WILL BE 95 NEXT WEEK — Grandma Moses, who will be 95 on Sept. 7, works on one of her landscapes in her home at Eagle Bridge, N. Y. This picture was made in advance of her anniversary because her doctor and family say she is not strong enough for the usual picture taking activities that have marked other birthday observances.

California Still Sweltering; Ten Dead, 100 Prostrated

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California's hottest heat wave continues today, in the wake of 10 deaths, more than 100 cases of heat prostration and mounting losses in poultry and agriculture.

And the Weather Bureau predicts more sizzling heat today and tomorrow. A high of 104 was forecast here today.

California Miss Swims Straits

Barbara Leonard Goes Distance in 2:36 Hours; Is First to Succeed

MACKINAW CITY (AP)—Slim Barbara Leonard, 21, of Los Altos, Calif., swam the Straits of Mackinac today to become the first person ever to complete the four-mile crossing.

Miss Leonard went in on the St. Ignace side on the Upper Peninsula at 6:33 a.m. She waded ashore at Mackinaw City in the Lower Peninsula at 9:09 a.m. for a time of 2 hours 36 minutes and 4 seconds.

Miss Leonard was aided by a two-mile an hour current which has defeated other swimmers attempting the crossing from the Mackinaw City side. The water was calm and in the low 50s.

Rowing alongside Miss Leonard as escorts were Rockne Morrissey of Cincinnati, a member of the Notre Dame University swimming team, and George Lockwood of Chicago. Both have been working on the Mackinac bridge this summer.

Miss Leonard followed a course parallel to an oil pipeline that runs slightly west of where the bridge construction is under way.

STEADY PACE

The girl kept up a steady pace during the crossing. She said she intends to submit her time to the AAU for certification as an official record.

Miss Leonard, who is 5 feet 4 inches tall and weighs only 110 pounds, previously had swum the Golden Gate and around Alcatraz Island in California.

She worked this summer as a counselor at the National Music Camp at Interlochen. She bicycled to St. Ignace last week for a "vacation" spent training for the Straits swim and has been camping at a state park near here.

Holiday Traffic Deaths Mount 'Slow but Sure'

Estimate 3 Million Cars to Jam Highways Over Labor Day Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths mounted slowly in the nation today although motorists were on the highways in heavy numbers celebrating summer's last holiday weekend.

Seven persons met death in Michigan traffic accidents as the first of an estimated three million cars flocked to the highways for the long Labor Day weekend.

Last year 36 died in traffic between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday, the period in which the Associated Press tabulates Labor Day fatalities.

(See list of Michigan casualties elsewhere on this page.)

No drownings have been reported.

The National Safety Council has estimated 400 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the holiday period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

DEATH REPORTS BUILD UP

Accidental death reports usually build up slowly and climb rapidly during the late hours of the holiday period.

In an Associated Press survey for a nonholiday weekend of similar length, Aug. 19-22, 385 traffic deaths were reported. Deaths from all types of accidents totaled 537.

The toll for the three-day 1954 Labor Day weekend was 520 from all accidents, including 364 in traffic.

The record high for a three-day Labor Day weekend was 652 in 1951. The traffic toll that year was 461, also a high for the period. The greatest three-day holiday accident death toll was 805 for the Independence Day holiday period this year.

Unusual efforts are being made to control traffic and cut down traffic deaths this holiday.

In Michigan, 450 National Guardsmen have been called to help state police control traffic at danger points. Eight airplanes and two helicopters also will be used.

In the Chicago area, airplanes also were being used to spot traffic jams and radio reports to police in squad cars.

Pleasant Weather Seen for Weekend

A fair and pleasant Labor Day weekend is promised by the U. S. Weather Bureau, with slowly rising temperatures predicted for today, tonight and tomorrow. It may turn partly cloudy and cooler Sunday night and Monday.

Today's high will be near 80, tomorrow's in the 80-84 bracket. The low tonight will be in the mid-50s.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a cool 54 during the night to 79 in mid-afternoon. At 8 a. m. today, the downtown mercury stood at 63 degrees, rising to 79 at 1 p. m.

New Yorker Captures 20-Gauge Crown After Four Shoot-Offs in Nationals

After four rounds of brilliant overtime firing, Ben DiOrto of Utica, New York won the 20-gauge title in the National Skeet Shooting Association championships Friday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford.

Eliminating his competitors one by one after six of them had knotted for the crown in the regulation shooting, DiOrto finally gained the diadem by besting Mrs. Carola Mandel of Chicago in the 4th shoot-off.

DiOrto hit 25 targets in each of the four shoot-offs to post a perfect score of 100x100. Mrs. Mandel stayed right with him until the 4th round when she missed two birds to bow out.

First gunner to fall by the wayside was Robert V. Rath, the Northwestern University student from Waterloo, Iowa. Rath missed a bird Thursday night before shooting was halted by darkness.

Next gunner of the half dozen to be eliminated when shooting resumed yesterday was Major George Stalcup of Columbus, Ga. He was followed by Ainsley Borsum of Baldwin, George A. Young of Camp Pendleton, Calif., and the talented Mrs. Mandel, in that order.

Israelis Attack Egyptian Post

Claim 22 Jewish Arabs Killed in Armored Battle in Gaza Area

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An Israeli armored force attacked an Egyptian post in the northern Gaza Strip today, an official Egyptian spokesman said. He claimed 22 Israelis were believed killed and many others wounded, with no casualties reported among Egyptians.

