Ruling on Policy Honors Request by Rev. Parker

Commissioners Table Resolution to Forbid Nonwarrant Raids

The City Commission last night unanimously approved a resolution which places stricter controls on the release of police information on arrests to news media.

The policy-making statement was one of two resolutions proposed after a series of complaints from commissioners and the public over Pontiac Police Department procedures.

A second resolution, offered by Commissioner Milton R. Henry, designed to prevent raids on alleged gambling places without search warrants, was tabled for further study.

The police information resolution was offered by Mayor Robert Landry and supported by Henry. It came in answer to a request made two weeks ago by Rev. J. Allen Parker, pastor of Newman AME Church.

Rev. Parker had protested "false arrest" and information released by police to news media after he was mistaken for a burglar Aug. 21, shot by a property owner and held by police for questioning.

Last night's resolution, in effect, says that henceforth all information regarding arrests must come from Police Chief Joseph Koren or a person designated by him to make statements to the press, radio and other news media.

Commissioners pledged their full support in backing City Manager Robert A. Stierer and Koren in enforcement of the policy.

The document states that "the uncontrolled releasing of information on arrests in our police department has proven detrimental to the good and welfare of some of our citizens.

"This lack of control tends to cater to those who thrive on notoriety."

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution states that "this Commission, through the mandate of its electors, must guarantee against all possibilities of preferential treatment of any of its citizens.

"Therefore," it orders, "no information on arrests will hereby be allowed to be taken by or given to either the press or radio or any other medium of public information, by anyone except the chief . . . or any one person specifically designated by him."

Nailing the mandate down, the document concludes that the Commission "will not condone any infraction of the new policy . . . by any individual or any group of individuals regardless of rank or seniority."

Rev. Parker, present at the meeting, thanked commissioners for passage of what he termed

To Oppose GOP's Lodge

Ted Predicts Fall Victory

BOSTON—Ted Kennedy predicted confidently today he would move into the Senate seat his brother vacated to become President of the United States.

His Republican opponent in November will be George Cabot Lodge.

The election battle will be a renewal of a feud between two political dynasties that has stretched over almost five decades.

The youngest member of the Kennedy clan, taking his first plunge into national politics at the age of 30, minimum age for a senator, set in motion a tidal wave of votes that swamped Edward J. Mc Cormack, his opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

The tide was running so strongly against Mc Cormack that he conceded defeat last night when returns were in from only one-fifth of the state's 1,988 precincts. The crusher came when Teddy carried Eddie's own home ward in Boston.

MAKES PREDICTION

A few moments later Kennedy, in a voice that sounds remarkably like that of the President of the United States, paid a neat tribute to Mc Cormack and then predicted: "We will carry the battle forward to victory in November."

Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge, defeated Congressman Laurence Curtis for the Republican senatorial nomination.

There's a third candidate going into the November election for the Senate, Harvard Prof. H. Stuart Hughes, running as an independent bypassing the primary.

Hughes has a famous name, too. He is a grandson of the late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who was the Republican nominee for president in 1916.

Flushed with his landslide victory, Kennedy made an early start

Rocky to Be GOP's Man Against Morgenthau

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Republicans will renominate Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller tonight to battle a Democratic state ticket headed by Robert M. Morgenthau and including the first Negro to be nominated by either party for statewide office in New York.

The Negro Protestant, Edward Dudley, 51, borough president of Manhattan and former U.S. ambassador to Liberia, was nominated for attorney general last night at a seemingly serene convention session in Syracuse that also named prisoner-swap lawyer James B. Donovan to run for the U.S. Senate.

Rockefeller will be acclaimed at tonight's final session of a harmonious, two-day convention here that contrasted sharply with the chaotic Democratic session that finally chose former U.S. Atty. Morgenthau early yesterday.

Morgenthau, 43, promised to give Rockefeller, 54, "The fight of his life."

Donovan, 46, will challenge Republican incumbent Jacob K. Javits, 58, who won renomination by acclamation last night. Both live in New York City.

Rockefeller's other running mates were lined up for nomination late this afternoon.

Donovan has been negotiating with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro for the release of invasion prisoners. Earlier, he played a key role in the exchange of Soviet spy Rudolph Abel for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Senate Groups OK Troops 'if Necessary'

Would Resist Commie Aggression in Cuba, This Hemisphere

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees unanimously approved today a resolution declaring the United States will use troops if necessary to resist Communist aggression in this hemisphere.

The joint resolution, which both Senate and House are expected to approve Thursday, would require the signature of President Kennedy and reflect unanimity between the White House and Congress in the determination by the United States:

"To prevent by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist-Leninist regime in Cuba from extending by force or threat of force its aggressive or subversive activities to any part of this hemisphere."

It also would put the President and Congress on record in asserting determination:

1. "To prevent in Cuba the creation or use of an externally supported military capability endangering the security of the United States."

2. "To work with the Organization of American States and with freedom-loving Cubans to support

High temperatures for the next five days will hover around 70. Lows are expected to dip into the high 40s.

Fair and cool is the forecast for tonight and Thursday. A few showers are predicted for Saturday and Sunday.

Northwest to northerly morning winds at 5 miles per hour will become 5 to 15 m.p.h. tonight.

Fifty was the recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 58 at 2 p.m.

1963 Pontiac Previewed; Expect New Sales High

By HARRY J. REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

DETROIT—A stronger hold on third-place in the industry and a bigger share of the auto market were the 1963 predictions for Pontiac Motor Division at the press preview of the new line here today.

The predictions came from E. M. Estes, division general manager and vice president of General Motors.

E. M. ESTES

Estes said the new Pontiacs would stress performance, styling and reliability.

"With a distinctively restyled Pontiac line, a completely new Tempest and the elegant Grand Prix luxury car, Pontiac expects to capture 8½ per cent of the domestic auto market — the division's highest market penetration ever," Estes said.

Estes didn't give a concrete prediction for auto sales in '63, but did venture that he saw no reason why the high sales volume should not continue. Pontiac has nearly 8 per cent of the industry in calendar '62.

The new Pontiac and Tempest models will go on display Oct. 4. The Grand Prix will be unveiled Friday.

In styling for the 1963 model, the now-traditional split grille is further enhanced by twin vertical headlights.

The majority of today's car buyers want bigger cars, Estes said in discussing the trend toward the medium-priced car.

"They do not want bigness for bigness alone. They want simplicity and performance as well," he added.

14 MODELS

"We feel we have combined these two ingredients to meet the ever-growing customer demand for automobiles of this type. For 1963 we have made the Pontiac look longer, wider and lower without materially changing exterior dimensions."

Pontiac will continue 14 models; seven in the Catalina series, two in the Star Chief; four in the Bonneville and the Grand Prix sports coupe.

For 1963, the Tempest will be five inches longer, and two inches wider. It will be offered in five different body styles, two-door sports coupe, two-door coupe, four-door sedan, convertible and four-door Safari station wagon.

UAW Sets Goals for '64 Pacts

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union, already taking aim on next round of contract talks with the auto industry, today outlined three goals for 1964:

—Shorter working hours.
—Better sick benefits.
—Elimination of time clocks.

Ken Bannon, a UAW director and head of its Ford department, said he was serious about time clocks which workers traditionally punch when they enter or leave the factories on their shifts.

"They're no longer necessary," Bannon said. "The foreman's time sheet is used for payroll purposes."

Bannon acknowledged that eliminating the time clock would help wipe out the distinction between hourly and salaried workers — something the UAW tried unsuccessfully to do last year when it asked that blue collar workers be paid salaries just like their white collar counterparts.

Unprecedented Powers Given to Cut Tariffs

Measure Now Going to House Where No Trouble Expected

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy won his greatest legislative victory since entering the White House today when the Senate passed a trade bill giving him unprecedented new powers to cut tariffs.

The bill was the most revolutionary measure in this field since the 1934 Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act.

The roll call vote was 78 to 8.

The strong vote for the bill gave the President a smashing victory on the legislation which he had placed at the very top of his list in the 87th Congress.

Administration forces in the Senate, after a shaky start, beat down every significant amendment and the bill was cleared with all its far-reaching provisions intact.

Nearly all of that was accomplished in a session that ran past last midnight. A compromise on a technical point today cleared the way for a Senate vote.

The measure now goes to conference with the House which passed it June 28. But this presents no problem to the administration since it agreed to practically all the minor changes made in the Senate.

Kennedy offered the bill as a measure to open big new markets to U.S. industry and provide hundreds of thousands of additional jobs, to enable this country to work out effective economic arrangements with the European Common Market, and to increase its export surplus and end the serious balance of payments deficit.

The provisions aimed at broad new trade arrangements with the Common Market are regarded by the administration as the heart of the bill.

This west European area, with its rapidly rising standard of living, is envisioned as a vast new field for sales of American consumer goods.

The administration also strongly stressed the political importance of building up an economically flourishing free world as a counterpoise to the Soviet bloc.

New Curfew OK'd for City

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White won't have to worry about ringing the curfew bell anymore—the city has a new curfew ordinance.

The old ordinance — 47 years old — was rescinded at last night's City Commission meeting and replaced with a new version "more in line with state curfew laws."

One part of the 1915 ordinance decreed that the fire chief "shall ring or cause to be rung the bell at the fire station as a curfew signal for at least 30 seconds duration, at 10 minutes before the evening (curfew) hour."

Although the practice has long since been abandoned, it still remained on the books "as a warning to all persons in the City of Pontiac."

Mac Given Okay on Common Mart

LONDON (AP)—Commonwealth leaders today gave Prime Minister Harold Macmillan a carefully-hedged go-ahead to continue his efforts to lead Britain into the European Common Market.

But the Commonwealth statesmen took the action on the firm understanding that Britain will take account of Commonwealth fears and seek a better deal for Britain's Commonwealth partners when negotiations with the six Common Market countries are resumed in two weeks.

A communique, issued after an unhappy 10-days of wrangling, catalogued various reservations expressed by the Commonwealth leaders.

The communique said the Commonwealth prime ministers trusted that a closer association between Britain and Europe "would not be allowed, as it developed, to weaken the cohesion of the Commonwealth or its influence for peace and progress in the world."

The lengthy document was issued at the end of summit talks between 16 countries of Britain's worldwide alliance.

MARATHON DISPUTE

It was preceded by a marathon dispute over Britain's proposal to link up with Europe. Almost every one of Britain's partners expressed fears and anxieties that the project would hurt their old-time trading arrangements and political unity.

The communique explained that various Commonwealth leaders had expressed "the economic points of special concern to their respective countries and the extent to which their interests had not so far been met" in the Common Market negotiations.

A key passage of the communique said:

"The prime ministers expressed the readiness of their governments to join in comprehensive international efforts by all available means to expand world trade both in primary products and manufactures.

"They recognized the important contribution which the European Economic Community and other regional groups could make in such efforts.

"They hoped that the general objectives set out above would be shared by the members of the community."

The declaration said British ministers will "support a fresh and vigorous approach to the negotiation of international commodity agreements."

MEETS DEMANDS

This met demands voiced by Canada, New Zealand and Australia and other countries.

★ ★ ★

The three old "white" Commonwealth countries are all big producers of what officials describe as temperate foodstuffs—cereals and meat. All fear their economies would be gravely injured if they were suddenly denied the tariff-free arrangements to sell in Britain—arrangements that would have to end if Britain joins Europe on terms so far gained in negotiations with the Common Market six — France, West Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

City Approves Projects at Pontiac Airport in '64

The City Commission has given its stamp of approval to a proposed $120,000 improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport for 1964.

★ ★ ★

At last night's City Commission meeting, a resolution was adopted authorizing City Manager Robert A. Stierer and Airport Manager Homer D. Hoskins to get cost estimates on the plan from consulting engineers and file applications for federal and state aid.

The city's share would not exceed $30,000.

Last night's move allocated $5,000 from the 1962 capital improvement fund as an advance payment "in good faith" and will allocate the balance from next year's capital improvement fund.

Under the formula for financing airport improvements, 50 per cent would be paid with a federal grant with the city and state paying 25 per cent each.

Three major projects are called for in the proposed 1964 plan.

1. Widen part of the North-South and East-West taxiways from 40 feet to 75 feet.

2. Widen the aircraft parking ramp between hangars No. 1 and No. 2 from 75 feet to 200 feet wide.

3. Install a five-foot high, chain-link fence from the terminal building along the entrance road and around the commercial hangar area and the proposed widening of the aircraft parking ramp, to Airport Road.

The project is designed to keep the airport's long range improvement program in motion but at the same time avoid any large expenditures until the county has decided if it will help finance future expansion of the facility.

★ ★ ★

The proposed project is considerably smaller than the $388,000 project currently being completed at the airport as the 1962 improvement program. There is no program slated for 1963.

Army Heads Fight Rebels in Argentina

BUENOS, AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentine army commanders waged a fierce new tug-of-war today with a rebel faction demanding President Jose Maria Guido's government be freed from military dictation.

Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, commander of the big Camp de Mayo garrison just outside Buenos Aires, declared in sparking the revolt that Guido must face up to the issue of "democracy or dictatorship."

Ongania charged Guido was "surrounded by army cliques" bent on establishing a military dictatorship.

War Secretary Gen. Jose Cornejo Saravia, whose appointment was to appease another group of rebels, was the chief target of the career army officers because of his recent shakeup of commands.

Troops under Gen. Ongania also are demanding the resignation of Gen. Juan Lorio as commander in Chief, and his chief of staff, Gen. Bernardino Labayru.

Argentine newsmen said they saw tanks move out of the base of the 1st Armored Regiment and head for La Plata, only 35 miles southeast of Buenos Aires, in an apparent show of support for the Campo de Mayo garrison outside the capital.

But the war secretariat denied there had been any troop movements anywhere. The secretariat said only "exploratory vehicles" had left the armored camp. It gave no details.

He also called on fishermen aboard a trawler, and had a "mug up" — hot coffee — and some breakfast with them.

Kennedy ran better than 2-1 in the voting across the state over Mc Cormack, nephew of House Speaker John W. Mc Cormack, D-Mass.

LODGE VOTE TIGHTER

Lodge was in a closer battle for the GOP nomination with Curtis. The lead see-sawed back and forth.

Shortly before 2:30 a.m., Lodge made his victory speech at his lection headquarters.

Curtis' concession came later, with a congratulatory message and a promise of support in the election campaign.

The complete returns in the Kennedy - McCormack contest, from 1088 precincts, gave Kennedy 559,251 to 247,366 for Mc Cormack.

The Democrats nominated a Yankee blueblood, Endicott (Chub) Peabody to head their state ticket as the candidate for governor.

Peabody defeated Clement A. Riley, state auto registrar. Peabody will run against incumbent Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, a son of Italian immigrant parents, who was renominated for a second term without opposition.

The Republicans placed a Negro on their ticket, nominating Edward W. Brooke for attorney general.

Brooke was the first Negro on a statewide ticket in Massachusetts two years ago when he ran unsuccessfully for secretary of state.

Red China Vote No Woe to U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States today welcomed another chance to combat Russia's attempt to replace Nationalist China with Red China in the United Nations.

U.S. sources said Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson would raise no objections to a full debate on the issue when it comes before the General Assembly's steering committee this afternoon.

The United States was confident the Assembly would repeat last year's impressive support for Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Put to a direct vote for the first time in 10 years, the margin for the Nationalists increased by four votes over the 1960 tally, which was on a motion to shelve the issue.

In addition, the United States last year won overwhelming Assembly approval for its demand that any change in the present Chinese representation in the assembly be decided by a two-thirds vote.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, putting the question up for the agenda yesterday, demanded the Nationalists be ousted from all U.N. organs in favor of the Peiping regime.

This issue, plus a probable East-West clash on listing the Hungarian question for debate, promised the only real fireworks in the 21 - nation committee's consideration of 93 items proposed for the 1962 agenda.

The Assembly, opening its 17th annual session yesterday, elected Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan as president, succeeding Mongi Slim of Tunisia. Zafrulla defeated G. P. Malalasekera of Ceylon 72-27 in a secret ballot.

The assembly then completed its first day's work by electing to membership the African countries of Rwanda and Burundi and the two former British Caribbean colonies of Jamaica and Trinidad-and-Tobago.

the aspirations of the Cuban people for self-determination."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told reporters that all 33 members of the two committees, some of whom were absent, supported the resolution.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., acting chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he understood the House Foreign Affairs Committee was meeting at 3:30 p.m. to consider final action on language identical to the Senate proposal.

Sparkman said that key figures of the House Committee were in consultation with the Senate committees during this morning's closed session.

The joint resolution bases the policy declaration on the Monroe Doctrine and the Rio treaty of 1947, under which the American states agreed that an attack on one would be considered an attack on all.

Also cited is the declaration of the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States at Punta del Este, Uruguay, last January that the Fidel Castro government in Cuba has identified itself with the Marxist-Leninist ideology and accepts military assistance from outside powers, "including even the threat of military intervention in America on the part of the Soviet Union."

And it says that "the international Communist movement has increasingly extended into Cuba its political, economic and military sphere of influence."

Russell told newsmen that adoption of the resolution by the two houses and its signing by the President would demonstrate "the unity we all seek."

Sparkman, who will be floor manager for the resolution when it is brought up Thursday in the Senate, said he anticipated quick passage.

Landry asked the city manager to see that there were no more "tip-over raids" (those made without warrants) and a police report and legal opinion be prepared before commission action is taken.

School Offices Move Urged

City Commissioners Seeking Relocation Close to City Hall

The City Commission officially went on record last night as approving the relocation of the Pontiac School District Administrative Offices in the civic center.

In a resolution recognizing the fact that present school administration offices at 40 Patterson St. will be purchased and demolished under the R44 urban renewal project, commissioners urged relocation near city hall.

SITE SUGGESTED

The resolution was drafted in view of the fact that "the board of education has expressed an interest in constructing a new administration building in the civic center area, which is part of Urban Renewal Project No. 1, and building a garage and service building in the Northwest corner of Aaron Perry Park."

The park is located in the vicinity of Saginaw and Montcalm Streets.

Last night's resolution "endorses and approves the concept of a new board of education administration building in the civic center area on a site and at a cost to be agreed upon after site plans and estimates are further developed, in line with the urban renewal plan and re-use value."

The document also states the city will "consider selling or leasing a parcel of city-owned property" near Montcalm and Saginaw for a garage and service building.

Further talks on the agreement will be held and plans are to be submitted to the Commission at a later date.

BIRMINGHAM — A panel discussion on Birmingham's future will be conducted early next month as the first of two programs scheduled by the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library for October.

The second program will deal with the United State's policy on the Common Market.

Panelists at the Oct. 2 program at the library include Mayor Florence Willett; Robert Thom, noted area artist; and Ward Ouradnik, director of the Community House.

Title of the 8:15 p.m. discussion is "Birmingham Introspection." It will be illustrated by slides.

Philip H. Trezise will be the guest speaker at the second program on Oct. 29.

Trezise is deputy assistant secretary for economic affairs for the Department of State and a noted authority on the Common Market.

A 1939 graduate of the University of Michigan, Trezise has been with the State Department since 1946.

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission announced today that it has approved $700,000 of tax anticipation notes to be issued by the Bloomfield Hills School District.

Mrs. Lloyd M. McQuater

Service for former Birmingham resident Mrs. Lloyd M. (Violet E.) McQuater, 57, of 130 Haband St., Troy, was held yesterday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. McQuater died Saturday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

A retired teacher she had taught at the Sherrard Intermediate School, Detroit, from 1929-31 and at the Birmingham High School from 1931-33.

She was a member of Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of the Eastern Star.

Surviving besides her husband is a sister.

Two Guards Escape Prisoners

MONTREAL (AP) — Two guards held hostage for eight hours by prisoners at Bordeaux Jail escaped today by a dramatic jump of 50 feet to freedom.

Both guards were caught in nets spread by firemen but they suffered injuries in the plunge.

Jail officials quickly crushed the revolt by nine prisoners who had been confined to the mental ward on the fourth floor of the jail.

The guards were seized last night during an exercise period. The prisoners threatened to hurl them from the fourth tier of cells unless jail officials met their demands for more visiting privileges for families and the right to be treated by their personal doctors.

The two guards, Robert Chabot, father of seven children, and Gaston Monnier, made their jump into the nets when the convicts' attention was momentarily distracted by pleas to release the men.

Chabot and Monnier were taken to St. Luke Hospital, one with a dislocated shoulder, the other suffering shock.

Two-Car Crash on Walton Puts Four in Hospital

A Pontiac Township trustee, Wayne Devor, was seriously injured today in a two-car collision at Walton Boulevard and Pontiac Road, Pontiac Township.

A Pontiac mother, Mrs. Carl (Marian) Richardson, 22, and her two small children, 22-month-old Norman and six-week-old Claudia, were being held for observation at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. They live at 225 W. Ypsilanti.

Wayne Devor, 66, of 727 Coughlan Drive, Auburn Heights, was reported in serious condition with chest injuries at the same hospital.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Devor apparently pulled in front of the car driven by Mrs. Richardson at the intersection.

Mrs. Richardson said she was traveling about 40 miles per hour on Walton Boulevard when she saw Devor's car slow as if it were about to stop.

Suddenly, she said, he drove out in front of her car, heading northeast from Pontiac Road onto Squirrel Road.

New Curfew Law Approved for City

nance merely stated that all persons under 16 years old must be off the street by 9 p.m. during summer months and 8 p.m. in the winter months.

Parents of violators were liable to fines up to $50 or up to 30 days in jail or both upon conviction.

The new ordinance isn't as general.

It sets up laws for more than one age group and raises the penalty for parents and guardians to a fine up to $100, jail sentence up to 90 days or both. The youthful violators are to be turned over to Juvenile Court.

There are several sections relating to all minors.

One makes it illegal for anyone 17 or under to play billiards or pool in any billiard or pool hall at any time, unless in a private residence or club, school, church, fraternal or youth-serving agency or organization.

Another makes it "unlawful for any minor enrolled in any day school to remain in or loiter upon the premises of any restaurant, lunch room, candy store, confectionery, ice cream parlor, pool hall, billiard hall or bowling alley during the school hours of such minor."

All restrictions apply only to minors not accompanied by a parent, guardian or adult delegated by parents to accompany the minor. Minors on "emergency errands" aren't affected either.

Other sections place different restrictions on separate age groups as follows:

—Minors 11 years old and under: Unlawful to be on city streets, in public buildings and parks, etc. from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. Not permitted to remain in any theater or similar place of amusement after 7 p.m.

—12-17 years old: Must be off the streets from midnight to 6 a.m., except Friday night when the hours are 1-6 a.m. Must be out of movie theaters, etc., by 11 p.m. any day.

One section pertains only to bowling alleys and prohibits any minor age 15 or under to remain in such establishments during school hours unless as part of a school program.

The ordinance states it "shall not be construed to conflict with the state laws relative to employment of minors."

Originally drafted at the request of police, it was offered by Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. and went into effect immediately upon commission adoption as an emergency ordinance.

"To be effective this will need enforcement," Taylor noted. "If some parents are put on the carpet in future instances, it will make this law mean something.

Family-Sized Dart to Come in 9 Models

The Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. will introduce a new, larger, family-sized compact — the 1963 Dart — in nine models including two convertibles at dealer showrooms Oct. 2.

Built on a 111-inch wheelbase, the new Dart is 16 feet, 4 inches long and one of three separate Dodge lines for 1963. Others are the standard-sized Dodge and medium-priced Dodge 880.

All except the 880 will go on display Oct. 2. The 880 line will be introduced in December.

The nine Dart models will be offered in three series — the economical "170," the deluxe "270," and the "GT" sports series.

The GT series has two models: A two-door hardtop and a convertible, both with bucket seats. The "270" series features two- and four-door sedans, a convertible and a four-door, six-passenger station wagon.

The "170" series also includes two- and four-door sedans and a six-passenger wagon.

Dart buyers have a choice of two engines. Standard is a slant six with a 170-cubic-inch displacement. A larger, 225-cubic-inch "six" is a low-cost option.

Protection against corrosion has been increased by dipping the body in a deeper vat of special primer, using rustproof clips for body moldings, introducing an aluminized exhaust system and adding extra splash shields to keep dirt and salt from accumulating in underbody areas.

Included in the new items on the 1963 Dart are longer, parallel-action windshield wipers; a new all-transistor radio; a larger fuel tank, increased from 14 to 18 gallons; and redesigned seats for more support, comfort and longer life.

COMPACT BY DODGE — The highlight of Dodge's 1963-model line is this new Dodge Dart. A king-size compact designed as a family car, it is 195.9 inches long — small enough for easy handling and parking and large enough to provide roominess and comfort for the entire family. Pictured here is the Dart "270" four-door sedan, one of nine models available in three series.

Dallas County delegates offered an amendment opposing New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as the GOP presidential nominee but it was rejected by voice vote after Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., urged the gathering to promote harmony and not dissent.

Delay Convoy on Berlin Run

Reds Hold Up U. S. Troops More Than 3 Hours Today

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet guards held up a U.S. convoy on the highway from West Germany for more than three hours today because of what a U.S. Army spokesman called a misunderstanding of procedures.

* * *

The convoy was finally allowed to start the 110-mile journey across Communist East Germany. The 193 officers and men of the convoy were in 26 vehicles.

The Army spokesman said he could not give any more details of the reason for the delay. Many things can go wrong, he explained, when the Soviet officers are counting heads and checking the types of vehicles.

* * *

The movement was part of a replacement of battle groups in Berlin.

* * *

The men delayed belong to the 2nd Battle Group, 12th Infantry, part of the U.S. Army's 1st Division.

* * *

They will replace the 1st Battle Group, 8th Infantry, which belongs to the 4th Division.

State's Farmers Aid Algerian War Victims

NEW YORK (UPI) — Michigan farmers have sent 55,000 pounds of whole milk powder to help feed some of the thousands of victims of the long French-Algerian war.

Houston Trip Turns Into Political Rally

By ARTHUR EDSON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A president may not have politics uppermost in his mind every time he makes a move.

BACKGROUND SPECIAL REPORT OF THE NEWS

But once the deed is done, it's bound to have, for better or worse, political consequences.

No president has been more aware of this than John F. Kennedy.

Rarely has it been more sharply illustrated than in his trip last week to look over space installations at Huntsville, Ala., Cape Canaveral, St. Louis and here. Especially here.

This was advertised as a nonpolitical jaunt, and, on the surface, it was.

Kennedy dutifully mentioned the space program is bipartisan. He fetched along Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Senate Space Committee, to prove the GOP has no objections to the United States getting a man on the moon first.

But a few nagging questions kept bobbing up.

How come Kennedy chose to travel at this time? Could it be possible that with Congress still in session, and with Kennedy having no desire to stir up the animals, this was thought to be an ideal way to make news without creating problems?

A HURRY-UP TRIP

Could the President, or anyone else without scientific training, assimilate much on such a hurry up journey? A giant Saturn booster rocket, such as he saw at Huntsville, has to be seen and heard and felt—and be scared of—to be believed. But couldn't the President get as much information in one well-written letter, particularly since he's a speed reader?

★ ★ ★

Does the sight of a president scurrying through a plant or an installation really boost workers' morale. Or is it the morale of the Democratic party that gets the lift?

★ ★ ★

This thought was expressed in a cartoon by Jim Berryman of the Washington Evening Star. He drew a Democratic donkey applauding Kennedy and saying: "First in space, first in peace, first in November!"

Kennedy stood to reap a nice harvest of political hay even if it wasn't planned that way.

How can a politician miss if he goes all out for astronauts?

When Kennedy got to Houston all nonpolitical pretense was dropped.

Here in Texas they take their politics neat. No watering down, please.

SLAP IN THE FACE

Kennedy said he had invited only top representatives and senators on the space committees. This burned up Rep. Bob Casey, a Democrat in whose home district all the activity was to take place. Casey hasn't been too enthusiastic a New Frontiersman.

★ ★ ★

"All the earmarks of a slap in the face," Casey cried.

Not so, Kennedy told a news conference.

Kennedy brought along an all-star cast with this road show, including Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas' No. 1 politician, and David E. Bell, bureau of the budget director. Bell will have a lot to say about how much money is spent on Houston's Manned Space Center.

This burned up Jack Cox, Republican candidate for governor.

POLITICAL BLACKMAIL

"Political blackmail," he called it.

Mayor Lewis Cutrer whipped up a big, banner waving, enthusiastic crowd. The estimate of 200,000 people lining the road from the airport to town was generous. But, then, political estimates always are.

★ ★ ★

Finally, dispelling the last nonpolitical illusion, Kennedy talked long that night with Johnson and John Connally, Democratic candidate for governor.

"A nice, warm, friendly visit," Connally said.

And now, a note on what happens to men who don't become presidents. Lyndon Johnson was instrumental in getting the space center here. As a man who is wholly and unabashedly political, he was joyous at the big crowd.

But, horrors! A mistake. A convertible was available for Kennedy, so he could be seen and respond to the cheers. Through an error by Secret Service, Johnson had no convertible. He had to ride, unnoticed and uncheered, in an enclosed, air-conditioned limousine.

At least Johnson got a seat by the window.

Romney Blasts Discrimination

Gubernatorial Hopeful Backs Controversial Real Estate Rule 9

DETROIT (UPI)—George Romney said yesterday he endorsed the principles of the controversial Rule 9 which prohibits discrimination in real estate sales.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate also said he had a commitment from Nathan Stockmeyer, GOP secretary of state nominee, to support the "principles" of Rule 9.

Stockmeyer, former Wayne County Republican chairman and a real estate man, had been opposed to Rule 9, promulgated by the State Corporation and Securities Commission.

Romney said he would like to see Rule 9 changed from a ruling by an administrative board into a piece of legislation, and hopes to do that if he is elected.

15-POINT ORDINANCE

The former auto executive also endorsed the proposed Detroit city ordinance advanced by freshman Councilman James Brickley. Brickley asked for a 15-point ordinance designed to ban alleged "block-busting" tactics by some salesmen in changing neighborhoods.

★ ★ ★

Under Rule 9, a real estate broker could not act as agent for a seller if the owner put restrictions on his property based on race, creed or national origin.

Minister Dead at 70

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Robbins Wolcott Barstow, 70, died in a hospital Tuesday night. The Congregational minister, who retired in 1959, was an executive of the National Council of Churches in New York and a member of the council's staff since 1950.

Therese Neuman Dies

KONNERSREUTH, Germany (AP)—Therese Neumann, 64, an almost legendary figure among Catholics, died Tuesday of a heart ailment. With the exception of 1951, Miss Neumann has appeared to enter a trance on Good Friday of each year and suffer the agonies of Christ on the cross, with blood apparently streaming from her eyes and hands.

Is Morocco Becoming Another Cuba?

Cuba is not the only tiny country that Russia's KHRUSHCHEV has his eye on. Morocco, which for years has been friendly toward the U.S. and has housed some of our bases in that part of the world, shows signs of leaning toward the Soviets.

According to a recent article in U.S. News and World Report, a new threat to the Western world might well be Red bases in Morocco. Currently there is a lot of activity and all the evidence points toward increasing stockpiles of Russian-made arms in this small coastal country.

★ ★ ★

In the early 1950s, by agreement with the Moroccan government the U.S. established some large air bases at a cost of some $400 million. Since gaining their independence in 1956, the Moroccans have decided to call off this deal. The result is that one of the former U.S. bases is already evacuated and by the end of 1963 we will have given them all up.

★ ★ ★

Right at this moment Russian jet planes that have been sold to the Moroccan government, are parked on the base we evacuated.

Just what all this means is hard to tell. Observers are not clear in understanding the underlying facts. Negotiations are in progress with King Hassan II and Russia.

The Russians would like to establish a submarine base at Alhucemas which is in Morocco and just a stone's throw from Gibraltar. Should this be accomplished the Russians would have a sub base at the gateway to the Mediterranean Sea.

If the Soviets are smart enough to weasel out some land and sea bases in Morocco it would definitely be a threat to the Western world. Any such coup in this vital area would somewhat nullify our air advantage in Spain and be a thorn in the side of our fleet in the Mediterranean.

★ ★ ★

We can only hope that proper precautions are being taken by our government to forestall any such creeping build-up by the Russians in this area. Another Cuba, even that far away, is an unsavory thought.

Before You Quit School Study These Statistics

With a new school term just getting under way some interesting facts on school dropouts are set forth by the publication Finance Facts which should interest young people as well as parents.

Between January and October 1961, about 350,000 young people over age 16 left elementary or high school before graduation. Nine out of 10 were 16 to 18 years of age.

Proportionately, there were more males among dropouts than among June graduates. More of the women who quit were married.

In the competition for jobs, dropouts are at a serious disadvantage. An estimated 26.8 per cent of all who left school in 1961 were unemployed in October that year. This compares with 17.9 per cent joblessness among 1961 high school graduates who did not enroll in college.

Rates of unemployment for both dropouts and graduates decline as they grow older and obtain more job experience. However, those with no diploma are apparently unable to overcome this disadvantage in job markets and continue to suffer considerably more unemployment than graduates.

As of October 1961 those who had dropped out of school in 1959 had a rate of unemployment twice as high as that for graduates of that year.

Over the short haul, or in the long run, statistics show that if you want to get ahead in the hard, cold business world, education is your best bet.

The Man About Town

A Class Symbol

Today, a Man Is Known by the Ulcer He Keeps

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

Well, sir, the MAT is now sole owner and proprietor of one grade-A, slightly-used ulcer. He has also become an active, dues-paying member of the International Ulcer Society, Duodenum Branch, entitled to all rights, privileges and prerequisites pertaining thereto.

Although the knowledge that you are now an ulcerite is at first a little hard to stomach. (Editor's note—Watch it now, 'member what the doctor said) there are two definite pluses accruing to this new eminence.

Number One is the heightened social position now enjoyed. If custom-built automobiles, then luxury yachts, were once status symbols, they have definitely been superseded by the ulcer.

Countless friends have become a bit smug over broken bones, appendectomies, gall bladder misadventures or even treatment of ingrown toenails. But shucks! That's all pretty bush league when laid alongside a working ulcer. Today, the Man of Distinction Is the Man With an Ulcer.

The second boon from this anatomical upgrading is that I need no longer remain silent in discussions having to do with symptoms, hospital ups-and-downs or convalescent phenomena. Having previously enjoyed unbelievably good health I was devoid of any oral contribution to such clinical seminars. My record was bad—no run, no hits, no errors.

But now, I can confidently stand toe-to-toe with any competitor, exchanging symptom for symptom.

I can walk upright among men.

Remember, though, that all entries must be in POSSESSION of The Press by Friday noon, Sept. 21. Don't take a chance on mailing entry close to deadline, but deposit it in drop-box at entrance to The Press.

David Lawrence Says:

JFK Favors Letting Unions Rule

WASHINGTON — Freedom of the individual in his beliefs is the boast of America.

The schoolbooks teach it. Our representatives at the U.N. proclaim it. Our politicians preach it.

Yet when the test comes as between human rights and the desire to favor a special group, LAWRENCE hypocrisy occasionally takes over in Washington.

President Kennedy is an earnest and conscientious public servant, but, as a champion of human rights, he sometimes emphasizes only those "civil rights" which will get him votes and does not risk a fight for basic principles that might lose him the votes of a pressure group.

A case in point is his outright advocacy of a system which compels a man to join a union to keep his job.

Kennedy sees nothing wrong with this form of enslavement. True liberals disagree with him.

For if in free America a man's fundamental beliefs today are subject to coercion — and even penalty — then the outcry for "civil rights" and individual freedom of belief has a hollow sound.

HE SAID:

The principle of compulsory unionization, for instance, came up at Kennedy's news conference on Sept. 13. What the President said attracted little attention because, history tells us, as human rights are eroded, there is, unfortunately, a tendency to accept the doctrine that "the end justifies the means."

★ ★ ★

But a president of the United States said, in effect, that a labor union may extort an advantage for itself — even though it violates human rights — and that, rather than bear the cost of a strike or its inconvenience, the American people must surrender to expediency and forego the principle of human freedom.

Now, the "union shop" is, to be sure, a part of the process of collective bargaining. So are blackmail and coercion and the threat to destroy an employer's business if he doesn't accept the union's demands.

But recently the country has been hearing a lot about the third party — the public — and much has been said about the "public interest."

Does a form of compulsory unionization become right just because company after company has been forced in the past by coercive threats of strikes and financial loss to give in to union demands?

Hasn't the President argued often that freedom of belief and freedom of conscience are guaranteed under "the law of the land?"

