

Bitter Race Means Record Number to Vote

Clerk-Register Forecasts

Expect County Vote of 250,000

By JIM DYGERT
Some 250,000 voters — a record turnout for a nonpresidential election in the county — are expected to go to the polls in Oakland County tomorrow to help resolve one of the hardest fought contests for governor of Michigan in many a year.

The estimate was made by County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., who added that his prediction was based on an assumption of favorable weather.

Voters will decide races for Oakland County's congressional and State seats, six State Legislative posts and six county offices.

Total voter registrations of 347,117, already a record for an off year election in the county, reflect the widespread interest generated by the campaigns.

The figure is only 9,000 short of total registrations for the presidential election of 1960 when an all-time high of 361,465 voters went to the county's polling places.

If the estimate for tomorrow's election — 72 per cent of registrations — proves accurate, the vote total will exceed the previous record for an off year election of 197,271 in 1958 by more than 50,000.

Registrations in 1958 totaled 294,803.

UNDER SHARP EYES
Officials also predict the election to be the most closely watched in county history as both major parties and volunteers for Romney plan all-out efforts to guard against possible voting frauds and irregularities.

County Democrats are counting on some 1,000 election day volunteers to serve as challengers, babysitters, drivers and telephone workers and in other capacities in a last-ditch "get-out-the-vote" drive.

Republicans will have four or five cars equipped with radio-telephones and loaded with attorneys versed in election laws cruising in the county to help challengers stationed at the polls.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Voters standing in line at 8 p.m. will be able to vote.

OTHER CHOICES

2.5 Million Due to Ballot for Governor

Romney and Swainson at End of Hard-Fought State Campaign

By The Associated Press
Michigan voters are expected to flock to the polls in record numbers for a nonpresidential election year tomorrow to write the closing chapter on one of the hardest-fought campaigns in state history.

A dramatic and bitter race for governor has stirred both Republican and Democratic parties into a frenzy of get-out-the-vote activity.

State Elections Director Robert Montgomery predicted more than 2½ million voters will cast ballots throughout the state, barring heavy storms.

Highest previous total for an off-year election was some 2.3 million votes cast in 1958.

The main campaign spotlight has been focused on automaker George Romney's bid to become the first Republican to sit in the governor chair in 14 years.

Romney, 55-year-old former president of American Motors, is

Say JFK to Continue Surveillance of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy feels U.S. surveillance of Cuba will have to be continued in some form after the current missile crisis is settled, government sources report.

In offering this view of the President's thinking to newsmen Sunday, the sources did not specify how the watch would be kept. The object they said, would be to guard against any future introduction of Soviet missiles into Cuba.

Aerial photographs of the island last month gave the first hard evidence that the Soviet Union was mounting an offensive missile threat in Cuba, the White House has said.

It was from aerial photos taken last Thursday that the administration concluded Soviet Premier Khrushchev had begun to make good on his pledge to tear down the missile bases.

The Navy, in maintaining an arms blockade of Cuba, has also been filling a surveillance role.

Removal of the missiles and other Soviet offensive arms from Cuba remains a thorny problem.

By the terms of the Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement, the United Nations would supervise the verification that Soviet missiles have been withdrawn from the island.

The government sources who discussed Kennedy's position emphasized that he is determined to verify the removal of the weapons by international inspection (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary General U Thant was given a fill-in today on the talks between Soviet trouble-shooter Anastas I. Mikoyan and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro on the missile inspection problem.

Vasily V. Kuznetsov, a first deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union, called on Thant this morning to discuss the Castro-Mikoyan negotiations and other phases of the Cuban crisis.

In a later meeting with Cuba's new U. N. delegate, Ambassador Carlos Lechuga, the secretary general was expected to get a further report on Castro's views.

There still was no word here as to whether Mikoyan, a first deputy premier, had made any progress in winning Castro's agreement to the on-site inspection which President Kennedy is demanding to verify Soviet missile removal.

Informal quarters reported that Mikoyan was given a blunt report on Kennedy's position last Thursday night when John J. McCloy, chairman of the President's Cuban Coordinating Committee, had dinner with the Soviet leader.

These quarters said that McCloy had told Mikoyan what Kennedy and other high U.S. officials have been saying publicly: that the United States will continue its own surveillance and blockade measures if Castro refuses to agree to international inspection.

Thant, meanwhile, was continuing with members of the U. N. Security Council in preparation for a council meeting to wrap up any agreement on the Cuban problem.

To Shut Banks on Voting Day
Banks in Pontiac and Oakland County offices will remain closed tomorrow for election day.

Business will resume Wednesday as usual.

GMC Workers Give $113,437 to United Fund

Sum Represents Just Under 20 Per Cent of Campaign Total

Rose-colored glasses are the order of the day at the Pontiac Area United Fund headquarters following a $113,437.13 contribution from the employees of GM Truck & Coach Division.

The sum represents just under 20 per cent of the entire campaign goal of $706,125.

The contribution was 4.4 per cent over the GMTC employees' quota of $106,696.

UP 1962 Chairman Fred V. Haggard announced today that the total campaign now has reached $460,670.96, or 65.3 per cent of the final goal.

Industrial Division Chairman Tod Bloom lauded the outstanding GMC pledge.

He promised that employee pledges at Pontiac Motor Division "will continue the trend established to date in the Industrial Division by going over company employees' goals."

The Pontiac Motor pledges are to be completed within the next few days, he added.

Commenting on the over-all campaign picture, Haggard encouraged Commercial Division workers to complete their calls during this last week of the campaign.

TELLS URGENCY
He again pointed out how urgent it is that all calls be completed and returns brought into the United Fund Headquarters, so that an accurate tally could be made on the last day of the campaign, Nov. 9.

Bruce Annett, Commercial Division chairman, when asked about the progress of his division, asked all solicitors to "get out and get the job done."

Annett pointed out that his division is just a little past the halfway mark with only 5 days of the campaign remaining.

"We have reached 57 per cent of our goal of $190,410.02 with $109,619 reported in," he said.

"Our campaigners are going to have to work very hard to complete this job by Friday," William Lacey, vice chairman of the Educational Group, expressed satisfaction with his unit.

He noted the Waterford schools had reported $2,487, or 60.3 per cent of their $12,446 goal.

Dave Ewalt, vice chairman of the Government Group, reports that his men are turning in their money very slowly, with only 18.7 per cent of $6,313.79 goal reported.

"We don't have much time left to wrap this up," said Ewalt as he urged his men on.

Dr. Michael Kozmisk, vice chairman of the Professional Groups stated his group has reached 29 per cent of its $29,196.78 goal with $8,510.38 reported in.

He expressed concern with his figure and acknowledged that there was a big job ahead.

Jack Brannack said his Small Teams Group is rolling and is confident its enthusiasm will carry it unit over the goal.

Seek Tax Hike in 3 Localities

Tax increases are being sought in three of the eight area communities with local issues on the ballot in tomorrow's general election.

In Sylvan Lake, meanwhile, two city councilmen will be elected to three-year terms from a field of three candidates.

Seeking election are Clement F. Cleveland and Frank J. Dickie, two appointees now filling council vacancies, and John M. Hanson, a financial counselor for a Pontiac firm.

Orion Township voters will be asked to approve a one-mill tax for five years to purchase land and develop a township park. A 1.5-mill tax increase for five years is sought to build a new fire station and purchase equipment in White Lake Township.

A $61,000 bond issue to finance storm drain construction in South Lyon will require a tax hike of about 2.5 mills for 11 years if approved.

City charter amendments which would allow changes in special assessment procedures will be decided in Utica and Southfield.

The sale of liquor by the glass is the local proposition in Oxford Township.

Birmingham voters will be asked to allow the public sale of 10.2 acres of city-owned property formerly used as a drainage site.

GOP Casts Hopeful Eye at Key Government Positions

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans looking toward the 1964 presidential contest nurtured high today of winning key governors' posts when about 50 million Americans go to the polls Tuesday.

In an interim election which may be influenced by the continuing crisis over Cuba, Democrats expected to come close to holding their own in House contests and even talked of the possibility of small Senate gains.

At about 169,000 polling places from Maine to Hawaii, voters will officially choose 35 governors, 39 senators and 435 House members.

If the usual pattern is maintained, balloting will begin shortly after midnight tonight in a couple of New Hampshire hamlets and end at 2 a.m., EST, Wednesday in the reaches of Alaska's farthest west time zone.

The Weather Bureau predicted dry but chilly Election Day weather for most of the nation.

crisis is. This could alter radically the present bases of power in the states where presidential elections are won or lost.

The GOP now holds the governorships of 16 states with 129 electoral votes. There are contests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

Democrats are governors in 34 states which will cast 406 electoral votes in 1964. There are no contests this year in 13 of these with 152 electoral votes.

GAINS IN SIGHT
Because their chances of making any substantial gains in the House and Senate races appear dim, Republicans are looking to the governor contests not only to give them an upward surge toward the 1964 presidential battle but to point toward a possible nominee to oppose President Kennedy.

An Associated Press survey indicated that Republicans have a slight edge in efforts to take away Democratic seats in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

trying to unseat Gov. John B. Swainson, 57, who succeeded G. Mennen Williams two years ago.

Some observers believe the outcome may not be known for weeks. It could be no closer, they say, a recount would be needed. Most polls show Romney slightly ahead.

Overshadowed by the gubernatorial race, contests for the state Legislature, Congress and the State Administrative Board have created little excitement.

2 JUSTICES
Voters also will be asked to select two "nonpartisan" Supreme Court justices and decide among candidates for various local offices.

In addition, the statewide ballot will carry a constitutional amendment which would allow the legislature to make periodic revisions of the state's laws for purposes of streamlining the statutes and eliminating duplication.

Voters will have 13 hours in which to register their choice. Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Mr. Voter: It's Your Turn

On Tuesday, all candidates sit back. The voters take over.

Probably the most exciting and vigorous campaign in the past decade during an "off year" moves into history with the two main actors still occupying the center of the stage. Several polls all reach the same decision: The election of George Romney as Michigan's next governor. One was very close and the margins varied, but apparently the voters are ready for a change in Michigan's top management.

The race between Staebler and Bentley is exceedingly close and the final outcome depends on one thing: Which party will turn out the biggest number of voters? In 1958 (an off year), 2.3 million visited the polls. Experts believe the total this year will run more than a quarter of a million votes above that. Some say it will be a half million more than 2.3 million if the weather is good.

This forecasts a vote between 2.6 million and 2.8 million.

In 1960, with the added impetus of a presidential election, the total ran 3.3 million.

Both gubernatorial candidates have staged amazing campaigns. They have been at it hammer and tongs from early morning to late at night and have covered the state completely. When a man like George Romney voluntarily gives up a $150,000 position and works without rest for a $27,500 job, it's a very encouraging and healthy sign for the United States.

Getting men of this caliber to serve in Michigan is especially needed. Bentley and Staebler are other affluent citizens who are placing public service above self.

U.S. Ends Pacific N-Test Series Calls for Blast Ban Treaty

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Political Committee today overrode U. S. British objections and demanded that all nuclear tests be banned by Jan. 1. The vote was 14-4 with 23 abstaining.

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — The United States has ended its controversial Pacific series of nuclear tests and called for an effective treaty to free the world from all nuclear testing.

President Kennedy announced that the shot fired over Johnston Island yesterday (Saturday) Honolulu time) would mark the end of the series that began six months ago.

Kennedy said, however, that the United States would continue to conduct underground tests in Nevada. He said these would remain free from fallout.

The latest shot was the fifth success in nine high-altitude tries this year, and represented a breakthrough in the series. Only two weeks ago, the United States had one success and four failures on its scorecard.

Four straight "winners" put the program on the plus side. Then Joint Task Force 8 announced the completion of the long, drawn-out series which should have ended last July.

After treating the Hawaiian Islands to two magnificent aerial displays, one which was seen from New Zealand to Alaska, and two lesser sights, scientists at distant Johnston Island bowed out with a relatively small explosion.

ly for months, shaking thousands of hands at factory plant gates, attending barbecues, torchlight parades and rallies. They also clashed in three half-hour television debates, which most observers rated inconclusive.

Both candidates planned to continue the tour up to election eve, and Gov. Swainson's schedule called for at least one plant gate appearance on election day itself.

Rumney scheduled a round of head-shaking visits to shopping centers, bus stops and stores in Detroit today.

Swainson, a legless veteran of the Second World War, will wind up a busy day riding in a caravan throughout the 11 Congressional District, including Hamtramck.

TO USE TV

The two nominees also will use television in their quest for votes today. Rumney planned a special half-hour taped show for state-wide showing, while Swainson will conduct a two-hour "teletown" during which he will answer questions phoned in by viewers.

National publicity has been focused on the Michigan race because a Romney victory would make him a definite darkhorse possibility for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, despite an avowal that he will not be an active candidate.

In the congressional races, a statewide-at-large contest has pitted two millionaires for a 19th house seat awarded Michigan because of population gains.

Former Congressman Alvin Bentley, an Owen Sound, Ont., resident, is running on the Republican ticket, with former Democratic National Committeeman Neil Steeber of Ann Arbor, as his opponent.

JFK Delays Voting Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy delayed his voting trip to Boston until late this afternoon and will skip a stop on the way at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The White House said no particular significance should be read into the situation, that the President's schedule was set at his office and work this afternoon.

Kennedy plans to vote at a polling station about 9:30 tomorrow morning, driving directly to the airport and return to Washington.

Evacuated Few Days Ago India Loses a Pivot Point

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Indian government announced today the loss of one of its most important military positions on the border with the Chinese Communists.

The position at Daulet Beg Oldi, the northern end of the line in Ladakh, was evacuated a few days ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ladakh is at the western end of the Himalayan border.

The outpost at Daulet Beg Oldi was the center of a series of smaller posts, all of which fell earlier.

The Chinese have now crossed what they claim to be their border with India at one or two places and have driven beyond the disputed territory.

NO CHANCE OF PEACE?

New Delhi officials think there are no chances now of a negotiated peace with the Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has demanded the Chinese withdrawal from positions they held before Sept. 8 and has rejected proposals of a ceasefire and peace talks until they do. The Chinese offensive in both the northeast and northwest area of Ladakh was launched Oct. 20.

Nehru was reported preparing another reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to that effect.

But it appears here that the Chinese have no intention of going back to their Sept. 8 positions.

Khrushchev sent Nehru his proposal for a cease fire without conditions last Friday. A primary aim of the Soviet peace gesture appeared to be to get the conflict stopped before India falls out of its neutral alignment. A Pravda editorial warned India against the "intrigues of the imperialist camp" and also absolved Peking of any aggressive intent.

Surveillance May Stay in Cuba One

Nations, Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has the power to bar international inspectors from his territory.

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan conferred with Castro in Havana over the weekend — presumably in an effort to prod the Cuban leader into accepting at least the fundamentals of an international inspection system.

Mikoyan and Castro met twice Sunday at the government palace. No communiqués were issued and Cuban officials gave no hint of the nature of the talks.

Mikoyan remained in Havana despite the death of his wife in Moscow Saturday night.

VIEWED AS PRESSURE

The administration's continuing stress on the necessity of international inspection is being viewed in some quarters as a means of keeping pressure on Castro.

As far as it can be ascertained, the United States has set no deadline on compliance from either Moscow or Havana.

Nonetheless Kennedy was understood to feel the United States cannot wait indefinitely.

At the same time, Washington is convinced the missile bases are coming down. Their destruction is almost complete, Edwin M. Martin, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, said Sunday in a television interview.

Marlin touched, too, on the subject of present concern within the administration when he added:

"We still do not know where they, the missiles, are going, or have verification they have left the island or will not be reintroduced."

To Bury Curcice in Flint Rife

FLINT (AP) — Harlow H. Curcice, the auto giant from a tiny Michigan community, will be buried tomorrow at Glenwood Cemetery in Flint.

The funeral of the 69-year-old retired president of General Motors Corp. is expected to bring a deluge of admirers from the industry he challenged, the state in which he lived and was born and the nation he helped mechanize in peace and war.

At the First Presbyterian Church in Flint, Pastor Dr. David L. Molyneux will conduct the service at 2:30 p.m. Curcice, who died from an apparent heart attack Saturday in the bedroom of his home.

The son of a fruit merchant, Curcice was born in Petriewille, near Easton, Pa. His driving personality carried him to the head of the world's largest manufacturing concern.

It was in 1953 that Curcice succeeded the late former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson as president of GM. In 1958, Curcice retired, having spent his adult lifetime with General Motors.

"Do it better than it need be done," Curcice gave as reason for his success. "No one can cheat you but yourself."

To Ask Site for Parking

Acting upon a recommendation of the City Commission, a county committee today agreed to recommend to the County Board of Supervisors Wednesday that the site of the old courthouse be leased to a city merchants group for a free parking site in downtown Pontiac.

Announcement of the City Commission's recommendation, contained in a letter from City Manager Robert A. Stierer, was made today at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors' special committee to study the use of the old courthouse site at Hypon and Saginaw streets.

Commissioners agreed on the suggestion at an informal meeting Oct. 25, according to the letter.

They recommended leasing the property to the Downtown Pontiac Business Association.

Stierer's letter said the city did not wish to enter negotiations to buy the property now because a city parking lot would have to be located under the city's bond ordinance. It added that the city might be interested in buying later.

administrative offices, two state Supreme Court posts and Michigan's congressional at-large seat.

Alvin M. Bentley, Republican candidate for the at-large congressional seat also sought by Democrat Neil Steeber, visited Pontiac today as he toured the county in the final hours of his campaign.

In the balance will be Republican Congressman William S. Broomfield's bid for a fourth-term seat against the challenge of Democrat George J. Fulker, a Birmingham attorney.

Farrell E. Roberts, incumbent Republican state senator from the 12th District composed of Oakland County, seeks re-election to a second term, with Oak Park Democrat Leland H. Smith opposing.

Six county offices also are at stake with all four incumbents seeking re-election. For prosecutor, it's incumbent George F. Taylor against Democrat S. Jerome Bronson, a Madison Heights attorney.

In the contest for sheriff, incumbent Frank W. Evans is up for re-election to a fifth term opposed by one of his former deputies, Democrat Kenneth G. Hirt.

Democrat Roy J. Russell is making a determined bid to unseat a drain commissioner Daniel W. Cury.

Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. is opposed by David S. Lees, treasurer Charles A. Sparks by Betty H. McVay, and surveyor Ralph A. Main by Stanley F. Dunn.

Both Main and Dunn recommended abolishing the county surveyor post, a question that faces voters as the only county proposal on the ballot.

Only other ballot proposal is a state constitutional amendment to empower the state Legislature to make a general revision of state laws.

Voters in six state legislative districts will decide five contests between incumbents and challengers and one (sixth district) between Democrat Bill S. Huffman, who defeated the incumbent in the primary, and incumbent Kenneth Walker, a UAW-CIO member.

Current lineup of the six districts is four Republicans and two Democrats. The contests for districts one through five are:

First district: Republican incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson against Democrat John S. Coleman.

Fifth district: Republican incumbent William H. Johnson against Democrat Harold J. Robinson.

City to Decide Bowling Hours

A controversial proposal to ease up on bowling alleys' hours is due for a decision by the Pontiac City Commission tonight.

Pontiac Attorney Louis E. Fawcett, representing bowling alley owners, had proposed amendment of a present ordinance to allow alleys to stay open until 3 a.m. daily and to open at 9 a.m. Sundays.

The Pontiac Evangelical Ministers' Fellowship group keeping the present closing hours of 1 a.m. daily and the Sunday opening at noon.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer also is expected to present a resolution asking the federal government to speed up fall-out shelter construction here.

The resolution also will ask greater citizens' cooperation in making shelter areas available. Preparation of the document was ordered last week by city commissioners.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was reported "resting quietly" today but a family spokesman said there was no change in her condition.

State Highway Deaths

Three business executives from this area have accepted appointments as trustees of William Beaumont Hospital, according to James C. Covert, community relations director for the hospital.

The appointees are William B. Hargreaves of 1381 Pembroke Road and Ben D. Mills of 789 Vaughn Road, both of Bloomfield Hills, and Robert Andrieu of 1833 N. Glenary Road, Bloomfield Township.

Birmingham Area News County Roadmen Agree to East Maple Paving

BIRMINGHAM — The Oakland County Road Commission has agreed — with reservation — to pave East Maple Road to the width requested by the City Commission.

In a resolution to be presented at today's 8 p.m. City Commission meeting, the county road commissioners stated the project.

The city had asked that the road be widened to 40 feet between Adams Road and Columbia Street, 42 feet between Columbia Street and the Grand-Trunk Western Railroad tracks and 44 feet between the tracks and Coolidge Highway.

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting is a report from Police Chief Ralph R. Moxley who recommends that a traffic light be installed at Oak Street and Woodward Avenue.

The report was submitted by Moxley after the commission had suggested that a traffic study be made to ease traffic problems in the area.

Parents in the neighborhood had asked the commission to alleviate a safety hazard encountered by school children who crossed Woodward at Harmon Street.

Moxley said a traffic light at Oak and Woodward, just north of the Harmon Street crossing, would provide a break in the traffic flow, allowing children to cross more easily.

Waterford Boy Killed by Car

7-Year-Old Runs Into Path of Moving Auto

A 7-year-old Waterford Township boy was killed yesterday when he ran into the path of a car on Highland Road near his home.

Paul S. Plummer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Plummer, 4714 Irwindale St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The youngster ran into a car driven by Ward Sansone, 23, of 1015 Prince St., Milford, according to State Police.

Sansone told police that the boy came out of ditch on the north side of the road.

Paul had been playing with his brother, Richard, 9. The older boy told police he yelled at his brother to come back but it was too late.

Sansone was released.

The accident happened at 5:15 p.m. just west of Pontiac Lake Road.

The youngster's body is at the Coates Funeral Home, Drayton Plains.

Governorships Eyed by GOP

Idaho, Kansas, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and Hawaii. The loss of New Hampshire would be regarded as an upset. GOP victories in New York, Maine and Vermont seem certain.

Local correspondents give the Democrats a slim margin in efforts to hold on to the statehouses in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Ohio, North Dakota and Texas. They give greater certainty of retaining executive offices in Rhode Island, Maryland, Nevada and Alaska.

Democratic retention of the governorships of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee is also certain.

Only in New Mexico do the Democrats seem to have a good chance to turn out a Republican governor.

Tractor Driver, 25, Strangles to Death

A young tractor operator strangled to death yesterday when his neck became pinned between the cab and boom of the machine.

John J. Reynolds, 25, of Newport was found trapped on the vehicle shortly after 4 p.m. by one of his employers, Linco Gifford of U.S. co-owner of the C & T Machine Co., 1441 E. Hamlin Road, Rochester.

Reynolds, employed part time at the farm, was spreading fertilizer when he apparently stuck his head out the cab opening and inadvertently hit the hydraulic lever that lowered the boom with his leg, according to sheriff's deputies.

When the boom lowered it should Reynolds across the shoulder blades and throat.

Reynolds, who had been working alone, had last been seen about 10:30 a.m. The time of his death was set at about 2:30 p.m.

His body is at the William H. Potere Funeral Home, Rochester.

Nation Feels Cold, Snow

By The Associated Press

Gusty northerly winds fanned cold air, rain and snow from the north central region eastward into sections of the South today. Light snow fell as far southward as parts of Tennessee and Kentucky where temperatures dropped to the 30s. Readings were in the 40s from Alabama through the Carolinas and northern Florida.

