budget.

MSU now charges $324 a year for residents and $670 for non-residents.

Impact of Discipline Felt Through Life's Entirety

By United Press International

Discipline is and has always been a most important aspect of parent-child relationships.

It involves much more than punishments and rewards for various kinds of behavior. The way in which parents handle their children's behavior will often affect the way in which these children will act when they become adults.

There are two major kinds of discipline. The one most commonly used and understood is that kind which is required and enforced by an outside source.

The teacher, principal, policeman, and parent are usually the enforcers. They obtain good and proper behavior because the children do not wish to be punished.

This type of discipline works well when the enforcer is present. If the enforcer is not present, the child may or may not follow the rules.

ADULT DRIVER

It will depend upon whether or not he thinks he will be caught. It is similar to the adult driver who stays within the speeds when he thinks he will not be caught.

The other major kind of discipline can be called self-discipline.

It is the type which an individual imposes upon himself. If this can be properly achieved, it is obviously the more desirable and effective.

The individual who is self-disciplined does not require constant supervision. His behavior is acceptable in all situations. He tends to be a more responsible and dependable person.

FIRST STEP

How can parents help their child develop proper behavior patterns? The first step is to become aware of what behavior is reasonable to expect for their child.

This will depend upon his age, the neighborhood, and his present development. Do not expect a child to be perfect.

A group of children who are playing will not be quiet. They can be expected to avoid dangerous and wild actions. If you are having difficulty determining a standard, listen to a group of adults when they get together for a small party or discussion.

The next step is to make sure that the child knows what is expected of him and understands why. He will surely need reminders along the way. Children often forget when they are excited or involved in an interesting activity.

CONSISTENCY

Another important part of discipline, regardless of the type, is consistency. Do not keep changing requirements and standards. This will only confuse the child. If a change is needed, the child should know the reason.

Your child needs to know that you have confidence in him. Give him responsibility. Show that you trust him. This can be done by explaining what he should do and then permitting him to go off on his own.

Parents should not go to extremes. Remember that self-discipline is excellent but there is also a need for imposed discipline and the required supervision.

There are times when a child must be told that he is to do a particular thing simply because his parent is telling him to do so.

Doll Project Full-Time Job

Indian River Couple
Has $6,000 Display

INDIAN RIVER (AP)—"Let's make a collection of nun dolls." The suggestion followed a visit to a Philadelphia monastery three years ago and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Regalski have turned the idea into a collection of 320 dolls, valued at $6,000, which are displayed at the Indian River Catholic Shrine.

The shrine's pastor, Rev. James L. Jendrasak, calls the collection a significant contribution to Catholic Church history because of the sweeping changes in the church.

The Regalskis had no idea their project would become so extensive. They learned a representative doll from each of the Catholic religious communities in the United States would have to include nearly 300 dolls.

WRITE LETTERS

To start the collection, the Regalskis wrote nearly 1,000 letters to mothers, nuns and various orders to get authentic versions of habits worn by the nuns. Mrs. Regalski persuaded many of the orders to make their own authentic model dresses. Others supplied correct materials and designs for specific orders.

The project involved lengthy searches of novelty stores for miniature furniture, toys and material to compose the tableaux in which the dolls appear.

It also involved endless hours of carving chairs, pianos and hospital beds. This part of the project fell to Regalski who is as enthusiastic as his wife about the collection.

Mrs. Regalski quit her job as a sales clerk in a department store two years ago to devote full time to the project. And the couple spends every bit of vacation time Regalski can get from his job as a laboratory technician at the Saginaw Water Department calling at mother houses of dozens of orders.

The Regalskis are planning a similar project-dolls of the various orders of priests. This collection may be even more complete, depicting the priests in all phases of their daily activities, from celebrating Mass to coaching a high school basketball team.

State Man Reunited With French Bride

DETROIT (AP)—Beauteous Danielle Francoise Couture Poe stepped from an airliner into her American husband's arms Wednesday night, capping a flight from Italy.

Thus ended a forced separation of the newlyweds since last spring when Danielle's hubby, Harry C. Poe, 32, of Monroe, Mich., was tossed into a French jail.

The 18-year-old bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas Bonds of Mali, Africa, had Poe arrested on a kidnapping charge. Danielle said her mother objected to her marriage.

Dark-haired Danielle, a Eurasian with almond-shaped eyes, and Poe embraced at Detroit Metropolitan Airport before admiring spectators.

'POOLING HERSELF'

"My mother," said Danielle in a French accent, "is fooling herself. She just doesn't want to recognize my wedding."

The smiling Poe said he and Danielle would go to his home in Monroe for a brief visit and then they'll leave. "I don't know where. We'll just drive."

Poe, a Ford Motor Co. employee, and Danielle, a cousin of Gen. Duong Van Minh, former South Vietnamese leader, met last year at the University of Hawaii.

They married May 10 at San Remo, Italy, after a Riviera courtship. Then troubles began.

PUT IN JAIL
Poe was jailed at Nice, France, on his mother-in-law's kidnapping charge. A magistrate freed him 34 hours later. He and Danielle slipped back to Italy.

Poe's money ran out and he returned home to Michigan. U. S. Immigration regulations kept Danielle from accompanying him.

Rep. Weston E. Vivian, D-Mich., interceded. The red tape was cleared away. Danielle obtained a visa permitting her to come to America.

Bathers, Fish Flee Red Tide

Microscopic Plants Stain Coastal Waters

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The gonyaulax are proliferating again. In other words, the red tide is in.

California bathers are finding the sea stained dirty red. The ocean breeze is tainted with the odor of decay. Fish flee the stain or die.

But at night, the waters are a luminescent wonderland.

POPULATION BOOM

The gonyaulax are microscopic plants which, come summer, have a population explosion. Scientists don't know why. But they're planning to find out.

One theory is that deep ocean currents come to the surface, bringing up nutrients on which the plant life flourishes. Another is that the hot summer sun lures the plantlets to the surface and wind and currents concentrate them into small areas where they are more apparent.

From the air, the red masses are strikingly visible. There's a sharp dividing line between the water stained red and the water that's a normal blue-green — as though two cans of paint were being swirled. Streaks and patches of red sometimes extend miles seaward from the shore.

When it appears along a beach, it can change a pleasant strand overnight into something which looks like a Mississippi backwater. Only the least fastidious swimmers venture in. There's nothing dangerous to man in the red tide. But it looks and smells so bad that most bathers prefer to stay out.

UNLIKE OTHERS

Unlike red tides in other parts of the world, Southern California's does not produce a toxin.

It harms marine life by using up oxygen in the water and driving the fish away or suffocating them.

While the red tide is regarded as little more than a nuisance, scientists at Scripps Institution of Oceanography are planning to investigate it full-scale next year.

There has been concern that it could become a serious problem to fish and other marine life and experts seek a means of control.

CHEMICAL REACTION

The red tide's nighttime glow is caused by a chemical reaction similar to the one that makes a firefly shine.

Skin divers, who find their underwater visibility restricted, hate the red tide, and lobstermen don't like it either.

There are reports that the tide is so thick in parts of Baja California that the lobstermen crawl up on the rocks to gasp for air.

Questions, Answers on Government's Medicare Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are questions and answers on the two big new government health programs for the elderly in the Social Security-health care bill agreed on Wednesday by Senate-House conferees.

Q. I will soon be 65. What are the health programs in the bill which will affect me?

A. It contains a basic plan covering chiefly hospitalization and a voluntary supplemental plan paying mostly doctors' bills. You will be eligible for benefits under both when you become 65.

Q. How do I qualify under these plans?

A. You will be covered under the basic plan whether you have Social Security status or not. For the supplemental plan, you will be given the opportunity to enroll.

WHAT ARE BENEFITS?

Q. What are the benefits of the hospital plan?

A. The basic plan pays for 90 days of hospitalization during each spell of illness. It also offers up to 100 days of nursing home care after the hospital stay, outpatient hospital diagnostic services, and up to 100 home health visits after hospitalization.

Q. Is hospital treatment for mental illness included?

A. Yes, but with a lifetime limit of 180 days.

Q. How about the supplemental medical plan?

RANGE OF SERVICES

A. This pays for doctors' bills in the home, at the doctor's office, and in the hospital. In addition, it covers a range of services not paid for by the basic plan, including diagnostic X-ray and laboratory services outside the hospital, radium therapy, ambulance services, casts, braces, prosthetic devices, rental of iron lungs and oxygen tanks. Treatment outside of the hospital for mental or personality disorders would be limited in a year to $250 or 50 per cent of the expenses, whichever is smaller.

Q. What would I have to pay under these plans?

A. Under the basic plan, you would pay the first $40 cost of a hospital stay in each spell of illness. In addition, if your stay lasted longer than 60 days, you would pay $10 of the cost of hospitalization for each day beyond 60 up to a maximum of 30 additional days. For the outpatient hospital diagnostic services, you would pay the first $20 charge for tests during a 30-day period. You also would pay 20 per cent of the cost above the $20.

$3 A MONTH

Q. And the supplemental plan?

A. If you decide to enroll in this, you would pay $3 a month in premiums, to be matched by the federal government. It would be $6 a month for a couple. In addition, you would pay a $50 annual deductible on the total of bills covered by the plan and you would pay 20 per cent of the total charges above the $50.

Q. Are these figures permanent?

A. Not necessarily. The deductibles in the basic plan and the premiums in the voluntary plan could be raised in the future if medical costs increase.

EFFECTIVE DATE

Q. When do the plans take effect?

A. All of the benefits under the basic plan would begin July 1, 1966, except for nursing home care, which would start Jan. 1, 1967. The supplemental plan would begin July 1, 1966.

Q. What are the principal health costs which will not be covered by the health plans?

A. Drugs used outside the hospital, dental expenses including dentures, routine physicals, eyeglasses, and hearing aids. Despite these exclusions, however, the sponsors say the plans should cover about 80 per cent of the average medical costs of elderly persons.

SUPPLEMENTARY POLICIES

Q. Will it be possible to buy private insurance to pay for the items not included in the two government plans?

A. Health insurance industry officials say that almost certainly private firms will offer supplementary policies. These, they say, could cover the extra cost of private rooms, private nurses, additional days in the hospital, dentist bills, and out-of-hospital drugs. Meanwhile, of course, any elderly person holding a private health policy should continue it until the effective dates for the government program. He should consult with his insurance agent about the wisdom of continuing his policy or perhaps switching to a supplementary one after the federal benefits begin.

Q. Now that the conferees have agreed, what happens to the bill?

A. It goes back to the Senate and House. Both chambers are expected to vote final approval next week.

8 Arrested in Raids

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit and state police and Internal Revenue Service agents raided two private residences and arrested eight persons in breaking up an alleged $7,000-a-day betting ring Wednesday.

Church Filled for Rhee Rites

HONOLULU (AP) — More than 700 persons crowded into the 450-seat Korean Christian church Wednesday night for the funeral of Syngman Rhee, former president of the Republic of Korea.

Rhee's widow collapsed to one knee as she stood before the coffin but was kept from falling by her adopted son, Rhee In So, and the Korean consul, Se Won Kim, who caught her by the arms.

They helped her to her feet and she quickly regained her composure. She sat during the remainder of the services in a front pew immediately before the coffin.

Celebration in Farmington to Mark Quaker Heritage

FARMINGTON — Just as in days of yore, a horse-drawn carriage will arrive here next week to herald the start of a three-day festival.

The celebration is a special one — being staged to honor the Quakers who settled here 141 years ago.

Residents of both the city and the township have planned the activities to mark the designation of the community as the first Quaker settlement in Michigan.

The distinction was verified this year by the Michigan Historical Commission.

Arthur Power had a small group of pioneers here from Farmington, N. Y., in 1824.

WILL ARRIVE

Tracing their route, two modern-day natives of the New York community will arrive here July 29 at 11:30 a.m. in a vehicle reminiscent of the past.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Herendeen will fly to Detroit Wednesday night and be guests of the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Herendeen, a direct descendant of the founder of Farmington, N. Y., has held several civic offices there.

He and his wife will be picked up in the carriage July 29 and driven to the City-County Building, there to be greeted by Ed Carey, president of the Detroit Common Council.

NOON LUNCHEON

Upon their arrival here, the Herendeens will be guests of honor at a noon luncheon at the Botsford Inn, 2800 Grand River, Farmington Township.

Among those welcoming them will be Township Supervisor Curtis Hall and William Conroy, Farmington Board of Commerce chairman.

The New York couple will stay at the inn for the three days of the celebration.

Elks Lodge No. 1966 will hold its annual ox roast during the festival.

PREPARE SPIT

The Elks will gather to prepare the spit in the Farmington Downtown Center about 8 p.m. Wednesday. They will serve barbecued 24 hours a day while the celebration continues.

Activities for youngsters will begin Thursday morning. The Farmington YMCA will sponsor games and contests for children from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

The event will be held at Farmington High School July 29 and at North Farmington High School July 30.

The Farmington Plaza will be the scene of a "Then and Now" fashion show at 2 p.m. July 29. Members of the Farmington Players will be models in the show, sponsored by Harvi's Suburban Casuals.

FESTIVAL JUDGING

Final judging in the "Miss Founders Festival" will be conducted at 5 p.m. at Botsford Inn.

Competing for the title will be some 10 finalists picked at ter preliminary judging at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A motorcade from Botsford Inn to the City Hall will begin at 7:30 p.m. July 29.

The winner of the queen contest will be announced there during a program which will include a review of Farmington's history.

BAND CONCERT

Also scheduled for the program is a concert by the Franklin Community Band.

A program of silent movies entitled "Thirty Years of Comedy" will be shown at the Civic Theatre at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. July 30.

From 3 to 7 p.m., there will be a "Battle of the Bands" for teen-agers on the grounds of St. Francis Knights of Columbus Hall, 3100 Middle Rd.

Those interested in competing should contact Anthony Reda, 28248 Brookhill.

MUSICAL THEME

The musical theme will be continued in the 8 p.m. "Founders Follies — Then and Now" at Farmington Junior High School.

The Kendallarks, Sweet Adelines and other adult singing groups will be featured.

The Founders Festival parade will touch off activities July 31.

Forming at 9:30 a.m., the parade will begin an hour later at the Grand River Drive-In Theatre and proceed down Grand River to the City Hall.

WILL PARTICIPATE

Florets will include one for the queen and her court. Also to appear are the Chrysler Pipe Band and the Port Huron-Sarnia Pipe Band.

Sale and local officials will participate in the City Hall ceremony to be climaxed by the placing of a historical marker proclaiming Farmington as the state's first Quaker settlement.

Job's Daughter Bethel No. 55 will start its country fair at the Masonic Temple at noon. Included in the plans are a luncheon, bake sale, square dance and historical displays.

At 4 p.m., Founders Festival activities will move to the city park for a Little League minor all-star baseball game.

Farmington Jaycees will serve barbecued chicken from 5 to 8 p.m. in the park and at 6 p.m. there will be a concert by the Farmington Community Summer Band.

The Little League major all-star game will be at 8 p.m.

Farmer Offers Help, Is Ditched Himself

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — Three motorists whose cars had slid into a ditch awakened George Henshaw from a deep sleep one night and asked him for help.

He got all three of them out with his truck. After they had gone, Henshaw tried to turn around in the road only to have his vehicle slide into the same ditch.

Districts Seek School Merger

Units Act Now While They Have a Choice

Four primary school districts in Lapeer and St. Clair counties are seeking mergers with secondary school districts.

Lapeer County School Supt. Edward Lynch said the districts apparently are seeking mergers on their own for fear they won't have a choice later on under a school reorganization procedure which eventually will place all primary districts in a high school district.

School districts seeking annexations are the Gould School District in St. Clair County to the Almost School District; Dryden Center School District to Dryden School District; Rethersford School District to Almost; and Arkdale School District to Imlay City School District.

Gould and Dryden Center districts have been granted permission by the State Department of Public Instruction to hold an election.

Rethersford will hold an election Aug. 9, and Arkdale is waiting for permission from the Department of Public Instruction.

RESOLUTIONS

Voters in the district seeking annexation must approve three resolutions—one to become annexed, one to assume their share of the receiving district's bonded indebtedness and another to assume their share of the operational mileage above 15 miles.

Lynch said a vote must be held within 120 days of the date of the annexation resolution by the receiving district.

Report Head of Cattle on Feed July 1 in State

LANSING (AP) — Michigan feed lots had 110,000 head of cattle and calves on feed as of July 1, reports the Michigan Crop Reporting Service. The total was 10,000 head more than were on feed at the same date a year ago but was down 37,000 head from April 1, 1965.

In Holstein Competition

County Cattle Awards Given

Some of Oakland County's finest registered Holstein dairy cattle were assembled at the 4-H Fairgrounds in Pontiac yesterday for the annual county Black and White Show.

Ribbons and trophies were presented to nearly 40 entries in 17 classes.

The grand champion trophy, presented by Adolph Ziegler, president of the Oakland County Black and White Association, went to an aged cow owned by Keith Middleton of 2810 Stony Creek, Oakland Township.

Although she was chosen for confirmation, the grand champion last year compiled an outstanding production record of more than 17,000 pounds of milk containing 600 pounds of butterfat.

A seven-year-old, she is registered as Acrelawn Ace Fairy. She also took blue ribbons as senior champion female and aged cow.

FEMALE AWARD

The junior champion female award went to a senior yearling heifer owned by Ralph E. Smith of 4925 Sawmill Lake, Brandon Township.

Trophies for the show were provided by Greene Fenely Jr. of Pine Row Farm, Laura Turner of Devon Acres, the Longs of Commerce Township, W. F. Grayson, O. F. Foster, Hutch Farms and Keith Middleton.

Other top prize winners were: 4-H Fitting and Showing — Senior (14-21): John Middleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Middleton, first, and Neil Balke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Balke of 52730 W. Eight Mile, Lyon Township, second.

Junior (10-13): Claudia Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Carlos Long of 3988 Sleeth, Commerce Township, first, and Kathryn Smith, daughter of Mr.

Traffic Lights Confuse Him

GLASGOW, Ky. (AP) — Shortly after traffic lights were installed in Glasgow, an elderly farmer drove into town. He managed to drive through every red light before he was halted by a patrolman. "You folks oughta get them lights back in kilter," the farmer complained, beating the officer to the punch. "First they're one color, then they're another."

Burns Unpaid Tickets

MURFREESBORO, N.C. (AP) — When Raymond Mann was elevated to police chief in Murfreesboro, he reported that a number of unpaid parking tickets had accumulated. The Board of Commissioners, however, voted to clean the slate and suggested that, rather than collect for the unpaid tickets, he should burn them and begin anew a more rigid policy of enforcement.

Hitches Ride to Hitch Husband in Africa

BULAWAYO, Rhodesia (AP) — An attractive Los Angeles grandmother has set out on a 5,000-mile hitchhiking tour through Africa determined to find a husband.

Dark-haired Jean Davis has been lucky. She has had no fewer than four offers of marriage so far. But she turned them all down.

The hustle and bustle of big city life became too much for the former teacher. In October last year, she said, she sold an apartment building in Hollywood and bought an air ticket to Morocco.

Nine months and two pairs of shoes later she arrived in Bulawayo. Asked the purpose of her trek through Africa, Jean, who says she's "around 30," flashed a smile, and said: "I guess you might say I'm looking for a husband."

IN LIBERIA
Her first marriage proposal came from an African while she was in Liberia "but he wasn't very cultured," said Jean.

In Ghana, a Lebanese who already had two wives asked her to be his third.

"I refused because I didn't know whether I would be wife

No. 1 or wife No. 3. Anyway the python skin he said he would send my daughter if I accepted seemed a little on the cheap side."

Jeans also has had offers of marriage from an Afrikaner farmer in South Africa and a Moslem trader in Abidjan, the lively seaport capital of the Ivory Coast.

"I do hope I strike gold before I reach Egypt," she sighed. Her travels through the Dark Continent have taken Jean to see Dr. Albert Schweitzer at his hospital in Lamabarene, Gabon. She had to hire a dugout canoe to reach the remote area.

A tough South African officer fighting rebels in the Congo struck up a friendship with the hitchhiking grandmother and escorted her through rebel-held territory.

But the marathon journey has not been without misfortune. In Johannesburg, South Africa's biggest city, her purse, containing $150 was snatched by an African while she was walking in the street.

"I chased after him yelling 'Stop thief!' all the way. There were dozens of people around but they just ignored me. I was furious."

If she hasn't found the right man by the time she reaches Egypt on the return journey, Jean says she may embark on a hitchhiking tour through Europe.

Ramblers Winning Races, Riding High in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican-built Ramblers are among the best-selling cars in Mexico and you'd never guess why: They've been winning races.

The parent American Motors Corp. of Detroit has shied away from participation in racing while major competitors—Ford, Chrysler and General Motors—have been emphasizing speed cars.

But Mexican Rambler dealers disagree, and after private drivers won three races in a row in the Turismo Nacional category, they began backing the fans and they won four more — losing none.

After each race, advertisements appeared in newspapers and magazines and, as a result, the Rambler is becoming known in Mexico as a hardy racer. Production is now far behind demand.

COULD SELL MORE

"We could sell three times as many Ramblers as we are allowed to produce here," says Jose Collazo G., of Panamericana de Publicidad, which handles public relations for the company.

The producing company, known as Vam Vehiculos Automotores Mexicanos, S.S. is not openly backing the Rambler as a racing car.

But the Association Mexicana de Distribuidores Ramblers-Jeep, A.C. the Mexican Dealers Association consisting of 75 companies, is. And VAM is helping out behind the scenes.

VAM is a comparatively new company three years old, a merger of American Motors International, which sold Willys and Jeeps. VAM still sells Jeeps here, but about 70 per cent of its sales are Ramblers.

OFFICIAL QUOTA

Back in 1961, the Rambler company reportedly sold about 20 cars. This year it had an official quota of 7,200 and next year expects a quota of 10,000. Under a new Mexican law, all automobiles made and sold here must be at least 60 per cent Mexican-made parts. VAM says its 1965 Ramblers will comply with this requirement.

