

Historic Civil Rights Measure Clears Congress

JUDGES RUNNING — Backing up their announcements to seek election this fall to Oakland County Circuit Court, Judges (from left) Philip Pratt, Arthur E. Moore and James S. Thornburn, gladly unloaded nominating petitions this morning at the Secretary of State's office in Lansing. The trio, all appointed to the Circuit Court bench last year by Gov. Romney, plan to run as a slate to share campaign chores and expenses.

Viet War Will Be Issue---GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders said today the Vietnamese war will be a campaign issue this year because "President Johnson's indecision has made it one."

And this wasn't the only dig at Henry Cabot Lodge at a joint news conference held by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the Senate and House GOP leaders.

Dirksen pointedly referred to the "bankers' hours" he said Lodge kept as the vice presidential candidate on the Republican ticket in 1960.

Lodge has just returned from South Viet Nam, after resigning as the U.S. ambassador to that country.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's son, John, denied last night a report that his father would nominate Gov. William W. Scranton for president at the Republican convention.

As Halleck and Dirksen were expressing their views, Gov. William W. Scranton's backers appeared to be lying the ground work for a GOP convention platform fight to test the solidarity of Goldwater's presidential delegate strength.

He has said he doesn't see how the Vietnamese war could be a campaign issue.

Lodge's 11th-hour drive to head off front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater pits him against Dirksen, who has agreed to place Goldwater in nomination at the GOP convention in San Francisco.

Both Dirksen and Halleck read statements saying that administration policy in South Viet Nam, or what they termed the lack of it, will be a campaign issue this year.

"Contradictions, confusion and vacillation abound" in the administration's policy toward the war-torn Southeast Asian nation, Halleck said.

Many Employees to Get Friday Off

Tomorrow will be a holiday for most Pontiac city and Oakland county officials and GMC Truck & Coach Division employees.

Pontiac banks and retail stores and Tel-Huron, Mail and Miracle Mile shopping centers will observe regular business hours, however, and remain closed all day Saturday for the July 4 holiday.

Most Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Division employees will also work regular hours tomorrow and observe the holiday on Saturday.

Saturday mail delivery will be limited to perishables and special delivery, and post office windows will be closed all day.

Construction Proceeds on Schedule

Construction of a 180,000-square-foot addition to the Pontiac Motor Division foundry is proceeding on schedule, according to E. M. Estes, Pontiac general manager.

Erection of the steel framework has been completed, Estes said today, and the roof is being added.

The structure is connected to the present foundry at Montcalm and Glenwood streets. Work on the interior of the building is scheduled to begin soon. Pontiac officials say they expect to run the first castings through the new plant shortly after Labor Day.

The new facilities and modernization will substantially increase the foundry's daily output capacity, based on a regular two-shift operation.

New machinery to be installed will improve accuracy of castings and increase continuous operating limits.

FINISHING ROOM

A new finishing room will house the latest sand cleaning equipment with a greater capacity for cleaning castings.

Will Compete in Seven Sports

To Begin in Fall on 'Low Pressure' Basis

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, The Pontiac Press

Intercollegiate athletics will become an integral part of the academic and physical programs at Oakland University next fall.

Hollis Lepley, physical director at the university, made the announcement yesterday after approval for entering intercollegiate competition was given by D. B. Varner, university Chancellor, earlier this week.

"We will enter competition in seven sports, keeping athletics as a close, integral part of our university activities and staying away from high-pressure recruiting or scheduling," said Lepley.

No athletic scholarships will be awarded. The OU program will be similar to that formalized by the President's Athletic Conference, with which Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities are affiliated.

The conference recognizes only scholarships given on an academic basis.

SPORTS PLANNED

Competition beginning in September will start with golf, tennis and cross country.

Basketball, fencing and swimming competition will take over the athletic program in the winter, and next spring, track will be added to a continued golf and tennis schedule.

Lepley announced that competition will be predominantly with Michigan Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) teams along with smaller independents in Michigan and Ohio. Teams in MIAA include Adrian, Albion, Alma, Hope, Olivet and Kalamazoo.

SCHEDULING DIFFICULT

Scheduling at this time is difficult, said Lepley, "as most 1964-65 schedules are complete."

But we hope to enter many events as triangular and quadrangular matches where we are unable to have dual competition arranged."

"Most of our events will be scheduled for Friday evenings and Saturdays so as not to interfere with a student's class work," Lepley added.

Tells of Sparkler Danger

Sparklers came under attack today by a Pontiac Fire Department official in warning of the dangers of Fourth of July fireworks.

While fireworks for the general public are illegal in Michigan, sparklers are not, even though they pose a constant fire threat, said Fire Marshal Charles Metz.

"Would you consider anything that burns at 1,600 degrees as safe for children?" said Metz. "The sooner they do away with all these things, even caps for toy guns, the better off children and parents will be," he said.

Metz noted the hazards of sparklers by citing two cases in recent weeks where sparklers have started fires in Pontiac.

TWO CASES

In one instance a garage caught fire after children tossed sparklers on the roof; in the other, a child playing with a sparkler set a bedroom on fire.

Some Michigan communities have implemented the state law forbidding fireworks by adopting local ordinances banning sparklers.

In Pontiac, an ordinance governs the sale of sparklers only by designating that they must be stored in a metal container, according to Metz.

Gala Events to Mark 4th in This Area

Ten area communities have planned special events to mark the July 4 holiday.

In three, Udon, Lake Orion and Clarkston, one or more full days of gala activities are planned.

The other seven will celebrate primarily with fireworks displays at dusk. They are Auburn Heights, Keego Harbor, Rochester, Milford, Troy, Orionville and Oxford.

However, the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation announces there will be no fireworks display at Oakland Park Saturday. In past years, the city has cosponsored the fireworks there.

U. S. Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., will lead the Udon parade which marks the opening of the Udon Lanes holiday celebration and homecoming.

STARTS AT 10 A.M.

The march starts at 10 a.m. at the high school and will end its way south down Cass, then west on Auburn to a block-off area for the after-parade festivities.

Parades on both water and land, dances, and basketball games will highlight the Lake Orion annual Small Fry Days celebration over the Fourth of July weekend.

The four-day program will open with a teen dance at the Youth Center at 8 tonight. Starting tomorrow's festivities will be a girls' baseball game at 10 a.m.

ALL-STAR GAME

An all-star (Senior League) game is slated for 6 p.m. to be followed at 9 by the Merry Maker Square Dance at 1 S. Supermarket.

The agenda for Independence Day will include the 10:30 a.m. parade starting at Atwater Park, merchants and pony game at 1 p.m., Babe Ruth game at 4 and an adult dance at Al Hauout's show-room at 9.

Closing event will be the colorful Venetian Parade of boats on Lake Orion at 1 p.m.

All ball games will be played at Atwater Park.

MERRYMAKERS

Clarkston merry-makers will get a treat with the three circus performances and the participation of wild animals in the annual Fourth of July parade.

Expect LBJ to Quickly Sign Bill Into Law

House Stamps Its OK on Senate Changes by 289-to-126 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress rapidly completed action on the civil rights bill today as the House passed the historic measure, 289-126, and sent it to the White House to be signed into law.

House approval of the Senate-passed bill brought to an end a year-long legislative struggle against a background of rising racial tensions.

President Johnson is expected to sign the bill quickly in hopes its bars against discrimination will help ease the pressure of civil rights demonstrations and countermeasures taken to oppose them.

Negro leaders have promised a quick test of some of the bill's provisions, and some Southern members of Congress have predicted the first results of its passage will be increased violence, not a lessening of it.

The House originally passed its own version of the bill last February, 290 to 130.

IN SENATE

In the Senate, Southerners battled the bill with a three-months debate but on June 19 the Senate finally passed it 73-27 in a revised form. That sent the bill back to the House.

There was talk at one time that the President would sign the bill with a big ceremony on July 4—Independence Day, but the White House decided instead on quick action.

Presidential Press Secretary George E. Reedy said that Johnson conferred with House Speaker John W. McCormack and other House officers and (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Senate Rejects Proposal Tying Pay Hike to Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected 65 to 26 today a proposal to defer any federal pay raises for those making $20,000 or more until the U.S. budget is balanced.

The amendment was offered by Sen. John F. Williams, R-Del., who said it would offer a tremendous incentive to those in the top levels of government to stop red ink spending.

This was the first vote today as the Senate resumed consideration of a $584 million pay hike bill covering 1.7 million employees.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana obtained a debate limiting agreement expected to bring passage of the measure some time in the afternoon.

The Williams amendment would have deferred increases of $7,000 to $10,000 for federal executives, $7,500 for members of Congress and U.S. judges, and of up to $4,500 for those in the top grades of Civil Service.

The Delaware senator declared that rejection of his proposal would be "an admission that you don't ever expect a balanced budget."

"The Democratic party," he said, "has been able to balance the budget only three times in this century. I have no confidence it ever intends to balance the budget, after the tax cut bill it put through this year."

In the hearings on that measure, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said he expected the budget to be out of the red by fiscal 1967 starting July 1, 1966.

Teen Saves Friend From Death in Pond

A Pontiac Township teen-ager, who nearly drowned in a lake, saved his friend from death in a pond.

Clark Kirksey, 16, of 2404 Forest, was pulled to the surface yesterday afternoon by a companion, Michael Hickmott, 16, of 2878 Adams, Pontiac Township.

Kirksey was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital for observation but was to have been released this afternoon.

Hickmott told sheriff's deputies that Kirksey was swimming toward a small boat when he was in when he began thrashing around and went under.

JUMPS OVERBOARD

Hickmott jumped overboard, and after several unsuccessful attempts, was able to grab Kirksey's wrist.

Another friend, Lynn Carter, 15, of 70 Delevan, helped bring Kirksey to shore where he associated. The lake is off Baldwin, off Delevan, Pontiac Township.

Italy Awaits Naming of Moro as Premier

ROME (AP) — President Antonio Segni ended today his political consultations in Italy's government crisis and the nation awaited the naming of Aldo Moro as premier.

Newspapers headlined that he would ask Moro within a day or two to return as premier — presumably at the head of another center-left coalition.

Sen. John F. Williams, D-Ark., supporting the amendment, declared "We do not have a moral right to raise our salaries and charge it to future generations."

SENATE AS DELAY

But Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, opposing it, said the effect could be to put off the raises for eight years.

He pointed out that some economists, testifying on the tax cut bill, estimated there would not be a balanced budget until 1972.

Dick Robinson, faculty member, was named to handle cross-country, basketball and track teams.

Lepley, a former swim coach, will handle golf and swimming teams, and George Thomas, former NCAA fencing champion from Michigan State University, will handle fencing teams.

Oakland University has ultra-modern facilities comparable to many schools for basketball, swimming, tennis and fencing.

County Unit Clears Funds to Launch Divorce-Cut Plan

The first step in establishing a marriage counseling service to stem the flow of divorces passing through Oakland County courts came this morning.

For the first time, county funds were recommended to get the much-discussed program off the ground.

Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore, who led the fight for the counseling service, said it could eventually reconcile a third of the couples seeking divorce here, lower the number of children suffering from broken homes and provide a wealth of public education.

The action came from the salary committee of the County Board of Supervisors, which agreed to the cost of hiring a full-time divorce case worker.

She is Mrs. Margarita Davis, former head of the Pontiac District of Family Service of Oakland County, a private counseling agency.

Since last November, under terms of a foundation grant, she has been dividing counseling activities between delinquent casework of the juvenile court and some counseling under the Friend of the Court.

She would receive a salary of $3,723 until the end of the year, and an expected annual salary of $7,000 in the next county budget. Her temporary job title would be domestic relations investigator.

Final approval must yet come from the Ways and Means Committee, but no opposition is expected.

"We eventually expect to get another full-time marriage counselor and possibly some office staff," Judge Moore said hopefully.

VOLUNTEER PROBLEMS

The counselors would set up offices at the courthouse and begin interviewing couples voluntarily presenting their marital problems.

Such counseling may immediately help blighted marriages, said Judge Moore, or the couple could be referred to private agencies such as Family Service of Oakland County or Catholic Family Service.

Referrals will also be made to a minister, rabbi or priest of the couple's choice, and will be a mainstay in the program.

This phase would involve co-operation of all the county's 500 clergymen, incorporated as Religious Assistance and Protective Services, Inc.

This is the same set-up Judge Moore pioneered as a Probate Court judge to involve churches more directly with county juvenile delinquency programs.

Grants totaling $20,000 from two major Michigan foundations have already been pledged the corporation. With this money, a counseling field worker will mesh the court's efforts with that of the churches.

"This person, we hope, will be one of the most skillful in the United States and we hope we can pay the salary he deserves," Moore stated.

The over-all counseling program will be similar to that of the City of Los Angeles, which county officials have been initially studying the past month.

Trained counselors help marriage partners try to solve their problems, said Moore, and no one is permitted to go in and see how it works. They use a social service approach and the private discussions are never reported back to the courts.

The envisioned Oakland County marriage counseling service would use the same method and also be attached to the courts, but would not become a domestic relations court.

PER CENT OF SUCCESS

"Los Angeles has found this useful in up to 35 per cent of its divorce cases. But the point is, even if only 10 per cent success was achieved here, how wonderful it would be," Moore said.

Rights Bill Goes to LBJ

He said that it "looks like there will be a statement and ceremony early this evening." Radio and television networks will be offered the opportunity for live coverage of the event, Reedy said.

'Expect Share of Auto Profit'

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Walter R. Reuther said today his union helped Chrysler Corp. when it was in trouble and now expects the company to share its current profits with the workers.

Reuther made his remarks to newsmen as he led a team of UAW negotiators into initial bargaining talks on a new contract covering some 80,000 hourly workers at Chrysler. The present contract expires Aug. 31.

Reuther said the union had granted bargaining concessions in previous talks when Chrysler was "experiencing difficulty."

Bells to Ring for Freedom on July 4th

For four minutes Saturday, bells will toll a message of freedom throughout the Pontiac area and across the nation as a reminder of the real meaning of the July 4 holiday.

Citizens everywhere are urged to find a bell and ring it as the great bells of more than 100 churches and institutions in the area begin in chorus at 1 p.m.

The "Let Freedom Ring" campaign in the Pontiac area is being coordinated by a committee of the Greater Pontiac H-Y Council, under the direction of Jan Appel.

The "Freedom Bell" idea began in 1963 after two Connecticut men became concerned that Independence Day had evolved more into a summer holiday than a patriotic festival.

Although most states have a committee or organization appointed to develop a "Let Freedom Ring" celebration, Michigan was the only state to call upon youth to do the job.

For the second year, Gov. Romney has appointed the H-Y and Tri-H-Y Clubs of Michigan to take the leadership in the special project.

U.S. Cyprus Adviser Opposed

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—President Makarios opposes the participation of an American adviser in the United Nations effort to mediate the Cyprus dispute. Makarios said Wednesday the appointment of an American to help U.N. Mediator Sakari Tuomioja would "include the danger of involvement of the issue in other circles outside the United Nations." He apparently meant the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The United States still fears a war between NATO members.

St. Augustine to Follow Law

Businessmen to Obey Unfired Rights Bill

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—The city's top businessmen say they will abide by the civil rights bill if it is signed into law.

They said Wednesday they did not like the public accommodations section, which would force them to serve Negroes but wanted to restore racial harmony to the city.

"We're not capitulating to anybody," said James Brock, acting as spokesman for the businessmen. "We had no choice. We want to do everything we can to get our community back to normal, with harmonious relations between races."

The Chamber of Commerce also passed a resolution backing the stand taken by the businessmen.

REMOVE POLICE

Gav Farris Bryant, who named Tuesday a biracial committee that prompted a truce in the demonstrations that have rocked the city for a month, said he was pulling out a considerable part of the state police force. He didn't give a figure.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., whose Southern Christian Leadership Conference sponsored the integration push, said no more demonstrations are planned in St. Augustine unless the biracial committee fails.

Greece and Turkey over Cyprus. It offered U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant the services of a distinguished American—former Secretary of State Dean Acheson—to help the mediation effort.

Thant said he was unable to bring the two sides together.

GREEK WARNING

Greek Cyprus newspapers warned that an American adviser would involve NATO.

Makarios also said Wednesday he would not attend the Commonwealth prime ministers conference in London next week.

He said the situation in Cyprus was too tense for him to leave for 10 days. But his boycott was considered a protest against renewed British support of the 1960 Cyprus independence agreements, allowing Britain, Greece and Turkey to intervene on the island.

The Greek government denied Wednesday it had sent any of fleets or soldiers to Cyprus other than replacements for the 600-man Greek garrison.

WEAPONS RUNNING

A U.N. spokesman said, however, "certain movements and suspicious activities" by Greek and Turkish nationals indicated that weapons were being smuggled to the island. The Turks were doing most of the arms trafficking, he said.

For the first time since he arrived on Cyprus three weeks ago, Lt. Gen. George Grivas, the former anti-British Cypriot underground leader, conferred with a U.N. official.

Canada May Put Toll

on Blue Water Bridge

PORT HURON (AP)—A Canadian official said Wednesday that a 25-cent-a-car toll may be imposed on the Blue Water Bridge which spans the St. Clair River between Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont.

Thomas E. Milway of Sarnia, a member of the Blue Water Bridge Authority set up recently by the Canadian government, said the fee would be imposed on cars at the Ontario end of the international bridge. The funds would be used to maintain and operate the bridge, he said.

the Greek defense department, told Gato Plaza, the special U.N. representative, he does not plan to take any official post in the Makarios government. He had been widely assumed he would be named commander of all Greek Cyprus forces.

He also said the Greek Cypriots would not resort to force unless they are provoked by either Turkey or the Turkish Cypriots.

TURK CHIFFINIS

The Turkish Cypriots criticized the U.N. official for meeting with Grivas. They said his presence on the island violated the Security Council resolution asking all parties to the Cyprus dispute to refrain from actions that could aggravate the situation.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inönü met in Paris for nearly two hours Wednesday with French President Charles de Gaulle. He said de Gaulle neither offered nor had been asked to mediate.

Greek Premier George Papandreu conferred with de Gaulle on Tuesday and said Greece would welcome France's moral influence to ease the dispute. Inönü and Papandreu did not meet in the French capital.

FUND PLEDGE

In New York, the United Nations announced a U.S. pledge of up to $2.3 million to help support the U.N. peace force on Cyprus for another three months. Thant said he would need a total of $7.3 million, compared with $5.3 million for the first three months.

Rochester Area Dream Trip Shows Master-Plan Future

Take a look at the potential Rochester area of the future.

Stroll down its tree-lined Main Street mall, dotted by flower beds reflecting pools.

Drive by the Avon Township Civic Center, heart of activities and services for residents.

While you're at it, go through the vital industrial area along either side of the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

This is precisely the imaginary type of trip being taken by officials of Rochester and Avon and Pontiac townships, now studying a complete master plan for the area.

Individual unit action is expected from each of the groups within the next two weeks.

The 114-page report presented to the officials by Villan-Leman and Associates of Southfield was two years in preparation.

The planning firm, also is asking the units to consider extending its contract for another year at a cost of $22,474.

A need to retain the firm for another year was cited by Avon Township Supervisor Cyril K. Miller.

"The plan is well laid out," he said. "There could be some changes, and I would like to have their help in making them."

Several ideas are suggested in the report, with variations on many of the themes.

Pedestrian malls highlight proposals for Rochester's central business district.

Main Street sidewalks could be widened through the elimination of parking spaces on the street.

COULD BE PHENOMENAL

There could be a phenomenal increase in parking space on the street with smaller ones between stores.

Industrial growth in the community at large should be along the railroad track, planners noted. Suggested were small research or fabrication plants rather than heavy industry.

Increases were proposed in the townships' industrial acreage.

PRESENT FIGURES

Present figures show that 35.7 acres of the 145 zoned for industry in Rochester are developed.

Of the 175 acres in Avon Township, 83.2 are developed.

Charting growth projections for Avon Township, the planners considered expansion of police and fire protection, rubbish disposal and other services required in an urbanized area.

They predicted a new civic center would be needed in the immediate future.

PRESENT HALL

The present township hall, they noted, could not be expanded.

The plan, which also covers streets and roads, neighborhood units, recreation, public utilities and suggested public improvements, was prepared in co-operation with the Avon-Rochester-Pontiac Township Regional Planning Commission.

TO THE RESCUE — Pontiac Township firemen from Station No. 1 in Auburn Heights were asked to perform unusual duty the past couple of days. They manuevered a fire hydrant on South Boulevard to provide extra water to a main in Bloomfield Orchards Subdivision.

Water Pump Expected Ready

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — The two pumping stations which provide water to some 350 homes in Bloomfield Orchards Subdivision were expected to be back in full operation today.

A burned-out motor at one of the stations earlier this week prompted township officials to take emergency action so the one remaining would not be overtaxed and burn out too.

Volunteers from Fire Station No. 1 in Auburn Heights connected a hose from a fire hydrant in neighboring Bloomfield Township across South Boulevard to feed water into the unit still in operation.

Home owners also were asked to refrain from watering their lawns to assure adequate drinking water during the breakdown period.

The firemen were on the job at the hydrant about two hours

Reunion Is Planned by Rochester Class

ROCHESTER — A reunion for Rochester High School Class of 1949 is planned for Aug. 22.

A dinner dance will be held at 7 p.m. at the Elks Temple, Pontiac.

William Howell, chairman of the planning committee, requests that all members of the class contact him as soon as possible.

Committee members working with Howell are Nancy Reid Moore, Norma Shull Arnold, Gerald Anderson, Robert Sherman and Sam Davies.

Fire Levels Barn in Holly

HOLLY — A fire which leveled a barn on Cage Road last night was started by spontaneous combustion, Fire Chief Maynard Howe said.

No damage estimate has yet been made. A missing horse may have burned in the blaze. Contents of the barn have not yet been determined.

Owner of the building is Peter Bower of 1077, Gage.

Troy Slated for String Orchestra

A summer string orchestra to serve instrumentalists in the area will be formed at Troy High School Tuesday afternoon.

Freddie Johnson, conductor of Metropolitan Detroit Youth Orchestra, said present plans call for four weeks extensive study of master works for string orchestra.

Number of rehearsals and times will be decided by prospective members at their 1 p.m. meeting Tuesday.

"We feel the membership will vary from rehearsal to rehearsal," said Johnson, "because of people leaving for and returning from their vacations."

"We want to keep the rehearsals informal and as free from pressure as possible," he added. Each player will be asked for a small donation to help defray music costs.

Prospective members are asked to bring their instruments to the first session, Troy High School is on Livernois, north of 16 Mile.

New Position for Hart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., Wednesday was appointed to a new commission to study food marketing practices.

Task Force Reports Findings

Program Urged to Aid Michigan Aged

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A broad new program to help Michigan's elderly, calling in part for expanded health services and removal of many employment age barriers, was proposed Wednesday to the Michigan Commission on Aging (MCA).

