Skepticism Greets Red Plan

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Communist party's promise of a blueprint for a coming Utopia goes on ahead for the people of the Soviet Union despite mixed feelings of skepticism and hope in Western Europe today.

Belief was expressed in Britain that Premier Khrushchev would be prepared to gamble away his goals of a Communist paradise by risking war with the West.

The Soviet people were promised free housing and public transportation in the 1970s, gradual shortening of the work week to six hours a day, and before completion of the program free education, free medical care, free gas and heating and free water.

The youths were released in the custody of their parents, Potts and Evans are being held today at the Highland Park Jail. The car was stolen from a parking lot in Highland Park at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Flash floods followed 3 1/2 inches of rain in southwestern Virginia and eastern Kentucky where highways were blocked by as much as 5 feet of water. A hundred families were evacuated at Hayes, Va.

Conspicuously missing from the document was any mention of Stalin, who never issued such wide-ranging proclamations during his long reign.

The laborite Daily Herald called the program "a system of paying wages partly in kind."

The Birmingham patrolmen said Potts reached speeds between 80 and 100 miles per hour and went through red lights at Long Lake Road and South Boulevard as the chase led up Woodward through Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills and onto South Sagamore Street in Pontiac.

Fidel to Step Up Anti-U.S. Drive

Cuban Will Try to Take Spotlight From JFK's Latin Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is expected to step up his anti-U.S. campaign this week in an attempt to steal the spotlight from the launching of President Kennedy's alliance for progress program.

Kennedy's plan to speed economic and social progress in Latin America will be submitted for approval to a hemisphere meeting of ministers of economy and finance opening Aug. 5 at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

The President, who regards the plan as the cornerstone of his Latin American policy, has appointed Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and Asst. Secretary of State Robert Woodward to represent him at the meeting.

U.S. officials believe Castro will make every effort during the next few days to provoke Washington into a debate with him in order to draw attention from any positive achievements of the conference.

They predicted, however, that plane last week by a Castro symposiumer the same old restraint that marked the administration's reaction to the capture of an airplane last week by a Castro sympathizer.

To many State Department officials the incident came too close to the opening of the economic conference to be considered an isolated action by a free-lance Castro sympathizer.

Britain Decides to Negotiate for Place in Common Market

LONDON 30 — Prime Minister Macmillan informed the House of Commons today that Britain has decided to negotiate for membership in Europe's common market. The announcement, foreshadowed since last Thursday, paved the way for a worldwide reshuffling of economic relationships involving the rival European Free Trade Association (EFTA) which is threatened with losing its leading member, and the system by which Britain grants Commonwealth partners tariff preferences in its market.

EFTA in a communique issued from Switzerland promptly urged its other six members to follow Britain's lead to create one economic unit embracing Western Europe's 300 million people.

Denmark, one of the EFTA members, announced at once that it will join Britain in applying for membership. Foreign Minister J. O. Krag announced in Copenhagen. Macmillan promised that Britain will not join the six-nation common market unless arrangements are made to protect its Commonwealth partners.

But Prime Minister Robert Menzies of Australia declared in Canberra that "you cannot turn a preferential system upside down" without wrecking Australia's wheat and other exports.

A member of Macmillan's own Conservative party, Anthony Fell of Plymouth, accused his party leader in commons of taking a "gamble with British sovereignty" and demand that Macmillan resign.

Many conservatives, as well as laborites, fear the effect of the competition of European-wide traffic-free trade, the goal of the common market system.

Diplomatic sources here said President Charles de Gaulle of France, a chief member of the common market, likely would meet soon with Macmillan to discuss Britain's move.

State Department officials in Washington appeared gratified but commented cautiously. They denied published reports that Washington has actually urged Britain to the step taken today.

Macmillan said Britain will make formal application for entry into the common market and the ultimate decision will depend upon the results of negotiations.

Teen Shot in Hand While Loading Gun

James M. Perigo told sheriff's deputies he was loading the .45-caliber pistol to scare off prowlers when he shot himself in the left hand Saturday night.

The 19-year-old youth of 131 Ball St., Orionville, may lose the use of his hand, doctors said. He was described as in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

The accidental shooting occurred at the home of Glenn Greenfield, 2000 M.D. in Brandon Township. The gun, an Army-type automatic, belongs to Greenfield, deputies said.

Tomatoes are the number one truck crop in the United States. Value of the tomato harvest in 1960 was $250 million, nearly double that of the second-place crop, lettuce.

Pleasant Ridge's Tax Equalization Appeal Is Denied

The State Tax Commission has found Pleasant Ridge's appeal of its 1961 Tax equalization factor "without foundation in fact" and has denied the appeal made by the city.

William B. Grabendike, director of the county's equalization department, said the denial of the appeal made in May means governmental units which levy summer school taxes can now proceed.

The appeal, while pending, had prevented this, he said. Pleasant Ridge Supervisor Arthur G. Elliott Jr. protested that the city's $13.4 million base, up $1.5 million over its previous equalization, was "grossly inadequate and erroneous."

A sampling of 53 property sales in the city by the county equalization staff showed the property was assessed 15 per cent higher than its true or market value, Elliott alleged.

Grabendike said the tax commission took a sampling of the property before arriving at the rejection of the appeal.

Iron Mountain Raked by High Winds, Hail

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—The Iron Mountain area suffered heavy property damage by a vicious storm described as a tornado Saturday. Dickinson County Sheriff Harry Julian said "There's no doubt about it, it was a regular cyclone." No injuries were reported, but widespread property damage was caused in a residential area just south of Iron Mountain. High winds, hail and rain pummeled the area.

Arkansas paid more than $100 million in 1959 in premiums on property and casualty insurance.

Kin of Adlai Dies

WEST SPRING LAKE (AP)—John Borden, 74, retired financier and explorer and former father-in-law of Adlai E. Stevenson, died Saturday after a long illness.

River Mailman Forced to Swim

Blinding Sun Blamed for Collision of Boat and Norwegian Freighter

DETROIT (AP)—"I flew 51 missions over Germany, but I never was as scared as I was today." That is the way mailman John Hynlanski described his nearly fatal experience after the mailboat J. W. Westcott II collided with a freighter on the Detroit River Saturday.

Hynlanski passed under the freighter's thrashing propeller, but was not hurt. Section of the propeller dragged him under water twice after he jumped from the Westcott.

After being struck, the 44-foot mailboat beeled over so far that it nearly overturned. Capt. Alfred Nicholson, 47, of Port Huron yelled at Hynlanski, 40, of Detroit, to jump.

BLAMES SUN

"The sun on our windows was blinding. The freighter blew her whistle, but she was right on top of us," said Hynlanski of the collision with the Norwegian vessel Ravnfjell of Oslo near Belle Isle. Nicholson took the Westcott back to shore under its own power while a pleasure boat rescued Hynlanski.

The Ravnfjell was allowed to proceed after the U.S. Coast Guard questioned its captain and pilot.

Automation to Stay, Says Newspaperman

Writing in The Akron Beacon Journal, BEN MAIDENBURG writes on automation after he frankly confesses he doesn't know a thing about it.

He says in part:

"One of my left-handed friends, name of EMMETT MCMANGAL, who runs a linotype machine in the Beacon Journal's composing room, stopped me the other morning and asked, 'Why don't you write a column on automation?'

"When it comes to the subject of automation, a seedy hobo who never came closer to an automobile than trying to thumb a ride can tell you just how to run General Motors."

"As I see it, the problem with discussing automation is that no one wants to look the facts in the face. Everyone goes about hinting darkly that any time a machine is installed one or more individuals lose their jobs."

"Mr. WALTER REUTHER is in negotiations with the whole auto industry. One thing which is bugging Mr. Reuther is automation. He's trying to wheedle out of the auto industry some sort of cash ransom for the persons he claims have been displaced by nuts and bolts and cogwheels."

"One of the suggestions is for the reduction of the work week, with, of course, no cut in the weekly paycheck. Another involves the building of an automation fund. This calls for auto manufacturers to put dollars into a pool for the sector of some individual who may have been forced out of a job because of a machine."

"The whole business adds up to shaky economics. Whether you cut the work week or contribute to an 'automation fund' you increase the price of the auto."

"I don't care what you're peddling, be it auto, or blue cheese, bus rides or whisky bottle corks there's always a chance you can price yourself out of existence."

"The whole answer to automation is customers. You got customers and automation means nothing. You lack customers and I don't care whether you build balloons with machines or trained ants or sewing by hand and you can take the balloons and stuff them."

"You can lose customers in many ways but the easiest is to up the price so far that the customer can't afford the item."

"There were jobs in this country even when everything was made by hand — before they had machines more complicated than a breakfast table coffee mill."

"Chrysler has a giant stamping plant at Twinsburg. It cost Chrysler around $130 million. The plant is completely automated. Sometimes the machines run 8 hours a day, sometimes 16 hours a day. They could run 24 hours a day — three shifts."