VAM has an assembly plant in Vallejo, on the outskirts of Mexico City, and a motor manufacturing plant in Lerma, near Toluca, which is fast becoming the Detroit of Mexico.

Ford, General Motors and Chrysler all have large plants here, as have some foreign companies. Big Three sales now exceed those of Rambler, and their official quotas are higher. But most are static while the Rambler is growing fast.

MOST CONVENTION

In fact, the Rambler in Mexico is becoming so important that the company's annual international convention will be held here Aug. 24-25, with about 200 dealers represented from many countries in the area.

But back to racing: Individual fans entered three races earlier this year with Ramblers, and won all three — the Costa a Costa, between Veracruz and Acapulco; the Premio Benito Juarez; and the Mexico-Puebla race.

Although outnumbered five to one, the Ramblers won. Drivers then turned to the association of dealers for help in later races. Impressed by the wins, the dealers got into the picture. They helped out financially and the private drivers then won four more races — the Mexico-Guerravaca, the Circuito Jardines del Country Club in Guadalajara, the Pachuca Hill Climb at Pachuca and recently the Circuito Zacatecan, in which five spectators were killed but not by Ramblers.

TOP POSITIONS

In the last three races, all three Ramblers entered finished one-to-three in their category.

The Ramblers are all 125-horsepower, standard two-and-four-door models, and are made in Mexico. Recent advertising emphasizes the motors. "The Heart of The Rambler."

Furthermore, they are comparatively low-priced by Mexican standards, selling for 36,000 pesos or around $2,800 each. Some other cars are around $5,000 pesos or more.

And Ramblers are winning in more things than races. In a recent elegance contest, a 1965 American Rambler hardtop won first place for looks.

A 1912 Rolls Royce won in the foreign-made old-time category. Want to know what the 1966 Ramblers will look like? Collazo says they will be unveiled first in Mexico, probably in October.

52 Have Died at Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — The West Berlin city government says that at least 52 persons fleeing East Germany have been killed since the Berlin wall went up Aug. 13, 1961.

The government said this was the confirmed toll. West Berlin police have said at least 65 may have been killed.

In addition, one West Berliner was shot and killed by Red guards as he was boasting along a border canal.

No figures were available on the number of refugees wounded by Red gunfire.

Manufacturer Expires

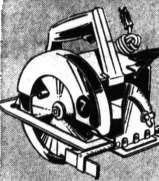

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — David W. Sowers, 88, a pioneer in the manufacture of gasoline engines and parts, died Wednesday. The Sowers Manufacturing Co., which he founded in 1910, produced engine parts and equipment for chemical companies.

Bill May Settle Question of Depreciation Tax Saving

LANSING (AP)—An 11-year battle over what constitutes business profit and what doesn't continued to rage in the capital Wednesday.

The fight, touched off by Congress in 1954, may be finished in Michigan by a bill under legislative consideration.

The measure was the subject of a hearing by the House General Taxation Committee, where representatives of business and the state agencies involved gave it their support.

It all started when Congress passed legislation allowing business to use a rapid depreciation system in writing off the book value of machinery, buildings and other equipment, instead of adjusting taxes each year over the life of the equipment.

The question since then has been: Does the tax money saved represent profit and corporation surplus?

The firms using the system argue that it does not, that some year the accelerated depreciation could catch up with them and they would owe more taxes. That is, there would be years in which they could claim no depreciation and their taxes would be proportionately higher.

While the firms involved claim that the money saved represents a future liability, owed to the federal government, the State Corporation and Securities Commission has been regarding it as surplus and charging the 5 mill corporation franchise fee on it.

The Michigan Public Service Commission regards the money saved as a liability. Although the funds are used for expansion, the regulated public utilities are not allowed to make any profit on facilities financed with the funds.

'HIDDEN TAX CUT'

Some state government sources, however, privately regard the 1954 congressional act as a "hidden tax cut," and the money saved as additional revenue.

C. R. Montgomery, vice president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., told the house committee the firm has paid $500,000 in corporation franchise fees under protest since 1954. Most of this was on the accelerated depreciation funds.

"We do not object to paying a franchise fee computed on the value of our property, but we do not feel that it should be computed on liabilities," he said.

The bill, tabled in the House last month after it passed the Senate, would exclude such funds from the computation of a firm's surplus. Estimates of its cost to the state range from $1.5 million to $2 million a year.

SUPPORTS BILL

Lenton Sculthorpe, chairman of the Corporation and Securities Commission, supported the bill. "We do not regard this bill as a cure-all," he said, "but it will grant relief in this area."

Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan said that although his office has argued on the side of the Corporation and Securities Commission in numerous court fights, the bill was regarded as constitutional.

On behalf of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, he said, "The interests of the state definitely will be served in some manner by clarifying the computation of corporation franchise fees."

Congress OKs Bills

To Pay Its Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has voted funds to operate itself during the year that began July 1.

Both houses acted quickly Wednesday on the final version of the bill, sending it to President Johnson. It provides $189,993,297 for the House and Senate and their subordinate agencies.

Five Waive Extradition in Slaying

MASON (AP)—Five migrant workers charged with first degree murder in a young Wisconsin farmer's slaying waived extradition Wednesday in a Michigan court.

District Atty. David H. Bennett of Wisconsin's Columbia County, here to take custody of the five, said they would be returned to Wisconsin probably today.

Bennett, who said he had been named special prosecutor in the case, declared the defendants would be brought before a magistrate in Wisconsin today "or Friday at the latest."

The five, lettuce field workers in this area, are accused of shooting to death 26-year-old Peter Stewart of Montello, Wis., last Friday night after dragging him from his car and beating him.

RESENTED OFFER

Wisconsin authorities said the group resented Stewart's offer of protection to a 16-year-old girl who complained the workers had bothered her.

Three other migrant workers were arrested in El Paso, Tex., in connection with the slaying. The five here were seized by sheriff's deputies at a migrant workers camp Tuesday night.

The five held here were Richard Costello, 19, Yuma, Ariz.; Jimmie Panyar, 20, Oakland, Calif.; and Carlo Dacia, 21, Avila, Ecuinora, 21, and Frederick A. Palafos, 27, all San Francisco. They appeared for their extradition hearing in the court of Circuit Judge Louis Coash of Ingham County. Afterward they were returned to the county jail here.

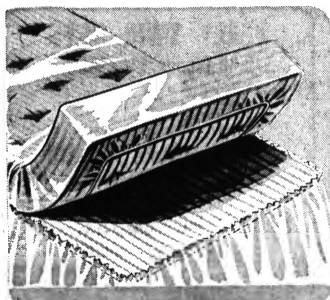

Bennett said other Wisconsin officers would join him here for the return of the five to that state. He said the trip would be made by car. He flew to Michigan Tuesday night from Madison after being informed of the arrests.

Romania Joins Industrial Age

Economy on the Rise in Balkan Country

WASHINGTON — A Romanian poet once described the people of his Balkan nation as "beggars sitting on a pile of gold."

The description is only partly correct. Industrialization has brought relative prosperity to the Communist-ruled country's 19 million people.

The wheels of industry have been turning so rapidly that Romania has one of the fastest growing economies in the world.

The death of President Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej, the nation's leader for 13 years, focused attention on Romania's progress since World War II.

Bucharest, a capital of outdoor cafes, broad boulevards, and flower-filled parks, has gone a long way toward reclaiming its title: Paris of the East, the National Geographic Society says.

BUILD RESORT

At Mamaia on the Black Sea, Romanians have built a resort that suggests Miami in looks as well as name. With 30 new glass-fronted hotels lining a broad sandy beach, Mamaia attracted sunbathers from 65 different nations last year.

Throughout Romania, modern houses and apartment blocks are replacing peasant-style cottages.

Even some rural villages share the benefits of progress: electricity and natural gas are supplanting kerosene lamps and straw burning stoves.

Romania's "pile of gold" has many elements. In the northern mountains of Transylvania lie rich deposits of uranium, copper, lead, zinc, gold, and silver. Natural gas reserves are among the world's largest.

BIG OIL OUTPUT

The Oregon-sized Balkan nation produces more oil than any European country except Russia.

a doctor for some months until he and his wife (right) arrived. On hand for welcoming ceremonies was Edgar Fisher (center), Virginia health official.

Island People Obtain Doctor

TANGIER ISLAND, Va. (AP) — It was safe to get sick on Tangier Island today, at last. For the first time in nine months, the tiny isle in Chesapeake Bay had a doctor — one who was "tired of resting."

"I'm ready to go to work," said Dr. Oscar M. Watson Jr., 54, who, with his wife, arrived Wednesday to minister to the medical needs of Tangier's 800 citizens.

Some 400 islanders, mostly women and children because the men were out tending the crab pots that earn them a living, gave the Watsons a rousing welcome.

"Thank God for Dr. and Mrs. Watson," said a banner on the side of the medical center, built for Dr. Watson's predecessor who left Tangier last November because of bad health.

NO DOCTOR

Since then, no doctor has been around to treat the sick. Emergency cases have been evacuated by helicopter to Maryland. Others made the trip to the Virginia shore by boat.

Watson and his wife, from Denver, Colo., decided to answer Tangier's call after hearing a radio appeal last February.

Watson, who suffers from a heart ailment, hopes to slow down a bit here.

He said he was "tired of traveling around and tired of resting. And I can see there's a lot to be done here."

But he added that when he shuttled across by boat to Tangier from Crisfield, Md., for his first look at the low-lying island recently, he wondered at the wisdom of his move.

"It looked like the jumping-off place. It looked like the end of the world," he said.

"But talking to the people changed things for me. It made me feel at home."

Mostly Fair Across U. S.

By The Associated Press

There were wet spots in scattered sections but generally fair weather prevailed in the major part of the nation today.

Heaviest rainfall during the night was nearly two inches at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. A funnel cloud was sighted in the Denver area and hailstones as large as golf balls pelted sections northwest of Denver.

The heat wave continued in the southern plains. Some parts of Texas have had no rain in a month. The mercury reached 101 at Wichita Falls, Tex., Wednesday.

As the hot air spread northward Wednesday, temperatures hit above 100 in South Dakota, with 103 reported at both Pierre and Philip. The Weather Bureau said temperatures in the central Canadian prairies were higher than in sections of Florida.

Italian Politics Mixed Like Minestrone

BY DICK WEST

United Press International
ROME, Italy — One of the first things that an American, particularly one from Washington, likes to do upon arriving in a foreign capital is get a briefing on the political situation.

I came to the Italian capital after spending two days in Florence looking at fashion shows, where I was completely out of my element.

When I asked a lady fashion expert for guidance, she told me: "No body understands women's fashions. If people understood them, there wouldn't be a fashion industry."

After that experience, I figured it would be nice to get back to something as simple and rational as politics. So I contacted an Italian political expert and requested that he give me a clear and concise picture of what was going on.

"I'll be happy to," he said. "There's really nothing to it. Just bear in mind that the government is in the hands of the Christian Democrats, who are allied with the Socialists, the Social Democrats and the Republicans."

"The Social Democrats are to the right of the Republicans, who are left of the Socialists. All of them are badly split."

"The Christian Democrats are practically everything."

Their candidates have ranged from a Sicilian, described by police as king of the Mafia, to a former mayor of Florence who talks to birds.

"Unlike the Socialists, Social Democrats and Republicans, who are badly split, the Christian Democrats are terribly split. They have up to nine factions, but since the members keep switching from one to another, it's difficult to pin down the exact number."

"Christian Democrats are only united in support of unpopular causes."

RARE DISPLAY

Right now, in a rare display of unity, they are defending a former minister accused of corruption in office.

"That takes care of the group. The out group is composed of the Communists and the proletarian Socialists, who broke with the in Socialists and are now almost more Communist than the Communists. Got it all straight?"

"Got it," I said, bolting for the door.

"Wait," He called. "This only covers the left-wing parties. On the right wing we have the Liberals, the Free Enterprisers, the Italian Social Movement and the Monarchists. All of them are badly split."

"The Liberals, who are ultraconservative, are..."

But I was out the door before he could finish.

Rio Hotel Left Holding OAS Bag

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — For the second time in three months the uncertainties of international diplomacy have left a Rio de Janeiro hotel holding the bag.

In the bag are 500 empty rooms, an empty convention hall, thousands of extra bottles of drinks, refrigerators full of extra food, and dozens of temporary employees.

The hotel is the Gloria, where the Organization of American States planned to hold an inter-American conference, first in May and then August. The meeting was postponed Wednesday for the second time because of the Dominican crisis.

Rio's tourist season was at its height in May and the hotel was able to fill 20 to 30 per cent of its rooms. But August is an off month for tourists.

BIG BUSINESS

The Gloria's managers expected to collect about $14,000 a day in room rents and about $1,700 a day for conference rooms. They also looked forward to a banquet business and overflow patronage of the hotel's restaurants and bars.

The Gloria, in downtown Rio far from Copacabana Beach, is primarily a convention hotel. It averages three conventions a month, and three had to be moved or canceled to make room for the inter-American meeting.

But where can you find another convention in 14 days?

Other hotels also are affected by the cancellation. Virtually every one in the city was booked solid for August because of the conference.

TONS OF DOCUMENTS

The postponement will be felt outside the hotel business. The foreign ministry had tons of documents ready for the visiting officials and newsmen. One Brazilian diplomat hurried back from a meeting in Geneva to open the press room.

Hundreds of airline reservations will be canceled.

Dozens of tourist buses had been chartered to show the delegates the sights of Rio and to transport them between outlying hotels and the Gloria.

A cable company official estimated his firm would have had at least $50,000 in business from the conference.

The conference may be scheduled again later this year, but it may have a hard time finding a home. By then Rio may be filled with tourists fleeing the northern winter.

Fast Action Saves Child

Fire men, Trainmen
Team in Emergency

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — One-month-old Renee Fortson is alive today after a wild ride to reach a doctor — aided by firemen with emergency oxygen equipment and trainmen who uncoupled a freight to let the car through.

Eileen Fortson noticed that Renee, only a month old, was gasping for breath Wednesday. When she was unable to clear the baby's throat, Mrs. Fortson called to a neighbor to drive them to a doctor's office in suburban Forest Park some miles away.

On the way, Renee began to turn blue. The neighbor, Mrs. Barbara Burrell, spotted a fire station and called for help. Firemen C. T. Kilgore and E. F. Bencke rushed out with the oxygen equipment, then placed the child in Kilgore's car to resume the race to the doctor's office.

Just before reaching their destination, the route was blocked by a slow-moving freight train. Kilgore summoned a brakeman with his horn and the train was stopped and uncoupled to let his car through.

BACK TO NORMAL

The doctor removed a mucous obstruction from the baby's throat and her breathing returned to normal.

Wednesday night, Mrs. Fortson said the doctor "told us there would have been no hope for Renee if she had not gotten the oxygen immediately."

Miss U.S.A. Makes 'Universe' Semis

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen beauty queens, with more confidence in cosmetics, gowns and hairdressers than old-fashioned good luck charms are semifinalists for the crown of Miss Universe.

The 15, chosen Wednesday night from the representatives of 56 countries, include Miss U.S.A. and Miss Greece, whose predecessor now holds the title. Among them are eight blondes and freckled, red-haired Miss Israel. The winner will be crowned Saturday night.

"I'd like to jump up and down and scream!" said Miss Israel, Alisa Panfil Sadeh. She ruffled her hair, threw her arms into the air and noted: "We're beautiful." She's a comic in the pages, a soldier at home.

Alisa threw away two luck charms given her as "no good."

SILVER MEDAL

Denmark's Jeanette Christensen, 18 last week, wore a silver medal from a friend around her neck, but said, "I don't think it helped me win."

Holland's Anna Schuit said she doesn't "believe in any kind of good luck charm. Silly things. But I must say I wasn't a bit optimistic."

Anna drove to a special hairdresser to have her blonde hair toned and set for the semifinals. She's shopping for a new evening gown as well.

Miss Philippines, Louise Vail Aurelio, 18-year-old softball star, forgot to shake her lucky bamboo sticks. "Too busy with the hair," she said.

TOMATO SOUP

Finland's Virpi Meitinen had only tomato soup for dinner, same reason: "Too busy with hair." On Virpi's wrist is a ring on a bracelet, "from a man in Finland."

Around Miss Canada's neck is a gold drop. Carol Tidey says, "He told me to keep it for good luck. He said it's a flame, so he'll always be in my heart."

Added to the list of unidentified "he's" is one that South Africa's Veronika Prigge planned to "write right away" and a half dozen that Miss U.S.A., Sue Ann Downey of Columbus, Ohio, said she "must remember to write."

For Miss Greece, Aspa The-

COSTUME WINNER—Miss U.S.A., Sue Ann Downey of Columbus, Ohio, carries away the best costume award she won at the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant last night in Miami Beach with a dress of red, white and blue stripes with a hoop skirt gathered close to the ankles. Miss Downey also was chosen one of the 15 semifinalists.

oligiotu, Brazil's blonde Maria de Andrade, Maria Ocampo of Colombia and Frieda Heller of Peru, the semifinalist berth was unexpected.

More so, they say, because their countries have held Miss Universe titles.

"I almost fell backward when they announced my name," said Miss Brazil. "I would be the third Miss Universe from Brazil."

Quietest of the 15 are Thailand's soft-spoken Apasara Hongsakula, and Miss Sweden, blue-eyed blonde Ingrid Norrman.

Jolliest is Australia's Pauline Vasey, a 5-foot-4 secretary who likes big steaks, the color pink, people, and American men. "This is a wonderful holiday," said Pauline, "and better I scoot, for we've got three days of work ahead of us, right?"

Judge Fines Himself for Traffic Violation

MCLESTER, Okla. (AP) — Daniel Boone passed a car illegally on the way to work. There was no accident and no police officers observed the violation. He continued on his way to work.

When he got to his office, however, Police Judge Daniel Boone fined himself $6 for the violation.

In Buying Mood, Report Shows

Consumers Ignore Bad News

ANN ARBOR (AP) — News from Viet Nam and recent fluctuations on Wall Street apparently have not significantly affected people's generally optimistic view that America is in an era of prosperity.

The latest quarterly survey by the Survey Research Center (SRC) of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research indicated that consumers seem confident that they are making headway financially despite these developments.

OPTIMISM SPREAD
The SRC Index of Consumer Sentiment showed minute improvement, but economists George Kalena and Eva L. Mueller, directors of the survey, said that "viewing the trend of the index since June 1964, one must conclude that optimism has spread during the past year."

The current level has been exceeded only in 1963. Much of the most recent change in the index is attributed to a widespread feeling that the business climate will be good over the next five years.

The report added that "a striking increase occurred during the past few months in the proportion of people who could recall favorable business news, and there is some decline in unfavorable news heard."

SMALL IMPORTANCE
News from Viet Nam has not contributed decisively to a change in economic expectations, the report emphasized.

Concerning Wall Street news, the SRC researchers found no difference in the attitudes expressed during the first part of May before the stock market decline and those expressed during the first half of June. People generally have few complaints about buying conditions and prices and "the opinion that this is a good time to buy strongly predominates," the report notes.

Nevertheless, the report stated, buying intentions for automobiles and major household goods have fallen below the June 1964 level.

EXCISE CUT
It pointed out, however, that "few people were aware of the excise tax cut pending at the time of the survey. Thus any stimulus which may come to auto buying from that source is by no means taken into account by the survey."

LONDON (AP) — Britain has decided to introduce drunk tests for drivers, Transport Minister Tom Fraser said Wednesday the law should be in operation early next year.

Fraser told a news conference four things remain to be decided: Whether the tests are to be by breath analysis or by analysis of blood or urine samples. Whether they should be made at the roadside or at a police station.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — President Charles Helou asked former Premier Rashid Karami today to form a new cabinet and Karami began consultations with political leaders.

Tie Arrested Cairo Editor to Smuggling

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Mustafa Amin, an influential Cairo newspaper editor arrested in Egypt last weekend, is being held in connection with a large currency smuggling operation, the newspaper Al Moharrer reported today.

Al Moharrer attributed the report to "usually informed sources" but gave no further details.

Amin, 52, editor and founder of the newspaper Akhbar El Youm, was arrested in Alexandria Saturday.

One unconfirmed report in Cairo said Amin was accused of passing information to U.S. authorities.

The U.S. State Department in Washington confirmed a report that an American Embassy official in Cairo was questioned in Alexandria by Egyptian police but said he was not detained.

LONDON (AP) — Britain has decided to introduce drunk tests for drivers, Transport Minister Tom Fraser said Wednesday the law should be in operation early next year.

Fraser told a news conference four things remain to be decided: Whether the tests are to be by breath analysis or by analysis of blood or urine samples.

Whether they should be made at the roadside or at a police station.

Premier Hussein Dewini resigned unexpectedly Tuesday.

Informants said Cuba has refused to enter such a pact unless the United States abandons its bases on Cuba's Guantanamo Bay, in Puerto Rico and in Trinidad.

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin police have stopped digging up a shipping company's yard in which they had been tipped they might find the body of Hitler's long-missing aide Martin Bormann.

West German Prosecutor Joachim Richter said there was no trace of two bodies a former mailman claimed were buried there.

There have been persistent reports that Bormann was killed trying to flee Berlin in final days of World War II. Other reports said he escaped to South America.

Tot Dies in Car Crash

GREENVILLE (AP) — Craig Johansen, 30-month-old son of Mrs. Carol Johansen, 32, of Greenville was killed Wednesday when the brakes failed on his mother's car and it collided with another auto, police said.

Greenville police said the car was traveling south on Highway 151 when the crash occurred.

David said Michigan had 56,618 traffic injuries through May, compared with 51,786 last year. There were 971 deaths as of Tuesday compared with 1,117 last year, he said. He said the total number of accidents increased from 108,467 to 125,047.