Uncle Sam Being Good Samaritan to India

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The hobgoblin scare for kiddies is over until next year, but the witches brew in Red China is rapidly approaching the boil-over point for the rest of us.

Premier Jawaharlal Nehru, who had long protected his city, Red-loving Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon until aroused Indian public opinion finally forced his removal, has been urgently requesting arms from the West.

MEET AT PENTAGON

Both the U.S. and Britain are responding to the crisis, and Indian defense officials have been meeting regularly at the Pentagon to itemize their free shopping list.

It goes without saying that American military supplies will be and are being rushed to the ungrateful Asian neutral, now that the Kremlin has reneged on its deal to sell him Russian MIG fighter planes.

Thanks to Menon's ineptness, however, our military experts believe that the Indian army needs a complete overhaul in terms of reequipment and reorganization, to repel Chinese troops.

Uncle Sam is expected to be the "Good Samaritan" as usual, but Pakistan has overruled the brew by insisting that if India receives massive American military aid, it must have the same.

Foreign Minister Mohammad Ali's concern is understandable, since Nehru has adamantly refused to honor a United Nations demand for a plebiscite to decide the fate of Moslem Kashmir, which India forcibly holds.

America has little choice but to assist in trying to halt the Red tide that is sweeping across Indian borders. It would be unthinkable to sit idly by while the teeming subcontinent collapsed into Communist Chinese hands.

U. of M. Sets Hospital Mark

Treatments, Lab Tests
Hit Records in 1962

ANN ARBOR (U) — The University of Michigan Hospital dispensed record numbers of radiology treatments, drug prescriptions and laboratory tests in the past year, the hospital said in its annual report today.

More than 21,000 patients spent some 300,000 days in the hospital in the year ending last June 30, and examinations and minor treatments to outpatients reached a record 233,445, said Dr. A. C. Kerlikowicz, hospital director.

Child birth was one of the few categories to suffer a decline, he said. The 1,578 babies delivered in the last year were 34 fewer than in the year previous, following a statewide annual decline of 1.2 percent.

Contributing to the record numbers — 20,723 radiology treatments, 215,848 lab tests and 262,750 prescriptions — was the increasing number of illnesses treated in the hospital's burn, rehabilitation and intensive care units, which require above average care and testing.

The hospital, which — except for psychiatric units — is self-supporting, operated on a $15.8-million budget last year, he said.

the outside world by refugees fortunate enough to escape through the Bamboo Curtain, and despite what a nightmare that would be.

Even more revealing is a timely book published this week by Coward-McCann titled: "Escape from Red China." Written by Robert Loh, a U.S.-educated Chinese from a well-to-do family, who in 1949 returned to his homeland to help create a "new" China, it is living proof that truth is stranger than fiction.

TORTURED!

The physical torture imposed on all who dared to disagree with the Communist regime was as nothing compared with the harrowing "thought control," and the reduction of what little remained of the educated classes to gibbering mouthpieces for Communist lies.

Once Loh had decided that his only possible salvation lay in escape, he set about to make himself as pleasing as possible to his Red masters.

One of the most appalling parts of the book is his confession that in order to protect his life and position, he played the Communist game with visiting Western and neutralist trade missions, parroting the official line, and deliberately giving the impression that all was love and tranquility behind the Bamboo Curtain.

"Even Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and President Sukarno of Indonesia," Loh writes, "were apparently impressed by the staged productions they were shown."

Loh finally made his escape, and is presently engaged as a translator for the army research and translation group in the Pentagon. His book is so incredibly frank that he himself merges as a less-than-admirable character, but if his revelations awaken neutralist leaders to the dangerous quicksand of playing Communist-footsie, he will more than repay his debt to society.

The book should be "must" reading for any Americans who think that we can relax our vigil in Cuba, as long as thousands of Red Chinese "technicians" and "agricultural experts" remain on that neighboring soil.

The Pontiac Press Evaluates Several Election Candidates

This newspaper has never held forth as a political savant or a Delphic Oracle. However, the publisher, editor, managing editor, city editor and editorial page director went into a five-man huddle and came up with some honest observations as the consensus of the group.

We didn't attempt to evaluate every race there is. In fact, at times we aren't even clear whether Washington or Lincoln was the greater American. But here are our findings: George Romney is the man for Governor. He has the savvy, experience and general business know-how. Michigan is badly in need of an expert as administrator.

We feel JAMES M. HARRIS is the logical selection as Secretary of State because of his own personal business ability and his fundamental grasp of basic governmental and economic problems.

For Auditor General, we agreed that L. William Seidman is perhaps the most experienced candidate that ever stood for election to this post. He's a master accountant and "exactly what Michigan needs."

On NEIL STARKER and ALVIN M. BENTLEY, we agreed that both men are competent and for once Michigan finds herself in the happy position of facing two capable candidates for the same office.

When it comes to our Congressman in Washington, William S. Broomfield earns the nod by a handsome and substantial margin. He is a conscientious and capable veteran at a comparatively young age and is vigorous and effective in the House. He's a Congressional leader in his own right and Oakland County needs him.

For State Representative in Lansing our group endorses ARTHUR J. LAW, former Mayor of Pontiac, and long a City Commissioner.

Farrell Roberts is simply outstanding as State Senator. He has been MSUO's most effective friend in the Legislature. Other people have been very helpful but Roberts was the boy that carried the ball on fourth down with two yards to go. In addition to this specialized duty, Farrell Roberts is an all-around Senatorial veteran that commands the highest respect from the Lansing contingent.

Taking the County offices as a whole, our group agreed that the GOP lineup had vastly more experience and ability than the opponents. It merits support on past performance and individual achievements.

Birmingham faces a contest for State Representative and our board of strategy backs HENRY HOAGAN unequivocally. One of the younger men in State politics, he leaped to the fore on several occasions and is a man of sound judgment.

Voters face a State and a County question. The State amendment authorizes general revision of the statutes under qualified procedure. This sounds reasonable and should be approved. The County question asks whether we should abolish the office of County Surveyor. Both candidates favor this step, so why shouldn't the rest of us? Vote "yes."

In Waterford, Lloyd Anderson is up for re-election and his performance in the Legislature at Lansing suggests that he deserves another term and a pat on the back from the electorate.

On the nonpartisan ticket for Supreme Court justices, we recommend Michael D. O'Hara and Louis D. McGregor. They are standouts.

There you are.

This is the considered opinion of our board of strategy that acts in the interest of voters who know neither candidate and who are uncertain. The citizens whose opinions are crystal-clear and rock-ribbed have the situation in hand and their minds made up.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter, back from the International Press Association meeting at Santiago, Chile:

After President KENNEDY's forthright declaration on Cuba, GUILLERMO MARTINEZ MARQUEZ strode triumphantly to the microphone and declared in ringing tones: "Gentlemen, I invite this assembly to meet in Havana — soon." He received a terrific ovation. GUILLERMO is a Cuban editor who was forced to flee into exile after the Reds confiscated his newspaper for their own purposes.

Overheard (North American publisher): "One of the main political weaknesses in our country lies in the fact we're hip-deep in mid-giet State Governors."

Quotation from Jules Dubois, the greatest single authority on the politics of all the Americas: "Freedom of expression is the mother of all liberties." Before we were addressed by President Jorge Alessandri, smoking was prohibited in the assembly for 60 minutes. The President is an unrelenting foe of drinking and smoking. Billy Graham was on the plane coming home and he's just as handsome as his pictures make him out to be and even more personable. He has a friendly, engaging smile and greets all and sundry with a sunny welcome.

A cynical observer said the name of the Russian ship that was stopped must have been "October Revolution" and the U.S. navy ship that did it: "The November Elections." The trip to Santiago is gorgeous and spectacular. You fly 550 miles an hour southward over a long narrow strip with the world's biggest ocean on the right and the lofty Andes mountains on the left. One of the peaks was 24,000 feet and plenty were more than 20,000 with gleaming white snow atop each eminence while long white fingers stretch down toward the lesser altitudes. Chile's coast line is 2,500 miles long—more than twice the distance from New York to Miami.

David Lawrence Says:

60 Nations Violating U. N. Charter

WASHINGTON — Much is often said about upholding the "rule of law" in the world, but 60 governments have just violated it by their vote in a special committee of the United Nations General Assembly.

These governments have deliberately interfered in the internal affairs of a member country. This is an action specifically prohibited by the provisions of the United Nations Charter.

Fortunately, the United States and Great Britain — and many other governments which have respect for the rule of law — did not go along with the resolution sponsored by 33 African and Asian countries that called for the expulsion of the Union of South Africa from the United Nations because of its policy of "apartheid." Yet this policy happens to be the law of the land in South Africa.

Many people in Asia, Europe and this hemisphere do not know that the "colored" people in South Africa live in the same cities and towns with the whites, are not segregated by residence and enjoy virtually all the privileges that Negroes do in the United States.

It's the Bantu tribes, however, that are required by law to be kept apart. They live and work in a separate domain, and this is what is really meant by "apartheid."

FEAR BANTU TRIBE

The whites in South Africa have no fear of the "colored" in Cape-town or elsewhere, but they do fear that the Bantu—who are half-civilized — may some day take over South Africa by force.

Accordingly, plans are under way by the South African government to establish the Bantu in a certain province by themselves and give them self-rule and eventually independence.

But the Afro-Asian bloc and some other members in the United Nations have undertaken to interfere with the operations of the government of South Africa and have in their resolution—by a vote of 60 to 16, with 21 abstentions — not only recommended South Africa's expulsion from the U.N. but a boycott of all its exports and a refusal of landing privileges in their countries to South African planes.

The United Nations Charter, however, says under Article 2: "Nothing contained in the present Charter shall authorize the use of force by any member against any other member."

Dr. Wayne Brandstadt Says:

Gasoline-Sniffing Boys Lack Happiness at Home

Instead of stepping on the gas some youngsters are sniffing it.

Although accidental swallowing of gasoline has occurred in the past, addition to gasoline sniffing is a relatively new development.

It has been reported only in boys — perhaps girls have better sense. Although these boys are usually in their early teens, some were found to have been sniffing for several years.

One boy started when he was only 5 years old. There are undoubtedly many whose habit has not been discovered by their parents, or if discovered has not been reported to the family doctor.

William M. Easson made a study of some boys who were gasoline sniffers and found that they came from homes in which serious marital discord and violence prevailed and in which divorce was threatened or had occurred.

The relationship between father and son in every instance was weak. The mothers tended to be over-indulgent and to encourage their sons to have an unrealistic opinion of their own importance.

The boys as a result tended to be over-demanding and to be unable to tolerate even mild frustrations. Unable to make any real friends in their own age group, these boys became "lone wolves."

with them. If very high concentrations were inhaled there was sometimes a sudden loss of consciousness.

Gasoline probably does not cause a true addiction in the sense that alcohol and certain drugs do.

Although the boys had become emotionally dependent on sniffing, their habit was easily broken when appropriate treatment was given.

Among the public servants to be elected are two justices of the state Supreme Court. There are some who feel that the selection of Supreme Court justices is equal . . . or nearly equal importance to the selection of a governor.

Is this a non-partisan office? True the candidates run on a non-partisan ballot, but they are nominated by political parties. Thus there will be two Democrats and two Republicans despite the fact that they will appear without party labels.

The Democrats are incumbents by appointment; they were not elected. They are Paul L. Adams, former attorney general, and Otis M. Smith, former superior general.

The Republicans are Michael D. O'Hara, prominent upper Peninsula attorney, and Louis D. McGregor, Genesee County Circuit Court judge. Unusual importance attaches to the high court election because of a widespread feeling that the court's Democratic majority has been deciding cases on the basis of social and political philosophy rather than on the law.

Not the first of such cases, but the one which touches off the greatest criticism, was the recent decision in which the controlling Democratic justices held that the system of State Senate appointment voted by the people of Michigan . . . and which is the same system which governs the selection of U. S. Senators . . . violates the U. S. Constitution.

This decision was patently

Italian Judges Plan to Join Wage Strike

ROME (UPI) — Italian judges for the first time in the country's history planned today to join a mounting strike waged by farmhands, construction workers and hospital doctors.

The National Association of Magistrates, representing a vast majority of Italian judges, yesterday called an unprecedented strike for Nov. 28-30 to protest low pay.

What made the judges' planned strike even more serious was the fact they, like striking hospital doctors and university professors, were in effect challenging the over-all policies of Premier Amintore Fanfani's "center-left" government.

Three Little Pigs

They 'Go to Market'

DALLAS (AP) — When the Arnold Gerling family brought home three pigs Saturday they had no place to keep them at their West Dallas home. So they locked the pigs in the bathroom.

Yesterday Mrs. Gerling and her daughters, Linda Lee, 6, and Carole Sue, 5, were in the living room when the wall between the bathroom and the living room was blown out. Battalion Fire Chief Don Ratliff said the pigs apparently had turned on a gas outlet as they roamed around the bathroom and a pilot light touched off the blast. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

The mother and daughters were treated for second and third degree burns.

The singed pigs were hauled to a slaughter house.

E. German Red Boss Talks to Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP) — East German Communist Party Chief Walter Ulbricht left Moscow today after a four-day stay which included a secret conference with Premier Khrushchev.

The departure was reported by the official news agency Tass which said Ulbricht and his party were seen off by President Leonid Brezhnev. Khrushchev apparently remained in the Kremlin.

Ulbricht and other top leaders of the Soviet bloc unexpectedly came to Moscow last week for what Western diplomats believe were emergency briefings on the world situation.

Some of the diplomats think Khrushchev's time-table on Berlin was badly upset by American firmness on the Cuban question.

Polish Communist Party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka went home last night, but left behind a tribute to Khrushchev's "deep political wisdom" in the Cuban crisis which Pravda published today.

3,000-WORD ARTICLE
The 3,000-word article charged the United States had brought the world to the brink of nuclear war over Cuba.

Gomulka called for adequate guarantees for Cuba's security against American aggression. He made no reference, however, to Fidel Castro's five demands including U.S. evacuation of the naval base at Guantanamo Bay.

Two-thirds of Gomulka's article was devoted to the questions of peaceful coexistence, Communist bloc economic operation, and the possibility of preventing war.

He reaffirmed the Soviet Union's position as the "core" of the world Communist movement and denounced alleged Western efforts to disrupt the unity of the Socialist camp.

The Polish leader made no reference to the Berlin situation or the German problem.

JFK's Family Sees Him Off at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's family, all of it, saw him off when he left by helicopter to fly to the South grounds of the White House. He had a good-bye kiss from Mrs. Kennedy, Caroline and John Jr.

Little John, who will be 2 next month, had a fine time toddling around between two helicopters, with Mrs. Kennedy giving chase.

A crewman lifted him up to the first step of the ramp of one chopper and they went inside for a look around Mrs. Kennedy followed.

Back outside, the youngster headed for the President's own helicopter and got a look at that, too, from outside and inside.

Kennedy was heading for New York City to start a second week of intensive campaigning.

Belgian Child Deformed by Thalidomide

To Try Mother for Killing Deformed Baby

LIEGE, Belgium (UPI) — A young mother goes on trial today charged with the murder of her armless baby she says was deformed by the drug thalidomide.

The trial of Mrs. Suzanne Coipel Van de Put ranked with the Swedish operation to abort the birth of Mrs. Sherri Finkbine's deformed baby as a major moral and legal controversy over the thalidomide issue.

For the first time, television and newsreel cameras were set up in a Belgian court. The courtroom was enlarged by taking away a partition to enable 600 spectators to follow the proceedings.

Mrs. Van de Put, 25, has confessed killing her week-old baby, Carine, May 29 by giving it a fatal dose of barbiturates mixed with honey in the child's bottle.

"I have done myself what others refused to do," she is reported to have told police.

Investigators said Mrs. Van de Put told them she gave the baby, her first child, the barbiturates

"to save it from a wretched existence."

Charged with conspiracy to commit murder are Mrs. Van de Put's husband, her mother, her sister and the family doctor, Dr. Jacques Casters, who is accused of prescribing the barbiturates knowing what Mrs. Van de Put planned to do with them.

The case has stirred a public storm in Belgium.

Over 900 persons signed a petition for Dr. Casters' release. In a private poll, more than 15,000 persons approved of Mrs. Van de Put's action. Only 900 disapproved.

The 12-man jury in Liege's Court of Assizes will be asked to decide whether Mrs. Van de Put is guilty of a voluntary homicide with the intention of killing.

If guilty she could receive a sentence ranging from three years in jail to death.

The jury also must decide if the other four defendants cooperated in the death of the child to the extent that it could not have taken place without their help.

Seven lawyers will defend the case. The prosecution plans to call 14 witnesses. The trial is expected to last four or five days.

IN JAIL 6 MONTHS

Mrs. Van de Put, her mother Mrs. Fernande Yerna, and Dr. Casters have been in jail since their arrest five months ago. Her husband, Jean, and her sister, Monique Coipel, were released Aug. 18, but were jailed again last Friday.

The baby was born May 22 in a Liege maternity ward. It had no arms, only small misshapen hands growing directly from the shoulders.

For four days, the mother was not shown her child. In that time, police say, her mother and sister both begged the doctor who delivered the baby to kill it. The doctor refused.

Mrs. Van de Put also is alleged to have begged that the child be killed when she first saw it on May 26. The same day her husband, mother and sister are alleged to have agreed that the baby should die.

Police say they first received a poison from Dr. Casters, their family doctor, then a strong mixture of barbiturates.

Mrs. Van de Put has told police she asked other members of the family to leave her alone while she administered the barbiturates. Police say she takes full responsibility for the baby's death.

Ex-Baseballer Top Recruiter for WAC Area

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — A former professional baseball player is probably the best recruiting advertisement for the Women's Army Corps in the state of Maine.

She's 34-year-old Blanche Kelley, sergeant first class who played first base professionally in Indiana with the Fort Wayne Daisies and the Gary All Stars among others.

Her sports career ended 12 years ago when she tore a ligament in her thumb and couldn't wear a mitt anymore.

After she enlisted, the Army took one look at her record and placed her in the special services athletic program.

In 1956 Blanche was named "Wac of the Year." Just recently she won top honors in the First Army District for the number of young women she recruited in a year.

Pope Tells Council to Try Hard

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The world's Roman Catholic prelates resumed their Ecumenical Council today after a five-day recess during which Pope John XXIII exhorted them to work for success no matter what internal conflicts may lie ahead.

Most of the 2,400 council fathers attended a 2 1/2-hour ceremony of pageantry and prayer in St. Peter's Basilica Sunday marking the fourth anniversary of the Pope's coronation.

RECALLS TENSIONS

Pope John reminded the prelates of the tensions and quarrels at the 18th century Council of Trent (1545-1563) and the work of St. Charles Borromeo in smoothing out the difficulties.

"The holy father was telling us that we may expect to come up against problems and trying situations," said Bishop John Healy of Gibraltar, "and he was telling us not to be dismayed."

Several bishops said they got the impression the Pope would like to see the council move along more rapidly in its work and settle into a more efficient routine.

SAID INDIRECTLY

"It was nothing he said directly," explained an American bishop who asked not to be quoted by name. "Rather it was in his stresses and inflections during his discourse."

The council fathers still have to finish debating and suggesting revisions in a project on liturgy (public worship). That one topic alone, out of 70 or more on the agenda, has occupied their attention for two weeks.

A revised draft eventually must come before the full assembly for a vote, with perhaps more reshaping after that by the 25-member liturgy commission and perhaps further voting.

Liberals Fold in N. Rhodesia

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Northern Rhodesia's Liberal party—formed two years ago to bridge the gap between the African nationalists and Sir Roy Welensky's United Federal Party—has been disbanded following defeat of all 30 candidates in last week's general election.

Party followers have been advised to join Kenneth Kaunda's United National Independence Party.

Camp Oakland Re-Elects Slate

Top Officers Returned, New Veep Named

The board of directors of Camp Oakland, Inc., re-elected its top officers to 1963 terms and named an additional vice-president at the nonprofit corporation's annual meeting Sunday.

The new vice president is Carl O. Barton, Birmingham real estate developer and engineer, of 286 E. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills.

Meeting at the camp near Oxford, the board re-elected Walter Gehrike, 29 Oakland Park, Pleasant Ridge, to the presidency.

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, 1407 Vinetta Blvd., Royal Oak, was re-elected to a vice presidency.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, 400 S. Adams Road, Avon Township, was appointed to the board by Gehrike. Mrs. Wilson will fill the unexpired term of her late husband.

Elected to a first term on the board was Oakland County Probate Judge Donald E. Adams, 2711 West Walton, Drayton Plains.

Among 14 members of the board elected to additional three-year terms were Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald of 148 Ottawa Drive, MSUO Chancellor D. B. Varner, 1300 W. Adams Road, Avon Township; and Rochester auto dealer Larry Jerome, 208 Charles Road, Rochester. Camp Oakland is supported by both public and private funds.

Muddy Montrose Nearly Upright

DETROIT (AP) — Bedraggled and muddy, the British freighter Montrose stood almost upright in the Detroit River today.

Major operations in righting and raising the once sleek and shiny vessel were nearly finished. Ahead, however, was still the task of cleaning and drying her inside and taking her to a port.

The 82 million, 7,000-ton vessel sank in about 40 feet of water the night of July 30 after a collision with a barge and tow in a fog.

Teacher, Pupil Confab-Bound

A Pontiac Central High School teacher and student will be the guests of Consumers Power Company's Pontiac Division Thursday through Saturday at the 1962 National Youth Conference on the Atom, in Chicago.

The student is Glen King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen I. King of 647 Benson St., selected for his interest and excellence in science.

Accompanying him will be Donald E. Smith, physics and math instructor at PCH, chosen for his outstanding capabilities as a science teacher.

Both were selected by local educators in cooperation with Consumers Power Co. officials.

Candidates were judged in a variety of ways including their participation in science fairs, special examinations and their school records.

Some 600 of the nation's outstanding science instructors and students will attend the three-day conference, 12 of them from Michigan.

"Purpose of the conference," explained Charles F. Brown, division manager, "is to present to a group of the nation's most gifted high school science students and teachers an authoritative and inspiring picture of the promise of the peaceful atom in its various applications."

The local delegation will leave Wednesday and return Saturday.

Mississippi Citizens' Group Proposing to Close Schools

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — A pro-segregation group is circulating a pamphlet proposing the shutdown of any state school the federal government "takes by force" — then reopening it along private school lines.

The proposal by the Citizens Council of Jackson, Miss., came as John Frazier, 21-year-old Greenville Negro, announced he would apply for enrollment at the University of Southern Mississippi in January. The State-operated university is in Hattiesburg.

AT OLE MISS

The University of Mississippi currently is the only state supported school in Mississippi which has been desegregated. James H. Meredith, 25-year-old Ole Miss, starts his sixth week of classes at Ole Miss today.

Four students were expelled from Ole Miss Saturday on charges stemming from demonstrations against Meredith, the university announced.

been sent in by off-campus sources, the newspaper said.

Frazier is state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Youth Council. He announced his intention to integrate a second state university at a state NAACP meeting in Jackson Saturday night. Frazier is now a student at Campbell College in Jackson.

In another development, an attorney for the psychiatrist selected to examine former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, asked a federal judge whether to delay the examination pending settlement of legal questions.

A federal court ordered the test in connection with Walker's actions at the Ole Miss campus during rioting after Meredith was admitted. Walker's attorneys are objecting.

Walker is charged with incitement and seditious conspiracy and is free in $50,000 bond.

Obscene Calls Laid to Clerk

Caught in Trap Set by Detroit Police

DETROIT (AP) — A young supermarket clerk faced charges today of making more than 1,000 obscene telephone calls during the past four years.

