Tigers May Become Ducks for Training Opener Tomorrow

BRUNO KEARNS

LAKELAND, Fla. — Four different managers and three new club presidents have welcomed the Detroit Tigers to their winter home in Lakeland for the opening of spring camp in the past five years, and in each instance the result bore little fruit.

Tomorrow, when camp officially gets started at 10 a.m. it will be Jimmy Dykes, a veteran of 44 years of baseball (succeeding the Tiger managerial line of Bucky Harris, Jack Tighe and Bill Norman) who will make the opening statements.

Following Fred Knorr and then Harvey Hansen in succession as president of Tigers, Bill DeWitt is also expected to add a few of his many chosen words to the welcoming program.

One thing that hasn't changed in the past three camp openers has been the Lakeland weather. It rained three straight years for the official opening of camp, and unless there is a reversal of forecasts from the weather man by morning, all speechmaking may have to be done inside the clubhouse.

WET AND CHILLY

The weather has been wet and chilly for the past week. Yesterday the area was hit by a heavy downpour. Today the skies have been dark and more rain was predicted.

A 40-man Tiger squad is listed to appear at the official opening Tuesday morning, but as of this morning contracts are still missing on eight players. No problems were expected from Frank Lary, Frank Bolling, Bob Bruce, Steve Demeter or Bob Wilson, but Tiger outfielders Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Charley Maxwell may still be chasing higher salary figures rather than fly balls tomorrow.

The Tigers will drill each morning and reserve the afternoon sessions for intrasquad games until March 12, when the Washing-

Court Upholds Rights Act Core

Reverses Ruling That Sections Gave Undue Federal Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld the validity of key sections of the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

The sections had come under attack in relation to the Justice Departments efforts to enforce Negro voting rights in Georgia.

In a unanimous decision, the Supreme Court overturned a ruling by Federad Judge T. Hoyt Davis in Macon, Ga., that the sections were unconstitutional.

Davis said they were invalid because they gave the attorney general authority to seek injunctions against private citizens as well as state officials. He held Congress could not extend federal authority into that field.

Justice Brennan delivered the high courts decision. Justice Frankfurter wrote a separate concurring opinion, joined by Justice Harlan.

The courts ruling came almost at the hour that the Senate was meeting for what may be several days of around-the-clock sessions in a battle over new civil rights legislation.

The Justice Department's appeal from Judge Davis' ruling was argued Jan. 12. At that time, the department asked the high court for a quick reversal of the Davis decision as being "clearly wrong."

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, in personal argument said the Davis decision "has delayed and hampered the United States in its efforts to make the 15th Amendment fully effective for citizens of the Negro race."

The 15th Amendment says states may not interfere with voting rights.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today upheld a California law requiring dismissal of any public employe who refuses to say when asked whether he is a member of the Communist Party.

The law applies whether the questions are asked by state legislative or congressional investigators.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today restored voting privileges to 1,377 Negroes whose names were stricken from registration rolls of Washington Parish, Lousiana. The Justice Department charged the names were removed in a "mass purge" of Negro voters, in violation of the 1957 Civil Rights Act.

Temperatures Will Continue Subnormal

Pontiac area residents can expect little change in the weather for tomorrow and the next four days. According to the weather bureau, temperatures will remain about the same, about five to 10 degrees below normal for this time of year.

Although no heavy snows are forecast, flurries will continue frequently throughout the week, and skies will remain cloudy.

Downtown temperatures today ranged from a low of 15 degrees at 3 a.m. to 25 at 2 p.m. Winds were from the northwest at nine miles per hour.

Mercury readings over the weekend were a high of 28 and low of 20 on Saturday and a range from 16 to 27 on Sunday, with some snow both days.

U.S. Approves Cuban Parley

But Rejects Condition Banning 1-Sided Action Against Castro Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States told Cuba today it is willing to talk over differences between the two nations but not under conditions proposed by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

In a formal note again expressing friendship for the Cuban people, the United States invited Castro's regime to discuss through diplomatic channels, the time, place of such talks and the subject to be discussed.

The State Deparement note, delivered to the Cuban foreign office at Havana today, specifically rejected Cuba's insistance that the United States promise no one-sided action against Cuba pending conclusion of the talks.

As set forth in President Eisenhower's statement of January 26, the note said, "The government of the United States must remain free in the exercise of its own sovereighnty to take whatever steps it deems necessary, fully consistent with its international obligations in the defense of the legitimate rights and interests of its people.'

"The government of the United States believes that these rights and interests have been adversely affected by the unilateral acts of the Cuban government.

Castro's government, in a note Feb. 22, had proposed the talks be conducted by a commission appointed by both sides. This group would seek to ease the tensions between the two governments by what the Cubans called an "examination in a serene atmosphere."

Got Your Auto Tabs? Many Still Haven't

Last minute customers stood in long cold lines outside the Pontiac branch of the Secretary of State's office today, as the midnight deadline for driving on 1959 license plates neared.

After midnight, police will begin handing out $5 tickets to motorists driving without 1960 license tabs.

Willis M. Brewer, Pontiac manager, said that offices in Pontiac and the Waterford Township Hall would remain open tonight until the last customer is serviced.

Secretary of State James M. Hare estimated that there would be 200,000 car owners without 1960 tabs at the deadline hour. He said about 2 million car owners had purchased tabs by Saturday, leaving another million still without them today.

Seven Strikers Arrested at Troy for Tipping Car

Pickets at Dynamic Also Attempt to Turn Over Another

Seven strikers were arrested this morning for tipping over a nonstriker's car and starting to tip over another trying to cross the picket line of the strikebound Dynamic Manufacturers Inc., plant in Troy.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the scene when they received a call that a nonstriker's car with five workers inside had been overturned. No one was hurt.

★ ★ ★

The seven arrested included Johann Krautner, 35, of 617 S. Washington St., Royal Oak; Norman T. Pyke, 26, of 372 Hillfield St., Pontiac Township; Joseph A. Travnikar, 27, of 449 W. 11 Mile Rd., Madison Heights; and Harold Samol, 40, of 3500 John R Rd., Troy.

The other three were Gleddis Puckett, 19, of 2207 John R. Rd., Troy; Herman C. Dempsey, 32, of Detroit; and Johnnie T. Hoskins, 34, of 33036 Brush St., Madison Heights.

DEMAND JURY TRIAL

All were arraigned before Troy Justice of the Peace Charles H. Losey on charges of disorderly conduct under a Troy City ordinance.

★ ★ ★

The strikers demanded a jury trial which was set for Thursday night and were released on $100 bond each.

This was the second instance of violence since Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams issued a temporary injunction limiting pickets and warning officials of the International Electrical, Radio and Machines Workers Union AFL-CIO Local 935 against further outbreaks.

Saturday morning Troy police reported the window of a nonstriking worker's auto was broken by pickets at the main gate, 4755 Rochester Rd.

TANGLED WRECKAGE — Four members of the same family were killed last night when their station wagon skidded on icy pavement and crashed head-on into a truck on 12 Mile road in Farmington Township. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Kaiser of 2016 Northwood, Royal Oak and their two youngest children, Mark, 1, and Marie, 3. Five other children in the family were injured seriously. They are in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, in fair condition.

Sunday Outing Comes to Jarring Conclusion in Farmington Twp.

Death ended a "Sunday outing" last night for four members of a Royal Oak family. They were killed when their station wagon skidded on icy pavement in Farmington Township and smashed head-on into a dump truck.

Dead are Allen C. Kaiser, 38; his wife Mary 34; two of their seven children, Mark James, 1, and Marie, 3. They lived at 2016 Northwood Blvd.

Also injured but in fair condition at William Beaumont hospital Royal Oak, are the Kaisers' five other children, Lynn, 13, Allen, 11, John, 10, Kathy, 9, and Carl 7.

State Police said Kaiser's car skidded into a truck driven by James Crowell, 38, of 29725 Farmington Rd., Farmington Township.

The accident occurred on 12-Mile road just west of Inkster road at 9:45 p.m.

State Police said the Kaiser family was returning from a Sunday visit with Mrs. Kaiser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schirle of Brighton.

POLICE INVESTIGATING

The accident is still being investigated by State Police.

Kaiser was a test engineer for the Utica-Bend Corp. in Utica. His family recently moved into its home near the Shrine of the Little Flower, Woodward and 12-Mile road.

K Will Sign If Summit Fails

Threatens German Pact

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today said the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Khrushchev spoke at a news conference following his return from Bogor, where he agreed to lend Indonesia a 250-million-dollar credit in an effort to check this Southeast Asian nation's slow drift Westward.

The Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany never has been abandoned, and in recent weeks has been repeated at intervals. But this was the first time Khrushchev had tied it to the outcome of the May summit conference.

"The question of Berlin is one of eliminating vestiges of World War II," the Soviet leader declared. "We cannot talk about peace without eliminating these vestiges."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union is trying to convince the West of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, the Soviet Union will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all postwar agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be valid," and West Berlin would come under the authority of Communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the Communist German Democratic Republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Soviet or Western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has been reported considering proposing such a plebisicite.

★ ★ ★

"We are not going to take part in such a plebisicite and we are against the participation of any other country in such a plebisicite since this would be interfering in the internal affairs of another country," Khrushchev declared.

PROPOSES VOTE

President Flies to Friendly Chile

Will See Belt-Tightening at Work in Prospering Latin Nation

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — President Eisenhower today flew into friendly Chile to see a nation prospering by economic belt-tightening. It was the third stop of his four-nation Latin-American tour.

The first U.S. President ever to visit this country, Eisenhower was assured a warm welcome during his two-day stay with Chileans noted for their hospitality.

Greeting Eisenhower on his arrival from Argentina was Chile's 63-year-old bachelor President Jorbe Alessandri, who is spearheading a campaign to end the armaments race in Latin America.

The ceremonies at Santiago's modern Los Cerrillos Airport were brief with Eisenhower reviewing the honor guard and then setting out for an hour's drive through the capital in an open car.

★ ★ ★

Crowds lined the route to the U.S. Embassy residence along broad, tree-lined Alameda Bernardo O'Higgins, named for Chile's national hero.

The capital under the snow-capped Andes Mountains was gaily decorated with flags of both nations and bunting.

The enthusiastic Chileans went all out to match with hospitality the welcomes accorded Eisenhower by their richer and bigger neighbors, Brazil and Argentina.

1960 Census Will Show Huge Population Gains

Windfall Due Some Area Communities

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The 1960 federal census—to be taken this spring—should provide a nice little "nest egg" for many Oakland County communities.

Some cities and townships that have been receiving sales, gas and weight and intangible tax rebates from the state based on the 1950 census have seen their populations increase by as much as seven times the '50 total.

County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks agrees with state officials that Oakland communities may reap greater benefits from the new census than any in the state.

There's reason to cheer—but not for all—because when the last count was taken Oakland County's population was 396,000. This year it will be around 700,000, most are figuring.

Because sales tax collections (the state's largest source of income) are apportioned out to counties on population, it is readily understandable why some Oakland officials are just counting the days when the new figures will be in.

The county itself will not benefit. When quarterly sales tax checks are received from Lansing, Sparks must apportion every penny out to city, township and village treasuries. What they receive will be based on the new census figures.

Looking ahead when the individual units will realize their added riches—probably around this summer based on preliminary figures—Sparks sees such sprouting communities as Oak Park and Bloomfield Township heading the list of the "richer" units.

Others, however, that have dropped in population during the last 10 years or stayed about the same won't be doing too much cheering. They'll have to continue to look to their property taxes and voter-approved extra taxes for operation.

Sparks foresees Pontiac being in this category.

Sparks' chief deputy, Lloyd M. Sibley, came up with a gauge of 77 per cent—that percentage of population increase for Oakland County since 1950. This is roughly an increase of 304,000 persons.

If a city, township or village has increased more than the county's 77 per cent boost, they can expect equally increased sales tax checks from Sparks' office.

If they haven't jumped over this increase, stayed the same or dropped, their checks won't go up, they'll go down, requiring some belt-tightening economy.

Oakland County is already assured a larger slice of the tax collections, Sparks said, because it is way above the state's estimated growth in 10 years of 27 per cent. What the 83 counties receive in the future will be based on whether they've dropped below, equaled or bypassed this increase, or about $1,868,000.

SOME TO DO WELL

Oakland last year received $3,207,567 in sales tax diversion from the state. Sparks was reluctant to predict what the 1960 total might be, but didn't hesitate in saying "some units are really going to do well and some are not."

Also entering into the picture is the move that's afoot to boost the sales tax one cent.

Briefly, the veteran treasurer named besides Oak Park and Bloomfield Township as the beneficiaries of the census boost, Avon Township, Southfield, Waterford Township, Berkley, Royal Oak and Farmington Township. There may be others.

"Pontiac is going to lose because they've had no big development within the city limits," he said.

Oak Park for example had a 1950 population of 5,267. Procrastinators say today there are nearer 40,000. In 1950 Bloomfield Township showed 3,851. Township officials say it's around 20,800 today.

Sibley summarized Oakland's population increase advantage by saying, "We're going to get a bigger pie and be able to cut bigger slices—for some."

Pointing out that the townships of Lyon, Groveland, Springfield and White Lake have operated without township property taxes since the sales tax was enacted in 1933, Sparks said there soon might be others that can do the same.

He said his own Waterford Township could be one, if officials want to.

But, he added quickly, a more realistic gaze into the crystal ball will show communities using the additional funds for new construction, and area residents asking that their roads be paved "now that you've got the money."

SCHOOLS, TOO

School district treasuries here, too, will receive some added benefits since their shares of state aid is based on a per pupil basis.

Not to be overlooked is that Michigan must continue to take in its past high level of sales tax receipts before the counties, and then their subdivisions, will benefit. Few expect anything different.

The census becomes effective, Sparks said, for the purpose of distributing state-collected, locally-shared revenues on April 1, the beginning date of the census.

Retroactive adjustments will be made at such time as final figures become available.

★ ★ ★

Intangible tax distributions also will reflect populatoin flucuations. First quarter sales and intangible tax collections will be distributed based on the old 1950 figures. With preliminary figures made availably July 6, second and third quarter payments will be made on these new figures. Fourth quarter the same.

★ ★ ★

Then the April, July and October distributions, Sparks said, will be adjusted to the final 1960 census.

Budget planners in the different cities, townships and villages are already taking these future adjustments into account—some eagerly and some not so.

WET FOOT TIME — Slush, snow and freezing water don't intimidate the intrepid, boot-clad gentleman above. For bootless folks, though, it's a season of wet feet and cold toes. Pontiac DPW crews worked through the weekend so that scenes like this aren't repeated this week. But after a big snowfall, cars get the big attention and feet suffer until the side streets are cleared and the salt-melted snow runs off.

It Comes Down, Bills Go Up

Snow Hits City's Cash Cache

It cost Pontiac more than $8,000 to clear the roads after the heaviest snow of the season.

The total bill, according to DPW Director Clyde Christian, was $8,085, about $1,600 for each of the five inches that blanketed the area between Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

DPW crews worked through Sunday morning to wrap up the job, then started in again last night on the light Sunday snowfall.

About 45 DPW crewmen put in 1,236 manhours battling the snow between Thursday and Sunday.

The first crews went out Thursday evening after a full day of work. Crews worked through the night Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Christian figures it cost $3,476 for labor, material and equipment rental to remove the snow from downtown and major roads and plow side streets clear.

The price tag to free city parking lots was $900, he said.

★ ★ ★

DPW trucks took 584 truckloads of snow from arteries and downtown streets to the Clinton River and 425 from the parking lots.

Before the weekend was up, 250 tons of salt had been spread on the cleared streets to keep them from freezing. The cost — $3,711.

Even when the job was done, DPW men had to go back and do some of it over again at spots where winds had caused the snow to drift back over previously cleared streets.

Another big job was done at Pontiac Municipal Airport. Airport maintenance employes, working with two snow plows, had the 400,000 square feet main runway and its taxi-way (260,000 square feet) cleared by 8 a.m. Friday.

★ ★ ★

"We're usually one of the first Michigan airports to be ready for business after a heavy snowfall and we like to keep our record good," said Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

★ ★ ★

The airport has more than 1,300,000 square feet of runways, taxiways and ramps and they were all cleared over the weekend.

Bengals May Swim to Camp Opener ton Senators visit Henley Field for the start of the grapefruit circuit.

The "home" fans in Lakeland will have a chance to see 18 games which will include every major league team except San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs. Both Boston and Cleveland, which train in Arizona will be in Florida for the last week of the grapefruit season.

Cleveland will be here April 11 and the Red Sox April 12. Camp will break April 18, and the next day the Tigers will be in Cleveland for the regular season opener.

The Tigers begin camp Tuesday with several new faces but no new batting averages of extra-heavy nature which would make the outlook more optimistic.

First baseman Steve Bilko, whose last major league mark was .234 in 1958, before going to Spokane where he hit .305 last year; shortstop Chico Fernandez, whose bat has been the opposing pitcher's delight, and who hit .211 with the Phillies last season; and outfielder Ken Wise, who batted .171 in his last major league fling early in 1959 for Milwaukee are the new faces obtained in deals to bolster the 1960 Tigers.

President DeWitt, who watched Sunday's farm camp intrasquad game, dressed in an overcoat, denied that he made the Chicago White Sox a concrete offer of Red Wilson and Gail Harris for catcher Earl Battey who has been an understudy to Sherm Lollar.

DeWitt, however, did not deny that the Tigers are interested in Battey and that the White Sox have been deaf to what the Bengals have offered.

Blaze Ravages Beverage Firm

Damage Set at $23,500; Marshal Metz Blames Defective Wiring

Damage from a fire which raced through the Spadafore Beverage Co., Inc., 922 Oakland Ave., Sunday afternoon has been estimated by Pontiac fire officials at $23,500.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said the blaze was caused by defective wiring in a small work room in the rear of the two-story cement block building.

Firemen battled flames for more than two hours before bringing the fire under control.

The roof of the building was destroyed, and many cement blocks cracked from the intense heat, Metz said.

The fire was spotted shortly before noon by company employes, who were unable to move the firm's trucks from the building before the fire spread.

The firm is a distributor of soft drinks in the Pontiac area. Fire loss was estimated at $20,000 to the building and $3,500 to contents.

No one was injured.

Dems to Go Easy on 1-House Plan

LANSING (AP)—Democratic policy makers, faced with a split between Wayne County and outstate party members, have agreed to a go-easy approach on a scheme for a one-house Legislature.

The party's state central committee voted overwhelmingly yesterday to wait until its April 24 meeting to take a stand on whether to back a statewide vote on the plan in November.

Warnings that hasty action might touch off a bitter intraparty wrangle prompted the decision. Storm signals went up yesterday in heated debate among Detroit and outstate members and Democratic senators.

All six Wayne County congressional districts reported support both for the unicameral system and reapportionment of the Senate. Both devices are designed to wipe out Republican control of the Senate, whose 34 districts are drawn up along lines favorable to outstate areas dominated by Republicans.

Metropolitan Detroit would benefit most from a switch to a one-house system based on population. However, details of the proposal, including the number of lawmakers basis of representation, districts and the like, are still under study.

The 12 Democratic senators, who would lose their jobs if the Senate went out of business, have voted unanimously against a unicameral Legislature. The five at the State Central Committee meeting called on party workers to concentrate instead on electing more Democratic senators and revising existing districts.

★ ★ ★

"I don't want to see our party split on this issue while Republicans come in and pick up all the marbles," said Sen. George C. Steeh (D-Mount Clemens. "We won't sell unicameralism to Democrats this election — or to the people. There's not enough time."

To Fight Delay in Lassiter Case

Widow's Attorney Says He'll Protest Stalling Examination

DETROIT (UPI) — Joseph W. Louisell, attorney for Mrs. Nelle Lassiter, said today he will fight any attempt to delay the woman's examination on charges of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

Mrs. Lassiter, 38, is scheduled to appear before Dearborn Township Justice John Mokersky for examination Friday.

But Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen has indicated he might try to delay examination until Gordon Watson, a former business associate of slain Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, is returned to Michigan from California.

Watson also is accused of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder in the death last April of the Royal Oak auto dealer.

Olsen charged that Mrs. Lassiter and Watson plotted the murder of her husband to collect his fortune and carry on an illicit romance.

The prosecutor said Watson and Mrs. Lassiter registered together at motels under assumed names on several occasions during the year before Lassiter was shot and killed when he returned from a business trip to Arizona.

Three men, Charles Nash, Roy Hicks and Richard Jones, have pleaded guilty to charges of second degree murder in Lassiter's slaying.

Olsen said the men were paid assassins.

Watson moved to California shortly after the slaying and is fighting extradition to Michigan.

Louisell said Michigan law demands that examination of a person must be made within 10 days after the arrest.

Mrs. Lassiter was arrested last Tuesday and pleaded imnocent at her arraignment before Mokersky.

Woman Is Injured While Tobogganing

A Detroit woman suffered a broken right leg last night while tobogganing in West Bloomfield Township, said Pontiac State Police.

Carol A. Beane, 20, of 11411 Terry, was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for emergency treatment and then transferred to Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, Detroit.

Troopers said the woman was on a toboggan with four friends when it hit a water hole, throwing the riders in all directions.

