2 Air Crashes Take High Toll

LAUREL, Md. (UPI) — A United Airlines Viscount bound from Newark to Washington crashed near here today while on final approach to Washington National Airport. The plane carried 14 passengers and a crew of four. Initial reports indicate there are no survivors.

By The Associated Press
Crashes of a Hungarian airliner and a Portuguese military transport plane took a heavy toll of life today.
An Ilyushin-18 of the Hungarian Malev Line plunged in flames coming into Le Bourget airfield with no survivors.

The company said the plane carried 17 passengers and a crew of seven or eight on a flight from Budapest.

A four-engine Portuguese C-54 exploded and crashed minutes after taking off from Saint Thomas Island in the South Atlantic.

The official Portuguese Lusitania News Agency said 18 of the 32 persons aboard were killed, including five Lisbon showgirls returning from entertaining Portuguese troops in Angola.
Lusitania quoted eye-witnesses as saying there was a violent explosion in the plane soon after takeoff, and flames were visible from the airport.

Indians Still Patrol Border; Truce Situation 'Uneasy'

From Our News Wires
NEW DELHI — The Indian army is still patrolling and still "in contact" with the Chinese along the cease-fire line established by the Communists on the northeast frontier, a defense ministry spokesman said today. — The spokesman refused to say whether there was any shooting by the Indian patrols, continuing the policy of not revealing the Indian stand on the cease fire.

But it was apparent that the uneasy truce put into effect by Peking Wednesday still stood as United States and British fact-finding missions arranged defense aid talks with Indian officials.

A brief communique described only fighting before the cease fire and said "there is nothing else to report," indicating there is no shooting by either side.

CONFERENCES!

The U.S. mission conferred with chiefs of the Indian army, navy and air force while the British talked with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and India's new defense minister, Y. B. Chavan.

There was no immediate word on what was discussed.

Communist China, in a Peking radio broadcast heard in Tokyo, charged that two Indian air force planes took "provocative action" over Communist positions yesterday in the western sector of the border, but said the Chinese did not fire on the planes "in accordance with their orders to cease fire."

Prime Minister Nehru avoided taking a stand on the Chinese ceasefire and offer of talks, but it was apparent that India as well as Chinese troops were observing the truce.

Nehru warned in a speech last night, however, that "the war with" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Italy Bans Sale of Drugs Thought to Deform Babies

LONDON (P) — Italy has banned the sale of prelude and other drugs suspected of causing deformities in unborn babies in the wake of a British investigation into birth-deforming pills.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reported two women who had taken prelude gave birth to deformed babies.

Doctors said it could have been coincidence.

A spokesman for the British College of General Practitioners said Thursday drugs besides thalidomide are suspected of causing baby deformities.

He said drug manufacturers were notified about the college's suspicions. He declined to identify the drugs, pending additional evidence.

SLIMMING PEP PILL

Preludin, mentioned in the medical journal, is a German drug introduced nine years ago as a pep pill for slimming down pregnant women.

There was pressure in Canada for a freeze on Preludin.

The American Medical Association reiterated advice to expectant mothers to take only essential, prescribed drugs during the first three months of pregnancy.

An estimated 500,000 American women have taken Preludin since it was introduced in the United States in 1956. Dr. Frank Lyman, assistant to the director of Geigy Pharmaceuticals, said in New York.

Lyman said there was no evidence that Preludin was responsible for any birth malformations. The drug, marketed by Geigy, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

8 Plotters Nabbed in Argentina

From Our News Wires
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — Secret police broke up a plot to overthrow the government, an official spokesman announced last night.

Security forces arrested eight alleged plotters and said further arrests were likely.

Those arrested were said to fear a comeback by Peronists under Guido's plan to hold elections June 16 and restore constitutional government.

Retired army Gen. Benjamin Mendez, 78, who led an unsuccessful plot against Peron in 1951, was named as the leader of the alleged anti-election plan.

He is reported to favor the ouster of Guido and installation of a military strongman.

Guido was installed last March after a military coup overthrew President Arturo Frondizi.

The government did not reveal how it had learned of the anti-election plot.

Interior Undersecretary Mariano Grondona said "two sectors are interested in that elections should not be held — the guerrillas (anti-Peronists) and Peron. They are both parasites of national hate. Peron, overthrown in 1955, is living in Madrid, Spain.

Kennedy Holds Top-Level Talks With Key Aides

Meet to Review Castro Situation, Spending for Defense

From Our News Wires
HYANNIS PORT, Mass. — President Kennedy today tackled a broad range of government problems — from Cuba to the big defense budget for fiscal 1964 — in a series of high-level conferences at his Cape Cod home.

The Chief Executive met for an hour with the National Security Council executive committee for a general review of the Cuban situation. This conference was recessed to permit a second meeting devoted largely to the defense budget.

Acting White House press secretary, Andrew T. Hatcher, expected the Cuban crisis meeting to resume in the early afternoon, possibly over lunch with the President who is spending the Thanksgiving weekend here with his family.

Participating in the Cuban conference were Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Lewellyn Thompson, State Department expert on Russia; John J. McCloy, head of the special U.S. Cuban negotiating group at the United Nations; Undersecretary of State George Ball; Deputy Defense Secretary Roswell Gilpatrick and Gen. Maxwell D. HST Aide Pardoned by JFK

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (P) — Parolee Matthew J. Connelly, appointments secretary to former President Harry S. Truman, received a full pardon from President Kennedy yesterday.

He was convicted and imprisoned on charges of conspiring to defraud the government, to commit bribery and perjury and to violate the internal revenue laws.

The pardon came two years after Connelly was paroled after serving six months of a two-year sentence.

In New York, Connelly happily received the news.

Connelly was sentenced along with T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, on charges of trying to block the income tax prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis, Mo., manufacturer.

At Wadesboro, N.C., Caudle expressed delight at Connelly's pardon and said he had an application to apply for a pardon but had not yet filled it out. He was paroled after serving six months of a two-year sentence.

Besides Connelly, four other persons received pardons and eight additional individuals commitments of sentences.

Swainson Plans Return to Law

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson said today he will return to his law practice in Detroit when George Romney disqualifies him in the executive office Jan. 1 as the first Republican governor in 14 years.

Swainson, looking fit and tanned, returned to the state capitol today after a 12-day rest in Florida and the Virgin Islands.

Swainson told newsmen he will resume his role as an attorney next year but will remain active in Democratic politics.

"I will keep on as head of the party," Swainson said, "I intend to be quite active in the party in any way I can be."

Asked whether he would be a candidate for public office again including the U.S. Supreme Court—Swainson replied that the future would tell but he had no such plans now.

REPORTS 'PREMATURE'

"I consider reports of my demise as being awfully premature," he said, grinning.

The governor said he felt that John (Jack) Collins has made an excellent state Democratic chairman and said he would continue to have his support for the post.

Democratic meet in convention next February, at which time they will decide whether to retain Collins. Swainson said he would attend the convention, if not as a delegate, as the "youngest former governor of Michigan."

Swainson said he would point out to the Democrats, as he has done previously, why he believes the proposed new state constitution should be opposed when it comes up for ratification by the voters next April.

Democratic leaders have expressed almost unanimous opposition to the new document, but the party as a whole has taken no official stand.

PROPOSES AGREEMENT

At the United Nations, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov confirmed today that the Soviet Union has proposed a formal agreement to the United States to conclude the Cuban crisis.

Informed sources had said the Soviet Union had put forward a proposed joint declaration of the two powers in the course of talks to settle the matter. A reporter asked Kuznetsov what the U.S. reaction was to the joint declaration.

"There hasn't been an answer yet," Kuznetsov replied.

He referred to the proposed document as a protocol rather than a negotiated agreement, usually signed, that constitutes the basis for a final convention or treaty or is attached to such a final instrument.

The Soviet minister had just had 45-minute talks with Acting Secretary-General U. Thant, with whom Soviet, U.S. and Cuban delegates have been discussing the Cuban affair since soon after it flared up. He would say only that the talks was "good."

Find Reindeer Dead Near Lake St. Clair

GROSSE POINTE (AP)—A reindeer was found dead on the shore of Lake St. Clair today, putting a sad ending to children's pranks.

The reindeer was one of two "Prancer" and "Dancer" which had been let out of their cage in front of a downtown store last night.

One was captured by police after romping about this Detroit suburb, jumping fences and dashing through yards.

The other eluded capture through the night.

Its fur, it was spotted by a motorist at the edge of the lake this morning. Police arrived to find the antlered little animal dead.

Veterinarians said it died either of fright or exposure. It had been in and out of the lake.

The Italian Health Ministry imposed the ban Thursday and seized drugs containing phenylmethyl-tetra-hydro-oxazone.

Predilun was the only product mentioned by name.

The British college spokesman reported, "One or two drugs that are being taken require further thought. Family doctors are now notifying us of any suspicions that drugs are connected with some previously unsuspected defects."

"This may be coincidence, but until we have more information we would rather not say what the drugs are."

The spokesman, a medical authority, was not identified by name, in line with British medical practice.

He said the college had been studying congenital deformities since 1959—long before thalidomide was found to cause deformities in babies.

The spokesman said the college in the last few weeks "collected complete information regarding 1,696 pregnancies, including details of drugs given and any illness suffered. Of these, 43 produced deformed babies—an incidence of 2.6 per cent."

AF Reservists to Head Home Area Men Surprised by Early Return Order

Most of the 100 Oakland County Air Force reservists called to active duty a month ago in the Cuban crisis will become civilians again next Wednesday, much sooner than they had expected.

Although the predominant reaction was one of relief and the men were happy at the prospect of returning to their homes with international tensions eased, the unexpected early return to reserve status has thrown the lives of some into a turmoil.

The county's contingent of 100 represents about 10 per cent of the 1,000 southeastern Michigan airmen in the 48th Troop Carrier Wing at Selfridge Air Force Base.

They are part of more than 14,000 Air Force reservists throughout the nation who were called to active duty Oct. 27 by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who announced their early release Wednesday.

Since the men made plans to be on active duty for a year, the early release will cause hardships for some of them.

Such cases, according to an Air Force spokesman, would be college students who left school and cannot return until the next semester starts and men whose employers made arrangements to fill their jobs for a year. One man sold his gasoline station before he entered the service.

The Air Force has made arrangements for reservists who face a hardship because of the early release to extend on a voluntary basis their active duty for any period up to the originally expected one year.

How many of them will do so will be known Wednesday.

While on active duty at Selfridge, members of the 48th spent their time working and training. Those who lived within driving distance of the base were able to go home after duty hours.

When the unit was activated, it expected to "sit tight" at the base on alert until further orders were received.

Crews will now begin work on the 24-inch main to run from Baldwin in conjunction with the new storage tank at Montclair and Wolfe streets.

Construction of a 20-inch main on Orchard Lake Avenue was completed today.

The 20-inch main is nearing completion and work should start within a few days on the 48-inch main along the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks from near the new water plant site into the center of the city.

Walls of the pumping station on the South Boulevard-Orchard Road site have been poured and foundations for the two reservoirs are completed, according to City Manager Robert A. Stier.

New Policy on Bidders Eyed by Commission

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission is studying the possibility of accepting bids on city equipment only from local dealers following complaints by two truck firms located outside Birmingham.

City Manager L. R. Gare this week is compiling a report on the effects such a policy would have in Birmingham.

The commission has directed the manager to present the report at Monday's commission meeting.

George W. Auech, truck manager for Stark Hickey Ford Inc., Royal Oak, has complained to the commission that his firm had been awarded only one order even though it was low bidder on two units.

Ralph O. Moore, of Pontiac's GMC Truck and Coach Division, also asked for the reason why the commission did not accept his company's low bid on another item.

Both bids were awarded to local dealers, the second lowest bidder on each item.

Commissioner Carl F. Ingraham explained that the difference between the local bid and those submitted by the firms from outside the city amounted to a difference of only $4 or $5.

Gare pointed out that the commission previously has accepted low bids whether they were from local or outside firms.

Slavery in Saudi Arabia Being Halted by Ruler

What goes on in feudal Yemen and Saudi Arabia is even harder to find out than what goes on in Communist Cuba. And this holds true whether you are there or just speculating from here.

The current word is that Crown Prince Faisal, new prime minister of Saudi Arabia, has announced a sweeping program of internal reform. Some rumors from Yemen say there are 8,000 Nasser troops equipped with Soviet arms, set to kill off the government. So who actually knows what is going on?

At any rate, the Crown Prince is calling for a new constitution, a supreme court and ministry of justice and, most important of all, emancipation of all persons held as slaves.

In the Middle East, slavery has been an institution for centuries. Its persistence has been a matter of concern to the United Nations, as it was to the League of Nations before it.

The U.N. committee of inquiry has known of this existence slave trade for years. It has been carried on between the West African territories and countries of the Middle East.

Dealers would supply concubines for harems in Yemen and Saudi Arabia where it had been a practiced custom. Girls under 16 were sold at prices ranging from $550 to $1,100.

Now the Crown Prince says this must stop. We certainly go along with this long-overdue change. The outside world would welcome U.N. verification of this and other promised reforms.

Seidman Well-Qualified to Assist Romney

Since Gov.-elect GEORGE ROMNEY couldn't carry a full state with him in his election victory, he's done the next best thing with one Republican candidate.

ROMNEY has named unsuccessful GOP auditor general candidate L. WILLIAM SEIDMAN as a special assistant on state financial affairs.

Thus the new governor will get the valuable assistance of an extremely qualified man. He will be helping Romney with plans for restoring Michigan to sound financial status. Revenue reform, budget and spending control will be examined minutely.

This is the core of Michigan's problems, and putting top talent to work on its solution is a start down the right road.

Mongoose in Minnesota Creating an Uproar

Rooting for the underdog is still a popular American pastime, especially in Duluth, Minn., it would appear.

Up there the citizenry got up in arms about a mongoose at the local zoo. The animal had been given to the city by a seaman, and there's a U.S. law again mongooses.

The furry critters have a population explosion all their own when paired. The fact that Mr. Magoo, as he is called, is a celebrator, but nevertheless celibate bachelor, just cut no never mind with the officials.

Who knows, there may be a sub rosa attempt to sneak a mate in for Mr. Magoo, as a gesture of defiance toward officialdom. Perhaps Mr. Magoo is really Mrs. M. Worse mistakes have been made by zoo officials.

Up through the ranks rises the question of disposing of this mongoose, suddenly beloved by many. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall fields the public sentiment hall deftly, in the New Frontier tradition, without even calling for a fair catch.

Stay, he says. For a while, anyway.

It's good to see America hasn't changed that much. Sentiment and public outcry will produce some results... at least on important matters like mongooses.

It is said that Russians being sent to Cuba are "technical men." And no doubt quite a few of them are—technical sergeants, that is.

The Man About Town

Reunion Abroad

Pontiac Couples Join for Thanksgiving Day

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Two fine Pontiac couples enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner together 4,500 miles from here. No, they didn't travel to that distant point because someone said the food was better—their careers had placed them near-by and the Nov. 22 get-together resulted.

Waldemar Roser

and Ronald Pudduck, sons of two local families, graduated from Pontiac Central High together, went on to college. The first-anniversary medicine, is now a Captain in the Medical Corps, and since spring has been on the staff of a hospital in Fulda, West Germany.

The other followed a teaching career, and since September has been thus engaged in Paris. He and wife Pat, also a teacher, flew to join his wife, Mary and two children for the festive day.

The MAT's felicitations on this happy reunion, with full confidence that it was filled with warmth and happy reminiscence.

Flower lovers, we've observed, not only pursue their hobby around the clock—but also around the calendar... and, incidentally, what better year "round interest could you have?

A while back, we had a bit of a floral mystery going on the identity of a flower that was the "split" image of a lily—but wasn't. It was called "Moon Flower" by one reader and "Angel's Trumpet" by another—though both agreed it was known too as "Jimson weed."

Now we hear from Mrs. George Olsen of Birmingham, who throws more light on this question—but in turn offers a horticulture puzzle of her own.

She calls the controversial flower "Datura," of the Night Shade family, while agreeing that "Jimson weed" also fits. It is a naturalized tropical annual, the fruit of which is in a prickly pod containing enough seed to sow an acre!

But the specimen that has her guessing is a plant given her a year ago last spring by an enthusiast who called it "Red Hot Poker."

The plant bloomed in following August, but the seed planted from it last fall failed to bloom during the past year, although plants appeared.

A short time ago they were about a third grown, three inches high and four-to-five inches across—and their feathery foliage (like evergreens) had so far withstood the frost.

From all this, the lady thinks she has a biennial called "Tritonia," a genus of the Bulbous Iris family of South Africa, listed as "Moutretia," and sometimes called "Blazing Star"—but she isn't sure.

Anyone have any ideas on this burning subject?

Verbal Orchids to—

Mrs. Sarah Johnson of 741 Oswego; 96th birthday.

Albert Steinhagen of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Pontiac; 83rd birthday.

David Lawrence Says:

Russia Wins Beachhead in Cuba

WASHINGTON — The Cuban problem will drag along for months, if not years. On balance, today the Soviets are ahead of the game.

They have won a beachhead in Cuba, which now has become a full-fledged member of the Communist bloc. It's the first conquest by the Communists in this hemisphere.

Moscow played a crafty game and got the prize. LAWRENCE it wanted — a potential military base within 90 miles of the United States.

Even the allies of the United States, while sympathizing with this country's position, took no steps to condemn the Soviets before the whole world for having aimed an aggressive military action against the American people.

Moscow got away without a public denunciation of her course in terms of world policy.

Even the allies of the United States, while sympathizing with this country's position, took no steps to condemn the Soviets before the whole world for having aimed an aggressive military action against the American people.

Moscow has elicited in behalf of Castro a public pledge from the President of the United States that America's military forces will not invade Cuba.

This promise has been given notwithstanding the historic policy of the United States — as enunciated in the Monroe Doctrine — that no European power will be permitted to establish its "system" in any country in this hemisphere.

Moscow is free to render to Cuba any aid of a military nature—and the United States acquiesces—provided only that the weapons are for "defensive" purposes. It is true that President Kennedy is asking for and still hopes some day to get on-the-spot inspection in Cuba to determine whether the missiles and the strategic bombers have been withdrawn.