Commission task forces presented the reports in answer to Gov. George W. Romney's request last November for recommendations on how to solve the problems of Michigan's aging in 10 areas.

The committees reported their findings in conjunction with U. of M.'s Conference on Aging which ended Wednesday.

Rumney, addressing the conference, promised Michigan will have a "blueprint for action for the next decade on problems of the aging."

REMOVAL OF LIMITS

Rejecting the idea of mass retraining of the elderly to provide them with skills for work, the MCA employment committee suggested removal of age limits on jobs wherever possible.

The report urged founding of preventive medicine facilities at U. of M. and the Wayne State University medical schools. It proposed expanded disease detection programs, periodic checkups of all public welfare recipients and possible state-financed preventive medicine clinics.

In housing, committees proposed loan funds for old-age housing and tax considerations for the elderly. They encouraged private construction of homes at costs within the pocketbooks of the elderly.

A unit on health and the aged proposed a review by state agencies of nursing home licensing procedures and nursing home costs. Zoning law changes were urged to allow construction of nursing homes in residential areas and near hospitals.

Another major recommendation was to consolidate programs administered by the State Department of Social Welfare in old age assistance, Aid to the Blind and Aid to the Disabled.

A committee on income favored private health insurance systems which would cover doctors' fees, drug costs and convalescent home fees.

Rumney, speaking to more than 500 persons at the conference, said "persons aged 60 and over have a great contribution to offer to our life, and every effort must be made to have them play a more vital role."

NAMED TO BOARD — Walter M. Coon, semiretired wholesale nurseryman of 3500 Grand River, Farmington, has been appointed by the County Board of Supervisors to the county's three-member Tuberculosis Sanatorium Board of Trustees. He succeeds George J. Scott for a 24-year term.

'Miss Liberty' Anniversary on 4th

Sea Captain Enamored of a 'Great Lady'

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—In 100,000 miles at sea Capt. George Clancy has never been out of sight of the Statue of Liberty.

In the last 17 years he has made 40,000 round trips from Battery Park to the statue, and brought more than 10 million tourists to see her.

He even met aboard his ship—and later married—the daughter of the National Park Service supervisor, incident who cares for the Statue of Liberty.

But Capt. Clancy has never been inside the monument himself.

"I've never had a chance," explained the cheery little Irish skipper. "As soon as I get there, I have to turn around and come back. I'll do it when I retire."

MAJOR INTEREST

But the great copper lady with the torch remains a dominant interest in the 54-year-old pilot's life. He feels that in a way he "owns a piece" of her. One of his most cherished possessions is a small piece of metal cut from the statue's base during renovation work several years ago.

And he never tires of watching the emotional reactions of his passengers on viewing the great monument that has symbolized American freedom to so many millions of arriving immigrants.

"Some of them break into tears—especially those from foreign countries," he said. "Many of them kneel and kiss the earth around the statue. Some take a bit of earth with them."

This Saturday, the Fourth of July, marks the 10th anniversary of the acceptance of the statue as a gift of the French people.

Proud as a bantam rooster, Capt. Clancy will be at the helm today of a spanking new vessel, "Miss Circle Line," as she makes her inaugural trip out to Liberty Island and a welcoming din from other ships in the harbor.

She cost $850,000, is 155 feet long, and will carry 1,837 passengers. According to Francis J. Barry, Circle Line president, she is the largest vessel of her type built in this country in 35 years.

Some tourist attractions here, such as the Shalworth Tower, and the Platoon building, and Grant's Tomb, have waved and waned in favor. But the popularity of the Statue of Liberty has increased with the passage of time.

Recently from 850,000 to 900,000 people have come to see her each year. That figure is expected to rise to at least one million annually during the New York World's Fair period.

Here are some facts visitors like to learn about Miss Liberty.

She cost $250,000, and her pedestal cost another $250,000. A $3,200,000 U.S. Museum of Immigration is being built at her base.

She weighs 225 tons, measures 305 feet from bottom of pedestal to tip of torch, has a 42-foot long right arm, and a fingernail 13 by 10 inches.

From 30 to 40 people can stand in her crown and view the Manhattan skyline. Visitors no longer are allowed to climb the 54 steps through her arm to the torch.

The permanent lights within the torch first were turned on Dec. 2, 1916, by President Woodrow Wilson. That bright beacon was darkened, for security reasons, only in wartime.

Not one in 50 visitors knows what is engraved on the 33 x 13-foot tablet Miss Liberty holds in her other hand. It carries but a famous date—July 4th, 1776.

Enjoy Water Sports— Obey Safety Rules

Two more drownings in Oakland County over the last weekend, with another on Tuesday bringing the year's total to 11, emphasize again the needless loss of life that results when those seeking fun in or on the water fail to observe the simplest rules of safety.

There are so many opportunities to learn these simple rules, through the sheriff's department, many state and local governmental agencies, through schools, churches, clubs and other groups.

Cooperating with these groups is the American Red Cross, providing as it does educational programs, films and, best of all, authorized volunteer instructors to conduct courses in swimming, lifesaving and small-craft operation.

In Oakland County alone last year, 308 of these volunteers conducted 741 classes and issued 7,806 water safety certificates to area residents. Red Cross first-aid and water safety films were shown to 41,574 individuals; and Resuscitation mouth-to-mouth breathing demonstrations were made to 25,643 audience observers.

With the long, Fourth of July weekend coming up, with area residents and thousands more from nearby points rushing in to enjoy the County's 427 lakes and lengthy stretches of shoreline, let's hope they will observe the basic rules of water safety: If swimming only where there are lifeguards—never swimming alone—never swimming immediately after a meal or when over-tired or overheated.

Americans Becoming Lawsuit Happy?

It wouldn't be stretching the truth much to say that the Country has gone suit happy. Lawsuit happy, that is.

Citizens seem ever on the alert for the least sign of culpability—real or imaginary—against which to initiate actions for damages.

Amounts sought often are of fantastic size. Although such sky-is-the-limit demands do not always materialize in judgments, jurors themselves seem to have caught the fever.

They frequently come in, with awards seemingly based on some sort of snare-the-wealth philosophy rather than realistic evaluation of the matters at issue.

A case in point is that of the Dearborn municipal judge who recently brought a $3-million suit against a hotel because accommodations he had reserved for his family of six were unavailable on arrival. The family, in New York for the World's Fair, was quartered temporarily in a private dining room of the hotel.

New York's supply of hotel rooms is currently tight as seldom before. Hotels in projecting reservation requests face an involved problem. They have to earmark accommodations far in advance against a supply of rooms that may be uncontrollably reduced on a given day.

The basis of our judge's suit, is the mental trauma allegedly suffered by his four children as result of their plight, and solicitude for unidentified other children who might undergo similar psychic disturbance.

All of which, we think is a lot of judicial double thinking. If we know anything about kids, the judge's children had the time of their lives bedded down in the hotel's private dining room, and will long remember it as one of the highlights of their visit.

We suggest that as the judge again dons his magisterial robes he review his own legal action, in the light of adult common sense.

GOP Apparently Boxes Itself In

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up.

Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson who has to run against one of them, since nothing shows a runner like the inside of a box.

They have to climb over Viet Nam: civil rights, words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle.

Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

For 10 months Henry Cabot Lodge, as U.S. ambassador, was the Kennedy-Johnson administration's chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam.

He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track.

SAID MORE.

And he said more he doesn't see how Viet Nam could become a campaign issue.

But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

They criticized the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was "why win?"

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

LBJ WEAPON

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them, since as ambassador he was part and parcel of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart.

For a while it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizona and get the nomination.

UNFIT CLAIM

He seems out of the window now, for Scranton has reached the point of saying Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How, now, could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile, Goldwater, by his vote against the civil rights bill, has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern whites.

But if he should try to appease Northern Negroes, or help Northern Republican politicians, by saying if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose the votes he gained among Southern whites without persuading Northern Negroes. There's no indication he has anything like this in mind.

HAS DELEGATES

In any event, Goldwater has a carload of convention delegates in his pocket. He worked for them the hard way and looks like a man with a stranglehold on the nomination.

David Lawrence Asks:

Does Kennedy Fit in LBJ Plan?

WASHINGTON — Maybe the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City isn't going to be a routine affair after all.

For it has become quite evident lately that the supporters of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy are determined to make an effort to get him nominated for LAWRENCE the vice presidency.

Theoretically, as of the moment, President Johnson is supposed to be making the decision as to who his running mate should be.

But if there is a stirring within the Democratic party and the question of solidarity for the campaign itself becomes crucial, Mr. Johnson may have to revise his plan.

He may find it necessary to weigh very carefully the merits of the candidacy of Bobby Kennedy in terms of what the advantages and disadvantages would be in selecting the attorney general for the vice presidential nomination.

It is significant that in an amazingly frank interview this week with Benjamin Bradlee of "Newsweek"—who was a close friend of the late President Kennedy—the attorney general said some remarkable things about his own position in the Democratic party.

LAST MAN

He is quoted as having said to Bradlee:

"Actually, I should think I'd be the last man in the world he (President Johnson) would want... because my name is Kennedy, because he wants a Johnson administration with no Kennedys in it, because we travel different paths, because I suppose some businessmen would object, and because I'd cost them a few votes in the South... I don't think as many as some say, but some."

Bradlee mentioned in passing that three Southern governors support the attorney general for the vice presidential nomination, but he didn't name them.

While there is nothing in the interview to suggest it, the attorney general may well have reasoned that he deserves more consideration from Mr. Johnson than might appear on the surface.

KEY DECISION

Thus, if he hadn't been for the decision of Bobby Kennedy's brother at the Democratic National Convention at Los Angeles in 1960, Lyndon Johnson would not be President of the United States today.

Since JFK gave LBJ his chance, political reciprocity raises a question whether LBJ should return the favor and select RFK.

That's the way it is being looked at by some of the local political leaders who are behind the candidacy of Bobby Kennedy.

As for qualifications for the vice presidency... or presidency of the United States, the attorney general thinks he has them.

He served as an intimate adviser to President Kennedy, and is said to consider himself qualified also to be either secretary of state or secretary of defense if there should be a vacancy in these Cabinet offices.

This is mentioned by Brad-lee, without attributing the thought to the attorney general himself.

Any way it is looked at, the candidacy of Bobby Kennedy for the vice presidency has in it some factors that may dramatically come to the surface when the delegates gather at Atlantic City.

Bob Considine Says:

Observer's View of Barry:

Something of a Boy Scout

BRUSSELS — The influential weekly London Observer, which drops in here like a ton of gloves bristles every Sunday morning in its Belgian readers as to what kind of a fellow they have to deal with in Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The article was illustrated, CONSIDINE by a "cut" of the Arizona which made him look just like Marshal Dillon, whose "Gunsmoke" kinescopes have a big following here.

There is the same curvilinear Western hat, the same outfit (sans badge), much the same gun, and in the background a gaunt Joshua.

Belgians, by now may conceivably construe that Barry's campaign manager is "Chester," and that "Doc" is his potential secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Most British and European papers have portrayed Goldwater as they once imagined Sen. Joe McCarthy.

DIFFERENT PICTURE

But Observer's Washington correspondent Godfrey Hodgson paints a different word picture of the senator from Arizona:

"He is a Westerner, and an optimist, and something of a boy scout."

"His grandfather, 'Big Mike,' came to Arizona from Poznan by way of London, where he married Sarah Nathan, and a California, where he sold supplies to the 49ers."

"His grandfather, 'Big Mike,' called foundry business and politics in the state and Barry grew up with it."

OVERGROWN BOY

"In many ways, Goldwater is an overgrown boy."

"He was a football star; but he is a gentle person who helps political enemies when they are in personal trouble."

"He has a quick temper, but he is a nice fellow to sit with, drinking bourbon and water, and telling sea stories."

"His hobbies are those of a healthy, unintellectual adolescent.

"He still gets in 200 hours' flying a year. He loves to explore the wilderness by canoe and takes lyrical photos of it with professional skill."

"He loves gadgets; he spends hours fiddling with his desert rig, everything in his radio house near Phoenix works with an electric eye, and he puts aircraft instrument panels into his sports cars."

Can't he all bad, observes the Observer.

In Washington:

'Suitcase Bomb' in Near Future?

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Underground nuclear testing has progressed so rapidly in the United States and Russia that "within a few years" it should be possible to develop a Hiroshima - magnitude nuclear weapon that could be carried in a suitcase.

It now seems likely, in fact, that the suitcase bombs could be made much more powerful than the Hiroshima model.

Some scientists speculate in terms of very powerful suitcase bombs indeed.

These bombs could be smuggled into the United States by agents. They could be placed in strategic locations—in or near the Pentagon, the White House, key defense industries, and at strategic locations in big cities such as New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and Dallas.

The development of underground testing in both the United States and the Soviet Union has progressed much faster than even its most ardent advocates would have predicted two years ago.

Reports received by the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency indicate the Russians have an active, well-developed program of underground testing.

If the treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union to ban nuclear testing in the atmosphere (since signed by many nations) was intended to slow the nuclear arms race between the two countries, it has not succeeded.

It now appears that nuclear weapon development in the United States and Russia will push ahead at a more rapid rate than before the treaty was signed.

It is now feasible to test nuclear weapons larger than the Minuteman and Polaris underground. (Within the next six years or so it should be possible to test weapons underground.)

Because such suitcase bombs could be planted close to their targets and would not have the inherent inaccuracies of intercontinental ballistic missiles, these small weapons (even Hiroshima magnitude) could do as much damage to key targets as would the much larger Minuteman missiles fired from thousands of miles away.

With this in mind, it is now likely that by 1970 the United States and Russia should be able to run tests that would give relatively accurate information on five- and 10-megaton warheads and bombs.

This new rush of testing will mean much more effective ICBMs and tactical battlefield nuclear weapons.

It could mean, for example, that a Minuteman ICBM containing the same amount of fissionable nuclear material as today's weapons would have twice, three times or even five times the bang.

Theoretically, the Minuteman's power could be multiplied 1,000 times. But practically, that's not around the corner.

Voice of the People:

Reader Calls Goldwater a Dangerous Radical

My reaction to all letters in the Voice of the People applauding Barry Goldwater is one of complete distaste. A recent one sought the need for another Teddy Roosevelt in the White House to improve our foreign aid program. If this man would read unbiased sources, he would find that TR practically ruined our foreign aid in South America by his dealings in Panama. I agree Goldwater would be another Teddy Roosevelt—a failure.

Many have praised Goldwater's forthright speaking. It is forthright, but he can't decide which side of which issue to be forthright upon. He advocated our withdrawal from the U.N. in 1962, now continually denies this.

Barry cries of the horrors of government takeover, yet in 1963 he fought hard for a huge dam construction, paid for entirely by the government.

A man who opposes civil rights, can't make up his mind, and would think nothing of blowing up the world, is a dangerous radical.

Wife's Mistake Led to Culinary Creation

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY
The mistake was calling the dish "Hungarian Goulash." We never knew until we went to a Hungarian restaurant for dinner.

They served us something dreadful. I complained that we had ordered Hungarian goulash, not this.

Well, the waiter brought the manager who tried to explain, but we withdrew in fairly good order although we had a sneaking suspicion that we were wrong.

Later we learned from a lady of Hungarian descent that we probably were wrong. The lady said her Hungarian ancestors would turn over in their graves at the suggestion of putting, I forget now which ingredient of my wife Mickey's recipe in goulash.

So Mickey and I conferred about it and decided to call our dish "Mickey's Mistake."

CAREFULLY FILED

Somewhere around here there is carefully filed the recipe for Mickey's Mistake as Mickey gave it—that's just one more reason why I often feel like throwing all files out and asking the junk man to take 'em away.

I remember filing the item well enough, but I can't remember under what letter.

this, my daughter, who seems to have inherited her mother's culinary gift, dropped in.

At a momentary pause in my spattering, she laughed: "Oh, is that all? 'Here it is!' and dictated the recipe as follows: 1½ cups uncooked, regular macaroni.

1½ pounds ground beef (round, preferably)

1 16-oz. can of tomatoes

6 to 8 strips of bacon

Chopped onion, according to your taste

Salt and pepper

Fry bacon and set aside.

Brown beef well in bacon grease. Add chopped onion.

Cook macaroni separately, not too well done.

Mix all ingredients in casserole and bake at 250 degrees about half or three quarters of an hour.

FINGERS CROSSED

'Now I'll keep my fingers crossed for a week after this recipe is published, lest the printers playfully omit some essential item and readers raise hell about the mess they get when they try to make Mickey's Mistake.

In order to prevent alterations in the family, it may be well to agree in advance that second helpings, if any, shall be consecutively determined by blind draw.

I may be biased, but I now feel that one who has been served a dish of Mickey's Mistake can never again be content with junk what.

QUESTIONS, ANSWERS

I do not agree with you about the effects of drafts, wet feet or exposure to extremely low temperature on people like myself. Enclosed is a clipping (M. McA.)

Ans.—The clipping is from a medical column. The doctor says: "There have been reports denying or at least minimizing the influence of drafts and chilling." Interesting, but vague. The doctor continues: "On the other hand, long experience seems to demonstrate that there definitely are people who cannot tolerate cold or drafts." "Seems"? "Definitely"?

I am supposed to have surgery and my husband insists on being in the operating room with me. You said that in some communities they allow this

Mrs. R. L. B.)

Ans.—I said that about the delivery room. Your husband would be a nuisance in the operating room. It would be better to have your family physician, or any physician your husband trusts, attend the operation. If he doesn't trust any physician that much, I'd say he must be mentally unbalanced.

You wrote some time ago aspirin does nothing for a fever, which I interpret to mean it does not lower temperature (W. S. A.)

Ans.—Neither aspirin nor any other drug should be used as a "fever" for fever or with the idea of lowering temperature. We'll deal with this question in a piece to be published later.

Reds Reasserting Hostility to Religion

NEW YORK (NEA) — What the Kremlin intends to be a battle to death against religion has recently begun in Russia.

The Soviet rulers, determined to lure youth away from the church, are even introducing pagan spring and harvest rites as a substitute for religious holidays.

Since 1917, Lenin's successors have been striving to eliminate religion from the lives of Russia's 200 million Christians, Jews, Muslims and Buddhists.

Their pressure on believers has fluctuated with Russia's political situation or the prevailing policy line of the Communist party.

But like Moscow's constant drive to gain Red domination of the globe, the Kremlin's intent to wipe out all religion never faltered.

TOP IDEOLOGIST

This is emphasized again by Leonid Ilychev, Moscow's top propagandist and the man responsible for defending communism against belief in God.

He recently warned, in a frank review of the anti-religious campaign in Russia,

'Russians Still Attend Moscow Church Services

ligious campaign in Russia, "against the mistake of regarding atheistic education as just a short campaign."

The aim of the Kremlin's new war on God "is to free the minds of the Soviet people completely from all survivals of the old regime, including religious prejudices," Ilychev said. He called this "one of the most important struggles to be waged by Communists."

GODLESS STATE

It is almost half a century since Russia's Red rulers first claimed to have created the world's first official godless state.

Why, then, are they still expending billions of rubles and printing millions of pamphlets for atheistic propaganda?

The answer was given unwittingly by Ilychev himself.

In an unprecedented admission from a top Red atheist, he cited evidence of the determination of believers to defend their religion.

Here is what he revealed: "In the family—still the main fortress of religious belief—parents give their children religious instruction."

A large number of Soviet "intellectuals" pretend to be atheists, but they observe religious rites at home, attend church, have their children christened and are married by a priest. This is even true of many members of the Communist Party and the Young Communist League, Ilychev complained.

In Soviet Central Asia, the Muslim religion continues to flourish by various illegal means.

Mosques, officially out of use or converted into clubs or restaurants, are in fact being used for religious services.

Religious services frequently attended by local Communist authorities, are also carried on in private houses and apartments.

However, Ilychev did not mention the amazing capacity of religious leaders to bend with the wind and adapt themselves to the demands of the totalitarian and atheistic regime.

For example, what can the Kremlin's watchdogs do with a priest who said recently in a sermon: "Christ taught us not to live on this earth that there should be neither poor nor rich. All people should join in brotherly love and, as Nikita Khrushchev said, live in peace."

Or how can a Red bureaucrat complain about the dean of Vilna's Catholic Cathedral who declared: "Those who say that religion and communism cannot coexist peacefully are mistaken. The moral code of a builder of communism is founded on the Holy Writ."

It is this ability on the part of religious leaders to survive within the framework of the atheistic dictatorship that has forced Soviet leaders and their East European allies to reassert their hostility to religion in all its forms.

Thus, millions of Christians, Jews, Muslims and Buddhists are about to feel the full force of the Red state upon them. While the Kremlin's rulers pretend to have softened their attitude toward religion in the world at large—witness Nikita Khrushchev's messages to the Pope—they are openly preparing to stamp out all religion behind the Iron Curtain.

Cyclist Will Appeal 2 Jail Sentences

A Waterford Township man, sentenced to two jail terms Tuesday for traffic violations, will appeal the sentences handed down by Waterford Township Justice John E. McGrath.

McGrath sentenced Marvin Singleton, 22, of 7303 S. Shaker, to 30 days for driving with a revoked license and 60 days for reckless driving. The jail terms would run concurrently.

He also fined Singleton $50 plus $15 court costs after Singleton pleaded guilty to a second reckless driving charge.

Singleton, who drives a motorcycle, was ticketed June 17 for reckless driving and driving with a revoked license and on June 22 for reckless driving.

He is free pending the appeal.

British Buses Sail for Cuba

LONDON (U) — A freighter from Communist East Germany loaded today the first of 950 buses which Britain is shipping to Cuba over American protests.

The 7,185-ton Heinrich Heine was expected to sail late today or tomorrow. More Communist ships will call for the rest of the shipment.

The deal is earning $23.2 million for the Leyland Motor Co., and the Cubans have an option for 550 more buses.

Normally, the buses would be carried on a British ship. But the United States has threatened to blacklist British shipowners who break its embargo on trade with Cuba.

The bus contract was protested by the U.S. State Department. The British government said the buses weren't strategic items; Britain is a nation that lives by trade; and Cuba has a sterling surplus from its sales of sugar.

BRITISH VETO

Since then, the British government has in effect vetoed plans of the British subsidiary of General Motors to sell trucks to Indonesia.

The government refused to insure the company against loss if Indonesia defaulted, contending Indonesia is not a good risk financially.

But there is considerable suspicion that Indonesia's undeclared war against British-backed Malaysia is a factor.

Another clash of trade and political interests developed over the government's plans to help build naval vessels for Spain.

DENOUNCE DEAL

Harold Wilson's Laborites denounced the deal as aid to Fascism. The Spanish government called it off, apparently feeling the Laborites would win the national election in the fall and then cancel the deal.

