Oakland Board Warns Income Changes Cause Tight Planning

Oakland County Board of Supervisors today approved a final budget of $6,049,597.20 to govern the county during 1954.

In presenting the budget, the board's ways and means committee warned that the cash "cushion" against unexpected expenses is almost nil.

The budget offered by Fred W. Smith, ways and means chairman, is $616,773.93 higher than the budget for this year.

Some $4,500,000 of the total will be raised by the county's 5.25 mill tax rate. County officials hope that fees, fines and other income will make up the rest of the money.

The ways and means committee warned supervisors to be extra careful about tapping the $36,293.31 "contingent" fund for miscellaneous spending.

The committee said it usually estimates county income at a minimum, so that actual receipts won't fall short of the estimates. This year, committee members said, they estimated income as high as possible to balance the budget.

Some of the reasons the committee gave for the county's financial squeeze were these:

Oakland County Tax Allocation board trimmed a quarter-million (about $200,000 in revenue) off the tax rate the county had asked for earlier this year.

Sister Kenny Foundation moved out of the Contagious Hospital, taking with it about $130,000 a year in income.

Several new departments, such as the personnel and purchasing divisions, have been added to the county's governmental setup during the last year.

County employees found no across-the-board pay hike in next year's budget. In fact, salaries for some 14 suggested new employees were chopped from the schedule.

But some employees will be getting bigger paychecks after Jan. 1, as a system of pay increases according to length of service becomes effective. A $34,000 allocation in the 1954 budget will carry (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Weekend Accidents Take at Least 16 Lives in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 16 persons lost their lives in weekend accidents in Michigan.

Traffic accidents claimed 12 lives, two drowned, one child was killed by a partially dismantled pool table, and a small game hunter was shot to death accidentally.

One man died when his racing car went out of control during time trials at a Jackson auto racetrack.

In addition to the weekend fatalities, five persons died early today when a new convertible went out of control and smashed into a bridge abutment near Saginaw.

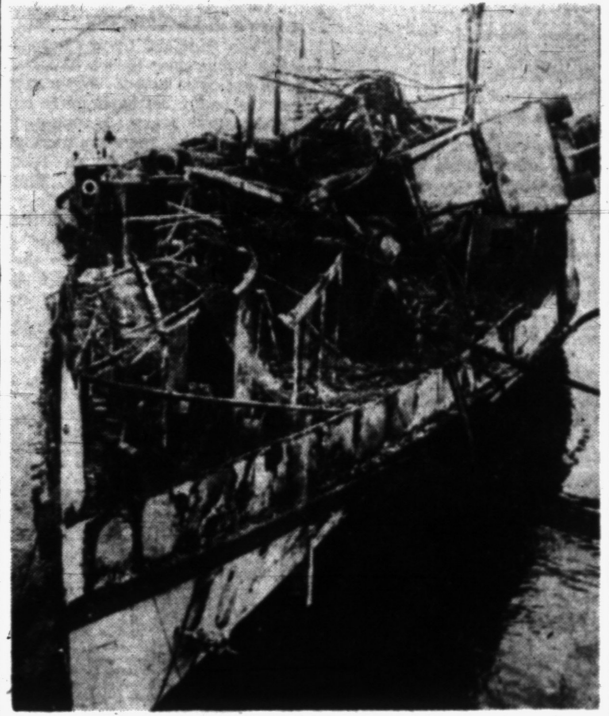

The racing car victim was William Skowronski, 23, of Detroit. His car went out of control and over the north wall at the Jackson Motor Speedway Sunday afternoon during trials for races of big cars against racing roadsters.

He died in Foote Hospital at Jackson of a fractured skull, neck and internal injuries.

Mrs. Jessie Singleton, 65, of Carleton was struck and killed by a car as she crossed Telegraph road (U.S.24) in front of her home. She was en route to a neighbor's house to catch a ride to church Sunday night.

James E. Winslow, 20, of Detroit, driver of the car, was released but ordered to make a

Forget Tax Cuts, Build Up U.S. Defense, Solons Urge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.) declared today the American people are worried about the state of national defense and stand ready to continue paying high taxes to build it up.

"If the Republicans think they must cut taxes in order to please the people, they are mistaken," said Jackson, a former member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

His statement, in an interview, was in harmony with an assertion by Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), now chairman of the committee, that he is "ready to surrender" the principle of a balanced budget.

Cole was asked on an NBC television interview yesterday if the American people would favor trying to balance the budget if they knew the truth about Russian atomic development.

"No, indeed, they would not," he replied.

Cole said that, on the basis of information furnished his committee, he believed the nation should spend another 15 to 25 billion dollars on continental air defense. He said an adequate over-all defense budget might run some 10 billions above present levels.

Russia's atomic progress—particularly the Soviet claim of mastery over the devastating hydrogen bomb—ran through the statements of Cole and Jackson, as well as other Washington officials, over the weekend.

ROKs Threaten to Free 22,500 Held by Indians

Commies Reply That Mass Escape Would Scuttle Truce

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—South Korean Army sources bared today a plot to free 22,500 anti-Communist prisoners from Indian custody and the Reds warned that a mass escape would "blow up" the truce.

The ROKs notified the Indians through the 8th Army that Provost Marshal Lt. Gen. Won Yung Duk was planning to carry out the plot even if it led to an armed clash between South Koreans and Indians.

It was Won who almost wrecked the Korean truce last June 18 by permitting 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners to flee Allied compounds under unilateral orders from President Syngman Rhee.

South Korean political leaders called upon civilians to attend mass meetings Tuesday and protest the "barbarous" Indian handling of anti-Communist prisoners.

Rhee's government ordered school children to take a holiday Tuesday and march to demonstration centers.

Government sources said the South Korean people would harbor escapees from Indian custody just as they had sheltered the fugitive North Koreans almost four months ago in an act that imperiled the truce.

South Koreans planned the mass escapes, the sources said, to prevent Indian guards from slaying more anti-Communist prisoners who do not want to go back to Red rule.

Thus far, the Indians have slain three prisoners and wounded 10 in putting down anti-Communist demonstrations.

Nine North Koreans escaped the Indian camp last Thursday and an anti-Communist Chinese slipped out of the compound Monday. The North Koreans have given the South Koreans an elaborate map of the Indian custodial camp. The South Koreans have accused the Indians of being pro-Red and challenged them Saturday to side with the Communists openly so the ROK Army could deal with them in a military manner.

Peiping Radio, voice of Communist China, blamed the United States for South Korea's defiant attitude toward the Indians, who were assigned to guard the prisoners for 90 days while "explanations" of both sides attempt to change the captives' minds about going home.

New Heat Mark Set on Saturday as Mercury Soars to 88

Autumn weather returned to Pontiac yesterday after Saturday's summer-like 88 degrees set an all-time high for that date.

Little change in temperature and partly cloudy skies are forecast for this area tonight and Tuesday.

Saturday's "heat wave" cracked the previous record of 86 degrees established on Oct. 3, 1951. Rain amounting to .21 of an inch Saturday night ushered in cooler weather.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts a low of from 42 to 46 tonight and a high of from 63 to 67 degrees Tuesday. A low of 47 and a high of 68 degrees were recorded here Sunday.

Clearing skies today sent the mercury climbing from 45 degrees at 8 a.m. to 64 degrees at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Jail Break—This One From the Outside In

"I've got no place to go and I want to be locked up," a 34-year-old Royal Oak housewife told Sgt. Herbert Doby at the Oakland County Jail Saturday.

"I have no reason to do that," said Doby.

"You will in a minute," she replied. The woman stepped outside and threw a rock through a window in the jail door. "Now will you lock me up?" she asked.

"That I will," said Sgt. Doby.

U. S. Expected to Halt Walkout

Government May Act Today to Stop Crippling Dock Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special inquiry board today advised President Eisenhower that a negotiated settlement in the five-day east coast Longshoremen's strike is "exceedingly unlikely."

Eisenhower was apparently getting ready to direct Atty. Gen. Brownell to apply for an 80-day court ban against continuing the crippling pier strike.

NEW YORK (AP)—Anticipated U.S. government action today may bring a quick end to an economy-crippling strike of longshoremen from Maine to Virginia.

A special three-man presidential board of inquiry was expected to deliver to the White House by early afternoon a report containing findings indicating whether the walkout is endangering the nation's welfare.

The report to President Eisenhower will make no specific recommendation but almost certainly will result in his asking the Department of Justice to seek in federal court an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley law.

It is possible that an injunction could be obtained and served by tonight. Leaders of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) have said they will instruct their men to obey such a court order.

War Hero Flies Navy Jet at 753 M.P.H. to Retake World Speed Record for U.S.

THERMAL, Calif. (AP)—Striking an average of 753.4 m.p.h., the Navy's new F4D Skyray interceptor has won back the world's measured course record for the United States and now will be given further tests at sea.

Lt. Cmdr. James B. Verdin, 35, youthful looking combat hero of both World War II and Korea, piloted the jet flying-wing-type Douglas plane to the new record Saturday about 150 feet above the hot sands along Southern California's Salton Sea.

On each of his four arrow-straight passes over the 3-kilometer (1.93 mile) course, Verdin averaged each mile in less than five seconds.

His fastest pass—761.414 m.p.h.—was only 61 less than the speed of sound along the course, where the mercury read 95.5 degrees. Some speed varies with temperature and altitude.

Verdin and the Skyray erased the 737.3 m.p.h. record set by

Earl Warren Takes Oath as Nation's Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earl Warren became the 14th chief justice of the United States at 12:06 p. m. (EST) today.

President Eisenhower looked on as the former California governor raised his right hand and took an oath to give justice impartially to the poor and to the rich—and thus became the nation's highest judicial officer.

Mrs. Eisenhower was with the President.

Mrs. Warren was also there, in a blue suit which had small red dots and a flat red hat. On her shoulder was a large lavender orchid.

She beamed through the brief ceremony.

While the eight associate justices and the audience stood, Warren raised his hand and read the oath standing before the court clerk, Harold B. Willey. Warren then shook hands with Willey.

Warren then seated himself in the high backed chief justice's chair in the center of the long bench.

The court crier, George E. Hutchinson, gavelled the audience to its feet as the Eisenhowers slipped quietly into seats reserved for them.

In half a minute they were seated and Hutchinson banged his gavel again as a signal that the crowd could also be seated.

The justices came into the high ceiling chamber at 12:01 p. m., and Justice Black announced "with deep sorrow" the death of Chief Justice Fred Vinson on Sept. 8.

After Warren came into the court room Willey read his commission while Warren sat at the left hand side of the clerk's desk. Black, in announcing the death of Vinson and Warren's succession, said that Vinson had spent most of his life "in fine public service for his state and his nation, both of which he loved and served with passionate devotion."

Black said Vinson's colleagues "respected him for his integrity and ability," and "loved him for (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Detroit and Centerline Residents Die Following Truck-Car Collision

Two men were killed and two others injured Sunday morning when a car and a trailer truck collided head-on at Telegraph Rd. and Rosel St. in Bloomfield Township.

Allan Scott, 27, of Red Deer, Alberta, Province, Canada, was treated for cuts and bruises.

He told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Homer Kelly that he was driving the truck north on Telegraph when Dysewski's oncoming car crossed the center line and the vehicles collided.

Pollution of Rouge River to Be Studied Tonight by Birmingham Commission

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — At tonight's City Commission meeting, City Manager Donald C. Egbert will outline the city's basic plan for solving pollution in the Rouge River, to be submitted to the Water Resources Commission at a meeting on Oct. 30.

Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Southfield Townships have been ordered by the commission to abate pollution in the upper Rouge Valley.

The Porritt property, a Troy Township island within the city, will again be under discussion when the W. E. Reid Development Co. submits a revised copy of the proposed zoning agreement to commissioners.

Egbert will recommend that a lease agreement with the Southeastern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority be tentatively approved and submitted to the authority. The lease is for a portion of the Walker Gravel Pit property, which the city is using for a sanitary landfill.

A fellowship dinner will be followed by a workers' conference, and then by council and committee meetings.

First meeting of the Halloween Party Committee for the city's annual Oct. 31 parade will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the Community House.

Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church is sponsoring a fall rummage sale, to be held tomorrow through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. The sale will be at 248 N. Bates St.

"Blood, Sweat and Gears," a film on the building of the Burna Road, was shown at today's Rotary Club luncheon by an official of the sales training department of General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

High school junior or seniors wishing to audition for membership in the Junior League Musicals may do so by calling either of the two counselors for the group, Mrs. D. L. Tate or Mrs. Henry G. Gassaway.

While on the runs, Verdin turned on his afterburners, in effect an extra engine carried in the aft part of the plane for short bursts of speed.

"There was a real hot when I turned those afterburners on," said the pilot. "Everything was wide open. I couldn't tell exactly, but I believe I was flying between 100 and 200 feet (altitude) on each pass."

Douglas Aircraft Co. officials say the Skyway is capable of supersonic speeds at higher altitudes. Men have flown faster than 754 m.p.h., but not under the low-level, sustained-flight regulations of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale.

Verdin, a Miles City, Mont., native, won the Navy Cross for valor in dive-bombing missions in F4F Hellcat fighter planes during the second battle for Leyte Gulf in World War II. He presently is stationed at Patuxent River, Md., testing new Navy planes.

Indicted Official Mute in Court

Louis C. Linteau, Local Labor Man, on Bond in Rackets Charge

A Pontiac labor official, Louis C. Linteau, 39, who was indicted recently by a one-man labor racket grand jury in Detroit, stood mute at his arraignment and was released on a $2,000 bond.

Linteau, of 615 E. Tennyson Avenue, secretary-treasurer of the AFL Teamsters Union Local 614, is the sixth defendant named by Wayne County Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan, probing alleged shakedown in the construction industry.

Others indicted on four counts are: Mike E. Nicoletti, president and business agent of Local 247; Samuel J. Marrozzo, business agent of Local 247; Daniel J. Keating, president and business agent of Local 614 at Pontiac; Frank E. Fitzsimmons, vice president of Local 399, and Anthony J. Luzzo, business agent of Local 247.

All, except Fitzsimmons, were ordered to post a $5,000 bond. Fitzsimmons' bond was $2,000.

Charges include extortion and conspiracy to extort. Examination in this case will begin before Recorder's Judge Martha W. Griffiths when another probe into the juke box racket is completed.

out this increment system. Other varying pay increases also have been made.

Oakland County Road Commission was allocated only $50,000 for 1954 — about one-third the $152,000 this year. But the Road Commission gets much of its revenue from Michigan's gas and weight tax returns.

Most of the scattered cuts were small.

The only increase of more than $60,000 was the $117,000 hike raising Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium's budget to $947,323.50 for next year. More than half the money is to come from receipts, not the county's general fund.

Smith explained the sanatorium is serving fewer out-of-county patients, whose bills are paid by their counties, and more from Oakland County with the local government making up the cost.

Cost of running the two new cottages at Oakland County Children's Home was held responsible for most of a $59,220 increase in the juvenile function's fund, raising it to $439,703 next year. The County Infirmary's allocation of $639,179 is some $33,800 over this year's.

The county's growing population was responsible for an increase of $55,100 in direct relief, putting it at $312,000 for 1954, and a hike of $57,687 in the fund to pay welfare patients' hospital bills, making it $366,500 for next year.

"The great bulk of our defense chips should be placed on our capacity for instant and devastating atomic retaliation."

Jackson sided with Symington, saying in an interview:

"The Russians have the hydrogen bomb, just as we have, and the big issue now is deliverability of the bomb. We have got to have a big Air Force to carry the bombs because there are more primary atomic targets in Russia than there are in the United States."

Like Symington, Jackson complained that the Eisenhower administration appears to be thinking more of balancing the budget than of building up defense forces.

Ancient Village Found in Desert

Site 6,000 Years Old Proves Past Cultivation of Palestine Area

WASHINGTON — Discovery of a 6,000-year-old village in Palestine's southern desert region of Negeb and new proof that the arid land was heavily settled in Roman times have cheered colonists who are pioneering farm communities in the parched area.

The ancient settlement is believed to have been established during the Bronze Age, about 4000 B. C. It offers the first clue to historians that the Negeb supported man prior to the Nabatean period from 300 B. C. to 100 A. D.

Its inhabitants appear to have been advanced in agriculture, cultivating the valley slopes just as the Nabateans did much later.

Sites of 83 previously unrecorded Nabatean settlements in the central Negeb have also been uncovered recently by an expedition headed by Dr. Nelson Glueck, world famous archaeologist and president of Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati.

Dr. Glueck's findings indicate the Nabatean kingdom extended from the southern end of the Dead Sea to what is now the Egyptian border. Heretofore, it had been supposed that these peoples, who combined elements of Roman, Semitic and Arab cultures, lived solely in Transjordan and used the Negeb only for trade routes.

It now seems evident that as many as 200,000 Nabateans once irrigated the desert land by means of underground cisterns.

Negeb, which means dry or parched lands, occupies the southern third of Palestine. Most of the region was apportioned to Israel under the United Nations partition, and in recent years increasing numbers of colonists have settled in the territory.