DEFENSIVE-OFFENSIVE But already the President has made a concession by affirming that he merely wants "offensive" weapons removed. The haggling as to what constitutes "defensive" or "offensive" weapons will go on for a long, long time.

Meanwhile, Castro is assured against any military act by the United States to liberate the people of Cuba.

Even the Cuban exiles are in an anomalous position now, for they don't know whether, if they try to recover control of their native land, the United States may find itself committed by President Kennedy's pledge of "no invasion" to prevent any expedition directed toward Cuba not only from the territory of this country but from any Latin-American country.

So the Cuban exiles who have been hoping for some kind of help in the United States to enable them to take military measures to rescue their fellow countrymen in Cuba now find themselves checked.

No satisfactory way, moreover, has been agreed upon to make sure that all the so-called "offensive" weapons will have been removed. Castro is being given time to hide them. The Washington "Post," often a supporter of administration policies, has just said:

"Verification of the kind contemplated in the exchange of letters between the President and Premier Khrushchev has not been accomplished and safeguards against the future introduction of offensive weapons have not been devised."

"These are matters of the utmost importance to this country and the execution of the American part of the bargain cannot be expected as long as these defects persist."

Home owners in the urban renewal areas will be delighted to know this.

Voices Dislike for Columnist

This is my last week as a subscriber. The reason: I am full of David Lawrence's criticism. When you drop his column, let me know and I'll be a reader. Also, my wife doesn't like The Press editorial style and wonders if you hate the whole world.

Edgar E. Harper Rochester

'Romney Ineligible for Presidency'

I've been noticing in your newspaper statements in the editorial section referring to Governor-elect Romney being a presidential candidate.

Romney was born in Mexico. The Constitution of the United States states that the President shall be a natural born citizen of the United States.

Not a Republican

(Editor's Note: This matter has been officially ruled upon by our government and Romney is a full-blooded citizen and eligible—as are others in the same circumstances.)

Coexistence

The Honolulu Star Bulletin

We have never quite separated the necessity for limited coexistence — as necessary to avoid nuclear war — from the requirement to oppose force with force when force is introduced.

If we believe that America, with all its faults, all its inequalities, all its inequities, offers something better to the world than communism, then we have an obligation to history to so conduct ourselves that the world will neither become Communist nor be destroyed.

To do this requires a recognition that coexistence is not enough but alone is rather an invitation to be annihilated; that the theme of coexistence should be pursued with the utmost caution to prevent its becoming overridingly and that communism always rests, finally, on a basis of force, and in the world we live in only force can compete with force.

'Why Is Foul Literature Given Preferred Rates?'

"Eros" magazine is so revolting and of such obscene nature that general circulation of both the invitation and the magazine cannot be considered in the public interest.

Can the President of the United States be at peace knowing that the people of the U.S. Post Office, who serve citizens of the U.S., are knowingly permitting such obscene literature to be distributed at a preferred rate, or at any cost?

'City Wants to Pay Ten Times Value'

The City Commission, by a vote of 5 to 2 approved a contract to purchase 64.5 acres of vacant land adjacent to Galloway Lake, off North Perry Street, for $174,150. The assessed value of this property for tax purposes is $17,750.

A few years ago when two apartment buildings were purchased by the city for the General Hospital, city officials stated at that time the price of two and one-half, or perhaps even three, times the assessed valuation for taxes, was about right and within line. Now they apparently feel ten times the assessed value is a good and reasonable price.

Home owners in the urban renewal areas will be delighted to know this.

English and American planes are important carriers of cargoes and people.

Yet there is no official language and a British professor is urging that English be adopted. Prof. Bruce Pattison of London's Institute of Education urged the British Association for the Advancement of Science to work for that recognition of our language.

He provided three good reasons: 1. English serves more people and a greater variety of purposes than any other language. Half the world's newspapers and scientific journals are in English.

2. English is the language of the United States, "now the most powerful and generous nation in the world, and a nation which has the technological expertise and high standards of living most other nations want."

3. Everywhere one goes one always can find someone who speaks English anyway and the tongue is universally accepted as the language of civil aviation and merchant shipping.

An official news blackout by U.S. and Vietnamese officials made it difficult to get details of the action in this major offensive, which involves many of the 10,000 U.S. military advisers here — some of them directly in combat.

Correspondents have been prevented from covering the operation directly.

KILL WATER BUFFALOES

Government troops were airlifted to the Red stronghold area in 38 United States Army and 10 Vietnamese air force helicopters. Apparently the heaviest casualties so far in the offensive have been 33 water buffaloes killed by paratroopers and Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers.

Unofficial sources said it was decided to destroy the animals in order to deprive the Viet Cong guerrillas of a major source of food.

In other action:

— Communist guerrillas blew up a government watchtower on the road between Saigon and Long An Monday. Four defenders were reported wounded.

— Twenty Viet Cong were killed Tuesday in an abortive assault on a government outpost in Kienhoa Province.

UP Man Is Killed
While Deer Hunting

IRON MOUNTAIN (U) — Ranger Hanson, 61, of Iron Mountain, wounded himself fatally yesterday when state police said he apparently stumbled and fell over his own gun while deer hunting on the outskirts of this Upper Peninsula city.

A 12-gauge shotgun charge struck Hanson in the chest.

Another hunter chanced upon his body. Dr. Richard Ceconi, Dickinson County medical examiner, said Hanson had been dead about two hours when his body was found.

Hanson's death brought to eight the number of hunters who have died by gunfire in the Michigan deer season.

Peace Corps Head 'Looks' at Aid Post

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON: Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver, President Kennedy's brother-in-law, who has been prominently mentioned as a possible successor to retiring foreign aid administrator Fowler Hamilton, said today that the next aid chief would need "new authority and extraordinary emergency powers."

Pointing out that the foreign aid program has had 15 administrators in the 10 years of its existence, Shriver told this correspondent:

"If there is no other evidence, this alone proves that something is needed besides change of management" to make the four-billion-dollar-a-year program succeed.

Shriver stressed that he has not given any "serious" thought to whether he would want the job, and that "no one has actually asked" him to accept it.

"I do think that anyone taking the job would have to be sure that the ingredients of the stew were such that success is attainable, the highly articulate young man declared.

NEED MORE TOOLS
"Whoever becomes aid administrator would need new authority and extraordinary emergency powers. Otherwise he would be trying to do something without the necessary tools for a constructive job."

If Shriver were not married to JFK's sister Eunice, and the family becoming somewhat sensitive to "nepotism" charges, he would almost certainly have earned the aid job by his highly successful performance with the Peace Corps.

The idea for the Corps originated during the 1960 campaign, when candidate Kennedy began talking about it in rather offhand fashion.

It immediately fired the imagination of youthful voters, and although many legislators had outspoken misgivings, the Corps was launched with a modest budget of $30 million.

POPULAR PROJECT
It quickly proved to be perhaps the most popular innovation of the Kennedy administration, and when the last Congress doubled its appropriation, even former critics had words of praise for the operation.

Shriver, frankly ignoring rumors that he was being considered for the top aid post, said he was not sure that such a change would be "appropriate at this stage of the game."

"It isn't that I would not go (to aid)," he said. "That depends on what the President does, but I do think that anybody going into that operation would have to have tremendous authority to allocate and organize."

He feels, too, that he is still needed at the Peace Corps. Noting that Congress has authorized its expansion from 4,500 to 10,000 "volunteers," Shriver said: "This is not like adding another division in the infantry. It is an extremely personal operation, and we insist on quality as well as numbers."

He said that since June when the Peace Corps had 800 volunteers overseas, the program has more than quadrupled to 3,600. By next June it will double again, before reaching its maximum strength of 10,000 in the fall.

Revealing that he is trying to set a precedent for efficient government operations, Shriver declared: "I hope that when we have 10,000 volunteers in the field, our administrative staff will not exceed 1,000."

"Agencies like the U.S. Information Service have a ratio of one-to-ten."

President Kennedy has recently appointed Shriver to a governmental committee headed by Attorney General Robert Kennedy to work out legislative plans for a domestic Peace Corps, which would function in city slums and on Indian reservations.

Asked if he believes such a Corps should be merged with his own foreign operation, Shriver replied: "We have had no decision yet either way. The administration could rule either way, or so could Congress."

With a grin, he added: "We're not looking for business. We've got quite a bit to do where we are, and I've taken no position as yet on whether the two should be combined."

Shriver, who has just returned from a survey of Peace Corps operations in Eastern Africa, said with pardonable pride: "We have quite a managerial task right now. While I was in Addis Ababa we landed 275 U.S. high school teachers at the airport within 20 minutes. They immediately spread out to 50 secondary schools in 35 cities in Ethiopia, without a ripple of commotion."

This is a sample of the efficiency which the former manager of his father-in-law, Joseph P. Kennedy's gigantic Merchandise Mart in Chicago, has brought to a new government operation.

Shriver and his presidential brother-in-law do not always see exactly eye-to-eye on Peace Corps operations. From other sources this correspondent learned that JFK recently questioned the wisdom of establishing such a large Corps in the friendly Philippines, when many neutral areas are threatened by Communist take-over.

HIS ARGUMENT

Shriver reportedly replied in these terms: "If we had had a large and active Peace Corps working among the people in Cuba when it was still friendly, we might never have lost the island to the Reds. I want to prevent that from happening again, in other places."

Shriver won the decision.

Romney's Decisions Piling Up as Aides Prepare Changeover

LANSING (U) — Michigan citizens shouldn't expect any decisions by their government-to-be until Governor-elect George Romney returns from his western vacation on Dec. 1.

After that, predicts Press Secretary Richard L. Millman, "there'll probably be a decision every 25 minutes."

Millman's remark was not wholly in jest, because the interim aides appointed by Romney to serve until he takes office Jan. 1 are facing a tight schedule — particularly in the field of state fiscal affairs.

The proposed 1963-64 budget must be submitted to the new legislature 10 legislative days after it convenes, or approximately on Jan. 22.

"That doesn't give us much time," admitted Walter M. Devries, one of the Romney aides serving as liaison with the present government in budget matters.

"The schedule of budget hearings is already well behind schedule and the really big administrative agencies have yet to be heard," said Devries. "This adds up to a tremendous physical task."

Devries, Romney's chief research assistant in the campaign, and Chuck Orlebeck, his aide, have been sitting in on all budget hearings since Nov. 10 at the rate of two and sometimes three a day.

"We're asking a lot of questions," said Devries, "but we are not expressing policy toward the budget."

Romney, before leaving for California, gave them guidelines to follow in compiling a fiscal report for his return.

L. William Seidman, the unsuccessful GOP candidate for auditor general, meanwhile, is conducting a survey of personnel in the Department of Administration — where everybody except Controller Ira Polley — who will leave Dec. 1 — is under civil service.

Richard C. Van Dusen, legal aide to Romney in the campaign, is in charge of liaison with the office of Gov. Swainson and is at work on a proposed reorganization of the executive office structure.

As other agents of the interim government, former campaign manager Arthur G. Elliott Jr. is handling the close-out of Romney's Detroit headquarters, and Dr. John Dempsey is busy with details of Volunteers for Romney, which he directed in the campaign.

But the final decision on organization — as on all other subjects — will rest with Romney himself.

Nikita Manages to Confuse the West

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Western leaders this Premier Khrushchev wants a cooling-off period after going through the Cuban wringer. There is even talk he may make a sharp turn and seek closer relations with the West.

The two are not the same. To confuse them is to let the heart get the better of the head with wishful thinking. Before Christmas he can show whether he wants cooperation with the West or just wants time for the heat to die down.

TEST GROUNDS
Three testing grounds for him: The disarmament talks which begin again Monday; soon thereafter talks on a nuclear test ban; and the four-year old problem of Berlin.

realistic, to believe the Russian leader suffered a change of heart after his meek and humiliating backdown on the Cuban missiles.

The alternative to that is the possibility he will lie low for a while, preparing for some new thrust where his chances are better than they ever were in a Cuba far away from Russia.

It would be very human if now Khrushchev — after the international embarrassment suffered by communism in Cuba—tried to restore Red prestige by forcing the West into a retreat.

CHINA MOVES
Thus his present meekness can have two interpretations. But something else happened — after the Russian retreat on Cuba—which may push him toward the Western camp.

Manuscript Has Value

PARIS (AP)—When artist Paul Gauguin wrote an article for a Paris newspaper, the manuscript was refused. But a letter protesting the turnaround sold for 7,000 new francs ($1,400) at an auction today.

The letter was written in September 1902, to Fontaines, art critic for The Mercury of France. In the letter, Gauguin denied that he had been influenced by Vincent Van Gogh. He insisted that Van Gogh had written to his brother saying "I owe everything to Gauguin."

with them. The former could have meant world war.

The split is getting worse. Thursday in Budapest members of Russia's European Communist bloc—led by the Hungarians—broke at the Red Chinese, condemning them for endangering all communism.

The United States has always insisted — and will insist—there can be no disarmament without on-site inspection inside Russia to prevent cheating. Russia has just as consistently opposed inspection, calling it spying.

Since this country won't yield, any yielding must come from Russia. The disarmament talks next week therefore provide the first opportunity to see whether Khrushchev wants a new and far-reaching friendliness with the West.

BERLIN TERMS
On top of this come the talks on banning nuclear tests. Again the United States insists on on-site inspection against cheating. The Russians argue new instruments make such inspection unnecessary by detecting tests from far off.

For four years Khrushchev has demanded a Berlin settlement—on his terms. Some months ago he seemed to make a friendly gesture: He offered to postpone Berlin talks until after this country recovered from its November elections.

The gesture, in hindsight, looks gristly, not friendly. By mid-November he could have had his missiles in place in Cuba—if they hadn't been detected—and ready

Airman Loses Life in Holiday Fight

DETROIT (U)—A Thanksgiving pass for Air Force Sgt. Thomas Carlisle ended with his death last night as he was slain by a unidentified assailant after a minor traffic accident.

Police said the 24-year-old Sgt. Carlisle was on duty at the Air Force Base when he was killed. He was on his way to a wedding reception.

Friends told him his new car had been damaged by another vehicle in the parking lot and Carlisle went out to talk with the other driver.

An argument began, the other driver pulled a gun from his glove compartment, fired one shot and fled.

Jail Trusty 'Escapes'; Sleeps Off His Dinner
RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Minutes after issuing an alarm for a "missing" county jail trusty, the sheriff's office called off the search.

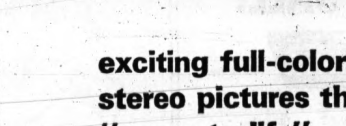

The "escapee," 35-year-old Claude V. Johnson, emerged from under a ventilator where he had curled up and gone to sleep after a hearty Thanksgiving dinner. "I guess it was just a case of too much turkey," Johnson said.

Doesn't Know Souffle From Sponge

That Freeloader's Such a Boor

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — When I received an invitation to join the Epicurean Club at a $30 pre-Thanksgiving dinner, I was at first feeling pretty set up about it.

WEST

Then two things happened that rather dampened my spirits. The first blow came from the press agent at the Shoreham Hotel, where the sybaritic feast was held. "I suppose," I told her, "that I was added to the guest list because you felt that my reputation as a connoisseur of cuisine would lend prestige to the assembly."

I learned that one of my colleagues, whom I shall identify as Sam Freeloader, also had been invited. Freeloader is not a gourmet at all. He is more of a glutton.

Freeloader's conception of a perfect repast is four beers and a peanut butter and jelly sandwich. His palate is about as sensitive as the hide of a rhinoceros.

When I asked him if he would know how to conduct himself at the dinner, he said "Certainly! You just sprinkle everything with salt before you taste it."

The Epicurean Club has a rule against smoking during the reception and dinner, which lasted more than four hours. One mustn't deflower one's taste buds, you know, HEART OF OLD BEEF

It didn't bother me because I had quit smoking, but poor Freeloader was soon biting his nails. As a matter of fact, he claimed a Notre Dame quarterback.

As each dish and wine was served, club members and guests were at liberty to arise and comment upon its virtues or demerits. Freeloader, thank heavens, confined himself to mutterings that were mostly inaudible.

Our white wine was a 1959 Liebfraumilch which one guest characterized as "charming."

Near the end of the meal, the kitchen and serving staffs paraded into the dining room and were accorded a standing ovation. Freeloader said it was the first time he had ever seen "a curtain call for cooks."

Frankly, his boorishness made it difficult for me to savor the viands to the fullest. He even had to ask who Escoffier was. I thought everyone knew that Escoffier was a Notre Dame quarterback.

The make more people depend on

'63 Jet-smooth CHEVROLET

Here's the '63 Chevrolet—extremely smooth, responsive, quiet, and surprisingly luxurious. Its rich new lines and roomy comfort are going to have a lot of high-priced cars wondering how we did it. What's more, it has at least a half-dozen new service-saving features to make it remarkably easy to care for.

'63 CHEVY II NOVA

It's got the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet plus Chevy II's low-cost luxury and space on a very parkable wheelbase. Spiffed-up appearance inside and out to match its spirited engine. Those good new ideas we introduced in the Chevy II last year are improved on, too. Have they caught on? Well, just look around you!

'63 CORVAIR MONZA

No tampering with all the uncanny road sense and deft handling of Corvair! We did install self-adjusting brakes, a longer lasting muffler, and enough interior and trim refinements to tell the people you pass it's a '63. Otherwise, it's the same Corvair—for sports car lovers who like to take the family with them.

New CORVETTE STING RAY

Hard to say which is bigger Corvette news—Sting Ray styling or two new models: convertible and sport coupe. Dramatic new chassis design and suspension, too. Resist this one if you possibly can!

HAPPY BIRTHDAY — Former Vice President John Nance Garner celebrated his 94th birthday yesterday. According to his wishes, Cactus Jack, as he was known to many, observed his 94th birthday quietly, with no big "fuss" or celebration.

Ex-Vice President Garner Eases Into 94th Year

UVALDE, Tex. (UPI) — John Nance Garner celebrated his 94th birthday yesterday. "I guess I will have to give up cigars before long," he said, "they are bad for me." Garner then passed the cigars around.

The former vice president in two terms of Franklin Roosevelt's administration, known as "Cactus Jack" during his policticking days, was just plain "Mister" yesterday, as he celebrated his birthday with a big dinner and some small talk.

