Himalayan Kingdom Facing Extermination?

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Tibet's struggle for freedom from Red China has cost 80,000 lives and the Himalayan kingdom is heading toward extermination, the Dalai Lama claims.

"With more Chinese than Tibetans now in my country, the complete extermination of the Tibetan race in its own motherland is now in progress," the god-king told newsmen Sunday at his exile home in Mussoorie.

Tibet's youthful ruler said he had every reason to believe the Chinese Reds had arrested the Panchen Lama, Buddhist leader the Communist installed as a puppet in his place.

"After all the Panchen Lama is a man with feeling for his country, people and religion," the Dalai Lama said. "His father is a man of strong will and has been loyal to the people and the religion of Tibet, and the Chinese must have tortured him, and this would have affected the Panchen Lama's feelings."

There has been no confirmation of earlier reports in Indian newspapers that the Panchen Lama is heading a new anti - Communist revolt in the Himalayan land.

Reports from the Indian border town of Kalimpong said the Chinese have advised Indians not to visit Tibet either for a pilgrimage or trade purposes.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Jigme Dorji of Bhutan said in an interview in Calcutta that Peiping has blocked his little Himalayan country's normal trade with neighboring Tibet.

★ ★ ★

Asked about Peiping's recent claims that Bhutan is part of Tibet, Dorji declared: "If they try to take over Bhutan, we will stand and fight. But who has the strength, in this area, to oppose the Chinese?"

★ ★ ★

Bhutan, an Indian protectorate 190 miles long and 90 miles wide, has an army of only a few thousand and a population of about 700,000.

MSUO Looks Ahead

Wants Alumni University

(This is the second of two articles on the continuing education program at Michigan State University Oakland.)

By MAX E. SIMON

Except for "Homecoming Day" and fund-raising campaigns, America's university graduates have little or no contact with their alma maters.

In a complete break with tradition, Michigan State University Oakland plans to establish a program for its graduates which will provide them with educational experiences throughout their lives.

The program envisioned by Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, MSUO director of continuing education, would increase the professional skills of alumni.

"It would also make them more effective citizens in a world crying for leadership," Eklund said.

After receiving their degrees, alumni would return to MSUO for further studies based on their undergraduate curriculum and professional needs.

"The student must understand that the most effective and productive learning is going to take place not during his first four college years, but after he leaves the cloistered halls of the campus," Eklund declared.

What Eklund hopes to see some day is an "Alumni University," with graduates receiving guidance, counseling and further education — pursuing refresher and advanced courses, both credit and non-credit, technical and cultural.

The "Alumni University" would be one of three important sections of the continuing education.

The other two sections he calls the "Community University" and "Parents' University."

Eklund believes that the "Alumni University" will receive strong support in the Oakland-Macomb area.

It is quite likely that MSUO has come up with a revolutionary concept that will be adopted by leading universities throughout the country.

"Business and industrial organizations, schools, and government agencies are anxious to cooperate with universities in developing and supporting programs for the professional improvement of their employes," Eklund pointed out.

"Industry, particularly, recognizes its dependence upon universities for educational resources.

"By means of a close and long-term collaboration between MSUO and local in-

Iowa Officers Hunting Convict, Last One of Six

Warden at Penitentiary Finds 2nd Break-Out Very Embarrassing

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — Authorities on both sides of the Mississippi River sought today the last of six Iowa convicts who sawed their way out of the state penitentiary Sunday.

It was the second such escape from the century-old gray-walled institution in three months.

Four long-term prisoners similarly sawed through outside window bars after overpowering guards last June. They were recaptured the next day.

Illinois State Police seized Charles Robert Wallerick, 25, in Dallas City, across the river from here, today.

Still at large was Arlie Harrison Elliott, 25, who drove a stolen car through a police roadblock north of here and then fled on foot after crashing his bullet-punctured stolen auto in a ditch.

Three of the convicts held a minister's wife and her three children hostage for more than 2½ hours before they gave up Sunday. Although threatened, the family was not hurt.

The six men, armed with homemade knives, broke out during prison church services.

"This is damned embarrassing," said Warden John Bennett.

The Rev. William W. Swift was

U. S. Almost Caught Up on ICBMs

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The United States has almost caught up with Russia in the race to achieve operational capability with intercontinental ballistic missiles, Dr. James H. Doolittle, famed flier-scientist and retired Air Force general, declared today.

Doolittle, board chairman of Space Technology Laboratories (STL), made the statement in an opening address before the 4th annual Symposium on Ballistic Missiles and Space Technology.

Doolittle, pointing out that Russia had an 8-year head start in the missile race, did not say how close the gap had been closed. But he added the U.S. probably was ahead of Russia in some ways "because in all likelihood we have a more compact, smaller, cheaper ICBM."

Another prominent space scientist warned the U.S. public not to be fooled by proposals for military adventures on the moon or other planets.

"Such proposals appear to be no more than childish and transparent attempts to frighten the public and their congressmen into continued appropriations for space programs at which they may be inclined to take a second look," said Dr. Albert R. Hibbs. He is a member of the Lunar Exploration Committee formed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

★ ★ ★

"It is virtually certain that life occurs elsewhere in the universe," Hibbs declared in his address which stressed that the main driving force in space research should be man's curiosity about the cosmos — not international competition.

LT. DONNY E. ASHLEY

Ashley Making Biggest Jump, With Promotion

Will Become Captain, Replace Lemaux on Uniform Patrol Bureau

A major shakeup in Pontiac police command ranks was announced today by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

The most significant change in the shuffle was the promotion of Lt. Donny E. Ashley to captain, effective Sept. 1.

Ashley, 36, a 13-year veteran officer, will head the Uniform Patrol Bureau, replacing Capt. Oliver H. Lemeaux, 57.

Lemeaux will head the Staff Bureau, which formerly was under Ashley. The Staff Bureau handles the department's planning, training, research, public relations, budget and inspection.

Ashley's promotion raises the number of captains on the force to three.

The third, Capt. Joseph Koren, 44, remains in charge of the Services Bureau. His work includes police records, communications, car and building maintenance.

Ashley will be ranked behind the other two captains in the department's chain of command.

Other shifts announced by Eastman were:

Lt. Raymond E. Meggitt, 36, to Detective Bureau commander. Meggitt has been in charge of the Special Investigations Unit (vice squad).

Lt. William Nesbitt, 43, to Special Investigations Unit commander. Nesbitt has had charge of the Detective Bureau.

Lt. Clayton A. Randolph, 47, from uniform patrol platoon leader to head of the Crime Prevention Bureau. The Bureau, which is concerned with juveniles, has been headed by Sgt. Henry O. Hoyt.

Lt. George T. Scott, 54, from uniform patrol platoon leader to the Services Bureau.

Lt. Harry E. Nye, 43, from the Services Bureau to the Uniform Patrol Bureau. Nye, formerly in charge of police communications equipment, will be a platoon leader.

At the same time, Eastman announced the promotions of Det. Earl W. Skrobeck, 28, to sergeant, and of Patrolman Albert W. Foster Jr., 28, to detective.

The shakeup among commanders is the second within a year.

Inmates Go on Rampage at Lapeer State School

Some 50 of the most dangerous inmates at the Lapeer State Home and Training School went on a rampage Saturday night injuring one attendant and causing area law enforcement officers to converge on the facility.

The riot started about 10 p.m. in Cottage 12, when several patients trapped attendant Ford Lake, 44, in a lavatory. They began screaming, breaking windows, beds and chairs, and tearing up bedding.

★ ★ ★

Two other attendants responded to the commotion, and became embroiled with the patients while attempting to free Lake. The rioters took Lake's keys, opened the door, and seven fled.

Lake received a head cut which required six stitches.

The arrival of State Police brought peace in the cottage, and the search for the seven began.

Joining in the search for the escapees were troopers and officers from nine State Police posts, Lapeer City Police and Lapeer County sheriff's deputies — 54 men in all.

In charge of operations were State Police District Commander Vincent Neering of Bay City and Flint Post Commander Sgt. Clarence Beuerle.

Lapeer city policemen saw two of the escapees taking off across a field and within 45 minutes after their capture the rest were rounded up. A couple were found near the railroad tracks and a few in a junk yard—all less than two miles from the home.

Officials could volunteer no reason for the sudden violence.

Rugged Road Awaiting Ike

Must Get U.S. Allies in Europe to Accept 'Big Two' Diplomacy

From Our News Wires

All sorts of bumps await President Eisenhower on his tour beginning Wednesday of the countries where he scored his greatest World War triumphs.

The President's main task will be to get America's allies used to the idea of the dawning era of "Big Two" diplomacy.

★ ★ ★

A secondary chore will be to try to dispel some of the rancor between the British government on the one hand and the French and West Germans on the other.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has sent notes to the Western Allies expressing Russian determination on the Berlin situation as a prelude to his talks with Eisenhower, diplomatic sources said today.

The latest note to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was delivered yesterday in Bonn. Diplomatic reports said Khrushchev letters also had been sent to France and Britain, and British press reports said there had been a note to Washington as well.

SUMS UP DEMANDS

The diplomatic sources said they did not know the contents of all the notes but said that Khrushchev apparently was summing up the Russians' unyielding demands including a free city status for

Scooter-Truck Accident Kills Waterford Boy

A 15-year-old Waterford Township boy died yesterday after his motor scooter collided with a flatbed truck on West Huron Street near Tilden street in Waterford Township.

Emergency surgery performed by a crew of Pontiac General Hospital physicians failed at 3:15 p.m. to save the life of David C. Kimball, 4261 Woodstock St.

★ ★ ★

Driver of the truck, Lewis G. Bromm, 35, of 3448 Shelby St., told Waterford Township police he had slowed down for a dog that had darted into his path when the Kimball boy slammed into the rear of his truck.

Atlas Surges Aloft, AF Crosses Fingers

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A fiery Atlas surged aloft today in another shot aimed at making this giant war rocket ready for military use by next month.

★ ★ ★

The launching appeared smooth as the 85-foot intercontinental range missile lifted off on the start of a 5,500-mile test flight down the Atlantic missile range. It disappeared from sight after about four minutes.

If all went right recovery ships would try to retrieve a data capsule set to pop out of the missile's nose cone near Ascension Island.

The Air Force hopes for a fourth straight success for the Atlas, key weapon in the U. S. missile race with Russia.

★ ★ ★

A good shot today, followed by one or two more, probably would open the way for the Air Force to declare the weapon operational by the target date of Sept. 1.

Torrential Rain Hits Detroit, Expressways Are Damaged

Now Detroit knows what it's like.

A savage deluge, such as struck Pontiac last month, descended on Detroit yesterday, venting much of its fury on the expressways, where churning waters ran more than 12 feet deep.

Hundreds of cars were stalled and more than 50 abandoned on the busy John Lodge and Edsel Ford expressways, as storm sewers burst under the two inches of rain that fell in a three-hour period.

The same rain drenched Pontiac and south Oakland County but the heaviest portion of the storm hit the mid-town portions of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Lightning pounded the area, striking at least two homes—one in Troy and one in Bloomfield Township — causing only minor damage, however.

N. Saginaw and Perry street in Pontiac were flooded briefly. Basements were flooded in Royal Oak, where high winds toppled several trees.

The storm here was only a pale reflection of July 29's, which caused the worst Pontiac flooding within memory. In Detroit, though, the picture was different.

Detroit streets and basements were flooded under torrents of rain, preceded by high winds and lightning which tore down utility wires, ripped pieces from buildings and swamped boats.

The U. S. Weather Bureau promptly classified the deluge as a "hundred year storm," a term applied to any downpour that vastly exceeds the normal rainfall rate.

Major traffic tieups were reported in Detroit after police closed the two expressways to further traffic and set about rescuing motorists trapped in cars by waters often rooftop high.

Police at first feared that many of the sunken cars held bodies of drowned occupants but investigation proved that no one died on the expressways as a result of the storm.

A 14-foot rowboat, sent by the Detroit Police Department's Harbormaster Division, moved along the swirling expressways, picking up motorists from the rooftops of their cars. Other motorists and on-

Monotonous Hum of Fans 'Continues' With Weather

That heavy, steady hum of motors isn't from squadrons of aircraft flying overhead.

It's the continued drone of attic fans, ceiling fans, floor fans and desk fans. For those fortunate enough to have them, air conditioners add to the monotonous whirring, too.

Monotonous it is, and "continued" it will be.

The weatherman for Pontiac and vicinity says:

"Partly cloudy, continued warm and humid today with a few thundershowers in the afternoon. High today 92. Partly cloudy, continued warm and humid tonight and tomorrow with a few thundershowers tonight and tomorrow. Low tonight 72, high tomorrow 92."

Many youngsters in bathing suits yesterday found some relief by staying out in the rain.

For the less hardy (it depends on which way you look at it) the thundershowers only added to the discomfort of wilted thousands.

Windows had to be closed while the sun still blazed. Homes and automobiles became "hotboxes."

And there is plenty of company for those in misery.

Sweltering millions across the nation awoke today to another day of sticky weather.

Canada lent some of its cool air to give respite to the U.S. northeast and northern plains, but elsewhere sweltering temperatures persisted in stifling the populace.

Little or no relief is in sight for the southeast, the south central portion of the country and the midwest, says the weatherman.

Even billions of once-thirsty blades of grass show drooping signs of the mugginess and appear as weary of the humidity as people.

Widely scattered showers blanketed an area from the Pacific Coast eastward to Michigan yesterday, but failed to bring relief.

A torrential rain turned Detroit expressways into rivers. The Detroit Police Department used a 14-foot power boat to rescue those stranded in the expressways flooded in some places to a depth of seven feet by more than two inches of rainfall in a four-hour period.

Lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceeding 8 a.m. today was 72. At 1 p.m. the reading was 90.

XWAY BUCKLED BY STORM — This portion of the Edsel Ford Expressway was left a twisted shambles by the storm that inundated Detroit yesterday. The scene is near Twelfth street on Detroit's west side, where water reached a depth of 12 feet at the height of the flood. The westbound lane of the Ford expressway was closed between the Lodge interchange and Trumbull today because of flood damage, but the eastbound lane was open.

Report Orion Family Missing After Quake

An Orion Township family believed to be vacationing in Yellowstone Park when the earthquake caused avalanches there a week ago has been reported missing by anxious relatives and friends.

Lake Orion police received a call yesterday from Mrs. Alvin McLeod of Grayling asking them to check the whereabouts of her brother, William Reynolds, of 100 Conklin Rd.

She said she had several telephone calls from "the west," one which reported her brother's wallet had been found.

Orion police officers went to the Reynolds house and talked to neighbors. One had received a post card mailed the morning of the disaster and had heard nothing since.

Reynolds' wife and daughter were with him on the trip.

Overfull Jersey Jail Burns

8 Prisoners Die, 12 Persons Hurt

Matches or Cigarette in Padded Cell Blamed for Fatal Fire

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP) — The Ocean County prosecutor said today the disastrous county jail fire was caused by matches or a lighted cigarette passed to a prisoner in a padded cell.

Howard Ewart, the prosecutor, said one of the two trusty inmates handed a cigarette and matches or a lighted cigarette to a "General" Petersen, 35, a Lakewood man held in the padded cell on a drunkenness charge.

The fire that broke out in the cell filled the jail with smoke, caused an explosion and took the lives of eight prisoners, including Petersen. Twelve persons were injured.

Seven of the fire victims died of smoke poisoning. The eighth was burned to death in the padded cell.

The victims included one man serving 90 days for disorderly conduct. Others were charged with murder, rape, larceny and forgery.

One of the injured was a U.S. Navy man, a weekend visitor, who was critically burned when he tried to reach the terrified jail inmates.

A fight among several prisoners in a first-floor cellblock preceded the fire. Guards were trying to break it up when the fire was noticed by one of the prisoners, who yelled a warning.

Roe said burning foam rubber in the padded cell caused a combustion wave. Witnesses said there were at least two explosions.

The victim in the padded cell was "General" Petersen, 35, of Philadelphia, a Negro who had been arrested on a drunk and disorderly charge. He was to have been transferred to a mental institution.

Sixty-five prisoners were in the jail, which the sheriff said is supposed to house only 28.

Gerard Lau, 40, a shipfitter second class stationed with the Naval Air Reserve training unit at Freeport, N.Y., was seated on the front porch of his father's house across the street from the jail when the fire broke out.

Lau raced for the jail when he heard the prisoners yelling. He ran to the second floor where three women prisoners were screaming, but was blown downstairs by an explosion. He crawled out critically burned.

Firemen who raced up the stairs were blown down by a second explosion. In the confusion keys to cell blocks were lost.

Undersheriff Robert J. Miller, 35, freed all the prisoners on the first floor. Firemen then managed to rescue four inmates on the second floor. The three women were among them.

Surrender 2 Points Near Laotian Capital to Reds

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Government troops have surrendered two points only 60 and 50 miles from the Laotian capital to Communist rebels. Fighting spread toward the center of the Southeast Asia kingdom during the weekend.

Reliable sources said the rebel advance is threatening strategic communications and supply routes between Vientiane and the south.

Red partisans reportedly launched a surprise attack on a military and police post near Pak Sane, 60 miles east of Vientiane Saturday, and after several hours of fighting forced government forces to withdraw.

Sop Vieng, a town about 50 miles northeast of Vientiane, was captured by rebels Friday, the sources said.

★ ★ ★

The Defense Ministry did not confirm the reports, saying the Foreign Ministry had ordered that no further communiques be issued about Laos' struggle against pressure from Communist North Viet Nam and Red China. The rebels are pro-Communist Laotians who have been trained and equipped by the North Vietnamese.

The sporadic fighting that started late in July had until now been largely confined to the northern provinces of Sam Neua and Phong Saly.

★ ★ ★

The government has placed the rebel strength in the north at 2,500. They operate in bands of 150 to 200 men. Another 1,000 are said to have infiltrated into the southern provinces of Luang Prabang and Savannakhet. Supplying hard-pressed troops in Sam Neua has been one of the Laotian's major difficulties. Everything must be delivered by air. But the 1954 Geneva agreement, which halted the Indochinese war, limited the Laotian army to only eight aircraft. All of the country's commercial planes have been commandeered to fly supplies to isolated northern outposts.

★ ★ ★

Exhausted Laotian pilots were somewhat relieved when the U.S. government chartered two twin-engine transports under its aid program to fly supplies to Sam Neua. Rented from the Nationalist Chinese commercial airline, the planes are piloted by Americans and Chinese.

Hundreds of paratroops also have been flown to the Sam Neua province jungle stronghold of Muong Peun.

About 20 per cent of Sam Neua reportedly is under Communist control. Defense Secretary Col. Phoumi Nosavan has said the city of Sam Neua can be held against rebel attacks but indicated there is little hope of holding much else in the province.

About 48,000 Vietnamese refugees who had been living in Thailand were reported crossing into Laos, some apparently heading toward Sam Neua. Many pro-Communist Laotians fled to Thailand during the Indochinese war. Laos refused to take them back after the 1954 armistice.

Considering Bill for School Cash

Plan Proposes 1 Billion of Federal Money for Construction Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate education committee today approved a compromise bill proposing a billion-dollar, two-year program of federal grants to the states for school construction.

The measure would put up the money at a rate of 500 million dollars a year starting in the current fiscal year, on a match fund basis.

The compromise bill, sponsored by Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) and other senators, now goes to the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee for further consideration.

McNamara released a statement predicting early approval by the full committee, the subcommittee's parent.

The bill calls for distribution of the money under a formula considering the wealth and population of each state in determining how much it would get.

Committee aides said the formula would work out to cover a range of two federal dollars for each state-local dollar in the poorer states, up to two state-local dollars for each federal dollar in the richer ones.

Hearing Today on State Taxes

Business Leaders Hope to Convince Solons They Can't Pay More

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's business communiy rallied today for the climax of an energetic fight against increased taxes on business.

A parade of business and industry executives was lined up to drive home the opposition argument in hearings before the Senate Taxation Committee headed by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland).

Nominally, the committee professed interest not in whether, but rather in what fashion, 10 million dollars in increased levies should be spread on business.

★ ★ ★

But the hearings today and Tuesday were destined to take the form of a stiff protest against any increased tax burden at all.

The Michigan Manufacturers Assn. and the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, seeking to drum up a big turnout, urged members to take this tack.

★ ★ ★

"It is imperative that the detrimental effect of higher taxes be made clear," wrote Simon D. Den Uyl, Board of Commerce president, in calling for a big attendance.

The hearings began three days before legislative tax bargainers will renew efforts to find an acceptable formula for ending the gruelling legislative deadlock on a new revenue program.

Political Hopes? 'No'—Romney

AMC President Says He's Merely Concerned With State Problems

DETROIT (AP) — People are wrong, says American Motors President George Romney, if they construe his concern for Michigan's cash problems as political ambition.

Romney denied in a statement yesterday that he is interested in public office. The denial followed a rash of speculation in Lansing that the industrialist wants to become Michigan's governor.

"I am not interested in running for political office," Romney said flatly.

The AMC president aroused speculation about his plans with his views about state taxes as a leader of the Citizens for Michigan. A group which is studying Michigan's money problems.

"A man doesn't have to be running for something to express his concern over the problems of his state and nation . . . " Romney said.

"I am in Citizens for Michigan on the same basis that thousands of other citizens will be in it," Romney stated. "I believe I must fulfill my responsibilities as a citizen and I am willing to give the obligation all of the spare time I can afford from family, church and job."

He said more than 1,000 persons from 50 Michigan cities have expressed desires to belong to the citizens for Michigan group.

★ ★ ★

"In disavowing personal political intent as strongly as I can," Romney said, "I should also point out that I am just in the midst of one of the most exciting and challenging opportunities in U.S. industry."

The industrialist said his company is aiming toward capturing 15 per cent of the nation's auto business by 1965 and 10 per cent of the country's major appliance market.

dustry in meeting adult education needs, the pattern of an effective alumni university could emerge."

Eklund pointed out that industrial corporations invest huge sums of money in scholarships and educational subsidy programs over which they have little or no control, and from which they often receive little benefit.

★ ★ ★

"Such firms would be favorably disposed to supporting adult educational opportunities for their key employes," Eklund said.

"The increased competence of these employes, both technically and culturally, would reflect directly upon the corporation itself."

The "Alumni University" as a reality is years away. The first commencement exercise at MSUO, which opens next month, won't be until June, 1963.

The other two sections of the adult education program will be in operation when MSUO opens.

Any interested individual will be able to enroll in the "Community University." A variety of non-credit courses and conferences designed for the specific needs of the community will be offered.

★ ★ ★

These courses will be as identical as possible to those of the day school program.

"Courses at night will not be watered-down," Eklund asserted.

Some of MSUO's day instructors will also teach the adult classes.

Grades will not be given. Instructors will informally evaluate the quality and progress of the students' work.

"Adults are not interested in tests or whether they get an 'A' in a course," Eklund said.

"They are there because they want to learn, not because they want 'good grades'."

The third branch of the adult education program will be the "Parents' University."

Letters have been mailed to parents of all MSUO enrollees, urging them to participate in the adult education program.

"Participation of parents will not only enhance the learning environment for youngsters at home," Eklund said, "It will add to the parents' personal competence, confidence and satisfaction as worker, parent and citizen in our complex modern society."

Corvair Certain to Be Under $2,000

DETROIT (AP) — Automotive News said today it is almost certain that the Chevrolet Corvair will carry a suggested list price of under $2,000.

The trade paper based its conclusion on a dealer discount figure which has been given Chevrolet dealers. The dealers will have a 21 per cent discount on the Corvair against a 25 per cent discount on the large Chevrolets. The 25 per cent figure is up one per cent from 1959 pricing practices.

The dealer discount for Ford's Falcon and Chrysler's Valiant has not been disclosed but it is expected to follow the Corvair pattern.

Predicts Shortage of Grave Markers for Memorial Day

OAKS, Pa. (UPI)—A flag manufacturer predicted Saturday that production of new 50-star flags would result in a shortage of 49-star grave-marker flags next Memorial Day.

★ ★ ★

W. Frederic Shedinger, executive vice president of the Dettra Flag Co., nation's largest producer of civilian American flags, explained that his company and others had stopped making small, printed 49-star flags in anticipation of a great demand for 50-star flags.

The 50-star flag does not become official until July 4.

Shedinger said his company would swing into full production of the 50-star flag today.

He predicted that the demand for American flags during the next 12 months would be greater than during any other period in the nation's history.

Torrential Rain Hits Detroit, Suburbs

lookers from pedestrian overpasses joined in rescue operations.

Hardest hit of the expressway sections was the Edsel Ford near 12th Street where a storm sewer plug burst from an embankment under pressure, hurling cascades of water into the roadway.

Firemen and police in metropolitan areas reported barrages of telephone calls from householders whose flooded basements threatened electrical connections.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the storm was caused by a sudden convergence of small rain squalls. The storm line extended from Chatham, Ont. west into Detroit.

Police said parts of both expressways would be closed to traffic for some time.

The Edsel Ford, officers said, will remain closed indefinitely between the John Lodge interchange and Grand River. Extensive buckling of the expressways pavement from storm sewer pressure was reported.

Southbound Lodge traffic was allowed to flow this morning but police halted northbound traffic from Milwaukee to West Grand Boulevard.

Belle Isle, on the edge of Detroit, was described by police as "just one complete traffic mess" with cars jammed together so long that batteries were exhausted and gasoline tanks ran dry.