The spokesman said the Israeli attack was led by four armored half-tracks—carriers having wheels in front and caterpillar tracks in the rear.

He said the Israeli force also attacked the refugee camp of Al-Berg, near Gaza, but retreated under heavy Egyptian fire. The exchange of fire lasted 70 minutes, but no refugees were hurt, the spokesman added.

The unofficial cease-fire which had kept things calm Thursday and yesterday no longer prevailed.

First word that violence was again erupting today on the Gaza frontier after a two-day lull came from Jerusalem, where an Israeli spokesman said Egyptian and Israeli forces were engaging in a heavy artillery duel.

The Israeli spokesman said the duel began after Egyptian outposts began shelling areas of Beerli and Yad Mordechai settlements. Both settlements are near the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip. Both last night and the night before, Israeli sources said, Egyptian infiltrators dynamited wells. But that was the only violence before today's reported attacks.

Israel announced Thursday it would agree to a U.N.-proposed ceasefire, provided "all attacks by Egyptians in whatever form will cease." Egypt had announced earlier it would observe a cease-fire.

UAW-Bendix Trying

DETROIT (AP)—Bendix Aviation Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers agreed to make a new attempt today to settle a seven-day-old strike of 20,000 company employees.

CLEAN, BUT CROWDED AND OLD—Two State legislators from Oakland County view a jammed dormitory built for 50 beds which now holds 100 at the Lapeer State Home and Training School at Lapeer. Dr. Adolph T. Rehn, medical superintendent (right), describes conditions in the 60-year-old building to Sen. William S. Broomfield, of Royal Oak (left), and Rep. Theodore F. Hughes, of Berkley, who made a surprise visit to the institution Friday. They are members of a legislative committee studying aid for mental deficient.

Death Trap for Patients?

Legislators View Condition at Lapeer Mental Institution

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

LAPEER—All 50 babies housed in a condemned building at the Lapeer State Home and Training School would die should fire strike the ancient structure, the institution's director told two legislators from Oakland County yesterday.

Thirty-five older patients who are unable to walk also would face certain death if fire suddenly flared through their building, condemned for 10 years and watched over at night by a single attendant.

All in all, Dr. Adolph T. Rehn, medical superintendent, told the legislators, seven of the 42 buildings at the 60-year-old institution have been condemned. But because of acutely crowded conditions they are still used.

Built for 3,175 feeble-minded persons, Lapeer has a current population of nearly 4,200. And because their lives are so regular, the inmates live to ripe old ages. Dr. Rehn said. The mortality rate is only six per month. Six original patients are still there.

There is a waiting list of 925 persons for whom Dr. Rehn sees little hope of admittance. He told Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) and Rep. Theodore F. Hughes (R-Berkley):

"I told the parents of one custodial-patient who wanted to come in that the legislature hasn't even thought of where they are going to put the institution where he can be housed."

Broomfield and Hughes are members of a joint House-Senate committee investigating what action should be recommended to the Legislature for aid to the mentally deficient, especially children.

SAGINAW (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Bales, 57, of Saginaw was struck and killed by a car early today on U.S. 23, two miles north of Saginaw in Milwaukee township. The driver, Eddy Byas, of Saginaw, was not held.

SAGINAW (AP)—Three persons were killed and two injured yesterday in a head-on collision on M-47 five miles north of Saginaw. Killed were John D. LaLonde, 47, of Saginaw; his 12-year-old son, Ricky; and Mrs. Helen Doby, 70, a Saginaw widow.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doby, both 47, of Saginaw, were injured. They were reported in "fair" condition at St. Luke's Hospital here.

Police said LaLonde's car went out of control on a road shoulder, sideswiped a car traveling in the opposite direction, and collided head-on with Doby's car.

LaLonde leaves his widow and five other children.

Woman Escapes as Tent Burns

Family of 7 Homeless After Waterproofed Shelter Is Razed

A Commerce Township woman escaped possible death last night when her tent home, which had been waterproofed, burst into flames as fumes from the waterproofing compound ignited.

Mrs. Lee Morrell had entered the tent at 5813 Garthby St., to see if the fumes had dissipated when flames suddenly flared up. She put a towel over her head and suffered only face burns in escaping.

The flames spread to a nearby oil tank which exploded.

Five children, ranging in age from 8 to 17 were outside the tent at the time of the fire and Mr. Morrell was absent at work.

Asst. Fire Chief Clarence Kuttuhn of the Commerce Township Fire Department said the couple had waterproofed the tent by 12 shelter earlier in the day.

The home was a total loss, with damages set at $800 to contents and $150 to the tent.

The family found shelter with neighbors, the George Monroes, a short distance away.

State Bears Like Honey but Love Peanut Butter

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan bears, though still staunch honey-lovers, like peanut butter most of all.

The Conservation Department says it has found peanut butter to be the most effective bait in trapping bears.

The bears are trapped as part of a long-range program to study their movements.

Swimming on Labor Day? Take This Advice—Then—Go Jump in the Lake

WASHINGTON (INS)—If you really want to drown over the Labor Day weekend, the American Red Cross can give you some ideas.

It's simple. Just act carelessly and join the drownings which take a heavy holiday toll.

The Red Cross lists several cardinal rules for drowning. It expressed hope that everyone will use them rather to save their lives.

"By these drowning methods, and a few others," the Red Cross said, "130 persons lost their lives in the water over Memorial Day weekend, 250 during the Fourth of July weekend—more than were drowned during the devastating northeast floods."

The rules were:

1. "Surest way to drown in a large body of water is to swim out as far as your strength will take you. Then you can't get back."