Car Injury Mishaps Up 10 Pct. in State

DETROIT (AP) — Injury accidents in Michigan automobile traffic increased approximately 10 per cent in the first five months this year while fatalities fell off in a greater proportion into July, State Police said Wednesday.

Commissioner Frederick E. Davis termed the rise in the injury accidents as compared with the first five months of last year, "alarming."

Junior Editors Quiz on SEA LEVEL

QUESTION: Is sea level high tide or low tide?

ANSWER: Sea level means the general level of the surface of the sea when it is perfectly calm. However, this level is not the same in all parts of the sea.

This is because of the pull of the moon on the sea, making the tides. At high tide, the level of the sea at that place will be higher than the level will be when it is low tide.

But scientists must have some agreement about what sea level is, because they use it in measuring things.

Alaska's Mt. McKinley, for example, is 20,320 feet above sea level while Death Valley, in California, is 282 feet below sea level.

Scientists arrive at sea level by using the average between high and low tide, taken from observations in many places.

Since sea shells are found near sea level, it has startled Jeanne and Joe to discover the sharp print of one in a rock high up on a mountain.

The explanation is that the rock was once mud at sea level, when millions of years ago, an island sea covered this area.

The prints of sea shells were preserved by the mud, which turned into rock. Later, that was lifted up as mountains arose, built by pressures expanding from the inside of the earth.

FOR YOU TO DO: Fill three glasses about a quarter full of water and another about three quarters. The first represents low tide, the second high tide. Now mix the two together in a pitcher and pour equal amounts into each glass. They will both be half full, representing sea level.

Huddling on the steps of Cranbrook's majestic Greek Theater, Denise McCormick, Ellwood Avenue, and Patricia Remez, Ogema Road, run through their lines for the summer theater school's "East O' the Sun, West O' the Moon," to be presented July 28-29 by the intermediate-junior divisions of youngsters 9-13. The dramatization was written by Carl G. Wonnberger, the school's director.

Randy Darwall of Birmingham, winner of Cranbrook's all-school art award, works intently with vibrant blues and yellows on a flat plugging the July 28-29 children's show. Junior performances of the summer theater will be followed by six more productions of senior plays early in August.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vandoren

Cranbrook Summer Theater School students this week heard the stage and film experiences of a special guest artist, Patricia Newhall, former Birmingham resident and theater school alumna, now a New York producer, director and actress. Above, Miss Newhall and instructor, William Hollingsworth, chat informally with a senior student group.

Lauds Summer Theatre

Actress Visits Cranbrook

By MARGARET BROWN

"What I've learned right here has been of THE greatest importance for all I've ever achieved in the theater."

So spoke Patricia Newhall, New York producer, director, actress, and Cranbrook Theater Summer School alumna, during a recent sentimental visit to Cranbrook.

The Pontiac Press this week covered rehearsals for the school's July 28-29 show "East O' the Sun West O' the Moon."

some of the more notable: "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "Streetcar Named Desire" and "Bell, Book and Candle."

Miss Newhall's film credits include "Trial by Fury" and numerous documentaries.

Her latest movie "Finnigan's Wake," filmed in New York and Ireland, is on its way to the Cannes Film Festival with the critics' stamp "Outstanding."

THEATRICAL RESTAURANT Returning to New York next week Miss Newhall will resume plans for a project she describes as "... a totally new concept of audience-performer identification: a theatrical restaurant."

Reluctant to divulge full details or the establishment's name, she explained, "It will be an exotic place, perhaps modeled after an oasis or sultan's palace. Walters will be performers, and the audience will become participants in the doings, exploring and inquiring on the set."

It is hoped that the restaurant will become a Broadway haunt for both the general public and theater people.

"It's always such a pleasure to come back to Cranbrook," said Miss Newhall as Mr. Wonnberger tucked her arm in his for a tour of summer theater activities on the lovely and lively campus.

Benefit Dinner Party Date Set by Auxiliary

An evening of fun open to the public is being sponsored by the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Auxiliary. The group will hold a New England lobster dinner July 30 at Bloomfield Open Hunt.

A "casual dress" social hour will start the evening's festivities at 7 p.m. Dinner, served buffet style at tables ringed the pool, will follow.

Bert D'jerkhs and his musicians will play during the dinner and for dancing later.

All proceeds of the party will be given to the building fund of the hospital.

Mrs. Frank B. Audette is chairman of the event, assisted by Mrs. Gail Smith.

Mrs. John S. Mahony and Mrs. Robert V. Daly are working on decorations.

GIVE CHECK

The auxiliary presented a check for $5,400 to the hospital on July 1 as part of their $27,000 pledge for a new gift shop in the new part of the hospital.

The group annually contributes $3,000 to the outpatient clinic, an activity they have supported for over 30 years.

Reservations for the dinner dance may be made with Mrs. Raymond Gagliardi, E. nd s-leigh Drive, or Mrs. Robert King Hall, Clifton Road, both of Birmingham.

If it rains, the party will take place indoors.

Clutching her script clipboard, Julie Chafets, Genesee Avenue, smiles for our photographer as her costume measurements are taken by Lisa Sundberg, Farmington. Julie is cast in Cranbrook Summer Theater School's annual children's show, the fantasy "East O' the Sun, West O' the Moon."

Town Hall Lists New Workers

Chairmen for the coming year were named at a Tuesday meeting of Pontiac Oakland Town Hall, Inc.

Mrs. William Furlong of Silver Sands Drive was hostess for the morning coffee.

Mrs. Lyman Hedden, vice president in charge of talent, presented a history of Town Hall and the purpose for its existence.

Named to work during the 1965-66 season were Mrs. Fred Coleman, Mrs. Eugene Wellman, Mrs. William H. Taylor Jr., Mrs. Joseph Bennett, Mrs. B. B. Roush and Mrs. Philip E. Rowston.

Mrs. Robert Nienstedt is secretary.

Tickets are still available for the coming season. Mrs. Andrew Gulsick, Mohawk Road is ticket chairman.

Milford Couple Exchange Vows

Residing in Milford after recent vows at West Highland Baptist Church are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Emmerick (the former Claudia Denise Farnham).

Parents of the couple are the Roger Farnhams and the Kenneth Emmericks, all of Milford.

After a reception for some 275 guests in the church's educational building, the couple left for a brief honeymoon.

With her silk peau de soie chapel train gown, the bride wore an illusion veil, secured by a rhinestone crown. Her bouquet was of carnations.

Normal Youngsters Learn How to Deal With Failure

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A "Heartbroken Mother" is crying because her 19-year-old son hated school, did not attend half his classes, and finally flunked out. "Where have we failed?" she asks you.

Maybe she should ask herself, as a parent, "To whom is a college education important?" Just because it is important to the parents, does that mean it must be important to their son?

It's time for parents to accept their youngsters for what they are. No wonder the boy didn't go to half his classes. He hated school.

It was HIS life, and his parents shouldn't have tried to live it for him.

I once heard of a youngster, attending college, who wasn't as brilliant as his college-educated parents. One day they came home and found their good-looking son with a bullet hole in his head.

Beside him was a suicide note which read, "I couldn't stand for you and Dad to see my grades."

BATON ROUGE READER DEAR READER: Excessive pressure for "good grades" when applied to emotionally unstable youngsters is dangerous and uncalled for.

Normal, healthy people learn to face and deal with failure from the time they're old enough to compete.

This problem calls for particulars, not generalizations.

DEAR ABBY: Our son married a girl from a small town near here and they live in a house which is just adequate for their needs.

When her parents come to town, they stay with her grandmother (her mother's mother), who has a widowed sister living with her.

They visit frequently and stay about a week each time. My question: When my daughter-in-law's parents are visiting and I invite them for dinner, must I invite the grandmother and her widowed sister, too?

Both "Grandma" and the sister are very hard-of-hearing and never wear their hearing aids, and it is anything but pleasant to be in their company when they are yelling at each other. I thank you.

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: Out of courtesy, and for the sake of family harmony, invite "Grandma" and her sister at least once during the guests' stay.

But it isn't necessary to include them every time. Especially since your daughter-in-law's parents visit frequently.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A. IN NEW BRITAIN": Yes, it's possible that your marriage counselor needs a marriage counselor.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

"Some of her natural skin color still shows through," comments Mrs. Jack Zimmerman of Detroit who teaches make-up classes at Cranbrook Summer Theater School. Suzanne Boschan, Huntington Woods, is student volunteer for the demonstration of aging a character. Classes in voice, diction, pantomime, dancing and directing also are offered senior students.

Fashion Editors Ignore Own Advice on Travel

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women Editor

FLORENCE, Italy — What fashion editors wear when they travel and what the travel wardrobe experts advise are not always the same.

For, as Mildred Whitaker, of San Antonio, Tex., observed, "I'd always read that for Europe a travel wardrobe should include at least half a dozen drip-dry blouses. I don't own a one."

"My wardrobe for the trip? A little bit of everything. A little cotton, a little wool, a little silk," said Miss Whitaker, who's with the San Antonio Express News.

DON SHIRTS

"I recommend that women traveling wear shirts," said Graydon Hearstall of Dallas, "you know... anything easy fitting and without a belt or tight waist. More comfortable. "Which is exactly what I'm NOT wearing."

Miss Hearstall, fashion editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, was crossing the Atlantic in a beige knit costume with straight skirt, three-quarter length coat, and beige and white print silk blouse. It was washable and non-wrinkle anyway, she said.

The two were among a group of U.S. Fashion Press flown here on a Braniff International Airlines Special to see the Florence Fall Fashion Collections and also preview the new stewardess and other airlines personnel uniforms designed by Emilio Pucci.

Other travel outfits of the editors included:

A white cotton brocade suit with black silk jersey blouse (not what the travel experts would recommend, but pretty), four beige knit dresses, all alike and all from Kimberly Knits, New York (travel experts would okay them), a sail and pepper tweed silk with brief jacket and sleeveless overblouse (okay), a suit of raw silk with narrow skirt and white V-necked blouse (not recommended, and the wearer said she hadn't had time to shop for anything else, but the suit bore the trip well), a black, skinny-shaped silk with brief sleeves and no collar (mine, and not comfortable for travel), and beige, raw silk slacks.

SMART IDEA

The slacks were Anita Colby's idea of what to wear for a long trip. Miss Colby, known as "the face" during her modeling heyday, and now in the perfume business, boarded the jet in New York in a black silk dress, with belt, changed into the slacks, and back out of them before landing in Florence. Smart traveling.

Hats? Spotted only one hatbox aboard. But Peg Zwickler of the Chicago Daily News had packed a celluloid-like visor with satin ribbon to tie around the head for a stylish way to protect the face from the sun. She'd also brought an Mary Stanyan of the San Francisco Examiner practiced what she preached — that a dark dress with bright-colored jacket traveled well because the jacket could be removed and kept free of wrinkles and even if the dark dress got creases, they'd not show. She wore a black linen dress with brief yellow jacket.

Said Mary Phillips, of Harpers Bazaar, "We ought to just shed all our clothes and travel in the body stocking." She wore a suit.

Miss Hearstall took one look at the whole group when it landed here and commented: "You know, I've been thinking. Fashion editors look just like everybody else when they travel... as if they'd just arrived at Ellis Island."

Shock Treatments

Changing Abnormalities

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE W-444: Harry G., aged 20, is the college student interested in writing a paper on sexual deviations.

Since homosexuality is such a widespread threat to the proper adult personality development, he wished to stress that subject.

"Dr. Crane," he added, "can an adult homosexual change into a normal personality and marry happily?"

Bluntly, the answer is "Yes."

But the victim must realize that his parents or teachers or other friends can't make the change for him.

He must resolutely have the desire to change, much as the chronic alcoholic also cannot be changed by his family and friends but must do the job himself.

Recently Doctors M. P. Feldman and M. F. MacCulloch in England, conducted a psychological experiment by which they helped "condition" the victims of homosexuality to an aversion toward their own sex.

It was an ingenious plan in which they flashed on a screen a picture of an attractive male.

The homosexual was provided with a switch by which to remove the photo of such sexual temptation.

ELECTRICAL SHOCK

If the victim does not remove the picture within 8 seconds, then he suffers an electrical shock, which links pain with his pleasurable contentment of the enticing male.

And he keeps on receiving the electrical shock till he does push the button and thus remove the picture from view. Sooner or later he thus learns to remove the picture before the 8-second time limit.

The photo of the attractive male thus becomes altered into a signal that a painful experience will follow, so this electrical shock helps make the viewing of an attractive male an unpleasant experience.

And to balance the situation, as soon as the previous homosexual victim presses the button and thus removes the photo of the attractive male, a picture of an attractive girl immediately flashes on the screen.

This is the standard method by which we train and retrain rats or guinea pigs, who are trying to learn a maze. We have found that if the rat gets an electrical shock when he enters the wrong alleys, he learns faster.

But we have also discovered that a combination of pain for the wrong plus pleasure for the right choice, will be still better in speeding up his learning.

Thus, a shock when the rat starts into the wrong alleys but a piece of cheese as a reward when he solves the maze, will give the best results.

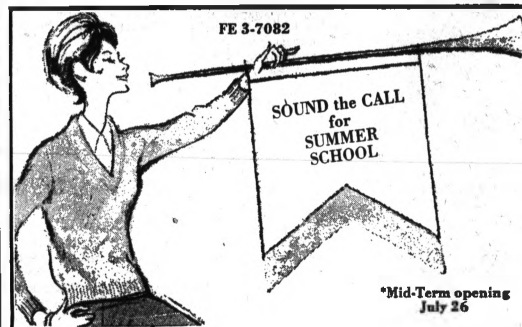

So this electrical shock device so cleverly arranged by the British doctors is right in line with the laws of the conditioned reflex.

However, if a homosexual will resolutely force himself to date a desirable girl and go through the romantic motions, he can also retrain his outlook until girls become very desirable romantic objects.

Adele Simpson's Fall 1965 autumn coat dress in Staron's "Pyrene," a yarn dyed silk and worsted fabric with a knitted look. The high shallow yoke is countered by a hipline seam which hold the gently gathered skirt.

SUMMER SCHOOL IS FOR YOU IF:

YOU WANT AN OFFICE JOB: Get a head start on a Secretarial, Accounting, Clerical, Business Administration, or Office Machines program.

YOU ARE GOING TO COLLEGE: The student who knows Speedwriting shorthand and Typing is way ahead. You can learn both this summer for accurate, complete note taking and for preparing college papers.

YOU ARE A COLLEGE GRADUATE: Office skills provide a means of getting a start in the field you prefer.

His and Her Checking Accounts Work

Consultant
in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:
My income as a teacher has just become part of our joint checking account. Now we find that we spend money more freely than before. So my husband and I are wondering if there's a suitable way to divide our responsibilities in paying the bills?

Should we have two checking accounts in order to manage better?

We are renters on a farm, and since our home is on the farm we pay no rent. We have had some very lean years, so when our children got to high school I resumed my former profession of teaching.

What we would like to know is: is there any separation of responsibilities, where budgeting is concerned, which should logically come under each of our two incomes?

What about major purchases such as appliances, furniture, etc? How about food, clothing, utilities, transportation, medical, benevolences, etc?

Or, should we just try to hold a little tighter on spending?

MRS. A. G., Earlville, Ill.
Dear Mrs. G.:

I'm a great advocate of His and Her checking accounts — plus one joint savings account. Couples should work together and plan together.

But it often turns out that if they "separate" on handling the daily issues in life, they're more truly together on the bigger problems.

Here's how you might set up a plan for His and Her financial responsibilities:

Under His obligations list: Utilities; insurance; doctor and dentist bills; education, car operating; his personal expenses including clothes, running money on the job; outside entertainment. Normally rent or mortgage payment would come under His, but in this case there isn't either one.

Now under Her (or yours, since we're getting personal about this):

Food; the children's clothes and yours; the children's allowances; gifts; church and other donations; your running money such as beauty shop, errands, utilities, transportation, medical, benevolences, etc; home entertainment; household operating.

Keep in mind that household operating includes cleaning supplies, small household replacements such as china and glassware, kitchen utensils, linens, the new pair of curtains, etc.

For major purchases such as a new washing machine and dryer, kitchen range, TV, car, or other vital emergencies, depend on your joint savings account. Of course, your joint savings should be a sacred obligation, and both of you should contribute to it regularly.

You should try to keep it healthy enough so that no one purchase would deplete it entirely.

Freedom from friction where daily bills are concerned is a great thing to strive for — and I hope you two can work it out.

Dear Mary Feeley:
My mother-in-law, aged 71, passed away last month. She was a widow receiving a social security pension of $66 a month for the last seven years. Now friends have said my husband, her sole heir, should get a funeral benefit of approximately $250 from social security.

I have heard of this before. If it applies to her, how do we go about collecting it? The money would help meet her debts which we have been paying for her for the last two years.

MRS. R. F., "Mid-West"

Dear Mrs. F.:

Was the social security pension your mother-in-law was drawing from her deceased husband's earnings? If so, no funeral benefits would be available. However, if she had her own social security number and the $66 was from her own account, there would be such funds.

Ask your local social security office to help you find out the facts.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenward Miles of Renfreu Street, Orion Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vivian Delores to Harry E. Stevens, West Pine Tree Street, also of Orion Township. He is the son of Mrs. P. H. Stevens of Milwaukee, Wis., and the late Mr. Stevens. October 23 vows will be taken.

Questions Affection in Public

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: In this era of changing times, is it considered good form to display one's affection in public?

A: For some time now I have noticed an increasing number of people greet each other with much affection — embraces and kisses — when meeting in public places such as hotel lobbies, restaurants, on the streets, etc.

I have always felt that this was in very bad taste. Are there not other ways to show affection and at the same time maintain dignity and propriety?

May I please have your opinion on this?

A: A single quick kiss on the cheek as a gesture of greeting or good-bye, is quite proper; but any conspicuous display of affection in public is indeed in very bad taste.

BEREAVED FRIEND

Q: The mother of a friend of mine died two weeks ago. This friend will be having a birthday in a few days and I would like to know if it would be proper to send her a birthday card.

I always have in the past but am wondering since it is so soon after her mother's death, if it would be in bad taste to send one to her this year. Please advise me.

A: There is no reason why you may not remember your friend's birthday by sending her a card.

However, one reading "Thinking of you on your birthday" or something similar would be more suitable than one reading "Happy Birthday."

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Pockets Will Be Passe by 2000, Says Designer

What will men's clothes look like 35 years hence in the 21st Century?

One expert, Frank Toscani, chief designer for H. Daroff & Sons, Inc., the nation's largest manufacturer of men's apparel, believes that modern technology and common sense will dictate clothing of the future.

Technology will provide the fabrics and thermal concepts — principles which will assure perfect comfort in a single weight suit in hottest heat and coldest cold. Common sense will demand elimination of unnecessary frills. By the year 2000, lapels, buttons on sleeves, trouser cuffs and all pockets will probably be extinct.

A tiny electronic identification and credit device will make carrying cash and, therefore, pockets, passe. Handkerchiefs? By that time we may have conquered the common cold, sinusitis and hay fever.

Look for big changes in materials. The Daroff people, who started their business back in the 19th Century, already are working on a glass fiber suit that, won't need cleaning or pressing. More fabrics will be synthesized from elements in the air and underground. Disposability will be the norm. The man who travels will buy shirts, socks, underwear and ties (if they still exist), use them once and throw them away.

Styling will accentuate the active life. Completely new sleeve and back treatment will make the suit a flattering protector of looks and comfort. Zippers and buttons, hooks and snaps, will become antiques. These new closures will never wear out, jam, or become unsewn.

What men wear, Daroff experts believe, will tend in the 21st Century to identify their way of life. Today's teen-agers and college undergraduates can be spotted by the clothes they wear. In the 2000's, identification of nearly all business, professional and labor groups by their attire seems a firm possibility.

Oct. 2 vows are being planned by Kathleen Ann Burton and Dale Gregory Heck. The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Burton and the Milton W. Hecks, all of Orionville.

Chicken Casserole Is Great Picnic Fare

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Mrs. Charles Brown sends us a recipe she says is great for a picnic because it carries well and takes very little time to prepare.
Mrs. Brown is program chairman for both the Fashionette Club and the Sylvan Manor branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.
CHICKEN CASSEROLE
By Mrs. Charles Brown
1 1/2 cups raw rice

- 1 envelope onion soup mix
- 1 can condensed cream of chicken soup
- 2 soup cans water or chicken broth
- 1 fryer-broiler, cut up
- 1/2 stick margarine
- Mix first four ingredients together and place in casserole. Place chicken on rice. Melt margarine and pour over chicken.
- Bake on lower rack of oven 1 1/2 hours at 300 degrees. Makes 4-6 servings, depending on size of chicken.

About 5,875,000 tons of plastics were produced in the United States last year, 10.6 per cent higher than in 1963.

American food-for-peace commodities were received by 100 million persons in 70 countries last year.

The children of the Bert A. McKeachies of White Lake Road, White Lake Township, will honor their parents at an open house celebrating the couple's 50th wedding anniversary. The White Lake Presbyterian Church will be the scene Sunday from 2-5 p. m. The four McKeachie children are Wilbert of Dexter; Mrs. William Doerner of Wilmington, Del.; Duane of Flint; and Melvin of Ashland, Ohio. There are 10 grandchildren.

Annual Week

College Calls to Women

Oakland County homemakers are going back to college for four special days at Michigan State University next week, along with over 1000 Michigan women.

College Week for Women, a Cooperative Extension Service sponsored event, is held each year to give women a chance to gain knowledge to improve the quality of living in the home, the community and the world.

It is one more way to provide an informal adult educational program for Michigan residents.

is awarded to a homemaker who desires to attend and meets the requirements of the award.

WILL ATTEND
Attending from Oakland County in addition to Mrs. Sparks are: Mrs. Robert Purley, Utica; Mrs. Victor Veltrino, Mrs. Ervin Holthaus, Mrs. Thomas Ressler, Mrs. Charles Dill and Mrs. Herman Trost, all of Troy.