★ ★ ★

Harbor Police rescued boaters from five sailboats blown over in the high winds. The Coast Guard towed in three other craft whose motors died in the heavy rain.

Weather bureau spokesmen said one reason for the huge amount of rain was that the storm moved slowly.

The failure of the sewers to handle the rain brought this explanation from Joseph W. Gross, Highway Engineer for the Wayne County Road Commission:

"The sewers were designed to take the ordinary runoff, but when it all comes down at once. . well . . you just can't build sewers to take that."

The Day in Birmingham

First Methodist to Open Nursery School Sept. 21

BIRMINGHAM — First Methodist Church of Birmingham will open its weekday nursery school Sept. 21, Marjorie Tate, chairman of the school's governing board announced today.

★ ★ ★

The nursery for children who are three and four years old will be directed by Mrs. William Korecky.

She holds a Michigan elementary school teaching certificate and is specially qualified to teach nursery school or kindergarten.

Mrs. Korecky has a bachelor of arts degree with a major in psychology and religious education.

For three and a half years she served as director of religious education at St. John Methodist Church in Davenport, Iowa.

She also was director of religious education at Metropolitan Methodist Church in Detroit for three and a half years and had experience teaching three and four-year-old children at Montieth Cooperative Nursery School in Detroit last year.

Mrs. Korecky is a member of the Pre-School Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit.

Four-year-olds will attend the nursery school here on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Three-year-olds will attend on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The school will be open from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on these days.

Application forms are available at the church which is located at W. Maple and Pleasant streets in Birmingham.

Bloomfield Hills Board of Education has announced the names of this year's Parent Teacher Organization officers for the high school and junior high school.

Offices will be held jointly as follows:

At the high school, president — Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gerhard; president-elect — Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pitts; treasurer — Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jones; and secretary — Mr. and Mrs. Norman Colburn.

At the junior high school, president — Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Turnacliff; president-elect — Mr. and Mrs. William Donnelly; treasurer — Mr. and Mrs. Harold DeOrlow; recording secretary — Mr. and Mrs. Duane Roland; and corresponding secretary — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sadler.

The school board is requesting suggestions for a name for the elementary school under construction on Quarton road. Suggestions should be sent to Eugene L. Johnson, superintendent of Bloomfield Schools, 4200 Andover Rd., Bloomfield Hills.

The Past Officers Club of Pride of Oakland Rebekah Lodge 445 of Birmingham will open its meetings for the season at noon Sept. 1 with a pot-luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ethel Clark, 5182 Chicago Rd., Warren.

Mrs. Edna Luth is acting cohostess.

Seek Sixth Convict in Iowa Prison Break

away conducting services at St. Lukes Episcopal Church here and in a mission at Montrose when three of the escapees, Charles Carlyle, 30, Ronald Bessler, 22, and Samuel Parras, 40, broke into his house less than a mile from the prison.

Mrs. Swift, and her children Olivia, 5, Bill, 3, and Charles, 10 weeks, were home.

"One of them (Parras) had a nasty cut over his eye, and his blood made an unholy mess of our upstairs bathroom," Mrs. Swift said. "Otherwise they did no damage to us or the house, and they even helped warm a bottle for the baby.

The convicts held a kitchen knife in Mrs. Swift's back when a neighbor boy, Robert Thomas Jr., 17, called up and offered to come over and keep her company.

"They made me tell Robert to come over, and then they made a prisoner of him, too," Mrs. Swift said.

"I tried to run away once, and got the children out of the door. But they caught me and made me call the children back."

The three were captured about 11:30 a.m. by Deputy Prison Warden Bernard Nelson, a member of the Rev. Mr. Swift's church who had been at the Swift home many times.

The Thomas youth had signaled to police that the convicts were in the house. Nelson broke into the basement, crept up the stairs and got the drop on the convicts.

Eastman Realigns Police Leadership

The other was on Nov. 12, 1958, when Eastman removed former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley from command and relegated him to a Staff Bureau job with minor duties.

★ ★ ★

Eastman said the shuffling of officers was "not political."

"I have been trying to find the right combination to get the most effective job done," Eastman said.

"I think I've found it.

"Except for minor changes, there will be no more shuffles."

All promotions and transfers will become effective Sept. 1, Eastman announced.

★ ★ ★

The promotions were on the basis of Civil Service examination results, the safety director said.

Eastman also announced the creation of a new unit of five patrolmen headed by Sgt. James Balewhich will concentrate on special crime problems.

The new unit will start working evenings in an effort to check the increasing number of house burglaries in the city, he said.

The announcement today immediately raised numerous questions.

Will Eastman leave Pontiac when his contract with the city terminates in October 1960?

If Eastman leaves, who will become chief of police?

Meanwhile, much of Eastman's work could be undone were Straley to return to the department.

The controversial Chief has appealed his April 4 ouster by the Civil Service Commission to circuit court.

Ionia County Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis has taken the Straley appeal under advisement. A decision is expected sometime this fall.

Straley was granted a change of venue by the Oakland circuit court bench after claiming his hearing before the Commission had received too much publicity for his appeal to be viewed impartially here.

Oil Output Increases

Output per man-hour in a typical United States oil refinery increased eight-fold between 1901 and 1951.

Rugged Road Awaiting Eisenhower in Europe

Berlin and an end of Western military occupation.

Eisenhower was back at his White House desk today preparing for the strenuous, meeting-filled tour of the Western Alliance. He takes off Wednesday at 3 a.m.

The President ended his 17-day, interrupted Gettysburg vacation Sunday and returned to Washington. Rain put the damper on a final round of golf after eight holes.

★ ★ ★

His trip to Europe is to discuss with the heads of the Western Allies his coming exchange of visits with Khrushchev.

But he will meet other officials and talk of other problems besetting the free world.

First on this schedule of personal Eisenhower diplomacy is Adenauer. Then in turn he will see Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and President Charles de Gaulle of France.

LEISURE UNLIKELY

At one point or another along the line, Eisenhower also will talk with Spanish Foreign Minister Fernando Castilla; Netherlands Foreign Minister Joseph Luns, who is president of the NATO Council, Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary general of NATO; and Prime Minister Anthony Segni of Italy.

Official state visits, public ceremonies and processions will fill in any time that might be left over.

Before his departure for Europe Eisenhower has a heavy schedule of homework, as well as catching up on domestic governmental details. He hopes to hold a news conference tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

If Eisenhower can improve relations between Macmillan, De Gaulle and Adenauer, he can approach his meetings with Khrushchev with the added authority of leader of a united West.

Each of the three major West European government chiefs jostled and shoved the others behind the scenes when arrangements were being made for the President's tour.

Eisenhower, for example, had hoped to meet all his partners together in one place to chart strategy for his meeting with Khrushchev.

RATHER STUBBORN

Macmillan wouldn't go to Paris. De Gaulle wouldn't go to London. Neither was terribly keen to receive Adenauer at the same time as the President. So Eisenhower will go to all three.

West Germany, France and Britain — as well as some of the smaller countries of the Atlantic Alliance — want first to be assured that a cold war truce with the Soviet Union will not spell the end of their defensive partnership with the United States.

They want a presidential pledge that America will not enter an accommodation with the U.S.S.R. at the expense of their own national interests.

Electric Cell May End Dependence on Oil, Coal

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — A revolutionary cell which makes electricity by reversing the chemical process of storage batteries was demonstrated today.

The sponsors asserted the apparatus may free the world's transportation from its dependence on oil and coal.

The cell produces electricity by combining, gaseous hydrogen and oxygen. It yields water as an exhaust product.

In batteries, power is obtained by splitting water into hydrogen and oxygen.

The model cell demonstrated at a Cambridge factory was 30 inches long, 15 wide and 12 deep.

★ ★ ★

Its electrical output was used to power a fork-lift truck which lifted a two-ton load, to cut through a chunk of mahogany with a circular saw, and to furnish the energy for a welding assembly.

The heart of the new "magic box" was a chamber which mixed hydrogen and oxygen in the presence of a nickel plate swimming in a solution of caustic soda. The chemical reaction yielded 5 kilowatts, or about 7 horsepower.

The chamber itself was small, but at the present stage of development there is a snag — the control gear, including the heavy tanks to contain the pressurized gas, is bulky enough to fill a big truck and weighs around 700 pounds.

A British inventor, F. T. Bacon, has been working on the idea for 25 years. Bacon had financial help from the government - sponsored National Research Development Corp.

The rights to work on it in America have been obtained by the Universal Winding Co., of Cranston, R.I., and the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Division of the United Aircraft Corp. of Hartford, Conn.

Dearborn Girl Places 2nd in Majorette Contest

RUSSELS POINT, Ohio (UPI) —June Ciampa, 16, of Dearborn, Mich., was runner-up in the ninth annual Majorette Queen of America contest held here Saturday night.

Scarlett Cornwell, 16-year-old brunette from Dardenelle, Ark., won the title in a week-long contest in which 29 majorette champions from all parts of the country competed.

After the commander heaped praise upon her, she changed her mind and now wants to join the Navy.

New Orleans Learns Russian From Priest

By DAVID ZINMAN

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — If Premier Nikita Khrushchev drops into New Orleans during his tour of the United States next month, he may be surprised to find himself greeted by a chorus of "Dobry dwens."

That's "Good day" in Russian, as several thousand would-be linquists have learned from a television-teaching Jesuit priest.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Clement J. McNaspy, an Oxford scholar, classical linguist and currently music dean of Loyola University of the South, began the South's first Russian TV course a few weeks ago.

Judging by his weekly mail and daily telephone calls, Father McNaspy is on the verge of adding another language to this already multilingual city.

"I'm teaching 'Good day' in place of 'Hello,' " he explains, "because 'Hello' is one of the most difficult words in Russian. It's 'Zdratvuythe.' Try that for size."

★ ★ ★

The bespectacled, dark-haired priest finds no conflict between Catholicism and teaching the tongue of the world's greatest Communist power.

"I'm teaching Russian, not communism. Russian is not the language of communism. It was created by a saint, St. Cyril, and it has produced a great literature.

"In Russia almost every educated person reads English. They have available all our researches first hand. It's just as important that we understand what they're doing.

★ ★ ★

"I read the Russian paper Pravda—which means 'truth' — every day."

Father McNaspy admits that trying to teach a language on television presents certain problems, but it also has its advantages over classroom teaching.

"First of all," he points out, "you're not aware of direct contact, so it's hard to gauge your speed. You can't correct pronunciation errors either.

"But television opens the door to thousands, in place of a handful. There's also an atmosphere of relaxation you don't always get in a classroom. The student is in his home, and it seems like entertainment rather than a chore. In addition, he can give his complete attention.

This 44-year-old Jesuit makes an ideal television teacher. He picked up the language on his own in a nine-year "do-it-yourself" project. His half-hour lessons every Thursday night will run for 13 weeks.

Representation Election Suggested for Hospital

LANSING (AP) — A representation election among all unskilled workers at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn has been recommended by a fact-finding commission named by Gov. Williams to investigate a labor dispute.

The commission held all 229 unskilled workers at the hospital constitute an appropriate bargaining unit with similar interests.

The dispute arose when Council 77 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, sought to act as bargaining representatives of hospital housekeeping employes.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the hospital told the commission they did not reply to union communications. They did not appear before the State Labor Mediation Board until subpoenaed.

Would Texas Be Our Capital?

Civil Defense Shelter Could House Officials in War Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — During last year's "Operation Alert," key federal authorities were evacuated from cities to remote headquarters.

It was a "dry run" but one designed to show how efficiently the officials could continue to administer the U. S. government's civil affairs in case of an enemy attack.

The results weren't so cheerful.

As a direct result of that mock attack, construction dirt soon will start to fly at the North-Central Texas college town of Denton.

To be constructed is an underground bomb shelter which officials say could become the seat of the federal government in event of an an all-out war.

The administration issued a report saying it was convinced, after an analysis of "Operation Alert," that the capabilities to operate the government at regional levels must be strengthened

President Eisenhower early this year sent to Congress a request that $2,700,000 be appropriated for construction of an underground shelter for the office of civil defense and mobilization southwest regional headquarters located in Denton

The OCDM noted that this would serve as the center of the U.S. government in event both Washington and the OCDM's alternate national headquarters, located in Battle Creek, Mich., were knocked out by an enemy.

Congress this past week passed and sent to the President a catch-all supplemental appropriation bill with funds for various agencies.

It included $2,400,000 for the Denton shelter, which would serve as a vital communications and administration center in times of natural disaster as well as war.

The shelter will be entirely underground except for two small entrance structures, one of which will serve as a reception point to check those wishing to go below.

The site will be on a tract at the southeast edge of Denton, given to the government by the city as an added inducement to get the OCDM to build in Denton the first of the regional shelters

Million Quakes Yearly

Mother Earth a Rock 'n' Roller

By FRANK E. CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judging from the number of earthquakes she generates, mother earth is as restless as a nightclub belly-dancer!

Fortunately for humanity, her shimmying is pretty subdued most of the time.

Seismologists of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey estimate that more than a million earthquakes occur throughout the world every year. They range from minor temblors that are barely noticeable to catastophic shocks like the big-leaguer that shuddered great areas of the American northwest last Monday.

The latter temblor—which was felt all the way from Montana to British Columbia—packed an energy punch equivalent to 4,000 atomic bombs of the Hiroshima type. That is, it had the wallop of 160 billion pounds of TNT.

Small wonder that, among other madcap activities, it caused a whole mountainside to topple into a river.

Of the million earthquakes occurring annually, only about 700 are real toughies, capable of causing considerable damage in the areas where they occur. This damage is often limited to damaging houses, especially chimneys. But in her worst rock 'n' roll antics, mother earth is quite a terror.

Actual ruptures of the earth's surface occur relatively seldom. But when they do, cracks up to 150 miles long, 70 feet wide and 50 feet deep sometimes are opened up. At times, these great cracks close quickly again, burying whatever fell into them.

Landslides, avalanches and splitting of mountain peaks can occur as the earth shrugs, writhes and oscillates to relieve pressures that have been built up inside her.

★ ★ ★

A rumble like thunder or gunfire usually precedes the shock, and then come heaving waves in the earth's surface, like rollers on the sea. Buildings shudder and collapse, parts of great highways shift sideways, railroad tracks are bent into bizarre patterns, big bridges sway and water geysers belch from the earth.

People in the area become nauseated from the heaving motion, which may last only seconds. Animals and birds cower in fear. Pendulum clocks stop dead.

★ ★ ★

Most of the world's great earthquakes originate beneath the sea where they cause little concern. But some of these produce great seawaves that roll along at speeds up to 600 miles an hour in the open ocean and may splash to a height of 125 feet as they break upon a coastline.

In the United States, an average of 600 to 700 quakes of varying intensity take place each year, the large majority in the West. But only about 20 of these are listed as "moderate to strong."

Real wallopers like last week's occur only once every two or three years in this country.

Food Poisoning Strikes Hundreds Across Country

By The Associated Press

Several hundred people were stricken by food poisoning at weekend outings across the country.

Almost 1,000 persons have been stricken in less than two weeks.

★ ★ ★

About 145 became ill at the annual outing of a radio materials firm in Attica, Ind., Saturday night. A week before, at Angola, Ind., at another company outing, 750 persons were stricken. That outbreak was blamed on ham sandwiches which had stood for several hours in an unrefrigerated truck in 95-degree heat.

In Cheyenne, Wyo., food poisoning struck down 94 people at two group picnics Sunday.

★ ★ ★

In Milwaukee, 17 persons were hospitalized after eating at a cafeteria at the Wisconsin State Fair. In Cincinnati, Ohio, at least 15 persons were stricken after attending a religious singing festival.

More than 50 victims were still in hospitals in Wyoming today while all but 12 had been sent home from Indiana hospitals.

Fight May Open ABA Confab

Bill of Rights Group Says Series of Court Decisions OK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The American Bar Assn. opens its 82nd annual convention today with a possible fight over criticism of the U.S. Supreme Court hanging in the background.

The ABA Bill of Rights Committee has said that a series of 24 court decisions involving internal security has not impaired the nation's security. Its report is to come before the association's policy-making body, the House of Delegates.

★ ★ ★

Last February at Chicago, the Communist Tactics Committee of the ABA said its study of the same decisions showed "how our security has been weakened." The criticism was in a report on which the House of Delegates took no action. It did approve resolutions of the committee recommending that Congress tighten security laws.

Joseph Harrison of Newark, N.J., chairman, said the report of the Bill of Rights Committee has been warmly welcomed by some of the delegates.

But J. Cleo Thompson of Dallas, a member of the Bill of Rights Committee who dissented from its findings, said he had noted "quite a lot of feeling against the report."

Woodman Discovers High Cost of Trees

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Trees in Buffalo really come "high," Richard Dejac discovered in city court.

Judge Michael E. Zimmer gave Dejac a suspended fine of $250, put him on six months' probation and ordered him to make restitution to the city for the tree he admitted cutting down in front of his home. The city forestry division estimated it would cost $175 to replace the tree.

★ ★ ★

Dejac said he cut it down because "neighbors had parties under it all day and half the night."

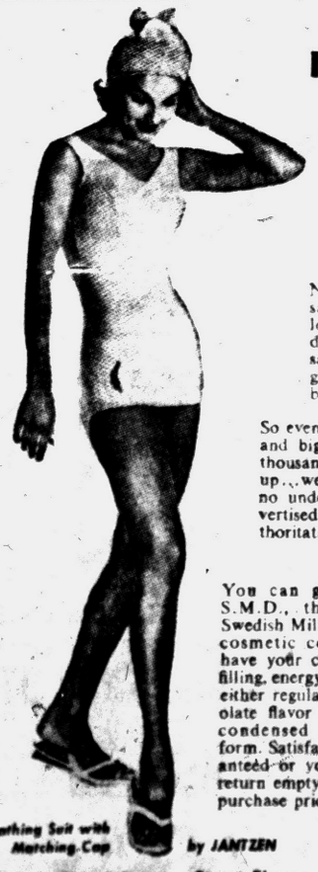
Overweight?

New 24-Hour Diet Takes Pounds Off Big Eaters



Big eaters now can lose 10 to 20 pounds and more and still enjoy big meals of fine food... thanks to the Swedish Milk Diet. It is an on and off diet. Eat today ...eat everything just like you now eat. Then tomorrow you diet for 24 hours taking Larson's S.M.D. with milk... that's all.

No calorie counting. No exercise. No mechanical massage. Yet not only do the pounds and inches of horrid looking fat melt away but more important, those bulges disappear in the right places from all over the body the same way. It's quickly noticeable how much weight is gone from chin, back, neck, arms, legs, stomach, bust, backside, hips and thighs.

So even if you are a true gourmet when it comes to fine food and big meals, start the Swedish Milk Diet. Automatically thousands of fat building calories are eliminated. Energy goes up... weight goes down. Once again you're slim and there's no underfeeding. This is the reducing plan you've seen advertised in Harper's Bazaar, Glamour, Vogue and other authoritative fashion magazines.

Auto Engineer Field Pioneer

But to Lead the Parade He Must Have Business Acumen

DETROIT —The modern automotive engineer must be a postgraduate businessman as well as an inventor and competitor, according to Oliver K. Kelley, chief engineer of Buick.

"The postgraduate businessman stage seems to develop in the growth of the product when highly efficient competitors have become large enough to be able to afford equally competent engineering departments, equally efficient manufacturing staffs and equally resourceful sales organizations," Kelley believes.

The engineer, Kelley pointed out, is "the traditional pioneer of the product."

"It wasn't the stylist who led the parade with his efforts to replace the horse and buggy with a vision of a beautiful air-conditioned drawing room on wheels.

"And it certainly wasn't the market analyst who took a poll among the horse lovers and concluded what had to be done to arrive at today's picture of automotive transportation. The engineer had to be there first."

Kelley conceded that stylists have a more difficult job than engineers.

The basic success in engineering comes from evolution, building on top of what you already know, while the stylist seldom has a chance to make evolutionary appearance improvements in his next year's model," he said.

"When the engineer wants the new styling job almost as much as the stylist does, he can find less expensive and better ways to rearrange the mechanism to suit the styling.

And when the stylist wants to save the functional values and save the company's money almost as much as the engineer does, he will be happy to take a really hard look at possibly beautiful shapes that can be created with less radical mechanical re-designs.

"The stylist and the engineer together form a success team more than any other two people in the business."

More Jolts in Montana Waken Inspection Group

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont, (AP)—A new earth shock and the thunder of a rock slide it touched off wakened a congressional delegation inspecting this earthquake-damaged resort area Sunday.

The jolt brought rangers and tourists from their beds in the Old Faithful area of Yellowstone National Park.

It was here that the devastating quakes of last Monday night and Tuesday were centered. Tremors have been felt each day since then.

★ ★ ★

Sunday's early morning shock caused a big rock slide which blocked a forest road in the Hebgen Dam area. About 20 summer homes are in the new slide vicinity, but police here said it was believed all the cabins were unoccupied.

The congressional group flew to Washington after a helicopter tour of the quake area Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Frank Moss (D-Utah) termed the damage appalling, and said "quite a number of bodies" are entombed in the giant slide northwest of Hebgen Dam. The original quake last Monday night sent an entire mountainside thundering down on Rock Creek campground there.

Nine persons were killed in the quakes and a 10th is missing and presumed dead.

The Red Cross at Bozeman, Mont., lists 16 persons unaccounted for and possibly missing.

Senator Cites Confusion in Disaster Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are more than 50 federal agencies to give aid in case a disaster strikes, but often there's confusion over which does what, says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn).

He set up a project which produced a comprehensive federal disaster relief manual released this week. The 129-page handbook is designed for city, county and state officials confronted with such natural disasters as fire, flood, drought, tornadoes, hurricanes and earthquakes.

About one-third of the population of Manitoba province in Canada lives within the city of Winnipeg.

Labor Reform Fight Poses Deadlock

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House-Senate conferees today tackle disputed labor reform provisions that some lawmakers believe may throw the committee into a deadlock.

At issue at today's closed-door session was the final section of a seven-part bill. The 14 conferees reached agreement on the first six sections, after five days of meetings.

Now they must try to reach a compromise on provisions which would curb secondary boycotts and organizational picketing and close a jurisdictional gap between federal and state laws for dealing with labor cases.

Nude Body of Student Found Stabbed Thrice

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The nude body of an attractive 21-year-old University of Southern California music student was found stabbed three times late last night at the foot of stairs leading to her fiance's apartment.

The fiance, G. Robert Kinzie, 27, a graduate art student at SC, was questioned by police but was not considered a suspect, according to inspector Thomas Reddin.

Provides Rent-Free Housing for Birds

HOMER, Ohio (AP)—Early Hayes, 75, has carried out a one-man housing project, strictly for the birds.

Hayes has built 14 apartment houses for birds. Each apartment has a private entrance and is partitioned inside for privacy. Some of the bird buildings have as many as 38 rooms.

★ ★ ★

Hayes says he provides the rent-free housing for his feathered friends simply because he enjoys having them around.

Andalusia, Spain, is where half the world's supply of olive oil comes from.

Wild horses roamed America at least 15,000 years ago, the National Geographic Society says, but for some reason unknown to man they eventually became extinct. The Spanish conquistadors re-introduced the horse to the continent.

Cash May Miss World Ski Meet

LACONIA, N.H. (AP) — Joe Cash of Sarasota, Fla., has been picked as one of four men to represent the United States in the World Amateur Water Skiing Champions at Milan, Italy, Sept. 4-5.

But the defending world men's jumping titlist may not be able to go. Cash injured his left knee at the windup of the American championships here yesterday.

Cash was named to the U.S. team along with Jim Jackson and Mike Osborn, both of Cypress Gardens, Fla., and Chuck Stearns of Bellflower, Calif.

Nancy Rideout of Cypress Gardens and Vicky Van Hook of Long Beach, Calif., were the women picked.

Reports Bootlegging Seizures and Arrests

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Internal Revenue agents seized 18,908 gallons of moonshine liquor in July and arrested 880 bootleggers operating 680 stills, the treasury department reported yesterday.

North Carolina was the best hunting ground for the agents. They closed 167 stills and arrested 214 persons for bootlegging in the state.

A few people may say: "Why all the fuss about STEVEN ROCKEFELLER and his girl or wife?" The answer would be, the public is their curious friend.

★ ★ ★

The price one must pay for having a famous name is sometimes frustrating. Young Rockefeller and his wife will be constantly chased by eager reporters and photographers. These newsmen are working for the public.

★ ★ ★

The whole world is interested in a romance and in famous names. Add the "Cinderella" theme and the recipe is irresistible.

So the premarriage scampering of the young folk to try and find some privacy will have to be regarded as practice. Their curious friend, the world, will be with them all their lives.

DeGaulle's Policies Are Great Stumbling Block

General CHARLES DE GAULLE, the pompous gentleman now heading the French government, should drop off his high horse and start facing realities.

DE GAULLE won't go to President EISENHOWER, so the President is go-to see DE GAULLE.

DE GAULLE wants U.S. missiles, nuclear engines, worldwide equality with the U.S. Dealing with him on these terms will not be easy.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle has been, and still is, a strong force in leading France in the right direction. However, French foreign policies at this time leave much to be desired.

They seem to be counter-accusations against America and Britain, and the fact they are delivered on the eve of President EISENHOWER'S visit to Paris cannot be accidental.

