

Repatriated Yanks Caught in Fidel Coup Head for Reunions

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — "I think only of happiness," "Freedom, freedom." "We can't believe this," were some of the thoughts expressed.

Most would not speak of hardships in Cuba.

FEARED TROUBLE

They feared their statements might endanger efforts by the U.S. State Department, negotiating through the Mexican government, to bring the remaining Americans and some 1,000 of their kin to United States soil.

A mustachioed man in dark glasses waved away questioners with a shrug and a rueful grin. His lips formed the word "family" as he drew a finger across his throat.

Many Pacts to Expire in '67

Teamsters to Start Major Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 7 million workers will be up for wage hikes in 1967 in new labor pacts or previously negotiated contracts, and James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union leader, said the parade.

The Labor Department reports the round of major labor negotiations will be the biggest in recent years, covering airline pilots, auto workers, food processors, railroad employees and workers in textile, rubber, paper, telephone and many other industries.

The government's figures cover only contracts involving 1,000 or more workers and smaller cases will bring the total number of workers involved considerably higher.

Information on contracts covering an additional 17 million workers wasn't available for the Labor Department's report.

CONTRACT TALKS

Of the 7 million workers listed, more than 3 million will be involved in new contract talks and nearly 4 million will get wage increases negotiated earlier in long-term contracts.

Hoffa, starting negotiations next month for some 450,000 Teamsters under his union's national trucking contract, opens the first of the major new contract negotiations.

Reportedly planning to demand a 7 per cent hike in wages and fringe benefits, but possibly settling for 5 per cent, the Teamsters will set the tone for the size of expected '67 labor demands.

Although wage settlements averaged 3.7 per cent in 1966, the pattern moved toward 5 per cent in the latter part of the year in major agreements covering airlines mechanics and electrical industry workers.

Ambulance Service Will Change Sharply

By DAVID J. COOK

Discontinuance of ambulance service by 10 area funeral homes could mean a keen struggle for the former business as well as an increase in rates for emergency runs.

Competition to fill the expected gap beginning Sunday in accident and sick-call service will come from Fleet Ambulance Service, Inc. and General Ambulance Service, the two largest firms in northern Oakland County.

Both firms, based in Pontiac, have already made expansion moves, according to their owners.

Floyd Miles Jr., head of Fleet, says his company will have in operation by Monday substations in Commerce and Waterford townships and Rochester.

"In addition," he said, "we plan to double the number of our personnel and install new radio equipment costing more than $10,000."

EXTRA VEHICLES

Clyde Marshbanks, owner of General said his firm now has eight ambulances, some of them purchased as far back as April.

"We anticipated the move by the funeral directors last spring," he noted. Marshbanks says he too has increased his staff.

At the same time, Marshbanks said he didn't expect "much vigorous competition" as a result of the situation.

"I don't fight my competition and never will," he declared, commenting however, that he doesn't think there will be "enough new business to support expansion" by both companies.

HARSH WORDS

Marshbanks had harsh words for "arrangements" announced collectively by the funeral directors earlier this month.

"I didn't think it was fair of them to ignore my company," he said, "in fact, I think it was prejudiced."

The group announcement by the 10 undertakers followed several weeks of discussion between them and Miles, whose Fleet company is by far the junior of the two ambulance services in terms of tenure.

"The funeral home owners were concerned about adequate ambulance service in their areas and asked us to get in and set up coverage," Miles explained.

WE AGREED

"We agreed," Miles said. The group announced by the 10 undertakers followed several weeks of discussion between them and Miles, whose Fleet company is by far the junior of the two ambulance services in terms of tenure.

Five ambulances will be based at the substations, augmenting the four Fleet presently headquartered in Pontiac.

General will have eight ambulances, according to Marshbanks, with a northern Oakland County post in Waterford Township.

Rates for emergency service, generally in the $15 range under funeral directors, will climb to $20 a run plus a one-way mileage to the hospital of 50 cents a mile according to Miles.

RATE STRUCTURE

Marshbanks said General's rate structure would be "approximately the same." Patient transfer rates will be a flat $15, both firms indicated.

Both men expressed the feeling that accident victims and sick persons would receive equal or even better service from the ambulance companies.

Privately, undertakers voiced similar opinions. They are sensitive, however, about their withdrawal from a function most have fulfilled since their foundations.

One spokesman for the funeral directors noted that emergency service had become "a losing proposition for 100 per cent of the funeral homes involved."

HIGHER COSTS

"Emergency losses are almost inevitably reflected in funeral costs," he said, adding however, "Money is certainly not the only consideration."

"It has become more and more difficult to get the kind of skilled help required for servicing traffic accidents."

"For most of us, there simply wasn't enough business to justify employing someone full-time for calls that might not come for three or four days."

An unfortunate expense adding to an undertaker's burden—though most are reluctant to discuss it—is the frequency of "drunk" and "fight" calls which almost never result in payment of fees.

SUBSIDY PROBLEM

One problem still to be worked out between both companies and the county is the possibility of a county subsidy to support the rates.

County auditors have reportedly proposed a $7 fee for county "cases," a figure termed "unrealistic" by Marshbanks.

"I assume," he said, "they (the county) will want to adjust their prices."

M24 Hazard Results in Lake Orion Busing

LAKE ORION — Elimination of another M24 crossing hazard for Lake Orion school children will be initiated by the board of education beginning Tuesday.

Effective then, fourth, fifth and sixth grade students living west of M24 and attending the Lake Orion Intermediate School east of the highway will receive bus service.

The district already buses those students attending the Blanche Simms Elementary School east of M24.

A crossing guard, employed at the Church Street intersection, will no longer be on duty, a board spokesman said.

Pension Plan Vote Sought

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Police and firemen are distributing petitions asking for a referendum next summer to initiate a pension plan for their departments.

William Teise, township fire marshal, said the Shelby departments have never had such a plan.

The one proposed — that sanctioned by Public Act 245 of 1937 — would provide retirement at about half pay for people having 25 years of service and having attained the age of 55.

Teise said the departments would contribute 5 per cent of their total pay to the pension fund and the township would be asked to contribute a sum equal to 10 per cent of the departments' salaries.

There are about 30 employees who would be covered by the plan, according to Teise, with the oldest man about 12 years away from retirement.

Any children crossing M24 are asked to go to the Flint Inter-Schools Supt. Lewis Mundy.

TO REVIEW BIDS

Bids on construction of 1,400 feet of roadway from the junior and senior high schools to M24 were turned over to engineers for review. A second access to M24 from the two schools is planned.

A report on parent-teacher conferences for the districts five elementary schools showed 84 per cent participation on the part of parents.

Six new teachers have been signed by the board of education as replacements for the second semester.

West Bloomfield Man Will Head Aftercare Center

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The State Department of Mental Health has appointed a township man as one of two directors of consultation centers designed to provide aftercare services for recently hospitalized mental patients.

Douglas W. Everhart, 41, 6829 Beverly Crest, was appointed director of the Macomb County consultation center, which will also serve Sanilac and St. Clair counties.

Social work supervisor at Pontiac State Hospital's outpatient department, Everhart holds a master's degree in social work and is a member of the National Academy of Certified Social Workers. The aftercare centers assist former mental patients and some mentally retarded persons in making successful transitions to community life.

NEARS COMPLETION—Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey inspects the new city hall, scheduled for completion in April. The one-story, 7,000-square-foot building on Maple will house city offices, the court, police and fire departments and library. A $75,000 bond issue was voted last summer to pay for the building.

Annexation Report Due in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE—Annexation of part of Commerce Township may move a step closer after Tuesday night's City Council meeting.

A committee which has been studying the feasibility of annexing a portion of the township to the city is scheduled to report on its findings at the council meeting.

If the committee recommends annexation, City Manager Royce Downey said the issue would probably be placed on the April 4 general election ballot.

He said, however, that the committee may not be prepared to make a recommendation at that time.

The area being considered, about 10 square miles, lies between 14 mile, Oakley Park and Haggerty to the east of the city and from 14 mile and Beck up to the village of Wolverine Lake on the west.

AREA FACILITIES

The committee's study has centered around the possibility of incorporating sewer and water facilities and police and fire protection into the township area.

Annexation would serve to

Deadline Jan. 3 for Holly Primary Vote Petitions

HOLLY — Persons planning to file nominating petitions for the Feb. 20 primary election must do so by 4 p.m. Tuesday. All petitions must be turned in to Village Clerk Betty Oliver, 113 Cogshall.

Expiring terms are those of the village president, treasurer, clerk, three trustees and the assessor.

All terms are for one year with the exception of the trustees who are elected for two-year terms.

Only one petition has been turned in so far, according to Mrs. Oliver. It was filed by Russell Alexander, 132 Bevins, for the post of president.

straighten out a crooked boundary line between the city and township according to Downey.

Commerce Township Supervisor Thomas Tiley has expressed doubt that an annexation proposal would ever be approved at the polls.

He said residents of the 13 subdivisions involved have indicated they would be against such a move.

DOUBTS TIME

"I doubt very much if there's enough time to get this through before April 4," anyway he said. If the city holds such a vote, the township would simultaneously hold a vote for the portion of the township to be affected.

Annexation would have to be approved by a majority of voters in the city and in the area to be annexed.

Board to Name New Principal

Avondale Board of Education will meet in a special session Tuesday night to appoint a new principal for Stone Elementary School.

The new man will succeed Joseph Coe, recently named principal of the Avondale Junior High School.

The board will also consider the purchase of four new buses for the district.

Tied to Armed Robberies

Four armed robberies have been turned over to Ferndale authorities for prosecution there. At their arraignment yesterday in Mt. Clemens Justice Court, bond on Maleaky, Breeding and Horn was set at $10,000 each and they were remanded to jail to await an examination next Friday.

Roger Malasky, 17, and Samuel Breeding, 17, both of Sterling Township, already charged in the beating and robbery earlier this week of John Cummings Jr. of 51204 Fairlane, Shelby Township, reportedly admitted other robberies in Shelby, Ferndale and Centerline.

Shelby police said William Storey, about 18, of 5100 23 Mile was walking on Van Dyke in front of the police station.

He was picked up by the youths and driven to a side street south of 23 Mile.

A gun was held at his head and a knife at his throat, he told police.

Hawkish Pressure on LBJ Said Rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will President Johnson's administration be dominated by the hawks or the doves in 1967? There are sharp differences in the ranks, but the prevailing attitude in Congress appears to be hawkish.

White House advisers, divided too, seem also to lean toward a hawkish increase in military pressure in Vietnam over attempts to lure the Communists to a conference table with a dovetail approach. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, presidential adviser Walt Rostow and most of the generals and admirals are acknowledged hawks. Ambassadors Arthur Goldberg and W. Averell Harriman, along with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, are considered doves for the most part.

FINAL DECISION

The President, who must make the final decision to escalate or not, keeps ordering more troops into the field, while at the same time holding out the olive branch to the Communist government of North Vietnam.

One thing is certain. Failure to achieve peace talks in the new year will increase demands for escalation to end the war militarily.

Already, Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, has called for "the absolute annihilation of Hanoi and Haiphong if it is necessary to victory." Hanoi is North Vietnam's capital; Haiphong its main port.

What appears to be the dominant view in the Senate has been put by Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, in these words: "Their continued intransigence leaves us no choice but to inflict greater punishment on the Communists until they halt their aggression. I am convinced that the use of superior force is the only means by which they can be forced to the conference table."

MILITARY PROBLEM

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., had this to say: "As far as what weapons and techniques are needed to bring about victory or cause them to sit down at a conference table, it is a military problem, not a civilian problem."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has consistently voiced support for the administration's policy in Vietnam, causing disappointment among some old liberal friends who denounce the U.S. war effort.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, thinks the United States should recognize the National Liberation Front — political arm of the Vietcong, the Red guerrilla force operating in South Vietnam — then "move toward negotiations and try to neutralize the area." Acceptance of Vietcong negotiators at the conference table is one of North Vietnam's conditions for starting peace talks.

AGAINST THE TIDE

Another who swims against the apparent congressional tide is Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, who wants to de-escalate the fighting and intensify peace bids.

"The options and alternatives," Mansfield contends, "are getting fewer."

The senator fears that the fighting may develop into a general Asian war.

A major difficulty in assessing the relative strength of the hawk and dove forces in the White House inner circle is the lack of a sharp definition of a hawk or of a dove.

DIFFERING OPINIONS

To Fulbright, Dean Rusk is certainly a hawk.

To Gen. Wallace M. Greene, commander of the Marine Corps, Rusk is dovish.