Others include Mrs. S. J.

Berglund of Birmingham, Mrs. Kerry M. Keely of Franklin, Margaret J. Figgins of Orchard Lake and Mrs. L. R. Nelson of Walled Lake.

Going from Wixom is Mrs. Berle Dean, president of the county Cooperative Extension Council.

Still others are Mrs. Harold Rouse of Davisburg, Mrs. Walter Andrews of Holly, Mrs. Kenneth Gilboe, Patricia McCandless and Mrs. William J. Tberg all of Pontiac.

Be Comfortable Driving

"With a little planning, a girl can be comfortable while driving, and still look her best at all times," according to travel expert Helen Smith, currently touring with her husband John for the Mobil Travel Guide.

Helen, who estimates that she spent about five months out of 1964 traveling by car and bus, has listed the following tips for her fellow travelers:

CLOTHES
The most comfortable shoes for driving are flats — loafers or slippers, not thong sandals which may slip off your feet. But do carry a pair of dress shoes in the car so you can slip into them if you want to go into a restaurant in a city.

Whether you are in the driver's seat or just a passenger, you will want to guard against clothes that wrinkle. Helen recommends wash and wear suits of the new wrinkle-resistant blends. And, she warns, the skirt shouldn't be too tight.

If the weather gets warm, you can slip out of the jacket, and extra blouses for a change of costume are easy to pack. Also, keep handy a dressy over-blouse, and quick as a wink you are ready for a dress-up luncheon or a cocktail date.

It is also helpful to keep a moist wash cloth wrapped in a plastic bag in the glove compartment of the car. This takes care of sticky fingers from snacks along the way, and in hot weather, just to be able to wipe your face and hands is refreshing.

BIG HANDBAG
Make-up, an extra pair of stockings, a rain hood . . . in the lady's handbag. Helen always carries a very large one in the car.

A white Chantilly lace over taffeta gown was worn by Penelope Leigh Myers recently when she used Airmen J.C. Michael P. Bray, The Free Methodist Church in Drayton Heights was the setting when Rev. Thomas Dunn officiated. Her illusion veil was held in place by a pearl tiara. A white satin Bible held red roses with feathered carnation streamers. Parents of the neilyweds are the Vernils Myers of Giddings Road and Mrs. Van Hall of Independence Township and Flomie Bray of Malden, Mo. The couple has left for California.

Polly's Pointers

Make Purse Pocket

DEAR POLLY — Often we girls want a purse to match just one costume so do not wish to pay a big price for it.

Some of these cheaper purses do not have pockets in them. I solved this inside pocket problem by buying at the dime store a plastic pocket insert which men use to hold pens and pencils in the pocket of a coat or shirt.

I closed the hook ends of two drapery hooks so tightly they will just allow a key ring or chain to be inserted. I used the pins on these hooks to hold the pocket by each corner to the purse lining.

It holds pen, lipstick or whatever and is a convenient place to hang my car and door keys. I pinned the pocket as low as I could so I also have a place behind the pocket for small papers, notes, etc.

This is so convenient I enjoy using it more than an expensive purse that came with pockets.—ANNIE

DEAR POLLY—Empty pickle jars often are used for jelly and preserve jars when we can at home.

To get the green color and any odor out of the lid lay it in the sunlight for a day and it will come out white as snow.—ANNA

JOSEPHINE LOMMAN

Here's how to feel younger rather than older after a weekend houseparty.

This is the time of year when that great institution, the weekend house guest, gets into full swing. Some folks are getting ready to pick up that weekend-in-the-country invitation which was issued last Christmas while others are packing to leave the country for a weekend in the city.

Everyone is looking forward to a pleasant time.

Through observation, experience and listening to many conversations, I have come to some conclusions. All hostesses want their guests to be comfortable and have fun.

I think the number one requirement to be a good hostess is to be relaxed. If you are relaxed your guests will be too.

Of course I emphasize this because I am a genius when it comes to relaxing. It comes naturally.

However this does not mean that a lot of planning and thought does not precede the visit. Plan menus ahead of time and get all the necessary foodstuffs in the house before your guests arrive. Many desserts and jellied concoctions and dips can be prepared days ahead of time. Some smart hostesses I know prepare main dishes beforehand and freeze them.

The important thing is to be able to enjoy your guests. Breakfast is always tricky. Many people would much prefer to sleep late rather than get up early for a large breakfast.

Don't be afraid to make house rules. This will relax your friends and you. Tell them they will have to be ready by 9 o'clock for a real breakfast but that toast and juice and coffee will be available at any time.

Such simple thoughts make a big difference.

Plan one or two special activities but don't overcrowd the weekend with engagements. Leave your guests some free time, especially if you live in the country and they live in the city.

They may long for time to lie in the sun, to take a nap, or a walk, to play a game of tennis, to look at the trees, to relax!

Tell your future guests ahead of time what kind of clothes they will need, for instance, sneakers for tennis, a bathing suit, a fancy dress for a party or a coat for cool evenings.

See that adequate drawer and closet space is available and that there is room in the bathroom for toilet articles. A forgetful guest will bless you if you put a new tube of toothpaste and a new toothbrush, some tissues and a comb in the bathroom.

NO SQUABBLING

If you are a compulsive housekeeper try to curb the urge to whisk away barely used ash trays, to plump pillows constantly, or straighten objects which are a bit out of line.

This does not reflect a care-free mood.

Impress your family with a "no squabbling" rule. Your guests don't expect you to be perfect but they came to relax, not referee.

If you have no help and your guests offer to help you, let them, but with easier things like setting the table or arranging the flowers, not with baby sitting or washing the pots and pans.

HAPPY WEEKENDS!

Dianna Lee Black of Murphy Avenue became the bride of James Douglas MacLachlan of West Huron Street at a recent ceremony in St. Benedict's Church. Rev. Richard Thomas officiated at the evening ceremony for the couple whose parents are the Stanley Jaminakis of Detroit and the late Mr. and Mrs. Lachlan MacLachlan. The bride was gowned in silk organza with an appliqued overskirt. Her bouffant veil cascaded from a pearl and lace pillbox and she carried white carnations and pink rosebuds around a cymbidium orchid. The couple left on a northern honeymoon following the church parlors reception.

Cedar Scented

To keep the inside of a stored suitcase fresh and clean-smelling, place cedar shavings or cedar scented drawer paper in it.

Reverse Board

When ironing large flat pieces, turn your ironing board around so that the iron rests on the narrow end. It gives you more ironing space for such articles.

Salads Can Make a Meal Better

PONTIAC PRESS Food Editor

With all the wonderful fresh vegetables and fruits available at this time of year, it is easy to overbuy. I do it regularly—especially when I take a Saturday morning trip to the local farmers' market.

This brings me to the subject of salads and some new recipes for same.

Salads can be the appetizer course of the meal, a side course with the meat, the main course itself, a separate course or even dessert.

Guacamole Salad can be served as a first course. Cottage cheese is combined with bits of avocado and tomato, then spooned into cups of the same. Serve with corn chips.

GUACAMOLE SALAD
2 avocados, halved and pitted
2 tomatoes, halved
1-2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice

1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1-2 teaspoons chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups large curd cottage cheese, drained if necessary
Salad greens

Scoop out avocados and tomatoes, turning tomatoes upside-down to drain. Cut avocado meat into 1/4-inch cubes and sprinkle with lemon or lime juice. Dice tomato pulp into 1/4-inch cubes and add to avocado; chill.

Meanwhile, mix onion, chili powder and salt into cottage cheese. Shortly before serving, drain avocado and tomato; fold into cottage cheese mixture. Spoon into tomato and avocado shells. Arrange on greens. Makes 8 servings.

Note: To serve as a dip, use avocado for shells and serve with corn chips. Dice 1 whole tomato (instead of 2) for the cottage cheese mixture.

Instead of a fish salad for Friday, how about a very special macaroni salad? This one is unusual because it contains mushrooms.

GARDEN STYLE MACARONI SALAD
4 oz. elbow macaroni
1 can (3 oz.) broiled mushroom crowns, quartered, or sliced broiled mushrooms
1/4 cup bottled thickened French dressing
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/4 teaspoon dill weed
1/4 teaspoon mayonnaise
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 cup sliced radishes
1/4 cup thin cucumber slices, quartered

1/4 cup chopped green pepper
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water according to package directions. Drain. Rinse under cold water and drain again.

Drain mushrooms, reserving broth for use in soup, sauce or gravy. Combine warm macaroni, mushrooms, French dressing, onion and dill weed. Cover and chill several hours.

Blend mayonnaise, sour cream and lemon juice. Stir into macaroni mixture. Add radishes, cucumber and green pepper. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Green salad goes with almost any menu. This one has a tasty blue cheese dressing that's a bit out of the ordinary.

DESERT GOLD SALAD
1 head western iceberg lettuce
1/4 cup safflower oil
2 cloves garlic, quartered
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup crumbled blue cheese
2 teaspoons crushed tarragon
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons Worcestershire
1 teaspoon dry vermouth
1/4 cup chopped chives or green onions
3 strips bacon, cut up and fried crisp

Pimiento strips
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Cory lettuce, rinse in cold water; drain well. Place in plastic bag or transparent plastic film. Refrigerate until ready to use.

Combine safflower oil and garlic in jar; chill an hour or so. Discard garlic; gradually beat oil into egg. Blend in cheese, tarragon, salt, lemon juice, Worcestershire and vermouth. Chill dressing.

Tear lettuce into bowl; toss with chives; bacon and dressing. Garnish with pimiento and egg slices. Makes 7 servings.

Coffee Break Is Cool Respite

Summer is still the relaxing season when people feel free to stop by for coffee, knowing the hostess won't feel compelled to offer fancy refreshment. In these warm months, the coffee served is likely to be iced, just as easy to fix on the spur-of-the-moment as hot coffee.

Whether you use instant coffee, or regular coffee poured over coffee ice cubes, you can fix a pitcherful in minutes.

Iced Coffee, Instant Refresh
To make six big glasses the instant way, take six level measuring tablespoons of instant coffee powder, or decaffeinated instant coffee powder, four measuring cups of water, and plenty of ice.

First, measure the coffee powder into a pitcher and add one cup of warm water. Stir until the coffee dissolves. Now, add three cups cold water and stir again.

Chill the beverage with plenty of ice and pour into six tall glasses, each with its generous share of ice.

The second method requires a bit of advance preparation. At breakfast, make a little extra coffee, then pour the cooled coffee into your refrigerator ice tray and quick-freeze it, turning the controls up high.

At serving time, simply brew regular coffee and pour it over the coffee ice cubes. The melting ice adds flavor rather than diluting the coffee.

Stuff Franks With Cheeses for Kabobs

Anxious to move your meal-getting routine to the outdoors? Whether it be to the patio, park bench, or campsite—Cheesy Frank Kabobs are the tasteful way to set off that picnic spirit.

Tender, plump, and juicy pieces of frank stuffed with a nippy cheese mixture and wrapped in half strips of bacon are alternated with green pepper strips on a skewer to form each kabob.

Cheesy Frank Kabobs
1 pound package franks
3 ounce package cream cheese
1 tablespoon crumbled blue cheese
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
10 slices bacon
Green pepper strips
Parkerhouse rolls
Cut franks in half crosswise. Slit franks lengthwise to about 1/4 inch from each end.

Combine softened cream cheese, blue cheese, onion, mustard, and horseradish. Stuff each frank with cheese mixture. Cut each bacon slice in half.

Wrap a half slice of bacon in spiral fashion around each frank; fastening the ends with wooden picks. Alternate franks and green pepper pieces on skewers.

Broil 3 inches from coals, turning to brown evenly. Cook about 15 to 20 minutes, or until bacon is crisp. Tuck into heated Parkerhouse rolls and serve hot. Makes 10 servings.

Fantan Rolls Excellent to Serve With Salad

Savory Pineapple Fantans make elegant hot weather lunching with a generous green salad. Separate layers of 12 brown 'n' serve fantan rolls.

Stuff with a drained 8-ounce can crushed pineapple mixed with 1 cup grated cheddar cheese and 4 crumbled cooked bacon strips. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 10 minutes.

Sweeten ice coffee with a non-caloric sweetener, or a simple sugar syrup, made by boiling and stirring together equal quantities of sugar and water for about seven minutes.

With cool drinks, it's nice to have salty nibblers around. Favorites that never go out of style are cereal nibbles, fun to make and absolutely delectable to eat.

Cereal Nibbles
1 lb. butter or margarine
2 garlic cloves
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/4 box bite-size shredded rice biscuits
1/4 box bite-size shredded wheat biscuits

1/4 box ready-to-eat oat cereal
1/4 box or 1 small box pretzel sticks
1 can (4 1/2 oz.) salted peanuts
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon onion salt
2 teaspoons seasoned salt

Melt butter; add garlic cloves. Cook over low heat 10 minutes (do not let butter brown). Remove garlic; add Worcestershire sauce.

Mix cereals, pretzel sticks and peanuts in large, shallow baking pan. Pour butter over cereal mixture. Toast at 250 degrees for 30 minutes, stirring often.

Combine salts; sprinkle over cereal mixture, blending well. When cool, store in tightly covered containers.

SOUP'S ON—Girl Scouts are having one giant 10-day cookout during the fourth National Girl Scout Senior Round-up at Farragut, Idaho, now in progress. Over 1,000 fires are burning for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Canned soup is a favorite convenience food because it eases preparation and cooking time. The young chefs will use 23,300 cans of soup during the event. From the left are Ashby Watson and Limmy Perkins, both of Petersburg, Va.; Diana Greaves, South Cass Lake Road and Nancy Putnam, Marietta, Ohio.

Top Lettuce With Mixture

It takes no time to whip up a batch of "Egg and Olive Dressing" for warm-weather salads. The olives are dark and handsome ripe olives, cut into small wedges and contributing a pleasant nut-like flavor to this tasty salad dressing.

Egg and Olive Dressing
1/4 cup ripe olives

1 hard-cooked egg
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup catsup
1/4 cup well drained sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Cut olives into small wedges. Chop egg. Mix all ingredients. Serve over crisp lettuce rafts or mixed vegetable salads. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Too Calorific? Live It Up!

The old-fashioned banana split is back again this summer with some new flourishes. So if you are not counting calories but just out for fun, then read on.

This modern version adds pineapple and a butterscotch sauce. It's really a production and will delight both the young and the young in heart.

Butterscotch Banana Boats
Ripe bananas
Vanilla, chocolate and coffee ice cream
Pineapple chunks or crushed pineapple
Butterscotch Sauce
Whipped cream
Maraschino cherries

For each serving, split banana lengthwise and place in banana split dish. Place scoops of vanilla, chocolate, and coffee ice cream on banana. Add pineapple.

Drizzle with plenty of Butterscotch Sauce. Add whipped cream and a cherry to each cream mound.

Butterscotch Sauce
1/4 cup evaporated milk
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch flavored morsels
Heat evaporated milk in small saucepan; stir to boiling; remove from heat. Add butterscotch morsels and stir until butterscotch morsels and mixture is smooth. Serve hot or cold. About 1 cup.

GUACAMOLE SALAD

PAN-FRIED TROUT — Whether some member of the family catches it, or you purchase the fish, trout is a treat to lovers of fish. Cooking it is a simple process; pan-frying is the usual method.

Pan Fried Trout Is Fine Eating

Gastronomes the world over agree that trout are the aristocrats of the fresh-water fish family. Not only are they beautiful, but the succulent buttery meat of trout is perfection itself.

Simplicity is the rule for trout cookery; they need little in the way of embellishment. Pan-frying is preferred by many, although trout may be baked, broiled or poached.

Any small trout measuring 8 to 12 inches may be pan-fried. These are usually served whole with head and tail intact.

Plan on at least one fish per person; two or three if the fish are small and appetites big.

Pan-Fried Trout
Wash and dry trout. Rub lemon juice into the cavity of the trout. Season cavity with salt and freshly ground black pepper. Dip fish into mixture of beaten egg and water (or milk).

Grate lemon rind and mix with finely crushed corn flakes. Roll fish in this mixture. (Cracker meal can be used but the cornflake crumbs give the trout a delicious golden texture.)

Fry trout in a mixture of half vegetable oil (or shortening) and butter. Mixture should cover about half the trout and should be hot but not smoking. Do not overcook.

When golden brown turn with a spatula only once. Cooking time depends on size of the fish. Garnish cooked trout with parsley and serve with lemon quarter dipped in paprika.

Dessert Mix a Base for Crimson Salad

"There's nothing new under the sun" is never so true as when we start on that summer-salad hunt. There are just so many fruits and so many vegetables . . . and they've been combined in salads in every possible way. So, what to do! Here's a tip.

Add bright ruby-red color and tangy-sweet flavor to your salad with canned or frozen cranberry-orange relish. This one uses strawberry-flavored

Cranberry Frozen Fruit Salad
1 package (3½ ounces) strawberry flavored whipped dessert mix
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup cold milk
½ cup cold water
½ cup cranberry-orange relish
1 cup diced peeled bananas
½ cup finely chopped nuts

Combine dessert mix and sugar. Add milk and whip until mixture is very thick. Add cold water and whip for 3 minutes or until mixture is smooth and slightly thickened. Chill 10 minutes.

Fold in remaining ingredients. Spoon mixture into 6 individual molds; freeze until firm. Loosen edges with a sharp knife, unmold and serve on a bed of salad greens with mayonnaise and additional cranberry-orange relish, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Warmth of Hands Will Mold Dough

If you've used a spoon or a pastry blender with which to mix a rich shortbread-type cookie dough, and the mixture won't hold together, work it with your hands. The warmth from your fingers will help mold the dough before rolling out.

Use a light hand when you are scoring the fat on a ham — the cuts should be no more than ¼ to ½ inch deep.

Lemon Flavors Pie Crust

Here's a pie recipe that's just as cool and refreshing as can be. It combines the goodness of a lemon meringue pie with a delightful cheese flavor. Finishing touch for the pie is its meringue, which is folded into the filling instead of being baked on top.

Lemon Cheese Pie

1 (8- or 9-inch) baked lemon-flavored pie shell
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup corn starch
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup water

½ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
Combine ¼ cup sugar, corn starch, egg yolks and water in saucepan. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat until mixture comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Gradually blend into cream cheese.

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Gradually add ¼ cup sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold into lemon-cheese mixture. Turn into pie shell. Chill. Makes 1 (8- or 9-inch) pie.

To Prepare Lemon-Flavored Pie Shell: Follow favorite recipe for single crust, adding ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind to flour and substituting lemon juice for water.

Flour or Crumbs

The crumb topping on coffee cake may be made with either flour or fine dry bread crumbs plus butter or margarine and sugar.

Chocolate Cake Is Base for Dessert

For an unusual — and unusually good — shortcake, serve "Chocolate Peach Shortcake." It's a dessert that will especially please fanciers of chocolate and canned cling peaches.

Chocolate Peach Shortcake

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ cups sugar
¼ cup cocoa
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 egg
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
¼ cup salad oil

1 teaspoon vanilla
1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) cling peach slices
1 cup whipped sweetened cream

Sift flour, sugar, cocoa, salt and soda together 3 times. Beat egg lightly; beat in milk, oil and vanilla. Combine egg mixture with flour mixture; beat thoroughly.

Turn into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven about 40 minutes. Cool. Cut into 9 squares; split each square crosswise.

Drain peaches; arrange between cake halves. Top shortcake with dab whipped cream.

2 Texas Coeds Still Missing — AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Coeds missing today for two University of Texas coeds missing for three days.

A search began Wednesday after two dozen dresses and other clothing identified as theirs were found in a ditch beside a northeast Austin street.

The missing girls, both brunettes and 21, are Susan Rigby and Shirley Ann Stark from Dallas. They are sorority sisters.

Police found their yellow sports car parked about 10 blocks from an apartment where Miss Rigby planned to live while attending summer classes.

Romney Signs Bill for Saginaw College — LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today signed a bill creating Saginaw Bay State College — the state's 11th tax-supported institution of higher learning.

The long-sought school is the first created by state law since Grand Valley College in 1960.

Broomfield Emphasizes Danger From Indonesia — WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak, said Wednesday he fears the United States and its allies face another crisis in Southeast Asia which eventually could be more dangerous to the free world than the conflict in Viet Nam.

Ever since the creation of the independent nation of Malaysia, Broomfield said in a prepared House speech, Indonesia, led by President Sukarno, has been waging a constant campaign of subversion against its relatively weak neighbor.

"The last thing we need is another Viet Nam," said Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. "But we are going to get it unless we are extremely careful."

Broomfield said he helped amend the foreign aid bill two years ago to cut off further U.S. aid to Indonesia unless the president deems that such aid is in the best interests of the United States.

"Foreign aid to Indonesia was stopped, both military and economic," Broomfield said.

1,501 Area Pupils Accepted by OCC — A total of 1,501 students who graduated from Oakland County public high schools last month have been accepted for admission to Oakland Community College.

This includes 74 students from Pontiac Northern and 99 from Pontiac Central, registrar Philip Conklin said today.

In addition, 10 students from St. Frederick's and four from Emmanuel Christian have been enrolled.

Area Youths Hurt in Crash — Two youths were injured early today when their car left Avon Road in Avon Township and overturned in a ditch.

The driver, Gerald R. Fosdick, 20, of 1505 Snell, Oakland Township, and Stanley J. Duibel, 20, of Warren are in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with lacerations.

Sheriff deputies said the 12:15 a.m. accident occurred on a curve a half mile east of John R.

37 Burma Rebels Die — RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Burmese troops killed 37 rebels in the past week in continuing operations against local Communist outlaws and dissident tribesmen, the government announced today.

Retirees Plan Baseball Day

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Roving U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman arrived here today from Moscow where two rounds of talks with Premier Alexei N. Kossygin apparently failed to bridge the Russians from their tough stand on Viet Nam.