★ ★ ★

France is determined to have a place in the sun — A-bomb and all. De Gaulle can argue until he's blue in the face that he is fighting for his country's interests, just as he did in the war. But wartime or peacetime, De Gaulle and France should not forget that 10 years age she bound herself to the NATO Alliance.

Her present gestures and attitudes are bound to puzzle her allies.

Let's make no mistake about the fact that at the moment the great Western power is America. Big talks are on the docket; French defiance of America and Britain is no help at this time toward East-West agreements.

Business Executives to Get Foreign Briefing

A new training course for executives going overseas on business assignments has been announced by the Business Council for International Understanding and the American University.

Beginning on Sept. 14, at the University Campus in Washington, the six weeks' session is designed to help executives acquire a sympathetic understanding of the countries in which they will serve. Wives also will be offered a one week orientation course.

★ ★ ★

The program is intended to provide executives with sympathetic understanding of the people and the country to which they have been assigned. It also will help them acquire a better knowledge of their own country and be more articulate in explaining and defending it.

An elementary speaking course in the foreign country's language will also be taught.

Criticism of Americans' ignorance on these subjects has often been voiced and lack of knowledge sometimes has been a serious drawback. This new training program offers a splendid opportunity for executives to be more useful to their companies and to build goodwill for the United States overseas.

Helicopters Transport Medics to Quake Areas

★ ★ ★

Experts have already carried out an air inspection of the breached Hebgen Dam. The fact that it held up under the impact of the original shock is a tribute to the engineers who built it as long ago as 1915.

★ ★ ★

Even in a modern age when mankind is busy talking atomic warfare, earthquakes arouse awe and horror. If the earthquakes cannot be controlled, at least modern methods can mitigate their effects.

Speaking of Summits

David Lawrence Says:

Unions Purchase Labor Legislation

WASHINGTON — When the labor union bosses raise money to contribute to campaigns of members of Congress, must those who are elected disregard their personal convictions on the merits of proposed laws and do the bidding of the groups that furnished the funds?

LAWRENCE

This issue seems to have been projected by James B. Carey, one of the top leaders of the AFL-CIO, whose recent letter to members of Congress has caused a stir.

He expresses gratitude to those who voted as labor wanted and wrote in bitter sarcasm to those who, having accepted campaign contributions from labor interests, voted against their wishes on the Landrum-Griffin Bill.

Carey threatens reprisals at the ballot box and apparently the labor unions will withhold contributions next time from those members of Congress who refused to consider a campaign contribution as a bribe.

There is nothing unusual about Carey's letters to members of Congress. He should not be criticized as being alone in his viewpoint.

For what he has written is in line with CIO policy for years. Indeed, John L. Lewis, while active in the CIO, was characteristically frank about the meaning of a contribution from laboring men to the campaigns of candidates for office.

When the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, having accepted big contributions from labor unions for his 1936 campaign, said in the midst of a strike in 1937 something that the labor union leaders didn't like, Lewis declared publicly:

"It ill behooves one who has supped at labor's table and who has been sheltered in labor's house to curse with equal fervor and fine impartiality both labor and its adversaries when they become locked in deadly embrace."

★ ★ ★

In a biography of Lewis written by Saul D. Alinsky and published in 1949 by G. P. Putnam & Sons, the author tells of an interview with the labor leader during the Roosevelt regime. Lewis is quoted as having said:

"Everybody says I want my pound of flesh, that I gave Mr. Roosevelt $500,000 for his 1936 campaign, and I want quid pro quo. The United Mine Workers and the CIO have paid cash on the barrel for every piece of legislation that we have gotten.

"We have the Wagner Act. The Wagner Act cost us many dollars in contributions which the United Mine Workers have made to the Roosevelt administration with the explicit understanding of a quid pro quo for labor.

"These contributions far exceed the notions held by the general public or the press. Is anyone fool enough to believe for one instant that we gave this money to Roosevelt because we were spellbound by his voice?

"It is common knowledge that we spent approximately three-quarters of a million dollars in the 1936 campaign. And you might be interested to know that the $500,000 direct contribution wasn't my price, but was the figure named by the White House, and I was given approximately 48 hours to get that money.

"Certainly there was a quid pro quo—the right for labor to organize.

"But there was more than that. The sums we spent in 1936 were not only cash contributions that were made to the Democratic Party but also were money expended in terms of salaries for organizers and other personnel who worked full time organizing and electioneering for Roosevelt.

"Radio time purchased, billboards, hand bills, literature and all other paraphernalia that are part and parcel of the process of being elected president of the United States didn't come gratis."

The same interview reveals that in 1938 when the tensions between Lewis and Roosevelt had eased off somewhat and the Democratic President was trying in primary contests to "purge" certain Southern Democratic senators who happened also to be antilabor, the United Mine Workers chief rendered a helping hand.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Ambulant Treatment for Piles Most Effective

The other day a reader wrote me that when he sought ambulant (injection) treatment for piles the doctor "flew off the handle." Extricating himself from the unpleasant interview with the terrible tempered doctor, the reader went to a second doctor who cheerfully gave him the injection treatment.

The reader lost no time from business, suffered no particular discomfort at the time of the injections or between times, and got lasting relief from his hemorrhoids. He has had no further trouble in the six years since he received the treatment. He says the cost was reasonable.

My pamphlet, "You Need Not Have Piles" is available on request if you provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope. It impresses upon readers the fact that the office, ambulatory, injection treatment of piles is painless, does not detain the patient more than a few minutes at each visit, does not require hospitalization or general anesthesia, and is at least as effective as the atrocity called hemorrhoidectomy.

A good many doctors sincerely believe, as I did and said in this column many years ago, that injection treatment of internal hemorrhoids (it is not applicable to external piles) is ineffective and perhaps dangerous.

I learned later, from several doctors whose skill and courage I admired, that the injection method is not only safer and far less painful than radical surgery, but fully as effective as hospitalization and hemorrhoidectomy can be.

★ ★ ★

Doctors who tell you the injection method is dangerous, painful, or less successful than the major operation, are back where I was so many years ago.

Or, as you may have heard before, they're all out of step but the ten thousand who have deigned to seek technical instruction in the ambulant method from colleagues who have mastered it.

My pamphlet on piles is available to any reader who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope, but I am not prepared to tell you which physicians in your community give such treatment.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Jets Make It Tougher to Avoid Summit Confabs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The jet in which President Eisenhower flies to Europe Wednesday make it tougher for all future presidents to avoid summit conferences.

Through most of history government heads, including American presidents, had a good argument against summit meetings: the long distances and slow travel kept them away too long from their own countries.

★ ★ ★

They also had another traditional excuse, and it is one Eisenhower used: international problems are so complex only foreign ministers, being specialists in details, should try to work them out.

This system, of course, had a special virtue for government heads: they could always repudiate what their ministers did if the public reaction at home was bad.

But Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, impatient and self-confident, said letting foreign ministers meet first was a waste of time since they were only mouthpieces for the top men anyway.

He argued top men should meet first and then, if they reached agreement, the foreign ministers could worry about details.

In the 19th century, when American isolation meant staying out of Europe's affairs, presidents had no reason for summit meetings. President Theodore Roosevelt, who went to Panama in 1906, was the first president to leave home.

But gradually over the years—in a slow, bit-by-bit process—time, events and faster travel eliminated the traditional avoidance of summit meetings. President Wilson was the first to break through. But it was a disaster.

★ ★ ★

He went to Europe for the peace settlement after World War I—a period in which America temporarily lost its isolation—but his misfortunes there and at home were a shuddering reminder to his successors to watch out.

Nevertheless, he wasn't away too long, thanks to trains and ocean liners, which now look like ox carts compared with jet planes. But even the trains and liners were a lot faster than travel in the old days by sailboat, horse, and carriage.

★ ★ ★

America wrapped itself in isolation again, for almost two decades. In that time the most memorable summit meeting was a vast discouragement to more of the same. That was British Minister Neville Chamberlain's adject surrender to Hitler at Munich.

But American isolation was swept away by World War II when fast decisions at the highest levels were needed in a hurry. The old pattern of resistance to summit meetings then was broken forever, although it may not have seemed so then.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teachers Must Learn to Teach

Dr. Harry's terse criticism shows that the greatest educational need in America is for teachers who know how to teach. Many Ph. D. profs never had a single course in public speaking, adolescent psychology or teaching methods. They are dull in the classroom, though teaching is supposed to be one form of salesmanship.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-425: Dr. Harry X., aged 42, is a leading Florida dentist.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I'd like to know what is wrong with our physics department at the University of Miami?

"Of some 400 students who started the freshman class in physics, 81 dropped out before the end of the term.

"And 221 were flunked by their professors, while another 48 received 'D' grades, which are worthless as regards credit for graduation.

"This means that the professors failed to put across their subject to 350 'customers' out of some 400 who paid cash tuition for good instruction.

"If we dentists made such an atrocious record, the public would be up in arms.

"Yet professors can stay on the state payroll despite being grossly incompetent as teachers. It seems to me that the one who really flunked were the profs, not the students!"

POOR SALESMEN

Teachers are supposed to be enthusiastic salesmen of ideas.

But you readers know that a lot of brilliant scientists make very poor salesmen.

That is true when they go out on the firing line of life to purvey life insurance, stocks and bonds, or automobiles.

And if they are total flops at selling merchandise, they are often just as great failures when trying to sell physics or chemistry or English or even psychology, despite their Ph.D. degrees.

Beware, a man's college degrees don't guarantee that he will be a good salesman of ideas or merchandise.

Many brilliant Ph.D. men are incompetent as public speakers, yet teachers need to be just as good at oratory, as preachers.

★ ★ ★

Alas, thousands of our teachers never took a course in public speaking in their lives!

That might not be so bad if they later showed enough initiative to enroll in a Dale Carnegie class or join the Toastmaster's Clubs.

But they seem to think they don't need to be dramatic or enthusiastic in the classroom.

If 25 per cent of ANY college class flunks a course, that immediately indicts the teacher, not the students! So you can figure out for yourselves the situation at Miami where a reported 13 per cent passed, while 87 per cent flunked of some 400 eager freshmen!

STATE COLLEGE DILEMMA

"Yes, Dr. Crane," a prof may logically reply, "but our state university must accept every high school graduate who applies. Whereas private colleges can pick only the cream of the crop.

★ ★ ★

"That means we are glutted so we just flunk out the excess at the end of the first semester."

True enough, there is thus a terrific weeding out by state colleges, but that still doesn't justify the Miami situation.

For in the second year course in physics, with 42 members of this advanced class, 30 failed and 3 more got 'D' marks. Thus, only 9 of 42 (21 per cent) passed, while 79 per cent of the advanced students also flunked! That is a disgrace for the faculty!

"The whole cause," said the chairman of the department, "was bad preparation by the students." That's buck-passing.

"Bad preparation by the faculty," is a more plausible answer, for the Miami students are just as smart as those in other universities.

Most State Taxes Have Doubled Since 1950

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Bureau of Census reported Saturday that 49 state governments have doubled taxes since 1950.

It said that in the fiscal year end last June 30, they collected $15,831,000,000. This was a 6 per cent increase over the $14,919,000,000 in fiscal 1958.

The collections excluded state revenues from non-tax sources. In fiscal 1958 the states received $11,272,000,000 from such sources, including $4,461,000,000 from the federal government and $1,711,000,000 in what the bureau called "contributions" to unemployment compensation insurance programs.

The totals also are exclusive of local government taxes which, nationwide, total about the same as state taxes.

All of the states except three had higher tax yields in fiscal 1959, the bureau added. Increases of 15 per cent or more were reported by six states—Arizona, Delaware, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts and New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

Declines from the 1958 level were reported by Minnesota, Nebraska and Oregon.

The largest amounts of increase were reported by California—up $139,000,000, and New York, up $85,000,000.

California collected more than $1,800,000,000 in state taxes and New York nearly $1,600,000,000 The next ranking states were Pennsylvania, $900,000,000 and Michigan, $800,000,000.

Per capita state taxes ranged from an average of $145 in three states—Delaware, Nevada and Washington—down to less than $70 in six states—Kentucky, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Virginia.

The revenues came chiefly from sales and gross receipts levies, general imposts, motor fuels, tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, motor vehicle licenses and income and property taxes.

Sales and gross receipts taxes led the parade with a total of $3,694,000,000. This was 5.3 per cent more than in fiscal 1958 and accounted for nearly one fourth of total state tax yields even though this particular levy is not used by 16 states.

★ ★ ★

Next ranking source was the sales tax on motor fuels—$3,048,000,000. This was up 4.4 per cent. Tobacco tax revenue was up 10.3 per cent to a new high of $680,000,000. Alcoholic beverage sales brought in $599,000,000 against $566,000,000 in 1958.

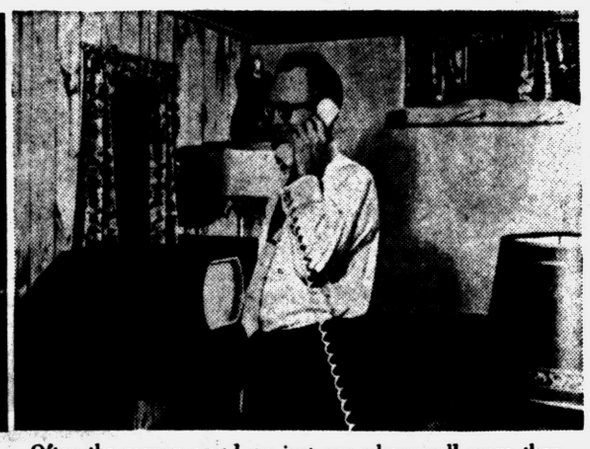
"WE FOUND OUT HOW MUCH OUR TELEPHONE SAVES US"

...says Mrs. Lois Lignell of Grand Rapids

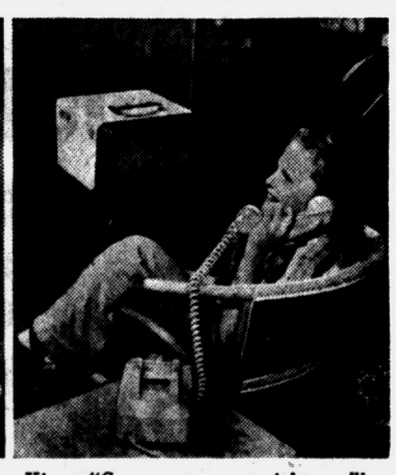
The Lignell family kept a two-week record of their telephone calls and discovered for themselves how much time and money they saved by telephoning. Their three telephones cost 24¢ per day. Their savings? An average of $1.11 per day!



Often the money saved on just one phone call more than pays for the day's telephone service. Here husband Steg calls the contractor. "Can you come fix our leaky roof?" Saved: an hour's trip and 32¢ in gasoline. Below are examples of how other members of the family saved money.

Kirk: "I'd like some travel information for a class assignment." Saved: a trip downtown and 70¢ bus fare.

Kent: "How about us going to a ball game, Bob?" Saved: 40¢ in gasoline plus Mother's driving time.



Kim: "Come on over tonight, we'll watch TV." Saved: no money, but a good time was had by all.

According to Mrs. Lignell: "You don't realize how valuable the phone is until you keep a telephone diary of your calls. I had no idea how much time it was saving us every day... how much money it was saving on gasoline, bus fare, postage. This is not to mention all the steps it saves us and the pleasure it brings us."

Your telephone is worth far more than it costs — keep a "telephone diary" and see for yourself.

U.S. Will Work on Moon Probes

To Concentrate on This Distance Before Deeper Space Rockets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. T. Keith Glennan, civilian space chief, said today the United States will concentrate on launching moon probes before getting involved in research for sending rockets deeper into space.

Glennan, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said his agency plans to concentrate its initial moon shoot efforts on:

1. Shots designed to come close to the moon without hitting it. Previously it had been announced that these shots would attempt to relay to the earth photographs and other information about the moon.
2. Launching vehicles into orbit around the moon.
3. Shots designed to smash into the moon.
4. Launching vehicles designed to land gently on the moon.

"In this program we will develop the techniques necessary to accomplish missions into deeper space," Glennan said in a talk prepared for delivery at an Air Force symposium on missiles and space technology.

Glennan said that in its successes and failures during the first year of NASA's existence "We have learned that we are not nearly as far advanced in space technology as we had thought or hoped."

Glennan said the agency's experiences in the space vehicle field had been "less than completely satisfactory," and the ratio of successful launches to so-called successful failures has not improved much in the past year."

This toothy monster and two companions were responsible for eliminating 11 of the canine population. Parents are concerned over the children's safety. The two other alligators, one 11 feet long, are also slated for extermination.

Thickest Glass Shields Workers

Window, 9-Foot Thick, Protects Atomic Project Specialists

CORNING, N. Y. (AP) — Atomic specialists dealing with deadly radioactive material can get a view of their work through the thickest window in the world.

The window, nearly nine feet thick, is a radiation shield made for the Atomic Energy Commission by the Corning Glass Works.

It was shipped recently to Idaho Falls, Idaho, for installation in a new flight engine test facility at the National Reactor Testing Station.

Corning engineers say the window has two purposes: its thickness protects workers looking at radioactive material and also reflects light in a way that provides a larger view of the working area.

An object seen through the seven glass panes and 12 plastic sheets that make up the window will appear greatly enlarged.

Corning has manufactured a number of shielding windows for atomic research, some of them as peepholes into radioactive compartments in the Navy's atomic submarines. But this one is by far the largest.

It was assembled at Corning's plant at Harrodsburg, Ky., then trucked to Cleveland for an exhibition before moving on to Idaho.

"We know this is the largest radiaiton window ever made," says a company spokesman. "And since there's no call for such windows outside the atomic field we consider it the thickest window in the world."

Stories Flow With the Booze

Wreck Baghdad on Strip

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the Tipsy Twenties and the Thirsty Thirties they called it "The Playpen of the Stars."

But then came the Frustrating Forties and the Garden of Allah Hotel, one of Hollywood's most unusual hostelries, began to fade.

Now the once-plush villas built in 1926 by Alla Nazimova are slated to crumble under the wrecker's bar. Office buildings are planned for the site.

Saturday night they held a wake for this Baghdad on the Sunset Strip. More than 350 persons — mainly budding starlets and young featured players — gathered at poolside to re-live a movietown legend.

Sentimental anecdotes kept pace with the flow of liquor.

Sample: The time someone warned the late Robert Benchley, "Drink is a slow poison, Bob." His reply: "I can wait."

And his oft-quoted: "I'm goin' to get out of these wet clothes and into a dry martini."

★ ★ ★

Describing the place later, Lucius Beebe said: "Nothing interrupted the continual tumult that was life at the Garden of Allah. Now and then the men in white came with a van and took somebody away; or bankruptcy, divorce or even jail claimed a participant in its strictly unstately sarabands. Nobody paid any mind."

After Saturday night's party quiet descended once more, leaving only empty bottles floating in the pool as a lusty reminder of bygone days.

Iowa's first state capital was at Burlington in 1838.

Navy Plans 40 Missile Subs

But Chief Insists That Aircraft Carriers Are Backbone of Power

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The Navy plans a fleet of about 40 ballistic missile submarines, but the aircraft carrier will remain the backbone of U.S. sea power.

Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley, deputy chief of naval operations for fleet operations and readiness, said Sunday that the Navy will resist any efforts to increase the missile sub fleet beyond the size planned.

★ ★ ★

He addressed the National Security Commission of the American Legion here, as part of the legion's annual convention.

★ ★ ★

Beakley did not elaborate on his comment about keeping the sub fleet down, but he appeared to be referring to the opinion in some congressional quarters favoring a larger force of the missile subs. About nine of them are now on order.

Beakley gave three reasons for keeping the fleet down to about 40:

"First, because the deterrent-retaliatory strength of the United States must be a diversified mix of systems; second, your forces do not need to be enormous when they are relatively secure of attrition; and third, the Navy's requirements to meet limited aggressions will be exceedingly heavy."

Biologist Offers Tips to Motorists on Night Driving

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) —Dr. Oscar W. Richards, chief biologist for the American Optical Co., offers motorists six rules for night driving:

—Take enough time to get used to seeing when leaving a bright place before starting to drive at night.

—Relax the eye muscles by looking about as much as safe driving permits. Never stare long in the same spot.

—Protect the eyes from glare. Look to the side of the road rather than at the source of the light.

—At night, never wear sunglasses or tinted spectacles.

—Keep spectacles, windshield and lights clean and free from surface damage.

—Slow down until the perceptual load is not too great for good, safe driving.

Launch Gifted Student Classes

St. John's U. Expects 150 Highschoolers in Monthly Meetings

NEW YORK (UPI)—An experimental program to spur gifted high school seniors on to greater intellectual achievement is being launched by St. John's University in Brooklyn.

The "Learning for Leadership" program will permit gifted students to attend selected three-hour lectures and discussion groups in the broad areas of learning in the humanities and sciences.

A total of 150 students, divided into no more than six groups, are expected to be enrolled for the monthly meetings starting next fall. They will be selected on the basis of I.Q., faculty recommendation, achievement record and reading ability.

Reading lists will enable the students to prepare for each lecture. Groups will be supervised by a permanent moderator, but lectures will vary. The cost of the program is estimated at $40 per student, or $5 per session. Students will be enrolled from schools in the university's immediate vicinity.

An additional feature of the program will be separate specialized workshops for high school teachers of gifted students.

Dr. William J. Nelligan, dean of the university's School of Education, said the two-part program is in keeping with America's "high quality manpower needs." He said the program will stimulate gifted students, not by piling more-of-the-same school work on them, but by exposing them to new intellectual paths.

Dean Nelligan added that about four or five other universities in America are conducting gifted student programs, in varying forms. He said the University of Rochester has a "Wide Horizons" program, which stresses higher reading achievements, and other colleges offer gifted students some courses in the high schools under "advanced placement" programs.

Specialist Offers New Assortment of Interior Paints

FARGO, N.D. (UPI) — When a do-it-yourselfer arms himself with a paint brush for a little interior decorating, one of the hardest things to decide next to what color might be what paint.

According to A. E. Rheineck, a paint specialist at the North Dakota Agricultural college, the paint industry now offers a far wider choice of paint types than ever before.

Rheineck said paint with a rubber or latex base is one of the most recent innovations. He said its easy to use, requiring only water for thinning and for cleaning the brush later, but it is not recommended for bathrooms or kitchens because it may not be scrub-resistant enough.

Another good paint type for interiors is soybean oil modified resin. It forms a durable surface with a high gloss finish, goes on quickly and dries without leaving an oder.

Interior paints with linseed oil are pretty much out of the picture now, Rheineck added, and you don't have to put up with their slow and smelly drying any more.

NANTUCKET, Mass. (AP) — Tiffany Thayer, 57, author of many novels including "Thirteen Men," a best seller of the 1920s, died here Sunday. His home was in New York. He was secretary of the Fortean Society of New York and was editor of Doubt, a quarterly magazine. He spent several years in the 30s in Hollywood writing for the movies.

Oxford Man Found Dead at His Home

OXFORD — Service for Frederick Quick, 80, of 14 Powell St., will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Flumerfelt Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Ridgelawn Cemetery here.

Mr. Quick was found dead at his home with a rifle by his side early Sunday morning. He had been ill about a week. He had been a painter and decorator for 37 years.

Surviving are his wife, Myrtle; and a grandson, Wallace Quick, of Southfield.

TRY IT ON FOR SIZE — Wearing his World War I uniform, Albert J. Durand, 74, of Chicago, in Minneapolis, Minn. for the National American Legion Convention, tries his hat on little Randy Johnson, 4, of Minneapolis. Durand, formerly of Red Lake Falls, Minn., has been a Legionnaire for 41 years. Randy has some distinction too: he's the grandson of a 40-year member of the American Legion, Arthur Oppedahl of Des Moines, Iowa. Durand met young Randy while registering for this 41st American Legion National Convention.

Stolen Car Ride Sad for 4 Boys

Three in Hospital, One in Jail After Smashup on Lone Pine Road

A wild ride in a stolen car landed three teenage boys in the hospital over the weekend and put a fourth in jail.

The youths were seriously injured when the car smashed into a tree off Lone Pine road, a half mile east of Orchard Lake road Saturday.

★ ★ ★

In fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital were Daniel C. Meissner, 15, of 6274 Hatchery Rd., and Gary T. Rieves, 15, of 5726 Sutherland Rd., both of Waterford Township and Jerry A. Strebe, 16, of 988 Canterbury St.

Meissner suffered a concussion, Strebe a fractured skull and Rieves severe back injuries, the hospital said.

Held at Oakland County Jail for investigation of car theft was David W. Karl, 17, of 3360 Pirrin St., Waterford Township. He was not injured.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's deputies said the four admitted taking the car, a 1951 model, late Saturday morning from the Tam O'Shanter Country Club, two miles south of the accident scene.

Owner of the car, Otto Dieck, 7010 Williams Lake Rd., said he was acquainted with the boys and didn't want to sign a complaint for criminal action against them, said Sheriff's Det. Leo Hazen.

The boys work occasionally as caddies at the country club, said Hazen.

Deputies said the car's ignition wires were crossed. They said Meissner admitted he was driving, but gave no clear account of how the accident occurred.

★ ★ ★

They said the severity of the accident indicated the car was going at a high rate of speed when it hit the tree. The car was a total wreck, deputies said.