In the view of many in Washington, Johnson himself is the foremost hawk. He has exhorted his field commanders in Vietnam to "come home with that cooskin on the wall."

In an Iowa speech last June Johnson declared that as long as the Communists spurn negotiations "we must use our power to resist their aggression and try to change their minds."

FACING VOTERS

But intimates say it must be obvious that nobody would be happier to entertain a Communist peace offer than Johnson, who must face the American voters again less than two years from now.

Johnson contends that he is neither hawk nor dove.

During a recent period when opponents of the war were bitterly criticizing McNamara, the President confided to friends that the secretary of defense was actually something of a dove.

The real hawk in his Cabinet, Johnson said, was Dean Rusk.

HAWKISH ADVICE

Some Senate doves, such as Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., worry that Johnson is getting too much hawkish advice from his official family.

They deplore the departure from presidential councils of former Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, often dubbed "the dove in the State Department."

The doves also regret the resignation of Bill D. Moyers, presidential press secretary, who had a hand in promoting last year's 37-day pause in the bombing of North Vietnam.

Girl Scouts Cuts UF Family Ties

A regrettable impasse revolving around agency cooperation has resulted in withdrawal of the Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council from membership in the Pontiac Area United Fund as of December 31.

Disagreement between the two has been growing over the past several years, due primarily to disinclination on the part of Girl Scout leadership to comply with budgetary and other procedures required of participating agencies.

For the United Fund to function effectively, the 55 member agencies submit mid-year budgetary programs for the following year.

Hearings are then initiated by UF panels of citizens to weigh and correlate agencies' monetary needs in order to set an over-all goal for the fund-raising campaign that follows.

Although Girl Scouts has been less than cooperative in making such an annual disclosure, matters came to a head over a year ago when the United Fund instituted an independent survey of private and public agencies (76 in all) to ascertain the efficiency of their operations and eliminate, where indicated, overlapping of functions or other forms of waste.

Girl Scouts, alone of all the agencies, declined to submit to the study unless the United Fund granted it

$5,000 to defray claimed cost of preparation for the examination.

Obviously, such a proposal was most unrealistic—if for no other reason that a precedent would be established which could invite similar demands by other agencies.

Because of the announced withdrawal from the United Fund, Girl Scouts, who last year received $38,000 from the Fund, was not included in the Fund's 1966 fund-raising campaign to finance operations for 1967.

Thereupon the agency during the past two months staged an independent campaign. Significantly, the amount raised was $12,000—at a cost of $8,000.

The give-once-for-all principle of the United Fund has proven itself the Country over. Were communities to revert to fund-raising efforts by individual agencies, solicitation and administrative costs would soar, with continual and swelling demands on contributors.

Isn't one campaign better than 55? We think it is.

It is to be hoped that the local council of Girl Scouts, one of the Nation's finest character-building organizations, will reassess its position with respect to the Fund and rejoin the family of United agencies.

The Unbiased Critic

David Lawrence Says:

Fiscal 'Credibility Gap' Exists

WASHINGTON — No corporation that handled its books as does the United States government would ever be given a clean bill of health by a certified public accountant. Income from the sale of assets is added in with re-

LAWRENCE
Receipts from taxes. Trust funds are used to meet current operating expenses of the government.

So it's amazing to read that Secretary of Labor Wirtz in a public speech has criticized members of the press generally for taking note of the inflationary effects of the federal budget with its big deficits, and for not attaching greater significance to a different form of budget accounting which for the time being shows a slight surplus.

There is, however, no doubt that a "credibility gap" has arisen with respect to government finances.

Today three kinds of budgets are used by federal officials. These are called the "administrative budget," the "cash budget" and the "national income accounts budget."

It so happens that the first one shows a deficit of $2.3 billion for fiscal year 1966, and the "cash budget," carries a $3.3-billion deficit, while the "national income accounts budget" has a surplus of 900 million dollars.

FRAGILE FOUNDATION

Secretary Wirtz reflects the position of the administration, which would like everybody to accept the budget formula that in a particular year shows a surplus. But public confidence is not built upon such a fragile foundation.

Thus, the "national income accounts budget" includes all federal trust funds, such as those for Social Security and highway construction.

But in any private corporation, the income of a pension fund or any other trust set up for the benefit of the employees would never be mixed in with the receipts or outlays of the corporation itself.

Another device which is used by the administration is what is known as "accelerated payments." As tax collections from companies as well as individuals are moved into the current year, receipts show a substantial increase because, in effect, taxes from two different years are being consolidated in one year's account.

The whole system of government measurement of its financial position has long been regarded as unsatisfactory by people in the accounting and auditing profession.

NOW APPARENT

It now is being apparent to the public that the main purpose in the change of name or formula in each newly invented budget is merely to make a better showing on paper.

This is why there is a "credibility gap" about government finances, and one budget name will not be an improvement if the government spends more than it takes in and even uses trust funds to pay its bills.

Bob Considine Says:

Time Out for a Fantasy About Viet Cease-Fire

NEW YORK — Stand back, please, and make room for a fantasy:

Funny thing happened during one of those cease-fires which illuminated the war in Vietnam. By astonishing coincidence, everybody's clock stopped some hours before it was time to go back to the routine business of killing.

Naturally, this was very distressing to both sides, and have a miserable little miracle like watch-stopping and clock-busting interrupt the traditional flow of blood-letting.

As the hours stretched beyond the scheduled end of the cease-fire, without proper confirmation from the clocks of the antagonists, small beasts and birds came out of hiding in the war zone, looked around in wonder, and ruminated on the miracle.

They were not impressed by the miracle of the stopped time pieces.

BULLETS RUST

The miracle that had brought them from their hiding places was the flabbergasting apparition of the sudden and totally unprecedented taming and domestication of the carnivorous human being.

As time dragged on, bullets rusted, guns became corroded, barbed wire formed on ship bottoms, the Vietcong forgot how to collect taxes, B52s wore out, Hanoi experienced a grueling shortage of mimeograph machines, and the United Nations got around to saying that maybe it shouldn't have started in the first place.

As if a new miracle had happened, both sides realized that they'd been spending entirely too much blood and fortune on this—the 12 millionth and thirty-second war on record since man learned to walk on two legs instead of four.

Coincidentally, each side came to the remarkable conclusion that what it primarily wanted was fighting for was peace—a period in which it could consolidate its hopes and yearnings.

On this side, there was nothing to do with all the appropriated money except to rehabilitate all the damage that had been done and to use the rest of what was left to make life better for all the survivors, to build schools and hospitals, research centers and housing, playgrounds, libraries, temples of art and science, roads, communication centers and examine every other field affecting the welfare of the species during its short passage through this world and its hopes of a hereafter.

As for the other side, it must want the same general sort of thing, one hopes and prays.

End of fantasy.

Contrast . . .

The National Observer

The year 1966 began with the Johnson Administration still flushed with success after the productive first session of the 89th Congress.

There were some tough problems on the President's desk, notably Vietnam, but the man was still being hailed as the complete politician, exercising almost total mastery of the men and governmental machinery around him.

That was a year ago. Now as 1967 approaches, reports from down at the ranch suggest something else. Now we see a man seemingly in trouble with the hierarchs in his own party.

He is compelled to submit to an emergency conference with Democratic governors, who patronizingly insist that they are not this man's enemies but his supporters. We see Mr. Johnson's political astuteness, so recently and so blithely taken for granted, now blithely seriously questioned.

The contrast is striking. So there's a tendency to marvel at how the President, and maybe his country and its politics, have changed in a year. Nothing has really changed very much.

'Mental Health Program Needs Full Cooperation'

As one who worked diligently during the last two years to bring more mental health services to Michigan and strengthen the Community Mental Health Services Program by introducing one bill and co-sponsoring another, both of which became law, and as one who realizes that there are 3,500 children in Oakland County who need psychiatric help, I urge all members of the Community Health Services Board, the superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, the acting director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health and the Governor to search for a workable compromise of the differences that are blocking the services that are needed by so many.

Italian Floods Obliterate Culture of Centuries

The real tragedy of the Italian floods is not that so much of the Western world's heritage of art and literary treasures was swept away or reduced to soggy, useless pulp. It is that so little of it, particularly the written kind, had been recorded on film before it was irretrievably lost.

A fresco must eventually peel, a painting fade, a manuscript crumble. True, with elaborate precautions, they can be preserved, even for centuries. Yet this is like sealing culture under glass; it represents more a scientific value than intrinsic worth.

Democrats Turning Reflective

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a slowdown sentiment among Democrats and it could help create a season of caution and reflection on Capitol Hill.

Still in congressional command despite a stinging election setback, the Democrats themselves seem worried about the shape of the Great Society programs they produced for President Johnson.

Its most explosive expression came Dec. 15, when 18 Democratic governors talked until midnight at White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and agreed that the Great Society is moving too fast for the voters' taste.

They blamed anti-administration sentiment for the election returns which gave Republicans 47 new seats in the House, 3 in the Senate and 8 governorships.

"I think the programs are coming too fast without proper crystallization and organization," said Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois.

RANCH TALK

And complaints about the administration of Johnson-launched programs apparently dominated the President's 4 1/2-hour talk with nine of the party's governors at the LBJ Ranch a week ago.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield has harshly criticized the governors' political assault on Johnson. But Mansfield, too, is a member of the slowdown school.

He said his words of caution — in a letter to Senate committee chairmen — were not prompted by election day setbacks or by the governors' grumbling.

Mansfield said he had been urging for more than a year that Congress slow down and assess what it has done.

LIMITED AGENDA

On Jan. 7, just before the last session convened, Mansfield said Congress probably would face only a limited agenda of presidential requests, "because we passed so much legislation last session."

"It's time to stop, look and listen now," he said then. It didn't turn out that way.

Now Mansfield has offered the same message on the eve of the 90th Congress. He told the committee chairmen it should be a session of "dispassionate restudy" and a thorough, second-look at major domestic programs.

Of the deluge of major legislation which poured from the 89th Congress, Mansfield said: "Considering the vast scope of this work and the unprecedented nature of much of it, it is to be expected that there exist a number of rough edges, overextensions and overlaps, and, perhaps, even significant gaps."

SAME MESSAGE
His tone was not critical — but his message was not dissimilar from that of the governors.

It is against this backdrop, and with a 90th Congress in which Republicans will have the House voting power to influence more significantly the shape and pace of legislation, that President Johnson is working now on his budget and his plans for the year ahead.

After Being Denounced

China Official Hails Red Guard

TOKYO (AP) — One day after his ouster was demanded by the Red Guards, Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi delivered a fiery speech Thursday praising the "cultural revolution" purge.

"The situation in the great proletarian cultural revolution in China is excellent," Chen told a Peking rally of 100,000 persons, including Red Guards, the official New China News Agency reported.

Chen repeatedly praised Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung, who with Defense Minister Lin Biao turned loose the young Red Guards last August to drive anti-Mao thinkers from public life.

Neither Mao nor Lin attended the rally. Premier Chou En-lai did but did not speak.

ASK OUSTER

Red Guards attacked Chen, 65, Wednesday in posters crit-cizing him for unspecified "personal remarks" and demanding: "Kick old Chen out."

The wife of the foreign minister, Chang Chien, a work committee deputy chief at a printing plant, was accused of restricting plant workers' campaigns and his son, Chen Shao-ho, was accused of mistakes while serving as a member of a crop inspection team.

In his speech Chen said the main target of the purge "is the handful of people within the party who are in authority and are taking the capitalist road. They are like time bombs placed within our party."

He said the purge "has broken through the obstructions raised by the bourgeois reactionary line (anti-Maoist) and is developing in depth and breadth." "This great cultural revolution is aimed precisely at consolidating the dictatorship of the proletariat and the socialist system in our country, at preventing revisionist usurpation of the leadership and at preventing the restoration of capitalism," Chen said.

He also denounced the Soviet Union and Indonesia's new government for "dirty political deals." The failure of the attempted Communist coup in Indonesia in October 1965 was followed by a swing away from the pro-Chinese policy which Indonesia had followed and constituted Red China's gravest setback in the foreign policy field in many months.

The report from Peking said the audience, which had assembled to welcome 41 young Chinese expelled from Indonesia, responded with clenched fists and shouts of: "Down with Indonesian reactionaries!" "Down with Soviet modern revisionists!"

Marries Wealthy Older Man

She's In It for Money

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My daughter married an older man — much older than herself. Recently they had a few quarrels, and she must have said something to him about leaving him, because he showed her a piece of paper which she signed the day before the marriage.

It said if they ever got divorced, she couldn't claim any part of his estate, and he would not have to support her, but he would support any children they might have. (No chance.)

