Three Die Here in Weekend Mishaps

Waterford Boy Struck by Car on Dixie Highway

Pontiac Man Is Killed in Collision; Lad, 10, Drowning Victim

A 9-year-old Waterford Township boy was killed early today when he ran into the path of a car on the Dixie Highway while helping his father deliver milk.

Two others died over the weekend when a Pontiac traffic crash killed a plumbing contractor and a 10-year-old boy drowned in Crescent Lake.

The dead are:
Gregory Juckno, of 790 Hillcliffe Dr., Waterford Township.
George Todoroff, 59, of 7500 Elizabeth Lake Rd.
Robert D. Miller, of 5493 Aylesburg, Waterford Township.

The Juckno boy was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after he was struck by a car driven by John L. Bouck, 32, of Holly.

Bouck, scheduled to make a statement today at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office, told State Police he was unable to stop in time when the boy ran from the east side of the 4-lane highway.

HELPIN DELIVER MILK

The victim's father, Chester, said the boy was helping him on his milk delivery route. The accident took place at about 7 a. m. on east Scott Lake road.

Todoroff was killed when his truck collided with a car driven by Miss Karen Lavery, 20, of 773 Owego Dr. at about 6:30.

Miss Lavery was listed in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital as a passenger. Mrs. Isabel Selden, 40, of 123 N. Genesee Ave. Mrs. Selden's daughter, Chris, 17, also a passenger, was treated for an injured elbow.

Pontiac Police Sgt. Clayton Randolph said Todoroff's truck was headed west on Huron street when it struck Miss Lavery's car broadside at Genesee. Witnesses stated that Todoroff apparently ran the red light at the intersection.

Miller drowned at about 5:15 p. m. while swimming near a rowboat only 70 feet from shore at Crescent Lake, Waterford Township, police said.

Dems Try to Up Military Budget

Face Uphill Struggle to Raise Funds OK'd by House Committee

WASHINGTON (U)—Supporters of President Eisenhower's defense program faced a battle in the Senate today on efforts of some Democrats to expand air power further and prevent a cutback in the ground forces.

Up for decision, under limited debate that could bring a passage vote by tonight, was the bulky $31,836,521,336 defense money bill. Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), former secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, was spearheading what appeared to be an uphill drive for three major changes:

1. Addition of about 40 million dollars to prevent a cutback of about 12,000 in the manpower of the Marine Corps between now and June 30 of next year.

2. Addition of about 250 millions to prevent a similar reduction of 88,000 in the regular Army.

3. Addition of 200 million dollars to speed up production of supersonic jet fighter aircraft.

The first two proposals already have been defeated in the Appropriations Committee by a 2-1 margin. Normally the Senate accepts its decisions.

Sen. Chavez (D-NM), floor manager for the measure, was on the losing side in those tests but told the Senate Friday he now will vote to uphold the committee decisions.

Say Flier Gave Reds Confession

Freed Pilot Signed Admission He Used Germ Bombs

WASHINGTON (U)—An Air Force spokesman says a false germ warfare confession was obtained by Chinese Communists from one of four returned American jet pilots, but no disciplinary action against the officer is planned.

He named the flier as Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., of Suez City, Iowa, a double jet ace of the Korean War who was released May 31 after more than two years in Chinese prison camps.

The spokesman said Fischer and three other fliers released with him also "confessed" to crossing the Yalu River into Chinese territory under Air Force orders. But he said no such orders had been given.

The spokesman said the actions of all four men are under study, but he indicated they probably "will be given a clean bill of health."

The Air Force has declined to discipline any of its men for actions while they were Chinese prisoners, on the ground they were acting under pressure of Communist mistreatment.

The officers released with Fischer are Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa.; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; and Lt. Roland Parks, Omaha, Neb. The four were tried May 24 on Communist charges of "intruding into China for harassment and provocative attack." Heller told a news conference in Honolulu June 2 that all four pleaded guilty and were ordered "deported" to the United States.

Fischer, now in San Francisco for an appearance at a United Nations anniversary ceremony, was not reached immediately for comment.

U.S. Consulate Awaits Arrival of 3 Turncoats

POWS Who Remained in China Are Expected at Hong Kong Exit

TOKYO (U)—American consular officials at Hong Kong were reported today keeping a border watch for soldiers who have grown weary of life in Communist China.

Peiping radio said Saturday the three Americans—only two of whom want to come home—and two Belgians had been given permission to leave China.

The broadcast gave no time or place for their departure. It said merely they would leave when "all necessary arrangements" have been completed.

Hong Kong is the usual point of exit for Westerners leaving Red China. The American consulate there kept a three-hour watch yesterday. Hong Kong dispatches said a similar watch would be kept for a "few more days, if necessary."

The three Americans are William A. Cowart, of Dalton, Ga., who asked to go to Japan; and Otto G. Bell, of Olympia, Wash., and Lewis W. Griggs, of Jacksonville, Tex., both of whom want to go to the United States.

They were among 21 U.S. soldiers captured by the Reds in the Korean War who chose life in Red China to repatriation. One of the original group died.

The remaining 17, Saturday's Peiping broadcast said, also may leave Red China whenever they wish. However, it quoted several as saying they were content with the choice they had made.

