Delighted President Waves

ACKNOWLEDGES ACCLAIM — President Eisenhower waves to the tremendous throng that greeted him in Pakistan today. He stands in a horsedrawn carriage beside Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan. A throng of a million people cheered Ike as he rode from the airport to the presidential residence.

Thunderous Welcome Delights Him

Million Pakistanis Cheer Ike

U. S. President Deeply Moved by Greeting

Throng Lines Roads as Eisenhower Arrives From Turkey

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A million cheering Pakistanis — by official estimate — gave President Eisenhower today the most thunderous reception ever accorded a foreign visitor.

Shouting, waving people packed the streets and the roads from the airport as Eisenhower arrived from Turkey on the third stop of his 22,000-mile mission of peace.

The President was deeply moved by the outpouring of affection and called the welcome "tremendous," said James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

★ ★ ★

Grinning with delight, the American president stood erect in the back of a white convertible and waved to the colorfully clad Pakistanis jampacked along his route into Pakistan's largest city.

Each time the American visitor waved his hat, the crowds responded with delighted roars of welcome.

"Eisenhower zindabad!"—"long life to Eisenhower!"—the vast throngs roared over and over.

★ ★ ★

The teeming city of two million was festooned for carnival. The Stars and Stripes and Pakistan's green and white crescent banner waved on all sides, from poles and triumphal arches. A host of streamers of every color of the rainbow added to the brilliance of the scene.

HAPPY TO SEE HIM

Karachi definitely was happy to see Ike, and Ike to see the city and its people.

Thousands of Pakistanis pushed and shoved their way into the broad corner square near the U. S. Embassy where the President and his host, President Mohammed Ayub Khan, changed from the automobile to a stately red and gold presidential coach drawn by six spanking black horses.

Then the majestic, slow procession made its way to the presidential residence, where Eisenhower will make his headquarters for his 40-hour stay.

★ ★ ★

Karachi was strung with colored lights on all sides. As night fell, it looked like a city adorned for Christmas.

The welcome was a personal tribute to the first U. S. president to penetrate this far into Asia—President Franklin D. Roosevelt visited Tehran in World War II. The reception was far larger than the roaring welcome of half a million Turks in Ankara Sunday.

Church Leader Against Censors for Radio, TV

Appears at Opening of FCC Hearing on Ways to Purge Broadcasting

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the Protestant churches of America said today there should be no censorship of individual radio and television programs.

What is needed is "the will to enforce and the will to obey" existing law, said James W. Wine, associate general secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Wine appeared, along with spokesmen for Roman Catholic and Jewish church groups, as the Federal Communications Commission opened a weeklong hearing to get public views on what it should do about radio and television programming.

FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer said in an opening statement "this is an important moment in American history" because the hearings "may well determine the future course of our system of broadcasting."

Doerfer noted the FCC is trying to determine whether it should have broader policing powers over TV and radio programs without becoming involved in the field of censorship.

The commission always has contended it has no authority over program content. Disclosure of quiz show fixing and other alleged irregularities brought demands for action.

The FCC has wielded only indirect control through its power to renew or refuse to renew broadcasting licenses, depending on how acceptably the station operated "in the public interest."

In his prepared testimony, Wine called on the FCC for a clearer definition of what is meant by licensing a station "in the public interest."

Wine rejected what he called "the easy solution of censorship" as "contrary to our belief in the freedom and dignity of the individual." But some broadcasting practices, in programming and in advertising, he said, "are inimical to the public interest."

Blast Ike, Display 7 Contenders

Boom!--and Dems're Off

NEW YORK (UPI)—Democrats blasted open the 1960 campaign today with a stinging attack on President Eisenhower and a display of seven of their top presidential contenders.

The Democratic Advisory Council charged the Republican administration with a "second-rate, second-best" defense job that "could cost us more in freedom and national security than can possibly be measured in money."

Adlai Stevenson questioned Eisenhower's current good will tour and said it would be a "grave mistake" to mimic Nikita Khrushchev and convert the presidency into the role of "traveling salesman."

★ ★ ★

Tonight Stevenson and six other presidential prospects speak from the same platform at a dinner honoring Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

They include Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

★ ★ ★

Along with former President Truman, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other leading Democrats, they endorsed the council's statement of principles hitting the Republicans on 21 issues ranging from inflation to the missile lag.

'FORCED AGAINST WILL'

The document said all Americans hoped for the success of Eisenhower's present mission, but then it lashed out at seven years of Republican foreign policy concluding that Eisenhower had been forced against his will into a path of negotiation with Russia with no clear idea on how to achieve peace with justice.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson said on a television program that he had "some misgivings" about Eisenhower's trip as a precedent that should only be applied in the future in cases of "real emergency."

★ ★ ★

The statement of principles by the Advisory Council, which represents mainly the liberal wing of the party and notably does not include the party's main congressional figure, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, hit at the Republicans hardest on defense.

Bus Strike Hits 4,000 City Residents

Pontiac went busless today as approximately 4,000 daily riders felt the first effects of the two-day old bus strike.

There appeared little hope for a break before the end of the week at the very earliest.

★ ★ ★

T. State Labor Mediation Board has scheduled a meeting of management and union negotiators here for 1 p.m. Thursday at Waldron Hotel.

This will be the first meeting in almost two months on the Pontiac contract, which expired last March 31.

Similar meetings have been scheduled by the State for Wednesday in Kalamazoo and Friday in Saginaw, where bus lines operated by affiliates of National City Lines, parent of Pontiac City Lines, Inc.

Wage increases are sought in each city. In Pontiac, the last demand was for a 58-cent an hour package increase which management says it turned down completely.

A three-city strike, called after negotiations collapsed in Saginaw Friday, went into effect at 7 p.m. Saturday. Because there are no buses in Pontiac Saturday night or Sunday, today was the first day that regular schedules were disrupted by the strike.

A few pickets appeared at the company's offices, 200 N. Paddock St., shortly after 5 a.m., when Monday service usually begins.

★ ★ ★

On strike in Pontiac are 35 drivers and eight mechanics of Local 1097, Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators of America (AFL-CIO).

Firemen Say Anything for a Buck — Really

Waterford Township firemen proved Saturday that they would do anything for a buck — especially the four-legged variety that found itself skating on thin ice at Watkins Lake.

The young deer bounded from the comparative safety of a bird sanctuary at the home of Frank W. Steere, 4239 South Shore Dr., Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Chased by several neighborhood dogs, the buck bounded out onto Watkins Lake. It had nearly reached the center of the lake when the ice gave away.

Steere saw the deer foundering and called firemen. Borrowing a boat, firemen Dick Lawson and Russell See started out from the south side of the lake.

Kenneth Squires, Alfred Beanblossom and a 16-year-old boy, Harold Stoltenberg of 4553 Horseshoe Dr., edged toward the distressed deer from the north side in another borrowed boat.

"The ice was thick enough so that our boat wouldn't act as WELL SPENT BUCK — This young deer was the object of a cold, wet rescue mission for Waterford Township Firemen Saturday. Both the buck and his rescuers were "well spent" following the episode on Watkins Lake. The deer found ice too thin for his weight. He is owned by Frank W. Steere, a lakeside resident.

That's Earl, Gov. Long, Louisiana Voters Decide

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Religion—Protestant versus Catholic—could be a major factor in deciding Louisiana's next governor.

Gov. Earl K. Long, shunned by the voters in Saturday's Democratic primary, often has called Louisiana tolerant. The Jan. 9 showdown between New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison and former Gov. Jimmie Davis may test this view.

Morrison, a Catholic, led the record 11-man field. Davis, a Baptist, was next, trailing by more than 60,000 votes.

Morrison's strength was in South Louisiana, a predominantly Catholic area. More than 25 per cent of his votes came from New Orleans.

He wasn't ahead in any parish (county) in North Louisiana, where most of the people go to Protestant churches.

Louisiana voters haven't elected a Catholic governor this century.

SEGREGATION BIG ISSUE

Another important issue is segregation. Davis wasted no time in bolstering his stand on this.

The 53-year-old hillbilly ballad singer and movie actor said he was convinced voters are concerned about their rights to decide their own problems.

He cited the overwhelming victory of Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion in his bid for another term.

Warmer Weather Seen for Shoppers

The next few days will bring slightly warmer weather for Christmas shoppers, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures will average three or four degrees above the normal high of 37 and normal low of 25. Light snow or snow flurries Tuesday night or Wednesday will total 2- to 4-tenths of an inch, with flurries again Thursday night or Friday.

Tonight's expected low will be about 22 with a high tomorrow of 35 degrees, with the warming trend to follow. Downtown temperature at 2 p.m. was 30.

Oonik and the Eskimos Wonder Why Ice King Is Angry

Oonik lived in an igloo on the edge of the Arctic Sea.

CHAPTER ONE

In Northern lands near the top of the world Christmas comes in the wintertime.

In Southern lands near the bottom of the world it is different. There Christmas comes in summer.

In June, July and August, Northern children swim and picnic and walk barefoot in the woods.

But during these very same months Southern Hemisphere children ride sleds and skate and wear gloves every day. For these children summer doesn't come until December and Christmas itself often comes on the hottest day of the year.

There is, of course, a scientific explanation for this strange state of affairs and you have probably heard this explanation and accepted it as, very properly, you should.

But some folk say there is another reason, not at all scientific, why December comes in summer near the South Pole while at the same time coming in the winter at the North Pole.

★ ★ ★

If you can believe these folk it is all because of Santa Claus and Oonik, the Eskimo boy, and the way the two of them long ago tamed the Ice King of the North.

★ ★ ★

Here is the story they tell:

Once upon a time, in a far away Northern land, there lived a little Eskimo boy named Oonik. He lived with his family in an igloo on the edge of the Artic Sea.

Nearby there were eight other igloos where other families lived. Together they formed an Eskimo village.

The Eskimos were hunters. In the winter they hunted seal and walrus and polar bear. In the summer, when their snow houses melted and grass covered the land they hunted reindeer and rabbit and birds.

One year it seemed that the winter was colder than anyone could ever remember. The icy winds blew all the time and the snow drifted high over the village.

Sometimes, when Oonik and his father returned home from hunting they had trouble finding the door to their own home because it was buried in new-fallen snow.

And sometimes the cold was so intense that all the villagers stayed in their snow house for weeks at a time.

The worst part of it was that the hunting was poor for even the seal and the polar bear did not wish to come out in such weather. So food ran low in the village and Oonik was often lucky to have even one hunk of frozen seal blubber as his only meal of the day.

One day as the family sat together in the igloo Oonik's father said, "The days are beginning to be longer than the nights and the Spring Moon shines in the sky. That means winter is over and soon the ice will melt, birds will fly and flowers will grow."

WINTER IS OVER

"And we will trail reindeer in the hills!" cried Oonik rolling over and throwing his arms around his dog, Keotuk.

"I can hardly wait," said his sister Popik. "Oh, it will be good to live in our summer tents and hunt for bird eggs in the grass!"

"And we will be warm again!" cried their mother. "Oh, I will be glad when this miserable winter is gone!"

But weeks went by and May came and June and even July passed by and still the icy winds blew and the snow piled higher and even the hunters' sleds froze to the ice and it was a job to move them at all.

★ ★ ★

Then the Eskimos were truly frightened. They went to the igloo of Miski, the wise man of the village.

"What has happened?" they cried. "Why has summer not come?"

Old Miski sucked in his ancient cheeks and stared at the ground. Then he said, "The Ice King of the North is very angry. To placate him we must have a festival in his honor. Then the icy winds will stop and summer will come to Eskimo land."

Stores Add Hours

Virtually all downtown stores will be open until 9 p.m. tonight and every shopping night until Christmas, George Richman, president of the Downtown Merchants Assn. announced today.

Not only are stores full of potential Christmas presents, but downtown Pontiac is ablaze at nighttime with Christmas decorations put up by the association and its member stores, he said.

FEAST BEFORE THE FINAL — More than 100 students of Michigan State University Oakland turned out voluntarily for an extra class at Greenfield's Restaurant in Birmingham Saturday night. After dinner, students reviewed for final examinations, besieging the instructor, Dr. William Kluback with questions. The session lasted until midnight. Students busily took notes as Kluback (left) stressed major points which might turn up on their examinations in the history of Western Civilization.

Long Loses at Polls; Religion an Issue

Gremillion heads the state's legal team in segregation rights.

Neither Davis nor Morrison mentioned segregation much in their campaigning for the first primary, although both said they favored it. Morrison's foes often have accused him of courting the Negro vote.

State Sen. W. M. Rainach, Louisiana's No. 1 segregationist, accused them both of evading the issue.

Rainach, making his first statewide race, was third in the governor's race. He hasn't said whether he will try to line up his backers behind one of the leaders.

The next two men in the race, former Gov. James Noe and State Comptroller William Dodd, haven't picked a favorite either.

Noe, a former associate of the late Huey P. Long and Earl Long's choice as his successor, ran fourth. Dodd, whose career has included a term as lieutenant governor, was fifth.

Complete returns from 2,083 of 2,108 precincts gave Morrison 271,816 votes, Davis 209,765, Rainach 138,111, Noe 95,945 and Dodd 82,593.

A half-dozen other candidates trailed far behind.

Long, barred by the constitution from succeeding himself as governor, was third in the lieutenant governor's race.

★ ★ ★

The voters in Long's home parish of Winn even refused to let him serve another term as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee. They replaced him with a newcomer, Sheridan L. Garrett.

It was Long's worst beating since he was elected lieutenant governor in 1936. That election later led to him becoming governor the first of three times when Richard Leche resigned from the governor's job during the Louisiana scandals.

Ahead of Long in the balloting for lieutenant governor were Davis-backed C. C. Aycock and Mayor George Bwoden of Alexandria, who ran on the Morrison ticket.

Complete returns from 1,883 of 2,108 precincts gave Aycock 186,834 votes, Bowden 173,642, Long 139,357, Cy Courtney 99,307, William White 54,409, and Frank Jordan 19,964.

Democratic nomination in this one-party state is equivalent to election.

It is estimated that if all the paved airport runways in Florida were laid end to end they would form a roadway 20 feet wide from Miami to Sitka, Alaska.

100 MSUO Students Bone Up for Final Exams in Restaurant

By MAX E. SIMON

Michigan State University Oakland freshmen feasted before their finals Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

And customers of a Birmingham restaurant were treated to a display of devotion above and beyond the call of duty by the young scholars.

More than 100 students voluntarily turned out for "class" at Greenfield's Restaurant, 725 S. Hunter Blvd., Birmingham.

The reason? A chance to review for a final examination in MSUO's history course in Western Civilization.

★ ★ ★

On hand for the event was 33-year-old Dr. William Kluback, assistant professor of history.

Students in one of Kluback's evening classes were disturbed upon learning they would not have an opportunity for a review session before finals.

The 32 students suggested a Saturday night dinner, followed by a review session, in a small Rochester restaurant.

Kluback okayed the idea.

NEWS TRAVELS

News of the extra class traveled about the campus. Students in Kluback's other classes and some taking the course with other instructors indicated interest in the unusual meeting.

★ ★ ★

Because of the anticipated crowd, the affair was moved to Birmingham.

Coeds wearing fur coats and party dresses — and armed with notebooks — were on the scene. Youths abandoned sweaters for suits.

No one knew exactly how many were coming. A banquet room with a capacity of 100 had been reserved.

It soon became apparent planners hadn't underestimated attendance.

★ ★ ★

Waiters dashed to and from setting up more tables. All seating space was occupied. Some students stood.

After dining on chicken and roast beef, at $3.50 a plate, students settled down for the main course of the evening.

As he surveyed the students in the candlelit banquet room, Kluback said:

"This is an elegant and aristocratic way of getting an education. But then education is an elegant and aristocratic privilege. The only way to study for final examinations is in a hall conducive to this kind of activity."

Kluback told the freshman that "this session isn't rigged to help you do well.

"But the key to the course is an understanding of the English parliamentary system. . ."

NOTEBOOKS FROM NOWHERE

Notebooks appeared from out of nowhere. Those without notebooks jotted notes on napkins.

★ ★ ★

Other restaurant customers looked in amazement at the novel scene as students scribbled furiously amidst the white napery, mahogany furniture and wall-to-wall carpeting.

All in all, it was a soiree in which parfaits were followed by Plato and coffee by Copernicus.

The scene was in sharp contrast to the classroom scenes on the campus. Buildings at MSUO have no rugs, draperies or carpeting.

Kluback said afterward that his students asked the "vastest questions."

Some examples — "Trace the attitude of the philosophers from Plato on as to the relationship between the individual and state?" And, "Define the difference between classical and Christian thought?"

Drained by the session, Kluback called a halt at midnight. Several students came up and continued a small discussion for another half hour.

"I'm prouder of this than if the presidents of Harvard and half a dozen other universities had been here," Kluback said happily after the event.

One of the students was stopped by an elderly woman as he was leaving.

WHAT ABOUT DATE?

"Young man," she said, "don't college students usually have a date Saturday night?"

"Yes ma'am," the young collegian replied. "That was no problem for me.

"I brought her along."

Anything for a Buck – He's Glad They Did ice breaker, but too thin to walk on safely," said Squires.

"We pushed slowly along with one foot in the boat and another on the ice. It must have taken us an hour to reach the animal," he said.

Then the real job began—how to get a frightened buck into a rowboat.

KICKING, FLAILING

"He was kicking and flailing away all the time. It was really wild until Russ lassoed him," Beanblossom explained.

"We must have used 100 feet of rope," he said. The four firemen and their teen-age companion fought the deer 20 minutes before finally controlling him.

The buck was then carefuly slipped up over the side of the boat out of the icy waters. Both he and his rescuers returned to shore dripping wet.

★ ★ ★

The bedraggled crew carried him in the boat back to his fenced-in sanctuary and set him free.

During the tussle, Steere had called for a helicopter, thinking at one point that even the rescuers might need rescuing.

The buck cut one front leg but was otherwise all right. He looked at the men with a thankful expression, then limped away.

The Day in Birmingham

Psst! Men! Tonight You Shop Alone—NO Ladies

BIRMINGHAM — Men, this is your night. Better take advantage of it. It comes only once a year.

Today, for the eighth year, almost all Birmingham stores will open their doors to men only between 7 and 10 p.m.

No women will be allowed — absolutely no women, the merchants say.

Men will be able to do all their Christmas shopping in one evening without competing with the fairer sex for standing space or a clerk's attention.

This unique shopping idea begun in 1951, has gained national attention.

Participating merchants will display every available piece of merchandise order to offer gift ideas.

Beginning Dec. 14, stores will stay open until 9 p.m. every night before Christmas.

Another in a series of elementary school instructional conferences for administrators and teachers throughout the county will be held Wednesday in the Bloomfield Hills Schools.

The conference will start with a general assembly at 9 a.m. at the Hickory Grove Elementary School near Square Lake road and Woodward avenue.

Following a luncheon at Hickory Grove School a spelling clinic has been planned.

★ ★ ★

The clinic will identify and show methods of working with spelling problems in individual or group situations. The clinic will apply to all grade levels.

It will be conducted by the teachers in the Bloomfield Hills schools in cooperation with the staff of the Oakland County Board of Education.

Included in the program will be classes where physical education, music, art and French are taught.

The Senior Men's Club Friday meeting program will include a talk by Keith K. Kreag, curator of the Detroit Zoological Gardens. The discussion group will review the pros and cons of "Government Control of Public Utilities."

Mrs. Murray D. Jones

A Rosary service for Mrs. Murray D. Jones, 77, of 2852 Colonial Way Rd., Bloomfield Hills, will be said at 8 p.m. Tuesday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

The funeral will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Hugo of the Hills Church. Burial will be in Westport, Conn.

Mrs. Jones died Sunday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

Surviving are her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Pinter of Bloomfield Hills; four sons, Murray, John and Philip, all of Pontiac, and Gerald of Birmingham; two sisters and a brother.

Mrs. Jay C. Hudson

Private funeral service will be held Monday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Funeral Home in Birmingham for Mrs. Jay C. (Janet) Hudson, 87, of Detroit, who died Thursday in Willowdale, Ont., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. D. Winchester, after a long illness.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. T. D. Winchester of Willowdale, Ontario, and Mrs. George W. Davis of Birmingham; one son, Henry J. of Detroit; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Memorial tributes may be made to Michigan League for Crippled Children.

Local Workers Trek Back to GMC Plant

One thousand hourly-rated General Motors Truck & Coach Division workers started returning to work today to resume production of light and medium-duty trucks.

The resumption of work on Dec. 14 of these lines was announced by Calvin J. Werner, division general manager.

Werner pointed out, however, that material shortages caused by the 116-day steel strike will force the suspension of heavy-duty GMC truck production today. This, he said, will result in the layoff in that department of some 500 employes for approximately two weeks.

Coach production schedules will be maintained, Werner said.

Local merchants believe in the power of newspaper advertising —last year they and other local advertisers invested a whopping $2.4 billion for ads in their local papers.

ATTENTION
FISHER BODY EMPLOYES

All employes of the Fisher Body Assembly Plant laid off because of the steel strike are to report for work at their regular shift starting times on Wednesday, December 9, 1959. Deviations will be handled on an individual basis.

Unless otherwise notified, Fisher Body employes assigned to the Pontiac Motor Division Plant laid off because of the steel strike, will report as follows:

Wednesday, 12-9-59 (Second Shift Only)

Trim and Body employes report at 7:48 P.M.

Thursday, 12-10-59—All Fisher Body employes assigned to the Pontiac Motor Division Plant report at regular starting times on both shifts.

Beat Christmas Rush by Using Pencil and Brains

How?

Don't shop early. Just avoid the rush. Stay at home and make a list and decide EXACTLY what you are going to give each person on it.

★ ★ ★

Follow the newspaper ads, but don't set foot in a store yet. Check your list against the advertisements and choose one store that has every item you want to buy.

Also, jot down the location of the department carrying your gift selections so you don't have to hunt once inside the store.

Simplify by choosing gifts that are usually carried on the main floors of stores. For men choose special Christmas gift packages of toiletries, cuff links, money clips or mufflers. For the women: French leather gloves and fine perfumes.

★ ★ ★

With this system you really enjoy Christmas. The key word is organization, and that's what it takes to survive the Christmas rush.

Keep Candle Burning

The true Christmas candle, rarely seen now, was very large and burned throughout Christmas Day. If it went out or was accidentally blown out before the day's end, it was thought to be an omen of bad luck.

The ancient Etruscans ruled Italy for centuries before the Romans rose to power sometime around the 4th Century B. C.

Singer Expects to Leave Hospital Bed Today

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Roberta Linn expects to leave Cedars of Lebanon Hospital today after brief treatment for a back ailment.

Miss Linn, the original Champagne Lady of television, entered the hospital Friday. She had been troubled by a pinched nerve in her back.

She said she probably would resume a Las Vegas, Nev., singing engagement later this week.

SAFEGUARDS IKE—The safety of President Eisenhower during his 19-day 22,370-mile trip is in the hands of Col. William G. Draper. He has been Ike's personal pilot since 1950. In case the President's jet transport has any difficulties, Col. Draper can expect help from a sister Air Force jet which is following close behind.

Missing Man Found Dead in Swamp

The body of an Oxford Township man missing since last Sunday was found today in a swamp near his home.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said John Burket Jr., 34, of 1909 Drahner Rd., was found dead in a nearby swamp shortly before noon.

Deputies were unable to immediately determine the cause of death. Burket was last seen by his brother-in-law when hunting Sunday.

Deputies released a missing person report on him Tuesday after a search of the area failed.

On June 25, 1921, Samuel Gompers was elected president of the AFL for the 40th time, defeating John L. Lewis 25,022 votes to 12,324.

Barbara, Pope Get Notice

Ike Uses Copters on Tour

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—President Eisenhower is using helicopters on some parts of his tour to cut down on the physical strain of waving to crowds.

★ ★ ★

The President used helicopters to go to the airports when leaving both Rome and Ankara. Aides explained he had already done his quota of waving. By avoiding repeat appearances, he conserves his energy for his arrival at the next stop.

Barbara Eisenhower, mother of four children, visited a children's hospital in Ankara Sunday. The President's daughter-in-law went slowly through the wards, stopping to speak to the young patients, looked through the window at a new baby, and donned a surgical mask and gown to go through the ward for premature infants.

★ ★ ★

Later the wife of Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu gave a tea for Mrs. Eisenhower. During the state dinner for the president—a stag affair — President Celal Bayar's wife entertained Mrs. Eisenhower and several other women at dinner.

Pope John XXIII told about 100 newsmen accompanying President Eisenhower that if St. Paul were alive today, he would be a journalist so as to spread the doctrine of Christ.

★ ★ ★

The Pope received the newsmen shortly before his meeting with the President. He said since becoming Pope, he had grown to appreciate the importance of journalism more and more.

★ ★ ★

"I wish the peace of Christ in your souls and that your service in your profession may always help to promote peace and brotherhood," the pontiff told the newsmen.

That's No Excuse

BALTIMORE (AP) — The convertible parked illegally had a violation ticket on its windshield despite the fact that one front wheel was missing and there was a jack under the axle.

The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization estimates there are about 700 million adult illiterates in the world, or 44 per cent of the population.

In the past two years, newspaper publishers spent more than $150,000,000 to modernize their plants and equipment.

Algeria Resolution Support Expected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly's Political Committee is expected to give its endorsement late today to a resolution urging Algerian-French peace talks.

★ ★ ★

Delegates predicted the 22-nation Asian-African resolution would get well over the simple majority needed for approval in the committee. But they expressed doubt that it would muster the two-thirds majority necessary for its adoption in the Assembly.

★ ★ ★

Auto Buyers' Demand for '6s' in New Cars Up

DETROIT (UPI)—The six-cylinder engine is regaining popularity with auto buyers at the expense of the eight, a Dodge official said today.

