Mock H-Bombs Rain on U.S. Cities Today

Flint Included, Detroit May Be Among Targets

Full-Scale Evacuation Planned by Executive Branch of Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — A briefcase brigade of 15,000 officials was poised today to flee, at the siren signal of mock atomic attack, to secret hideaways from which they will run a supposedly shattered nation.

President Eisenhower, his Cabinet and the military joined in the test, named Operation Alert 1955 and designed to send key workers from 31 agencies pouring out of buildings, tumbling into cars and streaming to relocation posts 30 to 300 miles away.

Plans called for Washington to be "hit" at 3:25 p.m. and reduced to radioactive ash and debris.

Within the following 20 minutes another 48 target cities across the country, each a vital production center, were to be theoretically wiped out.

Arriving and regrouping at the emergency sites this afternoon and tonight, a dispersed government will deal on paper with the awesome task of reorganizing a stricken nation while waging a retaliatory atomic war.

Scores of proclamations and orders will be "issued." Eisenhower will talk to his subordinates and commanders by closed-circuit television.

Electronic brains will assess "casualties" and "damage." Munitions orders will flow to plants outside target cities. "Refugees" will be steered to safe havens and the National Guard will be mustered to restore order.

Operation Alert already has turned a spotlight on a great gap in the government's defense readiness. Congress has neither plans to quit Washington nor a place to reassemble if a real attack should come.

Since Operation Alert i sa test of national preparedness as of today, it was assumed Eisenhower would rely on his inherent powers as commander in chief to invoke mock price, wage and other controls.

The President is expected to issue a batch of supposed decrees invoking emergency powers, in consultation with the Cabinet at the emergency White House.

Flint, and possibly Detroit and Grand Rapids, will be "destroyed" today in the mock-H-Bomb attack on cities across the nation.

Make-believe bombs will rain on Flint and 55 other cities in a test

TARGETS OF SIMULATED AIR ATTACK — The above map underlines and groups the critical U.S. target cities which will be subjected to a theoretical blasting by nuclear weapons in today's mock attack by "enemy" aircraft (symbols). Named "Operation Alert 1955," the simulated air attack will touch off the biggest, most realistic civil defense test ever attempted. Also on the target list but not shown are cities in Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone and Puerto Rico.

House Heading for New Fight on Dixon-Yates

Funds for Power Line Issue in Dem-GOP Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic and Republican battle lines were drawn drum-tight today as the House headed into another tussle over the controversial Dixon-Yates power project.

At issue is a section of an appropriations bill which would reject an Eisenhower administration request for 6½ million dollars to pay for a transmission line to link the Tennessee Valley Authority system with a private power plant at West Memphis, Ark., on the other side of the Mississippi River.

Ground already has been broken for the 107-million-dollar power plant, which is being built by the Dixon-Yates utility group under a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission. The Dixon-Yates power would replace energy now furnished AEC by the TVA.

In a renewal of last year's public-vs.-private power fight, the House Appropriations Committee voted to shift the 6½ millions from the proposed transmission line—which would hook up with a Dixon-Yates line in the middle of the river—and to assign it to start construction of

Grandma Walks 150 Miles; Wins Jackass Contest

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Grandma Walker (Mrs. Tom Court) was home today after an experimental, 150-mile walk down the highway from Kennewick, Wash. The idea was to test the stamina of a jackass, Uranium.

Grandma Walker plans to hitch Uranium to a covered wagon for some pleasure trips to interesting places." She walked the animal a stretch, tied it up, returned for her car, and repeated the process—for some 10½ days.

Grandma Walker, who admits to being "over 50" came through in fine shape. So did the jackass.

At Least One Dead in Train Crackup

FORT MORGAN, Colo. (AP) — A trainman was killed and an undetermined number of persons were injured, at least five seriously, early today when a section of the union Pacific's Los Angeles Challenger was derailed about 6 miles east of here.

The roadbed had been weakened by the swollen South Platte River.

H. J. Peterson, a photographer for the Fort Morgan Evening Times, said the engine was over on its side and about seven cars were derailed. He said three of the cars were in water but it was not deep enough to flood the coaches.

None of the injured was from Michigan except a Mrs. Campbell whose home town was unavailable.

Reds Accept Parcels

HONG KONG (AP)—The American Red Cross transferred 40 parcels for Americans detained in Red China to the Chinese Communist Red Cross today. It was the second Chinese acceptance of parcels.

Bench Defeats Dearborn Suit to Outlaw Road

Appeal Assured After Pike Authority Wins First Round

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan Turnpike Authority act is ready now for a Supreme Court test, but who will force it there still is in doubt.

The City of Dearborn lost yesterday in its court suit to stop the Michigan Turnpike Authority from building its 115 mile toll road through Dearborn.

Washtenaw Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. said "no" to three issues of fact and 19 issues of law.

His opinion, dictated orally to the courtroom, would still require some polishing before it becomes official.

But one thing was certain:

The Turnpike Act had passed its first legal test. It can now be tried in the State Supreme Court to determine if it is constitutional and if the turnpike revenue bonds can be sold.

If Dearborn chooses not to appeal, the Michigan Free Highways Protective Assn., which joined Dearborn in pressing the suit, says it will.

As an intervenor, the association apparently has the right, George Kelly, association attorney, says it "can and will appeal."

But Dearborn still may choose to carry the suit to the high court, James Broderick, assistant Dearborn attorney, was not sure what his superiors would decide.

APPROACH SOFTENED

He indicated that one decision by Judge Breakey might have softened the city's approach. Last week the city moved for a discontinuance of the trial, but Judge Breakey told them they could not back out.

The one item in Judge Breakey's opinion that may affect Dearborn's decision on an appeal was his interpretation of the condemnation sections of the act.

The judge said that in some cases municipalities must give their consent in order for the Turnpike Authority to build its road through the city.

Dearborn objected to the turnpike's route through the city, claiming it would interfere with "reasonable control" of the city's "streets, alleys and public places." More specifically, the city said, it would interfere with fire and police routes and a proposed flood control program. Judge Breakey said:

"The specific type of consent depends on the individual case. For example, consent is not required in widening a trunk line highway."