U.S. Steel to Give Answer to Contract

PITTSBURGH (U)—U.S. Steel Corp., traditional pace setter for the steel industry in labor matters, gives its answer today to the CIO United Steelworkers demand for a substantial wage increase.

The union and Big Steel resume negotiations after a recess of more than a week in which the company has been preparing a counterproposal. Its answer was expected to set the trend for the nation's five other top basic steel producers whose negotiations with the USW are still recessed.

I. W. Abel, secretary-treasurer of the union, said over the weekend that the major steel companies would probably offer a 7½-cent hourly pay raise.

That, he told the USW's District 20 convention, won't be acceptable. The booming basic steel industry is in position to pay a much greater amount, he said.

By The Associated Press

The parents of 10 children and one of their daughters were among 15 persons killed in Michigan traffic accidents over the sweltering weekend that drove thousands upon thousands to open highways and waterside resorts.

Drowning accidents took another seven lives, and a man died after inhaling poisonous gas fumes while working at an oil well.

Parents and daughter killed were enroute home to Oscoda County from a fishing trip to Manistee when their car and another collided in Lake County Sunday.

They were: John Beebe, 48, of Tustin; his wife, Eva Mary, 38, and their 12-year-old daughter, Lila May.

A second daughter, Ella, 17, was critically injured and taken to a Big Rapids hospital. Eight other children survive.

Eisenhower Will Address U. N. Birthday Gathering

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—The U.N., on a sentimental pilgrimage to San Francisco in honor of its 10th anniversary, awaited President Eisenhower's address today keynoting the hope for a better peace and easing of cold war tensions.

The Chief Executive arrived for the charter event last night and will return to Washington tonight following his 3 P.M. (PDT) address opening the week-long observance.

He planned to have an early luncheon with the U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjöld, Assembly President E. N. Van Kliefens, Secretary of State Dulles, Disarmament Minister Harold E. Stassen and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Among the 60 top diplomats from as many countries listening to Eisenhower will be Russia's V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and India's special emissary V. V. Krishna Menon.

Big Four foreign ministers will meet tonight in a top-level discussion at Dulles' suite in the plush Fairmont Hotel.

The Western Big Three foreign ministers, who are acting as host for the meeting, will attempt to pry from Molotov some indication of which way Kremlin leaders are thinking on cold-war problems.

They are primarily interested in discerning whether Russia's professed willingness to ease world tension by making concrete concessions is genuine or anchored in false hopes of the free world.

Electrical Storm Strikes Pontiac

City Pelted by Hail; Four Residences Hit by Lightning

A severe electrical storm, accompanied by hail, hit Pontiac yesterday afternoon causing damage to at least four city homes.

The Pontiac Fire Department answered four calls from 6:12 p. m. to 6:40 p. m. at residences struck by lightning. Damages were only minor.

The rapid rainfall plugged drainage facilities, causing water to back up for a short period on several local streets.

Lightning hit the Pontiac Police radio station, putting the receiver out of commission. An auxiliary station was pressed into service immediately.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALLS

The fire department answered calls at 204 State St., 424 S. Saginaw St., 216 Going St. and 643 Kennett Rd.

Detroit Edison, Consumers Power and Michigan Bell reported a total of about 900 customers without service for short periods.

The Edison sub-station at Goodison was out of commission from about 6 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., affecting 300 people.

Consumers reported some 20 transformer fuses blown out around the city, but linemen were sent to make immediate repairs. Approximately 200 telephones were out, Bell officials reported, but most were back in operation this morning.

The outlook for today was partly cloudy and continued warm with scattered thundershowers tonight and tomorrow.

Yesterday's high temperature here was 81 and the low 66. The low tonight is expected to be 64-68 and tomorrow's peak 84-88.

Peron Fading Fast as Officer Takes Charge

Gen. Lucero in Control of Revolt-Torn Nation; Seek Junta Rule

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (U)—Argentina's new armed forces chief, Gen. Franklin Lucero, pressed grimly ahead today with efforts to return revolt-bloodied Argentina to normal.

The 57-year-old army minister, who vaulted into the spotlight after his troops rescued President Juan Peron's government from Thursday's navy revolt, called on the nation last night to stamp out "false alarms" disturbing efforts to restore peace.

He signed his communique as "Commander in Chief of the Forces of Repression."

Lucero and other military leaders were to take part today in a ceremony in bomb-blasted Plaza de Mayo commemorating Gen. Manuel Belgrano, who created the Argentine flag. The prominence given the military in advance announcements of the observance underscored the army control of the country.

News dispatches from Argentina are subject to censorship imposed after the revolt. But an Associated Press dispatch from Montevideo said Argentine refugees in the Uruguayan capital had learned in telephone calls to Buenos Aires that army leaders were negotiating with Peron and the navy in an effort to set up a three-man ruling junta consisting of Peron, Lucero and Rear Adm. Alberto Teissiere, the vice president.

Evidencing his new importance, Lucero spent a crowded Sunday morning inspecting security emplacements and troop positions in the capital. Later he went to the Army Ministry, where he worked the rest of the day on plans and orders for the country.

In contrast, Peron remained in seclusion in his residence, although he reportedly kept in touch with government officials. He did not visit his temporary office in the Army Ministry, where he had moved after Thursday's revolt destroyed his office in Government House.