The right of an individual to get a job and keep it without sacrificing his beliefs — by being forced to join any organization in whose purposes he does not believe — is inherent in the articles of the Constitution.

The argument of the labor unions is that the majority of the employes in a plant is the boss and can tell each worker to join or be fired. The worker isn't required to be a member when he applies, but if he gets the job, he must decide within 30 or 60 days whether to join the union or lose his job.

HE'S A PARTNER

The employer, under a contract with the union, becomes an unwilling partner in the conspiracy to deprive the worker of his right not to join a private organization.

Nineteen states by law forbid compulsory unionization of any kind. These are called "right to work" laws.

Recognizing the injustice of compulsion, some unions have asked only for the "agency shop," which means that the nonunion employe renders financial support by regular payments that help cover the cost of the bargaining done in his behalf — the equivalent of union dues.

But the worker doesn't have to join the union. Even this partial removal of the flaw in the compulsory union system was not espoused by President Kennedy when he talked last week to his news conference.

Sufferers From Hepatitis Should Not Give Blood

Q—I donate to a blood bank in our town. A month ago, I felt feverish and saw my doctor. He said I probably had a liver infection and gave me a prescription.

★ ★ ★

I took it for a day and began to feel better although my eyes were a little yellow and I felt out of sorts for about two weeks.

Then I read your column about virus hepatitis or catarrhal jaundice and your warning about donating blood.

Is there any test I can take to find out if I really had an attack? And, if I did, how soon can I give a blood donation again?

★ ★ ★

A—There is no test. But you should never donate blood again. I am sure the person in charge of your blood bank will confirm this opinion.

CONSULT DOCTORS

In addition, you must notify your doctor and dentist and anyone else who may give you an injection at any time so that the needle and syringe used to inject you are either discarded or very thoroughly sterilized before reuse.

The virus is both persistent and resistant. It may circulate in your blood for an indefinite time without causing any difficulty. It is not destroyed in contaminated instruments by ordinary boiling.

★ ★ ★

One of the many delights of the mail that comes to me is the receipt of inspiring messages such as the following written by an unknown Confederate soldier and titled "A Creed for Those Who Have Suffered":

★ ★ ★

"I asked God for strength that I might achieve,
I was made weak that I might learn humbly to obey;
I asked for health that I might do great things,
I was given infirmity that I might do better things,
I asked for power that I might have the praise of men,
I was given weakness that I might feel the need of God;
I asked for all things that I might enjoy life,
I was given life that I might enjoy all things;
I got nothing that I asked for but everything I had hoped for,
Almost despite myself, my unspoken prayers were answered;
I am among all men, most richly blessed."

Defends Employes of Post Office

Dr. Crane's column regarding the inefficiency of some of the postal employes in their handling of parcels may be true in some departments, but I don't think you can blame them too much. The post office department doesn't pay decent wages, so how can they be expected to show interest?

Dr. Crane's suggestion that the post office should use milk truckers or bakery route men to deliver mail in rural areas would put a lot of people out of work and add to unemployment.

To operate within its income the post office department should get rid of the junk mail that is being delivered. This type of mail goes from my mailbox to the trash can.

★ ★

Many people are quick to criticize. I know the men at our local post office do an excellent job and I compliment them for their good work.

'And Now Soblen Pays the Price'

Little did Soblen realize where he was headed. There is not much doubt where he is now. He is just as much alive today as you and I. Many times in the next 1,000 years he will wish he could spend 100 years in that penitentiary. The Bible tells us repeatedly that we have everlasting life either in heaven or in hell. Most people in this world think Soblen outsmarted the authorities. Maybe he did, but I'm sure he didn't outsmart God. We the living, should make sure that we do not wind up with Soblen.

'Could Do Without Parking Meters'

While visiting the doctor I had to pay $1.05 for a parking meter. If you park in a lot it costs 35 cents. We need more places like the Mall where parking is free. You have to pay to park at Pontiac General Hospital and Pontiac Osteopathic, but parking is free at St. Joseph Hospital.

The police should watch other things as well as they watch those meters. I told the mayor he should throw those meters in the river and there would be more trade downtown.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 19th, the 262nd day of 1962 with 103 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1777, American soldiers won the first battle of Saratoga in the Revolutionary War.

In 1863, Union and Confederate soldiers met in the battle of Chickamauga, Ga., which the Rebels won the following day.

In 1881, President James Garfield died in Elberon, N. J., from wounds inflicted by a disgruntled office-seeker on July 2.

In 1960, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev got a cold reception when he arrived in the United States to attend the United Nations General Assembly.

A thought for the day—President James Garfield said, "This nation is too great to look for mere revenge. But for the security of the future I would do everything."

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

School Dropouts

Hillsdale Daily News

Amidst the pealing of the back-to-school bells was mingled a voice from the West Coast which should give educators something to think about.

★ ★ ★

"The schools are creating the dropout problem by insisting that a youngster stay in school and then organizing things in such a way that a certain percentage can't help but fail," says Dr. Dwight W. Allen of Stanford University.

★ ★ ★

"With some teachers," he said, "students who succeed are the good guys and those who fail are the bad guys." He suggests that the schools learn to distinguish between academic merit and personal merit.

Integration

New York Times

Integration is not sweeping the country's schools. In three states — Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina — not one school or college has been desegregated. Out of 2,265 Southern school districts having a mixed population, only 243 — just over 10 per cent — have begun desegregation.

★ ★ ★

But something has been done to bring the realities into line with the constitutional principles expressed by the Supreme Court in 1954. A correspondent of this newspaper reports from New Orleans that desegregation is now being accepted in that city "as a fact of life." In Little Rock, where the plan to admit a small group of Negro students to the city's high schools in 1957 resulted in riots that led President Eisenhower to call out the National Guard, seventy-eight Negroes reported this year without incident to high schools and junior high schools. Seventy-eight are not many out of nearly 10,000, but they stand for progress.

★ ★ ★

Complete desegregation in the schools — what we might call a state of absolute color-blindness — had not been achieved in the North, either; but the experience in New Orleans and in many other places does show that it is possible for even the most prejudiced people to get used to it.

'You All'

Monroe (La.) Morning World

The expression "you all" has become one for which the south is caricatured most. Southerners don't really mind this and they laugh tolerantly along with the Northerners, Easterners and Westerners who laugh at them.

★ ★ ★

As a matter of fact, Southerners don't misuse the expression in the way people from other parts of the country misuse it in attempting to quote them. The Bible, in Romans 15:33, says: "Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen."

★ ★ ★

When the Bible says "you all" it means you all, or all of you. That is what the Southerners mean when they use that expression. Southerners don't say "you all" when talking to only one person, despite the fact that people from other sections credit them with using "you all" instead of "you" on all occasions. You all know that is right.

87th Congress

St. Louis Globe-Democrat

When the President tears into "Republican obstructionists" during his "non-political" tours his words will ring a little hollow.

For, as Mr. Kennedy is well aware, an inspection of the headstones in the legislative graveyard will reveal that the scalps of his pet projects have been taken by Democratic hatchets.

★ ★ ★

The 87th Congress should have been Mr. Kennedy's fondest dream. It boasted a 2-1 Democratic majority in the Senate and a 3-2 majority in the House. But for the President the results were a nightmare.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-one Democrats voted against "medicare," with Sen. Randolph of West Virginia, a New Frontiersman by adoption, and Sen. Smathers of Florida, a personal friend of the President, among them. Only 19 Democrats voted for the President's proposal to withhold taxes on dividends and interest and his plea for a Department of Urban Affairs was rejected 58-42. The House dumped the same proposal 264 to 150 and shelved his aid-to-education bill and his farm bill in addition.

★ ★ ★

Other Kennedy proposals have met the same fate, some of them never even getting out of Democratic-controlled committees in Houses. The measures that do pass are either butchered beyond recognition or sent through with bipartisan support.

Republican House Minority Leader Charlie Halleck once said, "Give me a two-thirds majority in both Houses and I'll darn well get through any reasonable program."

★ ★ ★

The President's problems are three: His program is unreasonable, lacks popular support and this is an election year. When he wants to find the true saboteurs of "welfarism," he need look no further than down the head table at some of the Democratic fund-raising dinners.

Trapped in U.S. at Outbreak of WW II

Penniless War Refugee Builds Empire

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Belfer arrived here from Poland on Sept. 5, 1939—four days after the outbreak of World War II—without a penny in his pockets or an asset to his name.

★ ★ ★

Belfer, 55, and the head of a far-flung business empire, donated $2 million to Yeshiva University Tuesday for its Graduate School of Science.

★ ★ ★

The events of the 23 years in between read like the fulfillment of the American dream.

Belfer was a successful dealer in down and feathers in Cracow, Poland, when he set sail for the United States on a business trip, leaving his wife and three children behind.

When he arrived here he discovered that Poland had ceased to be an independent country. The money he had with him and the funds he had left behind were worthless.

His situation was precarious in another way, since he had entered the United States on a visitor's visa and had no country to return to.

Belfer was detained at Ellis Island for three days, then was allowed to enter the United States for 60 days on condition he would emigrate to Canada.

BACK TO U.S.

He left Ellis Island—after borrowing $5 for spending money—and made his way to Canada. Later he obtained an immigrant's visa and returned to the United States. Subsequently, he managed to bring his family here.

Using his knowledge of the international feather market, Belfer interested a New York broker in purchasing feathers in Europe, where they were selling far below U.S. market prices.

The result of these transactions permitted him to get back into business on borrowed money. By 1942 he was manufacturing sleeping bags for the armed forces.

In 1946, Belfer became a U.S. citizen. Four years later he branched out into the foam rubber business. In 1952, he went into oil in Texas and acquired property in Wyoming.

★ ★ ★

Belfer is head of the Belco Petroleum Corp. which deals in oil and natural gas and is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. His son, Robert, is a lawyer with the corporation. Belfer's two daughters are married.

His gift to Yeshiva University will be used to expand the graduate school, which offers programs in mathematics and physics.

Belfer said "I can think of no finer way to express my gratitude to this country than through higher education. President Kennedy and the highest governmental officials have stressed many times over the great need for training more and better scientists if the free world is to remain free."

Canada Government Faces Vote Sept. 27

TORONTO (AP)—Liberal party leader Lester B. Pearson says he will seek to topple Canada's government by a no confidence motion when the House of Commons meets Sept. 27.

Pearson made the announcement at a Liberal party fund-raising dinner Tuesday night.

"I insist that nothing should be done in this Parliament or by this Parliament until the question of confidence has been settled in the proper constitutional way," Pearson said.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's government lost its parliamentary majority in the June national elections and must bid for coalition support to stay in office.

Research with bats indicates that a hibernating man might live 20 normal lifetimes, or 1,400 years.

Radar Control for Jets to Cut Collision Danger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has announced a major advance in its campaign to reduce the air collision menace.

The agency disclosed that within the next 12 months, all aircraft flying above 24,000 feet almost anywhere in the country will be operating under the protection of long-range radar monitoring and in drastically restricted airspace.

* * *

In effect, the FAA will be extending its so-called "positive control" system to virtually every area of the nation.

Presently, only one positive control area is in operation — the airspace controlled by FAA's control centers at Chicago, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Detroit.

The extension plan, announced by FAA administrator Najeeb E. Halaby at a news conference today, will provide positive control throughout the rest of the high altitude airspace except for small areas on the country's northern and southern boundaries, and the section known as the "northern tier" over Great Falls, Mont., and Minot and Grand Forks, N.D.

PLAN INVOLVES:

Positive control involves:

—Constant monitoring of flights by long-range radar.

—Restriction of the controlled airspace to planes equipped with coded radar beacon transponders (which flash aircraft identification to ground stations and manned by qualified instrument-rated pilots operating under instrument flight rules (IFR).

Such restriction means that no "unknown" aircraft will be allowed to operate in positive control airspace.

IN OAKLAND AREA

Halaby said the first step in the expansion program will take place Oct. 18 in the area covered by the FAA's Oakland air route traffic control center in California. This will provide area positive control to part of the West Coast for the first time in history.

Next in order will come Memphis-Atlanta-Jacksonville; Minneapolis; Fort Worth-San Antonio-New Orleans-Seattle; Denver-Kansas City-Los Angeles; Phoenix - Albuquerque-El Paso-Washington, D.C.; Salt Lake City-Boston-New York, and Miami — the latter scheduled to come under positive control in September 1963.

Halaby said 69 long-range radars are being acquired to put the expansion program into effect. Such radar enables aircraft to be separated safely by as little as five miles. Without radar, separation can be as much as 50 miles.

Positive control above 24,000 feet (the ceiling is 60,000 but only special military planes operate that high) affects mainly jetliners.

The system of positive control continental airways between 17,000 and 22,000 feet. In October 1960, the concept of positive control on an area basis was introduced in the area covered by the Chicago and Indianapolis centers.

Corps Teaches Crippled Youth

Volunteers in Africa Helping Children Learn to Swim

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP)—American Peace Corps volunteers in this West African country are teaching crippled African children to swim. Both teachers and children are finding it rewarding.

Every Saturday six Peace Corps members, two women and four men, take 12 crippled children from a hostial to a swimming pool at Hastings, a Freetown suburb. There they first get them accustomed to the water and then patiently teach them the use of their legs in the water and finally to swim.

The Peace Corps director in Sierra Leone, Walter Carrington, a Harvard graduate from Cambridge, Mass., says the children find learning to swim is a tremendous thrill.

* * *

The swimming lessons have been going on weekly for two months. They are to be continued throughout the new school year just begun. The instructors are teaching in Freetown schools. Their program includes instruction in swimming for members of the Sierra Leone police force and Sunday school girls and boys.

* *

OK Paying of Judges' School Fees

Why should Oakland County taxpayers pay to send their county judges back to school?

The question plagued members of the County Board of Supervisors' ways and means committee. They were ready to turn thumbs down on spending the money.

Members said it is generally accepted that professional people are responsible for continuing their studies indefinitely.

The judges can well afford $50 each for the Michigan State University Oakland course on new judicial proceedings, Committee Chairman David Levinson said.

WHAT CHANGED THEIR MINDS

But County Corporation Counsel Norman J. Barnard told the committee that books included in the tuition costs were worth at least $50 per set if purchased separately. It was agreed county funds would be spent with the stipulation that books became county property.

He also said that not only the judges would be enrolled at county expense, but lesser-paid attorneys and others employed by the county as well.

Altogether, 38 county-employed legal personnel will be enrolled at a cost of $1,800. Each will receive a set of the books on how legal procedures have been simplified in Michigan.

Carving of Districts Under Dispute

State High Court May Get School Case

LANSING (AP)—Can school boards of Kent and Genesee counties carve out newly annexed areas of Grand Rapids and Flint, respectively, and transfer them back to their former school districts?

That's a question the Flint Board of Education is expected to pose shortly before the Michigan Supreme Court.

The State Board of Education upheld last week the Genesee County School Board's transfer back to the Carmen School District a newly annexed area of Flint containing property valued at more than $87 million.

This means that Carmen district will set and collect school taxes in the area, unless the state board's ruling is overturned in court.

Grand Rapids has some areas annexed over the last two years that could be separated from it under similar county board action.

Flint and Grand Rapids are second-class school districts under the state school code, which says that boundaries of cities exceeding 120,000 population and their school districts shall be the same.

On the theory that the newly annexed area automatically became a part of the city school district as well as the city, the Flint Board of Education appealed to the state board when the Genesee County board authorized the area's transfer back to the Carmen district.

The state board delayed a ruling until after the State Supreme Court had decided a Lansing test case that challenged constitutionality of the 1955 school code. The court ruled the code constitutional, but did not get into the area of rights of second-class districts.

Flint and Grand Rapids, incidentally, are the only cities in the state that qualify for second-class rating.

POWER UPHELD

In its unanimous decision upholding constitutionality of the school code, the Supreme Court affirmed the power of transfer from one district to another by county boards of education and the State Department of Public Instruction.

The point on which Flint likely will ask the court to rule is this: Does the right of transfer transcend the code's specification that boundaries shall be the same for second-class districts and the cities in which they are located?

The Genesee County School Board ordered the transfer back on petition of Carmen district residents. State law provides county boards of education may transfer areas representing up to 10 per cent of the state equalized valuation of a district.

★ ★ ★

The area which Flint annexed and which now is transferred back to Carmen for tax-collecting purposes includes two General Motors plants.

★ ★ ★

It was taken into the city along with Bishop Airport, northwest shopping center and south Flint plaza last February and had become a part of the city's school district.

Train Jumps Track; 13 Dead in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A passenger train car jumped the tracks on a curve near Belo Horizonte Tuesday, killing 13 persons and injuring 40 others. Belo Horizonte, the capital of Minas Gerais State, is about 200 miles northwest of Rio.

Railroad officials told the Brazilian news agency Meridional that the Central of Brazil train car apparently developed mechanical trouble before the train rounded the curve at high speed.

Schools to Eye Re-Investment in Waterford

A recommendation by the acting superintendent of schools that $200,000 of debt retirement funds be reinvested in 180-day treasury bills will be considered by the Waterford Township Board of Education tomorrow night.

Reports on enrollment in the school system and conferences attended by staff members during the past year also are scheduled at the regular monthly board meeting.

The agenda, lightened by a lengthy special meeting two weeks ago, also will include a report on the proposed water system for the Kettering High School athletic site.

Kennedy to Take Sea Cruise Before Return to Washington

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Kennedy heads for a few more hours on the sea today before interrupting his Newport vacation to fulfill two speaking engagements.

The brief cruise on the presidential yacht Honey Fitz was the only item on Kennedy's schedule prior to his departure for Washington.

Kennedy and the First Lady were disappointed over the one-day postponement in the third America's Cup race.

PLANS CHANGED

The President had planned to view part of the third battle between the U.S. defender Weatherly and the Australian challenger Gretel. But after her victory Tuesday, Gretel requested the delay in the third race.

★ ★ ★

Thursday, Kennedy has a morning address to officials of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund in Washington, and a political speech at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Harrisburg, Pa.

★ ★ ★

He was expected to return to Newport directly from Harrisburg and spend the next four days here.

MISSED BIG RACE

Kennedy missed the exciting windup of Tuesday's cup race after watching the first 100 minutes from the Destroyer Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., named for his brother who was killed in World War II.

The President and First Lady left early to vote in the Massachusetts Democratic senatorial primary.

Daughter Caroline, 4, got her first taste of the cup races, which apparently did not completely capture her interest. She and a young playmate cavorted aboard the destroyer, playfully trying to elude the secret service man assigned to keep an eye on her.

Hiding behind a chair, Caroline peeked out and announced to no one in particular, "We escaped."

Doesn't Always Pay to Win First Place

It takes more than a first place to win a cross-country meet.

Bloomfield Hills and Waterford will attest to this as both schools placed men in the number one spot last night in meets with Milford and Rochester but lost 25-41 and 27-29, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hill's Bob Richard ran an impressive two-mile race in 10:15 while Waterford's Jim Mercer was the Skipper's first individual winner in two years.

The secret of winning cross country meets is taking the largest number of places out of the top finishing seven.

Milford will attest to this placing five out of the seven against Bloomfield and Rochester taking four of the seven from Waterford.

Thursday Rochester meets Kettering at the Kettering course, Waterford travels to Berkley, and Walled Lake hosts Farmington.

Friday Milford competes in the Howell Invitational.

Finishing order in the Milford-Bloomfield Hills meet: Bob Richards (B) 10:15, Tom Hoopengardner (B), John Heurtebise (M), Harold Fraught (M), Ron Hardy (M), Tom Needham (M), and Dinnis Hoard (M).

Waterford-Rochester finishers were Jim Mercer (W) 11:25, Bryan Crotty (R), Dick Toles (W), Dave James (R), Fritz Lupke (R), Ron Carpenter (W), and Dennis Rourke (R).

Senate Votes Today on JFK Trade Bill; Hopes Bright

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate votes today on the historic trade bill which would give President Kennedy authority to rip down or lower tariff walls and build an economic partnership with the European Common Market.

Passage seemed certain. The House has approved it.

★ ★ ★

Administration forces, after a shaky start, were in full command on the field as the Senate stayed past midnight to beat down amendment after amendment offered mostly by Republicans.

The Senate completed action on all but one of the proposed floor changes in Tuesday's marathon session.

★ ★ ★

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana put off passage until afternoon because of the late hour and because several members said they wanted to speak before the final roll call.

Sweeter Version

Roll generous balls of cream cheese in chopped pecans and set atop two slices of canned pineapple in dessert dish. Pour caramel sauce over. This is a little richer, sweeter version of the popular fruit and cheese for dessert.

TRIUMPH 'ASSURED'

Tuesday's votes—preserving all of the sweeping tariff-cutting and trade adjustment powers Kennedy requested—apparently assured the President of one of the biggest triumphs of the 87th Congress.

In proposing his trade program as "a bold new instrument of American trade policy," Kennedy said: "Our decision could well affect the unity of the West, the course of the cold war and the growth of our nation for a generation or more to come."

After accomplishing nothing in the first day of debate Monday, the Senate got down to business so earnestly Tuesday that it was able to act on 19 amendments. But it took the longest session of the year to do it, running 14 hours and 20 minutes.

Several major efforts to water down the bill were included in the defeated amendments, but none of the proposals touched the major powers in the bill.

AUTHORITY TO CUT

These include authority to cut all present tariffs 50 per cent and a completely new power to eliminate duties entirely on products for which the United States and the European Common Market account for 80 per cent of world trade.

The President had his closest call on the first amendment offered.

Sponsored by Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., it sought to write into the bill provisions of present law under which the Tariff Commission fixes definite tariff rates below which it holds that U.S. trade negotiators cannot go without harming a domestic industry.

★ ★ ★

The amendment was turned back 40 to 38 but only after Democratic leaders scrambled hard to switch votes and persuade doubtful senators to oppose it.

★ ★ ★

In another major vote, the Senate beat down 55 to 28 an attempt by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to cut the term of the bill from five to three years.

It also killed, 58 to 23, an effort by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., to knock out the trade adjustment section, a new feature proposed this year by the President.

Under it, industries and workers harmed by the import competition would be given a variety of federal aids.

Oil Executive Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Jefferson G. Ish, 74, died Tuesday in a hospital after collapsing, apparently from a heart attack. Ish was vice chairman of the board of the Supreme Oil Co., a member of the Illinois Public Aid Commission and a member of an advisory board to the Small Business Administration.

Simmer in Milk

Ever simmer shredded green cabbage in milk and then stir in butter or margarine blended with flour to thicken? Salt goes in, of course, and a goodly portion of pepper benefits this dish.

Insects and small animals that are too small to cool themselves by sweating adjust to desert life by going underground by day. They emerge to feed at night.

Freeman to Make Three Appearances

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has accepted an invitation to make three appearances in Berrien County next Monday, the county Democratic committee announced yesterday.

His first scheduled stop is an inspection of the Benton Harbor market. He next travels to Berrien Springs to address an open meeting of farmers from southwestern Michigan and northern Ohio.

The visit concludes, according to committee chairman Ben Rosenberg, with an address by Freeman at a committee-sponsored dinner in St. Joseph.

Algeria to Vote; Chaos, Apathy Rife

ALGIERS (AP) — Independent Algeria's first election campaign ends today amid chaos, tension and general apathy.

There is no doubt over the result in Thursday's elections: all the 196 candidates for the National Assembly—including 16 Europeans—are unopposed.

They were handpicked by Ahmed Ben Bella's ruling Political Bureau with the support of the regular army of Col. Houari Boumedienne, and will give Ben Bella an overwhelming majority in the assembly.

In eastern and western Algeria and in the Sahara, all under Boumedienne's firm control, a good turnout is expected from voters accustomed to being marched to the polls under French rule.

SEE PATCHY VOTE

In the central Algerian areas controlled by the mutinous guerrillas of Wilaya (region) 4, voting is likely to be patchy.

★ ★ ★

The Political Bureau accused the Wilaya 4 commanders of sabotaging the elections in their districts by forcing voters to abstain and dispersing election meetings at gunpoint.

Wilaya 4 is angry over the removal of most of its officers from the list of candidates and openly accused Ben Bella of instituting a dictatorship.

In the countryside south and west of the capital, frequent clashes occurred between guerrillas troops and crowds supporting Ben Bella. Several civilians were injured.

In downtown Algiers, firmly controlled by Boumedienne's troops and civilian police, Wilaya 4 supporters under cover of darkness tore down election posters and painted anti-Ben Bella slogans on walls.

'WANT LAW, ORDER'

One Ben Bella supporter said Algerians "clearly want and need law and order more urgently than parliamentary democracy."

A sharp increase in murder, kidnaping, rape and looting in the area is blamed on rampaging bands of guerrillas who have long been out of control of their own officers.

Throughout the country, the public apathy over the election campaign reflected the lack of interest in the prearranged outcome.

The atmosphere was in sharp contrast to the surge of enthusiasm that carried the Algerian people to the polls July 3 to vote for independence by a 99.6 per cent majority.

Axel Heiberg Island in Canada's Arctic was named by Otto Sverdrup, an explorer, after one of his Norwegian patrons.

LEAVES HOSPITAL — Former President Herbert Hoover leaves Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center in New York yesterday. Hoover, 88, entered the hospital Aug. 20 and underwent surgery for the removal of a malignant intestinal tumor. The small bandage on his forehead was over a tiny cut, which was not explained.

Boy in College to Learn a Lot

By JOY STILLEY
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—I gave my son a short course in bachelorhood.

He didn't really need too much practice because he's been a bachelor all of his 17 years.

But up until now he's been a passive bachelor. As of now, he's going to be an active one.

Brenn has gone to college, far away from home, and his education will include a lot of things not in textbooks.

HE'LL LEARN

The first thing he will learn is that clean shirts do not grow on hangers in closets. He will also find out that fresh socks and snowy underwear don't turn up in bureau drawers, untouched by human hands.

Besides teaching him the rudiments of the Washerwoman's trade, I have attempted to instill in him some notion of the proper way to make a bed, how to iron a shirt in an emergency and how to write checks. He learned that fast.

I didn't have to instruct him in how to sew on buttons. The school system took care of that long ago when they put him, as well as a number of other reluctant seventh-grade boys, in a sewing class. I never found out what the girls were doing that year—probably studying electronics and sheet metal work.

* * *

Project for the male seamsters was a shirt and Brenn duly purchased the material and made a stabbing attempt at cutting it out.

Work went slowly. He was absent from school a lot that year. Finally I noticed all his illnesses seemed to come on Tuesday. Later I found out that sewing class was held on Tuesdays. Somehow he got better after I made that connection.

LOST HIS SHIRT

All went fairly well until the day he reported in near-hysteria that he had lost the whole front to his shirt. It was impossible to match the material and anyhow he was too far behind to start on a new front.

A few days later I came across the missing piece, wadded up in his pants pocket.

He never did get the shirt finished, but somehow managed to pass the course. Now that his diploma is pasted into the family scrapbook with unremovable glue, it's safe to admit that it was through the intervention of a kindly neighbor with a sewing machine.

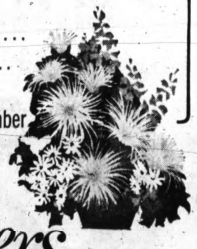

Harrowing as that sewing course was, for both Brenn and me, I guess it was time well spent. At least he knows which end of the thread goes into the needle.

Do "standard size" mattresses leave you cold? If you are more than 5 feet 9 inches tall, better buy your next set of bedding feet first. For less than an extra cent a night we'll measure you for a Super Size Beautyrest by Simmons (single or double bed width) and rescue you from the awful kind of hangover you see above. This chilly, cheerless couple seem to be four feet short of perfect comfort—two feet of his, can be as little as 5 inches in length and $10 in cost. Ditto for the box spring. Sure you can go longer than that, wider than that, higher than that—we and Simmons can make almost any size overnight parking lot you name. (Even wall-to-wall, for over-active sleepers.) When your mattress is properly longer than you are, the difference in comfort is blissful, astonishing, tingly, sedative and enormous. If the undersize bedding you're sleeping on is still in fair shape, you can bet that you'll wear out before it does. Better get here today if you can. If you're not too tired to get out of bed, that is.

Famous Beautyrest Comfort IN EXTRA-LONG, EXTRA-WIDE SIZES

LONG BOY
5 inches longer than standard mattress. Full or twin size mattress or boxspring . $89.50

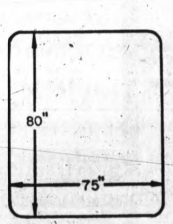

QUEEN SIZE
5 inches longer, 6 inches wider than standard mattress. Set of mattress and boxspring . . . . . $199.50

Do you toss and turn a good part of the night just to hang on to your share of a standard double bed? Your share is only 27 inches of width anyway, a portion hardly worth losing a minute's sleep over. What to do about it? We suggest you switch to King-Size Beautyrest.

Stretching out on a King-Size Beautyrest is a wise start toward a good night's sleep. With that extra 5 inches of length and almost 2 feet of extra width you can begin to enjoy the luxurious feeling that comes from uncrowded sleeping. And what husband or wife could continue to toss and turn in the face of incomparable Beautyrest comfort. Its firm, buoyant support is as sleep-inducing as a lullaby. So why don't you start to get the finest sleep money can buy . . . King-Size Beautyrest.

In any size Beautyrest gives you more comfort because of its unique individually pocketed coil construction.

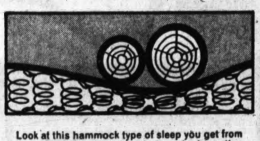

KING SIZE
5 inches longer, almost 2 feet wider than standard double bed. Set of mattress and 2 matching boxsprings . . . . . $299.00

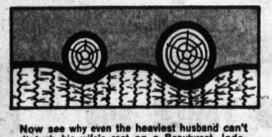

FREE SUPERSIZE SHEETS FOR LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Buy a Queen or King-size Beautyrest set this month from Thomas' Furniture and receive 2 supersize Cannon percale sheets and pillowcases free. This offer will expire October 15, 1962.

Look at this hammock type of sleep you get from an ordinary mattress with its wired-together coils. Push down on one and they all go down.

Now see why even the heaviest husband can't disturb his wife's rest on a Beautyrest. Independently acting coils provide separate, non-sag support.

Red Students Get 'A' Mark if They Quote Marx, Lenin

By CARL PROFFER
Written for NEA
(Second of three dispatches)

The students at Moscow State University have access to many libraries, including the largest in the world, the Lenin Library.

However, as part of the regimentation of thought and suppression of intellectual curiosity, the authorities are careful to see that certain publications are read only by the dogmatically faithful.

The average Russian student cannot read a non-Communist Western European or American newspaper or magazine — even in a reading room.

In the main card catalogue of the Lenin Library there are pitifully few items listed in English, French or German.

Most of the Western publications available deal with the physical sciences; few are in the controversial fields of history, economics, political science or the arts.

I looked especially for George Orwell's "1984" and Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World," and was not surprised to find them absent from the catalogue.

★ ★ ★

I was told by students that there is another catalogue not open to the general public; no doubt such things could be found there.

Only if a student is working on a special project and can get permission from his instructors (who can always decide whether or not he is reliable) can he read Western publications.

The Soviet post office did allow Western papers, magazines and books (even politically sensitive books) to be sent through to the American and English students.

Other foreign students received publications in their native languages.

U.S. NEWSPAPERS

I found no surer way of drawing a crowd than to sit in the student lounge with a few copies of the U.S. picture magazines and newspapers.

A number of Russians can read enough English to understand news stories, and the pictures interest everyone.

During their five-year term of study for their first degree all Soviet students are required to take courses in dialectical materialism, Leninism and the history of the Communist party.

The students are forced to use these principles in reports and examinations in other courses such as economics, political science, history, philosophy and literature.

One last-year history student told me his thesis for his degree had been returned to him with the notation that he had not written it from the proper Marxist point of view.

He was obliged to rework several sections of the thesis. The paper was finally accepted, but he was given a "C," a poor grade, which will be on his permanent record.

MIND OF HIS OWN

He was one of the few young people I met who had the intelligence and courage to reach his own conclusions; the vast majority of students seldom venture to question seriously the tenets of Soviet communism they are taught from the cradle.

In general, the Russians are the most dogmatic of all Communists.

The students from other Communist countries — Poland, Czechoslovakia and East Germany especially — are much more willing to question the principles of communism, or, at least, of Soviet communism.

They often are annoyed at the Russians for their fierce nationalism and for the Russian power in their respective countries. From a Czech I learned about the gathering of students in Prague on May Day at which they shouted, "Cuba, si, Moscow no."

★ ★ ★

African and some Asian students are very unhappy in Moscow. Many expected to see the world of the future when they signed pledges to remain in Moscow for five years and complete the degree work.

★ ★ ★

However, once there they complain about the poor living conditions and Soviet bureaucracy almost as much as the American and English.

Their only consolation is that their stipends are higher than those of the Russian students, and that they are allowed to leave the country during the summer.

Often they take trips to Western Europe where they buy books, clothing, tape recorders and record players. Because of their travel they can see through Soviet propaganda, describing the poverty and injustice in the West.

At the same time the Soviets are to a certain degree envious when they see the consumer goods foreign students are able to buy in the West.

In class, foreigners face the same coercion that Russian students face. One Indonesian student in his third year told me he could not get an "A" or "B" on a report or examination unless he filled it with quotations from Marx and Lenin.

★ ★ ★

He said he didn't believe most of these things, but he put them in to get good grades.

★ ★ ★

Of one thing there is no doubt: The Soviet program to attract students from underdeveloped nations and convert them to communism by showing them Communist society is failing miserably.

★ ★ ★

Few things can damn communism more than the testimony these students will give when they return to their own countries.

FOREIGN STUDENTS: — Youths from many nations are enrolled in Moscow University . . . and they raise questions.

PIN-WORMS
AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

OK Releasing Areas for Shelters

With license and privilege agreements for fallout shelter areas beginning to come back to City Hall, the City Commission last night officially authorized Mayor Robert Landry and City Clerk Olga Barkeley to sign release forms for areas in city-owned buildings.

The forms were mailed several weeks ago to owners of all buildings in Pontiac where a federal survey showed some area existed which could be used as a public fallout shelter.

The documents, signed by owners, would merely make the described building areas available for stocking and remodeling as shelters, at government cost.

Last night's resolution authorized the release of specified areas in the Main Public Library, City Hall, the new central fire station and public safety building for shelter use if and when federal funds are appropriated for such a program.

PURCHASE OK'd

In a move to expand and open new park areas in the northeast section of Pontiac, commissioners authorized the city manager and city attorney to initiate purchase of about 65.5 acres of land, part of which borders Galloway Lake.

The property, owned by Sam Allen of Pontiac, lies directly south of Perry Street between the lake and Grand Trunk Western Railroad's Belt Line.

Price of the parcel would be some $176,000. Since it is to be used as a park and recreation area, the resolution also authorizes city officials to apply for a federal grant under the federal open space program.

Under that program, the federal government would reimburse the city 20 per cent of the cost, or about $35,000, after the land is purchased.

Under terms set forth in the resolution, the city would pay approximately $2,700 per acre.

Terms call for a 29 per cent down payment—about $51,300—with the balance paid on a seven-year land contract at 6 per cent per annum.

The money would come from capital improvement funds over a period of time.

GIVE CHURCH LAND

In other business, commissioners concurred with a planning commission recommendation to give Newman AME Church part of Lot 49, A.P. 117, and vacate an alley between Lot 48 and 49 for church use.

The proposed resolution allows the city to retain a 50-foot strip on Lot 49 for the extension of Irene Street to avoid landlocking several nearby lots, and to retain the westerly 14.3 feet of Lot 49 for future widening of Bagley Street.

The move was made after the church, moved to that site from its old location by urban renewal redevelopment, would not have enough room to build due to future plans for widening of Bagley.

The resolution was referred to the city attorney so that proper deeds may be prepared for the transfer of property and will be brought back for a public hearing at a later meeting.

Commissioners also accepted a planning commission recommendation to vacate part of Willard Street and three alleys in the area bounded by Whittemore, Perkins, Cottage and Center Streets for the purpose of creating an urban renewal subdivision.

The area to be replatted is in the heart of the R20 renewal project. An ordinance to vacate the city-owned properties was prepared and slated for public hearing and final approval Oct. 23.

GIVES COST ESTIMATES

Acting City Engineer Joseph E. Neipling presented cost estimates for curb and gutter replacement on the east side of Mill Street, East Huron to Mt. Clemens, and for sidewalk construction on the north side of Luther Street, Franklin Road to Highland after public necessity resolutions were passed on both projects.