NO STATE CREDIT

Judge Breakey also held that the revenue bonds needed to finance the toll road would not be backed by the state. He said:

"The intention of the Legislature is very explicit on these two points, (1. That the state is not lending credit, and 2. That this is not a debt to the state."

Judge Breakey concluded, "The act has no greater authority than the act gives, and the act must (comply) with the constitution. In so far as the Turnpike Authority act now reads, it does not violate any of the constitutional provisions contained in (the home rule) article."

House Group Drawing Up $1.6 Billion School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Education subcommittee was reported today to be nearing the end of its work on a compromise $1,600,000,000 school construction bill containing "as few federal controls as possible."

An outline of the proposed measure was provided by Subcommittee Chairman Kelley (D-Pa) who said he hopes to have the bill ready for the full House Education and Labor Committee in a week or 10 days.

"Our aim," Kelley explained, "is to write a bill as simple as possible with as few federal controls as possible."

But any school construction bill would face rough going in the House. Some members have said privately side issues involving racial segregation and building labor wages would prevent any school aid bill from being enacted at this session.

The compromise would combine features of the administration's proposed program of grants and loans with broader proposals for billions in outright construction grants.

Kelley said the compromise would provide a four-year program of outright grants limited to 400 million dollars a year. The states would be required to match federal funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

This represents a limited approach to present proposals for grants totaling up to six billion dollars over a five-year period.

The administration, seeking to overcome a shortage estimated at 176,000 classrooms, has proposed a three-year grant program totaling 200 million dollars for relief of school districts with exhausted credit.

President Eisenhower proposed federal loans totaling up to six billion dollars to back school construction bonds which would be issued by state agencies.

Auto Contracts Needn't Spread, Mitchell Feels

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says the unemployment benefit agreements between the CIO United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. need not necessarily set a pattern for other industries.

He predicted that 1955 will be a record year for employment, wages, income and gross national production.

Commenting on the Supplementary unemployment benefit agreements, he said, "It seems to me that the guaranteed annual wage doesn't exist."

He added that the American worker "doesn't want to get paid for not working. I think the worker wants stability of employment first and then, if he is unemployed, he wants some sort of compensation."

The United Auto Workers sought a guaranteed annual wage—a fixed minimum income over a year despite layoffs — but settled for company payments to supplement unemployment compensation for a maximum of 26 weeks during a layoff.

UAW Stands Firm in Debate With American

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers stood firm today on its demand that the independent auto makers accept the principle of the union wage plan just as Ford and General Motors did.

The union opened priliminary talks on a new contract yesterday with American Motors Corp., which makes Nash and Hudson cars and household appliances.

UAW president Leonard Woodcock, director of the union's American Motors department, said the union will ask the company for a full guarantee of 100 per cent of pay for 52 weeks.

The American Motors negotiations covers some 22,000 employes at eight plants in Michigan, Wisconsin and California.

Dems Back Adams for Circuit Judge

The Oakland Democratic Committee has endorsed the appointment of Pontiac attorney Clark J. Adams as the county's fourth circuit judge, according to Chairman Carlos G. Richardson.

The added jurist was approved by the State Legislature May 31 to be appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams and begin serving Jan. 1 next year.

Adams, of 2755 W. Walton Blvd., Waterford Twp., is a former Michigan Supreme Court justice.

"The governor has given no indication how soon he will move on the appointment," said Richardson. The appointee will serve until November 1956 when an election will be held for the post.

Detroit Pushes Olympics Bid

Offers Transportation Free to Participating Athletes

PARIS (AP) — Fred Matthaei, speaking for the Detroit Olympic Committee, today offered to make free transportation available to and from Detroit for all world Olympic athletes if the 1960 games are awarded to the city.

The offer, first of its kind ever made, was presented to the surprised members of the International Olympic Committee during deliberations today over where the 1960 summer games will be staged.

Matthaei said: "We would make available the vast funds paid by sponsors in the United States for television rights to the 1960 games if Detroit is awarded the game.

"We figure that about $300 on an average would be necessary for transporting each athlete, regardless of whether he comes from Russia or Canada. We know that television payments would be more than enough and this would leave only the $6 per day per athlete housing and food bill to be paid by each of the national organizations."

The IOC will vote on which city gets the Olympics tomorrow.

House Extends Trade Measure

Ike Wins Power to Cut Tariffs Up to 15 Per Cent Over Three Years

WASHINGTON (AP)— The House voted yesterday to extend the reciprocal trade act three more years and give the President new powers to cut tariffs.

Passed and sent to the Senate, after a final flurry of debate but with few actual opposition votes, was a compromise version of the bill. Earlier in the session it had provoked a stiff House fight and the Senate had attached numerous amendments.

The Senate was expected to act soon on the bill, thus sending it to President Eisenhower for his signature.

The compromise measure — giving Eisenhower in general the new authority he sought — would let the President lower tariffs up to 15 per cent over the next three years in return for similar concessions from other nations. The reductions could be in steps up to 5 per cent a year.

Also the President could cut back to 50 per cent any new duties now above that rate.

Trains Move Again in Britain as Rail Strike Ends

Britain's nationwide railroad strike—the first since 1926—was over after 17 days of street traffic jams, piled-up warehouses and looming shortages of coal and raw materials.

In London's vast terminals, the eerie silence was shattered once more by the scream and roar of trains, the jabber of passengers, the mad crush of humanity.

Suburban trains, packed tight as sardine cans, disgorged happy commuters who had walked, hitchhiked, bicycled or driven cars to work each day.

Last night leaders of the 67,000-member Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen called off their strike on the nationalized railroads and agreed to submit their demand for a wage hike to arbitration.

Officials said it would take at least a few days to restore order to freight yards and goods warehouses. Although nonstriking members of the National Union of Railwaymen kept freight traffic running at a third of normal during the walkout, tens of thousands of loaded coal wagons were waiting at the nation's mines. Tons of raw materials awaited delivery to factories, which in turn had mountains of manufactures.

Much freight traffic also had to be diverted from the hurriedly mobilized fleets of trucks and canal barges which kept Britain's industrial wheels from stopping.