None of the others was hurt.

Gets Report on Expansion of Library Phone Setup

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission at tonight's meeting will receive a report from the Library Board regarding proposed expansion of the telephone system at Baldwin Library.

★ ★ ★

The board report concludes that installation of a system with three incoming lines and an intercom system was the only practical solution to the cost problem.

The system has a maximum capacity to handle four incoming lines.

The monthly cost would be $153, according to the report.

★ ★ ★

The Commission also will receive a request to repair a section of Pleasant street.

In a letter from Ralph R. Reed Jr., 494 Pleasant St., he asks that the section in front of the home be repaired, but says "It is obvious that many sections of the street are in need of repair.

Chinese Actress Just a Friend, Claims Antony

LONDON (AP)—The girl who figured most in the gay life of Antony Armstrong-Jones before Princess Margaret captured his heart was a sultry Chinese actress named Jackie Chan.

They were seen together often. One London newspaper, the Tabloid Daily Sketch, suggested Armstrong-Jones once even thought he would marry the 24-year-old actress-model.

* * *

For 18 months, said the Sketch, Jackie has been denying rumors they would wed.

Friends of Armstrong-Jones said they were good friends, just his favorite photographer's model. He liked to take pictures of her walking down a street while passersby gave her the double take.

Publishers said today the former child star of the movies will be included in an edition of the reference directory to be published soon.

Shirley's name was dropped after the 1952 Who's Who because of her inactivity.

It is being restored because of her work as a narrator and actress on TV.

Britons Peer Into Meg's Crystal Ball

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret's engagement to commoner Antony Armstrong-Jones ended the British public's longest standing topic of speculation. But it raised a host of new questions for British newspapers today.

Guessing ranged from what the lovely, 29-year-old princess will wear on her wedding day to whether her photographer fiance will go on working after the wedding.

* * *

The tabloid Daily Mirror reacted in true Laborite fashion, complaining at talk Armstrong-Jones will be given a title. "Everybody will be delighted if, when he marries his princess they are known as the Jonese[illegible] in Mr. and Mrs."

Daily Ex[illegible]s columnist Godfrey Winn said it saddened him to read the bridegroom-to-be was putting up the shutters on his photographic business.

OH, COME NOW

"Does the new bridegroom spend the rest of his days walking behind his wife when she's performing her public duties?" Winn wrote.

The Express speculated that the newlyweds will live at stately Buckhurt Park, a 17-room mansion set in 122 acres bordering Windsor Great Park. The newspaper printed a photograph of the master bedroom, lavishly furnished in pink and gold, with a quilted double bed.

Senate Gabbing Around Clock

Prepared for Endless Session of Civil Rights Debate in Capitol

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate, with Army cots set up in the cloakrooms for weary members, was ready today to begin round-the-clock sessions in an effort to force action on a civil rights bill.

* * *

Siege-like preparations were evident as the Senate was called to meet at noon and, barring a last minute switch in strategy, to remain in session indefinitely.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex), backed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill), ordered the continuous session after 11 days of debate failed to break the civil rights deadlock.

Senators and their aides prepared to spend the nights at the Capitol. Key Senate employes were put on staggered work schedules and the restaurant planned to remain open 24 hours a day.

EFFORT IN HOUSE?

There were unconfirmed reports that efforts might be made this week to advance House debate on civil rights to remove some of the pressure from the Senate's grueling schedule.

But House debate is not slated until the middle of March and there were no immediate indications of any plans for a speedup.

The Senate has not held a round the clock session since 1957 when Sen. Storm Thurmond (D-SC) set a new filibuster record with a continuous speech of 24 hours and 14 minutes against a civil rights measure.

* * *

The longest session in Senate history was 85 hours and 49 minutes in 1954, broken by one 24 minute recess, on amendments to the atomic energy act.

After a Sunday recess, the debate ran continuously for another 35 hours and 57 minutes.

The oil industry spends more than $100 million annually on gasoline research.

Bell Bounces Message Off High-Flying Balloon

From Our News Wires

HOLMDEL, N. J. — This is Bell Telephone laboratories at Holmdel, N. J., talking by reflections from the balloon."

The Bell message was relayed from here during the weekend to a space balloon rocketing over the Atlantic Ocean. It was repeated at one-minute intervals.

For a dramatic impact, the pretaped message relayed from space may never rival Samuel Morse's "What Hath God Wrought," but the scientific implications may be as great.

Space scientists are making further checks today on the performance of the message-bouncing balloon fired aloft Saturday evening.

* * *

A two-stage rocket launched from Wallops Island, Va., carried the 130-pound bundle of plastic sheeting skyward. The package blossomed into a sphere as tall as a 10-story building at an altitude of 225 miles. It fell into the Atlantic several hours later.

WIDELY VISIBLE

Where skies were clear, the aerial experiment could be seen from Maine to South Carolina—and 500 miles inland from the East Coast. A reddish-orange glow which surrounded the sphere came from the sphere's inflating gas.

* * *

As the sphere glowed in the sky, a 12-sentence voice message was beamed at it from the Bell Telephone laboratories at Holmdel, N.J. The message was received on the bounce at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology station at Round Hill, Mass., and at the General Electric Co. laboratories at Schenectady, N.Y.

Similar spheres later will be fired into orbit to serve as reflectors for radio signals.

Space Booster Engine Passes Third Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A modified Thor missile blasted off today in the third and final test of a new space engine.

The engine, successful in its first two practice runs, will give the United States a reliable booster for relatively small space packages.

Powered by the increased thrust of the new power plant, the Thor leaped quickly from its pad, arched high in the sky and streaked to the southeast. It was aimed at its normal target area off the West Indies island of Antigua, 1,700 miles away.

Snow Puts State Drivers on Skids

LANSING (UPI) — New snow ranging from one to six inches last night and early today left most Michigan roads slippery in spots, according to the Highway Department.

A road report showed most of the southern Lower Peninsula's roads had about an inch of snow.

* * *

Roads in Oceola, Muskegon, Ottawa, Allegan, Kalamazoo and Van Buren counties were generally slippery. They got three to six inches of fresh snow.

The department said roads in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula were clear and dry except for a six-mile belt of slippery conditions across northern Roscommon, Ogemaw and Iosco counties.

* * *

Upper Peninsula roads were in fair condition except for slippery spots in Alger and Delta counties.

Allies to Resume German Flights

Will Again Fly High Through Corridors Over Communist Zone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France have decided to resume flying the air corridors between West Berlin and West Germany at altitudes above 10,000 feet—a practice with which Soviet fighter planes interfered in the past.

* * *

Russia is being notified of the decision, it was reported here today, so there can be no misunderstanding on Moscow's part of what is involved.

The three Western powers, with about 11,000 troops to maintain as a protective force in West Berlin, have long insisted there is no limitation on the altitude at which their supply and transport aircraft can fly into and out of West Berlin.

The air corridors traverse the territory of Communist East Germany.

* * *

Russia, by contrast, has claimed a 10,000-foot ceiling was established by agreement between Soviet and Allied authorities years ago.

* * *

The Russians contend that any flight above that limit is a violation which can subject the high-altitude aircraft to the attention of Soviet fighter planes.

$4,550 in Taxes Saved Bus Line

New Bill Chops Levy on Weight; Will Cleave $100,000 Off Intake

Gov. Williams has signed into law a measure that would exempt Pontiac City Lines from paying an estimted $4,550 a year in weight taxes.

This will be the main result, locally, of the so-called bus tax relief measure which the governor approved over the weekend.

The measure, much narrower in scope than the one he vetoed a year ago, will trim a total $100,000 a year off weight taxes collected from bus companies, throughout the state, with the exception of Detroit. The relief runs through 1962.

Backers of the legislation said the reduction is necessary if faltering companies are to survive.

The bill previously vetoed by the governor would have relieved local companies of gas tax payments — a bigger exemption than that provided through weight tax relief.

Williams said the new law provides for a reduction in city bus company weight taxes from an average of about $200 a bus to a flat $25.

According to this formula, the weight taxes on Pontiac City Lines' 26 buses would drop from $5,200 a year to $650.

Earl Dreasher, Pontiac City Lines manager, said he had received no word from National City Lines, Inc. concerning how favorably the local company might be affected.

* * *

Pontiac buses have been idled almost four months by a strike for higher wages. The company says its profits are almost nonexistant.

Two weeks ago, the company proposed that the city lease the bus equipment. It estimated this move would exempt the company from about $18,000 in annual taxes.

The City Commission has the proposal under study.

Company and union representatives were to meet today in Saginaw in an effort to gain headway in a strike against the National City Lines affiliate there.

Negotiations in both Pontiac and Saginaw have remained virtually at dead center since the strike began Dec. 5.

Therapy Director Will Speak on Group Treatment

Dorthy Roe, director of the Recreational Therapy Dept. of Pontiac State Hospital, will speak on "Treatment of Patients Through Group Activities" at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the hospital.

Her talk is part of a mental health lecture series sponsored by the Oakland County Citizens Committee for Pontiac State Hospital.

Also on the program will be a variety show by hospital patients, "We the Patients Salute the Community."

Arthur Heaton, citizens committee president, has invited the public to attend. Admission is free.

Ford Shuts Down Plant in Cincinnati

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. today announced a four-day shutdown of its Fairfax automatic transmission plant at Cincinnati and the layoff of about 450 employes at three Cleveland area plants.

A Ford spokesman said both moves were due to inventory adjustments.

About 1,500 workers were affected at Cincinnati where the plant will remain closed until Friday.

Ford said employment at Cleveland total about 12,000.

Last week Ford announced a one-week layoff of some 4,400 workers at its Dearborn engine plant and iron foundry.

3 Hurt, 2 Critically in Waterford Crash

Three persons were injured, two critically, in a two-car head-on collision last night on U.S. 10 a half-mile north of Scott Lake road, Waterford Township

Sheriff's Deputies said the injured were Charles B. Ranke, 21, of Saginaw; and Arden L. Dixon, 26, and his wife, Norma M., also 26, both of 7485 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

All three were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital. Ranke and Mrs. Dixon are listed in critical condition today. Her husband is in satisfactory condition, said the hospital.

Witnesses told deputies that Dixon lost control on icy pavement while passing another vehicle. His car skidded across the center line striking Ranke's car headon, deputies said.

The accident occurred at about 10:15. Ranke and Dixon's wife suffered head and facial injuries. Dixon had a broken leg and face cuts.

Bentley Favors Congress Loss If Rights Denied

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, Owosso Republican, proposed last night that full congressional representation be withheld from Southern states which disenfranchise Negroes.

Bentley, a candidate for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate, spoke at the annual banquet of the Detroit Alumni of Howard University of Washington, D. C.

About 100 Negro professional and businessmen and their wives attended.

Bentley said Congress, in debating civil rights legislation, has overlooked a section in the Fourteenth Amendment providing that representation shall be reduced in states denying elective franchise to all citizens.

He said this action should be taken during reapportionment following this year's census.

Consumers Workers to Strike Tonight Unless Settlement Made

Pontiac watched today as negotiators headed into showdown talks in Jackson, trying to avert a strike of 5,000 Consumers Power Co. workers.

The Utility Workers of America Union says it will strike at midnight tonight unless a new contract is agreed to by then.

The present, two-year contract expires at that time.

If Pontiac street, line and servicemen walk off the job as part of a statewide strike, supervisory personnel will take over vital jobs to keep power flowing into Pontiac area homes, said Edward Karkau, Pontiac branch manager.

Negotiations have taken place at company headquarters in Jackson. Weekend negotiations failed to bring a settlement. Neither side would comment.

A wage increase is among 91 reported contract adjustments demanded by the union. Except for health and hospitalization and wage-fringe issues, these are reported largely of a technical nature.

Consumers Power serves gas and electricity to homes and industries in 63 counties of southern Michigan outside Detroit.

On the weekend Paul Rickts of Detroit, federal mediator, and Rex P. Cranson of Coldwater, state mediator, stood by but did not enter.

Kennedy's Choice May Give Republicans Votes

Good news for Republicans that are fed up with Federal aid give-aways comes in the announcement from Sen. JOHN F. KENNEDY that he has picked Rep. CHESTER BOWLES (D-Conn) as his foreign policy adviser.

★ ★ ★

With Kennedy pushing hard for the Democratic nomination, his foreign policy will be left in the hands of Bowles, who is noted chiefly for big foreign aid grants, so much so that he would make Ike look like a piker.

★ ★ ★

Reports have it that if KENNEDY is elected he will make BOWLES Secretary of State—a move which might well turn some Dems toward the GOP rather than foster an administration aimed at excessive foreign aid.

South America Veers Toward Freer Markets

After three years study, South America is preparing to test the common market idea first discussed at the Buenos Aires Inter-American Economic Conference in September 1957.

An agreement has been signed in Montevideo creating a free trading zone covering Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Paraguay, Peru and Uruguay. Thirteen other South American countries are expected to join later.

The pact is patterned after the European Common Market which Latin Americans fear will direct more trade to colonies and Allies in Africa and less to the Southern Hemisphere.

★ ★ ★

Each of the 20 South American countries has its own external trade policy, tariffs, import quotas, etc. and it will be a long time before national differences and old grudges can be forgotten for the common good. A larger market would tend to lower tariffs because of greater bargaining power. What is needed now, says Dr. GAINZA PAZ of Argentina, is stability, understanding, better economic planning and easier flow of credit.

★ ★ ★

Volume of trade between Latin American countries will not be large at first because agriculture and livestock are excluded from the agreement. Commerce mostly has been with the United States and Europe. However, South America is industrializing rapidly and we now buy more from them than they do from us. Hundreds of North American firms have millions invested in Latin America and the Export-Import Bank is underwriting much of its development.

★ ★ ★

First effects of the pact may be reduction of our exports to the Southern Hemisphere. But in the long run development of national resources and higher incomes should increase foreign trade. All common market areas purportedly are dedicated to freer international commerce and our only concern would be the danger of Latin American nations becoming areas of regional protectionism.

Economy Drive Upheld With Ike's First Veto

EISENHOWER's first veto of the present session of Congress was upheld by the House on a bill that would have provided 90 million dollars a year for ten years to local communities to de-pollute nearby waters.

★ ★ ★

To override the veto would have meant budget busting. This might well have started a new round of Government expenditures in excess of the budget.

The reasoning behind President Eisenhower's veto was that to put Federal money into such work would encourage communities against using their own funds on water purifying projects.

★ ★ ★

We are inclined to agree with this thinking and hope IKE continues to veto extra expenses that are not included in the budget. Vetoes such as this are in defense of the taxpayers.

EISENHOWER advises us not to worry about outer space. Most of us don't — at least we worry far more about inner space, such as, for example, finding enough of it to park a car in.

A NUMBER of prominent Democrats have indicated they would welcome being drafted as candidate for the Presidency, and they also rather broadly hinted that they considered their classification A-1.

The Man About Town

Boys Wrote Home

In 1861-65 as They Did in the Two World Wars

That extra day: Here 'tis: improve it; you don't get another for four long years.

In both world wars we urged the boys to write home real often, and most of them did so. In World War II, and covering the period of several years thereafter, The Pontiac Press distributed over 5,000 writing portfolios to them as they were inducted.

Home folk without number complimented us on the project, and when they returned many of the boys told me,

"I used every sheet."

A perusal of the archives of the Michigan Historical Commission

as the centennial of the Civil War approaches, reveals that hundreds of letters written home by young men in the conflict between the states have been turned over to them.

Dozens of Pontiac letters are there, but the champion home letter writer of those dark days of 1861-65 appears to have been of Holly. They include 36 letters to his mother, telling of his experiences, and as many more from her, about her loving concern, and recounting the family and neighborhood affairs in which she knew he would be interested. Did anybody in the world wars do as well?

It is none too early to begin warning the children about the danger on our lakes when the ice begins to get honeycombed and unsafe, preliminary to the spring breakup.

An apparent contradictory statement apepars on a mustard bottle label:

"Keep me cold and I'll stay hot."

There's more than a mouthful in a Boy Scout bulletin under the heading:

"He May Be an Ornery Kid Now,"

which continues: "Neglect no boy. Those whom we seek to serve come our way but once. Among them, somewhere, may be the man who will lead the world to everlasting peace."

The monthly publication of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium,

David Lawrence Says:

Legislate Honesty? Not Easy

WASHINGTON—Can honesty be legislated? This is the challenging question that comes to the fore when a report such as has just been presented to Congress endeavors to deal with the problem of so-called "conflict of interest."

LAWRENCE

A committee of eminent lawyers from the Assn. of the Bar of the City of New York has completed a two-year study which recommends certain changes in existing laws so as to prevent employes of the government from being improperly influenced in their public duties through gifts, through the retention of income from previous business connections, through stock ownership in such companies, or otherwise.

"We need a long-run national policy," says the report, "which neither sacrifices governmental integrity for opportunism nor drowns practical staffing needs in moralism.

"We need a careful regulatory scheme that effectively restrains official conflicts of interest without generating pernicious side effects on recruitment.

"The basic conclusion of the committee is that such a scheme can be worked out."

With all due respect to the fine men who prepared this report, the observation can be made that it doesn't go to the root of the problem.

★ ★ ★

Honesty cannot be legislated any more than efficiency can be defined in a statute.

Even if all the proposals of the bar association committee were adopted, this would not reach the real difficulty—the dishonest mind.

A man who owns stock in a company, from which he resigned or retired in order to accept a government post, can be compelled by law to sell his stock or put it in trust to others.

But does this mean he will be strong enough to forget his friendships of past years and turn a cold shoulder to his former associates, just because he has given up his stock?

Is the remedy to be found in banning from public office anybody who has ever occupied a prominent place in business? This would deprive the government of some of the best brains in the country.

Also, what shall be said about those members of Congress who retain a connection with their former law firms, even though they are careful not to accept any income from cases involving the government?

★ ★ ★

Is the continuance of their names on the law firm's stationery an inducement to prospective clients?

Are the former associates of these members of Congress to be deprived of a chance to do any government business or to contact their duly elected representative in Congress just because he used to work with them?

What about the practice of many members of Congress who accept fees for speeches before labor union or trade association conventions?

★ ★ ★

Is a gift at Christmas or at any other time a sort of bribe? Must the recipient, if he is in public office, assume that the purpose of the gift is to influence him improperly?

If so, then what about gifts made to individuals before they entered the government service?

Are the donors forever to be pre-empted from contacting on business matters their friends of former years?

There was, for instance, the case of Sherman Adams.

No proof ever was shown that the gifts he received from a personal friend of long standing influenced him to do anything that he couldn't have done with propriety for any other constituent or for any other citizen with similar cases pending before government agencies.

Yet Adams was crucified in the court of public opinion and his career irreparably damaged by something that is called "guilt by association" when the same sort of suspicion happens to fall upon a Communist sympathizer.

★ ★ ★

The problem is not new. It is one that is encountered every day by public servants in government from the highest federal office down to the smallest post in county or city government.

The Country Parson

"It seems like the fellow who's always in the biggest hurry is the one who's most confused about where he's going."

Dr. William Brady Says:

My Rheumatiz Regimen Helps Doubting Thomas

"When I sent for your booklet on rheumatiz I was suffering with pain in my right knee. I had been under treatment for a year with no relief.

"Soon after I started on the regeneration regimen —maybe two or three weeks—I began to get relief and in a month the pain was gone. My knee got better and better from month to month and now I believe it is all well.

DR. BRADY

"But, believe me, I shall never get off the regimen — not far off anyway. Now I have a confession to make. I had always dismissed your teachings about joint disability as, forgive me, Doctor — as . . . (R.R.W.)"

Thank you, sir. I don't mind it at all. Suppose I deserve it.

★ ★ ★

The chief part of the rheumatiz regimen which R.R.W. follows is an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D. The vitamin D is essential for good assimilation and utilization of calcium.

I have had so many reports like R.R.W.'s that I cannot help believing that, no matter what the trouble may be, calcium, in a gentle, natural way, is Analgesic, relieving ache or pain or tending to do so, especially in conditions which are or have been called "rheumatic."

If you must have Fast relief, don't fool around with calcium — it takes a week or more to give any appreciable effect.

★ ★ ★

One of the functions of calcium in the healthy person is to regulate excitability of nerve fibres and nerve centres. So if you want to have steady nerves be sure to drink your milk, youngsters and oldsters too, not less than 1½ pints of it daily.

Skim milk or separator milk and buttermilk contain the same quantity of calcium as whole milk does.

Some persons are more sensitive to aches or pains than others. This, I think, is a question of nutrition. The more sensitive or "delicate" ones are deficient in calcium. If the daily intake of calcium is inadequate to maintain the calcium reserve (in the bone marrow) the individual is hypersensitive to ache or pain.

One who follows a high calcium diet, not for a month but the year around, is not constantly complaining about aches, pains or other discomforts.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'First Class Postage Isn't Culprit of Financial Mess'

I see by The Press that Ike and Summerfield want to raise first class postage to five cents. We all know first class postage has always paid its own way, while second class, such as magazines, don't. And why not have all franking privileges of our Senators and Congressmen stopped? They can pay for the junk they send us. Like always, the common herd has to pay for the "music."