Police Ready for Jazz Buffs at Newport Festival

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The 11th annual Newport Jazz Festival, open tonight for a four-day stand under tightened police restrictions to control an expected crowd of 40,000 jazz buffs.
Some 250 policemen—many of them borrowed from neighboring communities—will be on duty during the festival which annually features some of the biggest names in jazz.
George Wein, the festival producer, foresees no repetition of the night-long riot in 1960 when hundreds battled with police until tear gas, fire hoses and wholesale arrests overwhelmed them.
Officials of this city of about 47,000, were taking no chances. Last week the city council enacted a short-term ban on public drinking outside licensed bars and restaurants, and soft drink vendors were ordered to serve only out of paper or plastic containers.
Drinking was held responsible for the fiasco of four years ago and thousands of accumulated cans and bottles were used as weapons.

Councilman Dennis F. Shea alerted authorities to guard against civil rights marches recalling an impromptu march through the streets last year in which some performers were the leaders.
Wein said, "It is unfortunate that the regrettable incident of 1960 should be recalled each year. We will do everything in our power to maintain a respectable dignity and we certainly urge every ticket buyer to be law-abiding during his stay in Newport."

"We feel the jazz festival is good both for music and for Newport. The jazz festival brings about a million dollars to the city and entertainment to thousands."
Louis Armstrong will be among tonight's entertainers in a concert featuring traditional jazz.
Others include such specialists of Dixieland as trombonists George Brunis and J.C. Higginbotham; Bud Freeman and Joe Thomas on sax, drummer Jo Jones, clarinetist Edmond Hall, basist Bob Haggart and trumpeters Muggsy Spanier, Max Kaminsky and "Wingy" Ma-none, who got his nickname because his left arm was amputated after it was crushed between two streetcars in his native New Orleans when he was 10 in 1914.

CORE to Start Testing Rights Bill Accommodations Provision

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL, KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP). The Congress of Racial Equality will begin testing the public accommodations provisions of the civil rights bill as soon as it is passed, says the head of CORE.

The civil rights group also will step up its voter registration drives in Mississippi, Louisiana and north Florida, organize unemployed into work squads in Chicago and demand in California that the Bank of America hire 500 to 600 Negroes, said James Farmer, the national director of CORE.

The group's 22nd annual national convention, which starts today, will consider whether to abandon CORE's nonviolence policy in politics, Farmer told newsmen Wednesday night.

There will be CORE demonstrations at the Republican convention in San Francisco and at the Democratic convention in Atlantic City, Farmer said.

WILL CHALLENGE

"We will also challenge the seating of the Mississippi delegation at the Democratic National Convention," Farmer said. CORE will pay half the cost of transporting 68 Negroes to the convention.

He said the federal government has been derelict in its responsibility to provide protection to Negroes in the South and demanded the use of armed forces if necessary.

CORE sent a telegram to President Johnson asking federal aid to protect the rights of all citizens in Mississippi from brutal acts of terrorism acting under the authority of the local group tonight.

Some 400 delegates were expected for the four-day convention. Farmer will address the group tonight.

ROSCOE POUND

Legal Authority Dies at Age 93

Never Got Degree, but World Acclaimed

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Roscoe Pound, considered in legal circles the greatest living authority on law though he never earned a law degree, died Wednesday night at the age of 93.

Death came to the former Harvard Law School dean affectionately called the "grand old man of law," in Harvard's Stillman Infirmary where he had been living in recent months.

A memorial service will be conducted Tuesday in Memorial Church in Harvard Yard, where Pound was a familiar figure to generations of Harvard men.

In 1961, an association of lawyers in Spain voted him "worldwide patriarch of comparative law."

'GREATEST STUDENT'

Fellow lawyers have called Pound "the man whom lawyers recognize as the greatest student of common law of all time."

On Pound's 92nd birthday, Chief Justice Earl Warren said of him: "His devotion to the law, his contributions to the education of members of both the bench and bar, and his great contributions to the jurisprudence of our country have not been excelled in our history."

On the same occasion, Associate Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court said the ideas Pound put forth 40 years ago "are still the vehicle, the blueprint" which the legal profession is "working at" today and carrying forward in his name.

WENT TO HARVARD

Pound went to Harvard to study law in 1889, but he never finished the course.

Pound earned his A.B., Master's and Ph.D. degrees at the University of Nebraska — in botany.

Roscoe Pound was born in Lincoln, Neb., on Oct. 27, 1870. His father was Stephen B. Pound, who eventually became a lawyer and a judge. His mother, Laura Bidlecome Pound, a native of New York, was Pound's first teacher.

Neither Roscoe nor his two sisters, Louise and Olivia, attended public elementary schools. Louise eventually became a professor at the University of Nebraska.

TAKEN TO TASK

In 1921, Mrs. Pound wrote to her mother: "People very often take me severely to task for teaching the children; but the fact is that I'm not satisfied with the public schools here."

Unemployment during the depression years in the 1930's reached 25 per cent of the labor force.

Future of Commonwealth Will Be Discussed

British See Setback as 3 Ministers to Miss 'Family' Talks

LONDON (AP) — Because of ill health or political pique, heads of three Commonwealth governments will not attend the prime ministers' conference in London next week on the future of Britain's family of nations.

British authorities considered their absence a setback that would reduce the value of the long-awaited talks, which open July 8.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and Sir Alexander Bustamante of Jamaica are kept at home by ill health. Shastri's place will be taken by Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari and Indira Gandhi, his information minister. Finance minister Donald B. Sangster will represent Bustamante.

The president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, announced Wednesday he would not attend.

CYPRUS ANGER

Makarios said he could not be away from his turbulent island for 10 days. But the general impression was that he was angry because British Prime Minister Douglas Home joined Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu in a statement reaffirming support of the treaty rights of Britain, Greece and Turkey to intervene in Cyprus.

Douglas-Home had planned to discuss the future of Cyprus with Makarios informally during the conference. Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou will represent the archbishop.

The conference was to have marked the new Indian prime minister's debut on the international scene, and he and Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan had planned to hold their first talks on the 16-year-old Kashmir dispute, the chief issue dividing their neighboring countries.

Another commonwealth chief, President Kwame Nkrumah, agreed to attend the conference only on condition that it would discuss the racial situation in white-ruled Southern Rhodesia. Douglas Home had resisted Nkrumah's demand, fearing such a discussion would impel Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith—who was not invited to the conference—to declare Rhodesia's independence. Britain is trying to postpone Rhodesia's independence until the ruling white minority agrees to constitutional changes giving the African majority a larger say in the government.

U.S. Defends Plans for Multination Western N-Force

GENEVA (AP) — In a sharp reply to the Russians, the United States said today the planned Western Allies' multinational nuclear force is designed only to protect Western Europe against the Soviet nuclear threat.

U.S. delegate William C. Foster defended the Western project against a new Soviet attack in the 17-nation disarmament talks. Foster said a spread of nuclear weapons in the world was the only alternative to the seaborne nuclear force.

Foster blamed the Soviet Union for using "groundless political arguments against the nuclear force in the pursuit of its longstanding aim to disrupt defensive arrangements of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin declared that all efforts for an East-West agreement to stop the spread of nuclear arms will break down unless the United States renounces "the nuclear force plan quickly.

Foster told the meeting that the force of ships armed with DENVER (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin last night called the withdrawal of United States troops from Europe the immediate step necessary to relieve military tensions between the U.S. and Russia.

nuclear weapons is being devised "to enable members of NATO to cope with a range of threats."

RUSSIAN ROCKETS
"We believe that so long as hundreds of Soviet nuclear-tipped rockets are arrayed against Europe," he continued, "effective European participation in strategic deterrence should be provided."

"The arrangements contemplated for the multinational force would not increase the number of independent nuclear weapon capabilities and are thus consistent with our objective of preventing the spread of such capabilities.

"Indeed, by offering an alternative to national nuclear weapons programs, the M-L-P interference should increase incentives and improve chances for limitation of national weapons-producing centers."

The American delegate warned that with development of nuclear technology manufacture of nuclear weapons was likely to become substantially easier. "One should be aware of the fact that there will soon be a large number of power reactors throughout the world which will produce significant amounts of plutonium suitable for weapons.

"If no international action is taken soon to prevent diversion of plutonium thus produced to weapons, it will become much more difficult to bring this problem under control in the future."

News From Around the World

Reports Put Death Count at 89 in Wake of Philippine Typhoon

MANILA (AP)—Reports from outlying provinces pushed the Philippine death count from Typhoon Winnie to 89 today and indicated nearly half a million persons were left homeless. Authorities feared an epidemic might break out in Manila, half of whose 2 million residents have been without electricity or water for the past three days. Broken power lines killed many pumps, but the electric company said full power should be restored by Friday. Police estimated damage in the Manila area at $10 million, and the figure was expected to rise.

VIENNA (AP)—A Vienna police inspector who helped arrest Anne Frank has been acquitted of trying to conceal his Nazi past but the Police Department disciplinary commission is appealing the acquittal. The Austrian inspector, Karl Silberbauer, 52, was suspended last October following reports from the Netherlands that he was involved in the arrest of the Frank family, whose daughter's diary of their concealment in an Amsterdam garret was read around the world. The disciplinary commission ruled that Silberbauer had complied with regulations when he reported after the war that he had been a member of the Gestapo. This, the commission said, indicated that he participated in actions against Jews.

150,000 Boat Owners Are Told to Register

LANSING (AP)—Some 150,000 Michigan motor boat owners were put on notice today that they are operating illegally and face fines if apprehended. Secretary of State James Hare said the estimate of the number of motor boats on Michigan waters is about 500,000, but only some 350,000 have registered. Registration costs only a $3 fee.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The public prosecutor accused three Athens newspapers today of offending public decency by publishing pictures of women in topless bathing suits. No trial date was set. The newspapers were Messinivri, Apogevmatini and Athinaki. Other newspapers had avoided showing full front exposures of girls in abbreviated swim suits.

LONDON (AP)—Britain's commercial television network has been cut off the air by a strike of technicians demanding a 25 per cent pay boost and shorter hours. Management of the 13 regional companies involved had hoped to show old movies and taped commercials, but nonunion operators refused to cross the picket lines. Film deliveries to the studios also were stopped. The rival broadcasting corporation, which is publicly owned, doesn't carry commercials, is not affected.

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—Pakistan and Afghanistan have long feuded over the north-west frontier area, which Pashan tribesmen inhabiting it and the Afghan government have demanded be given independence as the state of Pash-tunistan. Ayub stopped in Kabul for four hours Wednesday en route to London for the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference.

Maxwell Metamorphosis: Soldier to Diplomat Amid Pomp

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid military pomp, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor ends a battle-starred career as a soldier today to face perhaps his greatest challenge as U.S. ambassador to Communist besieged South Viet Nam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arranged to confer still another award on Taylor, 62, who already wears more than 40 decorations speaking of valor and service on such hot fronts as Normandy and Korea and such cold war fronts as Berlin.

The award: A third Oak Leaf Cluster in place of a fourth Distinguished Service Medal in recognition of his nearly two years as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The armed services mustered an artillery battery for a 19-gun salute and contingents from the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard for a full honor retirement ceremony in front of the Pentagon.

Collision Kills Youth

PIGEON (AP) — Craig Myers, 14, of Cassville was killed Wednesday in a two-car collision three miles north of Pigeon.

President Johnson was asked to attend a later White House ceremony at which Taylor was to be sworn in as ambassador. The Senate approved his nomination Wednesday night by voice vote.

A soldier-diplomat who speaks seven languages, Taylor will fly to Saigon Saturday night to take over leadership of both the civilian and military efforts of the United States to drive the Communist guerrillas out of South Viet Nam.

This is Taylor's second retirement since his graduation from West Point 42 years ago.

In 1959, he retired as Army chief of staff, in a blaze of controversy over Eisenhower administration defense policies.

DEFENSE NEIGHLY

Taylor contended that the country's conventional forces, especially the Army, were being neglected dangerously in favor of strategic nuclear power.

Two years later, the Kennedy administration adopted many of Taylor's military suggestions and President John F. Kennedy brought the four-star general out of retirement to serve as his personal military adviser.

Cong Overruns Vief Convoy

104 Guerrillas Killed in Mop-Up Operation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed and destroyed an army convoy in the jungles of the central highlands Wednesday, killing 20 government troops.

But the Vietnamese Defense Ministry also reported today that government forces killed 104 guerrillas in a mopping up operation a few miles north of the ambush.

The nine-truck convoy was hit along Route 19, where a whole French mobile brigade was wiped out in 1964.

The convoy was making its way with military supplies from the coastal city of Qui Nhon, 20 miles north of Saigon, to Pleiku in the interior.

OVERRUNS TRUCKS—The Viet Cong smashed the trucks with mines, then overran them. They gathered up a machine gun and 30 individual weapons before melting into the jungle.

The Defense Ministry said many government troops were wounded and five were missing. It said the Viet Cong lost three men.

In the operation in Kontum Province, 25 miles north of Pleiku, government troops found 58 Viet Cong bodies and captured considerable supplies of Communist weapons, the Defense Ministry said. The operation had been going on for some time and ended Wednesday.

SAIGON BLAST—A terrorist lobbed an explosive device in Saigon today, slightly injuring two American servicemen and a Chinese passer-by.

The incident occurred on a sidewalk near a U.S. officers' billet at 7 a.m. An American spokesman said one of the soldiers was hit by fragments and the other hurt his leg when he dropped to the ground to avoid the blast.

The U.S. combat toll rose to 149 dead Wednesday when a Viet Cong sniper killed the pilot of a medical evacuation helicopter in the Mekong River delta 53 miles southwest of Saigon. The helicopter had picked up a wounded American and was taking off.

County GOP Retaining Plan

Won't Alter System Despite Redistricting

Despite the state's new legislative districting plan, Oakland County Republicans have announced the party's organizational setup will continue to operate with the reorganization.

"Human" plan as a basis. This means, Republicans will divide their lines of responsibility among 10 State House of Representatives districts—using the boundaries rejected by the State Supreme Court.

Party district directors, named just two weeks before all districts were changed, will now be called "campaign district directors" and city-township directors.

"These campaign districts are compact, contiguous, nearly square and recognize areas of common interests," said a GOP spokesman. The new reorganization splits many cities.

As part of the current Republican reorganization, Clawson will be included in the "old" 9th District (Clawson, Madison Heights and Hazel Park).

Highland and White Lake townships will be in the former district with Waterford and West Bloomfield townships.

DISTRICT NINE—Dale Kenney, 36, of 722 Elmwood, Clawson, will be district 9 campaign director. He is former Clawson city director.

His old post will be taken by Richard H. Sanderson, 31, of 211 Essex, Clawson, an active party worker in the city.

Construction Starts on Water Tower

Construction of a water tower at Lake Oakland Heights in Waterford Township is under way today with a tanker truck providing the water for a steam-operated pile driver.

Work was slated to begin yesterday morning, but a group of residents protesting the tower gathered for coffee around the only hydrant in the vicinity of the Main-Walton job site.

A smaller group of residents returned to the hydrant this morning but left when the construction crew began drawing water from the truck.

The pile driver uses about 200 gallons of water hourly. The truck has a capacity of 6,500 gallons.

Elect Woman to Office

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—Irene McMahon of Kalamazoo, Mich., was elected treasurer of World War II Mothers Wednesday at the conclusion of the group's national convention.

Approve Building Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Public Works Committee Wednesday approved plans for a $324,000 Social Security Administration building at Flint, Mich.

For Gas Station, Apartment

Planners Deny Two Rezoning

Two requested property rezonings to have provided for a gas station and a seven-unit apartment building were denied in separate actions last night by the City Planning Commission.

Some 20 residents protested the rezoning from residential 3 to commercial 1 of property on the southwest corner of West Huron and Williams.

The rezoning was requested to allow construction of a Mobil Oil Co. gas station.

Residents objected to the gas station on grounds it would create a traffic hazard. City Planners agreed and denied the rezoning.

The commission also rejected rezoning from residential 1 to residential 3 of property at 28, 33 and 37 Howell.

Protesting residents of the area claimed there already were enough apartment units on the property. There are a total of 10 in two buildings.

The rezoning was requested to order erect a third building of seven units.

Tabled for 30 days was rezoning request for property enclosing southeast corner of Joseph and Walton.

Proposed users of the rezoned property, which would be changed from residential 1 to commercial 1, is for a bus service and sales agency.

TO STUDY PROPERTY

City Planners tabled the rezoning to provide time to study the future of property in the entire area.

Two rezonings were approved at last night's meeting.

Property at 29, 37 and 39 Monroe was approved for rezoning from residential 2 to residential 3. A 18-unit apartment building is slated for the land.

Also, City Planners okayed rezoning from residential 2 to commercial 1 property on the northeast corner of Oakland and Kinney.

TRIM SHOP

The property will be used for an automotive trim shop.

In other business last night, the City Planning Commission reorganized for another year.

Daniel Vessey was reelected chairman, while Basil Brown was elected vice-chairman of the eight-member board. Brown succeeds Wayne Weaver.

Rules Handbook Is Issue in Police Promotion Suit

The status of a rules handbook for city personnel has become the issue in a suit challenging the rank change of acting Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger.

A pretrial hearing today before Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer established that the legality of the handbook would decide whether the suit goes to trial.

The hearing was adjourned until July 15 to allow the plaintiffs time to prove whether promotion provisions of the personnel handbook have ever been officially enacted into law by the city.

City attorney William A. Ewart said that the city would yield in the case if it could be proved that the handbook is official.

The suit, brought by Hanger's co-officers L. Ray E. Megitt, Capt. Danny Ashley and Capt. George T. Scott, charges that competitive examinations for the inspector's job were not offered, which they claim is in violation of city personnel rules.

They say such examinations are required by the personnel handbook.

ACTING CHIEF

Hanger, formerly a police lieutenant, was named acting chief last fall. In December, he was promoted to inspector, a position he would keep after the vacant chief's office was filled.

At today's hearing, the plaintiffs in the case said the suit might still be brought on the basis that Hanger's appointment was illegal, though the handbook be found not to be official rules governing city personnel.

LADD, Italy—Mary McCarthy, author of the novel "The Group," has been ordered to stand trial in Italy on charges that her book offends public morality.

A Junior Editors Quiz About FAIRS

QUESTION: When and where was the first World's Fair?

ANSWER: The World's Fair idea is often traced back to the "Exposition of the Industry of All Nations" which opened in London, England in 1851.

The exposition was housed in a huge building called the Crystal Palace which covered 13 acres. In 1853 a similar Crystal Palace was built in New York.

Our picture shows this building with the tall spire which was an observatory. Many large exhibitions followed, but the clumsy word "exposition" was changed to "fair" in the New York World's Fair of 1939.

The Brussels World's Fair of 1958 displayed advances in atomic physics and the present New York World's Fair gives visitors thrilling glimpses of the wonders of our new age of technology.

Long before the idea of a worldwide exposition, however, fairs were used as trading centers for warring tribes. At the fair grounds a truce would be declared and you could sell a jade ornament to a man instead of throwing a spear at him.

Later fairs had a religious meaning and they grew to be festivals where people met to have a good time and exchange ideas, as well as goods.

FOR YOU TO DO: It may not be possible for you to go to this year's World's Fair, but you can make a scrapbook of newspaper articles which will get you acquainted with the new ideas everyone is talking about these days.

Mafia Witness Testifies Despite Fear for His Life

DETROIT (AP) — Expressing fears for his life, the prosecution's chief witness broke his silence Wednesday and testified at the trial of a reputed leader of Detroit's Mafia crime syndicate.

The witness, Angelo Lombardi, previously had refused to testify in the case of Matthew (Mike) Rubino, Assistant U. S. Atty. William Merrill asked him if fear had kept him silent on the witness stand.

"I told you I could be killed," Lombardi replied. "I said I was afraid. Others have been killed for testifying."

Rubino, 53, of Grosse Pointe Park is being tried on charges of evading $6,961 in income taxes in 1957. Former Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards described Rubino as "the big man" of the Detroit Mafia in testimony before a Senate committee last October. "SECTION LEADER."

Edwards had termed Lombardi, a 36-year-old Detroit, as a "section leader" of the syndicate.

The government has contended that Rubino evaded the taxes by listing Lombardi as the recipient of $13,806 in income from a defunct firm owned by Rubino.

Lombardi told the U. S. District Court Wednesday that he received no income from Rubino in 1957.

After Lombardi's statement that "others have been killed for testifying." Judge Thaddeus Macrowicz said he would treat any threats to witnesses "as harshly as the law allows."

DENIES MOTION

He denied a defense motion for a mistrial on grounds that Lombardi's testimony was prejudicial.

Judge Macrowicz had ordered Lombardi aided when he invoked the Fifth Amendment at an earlier Rubino trial. Merrill said the witness has been released from protective custody.

Rhode Islanders Urge R. Kennedy for VP

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Rhode Island's Democratic State Committee urged President Johnson Wednesday night to consider Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as his vice presidential running mate.

The committee said the New Englander was a man of understanding, loyalty and integrity who is dedicated to the cause of liberty and the preservation of human dignity.

The ruby is the most valuable gem. A flawless ruby of good color is now carat for a carat more valuable than an emerald, diamond or sapphire. A 6-carat ruby may bring $33,000.

Passman's Last-Ditch Slash Efforts Fail

LBJ Hails $3.3-Billion Aid Bill as Victory for Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has hailed House passage of a $3.3-billion foreign aid bill as a victory for American foreign policy and the American people.

Johnson promptly signed the measure, saying the House action was "in line with the best interests of America and the best interests of the Free World." He made further cuts in the total which already had been reduced $200 million from Johnson's original "barebones" request for $3.5 billion. The reduction was the smallest since the Korean aid bill as a victory for American foreign policy and the American people.

conceived. This is an important victory for American foreign policy and that means for every American citizen.

VOTING DIVISION

Passage came on a 231-174 roll call vote, with 178 Democrats and 53 Republicans voting in favor of the measure. Opposed were 62 Democrats and 111 Republicans.

which provides the foreign aid money was then sent to the Senate, where the Foreign Relations Committee is working on the President's foreign aid authorization request. This final step merely sets the ceiling on foreign aid spending. Action on the authorization will follow.

Wednesday's vote ended 18 years of dominant influence by Passman over foreign aid funds in the House. He is chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee that handles foreign aid. But he pledged to "keep on fighting this monstrosity" and added "I don't think it takes out of 10 is too bad an average, do you?"

LAST EFFORT

He had made a last effort to slash another $237 million from the aid program and lost on a 208-196 roll call vote.

At times during the final debate, there were loud exchanges between Passman and his opponents. At one point, Passman used a figure of speech that if something was true, "then I'm going to ride horseback to Louisiana tomorrow."

"Why don't you?" cried a voice from the back benches.

