Business to Eye Gold Flow Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of top ranking businessmen has agreed to examine the Kennedy administration's steps to halt the balance of payments deficit and to make recommendations on how to stop the resulting flow of U.S. gold abroad.

The businessmen, headed by U.S. Steel Corp. Chairman Roger M. Blough, conferred with President Kennedy for an hour Monday night. Afterward, White House secretary Pierre Salinger said they had agreed to make the balance of payments study.

Key Man Denies Backing Tax Cut

The meeting followed Kennedy's appeal Monday in a Yale University commencement speech for co-operation between government and all segments of the economy.

Salinger said of the meeting: "The President feels that this kind of cooperation is most important and is the kind of cooperation that can be most helpful between business and the government."

House Unit Chairman Disassociates Himself With Kennedy Plan

From Our News Wire
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee today publicly disassociated himself from President Kennedy's promise to seek an income tax cut next year.

As head of the committee which originates all tax legislation, Mills would be called upon to carry the legislative ball for Kennedy's new tax bill.

Rosegart, Cheal Victorious at Township Polls

Elections Honor Head of Education Group With Second 4-Year Term

Incumbent Eldon C. Rosegart and Norman L. Cheal were victorious in the Waterford Township Board of Education election yesterday.

Just over 1,700 voters went to the polls to select two board members for the next four years from a field of four candidates.

With some 20,000 registered voters in the district, the voter turnout is representative of 8.5 percent of those eligible to cast ballots.

Rosegart, board president for the past two years, placed the field for his second term with a vote of 941 with Cheal a close second at 906. Elmer O. Johnson received 701 votes and Ellis L. Nordbeck trailed with 600.

Darwin L. Catlin, who filed as a candidate but later announced his withdrawal, garnered 82 votes. His name appeared on the ballot because his decision to step down came after election preparations had been completed.

Rosegart commented, "After three years of making a sincere effort to serve effectively as a member of the Waterford Township Board of Education, it is indeed gratifying to learn the results of the election."

"I will not relax my efforts to do what I can for the best interests of education for our youth," he said.

SENIOR VOTE PATTERN
Cheal said, "I promise to work faithfully to do my part in assuring that our children get an excellent education from a well administered school system."

The vote pattern in all eight of the precincts was quite similar. Rosegart had the highest total, followed by Cheal, Johnson, and Nordbeck.

Announcing this, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said there will be no summer recess in Congress, to last until after the November elections.

"We will stay here until we get the work done, no matter how long this will take," he said.

TO SPEED UP
Humphrey, the assistant majority leader, said the general legislative picture was reviewed at Kennedy's weekly meeting with Senate and House Democratic leaders.

"It was the consensus of opinion we are going to speed up the legislative process and stay in session as long as necessary."

Mills, the Arkansas Democrat who has hitherto avoided public comment on Kennedy's tax-cutting commitment, aired his irritation when he appeared as a witness before the conservative-leaning House Repeal Committee.

"You have not heard me advocating tax reduction this year or next year," he said.

At another point, Mills emphasized "I have not said I would favor a reduction in revenues when we are spending more."

He made the comments in response to needling by Conservative committee members. They questioned what justification there was for cutting tax revenues in the face of current red-ink spending.

Mills' statement was a new blow to the chief executive's program.

The Arkansas congressman had said earlier that the Ways and Means group might give in without a fight tomorrow to Republican demands for a $2 billion cut in the $300 billion national debt limit sought by Kennedy.

Mills said the committee may have second thoughts and vote for the GOP-proposed $300 billion ceiling when the issue comes to a showdown on the House floor.

The development came as trouble mounted for Kennedy's legislative program. His program of medical care for the aged under Social Security appeared just about dead.

'YM' in London Wins Title for Drinking Suds

LONDON (AP)—The world's oldest military regiment has been defeated in a beer-drinking contest by the Young Men's Christian Association. And the YMCA team included a girl.

The humiliating defeat took place Monday at the Old South-west Fair, staged for charity in Shakespeare's part of London.

In the semifinals of what was advertised as the world's beer-drinking championship, members of the Honorable Artillery crossed cankers with a team from the Central YMCA.

The Y team downed their rivals in 15 seconds, four seconds faster than the soldiers. This put them in the finals and the Honorable Artillery in a shaky doghouse.

Fair, Cool Tonight and Next Two Days

Thunderstorms which poured up to two inches of rain on Southeastern Michigan Monday, flooding roads and basements, and tying up rush hour traffic, dropped 7 of an inch on downtown Pontiac.

The official measurement for Detroit City Airport was 1.27 of an inch.

The weather bureau predicts skies will clear gradually this afternoon. Tonight will be fair and cool, the low dipping to 50.

Fair and cool is the forecast for Wednesday, the high climbing to near 73. Thursday will see more of the same.

Morning southeasterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become northerly at 15 to 18 m.p.h. Wednesday. The lowest recording prior to 8 a.m. was 54 degrees. The mercury had climbed to 63 at 2 p.m.

School Tax Votes Split

A record turnout of Avondale school voters approved a $120-million bond issue and a five-year millage increase while Rochester voters nearby were defeating a proposed 4.5-mil operating tax boost in yesterday's area school elections.

Millage increases or renewals were approved in seven other school districts and defeated in three. Voters returned incumbents to school board posts in most of 26 area school districts.

A complete summary of area election results is on page 19.

Mrs. Mihalek, Dr. Godsell Win in 'Biggest' Vote

Marle H. Smith Next With Count of 1,210; Stubblefield 4th

In the largest school vote in Pontiac history, incumbents Dr. Walter L. Godsell and Mrs. Elsie Mihalek yesterday easily won the Pontiac Board of Education election.

Board President Godsell, with 4,696 votes and Mrs. Mihalek with 4,346 votes built up 2,000-vote margins between themselves and their nearest competitor, Merle H. Smith who totaled 1,210.

Dr. Beauregard Stubblefield was fourth with 1,075 votes, and Mrs. Lois Slater Nasstrom was last with 724.

A total of 6,621 out of 22,000 eligible voters appeared at the polls. The last record polling was in 1955, when 1,550 voters appeared to give Godsell 4,530, Mrs. Mihalek 4,381 and lower Charles Tucker 1,479.

Godsell, who enters his third term, issued the following statement:

"All school elections are important—but there were some elements that were inserted in this election which were particularly significant. It is most gratifying to realize that so many citizens interested themselves in these issues and registered their opinion as they did."

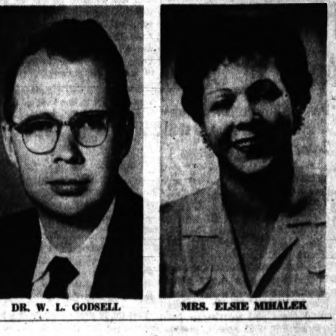

"I am very grateful that the great majority of citizens feel that an honest effort has been made to give Pontiac a truly fine educational system. Also, I am grateful for the splendid personal support for the polls yesterday."

Mrs. Mihalek who goes into her second term said:

"I am very happy to have been re-elected. I would like to thank everyone for their support. And I will try to be worthy of their confidence."

"DIRTY POLITICS"
Smith charged that Godsell and Mrs. Mihalek had waged a "dirty campaign" which, he said, indiscriminately lapped all three chairs.

Ford to Race Again; Rivals Differ on Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. apparently is off and racing again but the other major auto firms were divided today on whether to speed after Ford toward open emphasis of horsepower and performance.

Henry Ford II dropped the starting flag yesterday by withdrawing from an industry-wide resolution barring support or participation in speed events. "Racing is one of our biggest spectator sports," Ford said.

"We like to have our cars win races."

Even during the ban, Pontiac enjoyed numerous racing victories. Names with racing connotations—Grand Prix, LeMans, Monza—have appeared on autos.

A statement from Chrysler said Ford's withdrawal made the agreement inoperative.

TO UNFOLD FACT
A General Motors release said the firm "continues to endorse" the 1957 agreement while considering Ford's move. An American line is one of the biggest spectator sports, Ford said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk indicated today that the United States may soon resume large-scale economic aid to Laos.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will keep military forces in Thailand for the time being despite the agreement of neighboring Laos' three political parties to form a coalition government.

U.S. officials, in disclosing this today, said they believe the threat of a Communist-dominated Laos has been averted, at least for the present.

However, the new Laotian government is expected to be too weak at the outset to halt the threat of Red infiltration from neighboring North Vietnam.

However, the new Laotian government is expected to be too weak at the outset to halt the threat of Red infiltration from neighboring North Vietnam.

U.S. troops in Thailand, which numbered a year ago when Henry Ford II was elected president of the AMA less than two months after he acquired a $2 million racing operation.

This was included in Ford's $25 million purchase of Austin Co., now Austin Division of Ford. In this year's 500-mile race at Indianapolis, Austin openly co-sponsored an entry.

Ford admitted his firm had violated the 1957 pact, but said the spirit and letter of the ban were observed only for about one year. There was an announced speed up in advertising copy writers and the expensive factory racing teams were abandoned in 1957.

But personalities in the auto industry did not become strangers to Indianapolis and Daytona Beach, Fla., home of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

STOCK DECLINE
Picks Up Speed in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market decline picked up speed in active trading this afternoon.

The gold futures stood out as the only bright spot in a generally sagging market.

At 1 p.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 10.75 to 584.42. An hour earlier its loss was 7.55.

Trading volume for the first three hours totaled 2.47 million shares against 1.46 million in the comparable period yesterday.

The market's action was a resumption of yesterday's sharp drop—the fourth consecutive Monday on which severe losses were suffered.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks had fallen 1.30 to 213.10 and at the same time the Standard & Poor's 500-stock index was down .78 to 57.01.

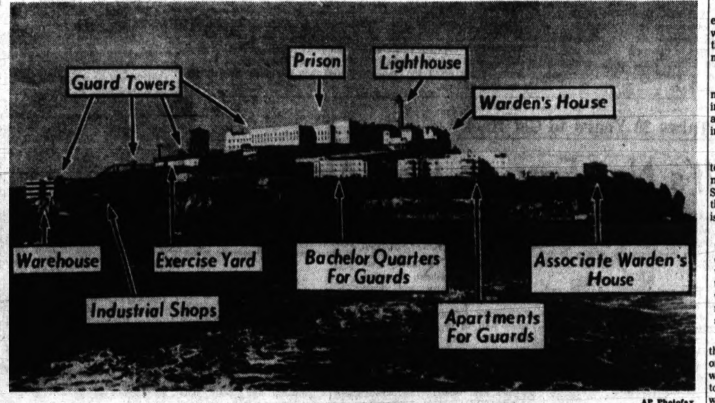

Diagram of San Francisco Bay Prison Where Three Men Escaped During Night.

Believe 3 Escape Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A Coast Guard helicopter today reported sighting a six by six-foot wooden pallet that might have been used as a raft on the shore of Angel Island, two miles from Alcatraz prison.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three bank-robbing convicts broke out of their Alcatraz cells during the night.

Acting Warden Arthur M. Dillon said they are believed to have escaped from the rock island prison.

But it remained possible that the men still were living on the rock. A thorough search was under way.

He said they had cut away a portion of the back of their cells with a sharpened spoon.

The Rock succeeded since the island became a federal prison in 1934.

Two vanished in an escape effort in 1937 and were presumed to have drowned. Alcatraz lies 2 1/2 miles inside the Golden Gate at the mouth of San Francisco Bay.

DOUGLAS B. THERE
Dillon reported evidence indicated the three showed off on driftwood or an improvised raft from the north shore of Alcatraz.

SWEETENED SEARCH
Dillon said San Francisco police, the FBI, and the Coast Guard were carrying out a sweeping search of the bay for the missing men.

He said it was presumed the men would have used their raft or driftwood to try to reach Angel Island or the mainland. Angel Island lies to the north of Alcatraz.

Prison officials said the three had cut their way through the wall of the utility pipe tunnel running between the two back to back rows of cells in Cell Block A.

Their Anthologies Recorded Great Literary Era

Pays Debt to 2 Men--Now Dead--Who Led Readers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON—Two men from Boston—William Stanley Braithwaite and Edward J. O'Brien—are now both dead. A lot of people still alive owe them a great debt.

It is a debt which hardly ever gets acknowledged by more than a reference in a footnote in literary history. Neither was a creative artist. They published anthologies of other people's writings.

This is an attempt, if only for one day and in a personal way, to do better than a footnote for Braithwaite who died over the weekend at 83 and O'Brien, who died in 1941, at 51.

Every year from 1913 to 1929 Braithwaite, a Negro largely self-educated, published a fat book called "Anthology of Magazine Verse."

Every year from 1915 to 1950 O'Brien published what he called the best short stories of the year.

Two things made these books remarkable: the time and the attitude of the two men.

The time, from about 1912 to about 1929 was the most exciting literary period in 20th century America. It was a time of literary revolution, protest, experimentation, new form, new views.

This writer grew up on the West Side of New York where Irish, German and Italian immigrants had settled, raised sons and daughters as first-generation Americans, and many of them, still remained to see their great children growing up.

This was not an intellectual environment. These people never had much time for schooling. They had to go to work young and work long hours. You would not sit around a living room in that neighborhood and hear about the new breath of life whistling through American literature.

But you could learn about it if you went to the neighborhood library. I didn't hear it from the librarian. They seemed too busy marking cards to read much. And I did not find new authors spread out on the shelves.

A LUCKY FIND
But I was lucky. I found the anthologies of O'Brien and Braithwaite.

O'Brien always seemed to include in his anthologies a certain percentage of the usual, old-fashioned formula short story from the popular and conservative magazines. I sometimes felt he thought he had to do it to get his books into the libraries at all. But in between he sandwiched the new writing, by men like Sherwood Anderson and Ernest Hemingway, and experimental writing, some of which wasn't good. These he reprinted from magazines I had never heard of, although they were great forces in the new literature—the Little Review, the Dial, the Double Dealer, Midland, Broom.

FOUND EVEN MORE
That branch library did not carry them. But once I learned of them from O'Brien's book, I could go to New York's main library, find them, and sit there and read them on Sunday nights. And there I would discover even more writers than O'Brien put into his books.

The same thing with Braithwaite. He was a traditionalist in poetry himself, but like O'Brien, along with the sunset and flowers stuff, he carried the work of the Imagists like Hilda Doolittle in England who were championed by Ezra Pound, which was long before he got into trouble; the work of Amy Lowell, Edgar Lee Masters, Carl Sandburg, and the work of Robert Frost who for long had been ignored in his own country.

SHARED BY MANY
Braithwaite, too, carried the names of poetry magazines I had never heard of but which I could also find in the main library.

All this would not mean much if it were just the experience of one young man in the early 1920s. I never thought about it much at the time, I guess. I was just happy to have found these books and get help from them.

Later, as I grew older, I realized my experience must have been shared by many thousands of young people all over America, particularly in areas where there was no one to guide them in their reading by handing them the latest in literature at a time when they were restless and seeking new insights into writing and the world they lived in.

To us, Braithwaite and O'Brien made a great contribution and I have always felt indebted to both of them.

Manhattan Second to None for Raising Children

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many people who say they like to visit New York City but sure would hate to live here sometimes add:

"Worst of all, I'd hate to have to bring up a kid here."

They seem to feel that such a child is underprivileged, cheated of his childhood in some way, misses something in life. But for the life of me, I can't see why.