I sometimes wonder how soft justice can get and if an arresting officer thinks it's worth his time and efforts to face some of his arrests. They should at least be put on probation.

Today is Monday, Feb. 29, the 60th day of the year, with 306 more days in 1960. It's Leap Year Day.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening star is Mercury.

On this day in history:

In 1792, Gioacchino Rossini, Italian operatic composer, was born.

In 1872, British Queen Victoria narrowly missed death at the hands of an 18-year-old would-be assassin.

In 1924, the former head of the Veteran's Bureau in Washington, Charles Forbes, was indicted for defrauding the government of 250 million dollars.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

How Do You Test for Marriage?

Tony never dreamed his wife was unhappy. In fact, she made a date with a divorce lawyer to dissolve their marriage and would have gone through with it, if I hadn't advised the strategy below. Scrapbook this case with its follow-up tomorrow, for it shows how newspapers PREVENT divorce.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE D-491: Tony Z., aged 32, is an accountant who married the boss's daughter.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, Tony is impossible!" his wife protested, "so I have an interview later this very afternoon with a divorce lawyer.

DR. CRANE

"But I studied child psychology under you at Northwestern University, so I figured I ought to get your advice, especially since we have two children.

"Tony is so stingy, he will not let me have a cent of money of my own, so if some of my college sorority sisters drop in unexpectedly and I need a loaf of bread for sandwiches, I haven't a quarter with which to buy the bread!

★ ★ ★

"Tony putters around the house every spare minute. But he hasn't taken me out for a date or even a soda in over a year. He doesn't even play with the children.

"He also objects to my sending them to Sunday School. So isn't he an impossible husband and father?"

REMEMBER SCROOGE?

But I refused to consent to a divorce, at least until she had told Tony of her feelings.

"Does he realize you are planning a divorce?" I asked.

"No, he doesn't even dream of it," she answered. "He seems to feel he is a very satisfactory husband."

"Then sit down tonight, after the children are in bed, and tell him how you feel. Give him a chance. The odds are against his making a dramatic change, but Scrooge did, and it is POSSIBLE for everybody to alter his personality.

"Even a rattlesnake gives its victim a warning before it strikes, so Tony deserves a chance.

★ ★ ★

"Call off your appointment with the divorce attorney. Take home these 'Tests for a Good Husband.' Let Tony rate himself on one and you rate him on the other.

"They will dissect his personality objectively. Maybe he will then begin to see himself as others view him."

DIVORCE STOPPERS

Grudgingly she consented to my plan. That night she broke the news to Tony. He was shocked. In fact, he shed tears, for the first time in their marriage.

Then she asked him to rate himself on that 100-point "Test for a Good Husband."

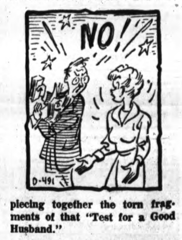
Though men tend to favor themselves thereon, by its own scoring he came out as a "Poor" prospect. And her rating of him on the second copy ranked him "Very Poor."

So he cursed and damned psychologists in general and me in particular. Then he tore up both tests and threw them into the wastebasket.

★ ★ ★

She shrugged her shoulders and went upstairs to bed. When she failed to hear his steps on the stairs, she finally tiptoed out to the landing

And there she saw Tony downstairs, on his knees upon the parlor rug. He had emptied the wastebasket on the floor and was piecing together the torn fragments of that "Test for a Good Husband."



Quietly, she returned to bed. And two months later I heard a final report, as outlined tomorrow.

SPINNEROO—Around and round he goes and where he stops he always knows. That is the amazing thing about professional ice skater Ronnie Robertson, and why two University of Michigan professors will study him in action. Robertson can spin at a speed of four revolutions a second and always come out of it facing the audience. The university men believe the study may give valuable knowledge about the working of the inner ear—the body's balancing center.

Lash Ike Budget as Inadequate

Dem-Controlled Group Makes Charge; Hit by Republican Minority

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic majority on the Senate-House Economic Committee said today President Eisenhower's budget and economic report fail to meet the nation's growth and job needs for 1960.

"By and large they are a status quo budget and report," the majority report said.

★ ★ ★

The Republican minority, calling them ample, fired back that the majority again was guilty of what it called "inexcusable juggling" of figures. The GOP members also accused the Democrats of "innuendo and misrepresentation."

The partisan quarreling followed the same lines as a report a month ago covering much of the same economic material. That document summed up a year-long committee study of policies needed to attain adequate economic growth, maximum employment and stable prices.

Townsend, Meg Took Parallel Routes to Love

LONDON (AP)—Coincidence: Princess Margaret is to marry a photographer. Her former suitor, Peter Townsend, married a photographer two months ago.

Margaret's fiance, Antony Armstrong-Jones, took her 29th birthday portrait and has been a leading society photographer. Townsend's wife, Marie-Luce Jamagne, took the movies on his recent world tour.

Finch's Attorney Set for Two-Day Windup

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. R. Bernard Finch's attorney today opens his final drive to convince a jury that the rich surgeon shot his wife by accident.

Attorney Grant B. Cooper expects to take two days reviewing the evidence in the trial of Dr. Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff.

Dr. Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, are accused of conspiring to kill Barbara Jean Finch, 36. The doctor's estranged wife was shot in the back last July 18.

BEVERLY'S MOM JAILED — Florence Aadland, the mother of the late Errol Flynn's protegee Beverly, went on a rampage at 2 a. m. Sunday. After drinking pink champagne Saturday night, Mrs. Aadland had fallen asleep, then awakened to find her daughter gone. Mom, suspecting the worst, pounded on the door af 35-year-old Jack Dulin, who she had sued unsuccessfully for "trying to lure Beverly away from her." Dulin shot an antique pistol out the window to scare Mrs. Aadland away, but hit his own parked car. Mrs. Aadland's taxi driver called police, who finally released her on bail, charged with drunkenness. Dulin got a traffic ticket and Beverly got embarrassed. "It won't be good for my career," she said. "I was trying to be a good mother," said Florence.

Raps America's Stress on Muscle Instead of Brain

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—American youngsters are proud of their muscles, but they seem ashamed of their brains. And that, a college president said today, is a situation that must be changed.

What this country needs, said Dr. Lee A. DuBridge of the California Institute of Technology, is "open, honest and intellectual competition throughout our high schools and colleges."

"We have always been perfectly frank about athletic competition, about a boy's ability to make the football or basketball team," he said. "But we have been reticent to talk about differences in intellectual ability."

A refrigerator's freezing section landed at Plymouth Rock, Santa Fe, N. M., was an active seat of government.

Laws to Clarify U.S. Posture Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to 'unconfuse" the public on America's military posture and improve the defense policy-making machinery was under study today by Senate investigators.

★ ★ ★

The Government Operations subcommittee headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) which last week heard top-rung Republican businessmen criticize the government's decision-making process, weighed proposals affecting the State and Defense Departments and other agencies.

★ ★ ★

Some bids will be offered for congressional action this session, committee sources predicted. Touchier proposals may be delayed, to avoid having them considered in the politically charged atmosphere of an election year.

Germany Orders Missiles From U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The West German government, in a major new move in rebuilding its once-mighty air force, has placed a $120 million dollar order for American Mace guided missiles, it was learned Saturday.

The Luftwaffe, which started World War II as the scourge of Europe and ended in ruins, is being rebuilt with modern American aircraft and missiles and a new generation of German fliers.

By the mid-1960s under present plans, it is scheduled to become numerically the largest air force in Europe, although it will by no means have the striking power of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe (USAFE).

The Mace missile, an atomic-tipped descendant of the German World War II V-1 pilotless bomber, will give the Luftwaffe a degree of strategic striking power.

Made by the Martin Co. of Baltimore, Md., it is a jet-propelled weapon with sweptback wings and is boosted from its launcher to flying speed by rocket power. Its range is 1,200 miles and speed about 650 miles an hour. It can fly at very low levels with high probability of eluding radar defenses.

The area of the Republic of Panama is slightly smaller than the state of Maine. It is 425 miles long and varies in width from 31 to 118 miles.

Chum Says Armstrong-Jones Mischievous, Sharp-Witted

AP Photofax

HAPPY COUPLE — Princess Margaret and her fiance Antony Armstrong-Jones stroll near the royal lodge in Windsor, England. The princess is fingering her engagement ring.

LONDON (AP)—An old school chum of Princess Margaret's intended husband describes him as a mischievous fellow with a sharp sense of humor.

Tony Armstrong-Jones is the sort of chap who enjoyed puttering about his makeshift studio-apartment in a basement next to a laundry. And friends predict he won't feel out of place when he moves into Buckingham Palace this week.

* * *

The British public, which has amused itself for years peering into the lives of Margaret's suitors, knows little about the handsome, 29-year-old society photographer.

His neighbors in London's modest Pimlico section say he's a friendly fellow.

Arthur Nurse, owner of the neighborhood pub, said he had no idea Armstrong-Jones was "such a good friend of the princess."

"He used to come in frequently and buy whisky and liquers to take away," Nurse said. "He used to help me with the snapshots I take every now and then."

* * *

Born of an upper middle class family, Armstrong-Jones went to Sandroyd School, then to Eton and later Jesus College at Cambridge.

At Cambridge, he spent much time on the River Cam. He was too small to make the crew, so he became acoxswain.

He took up photography under the famed British society photographer known as Baron, who died in 1956. Tony's skill and social connections brought him to the attention of London bluebloods and debutantes flocked to his studio to be photographed.

* * *

Two years ago Armstrong-Jones also took up dress designing. Complaining that British winter sportswear lacked dash, he designed ski outfits featuring brightly colored, balloon-shaped jackets and tight leather knickbockers.

In the past few weeks Armstrong-Jones has been quietly winding up his business.

With announcement of his engagement to Queen Elizabeth's sister, a court official said Armstrong-Jones had been invited to live at the Palace until the wedding "to be close at hand for all the preparations."

Friends predict he will fit easily into his new quarters.

Booksellers Act Too Soon on Book by Meg's Fiance

LONDON (AP)—Ten days ago bargain booksellers offered for half-price unsold stocks of a young photographer's picture book of London.

Friday the young photographer, Antony Armstrong-Jones, became engaged to Princess Margaret.

"It's still on our list as a publisher's remainder," one bookseller admitted ruefully. "I guess we'll have to leave it there or lose face."

The book, called "London," originally sold for 30 shillings—$4.20.

Doggone It! Beaten Out by Jones Again!

LONDON (UPI) — A Daily Herald cartoonist coined what promises to be a standard gag about Princess Margaret and her future husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones.

The cartoon pictured a housewife saying to her husband: "Of course I'm pleased — but however are we going to keep up with the Joneses now?"

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn), is hospitalized here for extreme fatigue and his doctor says "I don't want him bothered for three or four days."

Dodd, 53, fell ill at a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner Saturday night and was admitted to a hospital early Sunday.

Parents, 6 Children Found Dead in Home

THOMSON, Ill. (UPI) — An inquest was planned today into the deaths of a family of eight, apparent victims of a faulty oil heater.

* * *

The bodies of Leroy Hensel, 59; his wife Dorothy, 53, and their six children, Judith, 17; Billy, 14; Leroy Jr. 12; Susan, 10; Patricia, 8, and Jane, 7, were found yesterday.

Edward Schuler of Morrison, Ill., Hensel's employer, discovered the bodies. Schuler wanted to find out why Hensel, a mechanic, had not been to work for two weeks.

Lemuel Hussey, deputy coroner, said it appeared the Hensels were asphyxiated. Hussey said a damper in an oil-fed space heater had been closed, probably letting the deadly fumes filter through the house.

* * *

Schuler said he was not alarmed when Hensel did not come to work for several days because the rural home was frequently isolated by bad weather.

Gimmick Law Saved $7 Million for Chrysler in '58

LANSING (AP) — Chrysler Corp. saved about seven million dollars in federal property taxes under a 1958 "gimmick" state law now under fire in the U.S. Senate, Michigan's revenue chief reports.

Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock stressed there was nothing illegal about the law although some termed it questionable legislation at the time.

Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) said in Washington Michigan is one of four states which have put the "gimmick" into effect.

He said he would introduce legislation to close the loophole which, if used by all states could cost the federal treasury more than 600 million dollars.

In Michigan, the 1958 Legislature passed a law changing the legal date for assessing property taxes from Jan. 1, 1959 to Dec. 31, 1958.

Thus, business was able to claim two year's accrued state property tax deductions on federal income tax returns for 1958.

It was estimated the device saved Michigan business upwards of 100 million dollars in that year.

"The legislation was primarily a Chrysler bill," Lock recalled. "They came to Lansing with it and later other firms joined in supporting it."

Paris Designers Unveil Their Spring Creations

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—Paris fashion designers today lifted the wraps from their new spring creations, to permit publication of the first 1960 high fashion photos.

Buyers and manufacturers have had a month to exploit the new styles before copyists get a chance to make what they can of pictures and sketches.

The public can now take its choice between Dior's somewhat shapeless "Silhouette of Tomorrow," Nina Ricci's whirling Gypsy line, Heim's conical Eiffel Tower, Ballmain's tube-like Corinthian column, Lanvin-Castillo's "free and easy" fashions, or half a dozen others.

The "free and easy" claim and a hemlength that just covers the knees, incidentally, are the two things that all the major fashion collections have in common this season.

The waistline wanders from normal to low to high, jackets are long, or short, or medium, and the new colors make up a whole spectrum — white, coral pinks, violets, blues, yellows, pale green, beige, grey, navy, and black and white combinations. Shallow scoops and bateau necklines are winners, and sleeveless dresses are as common as crocuses in spring.

* * *

* * *

Nothing the designers brought out could be described as revolutionary. Even Saint-Laurent's "Silhouette of Tomorrow," as it was described in a press release passed out just before the opening, didn't keep the fashion crowd sitting on the edge of its chair for long. Echoes of yesterday were still there, to bring back memories of the trapeze, sack and chemise.

* * *

What could be less original than the small-waisted, flaring skirted pleated princess style which is the basis of Ricci's 1960 Gypsy? But by a sort of slight-of-seam, designer Crahay's creations on a familiar theme managed to look fresh as a daisy and extremely attractive.

About 600 foreign buyers and 500 members of the fashion press who faithfully sit through Paris fashion openings twice a year, in January-February and July-August, found the same spindly gold-painted chairs to sit on, and they found them just as hard and uncomfortable as ever.

* * *

The river of champagne that used to flow during the openings, with tail-coated waiters jostling the mannequins on the runways, had diminished to a trickle.

* * *

One Paris newspaper, viewed this as a good sign, indicating prosperity for high fashion.

"Only the smaller houses and those who are not doing so well find it necessary to serve champagne," it reasoned.

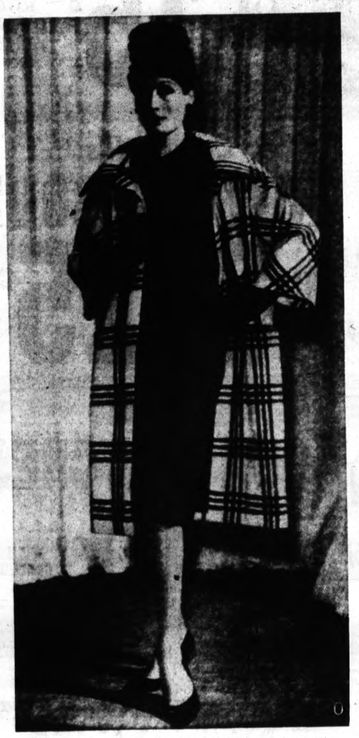
Pale blue wool is used by Paris couturier Pierre Balmain in this sheath skirt and jacket with matching scarf for his 1960 spring and summer collection. Three buttons in a diagonal line set off the jacket.



Draped to buckle on the side of a sheath skirt is this two-piece dress in red etamine de laine by Pierre Balmain. The Parisian ensemble is enhanced by the full coat in bold black and white checks.

Fellow employes at Pontiac Motor Division hosted a retirement dinner in honor of Mrs. Jean Kremer Friday evening at Devon Gables. Mrs. Kremer has been with the division for 26 years. She is pictured here with T. R. Nellis, her department supervisor.

Pontiac Motor Employe Honored on Retirement

A dinner party at Devon Gables, hosted by fellow employes, honored Mrs. Jean Kremer Friday evening upon her retirement from the Pontiac Motor Division where she has worked for 26 years. Some 100 guests were present.

After the invocation by Mrs. Harry Dernberger, Howard Deeter, program chairman, introduced W. T. Jones, toastmaster.

Following a brief talk by John Duke, Mrs. Michael Godoshian recited a humerous monologue.

T. R. Nellis narrated a "This Is Your Life" sketch and presented gifts from her coworkers to Mrs. Kremer.

* * *

Mrs. Kremer began her duties in the division's Accounts Payable Department on Feb. 26, 1934. She has remained in the department throughout her 26 years there.

She formerly worked in the offices at Wilson Foundry.

According to her coworkers, Mrs. Kremer's immediate plans fall for ". . . a long, well deserved rest."

Cobwebs Should Be Ignored

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it the height of bad manners, when visiting at the house of a friend, to call the hostess' attention to the fact that there are cobwebs hanging from the ceiling in the living room? This happened to me recently and I was very much upset over it.

I am aware of the fact that the cobwebs shouldn't have been there in the first place, but I can only say in my own defense that my house was thoroughly cleaned the day before, but unfortunately I happen to have the type of heating system that seems to produce an unusual amount of webs.

The friend who called them to my attention is a friend of long standing, but even so, isn't there a point beyond which even a very old friend should not venture?

Answer: The very fact that you were upset proves the tactlessness and even bad manners of the friend who called your attention ot the cobwebs.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please advise the correct seating in a theater when a couple have a young lady guest with them. Heretofore, we have allowed our guest to precede us to her seat, then I followed, then my husband. I have been told that our guest should be seated in the center. Is this true, and if so, wouldn't it be discourteous of me to enter the row before her?

Answer: You should precede your guest saying, "I'll go first so that you can sit between us."

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: At an 11 o'clock morning wedding is it proper for the bride's mother to wear a long dress?

Answer: If she chooses to, this is the one occasion when a long skirt is properly worn in the morning. This assumes, naturally, that the bride is wearing a long bridal dress with veil.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a lovely jeweled wedding band from my first husband, deceased. I am now being married again and have chosen a very plain gold band. Is there any way I could continue to wear this jeweled band, or would such an idea be in bad taste?

Answer: If your husband-to-be has no objection (and you certainly are the best judge of this) you could quite properly wear the jeweled ring as a guard.

Dear Abby Says: No Spot for You

Control Your Laughter or Refuse Usher Job

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Our cousin is getting married. He asked my brother and me to be ushers at his wedding. The bride's sister (we call her "Horseface") is going to sing. She takes singing lessons but when she sings people laugh at her. Her voice is high and screechy. When she reaches for the high notes, the veins in her neck stand out and her face turns purple. Every time my brother and I even think of "Horseface" singing, we go into hysterics.

The ushers will be right in front, facing the people. Our mother says if we can't control ourselves when "Horseface" sings we shouldn't accept the honor of being ushers. Would it be wrong of us to ask our cousin if he can get "Horseface" off the program?

WANT TO BE USHERS

DEAR WANT: If you can't control yourselves when Horseface" sings, say "neigh" to being ushers. It is out of order to express your opinion of the vocalist. Especially since she is the bride's sister.

* * *

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I have just read your book, DEAR TEEN-AGER, and think it is the best book I have ever seen on the subject of modern teen-age problems. You supply the answers in language that teen-agers will understand and accept. Our school guidance departments are using it in their classrooms. I am sure it will help steer many a youngster in the right direction.

Sincerely,
W. F. JOHNSON,
Superintendent of Public Schools,
Spencer, Iowa.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: One of the girls who works with me asked my advice and I don't know what to tell her. You guessed it. She's going to have a baby and she isn't married. The guy says he will marry her but according to this girl she doesn't want to live with him because she doesn't care for him enough.

But she wants to give the baby a name. She plans on marrying him and then divorcing him later. I told her she'd be ahead to apply for help from a local agency and forget about marrying him because in this day and age an unwed mother has a better chance than a divorcee. She's from off a farm and her father is a minister so she can't go home. Is my advice what you'd call good or not?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Marriage should be forever. To marry a man with the intention of divorcing him (even to give a child a name) is unwise. Your friend should call her local Family Service Association, or a home for unwed mothers for help in making arrangements. She can probably get support money from the baby's father.

White Gladioli, Roses Sparkle at Nuptial Rite

Pedestal vases of white gladioli and white roses caught the light from tall candelabra in the chancel of First Presbyterian Church for the marriage of Patricia Ann Morris and H. Vaughan Organ, Saturday evening.

* * *

The Rev. William H. Marbach read the service before 450 guests.

Traditional white satin with modified princess lines fashioned the bridal gown for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Morris of Preston avenue.

Alencon lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, outlined the Sabrina neckline and formed a front panel on the skirt.

Back fullness accentuated by a flat satin bow, swept into a chapel train. A fingertip veil was attached to a small scalloped beaded crown.

A white orchid centered the cascade bouquet of stephanotis and white roses.