"I think the best policy is to eat a big breakfast, then not eat much the rest of the day. But I didn't follow that today (Thursday)," Garner said.

And he did not. For Thanksgiving dinner Garner ate turkey, gravy, peas and a dessert of cream cheese and pears.

His policy on breakfast stood fast though. He polished off two eggs, five slices of bacon, two biscuits and a glass of milk.

Garner arose at 7 a. m. and listened to the news. The familiar black cigar was in his mouth.

The first present he opened was a tie, the next a pair of socks. He got two cakes — one with "94" on it, the other with a single candle.

Among the honors the venerable Texan received was an announcement by A. Garland Adair of the Texas Memorial Museum in Austin that the 1963 edition of the "Texas Heritage" publication will pay tribute to him.

Gov. Price Daniel also made him an "admiral of the Third Texas Navy," Kentucky Gov. Bert T. Combs made Garner an honorary Kentucky colonel. Garner's son Tully, 66, had a prediction: "He'll live to be 100 easy the way he's going."

Body, Lost Girl
May Be Same

Police Link 2 Cases
in 10-Year Mystery

HARTFORD, Conn. (U) — The body of a teen-age girl found in Flagstaff, Ariz., has been tentatively identified as that of a girl who wandered from a Connecticut camp in 1952 and disappeared.

The two cases are just now being linked, although the Arizona body was found in 1952, six years after the search began for Connie Smith, 14, of Sundance, Wyo., the vanished camper.

Connie was the granddaughter of a former Wyoming governor, Nels H. Smith.

If positive identification is made in the days ahead, the mystery of Connie Smith will be deeper than ever.

Police will turn their attention to how she could have traveled most of the way across the country and remained anonymous for six years.

And most important — what caused her death?

Sheriff Cecil Richardson of Flagstaff says the 13- to 17-year-old girl whose body was found there must have died by foul play.

The body was lying unclothed by a lonely road about 10 miles southeast of Grand Canyon National Park. The clothes were on the other side of the road.

Connecticut state police found their way to sheriff Richardson after 10 years of checking out thousands of leads in the Connie Smith case.

Moslem From U. N.
Talks at Synagogue

NEW YORK (AP) — Sir Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan, president of the United Nations General Assembly and a Moslem, spoke Thursday at the 157th annual Thanksgiving service of Congregation B'Nai Beshurun.

The diplomat said there was a universality of all religions and he quoted similar passages in the Koran and in the Old Testament to illustrate his point.

B'Nai Beshurun, at 257 W. 88th St., is the oldest conservative Jewish congregation in this country.

Thief Is Thoughtful

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J. (U) — Title of the most thoughtful thief goes to the one who stole a brand new tire from Tony Samra. Rather than leave the Samra car with one tire missing, he carefully replaced it — with an ancient treadless tire.

Bearskin Covers Interior SPokane, Wash. (U) — When John F. Swan went out to see who was blowing his car horn he hardly expected to find a 140-pound black bear seated comfortably behind the steering wheel. Lured out with apples, the beast ambled off good naturedly.

new contours of the Church. Ordinarily, for Roman Catholicism, it is Rome alone—the Pope and the Vatican Curia — that spreads the final and authoritative word. As St. Augustine once put it: "Rome has spoken. The case is concluded."

While this remains the case, in a jurisdictional sense, the voice of Rome has become a vast chorus. It encompasses the accents and insights of many places and peoples, the urgencies of Asia and Africa, the ideas of the Orient, the ways of Americans, the experiments of European churchcraft.

Although the fundamentals of doctrine unite these men, they have come laden with creative plans and fresh approaches to renew their church. They are pushing them—in full, forceful, unrestrained fashion.

Copter Saves Lost Airman

FIBRE (AP) — An airman-hunter lost in Upper Peninsula woods was rescued by a daring helicopter crew from Kincheloe Air Force Base early yesterday.

Flying in darkness and in gusty winds, the helicopter crew spotted a fire which Airman 2.C. Eugene Coates, 20, had built to keep from freezing in frigid weather. Coates was lifted by a hoist to the swaying helicopter.

Coates became lost near Fibre, about 45 miles southwest of Sault Ste. Marie, while hunting with two companions from Kincheloe Wednesday. The helicopter was called out to aid searchers around.

"Shipping difficulties over the past few weeks caused our food supply to fall off alarmingly," he said.

Schedule Rally Backing Hoffa

Re-Election Program
Slated for Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP)—A 100,000-square-foot portion of Cobo Hall has been hired for a campaign rally to-morrow by a committee backing International Teamsters president James Hoffa for re-election to the presidency of his Detroit home local, No. 299.

Hoffa has two announced opponents, Charles O'Brien and Ira Cook Jr., but none of the others on the Hoffa slate have opposition. Local 299's elections are scheduled Dec. 6-8.

Hoffa, who has headed the local 25 years, is an odds-on favorite to win re-election.

Hall D in Cobo Hall, which Hoffa supporters have rented, could accommodate a rally of about 10,000 of the local's 14,000 members, but a union spokesman said a realistic estimate of the turnout would be 2,000 to 3,000. Running with Hoffa are incumbents Frank Fitzsimmons, vice-president; Roland McMaster, secretary-treasurer; David E. Johnson, recording secretary; and Samuel O. Calhoun, George Roxborough and George Shelp, trustees.

McMaster was convicted Monday in U.S. District Court at Detroit of 32 counts of receiving illegal payments from an Ohio trucking executive in violation of the Taft-Hartley Act.

He faces a possible sentence of 32 years in prison and fines totaling up to $500,000.

Hoffa currently is on trial in U.S. District Court at Nashville, Tenn., on charges somewhat similar to those on which McMaster was convicted.

An estimated 76 per cent of all engineers and scientists employed by the U.S. electronics industry are supported by government funds.

Reuther Met by Anti-West Demonstrators

KYOTO, Japan (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO was greeted with cries "go home, capitalist spy" by pro-Communist unionists in this ancient Japanese capital today.

Reuther and his party of United Auto Workers, however, also received a welcome from several hundred unionists when they arrived for their one-day tour of Kyoto.

About 70 unionists surrounded Reuther's car in front of the railroad station and shouted abuse for about 10 minutes. There was no violence and no arrests were made.

The demonstrators belonged to the pro-Communist All Japan Automobile Transportation Workers Union, Kyoto Prefectural Government Workers Union and Kyoto Teachers Union, police said.

Fire in Cottage Kills 3 Children

BALLSTON SPA, N.Y. (AP)—A family Thanksgiving gathering ended in tragedy when a fire destroyed a resort cottage on Saratoga Lake, killing three children.

The children were Eugene Tubbs, 10, his brother Martin, 12, and their cousin, Stephen Tubbs, 6.

Eugene and Martin were the children of Loretta Tubbs of Albany, police said.

Kenneth Tubbs, 18, another son home on leave from the Navy, rescued several other children, police said.

The Saratoga County Sheriff's Department said the children were trapped in an upstairs bedroom by the flames, which broke out shortly before midnight Thursday. Firemen said faulty wiring caused the blaze.

Police said 19 persons were at the camp, where they had gathered to celebrate Thanksgiving.

All Bedecked for Christmas

White House Quiet, Lonely

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House never seems more beautifully decked out, or more lonesome, than at Christmas time.

Home is always somewhere for the occupants of the Executive Mansion. And the Kennedys, in particular, are no exception. By tradition they go to the home of the Kennedy clan at Hyannis Port, Mass., for Thanksgiving. At Christmas time, they all converge on Palm Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children, Caroline and John Jr., who will be five and two years old respectively next week, will head for Florida by mid-December. President Kennedy will join them a few days before Christmas.

But before they leave the President and the First Lady will put on their annual Christmas party for the staff. The halls will be decked with holly, and the formal rooms glittering with lighted Christmas trees. Each guest will walk a way with a Christmas gift that will be a family treasure. Last year it was a framed color photograph of the White House. This year's gift is still a secret.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower used to give White House workers copies of his watercolors at Christmas. The Eisenhower family gave the White House special meaning in 1959 and 1960 when they decided to spend Christmas day in the mansion for sentimental reasons.

They had a turkey dinner for their son, the grandchildren and close relatives after attending church services on Christmas morning.

Now that the Cuban crisis has eased, official state visits to Washington and presidential trips abroad are being rescheduled. Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg, whose Oct. 29 visit was postponed, now is scheduled to call on President and Mrs. Kennedy in the spring. The Chief Executive and his wife also are planning to make their often postponed official visit to Brazil early next year.

Firemen Go on Strike but Will Be on Call

ROME (AP) — Rome's firemen today called off a two-day strike set for this weekend.

Even if they struck, it was hard to see what difference it might make. They had promised to stand by to handle any emergencies—such as fires.

About 90 per cent of America's steel is produced in open hearth furnaces.

Henry Ford Artist,
Irving Bacon, Dead

EL CAJON, Calif. (U) — An artist who Henry Ford hired to paint his portrait, as well as those of members of the Ford family, is dead at 86.

He was Irving Bacon, who served the late auto magnate as a private artist for 30 years. He died Wednesday in a rest home here.

Bacon was a cartoonist at one time for The Detroit News and an artist for the Detroit Free Press. He started work with Ford in 1915.

OK for Cat, but Not for the Diner

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please settle an argument between my husband and me? Last week our family went out for a chicken dinner in a restaurant that specializes in this food. A large platter of chicken was put on the table and after we had all eaten our fill, several pieces still remained on the platter.

I asked the waitress to wrap the leftover pieces to take home. My husband criticized me for this and said that it was in poor taste and Emily Post would never give her approval. I have seen this done in many restaurants. I would like your opinion on this matter.

A: It is not in poor taste to ask to have leftover bits of meat or chicken wrapped up to take home to one's dog or cat, but there are many who would consider it rather cheap to take leftover food home for oneself or family.

Q: I am going to be married soon and my fiancé would like to send a wedding invitation to a college friend of his. He knows this friend is engaged but does not know the name of his fiancée or where she lives.

Would it be proper to write "Mr. Jones and Fiancee" on the inside of envelope of the invitation addressed to him? If this is not proper, what is? He should find out from his friend the name and address of his fiancée and a separate invitation should be sent to her. If this is not possible, then even though it is not correct, there is nothing else to do but to write "Mr. Jones and Fiancee" on the inside envelope.

Q: A boy I know very well has asked me to a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party that he and his sister are giving for their parents. I have never had the opportunity to meet his parents. I would like to know if I would be expected to take a present, and if so, must it be something in silver?

A: Not having ever met his parents, you will certainly not be expected to bring them a present.

Q: When a female office worker sends a Christmas card to a male business associate and she does not know his wife's, it is proper to address the card to Mr. and Mrs. or should it be addressed to him alone?

A: If it is sent to his office you address it to him alone. If sent to his house it is polite to include his wife.

Birmingham 'Hills' Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull of Dunston Road are awaiting house guests early in December. Mr. and Mrs. William E. Goetz of LaJolla, Calif. On Dec. 6 Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull Jr. will honor their parents' friends, hosting a pre-dinner cocktail party in their home on Wabash. The senior Trumbulls will then honor their guests with a dinner at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

On Dec. 7 the senior Trumbulls will entertain a small group of friends for dinner at the Revere Club, later taking the guests to the Fisher Theater. On Dec. 8 they have scheduled a dinner at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bay of Lone Pine Road enjoyed their Thanksgiving dinner with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rogers and their children Karin and Alison.

Mr. Bay's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bay, were also present.

Later in the day the Donald Bays' son and daughter-in-law the Chuck Bays joined the family.

PARTRIDGE DINNER

A partridge dinner graced the table of the Gustav von Rets of Bloomfield Hills. Mr. Von Rets' family felt that the rewards of Papa Gustav's hunting trip should be served at the Thanksgiving table as was much the custom in the days of the Pilgrims.

This dinner was prepared according to a special Finnish recipe for which Mrs. Von Rets is famous. Daughter Siri came from Cambridge, Mass., and daughter Mrs. Karin Newlander and her children, Craig and Leslie, joined their parents and grandparents.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Deer of Birmingham recently returned after two weeks at Redondo Beach, Calif. With them for Thanksgiving dinner were Mrs. Deer's son, Jeffrey from Suffolk, Conn. and Mrs. Deer's mother, Mrs. Dana D. Seely of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Treffley Bartlett of Charleston Heights, Va. left Wednesday for her home after spending a week with Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader of Cranbrook Road. Dr. Leader and Mrs. Bartlett are cousins and numerous family gatherings were enjoyed during Mrs. Bartlett's visit.

DIANE HUBERT

June songs are planned by Diane Hubert, daughter of the Dawson B. Huberts, Elk Grove Village, Ill., and Central Michigan University student Richard Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Rogers of Chippewa Road. Miss Hubert attended Western Michigan University.

YW Golden Agers Hold Thanksgiving Program

Some 50 members of the Young Women's Christian Association's two golden age groups attended a Thanksgiving program and dessert luncheon Tuesday in the "Y" building on Franklin Boulevard.

Rev. Harold Johnson of the Central Methodist Church brought the holiday message, "Thanks for Living."

Mrs. Arthur Sweet, golden age chairman, presided over the program, which included solos by Mrs. Karl Leonard, with Charles Wilson at the piano.

Mrs. Mary Todd and Gertrude Richardson gave seasonal readings and Mrs. Ben Zannoth of Detroit accompanied the group singing. Mrs. Frank Kirby was chairman of hostesses.

Crack Open

Use a nutcracker to open tightly closed bottles. Grasp the bottle cap tightly with the nutcracker, give a twist — and the top should come off instantly and easily.

News From College Campuses!

Donald H. Shaw, son of Mrs. H. L. Shaw of Delaware Drive, is among 25 upperclassmen at Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., selected for inclusion in the 1962-3 edition of "Who's Who in Peter H. Morse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Morse, and Thomas A. Bannan, son of the Barry D. Bannons of Birmingham, have been elected officers of their respective fraternities at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, where they are freshmen.

Morse is president of the Lambda Chi Alpha pledge class and Bannan is vice president of the Beta Theta Pi pledge class.

Robert Fargher, son of the O. H. Farghers of Desmond Avenue, is secretary of the Michigan State University student chapter of the National Home Builders Association. He is a senior, majoring in residential construction.

John C. Rogers, son of Mrs. John Rogers of West Wilson Street, also a senior in residential building, is a member of the MSU student chapter of the NAHB.

Sorority Plans Gifts for Needy at Next Meeting

The Beta Mu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority gathered Wednesday evening in Westside Recreation. Norma Thyle, welfare chairman, asked members to bring canned goods for needy families to Tuesday's meeting when the three local chapters, Alpha Alpha, Beta Chi and Beta Mu will discuss the possibility of a city council.

Pledges will receive their pins at the Christmas dinner meeting Dec. 19 in the Kingsley Inn.

Sorors Meet at Hospital

Members of Alpha Nu Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, met Tuesday evening in Pontiac General Hospital where Mel Staebler, assistant principal of James Madison Junior High School, demonstrated "How IBM Helps the Teacher."

Robert Yahnke, supervisor of machine records at the hospital, assisted Mr. Staebler. The use of IBM equipment in marking report cards and permanent records at Madison also was explained.

Delinquents Discussed at Meeting

The Women's Association of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church met Tuesday evening in MacAllister Hall. Alex Novitsky, Oakland County Juvenile Court case worker, spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency and its Partial Cures."

Mrs. Robert Dunham gave the scripture reading, and Mrs. Charles Israelian led the prayer service. Lydia Circle served refreshments.

Each member will bring a child's gift to the annual Christmas dinner meeting on Dec. 18. These will be put into holiday baskets for the needy.

74 Attend Co-op Dinner

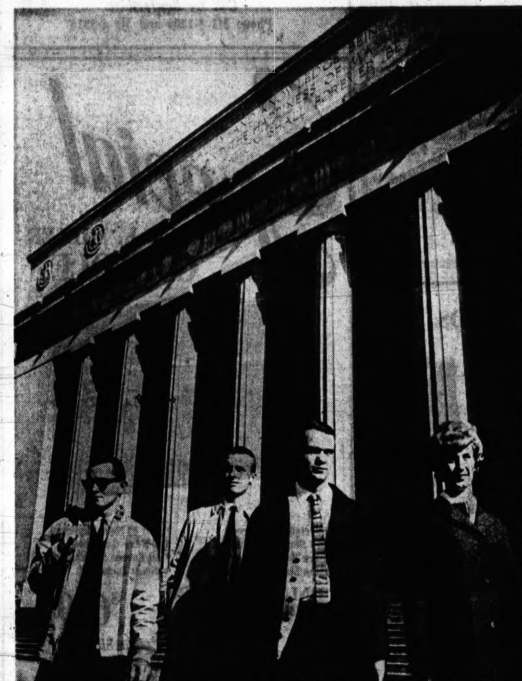

Seventy-four members of the Fellowship Bible Class gathered Tuesday for a cooperative dinner in the First Baptist Church. The Andrew Summers, in charge of arrangements, chose a Thanksgiving theme.

Murray Deighton introduced "The Cavaliers," a vocal sextet from the Emmanuel Christian School. Tom Malone Jr., Robert Dudley, Jim and Jack Gillespie, David Kirby and Ronald Jackson comprise the group.

A film, "Thanksgiving with the Fishers," was shown. Mrs. Julian Gilroy of Birmingham brought devotions from the Book of Psalms.

The Bloomfield Room at Greenfield's Birmingham Restaurant has been reserved for the Christmas party at 5:45 on Dec. 18.

These University of Michigan students are having a respite from studies this holiday weekend. Pontiac Press photographer Edward R. Noble caught them last week as they came out of

Music students appreciate all kinds of instruments and find a museum tour fascinating. Professor Maynard Klein of the University of Michigan School of Music points out an interesting exhibit to Carol

She Wants Security—Abby

Better Go Steady, Sir!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What do you think of an arrangement like this? I am in my seventies and I have a lady friend who is in her fifties.

She agreed to marry me if I signed over my insurance policies to her. But she will live with her married daughter and I will live with my married son. What do you think?

UNSETTLED
DEAR UNSETTLED: I think your "lady friend" is fishing for security with some pretty old bait. I don't advise "teen-agers" to "go steady," but in your case I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 11-year-old girl. My mother is very good to me and I love her very much. But there's one problem.