"Assuming everything to be just so, Chrysler could hire about 3,000 men per shift, or a total of NINE THOUSAND daily, instead of what is currently on the payroll — a guess being about 3,000."

"But to have 9,000 men working, there'd have to be customers for the output, and don't think for one second that Chrysler wouldn't just love to have those machines working 24 hours daily, Sunday and the Fourth of July and even New Year's Day."

"It all adds up, friends. No one in his right mind is going to suggest that we put our engineering brains in storage and quit inventing machines. What would the housewives do without the automatic can-opener?"

"So, we're going to have machines, and we're going to have jobs — if there are customers, and if the workman will put out work commensurate with his pay."

"But in the absence of 8 hours' work for 8 hours' pay; and in the absence of customers, there's going to be dislocation of labor. The thing that bothers me is the way that the automation argument turns, someone's merely trying to get 8 hours' pay for 6 hours' work."

Even City Folks Benefit Through Irrigation

In this country's wide western spaces, the Bureau of Reclamation's irrigation projects seldom need explanation. But to the millions of folks in U.S. cities they have a pretty remote sound.

Some recent calculations suggest, however, that irrigation development brings definite benefit to the urban centers.

Government studies disclose that 1,000 acres of newly irrigated land mean 13 "farming opportunities" supporting nearly 50 farm persons and producing an average of $140,000 in crops each year.

With total investment in property, machinery, equipment and supplies coming to about $425,000, it is figured the 1,000 acres provide 66 new jobs supporting 162 people in city areas.

So it is quite easy to see the sound economics of irrigation which most city folks know little if anything about.

The Man About Town

'61 Oakland County Crop Goes to Oxford Elevator

Wise guy: Usually a man who proves by his talk that he isn't.

The first wheat of this year's crop in Oakland County was delivered by

J. M. Lamerson of Lake Orion to the Oxford Cooperative Elevator. On a 58-pound test it showed a 13 per cent moisture.

On a visit among the great wheat fields in the Vassar-Frankenmuth area last week, I was surprised to find that most of the wheat crop had been harvested, while combining in the Pontiac area is just getting under way.

And we must admit that better weather and moisture conditions, and (keep it quiet) better land is bringing a higher yield per acre.

One advantage of a low yield, as pointed out by a prominent Oakland County farmer, is that the wheat heads are not heavy enough to cause the grain to lodge in the field and make harvesting more difficult.

Sorry to say, relatives of Detroit Tigers are scarce in Pontiac. This column has not been able to locate any who are very close of kin.

Writing me from his home in San Diego, Calif., my lifelong friend, (his life), Don Leonard one of Pontiac's first Eagle Scouts, highly commends our Centennial issue. Don says he sold this paper on the streets of Pontiac 38 years ago.

The eight-week-old kitten of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Pierce of Clarkston was the wanderlust. Missing the other day, it was found by Mr. Pierce in his car in a Pontiac factory parking lot, as he was leaving for home after his day's work, having gone to Pontiac with him that morning in a secluded manner.

This column has not been able to locate any who are very close of kin. Somewhat in conflict with his name is Claude Trim who's in charge of the whisker contest at Davisburg's 125th anniversary on Aug. 19-20 — and has raised a good one himself.

If you have a favorite drive in Oakland County, tell us about it, and we'll try to pass the good news on to others.

Tapping only two large trees during the maple syrup season of a few weeks ago,

Raymond Georgeron of Pontiac, Lake made six gallons of 98 per cent pure syrup, which he considers a record for two trees. He writes that the sap simmered on the lowest heat in boiling it down, "without even steaming up the windows."

The Undertow

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Incompetent in Tunisia Move

IN EUROPE—The world is witnessing in the Tunisian affair a clear example of the incompetence or disarray of the United Nations machinery for mediating in international disputes.

When serious trouble breaks out, as it did a few days ago in Tunisia, it is wrong for Dag Hammarskjöld, the secretary general of the United Nations, to accept an invitation from one side and then promptly set forth, by letter to the other side, LAWRENCE proposals that must inevitably be regarded by the latter as partisan.

In the Tunisian controversy, the United Nations called for a "cease fire," and it was obeyed by both sides, though the French refused to withdraw to the naval base troops they had moved into the city to repulse the attack.

A fool's heart is in his tongue; but a wise man's tongue is in his heart.—Francis Quarles.

dent Bourguiba and not on explicit instructions from the Security Council.

"This allowed the French to claim that he was playing the Tunisian side, though his intention is to play the honest broker."

Also, with passions raised to a high point when fighting occurs, it is especially important, after a cease fire, to allow for a cooling-off period before any actual peace proposals are brought forward.

In the Tunisian controversy, the United Nations called for a "cease fire," and it was obeyed by both sides, though the French refused to withdraw to the naval base troops they had moved into the city to repulse the attack.

But the Tunisian government immediately set its foreign minister to Cairo to arrange with the United Arab Republic for "volunteers" to help fight the French forces.

This does not augur well for a negotiation in good faith. President Nasser has just announced that he is sending military equipment and supplies to the Tunisian armed forces. While the United Nations take cognizance of this obvious intervention by military means in the dispute?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For wicked and deceitful mouths are opened against me, speaking against me with lying tongues.—Psalms 109:1.

A fool's heart is in his tongue; but a wise man's tongue is in his heart.—Francis Quarles.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Tranquilizers Are Cause for Doctors' Concern

The effectiveness of tranquilizers in the management of acute mental disturbances has been established beyond question.

Granting that they possess no curative capacities, yet do make it possible to control acute episodes of nervous excitement, agitation and even mania.

But the widespread tendency to rely on long-term use of tranquilizers to ease simple anxiety, restlessness and/or sleeplessness is becoming a matter of great concern to most knowledgeable physicians.

Also to many intelligent patients and an increasing number of the relatives, friends and business associates of the tranquilized.

Here are some of the valid reasons for this concern:

There is no present method for knowing or measuring just what these drugs do to the human brain.

It is all very well to call them psychopharmacologic agents, narcotics (from ataraxia, meaning cool, calm and collected), calmatives, mood drugs and the like.

But word labels are unsatisfactory substitutes for fact.

And, if some 30 million Americans are being tranquilized, they are entitled to know more about tranquilization than what's suggested by a label.

Like alcoholic beverages and the opiates, the tranquilizers provide us with the same false sense of security as many systems for deferred payment. We seem to be getting a big bargain. At least for the moment.

But when the time comes for settling in hard cash, we find ourselves burdened with total costs plus interest and service charges.

"When I first took tranquilizers," observes one wise correspondent, "I quickly realized how much they helped me. I could do things I couldn't do before because of nervousness. Like traveling, speaking before church groups and helping in our local hospital. Soon I came to realize that my pills were acting like a crutch. I felt I was becoming addicted. I began to have crying spells and I was easily upset."

"My doctor said it was just the 'change' and gave me a pill combining with tranquilizer and a gland extract."

"When I continued to be depressed and unable to concentrate, I went to my pastor thinking that maybe his advice would help me over the hurdle. He's been patient and tried hard with me but I still feel so defeated. And I'm so ashamed of having to depend on pills."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 30 words long, pertaining to nervous health and mental illness, may be sent to Dr. William Brady, at 1000 E. Main Street, Pontiac, Michigan, to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The delight in foods is chiefly a learned reaction. Newborn babies apparently have very little fondness for any food except sugar.

That may be why their mother's milk is so much sweeter than the milk of cows or other animals.

Beefsteak, fried chicken, oyster stew, or any of our other adult delicacies are not new to toddlers, or even grammar schoolers, until they have been taught to like these new food items.

"Why do my children turn-up their noses at steak and fried chicken," many parents of school children, have asked, "yet show great fondness for hamburgers and hot dogs?"

Most of you parents have noted this same thing in your own youngsters. They'd rather have a hamburger than a "beef steak," and that is no exaggeration.

Voice of the People:

'Should Give U.N. Support to Resolve Certain Issues'

We should consider the demilitarization of German territory, the withdrawal of German armed forces from German territory and their replacement by U.N. police, guaranteeing a free status for all Berlin and its access routes, the establishment of a U.N. authority over all (East and West) Berlin, and the guarantee of the Germany border lines, with Germany given the chance for reunification.

The United Nations should be given the support to resolve these issues.

At the same time a similar demilitarized status for Poland and Czechoslovakia, and of this area military neutralization to a police level should be negotiated through the United Nations.

'Castro Had Reason for Latest Outrage'

Castro, picked this moment for his latest outrage because he knew everyone was thinking about Berlin. When the Berlin deal is over, he'll give him a massed dash of his own medicine and we have a naval base right there.

'Children and Dogs Picked on Too Much'

Why are some people so full of hate and think they own the world and everyone in it? They holler when your children play loud in their own yard and they gripe if all the neighborhood kids want to play baseball in the road. Aren't children supposed to play or have people forgotten they were children once?