As time goes on, more and more of our children will be raised in fairly large cities. What virtues, skills or abilities will they lack that children have who are raised in the suburbs, the small towns, or on a farm?

None, in my opinion. How you bring up a child is far more important than where you bring it up.

My wife and I are raising—like the old-fashioned term better than the word rearing—our daughter with kids, and they have three large supervised playgrounds in which they can enjoy any game from hop-scotch to basketball.

The place is well-guarded by day and by night. There is no need for them to play in the street. A block away is a big public swimming pool.

A block distant in another direction is one of the best public schools in the city. Within the radious of a mile or so are a half-dozen top private schools.

In the summer a city kid can get the thrill of learning about nature by going to a camp in the country for a few weeks. Of the whole family can have a vacation together at the seashore. Living in Manhattan, we find we can afford these things by the money we save as a result of not having to keep up an unneeded automobile.

In the winter a city parent here doesn't have to worry so much about his kid wandering out on an unwatched, half-frozen pond and falling through the ice. He can take his child skating in a public park, ice skating in Rockefeller Center, or on a winter vacation to a resort.

An unforgettable advantage to raising a child in any big city is the many varied, cultural experiences he can get in a quality and quantity unmatched elsewhere in music, ballet, and the theater, in zoos, handicraft schools, and museums of all kinds.

ADDED BONUS
Your child can learn more easily by the breadth and width of what life has to offer. Going through these cultural adventures with a child also has an added bonus for the parents—it helps educate them to some of the things they themselves missed as children.

If your child is a genius, or retarded, or has a particular health problem of any kind, he is more likely to find facilities for the special care his situation requires in a big city than anywhere else.

A roll call of the famous who've grown up here shows New York City is more than a spawning ground for juvenile delinquency. Among those who survived their growing up pains here are such people as Al Smith, Richard Rodgers, Judy Holiday, Irving Berlin, James Cagney, Clifton Fadiman, George and Ira Gershwin, Ethel Merman—the list is almost endless.

Our own daughter is hearty, happy and robust. It is true she has developed one defect while living all of the short 9 years of her life here.

Two of her upper front teeth need straightening. But after reviewing the situation from all angles, we've decided we can get them fixed here just about as well as if we moved to the suburbs.

ARRESTED — Joaquin de la Cruz, a one-time leader of the five largest street gangs in Los Angeles, was arrested in Spain in a roundup of hundreds of opponents of the regime of Generalissimo Franco. U. S. Army Copter Pilot Wounded in S. Viet Nam — A U.S. Army helicopter pilot was wounded slightly Sunday while flying a mission in support of a Vietnamese operation against Communist guerrillas, it was learned today.

Officials refused to identify the pilot but said he was attached to the 8th Transportation Company.

Washington (AP) — With a one-two attack on a punching bag, a tug at some pulley weights and a spin on an exercise bicycle, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has inaugurated a new exercise room for his department's employees.

"We're going to be the most physically fit department in this administration," Goldberg said Monday.

"I want to counter the canard that I am not in sympathy with the President's physical fitness program," he said with a smile.

"When your frustrations begin to get the best of you, working over the punching bag is great medicine."

Department employees contributed money to pay for the equipment.

Washington (AP) — Responsibility for developing the spacecraft for a military communications satellite system has been transferred from the Army to the Air Force.

A Pentagon spokesman said Monday that it is hoped the system will be in operation by 1964 instead of by 1966, the target date set by the Army.

Labeled "Advent," the program calls for launching three to ten microwave satellites on an equatorial orbital path 22,300 miles above the earth. The satellites would relay voice and other communications almost instantaneously. They would be entirely separate from the proposed civilian communications satellite program.

The spokesman said the main reason for transferring most of the project to the Air Force is the fact that the Army's proposed 1,300-pound satellite is too heavy for the rockets now available.

The spokesman also said project costs have been running high.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will not hold a news conference this week.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the President would have a rather busy schedule this week, including two days of conferences with President Roberto F. Chiari of Panama.

Savings League Clears Up Stand

Still Opposed as Ever to Withholding Tax on Interest, Dividends

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Savings and Loan League said yesterday it is just as opposed as ever to a withholding tax on interest and dividends.

The league said in Chicago that it had advised members against further protest mail to Congress members on the question, but not because of any change in attitude.

The feeling was, the league said, that the concern of savers over the withholding proposal had been adequately demonstrated while some savers were complaining the mail volume had become a burden to them and their staffs.

The league advised Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon in a letter June 5 that it had suggested that letters from associations to their savers urging the mail campaign be discontinued.

This led to reports there had been an about-face by the league. In turn that touched off speculation in some news stories that the league was shifting positions because of concern that the administration might propose much higher taxes on savings and loan associations and mutual fund banks.

Williams, a member of the Senate Finance Committee, told the Senate:

"I shall ask that both the secretary of the Treasury and the Savings and Loan Association present to the committee statements as to whether there has been a deal in return for support of an administration proposal or as to whether there has been any threatened blackmail or retaliation on the organization."

The league's statement said an impression had developed from the letters campaign that it was trying to defeat the entire tax bill but "that was and is not true."

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people who say they like to visit New York City but sure would hate to live here sometimes add:

"Worst of all, I'd hate to have to bring up a kid here."

They seem to feel that such a child is underprivileged, cheated of his childhood in some way, misses something in life. But for the life of me, I can't see why.

None, in my opinion. How you bring up a child is far more important than where you bring it up.

Symington Helping to Offset Estes Extravaganza

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON In an otherwise dull and desultory congressional "season," Billie Sol Estes is expected to win star billing with his premier performance before Chairman John McClellan's senate investigating committee late this month.

A rival committee, however, is developing some titillating news story acts. It skillfully woven together into a dark political plot, this sideshow could succeed by mid-July in giving the Estes extravaganza a real run for its money.

Tall, blond and handsome Stuart Symington, whose presidential ambitions were unfortunately on a collision course with John F. Kennedy's, was tapped by his erstwhile White House rival to conduct a Senate investigation of our super-colossal strategic stockpile.

Some disinterested observers hinted that JFK wanted another headline-producing running, to take the spotlight from the congressional probes of Billie Sol and the Agriculture department.

Stu seemed a natural for the choice. The $2.5 billion stockpiling largely began in 1950, and since Symington himself headed the program for 1950-51, he would hardly be expected to investigate himself. That left only the Eisenhower years for hopeful digging.

To the surprise of the box office, however, impresario Symington, cast as manager for his production an unimpeachable St. Louis lawyer who always votes Republican. The White House is known to have questioned the political wisdom of such a choice, but Stu said he wanted the blissing or applause to resound where it may.

ON LEAVE FOR PROBE

Attorney Richmond C. Coburn, a long-time friend of the senator, took a leave of absence from his firm of Coburn, Crott and Cook to investigate the secret stockpile which is reportedly worth a billion dollars less than it cost the taxpayers.

A big, handsome fellow with a shock of prematurely white hair, Coburn is a former finance chairman of the Missouri GOP, but he is presently not the current hero of the Grand Old Party.

After all, the only gentlemen who are thus far being given try-outs for possible villain roles are York such republican stalwarts as New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller and former Treasury Secretary George Humphrey.

Nelson and George, who heretofore have played nothing but hero's roles on the public stage, at one time headed rival companies that received large nickel contracts from the government. Rich and Stu want to know if Uncle Sam was overly generous, or if any favoritism was shown.

President Kennedy is so anxious to find out that he canceled his 23 White House subscriptions to the New York Herald-Tribune when he failed to find the stockpiling story in its first two editions.

Rich Coburn is not the first member of his family to make an entangling alliance with a Democrat. 100 witty and wonderful wife Ruth earned a niche in history by master minding the wedding arrangements for septuagenarian Alben W. Barkley, when the veep's bride-to-be, Jane Hadley, went to the hospital with a severe cold.

With Supersonic Liner
'They'll All Beat U.S.'
NEW YORK (UPI) — The chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) foresees Russia, Britain and France probably beating the United States in producing a supersonic airliner.

However, Alan S. Boyd said yesterday this country would prefer to build a transport that will operate economically, rather than turn out the first one.

The Russian, he said, have come to be known as "the first with the word."

He also said there are indications that France's Sud Aviation, builder of the Caravelle Jet, may come up with a supersonic airliner with British-built power plants ahead of this country.

He said it probably will be 1973-75 before this country enters the supersonic jet passenger era.

"When we come out with one, it will be a good airplane," Boyd said. "It will be able to operate economically."

Labor to Save Crash Victims

Top Surgeons Come to Help Youngsters Hurt in Collision

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Leading Argentine surgeons labored today to save many youngsters gravely injured when a commuter train rained a school bus jammed with more than 100 school children Monday.

Two among the injured died Monday night, raising the death toll in the crash at a fog-shrouded railroad crossing to 43. Eighty-one persons, most of them children under 10, were on the injured list.

Some of the mangled youngsters died when plasma and blood transfusion supplies ran out at the four hospitals to which the injured were taken from the crash scene in the marshy shantytown area of Buenos Aires.

Emergency calls for blood transfusions brought 1,500 responses within two hours, police reported. Some of Argentina's leading surgeons were among the 250 doctors who rushed to help.

Police arrested the grade crossing attendant and held the train's engineer and a fireman for questioning. The attendant told police he had lifted the crossing barriers for the bus and, believing the track was still clear, motioned the bus across.

The train roared out of the fog and hit the bus squarely, scattering bodies, seats and books 30 feet up the track. The bus driver and a teacher were among the dead.

House Unit Takes Economy Step

Penny Will Lose Tin

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Banking and Currency subcommittee yesterday struck a blow for economy. It voted to take the tin out of the penny.

The one-cent piece is made out of 95 per cent copper, 4 per cent zinc and 1 per cent tin.

Since tin costs $1.18 a pound and zinc only 12 cents a pound, the lawmakers went along with the Treasury Department and approved legislation to cut out the tin and replace that 1 per cent with zinc.

Last year the government made 2½ billion pennies.

McCormack to Push Nephew's Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John McCormack said yesterday he will campaign for his nephew in the Massachusetts primary race to pick a Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate.

But the speaker refused to "discuss Massachusetts politics here when reporters asked for comment on complaints that White House pressure had swayed last week's Democratic convention to endorse President Kennedy's brother Ted over his nephew Edward J. McCormack.

The speaker cut short further questioning by reporters just before he mounted the rostrum to preside over a brief meeting of the House of Representatives.

U.S. Foods Used in State Schools Up $1.5 Million

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's public schools used over $1.5 million more in federally-donated foods for school lunch programs this school year than last, the State Department of Public Instruction reported yesterday.

The federal government donated foods valued at $8.55 million during the 1961-62 school year. The figure was $7.75 million the previous year.

Give Party for Couple on Return

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Our son is going to be married shortly. The bride's family is planning a very small reception and the number of guests we may invite is limited. A great many of our friends and relatives will have to be left out and we feel bad about this.

A: It is wonderful if it would be proper for my husband and me to give a second reception later in the day for our friends and relatives. Will you please tell me what you think of this?

A: I'm sorry, but it would not be at all proper to give a second reception on the day of the wedding, but it will be entirely proper to give a reception as large and as elaborate as you wish, to welcome your son and his bride when they return from their honeymoon.

Q: Is it proper for a woman to say "Sir" when speaking to a man who is about 20 years her senior? I have been in the habit of doing this and have been criticized for it.

A: I have been told that a woman does not say "Sir" to a man. Will you please tell me if I am wrong? Also, is it proper for a man to say "Sir" when speaking to another man?

A: It is very unusual for a woman to say "Sir" to a man, even to one old enough to be her father.

Presbyterian Women Plan Summer Picnics

Summer picnic plans were made by many of the First Presbyterian Church groups during their meetings in members' homes Friday.

The April-May group made tentative plans for a July outing when they gathered for luncheon at the Sylvan Lake home of Mrs. Ida R. Reeves. Mrs. Reeves' invited by Mrs. Floyd Mortenson and Mrs. Webster S. Francis.

Guest of the day was Barrett Shepherd, student assistant to Rev. Gale E. Hershey. Mr. Shepherd presented the Bible study, "The Christians' New Lord," based on the Book of Romans. The meeting opened with a short prayer by Mrs. H. B. Austin.

Flora Shelly group members were entertained at the summer home of Ida and Laura Cobb at Union Lake. Dinner was served to 21 women by the hostesses and Grace Clark, Harriet Holly and Isabel Goodson.

A poem by Edgar Guest was led by devotional leader Mrs. S. E. Minard. Mrs. Wayne Reeves conducted the Bible study taken from the fifth and sixth chapters of the Book of Romans. Plans for a swim and picnic outing will be announced later.

Faith group made plans to attend the June 26 meeting of the Women's Association of the Church during their meeting at the home of Mrs. Basil B. Kimball of Lahar Road.

Assisting their hostesses during the luncheon and regular business meeting were Mrs. Burton Mitchell and Mrs. Randall Spurgeon.

Guests of the group were Rev. and Mrs. Gale Hershey, Mrs. John Hellich, Eleanor Kellogg, Mrs. J. Elaine McDermid, Mrs. Marguis Sartell and Mrs. Robert Will.

The Bible study, taken from the Book of Romans, was presented by Mrs. Roy Foster. The mission study, "Churches For New Times," was presented by Mrs. Marie Voss.

Mrs. Willis Brewer will entertain the group in September with the assistance of Mrs. Davy Gilpin and Mrs. Bradley Scott.

Mrs. Charles Allen of Watkins Lake opened her home to the September-October group for their luncheon meeting.

A portion of the sixth chapter, Book of Romans, was read by Mrs. E. M. Malone. Mrs. William Krelow was in charge of the luncheon. Her assistants were Mrs. Ira Haddrell and Mrs. W. G. Larkin.

Interest in Plight of Children

When vivacious Mrs. Roy Fruehauf of Bloomfield Hills launches into some worthy project, you can be pretty sure it will be a success.

An example is the recent Carousel Ball held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel to raise funds for emotionally disturbed children. Mrs. Fruehauf, originator of the annual ball, and her group raised more than $100,000, topping last year's total by $35,000.

For the past two years Mrs. Fruehauf has literally thrown all her resources into helping raise money to aid Michigan's 10,000 emotionally disturbed children.

Her own three children are healthy, well-adjusted youngsters and the only reason Mrs. Fruehauf gives for her enthusiastic interest in the project is that she thinks disturbed children are not getting a fair deal.

As president of the women's division of the Greater Detroit Chapter, Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, Mrs. Fruehauf has been instrumental in securing direct grants to six area hospitals including Pontiac State Hospital.

Her group also has made placement scholarship grants available for the children and donated some $14,000 for public information and education to the association.

BALLS OLD HAT

Being in charge of large affairs like the Carousel Ball is not new to the charming Mrs. Fruehauf. For two years she headed the lavish Cinderella Ball to help tuberculosis patients.

She gave up that project only after TB was firmly recognized by the public as a curable disease, and legislation was passed to help patients.

Mrs. Fruehauf operates her luxurious country home on Middle Belt Road near Long Lake Road with calm authority. Hardly a day goes by that there isn't the sound of many children splashing around in the big heated pool. These are friends of her children Ruth, 4; Randall, 8; and Royce, 9.

When it's United Fund time, Mrs. Fruehauf is right up front working with buy-bee energy.