2. "To drown always swim alone. Never let a small boat go along, if you go in for distance swimming."

3. "An effective way of drowning, if a rescuer attempts to save you, is to grab him around the neck and hang on."

The Red Cross said also that "you're asking for death if you dive in a place you've never been before." Such places, it pointed out, "may be shallow or have hidden obstructions."

Another "tip" for drowning was: "If your boat capsizes and you swim rapidly away from it, you may sink, but the boat won't."

The non-safety suggestions came on the heels of a National Safety Council warning that over 400 traffic accidents are expected over the holiday weekend.

MAKE OVER Poses Searcher for Lost Matron

Volunteers Beat Woods in Spring Arbor to Find Mother and Children

JACKSON (AP)—Search parties of police and volunteers fanned out over backroads and wooded areas near here today in a hunt for a young mother and her three children, missing since Aug. 16.

A nationwide police alarm was sent out for Mrs. Catherine Hagey, 23, and her children, Nora, 4, Robert, 2, and James, 9 months. Mrs. Hagey last was seen Aug. 16 when she bought a full tank of gasoline for the family car near their home at the village of Spring Arbor, five miles east of here.

State police said they feared for the safety of the four. Relatives said Mrs. Hagey had written her mother recently that she would "rather be dead and have my children in heaven" than return to her home. They were unable to furnish clues as to her whereabouts.

HUSBAND RETURNS

Mrs. Hagey's husband, Russell, 26, a car salesman, appeared before state police yesterday for questioning in the case after returning from a vacation in Canada.

He said he had called state police daily for 11 days after his family vanished and then was persuaded by his father to take a trip. He returned to Detroit when he learned he was sought for questioning.

Hagey said he and his wife had lived a harmonious life. But he added:

"I guess she was just tired of dishes and diapers."

HOME UNFINISHED

Mrs. Hagey was expecting another child.

In letters to relatives she had complained of living conditions in the family's new home. State Police Detective Charles Southworth said there was no finished floor in the house and "not even the water was connected."

Relatives also said Hagey forbade his wife to wear lipstick or watch movies or television. He said he is studying to become a missionary.

Ike Names Harvard Prof to Health Post

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower has chosen Herold C. Hunt, Harvard University professor, to be under Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Hunt, 53, and a Republican, succeeded Nelson A. Rockefeller, who several months ago became an administrative assistant to Eisenhower.

The recess appointment of Hunt, whose home is at Lexington, Mass., was announced at the summer white house. A formal nomination will be submitted to the Senate when Congress reconvenes.

Hunt is professor of education at Harvard University's School of Graduate Education. He is a former president of the American Association of School Administrators.

He is former superintendent of public schools at Chicago and Kansas City.

Crash Injures 2 on Airport Road

Two men were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital this morning after suffering injuries when their car failed to make a turn on Airport Rd. in Waterford Township.

Reported in fair condition with abrasions to the nose and neck, was Virgil Blair, 26, of Detroit. His companion, Keith J. Reetz, 29, of 3300 Elizabeth Lake Rd., was reported in good condition with abrasions to the face and left leg.

Township police officers said the car went into the ditch when it failed to make the turn.

DEDICATE SUNDAY — The newly completed building a modern chancel in back of the memorial chancel at Galloway Methodist Church will be dedicated Sunday. During the past few weeks, members of the church and congregation have been busy in June.

Will Benefits Small Churches

Dairy Founder Leaves Several Million Dollars to Protestants

HOUSTON, Tex. (RNS) — The will of Morris C. Oldham, founder of the Phenix Dairy here, leaves several million dollars to the foundation he created five years ago to help "small Protestant churches."

Oldham died on July 19. His will has been admitted to probate. An attorney for the Oldham estate said an inventory of the estate, including stocks and bonds, cash and property, is being made. It is believed the estate will reach a value of several million dollars.

Oldham sold his interests in the Phenix Dairy to his employees in 1952 and since then had devoted most of his time to the Oldham Little Church Foundation which has helped struggling and financially handicapped churches throughout the country.

One of the foundation's trustees said it has aided more than 300 churches in the past five years. Oldham's will defines "Protestant churches" eligible for foundation help as "all churches spreading the doctrine of Christianity except the Catholic." It adds that "no part of the trust shall ever be used to carry on propaganda or influence legislation."

Catholic Schools Plan Future Teacher Addition

RIVERDALE, N. Y. (RNS) — Roman Catholic elementary and high schools will have to add 42,750 teachers to their rolls by 1965 to meet an estimated school age population of 5,239,131 according to a survey by the Mathematics Department of Manhattan College here.

Present enrollment in Catholic schools is 4,007,000, served by 121,731 teachers, the department reported.

The survey, covering the years 1954 to 1965, was made on behalf of the United Steel Workers of America. It was part of a study by the union to determine the basic needs of the American educational system, both public and parochial, on the elementary and high school levels, in order to meet the increasing demands of population growth.

Currently, the survey disclosed, Catholic elementary schools have 96,371 teachers. Of this number, 89,487 are religious and 6,884 are lay men and women. Catholic high school faculty members—religious and lay—total 25,360.

Rev. Tiffany Returns to Bethany Sunday

The Rev. and Mrs. Fred R. Tiffany have returned from the middle west, where the Rev. Mr. Tiffany had a speaking tour in Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota.

He will be here Sunday to conduct the services. His Labor Day subject will be "Jesus, the Carpenter—and the Policy of the Open-shop at Nazareth."