Dr. Glueck's explorations and excavations have uncovered more than 1,000 Biblical cities in the Transjordan area, laid bare King Solomon's long-missing port of Ezion-geber on the Red Sea, and discovered Solomon's copper mines in the Wadi Arabah.

Under Dr. Glueck, for the first time in history an entire land has been archeologically studied square mile for square mile, using the modern technique of pottery identification.

Deep-water ships can ply up the Amazon river for about 2,000 miles.

Thief Gets Medals for Unexpert Job

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A thief here got some medals for his skill in safecracking.

He spent some time and effort to open a safe at the Love-Chemical Co. The medals? About two dozen track medals belonging to the company president's son. No money.

And he wasn't so skillful after all. He could have opened the safe with a single turn of the handle. It was unlocked.

Between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 people have lost their lives through earthquakes since the sixth century.

Packard Strikers Go Back to Work

DETROIT (U)—Union employees of the Packard Motor Car Co. returned to their jobs today, after having forced shutdowns by walk-outs Thursday and Friday.

But when they went back, the CIO United Auto Workers gave the local union officials authority to call a strike if undisclosed grievances are not settled by negotiation. The union reported the vote on this question was 2,635 to 139.

Packard employs approximately 9,000 hourly rated workers. The union has not publicly disclosed its grievances. The company has made no comment.

Big Time Operation

SCITUATE, R. I. (UP)—The Pottsville fire department consists of one truck and three women volunteers.

Detroit Mother Succumbs to Blood Disease

DETROIT (U)—Mrs. Dolores Baker, 22-year-old mother of two, lost the fight in which more than 2,000 people across the continent volunteered to join her. She died Saturday of a rare blood infection. Only 24 hours before Mrs. Baker had rallied against staphylococcus albus bacteremia, commonly known as "Staph infection." A transfusion contributed by Roy Force Jr., a Flint Air Force veteran, was credited with the improvement.

But Saturday her condition turned suddenly worse. Dr. J. M. Graf was forced to abandon plans for another transfusion, this one to come from Mrs. Angeline Olexsey, an expectant mother of Detroit.

While more than 2,000 volunteered blood, few had the rare kind Mrs. Baker needed: type O with an RH negative factor from someone who had recovered from a staph infection.

Force hadn't the disease, but said he gave a transfusion while in the air force to a woman in Florida who recovered from staph infection.

Every man, woman and child in England averages 20 railway journeys a year, and the distance traversed has increased from 15.95 to 21.27 miles in the past five years, according to British railways.

Kamikaze Drug Use Spreads in Japan

TOKYO (U)—A drug which Kamikaze pilots used during World War II to keep from falling asleep on long-range suicide flights has caused a juvenile drug addiction problem in Japan.

The Welfare Ministry estimates there now are 1,500,000 addicts of "philopon," the trade name for phenyl dimethyl anilino propane. After the war, university students used the drug to keep awake during examinations after a sleepless night of cramming.

Then the addiction spread rapidly. Three recent murders were committed by youths under the influence of the drug.

Since 1945 the number of grain combines in the South has nearly tripled, and there are now 10 times as many cornpickers and seven times as many hay balers.

No Reimbursement

HARTFORD, Conn. (U)—The Connecticut Supreme Court has ruled that the state is not required to pay for work assigned to mental patients for therapeutic purposes. Denying a $2,000 claim made in behalf of a woman patient for work in a hospital laundry, the court held: "Her labor was required not primarily for the benefit of the hospital, but for her own welfare."

Ike Invokes Taft-Hartley

President EISENHOWER has acted quickly and decisively in invoking the Taft-Hartley Law in the East Coast dock strike.

This walkout of the International Longshoremen's Association has paralyzed every port from Hampton Roads, Va., to Portland, Maine. Face to face with what soon would become a grave emergency, the President rightly used the emergency powers in the act to safeguard "the national health and welfare."

By appointing a three man board of inquiry, which is to report by midnight Monday, the President can instruct the attorney general, if he wishes, to apply for an 80 day injunction.

ILA officials have said that if the injunction is issued, they would immediately order the dockers back to work. But nothing in the law bars them from resuming the walkout after the 80 day cooling off period. This emphasizes the difficulty of dealing with strikes of this kind.

The situation is complicated by two other factors. One is the action of the AFL in ousting ILA for failure to clean its house of racketeering, and the chartering of a new dockers' union. The other is Governor Dewey's demand that employers refuse to sign a new agreement with ILA.

How this complication can be resolved isn't clear. But one thing is clear. A crisis confronted the President and he lost no time in using all the powers the law gives him to protect the national interest.

Two More Ice Box Deaths

Suffocation deaths of two four-year-old Windsor boys in an abandoned icebox is tragic proof that publicity alone won't end this menace to young lives.

These two children are the 12th and 13th victims this year of adult neglect to remove the catches or hinges of discarded refrigerators. A heartbreaking fact in this case is that throughout the four hour hunt for the children, a neighbor's dog vainly had tried to attract human attention to the shed in which the icebox was stored.

Since the first few of these needless deaths many communities have enacted ordinances to force removal of catches or hinges on unused iceboxes. The latest is Detroit where this ordinance became operative only a few days ago.

How many more innocents will have to perish before every community adopts such an ordinance?

N. Y. Bars Red Teachers

Action of the New York State Board of Regents in branding the Communist Party "subversive" means that henceforth no known Communist can teach in that State's public schools.

This decision, reached only after a review of the evidence, has the effect of putting the Feinberg law into operation. Enacted by the New York Legislature in 1949 and upheld last year by the Supreme Court, that law directs the regents to decide when and what is subversion.

After careful consideration of the evidence gathered by a subcommittee, the regents were convinced. Their conclusion is that the Communist Party does "advocate, advise, teach and embrace the doctrine that the Government of the United States should be overthrown by force and violence."

This is a heartening decision. It confirms previous judgments of our courts, Attorney General, the Federal Subversive Activities Control Board and an overwhelming body of public opinion.

Actually, as the New York Herald Tribune points out, this has been the guiding policy for a long time. Heretofore, however, dismissals have been based on insubordination and unbecoming conduct.

Now it has been established that because Communists submit to alien dictation they disqualify themselves for public employment as teachers.

In laying down this sound educational policy the regents have made an important distinction. Teachers, they say, may think and talk as they please even to advocating a change in our form of government. This clearly limits them to seeking the change through orderly democratic processes.

The Man About Town
Coming This Way
Detroit-Bay City Toll Road
Is Favored in Survey

 Moon: What influences the tides, isn't made of green cheese, and stops cars on side roads.

According to statements just released by William E. Slaughter Jr., chairman of the new Michigan Turnpike Authority, Oakland County is on the route of the state's first modern toll road. He says the Detroit-Bay City road will be the first one built, as it presents the fewest obstacles to be overcome. The Detroit-Toledo road is held up on conflicting right-of-way disputes, and the Detroit-Chicago road too closely parallels one already being built. Preliminary surveys on the Detroit-Bay City road largely follow the proposed relocation of the Dixie Highway, now on the state highway department's 15-year plan, passing Pontiac and Flint to the west and Saginaw to the east.

Only 450 entries survive in the Man About Town football contest. They picked Fordham to win over University of Detroit, which it did by a 21-7 score. The 691 who picked Detroit to win and the 35 who forecast a tie game thus are eliminated.

Under a new state law that has just gone into effect,

Miss Ann Sach, in charge of the Oakland County Drivers' License Bureau, tells me that we get a time bonus on our licenses. All those in effect on Oct. 2 are automatically extended from their present expiration date to the next birthday of the holder. This will make all licenses expire on the holder's birthday every third year. It means an extension up to 364 days on every license now in effect.

Celebrating her ninety-fourth birthday this week, Mrs. Marilla Hayward of 155 North Genesee Ave., still does all of her own work, even to mowing the lawn.

My Lansing undercover man sends word that the political straws are blowing Oakland County's way in furnishing a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor next year. The insiders say that

Governor G. Mennen Williams will try to unseat

U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson, and will do his best to steer his present office into the lap of 40-year-old

Philip A. Hart of Birmingham. Considered to be the Governor's closest friend, and classmate in the University of Michigan, Hart is married to the former Jane Briggs, daughter of the late Walter O. Briggs. He is on the directorate of both the Detroit Tigers and Lions.

Rev. Richard H. Dixon, Jr. Declares
Miami Opened Homes, Hotels to Guests

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I write this letter correcting a notice that was released by the Religious News Association of Miami and printed in your paper September 19, 1953, stating that the delegates to the National Baptist Convention had to be housed in churches because of the failure of the Emergency Housing Committee to find accommodations.

This is a complete error in statement as I was at the Miami meeting and was personally connected with the Housing Committee. I can truly state that the white hotels, the white owned beach home, and the white downtown restaurants were all thrown open to the delegates and we did not hear of any report where a delegate was turned away. Every delegate that was either assigned to a white hotel or a beautiful home in Miami was accepted graciously and treated with much courtesy.

The truth of the matter is that Miami gave us the greatest entertainment and more hospitality than any convention we have ever had.

Says Ike Never Saw or Read Durkin's
So-Called 'Message' on T-H Revision

By DAVID LAWRENCE
 WASHINGTON — The true story of what happened between President Eisenhower and Martin Durkin, former secretary of labor, has been obtained by this correspondent from an unimpeachable source.

It would have been unnecessary to disclose all the facts concerning the circumstances that led to Durkin's resignation as secretary of labor if it had not been for the manner in which the American Federation of Labor's official publication, entitled "News Reporter," has just cast doubt on President Eisenhower's good faith in telling his press conference that he never in his life knowingly broke an agreement with anybody.

The AFL's publication now says in its current issue that a speech made recently by Vice President Nixon at the AFL Convention "fully confirmed the truth of Martin Durkin's charges that the President had broken an agreement" with respect to the submission to Congress of a message on changes in the Taft-Hartley Act.

The AFL periodical selected as its "proof" a passage from Nixon's speech in which he said that he had had nothing to do with the substance of the message but only with its "timing."

From this the AFL publication infers that there was a "message," the text of which had been agreed upon by the President and Durkin, and that Eisenhower was dissuaded from sending the document to Congress one day at its last session only because of the death of Sen. Taft and because it was deemed perhaps disrespectful to transmit such a message at that time.

The claim is made by labor leaders that Eisenhower changed his mind about sending the message as it had been agreed upon and thereby broke his "agreement." What are the facts?

Fact No. 1: Eisenhower never saw or read the so-called "message" which was really a "working draft" admittedly prepared by members of his secretariat at the White House after various consultations with Durkin and others inside and outside the administration and Congress.

Fact No. 2: Vice President Nixon never saw or read the "message" or any papers, drafts or memoranda pertaining to the message before the text of the so-called "message" was published in the newspapers.

Fact No. 3: Vice President Nixon did hear at Capitol Hill rumors that a message of some kind was being prepared about the Taft-Hartley Act and he did telephone a member of the White House staff to find out if it was true and, if so, to urge that such a message be held up for a while out of deference to Sen. Taft who was one of the authors of the law about to be revised.

Fact No. 4: At the time Vice President Nixon talked over the phone to a member of the White House staff he did not know anything about the contents of the "message" and hence could not, as labor leaders allege, have argued against the transmission of the document on the ground that certain of its provisions were objectionable to him. It was to dispel such an accusation that Durkin mentioned the subject in his address to the AFL.

Fact No. 5: Durkin, immediately after his resignation as secretary of labor, told a press conference that he had had no personal commitment from President Eisenhower concerning the proposed 19 amendments contained in the "message," but that he had had an "agreement" with members of the President's staff about them.

Fact No. 6: Mr. Durkin told the AFL Convention subsequently that Eisenhower, in a personal meeting he had had with him in New York City, had agreed to send the "message" to Congress even after its text had been published and after various criticisms of its contents had reached the President.

Fact No. 7: Durkin was closeted with the President alone in New York City for only about 10 to 15 minutes and there obviously was no time for a detailed discussion of the 19 amendments but only for some general ideas.

Fact No. 8: Eisenhower assumed that Durkin knew that, of course, after the amendments had been fully studied by his associates and brought to him in final form, the administration would naturally submit it to Congress.

To this day, however, these studies and discussions have not been completed. There surely will be a message sent to the next session of Congress embodying the administration's views on the Taft-Hartley Act.

Fact No. 9: Vice President Nixon familiarized himself with all the facts concerning the resignation of Durkin and told the American Federation of Labor Convention that there had been a "misunderstanding."

This was intended to be a tactical way of preventing the spread of any accusation that the President was questioning the good faith of Durkin.

Fact No. 10: Durkin favored the draft of the "message" and wanted the administration to approve all 19 of the proposed amendments but the leaders of the AFL and the CIO now say they repudiate these same proposals as inadequate and unsatisfactory.

From the above set of facts it is plain that George Meany and Walter Reuther, presidents of the AFL and CIO respectively, and the AFL in its weekly publication have deliberately for purposes of politics or legislative strategy impugned the good faith of the President of the United States by accusing him of breaking an "agreement" and hence now owe him a public apology.

Do Your Legs Ache and Ache and Ache?
Try Booping B Intake, See What Happens

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

One of the most frequent and most neglected causes of weakness in the legs is vitamin B deficiency.

In America among the reasonably well to do, vitamin B deficiency seems to be as common as calcium deficiency.

B deficiency in America is due chiefly to our enormous per capita consumption of refined white flour and refined white sugar — foods which supply more than half of the calories in the daily diet but do not supply the amount of vitamin B which is necessary for the proper metabolism (use) of starch and sugar.

I can cite no authorities but I believe that the habit or practice of eating too much refined carbohydrate (starch and sugar) food predisposes to or perhaps causes diabetes in persons who have inherited the tendency.

I have harped for many years on the wisdom of keeping a supply of plain wheat in the house and using it in one way or another in the daily family diet.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Delivery Men Contribute
Joy to American Homes

Department stores are leaders in using good Applied Psychology. And they render a wonderful service to America, for they keep thousands of factories operating via the merchandise that moves across their counters. But did you ever realize that they serve as "Santa's Helpers" all 12 months of the year?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case J-307: Harry Hogan, aged about 55, is the popular personnel director of a famous department store.

Earlier this year he "chaperoned" me for a number of talks to the entire staff of the store, which includes over 12,000 employees.

Because they couldn't all be away from their jobs at once, I addressed them 1,000 at a time in the big auditorium on the 12th floor.

It took me 3 days to cover the entire group. I'd speak to 1,000 at 9:15 a.m. Then I'd take another 1,000 at 10 a.m.

I received a chance to rest during the noon hour, but at 3:30 p.m. I encountered a third group of 1,000 and gave my fourth speech to another 1,000 at 4:15.

Next day I'd start all over again. But Mr. Hogan made two speeches for each one of mine, for he always opened each session with a gracious 5-minute introduction which got the audience laughing and enthusiastic.

Then I'd trail along on his coattails with my 30-minute talk, after which he'd again wrap up the program with another deft little concluding talk. He was the perfect example of what a talented chairman should be. You readers might also be interested in knowing that of the 12,000 employees in this mammoth department store, there are about 4,000 at the counters. The other 8,000 are employed in other capacities behind the scenes, either as stockroom workers, elevator operators, carpenters, rug men, accountants, drivers of delivery cars, etc.

So this 2:1 ratio shows that the actual sales force makes up only about one-third of the large department store organization.

I was personally interested in the efficient way in which the different managers arranged to fill that 1,000-capacity auditorium so many times without disrupting the smooth efficiency of the store.

Apparently, the managers delegated one worker out of every 12 to attend a given lecture. The other 11 were always on the job.

Thus, the store meanwhile kept running smoothly. And each audience was a complete mixture of every type of worker, ranging from the top executives to representatives of every department.

I was especially pleased to see the hundreds of delivery men, for the first money I ever earned as a boy was by delivering merchandise for a retail store.

And these department store delivery men are really "Santa's Helpers." They cause glee and delight among the children all 12 months of the year.

For whenever they stop at a home, the kids come running. "Oh, goody!" they exclaim. "Mommy, come quick! The delivery man is here. We got something nice. May we unwrap it?"

What better job can anybody have than one which causes children to shout with joy whenever he rings the doorbell?

You delivery men are so close to your jobs that you sometimes forget the added joy you contribute to American homes.

Whether you deliver a can of paint to remodel the kitchen, or drapes and curtains, rugs or furniture, clothing or food, whatever you leave of this nature promotes more beauty and health and happiness in those homes.

We psychologists often encounter families where the children flee with terror from the front door even though it be their Daddy who is there, for he may be staggering drunk.

But you folks who help bring good merchandise into American homes and who make children dance with glee when you ring the family doorbell, have something pleasant to look back upon after your lifetime of hard work.

Self-addressed envelope and stamp for the pamphlet Wheat to Eat. (Ask in writing — a clipping will not suffice.)

Of course wheat (from which nothing is removed) is not the only food source of vitamin B, but it is most abundant, cheapest and our richest source of vitamin B.