Attendants wore identical gowns of Romance blue, with scooped neckline, tiny cap sleeves, draped bodice and full organza skirts.

* * *

Matron-of-honor Mrs. Paul Buker of Livonia held a Colonial bouquet of pink roses.

For bridesmaids Mrs. Leo Hess and Diana Crigler of Pontiac and Betta Sheldon of Rochester there were bouquets of pink roses and carnations.

Doreen Johnson of Sylvan Shores wore short white silk organza and carried a basket of pink rose petals. Scott V. Carver of Kalamazoo carried the rings.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Duncan Organ of Detroit, was assisted by Thomas Dasher of Detroit, best man.

Ushers were Bruce Berghoff, of Birmingham; Glenn Boundy Jr., Milwaukee, Dwight Ketchum, Royal Oak; and William Cuney, Detroit.

For the reception in Knights of Pythias Hall, Mrs. Morris chose a sheath-type powder blue silk organza with softly draped bodice and matching shoes and hat.

Mrs. Organ wore beige silk organza with matching accessories. Their corsages were Fashionette roses.

* * *

The new Mrs. Organ changed to a white knitted suit with collar of seed pearls and rhinestones and accessories of antique white for a honeymoon along the East Coast to Fort Lauderdale.

The couple will reside in Detroit on their return.

MRS. NORMAN D. HOSKING

Margaret Carolyn Dow, daughter of Mrs. Janet Dow of Lexington avenue, pledged vows with Norman Delbert Hosking, son of the Albert Hoskings of Southfield township, Saturday in Detroit.

Norman D. Hosking Weds Margaret Dow

A reception in the Venetian Club, Greenfield road, followed candlelight nuptials of Margaret Carolyn Dow and Norman Delbert Hosking, Saturday evening, in the St. Christopher Episcopal Church, West McNichols road, Detroit.

The Rev. Alan Miller read the double-ring service before an altar banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Daughter of Mrs. Janet Dow of Lexington avenue, the bride was given in marriage by Stephen White of Detroit.

* * *

The bouffant white peau de soie bridal gown featured a fitted bodice, back bustle and full chapel train. Applique of seed pearls and sequins formed the front skirt panel and edged the Sabrina neckline and wrist-length sleeves.

The triple-tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a Swedish crown of pearls and sequins. A single strand of pearls worn by her mother on her wedding day was the bride's only jewelry. Lavender heather and a white orchid centered her semi-cascade arrangement of white miniature roses and shattered carnations.

* * *

Maid of honor Vera Rescoe of Pontiac, appeared in a sheath dress of Bahama blue, skirt and small veiled hat of white feathers. She carried lavender and white chrysanthemums and lavender heather.

* * *

In identical dresses were bridesmaids Mrs. Albert Hosking and Martha Hessler of Detroit, Mrs. David Cook of Pontiac and Mrs. Stanley Leedy of Kalamazoo. Their flowers were white chrysanthemums and lavender heather.

Lynn Hosking, niece of the bridegroom, in white organdy and headband of white shattered carnations and lavender heather, served as flower-girl.

Apply These Hints to Keep Flowers Fresh

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—Cut flowers purchased during the winter can be kept fresh-looking for a longer time with proper care.

Change the water and remove about one-quarter inch from the bottom of each stem daily. The cut should be made on the slant rather than straight across.

Remove any leaves that may dip into the water in the container. Keep cut flowers away from direct heat, preferably in a cooler area of the room. Apply one of several products sold in florist-supplies stores to keep cut flowers fresh.

Weather-Flaunting He-Man Thing of the Past

It's Smart to Have Checkup

Today most major corporations have executive health plans or company financed annual checkups for their personnel.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We no longer think of a man as pampering himself because he is interested in guarding his health. In the past, for some reason, there was a tendency to feel that men should dash out into winter winds even when they had a temperature; that they should beat their chests in the rain even when suffering from neuritis; ignore a "silly" pain in the chest and be so rugged generally that it would be neurotic of them to have periodic physical examinations.

* * *

Just the opposite is true today. It is considered either ignorant or foolish rather than brave to endanger health or overlook symptoms or to fail to have regular checkups.

As a matter of fact today most major corporations have executive health plans or company financed annual checkups for their personnel. These are thorough and may take from a few hours to several days or more.

* * *

Health examinations of several thousand business executives showed that more than 50 per cent between the ages of 40 and 65 were overweight or had heart disease or high blood pressure or one of the more serious troubles. Yet many of them had had no symptoms at all or none sufficiently severe to mention.

* * *

The medical division of one large plant discovered that almost 80 per cent of its executives past 50 had peptic ulcers while only 23 per cent of its other personnel in that age bracket had the same trouble.

Some physicians feel that executives should be compelled to take two vacations a year from the age of 50 on.

They also urge men to take a short rest or nap after lunch whenever possible, not to take their work home with them as a habit, to eat according to the tenets of best nutrition, to develop interests outside their jobs and to be moderate in all things.

If you are overweight you may want my Tubby Hubby Diet which gives you a quick loss, but protects health and appeases appetite. If you would like to have this booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tears Wash Eye Surface

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tears are Nature's way of washing the surface of your eyes. The salty liquid comes from two glands, one to each eye. The tear gland for the right eye is located above and to the right of the eye, while the other is above and to the left of the eye.

* * *

Tears travel from these glands through tiny tubes to the surface of the eyeball and depart through tubes at the inner side of each eye. Weeping causes an overflow and the tears roll down the cheek and nose.

A Hungry Houseful Inspires the Cook

By RUTH MILLETT

"A Proper Place to Inspire the Art of Cooking," says the heading over a picture story of a beautiful kitchen in one of the leading magazines on home decorating.

* * *

With all due respect to the editors of the magazine I'd like to point out that a beautiful kitchen isn't what inspires a housewife to roll up her sleeves and start rattling pots and pans.

Nothing inspires a woman to cook like a houseful of hungry kids and a husband who enjoys eating. Given them, a woman will cook up a storm and feel well repaid for her efforts if her children ask for seconds and her husband says, "Nobody can make (this particular dish) like you can."

A convenient kitchen can make the job of preparing delicious meals easier. A beautiful kitchen can give a housewife a feeling of prideful pleasure—especially if it is the envy of all her friends.

* * *

But it takes a family to cook for to really inspire a woman to get right down to the business of baking bread, making pies, and frying chicken.

If you don't believe it just ask some widow who lives alone in a house with a beautiful, modern kitchen if she likes to cook.

She'll probably tell you: "I used to, when I had a family to cook for, but it's not much fun cooking for one, so I eat out a lot, or just eat a snack out of the icebox."

No, it's not the kitchen that inspires the cook. It's a hungry family she knows will applaud her cooking skill with every request for "just a little more, please."

For A Happier Life and a happier marriage, send for a copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet "How to Have a Happy Husband." Mail 25c for each copy to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c-o The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

Free Farmers, Urges Benson

Sees U.S. Pouring Billions Down the Drain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six years ago a tall, bespectacled man named Ezra Taft Benson tossed Congress a barbed question.

★ ★ ★

"At what point," he asked, "will the 140 million Americans who do not live on farms rise up and demand outright elimination of all aid to agriculture?"

Mindful of a long and costly failure to solve the nation's farm problem, Benson didn't expect an answer. Nor did he get one.

If he seemed hopeful then of prodding Congress to stem the multi billion-dollar flow of farm subsidies—and curb the huge crop surpluses stimulated by federal aid—Benson today has few such illusions.

ENDLESS PARADOX

Steeled to political realities by seven years in office, the 60-year-old secretary of agriculture can only shake his head, ruefully, at the paradox of U. S. taxpayers staggering under the burden of mountainous farm surpluses in a hungry world.

President Eisenhower, in a special message to Congress on Feb. 9, urged the lawmakers to "act swiftly" to halt snowballing surpluses.

Eisenhower said it is now costing the nation's taxpayers $1,000 a minute to support wheat prices alone, and he warned Congress:

"If our government does not act quickly, the danger is very real that this entire program will collapse under pressure of public indignation."

★ ★ ★

Benson believes that if farmers were left alone, without federal interference, they would quickly adjust their crop production to conform with the law of supply and demand.

"We must get the government off the backs of farmers and eliminate ineffective acreage controls and artificial price-fixing carried over from days of war and depression," the secretary says.

But some farm leaders contend that if price supports were scrapped, it would drive food prices sky high and cost the American housewife far more than the tax bite of federal price supports.

'WANT MORE FREEDOM'

"Mr. Benson's only solution is to let farm prices go down until enough farmers are starved off the farm so that production will adjust itself to demand," says Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee.

When Benson, testifying on Capitol Hill, insisted that 80 per cent of the nation's farmers want more freedom and less federal "regimentation," Cooley replied:

"The farmers were free in 1932 and we had starvation prices."

To Benson, the overriding concern is the apparent futility of spending billions of dollars on what he regards as a hopeless cause.

"Agriculture is undergoing a technological revolution and it is irreversible," he says. "It cannot be controlled by government mandate."

★ ★ ★

But farm-belt lawmakers, spurred on by farm pressure groups, seem as determined as ever to keep the federal aid pot boiling.

Illusory or not, many politicians still regard the farm vote as powerful enough to tip the scales in a close election.

This is true despite the farm population decline from 32 million in 1920 to 16 million today.

On the other hand, some political bigwigs are beginning to think the importance of the farm vote may be exaggerated.

They see the voice of the city becoming ever more potent and city dwellers taking a dim view of paying tax dollars to provide whopping arm subsidies.

LOSES $20 BILLION

The government, says Benson, has lost more than 20 billion dollars since 1933 in attempitng to stabilize farm prices and income.

This year alone it will cost nearly four billion dollars for various farm subsidy programs.

Yet farm prices at the end of 1959 sagged to the lowest level in nearly two decades.

Through the years, under Democratic and Republican administrations alike, critics have assailed the federal farm program as "cockeyed . . . bankrupt . . . a colossal failure . . . outlandish . . . crazy . . . ruinous . . . this terrible mess."

Benson himself calls it "the most costly, irrational, hodgepodge program ever patched together . . . a serious threat to the solvency of our country."

★ ★ ★

But when Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) last year offered a Senate Bill to wipe out all farm supports and controls after 1960, he was snowed under by a 69-5 vote.

In some of its aspects, the farm dilemma baffles the average intelligence:

Item: The government pays farmers, via artificially high price supports, to grow more food than we can eat and then adds to the taxpayers' expense by putting the excess food in storage with little chance that it will ever be used.

Item: Livestock growers, who have consistently refused federal price supports, are the most prosperous segment of American Agriculture today. Wheat and cotton farmers, with the biggest price supports, are in the worst trouble.

Experts say the outlook for remedial legislation during the current session of Congress appears dimmer than ever.

"There is too great a divergence of opinion whether we should go to tougher controls—toward a regimented 'police state' in farming—or toward a free market," says a Department of Agriculture official.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Superbly Equipped City Police Use Science to Trap Criminals

The Pontiac police are well armed for their never-ending war against crime.

The city's police department is one of the finest equipped in the nation for a municipality its size, according to Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

It's the only law enforcement agency in Oakland County with a polygraph (lie detector) machine and a trained operator. The machine has made life harder for criminals in Pontiac—and in surrounding areas—for it's used occasionally by several nearby departments.

The detective bureau has been provided with a manual dictation system to avoid the time-consuming process of writing out lengthy reports.

* * *

Detectives now simply pick up their telephone, dial special dictating equipment, and dictate their information. Reports are later transcribed from recordings by department secretaries.

"The result has been more accurate and more complete reports prepared in much less time than formerly," Eastman said.

SIGNAL BY LIGHTS

Among the unusual items purchased for the department recently is a system for reaching officers who are on the road, away from their patrol cars.

Here is how this "selective recall" system works:

The radio operator at headquarters pushes a button indicating the number of the wanted car, and a light flashes on the car's dash and roof. The innovation makes it possible for patrol officers to leave their cars to check buildings and hazardous conditions, or to interrogate people.

The light can be seen for several blocks, making the officer available for immediate dispatch by the radio operator at headquarters in the Public Safety Building.

* * *

"The system insures prompt communication with officers on the road and has made possible extensive—but selective—foot patrol," Eastman said.

Walkie-talkies are employed by a special police detail formed last fall to meet special crime probems.

Called the "flexible squad," the detail was formed after a departmental study indicated that, even under most ideal circumstances, assignments of patrolmen could not be made flexible enough to meet such problems.

* * *

Headed by Sgt. James F. Bale, the detail of five patrolmen provides the department with a mobile and effective striking force.

"It has been able to operate at varied hours of the day and under all emergency conditions," Eastman said.

The public safety director said that one of the squad's greatest values is its ability to form quadrants covering all escape routes from the point at which a crime is in progress.

"By the use of special foot patrols with walkie-talkies for communications, the squad has been able to saturate troubled areas again and again to make effective, worthwhile arrests," Eastman asserted.

* * *

"Just now reaching recognition, this kind of unit will become common to many departments in the next few years," he predicted.

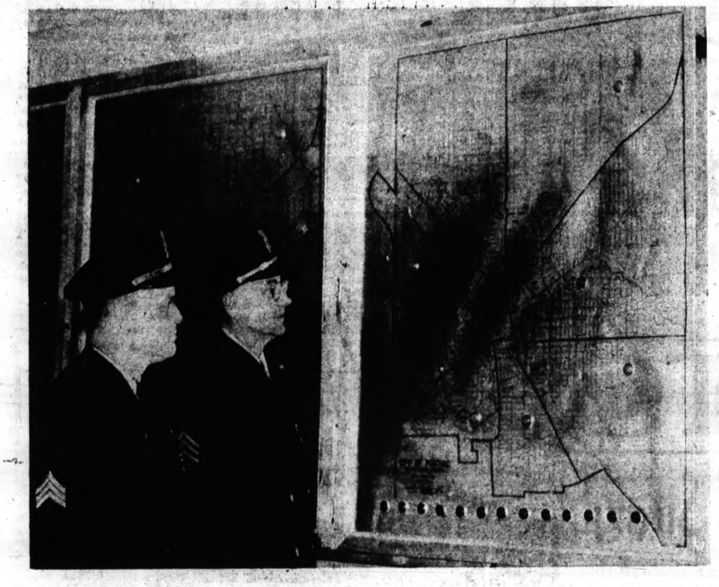
BOARDS LOCATE CRUISER

Large boards at police headquarters give command officers and radio operators an immediate picture of the approximate location of cruiser cars in service and those temporarily on out-of-service status.

New cruisers purchased in 1959 departed from the traditional and inconspicuous black in favor of a light blue and white combination. A new small patrol wagon in the two-tone combination also has been added to the fleet.

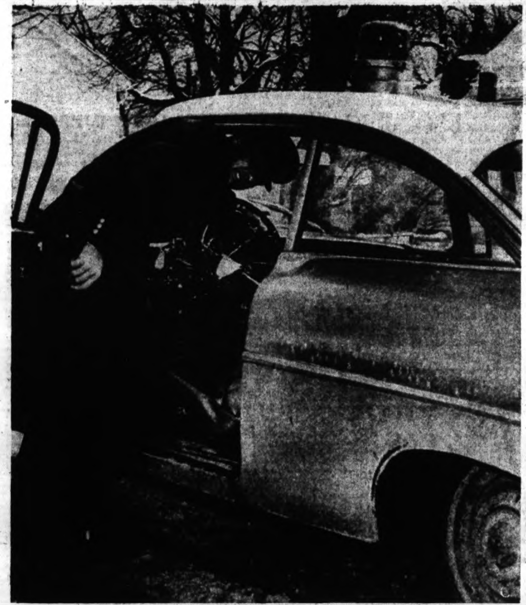
* * *

A police library has been established, containing 120 books. These cover all phases of police administration, organization and investigation, and numerous other subjects. The library also contains a fairly complete selection of current police periodicals.



WHERE CRUISERS ARE — Sgts. Lawrence E. LaBair (left) and Telton E. Rogg can tell at a glance at this large board in police headquarters where each police car is at that moment. The board also provides such information as what cars are out of service, which cars are tied up, and those free to answer calls.

Pontiac Press Photos



TAKING MESSAGE — Patrolman James F. Fritz receives a message from police headquarters after being summoned back to his car by the small flashing light on top of his police cruiser. A radio operator by pushing a button can flash the light on any car of the department, a signal that the patrolman is to contact the station. The recall light is located behind the large blinker signal.

ALWAYS IN TOUCH — Two patrolmen of the Police Dept.'s flexible squad, a small six-man unit formed to meet special crime problems, confer with other officers with walkie-talkies. Talking with the instrument is Patrolman Dallas J. Flesher. His partner holding the shotgun is Patrolman James A. Teal Jr.

MAKING CRIME REPORT — Det. August R. Martinez dictates the results of a criminal case investigation to a special dictation machine pictured on the right. The report will later be typed by a department secretary. The special equipment frees detectives from the time-consuming process of handwriting their reports.

Chessman Fate Sessions Start

California's Legislature Delves Into Capital Punishment Today

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Caryl Chessman's fate hinges on what the California Legislature does about capital punishment at a session starting today.

* * *

Just what attempts will be made to change the law hasn't been decided. Unofficial proposals to the legislators range from outright repeal of the seven separate provisions for capital punishment in the state's criminal code to a moratorium on the death penalty pending further study.

George T. Davis, chief attorney for the Los Angeles sex kidnaper, has suggested the Legislature submit the question of capital punishment to the electorate as a referendum on the November ballot.

* * *

Gov. Edmund G. Brown granted Chessman a 60-day reprieve Feb. 20 on the eve of the eighth execution date faced by Chessman who was condemned 11½ years ago. The governor said he did so to allow the Legislature again to consider doing away with capital punishment.

Since then the governor has said that tying the question of Chessman's fate to the proposal has hardened the opponents of abolition of capital punishment and that there is little chance of the death penalty being repealed.

* * *

Brown says capital punishment fails as a crime deterrent, but he adds he will not try to influence the Legislature further on the issue. He also says he will not again grant Chessman a reprieve if capital punishment is retained.

Hart's TV Program to Feature Truman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Heart said today that former President Harry Truman would be the guest on the first of a series of television programs he will beam to Michigan.

Hart said he would produce 13 consecutive weekly public service shows. They will begin Sunday and will be released on TV stations in Michigan.

The progam will be entitled "Wasington to Michigan."

Hart said the show on which Truman would appear would deal with the history and reconstruction of the capitol.

He said other programs would be devoted to such subjects as presidential primaries, the 1960 census, the Whie House conference on youth and modern weapons.

Broomfield Has Seven Workers

Employs Slightly Over Average at Offices in Washington, Royal Oak

Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) has seven employes on his staff—three in Washington and four in his Royal Oak office—according to a Janunry accounting of House members' staffs.

* * *

Michigan's 18 House members employ a total of 114 workers in their Washington and district offices, or an average of slightly more than six workers for each member.

Broomfield's staff, with gross salaries received for January, included Roy A. Gast, his administrative assistant, $829; Mrs. Katherine H. Knowlton, $731, and Mrs. Patricia B. Freeman, $596.

In his Royal Oak office there were Paul L. Burns, $462; Mrs. Genevieve C. Shock, $345; Mrs. Isabel N. Hassell, $110, and William F. Foebel, $91.

* * *

None are Broomfield's relatives, a spokesman for the office said.

January payroll records showed Rep. James G. O'Hara (D-Utica) to be the largest employer, with nine workers, and Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Allegan) the smallest, with three.

Faith in Future Buoyed by Spending Upsurge

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American families are spending whatever additional money they may come by today. The rate of their savings is changing little.

And it is this buy-and-buy attitude—without either a rush to unusual spending as in some previous years or a tendency to hoard as in others—that makes some economists confident that the qualms of a month ago were overdone.

These qualms were born of the break in stock prices and the signs that the big boom that some had looked for was unlikely to get going. Instead the belief is growing that a calmer but steady advance in business activity will last for some time and that the shake out in the stock market has made it a more realistic affair.

The extra income that many families are getting may come from a rise in wage scales or from longer work weeks. It may come from higher dividend or interest payments. It may come from higher fees received by those in the service trades and professions. Or it may come from increased benefit payments either from the government or such private institutions as insurance companies.

* * *

But the families are putting away in savings about 7 per cent of their incomes, just as they have been for some time.

Most of the new money—after taxes—slips right through their fingers. It goes for higher priced goods and services, for increased recreation, for longer vacation trips, for expensive hobbies.

This steady spending is keeping most of the American economy humming. It offsets such bobbles as occasional layoffs where earlier sales predictions proved overoptimistic and led to production beyond demand that didn't soar as expected.

The calmer pace may stretch the good times through the entire year, with only the normal summer letdown.

But the consumers are selective in their buying. They aren't buying anything and everything as they tended to do in 1955, encouraged by unusually easy, instalment payment terms then.

They are watching prices closely. And they are more quality conscious. Services are getting a larger percentage of individual incomes these days and manufactured goods less. And last year's status symbol may be this year's old hat item.

Care for Aged Patients in State Hospital Rapped

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Staff officials have disputed claims that Pontiac State Hospital and the taxpayers are bearing the burden of a number of patients who need not be housed in a mental institution.