Urging his countrymen to aid in stemming the flood of false reports, Lucero's communique charged "People interested in impeding the return to a normal situation continue circulating alarming rumors, completely unfounded and devoid of truth."

He branded as completely false reports that rebellious army units were marching on Buenos Aires from outlying regions, and that there had been naval bombardments and garrison uprisings in the interior.

London Dockers Vote to Return to Jobs Tuesday

LONDON (AP)—Striking stevedores in the port of London voted today to end the dock walkout which in nearly five weeks has piled up shipping in Britain's six biggest ports.

Strikers elected a delegation to tell union chiefs they intend to go back to their jobs tomorrow morning.

Similar moves were expected from the ports of Manchester, Birkenhead, Liverpool, Hull and Rochester.

The strike was originally called by the 18,000-man strong National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers Union to back up its demand for bargaining recognition outside London.

Strikebound liners continued to clog the ports of Liverpool and Southampton as the wildcat seamen's strike ground down on the nation's dollar-earning transatlantic trade.

He was ticketed for leaving the scene of an accident.

New Uniforms for Summertime

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force decided finally today on a new silver-tan summer uniform to take the place of khakis worn since 1947. But it will not be available this summer, and the complete change-over will take four years.

The summer wear will include, along with conventional items, short trousers and knee-length stockings, a short-sleeve shirt and a long-sleeve bush jacket.

Air Force officers and men have plenty of time to wear out their present summer clothing. Use of the new summer uniform does not become mandatory until July 1, 1959.

The summer equipment will begin to be available next fall in Air Force sales stores located in tropical and semitropical areas.

Seattle Mother Kills Tots, Self

Husband Finds 2 Sons Murdered, Wife Dying in Dads' Day Tragedy

SEATTLE (AP)—A bleak and bloody Father's Day greeted 30-year-old Charles Reimers early yesterday.

He returned to his small South End home to find his sons Thomas, 5, and Jerry, 1, battered and stabbed to death. In another room he found his wife, Mrs. Josephine Reimers, with knife slashes in her throat, wrists and groin.

Mrs. Reimers, 29, eight months pregnant with twins, died in a hospital last night. The King County sheriff's office called it a suicide and double slaying.

Reimers, an airplane company employee, had been downtown. He said he stopped at a tavern before heading home early yesterday morning. He found the two boys slashed with a knife. Authorities said apparently the younger boy thrown on the bed of the older had been slain in his crib, then thrown on the bed of the older boy, also slain.

Reimers said he and his wife had not quarreled. But he told officers she had been despondent.

Reimers had just finished a fence about his modest home Saturday afternoon. Toys belonging to the two boys still were scattered in the yard.

Last evening he left his home "to get away from the memories" and moved in with friends.

It was Father's Day. But he said simply: "I'm homeless now."

Previously the board gave official recognition to agriculture, industry, small business, college and other groups, but not to organized labor as such.

Judge Demands Solitary for Two

Sentenced Murderers in 1936 to Spend Date of Slaying Alone

CHICAGO (AP)—Judge Cornelius Harrington is "laying groundwork for legal action" to enforce his order for solitary confinement of two women convicts on the anniversary of the murder for which they were sentenced in 1936 to 180 years in prison.

That additional punishment was ordered when Judge Harrington sentenced Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, now 64, and Mrs. Evelyn Smith, now 66, for what the judge called "one of the most vicious, pre-meditated assassinations... solidly plotted and unfeelingly executed."

The women were convicted of murdering Mrs. Dunkel's son-in-law, Ervin Lang, 28, after testimony indicated he planned to break off an illicit romance with his mother-in-law and marry another woman.

According to trial evidence, Mrs. Smith, promised $500 for her part, pled Lang with liquor, drugged him with ether and strangled him in her apartment. Then she and her husband dismembered the body and scattered the parts.

The husband, who Mrs. Smith identified in her testimony as Harry Jung, a Chinese laundryman, vanished before the women were brought to trial and never was found.

Available records fail to show why she used the name Smith instead of Jung's.

Judge Harrington said yesterday the women had served solitary confinement on the anniversary of the crime every year until last year when Dwight Reformatory officials obtained an attorney general's opinion that the practice was not mandatory.

Freighter Rescues Drifting Fishermen

HARBOR BEACH (AP)—Two fishermen were rescued by a passing freighter yesterday after spending the night adrift in an outboard motor boat on fog-shrouded Lake Huron.

Clarence Parks, 45, and his son, Clarence Junior, 22, both of Livonia, were caught in the fog while fishing off the Charity Islands.

They ran out of gas and rowed all night through the fog in a futile attempt to reach land. They were sighted and picked up by the freighter Carrollton, northbound from Bay City.

The report of their disappearance had touched off a police, Civil Air Patrol and Coast Guard air-sea search.

Bob Considine Says:

You Asked What's Wrong With Baseball....

NEW YORK (INS) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick has retained a polling organization to conduct a survey of what's ailing the grand old monopoly. High time! Any other cartel that creaked as baseball has been creaking of late, despite federal aid in the form of a tongue-in-cheek Supreme Court ruling saying it is played only for sport, would have called for a pulmotor long before.

The people to be questioned in this survey are sportswriters. This seems a wrong approach at the very start. Sportswriters don't pay to get into the ballpark. Most of them go because it's their job. The fan, whose opinion isn't going to be asked, is the bloke Frick is trying to lure back to the walled pastures.