"Buyers want the cheaper engine but more accessories on the car," he said. Study of customer orders for the first two months since 1960 models were out on sale shows demand for the slant six engine up 33.8 per cent of all Dodge buyers against 10.3 per cent in 1959.

But, said Dodge General Manager M. C. Patterson, demand for radios in new cars is up to 62.5 per cent against 46.3 per cent in last year's models and over 99 per cent want heaters. The demand for such accessories as power brakes and white sidewall tires is also up by small margins.

Indian-Chinese Split Tips Asian Balance

India was one of the first nations to recognize the Communist government of China. It offered no objection to the 1949 conquest of Tibet and in 1954 made an agreement with China to respect each other's sovereignty and territorial integrity.

In the power struggle between the free and Communist worlds India has maintained strict neutrality and even defended China in the United Nations. At times India seemed to lean over backwards to appease the Reds.

★ ★ ★

Last March the picture changed. Communist China ruthlessly crushed Tibet and derided Indian protests. During the summer Chinese troops crossed the traditional frontier between Tibet and India and clashes occurred. China now claims 38,000 square miles of Indian territory. Again NEHRU's protests were ignored.

★ ★ ★

Now thoroughly aroused, the people of India demanded action to block Chinese aggression. Prime Minister NEHRU's policies of neutralism and friendship with China came under fire. Indian leaders even spoke of a military alliance with the West.

A major war over the disputed mountainous wasteland is not likely. But Red China has thrown away the good will built up in India and elsewhere in Asia. This could change the political balance of the whole world.

★ ★ ★

It was only after NEHRU spoke out boldly against China in parliament that he won a vote of confidence. "If war is thrust upon us," he said, "we shall fight with all our strength. But I shall do my utmost to avoid war." Even Defense Minister KRISHNA MENON, who is accused of pronounced Communist leanings, admitted that "it was unfortunate that we trusted China."

Johnson's Theory Is to Spend, Spend and Spend

After a period of wily vacillation, LYNDON B. JOHNSON is slowly emerging from the bushes as a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

★ ★ ★

The Texas Senator let loose with a double barreled blast against DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER for "trimming people's dreams out of the budget." This remark has all the earmarks of a rock-ribbed Democrat on the firing line. It goes back to FDR's theories of "spend, spend and spend" — on which the Socialist-Democratic movement was founded. The taxpayers are warned.

JOHNSON's position is defined.

★ ★ ★

He proposes to ladle out the cash with both hands. This means the folks back home would continue to dig and dig so he could spend, spend and spend in Washington.

If that's what you want, here it is.

Antarctic Treaty Brings Hope for Co-operation

With the signing of the Antarctic treaty, 12 nations have agreed upon a complete ban on military operations three and upon full co-operation for the advancement of knowledge.

Most of these countries gave up something. Seven have territorial claims in the Antarctic. However, existing claims have been frozen and new claims forbidden to be made while the treaty is in force. The United States in particular has carried out extensive explorations and scientific work in the region.

★ ★ ★

Last October when the conference assembled in Washington, the Southern Hemisphere nations supported by Russia demanded a ban on all nuclear explosions. On the other hand the U.N. delegation suggested an exception for its peaceful use.

A final compromise accepted by the Soviet Union forbids all nuclear explosions until a general international agreement on nuclear power applicable to the Antarctic can be worked out. Inspectors for the powers involved will be permitted to visit any installation in Antarctica at any time.

★ ★ ★

This achievement had its beginning in the International Geophysical Year in which many nations carried on scientific observations and cooperated for the good of the whole world. Our State Department deserves great credit for proposing the agreement and for preserving in the long drawn out negotiations which preceded the break through in the East-West stalemate.

Mr. England is employed at the GMC Truck and Coach Plant, and Jerry is the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wallace.

This is the first time in the history of the contest that it went down to the final game. To the three survivors who favored Chicago in Sunday's game, as well as the 4,124 other good sports who participated in the contest, we wish to express our thanks, and hope that some future winners will be found among them.

"Sure Looks Peaceful — From Up Here"

David Lawrence Says:

Plenty of Bluffing in Steel Talks

WASHINGTON — It ought to be called "collective sparring," instead of "collective bargaining." For there's a lot of bluffing going on behind the scenes in the controversy between the unions and the steel companies.

LAWRENCE

The so-called "cooling-off" period provided by the 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act seems to have developed into a "heating-up" process.

On the surface, the situation looks like a stalemate, a deadlock, an impasse. Actually, it's a real battle, and the strategy of each side is designed to win the support of public opinion.

Preparations, for instance, are being made for holding in January the most unusual election in the history of labor-management relations.

For the first time nearly 500,000 workers in a single industry will be polled to decide whether the "final offer" made by management is acceptable.

The Taft-Hartley Act provides for such an election. It is conducted by the National Labor Relations Board.

STATED IN WRITING

The question has to be stated in writing to the workers, and they vote by secret ballot. The results are tabulated separately for each company.

Thus it's something like the electoral vote in a presidential election. An actual majority of all the workers might turn down the offer, and yet the union could be faced by a majority vote to accept it in several of the companies.

It may be doubted whether the managements of the steel companies believe they will win the election. They realize that the issue is not going to be decided on its merits—on whether the offer is good or bad.

The contest is going to be waged on emotional lines. The cry among the workers will be "support the union" and "a victory for management will hurt labor."

Naturally, the workers will be urged to support their own leadership, but, on the other hand, they have already paid a high penalty for what some may deem to be incompetent leadership.

Certainly there is no excuse for the failure of the labor union leaders to let the men have that extra 12 days' pay which they might have gotten if the unions had not fought the injunction in the courts. It was a hopeless cause from the start.

All the legal precedents were against it, and there was no really technical reason why the union leaders should not have allowed the injunction to go into effect immediately, thus saving the workers millions of dollars in wages that they now can never recover.

Another issue that will be stressed during the campaign surrounding the election is whether the union wants to risk another strike.

It will be argued that failure to accept the company offer means resumption of the strike and that Congress then will come in with a law providing some form of compulsory arbitration, which may be unpalatable to both the workers and their leaders.

The companies, incidentally, would be much heartened by a substantial vote on the part of the union members to accept the offer, even though it didn't constitute a majority in any company's case.

If any considerable number of workers liked the settlement proposed by management, it would be construed as a significant division in the ranks of labor itself.

But the larger questions involved are not going to be settled by the election.

Actually, the labor union leaders are waiting for the 15 days, beginning about Jan. 7, during which the voting will be carried on and results tabulated. Negotiations will presumably begin thereafter in earnest.

Even if the 80-day injunction expires without any agreement between management and the union, there is nothing in the law or in union precedent which forbids the labor union leaders from continuing negotiations thereafter indefinitely, without a contract, letting the men stay on the job in the meantime.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Lenient' Eastern Hospital Lets Father in Labor Room

Perhaps the most lenient attitude of nearby hospitals toward fathers, said an Eastern paper, is that of a hospital in New Haven. husbands are permitted to remain with their wives all during labor. But then the delivery room doors are closed, father (expectant father, that is) is left outside to chain smoke cigarettes and pace the floor.

DR. BRADY

A check (inquiry, that is) of local hospitals on their policy regarding fathers in the delivery room revealed that such a thing simply is not done. The attitude appears to be one of complete astonishment that anyone would even think of the idea.

The trouble with the hospitals is that they are too hoity-toity about it, and the trouble with expectant fathers is that they are too wishy-washy about it.

The hospitals are hoity-toity because that discourages meek patrons who might not approve of everything that goes on in the star chamber.

Expectant fathers are wishy-washy because they are woefully ignorant of what every expectant father should know about pregnancy and childbirth.

The husband who is fit for parenthood will study these things with his wife and accompany her whenever she goes to the doctor for prenatal instruction or advice. A good marriage is a fifty-fifty contract and this is the best of all reasons why the partners should be together when their child is being born.

To help expectant parents in their study I have a booklet called PREPARING FOR MATERNITY — it contains chapters on paternity — to get it send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

Whether the expectant mother wants natural childbirth or not she can learn a lot to her advantage by reading Dr. Grantly Dick Read's CHILDBIRTH WITHOUT FEAR — any book dealer can supply it or get it in the public library.

Other books I recommend for prospective parents are:

CHILDBIRTH, Your Questions Answered, by Carl H. Davis, M. D., and Donita Ferguson, published by Harpers, $2.75.

A WAY TO NATURAL CHILDBIRTH, Relaxation Exercises, by Helen Heardman, published by William Wilkins, $2.00.

THE WOMANLY ART OF BREAST FEEDING, published by La Leche League, 3332 Rose St., Franklin Park, Ill., $2.00.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Child's Mimicry Can Be Challenge

Brad shows how children like to imitate their heroes. So parents and teachers should be doubly careful to set a good example, especially in their visible behavior. For what children see tends to be more influential on their future actions than what they hear. So send for the tests below and take frequent inventory thereon.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case D-419: Brad M., aged 2½, is a livewire little boy.

His sister and her Sunday School class had been practicing the new Christmas song about "Little Sandy Sleighfoot."

CRANE

Brad realized that Sandy Sleighfoot had such extra long feet that he was ridiculed by other children. On Sunday morning, while his daddy was still abed, Brad hopped out and put his small feet into his father's large bedroom slippers.

Then Brad gleefully padded around the house, exclaiming: "Me, Little Sandy Sleighfoot."

★ ★ ★

This reaction should be a challenge to every parent.

For children habitually try to imitate other folks, especially the big people in their homes or neighborhood.

And what they mimic is usually some obvious visible trait. Thus, the youngsters want to smoke because they are envious of the adult "giants" who puff on cigarettes around them.

And if those huge parents or beloved uncles and aunts serve cocktails or sip whisky beverages, the youngsters wish to do likewise.

"I'm Daddy," is thus a great yen of little boys.

"I'm Mommy," is likewise a common remark of little girls who may dress up in Mother's high heels and use her rouge and lipstick.

Since imitation is such a widespread method by which children adopt new habits, it behooves parents to set a sterling example before their youngsters.

SILENT TEACHING

Parents do far more "silent" teaching than they ever imagine.

Ask the kindergarten teachers and they can tell you of the very revealing acts and statements which 5-year-olds offer apropos of their home situations.

When our oldest boy, George, was at the toddler stage, he demanded a toothbrush so he could brush his teeth "like Daddy."

But I didn't realize how closely he was imitating my total toothbrushing behavior until Mrs. Crane once called me to the bathroom.

Our Chicago apartment had an old fashioned bathtub on legs, so it was much higher than the modern legless tubs.

George had demanded that his mother come and hold him while he brushed his teeth.

★ ★ ★

For he insisted on placing one foot on the tub. But he was so short that this upset him until he insisted that his mother hold him upright.

When I looked in, there George stood, leaning almost at a 45 degree angle, with his left foot almost as high as his shoulder, and manfully trying to brush his teeth.

"How do you suppose he got this weird notion?" Mrs. Crane asked, and I shook my head.

"Well," she answered, "you just watch yourself tonight when you brush your teeth, for you always rest your left foot on the tub.

★ ★ ★

"George seems to feel that your foot action is an essential part of the toothbrushing task."

And Mrs. Crane was correct. Sure enough, I found I automatically rest my left foot on the tub (and still do to this day).

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Use them for regular inventory and PTA discussion topics.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Readers Continue to Talk About Recreation Problem

I agree with the letter from Decent and Local Resident. What do these old people think we are? Sometimes I wonder how many of these people who are griping about having so much recreation have talked to our minister, our principal, and our counselors.

★ ★ ★

They'd find out our townspeople are extravagant on clothes, cars and adult parties but can't even provide us with a decent teen club. I'm an officer in M. Y. F. in Clarkston and know from experience our teenagers, all ages, faiths and kinds show up. We provide good spiritual guidance and recreation. We always get help from the minister and parents but never from the old stuffed shirts.

★ ★ ★

Most of us in Clarkston are good kids and I wish you old stuffed shirts would stop calling us juvenile delinquents. We're not and we'll continue to be just happy, healthy and loved (we hope) teenagers.

Lovable Teenager

As Decent said, those boys are fine. Why must most adults live in the past instead of the present? If more people would open their eyes and see that times have changed, everyone would be happier.

I just hope all these letters start something going in Clarkston. Too many people depend on good old Clarkston High for recreation That helps but they can't do it all.

Another Teen

These kids can harp all they want about poor recreation, but I was a teenager recently enough to know that they're never satisfied. I remember adults sponsoring dances, opening "night clubs" exclusively for teenagers, providing skating rinks and opening teen canteens, but most of these things folded from lack of attendance and still they cried, "We have nothing to do."

There's plenty to do if they want to find it. What about high school plays and projects, Y-teens, school dances, church groups, ordinary parties at each other's homes, skating parties, toboggan parties, wiener roasts, to say nothing of the regular school work that takes up quite a bit of time?

When I was in high school just a few years ago I had so much to do I could barely find time to do it all, and maybe the gripers would call school and church activities square, but most of us had a wonderful time and kept out of trouble, too.

Readers Disagree on Store Closing

In answer to One Who Knows, let's call Dec. 26 "Kind Heart Day" and not close the stores. We clerks will already be short one day's pay unless we're fortunate enough to have holiday pay. We're not working for the joy it gives us; we're working for the money and we can't afford so much of your kind of "kindness."

Just a Clerk

I agree all the way about retail merchants closing stores Dec. 26, giving all employes a chance to have a long weekend. Factories do it. Why not stores?

Writer Protests Telecaster Firing

It's sure a sorry day when a man is fired from his job for saying out loud what he thinks. What's happened to our freedom of speech? Stick to your gun, Jack LeGoff, and stay a better man than the one who fired you.

★ ★ ★

I admire LeGoff's spunk to stay with something he believes in and not being a yes-man for those so-called big shots.

★ ★ ★

If you're going to clean up TV and fire disc jockeys for taking payola, why not do a good job of it? The biggest crooks are politicians. Lansing and Washington are full of them. Move over, LeGoff. They may lock me up for saying what I think.

Resent Probing Senator's Payroll

There's nothing wrong with McNamara's wife being on his payroll for his office as Senator as long as she does the work. Why shouldn't he use her if he wants to and I can't see that it's the business of anyone else, anyway. There are too many snoops in the U.S. of A. who keep sticking their big noses into other people's business.

McNamara Voter

McNamara's wife probably gives him more help in his business than she gets paid for and she is probably very efficient and always doing a good job. There are too many that always want to peek through some keyhole into someone's private life.

Nixon Awaits Harvest Time

Everything's Going His Way as Front-Runner for GOP Bid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is like a farmer whose planting is finished and who is sitting now on his front porch, keeping cool, saying little and waiting for the crops to grow. crops to grow.

For an amibitious politican he's in an enviable position.

He is front-runner for the Republican presidential nomination and at this moment everything is working for him. His troubles—if they come—won't come until next year. So he doesn't have to do much talking or scampering around.

With President Eisenhower out of the country for almost a month, he is the top-ranking government official in the United States. He'll be the man for the politicians to see and the Eisenhower Cabinet to talk to.

Just by being here he'll stay in the public eye, which has been a pretty permanent location for him ever since 1953. If somehow, while Eisenhower is away, he can be a factor in settling the steel dispute, that's so much extra gravy.

Nixon's predecessors in the vice presidency had little to do. Eisenhower changed that. He has made more use of his vice president than any other President. That fact alone has kept Nixon in the national consciousness for almost seven years.

Ex-Movie Sheriff Takes Top Post in South Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Charles Robert Swart, who once played the sheriff in a low-grade Hollywood Western, will take office as governor general of South Africa this week.

Swart, 65, justice minister since 1948, was named Sunday to succeed Dr. E. G. Jansen, who died Nov. 25.

Swart took a degree in journalism at Columbia University in his youth and worked on newspapers in New York and Washington. Then he tried Hollywood, appearing as a bit player in a few films. After a brief stint in vaudeville he turned to writing and sold a number of articles and short stories.

On his return to South Africa, he entered politics as an ardent Afrikaner and later became a stalwart of the National party. He has represented constituencies of his native Orange Free State in Parliament for 26 years.

GM, Chrysler Begin Assembly This Week

DETROIT (AP)—Assembly lines at General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. will whine back into life this week and thousands of idled workers will return to their jobs.

★ ★ ★

A steel shortage caused by the long steel strike halted production at the auto firms but the supply lines again are filling with steel and the industry is shooting for a 447,300-car month.

GM's last assembly line ground to a halt Nov. 11, a month in which the industry built only 254,418 cars. Chrysler's last plant closed last Wednesday.

GM was scheduled to resume Cadillac and Corvair production today. Chrysler said it expected to get Imperial, Valiant and Dodge truck lines moving again Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Ford Motor Co. production was relatively unaffected during the 116-day steel strike. American Motors Corp. and Studebaker-Packard Corp. maintained normal production.

★ ★ ★

GM, which normally employs 330,000 hourly rated workers, recalled 62,000 last week, bringing to 115,000 the number of workers called back out of a peak layoff of 215,000.

Chrysler said it expected to have 10,000 of its 38,000 idle back on the payroll by Wednesday and the rest soon.

Baby Brokers Flourish in U. S.

$3 Million-a-Year Ring Scours Italy, Greece for 'Product'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An international ring is doing a three-million-dollar-a-year business in black market babies by scouring remote areas of Greece and Italy for children to be adopted by Americans, it was charged here.

★ ★ ★

Ernest A. Mitler of New York, a consultant for a New York state legislative committee, said the international "baby hunters" have been going "full blast" for two years and there is no law to stop them.

The well organized international network has its headquarters in the United States, Mitler said. Prices for babies vary from $1,500 to $3,000, he told the American Public Welfare Assn.

"One could put up a huge neon sign in any one of 33 states proclaiming 'Greek babies for sale', Mitler said heatedly, "without even violating a state or federal law."

★ ★ ★

Mitler said one ring is headed by a Midwest attorney who has served two prison terms.

Social agencies qualified to carry out international adoptions, he added, are being pushed into the background "by the enthusiastic and aggressive activities of the international baby brokers."

Wins Uncontested Split From Detroit Ad Chief

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Mary A. Roy was granted an uncontested divorce Friday from Ross Roy, Detroit advertising firm executive, whom she said "was constantly picking on me."

★ ★ ★

The divorce was granted by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy, after Mrs. Roy, 49, testified that her husband was "unpredictable, criticized her unjustly and was extremely jealous." They had been married 30 years and have three of grown children.

A property settlement covering 10 pages was not filed in evidence, nor were its contents divulged. Roy's attorney, Walter Nelson, told newsmen, however, "She got less than half."

Court records show Roy draws $90,000 a year in salary, plus a $50,000 annual bonus, as president of Ross Roy, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roy estimated in her suit his assets were "well upwards of two million dollars."

Court records list Mrs. Roy's personal assets at more than $500,000, including stock valued at $350,122 in her ex-husband's firm.

Joel Chandler Harris worked 24 years for the Atlanta Constitution beginning in 1876. His Uncle Remus series was published in the Constitution during that time.

Legislature Puts Up First Christmas Tree

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan Legislature, for the first time in the memory of the veteran House postmaster, has a Christmas tree.

"We've never been in session long enough to need one," said Postmaster Art Wickman, who has been with the Legislature 20 years.

Wickman brought a small tree from his property in Carney. It was put in the House post office.

Marble Lake Farmer New Quincy Postmaster

QUINCY (UPI) — William Johnson, a Marble Lake farmer, has been appointed postmaster at Quincy.

He will succeed Neal Potter, retiring after 20 years on the job.

Johnson's appointment was announced by Rep. August E. Johannsen (R-Mich).

State Won't Deliver New Michigan Manuals

LANSING (UPI)—Distribution of 1959-60 Michigan manuals is under way, Secretary of State James M. Hare said Saturday.

Hare said state legislators will each receive free copies of the $4 publication.

But lawmakers will have to pick them up and make deliveries themselves. Hare said his office will save $610.56 by not doing the mailing for lawmakers.

CARDS catch little girl's fancy with punch-out paper doll. Punch-out clothing keeps her busy 'til Santa comes.

Greeting Cards Delightful in '59

Conventional Ones Are Best Sellers but There Are Models for All

Thousands of little girls will be getting paper dolls they can call their own this Christmas. They'll come in the form of Christmas cards.

★ ★ ★

One large greeting card manufacturer this year is marketing a Christmas card featuring a punch-out paper doll with punch-out clothing. It's just the thing to bring a squeal of delight from any little girl.

In fact, greeting cards this year will be more delightful than ever for everyone. They will be gayer, more colorful and more tastefully designed.

That's a promise from Dave Davis, who heads the art department at a greetings corporation. And, he adds, they will be more plentiful.

All in all, the Post Office Santa will drop more than 2½ billion Christmas cards into U. S. mail boxes.

★ ★ ★

There will be cards to fit every personality. More religious cards will be on the counters, but there also will be more studio-type cards.

★ ★ ★

One, for instance, depicts a little fellow yelling, "The Redcoats are coming! The Redcoats are coming!"

★ ★ ★

Opening the card you see a group of jolly, redcoated Santas shouting "Merry Christmas."

Of course, these off-beat cards still represent a small percentage. The more conventional Yuletide greetings are still the best sellers.

Refund Claims on Use Tax Trickling In

LANSING (UPI) — The State Revenue Department indicated today Michigan may get a slightly higher than expected "windfall" from the now-void penny use (sales) tax increase.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock said the state through yesterday had processed 4,600 refund claims amounting to only $124,000 of the 13 million dollars collected in the 52 days before the tax was thrown out by the Supreme Court Oct. 22.

Lock said 100,000 other claims were expected, especially on auto sales, but there were indications the refund total may fall short of the four million dollars predicted earlier.

The claims, 97 per cent of them on auto sales, averaged $27.

The delay in filing reclaims has helped ease the state's cash shortage. The state spends the "hot" money as soon as it hits the treasury.

★ ★ ★

Refund claims will be added to the state's 80-million dollar-plus refund stack of unpaid bills.

Problems Same in Both Areas

Pakistan a Two-Sided Nation

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—The people of Karachi were to line up along a 10-mile road from the airport to downtown Karachi to greet President Eisenhower today.

★ ★ ★

This nation is divided into two vastly different parts. One side, including Karachi, is largely desert. East Pakistan, 900 miles away across a wedge of India, is an area of rice paddies wetted by monsoons.

President Eisenhower will spend a day and a half in Karachi, an overcrowded city between the desert and the Arabian Sea.

Most of Pakistan's government is still here, although the capital was recently shifted 700 miles inland to Rawalpindi.

BARREN MOUNTAINS

Eisenhower also will fly across fertile irrigation projects and the stonily barren mountains of West Pakistan, between Afghanistan on one side and India on the other.

Slightly less than half Pakistan's 85 million people live in the nation's western part, which at 310,236 square miles is the size of Texas and Louisiana combined.

East Pakistan, 54,501 square miles, is about the size of Michigan.

Most of the West Pakistanis speak Urdu, a language based on Arabic and Sanskrit. The camel is a major means of transportation here. Water is scarce.

East Pakistanis speak Bengali. English is the main language for communication between the two sections.

The two sides of this diverse nation have common problems. One is poverty. Cities have squalid slums despite recent efforts to provide decent housing.

HUNGER INCREASES

In rural areas of East Pakistan, the pressure of a rapidly rising population has increased hunger.

The two sections also share an educational problem. The government estimates literacy at 18 per cent. The low literacy rate and shortage of radios put most people out of direct touch with the government.

The most important link between the two wings is the Moslem religion. Under the leadership of Mohammed Ali Jinnah, the Moslems won a separate state when freedom came to the Indian subcontinent in 1947.

Continuing disputes with India over Kashmir and other issues left a bitter legacy that is only beginning to disappear.

Jinnah died in 1948 and his top aide, Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan, was assassinated in 1951.

Pakistan began to slide into corruption. Politicians without a popular mandate kept putting off elections. The economy was stagnant.

In October 1958 the army chief of staff, Mohammed Ayub Khan, stepped in.

The British-trained general, now a field marshal, had a reputation for discipline, hard work and honesty. He is now trying to train Pakistan in these virtues.

PRESIDENT AYUB KHAN

Although Ayub Khan governs under a harsh looking set of laws, his regime has been mild compared to most dictators.

Ayub Khan is moving toward representative government. Village councils will be elected about Christmas time and the councils might be used to elect an interim president—doubtlessly Ayub Khan—until a constitution is drawn up.

In a part of the world noted for neutralism, Ayub Khan thinks in terms of military positions and is a firm American ally.

In both Central Treaty and Southeast Asia Treaty organizations his country plays an importnt role in Western defense planning.

★ ★ ★

But Ayub Khan has worries of his own. The Russians are building roads down through the buffer nation of Afghanistan.

The Chinese Communists are building roads through Western Tibet near disputed Kashmir. Ayub Khan says Pakistan will be under military threat within five years.

This and the foreign aid without which Pakistan cannot continue its economic development programs are likely to be on Ayub Khan's mind when Eisenhower flies in from Ankara.

Pleads Guilty to Sale of Indecent Literature

Firemen! Help! Help!

SOBERTON, England (UPI) — Firemen rushed to the rescue of several hundred goldfish here after the Parish Council decided the water in their pond was giving out because of a water shortage. The firemen saved the fish by putting some of them in separate water tanks.

New Cigarette Found Lowest in Tar, Nicotine

Washington, D.C.: The United States Government has just received a special report which shows that a new filter cigarette—today's new Life—has achieved the least tar and nicotine ever attained. This report, filed with the government in the public interest, supersedes all previous ratings.