The Mill Street job will cost an estimated $1,218.80 with $549.88 paid through special assessments and $668.92 by the city.

The Luther Street work calls for a total cost of $2,224.20 with special assessments accounting for $360 and the remaining $1,864.20 paid by the city.

* * *

Plans for both projects were slated for public hearings next Tuesday.

Plans for blacktop and curb and gutter improvements on Green Street, Orchard Lake to West Huron, will have to wait a week for any further action.

The project, to have been part of next year's public improvement program, may be dropped due to opposition voiced by affected property owners at a public hearing last night.

No objections were voiced at public hearings on plans for curbs and gutters on a portion of Columbia Avenue and for a water main in part of Kennett Road. Special assessment rolls were ordered for presentation to commissioners next Tuesday.

HEARINGS SLATED

Public hearings were also slated for next Tuesday on special assessment rolls for the following projects:

1. New curbs and gutters on parts of Hollywood Avenue and Harvey Street.

2. Curb and gutter repair and blacktop replacement on Waldo Street.

No objections were voiced at a public hearing on the roll for sidewalk construction on a portion of Alton Street and work will now proceed on the project.

Rolls for five recently completed public improvement projects were confirmed.

The roll for a combined sewer on Beverly Avenue was confirmed in two payments and the roll for curb and gutter construction on the same street, in four payments.

* * *

The roll for a curb and gutter job on Howard Street was confirmed in five payments and another roll for a combined sewer on Meadowlawn Drive was confirmed in four payments. All four projects were in Commissioner Winford E. Bottom's district.

Mayor Robert Landry confirmed the roll for a sidewalk project on East Wilson Street in two payments.

Two requests for rezoning of land in the city were referred to the planning commission for study and recommendation at its October meeting.

Summit Building Co. of Huntington Woods requested rezoning from Residential-1 to Residential-2 or 3 of 158 lots it owns in South Park Subdivision at South and East boulevards.

Felix J. Vitasinski requested rezoning to commercial, property he owns on the west side of Perry Street between Pontiac Northern High School and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad viaduct. It is now zoned R-2.

Get Indictment in Loan Fund

Californian Accused of Bilking Two Detroit Banks of $232,000

DETROIT (AP) — Milton Z. Mende, accused of enticing two Detroit banks into making loans totaling $232,000 on worthless stock certificates, was indicted by a U.S. district grand jury yesterday on a charge of transporting stolen property across state lines.

* * *

The 49-year-old Beverly Hills, Calif., man currently is in jail in New York awaiting trial on charges of violating Securities Exchange Commission regulations.

He also is wanted in Los Angeles after skipping bond on a similar charge.

William E. Merrill, assistant U.S. district attorney said Mende got $119,000 from Manufacturers National Bank in 1959 and 1960 and $113,000 from City National Bank in 1960.

But he is charged in the indictment with transporting only $77,151 worth of stolen property—money.

Merrill said that was all the government could prove went across state lines.

* * *

Merrill said Mende posed as a financier and real estate investor here in inducting the two banks to lend him money on stock of National Petroleum Corp., an inactive company, when they apparently thought he was putting up stock of National Petroleum Corp., Ltd., which is listed on the American Stock Exchange.

The indictment contains three counts. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Asks U.S. Help in Ore Shipping Labor Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Hanna Mining Co. says it has asked the secretary of labor in Washington to help settle a labor dispute that has hampered iron and coal shipments since last Wednesday.

The steamer Joseph H. Thompson has been tied up with a load of coal at Duluth since last Wednesday because of picketing by the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA).

At Great Northern docks on Lake Superior, supervisory personnel have loaded iron ore onto a couple of other Hanna vessels.

Hanna told Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz in a telegram a dispute over representation of marine engineers arose while negotiations were under way for a new contract.

Detroit Won't Halt Urban Renewal

DETROIT (UPI) — Common Council yesterday refused to halt the city's $435-million urban renewal program despite objections raised by two councilmen.

* * *

Councilmen Mel J. Ravitz and Wiliam T. Patrick Jr., introduced a resolution calling for a moratorium on the sale of renewal land until the council was given a detailed plan covering the renewal program.

Ravitz, a sociology professor at Wayne State University, said he was interested in seeing that lands for urban renewal were developed for low-rent housing, not luxury housing.

Quebec's Upper Town suggests a section of France with its small hotels and cafes, horse-drawn taxis and a chimneypot skyline.

State Police Sale of Confiscated Property Slated

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The annual tent sale of unclaimed, confiscated or recovered articles will be conducted by state police here tomorrow.

Wayne Feighner of Mason will serve as auctioneer for the tent sale of about 464 lots of merchandise, said state police commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

The merchandise included about 30 bicycles, typewriters, clothing, rings and other jewelry, sporting equipment and car accessories.

Among the more unusual items up for sale this year were a 350-pound safe and an automatic washer.

Official Wants to Aid Dashing Young Firemen

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — City Manager William Veeder announced yesterday that about 25 city streets will be renamed.

Veeder said he wants to eliminate the confusing situation which recently sent firemen dashing to McArthur Avenue when a house caught fire on McArthur Street.

Asking $19 Million for U. N. at Gaza

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Acting Secretary-General U Thant yesterday requested $19,256,870 to continue operations of the United Nations emergency force along the Gaza Strip next year.

The request was $575,930 less than last year's and $343,130 less than the total approved by the General Assembly last year.

Thant said the force continues to serve the cause of peace in helping to maintain quiet in theh Sinai Peninsula. The force totals 5,100 officers and men, Thant said.

The operation is running at a deficit of about $5 million a year due to the refusal of the Soviet Union and Arab bloc countries to pay their assessed share of the costs.

HELD IN CHURCH BURNING — These men, Marvin Milner, 31, Glen Roland, 56, and Melvin Roland, 22, (from left) are being held under $25,000 bond in connection with the burning of a Negro church near Dawson, Ga., early Monday morning. He Seems to Be a Political Natural

Young Ted's Blitz Dumbfounds Own Supporters

By RELMAN MORIN

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, a sensational winner in the Massachusetts Democratic primary, seems to be a political natural today, and his backers are predicting that he will drive through in November to a seat in the U.S. Senate.

It is the seat vacated in 1960 by John F. Kennedy when he was elected President.

IT'S A BLITZ

Ted crushed his opponent for the Democratic nomination, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., in a blitz that dumbfounded his own supporters no less than McCormack's.

Shortly after the first returns his headquarters notified President Kennedy at Newport, R. I. "He said he was very pleased," said one of Ted's chief lieutenants.

The younger Kennedy, who is 30 and making his maiden run for elective office, took it all with glacial calm.

★ ★ ★

By about 10 p.m., some three hours after the polls closed, he was on his way from his Boston apartment to McCormack's headquarters, and then to a frantic, roaring victory celebration at the Touraine Hotel.

WIFE NEAR TEARS

As he was hoisted onto the stage in the converted ballroom, he looked like a man who had known all along that it would be like this.

His pretty blonde wife, Joan, stood beside him, fighting a losing battle against tears. She swallowed hard and her voice broke when she tried to speak into the microphones. "I'm so grateful," she choked. "I don't know what else to say."

In his turn, Kennedy stressed the theme, party unity for the November fight. If he felt any elation, any excitement, he didn't show it. He was cooler, far less forceful, than during any of his stump speeches in the pre-election campaign.

His juggernaut victory appears to be the result of four main factors—the Kennedy name in Massachusetts, Ted's natural talent for politics, a precision-engineered organization, and a debate that backfired on his opponent.

★ ★ ★

The order of their importance is anybody's guess.

★ ★ ★

But weeks before the election, a Boston politician told this correspondent: "He's got more political savvy already than his brother had in his first campaign. It seems to come more naturally to him than it did to Jack when he was starting."

COVERED THE STATE

The younger Kennedy worked hard, driving himself, day and night. He covered the state from end to end. He spoke at five and six rallies a day. His voice gave out toward the end.

But when an aide announced this at a rally, and the crowd groaned, Kennedy grabbed the microphone and croaked on for 15 minutes.

★ ★ ★

The crowd couldn't understand half of what he said, but it applauded the effort.

★ ★ ★

One of the key figures on the team is Kennedy's brother-in-law, Stephen Smith. He is married to the former Jean Kennedy.

Smith says the turning point in the campaign began to appear after Kennedy's first televised debate with McCormack. In that appearance, the attorney general told Kennedy that, without the famous name, "your candidacy would be a joke."

★ ★ ★

"We took some samplings of opinion after the debate," Smith said. "Ted was the underdog before that. But we found people switching. It definitely must have backfired on McCormack."

★ ★ ★

Sees No State Call-Up of Reserve Forces

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Col Slaftcho Katsarsky, deputy commander, Sixth Army Corps, said yesterday that he had no information indicating any Michigan reservists or national guardsmen are to be called to active duty.

He described President Kennedy's new "stand-by authority" as a precaution for such an emergency when Congress is not in session.

Thirty-eight states now levy sales taxes. Texas was the most recent addition, with a 2 per cent tax.

Crane Falls, Kills Man

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Chester Rapson, 49, Ozark, was fatally crushed yesterday when a crane boom fell on him. He was working on the west pier of a new lock under construction in the Soo system. Injured by the falling boom were William Bennoit and Fred Cardinal, both of Sault Ste. Marie.

Their parents are the George W. Kieffers of Sylvan Village.

He Sounds Great — Abby

Dirty Overalls? Big Deal

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old divorcee (no children, thank heavens!), am considered attractive and have a well-paying job in elegant surroundings.

ABBY

A 38-year-old, never-married man wants to marry me. He is handsome, sober, has excellent character, money in the bank and treats me like a queen. I suppose you wonder what my problem is. Well, he works in a factory and the thought of having my husband come home in dirty, greasy overalls bothers me.

I have seen him only scrubbed up and in his good clothes, and don't know how seeing him dirty would affect me.

Am I being childish? Do you think this is important enough to spoil our marriage? I am not crazy about the idea of having to say my husband is a common laborer.

NEAT AND CLEAN

DEAR NEAT: I would venture a guess that 99,999 women out of 100,000 wouldn't be "bothered" if a handsome, 38-year-old man of good character came home in greasy, dirty overalls—as long as he came directly home, sober, to treat her like a queen.

But if it bothers YOU, do the guy a favor and introduce him to a woman who wouldn't mind putting her arms around a man like that—greasy overalls and all!

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I received a birthday gift. The price tag was still attached, and the sales slip was enclosed!

I thought surely it must have been an oversight on the part of the sales person, but there was a note enclosed which read, "I didn't have this gift-wrapped in case you want to exchange it." I wonder what you think of sending a gift this way?

AMAZED

DEAR AMAZED: Your friend undoubtedly meant well, but she could have accomplished the same thing with a gift certificate.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's secretary told me that a married woman telephones my husband constantly. I know who she is. She has three children and a no-good husband.

My husband has taken her to lunch several times in this city, and he has seen her out of town. (He claims he "ran into her.") I asked him what they had in common, and he said she was just a "friend" who was unhappy and needed someone to talk to. He says it is a perfectly innocent relationship. Does it sound innocent to you? We have teen-aged children and I don't want my marriage broken up.

IN DANGER

DEAR IN: If it IS innocent now, it has all the ingredients of an incendiary bomb. The way to a man's heart is not only through his stomach. Another route is via the shoulder. Don't let this woman borrow your husband's to cry on. Let him know you were not born yesterday and will not tolerate any monkeyshines.

Citizens League Asks 1,300 to Tea at Cranbrook House

Bloomfield Hills' Cranbrook House will be the setting this Saturday for the Oakland Citizens League tea. A nonpartisan organization, founded 25 years ago this month, the league issued some 1,300 invitations to community leaders and friends in all parts of the county to celebrate the occasion and enlarge league membership.

★ ★ ★

Twenty - two women from eight Oakland County communities will serve as hostesses in Cranbrook House, ancestral home of Henry S. Booth, one of the founders.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Booth, honorary president, and current president, W. Laurance Shaffner of Rochester, will head the reception line composed of the 20 men on the league's board of directors.

MRS. ROMNEY A GUEST

Guests will include Mrs. George Romney, wife of the Republican candidate for governor, a representative for Governor John Swainson, and many community officials and candidates running on both party tickets for Oakland County offices.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Vanderl'oot of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr., Birmingham's nonpartisan woman mayor, are cochairmen of the event, sponsored by the league's membership committee headed by F. Ward-Ouradnik.

★ ★ ★

Other hostesses from Bloomfield Hills include Mrs. Merrill O. Bates, Mrs. George S. Hodges, Mrs. George A. Jones, Mrs. William H. McGaughey, Mrs. Robert M. McVeigh, and Mrs. Robert M. Nelson.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Birmingham will be represented by Mrs. Willett, Mrs. William T. Arlund, Mrs. John E. Bloomstrom and Mrs. Ouradnik.

★ ★ ★

Others include Mrs. A. L. Kassabian of Lake Orion, Mrs. W. Laurance Shaffner and Mrs. Thomas M. Everhard, both of Rochester; Mrs. Robert Browning and Mrs. Harlan G. Guite, Royal Oak; Mrs. John C. Parker of Berkley, Mrs. Richard J. Wallace of Farmington and Mrs. Edward R. Moore of Pleasant Ridge.

★ ★ ★

Robert Bates, organist at Christ Church Cranbrook, will play the organ in the central hall. A brief program will be presented in the Cranbrook House Library and tea will be served in the Oak Room. Guests will also occupy the tiled terrace overlooking the famous Cranbrook House gardens.

JACQUELINE LEE VESS

Pontiac Press Photo

Pointers for That First Dinner Out

Most teen - agers enjoy dances at the school gym, followed by hamburgers and cokes at the corner drug store.

But when a girl's very first invitation comes along to dine at a famous restaurant, it's a red letter day. She may feel a bit unsure about how to act. So here are the basic rules:

First, never give your order to the waiter. Tell your escort what you want, and he will place your order with his own.

★ ★ ★

You will probably have several waiters as well as the captain. Don't let this abundance of service throw you into a fit of juvenile giggles. Behave as though you were born to such luxury. Perhaps you were. But a good many of us weren't, so it's perfectly normal to feel a little out of your depth. Just don't look as though you do!

Above all, don't let unfamiliar foreign items on the menu frighten you out of trying what might be a delectable dish. Consult intelligently with your escort and a waiter about what the names mean. Common sense isn't gaucherie.

Each time you go to a well-known restaurant, you'll know a little more about what you want to order. Develop poise and a genuine interest in your surroundings and you'll be a pleasant, sought-after companion.

Daughters Use Psychology

Update Mom's Fashion Savvy

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Teaching mothers how to be chic requires plenty of psychology on the part of those hypercritical young ladies, their daughters.

This is Harriet Alpern's observation.

As a pretty 20-year-old she has had a few years in which to note that instead of getting, teen-agers are giving advice to elders to tease hair, shorten hems, take off a few pounds.

Since her father Owen Alpern has been manufacturing junior clothes for 25 years, Harriet is in a position to know that almost as many mothers buy these sizes and styles as her contemporaries.

For example, a copy of designer Norman Norell's young America suit with its swingy skirt, short-cropped jacket and wide belt is worn by almost as many 50-year-olds as 15-year olds.

And, as a pyschology major at Finch college Harriet feels she understands why young girls are encouraging their mothers to be more fashion conscious.

"A youthful, chic mother is a status symbol to girl friends. And to boyfriends a mother indicates what the daughter may look like someday," says philisophical Harriet.

After bull sessions with her friends and some careful physchological study Harlet suggests these ways for daughters to improve their mothers appearance.

Respect, but manipulate your mother's opinion. Point out real life or pictorial examples of women her age who are strikingly beautiful in current hair, fashion styles or make-up.

★ ★ ★

Enlist Dad to drop hints and compliments. Emersed in household chores, women lose the incentive to dress up, unless the man in her life notices, and cares.

Don't allow her to be a martyr. Also, a certain neurotic mother type rather enjoys bemoaning that so much clothing money is spent on the daughter none is left for her. Advise this kind that her greatest sacrifice would be to dress so that the family will be proud to introduce her.

If she's dowdy because fashion doesn't interest her, invite her to some style luncheons with you. She'll go for the companionship and may in turn develop a knowledge and interest in clothes.

Still, if collusion, companionship and friendly suggestion gets Mama nowhere in terms of fashion, stop nagging and forget it, urges Harriet. And never, never apologize for her to anyone.

"We've talked about these points at school," explains the pretty collegianne "and I'm just saying what we've all agreed on."

But with Harriet herself mother is not a problem. Mrs. Owen (Ethel) Alpern, a former lawyer and now an interior decorator, is a smartly attired size 11 whose innate good tastes keep daughter Harriet on her toes.

Dye Bath

If you do not have flowers the proper shade for a room or party color scheme, don't be discouraged. You can have any color you want by putting the stems of white flowers in water tinted with food coloring. In about an hour, you will have flowers the color desired.

Organizes for Season

Committees for this year were announced at Xi Beta Theta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority's first meeting Monday evening.

Shurlee Scott and Marjie Douglis have charge of the membership committee; Christine Genereux and Evelyn Little, program; Mrs. Jack Pote, Lorraine Sauve and Barbara Knight, social.

★ ★ ★

The ways and means committee is under the direction of Pat Donaldson and Marilynn Baumann; publicity, Audrey Zumbrunnen and Jere Nelson; telephone, Mary Bego, Peggy Combs and Donna Wedow; and service-welfare, Jane White and Ellen Deschaine.

Slate Card Party

Esther Court, Order of the Amaranth, will hold their annual "cup-and-saucer" card party Friday at the First Federal Savings and Loan of Oakland at 8 p.m.

Mrs. William C. Pfahlert is chairman of the event, assisted by her cochairman Catherine McCrindle.

Also working on the affair are the following committeewomen: Mrs. Alan Schmidt and Mrs. Edward Moden, prizes; Mrs. Pierre Shaver and Mrs. Harold Schingeck, refreshment; Mrs. E. A. Pearson, Mrs. Lee Bryant and Mrs. Robert Hulett, candy.

Sweaters Popularize Classicism

You'll be "classic" this year in your choice of sweaters if you follow the trend of fashion.

This traditional style is characterized by a flat, less bulky stitch, narrow conservative trim, and a revival of classic patterns such as Argyle and Blazer stripes.

Bulky sweaters are still high fashion though, and promise to remain a top favorite. One in particular has grown in popularity — that's the "Links & Links" texture.

The west Coast, always a leader in sharp-looking sweaters, has taken this design to its heart and adopted it as its own.

The six button cardigan sweater ranks among the highest in popularity. It carries self piping and contrasting trimming.

You'll see more and more of what is called the zip-crew style. The zip-crew is a crew neck with full length zipper closing.

Women Attend Library Conference

President Mrs. Ralph Eaton and five other members of the Waterford Township Friends of the Library are in Lansing today for Michigan's first governor's conference on libraries. Attending with Mrs. Eaton are Mrs. John Naz, Mrs. Minor White, Mrs. William Schunck, Mrs. James Robinson and Mrs. C. J. Mumby.

YOUR NERVOUS TENSION HEADACHE

Not only relieves pain but ALSO its tension and depression

Superior to aspirin or buffered aspirin

Tension headaches are by far the most common kind.

Of the 21 leading pain relievers, only Anacin has extra medication that relieves pain fast, also its nervous tension and depression. With Anacin, you experience remarkable 'all-over' relief without stomach upset.

In 22 seconds after entering the bloodstream, Anacin is speeding relief to your pain. In addition, Anacin gives you more complete relief than headache pain than aspirin or buffered aspirin. You see, aspirin or buffered aspirin contains only one pain reliever. But Anacin is a combination of three medically proven ingredients which 3 out of 4 doctors recommend and which many doctors, themselves, take when they suffer from headaches.

It is the difference in Anacin that makes the big difference in the way you feel.

More Charm, More Leisure

Age 50 Is Prime of Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A woman of 50 should be in the very prime of life. She should still have great vitality. She usually has more leisure at this age since her most strenuous duties as a mother are over. If she has not been unlucky and if she has been wise, she will still possess the vigor of youth, have more charm than ever before, and plenty of good looks left, too.

However, unfortunately, this period of life is often an unhappy one for the woman. This is true if she has been living vicariously through her children and her husband and has failed to develop her own personal and individual interests.

This is easy to do and this situation will slip up on a woman if she does not give thought to avoiding it.

A woman should have some life of her own at every age. If she has eager interests of her own, thoughts of her own, stimulated by study, and enthusiasms which are shining, she will have much more to bring to her family and her own life will be much more exciting.

★ ★ ★

If you have failed to develop interests and hobbies which will enrich your new leisure and dull any loneliness you may feel for your children, and now find yourself restless and far from happy, think of the little talents and loves of earlier years.

NEVER HAD TIME

Think of the things you always said you wanted to do but didn't have time to do.

All of these interests and many more may just be buried under the weight of years. Dig them out and invest in them.

Start rehabilitating yourself for this new phase of your life by beginning a course in physical self-improvement. This alone will activate you and give your morale a big lift.

THINGS TO DO

Become interested in some courses of study or take lessons to learn, or improve your skill, at a sport. Take dancing lessons. Develop at least one hobby. The list is endless. For instance, you can make a hobby of collecting some item you are interested in, of art, music, photography, antique furniture, glass, horticulture, astronomy, dramatics, and there are all kinds of handicrafts.

If you would like to have my list of hobbies, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 66 to Joseph ine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Ceramic Tiles Retain Heat

If you place a ceramic tile in the oven as you bake biscuits or warm rolls and then put the warm tile in the bottom of the serving basket, the heat will keep the bread warm during the meal and fewer grease marks will appear on the napkins around the rolls.

With more leisure, the mother whose children are demanding less of her time can develop new activities which will revitalize her.

Prevent Cuts

Cheese, Heavy Cream Make Salad Richer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Gelatin, cheese and pineapple have an affinity for one another. Here is a recipe for a rich company salad that uses all three — and chopped nuts too.

Mrs. Doyle O. Hempton who lives at Fox Bay gave us this recipe. She works parttime, keeps her grandchildren occasionally and enjoys some social life. She belongs to the Saybrook Group of her church.

COMPANY SALAD
By Mrs. Doyle O. Hempton

1 package lemon or lime gelatin
1 large can crushed pineapple
6 oz. creamed cheese
½ cup cut celery
⅔ cup chopped nuts
3½ teaspoons salt (this is correct)
½ pint cream, whipped

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:

"Would you please tell me how to press a sash which has been cut on the bias? It is double and about 3 inches wide. I simply can't get it to press flat." Mrs. R. A.

There is a little trick to stitching a bias sash and if you use it, you won't have as much trouble pressing it. As you machine stitch the seam, stretch the bias edge slightly. This will give you the amount of elasticity you need for the bias edge and will prevent the seamline from drawing up.

ONE-YARD MAY DO

"Dear Eunice:

"Several of us have been discussing the amount of material needed for a slim skirt when the material is 54 inches wide. Different patterns seem to use different yardage, often there is so much left over." Mrs. D. G. D.

If you are using 54-inch-fabric, you can cut a straight skirt with only ONE yard of fabric depending on the type of skirt and your own measurements.

If you wish a pleat in the skirt, you can't be larger than 40 inches in the hips. This will take care of the waistband on the selvage, your seam allowances, 2 inch pleat, and 3 inches for ease. If your hip measurement is larger than 40 inches, you will need 2 lengths of fabric.

If you don't care for a pleat at the center back, your hip measurement can be 42 inches and still be cut from one length of fabric. This will also allow for a center back seam, which can be left open at the hemline for a small slit which would give you some walking ease.

You will still have enough fabric for the ease necessary, your waistband and the seam allowance. Carefully follow the illustration for refolding your fabric for cutting.

"Dear Eunice:

"When a pattern calls for skirt stiffening for the A line skirt, how can we know what to use? I just finished a cotton skirt and the stiffening I used made the skirt too heavy and stiff." Mrs. A. B.

The type of stiffening you will use depends upon the pattern, your figure, and the type of fabric you are using. Usually, a woven-type interfacing will do a fine job of stiffening the skirt. This is usually applied to the fabric and the two layers are treated as one. A separate petticoat of stiffening is also recommended.

KIDDIE SPECIAL

Make stars, hearts, shamrocks, leaves, flowers or most anything you can dream up from small scraps of bright felt. Cut a small slit in the center to fit the buttons or a blouse or plain dress.

Simply slip these over the buttons after the garment has been buttoned. Presto! You have an individual, personalized touch your children will love.

They make delightful gifts. This idea won for Mrs. S. Enes, Afton, Mo., a Tailor Trix pressing board.

YOUR SEWING GLOSSARY: Pile—for corduroy, velvet, and velveteen.

Your corduroys and velvets have a PILE rather than a nap and it is most important that all pieces be cut in the same direction.

The colors will appear deeper and richer if cut against the pile and the material will not get as shiny and flat when you sit on it. To check the direction of the pile, it should appear smooth as you stroke it UP.

Please send me your questions that will apply to your fall and winter sewing. They will be answered in the column as soon as possible. Send all questions to Sew Simple, in case of The Pontiac Press.

Soft Drinks in Bottles OK, if . . .

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I will be 17 a week from Sunday and have invited 20 of my friends, boys and girls, to come in that evening to help celebrate.

Soft drinks, potato chips, pretzels and a variety of sandwiches will be served. I would like to know if it would be proper to serve the soft drinks in their bottles and furnish straws. It would eliminate a lot of glass washing.

A: It could hardly be called proper, but it is customary at parties in your community for young people of your age to be served drinks in bottles with straws, you may do so too.

Q: My son is not engaged, but he has been going out quite steadily with the same young woman for the past six months. Her parents have invited my husband and me to dinner at their house this Sunday so we may become acquainted.

I would like to know if I should take a present to the young lady or perhaps some sweets to the girl's mother. Will you please advise me as to the proper thing to do in this situation?

A: No present is at all necessary, but you may, if you wish to do so, take a box of candy to your hostess.

Q: I expect to visit relatives in another city. I plan to stay with them a week. These relatives are opposed to smoking.

While I am not a heavy smoker, I do enjoy a cigarette now and then. Does courtesy exact that I refrain from smoking while I am a guest in their house?

A: You should not smoke in their presence, nor in their living or dining rooms. You may, however, smoke a cigarette in your bedroom, first making sure that you have something to use as an ash receiver.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Waterford Dems Slate Meeting

Waterford Township Democratic Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Adams of West Walton Boulevard, Sept. 26, at 8 p.m.

Cohostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Alvy Bush and Mrs. Walter Brinkman. All candidates and interested women are invited to attend.

Moisturize Dry Skin

Surest sign of the end of summer and the approach of autumn is the cool September rain. What it does to the air is tonic for the complexion too. Some dermatologists say that the English women owe their soft skin and clear complexions to their country's cool moist climate. The neighborhood drug store has a variety of man-made moisturizers to help make the skin soft and dewy. Drying agents, such as strong astringents should not be used. Rather, use a pure, herbal freshener like good quality witch hazel.

De-spiked

When rain boots have high heels, insert a dime in each heel to prevent spike heels from cutting through the boot.

Night Out Is Mom's Chance to Live It Up

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Why is it that in a restaurant the women do all the talking and all the smiling? And why does the man just sit there, looking glum?"

The foreigner who asked that question after viewing the American scene is an Italian movie actor.

If he really wants to know why the woman sparkles during dinner out, and why her husband looks glum, we'll be glad to enlighten him on this not-so-mysterious matter.

That woman chatting happily, not the least bit bothered by her husband's glum silence, is enjoying mama's weekly night out.

At home a baby sitter is riding herd on the children, seeing to it that they eat their spinach, mind their manners, and get to bed on time.

With a baby sitter pinch-hitting, the woman at the restaurant table has put aside all her housekeeping worries and motherly concerns.

She is determined to enjoy the weekly treat of eating a dinner somebody else has cooked and that somebody else will clean up after.

She is happily aware of the pleasure of being served instead of serving, of being a man's dinner companion rather than his cook and dishwasher.

But the man who is sitting across the table from this sparkling woman would rather be at home. He has had enough adult conversation during his working day. And he'd prefer his wife's cooking.

So actually he doesn't have nearly as much reason for smiling as his wife has. But even though he is silent, he isn't really glum.

He knows his needs an occasional evening out and, if she is enjoying herself, he is willing to pay for the meal and the baby sitter, miss his favorite television show and drive the baby sitter home.

But he doesn't have to pretend he wouldn't rather be at home, does he?

Blue Cross-Blue Shield Defends Plan to Aid Elderly

DETROIT (AP) — Faced by a dilemma, Blue Cross-Blue Shield grabbed it by the horns. Whether it should have done so currently is being debated over Michigan.

Although a two-time loser in the last week, Blue Cross-Blue Shield defends the course it took. It insists it chose to place the interests of senior citizens above political issues.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield proposed a 50 per cent rate increase for new subscribers to its individual, nongroup hospital-medical insurance for senior (above 65) citizens. At the same time it proposed to offer a new plan for the elderly that would combine hospital, nursing home and medical care at a rate of $15.10 a month per person.

State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn, who must approve Blue Cross-Blue Shield rates, rejected both. The new so-called extended benefits plans was vetoed Saturday.

The doctor-controlled Blue Shield and hospital-controlled Blue Cross plans insisted Colburn give prompt approval to their new senior citizen proposals. They were filed Aug. 16. There was no public disclosure of them until this month.

Colburn held the 50 per cent increase for new senior citizen plan subscribers would be discriminatory, compared to rates paid by those of comparable age currently enrolled. On the second proposal he held there was no guarantee Blue Cross-Blue Shield could prove sufficient nursing homes to give the care proposed.

While Colburn and Blue Cross-Blue Shield officials have been debating merits, there has been considerable debate, much of it off-stage, about the timing of the requests.

FUEL TO SOCIALIZATION

Opponents of President Kennedy's medicare plan, which would link hospital-medical insurance for the elderly to Social Security, suggest Blue Cross-Blue Shield have given new fuel in the midst of a political campaign to proponents of what doctors call socialized medicine.

The Blue Cross-Blue Shield answer is: We thought of that. We chose to place the interests of senior citizens above political issues.

The national organizations of 77 Blue Cross and 69 Blue Shield plans, pressed by a threat of the government moving into the hospital-medical insurance field, have developed a national uniform benefit program for senior citizens. They plan a nationwide campaign in October to sell it at $15.10 per month per individual or $19.95 for a couple of 65 and any children they may have 18 or younger.

It is exactly the hospital-nursing home - medical policy Colburn turned down.

Blue Cross explains its decision to bring it up before the Nov. 6 general election:

"The national organization felt that realistic protection for senior citizens should be made available as soon as possible. For this reason the national campaign was scheduled for the month of October.

"Caught on the horns of a dilemma, Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield chose to place the interests of senior citizens above political issues."

These other questions were put to Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield and these answers received:

'NOT EXPERTS'

"We do not think so, but actually, since we do not pretend to be political experts, we don't think we are qualified to render a final judgment on this kind of question.

"We would feel that in the long run our position will become clear: that we were simply trying to make certain that the senior citizens in Michigan get the same opportunity as those in other states to enroll in a uniform national Blue Cross-Blue Shield program."

(Blue Cross-Blue Shield reports it is losing money currently on coverage sold 18,000 senior citizens on an individual, nongroup basis, and says extension of this to others at the same rate would amount to fiscal irresponsibility. It adds, however, no increase is planned for those now enrolled until there is need for a general, over-all revision of rates.)

CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Does Blue Cross-Blue Shield concede that the issue of King-Anderson type medicare (that hooked to social security) has been made a campaign issue by both political parties?

"Apparently some candidates for office will try to make this subject a campaign issue."

Does Blue Cross have any official position on (the now congressionally stymied) King-Anderson Bill? Any unofficial position?

"The Blue Cross board has never taken an official position, but unofficially the Blue Cross Association nationally and Blue Cross in Michigan take the position that the voluntary programs (Blue Cross-Blue Shield) have gone a long way already in providing coverage for the aged, and the voluntary approach will go further and be able to provide broad benefits the most efficiently and effectively.

"We feel that King-Anderson was not adequate and had no coverage at all for the area of surgery and professional medical care in-hospital. We believe the national uniform senior citizen program we in Michigan sought approval for is far more realistic, broader and provides this very necessary coverage in the area of doctor-care."

(The national uniform plan would provide 70 days of hospital care; up to 138 days of nursing home care; medical-surgical benefits with everything paid for those with incomes of less than $4,000 annually and up 13 weekly doctor visits for nursing home patients.)

Has the possible effect of King-Anderson legislation on the Blue Cross program ever been considered?

"Yes. And on first glance it would seem to have a helpful effect. Theoretically, it would lighten the load on Blue Cross by eliminating higher-cost older persons from coverage. But the long-run effect would be bad and dangerous. King-Anderson benefits are inadequate and it is far from the realistic answer to a very serious problem."

HELP OR HURT?

Does Blue Cross feel that adoption of King-Anderson-type legislation (free hospitalization under Social Security without a means test) would ultimately strengthen or weaken the Blue Cross program?

"Blue Cross feis that ultimately it would probably weaken the Blue Cross program because . . . broadening of areas of coverage strengthen Blue Cross, while a reduction would tend to weaken its position.

"Blue Cross recognizes that adequate coverage for the aged is costly and that some form of government subsidy for subscription payments will probably be needed for those aged on limited incomes. It feels this subsidy should be geared to the income situation, with the subsidy percentage income decreases."

(A spokesman explained "subsidy subscription payments" would be made to Blue Cross-Blue Shield or some privately operated plan writing the costly coverage for the needy aged.)

Does Blue Cross have any official or unofficial position on the Kerr-Mills medical care program (state hospitalization with federal aid and a means test for recipients)?

"Although no official position has ever been taken by the Blue Cross board of trustees, it subscribes generally to the position stated by the Blue Cross Association and the American Hospital Association earlier this year. That was: " 'Blue Cross and hospitals are in accord that the present Kerr-Mills program must be continued and strengthened.'

'NEEDS STRENGTHENING'

"The Wayne County situation where only 75 per cent of cost to the hospital is paid is a case in point of need of strengthening. It is worth pointing out that Kerr-Mills benefits in Michigan are the equivalent of the Blue Cross-Blue Shield comprehensive coverage program and except in Wayne County, Kerr-Mills covers the hospital costs of such coverage 100 per cent.

★ ★ ★

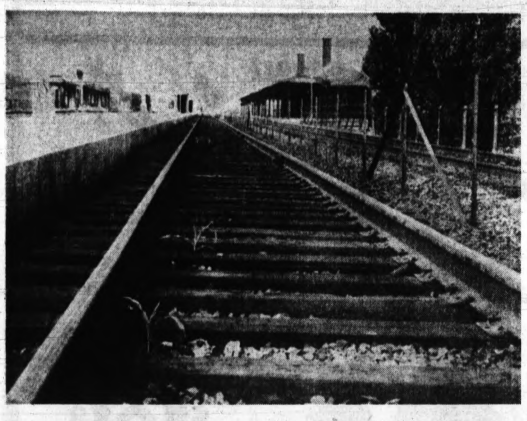

Has Kerr-Mills had any appreciable effect on Blue Cross costs?

"None that is measurable or discernible. Actually, because of the inadequate payment (75 per cent of costs) to Wayne County hospitals, no favorable effect could be felt."

In the wake of Colburn's turndown of the hospital-nursing home-medical plan (which Blue Cross-Blue Shield proposes to offer nationally), Sumner G. Whittier, executive director of Blue Shield, said:

"Blue Cross and Blue Shield will do everything within their power to re-examine and redesign a new contract offer to the senior citizens of the state with all prudent haste."

He added, however, that such probably would be impossible in October. Some other sources forecast a new plan couldn't be readied this year, and certainly wouldn't be before Nov. 6—Election Day.

HOW TALL WILL IT GROW? — Several stalks of corn have sprung up between the rails at the Oak Park, Ill., station of the Chicago and North Western Railway, idled by a strike of railroad telegraphers. Probably the corn will continue to grow until the strike is finally settled and the line begins operation. Union and management have both agreed to accept arbitration at the President's request.

Seven Highway Projects Approved by Ad Board

LANSING (AP) — The State Administrative Board has approved seven highway construction projects totaling more than $125,000, the State Highway Department reports.