Resumption of normal long-distance passenger service also probably will be delayed slightly.

The strike was estimated to have cost the British Transport Commission, operators of the railways, a million pounds ($2,800,000) a day, and the striking union 300,000 pounds ($840,000) in strike pay.

The walkout also forced many industrial plants to trim their working hours and to lay off 10,000 or more workers. But there was no serious industrial dislocation and no mass unemployment.

The government made no immediate announcement concerning the state of emergency decreed as a rsult of the strike. But it now is only a technicality and may either be repealed or allowed to run until its automatic end in about three weeks.

The peace pact was pounded out at a series of conferenees yesterday between the Transport Commission and the two rail unions.

The commission agreed in principle to the striking union's demand that firemen and engineers be paid more money than less skilled workers. Previous differentias were narrowed by a wage increase given the other union earlier this year. The union agreed to submit the question of the exact amount of the raise to the decision of an impartial arbiter, Lord Morris, 53-year-old appeal judge for the Isle of Man.

Morris' decision will apply also to engineers and firemen who belong to the National Union of Railwaymen, which agreed there would be no "leapfrogging" wage claims by the less skilled men.

Two other strikes still bothered Britain.

A walkout of 20,000 dock workers has partially idled seven ports. A wildcat seamen's walkout, mainly by stewards and catering staffs demanding better living conditions and a shorter work week, has tied up the sailing of six transatlantic liners from Liverpool and Southampton.

New Play Areas Named by City

Sites Will Bear Names of Organizations Aiding to Finance Construction

Parks and Recreation Dept. Director David R. Ewalt today enthusiastically endorsed City Commission action last night naming three new city play areas for the organizations which are helping to finance their construction.

Ewalt, who recommended the naming, said the contributions show an awakening of community spirit among organizations and individuals in this town."

"It's a happy sign, especially for our department, because it shows many people are thinking about the recreation and park problem," he continued.

"It's the first time anyone has stood up and said, 'You can count me in on this particular park or playground.'

"I hope it will stimulate other interested clubs and individuals who would like to make a substantial contribution to park development in the city."

Named for the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce was a 32-acre park adjacent to the Malkim School on Joslyn avenue. It will be known officially as Jaycee Park.

Contributions by the Optimist and Rotary clubs were recognized by naming playfields in their honor.

The 1-acre Optimist Playground is between Strathmore and Fairmount avenues, near Hollywood avenue. Located at Wessen and Walnut St., Rotary Playground covers approximately 5 acres.

All are in the construction stage. "It will probably take quite some time and money to get them to where we want them," the director said.

He pointed out there is vacant property in other sections of the city which could be developed into playgrounds and parks, "if someone wanted to stand up and be counted."

"We won't accomplish this overnight," he said. "But, by golly, it's a start."

City Action Aids Retiring Employes

Retiring city employes will now be able to continue their group life insurance on a full-coverage basis as a result of City Commission action last night.

Formerly, employes leaving the city staff could continue their group insurance, but only with 50 per cent coverage. Under a new plan approved by the Commission, 100 per cent coverage will be maintained.

Finance Director Oscar Eckman said the plan would cost the city "very little—several hundred dollars a year." It takes effect immediately, he said.

The plan also provides that retired employes may continue group hospitalization coverage. They will have to pay the full premium themselves.

Five More GM Plants Back in Operation Today

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

General Motors Corp. reported today that five more of its plants had been put back into operation after walkouts and resulting parts shortage shutdowns.

This cut 12,100 workers from the idle list, reducing the total to 50,300 at 17 plants around the nation as of midmorning.

She sang music dating from the 13th century to the present. # Firm Agrees to Eliminate Dust and Noise Conditions

Operators of a ready-mix concrete plant on Paddock street have agreed to eliminate dust and noise conditions which have been raising the ire of neighbors.

City Manager Walter K. Willman told the City Commission last night that at a meeting with the owner and manager of the Pontiac branch of Catsman Co., 339 S. Paddock St., the two promised to take immediate steps to alleviate the complaint-causing conditions.

They told him most of the yard would be paved and the rest would be coated with oil to keep down loose dust which neighbors said swirled and sifted into their homes.

Trucks will be canvas covered and water drainage facilities will be constructed, Willman said they promised, and a high fence will be built. The fence is expected to help control noise and dirt.

At another meeting, Willman told the Commission, he received the pledge that Longfellow, Strathmore and Fairmount streets in Buena Vista Subdivision will be laid as soon as weather permits. Two other streets, Cornell and Rutgers, will be put in by Oct. 1.

Based on his report, the Commission agreed to issue building permits to the subdivider on those streets.

Last week, the Commission halted issuance of more building permits in the subdivision until the builder brought streets to city-accepted standards. Residents have complained the streets are impassable following rainfall.

Miller was accused June 2 of embezzling $2,000 from a Drayton Plains man during negotiations for a home purchase. A count was added June 8 charging Miller issued a $600 rubber check to a Pontiac man as a refund on a property-sale transaction.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said a number of Miller's clients claim they lost sums to the accused totaling about $30,000.

of the nation's defenses against nuclear attack. Numerous other cities, Grand Rapids and Detroit among them, have been notified they'll be possible targets during the 3½ hour alert.

The alert sounded at 11:03 a.m. and the actual "bombing" will take place at 2:27 p.m.

Tom Kay, the city's deputy director of civil defense, said the chief purpose of the Flint alert is to determine the readiness of outlying communities to supply materials that may be needed in the city proper after an attack.

State civil defense headquarters will be set up at the State Police training barracks at East Lansing. This will be the center for telephone, radio and teletype communications from other cities in Michigan.

Both Detroit and Grand Rapids have two plans of operation worked out. The first would be used if either of the cities is not declared hit. In that event, they would rush aid to other areas that have been hit. The second plan is for use if either city is hit. Each then would handle its own needs.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration with national headquarters at Battle Creek, will direct its end of the program through seven regional offices around the country.

Union Seeks Pay Boost for Skilled Workers; Walkout Affects 5,800

DETROIT (AP) — Tool and die work in 76 Detroit plants was expected to suffer another jolt today following a walkout of 2,000 night shift men last night.