If your dog barks like any normal dog, he's shot with BB guns even though he's tied up.

America is supposed to be a free country, but some people make it hard to keep believing in it.

'Be Sure Fire Is Out When Camping'

We are getting into the season when everyone must be careful with matches in the woods and in the country. Fires are still a nightmare and horror and no one plans. Put out your matches and your summer camp fires. The Press should run this letter every day for the balance of the season.

Held in Fatal Shooting at Ypsilanti Auto Shop

YPSILANTI (AP)—Charles Mitchell, 30, of Ypsilanti, was held for investigation in the fatal shooting of Ernest Moore, 32, of Inkster. Police said the two men quarreled at a Ypsilanti auto repair shop Sunday over the purchase of gasoline and Mitchell produced a pistol. Mitchell was arrested soon afterward at Inkster.

Jackie Suits Up for Skin Diving

Buys a Custom-Made Rubber Jacket for Her Cape Cod Exploring

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, who did some skin diving recently in the famous Greek islands off the Aegean, has purchased a skin diver's rubber jacket for use here. The fast-growing sport of underwater exploring apparently has caught America's First Lady in its spell. It is reported, though, that she also has been using the jacket for another of her favorite sports, water-skiing.

Mrs. Kennedy's order for a custom-made jacket in the standard three-sixteenths of an inch thick, black neoprene rubber was filled about a week ago by the "Diver's Den," a small shop specializing in skin diving gear.

The First Lady, who observed her 32nd birthday Friday, took a size 12 for her slender, 5-foot, 7-inch figure, and a stand-in model, size 12, was quickly scouted to provide the measurements for the bulky rubber jacket with full length rubber sleeves, gaily decorated with a yellow stripe at the neck and down the sleeves.

The Kennedys have purchased skin diving equipment at various times and their boat, the Martin, reportedly carries it for underwater expeditions. There are many reef areas in the Nantuxet Sound and adjacent water areas where Cape Codders like to try skin diving.

The Diver's Den, one of whose owners learned the business as a navy skin diver in World War II, has all the needed equipment. It includes an "air station," where oxygen tanks can be refilled.

The shop is decorated with some relics of ancient Greece that would probably fascinate Mrs. Kennedy if she did her purchasing in person. However, she sent someone else to order and pick up her rubber jacket.

Hanging from the ceiling of the small shop are huge, heavily encrusted amphora, the wine and oil jugs used in ancient times in Asia Minor. They were found by Robert Delashaw, the youthful ex-navy diver, from Quincy, Mass., who helped out on an expedition to the Aegean that explored Greek island areas for sunken ships. The jars have been dated by experts as having been in use about the first century, he said.

Retail Sales Down

DETROIT (AP)—Sales reported by Detroit area retail stores in the first half of 1961 were lower than those for the same period of 1960. Sales of appliances and furniture dipped the furthest, 17 per cent, the Federal Reserve Bank said Saturday.

Wants $10 Billion for Future Outlays

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, in his first six months in office, has advanced concrete proposals for increasing future federal spending by well over $10 billion.

Actually, the eventual spending boost would be even greater under the administration's new and expanded programs. However, $10.477 billion represents the amount of added spending authority which Kennedy wants Congress to provide at this time. Of the total amount, $6.51 billion would be spent during the 1962 fiscal year which began July 1.

The rest would be spread over several years.

NEAR $60 BILLION
In the light of administration programs announced to date, observers expect the fiscal 1962 spending budget to approach $60 billion. This would compare with $57,723,000,000 now officially forecast for the current fiscal year. Although the current-year budget deficit would total at least $2,290,000,000, administration officials are hopeful of balancing the budget next year. Kennedy has warned he will ask Congress for a tax increase, if necessary, to achieve a budget "strictly in balance."

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said recently that if the economy moves ahead as he expects, "our revenues for fiscal 1962 would be adequate to meet all of our national needs with something left over."

That was before Kennedy's $3,454,600,000 proposal for the build-up for Berlin, but the administration argues that, while programming major spending increases, it is pursuing a course of fiscal responsibility with balanced budgets in sight. Critics contend that deficits are the more likely prospect.

The strongest clue to the rising trend in federal spending comes from an analysis of this year's requests to Congress for "new obligations authority" — appropriations, authority to sign contracts, and authority for agencies to spend money borrowed from the Treasury.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower last January asked for $80.9 billion in obligations authority. Revisions and additions by Kennedy have boosted the total to $91.4 billion.

Obbligational authority requests normally exceed spending estimates for any single year because they cover programs coming up in future years. If the navy is to build an aircraft carrier, for example, obligational authority might be provided in one chunk but the money would be spent over several years.

Kennedy contends that Eisenhower's request for obligational authority tell $86 million shy of the amount needed to finance existing programs. He has now added programs of his own calling for an extra $10.4 billion in obligational authority.

Congo Rivals Slated to Meet

Kasavubu and Tshombe Prepare for Talks on Opposite Banks of River

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—Central Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu and Katanga President Moise Tshombe sat at opposite banks of the muddy Congo River today preparing talks that could solve the Congo dilemma.

Kasavubu and Tshombe were scheduled to meet sometime today, but no one knew whether the meeting would take place here in the central government capital or across the river in Brazzaville, where Tshombe is waiting.

Kennedy Hails Labor Relations at Missile Bases

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — President Kennedy today praised a new era of labor relations at the nation's missile and space base sites.

Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, made Kennedy's message public at this first stop on the secretary's quick two-day inspection tour of the labor situation at major missile-space installations.

Goldberg, accompanied by industry and labor union members of the Missile Sites Labor Commission, next will visit Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha. The party then will go to Vandenberg Base in California and finally, to Mountain Home Base, Idaho.

Paper Firm Avoids Strike in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — A contract settlement was reached Friday between the Southernland Printing Co. and Local 1010, United Paperworkers of America.

The new contract ends the threat of a strike that was tentatively set by union members for tonight, when the old contract expires.

The local union contends that it is not on strike and that its members quit in protest over safety conditions at McLaughlin's plants.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Tractor Envoys Return to Cuba

2 Members of Group Stay in U.S. as Crowd of 500 Says Farewell

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Eight tractor-prisoner envoys flew back to Fidel Castro's Cuban jails today, declaring confidently "we shall return."

More than 500 Cuban exiles cheered them loudly at Miami International Airport.

Two members of the delegation that came to implement Castro's pledge to swap 1,200 invasion prisoners for tractors remained behind.

Reinaldo Pico, 27, and Mirto Collazo, 26, claimed Castro reneged on his offer.

TO TALK TRADE
With the eight aboard a regular airliner went a delegation of three from the Cuban Families Tractor Committee. They plan to confer with Castro regarding plans to exchange prisoners piecemeal as ransom tractors become available.

The committee, composed of relatives of prisoners, had been raising funds for the tractors. The exile crowd boomed when a man they recognized as a Cuban police agent boarded the same plane as a passenger. The exiles yelled: "chivato!" — informer.

Ulises Carbo, spokesman for the eight prisoners, declared: "It is tough to go back. But I know that we shall return. We have a very good chance to see our fellow prisoners liberated."

OBJECT OF SEARCH
Pico was the object of a five-hour search Sunday night after his girl friend, Alicia Laun, reported he had been kidnapped from his downtown Miami hotel room.

Pico returned later, however, and explained he had "gone out for a walk." He was questioned briefly by an FBI man and Miami detectives.

Collazo was reported to have left his hiding place in a Miami suburb and gone to Tampa. He said he planned to go from there to Washington.

The Miami Herald reported it learned the Central Intelligence Agency has quit paying some 1,200 Cuban exiles of the anti-Castro military corps who survived the April invasion.

The exile troops, according to Marshall Wise, director of the Cuban Refugee Emergency Center, become eligible for monthly welfare checks from his office, provided they apply. Other Cuban refugees receive the welfare payments.

Wever Troop Members Preparing for Trip

Eleven members of Wever School Boy Scout Troop 20 camped over the weekend in the Wildwood Lakes region of Holly Area State Park, in preparation for a five-day camping trip Aug. 8-13 in the Grayling area.

Larry Gray, 1495 Carlisle Ave., a Tenderfoot, reported that the troop left Pontiac Saturday morning under the supervision of James C. Hayes, assistant scoutmaster, returning Sunday afternoon. Donald Maher, scoutmaster, and other scouts will join the troop in its Grayling campout.

Black and White Show Turns Into Family Affair

TOPS IN SHOW—Two area youths, who entered their Holsteins in the Oakland County Black and White Show Saturday, earned top awards with their animals. Shown receiving the trophy for having the junior champion is Doug Long, 16, of Commerce Township with his senior yearling Mitzi. Bill Hutchins, 18, of Avon Township poses proudly with his 2-year-old milking cow Empress, which was the grand champion. The presentations were made by Herb Miller of Williamston.