To Run Bar Foundation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dean E. Blythe Stason of the University of Michigan Law School has been appointed administrator of the American Bar Foundation.

The foundation is the legal research arm of the American Bar Assn. Stason will begin full time duties as administrator in September 1960, after his retirement at Michigan.

Burial Rite Tuesday for Robert G. Handy

CLAWSON—Service for inventor Robert G. Handy, 72, of 318 Highland Ave. will be held 10 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham. Graveside service will be conducted in Elm Lawn Cemetery, Bay City, at 2 p.m. under the auspices of Joppa Lodge No. 315 F&AM.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Handy, a retired mechanical engineer, was dead on arrival Friday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, following a heart attack.

Formerly with the Jarvis Webb Co., Detroit, he was the inventor of the Handy governor for engines, and was founder of the Handy Governor Corp. of Detroit, now non-existent.

He had an engineering degree from Cornell University, class of 1910, and belonged to Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. He was a member of the Cornell Alumni Assn. and the Order of the Eastern Star No. 495, Clawson; Bay City Consistory, AASR, Valley of Bay City; Bay City Chapter No. 59 RAM and Bay City Commandery No. 26, Knights Templar.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Jeannette H. Helmboldt of Clawson and two grandchildren.

Senate Would Establish Madison Memorial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has passed and sent to the House a resolution to set up a commission for planning a memorial to James Madison, the nation's fourth president.

The commission would be directed to study the possibility of using tthe memorial columns taken from the old east front of the capitol building which was torn away for the current east front extension project.

Think Nikita, Chiefs of Satellites Talking

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be meeting with several of his satellite leaders in the Crimea, East German Communist sources indicated today.

East Germany's two top leaders — Communist party chief Walter Ulbricht and Premier Otto Grotewohl — left East Berlin this week.

The official announcement of Ulbricht's departure said he was going to a resort on the Black Sea, the same area where Khrushchev is spending his holiday.

Simple Process Pulls Radiation Can Decontaminate Milk

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canadian scientists have come up with a method to decontaminate radioactive milk.

The new process, described as a low-cost one, removes radioactive strontium and cesium and leaves the milk as good as new.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at the Agriculture Department's Animal Research Institute discovered the relatively simple process during the past winter. It will be published in scientific journals shortly.

Dr. B. B. Migicovsky, the institute's chief scientist, told United Press International the method worked on milk at all levels of radiation. It was especially effective at the low levels of contamination found in some current milk samples, he said.

Migicovsky added that the process could be applied to other liquids should the need arise.

★ ★ ★

A substance known as a "cation exchange resin" is the main cog in the process.

It is treated with calcium, potassium and sodium salts and then applied to the milk.

The radioactive strontium and sesium are removed on the resin. The milk retains its natural flavor and composition.

★ ★ ★

Migicovsky said the materials involved could be regenerated and used over and over again. Applied to any quantity of milk, it would be a relatively cheap process, he said.

Eyes World's Fair for the U. S. in 1964

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) wants the administration to look into the possibility of holding a world's fair in the United States in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Fulbright introduced a resolution yesterday as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He said action is needed now because the Bureau International des Expositions, a worldwide organization sponsoring world exhibitions, will meet in November to consider the location of the next world's fair.

The resolution calls on the administration to look into the possibility of staging an exposition in this country and to appoint a commission to recommend a site if the fair is to be held here.

★ ★ ★

A citizens committee already has been set up to draw plans for a worlds fair in New York City in 1964.

Ike Names Meany Delegate to the U. N.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has nominated AFL-CIO President George Meany, two congressmen and a former diplomatic official as U. S. delegates to the 14th session of the United Nations General Assembly.

The President Saturday named Reps. James G. Fulton (R-Pa) and Clement J. Zablocki (D-Wis) and former Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson to serve with Meany on the delegation.

At the same time, he renominated Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to the U.N., to head the five-member delegation. The nominations would provide for service up to next Dec. 31.

Red Chinese Beating Heat With Popsicles

TOKYO (AP) — Sweltering millions in the Chinese Communist capital are beating the heat with sherbet-on-a-stick with a capitalistic name.

A Peiping broadcast heard here used the trademark name in reporting that "factories are turning out 1,200,000 Popsicles every day . . . this is 2½ to 6 times the amount last year."

It did not disclose the price of a Popsicle, but said they come in many flavors — "cream, chocolate, coffee, strawberry, banana, apple."

These Popsicles are safe too. "Popsicles have to go through a 24-hour bacteria culture test before they are allowed out of the factory," the broadcast said.

Another favorite cooler is "huge slices of ice cold watermelon . . . over three million pounds are being sold on the market every day.

"That is an average of about half a pound for each of Peiping's population," said the broadcast.

That indicates a population of six million for Peiping, estimated by Western almanacs at four million.

Steel Negotiators Sidestep Wage Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Wage issues were laid aside again for today's negotiations in the 41-day-old steel strike.

Other phases of a new contract were before second-string teams representing the striking United Steelworkers Union of America and the industry.

Wage talks are scheduled to start again Wednesday when the union president, David J. McDonald, and Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel, rejoin the negotiations after a two-week absence.

There was no indication of progress toward settlement in the near future.

Four out of five Americans who visited foreign countries last year got there by air, compared with only two out of three in 1954.

Teen Gang War Kills 1, Injures 6

Negro Girl, Pal of One Leader, Is Shot Down on New York Street

NEW YORK (AP) — A church-sponsored truce between street gangs on Manhattan's lower East Side came to a bloody end Sunday night, leaving a 15-year-old Negro girl dead and six other teen-agers injured.

★ ★ ★

The girl, Theresa Gee, said to be the sweetheart of one of the gang leaders, was cut down on the street by bullets from a passing car.

Police believe the trouble started when a Negro gang, the Sportsmen, invaded the area claimed by a Puerto Rican gang, the Forsyth Street Boys. The move set off a chain reaction of violence.

★ ★ ★

The two gangs met head on, and Julio Rosario, 14, was stabbed in the back. A bystander, Manuel Cintron, 11, was shot in the face. Both were taken to a hospital in serious condition.

Ammonia Plant Blasts Kill Two, Injure Four

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Two explosions at an ammonia manufacturing plant here Sunday killed two men and injured four others.

Killed were engineers Jack Day, 30, and Henry Husky, 35, both of Arkansas City.

The explosions caused only slight damage to the plant of the Mauer Neuer Packing Co., plant. There was no fire. Authorities said the victims were killed by ammonia fumes.

Harry Truman Plans Two More Books

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman said Saturday he is making another venture into "the authoring business." He has signed a contract to write two more books.

★ ★ ★

The first, scheduled for publication in March 1960, will deal with the former President's experiences and his opinions since leaving the White House in January 1953.

It's title will be "Mr. Citizen," and in it, Truman said, he intends "to write not only of the past but will try to look ahead to see how the future shapes up for us and for the world."

The other, which will be published a year later, Truman described as a book for young people between the ages of 10 and 16, covering what he thinks they ought to know about American history. He said no title had been selected.

★ ★ ★

Truman's previous major writing venture produced the memoirs of his nearly eight years in the White House, "Years of Decisions," in 1955, and "Years of Trial and Hope," in 1956.

The former President announced at the press conference the two books will be published by Bernard Geis Associates of New York and distributed by Random House.

Mickey Cohen Lectures at ABA Conference

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — More than 100 attorneys listened to a balding, chubby "Professor O'Brien" at a professional seminar and most of them appeared not to realize their lecturer was Mickey Cohen.

Cohen took part Sunday night with Melvin Belli, widely known San Francisco trial lawyer, in a discussion the latter organized. Belli last week successfully defended Cohen in a Los Angeles assault case.

Mickey, who describes himself as a reformed hoodlum, told newsmen he would speak on the evils of crime but his five minutes on the platform was devoted principally to question-and-answer repartee with Belli.

Ross Malone, president of the American Bar Assn. which convenes in Miami Beach today, said he wanted to emphasize Cohen's visit was not linked in any way with the ABA.

★ ★ ★

"Cohen not only was not invited to be on any American Bar Assn. program but his appearance has no connection whatever with the convention," Malone said.

Detroit Bakery Workers Sign 2-Year Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Management and union agreed Saturday on a new, two-year contract covering 2,000 city baker workers — minutes before a noon strike deadline.

The pact was worked out between the Detroit Bakery Employers Labor Council and Detroit Bakers Union, Local 326 of the Workers International Union of America. The employers' council represents seven of the city's largest bakeries.

The new contract provides for a 10-cent hourly wage increase the first year and another 10-cent hourly boost during the second. The agreement is retroactive to Aug. 1. Baker employes now receive $2.40 an hour.

The terms also call for a higher night differential rate, a liberalized vacation plan, guarantees of senior rights, and three days off with pay for a death in the family.

Minnesota forest harvests are worth $180 million a year.

Quake 'Victims' Read Paper

'But We're Still Alive!'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mike Debaets, 16, and Bill Litzsinger, 19, were reading a Montana newspaper, five days after both slept through the earthquake in Yellowstone National Park.

"What do you know," said Bill. "Two of the boys with the rodeo in Lewistown were killed in the earthquake."

★ ★ ★

Then they saw the names.

"It's us," they exclaimed. The boys bolted for the nearest telephone and called their parents.

"I felt as if I had been born all over again," said Mike's mother Alice Debaets of St. Louis.

"We died a thousand deaths," said Bill's father, Raymond W. Litzsinger of suburban Sappington.

★ ★ ★

The boys entered a rodeo in Littleton, Colo., then headed for Lewistown, Mont. They decided to see Yellowstone, camped five miles from the worst quake area, and slept through it.

The next morning they went to Lewistown and took jobs on a remote ranch, 72 miles from the nearest telephone.

When they couldn't be found, they were presumed to be dead.

Art Exhibition Makes Convicts $5,000 Richer

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — State prison convict-artists are some $5,000 richer, for a two-day exhibit of their talents.

The annual prison art show attracted more than 6,000 visitors over the weekend. Inmates sold 450 paintings, etchings and statuary.

★ ★ ★

Prices paid ranged from $4 to $75. The inmates get 90 per cent when freed from prison. The remainder goes into the prison welfare fund which furnishes supplies.

Nikita Itinerary Now Official

Seems to Set Pattern for Ike's Return Visit to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's American itinerary now is official and it apparently sets the pattern for President Eisenhower's later visit to the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

The recent exchanges of Soviet-American visits—such as those of Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov and Vice President Richard M. Nixon—have been on a strictly tit-for-tat basis.

It is generally understood in diplomatic circles that the Khrushchev-Eisenhower exchange will be in the same vein.

Khrushchev's U.S. itinerary, which had been pretty well forecast in advance, ends with a second stop in Washington.

There had been some earlier speculation that Khrushchev might visit Alaska and go back by way of Communist china but he is scheduled to fly directly home.

That would seem to cancel any plan Eisenhower might have had for traveling across the U.S.S.R. and returning by way of the Pacific.

It is not at all certain this ever was contemplated for the President, but Nixon had requested such a route on his recent visit. He was turned down.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev will come to Washington first on Sept. 15 for two days of official visiting at the White House. He will address the National Press Club and answer newsmen's questions in a nationally televised program on the 16th.

Soviet Magazine Asks for West's Nikita Cartoons

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet humor magazine Krokodil has asked three American and other Western cartoonists to submit drawings on the coming exchange visits of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

This is the first time the magazine has asked Western cartoonists to contribute works for publication. Cartoons by Westerners have appeared in Krokodil previously, but they have been reproductions.

★ ★ ★

Krokodil staffer Yuri Greenman said the American cartoonists invited are Herbert Block of the Washington Post, Dan Dowling of the New York Herald Tribune, and Paul Carmack of the Christian Science Monitor.

Britain's David Low and Bernard Holloway also were invited as were other unnamed Western European cartoonists.

She Comes as Guest, Not Singer

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of ours is a very fine singer. She sings professionally and commands quite a price for each performance. Is it correct to ask her to sing should she be present at a party in our house and at which she is a guest? My husband says "no." He contends it would be the same as to invite an eminent physician to dinner and then ask his medical advice.

★ ★ ★

Answer: Your husband is right, unless you know that she likes to be asked to sing. If by any chance she does sing, it is up to you to see that your other guests listen to her in complete silence.

Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend has asked me to go with him to the wedding of one of his relatives. He said it would be all right for me to come with him as they told him he might invite me. I think he should have asked them to send me an invitation, but he says that it is not necessary under these circumstances.

Answer: It isn't necessary that you receive an engraved invitation. I think, however, they should send you a short note or message on their visiting card — "Hope you will come to the wedding with John." Otherwise, I don't think you should go.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just recently become engaged and my parents would like very much to invite my fiance's parents to dinner. My fiance has two sisters and a brother living at home, and I would like to know if it is necessary that they be included in the invitation. Our apartment is small and we are rather cramped for space.

★ ★ ★

Answer: It will not be necessary to invite the sisters or the brother, but do have your fiance explain to them your reason for not being able to include them.

Couple Will Honeymoon in Northern Michigan

Central Christian Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Elaine Roberta Miller and Alva F. Flake. The Rev. G. W. Gibson officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony before immediate family members and close friends.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harley Woody of Dakota drive and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde V. Flake of Keego Harbor.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon organdy over taffeta with a square neckline, and a hat of flowers and seed pearls held her tulle veil. She carried a hand bouquet of white rose and carnations.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Donald M. Blue of Detroit was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Joyce Johnson. They wore champagne colored sheath dresses with matching hats and veils and carried colonial bouquets of yellow carnations.

Vernon Walton Russel was best man.

A reception was held in Friendship Hall of the church.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore a hunters green silk and linen suit with white accessories for her going away ensemble. They will live in Trenton following a honeymoon to Northern Michigan.

Mr. Flake is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Woody wore a beige silk dress with pink accessories and Mrs. Flake was dressed in navy blue crepe with white accessories. Both had pink rose corsages.

United in marriage Saturday were Joy Diane Venola and Bowen Rice Broock. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Venola of Detroit and the Ferdinand Broocks of Bloomfield Hills.

MRS. BOWEN R. BROOCK

Joy Diane Venola Wed in Candlelight Rites

Joy Diane Venola and Bowen Rice Broock were married Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony in Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. The Rev. William C. Norvell officiated at the service before some 500 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Venola of Detroit and the Ferdinand M. Broocks of Bloomfield Hills.

The bride wore a gown of Dresden silk with a scoop neckline and long sleeves. The skirt was accented with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls in the front and formed a chapel train. A crown of heirloom rose point lace embroidered with pearls held her three-tiered veil of French illusion. The headdress was a gift of the bridegroom's mother and had belonged to his grandmother, Mrs. Bertrum Wileman, who designed it.

Mrs. Robert L. Holstein of Detroit was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Paul Hines of Detroit, Mrs. Donald Hamilton of Warren, Mrs. John G. Smith of Warren and Mrs. Ronald K. Steadman.

They wore Wedgewood blue gowns of silk organza over taffeta with Queen Anne necklines. The matron of honor's bouquet was of pink sweetheart roses and blue bachelor buttons with ivy. The bridesmaids had bouquets of pink sweetheart roses and ivy.

Anthony W. Pew of Bloomfield Hills was best man. Ushers were Jerry Florez of Birmingham and New York City, Jerry L. Towns of Toledo, Ohio, Mr. Holstein, the bride's brother-in-law, and Joseph E. Venola Jr., the bride's brother.

A reception was held at Hillcrest Country Club, Mt. Clemens. Following a honeymoon to Cape Cod, the couple will make their home in Beverly Hills.

Both are graduates of Hillsdale College. The bride was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Her husband is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Mrs. Venola wore a gown of American Beauty chiffon over satin with a corsage of fleur de lis stephanotis. Mrs. Broock was dressed in a gown of blue silk organza over taffeta with a corsage of Amazon lilies.

MRS. HERBERT F. BAUER

Judith Bassett Wed to Herbert F. Bauer

All Saints Episcopal Church was the scene of the Saturday afternoon wedding of Judith Marie Bassett and Herbert Frederick Bauer Jr.

The Rev. Ivol I. Curtis of St. James Episcopal Church, Los Angeles, officiated at the ceremony before 250 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bassett of East Iroquois road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Bauer of Sierre Madre, Calif.

Of white silk organza over taffeta, the bride's floor length gown featured a square neckline and short sleeves. The bodice and front panel were of Alencon lace and the skirt formed a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a headpiece of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Bassett of Ft. Wayne, Ind., was matron of honor, Janet Matson of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Patrick Sweeney of Garden City were bridesmaids.

Junior bridesmaid was Jacqueline Sharkey of Livonia. Stephen Bassett of Ft. Wayne was ring bearer.

The attendants wore gowns of jewel rose silk organza with boat necklines and cap sleeves. Bands of shirring accented the bell shaped skirts and extended to bows in the back.

★ ★ ★

Their nose veils were held by matching shaped headpieces of shirred net and seed pearls. They carried semi-cascade bouquets of white Fugi chrysanthemums and ivy.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Ushers included George Bassett of Pontiac, the bride's brother; Jack Sharkey of Livonia, Jack Walker of Garden City, and Robert Edwards of Milwaukee.

★ ★ ★

A reception was held in the Rose Kneale room of the church. For her going away outfit the bride wore a brown silk suit with brown accessories and pink and white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

Following a honeymoon through Michigan, the couple will travel to the West Coast where they will make their home in Berkeley, Calif.

Both are graduates of the University of Southern California.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bassett wore a sheath dress of wedgewood blue lace and net over light blue taffeta with a matching feathered hat and accessories.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bauer was dressed in a mauve pink silk organza sheath with a matching feathered hat. Both had white cymbidium orchid corsages.

Both Asking for Trouble . . . Abby

Scantily Clothed Girl Bad for Son

DEAR ABBY: My 19-year-old son has been dating a beautiful 17-year-old girl. Yesterday he brought her over here and she was wearing the briefest of shorts with only one of those old-time red kerchiefs tied around her top. I was shocked to think a mother would let her daughter go out looking like that.

ABBY

The next day the girl's mother called me and told me that her daughter never had such a "roughing up" in her life. And for me to tell my son never to come over there again.

Abby, don't you think that when a girl goes around like that she is asking for trouble? I'm not making up excuses for my son, but he is only human.

A MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A young man who's had the proper moral upbringing would not go out with a girl who was not respectably clothed—much less "rough her up." On the other hand, a mother who wants her daughter to be treated like a young lady should see that she dresses like one. It's always the peach that is easy to reach that winds up in the jam.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I know this gag is older than the hills but some of the boys I know are still using it. They will take you out for a ride in the country and then the car "stalls." What do I do?

CINDY

DEAR CINDY: When the car "stalls"—do likewise.

DEAR ABBY: My wife claims that because she has three children to take care of she hasn't time to do the washing, ironing and cleaning. When I want a clean shirt I have to go out and buy one. We have an automatic washer.

My mother had six kids and only a washboard but we always had clean clothes and my father was proud to bring his friends home. I wouldn't dare surprise my wife with company because unless she had a week's notice, the house wouldn't be fit to walk into.

I love my wife, Abby, but it's getting so I hate to go home. Print this. She'll know it's for her. HAD IT

DEAR HAD: A word to the wise is sufficient. The foolish require several hundred more —repeat frequently.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who is 28 years old. She shaves every day. She started when she was about 20 because she had a heavy dark growth of hair on her face. She is a fine woman and has a real good job, but she is so self-conscious about her face that she won't go out with any men. Is there anything I can do for her?

CONCERNED BROTHER

DEAR BROTHER: Your sister should consult a dermatologist (skin doctor) or a reliable specialist in the field of electrolysis, which is the technique of removing hair by using electric needles.

Church Is Scene of Evening Rites

Central Methodist Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Mary Oleta Moore and Stuart Alan Choate. Dr. Milton H. Bank officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill Moore of Sheridan avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Choate of James street.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore a gown of silk organza with a V neckline of pleated silk organza caught by appliques of Alencon lace. The bouffant floor length skirt was accented with pleating and scattered appliques. A floating panel formed a fan train and a scalloped pill box of Alencon lace held her fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Darrell Judy was her sister's matron of honor and bridesmaids were Florence Hogan of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Jack L. Allan of Trenton, the bridegroom's sister. They wore aqua nylon chiffon dresses with portrait necklines and short sleeves. The matron of honor carried a fan of pink roses and the bridesmaids carried fans of red roses.

★ ★ ★

Flower girl Theresa Lynn Moore wore an aqua gown of embroidered nylon over taffeta and she carried an aqua basket filled with pink rose petals. Ringbearer was David Allan.

James Turner of Monroe was best man. Ushers were Robert W. Mason of Britton, Kenneth Bennett of Dearborn, Paul Wickliffe of Saline and Richard Bashore.

★ ★ ★

A reception was held in the church parlors. For her going away outfit the bride chose a navy blue two-piece suit with navy accessories and a white feather hat and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

After a honeymoon in Northern Michigan, they will live in Ypsilanti where the bride is attending Eastern Michigan University. The bridegroom attended Eastern Michigan where he was affiliated with Sigma Tau Gamma, Stoic Society, Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa.

★ ★ ★

Delta Zeta Sorority, Adahi, senior women's honorary, Stoic Society, Kappa Delta Pi and Lambda Iota Tau.

Mrs. Moore wore a Dior blue silk organza sheath dress and Mrs. Choate chose a pale blue organza dress. Both had corsages of carnations and roses.

Mary Oleta Moore and Stuart Alan Choate were married Saturday evening. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill Moore of Sheridan avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil L. Choate of James street.

MRS. STUART ALAN CHOATE

Carol Young Feted Before Trip to Altar

Carol Young, bride-elect of Wayne Pyke, was honored Saturday at a spinster luncheon given by the matron of honor, Mrs. John Devine, and bridesmaid Barbara Magnus. The affair was held at Miss Magnus' Bloomfield Hills home.

★ ★ ★

Guests were Mrs. Lee Hathaway, Mrs. David Grover, Mrs. Donald Ostrander, Mrs. Lewis Hunt, Mrs. Ronald Kasher, Sharon Hubbell, Joan Wagley and Yolanda Jackson.

Miss Young was also honored at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Leon Wolverton at her home on Ivy street. Mrs. Judy Thompson was cohostess.

Americans spent about two billion dollars on foreign travel in 1958, approximately one third of it for transportation, reports the National Industrial Conference Board.

Allergy Can Affect Skin

Seek Cause of Blemishes

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thousands of folks are troubled with skin blemishes. These not only are unsightly but can be extremely uncomfortable because of the itching, burning and swelling they may produce.

We should think of our skin as an organ. It performs many important tasks. It regulates body temperature and throws off impurities. It also registers cold and heat, pain and touch.

Many of those who suffer from dermatitis of one sort or another fail to suspect that its origin may be allergic. However very often this is true.

It is estimated that around 600,000 workers in the United States alone are victims of occupational dermatitis.

REFLECTS DISORDERS

The skin may reflect disorders of the heart, liver and kidneys. It may also react mildly or violently because of one or more allergies. So many people have allergic tendencies and so few know anything about allergies that the allergists of the United States who are members of the American Academy of the Allergy and The American College of Allergists have organized The Allergy Foundation of America.

The purpose of this organization is to support research, assist in the organization of clinics, inform the public and improve instruction for students and physicians.

Eczema is one of the more stubborn skin diseases which is usually caused by allergy. This may occur in infancy or childhood or in adult life. The rash may be mild or it may cover most of the body.

Infection frequently follows scratching. There is always danger in infection and the skin may become rough and scaly, thus damaging appearance and often personality.

Foods are high on the suspect list. Eggs, milk and wheat are the most usual irritants, especially eggs. The reaction to these may be quite violent. Of course hay fever, asthma and hives are three more diseases which are known to be of allergic origin.

The Allergy Foundation of America has some informative booklets in case you should want one or more. Three are "Hay Fever and What You Can Do About It," "Allergy in Children" and "Handbook for the Asthmatic." The cost of each is 25 cents. In case you should wish to send for one write to The Allergy Foundation of America, 801 Second Avenue, New York, 17, N.Y.

Have You Tried This?

Grapenuts Add Texture to Rich Frozen Cream

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's recipe is for an interesting frozen dessert. It's the sort of thing that will keep in the freezer.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Paul Hagle who shares the recipe with us is a working woman. She has long been interested and active in the Eastern Star. The Hagles' one son is in college.

GRAPENUTS CREAM
By Mrs. Paul Hagle

2 egg whites
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ cup grapenuts
¼ cup coarsely chopped almonds
¼ cup maraschino cherries, chopped
1 tablespoon cherry syrup
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup confectioners sugar, sifted
1 cup whipping cream

Beat egg whites until foamy, add the granulated sugar and beat until stiff. Fold in rest of ingredients except confectioners sugar and cream.

Beat cream stiff, add sugar and fold into first mixture. Put a few grapenuts in the bottom of little fluted paper cups. Pour in dessert. Freeze firm. Top with a whole cherry to serve. Serves 8-10.

Save 'Women's Talk' for Female Gathering

By RUTH MILLETT

Several couples were hashing over a recent party. "Did you notice that the men spent the whole evening in one circle and the women in another?" asked one of the wives.

"Sure," answered her husband. "And I'll bet my bottom dollar I can tell you what the women spent the whole evening talking about.