He doesn't very often see eye to eye with the sportswriter, and vice versa, so I can't see what will be proved exactly. The sportswriters have been telling Frick what's wrong with baseball in millions of generally well-chosen words for years. All he'd have to do is to look in the back files. Or in today's papers.

The first question is "If you could cover and write about one sport only, would it be baseball?" There is a "yes" box underneath, a "no" box and an empty. I'd have to fill the empty with "it all depends." Sure, it's stimulating to be with a winner. But few working newspapermen are more likely to go to seed than a stiff stuck with a chronic second division team.

CABBAGE HEAD

More often than not he becomes as much of a cabbage head as the average player on the team itself. He lives in a realm of empty ballparks, dreary defeat, chronic incapacity, soggy morale. He moves about the country like a sixth rate salesman trying to sell a product nobody wants. And let's have no lip about this. I traveled for years with the Washington Senators.

Second question — "Check the following ideas which you think would serve to improve the game and build attendance." There is a list of ten. But I'd check "shorter games, faster paced" and "better parking facilities" and "easier ways of getting good tickets."

Ford asks if radio broadcasts of baseball have increased interest. Yes, I'd say, but TV has kept millions away from the parks. He wants an opinion on how people might react to pay-as-you-see TV of ballgames. Well, I don't think the average guy who has become accustomed to watching baseball on TV would put four-bits or more in the coin box if that would bring him a game, unless it was an important contest.

WORLD SERIES

I think millions would pay to watch the world series on TV but precious few would invest in run-of-the-mill games. Who'd turn off a free show, even a tear-laden soap opera, to pay to watch Kansas City against Baltimore or the Pirates against the Cards some hot August afternoon? If TV baseball goes on a pay-at-home basis, people will turn back to radio accounts of the games.

"How do you feel about night games?" the poll asks. Too many I say. They keep the kids away, and what's better for baseball than a kid in the family who is wild about it? He'll drag whole slabs of the family to the park.

"Some people feel that public controversies such as top management 'pop-offs,' inter-club squabbles and similar disputes not involving the actual day-to-day playing of the game are bad for baseball. Do you agree?"

Of course not. The game was built on such gusty sands. Clubs should do everything they can to stimulate person and team rivalries. Who do you want—Burt Shotton or Leo Durocher?

Fearless Ford asks, "Do you think that the baseball commissioner's office and league offices are doing 1) a good job; 2) a fair job; 3) a poor job; 4) no opinion?"

A pretty good job, but room for much improvement. The business of baseball is still conducted in many parts of the country with all the salesman ship flair surrounding an 1865 country store on an Ozarks crossroads.

Critic, Actress Marry After 9-Year Courtship

NEW YORK (AP)—Drama critic George Jean Nathan, 73, and actress Julie Haydon, 45, were married yesterday aboard the cruise ship Santa Rosa.

It was the first marriage for both. They have known each other for 17 years and had been engaged for nine.

There is too much of "Well, it's phy; much too much self-satisfac- of officials that they are rendering the only wheel in town" philso- tion and the assumption on the part a great civic service by staying in business and charging exorbitantly for uncomfortable seats. More use should be made of the stars during the off-season. They should be put on salary by the commissioner's office and sent into the hinterlands to fire the imagination of a fandom that is yawning most ominously.

Bonnie Sue Mitchell Wed in Presbyterian Church

A lace handkerchief carried by the bridegroom's grandmother on her wedding day 46 years ago, was the "something old" used by Bonnie Sue Mitchell, daughter of the Marshall Mitchells of Watkins Lake, for her marriage to James Allen Attard on Saturday evening.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Attard of Drayton Plains. The 7 o'clock ceremony at First Presbyterian Church was performed by the Rev. William H. Marbach.

The bridal gown of pure white satin was fashioned with a nylon tulle bouffant skirt which extended into a wide band of Chantilly lace and continued into a cathedral train of fine accordion pleats. Lace decor accented the bodice and her veil was secured by a Juliet lace cap.

She carried a chapel bouquet of feathered carnations, white roses, stephanotis and English ivy streamers, centered with a white orchid. She also wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

Floor-length gowns of the maid of honor, Patricia Owens, and bridesmaids, Sandy Brown, Barbara Lynd and Patsy Fawcett, were identical except in color. Pastel shades of orchid, pink, powder blue and coral were used, respectively.

WEAR MATCHING HEADPIECES
Hiplines of the full nylon tulle skirts were marked with puffs of nylon tulle, which also trimmed the silk nylon bodices. Scalloped headpieces matched each dress.

The attendants' bouquets were also similar. Feathered carnations tinted to match the dresses and English ivy were centered with gardenias.

Roscoe Henry was best man and ushers were Larry Wigner, Lewis Fitzgerald and Tom Healy.

A reception followed in the church parlors. Pink broadened organically with matching accessories was worn by the bride's mother as she greeted guests. The bridegroom's mother selected a dusty rose lace-trimmed dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of baby orchids.

DONS BLUE DRESS
The new Mrs. Attard donned a powder blue linen dress with white accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet, for a wedding trip through northern Michigan.

She will make her home with her parents while the bridegroom is serving in the U.S. Navy.