★ ★ ★

Largest contract approved was for a $49,607 grading and paving job on Baker Road south of Sault Ste. Marie to be done by the Chippewa County Road Commission.

Fright Kills Worker Hanging on Building

NEW YORK (AP) — Window Washer John Hirowski, 63, apparently was frightened to death Tuesday when his safety belt broke, leaving him dangling by one strap and screaming for help below a sixth-floor window in Manhattan.

He hung suspended at least 10 minutes outside the West 54th Street apartment building before a tenant heard his screams and called police.

When officers got to the window 10 minutes later, Hirowski appeared to have stopped breathing.

★ ★ ★

Patrolman John E. Baer was lowered, head-down, and applied mouth to mouth resuscitation. Hirowski didn't respond. He was pulled in by rope and after further treatment was pronounced dead of heart failure.

2 Complete Translation of Bahai Holy Book

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first English translation of the "Al-Kitab al-Aqdas," or "Most Holy Book" of the Bahai religion has been completed by two Presbyterian missionaries.

The work was done by Dr. Earl E. Elder of Philadelphia, an Arabic scholar who retired in 1955 after serving in Egypt for 40 years, and Dr. William McE. Miller, also of Philadelphia, who will retire in December after serving in Iran since 1919.

Family Stays Together That 'Plays' Together

NEW YORK (UPI)—Before radio and television, a songfest around the piano was the favorite family pastime. The youngsters hamonized, dad played his mandolin or uke and mom usually accompanied them all on the piano.

The American Music Conference reports the grand old custom is being revived. In many cases the new twist is that the whole family plays musical instruments along with mom and dad.

Light Colors for Walls on the Way Out Again?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Paints of medium and dark values have shown an increase in popularity for walls during the past three years, color researchers report. Does it mean dark walls are returning?

Although this is an indication of change from the whites, sands and pastels, the end result is anyone's guess, reports the color research department of a paint manufacturer.

The American Foundation for the Blind recorded for the Library of Congress 195 Talking Books last year, up nearly 25 per cent from the year before.

Tell Parents of Danger to Youth From Alcohol

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — One out of every 15 teen-agers may easily become an alcoholic under prevailing conditions of the average home, cautions Dr. Marvin A. Block.

Control of alcoholism begins in the home, Block reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association. He said education of children should be supported by good example. "Kiddy cocktails" —soft drinks served to children in cocktail glasses—were cited as a potential source of trouble.

Airports, Like Planes, Have Ups and Downs

MONTREAL (UPI) — There is a difference in altitude of more than two miles between the highest and lowest major airports on the globe, according to the International Air Transport Association.

At La Paz airport in Bolivia, passengers are offered oxygen respirators when they land from pressurized aircraft 13,425 feet up in the Andes. At Schipol Airport in the Netherlands, they can see boats sailing by in a canal 14 feet higher than the runways.

Petoskey Pays More

PETOSKEY (UPI)— City employes began getting an average 2.5 per cent more pay Sept. 1, Councilman Joe Kelbourn said yesterday. He said the increase will add $7,979 to the annual city payroll.

Afraid to Fly, Huh? Statistics Say Pooh

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Now — a statistical nerve tonic for wives who fret when hubby flies for business reasons.

Commercial air travel is five times as safe as passenger car travel and is "in the ball park" with passenger trains and intercity buses. Otto E. Kirschner, an airline safety advisor for the Boeing Co., said so at a meeting of the nation's aviation writers here.

Soviets Look Into 3rd Blast at Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet soldiers appeared along the Communist wall last night to investigate another mysterious explosion in East Berlin that shook an area near the Brandenburg Gate.

The truckload of soldiers soon withdrew and West police could not see whether they found anything.

East German guards usually investigate such blasts. This was the third recent explosion near the Brandenburg Gate. There was no immediate explanation why the Russians appeared.

A company of Soviet tanks faced American tanks at Checkpoint Charlie on one occasion last fall. Otherwise, Soviet troops have been seen along the wall only in twos or threes, riding jeeps.

The area searched last night includes the site of Hitler's chancellory and the bunker where he is believed to have killed himself.

West Berlin police heard several other explosions during the night and saw fire briefly light up the area across the border from the northern suburb of Frohnau.

★ ★ ★

WEST REPLIES

Meanwhile, Soviet statements on Berlin and West Germany drew prompt replies from Washington and Bonn.

Washington challenged a Moscow declaration that the Soviet Union, which withdrew its military commandant from Berlin last month, will not renew relations with the three Allied military commanders in the divided city.

The U.S. State Department repeated that Berlin continues to be the joint responsibility of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

It said the Air Safety Center and the Spandau Prison still are operated on a four-power basis.

Tass also said the visit by French President Charles de Gaulle to West Germany left no doubt that a "collusion exists aimed at the aggravation of international tension."

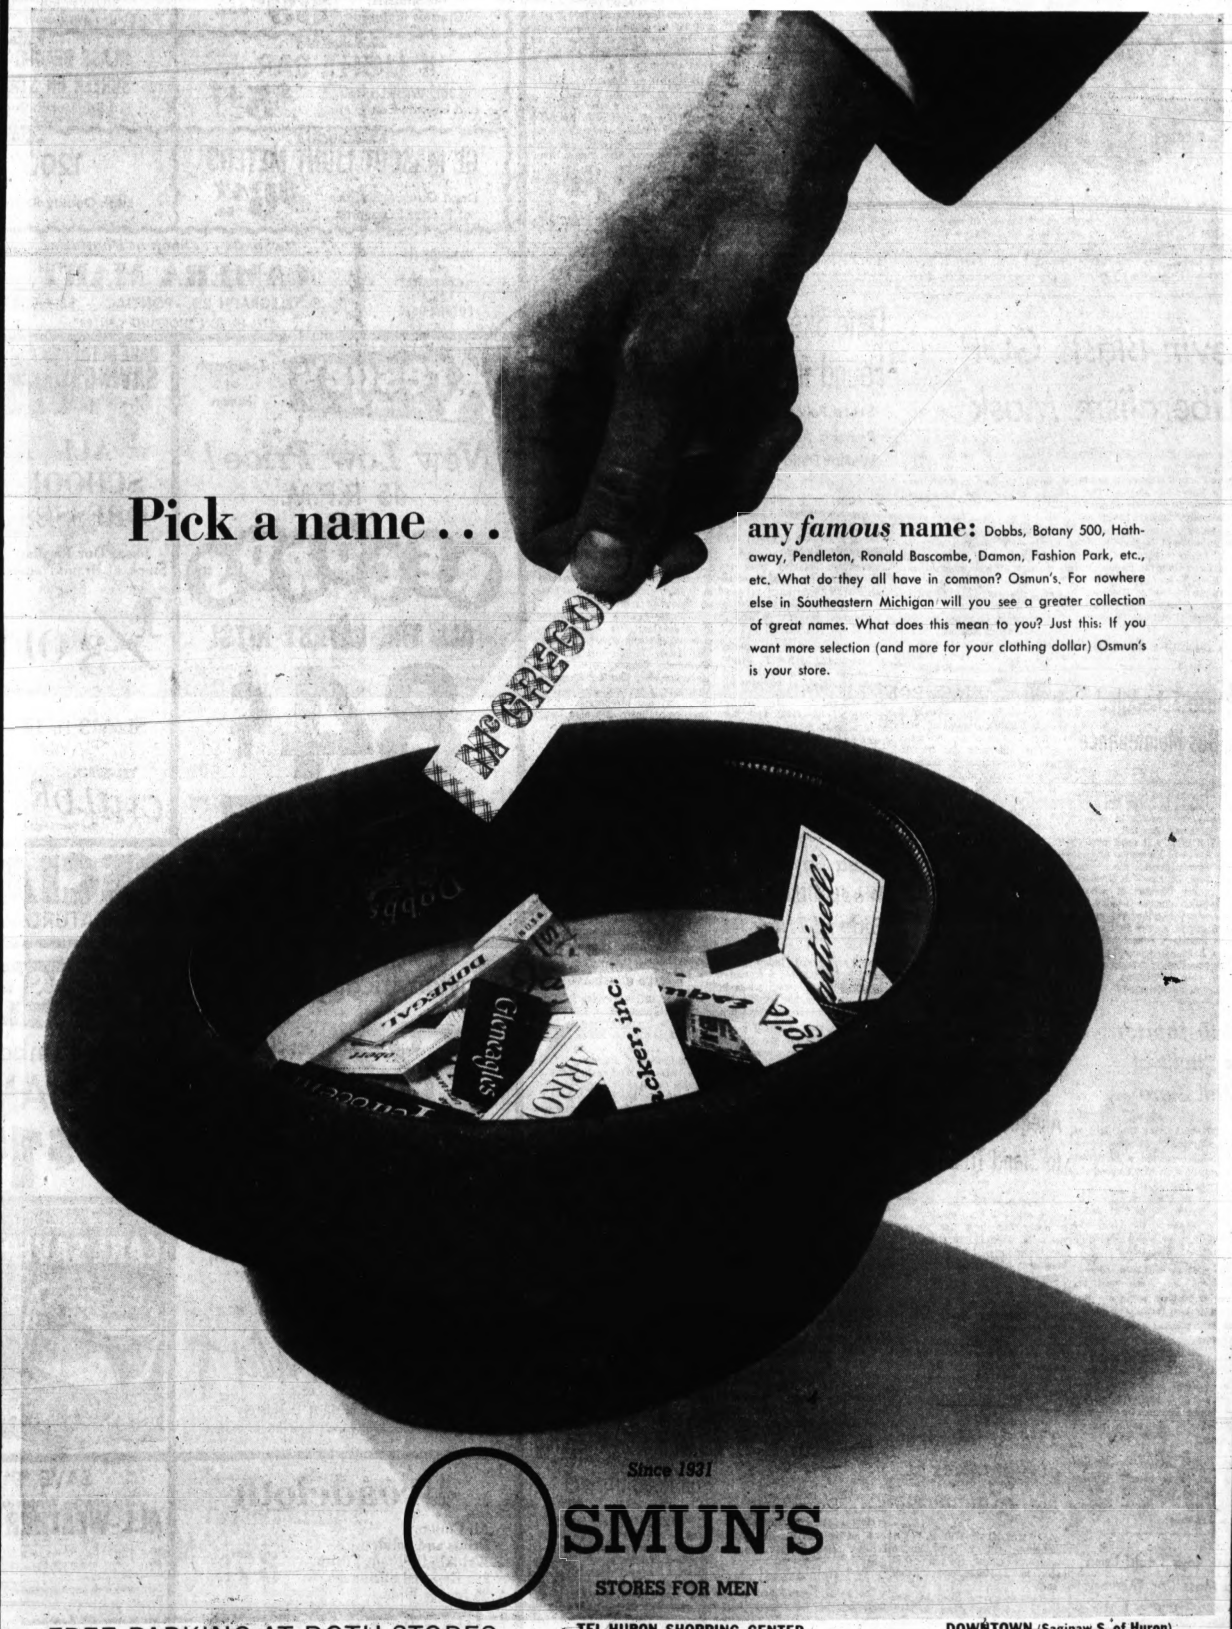

The West German government replied that French-German friendship is an example of how postwar relations can be settled peacefully, if both sides show good will.

Levin Blasts GOP 'Liberalism Mask'

"The mask of liberalism" must be stripped from Michigan's Republican Party if Democrats are to win the November election, Oakland County Democratic Committee Chairman Sander Levin declared today.

"In an attempt to deceive the voters," Levin charged, "reactionary forces" within the Republican party have been "putting up a front known as George Romney," while moving behind that front in the direction of extreme conservatism.

In a newsletter to the county's 311 Democratic precinct delegates, Levin urged them to "get it down on the record" that county Republicans have proposed:

★ ★ ★

1. Legislation empowering either political party to expel party officeholders if they disagree with the group's official program.

2. Complete elimination of the U.S. Government's power to levy any type of income tax.

3. Legislation crippling the federal government's authority to enter into foreign alliances such as the United Nations, NATO, SEATO and the Organization of American States.

DEVASTATING PARALLEL

The newsletter saw a parallel between Romney's proposed laws to purge parties of all but strict party-line adherents and the demands "of nearly every fascistic, totalitarian group in history."

"If this proposal was made by Romney to take himself off the hook in his battle with Durant (Richard C. Durant, GOP 14th District vice chairman and avowed supporter of the extreme right John Birch Society), then his (Romney's) foolhardiness in not realizing all the potential dangers in such an anti-Democratic proposition is frightening enough," Levin stated.

★ ★ ★

"But," he continued, "if Mr. Romney views this deadly attack on our historic perogatives as a serious means of combating political opposition in a free society, then he is more dangerous than the Birchers."

★ ★ ★

Levin branded the other two alleged proposals as "pure Birchism" within the Republican Party of Michigan.

Course Scheduled on Bus Maintenance

School bus mechanics who tend the 415 busess that take Oakland County children to school will have a made-to-order course in school bus maintenance this fall.

The first class will meet at the County Board of Education offices in the County Service Center at 7 p.m., Sept. 26, Erwin J. Hendershott, county director of school transportation announced today.

Hendershott described the maintenance course as the first of its kind in the state. School bus mechanics have previously taken courses provided for drivers, which touched only briefly on special problems of maintenance.

Nab Janitor in Thefts at Mall Store

A stake-out during the night at the new Grinnell Bros. store in the Pontiac Mall resulted in the arrest of a Detroit man who entered the building at 2 a.m. today.

Oran Harge, 38, of 2241 Antoinette, a janitor at the Mall, was arrested by Waterford Township police officer Elmer Bauer.

The stake-out had been ordered when the store, scheduled to open for business tomorrow, reported several radios and television sets missing after a stock inventory.

Bauer, in the store since 8 p.m. yesterday, said Harge had come up to the front window and looked in the building several times before making his entry by removing a section of window at the front of the store.

Lost Keys Could Lead to Mass Car Thievery

LONDON (UPI) — London police have lost the master keys that open and start almost every car in the British Isles, they reported today.

Alleged Bookmaker to Stand Trial Here

A 64-year-old Pontiac man who, police say, has been operating as a bookmaker here for several years, is scheduled to stand trial for violation of state gambling laws next Wednesday.

James (Chinaboy) Pruzer of 125 N. Perry St. pleaded innocent to the charge in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon. He is free on $100 personal bond.

He was arrested yesterday at Pike and Saginaw streets by Patrolman Guy White of the police department's special investigation unit.

'Oldest Resident' of State Dies at 113 in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—William (Dad) Eddington, 113, believed to be Michigan's oldest resident, died today in a Kalamazoo nursing home.

A former circus cook, he was born in New Castle, Ind., in 1849. He lived with his grandson for many years before moving to the nursing home six weeks ago.

Six years ago, Eddington received birthday congratulations from President Eisenhower, as well as former Presidents Harry Truman and Herbert Hoover.

Date Skeleton Found in Area

State Police Reports Remains Are Those of Woman Dead 50 Years

MILFORD — A skeleton found at a new home site here last week is that of a young woman, dead about 50 years, the Brighton state police reported today.

Information obtained from the Crime Detection Laboratory of the State Health Department revealed that the woman was caucasian or a half-breed, between 30 and 35 years of age, and 5 feet 2 or 4.

The skeleton, nearly complete, was uncovered by Neil R. Braun of 240 Hill St. while moving dirt at his new home at 325 Mill St.

It could not be determined if a fracture of the skull had been made prior to death or later but it was most certain that the crack was not made when it was unearthed, the report said.

★ ★ ★

State police said the information would be turned over to Braun but they would not investigate further.

Area Boy Hurt When Bike Hits Side of Truck

An 8-year-old Independence Township boy suffered a fractured leg yesterday afternoon when he apparently drove his bicycle into the side of a moving pickup truck.

In satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital is Richard C. Youngs of 7280 Clintonville Road.

Joseph C. Caldwell, 48, of 4371 Cheeseman St., Waterford Township, told Pontiac state police he was driving north on Clintonville Road when the boy drove his bicycle into the right side of his pickup truck.

★ ★ ★

Armored Win Scored Against Viet Cong Unit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—Government troops claimed their first major armored victory of the war today, reporting they trapped a veteran Communist rebel unit and killed 168 Viet Cong soldiers in a battle 80 miles south of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

A military source said Vietnamese manning U.S. M113 armored personnel carriers accounted for most of the guerrilla dead in the two-day operation that ended today.

The battle began when several battalions of Vietnamese troops cornered the Viet Cong's 502nd Battalion yesterday.

As the Communist troops tried to flee along a canal, they were cut off by the fast-moving personnel carriers and cut down by the M113s' machine guns.

Youth Hurt Working on Road Project

A Belleville youth injured in a road construction accident yesterday in Groveland Township is reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Hospital, Flint.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said 18-year-old Lionel G. Thorold was hurt while working alongside a gravel spreader on U.S. 10 north of Grange Hall Road.

★ ★ ★

Thorold apparently fell under the gravel spreader while walking next to it, according to Victor E. Snazel of Warren, operator of the spreader.

Greek Rulers Planning Visits to Iran, India

ATHENS (UPI) — King Paul and Queen Frederika have been invited to make state visits to India and Iran, the government announced today.

The Greek rulers plan to accept the invitations and the visits probably will be made in 1963, a spokesman said.

'Reds Have More Subs but U. S. Fleet Ahead'

WARSAW, Poland (UPI)—A special session tomorrow of the U.S.-Chinese Communist ambassadorial talks was requested by the Chinese, U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot said today.

The L.I. expectancy of women in Canada within the last 30 years has increased to 72 from 62 years.

Credit Helmsman for Gretel's Upset of Weatherly

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Has American skipper Bus Mosbacher met his match in Australian helmsman Jock Sturrock?

★ ★ ★

This was a question that stunned Americans and delirious Australians were pondering today after the upset victory by the Australian challenger, Gretel, Tuesday over the American defender Weatherly which knotted the America's Cup series at one race each.

★ ★ ★

While the Aussies were out celebrating Tuesday night, American tacticians reviewed the race with a fine-tooth comb and came up with the conclusion that Sturrock, a 46-year-old lumber company executive from Melbourne, is a whale of a match race. He outmaneuvered the 41-year-old Mosbacher from White Plains, N.Y., on every point of sailing. And Mosbacher has been acclaimed the world's best.

THE BOOMERANG

At the start, Sturrock used an Australian boomerang and turned Mosbacher's favorite tactic against him by chasing him from behind.

Usually the red-haired American, is the one to terrorize opponents from astern by controlling the "ring-around-the rosy" before the start, but Sturrock chased Mosbacher downwind away from the starting line, leaving him in a corner. The American skipper had to accept Australian superiority and cross the extreme leeward end of the line, with Sturrock blanketing him from a favorable windward position.

After nine minutes on the first tack Weatherly's great speed had worked her into a safe leeward position, but Sturrock had answers for that one, too.

The Aussie skipper initiated a tacking duel in which Gretel's crew executed 11 tacks in five minutes with such breathtaking speed and efficiency that Mosbacher tacked away and broke the cardinal racing rule of covering an opponent because the Aussies were lacking him dizzy and the Americans were losing every time they came about.

Mosbacher later acknowledged that he lost two boat lengths in the duel.

SUNDAY PUNCH

Observers thought they had seen the Australian bag of tricks on the windward leg, but Sturrock was saving his Sunday punch for the turn of the second leg, a beam reach, onto the downwind run. With complete poise, Sturrock gave Mosbacher another lesson in he American's specialty of how to do in your opponent from behind.

Sacrificing closeness to the mark for a more advantageous windward position, Sturrock boldly let the American go ahead and gambled that he could find the right spot to take the wind out of Mosbacher's spinnaker from astern. The maneuver worked perfectly, and Gretel sailed past the American boat to take the commanding lead which she held to the end of the race.

Although Weatherly broke a spinnaker pole on the final leg, Gretel was already passing her at the time she did it. There is no reason to suppose that the outcome would have been different if the Americans had not broken gear, since they were already in an unfavorable position.

After the race, Mosbacher said: "I've said all along that they sail her very well and very fast and she's a good boat. Now we have proof."

FAST RACE

Gretel won Tuesday's race—a 24-nautical-mile triangular test—by 47 seconds, in the elapsed time of 2 hours, 46 minutes, 58 seconds. It was the fastest time for a triangular course by a 12-meter in an America's Cup race.

★ ★ ★

Today is a "lay day," a day off from racing requested by the Australians. The third race is scheduled for Thursday at 11:10 a.m. EST, over a 24-mile windward—leeward course—six miles into the wind, six with it, twice around—such as that over which Weatherly won on Saturday.

Tigers Continue to Help New York Towards Title

BIG LEO—One of the great players in pro football, mamouth Leo Nomellini, now in his 13t season in the NFL, will be playing in his 148th straight game against the Lions Sunday since he joined the 49ers in 1950. He has never missed starting a 49er game. Born in Lucca, Italy, he was unanimous All-America at Minnesota in 1948-49.

Magic Number Six for Yankee Clincher

By The Associated Press

They're getting down to champagne drinking time in the American League. And the New York Yankees, who've popped a few corks in their day, may have administered the knockout blow to their closest pursuers by slipping them a Mickey.

The Mickey would be Mickey Mantle, the slugging, but still-hobbled center fielder of the defending world champions, who tagged 21-strikeout pitcher Tom Cheney for two-hoppers and drove in five runs as the Yankees beat Washington 7-1 Tuesday night.

The victory for the Yankees, trying to nail down their 12th AL flag in 14 years, reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to six over second-place Minnesota. Any combination of six New York victories or Minnesota defeats will put the Yankees in the World Series.

L.A. STAGGERING

The third-place Los Angeles Angels meanwhile, continued to stagger, losing their sixth straight 5-2 to Baltimore, and falling 7½ games back with 10 games remaining. The Yankees and Twins each have nine games to play.

Elsewhere, Boston ruined Early Wynn's long-awaited bid to get his 300th victory, belting the 42-year-old veteran for 12 hits and eight runs in five innings en route to a 10-5 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Kansas City won its sixth straight, 6-1 over Cleveland.

Cheney (6-9) who struck out 21 batters in a 16-inning game against Baltimore in his last outing, started off that way Tuesday night by striking out Yankee lead-off man Tony Kubek. He then walked Bobby Richardson and Tom Tresh, Mantle, still suffering from a muscle pull in his right side, then bounced his 28th home run off the scoreboard in right center field. In the third inning, Richardson singled, and an out later, Mantle picked out a 3-0 pitch and rode it for home run No. 29.

Mantle's wallops provided Ralph Terry (22-11), the AL's winningest pitcher, with more than enough to beat the Senators with a seven-hitter.

BOO-BOO BY BO

The Orioles got the job done with three runs in the fourth inning after an error by Angels starter Bo Belinsky (9-11) opened the door. Brooks Robinson followed with a double and Dick Williams was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. John Powell drove in two runs with a single and one out later Marv Breeding knocked in what turned out to be the game-winner with a single. Gus Triandos' single gave Baltimore two more runs in the eighth inning. Chuck Estrada (9-15) won it with ninth inning relief help from Dick Hall and Billy Hoeft.

Winning pitcher Don Schwall (9-15) drove in three runs, as did Gary Geiger, and Frank Malzone chipped in with a two-run homer as the Red Sox pounded Wynn (7-13). Boston chased Wynn and put it out of reach with a four-run fifth inning.

The A's broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth on doubles by Ed Charles and Wayne Causey before breaking it open with four runs in the eighth. Causey and Gino Cimoli each stroked three hits in support of Dan Pfiser (4-13). Jim Perry (11-12) lost.

Trip Twins 2-1 After Sweep at Los Angeles

Bunning Gains Win No. 18 Despite Trouble Aided by Errors

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Best friends the New York Yankees ever had — that's the Detroit Tigers.

The Detroiters, fresh from knocking Los Angeles out of the pennant picture, clouted the second-place Minnesota Twins 2-1 yesterday and dropped them four full games back of league-leading New York, which trimmed Washington 7-1 last night.

The Tigers beat the Angels three straight times. Just a bit earlier they had blown two to the Yankees.

The Detroit triumph over the Twins was accomplished on a measley four hits, snapped a four-game winning streak for the Minnesotans and put them four down to the Yanks in the loss column with only nine games to go.

Although often in trouble, Tiger pitcher Jim Bunning managed to win his seventh straight victory and 18th of the season. He has lost eight.

Bunning stranded 11 base runners, but needed Terry Fox' help in the ninth to preserve the victory. Bunning struck out seven, walked five and gave up five hits in his eight innings. Fox was touched for one hit.

BASES LOADED

The Twins loaded the bases in both the fourth and fifth, but couldn't come up with a clutch hit. And the loss was double disappointing since both Detroit runs were unearned.

Jack Kralick was the loser, suffering his 10th loss against 11 victories.

The Tigers picked up the game's first run in the second. Frank Kostro was safe on Zollo Versalles' throwing error and scored from first on Dick McAuliffe's double down the right field line.

The Twins tied it in the bottom of the second as Bob Allison led off with a double, stole third and scored on Bernie Allen's sacrifice fly.

The winning run came in the sixth, Chico Fernandez reached first on rookie third baseman George Banks' wild throw of his grounder and raced on to third when Allen threw the ball into left field trying to nip Fernandez at second. Billy Bruton brought Fernandez home with a line shot to left.

The Twins and Tigers meet today in the second of the current three-game set, with Hank Aguirre (14-7) slated to pitch for Detroit.

Touch Grid Deadline Friday in Waterford

Friday is the deadline for entering teams in the Waterford Recreation Department's adult touch football league.

Nine teams have entered and will practice today and tomorrow at Drayton Park at 7 p.m. Action will start next week with all games under the lights on the softball fields.

Bears Ran Away From Lions' Next Foe

49ers' Defensive Plan Backfired

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The San Francisco 49ers, whom coach Eddie Hickey called his best team in four years, paid the penalty last week for having one of the best defensive backfields in the league.

The Chicago Bears weren't ready to test that defensive secondary which is tutored by ex-Lion Jack Christiansen, so they stayed on the ground and it paid off to the tune of 30-14.

"Can you beat that, the Bears made only five of 13 passes and for only 13 yards and they whipped us good," said 49er publicity director Dan Maguire.

Willie Galimore had himself a field day of long runs and he finished with 176 yards in 23 attempts.

On other hand, the Lions with Milt Plum had one of their best passing days among the opening NFL games last week. Plum hit on 21 of 30 for 251 yards in routing the Steelers, 45-7.

"Now we'll see Sunday if the Lions' are as good passing as they showed or if we are as strong in the defensive backfield as they say we are," said Maguire.

The 49ers were picked by many to be the top challengers to the Green Bay Packers in the Western Division, after a fine 4-1 exhibition season mark.

SHOTGUN JUNKED

San Francisco has completely junked the "shotgun" offense which it used early last season to roll over the Lions, 49-0 at Tiger Stadium, although coach Hickey still employs the halfback passing weapon on occasions.

John Brodie is the No. 1 quarterback with Bill Kilmer now operating at halfback behind J. D. Smith.

Brodie completed 12 of 22 passes for 132 yards against the Bears despite the red-dogging of Bill George and company who were in the Frisco backfield all day chasing him.

★ ★ ★

Coach George Wilson is now settled about the defensive end position which he termed as a problem when Bill Glass was traded to the Browns.

Sammy Williams, former Michigan Stater has sewed up the spot on the basis of his performance against the Steelers last week.

He and Dave Lloyd had been vying for the job and Wilson was uncertain about which of the two would be the starter.

★ ★ ★

The Lions came out of the Steelers' game in good health and should be in top condition for Sunday. Starting time is 1:30 p.m. with 7,000 bleacher seats going on sale at 11:00 a.m.

Chiefs Face 'Jinx'

With its "jinx opponent" Flint Central out of the way, Pontiac Central now has the unpleasant task of facing another foe, Bay City Central, which has been a nemesis for the past 10 years.

The Chiefs had things pretty much their own with Bay City Central up to the Elmer Engel era, but since 1951, Engel's second year at the helm, PCH has been handed a series of bad drubbings.

Only in 1959, when Pontiac Central scored a stunning 12-7 victory at Wisner stadium, have the Chiefs been able to put a stopper on Engel's crew.

BIG UPSET

That year Bay City came to town ranked as the No. 1 team in the state. Only 2,500 fans showed up for what they thought was going to be a rout but instead they saw the big upset of the prep season.

Engel has one of the most enviable prep records in the state. In his 12 years at Bay City he has won 83 lost 22 and tied 3, taking the mythical state championship on three occasions.

Against PCH, the Wolves have the edge of 17-13-1 through the years since 1914, but Engel's mark against the chiefs is 10-2.

Last week, Bay City Central showed a strong offensive line and backfield in routing Saginaw, 26-8. Quarterback Tom Mutton, a big 6-3 and 190 pounder handled play calling and displayed smooth hand-offs and deception in the Wolves' running attack which has Tim Maxwell, Bob Hartwig and Gary Meyer in the backfield.

The Chiefs, however, showing less poise on offense, displayed a good defensive unit in stopping Flint Central in the goal post shadows several times.

Engel, sitting in the press box and watching the Pontiac-Flint Central encounter, was impressed with the PCH defense and is typical Engel fashion commented, "Gee, we'll be lucky to even get close to the goal line."

Of course, Engel has been known for tales of woes, misfortunes and weaknesses, even during the years when he hadn't lost a game.

Coach Paul Dellerba has had to concentrate on the ball handling of the Chiefs this week. Six fumbles, all of which were recovered by Flint Central stopped several sustained drives.

The Chiefs, lacking any kind of passing weapon, must depend on the running of speedy backs Chuck Humphrey and Jesse Hodges. Humphrey accounted for 112 of Pontiac's 180 rushing yards last week, while the passing attack was nil.

The Chiefs are considered 13 point underdogs, but coach Dellerba feels if he can eliminate the fumbling errors and a few kinks out of the offensive attack, PCH has a good chance in upending the Wolves this year as at any time since 1959.

★ ★ ★

New Foe for Bout

HAMTRAMCK (AP) — Al Boudreaux, a welterweight from New Orleans, will be substitute opponent for Detroit's Lucky Little in Friday night's 10-round fight here. Boudreaux replaces Vince Bonomo, who hurt his back while training in Miami.

Four Gridders in State All-America Nominees

Four football players from the state of Michigan have been nominated by the American Football Coaches Association for 73rd All-America team.

Two Michigan State gridders, center Dave Behrman and fullback George Saimes were among the nominees along with Jerry Gross University of Detroit's classy quarterback and Dave Rainey, Michigan's speedy halfback.

Saimes, who gained 451 yards and scored eight touchdowns although 5-foot-10 and 186 pounds, won a spot among 47 college players picked as standouts.

A Spartan by way of Canton, Ohio, he cracked opposition lines for an average of 5.5 yards per try.

Devastating Dave, at 253 pounds is the biggest regular in Spartan history.

A senior who is returning to the center slot after starring at tackle last year, Behrman is fast on his feet despite his weight and 6-foot-4 frame. The coaches association has picked the Spartan for a fifth place finish nationally.

Gross, Detroit's superb passer and definite favorite for the nation's total offense laurels in 1961 until he broke his angle, won a nod from the American Football Coaches Association as top timber for the 1962 All-America.

The association, with a membership of more than 500, ranked the brilliant senior quarterback from Bay City, Mich., alongside four other quarterbacks regarded as equipped to attain football's pinnacle.

Gross, a 168-pounder, rolled up a total of 1,250 yards in the air and on the ground before he was sidelined by the ankle fracture in the sixth game of the season against Army. He had clicked on 72 out of 152 passes for 1,126 yards and nine touchdowns. His remaining yardage of 124 came on 37 rushes.

★ ★ ★

Raimey, Michigan halfback, led Wolverine ball carriers with 496 yards and an even 5-yard average.

The 195-pound senior is from Dayton, Ohio.

Raimey crossed the goal-line eight times enroute to his total of 496 yards, rolled up on 99 carries. He probably will be called on for more work this season due to the departure of halfback Bennie McRae.

The coaches association will choose the 23rd annual All-America team, originated by Walter Camp, after studying films of 1962 games. Final selections will be announced in the Dec. 1 issue of TV Guide. The No. 1 eleven will appear on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday, Dec. 2.

NOMINEE — Pontiac football fans should certainly remember the days when Jerry Gross tore up the Saginaw Valley airlanes while with Bay City Central. Gross is now one of the top nominees of the American Football Coaches for All-America honors at quarterback. The U. of D. senior starts the season Saturday at Boston College.

May Withdraw Lary From Tour of Japan

DETROIT (AP) — Sore-shouldered Frank Lary isn't going on the Detroit Tigers' post-season tour of Japan, if baseball commissioner Ford Frick approves the pitcher's withdrawal.

The Tigers announced Lary's decision to withdraw yesterday, and said he probably will be replaced by pitcher Bob Humphreys.

'Cold' L.A. Not Upset

By The Associated Press

A hot team forced the cooled-off Los Angeles Dodgers to take a backward step in their march toward the National League pennant—but it isn't likely the Dodgers are too upset at things.

For one thing, despite that third straight loss they still have a 3½ game lead over the San Francisco Giants. And more importantly, that crick in left-hander Johnny Podres' long-aching back apparently isn't serious.

Led by the Aaron boys, the Milwaukee Braves trounced the Dodgers 10-5 Tuesday night. Hank Aaron socked his 40th homer and a double while younger brother Tommie weighed in with a double and two singles as the Braves won their fifth straight and the seventh in their last eight starts.

OUT IN SIXTH

Podres, who's had chronic back trouble virtually throughout his nine-season career with the Dodgers, had to leave in the sixth inning when his back stiffened. With his other prize southpaw, strikeout artist Sandy Koufax, on the sidelines since mid-season with a sore finger and with his relief staff already heavily burdened, Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston had a bad scare at the thought of losing another starter.

But his mind was relieved when Podres' ailment was diagnosed as temporary.

Maury Wills salvaged something out of the setback with his 93rd stolen base. That put the Dodger dash man just three shy of the major league record set by Ty Cobb in the 154-game season of 1915.

Meanwhile, third-place Cincinnati picked up a length in the race by beating out Pittsburgh 7-4 with a three-run uprising in the 10th inning, leaving the Reds 4½ back of the Dodgers and one behind San Francisco.

Elsewhere in the NL, Houston downed the last-place New York Mets twice, 6-2 and 8-6, and the Chicago Cubs dealt St. Louis its seventh loss in a row, 4-3.

Podres' stiff back forced him out in the sixth inning at Milwaukee after a lengthy walk to Frank Bolling and the pass was enough to pin the loss on the southpaw. Lou Johnson lashed a triple off relief ace Ed Roebuck, breaking a 4-4 tie, and scored himself on an error.

ON RAMPAGE

Hank Aaron rapped a double in the seventh and eventually scored on a single by brother Tommie. Then a triple by Ed Mathews and Tommie's double led to three more Milwaukee runs in the eighth off Jack Davis.

Eddie Kasko delivered Cincinnati's deciding run with a 10th-inning single against Pittsburgh and the Reds added insurance on an error and Frank Robinson's single.

The Colts helped the Mets to an unwanted big league record in their second game when Merrit Ranew and rookie Dave Roberts homered. That made 189 homers against Met pitching this season for a new one-season high, breaking by two the previous mark set by Kansas City in 1956. Houston combined a four-run seventh inning and the six-hit pitching of Ken Johnson for their opening game victory.

Rookie Paul Toth checked the Cards on three hits through eight innings as the Cubs built a 4-1 lead. He yielded a single to Julian Javier, a homer to Stan Musial and a single to Bill White before giving way with two out in the ninth to Barney Schultz.

The wheels have started turning toward the formation of a new traveling league which could eventually match or even surpass the present strong local classic setups.

According to reports, the traveling group may include 12 establishments sponsoring teams. That certainly would be a battle royal.

Some "houses" do not fee they have the talent to compete but yet want to sponsor teams.

That isn't surprising after the success an experimental four-team loop experienced during the spring and summer.

Champion West Side Recreation, Airway Lanes, Huron Bowl and Wonderland Lanes got the idea off the ground.

Several proprietors complained that were not invited in at the time and said they would be interested in being part of such an arrangement during the regular season. Looks like they are backing up their comments with action.

A traveling league would be another boost for the bowler and fan. The Pontiac All Star Classic is off to a big start at 300 as are four-man loop at Sylvan and several others.

Bill Anderson totaled 883 with games of 211-204-247-221 at Sylvan where Tom Toteff of Tom's Hardware had himself quite a night. He hit 805 in the four-game league and a 1,412 for seven counting three games in an earlier hop.