Honors Shared by Longs, Middletons and Hutchinses

Three area families who raised Holstein cattle shared top honors in most of the classes at the Oakland County Black and White Show Saturday.

The three are the Stuart Hutchinses of 1062 E. Hamlin Road, Avon Township, the G. Carlos Longs of 3983 Sleeth Road, Commerce Township, and the Keith Middletons of 2919 Stony Creek Road, Captain Township.

For example, Bill Hutchins, 2-year-old milking cow Empress was judged grand champion of the show and Doug Long's senior yearling Mitzi, junior champion.

Carolyn Middleton, 12, earned deserved recognition for expert handling of her cow by winning first place for junior showmanship in the girls' division.

Second place went to Sharon Pickering, 15, of Oakland Township.

Another honor was added to Doug Long's list of accomplishments when he was picked for the senior showmanship award in the boys' division. He is 16.

Junior winner was John Wilson of Oakland Township, who is 13.

Hutch Farms also produced the grand champion bull of the show, which was a junior yearling named Noel.

The show was held at the Oakland County 4-H fairgrounds on Perry Street and Walbridge boulevard.

Following is a list of the classes and the winners in each:

PRESENCE OF BARN
First—Long Haven Farm—trophy presented by Green Family of Pine River Township.
Second—Middleton.
Third—Frank Higgins of White Lake Township.

AGED COW

WINNIFRED O'DONNELL

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. O'Donnell of Forest City, Iowa, announce the engagement of their daughter Winnifred to David Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee of 26 Orion Road, Independence Township. A Sept. 2 wedding is planned.

Addison Given Emergency Unit by Two Groups

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — An emergency rescue unit for the Addison Township Fire Department was presented to the township Saturday by the local police auxiliary and Ground Observer Corps.

The 1960 vehicle, equipped with rollaway cot, siren and running lights, was bought for $2,500. Township Clerk Robert McCallum said a radio and resuscitator also will be installed in the unit.

The vehicle was presented to Township Supervisor Frank Webster Saturday by Francis Westphal, chief of the township's auxiliary police department.

The auxiliary department still must raise $700 for the final payment on the unit. Fund raising events are planned to finance the balance of the purchase price.

The Ground Observer Corps, which recently disbanded here, donated $190 for the vehicle. Mrs. Kenneth Green was chairman of the fund drive for the corps.

State Gets Award for Pedestrian Care

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's 14th consecutive pedestrian protection award will be accepted Tuesday by Gov. John B. Swainson.

Michigan took first place among 11 states of comparable size in the contest sponsored by the American Automobile Association (AAA).

Grand awards were also won by Ferndale and Detroit for cities in their population class.

600 Persons Expected

Camp Meeting Begins Thursday Near Romeo

ROMEO — The 9th annual session of the Simpson Park Camp Meeting, oldest interdenominational camp meeting in Michigan, begins Thursday 1½ miles northwest of here.

Close to 600 persons from all over Michigan, Northern Ohio and other parts of the country are expected to be living on the camp grounds during the 10-day meeting.

They will be housed in cabins, a large hotel and summer, boys' and girls' dormitories and trailers, and they include entire families — from babies in arms to grandparents.

There will be preaching services every day at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m., with Bible classes and recreation planned for the youngsters. The camp has its own fully equipped playground.

First Methodist Church, St. Clair

Missionary Day will be Aug. 8. The 10:30 a.m. service will feature Dr. Lela G. McConnell and Dr. McConnell and the singers are from Mt. Carmel College, Bethany, Ky.

Speaker at the 2 p.m. service will be Rev. Marshall Cavit of the World Gospel Mission. The Methodist Missionary Hour is slated for 7:30 p.m.

The preaching sessions are held in a large wooden building, called the tabernacle, in the center of the park. There is also a book store on the grounds.

The final day of the nearly century-old camp meeting is Aug. 12.

300 Holsteins Slated for Show

Black and White Bred Set for Rural Activities Center Near Ann Arbor

Three hundred or more Holsteins are expected at the State Black and White Show at the Rural Activities Center in Washtenaw County Friday.

For the Holstein breeder, this is the big event of the year, for others, an opportunity to see an outstanding livestock show at no charge, according to officials.

Paul Chaffee, entry clerk of the state show, urges those participating to bring their animals in the day before the show and that registration and health papers be sent along with the animals.

The judging starts at 9 a.m. One class to see is the aged dairy cows — animals that are still outstanding milk producers. There will also be the 4-H and FFA fitting and showing contest.

Howard Wilkie, the State Black and White Show committee chairman, says also that 4-H and FFA leaders are encouraged to bring young people to this event. In fact, this is an opportunity for every dairyman in Michigan to get a first-hand look at some of the best Holsteins in the state, he added.

The Rural Activities Center is half way between Ann Arbor and Saline on the Ann Arbor-Saline Road. This is approximately 50 miles west of Detroit.

It is easily accessible from all directions and plenty of parking space is provided. In case of rain, the show will be held in a tent on the grounds.

In addition, a lunch stand will be set up and free, cold milk will be furnished by the American Dairy Association of Michigan and the Michigan Holstein-Friesian Association.

Eastern Michigan Fair Opening This Evening

IMLAY CITY — The 33rd annual Eastern Michigan Fair gets underway officially at 6 p.m. today with the opening of carnival shows and rides on the midway.

Following flag raising ceremonies at 7:45 p.m., an exciting display of stunt driving will be presented on the race track by Dapper Dan Fleener's Hell Drivers. Admission at the gate will be free tonight.

The business of the fair actually started at 10 a.m. today when judging of 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America projects began at the fairgrounds.

The business of the fair actually started at 10 a.m. today when judging of 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America projects began at the fairgrounds.

PATRICIA ANN HINES

Announcement is made of the engagement of Patricia Ann Hines to Norman Leroy Gidcomb by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hines of 4161 Bunker Road, West Bloomfield Township. The prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ovis Gidcomb of 6410 Upper Straits Blvd., West Bloomfield Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

The horse racing events are scheduled to be held tomorrow through Friday at 8 p.m. In case of inclement weather, races not held during the week will be presented at 2 p.m. Saturday, the final day of the fair.

Games and special events for the youngsters will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday and a pony race for children will be staged an hour later.

Horse judging and competition in the Eastern Michigan Dairy Show will begin at 10 a.m. Wednesday and the midway also will open at that hour.

Judging of livestock is scheduled for 10 a.m. Thursday and the tractor hauling contest is slated for 2 p.m.

A parade of automobiles and farm machinery will be held at 1:30 p.m. followed by children's events at 2 p.m. and horse and pony racing for children at 3:30 p.m.

A tug of war between Lapeer County fire department teams is slated for 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Highlighting the final day of the fair will be the presentation of Minnie Pearl and her variety stage show at 8:15 p.m. Saturday. The radio star's appearance will be the entertainment feature of the fun-filled carnival.

The stage show will be preceded by the finals in the tug of war contest at 7:30 p.m. The midway opens at 10 a.m. Saturday and a livestock parade will start at 1:30 p.m.

Following today's program, admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for persons under 12 years of age.

LAUGHING NOW, BUT—Andrea Lee, a pacer entered in several races at the Eastern Michigan Fair this week in Imlay City, seems mighty pleased with herself now. Her trainer, Cecil H.

Watson of Detroit, hopes she will be just as happy when the results of her races are posted. Horse racing will be featured nightly at the fair beginning tomorrow.

Says Phyllis Battelle

Phony Femininity Galling Girls Greatly

NEW YORK—If there's anything that curbs the lip of an intelligent woman, it is the sight of a helpless man being seared by another woman's phony femininity.

There she is, Miss Cautious, the acme of cool calculation and hard efficiency at the literary club— but now she is in the vicinity of a martini and a man, and she is gooey as hot fudge.

All wonderment and delicacy is this woman who happen to know is a tiger at the bridge table. Her dainty feet, which have trod over secretaries all day, are poised tippy-toe for dancing; her voice, as she tells a man she's heard so much about him, is cloying; her countenance, capable in daytime of freezing entire women's committees, is serene and smiling.

And does she fool this hapless male for one moment? You bet she does.

At least, that is the age-old pattern of shrewd women in search of a man. And that is the age-old— though rapidly changing— reaction of men in search of femineity. And mine is the age-old nausea of that large segment of ladies who are either too honest, too stupid or too introverted to play it fragile when we've never felt huskier, or to act naive when we know we can carry on an enlightened conversation.

The trend toward "playing it dumb" is becoming more pronounced than ever, with all the current talk of female domination. Sociological studies show that American girls are openly frightened of being labeled "aggressive" and will go to any deceptive lengths to hide whatever intellect and assertiveness their educations have given them.

This being so, one would think that more and more men would be innocently bartering their bachelorhood for a bundle of acting talent wrapped around a hidden steeltrap mind.