Abby, my daughter tells me she signed the paper in all the excitement of getting married without knowing what she was signing. What is she supposed to do if she decides she can't get along with him? Pick up and leave without getting a dime for the time she put in with this old guy?

WORRIED MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Your daughter should ask a lawyer what her legal rights are. If she married "this old guy" for the right reasons, she wouldn't expect to be paid for "the time she put in" with him.

The old boy sounds pretty smart. He'll feed a horse as long as it's in his own stable.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for eight years. We have three small children, and my wife is a fairly good housekeeper except that she insists on putting the garbage in with the trash. I have tried to explain to her that it is not only unsanitary, but it is also illegal where we live.

Leaders Fete Son

Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader of Bloomfield Hills entertained at a dinner-party Thursday evening honoring their son Marine L. Albert C. Leader home on furlough from Cherry Point, N.C.

It's like talking to the wall. I can't afford a garbage disposal and I don't want to hit her as I'm sure she'd have me arrested. What can I do?

ITCHY
DEAR ITCHY: First try the "let's do it together" method of teaching, as you would with a child. If she doesn't catch on, prepare to take over the K.P. duty at your house.

I don't know the penalty for combining trash with garbage, but it can't be as severe as wife beating.

DEAR ABBY: I used to ride to work with a man but now I take the bus because I don't want to get killed. He's about 70, and I think he needs eye glasses. He squints in order to see what's right in front of him.

Puerto Rico Is the Destination of Newlywed G. R. Lytle

In Puerto Rico for a honeymoon are the Gary Richard Lytles (Barbara Ann Brenton) who were wed Wednesday evening in St. Thomas More Church, Troy.

With the couple at the reception in the Village Woman's Club were their parents, the Brady S. Brentons of Troy and the Richard M. Lytles of Grosse Pointe.

Hand-corded Alencon lace appeared on the bodice and scalloped French hem of the bride's gown of ivory peau de soie styled with court train.

A double circlet held the bride's imported illusion veil. She carried a nosegay of gardenias and Stephanotis.

Elizabeth Brenton attended her sister as maid of honor along with bridesmaids Christine Leide, Adrian and Margaret Woolson, Birmingham.

With best man Dennis Denoyer of East Detroit were the ushers John Goff and Ronald Harcaric of Detroit, Frederick

He can't even see the stop signs. We would have been in a couple of bad accidents if I hadn't yelled for him to stop.

The last time I got out and took a bus the rest of the way. How he gets his driver's license renewed is a mystery to me. He really is a menace on the street. Should I report him to the motor vehicle department or to the local police?

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: It would be a public service to suggest to the police that licensing authorities check the man's eyesight.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hubacker, Cheboygan and Harry Preston, Flint.

The bride was graduated from the School of Dental Hygiene, University of Detroit Dental School. Her husband holds a master's degree from Michigan State University.

They will reside in Troy.

MRS. G. R. LYTLE

Milford Rite Unites Pair From Area

A luncheon in the Fox and Hounds Inn, Bloomfield Hills, followed the marriage of Elizabeth Jane Short to Ronald Joseph Fedorowicz of Ann Arbor, today, in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Milford.

White silk brocade touched with pearls at bodice and hemline fashioned a floor-length tunic-style gown and matching coat for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Short of Valley Drive, White Lake Township.

A silk pillbox cradled the bride's illusion veil and her cascade bouquet held pink and white roses.

Mrs. James T. Short attended her sister-in-law at the family ceremony.

Richard Fedorowicz was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse J. Fedorowicz of Saginaw.

After a wedding-trip to Nassau and Miami, the bridegroom will resume work on his doctorate in engineering at the University of Michigan. Both are graduates of Michigan State University.

Miss Tripp Is Honored

Rose Marie Tripp of Hammond Lake was honored at a recent bridal shower given by Kay Wilson in the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house at Michigan State University.

She will wed Pfc. James Edmund Cousins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Cousins, this evening in the Bethany Baptist Church.

Mrs. Donald Gatewood of Old Salem Road, Avon Township and Mrs. Chris Brakke of Grand Rapids honored their brother's fiancée, daughter of the George I. Tripps at a kitchen shower. Rosalind Surowitz was also a recent shower hostess.

Mrs. Johnson Makes 'The List'

Mrs. John F. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, London socialite and aspiring actress, moved into first place on the international "Best Dressed" list as the summary of the 1966 worldwide poll of 2,000 fashion leaders, designers and editors was announced today.

Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the late President, and a five-year fixture on the list, was placed in the Fashion Hall of Fame by the committee of fashion editors which counts the popular ballots and compiles the annual list.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson made her first appearance on the list this year. Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke, wife of the U.S. Ambassador to Spain, also appeared for the first time. The third newcomer was Mrs. Henry Ford II, the former Christina Austin.

The 1966 list of twelve best dressed women in the world reads:

- Princess Lee Radziwill
- Mrs. Carter A. Burden, daughter of Mrs. William Paley
- Lauren Bacall
- Mrs. Wyatt Cooper, the former Gloria Vanderbilt
- Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson
- Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt
- Mrs. Patrick Guinness, daughter of Mrs. Loel Guinness
- Mrs. Charlotte Niarcho, the former Charlotte Ford
- Sophia Loren
- Mrs. Angier Biddle Duke
- Mrs. Henry Ford II
- Mrs. Harilaos Theodoropoulos of New York, the former Betsy Pickering, wife of the Greek shipping magnate

Although Washington has been under somewhat of a cloud in the elegance sweepstakes during the past several years, things are looking up there, judging by the new list.

Lyndia Bird Johnson, Nancy Dickerson, Washington news commentator on NBC, Mrs. William McCormick Blair Jr., wife of the U.S. Ambassador to the Philippines, and Mrs. John Sherman Cooper, wife of the U.S. Senator from Kentucky, figured prominently in the voting, the committee revealed.

The appearance on the list of Sophia Loren and Lauren Bacall also indicates that theatre and film stars are once more becoming fashion influences, the announcement said.

European royalty and titled ladies, usually standard presences on the list, were absent this year.

Supplementing the popular vote, the committee of fashion experts announced their own list of special citations for "notable fashion influence during the year" to the following women:

Mrs. Loel Guinness of Paris and Palm Beach, Signora Gianni Agnelli of Turin, Italy, Mrs.

John F. Kennedy, Mrs. Walther Moreira-Salles of Paris and Brazil, Merle Oberon (Mrs. Bruno Paglia) of Mexico, Mrs. William Paley, Mrs. Alfred Bloomington, Mrs. Vincente Minelli and Mrs. Kirk Douglas of Beverly Hills, Calif.

Mrs. Charles Engelhard, wife of the South African platinum magnate, Princess Paola of Belgium, Mrs. Konrad Henkel of Dusseldorf, wife of the West German industrialist, Mrs. Graham Mattison of Paris, The Marquessa de Villaverde (daughter of Generalissimo Franco of Spain), Mrs. Wyatt (Nancy) Dickerson of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Samuel Reed of New York and Mrs. Yul Brynner, wife of the actor, and others.

April vows are planned by Oakland University students

Julie Nixon Represents U.S. at Ball

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — A tall, rosy-cheeked brunette whose father was once vice president of the United States clung to the arm of a curly-haired lad whose grandfather was president at the time. She made her way down the center of a ballroom to bow to international society Thursday night.

The girl, Julie Nixon, representing the United States, was the first of 57 daughters of rich and important parents presented at the 12th annual International Debutante Ball held at the Waldorf-Astoria.

ATTENDES SMITH

Julie, 17, a freshman at Smith College, is the younger daughter of former Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon. Her escort was David Eisenhower, grandson of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

More than 1,000 guests sat around candlelit tables or leaned over balconies glittering with gold and twinkling with lights to watch the parade of beauties and their military escorts.

Presiding over the event from the royal box — one that bulged out a little farther than the rest — were Julie's proud parents.

The elder daughter, Trish, who came out at the same ball in 1964, now and then threw sugar cubes at table 47 below to attract the attention of her young contemporaries there.

After a while, Perle Mesta sat next to Nixon and chattered warmly, proving that people who dine together do not necessarily vote together.

Earlier in the evening, the famous hostess "with mostest" in turquoise blue silk and sparkling diamonds, declined to stand in the receiving line with Nixon because, she said, "It wouldn't do either of us any good."

Randy Paar, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paar, was too shy to join the line of white-gowned girls who smiled and shook hands for several hours.

Late comers were ex-Mayor Robert F. Wagner and his wife, Barbara, who were not recognized at the door. They made it in time, however, for the beginning of the long presentation.

Following Julie Nixon came Macjanna Van Rensselaer Griswold, daughter of Mrs. George Griswold Jr., the ball co-chairman. The crowd cheered when seven Texas girls made their traditional bows, intricate gymnastics that amounted to touching the floor with their foreheads and rising again.

One-time singer Jane Pickens' niece, Helen Shreve, daughter of the Rev. Canon and Mrs. Charles Alexander Shreve, represented New Jersey.

PAPER DRESS

One of the girls representing New York was Francine Ayn LeFrak, who made a debut at a private party this week in a paper dress at Arthur Dischouque. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. LeFrak. He is a realtor.

Among the nobility, was Oriel Skeffington, daughter of Viscount and Viscountess Masserene and Ferrard Skeffington, Chillum Castle, Kent, England. Representing one-time imperial Russia was Princess Tatiana Belosselsky-Belozersky, daughter of Prince and Princess Serge Belosselsky-Belozersky, now of New York City.

From Spain was Maria Rosario Bermejo, daughter of the agricultural attaché of the Spanish Embassy, Antonio Bermejo. Other foreign representatives were from Argentina, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, France, Germany, the Republic of Korea and Norway.

The International Debutante Ball was founded by Beatrice Joyce, an ample woman dubbed as "Duchess of Debs."

The yearly charity affair is a benefit for the Kidney Foundation of New York.

After Christmas Sales, Treat

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

The real open season for bargain hunting begins with the After-Christmas Sales. And most of us, of course, are poised to see how much we can get for how little.

After an expensive year behind us, we are looking for any savings we can make for 1967. We figure

MARY FEELEY we can save a dollar here and there on end-of-December sales of cards, gift wrappings and fruit cakes.

Then January White Sales come up, and some of the seconds in towels and sheets are sure to save us money. After that comes February and overcoats with marked-down prices, followed by March when a pair of slacks can be picked up at a good price. In fact, just about every month ahead will offer special buys.

So here is a reminder all bargain hunters need: Keep in mind that "specials" are bargains only when they're really going to prove useful.

We all know that the stores offer some real gems in budget buys, according to the season. And we also know that some great big glamorous sales have little to offer in real bargains. So in order to be a smart shopper, you have to use some standards of your own before you spend your money.

For instance, before you buy a "bargain," be sure you'll need it.

Number Two: ask yourself why the store is offering the article at a lower price. Because seasonal storage is too costly to keep it over? Because the shelves need clearing to make room for more up-to-the-minute merchandise? Because the store wants to make new friends, and therefore permanent customers, through means of a sale which can attract? Because there are a lot of "seconds" on hand, and new perfect merchandise is coming in?

All these are legitimate reasons for a Big Clearance. But just be sure you know why, as an individual shopper, you really want the merchandise. Some of the best bargains to be had are the soiled items in clothing, which need only a good washing to make them like new again — and these certainly are "your money's worth."

A garment that has been marked down a couple of times because the color or styling may seem "old hat" to other people but suits you just fine is also a money's worth. Maybe you're an extra-large or an extra-small size, and can find a grand item at a small price.

Remember to shop the basement, too, as well as the upper floors before you leave the store. Sometimes last year's favorite color relegates a garment or a shower curtain or a pair of sheets to below stairs — but it may be exactly what you want.

Pay close attention to "seconds" because some of them are just about as good as "first" for your purposes — and you'll pay less for them. Irregular threads in carpeting that are going to be hidden under a piece of furniture couldn't matter less.

So if the carpeting you want, as far as type and color are concerned, is marked down because of these minor irregularities, you're financially ahead. The same holds good for sheets, where irregular threads may be tucked under the mattress when the bed linen is actually in use.

Another reminder which may not be amiss, in view of all the sales that will be coming up, is this: shop carefully for the children where sizes are concerned.

The little shirts and underpants may be a real bargain for the money — but not if the children are already about to outgrow that particular size.

And remember, too, that you can't always trust your husband not to put on a few extra pounds before he needs the new work pants you've been saving money on six months ahead.

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — A Fresno man and his wife offer a unique service to fight poverty — they help people declare themselves bankrupt.

Tom Hutchison, 35, and his wife Anyce, 30, say they started the service after they lost their own home and other possessions because of debts and joblessness.