Police said that Paul J. Herrick, 24, admitted making the calls to the wives of professional men almost daily since 1958. He was arrested late Saturday as he drove to meet one of the women he terrorized.

Police said Herrick, who is married, would call the wives of doctors and lawyers and said their husbands had been kidnapped.

He would pose as a police officer and give a list of detailed, obscene instructions which the women would have to do while an accomplice was allegedly taking the pictures with a motion picture camera.

Authorities baited a trap for Herrick when he telephoned the wife of a Redford physician. They had earlier succeeded in tracing the calls to a phone in his home.

The woman agreed to meet him and pay him money for the alleged pictures. Police arrested Herrick as he stopped the car to accept the money. His wife was with him at the time of his arrest, but she denied any part in the calls.

Police said they would charge Herrick with extortion.

Atrocity Trial Resumes for Police Chief

COBLENZ, Germany (AP) — The grimest recital of Nazi atrocities since the Eichmann trial resumed today on trial for the mass murder of 70,000 Jews, gypsies and other "enemies of Nazism" in the Russian city of Minsk during World War II.

Heuser is personally charged with killing 30,356 persons. When the trial recessed last Wednesday, the police chief's spokesman had admitted supervising the killings of at least 15,000 Jews.

Each mass execution by his squad was followed by a "drunk-en party," Heuser said.

Until his wartime past caught up with him in 1959, Heuser was the police chief of the West German state of Rhineland-Palatinate.

Heuser said that when he took over as leader of the Minsk SS executions command unit, Nazi Secret Police Chief Reinhard Heydrich told him his task was part of the "final solution of the Jewish problem."

The "final solution" was the Nazi euphemism for the extermination of European Jews. The state of Israel hanged SS Colonel Adolf Eichmann as one of the chief organizers of the mass murder program.

Heuser and the other 11 defendants face a maximum punishment of life imprisonment. West Germany has no death penalty.

This Hot Car Breaks Pattern

WINSTON, Conn. (AP) — You've read those stories about motorists bringing their cars to fire houses when they find them on fire.

But Charles Kammermeyer, a lieutenant in Winston's volunteer fire department, went them one better — he brought his car and, two hours later, it caught fire.

As he and 14 others were returning from a practice session to the fire house, they saw the front seat of his parked car on fire. His coat and the car seat were badly damaged.

Pioneer Pilot Wins Glider Prize at 81

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — An 81-year-old pioneer aviator won first prize recently for the best glider landing by a power aircraft pilot at the Southern Tier Flying Club's annual outing.

After his ride, Edward C. Richard of Elmira reported "it was a little bumpy but I enjoyed it."

He said he expected to take another ride soon. He has been up in a sailplane three or four times.

Richard described himself as a protégé of the famed late Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammondsport, N.Y., and said he flew with the French in World War I and joined Charles A. Lindbergh for the first U.S. Air Mail Service in the 1920s.

PURE JOY — Happy leap of Wendy, curly miniature poodle in Shirley, England, illustrates the reason for the continued popularity of the breed.

The popular song "On the Banks of the Wabash" was written by Paul Dresser, brother of the novelist Theodore Dreiser.

'EXPLORER DIES — Dr. Carl R. Eklund, antarctic explorer, died yesterday of a heart attack while lecturing in Philadelphia. The 53-year-old explorer was chief of polar and arctic research for the Army. His home was in Washington, D.C.

These Birds Really Have Winter Home

AUSTWELL, Texas (UPI) — Twenty-six whooping cranes are nesting today at their winter home at the Aransas wildlife refuge but bird lovers can only hope the remaining 12 whoopers are minding the kids.

Officials said yesterday that no baby cranes were sighted in the 26-bird flock, now at the Aransas refuge on the south Texas coast. The remaining dozen of the nearly extinct birds are en route from the summer home near the Great Slave Lake in northwest Canada, officials said.

The remainder of the flock may be bringing the baby cranes, refuge manager Jim Johnson said.

Last autumn, the flock increased as five baby cranes made the trip to Texas from Canada. In 1941, only 15 of the majestic birds with 7-foot wing spans were known to exist.

Talented Cleric to Lecture at MSUO Center

A clergyman, playwright and freedom rider — Rev. Malcolm Boyd — will lecture at 1 p.m. Thursday in the Oakland Center at Michigan State University Oakland.

The lecture is open to the public without charge.

The Rev. Mr. Boyd is Episcopal chaplain at Wayne State University. He was ordained after working 10 years in advertising, public relations, motion pictures and television in Hollywood and New York.

His written work is dominated by racial themes, mostly in the form of one-act plays. "I believe that the most powerful sermons of our time and culture are to be found in the theater, the novel and occasionally in films," he has said.

The Rev. Mr. Boyd created a stir as chaplain of Colorado State University, where he organized "expresso nights" as an expression of Christian evangelism on campus.

He has also taken part in freedom rides to New Orleans, Jackson, Miss., Seawane, Tenn., and to Dearborn, Mich.

Chinese in Muddle Over Language

HONG KONG (UPI) — The efforts of the Chinese government to simplify the country's picturesque writing have bogged down in confusion.

Early in its reign, the Communist government set out to simplify the system of picture-like characters which had its beginnings about 3,000 years ago. The idea was to make it easier for Chinese to learn to read.

The government greatly simplified some of the thousands of Chinese characters, which today still constitute the greatest unifying force in Chinese culture. They originally developed from simplified outline drawings of natural objects.

Chinese from various regions pronounce the characters differently, but all literate Chinese understand their meanings. This has led to a literary situation unlike anything in the Western world.

Persons from Canton and Peking, who often can't carry on a conversation, can write each other perfectly intelligible letters.

But the system is complex and memory taxing. The reader of an ordinary newspaper has to be able to recognize at least 3,500 different characters, and a university student must know some 6,000. The government wanted to make it easier.

ABBREVIATION

To meet this need, the Communists decided in 1956 that a number of complicated characters could be "abbreviated" by doing away with some of their component brush strokes, but leaving the general design of the character untouched.

About 1,000 of the more complicated characters got this "short-hand" treatment.

However, reports from Communist newspapers which have reached Hong Kong indicate that the movement started a craze. Everybody began creating new characters at will.

"The consequent confusion is considerable," one newspaper reported. "Post offices have piles of letters addressed in the writing of such self-confident geniuses, which nobody can read."

"This is a melancholy story, for the postal service in China was always celebrated, even in the most turbulent times for its punctuality."

"Who would have thought that the reliability, which was unshaken by civil wars, would succumb to the vagaries of writing reform?"

Additional confusion is said to have arisen from the use of the suddenly simplified characters in street posters and signs of stores.

The simplification of characters is now being considered anew by a 300-man committee of educators in Peking.

In the eyes of the Communist regime, simplification of the most complicated characters would be just the first step toward replacing the characters completely with a "Roman" alphabet built on Western lines.

WRITE PRONUNCIATION

This would be achieved by writing the phonetic pronunciation of each character in the Latin alphabet. Recently, Peoples Daily began printing the "Romanized" spelling of difficult words after the characters used to portray them.

The Latin alphabet is now taught in schools, in order to help children to learn the correct pronunciation of the thousands of characters they must memorize.

Find Roman Mummy

BUDAPEST (AP) — The almost intact mummified body of a young Roman woman—clad in blue funeral robe, two ivory trimkets, a metal bracelet and golden shoes—was found recently, the newspaper Esti Hirlap reports, during excavation at Aquinas, an outpost of the early A.D. Roman Empire.

Four Octogenarians Through in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The oldest congressmen and three other octogenarians are among 33 members of Congress who are certain to be replaced when the new session convenes next January.

They either have retired to private life, are seeking other office, or were defeated in primary elections.

Less than half of the 82 are bowing out of public office voluntarily. They include the oldest member of Congress, Rep. Brent Spence, D-Ky., chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee. Spence will be 88 on Dec. 24.

Three House Republicans, John Taber of New York, 82; Clare Hoffman of Michigan, 87, and Noah Mason of Illinois, 80, are the other octogenarians quitting on their own. They have been in Congress long enough to qualify for hefty pensions—around $18,000 a year in the case of Spence and Taber.

representatives have made their own decisions to return to private life.

They are Sens. John M. Butler, R-Md., Benjamin A. Smith II, D-Mass., Oren E. Long, D-Hawaii, and Prescott Bush, R-Conn.; and Reps. Gordon H. Scherer, R-Ohio, Burr P. Harrison, D-Va., Morgan M. Moulder, D-Mo., Marguerite Stitt Church, R-Ill., Robert B. Chipfield, R-Ill., John H. Ray, R-N.Y., Louise G. Reece, R-Tenn., Fred Marshall, D-Minn., Iris F. Blitch, D-Ga., Catherine D. Norrell, D-Ark., Merwin Good, D-Iowa, Corinne Riley, D-S.C., and Jessica McC. Weis, R-N.Y.

Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan, D-Pa., resigned her seat to become treasurer of the United States, and Rep. Hugh J. Addonizio, R-N.J., resigned to become mayor of Newark.

Nine members have abandoned their House seats to seek senatorships. Another is running for governor and one is seeking a state Supreme Court post.

House members running for the Senate are Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md., Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., Perkins Bass, R-N.H., James E. Van Zandt, R-Pa., Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., Horace Seely-Brown Jr., R-Conn., Gracie Pfost, D-Iowa, and David S. King, D-Utah.

Rep. William W. Scranton, R-Pa., is seeking the governorship of his state and Rep. Victor L. Anuso, D-N.Y., is running for Supreme Court justice in New York.

Seventeen House members and one senator were victims of primary election or convention defeats.

Four of them—Reps. Edwin R. Dunn, R-Ore., Frank Kowalski, D-Conn., Chester E. Morrow, R-N.H., and Laurence Curtis, R-Mass.—failed in bids for Senate nominations.

Another, Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., lost in his primary race for governor.

One senator, Maurice J. Murphy Jr., R-N.H., failed to win renomination for his own seat.

On Any Election Fraud

Wayne County Promises Action

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne County authorities today promised swift action on "all credible evidence of election fraud or voter intimidation presented by any legitimate source" in tomorrow's election.

The controversy over the probe into the registration rolls of Detroit and some suburbs was clouded over by a lack of expressed policy of the Honest Ballot Association, the organization conducting the investigation in behalf of the Committee for Honest Elections.

George J. Abrams, New York, head of the Honest Ballot Association, had promised earlier to post some 600 challengers at selected voting places to challenge suspicious votes.

But his plans were dampened by a statement by three prominent Detroit clergymen, members of the committee, repudiating some of the measures taken in behalf of the committee by the ballot group.

Abrams was further hindered by a Circuit Court ruling that permanently enjoined him from further mailing of literature of "indiscriminate challenges" at polling places election day.

The clergymen issued a joint statement Saturday expressing their views on the controversial investigation. The statement said:

"We believe in the nonpartisan purposes which prompted the formation of the Committee for Honest Elections to help ensure the continuance of honest and free elections in our community."

"... We joined this committee at the invitation of respected citizens of our community to serve on a nonpartisan basis as private citizens."

"We believe in the Honest Ballot Association, which has had a long and honored history. Nevertheless, we do not approve of the methods which Mr. George J. Abrams, executive secretary of this association, had carried on in our names."

The statement was issued by the Rev. Robert F. Allen, special action director of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Detroit; the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Michigan; and Rabbi Richard C. Hertz of Temple Beth El, Detroit.

In their statement, the clergymen discussed at length a letter sent to thousands of Detroit voters.

"The letter was misleading, but it was never the intent of this committee to intimidate citizens or to prevent them from exercising their full right to vote," they said in the statement.

Negro Surge Marks Georgia Election

ATLANTA (AP)—Political resurgence of Georgia Negroes sharply underscores Tuesday's general election which will put a Negro in the state Senate for the first time in 82 years.

Election of a Negro senator is a certainty since both the Democratic and Republican nominees in Fulton (Atlanta) County's 38th District are Negroes.

Carrying the Democratic banner is LeRoy R. Johnson, 38, an attorney. A former school teacher, he holds three college degrees. Johnson won without a runoff in the Oct. 18 primary after a state judge ruled votes had to be counted on a district, not county, basis. The Republican candidate is T. M. Alexander, 50, insurance company president nominated without opposition in the party primary. This is his second political race. He lost in a 1957 runoff for an aldermanic post.

The last Negro to sit in the state Senate left office in 1870, during Reconstruction. Three Negroes served in the Reconstruction Senate.

However, 46 Negroes served in the House during and after Reconstruction. About 14 Negroes were elected to the House between 1880 and 1907, the year Negroes lost primary election voting rights.

Georgia's last Negro legislator, Rep. W. H. Rogers of McIntosh County, served from 1892 to 1907. Rogers quit before his term ended after Gov. Hoke Smith pushed through a constitutional amendment denying Negroes the right to vote in primaries—which under a one-party system have controlled elections in the state.

With approval of the "white primary" amendment, Georgia became the last of the Southern states to disfranchise Negroes.

U.S. Put Together Proof of Cuba Build-Up Piece by Piece

(Editor's Note — This fourth article of Relman Morin's five-part series on the Cuban crisis tells how the United States pieced together evidence of the Soviet military build-up.)

By RELMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Imagine a strip of photographic film, 20 to 30 feet wide, some six miles long. ***

Cut in sections, it is stretched across the floor. Photo analysts, on hands and knees, crawl around on the pictures, peering at them through stereomicroscopes, special magnifying glasses. The technicians note any detail of change in terrain. More especially, they look for objects on the sites that weren't there yesterday. They chart the birth of a crisis, a Soviet nuclear threat to the United States swiftly taking shape on Cuban bases.

Beginning Monday, Oct. 15, says a chief of intelligence, American pilots flew six and seven photo reconnaissance missions over Cuba daily.

"We blanketed the island," he says. The planes brought back miles of film.
Today, you look at a sequence of pictures taken above a missile site. The first shots show empty country. Then, apparently out of thin air, construction becomes visible in succeeding days—anti-aircraft, a half-completed security fence, prefabricated concrete arches, a batch plant for making cement, launching pads, fire control bunkers, an earth-molded structure, revetments.
It was this evidence that impelled President Kennedy to declare a quarantine on shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba, and to demand the dismantling of the missile sites already built. Republicans have attacked Kennedy on the ground that he acted too slowly.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says "very hard information" about the Soviet sites was available in mid-September. Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., in a similar assertion, said last Sept. 8 that a blockade of Cuba might be necessary. But a top intelligence agent gives this version: Late August — Cuban refugees report the arrival of Soviet technicians in Cuba and the erection of rocket launchers. The refugees are carefully interrogated. Checks on the sites show they are surface-to-air launchers, and "cruise sites," coastal missile artillery. Their range is too short to reach the United States.
42 DOWNED
Mid-September — A U2 plane belonging to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa is shot down over Communist China. U2 flights over Cuba are suspended "until we could learn what brought down the plane in China."

won't disclose what brought down the U2 in China.
Late September — "We began to be uneasy because of the large numbers of Russian ships coming to Cuba. They never carried missiles on deck, always in the holds. This became apparent later."
Sept. 28 — A photo of a Soviet freighter shows some large crates on deck. In the picture, they look cylindrical, like miniature Quonset huts. Evaluation indicates they are probably Ilyushin-28s, a Soviet light bomber, with a range of 750 miles. These crates are unloaded in remote ports, not Havana, and solely by the Russians, not the Cubans.

The ambassador, normally a bluff, cheerful-looking man, seemed them with their launchers down and their rockets showing." (Political Advertisement)

"The problem was to confirm the available evidence, assess the magnitude, and determine the nature of the Soviet threat," he says. He and members of his staff worked 34 hours without sleep to accomplish this, he said.
The Soviet objective was described as "a rapid secret simultaneous deployment" of the missile bases.
"In this day and age," the officer observed, "even the rapid development of a weapons site is a casus belli." (provocation to war.)

REPORT TRAFFIC
Late Sept. to Oct. 1 — Cuban refugees report heavy night-time truck traffic on the highways. The freight is covered. It appears to be larger than ordinary cargo.
Early October — bad weather and clouds over Cuba cause a second suspension of the reconnaissance flights.
Oct. 14 — A photo mission reveals sites under construction. They are for medium rockets, range 1,000 miles, and for intermediates, range 2,000 miles. On the same day, pictures are taken of the cylindrical crates, seen Sept. 28 on the freighter, now at San Julian airport. Now it is confirmed that the assembly for the IL-28s was in the crates. The missiles and the bombers are offensive weapons.

Oct. 15 — These photographs are evaluated in the early evening. They touch off the train of events that led to the quarantine.
"I think, but I can't prove absolutely, that the Russians started the construction work about Oct. 10 or 11," he says.
By Oct. 19, at San Diego Los Banos, photographs showed seven missiles, four erectors, 100 ve-

He presented the American findings, showing photographs and slides of the Soviet rocket installations in Cuba. Later, he delivered the same briefing to representatives of the neutral nations.
The general impression is that the U.S. case was wholly persuasive.
At 6 p.m., Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, was called to Rusk's office. He emerged 25 minutes later. Rusk had told him about the arms-blockade of Cuba.

EVIDENCE CLEAR
Before the end of the week of Oct. 15, the evidence was clear. The President was preparing to present it in his statement ordering the quarantine. Kennedy was ready to make it on Sunday, Oct. 21, but Secretary of State Dean Rusk persuaded him to wait a day, saying it would be difficult to promptly all the ambassadors on a weekend.

On Monday, Oct. 22, an hour before the President spoke, representatives of the NATO, SEATO and CENTO alliances were invited to the State Department. Waiting for them was Roger Hillsman, director of the Bureau of Intelligence and Research.

Survival Everyone's Job, 6 Experts on Panel Insist

ROCHESTER—What will really happen if we do have a thermonuclear attack, and what can we do to prepare for it?

A panel of six civil defense authorities answered this and other related questions at Saturday's CD meeting in the Rochester Municipal Building. The informational session was sponsored by the Northeast Oakland County Civil Defense Council.

Harold Bird, Oakland County CD communications director, surprised many in the audience when he said, "The present Conelrad communications system is now obsolete."

Bird said the original purpose of Conelrad was to misguide incoming aircraft so they couldn't "beam in" on radio waves of major cities.

ALL STATIONS

"Now," he said, "with the guided missile, this program is unnecessary." The public will receive emergency information from all radio stations."

The panel discussed the problem of getting the civil defense program into high gear.

"Everyone assumes he's going to be right in the target area," said C. W. Skiba, CD director of Macomb County.

"This is not true," he said. "It is a generally accepted fact that if all of the people in the United States simply sat on their hands, 40 million people would still survive."

"The greatest CD deficiency today is in the apathy of our own people," he said.

Skiba also pointed out the misconception he said people have about radioactive fallout. Every seven hours the amount of radioactive fallout decreases by 50 per cent, he said.

"Confusion of the people," would be the greatest danger in an attack, according to John Madole, Oakland County CD director.

"There is a reasonably good chance to survive," he said, "if we learn how to try."

A member of the audience asked the panel what would happen to the electricity and water supply, in the event of an attack.

"Would that the people were as prepared as the utilities are," Skiba said. He said the electrical companies have emergency power available, and also have prepared to borrow power from Canada if it need be.

"The utilities have been prepared for five years," he said.

"How are those one-floor schools with so much glass in them going to act as shelters for our children?" a parent asked.

Skiba referred to the schools as "monstrosities of glass" before he answered.

He pointed out that the halls would offer some protection if there was not enough warning time to get the children home.

"You people will not get what you want unless you stand up and squawk," he said.

Panel members said the public must "get at" the people who dispense CD funds in their local government on up to state and national government.

"Civil defense is the people's responsibility," Skiba said.

"Local government is not going to be able to operate from two days to two weeks after an emergency," he said.

"What would we do for water if Detroit were hit?" the panel was asked.

Ervin I. Schreiber, Oakland County CD defense officer, answered. "The water situation would definitely be disturbed," he said.

"However, we have vehicles prepared to carry water in an emergency," he said. "Even the large gasoline trucks can be converted to carry water."

WATER HEATER SUPPLY
Schreiber pointed out that everyone has an emergency supply of water in his water heater.

A member of the audience asked those who had made preparations for an attack to raise their hands. Of the 40 people attending the discussion, nine signified they had made at least some preparation.

The audience consisted of parents, local government officials, two officers of the United States Air Force and other interested persons.

"I'm president of my village, and I guess it's CD responsibility is in my lap," an audience member said. "I think it's about time we in local government started taking this thing more seriously."

"I think it's about time we all did," a parent agreed.

KATHLEEN MILDEBRANDT

The engagement of Kathleen Elizabeth Mildebrandt to Peter A. Grund is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Mildebrandt, 2070 S. Grant St., Avon Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Grund, 3231 Bendover St., Avon Township. The wedding will take place in December 1963.

Bible Meetings to Be Conducted in White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Rev. O. W. Stucky, evangelist, is conducting a series of special Bible meetings this week at the M and N Lake Community Church, 915 Round Lake Road.

The series, entitled "A Back to the Bible Revival" will be held at 7:30 p.m. daily, except Saturday, from today through Sunday.

Special music will be presented each night under the direction of Bruce Stevens.

Sunday services also are scheduled for 9:45 and 11 a.m.

The Kellogg bird sanctuary, located on Gull Lake between Kalamazoo and Battle Creek, is the largest private institution of its kind in the world. It is open to visitors year around.

2 Shelby Boys Struck by Cars

Youths Dart Into Road in Separate Mishaps

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—Two young boys were injured in separate car-pedestrian accidents here Saturday.

Eleven-year-old Thomas Verhille of 5777 Van Dyke Road, Shelby Township, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens, after being struck by a car driven by Edward Garabedian of Oak Park at 4:22 p.m.

The accident occurred on St. Mile Road, ¼ mile west of Van Dyke Road. The driver said he did not see anyone, but his brother, a passenger in the car, yelled a warning.

The driver's brother told Shelby Township Police that the boy ran out from underneath a bridge where he was playing and into the car's path.

The boy, thrown 50 feet by the impact, is at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens, with a broken leg and collarbone, cuts and bruises.

The other local accident in which 7-year-old Ronnie Collins of 2509 Howe Street was injured, occurred at 5:12 p.m. Saturday.

Police said Elmer Smith, 41, of 485 Coats Road, Lake Orion, was driving east on Auburn Avenue, 500 feet east of Dequindre Road, when the youth ran from the opposite side of the road into the path of his car.

The boy suffered back injuries and is in satisfactory condition at the Avon Center Hospital, Avon Township.

Neither driver was held.

Announce Mason Vows

AVON TOWNSHIP—Mr. and Mrs. William C. Beaupre of 2645 Christian Hills Drive announce the marriage of their daughter Margaret Mary to William H. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mason of 306 Ferndale St., Rochester.

Becomes Mrs. Hargrave

Miss Galant Bride

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Wearing a gown of ivory silk-faced peau de soie and sequined hand-woven Brussels lace, Christine Louise Galant became the bride of Philip Neal Hargrave Saturday in St. Paul's-on-the-Lake Church, Grosse Pointe.

Rt. Rev. Magr. Frank J. McPhillips performed the noon ceremony.

Lace appliques accented the flat front skirt panel, also the carriage back and chapel train. An imported silk illusion mantilla, bordered with Brussels lace, and bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, completed the bride's ensemble.

She is the daughter of the Edwin C. Galants, Grosse Pointe Farms. The bridegroom's parents are the Neal L. Hargraves of 6965 Orchard Lake Road.