Achieves Least Tar, Nicotine

Following accepted research practice, the table shown at left omits all brand names except the one lowest in tar and nicotine—new Life. One of the scientists who developed new Life, Mr. Thomas Wade, said in an interview:

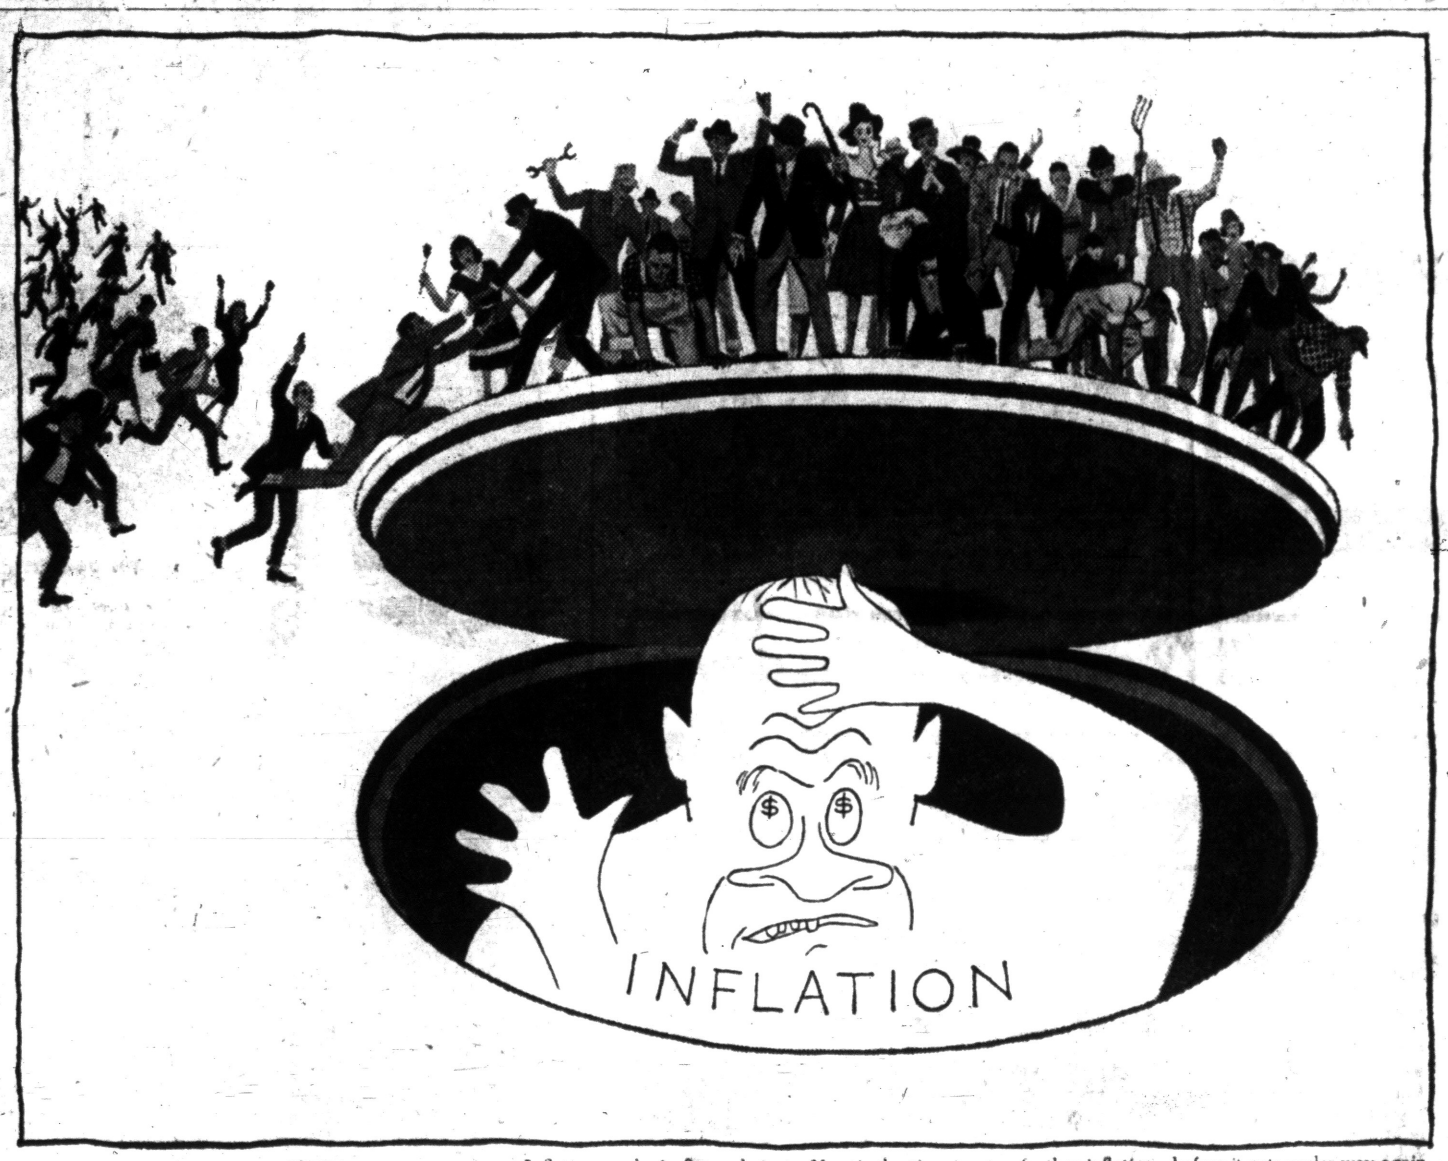

"This new advance was largely due to one factor—the super-absorbent Millecel Filter developed for Life Cigarettes. With this new filter, Life has been able to achieve the least tar and nicotine of any cigarette made, as shown by the filter ratings on file with the U.S. Government."

Report to Government Welcomed

Life has set a new standard of tar and nicotine reduction. Life scientists have also developed new taste enrichment which delivers full flavor never before possible in a filter cigarette.

Smokers, acting on the new ratings filed with the U.S. Government, are changing to new Life . . . for the least tar and nicotine in history.

Inflation works in fits and starts. Now is the time to stop further inflation—before it gets under way again.

You can plan your future with confidence

ONLY WHEN THE LID IS ON INFLATION

Inflation isn't licked . . . yet.

We've been making some progress but the lid is still not on inflation. And even when it is, we're going to have to be on our guard constantly against further inflation. For only with a stable dollar can we plan with confidence for the months and the years ahead.

With a stable dollar, for example, families and business alike will be able to plan their savings and their future growth.

A stable dollar will mean the raises we get will actually be raises in buying power, not merely a means of meeting rising prices.

America needs a stable dollar in order to grow. This calls for savings—your savings and the economies government can make.

Personal savings help give our families the protection we want them to have. And our savings—plus the economies government can make—help provide the capital to build more schools, more homes, more factories. These things, in turn, lead to more jobs, more opportunity and a better standard of living for all.

As all of us grow through our savings, we and our families can look forward to an even more prosperous America—built on a stable dollar and protected from further inflation.

Stay on Your Guard Against Further Inflation

1. One thing you can do is to let your senators and congressmen—now that they are home—know your point of view about cutting government spending. You may be surprised how much influence a personally written letter or visit will have. They may believe exactly as you do, but if they hear mainly from pressure groups who demand more services and projects, it is hard for them to hold the line against inflation.

2. You can take the same action with representatives of your state and local governments. They, too, may appreciate being reminded that you favor tightening up on expenditures.

3. Whenever you shop, check carefully on prices and values. That way, you're sure of getting your money's worth.

4. When you buy wisely, you will find it easier to build up a nest egg which will give your family that extra protection you want them to have. And as many of us add to our nest eggs, we will be providing the capital for more jobs and greater opportunity for all.

Such actions as these work for a growing America and a stable dollar, too.

Brought to you in the interest of every American who is concerned with preserving the value of the dollar.

Legion Boots 40 & 8 Over Race Clause

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — "We have no quarrels with the American Legion," says John Hobble of Liberal, Kan., chief of the 40 & 8 Society.

That was his reply Friday night when asked to comment on the American Legion's action in cutting its ties with the fun-making 40 & 8 in a dispute over racial membership restrictions.

The parent Legion and the 40 & 8 have been arguing for years over a 40 & 8 rule limiting membership to whites. The Legion itself has no racial bars on membership.

Martin McKneally, national commander of the Legion, announced in Indianapolis Friday that from now on the 40 & 8 will be forbidden to use the American Legion name or its emblem in any connection.

Cloth Is Easy and Fun to Make

Christmas Table Should Be Festive, Too

Why not make a holiday tablecloth to grace your festive board this Christmas?

Made of heavy white linen and decorated with a motif of holly and Christmas balls, it will last for many holiday seasons to come.

And it's an easy taks when you follow these directions.

This design is suitable for round, square or rectangular tables. For a rectangular table measure the length and width of your table. Add 12 inches on all sides for the overhang.

★ ★ ★

Linen is available in 36-inch widths. A two-yard length will be suitable for the center panel of most rectangular tables with pieces on either side to make the overhang.

★ ★ ★

To do the appliques, first trace the design on wrapping paper. Use dressmaker's carbon to transfer the design to gold organdy.

Cut out designs, leaving a good half-inch seam allowance all around. Baste in place on the tablecloth.

Set your slant-needle automatic sewing machine for a narrow satin stitch, or use the automatic straight or slant-needle machine.

Work around the outlines of the balls and leaves, using matching gold-colored thread. Cut away linen under design and organdy at stitching line.

★ ★ ★

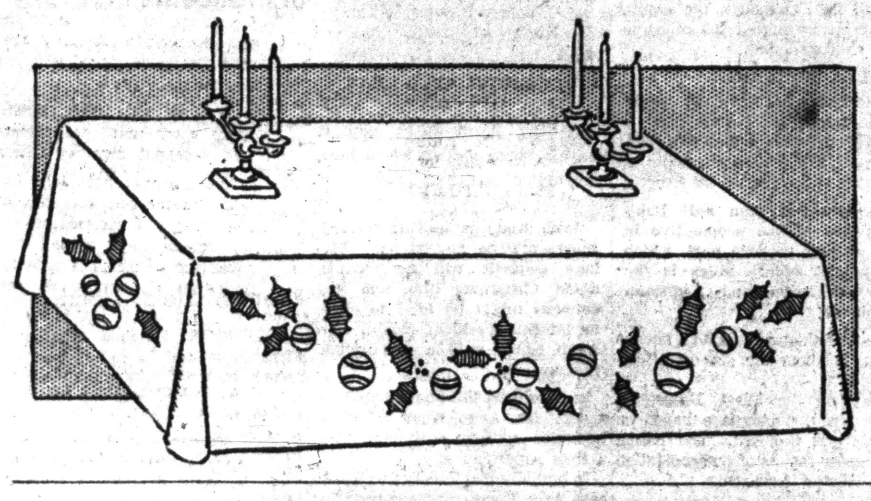

Trace veins of leaves and connecting lines in gold satin stitch.

Set your machine for one of the many decorative stitch patterns, such as an icicle or ball design, and work several rows of stitching across the Christmas balls.

The bands of decorative stitching on the Christmas balls will appear darker in contrast, since the stitching lines will be backed with a thin strip of linen.

There are several methods of hemming the tablecloth. Most satisfactory would be to work a line of satin stitching in white or gold above the raw edge. Trim away excess fabric.

Or, set your machine for a satin scallop stitch, and work a scalloped line of satin stitching along the hemline, trimming away excess fabric.

Soprano's Husband Has No Formula for Giving

By WALTER SUROVY
Husband of Opera Singer Rise Stevens

In our crazy household it is impossible to generalize my choosing a Christmas present for Rise.

Last year I had given her a big diamond-emerald necklace in November for no particular reason, and for Christmas I felt she should be enchanted with a nice casserole for the kitchen. She was!

Matters are even more complicated since she has little time for shopping and it is my regular lot to go hunting for almost everything.

So, my philosophy is that the biggest present I can give Rise is to have her go all by her lonesome self and do some shopping for me. However, this has not always been notably successful. Christmas four years ago we surprised each other with the same, identical watch.

★ ★ ★

In thinking seriously about a present for Rise, I stay away from regular articles of apparel, since these are essentials in her career and must be bought throughout the year.

I concentrate on play-clothes (no sweaters, since she is a furious knitter on her concert tours), pieces of furniture which do not necessarily make life more beautiful but more comfortable, things for her private use in the kitchen, or paintings.

The latter is a happy choice! Rise is crazy about art, and my practical mind considers it sound investing.

There are two presents which my better half receives from me each Christmas: a new umbrella and a pair of overshoes. They are my gentle way of saying: "Stop losing them!"

SINGER RISE STEVENS—Relaxing with husband and son.

ONE COLOR To Ask Restoration of Highway Funds

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—A committee of governors will go to President Eisenhower and Congress next month and ask them to restore cuts in the highway fund.

One of the governors' big problems is suggesting a practical way of getting the necessary money. A specific source was proposed Friday at a meeting here of the Council of State Governments, but the state leaders did not go on record in favor of it.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"
New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.
As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.
Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).
(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.
COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

More and More New Toys Best Used Outside, Mom

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Remember when Mom would command, "Stay in the house and play with your toys!?"

Well, mothers of today think twice, or should if they don't, before making this suggestion to their offspring.

More and more toys just can't be played with in the house anymore. A tour of toy departments of Pontiac area stores will convince you of this.

Take, for example, this year's rocket launcher with a thrust powerful enough to send its payload 500 feet into the blue.

★ ★ ★

Yes, it's a multiple-stage job and its manufacturer boasts, "it goes out of sight."

Armed with this weapon, junior simply has to begin his "countdown" indoors for a reprieve to leave the house.

And how about the "construction and education" toys? Can the tot with a building set of more than 300 pieces be limited to a 12-foot ceiling? He can't go up!

And did you ever try to unjam a child from the center of a room chock full of construction material? It's downright hazardous.

Then there are these new-fangled chemistry sets, not so archaically termed anymore, but now referred to as "Experimental Labs."

In the days when sets were comprised of such items as sodium chloride, H20, litmus paper and maybe even a little tanic acid, mom didn't mind when her little scientist set up shop on the kitchen table. Even a Bunsen burner was permissable.

★ ★ ★

But, do you think she'll stand by while a bottle of diglycolstearate is opened? It might get into the sugar! And bean seed is harmless enuogh, but melamine formaldehyde resin is a different matter.

Furthermore, experimental labs offer as many as 47 chemicals for the machinations of young inventive minds. Add 44 pieces of apparatus and you've got something.

Dads, beware, too! To save the embarrassment of being categorized with "you don't know anything" father, it would be well to learn what a spinthariscope is. Junior knows.

As a matter of fact, he knows quite a bit.

Accompanying the experimental lab is any one of 10 enlightening science manuals.

One of them, "Fun With Chemistry," begins easy enough. The first chapter is entitled, "Inside the World of Chemistry." A couple of others, further on, become a bit involved: "Plastics" and "Chromatography."

But, look out when you get to "Nuclear Physics," subtitled "The History of Atomic Power."

★ ★ ★

Kindergarten blocks, too, are considered "educational toys." On the box of one manufacturer's product is stated in bold letters, "A Necessity for Every Child."

SATISFY NEEDS

A pamphlet inside explains, "Blocks satisfy the learning of shape discrimination," and continues in the same breath, "as architectural styles are devised."

It reads on, "Blocks are the means of cooperative social activities and dramatic combination play between two children or for groups of children."

Now, we ask you!

And there used to be a time when dad could get quite a boot out of sitting cross-legged on the living room floor with his kid and "demonstrate" how the new toys worked.

Nowadays, unless pops s making corresponding progress in his advancing realm of "do-it-yourself," he'd do better to let junior show him how it's done.

★ ★ ★

Dad, if you didn't know where knob 'A' fit into slot 'AA' when you first were putting together baby's bassinet, you aren't apt to be able to demonstrate the intricacies of today's erector sets.

GREAT POTENTIAL

They come with "powerful electric motors" and can build "thousands of models." Some of the tools your son will be familiar with are sheave pulleys, tooth pinion gears, eccentric cranks, ratchets and pawls.

And if you don't know amps from watts, you'd better stay away from the boy's "Fun With Electricity" set.

Still and all, some old standbys remain on the toy dealers' shelves. The "Hammer-Nail and Peg Desk" still enables junior to pound away frustrations and edge mother's nerves.

The "Automatic Player Drum" saves a lot of effort on baby's part. "It plays automatically," the directions proclaim. "Good therapy," it is said.

★ ★ ★

What it all seems to add up to is this:

Today's toys are getting junior free from mom's watchful and protective eye, and restraining dad's helpful assistance.

Is that bad?

ADMIRES MOON EXPLORER — Seven-year-old Craig Hill, 655 E. Beverly St., is full of wonderment at this mobile Moon Explorer Rocket Launcher armed with three missiles. The modern toy captured his imagination especially when a salesman told him it could blast off the "payload" half the length of the store.

Holiday Driving Clamps Urged

J. Edgar Hoover Says Christmas Good Will by Officers Dangerous

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today urged local law officers to launch a "tough, unapologetic campaign" against careless drivers during the Christmas season.

Hoover said in the FBI law enforcement bulletin that policemen and the courts normally are expected to have "good will toward all men."

But, he said, "This Christmas time spirit must not extend to our potential highway killers."

"Nothing is so dreadful," Hoover said, "as the cold statistics which show that at Christmastime—when joy should reign second only to reverence — traffic accidents kill, injure and maim more persons than during any other holiday period."

★ ★ ★

Last year, 740 persons died from traffic accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday.

Hoover warned that "negligent and reckless drivers and pedestrians — despite the pleas of law enforcement, newspapers and national and local safety organizations — will again put the red stain of death on our roads."

He urged an all-out campaign to "remove them and their death-dealing traffic habits from society so that this year there will be htghway 'peace on earth' throughout our nation."

Senator Says China Breeding 'Like Rats'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) says the Red Chinese "are breeding like rats" and, as a result, may someday end up at Russia's throat.

Wiley, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he felt this was a major reason why the Russians apparently have softened towards the West.

★ ★ ★

"There's no place for the Chinamen to go except north and they are breeding like rats," Wiley said. "Six hundred and fifty million (Chinese) will soon be a billion. Where can they go?"

He said the evidence was "very clear" the Kremlin was aware of the threat and had strengthened its defenses near the Red China border.

Goes Back to 1821

The first English Christmas tree was used in 1821 at a children's party given by a member of Queen Caroline's court.

THERE'S GREEN STUFF IN GREENS — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hughes are shown here at the entrance to their little shop in Waterford Township where they have made a thriving little business of manufacturing Christmas greens ropings and trimmings. All the greens decorating poles in downtown Pontiac, as well as those in several other towns, were put together by the Hughes and their small crew of helpers.

Waterford Couple Drapes City in Christmas Green

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Thousands of feet of decorative Christmas greens roping, earmarked for towns, country clubs and department stores, is rolling off a unique machine in a little shop in Waterford Township.

Every inch of the 3,000 feet of roping that is draped along Pontiac's main streets was put together by Joe and Una Hughes in the tiny pine-laden cottage located back of their home at 444 Marion St.

Before Pontiac's trimmings, the couple made more than 4,000 feet of the pine-wired rope for the city of Jackson. They at one time supplied five major cities with fresh pine roping.

"Along about Christmas time in 1948, things were tough for the Hughes and their four children. Jobs were scarce, and, consequently, what little money there was for food and clothing barely provided an adequate existence for the family.

Rather than sit around and bemoan their hard luck, the Hughes decided to do something different and produce a Merry Christmas for their children.

Mrs. Hughes gathered the children into an old station wagon and headed for the north woods to collect pine boughs.

After returning home, the mother put the children to work making blankets and wreathes for cemetery decorations. Bits of artificial holly and ribbon was woven into the wreathes, and before long people began to purchase and reorder the greens.

HANDMADE

That was the beginning, according to Joe Hughes. From there the family started to hand-make the roping. The boughs were brought into the kitchen, put together on the table and dropped out a side window as the rope became longer.

"That kitchen used to be one big mess," Mrs. Hughes recalled.

Soon the Hughes hired other people to help make the roping at Christmastime. A group of eight people would begin working in early September and finish up two days before Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Because it was necessary to collect the pine branches long before Christmas, it soon became apparent there was a terrific waste involved. Tons of pine branches had to be burned long before large orders were filled. That's when Hughes got an idea.

Normally an employe at General Motors Truck & Coach plant, Joe had a natural flair for fixing machinery, and he invented the unique "rope twister."

A 50-pound roll of thin sisal rope lies on the floor, and is fed through a "counter," along with very fine wire. This is threaded through a large wheel on the right of the machine, which turns and wraps the wire around the greens as the sisal rope goes through the center, forming the base.

WIND GREENS

Recently a big drum resembling a garden hose reel was added to the machine. When the bough winding process is finished the rope greens automatically wind around the drum and can be removed in a compact circle, ready for shipment.

★ ★ ★

According to the Hughes, this is the only known machine of its kind that has been patented. So far the patents have cost the Hughes some $1,200, he said.

Since the first model, Hughes has built six machines which are distributed throughout Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Now, instead of hiring eight people, and starting weeks ahead of Christmas, the couple can produce 480 feet of roping hourly and take care of orders as they come in.

★ ★ ★

On Dec. 15, approximately 500 more feet of elaborately decorated cedar and pine roping will be draped over the Pontiac City Hall, and as the big Christmas tree is lighted, Una and Joe Hughes will watch with pride.

Twig Wreath, in Any Color, Is Different

Would you like a Christmas wreath that is entirely different?

First, take a wire coat hanger and bend it into a round shape. Next take twigs from any kind of a tree and dip them in a flour and water paste stiff enough to stick readily to the twigs.

★ ★ ★

Before paste has dried sprinkle the twigs with white thread to the twigs with whste thread to your wreath of wire.

Tie a blue ribbon bow on the hook of the hanger which is at the top of the wreath. Then tie another blue bow at the bottom of the wreath, with ribbon streamers hanging down. At the end of each streamer attach a silver Christmas ball.

★ ★ ★

If you do not want a white wreath, add red food coloring to the paste mixture and use green ribbons and red Christmas balls. Or perhaps you would like to work out your own colors.

A Jet-Propelled Ike Wins More Victories

America's jet-propelled good will ambassador, President Eisenhower, had a brisk weekend.

Today he flew to Karachi, Pakistan after receiving a "stupendous" welcome in Ankara, Turkey. The President reacted (upper left) with his own hearty greeting to the people of Ankara.

He donned the academic robe and mortar board (lower left) to receive an honorary degree in political science from Ankara University.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the weekend, the President was a guest in Rome. He was applauded by student priests (below) at North American College there after an audience with Pope John XXIII.

Walking with Mr. Eisenhower is Archbishop Martin O'Connor, college rector.

Also finding plenty to do on the good will journey is the President's daughter-in-law Barbara. She joined him and her husband Maj. John Eisenhower in the visit with the Pope.

And she put on a surgical mask and gown (right) to tour a children's hospital in Ankara.

K Means Business, Harriman Warns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for peaceful coexistence means all-out competitive coexistence, former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman said today.

★ ★ ★

The competition is for "our survival in freedom," Harriman said in a speech prepared for delivery at the Economic Club of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet premier has stated that Communism is destined to dominate the world, Harriman, a former ambassador to the Soviet Union, said.

★ ★ ★

"We should never lose sight of the fact that Khrushchev is just as determined as Stalin was in his objective to further Communist world revolution, Harriman said.

She'll Endorse Products in U.S.

Ready Bardot Brarrage

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — The American woman is about to be flooded with a variety of products bearing the interesting name "Brigitte Bardot" on the label.

Miss B's first label will appear on brassieres. She will work her name up to lingerie, through bath towels, and finally to cars.

Why cars?

"She drives," explained Jean Claude Simon.

M. Simon is a tall, quiet-spoken Parisian with the newly-created official title of "director of merchandising for Brigitte Bardot." He admits that he probably will make a great deal of money on Bardot enterprises in America for the simple reason that Brigitte gave him his job — and its money potential — out of friendship.

"She doesn't want any money out of it," he said. "She is making so much money now that more of it only brings problems."

★ ★ ★

Simon's chief interest, at the moment, is launching the first and most logical product to be endorsed by Miss Bardot — bras.

They will be introduced in a nationwide campaign Jan. 4, and in case you are confused, they are a logical product to begin the BB barrage of dainties because, according to her merchandising director, a bra is implicit in the French pronounciation of the name Brigitte: "Bra-zheet."

Five Miles of Xway to Open at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — A five-mile section of Interstate 94 expressway (U.S. 12) will be opened to traffic today, less than five months after construction began.

Highway Department officials said it was one of the fastest expressway construction jobs in Michigan history.

The section is part of 55 miles of I-94 in Southwestern Michigan in the Battle Creek-Paw Paw area.

Have Yule Festivities If You Like

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died a month ago and I would like to know just how far I can go in celebrating Christmas this year without bringing criticism upon myself. Would it be proper to exchange Christmas presents as usual with my friends, and also to have a Christmas tree in the house?"

Answer: This is entirely a question of your own feeling. If you feel up to it, you may exchange Christmas presents with your closest friends. You may also have wreaths in your windows and a small Christmas tree—especially if there are young children in the family.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am in the midst of writing thank-you notes for wedding presents and I am not sure just how these should be signed. That is, do I sign them with my name alone or should my husband's name be included in the signature? I have had conflicting opinions about this and am completely confused."

Answer: You mention his and I love your gift, or John and I thank you so much for your lovely gift) and sign your name alone.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What is proper procedure to follow when after having accepted an invitation to a reception, shortly before the party one finds that she cannot go after all."

Answer: The best thing to do is to telephone and say, "Please tell Mrs. Jones that Miss Mary Smith regrets that due to a bad cold she will be unable to come to her reception on Tuesday evening."

Baskets of white flowers and potted palms adorned the chancel. Lighted candles in the windows were tied with white pine sprigs.

The Rev. Luren Strait read the candlelight rites before 300 guests. Dr. L. Jerome Fink of Pontiac gave away the bride.

No Easy Task, Says Abby

Puppy, Kitten Population Causes Many Cruelties

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The letter from FARMER'S WIFE who had over 300 dogs and cats dropped off on her property in the last 14 years interested me.