The 2,000 left their jobs at 11 p.m., an hour before a contract between the CIO United Auto Workers and the Automotive Tool and Die Manufacturers Assn. expired. They were scheduled to work until 4 a.m.

An additional 3,800 day shift workers were expected to walk out to attend a union meeting this afternoon.

Blaine Marvin and Russell Leach, president of the two UAW locals involved, said the night shift men went home early to get some sleep before the meeting.

Negotiations continued through the night and into today. Union leaders said formal strike action would be taken at the meeting if a settlement has not been reached by them.

Chester Cahn, secretary of the association, said a settlement was believed near.

The union is not demanding a guaranteed wage but is seeking a 25-cent hourly pay boost.

a new steam generating plant for TVA at Fulton, Tenn. The steam plant would cost about 90 million dollars.

The 6½-million-dollar transmission line item represented only a tiny fraction of a $1,285,746,242 bill to finance the TVA, the AEC, several federal power programs and the vast Army Engineers navigation and flood control programs during the bookkeeping year starting July 1. But that small item promised to furnish the biggest fight.

The bill was due to reach the voting stage tomorrow. Final action might not come until Friday.

Republican House members huddled last night and agreed to try to eliminate from the bill language that would earmark the 6½ millions for the Fulton steam plant.

Assistant Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana said GOP House members were in "very substantial agreement" that the money should be left in the bill, but without any specific purpose assigned to it. Thus, Halleck said, the way would be open for the TVA to go ahead with the government's half of the trans-Mississippi line.

U.S. Steel Will Reply to Union's Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The U. S. Steel Corp. will present to the CIO United Steelworkers Monday the first answer to the union's demands for a "substantial" wage increase from the basic steel industry.

The company and union agreed yesterday to the resumption of bargaining Monday after a recess that began last week when the USW finished presenting its demands to steel's Big Six, who employ 400,000 of the 600,000 basic steelworkers.

U. S. Steel, traditional pacesetter in labor matters for the industry, has given no indication of how much it will offer in its counter-proposal.

The Day in Birmingham

Officials Seeking Solution to Interceptor Stalemate

BIRMINGHAM — City officials, sandwiched between possible court action by the State Attorney General and uncertainty from the City of Southfield, today mapped plans to expand facilities of the Birmingham sewage treatment plant.

L. R. Gare, city engineer, said consultant engineers were making a study of a program that would possibly stave off court action by the state and still be economical enough to permit going ahead with the Evergreen Interceptor project if Southfield acts on the matter by 1957.

Birmingham, along with parts of Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township, were cited by the Michigan Water Resources Commission for pollution of the Rouge River. Southfield was, too.

The communities joined in the Evergreen Interceptor project which called for construction from Eight Mile road to 14 Mile road of a sewer main. It would connect with the Detroit disposal system at Eight Mile.

CONSTRUCTION DELAYED

Although Birmingham was prepared to proceed immediately with its share of the plan, it wasn't until this spring that Southfield voters agreed to a bond issue to finance construction of Southfield's share.

Phrasing of the proposal in Southfield caused a snag in obtaining necessary funds through the bond issue, which further held up the program.

The Township was then incorporated by a small vote margin this month. Further action on the interceptor by the new city will be held up until a charter is adopted. Under state law, a charter must be adopted within two years after the incorporation vote or the city reverts to a township status.

Facer with this on-again, off-again delay, Birmingham City Manager Donald Egbert received approval from the City Commission this week to proceed with an "improvement program" for the Birmingham treatment plant.

Egbert told the commission such a program might stave off possible court action and still leave the door open for Birmingham to join in the interceptor project should Southfield be ready to start construction by Jan. 1, 1957.

"The possibility of the City of Birmingham stipulating that certain actions would be taken by the city to provide sewage treatment would probably satisfy the court and the Attorney General's office, if such a program had the approval of the State Board of Health and the Water Resources Commission," he said.

Under the program, now being mapped by consulting engineers, plans would be submitted to the health department for approval before Sept. 15 with awarding of a contract sometime the following month for completion in the summer of 1956.

Egbert said he was also advised by the Health Department that the city should schedule further improvements to the plant and that plans be submitted to the State Health Department by June 1, 1956.

STILL COULD JOIN

Under this step-by-step program, the city of Birmingham would retain the right to join with the Evergreen Interceptor Project if "there is a probability of securing construction on this project prior to Jan. 1, 1957," Egbert said.

Elmer Kephart, chairman of the advisory committee for the interceptor project, has called a meeting for 9 a.m. next Tuesday in the commission room in the Birmingham Municipal Building to hear reports on the present status of the project.

Charlotte W. Taylor

Service will be held at 1 a.m. tomorrow at the William R. Hamilton Co. for Mrs. Charlotte W. Taylor, 978 Ann St., who died yesterday. She was 73.

Mrs. Taylor was the wife of the late Samuel C. Taylor. Survivors include one son, Charles R. Hunt, Downersville, Ill.; a daughter, Mrs. Ronald Ballantyne, Bloomfield Hills, and four grandchildren.

Burial will be at Plano, Ill.

Students Off to Germany

MARY ROACH

BILL DUCKWITZ

SHIRLEY WOODEN

WALLED LAKE — After months of hectic planning three Walled Lake High School honor students took off from Willow Run at 5 a.m. today for a summer in Germany.

The trio, Bill Duckwitz, Mary Roach and Shirley Wooden, are part of a group of 30 Michigan students who will spend the summer with German families in a "Youth for Understanding" program, jointly sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches and the Rotary Club.

Sandwiched in with their preparations such as vaccinations, shots for tetanus, diphtheria and typhoid, the three spent a number of hours attempting to learn German by listening to German lessons on a tape recorder.

During the past week their chief concerns have been to reduce luggage to 44 pounds, to complete the work of their junior year in school, and to attend the many farewell parties given for them.

The Rotary Club presented each student with a check covering plane fare from Willow Run to New York and return, and $50 spending money. Their parents are paying the balance of their expenses.