The bride's cousin, Carolyn Mallat, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Dian Hammen, Mrs. Wayne Raganall and Antoinette Cieslak.

On the esquire side Michael Pucher served as best man. The guests were seated by Gale Hargrave, brother of the bridegroom. John McCrae and Alexander Clark III.

An evening reception was held at Hillcrest Country Club. Following an eastern honeymoon, the couple will live temporarily in Newport, R. I., where Mr. Hargrave will complete his studies at the U. S. Naval Candidate School.

Offer Aid to Voters

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Clarkson Area Junior Chamber of Commerce will provide free transportation and baby sitting services in an effort to get the maximum number of voters to the polls tomorrow.

Bus services will be offered between 5 and 9 p.m. Telephone requests will be taken at the township hall.

MRS. PHILIP N. HARGRAVE

Loan Aids Oxford Planning

OXFORD—This village will receive an $8,000 loan from the federal government for preliminary planning of sewage treatment facilities, the community facilities administration has announced.

Application for the loan was made in May after efforts failed in a proposal for a joint disposal system with Lake Orion.

At that time plans for a $394,000 sewer system and a $180,000 primary sewage disposal plant were tabled, pending receipt of the federal loan.

The proposed sewer system would be financed by a special assessment, and the treatment plant by a general obligation bond issue.

Tax Committee to Be at Polls

Vigilance Group Tries to Line Up Support

DETROIT (UPI)—The Vigilance Tax Committee plans to have its members out in force at the polls tomorrow, in an effort to line up signatures for petitions to outlaw city income taxes on nonresidents.

Berkley Mayor George Kuhn, chairman of the group of suburban city officials fighting Detroit's one per cent income levy on nonresidents and city-workers alike, said today he has urged some 65 members to man the polls with petitions in the metropolitan area.

The committee has obtained about 60,000 signatures but needs at least 250,000 to submit the proposal to the legislature where it convenes in January. The lawmakers would then have to outlaw the tax or place the question on a statewide referendum.

State law requires that the group line up signatures equalling eight per cent of the total vote cast for governor tomorrow. The petition has to be presented to the legislature 10 days before it convenes.

The committee has set a deadline of Nov. 15 for obtaining the needed names but Kuhn said this would be extended if necessary.

Public Education Film Slated by Scotch PTA

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A film, "Sidelines of Decisions in Public Education," will be shown at tomorrow's 8 p.m. meeting of the Scotch Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association.

Ray Young, principal, will lead a discussion following the movie in the activities room of the school, 5810 Commerce Road.

Offer Adults Chance for 'Free Education'

The chance to acquire a "free liberal education" is open to all adults in this area, according to the Oakland County coordinator for the Great Books Program.

The coordinator, Mrs. James

Worley of 2433 Ferncliff Ave., Royal Oak, said several Great Books Discussion Groups are meeting during the next two weeks throughout the area.

Among the meeting places and times for Great Books Discussion Groups are 8 p.m. today at Groves High School, Birmingham; Wednesday at Southfield High School, Southfield; and Nov. 13 at Clifford Smart Junior High School, Walled Lake.

All discussion groups meet from 8 to 10 p.m. every two weeks.

The location of any other Great Books meeting can be obtained by contacting Mrs. Worley or the public library in any community.

EASY TO JOIN

To join the tuition-free program, no special educational background is required, said Mrs. Worley.

Assumes Post With New York Boy Scouts Unit

AVON TOWNSHIP—Joseph R. Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klein, 3205 Auburn Road, today assumes his new position as scout executive of Manhattan Council, Boy Scouts of America, New York City, N. Y.

Since 1959, Klein had served as director of the Ten Mile River Scout Camps owned and operated by the Greater New York Council.

A U.S. Navy veteran, he attended Michigan State College and Notre Dame University. He resides in Huntington, N.Y.

For Church of Christ

Begins Ministry in Area

ROCHESTER—Henry J. McAdams began his ministry yesterday with the newly organized Heart of the Hills Church of Christ.

Mr. McAdams, his wife Imogene and their two children, Sherry and Michael, have moved to Rochester following a seven year ministry near South Bend, Ind.

After his graduation from seminary in 1958, Mr. McAdams ministered to the Church of Christ in Clinton, Ohio, until his move to South Bend. Both Mr. and Mrs. McAdams are graduates of the Cincinnati Bible Seminary in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Until the congregation secures a permanent minister's residence the McAdams family will be making their home at 2800 Walton Blvd.

The Heart of the Hills Church of Christ is receiving help from other Churches of Christ in the greater Detroit area and Mr. McAdams has been called to be their first located evangelist.

One Driver Hurt in Car, Truck Crash

TROY—A 47-year-old woman was critically injured at 8:45 a.m. today when the car she was driving collided with a gravel truck at the intersection of Livernois and Maple roads.

Mrs. James Huber, of 219 Cloveridge Road, was driving south on Livernois Road when her car hit a gravel truck traveling east on Maple Road.

Driver of the truck was Patrick Lee Kelly, 18, of 1505 School St., Rochester.

Mrs. Huber was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with severe head injuries. Kelly was not injured.

Police reports said Kelly and a witness agreed that the truck had the green light at the intersection.

The truck driver was not held. The accident still is being investigated, police said.

Italian Red Boss Cautious About K

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Notes from the foreign news cables:

KHRUSHCHEV CAUTION

There is no concrete sign from Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's leadership is in any danger because of his decision to withdraw Russian missiles from Cuba. But caution is one of the first laws of self-preservation in the Communist world.

And Italian Communist boss Palmiro Togliatti, one of the smartest men in the international

Communist movement, is exercising that faculty rather well.

Togliatti does not seem to be so sure that Khrushchev will remain in power for long after the Cuban setback, and has been remarkably silent on the issue.

The day after Khrushchev agreed to the withdrawal, Togliatti actually refused to comment. The Italian Communist party directorate praised the whole Russian-Cuban deal. But all Togliatti indulged himself in then was to say: "We are satisfied with the solution of the Cuban crisis."

Togliatti finally commented on Cuba by week's end in an article in the party magazine Rinnovamento. His words still were guarded and his praise was for the "Soviet Union" rather than Khrushchev himself.

CONTRASTING STAND

His guarded attitude is in contrast to his belligerent stand at the peak of the crisis when he bombarded the Rome government with personal statements and parliamentary interjections.

Those who know Togliatti believe his current cautiousness does not necessarily indicate disapproval of the way things have gone on Cuba.

But rather they consider it reflects his feeling that Khrushchev's position is weakened and that it may be unwise to say "bravo" to a man who might lose his job.

There could be some clue to that this week, when the Communist hierarchy celebrates the anniversary of the Bolshevik "October Revolution." The influx of top world Communist leaders to Moscow indicates that Khrushchev may be at some pains to explain his Cuban moves and motives.

RUSSIAN SUBMARINES

Military sources in Tokyo say the Russians have added as many as a dozen submarines and a number of surface vessels to their Far Eastern fleet in recent weeks.

The reason: the Russians must monitor their own rocket tests in the Pacific and take on the additional chore of spying on the U. S. nuclear tests at Johnston Island and the U. S. antimissile missile development program at Eniwetok Island.

FRENCH ELECTIONS

First unofficial predictions of results in the Nov. 18 and 25 French parliamentary elections are that the Communists will be among the biggest winners and President Charles de Gaulle's Union for a New Republic (UNR) Party will be the biggest single loser.

The guesses are that the Communists will gain in strength from their present 10 to 20 seats, with the radicals going from 37 to about 65, the popular Republicans (MRP) from 57 to about 75, and the Socialists and Independents making slight gains.

Believe 9 Drowned in College Regatta

TOKYO (AP) — Nine college sailors were missing and presumed drowned today after two boats disappeared in a race on turbulent Sagami Bay, southwest of Tokyo.

Ten collegians from Waseda and Keio universities were in the two boats. The body of the 10th student was recovered.

Forty-three boats competed in the race Saturday. Five finished the stormy course.

Police Dept. Move Dogged

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Unless police officials find a better solution, the department may have a dog on the detective staff.

Midnight, a 3-year-old German shepherd, has lived and worked with officer Billy R. Goforth since he was a pup. The dog won't work with another officer.

Goforth has been promoted to detective and police are pondering whether to promote Midnight too.

To Question Alan Ladd on Gun Wound

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Detectives say they will question actor Alan Ladd today about how he sustained a gunshot wound in the chest.

Ladd, 46, has been under sedation at Woodland Park Community Hospital since doctors removed a 38-caliber bullet from his chest Thursday night.

The actor was wounded at his Hidden Valley ranch home. Sheriff's Sgt. Bill Cox said evidence indicates the shooting was accidental.

Ladd's physician, Dr. Donald McGillivray, said the actor was in "very grave" condition for a time, but that he is now "out of the woods."

Ladd's wife, former actress Sue Carol, said the actor told her he was awakened by what he thought was a prowler. He got up and picked up the gun, but doesn't remember what happened afterward, she said.

Diverse County Offices Challenge to UF Drive

Oakland County government employees, numbering 1,700, present an interesting challenge to Fred V. Haggard, chairman of the 1962 Pontiac Area United Fund Drive.

"That this challenge is being met," he says, "is shown in the consistent increase, year after year, in the amounts contributed by the county employees."

"In 1961, county government employees exceeded their quota by 36 per cent."

To win contributions from all employees, UF solicitors must contact employees in 300 job classifications spread out over 39 departments.

For the last several years, the United Fund office has assisted the county by holding a special training session for the county government's solicitors.

"This has paid off in assembling a corps of experienced and enthusiastic solicitors," says UF director Karl Bradley.

"They know their product, understand their clientele, and have answers to just about all of the reasons which can be advanced for not contributing."

This training and experience are necessary in tailoring the appeals to the particular type of persons employed in various county departments, Bradley says.

The employees, he adds, range from professional personnel, specialists and skilled technicians to the typist fresh out of high school.

The personnel division of the County Board of Auditors, Bradley said, has through the years tried a number of novel approaches to encourage UF giving, such as noting individual solicitors in an honor roll after the drive is completed.

On two occasions, the personnel division sponsored an employees' dance, named the "Torchlighters' Ball," the profits of which were donated to the United Fund.

Police Chief Drives Into Hot Water

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Rita Jensen, 28, flunked a driver's test before thousands of television viewers last week and her hometown police chief, Palle Hoelbye, took away her license.

Today, coupled with an announcement the case will be raised in Parliament, Denmark's largest newspaper "Berlingske Tidende" demanded the chief take a driving test because he committed two traffic violations yesterday during a visit to the Jutland town of Fredericia.

Acting on complaints from Fredericia citizens, the newspaper asked Hoelbye if he had entered a one-way street from the wrong end and parked his car where private parking is banned.

The chief was quoted as saying "yes, but I didn't hit anybody." The newspaper noted that neither had Miss Jensen in her televised test, part of a traffic safety series. She had turned into the wrong lane of a two-way road, passed a car improperly and turned left when told to go right.

M. P. Erik Ninn-Hansen said Parliament will be asked to determine whether Miss Jensen received "fair play." She was promised "immunity" if her television performance was less than perfect, he said.

Free Dress OK if He's Insured

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I had a date with a young man last evening. Getting out of his car, I caught my dress on a loose piece of chrome and tore quite a good-sized piece out of my dress. He has offered to give me the money to buy a new one. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to accept this.

A: If the damage to your dress is covered by the young man's automobile insurance, you may accept the price of a new one from the company, but it would be improper to let him give it to you.

Q: Last week I had a birthday and my boy friend surprised me by giving me an engagement ring. It was sooner than I had expected to get it. We cannot be married until next year and I would rather have my parents wait for awhile to announce the engagement in the newspaper. Will it put the ring away until they make the announcement?

A: If you wear the ring, it will certainly announce to all those who see it that you are engaged. If you don't want friends to know just yet, you can wear your ring on a thin, inconspicuous cord around your neck or pinned securely out of sight inside your dress.

Q: I would like to know what is the proper way for a gentleman to hold a door open for a lady he is with when the door opens out (away from them). Should he go through the door first and stand and hold it open for her, or merely push the door open while he remains inside, letting her go first?

A: If he can easily push the door open and hold it for her without getting in her way as she goes through, this is the simplest and correct thing to do. Otherwise he would say, "Excuse me," through the door first and hold it open for her.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Wedding Expenses," answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

NEW YORK UPI — When packing for a trip, include a small plastic bottle of prepared liquid jewelry cleaner. Use it to give your diamond ring a facial and to brighten metal in other pieces of jewelry dulled by constant wear.

Robert J. Eversons on Honeymoon Trip

The Robert John Eversons, who were wed Saturday evening in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, are spending this week in Chicago, en route to their new home in Grand Rapids.

A church reception followed the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Theodore Albebach.

The former Janet Lee Deem is the daughter of the Roy R. Deems of Sheridan Drive. Mrs. Bert Everson of East Beverly Street and Bert Everson of Cleveland are the bridegroom's parents.

A round pearly necklace accented the bride's gown of white brocaded satin, styled with chapel train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was secured by a pearl headpiece and a cattleya orchid centered her cascade bouquet of white Stephanotis.

Sarah Deem, her sister's maid of honor, and their cousin, Mrs. Daniel Sanders, who was bridesmaid, appeared in gold satin dresses and matching hats. They held cascades of yellow, bronze and white chrysanthemums. Betsy VanderZee, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl.

Mrs. Ross Tenney reported on the recent state convention at the Executive Inn, Warren.

cousins, John Aitken, Detroit, and Richard Giesbach of Watford, Mich.

The bride attended Ohio University, Athens, and her husband is a graduate of University of Michigan.

Mrs. Deem wore pink roses with her green and silver brocade jacket dress. Yellow roses complemented a satin-embossed taupe dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

Epsilons See Yule Display

Members of Epsilon Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, gathered Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. N. C. VanNatta in Dearborn. Mrs. Genevieve Vant Roor was cohostess.

Christmas gifts for parents which could be made by children in the elementary grades were displayed.

Gifts for children in the Oakland County Children's Center will be brought to the December meeting in the home of Mrs. William VanderZee.

They All Wore Diving Suits

Wedding's Underwater

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Approximately 25 years ago, as a United Press reporter, I covered (from the surface) a wedding in which all participants were clad in diving suits of the bulky, weighty type with helmets and air hoses to the surface.

The ceremony took place on the floor of Green Lake in the city of Seattle. The words of the ritual, along with the bubbles, came to the surface over a loudspeaker. A crisis arose when the clergyman's vestments developed a small leak, but he managed to pronounce the happy couple man and wife before the situation became critical. I never did hear whether the marriage remained solid or was dissolved.

Sincerely,
WILFRED BROWN

DEAR ABBY: I recall reading about a couple from Atlanta, Georgia, who fell in love while diving, and wanted to be married under water.

They had their underwater wedding, but the Methodist bishop of Atlanta thought they should take the plunge in a more "terrestrial" atmosphere, so he married them again, on land, the same day.

MIKE N.
DEAR ABBY: On March 8th, 1964, Bob Smith married Mary Beth Sanger at the Aquarena in San Marcos, Texas.

This was, I am sure, the first underwater wedding on record. The bride's flowers, gown and veil had been water-proofed and so had the groom's tuxedo. Even the wedding cake and Bible were under water, so I suppose they were also water-proofed.

They had bridesmaids and ushers just like a dry land wedding. The only difficult part was that they all had to have 25 pound weights in their shoes to keep from floating around.

READ ABOUT IT
DEAR ABBY: I am 10 years old and want to get married on the moon. Do you think they will have a rocket ship that will get to the moon by the time I am old enough to get hitched?

NEAL S.
DEAR NEAL: Hitch your wagon to a star, son. Your chances are good. (And if you have a sister, take her along. I understand there is a man in the moon.)

Key Suggestions

Gals: Cut Corners to Save TIME

By DR. JUNE BRICKER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The typical American housewife today is looking for short cuts because she feels she is running out of time.

Whether a woman works outside the home or not, our recent surveys show that TIME is her most precious commodity. She values it more highly as a resource than money or energy.

So what does the home economics profession have to offer that will help this woman stretch TIME?

This week in Washington, the American Home Economics Association, in a program at the National Housing Center, which also will be presented later in key cities throughout the country, will try to tell women how they can cut these time corners without really trying.

Some of the key suggestions:

DO TWO THINGS AT ONCE — This is a good way to double the value of your time, though it may require a change in your work habits.

For instance, many women today put their wash in a laundrymat while they do the shopping next door at the supermarket.

And so, why not set tomorrow's breakfast table with the clean dishes that follow tonight's kitchen cleanup? Or install an ironing board near or in the kitchen so that you can keep up with the ironing while a meal is cooking?

In Community Church

Pledge Vows at Orchard Lake

The Orchard Lake Community Church was the setting for the Saturday vows of Kathryn Lucinda Irons to Marine Lance Cpl. Siegfried Emmanuel Domurath Jr.

Kathryn Lucinda Irons and Marine Lance Cpl. Siegfried Emmanuel Domurath Jr. were wed Saturday in the Orchard Lake Community Church. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Irons and the senior Domuraths, are Orchard Lake residents.

COOK ONCE, EAT TWICE

Why not cook two meals at the same time? Half of the meal goes on the table tonight and the other half goes into the freezer for another day. Home economists know that it takes little more time and energy to prepare a double quantity than to cook half as much. For reheating, one short-cut method is to line the pan with metal foil, fold up the unused half of the food for freezing, then put back in the same pan to thaw out and heat at a later date.

ELIMINATE ESSENTIALS — But this is a matter of personal taste. Basically, it boils down to this: You in your own home might want to take the short-cut and use paper place mats, your neighbor may feel that real linen on the table is absolutely essential.

If you really want to cut corners, modern products, many developed through home economics research, make it possible to eliminate such time-consuming duties as: DRYING DISHES — The new detergents will do that for you.

MOST IRONING — The combination of the new "wash and wear" textiles and the tumble action of the automatic dryers give you clothes and linens that can be used just as they come from the dryer.

MOST MENDING — Nylon reinforcement of socks, for instance, has eliminated much of the old task of darning socks.

And now for bed-making, sheets with fitted corners have cut down considerably on the motions needed to make an average bed.

Just as important, be sure and analyze your own home so that you know where the work is coming from. Why does the dirt blow in?

A well seeded lawn and a sidewalk can cut down dust that may be seeping in through your windows and doors.

Different kinds of blankets may reduce the amount of lint that is settling on your floors and furniture.

Proper ventilation in the kitchen may help eliminate grease on walls and floors. The right kinds of wall-to-wall carpeting and floorcover will sharply cut down on floor care.

A beaded satin pillowbox and shoulder veil of silk illusion complemented the bride's sheath gown of white rose point lace over satin. She wore short white lace gloves and carried a cascade of white roses and Stephanotis.

Ann Janeway of Rochester, who was maid of honor, wore American Beauty silk brocade and matching headpiece. Her bouquet was Elegance carnations.

Seating guests at their sister's wedding were Edgar T. Irons, Princeton, N.J., and William H. Irons, Orchard Lake.

The bride attended the University of Michigan where she affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. Her husband was enrolled at Ferris Institute. They are en route to Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., where the bridegroom is stationed at the Marine Missile Base.

Let Him Hold Grudge, He'll Get Over It

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My 11-year-old grandson holds grudges. When he answers the telephone, he is barely civil to me and hardly speaks to me when I am at his house. He has held this grudge against me ever since I had to remove him for taking a neighbor's rowboat out on the lake this summer.

He doesn't know anything about boats and took it without asking permission...

ANSWER: Why do you want to take his grudge away from him if he wants to keep it?

He's angry at you. He'll get over it if you don't interfere with his anger.

But if you make him feel mean and bad and "unforgiving" for feeling it, he may not get over it. Your reproachful behavior will compel him to defend and nourish it.

IT'S HIS BUSINESS
His anger is his business. Let him mind it.

Your business is telling him why you didn't want him to take the neighbor's boat out on the lake. Have you given him the true reasons?

Maybe you haven't. Maybe you just said, "You mustn't take that boat again because I have to preserve your safety." If so, I expect it was not the whole truth.

If you're like the rest of us, I expect you felt obliged to preserve not only your grandson's safety, but your unending relationship with your neighbor.

You were as interested in your own safety as you were in his. And that's just fine.

We have every right to be interested in our safety as well as in children's. The trouble is, we don't say so. We claim pure philanthropy as our reason for reproving their misbehavior as though their good behavior did not benefit us.

RESENT PRETENSES
They naturally resent this self-righteous pretense of anti-septic devotion — and will begin to express their distrust of us in the form of "grudges."

So, if you want to help get things straight between you and this grandson, I suggest that you tell him your true reasons for reproving him this summer.

Though the child guidance experts promote the idea of "explaining" our behavior to children, they neglect to tell us what kind of "explanation" works.

The only kind that ever works is the true one that reveals us to the child as a human being who was confused, hurt, angry, frightened or discouraged.

Unfortunately, most of us understand "explanations" to a resentful child as self-justification. So he despises what we have to say.

PERRY PHARMACY MEDICAL MIRROR

Pica Complex And Unexplained

Q. Why do some children eat dirt? Is there something in dirt that they need?

A. It is natural to assume that the abnormal craving for unusual food (the medical term for this condition is "pica") is due to a lack of something in the diet. Doctors who studied a large number of children with pica concluded that iron deficiency might be the most important single cause. To test this theory the children were given large doses of iron by injection. They went right on eating dirt, chalk, plaster, and what-have-you. The case of pica, like the cause, seems very complicated, and neither has been solved.

Fried Foods

Q. I have a stomach (peptic) ulcer. My doctor advises that I avoid fried foods but he didn't explain why. Can you?

A. The heating of fats, as in frying, causes chemical changes in the fats that increase in degree the higher the temperature. Frying may raise the temperature to a point where the fat is "polymerized," with consequent loss of digestibility. Unsaturated fatty acids may also be destroyed and irritant substances formed. Hard-to-digest foods should, of course, be avoided by persons with stomach ulcer.

Blame Federal Government - Crane

'American Spirit Dying'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE: N-467; Powell R., aged 33, is a patriotic history teacher. "Dr. Crane," he protested, "isn't our federal government becoming an ogre?"

"Our founding fathers expected us citizens to look after ourselves. Uncle Sam was simply to oversee or supervise our efforts."

"But now Uncle Sam is gobbling up the rights of the states and trying to make us bow down toward the East, almost like the Mohammedans."

"What's the answer? Are we heading into a dictatorship and thus losing those wonderful freedoms our forefathers tried to guarantee for us?"

JOSEPH OF EGYPT
When Biblical Joseph became prime minister of Egypt, he stored the surplus grain during the 7 years of plenty.

Then came famine. The hungry Egyptians begged for help from their central government.

Joseph took their money.

DR. CRANE

Next year he traded wheat for all their cattle.

The third year he confiscated their land and made them slaves to Pharaoh.

Then Joseph moved the people off the farms and into vast housing projects in the cities.

But he was a benevolent dictator, for he later decided to levy only a 20 per cent tax on all the people.

The Bible says the ancient Hebrews gave a tithe of 10 per cent to Jehovah for all of his bountiful blessings. But Joseph doubled that 10 per cent and collected 20 per cent for Pharaoh.

ONE BETTER

Uncle Sam, however, is going Joseph one better. For Uncle Sam starts with a minimum 20 per cent income tax and then zooms it up to about 30 per cent.

When the government owns and operates the agencies for production and transportation, that is socialism.

When it also owns our land, including our houses and gardens, that is Russian communism.

Joseph changed Egypt from a "free enterprise" country into communism.

And Egypt never amounted to a hill of beans thereafter. It was through as a world power.