One of the signs of beriberi (the disease due to extreme deprivation of vitamin B) is weakness of the legs, tenderness of the calves pain felt over the shin bone when the calf is squeezed. If the victim squats on his heels he may be unable to rise without using his hands.

Such outspoken beriberi is rare in America but mild or chronic beriberi is almost as popular as cheat-food.

Aching, pain, tenderness and weakness in the legs, especially when such discomfort increases in the course of the day, may be due to varicose veins or to pronated (potentially flat) feet or to thromboangiitis (Buerger's disease).

But in any case it can do no harm and may do a lot of good to boop the B intake for a few months and see. I tell how in the wheat pamphlet mentioned above.

In pieces to follow I'll tell (1) what to do for restless legs — you know, if you have the complaint: You can't find a comfortable position for your legs when you are trying to get to sleep at night; and (2) for nocturnal cramps in the feet, ankles or legs, ow-wow, ow-wow, or so they tell me;

(3) For legs that tucker out and ache and ache and ache after long standing — it doesn't make a bit of difference whether you stand on hard wood or soft wood, concrete or horse feathers, sponge rubber pads or tough old tire casings — from stagnation of circulation due to varicose veins;

(4) ascending symmetrical bilateral peripheral neuritis.

Watch for these pieces.

Camp Program Gathers Steam

Drive to Stop Sending Homeless Offenders to Prison Gains Impetus

LANSING (AP) — Extension of Michigan's nation-leading prison camp program into the field of probation is quietly gathering steam for presentation to the 1954 legislature.

Spearhead of the movement is Circuit Judge Earl C. Pugsley, a dedicated jurist, who long has taken it as a personal challenge to do something about "border-line" probation cases.

With the enthusiastic backing of the professionals in the State Corrections Department, Judge Pugsley is proposing a new camp to which the courts of the state could send only probationers.

Normally, a defendant given probation instead of a prison term is returned to his home, and family to work out his rehabilitation under the supervision of probation officers.

But what about the kid who gets in trouble and who has no home? This lack of a home often is actually the cause of his getting into trouble.

Judges, and especially Judge Pugsley, have long been concerned stricken over the fact that all they can do with these "border-line" cases is send them to state prisons.

Penologists freely admit that this often spells the end of any chance of rehabilitation.

Changes His Gal, Learns Fury of Female Scorn

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Carton, 32-year-old accordion player who changed girl friends a few months ago, says he now knows the fury of a woman scorned.

His fiancée has a broken nose and fractured wrist, plus sundry lacerations. He has the charred remains of 17 shirts, six broken mirrors and a wrecked three-room apartment.

Police pieced this story together yesterday after being summoned to quell an early morning uproar in Carton's Bronx apartment.

Miss Gloria Nason, 18, was waiting there for Carton to come home from work at a cafe so they could get started on a fishing trip. They were engaged after Carton and Miss Nancy Curtin, 23, a secretary, broke up.

Suddenly Miss Curtin and a friend, Mrs. Margaret McSherry, 27, wife of a city policeman, burst into the Carton apartment.

There was a disturbance; police arrived and found Miss Nason injured and sobbing in a hiding place on the apartment house roof. Miss Curtin and Mrs. McSherry were in possession of a wrecked Carton flat.

Miss Curtin and Mrs. McSherry were booked by police on felonious assault charges.

Seeking Reason of Tank Collapse

EVERETT, Mass. (AP) — Investigators sought to learn today what caused the nearly-completed concrete roof of a huge oil storage tank to collapse Saturday with one death and injuries to 19 others.

A preliminary investigation showed the wooden underpinning and forms on which 800 tons of concrete had just been poured gave way and tossed workers 30 feet to the floor of the tank.

The men landed in a mass of wet concrete, lumber and steel rods used in reinforcing the concrete.

Other men, working on the floor of the tank, were injured when buried by the cascading mass.

Sixteen workers were still hospitalized today.

The tank was being constructed for the storage of hundreds of thousands of barrels of crude oil at the Esso Standard Oil Co.

German Sub Hunter of World War 1 Dies

LONDON — The death was announced today of Vice Adm. Gordon Campbell, famous hunter of German submarines in World War I. He was 6.

Campbell won the Victoria Cross and two Distinguished Service orders, Britain's highest military decorations. He won his fame as a commander of hush-hush "Q" ships — armed submarine hunters camouflaged as freighters. When an attacking U-boat surfaced for an easy kill, the "Q" ship would sink it with hidden guns.

Army May Be Due to Get Biggest Cut

WASHINGTON — The Army may be hardest hit of the three armed forces when budget makers start putting down appropriation recommendations for the fiscal year starting next July 1. Defense Department money experts cautioned today that this cannot be decided definitely until the joint chiefs of staff submit their estimates of the size of the forces and types of operation needed for the year. That report, now overdue, is expected within the next week of two.

However, those familiar with policy thinking say that all three services — Army, Navy and Air Force — still are "over-financed." Secretary of Defense Wilson has explained this means that they have backlogs of appropriated money which can't be used up in paying for deliveries of equipment for a year or several years.

Wilson told reporters last week, referring to the current budget, that "we had over-financing in the Air Force — not any question about it."

Unity of GOP Seen Cracking

Put Stassen on Carpet for Firings in Agency, Ike May Intervene

WASHINGTON — Republican unity gave signs of developing cracks at high levels today, with some indications that President Eisenhower may have to take a hand to restore harmony.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH) joined administration officials with a week-end announcement that the Senate Appropriations Committee probably will call Foreign Operations Administrator Harold E. Stassen on the carpet to explain what Bridges called "capricious" job firings in his agency.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, made it clear on his return from a world tour that he will oppose a proposal by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to make the chairman of 15 regular legislative committee members of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Bridges' statement, issued at his office here, gave something of a Republican endorsement to frequently voiced Democratic complaints that dismissals of federal employees had—as Bridges put it—"worked inequities on personnel and had impaired the efficiency of the organization."

Stassen's aides replied that in firing workers they were only following the rules laid down by Congress itself.

In some quarters the Bridges complaint was interpreted as reflecting animosity on the part of some Republican Appropriations Committee members toward Stassen. In previous appearances before the group, Stassen has been subjected to rather unsympathetic questioning by members of his own party.

There is some feeling among congressional Republicans that Stassen is grooming himself to run again for the Republican presidential nomination. He probably could count on the support of only Sen. Thye (R-Minn) among the 12 Republican Appropriations Committee members in any such venture.

Although Knowland said he does not believe the Capehart proposal involves any attack upon the Californian's leadership, many other senators regard it as an oblique move to trim Knowland's power and distribute it, in part, among senators who did not back Eisenhower for the GOP presidential nomination.

Eisenhower's friends believe he will stand solidly behind Knowland if the issue comes to a showdown. They expect the President to make his views known, at least privately to GOP senators who may be undecided on how to vote.

Soviet Watches Shipped

VIENNA (INS) — The Communist Hungarian press proudly boasts that Soviet Russia has sent "large shipments" of Soviet-made wristwatches to Hungary. There was no mentioning of price and quality, though.

Spanish Names in Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Texas has more persons with Spanish surnames than any other of the 48 states. A special report of the U. S. Census Bureau said the lone star state has 1,033,768 residents with Spanish surnames. The entire southwest has only 2,289,550 such persons.

Vancouver Island has an area of 14,000 square miles.

Some Foresee Atom Stalemate

Foreign Policy Experts Fear Soviet, U. S. May Freeze Diplomatically

WASHINGTON — Some top U. S. policy makers believe the United States and Russia are approaching an atomic stalemate.

Some think this may tend to stabilize relationships of the big powers and so contribute to development of more peaceful relations, however uneasy.

At the same time, foreign policy experts believe a situation approaching a diplomatic stalemate, perhaps influenced by the shifting military power balance but more likely by other factors, is already at hand.

State Department officials generally believe the Soviets are actively avoiding any real negotiations concerning Germany now and will do so for many months to come. They question whether the Reds want to talk seriously about the Far East, although their position is relatively stronger there.

The combination of an atomic stalemate, if it becomes an accepted fact in great power policies, and a diplomatic standoff might very well freeze the present state of relationships indefinitely even without any formal East-West agreements to that effect.

The essence of the atomic balance is simple. With its reported mastery of a hydrogen explosion and its established atomic progress, Russia is close to the point of achieving a kind of balance with the United States.

Most estimates are that the United States retains a sizable margin in the number of bombs stockpiled. But the destructive power of the big bombs is so great that equality of numbers is not the key to their effect on military strategy. The key is the number required to do a devastating amount of damage.

The spreading idea that an atomic stalemate is approaching stems from the estimate that the United States and Russia will soon be able to do devastating injury to each other.

The stalemate theory apparently is having considerable influence on government estimates that war in the near future is not likely. This is an alternative to the notion that when the Reds had atomic weapons in their arsenal the danger of war would immediately increase.

There is no evidence that responsible officials think the danger has actually increased.

Unveil Cut-Rate Robot Heart

$190 Device Described by Doctors to College of Surgeons

CHICAGO — A cut-rate mechanical heart costing only $190 was described today to the American College of Surgeons.

It pumps only 10 per cent of the normal flow of blood. But that apparently is enough to keep a person safely alive long enough for surgeons to open his own vacating heart, free of blood, to repair defects in it.

This pump, a common commercial type, has been used successfully on dogs and is being adapted to humans. It was reported by Doctors Morley Cohen and C. Walton Lillehei of the University of Minnesota Medical School, Minneapolis.

Mechanical hearts and heart-lung machines have been used successfully on a few humans. These machines are costly and complicated.

The new idea is based on discovery that dogs can be kept alive, without harm, for up to 30 minutes with a pump circulating only 10 per cent of their blood.

This presumably is also true for humans. The artificial heart would have to pump only half a pint to a pint of blood a minute, instead of 4 to 12 pints as the living heart does or present mechanical hearts do.

In dog experiments, the main veins bringing blood to the heart are clamped off, Dr. Cohen explained. A special plastic tube thrust through these veins draws off about 10 per cent of the blood collecting there.

The little pump pulses this blood into one portion of one lung and collects the refreshed blood from a vein in the lung. Then the pump sends the fresh blood into the artery system of the body.

The entire living heart is bypassed, put on holiday.

This artificial heart succeeded in 90 per cent of 53 dogs. Their hearts could be opened up, without hurry, so surgeons could see defects and repair them.

40 Suspects Jailed in Crime Roundup

DETROIT — Police have jailed 40 men and women suspected as thieves and fences in a continuing city-wide crackdown on automobile and hardware store break-ins.

Eight were arrested yesterday and Det. Lt. Joseph Nufer said still more are to be rounded up. He added that the thefts, which netted an estimated $80,000 in loot over the past three years, were not the work of an organized gang.

Included in the loot were 3,000 tires, 300 radios, 25 outboard motors, golf clubs, tools, typewriters and adding machines.

Americans eat about 4.2 pounds of spinach per capita per year.

If a fire breaks out in Santiago, Chile, the owner or manager of the building is usually arrested and must prove, if he can, that the fire was of accidental origin.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Eagerly Await Prophecy Second Coming of Christ

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series planned for Monday editions of the Pontiac Press, giving a summary of a sermon preached during the week-end in one of Pontiac's churches or synagogues.

At the first Baptist Church yesterday, Dr. H. H. Savage, the pastor, spoke on the subject of "The Second Coming of the Lord Jesus Christ."

This church was organized in 1822 and Dr. Savage has been its pastor since 1924.

He said, "Many do not believe in what is called 'the secret rapture of the Church.'"

"This expression means that the Lord Jesus Christ may come at any moment, and with the blast of His trumpet, call all born again believers from both the graves and upon earth to meet Him in the air and then to be forever with the Lord."

"This trumpet of the Lord, or of God, is revealed in the Bible as affecting three classes of people: Jews, gentiles and the Church of God."

"The prophet Zechariah foretold that after the returning children of Israel shall have regained Palestine by military and political means, that the trumpet of the Lord shall call them to a great spiritual revival during which the Jewish people will realize after all that Jesus Christ is their Messiah."

"Then, the prophet Zephaniah foretold that when the trumpet of the Lord should sound that a great period of world wide tribulation would be ushered in, not a time when the cruelty of men to one another should be emphasized, but when the wrath of God would be unloosed upon a Christ-rejecting world."

"The Lord Jesus Christ Himself prophesied that this time of tribulation would be preceded by conditions similar to the days before the universal deluge or flood."

Dr. Savage then called attention to the many ways in which the present condition of the world is similar to the days of Noah.

"They were city builders in those days," he said. "They were days given over to an undue emphasis upon sex. They were days of attention to animal husbandry. They were days when music had a great place in the community life.

"They were days when metal became a most important science. And they were days of boasting and pride. The days before the flood, however, did not increase the righteousness of mankind, but rather, left it so corrupt that God had to destroy that civilization as the present civilization will have to be destroyed under the wrath of God."

"The third effect of the sounding of the trumpet of the Lord," Dr. Savage declared, "will be the rapture of the true Church. There are several passages in the New Testament that declare very plainly that a day is coming when the Lord Jesus Christ himself shall return to this earth to establish his Kingdom of righteousness and peace after He has purged the world of its sin during the time of the tribulation."

"The Church, redeemed by the blood of the cross, will be caught up, to meet the Lord in the air at some time before these last days events."

"This rapture of the Church may take place at any moment, because there is not a prophecy that is yet-unfulfilled that must precede that climactic event."

The American Automobile Association estimates that owners and operators of the nation's 43,000,000 passenger cars spend about $40,000,000,000 annually to keep them going.

U. S. Would Fight to End in New War, Cain Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry P. Cain, former Republican senator from Washington, said today the Eisenhower administration is determined that America "will never again engage in a repetition of Korea."

"Those who would attack freedom," he said, "are now advised that if war should again be imposed upon us we shall never stop short of a positive victory on the battlefield."

Cain, now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, made the statement in a speech prepared for the League of Republican Women of the District of Columbia.

Door-to-Door Tax Canvass Paying Off

WASHINGTON—When a tax collector says he wants to make you richer, that's news. But Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews really means it.

He intends to make both you and Uncle Sam richer by collecting what is due from those who haven't paid what they owe.

That's the fundamental reason why Andrews set up the door-to-door canvassing system which began in New England and will be extended to other parts of the country.

"Our collectors," Andrews said, "covered 1-6 of 1 per cent of the tax-payers in New England. They interviewed 8,800 people, found 13 per cent of them non-filers, collected $80,000 directly, and received $320,000 more in voluntary contributions from people who had not been canvassed."

"Thus we collected $400,000 through the survey at a cost of only $10,000 and returns are still coming in."

"There is reason to believe that this ratio of 6 to 1 might be maintained in the majority of other areas to be surveyed during the rest of the year."

Most of the tax delinquency so far turned up is inadvertent, Andrews said. He added that the Internal Revenue Service will work unceasingly to correct this tax delinquency.

"We are going to make Uncle Sam—and you—richer," he said.

Police Hold Driver After 3-Car Crash

Pontiac police are holding Donald E. Tallent, 21, of 301 N. Saginaw St., for investigation of felonious driving following a three-car collision Saturday afternoon in which he and another driver were injured.

Police said witnesses claimed Tallent's car struck an auto driven by James Smith, 18, of 513 Whittemore St., at Baldwin Ave. and Kenneth St., pushing it into the intersection.

Then Tallent's car veered, hitting a third auto driven by Mrs. William Wright, 43, of 2040 S. Lake Angeles Shores, witnesses told police.

Mrs. Wright, who was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with leg injuries, is reported in good condition.

Tallent was treated for knee injuries and released.

Tito Reaffirms Faith in Party

Yugoslav Head Denies Communism Would Be Discontinued

BELOVAR, Yugoslavia (U)—President Tito has reaffirmed his faith in communism and warned "reactionaries" in his nation not to make a bid for power.

Tito told an estimated 200,000 persons in this Croatian wheat market city yesterday that his regime would pursue its present policies, despite rumors he planned to dissolve his Communist party.

Tito said Yugoslav "reactionaries" are still active and hope to return to power. He denounced them as "boils upon a healthy body." He said his Communist "physicians" had been called on once to deal with the rightists and added:

"Sometimes they (the boils) return and a second operation is required. The second operation is usually more painful than the first. I would not like to see the new operation performed."

He accused the "reactionaries" of spreading rumors that "we have been forced by the West to introduce democratic laws."

"That is not true," he said. "We planned that long ago. Believe me, they (the 'reactionaries') have nothing to gain. Believe me, as you see me here, they will never achieve their aims."

While Tito avoided any discussion of international problems, his top lieutenant, Vice President Edvard Kardelj, came out for a mutual security pact between West and Russia.

Kardelj told a mass meeting in Kocanje:

"Peace should be defended constructively by means of peace and not by means of war. That is why we in Yugoslavia welcome the initiative of the West directed toward giving the Soviet government practical guarantees of security under the condition that the Soviet government gives such guarantees to big and small countries."

Best-Known Locomotive

NEW YORK (INS)—Best-known of all American steam locomotives was probably the New York Central's old "No. 999." It was the first 100-mile-an-hour engine and held the world's speed record for more than 12 years, after covering a mile in 32 seconds (112.5 miles per hour) near Batavia, New York, on May 10, 1893.