She likes to sleep late on Saturday mornings. Whenever one of my friends calls me on the phone before 9 a.m. my mother has a fit. She yells at me and tells me to tell my friends not to call so early.

Recently my best friend called at 8:30 and woke my mother up. She really got mad and told me it that girl ever called that early again I could have nothing to do with her.

I never told my friend that because I don't want rumors going around that my mother is mean. But I am afraid my friend will call early again.

Then what will I do?
NEEDS HELP
DEAR NEEDS: Tell your friend not to call you—that you will call her. But be sure HER mother doesn't like to sleep late on Saturday mornings or you'll both be cooked.

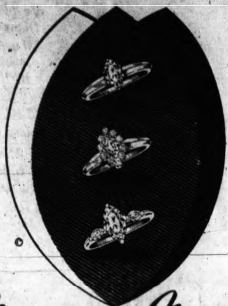

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow (40) and I go with a very respectable man (44). We are in love and have been for three years. His wife has been in an institution for nearly ten years. She is incurable. He can get a divorce but he isn't sure it would be right. There are no children involved as his are married (they approve of me) and I have none. Neither of us is pushing, for we both understand the situation. What should we do?

PATIENCE
DEAR PATIENCE: I happen to believe that marriage is forever. He took his wife in sickness and in health. This is sickness, and what is "incurable" today may be "curable" tomorrow. This is a decision YOU will have to make yourselves.

DEAR ABBY: That letter signed "BORN TO LOSE" from the "other woman" made my blood boil. You would think she was doing a noble thing to give up what wasn't hers in the first place.

About 99 out of 100 girls who go with married men are "born to lose" because the men have no intention of breaking up their families for these traps. I don't sit around and cry when I see the danger signals. I just go over to the "other woman's" house and pull her hair out.

BORN TO WIN

The bachelor apartment designed by William Pahlmann, FAID, features a foam rubber platform bed which serves as a center island and main lounging spot for the room. The base of the bed is a great rectangular box upholstered in natural-look leather outlined with brass studs. The foam rubber mattress, also leather-covered, is set in from the base to form a stair-step effect. A rosewood desk ranges the length of the bed and serves as a prop for the throw pillows that convert it into a daytime lounging couch. Antique chests replace lamp tables for a real masculine touch.

Snow Fences May Block Pollen Grains

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—Modified snow fences might stop wind-blown pollen grains that cause hay fever.

Dr. Kenneth J. Johnson, of Bismarck, found that eight-foot slatted fences decrease the ground velocity of the wind and reduce spreading of pollen and mold spores.

In his report to the American College of Allergists, he added that plain wooden fences of city residential areas provide little protection.

So You're 80 Years Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Why don't doctors give women hormones to keep them youthful after 50? Instead, we live on until 80 with faces like dried up prunes and more hairs on our faces than elderly males."

A. Well, so far as I am concerned, I would love to live to be 80 even if I do have some hairs on my face. However, this is often a problem for older women. If the hairs are too numerous to tweeze, or for electrolysis, then a facial depilatory is indicated.

Physicians vary as to their feeling about hormones. Most of those with whom I have talked do not like to give hormones unless a woman really needs them because of uncomfortable symptoms which sometimes occur during and after menopause. On the other hand, some doctors give them in mild doses as regular therapy, after menopause.

HOW TO CHOOSE?

Q. "I have read that a woman should be careful which electrolytist she goes to. Can you tell me how to know who is good and who isn't?"

A. Be sure that the operator is a graduate of a well accredited school of electrolysis. However, this may be difficult for you, since you do not know about the schools. Better, ask your family physician to recommend one, or ask a skin specialist on the staff of your local hospital to do so. Often the dermatologist will have an operator in his own office.

STOMACH MURMUR

Q. "What causes a murmur in your stomach after you have just eaten?"

A. I do not know. Maybe you ate too fast—just sort of gulped your food down—along with some air. Eat slowly, and chew your food well.

BUST DEVELOPMENT

Q. "My bust is small. How can I develop it quickly? Is there a special exercise or diet?"

A. There is no way to develop quickly. If you are underweight, a gain in weight will increase the size of your bust. The only other way to increase your bust measurement is to develop the chest muscles which lie underneath it. This takes time and patience, but it can be done with exercises like this one:

Raise both arms over the head. Bend the elbows slightly, and at the same time clench the fists, hard, while turning the elbows in toward the face a little. Hold, relax. Repeat.

It will take several months of faithful daily exercise before you get results.

Drawer Pick-Me-Up

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Tie a piece of cheesecloth over the end of the vacuum hose to clean out geyser, dresser and jewelry drawers. It picks up all dust and lint without disturbing the contents of the drawer.

R.A.

DEAR POLLY — A lost car in a big parking lot in a strange city is not as peculiar as it may sound. It can happen on holidays or any trip.

Save time hunting for the family car by raising the radio aerial before leaving it and tie a small flag or bright handkerchief to the top of the aerial. Car is easily located at a distance.

When traveling, take along a small night light, preferably the kind that plugs directly into an outlet. You can see your way around in an unfamiliar hotel or motel room.

When the children are along, a strange room seems less frightening and allows you to check them during the night without disturbance.

Baby's old stairway gate makes a wonderful garden trellis. Simply hang it vertically (opened to its fullest length) along the side of the house or garage or between two upright posts set in the ground. Paint it any color you like.

MRS. V.O.

DEAR POLLY — I have noticed that in laundry rooms some women do not have enough reading matter or things to do while waiting for the wash to go through so I clip your articles daily and post them in the laundry. P.S. Great enthusiasm!

And now for the racing fans: we use our losing tickets for book marks. Use blotter paper pasted on the backs with gayly colored ribbon between blotter paper and ticket and there you have it.

Hold Down Emotions

Let Your Mind Be Boss

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE N-483: Sarah Y., aged 19, has had a terrific emotional shock.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I was engaged to be married last month.

"My fiancé was away at college but had planned to come home the day before the wedding.

"We were having a rehearsal at the church. He didn't arrive on time, so we figured maybe he had car trouble.

"While we were still there, I received a telegram from him from a different city."

"He had eloped with a college coed. He said he got her into trouble so he had been forced to marry her.

Well, Dr. Crane, what can I do? I have cried and cried till the tears will not come any more.

"Nothing interests me in the slightest. I don't even care to eat, but my mother forces me to come to the table.

DR. CRANE

"Oh, I simply want to die! What is there to live for any longer?"

At a time of severe emotional loss, either like Sarah's or even when you receive the sudden announcement that your child has been killed, as Mrs. Crane and I did, you feel shocked.

Then you may actually grow sick at your stomach, as if you had received a blow to your solar plexus region.

YOU STAGGER ALONG

For a time, you must force yourself to go through the simple motions of living, even though you stagger along like a zombie and have no great interest in what is going on.

But we have an inexorable law of psychology which everybody should memorize to bolster his morale throughout life. It says:

"If you go through the proper motions, you will soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions."

That is the axiom of applied psychology.

So keep a stiff upper lip. Go to church or to movies or to parties and show up at your job, regardless!

Don't think you can flee or run away from your dilemmas, for that seldom helps. Mere running doesn't make you forget!

And don't try to sleep excessively in an effort to avoid facing the world! Many people who are unhappy, sleep just to hide from life.

Others try to fog their memory with alcohol or narcotics. Some even resort to suicide, while others flee via insanity. Suicide and insanity are definitely inefficient adjustments. So are drunkenness and dope addiction.

BE THE CAPTAIN

Instead, let your mind be captain and force your unruly emotions into line, even if it seems bitter at the outset.

For you can work your way out of the most terrible dejection within a matter of weeks if you will enslave your brain as captain and compel yourself to go through the proper motions.

So I pep-talked Sarah into going back to her secretarial job. I encouraged her via phone calls for a few weeks when ever she got too low in spirit.

Six weeks later, I browbeat her into accepting a date with a new young man in the community who seemed suitable. She didn't want to go out, but I told her she should.

They attended a drive-in movie. She shed some tears as she recalled similar dates with her former suitor.

But most of the time she reacted to her companion's conversation and occasionally even smiled. More tomorrow.

Demand That Response; You'll Feel Better

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My son's wife won't give me a name. The few letters she's written always begin "Hi, folks," and on the phone she avoids using my name though I have repeatedly asked her to call me "Annie."

Yet I treat her and the children as kindly as I know how, sending them little presents whenever can. She hardly ever acknowledges them.

Never any letters from my boy; no name from his wife. Sometimes I get such a lump in my throat.

ANSWER: Could you telephone this young woman and tell her how you feel?

Maybe in order to give you your name, your son's wife could do with an introduction to that part of you which is hurt and angry—the demanding part of you.

Now all she knows is the "kind" and generous part—the giving part of you. Maybe, to give you your name, she needs to make the acquaintance of the demanding part of you so that you become a real person instead of a taken-for-granted dispenser of presents.

The lump in your throat may be these unspoken words: "Are you and the children pleased with the gifts I send you? If they don't please you, I would like you to tell me so. This silence hurts me because I don't know what it means."

RISKY WORDS?

I expect that you're afraid to put that lump in your throat into some such words. They're risky. Your son's wife may not respond to them the way you want her to.

She may be so annoyed at your demand for response that she will break the relationship that now exists between you and even destroy the one you have with your son.

Well, none of us is responsible for what the other fellow does with an honest expression of our feelings. The moment we start worrying about how he's going to take it, we begin to distrust the truth lodged in our throat.

I can't promise you the friendship of your son's wife in exchange for your honesty with her. But I can say that lumps in the throat dissolve as they are turned into the words they represent. A feeling of freedom replaces anxious dependence on the other fellow's approval.

Usually he senses this even as we are speaking; instead of responding with the rejection we have expected, he listens. He sees us. We've become real to him. He may even call us by our name.

For Spotless Walks, Drives

To clean a driveway, sidewalk, patio, or garage in a matter of minutes, scrub all surfaces with hot soap or detergent suds and a broom. Then use a garden hose to wash away loosened dirt, oil drip and leaves.

Dominicans Wander Into 1st Free Election in 38 Years

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — "Oye burgueses!" The man in the black new car gave merely a passing frown to his caller on the sidewalk, smiling street cleaner.

"Bourgeois!" is a fresh new word in the language of the poor in the Dominican Republic. It can be applied as easily to one wearing diamonds as to another with a clean shirt.

Widely used by leftist orators, the word has gained popularity among the underprivileged as a sort of all-purpose verbal dagger considerably removed from its accepted meaning.

It is bound to find wider circulation and may influence a national election campaign which is slowly turning into the classic struggle between the haves and have-nots.

SIGN OF ELECTION

The popularity of "bourgeois" is, in fact, one of the few hard signs that the first free elections in 38 years are scheduled to take place four weeks hence. There is some propaganda in newspapers—half the population is illiterate—and on the radio. Street signs and banners and loudspeaker noises are missing.

Political know-how may be too much to expect from a tiny country that barely a year ago freed itself from a long tyranny.

A state of general well-being has created some apathy about coming to grips with such realistic rituals as elections.

"This is all like a happy dream which one doesn't want to awaken," says taxi driver Benjamin Olivo Rigaud, 54. "Even my youngest children can tell the difference in living between then and now. There is less suspicion, more friendship. We are happier."

Rigaud leaves an impression—so do many Dominicans—that he is giving voting a lot less thought than other essentials.

On Dec. 30 Dominicans are to elect a president and a new congress of 74 deputies and 27 senators.

A few fear that an undefinable something will prevent the elections. There is a chance voting may be postponed for purely mechanical reasons: 12.5-million ballots are still to be printed and distributed, and facilities for these are limited.

It is doubtful the elections will produce the strong personal leadership needed to keep the country moving ahead on an even keel.

Among seven candidates the two big presidential guns are Dr. Viriato Fiallo of the rightist National Civic Union and John Bosch of the Dominican Revolutionary party on the moderate left.

Fiallo, 67, a "country doctor" type, was the rallying symbol for the home forces that finally toppled the Trujillo dynasty. Bosch, 53, a white-haired double for actor Joseph Cotten, battled Trujillo from exile.

VOICE BETTER

Despite his 25 years abroad, Bosch's voice may be better than Fiallo's. For months he has been broadcasting a homey, chatty radio program aimed at the peasantry.

While Fiallo uses such terms as "integral revolution" and "technification," Bosch talks about the price of beans and sugar, the need for light industry—and the old standby: agrarian reform.

Almost all other parties seem united in their opposition to Fiallo's Civic Union, but they have not coalesced into a powerful single faction. Personal interests are believed to have outweighed all other considerations for a coalition. But there are strong suggestions of a possible unity slate embracing the Bosch party and one or two of the other left-center factions.

POPULARITY DOWN

Among the folks in the lush green Dominican countryside, the Fiallo party has undoubtedly lost popularity since 1961, when it was battling Trujillo openly. Among the less privileged, the Civic Union is considered representative of power and wealth and so viewed with the antipathy once reserved for the dissolved official Dominican party.

It would be folly to rule out the Fiallo party in the countryside, however. If money and organization win elections, it has won badly. It has both in depth.

This is one handicap that Bosch readily admits hurts his chances. His party also is hit by a deep internal rift.

Cargo Traffic High at Seaway Section

OTTAWA (AP) — Cargo traffic through the Montreal-Lake Ontario section of the St. Lawrence Seaway during October set a one-month record for the seaway.

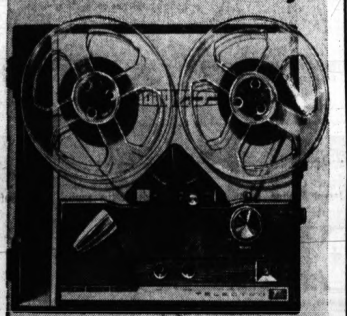

Movement of 3,873,000 tons topped by 43,000 tons the previous record, set only last May. It was 10 per cent higher than in October a year ago.

Total cargo movement in the river section this season, to the end of October, reached 22,164,000 tons and was almost 10 per cent higher than comparable 1961. Shipments through the Welland Canal also rose sharply this season to 30,369,000 tons — up 13 per cent from 1961.

The estimated dollar value of property damaged or destroyed by fire in the United States last year amounted to $1,072,824,000. In 1959 fire losses were only $275,102,000, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

Long-awaited class rings for the class of '64 arrived. Blue stones are set in 10-carat gold settings representing the school colors.

On the shank of the ring is the school crest, made up of a ship's wheel and log book and a skipper's hat. An anchor crossed by the Skipper's banner is engraved on the other shank.

Graduation numerals are also on the shank and the school name is engraved around the stone.

Standardized last year, the ring can be purchased in the small, or "princess", medium or large sizes.

Honor Students at PCH, PNH

Pontiac's two senior high schools shared the honors during Youth Appreciation Week last week as a student was picked from each school to attend a Detroit honor luncheon.

The week is sponsored by the Optimist Clubs all over the nation.

The Pontiac Optimists brought two outstanding students to attend a Nov. 14 dinner at the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit. The dinner honored outstanding youths from the state.

Picked were Ernest Humphreys, 17, of 730 E. Teunson Ave., selected from Pontiac Northern High School; and Susie Dawe, 17, of 43 Osceola Drive, from Pontiac Central High School.

The two were accompanied to the Detroit festivities by Pontiac Optimists President Glenn Rundle.

'63 pins this week. Normally purchased by the graduates in the spring, the small gold pins were purchased early to give the seniors more time to wear them.

Squads of enthusiastic cheerleaders from 11 area high schools attended a cheerleaders' clinic hosted last Saturday by the Waterford varsity cheerleading squad.

Each squad demonstrated some of its school's favorite cheers and chants. The girls swapped ideas for pep assembly skits and projects to boost school spirit.

A lunch of sloppy Joes, chips, salads, dessert and milk was served by the cafeteria staff.

Margaret St. Dennis, varsity cheerleading captain, was chairman and hostess of the clinic, aided by its sponsor, Mrs. Marg White.

COMMENDED
Senior Paul Villella has received commendation for his achievement on the National Merit Scholarship Test taken in his junior year.

Although not qualifying as a finalist in the scholarship program, Paul scored higher than other Waterford students.

In place of the traditional Thanksgiving assembly, which in the past has featured a play or skit, the music department presented songs and instrumental music for the coming holiday season.

Under the direction of Kenneth Preston, instrumental music.

Press Session in Chicago

PNH Sends 3 to Confab

BY SUSAN KILLEN
This year, Pontiac Northern High School is sending three delegates to the National Scholastic Press Association Conference.

Miss Anne Sheppard, the "Polaris" adviser; Susan Killen, "Polaris" associate editor; and Sally Mapley, editor-in-chief of the "Avalanche," plan to attend.

The conference is being held in Chicago, today through Saturday.

Northern's delegates were to have left Detroit Metropolitan Airport yesterday afternoon and are to return tomorrow.

The first event was to be a general convocation last night. Topic sessions will open at 9 a.m. today, and will run through tomorrow afternoon.

Subjects will cover practically everything necessary in editorial and business operation of school newspapers, yearbooks and magazines.

A get-acquainted dance will be held as part of the entertainment and there will be ample opportunity to observe commercial exhibits besides the displays of NSPA All-American books and newspapers.

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS
Because many delegates are making their first trip to Chicago, the NSPA arranged special tours of the city. Chinatown will be one of the stops, and delegates will see the city hall and curio shops. Hull House, founded by Jane Addams, will also be a point of interest.

The convention closes with a luncheon at which Arville Schaleben, executive editor of "The Milwaukee Journal" will be the speaker.

Then, the American Newspaper Publishers Association will make awards to the five high school papers in the nation which they have been chosen as pacesetters in their divisions.

In keeping with the spirit of Thanksgiving, an assembly was held at PNH on Wednesday.

At this assembly, the band presented several numbers, as did the choir. Then they joined in presenting "God of Our Fathers," a number which was very well received at the Fall Vocal Concert.

Mark 'Day' All Week at St. Fred

By SHEILA LANE

Thanksgiving may last only one day for some, but for the students of St. Frederick's High School it began Monday and ends tonight when the student council will present a fund-raising dance, "Pilgrims Pounce."

Monday morning, the students in cooperation with the senior class-sponsored project, donated gifts of food and money for Thanksgiving baskets.

Organizing the drive were Karen Papp and Judy Fitzpatrick, and the baskets were distributed by various members of the senior class.