"First they talked about their children until they completely exhausted that subject. Then they talked about what they were doing to their houses. And they traded the latest gossip. And finally they got around to fashions.

"Why wouldn't the men get off by themselves to talk politics and sports and business and tell a few stories? Let's face it, when married couples get together the women take over the conversation completely and talk about what interests them.

"The men are shut out of the conversation completely. So naturally they wander off together to talk about the things that interest them."

That husband has a point all right. Unmarried women are good listeners whenever there's a man around. They keep a man talking by their wide-eyed attention, by their charming deference to his opinions and ideas, by their willingness to be impressed.

But married women have the bad habit of taking over the conversation when they are in a mixed group. They chatter away to each other, completely ignoring the men — and then wonder why the men quickly fade away and form a little group of their own.

Next time the men are cornered at a party — before they have time to drift away — why not try introducing a few topics that interest them and giving them a chance to have their say?

If you do, you may be surprised how the men brighten up and take part in the conversation. All they really need is a chance.

NELSON SARDELLI

Someone Said Why Not Sing and He Started

Somebody said, "Why don't you sing?" Since that night 10 months ago, Nelson Sardelli of Monroe street, Drayton Plains, has been singing. He has appeared in and around the Detroit area, on television, in Chicago and the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford.

★ ★ ★

Originally from Sao Paulo, Brazil, Nelson came here in June 1956. With little knowledge of the language, little money, no job and only two close friends he settled in Pontiac. After serving 15 months in the Army, he received an honorable discharge.

★ ★ ★

He began his vocal career so abruptly he knew only the currently popular song "Volare." Since then he has increased his repertoire to over 200 songs. He sings popular ballads, Latin or rock and roll.

He is now visiting his family in Sao Paulo but will return early in September to what the future in America holds for him.

Play Down Your Bad Features

Hollywood learned the secret of playing down unattractive physical features and highlighting the attractive ones in its stars. You can do the same at home.

If you have a short neck, for example, don't make it look shorter by wearing scarves, choker beads or high collars. You can wear scooped necklines and off-the-shoulder dresses and small, low collars to advantage.

To Each His Own When Using Wax

Using wood floor wax for asphalt, vinyl or rubber tile floors can be harmful. Here's why: The easy-spreading wax products usually contain a solvent, which is also the cleaning agent. This solvent can damage asphalt, vinyl and rubber tiles.

On the other hand, the water in waxes recommended for tiled floors will eventually spoil fine finishes on hardwood floors.

Needles for your sewing machine come in different sizes to use with different weights of thread and fabric.

Open House Honors Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lingle

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Robert Lingle (nee Constance Uhl) were honored Friday evening at an open house at Mrs. Lingle's home in Drayton Plains. The couple were married Aug. 8 in Weston.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Uhl of Drayton Plains and the Lester Lingles of North Paddock street. The newlyweds are temporarily making their home in Drayton Plains and will leave shortly for Siloam Springs, Ark., where the bridegroom is attending John Brown University.

Among out-of-town guests at the open house were the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Nellie Uhl of Brooklyn, Iowa, and Mrs. Floyd Sims of Detroit.

The new Mrs. Lingle was also honored at a post-nuptial miscellaneous and personal shower Thursday at the home of Mrs. Leonard Elliott of Drayton Plains. Cohostesses were Diane Elliott and Jane Scott.

★ ★ ★

Towel Features Tot Reminders

A roller towel that snaps around the bathroom towel rack features colorful grooming reminders for the small fry. A pony-tailed tot illustrates the commendable advice to wash your neck, wash your hands, clean your ears, and wash your face.

A roller towel at proper height makes it easy for children to carry out these instructions. Of course, mother should keep the towel as clean as the tot. That means supplying a clean towel at least once a day, then washing the soiled ones in hot soap or detergent suds.

It's the Little Things That Go to Add Pounds

The way most of us put on weight is through the little things. Some salted peanuts. A dessert when we know we should eat fresh fruit. A few crackers before bedtime.

They all seem so unimportant but, taken as a total, they can add up to impressive poundage at the end of six-months. And thy all contribute to poor eating habits.

Amricans are great snackers and this is where a great portion of the national weight problem develops. We also love sweet things out of all proportion. While we may use both snacks and sweets to good advantage, what we really do is tend to let them get out of hand.

A glass of milk or an apple at bedtime may help you to go off to sleep. A mint before dinner will take the edge from your appetite. But stuffing between meals or eating a succession of candy bars daily will only turn you into a fatty.

Down in Dumps?

Have you thought about a new hairdo? It is surprising how new makeup, a new setting or a hat will help a woman snap out of the blues.

Parents' Lax Discipline Now Taking Toll

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Maintaining Central Park in my city costs us taxpayers a lot of money. But our use of it is so limited that most of us seldom enter it. Those who do enter it, do so only in broad daylight; and even then take care to avoid its less frequented walks and benches.

★ ★ ★

For the park we support has been taken over by teenage hoodlums who use its lovely shrubbery and shade trees as bases from which to launch muggings, robberies and other assaults upon us. As no law actually forbids us entering the park after sundown, a policeman won't arrest you for doing so. He'll just glare at you angrily as a troublemaker, who'll shortly be making nasty work for him.

★ ★ ★

Do the responsible adults of my city rise up to protest this surrender of the park to irresponsible children? No. We are all too used to submitting to childen's expansive impulses even to question our surrender to the young hoodlums.

Our training in this submission begins early.

The moment our baby gets out of his crib, we start organizing our submission to his expansive impulses. Like vacating tenants, we remove ourselves from the living room to deliver it to the toddler. We are told to do so by our big child guidance authorities, and obediently denude our shelves and tables of any of our possessions that our toddler might grab.

Just as the citizens of my city are unable to wonder, "Why should we give up our park to adolescent vandals?" we are unable to wonder, "Why should we deliver our living room over to this delightful but marauding infant of ours?"

So we really can't blame the adolescent vandals for taking over the parks we support, the schools we've built, the wallets containing money we've earned—and doing as they please with them.

No respected grownup has ever said to them, "No, you can't have that." Accustomed to adults who have always indulged their expansive impulses, they naturally become very bitter when the law finally says, "No, you can't have that"—and declares, "I now judge you to be a delinquent child."

★ ★ ★

Know something? The only fellow citizen I've heard really protest the loss of our park to teenage marauders is a European child psychiatrist. He said, "Must you all just give up when the kids say 'Gimme'?"

Colorado's 15 national forests occupy one-fifth of the state.

Sleep Is Every Woman's Best Aid to Beauty

Rest is an item greatly underrated by American women. For we are an active, driving people who would rather do almost anything than go to sleep.

And our faces show it. They are frequently tense, worn and haggard, even in youth.

Women who spend hours in a beauty salon forget that a perfect hairdo can't turn a lined face into perfection. They'll shop for clothes for hours and forget to rest for an equal length of time.

Sleep is possibly the greatest single aid to beauty that we have. And it should not be achieved by sleeping pills or tranquilizers. It should be arrived at by a slowing down at the end of the day, by an evening that is tranquil and restful in itself.

No matter what your age, you need at least eight hours' sound sleep each night.

MRS. DONALD K. PARKS

Saturday afternoon Sallie Ann Rennie and Donald K. Parks were married in Owosso. Their parents are Mrs. Clifford Moran of Venice court, Bert Rennie of Detroit, and the Wesley Parks of Owosso.

Will Live in Owosso

Wed at Trinity Church

Sallie Ann Rennie and Donald Keith Parks were married Saturday afternoon at Trinity Methodist Church in Owosso. The Rev. Cecelia Learn officiated at the service before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clifford Moran of Venice court and Bert Rennie of Detroit. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Parks of Owosso.

★ ★ ★

The bride was dressed in a gown of white organdy. It was accented by a sweetheart neckline, an Empire waist, and a wide insert of embroidered flowers on the skirt. A veil of imported English illusion lace and a colonial bouquet of roses and baby ivy completed her outfit.

Ann Lake of Port Huron served as maid of honor. Sue Rennie was her sister's attendant. Both were dressed in green silk organdy with corsages of roses and mums.

★ ★ ★

Walter Haskins of Owosso was the best man. Ushers were Gene, Robert and Kenneth Parks, all brothers of the bridegroom.

Following a reception at the church, Mr. and Mrs. Parks left for a honeymoon in Northern Michigan. The bride wore a beige dress with green accessories. The couple will live in Owosso.

The new Mrs. Parks is a Central Michigan University graduate. Mr. Parks was graduated from Eastern Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Moran chose a harvest blue print silk chiffon dress with blue accessories and Mrs. Parks wore an aqua dress with beige accessories.

Tape Talk of Gifted Children

The conversation of gifted children will be studied by tape-recorded classroom discussions. The new project is part of the University of Illinois' Institute for Research on Exceptional Children.

The main goal of the project: To learn how productive thinking can be stimulated in school children of average intelligence. The Institute has been given $15,000 for the study from the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund of Chicago.

★ ★ ★

The project's first year will be devoted to listing types of verbal interchange in the schoolroom, finding out more about productive thinking, and what may encourage or hamper it, and determining what role the teacher plays in this type of thinking.

★ ★ ★

Recordings made in a social studies class at the laboratory school of the University of Illinois College of Education will assist investigators in spotting behavior indicating productive thinking, and how classroom conditions affect it.

On the Village Green

Franklin Artists to Show Work

FRANKLIN VILLAGE — An event to be remembered is being planned here in "the village that time forgot."

Artists, art lovers, housewives, businessmen and other volunteers are busily preparing Franklin Village's first all - community art show to be held Sept. 19, and being billed as the Franklin Arts and Crafts Roundup.

* * *

A special committee is seeking artists and craftsmen, be they children or adults, to exhibit their works of art and crafts on the village green.

The exhibit will be held in conjunction with the village's annual outdoor Barbecue Roundup.

Local stores are cooperating by displaying paintings, pottery, ceramics and other art and crafts media to publicize the show.

The Franklin Village branch of the Detroit Bank is featuring an exhibit of colorful masks by area children. A showing of water colors is scheduled to appear in the local tea room.

The store displays are representative of work by area residents to be exhibited at the roundup.

The roundup committee has announced that Mike Church, head of the University of Michigan Extension Service Art Department, will tour the show to make selections for the seventh annual Regional Art Show at Ann Arbor next summer.

As an added inducement for artists here, the Franklin Community Assn. is offering $50 for the best water color or oil painting of Franklin Community Church.

The painting is to be presented later to the church.

Rochester Hires 34 Teachers

3 More Still Needed; Several Changes in Personnel Slated

ROCHESTER — Thirty-four new teachers have been hired to staff Rochester Community Schools during the coming school year, Donald C. Baldwin, superintendent of schools, announced today.

* * *

Two elementary teachers and a visiting teacher still are needed to complete the faculty roster, Baldwin said.

Several transfers of personnel already in the system also will become effective with the opening of School.

The instrumental music department will be expanded through the addition of Frederic Johnson, the superintendent reported.

WILL DIRECT BAND

Johnson, graduate of Wayne State University, will direct the varsity band and the high school instrumental music program. In addition, he will teach elementary instruments at Meadow Brook School.

Ward T. Reid, for the past 14 years director of the high school band, will now concentrate his efforts in the junior high. He also will have elementary students from the Harrison Building.

The remainder of the elementary instrumental music program will continue to be directed by Kenneth DeVor.

* * *

"We appreciate the fine contribution Ward Reid has made to the development of the music program," said Supt. Baldwin.

"It is at his request that he is being transferred to the junior high. It is no longer possible for one man to adequately direct the program.

"There are just too many interested students," the administrator asserted.

New Junior College Opens Sept. 14

School on Avon Lists 150 Coeds

North Central Christian Has 37 Acres, Plans 14 Buildings Near Lake

By LEE WINBORN

AVON TOWNSHIP — Oakland County's first junior college will open its doors Sept. 14.

North Central Christian College on Avon road will welcome 150 coeds in its first freshman class.

One third of the group will live on campus while the other two-thirds will commute to classes.

The new liberal arts college, although founded by a group of laymen and ministers of the Churches of Christ, is a non-denominational school operated by an independent board of directors with no church control.

* * *

"We do not get money from any church treasury, but we do solicit contributions from individual members," said Dean E. Lucien Palmer.

The founders purchased the 37-acre college site, two miles southwest of Rochester, from Detroit advertising executive Lou Maxon.

The former estate is bordered on the north by the Clinton River, but the campus will be centered around Lake Norcentra and another small private lake.

Included in the buildings now standing on the estate are the large main house, a studio building, caretaker's cottage, greenhouse and a general repair shop.

* * *

Over 200 feet long, the main house is contemporary in design and is built on several levels overlooking the lake. Some classes will be conducted here during the first year.

* * *

Now nearing completion is a multi-purpose, three-story building which will house the student social-dining center and 60 dormitory rooms with an adjacent wing for administrative offices and temporary classrooms.

The administrators and office staff will move into this building Sept. 1.

The dining room or cafeteria will seat 200 and can feed "a lot more," noted Palmer.

A master plan has been drawn by Wyeth and Harman Architects of Port Huron for developing the entire acreage.

A total of 14 college buildings, including the one now under construction, is being planned for paved terraces oriented to the lake.

Thirteen of the total 17 members of the faculty already have begun to arrive on campus, according to Otis Gatewood, college president. Gatewood and Dean Palmer are included in the number who will teach courses at the new college this fall.

Based on principles of "academic achievement and Christian ideals," the college courses will emphasize religion centering around a daily devotional period and regular courses in the Bible.

"Our curriculum is unique in that we are offering five languages in the freshman year," Palmer said.

"We will have about as strong a foreign language department as any university even though we are a liberal arts college," the dean pointed out.

The languages to be offered are French, German, Greek, Spanish and Ukranian. The latter is a forerunner to a course in Russian which the administration plans to include in the curriculum in 1961.

"North Central also will emphasize courses in the mission department. And these foreign languages will not only serve liberal arts students, but those who plan to be missionaries in foreign lands," Palmer explained.

Other divisions of study, besides Bible and languages, will be business education, fine and applied arts, mathematics and science, social science and physical education.

* * *

In the beginning intra-mural sports will be offered. These will include any sports which students may participate in without a gymnasium, Palmer said.

Night courses also are scheduled this fall on a credit or non-credit basis.

* * *

The administrators are "pleased" that North Central Christian College is located in such close proximity to Michigan State University Oakland because of the social and academic interchange that will be possible under these conditions.

During the past week 70,000 announcements were sent out from the college telling about the forthcoming opening.

Prior to the actual opending date, an open house is scheduled. It will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Everyone in the area will be welcome to tour the grounds and to visit the new multi-purpose building and main house, Gatewood said.

PLAN OPEN HOUSE — Administrators and faculty personnel of North Central Christian College are busy planning for an open house to be held at the college on Labor Day, Sept. 7. Working on the program are, left to right, College President Otis Gatewood, Professor Maurice Hall and Dean E. Lucien Palmer. They also are preparing for the official opening Sept. 14. One hundred and fifty students are enrolled in the first freshman class of this new, coeducational liberal arts junior college.

MULTI-PURPOSE BUILDING — The first academic building constructed on the campus of North Central Christian College, located two miles southwest of Rochester, is now nearing completion. It is the multi-use building which will contain a social-dining center and 60 dormitory rooms in one wing and administrative offices and temporary classrooms in the other. The administrators and office staff will move in Sept. 1.

Rochester Methodist Rite Unites Couple Sunday

MRS. JAMES B. FARR

ROCHESTER — Ellen Patricia Purdy and James B. Farr were united in marriage Sunday at St. Paul Methodist Church here before an altar banked in white carnatons and gladioli.

* * *

The candlelight, double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Douglas Parker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Purdy of 172 Oaklane Dr. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Farr of Peck.

A full-length satin and Chantilly lace gown with a lace front panel and chapel train was worn by the bride.

MOTHER'S CREATION

It was fashioned by her mother and featured a princess waistline and bodice accented by appliques beaded with seed pearls and sequins.

A veil of French illusion was secured by a beaded crown. The bride carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Her sister Margaret assisted her as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sherry Hood of Royal Oak, Bonnie Oswalt of Vicksburg and the bridegroom's sister, Mary Lou Flower girl was Betsy Brown of Yale.

Serving as best man was the bridegroom's brother, Forrest.

Ushers were Richard Bohl of Jackson; the bridegroom's other brother, William of Sandusky; John Mills of Detroit; and Lynn Aris of Rochester.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony.

TO RESIDE IN MILFORD

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Northern Michigan. They will reside at 225 Houghton St., Milford, upon their return.

Lightning Fires Barn in Lapeer Township

LAPEER TOWNSHIP—Lightning set fire to a barn at 749 Five Lakes Rd. at 12:15 a.m. today, destroying the building and farm equipment and antique furniture stored inside.

* * *

The bolt also knocked out the telephone service, forcing a neighbor to call the Lapeer fire department. The barn is owned by L. W. Stier.

No estimate of the loss was immediately available, according to the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department.

Third Graders Rush to Defense of Parrot

FORT WAYNE, Ind (AP) — Third graders were enraged when a newspaper columnist described their pet parrot, Sam, as "the dumbest pupil in the third grade because he has spent five years there without being promoted."

* * *

One youngster wrote the newspaper:

"I don't like that remark about Sam being dumb. He's in the third grade, and he's only 7 years old."

Get 2 Apples a Game

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Some kids give apples to the teacher but the University of Oklahoma has made a switch and gives each of its football players two big red apples at 10 p.m. the evening before each game.

Smog Problem Even Bedevils Johannesburg

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Smog is even bedeviling Johannesburg, which is generally considered to have one of the finest all-around climates in the world.

To keep tabs on the situation, the South African Council for Scientific and Industrial Research is using a barrage balloon that once played an important part in defending the Normandy invasion beaches against German air attack during World War II.

The balloon takes regular air readings over Johannesburg and Pretoria. According to the research council, it found that 200 tons of sulphur dioxide, 30 tons of smoke and 20 tons of gasoline vapor pollute the air over Johannesburg each day.

The only real answer to the problem, according to Dr. E. C. Halliday, head of the council's division of general physics, is carefully planned legislation to cut down on the industrial and other sources of dirty air.

Murphy to Lead Beverly Hills

Ex-Policeman Moves Up

BEVERLY HILLS — Embarking on a second career, this time as manager of this village, is Robert E. Murphy.

Three years ago he retired as Detroit police inspector in charge of the Palmer Park station. But the easy life ran against the grain with Murphy.

* * *

He took a job as public safety director of Beverly Hills in March of last year.

It was quite a switch from running a 170-man precinct to heading the three-man private police department. Murphy soon organized and enlarged the force to nine men in the four and a half square mile village.

The second switch — to village manager — is a natural for the likeable Murphy. He has a special knack for getting along with people.

SEES CHALLENGE

"I'm looking forward to it," he said. "It's a challenge I never thought I'd have the chance to meet.

"Although in a small town like this you have to worry about everything, you kind of grow up with it, and it's more fun than work.

"In the few months I've been here, I've discovered there are more things to fret about than I ever dreamed existed when I was in Detroit. But I love it."

* * *

There's another reason for Murphy to be excited. The village's new municipal building which he helped plan will be ready for occupancy the same day he takes over his new duties, Sept. 15.

Lumber Helps Austria

Lumber and wood pulp for paper are the greatest single source of revenue for Austria.

State Fair Date September 4-13

10-Day Event in Detroit Lists Everything From Queens to Fireworks

DETROIT (AP) — The 110th Michigan State Fair, one of the nation's oldest and largest, begins here Sept. 4 with prospects bright for reaching the one-million attendance mark for the first time.

* * *

The 10-day event will include everything from beauty queens and marching bands to stock car races, stage shows and pie-eating contests.

Gov. Williams and Detroit Mayor Louis Miriani will head the traditional opening day parade through downtown Detroit.

* * *

The parade also will include precision marching groups, bands, floats and many of the animals to be entered in the grand championships.

There will be special days for veterans, children, teachers, and oldtimers, while union and labor groups will take the spotlight on Labor Day, Sept. 7.

Twice-daily free shows will be held in the grandstand for the first nine days, with a 250-mile new car stock race scheduled there on the fair's closing day, Sunday, Sept. 13, topped off by a gigantic fireworks display that night.

* * *

On the traditional Governor's Day, Gov. Williams will participate in the auctioning of the grand champion livestock in the afternoon and will crown Miss Michigan State Fair in the evening.

The stage shows during the first four days and nights will feature Dick Clark, Frankie Avalon and 13 other acts. The show during the final three days and nights will feature Tony Bennett, the Mills Brothers, Connie Francis, Richard Hayman and several others.

The fair's dates of Sept. 4-13 mark the latest the event has ever been held.

Couple Tours South U. S. After Clarkston Wedding

MRS. JACK PARR

CLARKSTON — Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parr are touring the southern United States on a honeymoon following their wedding Friday in First Church of the Nazarene here.

* * *

The former Betty Jane Brian, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Brian of 7097 Tappon Dr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Parr of Brown City.

Performing the candlelight ceremony was the Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson.

For her wedding the bride wore a white lace and tulle gown with a soft scoop neckline finished in lace scallops and appliqued with sequins.

FORMS CHAPEL TRAIN

Her bouffant skirt, trimmed with lace, formed a chapel train. A fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from an imperial crown of seed pearls and sequins.

Assisting the bride as maid of honor was Barbara Tossey of Clarkston. Bridesmaid was Charlene Frusher of Drayton Plains. Vicki Parr was flower girl.

Duties as best man were performed by the bridegroom's brother, Bob, of Brown City. Ushers were Bill and Thomas Brian, brothers of the bride, and the bridegroom's other brother, Ben of Clarkston. Michael Parr was ringbearer.

* * *

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

Following their honeymoon, the newlyweds will reside in Brown City.

Sixth Circuit Judge to Ask Retirement

DETROIT (UPI)—Federal Judge Charles C. Simons, 83, was expected to ask President Eisenhower today for retirement from the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Simons, who lives in Highland Park, has been on the federal bench for 36 years, the last 27 of them on the Circuit Court. He was appointed to the Appeals Court by President Hoover in 1932.

Although the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals sits in Cincinnati, Judge Simons did most of his work in preparation of opinions at the Federal Building in Detroit.

He hopes to retire on Sept. 15, but would like to be placed on the list of retired judges who are called in occasionally to sit on special cases. Judge Simons has served in the Sixth Circuit longer than any other judge in history. The circuit includes Michigan, Ohio, Tenessee and Kentucky.

Tigers to Sink or Swim With 'Big 4'

Four Starting Pitchers Will See Extra Duty

Lary Gets 16th Win as Teammates Blast Orioles, 9-5

DETROIT (AP) — Jimmie Dykes has decided that the Detroit Tigers will sink or swim in the next five weeks with the big four pitching staff of Frank Lary, Paul Foytack, Don Mossi and Jim Bunning.

"The race is so clogged up and the battle for position so severe that I'm going down the line with the starters," said the manager.

The Tigers did a little swimming yesterday, winning the first game of a scheduled double header against Baltimore by a 9-5 score. Then, to keep both teams from sinking, the umpires postponed the second game.

A downpour struck Briggs stadium after Bob Nieman hit a first inning home run for the Orioles against Bunning for a 1-0 Baltimore lead. After a 49-minute delay, play was resumed but the Tigers could get only one batter to the plate before the deluge started over again.

★ ★ ★

The second game promptly was rescheduled for today and Dykes just as promptly announced that Mossi — who pitched five and one-third innings Saturday afternoon— would be his Monday starter.

Mossi will be working with one day's rest, Bunning started to work yesterday with two days' rest.

Dykes says the Tiger staff is young and strong, and he sees no reason why the pitchers can't pull extra duty for the last five weeks of the campaign.

"In tight situations late in the game, the starters may have to relieve," said Dykes. "And two days later, they may have to start again. That's the way it has to be. We're fighting for position and the pitchers we can depend on most must do the extra work."

Lary won yesterday's opener, though he needed help in the eighth inning from Tom Morgan. Lary's 16th victory—he has lost eight—was a sloppy one in that he yielded 11 of the Oriole hits. The Baltimore club hit him in every inning, Nieman hitting home runs in the fourth and sixth innings, and driving across another run with a single.

Double plays helped Lary out of two jams and his teammates supported him with 14 hits including a grand slam home run by Yost. The blast came in the second inning and wiped out Baltimore's 1-0 lead.

The triumph, achieved before 24,031, pulled the Tigers into fourth place, a position they have not occupied for about six weeks.

Yost had a perfect day at bat with his grand slam, second of the season and fourth of his career, and two singles. The veteran third baseman also walked once and was hit by the pitcher another time.

Alee Is Winner of Tennis Title

Ralph Alee, 34-year-old Pontiac tennis ace, lost seven pounds in Saturday's humid weather as he went six sets to win the County Open singles championship and a semi-finals match in the doubles.

Alee defeated ex-PCH netter Leon Hibbs, 6-2, 0-6, 6-0 to win the singles crown after he and John Martusiewicz spent three hours earlier defeating father and son, Dan and Tom Murphy, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 in doubles.

The doubles title is now slated for Wednesday at 5:00 p.m. Alee and Martusiewicz will meet Tom Belton and Bruno Kearns on the PCH courts.

The finals were scheduled for last Saturday evening but Belton, Waterford recreation director, had to make an emergency trip to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where his wife gave birth to a baby girl.