At a picnic in Ann Arbor last night, the Michigan students and their families had an opportunity to get acquainted. Later those who wished it were furnished hospitality in Ann Arbor for the night, prior to departure.

After stops in Gander, Newfoundland; Reykjavik, Iceland; and Prestwick, Scotland, the students will land in Hamburg, Germany. There they will meet their hosts for the summer.

Bill will go to Peine, Mary to Darmstadt, and Shirley to Lubeck.

In August the group will reassemble to spend several days at a ski lodge in the Black Forest near Freiburg, at a reunion with German students who have spent a year in Michigan.

Then the Michigan students will entrain for Switzerland, Paris, and Luxembourg before flying back to New York August 29.

Romeo Citizens Ask Truck Ban

Petition Village Council to Keep Vehicles Off Croswell Street

ROMEO—Croswell street residents petitioned the Romeo Village Council to keep heavy trucks off their street at a meeting Monday night. The request was brought about by the opening of a building material firm on Sisson street.

The matter was referred to village engineer Fitz Bridges. He will consult with Macomb county road commission and county engineers as to the possibility of making the bridge on South Sisson street safe for heavy traffic, so that Croswell street may be bypassed.

Thompson place, located between the high school and the new vocational agricultural building, will be closed to public traffic according to council plan and sewers will be installed there.

Residents at the east end of the block-long street had complained of flood conditions following heavy rains when the street acted as a "funnel," channeling water into their yards and basements.

A three-man council committee was appointed to seek a new site for the village dump.

The resignation of James Lindsay from the village planning commission was accepted. He is moving to Utica.

The annual request from the Romeo Peach Festival Assn. for the blocking of streets and use of facilities during the Labor Day celebration were granted by the council.

The village also will contribute $750 voted by the people toward the association support.

Troy Rezoning OK'd by Board

104-Acre Parcel Near Vickers Recommended as Light Industrial

TROY TOWNSHIP—The Troy Township Zoning Board approved the rezoning of a 104-acre parcel of land on the north side of 15-Mile road west of Crooks road to light industry for a $2,000,000 office and research building and recommended it to the township board.

The site is almost directly across from the Vickers property, another $2,000,000 construction.

This new construction will have 100,000 square feet of floor area for the office, 50,000 square feet for a research lab, and a parking area for 1,000 cars.

It will have its own sewage disposal system and will get Troy Township water. The residential area nearby will be protected by a green belt.

Paul Moffett, an agent for an architectural firm, made the application for the company.

Says Huron Valley Schools in Black

MILFORD—At the annual meeting of the Huron Valley Board of Education last night, Supt. Harold Hansen told members that the school system is now operating in the black, and will conclude the year with a slight balance.

The four teachers leaving the system are John Harmes, Joy Gardner, Don Smatowitch, Denny Boyle.

Writing Someone You Don't Know is Rough

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

You thought it would be a lot of fun when you started it. You agreed readily enough to write to this boy in the service.

A friend of a friend of a friend knew him and gave you his name and address. You took your courage—and your pen—in your hands and wrote that first letter. It brought a response. And the letters have been winging back and forth ever since.

But now yours are getting harder and harder to write. There are times when you can't think of a thing that would interest him. That's what has this girl down.

"Dear Miss Woodward. Can you give me some pointers on making my letters to a boy in the service (Korea) more interesting?

"It just seems as though I can't ever think of anything to write to him. I've never met him; I started corresponding with him through a friend of mine.

"I'd certainly appreciate it if you'd give me some inspiration."

Answer: It is hard to keep up a correspondence with someone you've never seen. Though he may tell you things about him home and his background, you've no mental picture of him. Even a snapshot won't tell you much about his disposition, his reactions, his likes and dislikes.

You get to feeling as though you were writing your autobiography when you sit down to pen a letter to him.

But your autobiography—or your diary—are not what the lad wants to read.

Your letters should help him get acquainted with you by gay recitals of your doings (just the highlights), your comments on the fads an dfoibles of the people who surround you, brief references to what you think about things and how you react to what's going on.

Your current events should amuse him and make him feel he really knows you and is sharing your life.

HELP HIM LAUGH

Funny things that happened to you, your family or your friends might tickle him, too. Clippings and cartoons from the paper that give you a laugh may give him a chuckle, too.

He can share them with the other boys for more laughs.

Comment big on the things he writes to you. Don't let his current events fall flat. Keep them alive, like so many unfinished chapters. Go back to preceding letters and drag up a tidbit for further hashing over.

Ask questions that will make him feel you want to know how things are turning out. (It gives you more material to comment on.)

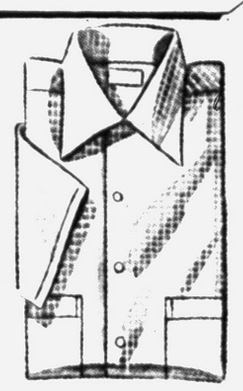

VARY THE PACE

Write a long, newsy letter one day and a short, snappy one the next. That will vary the pace and the table of contents.

This letter-writing is to make him feel in touch, to cheer him up, to give him something to look forward to.

Railroad Saves on Car Numbers

Starts Over at One to Reduce Headaches in Tracking System

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago and Northwestern Railway has saved itself a lot of headaches and money by starting all over at No. 1 in numbering its new box cars.

Most of the railroad's rolling stock today bears five and six-digit numbers. The result of accumulation through the years.

So when the road ordered 625 new box cars a couple of years ago, President Paul Feucht specified that they be numbered from 1 to 625.

The use of fewer digits might seem a trival matter. But consider this:

In a single month, the number of each car is written, typewritten, telegraphed, teletyped, recorded, tabulated and even televised hundreds of times.

The more digits, the greater chance for error and delay.

Like other roads, the Northwestern has so many thougands of cars on the move it has numerical nightmares. All the car numbers laid end to end probably would short circuit an electronic brain.

60,000 CARS

Each day the road must keep tabs on about 60,000 freight cars, including its own and those on loan from other railroads. Accurate records must be kept for many reasons, including the "per diem" factor.

It seems one road must pay another $2.40 per day for the use of a freight car on loan. And some cars seem to spend more time on other roads than on their own.