Art Rosner had several other good scores as his lanes are scoring higher than ever these days. The First Federal Savings of Oakland team hit the highest actual in the 24-year history of the Lakeland Ladies organization with 947. Nancy Buffmyer picked up the 4-10 split in 215, Rookie Eckert had 199, Eva Bull 184, Betty Wallace 180 and Jean Mellema 169.

Dorothy Chambers' team rolled 736 led by son Jack's 214 and her 210. Clint Nichols added 189. Jane Spilleay came up with a novelty in the Mr. and Mrs. League. After finishing a year ago with a 114 average, she opened this one with a 114 triplicate.

Members of Loyal Order of Moose 182 off to big start at Lakewood Lanes. Pat Grappin won a watch for firing 277 and Hank Snyder and Joe Foster took home pen and pencil sets for 242 and 245, respectively.

Grappin garnered nine straight strikes, missed, then had a final one for 644. Foster was 625 including a 222. Watches go to those 260 and over and writing sets for scores between 240-250.

EXTRA PINS

Professional Bowlers Association held its 1st annual golf tournament and, naturally, Don Carter won it featuring a 74 one day. Buzz Fazio of Detroit and Birmingham's Steve Nagy followed. Bill Pace and Dick Weber were some of the other standouts. . . . Hal Hintz and his wife on Cooley Lanes staff.

Big Pontiac Mall loop got off to good start at Airway. Latest scores in from there show Jan Barker 222 and Earl Hoppenrath Jr. 524 in Four Towns' Methodist play. Astronaut bowler Sue McCullough 181-496. Gerald Head 212-638 in Lutheran Mixed where Fred Jones made the 7-10.

Birmingham Junior House League rolling at Birmingham Bowl with participants from Pontiac, Birmingham and various southern county towns. Defending champ, Art Needlepointe among four at 4-0 and hit 2,606. Ed Rinke Chevrolet had 2,634. Liberty Cleaners' 907 big single. Among individuals, Marv Duckett had 625, Doug Frank 224, N. Carlen 211, Jack Roberts 214 and Bob Moriarty 212.

★ ★ ★

Clawson Lanes is open. Owner John Williams says he has openings for teams in Friday night classic for 165 averages and up and also in a Monday night loop. Ron Bell manages eight-lane place at 15 W. 14 Mile Rd.

Michigan Golf Hopefuls Out of Amateur Tourney

Tom Grace of Lathrop Village was ousted 2 and 1 by Walter Beckjord of Cincinnati and Peter Green of Franklin was eliminated 3 and 1 by Knute Knighton of Rockville, Md., in yesterday's second round.

Four others from Michigan were knocked out in the first round Monday.

Chunky Charlie Smith, rated somewhere in the middle of the pack in pre-tournament favorite ratings, moved into today's double round program with increased stature.

The 31-year-old Gastonia, N.C., automobile dealer has been the hottest player of the first two rounds of the 62nd annual tournament. He's polished off two opponents with the loss of only one hole and has been five under par for 25 holes over the 7,051-yard, par 72 No. 2 course of the Pinehurst country club.

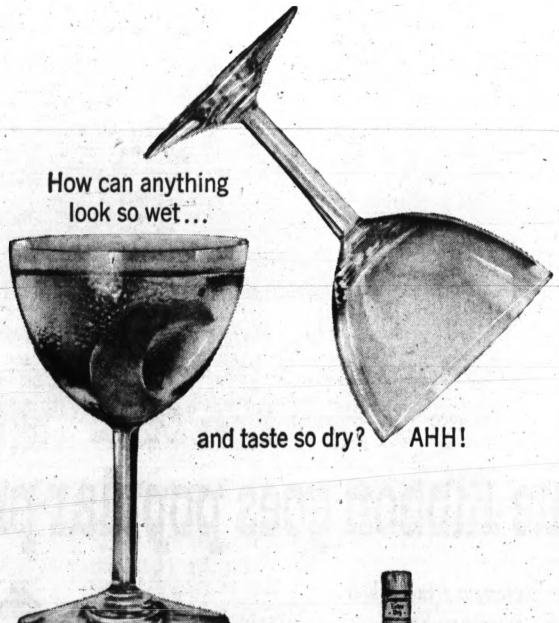

He drew as his morning third round opponent a rugged customer in husky Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va., 10-time champion of his state.

THREE EX-CHAMPS

Only three former champions remained in the field, headed by Harvie Ward of San Francisco, who won in 1955-56. The others were Dick Chapman of Osterville, Mass., and Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., who both won yesterday after first round byes.

Still in contention for the hazardous task of two 18-hole matches today were Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.; collegian Homero Blancas of Houston, Tex.; British Amateur champion Bob Davies of Pasadena, Calif.; Dick Sikes, Public Links champ from Springdale, Ark.; and Dr. Ed Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., all on the list of "possibles" before the firing began.

1961 Offense King Hoppman Tailback Again

By The Associated Press

Dave (Hoppy) Hoppmann has hopped right back to his old tailback slot at Iowa State and Coach Clay Stapleton couldn't be hoppier ...er, happier.

★ ★ ★

Most of his glee comes from watching his 176-pound star carry the ball and Hoppmann has been known to stretch a pigskin probably further than it was ever intended.

★ ★ ★

Last year, he was the nation's total offense leader with 1,638 yards, or 77.3 per cent of Iowa State's offense. That was in nine games, for he was forced to sit out the next-to-last game of the season with an ankle injury.

NO QUARTERBACK

It was with some misgivings that Stapleton switched Hoppman to quarterback when he scrapped his single 'wing offense for the winged-T this year. When a narrow 14-7 victory over Drake last Saturday showed that Hoppmann definitely was not at his best at quarterback, Stapleton moved him back to a running halfback slot.

He put soph Larry Switzher at quarterback Tuesday, freeing He did a certain amount of gunning in the Drake victory, getting a good chunk of the yardage in the first touchdown drive, then setting up and scoring the winner.

But the young Iowa State coach figures that if Hoppmann, a senior, can approach the 920 yards rushing and 718 passing of a year ago, then any switches he's made will pay off in victories.

Oregon State, led by the versatile Terry Baker, gets the chance this Saturday night in Portland, Ore., to see if Hoppman is still in his 1961 form. But the Cyclones will have to cope with Baker, another run-or-throw man who owns most of his team's offense. Stapleton had the Cyclones working on pass defense Tuesday, readying them for Baker's aerial dynamics.

Illinois, hoping to shed its winless string of a year ago when it begins the season against Washington Sept. 29, now has its two top quarterbacks, Mike Taliaferro and Ron Fearn in top shape, while a critical shortage of ends has cropped up at Minnesota. Last year's Rose Bowl champs have lost John Campbell and Ray Zitzloff through illness and injury for the week and Bob Prawdzik is still out with a knee injury.

GET PROMOTION

Dartmouth promoted juniors Dan Dephouse and Tom Parkinson to varsity berths at left tackle and fullback, respectively, while Syracuse halfback Don King will see only defensive duty against Oklahoma this week because of a knee injury. Navy will use its speedy halfback John Sai on a spot basis Saturday against Penn State, in the East's top game, because of a foot injury.

Maroon Memories Stand

CHICAGO — Walter Eckersall, Jay Berwanger and Paul Des Jardien of the University of Chicago won their place in football's national Hall of Fame in the years before Chicago dropped the sport.

HIGHLY TOUTED — Western Michigan is boasting guard Par Emerick, of Imlay City, as an All Mid-American Conference candidate.

Heat Takes Another Victim

DALLAS (AP) — Reggie Grob, University of Texas sophomore football player, died Tuesday—the second victim of a heat stroke in the Southwest Conference in 18 days. It brought a plea for a change in athletic training methods.

Coach Darrell Royal of the University of Texas said he was willing to work out a revised training program with other coaches.

Grob died at Parkland Hospital pafter being flown from Austin in last-ditch effort to save his life. He was stricken at the opening practice session Sept. 1, and his condition became critical from kidney and liver complications.

His death came as a second shock to the Southwest Conference, which never had had a football fatality until Mike Kelsey, Southern Methodist junior center, died from a heat stroke the day after fall practice opened.

Royal said that when Grob became ill,, he changed training schedules at Texas to include water breaks and salt tablets every 30 minutes, instead of running through an entire 2-hour practice.

"I am willing to get down to work with other coaches in working out a revised training program," he declared.

Prep Footballer Dies

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A high school football player died at practice yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses said Benjamin Brown Jr., 16, collapsed into unconsciousness within minutes after he had tackled a dummy. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Expect Best Grouse Hunting in Nine Years

U.P. Shows 50 Per Cent 'Pat' Increase

Season Opens Oct. 1; Woodcock, Squirrels, Rabbits Legal

Hunters are expected to find plenty of targets when the grouse season opens in Northern Michigan Oct. 1

Conservation Department surveys, supplemented by reports from Northern Michigan residents, indicate "pat" numbers are the highest since 1953.

Woodcock, rabbits and squirrels also become legal Oct. 1 in the Upper Peninsula and northern half of Lower Michigan.

The small game season, including pheasants, in Southern Michigan opens 20 days later.

Following is a brief rundown on the prospects for hunters:

GROUSE — The population is at an all-time high and the kill will be the largest in nine years. Best hunting likely will be in the Upper Peninsula where the numbers are up 50 per cent over 1961 and in the northwestern counties of Lower Michigan.

RECORD HIGH

WOODCOCK — Appear to be as plentiful as last year when Michigan hunters took 103,000. This is the highest woodcock take ever recorded in the nation.

PHEASANTS — The season opens Oct. 20 and conservation officials predict the kill, ranging to 846,000 last year, will pass the million mark in 1962. Ringneck population is up eight per cent across Michigan although down by seven per cent in some Central-Michigan counties.

DUCKS AND GEESE — Michigan's native population is up but a shortage of birds from Canada will probably offset this. Conservation officials say hunting will be best early in the season which opens Oct. 12 and runs 25 days. Canvasbacks and redheads again are shielded by law.

DEER —With good weather, the deer kill this year is expected to be exceptionally good. The anterless kill is predicted at more than 37,000 to supplement a regular harvest of bucks of 50,000 to 60,000. The season runs Nov. 10-25 west of M-77 in the Upper Peninsula; Nov. 15-30 everywhere else in Michigan.

BEAR — The bear population still is high in the fertile bear country of the Upper Peninsula but the kill depends largely on the weather. An early siege of severe weather could convince bears to head for their dens a little early.

COTTONTAIL RABBITS—This popular game animal is expected to hit a population high this year and the kill probably will be above last year's 1,160,000. Best hunting is expected in the central and southern counties.

SQUIRRELS — The squirrel is making a comeback this season after two light years and prospects are especially good in the southern counties.

BOBCATS — The bobcat season has been shortened from three to two months (beginning Dec. 15) to offset their sparse numbers in the Lower Peninsula. In the Upper Peninsula, bobcats are unprotected and bountied.

RACCOONS, SKUNKS AND OPOSSUMS are in plentiful supply. The number of woodchucks and mink are about the same, while snowshoe hares are still on the decline.

Deer Permits Now Available From Dealers

Permit application cards for antlerless deer shooting now are available from hunting license dealers throughout the state along with copies of Michigan's 1962 game licenses.

Hunters will have until midnight, Oct. 10, to postmark their applications for mailing to the department's Lansing office.

Between now and that date, more than 200,000 persons are expected to apply for nearly 86,000 permits which will be issued for antierless deer hunting in 32 northern food-shortage areas.

Drawings will be held in late October to determine who will receive permits for areas in which applications exceed permit quotas.

★ ★ ★

Hunters are reminded to follow closely instructions given in the 1962 Deer Hunting Guide when filling out application forms. Copies of the guide are available with application cards.

Houdini (the Bass) 'Blue' Over Food

FORSYTH, Mo. (NEA) — Houdini, according to the song, was a large mouth bass too smart to be caught.

But conservation agent Fred Baker, whose beat is Bull Shoals Reservoir, reports that Houdini finally succumbed. Houdini was a smart bass, all right, with a yen for plastic worms. When Glenn Ott of Forsyth creeled the four-pounder and dressed him out he found a colorful assortment of plastic worms in the fish's stomach. There was a red one, a white one and a black one.

A blue one was Houdini's undoing.

Private Land Owners Hold Key to Future

United Press International

National Wildlife Federation executive director Thomas L. Kimball recently told the Soil Conservation Society of America that private land owners will decide the future of public hunting.

In an address to the Society's annual meeting in Washington, D.C., Kimball said that fish and wildlife habitat improvement can be made a part of any farm's operational plan.

He said that private land owners are "in the drivers seat" when it comes to providing hunting and fishing.

"The law of supply and demand ultimately will prevail on our private lands, driving the price of outdoor recreation steeply upward on the best of these lands as the demand for outdoor recreation exceeds the supply by an ever-widening margin," Kimball said.

He said that publicly-owned lands and water must be preserved and intensively managed by public agencies for fish and game protection if the American tradition of hunting and fishing for the low and middle income groups is to be preserved.

But he pointed out that these lands could not provide enough room for wildlife production and hunting.

"Whether or not the public hunting and fishing as we know them today continue in the United States will depend largely on the private land owner and whether or not he can and will be convinced that it is both in his interest and in the interest of the general public that wildlife production and harvest on his land be part of his operational plan," he said.

White Lake Archers Schedule Roundup

The White Buck Archers are holding a Hunters Roundup Sunday at their range on Pontiac Lake Road, three miles northwest of M59 near Brendel Lake Road.

Registration will be from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. No classification is necessary for men and there will be an intermediate division for women. Trophies will be awarded for the top two places in each division.

New Recreation Area to Be Near Ludington

LUDINGTON (AP)— A new federal park and recreation area in Michigan apparently is soon to come into being.

It's a 2,500-acre area along 2½ miles of Lake Michigan shoreline near here, presently a wild and almost inaccessible region.

★ ★ ★

It is a project of the U.S. Forest Service. By the end of this month the government may complete the purchase of 1,500 acres of privately owned land at a cost of $180,000.

Programs Being Viewed in Michigan Schools

New Form of Conservation Education

LANSING (AP) — There are few states in which conservation is as vital a topic as in Michigan, yet in no more than a handful of public schools has it ever been taught as a classroom subject unto itself.

It's one of those subjects which, from a standpoint of local or state importance might justifiably be included in a school curriculum, but for which school budget, staff and time limitations make few allowances.

That's why there are great hopes for a new educational television project that, beginning last week, will convey the myriad messages of the outdoors to an estimated 15,000 junior and senior high school students in 200 classrooms of the northern reaches of Michigan.

Both the educational television planning council and the Michigan Department of Conservation, which are cooperating in this venture, claim it is the first attempt in the U.S. to teach a course in conservation via educational TV.

In the mind of R. D. Burroughs, conservation education supervisor for the Department of Conservation, the subject is a natural.

20-YEAR PROJECT

"We have worked cooperatively with the department of public instruction for 20 years on trying to get a reasonable amount of conservation education into the general school curriculum," he said.

"We feel the problems, principles and common practices of land management and conservation are just as important as some other subjects in Michigan, where there is so much interest and participation in outdoor activities.

"This television project is the first chance we've ever had to reach right into the classrooms of a large number of schools."

The first of 33 planned half-hour programs was presented last Friday as the series made its debut on three channels which cover virtually every corner of the northern Lower Peninsula and the eastern portion of the Upper Peninsula.

At 9 a.m. for the next 32 Fridays, the programs will be beamed into the schools, and into homes as well as for the benefit of those adults who might think they can learn a few things about the outdoors.

The programs will originate at WJRT in Flint and be relayed to WWTV in Cadillac and WWUP in Sault Ste. Marie.

Jack Hood, regional educational consultant of the Conservation Department at Roscommon, will serve as the moderator for the shows, which are being taped at the campus television studios of Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

Subject matter is to be as broad as the cooperative sponsors can make it, ranging from basic lessons concerning the geology of Michigan to an autopsy on a deer.

★ ★ ★

"We're using the building block approach," said Burroughs, "starting with the broad subject and moving into specifics as we go along. The aim is for a series which covers the whole field of conservation and land management—soils, water and water pollution, land use, forestry and wildlife."

FILM CLIPS USED

Hood, a former high school biology teacher, will present conservation workers and outside experts on various subjects and draw upon the conservation department files for film clips to help illustrate his TV lessons.

In addition, he will prepare outlines for the students to use in follow-up studies to his taped shows.

Although conservation as an educational television subject is new, the educational television planning council which makes it possible is not.

This group, composed of school administrators in Northern Michigan, has been offering televised lessons in various subjects for four years, with the participating schools supporting the project.

Antelope Hunters Get Wyoming Bonus

All mistakes don't turn out bad.

Take the case of four Pontiac men who are in Wyoming for a mule deer and antelope hunt.

Earl Cardinell, Bill Triplett, Elmo Spears and Elmo Spears Jr. arrived at a ranch near Lusk last weekend. They quickly filled their antelope tags and prepared to hunt mule deer.

They were informed the deer season doesn't open until this weekend. Instead of being forced to sit around the ranch until Saturday, the Michigan men have added an unplanned bonus to the trip.

They are enjoying some top trout fishing in nearby streams.

Track Official Says U.S. Feud Olympic Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—A high track and field official today predicted that if the AAU and NCAA do not settle their differences "the Olympic chances of the United States would be doomed and the existence of the sport itself would be threatened."

★ ★ ★

The official, who asked that his name not be used, said that if the NCAA-backed United States Track and Field Federation keeps collegians from entering AAU meets, there would be very little competition, especially in the East.

"There are only a half-dozen or so field houses in the East where you can hold a big track meet," he said. "How long will a boy's interest keep up in track and field competition?"

Decoy Making Class

A decoy making class will be conducted at Dondero High School this fall by the Royal Oak Continuing Education Service.

The first session will be Sept. 25 at 7 p. m. and is open to both men and women.

They Gather in Blue and Gold Hall in Quest of Peace

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The biggest diplomatic show on earth is open for another season in a glittering glass and concrete theater on Manhattan's East River.

The U.N. General Assembly will run until just before Christmas. Prospects are that it will reopen after the first of the year for several more weeks.

Mongi Slim, a dapper Tunisian diplomat with the air of a Paris boulevardier, started things off on Tuesday afternoon by saying in French: "I declare open the 17th session of the General Assembly."

Delegates from the 104 nations could listen to a simultaneous translation in English, Spanish, Russian or Chinese—the four other official languages of the United Nations.

EXTRA CUSHION

Slim sat behind a large podium of green marble at the front of the hall. He is small in stature, and he uses an extra cushion on his chair.

At his right sat the acting secretary general, U Thant of Burma. At Slim's left C. V. Narasimhan of India, Thant's chief staff officer.

By tradition, the delegates stood for a minute of silent prayer or meditation—each according to the dictates of his own religion or philosophy.

Most of the delegates wore Western dress. But many Africans chose the dress of their native countries—reds, golds and white among the varied hues.

SPOTLIGHTS ON

Three rows of spotlights in the great dome and another in the ceiling lighted the blue and gold hall without the slightest trace of glare.

Slim called upon the assembly to elect a successor to him as assembly president, and the prologue to the first act of the drama was about over.

For the first couple of weeks or so there will be general policy debate. Each chief delegate will march down the gently sloping aisles on heavy green carpeting to the speaker's rostrum to give his country's views on international issues.

Presidents, dictators and monarchs have addressed the assembly from the green marble rostrum.

ROWS OF DESK

Each speaker looks out on rows of long green-covered desk that stretch to the back of the hall. There are no individual desks for delegates. For the most part two delegations share a long desk, behind which are two rows of 10 chairs each. Each delegation is permitted a maximum of 10 seats on the floor—five in the one row and five in the other.

* * *

Most of the press section was ripped out this year to provide additional space for new members. The last row is about half a block from the rostrum, and it takes around 40 seconds to reach the rostrum from that section.

* * *

Lot determines the seating of delegations for each assembly session. This year Guinea was chosen to occupy the first desk in the first row at the right of the speaker's rostrum. Haiti shares the desk. Honduras and Hungary make up the rest of the first row.

SHARE DESK

The United States and Britain share a desk in the ninth row. So do the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic.

Two rows of glass-enclosed booths line both walls of the hall. They are for the interpreters who give the simultaneous translation, and for newsmen.

There is a lower and upper balcony for the public at the rear of the hall. Admission is free.

* * *

Detailed work of the assembly is carried on in its seven main committees, on which each delegation has a representative. The seven are political, special political, economic, social, trusteeship, budgetary and legal. They debate issues along those broad divisions, and consider resolutions for submission to the General Assembly.

Approval of a resolution in a committee requires a simple majority. Ratification by the assembly requires a two-thirds majority.

EXHAUSTIVE DEBATE

Resolutions are the product of much behind-the-scenes negotiations and exhaustive debate in committee.

Therefore the committee debate and private huddles provide much of the action on the U.N. scene. Ratification by the assembly is the final act—but in most cases it is the denouement.

Opening day of the assembly resembles alumni day at a college.

* * *

Delegates who have not seen each other for months gather in the main delegates' lounge that overlooks the rose garden and spacious green lawns at the north end of the U.N. headquarters site.

They begin to drift in an hour or so before the assembly opens. The undertone of conversation rises to almost a roar before the delegates are told over a public address system that the assembly is about to be called into session—to carry out, hopefully, the aims of the 1945 charter.

It begins: "We, the peoples of the United Nations, determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war—"

Veteran Newsman Dies in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Charles L. Barker, 81, for many years in the newspaper and advertising business in Michigan and Ontario, died recently at a Lansing hospital following a heart attack.

A native of Fargo, Ont., he started in the newspaper business as a printer's apprentice at Windsor, Ont., and later became editor of the newspaper.

Barker later worked in the retail advertising field at Lansing and formerly published a weekly newspaper here, the Michigan Veterans Review. He most recently was employed in the advertising department of the Flint Weekly Review for 10 years, retiring in 1961.

Survivors include his wife Lavenia of Grand Ledge; two sons, George A. of Grand Ledge and C. Douglas of Lansing, and a daughter, Mrs. Marshall Dean of Lansing.

City, County Clerks Get Election Law Book

LANSING (AP) — The elections division of the secretary of state's office reports it is sending out a revised 1962 edition of the state's election laws to all city, village, township and county clerks.

The last edition was compiled in 1958. The new edition contains laws passed by the legislature this year which will not become effective until 1963 since the legislature has not yet adjourned.

State Highway Dept. Names Records Chief

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has announced the promotion of Ray W. Miller Sr., to acting chief of the department's records and reports section, succeeding Merle J. Walker, who retired in June.

* * *

Miller, 46, joined the department in 1936 and became assistant records chief in 1951.

Nehru London Checkup Shows Health Excellent

LONDON (AP) — India's Prime Minister Nehru has had a detailed physical checkup in London and it shows him in excellent health, diplomatic sources reported today.

Nehru, 73, is in London for the Commonwealth conference. Unofficial reports recently suggested he suffered from kidney trouble and might have to put aside some of his political load.

After you select from a wide variety of foods prepared with loving care, you step under the grape arbor and into the garden court dining room of our cafeteria service. The warm colorful room has soft music playing and if you care for more coffee—our "under the orange tree" coffee bar has an ample supply—complimentary, of course. The same fine quality you expect from Ted's, enjoyed in a leisurely fashion away from the rush of the everyday world. Just right for the children too!

Rich red carpets and walnut paneling compliment the Scottish decor in our new Scots Room. Pleasant waitresses serve lunch and dinner in a softly-lit club atmosphere, a dining room rarely found out of the major cities in the world. Antique Scotch prints and bagpipes that have marched over the highlands are on proud display. Quality foods and yet our same moderate prices make this truly a "Scotman's dream". Bring the family . . . (we're open every Sunday) . . . and enjoy real dining pleasure.

Since 1934, our many friends have enjoyed the quality food and service that we are so well known for. Over a million people each year have allowed us to build such a fine restaurant on Woodward Avenue and made is possible for this truly exciting restaurant in the Pontiac Mall. Twenty-eight years of serving Michigan families from the youngest to the oldest members. Many of our first customers now bring their grandchildren to Ted's for a birthday party or just a venture into the world of grown-ups. We at Ted's appreciate this loyalty and constantly strive to serve you better. Our moderate prices represent true value in dining enjoyment. # Adults Should Avoid Oral Vaccine Type III

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What are the risks in taking Sabin oral polio vaccine and are they worth taking? The Public health Service (PHS) gives these answers to questions about the vaccine:

Q. Is Sabin live polio vaccine safe or should the American public rely on Salk dead polio vaccine for protection against the disease?

A. Salk vaccine is safe for persons in all age groups. All three types of Sabin vaccine are safe for children and both types I and II are safe for adults.

Q. Does that mean adults should not take Sabin type III?

A. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry recommends that adults refrain from taking doses of Sabin type III, unless they are in an epidemic area or plan to be tourists in a high risk area.

The Special Advisory Committee on Poliomyelitis Control reviewed 16 polio cases that followed administration of oral vaccine doses and determined that 11 — involving persons age 16 to 52 — had "possible association" to use of Type III Sabin vaccine.

Q. What about the other five cases?

A. The surgeon general said "it must be recognized that over the course of nine months in the experience of the whole country, during which approximately 40 million doses of oral vaccine have been administered, some purely coincidental cases of poliomyelitis can be expected to have occurred."

Q. Is the PHS blaming Sabin vaccine for any of the cases?

A. The connection has not been proved, if it exists, but the advisers believe "at least some" of the 11 cases were caused by the vaccine because they consider the number too high to label as mere coincidence.

★ ★ ★

Q. What is the total number of type III doses administered in the United States?

A. The total for type III is about 13 million, but there is no breakdown by age.

Q. The PHS recommends that children continue taking Sabin oral doses, even type III, so does this mean there is no risk for children?

A. The risk to children is exceedingly slight or non-existent.

Q. What is the risk for adults taking type III Sabin vaccine?

A. The risk is slightly less than one in a million for all persons but "higher" for adults. But the risk of an adult getting polio without taking Sabin vaccine is less than one in a million — and less than one in two million for persons over age 40.

Q. In other words, adults are safer not taking Sabin type III than taking it?

A. Yes, unless they are in a high risk area, such as an epidemic area or visiting in a country where there are more polio cases than in the United States. Under these conditions, an adult would have the percentages with him by taking type III vaccine.

Q. But the reverse is true for children?

A. Yes. Children are in greater danger of catching polio without Sabin vaccine than they are of possibly catching polio from the dose of type III.

World Banker Hits Foreign Aid Set Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eugene R. Black, 64, retiring president of the World Bank, questioned yesterday the economic and political wisdom of foreign aid programs sponsored by individual countries. He said many nations should pool aid funds in a vastly expanded international fund.

Black, long a vocal supporter of the U.S. ajd program, gave his views in a strong worded "farewell address" prepared for the annual meeting of the World Bank and affiliated organizations.

★ ★ ★

Black specifically suggested that the industrialized countries which can afford aid programs put a greater proportion of their aid monies into the International Development Association — IDA.

The American banker favored multination aid programs on these grounds:

1. Aid from an individual nation is apt to be conditional on purchases of the giver's products—an American aim because of the U.S. balance of payments problem. He said this tends to place the giver in the position of offering aid favored by private firms at home, "whether the projects are well justified or not."

2. Single-nation aid programs have a "susceptibility to political influences, whether overt or otherwise." Black called this "my most serious criticism of bilateral aid programs."

3. The foreign policy, or political aims, of bilateral aid programs are not achieved because leaders of the underdeveloped countries are not "persons who would be easily bent to any foreigner's purposes; they value their own and their countries' independence too highly."

★ ★ ★

4. "Countries receiving aid from a multilateral organization to which many nations have contributed, and under international administration, will be likely to take a more responsible attitude toward the use and repayment of aid than toward aid received bilaterally."

VIOLENT REACTION EXPECTED

The American banker's views were certain to attract worldwide attention, and perhaps stir up a political hornet's nest at home. His address coincided with demands by Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., for a one-third cut in President Kennedy's $4.8-billion foreign aid program. The House Foreign Appropriations subcommittee headed by Passman currently is considering the aid legislation.

The World Bank chief argued that IDA is a principal hope of the underdeveloped countries because fewer of these nations can shoulder the conventional loans offered by the World Bank — because their debts already are becoming too burdensome. Indeed, he said, lending by the bank may slack off for lack of qualified applicants.

★ ★ ★

For this reason, Black said, the underdeveloped countries will look more and more to the 50-year, interest-free loans of IDA.

Ring of Bell Leads to 'Real' Defense Drill

ANTIOCH, Calif. (AP)—There really wasn't any enemy attack here Tuesday but the alarm was genuine.

At 7:12 a.m. police dispatcher Glen Blomseth leaned casually against the wall. He inadvertently pressed a large red button, which triggered six new civil defense air raid sirens installed for warning against enemy attack.

★ ★ ★

Firemen and police officers prepared for action. Off-duty personnel leaped out of bed to report to their stations.

Telephone lines to the police station were so jammed Police Chief Hap Carlson couldn't reach the station.

Rep. Broomfield One of 10 to Ask Auto Tax Repeal

WASHINGTON — Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) was one of 10 Michigan congressmen who yesterday asked President Kennedy to include repeal of the 10 per cent federal auto excise tax in tax reform.

★ ★ ★

The 10 Michigan Republicans told the President in a letter that the auto tax, imposed during the Korean War, is "highly selective" and "discriminatory" and is acting as a drag on the economy.

While expressing basic agreement with the administration, tax reform could produce new revenues because of increased economic activity.

The congressman stated that "every effort should be made to reduce nondefense spending to lessen the budgetary impact of any tax cut."

★ ★ ★

Nunn, Romney Agree on Costs

UAW Will Pay for TV Time Same as It Did for Swainson Show

DETROIT (UPI) — Guy Nunn, labor's television voice, and George Romney, who hopes to become Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years, have agreed to an appearance by Romney on Nunn's "Telescope" program.

The program is scheduled to be taped Saturday morning for a public showing Sunday evening, on CKLW-TV.

Nunn again declined to permit Romney's campaign fund to pay for his appearance. Nunn said, "The United Auto Workers will not accept payment from the Republican campaign committee for the cost of the program. The UAW programs are paid for in advance, by the year, and are not for sale or resale."

★ ★ ★

Romney suggested that his campaign money pay for the cost of the program and Nunn's salary for the show "because I realize the program is sponsored by contributions from union members."

Nunn told Romney: "You are most welcome to appear on 'Telescope' under precisely the circumstances attending the appearance of Gov. Swainson last Sunday evening."

★ ★ ★

Romney had asked to appear on the program because he claimed Gov. Swainson made statements of "distortion" when appearing on the Nunn show last Sunday.

Cavanagh Tries to Obtain Aid for Children

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh yesterday pledged his help in solving problems created when the city ceased supplemental payments of Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) grants.

Cavanagh made the pledge to 250 mothers on the ADC program.

The mayor has directed the city housing commission, he said, to review a July 1 rent increase for public assistance families in public housing programs.

He added his office would try to influence the strict collection of support rents to fathers of ADC children. But he told the women who complained of laxity in the friend of the court and prosecutor's offices he had no control of these agencies because they were under county jurisdiction.

Swainson Makes 2 Staff Additions

LANSING (AP) — Two staff additions were announced yesterday by Gov. Swainson.

Arthur D. Underwood, 31, Lansing bureau manager for the United Press International, was appointed an administrative aide. He will start work in the governor's office tomorrow. His salary will come from the governor's testimonial fund.

Robert W. Becker, 27, of East Lansing, was named a special assistant under a fellowship grant by the National Center for Education in Politics. He has been teaching urban government and public administration at Michigan State University and will do basic research.

First Meeting Set for Guild Club at Fisher Body

A kick-off meeting of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild Club, sponsored by the local Fisher Body Division Plant, will be held at the plant next Monday.

The meeting is slated to start at 6:45 p.m.

The guild is a youth program for the development of craftsmanship and creative ability among boys 11 through 20.

The annual guild project is designing and building a solid model automobile.

The models are entered in national competition for some 1,078 awards, including eight university scholarships.

Service for Autumn

LANSING (AP)—The fall color service of the State Tourist Council in Lansing says it will provide a free report on the best time to view autumn color displays in Michigan upon request. The personalized reporting service is being offered for the eighth year.

State Police Transfer

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police trooper Richard A. Williams of the Houghton Lake Post will be transferred to Bridgeport effective Oct. 7.

French Seek to Settle Feud

Monaco, France Hope to Resolve Differences Over Fired Minister

PARIS (UPI) — Representatives of Prince Rainier of Monaco meet here today with French officials to try to resolve differences between France and her 368-acre neighbor.

Friction between France and Monaco reached a head this spring when Prince Rainier dismissed French-appointed Minister of State Emile Pelletier.

Since then the differences grew to an apparent test of strength between France and the seashore gambling haven on the Mediterranean which exists as and independent state through French concessions.

Pelletier, a personal friend of President Charles de Gaulle was dismissed following French claims to a private enterprise unknowingly turned over to Monaco.

BEHIND THE STORY

Behind the firing of Pelletier was the economic boom in the tax-free principality which progressed largely at the expense of France and French business.

Scores of foreign countries had set up nominal head offices in Monaco to avoid taxation.

French government sources estimated 7,000 Frenchmen living in Monaco were also avoiding taxes.

The government made clear in May that it intends to apply French taxes in Monaco.

Sometimes, It Doesn't Pay to Grow Up

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Those traffic tickets Johnny Geeteh kept getting came back to haunt him. Police said he had accumulated 41 tickets. They figure he owes the city $2,385.

★ ★ ★

Johnny received most of the tickets before his 17th birthday. As a juvenile, the court couldn't force him to pay. Last week he was 17 and the judge told him to pay up or go to jail.

★ ★ ★

Wheelchair Myth Blasted by Kelley

LANSING (AP)— Don't start saving empty cigarette packages in hopes of getting a free wheelchair, advises Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley.

Every now and then, Kelley said, the report crops up that a cigarette manufacturer will donate a wheelchair for a certain number of cigarette packages.

In the past, he said, union, church and charitable groups have wasted time on such a project only to be told it is a myth.

Kelley said his consumer protection division reports the same old story has bobbed up again and should be disregarded.

Pontiac Priest Honored by Mayor Landry

Mayor Robert Landry, as last night's City Commission Meeting, honored a Pontiac Priest by proclaiming Oct. 21 "Father Jarzembowski Day."

The proclamation recognizes Fr. Bernard F. Jarzembowski, of St. Joseph Catholic Church of Pontiac, for 50 years of service as a Roman Catholic priest.

The proclamation states he "has made a great record of community service, in his church where he is widely known as lecturer, missionary, author, publisher of books and articles on religious subjects, and in this community where his charities were administered impartially to those in need.

★ ★ ★

"The citizens of this community are proud of his fine record," the proclamation concludes," and congratulations are in order on this occasion of the golden anniversary of his 50 years service as a priest in one of this city's important churches."

Jodrell Needs 2nd Eye to Tab Space Traffic

LONDON (AP) — Space is getting so crowded that one radio-telescope in Britain can't keep tracking all the interplanetary vehicles hurtling in orbit.

The Ministry of Works announced Tuesday that Prof. Sir Bernard Lovell's radio observatory at Jodrell Bank near Manchester is to get a second radio telescope costing $840,000.

Thanks for Night in Jail

WALLSEND, England (UPI)—William Waine, 43, was fined 10 pounds ($28) yesterday because his wife had him arrested for trying to drive while under the influence of alcohol.

★ ★ ★

"Some people would say it was a despicable thing to do to my own husband," Mrs. Waine said, "but it was better than having him end up in the mortuary."

★ ★ ★

"I was a bit annoyed at the time," Waine said as the couple left the court arm-in-arm. "But there is no doubt in my mind now she was absolutely right. I appreciate what she did."

Pick L'Anse Judge to Head State Group

DETROIT (UPI) — Circuit Court Judge Leo J. Brennan of L'Anse has been elected president of the Michigan Judges Association at the 35th annual meeting.

Circuit Court Judge Raymond W. Fox of Kalamazoo was elected first vice president; Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn of Detroit, second vice president, and Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith of Holland, secretary.

The judges association met in conjunction with the seventh annual State Judicial Conference which continues through today.

Coeds Invade Houghton Dorm; Now It's Co-Ed

HOUGHTON (UPI) — Some men at Wadsworth Hall on the Michigan Tech campus might tell you that coeducation has gone about as far as it can go.