Novel Paint Helps Keep Home Cool

Now there's a paint on the market for use on the roof and outside walls designed to lower indoor temperatures as much as 45 degrees.

The Coating Laboratories, Inc., of Tulsa, Okla., developed the paint by applying the principal of heat reflection — the paint has a special pigment that reflects heat and light.

It's easily applied, and if the home painter spills some while brushing it on, it can be cleaned off with warm, soapy water before it has dried.

Matrons Advised on Eating Habits
EAST LANSING, Mich. (U.P.) — An Iowa State College professor of nutrition says the middle-aged woman should watch her diet "as her home-making tasks lighten and her household diminishes in size."

These two factors, says Dr. Pearl Swanson, often lead to erratic eating habits — too many calories one day, too few the next. And this causes anxiety, depression and a continuous breakdown of tissue protein.

Dr. Swanson spoke at a symposium at Michigan State College on "the potentialities of women in the middle years."

Arrangements of white flowers decorated Rotunda Inn at Pine Lake for the reception following the ceremony. The wedding cake was topped with a tiny floral arrangement of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Morton greeted her guests wearing a rose-beige gown of peau de sole with white accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Kremer chose a powder blue gown of silk barathra with matching accessories for her son's wedding. Deep pink roses formed her corsage.

When the couple left on a wedding trip around Lake Michigan to Chicago the new Mrs. Aldrich was wearing a dressmaker suit of dark gray Italian cotton. She wore yellow gloves and black patent accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Upon their return the couple will reside on Murphy street. They are graduates of Michigan State College, where he was affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity.

Eastern Stars Meet
Group Four of OES met recently for a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. William Hooper of Cooley Lake road. Cohostesses for the affair attended by 23 members and guests were Mrs. Peter Hanlan, and Mrs. Ralph Cromis.

woman's negative approach, her martyr-complex and angeriness, are going to prevent her from succeeding, almost before she begins.

I sent her a list of books on philosophy and psychology which may help her orient her thinking, without which nobody can help her.

But here is another letter, also about leathercraft, from a woman I shall call Mrs. B.

FUN TO DO
"Now that my children are in school and I have a little time to myself, I am very anxious to learn more about working with leather."

"I have done a little of it, through the years, and love it."

"You can make the most beautiful things and it's such fun to work with. I wonder if you would be kind enough to send me a list of books on leathercraft."

RIGHT APPROACH
There's a woman who approaches the problem in the right spirit.

You can tell that she will not only have a fine time at her hobby, but will probably come up with some money-making items as well.

If you would like either list of these books, on philosophy or on leathercraft, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this paper and I will mail it to you.

Let Another Rumor Give You Helping Hand

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
"Dear Miss Woodward: We've been going together since school started last fall, and a few days ago word got around that he didn't like me any more."
"Another boy who heard this decided he did like me. That made my boy friend a little jealous, and he wouldn't speak to me. I've tried many times to get him to stand still long enough to hear that I don't like the other boy. But he won't listen."
"He won't tell me whether or not he still likes me. He just says he doesn't know. I still like him and want him back. What do you advise?"
Answer: A very quieting rumor started by some interested somebody was the cause of all the upset.
Perhaps your boy friend started it and perhaps he's the victim of it, too. And his coolness is all because of the other boy's attention to you and his announced decision that he likes you and intends to do something about it.
You panic to get things straight with him may look to him like an apology, a confession.
So, why not let another rumor give you a helpful hand? You haven't managed to get his ear yourself but you can bet he'll hear it from all sides, if you let it be known that though you still like him very much, you're quite smitten by a certain unnamed Mr. X.

Don't equip the rumor with details. Leave that to everybody's imagination—most of all his.
"Dear Miss Woodward: For almost two years I have been going steady with her and I really feel that I'm in love with her. But for the past two weeks she's been giving me what looks like the 'cold shoulder.'"
"On our last two dates she hasn't seemed completely natural or happy. I've heard from other girls that she would like to break up with me, but I'm afraid to ask her about it because she might say it was true. I don't want to lose her, so what should I do?"
Answer: If her restlessness continues, you can beat her to the punch by letting a little rumor get around that there just might be somebody else on your mind.
She won't like the idea one bit—even if she's in one of her low moments over you. She won't want you to get away from her until she sends you.
I just might arouse her interest again and snap her into making an out-and-out play for yours.
If that doesn't do it, use the summer vacation as an excuse for relaxing the steady part. Let her miss you. That will bring her around.

General Motors Powerama to Feature GMTC Vehicles

Eight trucks and seven coaches manufactured by GMC Truck and Coach Division in Pontiac will be among the galaxy of diesel-powered vehicles exhibited at the General Motors Powerama in Chicago, Aug. 31 - Sept. 25.

Biggest show of its kind ever presented, the spectacular Powerama will be open to the public in a 1,000,000-square-foot area on South Lake Shore Drive, adjacent to Soldier Field. This was the site of the Century of Progress exposition in 1933-34.

Admission to the 26-day "world's fair of power" will be free. Entertainment on the colorfully-decorated Powerama grounds will range from stage shows with singing and dancing to exhibits showing actual operation of the modern locomotive, saw mill, cotton gin, earth mover, fighter plane, and many other mechanical giants.