Ex-Lion QB Is Jailed Again

Eyes of Texas — on Layne

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Peace justice J. H. Watson said today that Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Bobby Layne will have to appear in county court "probably within two or three weeks" to answer to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Watson said that the charge, a misdemeanor, will be transferred to the court of county judge John Allen. The charge was filed in Watson's court.

The automobile in which Layne and three other pro football players were riding struck a parked vehicle in the pre-dawn hours yesterday. Layne was arrested at 5:45 a.m. and spent several hours in the city jail before two Austin attorneys posted $300 bond.

The other players with Layne were not arrested. Police identified them as quarterback Len Dawson, and Cardinal linemen Bill Koman and Jack Patera.

It was the second time within the past two years that Layne had been arrested on a drunk driving charge. He was once picked up in Detroit, when he played with the Detroit Lions, but was cleared of the charge.

Only a few hours earlier, Layne was honored at half-time of an exhibition game between the Steelers and the Chicago Cardinals in the University of Texas' Memorial Stadium. Layne was a star at Texas and was an all-American in 1947.

He was presented a plaque, on which his football career was detailed and stood on a platform in front of the crowd as a band played "the eyes of Texas are upon you."

★ ★ ★

The officers report showed that Layne's automobile struck a parked car and that he drove around the corner and left it.

The four players were in a taxi some four or five blocks away when the cab was stopped by police and Layne arrested.

Layne could not be reached for comment. Neither would his attorneys, Jack Sparks and Frank Erwin, make any statements on the incident.

★ ★ ★

Steeler coach Buddy Parker said all the information he had was "second hand" and declined to comment other than to say he probably would talk to Layne.

The Steelers left town yesterday by bus for San Marcos, 29 miles away, where they will train this week for next Saturday night's exhibition game with the Chicago Bears.

Lane Keeps Boasting Over Francona Trade

By The Associated Press

Until this year, trader Frank Lane always has boasted his best deals were those which brought pitcher Billy Pierce and second baseman Nellie Fox to the Chicago White Sox. The voluble Cleveland general manager is now ready to add a third.

On March 21 of this year, Lane traded veteran Larry Doby to Detroit for a utility outfielder who batted only 2.54 last year. His name: Tito Francona. It has turned out to be Lane's best trade as an Indian chief.

The 25-year-old Francona has been the Indians' best hitter ever since he was placed in the regular lineup. He is the league's No. 1 hitter with a .379 batting average that includes 17 home runs and 64 runs batted in, but has not been at bat enough times to qualify for the top spot officially. Doby, incidentally is in the minor leagues.

Francona hit two home runs yesterday. His first came in the ninth inning of the opener, snapped a scoreless pitching duel between Cleveland's Jim Perry and Boston's Tom Brewer, and gave the Indians a 1-0 victory.

It was the third time this season Tito has hit a game-winning homer in the final inning. His second homer came in the first inning of the nightcap, also won by the Indians 6-2. The sweep advanced the Indians to within a game and a half of league leading Chicago.

The White Sox lost a full game to Cleveland when they were held to a split in their twin bill with New York. The Yankees won the first game 7-1 but the Sox came back to take the nightcap 5-0.

Washington split with Kansas City, winning the first game 7-3 and losing the second 5-2.

A three-run homer by Minnie Minoso featured Cleveland's five-run blast in the fourth inning, snapping a 1-1 second game tie. Jack Harshman, doling out only four hits in five relief innings, was credited with his second victory in a week.

The seventh was the vital inning in each game of the White Sox-Yankee doubleheader. In the first game, pinch hitter Enos Slaughter singled in two runs with the bases full to snap a 1-1 tie and give Art Ditmar his ninth triumph and Early Wynn his eighth defeat.

In the second game, Sherman Lollar clouted his 18th home run in the seventh to ignite a five-run rally against Ralph Terry. A crowd of 44,250, largest of the year at Comiskey Park, saw young Bob Shaw hurl a six-hitter for his 13th triumph and second shutout.

Kansas City scored all its five runs in the third inning of the second game to gain its split with Washington as Johnny Kucks turned in a four-hitter.

JAILED — Ex-Lion quarterback Bobby Layne was jailed on a drunk driving charge for the second time in two years. Now with the Steelers, Layne was arrested following Saturday night's game in Austin, Texas, where he was honored a few hours earlier in the game against the Chicago Cardinals.

Tops Rubber City Open With 267

Nieporte Wins at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Tall Tom Nieporte, one of golfdom's friendliest fellows, owns his first pro championship and is $2,800 richer today.

The 29-year-old Cincinnati-born blond finished 17-under-par with a 72-hole total of 267 to grab the $20,000 Rubber City Open title yesterday by a three-stroke margin.

He has played three full years on the pro tour but this is the first time he has hit the winner's circle since he triumphed in the 1951 National Collegiate as a representative of Ohio State.

In putting together rounds of 67-69-65-66 for his 267 over the 6,620-yard par 71 course, Nieporte beat back the challenges of some of the game's finest.

Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., the 1958 rookie of the year, made a run for the cash with a closing 68 which gave him second place at 270. Bill Collins, also of Crystal River, wheeled into third with 271, getting birds on half the 18 holes as he closed with 65.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: Dumped pitch shots.
Diagnosis: Overdoing a good thing.

TREATMENT: Golfers in different sections use different terms, so perhaps I had better first explain what I mean by the "dumped pitch shot."

I mean the short shot where the clubhead hits the ground behind the ball and digs in, dumping the ball a few feet out in front of you. Maybe you call it a "pooped pitch shot," but the result is the same — terrible. This is shown only too clearly in today's drawing.

Now, we know that the downswing on this little shot should be DOWN AND THROUGH the ball. Never try to scoop the ball up with the hands; instead, let the clubhead loft get the ball up for you.

Just remember though, don't let the downswing be TOO DOWNWARD in character. There should be some sweep to the swing, particularly where the lie is good and the clubhead can get under the ball easily.

So sweep the clubhead through the ball to an extent. What we're looking for here, of course, is the happy medium. Make the swing down and through—but without too much emphasis on the "down."

Lions Elated Over Rookie Guards

Wilson Praises Young Linemen in 9-3 Victory

Detroit Running Game Is Successful Against Browns Saturday

The Detroit Lions apparently have found what they were looking for in two rookie guards, coach George Wilson said today.

Although he was still not ready to make any rash predictions for the Lions, Wilson obviously was elated over the play of guards Mike Rabold and Bob Grottkau, late arrivals in the Lions camp from the college All-Star squad.

Rabold and Grottkau received their first test with the Lions against the Cleveland Browns at Akron, Ohio, Saturday and contributed to Detroit's first victory of the exhibition season, a 9-3 squeaker.

"I couldn't see it too well from the sideline," Wilson said, "but I knew they (Rabold and Grottkau) had to be doing something, the way the running game was working.

"If you say they were good, then I'll say they were terrific."

★ ★ ★

Last week, after the Lions lost to the Chicago Cardinals, Wilson said the success of the team would depend on Rabold and Grottkau furnishing extra strength at the guard spots. Their play against the Browns left no doubt they could provide the offensive help the Lions needed, for one game at least.

Wilson ordered the Lions to test the running game against the Browns so he could see how well Rabold and Grottkau performed.

Tobin Rote, making his first start of the summer at quarterback, completed seven of 12 passes for 58 yards but was not disturbed by the meager aerial game.

★ ★ ★

"We set out to test our running attack," Rote said, "and, boy, it sure looks like we're going to have one this year."

"We know," said Wilson, "that the passing game will come along. We didn't know about our running game. This game helped."

The Lions, behind blocking supplied mostly by rookies, rushed for 251 yards.

The Lions' two best linemen, John Gordy and Charley Ane, did not play in the game and the offensive line included newcomers John Allen at center, Grottkau and Rabold at guards and Dick Guesman at tackle.

Wilson also was encouraged by the ball-toting of John Henry Johnson, Danny Lewis and rookie Nick Pietrosante.

Johnson, who plays best in odd-numbered years, smashed for 97 yards, including one 51-yard sprint and an eight-yard dash for the lone touchdown of the game.

Lewis picked up 95 yards, including a 44-yard sprint which set up the touchdown.

Pietrosante gained 58 yards, including one dash of 37 yards.

The victory over the Browns was Detroit's 16th in 21 meetings, the strangest mastery in professional football.

Young Backs Sparkle for Chicago Grid Team

Cardinals Bear Watching in NFL

By The Associated Press

With King Hill quarterbacking and jack-of-all-trades John David Crow doing the leg work, the Chicago Cardinals figure to be a royal bunch who'll bear watching during the forthcoming National Football League campaign.

Hill and Crow have had parallel careers, dating back to their college days at Texas schools. Hill, who did his college pitching for Rice, and Crow, who was Texas A&M's battering ram, both made the All-America team in 1957.

Both were top choices for the Cardinal rebuilding program but were forced to spend a good portion of their rookie season in 1958 on the bench with injuries as the Cardinals tied for last place in the Eastern Division with a 2-9-1 record.

Now the Texas tandem is leading the rejuvenated Cardinals, who have won all three of their exhibition games. Their latest triumph was a 21-10 victory over Pittsburgh Saturday in a nationally televised game.

★ ★ ★

Hill pitched touchdown passes of 60 and 30 yards to "pardner" Crow against the Steelers and scored once himself on a 14-yard dash to account for all the Cardinal TDS.

In other games over the weekend, the Green Bay Packers defeated San Francisco 24-17; Chicago's Bears nipped Philadelphia 24-21, and Detroit edged Cleveland 9-3.

Crow, who's turned into the workhorse of the Card backfield since the departure of Ollie Matson in a trade, now has scored four touchdowns in pre-season contests.

★ ★ ★

The Steelers—expected to be title contenders in the Eastern Conference—were unable to contend with the faking and signal-calling of Hill and had no one who could maneuver with Crow in the second-day. Pittsburgh scored its only touchdown in the third quarter, Tom Tracy going over from the 2 after a 7-yard aerial from Len Dawson to Jim Orr.

The Packers won their first game under new coach Vince Lombardi as a 96-yard kickoff return by rookie George Dixon set up the winning touchdown. Don McIlhenny banged over from the 2 for the clincher. The veteran Y.A. Tittle almost tied it for the 49ers, hitting R. C. Owens for a 40-yard pass as time ran out. Owens was downed within six inches of the goal line.

The Bears took their second in a row by three points as Willie Galimore supplied the explosives with two touchdowns. Galimore sped through the Eagle defense on an 85-yard kickoff return for one score and took a 34-yard pass from Zeke Bratkowski for the other. Norm Van Brocklin kept the Eagles close with two TD tosses, a pair to Tommy McDonald.

Hit 500 Targets in Row

Trapshooters Set Record

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) Five men shattered 500 consecutive targets Sunday to break a 25-year-old squad record in opening day activity at the 60th annual Grand American Trapshoot here.

Setting the mark were Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev.; Bill Harrison and Maynard Henry, both of Los Angeles, Herman Peterson of Dillon, Mont. and Zip Eaton of Helena, Mont.

The Dayton championship, however, was won by Arnold Rigger of Seattle, Wash., who broke 200 straight in the regulation shoot, then shattered an additional 150 straight in a shootoff with seven others.

Tied with Rigger at the end of 200 targets were George Higgins of Sacramento, Calif.; Hugh Hallowell of Paxton, Ill.; C. E. Barnhart of Prairie Village, Kan.; George Carlos of New Concord, Ohio; Vic Reinders of Waukesha, Wis.; Fred Waldock of Sandusky, Ohio, and Henry.

2,200 Entered in 3rd Annual Sports Festival Between Americas

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United States, trying to make amends for some of its recent international showings, marshalled its athletic prowess today for the Pan American games.

With a total of 406 athletes entered in all of the 27 sports on the program, the U. S. was a top heavy choice to win the unofficial team title from her sister American countries and regain some of the prestige lost in the last Olympic games and the world's basketball championships.

A total of 24 North and South American nations entered nearly 2,200 athletes in the games opening Thursday, making it the largest sports event ever held in the U. S. In the 1932 Olympic games at Los Angeles only 1,500 took part.

The U. S. dominated the entry list for this third renewal of the America's sports festival, naming a total of 323 men and 83 women to compete. The U. S. will be the only nation represented in every sport on the agenda for the games.

Mexico was second with 191 men and 34 women and Brazil third with 184 men and 40 women.

But neither of those nations, nor Argentina, which won the unofficial team title when the Pan American games first were staged in 1951, was expected to give the U. S. much of a test, although admittedly the U. S., except for track and field and basketball, was not calling on her best performers.

The U. S. was an easy winner of the unofficial team title in the second Pan American games held in Mexico in 1955 and figured to score even a more lop-sided victory this time.

★ ★ ★

Especially, the U. S. was eager to dominate the basketball competition to make up for its sorry showing in the world championships at Santiago, Chile, last January.

Milwaukee Takes 2nd, Giants Rained Out

Face Beats L. A. for 16th

By The Associated Press

Elroy Face may do it yet. The little Pittsburgh relief ace needs only three more victories to equal Rube Marquard's record of 19 consecutive triumphs in one season and Carl Hubbell's two-season streak of 24.

Face made it 16 in a row for 1959 and 21 since May 30, 1958 yesterday as the Pirates stunned Los Angeles with a sweep of a doubleheader 9-2 and 4-3 in 10 innings.

The 5-foot, 8-inch right-hander took over in the ninth after Pittsburgh had come from behind to tie the second game score 3-3. He hurled scoreless ball over two innings and copped the decision when Dick Groat singled with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 10th.

The Dodgers' double defeat dropped them into third place, a half game behind the Milwaukee Braves who defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-0. Los Angeles is now 4½ lengths behind the first-place San Francisco Giants, whose scheduled doubleheader in Philadelphia was rained out.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 5-3 for a sweep of the three-game series.

Don Drysdale, Dodger ace, was charged with both Los Angeles defeats. As a starter in the opener, he was routed in the third inning when the Pirates broke loose for four runs to overcome a 1-0 deficit. As a reliever in the second, he yielded the tying run in the eighth and the winning run in the 10th.

★ ★ ★

Bill Virdon, Pittsburgh center fielder, blasted seven hits. He had a double, two singles and a walk in the opener, and two singles, a double and a home run in the nightcap. He ignited the winning rally with two out in the 10th with a single. Smoky Burgess followed with a single and Bob Skinner walked. Then Groad came through with his game-winning single.

Milwaukee made only two hits but converted both into runs in sweeping the three-game series from the Cubs. Left-hander Art Ceccarelli gave up just one hit in six innings, a bloop single by Andy Parfko in the fifth. But a throwing error by third baseman Earl Averill on Ray Boone's grounder preceded the hit and Johnny Logan followed with a sacrifice fly to score Boone.

Dn Elston, who hurled the last two innings for the Cubs, gave up the other hit and run in the eighth when Logan doubled, went to third on a fly and scored on pitcher Bob Buhl's squeeze bunt. Buhl allowed six hits for his 11th victory and fourth shutout.

Jerry Lynch hit a two-run homer in the eighth to snap a 3-3 tie and give Cincinnati's Don Newcombe his 12th victory. Newcombe also hit a home run as the Reds gained their third straight over the Cards.

Spencer Last Softball Hope

Waterford 9 in Semis; Harrison Forfeits Out in Class C District

Spencer Floor Covering is the Pontiac-Waterford area's last hope for state softball honors following rain-delayed weekend action in the Class C district tournament at Mt. Clemens.

Harrison's Grill, this area's other entry in the double elimination event at Memorial Park, fell by the wayside Saturday night on a forfeit. The Grill team could field only eight men against Royal Oak and forfeited the decision to be eliminated.

Spencer and Royal Oak resume a 2-2 battle tonight at 6:30 with the winner meeting the Mt. Clemens Merchants immediately afterwards for the district title. Mt. Clemens has already moved into the finals with an unbeaten record.

The Spencer-Royal Oak struggle was halted in the bottom of the 9th inning with RO at bat, two men out and the bases empty. Spencer tied the score at 2-2 in the 4th stanza and Arlo Flesher, pitching in relief of Jack Nelson, was still holding the fort when the rains came.

Chuck Kirken delivered the game-winning hit for Spencer on Saturday evening, also an extra-inning duel. Kirken's single in the top of the 8th eliminated Southfield 4-3 with Flesher the winning hurler, once more in relief of Nelson.

If a 2nd game is necessary to decide the district champion, it will be played Tuesday night.

City Oldtimers Defeat Detroit for Playoff Title

A two-run double by the Rev. John Rakoczy broke up a 1-1 battle in the 5th and Pontiac went on to defeat Detroit 6-2 Sunday in the championship game of the International Old-Timers League playoffs at Wisner Field.

Detroit had blasted 14 hits in walloping Toledo 10-2 Saturday but could only get five off Herm Bishop yesterday.

Fr. Rakoczy's belt featured a five-run frame which put the game on ice. Darryl McGlashen batted in two others with a single. Walt Honchell of Pontiac was the only player in the game to get two hits.

Spokane's Cash Won by Hanson

SPOKANE (AP)—Beverly Hanson, a tall tee-shot artist from California, made up for erratic putting with long, whistling drives and took a two-stroke victory in the $7,500 Spokane Women's Open Golf Tournament yesterday.

★ ★ ★

But she had to stave off a courageous comeback by Louise Suggs, the veteran from Sea Island, Ga., to pocket the first-place prize money of $1,313.

Miss Suggs, entering the final round five strokes behind, finished it with a 72-hole total of 289, the same as Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Miss Wright, current National Women's Open champion, who had a 54-hole score of 215, just two back of Beverly, couldn't make up the difference as she, too, encountered putting difficulty.

Ace at Sunnybrook

Ed O'Neill, Rochester golfer who has been playing the game for the last 10 years, Sunday collected his first hole-in-one. In a foursome with Ray King, Dick Harpster (Pontiac) and Herm Fredericks of Royal Oak, Ed holed out his tee shot on No. 9 at Sunnybrook.

O'Neill's eight-iron shot on the 149-yard green hit close to the pin, made a bee-line for the cup.

Brisk Winds Provide Close Race Finishes

Excellent sailing conditions, with sunny skies and brisk breezes combined to give Watkins Lake Yachting Assn. unusually interesting weekend competition. Tight finishes were the rule.

Harm Gillam's Tar Baby was home first in thistle class followed by Norm Ledwan in First Luff and Don Zanpoth in Seaweed.

Only a minute separated first and 3rd boats in the lightning class with Dave Green in Green's Dream over first, Glenn Fries in Jo-Dee 2nd and Bruce-Fred Brede in Busy Bees 3rd.

Snipe event was won by Chuck Morris in R-Buoy, with Guy Duffield in G-Whiz and Frank Fleck in Byaes following in that order.

Oakland Hills Third in Interclub Event

While Detroit Boat club and Detroit Golf club swimmers wound up in a tie, Oakland Hills' aquatic team moved into 3rd place in the annual Michigan Interclub Swimming Assn. championships at DBC, Sunday.

★ ★ ★

DBC led going into the final event, but DGC took a 2nd to 3rd for DBC to gain the tie. Oakland Hills colected 83 points to 134 for DBC and DGC. A downpour and winstorm hit just as the final event was concluded, wrecking the officials' stand and scattering records all over.

★ ★ ★

In another interclub swim meet, at Knollwood club, the hosts won the Northwest Interclub title with 158 points. Ramblewood was 2nd with 124. Tam O'Shanter had 116 and Franklin Hills 37 points.

State Water Skiers High in U.S. Tourney

Michigan water-skiers finished high in the weekend national champoinships at Laconia, N. H., with Joe Grimaldi of Detroit's Metropolitan Beach winning the mixed doubles tricks title with Mary Jean Meggison of Hamilton, Ohio.

Paul Boel, who does his water-skiing with the Cass Lake club, was 2nd in veterans' jumping, with 79-79-76 feet (longest jumps), but was edged by the champ, Jim Middlebrook of Tampa Fla. on form. Sandra Goldman, 16, of Whitmore Lake club, skiing only two years, was 6th in slalom for girls.

Net 130 in MPGA Best Ball

Kurach and Krol Win Title

Home territory was friendly to John Kurach and Al Krol over the weekend as they combined their talents for a 12-under-par 130 to win the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's 2nd annual 36-hole Best Ball Invitational golf tournament at the Sunnybrook and Rochester courses.

Kurach, who does most of his golfing at Sunnybrook, and Krol, playing out of Rochester, fired a 65 each day for a one-stroke victory margin over the Bob-O-Link team of Ray Cane and Jim McLaughlin.

Cane and McLaughlin, who shared Saturday's 1st round lead with Pontiac's Wally Smith and Jay Law after shooting a 61 at Sunnybrook, skidded to a 70 Sunday at Rochester for a total of 131.

★ ★ ★

The River Bank tandem of Lee Gohs and Jim Partain Sr. took 3rd place with a score of 132 on rounds of 63-69. Smith and Law soared to a 73 yesterday to finish in a five-way tie for 4th spot at 134.

Completing the 134 bracket were Dr. A. E. LaCroix-Mack Supronowicz, Bud Stevens-Don Mead, Chuck Kocsis-Stan Sabat and Doug Wilson-Ty Caplin. Sam Lima and Dick Preston divided 5th with Walt Nossal and Harold Campbell at 135.

Preston shot Sunday's best individual score, a seven-under-par 65. Stevens came next with 67, followed by Krol at 69 and Kocsis, 70.

Scores involving Pontiac players were: Roy Iceberg and Sal Pomante, 68-70—138; Mike Andonian and Ed Wasik, 67-72—139; Dick Robretson and Dick DeWitt, 66-73—139; Stan Savage and George Woznak, 68-73—141.

★ ★ ★

A total of 64 teams competed in the tourney and 38 of them equalled or bettered par for the two days. Play was delayed for nearly an hour late yesterday afternoon by heavy thundershowers.

Leading scores:

John Kurach-Al Krol	65-65—130
Ray Cane—Jim McLaughlin	61-70—131
Lee Gohs-Jim Partain Sr.	63-69—132
Dr. A. E. LeCroix-Mack Supronowicz	63-71—134

Civil War Veteran, 116, Spends Restless Night

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Walter W. Williams, 116, had a restless night and remains in critical condition, his daughter reported.

"He hasn't been resting too well," Willie Mae Bowles said. "I got a little liquid nourishment down him, however."

Williams, Confederate veteran who is the Civil War's last surviving soldier, has been on the critical list several weeks.

Nuclear Fallout Being Neglected

Committee Asks More Study and Tests During Next Five Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The danger of nuclear fallout is not getting proper attention at high levels of the Eisenhower administration, the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee says.

The committee, reporting Sunday on hearings it held last May, said two years ago scientists estimated that radioactive debris from nuclear explosions would remain in the stratosphere from 5 to 10 years.

★ ★ ★

Revised findings now have cut down this period to one to five years, the report said. Fallout from Soviet tests conducted last year in far nothern latitudes has started reaching the earth in less than one year.

★ ★ ★

This fallout threat, the commission said, "as a whole has not received the high level administrative support and impetus which it needs and merits."

The committee said there would be a "hazard to the world's population" for the next two generations if testing is resumed this fall and continued at the same high rate of the past five years.

The United States voluntarily stopped atomic bomb tests for a year. This period expires at the end of October.

★ ★ ★

The committee urged less secrecy about fallout, and called for more effort and money spent to find out how much radiation is too much.

President Eisenhower recently named a new federal radiation council to study such problems, headed by Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Fleming.

Police Guard Fidel Castro Jr. in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Fidel Castro Jr., 10-year-old son of the Cuban leader, arrived in Chicago Sunday night to attend the Pan-American games which will be run from Aug. 27 through Sept. 7.

Secret service men, Chicago police and State Department representatives met the youth when his plane from Havana landed at Midway Airport.

Authorities said elaborate security measures were being taken to prevent possible harm to Castro's only child.

Peddlers Keep Away

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—After parents complained, an ordinance was passed requiring motorized ice cream salesmen to be off the streets from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. to 10 a.m.

The jingle-playing peddlers, the parents said, were keeping their children awake.

The first U. S. postage stamps were issued on March 3, 1847.

Collect Scrap to Save Scrapped Battleship

SEATTLE (AP)—Is the battleship West Virginia worth her weight in scrap iron?

A Seattle auto wrecker says she is. He says he and 104 other guys are willing to put up the scrap to save her from the scrapheap.

The West Virginia, smashed in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor but later rebuilt, is now at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard in Bremerton.

Last week, the Navy sold her to a New York metal company for $781,289.89. The company said it would scrap the battlewagon on the West Coast because she's too big to go through the Panama Canal.

"It's a crime," said Trudeau. "She's a beautiful vessel. They just don't make them like that any more."

So Trudeau, who has long cherished the dream of a floating museum, got busy on the telephone.

By Sunday, he said, he had put together a group of 105 men — junk merchants, farmers, automobile dealers who had pledged a thousand tons of scrap.

He fired off a letter to the Union Metals and Alloys Co. of New York offering equal tonnage of scrap for the big battleship.

★ ★ ★

Where is the scrap coming from?

Well, said Trudeau, an automobile dealer promised 25 old cars. Farmers pledged their rusty old ploughs Carnivals and lumber mills chipped in with obsolete equipment, and so on.

How much will it take to ransom the West Virginia?

"I don't know," said Trudeau. "I never weighed a battleship."