During Mass on Monday, the students marched in procession with their gifts which were placed in baskets at the altar.

"Pilgrims Pounce," designed to highlight the Thanksgiving holiday and sponsored by the student council, will be held this evening in the parish hall.

The decorations, under the direction of Fred Landry, will put the students into an atmosphere of the first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrims and proceeds from the affair will aid the student council in carrying out its plans for an active and successful year.

Committee chairmen for the dance are: general chairman, Fred Landry; publicity, Sheila Lane; entertainment, Sue Lindgren; refreshments, Larry Walters; chaperones, Bridget Scully; and cleanup, Guy Soda and Terry Wright.

PCH Holds Thanksgiving Assembly

By JANE BIGLER

Thanksgiving was commemorated by a musical assembly at Pontiac Central High School this week.

On Wednesday morning the choir presented two assemblies of Thanksgiving music.

Directed by music instructor Grant Mc Hope and Comfort, "Hayride," and "Almighty God of Our Fathers."

The student body then blended its voices with those of the choir to sing the "Prayer of Thanksgiving" and "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come."

Joan Grahek acted as narrator at these assemblies.

Seniors have been busy filling out college applications the last few weeks in anticipation of next year.

Principal Francis Staley has reminded students that it is most necessary that these applications be completed soon.

Due to the time needed to process these applications and also the limited enrollment at some schools, early application is the wisest step, he said.

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED
Scholarships are also being offered at this time. The number of these is limited, however, and it is up to the student to find out from counselors which ones are available to him.

Recently announced were the semifinalists for the Americans Abroad Program. They are juniors Nancy Jack, Ralph Koprince, Denise Patton and Cheryl Wilton.

The final selection of a candidate will be made in the late spring. This student will be eligible to stay in any country except those behind the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

The American Field Service club has been busy lately raising money to help finance this Americans Abroad Program.

Christmas cards were sold by the club last week and it has recently announced that flavored mints will be sold on Thursdays during the various lunch hours.

Chocolate mints are sold on the other days.

Junior Dick Taylor was recently cited for a speech which he made at the annual Youth Safety Conference held at Pontiac Northern on Nov. 10.

The drama club of West Bloomfield High School will present the play, "Through a Glass Darkly," at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 6.

The play, written by Stanley Richards, is the story of a Jewish family in which the father and son both have very definite feelings and often clash.

The mother is the one who always tries to keep peace in the family.

When the son marries a Protestant girl, the contrasting feelings between father and son are brought to a head.

The students appearing in the play are Jan Clark, Cemery Papi-neau, Louella Elya, John Kern, John Devers, Richard Kelly, and Jim Patterson.

It is being directed by Connie Des Antels, a senior.

Everyone in the play is working hard in order to make the first drama club project of the year a success.

The play is only one of several projects planned by the drama club for the coming year. The club has also planned a trip to Michigan State University.

The club members are working toward membership in the National Thespian Society.

Senior girls of St. Michael High School participated in a fashion show, sponsored by a Pontiac Mall store last Friday.

Before the show, Mrs. Helene Freund gave a series of instructions on the use of cosmetics, the care of the skin, proper poise, and the selection of a wardrobe adapted to one's purse.

Featured in this show were Peggy Livingston, Judy Wirth, Sandy Hockstead, and Pat Hogan.

In order to stimulate interest in one's vocation in life, Father Fernigone, assistant pastor of St. Vincent's, Pontiac, gave vocation talks throughout the building Nov. 14.

Questions and answers concluded the talks in the various class rooms.

James Bush, Field Investigator for the city of Detroit, Inter-racial Council, and vice president for the Catholic Inter-racial Council was guest speaker at the St. Michael Assembly last Friday.

Racial problems confronting our country today were the theme of his talk.

The equality of man as acknowledged by church and state was thoroughly discussed.

A note of thanks must go to the St. Michael grade school football team which won the league championship and gave the students a holiday.

Village, Heirs of Property Agree

Will Level Condemned James Hotel

ROCHESTER — The 115-year-old James Hotel here will be razed within 60 days as the result of an agreement reached in Circuit Court by attorneys for the village and heirs to the property.

Located on the corner of West University Drive and Main Street, the building was condemned as unsafe more than a year ago and plans were immediately initiated to raze the structure.

However, a verbal and legal battle over the hotel's fate has continued since then between representatives of the village and the Lottie C. Smith estate, which includes the hotel.

L. C. Birch, attorney for the estate, and village attorney Arthur Cox have agreed to a "consent decree" in Circuit Court.

Under terms of this agreement the hotel owners have the "opportunity" to tear down the building within 60 days. If they don't, the village can raze the building and assess up to $1,500 of the cost as taxes.

Asked when the owners would begin demolition of the hotel, Birch said "sometime within the next 60 days. The heirs never were really opposed to tearing it down," he stated.

The complications arose because the former estate administrator was opposed to having it razed, according to Birch.

An informal agreement was reached in August between Councilman Roscoe Martin, former village attorney, and estate representatives. It would have given the village use of the property until sufficient revenue was obtained to reimburse the village for demolition costs.

However, no signing of a formal agreement followed and after a long delay in beginning the demolition, Cox was informed that the heirs were "in no hurry to tear the building down" and that no settlement could be made out of court.

Wolverine Lake Rejuvenation Will Be Launched by Survey

WOLVERINE LAKE — The preliminary phase of a project aimed at rejuvenating Wolverine Lake will be under way next week, according to Deputy Oakland County Drain Commissioner Robert J. Evans.

Evans said petitions presented by residents of this village have been validated, assuring the county that the lake dredging and clearing is sought by the necessary two-thirds majority.

For the purpose of levying a special assessment tax, Evans said county engineers next week will map out a "benefited area" of property owners who live on the shoreline or who have access to the recreational facilities of the lake.

The project marks the first time in Oakland County that a community has taken advantage of a 1961 state law that provides for establishment of an assessment district in an improvement of this type.

The estimated cost of the project cannot be determined until more detailed engineering surveys are completed, Evans said.

However, the Wolverine Lake Village Council has allocated $1,000 as an engineering deposit for the project.

The money comes from a village weed control fund. Councilmen agreed to put the $1,000 toward the lake rehabilitation fund since it will discourage the growth of weeds in the lake.

Leader Dog School Gets Trainer Back

AVON TOWNSHIP — Because the Air Force decided it can get along without Airman 2c. Richard Bozynski, between 18 and 21 blind persons will lead more useful lives in 1963.

Bozynski, 26, of 1069 S. Rochester Road, was one of the Air Force reservists called to active duty with the 403rd Troop Carrier Wing during the peak of the Cuban crisis.

But today, he is a civilian again while most other members of the wing remain on duty.

Bozynski was released from duty this week because of a special skill — his ability to train "seeing eye" dogs at the famous Leader Dogs for the Blind School.

"Bozynski is one of those unique cases," said Col. Garl F. King, 403rd commander, who recommended that Bozynski be released while the rest of the 403rd stays on active duty, possibly for a year.

Only about 20 men in the country are qualified as leader dog instructors. It would take three years to train a replacement for Bozynski at the school.

"You have to think like a dog" to be a leader dog trainer, Bozynski said. Experts, backing this statement, say that few jobs require such patience, understanding and perfect timing.

Bozynski, while emphasizing he is not complaining about being in the Air Force, estimated it would take him about six months to regain his skill if he stayed away from the school for a year.

REQUESTED BY SCHOOL

Officials of the leader dog school, citing Bozynski's "unusual ability," were the ones who asked for his release.

In a letter to the Air Force, Harold L. Pocklington, executive director of the school, said,

Bozynski Welcomed Back by "Student"

"We depend on him (Bozynski) to train 18 to 21 leader dog teams per year."

His loss, Pocklington said, would "seriously impair" the school's production.

Going back to the school won't mean any great monetary gain for Bozynski. Leader dog trainers do not draw the high pay suggested by the degree of skill required. Most of them, especially the top-ranked ones, work for a charitable institution like the local school.

In addition, there are long-dancing permits for the Pine Knob Ski Club.

Ski Club Wins License

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The Independence Township Board this week approved a Class C liquor license with food and hours. Telling about his work, Bo-zynski said it takes 16 weeks to turn a household pet into a leader dog.

Thanks to the Air Force and his own special talent, Bozynski was to start training a new class today, his first since being called to active duty last month.

50,000 Cuban Refugees Now in U.S.

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban refugees, concentrated in Miami during the early stages of their flight from Fidel Castro's dictatorship, are scattered throughout the nation.

When Fernando Hernandez, 25, left this month with his wife and 3-month old daughter to start life anew in Los Angeles, he became the 50,000 refugee resettled from Miami to other cities.

The 50,000 are in every state except Alaska, and in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. More than twice that number remain in the Miami area.

More than 2,000 babies have been born in the United States of Cuban refugee parents. They are native American citizens. Thousands of other babies have been brought from Cuba by plane and boat.

"The Cuban refugee situation has wider impact than any other such movement in the last decade," said resettlement director J. Arthur Lazell, who also worked with the Hungarian refugees in 1956-58.

When the day comes the Cubans can return—and refugees generally believe it will not be long how many will go home?

MANY STILL STAY

Lazell believes 10 to 15 per cent will remain in the United States. That means well over 12,000 in Miami and between 5,000 to 7,500 elsewhere. Other estimates are higher.

Since most exiles have refugee rather than immigrant status, congressional action may be required to facilitate their continued U.S. residence. Such action was taken for Hungarians in 1955, and 35,000 still are in America.

Uncle Sam has spent some $60 million in relief for the Cubans. More than $2 million monthly goes to the Miami area.

Federal relief payments amount to a $100 maximum per family, with the average $80, and a $60 maximum per individual, averaging $54. There are additional state food grants.

To help Cubans resettle outside refugee-congested Miami, where most cannot find jobs, the government pays plane fare and $100 per family to get started.

New York State leads in absorbing refugees, with 35.5 per cent of the total resettlements. There has been a westward trend. Recent relocation flights have taken 115 Cubans to Indianapolis, 111 to Kansas City, 102 to Dallas-Fort Worth, 96 to Los Angeles, 90 to Denver, 38 to Albuquerque, N.M.

SPONSORS GROUPS

Cities wishing refugees get them through a sponsoring group, usually a community, civic or religious body, which contacts the Cuban Refugee Center in Miami.

Resettlement proceeded at more than 1,000 weekly until the Cuban crisis. These figures show the trend: 1,254 resettlements the week ending Oct. 12; 894, Oct. 19; 878, Oct. 26; 597, Nov. 2; 600 Nov. 9.

Lazell attributed the dip to be life among exiles that they would be going home soon, and to a decline in arrivals from Cuba. Total registrations at the refugee center exceed 150,000.

Halt of airline service from Havana because of the crisis plus the sea blockade slowed the refugee influx to a trickle.

There is brisk activity in a former refugee center warehouse, where Cubans volunteer for the U.S. Army or Navy. Jose Miro Cardona, Cuban revolutionary Council president, reported 2,100 are in the U.S. armed forces. Thousands of others who are over-age have signed up in the hope of getting in later.

'Methods of Reading a Bore to Children'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A reading expert declared today, "We are boring children to death with the way we teach them to read."

Prof. Ruth G. Strickland of Indiana University said boys in particular need more of a challenge in reading.

"Boys don't play house," she said in an interview, "they talk about space travel and rockets. So we give them a vocabulary of 'oh-oh-oh, look, look, look.' They don't need it."

Prof. Strickland said one of her many pet peeves is the idea that all children should learn to read from the same type of book.

"The reading books always concern an upper-middle class family," she said. "A father, mother, boy, girl, and a pet dog. This isn't true to the life that many children know."

ON HIGHER LEVEL
"We need much more experimentation to see at what levels children from different backgrounds can operate. One thing is certain: They all can operate at a much higher level than they are now."

Prof. Strickland, here for a national convention of English teachers, said, "Textbook publish-

What's Happened to the American Feminine Touch?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—What on earth has happened to American women?
This anguished cry is raised by Dewey Martin, back in this country after two years abroad. He is pained by changes he has noticed in the ladies of the land. "It's not the styles nor the hairdos; it's the attitude," the actor declared. "After you've been away for a while, you notice it immediately. I'm not saying it's true of all American women. There are still many around, I'm happy to say, who remain feminine and appealing. But the others—restaurant of mine when I got back and I was sitting at the bar alone, talking to the bartender. I heard some voices at the end of the bar. They sounded like a bunch of men comparing golf scores. But I looked down and saw that they were four well-dressed women, sitting at the bar and getting stoned.

BEER AND BOWLING BALLS
"Another time I went down to Anahelm to judge a contest. I happened to drop in at a bowling alley at nine in the morning and found it swarming with women. The manager told me it happened every day; the women got their husbands off to work and their children off to school, then came to the alley to bowl and drink beer.

"I notice it everywhere I look. American women are trying to become like the men's world. I see nothing wrong with women who choose careers and stick with them. But I think it's wrong for women who become wives and mothers and still insist on competing with men.
"Women in other countries don't do that."
Dewey is inclined to get a little glassy-eyed when he starts to think of such things. He has spent some time in Japan, still owns a house in Tahiti and knows Europe from long visits.
SCHOoled FROM CHILDHOOD
"There is no one more feminine than the Tahitian girl, or the Japanese," he said dreamily. "They are schooled from childhood in the ways of pleasing a man.
"Even the prosperity of the Common Market hasn't changed European women. They are still utterly feminine. They are content to be wives and mothers."

Dewey makes quite dangerously for a guy who is back in this country to stay. He has spent a large part of the last decade abroad, but isn't one of those runaway actors—not from taxes, anyway.
"I'm just wild to travel," he said. "I've always worked just enough to get money to travel again. This time I'm going to settle down to the business of being a movie star."

Junior Editors Quiz on TYPEWRITERS

KEYBOARD IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER

QUESTION: Why aren't letters on typewriters in order?

ANSWER: The first typewriter that really worked was invented in 1867 by Christopher Latham Sholes, assisted by Carlos S. Glidden and Samuel W. Soule. It was a crude machine, but the three men worked hard to perfect it and it was put on the market in 1874 as the Remington typewriter.
The inventors realized that the typewriter keys should be arranged to make it as easy as possible for the typist to operate them. Certain letters and words are used a great deal more than others; certain fingers are naturally stronger than others. The inventors experimented a long time and finally came up with what seemed to them the best arrangement.

This system proved to be practical, for it is almost exactly the same as that now used generally. Recently, careful studies have been made to find out if it really is a perfect system. Some have felt that the important vowels should be more to the center.

But so many typists have been trained to use this system and so many typewriters built with it, that it seems doubtful if it will ever be changed. One of the diagrams shows which fingers strike which letters; also that is the order in which they actually appear on the keyboard.

FOR YOU TO DO: We show a keyboard with alphabetical arrangement. Trace the word "the" on this and compare with the same word shown in Sholes' arrangement on the two hands. To find out the strongest fingers, put your hand down and lift each finger without moving the others. You'll find how strong the index fingers are and why they are given so many letters to handle in the "touch system," which typists can use without looking.

Costume Jewelry Stolen From Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Anna Maria Alberghetti's home and two others nearby were burglarized during the night, police reported Thursday.
The burglars apparently got nothing but inexpensive costume jewelry from Miss Alberghetti's home. But store owner Leroy Mundorf said $21,138 worth of jewelry was taken from his house and Dr. Gerald Labiner said a medicine bag containing $823 worth of instruments and drugs was missing from his home.
Victoria Alberghetti, mother of the actress, said her daughter is in New York and has her valuable jewelry with her. The thieves evidently got no more than about $11 worth of costume jewelry, Mrs. Alberghetti said.

Fox Escapes From Zoo for Children

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Vandals smashed locks on cages in the children's zoo in Van Saun Park Thursday, but the only inmate to escape was Rennie the fox.
Attendant William Serence discovered the vandalism when he arrived for work.
He found several emus, a Shetland pony, a llama and a Mexican burro milling around in an open area, uncertain of their new freedom.
Serence herded the animals back into confinement and then took a head count that showed only Rennie was missing.
The zookeeper said Rennie likes three meals a day.
"We'll just put his food out and he'll come back."

How Old's Route 66?

STANTON, Mo. 676—Merrimac Caverns here is on Route 66. A tourist asked cave director Lester B. Dill: "Which was here first, Route 66 or the Cave?"

Dr. Wayne Brandstadt Says:

Parents Can Act to Curb Thumb Sucking

Infants satisfied by nursing at the breast do not usually suck their thumbs.

So, if your breast-fed baby does start to suck his thumb, the best policy is to let him stay at the breast about 10 minutes longer at each feeding.

Thumb sucking is more common in bottle-fed infants because, when a baby has learned to empty his little in 10 minutes, he will prefer his thumb to an empty nipple.

Again, the answer is to lengthen the feeding time. This can be done by getting nipples with smaller holes or getting nipples with no holes and making tiny holes with a needle.

If, in spite of these measures, your baby still sucks his thumb try not to show concern. He will almost surely stop of his own accord before he reaches five.

Restraints, punishment, and putting red pepper on his thumb will do more harm than good.

Some parents give their children pacifiers. Although some doctors do not approve of them, most are tolerant. They often take the place of the child's thumb — and sometimes it is easier to withdraw a child from his pacifier permanently than to make him stop sucking his thumb.

There are two distinct types of thumb sucking. The gentle insertion of the thumb part way into the mouth then sucking it mildly, usually at bedtime, is of no significance.

But the other type — insertion of the whole thumb deep into the mouth and sucking it vigorously for long periods — suggests that the baby is overly tired, feels ill or neglected, or that he is frightened, angry or frustrated.

In this case it is necessary to treat, not the thumb sucking, but the reason the child has to seek comfort in this manner.

Although it is true that persistent thumb sucking in the infant may push the upper front teeth outward and the lower front teeth inward, when the habit is stopped the teeth will gradually return to their normal position.

If, however, the child continues this habit after he is six, which is rare, displacement of the new permanent teeth may lead to an inability to bite properly. Prolonged corrective treatment may be needed.

IS HE HAPPY?

All authorities have concluded that the happy, loved child does not suck his thumb to any alarming degree but that any show of alarm, even if thumb sucking appears to be excessive, may aggravate what is probably a harmless activity.