Few people realize the seriousness of the abandoned animal problem. It is estimated that over 33 million puppies and kittens are born in this country every year. Of this number, about 20 million are left to die in suffering.

ABBY

So long as people allow their pets to produce puppies and kittens in greater numbers than they can feed and care for, the problem will persist. The Humane Society is trying to persuade people to have their female dogs spayed and their male cats altered. If they would, it would solve this problem quickly. Can you help to spread the word?

MONTGOMERY

DEAR MONTGOMERY: I can try, but I am not optimistic. In a world where people are producing more people than they can feed and care for, it will be no easy task to undertake a "Planned Parenthood" crusade for animals.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and Dick is 26. We are engaged to be married. Lately Dick has been going out of town every weekend with his bachelor friends. They either take along some girls (not nice ones) or meet them there.

I could forgive him if this only happened once, but it has been happening regularly every weekend. Dick says he wants to "live a little" before settling down to married life. Do I have a right to complain, or haven't I?

ENGAGED WITH A RING

DEAR ENGAGED: This kind of "living" has been the death of many engagements. The only woman who is more miserable than the "sweetheart" of a cavorting suitor is the wife of a cavorting husband. A word to the wise . . .

DEAR ABBY: I am going to write this fast and mail it before I lose my nerve. I have written to you several times but I always tore up the letters.

I have been married seven years and my problem is my husband. He likes to wear women's clothing. I didn't know this until I found some of my things missing. When I caught him red-handed he admitted that he had taken some of my clothes and had worn them.

Abby, I am almost crazy with worry. I think this is against the law and I'm afraid he will get arrested. If they find out about him at work he will lose his job. The children and I need him. Can you please tell me what to do?

UNSIGNED

★ ★ ★

DEAR UNSIGNED: Your husband is sick. It doesn't matter how you do it, but get him to a doctor. He needs professional help.

★ ★ ★

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Music, Interesting Guests Key to Successful Party

(Editor's Note: What are the ingredients that make a successful party? Washington's famed hostesses know all the tricks—how to select guests, what to prepare, how to entertain, and how to recover when something goes wrong. In the series of articles that starts today a noted Washington columnist passes along the hostesses' secrets—and recounts some notable blunders.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Toast, in this party-loving capital, is served orally with champagne, instead of gastronomically with omelet. Some toasts are brittle, some witty and some ponderous. A few are even prophetic.

Ninety gaily bedecked dinner guests laughed uproariously 14 years ago when Mrs. George Mesta —rising to toast her guest of honor at the Sulgrave Club—made a slip of the tongue and bubbled: "Let's drink to the President of the United States."

Newly installed Vice President Harry S. Truman chortled as merrily as everyone else while Perle quickly corrected herself. Three weeks later he actually became President, as black headlines proclaimed the passing of FDR.

The new prexy soon appointed his favorite hostess minister to Luxembourg, and a musicale entitled "Call Me Madame" became the hit of Broadway; but long before her invasion of the diplomatic field, Perle had firmly established herself as a party-giver par excellence.

For this reason, we asked her to divulge some of the secret ingredients which invariably make for a memorable evening when Madame Mesta tosses a whinging.

"My little black book and my checkbook are absolutely essential," she began with a smile, "but it takes more than that to stage a successful party. Music is the keynote, and a cross-section of interesting guests and good food are imperative."

The "little black book," she confessed, contains the menu, motif and guest list for every party she hosted in the past decade. She tries never to repeat a menu, and she "never-never-never" reinvites a guest beside whose name she has marked an "X" in the book.

WOE TO OBNOXIOUS

Woe to the playful character who, with one too many of Perle's generous drinks under the belt, mistakenly considers himself the life of the party and becomes obnoxious.

As an amateur pianist of note, Perle takes pride in "discovering" new dance bands and soloists. Before she engages them for her parties, however, she personally rehearses them in her French Normandy chateau to ensure that they have real musical talent, as well as showmanship.

She prefers to send out invitations for parties only a week or 10 days in advance, because she feels that this lends spontaneity to the occasion.

Her honor guests range from first lady Mamie Eisenhower to Judy Garland, from the first lady of Brazil to Ethel Merman, and from Prince Don Carlos of Spain to ballerina Maria Tallchief and Joan Crawford.

★ ★ ★

As to the guest list itself, she urges: "Mix it just as much as you can mix it. Get people from all walks of life. Everyone gets awfully tired of the same old group all the time. It's so boring!"

LIKES FEUDS

Political feuds bother Perle not a whit. In fact, they sometimes suggest a party, for as she explains it: "I just adore to get them together. Sometimes they arrive not speaking, but when the evening is over they leave arm-in-arm."

Madame Mesta has no preference between seated dinners and buffets. She thinks her theatrical honorees prefer buffets, because they are less formal, but she invariably provides chairs and place settings at small tables for each guest at the help-yourself affairs.

Perle likes to leave it to her permanent domestic staff of six to call in the extra waiters and dishwashers needed for her large extravaganzas. She personally does the organizing, however, from the entertainment to the food, and because she has had the same chef for 25 years, she knows exactly which entree and dessert will fit the bill for any season of the year.

Her favored dessert is a delectable ginger pudding, which the cook turns out as frothily as a souffle. One of her most unusual buffet dishes is a warm beef tongue, smothered in raisin sauce.

For formal dinners, Perle can seat 30 guests at her priceless antique dining table, and 12 others in the adjoining library. When the evenings are warm, however, she prefers to transform her landscaped terrace into a miniature Parisian sidewalk cafe complete with umbrellas and bobbing lanterns.

★ ★ ★

Her latest prize is an especially designed dance floor which can be unrolled on the terrace after dinner, but unless your checkbook approximates that of the Oklahoma oil heiress, we suggest that you hesitate to duplicate it. Five men are required to roll and unroll the conversational ice-breaker, which weighs 250 pounds.

(Tomorrow: A top hostess recalls "the most ghastly thing that ever happened at a party.")

Lebanon Slides Seen by PTSA

A highlight of the Pontiac Northern High School PTSA meeting Wednesday was a talk with slides by Lillian Jacobs, recently returned from a trip to Lebanon.

Pictures of Beirut and the Roman ruins at Baalbek were shown.

Miss Jacobs pointed out Byblos, known as the oldest city in the world, and told of visiting the Cedars of Lebanon mentioned in the Bible.

Speaker was Mrs. Frank Wickman of American Field Service who explained the function of AFS and introduced Helmut Gaisbauer, exchange student from Vienna, Austria, who gave impressions of the U. S. and answered questions.

Helmut is residing with the Charles Uligian family on Starr avenue.

Mrs. Wickman informed the group that exchange students must return to their own country for at least two years before returning to the U. S. She added, "Our purpose is not to make citizens of them, but to be 'messengers of culture.'"

Mrs. Dennis Burtch was in charge of refreshments and decorations, assisted by Mrs. Robert Mineweaser, Mrs. Herrol Beebe, Mrs. Marvin Andrews, Mrs. Marvin Vincent, Mrs. Robert Everitt and Mrs. Luther Schultz.

Program chairman was Mrs. Robert Lake.

Next meeting will be a model Student Council session in January with music by one of Melvin Larimers' groups. The Crystal-Aires sang at Wednesday's meeting.

French Pancakes Taste a Little Like Omelets

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

French pancakes made the way Mrs. Richard B. Leach makes them are like little omelets, but less eggy. Try them for breakfast or for a snack meal.

Weep Not for Charlie ---HE Was Wrong

By RUTH MILLETT

Some Americans seem to have gone on a sentimental binge over the fate of young Charles Van Doren, who finally had to confess that the money he won on a TV quiz show was won dishonestly.

They seem to feel that Van Doren is a fine young man who made a little mistake and is now paying for it big, that he has been tossed to the wolves by the very persons who got him into the mess, and that it is a great shame that he has lost not only his big-paying job on TV but his smaller-paying job as a college professor.

How silly and sentimental can we get?

★ ★ ★

The investigations into fixed quiz shows didn't "ruin" Van Doren. That good-looking, well-educated son of a fine family willingly sold his honor and his good name for a pot of money.

As long as the world didn't know of his guilt he lived high, basking in the glory of being an intellectual giant as long as he could.

Have we so far forgotten the basic moral principle that those who do wrong have to pay for their mistakes that we can talk about Van Doren's fate as though he had just gotten a bad break?

WHERE'S THE LINE?

Have we stopped drawing the line between right and wrong clearly enough to see that Van Doren lost nothing he really possessed when the truth finally came to light?

What he lost was the dream world he had been living — a place where you can get something for nothing, where it doesn't matter if you compromise with the truth, where you can sell your good name and at the same time hold onto it.

That is the world that crashed for Van Doren — a world that doesn't exist except in wishful thinking.

★ ★ ★

Van Doren still has the real world to live in and, it's hoped, has achieved the maturity to live in it wisely.

In the real world you can count only on what you honestly earn. You are only what you are. You protect yourself against public shame by being honest with yourself and with others.

So why should we pity Van Doren because he has had to return to the world most of us are glad to live in? It's not a bad world, not bad at all.

Make Life Adventure!

Does No Good to Worry

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I guess it is a good thing that we do not know what is just around the corner for us! If we knew beforehand about any bad luck ahead, it would prolong the pain and spoil the fun before it hits us.

Today I am thinking of how much happier we are if we expect the best. I usually feel that there is something very exciting and wonderful just around the corner. It stirs up my glands even to think of it.

I am like a squirrel which always is sticking its neck through a wire hoop to see what's on the other side. Did you know that squirrels will do this if you hold a wire loop in front of them?

Sometimes I almost get my head cut off! But usually the view is fine and I continue to investigate each day with a sense of vital expectancy. Life throws the unexpected at us in happy ways as well as in unhappy ones.

WE ARE APT TO SLUMP

It is easy after a series of tough breaks to begin expecting the worst, to feel chronically depressed because of the rut or circumstance in which you find yourself or because of the state of lowered health into which you have sunk. When life gets thick we are apt to slump in many ways.

It seems to me that the only way we can give our personal lives scope is to live them gallantly. What's the good of thinking that the worst rather than the best waits around the corner?

We cannot possibly outguess life! The things you most dreaded may never happen, but something entirely unsuspected may. Life may suddenly and unexpectedly relieve you of a situation you find almost unbearable, or she may present you with a problem you never thought you would have.

WHY WORRY?

You can't win! You do not even know what to worry about—so why worry at all? Perhaps you have had a heart attack and fear another around the corner. You may never have another, but you may be killed in an automobile accident.

★ ★ ★

We all live dangerously. We never know what tomorrow will bring. So let us approach each corner with hope and curiosity.

So long as we do this we are young at any age and whenever we stop doing it we are old at any age. Age depends much more on attitude than on the number of years we have lived.

Tomorrow: "Man Only 'Curious' — but Asks About Double Chin."

You can't win! You do not even know what to worry about—so why worry at all?

BRUSH MAGIC

by Rowena Wilson

Isn't it strange the way people never know, though told time and again, that brushing is the trick that turns poor hair into good? You have to experience the change yourself, I guess. Take time out for that powerful scalp stimulant only a brush can provide. Be sure that you get the right kind of brush for your hair needs. The style selected depends on the way a brush is used and the type of bristle depends on the type of hair.

Two Small Vessels Sink Off Britain While Liners Are Delayed

LONDON (AP) — Fourteen men may have drowned in the shattered wrecks of two small vessels which sank in a mighty gale raging round the coast of Britain today.

Numerous other craft were in trouble in the storm.

Further south, off the East Anglian coast, a Liberian freighter, struggled against gales sweeping it toward the jagged shore.

Eleven crewmen of a trawler Ravello were rescued by lifeboat.

★ ★ ★

Even the mightiest liners struggled against the fury of the storm that swept far out across the Atlantic.

The Queen Elizabeth radioed after a day and night battering that it would not reach Cherbourg until Tuesday morning, 12 hours late.

★ ★ ★

The liner plowed through the center of the storm's 125-mile winds that churned up waves 80 feet high. Inch-thick portholes in first-class cabins 40 feet above the water line were reported to have been smashed by the waves. Five cabins were flooded.

No passengers were hurt.

Ashore, the storm brought floods. Many roads were impassable and dozens of houses in exposed coastal towns were damaged.

★ ★ ★

All of south Sweden and the southern Baltic were in the grip of one of the worst blizzards in living memory. As the storm whipped the area for the third day in a row, the death toll rose to five.

Travel Present Different and Would Be Welcome

No gift gives more enjoyment to the recipient and the giver than travel.

It is a combination of fun, education and dreams-come-true which can appeal to every taste and age, and to every pocket. The giver can plan the entire trip or choose from the thousands of prearranged vacations available.

A long weekend at Niagara Falls is only $20 for each person, plus the cost of getting there. The round trip airline fare is about $40 from New York, $61 from Chicago and $286 from Los Angeles.

A Las Vegas weekend is about the same — $23 a person for three days and two nights. From Washington air fare is $288.60, from Denver $93.30.

Acapulco, a wonderful place to be in winter, can be visited for a week at costs from $87 per person to $198, depending on the hotel and whether there is one or two persons occupying a room.

Round-trip air fares in tourist class are $165 from Atlanta, $221 from Philadelphia, $266 from Seattle.

Europe is a gift anyone would like. During the winter, unlike the warmer spots such as Miami and the Caribbean, Europe has much lower rates than in its summer season, and much more music and theater, much better skiing.

Europe will cost upwards of $800, including return fare, for two weeks' gadding about between Rome, Paris and London.

A cruise is a fine gift. They are available to the Caribbean by any of more than 20 steamship companies for one, two or six weeks at a cost of $200 to $1,000.

Dr. Peale, minister of Marble College Church here and author of "The Power of Positive Thinking," said in an interview Sunday that an actor—as yet unnamed—will portray him. He said he would be available as a consultant.

Holly Plans Action to Expand Village Limits

Rain in Rochester? Who Cares?

Hurrah for the Yule Parade!

By LEE WINBORN

ROCHESTER — A steady drizzle throughout Rochester's Saturday afternoon Christmas parade failed to dampen enthusiasm of thousands who lined Main street to watch.

★ ★ ★

Sponsored by the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce, the parade officially heralded the opening of the Yuletide season in the "Heart of the Hills."

Officials believe it drew the largest crowd in its nine-year history.

Children's eyes lit up the minute they saw television star "Sagebrush Shorty," riding his palomino, "Snooper," approach at the head of the parade.

★ ★ ★

As the colorful floats, marching bands and clowns passed in review, the excitement mounted.

The climax was reached when Santa Claus appeared in a wagon drawn by ponies from the John F. Ivory estate in White Lake Township.

The judges picked the St. Andrew Catholic Church float as the best religious entry. It depicted the first Christmas, with a straw-covered creche and appropriately-costumed figures.

MANY OTHER PRIZES

The North Hill Merchants float, made up of gaily decorated oversize Christmas packages and a giant gold bell, was the judges' choice as best commercially-built entry.

★ ★ ★

Winning the trophy for the best amateur float were the Rochester Kiwanians, whose entry featured a huge club emblem.

The prize for the most orginal float went to Mitzelfeld's department store. Designed and executed by the Art Club of Rochester Community High School, it was a snow scene centered with a giant figure of "Frosty, the Snowman" and children throwing "snowballs."

Second place in the commercial entry division went to the Downtown Merchants. Their float featured a huge clock and giant-sized lettering reminding residents, "It's Time to Shop."

The Rochester High School marching band was judged best in the parade.

Winning top honors as the best marching unit were the "Raevens," all-girl precision drill team from Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Seventeen other entries were awarded honorable mention. They were the Avondale High School band, the Rochester Junior High School band, the North Central Christian College sleigh filled with carolers, the Eaglettes marching unit from Royal Oak, the Ivory ponies and the Buick "Liberty Drum and Bugle Corps" from Flint.

Others were a Nike marching unit, the Rochester Rotary Club, Nowel's train, the Leader Dogs for the Blind entry, the Rochester Lions Club clowns, the American Legion color guard and the Avon Youth Service and Recreation Assn.

The Rochester Jaycees, the AYSRA "batons," the old fire truck and the Shriners also were singled out for honorable mention.

★ ★ ★

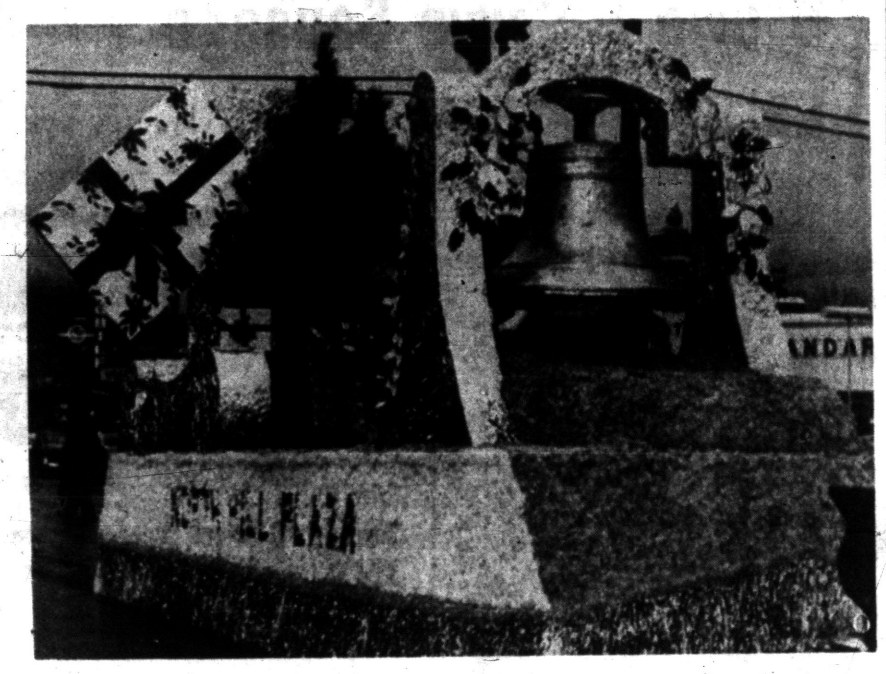

The judges were Rochester's official hostess, Mrs. Margaret Norton, the Rev. Edgar A. Lucas and Superintendent of Schools Donald C. Baldwin.

★ ★ ★

Fred Maynard of the Leader Dog School acted as master of ceremonies.

BEST RELIGIOUS ENTRY — Given the prize for the best religious entry in Rochester's Christmas parade Saturday was this float portraying the Nativity Scene entered by St. Andrew Catholic Church. The Rochester Business and Professional Women's Club donated the trophy for this category.

TOP COMMERCIAL FLOAT — The judges picked North Hill Plaza shopping center's entry as the best commercially-built float in Saturday's Christmas parade in Rochester. Despite the damp weather, the float sparkled with its gaily decorated packages and giant gold bell in front. Thousands of spectators witnessed the event.

Petition for 18 Square Miles Due Before County Board

By JIM LONG

HOLLY—Annexation of 18 square miles surrounding this village will be sought within the next two weeks, according to Village Manager Norman E. Tufford.

A petition asking that the present village area of two square miles be increased almost ten times will be sent to the Oakland County Board of Supervisor's Cities and Villages Boundaries Committee sometime in the next two weeks, Tufford said.

The boundaries of the proposed annexation would be Eddy Lake road on the west, Rattalee Lake road on the south, Tucker road on the east and Shield, Lahring and Tinsman roads on the north.

The annexation would include five square miles of the north portion of Rose Township.

According to Tufford there is no area in the village at present that would allow for industrial expansion.

"The only room we have now are several small lots for small industry," he said.

"Our planning commission has studied the community with regards to its future development and they have recommended that the village limits be extended to provide for future developement."

Holly is building water, sewer and drain facilities sufficient to serve much industrial expansion as well as residential and commercial expansion within the village boundaries, according to Tufford.

He said there have been requests by property owners in the proposed extension area asking for village services.

EXPECTS OPPOSITION

"Opposition to the annexation would probably come mainly from the two township supervisors on the Boundaries Committee," Tufford said.

The supervisors he referred to are Arno Hulet, Bloomfield Township, and Thomas C. Tiley of Commerce Township.

The three other members of the committee are Fred W. Hildebrandt, Troy, Clayton G. Lilly, Ferndale, and Emanuel Christianson of Southfield.

Should the proposed area be annexed, village taxes could be reduced, fire insurance rates for those living in the proposed extension would be lowered, police protection from the village would be added and water and sewer lines would be extended, Tufford said.

150 FAMILIES

Approximately 150 families would be involved in the annexation.

Holly Township Supervisor Seeley Tinsman was less enthusiastic about the annexation.

"I just don't feel that the village can provide additional services any better than those persons living outside the village are getting now.

"I don't think it would pay to be annexed by the village."

★ ★ ★

Tinsman said he lives in the area that would be annexed.

In 1957 Holly was successful in extending village limits by the piecemeal annexation of 242 acres.

Another problem to be overcome by annexation, according to Tufford, is the inability to improve certain streets which lie partially in the township and partially in the village.

★ ★ ★

At present, only two industries are located in the proposed extension.

They are the Consumers Power Pipe Wrapping plant and the Experimental Products Co.

Study Wixom Potential

WIXOM — A complete analysis of Wixom, its present and future potential, and a long range plan for its development is being studied by the planning commission.

★ ★ ★

According to Mayor Joseph T. Stadnik, the master plan program, though intended to serve as a long range guide to development, will introduce recommendations that could be carried out immediately.

"This procedure will afford Wixom an active planning program, guiding its growth in a sound and practical manner," Stadnik said.

"The initial objective will be to formulate a general plan for community development," he said.

★ ★ ★

Stadnik said the first stages of this program will be the assembly of basic data with regards to population growth, school needs and other data that would indicate growth patterns and needs.

"The heart of Wixom's plan is the viewpoint that the constitution and laws of the state mean what they say, in stipulating that all property assessments be made on a uniform basis," he added.

He said special attention is needed to keep abreast of the industrial growth.

LAND AVAILABLE

Stadnik noted that 1,365 acres of residential land is available for development along with 382 acres of residential farm land.

He said land is available for lots from 15,000 square feet to several acres.

Palmer Woods subdivision on Wixom road is one project already under way with paved streets and a central water system, Stadnik noted.

★ ★ ★

"Much of the influx of new residents may be attributed to the Lincoln plant and other industrial interests in the area," he said. "The anticipated growth is almost impossible to estimate."

2 Barns Destroyed by Fire in Goodland

GOODLAND TOWNSHIP — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed two large barns on the Elmore Stern farm, 8276 Norman Rd., Saturday night.

Mrs. Stern said she looked out the window and saw what she thought was a light left on in one of the barns, but it was flickering.

Going to investigate, her husband found the barn on fire. He was able to remove the cattle trapped inside.

Lost besides the buildings were a combine and other large equipment plus hay and grain stored inside. Also destroyed was small equipment including a power saw.

★ ★ ★

Imlay City Fire Chief Forest Whitkopf said the amount of the loss is not known. The Capac department was called to assist the Imlay firefighters.

The Swiss Lake Dwellers had already developed a bread-baking industry 10,000 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Hayes told Madison Heights police that he was traveling north on Stephenson highway when his car hit the Kwiecinski car; which was waiting on Stephenson to make a left-hand turn at 13-Mile road.

★ ★ ★

Ferndale police said that apparently no one saw the accident at about 5:25 p.m.

A woman customer from Helm and Lilly Grocery store at the intersection told police she saw the child lying in the road as she was getting into her car.

★ ★ ★

The boy was still conscious when police arrived, and he told them a light-colored truck had hit him.

Police believe the boy was attempting to cross 10-Mile road when struck.

U. S. Pulls the Navy From Trujillo Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is withdrawing its small naval mission from the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

The Defense Department said the mission is being withdrawn because the Dominican Republic has advised the United States it can no longer contribute to the support of the mission as specified in the agreement under which it operates.

The jointly-financed naval mission consists of six U.S. Navy and Marine Corps officers and 10 enlisted men who are advisers and instructors for the Dominican Navy.

The Dominican Republic is going through its worst economic and financial crisis since dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo took over more than 30 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The Caribbean country reportedly told the United States it could no longer pay for its share of the mission's cost.

The average automobile dealer spends $3,223 a year for newspaper advertising—more than for all other forms of advertising combined.

Today's Army Much Stronger Than 1949's

Chiang in Solidly as Formosa Boss

By ALBERT E. KAFF

TAIPEI (UPI) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, who escaped from the China mainland 10 years ago as a defeated man, stands today in unchallenged control of the Nationalists on Formosa.

★ ★ ★

Now 72, Chiang commands a military force undoubtedly with more fire power than his troops who lost the mainland to the Communists.

The 10,000,000 Chinese living on tiny Formosa probably are enjoying more comforts and luxuries than ever before in the 4,000 years of China's history.

The Nationalist government evacuated to Formosa on Dec. 7, 1949.

BEDRAGGLED ARMY

Chiang arrived in Taipei three days later after an inspection trip to South China's Sikang province.

A defeated, bedraggled army followed him into exile.

A popular analysis of Chiang's army when it arrived in Formosa was that it contained "more officers than soldiers and more soldiers than rifles."

But massive injections of U. S. military aid and a comprehensive retirement and conscription system have given the Nationalists their present tough, young and well armed force of 600,000 men.

★ ★ ★

Chiang's armory includes Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missiles, heat-seeking Sidewinder missiles, Walker attack tanks and all conventional artillery and small arms of the U. S. Army.

His air force is mounded around some 400 Sabrejets and a handful of supersonic Voodoo jets still being delivered to Formosa.

While Chiang remains the top leader, he has delegated more and more authority to his heir apparent; vice president and Premier Chen Cheng.

UNQUESTIONED LOYALTY

Chen ascended to his political stature by unquestioned loyalty to Chiang and support of local born Formosans who benefitted from the land reform programs which Chen personally directed.