The facts show, however (and praises be), that this is not the case. Men are smartening up. They are avoiding the openly aggressive type, of course, but they also are donning their armor and acquiring X-ray intuitions against the would-be femme fatales who are all-out to snatch them.

There is no single simple explanation for why males have suddenly (at least it seems sudden) developed such comparatively keen insight into the wiles of women, but it would seem logical to gather that all the emphasis on male-female dominance has caused men to study all kinds of women with more perception and apprehension.

The result is that they are much more difficult to trap with the baits of either Pseudo-Six or excessive brilliance.

lance. American men are becoming leery of both, and once they get safely past the reasoning age of 25, statistics show they are far less likely to get married at all than their fathers were.

The current "Good Housekeeping" carries opinions of certain famed thinking males on the subject of "How to get nowhere with a man." In it are these three slaps at the girls who try to rub spouses through the deceitful route:

Hal March — "Just as bad as a domineering woman is an overfeminine, wily one. You know her, the woman who plays too hard at being feminine."

Peter Ustinov — "I think the biggest strain on first meeting a woman is to be treated as if you were more interesting than you seem to yourself."

Patrick Dennis — "I can't bear a woman who tips your shoes off, slips a pair of slippers on you, flings you into a chair and then says, 'Tell me about your day!'"

Men obviously are becoming so savvy that it's going to take finer and finer womanly techniques to win them. If they continue to shy off from both brilliance and false naïveté, American girls are going to have a tricky time of it. They may even be forced to practice the old-fashioned traits of honesty, loyalty and man-before-me in order to acquire a happy home.

Meantime, it's consoling for the intelligent woman who is getting nowhere with a man to know that the lass with the delicate mare is getting nowhere too.

Alpine Motif Is Used for Eighth County Fair

An Alpine motif was selected for St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church's eighth annual Country Fair Saturday.

Booths with games, food and bargain items were on the grounds and in the church undercroft for the fair, held in the rural setting of the former Scripps Estate.

Special fair features included a ball-throwing contest, silhouettes booth, cake walk and Country Cupboard with homemade pickles, relishes, jellies, cookies, pies and bread. Refreshments and a ham dinner were served. For the children there were supervised pony and antique car rides in the "Kiddie Park."

Serving as committee chairmen were Don Shultz of Lake Angelus, door prizes; Arthur Dodge, Lake Angelus, and Edward Calhoun, Birmingham, refreshments; Mrs. Dodge, Mrs. B. F. Zinn and Mrs. Donald Schutze, Lake Angelus, cake and ice cream booth; Gus Kostopolis, pop corn wagon; George Kimber and Jay Isles of Lake Orion, cracker barrel; Mrs. C. B. Leach, Lake Angelus, and Mrs. Allen Malcolmson, Birmingham, gift booth.

Others were Mrs. Ester Hubbard and Mrs. Bertha Gray, Lake Angelus, white elephant booth; Mrs. Edith Vockley and Mrs. Catherine Butler, Lake Angelus, and Mrs. Peg McCallum, Birmingham, "next-door"; Mrs. Alice Spitzer, Lake Betty Isles, Lake Orion, Christmas booth; Mrs. Leona Beatty, Birmingham, and Mrs. Jean Deuster, Lake Angelus, Country Cupboard; Mrs.

Glady Wilmot and Mrs. Louise Proctor, Lake Angelus, hats and bags; Mrs. Sunny Shultz and Mrs. Alice Pettis, Lake Angelus, giftery counter; and Mrs. Barbara Lake and Mrs. Kay Beatty, Lake Orion, Kiddie Corner.

Completing the list were Ben Welte, Lake Orion, bird houses; Tom Lombardo and the church Men's Club, men's white elephant booth; Mrs. Barbara Thomson, Clarkson, and Mrs. Kostopolis, treasure and hobby corner; Mrs. Jean Calkins, Birmingham, straw market; and Helen Parker, Lake Orion, chair booth.

In charge of the ham dinner were Mrs. Eve Albert, chairman, assisted by Mrs. H. A. Robinson, Mrs. Rhela Kimber, Mrs. B. A. Titus and Mrs. Crawford.

Games galore were featured at St. Mary's Saturday fair. The colorful ring the dancing doll's leg hoop toss caught the eye of many visitors, along with a "Dunk the Drip" booth, rogue's gallery and horse shoe pitching contest. The former Scripps Estate was the setting for the event.

Weddings Reunion Planned

By RUTH SAUNDERS
BIRMINGHAM — The engagement of Helen Judith Essig, daughter of Mrs. Robert W. Essig of Waterfall Lane and the late Mr. Essig, to Louis Michael Murphy has been announced.

Mr. Murphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Murphy of Buffalo, N. Y. He was graduated from Michigan State University and is now living in San Francisco.

Judy also was graduated from Michigan State University. The couple plans a late summer wedding.

Mrs. Walter C. Zimmer entertained at a luncheon and kitchen shower for bride-elect Marjorie Royce, who will marry John Blakey Aug. 12 in Holy Name Church.

Dr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp are entertaining their four children and their offspring in their home on Yarmouth Road.

Included are Maj. and Mrs. Stanley Reinhardt Jr. and their two young daughters who are en route from Germany to Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. Mr. Reinhardt is the former Sally Kemp.

Mary Kemp is here from Washington, D. C., where she is living and Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Kemp Jr. are coming from their home in West Palm Beach.

From the Southwest will come the Robert Risleys who will bring their five children from their home in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Risley is the former Katherine Kemp.

Mrs. H. J. Stringham has returned from a ten day visit in Scarsdale, N. Y.

Lindsay Vandever is off to Costa Rica to attend the wedding of a former Abbott Academy classmate.

Molly Martin and Jay Miller have planned a supper party in the Martin home Aug. 5 for bride-elect Sally Austerberry of Detroit who will be married Aug. 12 to Dennis Allen Dinan of Bloomfield Hills.

He is the son of John T. Dinan and the late Mrs. Dinan.

David W. Lee Jr. is planning a dinner for Dennis and Sally Aug. 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Jere B. Gillett and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Hayes, who have recently moved from Birmingham to Cleveland, are planning a fabulous trip to Alaska later in the season. They will go by charter boat through the inland waterways. The Charles Hymans of Toledo will also be members of the cruise.

Raise Cain, Says Abby

Church Is His Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are very active in our church, but my husband is overdoing it. He attends board meetings, men's club meetings, he is on the planning committee for all fund-raising affairs, and he never misses a bingo game, carnival or square dance.

ABBY: This means he is gone from home four, and sometimes five, nights a week for as long as five hours at a stretch.

I am neither baggy, saggy, haggard or raggy. I enjoy church activities, too, but I don't leave him in order to participate. I could cope with "another woman," but how does a wife compete with God?

Truly yours, CHURCH WIDOW

DEAR CHURCH WIDOW: Do not confuse God with bingo, square dances and carnivals. Granted, most churches need funds (and fund-raising affairs) for survival, but I think your husband is more interested in "fun-raising." Do a little "roof-raising."

DEAR ABBY: I was a married woman who took on a "silent sweetheart" behind locked doors. He was single with nothing to lose. He was silent for only six months. Then he got tired of me and shot off his big mouth.

Everywhere I go I wonder if they know about me. I can't hold my head up any more. I am so afraid one day my children will find out about me.

How I envy those women who can lay their heads down at night and know they have never been unfaithful. I only wish I had behaved. Believe me, it wasn't worth it. Please print this, Abby. It might save someone's soul.

A WEAK WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: A friend who is very dear to me has a daughter who is the rudest 16-year-old I have ever known. When they visit us, the mother will make a simple statement such as, "There were about 30 of us there," when this insolent child will interrupt with, "Don't exaggerate, there were only 20."

This child thinks nothing of saying to her mother, "Oh, shut your mouth!" This is more than I can stand. The poor mother just smiles and tries to hide her hurt.

Several of our friends have remarked on this girl's nastiness. It bothers me to see my friend abused so because she is one of the sweetest ladies I have ever known. What can I do to help her?

OLD ACQUAINTANCE: Nothing new. Your friend may be "sweet" but she certainly is inept as a mother. Poor child! Life will be rough on her for not knowing the things her mother should have taught her years ago.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HAVE MY DOUBTS": I regret to inform you that there is no doubt about it. Maternity wedding gowns are definitely on the market.

Prize-winning entry in the national sewing contest of the National Grange was this green and white gingham dress by Janelle Hagen of Virgil, South Dakota. The 14-year-old high school sophomore raised the simple twistwaist dress to boutique elegance with meticulously worked original cross-stitch embroidery on the sleeves and skirt. Miss Hagen, whose future plans include a career in fashion design, won a trip for two to Bermuda.

Deadlines Are Hard Master

Don't Let Time Run Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Do you run time or are you run by it? Does life wind you up like clock every day, so that you tick off the minutes in a prescribed and inescapable way? Are you such a slave to time that even your more flamboyant moments are only possible if they fit into your planned routine just like a clock is set to alarm at a given instant?