Harriman was conferring today with Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak before going on to Bonn tonight for talks with West German officials. He was expected to explain U.S. policy in Viet Nam and possibly the implication of his Moscow mission.

2 Texas Coeds Still Missing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Coeds missing today for two University of Texas coeds missing for three days.

A search began Wednesday after two dozen dresses and other clothing identified as theirs were found in a ditch beside a northeast Austin street.

The missing girls, both brunettes and 21, are Susan Rigby and Shirley Ann Stark from Dallas. They are sorority sisters.

Romney Signs Bill for Saginaw College

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today signed a bill creating Saginaw Bay State College — the state's 11th tax-supported institution of higher learning.

The long-sought school is the first created by state law since Grand Valley College in 1960.

Broomfield Emphasizes Danger From Indonesia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Royal Oak, said Wednesday he fears the United States and its allies face another crisis in Southeast Asia which eventually could be more dangerous to the free world than the conflict in Viet Nam.

Ever since the creation of the independent nation of Malaysia, Broomfield said in a prepared House speech, Indonesia, led by President Sukarno, has been waging a constant campaign of subversion against its relatively weak neighbor.

"The last thing we need is another Viet Nam," said Broomfield, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. "But we are going to get it unless we are extremely careful."

Broomfield said he helped amend the foreign aid bill two years ago to cut off further U.S. aid to Indonesia unless the president deems that such aid is in the best interests of the United States.

"Foreign aid to Indonesia was stopped, both military and economic," Broomfield said.

1,501 Area Pupils Accepted by OCC

A total of 1,501 students who graduated from Oakland County public high schools last month have been accepted for admission to Oakland Community College.

This includes 74 students from Pontiac Northern and 99 from Pontiac Central, registrar Philip Conklin said today.

Area Youths Hurt in Crash

Two youths were injured early today when their car left Avon Road in Avon Township and overturned in a ditch.

The driver, Gerald R. Fosdick, 20, of 1505 Snell, Oakland Township, and Stanley J. Duibel, 20, of Warren are in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with lacerations.

Sheriff deputies said the 12:15 a.m. accident occurred on a curve a half mile east of John R.

37 Burma Rebels Die

It's Great to Be Back After 3 Months in S. Viet Nam

By HAL BOYLE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — America, I love you. It's a wonderful feeling to be back home after nearly three months of reporting the war in South Viet Nam.

BOYLE

You want to turn a hand-spring in the street, kiss every pretty girl you meet, lap up every malted milk in town. But the most glorious thing of all is the wonderful taste of fresh water that you don't have to boil before drinking.

I guess that, aside from the presence of his loved ones, the thing a fellow unconsciously misses most in Viet Nam is the flavor of safe, honest water, drunk straight from the faucet. It's a pleasure to hold up a glass of it and just look at it.

When I mentioned this to a bartender at the airport, he replied: "Well, have another glass of it on the house. But if everybody had wild ideas like that, guys like me would all be out of work."

STORE WINDOWS

Another thing that hits you when you return to America are the store windows. You feel like a kid in a candy store. There usually isn't much worthwhile to spend your money in a war zone, and you build up a mad desire to buy something — anything.

San Francisco is one of the best cities of the world for window shopping. After an hour of it — thank heaven the fine shops were all closed at that hour — I entered a drugstore and after staring at all the displays finally made a purchase. I bought a pocket comb, an item I could have bought at a hundred street stands in Saigon.

When the clerk charged me a sales tax, I really felt I was in the land of the free. There's nothing more American than paying some kind of a tax — not even blueberry pie.

An odd thing was that crossing an American street gave me a feeling of nervous uncertainty. There is nothing more chaotic than traffic in the Far East, but there are a few big cars over there, and they don't come at you so quickly.

UNFORGETTABLE

It's great to be back in a country that has a change of climate and never runs out of ice cubes, but there are a few things about Viet Nam I'll never forget.

Such as: The handless beggar in Saigon who held up both arms and said bitterly, "You don't like see." The persistence of street money changers who follow you for blocks. Fearfully tasting your first Vietnamese meal, and finding you liked it. The welcome shining in children's faces, and the half-masked hate of the outsider occasionally showing in the faces of their parents.

The hidden tension among Americans after a terrific bombing. Rising in a triad at dusk under the peaceful flame trees in Da Nang. Watching air-dropped flares falling at midnight like man-made stars. Waking in darkness and wondering if distant explosions were theirs or ours.

Climbing into a plane as a crew member matter-of-factly points out the patches on wings and tail where bullets came through. Flying over endless stretches of green jungle which a fellow reporter aptly described as "the cauliflower sea." Barbecuing steaks at the "Doom Club" at the Da Nang air base with joking pilots, some of whom you knew might never make it home.

But what must linger longest in the memory of anyone who goes to Viet Nam is the idealism of the American men who are serving there. The United States has never sent better-trained, more dedicated sons anywhere, and it brings a soreness to the heart to realize that the ordeal of the duty they are doing so well can only deepen in the hard months ahead.

State Health Official Resigns His Post

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The resignation of Robert M. Brown, chief of the State Health Department Bureau of Environmental Hygiene, was announced Wednesday. Dr. William J. Peeples, health commissioner, said Brown will leave his job in September to accept a key position in the National Sanitation Foundation, located at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

Try Telephone for Politician

Dems, GOP Employ Recording Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — A "dial-a-politician" service has been thrown open to the public. Call any hour of the day or night, and you may hear President Johnson's voice at the other end. Or if you dial the Republicans, you'll get the views of three or four GOP members of Congress or party leaders.

But there's no talking back. It's all done by tape recording.

INITIAL PURPOSE

The initial purpose of the service operated separately by both parties was to provide radio and television stations with comment to record and play back on news broadcasts.

At first, only the stations were given the phone numbers.

But now anyone may dial. For example, if you called the Democrats today, you could hear brief excerpts of speeches by Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey at a White House education conference, and a bit of the speech by Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor at the opening of the department's fair employment exhibit.

BLASTS PROGRAM

Republicans were presenting statements by four GOP congressmen: by Rep. William H. Ayres of Ohio, attacking the administration's antipoverty program; by Rep. Catherine May of Washington, accusing the radio and television networks of refusing to give Republicans equal time; by Sen. George Murphy of California, urging the liberation of captive nations; and by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont in favor of a water bill he is sponsoring.

The GOP says the service is aimed at "balancing the heavy flow of news from the White House, the administration, the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic congressional campaign."

The Democrats say the GOP tape service "just doesn't cover enough legitimate news."

The Democrats change their tapes daily at 5 p.m. — "unless some big news breaks." The Republicans bring in a fresh batch of tapes daily at 4 p.m. Both parties feature special weekend commentaries.

MONITOR CALLS

Do the Democrats and Republicans monitor each other. GOP — "I am sure they do."

Democrat — "Once in a while. We know they monitor us."

Here are the telephone numbers: Democrats — area code 202, telephone 333-6260.

Republicans — area code 202, telephone 544-7272.

KID KLANSMAN—A 4-month-old boy was taken to the Ku Klux Klan rally in Cross Roads, Miss., yesterday dressed in appropriate attire. He was identified only as "the Little Rebel." It is presumed he wears "three-cornered" pants and sleeps in a "krib."

Ex-Ohio Senator Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert J. Bulkley, 84, former Democratic senator and representative from Ohio, died Wednesday. Bulkley served two terms in the House, 1910-1914, and was elected to the Senate in 1930 to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Theodore Burton. He was elected in 1932 to a six-year term to the Senate.

Up to History to Judge Merit of Morse's Viet Views

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If the judgment of history is that the United States should have stayed out of Viet Nam, then the unquestioned retroactive hero of the 1960s will be Wayne Lyman Morse, Democratic senator from Oregon.

Almost daily since early 1963, Morse has taken the Senate floor to oppose the U.S. role in Southeast Asia.

He has, at times, been the only Senate voice raised against the administrative policy, and the only "no" vote on resolutions expressing a vote of confidence in the President.

And his opposition has not been temperate. He has referred repeatedly to the "unjustified slaughter" of American boys in Asia and has termed the Vietnamese fighting as "undeclared and unconstitutional and illegal war."

The only time Morse has found himself in complete agreement with his party's policy was during the two years he was the leader and, indeed, the only member of the Independent party of America.

Morse, who was elected to the Senate as a Republican in 1944, formed his own one-man party in 1952 when he became disillusioned with the presidential campaign of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and withdrew from the Republican party.

For two years, he listed himself as an independent and made three-to-four-hour speeches in the Senate which he described as a report to the people on the views of the independent party.

It was during that period that he became known to Senate employees as the "five o'clock shadow," because his long orations, made usually in an empty chamber, invariably took place at the close of business in the late afternoon.

The nickname has remained with him, largely because he never lost the habit of late afternoon speeches.

Since 1954, Morse has been a Democrat, but his party allegiance apparently has made no difference to Oregon voters who have given him the same sizable majorities since his switch.

Morse is 85. He was born and educated in Wisconsin, and moved to Oregon as an assistant law professor in 1929. Only two years later, when he was 21, he was made dean of the University of Oregon Law School. He remained there until he came to the Senate in 1944.

He is average-sized, and his dress is immaculate to the point of being dapper. Another nickname, the "gray ghost," comes from his partiality to gray suits and shirts which blend curiously with his gray hair, bristly gray eyebrows and neat gray moustache.

His voice is high-pitched and rather flat, so his long speeches have an almost hypnotic drone except when he deliberately chooses to raise his voice or change the pitch.

When he begins one of his really long speeches — 10-hour orations are not too unusual, and his record is 22 hours, 28 minutes — he saves his voice by speaking so low that his words do not carry to the press gallery just above him.

Morse is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on inter-American affairs. As such, he opposed the U.S. intervention in the Dominican revolt, although he approved the initial decision to send in troops to protect U.S. citizens and property.

At the same time, however, he is a strong and consistent supporter of the President on all liberal domestic issues and his strong championship of the underprivileged, particularly in the nation's capital, is well known.

He is a member of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia, and is a familiar figure touring slum areas, visiting the city's schools and playgrounds, and fighting vigorously for liberalized welfare programs.

Several years ago, a former employee wrote a book about Morse called "Tiger in the Senate." This prompted his third nickname—"tiger."

The book was not wholly favorable, but it did faithfully chronicle Morse's tireless efforts to enforce strict legality of procedure and precedent.

No procedural shortcuts are allowed—or even suggested—if Morse is involved. In fact, he has been known to find violations where none exist.

During recent Senate debate he made the point of order that Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., who held the floor, was not speaking from his own seat.

The presiding officer said that there was no requirement in the rules that a senator must speak from his desk, but Morse replied: "It is a bad practice."

All-Stars Rich in Quarterbacks

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Otto Graham is like the little old lady in the shoe. He has so many good quarterbacks for the College All-Star football game with the National Football League champion Cleveland Browns Aug. 6 that he doesn't know what to do.

Graham, in his eighth All-Star stand against the NFL champions in the midsummer classic at Chicago's Soldier Field, has to choose between John Huarte of Notre Dame, Roger Staubach of Navy, Bob Timberlake of Michigan and Craig Morton of California.

"Which one do I start," was the question Brown posed Thursday at the All-Star camp at Northwestern University.

The quarterback that starts is the big gamble in our strategy," said Graham.

GET CHANCE

"That starter must be given a good chance, even if he gets off badly. Then, if you put in another quarterback, you have to wait to see if he can do a good job. If you need to try a third man or a fourth man the game may be over before you give them a chance to prove they should have started in the first place."

Graham is certain that he has the receivers to do the job, provided his beefy offensive forwards can give proper protection to his passing quarterbacks.

"We have four receivers as good as, or better than, any I have had in my past seven All-Star games."

LPGA Has Warm-Up

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A pre-camp event Thursday will be the warm-up for the Ladies Professional Golf Association's first tournament tour visit to Cincinnati — a 54-hole, $10,000 affair running Friday through Sunday.

Star assignments," said Graham.

He referred to Fred Bilekinnoff of Florida State; Jack Snow, Huarte's target at Notre Dame last season; Olympic sprint champion Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, and Lance Rentzel of Oklahoma.

Although the pros hold a 19-9-2 edge in the series sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Graham's know-how in the play-for-pay game has made the college players far less than sitting ducks in recent games.

In 1963, his All-Stars upset the mighty Green Bay Packers 20-17. Last year, they gave the Chicago Bears a scare before losing 28-17.

AERIAL ARTISTS—There's no shortage of passers in the college All-star camp which is working out at Evanston, Ill., for the Cleveland Browns. The All-Stars will meet the Browns in the August 6th game in Chicago. Left to right are Bob Timberlake of Michigan, John Huarte of Notre Dame, Craig Morton of California and Roger Staubach of Navy. Coach Otto Graham is undecided which of the four will start against the Browns.

Twins Belt Boston, 8-6 and 11-8

Slugger Killebrew Has a New Look

By The Associated Press

Harrison Killebrew, who is in a class by himself as far as the Minnesota Twins are concerned, is trying to step in a class with Babe Ruth.

But he may have to hit less to do it.

Killebrew, who has hit at a .371 clip during July, stroked six hits in seven at bats Wednesday night as the Twins protected their 3 1/2-game American League lead by walloping Boston in both ends of a double-header 8-6 and 11-8.

But only one of Killebrew's hits went for a homer, and strange as it may seem, the statistics show the Minnesota strongboy with his best batting average in the last four years while he is in danger of losing his home run crown for the first time during that period.

HOMER TOTALS

Killebrew, trying to become the first player besides Ruth in the last 50 years to win the American League homer title four consecutive years, has produced homer totals of 48, 45 and 49 the last three years. His top batting average for that period was last season's .270.

Now he's hitting at a .383 clip but has only 13 homers, four behind front-running Willie Horton of Detroit, and could dip below the 40-homer level when the club was based in Washington.

Horton, meanwhile, broke a tie for the homer lead with Cleveland's Rocky Colavito as the Tigers downed the Indians 10-5 and 2-1, sweeping a double-header for the first time in 11 tries this season.

Elsewhere, Baltimore took over second place by sweeping Kansas City 1-0 and 9-2, the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 7-6 in 10 innings and the Los Angeles Angels mopped Washington 2-0, also in 10 innings.

Killebrew, who drove in five runs while scoring six in the twilight, and Earl Battey each drove in two runs for the Twins in the opener while Tony Oliva collected five straight hits. Jim Kaat got the victory for a 9-8 rout despite lasting only five

Entry Deadline Near for Novice Swimming Meet

Next Monday is the deadline for entries in the Novice Swim Meet at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville on Wednesday, July 28.

The 24-event meet is open to boys and girls, ages eight through 14, who have never placed first, second or third in the event for which they are registering. Last year over 200 youngsters competed.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the pool office, 17845 Savage Road, Belleville. There are no entry fees.

First Round is Tied in Manitoba Tourney

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — Dayton Olson of Minneapolis, Mo. Norman of Toronto and Wilf Homeniuk of Winnipeg tied for the first round lead Wednesday in the Manitoba Open Golf Championship. Each shot two-under-par 68s over the 6,244-yard Elmhurst Country Club course.

Olson, who won the 54-hole tournament in 1963, scored an eagle on the par 5 18th hole to complete a 36-32 round over the par 35-35 course. Norman and Homeniuk each put together rounds of 34-34.

Seasoned Netter Has Lost 'Waving Waddy'

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — The last time Australian tennis star Roy Emerson was in Pennsylvania, he had, by his own admission, "the waving waddy."

"That's an Australian expression for a shaking racket—one that trembles with fear," he said Wednesday at the Merion Cricket Club.

Emerson's nervousness is easily understandable. He was only 22 at the time and playing in the Davis Cup Interzone matches in Philadelphia.

Now he is a seasoned 28, winner of the U.S. and Wimbledon Championships. And as he advanced into the quarter-final round of the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championship Wednesday, there was no evidence of a "waving waddy."

TRAILS BRIEFLY

After trailing briefly in the first set 1-3, he rallied to defeat Rodney Mandelstam of Johannesburg, South Africa, 6-3, 6-2.

His fellow countryman, Fred Stolle, also advanced, defeating Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis, 6-2, 7-5.

They were joined in the quarter-finals by Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., ranked No. 5.

11 Innings in 'A' League

No-Hit Game Spoiled

A two-out single in the 11th inning spoiled Don Picmann's bid for a no-hitter last night as he pitched Huron-Airway to a 1-0 victory in 11 innings over C.I.O. No. 59.

For nine and two-thirds innings, Picmann kept the bats of C.I.O. silent, but his teammates couldn't push across a run against Rick Goldworthy.

In the 10th, C.I.O. shortstop Gene Lappino, facing Picmann for the fourth time in the game, stroked a single to spell the no-hit bid. Picmann fanned Jerry Ryan to end the 10th, but his no-hitter was gone.

Huron-Airway came up with its lone run in the top of the 11th frame on walks to Chan Simmonds and John Lucadam, a sacrifice by Mike Marcum and an infield grounder off the bat of Bob Rabaja.

Lucadam batted for Picmann in the 11th and Tom Walters pitched the 11th an det C.I.O.

Ailing Dickinson Fires 66 in Pro-Am

HARTFORD, Conn. (U.P.) — "A 271 will win," was Garner Dickinson's prediction as the $70,000 Insurance City Open Golf Tournament got under way today at the Wethersfield Country Club.

If so, Dickinson, sore elbow and all, should have no trouble coping the $11,000 first prize if he displays the form he showed Wednesday in the pro-am preliminary.

Dickinson carded a five-under par 66 in the $4,000 warmup in which each pro was teamed with three amateurs.

Tone's in Tune in Bow Tourney

VAESTERAAS, Sweden (U.P.) — Dick Tone of Phoenix, Ariz., jumped from fifth to second place in the second day's competition of the World Archery Championships.

Tone had a total of 1,150 points in the individual category after Wednesday's short range shooting at 50 and 30 meters. Matti Hakonen of Finland, who had taken the lead Tuesday at 90 and 70 meters, retained first place with 1,175 points.

Joe Thornton of Tahlequah, Okla., moved up from fourth to third with 1,151 and Ben Walker of Bartow, Fla., from eighth to fifth with 1,127.

Allen Muller of Minneapolis made it four Americans in the top 10 with 1,108 points for eighth place. The U.S. men lead Finland in the team standings 3-438 to 3,415.

The American women also lead in the team race with 3,304 points to Great Britain's 3,203, but lost the top spot in the individual competition.

Marie Lindholm of Finland replaced Grace Ambroski of Lafayette, Ind., in first place with 1,120 points to 1,116.

U.S. Wheelchair 5 Favored in Tourney

STOKE MANDEVILLE, England (U)—The American wheelchair basketball team beat Belgium and Israel 36-19 Wednesday night and became the favorite to win the title at the annual Paralympic Games for Handicapped Persons at this rehabilitation center.

The U.S. team beat Belgium 42-14 and Israel 36-19. High scorer for the American team was Steve Brannum of Detroit, with 15 points.

Ex-Giant Providing Spark for Milwaukee

By The Associated Press
There's plenty of Giant left in Felipe Alou, who's been cashing Milwaukee Brave paychecks for two seasons now.

Alou, like any good Giant would, turned ferocious when he saw the Los Angeles Dodgers Wednesday night and the result was 6-4 Milwaukee victory, the ninth straight triumph for the red-hot Braves.

Injuries limited Alou last year but the 30-year-old outfielder-first baseman was feeling no pain against the Dodgers Wednesday night. He stroked three singles and a double, drove in two runs and scored one in pacing Milwaukee's victory.

THREE HITS
Hank Aaron clipped in with three hits including his 20th homer of the year and Billy O'Dell's sharp relief pitching saved it for Wade Blasingame's 11th victory.

Alou's four hits lifted his average to .286, one point above younger brother Jesus.

The defeat snapped a six-game Dodger winning streak and left Los Angeles 3 1/2 games in front of second place Cincinnati and four up on the streaking Braves.

Elsewhere in the National League, Al Jackson pitched a two-hitter as the New York Mets blanked Pittsburgh 3-0. San Francisco nipped Cincinnati 5-4 in 11 innings. Houston blanked St. Louis 2-0 and Bob Bruce's six-hitter and Chicago edged Philadelphia 8-7 in 10 innings.

Aaron's 20th homer in the first inning helped Milwaukee build a 3-0 lead for Blasingame. The Dodgers knocked the young left-hander out with a three run rally in the seventh but O'Dell shut the door in the last two innings.

Jackson pitched no-hit ball for 7 1/3 innings before Willie Stargell broke the spell with a clean single to left. Pinch hitter Ossie Virgil got the other Pirate hit, a leadoff single in the ninth.

The Mets, who snapped a 10-game losing streak, got their only run in the fifth when Chuck Hiller scored all the way from second on Bill Mazeroski's error.

BRUCE WINS
Bob Bruce pitched a six-hitter and Bob Lillis drove in both Houston runs with a fifth inning double as the Astros blanked the Cardinals. Jim Gentile opened the fifth with a walk and moved up on Bob Aspromonte's single. One out later, Lillis connected.

Rookie Bob Schroder delivered a bases-loaded pinch single in the 11th inning for San Francisco's victory over the Reds. Willie McCovey's 21st homer of the year sparked a three-run Giant rally in the ninth that erased a 4-1 Cincinnati lead.

Ernie Banks' 10th inning single beat Philadelphia for Chicago. Don Landrum had opened the Cubs' 10th with his fourth hit of the game and after Billy Williams walked, Banks' safety won it. Doug Clemens' fourth hit of the game had driven in Jim Stewart with the tying run in the ninth after Chicago twice blew three-run leads.

Arnie, Jack, Gary

'Big 3' in Golf Match

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of golf's greatest—Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Arnold Palmer—open play today in the 72-hole National Challenge Match with Nicklaus the favorite for the winner's share of the $50,000 purse.

The field in the four-day match at the Lakewood Country Club in nearby Maryland is limited to the three pros and three amateurs.

Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., the National Amateur champion; Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., and Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., are the amateurs.