President Chiang's health apparently is good. He lives an austere life and has no reported ailment.

The Nationalist leader still declares that he will return to the China mainland.

But he speaks today less often about regaining the mainland and he hedges with more conditions.

He told the nation on the republic's national day last October that if anti-Communist uprisings expand on the mainland his forces could unite with the insurgents and defeat the Peiping regime.

Most mainland Chinese living in Formosa accept Chiang's promise of returning home.

But the acceptance today might be accurately compared to a religious faith, which is embraced without question and apart from adverse realities and possibilities.

When Chiang came to Formosa 10 years ago, the island's industry consisted of a cement plant, oil refinery and several sugar mills.

U. S. economic aid pumped into the island, $120,000,000 in the past decade and Formosa now manufactures nearly all its electric fans, light bulbs, bicycles, tires, textiles, newsprint and other paper products.

The island is the world's second major sugar producer and exports large quantities of rice and pineapple.

Between the end of 1952 and the end of 1958, automobile repair charges rose 21.4 per cent in the United States.

Voters to Name Four to Board

Waterford District Will Elect New School Group Members in June

Waterford Township school district voters will be asked to elect four members to the Board of Education at the annual school election June 13.

Two must be added to the present five-member school board, due to a law passed by the State Legislature last summer.

Replacements will be necessary to fill the expired terms of Mrs. Elizabeth Adams and Lester Carlson.

Purpose of the enlarged school board is better representation of the over-all area.

However, assistant superintendent James DenHerder pointed out that there is no law designating that elected members be chosen from different areas in the township. All seven members could come from one small area, he added.

Soviet Jets Fly to Cairo on Regular Schedule

LONDON (UPI)—The Russians opened the first regular airline service between Moscow and Cairo Saturday with Soviet TU104 jetliners, Moscow radio reported.

The broadcast said 5,000 passengers have made the trip in the past year on irregular flights.

Willow Run Will Remain as Airport

DETROIT (UP)—A University of Michigan official said Saturday the school will continue to operate Willow Run Airport when and if all airlines decide to move to Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

W. K. Pierpont, vice president for business and finance, announced the policy. It ended speculation over the future of the airport.

Six airlines have already moved and the remaining seven are expected to announce decisions to move within a month.

However, they'll be at Willow Run at least another two and one-half years while facilities are being expanded at Metropolitan.

Pierpont said Willow Run will be developed as a center for personal, corporate and other types of civilian aircraft if the airlines move.

Studies show that charge accounts have a tremendous impact on increasing the effectiveness of department or specialty store advertising, and that women "from 17 to 70" are influenced more by newspaper advertising of the stores where they have charge accounts.

New State C. of C. Will Elect Officers

LANSING (UP)—The newly-organized Michigan State Chamber of Commerce will elect officers and adopt bylaws at a day-long meeting Wednesday in the Lansing civic center.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Williams and Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) will present the opposing Democratic and Republican tax views at the morning meeting.

Noon luncheon speaker will be Ralph T. McElvenny, president of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Stephen S. Nisbet of Fremont and Arthur H. Sarvis of Flint will discuss objectives of the chamber at the afternoon meeting.

★ ★ ★

A report of the nominating committee will be submitted by Edgar L. Harden of Marquette, president of Northern Michigan College, and Simon D. Den Uyl, president of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce.

Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor and president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, will be the evening dinner speaker.

Civil Rights Lag Charged to Ike

Sen. Hart Accuses Him of Hiding Behind Skirts of Supreme Court

CLAREMONT, N.H. (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) charged the Eisenhower administration last night with "hiding behind the skirts of the Supreme Court" instead of acting on recommendations of the Civil Rights Commission.

Hart told a Democratic Party fund-raising dinner here that the commission, appointed by the President, made its recommendations three months ago, but no signs of action have been seen yet. The recommendations of voting rights, schools and housing came after a two-year study.

"The administration could take immediate steps to implement most of the recommendations," Hart said. "How much longer must we wait for this administration to stop hiding behind the skirts of the Supreme Court?"

Hart proposed a federal registration system for national elections, supervised by the commission or a congressional elections commission.

★ ★ ★

He suggested a non-Southern Democrat be appointed to fill the present vacancy on the bipartisan Civil Rights Commission.

The six-man body normally has three Republicans and three Democrats. The two Democrats now on it are southerners.

Khrushchev Ends Visit to Hungarian Congress

VIENNA (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev left by train after an eight-day stay for the Hungarian Communist party congress last week in Budapest.

Announcing Khrushchev's departure, Radio Budapest did not say whether he would travel directly home to Moscow or would visit other Communist capitals in Eastern Europe.

Khrushchev was accompanied by his wife. Hungarian party chief Janos Kadar also went along as far as the Hungarian border, the broadcast said.

Signs of Internal Unrest Pop Up

Harried Trujillo Fears Real Trouble

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo is a lonelly but defiant ruler in the Caribbean today. With a revolver on his desk, the white-haired dictator knows that enemies are plotting to destroy him.

His 30-year dictatorship, struggling with serious internal economic problems, is being harassed from all sides.

Small signs of political unrest within the normally tranquil country also have appeared during the past six months.

★ ★ ★

Last June the Dominican Republic reported it wiped out a 225-man armed invasion force from Cuba which landed on the island by air and sea. Officials say machete-swinging campesinos (farmers) joined the military forces in slaughtering all but a handful of the invaders and the survivors were captured.

Dominican exiles in Cuba, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and the United States continue to plot Trujillo's downfall.

★ ★ ★

More significant than the external threats, however, are evidences of opposition within the country of an estimated 2,600,000 people. Long-time local observers report two recent mysterious fires in government offices, the finding of Molotov cocktails (gasoline bombs) in two restaurants, the scrawling of a few anti-Trujillo slogans on some walls, and increased outspoken criticism of the regime.

★ ★ ★

On the surface the situation is calm.

But the government is not taking any chances. It says it has spent an extra 50 million dollars for armaments this year.

Worried over the possibility of another invasion attempt, the government has closed down some airfields and parked trucks and other equipment on the runways. Ditches have been dug across open fields, and boulders have been placed in long straight stretches of countryside riads.

★ ★ ★

The nation's only political party, the Dominican Party, receives reports from its agents all over the country every 24 hours.

Those who know Trujillo best say he is ready to fight any challenge to his rule. At 68 the dictator himself looks fit and healthy. He expresses absolute confidence that he will overcome his adversaries, within or without the country.

In the past 30 years Trujillo has built up a system over which he has absolute control. He is praised for everything good that has occurred in the country. Even some of those opposed to his political system give him credit for an administration that has brought order out of the chaos before him and given the country stability and considerable social and material progress.

Wins Unexpected Term

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (AP)—W. J. Phillips will serve another—and entirely unexpected—term as commonwealth's attorney for Warren County. Hugh D. McCormick beat Phillips in the Democratic primary. Voters then elected Phillips as a write-in candidate.

Says Birth Control No Federal Matter

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, the head of the National Council of Churches, said yesterday he does not believe the government should be involved in a program of providing birth control information to underdeveloped nations.

"It would be my judgment that such information should be handled by private agencies and philanthropic foundations rather than by our government," the Rev. Dahlberg said.

Dr. Dahlberg said he has been an advocate "of planned parenthood and birth control for many years past" and believes that "every state and every country should have access to birth control information."

Science Has Identified 100

Fight Mysterious Viruses

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The elusive virus that's believed to have killed University of North Carolina football coach Jim Tatum is a tragic reminder that you don't have to live in the tropics or Orient to catch a mysterious disease.

Although viruses are usually associated with the common cold, flu and polio, they also cause scores of less publicized diseases that are painful, long lasting and sometimes fatal.

Scientists have identified about 100 different families of viruses each made up of several types.

Specialists at the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases won't be surprised if they discover many more.

They explain that many summer illnesses which are usually blamed on "the bug that's going around" are probably caused by unknown viruses.

★ ★ ★

Tracking down the sub-microscopic creatures is a long and difficult process. University of North Carolina doctors estimate that it will be weeks before the virus that struck Tatum is identified. It's possible, NIAID specialists say, that they may never identify it.

Some doctors believe Tatum may have been the victim of the hepatitis virus that causes the disease of the same name. Infectious hepatitis is an affliction of the liver.

In extreme cases the skin may turn yellow. The disease — sometimes called "yellow jaundice" — is rarely fatal. But the convalescence period usually lasts for several weeks.

★ ★ ★

It's believed that the hepatitis virus may be spread through the air. Another means of transmission is through blood transfusions. As is the case with most virus infections, no drug has been developed to treat infectious hepatitis. Best treatment, doctors say, is plenty of bed rest and a nutritious diet.

Another painful culprit is the encephalitis virus which causes sleeping sickness. The most common of these viruses in the United States are the Western, Eastern and St. Louis types.

Birds are believed to be one of the carriers. Here's how Dr. John P. Utz, chief of NIAID's Infectious Disease Service, describes the role of birds in transmitting the bugs:

Birds that fly to Central and South America in the winter are bitten by mosquitoes. These insects are infected with encephalitis viruses and pass them on to the birds.

When the birds return home in the spring they bring the viruses with them. U. S. mosquitoes bite the birds, pick up the viruses and transmit them to humans. The virus also has been found in garter snakes.

★ ★ ★

NIAID specialists explain that sleeping sickness occurs most often in areas with poor sanitary conditions. Like most viral ailments, its prevalence is not restricted to any one section of the country.

Sleeping sickness is a disease of the brain and spinal cord. Symptoms are high fever, tremors, stiff neck and coma. Fatalities may range anywhere from 5 to 60 per cent of the cases during an epidemic. Less severe cases may show symptoms resembling those of polio.

Two other virus families which cause ailments often mistaken for polio are the Coxsackie and ECHO. In fact, the Coxsackie's ability to copy the disease once caused the Russians to announce they had discovered a fourth type of polio virus.

A disease caused by these "bugs" is viral meningitis. Doctors explain that this ailment is not be be confused with the usually fatal bacterial meningitis. Symptoms of the viral kind are stiff neck, fatigue and headache. The recovery period is usually long.

★ ★ ★

Coxsackie and ECHO viruses often cause fatalities among children when they inflame the heart muscle. In adults the viruses usually strike the covering of the heart, a less serious affliction.

The fever and chest pains that result, however, have caused the ailment to be dubbed "Devil's Grip."

An especially dangerous "bug" is the B - Virus. It's commonly known as the monkey virus since it is transmitted to man from that animal.

The monkey virus strikes the brain. It has caused several fatalities among medical scientists who use monkeys in their experiments.

TECHNICIAN — At the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases. They remove viruses grown in bottles in search for more knowledge of these sub-microscopic disease agents.

Sees Surplus of Food in 1975

State Department Study Shows Birth Boom Will Not Shorten Supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A State Department study shows that more than enough food should be available to feed the world in 1975 despite the so-called population explosion.

★ ★ ★

The department's analysis showed that wheat and rice would be in heavy surplus—not short supply—by 1975.

★ ★ ★

The study was made available yesterday amid a growing national debate over the need, if any, for helping other nations curb their population growth because of possible food shortages.

The analysis noted that world wheat production per capita rose 4 per cent between the 1948-1952 period and the 1955-1957 period. Rice production shot up 17 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The study showed that overall food production also rose 17 per cent during the period in question while world population rose 10 per cent. In other words, there was 7 per cent more food per capita.

★ ★ ★

Increases for other foods also were noted. Oilseed production was up 30 per cent, meat production 29 per cent and sugar and egg production 28 per cent each.

★ ★ ★

The report said food production is expected to increase over the next 15 years in all regions of the world with the possible exception of North America.

★ ★ ★

It said the increase was expected to be most noticeable in underdeveloped areas which are striving desperately to spur food production.

Air Conditioner Makes Nice, Big Package on Tree

Looking for an out-of-the-ordinary gift? How about a light-weight (60 pounds) portable air conditioner.

★ ★ ★

It's a gift that one doesn't ordinarily think of during the cold weather shopping season. Nevertheless, it's an all-year-round present, not only for Florida, California and other warm-weather areas, but for northern zones, too.

In addition to cooling, the portable also serves as a heat pump and a dehumidifier. It could make a novel and impressive "package" under the tree.

The man of the house can install it in a window himself. An accessory kit is available if you have casement windows.

The Eye Research Foundation reports that 2,500,000 Americans spent more than $315,000,000 for contact lenses in 1958.

Assistant Gets Post

DETROIT (AP) — Mark K. Herley was named Detroit housing director Thursday. Herley, an assistant director for 15 years, will be paid $17,000 annually. He succeeds Harry J. Durbin, who is retiring.

Consumer Debt Up to Record Level

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer indebtedness rose to another record high in October as all major types of consumer credit activity increased, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

Installment credit grew by $512,000,000 to an Oct. 31 total of $38,421,000,000. The board said the increase was about the same rate as average monthly gains reported during the summer.

Non-installment credit increased by $96,000,000 to $11,451,000,000.

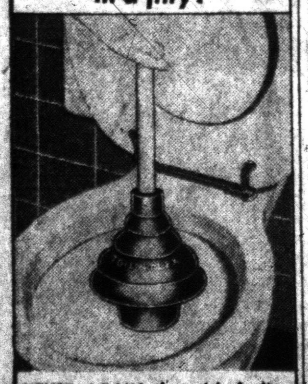

Auto loans rose by $278,000,000. This was a big gain for a one month period but it reflected brisk buying of new cars in October.

★ ★ ★

Consumer credit of all kinds on Oct. 31 totaled $49,872,000,000, an increase of $608,000,000 for the month and of $6,176,000,000 compared to a year earlier.

Have you ever thought of making a Christmas apple tree? That's only one of many ways in which shiny red apples can provide a cheerful, colorful note for the holiday season.

★ ★ ★

To make an apple tree, you shape a pile of the fruit in the form of a pyramid, holding it together with toothpicks. Before starting that job, however, you gouge a hole in the stem of each apple and set in it a white birthday candle.

Placed on an evergreen bed, the apple tree makes a striking table decoration. And for each place setting, you can use an apple with candle.

A clove apple makes a fragrant gift. Stick the stems of cloves into a small, firm, red apple until its surface is covered with the flowers of this spice. Tie a narrow red ribbon bow to the stem and it is ready for hanging in someone's closet. It will provide fragrance for weeks to come.

★ ★ ★

A large crystal fruit bowl piled high with polished apples is a cheerful and traditional mantel or table piece for a holiday home.

Fish at Miami's Seaquarium Can't Stay Sick Long

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—A bonefish got in a fight with a barracuda at the Miami Seaquarium and had to go to the "hospital."

★ ★ ★

Divers hand-fed the bonefish for a month. Its food contained vitamins and antibotics. Today, the fish is back in perfect health.

The unique hospital at the Seaquarium is credited with saving thousands of fish in the past five years. Handlers doubling as nurses are ready for anything.

When a big fish bit off the tail of a pompano, the victim was hospitalized until it grew a new tail.

★ ★ ★

A snake eel with a big chunk bitten out of its back hid in the rocks where no one could reach it.

Liquid medication was added to the water, and in a few weeks the eel emerged hale and hearty.

Treating diseased or injured fish is a routine job at the Seaquarium. It has the largest collection of tropical fish in captivity—over 10,000—in its tanks.

Lions Should Play Cardinals More Often

Detroit Romps to 45-21 Win in Home Finale

Old Faces Cut Loose With Surprising New Attack on Chicago

The Detroit Lions found out yesterday they missed a good bet by not scheduling the Chicago Cardinals for regular season games more often.

Detroit routed the Cards 45-21 in their first "for keeps" game in 10 years.

The Lions, suddenly ferocious in their last home game of a disappointing season, came up with a surprising new attack by the same old faces that have been in and out of the lineup all year.

Tobin Rote, favorite target for bleacher hecklers all year, directed Detroit to a 24-7 halftime lead and the game was a romp from there.

A banner reading "goodbye Wilson," no doubt inspired by rumors that Lion coach George Wilson won't be back next year, hung over the bleacher railing as the game opened, but when Rote ran nine yards for the first Detroit touchdown with only three minutes gone in the game, the banner disappeared.

A little later, Jerry Perry kicked a 12-yard field goal to cap a drive from the Detroit 20.

Then Yale Lary picked up one of four Chicago fumbles and romped 28 yards to pay dirt to give the Lions a 17-0 lead seconds after the second period opened.

The Cardinals got their only touchdown of the first half when linebacker Jack Patera intercepted a pass by Jerry Reichow.

John David Crow carried over for Chicago from the one, but Rote came back in to engineer a 75-yard drive in seven plays. The veteran signal-caller passed 13 yards to Dave Middleton for the score and Detroit had a 24-7 bulge at the intermission.

Detroit got only one touchdown in the third quarter, but it came on a tricky fake field goal attempt that was the play of the game.

★ ★ ★

Former Michigan State ace Earl Morrale was at the helm when Detroit rolled to the Cardinal 33. On fourth down, Morall knelt on the 40 with Jim Martin in kick formation but a pass to Jim Gibbons instead went all the way to the end zone.

Each team scored twice in the final quarter as the Lion defense let up a little and the offense continued to roll.

Terry Barr scored on a 32-yard reverse for the first score, and Reichow directed the team 27 yards in six plays following another Chicago fumble for the final score.

Ken Webb fumbled into the end zone while trying for the final yard of the drive, but Jim Doran recovered for the Lion touchdown.

The Cardinal touchdowns came on a 36-yard pass play from M.C. Reynolds to Crow, and another Reynolds pass to Woodley Lewis good for 20 yards and a score.

The game had no bearing on National Football League standings as Detroit held on to fifth place in the Western Division with a 3-7-1 record, and Chicago remained in the Eastern Division cellar on a 2-9- slate.

★ ★ ★

Detroit finishes the season next Sunday by playing the Chicago Bears at Chicago.

"The fumbles were the difference," said Wilson. "For once, we didn't have to dig ourselves out of a hole. Someone else was doing the fumbling instead of us. Maybe our players understand now what a tremendous lift you get from another team's mistakes, and what a setback it is to find yourself in a big hole because of sloppy ball handling."

"When you get out in front and you're free-wheeling like that, almost everything you try works for you," Wilson sighed. "Frustrating part is this — you look back on seven defeats and some pretty lousy football — and wonder how you can look so bad the other times."

★ ★ ★

Wilson felt this would be the week for the long-awaited explosion. "We had a terrific week in practice," he explained. "The guys were sky-high and I could sense we were coming along for a good game."

Then, the Lions got every good bounce. Wilson said:

"Ken Webb missed a pitchout, flung it around and caught it himself. Hopalong Cassady fumbled the ball and it took a big bounce right back into his hands. Dave Middleton made a great catch when the ball slid off the fingers of one of their players.

"It's a crazy thing, but that's the way it goes — when you get out in front like that everything seems to break your way. That's the sort of thing we've been experiencing all season — but in reverse."

Colts One Step Shy of Another Western Title

It's Giants Again in East

A shrewd Mississippian, his good-looking sidekick and a 230-pound one-man wrecking crew comprised the key trio for the New York Giants, Eastern Conference champions in the National Football League for the second consecutive year.

The clever Mississippian — quarterback Charlie Conerly, who revitalized a non-existent Giant attack with his pin-point passing and first-rate signal calling in the last three games en route to the Eastern crown.

The final measure of Conerly's success—after returning from an ankle injury that sidelined him while the Giants floundered—came yesterday when he passed for three touchdowns and engineered a 48-7 rout of the Cleveland Browns to wrap up the title.

The good-looker — halfback Frank Gifford, was the main cog in New York's ground game. He scored twice and packed away 175 yards running and pass receiving.

The wrecker is middle linebacker Sam Huff. He helped hold Cleveland's league-leading ground gainer Jimmy Brown to only 50 yards in 15 tries. Brown has been averaging over a 100 a game.

While the Giants won in the East and started looking toward a replay of last year's championship game with Baltimore, the defending champion Colts clinched a tie for the crown in the West.

Led by quarterback Johnny Unitas, who set an NFL record for most TD passes in one season, the Colts won their showdown battle for first place with San Francisco as they defeated the 49ers 34-14 in Saturday game.

The Colts lead the 49ers and Chicago Bears by one game with one left to play. The Bears moved into a tie for the runner-up spot yesterday by beating Pittsburgh 27-21 for their sixth straight win.

In other games Sunday, Philadelphia took over second place in the East with a 34-14 thumping of Washington, Detroit clobbered Chicago's Cardinals 45-21 and Green Bay defeated Los Angeles 38-20.

The Giants (9-2), administering the second worst beating in Cleveland history, rolled up their biggest point total in five years for their fifth straight decision over the Browns.

Conerly, the 38-year-old veteran, pitched TD tosses of 32, 19 and 2 yards to Gifford, Kyle Rote and Bob Schnelker, respectively. Gifford who scored another on a two-yard smash. Pat Summerall, New York's placekicker and the NFL's top scorer, kicked two field goals and four conversions to bring his total to 83 points.

Unitas spiralled seven and 13-yard passes to Ray Berry for Tds, clicked with a 64-yarder to Lenny Moore for another and tallied once himself on a 12-yard scamper. Unitas now has 29 touchdown passes for the season, one more than Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears accounted for during a 10-game schedule in 1943.

The Colts (8-3) meet Los Angeles next Saturday, needing a tie or victory to clinch the crown. The 49ers and Bears, both 7-4, must beat Green Bay and Detroit, respectively, while Baltimore loses to create a three-way tie.

Rick Casares scored four touchdowns on short plunges as the Bears sped to an early lead, then had to brace for a final surge by the upset-minded Steeler (5-5-1). Bobby Layne's tossing moved Pittsburgh to the 7 with 10 seconds to go, but four passes failed.

Norm Van Brocklin connected with Tommy McDonald on 35, 6 and 50-yard scoring aerials as the Eagles (7-4) romped against the Redskins. Ed LeBaron pitched for a pair of Redskins TDs.

Paul Hornung hit Boyd Dowler with touchdown heaves of 26 and 30 years and kicked a 23-yard field goals and five conversions for the Packers (6-5) against the Rams (2-9), who have lost seven straight.

DOUBLE UP ON KELLY — Montreal defenseman Bob Turner (11) and goalie Jacques Plante team to block a hard shot at the goal by Wing Red Kelly in the second period last night at Olympia. Turner skated in front of Kelly, the shot struck him and deflected off Plante's knee. The battle ended in a 4-4 tie.

Pronovost Saves Red Wings His 'Odd' Goal in Finale Ties Canadiens, 4-4

Detroit Has to Rally for Deadlock as 3-1 Lead Melts Away

DETROIT (AP) — Marcel Pronovost is a fellow who doesn't score many goals, so he doesn't quarrel about finesse.

"You can call it a freak goal, or an accident, if you want," said the Detroit Red Wing defenseman of his tying goal last night against Montreal, "but it's just like some of those bloopers in a baseball game. They look like line drives in the box score."

Pronovost's goal came in the last four minutes of play and earned the Wings a 4-4 tie. It was a long shot that hit a Montreal player and ducked into the net.

Such an uphill struggle should have not been necessary. The Wings had a 3-1 lead against the league-leading Canadiens, but let down their guard and it cost them three quick goals.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Backstsom, Andre Pronovost and Claude Provost triggered home three quickies in the second period in a two minute and 32 second span to send the Canadiens in front 4-3. Backstrom's was a clean 20-footer and Provost's came on the second stab at a rebound.

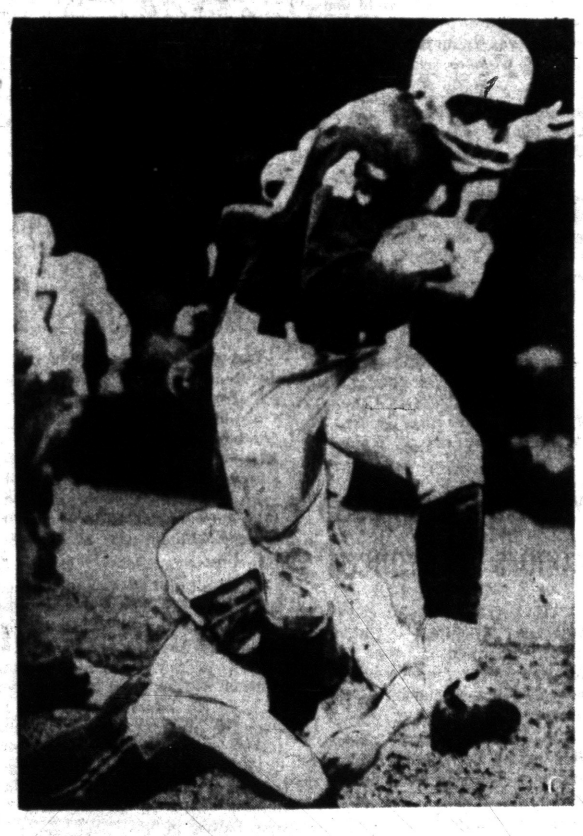

The blame for Andre Pronovost's goal falls squarely on Terry Sawchuk. The Detroit goalie wandered out of his net to try and sweep away the puck from in front of the cage. He took a swipe at it and missed, and Pronovost had an easy tap-in while the net was unguarded.

Before the wild comeback by the Canadiens and the wild finish on Marcel Pronovost's goal, the Wings carried the game to Montreal. Jean Beliveau got the Canadiens in front with a power goal but rookie Murray Oliver tied it with a power play goal late in the first period.

★ ★ ★

Oliver scored again, deflecting a long shot from Marcel Pronovost, early in the second period. Detroit made it 3-1 when Red Kelly got his third goal of the season with his own club shorthanded. The Wings' Warren Godfrey was sitting out an interference penalty when Kelly took a pass from Gordie Howe and fired a shot through goalie Jacques Plante.

Marcel Pronovost wasn't certain just where his dramatic shot struck Doug Harvey, Montreal defenseman. "I just shot it, that's all," he said. "It may have hit Harvey's side, or his stick. All I know is that it went in the cage. That's enough for me."