The pressure of time actually can lead to a physical breakdown and it certainly robs you of any opportunity to savour life with contentment, to become aware of the beauty and the people about you, really to taste the small daily experiences in living which are so packed with humor and warmth, stimulation and paths.

I do not believe that anything builds tension faster than living by deadlines and many of these are self-imposed and unnecessary. We all become so imbued with efficiency and the importance of what we are doing, and so accustomed to rush, that we do not realize that many of the things we feel we must do at a given time CAN wait until later on.

GIVES EXAMPLE

I myself have discovered this to be true. The first time I had to work with pressure and what it can do to one was when I ran into my first huge response from readers.

The mail had been rolling in, via mail trucks. We had been working hard to answer it just as rapidly as possible with secretaries working during the day and another staff working from six to midnight. These two mail days the truck brought 15,000 letters more than we had been able to handle in several days.

That night I developed difficulty in breathing. I felt that I could not get enough air and kept taking very deep breaths.

The doctor, called at my husband's insistence, ordered me not to work for three days. He didn't even want me around the working area, but told me to play bridge or take a lunch to the park, or do anything I wanted to except work. This seemed absolutely impossible at the time, but it wasn't and the mail got out.

BRINGS RELIEF

Many physical difficulties are attributed to tension and the more we are for life and the more interests we have, the more important it is for us to remember this.

I am glad that I learned this lesson because it is a great relief. I often think (after pushing to ward some goal), "Well, I do not really HAVE to go on that trip this week. It can wait until next week." or "That lampshade will simply have to remain as it is until I have more time," or "I have been looking forward to having that dinner party for a month, but it can wait another week."

If we do not adopt this attitude, we may break a spring and then life might not be able to wind us up again!

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Exercises for Relaxing," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 24. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Pair Hosts Picnic for Church Circle

Mr. and Mrs. Irl Williams of Dover Road were picnic hosts to Mary-Ann Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church Wednesday.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kunes of Port Huron, East Foster, Mrs. Clayton Gillies and Mrs. John Wethy and family.

"God's Word and Our Words" was the theme for devotions by Mrs. Williams.

The September meeting will be with Mrs. Vernon Gibbons of East Kennett Road.

Classmates Fete Bride

Former St. Frederick High School classmate of Marie Cecilia McGill honored her at a luncheon and bridal shower Saturday in Devon Grables.

Among the 32 guests were Mrs. George E. McGill of East Irons Road and Mrs. Leo Larr of Drayton Plains. Mothers of Miss McGill and her fiancé, Charles R. Larr.

Places were also marked for Mrs. Charles Lalone of San Diego, Calif., Mrs. A. J. Sonnenberg of Sheffield, Ohio, Mrs. John Rand-so and Mrs. Thomas McGill of Detroit, Mrs. Kenneth Hahnfeld of Orchard Lake, Mrs. Leo Timma of Farmington, Mrs. Frank Cozzi of Upton, Mrs. Lyle Walker of Ironton, Mrs. Vern Dufussell of Caro, Mrs. George Wellock of Bad Axe, Mrs. Stuart Farmer of Flint, Mrs. Herman Fisher of Birmingham and Mrs. Wesley Bachelor of Livonia.

Also present were Mrs. James House of Bay City, who will be her sister's honor matron at the Sept. 2 nuptials in St. Vincent de Paul Church, and Mrs. Robert Switzerberg of Metamora, who will be a bridesmaid at her brother's wedding.

Name Attendants During Shower for Linda Burt

Linda Burt announced her attendants at a shower in her home Saturday afternoon at Ted's Restaurant. Co-hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Maynard Holmes and Mrs. Edwin Manley.

Attending Miss Burt, bride-elect of Richard Pifer, at her August 19 wedding will be matron of honor Mrs. Laurence Beemer, maid of honor Phyllis Burt and bridesmaids Mrs. Gerald Buck of Ypsilanti, Carolyn Pifer and Judy Pifer. The wedding party will also include Christie and Randy Holmes and Kathy Manley.

Guests present included Mrs. Bull Burt, Mrs. Beemer, Mrs. A. C. Kirby, Mrs. Thad Taylor, Mrs. Stuart Davis, Mrs. Harold Adams, Mrs. Howard Sage, Mrs. Bruce Feh and Mrs. David Taylor. Others were Mrs. Albert Chandler, Mrs. C. L. Reichert, Phyllis Burt, Carolyn Davis, Carolyn Pifer and Judy Pifer.

To remove dog and cat hair from clothes, moisten a rubber sponge and rub fabric lightly.

Bloomfield Hills Couple Speak Vows

Whit rose trees flanked a massed arrangement of ferns in Bloomfield Hills Country Club Saturday evening for the reception which followed vows of Ellen Virginia Flint to Marcus E. Cunningham Jr. in Christ Church, Cranbrook. Rev. Lester P. Dehman performed the candlelight ceremony.

Album lilacs and greens in silver vases centered the bride's table and guests were served supper at small tables around the dance floor.

The Robert H. Flints and the Marcus E. Cunninghams, all of Bloomfield Hills are parents of the bride couple.

Pale ivory pearls on a sole enhanced by Alcon lace applique for the bride was styled with sheath skirt and chapel train. A lace pillow held the bouffant veil of illusion. The bride carried Amazon lilies, ivy and lilies of the valley.

Attendants wore Nile green silk organza frocks with satin midriffs and draped bell skirts. Their hair bouffants were veiled and they carried white marguerite daisies.

Golden garnet roses were included in bouquets for Mrs. G. Bretnell Williams, matron of honor and Susan Elizabeth Flint, who was her sister's honor maid. Bridesmaids were Virginia Hall, Santa Clara, Calif., Marilyn Olson, San Francisco, LuAnne Aulepp and Mrs. John Follansbee, New York City, Mrs. Robert Gilroy and Mrs. Creighton W. Runnette.

Charles Cunningham served as his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Ensign William T. Gossett Jr., G. Bretnell Williams, Daniel Beresford and Stephen Saunders, all of Bloomfield Hills, Henry Garity of Waterbury, Conn., Martin Burke III of Chicago.

cago and John Neumeier of Minneapolis.

Green cymbidium orchids were planned to Mrs. Flint's purse of pale yellow silk and matching shoes with a Balmine yellow and green warped tulle print. Her circle hat was of soft green feathers.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Cunningham chose shell-pink inported lace over a pink taffeta tunic. Pink Bountiful roses topped her pink satin purse.

Leaving for a honeymoon at Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride donned a coral and beige silk print with beige woolen coat lined with print. Beige accessories and a pean velvet hat completed her ensemble.

Winner Not Too Happy With Girls' Selection

PINEROLO, Italy (AP)—Mario Gendarin was none too pleased today after a jury of pretty girls chose him "Mr. Brutto 1961" in an annual competition at the village of Luserna San Giovanni. Brutto means ugly and the contest chooses the town's ugliest man.

Gendarin, 36, a carpenter, said "I knew I wasn't handsome, but I didn't think I was that ugly."

Jobs May Jump in Detroit Area

Board of Commerce Believes 4th Quarter Will Be Best of Year

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Board of Commerce anticipates an improvement in business in the Motor City area in the fourth quarter of 1961.

er plans to purchase new cars and a significant improvement in national economy would be behind the rise.

The board said Detroit production workers now average 40.7 hours of work a week, better than the national average of 40.1. Last February the Detroit average was 39.0 hours.

But the Detroit notes that unemployment remains a problem in Detroit. During the first six months of this year unemployment in Detroit averaged 12.7 per cent of the labor force, double what it was in the first six months of 1960.

Insurance statisticians say that of the 7,300 deaths from fires and other burns, in the United States each year, about 5,700 — or nearly four-fifths — occur in the home.

Sight of Jazz Mess Brings Site Change

BEAULIEU, England (AP)—left in the wake of this year's festival.

Lord Montagu of Beaulieu, the heaviest noble in the realm, sadly announced today he is abandoning his annual jazz festivals in the crumbling ruins of the local abbey.

He is afraid the village of Beaulieu, population 1,000, will end up in ruins, too.

Montagu made his decision after surveying the splintered windows and trampled flower beds sprawled with their girls on the roadsides.

"It was sickening," Montagu declared.

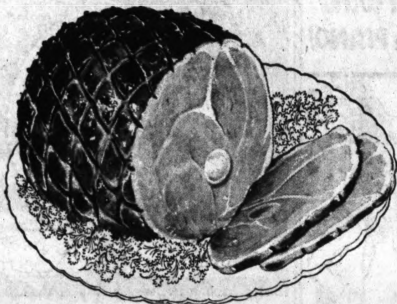

There were riots last year, too. "It has become increasingly apparent," said Montagu, "what there is a large crowd of irresponsible persons who come to Beaulieu with no other intention than to cause trouble."