All four choirs are starting rehearsals for the fall season with Miss Elda Sutter, director.

In the days when the North Dakota territorial government offered a 3-cent bounty on gophers, it was the practice there to drop a gopher tail in the church collection plate instead of cash.

Modern Chancel Dedicated Sunday at Galloway Lake

Sunday morning at 10 a.m. Galloway Lake Methodists will dedicate the newly completed chancel. Dr. William O. Moulton, superintendent of the Flint district of the Methodist Church will perform the rite.

Because "The people had a mind to work," Neb. 4-6, the dream of a modern chancel has become a reality in the last few weeks. Everyone pitched in according to the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Stephens, "Even the children did their bit," he said. All materials and labor were donated.

Besides Dr. Moulton, the Rev. Keith Colby, former minister and the Rev. Mr. Stephens will participate in the service. The chancel is painted light blue with the dorsal cloth of wine colored drapery material. The carpet picks up the wine tones and the sanctuary is painted a dusty rose with gold leaf trim. The lights, cross and candlesticks and other paraments are also new.

Four From Pontiac at Baptist Assembly

Attending the American Baptist Assembly at Green Lake, Wis., during the past week were Mrs. Lillian Hilton and her two daughters, Joan and Jean. Also with them was Connie Davies.

Jean is a sophomore at Kalamazoo College and Connie is a sophomore at the University of Michigan.

Guest Speaker at Kirk

Dr. Harold F. Fredsell will be guest speaker Sunday at the Kirk in the Hills. He is director of church extension and stated clerk of the Presbytery of Detroit.

Institute Planned for High Holy Days

A High Holy Day institute is being announced for Sept. 10 at 10:30 p.m. at B'nai Israel Synagogue. The purpose of this institute will be to impart a clear understanding of the customs and ceremonies appertaining to High Holy Days. After this session the congregation will engage in the traditional pre-holiday midnight service known as Selichos. "These services which find their origin many hundreds of years ago were called into being in order to awaken the Jew from spiritual lethargy and inform him that within a week's time he will appear in judgment before his Creator to answer for all the deeds of the year that is passed," Rabbi Henry Hoschander announced.

Church Groups Are Active Along Many Lines at Fair

Participation of religious groups in the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 2 through 11, will reach a new high this year, according to Donald L. Swanson, general manager.

Nine groups representing thousands of church goers of many faiths will be at the State Fair. The activities range from a Sunrise Service to operation of a hot dog stand.

The Sunrise Service, co-sponsored by the Detroit Council of Churches and the State Fair, will be held Sunday, Sept. 4 at a.m. at the Music Shell. This will be the fifth consecutive year. Approximately 10,000 people are expected to hear Dr. Louis Evans, preacher at large for the Presbyterian Church U. S. A.

Catholics will be represented by a Mission Orders Exhibit sponsored by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. A large tent erected at the Picnic Grove will house displays, movies and literature of eleven orders. Missioners will host the exhibit, telling about the works of the various groups in most parts of the world.

The Christian Business Men's Committee of Detroit will operate a rest tent, open to the public, where church music will be played and reading material will be available. The tent will be across from the General Motors Exhibit building.

The Seventh Day Adventists will have space in the Blue Building where there will be literature and a display illustrating the work

MAKE OVER PAGE New Pontiac Teachers Attend Orientation Program

Following the orientation program for new teachers held at Pontiac High School Friday morning, the group gathered for an outdoor luncheon at the home of the Frank DuFrains on Erie drive. Lining up for refreshments (left to right) were John Benaglio, a new instructor at Pontiac Senior High School; Stephen S. Hale Jr., president of the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, who welcomed the new teachers earlier; Alice Carroll, who will be teaching at Eastern Junior High School; J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, and Barbara Ann Hejlin, a new teacher at Webster School.

Superintendent of Schools Dana P. Whitmer (right) discusses the day's program with Francis W. Staley, new principal of Pontiac Senior High School, and with Mrs. Mary Killian who will assume duties as principal of the new Lake Street Elementary School. The gathering at the DuFrain home followed the morning's orientation program.

Teachers Get Early Look at Schools

New Staff Members Attend Orientation, Luncheon Fete

"A Preview of Our Community and Its Schools" was the theme of the orientation program for teachers new to Pontiac held Friday at Pontiac Senior High School.

Presiding was J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of Schools.

Special guests welcoming the teachers were William W. Donaldson, Mayor of Pontiac; Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Board of Education; Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools and Ralph T. Norvell, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Also speaking briefly were Stephen S. Hale Jr., president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Forrest E. Brown, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. William Wright, president of Parent-Teachers Association Council; the Rev. Carl W. Nelson, president of Pontiac Ministerial Association and William G. Wright, president of the Principals' Association.

Following the program the group gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. DuFrain for luncheon.

The new teachers are as eager for school to begin as are the youngsters. Mrs. Althea Burton who will have the kindergarten at Longfellow this fall, came all the way from Syracuse, N. Y. with her husband, John, who will be teaching at Washington Junior High.

NEW ADVENTURE

"It's all like a new adventure," said Mrs. Burton, "but we feel like we're at home all ready." The Burton's son, Johnny, will be entering kindergarten this fall and they have a daughter, Jane, 10 months.

Mrs. Nancy Hornung, isn't so new to this area, having lived in Birmingham, but she is just as enthusiastic about her work in the Pontiac school system. She told the Pontiac Press that "Everyone is so friendly, you feel right at home."

Mrs. Hornung will be located at Webster School. However, her work as speech correctionist will take her into many schools.