Morey is a former North and South Amateur champion. Beman won the National Amateur twice and the British Amateur once. He was also the low amateur in the U.S. Open in St. Louis last month.

This is the first time such a match has been played. It prelates the World Series of golf by two months and is offering two of the four players who will be in that event at Akron, Ohio.

Nicklaus is the Master's winner and Player is the U.S. Open champion. Winning either of these tournaments earns a place in the World Series. Palmer has yet to qualify and must win the National PGA in Ligonier, Pa., his home course, next month to get in.

After looking over the 6,834-yard par 35-36-71 Lakewood course Wednesday Player named Nicklaus the favorite because of his tremendous length off the tee and the wide open character of the Lakewood course.

Rigney Taken to Hospital in Washington

WASHINGTON (U)—Manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels was taken to Doctors Hospital for treatment of a gastric condition during Wednesday night's game with the Washington Senators.

The 47-year-old Rigney has a chronic ulcer for several years and spent June 7-8 in a hospital in Los Angeles during an attack. He was advised to go to the hospital by Dr. George Resta, the Senators' team physician.

Coach Del Rice was appointed acting manager of the Angels in Rigney's absence.

Local Skaters Speeding After Trophy

Pontiac Rolladium Skating Club is emphasizing speed this year in an attempt to recapture the national team championship that slipped away in 1964 for only the second time in the last 12 years.

The quest starts Saturday at Lincoln, Neb. when the North American Roller Skating Championships start a week-long run.

In the past, Rolladium relied on the arts — figures, singles, dance, pairs and fours — to dominate the championships. Speed skating had to take a back seat.

This began to change last year and the reversal is now complete.

Pontiac skaters are among the favorites in eight of the 10 speed events in which Rolladium has qualifiers. Local skaters are listed among the contenders in only five of the art events which make up the bulk of the championships.

Scott Harrity, one of the top young skaters in the world, is heavily favored to repeat his 1964 title of three North American championships. The 13-year-old Union Lake skater won Class B speed, singles and figures in the juvenile division.

DEFENDING TITLES

He is defending all three. Young Scott has taken speed titles in the North American last five years.

Diana Grassi, the 1964 intermediate ladies singles titleholder, has moved up to the senior division. Bert Anselmi, coach of the Rolladium team, gives the 17-year-old Miss Grassi, of 2902 Voorheis, a good chance of winning.

"She's skating very well, close to top form," he said. "Diana was second in the Euclid regional, but I think she can beat the girl who was above her."

"There's one thing that should be remembered," An-selmi pointed out. "The Great Lakes regional is the strongest in the United States and anyone finishing in the top three must be considered in the North American."

GI Golfer in Finals

of German Tourney

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Barry Terjesen of Akron, Ohio, a soldier stationed in Germany, reached the finals of the German Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday.

The 23-year-old-Yank, based at Frankfurt, will meet Ole Wiberg, the Danish amateur champion, in the finals Thursday.

Terjesen defeated Cecil Beamish of Ireland, 1-up in the morning and eliminated England's Duncan Marshall-Andrew 2 and 1 in the afternoon semifinals.

teams are rated among the best in the country. The mixed quartet appears to be the strongest. Diana Bielicki, Janet Ford, Gerald Gohs and Rick Gross scored at the top of the individual speed events in the regional.

Miss Bielicki took intermediate ladies and Miss Ford the senior ladies. Gohs won senior men with Gross second. They teamed to win the regional.

Diane Scofield and Carmen Hurnesen join with Misses Ford and Bielicki to form a strong ladies relay team that won in the regional. Gohs and Gross are members of the winning regional men's relay squad that includes John Halpin and Bill Miller.

Karen Hayden and Joan Hartley, who finished 1-2 in the regional, give the Pontiac team another pair of contenders in juvenile B girls speed.

Halpin is rated a good chance in novice men's singles. He teamed with Barbara Schultz to win the regional novice pairs. Rolladium's other novice entry—Miss Scofield and David Downing — won in the state meet and placed second in the regional.

The two teams are rated about even.

The senior fours team of Miss Scofield, Miss Grassi, Downing and Dennis Horral won at the regional, and is among the North American favorites.

Local skaters began leaving for Lincoln yesterday. Formal opening ceremonies are Friday night and competition begins Saturday.

Lady Golfer Cards Ace

Mrs. Marge Keith of Bloomfield Hills aced the 145-yard ninth hole at Stoneycroft Country Club Tuesday using a 4-wood. She carded a 41 for the nine holes.

DEFENDING CHAMPION—Scott Harrity, 12, will be defending three juvenile division titles in the North American Roller Skating Championships which begin Saturday in Lincoln, Neb. Competing under the Rolladium Skating Club colors, Scott, of 8324 Fox Bay, Union Lake, won the Class B speed, singles and figures crowns in 1964.

1-2 Softball Teams Hold Spots

Orchard Lanes and the Pontiac Merchants posted wins last night to maintain their 1-2 position in the Pontiac National Softball League race.

Orchard Lanes (12-3) nipped Idle Time Bar (8-8), 2-1, and the Merchants (12-4) dumped Francis Coal & Oil (3-12), 10-7.

In international games, Michigan Bell (8-8) knocked off league-leading Buckner Finance (11-4), 6-4, and Motorcar Transport (8-8) blanked Bud & Lou's Bar (4-11), 3-0.

A couple of walks, a passed ball and Bob Minton's single gave Orchard Lanes its two runs in the third inning. Minton had both of the winners hits. His second, a double, came in the fifth.

Ken Boussum held Idle Time to a pair of hits, a triple by Jim Smith in the fifth and a double by Jim Skinner in the seventh.

12-HIT ATTACK

The Merchants banged out 12 hits in taming Francis Coal. Jim Bird, Bob Poe and Gene Land collected two safeties apiece to spark the winners.

Larry Bell picked up a pair of singles to lead Michigan Bell past Buckners. Harry Diehl and Bill Green shared honors for the losers with two hits apiece.

Gary Achenbach scattered seven hits and fanned seven batters in pitching Motorcar to victory.

In Waterford Township action, Huron Bowl (7-8) downed Howes

Lanes (6-10), 4-1, and Day's Sanctuary (12-4) edged Bob & Larry (8-8), 4-3.

Huron Bowl scored three runs in the bottom of the third to wrap up the decision over Howes. Max Jarrett tossed a five-hitter to pick up the win.

Relief hurler Bob Fraser pitched two innings and clouded a two-run home run in the sixth to provide Day's with the tying and winning runs. Bill LaRose went four-for-four for the losers.

Ex-Tiger Hurls 1-Hitter

Pete Craig, ex-Tiger bonus baby from U. of D., fired a one-hitter for Hawaii over Vanscover in the Pacific Coast League. Ray Webster touched him for the only safety, a single in the seventh, but was erased in a double play. Craig faced the minimum 27 batters. He fanned four and walked none. A homer by John Wojcik wrapped up Hawaii's scoring.

U.N. Report: Some Slums Beneficial

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. report on housing says some slums benefit their inhabitants and should be improved instead of torn down.

It complains that the dwindling size of houses and apartments is helping break up the three-generation household and separates old people from children and grandchildren.

An anonymous consultant wrote the report for a committee of the U.N. Social Commissions. While aimed mainly at developing countries, it says its subject is of worldwide concern and important "in Moscow, Delhi, Lima and Chicago."

"The clearance of slums, including squatter towns," it declares, "should be kept to the minimum during the next few years. Few cities can afford to demolish any residential structure until the housing supply and number of new jobs are increased. But the improvement of slums, especially the improvement of sanitary conditions, should be greatly accelerated.

BENEFITS LISTED

The report lists four benefits that slum dwellers derive from the very fact that they live in slums: lack of legal and social controls; the low rents or low housing costs; proximity to the heart of the city where job opportunities are concentrated; and the traditional security that exists where persons live in natural groups of extended family, tribe, nationality, religion or caste.

"The lack of controls permits the slum dweller — all over the world — to do what he pleases in and with his dwelling," the document explains. "A woman can set up beauty parlor equipment in her living room, hang a sign in the front window and earn a living without paying shop rent. Families can crowd together and lease a room or rooms to supplement their earnings."

"None of these activities are allowed to take place in a proper housing project, yet the only way that these poor households can make ends meet is by taking advantage of the lack of controls.

"Relatives take care of their own. In communities which are closely knit because of their national origin, the help will come in the form of a 'little credit over the weekend' or 'until payday' from the grocer on the corner."

Cockfighting goes back at least 3,000 years.

Pontiac City Hall May Be Slipping

By L. GARY THORNE

Pontiac's hilltop City Hall could one day topple from its lofty perch. The municipal structure may be slipping, not figuratively but literally.

At least City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling has evidence that would indicate downhill movement of the two-story building.

Neippling, whose office is at ground level on the backside of the building, admits his evidence might be mere coincidence.

"It's still in the realm of coincidence," he says.

BROKEN LINES

Nevertheless, Neippling points out that the building has sustained two broken water lines in successive years, 1963 and 1964.

The city engineer said the breaks appeared to be caused by unusual stress conditions.

"It's probably the way the building was set up," Neippling explained, "but if another pipe breaks this year, I'll be real serious about this."

Opened in 1955, the $1.2-million City Hall is built on 16-acre parcel that makes up a civic center district along East Wide Track.

POLICE STATION

Other buildings on the parcel include a police station and new offices for the Pontiac Board of Education.

City Hall sits on top of a rolling hill about 500 feet above East Wide Track, the city's new loop road.

Commenting on the slippage evidence, Neippling said some sort of action would be indicated if there were any other signs of movement, like cracking in walls or floors.

However, he said there is no significant cracking in the building.

LAND MASS

If there is movement, City Hall might not be moving, but the entire land mass might, according to Neippling.

"It might be the ground shifting," he added.

He said movement of a thousandths of an inch could have broken the cast iron water pipes.

Meantime, one wit observed: "Well, if it does come tumbling down like the fabled Walls of Jericho, it sure will confuse traffic on Wide Track."

Old Hospital a College? Just Think Ahead

Right now it takes an architect's imagination and an educator's faith to visualize the old county TB hospital in Waterford Township being converted to a college campus by early September.

But this is the endeavor, and Oakland Community College (OCC) officials have crossed their collective fingers.

Outwardly the former hospital grounds at 7350 Cooley Lake, do not reflect the clamor of construction going on inside four principal buildings slated to accommodate 2,000 community college students this fall.

Electricians, painters, plasterers and other tradesmen have invaded the previously placid hospital corridors and rooms.

College officials are remodeling four buildings to their educational specifications. Largest of these buildings is the three-story Hospital Building.

Now dubbed the Main Building, no doubt awaiting some future name to be applied by students, the Hospital Building will house 17 tutorial laboratories, a data processing center, 25-30 faculty offices, two small classrooms, cafeteria and kitchen facilities.

The single-story Instructional Building — formerly the Youth Home — will have two classrooms, an assembly hall, library, book store, nurses office, student lounge and about 10 faculty offices.

Meantime, the old Director's House is being converted to house 22 more faculty offices with a lounge in the basement of the two-story building.

Conversion of the fourth building the Nurses' Home, has largely been accomplished, providing office space for OCC administrators.

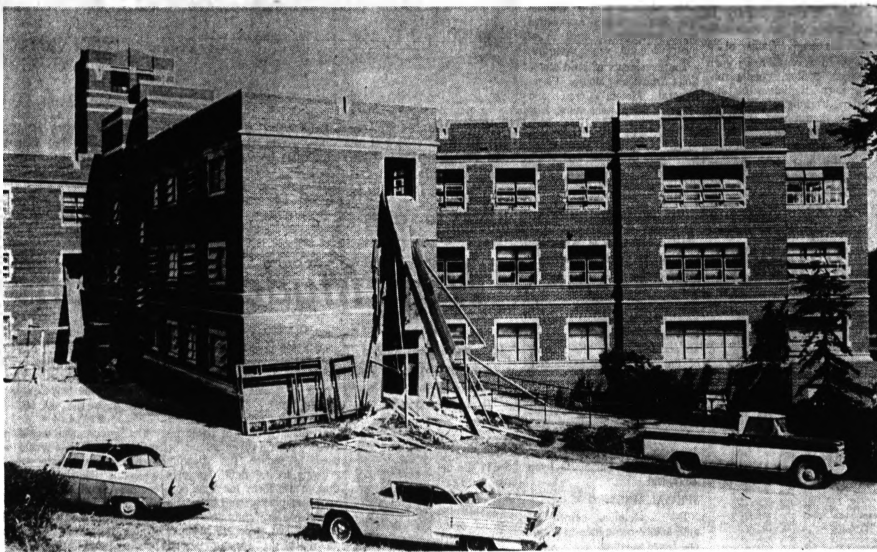

Remodeling work is still being done on the basement of this building. A duplicating department is being set up and a recording laboratory is also under way.

College officials have one other building to remodel. The unnamed one-story block building is not going to be pressed into immediate use. Future plans call for technology laboratories to be located there.

College officials remain confident that the TB hospital, now known as the pus, will be ready for students this fall.

BACK VIEW—The old hospital grounds present a quiet, peaceful facade to passing traffic on Cooley Lake Road, but behind the buildings is a beehive of activity as workmen make the hospital look like a community college. This is a rear view of the Main Building.

CHECK PRINTS—Ed Barnett (left), superintendent for Moote Electrical Co., and Laine Heitherington, foreman, check blueprints for remodeling of a room slated to be a recording laboratory for the new community college campus.

SPACE LEFT — Bookshelves at the Highland Lakes campus are still relatively vacant, but community college officials expect to add to their collection in the book store and library. Many of the shelves will hold film strips, slides and tape recordings in addition to the traditional textbooks.

BUSINESS AS USUAL—Switchboard operator Mrs. Brian Marchant of 5901 Dixie Highway, Independence Township, can clearly take claim to the title as the first person to occupy projected offices in the old hospital building at the new Highland Lakes campus of Oakland Community College. She operates her switchboard amid remodeling work being done there.

STUDY SCREENS—Political science instructor Lawrence Murphy of 6099 Rowley, Waterford Township, tunes in equipment to be used by students this fall at the OCC campus. Murphy is sitting in a study carrel, an individual study area that is the basis of the college's tutorial teaching technique that emphasizes individual study instead of the traditional lecture method.

FIRE DOORS—These three doors were put in place on the orders of the state fire marshal. The former Youth Home did not have enough exits to meet the fire regulations for a large number of students in individual rooms. Thus, these doors had to be hacked out of the brick.

DUPLICATING AREA—Printer James Richardson operates some of the initial equipment moved into the basement of the administration building at Highland Lakes campus.

This area will be devoted to doing the college's printing when the new campus begins operations this fall.

BRICK CONVERSION—The bricks and mortar that made up the old county TB hospital are being torn down and rearranged into Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes campus. New doors are forged and new rooms made out of old in the transformation from health care to educational treatment.

Some Selective Improvement

Market Continues Mixed, Dull

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued mixed and dull early this afternoon but there was some selective improvement.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 3 at 319.0 with industrials off 7, rails off 3 and utilities up 4.

Wall Street's ears were cocked for news from Washington — possibly concerning big decisions regarding the Viet Nam conflict. But no news came and the market languished in uncertainty.

As the hours went by, however, traders and investors began to nibble cautiously at some leading issues, with the result that all of the Big Three motors showed slight gains, airlines were edging higher and there was some life shown by assorted chemicals, office equipments and electronics.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .06 at 664.95.

A more broadly based indicator, Standard & Poor's 500-stock index, gained .04 at 84.11 at noon.

Up to noon on the New York

Stock Exchange, there were 449 advances, 401 declines and 273 unchanged.

Prices improved slightly in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of a point or so were made by such stocks as Syntex, Conduction, Duval Corp., Radiation Inc. and Standard Forgings. Rollins Inc. fell more than a point. Banff Oil was a fractional loser.

Corporate and U. S. Government bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

Stocks to Taxes

War Muddles Plans

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The Viet Nam war hangs over the stock market. It also complicates the prospects for another tax cut.

It threatens to well the defense budget again. It makes uncertain the plans of many young Americans, either of draft age or in Reserve or National Guard units and their families.

Stock traders get skittish when the news of Viet Nam looks really bad, as distinguished from just bad as usual.

And when the traders take to the sidelines and cut their risks, prices of many stocks fall, however temporarily. War scrambles the plans of business concerns as well as of individuals.

Hopes of another federal tax cut in 1966 have been riding high. The very uncertainties about the tax cut would be a tax cut seem more likely. The idea was that a tax cut would be the tool the administration would use to pep up personal incomes and thus consumer buying, and hence industrial activity.

Abernethy said when a plan is prepared it will be submitted to the association's board for approval.

The board meeting yesterday was attended by Roche Abernethy, Miller, Frederic Donner, GM board chairman; Richard E. Cross, AMC board chairman; Henry Ford II, Ford board chairman, and Ralph M. Buzard, executive vice president of International Harvester.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q "At 36 years of age, I own my own business. In 1967 I invested $6,000 in stocks and lost half of it, mostly in low-priced stocks. I would like to buy $3,000 to $4,000 each year into good sound growth stocks with a fair return. What issues should I buy to hold for a long period of time until my retirement?" C. M.

A I am sorry to hear that you got off to a bad start in the stock market. As you have discovered, low-priced issues can be very expensive and higher-priced stocks relatively cheap, depending on the values involved.

For your long-term goal, I would buy only the soundest stocks, which have demonstrated their ability to increase consistently in earnings, dividends and price over a period of years. Since good growth stocks don't yield very much, you will have to be content with a relatively low return. I suggest Commonwealth Edison, Sears, Roebuck, Bristol-Myers, Texaco.

Q "I am 17 years old and want your advice on what stocks I should purchase with money I have saved. I want stocks with the best chance of success in the future. I have picked McGraw-Hill or Xerox for growth. Which would you advise?" P.B.

A Both your selection are of excellent quality, but Xerox has the greater growth potential as well as by far the bigger market risk. Share earnings have risen consistently from 15 cents in 1960 to $1.68 in 1964. The stock is quite volatile, and sells at over 50 times estimated earnings for this year.

The high earnings multiple makes the stock unsuitable for most investors, but if you are ambitious enough to read all the business news you can get hold of, particularly about the office equipment field, you would be justified in buying Xerox on the basis of its present strong outlook.

Czechs Claim Beer Record

Opening Is Quiet on Grain Market

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia claims a world record in beer drinking with a 124 liter per capita consumption in 1964.

Consumption rose by 25.6 liters compared with 1960, the Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported.

Beer was by far the most popular beverage. Next followed soda water and lemonades with 22.4 liters. Wine ranged fifth with 4.8 liters.

That government planners already were looking to alter tax cuts or increased spending of one sort or another as necessary to achieve the growth goals is indicated by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, in testimony before members of the joint House-Senate Economic Committee.

The council would like to see the economy grow at a rate of 4 percent a year between now and 1970. He says that to achieve this the government would probably have to continue taxing and spending policies that would result in still more federal budget deficits.

New Yorkers Are Serious

U.S. Winces at $2 Bid for Missile Silos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saranac, N.Y., wants to pay the government two dollars for each multimillion dollar missile silo. The government says no soap.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Earl Norwood of Billings, Mont., would be willing to invest $20,000 for a silo in Idaho — one of 117 recently offered for sale by the General Services Administration.

Most of the other 52 bids announced Wednesday ranged from $2,500 to $7,500 for each silo, including real estate and improvements.

The 160-foot deep, concrete-lined, air-conditioned silos once housed the Atlas E, Atlas F and Titan I missiles for national defense. The Defense Department recently declared them obsolete.

VILLAGE SERIOUS

Thomas Quinn, attorney for Saranac, a village of 2,650 in upstate New York, says he was serious when he offered a dollar apiece for the silos at the nearby Plattsburgh Air Force Base.

"Frankly, that's all we could afford," Quinn said. "We hope that one branch of the government will accept a fatherly attitude toward a very small son."

Quinn said the village, if it wins a bid, would convert the silos into a bomb shelter and water storage facility.

But Howard Greenberg, a GSA commissioner, said the chances of Saranac winning a bid are nil.

BEST RETURN

"We are required under law to obtain through disposal the best amount of return to the government," Greenberg said.

"We advertised the silos and told communities that had some use to bid, but also told them to advise us of their planned use."

But he added, "there is no authority for, in effect, giving any public property away regardless of how worthy the cause is."

"We can only negotiate with a local body if we obtain a fair apiece for the silos at the nearby Plattsburgh Air Force Base."

Most of the communities that bid, he said, intend to use the silos for repair shops, storage or salvage. "I don't think people are trying to take advantage of it," he added, "they're just trying to bid what they think it's worth."

LARGE DISPOSAL

Greenberg characterized the present offering as "one of the largest single disposals of this type ever attempted." He said the silos, scattered throughout the country, were valued at more than $1 billion. The awards will be announced this fall, he said.

Bidders were required to place a $2,500 deposit regardless of the amount of their bid, Greenberg said, adding:

"What we attempted to do was keep out the people who wanted to bid a buck on it."

"But I have no doubt the city (Saranac) was serious. They might have bid a dollar but they had to put up a $2,500 deposit."

way back. This wasn't sixth sense but rather the correct mathematical play. (Please don't write us about it until you read tomorrow's article which will explain the principle of restricted choice.)

He drew the last trump, cashed the other high diamond and ran off four rounds of clubs. He discarded one heart on the third club and ruffed the fourth club after East played the jack. Then he had to go after hearts and by this time the sixth sense had told him where the king and jack were. So he led a low heart from his hand and simply played the three spot from dummy. East won and led back the nine whereupon Raymond played low from his hand and West's king was dead.

★CARD Sense★

Q—The bidding has been:
 East South West North
 1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 3 ♠
 Pass Pass 3 ♠ 4 ♠
 You, South, hold:
 ♠ A Q 7 6 W ♠ J 8 4 ♠ K 9 4 2
 What do you do?
 A—Bid three no-trump. Pass is a close second choice, but under the circumstances whenever you try to improve matters by bidding one of your four-card suits.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You hold the second best. What opens one heart instead of one diamond. What do you do?