Both she and her husband are interested in Leader Dogs for the Blind work in Rochester and have bred and donated 30 dogs for the program.

However, it's the disturbed children that the youthful mother is now most interested in. Already plans are being made for next year's pool dinner ball which is turning out to be one of Michigan's biggest charity money-makers.

Mrs. Fruehauf Fund Raiser

Mrs. Roy Fruehauf not only is an active president of the women's division of the Greater Detroit Chapter, Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, but finds time to have splash parties for her three youngsters and friends at the pool at beautiful LaPaloma on Middle Belt Road in West Bloomfield. Mrs. Fruehauf finds that of all her community activities, working for the disturbed children's welfare is the "most rewarding project she ever attempted."

Set Summer Class for Instrumentalists

Pontiac Central High School's music department advises immediate enrollment for public school instrumentalists interested in summer training.

Classes start June 25 and will continue for six weeks, until Aug. 3. Sessions will be held in the mornings at Pontiac Central, three days a week. Each session is 55 minutes long.

Pre-enrollment has been going on in schools, and other interested students should enroll now. All students will report Friday, June 22, to obtain instruments and arrange details. Both beginning and advanced courses will be offered.

Students will be scheduled in classes according to experience. This enables them to progress on their instruments and to maintain interest beyond the regular academic year.

Any youngster who has completed the fifth grade is eligible to enroll. Present fourth graders begin their instruction next fall. Instrumental students who are currently enrolled might enjoy the opportunity to begin a second instrument.

Instrumental students, who are renting equipment for the spring term, may use the instrument until Aug. 3 at no additional cost.

A second identical summer session will be held simultaneously at Pontiac Northern High School if advanced enrollment exceeds the quota. Further information is available at Pontiac Central's music department.

Man Owes Wife, Children Protection of Life Insurance

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who is insurance-shy? We have been married for 15 years and have four children, and he positively will not carry one cent worth of insurance unless he has to. (He has auto insurance because he can't drive a car without it)

POOR. Whenever we entertain, my husband and I take our guests' coats and hang them in the closet. Some of our friends ask their guests to "lay their coats on the bed in the bedroom. We think this is awful. What do you think?

MRS. FUSSEY: DEAR MRS. FUSSEY: If you have the closet space to hang mail her back to her mother. What should I do?

DEPRESSED AND DISAPPOINTED: DEAR DEPRESSED: Your wife is obviously sick. Get her a doctor. When a man takes a wife she is no longer her mother's responsibility, but his! (The same thing could have happened to you.)

DEAR ABBY: Whenever we entertain, my husband and I take our guests' coats and hang them in the closet. Some of our friends ask their guests to "lay their coats on the bed in the bedroom. We think this is awful. What do you think?

MRS. FUSSEY: DEAR MRS. FUSSEY: If you have the closet space to hang your guests' coats, congratulations. But some people do not, in which case there is nothing wrong with asking their guests to lay their wraps on the bed.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ETHEL: The grinning that would wear away to nothing a lesser, since, merely serves to give lustre to a diamond.

Career or College-Bound

Luggage: Perfect Gift

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you're looking for a gift for the male graduate that will be appreciated for years to come, why not choose hand-some luggage?

According to surveys of student preferences, luggage has always been among the top 10 most wanted gifts. The high school graduate will find it perfect for his college needs.

For the college grad, whose set is probably badly worn after four years of hard use, it's a good start for his business career.

Now, the traditional pair is usually a two-suit and companion case, but "suiters" are available to accommodate from one to four suits. A boy going to college probably would be able to use one with a larger capacity than the two-suit.

Where color is concerned, browns and tans are still the favorites, but since the new molded luggage has caught on, gray is considered a handsome choice, especially for the man who is clothes-conscious.

In "soft" luggage, including traveling garment bags and duffles, there is a wide choice of cover textures and colors, from tweeds to plaids, and this type luggage comes in all materials from vinyl to a variety of fabrics.

Most cover fabrics are treated for greater service with spot and mildew resistant finishes and waterproofing, so that a conservative color is no longer necessary to insure longer use.

All current luggage is considerably lighter than that introduced even as late as five years ago. New construction materials and newer methods of manufacturing combine lightness and strength. Even locks and hardware are much improved so that they are stronger and more functionally designed.

If you plan to give a single case as a graduation gift match it to other luggage already owned by the recipient. If he owns no other luggage as yet, choose the case from a pattern to which additional cases may be added on future gift occasions.

8 of 11 School Districts Incumbents

School board incumbents were returned to office in eight of eleven area school districts where the lack of proposals on the ballot produced mostly light voter turnout in yesterday's annual school elections.

The incumbents defeated election bids by challengers in all but three of the eight districts.

Following is a roundup of the elections where no ballot proposals or bond issues were at stake:

Clarkston

Incumbent Walter Wilbert outpolled three challengers to gain re-election to a four-year term on the Clarkston Board of Education.

Wilbert received 264 votes to 138 for his nearest opponent, Ronald LePere. Hudson L. Nolan polled 67 votes, while Richard L. Anderson, with 31, was topped by a write-in candidate, Mrs. Nancy Lasswell, 627. Snow Apple Drive, Independence Township, who received 48.

Total vote was 538.

Almont

Incumbents Robert Curry and Fred Eschenburg won re-election to four-year terms on the Almont Board of Education, polling 101 and 102 votes, respectively.

They were unopposed in the election, which drew a light turnout of only 106 voters to the polls. Curry is treasurer of the school board.

Imlay City

Francis Spencer, Imlay City

School Board vice president, and Howard Caldwell, treasurer, were re-elected to four-year terms without opposition.

Only 92 ballots were cast in light voting. Spencer received 89, Caldwell 87.

Holly

One of two incumbents was unopposed when a former board member received the highest number of votes among the three candidates seeking the two four-year terms on the Holly Board of Education.

Jack Bennett, appointed to the school board 1½ years ago to fill a vacancy, lost his post to Freeman Peace of 1327 Fagen Road. Peace served on the board about five years ago.

Retaining his post on the school board was Howard Hansen.

Peace received 184 votes; Chandler, 164; and Bennett, 147.

Metamora

School board president Ronald Walker and secretary Arthur Stinson were re-elected to three-year terms on the Metamora Board of Education by acclamation at an 8 a.m. meeting of 22 voters at Metamora Public School.

Novi

Despite the lack of issues on the ballot, a larger voter turnout than last year's total re-elected two incumbents in the race for two boards of education posts.

Winners of the three-year terms are Russell Taylor with 451 votes and Arthur Heslip with 433.

Challengers Dicron Taffalini and Mrs. May Stellingwerf received 341 and 315 respectively. The total votes cast were 782, slightly more than in 1961 when a millage proposal was on the ballot.

Romeo

Harold O. Wainwright won election to a one-year unexpired term on the Romeo Board of Education and incumbents were returned to office in two four-year posts there.

Re-elected were Raymond Wilson, the present treasurer, with 210 votes and Mrs. C. Harold Wills with 232.

The lone challenger for the four-year post, H. C. Kernaghan, who had been serving the unexpired term of Dr. Ralph Renwick by appointment, lost his bid with 217 votes.

Wainwright defeated Mrs. Walter Shepley, 238 to 192, in the race for Dr. Renwick's unexpired term.

Incumbents Norman Sator and Eric L. Spitzer were unopposed in their bid for re-election to four-year terms. They polled 90 and 85 votes, respectively.

Mrs. Knox received 46 votes against 32 votes for Omi Kuhn and 20 for Mrs. Margaret Linton.

Brady, current board secretary, tallied 211 votes while Middleton collected 193, just 19 more than his closest challenger, William Bonney. The other unsuccessful candidate, Dale Spear, garnered 138 votes.

Lake Orion

In one of the closest races in the area, incumbents Hugh Brady and Keith Middleton were re-elected to four-year posts on the Lake Orion Area School District board of education.

Four-year terms on the Southfield Board of Education were won by Richard B. Condit of 2479 Mulberry Road and Arthur L. Pelletier of 2330 Hunters Lane. Condit and Pelletier received 983 and 890 votes, respectively.

The four losing candidates and their votes are Paul T. Rabaut, 754; William C. Burke, 750; Harold G. Anderson, 732; and Mrs. Sol Siegel, 664.

North Oxford

Mrs. Helen Smith, 2860 N. Oxford Rd., was elected to a three-year term on the North Oxford Board of Education in balloting at an 8 p.m. meeting at the North Oxford School.

Mrs. Smith defeated William K. Martin, 3600 Barber Road, 12 to 7. Both were in Oxford Township. Mrs. Alice Laddlaw, whose term on the board of education is expiring, was not a candidate for re-election.

Southfield

Four-year terms on the Southfield Board of Education were won by Richard B. Condit of 2479 Mulberry Road and Arthur L. Pelletier

Avondale Approves Largest Bond Issue Yet

Record Turnout Favors Schools

Over 1,200 Voters at Polls; OK Tax Raise, Return 2 Incumbents

A record turnout of more than 1,200 voters stamped approval on the largest bond issue in Avondale District history in yesterday's annual school election. At the same time, Avondale voters said yes to a five-year operating tax increase and returned two incumbents, School Board President R. Grant Graham and Vice President Earl Wilson, to their posts.

The $12.5-million bond issue to finance additions to all the district's schools and build a new elementary school received 698 votes in favor and 448 against.

The millage increase, to raise the operating levy by five mills for three years followed by three mills for two years, was okayed 747 to 478.

Graham led the school board voting with 978, Wilson, with 671 votes, turned back the bid of challenger James A. Laughlin, who polled 586.

No additional taxes will result immediately from approval of the bond issue because of a refunding of a 1964 bond issue. A 1.5-mill levy to retire the bonds will begin after three years, the same time the operating levy would drop from five mills to three mills.

Approval of the proposals was asked by the school board to pay for additional teachers and operating costs brought on by increasing enrollment.

In addition, the money was needed to eliminate in 1965-66 the half-day sessions to begin in September for high school seniors, and to take the high school off the "advised" list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The half-day sessions were established because of overcrowded conditions which will be relieved by the high school addition included in the bond issue.

The high school must increase its facilities and staff, its classroom and library space and its vocational educational program. It got back in good graces of the North Central Association, the college accrediting agency.

Both the bond issue and the millage hike were recommended by a citizens school study committee of more than 100 members who examined school problems for five months.

Dr. Herbert J. Kagen of 3061 Weyher St., 522 votes.

Incumbent Board President Dr. Albert Hartman was unopposed when he polled only 206 votes.

Other losing candidates were Mrs. Margaret Harnden, 295 votes; and Gilbert Jacobs, 219 votes.

Approved was the renewal of four operating mills, 866 to 332; a one-mill increase for operations, 806 to 386; a one-mill increase to operate a community college in the tri-county area of Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw, 538 to 427; and a $2.5-million bond issue to build the college, 508 to 420.

The four school districts required to set up the bonding program all approved the proposal. These include Plymouth, Garden City, Livonia and Clarenceville.

Voters in Clarenceville, however, rejected a proposed half-mill increase to provide free school buses for children in the elementary grades. The proposal lost by two votes, 581 to 379.

In addition, the money was needed to eliminate in 1965-66 the half-day sessions to begin in September for high school seniors, and to take the high school off the "advised" list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The half-day sessions were established because of overcrowded conditions which will be relieved by the high school addition included in the bond issue.

The high school must increase its facilities and staff, its classroom and library space and its vocational educational program. It got back in good graces of the North Central Association, the college accrediting agency.

Both the bond issue and the millage hike were recommended by a citizens school study committee of more than 100 members who examined school problems for five months.

Dr. Herbert J. Kagen of 3061 Weyher St., 522 votes.

Incumbent Board President Dr. Albert Hartman was unopposed when he polled only 206 votes.

Other losing candidates were Mrs. Margaret Harnden, 295 votes; and Gilbert Jacobs, 219 votes.

Approved was the renewal of four operating mills, 866 to 332; a one-mill increase for operations, 806 to 386; a one-mill increase to operate a community college in the tri-county area of Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw, 538 to 427; and a $2.5-million bond issue to build the college, 508 to 420.

The four school districts required to set up the bonding program all approved the proposal. These include Plymouth, Garden City, Livonia and Clarenceville.

Voters in Clarenceville, however, rejected a proposed half-mill increase to provide free school buses for children in the elementary grades. The proposal lost by two votes, 581 to 379.

Over 1,200 Voters at Polls; OK Tax Raise, Return 2 Incumbents

A record turnout of more than 1,200 voters stamped approval on the largest bond issue in Avondale District history in yesterday's annual school election. At the same time, Avondale voters said yes to a five-year operating tax increase and returned two incumbents, School Board President R. Grant Graham and Vice President Earl Wilson, to their posts.

The $12.5-million bond issue to finance additions to all the district's schools and build a new elementary school received 698 votes in favor and 448 against.

The millage increase, to raise the operating levy by five mills for three years followed by three mills for two years, was okayed 747 to 478.

Graham led the school board voting with 978, Wilson, with 671 votes, turned back the bid of challenger James A. Laughlin, who polled 586.

No additional taxes will result immediately from approval of the bond issue because of a refunding of a 1964 bond issue. A 1.5-mill levy to retire the bonds will begin after three years, the same time

Hilldale Graduate Prepping for Pro Bid as Kicking Specialist

Former Waterford Star Clay Roth Signed by Lions

By CHUCK ABRAHAM

Football League clubs "because they have always been a dream team." He had always hoped to make the grade in Detroit if he ever played any pro sport.

The recent Hilldale graduate picks the Lions despite similar offers from three other National

The Chicago Bears and St. Louis Cardinals.

Roth gave serious consideration to an offer made by the new Jackson, Mich. entry in the United Football League before taking a job in the auto industry.

The big interest in the 6-1, 210 pounder is largely due to his outstanding kicking ability displayed in kickoffs and placements.

Similar offers had been made to him by the Baltimore Colts, the great success of the Dales in recent years playing end backs in college.

Roth gained National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics All-State honors last fall as a star in his college career. He led all Hilldale scorers with 46 points and paced the entire state in extra points and kicking record converting 24 of 27 tries.

The big college showing followed right on the heels of some excellent playing and booting at Waterford under Dave Freeman.

He topped all Michigan extra point kickers with 24 for 26.

Hopeful of getting a good chance to show he can do for Detroit head coach George Wilson and his staff, Roth is already working out in preparation for the start of the annual summer camp at Cranbrook July 24.

WORKING OUT

He did a lot of placekicking trying to improve this spring at the college field and now is doing a lot of running and working with weights to build his legs. The Drayton Plains resident hopes to do more kicking soon at Waterford and Kettering.

The Lions are badly in need of a steady leader with the great Jim Martin now retired and in the coaching ranks.

Wayne Walker, who failed to prove he could fill the bill last fall, appears to be the top candidate with newly acquired quarterback Milt Plim as interested in battling for the job.

Roth feels he would have the advantage over the others if kept only to kick where both Walker and Plim are regular players. He thinks he could make it as top kicker man now and could be the placement leader with more improvement and "game breaks."

The ex-Dale's claim that coordination and speed in locking the leg make the difference in kicking.

Although most rookies try to boost their weight before entering pro camp, Clay is doing the opposite. He wants to get down to 200 before making his bid for the big time.

"They have indicated they want me primarily for kicking but I will be willing to do anything to play," he said.