"Pontiac's like home to me," Dolores Smith exclaimed. She will be on the teaching staff of the new Linda Vista School, where she will have the first grade.

Barbara DeWolfe also will join the Linda Vista staff as first grade teacher. She is equally enthusiastic and is waiting to greet her new students Thursday.

Serving coffee to Mrs. Harry E. King (left), school board member, and to Mr. and Mrs. Frank DuFrain is Louis H. Schimmel (right), president of the Pontiac Board of Education. Mr. and Mrs. DuFrain were hosts for the luncheon at their home on Erie drive, Cass Lake.

Vacation Endings, Weddings Spark Local Scene

Mrs. Edith Attack of Iowa City, Iowa, Mrs. Rae Ritchie of Tampa, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Baas and their son, David of Sheridan, Wyo., have returned to their homes. They were the house guests of Mrs. Oswald E. See of Williams Lake. Mr. Baas is a brother of Mrs. See.

Recent guests at Cherry Hill Inn at Haddonfield, N.J. were Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Hoffmann and daughters, Jean and Judy, of Sashabaw road.

Arriving today to attend the wedding of their grandson John J. Fricke II and Ann Louise Brooks, were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sowe of South Bend. They were accompanied by Mrs. William Yoder also of South Bend.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Farmer of Kankakee, Ill. and Mrs. Louise Grisl of Bloomington, Ill. are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Teiber of Neome drive.

They attended the wedding of John F. Teiber and Sharon Cervenka this morning.

In town to attend the Guenther-Fitzpatrick wedding today are Mr. and Mrs. George Greenwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Graeff of Lena, Wis.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dorr, Mrs. Elizabeth Hogan and daughter Virginia all of Hemlock.

Mrs. Lena Guenther arrived from Sault Ste. Marie and Mrs. Cora Fitzpatrick, the bridegroom's grandmother of Gaylord attended.

Wax Your Hamper

Use a good brand of paste wax on clothes chutes or inside wooden laundry hampers to avoid snagging soiled clothes on the rough wood. Snags contribute a great deal to clothing damage after laundering. It might be a good idea, also, to have hubby check the family clothes chute or hamper for rough edges and joints, then sand them down before waxing.

Three school principals who couldn't resist talking about their respective schools were (left to right) Mrs. Ruth Wait, principal of Emerson School; Lester R. Stanley, principal of Hawthorne School, and Marietta Spring, principal of Sarah McCarroll School. They were attending the luncheon for new teachers held at the home of the Frank DuFrains on Erie drive.

George Yansen, principal of Wever School, talks with one of his new teachers during the luncheon held for newcomers to the Pontiac school system.

Pre-Nuptial Party Whirl Will Fete Elizabeth Ward

Several parties are being planned for Elizabeth Palmer Ward who will become the bride of Edmond Francis DeVine Sept. 17.

"Libby" is the daughter of Harold Lee Ward of Ottawa drive and the late Mrs. Ward. Edmond's parents are the Frank B. DeVines of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Dexter H. Craig and Mrs. Howard H. Fitzgerald II will give a breakfast at Pine Lake Country Club Sunday, and Mrs. Basil E. Brown and Mrs. Aaron D. Riker are planning a luncheon party at Orchard Lake Country Club Wednesday.

Mrs. Percy Loud and Mrs. Richard Kern will give a paper shower Friday for Libby at the Kern home in Franklin, and the Harold A. Fitzgeralds will host a cocktail and supper party Sept. 10 at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Never Uses Co-worker's First Name

Younger Employee Would Like to Ask Permission

By EMILY POST

An interesting letter today asks: "Would it be correct for me to ask an older woman if I may call her by her first name, or must I wait until the suggestion comes from her?"

"This is the situation: For the past five years I have worked side by side with a woman who is, I should say, about 15 years my senior. We have become very friendly over the years.

"She enjoys more social prestige than I but has never revealed any superior attitude. New employees, younger than I, call her by her first name with no hesitancy but I have always called her Miss B. . . . I feel that if these others can be so familiar then I might have the same right since we have become friends.

"However, I do not want to appear 'PUSHING.' That is not my intention. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: It would be up to her to make the suggestion and I think she might resent it coming from you, as she may possibly resent it from those other employees.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a private dinner in a home in the evening, when the women wear day dresses, street length, isn't it proper for them to remove their hats?"

Answer: They should certainly not go to an evening dinner table in a private house with their hats on—most certainly not! They may perhaps go to dine in a restaurant without them.

Jeannine Guenther Married Today

A honeymoon trip to Montreal will be taken by newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Fitzpatrick, St. Vincent DePaul Church. The bride is the former Jeannine Marie Guenther of Thorpe street.

MRS. RICHARD C. FITZPATRICK

Jeannine Marie Guenther became the bride of Richard Conroy Fitzpatrick this morning at St. Vincent DePaul Church. Jeannine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland W. Guenther of Sault Ste. Marie, and he is the son of the Thomas C. Fitzpatricks of Mary Day avenue.

Marie Guenther of Thorpe street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland W. Guenther of Sault Ste. Marie. He is the son of the Thomas C. Fitzpatricks of Mary Day avenue. The bride gown of tulle over satin swept into a bouffant skirt featuring tiers of net. The pleated bodice of tulle was accented with a bateau neckline and short sleeves of Chantilly lace inserts with a sequin trim.

The lace inserts were repeated in the skirt where they fell from the waist into points at the hips. Her matching gauntlets tapered into points at the wrists.