New Fibers Lengthen Upholstery Life

One of Chatham's long-wearing wool-nylon fabrics covers The Dolly Madison, a fully reclining rocker presented by La-Z-Boy Chair Company, Monroe, Michigan as part of their new Americana 600 series.

This straight chair shown at the recent International Home Furnishings Market combines the timeliness of Gothic and Moorish influences. Dignified, but colorful, it is upholstered with the new polymeric material just introduced by General Tire and Rubber Company. Beauty with easier care is now possible without loss of aesthetic design values.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Brides aren't the only people who are interested in upholstery. All families have to face the problem of replacing worn-out furniture.

Upholstery fabrics have come a long way from the uncomfortable horsehair of great-grandmother's day—even from the scratchy plush of fifties of later years.

Today's fabrics have advantages other than comfort and looks. They resist soil of all kinds and are easily cleaned when necessary. One new fabric—a long staple nylon and wool—resists even gouging. In punishing tests a letter opener was pierced through the center; a cigarette was held to the fabric; a book of matches was set on fire on top of the material.

When gouging, the material stretched, but retained its original appearance in a matter of seconds after the letter opener was removed.

One commercial cleaning removed all stains, such as butter, chocolate, fruit juices, grease and dirt.

The burn test left only a slight scorch mark after the cigarette.

This particular fabric is being used exclusively by Lux, Inc., contemporary Scandinavian furniture, but there is no reason to think it will not appear on other lines.

Another nylon and wool upholstery fabric is being manufactured by Chatham Manufacturing Company, in North Carolina.

BLANKET FAME
This firm, known for four generations for its position in the blanket world, makes a cloth that combines luxury and durability.

The mixture of 88 per cent wool and 12 per cent nylon results in a fabric better than one made from either of the two fibers alone. Wool, the most reliable of fibers, contributes resilience, warmth and luxury. Nylon increases strength and durability.

Several types of this material are being made in a wide range of colors, all protected with Scotchgard repellent.

The fabrics are available on new furniture and by the yard through decorators, decorating departments of retail stores and other fine fabric distributors.

NEW VINYL
A third type of new upholstery material seen in recent furniture shows is a new vinyl.

Unlike any vinyl you have seen, this is softer in texture. There are floral patterns, up to like textures and high style designs and colors. Some is quilted or tufted.

The use of vinyl means that children and adults can really relax in informal areas of the home. This upholstery can take it.

The new vinyl is especially nice material made by General Tire and Rubber Company.

When you go shopping for upholstered furniture, don't be afraid to ask questions of the salesman. If he's good, he'll know the answers and will welcome your intelligent interest.

If there is a fact tag attached to your furniture when it is delivered, read it! And save it! It probably will tell you fiber content and how to take care of it.

Manufacturers have a right to be upset when customers don't read instruction tags and then complain.

Ask yourself these questions when selecting upholstered chairs or sofas.

• Is the upholstery firmly stitched and secured to the chair frame?
• Is upholstery webbing wide, close together, laced well across the base and secured to the frame?
• Is the dust cover a heavy fabric? Is it tucked securely and filled around the legs?

• Does the frame for an upholstered piece have sturdy corner blocks to reinforce joints? Is it a hardwood like oak?

WARRANTY?

Why isn't upholstery given a warranty like household appliances?

It isn't that the manufacturer isn't willing to stand behind his product, but furniture is used in such a variety of homes that no guarantee could cover everything.

As one authority said, "Dogs, cats, roller skates and little boys and girls age fabrics much faster than any bachelor business girl who spends as little time as possible in the home."

Sunshine will cause almost every upholstery fabric to fade, discolor and age prematurely. Are you going to keep the shades drawn all the time?
What's under the upholstery helps determine its life. The fabric on a resilient foam rubber cushion will outwear the same fabric on a chair arm lightly padded with hair. Fabric stretches on super-soft cushions.

ENEMIES

Mildew, moths, temperature and humidity all can adversely affect fabrics.

Manmade fabrics have a longer life expectancy than something delicate like silk.

We don't expect our clothes to have a warranty on how long they will wear. If we take reasonable care of them, they'll be satisfactory.

You must choose your upholstery with a view to its use. Silk upholstery has no place in the playroom or family room.

Regular care helps too. Furniture should be vacuumed regularly to remove loose dirt and prevent grinding down into the fibers. Foam cushions should be turned occasionally to distribute the wear.

Remove spots and stains as quickly as possible, following directions that came with the furniture.

Manufacturers are going to do everything they can to put durable color and comfort into your home. Your half of the job is to take care of it.

'Total' Costume

A Whole New Look

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK—Put yourself in the mood for the hood, or other variation of head covering as part of the overall costume for fall.

Prepare also to put knees in shape, do some push-ups for benefit of the renewed emphasis on bosoms, and say goodbye to all those boots that were the fashion rage for fall and winter last year.

The new woman, as New York's fashion industry sees her, will have her head covered by hood, helmet or other gear which comes as part of the "total" costume look.

Her knees will be on display as they haven't been since the World War II years when fabric restrictions by the government caused the manufacturers to keep skirts short.

This Tactic May 'Feed' the Gossips

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I am a young widow in a small town where there is no place to go after a movie for a snack.

A: After a date, would it be proper to ask the man I am with to come into the house for something to eat? I live with my young son in my own house.

The baby sitter leaves immediately after I arrive home, which is generally about 11:30.

A: To have a young man come in late in the evening with no one in the house except your young son, would, I'm sorry to say, provide food for gossip.

Q: Last night my husband and I went to a military dance. The commanding officer and his wife came over to our table where we were seated with two other couples. The men rose and stood until the officer and his wife left. The women did not rise.

We wondered afterwards if we should have stood too in deference to the colonel's wife?

A: Your rising was not necessary, but in this exceptional case it would have been polite to have done so for the commanding officer's wife.

plunge so daringly that, as one showman observed on Seventh Avenue put it, "they must be getting us all ready for THE bathing suit."

NO BOOTS
But boots, which strode through an average of four of every five designer collections last fall, have been booted.

Models displaying the new clothes wear pumps—just plain, unadorned classical pumps.

Now, about those hoods and other head coverings. Jacques Tiffau, the Dior-trained designer, showed helmets smooth fitting as a skull cap and often banded under the chin.

Typical was a brown and gold checked two-piece suit, with helmet of the same fabric.

TRIGERE
Designer Pauline Trigere, calling her head-covering fashions, the "caleche" silhouette, showed either attached or detachable hoods.

Many of her daytime jersey dresses came with hoods in the same fabric, with the dresses topped by coordinated, collarless coats.

Some had fur-natural seal, for instance, paired with jersey.

Bill Blass, designer for Maurice Rentner, showed zippered-on hoods with black cocktail dresses.

He showed also copies of the Canadian Mounties' hats tied with narrow strings under the chin.

September vows are planned by Rebecca E. Runser, daughter of the Robert E. Runser of Avon Township and David Alan Roush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Roush of Charlotte.

Both are graduates of Michigan State University.

Atlas material is tested for burst strength by piercing a letter opener through material. The material gives but does not burst. Its tremendous recuperative powers are visually demonstrated as it retains its original appearance in a matter of seconds after removal of the object.

Abby's 25th Anniversary: Definition of True Wealth

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR READERS: Today is a very special day for me. It is my 25th wedding anniversary, and I have this to say:

I was reared in a home with a mother and father who really loved each other, so I know what love is. I have seen both a son and a daughter safely through the trials of their tempestuous teens, so I know what satisfaction is.

I have had by my side for 25 years the gentlest, kindest, most considerate human being I have ever known, so I know what happiness is.

I have prayed. And my prayers have been answered, so I know what faith is. And because I have known all these things, I know what wealth is.

Truly yours,
Abigail Van Buren

REBECCA E. RUNSER

DEAR ABBY: A new family moved into our neighborhood, so I called on them and made them feel welcome.

I told them if they had children the ages of mine to send them over to play. I have three boys, 4, 7 and 8.

Well, they have two girls, 11 and 16, who are no company at all for mine. Their 11-year-old started coming to my house every day, pretending to "play" with my 8-year-old boy, but all she does is follow ME around and ask me questions until I think I will go out of my mind!

Abby, I don't need an 11-year-old girlfriend. She is at my door every time I turn around, and she never goes home until I suggest it.

How can I get rid of this little pest?

FRAZZLED NERVES
DEAR ABBY: If you haven't the courage to tell an 11-year-old child that you do not have the time to visit with her, then you probably lack the courage to speak to her mother about it, which is my alternate suggestion.

DEAR ABBY: The expression that one's sex education begins with the birds and the bees is classic irony because there is still much mystery surrounding the behavior and habits of birds.

Maybe I shouldn't disillusion canary owners, Abby, but it is a fact that a happy canary never sings. M.R.Z.

DEAR M. R. Z.: I would like to know WHO, besides another canary, could possibly know how "happy" a canary is.

And if a canary sings only when he is miserable, what can you expect from a bird's brain?

Garden Group Makes Plans for the Fall

Plans for a fall benefit sale and a September membership tea were made at a Tuesday meeting of the Lorraine Manor Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mrs. Ray Allen opened her Fernharry Drive home for the cooperative annual picnic.

Mrs. Warren C. Cleven presented the program on "What Tree Shall I Plant?"

The July 28 meeting will be in the Fernharry Drive home of Mrs. Joseph Carpenter.

In a scene from "All the Way Home," Virginia Beeman (right) of Kuhn Street receives a comforting hand on the shoulder from Ralph O'Neal of Clarkson. At left, portraying members of the family consoling a young wife on the death of her husband are Patricia McLean of Royal Oak and Charles Kehoe of Birmingham. Opening July 10 at 8:30 p. m. at Will-O-Way, the production will continue for three weekends, with Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening performances.

Woman Quits Job; Home Has 'New Look'

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
In Money Management

To work or not to work—that's the question on the minds of many married women these days. Thousands of women all over the country, from age 35 on up, are enrolling for college courses to prepare them for job hunting.

A second income, in prospect, seems a fine solution to many problems. Equally important, a job outside the home promises more stimulation than housework, and might make use of talents that seem to be going to waste.

So aren't all the advantages on the side of starting or resuming a career?

The two letters that follow provide a "before and after" picture of one woman's experiences; I offer them simply as food for thought on this increasingly absorbing subject. The first letter from Mrs. E. M. R. came to me shortly after the first of the year.

Dear Miss Feeley: I'm sure you have been of invaluable help to many, many couples and would like your opinion on a problem that is facing me at present.

I am 54 and work as secretary to executives in a national firm, where I have been employed for 12 years. My position carries a certain amount of prestige and I earn $400 a month.

BUT I am exhausted almost all the time. I am sick of rushing, which includes hurrying to get breakfast for my husband, then rushing to the bus and going at top speed all day long, followed by dashing about the kitchen evenings to get dinner, with an hour or two at most left for reading and watching TV, although I invariably fall asleep.

We have given up visiting. Weekends are taken up with the my home properly and being busy constantly, marketing and trying to see my children and beloved grandchildren.

The hours are just not long enough.

Presently I am at home for a few days, recovering from the flu. Am thinking of giving up my job and taking joy in running

MILLS-NEILON

The recent visit of Carolyn Mae Nelson and Gary Gordon Mills were exchanged in St. Rita's Church, Holly. The Gilbert E. Nelsons and the Gordon G. Mills of Holly, are the parents of the couple. The bride's gown of white nylon organza, appliqued with Chantilly lace, featured a wide organza bow over the bodice and skirt and chapel train. Attendees were Mrs. Ronald Yokom, Cynthia Sue Nelson, Jeanne Lynn Nelson and Katherine Miley. Timothy Mills, James Mills, Robert Nelson and Bruce Thorington.

my home properly and being busy constantly, marketing and trying to see my children and beloved grandchildren.

My husband does not approve. He says: Number one, I will become a full-time baby sitter for our two daughters in law; and number two, it is ridiculous to give up that nice salary.

During the years of my employment, I have bought some good stocks which pay dividends and I have a savings account. My husband has some money invested and also some cash in the bank. He earns $700 a month.

Am I being impractical in wanting to enjoy life more?

Mrs. E. M. R., New Orleans

My answer to Mrs. R. was that it seemed to me she had earned the right to quit the job in favor of homemaking. She had tried them both, and found that which was the more important to her.

I also asked her to let me know what her final solution was, after she had had time to think it over. Here is what she writes:

Dear Miss Feeley: I want to express special thanks for your interest. I feel a sense of great satisfaction and reassurance in the fact that your views on my problem coincided with the decision I have made.

I gave my employers two weeks' notice that I was leaving. They were surprised and disappointed, but I must say, very understanding.

On the home front, my husband seems to have become accustomed to the idea, and may even like it now!

Our home has a sort of "new look" reflecting care, and our meals are planned much better and served on time, with a delightful absence of any rushing. I really believe that what upset my husband most at first was the thought of a drastic change in what had become our "way of life" rather than the decrease in earnings and the adjustment it entails.

Georgia's Penal Philosophy Enters 20th Century

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A former once found scrawled on the dirty Georgia prison wall the words "This is no God."

This melancholy legend is no longer a symbol of the state's prison system.

Chain gangs, leg irons, sweat box cages, whippings and brutality by guards— even imprisonment for being unable to pay small fines— are no more.

Now under a new literacy program in the state's prisons the inmate who wrote the sad words on his cell might have learned to spell correctly.

IDEA ABANDONED

Gen. James Edward Oglethorpe, the founder and first governor of the Colony of Georgia, thought of filling the new colony with imprisoned debtors from England. He later abandoned the idea. Only a few debtors were among Georgia's original colonists.

By an ironic fate, Georgia—more than 200 years later—has its own imprisoned debtors, victims of a system which only now is being changed.

The Georgia legislature this year passed a sweeping package of prison reform laws which put an end to what, in effect, has been imprisonment for debt.

The new laws opened the doors of the state prison system to almost 400 prisoners, the vanguards of several hundred more to be released soon.

COULDN'T PAY

More than 40 per cent of the state's prisoners have been serving misdemeanor sentences simply because they could not buy a fine occasionally as small as $10.

Stripes in black and white, convicted adults and bound together by chains that clanked as they worked on Georgian road sides, were common sights in the 1830s.

Robert Elliott Burns wrote a book in 1931 in which he described vicious conditions in the state's prisons.

Official Georgia, including the governor at the time, Eugene Talmadge, branded Burns' story as untrue. But, in 1937, Gov. E. D. Rivers ordered chain gangs abolished.

MORE REFORMS

Gov. Ellis Arnall, six years later, described still brutal conditions in the state's prisons and instituted additional reforms. At his request, the legislature outlawed the use of leg irons, chains and manacles, did away with the striped uniforms, and established the Board of Corrections. Arnall found guards that use of the whip would mean instant dismissal.

After that, Georgians generally settled back with little thought of prisons or of prison reforms.

They were shaken somewhat, however, and the nation was shocked in 1951 when 49 prisoners at the rock quarry prison for intractables at Buford ate Christmas dinner— then discovered their food laced with razor blades. The prisoners complained of hard grueling overwork. The fastest ended.

Five years later, Buford was again in the headlines. Forty-one convicts this time smashed their legs with 20-pound sledges. They said brutality by guards and cruel labor drove them to the act.

CAIM RETURNS

Another legislative investigation committee drew up additional reports—and a few more Negro Hanged in Atlanta, Ga.

Unidentified Youth Discovered in Woods

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Police are trying to establish the identity of a Negro youth found hanged in a wooded area of northwest Atlanta.

The victim, clad in a white T-shirt, blue jeans, tennis shoes and socks, was found Wednesday hanging from a large oak tree.

Detective Sgt. J. E. Holmes and Detective Harry McCollister said he appeared to be between 14 and 16 years old. A search of his pockets yielded only two apparent door keys.

Dr. Henry Snell, assistant Fulton County medical examiner, said the boy had been dead about eight hours when found. He placed the time of death at about noon.

SLIP KNOT

A half-inch manila rope had been thrown over a large limb about 10 feet off the ground, officers said, and tied around a lower limb and attached to the boy's throat with what appeared to be a slip knot.

Officers declined to theorize on what might have happened until the identity of the victim is established.

The wooded area, about eight blocks from the nearest occupied house, is being cleared under an urban renewal program. It is a fringe area with both white and Negro residents, but officers said no disturbances have occurred there.

Part of the revenue of the British Broadcasting Company is derived from the sale of receiving licenses.

reforms were passed. And once again there was a respite from prison controversy.

Last fall, 2,000 howling convicts smashed windows, wrecked dormitories and battled club swinging guards for several hours at the state prison at Reidsville. Officials planned overcrowding, lack of adequate programs, and a shortage of guards.

A seething report on Georgia prisons made by a nationally known penologist, Director Joseph Ragen of the Illinois penal system, brought about the state's new prison code.

The Georgia prison population itself was found to be a rebuke to the prison system. One of 434 persons in the state—the highest rate in the United States—is a prisoner. This compares with a national average of one for every 1,000 persons.

NEW LAWS

The Ragen report pushed Georgia into shedding the last vestiges of a medieval outlook on prisons, and the new laws brought the state's penal philosophy into the 20th century.

When Gov. Carl E. Sanders received the report, he moved quickly. An immediate shakeup in the State Department of Corrections shunted the director off to a minor job.

Sanders dug into state surplus funds and made $2.5 million available for prison reform and asked the 1964 legislature for additional millions.

"We are highly elated over programs," Harold Burton, the new director, said. "We have many other objectives, too, but they will take more financing."

MAJOR GOALS

The intent of the sweeping reform bills is to reduce the prison population, limit the number of minor offenders, prevent imprisonment of anyone for lack of money to pay a fine, offer good behavior incentives, and standardize laws governing parole eligibility as well as sentencing.

The intent of the new law was not the wholesale dismissal of hardened criminals; one of its aims was simply to end imprisonment for debt. For such offenders as public drunkenness or a traffic violation, prisoners once were sent to county work camps where an indiscriminate classification lumped them into a common warehouse of human degradation.

And each prisoner costs the state $4,430 a year.

Burton says that results in the prison education program have been highly gratifying.

PROGRESS CITED

"We have prisoners who have learned to read and write in 12 or 15 weeks," he said.

By 1968 an estimated 99,000 will be in operation in the United States today, the Federal Aviation Administration and personal airplanes led States compared with 80,000 Agency forecasts.

Hartford Circus Holocaust Still a Nightmare to Some

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Twenty years ago this month, 168 persons died at Hartford, Conn., in America's worst circus fire. An Associated Press reporter who covered the fire in 1944 reports on the disaster and how it has affected the lives of some people.)

By LOU BLACK

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Children making happy noises play today in a sprawling yard behind a modern schoolhouse. They're unaware this was the city's circus ground 20 years ago, and the scene of America's worst circus disaster.

On hot and humid July 6, 1944, a fire broke out during a matinee performance of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus, in town for a one-day stand under the big tent. The fire left 168 dead, more than 500 injured, many were trampled to death in the panic, others died of burns and still others of suffocation.

The holocaust resulted in a tough new police safety code requiring canvas to be flame proof.

The 53-year-old emissary has been convalescing in Hawaii since April 16 after being knifed by a crazed Japanese youth and then hospitalized by hepatitis.

nurse, and her children, Herbert and Betty, then 5 and 3, the two dearest since have been one long series of nightmares, they say.

"We have awakened many nights, and even now, I wake up screaming," says Mrs. Dunn. "For many years, I was scared to be caught in a crowd, adds Herbert. "I think I've gotten over it, but every so often I find myself getting a sickly feeling in a crowded situation."

"I still see those 135 bodies waiting to be identified in the temporary morgue—just like it was yesterday," says High Sheriff, William N. Messer of Litchfield County. A state police lieutenant in 1944, Messer was in charge of identification.

"I can hear those screams as plain as ever," says Thomas C. Barber, 67, a retired detective who was on duty in the main tent.

Mrs. Dunn and her children, were among 8,000 spectators in the big tent as bandmaster Morfe Evans led his 20-piece band through a snappy opening number at 2 p.m.

As the circus progressed, a strong southwest wind sprang up outside.

(CUE AWAITED) First came the clowns, then the animals. And high up, waiting for a cue, was the celebrated Waldo's aerial troupe.

At 2:40, Evans noticed a small horseshoe-shaped flame creep ing up the side of the main tent.

He switched the band from ballet music—the exit tune for the animal act—to a march. "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

The abrupt change in tempo signaled to circus people that there was danger in the big top.

FLAME GROWS

For moments, the flame near the main entrance looked small enough to be extinguished with a bucket of water. Then within seconds, blown by the sudden wind, the flame grew.

By 3 p.m., the circus ground was a smoldering inferno.

From her haunted memories of 20 years, Mrs. Dunn recalls: "I was in an end seat up high when I suddenly became aware of nervous animals. To my right I saw flames. Heard shouts of fire and a roar. I put my daughter on my shoulders and grabbed my son with my right hand."

PEOPLE TRAPPED

Looking down to the ground, I saw people trapped among rickety chairs, tables and blocked exits.

"With the fire drawing nearer, I told Herbert we had to jump. It was about 25 feet down. I pushed him and, with Betty on my shoulders, I jumped right after him."

"We were lucky that the ground was soft. We weren't hurt. We crawled over countless bodies and suddenly there was an exit where somebody had cut a hole and removed a tent flap."

"Once we were outside, we still had to climb over rows of dead and injured people before we were led to safety."

Francis T. Alcorn, then city editor of the Hartford Times, rushed to the grounds when he heard of the fire. His two children, who were at the circus, got out safely.

"I'll never forget driving my car and praying 'Please God, be good to them. They're too little to be hurt,'" he says.

Sam, Kerlan, a Hartford sportsman, was less fortunate. He lost his 13-year-old daughter,

"It seems like that fire was only the day before yesterday," he says sadly.

HEARTACHE LINGER

For days and years, the tragedy filled Hartford with heartache. The sorrow has remained fresh through the years.

The mystery of the identity of a 4-year-old girl with curly brown hair.

Though the flames left her pretty face virtually unscathed, she was more identified. She was known only as "Little Miss 1565," the number of the casualty tag placed on her body.

On the first anniversary of the fire, Hartford Post Sgt. Edward T. Lowe placed flowers on her grave in Northwood Cemetery in nearby Windsor.

For years, they repeated the ceremony on the anniversary of the fire on Memorial Day and on Christmas Eve.

STILL VISIBLE

Both men have retired and Lowe has moved away, but Hartford still visits the cemetery. On July 6, he says, he will again put red carnations on the grave of "Little Miss 1565."

"It's like going to the grave of an adopted daughter," he said.

Five other victims were never identified.

What caused the fire? It was never officially established, but the explanation most generally accepted was that it started from a cigarette carelessly tossed aside in a men's room just inside the main entrance.