From San Francisco, the spokesman said, the couple will go to Los Angeles and then to Tucson, Ariz., where they will be the guests of Lewis W. Douglas, former U. S. ambassador in London. Douglas' daughter, Sharman, is a longtime friend of the princess.

The spokesman said that from Tucson, Princess Margaret and her husband will travel to Washington and then New York. In New York, another former am-

Whitey, will be their host.

NO EXACT DATES

"I'm sorry," the spokesman said, "but at this stage, we do not have exact dates of the tour."

The tour originally was scheduled to last three weeks, but informants hinted it might be extended.

Voters in Alabama Will Face New and Simpler Literacy Test

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A new and simpler literacy test for prospective voters went into effect throughout Alabama today replacing the questionnaire under attack in federal court.

The new questionnaire was drawn by the State Supreme Court which earlier had prescribed the one outlawed by federal court order in nine counties and under attack in another suit by the Justice Department.

Mrs. Martha Witt Smith, a veteran member of the Madison County registration board, said the new test was given to 2,400 sixth grade pupils in Alabama schools before it was put into effect. She said 95 per cent made passing grades.

Under the new procedure, each prospective voter will be given one of a series of questionnaires containing a section of the U.S. Constitution and five questions based on that section.

USE HANDWRITING
 The applicant will be required to copy the section in his own handwriting and answer the questions from what he has written. Mrs. Smith said 60 will be a passing grade.

She said it will not be used in Bullock, Macon, Elmore, Montgomery, Perry, Wilcox, Sumter, Dallas and Choctaw Counties because of federal court orders prohibiting those boards from employing any literacy test without court approval.

Roz Gets Home Training for 'Wacky Mother' Parts

By JAMES BACON
 AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Ever wonder how Rosalind Russell can play those wacky mothers — "Auntie Mame's" — so convincingly?

She gets her training at home. At the moment, Roz is playing the wackiest mother in movie history. She's the mom of "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad."

She plays the mother of Bobby Morse, keeps him locked in his room and feeds him the same meal every day — a hamburger, well-done with catsup, a glass of milk and a marshmallow cherry for dessert. She also takes her dead husband along with her in a coffin whenever she goes.

Life at home with son Lance Brissan is not so macabre but just as wacky.

HE'S PROUD
 Lance is proud of his mother's fame and that of his father, too, producer Freddy Brissan. But Lance wants to make it on his own — with no help from his parents. This has led to some hilarious situations. Once when Lance was attending Hotchkiss School in Connecticut, Roz was invited up for mother's day.

She got strict orders not to come as a movie star because Lance had told no one about his famous mother.

"So," recalls Roz, "I borrowed a tweed suit from my sister and a big floppy hat. For shoes, I wore those big clodhoppers."

per walking shoes. I was the most ungainly looking mother there. But Lance was pleased."

It took real acting on Roz's part because she often is picked on best-dressed lists.

COPYBOY

After Hotchkiss, Lance, on his own, got a job as a copyboy on the Los Angeles Times and worked himself up to reporter — and a good one.

That really posed the problems for Roz.

"If Lance were sent out on a movie story, I had to ignore him. I had my orders and I obeyed."

"It often got very embarrassing, especially if I were talking to Hedda Hopper who also writes for the Times."

THE SIGNAL

Lance always gave his mother the signal. "Don't tell her who I am." "There I would be, proud of my son by unable to introduce him."

Roz can tell the stories now because Lance is finishing his education at the University of Southern California and is confident that he can make good without his parents' help.

"When he finishes college, he'll be back as a reporter. That's the only thing he has ever wanted to be."

Man, 101, Up After Surgery

CHICAGO (UPI) — James Mancuso, who underwent surgery Tuesday, was ready to go back to work today. His doctors were amazed but wouldn't let him.

Mancuso is 101 years old. An Italian immigrant who came to the United States when he was 36, Mancuso was up and around his hospital room yesterday—the day after he was operated on for removal of tissue blocking the urinary tract.

Indians, Teen-Agers Take Credit for Rain

LOVINGTON, N. M. (UPI)—After a period of no measurable rain for more than a month, Lovington played host to the Philip Whitecloud Indian troupe from Albuquerque.

The Indians danced ancient ritualistic dances. At the same time, 10 c a l teen-agers danced the mashed potato, the swim and the Watusi.

Rain fell on two successive days—not much, but enough so that both groups took credit.

Space Figure Faces Divorce

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Scientist — astronaut Duane E. Graveline goes to court next week to hear allegations by his wife that his outbursts of temper prevent continuation of their 14-year-old marriage.

Mrs. Carole Jane Graveline made the statements in a divorce suit filed Tuesday. Graveline, 34, is one of six scientists named June 29 for the Apollo program, which calls for moon flights in the late 1960s.

His wife was granted a temporary court order forbidding Graveline to visit or disturb her, and a hearing was set for July 30 in 37th District Court.

The ancient Spartans were among the first to use a secret code of cipher in wartime. The Spartan system involved a strip of leather wound around a wooden rod, with the message written on the leather strip.

Japan Politics Stirred Up

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Japan, along with West Germany, has become a symbol of how a defeated nation not only can reverse its fortunes but can rise from the ravages of war to unprecedented prosperity.

But today Japan is in the midst of a recession. Production in Japan's NEWSOM vantaged camera and electrical appliances industries is down, as it also is to glass, textiles and cement.

Cost-cutting is the order of the day and it ranges from fewer gessha parties on the expense account to saving pencil butts.

Unemployment, not heretofore a problem, is feared.

All this has led to a period of soul-searching which is having its effect on domestic Japanese politics and eventually could influence Japanese relations abroad.

MORE EMPHASIS

Some of the issues are traditional but under the impact of recession are taking on more emphasis.

Domestically, Premier Eisaku Sato's ruling Liberal-Democratic party felt it in the July 4 elections to Japan's upper house of parliament where leftists gained nine seats.

Liberal-Democratic losses were attributed to public dissatisfaction with the government's handling of the recession and to widespread disapproval of government support of U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

By retaining more than a third of the upper house seats, it meant that the Socialists and other leftists could continue to block constitutional changes permitting Japan to strengthen her weak defensive position.

"RUNNING SCARED"

The loss of all four seats held by Tokyo constituencies explain why the Liberal Democrats were "running scared" in today's elections to the Tokyo Metropolitan Assembly which rules the world's largest city.

Adding to Liberal-Democratic woes was the fact that 17 of its members in the outgoing assembly had been arrested on corruption charges.

Street demonstrations of the sort which prevented a visit by President Eisenhower in 1960 are a favorite weapon of Tokyo left-wingers to block government legislation, particularly any which promotes closer cooperation with the United States.

U.S. business could be effected by a slowdown in Japanese orders for production machinery.

And as the Japanese step up their efforts to find new export markets they can provide stiff competition to American firms not only within the United States but in other markets as well, such as Southeast Asia and South America.

Always, fearful of U.S. moves to restrict sale of Japanese goods within the United States, the Japanese are especially so now.

Fear that a fisheries dispute could lead to a U.S. boycott of Japanese goods was an important underlying factor in just completed cabinet-level talks between the two nations in Washington.

Japan's Education Ministry plans to establish each year for the next 10 years 1,000 special school classes for the mentally retarded.

The only mix that comes up roses next to this one is another Holland House Cocktail Mix

When other brands fail to come up to expectations, we worry. We hope you won't imagine cocktail mixes are all the same and miss out on the ones that come up roses. Holland House Old-Fashioned Mix, for instance, is made of roots and herbs and spices we search out all over the world. Our Daiquiri Mix is a blend of fresh-squeezed fruit juices—not concentrated, not reconstituted. Just add your own favorite brand of liquor and serve. The roses on the table are optional. (And try: our Tropical Mix, new Mai Tai, great with rum, or gin or vodka.)

Planes Hit Nearer to Viet-China Border

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U)—U.S. warplanes flew closer today to the Red Chinese border than ever before on an air strike over North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said.

Three Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs bombed a highway bridge only 41 miles from the Chinese frontier, the spokesman said.

Mansfield Sees a 10-Year War

High-Level Strategy
Talks Resume Today

WASHINGTON (U)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says it is "anticipated on our side" that the war in Viet Nam may continue for 10 years — while the Communist side talks of 20.

Top-level White House talks resume today, with military emphasis, on what the Montana senator called "an ordeal of indefinite duration and increasing sacrifice which will persist until the problem can be resolved at the conference table."

Mansfield spoke in the Senate last night at the end of a long day during which the highest officials of government reviewed the word Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara brought back at dawn from Viet Nam.

The White House said no announcement on these deliberations will be made until after the strategy talks are concluded. But it was plain from the little McNamara did say publicly that he is urging the dispatch of many more U.S. troops to the embattled Asian country.

The Viet Cong strength of 165,000, swollen by the infiltration of regular troops from North Viet Nam, compares with South Viet Nam government forces of about 500,000, he said, and that is a "totally unacceptable ratio," for guerrilla war.

There was sufficient talk of sending 100,000 more U.S. troops to bolster the 75,000 already there.

The White House talks yesterday included contributions by the heads of the State Department, Central Intelligence Agency, U. S. Information Agency and other nonmilitary officials.

Today, however, the principal participants were to be McNamara and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, pointing to work toward decisions on such matters as the number and composition of additional forces that may be sent overseas and a possible call of some reservists and National Guardsmen to replace them.

Auto Chiefs Join Draft Safety Program

DETROIT (U)—The Automobile Manufacturers Association acted yesterday to draft an industry-wide auto safety program.

The presidents of Ford Motor Co., American Motors Corp., General Motors Corp., and Chrysler Corp. were enlisted by the association as a committee "to undertake at once the preparation of plans for a cooperative program to expand the industry's efforts in the field of automotive safety."

Former Space Chief Dies After Illness

STAMFORD, Conn. (U)—Roy W. Johnson, the nation's first space chief, died today in Stamford Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 59.

Johnson had given up a $158,000-a-year job as executive vice president of General Electric Co. in 1958 to become director of the Defense Department's advanced Research Projects Agency. The agency was a forerunner of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The association named its auto safety committee in a special board meeting.

Abernethy said the committee plans to work closely with the U.S. Department of Commerce in the development of

NEW YORK (U)—Casey Stengel, who will be 75 years old on July 30, said today this would be his final year as manager of the New York Mets.

Hopes to Have Bill Prepared for Fall Session

Governor, Legislators
'Agree in General on Tax Reform Specifics'

LANSING (U)—Gov. George Romney says he hopes to have a bipartisan tax reform program ready in bill form when the legislature returns for its fall session, Sept. 14.

In another in a long series of meetings, Romney and a bipartisan group of legislators "agreed in general on a number of specifics on fiscal reform," a Romney staff member said.

They looked at a modest-increase budget plan that will require $100 million in new revenues by June 30, 1968.

This figure was hit upon "primarily for planning purposes," Romney said.

Plans for meeting this spending outline and possible alternatives will be drawn up by Romney's staff before the next meeting of the group, July 30.

SENSE OF DIRECTION
The meeting yesterday "gave us a better general sense of direction than of any meeting so far," Romney said.

He was seconded by Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

Montgomery said there "was some coming together of minds on specific points of a program."

Romney restated an earlier promise to present his own program "if the possibility of a bipartisan program becomes hopeless . . . but I'm hopeful that it won't become hopeless."

NEW PROGRAMS
The budgets talked about by the group would add $25 million in new programs in 1966-67, and $29 million in 1967-68, in addition to the automatic year-to-year increases.

Even a no-service-increase budget would whittle the estimated $128 million surplus now on hand down to $5 million by the end of 1966-67, and plunge the state $95 million into debt a year later, they agreed.

The House Ways and Means Committee estimates the present surplus at $132 million. "Our figures are very close," Romney and the Democratic legislators agreed.

"No one on earth can tell you exactly what the surplus is at this moment," Romney said. "We won't know until the 'lapsed' appropriations used in the past fiscal year by state agencies are in — about the middle of September."

Chance of Rainfall for Pontiac Area
Warm weather is finally returning, but so are the showers! High today will be in the 80s. Tomorrow's high is predicted to be 84 to 88, with a low tonight of 65 to 72.

Chance of a few scattered thunderstorms is forecast for today and tomorrow.

Winds are mostly south to southwest 8 to 16 miles per hour.

The low temperature reading preceding 8 a.m. was recorded at 65 this morning. By 1 p.m., the mercury had climbed to 83.

Dems Bulldozing Poverty Measure

WASHINGTON (U)—The House appeared determined to pass the administration's $1.9-billion anti-poverty bill today despite continuing Republican efforts to trim it.

The big Democratic majority showed impressive strength yesterday in turning back one major GOP onslaught and Republican leaders had only faint hope that others would succeed.

The bill would continue a variety of education, Job Corps and other programs and double the authorization of funds.

Republicans are pushing hardest for an amendment that would again allow governors to veto anti-poverty projects in their states. The House bill would give the federal anti-poverty director authority to override such a veto.

On the first big test yesterday, Democrats shouted down a proposal by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., to give the states final say as to whether a community anti-poverty project should be approved.

Under the existing program enacted last year, local community action groups deal directly with the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in getting plans approved and funded.

VOICE REJECTION
Also rejected by voice votes were amendments to require elections, wherever possible, for membership in community action planning boards, and to keep churches and other religious groups out of community action programs.

Rep. John Buchanan, R-Ia., a Baptist minister, who offered the religious amendment, said he had received complaints from his district that some anti-poverty officials affiliated with churches were proselytizing among the poor.

It is planned that the data collected will focus on the civic culture of the poor and the economics of poverty.

Data collection will be centralized, using the facilities of the OU computer center.

It is hoped that the two pilot research areas in the Pontiac area will provide insights into the problems of larger areas, assistance to the Oakland County planners, and new research insights into the problems of the poor.

Smuggler Uses Undies

Battle of 'the Bulge'
LONDON (U)—The case of the loaded undies ended yesterday with hefty fines for a smuggling, battling midwife.

It started when customs officers noticed an unusual bulge beneath the skirt of the midwife, Henriette Pease MacLachlan, as she returned from a vacation in Switzerland.

They took her to a private room where Miss MacLachlan produced bottles of brandy and whisky from beneath her skirt and a watch from her brassiere.

The customs men still were not satisfied. They demanded a search. The woman refused. The men called in a magistrate who ordered a search, by force if necessary.

"All right, then," said Miss MacLachlan. "I will resist."

Nixon Building Support Base?

By JACK KELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon appears to be building a broad base for a potential bid for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination in his political travels around the country.

Nixon dropped in on Republican congressional leaders this week to chat with them about party affairs, including the lean condition of its coffers, and such matters as the GOP position on Viet Nam.

Nixon's news conference Wednesday morning he thinks the 1968 party nominee is likely to become a candidate again, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen replied: "He didn't say."

But Dirksen went on to note that Nixon is tapping all other potential GOP aspirants in the polls. The Illinois senator intimated he thought the polls reflected party sentiment rather accurately.

Nixon's leading position at this point is credited to the fact that few Republicans are mad at him. Dirksen and the House leaders get along with him well. Barry Goldwater, the 1964 presidential nominee, finds the former vice president acceptable as a candidate. Most party liberals, with the possible exception of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., wouldn't object to Nixon.

Goldwater also mentioned Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania as another who could command his support. But reports from Harrisburg indicate that Scranton, who fought Goldwater for the nomination last but campaigned for him afterward, is playing down the presidential bid.

The former vice president also is displaying a new affability with the press. This is an asset that a survey made under the sponsorship of House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., and 11 GOP colleagues said Nixon lacked in the 1960 campaign and his unsuccessful 1963 race for governor of California.

The survey, which urged Republicans to take advantage of what it said was President Johnson's "inability to deal effectively with the press," said Nixon's "bitter denunciation of the press" following his defeat in California was "an intemperance outburst to be long remembered by the candidate, the press and the public."

Stern Trial Begins Without Star Witness

MANISTEE (UPI) — The conspiracy trial of 21 alleged Detroit-area gambling casino operators opened in the Manistee County Courthouse today without the star prosecution witness.

Missing was Margaret A. Allen, 29, the pretty former legislative secretary whose undercover work in the Madison Heights Stern Assembly Club formed the basis for the charges.

She was reported to be in New York and it was in doubt whether she would return.

Attorneys today will begin trial, with an expected to be lengthy efforts to select a jury.

The trial, which attorneys said could last from two weeks to two months, will be held before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem in a 100-seat-capacity courtroom.

DEFENSE CONTENTIONS
It was transferred here because of contentions by defense attorney Charles R. Rosen that publicity made it impossible to select an impartial jury in Oakland County.

The judge and the attorneys arrived at hotels and motels in the area last night.

A heavy cardboard box containing about 3,000 pages of testimony from preliminary hearings plus exhibits has been in the courthouse for about a week.

Defendants include Eddie Guarella, reputedly a top lieutenant in the Detroit-area underworld, and Joseph Brodsky, described by the U.S. Senate Crime Subcommittee as a "section leader" for the syndicate.

WERE SEIZED
They along with the other defendants were seized when police battered their way into the Oakland County social club in October 1963.

But Miss Allen, who posed as a gambler's girlfriend to gain entrance to the club, was expected to be the star of the show even if she is absent.

She spent 11 days on the stand during lengthy pretrial examinations that finally brought about the much-delayed trial.

That testimony may be used by the prosecution at this trial even if Miss Allen is not present.

PRESSURE ON HER
Oakland County prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said he fears Miss Allen has felt the state because of the pressure on her.

But State Police Commissioner Frederick E. Davis said she was on vacation and testified Miss Allen would return to testify.

The attractive brunette spent two days in the club prior to the raid and was furnished marked money by State Police.

She lost her job as a stenographer for the Democratic legislators when her role in the investigation was revealed.

Sealtest, a division of National Dairy Products Corp., said it had been importing and exporting with Wisconsin but that this was done only to meet variations in demand.

Sealtest, largest processor of drinking milk in Michigan, gets more than 77 million quarts of raw milk a month from association members.

Association President Glenn Lake said the action against Sealtest would not mean a milk shortage. He said processors have been instructed to take their milk to other processing plants.

Student Dies in Greek Riot

Tourists Are Caught in Three-Hour Battle

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece's new premier threatened tougher measures today against supporters of ousted George Papandreu after the worst riot in Athens in years.

One student was killed and more than 150 persons were hurt in a three-hour battle Wednesday night between club-wielding police and more than 10,000 demonstrators screaming for Papandreu's return as premier.

Dozens of tourists caught in the melee choked on tear gas fired at the rioters.

Police patrols littered today through streets with glass and splashed with blood.

FIRST FATALITY
The student's death was the first fatality since a crisis developed eight days ago after King Constantine named Parliament President George Athanasiadis Novas to replace Papandreu.

The king and Papandreu had been contesting for control of the armed forces.

Athanasiadis Novas and Papandreu blamed each other for the bloodshed.

The ex-premier told newsmen the new regime "is not content to be the government of treason but has also become the government of blood."

"It must be wiped off the face of the earth and brought to book for its crimes," the 77-year-old political veteran declared.

ANSWERS BACK
"We are not the government of blood," said Athanasiadis Novas, 72. "It is Papandreu and the opposition, the instigators of these events."

The new premier reportedly ordered the army to back up the police if new violence broke out.

The riot was preceded by a demonstration at Athens University sponsored by the National Students Union. By the end of the 90-minute rally, many nonstudents had joined the 2,000 youths.

High Bids Stymie Plans for School Building Jobs

Building plans of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education were temporarily stymied today while Birmingham school officials took another step toward construction of a new junior high school.

The snags in Bloomfield Hills came with the opening of bids for a new bus garage and improvement of the parking area at Bloomfield Hills High School.

The bids were far above cost estimates.

Birmingham educators have not yet reached that stage in their plans for Covington Junior High School.

They approved preliminary drawings for the unit prepared by Linn Smith Associates, Inc., of Birmingham.

The $2.5-million school, with a 1,000-student capacity, is to be completed for the 1966-67 school year.

START DRAWING
With approval of the first plans, architects now will prepare working drawings.

The Birmingham board plans to open construction bids Sept. 15 so that work on the building can begin this fall.

Disappointed in the bids received for a bus garage, the Bloomfield Hills board instructed architects at Tarapata MacMahon Associates, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills to discuss the situation with the low bidders.

The lowest bids on the work were some $15,000 above the $71,500 estimated cost, according to Superintendent John Garage Use.

"We are excited on the East Hills Junior High School site."

Teen Sought in Kidnaping of Motorist

A teen-ager who kidnaped a young motorist at gunpoint and then locked him in the trunk of his car was the object of an statewide State Police search today.

The victim, Dale R. LaClair, 17, of 3014 Edgewater, Waterford Township, was in the trunk more than five hours before he was able to escape at 3 a.m. today by forcing down the back seat with his feet.

LaClair told troopers James Lee and Gary Shelly of the Pontiac post that he had just left work at the Lion's store in Bloomfield Township when he picked up the teen, who was hitchhiking on Telegraph near Harco.

After traveling several blocks, the youth described as about 15 years old, pulled a gun, according to LaClair, and ordered him to drive to Independence Township where he directed him to park in a lovers' lane off Waterford Road near Maybee.

The youth robbed him of $30 before binding LaClair's hands behind his back with LaClair's necktie and forcing him into the trunk.

FREED HANDS
LaClair said he was able to free his hands about a half-hour later.

ROMNEY PICKS GUARD LEADER

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today appointed Col. Clarence Schnipke as adjutant general of the Michigan National Guard.

Schnipke, whose appointment takes immediate effect, has been serving as acting adjutant general since the removal of Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald after he was found guilty of manslaughter, malfeasance and neglect of duty.

Schnipke, 56, will be promoted to the rank of major general, Romney said.