Episcopal Bishop Back From Tour of Far East

NEW YORK (U)—The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherill, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, returned early today from a six-week tour of church missions in the Far East.

The bishop and his wife arrived on the same flight with Frank J. Starzel, general manager of The Associated Press, back from a survey of the news cooperative's bureaus in the Far East.

Aussie Fliers Rescued Off Burma Coast by RAF
 SINGAPORE (U)—The Royal Air Force today picked up two Australian air racers whose souped-up Mosquito fighter-bomber crashed off the Burmese coast.
 The pilot of the rescue plane radioed that the two men, Squadron Leader Aubrey Oates and his navigator, Flight Lt. Douglas Swaine, had only minor injuries.
 The pair were rushing to London to enter the England-to-New Zealand air race later this week. They ran out of fuel and were forced to crash land.

Zahedi Believes Reds Weaker

Iranian Premier Says Commies Came 'Very Near' to Taking Over

WASHINGTON (U)—Premier Fozollah Zahedi of Iran says the Communists came "very near" taking over his country, but that now the Red threat is "not at all" grave.
 "We are determined to keep them quiet and avoid any possible danger," Zahedi said. "We are trying to break up their organizations.... The extent they claimed to have infiltrated (the government) has never been true. But, if we had waited longer to change, there is no doubt that their claim would have been realized."

Zahedi was interviewed, in Tehran, by a representative of U. S. News and World Report, a news magazine published here. The interview was published today.

Zahedi became premier in August in a coup which deposed Mohammed Mossadegh, who had defied an order by Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi ousting him from the premiership and naming Zahedi in his place. It was announced in Tehran yesterday that Mossadegh will be tried on a charge of trying to overthrow the Iranian monarchy. Conviction could result in the death sentence.

Zahedi was asked "how large a mess" he inherited from Mossadegh, and he replied:
 "It's very difficult even to imagine, especially on the economic and financial side. It is extremely difficult to describe how much of a mess he left. The main reason was his lack of knowledge of the real situation existing in the country and his inability to maintain control....
 "There is no doubt that he set us back very much in the economic, financial and political fields.... In foreign relations he had no policy and created ill feeling among foreign countries."

Abraham Lincoln participated as a volunteer in the Black Hawk War, which began in Illinois against the Sauk chief of that name.

STEPPIN' HIGH—European hecats, in a contest between Berlin and Paris, prove they are just as limber as any of our native jitterbugs. Axel Garcinet whirls his partner, Bebe Coffinet, both from Paris, off the floor in time with a mad musical beat at the Sports Palace in Berlin. However, the French contingent lost to the German team in the "best rubber-legged couple" competition.

Gives Up Job, Home to Help Injured Pal

ST. LOUIS (U)—An 18-year-old youth gave up his job and traveled more than 1,500 miles to help a boyhood pal who lies paralyzed in St. Louis County Hospital.

Gail Clark, who was working at Pocatello, Idaho, recently learned that his friend, Jerry Hughes Jr., 20, suffered a broken vertebra that left him without use of his arms and legs. Hughes was injured Aug. 9 in a scuffle with a 15-year-old boy.

Clark and Hughes played together as youngsters when their families lived at Leadwood, Mo. Clark now stays with Hughes from midnight till 9 a. m., turning the injured youth over every two hours, getting him water and other needs. Hughes' parents, with whom Clark now lives, take turns the rest of the day.

16 Speculators Arrested for 'Scalping' on Series

NEW YORK (U)—Police arrested 16 speculators yesterday for selling tickets to World Series baseball games.

Two of the men allegedly sold four $7 tickets for $115 to plain-clothesmen. All were charged with violating a law forbidding the re-selling of tickets without a broker's license.

Air Force to Test B36's Global Ability

WASHINGTON (U)—The Air Force will test the "global mobility" of its B36 intercontinental bomber some time this month by dispatching two squadrons of them to remote corners of the world.
 An announcement yesterday said one squadron will go from Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N. M., for a week's exercises at the arctic air base of Thule on the north-west coast of Greenland.
 Another will leave Carswell Air Force Base, Tex., for about 11 days at a North Africa "forward base," presumably one of the three now operated by the United States in French Morocco.

Migrant Birds Killed by Tall Boston Buildings

BOSTON (U)—Hundreds of small birds migrating south from Canada have been killed in collisions with Boston's taller buildings.
 The John Hancock Building, Boston's tallest, has claimed an average of 30 to 40 birds a week since they began migrating.
 An Audubon Society official explained the birds, mostly warblers and thrushes, apparently don't judge distances well and attempt to dodge the building's lighted tower by flying beneath it.

In 1945, the total wholesale value of petroleum products consumed in the United States was $3,732,560,000. Motor fuel alone rose from $2,202,460,000 in 1945 to $5,458,117,000 in 1951.

Children Locked in Car Succumb

Babies Left in Auto for Safety by Couple While Fishing

SOUTH HILL, Va. (AP)—An Army sergeant and his wife saw both their babies die yesterday after returning from an afternoon fishing trip to find the children unconscious in the car in which they had been locked for safety.

By the time Sgt. H. E. McCormick and Mrs. McCormick could rush to South Hill for medical assistance, 4-month-old Harold McCormick Jr. was dead, Gracie M. McCormick, 17 months, died en route to the post hospital at Camp Pickett, 30 miles away, where the sergeant is stationed.

Dr. W. J. Ozlin, Mecklenburg County coroner, said the younger child, apparently died of suffocation.

Army authorities at Camp Pickett said they will investigate the death of the girl.

McCormick said he, his wife and another couple locked the two children in the car on the bank of a lake at Kerr Dam yesterday while the adults went fishing. One window of the car, he told the coroner, was open slightly, and the vehicle was parked within sight of the fishing spot.

Several times, the sergeant said, he noted the older child moving in the car. Then there was no movement, and the couples returned to investigate.

Newest Army Tank Ruled Out for Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's experimental new heavy tank will be absent from the lineup at an ordnance demonstration Thursday unless, says a Pentagon spokesman, Secretary of Defense Wilson relents.

The spokesman said Army officers informally asked Wilson to make the T43, not yet in production, the star of the show when the American Ordnance Assn. makes its annual visit to the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground. Newsmen will be present.

But, the spokesman said last night, Wilson ruled that under an order he issued April 8 no new weapons and equipment can be shown publicly now because of security and economy reasons.

'Kiss of Death' Stabbing an Accident, Says Wife

CHICAGO (AP)—William Hughes Jr., 34, died early today of a stab wound police said his wife told them she accidentally inflicted Saturday when he kissed her while she was peeling potatoes.

Police Capt. William Hennessey said Hughes' wife Genevieve, 22, told him she was startled by the kiss because she was unaware her husband had left another room where he had been watching the World Series on television.

After Hughes' death, Hennessey ordered Mrs. Hughes taken into custody pending an inquest.

1,000 Fight Raging Fire at Navy Yard

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—More than 1,000 fought a stubborn fire yesterday at Mare Island Navy Yard that caused one death, injured 12, and caused damage estimated by the Navy at $200,000.

Shooting flames visible for miles, the spectacular blaze flared uncontrolled for hours after it was discovered well under way at a tar-soaked pier.

Hundreds of servicemen—many of them watching a football game at the base—helped fight the fire along with civilian firemen.

Fireman L. A. McIntosh of Isleton, weighted down with heavy equipment, drowned when he fell from a fireboat.

The fire gutted 900 feet of pier and one Navy tug and damaged three barges and three other tugs.

Desert Lifesavers

WASHINGTON (INS) — Birds, seals and turtles have saved the lives of many desert island castaways, says the National Geographic Society. In addition to eating turtle meat and eggs, shipwreck victims have used the shells for catching precious rainwater.

Future Nurses Lay Out Fall Activity Program

New officers of Pontiac High School Future Nurses Club, headed by President Margaret Leveley have laid out a lively program of fall activities.

Plans include 10 members' attendance at an Inter-Council rally Oct. 17 at Detroit's Grace Hospital for "future nurses" from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties; a bake sale, initiations next week and a tea for mothers.

Assisting Margaret are Geraldine Locke, vice-president; Patricia Borey and Martha Dawson, recording and corresponding secretaries; and Eileen Stirling, treasurer.

Frugal Motorist Caught Jamming Parking Meter

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A Wheeling motorist has been arrested for allegedly attempting to stretch a penny beyond its original purpose.

Henry Christopher posted bond after being charged with wrapping tin foil or cellophane around a penny to approximate the size of a nickel and inserting the coin in a city parking meter.

A repairman said 16 parking meters have been jammed since last Dec. 1 through such schemes.

7 Students Cop Ford Awards

Seven Pontiac High School vocational students are displaying winner certificates for their entries in the 1933 Ford Motor Co. Industrial Arts Awards Contest.

Certificates, gold pins and cash, as well as a week end in Detroit Sept. 24-26, were prizes given all winners in the national contest.

Receiving $40 each for fourth place wins were Jack Ostrander for his project in wrought metal and Jerry Vallad, who entered the pattern-making division.

Honorable mention and $20 prizes went to Elden Montross and Joe Neldrett for woodworking entries; Grant Kitchen and Robert Gustavson, pattern-making; and Gary Smith, mechanical drawing.

Winners' week end in Detroit included breakfast at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, tours of the Ford plant, Ford engineering and research center, Greenfield Village, Ford Rotunda, University of Michigan, and seats at the University of Michigan-University of Washington football game.

LOST 20 POUNDS Peppy and Refreshed Husband Likes Result

"I lost weight slowly and easily with Rengel and it has done wonders for me. In four months I lost 20 pounds taking it just once a day and sometimes not at all. It was just as easy as that," writes Gertrude Houtshi, 6333 Farr St., Detroit, Mich. "Before taking Rengel Concentrate I could hardly do any work but now I do all my housework easily. I used to feel nervous and have a lot of trouble with my stomach. Since taking Rengel that is all gone and again I can eat all the kinds of food I like. I feel fine and look younger, thanks to Rengel. Even my husband says I look so different, so peppy and refreshed."

Many people find a tonic in Rengel and what a compliment for a wife, friend or employee to hear some one say, "You look so refreshed." That suggests you are a nice person to be with. If you have a handicap you owe it to yourself to give Rengel a fair trial. At your favorite drug counter. Priced at $1.49.

HOW AMERICA IS CHANGING

Big families are back in style

—today more couples are having three, four, five — even six children

SINCE 1940, America has had the largest increase of population of any similar period in its history. More people have been getting married and they have been having more children. We are adding over 10,000 new babies to our population every single day!

More children and bigger families are just two of the many great changes we've seen in the last decade. We're also enjoying greater health and longer life than ever before. We're buying more homes—moving to the suburbs—giving our children more and better education.

These changes have brought about new needs and new responsibilities.

And life insurance is keeping pace and is constantly growing more flexible to meet our new needs.

To aid families in planning for the future the life insurance companies have created a number of plans like the family income policy. It provides, in addition to the basic insurance, low-cost protection for the children's growing years. Such plans, largely a development of the last twenty years, have grown by three hundred per cent in the last decade alone and today account for more than twenty billion dollars of family protection.

Hundreds of thousands of families own life insurance to assure funds for their children's education. Still others are using the values of their basic policies to provide income for their own retirement years.

A suggestion: Have your needs or circumstances changed? Have you looked over your life insurance to see how it stacks up with your present way of living and the goals you and your family have set for yourselves?

FOUNDATION for home ownership?

When every monthly payment not only covers interest and insurance but also reduces the amount you owe on your loan... then you KNOW your plan for home ownership is safe and sound and sure to be crowned with success.

Bob Considine Says:

U. S. Seems to Be Right About India's Pink Tinge

NEW YORK (INS) — People, places, things

Looks like we were accidentally right about India as an arbitrator. We shoved her off the Korean peace convention, despite the howls of rage from the Reds and from many of our friends in U.N.

Seems we promised Syngman Rhee that we'd do this, and were afraid the old man would repeat the shooting war in Korea if we went back on our word.

Probably just as well, judging from the way the Indians are "poling" the preliminaries leading up to the pressures we've agreed to have put on anti-Communist POWs we captured in Korea.

India, in charge of the 5-nation group of so-called neutrals, appears to have been eched into backing more Communist plans for the persuading sessions than free plans.

On top of that, the supposedly passive Indian troops have been exceedingly trigger-happy around the compounds. But only against anti-Communists.

Ex-Marine Bill Beech, forced out of baseball by Del Webb of the Yankees and other owners who consider him a menace to the sport, promises to turn up again.

"Like a bad penny," he said, with a large grin. He will, too. He's the best promoter in baseball today.

A reporter asked him if he believed he was the victim of a personal attack. He shook his head. "No, I don't think so," Bill said. Then he added, "at least, that's my privilege."

One of the visiting baseball writers took his friend into the press box at the Yankee Stadium early in the World Series. There were gasps of dismay from the old hands. Dolls never, never are permitted to sit with the baseball-writing bucks, though it might help some of us.

Anyway, the nice lady was told to leave, go, disappear, van-moose. She did, and it may have been a relief to her as well as to the man in charge.

She apparently was not a real gone gal about the game. As she got up to leave the press box a loud speaker barked, "That play was four to three," meaning, in baseball writing language, that the Never happened, several inmates and jail officials, assure me. I plan to go back to journalism school for a refresher course.

'Genuine Indian Made'

Cranbrook Institute Relates Story of Navajo Jewelry

Navajo silversmithing, the widest known of American Indian arts, is observing its one-hundredth birthday this year.
Most admirers of the popular Navajo costume jewelry take it for granted that the Indians have been doing this sort of work since prehistoric times.

Actually it is relatively modern, according to anthropologist Dr. Frederick J. Dockstader in a report issued recently by Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

The very first Navajo silversmith, Atsidi Sani (Old Smith), lived until 1918. Navajo accounts quite closely on the year 1853 as the year in which he first began to practice, after learning his craft from a Mexican smith near Mt. Taylor, New Mexico.

The strongest influence on Navajo work came from Mexican saddle designs, which in turn show a definite Spanish origin.

Most of the designs, however, were created by the Navajos themselves and reflect little interest in religious or cult symbolism.

Chiefly decorative, the silver made by the Navajo consists mostly of personal jewelry and adornments for brides, holsters and belts. This work serves as an ever-present "bank account," since it can be pawned for goods.

The early followers of Atsidi Sani had only a few crude tools, and often worked brass, copper and silver coins which were either hammered or melted up for casting in hand-carved sandstone moulds.

Stone-setting developed about 1890 and featured various local stones including turquoise, garnet, jet and malachite, turquoise being the favorite.

Greatly increased tourist demand led to assembly line technique. Since most tourists preferred thin, light-weight jewelry, the heavier cast work began to disappear, and firms managed by white men set up factories in western cities using die presses, often operated by Indians so that the product could be labeled "genuine Indian made."

This competition, and the introduction of sheet silver, resulted in a cheapened Navajo silver. To protect the integrity of all Indian arts, the Indian Arts and Crafts Board was created in 1934.

Regulated standards of craftsmanship, as well as controls against unethical practices of non-Indian producers, led to a revival of the old cast-work technique and a generally higher quality of work.

By 1944 there were some 600 Navajo smiths active, producing silver with a total annual value of

Hunt Ex-Convict, Abducted Girl, 15

CRANDON, Wis. (AP)—A two-state hunt was on today for an ex-convict and a 15-year-old girl he reportedly abducted from in front of her home here Saturday.

Florence County Undersheriff Iner Osgood reported last night that Betty Bailey had been forced into an auto and spirited away by a former convict he identified as James Shelton, 40. Shelton, who has served a term in Waupun State Prison for car theft and recently completed a jail sentence here for drunken driving, roomed at the house of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rottlie Bailey, the officer said. Shelton shoved Betty into his car after her mother told him he no longer could room at the Bailey home, Osgood declared. With Shelton was 17-year-old Jack Bailey,

City Impresses British Official

Treasurer of Coventry Tours Pontiac to Study Government Methods

Because of Pontiac's international reputation for having a well-run commission-manager type of government, Dr. A. H. Marshall, city treasurer of Coventry, England, included it with New York, Chicago and Washington, C. C., on his tour of American cities.

Dr. Marshall, who was conducted on a tour of city government facilities and local industry Saturday by City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn and Finance Director Oscar Eckman, said Pontiac was similar to Coventry in many ways.

"Both are automobile manufacturing centers and both have been laid out to accommodate the auto industry's rapid expansion," he explained.

"I am very impressed with your municipal services and the spirit of progress evident in your planning system and new building projects. With area for growth and modern planning Pontiac's expansion should be pleasing indeed."

Now president of the British Institute of Municipal Treasurers and Accountants and former chairman of the British Institute of Public Administration, Dr. Marshall came here from Montreal, Canada.

There he presented a paper on local government finance before the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities and the American Conference of Mayors.

"The similarity of local government here and in England strikes me more than the differences do," the finance expert said.