SIX ACCUSED

Six circus officials were charged with involuntary manslaughter. The official finding of the coroner held them guilty of "wanton and reckless conduct, either of commission or of omission where there is a duty to act."

They pleaded no contest and received prison sentences.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey doesn't play under a tent any more.

"We closed under canvas in 1956. In Pittsburgh," Rudy Bundy, vice president of the circus, said recently. "It was just impossible under the changing conditions to go on."

Mexican Candidate on Campaign Trail

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Most frequently remarked about Mexican presidential candidate Gustavo Diaz Ordaz is that he is running as if he might possibly lose.

The facts are that as of the moment last November when the Institutional Revolutionary party tapped him to succeed President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, his election was assured.

The P.R.I. has not lost an election in more than 30 years and has no opposition worthy of the name.

With an estimated 80 to 90 per cent of the votes already in his pocket, Diaz Ordaz for weeks has spent 14 hours a day on the campaign trail, between noon signs emblazoning his name, past roadside boulders on which his candidacy is scrawled, laying wreaths, making speeches, driving through showers of confetti to the din of exploding firecrackers and the flash of skyrockets.

Under the rule of the P.R.I., Mexico's has been called a guided democracy and the party itself a benevolent autocracy. Whatever term may be ap-

Independence Gifts Go to Nyasaland

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP)—The United States is giving Nyasaland radio equipment and a mobile health unit as independence gifts.

They will be presented at the independence celebration July 6 to Prime Minister Hastings Banda by President Johnson's representative, Dr. Rufus E. Clements, and U.S. Consul Edward Holmes.

The gifts include two radio transmitters, relay equipment and related technical training scholarships in the United States. The health unit is a mobile X-ray and medical clinic.

pled to the party, complacency is not one of them.

Before 11 million Mexicans cast ballots this coming Sunday it is expected that the 52-year-old Diaz Ordaz will have exposed himself to half of them.

For it also is a tenet of the P.R.I. that only by mingling with the people can their candidate know their problems.

Mexicans are fond of regarding themselves as still in a revolutionary state, although the revolution to which they refer occurred in 1911. And the P.R.I. itself now is more intent upon building institutions than revolutions.

The P.R.I. draws its strength from some 3.5 million peasants who have benefited from land reform, from white collar workers and labor, the whole covering a wide spectrum of political opinion.

MIDDLE-ROAD POLICIES
Its policies generally are middle-road.

Mexico's economy has been described as the fastest-moving in the Western Hemisphere.

From the summer of 1962 to September 1963, its gross national product increased by 4.8 per cent. Its agricultural production by more than 5 per cent and its manufacturing by more than 6 per cent. Its gold reserve had increased to $510 million, an all-time high.

U.S. business has a billion dollars invested there.

30 MILLION ACRES
Under the Lopez Mateos regime, 30 million acres of land have been distributed to previously landless campesinos.

Industrially, the country is on the verge of full-scale automobile and truck production and expects within 10 years to reach an annual production of more than half a million vehicles annually.

The new industry is expected to generate 15,000 new jobs and to infuse another $400 million into the economy.

Mexico has problems.

Reds Urge Rescue of Unwilling Brides

MOSCOW (AP)—Should a Communist party leader rescue girls from being forced to marry against their will? Definitely.

And should a good Communist official take his wife to the movies instead of going with the boys? Of course.

Let's get rid of feudal ideas about woman's place, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said today in a lecture to officials of the Czechoslovak Autonomous Republic in the Caucasus Mountains of southern Russia.

FORCED TO MARRY

Last year 23 girls were forced to marry, unwillingly, Pravda reported. Only when they appealed for help were two maidens rescued from would-be husbands.

Elmurz Elmurzaevich Khashtagulov said leader rescue girls for 800 rubles (1938) to Yasup Madigovich Kurugov and threatened to tie her up and ship her off to the wedding.

The secretary of a young Communist organization said she was afraid to go into the streets because Militia Lt. Bashir Tangiev had made a deal with her father to marry her.

Knights in shining armor came riding out of the local Communist offices to save her only after some delay and public appeals, Pravda said.

PUBLIC SHAME

The party organ also named some top Communists of the republic who "consider it a shame to show up with their wives in public."

Death Takes Racing Driver Fireball Roberts

FIREBALL ROBERTS

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Race driver Glenn (Fireball) Roberts, killed in a May 24 crash at Charlotte, died today.

A spokesman at Charlotte Memorial Hospital said Roberts died at 7:15 a.m. Cause of death was not announced.

Roberts appeared for a time to be recovering from burns over 75 per cent of his body.

Tuesday, however, it was announced by had developed pneumonia and a possible blood infection.

WIN 32 RACES

Roberts won 32 late model races and an estimated $400,000 in NASCAR payouts during his 15 years of racing. NASCAR records show he collected $17,173 in the past five years and that his best year was 1963 with $67,320 in NASCAR payouts.

Roberts was the second NASCAR superstar to die this year. Joe Weatherly, grand national champion in 1962 and 1963, was killed during a race at Riverside, Calif., last February.

Roberts was a member of the Ford factory team in 1967 and drove Chevrolet and Pontiacs from 1968 to early last year when he was hired by Ford as a publicity agent and driver.

CLARK FINISH

Weatherly and Roberts met several times on the race circuit.

One of their most heated races came at Daytona Beach, Fla., in February 1961. Both were driving Pontiacs, and Weatherly edged Roberts by two feet in the 20-mile race.

Roberts set a record in a disputed Daytona 500-mile stock car race in February 1962. Driving a black and gold Pontiac, he crossed the finish line 27 seconds ahead of Richard Petty.

Petty protested, claiming that Roberts used too many men to service his car on the last pit stop, but officials disallowed the protest.

Roberts averaged 152.289 miles-an-hour in winning the race, lapping a mark set a year earlier by a Daytona Beach driver.

The popular Roberts appeared to be gaining shortly after the crash. A medical bulletin issued three days after the accident indicated that he was progressing satisfactorily.

The mishap that eventually claimed his life came in a three-car accident on the seventh lap of the World 600-mile stock car race at the 1 1/4-mile Charlotte Motor Speedway.

In the first 72 hours after the wreck, Roberts had been given 123 pints of blood.

Aguirre Finally Goes Route

Tigers Defeat Indians, 3-1, on Three Hits

Southpaw Completes 9 Innings First Time Since September

DETROIT (AP) — Persepiring freely and grinning broadly, Hank Aguirre left no doubts that he was very pleased with himself after the Tigers defeated the Cleveland Indians 3-1 Wednesday night.

"Gosh, I love this hot weather," Aguirre said. "I felt like this was going to be my night as soon as I started warming up. Let it be hot, I love it."

Though it was Aguirre's 12th start, it was only his second victory in five decisions. His other triumph also came at the expense of the Indians.

Aguirre beat the Indians last May 17 and the complete game Wednesday was his first over the nine-inning route since Sept. 2, 1963.

Aguirre only struck out four and did not walk a man Wednesday night. Two of his strikeouts came in the ninth inning.

"I felt as strong then as I did when I threw my first pitch," Aguirre said.

Aguirre made only one bad pitch, Al Smith hit it into the seats in the second inning.

Except for that blow, only one other Indian got as far as second base—John Romano in the seventh on a single and an infield out.

SPARKPLUG

Bubba Phillips, playing third base for the injured Tom Wert, was the sparkplug in the Tigers' attack. He hit a home run in the fifth inning and scored from first on a hit-and-run single by Jerry Lumpe in the eighth.

An error by Cleveland shortstop Dick Howser and George Thomas double had given the Tigers a run in the first inning.

The victim of Aguirre's fine performance was rookie left-hander Tommy John, who also was the loser to Aguirre earlier this year. John gave up three of Detroit's five hits before being taken out for a pinchhitter in the eighth.

The triumph sent the Tigers into a tie for sixth with the Indians, marking the first time since May 22 that they moved that high in the standings.

Al Kaline doubled in the fourth inning to run his current hitting streak to 10 games. It equals his longest spurt of the season.

Mickey Lolich (7-6) and Pedro Ramos (4-5) are the scheduled starters for tonight's windup of the two-game set.

Washington arrives Friday for a five-game weekend series.

Orchard Lanes Stays Atop National Loop

Orchard Lanes breezed by G & M Construction, 10-3, last night to remain in first place in the National League softball race.

In other games, Hob & Larry's a game behind Orchard Lanes, routed Berry Door, 8-1. Circle Inn stopped Pontiac State Hospital, 11-0, and Bud & Lou's scored seven times in the top of the ninth inning to down UAW No. 603, 12-3.

Orchard Lanes (8-1) came up with seven runs in the second inning enroute to the easy win over G & M (6-4). Shortstop Jim McDonald highlighted the big inning with a bases-loaded home run.

Dean Perko and Lloyd Harper picked up two hits each for Hob & Larry's (7-3). Harper's second hit was a two-run homer in the fifth inning.

Circle Inn (3-7) scored nine runs in the fourth inning to lead the contest under the five-run rule. The loss pushed Pontiac Hospital (1-9) deeper into the league cellar.

UAW (4-5) rallied for five runs in the seventh inning to tie Bud & Lou's (5-5), but the union squad wilted under the heavy attack in the ninth inning.

Hub & Lou's picked up five hits in the ninth to go with a pair of walks and two errors. Bob Becker paced the winners with three hits in six trips.

GMC Bowling Squad Reaches BPA Finals

British to Remove Famed Race Track

AINTREE, Eng. (AP) — The Grand National, St. Leger, and other world's best-known horse races, will be contested at the Aintree race course for the last time next year.

Aintree, long the home of the 125-year-old race, will be torn down, according to Mrs. Mirabel Topham, chairman of Topham's Limited, owners of the track.

The land which is presently occupied by the track is needed by Topham's for industrial purposes which will make substantial contributions toward the social needs of nearby Liverpool and its neighborhood," said Mrs. Topham.

Koufax, Marichal in Pitching Race

By The Associated Press

Randy Koufax just can't shake Juan Marichal.

Or is it the other way around?

Koufax had his greatest season in 1963, winning 26 games. And so did Marichal.

Now Koufax, with seven straight victories, has brought his victory total for this season to 11. And so has Marichal. Marichal, the right-handed ace of the National League leading San Francisco Giants, got in a little earlier this time, becoming the majors' first 11-game winner in a 2-1 day game victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday.

Koufax, the left-handed ace of the eight-place Los Angeles Dodgers, followed suit in a 5-2 night game triumph over Philadelphia that dropped the Philadelphia Phillies' 1-5 games behind the Giants.

Neither had an easy time of it. Marichal, 31, on the season with a 2.38 earned run average, was touched for eight hits, two runs, 11-4 with a 1-8 ERA, allowed five, including a two-run homer by John Carlton that provided the Phillies with an early lead.

Besides Koufax and Marichal, two other pitchers who will be on the National League All-Star team—Chicago's Dick Ellsworth and Houston's Dick Farrell—went after victory No. 11. Neither got it.

Ellsworth's homer in the 10th inning made Ellsworth a loser as Cincinnati edged the Cubs 6-5. Farrell was tagged hard, but escaped without a defeat as the New York Mets pounded out 16 hits and whipped the Colts 8-5.

In the other NL game, Curt Simmons won his ninth game as St. Louis belted Milwaukee 6-1.

The Dodgers scored in the fifth on a walk, John Roseboro's single and a ground out, then pulled ahead with two runs in the sixth on singles by Maury Wills, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly.

Ron Santo hit his 14th and 15th homers and Billy Williams collected his 19th as the Cubs built a 5-1 lead going into the ninth against the Reds.

Errors by Andre Rodgers and Ellsworth led to four unearned runs for Cincinnati in the ninth. Two scoring on Derek Johnson's triple—before Rose came up with two out in the 10th and tagged Ellsworth with his seventh loss.

8-Hour Test on Keg Slate

A $250 prize will be at stake when keggers from Maroon and Oakland counties start the Marathon Bowling Contest at Shelby Lanes in Utica July 11. The eight-hour contest will get under way at 1 p.m. and end at 9 p.m.

Prizes will also be awarded to the bowlers with the high three-game and six-game series during the first four hours and final four hours. A prize will also be given to the first bowler to finish 40 games.

Entries are now being accepted at the Utica house.

his first victory since June 14, but gave up nine hits and had to leave in the third inning.

Ed Kravitz slipped a single, double and triple for the Mets. Larry Elliot collected a homer and two singles and John Stephenson stroked three singles. Walt Bond hit two homers for the Colts and Bob Aspin made one.

Simmons, 34, got all the support he needed from Julian Javier, who singled in the first run in the Cardinals' three-run second inning and hit a three-run homer in the third inning.

Business Team Whips Cranbrook, 5-0

PBI Nine Moves Up in 'A' Play

Pontiac Business Institute's young squad continues to make its presence felt in the Class A baseball race.

PBI (5-3), behind the five-hit pitching of Don Greig, shut out

Cranbrook, 5-0, to move within a half game of the Clippers (7-3).

The winners faltered twice in the opening frame on a walk to Bob Smith and back-to-back hitting singles by Smith and Bloch. Greig struck out four and walked one and he collected a pair of singles in three trips to the plate. Second baseman Dave Mahan picked up two of the five hits off Greig.

Army Shooter Tops Qualifiers

Leads Pistol Division in Olympic Trials

PT. DENNING, Ga. (AP)—An Army sergeant and an Air Force captain won a chance for the U.S. Olympic marksmanship team Wednesday in the free pistol division.

Sgt. Herchel Anderson of the Army Marksmanship Training Unit at Ft. Benning fired a total of 562 to win the event at the U. S. International Olympic trials. Capt. Franklin C. Green of Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, was second with 558.

The two top shooters after combined scoring Thursday will represent the United States at the Olympics in Tokyo.

In a non-Olympic event, running deer, SFC Chester Hamilton of the Marksmanship Training Unit was first with 883, while Capt. Richard Wentworth, also of the Marksmanship Training Unit, was second at 882.

Ten persons will be selected for the team, two for each of five events, plus five alternates.

Tiger Hurler Returns

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers restored pitcher Jack Hamilton to the active list Wednesday and optioned him to Syracuse of the International League.

Hamilton sustained a shoulder injury soon after being recalled from Syracuse late in May and had been on the disabled list.

World Javelin Record Erased by Norwegian

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Who is this Terje Pedersen who belated the world javelin record with a throw of 285 feet, 10 inches Wednesday?

He is a 20-year-old student of the blonde, blue-eyed Viking type, who weighs 209 pounds. He has his eyes fixed on the Tokyo Olympics this fall and a mark of 90 meters or 295 feet, three inches.

Pedersen's feat came Wednesday night in an international meet against the Benelux countries at Benelux Stadium. The throw that bettered the listed world mark of 284.7 came on his fifth try. Italy's Carlo Liviero set the 284.7 mark at Milan June 1, 1961.

Surrounded by jubilant fellow contestants and officials, Pedersen said he will take it easy in the next few weeks "because I don't want to get into top form yet."

6-DAY TRAINING

He disclosed that he trains six days a week. In four of them he uses weights. In the other two he throws the javelin.

"But I never do better than 246 feet during training sessions," he said. He would not predict what his maximum might be in the future. He said only "if I do not become better than this, I'll start wondering."

Redskins Sign 2 Vets

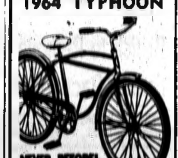

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Washington Redskins announced Wednesday the signing of two veteran defensive linemen, Jim Steffen and John Sample.

Steffen, six feet, 196 pounds, will be starting his sixth year in the National Football League. Sample, 34, 200 pounds, returns after a knee operation that kept him out nearly all of the 1963 season.

Hamtramck Net Star Wins at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—With the help of a strong forehand, Poschke Barthwick of Hamtramck, Mich., moved into the third round of the Junior Wimbledon tennis tournament Wednesday by defeating Russia's Anna Ivanova 6-3, 3-4, 6-4. At 18, Miss Barthwick is the youngest player ever to compete in the meet, comprised of the world's most promising teenage players.

Three Cardinals Sign

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced Wednesday the signing of their starting defensive end and the man expected to back them up.

The two signers are Joe Robb, 27, beginning his fourth season with the Cardinals and sixth in the National Football League; and Don Brumm, a first-round draft choice starting his second year.

Tom Hammond, who has played four years with the Cardinals, relieved Brumm and Robb last season.

Times Fast in Firecracker Trials

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—If two-time Indianapolis 500 winner A. J. Foyt wins the Firecracker 400 this Saturday he'll have to drive faster than he did in the Indy Classic.

Foyt won the Memorial Day 500 with a record speed of 147.500 miles per hour in an Offenhauser powered roadster. His qualifying speed was 104.072 m.p.h.

But Foyt's relative slow motion compared to what will be needed for the Firecracker 400 race for late model stock cars. The pole qualifier is expected to have to better 170 m.p.h.

And the winner, depending on how long he will drive under the caution flag, probably will have to average more than 160 m.p.h.

In fact, late model stocks are getting so fast that Junior Johnson of Roanoke, N.C. says: "If they get any faster I won't run next year. They've just about reached the ragged edge."

And the 220-pound Johnson is a driver who is known for one speed in a race. Did not.

Many of the 40 drivers expected to start the 400 got the feel of the high-banked Daytona Speedway track Wednesday.

Richard Petty of Handenman, N.C., was clocked at 174.438 miles an hour on one lap in a 1964 Plymouth. This was faster than the record qualifying speed.

The Freeway Washer and Stamping Company team of Cleveland, Ohio, holds the record for the highest three-gear series, 3,379, scored during the 1959-60 season. The Freeway five also scored WIBC's two record high games that season, 190 and 112.

As Grid Coach

Parseghian Faces Challenge at ND

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Ara Parseghian was backed on the one side by Father Henryburgh, president of Notre Dame University, and on the other by Father Joyce, the vice president of Notre Dame, the vice president of Notre Dame.

The subject, of course, was football, at the end of a sumptuous evening of food and libation. And the new head coach got up to speak.

"I regard the Notre Dame job of alumni," began Ara. "As a real challenge."

From the crowd, a guy got roaring to his feet, waved a sherry finger at Parseghian and chuckled loudly. "Buddy, you better believe it."

Ara told the story with a delighted smile as he prepared to lecture a football clinic at Kutztown's. In-the-Catskills on how to win games through better defense. So far he hasn't lost one at Notre Dame.

NON-CATHOLIC

But the magnitude of the job that faces him, as the first full-time non-Catholic, non-Notre Dame coach of the Irish since Knute Rockne made the school nationally famous, doesn't escape him.

"You can't understand what it's like till you're a part of it," said Ara. "Just like you can't fathom the presidency. No matter where you go, from Los Angeles to New York, people know the team and are interested in it."

"That's what has impressed me most in the few months I have been on the job — the dedication and loyalty to the school, on a national scale."

Ara first got the drift the week he was hired in early December in a hail of confusion. On Dec. 2 he had called Father Joyce on the chance that the job was open. He had been at Northwestern eight years and figured it was time to move on.

A week later, even before he was notified the job was his and had a chance to discuss the details, a premature leak sent him scurrying out of South Bend denying the whole thing was set.

"Now," reviewed Ara. "I think it was a good thing. All hell bust loose when I walked out and I realized the scope of coaching at Notre Dame. Man, you cough in your office and everybody in the world knows you got pneumonia."

Why would he want the job, at Northwestern awaiting his signature? "You know it's available," he answered, "so you say, 'Are you man enough to take the challenge?' If not, do you deserve what you have?"

A dynamic, dark haired man of 40, Ara has had a chance to measure the football situation at Notre Dame after an intensive spring training, and here's what he found:

"We're short on quickness and speed and basic skills."

There was a tendency to recruit for size. We found two men who could qualify as two-way players — Dick Arrington, a tackle. The only quarterback who can throw, John Huarte, had his confidence shattered. He also had his shoulder separated in the spring, which is more important, because beyond him we have to play defense."

Two perennially glum prospects, 235-pound fullback Jim Snowden and 230-pound fullback Paul Costa, have been moved up front. Snowden is an offensive tackle, Costa as a defensive end.

ALL SOPHOMORES

"Platooning," said Ara, "will help us. These kids have played three different systems in three years. We're all sophomores."

You better believe it. Parseghian was in Wilmington, Del. for a dinner and a little Italian fellow, subway station vintage, grabbed him.

"Hey, kids," he said, "I wanna tell you something. You gonna winna Iowa game?" Ara smiled. "or we fire you, too."

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tiger Manager Charlie Dresen admitted Wednesday night he was surprised that pitcher Dave Wickersham (10-5) was not listed to the American League All-Star team.

"I don't know what Lopez has in mind," said Dresen, referring to Chicago Manager Al Lopez, who will pilot the All team.

"I know the National League lineup is loaded with right-handed hitters and it seems logical to throw a righty at them," he continued. "But I'll bet Whitey Ford starts."

WJBC members were more "perfect" last season than ever before. There were a record 12 300 games scored. The previous high was 11, bowled during the 1961-62 season.

10 Boats Qualify for Gold Cup Race

2 More Spots Available for Sunday's Race

Three-Lap Qualifying Has Third Boat Over 100 MPH

DETROIT (AP)—The 10th powerboat—Bill—qualified Wednesday for Sunday's Gold Cup race against a backdrop of record speeds by two boats.

Bill Schmaucher, 21-year-old University of Washington student, piloted the Lompo, Calif., craft to an average speed of 103.846 miles per hour.

This exceeded the 90 m.p.h. necessary to qualify but was slower than the 119.557 record qualifying speed which Bill Brown attained Tuesday in Miss Exide.

The three-lap run by Bill was the only qualifying attempt Wednesday. Trials continue until race time. Twelve positions are open for the race, which 18 boats entered.

Hon. Musson, defending Gold Cup champion with Miss Bardahl, said "I could have gone faster if I knew Brown was going to do as he did." Musson, preceding Brown on the river, was first to break the old speed record of 116.463 m.p.h. He pushed Miss Bardahl to 117.646 m.p.h. minutes before Brown created a new mark.

"There's nothing to prove," because of Brown's high speed, said Bill Muncney who drove Notre Dame to a 113.302 m.p.h. qualifying speed this week.

"I know I can go faster," he said.

Seven other boats were expected to try to qualify today: Blue Chip, Miss Smirnoff, Such Crust, Gale V, St. Regis, Savair's Mist and Miss Liberty have not yet tried to qualify.

The 12 fastest boats will comprise the starting field in Sunday's race.

Fine Outlook for U.S. Crew in Regatta

HENLEY, England (AP)—American hopes at the Henley Royal Regatta are booming—thanks to three spirited schoolboy crews and a gangling New Yorker who has really stirred up the River Thames.

There now seems every chance the United States will end the long drought and claim its first Henley titles since 1960. As the regatta opened Wednesday, 30-year-old Seymour Cromwell swept over the one-mile, 550 yard course in seven minutes and 54 seconds.