Their service consists of merely typing up bankruptcy forms which already have been filled out by clients.

Their advertising slogan is equally uncomplicated. "Fight poverty. Go Bankrupt!" it reads.

Hutchison emphasizes that the service is not for legal advice. "We give our clients sympathy . . . show them how to file the papers . . . after a while they have a go at it themselves."

"I think it is almost impossible for a lay person to file bankruptcy schedules competently because they are so complicated," he said. "If it is not done properly a man can lose his home."

Why Start
Smoking
So Young?

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: We girls in our teens are often told not to smoke because it's not ladylike, but Happy Rockefeller, the Number One Lady in our state, smokes. She wouldn't do something improper.

That proves smoking is ladylike. Because of our respect for her, we switched to the brand that Happy smokes. — Teen-agers.

Dear Teen-agers: You didn't mention your ages but I'll repeat what I've said before — why start ruining your health so young? I'm sure Happy's smoking manners are flawless and yours may be, too.

But there are probably more than 20 years between you and Mrs. Rockefeller, so let a few more go by before you decide whether smoking is really for you or not.

AT RECEPTION
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it incorrect for the bride to have someone to help record and open presents that are brought to the reception? — Eleanor J.

Dear Eleanor: If you decide to open gifts at the reception, you had certainly better have someone there to help and to keep records. A bridesmaid or relative will be glad to give you a hand and leave you free to mingle with your guests and enjoy the festivities.

Navy Places Order for Shrike Missiles Despite Viet Miscues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has just ordered $6.1-million worth of Shrikes, the air-to-ground missile which, according to some reports, haven't worked too well in Vietnam.

Whether they work as intended, a Navy source said Thursday night, the fact remains that the demand for Shrikes in Vietnam exceeds the available supply.

A $4.4-million contract for Shrikes was let Wednesday to the Sperry Rand Corp., of Bristol, Tenn., along with a $1.7-million contract to Texas Instruments, Inc., of Dallas, Tex.

So far, unofficial figures indicate $84.5 million has been spent on the 1,500-mile an hour Shrike. Official figures were not immediately available.

REPLACEMENT

While the Navy is still buying Shrikes, reports are circulating in the Pentagon that contracts are being drawn for production of a Shrike replacement. The figure generally used is $90 million to $100 million.

The Shrike, which came into the combat inventory in 1965, is known as an antiradiation missile.

It is designed to home on the electronic beams emitted by the enemy's radar. This radar is used by the North Vietnamese to detect approaching aircraft and for controlling the aim of guns and missiles.

There have been reports that the Shrike, which is quite similar in design and appearance to the Sparrow III air-to-air missile, is confused when the enemy flicks his radar sets at multiple sites on and off.

COUNTER MOVE

To counter this tactic, the improved Shrike supposedly will have a memory built into it, one which will select a radar beam, plot its location and continue on course even though the target ceases transmissions. It will ignore beams from other sites.

The Shrike has a range of eight to 10 miles. The new antiradiation missile reportedly will have a range four to five times the Shrike's.

Still shrouded in secrecy is a flow-on missile known as HOGS — Homing Optical Guidance System. This will use a terrain (map-matching) technique.

At the stroke of twelve, the New Year begins, with many a friendly wish of good cheer. May we add ours, for you.

Deadlines Noted on Commercial, Trailer Plates

Expiration date for 1966 commercial and trailer license plates is Feb. 28, 1967, the same as for passenger cars.

However, 1967 commercial and trailer plates will expire Jan. 31, 1968.

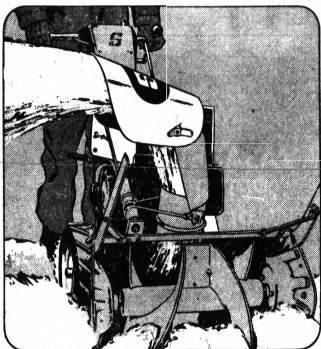

Making the announcement today was Patrick K. Daly, manager of the secretary of state office at 4520 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township.

Daly said the earlier expiration date, beginning in 1968, is designed to take some of the slack off the last-minute rush for license plates each February.

Congregations Build New Churches, Additions in '66

READS TO GRANDSON—Alex Bigger of 2 Park Place reads the Christmas story according to the Gospel of St. Luke to his 5-year-old grandson Dale Bigger of 671 Northfield. Dale loves the story and his grandfather but falls asleep to dream of the coming of Christmas. The families are members of First Free Methodist Church.

Several new congregations were organized, new churches constructed, property purchased for expansion and two Baptist churches merged in the Pontiac area during 1966.

Redemption Lutheran Church, founded in January, met for first services Feb. 6 in Pine Lake Elementary School, 3333 W. Long Lake, Orchard Lake.

Under the leadership of Pastor Leroy Johnson property has been purchased for a building program.

Ground was broken in March for the completion of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church, 5631 N. Adams, Bloomfield Township.

The $500,000 project will include the main sanctuary, a large freestyle lounge which will also house the church library, a large youth room and 15 additional Sunday School classrooms.

Also included will be a new and expanded nursery, two church offices and an open bell tower.

This is the third building project in the congregation's nine-year history.

The Pontiac Church of God congregation moved into the new building, 623 E. Walton, on Easter Sunday with dedication services in the afternoon.

The $250,000 building has seating capacity for 700 persons in the nave with accommodations for 78 in the choir loft.

The new church is the congregation of the Church of God, Anderson at East Pike. The former building was sold to the Messiah Missionary Baptist Church, located at Prospect and Paddock.

Dedication and open house of the first unit of the new Incarnate Word Lutheran Church took place on June 19. The new building is located on a four-acre site at 2101 Opdyke between Square Lake and South Boulevard.

The outdoor cross is lighted at night. The building divided into a temporary chapel seating 125 also contains a nursery, study, storage space and a large multi-purpose room. The cost was near $77,720.

The First Christian Church held a commissioning service for founding members of the new church tentatively called

New Church Set to Open

Covenant Baptists, Maranatha Merge

Opening services for the new Fellowship Baptist Church will begin New Year's Day. Fellowship Baptist was founded by the merging of the Covenant and Maranatha Baptist churches, both of Waterford Township.

The congregation will have the Rev. Robert Savage of the Covenant Church for pastor. All services will be held in the Maranatha Church, 1240 Jay off Cooley Lake near the Four Towns School.

Officer From State Recalls 'Day I Died' in S. Vietnam

CAN THO, South Viet Nam (AP) — The only way I can look at it is that on the 21st of December I died.

Capt. Charles J. Banks of Holland, Mich., took a drag on his cigarette and added:

"It's really hard to realize I'm still walking around. I think the Lord was with all of us that day."

The 36-year-old Army officer told today how he threw himself on a Vietcong hand grenade last week. He covered the grenade with his body while five of his men divered for cover. When they were safely out of range, he picked up the grenade and threw it into a field where it exploded just before hitting the ground.

CITED FOR VALOR

The act has earned him a Bronze Star for valor and he is being recommended for the Medal of Honor, the highest U.S. military decoration.

"Would he do it again?"

"I don't know. I've thought about it," Banks said.

"I know one thing, though. I've done it many different ways in my dreams since then."

FLIES PLANE

Banks flies a single-engine spotter plane over the marshy, paddy-dotted southern end of South Vietnam. He commands the 2nd Platoon of the 13th Aviation Battalion's 221st Company stationed at Can Tho, 120 miles southwest of Saigon.

The 5-foot, 8-inch, 183-pound pilot is no stranger to danger. He uses his plane to attract enemy fire so he can call in artillery or bombers against Communist positions. His flimsy little craft has been hit five times; one shot ripped through his helmet visor and broke his sunglasses.

But he is more interested in

Expert Doubts Ruby Lie Test Would Work

DETROIT (UPI) — Even if the state of Texas agrees to give Jack Ruby a lie detector test, a polygraph expert here says such a test might not be accurate.

Lynn P. Marcy, Detroit, executive director of the American Polygraph Association, said yesterday qualified physicians should determine first whether a lie test could be accurate considering the medication Ruby is receiving for cancer treatments.

Ruby has asked for a test to prove he had no part in the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy or had ever seen Lee Harvey Oswald before the day he shot him in a Dallas jail.

Marcy wrote Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr that his association believes "No meaningful polygraph examination can be administered to anyone who is under narcotic sedation or severe pain."

If this is the case or if other forms of treatment are being used which might affect a polygraph test, Marcy said "no such polygraph examination should be administered unless a clear-cut medical opinion is first obtained from qualified physicians stating that Mr. Ruby would be a fit subject for such examination."

6 Negroes Held in Mural Row.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Six Negroes who stormed City Hall Thursday and tore down a controversial mural were being held today on a variety of charges, including grand larceny.

The men, all in their 20s, are members of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, an organization which advocates black power.

They were arrested after they fled with the large painting, fought with police and finally attempted to destroy the canvas which they claimed depicted Negroes as being "despicable."

Police said the 4 by 8 foot painting, valued at $15,000, was commissioned in the early 1940s by the city government. The picture shows two Negro minstrels performing for whites about the turn of the century.

LBJ Seeking Broadening of Head Start

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is seeking ways to extend the Head Start program beyond preschool days.

This was disclosed Thursday night by the Texas White House in reporting that Sargent Shriver, director of the antipoverty program, had met with the President at the LBJ Ranch.

"They talked about ways of carrying the Head Start program on through the child's early years in school," an announcement said.

The Head Start program provides summer training for children. One of the criticisms of the program has been that it drops the educationally disadvantaged too soon.

Johnson and Shriver, the announcement said, reviewed the antipoverty program in general, with particular stress on the Head Start program.

Argentina in Crisis as Cabinet Resigns

BUENOS AIRES, Arg. (AP) — Argentine President Juan Carlos Ongania faced the crisis of his six-month-old military regime today following the resignation of his four-man civilian cabinet and mounting opposition to the government's social and economic policies.

The cabinet ministers and 15 undersecretaries forming the government's second level resigned Thursday ostensibly to give Ongania a free hand to reorganize his administration, but it has become increasingly apparent that the cabinet was sharply divided on how to cope with growing financial and labor problems.

The ministers who resigned were Enrique Martinez Paz, interior; Jorge Nestor Salmei, economy; Roberto J. Petracca, social welfare; and Nicanor Costa Mendes, foreign affairs.

Observers predicted that Ongania, 52, would accept the resignations of Salmei and Martinez Paz, but would reinstate Costa Mendes and Petracca. The president is scheduled to deliver a new year address tonight.

As news of the crisis spread, so did rumors of impending government changes. One report said the military junta which installed Ongania would soon replace him. Another said the government would call free elections within a month. A third said Adalberto Krieger Vasena, chief of the economic mission in Geneva, had been recalled to help rebuild the shaky economy.

The crisis came 48 days before foreign ministers of the Organization of American States are scheduled to meet in Buenos Aires to revamp the OAS charter. The meeting originally was scheduled for last August but was postponed because of the coup which put Ongania in power.

Salmei has been under attack almost since he was appointed, while Salmei is connected with a group of Roman Catholic economists who advocate some degree of economic planning and state control. The chief spokesman for this group, Felipe Tami, resigned the presidency of the Central Bank two months ago after accusing Salmei of veering to Alsogaray's position.

The Gifted Child

Not all gifted children are born that way. Many get special help and encouragement from perceptive parents. Take reading, for example. Reading is the key to comprehension. And comprehension is the backbone of accomplishment.

You have a great "helper" to better reading in your own home—the daily newspaper.

Is your child too young to read? Then let him look at the pictures. If he's already reading, point out items that you think would interest him. Suggest that he read them to himself, or you might read him stories from the newspaper yourself.

Statistics show that the people who read newspapers also do well in a lot of things.

They're better educated:

Education of Head of Household	Reading Average Weekday
GRADE SCHOOL	77%
HIGH SCHOOL	90
COLLEGE OR BEYOND	93

They tend to rise to the professional, managerial levels:

Household Head's Occupation	Newspaper Households
ADMINISTRATORS	98%
HIGHER EXECUTIVES, MANAGERS	97
SEMI-PROFESSIONALS	94
SKILLED MANUAL WORKERS	90

They're more likely to earn more:

Income	Newspaper Households
UNDER $3,000	70%
$3,000—$4,999	86
$5,000—$7,499	93
$7,500—OVER	95

But best of all they're better citizens because they're more aware of local problems, government & public issues.

So next time your toddler grabs for the newspaper, be proud. Encourage him to read. It's one of the greatest gifts you can give to a child.