Those undergoing geriatric treatment (care for the aged) have been cited as one example.

This question has arisen also, mostly in lawmaker and service group circles: why are many patients well enough to be released but continue to be carried by society and the already deficient hospital staff?

The contention is that such a situation exists because there is no one to assume responsibility for the patients and no means of support outside the institution's walls.

Orphan patients are those who, in fact, have no surviving relatives, or cannot for some reason return to their existing families.

This status does not deter their release when they are well, according to the hospital's assistant superintendent, Dr. Theodore Statersmoen.

* * *

"Of course, it's much easier when there is a family or someone waiting to receive the patient," the doctor said. "But everyone who is here has to be here for a good reason."

The hospital's family care program is the machinery that gives a rapidly recovering orphan patient a chance to adjust in an outside environment and remain out of the hospital.

Patients are recommended for family care and are approved for the program after consideration by the staff.

The patients are sent to live with private families who receive payment for the patient's sustenance.

* * *

There are now approximately 45 homes in the program and 235 patients living with volunteer families.

The couny is responsible for full payment the first year and pays $4.80 per day for each patient while in the hospital, or $2 to $2.40 per day if the patient is living with a family outside of the hospital.

CAN GET A JOB

A social worker visits the family care home frequently to check on the patient's progress and bring whatever medication is required.

* * *

The family care patient can get a job and become self-supporting, enabling him to move into his own home on a work convalescent status. A patient is seen by a hospital social worker as long as he remains on work convalescent status.

The person can wait for three years on "WCS" to have his rights restored, or be adjudged sane by probate court as soon as he becomes self-supporting from a family care unit.

One girl who was recently released from the hospital to a family care home said the first thing many of the patients do is seek a job.

"As soon as you can get a job, you try to pass a test by a psychiatriat to find you sane and then you're free. It cost me $25 for the test and I passed it right away. Some keep taking the test until they pass it and it is expensive."

* * *

Said Satersmoen:

"Family care is used for two purposes. It can be a stepping stone for a recovering patient, gradually working him back into an outside situation."

"It is also used for the more chronic patients who we don't expect to move out of family care but who need less care than in the hospital situation."

CITES NEED

A case worker in family care who handles job placements, Berner Hansen, explained that most patients need the conditioned surroundings of a family care home.

"If patients were to be released directly to the outside pressures of society, many would become psychotic again," he said.

Satersmoen said there is a waiting list of patients approved to be released to family care, but that the machinery works fast.

Twenty patients waiting to be released from the hospital into a family care situation will wait only a matter of days.

The charge that aged patients do not belong in the mental institution and should not be the responsibility of a state hospital also was disputed.

* * *

The charges have been leveled by some legislators and some members of the Michigan Probate Judges Assn.

"The aged came to us in the first place with mental disorders," said Richard Luehmann, hospital personnel director, "and the majority of them at that stage in life are not cured. They still need the medical attention and facilities of the state hospital.

"They are here now because there is no place else for them to go."

It has been suggested that foster homes be established for the aged to take them out of the state hospital.

"Some think this will be cheaper," Luehmann said, "but that is questionable. You still have to pay for them wherever they are."

* * *

Luehmann explained that releasing recovering patients to family care units does not lessen the cost or burden on the hospital saaff.

"When one patient leaves the hospital, two are waiting to take his place."

Luehmann said that an additional 14 cents per day for each patient would bring in one and a half million dollars more a year — enough to increase patient care and saff size to the prescribed standards.

Waterford Board Slates Two Items for Tonight

The board will open bids on security insurance policies and consider a request to send two policemen and two firemen to a training course in Ann Arbor.

Dykes Lists 3 Major Problems for Tigers

2 Infield Spots, No. 5 Pitcher Are Questions

Present Material Must Also Improve If Club Hopes for 3rd Place

By BRUNO KEARNS
Pontiac Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla.—On the eve of the official opening of spring camp, Manager Jimmy Dykes has listed three major problems which will have to be solved if the Detroit Tigers expect to do any passing in the first division of the American League pennant race in 1960. The team which have to be passed are the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and the AL champions, the Chicago White Sox.

The three problems for which Dykes must find solutions when drills open at 10:00 a.m. tomorrow and when the regular season starts April 29th in Cleveland are:

1. A first baseman who will hi around .285 and have 85 RBI's.
2. A shortstop with a fast doubl play arm and one who will hit around .260.
3. A No. 5 pitcher for once a week starting and a front line reliefer.

★ ★ ★

Dykes doesn't expect to win the pennant if he can get these three things out of the current spring camp. He figures they could move him up another notch at least from fourth to third.

To go up any higher, improvement will have to come from the material which is presently available and from other factors which have hurt the Tigers during the season.

The Tigers are putting their hopes in solving the first problem mentioned in hefty Steve Bilko, who in his professional baseball career has been a Minor League slugger and a Major League fizzle.

Bilko, who has been up and down between the majors and the minors as often as in the elevator in a Hilton Hotel, was drafted by Detroit last fall and has a lifetime batting mark of .243 in the majors.

In the minors, however, his hitting averages ought to be over .300. Another note about Bilko, when it comes to RBI's his major league total is 154 runs batted in, with 1058 total times at bat. Again, to show what an effective minor league leaguer he was—he drove in 164 runs in 1956 alone while at the plate only 597 times for Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League.

The transition from the minors to the majors hasn't worked for Bilko seven times so it is obvious why Dykes lists first base as his number one problem.

★ ★ ★

Again, it is apparent why the Tiger manager lists shortstop as his number two problem. To "solve" this problem Detroit added Chico Fernandez to the roster after a trade with Philadelphia.

Fernandez has a major league batting average of .241. Last year he hit .211. Rocky Bridges, the man Chico is supposed to push out of a job, hit .268. Fernandez is supposed to be a slick fielder.

In his last three years at Philadelphia, Fernandez fielded .960, .975 and .959 respectively. Bridges' fielding has been .971, .976 and .954 for the same three seasons. Thus is appears that problem too may stay unsolved.

★ ★ ★

Ray Narleski is the Tiger hope in answering problem number three. Narleski was supposed to be that starter and reliefer last year. As it turned out Don Mossi, who came with Narleski from Cleveland, was the more effective of the two.

Whether or not an extra week in early camp to trim off some of the 205 pounds will bring Narleski back to his form of 1957-58 while at Cleveland remains to be seen and also remains as the Tigers' third big problem, according to Dykes.

A better start than the 2-15 record of last year, and a return to his form of 1958 for Gail Harris and that of 1956-57 for Charley Maxwell, are among the prime factors of improvement the Tigers are hoping for this season.

As of this morning, eight Tigers have yet to sign their 1960 contracts and if they don't do so the Tigers may find themselves without an outfield when the starting bell sounds at Henley field tomorrow.

Still missing are Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn, Maxwell, Frank Lary, Frank Bolling, Bob Bruce, Steve Demeter and Red Wilson.

Wilson reportedly came to terms yesterday by phone but his contract still is minus his signature.

In Tigertown yesterday, Dykes watched as Luke Appling's squad defeated Billy Hitchcock's team 3-1. Steve Boros of Flint had 2 for 2, including a triple, and Frank Kostro has 2 for 3 for winners.

Jones Beats Calhoun for 4th Straight

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

NEW YORK (AP) — Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan continued his mastery over Olympic champion Lee Calhoun in the Knights of Columbus meet Saturday night when he won the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.1 seconds, equalling the meet record.

Jones and his arch-rival, Calhoun, have met four times during the current indoor season and Jones has come out on top every time.

Jones was off like a rocket and by the time he reached the first of the five hurdles in the Madison Square Garden race, he was well in front. He lengthened his margin with every stride and at the tape was almost two yards ahead of the well-beaten Calhoun.

"It's my start that helps me the most," said Jones later. "If I can get off to a real good start, I can stay up there, I don't know how long I'll be able to keep up those fast starts, but I'm going to keep trying."

Bill Sharpe, of Philadelphia's Shanahan Catholic Club, projected himself into the Olympic picture by winning the hop, step and jump in the K. of C. meet with a meet record of 51 feet, 4½ inehes. It could be called a world indoor record for the seldom-held event, since there is no listed indoor mark.

At any rate, Sharpe became the first Yank to surpass the minimum qualifying distance for Olympic competition in the event. Americans virtually ignored the hop, step and jump until the pressure of Soviet competition forced an all-out effort, but some U. S. athletes now are attaining world stature.

In addition to Jones and Sharpe, other record authors were balding Pete McArdle of the New York A.C. in the three-mile run (a new event) with 14 minutes, 0.2 seconds; Ken Bantum of the New York Pioneers in the shot put with a toss of 56 feet, 3½ inches; and Stew Thomson of the N.Y.A.C. in the 35-pound weight throw with a heave of 64 feet, ½ inch.

EASY FOR JONES — Pontiac's Hayes Jones has a fairly easy time beating Olympic champion Lee Calhoun in the 60-yard high hurdles of the Knights of Columbus Games at Madison Square Garden. It was the 4th straight time Jones had beaten Calhoun indoors as he tied the meet record in 7.1 seconds. At left is Charley Pratt of Philadelphia, who was 3rd.

Chief Matmen 4th in Tourney

Three runnerup showings were the best host Pontiac Central could do as Bay City Central was a surprising champion in the annual Saginaw Valley meet held Saturday at the PCH gym.

Ermino Trevino, Sam Wiscombe and Ron Evens all dropped decisions in the race for individual titles.

Bay City Central totaled 90 points, slight favorite Bay City Handy followed with 79, Flint Northern had 77, Pontiac Central 34, Flint Central 12 and Flint Southwestern 7.

Awards were given the top two finishers in each division following the action and the winning team won the traveling trophy.

The order of finish:

95 — Kurchak (BCH), Littel (FN), Kaiser (PC), Stokes (FC). 103—Dodge (BCH), Kerstock (BCC), Craig (FN), Campbell (FC). 112—Dodge (BCC), Jones (FN), Willey (FC), Swanson (FS). 120—Siepke (BCC), Lurvey (FN), Loomis (BCH), Thayer (FSW). 127—Viverette (FN), Trevino, Pease (BCC), Byerkell (BCH). 133—Almond (BCH), Jenkins (FN), Saunders (BCC), Valentine (FC). 138—Green (BCC), Morley (FN), Weyecker (FN), Gooddil (FS). 145—Lowery (BCC), Pratt (FN), Yant (BCH), Birnie (FS). 154—Copeland (FN), Wiscombe, Cameron (BCC), Stutz (BCH). 165 — Frieders (BCC), Doan (BCH), Smith (PC), Jones (FN). 180—Pate (FN), Czap (BCC), Ebel (BCH), Jenkie (PC). Hvy.—Kloha (BCH), Evans, De Young (BCC), Ewing (FC).

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Hard-driving Mickey Wright is 1960 Tampa Women's Open golf titlist by a single stroke.

The tall, 25-year-old San Diego, Calif., blonde came up with a 217-stroke card for three trips around the rain-soaked Palma Ceia course, edging Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., for top prize money of $1,247.

Dabbs, Tunny Out, Mikeman Lose

OLSM Adds 14th Victory

Disciplinary action that resulted in dismissal of ace point-maker and floor-leader Tom Dabbs and alternate Al Tunny, and squadman Dick Hayden, Saturday night cost St. Michael a final regular season cage victory.

★ ★ ★

Shamrocks dropped a 37-30 game to visiting Redford St. Mary.

While the north siders were closing out their season, after a string of victories that gave them a 11-4 mark prior to Saturday, Orchard Lake St. Mary ended its regular schedule with its 7th straight win. Eaglets flattened a Detroit St. Hedwig club 58-37 at Orchard Lake. The win gave Eaglets a final mark of 14-2.

Without Dabbs the Shamrocks were a lacklustre crew at PNH gymnasium. Tom seldor came up with less than a half-dozen marks. Tunny was usually good for a few, too.

It was a bad night, all around, for the Mikeman. Like for instance with Pat Campbell who had been scoring well, Pat wound up with four points. George Drake with 8 was out of double figures for the first time in several games. Top Shamrock was Art Robak with 10. Jim Neville led St. Mary with 11.

Coach Jim Niebauer, asked why the three were dropped, said only that "it was strictly a matter of squad discipline. We'll try to go along in the tournaments as best we can, and hope our efforts will be good."

★ ★ ★

Eaglets hit a high-gear scoring spree against Hedwigs right at the start, rolling up 14 points before the visitors collected a single marker. OLSM then added 11 more before their guests got another (25-2) and ended the half 31-10. Hedwig didn't get a point in the 1st period.

OLSM was disappointed when Captain Don Duszynski ran into a "negative" night, with only 9 points where he usually hits 16 or more. It was expected that Don would boost his point total near 300, but he finished with 276.

Tidwell Hits 41 in Michigan Win

Drops MSU 72-65 for First Big 10 Victory; Titans on Top 101-77

By United Press International

A record-smashing performance by John Tidwell has given University of Michigan basketball fans something to talk about in an otherwise dismal season for the Wolverines.

Tidwell saved his greatest effort — a 41-point showing — for archrival Michigan State and it enabled Michigan to post its first Big Ten win of the season.

The Wolverines, who had bowed in their first 11 conference starts, came up with a 72-65 victory over the Spartans Saturday night and dropped defending Big Ten champion Michigan State into eighth place in the standings with a 5-8 mark.

University of Detroit got a three-pronged scoring effort from Dave DeBusschere, Charlie North and Ray Albee to rout Seton Hall Saturday, 101-77.

DeBusschere led the attack with 37 points while North and Albee added 23 and 20, respectively, as the Titans posted their 19th win against five defeats.

Hope closed out a perfect MIAA season Saturday with a 74-64 win over Alma College. The Dutchmen won 14 games in a row for their third perfect mark in the conference.

In other games Saturday involving Michigan colleges, Albion went into overtime to halt Kalamazoo, 79-73; Adrian trounced Olivet, 88-54; Lawrence Tech downed Detroit Tech, 80-73, and Ferris stopped Hillsdale, 72-53.

Newell Moving Up?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pete Newell, California basketball coach, will become the university's athletic director July 1, the Chronicle said today.

Stuff a pair of plugs in your ears and yell like crazy for your favorite high school basketball team—it's tournament time again.

That annual March madness—the Michigan prep basketball tournament—begins another hectic three-week run Tuesday night with more than 700 schoolboy quintets swinging into district action throughout the state.

Hysteria will reach the breaking point on Saturday, March 19, when state championships are decided in four classes at MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County is a part of this "fever pitch" excitement with numerous area schools serving as hosts to district activity.

Headlining tomorrow's district openers from a local standpoint is the Pontiac Central-Waterford clash in Class A at Livonia Bentley.

The Chiefs and Skippers collide at 7 o'clock in the 1st round of the Bentley district, followed by an 8:30 scrap between Detroit Catholic Central and Redford Union. Four district winners at Bentley will move to Southfield for regional play the following week.

Pontiac Northern drew a bye at Livonia and will meet the Catholic Central-Redford Union winner on Friday at 8 p.m. There are 11 entries at Bentley.

★ ★ ★

Northern is host to district tourneys in classes B and C. The "B" field consists of Lake Orion, Oxford, Clarkston and Avondale while "C" entries are St. Michael, St. Frederick, Orchard Lake St. Mary, Birmingham Groves, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and Hartland.

Districts in classes A and D are scheduled at Birmingham Seaholm. Class D squads include Pontiac Emmanuel Christian, Memphis, Country Day and Detroit St. Agatha.

Among the dozen "A" schools competing at Birmingham are Ferndale, Berkley, Oak Park, RO Kimball, RO Dondero, Hazel Park and host Seaholm. Utica drew a bye in the Class A tourney at East Detroit.

Ortonville, South Central League champion and holder of a sparkling 14-1 record, really tackles a rugged foe in Class C district play at Flint Bentley. The Black Hawks meet highly-ranked Flint Atherton on Wednesday in their first tourney start with one powerful entry doomed to early elimination.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake, Farmington and Southfield are among other "A" entries at Livonia. Holly in Class B and Dryden in "D" both compete in the Fenton district.

Brighton, Milford, South Lyon and Northville tangle on the latter's floor while Troy, Shrine, Clawson and Romeo lock horns at Troy. West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills and Clarenceville are among five teams squaring off in district play at Keego Harbor.

Winter Olympic Revenues Close to $2½ Millions

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—An estimated $2,475,000 in revenues was taken in by the organizing committee staging the 20 million dollars Winter Olympic Games.

★ ★ ★

The committee said aproximately $2,100,000 was taken in from admission tickets. Other revunes were: ski lifts (gross) $80,000, parking (gross) $9,000, programs (net) $95,000.

★ ★ ★

Audited receipts probably will not be available for several days, the committee announced. It added there "are other revenues that cannot be included at this time because it is impossible to give anything aproaching an accurate estimate."

Texas Cash in Palmer's Sock

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, winning money on the golf tour at the rate of $2,500 a week, went on to Baton Rouge, La., today to see about bagging another jackpot.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Hockey Victory Climaxes Winter Olympics

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—America's Cinderella hockey team the club they said couldn't win but did, capped the climax of a 1960 Winter Olympic Games that opened amid criticism and closed with high praise.

* * *

Coach Jack Riley's Yankees won the first hockey gold medal in this nation's history yesterday by staging a third-period comeback for six goals and a 9-4 victory over Czechoslovakia after trailing 4-3.

* * *

That rally brought the United States its third gold medal of the Games and a third-place finish behind Russia and Sweden. The Swedes were just one-half point ahead in the unofficial standings.

Four years ago at Cortina, Italy, the forces of Uncle Sam finished sixth two two gold medals—both in figure skating. They captured the same two this time as Carol Heiss and David Jenkins proved victorious. Then came the surprising hockey triumph that included victories by 2-1 and 3-2 over the favored forces of Canada and Russia.

* * *

The Americans were sitting disconsolately in their dressing room between the second and third periods of yesterday's hockey game. They were trailing 4-3. In walked Soviet capt. Nikolai (Solly) Sologubov, who suggested they all take a whiff of oxygen to offset the 6,200-foot altitude.

They followed his advice and and crashed home six goals in the final period, three by Roger Christian of Warroad, Minn. He also had one earlier.

* * *

The Squaw Valley facilities were lambasted nearly continually since the games were awarded to this area in California's High Sierra four years ago. Criticism ranged from the downhill ski course to hotdog prices. There were dire predictions of failure.

It snowed when the Games opened on Feb. 18 but from that day on the weather conditions proved nearly ideal.

As the games drew to a close yesterday, there were congratulations from European sports officials and from Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee. He said:

"I feel that the people of the state of California and Nevada—the entire nation, in fact—should be extremely proud of what has been accomplished in Squaw Valley.

"To start, the facilities were pronounced excellent by the leading technical experts of the world. . . .

"The competition has been extremely keen, but without uptoward incidents or complaints. The distribution of medals has been wide and honors have been well divided, as attested by the fact that 14 nations have received awards."

* * *

Russia scored 165½ points with big showings in the men's and women's speed skating. In men's skating Eugeni Grishin won gold medals at 500 and 1,500 meters while Lidija Skoblikova took a pair in women's skating.

But the Russians didn't get a gold medal in cross country skiing or successfully defend their Olympic hockey title. But they led in gold medals with seven.

* * *

Sweden tallied 71½ points with three gold medals while Uncle Sam's forces had 71 and Germany 70½. Germany took four gold medals.

East Germany's Helmut Recknagel captured the final one yesterday in the special ski jumping with a best jump of 93.5 meters, or 307 feet. Second place went to Finland's Niilo Halonen, 19-year-old student, who had a leap of 92½ meters or 303 feet as his best. The best the U.S. could do was seventh by Ansten Samuelstuen of Steamboat Springs, Colo. He had 211.5 points.

* * *

A crowd estimated at 28,000 for the final day's activities swelled the 11-day total of 240,900, still below the hoped-for total of 350,000. It's expected the planners will have to dip into the one million dollars "Snowy Day Fund" voted by the legislature as the last of $8,990,000 in state appropriations. The federal government kicked in another 4½ million and private enterprise 2 million in his 20 million dollar project.

* * *

Now the state plans to take over the facilities as a state park and the entire issue can be expected to bring fireworwks on the political scene like those of the impressive closing ceremony.

Hawks Beat Detroit, 5-2

Hull Too Much for Wings

CHICAGO (AP) — A hot Bobby Hull was too much for the Detroit Red Wings to handle and the Chicago Black Hawks blasted out a 5-2 victory over the Wings last night.

Hull, sweeping into a tie for the National Hockey League's scoring lead with Toronto's Bronco Horvath, scored two goals and an assist. Each now has 73 points.

The defeat forced the Wings to accept a split in their weekend games. They won from the Toronto Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday night 4-3 on Gordie Howe's goal.

Detroit's victory over Toronto was its first road game triumph since Dec. 20, but the Black Hawks didn't give the Wings much time at all for celebration.

With two goals in the first period, Chicago was out in front to stay. Hull assisted on one and then scored once each in the second and third periods.