No single sculler in the 120-year history of the event ever has gone so fast.

As Cromwell flaunted history, three U.S. schoolboy eighth scouled to outstanding victories in the Princess Elizabeth Challenge Cup.

The trio — Phillips Academy, Groton School and Washington-Lee high school — all were clocked under seven minutes, good going for boys of their age.

Washington-Lee and Phillips each had times of 6:54 — the day's fastest in the event which was opened to overseas crews for the first time.

Trout Fishing on Eucumbene

SYDNEY, Australia (NSA)—American sportsmen who don't mind going half way around the world for their fishing can find it in abundance in Australia's Snowy Mountains.

The mountains begin about 200 miles south of Sydney and can be reached by air, rail and road.

Most of the trout streams in the area have names as Australian as the kangaroo or boomerang — Murrumbidgee (geebi), Bogan, Yarrumbungle to mention a few.

International sportsmen have found the best all-around trout waters around Lake Eucumbene and the fastest dry fly angling at Three-Mile Dam.

The regular season runs from September through April, but fish are so plentiful at Lake Eucumbene it has a year-around open season.

Easy access to the Snowy Mountains began in 1940 when roads were built to a power project.

Switch of the Tail

Giraffes, because of their poorly developed voices, communicate with each other mainly by switching their tails.

If others are waiting to use a launching ramp, pull your rig out as quickly as possible. Do your tying down and liding up in an out-of-the-way spot.

FISHING BUDDIES—A visiting sportsman shows a curious kangaroo the prize trout he has just landed in the Snowy Mountains area of Australia. The animal looks hoping mad about the whole business.

WLYA Plans Race Event

Morning and afternoon races are on the July 4 schedule of the Watkins Lake Yachting Association.

The first race will get under way at 10:30 a.m. with the second slated to start at 2:30 p.m. The association has extended an invitation to all Watkin Lake hailboat owners to participate in the races.

Show Horses Killed in Morning Blaze

MILTON, Mass. (UPI)—Thirty-five to 40 valuable riding and show horses were killed early today when a general alarm fire swept a hay filled barn.

No estimate of damage was available immediately. Cause of the blaze was under investigation.

Police first at the scene tried to rope the frightened animals and lead them to safety. But they panicked.

Several of the horses that were dragged from the flaming 60-year-old, 2½-story wooden stable broke loose from their handlers and raced back into the barn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, owners of Paddock Stable, told police they were awakened by the noise of the horses and saw smoke streaming from the upper section of the barn.

Patrolmen James Coady and

Eugene Clement, said they could hear the whinnying and stamping of the horses from a mile away.

They drove to the stable and rescued five of the animals. In all, Milton police rescued eight horses.

The stable was widely known for housing show horses, jumpers and riding horses used along the Blue Hill trail.

The barn was located at the foot of Big Blue Hill.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Where is Indonesia going? The question is of concern to Washington and Moscow, London and Peking.

If you ask an Indonesian—the reply is apt to be something like this:

"We are a young country - give us time."
Vastly rich in resources and with 160 million people scattered over 3,000 islands, Indonesia long has been regarded as a pivot to the future in this part of the world.

With the end of World War II, Indonesia began a struggle against centuries of Dutch rule and won its independence in 1949.

Today widespread poverty is common in the midst of natural riches.

"You must remember," says an American resident, "that for years upon years the wealth of this country was drained off to serve 400 families in Holland. They have made accomplishments here in little more than 14 years. It will take time, but Indonesia must be given time."
Others disagree. They say there must be drastic changes, that patience and more time will continue a slide toward complete economic ruin.

REAL MAGNET

Despite government restrictions and bureaucratic shackles, foreign firms are drawn to the wealth of Indonesia — oil, rubber, tin and minerals.

The Dutch are coming back. The British, most recent targets because of the anti-Malaya campaign, are trying to hang on. Americans are here, along with Germans—East and West, Communist Chinese, Australians, Indians and Japanese.

Near the luxurious Hotel Indonesia, the Japanese, West Germans and Australians are building new embassies. Indicating they intend to be around for a while. The sites are only a few blocks from the shell of the British Embassy, burned by rioters last September in an anti-Malaysia frenzy.

In the city of Jakarta, a few television antennas sprout from the sharply sloping red tile roofs. There is one channel, a government station that broadcasts two or three hours at night.

ENDLESS FLOW

Expensive late-model automobiles, most of them German and Italian, wheel through the streets, mixing with military vehicles, trucks, crowded buses and the makeshift cannibalized

At night, lights burn brightly on the road to the always lighted sports complex, opened two years ago for Asian games and now named for President Sukarno. But large areas of the city of three million are blacked out at night by power shortages.

Most Indonesians tell you that where their country is going is nobody's business but Indonesian's. Displaying a fervent brand of nationalism, they emphasize that it definitely is not the concern of Western powers.

The United States, Britain and most of the countries of the West are, in Indonesian terms, old established forces in conflict with the new emerging forces. The new emerging forces, in Indonesian terms, include the Soviet Union, Communist China, countries of the African-Asian bloc, the Middle East and Latin America. Indonesia pictures itself as a leader among these countries.

SUKARNO COURSE

Sukarno, who has almost unrestricted powers, has launched

Indonesia on the path of so-called guided democracy. He has so far successfully maintained a precarious power balance between the military and the Communists, the country's two centers of organized strength. Daring first one, then the other, Sukarno has made himself leader in fact as well as title.

Today, however, there are signs the Communists are pushing a harder line to strengthen their position. They do not openly criticize Sukarno, declaring that their actions are intended only to further Indonesia's revolution. However, recent seizure of land by peasants and other activity point to increased Communist agitation. Some fears are expressed that after the rice harvest this fall, shortages may bring more active Communist efforts to cause trouble.

The Communist party-PKI has in recent months tended to follow the Peking line. Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan visited Indonesia in June and it was believed a purpose of this trip was to tempt to bring a change.

There is some feeling that karma is aware of an increased Communist challenge.

"There is one thing you can count on," says a highly placed source, "and that is that Sukarno is not going to be No. 1. As long as he is around, he is not going to be anything but No. 1."

So far, Sukarno has been able to extend his internal balance sheet to Indonesia's role in the East-West cold war. He has been courted by both sides, taken from both, and threatened to swing about dramatically if pushed too hard.

Whether Indonesia approves or not, its future course is of concern in the minds of world powers. Recent developments in other parts of Southeast Asia—and in Washington and Peking—overshadow the whole area.

Indonesia may find itself caught up in events that could upset the balance of even the most agile.

Asks U.S. Thanks for Paying Taxes

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—When American business tradition of it comes to advertising, Bob Hunter believes in it. saying thank you for money received when it is payment of a debt.

Hunter, who is vice president of an outdoor advertising firm, also is a taxpayer. He believes in that, too.

But he also believes the government should at least say thanks.

"When we realized the Internal Revenue Service does not normally send out thank you notes to acknowledge tax receipt, we felt Mr. Caplin might want to consider the practice."

THANK-YOU NOTES

Hunter believes in the latter so strongly that he wrote Mortimer Caplin, commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, and suggested that taxpayers should be given thank-you notes.

Hunter says he received no word from Caplin—not even an acknowledgment of the suggestion. So Hunter took 10 bill-

Sellers' 'Shot in Dark' Hits Entertainment Target

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "A Shot in the Dark" is another film starring Peter Sellers, who seems totally unable to make anything but his, in this one he continues his "Pink Panther" portrayal of Inspector Jacques Clouseau, the greatest hunt to crime since the introduction of the tommy gun.

There are dark hints that somebody up there in the French hierarchy is protecting Clouseau. How else explain why Clouseau is allowed to remain in charge of a murder investigation while treating the sexy suspect and incurring several more corpses.

If this sounds like grisly fare, forget it. The murderous doings are embellished with so many sight gags that large chunks of dialogue are lost in the laughter.

"A Shot in the Dark" is not only funny all the way, Clouseau's maladroitness almost reaches repetition now and then, and the mid-air camp sequence is curiously less funny than others.

Sellers is at the peak of his powers, proving he is with the oral kind. Mike Sumner and George Sanders offer a high degree of sex and snuff. Herbert Ross is an absolute gem as Clouseau's belated superior.

The artifice is ever apparent, but that doesn't detract from an enjoyable two hours. And there is always Hayley Mills.

"Robin and the Seven Hoods" continues the adventures of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis who have previously joined in crime.

"Occasionally" and "Berger's 3". They return to crime — Chicago, circa 1920s — and have jetted Peter Lawford and added crooner emeritus Bing Crosby.

These outings have always seemed as if they were ad libbed on the set with a corps of gagmen. The jokes are often funny, and there is an undoubted fascination in watching celebrities at play.

The accident ripped a 30-foot V-shaped hole in the trawler's hull 30 feet from the starboard (right) bow.

The U.S. Coast Guard said the 120-foot Russian vessel had put in a call for the "mother ship," and the two vessels were expected to rendezvous about 7 a. m.

The cutter McCulloch was standing by if needed.

The Coast Guard said the Kalinnga was "very low in the water and pumping."

The 7,000-ton Gannett, with a crew of 20, reported that none of its personnel were injured in the mishap and that it was proceeding to Boston harbor, but its arrival time could not be estimated.

The Coast Guard said it had no information on whether the Russian trawler was one of those frequently seen off the U.S. coast that carries elaborate electronic equipment more suited for spying than fishing.

"We have no information about the vessel's electronic gear or the number of crewmen on board," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Last night Sub. Lt. Robert Tanton of the Royal Canadian Navy flew over the accident scene and reported the Russian ship was "very low in the water."

Laos Summit in New Delhi?

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma confirmed today that he has again proposed to the Pathet Lao that New Delhi be the site of a Laotian summit peace conference.

Asked by a reporter's question if he will request that conference be proclaimed before the summit conference is held, Souvanna replied:

"As the principle of a meeting has been accepted by the Pathet Lao, there will be no conditions for the summit conference."

Both neutralist Souvanna and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao titular chief, Prince Souphanouvong, have agreed to meet abroad to discuss settlement of the Laotian crisis, but cannot agree on where to meet.

They decided to meet in a foreign capital after they could not agree to meet in a site acceptable to all sides in Laos.

Russia Promises More Military Assistance to Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno, Soviet first deputy premier, promised today that more Soviet military hardware will be coming to Indonesia but refused to give details of new deliveries.

Speaking at a news conference shortly before ending a three-day visit to this Southeast Asian country, Mikoyan also:

1. Said the Soviet Union supports Indonesia in its opposition to the British-backed Federation of Malaysia.

2. Indicated he had at least gained "sympathy" from the Indonesian Communist Party.

for the Soviet position in the Moscow-Peking dispute.

3. Said part of the Soviet Union is in Asia and because of this geographical fact there is no need to dispute the question of Soviet participation in an agreed African-Asian conference planned next year. He said China opposed Soviet participation. 4. Said that "bombardment by American planes" in Laos made it doubtful that a Laotian peace conference would be fruitful.

Mikoyan and his delegation of members of the Soviet Parliament left for a two-day visit to Burma, en route to Moscow.

Mikoyan held talks with President Sukarno and other high Indonesian officials. A foreign ministry communiqué said complete agreement was reached on various issues "both in the political and economic field as well as in the framework of arms delivery to the armed forces of the Republic of Indonesia."

Information Minister Ruslan Abdulgani said Indonesia is mobilizing funds and forces to crush the Federation of Malaysia "within the near future."

In Kuala Lumpur, the Malayian capital, Chief Minister Stephen Nanning of Sarawak reviewed his call for British and Malaysian forces to strike across the border at Indonesian guerrilla bases. Sarawak and Borneo are the two Malaysian states in which Indonesian guerrillas are operating.

New Products Ease Cook's Job

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

There's no lute in meal planning, even in the hottest weather. But you can take advantage of some of the newer foods, many of which are more convenient.

For example, do food cans that open with those tricky little "keys" nearly drive you out of your mind? Well, one company has taken pity on you and come up with an all-aluminum zip-top can.

Right now, it is used only on cans of Vienna sausage. Later on, it will be on other meat products.

Cottage Scrambled Eggs
1 can (5-ozs.) Vienna sausage
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/4 cup butter or bacon drippings
2 cups chopped cooked potatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
6 eggs
1/2 cup milk
Few drops hot sauce, or 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

In large skillet, cook Vienna sausages, onion and green pepper in butter or bacon drippings until lightly brown. Remove sausages; set aside and keep warm.

Season potatoes with 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper. Turn into skillet and mix with onion and green pepper. Fry until potatoes are brown and crisp, turning frequently.

Beat eggs, milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt and hot sauce or Worcestershire sauce with fork. Pour over potatoes in skillet. Turn heat to low.

PRUNE FLAKES APPLE CRISP

As egg mixture starts to set around sides and on bottom, lift cooked portions with spatula so uncooked mixture goes to bottom. Continue cooking until eggs are cooked throughout.

Cut into pie shaped wedges; top with Vienna sausages and serve immediately. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Bran and prune flakes are not only a new cereal, but come in a brand new compact package.

For years, homemakers have complained that the largest boxes of cereal wouldn't fit their shelves. One cereal company has done something about the problem.

There is no change in the amount of cereal inside the box; the box is just shorter and fatter.

If Junior leaves any of the new cereal in the package, use it for a special dessert—Prune Flakes Apple Crisp.

Prune Flakes Apple Crisp
1 can (1 pound 4-ozs.) sliced apples
1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 1/2 cups bran and prune flakes
Cream or vanilla ice cream (optional)

Mix apples with 1/2 cup brown sugar, salt, cinnamon, and lemon rind and juice. Set aside. Then blend butter with the 1/2 cup brown sugar. Add cereal and mix well.

Place half the apple mixture in a 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Cover with half the cereal mixture. Add remaining apple mixture; top with remaining cereal mixture. Cover.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. Uncover; bake 15 minutes longer. Serve warm or cool with cream or ice cream. Makes 6 servings.

Last week, everyone in the editorial department was munching on little crackers. Goldfish snack crackers (that's right, they look like tiny fish) are available in five flavors: cheese, pizza, barbecue, lightly salted and smoky. They're amusing to serve, delicious to eat.

Instant soft drink mix now comes pre-sweetened. German potato salad is being marketed in 16-ounce cans. Tuck a few cans into your picnic basket; it tastes better at room temperature, rather than chilled.

McCormick & Company now have a plastic cover, called the Duo-Flip Top which needs only slight pressure to be opened.

At one end is a shaker cover; at the other, a spooning hole contoured to the shape of a measuring spoon. Most convenient.

Viewed as Summer Rally by Some

Market Advance Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to advance early this afternoon, in what some Wall Street observers are beginning to call a summer rally.

BIG BLANKS

Some big blocks of stock crossed the ticker tape with $5,000 shares of Hupp and 49,000 shares of Mosler sales, changing hands.

However, Wall Street expected some caution as the part of traders today because of the long Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Steels took the lead again at the opening but slipped around midday. Gains by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel evaporated and turned into fractional losses.

General Motors and Chrysler gained about half a point while Ford was ahead by a lesser amount.

Spread Search for Rights Trio

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (UPI)—A Navy force of 400 men spread into adjoining Newton County yesterday in an intensive 10-day-old search for three missing civil rights workers.

The searchers yesterday had no more success than those who combed the rugged countryside before them.

"We're stymied," one officer conceded.

The missing three are Michael Schwerner, 24, Brooklyn, N.Y.; Andrew Goodman, 20, of New York City, both white, and James Chaney, 21, a Meridian, Miss. Negro.

In Washington, integrationists continued to apply pressure to get the federal government to supply more protection for civil rights workers coming into the state.

ASK PROTECTION

A group of Connecticut farmers, including the wife of former Army Secretary Frank Padd, the wife Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and urged him to try and secure adequate protection for their children, who are en route to Mississippi to help with the desegregation drive.

Prices Steadied on Board of Trade

CHICAGO (AP)—Light to moderate demand came today after an irregular opening and prices became mostly steady to firm on the Board of Trade.

After about an hour, wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 cent a bushel lower, July 1.04c. Corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 1.24c. Oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 1.25c. Soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 higher, July 1.25c.

'Boom' Reports Obscure Other Fiscal Factors

By SAM HAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—The rush to hail all the economic records set this year after year with little change.

The legal federal debt limit has been raised again, and at the last moment.

The debt already had gone up, Congress made it legal for the Treasury to live with the accomplished fact.

Federal excise taxes on a limited list of items have been extended another year. These temporary rates have been continued each June for a decade.

Treasury statisticians are busy working on the books of the fiscal year that has just ended and will report soon. As usual, even inevitable, the actual spending and the actual receipts won't match the estimates made when the budget was presented 18 months ago, nor the revised estimates given Congress six months ago.

FINAL RESULT

In as almost every year for decades, the final result will be a deficit, with output topping income. That is why the federal debt keeps going up.

This has its counterpart in many family budgets and explains why the total of consumer debt also rises with predictable regularity.

Statisticians are quick to point out that there is nothing necessarily alarming in any of this. The economy is growing. Along with it, the spending of consumers and of government increases. So the private and public debt goes up. Combined it exceeds a trillion dollars. But assets are even higher.

TAXES EXTENDED

Nor is there anything unprecedented about Congress being reluctant to relinquish any tax or higher rate, however temporary may be its label. Congress has continued for one more year the $1-billion in federal excise taxes on jewelry, cosmetics, rugs, luggage, liquor, cigarettes, autos, local phone calls and airplane tickets. The rates were set during the Korean War as a temporary measure.

Congress also likes to keep a legal limit on the federal debt, although the real one of $312 billion at the moment is far above the basic limit of $28 billion. This base has been exceeded by regular temporary borrowings of the ceiling.

The latest temporary ceiling allows the Treasury to increase the debt.

If the new limit hadn't been voted, the Treasury couldn't have paid its bills, because it couldn't borrow money. And it needs new funds to pay for new appropriations by Congress. These include the government payroll. And Congress at the moment is considering raising the pay scales including their own.

IT GOES ON

So, as records are set, business goes on as usual on many fronts, both government and private. And changes often are in dollar terms rather than in the terms themselves.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "We have 200 shares of Punta Alegre Sugar and 200 shares of United Nuclear. Should we sell? We also own some Canadian shares—National Limited—which are worthless. I very foolishly bought them over the phone and wonder if more people do such a foolish thing." A.M.

A. Let me reply to your last question first.

I think you'd be surprised at the number of people who buy stock over the telephone from "bolder room" salesmen. I cannot emphasize too strongly that no one under any circumstances should buy stock over the telephone, except from a tried and trusted dealer. If they do, they usually find themselves later in your position—with worthless stock.

Your other two issues have shown good technical action in a poor market. Both have recorded strongly rising earnings, and United Nuclear has reported a copper discovery in Arizona. I would hold both, unless you need cash income, which neither issue affords.

Beer by Rail Proving OK

City Beverage Firm Finds It's Economical

"Piggyback" rail shipments of beer to City Beverage Co., Inc., 117 Turk, are proving to be an economical and efficient method of transportation, according to Harold A. Cousins, secretary-treasurer of the firm.

"Piggyback," is the shipment of loaded trucks by flatcar, a method of transportation which has gained increasing favor in recent years.

The system is being used for several commodities throughout the country, but City Beverage is said to be the only beer distributor in Michigan receiving beer in this manner.

The firm has been receiving about 30 trailer loads of Blatz and Pabst—about 30,000 cases a week since June 1, according to Cousins.

The beer is shipped from the Milwaukee brewery via the Grand Trunk Western railroad.

BEER UNLOADED

The trailers are taken off the flatcars at the GTW freight yards and unloaded at the City Beverage Co. warehouse.

Empty bottles are returned to the brewery in the same manner.

Cousins said distributors throughout the state are keeping an eye on the system.

If it proves successful over a long term, he said, it probably will be adopted by the larger distributors.

City Beverage is one of the largest distributors in Michigan. Floyd Hildner is president of the corporation.

Union Ousted in Bias Case

NLRB Decertification Set for Texas Local

WASHINGTON (AP)—Breaking historic ground, the National Labor Relations Board found a union guilty of racial discrimination today and stripped it of its certification.

In a broad opinion with possible national impact the majority decision said whenever a union causes discrimination based on race it has committed an unfair labor practice.

The action—the first of its kind by the NLRB—was against the Independent Metal Workers Union, which maintained separate locals for white and Negro members at Hughes Tool Co. in Houston, Tex.

The case involved the complaint of a member of the Negro local whose application for an apprenticeship available only to white members was rejected by the union.

The five-member board's decision to revoke certification on grounds of illegal coercion was unanimous, although two members gave more limited reasons for their finding.

The minority said Congress never intended the National Labor Relations Act to deal with racial discrimination except when based on union membership, as in this case.

The majority opinion was by members Boyd Leason, Gerald A. Brown and Howard Jenkins Jr. Chairman Frank W. McCulloch and member John H. Fanning wrote the minority view.

The majority said the union's refusal to process the grievance of the Negro member, Ivory Davis, because of his race amounted to refusal to bargain collectively with the employer.

OTHER VIOLATION

The majority said it also violated the provision of the act forbidding a union to cause or attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against an employee.

The board said the white local and the company signed a new contract agreement in 1961 but the Negro local refused to sign.

"In spite of this, and over (Negro) Local 2's protest, the company put the new contract into effect immediately," the board said.

Transfusion Is Authorized for Baby Girl

FLINT (AP)—Genesee County Probate Judge George D. Stevens has empowered officials at Flint Hospital to give blood transfusions to a newborn baby despite the parents' objections.

Parents of the baby girl which was born Monday at Flint Osteopathic Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Simpson, 20 Cornelia. The two are Jehovah's Witnesses, and refused permission for the transfusions on religious grounds.

Dr. George C. Wolf, the hospital's medical director, told Stevens the blood might be needed to save the baby's life. The child was born with a hemolytic blood disease, Dr. Wolf's petition said. Court approval was granted Tuesday.

Dr. Wolf said Wednesday it has not yet been necessary to administer the transfusion because the baby's condition had improved.

Vertical Takeoff Project Advances

DALLAS (NEA) — What has two wings, flies at 430 miles per hour and can land in a tennis court? By the time flight tests are completed, the Air Force may be able to answer with a series of letters that look like a Russian code: XC-142A VTOL.

The last part first, VTOL stands for vertical takeoff and landing. The CX part of the formula means a new plane recently rolled out before military brass at the Ling-Temco-Vought Co. in Dallas.

The aircraft has been described as "a half-smoked cigar with propellers." The plane is designed to take off vertically, straighten out in midair and then fly faster than most of the World War II fighter planes—in excess of 430 m.p.h.

This sort of thing has been tried before. Where the big difference comes in is when the plane settles for a landing. The process is reversed, and the craft is brought back to earth.