It wasn't the fault of the genuine jazz fans, he said.

Montagu hired a special corps of tough cops from the local constabulary to help keep order. Boys from a local boxing club and Ju-Jitsu exponents from Cambridge University also stood guard to throw out gate crashers.

Montagu said he wasn't giving up the idea of holding a festival in some other place. But not in Beaulieu. He owns the place.

Construction Really Soars in Waterford

Waterford Township has suddenly taken on the aspects of a young giant. It is devouring huge "meals" of construction investment, flexing its "muscles" of widespread diversified building and seems to be trying to burst out of any conventional definition of progress.

In the construction field alone, permits issued by the building department in the first six months of this year were valued at $5,140,000. The same period last year saw such valuations reach an impressive but lesser figure of $3,229,000.

There are bowling alleys, a high school, stores, offices and a multitude of other commercial and public buildings under construction. In the first half of this year, their permit value alone reached $2.78 million.

At the same time, 119 new homes, with a permit value of $1.82-million were started. The average value of these new dwellings was $15,300, based on the valuations on the permits.

But the giant is not without its growing pains.

A proposal to change Waterford into a charter township, with the hope of easing bond issue strains, will appear on the Sept. 12 ballot.

Construction is the most obvious part of Waterford Township's explosive growth.

In the top row, left, steelworkers balance precariously on the new J. L. Hudson Co. budget store mall in a new shopping center on Telegraph Road at Elizabeth Lake Road. Besides Hudson's, the Pontiac Mall will feature such stores as Kroger's and Montgomery Ward's, as well as several other retail outlets.

Center row, left, new facades will welcome Waterford bowlers this season. Among them is the building being constructed for Joseph Puertas on South Cass Lake Road.

Bottom row, left, the Kettering High School gym looks like this on the inside. The $2½-million senior high school is scheduled to open Sept. 7.

Bottom row, center, project engineer Ted Udry and project superintendent Donald J. Baize look over plans for four railroad spurs to be installed for a new Dundee Cement Co. distribution center on Williams Lake Road between Airport Road and Dixie Highway.

Bottom row, right, another bowling alley is being built for Joe Bonfiglio, Dominic Mazza and Frank Benning. It is the first unit of a $3-million Airways Plaza shopping center on Highland Road near Crescent Lake Road.

Baseball Field Dedication at 8

City Officials to Help Celebrate New Lights; Weekend Was Busy

Mayor Phil Rowston and city manager Walter K. Willman will be the batterymates for the opening pitch and speak along with other city officials tonight at the dedication of Pontiac's first lighted baseball park at Jostyn and Walton. The Joy Boy Jets and CIO will be the opposing teams in a Class A-B makeup game.

City baseballers nearly wore out the local diamonds in 22 contests Saturday and Sunday. Clay Williams singled across the clincher in the 8th at CIO, squeezed past Talbott Lumber 5-4 while Oxford and Don's Used Cars tied 5-5 in eight innings at the half-way yesterday.

Webster Homes won a forfeit over West Suburban Boys Club 5-0 in Class E American. Huron Bowl slipped Oxford 12-11 and bowed to West Keweenaw 9-3 and Auburn Boys Club took Oxford 5-1 in Class E American. Ted Lawrence had four hits for Moose. Huron got its 13 runs in the last two innings. Dag Reddaway fired a three-hitter for Auburn.

In "E" National play, Coca Cola took McDonald's 12-4 and lost to Dixie Dury 3-5. Great Lakes blasted McDonald's 12-4 and St. Mike's 6-1. Northside bombed the Arcs 22-5 and the Boys Club 19-9. Dixie Dury whipped Fellers 10-1. Auburn Boys Club won 10-1. Ted Lawrence had four hits for Moose. Huron got its 13 runs in the last two innings. Dag Reddaway fired a three-hitter for Auburn.

Jerry in 'Amazing Finish'

Barber, January Play Off Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerry Barber, a mighty little bantam who didn't know when to quit, and shaken, unbelieved Don January play 18 extra holes today for the National PGA Golf Championship at Olympia Fields in the wake of what Barber called "the most amazing finish of my career."

Four strokes behind January, a jittery Texan with a picture swing, with three holes to play, the fantastic Barber sank putts of 30, 40 and 50 feet—two of them in 1958.

Each sees his first major championship. Barber, who would become the oldest player by nearly six years to win the PGA, came within one stroke and two holes of winning the 35-year-old January will try to settle a duel that carried through 35 prescheduled holes Sunday over the 6,725-yard, par 35-55-70 Olympia north course. It is the first playoff in the four years since the PGA became a medal play meet.

Suspend Tommy Bolt for Abusive Language

CHICAGO (AP)—Tommy Bolt was in the Professional Golfers Association dog house again today and trying to bark his way out.

The 43-year-old stormy petrel of golf's tournament circuit was definitely suspended from PGA-sponsored meets on a charge of using abusive language in the locker room of Olympia Fields Country Club.

It was just what Bolt's day, after storming around and declaring himself innocent of the charge, he himself had fired his gun and found the police had towed it away. It had been parked in an officials' building without proper identification on the windshield.

The PGA executive committee didn't give me a chance to defend myself. A meeting was called and action taken without calling me in. It deprives me of making a living.

"They told me an official of the club had turned me in. But they wouldn't tell me who it was. I was deprived of facing my accuser."

For the suspension, Bolt fumed.

Yankees Lose Twice

By The Associated Press

Baltimore's fine pitching made the Yankees' home run thunder sound as loud as a cat on a rug over the weekend. The Orioles batters not only dampened the New York's gun powder but moved Baltimore back in the contention in the American League.

Barber, January Play Off Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Jerry Barber, a mighty little bantam who didn't know when to quit, and shaken, unbelieved Don January play 18 extra holes today for the National PGA Golf Championship at Olympia Fields in the wake of what Barber called "the most amazing finish of my career."

Four strokes behind January, a jittery Texan with a picture swing, with three holes to play, the fantastic Barber sank putts of 30, 40 and 50 feet—two of them in 1958.

Suspend Tommy Bolt for Abusive Language

CHICAGO (AP)—Tommy Bolt was in the Professional Golfers Association dog house again today and trying to bark his way out.

The 43-year-old stormy petrel of golf's tournament circuit was definitely suspended from PGA-sponsored meets on a charge of using abusive language in the locker room of Olympia Fields Country Club.

It was just what Bolt's day, after storming around and declaring himself innocent of the charge, he himself had fired his gun and found the police had towed it away. It had been parked in an officials' building without proper identification on the windshield.

The PGA executive committee didn't give me a chance to defend myself. A meeting was called and action taken without calling me in. It deprives me of making a living.

"They told me an official of the club had turned me in. But they wouldn't tell me who it was. I was deprived of facing my accuser."

For the suspension, Bolt fumed.

Eight Right Handers on AL Starting Team for Second Game

BOSTON (U) — Manager Paul Richards, an old hand at strategy, presented a drastically revamped starting line up to the American League tonight to end the National supremacy today in the second 1961 All-Star game.

Greatly disturbed by the Nationals success in recent years Richards took advantage of injuries and additions to throw eight right handed hitters with the idea of taking dead aim at Fenway Park's heaving porch in left field.

Injuries to New York's lefty hitter Roger Maris and Tony Kubek have given Richards an opportunity to test right-handed theory. He has replaced them with two right-handed hitters, Detroit's Al Kaline in right field and Chicago's Luis Aparicio at shortstop.

The All Star spectacle, once a beautiful summer's dream, has become a nightmare to the American League. In the last 14, the junior circuit has been able to win but four. The National, once behind 12 games to four, now trails only by a 16-14 margin.

Pontiac Skaters Win Team Title in Skate Meet

Special To The Pontiac Press
FORT WORTH, Tex. — A pair of first places Sunday gave the Pontiac Bulldogs the team championship in the 1961 American Roller Skating Championships.

Pontiac skaters winning individual titles were Joan Hartley in the Juvenile D Girls Speed event and the Senior Men's team of Louis Parker, Sylvia Ritchie, Sue Welch and David Schafer.

Scott Harritt had won the Juvenile C Boys speed earlier in the week.

Placing second in the last day was the Pontiac Senior Dance team of Parker and Mary Alice Clouse. Mary Jo Kunk was second in Senior Ladies Speed.

Fair Wins Mid-Season Feature at Sandusky

Pontiac's Joy Fair won the mid-season championship at Sandusky Speedway yesterday and it was his 5th win of the season as the leading driver of the Ohio track. He started out last and took the lead in the 8th lap, holding it for 22 laps.

Friday night in an invitational race at Dixie Speedway, Fair will be one of 12 super modified drivers going against 12 sprint cars.

HALF TON DEFENSE—Here's 1,000 pounds of men who make up the middle of the Detroit Lions' defensive unit. These Durrin McDord, defensive end at 250 pounds. Under the scoring system, the defensive unit is favored to outscore the offensive team in the game.