A band of embroidered lace with sequins and seed pearl trim secured her fingertip illusion veil. A white orchid centered the cascade arrangement of roses, stephanotis and ivy in the bridal bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Larry Kelly of Walled Lake, was robed in capucine crystallette with accordion pleated bands inserted in the fitted bodice. The inserts were also featured in the ballerina-length skirt.

Gowns similar to the matron of honor's in shades of turquoise and amethyst were worn by bridesmaids Anita Guenther of Sault Ste. Marie and Margaret Schmidt respectively. The attendants carried fugi chrysanthemums with ivy and pompons in shades matching their gowns.

BEST MAN, USHERS

Douglas Treas served as best man. David Evans, Robert McLaughlin, Gene Zaffina and Raymond Dahlgren served as ushers.

For the afternoon reception held at the Fitzpatrick home, Mrs. Guenther wore a cotton blue lace over tulle with shell blue accessories. She wore a corsage of Amazon lilies.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick wore a raspberry crystallette dress with lace inserts in the bodice with bluish pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The bride chose a brown coat dress with pumpkin hat and gloves and ginger shoes and purse for her going-away costume. She wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple plan to tour Canada to Montreal and return through Sault Ste. Marie where they will be honored at a second reception. The newlyweds will reside in Big Rapids on their return.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, and he is a student at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids where he is affiliated with Kappa Psi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick were host to the bridal party at a rehearsal dinner held at Rotunda Inn last evening.

A reception was given at Red Run Golf Club.

Mrs. Tischer wore beige lace with a deeper tulle bow and sash, and Mrs. Bonham's gown was of gray lace over mauve tulle. Both wore matching velvet headbands.

For a wedding trip to Quebec the bride wore a brown and black cotton suit with velvet collar and cuffs and a black velvet hat. The newlyweds will live in Columbus, Ohio, where both will attend Ohio State University.

Corduroy, Cotton Make Good Team

Coming up in the world is the smart career or college fashion that teams corduroy and cotton prints together. The fall's long lean look is seen in a three-piece ensemble that combines these two cottons handsomely.

The style of the year features a "sketch" jacket, copied from a hunter's design with straight up-and-down pockets and a slim over-belted look. The skirt is pencil-slim and the blouse is in the same cotton print as the lining.

Built-in Units Useful

Built-in cooking units have gained wide acceptance because of their wonderful flexibility. The burner units can be dropped into a free-form plastic-topped counter which extends over a 42-inch base cabinet to give generous work surface around the cooking units.

Lutheran Guild Holds Season's First Gathering

Members of Grace Lutheran Guild held their first meeting of the year at the church. After a cooperative luncheon, the Rev. O. G. Schultz led the prayer and Mrs. Michael Gallo conducted the meeting.

Plans were discussed for a dinner and program to be held in October for members and their husbands and guests to celebrate the group's 25th anniversary.

Mrs. Selma Atkinson acted as narrator for a hat style show presented by Mrs. Martin Rummel, Mrs. Vera Hodges, Mrs. Julius Koprince and Mrs. Fred Rath.

Guests of the group were Mrs. Robert O'Connor, Mrs. Merrill Petrie, Mrs. Kenneth Stevenson and Mrs. John Ridgway.

Mrs. Era Berg, Mrs. W. B. Sheffield and Mrs. Arthur Kahengst served as hostesses for the afternoon.

Pictures Viewed by Proficiency Club

The Griffin Proficiency Club of Pontiac Chapter 228, OES, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weddle of Odey road Thursday.

The group was entertained with pictures of trips taken by the Weddles to California and northern Michigan. Mrs. Grace Snover assisted Mrs. Weddle in serving of refreshments.

Don't Leave Guests Out in the Cold

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
I don't believe my eyes are jaundiced exactly. I can see and appreciate a noble gesture as quickly as the next one. But I'm a bit quicker at observing the mistakes, the thoughtlessness, the unintentional rudeness of people.

They make a deep impression. Make me mutter to myself, "Deliver me from ever doing that!"

This summer I've had a choice observation seat. I've been watching one teenager after another entertaining guests. And the things I've seen! Can't resist passing them on to deliver you from ever doing likewise.

ABANDONING GUESTS
When a friend comes to visit in your home he or she waits hesitantly to be shown. Guests don't settle down immediately as though they own the place.

They expect to be told the facts of your home life, they await cues, they look for suggestions. They're on strange ground, ready to cooperate, but completely reluctant to strike out on their own.

They don't know their way around in the first place. They don't know your friends. They don't know what the house rules are. They appear shy and timid at the start.

Yet, what have I seen young hosts and hostesses do?

While the unsuspecting guest was busy getting unpacked and stowed away in the room allotted to him, his host acted on a phone call and departed unannounced for distant regions to join some pals. Said rendezvous lasted for three hours.

And what was the poor guest doing all this while? Wondering why he'd gone! He rearranged and rearranged everything four different times on the hangers in the closet. Reread the magazines he'd brought with him.

Took a bath, changed his clothes, looked out the window. Changed things around in the bureau drawers. Looked out the window again. And when he couldn't think of another single reason for staying a prisoner in his room, ventured out to explore the rest of the house. Empty. Nobody in sight.

NOTHING TO DO

So he looked around for something else to read. Didn't dare touch the record player; might bust it. Didn't dare take a walk; he might get lost, or his host might come back and wonder and worry about him. On the end of a limb he was. Lonely spot.

His host could have told him where he was going, and offered to come back and get him after he'd unpacked. He could have waited for him, helped him stow things away, and taken him along with him. But leaving him to his own devices was unpardonable.