When ready for takeoff, the wings pivot straight up—giving it the appearance of a model plane assembled in a hobby shop after the lights went out.

The plane is designed for swift transport of combat troops, equipment and supplies from assault ships and airfields to rough terrain under all weather conditions, similar to the demands of Asian combat.

It can carry 32 fully-equipped combat troops or 8,000 pounds of cargo between 230 and 470 miles.

CARRIES 24

The most common transport plane currently used by the military in Viet Nam is the Caribou CV-2. It carries up to 24 men, cruises at 190 m.p.h.

The CH-21 Shawnee helicopter can carry 22 men at cruising speeds of 96 m.p.h.

This chopper—the famed "Flying Banana" of the Korean War—has been almost entirely replaced in Viet Nam by the HU-1 Iroquois helicopter, which carries up to 12 men at speeds of 132 m.p.h.

Malcolm X Vows War in South

NEW YORK (UPI)—Malcolm X vowed yesterday to wage guerrilla warfare against racists in Mississippi and other Southern states.

Malcolm said he would send squads of armed guerrillas into the South to protect Negroes from "terror and brutality" of the Ku Klux Klan.

"The only way an inferior force can compete against a better armed, superior force is with the science of guerrilla warfare," the Black Nationalist said.

"The Klan elements in the South are well known. We believe that whenever they strike against the Negro, the Negro has a chance to strike back."

Malcolm also implied that he would use "white infiltrators" to gather intelligence about racist activities in the South.

"It will take a while to do it. And you would be surprised how many whites, students and older persons, are fed up with the situation."

In an interview at his New York headquarters, Malcolm said: "Those people in Mississippi are in a shock if they think the Negroes will take brutality this summer."

"If President Johnson doesn't do his duty and use federal troops to protect the lives and property of Negroes, we definitely will do our utmost to show we can defend our people in America—the way we defended the (and other Americans) in Korea," he said. "We will take every Negro veteran we can into that state."

Malcolm said his guerrilla campaign was not directed against whites generally, but against "the white-racist."

Three Injured in Jet Landing

NEW YORK (AP)—The lander yoke broke off an American Airlines jet that veered from a runway after touching down at Kennedy Airport Wednesday night in a thunderstorm. Three persons were injured slightly.

A small fire on one of the four engines was put out quickly by firemen.

All the passengers—only five—slid to the ground on an escape rope. Two suffered rope burns of the hands and fingers.

The Boeing 707-720 jet, Flight 64, from Los Angeles had made a stop at Philadelphia. The seven-member crew was from the Los Angeles area.

First Lesson Instructor's Nightmare

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Carol Jean Hinton's first driving lesson was the kind that give instructors nightmares.

Police said Miss Hinton, 15, had lost control of the auto yesterday, and here's what happened:

The car smashed into the James Graham home.

Then it hit the garage.

It hit a car inside the garage.

IN LIVING ROOM

The Graham car was knocked into the living room of the home.

There it hit a piano, wrecking it.

The Gramhams estimated damage at $5,000. No one was injured.

3 Students Sentenced in Burglary

Three Flint Junior College students were each placed on four years' probation Tuesday for their part in the burglary of a Pontiac market.

Circuit Court Judge Arthur
E. Moore ordered the sentences for David E. Moreno, 18, of 24
Whitfield; Edward A. Christo-fer, 19, of 1942 Parley, Detroit; and Brian D. Sandberg, of Flint.

The trio pleaded guilty last month to the April 14 burglary of the Up to Date Market, 330
E. Pike, in which a small amount of change and some candy bars were taken.

Police claim all three have also been connected with a number of store burglaries in the Flint area.

A fourth student, James Toles,
20, of Flint, pleaded guilty to entering the Pontiac food market and was placed on four years' probation two weeks ago by Judge Moore.

Stunned Oklahoma Court Asks Tax-Evading Associate to Quit

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A stunned Oklahoma Supreme Court called on N. S. Corn Wednesday to resign as a superannuated judge after he was sentenced and fined for evading federal income taxes.

The U.S. district attorney said the government also had a witness and documents proving that Corn accepted a $100,000 bribe. Corn had told a grand jury his undeclared income was gambling winnings.

Corn, 60 years old and a member of the high court for a quarter of a century, showed no emotion as he was sentenced in federal court to 18 months in prison and fined $11,250.

The tall, slightly stooped judge served on the Supreme Court from 1934 until 1960, when he became a superannuated justice—one who assists the court part time.

NO COMMENT

Corn had no comment on the sentence by Judge Roy W. Harper which followed a changing of his plea from innocent to "no defense."

Harper said if Corn is physically unable to serve the sentence, probation will be considered. Government doctors are to examine him and report to the court by July 20.

Corn was indicted April 8 on a charge of evading $11,063.54 in federal income taxes from 1957 through 1960.

B. Andrew Potter, U.S. attorney, said since Corn had paid all his back taxes, plus fraud penalties, "and has admitted having fraudulently underdeclared his income," the government agreed with Corn's attorney in the change of plea.

TAKE THE CHANCE

"I realize his age, and I realize the fact that he's paid the tax," commented Judge Harper. "But if the only penalty for income tax evasion were the payment of fine, many more people would take the chance of being caught."

Potter said the bribe could be proven by the government. He said it was connected with a pending case in 1956 involving a corporation which was not identified, which needed a "favorable decision." Potter said a government witness was asked how much the decision was worth and when Corn was told $100,000, the judge said he felt something could be worked out.

W. H. Blackbird, chief justice of the state Supreme Court said he contacted other justices and had asked Corn to resign. Blackbird said Corn replied that he "would let us know in a few days or a week or so."

Corn's salary as a superannuated judge is $8,374 a year, or three-fourths of his salary as a Supreme Court justice. He had remained on the payroll since his indictment.

OTHER INDICTMENT

Another Supreme Court justice, Earl Welch, was indicted by the same grand jury that indicted Corn. Welch was accused of evading $13,364 in federal income taxes, from 1967 through 1962. His trial date has not been set.

Rusk Plans Vacation

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans to take several days' vacation, one of the very few he has had in his 3½ years in the position.

He said at a Washington news conference yesterday he would "get a few days' rest" next week. He didn't say where.

Celebration Today

Luci Marks 17th Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The teenager who sparkles around the White House has a birthday today.

Luci, who used to be Lucy, is 17.

Clothes-conscious like many a teen-ager, Luci was supposed to get clothes as a present from her mother.

The long-time family cook, Zephyr Wright, was whipping up a lemon birthday cake, Luci's favorite.

'BEST BEAU'

The young lady has a best beau, but not a steady. The favored young man is Jack Olson, 16, whom she met a year ago when he was a page boy at the Capitol. He runs an elevator there now but plans to return to college in the fall.

Lucy became Luci by her own choice back in 1961, but the switch in spelling escaped official recognition until last February.

She likes music, both popular and classic, and plays the piano. She and her older sister, Lynda, 20, have stood in for their mother at musical and other events. They were chorists at a White House conference in March given by the chamber group of the Boston Symphony.

POPULAR MUSIC

Tuesday night, Luci's preference was for popular music. And she and her partner were doing a mean frug, a version of the twist in which the feet stand still. This was during dancing on an outdoor terrace following a state dinner honoring President Francisco J. Orlich of Costa Rica.

The orchestra had been admonished not to play any "loud music" except upon request. But Luci requested it—first of her father, then of the orchestra.

The largest gem ever found was a 520,000 carat (229 lb.) aquamarine near Marambaia, Brazil, in 1910.

CITY DOCTOR

to Speak at Fall Seminar

A Pontiac physician, Dr. Jack Kevorkian, will be one of 11 scientists and science writers speaking at a seminar on science news this fall at the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Kevorkian, an associate pathologist at Pontiac General Hospital, will take part in the Seminar on Dissemination of News and Information a 6-11 Science Oct. 16-18 at the Iowa School.

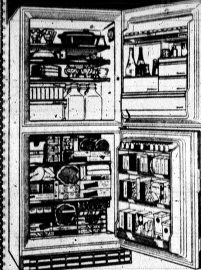

The seminar is expected to attract some 30 Midwestern editors and broadcasters. It is being sponsored by the university and the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Kevorkian has pioneered research on transfusion of blood from corpses to living humans. Last summer, the local doctor conducted three experiments in which blood from dead bodies was transfused to living humans by direct body-to-body transfusion.

Gala Events to Mark 4th in This Area

Tan area communities have planned special events to mark the July 4 holiday.

In three, Ulica, Lake Orion and Clarkston, one or more full days of gala activities are planned.

The other seven will celebrate primarily with fireworks displays at dusk. They are Auburn Heights, Keego Harbor, Rochester, Milford, Troy, Orionville and Oxford.

However, the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation announces there will be no fireworks display at Oakland Park Saturday. In past years, the city has cosponsored the fireworks there.

U. S. Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., will lead the Ulica parade which marks the opening of the Ulica Lions all-day holiday celebration and homecoming.

STARTS AT 10 A.M.

The march starts at 10 a.m. at the high school and will wind its way south down Cass, then west on Auburn to a blocked-off area for the after-party festivities.

Parades on both water and land, dances and baseball games will highlight the Lake Orion annual Small Fry Days celebration over the Fourth of July weekend.

The four-day program will open with a teen dance at the Youth Center at 8 tonight.

Starting tomorrow's festivities will be a girls' baseball game at 10 a.m.

ALL-STAR GAME

An all-star (Senior League) game is slated for 8 p.m. to be followed at 9 by the Merry Makers Square Dance at LS Supermarket.

The agenda for Independence Day will include the 10:30 a.m. parade starting at Atwater Park, merchants and pony game at 1 p.m., Babe Ruth game at 4 and an adult dance at Al Hancote's show-room at 9.

Closing event will be the colorful Venetian Parade of boats on Lake Orion at 1 p.m.

All ball games will be played at Atwater Park.

MERRYMAKERS

Clarkston merry-makers will get a treat with the three circus performances and the participation of wild animals in the annual Fourth of July parade.

The Cole Circus has slated shows at 2 and 8 p.m. and at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Featured attraction of the event-packed day will be the 10 a.m. parade sponsored by the Independence Township Fire-fighters Association.

The parade will form at 9:30 a.m. at Haupt Pontiac Sales and proceed down M-15 to the downtown area of the village.

FIREWORKS DISPLAYS

Heading the list of the six communities planning primarily fireworks displays is Auburn Heights.

A 7 p.m. demonstration by the Pontiac Township Fire Department will kick off festivities.

Official Attack on Sparklers

Fire Marshal Warns Parents of Danger

Sparklers came under attack today by a Pontiac Fire Department official in warning of the dangers of Fourth of July fireworks.

While fireworks for the general public are illegal in Michigan, sparklers are not, even though they pose a constant fire threat, said Fire Marshal Charles Metz.

"Would you consider anything that burns at 1,000 degrees as safe for children?" said Metz.

"The sooner they do away with all these things, even caps for toy guns, the better off children and parents will be," he said.

Metz noted the hazards of sparklers by citing two cases in recent weeks where sparklers have started fires in Pontiac.

TWO CASES

In one instance a garage caught fire after children tossed sparklers on the roof; in the other, a child playing with a sparkler set a bedroom on fire.

Some Michigan communities have implemented the state law forbidding fireworks by adopting local ordinances banning sparklers.

In Pontiac, an ordinance governs the sale of sparklers only by designating that they must be stored in a metal container, according to Metz.

OU Will Enter Intercollegiate Sports Field

Plan to Be Integral With Academic and Physical Programs

Intercollegiate athletics will become an integral part of the academic and physical programs at Oakland University next fall.

Halle Lepley, physical director at the university, made the announcement yesterday after approval for entering intercollegiate competition was given by D. H. Varner, university Chancellor, earlier this week.

"We will enter competition in seven sports, keeping athletics as a close, integral part of our university activities and staying away from high-pressure recruiting or scheduling," said Lepley.

No athletic scholarships will be awarded. The OU program will be similar to that format used by the President's Athletic Conference, with which Wayne State and Eastern Michigan universities are affiliated.

The conference recognizes only scholarships given on an academic basis.

SPORTS PLANNED

Competition beginning in September will start with golf, tennis and cross-country.

Basketball, fencing and swimming competition will follow over the athletic program in the winter, and next spring, track will be added to a continued golf and tennis schedule.

Lepley announced that competition will be predominantly with Michigan Inter-Collegiate Athletic Association (MIAA) teams along with smaller independents in Michigan and Ohio.

Teams in MIAA include Adrian, Albion, Alma, Hope, Olivet and Kalamazoo.

SCHEDULING DIFFICULT

"Scheduling at this time is difficult," said Lepley, "as most 1964-65 schedules are complete."

But we hope to enter many events as triangular and quadrangular matches where we are unable to have dual competition arranged."

"Most of our events will be scheduled for Friday evenings and Saturdays so as not to interfere with a student class work," Lepley added.

Friday Holiday Shows Due to Dampen Area Friday

City, County, GMTC Get 3-Day Weekend

Tomorrow will be a holiday for most Pontiac city and Oakland county officials and GMC Truck & Coach Division employees.

Temperatures will fall into the high 60s tonight and aim for a willing 55 to 60 tomorrow. A slight break in the extreme heat this week is forecast for Saturday.

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy and slightly cooler.

Thunderstorms during the night dumped eight-tenths of an inch in rain in downtown Pontiac.

The low recording prior to 8 a.m. was 68. At 1 p.m., the mercury had climbed to 82.

GOP Fight on Platform Is Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton's backers appeared today to be laying the groundwork for a GOP convention platform fight to test the solidity of Sen. Barry Goldwater's presidential delegate strength.

Although no final decision is reported to have been made on such a maneuver, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., already has canvassed platform views of a group of liberal Republican House members of the convention committee.

And Henry Cabot Lodge has tossed out some hints that a platform fight might provide the basis for the kind of test on which Scranton's backers may have to rely in their efforts to shake loose some of the convention votes now publicly committed to Goldwater for the nomination.

If any such battle is carried to the convention floor, Michigan's Gov. George Romney is regarded as certain to align himself with Scranton's supporters.

Romney, whose state casts 46 votes, has said he will not release those pledged to him on the first ballot.

RIGHTS STATEMENT

Most Republican leaders think that only a statement on civil rights that went far beyond approval of the bill Congress is about to pass and pledges to enforce it could stir up a major convention controversy.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., who heads the platform committee, has said that its provisions should be fought out within his group.

However, dissidents could bring a minority report to the floor if they choose.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who will place Goldwater's name in nomination, predicted in an interview that if such a minority report materializes it will get short shrift in the convention.

"GONE TOO FAR" He said he doesn't believe anything the Scranton forces can do will keep Goldwater from getting the nomination.

OK Assured; LBJ to Sign Before July 4

Southern Critics Say Enactment Will Bring Hike in Race Tension

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The long congressional fight over civil rights legislation comes to an end today as the House votes on the far-reaching measure already passed by the Senate.

Overwhelming approval is a foregone conclusion, the House having passed last February, 200 to 139, a bill that was revised in only minor ways by the Senate during its historic three-month debate.

Without waiting until July 4th as some sources had indicated, President Johnson is expected to sign the bill into law speedily in hopes it can start easing racial tensions.

Many of its Southern critics, however, predict it will only inflame the situation.

For more than a year, the bill was the subject of intensive negotiating in both the House and Senate before it finally emerged as a compromise package supported by Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress.

ONE BIG BUNDLE

The bill wraps into one big bundle a number of measures designed to help Negroes achieve equality in nearly all phases of national life into which the federal government can reach.

It bans discrimination in employment practices — by both unions and employers — and in hotels, motels, restaurants, movies, and other places serving the public.

It arms the government with powers to cut off federal funds

New Construction Proceeds on Schedule

Construction of a 180,000-square-foot addition to the Pontiac Motor Division foundry is proceeding on schedule, according to E. M. Estes, Pontiac general manager.

Erection of the steel framework has been completed, Estes said today, and the roof is being added.

The structure, is connected to the present foundry at Montcalm and Glenwood streets.

Work on the interior of the building is scheduled to begin soon. Pontiac officials say they expect to run the first castings through the new plant shortly after Labor Day.

The new facilities and modernization will substantially increase the foundry's daily pouring capacity, based on a regular two-shift operation.

New machinery to be installed will improve accuracy of castings and increase continuous operating limits.

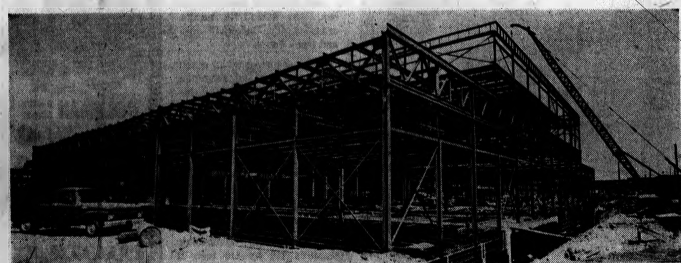

A new finishing room will house that latest sand cleaning equipment with a greater capacity for cleaning castings.

Paralleling construction of the foundry addition, which is being built on a former parking lot, is the clearing and blacktopping of a 25-acre site east of the foundry to be used for parking.

Several buildings have been cleared from the site, which is bounded by Montcalm, Joslyn, Kennett and Glenwood streets.

No completion date has been set for the parking lot, as some businesses on the site are yet to be relocated.

Senate Winding Up Action on Federal Pay Raise Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate completes action today on a $664-million federal pay raise bill after voting to retain it a 77-200 yearly increase for each member of Congress.

The senators beat down three efforts Wednesday to strike out the increases for senators and representatives.

Senate passage will send the legislation back to the House for consideration of several changes the Senate made in the original bill.

There is little likelihood, however, that the measure will reach President Johnson for signing before Congress recesses.

Two Ask New Vote in Avondale

A suit to force a new Avondale School Board election was filed yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by two ousted board members.

Board secretary Mrs. Genevieve Porter and trustee Floyd L. Cobb Jr. charge fellow board members acted improperly in striking their names from the June 8 election ballot, forcing them to run as write-in candidates.

A request for a restraining order barring successful candidates Herbert Miller and Edward Turner from holding office was denied by Judge Philip Pratt, however.

"I don't want to tie the hands of the school board from functioning," said Judge Pratt. He feared a long lawsuit could hurt the district's operations if board members are temporarily unseated pending a decision.

Mrs. Porter and Cobb claim petitions placing them on the ballot were ruled invalid because of a misprint over the circular signing his name, but that school officials neglected to correct the error promptly.

Their suits ask that Miller and Turner be discharged and a new election held. A show cause hearing will be scheduled later this month.

The incumbents ran as write-ins after they were deleted from the ballot, but failed to get enough votes for reelection.

County OKs Needed Funds to Launch Divorce-Cut Plan

The first step in establishing a marriage counseling service to stem the flow of divorces passing through Oakland County courts came this morning.

For the first time, county funds were made available to get the much-discussed program off the ground.

Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore, who led the fight for the counseling service, said it could eventually reconcile a third of the couples seeking divorce here, lower the number of children suffering from broken homes and provide a wealth of public education.

The action came from the salary committee of the County Board of Supervisors, which agreed to the cost of hiring a full-time divorce case worker.

She is Mrs. Marjorie Davis, former head of the Pontiac District of Family Service of Oakland County, a private counseling agency.

Since last November, under

Referrals will also be made to a minister, rabbi or priest of the couple's choice, and will be a mainstay in the program.

ALL TO COOPERATE

This phase would involve cooperation of all the county's 500 clergymen, incorporated as Religious Assistance and Protective Services, Inc.

This is the same step Judge Moore pioneered as a Probate Court judge to involve churches more directly with county Juvenile Court programs for delinquents.

Grants totaling $20,000 from two major Michigan foundations have already been pledged the corporation. With this money, a counseling field worker will mesh the court's efforts with that of the churches.

MOST SKILLFUL

"This person, we hope, will be one of the most skillful in the United States and we hope we can pay the salary he deserves," Moore stated.

The over-all counseling program will be similar to that of the City of Los Angeles, which county officials have been intensely studying the past month.

There, trained counselors help marriage partners try to solve their problems, said Moore. "And no one is permitted to go in and see how it works. They use a social service approach and the private discussions are never reported back to the courts."

VOLUNTEER PROBLEMS

The counselors would set up offices at the courthouse and begin interviewing couples voluntarily presenting their marital problems.

Such counseling may immediately help blighted marriages, said Judge Moore, or the couple could be referred to private agencies such as Family Service of Oakland County or Catholic Family Service.

PER CENT OF SUCCESS — "Los Angeles has found this useful in up to 35 per cent of its divorce cases. But the point is, even if only 10 per cent success was achieved here, how wonderful it would be," Moore said.

Bells to Ring for Freedom on July 4th

For four minutes Saturday, bells will toll a message of freedom throughout the Pontiac area and across the nation as a sign of the real meaning of the July 4 holiday.

Citizens everywhere are urged to find a bell and ring it as the great bells of more than 100 churches and institutions in the area begin in chorus at 1 p.m.

The "Let Freedom Ring" campaign in the Pontiac area is being coordinated by a committee of the Greater Pontiac City Council, under the direction of Jan Appel.

The "Freedom Bell" idea began in 1963 after two Connecticut men became concerned that Independence Day had evolved more into a summer holiday than a patriotic festival.

Although most states have a committee or organization appointed to develop a "Let Freedom Ring" celebration, Michigan was the only state to call upon youth to do the job.

For the second year, Gov. Romney has appointed the H-Y and Tri-H-Y Clubs of Michigan to take the leadership in the special project.

Enjoy Water Sports - Obey Safety Rules

Two more drownings in Oakland County over the last weekend, with another on Tuesday bringing the year's total to 12, emphasize again the needless loss of life that results when those seeking fun in or on the water fail to observe the simplest rules of safety.

There are so many opportunities to learn these simple rules—through the sheriff's department, many state and local governmental agencies, through schools, churches, clubs and other groups.

Cooperating with these groups is the American Red Cross, providing as it does educational programs, films and, best of all, authorized volunteer instructors to conduct courses in swimming, lifesaving and small-craft operation.

In Oakland County alone last year, 308 of these volunteers conducted 741 classes and issued 7,806 water safety certificates to area residents. Red Cross first-aid and water safety films were shown to 41,574 individuals, and Rescue-Anne mouth-to-mouth breathing demonstrations were made to 25,643 audience observers.

With the long Fourth of July weekend coming up, with area residents and thousands more from nearby points rushing in to enjoy the County's 427 lakes and lengthy stretches of shoreline, let's hope they will observe the basic rules of water safety: By swimming only where there are lifeguards—never swimming alone—never swimming immediately after a meal or when overtired or overheated.

It's better to be safe—than a statistic.

Americans Becoming Lawsuit Happy?