For Example, the Northwestern's car No. 1, delivered by the manufacturer in October, 1953, left the Northwestern's system Aug. 4, 1954, and had not returned by March 21, 1955.

To keep track of such meanderings requires an accounting department with a battery of electronic tabulations consuming about 1,700,000 punch cards per month.

The hub of the Northwestern's freight service is the huge Proviso yards, handling 6,000 to 7,000 or more cars per day.

A separate accounting setup at the yards records the flow, using newly installed business machines which have replaced the old hand ledger system.

But even so, railroad officials will admit it's possible to lose a freight car now and then.

Take the Nose and Tail and You Get 'Humiture'

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—It isn't the heat but the humiture. Osborn Fort Hevener says he coined the word by taking the nose of humidity and the tail of temperature, blending them to describe what makes you suffer in hot weather.

He adds the temperature (in degrees) to the relative humidity (in percentage points) and divides by two. The answer comes out in "humits," the unit for measuring "humiture."

For example if the temperature is 83 and the relative humidity 53 the total is 136 and divided by two the humiture is 68.

Hevener says a 60 to 79 humiture is ideal. Over 70 it is stuffy, hot and uncomfortable. Under 60 it is chilly and likewise uncomfortable.

Sabotaged Republican Lists Campaign Costs

MASON (UP)—Glenn S. Webster, defeated Democratic nominee for trustee of LeRoy Township, noted his campaign expenses thus: "I hereby certify that all the expenses I have to report is the postage stamp used in returning this document to the county clerk's office."

Webster, a Republican, also noted he was nominated on the Democratic slate without his knowledge and has voted straight Republican for more than 25 years.

What's the Name Again? 32 Versions Are Wrong

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (UP)—Mrs. Martha Rinear has compiled a list of names that appear on letters she's received in the past few months.

The letters came addressed to Mrs. Martha Renar, Renair, Renaur, Rhiner, Rainer, Rhyneer, Rhyner, Rainear, Rainier, Rheimer, Rainear, Reinhear, Rineer, Rheineer, Rinneer, Rieneer, Rainer, Riener, Rhinear, Rinaer, Raineer, Rheiner, Reimer, Raneir, Rhineir, Riner, Rainer, Reinert, Renier, Rienear, Reineir and Renoir.

Turtle Chomps Driver

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—A turtle bit his ankle, said Daniel Stamm, and that's why he ran into a Main Street safety island with his car.

Stamm said the turtle, of the snapping species, got into his car somehow and latched onto his ankle just as he was turning a corner. He lost control and wound up with a dented fender and a ticket for reckless driving.

St. Clair River Sniper Convicted for Shooting

PORT HURON (AP) — A Circuit Court jury yesterday convicted Floyd Warwick, 45, of firing three shots from a rifle at a freighter on the St. Clair River.

The offense carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $500 fine.

The bullets ricocheted off the freighter John E. F. Meisener May 12 without injuring any of the crew.

Warwick, a boat livery operator, testified he was angered by speeding freighters that kicked up waves and damaged his property but he would not admit firing the shots.

Plane 32 Times Safer Than Car

Airline Executive Tells Engineers of Higher Fatality Rate in Autos

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—An airlines executive has said a traveler was 32 times safer in a passenger plane last year than he was in his own automobile.

Harold E. Gray of New York said airlines in the United States had one fatality for every 1,250,000,000 passenger miles flown in 1954. The automobile rate, he said, was 2.6 deaths for every 100 million passenger miles, 32.4 times greater.

Gray, executive vice president of Pan American World Airways, spoke as part of a panel discussion at the annual summer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Earlier, a symposium on jet aircraft fuels heard a report on the development of a fuel designed for greater stability at high temperatures.

Donald P. Heath of Socony Mobil Laboratories, Paulsboro, said fuel acts as a cooling agent in supersonic jet planes and carries off heat from the engine lubricating oil and other sources.

FUELS UNSTABLE

In the past, he said, jet fuels have turned unstable at high temperatures and plugged engines with gum and sediment. He told of developing a fuel that "retains its stability for relatively long periods at temperatures in the range of 400 to 500 degrees."

The society presented its Horning Memorial to Sir Harry Ricardo for his work in improving automobile engine efficiency.

Sir Harry, chairman of Ricardo and Co. Engineers Ltd., Shoreham-by-the-Sea, England, received the medal at the opening of the society's annual summer meeting Monday. Carl G. A. Rosen of Peoria, Ill., SAE president, made the presentation.

Rosen introduced Sir Harry as "Mr. Internal-Combustion Engine" and said "The careers of the two have coincided."

Royal Oak Man Top Pick for VFW Post

Don M. Draher, Royal Oak government machinist and engineer, is considered the likely choice as the new Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars commander when more than 5,000 VFW delegates meet at Traverse City Thursday for their 36th annual convention.

Draher, 46, a veteran of two years with the Seabees in World War II, currently is state senior vice commander and a member of the Indian River Post.

Considered the top choice by VFW officials and delegates, Draher will succeed Leon V. Buer, of Grand Rapids, if elected.

The convention, which is being held to elect top VFW officials, will run four days.

U. S. Joins Film Scramble

Russia Is Biding Time on 'War and Peace'

MOSCOW (INS)—Russian movie-makers sat calmly on the sidelines today and watched U.S. and foreign film companies in a race to produce the Russian classic, "War and Peace."

* * *

The Russians would seem to have an edge on Michael Todd and an Italian company, which already have started rival versions, and on David O. Selznick and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, who are talking about one.

Several Soviet movie moguls have read the tome—all the way through.

But there's no early prospect of a Soviet film version of Count Leo Tolstoy's monumental epic on Napoleon's invasion of Muscovy.

The problem isn't that not enough Russians have read the book, a Soviet film executive told this reporter. Too many have.

RUSSIANS WARY

"Our people are wary of tackling 'War and Peace'," Sergei Utkevich says, "because everyone in the USSR is an authority on the subject."

A Russian doing "War and Peace," Utkevich contends, would have to dodge the same slings and arrows that an American or English producer faces in doing "Hamlet."