"All cities have the same problems of providing schools, sanitation, law enforcement, etc. Your traffic problem is greater here, however, with more cars on the road."

The English system of city government differs from American practice mainly in that a uniform setup is used in all municipalities. Dr. Marshall noted, while here a variety of plans are employed.

Citing Coventry as an example, he said 64 men are elected for three year terms and form a council. They elect a mayor who is described by Dr. Marshall as "holding a ceremonial position with few administrative duties."

Downtown Coventry, demolished during World War II, is fast returning to normal, Dr. Marshall said. He added that meat and butter are the only two food items still rationed.

Asked to compare civil defense organization in Coventry and Pontiac, he found them nearly identical.

"Despite the terrific air-raid experience in World War II," he stated, "we find that volunteers are slow in coming."

"An Englishman has to have his back up against the wall before he starts moving. Then he fights to the last ditch."

Dr. Marshall will be in Chicago through Oct. 6, then proceed to Washington, D. C. and New York City, before sailing for England Oct. 14.

MEETS KEYNOTE SPEAKER—Dr. Edith Roach Snyder (center), Webster School principal and chairman of this year's Pontiac Educators' Conference, introduces Dr. Arnold R. Meier of Wayne University (left), keynote speaker, and Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent of Pontiac public schools. Some 100 Pontiac teachers and principals spent the weekend at Michigan Conservation Department's Higgins Lake Training School near Roscommon discussing "Citizenship—Education at Its Best."

Aid Citizenship Is Session's Aim

100 Discuss Methods at Annual Higgins Lake Conference

By PATRICIA A. WOOD
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

ROSCOMMON—Some 100 Pontiac teachers and principals are preparing to tackle the job of using ideas turned up at their week end conference on "Citizenship—Education at Its Best."

School personnel spent Friday night through Sunday at the Michigan Higgins Lake Training Camp discussing one main topic:

How to help children become better, happier, well-adjusted citizens.

Dr. Edith Roach Snyder was chairman of the annual Pontiac Educators Conference, with Dr. Arnold R. Meier of Wayne University as keynote speaker.

Teachers split into small groups Friday preparatory to discussing various ins and outs of citizenship education Saturday. They reported their findings at a general session Sunday morning.

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac public schools, gave the report from the group which discussed democratic values necessary for youngsters. Mrs. Ann Galbraith was group chairman.

Cox listed these values as "respect for human personalities, concern for the welfare of all others, belief in man's ability to govern himself, and belief in the use of intelligence instead of force in solving problems."

"Today's living is the best preparation for the future," Cox said. "A good citizen is one who understands, and lives by these principles in home, school, state and world."

Two groups discussing the best atmosphere and guidance for developing good citizenship had Mrs. Hazel Turner and Mrs. Ruth DeCon as chairmen. Miss Ann Neubauer and Mrs. Helen Jesse reported the groups' findings.

Miss Neubauer said her group agreed that teachers' conferences with parents, visits to students' homes and PTAs all helped interest parents in school affairs and their youngsters' school welfare. She also suggested parents be invited to help with field trips, student council work and other activities.

Guidance of youngsters, Mrs. Jesse said, should be the first concern of all teachers.

Her group suggested children be given experience in helping run the class, as well as in work conducted by the teacher, to help youngsters learn to plan, think and solve problems.

The community resources group, with Mrs. Mildred Forritt as chairman and Mrs. Marie Dougherty as reporter, said the relationship between the child and his teacher and parents is the basic help in developing good citizenship. Churches, clubs, local government can be other aids.

Some "skills" of good citizenship suggested by the group under the chairmanship of Miss Margaret Snyder were learning to listen, take part in, follow, and record group discussions; how to get and use information; learn to settle difficulties and disagree gracefully. Philip Wargelin gave this report.

A section chaired by Dan Abbott, with Gerald White as reporter, told how the school might improve its citizenship program.

White pointed out that committees could be set up to study specific problems—such as safety patrol work.

He suggested teachers involve students in planning, and give them recognition for successful "citizenship" and work in school activities.

Mrs. Madge Healy, reporter for the group led by Kline Hartman discussing good attitudes, said the most important thing teachers do is develop good attitudes in children. All teachers teach citizenship, she said.

The group suggested teachers learn the reason for a child's poor behavior, as the first step towards helping him correct it.

Norman Kuljala was chairman for the group discussing ways to help the school and the home work together to make youngsters better citizens. Mrs. Lois B. King, secretary of the Pontiac Board of Education, was reporter.

The group suggested that parents and school board members be invited to take part in principals' and teachers' annual conferences.

A teacher can be a "consultant" to parents with problems, Mrs. King said. Encouraging parents to become interested in school affairs through PTAs, the press, and other means also helps improve the two-way communication, she added.

'Opposites Attract' Rule Means Trouble Ahead

By BILLY ROSE

I got a letter this morning from a young fellow who says he's thinking of getting married and wants my advice on how to make the marriage stick. Well, he sure has come to the right place.

How to make a marriage stick, as all and sundry know, is the specialty of the house.

At the moment, BILLY ROSE however, I'm afraid I can't spare the time to give my correspondent a full answer to his question. My views on the subject would fill four matched volumes and consist largely, I imagine, of an attack on myself.

All I have on hand right now are some random jottings on the back of old subpoenas, but on the off-chance they may do the young fellow some good, I'm going to pass them along. . . .

First, however, I think I ought to post the betting odds on any marriage lasting. According to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, one marriage out of every four in this country winds up in the divorce courts.

This, though, is only part of the picture. It doesn't take into account the millions who stay married only because they have children, the millions who can't afford the luxury of a divorce, and the millions whose religion forbids it.

How do I explain this wholesale heartbreak? Well, if I were to list all the reasons, chances are there wouldn't be room left in this paper for the weather report.

Moreover, only an idiot would pretend to know them all. However, I do know one reason, and I'm idiot enough to believe it's more important than all the others put together.

Here 'tis:

The principal reason there are so many divorces these days is that so many of us marry strangers. . . .

Let me explain. A "stranger" in my lopsided lingo, isn't necessarily a person you don't know. It's a person you don't know much about.

And when it comes to picking a mate, it's my two-penny postulate that unless you know what's rolling around in your sweetie's head, you don't actually know your sweetie.

To take it a step further, unless you know what her life was like before you got stuck on her, you can't possibly figure what your future together is going to be.

In other words, in marriage as in horse racing, you can't make an intelligent bet until you know something about the past performance of the animal. . . .

The gentleman in the pork-nie hat is shaking his fist at me. He says it isn't feasible to demand a set of references. I know that, mister.

It might not be a bad idea, though, to do a bit of quiet checking about your intended — to ask, let's say, half as many questions as one asks when engaging an office boy.

The business of "opposites attracting," I maintain, works fine on the musical comedy stage where nothing lasts more than an act or two.

But it rarely works out when people are sharing bed, board and benzedrine for keeps. I don't mean by this that our mores and mentalities have to coincide exactly. I do think, however, that a pair is in trouble unless their tastes complement each other. In other words, if wifey is interested in bird galleries, or the migratory birds of the Upper Amazon, her hubby would do well not to spend all his time at the racetrack.

Likewise, if I may make so bold, I think there are storm clouds ahead if a gent who adores Mao Tse-tung gets hitched to a lady who is rooting for a speedy return of Herbert Hoover to office.

Subtle sources of discord like these, I maintain, ought to be checked into first. . . .

The wonder of it, I suppose, is that so many marriages, by per-adventure or paste, somehow remain stuck.

Nevertheless, I tremble to think what would happen if we adopted the Mohammedan custom of permitting folks to shed their mates by facing the East and saying three times, "I thee divorce."

"It's my two-for-a-nickel hunch that the stores which sell compasses would be cleaned out the first hour. . . .

But enough of this masterminding about marriage and its pitfalls. That old biological moon is shining down on Sixth avenue tonight and I have a date with a girl.

And make no mistake about it, I've checked her carefully. She's not only beautiful, she dances divinely.

Residents Urged to Prevent Fires

Mayor's Proclamation Asks Pontiac to Support National Safety Drive

Pontiac residents were called upon today by Mayor Arthur J. Law to take an active part in the nation's observance of Fire Prevention Week, which started Sunday.

In a proclamation, Mayor Law urged that "the school children of this community be given appropriate instructions to inspect their own residences and that the fire-department assist them in this effort."

It also directed all agencies of Pontiac "to assist in arousing the public to the seriousness of the fire problem."

"I earnestly request every citizen to take part in eliminating all possible causes of fire in his home or in his business," stated Law's proclamation.

Members of the Pontiac Fire Department and the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce Fire Committee have held several meetings in preparation for the local fire crusade.

"We hope to make this year's fire prevention campaign the most successful ever held in Pontiac," said Robert J. St. Clair, manager of the Chamber.

Maynard Johnson is heading the committee.

Fire Chief John F. Schroeder has called attention to an all-time high of approximately two million fires in the United States during 1952. Property losses resulting from these fires, he said, reached a total of $8,000,000.

Teen-Agers on Loose:

Gang Wars May Prelude Nationwide Crime Wave

This is the first in a series of articles on teen-age crime in the United States compiled from International News Service reports from the nation's major cities.

By FREEMAN FULLRIGHT
International News Service Staff Writer

A crude barricade angled across the road. Behind it a lookout kept a wary watch. Nearby ready for the sentry's alarm, crouched a group of youths, armed with guns, trench knives, bludgeons.

The scene? Korea? Indochina? No! The Paramount area of southeast Los Angeles. The battle? A war between rival gangs of youths. Casualties? Before police moved in last week with a mobile patrol, one 16-year-old spectator was killed in a cross-fire. Twenty-five juveniles were arrested.

A 20-year-old youth and his teen-age wife left a Chicago movie house. Three members of a west-side gang called the "Sharks" accosted them and demanded 25 cents. Refused, the three became abusive.

The husband slipped away and telephoned members of "his" gang. Five cars rolled up in reply. They piled out brandishing blackjacks, chairlegs, other weapons. The "Sharks" hastily shrilled for help. Twenty "Sharks" responded. It took seven squads of police to break up the riot that followed.

That was Aug. 30. The same day, members of a southside Chicago gang attacked a liegurd at a recreation area because he had ordered them off the premises the previous week for misbehaving. About the same time, a gang of girls assaulted a policeman, slapped him around, and stole his nightstick and pistol — apparently for the fun of it.

Isolated cases? No.

In Philadelphia, 17 boys have been arrested for homicide thus far this year. In the same city, more and more girls are being picked up for sex offenses.

This year, for the first time, San Antonio police have arrested girls for burglary. Sex crimes more than doubled in that Texas city with the number of homosexuals among teen-agers officially termed "alarming."

In Pittsburgh, two youths tried to bum a cigarette from David Jenkins, 52, a father of six. Jenkins refused. The youths — one 16, the other 18 — beat and kicked Jenkins to death.

In Roxbury, Mass., a gang of white youths battled a gang of negro youths until 13 squad cars loaded with police broke it up, arresting 13, and confiscating two toy pistols which had been made-over into deadly "tip guns" which would fire a .32 caliber bullet.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, warned recently that a "flood tide" of teen-age offenders may soon confront the nation with "a crime wave of greater over-all proportions than anything known heretofore."

Floor Breaks, 15 Hurt

South Lyon Became a Village in 1873

Situated in Lyon Township near the southwest corner of Oakland County, South Lyon was organized as a village in 1873 and incorporated as a city in 1930. Both bodies were named in honor of Lucius Lyon, a member of the legislature at the time the township was organized.

The first white settlement on the site of the present city was in 1832. Previous to being given its present name, the community was known as "Thompson's Corners." In honor of Widow Thompson, who was among its first residents.

Situated in the heart of a rich agricultural district, South Lyon for many years has been a shipping point for a great variety of farm products. In recent years it has also enjoyed an industrial growth of a more substantial nature than most cities of its size.

With a 1950 population of 1,312, it showed a growth of about 30 per cent over the figures of 1940. Albert J. Weinburger is its mayor.

GROWING TOWN—Located in the southwest corner of Oakland County, South Lyon was organized as a village in 1873 and incorporated as a city in 1930. Named in honor of a member of the state legislature, the site previously was known as Thompson's Corners. The city is situated in the heart of a thriving agricultural produce.

Borax Solution Softens Clothes

Laundered garments will dry very soft if you rinse them in a borax solution. Use one-half teaspoonful of powdered borax for each quart of water.

A tablespoonful of powdered borax in the final rinse water for curtains and linens will whiten them without harm.

Cook Longer

Extra cooking time must be allowed for foods which have been in the refrigerator a long time. Refrigerated eggs, for instance, should boil one minute longer, and roasts will take an extra 15 minutes cooking time.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Happy People Are Those Who Have Definite Faith

"What does happiness mean to you?" This provocative question sprang at me from the morning mail, where it had been sandwiched in between an invitation to a tea party for a new washing machine and a bill from my dentist. One of those writers who constantly do symposiums on moot questions wanted to know, and was also going to ask Joe DiMaggio, Dr. Daniel Poling and one of the Mrs. Rockefellers.

For once in my life, I knew exactly what I would answer to such a question. In fact, I have known for a long time what would make me happy—or better, what makes me unhappy: i. e., my compulsion to expect the worst in any crisis.

Unavailing fear and senseless apprehension are the foes of happiness to me, and the absence of them would be my definition of peace, serenity or whatever you like to call it.

My own response so easily set, I've gone about all day asking other people what happiness means to them. A 36-year-old career woman said she's always happy when she has something she simply can't wait to do—a business problem to solve, a kitchen chair to paint, or a poem she is panting to put on paper.

A devoted mother declared that the well-being of her two boys was her only real worry and if she could just be sure that they would turn out to be fine men, she'd be the happiest woman in the world.

A worker, by the day, who has labored all her life taking care of other people's houses and children, didn't say what I had expected she would—that she'd be happy if she could just have a little ease and luxury.

"I'm happy," said she, "as long as I have work to do and am able to do it."

A well-known book publisher who has recently lost somebody he loved declared earnestly that he would never know another miserable moment for the rest of his life if he could just be sure that this is not the end; that somewhere he and those he loves will have a chance to go on being.

Analyzing the answers, you see that the happy ones are those who have faith, not only in a higher power and a future world, but faith in themselves. The young career woman and the worker by the day, who seemed the most serene of those who came within my small pool, take life on faith and keep going ahead with enthusiasm and excitement.

The woman who worries for fear her sons won't grow up to be fine men needs faith to keep her strong and courageous to meet the small and large crises she must face. The publisher must find faith, too.

So I shall write, "Dear Miss Researcher, the only way I know to define happiness is to say that it is what you feel if you have a confident belief, not only in yourself and your fellow men, but in a power beyond your finite knowledge."

What would you write?

The drug penicillin was discovered in London in 1928.

Boy Openly Admits Footloose Attitude, So Girl Should Accept Him as He Is

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Ted's the type who never gets serious over any girl. He says he likes me just as much as anyone else, but not in a romantic way. Sometimes I think I have a chance, but other times I'm sure I haven't. I have chances with other boys and usually take them, but I just can't get interested in them. How can I get Ted to like me as more than a friend?"

There's no point in telling you to forget Ted. Go right on liking him—but with your eyes wide open. You know he doesn't want to get serious with anybody—so, unless a miracle happens, he's not likely to get serious with you.

Don't get in a twit over the dates you have with Ted. He just considers them pleasant evenings, so figure them that way yourself. But make them so much fun for him that he'll think of you more often when he's in the mood for going out and having a good time.

And give out with interest and enthusiasm when you're with the other boys. You don't have to churn romantically in order to enjoy an evening out.

Hold down the churning with Ted and concentrate on being a real friend to him. When he gets ready to get serious, he's likely to pick the girl who is closest to him.

"Dear Miss Woodward: The most wonderful boy has moved in next door! I was going steady, but when I realized how much I liked him, I broke it off."

"And now the boy next door hardly even speaks to me! I like him too much to give up. So please tell me what to do."

Gradually get better acquainted with the boy, as neighbors will, and maybe he'll one day decide he was lucky to have moved next door to you.

But I can't resist a comment or two on the sudden demise of your social activities. There you were with a thriving steady deal that was giving you considerable satisfaction. And without the slightest encouragement from the boy next door, you snipped it all off.

Perhaps you were afraid he wouldn't bother with you if he thought you had a steady boy friend. I'm wondering if he doesn't think there's something wrong when he doesn't see anybody ringing your bell.

Your yen for this new boy made you jump the gun. Before you hardly knew him, you were head over heels. Your over-eagerness, which he knows nothing about, has put you in this dateless fix.

Now open your eyes wide to this cold fact: The lad next door may consider any girl next door too close for dating comfort.

He may prefer safe distances, less parental supervision and fewer prying eyes when he has dates with a girl!

Greet Men by Rising, Buyer Told

Businesswoman in Position of Hostess in This Case

By EMILY POST

Today a letter explains: "I have recently been promoted to buyer for a large manufacturing company. The company has one other woman buyer."