It wouldn't be stretching the truth much to say that the Country has gone suit happy. Lawsuit happy, that is.

Citizens seem ever on the alert for the least sign of culpability—real or imaginary—against which to initiate actions for damages.

Amounts sought often are of fantastic size. Although such sky-is-the-limit demands do not always materialize in judgments, jurors themselves seem to have caught the fever.

They frequently come in with awards seemingly based on some sort of snare-the-wealth philosophy rather than realistic evaluation of the matters at issue.

A case in point is that of the Dearborn municipal judge who recently brought a $3-million suit against a hotel because accommodations for his family of six were unavailable on arrival. The family, in New York for the World's Fair, was quarantined temporarily in a private dining room of the hotel.

New York's supply of hotel rooms is currently taxed as seldom before. Hotels in projecting reservation requests face an involved problem. They have to earmark accommodations far in advance against a supply of rooms that may be uncontrollably reduced on a given day.

The basis of our judge's suit is the mental trauma allegedly suffered by the four children as result of their plight, and solicitude for unidentified other children who might undergo similar psychic disturbance.

All of which we think is a lot of judicial double thinking. If we know anything about kids, the judge's children had the time of their lives bedded down in the hotel's private dining room, and will long remember it as one of the highlights of their visit.

We suggest that as the judge again dons his magisterial robes he review his own legal action in the light of adult common sense.

GOP Apparently Boxes Itself In

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson couldn't have it better if he had cooked it up.

Republicans are boxing themselves in, which is fine for Johnson, who has his run against one of them, since nothing shows a runner like the inside of a box.

They have to climb over Viet Nam, civil rights, words that can hardly be withdrawn or explained away, and a highly unpleasant intraparty struggle.

Even Republicans on the same side don't agree on what the issues are.

For 16 months Henry Cabot Lodge, as U.S. ambassador, was the Kennedy-Johnson administration's chief agent in fighting communism in Viet Nam. He quit to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to beat Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

If anybody is an authority on what's happening in Southeast Asia it should be Lodge. He said the war against communism there is on the right track.

SAID MORE

And he said more: he doesn't see how Viet Nam could become a campaign issue.

But Scranton, the man he came home to help, says it is. So does Goldwater. And this week so did a group of House Republicans.

They criticized the Johnson administration, even though Lodge was serving it, and said its policy in Viet Nam was "why win?"

If the Republicans do make it an issue, they put Lodge in the middle.

LBJ WEAPON

Johnson can throw Lodge's words back at them, since as ambassador he was part and parcel of the administration's policy and approved it.

There had been speculation that if Scranton lost the nomination to Goldwater he might run for the vice presidency on the senator's ticket.

It was reasoned that in this way the two wings of the party might be kept from flying apart.

For a while it looked possible. No matter how much he criticized Goldwater, Scranton said he would support the Arizona if he got the nomination.

UNFIT CLAIM

This seems out the window now, for Scranton has reached the point of saying Goldwater is unfit for the presidency. How, now, could he urge Goldwater's election?

Meanwhile, Goldwater, by his vote against the civil rights bill, has created a problem for Northern and Eastern Republicans with large Negro voting populations in their states and districts.

The senator has said a Republican couldn't win this year without the South. And no doubt his vote won him friends among Southern whites.

But if he should try to appease Northern Negroes, or help Northern Republican politicians, by saying if elected he would enforce the civil rights act, then he could lose what he gained among Southern whites without persuading Northern Negroes. There's no indication he has anything like this in mind.

HAS DELEGATES

In any event, Goldwater has a carload of convention delegates in his pocket. He worked for them the hard way and looks like a man with a stranglehold on the nomination.

David Lawrence Asks:

Does Kennedy Fit in LBJ Plan?

WASHINGTON — Maybe the Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City isn't going to be a routine affair, after all. For it has been quite evident lately that the supporters of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy are determined to make an effort to get him nominated for LAWRENCE the vice presidency.

Theoretically, as of the moment, President Johnson is supposed to be making the decision as to who his running mate should be.

But if there is a stirring within the Democratic party and the question of solidarity for the campaign itself becomes crucial, Mr. Johnson may have to revise his plan.

He may find it necessary to weigh very carefully the merits of the candidacy of Bobby Kennedy in terms of what the advantages and disadvantages would be in selecting the attorney general for the vice presidential nomination.

It is significant that in an amazingly frank interview this week with Benjamin Bradlee of "Newsweek"—who was a close friend of the late President Kennedy—the attorney general said some remarkable things about his own position in the Democratic party.

LAST MAN

He is quoted as having said to Bradlee:

"Actually, I should think I'd be the last man in the world. (President Johnson) would want... because my name is Kennedy, because he wants a Johnson administration with me Kennedy in it, because we travel different paths, because I suppose some businessmen would object, and because I'd cost them a few votes in the South... I don't think as many as some say, but some."

Bradlee mentioned in passing that three Southern governors raised a question whether LBJ should return the favor and select RFK.

That's by the way it is being looked at by some of the local political leaders who are behind the candidacy of Bobby Kennedy.

As for qualifications for the vice presidency—or presidency—of the United States, the attorney general thinks he has them.

He served as an intimate adviser to President Kennedy, and is said to consider himself qualified also to be either secretary of state or secretary of defense if there should be a vacancy in these Cabinet offices.

This is mentioned by Brad-

lee without attributing the thought to the attorney general himself.

Any way it is looked at, the candidacy of Bobby Kennedy for the vice presidency has in it some factors that may dramatically come to the surface when the delegates gather at Atlantic City.

Bob Considine Says:

Observer's View of Barry: Something of a Boy Scout

BRUSSELS — The influential weekly London Observer, which drops in here like a ton of gloved bricks every Sunday, informs its Belgian readers as to what kind of a fellow they'd have to deal with if Sen. Barry Goldwater becomes president of the United States.

The article was illustrated by a "cut" of the Arizona which made him look just like Marshal Dillon, whose "Gun-smoke" Kinescopes have a big following here.

There is the same rugged Western hat, the same cowboy (sans badge), the same gun, and in the background a gaunt Joshua.

Belgians by now may conceivably construe that Barry's campaign manager is "Chester," and that "Doc" is his potential secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Most British and European papers have portrayed Goldwater as they once imagined Sen. Joe McCarthy.

DIFFERENT PICTURE

But Observer's Washington correspondent, Godfrey Hodgson paints a different word picture of the senator from Arizona:

"He is a Westerner, and an optimist, and something of a boy scout."

"His grandfather, 'Big Mike,' came to Arizona from Poznan by way of London, where he married Sarah Nathan, and a California, where he sold supplies to the 49ers."

"His father and uncle practically founded business and politics in the state and Barry grew up with it."

OVERGROWN BOY

"In many ways, Goldwater is an overgrown boy."

"He was a football star; but he is a gentle person who helps political enemies when they are in personal trouble."

"He has a quick temper, but he is a nice fellow to sit with, water, drinking bourbon and water and telling state stories."

"His hobbies are those of a healthy, unintellectual adolescent."

"He still gets in 200 hours' flying a year. He loves to explore the wilderness by canoe and takes lyrical photos of it with professional skill."

In Washington:

'Suitcase Bomb' in Near Future?

By RAY CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Underground nuclear testing has progressed so rapidly in the United States and Russia that "within a few years" it should be possible to develop a Hiroshima - magnitude nuclear weapon that could be carried in a suitcase.

It now seems likely, in fact, CROWLEY says, that the suitcase bombs could be made much more powerful than the Hiroshima model. Some scientists speculate in terms of very powerful suitcase bombs indeed.

The development of underground testing in both the United States and the Soviet Union has progressed much faster than even its most ardent advocates would have predicted two years ago.

Reports received by the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency indicate the Russians have an active, well-developed program of underground testing.

If the treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union to ban nuclear testing in the atmosphere (since signed by many nations) was intended to slow the nuclear arms race between the two countries, it has not succeeded.

It now appears that nuclear weapon development in the United States and Russia will push ahead at a more rapid rate than before the treaty was signed.

These bombs could be wired with a timer mechanism set to go off in hours, days, weeks or years. "Timer techniques are now theoretically so precise that bombs set for 10 years hence would go off within 20 to 30 minutes of the time they were set for."

Or these bombs could be rigged so they could be set to blow on coded signal from ships 2,000 miles away.

Voice of the People:

Reader Calls Goldwater a Dangerous Radical

My reaction to all letters in the Voice of the People applauding Barry Goldwater is one of complete distaste. A recent one sought the need for another Teddy Roosevelt in the White House to improve our foreign aid program. If this man would read unbiased sources, he would find that TH practically ruined our foreign aid in South America by his dealings in Panama. I agree Goldwater would be another Teddy Roosevelt—a failure.

Many have praised Goldwater's forthright speaking. It is forthright, but he can't decide which side of which issue he is forthright upon. He advocated our withdrawal from the U.N. in 1962, now continually denies this.

A man who opposes civil rights, can't make up his mind, and would think nothing of blowing up the world, is a dangerous radical.

I agree with "Five From Building 29" about a housecleaning being needed for Local 594. I made a complaint to the union — with no results. I called the President of Local 594 and he promised results. Yet today the situation still exists. Why?

"Striving for Integration, Payment?"

"Just a Bit Confused" is so right concerning Negro real estate salesmen pushing whites to sell. The fact that the Negro is willing to sell out an entire neighborhood, not for integration but for commission, also has me confused.

There have been cards and letters mailed out stating: "We just sold another home in your area — let us sell yours." It has me wondering if this is for integration or other purposes.

ground that are comparable in size to the Atlas ICBM.

It is possible to interpret mathematically how test results would apply to weapons somewhat larger than are actually tested. If this "extrapolation" is not carried too far, this can be done with a reasonable amount of accuracy.

With this in mind, it is now likely that by 1970 the United States and Russia should be able to run tests that would give relatively accurate information on five-and-16 megaton warheads and bombs.

This new rash of testing will mean much more effective ICBMs and tactical battlefield nuclear weapons.

It could mean, for example, that a Minuteman ICBM containing the same amount of fissionable nuclear material as today's weapons would have twice, three times or even five times the bang.

Theoretically, the Minuteman's power could be multiplied 1,000 times. But practically, that's not around the corner.

Future of Commonwealth Will Be Discussed

British See Setback as 3 Ministers to Miss 'Family' Talks

LONDON (AP) — Because of ill health or political piggy heads of three Commonwealth governments will not attend the prime ministers' conference in London next week on the future of Britain's family of nations.

British authorities considered their absence a setback that would reduce the value of the long-awaited talks, which open July 8.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri of India and Sir Alexander Bustamante of Jamaica are kept at home by ill health. Shastri's place will be taken by Finance Minister T. T. Kothamanchari and Indira Gandhi, his information minister. Prime Minister Donald B. Sangster will represent Bustamante. The president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, announced Wednesday he would not attend. CYPRIOT ANGER

Makarios said he could not be away from his turbulent island for 10 days. But the general impression was that he was angry because British Prime Minister Douglas Home joined Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu in a statement reaffirming support of the treaty rights of Britain, Greece and Turkey to intervene in Cyprus.

Douglas Home had planned to discuss the future of Cyprus with Makarios informally during the conference. Foreign Minister Spyros Kyriakou will represent the archbishop.

The conference was to have marked the new Indian prime minister's debut on the international scene, and he and Pakistan President Muhammad Ayub Khan had planned to hold their first talks on the 16-year-old Kashmir dispute, the chief issue dividing their neighboring countries.

Another commonwealth chief, President Kwame Nkrumah, agreed to attend the conference only on condition that it would discuss the racial situation in white-ruled Southern Rhodesia. Douglas Home had resisted Nkrumah's demand, fearing such a discussion would impel Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith, who was not invited to the conference, to declare Rhodesia's independence. Britain is trying to postpone Rhodesian independence until the ruling white minority agrees to constitutional changes giving the African majority a larger say in the government.

News From Around the World

Reports Put Death Count at 89 in Wake of Philippine Typhoon

MANILA (AP)—Reports from outlying provinces pushed the Philippine death count from Typhoon Wanda to 89 today and indicated nearly half a million persons were left homeless. Authorities feared an epidemic might break out in Manila, half of whose 3 million residents have been without electricity or water for the past three days. Broken power lines killed many pumps, but the electric company said full power should be restored by Friday. Police estimated damage in the Manila area at $10 million, and the figure was expected to rise.

VIENNA (AP)—A Vienna police inspector who helped arrest Anne Frank has been acquitted.

of trying to conceal his Nazi past but the Police Department disciplinary commission is appealing the acquittal.

The Austrian inspector, Karl Silberbauer, 52, was suspended last October following reports from the Netherlands that he was involved in the arrest of the Frank family, whose daughter's diary of their confinement in an Amsterdam garret was read around the world. The disciplinary commission ruled that Silberbauer had complied with regulations when he reported after the war that he had been a member of the Gestapo.

This, the commission said, indicated that he participated in actions against Jews.

150,000 Boat Owners Are Told to Register

LANBING (AP)—Some 150,000 Michigan motor boat owners were put on notice today that they are operating illegally and face fines if apprehended. Secretary of State James Hare said the estimate of the number of motor boats on Michigan waters is about 500,000, but only some 350,000 have registered. Registration costs only a $5 fee.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The public prosecutor accused three Athens newspapers today of funding public decency by publishing pictures of women in topless bathing suits. No trial date was set.

The newspapers were Mesotimerini, Apogevmatini and Attikiki. Other newspapers had accused showing full front exposures of girls in abbreviated swim suits.

LONDON (AP)—Britain's commercial television network has been cut off the air by a strike of technicians demanding a 25 per cent pay boost and shorter hours.

Management of the 13 regional companies involved had hoped to show old movies and taped commercials, but union operators refused to cross the picket lines. Film deliveries to the studios also were stopped. The rival broadcasting corporation, which is publicly owned and doesn't carry commercials, is not affected.

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—Pakistan and Afghanistan have agreed to seek an improvement in relations, the two nations announced today after a meeting between King Mohammad Zahir Shah and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan. Ayub stopped in Kabul for four hours Wednesday en route to London for the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference.

Pakistan and Afghanistan have long feuded over the north-west frontier area, which Pathan tribesmen inhabiting it and the Afghan government have demanded be given independence as the state of Pustunistan.

British to Remove Famed Race Track

ANTHONY, Eng. 479 — The Grand National Steeplechase, the world's best-known cross-country horse race, will be contested at the Antiree race course for the last time next year.

Antiree, long the home of the 125-year-old race, will be torn down, according to Mrs. Mirabel Topham, chairman of Topham's Limited, owners of the track.

The land which is presently occupied by the track is needed by Topham's for industrial purposes — which will make substantial contributions toward the social needs of nearby Liverpool and its neighborhood, said Mrs. Topham.

Sandy Stops Phils, 3-2

Koufax, Marichal in Pitching Race

By The Associated Press

Sandy Koufax just can't shake Juan Marichal.

Or is it the other way around? Koufax had his greatest season in 1963, winning 25 games. And so did Marichal.

Now Koufax, with seven straight victories, has brought his victory total for this season to 11. And so has Marichal.

Marichal, the right-handed ace of the National League leading San Francisco Giants, got in a little earlier this time, becoming the majors' first 11-game winner in a 3-1 day game victory over Pittsburgh Wednesday.

Koufax, the left-handed ace of the eight-place Los Angeles Dodgers, followed suit in a 3-2 night game triumph over Philadelphia that dropped the second place Phillies 1½ games behind the Giants.

Neither had an easy time of it. Marichal, 11-5 on a season with a 2.38 earned run average, was touched for eight hits. Koufax, 11-4 with a 1.84 ERA, allowed five, including a two-run homer by John Callahan that provided the Phillies with an early lead.

Besides Koufax and Marichal, two other pitchers who will be on the National League All-Star team—Chicago's Dick Ellsworth and Houston's Dick Farrell—went after victory No. 11. Neither got it.

Pete Rose's homer in the 10th inning made Ellsworth a loser as Cincinnati edged the Cubs 6-5. Farrell was tagged hard, but escaped without a defeat as the New York Mets pounded out 16 hits and whipped the Colts 8-6.

In the other NL game, Curt Simmons won his ninth game as St. Louis belted Milwaukee 6-1. The Dodgers scored in the fifth on a walk, John Roseboro's single and a ground out, then pulled ahead with two runs in the sixth on singles by Maury Wills, Willie Davis and Ron Fairly.

Ron Santo hit his 14th and 15th homers and Billy Williams collected his 19th as the Cubs built a 5-1 lead going into the ninth against the Reds.

Errors by Andre Rodgers and Ellsworth led to four unearned runs for Cincinnati in the ninth. Two scoring on Deron Johnson's triple—before Rose came up with two out in the 10th and tagged Ellsworth with his seventh loss.

Farrell, 10-2, was trying for his first victory since June 14, but gave up nine hits and had in leave in the third inning.

Ed Krausepoff slapped a single, double and triple for the Mets. Larry Elliot collected a homer and two singles and John Stephenson stroked three singles. Walt Bond hit two homers for the Colts and Bob Applegate one.

Simmons, 9-6, got all the support he needed from Julian Javier, who singled in the first run in the Cardinals' three-run second inning and hit a three-run homer in the third inning.

Union Ousted in Bias Case

NLRB Decertification Set for Texas Local

WASHINGTON (AP)—Breaking historic ground, the National Labor Relations Board found a union guilty of racial discrimination today and stripped it of its certification.

In a broad opinion with possible national impact, the majority decision said whenever a union causes discrimination based on race it has committed an unfair labor practice.

The action—the first of its kind by the NLRB—was against the Independent Metal Workers Union, which maintained separate locals for white and Negro members at Hughes Tool Co. in Houston, Tex.

The case involved the complaint of a member of the Negro local whose application for an apprenticeship available only to white members was rejected by the union.

ALL CONCUR

The five-member board's decision to revoke certification was unanimous, although two members gave more limited reasons for their finding.

The majority said Congress never intended the National Labor Relations Act to deal with racial discrimination except when based on union membership, as in this case.

The majority opinion was by members Boylston, Gerald A. Friedman and Howard Jenkins Jr., Chairman Frank W. McCulloch and member John H. Fanning wrote the minority view.

The majority said the union's refusal to process the grievance of the Negro member, Ivory Davis, because of his race amounted to refusal to bargain collectively with the employer.

OTHER VIOLATION

The majority said it also violated the provision of the act forbidding a union to cause or attempt to cause an employer to discriminate against an employee.

The board said the white local and the company signed a new contract agreement in 1961 but the Negro local refused to sign.

"In spite of this, and over (Negro) Local 2's protest, the company put the new contract into effect immediately," the board said.

Transfusion Is Authorized for Baby Girl

FLINT (AP)—Genesee County Probate Judge George D. Stevens has empowered officials at Flint hospital to give blood transfusions to a newborn baby despite the parents' objections.

Parents of the baby girl which was born Monday at Flint Osteopathic Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Simpson of Corunna. The two are Jehovah's Witnesses, and refused permission for the transfusions on religious grounds.

Dr. George C. Wolf, the hospital's medical director, told Stevens the blood might be needed to save the baby's life. The child was born with a hemolytic blood disease, Dr. Wolf's petition said. Court approval was granted Tuesday.

Dr. Wolf said Wednesday it has not yet been necessary to administer the transfusion because the baby's condition had improved.

HALF-SMOKED CIGAR—That's one of the names the Air Force's experimental vertical takeoff plane has been given. When heading for the clouds or down to earth, the craft's wings pivot upward. For straight flight they swing level.

Vertical Takeoff Project Advances

'Russian Code' Reflects Air Progress

DALLAS (NEA)—What has two wings, flies at 450 miles per hour and can land in a tennis court? By the time flight tests are completed, the Air Force may be able to answer with a series of letters that looks like a Russian code: XC-142A VTOI.

The last part, VTOI, stands for vertical takeoff and landing. The CX part of the formula means a new plane never rolled out before military brass at the Ling-Temco-Vought Co. in Dallas.

The aircraft has been described as "a half-smoked cigar with propellers."

The plane is designed to take off vertically, straighten out in midair and then fly faster than most of the World War II fighter planes—in excess of 450 m.p.h.

This sort of thing has been tried before. Where the big difference comes in is when the plane settles for a landing. The process is reversed, and the craft is brought back to earth.

When ready for takeoff, the wings pivot straight up—giving it the appearance of a model plane assembled in a hobby shop after the lights went out.

The plane is designed for swift transport of combat troops, equipment and supplies from assault ships and airfields to rough terrain under all weather conditions, similar to the demands of Asian combat.

"It can carry 32 fully-equipped combat troops or 8,000 pounds of cargo between 220 and 470 miles."

CARRIES 34

The most common transport plane currently used by the military in Viet Nam is the C-119. It carries up to 34 men, cruises at 190 m.p.h.

The CH-21 Shawnee helicopter can carry 22 men at cruising speeds of 94 m.p.h.

This chapter—the famed "Flying Banana" of the Korean War—has been almost entirely replaced in Viet Nam by the HU-1 Iroquois helicopter, which carries up to 12 men at speeds of 132 m.p.h.

The XC is the first product of America's tri-service (Army, Navy and Air Force) VTOI aircraft programs.

THEY'RE LINKED

The plane is powered by four turbo-prop engines linked together so that a single engine can turn all four propellers on the tail rotor.

This system permits it to cruise on two engines for fuel economy and to hover and land vertically even with one engine out.

With all engines operating, it has a rate of climb of 8,000 feet per minute. With one engine out, it can still climb at half that rate.

Other airmen operating it has a rate of climb of 8,000 feet per minute. With one engine out, it can still climb at half that rate.

Malcolm X Vows War in South

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mill (anti Black Nationalist) Malcolm X vowed yesterday to wage guerrilla warfare against racists in Mississippi and other Southern states.

Malcolm said he would send squads of armed guerrillas into the South to protect Negroes from "terror and brutality" of the Ku Klux Klan.

He said the squads would act only defensively.

"The only way an inferior force can compete against a better armed superior force is with the science of guerrilla warfare," the Black Nationalist said.

"The Klan elements in the South are well known. We believe that whenever they strike against the Negro, the Negro has a chance to strike back. INFILTRATION

Malcolm also implied that he would use "white infiltrators" to gather intelligence about racist activities in the South.

"It will take a while to do it. And you would be surprised how many whites, students and older persons, are fed up with the situation."

In an interview with the New York Post, Malcolm said he would lead a "guerrilla army" in Mississippi. "Those people in Mississippi are in for a shock if they think the Negroes will take brutality this summer."

"If President Johnson doesn't do his duty and use federal troops to protect the lives and property of Negroes, we definitely will do our utmost to show we can defend our people in America—the way we defended the (and other Americans) in Korea," he said. "We will take every Negro veteran we can into that state."

Malcolm said his guerrilla campaign was not directed against whites generally, but against "the white racist."