FANCY STEPPING — Lion halfback Dan Lewis (45) does some fancy stepping to get away from Jim Wagstaff of the Chicago Cards to go 10 more yards in the last quarter of Detroit's 45-21 romp yesterday.

Shamrocks Take SCL Opener, 37-20

Slow Start for Mikemen

Although plagued by frigid shooting all through Saturday's opening basketball test for the new season, Pontiac St. Michael came through with a 37-20 victory over Center Line St. Clement.

The tight man-to-man Crusader defense slowed down the Shamrock fast break almost to a walk. In only one period were the North Siders really able to get going. They rammed in a total of 18 points in the third session while checking St. Clement with five.

Shamrocks moved into the lead to stay in the second period, with goals by Tom Dabbs and Al Tunny. Mikemen were unable to hit a single bucket in the first session, equalling the Crusader three points with free throws. Both clubs wound up the final frame each with four points.

★ ★ ★

Coach Jim Niebauer wasn't too pleased with his club's play, but figures it will get going much better this weekend, when the North Siders meet RO St. Mary here Friday night. Shamrocks hit only 20 per cent on field shots, didn't get one in 16, in the first session.

Friday will find all three city parochials in action on the home front, with St. Frederick host to defending loop champion Orchard Lake St. Mary.

Tom Dabbs led the Shamrocks in Saturday's win, with 11 points. He shared top basket production with Al Tunny. Each dunked four. Tunny collected nine points, giving the pair a total equal to the entire Crusader output.

BEDLAM AT NEW YORK — Unruly fans at New York interrupted the New York-Cleveland game yesterday trying to tear down the goal posts. The incident chased the Browns right off the field. It was cleared up after the Giants were threatened with a loss by forfeit if order was not restored. New York won 48-7 to clinch the Eastern title.

Chase Browns to Dressing Rooms

Riotous Mob Almost Spoils Giant Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — An unruly mob almost cost the New York Giants their Eastern Conference-clinching 48-7 victory over the Cleveland Browns at Yankee Stadium yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Several thousand of the 68,436 spectators rushed onto the gridiron in the final two minutes of play, tore down one of the goal posts, then surged down the field to get the other.

★ ★ ★

Enroute, they engulfed players and coaches and caused the Browns to flee to the safety of their dressing room.

Referee Harry Brubaker ordered the Giants to clear the field and restore order or he would forfeit the game. This took almost 20 minutes, during which time both clubs became scattered.

★ ★ ★

"This is the first time we've ever been chased off a field," Cleveland Coach Paul Brown commented afterward. "But some of those people were drunk and were taking punches at you. Some even tried to rip off our coats and jerseys."

★ ★ ★

However Brown said he had no thoughts of asking for a forfeit "even if the last two minutes weren't played. We were licked," he said.

The Giants became so scattered in the confusion that some wound up in the dressing room thinking the game was over until a hurry-up call from the bench brought them back.

All-Star Pin Points

BALANCE — Billy Welu demonstrates the essential balanced, comfortable stance.

THE STANCE
By BILLY WELU

The fact that I am exceptionally tall has led me to make a complete analysis of the bowling stance.

The most important phase of it is balance.

★ ★ ★

There are no two bowlers alike. Their hands and feet are different and they differ in the way they do things. Good bowling boils down to one common denominator — balance — which is comfort. If you're not comfortable, you're doing something wrong, something unnatural for you.

I stand straight, holding the ball about waist high. My feet are close together, the left slightly in front of the right. I feel most comfortable that way. Find the way most comfortable for you.

I don't recommend too much crouch or holding the ball too high or too low, since this will tend to set you off balance and make the ball feel heavier than it is. That's something you'll discover for yourself.

Experiment if in doubt, but remember the key words — balance and comfort.

American Wins Nassau Trophy

Constantine Collects $13,000 in Near Record Sports Car Race

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — George Constantine, 41-year-old silver thatched public relations man from Southbridge, Mass., was $13,000 richer today. But more important to him was that he had won his first major international sports car race.

★ ★ ★

Constantine came out of the pack yesterday with an English Aston Martin for a near-record triumph in the $33,000 Nassau Trophy Race. He covered 49 laps of the brutal 4.5 mile course at an average speed of 87.264 mile per hour. The time was only a trifle under the record of 87.546.

★ ★ ★

Stirling Moss of Britain and Nassau, the favorite, apparently had control of his opposition when he roared into the 35th lap leading the field. Then his trouble-plagued Aston Martin broke down for good and went into the pits.

As Moss and then Gaston Andrey of Framingham, Mass., were forced to the sidelines, Constantine went to the front and never was headed. Andrey, driving a Maserati, apparently had second place sewed up only to be rammed by another racer, puncturing the gas tank.

Runner-up honors went to Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., in a Ferrari. Then came Bob Holbert of Warrington, Pa., in a Porsche followed by Jack Brabham of Australia in a two liter Cooper Monaco, and Swedish champion Joachim Bonnier in a Porsche.

More Study on AL's Expansion

Committee Expected to Seek Additional Time, as Majors Meet

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An American League committee was to report on expansion plans today with strong indications it would recommend continued study.

While the Major Leagues officially opened their winter meetings, President Branch Rickey of the five-team Continental League, the proposed third major, was due to confer with his owners at the same hotel.

Rickey had called a meeting for Tuesday morning but is expected to huddle on an informal basis tonight with loop representatives.

The Continental plans to issue a statement after the American League makes known its position on expansion.

★ ★ ★

Baseball commissioner Ford Frick also has said he will have a statement. He has urged the American to take a definite stand on expansion. The league indicated in October it was considering expansion, possibly in 1961.

The committee was expected to report that expansion is a difficult proposition, involving many complicated factors such as territorial rights for the minors, player pension, and manning a team or teams with capable players.

The player representatives had an amicable meeting with the 16 owners Sunday. The owners agreed to do their best to make certain improvements in clubhouses and bullpens at certain parks, and increase the daily meal money to $10 on the road.

The player-management group reported agreement on a minimum of night games on the final games of series. Only five still are on the schedule, four in the National and one in the American.

Michigan Generous in Return Matches

ANN ARBOR (AP)—It doesn't pay for Michigan to give hockey rivals any rematches.

The generous Wolverines boast a handsome 4-2 record this season. Both losses came after first-game victories. Colorado College dissipated a three-goal lead Saturday before rattling Michigan with two late goals for a 6-4 victory.

The loss was Michigan's first in the newly organized Western Collegiate Hockey Assn. the previous night Michigan had made its loop debut with an 8-2 rout of the same Colorado team.

Three of Michigan's goals were netted by Bill Kelly.

Michigan Tech came away from its trip to the badlands with a two-game WCHA split with NCAA champion North Dakota.

Paul Coppo fired a pair of goals as the Huskies upset the champions 4-1 Saturday night.

More Baseball Trades Rumored After Two Major Deals

Four New Faces Will Dot Tiger Roster in 1960

Chico Fernandez Key Figure in Detroit's Weekend Shuffle

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers have obtained four new faces for 1960 at the winter meetings in Florida, and indications are they are not through trading yet.

The Tigers got shortstop Chico Fernandez and pitcher Ray Semproch from the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday.

Utility infielder Ted Lepcio and two minor leaguers — outfielder Ken Walters and infielder Alexis Cosmidis — went to the Phils in exchange. Detroit earlier drafted big Steve Bilko and Emerit Lindbeck from the minors.

Bilko is a first baseman and Lindbeck an outfielder.

★ ★ ★

But the Tigers were still looking for relief pitchers to bolster the bullpen, and had been talking trades with several clubs, including the Milwaukee Braves and St. Louis Cardinals.

New Tiger president Bill De Witt said the players obtained thus far are all ones Detroit went after when the meetings started.

Bilko was expected to take over the regular first base job at Briggs Stadium next summer and Fernandez should be the number one shortstop, Tiger manager Jimmie Dykes said.

Fernandez, a Puerto Rican, hit only .211 with the Phils last year but is known as a slick man with the glove.

★ ★ ★

Semproch posted a 3-10 record for Philadelphia in 1959 but was expected to provide some of the badly needed bullpen help for Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Lepcio hit .280 while playing second and short for the Tigers and Walters batted .291 at Fort Worth.

Two student dormitories — Cloyne Court and Deutsch Hall — played that marathon contest, using more than 200 substitutions, one hour in time outs and piling up 6,674 points. They started Friday and ended Sunday.

Oh yes, Cloyne Court won—3,496—3,178.

Ex-Major League 3rd Baseman Dies at 82

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (AP) — William E. (Wid) Conroy, major league third baseman half a century ago, died Sunday at Burlington County Hospital in Mt. Holly. He was 82.

Conroy last played baseball with the Washington Senators in 1911. His last connection with baseball was as a Philadelphia Phillies coach in 1922.

In 1902 Conroy played with the pennant - winning Pittsburgh Pirates. He played third beside baseball's immortal shortstop, Hans (Honus) Wagner.

Six-Player Swap Returns Minoso to White Sox

Four Men Are Involved in Exchange Switching Thomas to Cubs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Baseball people spoke optimistically of even more trades today following the completion of two major deals yesterday. There was one in each league, involving 11 players with such big names as Minnie Minoso and Frank Thomas.

★ ★ ★

Minoso was the key figure in a swap between Cleveland and Chicago that sent pitchers Don Ferrarese and catcher Dick Brown, along with the 37-year-old slugging outfielder, to the White Sox in exchange for third baseman John Romano and first baseman Norm Cash.

Thomas, acquired by Cincinnati from Pittsburgh in the big-by the Reds to the Chicago Cubs for three players—pitcher Bill Henry and outfielders Lee Walls and Lou Jackson.

The twin trades, following on the heels of a couple of lesser transactions the day before, was greeted with enthusiasm by officials of both clubs.

★ ★ ★

"It looks like the log jam has been broken," said General Manager Bing Devine of the St. Louis Cardinals. "Now that certain players have been eliminated in the trade mart, we can concentrate on other players. Too many trade possibilities sometimes can be confusing and as a result you don't make any."

The deal between the White Sox and Indians, who finished one-two in the American League, was expected to spur the New York Yankees into action. The New Yorkers have been trying so far in vain to acquire a left-handed pitcher and a lefthanded hitting outfielder, using Gil McDougald as bait.

The Cardinals, also seeking pitching and hitting help, have put their fine second baseman, Don Blasingame, on the trading block. Milwaukee and San Francisco have shown interest in the fleet-footed Redbird leadoff man.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati's decision to trade Thomas followed a dismal 1959 season by the 30-year-old converted infielder after the Reds had given up three key players—Don Hoak, Smoky Burgess and Harvey Haddix—for him last January. Thomas, a 35-homer-hitter in Pittsburgh in '58, managed only 12 four-baggers and drove in only 47 runs for the Reds on a .225 batting average.

The acquisition of Henry gave the Reds what they needed most—a strong relief pitcher. The 32-year-old southpaw had a 9-8 record but turned in an impressive 2.71 earned run average in 65 games. Walls, a .257 hitter last year, slugged 24 home runs in 1958. Jackson, 24, led the Eastern League with his .338 at Lancaster, Pa.

The multiple Cleveland-Chicago deal marks the second time the Indians have traded Minoso to the White Sox. He originally came to Chicago in April of 1951 and was returned to Cleveland in December of 1957. He has hit over .300 in seven of his nine seasons in the majors and owns a lifetime mark of .307 including 146 home runs. Last year he batted .302 for the Indians, with 21 homers and 92 runs batted in.

★ ★ ★

Ferrarese, a 30-year-old southpaw, started brilliantly last spring and was Cleveland's best pitcher in early June with a 5-3 record. Then he came up with a sore arm that rendered him useless throughout the remainder of the season.

Troubles or No Troubles, Lakers Are Staying Put

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—With his wounded Minneapolis Lakers down to two forwards, $30,000 in the red in seven weeks and sinking fast, owner Bob Short said today the club is staying put in Minneapolis.

"I don't have any intention of moving," Short said, "barring an absolute catastrophe."

This could only mean the permanent loss of Elgin Baylor, the one thing that has kept Minneapolis alive in the National Basketball Assn., the past two seasons.

All the other catastrophes already have happened.

1960 Dates Set for Buick Open

$52,000 Golf Tourney Is Scheduled July 1-4 at Warwick Hills

FLINT (UPI)—Michigan's only regular big money golf tournament, the $52,000 Buick Open will be held at Warwick Hills Golf and Country club here July 1-4, officials said today.

Edward D. Rollert, general manager of Buick and a Vice President of General Motors, said the third annual tourney was a departure from regular professional golfers association policy.

He said J. Edwin Carter, PGA national tournament director, agreed a Friday-through-Monday date because of the meet's importance.

Carter said the dates would enable more people to see the event because galleries on the holiday weekend have been among the best of the summer tour for the professionals.

Also, the Canadian Open follows the Buick Open and that means a relatively short trip for the touring pros.

The Buick event went an extra day last year when Dow Finsterwald tied Art Wall Jr. with a six-under-par 282 at the conclusion of regular play. Finsterwald dropped the playoff match 71-73.

Drake Bumps Michigan, Hot Titans Crush Brandeis

MSU Trips ND in Overtime

By United Press International

Michigan State University brought the 1959-60 basketball season in with a roar Saturday night by taking a thrilling 61-56 victory over Notre Dame in overtime.

Art Gowens, the shortest center in the Big Ten at six-feet, two-inches, scored all five points in the extra period as the regulation time ended 56-56.

It was the second win of the season for MSU. However, coach Forddy Anderson's team won't start defending its conference crown until after the first of the year.

Michigan looked like a team with a long way to go in dropping its second game of the season 71-65 to Drake University.

★ ★ ★

Gus Guydon scored 25 points to lead Drake to the win while Perry Miller was high for the Wolverines with 19.

The University of Detroit indicated it might be the hottest team in the state by taking its second straight decisive victory 94-63 over Brandeis University.

Charlie North and Dave De Buschere, a pair of sophomores, continued as the Titans' top scoring punch with 24 and 23 points.

★ ★ ★

The University of Detroit's talented tandem came through its first basketball tests in a breeze. Now the Titans will learn how good Debusschere and North really are.

The acid test is just ahead for the Titan youngsters. Detroit plays powerful Iona of New York, Xavier and Big Ten giants Purdue and Indiana in its next four games.

Elsewhere in Michigan Saturday, scoring records were tembling

★ ★ ★

Western Michigan, likewise endowed with outstanding sophomores, broke its field house scoring mark in a 106-62 rout of Assumption. Soph Ron Robinson caged 23 points and Bob James 20.

Kalamazoo College also had an easy time in a 70-50 romp over Ferris.

High scorer in that contest was Ferris' Dan Dobiaczynski, who netted 21 points. John Thompson had 15 to lead Kalamazoo's balanced attack.

★ ★ ★

Northern Michigan College made it two in a row over the same team by whipping Detroit Tech 94-48 in a game at Marquette.

Guard Wayne Monson led Northern with 16 points as the home team set a new field house single team scoring record. Fred Boddy was right behind Monson for the winners with 15 points.

Adrian College kicked off its Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. season with a 77-64 win over Albion.

★ ★ ★

Albion's Bill Losey took scoring honors in the game with 17 points, but all five starters for Adrian hit in double figures for the team's second win of the year. Albion is 1-2 for the season.

Baldwin-Wallace defeated Eastern Michigan 77-64 in another game involving a state school.

Hope downed Lakeland College 98-57 in a non-conference game at Sheboygan, Wis. Ray Ritsema led the Dutchmen with 18 points.

1st Shutout in 57 Games

Long Trip Home for Dales

HILLSDALE (AP)—Coach Muddy Waters took his Hillsdale football team 1,500 miles to Texas to get a bowl bid and ended up with nothing.

The Dales, under the big, bright Texas stars Saturday night, were shut out for the first time in 57 games. Texas A&I exploded on the ground in the second half and vaulted into the NAIA's Holiday Bowl with a 20-0 playoff victory.

The Texans will play Lenoir Rhyne of North Carolina in the Dec. 19 bowl at St. Petersburg, Fla. Lenoir Rhyne, ranked first by the NAIA, advanced to the bowl with a 47-20 triumph over Southern Connecticut.

Waters had taken his MIAA champions to Kingsville, Tex., predicting victory and a return to the bowl where Hillsdale played two years ago.

★ ★ ★

But the same Dales who piled up over 300 points in an 8-1 regular season never got started. They could do little right, gaining only 106 yards rushing with what had been the state's most productive offense.

Chuck Redding and Howard Rodgers, two red-hot passers, could complete only two of 15 attempts in the bowl elimination. They netted a paltry 22 yards on the two completions. Hillsdale managed to get a measly four first downs.

The Dales' deepest penetration came in the second quarter. They drove to the A&I 23 and faltered. Bart Misyiak stepped back to the 29 for a field goal attempt. His kick struck the crossbar and bounced back, a symbol of Hillsdale's futility during the game.

★ ★ ★

The scoreless stalemate was snapped with suddenness late in the third quarter. Butch Pressley, a hard-charging halfback, slammed through the heavier Dale line. He broke into the clear and streaked 53 yards for a touchdown.

The shutout was the first for Hillsdale since a 1953 scoreless tie with Albion, a season before Waters became coach. It was the first blanking for Waters personally in 10 years of coaching.

He and the Dales embarked on the sad trip home yesterday.

Milford Whips Walled Lake, Southfield Wins

Northern at Hazel Park, Orion Opens Tuesday

Pontiac Northern returns to basketball action tomorrow night hoping to find a little easier going after a sound trouncing at Pontiac Central 1st time out.

The Huskies will invade Hazel Park for their 2nd outing on another night of action which will feature several interesting contests.

Lake Orion swings into play for the 1st time as guest of twice-beaten Oak Park in an Oakland B contest.

That game will be the only league duel on the docket.

Rochester visits Davison, Lew Parry unveils his 1959-60 Birmingham Seaholm aggregation at Royal Oak Dondero, Cranbrook visits Walled Lake, Holly entertains Fenton, Royal Oak Kimball travels to Warren Fitzgerald, Millington hosts Vassar, Lapeer takes on Flint Beecher, Ortonville plays Goodrich, North Branch vs. Lakeville and Madison is at Lamphere in others.

Northern will be meeting a Hazel Park team which was topped by Southfield 61-45 Saturday night.

Orion has been coming along well in drills despite the lack of experience. Rochester will be seeking its 2nd straight success.

★ ★ ★

Seaholm turned in a creditable showing in a scrimmage against PCH earlier and the Maples are hoping to get off to a big start led by Merv Gallup.

Cranbrook and Walled Lake each have bowed in single outings. Holly will be facing LeRoy Decker, who coached them to state Class B runnerup honors a year ago. Lapeer will be making its debut.

Walled Lake, like Hazel Park, dropped a Saturday night contest. It was the initial game for coach Jim Horein with the Vikings.

★ ★ ★

Milford handed Walled Lake a 53-45 beating featuring the scoring of Jerry Reis and Gene Schuett.

The Redskins trailed 14-3 at the opening quarter but battled back to trail only 20-19 at halftime. Five Vikings fouled out in the last half as MHS took command.

Reis tallied 16 and Schuett 15. The victors could have turned it into a rout but for a 18-for-42 foul shooting mark. Bill Allen topped the losers with 17.

★ ★ ★

Northville bowed for the second time in as many nights under new skipper Dutch Van Ingen. Plymouth tripped the Mustangs, 44-41.

Merrick Still in Front as 96 Reach Semifinals

CHICAGO (AP) — The struggle for positions among 96 of the nation's top men and women bowlers begins today in the third annual world invitational bowling tournament in the Chicago Coliseum.

With only 15 places in both the men's and women's division, the 48 men and 48 women semifinalists face a double test when the men will roll 12 games each while the women each shoot eight.

★ ★ ★

Already seeded into the finals, which start tomorrow and run through Friday, are the 1958 titleholders, Ed Lubanski of Detroit and Charlotte Grubic of Steelton, Pa.

The other 47 bowlers in each division are shooting for a place in the finals.

Leading the men into the semis was Andy Rogoznica of Chicago, a 32-year-old bowling supply store owner. In the first 24 games he averaged more than 220 as he piled up a record total of 5,295 pins.

Warriors, Minus 'Stilt,' Trip Pistons at Buzzer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—They said the Philadelphia Warriors would be just another team without Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain — but the Detroit Pistons don't believe it.

★ ★ ★

Wilt the Stilt missed his first game since entering the National Basketball Assn. this season last night with an injured foot. Even without the fabulous 7-1 rookie, the Warriors had enough left over to edge the Pistons 118-116.

But it was just enough and there may have been a little luck involved too. The Warriors pulled out the victory on Paul Arizin's 40-foot desperation shot at the final buzzer.

Teammate Tom Gola retrieved a loose ball under the Piston basket and flung it hopefully to midcourt. Arizin snatched it and fired it.

★ ★ ★

The loss was Detroit's second straight since its stunning victory over Minneapolis Friday before 13,121 home fans. The Pistons lost 124-108 to New York Saturday.

The Pistons tied Philadelphia 116-all just 18 seconds before the end on rookie Bailey Howell's shot from under the basket. That was the eighth time in the final stanza the game was deadlocked.

In the second quarter, Detroit enjoyed the game's widest lead, 39-26. But the Warriors returned the Pistons' fire and led 60-56 at halftime and 89-86 after three quarters.

Howell, considered the NBA's No. 2 rookie behind Chamberlain, led Detroit with 25 points. Gene Shue added 23 and Ed Conlin 22. Arizin scored a Chamberlain-like 33 for Philadelphia.

The Pistons are idle until Wednesday when they meet Cincinnati at Boston.

In other NBA games yesterday, Boston whipped Minneapolis 121-104 as Tom Heinsohn sparked two Celtic rallies and got 23 points; and Cliff Hagan led St. Louis to a 118-104 triumph over Cincinnati with 32 points.

Beaten Cage Powers Test Unbeatens

By The Associated Press

One week doesn't make a season, but two might—particularly the next two for the likes of St. Louis, West Virginia, Ohio State, North Carolina and Indiana in major college basketball.

The season, just a week old, finds suspected powers Kentucky, Kansas State, North Carolina State and Louisville already beaten. Now all four put the test to the rest.

★ ★ ★

St. Louis, unbeaten in three games that included road decisions over St. John's (NY) and K-State, has the toughest job in the next two weeks, even though two of the four games in that span will be played on the Billikens' home court. North Carolina (1-0) doesn't figure to have things easy either.

The Bills, beating K-State 67-58 last Saturday for the Wildcats' first home defeat since 1957, play Ohio State Wednesday and Kentucky Saturday.

Before North Carolina, which opened with a 93-56 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over South Carolina last Saturday, gets to the tournament at Lexington, Ky., the Tar Heels join NC State in a Friday-Saturday doubleheader duel with Kansas and Kansas State at Raleigh.

★ ★ ★

North Carolina plays Kansas Friday while NC State, surprised by Wake Forest 73-59, plays K-State. The two Carolina schools then swap foes on Saturday.

Kansas, which opened with a 76-67 victory at Northwestern last Saturday, is at home against Texas Tech (1-1) tonight in a heavy schedule that pairs unbeatens in Butler-Ohio State, Indiana-Missouri, Houston-Texas A&M and New Mexico-State-Utah.

★ ★ ★

California, the NCAA champion, breezed as expected against the school's Santa Barbara branch, 59-47, last Friday and goes against San Francisco (0-2) tomorrow night. West Virginia (4-0), the NCAA runner-up plays Richmond in a Southern Conference game tomorrow.

Southern California, after dropping two games by a total of five points to UCLA and Santa Clara, knocked off Kentucky 87-73 Saturday. The Wildcats had opened with a 106-73 victory over Colorado State College last Tuesday, then barely beat UCLA, 68-66, Friday.

★ ★ ★

Georgia Tech (3-0) spilled Louisville 68-56. The Cardinals, who lost to Cincinnati in a playoff for third place in last spring's NCAA championship tournament, had beaten Furman in their opener.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati, 2-0 after whipping Marshall 102-61 Saturday as Oscar Robertson, again playing only part time, scored 43 points, plays Miami (Ohio) tonight. West Virginia's Jerry West, paired with Robertson as the only returning All-Americas this season, scored 18 points in his 27 minutes as the Mountaineers walloped Furman 96-63 for their 52nd consecutive Southern Conference success.

★ ★ ★

As for tonight's unbeaten foes, Ohio State (3-0) beat Pitt 94-49 Saturday while Butler (3-0) defeated little Wabash 62-55. Indiana (1-0), picked to top the Big Ten, handled Ball State with expected ease, 103-63, and Missouri (2-0) spilled Arkansas, a possible Southwest Conference threat, 75-51, in a Friday game.

Houston (3-0) defeated McMurray 92-51 while Texas A&M (2-0) beat Trinity (Tex) 86-46. New Mexico State handed San Francisco a 72-63 setback and Utah opened with a 104-80 job on Los Angeles State.

Shrine Shut Out

Notre Dame evened its IPHL record at 2-2 Sunday at Detroit Skating club with an 8-goal shutout against RO Shrine. Shrine now stands 1-3 in the loop.

The winners meet Cranbrook (1-0) Tuesday afternoon on the Cranes' ice. Cranes oppose Shrine on Friday at Cranbrook.

Sanders Winner at Coral Gables

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Some critics wonder whether the Biltmore course of today isn't the Biltmore course of 25 years ago, or the golfers of 25 years ago weren't what they are today.

Doug Sanders of Miami Beach won the $25,000 Coral Gables open tournament with a four-round total of 273 over the 6,563-yard par 71 Biltmore layout. The previous record was 281, set by Horton Smith in 1935.

Sanders achieved his total with rounds of 68, 71, 69 and 65, and it was his final 65 which brought him first money of $2,880.

Two Michigan players were among the money winners at yesterday's windup.