Host Bluejays Meet Bentley

Invitational Tourney Reaches Finals

Host Southfield and defending champ Livonia Bentley square off tonight for the championship of the Northwest Suburban Prep Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Southfield dropped Redford Union into the losers' bracket with a 75-47 triumph and Bentley squeezed past Berkley, 61-60, in last night's semifinal contests.

The vanquished quintets meet for third place tonight after two other consolation contests that include a 4 p.m. Walled Lake-Farmington duel for seventh place.

Last night's Deerfield Invitational action was postponed until tonight. The home team plays Country Day of Birmingham for third-place honors.

Action in the River Rouge concluded last night with Detroit Thurston upsetting Ecorse for the title, and Northville trimming Robichaud 51-37. Host River Rouge was third.

Bill Davidson tallied 21 points and Glen Lenhoff, 19 to pace Southfield past Redford Union. Bentley withstood a 29-point performance by Berkley's Bob McNab.

Bills '$100 QB' Holds Hex on Kansas City

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The Kansas City Chiefs hope to open Sunday they really owned by a $100 quarterback. The Buffalo Bills and signal-caller Jack Kemp have other ideas.

The two clubs meet here Sunday in a nationally televised game (NBC) for the American Football League championship.

The winner goes on to Los Angeles Jan. 15 for the Super Bowl match against the winner of the National Football League title encounter between the Green Bay Packers and the Dallas Cowboys.

Kemp, picked up by Buffalo in 1962 for the AFL's $100 waiver price from San Diego, has lost only once to the Chiefs since donning a Buffalo uniform.

His sole setback came last Sept. 11 when he was plagued by a torn tendon in his throwing arm, suffered during pre-season training.

Teple Hill Awaits Big Ski Weekend

Teple Hill ski resort at the Highland State Recreation Area will have skiing under the auspices of the Pontiac Ski Club Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The slope depends upon natural snow. It will open 10 a.m. each day and run until dusk. There are three rope tows at the facility.

Also, the park does have bogganing and ice skating areas.

Kemp has engineered seven Buffalo victories and a tie against Kansas City. The Bills return to Buffalo today from Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, N.C., where they have been practicing since Monday.

FULL WORKOUT
Coach Joe Collier, youngest field boss in professional football at 34, plans to put the Bills through a full workout Saturday. He took the club south to assure top weather conditions for the last week of practice.

Michigan, Iowa 5s Divide at Tourney

HOLLAND (AP)—Michigan Lutheran opted Central of Iowa 83-81 in overtime and Northwestern of Iowa defeated Hope 93-88 Thursday night in the first round of the Dutch Classic basketball tournament.

The two winners meet tonight for the championship following a consolation game between Central and Hope.

Tim Jehn scored with four seconds to play in the overtime to give Michigan Lutheran its victory over Central. Leroy Haywood paced the victors with 29 points. Jim Wipvoet was high for Central with 17.

Northwestern held the lead throughout the game in overtime. Hope, but the host Dutchmen closed the gap to four points late in the game before a Northwestern rally turned the tide.

Pressure Tilt Favors Packers

Super Bowl Is Goal of Both Teams

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—When underdog Dallas steps into the big pressure game with Green Bay Sunday for the National Football League title, quarterback Don Meredith figures the young Cowboys will be facing the challenge of a lifetime.

"We consider Green Bay the supreme test," said Meredith. If ever a team had a challenge we've got one Sunday. I want to see Green Bay so badly because of what they represent—the best in football.

"It isn't the money so much, although that is important. When we had a club meeting to vote on shares there were no problems, no arguments. And when you vote somebody a share or a part of a share you are taking quite a bit out of your pocket."

"As for me, I don't think it would make any difference whether they gave you $5,000 or $25,000 for winning the Super Bowl. If I was in the American Football League I'd almost pay to let me play in it. If we win Sunday, we will be representing the whole NFL in Los Angeles Jan. 15. I'd pay them to let me play, and all of our squad feels the same way."

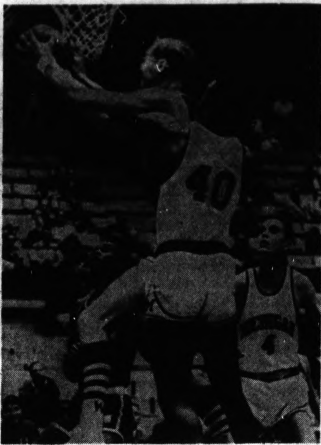

CERTAIN PASSES
"We feel we can run on Green Bay and certain types of passes will be effective. We'll be passing for 28 points, plus perhaps a field goal. We know that's quite an order against Green Bay, but we think we are capable of doing it."

The Cowboys have finished their hard work for the big game in the Cotton Bowl. They are tapering off today and will finish up Saturday with a limbering up drill.

Green Bay has been working out in Tulsa, Okla., all week and is due to fly into Dallas this afternoon after a morning drill at Skelly Stadium.

Cowboy Vince Lombardi will send the defending NFL champions through a brief workout Saturday morning at a Dallas park.

A sellout of 75,504 fans has been assured for some time. Game time is 4:06 p.m. EST, with network (CBS) radio and television coverage.

BOTHERING A BADGER—Michigan's Dennis Stewart (40) stops the field goal attempt of Wisconsin's Eino Hendrickson but also fouls the 6-9 Badger during a consolation game at yesterday's Los Angeles Basketball Classic. Craig Dill of the victorious Wolverines is at the right.

By JERE CRAIG

Bowling surely had a prosperous 1966 around Oakland County, and unless there's a sudden turnaround, the new year should continue to provide new heights of achievement.

Physically, the sport grew in the number of establishments. Savoy Lanes in the Pontiac area joined the list of bowling houses. New owners took Drayton Plains' Primrose Lanes and changed the name to Lighthouse Lanes. Jet Lanes in Holly became Mavis Lanes.

Heartfield Lanes of Berkley expanded its operation to 54 lanes — the county's largest establishment — and introduced the deck concept locally by building 10 overhead lanes on the 32 that were added.

Nationally, Mike Samardzja Jr. of Pontiac continued his outstanding efforts with the Stron's Beer team along with teammate Skip Seavoy of Bloomfield Hills.

Both Shirley Pointer and Art Pearson from local classic leagues qualified for the 1967 National All-Star Tournament in St. Louis.

Rochester's Laura Mead brought further distinction to the women with strong performance last winter at the Federation International des Quilleurs competition in Guatemala as a member of the United States' women team.

At the American Bowling Congress, the Union Lake duo Larry Angott and Dick Viles took a short-lived lead, then finally finished tied for seventh in the regular doubles event.

The Bowling Proprietors' Association of Oakland County added several new members and showed signs of its strongest rechartering in many years.

Another local event took place that could eventually prove very significant. The Pontiac Chapter of the 700 Clubs of America was rechartered after a period of dormancy.

Most of the area's outstanding bowlers are included in the new membership and the group has already sponsored 700 jamboree, plus currently laying plans for a singles tournament this winter.

The local men don't have an association of their own for seeing league matters and sanctioning procedures. With thousands of men competing as ABC members annually, it seems evident there's a need for an Oakland County, or at least Pontiac area men's association.

The 700 chapter should have the manpower and brains necessary to effect a separation from the Greater Detroit association, that despite its well-organized setup, isn't always able to provide the prompt, thorough service the bowlers need and expect.

The idea of a local association for the men — similar to the efficient Pontiac Women's Bowling Association — was tested once before and lacked the necessary support to succeed.

Maybe the men still don't see the need of having their own local association. The 700 chapter would seem to have the potential and facilities for finding out definitely.

With that thought in mind, here's a wish for a Happy New Year that should include additional important steps for bowling locally.

Jets Sign Razorback

NEW YORK (UPI)—Flanker Tommy Burnett of Arkansas was signed Thursday to a 1967 contract by the New York Jets of the American Football League.

LA Unleashes West, Baylor at Cincinnati

By The Associated Press. Elgin Senior and Jerry West are on the move, and that could mean an unhappy New Year for the Western Division teams in the National Basketball Association that are counting on a continuation of the surprisingly poor showing thus far by the Los Angeles Lakers.

In Cincinnati Thursday night, Baylor poured in 40 points and West came up with 35 for the biggest combined total the Lakers' 1-3 punch has had this season. Los Angeles won 126-114.

Los Angeles is still in fifth place in the West, 10 games behind the division-leading San Francisco Warriors.

BOWLING

Veterans' Disposal has a slim lead to protect in tonight's Huron Bowl Classic action, leading the runner-up Greendale Screw Products outfit by only one point and the Moose Lodge No. 182 by three.

Last week Jim's Standard Service posted a new season high for the runner-up high score with a 207 as all five members had 600s.

Bill Bull of the Moose led everyone with a 252-493. Tom Angell of Felice Quality Markets posted 228-459 marks and Fran Bertram of Greendale's hit 223-457.

Herk's Auto Supply's Karl VanDeMoortel had the second best game, a 244 in a 651 effort.

Outstanding all those classic totals, though, was the solid 237-242-594 outburst by Jack Choler of Skyline Shell in last week's Wednesday Nite "A" League at Huron.

Bob Davis of Oxford Mattress had 206-600 and Dominic Mazzara led a 233 for the house team.

Koufax Signs for Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Koufax has found a job that will be less of a strain on his poor left arm than his former position was, but now he'll have to worry about laryngitis.

The retired Los Angeles Dodger pitching star Thursday signed a 10-year contract with the National Broadcasting Co., calling for him to do broadcasting and other work for the network.

Cornhuskers Look for Vengeance

By WILL GRIMLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"We believe we can beat Alabama—that's why we wanted the game so badly," a member of Nebraska's football board of strategy said today — and the sentiment was echoed by the revenge-bent Cornhusker squad. "We have to control the ball and we can't make too many mistakes, but we're confident we can do it," added Carl Selmer, offensive line coach of the Big Eight champions who meet the unbeaten — untied Crimson Tide in the 33rd Sugar Bowl game Monday.

"These kids are as fired up and intent as any team I've ever seen. We've put them through some hard work and they haven't given a bit.

"Whatever Coach Bob Devaney needs to do to win this game, they're ready to go with him all the way."

PERFECT MARK

Alabama, third-ranked nationally and with the only major perfect record in the country, rules a 7½ to 9½ favorite over the massive, hard-running midwesterners who swept to nine straight victories before losing 10-9 to Oklahoma in the last game of the season.

Selmer, a former Minnesota and Wyoming player who acted as Devaney's spokesman at a formal press conference, predicted that the Cornhuskers would have to score three to four touchdowns to avenge the 39-28 setback suffered at the hands of Alabama in the Orange Bowl last January.

With left-handed Kenny Stabler at quarterback and two good receivers in Ray Perkins and Dennis Homan, the Tide will be able to score touchdowns faster than the bigger Cornhuskers, Selmer conceded.

Nebraska's two All-American guards: 214-pound LaVerne Albers of Davenport, Iowa, and 239-pound Wayne Meylan of Bay City, Mich., voiced what they said was the consensus of the team when they said Nebraska was confident of victory.

"We've been thinking about this game for a year," Albers said. "It's on everybody's mind. All of us want to go out and show that we shouldn't have lost a year ago."

Flint CC, Dales Cage Finalists in Tournament

FLINT (AP)—Host Flint Community College and Hillsdale clash tonight in the finals of the 13th annual Flint Collegiate Holiday basketball tournament.

Unbeaten Flint gained the finals by thumping Bluffton of Ohio 96-94 in the first round Thursday night, while the Dales overcame a seven-point deficit in dumping Northwood Institute 87-82.

Bluffton takes on Northwood in a consolation match preceding the championship game tonight.

Flint's Ken Jones popped in 22 points in his team's fifth straight victory. Jim Sommer had 17 for Bluffton, now 3-8.

Marchel McGehee topped the Dales with 25 points. Tom Rathburn notched 28 for Northwood.

PROPER BILLIARDS

by Jim Lidey

TRY BASIC SHOTS No. 9

In any sport, the best way to become proficient is to practice the basic plays. It's the same in pocket billiards.

The forthcoming articles will outline and explain the correct approach to 90 per cent of game situations.

For example, when playing a short straight shot to either a corner or side pocket, this is what must be done to pocket the ball with regularity:

First make sure you face the cue ball directly. Next, get the object ball in your sights, making sure your hand bridge is firm. Take a few practice strokes to insure a smooth wrist action. Practice this type of shot over and over until you master it.

Ann Arbor to Vietnam

Gls Grateful for Yule Cheer

ANN ARBOR (AP) — "The holiday would have just slipped by without the cards," wrote Army Pfc. James Pendorf, who added: "You have no idea what a morale booster word from home can be."