Murray Balfour got Chicago's first goal on a rebound and defenseman Pierre Pilote the second with Howe in the penalty box. Norm Ullman deflected Howe's drive into the Chicago net for Detroit's first score in the second period. It was pretty much all Chicago from there to the end, however, with Jack McIntyre netting Detroit's last goal in the last five minutes.

Toronto exploded for three goals in the last period last night to beat New York 5-3.

* * *

Gerry Ehman tied the score 3-3 early in the period, Bill Harris fired home the clincher and Gerry James added an insurance tally. Andy Bathgate scored twice for New York.

Warriors Edge Pistons, 113-111

Gola, Wilt Pace Philly to Season's 9th Win Over Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain was slow in getting started but once he got under way it was an old story as Philadelphia beat Detroit 113-111 in their basketball game yesterday.

* * *

For three quarters of play, Chamberlain was held to 12 points and he clicked for 11 in the final period for the Warriors' sixth victory in nine games over the Pistons.

Chamberlain's 23 points kept him in the unusual position of runnerup to the high point man—teammate Tom Gola with 24. Gene Shue got 22 for Detroit.

The Pistons return to action in a game with Cincinnati at St. Louis tomorrow night.

Detroit's defeat yesterday prevented a Piston sweep of its weekend games after its stunning 116-114 victory at St. Louis Saturday night over the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division champions.

* * *

In other games Sunday, the Boston Celtics beat the New York Knickerbockers, 129-125 and the St. Louis Hawks turned back the Cincinnati Royals, 122-105.

Mrs. Omelenchuk Flies Home, Wins 5th State Crown

ALPENA (AP) — Jeanne Omelenchuk missed out in the fancy medals in the Olympic Games speed skating but she's still in comand at home.

Mrs. Omelenchuk, back from Squaw Valley, Calif., barely in time, swept to her fourth straight Michigan women's championship yesterday in a grand slam of all five events. It was the fifth state title for her.

The Detroit girl came here in a dash by car after arriving at Willow Run Airport Saturday midnight from Squaw Valley.

Jeanne's victory figured in a repetition of a familiar Detroit combination triumph. Tom Augustitus of Detroit won his third straight men's title.

TV Viewers Stirred Up Over so Much Blood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judging from the mail, TV viewers are concerned about the violence on the home screen.

A fortnight ago, I clocked the beatings, sluggings, mayhem and murder on the Friday night crime and Western shows. It required perseverence to sit through three hours of blood-letting, but I managed. The findings: one murder every 16 minutes, with the slaughter rate increasing as the night grows older (the networks theorize that more violence is allowable when the kiddies toddle off to bed).

The survey brought as much mail as anything in this space for many months. Here are some of the samples:

* * *

"My compliments to you for 'slain, slugged, stabbed!' If critics across the country followed your example, TV might become a normal medium of entertainment and help curb the present abnormal amount of crime." — Molly Marson, Hollywood, Calif.

"Congratulations for having nerve enough to print what the majority of people think about our lousy TV pictures. No wonder we have juvenile delinquency in droves.

"We bought TV to keep our children home and entertained. They could learn no more crime in the streets. The banned quiz programs were at least entertaining and educational, even if fixed." — E. S. S., Los Angeles.

Nehru, Chou Agree to Hold Border Talks

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai today agreed to an April meeting in New Delhi to discuss their border dispute.

* * *

Both leaders made clear they regarded the talks as exploratory with the prospect of setting in motion negotiations for settling the frontier feud which has brought bloodshed.

Nehru's announcement that he was agreeable to meeting Chou "sometime in April" drew applause in Parliament.

Birthday Order of 29ers in Session

Let's Adjourn to Feb. 29, 1964

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP)—The quadrennial meeting of the Order of 29ers is in session.

You who are members of World Chapter No. 1 are scattered all over the United States and some other countries, but you know this is The Day. You are celebrating your birthday today for the first time in four years.

Because he felt you were being short-changed, F. W. Brinkerhoff, the Pittsburg, Kan. editor and publisher, founded the order in 1928. Then, as now, he sent a membership scroll to anyone who could meet the single obvious requirement: that he be born on Feb. 29. There are no dues, no formal meetings.

Since your last birthday membership in the order has grown to 1,900. Senior member is Miss Julia Covert of Jeffersonville, Ind., who is 104 years old today.

* * *

Next are Mrs. Irene Alexander of Oskaloosa, Kan. and Mrs. Elizabeth Caten of Chickasha, Okla., 100 years old.

Century years not divisible for 400 are not leap years, yet the organization secretary, Kenneth L. Simons, reports there have been three applications claiming birth Feb. 29, 1900. One of the applicants, a woman, indignantly insisted the date was right. She said her mother and the family bible supported her claim.

* * *

Simons, managing editor of the Pittsburg Headlight and Sun, says among members are 13 sets of twins, including two upstate New York sisters born in 1876. There are also three or four sisters and brothers born Feb. 29, four or eight years apart.

California with 90 requests for scrolls is runner-up to Kansas with 94 on 1960 applications. A newspaper in California has offered to form world chapter No. 2.

* * *

Babies born today will get gold tinted scrolls.

Meeting adjourned until Feb. 29, 1964.

Tension Rises in South Over Lunch Counters; Rights Bills Wait

By The Associated Press)

Negroes planed to press their campaign for equal service at lunch counters in the South today as the Senate prepared to start round-the-clock debate in Washington on pending civil rights legislation.

The Negro protest movement against segregated eating facilities in variety and department stores was in its fifth week and tensions appeared to be growing in the troubled South.

The biracial Southern Regional Council in Atlanta reported the sitdown movement indicated a time of change under terms "that cannot be dictated by white Southerners."

Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga) charged that demonstrations in the South were inspired from outside to stir up race riots that would encourage enactment of civil rights legislation.

Lunch counters generally were closed Sunday and everything was quiet in cities where violence erupted and demonstrators paraded and staged sit-ins Saturday.

Food for Thought: Men Buy Extras When They Shop

DALLAS, Tex.—A supermarket executive says his company likes to see men do the grocery shopping.

"We do a lot more business that way," Stephen A. Douglas, vice president of the Kroger Co., said Sunday.

"The wife still makes out the list when the husband does the shopping, but he will always pick up a few extra items."

Anything Goes (Even Either Party) in Filibuster

It's Beddy-Bye in Senate Cloakrooms

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—Privacy for members of the Senate goes out the window beginning tonight as rows of white cots are being set up almost shoulder to shoulder in Democratic and Republican cloakrooms just off the staid upper house chamber.

Until the solons can be brought to a vote on the red-hot issue of civil rights legislation, only the lame, the sick and the halting will be permitted to sleep in their own beds at night.

All others are being given their assigned shifts around the clock, to guard against a rival move that might abolish their party, or scuttle Negro hopes of voting equality in Dixieland.

Perhaps to demonstrate how vigorous and rugged senators can be in this jet age, 49-year-old Thomas Kuchel of California and 51-year-old Barry Goldwater of Arizona have volunteered for the first Republican "graveyard" shift tonight.

From midnight until 8 a.m., Tom and Barry will spell each other on the somnolent Senate floor, while their GOP colleagues snore fitfully in the cloakroom.

Southern Democrats have served notice that they will demand quorum calls at "awkward" times, to retaliate for the round-the-clock sessions called by Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson to produce action.

The most "awkward" time is naturally the middle of the night, which explains why senators dare not go home to their helpmates. During the daylight and evening hours, those who have not worked the graveyard trick will hold the fort for three or four hours at a time while the sons of Dixie extol white supremacy and segregation.

This fascinating sideshow may continue for a week or so—to the delight of Senate galleryites—but not longer, according to Assistant Minority Leader Kuchel.

If the filibuster by southern senators remains unbroken into next week, he confides, GOP Leader Everett Dirksen will introduce a cloture petition to shut off debate and bring the controversial legislation to a vote.

Such a move requires a two-thirds vote of the Senate, and that is where the Republicans have a trick up their sleeve.

"If any of our colleagues try to dodge the issue by absenting themselves from the Senate," Kuchel says, "we will naturally have to direct the sergeant-at-arms to arrest them, and isn't that a horrible thought?"

Kuchel insists that this drastic penalty has already been agreed upon by GOP strategists as a final ace-in-the-hole. It's entirely legal, but it's certain to play havoc with the campaigning plans of some Democratic presidential candidates who scarcely ever deign to honor the Senate with their presence these days.

RELAX, IKE

President Eisenhower, who has a small army of appointees waiting to be confirmed by the Senate, might as well relax and enjoy the summertime in Latin America, because no action will be taken on them until the filibuster flops.

Louisiana Senator Allen Ellender, who twice broke previous Senate records for filibustering, has served notice that he will object to any requests for committee meetings during the round-the-clock debate. Since this requires unanimous consent, one senator can grind all such machinery to halt.

Ellender lived up to his reputation as a "southern gentleman" the other day, however, when only Kuchel was on the Republican side of the aisle during one of his civil rights spiels. Summoned by the White House to the telephone, the Californian asked the Louisianian if he could trust him not to abolish the Republican Party while he took the call in the cloakroom.

Ellender gravely agreed to watch out for his opponent's interests during his absence.

Fast by Day and Feast at Night

Ramadan for Moslems— They Lie Down on Job

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The fasting month of Ramadan began Saturday for most Moslems in the world.

For the next 30 days, modern Moslem governments face a big problem: How to keep this centuries old religious ritual from bringing life to a standstill.

During Ramadan, Moslems are forbidden to eat or drink in daylight hours. As a result, people are inclined to stay up all night feasting and celebrating.

This means that during the daytime they are too sleepy to do any work.

★ ★ ★

Such isolated and primitive states as Yemen solve the problem by simply working and living at night, sleeping in the daytime.

But Egypt, which has close commercial and government relations with Europe and the rest of the world, can hardly turn life upside down to the same extent.

FILM CAMPAIGN

Cairo movies lately have been running short films on intelligent observance of Ramadan.

Government bureaucrats are ridiculed and urged to work in Ramadan as well as any other time.

In Tunisia, President Habib Bourguiba stirred up a hornet's nest in conservative religious circles by decreeing that factory workers have the right to eat in daytime if fasting hampers their work.

Ramadan began in the midst of a new wave of war rumors as Arab-Israeli tension increased. To Moslems, Ramadan is a sacred month and no time to fight a war.

In case war should break, however, soldiers probably will be exempt from fasting.

American Motors to Add 500 Employes at Kenosha

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors plans to add 500 employes at its Kenosha, Wis., plant, boosting total employment there to a company record of 25,800.

The company said the workers will be added during the next three weeks. It said they will be needed because of the recent switch to around-the-clock assembly operations.

American Motors said it has built 212,576 Ramblers so far in the 1960 model year, compared with 167,010 a year ago. AMC said March production is expected to hit 48,000 assemblies.

Pontiac Dems Elect Jaruzel President

Members of the Pontiac Democratic Club yesterday elected Stanley J. Jaruzel of 141 W. Hopkins Ave. as 1960 president of the organization.

He succeeds Allen Pilkinton of 57 E. Hopkins Ave., past president who became first vice president.

★ ★ ★

George Tate, 224 W. Ann Arbor Ave., was elected second vice president; Edward Keehn of 183 Pingree Ave. was chosen treasurer; Frank Hicks of 34 W. Hopkins Ave., recording secretary; and Mrs. Dora Johnson, 346 E. Pike St., corresponding secretary.

Fire Department Needs Help: Uncover Hydrant

Pontiac home owners and merchants today were asked to shovel away snow from fire hydrants located near their buildings.

★ ★ ★

Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz asked for the cooperation of the public "so that firemen, in an emergency, can hook up their lines to the hydrants as quickly as possible."

He explained that the few minutes lost while firemen did such work might be the "big difference" between a minor and major conflagration.

3 IN 1

Every minute in the U.S. three persons die of sickness or injuries. Of four fathers 35 years old, only three will live to see their children become 21 years old. The security and future happiness of most families depend on the earnings of the head of the family. If anything should happen to you, a Life of Virginia family income policy will provide for your family's needs. Let me tell you how little it costs.

Mart Shimmies Fractionally

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and other speculative stocks were in demand as the stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon. Trading was routine.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule among pivotal issues. The "science" stocks and other wide movers had gains going to 2 or 3.

The market was mixed at the start, managed a moderate gain in the morning and then lost its edge as prices turned uneven.

Electronics benefited from additional recommendations by advisory services. The general business news background, however, was mixed.

Steels, coppers, oils and rails were mostly lower. Tobaccos, drugs and rubbers advanced.

★ ★ ★

The market had two straight daily rises behind it. Analysts felt, however, that another test of recent lows was likely before a spring rally could be mounted.

Gains of a point or better were made by Transitron, Siegler and Radio Corp.

American Telephone advanced more than a point, touching a high since 1930, based on the price adjusted for the three-for-one split. Comment continued on the possibility of a dividend hike.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband, Grover Moore, who passed away a year ago Feb. 26.

His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

Sadly missed by wife, Grace and sisters.

'Secret' Message Blooms as a MacLeish-in-a-Pulpit

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Archibald MacLeish, that "angry young man" of American letters, invaded prime TV time last night to deliver the ennobling message that is usually reserved for Sunday afternoon TV, Sunday newspaper supplements and, of course, the public utterances of another of our angry young men, Admiral Rickover.

* * *

MacLeish's passionate and smooth-flowing pep talk, The Secret of Freedom, occupied NBC-TV's Sunday Showcase spot. It related a community's rejection of a "better schools" program to the great debate of our post-sputnik era: What's happening to our sense of national purpose?

"Secret" was more concerned with addressing itself to that question than it was in telling a story. I found, in fact, that the motivation was awkward and plot virtually nonexistent.

If the "message" was less preachy and more implicit, it might have had greater impact. If an unknown playwright had submitted this manuscript, it would not have passed the first reader's desk, in terms of TV plays.

* * *

But this wasn't the work of an unknown. MacLeish happens to be a man of magnificent eloquence. He is incisive, outspoken and persuasive. And he brings a point of view to his work and the TV medium that is of great importance.

* * *

The Secret of Freedom, says MacLeish, is each man's courage to believe in himself, his community and his country's future. He tells us if this courage is in short supply today, we must not abandon hope.

It will again become abundant—provided those relative few who have courage to dream keep plugging away.

MacLeish's sermon of Mount Holly, N.J.—where the production was filmed—punched its message across by utilizing the technique of sending a lost soul out on a self-imposed voyage of spiritual discovery. In this case, the wanderer is a fellow named Joe. Disturbed by the school program's rejection in a referendum, he searches for the answer to the question: Is our country through?

GETS ANSWER

After some disheartening conversations, Joe meets the librarian, Doc, and gets the answer in an extended flash of optimistic, pointed dialogue. Democracy, says Doc, must be redefined and reinvented by each generation.

One man dreams a dream and then others follow. "And what the first man has to see," he says, "is not the two-thirds of the citizens who will not listen. What (he) has to see is the dream itself—to see it Real and Whole and There."

From minorities come the majorities, Doc reminds Joe.

The excellent, dedicated cast included Tony Randall, Kim Hunter, John McGiver, Lonny Chapman, Michael Pollard and Thomas Mitchell, who had the meatiest lines and made the most of them. Alan Schneider's direction did much to keep the rather static story moving and Joseph Brun's probing photography was highly effective.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: George Bernard Shaw's comedy, "Capt. Brassbound's Conversion," with Greer Garson starring as Lady Cicely Waynfleet, concludes the current Hallmark Hall of Fame season on NBC-TV Monday, May 2. George Schaefer produces and directs Theodore Apstein's 90-minute adaptation.

* * *

An hour-long western adventure series that spotlight's the careers of frontier bandits is being produced by NBC-TV for next fall. "Outlaw," starring Barton MacLane as Marshal Evett Caine, will be filmed in color. . . . Raymond Massey goes into a CBS-TV western with "Seed of Hate," a future "Zane Grey Theater" stanza. . . . "The Twisted Image," a suspense story that kicks off NBC-TV's "Thriller" series in the fall, will star Leslie Nielsen, George Grizard, Natalie Trundy and Dianne Foster. Boris Karloff is the series' host. . . . The forthcoming "G. E. Theater" show, "Love and Wahr" is the pilot film for a proposed new series. Richard Green and Robert Strauss star as rival news cameramen.

A TV commercial is a gimmick to make a person think he's longed all his life for something he never heard of before . . . The modern wife asks her husband what he wants for dinner — and then tells him exactly which restaurant serves it. —Earl Wilson.

EXPERT CHEESE TESTERS — These six pretty seventh graders of John D. Pierce Junior High School in Waterford Township have become experts on the subject of dairy products. After a panel discussion, the girls served various cheeses to parents and guests.

Xway Problems Need Attention

Mackie to Name Group to Study Driver Service on State Network

EAST LANSING (AP)—The problem of taking care of motorists out of gas, out of food or stranded on expressways needs some expert study, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

Mackie told a Michigan freeway operations seminar at Michigan State University he will name a statewide advisory committee to tackle the problem of motorist services on the state's fast-growing expressway network.

Nearly 130 miles of continuous freeway will be opened to traffic between Jackson and Stevensville within a few months. The entire 225 mile route from Detroit to the Indiana line is expected to be opened by the summer of 1961.

"Michigan will be the first state in the nation to have such long stretches of freeway in operation," Mackie said. "These, unlike toll roads, don't have gas and food facilities on the right of way."

Based on national figures, he said, there will be a breakdown for every 20,000 vehicle miles traveled.

Cattle, sheep and hogs—together — are almost as numerous as men in the United States.

Pupils in Waterford Participate to Learn

Did you know that cows are heavy drinkers?

Well, it's a fact, and many other facts about the dairy industry have been presented in a panel discussion to pupils, teachers and parents at Waterford Township's John D. Pierce Junior High School.

It was a unique presentation under the leadership of seventh grade teacher Dr. Norman Wittkopp who aims to dramatize instruction to stimulate pupil interest.

The panel, which included Darlene Daisley, Diane Jarvis, Loette Fischer, Kathy Coleman and Gale Ensminger, had spent many weeks collecting research material in preparation for the discussion.

Linda Money asked the questions.

EIGHT GALLONS A DAY

Diane told the audience that a cow slurps eight gallons of water each day, amounting to 12 tons of liquid every year.

Furthermore, it takes 6,000 pounds of silage, 2,000 pounds of grain, 2,000 pounds of hay and two acres of grass to pacify the bovine stomach yearly.

* * *

Gale Ensminger told "how a cow makes milk," the detailed explanation a phenomenon in itself.

Wittkopp was delighted with the panel's performance. He claims it helps prove his theory that pupils can grasp the full meaning of subjects more easily by active participation.

"A teacher has absolute freedom in Waterford for pioneering in advanced classroom techniques," said Wittkopp.

"A good teacher's main purpose is to get the message through to the youngster so that he will remember what he has learned.

"New procedures in learning must be projected, just as they are in other fields."

Everyone Welcomes This Kind of Heckler

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Bob Hope dropped down out of the jet stream to tape a couple of TV shows for Arthur Murray, and subsequently call on his old friends Ken Murray and Marie Wilson at their show.

Getting on the floor, Bob said, "Ken and I played vaudeville until we killed it, and after it died, it went on the Ed Sullivan show." Bob reported that Bing Crosby didn't come into town, as he was busy giving a pep talk to Charles Coburn.

WILSON

Clowning with Arthur Murray, in a dance session, Hope danced with Murray, but Murray insisted on leading. A bystander suggested: "This should be titled, 'An Evening Without Fred Astaire.'"

Jayne Mansfield, queen of the Carioca Ball, was congratulated upon becoming larger in what might be called her "lower back" section, in line with Hollywood trends. "Oh, thanks," blushed Jayne modestly, "but I'm no larger—nobody ever looked that far before."

Dorothy Lamour was tied up in rehearsal for the Bob Hope-Arthur Murray show at the Ziegfeld Theater and her husband Bill Howard, growing restless, said, "Would you mind if I went out for a breath of fresh air?" Dottie sweetly answered, "Not if you don't come back and blow it in my face."

JAYNE

We happen to think Jack Paar's return March 7 will be a gigantic event. So we are offering two free tickets to "Fiorello," "Sound of Music," "Gypsy," or any B'way show, to the 10 readers writing the most amusing verse, rhyme, jingle, limerick, sonnet, elegy, roundelay, or madrigal, in 10 to 100 words, commemorating the occasion. Amateurs or professionals may enter, deadline midnight Mar. 3. Winners can get into any Broadway show—except Paar's (which we imagine'll be crowded for a while).

Arthur Miller spoke out plainly to the London Daily Mail about Marilyn Monroe's wish for a baby: "We'll have a family yet. We both want one very much. The bad luck won't happen next time, you'll see." A reporter said he thought it unlikely that MM ever understood one word her husband said. He retorted: "Marilyn understands what I'm saying before I've said it. I only wish people would take more notice of her talent and less of her statistics."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle told a girl friend: "That's a lovely engagement ring—and it's nice to know you're not marrying a spendthrift."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Remember that your wife still likes candy and flowers. Show her you remember by speaking of them occasionally . . . That's earl, brother.

Pay-TV Premiere Delights Promoters

TORONTO (UPI)—Officials of Trans-Canada Telemeter said today they were well pleased with their world premier of pay-television and made plans to move the project into the United States.