Peace Corps Needs Million School Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans have been asked to contribute one million textbooks for use in African schools where U.S. Peace Corps volunteers are teaching.

The Peace Corps Director, Sargent Shriver, made the appeal Thursday following his return last Sunday from a three-week inspection trip of Peace Corps operations in Africa.

A spokesman for Shriver said the National Education Association had been asked to spearhead the drive.

The books will be screened by the NEA or a similar organization and will have to be approved by the recipient country.

Port Authority Discussion Due

Want State Support for Facility Projects

ST. JOSEPH (UPI) — A public hearing will be held Dec. 4 to discuss the possibility of establishing a state port authority to support local port developments.

State legislators have formed a committee on port development, headed by Gail Handy, R-Eau Claire, and a series of public meetings have been scheduled throughout the state to determine the amount of statewide interest and the feasibility of such a port authority.

If formed, the port authority would provide backing to local port development programs. It would not, however, provide disbursement of funds to a local development.

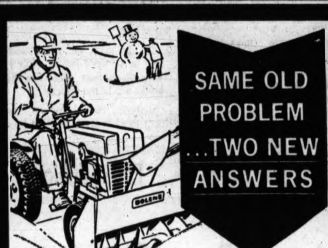

Demonstration of local interest with state support would allow communities to bond their programs at a lower interest rate due to a state support, a representative of the committee said.

It would work much in the same way the State Department of Public Construction supports school bond issues.

Proponents of a port here say the development would serve an area east of Kalamazoo and as far south as Indianapolis. It would, they said, be to the benefit of growers, especially fruit farmers.

Haul Lots of Freight

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Association of American Railroads reports the average railroad freight car traveled a record 1,028,990 miles — about 41 times around the world — before being sidetracked for emergency hot box repairs.

PC Cage Picture in SVC 'Green,' but PNH Has I-L Title Ambitions

Arthur Hill 5 Big Favorite in Valley Race

Only Two Lettermen Returns for Chiefs' Cage Race

The word is out. Watch Saginaw Arthur Hill as he is expected to lead the cage competition this winter.

The Lumberjacks have height and scoring ability to go with the experience gained last year during a third place finish behind State Class A Champion Saginaw and Pontiac Central's Chiefs.

Arthur Hill has 6-10 Craig Dill and 6-4 John Janssens from last year's squad for rebounding and Keith Kunderling is expected to repeat as a high-scoring guard. Kunderling was selected to the second team All-Valley quintet last year.

Intra-city rival Saginaw isn't expected to repeat as state champion but the Trojans may cause Arthur Hill some trouble in the SVC. Gone are the top schoolboy cager in the state, Ernie Thompson, son, and guard Brian Best from the champions; but Lovell Humes returns as one of the circuit's better backcourt men.

Saginaw Valley

PC will have one of its greenest teams at the start of the season and coach Art Van Ryzin doesn't have the necessary height to stay with Arthur Hill. He'll have to develop some offensive punch with a degree of consistency if the Chiefs are to remain in the first division.

The only two letter winners returning are Ray Sain and Al Galbraith, neither of whom was a starter last year.

Two 200-pounders may give some help on the boards, 6-3 McKinley Jones and 6-4 Jim Johnson. The Chiefs, also, will require a playmaker to lead from untested candidates.

Bay City Handy has big Clay Williams returning at 6-4 along with four other experienced performers but lacks any consistent help for it all-around star. If Coach James Reinhold can develop a few of his newcomers, the team could develop into a dark horse in the race.

Flint Northern has six lettermen back led by 6-4 Fred Duncan and could provide very troublesome opposition to most of the loop opponents. There is not a top scorer returning from last season but coach Jack Mariette has material to work with.

Flint Southwestern has big Carl Cemek back on its front line but otherwise is an unknown quantity as are Midland's Chemics and usually speedy Bay City Central.

1962-63 Pre-Season Basketball Preview

Clawson-Troy Seen Oakland-A Choices

Much the same as in football, Troy Clawson is expected to lead the fight out for the Oakland A's title in basketball with Clawson favored to turn the tables on the Colts.

Defending champion Fitzgerald is expected to lead the Colts.

Both Clawson and Troy are blessed with height but the Trojans get the nod because of their superior experience. Tom McArthur returns for the Trojans with a 12-point average as does John Miller.

Troy has five lettermen returning plus 6-4 junior Ted Bauer on hand for rebounding strength. The Colts won 16 of 19 games last season and should set a good pace this year.

Oak Park could rate a definite dark horse in the race with good blend of height, shooting and experience. Al Ruby with a 16-point average last season leads seven returnees who also include 6-3 Mike Rappaport. Dennis Pink is counted on for backline help.

SIX LETTERMEN
Avondale has six lettermen returning but lacks the one big man in need for rebounding and there is no indication that coach Dick Bye has a consistent scorer he can count on.

Madison also lacks a strong offense but does have height and experience in its favor.

Lake Orion is an unknown quantity but is expected to finish in the middle of the pack.

Shrine Starts Season Tonight

With five returning lettermen, Royal Oak Shrine gets the basketball season started tonight when the Knights play host to St. Florian of Hamtramck.

Leading the Shrine attack are 6-2 center Mike Young, one of the team's top scorers last year behind Tom Moores who has graduated.

Mike Haggerty and Jeff Poley both standing 6-4 are expected to start at the forward slots, with Bob Pelletier and Jerry Swartz at the guards.

Newcomers include Jim Seymour, 6-1 forward, Mike Wentworth 5-9 guard, Larry Dupke, 5-10 guard and Ron Ranieri, 6-1 center.

Capac Power in Thumb; Oxford Hopes for Best

Capac is expected to have everything its own way in the Southern Thumb basketball race this season while a hot fight between North Branch and Oxford is predicted in the South Central League.

Only one team in the two leagues will swing into action tonight, Armada, a team with seven lettermen returning from a squad that finished fifth last season with an 8-10 mark, will visit Marysville. The two teams didn't meet last year.

Capac had nine returning lettermen from last year's team which won 21 of 22 starts. John Scheuer is a 6-4 junior who led the team in scoring last year and will be assisted this season by Dan Fitz and John Stanoliuk. Ken Kobayashi is another starter who is returning, along with Ken Adamski, 6-2 junior forward.

CONTENDERS

Other first division contenders in the Thumb loop are New Haven led by Dwight Lee who averaged 12 points a game last year; Brown City which has two of its leading scorers back (Alvin Martin and Ken Miller) from the team that finished third last season; and Anchor Bay where four lettermen return, including 6-3 Larry Teller.

Memphis coach Frank Lercchen has high hopes for his squad which is blessed with two 6-4 returnees, Gary Lynch and Don Burns, and guard Mike Santo who was a top scorer for Memphis last year with 170 points. Neither Dryden nor Almont is believed to have the height or experience to cause much trouble to the leaders this season.

Much of Oxford's success

SWITCH — Two year veteran Dave Herreich switches shots at West Bloomfield from football to basketball as the Lakers hope to make a strong bid on the court as they did on the gridiron in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Cranes Lean on New Crop

Faced with the loss of seven lettermen and only one returnee coach Hugh Davison of Cranbrook isn't fretting.

He has high hopes in the crop of young players moving up to varsity status along with four transfers which will give the Cranes some height.

Lone varsity returnee is Joe Kimble a 5-6 guard. At forwards he has a pair of 6-3 juniors in Bill Estes and John Koppich with Jim Bailey, 6-5 and Doug Fisher, 6-4, vying for the center spot.

Another forward prospect is 6-4 soph Buzz Mieros, with 5-9 Larry Willey going after a guard spot. Kimble is the only senior.

The Cranes open at home, December 4th against Madison.

3 Lettermen Form Emmanuel Nucleus

The three lettermen back at Pontiac Emmanuel Christian have two years of experience behind them, but whether this will be enough to carry Emmanuel past its 5-11 mark of last year, remains to be seen.

Jim and Jack Gillespie, a pair of 5-6 junior guards and Ralph Wingate a 6-1 forward are the returnees. Aubrey Grogan a 6-1 soph center and Dave Spiegel a 6-0 junior forward are the leading newcomers.

Seaholm-Groves First to Start

Two neighborhood rivals who anticipate having a lot to say about the races in their respective leagues will tangle tonight in Birmingham for the only time this season.

Birmingham Seaholm will visit Birmingham Groves seeking revenge for a surprise 45-40 beating the Maples suffered last season.

Groves, which tied for second in the Tri-River Conference last season with a 5-5 mark, expects a tougher time in its Eastern Michigan League opponent this season.

The Falcons' coach Tom Carson has announced a starting lineup of five lettermen. Russ Blitzer, who led the Groves' scoring last season with 233 points in 18 games, will handle the other forward spot while John Slater is expected to play center. Jay Shutt and Chuck Hutton will play guards.

In the pivot for the Falcons will be 6-3 Fred Bailey while 6-3 Bill Stephenson and Jim Kokones will be the guards.

Seaholm, picked for anywhere from third to sixth position by the

East Michigan

EML coaches, will start four lettermen and a 6-3 newcomer, Mark Fritz, at forward. Bruce Nyberg will handle the other forward spot while John Slater is expected to play center. Jay Shutt and Chuck Hutton will play guards.

Port Huron and Ferndale are picked one-two by the EML coaches with 6-4 Chuck Ingram giving the Huron squad a slight edge. The Eagles are blessed with a big front line, however, and may be able to balance out the threat that Ingram poses. He scored 361 points last year.

Bruce Rodman, 6-4, Bob Falardeau, 6-3, and Truman McNeal, 6-2, will cause trouble for the Ferndale opponents and returning starters Jeff Hicks and Don Brooks give added experience to the backline. The Eagles also have 6-3 Jerry Tarsan.

At Hazel Park can find some scoring punch, it could be tough. Two 6-4 lettermen (Dennis Duncan and John Michalski) are included among the 10 experienced returnees this season and 6-2 junior Hubert Hyre should help them off the boards, also.

There are ten lettermen returning to Roseville, also, and the George Kokimki-coached team is expected to make some noise in its first official EML action.

Royal Oak Kimball and East Detroit both suffer from a lack of experience while Mr. Clemens should improve on his 2-10 league record last season if 6-4 Bob Davis continues to improve. East Detroit, a perennially strong contender for league honors will be hurting unless coach Fred Lee can get top mileage out of his newcomers.

Clarkston coach Don Mault also lacks rebounding strength and is counting on experience and hustle to offset this deficit. His squad tied for fourth last season. Brighton, Clarenceville and Milford are expected to wage a three-way struggle for the sixth slot in the W-O standings.

Wayne-Oakland

Local Parochial Cage Hopes Bright

Pontiac's two parochial squads are apparently having a lot to say in the Northwest Parochial League's basketball race this winter.

Both St. Frederick and St. Michael are figured to finish in the top three with St. Fred's a strong choice to cop the crown.

Gene Wright is blessed with backboard power in 6-4 Tom Bradley, 6-3 Chuck Dean and 6-2 Mike Dean all returning. Fred Medina and Lowry Holland lead experience in the backcourt. The Shamrocks do not have a strong bench at present, however.

POPE/RETURNERS

St. Mike coach Jim Niebauer will need to develop an additional experienced big man to spell 6-5

Mike Pope. Larry Sonnenberg is expected to provide scoring punch to aid Pope on offense but additional height is lacking, unless 6-1 Mike DeConick can pick up the slack.

Another squad expected to fight for the top spot is Orchard

Parochial

Royal Oak St. Mary has six lettermen returning from its co-championship squad but needs to develop scoring punch for this season. Rick Burt is expected to provide offense for the Farmington. Our Lady of Sorrows squad this season. He hit at a 16-point clip last year.

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes has All-County Class C-D performer George Sharpe back, while Detroit St. Agatha began its season Tuesday with a non-league 65-63 triumph over St. Martin's.

Waterford has some height returning in 6-4 Bob Bender, but needs scoring punch and more front-line experience to make a run for the crown.

Walled Lake didn't win a basketball game last year and most of those players have departed. If newcomers Bob Gelpier, 6-5, and 6-1 Doug Walters can provide some backboard strength to complement the expected scoring punch of letterman Bob Tuck and Jim Boome, a promising newcomer, coach Jim Horen will look for some victories to sweeten what could be another long season.

Tri-County

although Ed Battani at Romeo has an edge with six returning letter winners.

Senior center Jim Compton is Romeo's biggest holdover at 6-3 while John Hanley poured the ball through the hoop last season at a 16-point clip per contest. The Bulldogs finished third last season, tied with Kettering. The Captains have four letter-

Lake St. Mary which tied for first last year at 8-4. Six lettermen return to Fr. John Rakoczy, including 6-5 John Stolicich and 6-1 senior Stan Sawicki. Larry Janiszewski provides experience in the backcourt.

No Clear Cut Choice in Tri-County Loop

Huskies Face Loop Baffle From Falcons

Experience, Height Insure Farmington Shot at Crown

Pontiac Northern and Farmington High Schools are expected to wage a strong battle for the Inter-Lakes League basketball title this season with the league's four remaining teams considered uncertain quantities.

The return of six lettermen including the league's leading shot maker last season make the Huskies' chances look good. Gary Hayward hit at a 16-point clip during the 1961-62 campaign and is expected to improve that mark this season.

Hayward, at 6-2, should have rebounding help from 6-3 Wayne Daniels and 6-14 Dean Souden.

Inter-Lakes

and Wayne Thomas. In addition, coach Dick Hall may find a place for tall sophomore newcomer Roger Hayward.

Lettermen Dave Bihl and Mike Burlew are counted on for experience in the Huskies' title backcourt. Last year Northern tied for third with a 6-4 mark in the I-L. Hall lost four lettermen from that squad.

FALCONS THREAT

Farmington bases its hopes on its height advantage. The Falcons tied for first last season and had a 12-4 mark. Seven experienced returnees are on hand for Jack Quigley's first season at the helm.

Heading the list is Chuck Gadd, a 6-3 All-County Class A choice last year who has grown an inch this season. Walt Grimalda stands 6-4 and led the Farmington squad in scoring last year with a 12-point average. Another 6-4 returnee is forward Russ Cleveland while 6-7 junior Neil Warring is challenging.

Berkley's defending co-champions were hurt by graduation and coach Ace Zographos has a rebuilding job facing him. Scoring punch is lacking unless returnees Dick Kakkuri, John A. White and Nick Nelger can pick up the slack.

Southfield coach Bob Neff must find some experience and height to offset the graduation of 14 lettermen who helped the Blue Jays finish third last year with PNH. The Southfield squad closed its schedule with four wins in five league starts and could repeat its late season drive again this year.

Senior center Joe Andrews provides most of the height for the Blue Jays at 6-4, but 6-2 Bob Stevens may see a lot of action if he develops rapidly in his first varsity season.

Waterford has some height returning in 6-4 Bob Bender, but needs scoring punch and more front-line experience to make a run for the crown.

Walled Lake didn't win a basketball game last year and most of those players have departed. Second place Lapeer, also, finds itself lacking experience and height, and coach Gene Hepinall doesn't have a reliable scorer threat at this time.

L'Anse Creuse lacks experience and isn't considered a title threat.

Three County Players on Class A State 11

Three Oakland County prep football players are on the Associated Press All-State Class A second team.

End John Denison of Troy, Walled Lake tackle Jim Bales and center Bob Dechow of Ferndale were honored as the 22nd annual AP team was announced today.

The Class A first team is noted for fleetness and quick-striking ability rather than beef and pure power.

Wally Post was a terrific pinch hitter for Cincinnati this year. With nine hits in 27 at bats he hit .333 and drove home 12 runs. He hit three pinch home runs.

Chuck Meneffe, whose touchdown passing beat the game after game in Ann Arbor's unbeaten run, is the Class A quarterback. Ted Murray, a 185-pounder who provided Meneffe with blocking up front, is one of the two tackles.

FAST BACKFIELD

Meneffe has a lightning fast backfield with which to work his clock-beating adventures. In it are Willie Jones of seventh-ranked Monroe, Jesse Fleming of second-ranked Battle Creek Central and Mike Cleary of Flint Southwestern's Saginaw Valley champs.

The line has fast, lanky ends to receive Meneffe's passes and mazy blockers to protect him and open holes for the runners.

Ren Gauthier, a 6-1 receiver from Escanaba, and 4-Clayton Whitte of Bay City Handy are the ends. Each weighs 185 and runs a sparkling pass pattern.

Center Mike Depero of Flint Central and guard Bob Koren of Kalamazoo Central are the heavies at 205 pounds. Roger (Rocky) Rosema, a 195-pound junior from Grand Rapids Central, is Murray's running mate at tackle. The other guard is 190-pound Ben DeBolt of Bay City Central. Rosema is the lone junior on the first team.

Carter's Brilliant Rally Keeps Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Carter, who has won four of the five World's Match-Game Bowling Championships, appears determined to make it five out of six.

The 36-year-old St. Louis bowler, after one of the most brilliant performances in the tournament's history, remained in the top spot today as the 16 finalists started their third day of match-game competition.

The $48,000 tourney winds up Sunday, with $7,500 to the winner. Carter, temporarily dislodged from first place by Billy Weir of St. Louis, came roaring back in the final four games Thursday night against Glenn Allison of St. Louis.

AVERAGED 251
The defending champion, who also won the World's titles in 1960, 1969 and 1967, first in a dazzling series of 1,004, an average of 251, to sweep the 4-gam-

block from Allison, who posted

Carter's total, made by games of 238, 268, 241 and 257, was the second high in the tournament's history and only seven pins lower than the record 1,011 he shot in 1961. The 25-game winning right-hander was recently voted the Cy Young Award as baseball's 1962 outstanding pitcher.

TEEN-AGE STAR

There also was excitement in the women's division, with most of the attention centered on former champion Marion Ledewig, the Grand Rapids, Mich., grandmother, and a teen-age shooter from Kansas City, Judy Audsley. Miss Audsley, 16, is the youngest bowler ever to compete in the World's finals.

Mrs. Ledewig held a slim lead after 21 games over Miss Audsley, who is 5-feet-1 and weighs 105 pounds, with 97.18 points to 96.41. Donna Zimmerman of Akron, Ohio, was third with 95.19 points.

Wills Named Most Valuable for National

NEW YORK (AP) — Maury Wills, mercury-footed shortstop of the Los Angeles Dodgers and the first major leaguer in modern baseball to steal 100 bases in a season, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player of 1962 today.