Introduced to the public at the Powerama will be a lightweight, low-cost passenger train designed and built by General Motors at the request of a committee of railroad presidents. This diesel-powered beauty will be able to carry 400 passengers in "air ride" comfort, reaching speeds of over 100 miles per hour for sustained stretches. Superstructures for the train's cars were built at the Truck and Coach Division. After appearing at the Powerama it will be demonstrated on major railroad systems.

WATER DISPLAY

Along a specially-built pier in a protected lagoon will be a varied array of marine equipment and craft, including a U. S. Navy submarine, a pleasure launch, shrimp boat, and many others. Visitors will be able to board these craft.

Other displays include educational cutaway mechanisms and the sensational "dream" truck, L'Universelle, which will make its first Chicago appearance.

Showing the vital applications of diesel-powered GMCs in present-day trucking operations, the display trucks will range from an oil well servicing unit to a vehicle used to pull logging trailers.

The bus exhibits will include a Greyhound Scenicruiser, the General Motors turbine-powered Turbocruiser, a deluxe Golden Chariot intercity coach, a 41-passenger intercity coach, and three transit buses.

PROVIDES TRUCKS

Besides the regular display vehicles, GMC will provide several trucks for maintenance of the exhibits and the show-grounds.

Three six-wheel GMC trucks powered by 6-cylinder diesel engines will appear in the oil well and sawmill exhibits.

A DW950-67 with a gross combination weight (GCW) of 70,000 pounds will stand near an operating oil drilling rig which it pulls, while a DW970-67 with a 59,000-pound gross vehicle weight (GVW) will power an oil well servicing unit mounted on top of it.

In the animated sawmill exhibit another DW970-67 tractor and trailer loaded with huge, 32-foot logs will show how the logs are hauled to the mill.

Several 600 series diesel-powered GMCs will be used in road building and cotton gin displays. One of the 600 series trucks will transport raw and baled cotton to and from the cotton gin.

Two dump trucks, a D660-47 and a six-wheel DW630-47, and a six-wheel DW630-47 concrete mixer will be stationed on the road-building exhibit. All three vehicles are powered by 4-cylinder diesels and their GVWs are 30,000 and 46,000 pounds, respectively.

PORTABLE FEED MILL

In still another exhibit, a two-and-one-half ton truck furnished by GMC will be loaded with a portable feed mill.

Making its Chicago debut, L'Universelle, a front-wheel drive panel-delivery-type truck, will be shown with other GM "dream" cars. Since its introduction in January, the new-type truck has created a sensation in trucking circles and attracted record crowds at GM Motoramas.

Other GMC exhibits include a cutaway diesel engine showing the various principles involved in its two-cycle operation.

A cutaway Hydra-Matic transmission, a Vee-Drive bus exhibit, a back-projected motion picture and other educational displays also will be shown by GMC.

TRUCK AND COACH DISPLAY—A logging vehicle similar to this diesel-powered D970 GMC tractor-trailer combination will be displayed by GMC Truck & Coach Division at the General Motors Powerama in Chicago. Loaded with large 32-foot logs, the tractor-trailer combination will be used in the animated sawmill exhibit to show how logs are hauled to the mill.

POWERAMA MODEL—A model of the GM Powerama, which will open in Chicago for 24 days beginning Aug. 31, is inspected by P. J. Monaghan, (left) general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division; C. R. Osborn, vice president in charge of GM's engine group; and Semon Knudsen, general manager of Detroit Diesel Division. GMC Truck will have a large number of Diesel-powered trucks and coaches and other exhibits in the Powerama.

Air Being Sold for Skyscrapers

New Buildings Planned for Space Over City Railroad Yards

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's skyscrapers—airy castles of glass, steel or aluminum, some walking on stilts—are giving our cities a new look.

Their gleaming facades mirror our changing times and way of life. In their train come new problems of crowding and traffic jams, of lunch hour rushes for counter stools.

Builders seek to grub the maximum yield out of each square foot of scarce land space in crowded business centers—even out of the air above land put to some other fundamental use such as railroad yards, or super traffic expressways.

Use of air space isn't new. The Waldorf Astoria, other hotels, many luxury apartment houses and tall office buildings are astride the yards of Grand Central Station. New York's huge Central Post Office is built on steel stilts over the rail yards near Pennsylvania Station.

Now the rush to find office space for America's fast expanding giants of industry is sparking a new set of plans to use air rights. New York Central and the New Haven Railroad talk of replacing Grand Central Station with an underground utility passenger station topped by a skyscraper with acres of high rental office space.

been established, but the stories on file speak for themselves. Most wives don't mind if drinking is done in moderation at home, but when it's done in taverns, after working hours, conflict arises.

CHIEF COMPLAINT
A chief complaint of the husband is an untidy house, Prout says. "The father comes home from work, and the house is not cleaned and dinner isn't ready. Too much of that sort of thing isn't recommended for a happy house. So complaints come from both parties," he said.

in preparation for a possible meeting with the Russians.

The 79-year-old Chancellor returned home last night from a strenuous week of visits in Washington, New York and London during which he assured top Western statesmen of his government's loyalty to the Atlantic Alliance.

He declared on arrival that West German views on such coming developments as the Big Four "summit" conference "coincide fully with those of President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and Prime Minister Eden."

Evidently tired by his eight days of traveling, Adenauer had to be reminded by his new foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, of the French.