Dave Hill of Detroit won $650 on a card of 72-72-69-79—283. Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills posted a 72-69-71-75—287, good for $130.

Nick Pietrosante, Charlie Ane Are Lion Casualties

DETROIT (AP)—Fullback Nick Pietrosante and center Charlie Ane were casualties as the Detroit Lions defeated the Chicago Cardinals yesterday.

Pietrosante hurt his knee in the second period and Ane suffered leg injury in the final quarter. The Lions don't know yet whether they will be available for the season finale next Sunday in Chicago against the Bears.

Goggin, Dutra, Quick in Seniors Playoff

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—They wound up with two winners too many after the regulation 72 holes, so the principals were held over for an extra round today in the $20,000 U.S. National Seniors open golf championship.

Involved in the 18-hole playoff were defending champion Willie Goggin of San Jose, Calif., Olin Dutra of Rialto, Calif., and Smiley Quick of Los Angeles. They were tied with 289s, one over par for 72 holes.

★ ★ ★

Dutra, 1932 PGA champion and winner of the 1934 National Open, had a good chance to end this one yesterday, but blew the opportunity on the last hole.

Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., won $450 yesterday as he finished play in the U.S. national senior golf open championship. Watrous posted a 74-73-75-75—297.

Hawk, Ranger Bag 3 Apiece

Double NHL Hat Trick

By The Associated Press

It's not very often that a player scores three goals in a National Hockey League game, but lightning struck twice last night as Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks and Jimmy Bartlett of the New York Rangers accomplished the "hat trick."

★ ★ ★

Hull scored three times in the Hawks' 6-3 victory over the Boston Bruins and Bartlett duplicated the feat as the Rangers blanked the Toronto Maple Leafs 6-0.

★ ★ ★

With Hull and Bartlett providing the impetus, Chicago and New York remained tied for fifth place, but the teams closed in on fading Boston. The fourth-place Bruins are seven points in front of the Hawks and Rangers.

Saturday's action saw Detroit edge Boston 4-3, Toronto turn back New York 6-3 and Chicago and Montreal tie 2-2.

★ ★ ★

Hull tallied once each period in sparking the Hawks to their first victory over Boston. The Bruins have won just one of their last 13 starts.

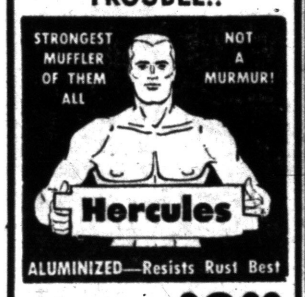

★ ★ ★

Bartlett had to share the Ranger heroics with rookie Bob Kabel and goalie Marcel Paille. Kabel caged two goals—his first ever in the NHL—and Paille posted his first shutout as New York snapped Toronto's six-game undefeated streak.

Hit-Run Tanker Wrecks Rail Pier

Captain Later Reports Accident to Bay City Harbor Official

BAY CITY (AP) — A homeward-bound tanker crunched into a large railroad bridge pier yesterday and then vanished, leaving behind more than $150,000 worth of damage and some puzzled marine officials.

Hours later, Capt. Daniel Ronspeil of the tanker Lio admitted by shore-to-ship telephone that his vessel struck a pier jutting into the Saginaw River, about two miles from Saginaw Bay.

The conversation, between Ronspeil and Bay City Harbor Commissioner Leo Grass, ended a search that began yesterday morning when a huge gash was discovered in the 100-foot concrete and wood span.

Grass said the pier had been pushed out of line and a great number of pilings broken. He said the pier, used by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, probably will be out of operation until next summer.

Damage to the Lio, owned by Jacharanne Tug & Towing Co. of New York, was not determined immediately but Grass said it must have been "considerable." No one was reported injured.

Ronspeil did not report the collision to either the Coast Guard or Bay City harbor authorities, Grass said. The commissioner stated that coast guard regulations require a Great Lakes ship mishap to be reported within 24 hours. Ronspeil was contacted last night, about 12 hours later.

Last Civil War Vet Dangerously Ill Again

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Confederate veteran Walter W. Williams is dangerously ill again, his doctor disclosed today, and hinted the end is near for the sole survivor of Civil War armed forces.

Williams, who celebrated his 117th birthday last Nov. 14 with a gala party attended by over 600 persons, is running a temperature of 101.

"The illness is a combination of things, including a new onset of pneumonia," said Dr. Russell Wolfe, his physician.

LISTEN TO PONTIFF — Pope John XXIII reads his message to President Eisenhower during the audience yesterday in the Vatican. The Pope spoke in English which he has been studying for a short time, expressing admiration for the U. S. fight for peace. In the background are Ike's son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

Pontiff Tells of Admiration for Americans

Ike Inspired by Visit With Pope John

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — President Eisenhower paused briefly Sunday in his worldwide quest for peace to draw inspiration from Pope John XXIII.

The President emerged from his 27-minute audience with the Pope's earnest wishes for God's blessing upon him. Eisenhower said he was inspired by the Pope's approval of the free world's efforts toward "peace and friendship in freedom."

The Pope also expressed "sentiments of benevolence and admiration which we cherish for the American people." He said he rejoined that the United States, under Eisenhower, is striving so actively "toward the lofty ideals of a loyal and effective concord between nations."

The President said: "I thank Your Holiness for the words you have addressed to me, my family and my country. I am also grateful for your blessing."

The President was accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, and James C. Hagerty, his press secretary. The Pope received them in his private library.

Sunday was a bright, sunny day in Rome, contrasting sharply with the cold rain that marred the first days of Eisenhower's visit.

Before going to the Vatican, Eisenhower and his family attended services at St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church.

On the President's arrival in the ancient courtyard before the Pope's palace, the Star Spangled Banner blared forth there for the second time in history. It had been played once before when President Woodrow Wilson visited Pope Benedict XV in 1919.

The President and his party passed through the Chamber of the Tapestries, the Chamber of the Noble Guards, the secret antechamber and the Clementine Hall. There 10 Swiss Guards stood at attention.

BARBARA 'NICE'

There were also nine American nuns. One of them, a Sister of Charity, spotted Barbara Eisenhower and whispered: "Oh, she is really nice."

The President bowed slightly when he was introduced to the pontiff, and they shook hands.

The Pope, in resplendent white robes, put his visitors at ease by valiantly conducting the interview in English.

The Pope apologized for his pronunciation but the President said it was excellent. This evidently pleased the 78-year-old pontiff, who began studying the language little more than a year ago.

Can Industry Talks Take Union Negotiators From Steel Bargaining

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two top officials of the Steelworkers Union today passed up a joint session with management negotiators to concentrate on bargaining in the can industry.

Federal Mediation Chief Joseph F. Finnegan said the absence of union president David J. McDonald and General Counsel Arthur J. Goldberg "will not make our task of mediating the steel dispute any easier."

But Finnegan said he was not criticizing the steelworkers because he recognized that their officials could not be in two places at the same time.

Finnegan went ahead with his mediation efforts. The union sent Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel and Vice President Howard Hague to the steel peach talks.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief management negotiator, was present with two other members of his team. Bethlehem's representative —John H. Morse — also was absent.

Soviets Rush Books to Britain's Children

LONDON (UPI) — The Sunday Dispatch reported yesterday the Russians have flown 69,000 copies of childrens' books into Britain to catch the Christmas spending spree.

The books were said to contain "good, wholesome reading about animals"—with a passing reference to the Bolshevik October revolution.

Blaze Destroys Shop in Milford

Damage to Quarters of Artist Is Estimated at $40,000

MILFORD TOWNSHIP—An artist lost its workshop here was leveled by a $40,000 fire last night.

★ ★ ★

The small, one-story building at 2441 Charms Rd., owned by Jack Thompson was burned to the ground, according to Milford Police Chief Joseph S. Brophy. Thompson estimated the damage.

According to Brophy, Thompson's shop was filled with oil paintings, antique reproductions, handmade gun stocks and hundreds of other art objects.

Brophy said that the cause of the fire has yet to be determined.

Thompson discovered the fire while working in the shop.

"My face got warm, and when I looked up the building was on fire," he explained.

Brophy said when he arrived at the fire shotgun shells Thompson had been reloading were exploding.

★ ★ ★

The Milford Township Fire Department fought the fire almost five hours before getting it under control.

The workshop is located behind Thompson's home.

Son of Senator Killed in Plane

Howard Aiken, 39, and Huntington Woods Man Plunge to Death

WASHINGTON, N.H. (AP) — State Police reported today that the only son of Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) and one of two companions were dead today in the wreckage of their light plane which crashed yesterday on a flight from Manchester, N.H., to Springfield, Vt.

★ ★ ★

Police listed the dead as Howard Aiken, 39, of Springfield, a co-pilot, and Arthur R. Tobin of Huntington Woods, Mich., a representative of Fellows Gear Shaper Co. of Springfield.

★ ★ ★

Norman Paulhus, 34, of Charlestown, N.H., pilot of the twin-engine craft, suffered chest injuries but was able to walk for three hours through dense woods to reach rescue parties. He was removed to Newport Hospital.

Back Ike, Says National Chief of DAV, Here

At an open meeting of the Disabled American Veterans in Pontiac Saturday night, National Commander William H. Fribley urged veterans to give a vote of confidence to President Eisenhower's leadership in this time of world crisis.

Fribley spoke at the AMVETS Hall, 570 Oakland Ave., to a group hosted by Pontiac DAV Chapters 16 and 101.

Speaking of the President's Middle East tour he said Americans must "arm Mr. Eisenhower with an expression of our awakened national pride and will to survive as he goes to represent our nation in the countries of the world."

He urged his listeners to "back with deeds our determination to live as free men in a free world."

★ ★ ★

Fribley praised the Michigan DAV as "one of the largest and best organized departments in our organization." The event brought DAV officials to Pontiac from throughout the state.

Be Prepared, Says Rowston, Noting CD Day

"This country must never again be unprepared for a possible enemy attack," Mayor Philip E. Rowston emphasized today.

The mayor's exhortion was contained in a message proclaiming today National Civil Defense Day in Pontiac.

"Total preparedness consists of non-military preparedness as well as military," he reminded.

Giving credit to the city's civil defense staff, Rowston noted that Pontiac's plans are being integrated with preparedness programs under development on county, state and national levels.

★ ★ ★

Among the important features of the nationwide plan are local warning systems and individual family fallout shelters for protection against radioactivity, he noted.

"But the efforts of civil defense planners will go for naught without the interest and support of each citizen," he said.

Order Warrants for Gambling

Three Pontiac Factory Workers Charged; Eight Others Released

Orders for warrants charging three alleged ringleaders of a numbers ring at a Pontiac truck factory with two counts of gambling were being drafted today.

Eight other factory workers suspected in the conspiracy will not be charged, according to Jerome K. Barry Jr., senior assistant Oakland County prosecutor.

Orders for warrants charging conspiracy to violate state gambling laws and possession of gambling paraphernalia were being readied against:

Robert L. McNeary, 36, of 431 Raeburn St.; Claude Day, 32, of 180 Quick St. and Otis J. Harris, 57, of 489 Harvey St.

★ ★ ★

"These three men seem to be chiefly responsible for the gambling setup," Barry said.

"The other men are being released pending further development in this case," he said. He said, however, they will not be charged.

McNeary, Day and Harris were expected to appear in Pontiac Municipal Court some time today to answer to the two charges.

ARRESTED FRIDAY

They, along with the other eight, were arrested Friday by Pontiac vice squad and General Motors Truck & Coach Division plant officers. Two men working as undercover agents led to the arrests.

McNeary and Day were ringleaders of the two gambling groups operating in the sheet metal and truck divisions of the South boulevard plant, according to William Nesbitt, vice squad chief.

The ring is suspected of doing an estimated $50,000 business yearly, Nesbitt said.

★ ★ ★

Although all but Harris admitted in statements aken by the Prosecutor's Office Friday of being involved, Barry said only the three "were closely tied in with the gambling group."

Released were Charles Milliman, 55, of 736 Riverside Dr.; George Ford, 65, of 491 Luther St.; Harold Mozingo, 39, of 90 Draper Ave.; Claude H. McMillan, 50, of 361 Ferry St.; John A. Freeman, 49, of 827 Alberta St.; Ernest Jackson Jr., 37, of 515 Montana Ave.; Cary R. Childs, 37, of 281 Rockwell Ave., and Booker T. Spells, 39, of 462 Orchard Lake Ave.

Hawaii's No. 2 Official Warns Country Never to Be Unprepared

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The 18th anniversary of Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor was observed today.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gov. James Kealoha of Hawaii in a message to the islands' people warned that Dec. 7 should be "set aside as a time for renewed determination that this country must never again be unprepared for enemy attack."

He urged the people to remain alert "in order that we may keep peace through preparedness."

A wooden platform was erected above the sunken battleship Arizona for a simple ceremony marking the anniversary. Still entombed within the rusting hull are the remains of 1,102 men who died when the great ship sank under a hail of bombs on the morning of Dec. 7, 1941.

★ ★ ★

The attack, launched by 200 Japanese planes, plunged the United States into World War II.

Eight Mile Drain Levies Voided by Court Decree

Assessments for the Eight Mile road storm drain, which Southfield residents called confiscatory, were officially declared null and void in a court decree. It was signed today by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

★ ★ ★

Signing of the 2½-page decree signaled the end of a long fight over the old assessments, which finally ended in a lawsuit and the start of new proceedings.

It also was a victory for a group of Southfield property owners who united in an association and filed the suit in August blocking the $4,760,000 sewer.

Earlier they had marched on Lansing to protest issuing bonds to finance the sewer.

★ ★ ★

Residents said the assessments they would have to pay for the sewer, designed to stop flooding in their city and Oak Park, would result in confiscatory liens on their property.

Action on the suit dragged along until the cities of Southfield and Oak Park petitioned for building the sewer under a different act, a 1956 drain code permitting assessments against the two cities at large.

With terms of the settlement finally worked out, Judge Beer this morning signed the decree.

"Issues in this cause can be adjusted between the parties by dismissal and vacation of the present proceedings, and by the initiation of new proceedings under Chapter 20 of the drain code of 1956," the decree said.

"We'll have to start from scratch," said Daniel W. Barry, county drain commissioner who all along said first assessments were fair.

Barry aid he'll first call a meeting of the Drain Board to set up new machinery for financing the project. He predicted it would be six months before construction bids could be taken, seven before the sale of bonds, and nine months before construction.

He estimated a "good solid year" had been lost by the litigation, with estimated construction costs going up by five per cent.

Under the new drain proceedings, Barry said, the full faith and credit of the two municipalities will have to be pledged instead of that of the county, as under the original plans.

A request to issue general obligation bonds, granted this summer after a long wait, will have to be made again to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, the commissioner said.

"They now have the onerous job of spreading the assessments," Barry said.

He said costs of the project still would be spread four ways—among Southfield, Oak Park, the county and the state—the latter two because of drainage of state and county roads in the drainage district.

Fall From Loft Hurts Pontiac Twp. Boy

A nine-year-old Pontiac Township boy is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after falling from the hayloft of a barn near his home Saturday afternoon.

Leroy W. Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen L. Spencer, of 4084 Manitoba St., was playing in the hayloft at Rowe's Farm, 4180 Baldwin Rd.

He suffered a fractured skull and right shoulder injuries.

The boy's father told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he had repeatedly warned his son not to play in the barn.

Lynn M. Rowe, owner of the farm, said he had chased the lad away twice that day. Around 4:30 p.m. Rowe's son hurd a thud in the barn and went to investigate, he said.

He found the boy on a cement floor. He had fallen an estimated 20 feet.

Pontiac Youth Confesses Theft of Shift Lever

An 18-year-old Pontiac youth switched gears Sunday and confessed all.

Pontiac Police received a call from the youth admitting he stole a gear shift lever from a 1956 station wagon belonging to Robert Braden, 59 N. Parke St.

The youth told police he had broken the gear shift lever on his father's car and wanted to replace it. His father's car was a 1956 model, same make.

The youth also phoned Braden and assured him that he would make full restitution for the theft.

"I didn't want my dad to find out," he explained.

Supervisors File Bid for Courthouse

A committee of the Board of Supervisors today placed on file an offer of $200,000 for the downtown county courthouse until such time the building is ready to be sold.

The offer was made by a group of interested downtown merchants to the Board of Auditors.

Birmingham Supervisor Luther Heacock, chairman of the building and grounds committee, said the proposal was neither accepted or rejected by a 6-0 vote of the committee to file the offer.

"It will be taken up again when we are ready to consider sale of the property," Heacock said. He could not say when this would be.

Currently the county is constructing a new $3,000,000 courthouse in the Service Center on Telegraph road.

Neighbors Dubious of Dependability

Israel Tolerates Its Red Village

By ELIAV SIMON

YAD HANNA, Israel (UPI)—In non-Communist Israel, Yad Hanna is a Communist village — one of 230 cooperative villages in the country.

From the early days of Jewish settlement until the Arab-Israel war of 1948 and to the present day, the cooperative border villages have been regarded as Israel's first line of defense, and the backbone of the country's security system.

Communist Yad Hanna is on the Israel-Jordan border, less than a mile from the dividing line and only a mile and a quarter from the Jordanian village of Tulkarm.

As members of a border settlement, the approximately 60 inhabitants of Yad Hanna till their fields, which stretch to the frontier demarcation line, under the constant vigil of armed guards. At night, security precautions taken in all border villages are also carefully observed in Yad Hanna.

Communist settlers of Yad Hanna seem to cooperate with the army and border police. Questioned as to their reliability, an officer of the border police said simply that they perform whatever duties are required of them in the defense routine.

★ ★ ★

But members of neighboring villages are less sanguine about Yad Hanna's position on Israel's sensitive border. Everyone a reporter questions admits that the behavior of the Communist villagers until now has not invited mistrust. "But what of the future?" One neighboring villager asked. "As members of a group owing blind allegiance to a foreign power, how dependable are they?"

DID ALL VOTE?

With Communist influence in Israel dwindling rapidly, however, the presence of a Communist village on the border does not seem to cause any concern to the authorities. The Communists polled 13,441 votes in the last elections to the Histadrut — the country's Federation of Labor. Communist Party discipline being what it is, it is assumed that all members and fellow travelers voted — yet the group received less than one-half the votes they had polled in the 1955 parliamentary elections.

On the basis of the Histadrut elections, it appears a foregone conclusion that the Communist Party, in this fall's general elections, will not be able to hold on to the six seats it now holds in the 120-member parliament.

There is outwardly nothing in the village of Yad Hanna to proclaim its Communist affiliation. There are no red banners and no inflated pictures of the Moscow elite.

The only thing that might be called public evidence of the village's connections with world Communism is a small framed certificate on the wall of the secretary's office praising the members for their part in collecting signatures for a Moscow-inspired peace petition. But such certificates also are to be found in a number of leftist non-Communist villages in Israel.

★ ★ ★

The residents of Yad Hanna claim they receive no financial aid from the Communist Party. On the contrary, they say, the Party costs them money in the form of dues, contribution and endless fund-raising campaigns.

However, the Communist Party does give Yad Hanna aid by sending hundreds of its members to help out during the harvest. Income from Communist camps in the village also helps Yad Hanna's budget.

Aid from Communist countries openly accepted consists of Hungarian and Czech movies loaned by the Iron Curtain legations.

Yad Hanna is Israel's only Jewish village not affiliated with the world Zionist movement. As such, it receives no Zionist funds. Since it is not connected with any of the country's settlement movements, it can receive no loans in any bank because such loans must be underwritten by a Zionist agency. Nor does Yad Hanna receive any subsidies for the agricultural produce of its 500 acres.

Yad Hanna split off from the Kibbutz Meuhad, or the Socialist parties, settlement movement in 1952 when the Socialists denounced the Prague espionage trials as anti-Jewish and anti-Zionist. At one point, Communist elements in Yad Hanna refused to heed orders to leave the settlement and a battle royal was fought in the communal dining room in which 12 persons were wounded.

★ ★ ★

In 1954, the non-Communist members departed to form a new village of their own.

Cigarettes account for more than 80 per cent of all retail tobacco sales in the United States.

Students Pay to Lose Their Beauty Sleep

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Paying at the rate of a penny a minute, women students at Ohio State University stayed out a total of almost 512 hours beyond curfew one night recently.

★ ★ ★

They were allowed to do so—for one night—if they were willing to pay the penny a minute price. Dormitories netted $307.14 from the venture.

Catnap Betrayed Him

GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI) — It doesn't pay to sleep on the job, particularly if you're operating an illegal whisky still. Deputy Sheriffs Chester Todd and Cecil Holmes said they arrested Franklin Leatherwood while he snoozed alongside a 500-gallon still near here.

Watch Out for Changes in 1960

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- There probably will be upsets...and new opportunities...in the turbulent year of 1960.

According to U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT, the weekly news magazine published here, there will be a strong new boom in 1960, but along with it -- problems, and a growing struggle against inflation. Profits and incomes will start up again, but the cost of things will edge up also.

Politics will get 'hotter', and the heat of campaigning often obscures important trends and issues. School problems will stay in the news. New, big strikes are an unpleasant probability. Ike will visit Russia. The rocket race will continue. And, of course, a new President will be elected before the year is through.

It will be a time to follow the news closely, and to estimate carefully its consequences.

Here is more on the outlook...in more detail:

AUTOS, hurt by the steel strike and shortage, were expected to have second-best sales year in history. It still could happen. Car dealers and makers still have their sights set high, counting upon the new "compact" cars to boost sales in 1960.

ROCKET AND MISSILE development will continue at breathtaking speed. Don't expect U.S. to catch up with Russia yet in development of big rockets -- Soviet scientists had too big a head start. But U.S. could be first to orbit man around the earth and get him down safely. Russia may shoot for Mars in September, when conditions are favorable.

ARMS SPENDING will continue at 41-billion level despite talk of easing cold war.

EISENHOWER'S VISIT TO RUSSIA will, of course, be even more significant than was Nixon's. Russian people like Ike as successful commander in victory over Nazi Germany.

BUSINESS, overall, will probably set new records in 1960. Business adjustment, a "test" for the boom, should come sometime in 1961.

MAJOR TAX RELIEF is not in sight -- not while government spends at least as much as it gets. Government will continue to compete with private borrowers for funds.

INTEREST RATES will remain high, perhaps go higher, as demand for money continues. Money supply will have to be kept in check if inflation is to be restrained.

EFFORT TO CONTROL INFLATION will be real, not just window dressing. Price rises are likely to be harder to pass along. Wage increases, as a result, will meet strong resistance.

NEXT PRESIDENT is a toss-up. Among Republicans, Nixon is still far out in front. But Rockefeller could upset him if all the breaks went his way. Democrats did look like a shoo-in after their sweeping Congressional victories of 1958. But then recession melted, Ike made a big comeback, and the Democrats found themselves having a hard time agreeing on a strong candidate.

Of course this isn't the whole story of what to expect in 1960 by any means. The world is moving faster now, and things change faster. Observers must be constantly on the alert for significant shifts.

That's why more and more serious-minded Americans -- 1,150,000 manufacturers, retailers, investors, lawyers, accountants, realtors, educators, etc. -- rely heavily on U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT.

You get the basic news coverage you'd expect plus exclusive "extras" you can't get anywhere else. Not one but five built-in newsletters. Transcribed interviews with important newsmakers. The "inside track" on important changes and trends shaping up in business, politics, government regulations, science, investments. Headlined speeches, press conferences, debates, etc., printed in full. Pictures, charts, and other visual aids for giving you facts-at-a-glance.

Every issue prepares you for new trends. Alerts you to new opportunities. Warns of possible approaching upsets. Answers the questions raised in your mind: "How will this news affect me?... my family?...my work? What is likely to come next?"

Grain Prices Weak in Scattered Buying

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market had nothing more than scattered buying support in early dealings today and prices were mostly weak.

Wheat, rye and soybeans were off major fractions in spots during the first several minutes. Corn and oats were steady.

Dealings were very light all around. However, weakness in the soybean oil and soybean meal market caused moderate selling in the soybean pit.

Wheat was ⅛ to ½ cents a bushel lower after about an hour. December $1.97; corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December $1.10¼; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December 77¾; rye ¼ higher to ⅜ lower, December $1.32⅛; soybeans ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, January $2.19⅝.

Oils, Steels Spur Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Oils joined steels and electronics as pacemakers in an active and higher stock market early this afternoon.

Oils were ahead fractionally, renewing their recent strength after absorbing some jolting losses earlier this year. Gains in steel shares were fractional for the most part, although Jones & Laughlin held a gain of around a point, as industry and union bargainers again met with government mediators. Polaroid, up more than 4, paced the electronic group.

Volume was well ahead of that in recent days. The ticker tape was late at the opening, which is usual, and again during the second hour of trading, which is unusual by recent standards. Brokers saw the expanded trading on rising prices as a bullish omen.

The general background of business was favorable. General Motors, kingpin of the auto industry, resumed production for the first time in nearly a month and there were expectations of record or near-record steel production this week.

GM stock was up only fractionally, but Studebaker-Packard spurted aroud a point. American Motors eased back, retaining part of an early gain.

A few specialty issues ran ahead o fthe overall market inactive trading. Western Union continued to climb with a gain of more than a point, while National Distillers was ahead around a point. Clevite, signalled out by an advisory service as a "stock for action" in 1960, ran up nearly 2 points. Electrical & Musical Industries was traded at a fast pace, but was only slightly ahead.

United Aircraft stayed ahead more than a point after published reports that a subsidiary had successfully fired a liquid hydrogen missile engine. Du-Pont extended an early advance to more than 3 points in an otherwise mixed checical group.

Nonferrous metals firmed a bit with fractional changes prevailing. Rails also moved over to the puls side by a narrow margin. This group, like the oil shares, has been hit hard in 1959.

Worth Forty Million Dollars

Investment Clubs Mushroom

Up 10 million dollars in a year, National Assn. of Investment Clubs member clubs are now worth 40 million dollars as revealed by a new survey. And they are investing over one million dollars each month as compared with $750,000 a month a year ago. Each of NAIC's 4783 member clubs (there were only 3243 a year ago) is adding to its holdings at the rate of $206 each month.