For when people are denied the full rights to the new inventions or products which they sacrifice to create, incentive is killed.

It was "free enterprise" incentive that produced Eli Whitney's cotton gin, plus the Singer sewing machine, as well as the Bell telephone.

the Morse telegraph, the Ford automobile, plus the thousands of other luxuries that made our American standard of living higher than any other on this planet Earth.

INCENTIVE STIFLED

Now our American incentive is being stifled. Brainy men are wasting their time viewing yesterday instead of tomorrow!

They must piddle around keeping exhaustive records of past expenditures for the sake of income tax. Executive geniuses are being driven out of our factories and stores to retire early because we have little incentive left in America.

Florida and California are gutted with brilliant minds that should be in the harness if we are to stay ahead of Russia as regards invention and manufacturing.

It still isn't too late to restore America to her lofty position of world leadership! But you must vote for patriots instead of pussy-footers and pinkos.

Send for my booklet, "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Quit quibbling about old-fashioned differences between Democrats vs. Republicans. All patriots should now unite to support American ideas vs. decadent Europeanisms.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a 6-cent stamp, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover printing and postage costs for one of his booklets.

Philatheans Meet at Davison Church

Nineteen Philatheans of the First Baptist Church were entertained by the First Baptist Church at Davison Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Q. O. Wideman, who was re-elected state president, and Mrs. William Carls, service chairman, were installed.

Rev. Robert Shelton of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac was the speaker.

Twenty years ago a group of ranchers banded together to produce the first Embs natural mutation mink pelts. The result was this first coat, which was sold at a benefit auction in New York for $18,000. Shown with Robin Chandler modeling the "silver-blu" coat at the auction are Jack Benny (left) and Danny Kaye. The Embs Mink Breeders Association this month celebrates its 20th anniversary, and has become the largest fur organization in the world with over 5,000 member-ranchers in 40 states.

Save Laundry Rules

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — When I purchase a garment, such as a dress, which has a tag on it telling material content and giving washing instructions, I hang the tag on the hanger with the dress. After it is worn, I always return the garment to the same hanger. When I am ready to launder it, washing instructions are right there.

JUDY

Good idea. But we use the dress that gets on the wrong hanger!

Wedding Performed at 5 Points

Rev. Gordon Lindsay officiated at the marriage of Nancy Steve Catzmadia to Darrell Larry DeLongchamps Saturday evening in the Five Points Community Church.

The bride is the daughter of Steve Catzmadia of Third Avenue and the late Mrs. Catzmadia. The Russell DeLongchamps of Whittemore Street are the bridegroom's parents.

Bouffant French illusion veiling attached to a Swedish crown of pearls and sequins fell over the bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle. The tiered skirt swept into a chapel train. Her bouquet included white roses, carnations and ivy.

Rose Catzmadia, her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Norm Crabb, bridesmaid, wore red chiffon over tulle. Their hats of white fur matched their muffs which were bordered with red carnations.

Norm Crabb performed the duties of best man and William Amy seated the guests.

Members of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epitola Sigma Alpha International Sorority gathered Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Albert H. Anselmi on Deer Run Drive, White Lake Township.

Mrs. Arthur Thornton, assisted by Mrs. Donald Anderson, gave a demonstration of woolen apparel.

Guests from sister chapter Beta Mu were Mrs. Lawrence Hartman and Mrs. Fred Vollrath.

Norris-Underwood Vows Spoken in Candlelight

Candlelight vows of Susan Kay Underwood and James Lee Norris were spoken before Rev. Robert Shelton Friday evening in the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the bridal couple are the George H. Underwoods of Hatcherwood Road and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Norris of Elizabeth Lake Road.

White, translucent orchids and Stephanotis nestled on the small white Bible held by the bride who chose a gown of white Chantilly-type lace over tulle, styled with sweep train. Her waterfall-type silk illusion veil was secured by a pearl and crystal headpiece.

Attendants were street-length Bahama blue velvet sheath dresses with satin overskirts, and matching pillbox hats. Mrs. Robert Murphy, her sister's matron of honor, carried white carnations and pink miniature rosebuds. The bride's sister Joan, and Judy Wallace, who were bridesmaids, carried pink carnations.

Bari Haddad, junior attendant, wore floor-length white lace over tulle and a veiled crystal headpiece. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Best man was Robert Murphy, with Robert Knauf, Oxford, and Fred Elvey serving as groomsmen. Ushers were Terry Sandage, Gene McLain, Robert Peterson and Stephen McGlothlin. James Underwood carried the rings.

The couple left for northern Michigan honeymoon after greeting some 350 guests in the church parlors. They will live on South Johnson Avenue.

Pouch Pants the Ultimate

Now—the ultimate in golf shorts for milady. The pants have a built-in toe pouch, pencil holder, towel rack and, aft on one leg, a zipper compartment for golf balls!

The serious golfer doesn't sit during the pursuit of excellence, so no problem's anticipated in connection with the lumpy effect of golf balls in one's rear pocket.

Wilma Donaldson, designer for Queen Casuals, said the utilitarian design is in response to demand from the females, who rally 'round the tee.

Nurses Needed by AF

The United States Air Force is currently on the lookout for registered nurses who can qualify for duty with the United States Air Force. These nurses are needed to fill many vacancies in Air Force hospitals throughout the United States and many foreign countries.

In this program the interested nurse who qualifies is sent to Gunter AFB, Montgomery, Alabama, for a short orientation course, from there she is sent to her base for duty.

Probably the most popular item that is furnished to the Air Force nurse is right white duty uniforms. Not only does the Air Force furnish these white duty uniforms, they also provide free laundry card. The care of nursing uniforms to the lay person may sound like a very minor point. But considering the number of days on duty per year and the average cost of laundering one uniform, the cost is a considerable amount of money.

The majority of appointments made to qualified nurses is in the grade of second lieutenant. However, ranks up to and including captain are not too uncommon, depending on experience and education.

The minimum tour of duty is for two years, and most nurses are not transferred after their first assignment. Sergeant Charles A. Ahnen, whose office is located at 534 W. Huron St., Pontiac, is the Nurse Corps representative in this area. He will be glad to answer any and all inquiries on the nurse program.

Inanimate Pals for the Busy Homemaker

One of the best inanimate friends a homemaker can have is a rolling cart for transporting heavy or unwieldy cleaning equipment from room to room as she goes about her chores.

One convenient type which eliminates lifting and carrying is a floor-level masonite platform designed to accommodate a large pail of suds, containers of soap and detergent, sponges, brushes, and a d other cleaning supplies and tools.

The rolling cart with a long, easy-grip handle, is particularly helpful for infirm homemakers and expectant mothers.

Special Spot for Beauty Care

Try Cabinet in Kitchen

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

How many women have a spot of their very own at home?

Few have a bathroom which is exclusively theirs. Their dressing table may be shared with or raided by a daughter and every bathroom is as crowded as Grand Central station during the early morning rush for work and school.

A spot which is yours alone, no matter how small it is or how beetle the rest of the family may become, is a real treat. Have you ever thought that the best solution is a beauty cabinet in the kitchen?

This may sound like a mad idea at first but it really is extremely practical.

With a kitchen beauty cabinet you will never greet your family at breakfast without lipstick. You can escape the family rush in the morning and make yourself pretty while the coffee perks and the egg water heats.

QUICK REPAIRS

Such a cabinet is wonderful for quick repairs in the midst of work, when the doorbell rings unexpectedly and also when you are entertaining at dinner.

While you are getting dessert and coffee ready you can touch up your face without taking time to go elsewhere in the house to do so.

A steel cabinet is probably the best kind to use. It is inexpensive and easy to install. These steel cabinets come in an assortment of sizes and shapes, and can even fit into corners.

They also have a variety of finishes so you can find one that will be in keeping with your decor.

If you try a kitchen beauty cabinet, don't clutter it up with items you only use once in a while.

USEFUL ITEMS

You will need:

(1) A mirror which can be attached to the inside of the steel door with adhesive picture hangers.

(2) A couple of lipsticks; one tending toward pink or clear red and the other with some coral, to match whatever you happen to be wearing.

(3) A comb; to flick you hair into place in a hurry.

(4) Powder and a couple of puffs.

(5) An emery board to quickly repair a jagged nail.

(6) Colorless nail polish to temporarily mend a broken nail or catch a run in your stocking the moment it starts.

(7) Cologne, to make you feel fresh and to banish food odors.

(8) Hair spray, to perk up your coiffure after the more strenuous last minute chores are done.

(9) AND, of course, hand lotion, several bottles, to use many times daily.

Little tricks such as this cabinet save women so much time and make it possible for them to be attractive with the least effort.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "The Married Woman," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 62 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. Tomorrow: "Matronly Look of Waist is Easiest to Overcome."

A small cosmetic cabinet right in the kitchen, provides an ideal spot for quick touch-up.

Gourd Fans Get Briefing for Harvest

Backyard gardeners harvesting ornamental gourds, hear this:

Gourds must be handled carefully. Bruising causes discoloration and often lets decay set in.

After gathering, wash the gourds with disinfectant to decrease molding.

Put gourds in an open mesh sack, such as an onion sack, and hang in a cool, dry, well-ventilated room. Don't let them freeze during this drying period.

After curing, which usually takes several weeks, the gourd will be lighter in weight and color. For a sure test of curing, shake the gourd. If the seeds rattle, it's cured.

Depending on individual artistic tastes, gourds can be waxed, shellacked or colored.

Sour Milk Silver

Silverware soaked in sour milk, for several hours and then washed, rinsed and dried will have a brighter, sparkling gleam.

PTA Bake Sale Set

The Emerson PTA will hold a bake sale at the school Tuesday from 8:30 a.m. until the voting polls close. The sale is open to the public.

Social Equality Eyed in Economic Push

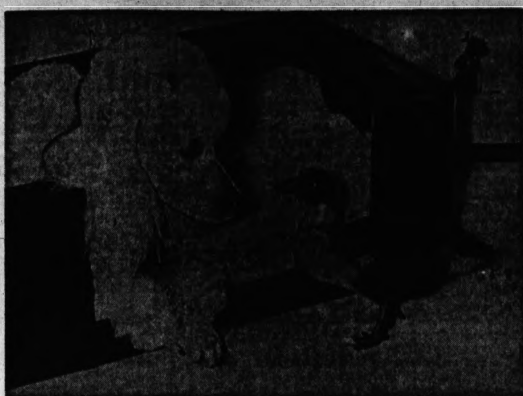

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "We can't have economic equality if people are not socially equal," a member of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity said here Saturday.
If one way to high executive position and responsibility is to be a country club member, then that membership should be available to everyone," John G. Feild added in an address before the Michigan Conference for Human Relations Commissioners.
Feild predicted that if "certain, true progress" is not made through human relations groups, such "unpleasant tactics" as sit-ins, ride-ins and swim-ins will increase.

Radio City Builder Dies

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — John Lowry, 79, a builder who constructed Radio City Music Hall and other New York City landmarks, died Saturday after a brief illness. He was board chairman of John Lowry, Inc., a firm he headed for 55 years during which it erected more than 600 buildings. He was born in New York City.

British Poet Expires

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Hodgson, 91, noted British poet, died Saturday after a long illness. Hodgson, who was awarded the gold medal for poetry from Queen Elizabeth in 1964, was born in Yorkshire, England.

WELL, WHAT THE—? — June-Je, the pet poodle of Mrs. Francis Switzer of Dearborn, found a wild duckling recently and brought it home. At first, the two were on good terms, but the duck has taken a liking to dog food and began biting the poodle.

Finance Minister Dead

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Hans R. Knudsen, 66, Danish minister of finance, died Sunday of a heart attack. Knudsen, a Socialist, previously had served as minister of the interior.

Is There a Wedding?

I am sure that Democrats, Independents and Republicans are interested in what appears to have been a wedding between the Commissioner from District 1 and the press. Could it be that in as much as both have declared their support for Mr. Romney, the leadership that was once lacking of the Commissioner from District 1 as has been charged by the press, has now been forgiven and forgotten? Why?

LINWOOD L. FLACK JR.

We wonder why no mention has been published regarding the frequent visits of Mr. Romney to the home of the Commissioner of District 1, is the rumor true that if Mr. Romney is elected Governor, the commissioner will be given personal favors? If so, what about the welfare of the rest of the citizens in his district? The press has always contended the Commissioner from District 1 has not and cannot give leadership to his district, the city, and Oakland county citizens. This now has taken a twist to the effect that by associating with Mr. Romney all is well. Thousands of us know better, and now that this relationship has been established between the press, Mr. Romney and the Commissioner from District 1, we will cast our vote for Governor Swanson, his team and leadership.

Llewellyn L. Flack Jr.

Cuba Paper Admits U2 Pilot Shot Down

HAVANA (UPI) — The Havana newspaper Revolution said today that Cuban antiaircraft batteries shot down U.S. Air Force Maj. Rudolph Anderson Jr., "while spying over Cuba" in a U2 plane. It was the first Cuban admission that Anderson's plane was actually shot down by Cuban weapons. The statement was accompanied by eight photos of the wreckage of the plane, taken "somewhere in the western part of Cuba."

Fans of Notre Dame Vacationing in Miami

MIAMI (UPI) — A train arrived here last night carrying 900 frolickers wearing green hats and singing the Notre Dame fight song. Charles Logan, secretary of the group, said they knew they were three years early for the University of Miami-Notre Dame game but explained that the Notre Dame fans of Philadelphia "just wanted a vacation."

Severed End of Girl's Nose Is Restored

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A grafting operation restored the end of a 9-year-old girl's nose after it had been severed for five hours, the Belgrade newspaper Politika reports.

The child was injured when she ran into a scythe a laborer was carrying over his shoulder.

Her father, cutting grass nearby, picked up the child and the end of her nose and carried them to a hospital in Banjaluka, Bosnia.

The father kept wetting the piece of nose he carried in his handkerchief in fountains and streams along the road, Politika said.

The chief surgeon said the principal reason the operation was successful was that the father had refreshed the tissue periodically.

Raccoon Runs Riot, Community Sees Red

MEAFORD, Ontario (AP) — A small raccoon wandering into this town Sunday night had caused a lot of excitement. One woman reported the animal was covered in blood.

A policeman investigated and found an irate painter who said the raccoon had knocked over a can of red paint.

News of Service Personnel

Two Pontiac men are being re-assigned to new bases to attend technical training courses following completion of United States Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

LODICO JR. VASSLER

They are Airman Basic Jerome Lodico Jr., whose guardians are Mr. and Mrs. Rudy E. Ecklund, 4074 Irwindale Drive, Waterford Township, and Airman Basic Peter S. Vassler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Jennett Jr., 1790 Beverly Road, Orchard Lake.

Airman Lodico will attend a course for wire communications maintenance specialists at Sheppard AFB, Tex. He is a graduate of Waterford Township High School.

Airman Vassler will attend a course for radio and radar maintenance specialists at Keesler AFB, Miss. He is a graduate of West Bloomfield High School, Orchard Lake.

Army Pvt. Donald F. Pennell, son of Mrs. Lorraine M. Smith, 1018 Shuman St., Waterford Township, completed advanced individual artillery training as a cannoneer at the Artillery and Missile Center, Ft. Sill, Okla., late in October.

Pennell entered the Army in June and received basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. He attended Pellston High School.

Airman Basic Charles R. Gress, son of Mrs. Emma J. Gress of 300 Lowell St., is being reassigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for technical training as a United States Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

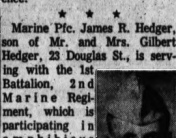

GRESS

Airman Gress, who completed the first phase of his military training at Lackland AFB, Tex., was selected for the specialized course on the basis of his interests and aptitudes. He is a graduate of Pontiac Northern High School.

Marine Pfc. Bruce W. Helme, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helme, 180 W. Colgate Ave., completed a course in the duties of scouting and patrolling at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The three-week course covered map and aerial photograph reading, survival and nighttime operations. Helme also received instruction through the classroom, demonstrations and field experience.

HELMER

Marine Pfc. James R. Hedger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hedger, 23 Douglas St., is serving with the 1st Marine Battalion, 2nd Marine Regiment, which is participating in amphibious training exercises in the Mediterranean area.

The regiment, reinforced by other units of the 2nd Marine Division, is embarked in the ships of Amphibious Squadron 4. The units deployed from Camp Lejeune, N. C., in September and are expected to return to the United States in February 1963.

Ole Miss Officials
Expell 4 Students

OXFORD, Miss. (UP) — Four students were expelled from the University of Mississippi this weekend for possession of weapons and explosives.

The action was taken by university officials following a crack-down on students participating in the sporadic demonstrations which occurred here since Negro James H. Meredith was admitted Oct. 1.

The students, who were not identified, were expelled for "possession of dangerous weapons, possession and use of dangerous explosives, drunkenness and fighting."

Powerful Rendition

WORSBROUGH, England (UP) — The St. Thomas' Church choir was singing Handel's "Messiah" yesterday and had reached the chorus "For behold, darkness shall cover the earth" when all the lights went out because of a power failure.

13 States Set to Vote on Reapportionment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislative reapportionment, triggered by a U.S. Supreme Court ruling this spring, moves from the courtroom to the election booth in 13 states Tuesday.

While congressional and gubernatorial races catch most of the attention, voters will be making decisions regarding the makeup of their state legislatures in these states: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington and West Virginia.

MOSTLY URBAN GAINS

Most of the proposals would give urban or suburban areas a bigger and sometimes commanding voice in at least one of the branches of state legislatures. But voters in Nebraska, Oregon and West Virginia are being asked to solidify or increase rural strength in the statehouse.

In past cases the referendum and constitutional amendments being voted on were in the works before the Supreme Court ruled last March that legislative apportionment is a legitimate matter for federal courts to consider. That ruling touched off some 70 lawsuits across the nation, most of them aimed at breaking rural control of the legislatures.

DIRECT TEST

Some of the elections, like the key test in Florida, are a direct result of the ruling.

A three-judge federal court in Florida found that the present apportionment violated the rights of city dwellers because urban legislators represented far more voters than their country cousins.

The legislature came up with a plan which the judges approved and which Florida voters will decide on Tuesday. It increases the House from 95 to 135 and the Senate from 35 to 45 with most of the new seats going to urban areas.

PROPOSALS CONSIDERED

These are the proposals placed before the voters in other reapportionment elections around the nation:

CALIFORNIA — An increase in the state Senate from 40 to 50 with most new seats going to large population centers.

COLORADO — Two plans, which may require a court ruling if both are approved. One would give the Denver area four more senators and split House districts into roughly equal population areas. The other would create a three-man commission to enforce apportionment after every census, but would permit a variation of 33 per cent or more in the population of House districts.

COUNTY-WIDE PLAN

GEORGIA — The Senate reapportioned itself at the direction of a federal court, but checked to the U.S. Supreme Court. It would permit all the representatives of one county to be chosen on a county-wide basis. At present they must be chosen by districts within the county, a situation which has led to the probability that a Negro will be elected to one of Atlanta's seven Senate seats.

HAWAII

A constitutional amendment changing the boundaries of two legislative districts. MISSISSIPPI — Increases Senate from 49 to 82, leaves House at 140, but redraws district lines. Net effect: Stronger rural control of Senate, increased—but not majority—urban strength in House.

URBAN WEAKENING

NEBRASKA — Would make area a factor in apportioning nation's only one-house legislature, thus weakening urban representation. At present population is the guide set forth in the state constitution, though city folks protest it has not been followed.

NORTH CAROLINA — Requires automatic reapportionment of the House after every census, but under the present constitutional formula which favors rural areas.

OKLAHOMA

Would give a commission powers to enforce reapportionment under the present constitution, which would give urban voters a bigger voice in the house.

LIKE NEBRASKA

OREGON — Like Nebraska's, the proposal would add area to the present standard of population in drawing legislative districts, giving rural elements increased relative standing.

TENNESSEE — Calls for a constitutional convention in 1965 to consider present apportionment formula.

WASHINGTON — Would realign districts in both houses to increase urban representation.

WEST VIRGINIA — Would make constitution conform with what the state legislators have been doing since 1901—giving every county—regardless of population—a seat in the House. Present constitution, if followed, would combine smaller counties into districts, giving urban counties more relative strength.

Party Chiefs See Victory at Polls—Natch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairmen of the Republican and Democratic national committees did the expected today. They predicted their parties would be the voters' choice in Tuesday's election.

The GOP chairman, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, predicted Republican victories at every level, particularly gubernatorial, and substantial gains in Congress. He did not say if he thought his party would wrest control of the House from the Democrats.

The Democratic chairman, John M. Bailey, was more restrained in his forecast. He said he was confident the voters would favor "moving forward" with the Democrats. He mentioned no specific gains in either Congress or the governor's mansions while predicting a record mid-term vote.

To Study Cheeses

ROME (AP) — Dairy economic experts met Monday at U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization headquarters to study the world outlook for dairy products in the 1960s.

Rocky Fights Dem on TV

Morgenthau Joins In on Face-to-Face Talk

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nelson A. Rockefeller and Robert Morgenthau exchanged angry charges yesterday in their only face-to-face debate in the campaign for governor of New York.

The candidates met on a television question-and-answer session.

But it developed into a finger-waving, raised-voice hassle that had both men glaring at each other before it was over.

Morgenthau, the Democratic challenger, accused his incumbent Republican opponent of being a part-time governor and criticized his record in the areas of rent control, education and unemployment.

HITS STATEMENTS

The governor retorted that he was pained that Morgenthau "should continue in this debate here . . . the same kind of misinformation and inaccurate statements which he has been using in the campaign."

Rockefeller said Morgenthau's "day to day disregard of the facts" was the reason he had declined to debate the former U.S. attorney who gave up his job to run for the governor's seat.

Rockefeller charged that the Democratic state program which Morgenthau espoused would cost more than $3 billion and require new taxes.

The governor said he had put the state on a sound fiscal basis with his pay-as-you-go tax step.

Morgenthau branded as "absolute bunkum," Rockefeller's pledge not to raise taxes adding, "we pay and he goes — to Washington."

Two Presidents suffered partial loss of sight, Theodore Roosevelt lost an eye in a boxing mishap, and Woodrow Wilson was almost blind in an eye from a hemorrhage.

Rockefeller Makes Point, Morgenthau Listens

Handling of Congress

Will Kennedy Change His Ways?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The most interesting result of Tuesday's elections should be the effect—if any — on President Kennedy's handling of Congress the next two years.

For three reasons:
1. It's been a dull campaign, without burning issues. Then the Cuban crisis snowed it out.
2. Kennedy will be laying the foundations for himself to run again in 1964.
3. The new Congress will probably be like the old: highly conservative, even though run by his own Democrats.

PREDICTIONS

Predictions run like this: The Democrats may keep their present Senate margin—64 to 36—and even pick up one or two seats; in the House—where they outnumber Republicans 283 to 179—they may lose a few seats.

That's not much change. A Senate pretty much the same and a House with just a few more Republicans won't make any noticeable difference in their attitude toward Kennedy programs.

The attitude has been strong support on foreign issues and, in this fairly prosperous society, defeats or melting down on many domestic ones.

It was easy to get the impression from Kennedy's campaign oratory that this present Congress was one of the great ones. He glossed over his defeats.

WHY MORE DEMS?

The campaign's biggest unanswered mystery, if this was such a whiz-bang Congress, was why he felt he needed even more Democrats elected.

Even though the new Congress probably will be much like the old one, Kennedy will have to examine his approach to it. The way it treats his programs may affect his own chances for re-election in 1964.