Kansas City Fireman Dies; Brings Toll to 5

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Another Kansas City fireman died Sunday of burns suffered in fighting a bulk gasoline station fire between Kansas City and Kansas City, Kan., last Tuesday.

Delbert Stone, 29, was the fifth man to die. All were burned when a large gasoline storage tank exploded. Nearly 100 persons were injured.

Pick Governor in Mississippi

Primary Tomorrow to Choose Next Leader; GOP Not Trying

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — About 400,000 Mississippians will pick their next governor Tuesday to climax a Democratic primary almost devoid of real issues.

Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin predicted a sweep of 50 to 55 of the state's 82 counties and victory by 25,000 votes. He trailed Ross Barnett, a Jackson attorney, by 4,500 votes in the first primary Aug. 3.

★ ★ ★

Barnett, making his third try for governor, made no prediction but hammered at an alleged deal between Gartin and Gov. J.P. Coleman.

The biggest stump tiffs between Gartin, 47, and Barnett, 61, have been over segregation and labor.

Each has championed himself as an avowed segregationist and supporter of the state's right-to-work law.

The winner will become governor; the Republicans do not have a candidate.

Cunard Skipper Too Ardent; Gets Fired

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Britain's Cunard Line has fired the skipper of its 27,000-ton liner Britannic, reportedly for being too attentive to a woman passenger.

Capt. James D. Armstrong, 55, tersely confirmed his dismissal from the line he has served for 30 years.

"It's all because of an alleged incident at the captain's table during an Atlantic crossing," he said, adding that he had turned the matter over to his lawyers.

A friend was more explicit:

★ ★ ★

"It is the captain's duty to entertain passengers at his table," he said. "This of course includes women passengers.

★ ★ ★

"It is not easy to know when you are overstepping the mark in some people's view. I understand there was a complaint following the Britannic's crossing from New York to Liverpool in June."

The captain, who had eight years to go before retirement, was due to take over command of either the Queen Mary or the Queen Elizabeth next year.

Mother Sticks Infant With Pins, Kills Him

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police charged Betty Joe Ellis, 18, with murder Sunday after she said she beat her infant son and stuck him repeatedly with a safety pin.

An autopsy showed the baby, Robert Jessie Ellis, suffered ruptures of the stomach and pancreas and four broken ribs.

Mrs. Ellis told police the infant had cried a lot since its June 5 birth and that Thursday she stabbed him with a safety pin while changing his diaper.

"I don't know how many times I stabbed him," the small dark-haired woman sobbed. She and her husband, Robert Ellis, who was on a fishing trip when the incident occurred, have a 14-

Distribute New Teaching Aid

MITAC Classroom Gyroscope Production Under Way

FLINT —Nationwide distribution of a "space age teaching aid," the MITAC classroom gyroscope, is under way by AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors.

Joseph A. Anderson, GM vice president and AC general manager, said that Central Scientific Co., 1700 Irving Park Rd., Chicago, Ill., has been selected as distributor for the educational device.

The MITAC is a precision instrument to teach the fundamentals of gyro action, vital in missile and space guidance. It weighs 17 pounds, is 15 inches high has a wheel or rotor 6 inches in diameter, and operates on 110-115 volt alternating current.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology orginally designed the classroom gyro. AC modified it and is now producing the device in quantity for use by schools, colleges, universities, industry and the armed forces.

AC's interest in the filed stems from the division's development and production of guidance systems for the Air Force Thor and Mace missiles. AC also won a recent Air Force competition to to develop an all-inertial guidance system for the new Titan ICBM. Ultra precision gyroscopes are the heart of these missile guidance systems.

Two Bullfighters, Famed in Spain, Injured in Ring

MADRID (UPI) — Spain's two greatest bullfighters, Luis Miguel Dominguin and Antonio Ordonez, were back in the hands of their doctors today for injuries inflicted by enraged bulls in their struggle for ring supremacy.

Dominguin was gored Friday during a fight in Bilbao while he competed against Ordonez, his brother-in-law, for the title of world's greatest torero. Ordonez suffered a serious foot injury when a bull trod on his instep yesterday at Dax, France.

Both were gored seriously three weeks ago during their "mano a mano" (hand to hand) competition but both returned to the ring. Friends blamed "too much bravery" for their injuries and said they were taking unnecessary chances to prove their personal bravery.

Javits Asks Hearings on World's Fair Site

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) today will call for congressional hearings to decide whether New York City or Washington should be the site of the 1964 World's Fair.

"I think the fair way is to have each city lay on the line what it can offer," Javits said in a television interview yesterday. He added that he believed New York would get the fair.

★ ★ ★

Javits said he would ask the foreign relations committees of the House and Senate to conduct hearings on the matter.

Cancer or Not, He'll Go Back

Stricken Doctor Feels Laos Situation More Critical Than Berlin

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dr. Thomas A. Dooley says cancer may let him live only five or six years, but he is determined to return to embattled Laos. He operates a hospital near the front lines of Laos' battle against Communist rebels.

The 32-year-old physician said a growth removed from his chest has been diagnosed as malignant melanoma.

★ ★ ★

'The outlook for this type of cancer is bleak," he said. "It usually means you have five or six years.

"I don't care what the outlook is. If it's six months or 16 years, I'm going back to Laos in November.

★ ★ ★

"The fate of Laos is more important than the Berlin crisis. The future of all Southeast Asia rests with the outcome of the situation in Laos."

Dr. Dooley, who visited his mother here, flies to New York today for further diagnosis at the Sloan-Kettering Cancer Research Center.

Pharmaceutical Group Eyes 3 for President

CINCINNATI (AP)— Members of the House of Delegates of the American Pharmaceutical Assn. today nominated three candidates for president of the organization. The association has been holding its annual convention here this week.

The candidates will be voted on by mail ballot later this year.

Nominated were Ronald W. Robertson of Spokane, Wash.; Stephen Wilson of Detroit and Thomas D. Wyatt of Spartanburg, S.C.

Nominated for first vice president were Robert J. Gillespie, St. Joseph, Mich.; Mearl D. Pritchard, Buffalo, N.Y., and George L. Scharringhausen Jr., Park Ridge, Ill.

Official May Ban Motorcycles in Rhode Island

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Gov. Christopher Del Sesto says he is thinking of banning motorcycles from Rhode Island highways.

There are only 1,200 motorcycles registered in Rhode Island compared to 200,000 automobiles, he said Sunday night, but motorcycles are involved in 10 per cent of all accidents.

★ ★ ★

"Apparently," he said, "under modern day conditions motorcycles for general passenger use are too dangerous."

Stop all 9 kinds of ITCH the way doctors do!

HEFTY MISTIMING — Movie extras make a discretionary retreat into the set as they are closely followed by an elephant during a misadventure on a Rome, Italy movie set one day this past week. The setting was a Carthaginian encampment for the film 'Hannibal.' Elephants were set to charge into the camp but they entered too soon, bringing about the extra burst of speed from the extras. One extra at left background holds out a torch in an attempt to change the course of the elephants. There were no casualties in the mistimed charge.

3,000 Enjoy Recreation in Waterford

As the Waterford Township Summer Recreation Department comes to a close this week, records show that more than 3,200 individuals participated in weekly scheduled activities, according to director Tom Belton.

★ ★ ★

There were 1,500 boys and girls registered at 10 elementary school playgrounds, and 250 attended "Camp Tomahawk" at Highland Recreation Area during the five-week program.

The "Learn to Swim" series, held at five area beaches, proved one of the most successful as well as beneficial programs in operation, Belton said. Some 600 youngsters and 15 adults took advantage of this activity.

There were five men and boys' baseball and softball leagues in play for the first time this summer, attracting 600 participants for this 12-week activity.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of spectators, other than those registered in the summer programs, jammed ball parks, beaches and playgrounds to view special contests and shows climaxing individual programs, Belton said.

He added there was a substantial increase of registrations in each of the five major activities over last year's participation.

"The main purpose of the township recreation department is to provide a variety of interesting leisure-time activities for as many people as possible," Belton said.

★ ★ ★

"This year's program has proven highly beneficial and we are looking forward to even bigger programs for next year," he said.

Moppet Steals Show at Venice Film Festival

VENICE, Italy (UPI)—A nine-year-old English boy stole the show last night at the opening of the 20th International Film Festival of Venice.

Blond Ian MacLaine received a standing ovation from an audience of internatioal movie critics. He plays the boy who makes the tower bridge of Lodon his home in Kevin McClory's first film "The Boy and the Bridge."

Dropped the Stinker, but Odor Remains

PHOENIX (AP)—The Jack Cast family was relaxing in front of the television set when son Andy, 4,, walked in carrying a small, furry animal.

Andy said to his Dad, "Look, I found a kitty."

"That's no cat, it's a skunk. Drop it," the father said nervously.

Andy dropped the skunk. The frightened animal sprayed the house. The family fled outdoors. The skunk followed. The odor remained.

The first plastic, celluloid, was developed in 1869.

Vic Damone and Pier Fail to Recapture Love

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Vic Damone and his wife Pier Angeli, who reconciled recently after a lengthy separation, have parted again.

★ ★ ★

Damone sadly announced Saturday that he and the Italian-born actress failed in their attempt to recapture love.

Couldn't Hide Booty

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Thieves stole an awning from the front of a downtown department store but returned it, apparently because it was too hard to hide. The awning was 18 feet long and bright orange in color.

Ex-City Man Writes British Battle Song

A former Pontiac resident, Carl Schubert, armed with pen and musket, has written the 'redcoats" answer to the popular record "The Battle of New Orleans."

Schubert, 39, lived in Pontiac for several years and attended St. Fredericks School before moving away in 1931.

★ ★ ★

Now an advertising writer at radio station CKOY, Ottawa, Canada, Schubert got the idea for his record, "The Bladensburg Races," during the reign of "Battle of New Orleans," cut by Johnny Horton, on best seller lists here and abroad.

"I thought there should be a song about a battle the British won," he said this week while in Pontiac. The British were soundly whipped in the New Orleans skirmish.

He picked the battle of Bladensburg, in which the British burned Washington, D.C., to the ground, and routed American forces.

That famous battle celebrates its 145th anniversary today, Aug. 24. Both battles now put to music were fought in 1814.

★ ★ ★

And if anyone makes the slip of calling it "the" battle the redcoats won, Schubert with tongue in cheek exclaims, "ONE of the Battles they won, please!"

The disc was cut in Canada this summer. It gained immediate popularity and was then pressed in England.

★ ★ ★

Now it has become only the second disc in recording history that was originally cut in Canada and then pressed in the United States.

It was released in the Detroit and Pontiac area last week. The disc, on a King label, has created quite a stir on the west coast.

The lyrics are half-talked, half-sung, by Des Williams and his Redcoats. Williams, an English lad, is an alumnus of the Vincent Lopez Orchestra.

"Actually, it's in good taste and very subtle in its humor," insists Schubert. "Just a good poke in the ribs of both sides," he chuckles, as the Grenadiers marching song fades in the background.

The author is visiting his sister, Mrs. E. T. Coster, of 180 Rundell St. Schubert says he has no immediate future plans in the songwriting field.

New Category of Boor Emerges These Days

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A Woman I know is thinking of writing a book called "I Married a Soap-Lifter."

Her husband is also a match-dropper. He likes to pluck a small box of matches from his pocket and say, "Where did these matches come from? Oh yes—from the Tamanaco Hotel in Caracas. I was there last week."

WILSON

I devote my invaluable space to this type of fellow because he is a product of the new leisure, the new tourism. He is a brilliant executive when on the job, but when vacationing, he never worries about the H-bomb or about Khrushchev—he is only alarmed that the world is going to run out of soap next Saturday night and that he has got to pilfer all possible sample cakes out of the lavatories in the airplane because next Saturday night he might be dirty.

"El Soapo" carries around as much soap as he does matches. I often wondered what Soap does with all the matches, then I found the answer.

★ ★ ★

He smokes them. Some people smoke cigarets but El Matcho smokes matches. He lights matches off his cigarets. He'd walk a mile for a match. He switched to king-size filter matches months ago.

Anybody who prevents him from stealing soap samples or cornering the match market he considers a Communist.

On a recent trip to Venezuela, El Soapy thought that a woman at a cigar counter was overcharging him on those small boxes of matches. He asserted categorically that she was anti-American and that it was probably a personal slap at Richard Nixon.

The embarrassing thing was that he doesn't like Nixon either. That day he was terribly confused—he didn't know who to hate.

He eventually bought enough matches. In fact, he had matches to burn—but they wouldn't. They were too soapy.

This fellow is perfectly harmless. He's just on vacation, and you may observe him doing other strange things, such as drinking five Tom Collinses right after his morning oatmeal. It's that bad oatmeal they give you outside New York that did it . . .

So be nice to him if you meet him on an airplane, and if you should happen to want to get any soap on the plane, or any matches . . .

Sorry!

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Rob't Q. Lewis claims N.Y.C. officials are getting ready for Khrushchev's visit. They've started looking for a parking spot for him in midtown . . . That's earl, brother.

BIRTHDAY PARTY — Adolph Spreckles Jr. (right) is 10 years old and Clark Gable is helping him celebrate at the star's villa near Rome. The boy is the son of Gable's wife by a previous marriage. Eyeing the birthday cake is Mariette Angeletti who is appearing with Gable and Sophia Loren in "The Bay of Naples" now being made on location in Italy.

A bride doesn't really get to know her husband well until after she's messed up the check stubs a couple of times . . . A good secretary is one who can keep up with the boss when he's dictating—and ahead of him when he's not. —Earl Wilson.

Hollywood Headlines:

'I'm Not Temperamental,' Says Feudin' Carroll Baker

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Carroll Baker has had feuds with the director and producer of her last two pictures, but she says she is not temperamental.

★ ★ ★

Says she: "People say I'm temperamental because they relate my behavior to the way movie stars used to behave. It's not the same thing at all. If I seem difficult, it's because I'm serious about my work. Nothing else matters to me when I'm on the set. And when I get interference, I rebel."

THOMAS

She was vocal in her feelings about Irving Rapper, director of "The Miracle." When a friend asked recently how she liked his direction, Carroll replied: "What direction?"

She told me: "Irving was impossible to work with. He only seems interested in having a good time on the set. I had five death scenes to do in 'The Miracle.' I needed concentration.

"Elia Kazan insists on 5 minutes of quiet before his actors do a scene. Walter Lang was especially thoughtful in 'But Not for Me.' If I was doing a love scene with Clark Gable and four persons were standing in my line of vision, he'd ask them to move.

"One day on 'The Miracle,' I had to do a death scene outdoors. There were a hundred extras looking on, plus the usual distractions of sunshine and birds, etc. This was how Rapper started the scene: 'Roll 'em. Somebody go over to Sardi's and get Walter Slezak a corned beef sandwich. Action!'

★ ★ ★

"Every night I went home to the Chateau Marmont and had a swim to relieve tension. If anyone even said 'How are you?' to me, I'd break out crying."

Told of Miss Baker's remarks, Rapper replied: "I have never engaged in fencing with a personality. But if you'd talk to Bette Davis, Fredric March and some of the other fine actors I've directed, they'd tell you that I am a very strict and severe disciplinarian.

"Fortunately, I have a sense of humor to get over certain incidents."

Rapper told of his first meeting with Miss Baker. He said she said: "Directors do nothing for me."

He said that when he reminded her of her work with Kazan and William Wyler she retorted that the former couldn't direct love scenes and the latter "doesn't know much — I had to tell him everything."

Rapper added: "I'm delighted to be in their company."

Ike's Fact-Finders Want Less

Excess Leisure Dooming America?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — You have too much leisure: You don't work hard enough? A presidential fact finding committee says that's why Americans with their eyes on the better life could be in danger of falling behind the Soviets in a race for survival.

★ ★ ★

More work and less leisure will be hard to sell to most Americans. But the fact is that their leisure time has increased notably in the last generation. And the sums they will spend this year on fun of various kinds will run to 17 or 40 billion dollars, depending on how much you include as recreation and leisure time activities or lack of them. All agree the sum is strikingly above just 10 years ago.

Products tuned to this latter day leisure time add up to a sizable part of manufacturing.

Some of them are just for having fun. Some have taken on the aura of status—the newer cliche replacing the older one about keeping up with the Joneses.

Defenders of leisure time and fun—and that's almost everyone except those who from time to time can't have either—say the practice is healthy, both physically and mentally, and therefore a national asset, not a liability.

And in the long run, they argue, the results will produce just as much tax money for the government to spend along the lines in which the presidential committee fears we are falling behind the Soviets (defense and military aid to allies).

Some of the ways Americans spend their money for fun:

Two billion dollars for boating and the same amount on photography. Bell & Howell breaks the latter figure down to 585 million dollars in amateur photographic equipment last year. Film, flash bulbs, chemicals and commercial equipment makes up the rest.

Bowling is said to total one billion dollars a year. Brunswick-Balke-Collender officials say this includes what bowlers spend at the centers and on equipment, and what the proprietors spend each year.

★ ★ ★

Admissions to spectator amusements add up to 1¾ billion dollars. A business research firm, Sindlinger & Co., of Ridley Park, Pa., says movie attendance is higher this summer than at any time since 1948 with two-thirds of it at drive-ins.

Spending for radios and TV sets, records, musical instruments, phonographs, tape recorders and repairs are put at five billion dollars.

Americans are putting 600 million dollars into swimming pools this year and 300 million into power lawn mowers. Flower seeds and potted plants take nearly one billion dollars. Bell & Howell figures club and fraternal organizations and parimutuel machines getting about one half billion dollars each.

★ ★ ★

Add one billion for books an maps and two billion for nondurable toys and sports supplies and you're up to 17 billion.

To reach a higher figure you can add some three billion dollars for domestic travel and about as much for overseas travel. Still more billions go into garden equipment, playing cards, outdoor furniture, magazines, newspapers, sheet music, golf fees and other recreations beyond room to mention — not forgetting the gas it takes to where you think the fun is.

New Car Inventory at Dealers Is Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Labor Department spokesman says available reports indicate that new automobiles in dealers' hands are at a record total of between 960,000 and 992,000.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman, Hersey E. Riley, commented on this in releasing monthly cost of living figures. He said the new car total in dealer stocks is 45-47 per cent higher than a year ago.

★ ★ ★

The index showed that prices of new autos declined seven-tenths of one per cent from June to July; Riley called this normal and said the slight increase in the cost of used cars was also to be expected at this time of the year.

Moscow Exhibit Visitors Lifting U. S. Books

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 2,000 books left by plane Saturday for Moscow to replace volumes lifted at the American exhibition there by Russian visitors.

The replacement project termed Operation Booklift will reopen the bookmobile booth.

American officials closed the display because the sparse, remaining stock might give the wrong impression of this country's literary output.

Sparking the move to get more books to the fair was John C. Bullitt, Princeton, N. J., lawyer. Pan American World Airways agreed to fly out the first load.

Scholars doubt that Betsy Ross made the first American flag. They believe its principal designer was Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence who later tried without success to get paid for his work.

Wheat Futures in Lift Upward

CHICAGO (AP)—The government's Friday report on the amount of wheat placed under price support loan at the end of July gave that grain a good lift today on the Board of Trade.

Nearly all contracts were ahead by a cent or bushel or more but at the opening the May delivery was up 2½ cents.

Soybeans and other grains except corn were steady to firm in early transactions. Corn turned weak and soybeans fell back to near the previous closes after starting off as much as a cent higher.

Wheat was ½ to 1⅜ cent a bushel higher after about an hour, September $1.90¾; corn ½ lower to ⅛ higher, September $1.18½; oats ⅛ to ½ higher, September new type contract 66⅝; rye ½ to 1 cent higher, September $1.29¾; soybeans ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, September $2.10⅞.

Market Drags After Fast Open

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market trading dragged irregularly early today after a fairly active opening.

Gains and losses of key stocks went from fractions to about a point. There was a slight tendency toward the downside.

The ticker tape lagged very briefly in the opening flurry then trading slackened considerably as a cautious mood returned.

Texas Instruments, up a point, was a bright spot among electronics. Radio Corp. and Raytheon declined fractionally.

Activity was slightly more apparent among the leading steelmakers as the labor negotiations remained in stalemate. U.S. Steel was off about a point while Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin dropped fractions.

Martin Co. fell 1¼ to 38½ on 2,000 shares then rapidly extended its loss to about 3. The Navy's cancellation of the remainder of its huge contract for P6M SeaMaster planes apparently aroused selling.

Slight losses were shown by General Dynamics, Douglas Aircraft, North American Aviation, Air Reduction, Westinghouse Electric and American Telephone.

Warrant Issued in Car Fatality

Madison Heights Man Charged for Speeding, Negligent Homicide

ROYAL OAK—A warrant was issued today for the arrest of a Madison Heights man charging him with negligent homicide in a fatal two-car collision here.

John F. Bulloch, 21, of 30445 Townley Rd., Madison Heights, is accussed of driving his car at an excessive rate of speed when he rammed into the rear of another car driven by Nicholas Stofal, 79, of 1803 W. Farnum Rd.

Stofal died in William Beaumont Hospital here two hours after the accident which occurred on Woodward avenue near Warick street a week ago Friday. He was burned fatally when his car exploded.

Seven witnesses have testified to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Donald A. Brown that Bulloch was speeding at the time of the accident.

Bulloch has been ticketed four times for traffic violations since June 1. He is to appear before Justice Ralph E. Finley of Berkley next Saturday to answer further charges of reckless driving.

Firm to Sell New Broaching Machine

The Detroit Broach and Machine Co. of Rochester, is sending its newest product, a 20-ton broaching machine believed to be the largest of its kind in the world, to Germany.

★ ★ ★

The new machine, valued at over $100,000, will broach precision parts for a European auto manufacturer. It has been designed to perform seven simultaneous broaching operations on automobile connecting rods and caps.

The machine is 39 feet long and six feet wide. As each rod passes through the closed tunnel, a series of broach cutting tools machine the required parts to specification automatically.

5-Rounder to End Drills for Fullmer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gene Fullmer scheduled a five-round sparring session for Monday as the windup of preparations for his NBA middleweight title bout here with Carmen Basilio Friday.

Basilio also may complete his ring drills Monday but there will be a Tuesday session if he feels he needs it to taper off.

★ ★ ★

Fullmer's final drill usually is a rugged bout with his sparring partners. Basilio tapers off with light drills.

WELCOME TO WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard Nixon welcomes Hiram Fong, Hawaii's Republican senator-elect, and his wife yesterday at the National Airport. Fong, first person of Chinese descent to be elected to the Senate, is being sworn in today. Swearing-in ceremonies also will include two other members of Congress from the 50th state — Sen.-elect Oren E. Long and Rep.-elect Daniel K. Inouye, both Democrats.

Hawaii Writes U.S. History Today

Fong, Long, Inouye in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hawaii's two senators and one representative took office today, and the new state is writing history.

Republican Sen. Hiram L. Fong twice outlucked Democratic Sen. Oren E. Long and won both the title of senior senator from the new 50th state and a six-year term. Long drew a four-year term.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon administered the oath of office to the two new senators as crowded galleries looked on.

Fong, a 52-year-old rags-to-riches millionaire, will be the first person of Chinese descent to serve in Congress. Rep. Daniel K. Inouye, 34-year-old Democrat, will be the first of Japanese ancestry.

With Hawaii now the 50th state, the Senate for the first time will have a membership of 100. The House will have its largest number of seats—437.

★ ★ ★

Also for the first time since 1800, the House of Representatives today found itself without a delegate.

The nation has run out of territories from which delegates may be elected.

★ ★ ★

The last of a long line of delegates dating back to pioneer days lost his seat in the House last Friday when President Eisenhower proclaimed Hawaii the 50th state. He is John A. Burns. Today he yielded his seat to Inouye, Hawaii's first elected representative to Congress.

But the House still has a commissioner, A. Fernos-Isern, who represents Puerto Rico, a commonwealth, as distinguished from a territory. A commissioner represents an area not intended to become a state.

★ ★ ★

Fong and Long, 70, flipped a coin this morning to decide who would be senior senator, and who would draw first in the length-of-term lottery.

On the Senate floor, two wooden boxes—long used for such ceremonies—were held by Secretary of the Senate Felton Johnson.

In one were two slips of paper of equal size — one blank, the other indicating a six-year term. Long got the blank slip on the first draw and picked again from the second box—to determine whether his term will last two or four years.

★ ★ ★

The drawing is designed to keep the Senate divided into three segments, with terms of one-third of the senators expiring every two years. The process has remained unchanged from the original plans drawn by the founding fathers.

Long is a former governor of the territory of Hawaii.

★ ★ ★

Fong, born in the islands, was the seventh son of immigrant Chinese parents. His father was an illiterate laborer. Named Ah Leon Fong, the new senator worked as a delivery boy, polished shoes and caddied to help buy food for the family. When he went to the University of Hawaii he adopted the name Hiram.

★ ★ ★

When Inouye—pronounced "in-oh-way," with the accent on the second syllable—takes the oath on the House floor today, he will raise his left arm. Inouye lost his right arm in Italy in World War II with the 442nd Regimental "Go for Broke" combat team.

Steven and His Bride on Honeymoon Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Steven Rockefeller, the millionaire's son and the family maid, Anne Marie Rasmussen, he wooed and won in a modern fairy tale romance, arrived from the bride's native Norway today to set forth on an American honeymoon.