There may be more than 16,000 investment clubs in the United States at the present time. And if each is worth the $8,172 average of NAIC's members they would be worth as a group more than 130 million dollars.

Women are joining investment clubs in increasing numbers. Twenty five per cent of those joining clubs now are women. As little as two years ago, women constituted only 10 per cent of club membership.

In most cases the clubs are either all men or all women, but the number of mixed clubs is definitely on the rise. In every case where both men and women belong to a club women seem to be in the minority. That's probably what lead the lovelorn column editor to advise her single lady readers to joint investment clubs.

Clubs are also beginning to appeal to the younger folks. While 75 per cent of all club members are in the 30- to 50-year-old bracket, the number of club members below 30 has increased from 2 per cent in the last three years.

Retired folks are being welcomed by many clubs where they are using their newly acquired leisure to handle records and do research work in preparation for meetings.

Of all investment clubs, 56 per cent are less than two years old. This group of clubs has an average portfolio of $6,068. Eight-year-old clubs are worth on the average $23,800.

★ ★ ★

Members of one group have been investing 10 dollars a month. Their accummulated $10,560 investment was recently worth $26,023. This means their money has grown for them at a compounded rate of better than 20 per cent a year.

★ ★ ★

How often do clubs buy securities? The younger clubs make five purchases for each sale. Older clubs sell almost as frequently as they buy. Altogether clubs believe in keeping fully invested and currently have less than 3 per cent of their assets in cash.

Clubs are now located in every state pretty much in proportion to population with except that Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, California and New York in that order account for 52 per cent of all clubs. The modern investment club movement began in Michigan eight years ago and clubs are still forming there at a rate more rapid than in any other state.

While some folks have felt that club members, being amateurs, would buy poor quality securities, a study of their holdings indicated a preference for the nation's acknowledged industrial leaders.

Here are the 10 companies most popular with investment clubs:

Sperry Rand, Monsanto Chemical, General Dynamics, Olin Mathison Chem., General Motors, Phillips Petroleum, American Marietta, Parke Davis & Co., General Tel. & Electronics and Pfizer.

The NAIC, a nonprofit organization devoted to assisting investment clubs, located at 1245 First National Building, Detroit, has a free folder available for individuals interested in learning about investment clubs.

Spreads Arms in Greeting

Ike Calls Turkish Greeting Terrific

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—President Eisenhower took with him from Turkey today memories of the greatest reception ever given a foreign visitor to the Turkish capital.

Eisenhower himself termed the welcome he received on his arrival Sunday from Rome "the most supendous I have ever seen."

Estimates of the crowds that cheered him ranged from a police figure of 400,000 to unofficial tallies of 700,000.

★ ★ ★

Bands played, men danced and people shouted "yasha" (long live) as the President went by, standing bareheaded in an open limousine. His arms were outspread in greeting.

Eisenhower responded enthusiastically to this outpouring of spirit.

"I am confident," he told Turkish President Celal Bayer at a state dinner Sunday night, "that the United States, with other friends and allies, will continue to support the economic development and security of Turkey.

★ ★ ★

"I am certain this combined effort will be successful because no power on earth, no evil, no threat can frustrate a people of your spirit."

Istanbul newspapers hailed the first visit by an American president to Turkey as history-making.

Press secretary James Hagerty told newsmen Eisenhower was completely overwhelmed by the welcome he got and the scores of signs on triumphal arches lining his route.

★ ★ ★

The one that impressed the President most said, in English, "Welcome Ike to your second home."

A joint communique summarizing Eisenhower's talks with Bayar, Premier Adnan Menderes and other Turkish leaders cited the warmth of feeling the American executive found.

★ ★ ★

"The sincere rejoicing of the Turkish nation and the outstanding reception extended to Eisenhower and his party," it said, "reaffirmed in a most impressive way" the friendship between the two nations.

Turkish leaders, always suspicious of Soviet motives, stressed during the talks with Eisenhower and Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy the need for firmness in dealing with the Soviet bloc.

The communique said Bayar and Eisenhower agreed that any easing of tensions could not be one-sided.

Waterford Asks Federal Loan

Board Will Request $100,000 in Funds for Water Project

Requesting a $100,000 loan from the federal government will be one of the main items scheduled for discussion at tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting.

The advance funds are needed to start a township-wide water-sewer project which has been under consideration for some time.

The application will be made to the Federal Housing and Home Agency and, if approved, the funds will be used for engineers' surveys of present water systems and future needs.

In other business, a hearing has been scheduled from 7-9 p.m. for the establishment of a special street lighting district in the Gulf-view Park subdivision.

★ ★ ★

The Board is expected to hire a licensed sewer plant operator as requested by the State Health Department.

Board members will also consider requests for two packaged liquor store licenses from the Fuller Super Drug Store at 5301 Highland Rd. and the Tel-Dixie Market at 2135 Dixie Hwy.

Horn Blows — No Window

Drives Her Car Into Store

MADISON HEIGHTS — A Troy women who lost control of her car Saturday, letting it plow through a plate glass window of the W. T. Grant department store at 29098 Campbell Rd., caused an estimated $3,000 damage to the building and merchandise.

No one was seriously hurt.

The driver, Mrs. Charlotte Weise, 45, of 811 Badder St., Troy, told Madison Heights police she was pulling into a parking space at the shopping center when someone behind her honked a horn.

She says she doesn't remember anything after that.

Police believe she panicked, pressing her foot on the accelerator and losing control of the car.

Mrs. Weise and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Weise, 21, of 3621 Crooks Rd., Royal Oak, who was a passenger in the car, were treated for shock at a nearby clinic and released.

Another customer, Mrs. Edith Neusus, 33, of 28447 Edwards St., also was treated at the hospital for cuts on her foot and released.

★ ★ ★

Store manager Richard K. Fritche, 30, said there were about 100 customers in the store at the time. He estimated the damage.

State Police Seeking Clues on Corpse Parts

PORTLAND (AP) — State police today planned a third day of searching for clues to circumstances surrounding discovery of parts of a human body in backwaters of Portland Municipal Dam on Grand River.

★ ★ ★

A leg, foot and part of a torso were found by a fisherman Friday.

Dr. Charles Black, a state pathologist, identified the body fragments as those of a male, 20 years or older, of average height and slightly obese.

He determined they had been in the water up to a year and a half.

Police were unable to match the parts with recent missing persons reports.

Wow! Do They Like Ike --With Mass Reception

By BOB CONSIDINE

WITH EISENHOWER—The surest way to break President Eisenhower's health on the goodwill trip he is making would be to give him a series of the kind of receptions he managed to weather the other night at the Quirinale Palace in Rome.

Three thousand were asked to attend. Five thousand showed up. All sternly insisted on trying to shake his hand.

★ ★ ★

They came in solid phalanxes into the reception room where he had taken his stand— like the last man at the Alamo—and flowed at him from two sides, eddying around a 117th century divan.

The temperature of the room rose 10 or 15 degrees. There was less oxygen than in the final reel of an old submarine disaster movie.

Jim Hagerty let it go for nearly an hour, then took the President by the arm and started him out of there, with the line still about 2,000 strong.

★ ★ ★

With Hagerty as blocking back, the old West Point football player made the best broken-field run of his career.

He went immediately to bed, in the gilded palace suite used by popes from 1610 on, and later —by such guests of the Italian government as Kaiser Wilhelm, the Shah of Iran, Woodrow Wilson and the Rainiers.

★ ★ ★

The President's doctors on this trip—an elite medical group headed by Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder — are insisting that the Chief Executive get the proper amount of rest. But his hosts are equally insistent that he doesn't.

Buy Perfume You Like for Your Gal

Men buy most of the perfumes, especially the smashing big sizes. But, on what basis do they state their choice when gift shopping, especially at holiday time when all perfume departments are out to make the biggest catches?

★ ★ ★

Do they let some soft-spoken salesgirl persuade them? Did they sneak a look at a lady's dressing table to check labels? Did they ask outright or listen for hints?

★ ★ ★

All these systems are valid. However, according to a perfume expert, most men don't realize they they determine a woman's perfume choice. So, a man shouldn't be timid.

He should instead assert the prerogatives of his sex in selecting the perfume, whether for sweetheart, secretary, wife, mother or great aunt.

★ ★ ★

But ask her why and dig for the answer. Originally, that favorite probably was given to her by some man she adored. Or, perhaps, on an occasion when she wore a certain perfume, the compliment from the man of the moment was so gallant she subconsciously made it her favorite.

Mama Aadland Takes Issue Against Wilson

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Hollywood was calling. "This is Beverly Aadland's mother!" said a shrill voice. "You've been writing a lot of so-and-so-and-so-and-so about my daughter!"

"Just the usual sort of so-and-so-and-so-and-so, or something special?" I asked.

WILSON

"Don't you know Beverly's a teen-agers' idol?" Mama Aadland demanded. "She's a daring girl—just kinda different. You said she's looking for a ghost writer to tell the story of her love for Errol Flynn. She's already got one—Jaik Rosenstein" (editor of a gossip magazine). "He's going to write something damned sexy. Only thing, he wanted Beverly to have a nervous breakdown."

"I'd have sworn you said nervous breakdown," I said.

"He said it'd get the public on her side; stir up interest in the book. I said, 'To hell with that nervous breakdown jazz, Jaik. I'll throw you out of the house.'"

★ ★ ★

Mama Aadland then let me in on a literary secret. They are going to grab the last two chapters of Errol Flynn's book and put it in Beverly's book.

"They were so in love," Mama Aadland said. "I told Beverly, 'Not every teen-ager wants to go around with an old man.' Beverly shouted at me, 'He was NOT an old man!'"

Suddenly on the phone I heard sobbing. "I'm so broken up I can't stand it," the mother said. "Beverly's been after me since she was 7 to divorce her father. Errol Flynn was going to make it possible . . ."

What had started out so pugnaciously concluded very sadly. Wishing her a happier future, I said goodby. The Moral: Be happy if you're not a celebrity in today's confused world.

Sir Cedric, a new Lamb, explained, "I joined the Lambs because I was afraid if I didn't I would be accused of being anti-British." He also said that he once asked a NY cab-driver if he'd seen Gielgud's "Hamlet." The cabbie said: "No, I don't fancy the name." Sir Cedric asked him: "You mean Gielgud?" Jolly Holidays Can Be Tragic

Watch Sharp Knives, Icy Walks, Hot Grease to Avoid Accidents

What are the holiday home hazards to avoid?

Sharp knives, icy sidewalks and hot grease, if a study of holiday home accidents in Pennsylvania is an accurate indication of what to expect.

According to the National Safety Council, the study revealed: Many of the home mishaps involved the things that make the holidays so special—Christmas tree trimmings and decorations, lots of cooking and baking and the highly flammable Christmas tree.

"The study showed that many people throw caution out the window during the holidays," the council observed.

Falls, No. 2 injury-dealer (behind cuts) in the study, occurred most often on stairs and icy sidewalks.

Nationally, however, fires and falls — in that order — are the chief holiday hazards.

Have fun but make the holidays safe.

Light your walk for guests and make sure it's free of ice and snow.

★ ★ ★

Keep your Christmas tree in water from the time you bring it in the house. Make a fresh cut across the base of the trunk before setting up the tree. Place it in a water-containing holder and fill the holder daily. Don't leave a dry tree around too long after the holidays.

★ ★ ★

Make sure insulation is not worn on Christmas tree lights or that sockets are loose. Don't attach too many light strings to one outlet. Remember, a blown fuse signals an overload.

Use fire-resistant materials to decorate your home. And, of course, no candles on the tree or near combustibles.

Watch It! Be Careful Driving

Driving this Christmas? Then be careful!

That's the admonition of the National Safety Council, which isn't trying to put a damper on your holiday but trying to make it happier.

★ ★ ★

The council keeps tabs on why motorists have accidents at Christmas time. The two main reasons, it says, are (1) excessive speed, and (2) drinking drivers.

★ ★ ★

"The traditional glass (or two) of holiday cheer and a frantic effort to beat the holiday rush — plus, perhaps the weather — are the factors that cause death on the highway at Christmas time."

1. Don't drive if you've had anything to drink — even if it's just a couple. If you know you're going to drink, make arrangements to have a nondrinker drive. Or, better yet, take a cab.

★ ★ ★

2. Don't forget you can't drive as far during a holiday as you can during a two-week vacation. Allow plenty of time to get where you're going.

★ ★ ★

3. Remember that the first hour of the holiday period is the most deadly of all — for both drivers and pedestrians.

4. Learn the hazards of winter driving and how to compensate for them.

5. Be as polite to other drivers as you are to guests in your home.

Leftwing Candidates Ahead in Guatemala

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI) — Leftwing opposition candidates forged ahead of government nominees today in early returns from yesterday's congressional election.

★ ★ ★

In the first five districts reporting, the opposition Revolutionary Party elected three congressmen against two for the government's National Redemption Party.

The revolutionaries polled 21,404 votes to 16,060 for the government. Ten lesser parties totalled about 25,000 votes.

The Revolutionary Party is considered the least extreme of four leftwing opposition parties, banned since 1954, which took part in yesterday's election.

★ ★ ★

Overall, the leftist parties were running about 10 per cent ahead of rightwing groups.

Border guards were reinforced on election day as a precaution against attack by invaders who the government says are being trained in Cuba.

Inside the country troops and police were alerted for possible efforts by "subversives and Communist agitators" to sabotage the voting.

Michigan State home economists have figured that the average life of a refrigerator is 17 years.

Showcase Stars Wasted; Durante at His Worst

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Watching this season,s Sunday Showcase in NBC-TV's 8 to 9 p.m. slot has been a little like watching a relay race by pooped-out performers.

★ ★ ★

It seems that a battered baton is passed along from one gimpy showcase production to another.

Last night, it was Jimmy Durante's turn to change this impression and make the hour bounce and live a little. He didn't.

In fact, his special, "Give My Regards to Broadway," was perhaps the worst show Durante has ever done on TV. Although he was in almost every number, Durante had nothing very special to offer.

His guest, Ray Bolger, was wasted in a trite dance about a private eye. While Bolger almost made up for it later in the "Harrigan" number, his buoyant stepping came too late to save the show.

★ ★ ★

Durante's other guests, Jane Powell, Eddie Hodges and Jimmie Rodgers also were wasted. The shows defects were magnified when the Dinah Shore show followed it.

Choose any 10 minutes in Dinah's show and you'll find more sparkle and entertainment than in the 60-minutes that preceded her. And I'll even include the commercials.

While Durante's salute to Broadway fizzled, an earlier salute to Broadway sizzled.

SHOW TV PALLOR

This one, on CBS-TV yesterday afternoon, offered excerpts from 10 Broadway plays and musicals that had tackled themes ordinarily considered too controversial for network TV.

Brief scenes from such shows as, "The Crucible," "The Male Animal" and "Home of the Brave" were offered and even these excerpts, performed by noted actors, created excitement. What's more, they demonstrated how pallid is the basic TV dramatic product.

One exception to the "pallid TV" charge mentioned above was last Friday's production of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist." Adapted for CBS-TV's DuPont Show of the Month by Michael Dyne, the novel's terror was abetted by the faces of the players, their ragged wardrobes and the suitably grimy, shadow-filled sets.

At times, Dan Petrie's direction was unnecessarily ornate and John McGiver's portrayal of Mr. Bumble was too watery, but the rest of the cast—led by Eric Portman and Robert Morley—was excellent.

CARNEY FLIES HIGH

I saw most of Art Carney's NBC-TV special on Friday and what I saw was superb. Called, "Very Important People," Carney tackled some high-flying subjects and brought them to earth with some vigorous, perceptive and, by some standards, even fearless satire.

Incidentally, Carney was the mystery guest last night on "What's My Line," a show he helped carve up on Friday and he encored his John Daly imitation.

THE CHANNEL SWIM:

NBC-TV replaces the spy series, Five Fingers, on Saturday, Jan. 23 with a 13-week public affairs series. The hour-long prime-time reports will deal with such topics as suburbia, alcoholism, baseball's problems and African nationalism. Frank McGee is the host.

★ ★ ★

"Around the World With Ed Sullivan," a 90-minute CBS-TV special, is being pencilled into next May's schedule. Sullivan will tape and film home-grown talent in 11 countries during his trip next March. He will utilize famous national landmarks for backgrounds to the outdoor performances.

Detroit Man Suing CBS for Libel in Play

CHICAGO (UPI) — Columbia Broadcasting System has been sued for a million dollars damages by a Detroit man who contends he was libeled in a play depicting the St. Valentine's Day massacre of 1929.

The suit, filed Friday, brought to 11 million dollars the total sought by persons claiming their reputations were injured.

Abe Burnstein, a manufacturers agent in Detroit, said his name was used in a line spoken in the play by an actor portraying Scarface Al Capone, prohibition era gang overlord. The reference, Burnstein declared, was damaging.

Six sponsors also were named defendants. They are Kimberly-Clark Corp.; Allstate Insurance Co.; Renault Inc., R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.; Proctor and Gamble Co., and Elgin National Watch Co.

★ ★ ★

Burnstein sued in U.S. District Court. Earlier, Titus Haffa, Chicago industrialist, sued in Superior Court for 10 million dollars.

He alleges he was damaged by the use of his name in a headline on a newspaper shown during the production.

The play, "Seven Against the Wall," was televised on Playhouse 90 on Dec. 11, 1958, and July 9, 1959.

How About a Good Old Fiber Steak?

Garden Grows Space Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space scientists are using a "moon garden" in their studies of food problems facing future airmen in orbit.

The garden in which ordinary vegetables are grown under reduced air pressure is one of the projects under the direction of Dr. Norman Lee Barr.

Barr, former director of aviation and space medicine research for the Navy, is now chief of space environment and life sciences research for Republic Aviation Corp.

PART OF LABORATORY

The moon garden is part of Republic's Farmingdale, N.Y., space environment laboratory.

One of the possibilities under study is whether indigestible plant fibers can be turned into meat substitutes by sudden exposure from a warm pressurized space cabin into the cold vacuum of space.

Barr explained that if a glass of warm air-filled water is exposed suddenly to vacuum, it explodes into a shower of droplets, mist and steam.

Similarly, he said, if a heated weed stem is suddenly exposed to vacuum, tiny explosions in the plant tissue cells rupture the cell walls and liberate the protein so that it may be acted upon by a man's gastric enzymes.

The moon garden project at Farmingdale is about six months old.

Barr said plants grown in the partial vacuum have less stalk and stem than normal plants, do not grow as large, and apparently mature faster.

He added that there was some indication that plants grown in a partial vacuum produce more fruit.

The laboratory aslo is attempting to measure the influence of gravity on plant growth.

Bake 'Em! Freeze 'Em! Mail 'Em!

Christmas gifts your friends and relatives will know come from the heart are those from the heart.

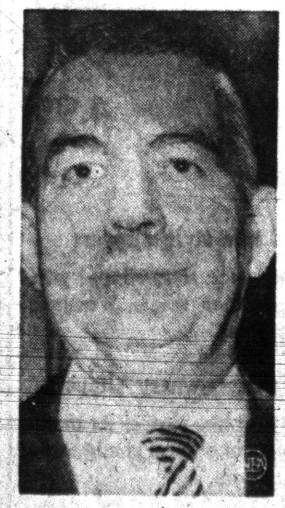

Home economists give a five-rule guide for mailing Christmas treats. They suggest freezing the baked goods right from the oven by putting them directly on a freezing surface of your home freezer.

Wrap the frozen baked goods securely in freezer paper or foil when mailing. Prepare a thick outer wrapping of newspapers for insulation, surrounded by a moistureproof covering of foil.

Mail the package directly at the post office. Determine there when it will probably leave and when it will arrive at its destination. Then alert the person to whom it is going to watch for it. Use air mail only.

The home economists also say to advise the person receiving the package not to refreeze the baked goods, if they have started to thaw — this could damage them.

The economists point out, however, that the baked goods probably will gradually thaw while in transit and arrive as fresh as when they came out of the oven and ready to eat.

Library of Congress in Program for Africa

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Library of Congress yesterday announced a $200,000 program to improve its research sources on Africa for the benefit of scholars, foreign policy experts and government officials.

The program will be financed by a grant from the Carnegie Corp. of New York. It will enable the library to set up and operate for five years an African section in its reference department.

PARDONED — Henry Pu Yi, former Japanese puppet emperor of Manchuria, has been pardoned by Communist China, where he was held on war crimes charges since World War II. The picture was taken in 1956.

A recent survey found that 31 per cent of all Austrians between the ages of 30 and 39 play at least one musical instrument.

French Antitank Guided Missile Fired From Helicopter Praised

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A wire-guided French missile fired from helicopters was declared Saturday potentially one of the most effective additions to the Army's antitank arsenal.

Brig. Gen. Clifton F. Von Kann, after witnessing experimental demonstrations earlier this week at Ft. Stewart, Ga., said the missile seems to solve the problem of obtaining accuracy within the helicopter's weight-carrying limitations.

Von Kann, director of Army aviation, said that low-flying copters obtained as many as 11 direct hits in 14 tries on tank targets 1,000 yards away.

The missile's warhead is powerful enough to pierce the strongest known armor.

The weapon is the SS-11, made by the French Nord Co., and is almost the simplest guided missile that could be imagined. It operates like a powered model airplane.

★ ★ ★

A six-inch spool of thin wire, approximately a mile long, unwinds from the tail of the missile as it proceeds toward the target at a subsonic speed of 450 miles an hour.

An electrical impulse sent over the wire, and four adjustable fins on the missile, enables the pilot or co-pilot of the copter to guide the projectile with the kind of stick used in aircraft control.

The great advantage over radio guided missiles, Von Kann said, is that no heavy equipment is needed. The Bell HU-1 copters that the Army wants to use for antitank purposes will be able to mount six SS-11s externally on the fuselage and also carry spares for reloading.

The missiles weigh 63 pounds and cost $1,300 each, but Von Kann said the economics of the system work out well.

★ ★ ★

Tanks at which the missiles would be fired would be expected to have cost an enemy more than a quarter of a million dollars each. The copters to carry the missiles are expected to cost about $225,000 each.

Von Kann said it has been proved that low-flying helicopters are a difficult target for enemy guns. Tanks trying to defend themselves, he said, could fire only machine guns, which would be ineffective at distances greater than 800 yards.

He added that the range of the SS-11 can be extended to a mile if a magnifying sight is developed. The present limitation of about 1,000 yards is the eyesight of the pilot.

The Army hopes eventually to have 35 or 40 armed helicopter units, he said. Each unit, according to present plans, would have four copters assigned to antitank duty. Other copters would be assigned to scouting, troop-carrying, medical evacuation and supply duty, or to firing general-purpose antipersonnel rockets. There would be 25 or 30 aircraft to a unit.

★ ★ ★

The Army now has 5,500 planes, mainly fixed-wing types. By agreement with the Air Force, the ground forces are limited to a weight of 5,000 pounds for fixed-wing planes and 20,000 pounds for helicopters.

The light, fixed-wing Army planes are not armed. Von Kann said, however, that the Air Force has never raised any objection to the Army's arming helicopters, and considers this a modest extension of the Army's ground capability.

NEWSMAN DIES — Fred S. Ferguson, 72, who until his retirement last April was president of NEA Service, a news feature agency, died Sunday in Huntington, N.Y. At the time of his retirement he had served 50 years in the Scripps-Howard organization.

Sam Home for Testing After Flight

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Sam, the seven-pound rhesus monkey who traveled 55 miles into space, returned to his home Sunday night for a series of tests. He was born at the School of Aviation Medicine here.

★ ★ ★

Sam was sent aloft Friday by a Little Joe rocket from Wallops Island, Va., in a missile that attained a speed of 3,600 miles an hour.

He was plucked from the Atlantic in his Project Mercury capsule, a chamber designed to carry man in his first orbit around the earth. A Navy destroyer transported Sam to Norfolk, Va., Saturday, and he was flown here in a C47.

Sam will be under constant observation as doctors attempt to determine the effects of the flight on the monkey.

★ ★ ★

The monkey has been placed off limits to newsmen while he undergoes tests at Randolph Air Force Base.

Some 81,000 children were born out of wedlock to teen-age mothers in the United States in 1957—an increase of 5.2 per cent over 1956.

In 1786 James Rumsey succeeded in propelling a boat with the use of steam. Because of the increased interest in travel today, steamship companies inform people of their accommodations through newspaper advertising—they did 32.1 per cent more in 1958 than 1957.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

You Can Bet Your Bottom Dollar

Everybody Wants More Coins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christmas shoppers can be sure of plenty of change this season. A record-breaking two billion new coins have been placed in circulation this year.

This puzzles William H. Brett, mint director.

★ ★ ★

"That is 50 per cent more than the average number of new coins added to circulation in the last five years," he says.

"Why? We all have our theories here. But nobody knows for sure."

Brett, who formerly manufactured plumbing fixtures in Alliance and Cleveland, Ohio, became the top coin man in the country in 1954. Since then, the mints have stamped out close to nine billion pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and halves.

VENDING MACHINES UP

Brett says there may be some doubt why Americans need so many more new coins this year, but little question why coins in general are getting so popular.

For one thing, he notes, there has been a terrific increase in the use of vending machines and parking meters. Also, there has been the great expansion in suburban shopping centers.

★ ★ ★

"The old corner grocery store, where you paid your bills once a week, is gone," he says. "Now, in the supermarket, it's all cash."

Brett also has found that certain cities favor particular coins. New York City likes half dollars. Baltimore goes for nickels. Washington is a dime town.

"We take an armored carload of half dollars out of New York every month, and they roll right back in," says Brett. "We think it might be the big money mail order business houses there — or the big tips you have to pay."

One coin Brett has plenty of is the silver dollar. Not one has been minted since 1935, and there are lots left.