For the first time in Tech's history, "off-limits" barriers divide the east wing from the rest of the giant, five-story dorm, one of the dozen biggest student dwellings in the United States.

The no-trespass rule separates 850 men students from 40 girls.

The Ohio valley covers about 200,000 square miles.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

Relief, doctors say, lies in new laxative principle that re-creates 3 essentials of youthful regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief.

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain; (2) helps retone flabby colon muscles with unique rebuilding action; (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 43¢.

Katangans Report Congo Army Attack

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, (AP) — The Katanga government in a communique last night reported "Congolese Army attacks from several points in north Katanga."

It said "The attacks met with heavy Katangan resistance and were either halted or repulsed."

The communique said Katangan gendarmes received orders to limit their operations to defense "to create favorable conditions for national reconciliation."

Military sources said the Congolese troops captured the village of Kitule after a "murderous battle" but Katangan forces had the situation in hand elsewhere.

No eyewitness reports of the fighting could be obtained here.

Russ Set Off 13th in N-Blast Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has fired another nuclear test in the atmosphere, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported Tuesday.

The AEC said the device fired in the arctic test area had a low yield. The test was the 13th announced by the AEC in the current Soviet series.

Excavated City in Jordan Tells of Swim Races

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — More discoveries were announced yesterday in the 2,000-year-old Roman city of Jerash, 30 miles north of here, including two ponds which indicate the Romans held swimming races when they ruled the city.

Announcing the discoveries, antiquities director Awni Dajani said Jerash today is considered the most complete Roman city excavated in the world today.

Other discoveries announced today were one Roman temple with mosaic floor, a new street and one hundred columns. The new street crosses another which leads to the colonaded forum.

The two ponds were filled through 20 little springs which gushed with water after they were cleaned.

Fire losses in the petroleum industry were the lowest on record last year — about 3 cents per $100 of insured value. This is 29 per cent lower than in 1960.

Autumn Begins at 7:35 A.M. on Sunday

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Sunday marks the beginning of the long-night journey into winter.

Autumn begins officially at 7:35 a.m. Sunday, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer.

"This is the day that the sun will rise and set at the east and west points of the horizon, and the day and night will be said to be of equal length," Prof. Losh said.

However, she said that was not strictly true as sunlight enter the earth's atmosphere through a dense region which bends the light, making the sun visible before it actually comes above the horizon and after it sets.

Tempest Over Teapot

FRESH ROLLS—Roll the yeast dough into a rectangle. Cut it in thin strips. Coil them into a whirl and add a well-flavored topping. Raisins and nuts and pineapple—all make the little rolls tempting.

Yeast Dough Whirls Rich With Fruit, Nuts

Working with yeast is fun!! Here is an easy raisin yeast dough to make and shape into whirls. A sweet pineapple filling flavored with rum and butter adds an extra festive touch. Use either dark or golden taste surprising California raisins in the sweet dough.

★ ★ ★

Raisin Rum and Butter Whirls

1 package or cake active dry or compressed yeast
¼ cup very warm water
6 tablespoons boiling milk
3 tablespoons shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 large egg, beaten
2½ cups sifted flour
⅔ cup dark or golden raisins
Melted butter
Pineapple Rum Butter Topping
Sliced almonds or brazil nuts.

Sprinkle or crumble yeast into very warm water. Combine milk, shortening, sugar and salt in mixing bowl. When lukewarm, add egg and half of flour; mix to a thick batter. Add remaining flour, softened yeast and raisins, beating to moderately stiff dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 4 or 5 minutes to smooth out and round up dough. Return dough to lightly greased bowl, cover and let stand until doubles in size (dough will sink when lightly pressed with the fingers), about 1½ hours.

Divide dough in half; roll each half to a rectangle about 7x10 inches. Cut each rectangle lengthwise into 12 strips. Twist strips lightly and coil into small whirls on lightly greased baking sheets; place whirls barely touching one another. Cover with dampened cloth, let rise until light and double in size, about 25 to 30 minutes.

Brush tops with melted butter. Lightly press small spoonful of Pineapple Rum Butter Topping in center of each whirl; sprinkle with sliced nuts. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 to 15 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen small whirls.

Pineapple rum butter topping: Mix together ¾ cup well-drained canned pineapple tidbits, ¾ cup brown sugar (packed), 1 teaspoon rum extract and ¼ cup soft butter or margarine.

First Chilling Done in Freezer Zone

Here's a good way of helping a jellied fruit dessert set fast.

Jellied Cantaloupe

1 package (3 ounces) pineapple flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup dry white wine
1 tablespoon lime juice
1 medium cantaloupe

In a 8- or 9-inch aluminum cake pan stir together the pineapple gelatin and boiling water until gelatin dissolves. Stir in wine and lime juice. Place pan in ice-cube compartment, stirring several times, until slightly thickened—this will probably take only 15 or 20 minutes so watch.

Meanwhile, halve cantaloupe and remove seeds; using a round-bowl ¼ teaspoons measure, cut out balls —there should be 1½ cups. Fold cantaloupe balls into slightly thickened gelatin; turn into a 3½ or 4-cup mold; cover and chill until set. Unmold.

Crisp Radishes Add to Menu

You're Eating Flowers When It's Cauliflower

Nutritionists tell us that one of the rules to follow in planning menus is to have contrast in color and texture. That rule isn't hard to follow when you have radishes in your menu plans.

★ ★ ★

Crisp red radishes attract a lot of attention despite their diminutive size. That's because they have the tangy flavor that gives lots of taste contrast and the crisp texture that makes them a perfect relish vegetable.

There is an abundant supply of radishes now, so the U.S. Department of Agriculture suggests that you use lots of them to spark up the color of your relish trays.

The most important thing to remember when serving radishes is to have them clean. When completely soil-free and made into "roses," they add a festive touch. You can create these little vegetable delights by making thin cuts under the red skin from the tip almost to the stem end.

Drop the radishes into ice water and soon the petals will curl back, leaving the white center ready for dainty dishes.

Radishes also find plenty of use adding sparkle to mixed green salads and brightening vegetable-gelatin salads.

Thinly Sliced Cauliflower Cooks Fast

Here's an unusual way to fix cauliflower — and it's all in the slicing!

Rowena's Cauliflower

1 medium head cauliflower
½ cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup cheddar cheese spread
2 tablespoons milk

Remove heavy green leaves from cauliflower; wash in cold water. Trim stalk level with head; cut cauliflower into thin slices, just as you would a loaf of bread.

★ ★ ★

Cook cauliflower rapidly with boiling water and salt in a covered skillet just until tender-crisp. Turn into colander to drain thoroughly; return to large skillet to keep warm.

Meanwhile in a small saucepan melt the cheese with the milk; pour over cauliflower. Makes 4 servings.

Line Up Cake Layers Put Bottoms Together

Put bottoms of cake layers together when frosting and fill with ¼ of the frosting. If layers appear uneven try to even them by placing the thickest part of one layer with the thinnest part of the other layer, so that the top of the cake is level. Be sure the sides are vertical and not sliding at an angle.

EGG BAKE — The serenity of the South African deer comes from inner contentment. Those who partake of the South African Egg Bake, made with the tender meat of rock lobster tails, will share this kind of creature comfort.

French Toast Can Be Varied

Just as good for a quick kitchen supper for guests, or for teenagers who come in after exercise. Or makes a good summer supper dish. The applesauce gives fresh good flavor, a year-round favorite because you can always have a few jars or cans of fresh applesauce ready in your supply cupboard.

French Toast Caledonia

1 jar (6 oz.) crunch-style peanut butter
⅔ cup canned applesauce
8 slices white bread
3 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup milk
Butter or margarine
Maple-flavored syrup

Blend peanut butter and applesauce; spread mixture on 4 slices bread. Top with remaining bread slices. Beat eggs slightly; add salt, sugar and milk; mix well.

Dip sandwiches in egg mixture; fry in butter or margarine until golden brown on both sides. Cut each sandwich in half; serve hot with maple-flavored syrup. Makes 4 servings.

Cereal Gives Divinity a Surprise Taste

This kind of Divinity packs a surprise! Stir 1 cup each brown and granulated sugar, ½ cup light corn syrup and ¾ cut hot water together in saucepan. Cook to 262 degrees (or till small amount forms hard ball in cold water) then beat hot syrup slowly into 2 stiffly beaten egg whites till mixture is thick.

Fold in 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups raisin bran (the surprise!) and drop by teaspoons on waxed paper to make 15 to 18 pieces.

Lobster for Brunch Is Topped With an Egg

There's something about individual baked servings of anything. Somehow they carry a subtle tribute to the importance and dignity of the one person who is destined to meet them with a fork.

★ ★ ★

Another thing, they're easy. Even if the formula that's put into the cup looks complicated, this kind of cooking is still easy. That's because when it's done it's done. From the oven to the table. No serving plates, no special trips to the kitchen, no worry about "enough" or "left over." Enough is enough and nothing's left over.

For this reason, single serving dishes are wonderful for entertaining. This one today is a lovely thing to put on a buffet some morning when out-of-town friends come by from their hotel to plan a sightseeing day. Or serve it any time of day or evening.

The flavor combination of South African rock lobster and cheese is delicate enough for morning, provocative enough for moonlight and flattering to the taste of the individual whenever it's served. Only half a dozen ingredients in this one. As easy to make as anything you know.

South African Egg Bake

8 (⅝ oz.) South African rock lobster tails
1 stick butter (¼ lb.)
6 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
8 eggs

Drop frozen South African rock lobster tails into boiling salted water and cook for 6 minutes. Drain, drench with cold water, remove meat from shells, and shred. Melt butter in saucepan, stir in flour and add milk gradually to make thick sauce. Add cheese, stirring continuously until cheese is melted and sauce is smooth and thick. Stir in rock lobster meat.

Spoon mixture into 8 individual greased baking dishes until about ¾ full, reserving rest of mixture. Break each egg in a saucer and slip into each dish on top of rock lobster filling. Keep yolk in center and surround edges with remaining rock lobster mixture.

Place dishes in pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees for about 20 minutes or until eggs are just set. Serve hot. Yield: 8 servings.

Use Packaged Stuffing

Early in the season, fresh tomatoes are welcomed with great gusto and you think you'll never get tired of eating them "in the raw."

The recipe given here was developed exclusively for the Pepperidge Farm 25th Anniversary Dinner given for newspaper food editors at their annual conference in New York City.

Baked Stuffed Tomatoes

6 large, firm tomatoes
1 cup herb-seasoned bread stuffing
2 tablespoons melted butter
¼ cup water (about)
¼ pound lean bacon, cooked crisp and crumbled
Grated Parmesan cheese

Cut out center of tomatoes and carefully scoop out pulp and juice; set aside. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with salt and invert them for about 15 minutes. Combine remaining ingredients, except cheese, with tomato pulp and juice, adding more or less water depending on juiciness of tomatoes.

Fill tomatoes, and sprinkle tops with cheese. Place in well buttered shallow casserole. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 20 minutes until tender and tops are brown.

New Tricks Simplify Making of Candy

If it's your turn to play hostess to the committee, you'll want to think of something novel but simple in the way of refreshments . . . a snack that looks pretty and gives an afternoon cup of coffee the status of high tea. The problem has a sweet and easy solution: in a few minutes you can make several kinds of intriguing candies.

★ ★ ★

Most people don't attempt to make candy at home these days because they imagine all sorts of complications. But there are modern shortcuts that lead you straight to the candy dish.

★ ★ ★

Quick chocolate-flavored mix and quick strawberry-flavored mix, both admired for their excellence in milk drinks, unexpectedly team up to make a quick and delicious ribbon fudge candy.

Butterscotch morsels speed you happily to another confection. Butterscotch pralines, thin and crisp, have the old-fashioned mellowness that makes butterscotch a favorite.

Bourbon balls, a sophisticated member of the candy family, can be easily made with semi-sweet chocolate morsels. For best results with bourbon balls, plan ahead. Their flavor develops as they ripen.

These candy recipes and many more are included in "Perfect Endings," a new cookbook compiled by the dessert and beverage experts at the Nestle Company. The 300 recipes in the book, illustrated by almost 30 color photographs and numerous drawings, give chocolate cookery the preferential treatment it deserves as America's favorite flavor.

To order the book, send $1 (includes postage) to Perfect Endings, Box No. DD, Garden City, New York.

Ribbon Candies

½ cup soft butter
3 tablespoons quick strawberry-flavored mix
½ teaspoon lemon or almond flavoring
⅛ teaspoon salt
3¼ cups confectioners' sugar, divided

Combine and beat until creamy, butter, quick strawberry-flavored mix, lemon flavoring and salt. Gradually beat in 2¾ cups of the sifted confectioners' sugar. Knead in remaining confectioners' sugar. Divide mixture in half. Line a 10x5x3 inch pan with foil. Press half the strawberry mixture evenly in bottom of pan. Top with a chocolate layer. Press on remaining halves of each mixture. Cover and chill. Cut in ½-inch pieces and remove from pan.

CHOCOLATE LAYERS: Prepare the same as Strawberry Layers but substitute 5 tablespoons quick chocolate-flavored mix for the quick strawberry-flavored mix and substitute ½ teaspoon vanilla for the lemon flavoring. Yield: Approximately 12½ dozen.

SWEETS TO SERVE — Members of your committee will enjoy afternoon coffee served with homemade candy. Smart brown and pinked striped Ribbon Candies (left), mellow Bourbon Balls and crisp Butterscotch Pralines can all be quickly made in your kitchen using modern cooking shortcuts.

Butterscotch Pralines

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
¾ cup water
¼ cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels
¾ cup coarsely chopped walnuts
¼ cup hot water

Combine sugar, water, corn syrup, vinegar and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a full boil, stirring constantly. Boil over high heat 3 minutes; do not stir. Remove from heat. Add butterscotch morsels and beat until morsels are melted. Mixture will be thin. Stir in walnuts.

Drop by tablespoonfuls on ungreased foil or heavy brown paper. If mixture becomes too thick, stir in small amount of water. Let stand at room temperature until set, or chill. Yield: Approximately 4 dozen.

Bourbon Balls

1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons light corn syrup
1-3 cup bourbon or bourbon flavoring
2½ cups finely crushed vanilla wafers (approximately 5 dozen)
1 cup walnuts, finely chopped

Melt semi-sweet chocolate morsels over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from water. Stir in sugar and corn syrup. Blend in bourbon. Combine crushed vanilla wafers and chopped walnuts. Add semi-sweet chocolate mixture; mix well. Form in 1 inch balls; roll in granulated sugar. Let ripen in covered container at least several days. Yield: Approximately 4½ dozen.

To get out suds-proof body dirt like this your suds need CLOROX®

CLOROX gets out dirt that suds and weak bleaches leave in!

A neck-ring in a "clean" shirt is enough to make any man rage! And it's enough to make any woman realize this same kind of oily body dirt can gray the whole family wash.

Wash suds can't remove this stubborn dirt without tiresome hand-scrubbing. Weak bleaches can't do the job either. But Clorox can. Clorox bleach gives suds the added cleaning power they need. And that gives you the cleanest possible wash. Every time.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to help give a new birth to freedom

Sometimes it's not easy to recognize a message of freedom.

In September, 1787, the framers of the U. S. Constitution released it to the States for ratification. Two States ok'd the document in a few weeks.

But it took until May, 1790—three years later—before the new nation was in accord on its basic law.

One of the strongest documents for freedom available to you today is a United States Savings Bond.

By buying Savings Bonds you help build peace-keeping machinery. You help keep the wheels of our government turning smoothly. You help carry the message of freedom to hopeful people all over the world.

At the same time, your Bond money grows fast to increase your living standard and personal security—a goal that free people seem to have a knack for reaching.

All of which points pretty strongly to buying Savings Bonds today—at your bank or on the payroll savings plan where you work.

(Of course the decision is wholly up to you . . . another nice thing about being free.)

Do-It-Yourself, the Hard Way

Home Study Is Training for Later Life

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Many students fail to understand the importance of homework. Some feel it's beneath them. Some just do not know how to do it.

But sooner or later you come to a point in school where homework is essential. The sooner you reach that point the better. Homework skills must be developed over a period of time. They are not acquired overnight.

DR. NASON

GOOD TRAINING

Homework is your chance to train yourself to be a good student. It is your chance to learn how to learn. You will want to continue learning the rest of your life, especially in our changing society.

Here are three approaches to homework. Two did not work. The other one did.

Jack seldom did his homework. When he did it was only in the sketchiest fashion. He thought he didn't need to do more. After all, he could work out the problems in his head. In grade school and high school, he passed all exams and made As.

But at college, Jack found the problems more complex. With no practice in working them out with pencil and paper, he failed a math course. His college career ended in failure.

Joe didn't do his homework either. His mother did it for him. At first she helped him with his spelling and suggested rewording some of his sentences. Then she started typing his themes, editing them as she went along.

★ ★ ★

But when Joe became a senior in high school, his themes and reports had to be written in the classroom. Suddenly he realized that he was unable to write a satisfactory paper without his mother's help!

Joe was lucky to discover this in his senior year. Another mother I know gave her son too much help on theme writing. She did not discover her error until her son was in college.

He had become so dependent, that they attempted to continue

Dog Obedience Class in Bloomfield Hills

The Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club classes in Bloomfield Hills will get under way with a demonstration Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

The demonstration and weekly classes will be at Bloomfield Hills High School. Persons attending the demonstration are requested by the club officials to leave their dogs home.

Additional information can be obtained from the Bloomfield Hills board of education.

The collaboration by long distance telephone! The first month the bill was tremendous. Despite this effort, the boy flunked out of college.

AN AVERAGE GIRL

June was an average girl. All through elementary and high school the counselors advised her not to attend college because she just missed having the ability to succeed.

★ ★ ★

But June did all of her homework. She turned her reports in neatly and completely done. She wrote themes with the idea of trying to become a good theme writer.

★ ★ ★

June made use of her homework to increase her skill as a student. By the time she reached college her study skills were so well developed that she had time to be a leader in campus activities. She is now teaching school very successfully.

June is just one of many students of average ability who develop learning skills through a proper attack on homework and eventually outshine brighter students.

When Italy held the North-South cards on deal 66, of the world tourney the bidding went as shown in the box. South made a good decision when he failed to rebid over East's two spades but West made a bad decision when he went to three spades. His partner could only raise to two and West could not expect to make game.

JACOBY

North opened his doubleton diamond, East's king lost to the ace and a spade was returned. Declarer played low and so did North. Dummy's nine won the trick and a diamond return was taken by South's jack. South led a second spade and again West finessed. This time North was ready with the king. He won and led another spade to get rid of dummy's last trump. Declarer still had to lose a heart, a club and two more diamonds and was down three.

At the other table, Italy also reached three spades. South opened the bidding with a diamond and after a one spade overcall and a raise to two by East, South doubled to force his partner to bid.

★ ★ ★

West went to three spades. If North had doubled we would have made a profit. If he passed we would have broken even. But North bid four clubs and found a way to go down four tricks. The loss was 11 International Match points.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Excellent for "dressing up," meeting new persons and improving financial standing. Means you can be resourceful because there will be OPPORTUNITY to do so. Don't let it slip by!

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Offers from afar may appear attractive on the surface. But utilize natural ability to perceive motives, and picture may not look as bright. There are numerous "hidden clauses" which must be considered.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Exercise independence of thought and action. Present ideas in attractive format. You can gain attention of important person if you take time to be "different." Do so!

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Exciting day in connection with members of opposite sex. Turn on charm. And heighten ability to appreciate favors, suggestions. No time for being overly critical. Be understanding.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Many of your desires appear closer to reality. Make them even more so by exercising creative faculties. Your intuitive intellect guides you along correct path. You must TRUST YOURSELF.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Willingness to do a "little extra" could pay off with big dividends. Give of yourself, both personally and professionally. Your job, standing in community highlighted.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Take constructive action which leads to attainment of goals. This achieved by letting one in authority know you are sincere. Take steps to correct recent "leak" in budget.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Personal magnetism rating high today. Means you are attractive to members of opposite sex. And you are vital in appearance, giving others confidence that you are RIGHT person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Visit those who cannot leave their residence, including friends who are hospitalized. Be conservative in decisions affecting changes in work or home. Express your desires, ambitions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): One close to you is sincere, but may lack the funds to carry through on recent promise. Knowing this, be self-reliant. Attend to details, including care of pets.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Extremes of optimism or depression should be avoided. Instead, strive for balance. See situation as it actually exists. Refuse to become overly elated merely because something "glitters."

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Make necessary domestic adjustments. Situation in home should not be allowed to "drag." Take steps to show that your motives are aboveboard. You will feel sense of real accomplishment.

★ ★ ★

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . next month finds you coming out of recent "rut." Improvement indicated socially. Contacts made could also aid in professional sense.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: News could break in connection with MONEY to be expended on SPACE ACHIEVEMENTS. Past-breaking developments cause many to re-evaluate purpose of current programs. Cycle running up for TAURUS, GEMINI, CANCER.

Versatile Creamed Ham Sauce Good Alone or in Trio of Dishes

Most homemakers have a favorite recipe they like to sneak into the menu as often as possible. A smart homemaker varies the recipe to avoid menu monotony.

Creamed Ham and Peas is a dish which changes more quickly than a chameleon. It's the zesty makin's of the meal when ladled over Holland rusk, baked potatoes, chow mein noodles or fluffy rice.

It's a succulent ham sauce when spooned over chicken and corn bread sandwiches. It appears as a delicately light souffle when egg yolks and stiffly beaten egg whites are added to the basic recipe.

Instant nonfat dry milk, a chief recipe ingredient, is as versatile as the recipe. This dairy food is made by removing fat and water from pure fresh fluid milk. Pour it from the box into a measuring cup like you would measure any other dry ingredient.

When making quick breads such as cornbread, muffins, biscuits, popovers, waffles blend nonfat dry milk with other dry ingredients.

Just as readily, instant nonfat dry milk may be added to liquid ingredients in a recipe for soups, gravies and creamed sauces.

THREE FROM ONE
Creamed Ham and Peas

1 10-ounce package frozen peas, cooked OR 2 cups (1 lb.) canned peas
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of pepper
⅔ cup instant nonfat dry milk
Water
2 cups (½ lb.) chopped, cooked ham

Drain frozen cooked peas or canned peas, reserving liquid. Add enough water to liquid to make 2 cups. Set aside. In a saucepan melt butter; stir in flour, salt, dry mustard and pepper and cook about 1 minute. Add nonfat dry milk. Gradually stir liquid into butter-flour mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add ham and peas. Serve hot over Holland rusk, baked potatoes, chow mein noodles, fluffy rice, etc. Makes 6 servings.

VARIATIONS
Ham Short Cake

Corn bread
Butter
6 slices white meat of chicken
OR turkey
Creamed Ham and Peas

Prepare corn bread according to recipe (★), or use packaged mix; cut into squares. Split warm corn bread and butter. Place warmed chicken slices on bottom halves, spoon on some of Ham Sauce, cover with tops of corn bread and spoon over remaining Sauce. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Ham Souffle

⅓ 10-ounce package frozen peas, OR 1 cup (8-oz.) canned peas
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
¾ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash of pepper
⅔ cup instant nonfat dry milk
Water
¼ egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 cups (½ lb.) chopped, cooked ham
4 egg whites

Cook frozen peas according to package directions; drain, reserving liquid. Or, drain canned peas, reserving liquid. In a saucepan melt butter; stir in flour, salt, dry mustard and pepper and cook about 1 minute. Add nonfat dry milk.

Add enough water to reserved pea liquid to make 1½ cups; then gradually stir into butter-flour mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add some of hot sauce to egg yolks, then return to saucepan, blending well. Add ham and peas.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold ham mixture into them. Turn into 1½-quart casserole and bake at 400 degrees 25-30 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

★Corn Bread

1 cup sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup corn meal
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup water
¼ cup (⅛ stick) butter, melted

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Stir in corn meal and nonfat dry milk. Combine egg, water and butter. Stir into dry ingredients and mix just enough to blend. Pour into 8x8x2 pan and bake 20 minutes at 425 degrees.

Toastwiches

Moisten a can of tuna, chicken or broken shrimp with mayonnaise. Add ½ cup raisins and a good shake of curry powder. Spread this savory filling between slices of taste surprising raisin bread. Saute in butter until brown and crispy. All you need is a salad to accompany this lunchtime treat.

Michigan Dems Start Wheeling in Big Campaign Guns

By The Associated Press

The Democrats start wheeling up their big guns on the Michigan political front today.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges is scheduled to address a Detroit banquet tonight under sponsorship of a business for Swainson committee.

★ ★ ★

Monday Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has been booked for three appearances in Berrien County, and Democratic leaders insist they have an October commitment from President Kennedy, although there has as yet been no White House confirmation.

Pot-shotting continues, meanwhile, from the trenches.

★ ★ ★

Republican Alvin Bentley, Republican nominee for congressman-at-large, called at Flint yesterday for a naval blockade of Cuba in an Optimist Club speech and followed it up with a demand for the same in a telegram to Kennedy.

"I urge that you invoke the Monroe Doctrine and establish a sea blockade around Cuba expressly to keep war materials from being shipped to that island," Bentley wired the President.

"I believe it imperative," he continued, "that the United States begin hard-hitting negotiations with our Allies to stop shipment of war goods to Cuba . . . I also urge that you give official recognition to a responsible free Cuban government in exile."

Bentley's Democratic opponent Neil Staebler told a dinner meeting of the Jewish National Fund in northwest Detroit that Israel is a "modern demonstration of tolerance which has set a guiding example for the emerging nations of the world."

To Vote on Bond Bid

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)— The City Commission has put a $485,000 bond proposal up for voting in the Nov. 6 election. The issue would cover half the cost of a proposed convention hall." The local funds would be matched by anticipated federal and other grants.

'GREAT LESSON'

Recalling a visit to Israel last year, Staebler commended the new nation for its understanding and its freedom of religion, and pointed out that Arabic is taught in its schools, adding:

★ ★ ★

"The great lesson of Israel," he said, "is the growth of a modern democracy among hostile neighbors and people of divergent backgrounds."

Staebler was to be guest of honor at a celebrity luncheon at the Detroit Press Club today. Bentley previously appeared at a similar function there.

Break Ground at Tech

HOUGHTON (AP)— Ground was broken yesterday for Michigan Tech's $2,038,884 mathematics and physics building. Among officials at the ceremony were Tech President Dr. J. R. Van Pelt and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

Campaigning in Saginaw County, Gov. Swainson challenged George Romney Tuesday to "stand up and tell the people of Michigan the truth about your records and beliefs."

Swainson renewed the charge that his Republican opponent "is ashamed of his own party and obviously ashamed of his own record," adding that on his record Romney is opposed to the social security system, has called it a fraud and termed former President Harry Truman "A socialistic fellow traveler.

He also said Romney is opposed to federal aid for education.

The Republican candidate meanwhile, campaigned among Negroes in Detroit, and asserted in a speech last night:

"No one recognizes better than I do that the Republican party for years has neglected Negroes.

"I expect to do everything I can to overcome the deficiencies of the past . . . you have everything to gain by making it clear that you will not be bound to one party on the basis of the past."

Romney planned to spend most of today in Detroit consulting with his campaign staff.

Swainson's schedule calls for him to spend most of today in Lansing, then appear at a Bloomfield Hills Democratic rally.

The old National Road, reaching 609 miles from Cumberland, Md., to Vandalia, Ill., was built to link the East with the West. Finished in 1852 at a cost of $7 million, it was the greatest wagon route in the nation.

Parole Violator's Right to Hearing Maintained

LANSING (AP) — The State Parole Board is required to advise a parole violator of his right to a fair and impartial hearing and to be represented by counsel at his own expense, an attorney general's opinion has held.

★ ★ ★

The opinion was asked by Gus Harrison, state corrections director.

Asians on Stage at U. N.

By The Associated Press

U Thant of Burma, Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan and C. V. Narasimhan of India have top spots on the rostrum of the United Nations General Assembly—marking the first time that three Asians have had the ranking positions. Thant is acting assembly president and Narasimhan is U.N. undersecretary. All three come from an area that was administered until 1946 as British India.

Sally Eilers, 52, actress and onetime wife of Hoot Gibson, the late cowboy star, sued her fourth husband for separate maintenance of $1,725 a month. She claimed in her Los Angeles action that her hubby, television director J. Hollingsworth Morse, 51, treated her with extreme cruelty and once struck her in the face in public.

Robert T. Murphy, vice chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, told a house subcommittee in Washington an association of midgets requested that its members be allowed to ride airliners at half fare but "they didn't get very far" with it.

Elsaku Sato, a conservative who may become Japan's next prime minister, has left Tokyo for a 50-day tour of Europe and the United States. He is due in Washington Oct. 17.

Dem Senators Ask Fast Mail for Detroit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Michigan's two Democratic senators have suggested that same-day business mail delivery, being tried experimentally in Lansing, Mich., be extended to Detroit.

Sens. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart said it would be "most helpful to have this program in operation (in Detroit) to meet the holiday rush."

Their request was made in a letter to Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

★ ★ ★

Under the pilot plan for accelerated deliveries, local business mail deposited in certain downtown Lansing boxes are delivered the same day.

White Paper on I-94 Bridge to Clear Up Charges

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department is putting together a "white paper" designed to counter a Republican party investigating team's piecemeal criticism of a Berrien County highway bridge project.

John Murray, chief of motor services division, said yesterday the paper will be a full chronology of the I-94 bridge — and the problems surrounding it — from the blueprint stage to the present.

Murray said he decided to go ahead with the "white paper" after it became apparent that the lawyer-engineer team appointed by George Romney to probe bridge records was sending its reports to the GOP candidate for governor "on the installment plan."

Romney has received two reports from his investigators, one questioning the "political timing" of the bridge opening, the other raising questions about payment to a construction contractor.

"We're not going to defend the handling of this project except by what the files show," said Murray.

"We believe the factual data from the files provides a fair and full account of what's happened. The Republicans are trying to make two-year-old facts sound like 'revelations.' We want the public to have the complete facts and make its own judgment."

A POLITICAL ISSUE

The twin-span bridge near St. Joseph became a political issue last month when two GOP legislative candidates, Garry E. Brown and David F. Upton, raised questions about safety.

They asked whether chunks of concrete falling from its underside made the bridge unsafe and whether construction had been rushed for completion before the November 1960 election.

Highway officials refute these charges but admit that the bridge has been a headache since before it was built.

Romney named Harold Sawyer, a Grand Rapids attorney, and George Snyder, a Jackson engineer, to look into the bridge records and report their findings to him.

Their second report told how $6,917 was paid to a contractor for an asphalt deck that never was laid, but Howard Hill, highway department director, said a reinforced concrete deck substituted for it cost the contractor more than $30,000 from his own pocket.

Hill's charge that the GOP investigators were "taking items out of context" was echoed yesterday by Gov. Swainson, who told a Saginaw campaign audience that the investigation is "an example of incredible irresponsibility on (Romney's) part."

He said the GOP probe is producing "false and absurd allegations."

In other developments yesterday, the State Administrative Board approved spending $4,000 for repairs to the bridge and the highway department said it has again asked the Federal Bureau of Public Roads to reimburse it some $87,000 for the project.

★ ★ ★

The contract for repairs to holes in the underside of the bridge was let in June but the work began the day after Brown and Upton made their charges. Repairs were finished a few days ago.

The federal bureau, which reimburses the state some 90 per cent for all interstate highway projects, said it withdrew reimbursement for the Berrien County bridge on grounds that the bridge, although safe, did not meet federal construction standards.

Murray said the highway department considers the recent repairs to the bridge bring it within the limits of federal standards. "On that basis," he said, "we have applied again for reimbursement."

Millions of fishing licenses have been sold for the summer season which is an awful lot of loafers.

Antiwrinkle Facials Help Men Get in Shape at Beauty Ranch

By DORIS KLEIN
For Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If we stuck around town, it would be the same old round of booze and broads—you can't keep in shape that way."

★ ★ ★

The speaker, notably out of shape, was explaining why he and other upper bracket businessmen and actors were indulging in a week of carrot salads, antiwrinkle facials, herbal baths and pedicures.

It was men's week at the Golden Door, one of the nation's most exclusive beauty ranches.

USUALLY FOR GALS

The ranch, 100 miles south of Hollywood in Escondido, is normally a feminine preserve. Among the patrons are Zsa Zsa Gabor, Jeanne Crain and Mrs. Milton Berle of Hollywood, and Mrs. Clint Murchison of Texas.

★ ★ ★

"We thought the men might like to see what their wives get for $450 a week," said Dr. Anne-Marie Bennstrom, the shapely, blonde Swedish proprietor.

Four times a year, she opens the ranch to men only. The regulars include actors Jim Backus and Bob Cummings, producer Stanley Kramer, onetime movie Tarzan Johnny Weissmuller, writer Aldous Huxley and Fred Levy, a part owner of the Los Angeles Rams football team.

'TEACHER'S PET'

One wears a sweat shirt with the words "Teacher's Pet." He's Bob Prescott, president of Flying Tiger Air Lines, a regular whom Anne-Marie married a few months ago.

The men get the same rooms as the women—white, gold and red plush. They get the same beauty routine.

★ ★ ★

The day begins with a four-mile hike, then breakfast in bed.

"The exercises are marvelous," a sweating, retired Wall Street broker told me minutes before 118-pound Anne-Marie sent his 200 pounds sailing during "resistance exercises."

FRAGRANT SOAKING

In a room nearby, six men, stripped to the skin, were wrapped in muslin sheets soaked in fragrant oils.

"The ancient Egyptians used herbal oils to preserve mummies," one of them explained.

Across the patio, three others were indulging in facials, manicures and pedicures. One had his feet thrust in quilted pink plastic booties for an oil treatment.

"It all sounds kind of fruity," said Dr. Jerry Javer, a trim San Francisco neurosurgeon. "But when I look at the other doctors I know, this seems like the best way to avoid a coronary."

Ready to Block Transport Bill

Foes Plan Roll Calls to Prevent Vote on Dems' Commuter Project

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic liberals cranked up rarely-used parliamentary machinery today in an attempt to force House action of President Kennedy's $500 million program to help cities provide faster transportation for commuters.

Conservative foes responded by throwing up a massive roadblock that could keep the House tied up with rollcall votes on other issues until nightfall.

The administration bill has the support of an unusual coalition of city mayors, labor unions and eastern railroads.

Backers are confident it would pass with votes to spare, if it could be brought to a House vote under normal procedures and during normal congressional working hours.

But the bill is stalled in the House Rules Committee.

In an attempt to bypass this roadblock, Democratic liberals decided to try to call the measure up for house action under a special procedure which can be employed only on Wednesdays.

★ ★ ★

Under this procedure — known as "Calendar Wednesday" — the legislative committees are called in alphabetical order and allowed to call up bills under their jurisdiction.

Opponents got wind of the liberals' plans and went to work yesterday to erect as many roadblocks as possible.

By the end of the day they had managed to set up 10 possible roll calls on matters ranging from farm appropriations to junk mail rights for members of Congress as today's "unfinished business."

Since unfinished business comes first, the "Calendar Wednesday" machinery cannot even be started until late today if foes of the mass transit program play their cards right.

Pravda Reports Tons of Fruits Rot in Kuban

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist party paper Pravda yesterday reported hundreds of tons of fruit and vegetables are rotting in the lush Kuban region, it blamed organizational snarls for the losses.

In a report from Krasnodar, the paper said tomatoes, plums, grapes and watermelons are spoiling.

Pravda cited one processing factory which provided only 22,000 of the 50,000 packing crates promised to a tomato farm.

Other difficulties were lack of trucks to transport produce to receiving points and long delays in unloading at some receiving points while neighboring points stood idle.

Medical Care Plan Proposed

Blue Shield Official Advocates Coverage for Low-Income People

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Alfred H. Whittaker, presiden-elect of the Wayne County Medical Society, says he has proposed to Blue Shield a plan aimed at giving subscribers "more medical care for less 'money."

Dr. Whittaker is a director of Blue Shield, a doctor-controlled agency which insures payment of medical bills, similar to Blue Cross insurance that covers hospital bills.

The 68-year-old Detroit physician said he submitted his plan to Dr. Sidney Adler, president of Blue Shield, but declined to disclose its details. Newsmen were unable to reach Dr. Adler immediately for comment.