The 30-year-old son of a Baptist minister won in a close race with Willie Mays, the brilliant center fielder of the champion San Francisco Giants. Wills drew 209 votes to 223 for Mays in the annual poll of a 25-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

It was the fourth time in the last five years that the award went to a shortstop. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs won in 1958 and 1959 and Dick Groat of Pittsburgh now with St. Louis in 1960. Ironically, prior to 1958, only one shortstop, Marty Marion of St. Louis in 1944, had been honored since the MVP was created in 1931.

THIRD PLACE

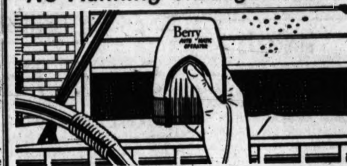

Dodger outfielder-third baseman Tommy Davis, the league's batting and runs batted in champion, finished third with 175 votes this time. Fourth with 164 votes was Frank Robinson, slugging Cincinnati outfielder and last year's winner.

A third dodger, pitcher Don Drysdale, finished fifth with 85 votes. The 25-game winning right-hander was recently voted the Cy Young Award as baseball's 1962 outstanding pitcher.

Stan Musial, the indestructible "Old Man" of the St. Louis Cardinals, just made the top ten. Stan, The Man, completing his 20th complete season in the majors, at age 42, drew 19 votes for tenth place after hitting .330. Henry Aaron, Milwaukee's brilliant outfielder, finished sixth, followed by pitcher Jack Sanford, Giants; pitcher Bob Purkey, Reds and outfielder Frank Howard, Dodgers. Thus the Dodgers, who were beaten for the pennant in a playoff with the Giants, landed four players among the top ten.

Muskegon Over Huron routed Port Huron 8-2 last night in an International Hockey League game here.

DANIEL C. DEVINE

Named Aide to Prosecutor

Attorney for Probate Court Moves Up

An attorney for the Oakland County Probate Court will move upstairs Jan. 1 — from the Probate Court's first floor offices in the County Courthouse to the fifth floor office of the county prosecutor.

Daniel C. Devine, 28, of Detroit will join Prosecutor George F. Taylor's staff of assistant prosecutors, Taylor announced.

Devine's appointment will fill a staff vacancy created when J. Robert Sterling resigned Oct. 19 to enter private practice in Birmingham.

Taylor's staff will still be one short on Jan. 1.

A newly appointed assistant prosecutor post will be added at that time, and Taylor has yet to find an attorney to fill it.

Devine is a 1956 graduate of Notre Dame University and a 1961 graduate of the Detroit College of Law. He has been a Probate Court attorney since Oct. 22.

Salary of the new assistant prosecutor will be $5,900 a year.

A public information officer for the U. S. Navy from 1956 to 1958, Devine is married and has two young sons.

Road will be at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Muir Brothers Funeral Home, Lapeer. Burial will follow in Meadowbrook Cemetery, Mulliken.

Plan 'Dry Run' of Sewer Plant

Put Final Touches on New City Facility

Pontiac's new $3.5-million sewage treatment plant is scheduled to make a "dry run" in about two weeks.

With plant construction and the installation of equipment all but completed, Sewage Treatment Superintendent John Hennessey has been meeting with contractors and consulting engineers to discuss operation procedures.

"It is estimated that dry runs of the new equipment will start on or about Dec. 15," said City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

"Actual sewage testing should follow in about 30 days."

Crews are putting final touches on the lime dips, digesters, final settling tank mechanism, sludge hopper and grit removal equipment.

Road paving in the plant site is also nearing completion and the facility should be fully operational by early 1963.

Police Investigate Armed Robbery

Pontiac police are investigating an armed robbery that occurred in mid-downtown at 10:30 last night.

Kenneth M. Frazier, 30, of 101 Mechanic St., said he was walking past a restaurant at 9 E. Pike St. when an assailant grabbed him from behind and put a knife to his throat.

Frazier said he was dragged into the alley behind Saginaw Street, where an accomplice rifled through the victim's pockets.

They got $5 from his wallet, Frazier said.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Continuing pressures of censorship against books in school libraries and classrooms are undermining education, according to the National Council of Teachers of English.

A policy statement adopted by the council's board of directors Thursday, said "the greatest damage is done by book-committees appointed by national or local organizations to pore over anthologies, texts or library books solely to find sentences that advocate causes or concepts or practices these organizations condemn."

"As a result, some publishers sensitive to possible objection, are careful to exclude from textbooks selections or sentences that might conceivably offend various groups."

The council, holding its annual convention here, said "certain modern writers, praised by recognized critics and well established in the curriculum, are suddenly charged with seditious sentiments or licentious intent. In familiar classics, overt pornography is 'discovered.'"

"The attacks extend even to books about writers. Recently a collection of biographies of great philosophers was condemned for including the life of Plato, who in his own writings, it was charged, 'talked about free love and communal living and such.'"

Some groups and individuals, the council added, have criticized the works of such authors as Chaucer, Shakespeare, Steinbeck, Hemingway, Faulkner, Twain and Whitman.

The policy statement, a pamphlet published earlier this year entitled "The Students' Right to Read," will be sent to all the council's 77,000 members at elementary, secondary and higher education levels.

It notes that teachers should be guided by "good taste, common sense and professional responsibility to students and the humanistic tradition."

It also urges teachers and school officials to willingly consider the merits of any complaint but also to have "the courage to defend with intelligence and vigor a sound program in literature."

Need Wetlands for Fowl Drain

WASHINGTON—Indians called the places where the muskrat rambles "between land," and they are neither dry soil nor open water.

Sloaughers are what farmers call these nonarable wet patches, and they drain them wherever possible.

A naturalist gives swamps, marshes, bogs and prairie pools the more poetic title of wetlands. Their preservation is urged as an important virtue in the delicate balance of nature.

But wetlands in the United States have been drying up for centuries, the National Geographic Society says.

Farms, cities, factories and health programs have all taken their toll. Some 50 million acres, almost half the original area, have been dried.

Preservation movements are now making progress. The President recently signed a bill that will protect midwestern wetlands for migratory waterfowl.

The bill gives the secretary of the interior authority to deny farmers in parts of Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas any federal aid in draining wetlands.

The government can then lease or purchase the land and preserve it in a natural state.

Conservationists have hailed the law as the most important wildlife legislation in 15 years.

Besides their value to wildlife, wetlands serve as giant natural sponges. They soak up water in times of peak runoff and help maintain the water table. A swamp is excellent insurance against a dry well.

Patched-Up Will Held Legal by Court

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (U-P)—Fire-charred and patched together like a jigsaw, a will has been accepted by the Master's Office of the Supreme Court here.

The court was told that it was drawn by Mrs. Eileen Audrey Proctor of Cape Town, who died at Dover, England, on April 14, aged 75.

Mrs. Proctor was said to have accidentally thrown the will on the fire while in the process of looking for papers, and to have snatched it off before it was burned.

Ironically the will ended: "It is my personal wish to be cremated."

Promotion for Park

TORONTO, Canada (U-P)—A sign in Metro Parks here says very plainly, "Please Walk On The Grass." Park Commissioner Thomas W. Thompson had the notices put in an attempt to encourage more people to use the parks.

JFK Re-Examines Cuba

Meeting Called for a Review; 'No New Crisis'

Security Council Unit Holds Session After Request by President

From Our News Wires

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. — President Kennedy gathered his top diplomatic and military advisers here today for a broad re-examination of the Cuban situation.

He called a session of the executive committee of the National Security Council, a group which has consulted with him almost daily since presence of a Soviet nuclear threat was discovered in Cuba.

The White House said "no new crisis" moved the Chief Executive to call his key consultants to Cape Cod on a blustery, cold holiday weekend. Acting press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said Kennedy wanted "a general review of the Cuban situation."

Budget Director David Bell arrived at the Kennedy home overlooking Nantucket Sound for a separate conference, to explore on a dime and dollars basis some of the items that will go into next year's federal spending program.

Three planes brought in members of the executive committee for the review of the Cuban issue. There was some shifting in the line-up.

ADLAI ABSENT

Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, did not make the meeting.

He was reported to be in South Carolina. Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to Moscow and now U.S. ambassador at large was an addition. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy also sat in.

In London, Prime Minister Harold MacMillan today was reported considering an early meeting with President Kennedy to discuss Cuban and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Indians Still Patrol Border; Truce Situation 'Uneasy'

From Our News Wires

NEW DELHI (UPI) — The Indian army is still patrolling a still "in contact" with the Chinese along the cease-fire line established by the Communists on the northeast frontier, a defense ministry spokesman said today. The spokesman refused to say whether there was any shooting by the Indian patrols, containing the policy of not revealing the Indian stand on the cease fire.

But it was apparent that the uneasy truce put into effect by Peking Wednesday still stood as United States and British fact-finding missions arranged defense aid talks with Indian officials.

A brief communique described only precease fire fighting and said "there is nothing else to report," indicating there is now no shooting by either side.

CONFERENCES

The U.S. mission conferred with chiefs of the Indian army, navy and air force while the British is talked with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru and India's new defense minister, Y. B. Chavan.

There was no immediate word on what was discussed.

Communist China, in a Peking radio broadcast heard in Tokyo, charged that two Indian air force planes took "provocative action" over Communist positions yesterday in the western Chinese did not fire on the planes "in accordance with their orders to cease fire."

Prime Minister Nehru avoided taking a stand on the Chinese ceasefire and offer of talks, but it was apparent that Indian as well as Chinese troops were observing the truce.

Nehru warned in a speech last night, however, that "the war with (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Eighteen Killed in Air Disaster

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A Portuguese military transport plane exploded and crashed today minutes after taking off from Saint Thomas Island, killing 18 of the 32 persons aboard.

The official Lusitania news agency, in listing the casualties, said five Lisbon showgirls returning from entertaining Portuguese troops in Angola were among the dead.

The transport was flying to Lisbon from Angola.

Saint Thomas, an island in the Atlantic off Portuguese Guinea, is a regular refueling stop on flights between Portugal's African possessions and Lisbon.

The plane, in command of Capt. Sherman Macedo, was scheduled to halt at Portuguese Guinea before continuing on to Lisbon.

Lusitania quoted eye-witnesses as saying there was a violent explosion in the plane soon after takeoff, and flames were visible from the airport.

Rescuers, guided by the blaze in the darkness, found the wreckage on land at Roca Boa Entrada, midway between the villages of Cascais and Praia; the news agency said.

Dispatches from Saint Thomas said the 14 survivors were taken to a nearby hospital.

TRANQUIL DEER — Four men have their hands full of a deer Thanksgiving day, carrying it away after it had jumped through the window of a vacant Seattle house. It was necessary to shoot the deer with a tranquilizer. Taken back to the zoo from which it fled, the buck was the only one of five escaped deer to be caught. A police helicopter, patrol cars, the Humane Society, the Washington State Game Department and the City Zoo collaborated with an outdoorsman in a citywide buck chase.

HST Aide Pardoned by JFK

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. — Parolee Matthew J. Connelly, appointments secretary to former President Harry S. Truman, received a full pardon from President Kennedy yesterday.

Connelly was sentenced along with T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, on charges of trying to block the income tax prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis, Mo., manufacturer.

At Wadesboro, N.C., Caudle expressed delight at Connelly's pardon and said he had an application to apply for a pardon but had not yet filed it out. He was paroled after serving six months of a two-year sentence.

In New York, Connelly happily received the news.

Connelly is now in the public relations business in New York. Connelly was sentenced along with T. Lamar Caudle, former head of the Justice Department's tax division, on charges of trying to block the income tax prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis, Mo., manufacturer.

At Wadesboro, N.C., Caudle expressed delight at Connelly's pardon and said he had an application to apply for a pardon but had not yet filed it out. He was paroled after serving six months of a two-year sentence.

Besides Connelly, four other persons received pardons and eight additional individuals commitments of sentences.

Italy Bans Sale of Drugs Thought to Deform Babies

LONDON (AP) — Italy has banned the sale of precludin and other drugs suspected of causing deformities in unborn babies in the wake of a British investigation into birth-deforming pills.

The current issue of the British Medical Journal reported two women who had taken precludin gave birth to deformed babies.

Doctors said it could have been a coincidence. A spokesman for the British College of General Practitioners said Thursday drugs besides thalidomide are suspected of causing baby deformities.

He said drug manufacturers were notified about the college's suspicions. He declined to identify the drugs, pending additional evidence.

SLIMMING PEP PILL

Preludin, mentioned in the medical journal, is a German drug introduced nine years ago as a pep pill for slimming down pregnant women.

There was pressure in Canada for a freeze on precludin. The American Medical Association reiterated advice to expectant mothers to take only essential, prescribed drugs during the first three months of pregnancy.

An estimated 500,000 American women have taken precludin since it was introduced in the United States in 1956. Dr. Frank Lyman, assistant to the director of Geigy pharmaceuticals, said in New York.

Lyman said there was no evidence that precludin was responsible for any birth malformations. The drug, marketed by Geigy, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

8 Plotters Nabbed in Argentina

From Our News Wires
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — Secret police broke up a plot to overthrow the government, an official spokesman announced last night.

Security forces arrested eight alleged plotters and said further arrests were likely.

Those arrested were said to fear a comeback by Peronists under Guido's plan to hold elections June 16 and restore constitutional government.

Retired army Gen. Benjamin Mendez, 78, who led an unsuccessful plot against Peron in 1951, was named as the leader of the alleged antielection plan.

He is reported to favor the ouster of Guido and installation of a military strongman.

Guido was installed last March after a military coup overthrew President Arturo Frondizi.

The government did not reveal how it had learned of the anti-election plot.

Interior Undersecretary Mariano Grondona said "two sectors are interested in that elections should not be held — the guerrillas (anti-Peronists) and Peron. They are both parasites of national hate."

Peron, overthrown in 1955, is living in Madrid, Spain.

Talk Over Plan for Ending Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A joint U.S.-Soviet declaration, proposed by the Soviets, to put a conclusion to the Cuban crisis, is under discussion with the United States, well-informed sources reported today.

The United States delegates were reported balking at some points in the proposed document, particularly the point that the United States would agree to discuss with Cuba a withdrawal from Guantanamo naval base.

United States negotiators, it was said by the informants, view this item as a reflection of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's five points for a guarantee against overthrow of his regime, and the United States is unwilling to discuss any of them.

DEALS WITH VERIFICATION

The Soviet proposal would deal with U.N. verification of the withdrawal of Soviet offensive weapons from Cuba by having U.N. Acting Secretary-General U. Thant hold talks about it with the Americans, Soviets and Cubans.

Other items in the Soviet proposal were understood to duplicate those put forth in letters between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev on Oct. 27 and 28 in which Khrushchev agreed to withdraw offensive weapons from Cuba under U.N.

verification, and Kennedy agreed to lift the U.S. arms blockade of Cuba, and promise not to invade Cuba.

Two of the chief American negotiators, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and John J. McCloy, chairman of President Kennedy's coordinating committee on the Cuban crisis, were with the President in Hyannis Port, Mass., today to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the National Security Council.

Grounded Ship Awaits Freeing

MUSKEGON (AP)—A decision on attempts to free the Norwegian freighter Makejell from rocks along Muskegon Channel's south breakwall awaits on-scene inspection by shipping company officials today.

The 450-foot Fjell-Oranje line vessel with a crew of 34 aboard, struck the channel breakwall in high north winds last night and piled onto the rocks.

It carries a 5,000-ton cargo of machinery and foodstuffs on a season-ending journey overseas from the Great Lakes.

The Coast Guard cutter Grand Haven was summoned from Grand Haven to attempt to free the freighter last night but snapped a 9-inch towline on its first effort and withdrew further tries.

Water Mains, Tank Work Move Along

Water main construction in Pontiac's $3.7-million water system improvement program, will move to Montclair Street near Baldwin Avenue next week.

Construction of a 20-inch main on Orchard Lake Avenue was completed today.

Crews will now begin work on the Montclair 24-inch main to run east from Baldwin in conjunction with the new storage tank at Montclair and Wolfe streets.

WORK ON TANK

Work began on the excavation for the tank last week.

The South Boulevard 24-inch main is nearing completion and work should start within a few days on the 48-inch main along the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks from near the new water plant site into the center of the city.

Walls of the pumping station on the South Boulevard-Opyke Road site have been poured and foundations for the two reservoirs are completed, according to City Manager Robert A. Slierer.

John J. McCloy, chairman of the U.S. Cuban crisis coordinating committee, was among the conferees at Kennedy's summer home here on Cape Cod, Wood.

Explanations, he said on his arrival that Stevenson would not be present.

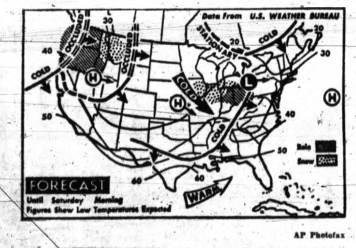

The others in attendance: Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary George Ball, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary Roswell M. Gilpatrick, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and McGeorge Bundy, presidential adviser on national security affairs.

Another presidential assistant, Theodore C. Sorenson, also sat in for a time.

ON THE MOVE — A young refugee clutches a crust of bread, and his mother, in Tezpur, India, as they await earlier this week to be evacuated again in face of the continuing advance of Red Chinese hordes on India's northern borders. The refugee family and thousands of others came to Tezpur from Bomdila after the Northeast Frontier Agency town was overrun by the Chinese.

China will be a long drawn-out affair and it may take years."

In other developments, Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, and Pakistani officials.

Nehru today told parliament there had been no firing and no movement, either to retreat or advance, by Chinese forces since the proclamation of the cease fire.

He still left unanswered whether Indian forces have been ordered to hold their fire.

IN CALCUTTA

In Calcutta, defying government advice, three American missionaries have set out toward the northeast India to return to their hospital, the U.S. consulate reported today.

Reluctant to leave their patients at the Baptist Christian Hospital in Tezpur, the missionaries set out across the Brahmaputra River from Gauhati on a 90-mile trek, gambling that the Red Chinese cease fire will hold.

The Indian government has warned civilians in Tezpur to leave.

The consulate identified the missionaries as Donald Loss and Joseph Schoonmaker, both physicians, and J. Warren Johnson, the hospital administrator.