He stepped back to the microphone to describe French-German relations as "extraordinarily heartfelt."

He said he had "very useful and important discussions" in Washington. In London yesterday, he said, he and Eden "discussed the whole present situation in full frankness."

On his trip, Adenauer stressed publicly that his government will "remain a good partner to the West" even though he will "probably" accept the Russian invitation to go to Moscow to discuss establishing trade and diplomatic relations.

He indicated that he would not visit the Soviets until after the Big Four talks in July. But a London report last night suggested that the British think it might be a good idea for him to sound out Moscow intentions before the Geneva conference.

That this and other ideas are to be followed up was indicated by a joint Adenauer-Eden statement that they plan further exchanges of views.

The question of German reunification cropped up in almost every public statement made on the trip. Adenauer made it clear to his Western allies that he is to measure the sincerity of Russian intentions in apparently relaxing cold war pressure by their readiness to agree to free the 18 million East Germans to join a democratic and independent united Germany.

Having reached agreement with his major Western allies, Adenauer is now expected to tell his experts to begin preliminary discussions with the Soviets to clear up several points before he accepts their invitation to Moscow.

Most Marital Difficulties Can Be Solved

By TOM BUCHANAN

Marital difficulties which sometimes lead to divorces occur in wealthy homes, as well as in families where there is little or no money.

Whatever the case, some marriage difficulties are peculiar ones, according to Cadman Prout, county friend of the court. Cause of major spats between husbands and wives can sometimes be solved, if the parties concerned are willing to get to the root of the difficulties, Prout says.

However, many of them either don't want to bring them to light, or they just can't realize the real friction point because they're too close to the situation. Prout's office handles divorce cases where children are involved, and assists the circuit court by recommending which parent should be given custody of the children.

TENSIONS RUN GAMUT
"The areas of tension in marriage run the gamut, from in-law intervention to infidelity. Most factors include drinking, gambling, non-support and physical abuse," Prout says.

Office workers, dealing with the actual factors of divorce problems, find that in-law battles begin very innocently.

"Relatives try to assist a young couple, not realizing their proposed help could lead to resentment. Sooner or later, conflicts arise that may become so deep-seated they are beyond repair."

The drinking aspect is more frequently found in cases where husband works on an outdoor job. Reasons for this fact have not been established, but the stories on file speak for themselves. Most wives don't mind if drinking is done in moderation at home, but when it's done in taverns, after working hours, conflict arises.

CHIEF COMPLAINT
A chief complaint of the husband is an untidy house, Prout says. "The father comes home from work, and the house is not cleaned and dinner isn't ready. Too much of that sort of thing isn't recommended for a happy house. So complaints come from both parties," he said.

Extradition Process Long, Involved

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

When a man is arrested outside the state for a criminal offense committed in Oakland County and refuses to waive extradition, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem heaves a sigh.

It means the prosecutor's office will have to go through the long and involved extradition process.

A process which may seem unnecessary, but is set up to assure that the accused person's rights will not be infringed and due process of law observed.

About 15 forms will have to be completed and sent to the governor who makes the final decision on whether extradition will be sought.

The nature of the crime must be stated plus who will be sent to pick up the prisoner, a statement of where the accused is believed to be is enclosed (he is usually already arrested), the justice names who asked the arrest and copies of the complaint and warrant included.

Other forms include: Affidavits from the county clerk that the prosecutor is the prosecutor, the notary public involved is a notary public, the justice of the peace is a justice and that the circuit judge is a circuit judge.

The judge then certifies that the county clerk's affidavits are valid by including one stating that the county clerk is the county clerk.

Pictures of the person charged are enclosed with proof they are genuine.

The prosecutor confirms that he believes all statements made are true and that the offense charged is a violation of Michigan law.

If fraud, obtaining money under false pretenses, embezzlement or forgery is charged, the complaining witness must sign an affidavit that he asks the person's return only for criminal prosecution and not to provide a chance for a civil suit.

The governor then is asked to sign the order and request the chief executive of the state holding the accused to release him in custody of an Oakland County law officer.

The other governor can refuse to turn the prisoner over, ending any chance of extradition, but this occurs rarely.

The entire process can take from one to three weeks, said Ziem.

Hire Deaf Secretary to Get Good Spelling

NEW YORK (AP)—The oddity of an executive looking for a stenographer who can spell might do well to hire a deaf one.

As a matter of fact, many employers now are doing just that. They have found that office workers with hearing impairments have a large vocabulary and know how to use it because they learned to spell properly early in life.

The reason: deaf children, undisturbed by distracting noises, develop a good visual memory of words and letters. Those with normal hearing often learn to spell the 66 basic sounds of English speech by ear instead of by sight.

Big crisis in industry note: Australian rabbits aren't multiplying as well as they did—and that may add up to your paying a higher price for your hat, mister.

The faraway bunnies have been riddled by a disease called myxomatosis, and the price of their pelts has risen from $2 a pound to $6.

"If this keeps up we'll all be wearing beavers again," says I. Benjamin Parrell, president of Adam Hat Manufacturers, Inc., which converts nearly 10 million Australian rabbit pelts a year into felt toppers.

It now takes about five skins to make a hat, but as a result of the disease epidemic the Australian hoppers are growing smaller and soon it may take six to eight.