I saw a boy tamely leave his guest on the dock while he peeped off in the speedboat. What could the poor guest do but wait in the blistering sun 'til he came back? Anything else would have made him out a poor sport.

I watched a brother and sister blithely making dates for the evening, completely unconcerned about the welfare of their guest. He happened to be a cousin, approximately the same age.

But it was too much trouble to get him a date. Or even take him along with them. They gaily waved him goodbye. And he couldn't protest. Wound up going to the movies alone.

Sharon A. Cervenka Wed in Double-Ring Ceremony

Sharon A. Cervenka and John F. Teiber exchanged vows at a Nuptial Mass at 11 a.m. today in St. Benedict Church.

Now semi-fitted rather than molded lines. Riding jacket cut to diminish the waist and hip area. Some belated fulness or pleats.

To escape the "thick" look through the middle, never wear tight fit. Loose, finger-tip jackets have been your favorite and now semi-fitted suits in this same jacket length with matching skirt will solve your suit problem for fall.

Deanna M. Best Chooses Gown in Ballerina Length

Deanna Mae Best and William Chapman Hamm exchanged nuptial vows at St. Mary's in the Hills this afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley W. Best of Dearborn and the bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. William C. Hamm of North Lake Angelus road.

The bridegroom's father performed the 2:30 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 20 guests.

A ballerina-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle was worn by the bride. The bodice was accented by a high neckline with small lace collar and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The skirt was a profusion of lace and tulle. A small headpiece secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

Her only jewelry was a gold cross set with diamonds, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

ONLY ATTENDANT
Cynthia Hamm, sister of the bridegroom, was Deanna's only attendant. Her gown of blue crystallette was of ballerina length and she carried a fan-shaped floral arrangement of pink carnations and stephanotis.

Serving as best man was Richard Hewitt of East Lansing and seating the guests were Robert Elliott and David Sly, both of East Lansing.

A reception was held in the church gardens immediately following the ceremony. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Best chose a brown brocaded tulle dress with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Hamm wore a gray crepe dress with matching accessories and her corsage was of pink roses. HONEYMOON IN NORTH
When the couple left on their honeymoon in Upper Michigan the bride was wearing a cocoa brown knit suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home in East Lansing where the bridegroom is attending Michigan State University.

Sharon A. Cervenka and John F. Teiber were married this morning at St. Benedict Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Cervenka of Monrovia, Calif., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Teiber of Neome drive.

Hazel Park to Be Home of Couple

Maria L. Kerchoff and Martin Kaput Repeat Vows

Maria Louise Kerchoff became the bride of Martin Theodore Kaput at a 9 o'clock Nuptial Mass at St. Benedict Church this morning. The ceremony was performed before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kerchoff of Chippewa road, and Martin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kaput of Hazel Park.

The bridal gown featured an embroidered lace bodice with a cuffed boat neckline outlined in tiny rhinestones and pearls. Her long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. A lace poplin and center front and back panels of lace accented the nylon tulle skirt.

A ring-shaped headpiece of scalloped puffs of lace held her French illusion fingertip veil. The bride carried a white prayerbook with a white orchid, demure roses and ivy.

Maid of honor Ella Rose Garner and attendants Agnes Melkonian, Jane Kerchoff, Darlene Johanson and Mrs. Richard Millard of Parma, Ohio, wore gowns of Belgian cotton lace in rainbow colors. Their gowns featured scoop necklines and fitted bodices. Their full skirts were highlighted by hoops.

CARRY CARNATIONS

Colonial bouquets of white carnations were carried by the attendants. A cluster of carnations in the center of each bouquet matched the color of the attendant's gown.

Marilyn Johanson, cousin of the bride, wore a floor-length nylon gown for her duties as flower girl. Her skirt was cut in tiers edged in fine lace. She carried a small basket of rose petals with a corsage of demure roses fastened to the basket.

Benjamin Salkowski of Detroit was best man, assisted by Arthur Madajnyk and Frank Fostajko of Hamtramck and Lester Murawski and Steve Timko of Detroit.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served in the Hellenic Hall. For the evening reception, also held at the hall, Mrs. Kerchoff wore a cocoa brown lace dress with a tulle trim and pink accessories.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories. Both mothers chose corsages of pale pink carnations.

TRAVEL NORTH

For a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the bride changed to a black suit with white accessories. A white orchid corsage completed her ensemble. The newlyweds will reside in Hazel Park on their return.

'Baby Blotter' Apron Helps Mom Keep Dry

Mothers always know best! One new mother has invented an ingenious "baby blotter" that serves her as an apron during baby bathing and turns into a hooded wrap-around for baby after he's scooped up out of the suds.

This "blotter" comes in several colors, ties with a white cotton rope cord, is made of ever-washable terrycloth, and will last through an endless series of tubbings or machine washings.

Get It Straight!

Confusing? Oh, yes. Wallpaper comes in rolls, 18, 22 or 30 inches wide. The 18- and 22-inch rolls are sold only in "double rolls," the 30-inch only in "triple rolls."

All, however, are figured in "single rolls," which contain 37 square feet.

MAKE OVER PAGES

Honey-mooning in northern Michigan are the Martin Kaputs. She is the former Maria Kerchoff, daughter of the Nick Kerchoffs of Chippewa road, and he is the son of the Walter Kaputs of Hazel Park.

SHARE YOUR LIFE

Don't invite someone to come to visit in your home unless you intend to share your life with said guest. That means including him or her in what you do. Making plans for fun and entertainment. Thinking up things to do while you wait for something else to happen.