Even more so, perhaps, Soviet spectators demand painstaking realism in their movies. Every samovar must be in place.

Utkevich grinned

"It's a lot easier to produce life in other countries."

STARTING OTHELLO

Just back from the Cannes film festival, Utkevich is starting to shoot a five-million-rubble version ($1,250,000 at the official exchange rate) of Shakespeare's "Othello."

The Riviera-tanned director recalled trade gossip about "War and Peace" at Cannes.

"Three, or maybe it's four. Hollywood producers are talking about doing it."

He suggests Soviet movie men will get around to their homegrown classic eventually, though he isn't predicting a date:

"I think the fifth will be done in Moscow. And I'd venture to say it would be able to compete (with the Hollywood versions)."

He added, "Using an old poker expression, we hold better cards."

Another star director at Mosfilm, Alexander Ptushko, also indicated a feeling that Hollywood was rushing in where Soviets feared to tread.

Ptushko's preference for big-budget films with thousands of spear-carrying extras won him the title "the C. B. DeMille of Russia" from Western reporters at the last Venice festival.

Viewing Hollywood's "War and Peace" through wide-screen glasses, the Soviet epic-maker acknowledged "Hollywood will do it on a big scale, no doubt."

But, he added, "I wonder how much of Tolstoy will be left."

No less, perhaps, than in another Hollywood production of a Tolstoy masterwork, "Anna Karenina," which starred Greta Garbo. The "Russian DeMille" had a pleasant recollection of that one.

Judge Suggests Woman Let Husband Do Cooking

DES MOINES, Iowa (UP)—Mrs. Robert C. Bell complained to Judge Howard Brooks that if he fined her $20 on a speeding charge her husband wouldn't let her drive the car for 20 days.

"Make him do his own cooking for 20 days," the judge said, and imposed the fine.

I HIGHLY RECOMMEND O-JIB-WA BITTERS FOR RHEUMATISM AND A SPRING TONIC

"I have suffered much during the past 25 years, and O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the best medicine I have ever used," says Mrs. Louise Hemming, Marlette, Michigan.

"Since 1930, rheumatism and arthritis in my feet, legs and shoulders has made life miserable as the pains were quite constant. My hands and feet were often so swollen and sore that I couldn't get around to do my housework. When I tried to do a little work around the home, I suffered more than ever, and the pain kept me awake at night.

Mrs. Hemming

Liniments and other medicines would sometimes help a little, but usually just gave me relief for a short time. I tried one medicine and then another, before I finally hit upon O-JIB-WA BITTERS. Well - - - the pains left me on the first bottle and before long, I was able to get around fine. O-JIB-WA BITTERS also gave me more pep and strength. It seems that every year, I feel better when I take some kind of tonic to pep me up, and O-JIB-WA BITTERS does more for me than anything I have ever tried."

Modest 'Trucker of Year' Refuses Testimonial Fete

LANSING (UP)—Michigan truckers are prouder now of their "national driver of the year" than they were when they discovered he had helped save the lives of two women motorists and then gone quietly about his business.

The truck driver, Floyd J. Pemberton of Detroit's Redford Township, has refused to attend a banquet in his honor, suggesting that he has had enough honors and that the cost of the banquet be donated to charity.

Sec. of State James M. Hare tells the story:

State traffic and safety figures and big shots in the trucking industry were invited to a testimonial dinner June 28 at a Detroit hotel to present Pemberton with a television set, a trophy and an earful of compliments for his courage and coolness.

He had been chosen Michigan and national "driver of the year" for giving prompt first aid to two seriously injured women motorists—and then going home without telling anyone of his feat. It was uncovered by police checking details of the accident.

But Pemberton wrote the Michigan Trucking Assn. that he and his wife, Bonnie, already had enjoyed a trip to Washington, D. C., and New York City as the nation's best truck driver.

That was enough, he said.

Maybe others ought to share in these nice things, he said. So he suggested that the money which would have been spent on the dinner be given to charity—"my church and my Boy Scout troop" if it were all right with the sponsors.

William W. Johnston, manager of the association, called off the banquet and said Pemberton's action "indicates a more modest, unassuming gentleman could not have been chosen as symbolic of the nation's trucking industry."

The Trailmobile Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio, reported it had set aside $500 toward the cost of the dinner and would Pemberton please give it the name of his church and scout troop.

Pemberton will get the television set anyway—and the trophy will be presented at the association's fall convention.

Chinese Reds Claim Borers From Within

TOKYO (UP)—Peiping radio today reported a counter-revolutionary clique connected with the Chinese Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek had been exposed in Red China.

The broadcast gave no details of arrests.

It said members had "even won their way into the Chinese Communist party to steal documents and intelligence information so as to work against the revolution from within and without."

The report apparently heralded a new purge.

Three men were named as members of the clique. The leader was identified as Hu Feng, a writer. Others named were A. Lung, a former major in the Nationalist army, and Li Yuan.

The broadcast said they "hid themselves within the ranks of the progressive people and used art and literary work as a camouflage for their criminal deeds."

First diagnostic cancer clinic in the U. S. was opened in 1921.

Grains Retreat Holding Lower

CHICAGO (AP) — Prices retreated just a bit on the Board of Trade today. Then—except for rye—most contracts held their ground at the lower line.

Rye frequently was set back more than a cent on further favorable crop news. Soybeans and lard eased as soy oil and meal evidenced hesitancy in pursuing their higher trend and the hog market turned steady.

Helping to hold the line on wheat and corn were new reports envisioning future exports.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ¼ to ½ lower, July $1.99⅝, corn was off ½ to ¾, July $1.41¾; oats were unchanged to ¼ lower, July 65⅝, and rye was ¾ to 1¼ lower, July $1.04¾. Soybeans were unchanged to ½ cent lower, July $2.42¾, and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundredweight lower, July $12.50.

'Wildcat' Factory Strikes Create Production Lag

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press
Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry stumbled a bit last week as a series of wildcat strikes halted numerous assembly lines. Yet midyear will see a new production record of more than 4¼ million passenger cars assembled in six months.