DAD WAS STAR

Roth, whose father Clayton Sr. was a star end at College of Emporia, turned his attention to kicking in high school observing that there were very few strong kickers. He increased his power from 10 to 15 yards one year by inventing a leg exerciser using rope, pulleys, weights and a hook for his kicking shoe.

Clay played three years of baseball at Hilldale where he majored in physical education and was a member and officer of numerous scholastic clubs.

Regardless of how he does with the Lions, the former Skipper has plans to further his education in preparation for the future. He has been accepted at Michigan State to graduate work in recreation administration.

The schooling may have to come between January and July each year because the local boy hopes to be busy trying to come close to some of the records set by his idol Groat during the football months.

LOCAL LION HOPEFUL — Clay Roth, former Waterford and Hilldale star, has signed with the Detroit Lions. He will report to training camp July 24 hoping to make the team as a kicking specialist for extra points, field goals and kickoffs.

Tam O'Shanter Assistant Gains Pro-Am Spotlight

Keith Baines, one of Warren Orlick's assistants at Tam O'Shanter, gained a share of the spotlight Monday in a rain-hampered Pro-Am Best Ball tournament at Farmington Country Club.

The 39-year-old Baines, a native of Watford, England, shot 27-34-71 yesterday to divide low pro honors with rascally Billy Blomquist, a native of California and part-time tourist.

Blomquist, who lives in suburban Los Angeles, has been visiting Meadowbrook pro Paul Shepherd, a long-time friend, for the past two weeks and Michigan PGA officials granted him permission to play in the Pro-Am events.

Despite a steady downpour, Blomquist birdied six holes, four on the back nine, while shooting 29-32-71 over Farmington's par 71-35-72 course.

Baines, who turned pro when he was 14, came to Tam O'Shanter from England in mid-April and this is his first trip to the winner's circle.

There were four "birds" on Baines' scorecard, three on the

Managers Battle in Yank-Baltimore Melee

Wolverines Continue Tense NCAA Play

OMAHA UP—Living dangerously was Michigan's trademark all season and it continues to apply in the college baseball world series.

The Wolverines, who made it into the NCAA tournament after a series of extra-inning thrillers, beat Texas 3-1 in regulation time in yesterday's first round. But it took a two-run, two-out homer by Ron Tate in the ninth inning to send Michigan into the winner's bracket of the double-elimination event.

Michigan plays Holy Cross tonight. Coach Don Lund will send Ron Tate to the mound in his first appearance since he won a doubleheader May 31 in the District 4 NCAA playoffs at Kalamazoo.

The Wolverines were able to get only three hits and six runners on base against Tom Belcher, Texas' ace right-hander. Three runners scored, two were out on the base paths, and only one was left on base. Texas left 13 runners stranded against Fritz Fisher, who was not too effective in the clutch. Fisher scattered five hits.

HIT AND RUN

Lund signaled for a hit and run after Belcher walked Dick Hong with two out in the ninth. Tate drove the first pitch 300 feet off the facing of a clock stop the wall in right center field.

"It was a slider," said Tate, "a sophomore rightfielder. He was just starting to slide. I just wanted to knock the ball past an outfielder, just trying to meet it, so Hoeg could score from first."

Belcher's control — he walked only two — prompted Lund to call for the hit and run.

"Belcher was around the plate all the time," Lund said, "so I had Hong running. I figured the hit and run makes a better bear down a little more and hoped Tate would get one through far enough to let Hong come in from first."

Michigan scored its first run in the fourth, also after Hong walked. Tate singled Hong to third and Jim Steckley scored with a sacrifice fly that didn't travel farther than shallow left field. Shortstop Bill Bethea caught it over his shoulder and Hong beat the throw with a neat hook slide.

Texas tied it in the sixth on one of Fisher's nine walks, a double and Belcher's grounder. "Fisher had excellent stuff," said Lund. "He was wild but was able to get it over, he did."

Managers Battle in Yank-Baltimore Melee

THIS STARTED IT ALL — It looks mean anything, the expression on the face of Baltimore manager Billy Hitchcock last night doesn't bode well for the Yankees. Hitchcock is kneeling beside stricken Baltimore outfielder Boog Powell who was struck on the head by a pitch. A general melee started in the Yankee half of the inning when Baltimore's Robin Roberts whipped a pitch behind Roger Maris' head.

Lary Tries Again Tonight

Tigers at New York

From Our News Wire

NEW YORK — Detroit's crippled Tigers go up against the New York Yankees tonight in the toughest crisis of the 1962 season.

Burdened with the combined miseries of ailments and a losing streak, manager Bob Scheffing's team opens a two-game series with the New York Yankees in the doubleheader tonight. The 18-pounder indicated he would roll at Central Michigan or Michigan State.

"We lost Larry is worth every dollar of the house we paid him," said Scheffing, assistant scouting director for the Cardinals.

He lost Larry in worth every dollar of the house we paid him," said Scheffing, assistant scouting director for the Cardinals.

One Big Jump and In

The ball took one big hop and landed in the cup to give Arthur Hill a lead in the doubleheader. He hit a home run off the bat of Bald Mountain's C. Blair. Lake Orion's Edward F. Kubilus and R. L. Loup of Ann Arbor. It was Bald Mountain's 2nd ace this year, both on the same hole.

"I won't go very far with him (Larry)," Scheffing said. "If he doesn't have it, I'll have to pull him right away."

Both clubs are shadows of the contending twosome that dominated the American League pennant race last season, with injuries weeding out star performers.

The Tigers are without services of Al Kaline and Billy Bruton, while Larry and relief pitcher Terry Fox have been at best ineffective.

Oriole Beamed, Maris Deeked Causing Conflict

Pitchers Spectators Until Order Restored; Powell Recovers

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—The reports of the conflict were conflicting. New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk said Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock said his (Houk's) men were throwing at his (Hitchcock's) men. Hitchcock said he said no such thing.

Roger Maris said he was mad at Baltimore catcher Hobie Landrits, but he wouldn't say why. Robin Roberts wouldn't say anything.

And there was little love lost today among the Yankees and the Orioles after a beating of Baltimore's volatile outfielder John (Boog) Powell. That led to a Roberts' pitch that sailed over Maris' head, and then a swirling melee on the Yankee Stadium diamond that the cops had to quell.

NEW'S ALL RIGHT

Powell apparently wasn't hurt seriously. He was taken to a hospital where X-rays were negative, and it was anticipated that he would rejoin his team in Boston tonight.

Powell was hit on the head by a pitch by Bud Daley in the fourth inning of a game which the Orioles eventually won 5-3. He was taken off on a stretcher.

When Maris stepped to the plate in the Yankee half of the inning the first pitch by Roberts sailed over his head to the screen. Roger advanced toward the mound, but in hand, to discuss the situation. Landrits, who kept his mask on, rubbed out and intercepted him halfway, along with plate umpire Charley Berry.

Houk joined the ensuing conference, then almost everybody, except Roberts, who surveyed it all in solitary splendor on the mound.

POLICE ARRIVE

Houk suddenly erupted with rage, and it finally took the police to get him off the field. He and Hitchcock thrashed it out. Maris then hit a soft fly to right.

"Hitchcock shouted at me: 'You threw at my man,' said Houk. 'That's when I blew my top. I knew Daley wouldn't throw at him.'"

"I said no such thing," Hitchcock said. "I said, 'my man's in the hospital.'"

"Besides, they've been throwing at my men all during the series. Just look up how many of my men have hit the dirt. I also told Daley he had better control than that."

Daley, pulled for a pinch hitter after five innings, left the premises early. His catcher, Elston Howard, said Daley did not throw at Powell. "Why should we? He's an out man," Howard said.

Hitchcock said he did not order Roberts to throw at Maris.

"How could I?" he said. "I was in the clubhouse with my man who was hit in the head. I didn't even speak to Roberts."

Bald Mountain Winner Behind Robertson's 69

Littler's Support Gaining for Open

Injured Palmer Question Mark Now for Meet

Middlecoff, Burke and Player Picking Defending Champion

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Back to back championships in the National Open Golf Tournament for Gene Littler?

Support was mushrooming today for golf's quiet man in the wake of Littler's own brilliant play this year and more was for the National League's permanent tournament favorite Arnold Palmer.

Palmer severely gashed a finger on his right hand in a freak accident just when he was confident he had shaken a cold that kept him sub par physically for nearly two weeks.

"Littler's my pick," said two-time former Open champion Cary Middlecoff as he and the other early arrivals relaxed after a practice round on the 6,894-yard Oakmont Country Club course, where the 62nd U.S. Open Championship begins on Thursday.

"You don't have to be a big hitter to score on this course," said the Memphis dentist. "You have to be able to drive straight and putt well on these slick greens. Littler's playing beautifully, has been all year. Unless he has a big meltdown after winning that big one in New Jersey Sunday (the 100,000 Golf Classic at Clifton, where Littler nailed the $25,000 first prize), he can do it. I'll tell you this—he's played better now than he was at the time last year."

A year ago, the soft-spoken Californian quietly and surely topped another fabled course like this one, the Oakland Hills Country Club near Pontiac, Mich., for his first Open title. It too was a course that demanded that big one in New Jersey Sunday (the 100,000 Golf Classic at Clifton, where Littler nailed the $25,000 first prize), he can do it. I'll tell you this—he's played better now than he was at the time last year."

Gary Player, the little South African, and veteran Jackie Burke Jr. others who the Littler's chances to become the first defending champion to repeat since Ben Hogan in 1950-51.

"That 31 on the front nine Sunday was just amazing, considering the wind and the general conditions," said Burke. "He's playing at his peak."

SIX STITCHES

A doctor took six stitches in Palmer's third finger on his right hand to close the wound he suffered while he was putting lounge in the trunk of his car late Sunday night at the nearby Lehigh Valley, Pa., airport. The gear went all the way to the bone alongside the knuckle.

"It didn't hurt much," the Masters champion said after a practice round late Monday in which he attacked the ball with as much gusto as usual. In fact, Palmer seemed considerably relieved that he could hit so well despite the heavy bandage on his finger. He "guessed" he shot about par, he said.

Pirates and Mets Win

Spoiler Phils Halt Card Streak

By the Associated Press
Down on paper as a soft touch, Philadelphia's spoiler Phillies have topped up the form sheet by throwing another roadblock at one of the National League's permanent hotshots and adding the following entry to their streak-snapping log:

June 11 — Best St. Louis 8-5, snapping Cardinals seven-game winning streak.

Monday night's entry was the fourth in a series.

On May 17—the third-place Cincinnati Reds had a six-game victory streak. The Phils won 6-5.

On May 31—the first-place San Francisco Giants had a seven-game string. The Phils won 5-2.

On June 2 — The Los Angeles Dodgers, tied for first place, had a 13-game win. The Phils won 7-0.

NEW SPOILERS?
That's the way it's been for the Phils, who don't seem to be going places in the NL pennant scramble but could have quite a bit to say about who does.

The victory over the Cardinals dropped St. Louis into fifth place behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who moved up with a 5-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. In the only other game played, the New York Mets defeated Houston 3-1. San Francisco and Cincinnati were rained out.

In the American League, idle Minnesota took over first place when Baltimore knocked New York back with a 5-3 decision over the Yankees. Cleveland moved in to tie for second with the Yankees, a half-game back, by whipping Boston 10-0 in the only other game scheduled.

Too Many Important Issues Remain

Laos Still Depends on U.S. Advice

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Even if the newly announced Laotian government becomes functional the Kennedy administration will not be through making decisions regarding the Laos situation. Aside from the permanent in-permanence of coalitions which include Communists, overwhelmingly important issues remain. Among them:

- 1. Formalization of the Geneva big-power agreement last year guaranteeing Laotian neutrality and providing for removal of all foreign forces.
- 2. How to prevent the Communists, from using it as an infiltration springboard against Cambodia.
- 3. How to convince Thailand and South Vietnam that the recognition of Communist interests in Laos and withdrawal of the American military does not set a precedent for them. (There is a difference in this case from the original partitioning of Vietnam, which did not give the Communists rights throughout the whole country.)

Some assessment of the prospects for peace and independence in Laos may be possible when it is learned just how the Communists were persuaded to give up their demands for control of the army and the police.

Pentagon Denies AF Planning New Manned Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department yesterday said it has decided the Air Force should develop the technology for a manned satellite capable of inspecting and destroying an enemy space vehicle.

At the same time, a Pentagon spokesman said "I don't know of any" six months study to draft an enlarged military space program. He issued the denials in response to questions about a New York Times dispatch which said the Defense Department is embarking on a man-in-space program to prevent military control of space by the Soviet Union.

Opening lead—8-K

By OSWALD JACOBY
The suit preference signal has entered bridge to stay. This signal is simple. Under certain conditions the play of a high card asks your partner to lead the higher of the two suits; the play of a low card asks him to lead a card in the lower.

One point of play that Sidney Smiler and I are in complete agreement about is that this convention is usually played South, only, because South is the declarer. But I have recently convinced that unless a suit is obviously called for by the play of a high card says, "Partner, continue the suit," while the play of a low card says, "Partner, lead something else, but you choose the suit yourself."

Now look at today's hand. North and South bid very well to reach a slam. South's bidding clearly gave the message: Partner, bid six if you can handle the

Area Twins to Split Convention Duties

It's "double or nothing" when Floyd Bartley, 25 E. Longfellow St., and Lloyd Bartley, Lake Orion, covice presidents of the Michigan Twins Association, attend its annual convention at Kalamazoo June 22.

The convention will be highlighted by the selection of the most and least identical twins from the different age groups. A talent show, dance, parties and tours are among activities.

The organization was begun in 1947 to "promote a general acquaintance, social get-together and fellowship among twins."

The Sheldons of Yemen were once a part of the ancient kingdom of Sheba.

Mrs. Eno, a member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church of Lapeer, died yesterday at her home after a lengthy illness.

Apprehended yesterday afternoon was Linnie Stoval who, according to police, lived at the South Edith street address with Mrs. Louise Stromman.

Mrs. Stromman told police Stoval threatened to burn her house down during an argument Sunday afternoon. The home was set on fire while Mrs. Stromman was in the hospital being treated for minor injuries she suffered in a fight with Stoval, she said.

A man was seen leaving the front door of the home as the fire started, according to neighbors. Flames gutted the living room and front bedroom of the home and smoke damaged other portions of the house.

City Manager Robert Stierer tonight will ask the city commission for permission to apply for the grant.

Pontiac had been eligible for such help before. However, the Federal Government had cut off funds to higher priority cities before granting to Pontiac. Stierer today explained that several other Michigan cities had canceled out of the program, moving Pontiac up on the list.

Representatives from the Michigan Water Resources Commission and from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare conferred with Stierer last week on the city's eligibility.

FORMAL BUDGET CHANGE
Also on tonight's agenda is formal amendment of the 1962 Appropriation Ordinance which is to confirm the $13.88 per $100 of assessed valuation tax rate set by resolution last week. The amendment also is to confirm reduction of the revenue to be raised from taxes by $70,350.

Bids for ice cream and food concessions at eight city parks also will be presented to the city commission. Three bids have been received.

City Attorney William A. Ewart will present an updated report on the Chapman Hotel. City Manager Stierer today said demolition is scheduled to begin at 8 a.m. tomorrow.