It was typical of the notes of thanks some 200 Ann Arbor residents received in response to Christmas cards they mailed Gls in Vietnam, whom they had never seen. Some even came in silk-covered Vietnamese Christmas cards.

Requests for addresses of service men in Vietnam snowballed after the Ann Arbor News printed two letters in November asking names and addresses of soldiers, sailors and marines fighting in that far-off land. Parents, relatives and friends furnished the News with more than 150 names and addresses.

TOTAL STRANGERS
One mother reported her son received 35 cards and gifts from total strangers. Others told of similar surprises reported by servicemen at mail call. Four women roommates who sent cards to 100 have received letters, a picture, and an "application for a Date with a Seabee."

The News itself got some cards of thanks. As a result of the project, some elementary and junior high school teachers encouraged students to write letters, one of them explaining: "It's much more beneficial to let the students write to a GI who really misses news from home than to a pen pal."

GIFTS SENT
Some people called the News for gift suggestions. Mrs. James Spitt decided to mail bundles of books, others sent tapes of Christmas carols, and one man sent Christmas trees and boxes of decorations to two units. Army Pfc. John J. Walton wrote back that he had put his cards around his tent "in place of a tree or lights."

VISITS BROTHER IN VIETNAM — Miss Beverly Hansen, 23, of North Bergen, N.J., is shown with her brother, Pfc. Robert Hansen, 20, during her recent visit to Vietnam. Last August when her brother left for the war zone, she told him that she'd arrange her vacation from her secretarial duties to be with him at Christmastime. She kept her word. The visit ended Wednesday.

Fire Chief Warns of Yule Tree Dangers

Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White has warned that Christmas trees are potential home-fire hazards and can become more dangerous the longer they stand.

He cited frayed electrical cords and overloaded plugs as the most common fire causes.

"People should check their cords carefully for weak spots," he said, "and should also be sure not to put too much stress on any single outlet."

White pointed out that trees, especially those containing pitch such as pines, tend to become much drier day by day. This, he said, makes them more dangerous.

"Some folks keep their trees standing for 12 days and these, especially, should be watered daily," he urged.

TURNS LIGHTS OUT
He also warned against leaving trees lit when the house is unoccupied or overnight. Overheated lights, he said, could easily start a blaze.

White advised putting the trees out for general trash pickup rather than burning for disposal.

"Burning in fireplaces," he warned "can be very dangerous because of sparks escaping into the room."

"The best way to get rid of them is to cut them up and put them in the trash. This prevents kids from dragging them around," he added.

State Dem Chairman

Zolton Eyes Reelection Bid

LANSING (UPI) — Zoltan Ferency, unsuccessful candidate for the Michigan governorship Nov. 8, yesterday announced he is seriously considering running for reelection to chairmanship of the Democratic party.

Final decision will be made in two or three weeks, Ferency said.

He also urged any individuals hoping to run for the position to come forward, and said that no attempt would be made to eliminate anyone.

"Soundings will be made among party leaders and elected officials at all levels," Ferency said.

The final decision will be made by party officers elected to the state convention Feb. 9.

PROVING A POINT—Louisville, Ky., Fire Marshal Maj. Merle Brown holds a lighted cigarette to the hollowed-out face of an imported doll to prove his contention that it is a fire hazard. Officials in seven states contend that the dolls—imported from Poland—are highly flammable, and they are reportedly being withdrawn from stores in many areas. Both the Food and Drug Administration and the Public Health Service's division of accident prevention are investigating.

Pentagon Defends Viet Bomb Tactics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pentagon leaders are dismayed by mounting criticism of civilian casualties in Vietnam air strikes. They regard present bombing techniques as the most accurate ever used and full of precautions to avoid such deaths.

Defense officials also expressed surprise in talks with UPI that the criticism came in the face of calls by their powerful congressional backers to damn world opinion and expand the bombing — a view not shared by all congressmen.

Officials said that in no previous conflict in which bombs were used has the selection of targets and the tactics used been as restrictive as they have been in the raids against North Vietnam.

In addition, they said, the development of secret electronic aids used in the strikes has made the bombing in Vietnam much more accurate than it was in other wars.

Officials conceded that despite precautions, civilian casualties do occur. But they said that

Detroit Law on Housing Is Overruled

DETROIT (UPI) — A city law which allowed home owners to refuse to rent or sell their property to anyone for any reason, including race, was declared unconstitutional yesterday.

A three-judge Circuit Court panel, in a 2-1 decision, declared the ordinance was "too imprecise to provide standards of conduct" and did not therefore meet the requirement of due process of law.

The ordinance was approved by voters in a 1964 primary election. The National Association of Colored People had filed suit against the rule.

One of the provisions of the law was that it assured "the right to freedom of choice of persons with whom he will negotiate or contract with reference to such property and to accept or reject any prospective buyer or tenant for his own reasons."

Judge John M. Wise and Joseph G. Rashid ruled against the law while Judge Edward S. Piggins dissented.

Piggins contended that there was no issue involved on which the court could justifiably rule.

Pipeline Planned in 3-State Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. of Detroit received authorization from the Federal Power Commission Thursday to construct 55 miles of natural-gas lines in Kansas, Illinois and Iowa.

Total cost of the work is estimated at $5.4 million.

Harvey: Time Not Right for New Trade With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., recently returned from a trip to Iron Curtain and other countries, says he is "at last lukewarm" to the Johnson administration's plans for broader trade relations with Eastern European Communist nations.

Harvey said in a statement that it could lead to a better understanding between Communist nations and the free world, but he doesn't believe "the climate is now right to rush into new trade policies."

"It is extremely difficult, if not impossible for me to overlook our nation's costly commitment in Vietnam against Communist aggressors who are being supplied, to a large extent by the same countries with which we would encourage trade," he said.

"It doesn't ring with any consistency that we should trade with those countries who supply our enemies with weapons to destroy us."

VISITS SOVIET UNION

Harvey visited the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Hungary, and also was in Italy as a member of the House Banking subcommittee on international trade.

He plans to return to his congressional district next week for appearances on the trade subject in Port Huron Tuesday and in Saginaw Wednesday.

Opening lead—4 ♠

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

If you think bad plays are never made by experts you are greatly mistaken. Every bridge player goes sometime or other. But experts are not quite as often as others.

South's two-trump bid was based on his 11-point pass plus the collection of tens, nines and eights. North's raise to three turned out to be a misplaced vote of confidence.

Dummy's queen of diamonds held the first trick. The four of clubs was led next. East ducked and South won with his jack. The jack of hearts was led and overtaken by dummy's king and another club led. East won with the king and led a diamond to his partner. Declarer played the jack and West was in with the king.

West saw no reason to continue diamonds. Instead he led the deuce of spades. South played low from dummy. East won the trick with his queen, cashed the ace of clubs and led a spade to West for the fifth defensive trick.

Do you see why South's low spade play was so bad? East had dealt and passed. East had already shown up with five clubs to the ace-king and ten. If he also held the ace of spades he would surely have opened the bidding with one club.

Hence, West was marked with the ace of spades and South should have risen with the king and run off the rest of the hearts and diamonds. Four hearts plus three diamonds plus the king of spades and jack of clubs represented the nine tricks South needed.

CARD SCIENCE

Q—The bidding has been: West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠
Pass 3 N.T. Pass 3 ♠
Pass 4 ♠ Pass 4 ♠
A—Bidding three no-trump. Your partner's second round bid of no-trump shows 11 or 12 points, not 13-15 and you have 18 yourself. A slam is possible but not probable.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two no-trump your partner has bid three clubs over your one spade. What do you do now?

Profile Drawn in Road Deaths

Result of Auto Club's Post New Year Study

DETROIT (UPI)—The motorists between the age of 30 and 39, driving to home at night, who has had a number of social drinks, is most apt to be involved in a fatal traffic accident over the New Year's week-end, reports the Automobile Club of Michigan.

This profile of the accident-prone motorist was a result of the Auto Club's investigation of 48 drivers involved in 30 fatal accidents last New Year's week-end.

The time studied was from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

A number of factors were found in most of the accidents, resulting in 34 deaths. Among these were:

Drivers between 30 and 39 years old were the most accident-prone, being involved in over 25 per cent of the fatal accidents.

NEAR HOMES

It was also discovered that drivers within 25 miles of home were involved in 86 per cent of all fatal accidents, almost 70 per cent of the accidents happened after dark, and that drinking drivers were involved in 62 per cent of the fatal accidents.

The Auto Club initiated a campaign—"First a Friend, Then a Host"—before Christmas in an attempt to reduce fatal highway accidents during the holidays.

Mr. Rollin, former owner of a hat shop in Marquette, died yesterday. He was a member of the Elks Lodge in that city and a 32nd Degree Mason.

Surviving are three brothers, Adolph in Pontiac, Walter in Jackson and Edward in Stambaugh, and three sisters.

James C. Thomas

Service for former Waterford Township resident Lance Cpl. James C. Thomas, 20, will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Lance Cpl. Thomas was killed in action Dec. 20 in Vietnam. He was in the U.S. Marine Corps and a former student at Michigan State University.

Surviving are his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Roy O. Thomas, and a sister, Lee Ann, all of Morgantown, W. Va.

Mrs. Claude Bush

HOLLY—Service for former resident Mrs. Claude (Mildred) Bush, 65, of Flint will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Dryer Funeral Home, with burial in Lakeside Cemetery.

Mrs. Bush died yesterday. She was a member of Delverance Tabernacle of Flint.

Surviving besides her husband are four daughters, Mrs. Ardale Scott of Drayton Plains, Mrs. Arlene Whaley of Flint, Mrs. Rosemary Lemons of Rushville, Ind.; and Mrs. Donna Clark of Holly; 18 grandchildren; and 14 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Charles H. Fifield

HADLEY TOWNSHIP—Service for Mrs. Charles (Lillian A.) H. Fifield, 88, of 3529 S. Hadley will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday from the Muir Brothers Funeral Home, Lapeer, with burial in Hadley Cemetery, Hadley.

Mrs. Fifield died yesterday after a long illness.

Surviving are a son, Stanley of Hadley Township; a grandchild; and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Rabern Young

BIRMINGHAM—Service for former area resident Mrs. Rabern (Ida E.) Young, 67, of Traverse City will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial in Oak Hills Memorial Gardens, Novi.

Mrs. Young died Tuesday. She was a member of Rebecca Lodge, Royal Oak, and operated a market in Traverse City.

Surviving besides her husband are five sisters and three brothers.

Fuel Oil Score

LANSING (AP)—The Lansing Fire Department said Thursday it has 29 gallons of a potentially dangerous fuel oil accidentally distributed by a Lansing company have been recovered.

The department said some gasoline apparently had been mixed with the fuel oil, creating a mixture that could explode under certain circumstances. Warnings were broadcast by radio and television stations.

For New Year's Eve Celebrators

Merriment Offered in Area

There'll be plenty of food, drink and noise.

That much is certain for Pontiac area revelers who will greet the New Year in one of the local inns, nightclubs or restaurants.

The Kingsley Inn at 1475

Depending on the pleasantness of the atmosphere and the extent of entertainment, prices for the night's fun will vary, but the traditional elements of feasting and music will be universal.

The Kingsley Inn at 1475

Woodward, Bloomfield Hills, offers several approaches to merrymaking at various prices.

Reservations are necessary in the Grand Ballroom, which offers a full course dinner served from 8 p.m. and dancing to the Frank Venice Orchestra from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. at a $35 per couple charge.

The Fox and Hounds Inn, 1560 N. Woodward, will serve regular dinners from a continental menu. No cover or minimum charge will be in effect and beverage prices will be as usual.

Music will be Hugo Sartorelli and John Horning. Hats and horns will be provided.

Dorman's Old Tavern at 5838 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, will serve dinners from 5 p.m. to midnight. Reservations are necessary and a cover charge of $5 per couple is levied after 9 p.m.

Music will be Hugo Sartorelli and John Horning. Hats and horns will be provided.

Bedell's at 2336 Woodward will feature Joan Lynn's piano music at the bar and the Chuck Leonard Trio in the dining area. Regular menu dinners will be served.

The suggestion was put forward during the debate by Alard K. Lowenstein, a former president of the association who is now a lawyer and active reformer in Detroit.

After the debate concluded, a group of 200 students held a rump meeting on the campus and agreed to draft such a letter.

RAISED MONEY They passed a hat and raised $83 to cover the expense of mailing the letter to student leaders around the country.

The letter was drafted and redrafted during September at meetings in the Manhattan home of Abby Erdman, a sophomore at Smith College.