It means doing chores together; listening to music together; having dates together; seeing the town together. It means living together under the same roof for a time.

Shirk your responsibilities toward the strange in your midst and you'll get afterward a thank-you letter that reads:

"Thank you so much for inviting me to your house. I had a very nice time. Love." Which is my idea of an unenthusiastic and completely inadequate note of thanks. But just about what you deserve. Copyright 1955

MATCH SHADES AND DRAPERIES — California decorating ideas predominate to give a feeling of lightness and comfort that seems to bring the outdoors in. The new tweed texture shades are matched with draperies of the same material in a handsome white and beige woven pattern.

Match Shades, Draperies to Widen, Beautify Rooms

The charm and simplicity favored by California designers is put to good use in the New York apartment of Stanford Squire, Associate Decorator of a national decorating magazine.

This is not by chance, since Mr. Squire spent many a year on the West Coast and sees no reason why he can't continue to live in the casual manner he has become accustomed to.

The apartment he chose for himself had just the atmosphere he sought, but the narrow rooms hampered his decorating ideas. In a search for unusual "tricks" to widen the appearance of his apartment, Mr. Squire discovered window shades and matching casement cloths, a brand new window decorating idea that suited his purpose perfectly.

This ensemble pairs up textured cloth window shades and casement cloths in fresh new weaves created by Freda Diamond, home furnishings designer and consultant.

Mr. Squire let the handsome tweed fabric set the basic color scheme for his beige-and-white decor. Draperies were hung on ceiling rods and the shades cover the windows smartly with no need for glass curtains.

Mr. Squire, who is well known for his good taste and originality, said, "This is the biggest step forward in coordinated window treatment that I've seen."

Another "exclusive" Mr. Squire is enthusiastic about is the way the shades are finished. Each hem has a softly rounded corded trim.

which he feels adds flair and distinction to these newest of window shades. And he likes Miss Diamond's idea of "double-faced shades". The room-side of each window shade features a smartly designed textured fabric, while the outside or street-side is plain.

These ensembles came into existence because Freda Diamond felt the need for up-to-date window coverings that give a unified effect and are not too elaborate for today's casual living. Miss Diamond set to work in her usual thorough way. First she made a survey of the common problems of decorating windows and the meager solutions offered for solving them.

Then she studied the current trends in furniture buying. After careful editing, she emerged with a series of four different weaves for shades in a variety of easy-to-use colors. While the whole idea of matching window shades to draperies is still a new one—Miss Diamond's series has caught on fast and is already one of the favorites of fine decorators across the country.

The popularity of these new shades is due to the fact that they are both handsome and practical. Designed to look well in period-type rooms as well as modern settings, the colors are carefully chosen to blend with best-selling colors in other home furnishings items—and they eliminate guesswork when it comes to decorating a window.

Retards Wood Rotting

For arbors, trellises and fence posts, there are special protective coatings which retard the rotting of wood that must be placed below the ground. These are known as wood preservatives. Get the non-staining type, if you plan to paint any part of the wood to harmonize with the exterior color scheme of your house.

For the finish coats on a fence, use regular house paint. This will serve, also, for trellises and arbors, although you may wish to use trim-and-trellis paint which is made especially for the purpose.

Red Farmers' Trip Films Sent to Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The picture story of the American visit of Russia's farm delegation is being sent to practically all the world this side of the Iron Curtain.

U. S. Information Agency officials said today a set of 18 glossy photographs, with a 1,000 word commentary, was sent out Aug. 15 to 66 countries.

In the works, they said, is another set of pictures to be distributed in the same way in about 10 days.

The pictures were collected by the information agency from photographers who covered the five-week tour of the Russian delegation.

About 70 per cent of all the rubber used in the U. S. today is synthetic, made from crude oil or natural gas.

Public Housing Row Begins

WASHINGTON (INS)—Opposing sides in the perennial fight over the government's public housing program are preparing for another slam-bang congressional battle.

Real estate industry leaders say they are readying an all-out campaign to kill the low-rent housing operation. Public housing advocates say they will press for expansion of the program in Congress next year.

Meanwhile, the Eisenhower administration faces a tough decision this fall on what kind of a public housing program it should recommend to Congress in January.

And a house banking subcommittee, headed by Rep. Albert Rains (D-Ala.), is planning an October investigation to find out why the government's drive to combat slums hasn't "got off the ground." Public housing is sure to figure in the inquiry.

Congress set the stage for a new fight over the issue last month when it authorized construction of 45,000 public housing dwellings in the fiscal year ending next June 30. The decision was criticized by all parties in the dispute.

President Eisenhower had requested authority to build 35,000 public housing units annually for two years. Officials expect the Chief Executive to ask Congress to provide at least the remaining 25,000 dwellings.

NEW REVIEW

But before the administration reaches a decision, officials say the program may undergo a new review especially if the government's urban renewal program picks up steam and produces increasing demands for public housing. Municipal authorities contend that public housing is the only way to provide low-rent homes for families pushed out of slum areas but real estate industry men have blasted the federally-subsidized program as "socialistic."

Administration leaders also face the problem of providing low-rent housing for the nation's growing number of elderly persons.

During the last session of Congress, the Senate approved legislation to authorize construction of 10,000 public housing dwellings annually for five years but the house refused to go along with the measure.

Draws 90-Day Term

Found guilty of non-support of his wife and four children, J. I. Spears, 29, of 32 Iowa St., was sentenced to 90 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.