The previous January-June record was 3,567,000 cars built in 1950. The indicated output for this year's first half would compare with a total of 4,334,000 car assemblies in all of 1952.

The factories already have topped the previous January-June output record. More than 3,800,000 units have been built so far in 1955.

A certainty ahead of the car industry is that the newest wage agreements with the CIO United Auto Workers will add substantially to production costs.

Walter Reuther, UAW-CIO president, has said the auto companies can absorb the added costs without price increases. But most industry sources say the agreements are bound to bring higher car prices.

Just how much the new wage schedules will add to the cost of building the various makes of cars is a competitive secret. Obviously the car makers have these figures in their cost accounting records. But they won't talk about them.

TOTAL ABOVE NORMAL

Another indicated result of the restoration of peace in the auto industry is reasonably rapid liquidation of the heaviest new car inventory in car making history. Most recent surveys indicated new car dealers throughout the country held upward of three quarters of a million new cars.

That total is far above normal requirements. Most experts say, however, the possibility of price increases on forthcoming new models will stimulate demand for current models.

No manufacturer yet has said a price increase is coming. Competitive factors will figure in whatever pricing program is decided upon by the car makers.

Styling and general design changes planned for 1956 models may in themselves require some upward price adjustments.

Probably of more immediate concern to the new car buyer is what will happen to the price cutting that has been commonplace at the retail level for many months.

A sharp upturn in retail demand now because of possible price increases with the new model presentations undoubtedly would result in smaller discounts on current car. This possibility itself is one of the things that might boost retail demand during the next eight weeks or more.

Beyond that time a production cut is in prospect as preparations are made for earlier introductions of next year's models. If retail demand does not cut down the new car inventories substantially, the model changeover shutdowns may be extended somewhat longer than usual.

But in any event, most trade sources say they do not now expect the distress type of selling that has marked recent outgoing model cleanup operations.

Legal Opinion Given in Annexation Case

LANSING (AP) — An attorney general's opinion held today that a part of a newly incorporated city may be annexed to another city even though the new city had not yet adopted a charter.

Replying to a question by Rep. Walter T. McMahon (D-Hazel Park), the opinion said annexation petitions may be filed either before or after a new city charter is adopted. It said annexation of a whole new city is not necessary under the law.

In another opinion, the Attorney General's office upheld the constitutionality of a 1948 law permitting the County Board of Supervisors to abolish the Office of Drain Commissioner and transfer his duties to the county road commissioners.

Dow Chemical Retires Company Indebtedness

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. today retired 62½ million dollars in long term loans.

The retirement included 45 million dollars of 3.25 per cent notes due in 1977 and 17½ million dollars of 2.7 per cent notes due in 1972.

Gerstacker said Dow's long term indebtedness now includes 61 million dollars in similar notes and 100 million dollars in 3 per cent convertible debentures due in 1982.

Prices Reflect Auto Contracts

Steel and Other Metals Head Upward at Word of Continued Output

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Labor peace in the auto field is having its first price reaction today in the field of industrial materials.

Some grades of steel scrap have gone up in price because dealers see a good summer ahead for the steel mills, now that one of their big customers is virtually assured of setting a new record for car output this year.

Zinc producers say the same assurance has put the clincher on the price rise in that much-wanted metal.

The price of rubber for future delivery has gone up—partly in response to the labor peace at Detroit, and partly because of the racial and labor disturbances at Singapore.

Tin prices have risen too, with Singapore getting the immediate blame. But here also the belief that the business boom has been given a new lease on life is given some of the credit.

Prosperity prospects are holding the demand for aluminum high. So today some producers are predicting privately that the price of that metal will rise again this summer.

Copper producers once more are putting farther in the future the date when it could fall from its lofty price perch. They are saying the 36 cents price should hold this summer.

A basic steel price hike apparently is just waiting on a wage settlement with the steelworkers union. Talks are under way, and July 1 is the deadline. A price rise in steel will affect thousands of factories.

For the consumer the reaction, if any, will be delayed. But months from now he will be buying autos or appliances that contain the higher priced steel and other metals.

Factory production chiefs faced with rising labor and industrial material costs, will look for corners to cut, devices to save on man hours, substitutes for more costly metals.

And finally the sales executives will try to decide how much of the new and higher costs can be passed along to the consumer in higher retail prices without losing sales to competitors.

It will be a busy summer. And the consumer will know the result next fall.

Clarkston Man Fined on Unsanitary Charge

Charged with operating an unsanitary slaughterhouse, Joseph Flanigan, 47, of Clarkston, paid a $100 fine and $15 costs Tuesday after he pleaded guilty before Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

GM Names Scholarship Winners in Huge Program

DETROIT—One hundred of the nation's most talented secondary school seniors today were declared college scholarship winners in a General Motors-sponsored program considered by many outstanding educators as "historic in higher education."

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, disclosed the findings of an independent committee of 16 outstanding educators appointed to select the recipients of the 100 awards from more than 14,000 applicants.

The national program is one phase of a $2,000,000 annual program of aid to higher education being sponsored by General Motors. The extended program, when in full operation, will bring to $4,500,000 General Motor's total annual contributions to higher education.

Each of the scholarships will be continued from year to year for four years, if a student's progress toward completion of degree requirements is satisfactory to his college or university.

The committee of educators, comprised of college presidents and others prominent in the education field, selected the winners from among 1,421 semifinalists who finished highest in a competitive examination offered earlier this year. Scholastic achievements, student activities and leadership potential were prime factors in the selection.

New York, which had 2,457 applicants, led other states with 23 winners. Michigan's only scholarship was awarded to James Carl Owens of Grosse Pointe High School.

Industrial Technicians Will Graduate Tonight

The first group of industrial technicians to be trained under a unique 2-year educational program cooperatively conducted by Chrysler Corp. and Highland Park Junior College will be graduated tonight at the school's commencement exercises.

After graduation, the class will be ready for full-time employment with Chrysler, thus filling a need in the automotive industry for technicians in medium level jobs which require more than a high school education but less than a 4-year college degree.

The new technicians will be employed mainly as laboratory technicians, technical clerks, and in various drafting positions.