The commission also will be presented with bids for an estimated $180,000 in street surfacing and resurfacing work for 1962.

Also on the agenda are four recommendations from the City Planning Commission from last week's hearing and a number of special assessment roll items for curb, gutter and sewer work.

The last and 22nd item on the agenda is a request from the Oakland County 4-H Agricultural Association to conduct its annual Festival on the 4-H Grounds at Ferry Street and Pontiac Lake Road.

Blasts Society on Medicare Bill

Dem Candidate Claims
Doctors' Opposition Is
'From the Wallet'

The Oakland County Medical Society speaks "from the wallet, not the heart" in opposing medical care for the aged through social security, a county Democratic candidate for congress charged today.

George Lennox, complaining about newspaper ad by the society that attacks the King-Anderson medicare bill, said "the medical society is not worried about the older citizens."

"The (the society) are concerned that somewhere, somehow they are going to be taken down from the pedestal they have placed themselves upon," Lennox said. "They live in a world of their own and do not want it touched at any cost."

Lennox, owner of a Hazel Park tool supply company, has been proclaiming his support of the King-Anderson bill for several weeks. Earlier, he attacked incumbent Oakland County congressman William S. Broomfield for a "lack of conviction" on medical care for the aged.

SAYS AD MISLEADING
Challenging the medical society, Lennox said its newspaper ad "purposely misleads the reader by stating that social security taxes will be raised 17 per cent."

"In reality, they will go up one-fourth of 1 per cent," Lennox claimed. "This may be 17 per cent of the taxes being paid but only amounts to $13 to the average person earning $4,900 a year or more."

The Kerr-Hills bill, presently used to provide medicare care for the aged in Michigan, is inadequate, Lennox insists, because it can service only 60,000 of some 100,000 persons in the state over age 65.

The City of Pontiac now has a chance to get the federal government to pay for part of the $3,000,000 sewerage treatment plant now under construction at Uptown Road and Auburn Avenue.

GOP Taking Hard Look at Rocky for 1964

By JACK BELL
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The quiet assumption among most Republicans attending national committee meetings here appears to be that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York will be the 1964 presidential nominee.

Behind all the hoopla of optimistic declarations that their party is going to win control of the House and add several governorships in the November election, there is a soft-pedaled hotel room talk about the choice of the next man to oppose President Kennedy.

NIXON OUT?

In this talk there is a strong disagreement on whether former Vice President Richard M. Nixon can or can't be counted out of the 1964 running if he wins the governorship of California.

There is a lively interest in what will happen if George Romney wins the governorship of Michigan. There is talk that William Scranton would make an attractive presidential candidate if he can take over the statehouse in Pennsylvania.

Scranton, now a congressman, will oppose Democrat Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, in the November election. Scranton is a 44-year-old millionaire.

There is solid support for the idea that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona deserves at least second place on the 1964 ticket as spokesman for the party's conservatives. All of this seems to shake down to the belief that, at this stage,

Rockefeller is the man most likely to arrive at the top of the ticket—providing he does not stumble over some new and unexpected obstacles in his bid for reelection with a resounding majority.

In these circumstances National Committee Chairman George L. H. Hanan of New York is playing it cool. Hanan says—and this is confirmed by other key committee members—that he is asking no commitments for his candidate.

PROBING GRASS ROOTS

"All I am doing is trying to find out what the situation is in individual states," he said. "We want to know more about what is going on than we did in 1959."

Rockefeller made an abortive bid to oppose Nixon for the 1960 nomination but quit late in 1959 when he found the GOP cards were stacked for Nixon.

If Rockefeller wins re-election and Hanan thinks he will be a big margin—things will be different in 1963. Republicans then are likely to see a duplicate of the drive Sen. John F. Kennedy put on for the Democratic nomination in 1958 and 1959. This went down to grass roots, state-by-state organization for delegates.

In any such endeavor, Rockefeller has several advantages over possible opponents. Contributors probably will be reluctant to put their money on the line to finance pre-convention expenditures for any Republican hopeful in view of the prevailing opinion that Kennedy is likely to get a second term.

Rockefeller doesn't have to go outside his own purse to finance such a campaign.

HAS JOB IN HAND

The New York governor will not be tied by tradition or promises to completing a second term in Albany. He has his job and record in hand in a way no newly elected Republican governor—including Nixon—could expect to duplicate.

A BEATNIK-TYPE DRIFTER — Pat Boone, clean-cut, clean-thinking in real life, is through with specializing in that type of movie roles. His new picture, "Main Attraction," portrays the singer-actor as a beatnik-type drifter who smokes, drinks and has a love affair with an older woman. Boone thinks the change in roles will help his career.

All of these factors contribute to what Bernard M. Shanley, New Jersey committeeman, said he had found to be a general recognition among his colleagues that "there is only one candidate at this time and that's Rockefeller."

Shanley, who remains close to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said he thinks Romney in Michigan and Scranton in Pennsylvania might be "good prospects for 1968 but they've got to get elected first and have time to prove themselves on the job."

He said he isn't ruling out Nixon but believes the former vice president will be tightly bound to promises to serve a four-year term as governor of California. Shanley said he thinks Goldwater might well be the vice presidential nominee in 1964.

Calls for Machinery to Insure the Peace

GENEVA (UPI)—Britain told the 17-nation disarmament conference today that if effective peace-keeping machinery "is not built into the proposed disarmament treaty the conference would only succeed in creating 'a world safe for bandits.'"

Minister of State for Foreign Affairs Joseph Gopher said the questions of verification and peace-keeping machinery "must be linked inseparably with the whole concept of general and complete disarmament."

"There is more to disarmament than merely arranging the necessary measures in the required order and calling the result a treaty," he said. "We must be sure that the possibility of war—even war of a very limited kind—is made inconceivable."

Zane Grey's Son Plans to Wed Former Pupil

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The son of the late novelist Zane Grey will wed one of his former pupils from San Fernando Valley State College Saturday.

Loren Grey, 45, assistant professor of education, took out a license Monday to marry Bonnie Jean Thinsley, 29, of nearby Woodland Hills.

Grey and Mrs. Thinsley both divorced, met two years ago when she attended his education classes to earn her teaching certificate.

Rick Nelson Says Ring Wasn't an Engagement Gift

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rick Nelson says the pearl-and-gold ring he gave Christine Harmon, 17, is a graduation gift, not an engagement ring—but friends say they wouldn't be surprised if an engagement follows.

Miss Harmon, daughter of sportscaster Tom Harmon and actress Elyse Knox, displayed the ring to other graduates at Marymount High School.

She and the 23-year-old teen-age idol, son of Ozie and Harriet Nelson, have been dating for two years.

Can't Play Himself All the Time

Pat Boone Same Boy, Different Roles

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Pat Boone fans will simply have to face the fact that their boy has changed.

Not in real life. He is still the same clean-cut, clean-thinking lad of yore.

But his movies—that's something else again.

Remember the sensation caused when Pat got his first kiss in a movie? Well, you should see him now.

Pat was just back from making "Main Attraction" in Austria and England for four and a half months. The role presents him in a light that his fans have never seen before.

"I'll admit I'm worried about their reaction," he said. "But I think it is right for me, regardless of the consequences."

"I've already been hearing convince the fans that I can play from them. They've read that I smoke in the picture, that I have a love affair with an older woman played by Mai Zetterling, and other one with Nancy Kwan."

"They're even complaining about 'State Fair,' which I didn't think was offensive at all. Of course, I got drunk in it and played a love scene with my shirt off, with Ann-Margret. But the character I played was still a nice boy."

SOMETHING DIFFERENT

"Some of the fans complain about that, too: he's nice, but dull. And that's what I'm up against."

"I wouldn't mind playing 100 roles as nice boys in Walt Disney pictures. I'd like it, in fact. But there just aren't that many good roles as nice boys. I've been playing Pat Boone in every picture I've done. I've got to give the public something different if I'm going to last."

"But the trouble is trying to convince the fans that I can play

I a different kind of role and have them claim that Hollywood has corrupted my morals. It hasn't."

Pat said that he had turned down a number of good offers.

Notes Weaken Italian Coalition

Christian Democratic Party Short of Majority in Rome City Council.

ROME (AP)—Italy's ruling Christian Democratic party suffered heavy losses today in municipal elections in Rome and other cities in its first vote test since gambling on a center-left government.

The parties of the center-left failed to win a majority on the Rome City Council, biggest prize in the weekend balloting in 157 cities and towns.

Both Communists and Socialists also showed some losses. The big gainers were the right-of-center Socialists, who oppose Premier Amintore Fanfani's left-leaning government alliance.

MONARCHISTS SLUMP

The fascists on the extreme right made only slight gains despite their most intensive political campaign since the war. Monarchists slumped badly, even in their oldtime stronghold of Naples.

Democratic Socialists scored important gains, but not enough in most places to make up for the losses of their Christian Democratic allies.

In Rome, where half of the weekend's 3 million ballots were cast, the Christian Democrats lost over 10 per cent of the votes they received in local elections two years ago.

The party, while still Italy's biggest, also had sharp losses in Pisa, where the Communists made gains.

Find Drowned Fireman

DETROIT (AP)—The body of Constantine Pangos, 45, Detroit, a fireman who drowned Thursday in Lake St. Clair, was found floating in the Detroit River Monday.

Police said the body was pulled from the deck of his cabin cruiser.

"with better stars and directors than I have ever worked with"—because he found the subjects morally offensive.

"Main Attraction" offered him a downbeat role as a drifter who burns around European circles going from woman to woman. It had the saving grace of regeneration at the end through the love of a good girl.

"I thought that made it worth it," said Pat.

Why Not Call Paris, Rome, Tokyo?

Long-Distance Phone Rates Make Her Turn Blue

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — I always blame the telephone on Alexander Graham Bell, and tried to think kindly, tolerant thoughts about the phone company.
"He (Bell) got them into this," I've told myself, "whenever my wires have been crossed." But my problems are, but one of them must be inconsistency.
Who, I would like to know (Alex can't take the rap for this) set up the phone companies' long-distance phone rates? To a neophyte, who only sits and faints, they seem wacky.
I have just finished calling St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. Because of a bad connection I talked 10 minutes over the three-minute limit; at this rate of $3.50 for the premier tri-minute, and $2.50 for each additional 60 seconds. Plus, mind you, tax.
After totting up the bill I felt exhausted, upon the phone booth attendant, who had been so kind I could have called much more distant and glamorous places for very little more.
Paris, Rome, Tokyo — all $12. Hawaii, which is at least three times as far away as V.I. — $10.50. If I wanted to chat with a Moroccan in the little town of Lahore, Pakistan, which is roughly halfway around the world, it would cost $15 — only two-thirds again the price of calling a U.S. island just 1,500 miles from New York.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION — The foundation has been laid for the new medical clinic at 13 S. Johnson Street, depicted above. The two-story building will accommodate a dozen physicians and dentists in six office suites. The clinic, owned by Dr. W. Fisher of Pontiac, Palmer G. Bundy of Davisburg, and Edward P. Barrett of Bloomfield Twp., is expected to open in late fall. The building was designed by John Allen, a Farmington architect, and Bundy is the contractor.

2 Rivals Claim 'Most Don't Know How to Be Christian'

Unofficial Presidential Returns Reported by Both 'Victorious' Sides

CHICAGO (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham said last night the average American does not know how to be a Christian.
"We have been told to live as Christians but we have not been told how," he told an estimated 1,400 persons at the 13th meeting of his three-week Chicago crusade in the McCormick Place Convention Hall.

Graham's aides reported that 374 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ," raising the crusade total to 8,750. Some 420,000 persons have attended the Graham rallies, which will close Sunday with an open air service in Grant Soldier Field, at which Graham said there would be seating for 153,000. The stadium normally holds 92,000.

If Soldier Field is filled to capacity, Graham said, it will be the largest meeting he has held. "The world stands on the brink of disaster," while Christianity is divided by strife, pettiness, greed, jealousy and lethargy.
"The average American Christian is not living up to the standard set by the early church. One of the reasons why other ideologies are making such inroads in the world today is that Christians have failed to accept seriously the ideology proclaimed by Jesus Christ," the evangelist said.

Health Service Blames Fumes

But Research Needed to Prove Car Exhaust Plays Part in Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service says exhaust fumes from motor vehicles play a part in the production of lung cancers in laboratory animals. But in a report on Congress, the service said yesterday more research is needed before the full amount of exhaust fumes on human beings can be learned.

It suggested immediate steps to cut down on the amount of exhaust fumes expelled into the air by automobiles, trucks and buses before the results of additional research are available.

The study resulted from legislation introduced by Rep. Paul S. Schenck, R-Ohio, and signed two years ago by then President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Public Health Service report noted that the automobile industry already has agreed to install devices on all cars manufactured in 1963 and thereafter to trap vapors discharged through the crankcase.

These so-called blow-by devices, however, will control only about 25 per cent of the hydrocarbon pollutants from autos.

Dr. Luther Terry, the surgeon general, urged both public and private organizations to accelerate their efforts to develop a device for controlling the fumes coming from auto tailpipes.

The report said auto exhaust fumes can have such harmful effects on human beings as eye irritation and changes in pulmonary function.

Storm of Protest Swamps British Weathermen

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's weathermen ran into a storm of protest today against failure to forecast the rain that caught millions of Britons on the countryside for a Whitsun holiday yesterday.

The air ministry's meteorological office on Sunday night predicted "mainly dry, with sunny periods over England and Wales, and a little frosty weather in the extreme northwest districts late in the day."

Member of Parliament Roger Gresham Cooke said he intends to ask the House of Commons to consider the error forecast, which he described as "pretty disgraceful."

The national newspapers joined the attack. One headline read: "The weathermen failed for sanctuary in monasteries."

3 State Troopers Die in N. J. Mishap

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — Three state troopers were crushed to death when a bus rammed their patrol car and plowed over them on the New Jersey Turnpike Monday in an accident involving four vehicles.

The driver of the bus, Raymond E. Peters Jr., 35, Easton, Pa., told police investigators that his brakes failed. The big Royal Blue Coach Inc. vehicle struck a passenger car, careened into the police car and sent it smashing into a dump truck, then rode over the police cruiser and settled atop it.

The bus was under thorough check by investigators from the state police, the Public Utility Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Reports Attack on Soviet Airlines by Giant Eagle

LONDON (UPI) — A giant eagle attacked a two-engine Soviet airliner over a mountain range and forced the pilot to make an emergency landing, Moscow Radio said yesterday.

"The bird crashed through the cockpit covering the wing of the plane," the Moscow Radio announcer said.

He said the pilot of the aircraft — an Ilyushin 14 flying from Tbilisi to Alma Ata — had to make a forced landing and repair the wing of the aircraft before proceeding with flight.

They didn't keep Emily Post posted.

She believed that if you had to yell, you ought to do it discreetly. Otherwise, companions might think they were boring you.

A recent study shows that a yawn — accompanied by a stretching motion — actually would be considered a compliment to a companion.

It indicates that you feel a need to function at your best. "A yawn and its accompanying stretch stimulates the brain, keeps you awake and alert. Improves circulation and muscle tone, sharpens your reflexes and eases tension," states the report.

(Memorize that report. It might appropriately be quoted when the boss catches you yawning in the office.)

Boat Dangers Often Occur at Dockside

Many boating accidents occur at the dock and are a result of carelessness. With boating in full swing here is a list of dockside do's and don'ts to prevent avoidable injuries.