The consulate said it was told the missionaries are long-time residents of India and feel they can take care of themselves — even sources report.

"It is doing its utmost to encourage and back up the Indian authorities in launching further military adventures."

Italy Bans Sale of Birth Drugs is "taken orally to suppress the appetite," Lyman said.

NAME ONLY ONE

The Italian Health Ministry imposed the ban Thursday and seized drugs containing phenylmethylethyl-hydro-oxazine.

Proclun was the only product mentioned by name.

The British college spokesman reported, "One or two drugs that are being taken require further thought. Family doctors are now notifying us of any suspicions that drugs are connected with some previously unsuspected defects."

"This may be coincidence, but until we have more information we would rather not say what the drugs are."

The spokesman, a medical authority, was not identified by name, in line with British medical practice.

He said the college had been studying congenital deformities since 1958—long before thalidomide was found to cause deformities in babies.

The spokesman said the college in the last few weeks "collected complete information regarding 1,656 pregnancies, including details of drugs given and any illness suffered. Of these, 45 produced deformed babies—an incidence of 2.6 per cent."

AF Reservists to Head Home

Area Men Surprised by Early Return Order

Most of the 100 Oakland County Air Force reservists called to active duty a month ago in the Cuban crisis will become civilians again next Wednesday, much sooner than they had expected.

Although the predominant reaction was one of relief and the men were happy at the prospect of returning to their homes with international tensions eased, the unexpected early return to reserve status has thrown the lives of some into a turmoil.

The county's contingent of 100 reservists about 100 men, many of them in the 403rd Troop Carrier Wing at Selfridge Air Force Base.

They are part of more than 14,000 Air Force reservists throughout the nation who were called to active duty Oct. 27 by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who announced their early release Wednesday.

Since the men made plans to be on active duty for a year, the early release will cause hardships for some of them.

Such cases, according to an Air Force spokesman, will be college students who left school and cannot return until the next semester starts and men whose employers made arrangements to fill their jobs for a year.

One man sold his gasoline station in this Detroit suburb today, the result of a prank last night by children.

The Air Force has made arrangements for reservists who face a hardship because of the early release to extend on a voluntary basis their active duty for any period up to the originally expected one year.

How many of them will do so will be known Wednesday.

While on active duty at Selfridge, members of the 403rd spent their time working and training. Those who lived within driving distance of the base were able to go home after duty hours.

When the unit was activated, it expected to "sit tight" at the base on alert until further orders were received.

New Policy on Bidders Eyed by Commission

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission is studying the possibility of accepting bids on city equipment only from local dealers following complaints by two truck firms located outside Birmingham.

City Manager L. R. Gare this week is compiling a report on the effects such a policy would have in Birmingham.

The commission has directed the manager to present the report at Monday's commission meeting.

George W. Ausch, truck manager for Stark Hickey Ford Inc. of Royal Oak, has complained to the commission that his firm had been awarded only one order even though it was low bidder on two units.

Ralph O. Moore, of Pontiac's GMC Truck and Coach Division, also asked for the reason why the commission did not accept his company's low bid on another item.

Both bids were awarded to local dealers, the second lowest bidder on each item.

Commissioner Carl F. Ingraham explained that the difference between the local bid and those submitted by the firms from outside the city amounted to a difference of only $4 or $5.

Gare pointed out that the commission previously has accepted low bids where they were from local or outside firms.

Mrs. Charles W. Brown, resident for former Birmingham Service Mrs. Charles W. (Florence L.) Brown, 53, of Berkeley, will be 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Arthur Hill 5 Big Favorite in Valley Race

Only Two Lettermen Returns for Chiefs' Cage Race

The word is out. Watch Saginaw Arthur Hill in the Saginaw Valley cage competition this winter.

The Lumberjacks have height and scoring ability to go with the experience gained last year during a third place finish behind State Class A Champion Saginaw and Pontiac Central's Chiefs.

Arthur Hill has 1961 Craig Dill and 6-6 John Janssens from last year's squad for rebounding and Keith Kundinger is expected to rebound as a high-scoring guard. Kundinger was selected to the second team All-Valley quint last year.

Saginaw Valley

son, and guard Brian Best, from the champions; but Lovell Huns returns as one of the circuit's better backcourt men.

PCN GREEN

PCI will have one of its greenest teams at the start of the season and coach Art Van Ryin doesn't have the necessary height to stay with Arthur Hill. He'll have to develop some offensive punch with a degree of consistency if the Chiefs are to remain in the first division.

The only two letter winners returning are Ray Sain and Al Galbraith, neither of whom was a starter last year.

Two 200-pounders may give some help on the boards, 6-3 McKinley Jones and 6-2 Jim Johnson. The Chiefs, also, will require a playmaker to emerge from untested candidates.

Bay City Handy has big Clay Willitte returning at 6-4 along with four other experienced performers but lacks any consistent help for it all-around star. If Coach James Reinhold can develop a few of his newcomers, the team could develop into a dark horse in the race.

Flint Northern has six lettermen back led by 6-5 Fred Duncan and could prove very troublesome. The rest of its lineup opponents. There is not a top scorer returning from last season but coach Jack Marlette has material to work with.

Flint Southwestern has big Carl Cmejrek back on its front line but otherwise is an unknown quantity as are Midland's Chemics and usually speedy Bay City Central.

Clawson-Troy Seen Oakland-A Choices

Much the same as in football, Troy and Clawson are expected to fight it out for the Oakland A title in basketball with Clawson favored to turn the tables on the Colts.

Defending champion Fitzgerald

lost most of its team to graduation and isn't rated a threat this year. Center Tom Dobbstein is expected to carry the burden for Fitzgerald.

Both Clawson and Troy are blessed with height but the Trojans get the nod because of their superior experience. Tom McArthur returns for the Trojans with a 13-point average as does John Miller.

Troy has five lettermen returning plus 6-6 junior Ted Bauer on hand for rebounding strength. The Colts won 16 of 19 games last season and should get a good pace this year.

Oak Park could rate a definite dark horse in the race with a good blend of height, shooting and experience. Al Ruby with a 16 point average last season leads seven returnees who also include 6-3 Mike Rappaport. Dennis Pink is counted on for backline help.

Capac Power in Thumb; Oxford Hopes for Best

Capac is expected to have everything its own way in the Southern Thumb basketball race this season while a hot fight between North Branch and Oxford is predicted in the South Central League.

Only one team in the two leagues will swing into action tonight. Armada, a team with seven lettermen returning from a squad that finished fifth last season with an 8-10 mark, will visit Marysville. The two teams didn't meet last year.

Capac had nine returning lettermen from last year's team which won 21 of 22 starts. John Schauer in a 6-4 junior who led the team in scoring last year and will be assisted this season by Dan Pitz and John Stanilou. Ken Kobayashi is another starter who is returning, along with Ken Adamski, 6-2 junior forward.

CONTESTERS

Other first division contenders in the Thumb loop are New Haven led by Dwight Lee who averaged 12 points a game last year; Brown City which has two of its leading scorers back (Alvin Martin and Ken Miller) from the team that finished third last season; and Anchor Bay where four lettermen return, including 6-3 Larry Teller.

Memphis coach Frank Lerchen has high hopes for his squad which is blessed with two 6-4 returnees, Gary Lynch and Don Burns, and guard Mike Santo who was a top scorer for Memphis last year with 170 points. Neither Dryden nor Alton is believed to have the height or experience to cause much trouble to the leaders this season.

Shrine Starts Season Tonight

With five returning lettermen, Royal Oak Shrine gets the basketball season started tonight when the Knights play host to St. Florian of Hamtramck.

Leading the Shrine attack are 6-2 center Mike Young, one of the team's top scorers last year behind Tom Moores who has graduated.

Mike Hagerty and Jeff Fohy both standing 6-3 are expected to start at the forward slots, with Bob Peleier and Jerry Swartz at the guards.

Cranes Lean on New Crop

Faced with the loss of seven lettermen and only one returnee coach Hugh Davidson of Cranbrook isn't fretting.

He has high hopes in the crop of young players moving up to varsity status along with four transfers which will give the Cranes some height.

Lone varsity returnee is Joe Kimble a 5-6 guard. At forwards he has a pair of 6-3 juniors in Bill Estes and John Kopchick with Jim Bailey, 6-5 and Doug Fisher, 6-4, vying for the center spot.

Another forward prospect is 6-0 soph Buzz Mierow, with 5-9 Larry Willey going after a guard spot. Kimble is the only senior.

3 Lettermen Form for Lamphere Squad

The three lettermen back at Pontiac Emmanuel Christian have two years of experience behind them, but whether this will be enough to carry Emmanuel past its 5-11 mark of last year, remains to be seen.

Jim and Jack Gillespie, a pair of 5-6 junior guards and Ralph Wingate a 6-1 forward are the returnees. Aubrey Grogan a 6-1 soph center and Dave Spiegel a 6-0 junior forward are the leading newcomers.

Seaholm-Groves First to Start

Two neighborhood rivals who anticipate having a lot to say about the races in their respective leagues will tangle tonight in Birmingham for the only time this season.

Birmingham Seaholm will visit Birmingham Groves seeking revenge for a surprise 65-40 beating the Maples suffered last season.

Groves, which tied for second in the Tri-River Conference last season with a 5-5 mark, expects a tougher time from its Eastern Michigan League opponent this season.

Hectic Race Figured Against W-O Champs

Basketball fans of the Wayne-Oakland League may see quite a race this year if the coaches' preseason predictions are true. Five of the league's eight teams received first place votes.

Clarencville mentor Dave Schaefer apparently had a good slant on the race when he commented the first five spots in the league were a toss up, and he gave a slight edge to defending champion Northville.

The Mustangs must be considered strong contenders with six returnees from a squad that lost only to State Class B champion River Rouge in 21 starts. Smooth shooting Craig Bell heads the lettermen with his 12-point average.

Clarkston coach Dom Maulti also lacks rebounding strength and is counting on experience and hustle to offset this deficit. His squad tied for fourth last season. Brighton, Clarencville and Milford are expected to wage a three-way struggle for the sixth slot in the W-O standings.

Wayne-Oakland

Local Parochial Cage Hopes Bright

Pontiac's two parochial squads are apparently having a lot to say in the Northwest Parochial League's basketball race this winter.

Both St. Frederick and St. Michael are figured to finish in the top three with St. Fred's a strong choice to cop the crown.

Gene Wright is blessed with backboard power in 6-4 Tom Bradley, 6-3 Chuck Dean and 6-2 Mike Dean all returning. Fred Medina and Lowry Holland lend experience in the backcourt. The Shamrocks do not have a strong bench at present, however.

POPE RETURNS

St. Mike coach Jim Niebauer will need to develop an additional experienced big man to spell 6-5

No Lettermen Return Emmanuel Nucleus

This is the time when a coach feels alone, when he looks at his 1962-63 basketball roster and finds he hasn't a letterman to be found.

Coach Alex Kish, who starts his season next Tuesday at Clawson, will have to depend on all newcomers this year headed by 6-1 Gerry Jasina at center and forward Mike Nohren, 5-8 and Phil Barolone, 6-4. A 6-4 soph, Bob Sartain is on the squad but needs experience badly to be of any help.

Australian Girls Swim

PERTH (AP)—Australia's team, anchored by Dawn Fraser, broke the world record in the women's 440-yard freestyle swimming relay by winning the event in 4 minutes, 11.1 seconds in the British Empire Games today.

has announced a starting lineup of five lettermen. Russ Bitter, who led the Groves' scoring last season with 233 points in 16 games, will handle one forward post; and senior Tom Cantrell will be at the other end.

In the pivot for the Falcons will be 6-3 Fred Bailey while 6-2 Bill Stephenson and Jim Kokones will be the guards.

Seaholm, picked for anywhere from third to sixth position by the EML coaches, will start four lettermen and a 6-3 newcomer, Mark Fritz, at forward. Bruce Nyberg will handle the other forward post; while John Slater is expected to play center. Jay Shutt and Chuck Hutton will play guards.

EMIL OUTLOOK

Port Huron and Ferndale are picked one-two by the EML coaches with 6-6 Chuck Ingram giving the Huron squad a slight edge. The Eagles are blessed with a big front line, however, and may be able to balance out the threat that Ingram poses. He scored 361 points last year.

Bruce Rodwan, 6-4, Bob Palendau, 6-3, and Truman McNeil, 6-8, will cause trouble for the Ferndale opponents and returning starters Jeff Hicks and Don Brooks give added experience to the backline. The Eagles also have 6-3 Jerry Tarsan.

If Hazel Park can find some scoring punch, it could be tough. Two 6-4 lettermen (Dennis Duncan and John Michalski) are included among the 10 experienced returnees this season and 6-2 junior Hubert Hyre should help them off the backboards, also.

There are ten lettermen returning to Roseville, also, and the George Koskimi-coached team is expected to make some noise in its first official EML action.

Royal Oak Kimball and East Detroit both suffer from a lack of experience while Mt. Clemens should improve on its 2-10 league record last season if 6-4 Bob Davis continues to improve. East Detroit, a perennially strong contender for league honors will be hurting unless coach Fred Lee can get top mileage out of his newcomers.

Parochial

Mike Pope. Larry Sonnenberg is expected to provide scoring punch to aid Pope on offense but additional height is lacking, unless 6-1 Mike DeConnick can pick up the slack.

Another squad expected to fight for the top spot is Orchard.

Royal Oak St. Mary has six lettermen returning from its championship squad but needs to develop scoring punch for this season. Rick Barth is expected to provide offense for the Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows squad this season. He hit at a 16-point clip last year.

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes has All-County Class C-D performer George Sharpe back, while Detroit St. Agatha began its season Tuesday with a non-league 65-45 triumph over St. Martin's.

No Clear Cut Choice in Tri-County Loop

The outlook for the Tri-County cage chase this winter is rather foggy. That is, no one team seems to emerge as a clear-cut favorite.

Senior center Jim Compton is Romeo's biggest holdover at 6-3 while John Hanley poured the ball through the hoop last season at a 16.0 clip per contest. The Bulldogs finished third last season, tied with Kettering.

The Captains have four letter-

Huskies Face Loop Battle From Falcons

Experience, Height Insure Farmington Shot at Crown

Pontiac Northern and Farmington High Schools are expected to wage a strong battle for the Inter-Lakes League basketball title this season with the league's four remaining teams considered uncertain quantities.

The return of six lettermen including the league's leading shot maker last season make the Huskies' chances look good. Gary Hayward hit at a 16-point clip during the 1961-62 campaign and is expected to improve that mark this season.

Hayward, at 6-2, should have rebounding help from 6-3 Wayne Daniels and 6-1 1/2 Dean Souden and Wayne Thomas. In addition, coach Dick Hall may find a place for tall sophomore newcomer Roger Hayward.

Inter-Lakes

Lettermen Dave Bihl and Mike Burklow are counted on for experience in the Huskies' tight backcourt. Last year Northern tied for third with a 6-4 mark in the I.L. Hall lost four lettermen from that squad.

FALCONS THREAT

Farmington breathes its hopes on its height advantage. The Falcons tied for first last season and had a 12-5 mark. Seven experienced returnees are on hand for Jack Quigley's first season at the helm. Heading the list is Chuck Gadd, a 6-3 All-County Class A choice last year who has grown an inch this season. Walt Grimala stands 6-4 and led the Farmington squad in scoring last year with a 12-point average. Another 6-4 returnee is forward Russ Cleveland while 6-7 junior Neil Warring is challenging.

Berkley's defending co-champions were hurt by graduation and coach Ace Zographos has a rebuilding job facing him. Scoring punch is lacking unless returnees Dick Kahkur, 6-3, and white and Nick Neiger can pick up the slack.

Southfield coach Bob Neff must find some experience and height to offset the graduation of 14 lettermen who helped the Blue Jays finish third last year with PNH. The Southfield squad closed its season with a 10-10 record in five league starts and could repeat its late season drive again this year.

Senior center Joe Andrews provides most of the height for the Blue Jays at 6-4, but 6-2 Bob Stevens may get a lot of action if he develops rapidly in his first varsity season.

Waterford has some height returning in 6-4 Bob Reader, but needs scoring punch and more frontline experience to make a run for the crown.

Walled Lake didn't win a basketball game last year and most of those players have departed. If newcomers Ron Colyer, 6-3, and 6-1 Doug Walters can provide some backboard strength to complement the expected scoring punch of letterman Bob Tuck and Jim Boone, a promising newcomer, coach Jim Horein will look for some victories to sweeten what could be another long season.

Defending champion Rochester, also, lost most of its team. The Falcons do have 6-6 Mike Wilson but not much to supplement his efforts. Last year's titlists are not picked for better than a third place finish this season.

Second place Lapeer, also, finds itself lacking experience and height, and coach Gene Hepin still doesn't have a reliable scoring threat at this time.

Lans' Creuse lacks experience and isn't considered a title threat.

Tri-County

although Ed Battani at Romeo has an edge with six returning letter winners.

Senior center Jim Compton is Romeo's biggest holdover at 6-3 while John Hanley poured the ball through the hoop last season at a 16.0 clip per contest. The Bulldogs finished third last season, tied with Kettering.

A Few Losers 'Conspicuous'

Wall Street Moves Upward

NEW YORK (U-P) — The stock market churned higher today on balance, with a few conspicuous losers. Trading was heavy.

The ticker tape lagged at the start but caught abreast of transactions within the first half hour as some fairly big blocks of leading issues were traded.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional. All the top four steel makers nudged to the upside and National Steel added more than 2 points.

Chrysler encountered some early profit taking, sliding well over a point before recovering partially and cutting its loss to a fraction.

Du Pont was down around two points and IBM dropped more than a point.

Plus signs predominated throughout the list, however. The vigorous tone once again surprised analysts who had anticipated an irregular market following the pre-Thanksgiving day rally and in view also of the imminence of the weekend.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher. Creole Petroleum was up about 2.

Bond Prices Change Little

NEW YORK (U-P) — Bond prices were little changed at the opening of the market today.

One over-the-counter dealer in U.S. government securities said he didn't make a single price change in the entire list.

He said trading interest was at a minimum and that quite a few dealers apparently took the day off to make a four-day holiday weekend.

All sections of the corporate market were mixed in early trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Outside the convertibles practically no changes amounted to a point.