About 1,000 "hard-to-please" residents of suburban Etobicoke paid $1 Friday night to watch a movie in their living rooms.

Telemeter, a division of Canada's largest theater chain, famous player Canadian Corp., chose Etobicoke for the premiere after a survey disclosed it was one of the "hardest areas to sell anywhere."

A few minor snags developed when some customers became confused over the pay instructions and tried to switch channels on the Telemeter circuit.

* * *

Bert Brown of Telemeter explained "It's like being in a theater, you can't walk out of one and into another."

Subscribers can still switch to free TV channels and back but no dial switching is possible on Telemeter's three pay channels.

Officials said they will not know until they check their electronic computing machine how many of the subscribers watched "The "Nun's Story" and how many saw "Journey to the Center of the Earth." Some may have seen both for a "double feature" evening.

Cost of the project is estimated at one million dollars. Each subscriber pays $5 to have a coin box installed on his television set. These cost Telemeter $65 each. Coaxial cables are used to transmit the picture and hook up each house.

Barnely Balaban, president of Paramount Pictures, who made a personal survey of some subscribers' homes last night, said he was pleased with the apparently favorable reaction.

Next step will be to expand the system in Toronto, then move into either Long Island, Detroit, or possibly Los Angeles.

Sunday afternoon Telemeter offered a sports gem for Canadians—the telecast of the hockey game between New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs from Madison Square Garden.

* * *

If pay-TV makes the grade, big money is riding on sports.

It also could mean a transfusion for the movie industry. No claims are made to present films before they reach movie theaters but first run movies will be offered as the bulk of the pay-TV diet.

If the million dollar gamble pays off, sponsors also consider telecasts of live theater from Toronto or New York, perhaps the opera and ballet in Toronto.

Mariners Once Were All at Sea

Boat Registration Rules Are Clarified

Avast there hearties! Are you one of Michigan's confused captains or stymied skippers?

Well, if you're the owner of a motor-driven watercraft and you're not confused over the state's "new" boat registration law, you are of the minority.

The new law passed last year by the State Legislature brings Michigan into line with federal regulations on watercraft, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Recent press releases have been both misleading and in error while attempting to explain the changes.

There is confusion over the "registration date," the "new" numbers, the place to register, and especially the fee.

Therefore, the following points are presented to set your course straight and true:

1. NUMBERS — The new law means that all boats will have new registration numbers. For a skipper registering his boat the first time this means nothing—but for boats already registered under the old law it will mean some change. All persons who registered under the old law will receive their new registration numbers from the secretary of state by mail. In most cases—but not all—you will get the same number you already have. The CHANGE is that all numbers henceforth will begin with the letters MC, and be followed by four digits and two letters. Example: MC-1234-AA.

2. REGISTRATION FEE — If you are registering for the first time, you will pay the $2 fee which is good for a three-year period. If you are already registered and are getting your "new" number by mail, you pay no fee.

3. REGISTRATION DATE: March 1, next Tuesday, has been misinterpreted by many as a "deadline" to get boats registered. It is merely the date that the new law goes into effect. You DON'T have to have your boat registered before March 1. You can get it registered any time after that—BUT after March 1 you CAN'T USE YOUR BOAT until it IS registered with the new numbering system.

4. WHERE TO REGISTER — At your local secretary of state branch office. Boaters will no longer register at the license bureau of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

5. WHICH BOATS MUST BE REGISTERED —Any boat in Michigan must have a registration number if it is propelled by any mechanical source, regardless of the horsepower. The new act applies to ALL BOATS, whether used on inland lakes or Great Lakes waters.

U.S. Compacts Falter in European Show

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — The United States auto makers opened a concerted effort to attract European buyers for their compact cars here Saturday but appeared to be taking second place to smaller European models.

No less than 11 American makes were displayed at the 17th International Automobile Exhibition at the forum hall here. The American display was extremely heavy in view of the fact that only 0.21 per cent of the cars registered here in 1959 were of U. S. origin.

The American compact cars are still considered big cars here. The main interest centered around small European cars which were more within the reach of the common peoples' purse. The shining sports cars also attracted considerable attention but aroused less inclination to buy.

The Danes are motor-minded as never before this year. The largest crowd in the history of the exhibition, held since 1926, was expected.

Plan to Open Seaway 10 Days Earlier in April

OTTAWA (AP) — St. Lawrence Seaway officials are planning to open the waterway fully by April 15 — 10 days earlier than last year's first operation, informants said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Hopes of picking up more revenue than in the first year are largely behind the decision of Canadian and U. S. seaway officials, the informants said.

The actual date will depend on weather and ice conditions along the length of the seaway, it was stated, but every effort will be made to meet the mid-April tentative deadline.

The city limits of London encompass about one-third as much area as New York City and about one-half as much as taken by Chicago.

New NLRB Ruling on Its Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government has added a new yardstick to determine if a retail firm comes under federal jurisdiction in labor disputes.

Several million workers could be affected.

The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) ruled that evidence must be presented that such firms participate in interstate commerce before it will intervene.

In the past, the main qualification was that a retailer had to do an annual business of at least $500,000.

Ontario, Canada, has a lake and river area estimated at 80,000 square miles.

Perfumes Political Parties

New Battle Scent Arises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The tough political arena is laced with perfume and powder for what may turn out to be one of the liveliest—if not the most unusual—battles for a Senate seat in years.

For the first time in American politics, two women will vie for a Senate seat—The one held by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine).

The stage for this political powderfull derby was set in Maine last week when a gray-haired former schoolmarm announced her candidacy for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Miss Lucia Cormier, the 48-year-old Maine House minority leader, said she would attempt to oust the veteran Mrs. Smith from the seat she has held since 1948.

★ ★ ★

Miss Cormier, a spinster, immediately won the backing of Maine's Democratic state party and members in Congress. This virtually assured her the nomination in the June primary.

There was no comment from the camp of Mrs. Smith.

But Democratic leaders conceded that Miss Cormier would have tough sledding against Mrs. Smith. The 62-year-old lady senator has been around Washington since 1940 when she was named to a House seat succeeding her late husband.

Miss Cormier, a former national committeewoman from Maine, tried for national office once and was defeated by former Rep. Robert Hale, a long-time House member.

Meet Shiny New Brass Again

Tigers May 'Storm' Into Camp Opening

BRUNO KEARNS

By BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — Four different managers and three new club presidents have welcomed the Detroit Tigers to their winter home in Lakeland for the opening of spring camp in the past five years, and in each instance the result bore little fruit.

Tomorrow, when camp officially gets started at 10 a.m. it will be Jimmy Dykes, a veteran of 44 years of baseball (succeeding the Tiger managerial lie of Bucky Harris, Jack Tighe and Bill Norman) who will make the opening statements.

Following Fred Knorr and then Harvey Hansen in succession as president of Tigers, Bill DeWitt is also expected to add a few of his many chosen words to the welcoming program.

One thing that hasn't changed in the past three camp openers has been the Lakeland weather. It rained three straight years for the official opening of camp, and unless there is a reversal of forecasts from the weather man by morning, all speechmaking may have to be done inside the clubhouse.

WET AND CHILLY

The weather has ben wet and chilly for the past week. Yesterday the area was hit by a heavy downpour. Today the skies have been dark and more rain was predicted.

A 40-man Tiger squad is listed to appear at the official opening Tuesday morning, but as of this morning contracts are still missing on eight players. No problems were expected from Frank Lary, Frank Bolling, Bob Bruce, Steve Demeter or Bob Wilson, but Tiger outfielders Al Kaline, Harvey Kuenn and Charley Maxwell may still be chasing higher salary figures rather than fly balls tomorrow.

The Tigers will drill each morning and reserve the afternoon sessions for intrasquad games until March 12, when the Washington Senators visit Henley Field for the start of the grapefruit circuit.

The "home" fans in Lakeland will have a chance to see 18 games which will include every major league team except San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs. Both Boston and Cleveland, which train in Arizona will be in Florida for the last week of the grapefruit season.

* * *

Cleveland will be here April 11 and the Red Sox April 12. Camp will break April 18, and the next day the Tigers will be in Cleveland for the regular season opener.

The Tigers begin camp Tuesday with several new faces but no new batting averages of extra-heavy nature which would make the outlook more optimistic.

Senate Gabbing Around Clock

Prepared for Endless Session of Civil Rights Debate in Capitol

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate, with Army cots set up in the cloakrooms for weary members, was ready today to begin round-the-clock sessions in an effort to force action on a civil rights bill.

* * *

Siege-like preparations were evident as the Senate was called to meet at noon and, barring a last minute switch in strategy, to remain in session indefinitely.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex), backed by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill), ordered the continuous session after 11 days of debate failed to break the civil rights deadlock.

Senators and their aides prepared to spend the nights at the Caiptol. Key Senate emloyes were put on staggered work schedules and the restaurant planned to remain open 24 hours a day.

EFFORT IN HOUSE?

There were unconfirmed reports that efforts might be made this week to advance House debate on civil rights to remove some of the pressure from the Senate's gruelling schedule.

But House debate is not slated until the middle of March and there were no immediate indications of any plans for a speedup.

The Senate has not held a round the clock session since 1957 when Sen. Storm Thurmnd (D-SC) set a new filibuster record with a continuous speech of 24 hours and 14 minutes against a civil rights measure.

* * *

The longest session in Senate history was 85 hours and 49 minutes in 1954, broken by one 24 minute recess, on amendments to the atomic energy act.

After a Sunday recess, the debate ran continuously for another 35 hours and 57 minutes.

Seven Strikers Arrested at Troy for Tipping Car

Pickets at Dynamics Also Attempt to Turn Over Another

Seven strikers were arrested this morning for tipping over a nonstriker's car and starting to tip over another trying to cross the picket line of the strikebound Dynamics Manufacturers Inc., plant in Troy.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies were dispatched to the scene when they received a call that a nonstriker's car with five workers inside had been overturned. No one was hurt.

* * *

They arrived just in time to see the strikers about to tip over a second vehicle.

The seven arrested included Johann Krautner, 35, of 617 S. Washington St., Royal Oak; Norman T. Pyke, 26, of 372 Hillfield St., Pontiac Township; Joseph A. Travnikar, 27, of 449 W. 11 Mile Rd., Madison Heights; and Harold Samol, 40, of 3500 John R Rd., Troy.

The other three were Gleddis Puckett, 19, of 2207 John R. Rd., Troy; Herman C. Dempsey, 32, of Detroit; and Johnnie T. Hoskins, 34, of 33036 Brush St., Madison Heights.

DEMAND JURY TRIAL

All were arraigned before Troy Justice of the Peace Charles H. Losey on charges of disorderly conduct under a Troy City ordinance.

* * *

The strikers demanded a jury trial which was set for Thursday night and were released on $100 bond each.

This was the second instance of violence since Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams issued a temporary injunction limiting pickets and warning officials of the International Electrical, Radio and Machines Workers Union AFL-CIO Local 935 against further outbreaks.

Saturday morning Troy police reported the window of a nonstriking worker's auto was broken by pickets at the main gate, 4755 Rochester Rd.

No arrests were made at that time.

On the scene this morning to investigate the latest outbreak were Sheriff Frank Irons and Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

After the seven were arrested, those remaining continued picketing with a seriff's car standing by.

K Will Sign If Summit Fails

Threatens German Pact

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today said the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Khrushchev spoke at a news conference following his return from Bogor, where he agreed to lend Indonesia a 250-million-dollar credit in an effort to check this Southeast Asian nation's slow drift Westward.

The Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany never has been abandoned, and in recent weeks has been repeated at intervals. But this was the first time Khrushchev had tied it to the outcome of the May summit conference.

"The question of Berlin is one of eliminating vestiges of World War II," the Soviet leader declared. "We cannot talk about peace without eliminating these vestiges."

* * *

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union is trying to convince the West of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, the Soviet Union will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all postwar agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be valid," and West Berlin would come under the authority of Communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the Communist German Democratic Republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Soviet or Western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted. U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter has been reported considering proposing such a plebisicite.

* * *

"We are not going to take part in such a plebisicite and we are against the participation of any other country in such a plebisicite since this would be interfering in the internal affairs of another country," Khrushchev declared.

PROPOSES VOTE

The Western plan calls for establishment of an all-German government by free, U.N.-supervised elections in both parts of Germany.

The Soviet Union proposes unification negotiations between the West and East German governments.

"A plebiscite in this or that state is the sole concern of the countries involved," Khrushchev said. "We are not neighbors of Germany. If they want to, the two German governments can come to agreement on this."

* * *

The Soviet leader said he would "exert all efforts to bring the (summit) conference to a successful conclusion."

"I do believe in the good intentions of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan, and President Charles de Gaulle," he declared.

Khrushchev dodged the delicate question of Communist China and its current dispute with Indonesia over the resettlement of Chinese traders in rural Indonesian areas. He referred to Peiping only once and in a way designed to please his Indonesian hosts more than the Red Chinese.

President Flies to Friendly Chile

Will See Belt-Tightening at Work in Prospering Latin Nation

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP). — President Eisenhower today flew into friendly Chile to see a nation prospering by economic belt-tightening. It was the third stop of his four-nation Latin-American tour.

The first U.S. President ever to visit this country, Eisenhower was assured a warm welcome during his two-day stay with Chileans noted for their hospitality.

Greeting Eisenhower on his arrival from Argentina was Chile's 63-year-old bachelor President Jorbe Alessandri, who is spearheading a campaign to end the armaments race in Latin America.

The ceremonies at Santiago's modern Los Cerrillos Airport were brief with Eisenhower reviewing the honor guard and then setting out for an hour's drive through the capital in an open car.

Crowds lined the route to the U.S. Embassy residence along broad, tree-lined Alameda Bernardo O'Higgins, named for Chile's national hero.

The capital under the snow-capped Andes Mountains was gaily decorated with flags of both nations and bunting.

The enthusiastic Chileans went all out to match with hospitality the welcomes accorded Eisenhower by their richer and bigger neighbors, Brazil and Argentina.

Eisenhower, who has begun to show at times the physical strain of his grueling tour in tropical temperatures, was to lunch privately at the embassy before setting out on an afternoon of official ceremonies.

MAKE OVER PAGES

1960 Census Will Show Huge Population Gains

Windfall Due Some Area Communities

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

The 1960 federal census—to be taken this spring—should provide a nice little "nest egg" for many Oakland County communities.

Some cities and townships that have been receiving sales, gas and weight and intangible tax rebates from the state based on the 1950 census have seen their populations increase by as much as seven times the '50 total.

County Treasurer Charles A. Sparks agrees with state officials that Oakland communities may reap greater benefits from the new census than any in the state.

There's reason to cheer—but not for all—because when the last count was taken Oakland County's population was 396,000. This year it will be around 700,000, most are figuring.

Because sales tax collections (the state's largest source of income) are apportioned out to counties on population, it is readily understandable why some Oakland officials are just counting the days when the new figures will be in.

The county itself will not benefit. When quarterly sales tax checks are received from Lansing, Sparks must apportion every penny out to city, township and village treasuries. What they receive will be based on the new census figures.

Looking ahead when the individual units will realize their added riches—probably around this summer based on preliminary figures—Sparks sees such sprouting communities as Oak Park and Bloomfield Township heading the list of the "richer" units.

Others, however, that have dropped in population during the last 10 years or stayed about the same won't be doing too much cheering. They'll have to continue to look to their property taxes and voter-approved extra taxes for operation.

Sparks foresees Pontiac being in this category.

Sparks' chief deputy, Lloyd M. Sibley, came up with a gauge of 77 per cent—that percentage of population increase for Oakland County since 1950. This is roughly an increase of 304,000 persons.

If a city, township or village has increased more than the county's 77 per cent boost, they can expect equally increased sales tax checks from Sparks' office.

If they haven't jumped over this increase, stayed the same or dropped, their checks won't go up, they'll go down, requiring some belt-tightening economy.

Oakland County is already assured a larger slice of the tax collections, Sparks said, because it is way above the state's estimated growth in 10 years of 27 per cent. What the 83 counties receive in the future will be based on whether they've dropped below, equaled or bypassed this increase, or about $1,868,000.

SOME TO DO WELL

Oakland last year received $3,207,567 in sales tax diversion from the state. Sparks was reluctant to predict what the 1960 total might be, but didn't hesitate in saying "some units are really going to do well and some are not."

Also entering into the picture is the move that's afoot to boost the sales tax one cent.

Briefly, the veteran treasurer named besides Oak Park and Bloomfield Township as the beneficiaries of the census boost, Avon Township, Southfield, Waterford Township, Berkley, Royal Oak and Farmington Township. There may be others.

"Pontiac is going to lose because they've had no big development within the city limits," he said.

Oak Park for example had a 1950 population of 5,267. Procrastinators say today there are nearer 40,000. In 1950 Bloomfield Township showed 3,851. Township officials say it's around 20,800 today.

Sibley summarized Oakland's population increase advantage by saying, "We're going to get a bigger pie and be able to cut bigger slices—for some."

Pointing out that the townships of Lyon, Groveland, Springfield and White Lake have operated without township property taxes since the sales tax was enacted in 1933, Sparks said there soon might be others that can do the same.

He said his own Waterford Township could be one, if officials want to.

But, he added quickly, a more realistic gaze into the crystal ball will show communities using the additional funds for new construction, and area residents asking that their roads be paved "now that you've got the money."

SCHOOLS, TOO

School district treasuries here, too, will receive some added benefits since their shares of state aid is based on a per pupil basis.

Not to be overlooked is that Michigan must continue to take in its past high level of sales tax receipts before the counties, and then their subdivisions, will benefit. Few expect anything different.

The census becomes effective, Sparks said, for the purpose of distributing state-collected, locally-shared revenues on April 1, the beginning date of the census.

Retroactive adjustments will be made at such time as final figures become available.

★ ★ ★

Intangible tax distributions also will reflect populatoin flucuations. First quarter sales and intangible tax collections will be distributed based on the old 1950 figures. With preliminary figures made availably July 6, second and third quarter payments will be made on these new figures. Fourth quarter the same.

★ ★ ★

Then the April, July and October distributions, Sparks said, will be adjusted to the final 1960 census.

Budget planners in the different cities, townships and villages are already taking these future adjustments into account—some eagerly and some not so.

$4,550 in Taxes Save Bus Line

New Bill Chops Levy on Weight; Will Cleaver $100,000 Off Intake

Gov. Williams has signed into law a measure that would exempt Pontiac City Lines from paying an estimted $4,550 a year in weight taxes.

★ ★ ★

This will be the main result, locally, of the so-called bus tax relief measure which the governor approved over the weekend.

The measure, much narrower in scope than the one he vetoed a year ago, will trim a total $100,000 a year off weight taxes collected from bus companies, throughout the state, with the exception of Detroit. The relief runs through 1962.

Backers of the legislation said the reduction is necessary if faltering companies are to survive.

The bill previously vetoed by the governor would have relieved local companies of gas tax payments — a bigger exemption than that provided through weight tax relief.

Williams said the new law provides for a reduction in city bus company weight taxes from an average of about $200 a bus to a flat $25.

According to this formula, the weight taxes on Pontiac City Lines' 26 buses would drop from $5,200 a year to $650.

Earl Dreasher, Pontiac City Lines manager, said he had received no word from National City Lines, Inc. concerning how favorably the local company might be affected.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac buses have been idled almost four months by a strike for higher wages. The company says its profits are almost nonexistant.

Two weeks ago, the company proposed that the city lease the bus equipment. It estimated this move would exempt the company from about $18,000 in annual taxes.

The City Commission has the proposal under study.

Company and union representatives were to meet today in Saginaw in an effort to gain headway in a strike against the National City Lines affiliate there.

Negotiations in both Pontiac and Saginaw have remained virtually at dead center since the strike began Dec. 5.

Gets Report on Expansion of Library Phone Setup

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission at tonight's meeting will receive a report from the Library Board regarding proposed expansion of the telephone system at Baldwin Library.

★ ★ ★

The board report concludes that installation of a system with three incoming lines and an intercom system was the only practiacl solution to the cost problem.

The system has a maximum capacity to handle four incoming lines.

The monthly cost would be $153, according to the report.

★ ★ ★

The least expensive increase in service would be a system at $107 a month.

However, it is dependent upon a central switchboard and operator, whose monthly salary would have to be added to the monthly charge.

The board eliminated this suggestion by the phone company as actually being more expensive than a Call Director system that would allow for future expansion but would cost $245 a month.

★ ★ ★

The Commission also will receive a request to repair a section of Pleasant street.

In a letter from Ralph R. Reed Jr., 494 Pleasant St., he asks that the section in front of the home be repaired, but says "It is obvious that many sections of the street are in need of repair.

★ ★ ★

"In all probability the most efficient and sensible solution would be to pave and curb the entire street from Maple to Lincoln.

"This would seem true, since Pleasant appears to carry a higher volume of traffic and higher speeds than any other similarly surfaced streets in the neighborhood," Reed said in his letter.

It Comes Down, Bills Go Up

Snow Hits City's Cash Cache

It cost Pontiac more than $8,000 to clear the roads after the heaviest snow of the season.