So far he has been an arm-twister to get Congress to go along with him, either by direct appeals or through his aides.

AVOIDS CONFLICT

He has deliberately avoided personal conflicts with the men thwarting him (this was former President Eisenhower's technique) and he generally refrained from broadcast appeals to get the public to pressure Congress.

If he continues to use the same mild technique the results should be about the same because the men in Congress will be pretty much the same.

More aggressive and outspoken dealings — particularly with appeals for public support — could have unpredictable results unpalatable to Kennedy who has played very careful politics.

Nixon, Brown Make Late Bids for Votes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Edmund G. Brown launched a final drive for votes today on the eve of California's crucial gubernatorial election.

Brown took off on a border-to-border "prop tour" of 11 key cities shortly after dawn while Nixon planned a night-time television appeal to be carried in five of the state's voting centers.

Nixon said last night he would use his 30-minute telecast to "take the gloves off and fight back against the personal attacks which have been made by Brown and his aides."

Brown immediately challenged him to hold a morning press conference so the people of California will have "at least 24 hours to examine his last minute panic."

"If Mr. Nixon really has something new to say — which is dubious at best—how can he be in fairness and good conscience wait until . . . nine hours before the polls open to say it?"

LONG AND LOUD

Both candidates, drawing near the end of one of the longest and loudest political campaigns in the state's history, were working as if time in planning.

every vote might be the deciding one — and indeed it might.

While the state has 7.5 million voters and tomorrow's turnout is expected to run 5.4 million, many pollsters and political experts rate the Brown-Nixon clash a tossup. Some predictions are that the final margin between them may be only 50,000 votes.

In the final weeks of the campaign which began more than a year ago with Nixon's announcement that he would run for governor, Brown and Nixon have clashed repeatedly over the issues of Cuba and communism.

Both sides have accused the other of "smeared" and have gone to court to try to stop some campaign literature.

While Nixon, who narrowly lost the presidency two years ago, endorsed President Kennedy's stand on Cuba, he argued that Brown and the Democrats have not done enough about the threat of domestic communism and that the state's civil defense preparations are lagging.

Brown replied that Nixon was trying to make Democrats appear to be less American and less anti-Communist than the Republicans. As for civil defense, the governor contended California is in the forefront in its planning.

Area Business Healthy Despite Bank Drop Off

The Pontiac area business climate continued in robust health during September despite a drop in business at banks.

The amount of banking business done through customers' accounts dropped nearly $13 million but the decline was expected since the August figure was highest in the city's history.

Elsewhere the rosy financial picture continued its pace of recent months.

Industrial payrolls were up nearly a half-million dollars over the August figure as local automotive plants swung into full scale production schedules for the 1963 models.

Gas and electrical consumption began its seasonal increase and was considerably ahead of totals for September of last year.

Bus patronage jumped some 8,000 in September with the return of student riders as area schools reopened. There were some 2,000 more September bus riders this year than last year.

Air patronage at Pontiac Municipal Airport continued to decline somewhat but a new afternoon flight schedule providing one-plane service to Cleveland is expected to reverse that trend next month.

The only major drop came in new construction. Total construction in September was some $600,000 under the preceding month and September of 1961.

This was due mainly to the lack of any major construction projects, although a permit was issued for a $300,000 nursing and convalescent home.

Home building, however, showed a decided increase over the same month a year ago.

Figures indicating business trends for September were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, the city water and inspection departments, Pontiac Post Office, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines, and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

TEHRAN, Iran (U)—Premier

Assadullah Alam today rejected criticism by the nation's mullahs—religious leaders—of the government's land reform program. He declared "We must march with the times."

At a series of meetings in mosques in Tehran, Qum and Meshed during the past two weeks, the mullahs have charged the government with ruling unconstitutionally by decree.

A particular target of their attack is the land reform scheme under which more than 2,000 peasants have become owners of land. In a radio address today Alam declared that the land reform program will be implemented "despite the landlords' intrigues."

China Calls Cuba Deal 2nd Munich

TOKYO (U)—Red China today likened the Soviet Union's agreement to remove its missile bases from Cuba to the British-French appeasement of the Nazis at Munich.

The editorial in the People's Daily, official organ of the Chinese Communist party, did not mention the Soviet Union or Premier Khrushchev by name.

But its target obviously was Khrushchev's backdown in the face of U.S. firmness.

The Cuban situation, said the editorial, is "a crisis of carrying out removal of the missiles — proposed by Russia — would be a serious violation of Cuba's sovereignty."

"The Cuban people will under no circumstances accept any infringement upon Cuba's independence and sovereignty by the United Nations or by any other foreign country," the paper said.

The editorial appeared after the Red Chinese regime brought out more than 300,000 people last night for a demonstration in front of the Cuban embassy in Peking.

And Premier Chou En-Lai in a statement said his government supports Castro's demand for American withdrawal from the Guantanamo Naval Base.

TARGET PLAIN Hong Kong's Chinese Communist newspapers also attacked Khrushchev for "selling out Cuba to the United States."

Neither Ta Kung Pao nor the new Evening Post mentioned Khrushchev by name, but their target was obvious.

"To some people," Ta Kung Pao said, "Cuba is too small a country to risk a war with the United States.

"They believed by giving Cuba to the United States they would have peace."

The new Evening Post said: "To force Cuba into surrendering to unreasonable American demands would be a short-sighted policy of appeasement." Both newspapers compared the Cuba deal to the Munich pact of 1938.

The greatest altitude at which an airplane can be seen with the naked eye is about 12,000 feet.

Monarchies Against U.A.R. in Yemen Crisis

By FAROUK NASSAR
DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A deepening crisis over Yemen threatened today to touch off a Middle East conflict pitting conservative monarchies against President Gamel Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic.

On one side are the royal shrines of Saudi Arabia and Jordan and on the other the Yemeni revolutionary regime backed by the U.A.R.

The crisis touched off by the overthrow of Yemen's ancient throne in September reached a new fever point Sunday with threats by the rebel regime to invade Saudi Arabia's main southern port of Qizan and the interior city of Najran.

Saudi Arabia and Jordan are supporting attempts by the deposed Yemeni king, Imam Mohammad Al-Badr, to regain his throne. The United Arab Republic has sent planes and tanks and perhaps 1,000 soldiers into the tiny Red Sea country to aid the revolutionary regime.

Yemeni revolutionary President Abdullah Salal voiced the invasion threat against Saudi Arabia as that country's radio claimed royalist warriors now control Yemen's entire northwest.

Communications purporting to come from Al-Badr's headquarters claimed hundreds of rebels, including many U.A.R. troops, had been killed in the fighting. The communiques said that of northern Yemen royalist forces have tightened their siege of the region's capital of Sada.

Salal disputed the claims, saying that his U.A.R.-supported army and air force crushed "a large-scale Saudi invasion" and that the entire northwest region where the fighting occurred was now "completely under republican control."

He claimed nearly 4,000 invaders were killed in four days of fighting.

In Cair, the government-owned Middle East News Agency said Yemeni tribesmen had been forced at gunpoint to join the Saudi Arabians in attacking northern Yemen. A U.A.R. military spokesman scoffed at Saudi and Jordanian radio claims of high Egyptian casualties. "We lost only two men," he said.

AT U.N. IN N.Y.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, a member of the kingdom of Yemen delegation, which is still loyal to the monarchy, said that Al-Badr's forces had captured 180 Egyptians and held all the country outside the largest towns.

A Yemeni broadcast said Salal told a crowd "unless (King) Saud calls off his anti-Yemen hostilities, and remains within his limits and among his consubines, our masses forces have orders from the Yemeni supreme command to march into Qizan and Najran and recover Yemen's stolen territory."

The late king Ibn Saud, father of the present Saudi Arabian ruler, took Qizan and Najran from Yemen in a war in the late 1920s.

Although backing a monarchist restoration, Saudi Arabia and Jordan have denied repeated charges by the revolutionary regime and the U.A.R. that they have sent troops into Yemen.

Asking Red Cross to Check Prisoners

MIAMI UP — A Cuban exile leader asked the International Red Cross yesterday to check on Cuban prisoners while inspecting Russian missile bases in Cuba.

Dr. Jose Miró Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, sent a telegram to the Red Cross officials asking them to check on treatment of the estimated 60,000 prisoners. Previous attempts to meet with the captives have been rebuffed by the Cuban government.

Three Killed at Tree Within Three Minutes

COVINGTON, Tenn. (UPI) — Albert W. Deaton, 33, and Charles S. Norville were killed yesterday when their car went out of control and hit a tree.

Four minutes later Edward C. Reeder, 36, of Eldorado, Ill., was killed when his truck hit the same tree.

New Recruiting Hours

The U.S. Navy recruiting station at 35 W. Huron St. today announced new office hours — 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Adjourn Talks at Daily News

NEW YORK UP — Negotiators attempting to settle the strike against the New York Daily News by the Newspaper Guild adjourned early today giving no indication of what progress, if any, was made.

Guild and Daily News representatives will meet again at 2 p.m. EST with Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz who has been attempting to find a way to end the strike now in its fifth day.

At 2 a.m. today weary negotiators left the hotel where the discussions were under way but refused to make any comment to newsmen.

The guild had demanded a $200-a-week top minimum for reporters and photographers, a reduction in the work week from 35 to 30 hours and other contract changes. It went on strike last Thursday against the nation's largest newspaper. The current top minimum is $108.

Contracts with the other six major daily metropolitan newspapers also expired at the same time but the guild said it would wait until settlement with the News before continuing negotiations with the others.

State Weekend Traffic Claims 13 Lives

By The Associated Press
Two unidentified persons were among the 13 who lost their lives in traffic accidents in Michigan over the weekend.

A two-car, head-on collision south of Sault Ste. Marie Friday killed two airmen stationed at Kincheloe Air Force Base in the only multiple fatality of the period.

The Associated Press weekend count began at 8 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

An unidentified woman was killed Sunday as she crossed a Detroit street. Police are looking for a convicted car thief in the hit-and-run death. Police said the man admitted fleeing the scene because he had a police record and had been drinking.

A man was burned beyond recognition Saturday when he was trapped in his flaming car after a collision on a county road four miles northeast of West Branch. Police said the car was registered to Sam Karamanos of Detroit.

A boy playing off M59 near Pontiac with his brother darted onto the highway Saturday. Paul Steven Plummer, 7, of Pontiac, was struck by a car and killed.

Frederick Lombard, 30, of Detroit, was killed Saturday while walking across a street near his home.

Mrs. Bertha Giles, 70, of Highland Park, was killed when she walked into the path of a car in Detroit.

Edward Vance, 43, of Traverse City, was killed while changing a tire Saturday on a car in which he had been riding on a county road in Wexford County. Police said a second vehicle had stopped to shine its headlights on the first car but a third vehicle struck Vance.

Mrs. Erva Martin, 64, of Plymouth was injured fatally Sunday when her car and another collided at a Wayne County intersection.

Ronald J. LaVeque, 18, of Detroit, was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding ran off M59 west of Midland and into a ditch.

Mrs. Ruby Bryant, 50, of Detroit, died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night when she was hit by a car while crossing a Detroit street.

Airman Jesus Rodriguez, 20, of San Antonio, Tex., and Airman 3. C. Leon Rogers Jr., 19, of East Chicago, Ind., were injured fatally Friday night in a two-car, head-on collision about 10 miles south of Sault Ste. Marie on U.S. 2. Both men were stationed at Kincheloe Air Force Base.

Ronald Anderson, 27, of Lansing, was killed Friday night when his motorcycle ran off a county road 10 miles north of Lansing and hit a tree.

Helen Burnett, 30, of Escanaba, was killed Friday night when she was flung from the rear seat of an auto and onto its hood. Police said the auto struck a clump of trees at high speed near Marquette.

Louis Warfield, 65, was found dead Saturday in his flaming, two-story home on Kalamazoo's South Side. Firemen said the blaze apparently started from careless smoking.

John J. Reynolds, 25, of Newport strangled Sunday when his neck was pinned to a tractor cab by a fork lift. Police said Reynolds apparently stuck his head out of the tractor cab and accidentally tripped the control which lowered the lift.

Frightening Asthma Attacks End In Minutes As New Formula Unblocks Lung Passages Fast

New Medical Formula Restores Free Breathing Without Vaccines, Shots Or Narcotics. Calms Anxiety. No Prescription Needed.

New York, N.Y. (Special) — A team of scientists has announced a new formula that stops frightening asthma attacks in minutes and unblocks lung passages fast.

Medicinal tests prove this formula promptly restores free breathing, so calms anxiety and relieves the worst symptoms of asthma — the straining for breath, the gasping, the wheezing, the terrible fear of asphyxiation. All without vaccines, painful shots or habit-forming drugs. This formula is so safe when used as directed, it can be sold without prescription in tiny tablets called BRONITIN®.

Doctors know that when asthma strikes, breathing tubes become swollen, lung passages become blocked, so air is "trapped" inside lungs and low and low oxygen can enter. Now BRONITIN®, with two asthma relieving medicines that doctors prescribe for their patients, acts quickly to open bronchial tubes and loosen the mucus that blocks lung passages. Trapped air is released and new vital oxygen enters the lungs.

The result is free breathing is restored, tension eased and so fears are calmed in minutes. So often one new look toward so much sleep.

Get BRONITIN® — available at all drug stores without prescription.

'Vows No Guarantee of K's Good Faith'

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — The Soviet Union, despite promises to tear down missile bases in Cuba, can find plenty of other ways to attack the United States, evangelist Billy Graham warned yesterday.

"These Russian promises are no guarantee the world will not be blown up," Graham told 15,000 persons who attended the first sermon in his week-long Crusade for Christ.

Hundreds of those who listened to Graham heard the sermon on exophanes in Spanish. They were part of the huge Latin American population of the El Paso area, and Juarez, Mexico, across the border.

They sat in a special section for Spanish-speaking people.

"If ever there was a time to turn to God and humble ourselves," Graham said, "it is now."

Graham, who usually warms up his audiences with a few humorous remarks, apologized.

"In light of the gravity of the world situation," he said, "somehow, I don't feel humorous today."

"Our military leaders — I talked to some as I arrived in Florida on returning from a crusade in Buenos Aires — know they are still under the Communists guns," he said.

"They know that the Communists can find plenty of other ways to attack us."

"COULD FOOL RED CROSS"

"The same crowd — the same ambassador (Adreli) Gromyko who led to the president about the missiles — can build bases underground, and I doubt if the Red Cross would know the difference."

The Red Cross International Council has been proposed as the agency to inspect Cuba for missile sites.

"What causes Gromyko to lie and Khrushchev to say 'We'll bury you,' and what causes Castro to go mad?" Graham asked.

"Sin!" he said. "The same sin that infects everybody. To eliminate it, you must be converted. You must be born again."

Graham said accepting Christ is "not just an emotional experience and it is more than just reforming."

A total of 325 persons came forward and made decisions for Christ.

Hoffa Loses in 2nd Try for Indictment Dismissal

Jury to Judge on Estes Soon

Charges of Swindling, Theft Are Involved

WASHINGTON — James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, lost today his second attempt to get dismissal of an indictment by a federal grand jury in Orlando, Fla., charging mail fraud.

The Supreme Court rejected an appeal that asserted jury officials "consciously and deliberately manipulated" the racial balance of names placed in the jury box for selection of grand jurors.

The appeal also contended there was systematic exclusion from the grand jury of "wage earners, laborers, and working men of the lower economic strata who were likely to be members of labor unions."

motivated a Florida housing development as a Teamsters' retirement haven, when it was actually privately owned.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Joseph P. Lieb in Tampa, Fla., refused to dismiss the indictment and was upheld by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, La.

On Oct. 22, 1962, the Supreme Court refused to hear another appeal by Hoffa and McCarthy which also attacked the indictment. That appeal asserted President Kennedy and other high government officials by public statements had prejudiced the grand jury.

Judge Lieb rejected this contention also, but he was upheld by the Circuit Court in New Orleans.

In Nashville, Tenn., Hoffa's $1-million conspiracy trial moved into its third week with more testimony scheduled for a former official of a trucking firm accused of paying protection money to the Teamsters boss.

TO CONTINUE QUESTIONING Hoffa's battery of attorneys were to continue to question Bertram Beveridge of Palm Beach County, Fla., former vice president of Commercial Carriers, Inc., a Detroit transport company.

Beveridge testified last week that Commercial helped set up Test Fleet, Inc., a truck leasing business here, and agreed to lease trucks from it because Commercial thought the arrangement might help cut down labor troubles.

The government contends that Hoffa and the late Owen Brennan, Teamsters vice president, collected $1,008,067 from Commercial through Test Fleet in violation of the Taft-Hartley Law.

Corporate Bonds Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporate bond prices advanced at the start of trading today. U.S. government issues were unchanged in quiet dealings over the coun-

Except for convertibles, few changes amounted to more than a point among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Convertibles showed many gains of 1 or 2. All sections started higher among the nonconvertibles.

Rails and industrials were most active. Lehigh Valley Railroad 4 1/2s series F added 1/4 at 41.

Fractional gains included Santa Fe Railroad 4s at 94 1/2, B&O Railroad 4s at 54 1/2, GE 3 1/2s at 95 1/2, General Foods 3 1/2s at 92 1/2, AT&T 4 1/2s at 102 1/2 and Consumers Power 2 1/2s at 87 1/2.

of autos, brighter prospects for the steel industry, rising prices for lead and tires, and a similar down of the Cuban dollar helped investor sentiment.

Gold mining stocks were off sharply on news that Homestake is passing the 40-cent dividend the company has been paying annually in December.

The trend was generally higher among steels, motors, mail order, electrical, aerospace issues, utilities, electrical equipments, rails, oils, tobacco, and airlines.

General Motors was fractionally higher as Wall Street awaited dividend action by GM directors after the close. The Street has been expecting a dividend boost in view of GM's big earnings. Chrysler continued in active demand and kept a point. Ford was fractionally higher, American Motors was steady.

7 Children Hurt in 4-Car Crash

Total of 10 Injured in Mishap on Telegraph

Ten persons, seven of them children, escaped with only minor injuries Saturday in a four-car collision on Telegraph Road in Bloomfield Township.

Mrs. Carl Rice, 52, of 4255 Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Township, was the only person involved in the crash who is still hospitalized today.

Mrs. Rice, whose condition was reported as satisfactory today at St. Joseph Hospital, incurred fractured ribs, cuts and bruises.

Nine of the other 10 persons were treated and released from the hospital the same day.

Bloomfield Township police said a car driven by George M. Wolf, 47, of 1255 Rugby Circle, Bloomfield Hills, struck the rear of Mrs. Rice's auto as she was turning left from Telegraph into her driveway just south of Long Lake Road.

The impact, police said, hurled Mrs. Rice's car into the path of two others which were traveling north on Telegraph about 50 miles per hour.

The other two drivers and seven children riding in one of the northbound cars suffered minor injuries.

Wolf, unhurt, was ticketed for driving without due care and caution, police said.

Doctors to Hear Experts on Advances in Medicine

New developments in medicine will be presented to Oakland County physicians this month as both of Pontiac's hospitals present a series of personal lectures by outstanding medical experts.

The updating sessions start tomorrow at Pontiac General Hospital, with lectures scheduled throughout the month.

Next week, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will hold its annual Clinic Day on Wednesday, with a number of speakers to be announced later this week.

At Pontiac General, the first lecture will be on diabetes at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The talk will be presented by two experts — Dr. T. S. Danowski, professor of research medicine at the University of Pittsburgh Medical School, and Dr. Alex Marble, associate professor of medicine at Harvard Medical School and Joselyn Clinic in Boston.

At 9 a.m. Thursday, Dr. Thomas W. Evans, professor of medicine at the University of Missouri medical school, will present a talk on the "Recognition and Management of Hypertension."

At 8:30 a.m. and at 1:30 p.m., Nov. 27, Dr. L. H. Birch, representing the Michigan Heart Association will discuss and demonstrate heart resuscitation.

Ex-Area Osteopath Succumbs in Prison
A Bloomfield Township osteopath serving two to 10 years in prison on a narcotics conviction died Friday of a heart attack at Jackson Prison.

Dr. Bernard Weiss, 44, formerly of 1125 Channing Road, was sentenced in February for fraudulently obtaining narcotics.

Weiss also was facing charges of manslaughter by abortion in the 1961 death of a Madison Heights woman.

Funeral service was held yesterday at the Ira Kaufman Chapel in Southfield. Burial was at Oakview Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife Mary Ann, three children, his mother and a sister.

Employment Office Reports:

Women Moody on Rainy Days, Go Out After Jobs

BY PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — "Everyone knows that women can be moody. But what everyone may not know is that women's moods are strongly influenced by the weather."

"When the day is bright and cheerful, women feel the urge to stay at home and be home-makers."

"When it rains, for some reason we can't explain, a dormant urge comes over them. Restlessness sets in. They bundle up and go out to look for paying jobs."

"I don't have any idea why—but I'm always glad to wake up to see a miserable day, because I have an employment agency (for women only), and nearly 70 per cent of my applicants apply for jobs when the weather's terrible."

The speaker is a handsome ex-newspaperman named Ted Shurtleff, director of "Kelly Girl Service, Inc.," which provides part-time jobs for women in 150 U.S. cities.

Shurtleff has, at the moment, more than 75,000 females under his direct supervision, and he claims to appreciate them mightily ("I have uncovered good traits about the female sex that even they don't suspect exist"), while being unable to understand them clearly.

FACTORS ARE CLEAR

"I'm not a psychologist," he says, "so I couldn't tell you what comes over the female psyche when the day is gloomy—does it make her feel lonely at home, or does it make her feel she wants to earn money for things to brighten up her life?" he shrugs. "I couldn't say. But I've seen the factor clearly, in my business and home."

"As a husband and father, I feel more secure on a pleasant day. As an employment agency director, I am prosperous when it rains."

Shurtleff is in his mid-thirties, was a reporter and editor for three papers — "Tampa Tribune," "St. Petersburg Times" and "Detroit Free Press"—before he became a woman-hunter.

It was a seemingly endless newspaper strike in Detroit a few years ago that pushed him out of journalism and into the agency business, and he claims to find women even more fascinating to politics and murder. "But the newspaper experience was invaluable. You deal with all sorts of situations and people, as a reporter. You develop a technique for detecting the doors from the dreamers, the genuine from the phony, the stable from the unstable."

And there is a great deal of instability in workers today, he concedes. An agency has to be able to spot it before an employee gives the agency a bad name. "The biggest detriment today among all workers—male and female—is mental absenteeism."

"It's understandable. God knows, with a new world crisis every day, it's not easy for a part-time worker, particularly, to keep her total attention to the job. But even though it's understandable, it's intolerable to the company bosses who're handing out raises."

Shurtleff adds that "contrary

to popular employee opinion, most bosses are generous in recognizing employee efforts."

"Sometimes a company's budget won't permit a raise even though an employee deserves it, and occasionally a boss with hundreds of details on his mind doesn't think of who deserves a raise and who doesn't. But this is rare. Usually, if a woman (or man, of course) is working willingly, and has loyalty and character, a raise is given."

"Kelly Girls" not only arranges employment for part-time office workers, they're famous for handing out such difficult jobs as throwing pies at county fairs, holding breath underwater for skin diving equipment makers, work Saturdays. I am 12. My specialties are breaking bubble gum and showing how to play jacks."

Shurtleff wrote back a sympathetic note, explaining there was temporarily no market for her type of services, but wouldn't her mother like to work? The following week — on a rainy day, of course—Mama applied for a job.

Predicted by Clerk.

County Vote 250,000?