The newlyweds and the bridegroom's parents, Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, flew in to Idlewild at 9:52 a.m. — two hours late because of plane trouble in leaving Europe.

★ ★ ★

They were greeted at the airport by about 50 reporters and photographers, plus a scattering of spectators.

On the plane with the bridal couple were more than 60 other passengers.

Immigrations and public health officials went aboard the craft in order to expedite the formalities necessary for them to re-enter this country and be on their way to an unannounced honeymoon spot.

At an airport news conference, young Rockefeller said he and his wife just wish to disappear.

Their plans, he said, "are something we're keeping private because we would just like to have the next month to ourselves."

★ ★ ★

Afterward the couple probably will live in New York City, the groom added, but the exact place hasn't been decided. He also said he expected to start working in the family business but could not say specifically what he would be doing.

★ ★ ★

When Steven spoke of the couple's plans to disappear, the governor interrupted to tell the newsmen: "They're going to disappear with your cooperation."

There has been speculation that the newlyweds would go to the Rockefeller ranch in a secluded section of Wyoming or take a cruise off the coast of Maine in the family's 65-foot yacht, Nirvana.

The new Mrs. Rockefeller spoke only two words during the 15-minute press conference.

★ ★ ★

Replying to a question as to whether she was happy to be back in America, she said:

"Very much."

When reporters asked to submit other questions to the bride, her husband said she would rather not answer.

★ ★ ★

"How about a family?" someone inquired.

"We both like children and let's leave it at that," said Steven.

★ ★ ★

The bride blushed as she did frequently during the press conference.

Another blush came when her father-in-law said:

"I don't want to embarrass Anne Marie but I think she's a wonderful young lady."

AP Wirephoto

WITH ADDITION TO FAMILY — New York Gov. and Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller wave from the plane ramp along with their daughter-in-law of a day, the former Anne Marie Rasmussen, and her husband Steven grins, at Kristiansand, Norway Airport yesterday. Where the young couple will spend their honeymoon remains a mystery. They may go to the Rockefeller ranch in Wyoming, or they may cruise off the coast of Maine aboard the Rockefeller yacht, Nirvana. Anne Marie was calm as she said goodby to her parents. She wore a trim black silk suit and her blonde hair was pulled back tightly in a bun. Gov. Rockefeller, in speaking to the crowd of 1,500 gathered to see them off for Copenhagen, said: "Thank you for giving us Anne Marie."

Weekend Mishaps Take 24 Lives in Michigan

By United Press International

Drownings took the lead over traffic mishaps today as Michigan recorded 24 weekend accidental deaths.

The state recorded nine drownings, eight traffic deaths and seven miscellaneous deaths.

★ ★ ★

An autopsy was scheduled, however, to determine whether one of the victims currently listed as a drowning really belonged in that category.

The body of William J. Heimer, 16, Spring Lake, was found in six inches of water about 30 feet from the shore in Lake Missaukee yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John Inman, Missaukee County coroner, ordered an examination of the body because he felt the boy might have suffered a heart attack, rather than drowned.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

All the traffic victims were killed in separate accidents.

The miscellaneous deaths included one person struck by lightning, another electrocuted while swimming, two killed in a plane crash, two killed in falls and one killed when she was impaled on a tomato plant spike.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Anna L. Self, 70, Washington Courthouse, Ohio, was killed when she reached for a railing while going downstairs at her son's house in Detroit and fell, impaling herself on a steel spike used to support a tomato plant.

★ ★ ★

Raymond N. McAfoose, Kittaning, Pa., was killed when struck by lightning while carrying camping equipment to his car at Sterling State Park.

Joseph Linchinosky, 44, Flint, and Mabel Crawford, 51, Au Gres, were killed when Linchinosky's small plane crashed near Mio Saturday.

Trudy Hilborn, 18, South Bend, Ind., was electrocuted Sunday when she grabbed a section of pipe used to siphon water from Diamond Lake, near Cassopolis, and suffered a fatal shock.

BROKEN NECK

Shivaun Grover, 8, daughter of a Detroit policeman, died Sunday of a broken neck suffered when she fell from a double-bunk bed.

Eugene Byrne, 63, father of another Detroit policeman, died Sunday of injuries suffered when he fell down his basement stairs.

The drowning victims, in addition to Heimer, included:

—Kenneth Dennis Jr., 14, Reed City, in the Au Sable River at Grayling.

★ ★ ★

—Frederick Bartholomy, 47, Flint, in Saginaw Bay, three miles south of Pinconning, when he fell out of his boat.

—Richard Pio, 26, Richland, in Fish Lake, Barry County, when he stepped into a deep hole while wading.

—Jacqueline Malinszewski, 4, Belleville, in Susterka Lake near Belleville, when she wandered into the lake while her parents were not looking.

—Timothy Love, 15, Detroit, in Long Lake, Cass County, when he disregarded warnings and went out past safety buoys.

—Dennis White, 5, LaMart, Ill., in Able Lake, Cass County.

★ ★ ★

—Harold Burkey, 3, Elkhart, Ind. in Garver Lake near Edwardsburg.

—John Martin, 52, Beaver Island, in Lake Michigan when a 40-foot tugboat operated by him and his brother sank a mile off Indian Point Channel between Beaver and High Islands.

Policeman Delivers His Twelfth Baby

Madison Heights Police Sgt. Paul H. Myatt delivered his twelfth baby Saturday — his own grandson.

The 50-year-old police officer answered a call at headquarters from his son that his wife was ready to have her baby.

When Sgt. Myatt arrived his daughter-in-law was already starting to have her baby. With hot water, a pen knife and a shoe lace, he delivered a six-pound, seven ounce boy to Mrs. Paul W. Myatt of 27353 Palmer St., Madison Heights.

Both mother and child were reported "doing fine" at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. The new parents have two other boys, ages six and four.

Orion Man Mute to Homicide Charge

Standing mute today to a charge of negligent homicide in the auto death of a nine-year-old Oxford Township girl last month was Donald W. LaPlante, 30, of Lake Orion.

LaPlante, of 14 N. Broadway St., appeared with his attorney before Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer for arraignment. Judge Beer entered a plea of innocent for LaPlante and allowed continuance of his $1,000 bond pending his fall trial.

Killed in a two-car collision July 28 on M24 in Oxford Township was Patricia Jane Sabov, of 895 Glaspie Rd. Her father was driving one of the cars and LaPlante the other.

Sabov said LaPlante's car struck him from behind while he was waiting for traffic to clear to complete a left turn. LaPlante said Sabov turned in front of him and he couldn't avoid hitting him, according to Oakland County sheriff deputies.

Highway Committee to Report to Council

SOUTHFIELD — The Highway Committee recently appointed by the city council to study the east-west expressway proposed by the Michigan State Highway Department is expected to make its final report to the council at tonight's meeting.

At the same time, it is expected that the council will be asked to approve the tentative route for the first leg of the proposed expressway through the western section of the city.

The City Highway Committee has recommended that the council approve a section of the expressway from Lahser road to Northwestern highway.

The city council has previously refused to approve the first section of the expressway until the easterly route has been established to its satisfaction.

Doby Breaks Ankle

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Larry Doby, former American League slugger, broke an ankle sliding into third base in a Pacific Coast League baseball game won by San Diego 3-2 last night.

News in Brief

Someone broke into the Sylvan Lake Elks lodge hall at 100 Franklin Rd. and stole an undetermined amount of change, it was reported to Pontiac Police Sunday.

Burglars stole $55 from a cash box in Phil's Market, 1440 Baldwin Ave., it was reported to Pontiac Police Sunday.

A camera and leather case valued at $150 were stolen from the apartment of Joyce Hicks, 60 W. Pike St., over the weekend, it was reported to Pontiac Police.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held by the White Lake Township Zoning Board at the Township Hall on Monday, September 14, 1959, at 8:00 P.M. to consider the following changes in the Zoning Map

From Agricultural to Commercial I District:

Part of the S. W. ¼ of Section 14, T. 3 N., R. 8 E. White Lake Township, Oakland County, Michigan; described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the N and S ¼ line, distant due North 1481.58 feet from the South ¼ corner of said Section 14, T. 3 N., R. 8 E.; thence due North 1089.62 feet along the N and S ¼ line; thence North 88° 10' 50" W. 563.88 feet; thence S. 1° 23' 02" W. 304.86 feet; thence S. 1° 23' 30" W. 803.30 feet; thence S. 87° 20' 17" E. 627.88 feet to the point of beginning, containing 15.000 acres.

Also, part of S. W. ¼ of section 14, T. 3 N., R. 8 E., described as: Beginning at a point in north and south quarter line distant north 822.43 feet from south quarter corner of said section; thence due north along quarter line 650.15 feet; then north 87 degrees 20 minutes 17 seconds west 627.88 feet; thence south 3 degrees 23 minutes 30 seconds west 689.52 feet; thence east 667.99 feet to the point of beginning.

Persons interested are requested to be present. A copy of the Zoning Map together with a list of the proposed changes is on file at the office of the township clerk and may be examined by those interested.

The above stated Amendments are declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the public health, peace and safety and are hereby ordered to take effect thirty (30) days after final passage.

PARACHUTIST TO FARMER — Otto Skorzeny, onetime Nazi Commando chief and parachutist who rescued Benito Mussolini from Allied imprisonment near the end of World War II, tends shrubs in the garden of his home in Curragh, County Kildare, Ireland. Skorzeny, 49, recently moved onto a 165-acre farm and will concentrate on sheep breeding. He plans to divide his time equally between farming in Ireland and looking after his steel business in Spain.

Library Issue Arises Again

Waterford Board Gets Petitions to Place the Question on Ballot

Petitions to again place the question of a $300,000 township library on a general election ballot or hold a special election, will be presented at tonight's Waterford Township board meeting.

★ ★ ★

The resolution to increase taxes one mill for the building, and one-half mill for maintenance and operation was turned down by voters by a small margin at the spring election.

When Frank Steere of Watkins Lake donated some 17 acres of land on Pontiac Lake and Highland Rds. two years ago, he specified that the land be used as a library site, and it must cost at least $200,000.

Since that time the Waterford Township Library Committee has been working on plans, costs and educating the public as to the need of a centrally located library in the community.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the owner of a small-car race track, David Senter, has been asked by the board to appear tonight and discuss protests of residents living near his track, located on Telegraph road and Dixie highway. Senter was issued an amusement park license at last week's board meeting.

A resolution will be made and discussed regarding independent police protection in the township. At the present time the police department is deputized under the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Because of the township's tremendous growth, a request to become strictly a township police department has been made.

★ ★ ★

A request to advertise for bids for a new pickup truck will also be presented by Clerk James Seeterlin.

COMMUNICATIONS SPHERE — Here in Monmouth, N. J. is the Courier, new communication sphere of the U. S. Army Signal Corps, which was recently unveiled at an exhibition of new communications and electronic equipment. The Army states it plans to send the Courier into orbit next February. It hopes to follow the Courier in 1962 with three other satellites to form a television network around the world.

Incomes Climb; Expenses Also

Average Pay Up $14 in 1958 but Prices Jump 2½ Per Cent

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The average inflation-pinched American's income went up $14 last year but his money wouldn't buy as much because prices increased more.

Per capita income climbed from $2,043 in 1957 to $2,057 last year, or about ¼ of one per cent, a government report showed today. But, it said, "since price increases more than counter-balanced this small rise" the average American's purchasing power fell slightly.

An earlier Commerce Department study reported that prices jumped 2½ per cent in 1958.

A general business slump such as the one in 1957-58 would be expected to pull down both personal income and prices. However, the new report by the Office of Business Economics showed the opposite trend.

Total personal income went up in all but four states. It fell in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia. Purchasing power increased in about half the states, remained steady in a dozen others, and dropped in the rest.

2nd Negro Student Enters Central High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP) — A second Negro student was integrated into Central high school today with no protests.

Carlotta Walls joined Jefferson Thomas at the formerly all-white school.

She had been attending summer school at Chicago and was unable to go to Central when public high schools opened Aug. 12.

Three Negro girls assigned to Hall High School entered classes peacefully.

Ohio Prisoners in Sitdown Strike

LONDON, Ohio (UP) — A sitdown strike which started among more than 200 inmates of London Prison Farm today has spread to include 1,000 more sympathy strikers, prison officials estimated.

Still no violence has developed more than three hours after the sitdown strike began, but state highway patrolmen plan soon to enter the prison and inspect the striking inmates in a search for weapons.

That word came from E. B. Haskins, assistant state commissioner of corrections, who was on the scene.

Haskins and Supt. R. B. Eckle said they still are unsure what caused inmates of Dormitory No. 7 to refuse to go to breakfast or accept their work assignments this morning. Haskins said there was some complaint about food, but he was more inclined to believe the continuing hot weather was a more important factor in the strike.

About two-thirds of the 300 men housed in Dormitory No. 1 started the strike. After breakfast, prison officials said, hundreds more of the inmates began to join the sitdown move in sympathy.

Preacher Boosts Beer

FRYERNING England (UPI) —The local minister, the Rev. William Mellor, requested that local pubs be allowed to stay open an extra hour here so that farmers can have their usual pint of beer after attending his harvest service.

Kill State JCC Plan to Recall Legislators

PORT HURON—(UPI) — Michigan's legislators could breathe easier today.

A move by the 31-member executive committee of the state Junior Chamber of Commerce to start a recall movement against all members of the state Senate was killed by the general body of the Michigan JCC after it was amended to include recall of all members of both houses.

★ ★ ★

The executive committee, which directed the recall proposal only at the Senate based its recall demand on article 10 of the state constitution, which says the legislature . . . "shall pass laws providing sufficient revenue to meet operation costs of the state government."

To Open Can Plant

ST. JOSEPH (UP) — Continental Can Co. has announced plans for construction of a new plant in suburban Shoreham. It is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1960 and will produce cans for food products packed by Michigan canners.

Orthodox, Catholic Leaders Have 'Talk'

RHODES, Greece (UP) — A dinner meeting here Friday between Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic theologians was only a friendly talk, Orthodox leaders told the largely Protestant World Council of Churches today.

They reported that the meeting, which brought together about 40 Orthodox prelates and four Roman Catholic priests, was held without official sponsorship from any church.

★ ★ ★

A stir had followed publication of a report that the meeting resulted in an agreement between the Roman and Orthodox churches to hold a joint conference of theologians next year to discuss their 900-year-old schism.

Official Reveals Effort to End Cross Co. Strike

DETROIT (UP) — A top United Auto Workers Union official says state and federal mediators were to meet with the union today in an initial effort to end the 20-day-old Cross Co. strike.

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, told 150 striking Cross workers yesterday that the mediators have indicated they will try to bring company and union officials to the bargaining table.

The strike at the Fraser automation machinery firm has been marked by frequent picket line flareups, including rock-throwing and scuffling incidents.

Neil Johnston to Coach Philadelphia Warriors

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Neil Johnston today was named coach of the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn.

Johnston, three-time NBA scoring champion, tentatively signed only to coach the club. Whether he will play, too, apparently depends on the condition of his left knee. He underwent surgery last season for removal of some ligament, and it is doubtful whether he could see much action.

Hospital Costs to Continue Up

New Group President Assures Public Bills Aren't Being Padded

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hospital costs—at an all-time high—will continue to spiral at about 5 per cent a year, the new president of the American Hospital Association said today.

To assure the public that its hospital bill "isn't being padded," Dr. Russell A. Nelson of Baltimore, also said he favors a "bank examiner" system for hospitals across the nation.

It is understandable that "the public will resist further increases in hospital costs," Dr. Nelson, director of Johns Hopkins Hospital, explained during an interview as the 61st annual meeting of the AHA convened in New York.

That is why, he said, the bank-examiner system, "functioning something like the Good Housekeeping seal of approval, would help to clear the air."

It would be "one more guarantee," he said, that people aren't "being charged twice for something they get once."

"Let's face it," he said, "most hospital bills read like a Chinese treaty—and people mistrust them."

Returning to the bigger pain in the pocketbook in months and years ahead, Dr. Nelson said that three forces are bound to boost hospital costs.

They are: Bigger salaries for non-professional workers, inflation, and advances in medical science.

The latter, he said, will mean more intense and costlier care. Inflation, he stated, can't be dodged in a hospital any more than it can in any other field.

3 Injured When Car Rolls Over in Ditch

Three persons were injured, one seriously, when their car sped off an Addison Township hillside yesterday and rolled over in a ditch.

★ ★ ★

Suffering shoulder and head injuries, Jeanette A. Webster, 16, of Dearborn, is in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital. Her boyfriend, John P. Hutson, 17, of Dearborn, and his mother, Mrs. Evelyn J. Hutson, 40, were treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Hutson, who was driving, told Sheriff's deputies his brakes failed as his car headed towards a sharp down-hill curve on Rochester road at Mack road. He said his car was going too fast to negotiate the curve.

DEDICATE YOUTH PARK — County, state and Waterford Township officials yesterday took part in dedication ceremonies of the township's first youth park. Senator L. Harvey Lodge turns the first spadeful of dirt with the help of Supervisor Elmer Johnson. Watching the proceedings is State Representative Lloyd Anderson (left), Robert Strong, Robert Shelton, governor of the 17th district for the Optimist club, and president of the local club sponsoring the park, Keith Breckenridge.

Dedicate Waterford Youth Park

In a brief ceremony yesterday, Waterford Township's first youth park on Elizabeth Lake road was dedicated before a group of interested residents.

★ ★ ★

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and other state officials were scheduled to conduct the ceremonies, but due to unforeseen circumstances were unable to attend.

The park was sponsored by the newly-organized Waterford Lakeland Optimist club. Optimist Dr. B. W. Ross presented various township officials who gave short talks on the worthiness of the development of the youth park — strictly for boys of the community.

A former supervisor, Anderson said township officials had been negotiating for the narrow one-mile park site from the State Conservation Department for some time.

LAUDS OPTIMISTS

He lauded the six-month-old Optimist Club for its interest in promoting development of the Park.

Principal speaker of the day was Sen. L. Harvey Lodge who said Waterford Township could set the pace for similar parks in other communities if it would expand with more parks in this township.

Bulldozers and other heavy equipment have been clearing the land for the first baseball field in a long-range recreation program. Township recreation director Tom Belton will supervise park development.

Maine Ups Age, Course Demands for Teen Drivers

AUGUSTA, Me. (UPI) — A drastic change in the driver's license requirements for boys and girls in the State of Maine will go into effect Sept. 1, 1960, in an attempt to cut down on the rising number of motor vehicle accidents involving teenagers.

The state legislature recently passed an act raising the minimum driving age from 15 to 17, unless the applicant has successfully completed an approved driver education course.

Under current law, any youngster may obtain a license at the age of 15, provided he or she has passed a written examination and a road test.

The new act provides that anyone under the age of 17 must complete either the standard high school driver education course or a commerical driver training school course approved by the State Department of Education.

Who's Down on Farm? Only One in 10 Now

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two out of every three American homes are now located in cities or suburbs.

The Census Bureau reported yesterday that 64 per cent of the 51,300,000 U. S. households are in urban areas, 26 per cent in the country but not on farms and 10 per cent on farms.

The figures showed that all households had increased by 7,700,000 since 1950. The 18 per cent increase during a nine-year period outstripped the overall increase in population, which was 16 per cent.

Ivan Thinks 'Satchmo' Is Best U.S. Jazz Man

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russian visitors to the American Exhibition here consider Louis Armstrong their favorite American jazz musician, it was disclosed today.

He won the popularity vote on special voting machines at the exhibition last week. Duke Ellington was runner-up.

Dragnet Hammer Pounds Last Time on Live Basis

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dragnet, which leaves network TV after Sept. 13, offered its final first-run half-hour on NBC-TV last night.

I watched the proceedings with mournful mien, for all the familiar, time-honored traditions of Dragnet were there, as always.

★ ★ ★

There was the dum-de-dum-dum theme, the clip-clop cop talk, the underplayed scenes aimed at building tension, the quick cuts from one closeup to another, the phrases that have become catchwords in the native vernacular since being introduced to TV on Jan 3, 1952:

"The story you are about to see is true. . .
"This is the city. . .
"My name is Friday. . .
"In a moment, the results of trial"

The procedure is as stylized as a Punch and Judy show and the plots are as uncomplicated. Yesterday's tale, a non-nonsense yarn, showed Jack Webb as Lt. Joe Friday "busting" a narcotics ring after posing as a tough-talking buyer.

★ ★ ★

Some of it was downright amateurish, as when the big-time dope pusher wailed, "I got a good name in the business." But, as it was Dragnet's last gasp, I didn't mind.

Before Webb chugs off the network, I'd like to toss him a salute. His format raised some standards on TV and also gave comedians plenty of fodder.

Webb drops out as the new-style crime shows, featuring a cool private eye, a cool blonde and some cool jazz, move in.

★ ★ ★

But none of the new fellows have had the impact on TV that Webb has had. He can find solace in that on his way to the museum. . .and the bank.

SHORT SHOTS: The engrossing film clips of the recent street demonstrations in Little Rock, Ark., shown on NBC-TV's Chet Huntley Reporting yesterday, included some profanity rarely heard on TV.

Robert Horton played himself on CBS-TV's Markham Saturday night and was given a brief, inconsequential part to play. Why bother?

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV has acquired the rights to eight motion pictures owned by the David O. Selznick company. The properties, which include "Intermezzo," "Rebecca," "Portrait of Jennie," "The Paradine Case" and "Notorious," will be adapted as live TV dramas during the 1960-61 season.

★ ★ ★

One of the upcoming Omnibus specials next season may star Harry Belafonte singing Rodgers and Hart tunes. . .Cliff Arquette, as Charlie Weaver, will be the grand marshal when CBS-TV presents the Miss America parade on Tuesday, Sept. 8. As Cliff Arquette, he'll be a judge for the Sept. 12 finals. . .Groucho Marx visits CBS-TV's What's My Line panel on Sunday, Sept. 20.

About 1.7 billion dollars — about one out of every six dollars spent by American families for personal health services — goes for dental care.

Although "libel" and "slander" both mean defamation of character, there is one difference between the two words. "Libel" is written, and "slander" spoken.

Enact Pool Ordinance in Waterford Township

A new ordinance governing the construction, location and operation of all private and commercially owned swimming pools, is now in effect in Waterford Township.

Like those of almost every other township in the county, local officials have become increasingly aware of the necessity of establishing specific regulations controlling the building and operation of pools.

Waterford Township's new ordinance and issuance of special pool permits is much like those now under study in other communities, according to building inspector Carl Walton.

Any man-made basin or depression in the earth with a depth of 24-inches and having a surface area of 250 square feet, is considered a swimming pool, and the owner must apply for a permit. Before the permit is issued, the pool-plans must be approved by the building department.

Every detail regarding construction, distance to property lines, buildings, walks and fences must be in the plans along with drawings of water supply system, drainage disposal and sections through the pool.

A pool must have a recirculating skimming device or overflow gutters, and walkways around the pool — not less than four feet wide. Where curbs or sidewalks are used around the pool, they shall have a no-slip surface for a width of not less than one foot at the edge of the pool and shall be arranged to prevent return of surface matter to the pool.

There must be at least one or more ladders with handrails on both sides, with non-slip surfaces on the treads of the steps.

Specific amounts of chlorine must be in the pool water at all times, and a lint-strainer must be installed in the system ahead of the filters. There can be no overhead electrical equipment installed within 15 feet of any swimming pool, and all metal fences near or adjacent to a swimming pool, must be effectively grounded.

All pumps, filters and electrical equipment must be enclosed and no swimming pool shall be erected and maintained unless there is adequate fencing around the property, or pool area.

Violation of Waterford Township's new ordinance could mean a maximum fine of $100 or 90 days in jail, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Swainson Says GOP Intends to Stall Session

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson says that some GOP lawmakers plan to keep the tax-troubled Michigan legislature in session until 1960—an election year.

Swainson termed such a move "a great disservice to the state."

Swainson said yesterday he overheard informal talks among majority senate Republicans of keeping the legislature in session until Dec. 31.

Swainson repeated his proposal that the legislature pass a one-cent increase in the sales (use) tax, and test it in the courts for constitutionality. He expressed doubt that a Senate GOP majority will "accept an equitable tax program."

Swainson placed most of the blame for Michigan's tax and financial difficulties on the Senate. But he added the "root of most of the trouble is in our 1908 constitution which has 10 times as much language as the Constitution of the United States."

Dems Organize Urban, Suburban Study Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler announced today appointment of a 23-member committee on urban and suburban problems as an adjunct of the Democratic Advisory Council.

The group, which includes five mayors, will be headed by Mayor Richard C. Lee of New Haven, Conn. It was the fifth advisory committee organized.

Paul Robeson Plans Iron Curtain Visits

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—American singer Paul Robeson says he plans to spend half of each year visiting Communist countries and will devote the other six months to the West "because I want to meet peace fighters in capitalist countries too."

The negro baritone, in an interview published today by the Hungarian Communist newspaper Nepszabadsag, added that he will visit both Hungary and Red China even though the U.S. State Department has not validated his passport for these two countries.

Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma are the nation's three leading oil drilling states.

The first inter-American conference was called by Simon Bolivar, the liberator, at Panama City in the summer of 1826. The United States was so slow in picking its delegates they were still en route when the meeting adjourned.