"This woman is in the habit of rising from her chair when a salesman enters her office and shaking hands with him. I realize that this is a friendly gesture, but it does not seem right to me for a woman to rise for a man."

"I do so much want to do the right thing and would appreciate your telling me just what is proper in greeting these men."

Answer: You are in the position of a hostess and a hostess always rises to greet a guest—man or woman.

Dear Mrs. Post: Some friends of ours have recently bought a new house and have moved to the suburbs. My husband has wanted to drive out there several times to visit them but I have refused to go because I think it is up to them to invite us to their new house the first time.

"Of course my husband does not share my point of view, so for the sake of peace I have decided to write to you to settle this question."

Answer: Going to see them is entirely proper. It might be well to telephone and ask if they will be at home that afternoon.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to take charge of the guest book at a friend's wedding and I am a little puzzled as to whether the members of the bridal party and also the bride's and bridegroom's parents should be asked to sign the book. Will you please help me out?

Answer: Yes, you ask them all to sign; first his parents, then her parents, then her bridesmaids and then his ushers, all on the first page. Then the other guests as you happen to encounter them.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct, when eating a soft-fried egg, to put a small piece of bread on the end of the fork and dip it into the yolk and continue doing this until the yolk is dried up?

Answer: Certainly.

Eisenhowers Plan Crowded Social Season

Capital Again Becomes Conscious of White Ties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has announced a season of "white tie" dinners and receptions expected to return the capital's social life to the glittering formality of peacetime years.

Other Washington hosts usually follow the first family in entertaining formally or informally.

So when Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffrey, secretary to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, announced that all of the six official dinners and five official receptions to be given by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower during the 1953-54 season will be "white tie," the pattern seems set.

All dinners will be at 8 p.m. EST in the State Dining Room of the White House. All receptions will be at 9 p.m. with the President and First Lady receiving guests in the Blue Room. All are on Tuesdays.

The First Lady told reporters she gets no headaches from the protocol and fanfare of these formal events.

The winter social schedule not only does not worry her, she said, "I am looking forward to it."

"It's going to be a little concentrated but most enjoyable," she added.

Asked if she has selected her formal frocks for each occasion, she laughed and said she is like most women, often choosing a blue dress the morning of an event and changing her mind to red by evening.

In the White House announcement of the state dinners and receptions, the new Department of Health, Education and Welfare was omitted by mistake from the government department officials to be entertained at a reception Jan. 12. White House aides said it definitely should be included.

And the unification of the armed services was overlooked in listing an Army-Navy reception instead of an armed services reception Feb. 2. Some aides blamed the mistakes on old Democratic programs.

The White House announced this program of state dinners and receptions:

Nov. 3, Cabinet dinner; Nov. 10, diplomatic reception; Nov. 17, Supreme Court dinner; Dec. 1, judicial reception; Dec. 8, diplomatic dinner No. 1; Dec. 15, diplomatic dinner No. 2.

Jan. 12, reception for officials of the Treasury, Postoffice, Interior, Agriculture, Commerce, Labor, and Health, Education and Welfare Departments, and federal agencies.

Jan. 19 vice president's dinner; Feb. 2, Army-Navy (armed services) reception; Feb. 16, speaker's dinner; and Feb. 23, congressional reception.

There are two diplomatic dinners because of the large number of nations represented here. Officials of 66 countries attended a reception in 1947. President Wilson first divided the diplomats into two groups for dinner.

In 1939 Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt dropped state dinners from the winter social schedule and in 1940 she canceled diplomatic reception because of the war in Europe.

The program of state dinners was resumed by President and Mrs. Truman in 1946, but even in 1947 the judicial reception was called "an austere peace" reception and only ice water was served on the sideboard with no cakes, cookies or candies, and state dinners that year were canceled as a food-saving gesture.

Actually when Mrs. Truman announced in 1945 there would be a delay in the social season because of war grief and food shortages she was continuing the White House policy in effect since the Franklin D. Roosevelt had their last state reception in February 1941, except for parties for visiting royalty that never have been counted part of a regular social season. In 1942 there was an official dinner for the president of Peru, Manuel Prado, for example.

In 1949 President Truman gave a state dinner honoring foreign ministers of 11 nations joined with the United States in signing the North Atlantic Defense Treaty. He entertained his 65 guests at a hotel several blocks from the White House, which was being repaired.

Historic Blair House where the Trumans lived at that time had room for only 18 at the dining table even if small chairs were used.

In May 1952, the Trumans held informal afternoon receptions inaugurating the reopening of the remodeled White House, but they had no schedule of official entertainments for the season of 1952-53.

To be marked "Sterling," an article must contain at least 92.5 per cent pure silver.

Bright angora stripes side-slanted across the dolman-sleeved jacket enliven a dark knitted dress. The straight skirt is eased with rows of panels.

Reception Held for Newlyweds

A reception was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hensel on Chamberlain street to honor their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Velmer Croteau, who were married Sept. 11 in St. Michael Church.

The bride, the former Cecilia Ann Hensel, was attended by Betty St. Charles, and Nicholas Shaw was the bridegroom's attendant. For the ceremony she was dressed in a suit of brown heatherwood with dark brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan the couple is residing on Delrose avenue.

Professor Advises Clubwomen on Giving Reports, Introducing Speaker

How to Cope With Nervousness

Guides Amateurs Past Rough Spots

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you're a woman you belong to an organization. If you're a homemaker with some civic interest and/or school-age children, by golly you attend the meetings. And sooner or later you wind up on a committee with a program to prepare and a nervous stomach.

Before the gavel bangs again and I'm left open-mouthed and perspiring to present the program, I consulted an expert to see if there weren't some props to help amateurs like myself. Turns out there are.

Our expert is Irving J. Lee, professor of public speaking at Northwestern University, an accomplished speaker and an author who, with his staff, has interviewed hundreds of speakers and audiences to compile data for such books as "How to Talk With People."

I posed a few basic, bothersome situations: What do we do as program chairman? How do we introduce a speaker? How do we give an interesting report?

You're program chairman with a visiting speaker in tow.

Make sure, the expert says, that the speaker understands how much time he has to talk before he arrives, and then remind him again at program time.

Be stern about limiting pre-speech club announcements to an overall maximum of 15 minutes.

As a matter of courtesy, ask the speaker if he would prefer to sit in the wings, instead of on stage, until he's due to talk.

Don't feel duty-bound to entertain the guest with luncheon and friends, Lee emphasized. Most speakers would rather have a half hour of quiet to collect their thoughts than the rapid tour of city sights.

You are going to introduce the speaker:

First, advises Professor Lee, forget the myth that the introduction has to be witty or full of jokes. That's the speaker's responsibility.

The best introduction avoids sugary superlatives. It tells simply who the speaker is, what his attainments are, why he's there and what he's supposed to do.

Maximum time should be two and a half minutes, says the expert. If you don't trust your memory, write the information on a card (paper rustles in jittery hands) and read it.

You're giving the report of speech yourself:

Prepare and outline a week before the meeting, Lee advises. Write it down and learn the outline, but not the precise words you'll say.

Don't fret about your grammar, your voice, your gestures or your facial expressions. Think only of explaining ideas. Use everyday words, marshal all pertinent details.

Rehearse the report by yourself out loud a few days before the meeting. Only purpose of rehearsal is to time yourself and to see if you know the outline.

Greatest evil in report-giving, says this expert, is not knowing how long you'll talk. He advises keeping the card outline at hand.

Once in front of the audience, if your knees start to shake or butterflies flutter in the stomach hang on to something—a chair, lectern or table.

One comforting fact this research turned up is that no matter how nervous the speaker is (short of fainting away) 90 per cent of the audience won't sense her distress.

Not one person in 10 will spot grammatical errors either.

Clothes have a direct bearing on audience attention. An unusual costume, a show-stopping hat or bold color combinations will keep the audience successfully distracted from any nervousness you may display.

Don't Be Collector.

Don't be a clutterbug. Trash collections or haphazard storage invite fires from spontaneous combustion. (Rubbish caused 13,000 fires last year.) If possible, have an incinerator for trash and garbage disposal.

Need for Modern Tablecloths Results in a Hobby That Later Makes Money

By ANNE HEYWOOD

If you start a home hobby with an eye only on the money you may make, you will probably not make any money.

But if you take up a hobby you really love, you will stand a good chance of making a financial killing.

Mrs. R. L., a young mother, in her early 30's, with two toddlers, did just that.

"My husband and I both love modern furniture," she told me. "We have a ranch house, and little by little we have furnished it with lovely functional modern. The last piece we got was our dining table lovely blond maple, with fine simple lines."

"The trouble was," she went on, "that all my tablecloths looked horrible on it. They were either old damask heirlooms or junky multi-color prints, or hand embroidered Victorian monstrosities."

"I looked in the shops, but I couldn't find anything modern that would go with my table, except for a few things which were prohibitively expensive."

So Mrs. R. L. went to the fabric department, determined to make her own table linens.

"Although 'linen' is hardly the word!" she told me, laughing.

"I experimented with all kinds of modern fabrics with interesting textures. I got some rough beige synthetic fabric, and made a block monogram in scarlet."

"I found lovely muted denim and did a lunch cloth. I even made breakfast placemats from canvas and terrycloth, combined."

After a while, Mrs. R. L. found remnant shops where there were bargains galore.

"Then I began experimenting with modern designs to take the place of the old-fashioned cross stitch. Pretty soon I had the best dressed table in town."

"I had so many cloths, in fact, that it was silly to make any more. But I enjoyed it so, I could hardly stop."

One day, Mrs. R. L. took her courage in her hands together with several of her tablecloths, and paid a visit to the furniture store where she and her husband had bought their furniture.

"I talked to the manager," she said, "and I told him about my own dilemma when I bought my table. I showed him my cloths. He liked them so much that he offered to sell them for me, in his shop on a commission basis."

Woodwork Gleams

No work to keeping white woodwork gleaming. Most woodwork can be washed down with a detergent and water. Make it shine by adding two tablespoons of furniture polish to a quart of rinse water. Then wipe dry with a soft brush, cloth, or sponge.

In short, Mrs. R. L. found herself in business.

"I clear a nice sum of money every month," she said happily, "and I don't even have to leave home. It's a lot of fun, too."

"The other day I was walking down Main street with the children, and there in the window was a beautiful modern dining room set, with one of my cloths on it! I was very proud, and so, believe it or not, were the kids!"

Try It

Be Indian for Halloween

It won't be too long until you begin to think about what you will do for a Halloween costume. Too, this idea of Indian-style makeup is good for pageants, plays and stunts.

You can wear just the Indian face stripes if you want to, or you can first smooth on regular stage makeup which, if it is a deep tan color, will make you look like a real Indian. You can use poster paint for the striping.

I have shown several styles of makeup. In the first drawing I have a simple headband like the Indians wear around camp. It is made from a rolled bandanna tied in the back.

In the next drawing I have stuck a feather in the bandanna and added a macaroni necklace and red and white war paint.

If you should have a war bonnet you can wear makeup like in the third drawing and whistle "bear claws" to string around your neck.

The fourth has a hair piece made of black-dyed hemp rope. It is tied with white felt. The makeup is interesting, too, for it comes across the face in lines.

How about the half and half makeup? This is very different and quite scary.

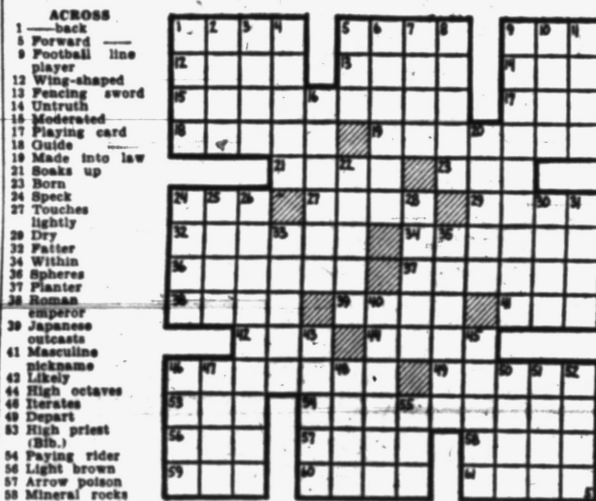

The last one shows a bow-shaped pattern. Try this this Halloween.

Launder Gloves While on Hands

Handle with gloves on, when sudsing out both fabric and leather gloves. It's much the easiest way to launder them.

But don't wash chambray or doek gloves on your hands because they soften when wet and may stretch or tear. Do put them on your hands before they are completely dry, however, because it's much easier to get them back in shape while damp.

Always check to see that leather gloves are labeled washable before sudsing.

Happy Family Awakens to the Cruel Realization That Baby Reacts Slowly

Editor's Note—First of three columns on retarded children.

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Rafe was a handsome baby. Unlike the K's' other children, he had inherited his mother's dark eyes and blonde hair. He was fat, amiable, and if he didn't chuckle as readily as Ken and Lois had, he also cried less.

I can't say just when the suspicion first entered his mother's mind. It may first have shadowed Mrs. K's joy in Rafe the day that Lois tried to play patty-cake with him.

Rafe, 18 months old, allowed his chubby palm to be patted, but that ended the game so far as he was concerned. Fatted, the palm dropped heavily into his lap and he resumed chewing on the wheel of his walking duck.

He went on gnawing at his walking duck. When Rafe was 2, his mother would protest, "No, darling the duck's not for eating, but for pulling. See this string? So we pull like this—and the duck walks right along with us, quack, quack, quack."

But Rafe could do nothing with this idea, either. A walking toy was not something to pull, but to chew or occasionally, destroy.

Then one Saturday afternoon, soon after his third birthday, Mr. K. suddenly lost patience with his son. To his wife, he turned with more violence than the occasion seemed to warrant.

"What's the matter with him?" he demanded. "Why does he sit there looking at me? Doesn't he know that balls are for catching? Why doesn't he reach for his ball when I throw it? Why . . . ?"

He stopped. Over in their sandpile, Lois and Ken stopped playing, too. The K's' sunny yard was abruptly too still.

And for Mrs. K., stumbling toward Rafe to snatch him into her arms, the exterior world, her family, the familiar lawn and garden chairs seemed to dissolve and be lost in a mist. There were only she and Rafe, the hunted, running through a desolate place toward darker and darker unknown.

The next morning, she finally put the suspicion into words for her pediatrician. "Mental retardation is one of the possibilities," he said. "If it would relieve your mind, why don't you have him tested by this psychologist friend of mine?"

That night Mrs. K. didn't sleep. She thought of the married love that might have shackled five lives to unending curiosity and gossip. She thought of the voices saying, "In justice to everyone, an institution. . . ." She thought of the coming years that could mean spoon-feeding a youth, a man.

And in her despair, she reached out to time as her only friend.

Hanging Curtains

Got a marble shooter in the family? Borrow one of his agates to put in the hem of your freshly starched curtains before trying to poke the curtain rod through. The marble will roll along, opening the starch stuck hem and prevent catching and snagging.

By morning, she knew she wasn't going to risk any test of the truth, but let time tell the world whether or not she had borne a mentally retarded son.

In my next column, I'll report what happened to change her mind.

Cement Best for Leaky Cellar Walls

By HUBBARD COBB

Someday someone will invent a cheap and sure cure for leaky basement walls and that guy will be able to retire to his private yacht and spend the rest of his days trying to figure out how to spend the rest of his days trying to figure out how to spend all his money—after taxes, that is.

In the meantime, one of the best and least expensive cures for leaky basement walls is good old Portland cement, some sand and a little water.

The wall to be treated must be clean and free from paint and other coatings. It's a good idea to wash it down with a 10 per cent solution of muriatic acid and water and then rinse it thoroughly with fresh water.

Dampen the wall and then give it a one-fourth inch coating of one part Portland cement and two parts sand. This sand by the way, has to be a little on the special side.

It should be screened through a No. 16 sieve, which is done for you at the lumber yard or masonry supply house where the sand is purchased. If coarse sand is used it won't be too effective.

Water is now added to this mixture of cement and sand to produce a workable plastic and the stuff is applied to the wall.

It should be kept damp for a week or so, after which a coat of Portland cement and water—no sand needed this trip—is applied.

Of course, if there is a huge amount of water pressure on the other side of the wall, this thin coating won't be too effective, but for your average condition it should work very well.

HAVE YOU TRIED WONDER BREAD LATELY?

Made With Even Better Quality Protein Flour To Give You A Better Loaf Of Bread

Surveys Show 1 Out Of 2 Children Fail To Get The Recommended Amounts Of Food-Energy For Normal Weight And Growth Gains.

In Just 7 Days Start Your Child Growing Again With Wonder Bread!

The Bread That Helps Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways!

Note How Wonder Bread Compares With Meat, Milk, Fish and Eggs—See Chart

Children Go For Wonder Bread Because It's Doubly Fresh

An average boy of 10 should gain about 6 pounds in one year. Which is at the rate of 1/4 pound per month; or less than 2 ounces each week. But any time your child fails to gain puts her or him that far behind.

Why Lack of Food-Energy Causes Weight and Growth Loss Carbohydrate and fat supply food-energy.