By JIM DYGERT

Some 250,000 voters — a record turnout for a nonpresidential election — are expected to go to the polls in Oakland County tomorrow to help resolve one of the hardest fought contests for governor of Michigan in many a year.

The estimate was made by County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., who added that his prediction was based on an assumption of favorable weather.

Voters will decide races for Oakland County's congressional and State Senate seats, six State Legislative posts and six county offices.

Total voter registrations, at 347,317 already a record for an off year election, in the county reflect the widespread interest generated by the campaigns.

The figure is only 9,000 short of total registrations for the presidential election of 1960 when an all-time high of 301,405 voters went to the county's polling places.

If the estimate for tomorrow's election — 72 per cent of registrations — proves accurate, the vote total will exceed the previous record of an off year election of 197,271 in 1958 by more than 50,000.

Registrations in 1958 totaled 294,903.

GOP Casts Hopeful Eye at Key Governor Posts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans looking toward the 1964 presidential contest nurtured high hopes today of winning key governors' posts when about 50 million Americans go to the polls Tuesday.

In an interim election which may be influenced by the continuing crisis over Cuba, Democrats expected to come close to holding their own in House contests and even talked of the possibility of small Senate gains.

At about 169,000 polling places from Maine to Hawaii, voters will officially choose 35 governors, 39 senators and 435 House members.

If the usual pattern is maintained, balloting will begin shortly after midnight tonight in a couple of New Hampshire hamlets and end at 2 a.m. EST. Wednesday in the reaches of Alaska's farthest west time zone.

The Weather Bureau predicted dry but chilly Election Day weather for most of the nation.

On the eve of the election, Republicans were favored to win 19 of the governorship races, Democrats 18.

Tax Hikes Sought in 3 Localities

On the eve of the election, Republicans were favored to win 19 of the governorship races, Democrats 18.

Seeking election are Clement F. Cleveland and Frank J. Dickie, two appointees now filling council vacancies, and John M. Hanson, a financial counselor for a Pontiac firm.

Orion Township voters will be asked to approve a one-half tax for five years to purchase land and develop a township park. A 1.5-mill tax increase for five years is sought to build a new fire station and purchase equipment in White Lake Township.

A $61,000 bond issue to finance storm drain construction in South Lyon will require a tax hike of about 2.5 mills for 11 years if approved.

City charter amendments which would allow changes in special assessment procedures will be decided in Utica and Southfield.

The sale of liquor by the glass is the local proposition in Oxford Township.

Birmingham voters will be asked to allow the public sale of 10.2 acres of city-owned property formerly used as a drainage site.

The GOP now holds the governorships of only 16 states with 129 electoral votes. There are contests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

Democrats are governors in 34 states which will cast 406 electoral votes in 1964. There are contests in 14 of these states. Only the governors of Montana and Utah, which have a total of eight electoral votes, are Republican holdovers.

No Rain Expected Tomorrow

Slightly warmer temperatures with partly cloudy skies are predicted.

Tonight's predicted low is 30; Tuesday's expected high is 46.

For the next five days, temperatures will average near or slightly below the normal high of 47 to 51 and normal low of 29 to 36.

It'll be colder on Wednesday, warmer on Thursday and Friday, and then colder again about Saturday.

Precipitation will total about one-quarter of an inch or less in showers or snow flurries Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Rainfall registered one-tenth of an inch from 10 a.m. Saturday until the same time today.

Winds today are from the northeast at 10 to 15 miles per hour. They will diminish tonight and become southeasterly at 10 to 15 miles per hour Tuesday.

Thirty-seven was the lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the thermometer recorded 42.

KISS AT DEDICATION — Governor John B. Swainson buses his wife Alice during the dedication Saturday of the controversial Democratic Club office in Farmington. Democrats have obtained a temporary injunction preventing Republican officials from interfering with the use of the office on Election Day. The officials claim the office is within 100 feet of a polling place.

Say JFK to Continue Surveillance of Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy feels U.S. surveillance of Cuba will have to be continued in some form after the current missile crisis is settled, government sources report.

In offering this view of the President's thinking to newsmen Sunday, the sources did not specify how the watch would be kept. The object they said, would be to guard against any future introduction of Soviet missiles into Cuba.

Aerial photographs of the island last month gave the first hard evidence that the Soviet Union was mounting an offensive missile threat in Cuba, the White House has said.

It was from aerial photos taken last Thursday that the administration concluded Soviet Premier Khrushchev had begun to make good on his pledge to tear down the missile bases.

The Navy, in maintaining an arms blockade of Cuba, has also been filling a surveillance role.

Removal of the missiles and other Soviet offensive arms from Cuba remains a thorny problem.

JFK DETERMINED

Nobel Peace Prize Off for This Year

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting Parliament today announced it had decided not to award the Nobel Peace Prize for 1962.

The prize money has been reserved for next year, the brief announcement said.

No reason was given for the committee's decision, but in the past the prize has not been awarded in times of great crisis.

Informed sources said the committee regarded the world situation as "too labile" — that is too unstable — to make any award this year.

State Highway Deaths

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,318 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,281.

Governor Race Keeps Parties Busy to Wire

Expect 2.5 Million to Cast Their Ballots Throughout Michigan

By The Associated Press

Michigan voters are expected to flock to the polls in record numbers for a nonpresidential election year tomorrow to write the closing chapter on one of the hardest-fought campaigns in state history.

A dramatic and bitter race for governor has stirred both Republican and Democratic parties into a frenzy of get-out-the-vote activity.

State Elections Director Robert Montgomery predicted more than 2½ million voters will cast ballots throughout the state, barring heavy storms.

Highest previous total for an off-year election was some 2.3 million votes cast in 1958.

The main campaign spotlight has been focused on automaker George Romney's bid to become the first Republican to sit in the governor chair in 14 years.

Romney, 55-year-old former president of American Motors, is expected to appear on television three times tonight, while his rival, George Romney, will make two appearances.

Swainson will be on Channel 7 at 5 and 7 p.m. and on Channel 4 at 8. Romney is to speak on Channel 7 at 8:30 and on Channels 2 and 4 at 9:30.

GMTC Workers Give UF $113,437

Rose-colored glasses are the order of the day at the Pontiac Area United Fund headquarters following a $113,437.13 contribution from the employees of GM Truck & Coach Division.

The sum represents just under 20 per cent of the entire campaign goal of $706,125.

The contribution was 4.4 per cent over the GMTC employees' quota of $108,698.

UF 1962 Chairman Fred V. Haggard announced today that the total campaign now has reached $460,670.96, or 65.2 per cent of the final goal.

Industrial Division Chairman Ted Bloom lauded the outstanding GMTC pledge.

He promised that employee pledges at Pontiac Motor Division "will continue the trend established to date in the Industrial Division by going over company employees' goals."

The Pontiac Motor pledges are to be completed within the next few days, he added.

Commenting on the overall campaign picture, Haggard encouraged Commercial Division workers to complete their calls during this last week of the campaign.

TELS URGENCY

He again pointed out how urgent it is that all calls be completed and returns brought into the United Fund Headquarters, so that an accurate tally could be made on the last day of the campaign, Nov. 9.

Bruce Annett, Commercial Division chairman, when asked about the progress of his division, asked all solicitors to "get out and get the job done."

Annett pointed out that his division is just a little past the halfway mark with only 5 days of the campaign remaining.

"We have reached 57 per cent of our goal of $190,410.02 with $106,619 reported in," he said.

"Our campaigners are going to have to work very hard to complete this job by Friday."

William Lacy, vice chairman of the Educational Group, expressed satisfaction with his unit.

He noted the Waterford schools have reported $2,497, or 60.9 per cent of their $12,446 goal.

Dave Ewalt, vice chairman of the Government Group, reports that his men are turning in their money very slowly, with only 18.7 per cent of $6,331.20 of the $17,804.79 goal reported.

"We don't have much time left to wrap this up," said Ewalt as he urged his men on.

Dr. Michael Kozonis, vice chairman of the Professional Groups stated his group has reached 29 per cent of its $29,196.78 goal with $8,510.38 reported.

He expressed concern with his figure and acknowledged that there was a big job ahead.

Jack Brannack said his Small Teams Group is rallying and is confident its enthusiasm will carry his unit over the goal.

Sheriff's Aides Are Wounded

Shot at Close Range in Questioning Bid

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Two Berrien County sheriff's officers suffered crippling gunshot wounds early today in a point-blank range shoot out with two men halted in a car for questioning.

The action took place about 3:45 a.m. some three blocks north of Mercy Hospital in Benton Harbor.

Police brought into custody Leroy Payne, 23, of Benton Harbor, for investigation after he was bullet-pierced car was found abandoned with some items of clothing reported missing from a Benton Township retail clothing store which reported a break-in.

Five others also were held for questioning in the case.

AWAITS SURGERY

Plummer gave this account of the battle which erupted after he and Yost, in an unmarked police car, stopped two men in the other car for investigation.

"I got out on my side and walked up holding my flashlight up high. I saw a bunch of rags or clothes in the back of the car and swept my light over it to the man in front."

"The door started to open and I reached inside my jacket and put my hand on my gun. I heard the explosion of a shot. I was hit in the shoulder and felt like being hit with a baseball bat. The next thing I knew I was lying on the ground four or five feet from the front bumper."

"I could hear shooting. Then, the driver came around the back and rested his arm on the bumper and took aim and shot me in the side."

"I fired back but I could only see his head and shoulders. (Plummer put his hand on my three armoring slugs and three regular loads from his 357 - magnum pistol).

Banks, Offices Shut Tuesday

Banks in Pontiac and Oakland County offices will remain closed tomorrow for election day.

Business will resume Wednesday as usual.

City offices will be open election day at regular hours.

No Change in Mrs. FDR

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was reported "resting quietly" today, but a family spokesman said there was no change in her condition.

Mr. Voter: It's Your Turn

On Tuesday, all candidates sit back. The voters take over.

Probably the most exciting and vigorous campaign in the past decade during an "off year" passes into history with the two main actors still occupying the center of the stage. Several polls all reach the same decision: The election of George Romney as Michigan's next governor. One was very close and the margins varied, but apparently the voters are ready for a change in Michigan's top management.

The race between Staehler and Bentley is exceedingly close and the final outcome depends on one thing: Which party will turn out the biggest number of voters? In 1958 (an off year), 2.3 million visited the polls. Experts believe the total this year will run more than a quarter of a million votes above that. Some say it will be half a million more than 2.3 million if the weather is good.

This forecasts a vote between 2.6 million and 2.8 million. In 1960, with the added impetus of a presidential election, the total ran 3.5 million.

Both gubernatorial candidates have staged amazing campaigns. They have been at it hammer and tongs from early morning to late at night and have covered the state completely. When a man like George Romney voluntarily gives up a $150,000 position and works without rest for a $27,500 job, it's a very encouraging and healthy sign for the U.S. states.

Getting men of this caliber to serve in Michigan is especially needed. Bentley and Staehler are other affluent citizens who are placing public service above self.

The tremendous race for governor attracted nationwide attention from the coast. Several interested nations are electing new heads but the Wolverine commonwealth holds the center of the spotlight.

On the editorial page today, The Press indicates its own choices in many important contests. This is for your guidance, if you want assistance.

Now it's up to you.

YOU are the final voice.

U.S. Ends Pacific N-Test Series

Calls for Blast Ban Treaty

From Our News Wire
WASHINGTON — The United States has ended its controversial Pacific series of nuclear tests and called for an effective treaty to free the world from all nuclear testing.

President Kennedy announced that the shot fired over Johnston Island yesterday (Saturday Honolulu time) would mark the end of the series that began six months ago.

Kennedy said, however, that the United States would continue to conduct underground tests in Nevada. He said these would remain free from fallout.

The latest shot was the fifth success in nine high-altitude tries this year, and represented a breakthrough in the series. Only two weeks ago, the United States had one success and four failures on its scorecard.

Four straight "winners" put the program on the plus side. Then Joint Task Force 8 announced the completion of the long, drawn-out series which should have ended last July.

After treating the Hawaiian Islands to two magnificent auroral displays, one which was seen from New Zealand to Alaska, and two lesser sights, scientists at distant Johnston Island bowed out with a relatively small explosion.

In Honolulu, some 750 miles away, it appeared only as a blue and white flash of light, although it had the strength of the atom bomb that leveled Hiroshima in 1945.

The low-yield device was lifted skyward from its Johnston Island launching pad by an Army Nike-Hercules rocket. It marked the first use of the Nike as a nuclear carrier in altitude testing, and was the first occasion on which a device had been exploded at the scheduled time.

The United States resumed nuclear testing in the atmosphere after Russia broke a moratorium on Sept. 1 of last year by conducting nuclear experiments in the vast regions of Siberia and the Arctic.

The President said last spring that the U.S. decision to resume testing was based upon an evaluation of the progress made by the Russians in their series.

Russia began testing again on Aug. 5, only a short time after Kennedy announced completion of the U.S. test series, the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced that Russia had exploded another in its current series.

Reds Out Another American

MOSCOW (AP)—For the third time in a month the Soviet Union has accused a member of the U.S. Embassy staff of spying and ordered him out of the country.

The State Department termed the latest charges, against Richard Carl Jacob, a secretary-archivist, "a complete fabrication."

Jacob, 36, was accused of "maintaining secret liaison with a spy on the territory of the Soviet Union."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said he was "caught redhanded while removing intelligence data from a secret hiding place in the entrance hall of house number 5-6 in Puskhinskaya Street in Moscow."

The nature of the material, said Tass, established "beyond a shadow of a doubt" that Jacob was in contact with an undercover agent.

An embassy spokesman said Jacob was arrested Friday, forced into a car and detained for 2 1/2 hours at a militia station. The embassy protested to the Soviet Foreign Ministry that he had been illegally detained in violation of the diplomatic immunity to which he was entitled.

The embassy refused to say what Jacob was doing when he was picked up.

Jacob, a bachelor from Egg Harbor City, N.J., had served in Moscow for 10 months. A Dartmouth graduate, he attended the University of Munich for a year as a Fulbright scholar. After six months in the Army, he joined the State Department about 2 1/2 years ago and entered the Foreign Service last October.

The Russians on Oct. 5 accused Lt. Cmdr. Raymond D. Smith, an assistant U.S. naval attaché, of photographing Soviet naval installations in Leningrad and expelled him. A week later they expelled an embassy first secretary, Kermit S. Midtman, and charged him with attempting to buy secrets from a Soviet citizen.

Nation Feels Cold, Snow

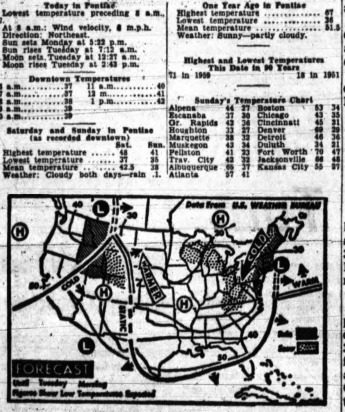

By The Associated Press
Gusty northerly winds fanned cold, rain and snow from the north central region eastward into sections of the South today.

Light snow fell as far southward as parts of Tennessee and Kentucky where temperatures dropped to the 30s. Readings were in the 40s from Alabama through the Carolinas and northern Florida.

The coldest weather in the north central region, with temperatures dropping into the teens in parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Weather

Full U.S. Weather Bureau Report
Mostly cloudy and colder today with a chance of a few snow flurries. High 42. Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday. A little colder tonight. Low 30. A little warmer Tuesday. High 46. Northeasterly winds at 10 to 15 miles per hour today diminishing tonight and becoming southeasterly at 10 to 15 miles per hour Tuesday.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Occasional rain is forecast for the coastal sections of New England and the northern middle Atlantic states tonight with snow and snow flurries in the interior areas, in the northern and central Appalachians and in the Lakes area. There will be showers in the northern and central Rockies with snow flurries in the higher elevations of the central Rockies. It will be cooler from the Carolinas westward to the southern Plains; warmer in the northern Plains and northern Rockies.

WITNESS FLASH — A young couple at Walkitt Beach, Hawaii, watches the brilliant display of the last nuclear explosion in the current U.S. Pacific test series. Seated on an outrigger canoe, the pair saw a lightninglike effect reflect a silvery path across the quiet ocean.

India Loses a Pivot Point

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced today the loss of one of its most important military positions on the battle lines to the Chinese Communists.

The position at Daulat Beg Oldi, the northern end of the line in Ladakh, was evacuated a few days ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ladakh is at the western end of the Himalayan border.

The outpost at Daulat Beg Oldi was the center of a series of smaller posts, all of which fell earlier.

The Chinese have now crossed what they claim to be their border with India at one or two places and have driven beyond the disputed territory.

"NO CHANCE OF PEACE"

New Delhi officials think there are no chances now of a negotiated peace with the Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has demanded the Chinese withdraw to positions they held before Sept. 8 and has rejected proposals of a ceasefire and peace talks until they do. The Chinese offensive in both the northeast and northwest area of Ladakh was launched Oct. 20.

Nehru was reported preparing another reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to that effect.

But it appears here that the Chinese have no intention of going back to their Sept. 8 positions.

Khrushchev sent Nehru his proposal for a cease fire without conditions last Friday. A primary aim of the Soviet peace gesture appeared to be to get the conflict stopped before India falls out of its neutral alignment. A Pravda editorial warned India against "the intrigues of the imperialist camp" and also showed Peiping of any aggressive intent.

"NO ALTERNATIVE"

Informants said Nehru would tell Khrushchev there could be a ceasefire and peace talks tomorrow if the Chinese pull back but that otherwise "there is no alternative left to us but to resist this attack, whatever may be the cost or the consequences to us."

Repeating a previous Peiping turnaround of this demand, Chinese Premier Chou En-lai emphasized in a broadcast statement that the Chinese consider India the aggressor and will fight on to hold their gains.

teams — and that nothing less will be satisfactory.

While the United States and the Soviet Union are reported prepared to have the International Red Cross fill the inspection role originally proposed for the United Nations, Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has the power to bar international inspectors from his territory.

Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan conferred with Castro in Havana over the weekend — presumably in an effort to prod the Cuban leader into accepting at least the fundamentals of an international inspection system.

Mikoyan and Castro met twice Sunday at the government palace. No communiques were issued and Cuban officials gave no hint of the nature of the talks.

Mikoyan remained in Havana despite the death of his wife in Moscow Saturday night.

districts will decide five contests between incumbents and challengers and one (sixth district) between Democrat Bill S. Hoffman who defeated the incumbent in the primary, and Republican Kenneth Walker, a UAW-CIO member.

Current lineup of the six districts is four Republican and two Democrats. The contests for districts one through five are:

First district: Republican incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson against Democrat John S. Coleman.

Third district: Republican incumbent Henry M. Hogan Jr. against Democrat John P. Foley.

Fourth district: Republican incumbent Raymond L. Baker against Democrat Albert A. Krammer.

Fifth district: Republican incumbent William Hayward against Democrat Harold J. Robinson.

Polio Scares Arkansans

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Frightened by the possibility of a polio epidemic, more than 37,000 residents of this Ozark Mountain area swarmed to immunization centers.

The supply of Type I Sabin oral polio vaccine on hand—30,000 doses—was exhausted in the first 30 minutes Sunday. Many waited for hours in the frigid mountain air while an Arkansas National Guard plane flew in 20,000 additional doses from Dallas, Tex.

The crash program of immunization for the 55,000 residents of Washington County, in northwest Arkansas, resulted from an outbreak which left one child dead and nine other persons stricken with the illness.

Carbon dioxide warmth and moisture are prime mosquito lures.

7-Year-Old Runs into Path of Moving Auto

A 7-year-old Waterford Township boy was killed yesterday when he ran into the path of a car on Highland Road near his home.

Paul S. Plummer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Plummer, 4714 Irwindale St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The youngster ran into a car driven by Ward Sansone, 29, of 1015 Prince St., Milford, according to State Police.

Sansone told police that the boy came out of a ditch on the north side of the road.

Paul had been playing with his brother, Richard, 9. The older boy told police he yelled at his brother to come back but it was too late.

Sansone was released.

The accident happened at 5:15 p.m. just west of Pontiac Lake Road.

The youngster's body is at the Coates Funeral Home, Drayton Plains.

Expect 2.5 Million to Vote in Michigan of hands at factory plant gates, attending barbecues, torchlight parades and rallies. They also clashed in three half-hour television debates, which most observers rated inconclusive.

Both candidates planned to continue the torrid pace up to election eve, and Gov. Swainson's schedule called for at least one plant gate appearance on election day itself.

Romney scheduled a round of hand-shaking visits to shipping harbors, bus stops and stores in Detroit today.

Swainson, a legless veteran of the Second World War, will wind up a busy day riding in a caravan through the 1 Congressional District, including Hamtramck.

TO USE TV

The two nominees also will use television in their quest for votes today. Romney planned a special half-hour taped show for state-wide viewing, while Swainson will conduct a two-hour "teletown" during which he will answer questions phoned in by viewers.

National publicity has been focused on the Michigan race because a Romney victory would make him a definite dark-horse possibility for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, despite an avowal that he will not be an active candidate.

The state's financial problems, unemployment and leadership have topped the list of major issues in the campaign.

In the congressional races, a statewide at-large contest has pitted two millionaires for a 19th house seat awarded Michigan because of population gains.

Former Congressman Alvin Bentley, an Owosso industrialist, is running on the Republican ticket, with former Democratic National Committeeman Neil Steabler of Ann Arbor, as his opponent.

Also to be elected are a legislature of 34 senators and 110 members of the house, plus a lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and state treasurer.

Satellite Anna Winks Lights on Navy Schedule

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anna, the new American "dixie" satellite, has winked her lights on schedule.

The Defense Department said the satellite, launched Wednesday, flashed its lights yesterday for the first time at the command of equipment in the satellite.

The flashes were received as radio transmissions since the lights weren't visible in the daylight.

The Navy, handling the project for itself, the Army and the Air Force, will begin making nighttime observations of Anna this week. The project is aimed at refining measurements on the size and shape of the earth.

The first governor of Indiana Territory was William Henry Harrison.

Birmingham Area News

County Roadmen Agree to East Maple Paving

BIRMINGHAM — The Oakland County Road Commission has agreed — with reservation — to pave East Maple Road to the width requested by the City Commission.

In a resolution to be presented at today's 8 p.m. City Commission meeting, the county road commissioners stated the project would be carried out "even though the width is below the normal standard since it may prove to be narrow for safe and convenient travel."

The city had asked that the road be widened to 40 feet between Umbria Street and 42 feet between Columbia Street and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks and 44 feet between the tracks and Coolidge Highway.

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting is a report from Police Chief Ralph R. Moxley who recommends that a traffic light be installed at Oak Street and Woodward Avenue.

The report was submitted by Moxley after the commission had suggested that a traffic study be made to ease traffic problems in the area.

Parents in the neighborhood had asked the commission to allocate a safety hazard encountered by children who crossed Woodward at Harmon Street.

Moxley said a traffic light at Oak and Woodward, just north of the Harmon Street crossing, would provide a break in the traffic flow, allowing children to cross more easily.

Three business executives from this area have accepted appointments as trustees of William Beaumont Hospital, according to James C. Covert, community relations director for the hospital.

The appointees are William B. Hargreaves of 1381 Pembroke Road and Ben D. Mills of 400 Vaughn Road, both of Bloomfield Hills, and Hobart Andrews of 1033 N. Cleary Road, Bloomfield Township.

To Bury Curfew in Flint Rite

FLINT (AP)—Harlow H. Curfew, the auto giant from a tiny Michigan community, will be buried tomorrow at Glenwood Cemetery in Flint.