Dr. Whittaker gave what some reporters took as a hint that low-income subscribers would benefit most from his plan, saying:

DESIGNED FOR LOW INCOME

"I have always felt that the higher-income people can handle their own needs through private insurance or with their own funds.

"But those with lower incomes really need the kind of protection Blue Cross and Blue Shield were originally set up to provide."

Blue Cross-Blue Shield recently have been turned down on two rate proposals, one of which would have hiked senior citizen coverage by 50 per cent for new subscribers.

Tree Farm Acreage Booms Under Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The industry-sponsored tree farm program of growing trees as crops under multiple-use forest management practices gained nearly a million acres in the first four months of 1962, according to the American Forest Products Industries (AFPI).

Certified tree farm acreage on May 1 totaled 58,566,002, AFPI reported, and the number of tree farms reached a record 23,294. Alabama led the nation with 6,251,735 acres, followed by Florida with 6,133,187.

Game Try, Old Boy

BOURNEMOUTH, England (UPI) — Geoffrey Farrell painted a sign which read "fire engine" on his garage door in an effort to keep people from parking in front of it, but fire officials told him it was "misleading" and would have to come down.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation had 154 million fingerprints in its files in 1960.

Philippines Puzzled by Name-Changers

MANILA (UPI)—Two men were reported today to have upset the Philippines Bar Association by asking a court in Santa Cruz to let them adopt new names.

The Philippine News Service said Moises Bueno Y. Tumale wants to change his name to "Thththththththth th-th ta-ts" and Francisco Javit Y. Perez want to be known as "Zzzzzzzzzzzzzzz z-z-z-".

The president of the Philippines Bar Association, Roman Ozaeta, protested they were "not names at all but mere symbols which are unpronounceable and defeat the very purpose for which a name is given."

★ ★ ★

The two cited religious reasons for wanting the changes. The case still is pending.

Review Ruling in Lake Orion

Village Has Garbage Contract With Private Firm, Says President

LAKE ORION — Village residents won't have to bury their garbage despite State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley's ruling yesterday that the village must discontinue its free use of garbage disposal facilities operated jointly by two neighboring townships.

According to Village President Irvine J. Unger, the village hasn't used the dump for some time.

"For the past two years we have had a contract with a private firm which handled our garbage disposal," Unger said.

"The Village of Lake Orion was not a part to this suit. However," he said, "residents have asked why they have to pay taxes for garbage disposal, and this will answer them."

★ ★ ★

The attorney general ruled that Lake Orion, in order to use the facilities, must contribute to the support of the Orion-Pontiac townships sanitary authority.

The townships asked for the ruling on grounds that Lake Orion has used the facilities without paying since their sanitary authority was created in April 1958.

They contended that as a separate unit of government, Lake Orion was obligated to pay. Lake Orion's defense was that the facilities are located in Orion Township and therefore the village is entitled to dump its garbage there.

Unger said there was no question of the township's being correct. "As I understand it," he said, "they bought the dump some years ago, with money received from a state tax refund."

Kelley ruled that according to the 1947 law under which sanitary districts and other such authorities are created, municipalities can be barred from using them unless they join an authority or sign a contract for the service.

WORK SESSION — Four members of the steering committee on city incorporation in Rochester exchange views on progress made to date on circulation of petitions to hold a special election on a cityhood proposal. They are (from left) Village Councilman John J. Lowes, Neil Rosso, representing the village; Committee Chairman Roy Rewold, who is also village president; and Frank Wolff, representing Avon Township. There are nine members on the committee which met at the Municipal Building last night.

Signature Requirement Passed in Cityhood Drive

ROCHESTER—The group struggling to gain cityhood for the Village of Rochester has gathered more than the 100 signatures required in order to have a special election on the issue.

Committee members have 150 signatures to date in the campaign which was launched last Wednesday, they learned at their progress report meeting last night.

Members of the Rochester Steering Committee for City Incorporation plan, however, to continue circulating petitions to meet their revised goal of 225, which is 1 per cent of the combined village and Avon Township populations.

They said at the meeting held in the Municipal Building that they hope to have this number of signatures by Monday, when they expect to turn the petitions into the Oakland County Clerk's Office.

Comments such as, "I've got 29 signatures so far," or, "I wouldn't have the nerve to ask him," were interjected throughout the conversation.

The committee, besides counting signatures, noted that pledges have been received for $150, which is a part of the $500 required to finance the special election.

In addition to discussing their progress, the committee expressed its surprise and displeasure with a statement recently released by Parke, Davis & Co. The statement expressed the company's disapproval of incorporation plans which included annexation of Parkedale Farms, last of the present village.

★ ★ ★

The proposed city of Rochester would make the city 4¼ square miles in size as compared to the village's present area which encompasses 1 9-16 square miles. The proposed boundaries include Parke, Davis & Co.'s 635-acre Parkedale Farms.

The company reasons that farm land belongs in a township rather than a city and that additional city services are not needed on Parkedale Farms.

Company spokesmen also said the firm finds its present arrangement in Avon Township entirely satisfactory.

Roy Rewold, committee head and village president, said, "It has been the general feeling that Parke, Davis itself should be a part of Rochester since it already utilizes two of Rochester's most important services, water and sewage facilities.

"The committee still is of the opinion that Parke, Davis should be a part of a new City of Rochester, and sees no justification for considering a change in proposed boundaries."

Rewold pointed out that the company had ignored its invitation to the public meeting held Aug. 30, at which questions and complaints concerning the proposal were raised.

"It has been the committee's desire from its inception to keep all interested parties informed of the committee's actions," he said, "and this policy has certainly held true for Parke, Davis."

City Manager to Quit Oct. 15

Walled Lake Looking for Successor to Harold Millspaugh

WALLED LAKE — A search for a new city manager began here today following the resignation of Harold Millspaugh, chief administrator for the last 14 months.

Millspaugh, 56, announced his resignation at the City Council meeting last night. It becomes effective Oct. 15.

City manager since July 15, 1961, Millspaugh, 7880 W. Maple Road, Commerce Township told the council he is leaving to accept a similar type job elsewhere in the state.

★ ★ ★

He said he could not reveal his new position for at least two weeks.

Millspaugh had succeeded George Shaw who resigned to become city manager of Three Rivers.

EX-CLERK-TREASURER

Prior to that Millspaugh had served as city clerk-treasurer. He held this post for several months before taking over from Shaw.

Employed by the city since April 1957, Millspaugh served in a number of roles before being named to the dual post.

He had been building, electrical and health inspector as well as water and street superintendent for the city.

★ ★ ★

The others were City Attorney Albert Herzog and City Councilmen Clyde Mottor and Marshall E. Taylor.

NEWS OF THE AREA

To Head UF Drive in Oxford Twp. Area

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Edward Bossardet, Oxford businessman, will head the 1962 United Fund campaign in the Oxford Township area, it was announced today.

According to Bossardet, a goal of $6,232 has been set in this year's drive which will be kicked off Oct. 15. Last year the $6,922 raised was 13.6 per cent over the goal.

The campaign will run through Oct. 31.

Bossardet, who is married and has two children, has been a resident of the area for 26 years. The family lives at 48 W. Burdick St.

Owner of the Bossardet Colonial Shop and Funeral Home, the 1962 campaign chairman is a past president of the Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and Oxford Veterans Association, and is a past commander of the VFW. He also has been active in little league baseball activities.

Bossardet said a drive for advance gifts will be made among commercial and governmental group prior to the 16-day campaign.

Affiliated with the Pontiac Area United Fund agencies active in Oxford Township are the Oxford Community Projects, American Red Cross, Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts, North Oakland County Girl Scouts, Big Brothers of Oakland County and Michigan Children's Aid Society.

Others are the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic, Salvation Army, Catholic Social Services and 32 state and national agencies receiving funds through the Michigan United Fund.

OK Sewer Study Funds

WALLED LAKE—A $1,000 allocation was approved by the City Council last night as the city's share of the cost of a preliminary engineer sewer study.

Novi village and township will pay for the remainder of the $1,300 study, to be undertaken by Johnson and Anderson, the consulting firm for both the city and village.

City Manager Harold Millspaugh explained to the council that the disproportionate cost was in line with the ratio of citizens in each community that would benefit from a sewage treatment plant in the area.

"The study will answer questions raised by the State Health Department and the county Department of Public Works and Drain Commission," Millspaugh said.

"It will probably tell us if the city is eligible for matching funds from the federal government," he said.

Millspaugh noted that the county has requested that the state, acting as a go-between, earmark certain funds from the federal assistance program.

At a joint meeting of village, city, township, state and county officials in Novi last week, it was proposed that a sewage treatment facility, possibly a lagoon-type system, be built on the southwest side of the lake.

An exact location of the treatment plant has not been determined.

This would be included as part of the survey. Other items to be considered by the study would be feasibility and cost of the sewer project.

★ ★ ★

The $1,000 appropriation was made from a special assessment fund, which had been budgeted should the city have to share in certain improvement projects.

St. Andrews to Serve Up 6th Annual Beef Barbecue

ROCHESTER — The savory smell of barbecued beef will be in the air Sunday, Sept. 30, when St. Andrew's Catholic Church puts on its sixth annual barbecue beef dinner.

The 2,300 pounds of beef will be barbecued over two 30-foot-long pits, which are to be dug on the church grounds.

Plates full of meat "done to a turn" then will be carried into the church, where guests can be served from 11:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Because barbecuing such an enormous amount of meat requires more than lay knowledge St. Andrews has requisitioned the assistance of Robert J. Dean, a meat specialist at Michigan State University.

General chairman of the event is Daniel J. Filary, and cochairman, Richard Brandt. Also giving their assistance will be a large number of other church members who have volunteered for such jobs as pit technicians, firewood suppliers, and hostesses.

★ ★ ★

All proceeds from the event will be turned over to the St. Andrew's Building Fund, which is helping to finance the convent soon to be built.

Ground breaking for the convent is scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday at the corner of Maywood and Inglewood streets.

JANET M. BOWKER

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bowker, 875 Keith St., Oxford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Janet Marie to Robert Alton Bradford. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bradford, 316 Lincoln St., Oxford Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

Sale of Used Books Scheduled Oct. 15

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A used-book sale will be held at the West Bloomfield Township Library Oct. 15 to raise funds to purchase new books.

Persons with books they no longer need are urged to contribute them to the sale, said Mrs. Joel Warren, president of the Friends of the Library Board.

All types of books will be accepted, as well as magazines, she said.

Drop boxes have been placed in the main library, 5030 Orchard Lake Road, and at the Westacres branch for the convenience of those with books to donate.

Area Township Designates Two Kids' Day

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Friday and Saturday of this week have been designated "Kids' Days" by joint proclamation of Supervisor John C. Rehard and Keego Harbor Mayor Milton Parry.

The two-day observance is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of West Bloomfield in an effort to raise funds for youth activities through the sale of peanuts.

The proclamation of the two officials read in part:

"It is fitting that we make every effort to keep all children from being prey to any form of delinquency and to foster all good and proper endeavors aimed at helping our youths to achieve the benefits offered by the American Way of life."

★ ★ ★

"The purpose of these days are to provide worthwhile experiences for all youth and to raise funds which will be expanded locally to the betterment of all concerned."

To Station Bloodmobile in the Area

The American Red Cross bloodmobile will be stationed in Walled Lake for six hours Monday to accept blood to replenish the Commerce-Walled Lake blood bank.

Mrs. Edward Genack, coordinator of the local program, said the area blood bank was depleted in August and since that time blood has been borrowed from the general supply.

The bloodmobile will be parked in front of the First Baptist Church, Ferlend and Northport streets, between 2 and 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Any one between the ages of 18 and 59 in good health can be a donor, said Mrs. Genack, 3861 Benstein Road. Persons in need of transportation to the bloodmobile can contact Mrs. Genack.

★ ★ ★

The blood is available to all residents who might be in need of it and to their close relatives anywhere in the United States.

Community Hospital Plans Open House

ALMONT—The Community Hospital, located on M53 just south of here, will hold open house 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

This will be the first opportunity for individuals and groups to tour the medical facility since it opened on Jan. 8, 1959.

Members of the women's auxiliary will conduct the tours, while various members of the hospital staff will be on hand to explain the functions of their respective departments and service areas.

Refreshments will be served by the auxiliary after the tours.

Hall at W. Bloomfield Open for Registration

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The West Bloomfield Township Hall will be open the next three Saturdays, in addition to regular weekday hours, for the convenience of residents wanting to register for the Nov. 7 election.

Clerk Dorothy Chamberlain said the office will be opened from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 22 and 29 and Oct. 6 for the purpose of registration.

The deadline for registering to cast ballots in the state election is 8 p.m. Oct. 8.

RUTH ANN HALLETT

Announcement is made of the engagement of Ruth Ann Hallett and Robert H. Hawley by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milo D. Hallett of 1040 Bigelow Road, Springfield Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey H. Hawley of 13465 Milford Road, Holly.

JANET S. ROBERTSON

An Oct. 13 wedding is planned by Janet Sue Robertson and James D. Johnson announce the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Robertson of 1989 Petrolia Drive, Union Lake. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Johnson of 6943 Playfair St., West Bloomfield Township.

Elmwood PTA Plans Dinner at First Session

AVON TOWNSHIP — A potluck dinner will be served at the first meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Elmwood School at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Following the dinner a community sing and short business meeting will take place. The new principal, Charles Johnson, will be introduced by Avondale School Supt. George Shackelford.

Which Way to Turn? Wall Street Eyes Fork in Road

(EDITOR'S NOTE — "Where do we go from here?" they ask in Wall Street. A period of uncertainty has settled over the financial community since the big market crash of last May.)

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
(First of Three Articles)

NEW YORK — Four months after "Black Monday," Wall Street stands at the crossroad, wondering which way the market will go.

What has happened there since the plunge of May 28, the worst day since the 1929 Crash? Has the character of the market changed since the dizzy decline of last spring?

First, the market itself has come back, recovered about 40 per cent of the losses taken in the toboggan ride from the historic peak of last December.

But, having done so, it's acting uncertainly now. Analysts called the rebound "a normal technical recovery."

What next?

★ ★ ★

"You're just not sure where you stand," says one veteran floor trader. "There's a lot more nervousness. For a fellow who is a real, long-term investor, this is a good time. Many stocks are cheap. But it's impossible for a trader. The market may look good for a few days and then it breaks. Even the professionals can't make money."

The market character has changed considerably. But institutions such as pension funds and mutual funds are more prominent, the small investor less so.

"A three-million-share day now has an entirely different makeup than a three-million-share day before the drop, said Victor L. Cook, manager of the biggest office of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, the world's largest brokerage firm. "Then the public was very much in the market. People were buying and selling actively. Now the activity by individuals has fallen off while the institutional investors are acounting for a greater proportion of transactions."

REGAINING COURAGE

But the small investor is gradually getting back his courage and returning to the market.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, observed that the average number of monthly investment plans started per day — this is a plan for the installment purchase of common stocks for small investors — dropped for the installment purchase of common stock for small investors — dropped from 142 in May to 102 in June, then rebounded sharply to 176 in July. This was just a shade above the 1961 daily average of 175.

"But the wild enthusiasm of the surging 1961 market is gone. In its place is a more logical, cautious approach to stock buying.

"A lot of customers are still licking their wounds," said Cook, who has charge of 59 customer's men (salesmen) at the Merrill Lynch main office and is a vice president of the firm. "Many have joined the 'I Shoulda' Club — 'I shoulda' paid more attention to price earnings ratios and stock yields before the market dropped,' they say. They are paying a great deal of attention to those things now."

★ ★ ★

The ratio of a stock's price to its earnings per share has always been a favorite standard for judging value in the market. If a stock sells for $10 a share and earnings are equivalent to $1 a share, the price-earnings ratio is 10-1, or simply 10.

Says Funston: "People were very optimistic a year ago. Therefore they were willing to pay a much higher price-earnings ratio for stocks than they were later."

"Today," Funston adds, "market conditions and the public mood obviously have changed. The average price-earnings ratio of leading stocks has fallen to 16½-17 from around 23 at the market high. This ratio, after all, is just another measure of the investing public's mood and it will fluctuate, like prices."

Lack of Gun Licensing Threatens U.S.

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — It will be a dark day indeed if it takes a race riot in Dixie to awaken the federal government from its longtime lethargy regarding the shockingly unregulated traffic in firearms.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro integration leader who played a significant role in the election of President Kennedy, has telegraphed a warning to the President that Negroes are arming themselves in areas of recent violence in the South.

Dr. King urged that the federal government act to half the impending debacle, because "If Negroes are tempted to turn to retaliatory violence, we shall see a dark night of rioting all over the South."

This is only one aspect of a nightmarish situation that is haunting Juvenile Court judges and social workers throughout the larger cities of America.

* * *

Callous teen-agers armed with revolvers are prowling the streets at night, firing at anyone indiscreet enough to resist their holdups or surprise them at housebreaking.

The capital of the nation is among the favorite scenes for such "child's" play, and only a couple of weeks ago the often-arrested 17-year-old son of a local policeman shot and killed a neighboring lad who saw him peeping in windows. It was an old story to the cops to find that the young killer had purchased his gun from a mail order house.

Incredibly, only 19 of our 50 states have laws requiring gun dealers to be licensed. There is no law prohibiting mail order dealers from shipping concealed weapons to anyone regardless of age, unless he is a convicted criminal—and how is an out-state dealer to know that?

Rep. Seymour Halpern (R-N.Y.), who as a former state senator pioneered legislation outlawing the sale of switchblade and gravity knives in New York, introduced a bill this session that would make it a federal felony to carry, transport or import into any state a weapon which is illegal in that state.

This would help to protect law-abiding citizens in 19, but not in the other 31 states, and even this good first step has no chance for consideration on the crowded wind-up docket of the current session.

Halpern plans to reintroduce the bill next January, and Sen. Thomas Dodd of Connecticut is preparing a different measure that would require the shipper to notify the carrier that a package contained firearms, and that it could not be delivered to anyone under 18, or to anyone with a narcotics conviction, but both the Dodd and Halpern bills are admittedly half-way measures.

* * *

Dr. King has spotlighted a far graver danger—the peril of easily obtained pistols in the hands of angry men, as well as beardless youths, criminals and drug addicts.

A generation ago the federal government passed a law making it illegal for any American to possess gold. A depression-ridden nation meekly submitted, and turned in even its keepsake coins.

Is there reason to believe that citizens faced with an appalling juvenile crime wave and the threat of race riots would not also be willing to turn in their weapons? Or at least to obtain a permit? All who failed to do so would then automatically be liable to arrest.

If the radical curtailment of revolver sales worked a hardship on the makers of these death-dealing instruments, they could be temporarily subsidized while shifting to new lines. After all, we subsidize farmers not to grow corn, and the President proposes to subsidize industries dislocated by Common Market competition.

At least, let's do something! The life you save may be your own (or mine).

Peiping Area Dry Spell Longest in 40 Years

TOKYO (AP)—Red China said today the Peiping area is suffering its longest dry spell in 40 years.

Radio Peiping said rain has been scanty since July in the region of the Chinese Communist capital. During August, it said, only 1.10 inches of rain fell, less than one-fifth of the average of recent years.

Grandmother Dies in Train-Car Crash

JACKSONVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A 50-year-old grandmother was killed in a desperate effort to move her daughter's stalled car from the path of a train Tuesday.

Marjorie E. Smith of Roodhouse, Ill., her daughter and granddaughters were in the car when it stalled on a Wabash Railway Co. crossing. The others jumped out and fled.

Mrs. Smith slid in behind the steering wheel of the stalled car, trying to restart it. As the passenger train approached, Mrs. Smith jumped.

Motors Almost Hold Their Own

Watching and Waiting Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices eased gently in dull trading early this afternoon.

Most key stocks took fractional losses. Quite a few were unchanged. A few wider losses occurred among the "growth" issues.

WATCH AND WAIT

The market seemed to be lingering in another watch-and-wait phase after clipping short a moderate rally yesterday.

There was little response to news that housing starts in August were 5 per cent above the July rate and 15 per cent above the year-earlier level.

A report that the steelworkers union is considering the reopening of current labor contracts to ask for wage increases next year found steels only slightly lower.

Prices of the leading motors, oils, tobaccos, rubbers, and nonferrous metals were unchanged to a bit lower.

Polaroid and IBM dropped about 3 points as profit taking continued on the latest recovery drive of the "growth" issues.

Korvette and Xerox fell more than a point apiece.

There seemed little emphasis in the selling, however. Trading was at the dullest pace of the week.

Chrysler was off nearly a point. Ford lost a fraction and American Motors eased while General Motors and Studebaker were about unchanged.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in moderate trading.

Bonds Steady to Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The bond markets were steady to a shade lower at the opening today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. Treasury securities said activity was moderate but there were practically no price changes on the entire list of government bonds.

Rails and industrials eased slightly in early New York Stock Exchange bond dealings. Utilities were irregular.

There were relatively few changes and only a small number amounted to a full point or more.

CLOSE FRIENDS — Janice Marie Doughten, 3, and "Winky," the squirrel, pose for the photographer to show what close friends they are. Janice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Doughten of Union City, Tenn., has been feeding the family pet, who has learned to like apples. Janice finds Winky useful as a playmate now that school has started and her older brothers and sisters are gone most of the day.

Miller Riled Over Election

Kennedy's Victory in Senate Primary Called Power Display

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman William-E. Miller of the Republican National Committee said today the victory of Edward M. Kennedy in the Massachusetts Democratic senatorial primary "is a vivid demonstration of the power of mopey coupled with merciless political leverage."

The outcome was no surprise, Miller said.

"The thinly veiled fiction that the winner was not aided in full measure in his campaign by his powerful brothers in Washington is a mocking insult which many Massachusetts Democrats properly resent," Miller said.

"I cordially invite them to rally to the support of the Republican candidate, George Cabot Lodge, and in November make clear to the Kennedys that the great state of Massachusetts deserves a U.S. senator capable of independent thought and action."

Greyhound Bus Hits Trailer, 33 Injured

O'FALLON, Mo. (AP)—A Greyhound bus clipped the rear of a tractor-trailer near here today, injuring all 33 passengers aboard the bus.

★ ★ ★

Only five were hurt badly enough to require hospitalization.

Neither the bus driver, Robert Corcoran of Kansas City, Mo., nor the truck driver, James L. Murphy of Earle, Ark., was injured.

★ ★ ★

State trooper Paul Naumann said the bus, en route from Kansas City to St. Louis, was attempting to pass the tractor-trailer when it hit the left rear of the truck.

Scheduled Airlines Lose $1.36 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Domestic scheduled airlines lost $1.36 million during the first seven months of the year, the Air Transport Association reported yesterday.

It said this compared with an $11.5-million loss in the same period last year.

SPECIAL STATUS — Mrs. Alice Boardman, a nurse and the only person allowed to use the ghost station at Great Longstone, England, waits for her train to stop as it enters the deserted station. A ruling by Britain's nationalized railways said that trains were to stop for the nurse and no one else.

Urban Renewal OK Delayed to Next Tuesday

The City Commission has deferred final approval for a second time on the loan and grant contract for Pontiac's second urban renewal project.

* * *

Urban Renewal Project CBD No. 2, Michigan R-44, contracts which would set the program in motion, first came before commissioners last week for signing.

* * *

Action was deferred until last night to allow administrators to check the complex documents thoroughly.

City Attorney William A. Ewart last night asked for another week to clarify technical wording in one section of the contract with Urban Renewal Administration officials.

The contract and a resolution authorizing the issuance of project temporary loan notes in the amount of $2,219,104 are now slated for action next Tuesday.

How Can Eye Doctor Manage to Keep Sight?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pity your doctor's peepers!

* * *

If he's to keep up with medicine he's got a choice of 6,000 medical journals to peruse—compared to a lowly 850 back in 1879. In addition, reports "Patterns"—a publication for doctors—the doctor must decide which of the 3,000 books in medical and allied sciences he has time to read to keep up.

6th Tiros Gets Prepared for Hurricane-Hunting

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The sixth U.S. Tiros satellite zipped around the globe today, snapping pictures of weather systems in a tuneup for its main assignment: hurricane hunting.

* * *

The latest in the successful series of Tiros meteorological satellites was fired into orbit from Cape Canaveral early Tuesday and within hours it was transmitting clear pictures of cloud cover above many areas of the world.

Several hours later the Air Force successfully launched a Minuteman missile from an underground silo on a 3,000-mile flight and moved the solid-fuel intercontinental range rocket near its operational goal of next month.

PICTURES PRAISED

Project officials termer the Tiros 6 pictures — many of which showed clearly defined land masses, rivers and seas—among the best received during the Tiros program.

* * *

Flying half an hour in front of Tiros 6 was Tiros 5, launched last June. With both operating, meteorologists for the first time had two working weather satellites aloft simultaneously. Four earlier Tiros vehicles have quit functioning.

FOR ACTIVE PERIOD

Tiros 6 was launched two months earlier than planned to help Tiros 5 patrol the Atlantic and Caribbean hurricane belts during what is normally the most active period—late September and early October.

* * *

Tiros 5 lost use of one of its two cameras several weeks ago and officials hurried the sixth Tiros to the launching pad to assure coverage during the hurricane season. Tiros 5's remaining camera is working well and the space twins thus are expected to provide double coverage during the critical period.

* * *

When not snooping on hurricanes or Pacific typhoons, the satellites are photographing cloud cover and weather systems around the world.

Both will be used to help forecast the weather for next week's scheduled six-orbit flight of American astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr.

Union Seeks Intervention

Kennedy Asked to Help at Hercules Powder in Minuteman Strike

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —A union sought presidential intervention today in its strike at the Hercules Powder Co.'s plant near here. The union said the strike has stopped production of the third stage of the Minuteman missile.

Plant manager R. C. Tucker said, however, "as far as production is concerned, we are holding our own."

USING NON-UNIONIST

Hercules has been using some of its 4,800 nonunion plant employes to substitute for the 1,000 members of Local 2-951 of the AFL-CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union who struck last Thursday.

* * *

A telegram sent to President Kennedy by Rex Donahue, president of the local, said the strike resulted from the company's refusal of a compromise 9½-cents an hour wage increase proposed by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. The union agreed to the compromise.

The company had offered 8 cents and the union had asked for 12½ cents. The average base rate was $2.76 an hour.

Take Off Your Shoes — and Greet His Majesty

By EARL WILSON

BANGKOK — When you enter the Royal Palace in Thailand, you put on your necktie and take off your shoes.

Young King Phumipol, the song-writing monarch who was born in Cambridge, Mass., is about the most popular king you will bump into in a month of globe-gadding. Nobody ever puts the knock on His Majesty here in this huge two-million-plus city. The proud Thais are still a little mad at Yul Brynner for the way he portrayed the King of Siam in "The King and I."

WILSON

"Our king is a very good king," said a young man who showed me around. "Besides, he does not eat with chopsticks—he uses a fork."

The Thais weren't allowed to see "The King and I" in Thailand — our young man had seen it in Hong Kong—but they are stronger for their king (who was born when his pop was studying at Harvard) and his attractive Queen Sirikit, than some American Republicans are for our Harvard chap.

But they're even stronger for taking their shoes off, and for the booming tourism.

* * *

That Thais ("Thai" is translated "free"; they quickly tell you their land has never been colonized) are proud of their Buddha. Some of the worldlier Thais are doing pretty good in the night club business; they've a Latin Quarter even here —and the emphasis is on girls.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle mentioned that her new boy friend's too fussy: "After all, who ever heard of putting shoe trees in sneakers?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Looking at those Bikinis worn on European beaches makes you wonder what happened to all the clothing we sent overseas.

EARL'S PEARLS: You're getting old when you begin to notice that the whole darn country is being run by a bunch of kids. . . . That's earl, brother.

Actress Wins Divorce; Says Mate Beat Her

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Karen Sharpe, 28, got a divorce from actor Chet Marshall, 29, Tuesday after testifying he had beaten and cursed her.

Marshall withdrew a plea for $750 monthly alimony.

Asked what he did during their three-year marriage, he said: "I did very little, other than working for Karen."

* * *

He told a judge he went over scripts with her, rehearsed the lines, spoke them himself so she could imitate the nuances of his interpretations, and helped on the set with camera angles.

Miss Sharpe maintained that Marshall gave her only cursory help.

Marshall testified he is now in the advertising business but has no income from it.

News Programs May Top Season's TV Bill

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — It is something of an open secret that, inside television, it is expected that most of this season's real excitement will be generated by the public affairs, information and documentary programs.

* * *

During the past few years, while television entertainment has been slipping gradually into the hands of Hollywood's facile manufacturers of B features, network news departments and private packagers have been learning to build meaty, professional and illuminating programs based on reality.

There is considerable irony in the vast difference between the often shoddy pieces of fiction and enthusiastic, painstaking efforts in reporting the realities. The irony is that the vast television audience, in every survey ever made, has shown a clear preference for entertainment, however feeble.

TAKES RARE NEWS SHOW

It is a rare news show — the launching of an astronaut, the critical balloting at a political convention—that can even begin to compete with the popularity of the shabbiest, most cliche-ridden Western or situation comedy.

* * *

The proof of every television pudding is still its popularity rating — the old and controversial numbers game that remains, in spite of all the disclaimers, the cold hard basis on which most advertisers decide whether or not to sponsor a show.

---

CBS Radio recently announced results of a 12-month study which, among other things, indicated more than half the listeners want to hear something besides music on the air waves. Most complaints involved too much rock 'n roll music, too many commercials, hard-sell commercials and loud sound effects. Also, most radio listening still is done at home—only about a quarter of it in automobiles.

---

David Brinkley plans to kick off his fall "Journal" series on NBC with a hot one Oct. 1—"The Great Highway Robbery." He promises to name names and route numbers in charging that untold billions are finding their way illegally into the pockets of some dishonest contractors, officials and inspectors connected with highway construction.

Makes Appeal on Constitution

Delegate Says Vote on Proposed Document Should Be on Merits

DETROIT (UPI)—Constitutional convention delegate James Pollock, R-Ann Arbor, said today voters should accept or reject the proposed new constitution on the basis of whether as a whole it is an improvement over the existing document.

Pollock made the statement in an address before the annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League meeting.

"The real issue before Michigan voters is not whether they approve every line of the proposed constitution," he said.

Pollock, a professor of political science at the University of Michigan, said he believed the drafted constitution "represents a great step in advance, is a distinct improvement over the old constitution, and therefore deserves the enthusiastic support of every thinking citizen."

REFERS TO RESHUFFLE

Referring to reapportionment, Pollock said, "the plan will rank the State of Michigan with the only six states out of the 50 in the Union in which 40 per cent or more of the population is necessary to control each house."

* * *

Pollock said the document was written in accordance with the will of the people of Michigan who decided by a majority vote through their delegates what the new constitution should be.

* * *

Pollock cited such organizations as the Justices of the Peace Association and the Good Roads Federation as "powerful interest groups in the state which see their own narrow interest so dominant that they are ready to sacrifice the welfare of the whole state for their own selfish interests."

Fall Crop of Fashions Sows Seed of Dismay

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — The University of Illinois college of agriculture apparently has broadened its interests.

* * *

A release from the college said yesterday: "Fall fashion shows indicate that skirts are a fraction longer in some collections and unchanged in length in others. However, the hemline in all cases covers the knees."

Yank to Teach at Eton

ETON, England (UPI)—A Connecticut Yankee, H. J. Packard of Lakeville, arrived yesterday to teach English history to English students at the famous boys' school here.

Believe Commies Downed U. S. Copter

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A U.S. Army helicopter that crashed Tuesday injuring four Americans is believed to have been shot down by Communist guerrillas, official sources said today.

The crash occurred in a heavily forested mountain area about 270 miles north of here, near a point where the South Vietnamese, Cambodian and Laotian frontiers meet.

Of the seven persons aboard the turbojet helicopter, three were U.S. military advisers, one was an American civilian from the U.S. aid mission and three were Vietnamese. Names were withheld.

Ted Predicting Fall Triumph to U.S. Senate

JFK's Brother Scores 2-1 Over GOP Foe in Massachusetts

From Our News Wires

BOSTON — Ted Kennedy predicted confidently today he would move into the Senate seat his brother vacated to become President of the United States.

His Republican opponent in November will be George Cabot Lodge.

The election battle will be a renewal of a fued between two political dynasties that has stretched over almost five decades.

The youngest member of the Kennedy clan, taking his first plunge into national politics at the age of 30, minimum age for a senator, set in motion a tidal wave of votes that swamped Edward J. Mc Cormack, his opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

The tide was running so strongly against Mc Cormack that he conceded defeat last night when returns were in from only one-fifth of the state's 1,988 precincts. The crusher came when Teddy carried Eddie's own home ward in Boston.

MAKES PREDICTION

A few moments later Kennedy, in a voice that sounds remarkably like that of the President of the United States, paid a neat tribute to Mc Cormack and then predicted: "We will carry the battle forward to victory in November."

Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge, defeated Congressman Laurence Curtis for the Republican senatorial nomination.

There's a third candidate going into the November election for the Senate, Harvard Prof. H. Stuart Hughes, running as an independent bypassing the primary.

★ ★ ★

FLUSHED WITH VICTORY

Flushed with his landslide victory, Kennedy made an early start today in his campaign for the November election.

So did Lodge, who announced he'd make an early campaign swing today to Springfield.

Kennedy had a few hours sleep, and was out chasing votes at sunrise, 6:35 a.m., greeting workers at the Boston Naval Shipyard — and getting an enthusiastic greeting in return.

He also called on fishermen aboard a trawler, and had a "mug

TOUGH BATTLE — The old Oakland County Courthouse won a round with a demolition crane this morning. The bouncing ball hit the wall — the crane gave way, the courthouse didn't. A little welding will fix it, said operator Eberhard Krueger of 933 Boston St. as he applied his hands to sifting the wreckage.

City Curtailing Press Access to Police Data

The City Commission last night unanimously approved a resolution which places stricter controls on the release of police information on arrests to news media.

The policy-making statement was one of two resolutions proposed after a series of complaints from commissioners and the public over Pontiac Police Department procedures.

A second resolution, offered by Commissioner Milton R. Henry, designed to prevent raids on alleged gambling and illegal liquor places without search warrants, was tabled for further study.

The police information resolution was offered by Mayor Robert Landry and supported by Henry. It came in answer to a request made two weeks ago by Rev. J. Allen Parker, pastor of Newman AME Church.

Rev. Parker had protested "false arrest" and information released by police to news media after he was mistaken for a burglar Aug. 21, shot by a property owner and held by police for questioning.

Last night's resolution, in effect, says that henceforth all information regarding arrests must come from Police Chief Joseph Koren or a person designated by him to make statements to the press, radio and other news media.

Commissioners pledged their full support in backing City Manager Robert A. Stierer and Koren in enforcement of the policy.

The document states that "the uncontrolled releasing of information on arrests in our police department has proven detrimental to the good and welfare of some of our citizens.

"This lack of control tends to cater to those who thrive on notoriety."

THE RESOLUTION

The resolution states that "this Commission, through the mandate of its electors, must guarantee against all possibilities of preferential treatment of any of its citizens.

"Therefore," it orders, "no information on arrests

"Therefore," it orders, "no information on arrests will hereby be allowed to be taken by or given to either the press or radio or any other medium of public information, by anyone except the chief . . . or any one person specifically designated by him."

★ ★ ★

Nalling the mandate down, the document concludes that the Commission "will not condone any infraction of the new policy . . . by any individual or any group of individuals regardless of rank or seniority."

Rev. Parker, present at the meeting, thanked commissioners for passage of what he termed "this noteworthy measure."

However, he indicated he was not fully satisfied and asked for a hearing with the commission "to clear up other matters."

In the matter of referral to sev-

Penalties Are Stiffened Against Parents of Youthful Violators

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White won't have to worry about ringing the curfew bell anymore—the city has a new curfew ordinance.

The old ordinance — 47 years old — was rescinded at last night's City Commission meeting and replaced with a new version "more in line with state curfew laws."

One part of the 1915 ordinance decreed that the fire chief "shall ring or cause to be rung the bell at the fire station as a curfew signal for at least 30 seconds duration, at 10 minutes before the evening (curfew) hour."

Although the practice has long since been abandoned, it still remained on the books "as a warning to all persons in the City of Pontiac."

Generally speaking, the old ordinance merely stated that all persons under 18 years old must be off the street by 9 p.m. during summer months and 8 p.m. in the winter months.

Parents of violators were liable to fines up to $50 or up to 30 days in jail or both upon conviction.