When stepping from the boat onto a wet dock, tend to your footing and keep your arms and hands free. Disembarking with your hands full can lead to a serious fall, or it can plunge into the water.

East-West Inter-Commie Trade Dwindling

Red Food Shortage Blamed on China Rift

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Red China's belt-tightening process seems to be cutting into the food supplies of the rest of the Soviet bloc.

There are indications that Russia's recent 25 to 30 per cent increase in the price of meat and butter may have resulted partly from stoppage of Red Chinese meat shipments to the Soviet Union.

Communist China, in recent years, supplied about 5 per cent of Russia's meat.

But since 1960, presumably in part due to the ideological rift between the two nations, there has been a major upheaval in Soviet-Chinese trade.

In 1959, this trade amounted to $2.1 billion. It dropped to $1.6 billion in 1960 and to $1.8 billion in 1961. There has apparently been a similar drop in Chinese trade time to indicate food shortages. The Communist East German newspaper Neues Deutschland called for correction of meat and milk shortages.

In Bucharest housewives were lining up to buy cows' heads and tongues, chopped horse meat and horse brains.

Students in Prague demonstrated against meat shortages. Panic buying was reported in Poland immediately after Russia's price increases.

China has had bad crops for three consecutive years, and may be that this year could be crucial for the Peking regime. Farm programs in Communist North Korea and North Viet Nam are reported in trouble.

Food production in Cuba is estimated to have dropped 15 per cent in the last two years, and rationing was started this year.

MATCHES ARE MAGIC!

Yes, Mom and Dad, in the eyes of your child, matches are magic! Turn back your mind a few years. Do you remember how brave and scary you felt when you took matches from the holder beside the stove and lit the dry grass in the vacant lot?

But the real scare came when the fire got too big and you tried to stamp it out, but couldn't! Then you knew that the soot on your clothes and the burns on your legs would give you away.

But how about the fire itself? Every year, children playing with matches start hundreds of fires that cost thousands of dollars and untold pain and damage besides.

Smoke says this needless waste can be stopped. Won't you PLEASE:

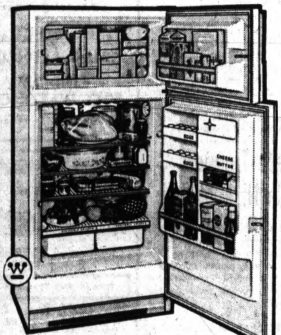

1. Keep matches away from your little ones.
2. Teach your older children to be careful with every fire.
3. Show them the damage that fires can do.

Remember—only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Gold Outgo to Be Studied by Businessmen's Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of top ranking businessmen has agreed to examine the Kennedy administration's steps to halt the balance of payments deficit and to make recommendations on how to stop the resulting flow of U.S. gold abroad.

The businessmen, headed by U. S. Steel Corp. Chairman Roger M. Blough, conferred with President Kennedy for an hour Monday night. Afterward, White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said they had agreed to make the balance of payments study.

Dems Vow to Work Fast on Kennedy Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic congressional leaders after meeting with President Kennedy, vowed today to push through as much of the administration program "as humanly possible" this year.

The leaders, who met with Kennedy for 50 minutes at their regular weekly breakfast, laid particular stress on approval of the President's tax reform bill.

3 Prisoners Break Out of Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three convicts—all bank robbers—escaped during the night from Alcatraz Federal Prison in San Francisco Bay, the prison said today.

Acting Warden Arthur M. Doolson said it appeared the three convicts showed off from the island on an improvised raft or driftwood.

He said they had cut away a portion of the back of their cell with a sharpened spoon. They gained access to a utility pipe through which they climbed to the roof of the cell block. They removed bars protecting a skylight.

From the roof they dropped down a pipe to the ground. Then they made their way to the rear of the island to the water's edge, Doolson said.

He declared the three convicts are presumed to have swum off into San Francisco Bay, where currents in an improvised raft or on pieces of driftwood.

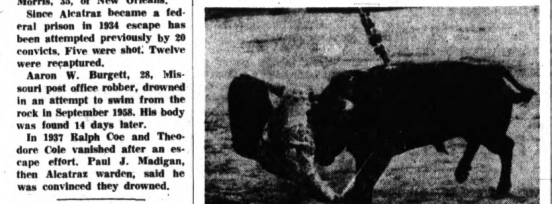

Doolson identified the three men as John W. Anglin, 38, and Clarence Anglin, 38, both of Montgomery, Ala., and Ferris A. Morris, 35, of New Orleans.

Since Alcatraz became a federal prison in 1954 escape has been attempted previously by 20 convicts. Five were shot. Twelve were recaptured.

Aaron W. Burgett, 25, Missouri post office robber, drowned in an attempt to swim from the rock in September 1959. His body was found 14 days later.

In 1937 Ralph Cole and Theodore Cole vanished after an escape effort. Paul J. Madigan, then Alcatraz warden, said he was convinced they drowned.

Ford Abandons Racing Ban, but Others Divided

GM Continues to Back Pact While Weighing Action of Competitor

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. apparently is off and racing again but the other major auto firms were divided today on whether to speed after Ford toward open emphasis of horsepower and performance.

Henry Ford II dropped the starting flag yesterday by withdrawing from an industry-wide resolution barring support or participation in speed events.

"Racing is one of our biggest spectator sports," Ford said. "We like to have our cars win races."

Even during the ban, Pontiac enjoyed numerous racing victories. Names with racing connotations—Grand Prix, Lemans, Monza—have appeared on autos.

A statement from Chrysler said Ford's withdrawal made the agreement inoperative.

TO UPHOLD PACT

A General Motors release said the firm "continues to endorse" the 1957 agreement while considering Ford's move. An American Motors spokesman said flatly his firm was sticking with the pact.

The agreement five years ago by members of the Automobile Manufacturers Association (AMA) was unanimous. It banned participation or assistance in auto races.

"Auto manufacturers should encourage owners," said the AMA resolution, "to evaluate passenger cars in terms of useful power and ability to provide safe, reliable and comfortable transportation, rather than in terms of capacity for speed."

The resolution's days appeared numbered a year ago when Henry Ford II was elected president of the AMA. Less than two months after he acquired a $2 million racing operation.

This was included in Ford's $25 million purchase of Autolite Co., now Autolite Division of Ford. In this year's sale the race at Indianapolis, Autolite, openly co-sponsored an entry.

Ford admitted his firm had violated the 1957 pact, but said the spirit and letter of the ban were observed only for about one year.

There was an announced speed gag on advertising copy writers and the expensive factory racing teams were abandoned in 1957.

But personalities in the auto industry did not become strangers to Indianapolis and Daytona Beach, Fla., home of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing.

'YM' in London Wins Title for Drinking Suds

LONDON (AP)—The world's oldest military regiment has been defeated in a beer-drinking contest by the Young Men's Christian Association. And the YMCA team included a girl.

The humiliating defeat took place Monday at the Old Swan, a pub in London.

In the semifinals of what was advertised as the world's beer-drinking championship, members of the Honorable Artillery crossed tankards with a team from the Central YMCA.

The Y team downed their pints in 15 seconds, four seconds faster than the soldiers. This put them in the finals and the Honorable Artillery in a suds doghouse.

Waterford Twp. Chooses 2 for School Board Posts

Incumbent Eldon C. Rosegart and Norman L. Cheal were victorious in the Waterford Township Board of Education election yesterday.

Just over 1,700 voters went to the polls to select two board members for the next four years from a field of four candidates. With some 20,000 registered voters in the district, the voter turnout is representative of 8.5 per cent of those eligible to cast ballots.

Rosegart, board president for the past two years, paced the field with a vote total of 941 with Cheal a close second at 906. Elmer O. Johnson received 701 votes and Ellis L. Nordbeck trailed with 600.

Darwin L. Catlin, who filed as a candidate but later announced his withdrawal, garnered 82 votes. His name appeared on the ballot because his decision to step down came after election preparations had been completed.

Rosegart commented, "After three years of making a sincere effort to serve effectively as a member of the Waterford Township Board of Education, it is indeed gratifying to learn the results of the election.

"I will not relax my efforts to do what I can in the best interest of education for our youth."

SIMILAR VOTE PATTERN

Cheal said, "I promise to work faithfully to do my part in assuring that our children get an excellent education from a well-administered school system."

The vote pattern in all eight of the precincts was quite similar. Rosegart had the highest total in five with Cheal close behind. Cheal edged the incumbent by three votes in Precinct 5, and the two leaders tied in precincts 1 and 2.

Rosegart, 43, is an instructor in instrumental music and director of the Northern High School Band in Pontiac.

Cheal, 42, heads the experimental department of the Pontiac Motor Division engineering department.

Johnson, 40, is part owner of Elmer's Auto Supply in Waterford Township. It is a property appraiser for the Michigan State Tax Commission.

'Supergol' Needs Specs for Her 'X-Ray Vision'

OTTAWA (AP)—Lady Rhoda, who claims she has X-ray vision and drives around race tracks blindfolded to prove it, was given a summons for careless driving today.

The charge was based on a demonstration she gave in an outdoor street yesterday. Driving a car blindfolded, she hit a pedestrian. The pedestrian was only slightly injured.

Morning southeasterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become northeasterly at 8 to 15 m.p.h. Wednesday.

The lowest recording prior to 8 a.m. was 54 degrees. The mercury had climbed to 67 at 1 p.m.

School Votes Split

A record turnout of Avondale school voters approved a $120-million bond issue and a five-year millage increase while Rochester voters nearby were defeating a proposed 4.5-mill operating tax boost in yesterday's area school elections.

Millage increases or renewals were approved in seven other school districts and defeated in three. Voters returned incumbents to school board posts in most of 26 area school districts.

A complete summary of area election results is on page 19A.

Wide Margins Accumulated in Record Voting

Loser Smith Charges 'Fear Campaign' by Godsall, Mihalek

In the largest school vote in Pontiac history, incumbents Dr. Walter L. Godsall and Mrs. Elsie Mihalek yesterday easily won the Pontiac Board of Education election.

Board President Godsall with 4,696 votes and Mrs. Mihalek with 4,346 votes built up 2,000-vote margins between themselves and their nearest competitor, Merle H. Smith who totaled 1,210.

Dr. Beauregard Stubblefield was fourth with 1,075 votes, and Mrs. Lois Slater Nasstrom was last with 724.

A total of 6,622 out of 45,000 eligible voters appeared at the polls. The last record balloting was in 1958, when 5,500 voters appeared to give Godsall 4,589, Mrs. Mihalek 4,591 and loser Charles Tucker 1,679.

Godsall, who enters his third term, issued the following statement:

"All school elections are important—but there were some elements that were inserted in this election which were particularly significant. It is most gratifying to realize that so many citizens interested themselves in these issues and registered their opinion as they did."

"I am very grateful that the great majority of citizens felt that an honest effort has been made to give Pontiac a truly fine educational system. Also I am grateful for the splendid personal support at the polls yesterday."

Mrs. Mihalek who goes into her second term said:

"I am very happy to have been re-elected. I would like to thank everyone for their support. And I will try to be worthy of their confidence."

'DIRTY POLITICS'

Smith charged that Godsall and Mrs. Mihalek had waged a "dirty campaign," he said, indiscriminately lopped all three challengers into a group tied to City Commission support.

Smith said an advertisement run on behalf of the incumbents implied that I was automatically to be included in a group that, they claim, was trying to get control of the school board, if I was a "dirty politician."

Smith labeled the Godsall-Mihalek campaign "dirty politics."

Mrs. Nasstrom issued the following statement:

"I would like to take the opportunity to wish the re-elected incumbents success in their next four years on the school board."

"I hope that they will exercise freedom of thinking in making their decisions and not feel that they are bound to abide by the wishes of a few people but rather by the wishes of the people as a whole."

"At no time were my qualifications questioned. The revenge from a previous election, that was no necessary to a few, was obvious from the start. Perhaps now they are satisfied."

Stubblefield said, "I would rather not make any comment."

U.S. to Maintain Thailand Force

Despite OK by Looting Rulers to Form Cabinet, Red Danger Still Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will keep military forces in Thailand for the time being despite the agreement of neighboring Laos' three political princes to form a coalition government.

High U.S. officials, in disclosing this today, said they believe the threat of a Communist-dominated Laos has been averted, at least for the present.

However, the new Laotian government is expected to be too weak at the outset to halt the threat of Red infiltration from neighboring North Viet Nam.

U.S. troops in Thailand, which number about 4,000, are being retained there as a protection against Communist infiltration into that U.S.-allied country.

The United States is concerned, too, about the infiltration of Communist guerrillas into pro-Western South Viet Nam via a corridor through southern Laos. This flow is expected to continue.

U.S. officials are hopeful that the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos can meet by the first week of July, or possibly sooner, to put into effect the agreements which will neutralize Laos and remove it from the cold war arena.

City Engineer Resigns Position

James Carlisle Leaves Pontiac Employ for Reasons of Health

City Engineer James N. Carlisle, 57, yesterday resigned for reasons of health, City Manager Robert S. Stier announced.

Carlisle will be succeeded by Joseph E. Neippling, 40, who has been assistant city engineer since July 1960. He will hold the title of acting city engineer. Neippling resides at 6465 Lotus Court, Waterford Township.

Stier expressed his regret at Carlisle's resignation and praised the outgoing engineer for "your fine work and conscientious attention to duties."

Carlisle of 338 Canterbury Drive has been in the city employ from July 1954 to December 1959 as an assistant city engineer and since January 1960 as city engineer.

Neippling has served five years as design engineer with the Expressway and Bridge Design Section of the Wayne County Road Commission, one year as engineering training with the State Highway Department and one year as an engineer with the Oregon State Highway Department.

Storms, Floods Across Country Cool the East

By United Press International
A fast moving cold front which triggered tornadoes, thunderstorms and flash floods from Texas to New England during the night brought heavy rain relief today to the Atlantic seaboard.

The storm line spawned at least six funnel clouds over Wyoming earlier. One of them swept two cars and a truck off U.S. 87 near Casper, critically injuring motorist John Rock, of Syracuse, N.Y. Mrs. Rock was in fair condition with injuries.

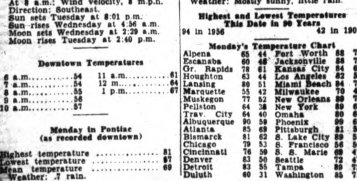

Truck driver John Griesen, of Casper, Wyo., whose vehicle also was pulled from the highway, injuring him and his wife, said he saw the Rock car "way up in the air, swirling around like a top."

Shoots Sister's Boss, Says Somebody Had To

NEW YORK (AP)—A brother of a secretary—angered at the intentions paid her by her $80,000-a-year employer—shot and critically wounded him in a railroad terminal Monday night.

The victim, Taylor S. Gay, 53, a employee of the Phillips Petroleum Co., is in Beekman Downtown hospital with a wound in the abdomen.

His wife, Berta, 48, who is legally separated from him, visited the hospital, where he was in the operating room for five hours and was given several blood transfusions.

Police said Mulloy told them: "I can't see any married man acting around with a single girl. Somebody had to kill him. I took it on myself."

Police quoted Mulloy as saying he was going to shoot Gay because he was scared away when a policeman appeared.

Mulloy was booked on charges of felonious assault and violation of the antipersons law.