The funeral of the 69-year-old retired president of General Motors Corp. is expected to bring a deluge of admirers from the industry he challenged, the state in which he lived and was born and the nation he helped mechanize in peace and war.

At the First Presbyterian Church in Flint, Pastor Dr. David L. Molyneux will conduct the service at 2:30 p.m. for Curfew, who died from an apparent heart attack Saturday in the bedroom of his home.

The son of a fruit merchant, Curfew was born in Petrieville near Eaton Rapids. His driving personality carried him to the head of the world's largest manufacturing concern.

It was in 1933 that Curfew succeeded the late former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson as president of GM. In 1959, Curfew retired, having spent his adult lifetime with General Motors.

"Do it better than it need be done," Curfew gave as reason for his success. "No one can cheat you but yourself."

Governorships Eyed by GOP

the governor contests not only to give them an upward surge toward the 1964 presidential battle but to point toward a possible nominee to oppose President Kennedy.

An Associated Press survey indicated that Republicans have a slight edge in efforts to take away Democratic seats in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

The GOP is credited with the advantage in trying to hold on to party governorships in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon and Hawaii. The loss of New Hampshire would be regarded as an upset. GOP victories in New York, Maine and Vermont seem certain.

Local correspondents give the Democrats a small margin in efforts to hold on to the statehouses in California, Colorado, Connecticut, Ohio, North Dakota and Texas. They list greater certainty of retaining executive offices in Rhode Island, Maryland, Nevada and Alaska.

Democratic retention of the governorships of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina and Tennessee is certain.

Tractor Driver, 25, Strangles to Death

A young tractor operator struggled to death yesterday when his neck became pinned between the cab and boom of the machine.

John J. Reynolds, 25, of Newport was found trapped on the vehicle shortly after 4 p.m. by one of his employers, Lance Childers of Ulica, co-owner of the G & T Machine Co., 1441 E. Hamlin Road, Rochester.

Reynolds, employed part time at the farm, was spreading fertilizer when he apparently stuck his head out the cab opening and inadvertently hit the hydraulic lever that lowered the boom with his leg, according to sheriff's deputies.

When the boom lowered it caught Reynolds across the shoulder blades and throat.

Reynolds, who had been working alone, had last been seen about 10:30 a.m. The time of his death was set at about 3:30 p.m.

His body is at the William R. Potters Funeral Home, Rochester.

Italian Red Boss Cautious About K

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:

KHRUSHCHEV CAUTION

There is no concrete sign from Moscow that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's leadership is in any danger because of his decision to withdraw Russian missiles from Cuba. But caution is one of the first laws of self-preservation in the Communist world.

And Italian Communist boss Palmiro Togliatti, one of the smartest men in the international

Communist movement, is exercising that faculty rather well.

Togliatti does not seem to be so sure that Khrushchev will remain in power for long after the Cuban setback, and has kept remarkably silent on the issue.

The day after Khrushchev agreed to the withdrawal, Togliatti actually refused to comment. The Italian Communist party did reiterate praise for the whole Russian-Cuban deal. But all Togliatti indulged himself in then was to say: "We are satisfied with the solution of the Cuban crisis."

Togliatti finally commented on Cuba by week's end in an article in the party magazine Rinasca. His words still were guarded and his praise was for the "Soviet Union" rather than Khrushchev himself.

CONTRASTING STAND

His guarded attitude is in contrast to his belligerent stand at the peak of the crisis when he bombarded the Rome government with personal statements and parliamentary interjections.

Those who know Togliatti believe his current cautiousness does not necessarily indicate disapproval of the way things have gone on Cuba.

But rather they consider it reflects his feeling that Khrushchev's position is weakened and that it may be unwise to say "bravo" to a man who might lose his job.

There could be some clue to that this week, when the Communist hierarchy celebrates the anniversary of the Bolshevik "October Revolution." The influx of top world Communist leaders to Moscow indicates that Khrushchev may be at some pains to explain his Cuban moves and motives.

RUSSIAN SUBMARINES

Military sources in Tokyo say the Russians have added as many as a dozen submarines and a number of surface vessels to their Far Eastern fleet in recent weeks.

The reason: the Russians must monitor their own rocket tests in the Pacific and take on the additional chore of spying on the U. S. nuclear tests at Johnston Island and the U. S. antimissile missile development program at Eniwetok Island.

FRENCH ELECTIONS

First unofficial predictions of results in the Nov. 18 and 25 French parliamentary elections are that the Communists will be among the biggest winners and President Charles de Gaulle's Union for a New Republic (UNR) Party will be the biggest single loser.

The guesses are that the Communists will gain in strength from their present 10 to 70 seats, with the radicals going from 37 to about 65, the popular Republicans (MRP) from 51 to about 75, and the Socialists and Independents making slight gains.

Believe 9 Drowned in College Regatta

TOKYO (AP) — Nine college sailors were missing and presumed drowned today after two boats disappeared in a race on turbulent Sagami Bay, southwest of Tokyo.

Ten colleagues from Waseda and Keio universities were in the two boats. The body of the 10th student was recovered. Forty-three boats competed in the race Saturday. Five finished the stormy course.

Police Dept. Move Dogged

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Unless police officials find a better solution, the department may have a dog on the detective staff.

Midnight, a 3-year-old German shepherd, has lived and worked with officer Billy R. Goforth since he was a pup. The dog won't work with another officer.

Goforth has been promoted to detective and police are pondering whether to promote Midnight too.

KOREAN MARTIAL LAW
Authoritative South Korean sources report from Seoul that a serious split exists in the ruling military junta as to when to lift martial law.

Some junta leaders want it lifted well in advance of the planned resumption of normal political activities and the referendum on a new constitution.

Others insist it should be kept in effect until the last possible moment.

To Question Alan Ladd on Gun Wound

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Detectives say they will question actor Alan Ladd today about how he sustained a gunshot wound in the chest.

Ladd, 46, has been under sedation at Woodland Park Community Hospital since doctors removed a 38-caliber bullet from his chest Thursday night.

The actor was wounded at his Hidden Valley ranch home. Sheriff's Sgt. Bill Cox said evidence indicates the shooting was accidental.

Ladd's physician, Dr. Donald McGillis, said the actor was in "very grave" condition for a time, but that he is now "out of the woods."

Ladd's wife, former actress Sue Carol, said the actor told her he was awakened by what he thought was a prowler. He got up and picked up the gun, but doesn't remember what happened afterward, she said.

Key Suggestions

Gals: Cut Corners to Save TIME

By DR. JUNE BRICKER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The typical American homemaker today is looking for short cuts because she feels she is running out of time.

Whether a woman works outside the home or not, our recent surveys show that TIME is her most precious commodity. She values it more highly as a resource than money or energy.

So what does the home economics professor have to offer that will help this woman stretch TIME?

This week in Washington, the American Home Economics Association, in a program at the National Housing Center, which also will be presented later in key cities throughout the country, will try to tell women how they can cut these time corners without really trying.

Some of the key suggestions:

DO TWO THINGS AT ONCE—This is a good way to double the value of your time, though it may require a change in your work habits.

For instance, many women today put their wash in a laundry tub while they do the shopping next door at the supermarket.

And so, why not set tomorrow's breakfast table with the clean dishes that follow tonight's kitchen cleanup? Or install an ironing board near or in the kitchen so that you can keep up with the ironing while a meal is cooking?

COOK ONCE, EAT TWICE

—Why not cook two meals at the same time? Half of the meal goes on the table tonight and the other half goes into the freezer for another day. Home economists know that it takes little more time and energy to prepare a double quantity than to cook half as much.

For reheating, one short-cut method is to line the pan with metal foil, fold up the unused half of the food for freezing, then put back in the same pan to thaw out and heat at a later date.

ELIMINATE ESSENTIALS

—But this is a matter of personal taste. Basically, it boils down to this: You in your own home might want to take the short-cut and use paper place mats, your neighbor may feel that real linen on the table is absolutely essential.

If you really want to cut corners, modern products, many developed through home economics research, make it possible to eliminate such time-consuming duties as:

DRYING DISHES—The new detergents will do that for you.

MOST IRONING—The combination of the new "wash and wear" textiles and the tumble action of the automatic dryers give you clothes and liners that can be used just as they come from the dryer.

MOST MENDING—Nylon reinforcement of socks, for instance, has eliminated much of the old task of darning socks.

And now for bed-making, sheets with fitted corners have cut down considerably on the motions needed to make an average bed.

Just as important, be sure and analyze your own home so that you know where the work is coming from. Why does the dirt blow in?

A well seeded lawn and a sidewalk can cut down dust that may be seeping in through your windows and doors.

Different kinds of blankets may reduce the amount of lint that is settling on your floors and furniture.

Proper ventilation in the kitchen may help eliminate grease on walls and floors.

The right kinds of wall-to-wall carpeting and floorcoverings will sharply cut down on floor care.

Pledge Vows at Orchard Lake

The Orchard Lake Community Church was the setting for the Saturday vows of Kathryn Lucinda Irons to Marine Lance Cpl. Siegfried Emmanuel Domurath Jr.

Rev. Edward D. Auchard performed the four o'clock ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Irons, parents of the bride, were hosts at a reception in their home on Oakleaf Drive, Orchard Lake.

A beaded satin pillowbox and shoulder veil of silk illusion complemented the bride's sheath gown of white rose point lace over satin. She wore short white lace gloves and carried a cascade of white roses and Stephanotis.

Ann Janeway of Rochester, who was maid of honor, wore American Beauty silk brocade and matching headpiece. Her bouquet was Elegance carnations.

Frank Domurath stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the senior Domuraths of Recreation Court, Orchard Lake. Seating guests at their sister's wedding were Edgar T. Irons, Princeton, N.J., and William H. Irons, Orchard Lake.

The bride attended the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. Her husband was enrolled at Ferris Institute. They are en route to Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., where the bridegroom is stationed at the Marine Missile Base.

Free Dress OK if He's Insured

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I had a date with a young man last evening. Getting out of his car, I caught my dress on his car piece of chrome and tore quite a good-sized piece out of my dress. He has offered to give me the money to buy a new one. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to accept this.

A: If the damage to your dress is covered by the young man's automobile insurance, you may accept the price of a new one from the company, but it would be improper to let him give it to you.

Q: Last week I had a birthday and my boy friend surprised me by giving me an engagement ring. It was sooner than I had expected to get it. We cannot be married until next year and I would rather have my parents wait for awhile to announce the engagement in the newspaper. Must I put the ring away until they make the announcement?

A: If you wear the ring, it will certainly announce to all those who see it that you are engaged. If you don't want friends to know just yet, you can wear your ring on a thin, inconspicuous cord around your neck or pinned securely out of sight inside your dress.

Q: I would like to know what is the proper way for a gentleman to hold a door open for a lady he is with when the door opens out (away from them). Should he go through the door first and stand and hold it open for her, or merely push the door open while he remains inside, letting the lady go first?

A: If he can easily push the door open and hold it for her without getting in her way as she goes through, this is the simplest and correct thing to do. Otherwise he would say, "Excuse me," go through the door first and hold it open for her.

Who pays for what at the wedding? The new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Wedding Expenses" answers this question in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

Hears of 11-State Tour ADK's Rho Chapter

Mrs. Alyce Hagood was hostess to Rho Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, Thursday evening in her home on Exmoor Street.

Mrs. Walter Sheffield assisted and Mrs. Curtis Cheek gave the sorority prayer. Highlights of her visits to ADK chapters in 11 states and Ontario were given by Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley, grand vice president of the north central region.

At the South Dakota state convention, she acted as international officer, installing state officers by telephone. She will attend the grand chapter meeting in Kansas City this month.

Mrs. Ross Tenny reported on the recent state convention at the Executive Inn, Warren.

Psi Unit Honors Rushees

Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority honored rushees, Mrs. Robert Kingbury, Mrs. Sonjee Johnson and Mrs. George DeQuis Sunday afternoon at a tea in the home of Mrs. Charles Fournier on LaCota Road.

Mrs. Frank Phelps and Mrs. Raymond Meggitt were co-hostesses for the November business meeting Thursday in the Phelps home on Normande Avenue.

The Christmas bazaar will open at noon on Nov. 17 in the club rooms of First Federal Savings and Loan of Oakland.

Pontiac State Hospital patients will be entertained by the chapter at an evening party Dec. 11.

During a recent meeting it was announced that Mrs. Wallace Williams of Voorhes Road was elected national Sigma Beta president at the sorority's national convention in Washington, D.C. in October.

MAKE OVER DAD Robert J. Eversons on Honeymoon Trip

The Robert John Eversons, who were wed Saturday evening in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, are spending this week in Chicago, en route to their new home in Grand Rapids.

A church reception followed the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Theodore Albebach.

The former Janet Lee Deem is the daughter of the Roy R. Deems of Sheridan Drive. Mrs. Bert Everson of East Beverly Street and Bert Everson of Cleveland are the bridegroom's parents.

A round beaded necklace accented the bride's gown of white brocade satin, styled with chapel train. Her bouffant veil of French illusion was secured by a petal headpiece and a cattleya orchid centered her cascade bouquet of white Stephanotis.

Sister-in-law, her sister's maid of honor, and her cousin, Mrs. Daniel Sanders, who was bridesmaid, appeared in gold satin dresses and matching hats. They held cascades of yellow, bronze and white chrysanthemums. Betsy Vanderzee, the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl.

On the esquire side were best man Lloyd Fell of Cheboygan and the bridegroom's cousins, John Aiken, Detroit, and Richard Griesbach of Waterford, ushers.

The bride attended Ohio University, Athens, and her husband is a graduate of University of Michigan.

Mrs. Deem wore pink roses with her green and silver brocade jacket dress. Yellow roses complemented a satin-embossed taupe dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

Epsilons See Yule Display

Members of Epsilon Chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, gathered Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. N. C. VanNatta in Davidsburg. Mrs. Genevieve Vant Roor was cohostess.

Christmas gifts for parents which could be made by children in the elementary grades were displayed.

Gifts for children in the Oakland County Children's Center will be brought to the December meeting in the home of Mrs. William VanderZee.

Sylvan Improvers Hold Annual Meeting at School

Sylvan Shores Improvement Association, Inc., elected officers at its annual meeting Saturday at Donelson School.

Officers and trustees of the association are John Gottschalk, president; James Brown, vice president; Mrs. Leon Stolin, secretary; and E. C. Conwell, treasurer.

Serving on the board of trustees are Carl E. Leonard, Leon Sirin and Ronald White. Clyde R. Haskill showed slides of his presentation of the Spirit of Pontiac plans, donated by the people of Pontiac to the government of the Philippine Islands.

He also showed slides of his tour of the Far East in connection with the summer institute of Linguistics in Santa Ana, Calif.

Hosts and hostesses for the social hour were the W. Arthur Vernons, Mrs. Arthur P. O'Neill, the Claire J. Hinkleys, Mrs. David E. Lyons and the Austin D. Esters.

Slate Luncheon

The Welford Club will hold a cooperative luncheon 12:30 p.m., Thursday at the Elizabeth Lake Road home of Mrs. G. D. Andrews.

Organ Society Plans Meeting

The fall meeting of the Pontiac area Hammond Organ Society will be held Tuesday from 7:30-9 p.m. in the auditorium of the downtown Grinnell store.

Guest organists from the Pontiac area, Detroit and Ortonville will present selections.

Anyone interested in the promotion of advanced organ playing may attend this meeting.

They All Wore Diving Suits

Wedding's Underwater

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Approximately 25 years ago, as a United Press reporter, I covered (from the surface) a wedding in which all participants wore diving suits of the bulky, weighty type, with helmets and air hoses to the surface.

The ceremony took place on the floor of Green Lake in the city of Seattle. The words of the ritual, along with the bubbles, came to the surface over a loudspeaker.

A crisis arose when the clergyman's vestments developed a small leak, but he managed to pronounce the happy couple man and wife before the situation became critical. I never did hear whether the marriage remained solid or was dissolved.

Sincerely, WILFRED BROWN

DEAR ABBY: I recall reading about a couple from Atlanta, Georgia, who fell in love while diving, and wanted to be married underwater. They had their underwater wedding, but the Methodist bishop of Atlanta thought they should take the plunge in a more spiritual atmosphere, so he married them again, on land, the same day.

MIKE N.

DEAR ABBY: On March 8th, 1954, Bob Smith married Mary Beth Sanger at the Aquana in San Marcos, Texas.

This was, I am sure, the first underwater wedding on record. The bride's flowers, gown and veil had been waterproofed and so had the groom's tuxedo. Even the wedding cake and Bible were under water, so I suppose they were also waterproofed.

They had bridesmaids and ushers just like a dry land wedding. The only difficult part was that they all had to have 25 pound weights in their shoes to keep from floating around.

READ ABOUT IT

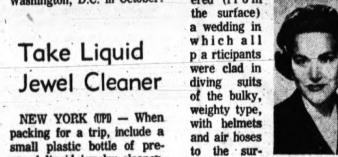

DEAR ABBY: I am 10 years old and want to get married on the moon. Do you think they will have a rocket ship that will get to the moon by the time I am old enough to get hitched?

NEAL S.

DEAR NEAL: Hitch your wagon to a star, son. Your chances are good. (And if you have a sister, take her along. I understand there is a man in the moon.)

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 336, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Social Equality Eyed in Economic Push

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "We can't have economic equality if people are not socially equal," a member of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity said here Saturday.

If one way to high executive position and responsibility is to be a country club member, then that membership should be available to everyone," John G. Feild added in an address before the Michigan Conference for Human Relations Commissioners.

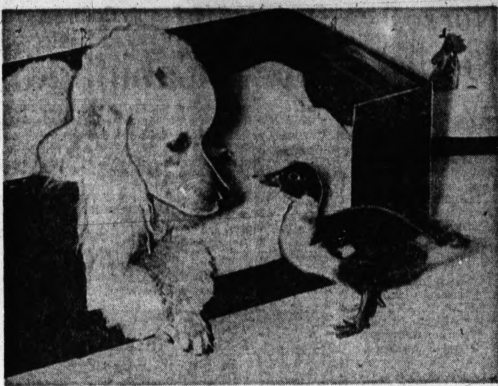

Feild predicted that if "certain, true progress" is not made through human relations groups, such "upheaval tactics" as sit-ins, ride-ins and swim-ins will increase.

Radio City Builder Dies

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — John Lowry, 79, a builder who constructed Radio City Music Hall and other New York City landmarks, died Saturday after a brief illness. He was board chairman of John Lowry, Inc., a firm he headed for 55 years during which it erected more than 600 buildings. He was born in New York City.

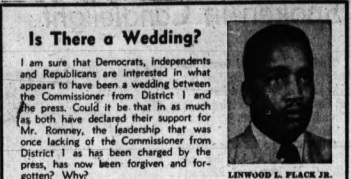

British Poet Expires

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Ralph Hodgson, 91, noted British poet, died Saturday after a long illness. Hodgson, who was awarded the gold medal for poetry from Queen Elizabeth in 1964, was born in Yorkshire, England.

WELL, WHAT THE—? — June-Je, the pet poodle of Mrs. Francis Switzer of Dearborn, found a wild duckling recently and brought it home. At first, the two were on good terms, but the duck has taken a liking to dog food and began biting the pay that helped feed it.

Finance Minister Dead mark's minister of finance, died Sunday of a heart attack. Knudsen, a Socialist, previously had served as minister of the interior.

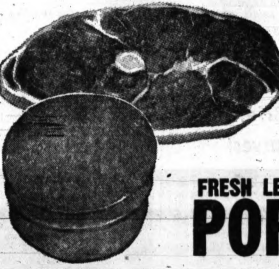

Is There a Wedding? I am sure that Democrats, Independents and Republicans are interested in what appears to have been a wedding between the Commissioner from District 1 and the press. Could it be that in as much as both have declared their support for Mr. Romney, the leadership that was once lacking of the Commissioner from District 1 has been changed by the press, has now been forgiven and forgotten? Why? We wonder why no mention has been published regarding the frequent visits of Mr. Romney to the home of the Commissioner of District 1. Is the rumor true that if Mr. Romney is elected Governor, the commissioner will be given personal favors? If so, what about the welfare of the rest of the citizens in his district? The press has always contended the Commissioner from District 1 has not and cannot give leadership to his district, the city, and Oakland county citizens. This now has taken a twist to the effect that by associating with Mr. Romney all is well. Thousands of us know better, and now that this relationship has been established between the press, Mr. Romney and the Commissioner from District 1, we will cast our vote for Governor Swainson, his team and leadership.

Employment Office Reports:

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK "Everyone knows that women can be moody. But what everyone may not know is that women's moods are strongly influenced by the weather. "When the day is bright and cheerful, women feel the urge to stay at home and be home-makers. "When it rains, for some reason we can't explain, a dormant career urge comes over them. Restlessness sets in. They bundle up and go out to look for paying jobs. "I don't have any idea why—but I'm always glad to wake up to see a miserable day, because I have an employment agency (for women only), and nearly 70 per cent of my applicants apply for jobs when the weather's terrible."

The speaker is a handsome ex-newspaperman named Ted Shurtleff, director of "Kelly-Girl Service, Inc." which provides parttime jobs for women in 150 U.S. cities.

Shurtleff has, at the moment, more than 75,000 females under his direct supervision, and he claims to appreciate them mightily. "I have uncovered good traits about the female sex that (even they don't suspect exist)", while being unable to understand them clearly.

FACTORS ARE CLEAR

"I'm not a psychologist," he says, "so I couldn't tell you what comes over the female psyche when the day is gloomy—does it make her feel lonely at home, or does it make her feel she wants to earn money for things to brighten up her life?" he shrugs. "I couldn't say. But I've seen the factor clearly, in my business and home."

"As a husband and father, I feel more secure on a pleasant day. As an employment agency director, I am prosperous when it rains."

Shurtleff is in his mid-thirties, was a reporter and editor for three papers — "Tampa Tribune," "St. Petersburg Times" and "Detroit Free Press"—before he became a woman-hunter.

It was a seemingly endless newspaper strike in Detroit a few years ago that pushed him out of journalism and into the agency business, and he claims to find women even more fascinating than politics and murder.

"But the newspaper experience was invaluable. You deal with all sorts of situations and people, as a reporter. You develop a technique for detecting the doers from the dreamers, the genuine from the phony, the stable from the unstable."

And there is a great deal of instability in workers today, he concedes. An agency has to be able to spot it before an employee gives the agency a bad name. "The biggest detriment to day among all workers—male and female—is mental absenteeism."

"It's understandable. God knows, with a new world crisis every day, it's not easy for a parttime worker, particularly, to keep her total attention to the job. But even though it's understandable, it's intolerable to the company bosses who're handing out raises."

to popular employee opinion, most bosses are generous in recognizing employee efforts.

"Sometimes a company's budget won't permit a raise even though an employee deserves it, and occasionally a boss with hundreds of details on his mind doesn't think of who deserves a raise and who doesn't. But this is rare. Usually, if a woman (or man, of course) is working willingly, and has loyalty and character, a raise is given."

"Kelly Girls" not only arranges employment for parttime office workers, they're famous for handing out such offbeat jobs as throwing pies at county fairs, starting earning some money by holding breath underwater for skin diving equipment makers, work Saturdays. I am 12. My headstanders for medical specialties are breaking bubble gum and showing how to play jacks."

Shurtleff wrote back a sympathetic note, explaining there was temporarily no market for her type of services, but wouldn't her mother like to work? The following week — on a rainy day, of course—Mama applied for a job.