MORE SPECIFIC

The new ordinance isn't as general.

It sets up laws for more than one age group and raises the penalty for parents and guardians to a fine up to $100, jail sentence up to 90 days or both. The youthful violators are to be turned over to Juvenile Court.

There are several sections relating to all minors.

One makes it illegal for anyone 17 or under to play billiards or pool in any billiard or pool hall at any time, unless in a private residence or club, school, church, fraternal or youth-serving agency or organization.

★ ★ ★

Another makes it "unlawful for any minor enrolled in any day school to remain in or loiter upon the premises of any restaurant, lunch room, candy store, confectionery, ice cream parlor, pool hall, billiard hall or bowling alley during the school hours of such minor."

EXCLUDE EMERGENCIES

All restrictions apply only to minors not accompanied by a parent, guardian or adult delegated by parents to accompany the minor. Minors on "emergency errands" aren't affected either.

Other sections place different

For Morgenthau Battle

To Pick Rocky Tonight

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)— Republicans will renominate Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller tonight to battle a Democratic state ticket headed by Robert M. Morgenthau and including the first Negro to be nominated by either major party for statewide office in New York.

The Negro Protestant, Edward Dudley, 51, borough president of Manhattan and former U.S. ambassador to Liberia, was nominated for attorney general last night at a seemingly serene convention session in Syracuse that also named prisoner-swap lawyer James B. Donovan to run for the U.S. Senate.

Rockefeller will be acclaimed at tonight's final session of a harmonious, two-day convention here that contrasted sharply with the chaotic Democratic session that finally chose former U.S. Atty. Morgenthau early yesterday.

Morgenthau, 43, promised to give Rockefeller, 54, "The fight of his life."

Donovan, 46, will challenge Republican incumbent Jacob K. Javits, 58, who won renomination by acclamation last night. Both live in New York City.

Rockefeller's other running mates were lined up for nomination late this afternoon.

Donovan has been negotiating with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro for the release of invasion prisoners. Earlier, he played a key role in the exchange of Soviet spy Rudolph Abel for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

Dudley will vie with Republican Atty. Gen Louis J. Lefkowitz, 58, who is Jewish, as are Morgenthau and Javits.

OTHERS ON TICKET

Filling out the Democratic ticket are Mayor John J. Burns, 41, of Binghamton, candidate for lieutenant governor; Comptroller Arthur Levitt, 61, of Brooklyn, the only member of his party elected to a statewide administrative office in the Rockefeller landslide four years ago, nominated for reelection, and John Scileppi, 54, of Queens, a State Supreme Court justice, to run for associate judge of the Court of Appeals.

Besides Rockefeller, Javits and Lefkowitz, Republicans will run Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson for re-election.

They also are expected to nominate John P. Lomenzo, 47, of Rochester, former Monroe County judge, for comptroller, and Marcus Christ, 62, of New Hyde Park, for the court post. Christ is a justice in the State Supreme Court's appellate division.

Both tickets were prepared with the attention to ethnic and religious balance that New York political leaders always consider.

Morgenthau, former U.S. attorney in New York City and son of former Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr., was nominated early Tuesday after a long and wild session that sent tempers soaring and threatened to open old intraparty wounds.

He and Donovan, both political novices, were faced with the formidable task of opposing the experienced Rockefeller-Javits team, that had a long head start in the campaign that ends with the election less than seven weeks away.

1963 Pontiac Previewed; Expect New Sales High

By HARRY J. REED
Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

DETROIT—A stronger hold on third-place in the industry and a bigger share of the auto market were the 1963 predictions for Pontiac Motor Division at the press preview of the new line here today.

The predictions came from E. M. Estes, division general manager and vice president of General Motors.

E. M. ESTES

Estes said the new Pontiacs would stress performance, styling and reliability.

"With a distinctively restyled Pontiac line, a completely new Tempest and the elegant Grand Prix luxury car, Pontiac expects to capture 8½ per cent of the domestic auto market — the division's highest market penetration ever," Estes said.

Estes didn't give a concrete prediction for auto sales in '63, but did venture that he saw no reason why the high sales volume should not continue. Pontiac has nearly 8 per cent of the industry in calendar '62.

The new Pontiac and Tempest models will go on display Oct. 4. The Grand Prix will be unveiled Friday.

In styling for the 1963 model, the now-traditional split grille is further enhanced by twin vertical headlights.

The majority of today's car buyers want bigger cars, Estes said in discussing the trend toward the medium-priced car.

"They do not want bigness for bigness alone. They want simplicity and performance as well," he added.

14 MODELS

"We feel we have combined these two ingredients to meet the ever-growing customer demand for automobiles of this type. For 1963 we have made the Pontiac look longer, wider and lower without

UAW Makes Plans for '64

Better Sick Benefits, No More Time Clocks, Shorter Hours Sought

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union, already taking aim on next round of contract talks with the auto industry, today outlined three goals for 1964:

—Shorter working hours.
—Better sick benefits.
—Elimination of time clocks.

Ken Bannon, a UAW director and head of its Ford department, said he was serious about time clocks which workers traditionally punch when they enter or leave the factories on their shifts.

Bannon said, "The foreman's "They're no longer necessary," time sheet is used for payroll purposes."

Bannon acknowledged that eliminating the time clock would help wipe out the distinction between hourly and salaried workers — something the UAW tried unsuccessfully to do last year when it asked that blue collar workers be paid salaries just like their white collar counterparts.

The present union contracts were written in 1961 and expire in 1964, hence any new negotiations are two years away. But union officials discussed 1964 goals in a meeting here.

Bannon said the officials, representing 87 Ford plants around the country, discussed the need for sick benefits computed by the day. Thus, if a worker is sick for one or two days he would be paid by the company for the time off.

At present, a worker must be sick more than a week or be hospitalized before he qualifies.

High About 70, Low in 40s Next 5 Days

High temperatures for the next five days will hover around 70. Lows are expected to dip into the high 40s.

Fair and cool is the forecast for tonight and Thursday. A few showers are predicted for Saturday and Sunday.

Two Guards Escape Prisoners

MONTREAL (AP) — Two guards held hostage for eight hours by prisoners at Bordeaux Jail escaped today by a dramatic jump of 50 feet to freedom.

Both guards were caught in nets spread by firemen but they suffered injuries in the plunge.

Jail officials quickly crushed the revolt by nine prisoners who had been confined to the mental ward on the fourth floor of the jail.

The guards were seized last night during an exercise period. The prisoners threatened to hurl them from the fourth tier of cells unless jail officials met their demands for more visiting privileges for families and the right to be treated by their personal doctors.

★ ★ ★

The two guards, Robert Chabot, father of seven children, and Gaston Monnier, made their jump into the nets when the convicts' attention was momentarily distracted by pleas to release the men.

Chabot and Monnier were taken to St. Luke Hospital, one with a dislocated shoulder, the other suffering shock.

Guards used tear gas and clubs to subdue the rioters, who were armed with a knife. Three prisoners were injured.

Mac Given Okay on Common Mart

LONDON (AP)—Commonwealth leaders today gave Prime Minister Harold Macmillan a carefully-hedged go-ahead to continue his efforts to lead Britain into the European Common Market.

But the Commonwealth statesmen took the action on the firm understanding that Britain will take account of Commonwealth fears and seek a better deal for Britain's Commonwealth partners when negotiations with the six Common Market countries are resumed in two weeks.

A communique, issued after an unhappy 10-days of wrangling, catalogued various reservations expressed by the Commonwealth leaders.

The communique said the Commonwealth prime ministers trusted that a closer association between Britain and Europe "would not be allowed, as it developed, to weaken the cohesion of the Commonwealth or its influence for peace and progress in the world."

The lengthy document was issued at the end of summit talks between 16 countries of Britain's worldwide alliance.

MARATHON DISPUTE

It was preceded by a marathon dispute over Britain's proposal to link up with Europe. Almost every one of Britain's partners expressed fears and anxieties that the project would hurt their old-time trading arrangements and political unity.

The communique explained that various Commonwealth leaders had expressed "the economic points of special concern to their respective countries and the extent to which their interests had not so far been met" in the Common Market negotiations.

A key passage of the communique said;

"The prime ministers expressed the readiness of their governments to join in comprehensive international efforts by all available means to expand world trade both in primary products and manufactures.

"They recognized the important contribution which the European Economic Community and other regional groups could make in such efforts.

"They hoped that the general objectives set out above would be shared by the members of the community."

The declaration said British ministers will "support a fresh and vigorous approach to the negotiation of international commodity agreements."

MEETS DEMANDS

This met demands voiced by Canada, New Zealand and Australia and other countries.

The three old "white" Commonwealth countries are all big producers of what officials describe as temperate foodstuffs—cereals and meat. All fear their economies would be gravely injured if they were suddenly denied the tariff-free arrangements to sell in Britain—arrangements that would have to end if Britain joins Europe on terms so far gained in negotiations with the Common Market six — France, West Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

City Approves Projects at Pontiac Airport in '64

The City Commission has given its stamp of approval to a proposed $120,000 improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport for 1964.

At last night's City Commission meeting, a resolution was adopted authorizing City Manager Robert A. Stierer and Airport Manager Homer D. Hoskins to get cost estimates on the plan from consulting engineers and file applications for federal and state aid.

The city's share would not exceed $30,000.

Last night's move allocated $5,000 from the 1962 capital improvement fund as an advance payment "in good faith" and will allocate the balance from next year's capital improvement fund.

Under the formula for financing airport improvements, 50 per cent would be paid with a federal grant with the city and state paying 25 per cent each.

★ ★ ★

Three major projects are called for in the proposed 1964 plan.

1. Widen part of the North-South and East-West taxiways from 40 feet to 75 feet.

2. Widen the aircraft parking ramp between hangers No. 1 and No. 2 from 75 feet to 200 feet wide.

3. Install a five-foot high, chain-link fence from the terminal building along the entrance road and around the commercial hanger area and the proposed widening of the aircraft parking ramp, to Airport Road.

The project is designed to keep the airport's long range improvement program in motion but at the same time avoid any large expenditures until the county has decided if it will help finance future expansion of the facility.

★ ★ ★

The projosed project is considerably smaller than the $388,000 project currently being completed at the airport as the 1962 improvement program. There is no program slated for 1963.

Mississippi U. Calm as Possible Closing Looms Over Negro

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — More than 5,000 students report today for registration at the University of Mississippi, quietly girding itself for a possible showdown on racial integration.

An atmosphere of outward calm prevailed on the tree-shaded campus and in downtown Oxford despite the possibility the 100-year-old institution might be closed to prevent the federal court-ordered admission of James H. Meredith, a 29-year-old Negro.

Meredith, who attended Jackson State College for Negroes last year, would register as a transfer student. Registration for transfer students is tomorrow, the day the state college board is scheduled to meet again in Jackson to act on Meredith's application.

The 13-man board, which has final jurisdiction over university admissions, has been debating since Monday whether to comply with Gov. Ross Barnett's directive for state officials to go to jail rather than obey federal desegregation orders.

★ ★ ★

Two previous meetings of the board have produced no decision, despite a personal plea by Barnett yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Vernon Holmes, a board member, said he would be willing to be jailed "if something could be accomplished by doing so." But, he added, "I'm not willing to go to jail if it would accomplish nothing — this would be ridiculous and ineffective."

The Democrats nominated a Yankee blueblood, Endicott (Chub) Peabody to head their state ticket as the candidate for governor.

Peabody defeated Clement A. Riley, state auto registrar. Peabody will run against incumbent Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, a son of Italian immigrant parents, who was renominated for a second term without opposition.

The Republicans placed a Negro on their ticket, nominating Edward W. Brooke for attorney general.

Brooke was the first Negro on a statewide ticket in Massachusetts two years ago when he ran unsuccessfully for secretary of state.

Red China Vote No Woe to U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States today welcomed another chance to combat Russia's attempt to replace Nationalist China with Red China in the United Nations.

U.S. sources said Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson would raise no objections to a full debate on the issue when it comes before the General Assembly's steering committee this afternoon.

The United States was confident the Assembly would repeat last year's impressive support for Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Put to a direct vote for the first time in 10 years, the margin for the Nationalists increased by four votes over the 1960 tally, which was on a motion to shelve the issue.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the United States last year won overwhelming Assembly approval for its demand that any change in the present Chinese representation in the assembly be decided by a two-thirds vote.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, putting the question up for the agenda yesterday, demanded the Nationalists be ousted from all U.N. organs in favor of the Peiping regime.

The Assembly, opening its 17th annual session yesterday, elected Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan as president, succeeding Mongi Slim of Tunisia. Zafrulla defeated G. P. Malalasekera of Ceylon 72-27 in a secret ballot.

The assembly then completed its first day's work by electing to membership the African countries of Rwanda and Burundi and the two former British Caribbean colonies of Jamaica and Trinidad-and-Tobago.

It will also, congressional leaders believe, carry a warning to Moscow and Havana that the nation is behind the President in any action he feels must be taken in reply to the Communist military buildup in Cuba.

In its present form, the resolution pretty much echoes Kennedy's press conference statement on Cuba last Thursday.

To get the resolution into final form, the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committee scheduled a joint meeting. On the other side of the Capitol, the House Foreign Affairs Committee will get together.

The committees will consider a working draft of a joint resolution asserting the United States is determined to prevent "by whatever means may be necessary, including the use of arms, the Marxist-Leninist regime in Cuba from extending its aggression to any part of this hemisphere by force or the threat of force."

School Offices Move Urged

City Commissioners Seeking Relocation Close to City Hall

The City Commission officially went on record last night as approving the relocation of the Pontiac School District Administrative Offices in the civic center.

★ ★ ★

In a resolution recognizing the fact that present school administration offices at 40 Patterson St. will be purchased and demolished under the R44 urban renewal project, commissioners urged relocation near city hall.

SITE SUGGESTED

The resolution was drafted in view of the fact that "the board of education has expressed an interest in constructing a new administration building in the civic center area, which is part of Urban Renewal Project No. 1, and building a garage and service building in the Northwest corner of Aaron Perry Park."

The park is located in the vicinity of Saginaw and Montcalm Streets.

Last night's resolution "endorses and approves the concept of a new board of education administration building in the civic center area on a site and at a cost to be agreed upon after site plans and estimates are further developed, in line with the urban renewal plan and re-use value."

The document also states the city will "consider selling or leasing a parcel of city-owned property" near Montcalm and Saginaw for a garage and service building.

Further talks on the agreement will be held and plans are to be submitted to the Commission at a later date.

Family-Sized Dart to Come in 9 Models

The Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp. will introduce a new, larger, family-sized compact — the 1963 Dart — in nine models including two convertibles at dealer showrooms Oct. 2.

Built on a 111-inch wheelbase, the new Dart is 16 feet, 4 inches long and one of three separate Dodge lines for 1963. Others are the standard-sized Dodge and medium-priced Dodge 880.

★ ★ ★

All except the 880 will go on display Oct. 2. The 880 line will be introduced in December.

The nine Dart models will be offered in three series — the economical "170," the deluxe "270," and the "GT" sports series.

The GT series has two models:

COMPACT BY DODGE — The highlight of Dodge's 1963 model line is this new Dodge Dart. A king-size compact designed as a family car, it is 195.9 inches long — small enough for easy handling and parking and large enough to provide roominess and comfort for the entire family. Pictured here is the Dart "270" four-door sedan, one of nine models available in three series.

A two-door hardtop and a convertible, both with bucket seats. The "270" series features two- and four-door sedans, a convertible and a four-door, six-passenger station wagon.

The "170" series also includes two- and four-door sedans and a six-passenger wagon.

Dart buyers have a choice of two engines. Standard is a slant six with a 170-cubic-inch displacement. A larger, 225-cubic-inch "six" is a low-cost option.

Protection against corrosion has been increased by dipping the body in a deeper vat of special primer, using rustproof clips for body moldings, introducing an aluminized exhaust system and adding extra splash shields to keep dirt and salt from accumulating in underbody areas.

Included in the new items on the 1963 Dart are longer, parallel-action windshield wipers; a new all-transistor radio; a larger fuel tank, increased from 14 to 18 gallons; and redesigned seats for more support, comfort and longer life.

He Seems to Be a Political Natural

Young Ted's Blitz Dumfounds Own Supporters

By RELMAN MORIN

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, a sensational winner in the Massachusetts Democratic primary, seems to be a political natural today, and his backers are predicting that he will drive through in November to a seat in the U.S. Senate.

It is the seat vacated in 1960 by John F. Kennedy when he was elected President.

IT'S A BLITZ

Ted crushed his opponent for the Democratic nomination, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr., in a blitz that dumbfounded his own supporters no less than McCormack's.

Shortly after the first returns his headquarters notified President Kennedy at Newport, R. I. "He said he was very pleased," said one of Ted's chief lieutenants.

★ ★ ★

The younger Kennedy, who is 30 and making his maiden run for elective office, took it all with glacial calm.

★ ★ ★

By about 10 p.m., some three hours after the polls closed, he was on his way from his Boston apartment to McCormack's headquarters, and then to a frantic, roaring victory celebration at the Touraine Hotel.

As he was hoisted onto the stage in the converted ballroom, he looked like a man who had known all along that it would be like this.

WIFE NEAR TEARS

His pretty blonde wife, Joan, stood beside him, fighting a losing battle against tears. She swallowed hard and her voice broke when she tried to speak into the microphones. "I'm so grateful," she choked. "I don't know what else to say."

In his turn, Kennedy stressed the theme, party unity for the November fight. If he felt any elation, any excitement, he didn't show it. He was cooler, far less forceful, than during any of his stump speeches in the pre-election campaign.

★ ★ ★

His juggernaut victory appears to be the result of four main factors—the Kennedy name in Massachusetts, Ted's natural talent for politics, a precision-engineered organization, and a debate that backfired on his opponent.

★ ★ ★

The order of their importance is anybody's guess.

★ ★ ★

But weeks before the election, a Boston politician told this correspondent: "He's got more political savvy already than his brother had in his first campaign. It seems to come more naturally to him than it did to Jack when he was starting."

COVERED THE STATE

The younger Kennedy worked hard, driving himself, day and night. He covered the state from end to end. He spoke at five and six rallies a day. His voice gave out toward the end.

But when an aide announced this at a rally, and the crowd groaned, Kennedy grabbed the microphone and croaked on for 15 minutes.

★ ★ ★

The crowd couldn't understand half of what he said, but it applauded the effort.

★ ★ ★

Like the President's 1960 campaign, this one was supported by a smooth-working, professional organization, well supplied with money.

One of the key figures on the team is Kennedy's brother-in-law, Stephen Smith. He is married to the former Jean Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Smith says the turning point in the campaign began to appear after Kennedy's first televised debate with McCormack. In that appearance, the attorney general told Kennedy that, without the famous name, "your candidacy would be a joke."

★ ★ ★

"We took some samplings of opinion after the debate," Smith said. "Ted was the underdog before that. But we found people switching. It definitely must have backfired on McCormack."

★ ★ ★

Sees No State Call-Up of Reserve Forces

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Col Slattcho Katsarsky, deputy commander, Sixth Army Corps, said yesterday that he had no information indicating any Michigan reservists or national guardsmen are to be called to active duty.

He described President Kennedy's new "stand-by authority" as a precaution for such an emergency when Congress is not in session.

Crane Falls, Kills Man

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Chester Rapson, 49, Ozark, was fatally crushed yesterday when a crane boom fell on him. He was working on the west pier of a new lock under construction in the Soo system. Injured by the falling boom were William Bennoit and Fred Cardinal, both of Sault Ste. Marie.

IN 22 SECONDS after entering bloodstream Anacin® is speeding relief to

YOUR NERVOUS TENSION HEADACHE

Not only relieves pain but ALSO its tension and depression

Superior to aspirin or buffered aspirin

Tension headaches are by far the most common kind.

Of the 3 leading pain relievers, only Anacin has extra medication that relieves pain fast, also its nervous tension and depression. With Anacin, you experience remarkable 'all-over' relief without stomach upset.

In 22 seconds after entering the bloodstream, Anacin is speeding relief to your pain. In addition, Anacin gives you more complete relief from headache pain than aspirin or buffered aspirin can. See, aspirin or buffered aspirin contains only one pain reliever. But Anacin is a combination of three medically proven ingredients which 3 out of 4 doctors recommend and which many doctors, themselves, take when they suffer from headaches.

It is the difference in Anacin that makes the big difference in the way you feel.

More Charm, More Leisure

Age 50 Is Prime of Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A woman of 50 should be in the very prime of life. She should still have great vitality. She usually has more leisure at this age since her most strenuous duties as a mother are over. If she has not been unlucky and if she has been wise, she will still possess the vigor of youth, have more charm than ever before, and plenty of good looks left, too.

However, unfortunately, this period of life is often an unhappy one for the woman. This is true if she has been living vicariously through her children and her husband and has failed to develop her own personal and individual interests.

This is easy to do and this situation will slip up on a woman if she does not give thought to avoiding it.

★ ★ ★

A woman should have some life of her own at every age. If she has eager interests of her own, thoughts of her own, stimulated by study, and enthusiasms which are shining, she will have much more to bring to her family and her own life will be much more exciting.

★ ★ ★

If you have failed to develop interests and hobbies which will enrich your new leisure and dull any loneliness you may feel for your children, and now find yourself restless and far from happy, think of the little talents and loves of earlier years.

NEVER HAD TIME

Think of the things you always said you wanted to do but didn't have time to do.

All of these interests and many more may just be buried under the weight of years. Dig them out and invest in them.

Start rehabilitating yourself for this new phase of your life by beginning a course in physical self-improvement. This alone will activate you and give your morale a big lift.

THINGS TO DO

Become interested in some courses of study or take lessons to learn, or improve your skill, at a sport. Take dancing lessons. Develop at least one hobby. The list is endless. For instance, you can make a hobby of collecting some item you are interested in, of art, music, photography, antique furniture, glass, horticulture, astronomy, dramatics, and there are all kinds of handicrafts.

If you would like to have my list of hobbies, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 66 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Ceramic Tiles Retain Heat

If you place a ceramic tile in the oven as you bake biscuits or warm rolls and then put the warm tile in the bottom of the serving basket, the heat will keep the bread warm during the meal and fewer grease marks will appear on the napkins around the rolls.

Bride-Elect Is Honored at Shower

Judith F. Ouellette, bride-elect of Donald Sparkman, was honored at a shower Monday evening by Mrs. James Wright and Mrs. Lloyd B. Smith at the home of the latter on Pontiac Lake Road.

Guests included Mrs. Clifford Ouellette, mother of the prospective bride, Bunny Ouellette, the bride-elect's sister, and grandmother Mrs. Raymond Riley of Highland Park.

Others attending were Mrs. Raymond Riley Jr., Mrs. Phyllis Wilhite, Jackie James, Mrs. Paul Van Roekel, Mrs. Clifford Steffey, Mrs. Wayne Anable and Mrs. Patrick Cassidy.

Other guests included Mrs. Robert M. Davies, Mrs. Ida Erickson, Mrs. Albert Gates, Mrs. Cleon Henderson, Mrs. Kenneth Hess, Grace Holtom, Mrs. Robert Jeffers, Mrs. Gladys La Londe, Mrs. Norman Lemmon and Agnes McHugh.

Miss Ouellette has chosen her sister Bunny as maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Wilhite and Miss James.

Cheese, Heavy Cream Make Salad Richer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Gelatin, cheese and pineapple have an affinity for one another. Here is a recipe for a rich company salad that uses all three — and chopped nuts too.

Mrs. Doyle O. Hempton who lives at Fox Bay gave us this recipe. She works parttime, keeps her grandchildren occasionally and enjoys some social life. She belongs to the Shybrook Group of her church.

COMPANY SALAD
By Mrs. Doyle O. Hempton

1 package lemon or lime gelatin
1 large can crushed pineapple
6 oz. creamed cheese
½ cup cut celery
⅔ cup chopped nuts
3⅛ teaspoons salt (this is correct)
½ pint cream, whipped

Soviets Look Into 3rd Blast at Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet soldiers appeared along the Communist wall last night to investigate another mysterious explosion in East Berlin that shook an area near the Brandenburg Gate.

★ ★ ★

The truckload of soldiers soon withdrew and West police could not see whether they found anything.

East German guards usually investigate such blasts. This was the third recent explosion near the Brandenburg Gate. There was no immediate explanation why the Russians appeared.

A company of Soviet tanks faced American tanks at Checkpoint Charlie on one occasion last fall. Otherwise, Soviet troops have been seen along the wall only in twos or threes, riding jeeps.

The area searched last night includes the site of Hitler's chancellory and the bunker where he is believed to have killed himself.

West Berlin police heard several other explosions during the night and saw fire briefly light up the area across the border from the northern suburb of Frohnau.

★ ★ ★

WEST REPLIES

Meanwhile, Soviet statements on Berlin and West Germany drew prompt replies from Washington and Bonn.

Washington challenged a Moscow declaration that the Soviet Union, which withdrew its military commandant from Berlin last month, will not renew relations with the three Allied military commanders in the divided city.

The U.S. State Department repeated that Berlin continues to be the joint responsibility of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

It said the Air Safety Center and the Spandau Prison still are operated on a four-power basis.

Tass also said the visit by French President Charles de Gaulle to West Germany [illegible] doubt that a "collusion exists aimed at the aggravation of international tension."

The West German government replied that French-German friendship is an example of how postwar relations can be settled peacefully, if both sides show good will.

MOM RETURNS HOME — Mrs. Carolyn Huntoon, 24-year-old mom whose runaway romance with a 15-year-old baby sitter ended in a Salt Lake City jail last week is greeted by a reporter (right) as she and her husband (background), Frederick, 31, arrive in Los Angeles by air from Utah last night. She was given a suspended sentence on condition she seek psychological help.

Levin Blasts GOP 'Liberalism Mask'

"The mask of liberalism" must be stripped from Michigan's Republican Party if Democrats are to win the November election, Oakland County Democratic Committee Chairman Sander Levin declared today.

"In an attempt to deceive the voters," Levin charged, "reactionary forces" within the Republican party have been "putting up a front known as George Romney," while moving behind that front in the direction of extreme conservatism.

In a newsletter to the county's 311 Democratic precinct delegates, Levin urged them to "get it down on the record" that county Republicans have proposed:

★ ★ ★

1. Legislation empowering either political party to expel party officeholders if they disagree with the group's official program.
2. Complete elimination of the U.S. Government's power to levy any type of income tax.
3. Legislation crippling the federal government's authority to enter into foreign alliances such as the United Nations, NATO, SEATO and the Organization of American States.

DEVASTATING PARALLEL

The newsletter saw a parallel between Romney's proposed laws to purge parties of all but strict party-line adherents and the demands "of nearly every fascistic, totalitarian group in history."

"If this proposal was made by Romney to take himself off the hook in his battle with Durant (Richard C. Durant, GOP 14th District vice chairman and avowed supporter of the extreme right John Birch Society), then his (Romney's) foolhardiness in not realizing all the potential dangers in such an anti-Democratic proposition is frightening enough," Levin stated.

★ ★ ★

"But," he continued, "if Mr. Romney views this deadly attack on our historic perogatives as a serious means of combating political opposition in a free society, then he is more dangerous than the Birchers."

★ ★ ★

Levin branded the other two alleged proposals as "pure Birchism" within the Republican Party of Michigan.

Course Scheduled on Bus Maintenance

School bus mechanics who tend the 415 busess that take Oakland County children to school will have a made-to-order course in school bus maintenance this fall.

The first class will meet at the County Board of Education offices in the County Service Center at 7 p.m., Sept. 26, Erwin J. Hendershott, county director of school transportation announced today.

Hendershott described the maintenance course as the first of its kind in the state. School bus mechanics have previously taken courses provided for drivers, which touched only briefly on special problems of maintenance.

Nab Janitor in Thefts at Mall Store

A stake-out during the night at the new Grinnell Bros. store in the Pontiac Mall resulted in the arrest of a Detroit man who entered the building at 2 a.m. today.

★ ★ ★

Oran Harge, 38, of 224† Antoinette, a janitor at the Mall, was arrested by Waterford Township police officer Elmer Bauer.

The stake-out had been ordered when the store, scheduled to open for business tomorrow, reported several radios and television sets missing after a stock inventory.

Bauer, in the store since 8 p.m. yesterday, said Harge had come up to the front window and looked in the building several times before making his entry by removing a section of window at the front of the store.

★ ★ ★

Lost Keys Could Lead to Mass Car Thievery

LONDON (UPI) — London police have lost the master keys that open and start almost every car in the British Isles, they reported today.

Alleged Bookmaker to Stand Trial Here

A 64-year-old Pontiac man who, police say, has been operating as a bookmaker here for several years, is scheduled to stand trial for violation of state gambling laws next Wednesday.

James (Chinaboy) Pruzer of 125 N. Perry St. pleaded innocent to the charge in Municipal Court yesterday afternoon. He is free on $100 personal bond.

He was arrested yesterday at Pike and Saginaw streets by Patrolman Guy White of the police department's special investigation unit.

'Oldest Resident' of State Dies at 113 in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP)—William (Dad) Eddington, 113, believed to be Michigan's oldest resident, died today in a Kalamazoo nursing home.

A former circus cook, he was born in New Castle, Ind., in 1849. He lived with his grandson for many years before moving to the nursing home six weeks ago.

Six years ago, Eddington received birthday congratulations from President Eisenhower, as well as former Presidents Harry Truman and Herbert Hoover.

Date Skeleton Found in Area

State Police Reports Remains Are Those of Woman Dead 50 Years

MILFORD — A skeleton found at a new home site here last week is that of a young woman, dead about 50 years, the Brighton state police reported today.

★ ★ ★

Information obtained from the Crime Detection Laboratory of the State Health Department revealed that the woman was caucasian or a half-breed, between 30 and 35 years of age, and 5 feet 2 or 4.

The skeleton, nearly complete, was uncovered by Neil R. Braun of 240 Hill St. while moving dirt at his new home at 235 Mill St.

It could not be determined if a fracture of the skull had been made prior to death or later but it was most certain that the crack was not made when it was unearthed, the report said.

★ ★ ★

State police said the information would be turned over to Braun but they would not investigate further.

Area Boy Hurt When Bike Hits Side of Truck

An 8-year-old Independence Township boy suffered a fractured leg yesterday afternoon when he apparently drove his bicycle into the side of a moving pickup truck.

In satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital is Richard C. Youngs of 7390 Clintonville Road.

Joseph C. Caldwell, 48, of 4371 Cheeseman St., Waterford Township, told Pontiac state police he was driving north on Clintonville Road when the boy drove his bicycle into the right side of his pickup truck.

★ ★ ★

Armored Win Scored Against Viet Cong Unit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Government troops claimed their first major armored victory of the war today, reporting they trapped a veteran Communist rebel unit and killed 168 Viet Cong soldiers in a battle 80 miles south of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

A military source said Vietnamese manning U.S. M113 armored personnel carriers accounted for most of the guerrilla dead in the two-day operation that ended today.

★ ★ ★

The battle began when several battalions of Vietnamese troops cornered the Viet Cong's 502nd Battalion yesterday.

As the Communist troops tried to flee along a canal, they were cut off by the fast-moving personnel carriers and cut down by the M113s' machine guns.

Youth Hurt Working on Road Project

A Belleville youth injured in a road construction accident yesterday in Groveland Township is reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Hospital, Flint.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said 18-year-old Lionel G. Thorold was hurt while working alongside a gravel spreader on U.S. 10 north of Grange Hall Road.

★ ★ ★

Thorold apparently fell under the gravel spreader while walking next to it, according to Victor E. Smazal of Warren, operator of the spreader.

Greek Rulers Planning Visits to Iran, India

ATHENS (UPI) — King Paul and Queen Frederika have been invited to make state visits to India and Iran, the government announced today.

★ ★ ★

The Greek rulers plan to accept the invitations and the visits probably will be made in 1963, a spokesman said.

'Reds Have More Subs but U. S. Fleet Ahead'

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—A special session tomorrow of the U.S. Chinese Communist ambassadorial talks was requested by the Chinese, U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot said today.

The Life expectancy of women in Canada within the last 30 years has increased to 72 from 67 years.

Michigan Dems Start Wheeling in Big Campaign Guns

By The Associated Press

The Democrats start wheeling up their big guns on the Michigan political front today.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges is scheduled to address a Detroit banquet tonight under sponsorship of a business for Swainson committee.

★ ★ ★

Monday Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has been booked for three appearances in Berrien County, and Democratic leaders insist they have an October commitment from President Kennedy, although there has as yet been no White House confirmation.

Pot-shotting continues, meanwhile, from the trenches.

★ ★ ★

Republican Alvin Bentley, Republican nominee for congressman-at-large, called at Flint yesterday for a naval blockade of Cuba in an Optimist Club speech and followed it up with a demand for the same in a telegram to Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

"I urge that you invoke the Monroe Doctrine and establish a sea blockade around Cuba expressly to keep war materials from being shipment of war goods to Cuba . . . I also urge that you give official recognition to a responsible free Cuban government in exile."

Bentley's Democratic opponent shipped to that island," Bentley wired the President.

★ ★ ★

"I believe it imperative," he continued, "that the United States begin hard-hitting negotiations with our Allies to stop Nell Staebler told a dinner meeting of the Jewish National Fund in northwest Detroit that Israel is a "modern demonstration of tolerance which has set a guiding example for the emerging nations of the world."

'GREAT LESSON'

Recalling a visit to Israel last year, Staebler commended the new nation for its understanding and its freedom of religion, and pointed out that Arabic is taught in its schools, adding:

★ ★ ★

"The great lesson of Israel," he said, "is the growth of a modern democracy among hostile neighbors and people of divergent backgrounds."

Staebler was to be guest of honor at a celebrity luncheon at the Detroit Press Club today. Bentley previously appeared at a similar function there.

Campaigning in Saginaw County, Gov. Swainson challenged George Romney Tuesday to "stand up and tell the people of Michigan the truth about your records and beliefs."

Swainson renewed the charge that his Republican opponent "is ashamed of his own party and obviously ashamed of his own record," adding that on his record Romney is opposed to the social security system, has called it a fraud and termed former President Harry Truman "A socialistic fellow traveler.

He also said Romney is opposed to federal aid for education.

The Republican candidate meanwhile, campaigned among Negroes in Detroit, and asserted in a speech last night:

"No one recognizes better than I do that the Republican party for years has neglected Negroes.

"I expect to do everything I can to overcome the deficiencies of the past . . . you have everything to gain by making it clear that you will not be bound to one party on the basis of the past."

Romney planned to spend most of today in Detroit consulting with his campaign staff.

★ ★ ★

Swainson's schedule calls for him to spend most of today in Lansing, then appear at a Bloomfield Hills Democratic rally.

To Vote on Bond Bid

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)— The City Commission has put a $485,000 bond proposal up for voting in the Nov. 6 election. The issue would cover half the cost of a proposed convention hall." The local funds would be matched by anticipated federal and other grants.

Break Ground at Tech

HOUGHTON (AP)— Ground was broken yesterday for Michigan Tech's $2,038,884 mathematics and physics building. Among officials at the ceremony were Tech President Dr. J. R. Van Pelt and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

In Early, Moderate Trade

Stock Mart Prices Slip a Bit

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices dribbled off mildly in moderate trading early today.

Losses of most key stocks are fractional. A good many were unchanged.

Chemicals were the best performers. Gains of about a point by Du Pont and Eastman Kodak cushioned the averages.

Brokers saw the list in another indecisive phase following the failure of yesterday's early advance and the eruption of brisk profit taking.

Steels were easy as the steel union was reported to be considering the reopening of current labor contracts to ask for wage increases next year.

The trend among automotive shares also was generally lower although American Motors held steady. Ford eased and Chrysler dropped a fraction while General Motors traded about unchanged.

Aerospace stocks were narrowly mixed. Electronics and oils were easy, rails about unchanged.

The "growth" issues lost a little more ground after yesterday's late selling. IBM and Polaroid declined fractionally.

Wall Street anticipated the monthly short interest totals from the New York Stock Exchange after the market close today.

This is the total of shares sold short, that is, borrowed stock sold with the intention of making a profit by purchasing replacement stock in the future at lower prices.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Bonds Steady to Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The bond markets were steady to a shade lower at the opening today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. Treasury securities said activity was moderate but there were practically no price changes on the entire list of government bonds.

Rails and industrials eased slightly in early New York Stock Exchange bond dealings. Utilities were irregular.

There were relatively few changes and only a small number amounted to a full point or more.