Mulloy and his sister live in Jersey City, N.J.

Gay is a resident of the exclusive Creek Club in Locust Valley on Long Island.

Palmer Has High Hopes for Rest of Season

ARNOLD PALMER, who is the miracle finisher in golf that old Whitlaway was in horse racing, has his sights set high for the remainder of this year. The idea of a grand slam is certainly still in his mind. He said so upon leaving the course after winning the Masters' tournament in April.

Next in line is the U.S. Open at Oakmont, Pa., in which play begins this Thursday. After that Palmer will defend his British Open title at Troon, Scotland, beginning July 9. Ten days later at Newton Square, Pa., comes the P.G.A., the winning of which would confer upon Palmer the only major title that has thus far escaped him.

A power hitter, PALMER specializes in canning long putts and chip shots. Above all he is a perfectionist. And his determination has put him at the very top rung of goldfom.

Since turning pro eight years ago he has won almost $300,000 in official tournaments, to say nothing of what he has picked up on the side. Knowledgeable sports writers—LAWCOLM WILSON of the N.Y. Times for one—put PALMER's over-all annual income, including endorsements, his own insurance business and the like, at about the same amount he has won over the years in tourney play.

Palmer in 1960 annexed both the Masters and the Open. But he was second in the British Open and blew up in the P.G.A. This year the golf student would have to give him a better chance at the grand slam, long shot but though it may be.

At this writing, he's currently not in a hot streak. Also, a recent cut finger which required six stitches did not help his game. His showing in the T-Bird Open was poor, but we must say ARNIE is really at his best when all the chips are down.

So the Government's Going to Cut Taxes...

One of the last of the big spenders, President JOHN F. KENNEDY has laid aside his whip temporarily and now is dangling a carrot before the beleaguered taxpayer.

Administration talk of income tax cuts has been trotted out again, dusted off and prepared as another nice dose of patent hogwash.

With the budget becoming further unbalanced each day, President KENNEDY and his cohorts are asking the public to believe the Government will cut its income.

January 1 is supposedly, the effective date for income tax reduction. Would you like to hear a preview of the excuses which will be offered when no tax cut is forthcoming?

It goes something like this: "We'd like to cut income taxes, and we had planned to. But we have been unable to raise revenue from other sources, and of course we don't want to cut services. Soooo..."

The Administration pie-in-the-sky eating contest should be part of the July 4 holiday activities.

Rockets Yield Benefits Fighting Forest Fires

It seems almost too much to hear of stubborn, damaging forest fires out of control. The forester's battle against the ravages of flame seldom has been a winning one, and recent news is like a last stroke of ill luck.

But possibly the tide soon may be turned. The U.S. Forest Service believes it is close to a breakthrough, with a new radio-controlled glide bomb bearing fire-fighting chemicals.

The promising missile will be tested on actual forest fires this year. More experiments will follow if the first proves out.

Chemical air attack on fires is not new. But direct bombing is dangerous. In 1961 it cost the lives of seven pilots and foresters. A guided missile would be a great advance.

Michigan, with all its beautiful forests, is a prime target each year for these costly and devastating fires. Any new successful method to fight the fires is welcome news.

If this experiment works, chalk it up as an impressive by-product of our advances in military and space rocketry. For that is where the idea was born.

On 1867 Fire Run Not MAT's Race Picks

Most capably conducting the recent dedication of Pontiac's new central fire station

Asst. City Atty. Sherwin Birnkant led with the interesting quote relating to the early days of the station built in 1867 at Pike and Perry Streets and now vacated:

"The Star Hose Company could harness the horses, get up a head of steam, gallop to Clinton River bridge near Saginaw and Patterson, and draft water in record time of five minutes."

This sparks a nostalgic recollection of the days of horse-drawn equipment... and how in thrilling expectancy the small fry, and their dads, too, lined up at the neighborhood stations for the morning and afternoon "practice hitches."—Sort of infield practice for the horses, you know, to keep 'em alert and on their hooves.

Bridging thoughts, the dedicatory remarks were made by

With the country rapidly going overboard for boating, Editor's note—watch the puns. MAT's elementary safety demands some immediate form of pilot regulation. This column is not posted on the pending legislation in Lansing covering this need, but it is a safe bet that any regulatory provision would be all to the good.

David Lawrence Asks:

WHY Did Confidence Weaken?

WASHINGTON—Confession of error may be good for the soul—but this doesn't seem to be the case for the soul of the politician.

President Kennedy is sensitive to the criticism that his Administration is against business. But it is evident he has either failed to read or prefers to ignore the leading reasons why businessmen are fearful and distrustful.

If only the President had said in his speech at Yale this week that he had made a mistake—that he would not go beyond the law and seek to punish those who disagree with him.

If only he had cleared the air and acknowledged that, until Congress passes a law fixing wages and prices, the Administration has no right to exert the kind of pressure used in the steel controversy.

American businessmen would breathe easier today, the stock market would rise rapidly, and America would be traveling the road that leads to recovery and prosperity.

But, instead, the Monday speech was in a sense deflated and scornful of critics.

AMBIGUOUS THREAT

The President, moreover, included an ambiguous threat when he said: "If a contest in policy argument were forced upon it, no Administration could shrink from response, and history does not suggest that American presidents are totally without resources in an engagement forced upon them because of hostility in one section of the society."

Since when in free America is debate taboo? What does all this mean? Is it a warning that the views of the man in the White House must be treated grudgingly lest he get mad and let loose more reprisals? That paragraph in the speech will produce its own dialogue for a long time to come.

The President is his speech at Yale denounced as a "myth" the idea that federal deficits are inflationary. He decried criticism of un sound fiscal policy and declared that an "honest assessment" requires a more sophisticated view than the cliché that deficits are inflationary.

Mr. Kennedy shows evidence of resentment because businessmen still can't understand his tactics in the steel controversy.

For he proceeded therein without law when he endeavored to intimidate the business management of American industry in the making of prices. He still declares he was merely acting in the "public interest."

The Country Parson

Men, by custom, and a few wise women, have always known that for work or sport involving long standing or walking, only stout shoes of the Oxford type worn over thick, soft socks will provide real comfort and efficiency.

Any father, husband, boyfriend, or drug-store cowboy ought to be as concerned about the health of his womenfolk as about his own. He may timidly suggest giving up or loudly forbid—as his rank permits—the use of silly shoes.

But the national economy hasn't been the same since.

"What we need," said the President further on in his speech "is not more labels and more clichés, but more basic discussion of the sophisticated and technical questions involved in keeping our mighty economic machine moving steadily ahead."

DEPENDS ON EACH

"It is true—and of high importance—that the prosperity of this country depends on assurance that all major elements within it will live up to their responsibilities.

If business were to neglect its obligations to the public; if labor were blind to all public responsibility; above all, if government were to abandon its obvious—and statutory—duty of watchful concern for our economic health—if any of these things should happen, then confidence might well be weakened, and the danger of stagnation would increase. This is the true issue of confidence."

And what did happen recently to weaken confidence? The President cracked down on business but not on labor.

Every president in recent years has made a declaration equally general in phrasing as the last paragraph of the above quotation from Mr. Kennedy's speech.

The people haven't exactly lived up to such "platitudes," but they do want government itself to obey some of them and to pay heed to the lessons of history.

For these reveal that a government which continually spends more than it takes in and a government that attempts in a one-sided way to control by artificial measures the workings of the national economy sooner or later into the ditch of recession or depression. (Copyright 1962)

Dr. William Brady Says:

High-Heeled Working Girls Begging for Poor Health

Beauty operators, walking to work in the local salon these mornings, appear tired, anxious, pained. Did I say walking? I meant hobbling! On their hobble, back home at night, the faces reflect more strain, weariness and dejection.

The postures of these women are pitiful: the shoulders are rounded, the chests sunken, the pelvises tipped, the entire body thrown out of line over extremely high heels. Patrons of the salons tell me the beauticians work on these high heels eight to 10 hours a day!

It shouldn't take more than a grain of intelligence to know that the fitting, low-heeled shoe—certainly for the working day—are essential to physical and mental well-being. Housewives, clerks, factory workers, all who wear high-heeled pumps, sandals, clogs and other fancy footgear to work are just begging for poor health!

If a girl wants headaches, menstrual disorders, backaches, irritability, or more serious ailments requiring medical attention, that's what she will have.

If she agrees that her health and her continued well-being are more important than her appearance, she will provide herself with one or two pairs of decent shoes, and the evil world of nursing have long used.

Schoolgirls today whether by design or custom will contribute better babies. They wear flat, rounded shoes which allow full use of toes and foot muscles. It's a refreshing sight when they stride gracefully past.

They are without question more glamorous than the freaks who hobble past painfully, elevated on the latest fashions complete with glitter and plastic, and buns and corsets.

Men, by custom, and a few wise women, have always known that for work or sport involving long standing or walking, only stout shoes of the Oxford type worn over thick, soft socks will provide real comfort and efficiency.

Any father, husband, boyfriend, or drug-store cowboy ought to be as concerned about the health of his womenfolk as about his own. He may timidly suggest giving up or loudly forbid—as his rank permits—the use of silly shoes.

Two Washington Junior High students are raising money for Albert Schweitzer's hospital at Lambaré, French Equatorial Africa. Members of the community should be made aware of the present efforts of Mary Fell and Joyce Adams who devote their time to such a noble cause. It is not often when this type of reaction or response occurs in the classroom. It indicates there are some students whose thoughts do not terminate in the "television room" of the home. It is a credit to Washington Junior High.

Scout Volunteers Write of Problems

What's happened to democracy? An adult volunteer of the local Girl Scouts must not disagree with headquarters or she'll be relieved of her duties. There's no freedom of speech or secret ballot here. It's time for a council meeting to get things done properly. What are they trying to hide?

Disgruntled Volunteer

Activities of the local Girl Scout Council have caused a lot of discussion among volunteers. The Board of Directors agrees to all proposals brought by the president and executive. If they do not, they are soon relieved of their duties.

The executive complains about all she has to do, but she won't let the volunteers do the work delegated to them. This is a volunteer organization and until it is put back into the hands of the volunteers it will not be a success.

'Delivery, Labor Rooms Differ'

"Ed" stated men should be allowed in the delivery room. In "Look," Dr. Damon says, "In the hours before the birth of the baby, we used to take the husbands away from the father's room to smoke and sweat it out. Now he can come into the labor room and hold her hand. If the husband has attended natural childbirth classes he can be a calming influence. But the worry-wart husbands drive doctors and nurses and even patients crazy."

There is a lot of difference between a labor room and a delivery room. I agree with Dr. Damon.

Career or College-Bound

Luggage: Perfect Gift

By HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you're looking for a gift for the male graduate that will be appreciated for years to come, why not choose hand-some luggage?

According to surveys of student preferences, luggage has always been among the top 10 most wanted gifts. The high school graduate will find it perfect for his college needs. For the college grad, whose set is probably badly worn after four years of hard use, it's a good start for his business career.

Now, the traditional pair is usually a two-suit and companion case, but "suiters" are available to accommodate from one to four suits. A boy going to college probably would be able to use one with a larger capacity than the two-suit.

Where color is concerned, browns and tans are still the favorites, but since the new molded luggage has caught on, gray is considered a handsome choice, especially for the man who is clothes-conscious.

In "soft" luggage, including trailing garment bags and duffles, there is a wide choice of cover textures and colors, from tweeds to plaids, and this type luggage comes in all materials, from vinyl to a variety of fabrics.

Most cover fabrics are treated for greater service with spot and mildew resistant finishes and waterproofing, so that a conservative color is no longer necessary to insure longer use.

All current luggage is considerably lighter than that introduced even as late as five years ago. New construction materials and newer methods of manufacturing combine lightness and strength. Even locks and hardware are much improved so that they are stronger and more functionally designed.

If you plan to give a single case as a graduation gift match it to other luggage already owned by the recipient. If he owns no other luggage as yet, choose the case from a pattern in which additional cases may be added on future gift occasions.

Hillsdale Graduate Prepping for Pro Bid as Kicking Specialist

Former Waterrord Star Clay Roth Signed by Lions

By CHUCK ABRAHAM
Former Waterrord football star Clayton H. Roth has signed with the Detroit Lions.

The recent Hillsdale graduate picked the Lions despite similar offers from three other National Football League clubs "because they have always been my dream team." He had always hoped to make the grade in Detroit if he ever played any pro sport.

Similar offers had been made to him by the Baltimore Colts,

The Chicago Bears and St. Louis Cardinals.

Roth gave serious consideration to an offer made by the new Jackson, Mich. entry in the United Football League before inking a contract.

The big interest in the 6-1, 210 pounder is largely due to his outstanding kicking ability special-izing in kickoffs and placekicks.

WAS FREE AGENT
Bud Erickson, Assistant General Manager and Public Relations Director of the Detroit Football Company, said Roth was signed as a free agent after being recommended as a kicker.

Clay has played a key role in the great success of the Dales in recent years playing end besides using his educated toe.

Roth gained National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics All-State honors last fall as a kicker in his college career. He led Hillsdale scorers with 46 points and paced the entire state in extra points and kicking record converting 25 of 27 tries.

Three field goals also helped him catch the eyes of college scouts.

The big college showing followed right on the heels of some excellent playing and booting at Waterrord under Dave Freeman.

He topped all Michigan extra point kickers with 24 for 26.

Hopet of getting a good chance to show what he can do for Detroit head coach George Wilson and his staff, Roth is already working out in preparation for the start of the annual summer camp at Cranbrook July 24.

WORKING OUT
He did a lot of placekicking trying to improve this spring at the college field and now is doing a lot of running and working with weights to build his legs.

The Drayton Plains resident hopes to do more kicking soon at Waterrord and Kettering.

The Lions are badly in need of a steady booter with the great Jim Martin now retired and in the coaching ranks.

Wayne Walker, who failed to prove he could fill the bill last fall, appears to be the top candidate with newly acquired quarterback Milt Plum. He is interested in battling for the job.

Roth feels he would have the advantage over the others if kept only to kick where both Walker and Plum are regular players.

He thinks he could make it as a kickoff man now and could be the pleasant leader with more improvement and "some breaks." The ex-Dale agrees with the famed Lou Groza's claim that co-ordination and speed in locking the leg make the difference in kicking.

Although most rookies try to boost their weight before entering pro camp, Clay is doing the opposite. He wants to get down to 200 before making his bid for the big time.

"They have indicated they want me primarily for kicking but I will be willing to do anything to play," he said.

DAD WAS STAR
Roth, whose father Clayton Sr. was a star end at College of Emporia, turned his attention to kicking in high school observing that there were very few strong kickers.

He increased his power from 10 to 15 yards one year by inventing a leg exerciser using ropes, pulleys, weights and a hook for his kicking shoe.

Clay played three years of baseball at Hillsdale where he majored in physical education and was a member and officer of the groves athletic club.

Regardless of how he does with the Lions, the former Skipper has plans to further his education in preparation for the future. He has been accepted at Michigan State to graduate work in recreation administration.

The schooling may have to come between January and July each year because the local boy hopes to be busy trying to come close to some of the records set by his idol Groza during the football months.

AP Photos
LOCAL LION HOPEFUL — Clay Roth, former Waterrord and Hillsdale star, has signed with the Detroit Lions. He will report to training camp July 24 hoping to make the team as a kicking specialist for extra points, field goals and kickoffs.