Schnipke, who served in the temporary post since last Oct. 8, was previously assistant adjutant general for Army units.

Romney said his selection of Schnipke followed a screening procedure that included recommendations of the State Military Board.

London Homes Raised

LONDON (UPI) — Armed police raised homes in two London districts today and detained two men in connection with the escape of great train robber Ronald Biggs.

'Salty' Sharon Completes 40-Day Sail

HONOLULU (AP) — With the applause of old salts ringing in her ears, petite Sharon Sites rested today after her gaunt, 40-day sail from California to Hawaii. She became the first woman to sail the 2,300 miles alone.

In a snug harbor Wednesday night, resting from her courageous trans-Pacific odyssey—done without a radio or fuel for her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp—the 34-year-old Los Angeles widow counted two casualties:

Her right wrist was broken last weekend in a way she was "too embarrassed" to say, and her pet-turtle died 12 days out of Los Angeles.

The blonde dental secretary — a sailing beginner — undertook the voyage alone for the same reason men climb mountains: it was a challenge, she told newsmen before she was taken to a hospital for treatment of her wrist.

STRONG WINDS

On shore at Keahi Marina a few miles from downtown Honolulu, Mrs. Sites told of "Six days of 65 mile an hour winds," her most frightening experience.

"I had to latch everything down, bang on for dear life, and pray, she said.

"Maybe it was foolish," the exhausted woman said, groggy with drugs she had taken to kill the pain of the fracture. "Sometimes out there I wondered. But I didn't do it as a stunt."

Her voyage, which began June 12, ended Wednesday afternoon 35 miles north of Honolulu when the sport fishing boat Catherine S. spotted her sloop and radioed the Coast Guard.

SLOOP IN TOW

The cutter Cape Corwin took the brown-and-white sloop in tow. In port at last, Mrs. Sites had swiftly changed into white slacks and a black-and-white sweater, and was welcomed with applause.

Many of her 150 greeters gave her leis of aloha, the traditional flowery greeting of the islands. She acknowledged the welcome with a weak wave of her left arm and blew kisses to the crowd.

The doughty sailor, who has only six months of sailing experience, vowed she would never attempt such a feat again, and she added she wouldn't advise anyone — man or woman — to do it alone.

"Now it's over, it's fine," she said of the long run before the tradewinds that blow from the northeast.

ON THE HOUSE

Richard Holtzman, general manager of Sheraton Hotels in Hawaii, offered her free accommodations at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel. Mrs. Sites sleepily accepted.

"She's the greatest," bubbled an excited Al Adams of Los Angeles, Mrs. Sites' sailing instructor who boarded the $9,600 Sea Sharp as it was being towed to harbor.

When asked about whom she credited most with her success, she said: "I thought about this a great deal while I was at sea."

"I take very little personal credit for the voyage. The main credit goes to Al (Adams) who bought the boat and rigged her and had great confidence in me."

OTHER CREDITS

"I also give credit to Hugh McDonald (of Los Angeles) who taught me my navigation." "And next the Lord Himself. He had his hand on my shoulder many times during the crossing."

Despite the low the last few miles to port, Mrs. Sites said she considered that she had completed the full trip.

VOYAGE COMPLETED—Sharon Sites, 34, stands on the deck of her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp after being sighted by the sport fishing vessel Catherine S. (right) yesterday approx-

mately 25 miles north of Honolulu. She left Los Angeles June 12 on her solo voyage across the Pacific from California to Hawaii.

House Committee to Meet With Hatcher on U-M Tuition Hike

LANSING (AP) — A House committee will ask the University of Michigan Board of Regents Saturday to explain U-M's recently announced tuition increases of up to $100 for this fall.

Rep. Vincent Pettipren, D-Wayne, chairman of the House

Committee on Colleges and Universities, notified U-M President Harlan Hatcher Wednesday of plans for the meeting in Ann Arbor.

Pettipren called the tuition increase "sudden." He said he hoped other universities throughout the state would not consider the U-M action as opening the door to increase their tuition rates.

State Board of Education President Thomas Brennan and acting Superintendent of Public Instruction Alexander Kloster also will attend the meeting, Pettipren said.

He said the U-M move would strengthen his arguments for establishment of more junior colleges in Michigan.

The new U-M tuition schedule announced for this fall sets undergraduate rates at $348 a year for Michigan residents and $1,000 for out-of-state students.

Democratic State Chairman Zolton Perency attacked the increase as having the effect "of closing college doors to an even greater number of youngsters seeking a better education."

Gov. George Romney, without specifically agreeing or disagreeing with the tuition boost, has defended the U-M regents' right to take the action.

Michigan State University's board of trustees meets today to consider MSU's 1965-66 budget, * * *

MSU now charges $334 a year for residents and $670 for non-residents.

Impact of Discipline Felt Through Life's Entirety

By United Press International

Discipline is and has always been a most important aspect of parent-child relationships. It involves much more than punishments and rewards for various kinds of behavior. The way in which parents handle their children's behavior will often affect the way in which these children will act when they become adults.

There are two major kinds of discipline. The one most commonly used and understood is that kind which is required and enforced by an outside source.

The teacher, principal, policeman, and parent are usually the enforcers. They obtain good and proper behavior, because the children do not wish to be punished.

This type of discipline works well when the enforcer is present. If the enforcer is not present, the child may or may not follow the rules.

ADULT DRIVER

It will depend upon whether or not he thinks he will be caught. It is similar to the adult driver who stays within the speeds when he thinks he will not be caught.

The other major kind of discipline can be called self-discipline.

It is the type which an individual imposes upon himself. If this can be properly achieved, it is obviously the more desirable and effective.

The individual who is self-disciplined does not require constant supervision. His behavior is acceptable in all situations. He tends to be a more responsible and dependable person.

FIRST STEP

How can parents help their child develop proper behavior patterns? The first step is to become aware of what behavior is reasonable to expect for their child.

This will depend upon his age, the neighborhood, and his present development. Do not expect a child to be perfect.

A group of children who are playing will not be quiet. They can be expected to avoid dangerous and wild actions. If you are having difficulty determining a standard, listen to a group of adults when they get together for a small party or discussion.

The next step is to make sure that the child knows what is expected of him and understands why. He will surely need reminders along the way. Children often forget when they are excited or involved in an interesting activity.

CONSISTENCY

Another important part of discipline, regardless of the type, is consistency. Do not keep changing requirements and standards. This will only confuse the child. If a change is needed, the child should know the reason.

Your child needs to know that you have confidence in him. Give him responsibility. Show that you trust him. This can be done by explaining what he should do and then permitting him to go off on his own.

Parents should not go to extremes. Remember that self-discipline is excellent but there is also a need for imposed discipline and the required supervision.

There are times when a child must be told that he is to do a particular thing simply because his parent is telling him to do so.

Discipline is needed for all children. It should be administered with good judgment and understanding.

Local Skaters Speeding After Trophy

DEFENDING CHAMPION—Scott Harrity, 12, will be defending three juvenile division titles in the North American Roller Skating Championships which begin Saturday in Lincoln, Neb.

Competing under the Rolladum Skating Club colors, Scott, of 8324 Fox Bay, Union Lake, won the Class B speed, singles and figures crowns in 1964.

Pontiac Rolladum Skating Club is emphasizing speed this year in an attempt to recapture the national team championship that slipped away in 1964 for only the second time in the last 12 years.

The quest starts Saturday at Lincoln, Neb. when the North American Roller Skating Championships start a week-long run.

In the past, Rolladum relied on the arts — figures, singles, dance, pairs and fours — to dominate the championships. Speed skating had to take a back seat.

This began to change last year and the reversal is now complete.

Pontiac skaters are among the favorites in eight of the 10 speed events in which Rolladum has qualifiers. Local skaters are listed among the contenders in only five of the art events which make up the bulk of the championships.

Scott Harrity, one of the top young skaters in the world, is heavily favored to repeat his 1964 feat of three North American championships. The 12-year-old Union Lake skater won Class B speed, singles and figures in the juvenile division.

DEFENDING TITLES

He is defending all three. Young Scott has taken speed titles in the North American the last five years.

Diane Grassi, the 1964 intermediate ladies singles titleholder, has moved up to the senior division. Bert Anselmi, coach of the Rolladum team, gives the 17-year-old Miss Grassi, of 2802 Voorhees, a good chance of winning.

"She's skating very well, close to top form," he said. "Diane was second in the Ecudid regional, but I think she can beat the girl who was above her."

"There's one thing that should be remembered," An-selmi pointed out. "The Great Lakes regional is the strongest in the United States and anyone finishing in the top three must be considered in the North American."

Rolladum's speed relay

GI Golfer in Finals of German Tourney

HAMBURG, Germany (R) — Barry Terjesen of Akron, Ohio, a soldier stationed in Germany, reached the finals of the German Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday.

The 23-year-old-Yank, based at Frankfurt, will meet Ole Wiberg, the Danish amateur champion, in the finals Thursday.

Terjesen defeated Cecil Beamish of Ireland, 1-up in the morning and eliminated England's Duncan Marshall-Andrew 2 and 1 in the afternoon semi-finals.

teams are rated among the best in the country. The mixed quartet appears to be the strongest. Diane Bellicki, Janet Ford, Gerald Goss and Rick Gross scored at the top of the individual speed events in the regional.

Miss Bellicki took intermediate ladies and Miss Ford the senior ladies. Goss was senior men with Gross second. They teamed to win the regional.

Diane Scofield and Carmen Hinesen join with Misses Ford and Bellicki to form a strong ladies relay team that won in the regional. Goss and Gross are members of the winning regional men's relay squad that includes John Halpin and Bill Miller.

Karen Hayden and Joan Hartley, who finished 1-3 in the regional, give the Pontiac team another pair of contenders in juvenile B girls speed.

Halpin is rated a good chance in novice men's singles. He teamed with Barbara Schultz to win the regional novice entry—Miss Scofield and David Downing — won in the state most and placed second in the regional.

The two teams are rated about even.

The senior fours team of Miss Scofield, Miss Grassi, Downing and Dennis Horral won at the regional, and is among the North American favorites.

Local skaters began leaving for Lincoln yesterday. Formal opening ceremonies are Friday night and competition begins Saturday.

Mrs. Marge Keith of Bloomfield Hills aced the 145-yard ninth hole at Stonycroft Country Club Tuesday using a 4-wood. She carded a 41 for the nine holes.

1-2 Softball Teams Hold Spots

Orchard Lanes and the Pontiac Merchants posted wins last night to maintain their 1-2 position in the Pontiac National Softball League race.

Orchard Lanes (12-8) nipped Idle Time Bar (8-4), 2-1, and the Merchants (12-4) dumped Francis Coal & Oil (3-12), 10-7.

In international games, Michigan Bell (6-4) knocked off league-leading Beckner Finance (11-4), 5-4, and Motorcar Transport (8-6) blanked Bud & Lou's Bar (4-11), 3-0.

A couple of walks, a passed ball and Bob Minion's single gave Orchard Lanes its two runs in the third inning. Minion had both of the winners hits. His second, a double, came in the fifth.

Ken Boussum held Idle Time to a pair of hits, a triple by Jim Smith in the fifth and a double by Jim Skinner in the seventh.

12-HIT ATTACK

The Merchants banged out 12 hits in taming Francis Coal. Jim Bird, Bob Poe and Gene Land collected two safeties apiece to spark the winners.

Larry Bell picked up a pair of singles to lead Michigan Bell past Beckners. Harry Diehl and Bill Green shared honors for the losers with two hits apiece.

Gary Achenbach scattered seven hits and fanned seven batters in pitching Motorcar to victory.

In Waterford Township action, Huron Bowl (7-4) downed Howes

Lanes (6-10), 4-1, and Day's Sm-Harry (10-4) edged Bob & Larry (8-9), 4-3.

Huron Bowl scored three runs in the bottom of the third to wrap up the decision over Howes. Max Jarrett tossed a five-hitter to pick up the win.

Relief hurler Bob Fraser pitched two innings and closed a two-run home run in the sixth to provide Day's with the tying and winning runs. Bill LaRose went four-for-four for the losers.

Ex-Tiger Hurls 1-Hitter

Pete Craig, ex-Tiger bonus baby from U. of Da fired a one-hitter for Hawaii over Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League. Ray Webster touched him for the only safety, a single in the seventh, but was erased in a double play. Craig faced the minimum 27 batters. A homer by John Wojcik wrapped up Hawaii's scoring.

U.N. Report: Some Slums Beneficial

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. report on housing says some slums benefit their inhabitants and should be improved instead of torn down.

It complains that the dwindling size of houses and apartments is helping break up the three-generation household and separates old people from children and grandchildren.

An anonymous consultant wrote the report for a committee of the U.N. Social Commissions. While aimed mainly at developing countries, it says its subject is of worldwide concern and important "in Moscow, Delhi, Lima and Chicago."

"The clearance of slums, including squatter towns," it declares, "should be kept to the minimum during the next few years. Few cities can afford to demolish any residential structure until the housing supply and number of new jobs are increased. But the improvement of slums, especially the improvement of sanitary conditions, should be greatly accelerated.

BENEFITS LISTED

The report lists four benefits that slum dwellers derive from the very fact that they live in slums: lack of legal and social controls; the low rents or low housing costs; proximity to the heart of the city where job opportunities are concentrated; and the traditional security that exists where persons live in natural groups of extended family, tribe, nationally, religion or caste.

The lack of controls permits the slum dweller — all over the world — to do what he pleases in and with his dwelling," the document explains. "A woman can set up beauty parlor equipment in her living room, hang a sign in the front window and earn a living without paying shop rent. Families can crowd together and lease a room or rooms to supplement their earnings."

"None of these activities are allowed to take place in a proper housing project, yet the very way that these poor households can make ends meet is by taking advantage of the lack of controls.

"Relatives take care of their own. In communities which are closely knit because of their national origin, the help will come in the form of a 'little credit over the weekend' or 'until payday' from the grocer on the corner."

Cockfighting goes back at least 3,000 years.

Pontiac City Hall May Be Slipping

Pontiac's hilltop City Hall could one day topple from its lofty perch. The municipal structure may be slipping, not figuratively but literally.

At least City Engineer Joseph E. Nepling has evidence that would indicate downhill movement of the two-story building.

Nepling, whose office is at ground level on the backside of the building, admits his evidence might be mere coincidence.

"It's still in the realm of coincidence," he says.

Nevertheless, Nepling points out that the building has sustained two broken water lines in successive years, 1963 and 1964.

The city engineer said the breaks appeared to be caused by unusual stress conditions.

"It's probably the way the building was set up," Nepling explained, "but if another pipe breaks this year, I'll be real serious about this."

Opened in 1955, the $1.2-million City Hall is built on 16-acre parcel that makes up a civic center district along East Wide Track.

Other buildings on the parcel include a police station and new offices for the Pontiac Board of Education.

City Hall sits on top of a rolling hill about 300 feet above East Wide Track, the city's new loop road.

Commenting on the slippage evidence, Nepling said some sort of action would be indicated if there were any other signs of movement, like cracking in walls or floors.

However, he said there is no significant cracking in the building.

LAND MASS

If there is movement, City Hall might not be moving, but the entire land mass might, according to Nepling.

"It might be the ground shifting," he added.

He said movement of a thousandths of an inch could have broken the cast iron water pipes.

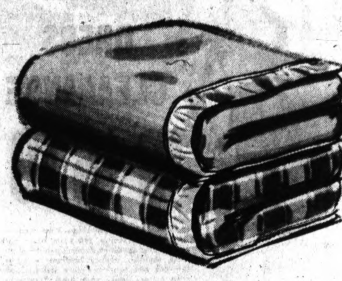

Meantime, one wit observed: "Well, if it does come tumbling down like the fabled Walls of Jericho, it sure will confuse traffic on Wide Track."

Trading Dull, Prices Mixed

Market Is on Uncertain Course

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pursued an uncertain course, with trading dull and prices mixed early today. Wall Street had its eyes cocked toward Washington, awaiting possible major decisions regarding Viet Nam.

Fractional gains were the general rule among key stocks. Among exceptions were Du Pont, off about a point and a half, and Xerox, up a couple points.

REBOUNDED
McKesson & Robbins rebounded

Moderate gains were made by General Electric, Polaroid, U.S. Smelting, American Telephone and IBM.

OPENING BLOCKS

Opening blocks included: Chrysler, off 1/4 at 43 1/4; 4,400 shares; AT&T, up 1/4 at 60 1/4; and Westinghouse Electric, off 1/4 at 47 1/4.

47 Bills Signed by Governor

Money and Health Measures Head List

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney yesterday signed 47 bills into law, including a $39.8 million general appropriation bill.

The general appropriation bill appropriates money to run the legislature, state courts, executive office and state agencies.

Other bills included measures in the areas of health, aging, agriculture and conservation among others.

One of the health bills requires every county to maintain a local health department and increases the level of state financial support for such departments.

The only exception would be in cases where district health departments have been formed.

The increased financial support called for in the administration bill will be based on 10 cents per capita for counties and five cents per capita for cities based on the last federal census.

The mid-term grant to any county will be $7,000 and the increased cost of the bill was estimated at $23,000.

Other measures signed by the governor included: A bill providing general property tax exemptions for certain types of air pollution control equipment facilities when the state health commissioner certifies that the equipment is used for air pollution control.

A bill establishing an institute of gerontology for joint operation by the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

A bill reducing residency requirement for old-age assistance qualification from five years to one year.

Companion bills joining Michigan with other states in an interstate compact to govern the care of mental patients and to permit admission of persons to hospitals from out of state.

A bill establishing a state program for agriculture commodities marketing, including promotion and advertising, and a bill to create a Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Two bills which adopt the U.S. Public Health Code for Grade "A" milk and milk products and for milk used for manufacturing.

That government planners already were looking to other tax cuts or increased spending of one sort or another as necessary to achieve the growth goals is indicated by Gordon Achley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, in testimony before members of the joint House-Senate Economic Committee.

The council would like to see the economy grow at a rate of 4 percent a year between now and 1970. He says that to achieve this the government would probably have to continue taxing and spending policies that would result in still more federal budget deficits.

REVENUE RISE
If the economy grows by 4 percent each year, federal tax revenue would rise by 10 percent.

Stocks to Taxes

War Muddles Plans

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—The Viet Nam war hangs over the stock market. It also clouds the prospects for another tax cut. It threatens to swell the defense budget again. It makes uncertain the plans of many young Americans, either of draft age or in Reserve or National Guard units and the immediate future of their families.

Stock traders get skittier when the news out of Viet Nam looks really bad as distinguished from just bad as usual.

And when the traders take to the sidelines and cut their risks, prices of many stocks fall, however temporarily. War scrambles the plans of business concerns as well as of individuals.

Hopes of another federal tax cut in 1966 have been riding right now in the business outlook for next year made a tax cut seem more likely. The idea was that a tax cut would be the cool, the administration would use to pep up personal incomes and thus consumer buying, and hence industrial activity.

BUDGET BOOST
But if the Viet Nam war takes a much larger assignment of U.S. troops and money, the defense budget will rise next year.

And increased federal spending also is regarded as a pep pill for the economy. This might be all that the administration considered necessary to keep the economy growing.

That government planners already were looking to other tax cuts or increased spending of one sort or another as necessary to achieve the growth goals is indicated by Gordon Achley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, in testimony before members of the joint House-Senate Economic Committee.

enues will rise because the growth will produce still higher personal incomes and still higher corporate earnings from which the Treasury will collect income taxes.

But Achley thinks it doubtful that much, if any, of these increased federal revenues can be used to reduce the steadily growing federal debt. He says that to use them for that purpose would discourage economic growth—and thus lower the personal and corporate incomes on which the Treasury could levy its taxes.

As to which will get priority in keeping the economy rolling—tax cuts or spending—Achley says much will depend on the size of the Viet Nam war. If its cost rises sharply, increased government spending would mean tax cuts less attractive. In war time, the tendency is for tax rates to rise, not fall.

The government would need the money. It also would want to discourage private spending for industrial goods that might compete with government demands for them.

Whether it's a peacetime stimulating of an already expanding economy, or a wartime stimulation through government spending, the outlook seems to be for some sort of intervention by Washington to forestall any slackening or downturn in the months ahead.

Successful Investing

Q "At 35 years of age, I own my own business. In 1957 I invested $10,000 in stocks and lost half of it, mostly in low-priced stocks. I would like to buy $5,000 to $10,000 each year into good sound growth stocks with a fair return. What issues should I buy to hold for a long period of time until my retirement?"

C. M.
A) I am sorry to hear that you got off to a bad start in the stock market. As you have discovered, low - priced issues can be very expensive and higher-priced stocks relatively cheap, depending on the values involved.

For your long-term goal, I would buy only the soundest stocks which have demonstrated their ability to increase consistently in earnings, dividends and price over a period of years. Since good growth stocks don't yield very much, you will have to be content with a relatively low return. I suggest Commonwealth Edison; Sears, Roebuck; Bristol-Myers; Texaco.

Q "I am 17 years old and want your advice on what stocks I should purchase with money I have saved. I want stocks with the best chance of success in the future. I have picked McGraw-Hill or Xerox for growth. Which would you advise?"

P.B.
A) Both your selection are of excellent quality, but Xerox has the greater growth potential as well as by far the bigger market risk. Share earnings have risen consistently from 13 cents in 1960 to $1.08 in 1964. The stock is quite volatile, and sells at over 50 times estimated earnings for this year.

The high earnings multiple makes the stock unsuitable for most investors, but if you are ambitious enough to read all the business news you can get hold of, particularly about the office equipment field, you would be justified in buying Xerox on the basis of its present strong outlook.

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was mostly about steady today in a rather quiet opening of the Board of Trade.

Soybeans were unchanged to 1/4 cent a bushel higher, August $2.74 1/4-7/8; wheat unchanged to 1/4 higher, September $1.45 1/4-1/2; corn 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, September $1.24 1/4-1/2; oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, September 67 cents.