Parrell's plant is in Corsicana, Tex., where plenty of wild rabbits abound nearby. But this is no consolation to him.

"They're Texas jack rabbits and no good for hats," he said. "Too tough."

Is there a magician in the house?

Almanac editorial: Many of our readers have complained that the 75th anniversary of Thomas A. Edison's invention of the electric light caught them flat-footed, and they didn't have time to get properly lit up in tribute to this important occasion.

Well, our friends in the industry have let us in on another closely held secret—next Aug. 1st is the 25th anniversary of the photoflash bulb in America.

Now is the time to start planning your own celebration of this historic event. Why don't you and your neighbors hold a block party in tribute to the dear old flash-bulb?

Incidentally, now that Americans spend almost as much time in automobiles as they do in their homes, did you know motor cars now use more light bulbs than houses do?

The average motor car had only 5½ bulbs in 1925, now has 22.8 (one 1955 model has 32!). The typical home contains only about 19. (And if your house is like mine, they all seemed to be turned on all the time!)

Odd jobs department: Richard and Edith Barstow, the brother-sister team of choreographers, say the most difficult job of their career was plotting steps for the 50 dancing elephants in the Ringling Bros. Circus. The problem they had to overcome: an elephant's front feet follow a different rhythm than its hind feet.

By the way, there are no "chorus boys" in the herd. Most circuses got rid of their male elephants years ago. The big boys get too bad-tempered during certain seasons. And you can't sell a customer popcorn or pink cotton candy after an elephant uses him for a rug.

Science Discovers New Ointment That Instantly Stops Pain of Sunburn... Turns Redness Into Comfortable Tan

New York, N. Y. (Special)—A leading research institution has discovered a new medical substance that instantly stops pain of sunburn... and prevents blistering or peeling, so angry redness may turn to handsome, comfortable tan.

Doctors know that sunburn affects skin just as any ordinary burn does. They also know the body needs oxygen for healing. The secret of this new substance is its astonishing ability to draw healing oxygen and nutrients directly from the bloodstream into the sunburned area. Thus, the sunburned skin heals completely and, except in unusual cases, smooth tan emerges.

This substance is known as Spert® Ointment. Spert Ointment does not sting or stain. It is now sold at all drugstores for 98¢ a large tube. Buy Spert Ointment with the amazing guarantee that your sunburn will turn to a handsome tan, or your money is refunded.

Widows' Estate Rights Summed Up by Judge

(Following is the second installment of a two-part interview with Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, who discusses financial problems of widows. The interview concludes a series of 10 articles on investments carried by the Pontiac Press.)

Q. How will claims against the deceased husband's assets be handled?

A. During the probating of the estate there will be a hearing on claims which means that creditors may make a claim against the estate and when all are compiled, they will be paid proportionately if there is sufficient money therein.

Q. What about taxes on the estate?

A. If the estate is substantial, the administrator or executor will have to pay and satisfy a number of federal and state taxes.

Q. What do these include?

A. Federal estate tax, which is a tax against anything which the deceased person accumulated and left either in his estate or by turning it over earlier, but not reporting it as a gift.

This, of course, has an exception that any person may make a free gift of $3,000 per year to as many persons as he likes without tax. In fact, a total of $30,000 of gifts cumulatively over the $3,000 individual limit can be made without tax. Generally speaking, this does not apply to estates of less than $60,000 or of less than $100,000 than $60,000 or of less than $100,000 in certain cases where there is a will.

INHERITANCE TAX

There is also an inheritance tax which is a levy on the right of a beneficiary to take or inherit from the deceased person. Here the widow has a $30,000 exemption plus $5,000 for each minor child.

In addition there are income taxes to be cleared up or paid during the probate proceedings and there may be a tax on personal property, such as stocks and bonds, called the intangibles tax.

On large estates there may be a business receipts tax. Taxes on

Body of Jet Pilot Found After Bailout

DENVER (AP)—The body of one of five Marine Reserve jet fighter pilots whose planes were forced down Saturday by severe weather was located yesterday near Leoti, Kan.

A spokesman for the 44th Air Rescue Squadron at Lowry Air Force Base here said the victim, Maj. Patrick Duggan, Lone Wolf, Okla., probably was dead when he reached the ground.

Duggan bailed out during a thunderstorm. His plane crashed 12 miles northeast of Selkirk, Kan. The other reservists all brought their planes down safely.

Widowed Sisters Killed Nearing Home After Fete

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Saturday had been one of the gayest days in years for Mrs. Emma Chapin, 87; Mrs. Florence Gray, 85, and Mrs. Josephine Gresham, 75, widowed sisters.

They motored down to Dunn, N.C., for the wedding of Mrs. Chapin's granddaughter to an air force lieutenant.

Yesterday they were only a few minutes away from home on the return trip when their car and a tractor-trailer collided and all three were killed.

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—The first man in Waukesha County to become a papa on Father's Day was appropriately enough, Richard Poppie. His son weighed in at 8 pounds 6 ounces.

Story Becomes Personal

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Reporter Tony Svet interviewed a pacing father outside Miami Valley Hospital's maternity ward yesterday. He had just started writing his story, a Father's Day feature for the Journal Herald, when a call from Mrs. Svet sent him scurrying. He was soon pacing the same hospital corridor. It was a boy, and Svet finished his feature—with personal touches.