Tam O'Shanter Assistant Gains Pro-Am Spotlight

Keith Baines, one of Warren Orlick's assistants at Tam O'Shanter, has been visiting Meadowbrook pro Paul Shepherd Monday in a rain-battered Pro-Am Best Ball golf tournament at Farmington Country Club.

The 30-year-old Baines, a native of Watford, England, said 37-36-71 yesterday to divide low pro honors with racy Ralph Blomquist, a native of California and part-time tourist.

Blomquist, who lives in suburban Los Angeles, has been visiting Meadowbrook for the past two weeks and Michigan PGA officials granted him permission to play in the Pro-Am events.

Despite a steady downpour, Blomquist birdied six holes, four on the back nine, while shooting 37-32-71 over Farmington's par 73-72-72 course.

Baines, who turned pro when he was 16, came to Tam O'Shanter from England in mid-April and this is his first trip to the winner's circle.

There were four "birds" on Baines' scorecard, three on the back nine.

Managers Battle in Yank-Baltimore Melee

Wolverines Continue Tense NCAA Play

OMAHA (AP)—Living dangerously was Michigan's trademark all season and it continues to apply in the college baseball world series. The Wolverines, who made it into the NCAA tournament after a series of extra-inning thrillers, beat Texas 3-1 in regulation time in yesterday's first round. But it took a two-run, two-out homer by Ron Tate in the ninth inning to send Michigan into the winner's bracket of the double-elimination event.

Michigan plays Holy Cross tonight. Coach Don Lund will lead from man John Key of Royal Oak to the mound in his first appearance since he won a doubleheader May 31 in the District 4 NCAA playoffs at Kalamazoo.

The Wolverines were able to get only three hits and six runners on base against Tom Belcher, Texas' ace right-hander. Three runners scored, two were out on the base paths, and only one was left on base. Texas left 13 runners stranded against Fritz Fisher, who was wild but effective in the clutch. Fisher scattered five hits.

HIT AND RUN
Lund signaled for a hit and run after Belcher walked Dick Honig with two out in the ninth. Tate drove the first pitch 380 feet off the facing of a clock atop the wall in right center field.

"It was a slider," said Tate, "a sophomore rightfielder. It was just starting to slide. I just wanted to knock the ball past an outfielder, just trying to meet it, so Honig could score from first."

Belcher's control — he walked only two — prompted Lund to call for the hit and run.

"Belcher was around the plate all the time," Lund said, "so I had Honig running. I figured the hit and run makes a better bear down a little more and hoped Tate would get one through far enough to let Honig come in from first."

"It did."

Michigan scored its first run in the fourth also after Honig walked. Tate singled Honig to third and Jim Steckley scored with a sacrifice fly that didn't travel farther than shallow left.

Don Jarrett, Dick Belcher caught it over his shoulder and Honig beat the throw with a neat hook slide.

Texas tied it in the sixth on one of Fisher's nine walks, a double and Belcher's grand slam.

Fisher had excellent control. Said Lund, "He was wild but when he needed to get it over, he did."

Managers Battle in Yank-Baltimore Melee

THIS STARTED IT ALL — It looks mean anything, the expression on the face of Baltimore manager Billy Hitchcock last night doesn't bode well for the Yankees. Hitchcock is kneeling beside stricken Baltimore outfielder Boog Powell.

AP Photos
Boog Powell who was struck on the head by a pitch. A general melee started in the Yankee half of the inning when Baltimore's Robin Roberts whipped a pitch behind Roger Maris' head.

Larry Tries Again Tonight
From Our News Wires
NEW YORK — Detroit's crippled Tigers go up against the gun to night facing their toughest crisis of the 1962 season.

Burdened with the combined miseries of ailments and a losing streak, manager Bob Schefling's team opens a two-game series with the New York Yankees in the definite shortener's role — an unusual Detroit casing here.

Schefling, whose team has lost seven of its last nine games, will make the gamble of shooting sore arm Frank Lar, the erstwhile Yankee killer, at the Yanks in the opener.

"I won't go very far with him (Lar)," Schefling said. "If he doesn't have it, I'll have to pull him right away."

Both clubs are shadows of the contending warriors that dominated the American League pennant race last season, with injuries weeding out star performers.

The Tigers are without services of Al Kaline and Billy Brutto, while Lar and relief pitcher Terry Fox have been at best ineffective.

YANKS HURTING
And the Yankees are not much better off. Their injured list includes such luminaries as Mickey Vernon and relief pitcher Luis Arroyo.

The woes of the Tigers and Yankees, to Schefling, are the story of the American League standings so far this year.

"If either team had been healthy," he said, "they'd be five games in front."

They had eight straight games scheduled with the last two teams in the league. The hitting falloff and they managed to win only two.

Brutto's torn thigh muscle may be even worse than at first believed. Schefling said Brutto may be out for two weeks or more. At first the speculation was a week's chances were heard even in Las Vegas, when after the injury, their pennant chances became an 8-1 bet, rather than the previous 3-1.

Confronting the experts, the Bengals came to life and managed to win seven of 10 on the strength of a ferocious hitting assault.

Oriole Beamed, Maris Deeked Causing Conflict

Pitchers Spectators Until Order Restored; Powell Recovers

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP)—The reports on the conflict were conflicting.

New York Yankees Manager Ralph Houk said Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock said his (Houk's) men were throwing at him (Hitchcock's) men. Hitchcock said he said no such thing.

Roger Maris, who was mad at Baltimore catcher Hobie Landrih, but he wouldn't say why. Robin Roberts wouldn't say anything.

And there was little love lost today among the Yankees and the Orioles after a beating of Baltimore's rookie outfielder John (Boog) Powell. That led to a Roberts' pitch that sailed over Maris' head, and then a swirling melee on the Yankee Stadium ground that the cops had to quell.

HE'S ALL RIGHT
Powell apparently wasn't hurt seriously. He was taken to a hospital where X-rays were negative, and it was anticipated that he would regain his hit in Boston tonight.

Powell was hit on the head by a pitch by Bud Daley in the fourth inning of a game which the Orioles won 3-2.

He was taken off on a stretcher.

When Maris stepped to the plate in the Yankee half of the inning, the first pitch by Roberts sailed over his head to the screen. Roger advanced toward the mound, but in hand, to discuss the situation.

Landrih, who kept his mask on, rushed out and intercepted him halfway, along with plate umpire Charley Berry.

Houk joined the ensuing conflict, then Hitchcock, then almost everybody, except Roberts, who surveyed it all in solitary splendor on the mound.

POLICE ARRIVE
Houk suddenly erupted with rage, and it finally took the police to get him off the field. He and Hitchcock were thrown out.

Maris then hit a soft fly to right. "Hitchcock shouted at me: 'You threw at my man,' said Houk. 'That's when I blew my first. I knew Daley wouldn't throw at him.'"

"I said no such thing," Hitchcock said. "I said, 'my man's in the hospital.'"

"Besides, they've been throwing at my men all during the series. Just look up how many of my men have hit the dirt. I also told Daley he had better control than that."

Daley, pulled for a pinch hitter after five innings, left the premises early. His catcher, Elson Howard, said Daley did not throw at Powell. "Why should we? He's an out man," Howard said.

Hitchcock said he did not order Roberts to throw at Maris.

"How could I," he said. "I was in the clubhouse with my man who was hit in the head. I didn't even speak to Roberts."

Little's Support Gaining for Open

Injured Palmer Question Mark Now for Meet

Middlecoff, Burke and Player Picking Defending Champion

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP)—Back to back championships in the National Open Golf Tournament for Gene Littler?

Support was mushrooming today for golf's quiet man in the wake of Littler's own brilliant play this year and more were for tournament favorite Arnold Palmer.

Palmer severely gashed a finger on his right hand in a freak accident just when he was confident he had shaken a cold that kept him sub par physically for nearly two weeks.

LIKES CHAMP

"Littler's my pick," said two-time former Open champion Cary Middlecoff as he and the other early arrivals relaxed after a practice round at the 6,894-yard Oakmont Country Club course, where the 62nd U.S. Open Championship begins on Thursday.

"You don't have to be a big hitter to score on this course," said the Memphis dentist. "You have to be able to drive straight and putt well on these slick greens. Littler's playing beautifully, has been all year. Unless he has a big letdown after winning that big one in New Jersey Sunday (the $100,000 Golf Classic at Clifton, where Littler nailed the $25,000 first prize), he can do it. I'll tell you this—he's playing better now than he was at this time last year."

A year ago, the soft-spoken Californian quietly and surely turned another fabled course like this one, the Oakland Hills Country Club near Pontiac, Mich., for his first Open title. It, too, was a course that demanded great accuracy off the tee and a sure putting touch.

Gary Player, the little South African, and veteran Jackie Burke are others who like Littler's chances to become the first defending champion to repeat since Ben Hogan in 1950-51. "That 31 on the front nine Sunday was just amazing, considering the wind and the general conditions," said Burke. "He's playing at his peak."

A doctor took six stitches in Palmer's third finger on his right hand to close the wound he suffered while he was putting his gaze in the trunk of his car late Sunday night at the nearby LaTrobe, Pa., airport. The gash went all the way to the bone alongside the knuckle.

"It didn't hurt much," the Masters champion said after a practice round late Monday in which he attacked the ball with as much gusto as usual. In fact, Palmer seemed considerably relieved that he could hit so well despite the heavy bandage on his finger. He "guessed" he shot about par, he said.

Pirates and Mets Win

Spoiler Phils Halt Card Streak

By the Associated Press

Down on paper as a soft touch, Philadelphia's spoiler Phillies have ripped up the sheet by throwing another roadblock at one of the National League's pennant hopefuls and adding the following entry to their streak-snapping log:

June 11 — Beat St. Louis 8-5, snapping Cardinals seven-game winning streak.

Monday night's entry was the fourth in a series.

On May 11—The third-place Cincinnati Reds had a six-game winning streak. The Phils won 6-5.

On May 31—The first-place San Francisco Giants had a seven-game winning streak. The Phils won 5-2.

On June 2 — The Los Angeles Dodgers, tied for first place, had a 13-game skinn. The Phils won 7-6.

NEW SPOILERS?

That's the way it's been for the Phils, who don't seem to be getting places in the NL pennant scramble but could have quite a bit to say about who does.

The victory over the Cardinals dropped St. Louis into fifth place behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who moved up with a 6-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. In the only other game played, the New York Mets defeated Houston 3-1. San Francisco and Cincinnati were rained out.

In the American League, idle Minnesota took over first place when Baltimore knocked New York back with a 5-3 decision over the Yankees. Cleveland moved in to a tie for second with the Yanks, a half-game back, by whipping Boston 10-0 in the only other game scheduled.

Too Many Important Issues Remain

Laos Still Depends on U.S. Advice

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Even if the newly announced Laotian government becomes functional the Kennedy administration will not be through making decisions regarding the little country. Aside from the permanent importance of coalitions which include Communists, overwhelming important issues remain. Among them:

- 1. Formalization of the Geneva big-power agreement last year guaranteeing Laotian neutrality and providing for removal of all foreign forces.
- 2. How to prevent the Communists from using it as an infiltration springboard across Cambodia.
- 3. How to convince Thailand and South Vietnam that the recognition of Communist interests in Laos and withdrawal of the American military does not put a precedent for them. (There is a difference in this case from the original partitioning of Vietnam, which did not give the Communists rights throughout the whole country.)

Some assessment of the prospects for peace and independence in Laos may be possible when it is learned just how the Communists were persuaded to give up their demands for control of the army and the police.

And whether the newly agreed-upon premier, Souvanna Phouma, who seems to have obtained this control, will really content himself neutrally. His actions have not always been reassuring for the West.

If the Soviet Union played any hand in this agreement by the Communists, there may be some chance.

But in Austria, the one place where East-West agreement has produced neutrality since the Cold War, there was no question of going off and leaving a well-organized Communist group in the government and in control of a large section of the country.

And there is the usual very strong suspicion — almost the certainty — that the Communists have not agreed to anything which they think will damage their chances for expansion in Southeast Asia, a chance which was almost nil in Europe.

The suit preference signal has entered bridge to stay. This signal is simple. Under certain conditions the play of a high card asks your partner to lead the higher of the two side suits; the play of a low card asks him to lead a card in the lower.

One point of play that Sidney Skidder and I are in complete agreement about is that this convention is greatly abused. Specifically, we are convinced that unless a shift is obviously called for the play of a high card says, "Partner continue the suit," while the play of a low card says, "Partner lead something else, but you choose the suit yourself."

Now look at today's hand. North and South bid very well to reach a slam. South's bidding clearly gave the message: Partner, bid six if you can handle the second club lead. North read the message loud and clear.

It was unfortunate indeed that they landed at six spades instead of six hearts or diamonds, either of which would have made easily. West opened the king of clubs and East played the jack as a come-on, not a request for a shift to hearts.

West obliged and dummy had to ruff with a high trump whereupon East eventually made his ten spot. Of course, South could still have made the hand after this play, but you can have fun working out the series of plays if you wish.

Investors Seek Refuge

Gold Issues Reach New Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—Investors continuing to seek refuge in gold mining issues as the overall stock market resumed its decline in active trading early today.

Say Government Adds to Trouble

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional action today tending to get rid of excess strategic materials is sometimes buying more of the same.

The General Accounting Office (GAO), in a report on efforts to eliminate more than $15 billion worth of stockpile excess, said it found the government paid millions of dollars for rubber for foreign aid while stockpiled rubber went begging.

The agency, which watches over government spending for Congress, also said a Senate bill would require the Defense Department to eliminate surplus items which are going begging in government warehouses.

The GAO said it was submitting to President Kennedy proposals to stop such practices.

John L. Cronin of the GAO, who helps manage the government's stockpile, and other GAO officials appeared before the special stockpile subcommittee to seek approval for selling surplus items ranging from silk to tin, and brought a cost of $17.4 million.

The government estimates it can sell the items for $150 million, the subcommittee approved a disposal resolution and sent it to the armed services committee.

The agency, which watches over government spending for Congress, also said a Senate bill would require the Defense Department to eliminate surplus items which are going begging in government warehouses.

The GAO said it was submitting to President Kennedy proposals to stop such practices.

John L. Cronin of the GAO, who helps manage the government's stockpile, and other GAO officials appeared before the special stockpile subcommittee to seek approval for selling surplus items ranging from silk to tin, and brought a cost of $17.4 million.

The government estimates it can sell the items for $150 million, the subcommittee approved a disposal resolution and sent it to the armed services committee.

Going, Going, Gong Is Telephone Chime

NEW YORK (AP)—One more familiar sound of modern living is headed for oblivion.

In place of the chime that once when you drop a coin into the pay telephone will be—silence on the caller's end of the line, at least.

The disappearance of chimes from pay telephones is being tested in New York City.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. expects to use the new model in replacing worn or damaged phones and also in new installations.

System accounts for about 85 percent of the nation's 75 million phones.

For over 30 years telephone operators have been clicking on pay telephone call buttons through the chimes and gongs, telling exactly how much money you've put in the slot.

No chimes or bongs at all for the new model. An electric tone, similar to a beep, is transmitted to the operator, enabling her to tell how much you've put in. You don't hear it.

The new model is the first major overhaul of the coin box phone, an AT&T spokesman said.