Protein supplies the "building" blocks of growth.

Now Nature cannot use carbohydrate and fat alone for growth, but it can use protein for energy.

Thus, when your child fails to get enough carbohydrate and fat food-energy, Nature uses the protein for food-energy instead of growth.

The result: Your child's growth is stunted.

Wonder Bread Helps Your Child Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

A well-balanced diet calls for meat, milk, eggs, fruit and both yellow and green leafy vegetables. And carbohydrate food for energy. Like Wonder Bread.

Because not only does Wonder Bread supply food-energy but protein. Study the chart and see how Wonder Bread helps build "bigger" and stronger bodies 8 ways.

To encourage your child to eat a well-balanced diet and 8 slices of Wonder Bread each day, show him or her this ad. Because it shows how any boy or girl can grow bigger and stronger 8 ways—which is what they want to excel in their favorite sports.

Measure your child in the doorway. Make a pencil mark now. Then in 3 months and 6 months—watch the mark shoot up!

Get Wonder Bread Today Wonder Bread is a wonderful food. Because it helps build strong bodies 8 ways.

And Wonder Bread has a wonderful flavor. Because it is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it and fresh when you eat it.

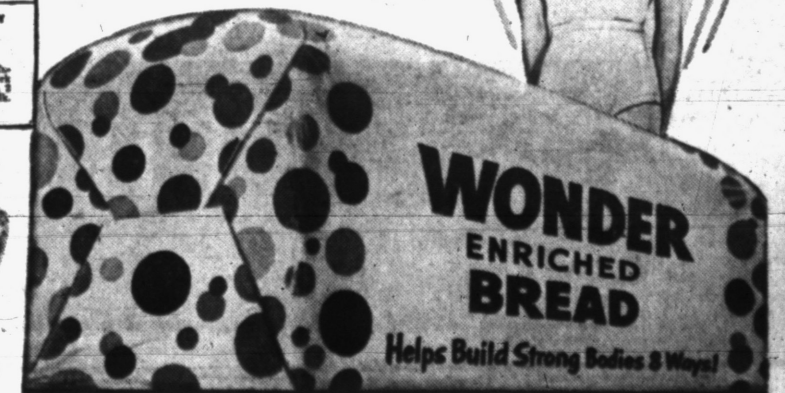

Get Wonder Bread from your grocer today. And—start your child growing again in just 7 days.

Chester W. Manley, 35, of 723 Amenia, Walled Lake, was reported in good condition in Pontiac General Hospital this morning suffering from multiple head cuts. His wife, Katherine, 28, same address, was treated for bruises.

Driver of the car, Virgil W. Walker, 28, of 950 Leon Rd., Walled Lake, told deputies he was forced off the road when an oncoming car pulled in front of him.

Flames Leave Lake Steamer Twisted Hulk

DETROIT (UP) — The twisted hulk of a once-proud queen of the Great Lakes rocked gently beside a salvage dock today, waiting for the coup de grace of the cutting torches.

The 42-year-old excursion steamer Put-in-Bay had made her last weekend excursion. Towed to the St. Clair Flats where she once carried happy holiday fun-seekers, the old ship was set afire and burned to the waterline.

The ship, in former years a pretty sight steaming across Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair, was an ugly, twisted mass of metal as she was towed back to the salvage yard Sunday.

As a match touched off the gas-line-soaked superstructure, some spectators on shore gasped at the spectacle and said it was beautiful.

They didn't see the tears shed by a few old seamen on the sidelines. To them it was the passing of an era.

Woman Treated for Cuts After 2-Car Accident

Mrs. Betty Kemp, 27, of 910 Steward St., Detroit, was treated for cuts at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after a two-car accident at Elizabeth Lake Rd., and Josephine Ave., Oakland County sheriff's deputies Thurman Sauvage and Jack Fritch reported today.

She was riding in a car driven by George O. Inman, 21, of 36 W. Tennyson Ave. when it collided with an auto driven by Horace F. Brodie, 59, of 71 E. Iroquois Rd., the deputies said.

Seeks Flexible Jobless Benefits

Hutchinson Would Set Two-Thirds Take-Home Pay as Compensation

DETROIT (UP) — A formula to permit unemployment compensation benefits to rise and fall with the average take home pay was proposed today.

The plan was set forth by Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) in an address before a group of Republican women at the Veterans Memorial Building.

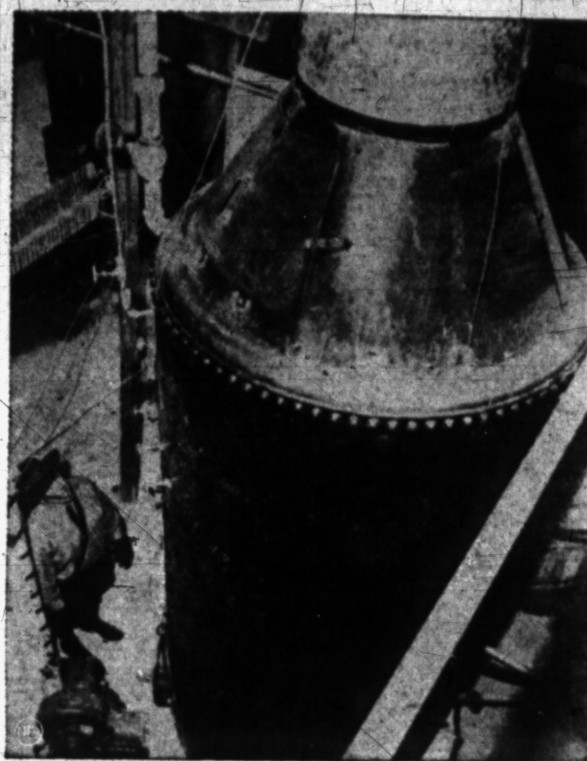

Hutchinson, a member of the senate Labor Committee, suggested that payments be set at two-thirds of the average take home pay.

He cautioned that the plan would have to contain safeguards to prevent claimants from receiving benefits approaching his full working wages. The restrictions would preserve the incentive to work, he added.

Pegging compensation to take home pay, Hutchinson added, would discourage the unions from pressuring the legislature at every session to raise the dollar benefits "without regard to the cost of such increases or their effect on the unemployment reserve fund."

He said there was danger in raising benefits on a flat dollar basis in good times, because it would be difficult to reduce them in bad.

Also taken by the government were 30,000 gallons of mash and several hundred gallons of alcohol.

Danish Santa Is Given Yule Gift Trip to U. S.

COPENHAGEN (UP) — A Danish Santa Claus celebrating his 50th year with one Copenhagen store is to get a gift himself — a visit to the United States.

Carl Dauw started with the store in 1903 and has been acting as Santa Claus at Christmas time for the last 35 years.

The U. S. trip is the store's anniversary gift. Dauw probably will go around Christmas to study American Santas on the job.

800,000 Gallons of Beer Drunk at Oktoberfest

MUNICH, Germany (UP) — Germany's biggest seasonal spree, the annual Munich Oktoberfest, ended here last night and managers claimed it beat all previous records of its 143-year old history.

They estimated that about six million visitors consumed almost 800,000 gallons of strong dark Maerzen beer, and ate 16 whole roasted oxen, 110,000 fried chicken and one million sausages.

Red Cross officials rendered first aid to 4,500 people and ambulances removed 95 persons from the vast Theresienwiese Festival grounds who were knocked flat by the strong brew. Age of these 95 ranged between 12 and 90.

Police said several were injured in about 200 free-for-all scuffles during the two-week festival.

A 16-year-old boy probably spent the biggest amount on the Oktoberfest. He slipped from his Stuttgart home after taking 5,000 marks (1,190 dollars) from his father's strongbox.

When police picked him up on Theresienwiese last week, his pockets yielded 15 pfennigs—less than four cents.

Pair Abandon Plans for Endurance Record

SALT LAKE CITY (UP)—Two Salt Lake City pilots said yesterday they have abandoned plans to try to break the world's light plane endurance record this year.

Capt. Calvin E. Cowley and Don H. Bean tried four times to smash the mark of 47 days. Their goal was 50 days but last week they landed after five days in the air, their longest sky stay.

Mt. Mihara in Japan Has Minor Eruption

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's famed Mt. Mihara volcano spewed lava and stones into the air yesterday in a minor eruption, but scientists said there were no indications of a big flare-up.

Lava squirted 60 feet above one crater yesterday and some stones were being tossed into the air today.

Mt. Mihara is on Oshima Island about 60 miles south of Tokyo. It last erupted in 1951.

Truck Driver Hero of Blaze

Michigan Man Saves 14 Lives as Three Indiana Homes Burn

WHITING, Ind. — Emer Benedict, a 42-year-old truck driver, from Greenville, Mich., was hailed as a hero here over the weekend.

Benedict was credited with saving 14 persons from a fast-spreading fire here in the wee hours Saturday. Among those the trucker is credited with saving the family of Steve Kraly, a rookie pitcher for the New York Yankees.

Defective wiring was blamed for the fire which eventually spread to three homes.

Benedict, who lives on Rt. 3 out of Greenville, said he parked his truck near the Glove Roofing Products Co. after dock workers told him they were going home and couldn't unload his truck.

He was taking a nap in the truck, he said, when he suddenly awakened and saw flames coming from a house across the street.

He ran to the burning house and pounded on the door, awakening Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kraly, parents of the Yankee pitcher, and a room-

er. By this time flames had leaped to the house next door and Benedict awakened three women and a teen-age boy and girl there.

Then he went to the next house, now also in flames, and awakened John Kraly, the pitcher's brother; John's wife, and another couple and their two children.

Benedict had brought a load of roofing products from Grand Rapids, Mich., to Whiting, 20 miles southeast of Chicago.

General Pulaski Day Observed in New York

NEW YORK — Some 125,000 persons of Polish extraction marched up Fifth Avenue yesterday in an annual observance honoring Gen. Casimir Pulaski, Polish officer killed in the American Revolution.

The marchers carried banners denouncing the Russian satellite role of the present Polish government and gave an honored place to Lt. Frank Jarecki and Zdzislaw Jazwinski, police Polish fliers who fled their country in MIG fighter planes.

Police said a half million persons watched the parade.

Towboat King of Mississippi

Diesel-Powered Ships Replace Old Craft of Mark Twain's Day

WASHINGTON — New king of the Mississippi is the snub-nosed towboat. Pushing trains of steel barges up and down the big river and its tributaries, the sturdy vessels hauled 33 million tons of revenue freight last year — three times the amount carried by more glamorous steamboats at their zenith a century ago.

Like a tugboat pushing an ocean liner, the towboat is the river's version of the railroad locomotive. Its blunt prow permits one boat, with one crew and one engine, to maneuver barge fleets hauling 15,000 or 20,000 tons, the equivalent of 400 to 600 railway freight cars.

Headed guardward, the leviathan barge fleets carry coal from West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky, grain from the north central states, structural steel and iron pipe from Pittsburgh and Illinois mills, for the industrialized south and trans-shipment to foreign ports.

On upstream runs, the barges bring coffee, nitrates and bauxite from South America, canned goods from the Pacific coast, sugar from Cuba, hemp from Manila, burlap from India.

Mark Twain marveled at river pilots who maneuvered packet boats around tight bends, through eddies and narrow channels. The towboat pilot is no less skillful.

His "locomotive" is 100 to 300 feet long with up to 2,000 horsepower, and it pushes as many as a dozen barges. Barges vary from 175 to 290 feet in length, from 26 to 48 feet in width. Most are 11 feet deep and capacity ranges from 850 to 2,000 tons each.

A big business today, river shipping is being modernized. Most sternwheeler towboats have been supplanted by diesel-powered twin-screw propeller ships, many of them streamlined. Aboard, cabins for crew and officers are comfortable and spacious; galleys boast tiled floors and electric freezing units. Barge line offices have moved from waterfront shacks to city office buildings.

A few towboats and barges churned the Mississippi during the packet boat era of the 19th century, but with the advent of the railroads, river shipping languished for more than 50 years.

World War I provided the impetus for a revived river fleet. To assist the railroads in carrying wartime cargoes, the government established a common carrier barge service between St. Louis and New Orleans. The service persisted and grew when peace came.

During World War II, river traffic again was militarized. Essential war material flowed through the central basin, including some 4,000 submarines, destroyer escorts, landing craft and tankers, en route from inland shipyards to the open sea.

Today, the Mississippi River system is the most extensive and highly developed waterway in the world. There are 25 locks and dams in the Upper Mississippi from Alton, Ill., to St. Paul, Minn.; 46 in the Ohio River from Cairo, Ill., to Pittsburgh; and 11 in the Illinois Waterway which connects the Great Lakes with the Mississippi basin.

Van Heflin Goes Slow on TV Plans

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — This season established film stars like Ray Milland, Joan Crawford, Loretta Young, Joan Caulfield, Ida Lupino and Joan Fontaine are taking the big leap into television.

But here is one actor who has politely declined TV offers—Van Heflin.

"My agents get between four and five offers a month for me to do TV series," he remarked. "I have given instructions to turn them all down. I have my reasons."

"There's no doubt about it: TV is competition to the movies. Since I have been keeping busy in films, I see no reason why I should compete with myself by being on the home screens."

"I feel a certain loyalty to the movie business. It has treated me quite fairly over the years, and I don't want to do anything that might hurt it. I feel also that my film career would be endangered if I ventured into TV on a major basis."

Heflin observed that acting suffers on TV, whether it is done live or on film.

You simply can't do your best work under such circumstances," he said. "An actor has to grow into a role. Rehearsals are completely inadequate on live TV. Films for TV are not much improvement. You're still racing against a timeclock. So much film has to be ready every day, and there's no time to embellish and create."

The actor admitted that many of his craft are seeking TV because of the lag in film production for theaters.

"I may find that I'll be hunting for jobs, too," he remarked. "But I'd return to the stage before I tried TV. You can make good money by touring."

"Good new plays are hard to find, but you can do as Katherine Cornell, the Lunts and Helen Hayes have done over the years — if they can't find new plays, they bring out a good old one, tour extensively, then bring it in to New York for a limited run."

Heflin has done only three things on TV. He appeared for Robert Montgomery in "Arrow-smith," which he hoped to create interest in, for a film remake. He did a patriotic reading as a gesture for an old friend, Ken Murray. Last season he appeared on "Toast of the Town" in a scene from "The Strike." It was a kickoff for a six-month tour in the play.

"I plan to limit my appearances on TV in the future to two or three a year, no more than that," he said. "I think it's dangerous for a film actor to appear more often."

"There is a definite resentment on the part of the public over having to pay for something they have been getting free. If they see an actor on their home screens, they resent having to pay to see him in a theater."

Pope Alexander laid the foundation stone of Notre Dame cathedral, in Paris, in 1163.

Freighter Shifts Nearer Channel

Canada Is Warned Ship Sunk in St. Clair River Will Be Menace

PORT HURON — The sunken German freighter Wallschiff, resting on the bottom of the St. Clair River here, has been declared a "menace to navigation."

David Ross, harbormaster of Sarnia, Ont., has notified the Canadian department of transport that the 882-ton vessel is a "menace to navigation." He also warned that "conditions may worsen at any time."

The Wallschiff, owned by the Luebeck Lines of Hamburg, was reported to have listed toward the deeper water of the up-bound heavily-traveled shipping channel.

She is resting in 62 feet of water about 100 yards from the center of the channel on the Canadian side of the swiftly flowing river. Only her masts remain above water.

The tiny German freighter was sunk Friday night in a collision with the Pioneer, a 10,000-ton ore carrier owned by the Cleveland Cliffs line. The ore carrier was not badly damaged, but the German ship went to the bottom in seven minutes, her Canadian pilot dying in the crash. The crew were saved.

Ross warned that if the ship continues to slide, it could block the vital Great Lakes waterway, one of the busiest in the world.

The river is narrow at this point. It is the sole ship passage linking Lake Huron to Lake St. Clair.

Meanwhile, the Wallschiff's owners have opened bids for her salvage. Part of the cargo was 325 tons of steel.

Ali Announces Pakistan Will Become Republic

KARACHI, Pakistan — Premier Mohammed Ali said today that Pakistan will become a republic before the end of the year, under a new constitution to be announced soon.

Ali said his governing Muslim League party has agreed on a formula which will settle the main problem facing the drafters of the proposed constitution: the representation of East and West Pakistan in a Republican government. Details of the draft constitution will go before a constituent assembly Wednesday.

Allies Protest to Commission on PW Photos

PANMUNJOM — The U. N. Command protested today that pictures of anti-Communist war prisoner compounds have been distributed by a Red agency although Indian guard troops have banned cameras in the POW area.

The Allies complained officially to the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission that pictures distributed by Eastfoto, a Communist picture agency, were published in the Sept. 27 air mail edition of the New York Times.

A letter of protest delivered to the Indian chairman of the commission declared that the photos included "a closeup picture of two of your officers, your official photographer and identifiable photos of a group of prisoners of war being greeted by your officers."