The students, however, postponed mailing it, first because of Johnson's trip to Asia, and then because of the elections.

"We didn't want it to look like an election gimmick," Miss Erdman said Thursday. "All the while we were hoping that something would happen that would make the letter unnecessary. Something like a cessation in the bombings or a major shift in the administration's policy."

Funeral Slatel in Detroit for Hero of WW I

DETROIT (AP)—Service will be held Tuesday for World War I hero William S. Brittain, 76, who died Wednesday at his home.

An Army lieutenant, Brittain participated in single-handedly taking German officers and 94 men and a large quantity of guns and ammunition.

He turned four captured cannons on a German artillery emplacement, knocking out three cannons. Brittain later counted 80 bullet holes in his tunic.

Gen. John J. Pershing, American commander, cited Brittain's action as one of the great individual feats of the war. Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck designated Brittain as Michigan's war hero.

SPINAL WOUND Brittain received the Distinguished Service Cross from Gen. Pershing in 1918. He also received the Purple Heart for a spinal wound from a shell fragment during his capture of the Germans.

A native of Suttons Bay, Brittain joined the Army in 1916. He was discharged in 1919.

Blue Shield Lists Total Payments

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Blue Shield said Thursday it paid some $125 million for medical care to subscribers in 1966, the largest in history.

Blue Shield has 4,125,000 members and has been named the fiscal intermediary for the federal government in a section of the Medicare program, President John C. McCabe said.

Vandals Hit Cars in City Plant Lot

An outbreak of vandalism in a GMC Truck & Coach Division parking lot early today caused some $250 damage to six automobiles, according to Pontiac police.

Door glass, rear windows and fenders were smashed on the cars parked at West South Boulevard and Bloomfield.

Plant workers discovered the damage at a shift break about 2 a.m., police said.

Slim Pickings for Burglars at Area School

Burglars who broke into Walled Lake High School in Commerce Township early today went away empty-handed, according to school officials.

A safe in the main office of the school at 2978 S. Commerce had been opened, but contained no money, according to Principal E. V. Ayres.

"The only damages we've been able to discover have been about 15 locks on doors hanging about the building," Ayres said.

The burglars, who entered the school by climbing the roof and dropping into an inner courtyard, where they jimmied a window, struck in a 45-minute period, according to police.

Wolverine Lake Patrolman William Korthas said the building was secure at 2:45 a.m., but had been broken into at 3:15.

Rooms broken into at the school included the men's lounge, the kitchen and a storage room in addition to the main office.

Long Applause for Portugal Chief

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Prime Antonio de Oliveira Salazar received resounding applause Thursday night at the final official ceremony celebrating the 40th anniversary of his regime.

At the year's last session of the Portuguese National Assembly, the 77-year-old leader called for a halt in the applause after he was described in a speech as "the greatest Portuguese of today and perhaps one of the greatest ever."

Victim of Lockjaw

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A staff physician at St. Mary's said Cook's breathing is regulated by a positive-pressure ventilator.

The doctor said the antispasmodic curare is used because Cook would "have a convulsion the minute we let him have normal muscle power, and it is the convulsions that usually kill tetanus victims."

Cook's wife said he cut his hand Dec. 9 while on a hunting trip and became ill five days later. He was transferred from his Byrdstown home in Knoxville to St. Mary's.

Indian Potion Used on Hunter

A Knoxville physician said a treatment used for the first time in east Tennessee is being utilized in Cook's case. Doctors are fighting death on two fronts: convulsions and infection.

To combat the infection, modern medicine is being used. Ward off convulsions, doctors are using the drug curare, a South American Indian arrow poison.

Women Rob Warren Store

WARREN (AP) — Clifford Caldwell, 70, told police Thursday that two women walked into his store in this Detroit suburb earlier in the day and flashed a pair of pearl-handled revolvers at him.

They demanded money. He said he had none. They told him to wrap up a couple of furs. He refused. They forced him to write a check to "Hazelwood Hunt" and then they walked out with unpurchased fur pieces flung around their necks.

Choice of Grilles

The new Camaro is the first Chevrolet car to offer a second complete grille as an option.

The Camaro Rally Sport (RS) option includes a special grille with headlamps concealed behind electrically operated panels. When the driver pulls out the headlamp switch, the panels slide sideways to reveal the lamps.

Arizona Paper Starts Club to Curb Smoking

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — The Prescott Evening Courier, doing its bit to curb smoking and air pollution, has started an N.S.O.W. Club.

Names of charter members are to be printed in the newspaper. A blank was supplied in Wednesday's edition.

N.S.O.W. stands for "no smoking on Wednesday." This bonafide club is being formed with the idea of making your New Year's resolution one to reduce smoking in order to make your life more enjoyable (and longer) in coming years and a way of holding you (and some of us, too) to it," the newspaper said.

U.P. Woman Dies in Crash

BAY CITY (UPI) — A 59-year-old Menominee woman was killed yesterday when the car she was riding in skidded on an icy spot on U.S. 10 in Bay County and hit a highway sign post.

Police identified the victim as Mary Mushynski. Her husband, Joseph, 62, who was driving, was admitted to a local hospital with serious injuries.

A state trooper driving near the scene of the accident said three other cars had spun off the road at the same spot about 10 minutes before the fatal accident occurred.

Papers Offer Free Burials

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — The Spartanburg Herald and Journal are offering free burial to drivers who register before their New Year's traffic death.

Publisher Phil Buchnett of the two daily newspapers said the offer is designed to discourage drivers who drink to stay off the state's highways.

Stories appearing this week in the Herald and Journal advise those who think they may be driving and drinking between 5 p.m. Saturday and 6 a.m. Sunday to register their names and addresses with the papers.

It's a bonafide offer, Buchnett says.

UAW Officials Hit AFL-CIO for 'Complacency'

Unprecedented Move
Puts Rift Into Open;
Withdrawal Hinted

DETROIT (AP)—A policy rift between officials of the AFL-CIO and its largest affiliate—the 1.2 million-member United Auto Workers union—was out in the open today.

In an unprecedented move, the UAW sharply criticized the parent labor organization yesterday for what it termed complacency and clinging to the status quo.

Disagreements between the two labor giants, the UAW said, go to the heart of the fulfillment of the fundamental aims and purposes of the American labor movement.

Although some observers believed the strongly worded statement left the door open for eventual withdrawal of the UAW from the federation, one informed source said there has been no such discussion among the union's inner circle.

The source told the Associated Press:

"All such talk has been on the outside, not on the inside. The statement was issued because we have not been able to solve our policy conflicts in private and therefore have decided to bring disagreements into the open."

"We don't want our membership to think that we are going along in silence with AFL-CIO policies with which we disagree."

"While it's not necessarily a declaration of war, we have served notice that we don't intend to set by quietly in the future."

The federation was created in 1955 with the merger of the AFL and the CIO.

Our Error

In Wednesday's editions, The Pontiac Press printed an incorrect figure for the 1966 payrolls at the three GM plants in Pontiac. It appeared as $33.8 million, and the correct figure is $33.8 million.

The Press regrets the typographical error.

FOR HOLIDAY HOSTS — "First a friend, then a host" is the theme of a holiday safety drive signaled here by Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger (left) and Harold E. Heumann, Auto Club of Michigan Pontiac manager. The sleeve on the Small-Scale Fighting Flares in Vietnam on Eve of Truce

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Small-scale fighting flared in South Vietnam's Mekong Delta and the central lowlands today on the eve of the two-day New Year's truce.

In the air war, bad weather again curtailed raids on North Vietnam, but U.S. B-52 bombers made three attacks on Communist positions in South Vietnam.

With the New Year's ceasefire scheduled to start at 6 p.m. EST today, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky threatened to cancel the four-day truce.

promised for the Vietnamese New Year in February unless the Vietcong observe the truce this weekend better than they did the Christmas cease-fire.

In Saigon, American sources reported that a five-day port strike protesting the replacement of Vietnamese dock workers by American servicemen had been settled.

The settlement came near the end of an ineffective 12-hour general strike called in Saigon by the Vietnamese Confederation of Labor.

The only noticeable effect of the general strike was disruption of electrical service in a few residential areas.

South Vietnamese troops clashed in three brisk firefights with Vietcong guerrillas in the Mekong Delta and reported killing 45 of the enemy. Government casualties were reported moderate in one clash 85 miles southwest of Saigon and light in two actions 54 miles southwest of the capital.

Who's in Grave?

Mystery Shrouds Murder

READING, Pa. (AP) — A Lancaster, Pa., family and the police are trying to solve the mystery of who is buried in the grave of Ferdinand H. Kirchner.

Kirchner, buried by his family as a murder victim last month, was reported alive and well today in jail here.

Police from Trenton, N.J., where Kirchner was reported slain, and his family were coming here today to talk to the man.

Last month Kirchner's relatives, who had not seen Kirchner, a vagabond, for three years or more, said the victim was their brother.

Then just before Christmas, the mail brought a Christmas card from Kirchner. Authorities began looking for him.

PICKED UP
Yesterday, Reading police here picked him up at a bus station and lodged him in jail.

In Lancaster, Kirchner's sister, Mrs. George Hurter, said after talking to the man by telephone, "I know it's our brother. He called me by a name he used a long time ago."

Output, Sales Fall Behind '65 in Final Tally

Plants Shut Down
for Holiday as AMC
Plans Major Cutback

DETROIT (AP)—The year 1966 went into the record books today as a time when the auto industry tried harder and wound up with its second best production and sales records to date.

Virtually all assembly plants were closed as the long New Year's holiday weekend began.

The final tally showed some 8,607,278 cars built, second only to the record 9,335,208 car output of last year.

The closing hours of the automotive year were marked by a major production cutback by American Motors, smallest of the nation's four major auto producers.

AMC said it would shut its two auto plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., for 10 working days in mid-January and chop 16,000 units from its production for that month.

It said that when work resumed Jan. 23 some 4,100 workers would be trimmed at least temporarily from the 18,000-man work force and that the plants would be on a one-shift basis rather than two.

SHORT SCHEDULES
AMC already was operating under a curtailed schedule in the final week of the year as it halted operations for three working days this week.

Its bigger competitors — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — all had announced slowdowns in January production as auto sales ran behind 1965's pace.

AMC's brief announcement climaxed a year which in many ways was disappointing for the auto industry.

Some auto executives, brimming with the success of the first nine million car output of 1965 — a year which also saw sales records set — had predicted 1966 would equal or top that mark.

HIGH LEVELS HIT

Their optimism seemed justified in the opening quarter of this year as sales and production remained at high levels.

Flash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Federal Power Commission (FPC) examiner set a ceiling price today on almost one third of the natural gas burned in the nation. The action could ultimately mean refunds of millions of dollars to residential and industrial consumers in 26 eastern and central states.

Still referring to Hudson's comments, McNeely said the anti-poverty program in the past year has boosted the county economy by nearly $4 million.

"This is the result of putting several hundred poor people to work through direct efforts of the OCCEO," McNeely said.

640 PLACEMENTS

He pointed out that 604 employment placements were made in the past year and that another 113 people are employed by the OCCEO.

Besides the $1,664,000 pumped into the county economy by the OCCEO budget, McNeely said that $2,235,000 in the total added as a result (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Tragic Ending to Rescue Try

NEW YORK (AP) — A desperate rescue attempt turned into tragedy today.

A woman — her hair and clothing aflame — stepped from an 11th-story window in a blazing Brooklyn hotel, slid past the outstretched arms of two firemen on a ladder two feet below her and plunged to her death.

Fireman Edward Rizzo, 31, was at the very top of the dangerously swaying 144-foot extension ladder gripping the rungs with his legs when he held the victim, identified as Rowena Matthews, about 38 to "come forward."

Seconds before, an explosion had occurred inside her room at the Standish Arms Hotel, overlooking the East River in Brooklyn Heights.

Suddenly her hair and nightclothes were afire as she stood on the windowsill.

'HIGH AS POSSIBLE'

Behind Rizzo on the ladder was Lt. Michael Chicko, also of Ladder Co. 119.

"We had got the ladder up as high as we could," Rizzo recalled later.

"I had to release the locks at the top of the ladder and after I did that the lieutenant and I kept coming. We kept reassuring the lady, telling her, 'We're here. We'll grab you. Everything will be all right,'" Rizzo said.

Miss Matthews was carrying a box, he said, and he tried to tell her to drop it and step forward to fall into his arms—the ladder being extended as high as it would reach.

ARM'S LENGTH

"We were just an arm's length from her," Rizzo continued. "Yes, in fact he had her hand," Chicko said, "but he couldn't hold her. She was a ball of fire."