The total bill, according to DPW Director Clyde Christian, was $8,085, about $1,600 for each of the five inches that blanketed the area between Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

DPW crews worked through Sunday morning to wrap up the job, then started in again last night on the light Sunday snowfall.

About 45 DPW crewmen put in 1,236 manhours battling the snow between Thursday and Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The first crews went out Thursday evening after a full day of work. Crews worked through the night Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Christian figures it cost $3,476 for labor, material and equipment rental to remove the snow from downtown and major roads and plow side streets clear.

The price tag to free city parking lots was $900, he said.

★ ★ ★

DPW trucks took 584 truckloads of snow from arteries and downtown streets to the Clinton River and 425 from the parking lots.

Before the weekend was up, 250 tons of salt had been spread on the cleared streets to keep them from freezing. The cost — $3,711.

Even when the job was done, DPW men had to go back and do some of it over again at spots where winds had caused the snow to drift back over previously cleared streets.

Another big job was done at Pontiac Municipal Airport. Airport maintenance employes, working with two snow plows, had the 400,000 square feet main runway and its taxi-way (260,000 square feet cleared by 8 a.m. Friday.

★ ★ ★

"We're usually one of the first Michigan airports to be ready for business after a heavy snowfall and we like to keep our record good," said Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

★ ★ ★

The airport has more than 1,300,000 square feet of runways, taxiways and ramps and they were all cleared over the weekend.

Blaze Ravages Beverage Firm

Damage Set at $23,500; Marshal Metz Blames Defective Wiring

Damage from a fire which raced through the Spadafore Beverage Co., Inc., 922 Oakland Ave., Sunday afternoon has been estimated by Pontiac fire officials at $23,500.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said the blaze was caused by defective wiring in a small work room in the rear of the two-story cement block building.

Firemen battled flames for more than two hours before bringing the fire under control.

The roof of the building was destroyed, and many cement blocks cracked from the intense heat, Metz said.

The fire was spotted shortly before noon by company employes, who were unable to move the firm's trucks from the building before the fire spread.

The firm is a distributor of soft drinks in the Pontiac area. Fire loss was estimated at $20,000 to the building and $3,500 to contents.

Dems to Go Easy on 1-House Plan

LANSING (AP)—Democratic policy makers, faced with a split between Wayne County and outstate party members, have agreed to a go-easy approach on a scheme for a one-house Legislature.

The party's state central committee voted overwhelmingly yesterday to wait until its April 24 meeting to take a stand on whether to back a statewide vote on the plan in November.

Warnings that hasty action might touch off a bitter intraparty wrangle prompted the decision. Storm signals went up yesterday in heated debate among Detroit and outstate members and Democratic senators.

All six Wayne County congressional districts reported support both for the unicameral system and reapportionment of the Senate. Both devices are designed to wipe out Republican control of the Senate, whose 34 districts are drawn up along lines favorable to outstate areas dominated by Republicans.

Metropolitan Detroit would benefit most from a switch to a one-house system based on population. However, details of the proposal, including the number of lawmakers basis of representation, districts and the like, are still under study.

The 12 Democratic senators, who would lose their jobs if the Senate went out of business, have voted unanimously against a unicameral Legislature. The five at the State Central Committee meeting called on party workers to concentrate instead on electing more Democratic senators and revising existing districts.

★ ★ ★

"I don't want to see our party split on this issue while Republicans come in and pick up all the marbles," said Sen. George C. Steeh (D-Mount Clemens. "We won't sell unicameralism to Democrats this election — or to the people. There's not enough time."

It's Leap Year Day

11,000 Americans Born Today Will Be 1 in '64

WASHINGTON — Some 11,000 babies will be born in the United States today, Feb. 29 — the rarest day on the 1960 calendar.

The expected crop of Leap Year babies—based on census estimates—will join 118,000 other Americans whose birthday comes only once every four years.

Many may consider this a minor tragedy. The National Geographic Society notes, however, that several famous people have been born on Feb. 29, including Ann Lee, founder of the Shaker sect, and the Italian opera composer, Gioacchino Rossini. At 72, Rossini celebrated what he termed his 18th birthday and facetiously announced that he planned to turn over a new leaf and abandon the frivolities of youth.

Actually Rossini was a year younger by the calendar than he thought, because 1800 was not a leap year. W. S. Gilbert made a similar miscalculation in the "Pirates of Penzance," whose plot concerns a pirate's apprentice born on Leap Day.

The rule is that every year represented by a number divisible by 4 is a leap year, except those divisible by 100 but not 400. Thus 2000 will be a leap year, but 1800 and 1900 were not.

The calendar oddities arose because the earth does not go around the sun in an exact number of days. The ancient Egyptians calculated that it took about 365¼ days — a figure remarkably close to the modern estimate of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 45.51 seconds.

Julius Caesar, in promulgating the Julian calendar in 45 B. C., assigned 365 days to normal years, with an extra day added to every fourth year.

Julius quite naturally added the odd day to February, which then was the last month of the year.

The old Roman year began in March, which explains how September (seventh month), October (eighth month) November (ninth month), and December (tenth month) got their names.

At first Julius's calendar worked well enough. But by the 16th century, the calendar year had gained so much on the solar year that spring was coming in early March instead of on the March 21 equinox. Pope Gregory XIII (1502-1585) dropped 10 days from the year, decreeing that henceforth leap years should be omitted in all century years not divisible by 400.

REFORMS PROPOSED

Even with this refinement, a drift of more than a week may occur by A. D. 10,000. A Presbyterian minister-astronomer suggested in 1956 that leap year be suspended until the year 2,000 to allow the calendar to correct itself.

To the relief of tradition's husband-seeking women, the proposal was not adopted.

The forecast for this year's leap year babies was geared by the Census Bureau to the current daily average — 11,000. For their future birthdays, infants arriving on the 29th will have a traditional recourse:

They can adopt Feb. 28 or March 1 as their birthday in years without leap years. This custom has some legal sanction.

An Act of Parliament passed during the reign of Henry VIII provided that persons born on Feb. 29 were entitled to regard Feb. 28 as their birthday anniversary in years other than leap years.

BABY AT HEART — Just like a baby, 11-month-old Gigi, a Mexican Chihuahua, demands her pacifier every night at bedtime. Gigi was six weeks old when she found her home with the Rene Raymonds of Kankakee, Ill., and at that age whined and cried for her mother nightly. The Raymonds found their solution with a baby's pacifier.

Blast May Have Hit Red Missile Base

HELSINKI, Finland (UPI) — A tremendous explosion believed to be that of a Soviet missile base blasted a Russian military area near the Finnish border on Feb. 2, reliable sources said today.

★ ★ ★

The sources, who cannot be identified publicly, said they had no information on the extent of the blast or what caused it but that it was not believed to be a nuclear explosion.

The explosion appeared to have taken place very close to the Soviet military installation at Alakurtti, just north of the Arctic Circle and only a short distance from the Finnish border.

The Russians took over a strip of Finnish border in that area after World War II and expanded an existing German airfield into a military complex.

'A Real Democrat,' Says Pro

Ike Golfs Vigorously, Then Appears Weary

By BOB CONSIDINE

WITH EISENHOWER — Ike played five holes of golf at the scenic course connected with the Swiss Alps-like hotel where he stayed during his weekend at Bariloche, Argentina.

The pro at the club, who looks like a well-shaven pirate, was surprised by the President's golf and his golfing manner.

"I have read in my newspapers that he is a sick old man," he said to us. "This is not true. He plays a vigorous game, a strong game. And he is just like the rest of us, a real democrat. When he made a very bad shot on the first hole he said: 'Damn it all!' "

★ ★ ★

Please don't regard this with alarm, but the President just looked terrible by the time he reached the resort area of Bariloche. Reporters who cover him every day at the White House were quite concerned. So apparently were certain members of his inner staff.

But his doctors pooh-poohed the suggestion that there was something wrong with him that could not be cured by a good night's sleep.

His recuperation was apparent after he got in a little fishing on Sunday. He seemed in rare good spirits at the little ceremony attending the signing of the innocuous sounding "Declaratoin of San Carlos de Bariloche." He and President Frondizi fell into a most affectionate abrazo for the benefit of the photographers, after signing the handsome looking document.

Margaret's Ship Comes In

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — What sort of a woman is Princess Margaret, who could have married a prince but chose a photographer?

She can be arrogant—and generous. She finds it difficult to make friends, loses friends easily. But she can be loyal and steadfast to those she loves.

She has been the highest-stepping member of the royal family since her uncle David, King Edward VIII, was the Prince of Wales and king of night clubs. Yet she also is the most devout member of the royal family, with a deep and genuine feeling for the ritual of the established church.

She is pretty by any standards, although her husband-to-be probably would agree her nose is too long for photography. She has spectacular blue eyes, white teeth, excellent skin. She is only five feet tall and under 100 pounds, but movie star Jack Lemon who partied with her one night called her figure "sensational."

★ ★ ★

Her romances have been a composition of legend, headlines and possibly a little heartbreak.

Before she was 17 her name was linked with that of King Michael of Romania. She dated him in a plunging neckline that prompted a woman onlooker to remark to a reporter, "If she was my daughter I'd spank her."

AP Photofax

DUM DUM DE DUM — Presenting a Mona Lisa profile, Princess Margaret poses at the piano for a birthday photo last Aug. 21 when she was 29. Antony Armstrong-Jones, who Friday became the princess' fiance, was engaged to take the picture. One wonders if she could have been silently picking out the wedding march waiting for the photographer to get set for the shot.

But with all her gayety and laughter and love of dancing and parties, it took the little princess a long time to find the man to take her to the altar.

When she did, she remained in character as a woman of unpredictability but firm decision.

★ ★ ★

Princess Margaret's firmness in her betrothal to Antony Armstrong-Jones, who at 29 is just a few months her senior, was illustrated by its timing. The engagement announcement by Queen Mother Elizabeth last Friday evening came while the royal family was in mourning for two loved relatives. Even royal intimates expressed shock that the announcement had not been held a few days.

★ ★ ★

The only explanation any one could fix upon was: "Margaret wanted it that way."

That those closest to the princess are happy for her in her engagement cannot be doubted. The Queen Mother was frankly worried that her youngest daughter now in her 30th year, might be heading for a long and lonely life. Her sister, Queen Elizabeth, also was known to be concerned for Margaret's future. As was her brother-in-law, the Duke of Edinburgh.

It was feared that what had been laughed off five years ago and whispered almost up to the present—that Margaret was destined for spinsterhood—might become true.

That the pretty princess would live almost three decades before she found her prince charming was not foreseen by the soothsayers who rushed into print soon after she was born in storied, gloomy Glamis Castle in Scotland on the wild and rainy night of Aug. 21, 1930. They predicted she would be married before she was 21, as legend decreed for girls born in the ancient castle where Shakespeare set Macbeth.

She was to seem close to it many times. One of her romances was to become the sensation of the 1950s. But in the year 1960, many were beginning to wonder: "What's to become of the girl?"

Railroad car loadings are down. Liquor sales are up. Meaning, says one economist, that more people are getting loaded than freight cars . . . A statistician claims people are marrying younger today than 50 years ago. We don't know about that (says H. C. Diefenbach) but they surely are marrying oftener. —Earl Wilson.

Indians Don't Want TV to 'Inebriate' Their Hero

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Will a forthcoming television play based on the life of Indian war hero Ira Hayes depict him as just a drunk? Or will it present him as a victim of society?

★ ★ ★

The Gila River Pima-Maricopa tribe, to which Hayes belonged, says the National Broadcasting Co. production will show him as "just another drunken Indian."

"It doesn't matter if he's a lovable drunk or a disgusting drunk, he's still just another drunken Indian," tribal attorney Z. Simpson Cox said Saturday. "The tribe feels this is not a true presentation of the man."

The play tentatively is scheduled for a March 27 telecast on NBC's Sunday Showcase.

★ ★ ★

The program's executive producer, Robert Allen Aurthur, said Sunday: "If the Pima Indians think we are portraying Ira Hayes as only a 'drunken Indian,' they're making a terrible mistake. In fact, a lot of people already consider Hayes as just a drunk. I think we'll change that impression."

Aurthur said the script depicts Hayes "as a man who is symbolic of a large section of the population—as a victim of society."

Hayes was one of the U.S. Marines in the famed World War II photograph of the flag raising during the fighting on Iwo Jima. After the war he became an alcoholic. In January 1955 Hayes was found in a muddy field on the Pima reservation, dead of too much alcohol and exposure. He was 32 years old.

The Pima-Maricopa tribal council has carried its protest of the play to Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton. It hopes to send a delegation to Washington this week to testify before a congressional committee which is investigating the radio-television industry.

In Washington, Vern Stephens, assistant to the Indian commissioner, said the Bureau of Indian Affairs also will oppose the telecast.

Spirits Overflow at Ceremony for Japan Prince

By KENNETH ISHII

TOKYO (AP)—Champagne and Japanese wine flowed at the Imperial Court today in honor of Japan's newly named heir to the throne.

The toasts were for 7-day-old Naruhito Hironomiya, who was named with the traditional ceremony required for an infant in line for the ancient chrysanthemum throne.

Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako, the proud grandparents, and Crown Prince Akihito, 26, the happy father, received the best wishes of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and a host of high-ranking leaders who called at the moated downtown palace.

The name Naruhito means one who combines virtue with affection, omniscience, morale perfection and humanitarianism.

The title, Hironomiya, means prince of serenity.

K and Sukarno Sign Credit Pact

$250 Million Deal Calls for Indonesians to Stay Aloof From SEATO

BOGOR, Indonesia (AP) — The Soviet Union is lending Indonesia a 250-million-dollar credit in a move to check this Southeast Asian nation's slow drift westward.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Indonesian President Sukarno signed economic and cultural agreements Sunday which will give these agricultural islands a big boost toward industrialization.

In turn, Sukarno promised in a joint communique to continue his "policy of non-alignment with existing military alliances." The only alliance in the area is the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO); which Indonesia, despite its growing friendliness toward the West, has shown no inclination to join.

The economic pact granted Indonesia a seven-year credit at 2½ per cent interest to be paid back over 12 years in British pounds or commodities. The loan will enable Indonesia to build a steel plant and develop her agricultural, textile, chemical and nonferrous metal industries. It also provides for construction of one or two nuclear reactors

Khrushchev also announced the Soviet Union will build a 200-bed hospital and clinic as a gift.

By extending this help, Khrushchev hopes to keep Indonesia out of the Western camp. But Foreign Minister Subandrio said Indonesia still needs 500 million dollars to set up a program of industrialization.

U.S. Hockey Victory Climaxes Winter Olympics

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—America's Cinderella hockey team the club they said couldn't win but did, capped the climax of a 1960 Winter Olympic Games that opened amid criticism and closed with high praise.

* * *

Coach Jack Riley's Yankees won the first hockey gold medal in this nation's history yesterday by staging a third-period comeback for six goals and a 9-4 victory over Czechoslovakia after trailing 4-3.

* * *

That rally brought the United States its third gold medal of the Games and a third-place finish behind Russia and Sweden. The Swedes were just one-half point ahead in the unofficial standings.

Four years ago at Cortina, Italy, the forces of Uncle Sam finished sixth two two gold medals—both in figure skating. They captured the same two this time as Carol Heiss and David Jenkins proved victorious. Then came the surprising hockey triumph that included victories by 2-1 and 3-2 over the favored forces of Canada and Russia.

* * *

The Americans were sitting disconsolately in their dressing room between the second and third periods of yesterday's hockey game. They were trailing 4-3. In walked Soviet capt. Nikolai (Solly) Sologubov, who suggested they all take a whiff of oxygen to offset the 6,200-foot altitude.

They followed his advice and and crashed home six goals in the final period, three by Roger Christian of Warroad, Minn. He also had one earlier.

* * *

The Squaw Valley facilities were lambasted nearly continually since the games were awarded to this area in California's High Sierra four years ago. Criticism ranged from the downhill ski course to hotdog prices. There were dire predictions of failure.

It snowed when the Games opened on Feb. 18 but from that day on the weather conditions proved nearly ideal.

As the games drew to a close yesterday, there were congratulations from European sports officials and from Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee. He said:

"I feel that the people of the state of California and Nevada—the entire nation, in fact—should be extremely proud of what has been accomplished in Squaw Valley.

"To start, the facilities were pronounced excellent by the leading technical experts of the world. . . .

"The competition has been extremely keen, but without untoward incidents or complaints. The distribution of medals has been wide and honors have been well divided, as attested by the fact that 14 nations have received awards."

* * *

Russia scored 165½ points with big showings in the men's and women's speed skating. In men's skating Eugeni Grishin won gold medals at 500 and 1,500 meters while Lidija Skoblikova took a pair in women's skating.

But the Russians didn't get a gold medal in cross country skiing or successfully defend their Olympic hockey title. But they led in gold medals with seven.

* * *

Sweden tallied 71½ points with three gold medals while Uncle Sam's forces had 71 and Germany 70½. Germany took four gold medals.

East Germany's Helmut Recknagel captured the final one yesterday in the special ski jumping with a best jump of 93.5 meters, or 307 feet. Second place went to Finland's Niilo Halonen, 19-year-old student, who had a leap of 92⅓ meters or 303 feet as his best. The best the U.S. could do was seventh by Ansten Samuelstuen of Steamboat Springs, Colo. He had 211.5 points.

* * *

A crowd estimated at 28,000 for the final day's activities swelled the 11-day total of 240,900, still below the hoped-for total of 350,000. It's expected the planners will have to dip into the one million dollars "Snowy Day Fund" voted by the legislature as the last of $8,990,000 in state appropriations. The federal government kicked in another 4½ million and private enterprise 2 million in his 20 million dollar project.

* * *

Now the state plans to take over the facilities as a state park and the entire issue can be expected to bring fireworwks on the political scene like those of the impressive closing ceremony.

Mrs. Omelenchuk Flies Home, Wins 5th State Crown

ALPENA (AP) — Jeanne Omelenchuk missed out in the fancy medals in the Olympic Games speed skating but she's still in comand at home.

Mrs. Omelenchuk, back from Squaw Valley, Calif., barely in time, swept to her fourth straight Michigan women's championship yesterday in a grand slam of all five events. It was the fifth state title for her.

The Detroit girl came here in a dash by car after arriving at Willow Run Airport Saturday midnight from Squaw Valley.

Gola, Wilt Pace Philly to Season's 9th Win Over Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain was slow in getting started but once he got under way it was an old story as Philadelphia beat Detroit 113-111 in their basketball game yesterday.

* * *

For three quarters of play, Chamberlain was held to 12 points and he clicked for 11 in the final period for the Warriors' sixth victory in nine games over the Pistons.

Chamberlain's 23 points kept him in the unusual position of runnerup to the high point man—teammate Tom Gola with 24. Gene Shue got 22 for Detroit.

The Pistons return to action in a game with Cincinnati at St. Louis tomorrow night.

Detroit's defeat yesterday prevented a Piston sweep of its weekend games after its stunning 116-114 victory at St. Louis Saturday night over the St. Louis Hawks, Western Division champions.

In other games Sunday, the Boston Celtics beat the New York Knickerbockers, 129-125 and the St. Louis Hawks turned back the Cincinnati Royals, 122-105.

Hawks Beat Detroit, 5-2

Hull Too Much for Wings

CHICAGO (AP) — A hot Bobby Hull was too much for the Detroit Red Wings to handle and the Chicago Black Hawks blasted out a 5-2 victory over the Wings last night.

Hull, sweeping into a tie for the National Hockey League's scoring lead with Toronto's Bronco Horvath, scored two goals and an assist. Each now has 73 points.

The defeat forced the Wings to accept a split in their weekend games. They won from the Toronto Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday night 4-3 on Gordie Howe's goal.

Detroit's victory over Toronto was its first road game triumph since Dec. 20, but the Black Hawks didn't give the Wings much time at all for celebration.

With two goals in the first period, Chicago was out in front to stay. Hull assisted on one and then scored once each in the second and third periods.

Murray Balfour got Chicago's first goal on a rebound and defenseman Pierre Pilote the second with Howe in the penalty box. Norm Ullman deflected Howe's drive into the Chicago net for Detroit's first score in the second period. It was pretty much all Chicago from there to the end, however, with Jack McIntyre netting Detroit's last goal in the last five minutes.

Toronto exploded for three goals in the last period last night to beat New York 5-3.

* * *

Gerry Ehman tied the score 3-3 early in the period, Bill Harris fired home the clincher and Gerry James added an insurance tally. Andy Bathgate scored twice for New York.

Fire Department Needs Help: Uncover Hydrant

Pontiac home owners and merchants today were asked to shovel away snow from fire hydrants located near their buildings.

* * *

Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz asked for the cooperation of the public "so that firemen, in an emergency, can hook up their lines to the hydrants as quickly as possible."

He explained that the few minutes lost while firemen did such work might be the "big difference" between a minor and major conflagration.

Every minute in the U.S. three persons die of sickness or injuries. Of four fathers 35 years old, only three will live to see their children become 21 years old. The security and future happiness of most families depend on the earnings of the head of the family. In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband, Grover Moore, who passed away a year ago Feb. 28.

His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.

Sadly missed by wife, Grace and sisters.