"We assume now that Eastphoto, an agency of the Communists, has secured and sold such a photograph to the New York Times, you will have no objections to permitting representatives of the press of the free world to take pictures of the CFI (Custodian Force, India) camp where the prisoners of war are held," the letter adds.

The Allies asked for an early answer.

Two Sisters Spend Years in Hospitals

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. — Speaking of operations, as they often do in the Claude Crotty family, the Crotty daughters, Susan Ann, seven, and Claudia, six, have more operations to tell about than all their friends and relatives put together.

Claudia has just passed her sixth birthday in Middletown Sanatorium recuperating from her eighteenth operation. Most of them have been operations in a series started when she was five days old to correct a rare defect.

She was born with the bladder on the outside of the abdominal wall, complicated by the fact that it was an open sac. Doctors succeeded in providing a means of closing it and tucking it into a pocket created within the abdomen.

That took seventeen operations. The other was a tonsillectomy. With all that behind her, Claudia is entering school at the first grade. Susan Ann, at seven, can count one operation for each year of her life. Hers have overcome an oral defect.

In Santiago, Chile, the owner or manager of a building which catches fire is arrested and must prove that the fire was an accident.

Mantle's 4-Run Blast Paces Yankees to 11-7 Win

3 Other Bombers Connect as Champs Take 3-2 Edge

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)—Mickey Mantle's spectacular bases-loaded home run, 4th such hit in the half-century old World Series, enabled the New York Yankees to demolish the Brooklyn Dodgers 11-7 Sunday—and now the Yanks stand within a game of a record-breaking five straight Series titles.

Brooklyn had evened the Series at two games apiece Saturday, winning 7-3, as Billy Loes bested Ed (Whitey) Ford.

Mantle, a sorry spectacle in the 3rd and 4th games, wherein he struck out six times, almost missed his chance for immortality.

He was hit by a savage line drive in batting practice, an accidental blast from the bat of Irv Noren. Only after a thorough examination of his injured wrist and chest was Mickey permitted to play.

In the third inning the muscular man from Commerce, Okla., came to bat with the score tied at 1-1 the bases filled and two out. Russ Meyer had just come in to pitch in relief of starter Johnny Podres.

Batting left-handed, mighty Mickey hit the 1st pitched ball and every one of the 36,775 Ebbets Field fans knew they were one with baseball history.

The ball screamed into the stands in left-center, and Mickey was in baseball immortality with Earl Smith, of the 1920 Indians, Tony Lazzeri, of the 1936 Yankees, and Gil McDougald of the 1951 Yanks.

There were many events almost as momentous as this in Sunday's slug-fest 6-home run game but Mickey's was the direct hit of the Yankee broad-side.

It sends the champions back to the Yankee Stadium today with a 3-2 lead in games.

Sunday's was a massive, heavy, annihilated ball game. Home runs were blasted, too, by Gene Woodling, Billy Martin, Gil McDougald, Billy Cox and Junior Gilliam—equaling the record output of the Yanks and Cubs in the 1932 series.

Managers Stengel and Dressen scraped somewhat deeply into their pitching barrels to get their opening throwers, and the rose Stengel came up with, Jim McDonald, was considerably more fragrant than Dressen's Podres.

Woodling opened the game with a terrific home run into the center field seats. An inning later, he saved McDonald's hide with a startlingly accurate throw.

One Dodger run was already in on singles by Roy Campanella and Gil Hodges and an erratic throw by Phil Rizzuto. Cox skied to Woodling in left and Hodges tagged up and streaked toward the plate. But Gene's throw was a strike all the way. Hodges slid—and was out.

Podres then blew higher than a V-2. He walked Rizzuto to start the 3rd. McDonald bunted Phil to

Wolverines, Spartans Happy Over Saturday Wins

Blocking Only Problem as UM Preps for Iowa

Kress, Branoff Set Pace in 26-7 Victory Over Tulane Eleven

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR — Professor Bennie Osterbaan appointed his Michigan Wolverines toward the Big Ten today. Iowa will provide the first examination here Saturday.

Michigan passed its second non-league test here Saturday by downing a stubborn Tulane team, 26-7, despite a third-period let-down that gave up the first touchdown against the Wolverines this season.

"It was a good test," said Osterbaan. "We did all right defensively, but we weren't sharp enough on offense." The Michigan coach was dissatisfied with the blocking, which he said was "not good enough for Big Ten competition."

Wolverines played a good first half against Tulane. Halfback Tony Branoff starred as Michigan twice mounted 70-yard touchdown drives. The rugged Flint sophomore scored both touchdowns and made both conversions.

The fumble-ridden second half was a different story. Tulane played the entire third period in Michigan territory. Though the Southern couldn't score on their own momentum they capitalized on a Michigan fumble by half-back Ted Kress.

End Ed Bravo recovered the ball in the Michigan end zone and Tulane quarterback Pete Clement converted.

Michigan came back in the rain-drenched final period when end Bob Topp blocked a Tulane punt and end Gene Knutson covered the ball for a touchdown.

Kress redeemed himself with a 62-yard scoring dash. Both conversions were missed by Branoff.

Comparison of the first and second half statistics told the story. Michigan 130 yards on the ground and 87 yards in the air in the first half, while Tulane passed for five yards and ran for 59.

In the final half, Tulane made 91 yards on the ground to Michigan's 49 and 17 in the air to Michigan's seven.

Knutson, Branoff and tackle Art Walker paced a defensive effort thus far that indicated Michigan will not be easy to score upon.

Offensively, Branoff and Kress furnished a combination of inside power and outside speed that may make the Wolverines big factors in the conference race.

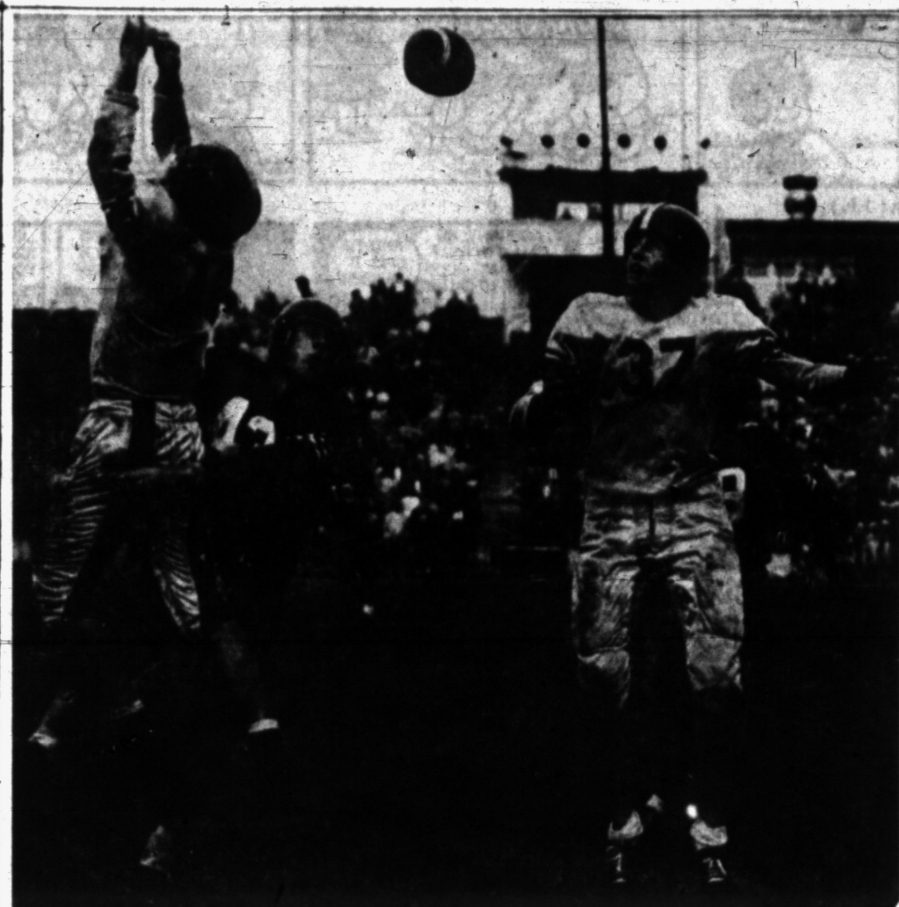

Mirror Blamed for Delaying Series Game

NEW YORK (UP)—The mystery of who was shining what in whose eyes during Sunday's fifth game of the World Series appeared solved today.

Appearing on a television program Sunday night, umpire Ed Hurley asserted the game was interrupted twice when a mirror in an apartment building behind center field cast light into the eyes of the batters.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees confirmed the report but pointed out, "I don't think it was done by someone trying to hurt us because it happened with either side at bat."

Most television viewers wondered what caused the reflections, which first were attributed to costume jewelry worn by women patrons in the outfield pavilion and by cars passing behind the fence.

INTERCEPTION ON WAY—St. Michael halfback Bud Schwartz (37) waits for the ball eluding the outstretched fingers of teammate Bob Schmidt (40) and St. Mary's Bob Casman (43) to intercept an Irish pass in the 2nd quarter of Sunday's Shamrock-Royal Oak St. Mary game here. Pontiac parochials won the game, 20-0.

Roe Ready to Relieve

Dodgers Choose Erskine Again, Yanks Seek Clincher Behind 'Whitey' Ford

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK —It's almost a sure thing these days that the two World Series teams will play themselves one awful game along about midway, the shortage of really good pitchers being what it is, and the Yankees and Dodgers turned theirs in yesterday.

The four-time-straight world champions were back in their own park in the Bronx with their crack young left-hander, Whitey Ford, on the mound. The Dodgers, needing desperately to win this one, were relying on their new World Series strikeout king, Carl Erskine.

Considering his brilliant exploit of only three days ago, when he fanned 14 Yankees and beat them by 3-2, Erskine looked like a very good bet to knot the playoff at 3-3 and sent it into its binding game tomorrow. But Charlie Dressen, the Brooklyn manager, was ready to shoot the works.

"If he's needed, Preacher Roe will be ready to relieve," he said last night. "I would like to save him to start the seventh game, but I won't be saving anybody when these games are playing out the way they are now."

There was much opinion that the Yankees had more to worry about today than the Dodgers had. Few who watched Erskine throttle the champs two days ago and who saw what angry, humiliated athletes there were later in the dressing room could imagine that they would give the handsome right-hander trouble. But they could easily imagine the Brooks' right-handed power taking great chunks out of Ford again.

Ford lasted only one inning when he started the fourth game at Eb-betts Field. Dresen had his right-handed explosives planted again today, with Jackie Robinson hitting third and Roy Campanella fourth. Duke Snider, left-handed hitter, was down in the sixth slot, below Gil Hodges.

Bolden Is Star in Second Half MSC Offensive

Flint Back Tallies All 3 Touchdowns in 21-0 Victory Over Gophers

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING — Aboard the chartered plane speeding the Michigan State football team back home, Saturday night, a rousing song session was in full cry.

Billy Wells, workhorse of the afternoon with the longest playing time of 55 minutes 10 seconds, was leading the singers.

Coach Biggie Munn, a happy man after watching his Spartans whip Minnesota 21-0 in his home town of Minneapolis, moved up to join in.

So did end coach Earle Edwards, who supplied the scouting report that provided the key to stopping Minnesota's highly touted Paul Giel.

A few seats ahead, dapper little Leroy Bolden, 163-pound halfback from Flint, was quietly dozing.

"He took quite a physical beating," said trainer Jack Heppinstall. "Those big fellows from Minnesota were piling on him — when they could catch him."

Jim Neal, center from Muskegon, leaned over. "I'll tell you one thing," he said, "those big fellows were talking to themselves in Swedish before the afternoon was over."

Bolden was asked if the last Minnesota man to get a shot at him, defense man Bob McNamara, touched him during the 69-yard scoring run that broke open the ball game in the third quarter.

"He got a piece of my heel, and that was all," Bolden said. Bolden's heels were about all that Minnesota saw during the second half.

Bolden's second two touchdown runs, all in the same play through the right side of the line, carried nine and 11 yards each. The performance won him the game ball and a spontaneous round of applause from the some 500 fans waiting to welcome the team as the big plane landed at Lansing.

Bolden, with 145 yards rushing, made nearly double Minnesota's total of 84 yards by both rushing and passing.

His scoring spree broke the deadlock that held through the first half when Michigan State was halted after successfully moving the ball to the Minnesota one-foot line, 13-yard line, 21-yard line and seven-yard line.

George Blanda's Pass to Jim Dooley in 4th Period Ices Win

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Green Bay came within three minutes of beating the Chicago Bears in a National Football League game here Sunday, but finally wound up on the short end of a 17-13 score.

The winning touchdown came on a 16-yard pass from George Blanda to Jim Dooley, after George Finger had given Chicago possession by intercepting a Tobin Rote pass on the Bears' 49.

When Blanda cocked his arm only three minutes were left, and Green Bay was leading 13-10.

Loss gave Green Bay a 0-2 record in league play for 1953, and it was the 6th consecutive game in which the Packers failed to score in the half. Bears now have a 1-1 mark.

Both Undeclared, Lions and 49ers Clash Sunday

NEW YORK — National football League's two undefeated, untied Western Conference teams clash in the No. 1 game of the week this Sunday when the Detroit Lions entertain the San Francisco 49ers.

Both have won two games. Defending champion Lions will be favored, but the 49ers are fresh from one upset and will be gunning for another. Yesterday, 'Frisco upended the Los Angeles Rams 31-30, just six seconds before the end on a field goal by Gordon Soltau.

In other league action yesterday, Cleveland Browns defeated Chicago Cardinals, 27-7, and the Chicago Bears turned back the Green Bay Packers, 17-13.

The powerful Browns sit atop the Eastern Conference with two victories and no losses and the Philadelphia Eagles don't figure to cause them any undue worry this Saturday.

Algerian Camel Aids Prosperity

Tourists Ride 'em and Like It in Oasis Town of Bou Saada

WASHINGTON — For their new-found prosperity, inhabitants of the desert oasis of Bou Saada in Algeria credit an old friend — the camel.

The upsurge in tourist trade in this northern Sahara village, 155 miles south of Algiers, began seven years ago when enterprising Arab innkeepers took the camel out of the caravan and put it under the visitor, says the National Geographic Society.

Bou Saada's population has since risen from 4,000 to 10,000. Four new hotels have been built. Tri-weekly flights from Paris to the nearby Bliska airfield are filled.

It costs $2 per day to hire a camel at Bou Saada. The fee includes instruction in the techniques of mounting and dismounting and the services of a guide.

The latter's duties are two fold: to keep camels awake and to prevent picnickers from getting lost in the dunes.

In the evening, when Bou Saada's "ships of the desert" are bedded down in their stables, vacationers feast at a diffa — an Arab banquet — or watch the Ouled Nails dancing girls.

At the diffa, usually held in a tent, guests sit on richly carpeted floors and eat from two-foot-high tables.

Barbecued lamb, roasted on outdoor spits, is eaten with the fingers. It is served with couscous, a dish of highly spiced mixed vegetables piled on rolled wheat. Desert may be either zabia, a type of pretzel filled with honey and fried in fat, or pomegranates the size of grapefruit.

The Ouled Nails mountain tribe to the south is renowned for its performers. The girls wear bright costumes with heavy silver waistbands. Around their necks they carry their fortunes in gold coins strung together with black ribbon.

Like all oases, Bou Saada owes its existence to the water which flows from a series of springs on the western rim of the village. Using an intricate network of dams and ditches, the Arabs have been able to wrest some 4,000 acres of fertile land from the desert.

Truck gardens carpet shaded plots beneath the palms. Apple, almond and pear orchards thrive. The town is the market center of an area larger than the Eastern Shore of Maryland.

The vast North African desert is not always hot and dry. In the months of December, January and February, Bou Saada is deluged by violent rainstorms.

Gullies surrounding the oases are turned overnight into torrents, but the water soon sinks into the porous soil.

Sand, not heat, is the scourge of Bou Saada. Tons of it have been blown from a near-by range of dunes into the northern edge of the village. Residents fear that some day the shifting sands may choke the springs and wipe out the entire oasis.

Chinese Reds' Fight Against Corruption Fails

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China's "five-anti-campaign" — anti-bribery, anti-tax evasion, anti-cheating, anti-theft of state property and anti-theft of state economic intelligence — apparently has failed to make any deep impression on industrialists and merchants.

Tientsin's Ta Kung Pao said in a recent edition reaching Hong Kong that many industrialists and merchants, infatuated with quick profits, have violated the five points by methods "cleverer" than before.

NEW YORK (AP) — Acclaimed by notables from the stage, screen, radio and television fields, Sophie Tucker was given a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria last night to celebrate her golden jubilee in show business.

Celebrities flew in from Hollywood, from Europe and from other points to pay $50 a plate which will go to the various charities.

Women Judges Effective in Red Chinese Courts

HONG KONG (AP) — One thousand newly appointed feminine judges have taken a new broom to Red China's courts, the official Communist news agency said today. One woman judge promptly settled a land dispute which China's most learned male jurists had been unable to settle in more than a century, said the New China News Agency. It didn't say what or how.