Rizzo, his grim-covered face lowered, said he grasped at her hand as she fell forward but she slid past and plummeted to the ground.

Later, firemen found that the box which Miss Matthews had clutched so closely to her contained a Persian cat, also killed in the fall, $55 in cash and a bankbook.

The blaze broke out on the 10th floor of the 12-story structure shortly after midnight.

The Bennington is a venerable ship — a sort of George Jessel of the fleet. But this carrier has seen its share of action... in three wars.

Despite its age, though, this old fighting lady is equipped with the very latest in modern electronic gear. Her sonar devices are so sensitive that they can detect the inlay in the teeth of a Chinese sardine at 100 fathoms...

FORMAL WAIT — A young refugee, one of several Americans airlifted from Cuba yesterday and repatriated at the New Orleans airport, peers over a pile of paper forms on a customs official's desk as he and his family were processed for reentry into the U.S. The airlift is expected to return 880 Americans and 1,820 of their relatives to the U.S. from Cuba via Merida, Mexico. (See story, page 2.)

JAMES M. MCNEELY

OEO Chief Answers Two Critics

James M. McNeely, executive director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO), yesterday answered recent criticism of the county anti-poverty program from two sources.

Last week City Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, at a commission discussion on whether to continue paying the rent for the OCCEO opportunity center at 7 W. Lawrence, criticized the poverty war.

"We're fostering generations of welfare recipients," Hudson charged.

Hudson then added that the federal government is extending its tentacles to every phase of our lives and said he was not sure we were doing our people a favor by extending that arm from the cradle to the grave.

McNeely took issue with Hudson's comments by stating yesterday that the theory that welfare increases as efforts to help needy people are stepped up is unfounded.

WELFARE CASES

"From December last year, when the two OCCEO opportunity centers opened, the total number of welfare cases in the county decreased by 800 as of last month," McNeely said.

He added that these figures would certainly prove that activation of a new program to help the poor does not push the welfare load upward.

Repatriated Yanks Caught in Fidel Coup Head for Reunions

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The first Americans of Cuban descent allowed to leave Communist Cuba, vanguard of an estimated 880 caught in the Castro coup, spread across this land today.

Joyful, but worried for countrymen still trying to get free, 169 Americans and their Cuban relatives arrived here Thursday in two flights after an overnight layover in Merida, Mexico.

Many Pacts to Expire in '67

Teamsters to Start Major Negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 7 million workers will be up for wage hikes in 1967 in new labor talks or previously negotiated pacts, and James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union leads off the parade.

The Labor Department reports the round of major labor negotiations will be the biggest in recent years, covering auto workers, food processors, railroad employees and workers in textile, rubber, paper, telephone and many other industries.

The government's figures cover only contracts involving 1,000 or more workers and most cases will bring the total number of workers involved considerably higher.

Information on contracts covering an additional 1.7 million workers wasn't available for the Labor Department's report.

CONTRACT TALKS
Of the 7 million workers involved, more than 3 million will be involved in new contract talks and nearly 4 million will get wage increases negotiated earlier in long-term contracts.

Hoffa, starting negotiations next month for some $200 million under his union's national trucking contract, opens the first of the major new contract negotiations.

Reportedly planning to demand a 7 per cent hike in wages and fringe benefits, but possibly settling for 5 per cent, the Teamsters will set the tone for the size of expected 1967 labor demands.

Although wage settlements averaged 3.7 per cent in 1966, the pattern moved toward 5 per cent in the latter part of the year in major agreements covering airlines mechanics and electrical workers.

Congregations Build New Churches, Additions in '66

READS TO GRANDSON—Alex Bigger of 2 Park Place reads the Christmas story according to the Gospel of St. Luke to his 5-year-old grandson Dale Bigger of 671 Northfield. Dale loves the story and his grandfather but falls asleep to dream of the coming of Christmas. The families are members of First Free Methodist Church.

Several new congregations were organized, new churches constructed, property purchased for expansion and two Baptist churches merged in the Pontiac area during 1966.

Redemption Lutheran Church, founded in January, met for first services Feb. 6 in Pine Lake Elementary School, 3333 W. Long Lake, Orchard Lake.

Under the leadership of Pastor Leroy Johnson property has been purchased for a building program.

Ground was broken in March for the completion of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church, 3621 N. Adams, Bloomfield Township.

The $500,000 project will include the main sanctuary, a large fireside lounge which will also house the church library, a large youth room and 15 additional Sunday School classrooms.

Also included will be a new and expanded nursery, two church offices and an open bell tower.

This is the third building project in the congregation's nine-year history.

The Pontiac Church of God congregation moved into the new building, 623 E. Walton, on Easter Sunday with dedication services in the afternoon.

The $250,000 building has seating capacity for 700 persons in the nave with accommodations for 78 in the choir loft.

The new church is the congregation of the Church of God, Anderson at East Pike. The former building was sold to the Messiah Missionary Baptist Church, located at Prospect and Paddock.

Dedication and open house of the first unit of the new Incarnate Word Lutheran Church took place on June 19. The new building is located on a four-acre site at 2101 Opdyke between Square Lake and South Boulevard.

The outdoor cross is lighted at night. The building devoted into a temporary chapel seating 125 also contains a nursery, study, storage space and a large multi-purpose room. The cost was near $77,720.

The First Christian Church held a commissioning service for founding members of the new church tentatively called "As He Has Loved Us."

At 3:30 p.m. Wednesday young people preparing to join the church will begin a series of instruction classes led by Pastor Palmer.

WATERFORD COMMUNITY

There will be a candlelight Communion watch night service at 11 p.m. tomorrow in Waterford Community Church, 5995 Olympic Parkway, Waterford Township.

The service will end at midnight.

CHURCH OF ADVENT

North Oakland Christian Church in morning worship June 26.

The new congregation called the Rev. Jack H. C. Clark, pastor of First Christian as pastor of the new congregation.

The new congregation recently purchased property in Orion Township for a new church. Members presently are worshipping in Kennedy Junior High School.

A new Jewish congregation was organized in July with Rabbi Ernst Conrad spiritual leader.

The congregation known as the New Temple is currently holding services in the Unitarian Church, Woodward and Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

Construction work on the educational program of St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church began in October.

A new convent for Sisters teaching in the St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic school will be on June 12.

built prior to the nine-room addition to the school, Pastor Clement J. Esper said.

The Rev. L. L. Randle, pastor of the Hughes Street Church of Christ, announced plans for the building of a new church at Franklin and Miracle Mile.

The new building will be known as the Miracle Mile Church of Christ. The sanctuary seating near 400 persons will be air-conditioned. The cost is estimated at approximately $115,000.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham, Woodward at Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, held opening services and dedication March 20. A reception followed.

Although the new Hillcrest Church of the Nazarene wasn't dedicated until November, members held first services in the first unit at 520 W. Walton on June 12.

Bishop Germanos of Synod, Detroit was present to cut the ribbon for the opening of the new St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Bloomfield Township on Nov. 26.

The new building is located on a five-acre site bordered on the north by East Berkshire and on the south by Winthrop.

Both exterior and interior walls are of rose colored brick.

Ground breaking for the Christian Education building of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was early this month.

The new education unit will be known as the Creswell Memorial Christian Education Building.

Silvercrest Baptist Church is sponsoring a newly organized Sunday School in Walled Lake, and planning a new youth building for young people of the local congregation.

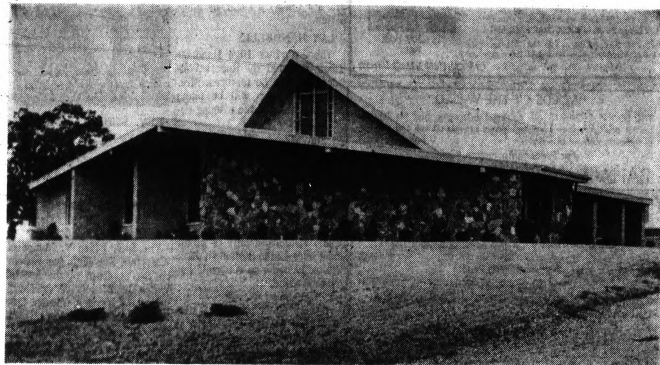

Gerald A. Outland, pastor of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, announced the purchase of property across from the Herrington Hills School, 541 Bay, for a new building project in November.

The congregation currently holds services in the church, 19 Front.

The first unit of Lakecrest Baptist Church is nearly completed.

The red brick building with white trim is situated on three acres at Airport and Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township. The Lakecrest members worshipping in Waterford Center School is a mission of Columbia Avenue Baptist Church. The Rev. Marion E. Sherrill is pastor.

The new first unit of Elmwood Methodist Church, Avon Township, was consecrated June 26 with an open house following the service.

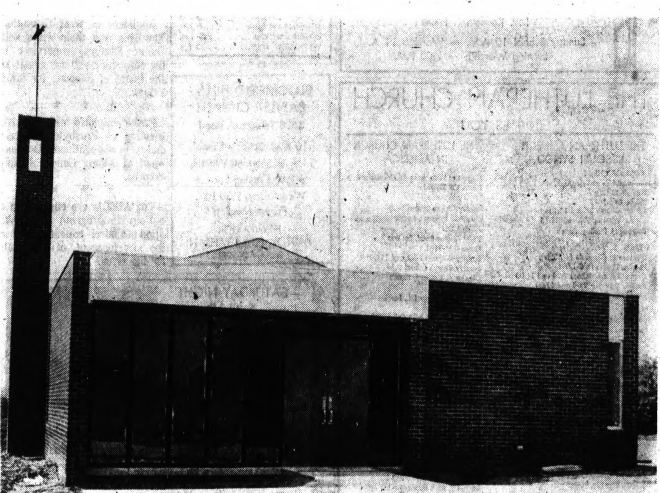

HILLCREST CHURCH OF NAZARENE—The new Hillcrest Church of the Nazarene, 520 W. Walton was dedicated in November. The Rev. Harold Hughes, pastor, said the congregation is composed of new members as well as those of the former Parkdale Church of the Nazarene. The new church, valued at approximately $100,000, consists of sanctuary and educational building.

wife. The Rev. Mr. Cooperrider was pastor of the Lutheran Church of Good Shepherd, Prospect Heights, Ill., before accepting the call to the Lutheran Church of the Ascension, Waterford Township.

ELMWOOD METHODIST—The congregation of Elmwood Methodist Church moved into the new building at 2630 Crooks, Avon Township June 26. The consecration service conducted by Pastor Eric G. Wehrli took place at the 10:45 morning service. Located on a seven-acre site, the first unit in a long range building program, is constructed of dark brown brick with white trim. A tower bearing a cross is shown at the left of the building. Parking is presently available for 75 cars.

Covenant Baptists, Maranatha Merge

Opening services for the new Fellowship Baptist Church will begin New Year's Day. Fellowship Baptist was founded by the merging of the Covenant and Maranatha Baptist churches, both of Waterford Township.

The congregation will have the Rev. Robert Savage of the Covenant Church for pastor. All services will be held in the Maranatha Church, 1240 Jay of Cooley Lake near the Four Towns School.

The Covenant Church members formerly met in Burt School on Winding Drive.

Carl Sanders will head the deacon board. Other deacons include Clarence Lackie, Arnold Phillips, Levi Crivea and Fred Sanders.

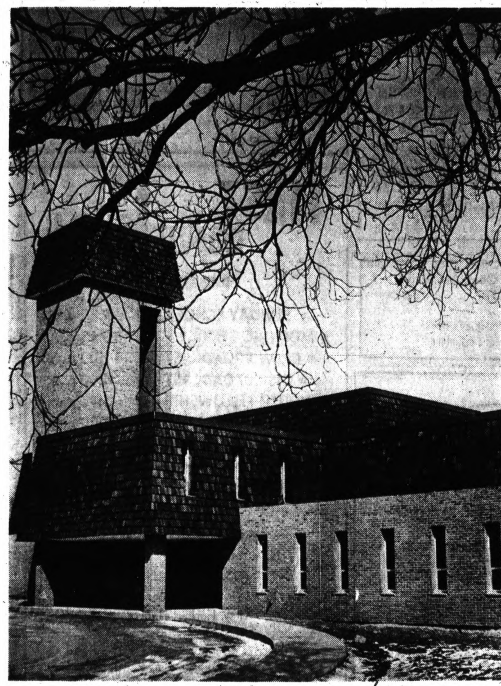

SERVICES LISTED

Services include Sunday School at 10 a.m.; worship at 11 a.m. and again at 7 p.m.; and midweek meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday with choir practice following.