Offensive Team Called 'Underdog' for Saturday Scrimmage

Lions Have 'Scoring Defense'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When the Lions were winning eight of the last 10 games, including the Playoff Bowl against the Cleveland Browns, last year, the biggest factor for the surge to second place in the Western Division was the defensive unit.

The defensive team allowed only 33 points in the last eight games and scored shutouts over San Francisco, 24-0 and the Bears, 36-0.

The big-four in the middle of the defensive line, the "Half Ton Quartet" are back and they will be ready to make things miserable for some of their own teammates Saturday night in the full dress scrimmage at Wm. Stadium.

"In the last four years, the defensive team would have won a third of the games by the scoring system we use in the dress scrimmage game," said coach George Wilson.

Last year the score would have been 16-14 in favor of the defensive team.

The "Half Ton Quartet" which spearheads the Lions' four-man line includes Bill Glass, 255, and Durrin McDord, 250, at the defensive ends; Roger Brown, 325 and Alex Karras 255 at the defensive tackles.

According to the scoring system used by the coaches in their scrimmages, the regular scoring rules apply for the offensive team. The defensive unit gains two points each time it stops a first down. Two points are awarded for an interception and for a blocked field goal and one point each for a fumble recovery and when the offense fails to make good on a field goal.

The interception rule could be a big scoring rule for the defense. Should a defensive back go all the way for a TD with an interception it would mean six points plus two more for making the interception. There will be no punts or kicks in the intra-squad game and play will go to the 20 yard line each time an offensive threat is stopped.

The Lions started twice-daily workouts today in preparation for Saturday night's big scrimmage and for the first exhibition game which is only 10 days away against the Browns in Tiger Stadium, Friday night July 11th.

Back in camp yesterday after disappearing from Cranbrook on Tuesday is Ron Hartline, the Oklahoma back. Hartline, a 223-pounder who was the team's 4th draft choice, took part in Sunday morning's session.

Yale Lary, ace defensive back and punter of the team, will be out of workouts with an ear infection, and Durrin McDord worked out lightly with a bad case of blisters on his feet.

Practice sessions are scheduled for 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. at Cranbrook.

Legislature Out to Coordinate Seekers of Industry for State

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a two-part series reviewing the problem of economic development in the state and some of the things being done to solve it. The second part will appear in the next issue.)

By LOIS McKEE
LANSING (UPI) — "We must provide between 50,000 and 100,000 jobs a year for the next several years to come."

Michigan's industry must be diversified if it is to survive competition with other states. "The tax structure must be revised if we are to attract new industries and keep the ones we have."

These remarks and similar variations have become almost clichés in Michigan in the past few years when unemployment has been high and movement of industries out of the state has been noted with increasing alarm.

The ways to provide these new jobs, attract new industries, encourage expansion of existing businesses and increase the tax base have become a matter of concern to local and state government agencies and members of both political parties.

The state has a Department of Economic Development working on the problem of finding new jobs.

Businessmen have organized a "More Jobs for Michigan Committee" with a goal of 50,000 new jobs every year.

The governor has a commission on industrial development legislation.

Michigan's industrial ambassadors are working in the same field. The State Chamber of Commerce, local chambers, local industrial development corporations and countless other groups with similar aims are making plans for action.

Each has a common goal which is lumped together under the heading of economic development, but the individual efforts are interested and varied. It has come to the point where many groups are concentrating on the same goal but there is little awareness about what the other groups are doing.

A legislative committee appointed during the 1961 session set its aim to determine what is being done in the state—on all levels—and where duplication can be avoided for the best interests of both local communities and Michigan as a whole.

"There must be overall direction to coordinate the activities of all the groups working in the area of Michigan's economic growth," said Rep. Gilbert E. Burley, R-East Arbor, who chairs the Joint Legislative Committee on Michigan's Economic Growth.

The committee believes legislative action may be required to implement some of the ideas which are being used to enhance Michigan's image as a great industrial state.

Members of the committee were selected to give representation from all areas of the state. The appointments also gave the committee some of the key chambers who likely would consider the group's recommended legislation.

THE MEMBERS

House members named were Burley and Rep. Walter H. Mill, D-Muskegon; Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton; Allison Green, R-Kingman; William R. Copeland, D-Wyandotte; and Harry De Maso, R-Battle Creek. The Senate appointees were co-chairman John H. Stahl, R-Belding; Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo; Clyde H. Goettling, R-Holland; Frank D. Bendle, R-St. Clair; Harold Ryan, D-Detroit; and Charles O. McManis, D-Houghton.

Conlin and Goettling are chairmen of the taxation committees in their respective houses. Green, Bendle and Ryan are party leaders in the House and Senate. Stahl is one of at least one business man and has interest in others, while Ryan is associated with the labor viewpoint.

Mill comes from an area which recently lost a major manufacturer when Borg-Warner moved its Norge Division to Arkansas. De Maso has sponsored industrial development legislation in recent years.

Copeland represents the down-river industrial area in Southeastern Michigan and McManis is from the Upper Peninsula, where declining activity in the mining industry has put unemployment at a record high. Thus the 1961 legislature set the stage for drawing together the many efforts to provide new industries and jobs for Michigan.

Claims Blimps Best for Job

Could Rescue Capsules Better Than Helicopters, Says Retired Admiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — An expert on dirigibles proposed today they be used instead of helicopters to fish Mercury astronauts and their capsules from the water.

Vice Adm. T. G. W. Settle (Ret.), former head of naval airship training and experimentation, said that a blimp been used in Virgin I. Grisson's space flight capsule and its valuable films and other data could have been recovered safely.

Also, Settle said, Grisson would have been spared the harrowing fight against wave action of helicopter prop wash.

Two years ago, Settle said in an interview, the Defense Department suggested that Navy blimps be considered as recovery vehicles for the Mercury astronauts. He said the fleet turned down the idea on the ground no airship could be spared from operational assignments.

In June, however, the Navy announced the end of its lighter-than-air program and the planned deflation and storage of its fleet of about 15 blimps. The former Navy officer said that Mercury Recovery shots are fairly straightforward, with landing areas accurately predictable.

However, the landing of an orbital Mercury vehicle off Puerto Rico will be much more complicated, involving a large possible landing area. This involves costly and extensive surface and air search and recovery operations.

Adlai's Ex-Kin, John Borden, 78, Dies in Michigan

SPRING LAKE (UPI) — John Borden, former father-in-law of Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, died at his home in nearby West Spring Lake Saturday.

Borden, 78, was himself once a prominent businessman in both Chicago and Muskegon. At one time he was the owner of the Old Dutch Refinery in Chicago.

Borden and his wife Frances, who survives him, had five daughters. One, Ellen, married Stevenson, who later became governor of Illinois and twice unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate.

State Unit Rules Out Segregated Events

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan representatives to Civil War Centennial observances will not attend any commemorative events which are conducted in a segregated manner in other states.

The more than 200 members of the Michigan Civil War Centennial Observance Commission were instructed to avoid such events in an annual report read Saturday at a workshop session at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

"It is the policy of this commission not to take part in any affair in which any of Michigan's citizens might be barred from having equal treatment if they choose to attend," the report stated.

About one-fifth of the Americans who live in mobile homes are U. S. service men together with their families.

Lies Injured While Motorists Stream Past

BOONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — James Twitchell, 22, of Glasgow, Mo., lay severely injured in a soybean field beside U.S. 40 all day Sunday while motorists streamed past his overturned pickup truck.

The accident finally was reported to the highway patrol about 6 p.m. Trooper J. R. Phillips said it occurred early in the morning but passersby apparently thought it already had been reported.

Twitchell was reported in critical condition at the Boonville hospital.

Hard One to Answer

WATKINS GLEN, N. Y. (AP) — A spring message to bolster Sunday attendance stands in front of the village Presbyterian church. It reads: "The snow is gone. What's your excuse now?"

Market Mixed in Quiet Trading

NEW YORK—In-regular price trends and fractional changes made for a mixed stock market early this afternoon.

Trading was quiet, in contrast to last week's busy-busy, as an early upside edge evaporated. If anything, the over-all trend appeared headed slightly lower.

A mixed batch of weekend news was cause for neither joy nor alarm and it appeared the market might resume the slow, cautious approach in vogue before President Kennedy's defense spending plan was disclosed last week.

Steel was mostly higher as more talk of possible price increases popped up, but motors were mixed as the industry labor picture remained uncertain. Gains were more numerous among aircraft-missile issues, but electronics, rails and oils weakened a bit.

Chart followers watched the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial averages, since Friday's close left it just before the previous closing record of 705.86.

Chrysler, up nearly 2 points to a new 1961 high, paced the motor group in active trading. Ford also was strong, but General Motors was still on the downside. Similarly, Bethlehem Steel lagged behind its industry counterparts as U.S. Steel and Republic forged fractional gains.

Houston Light & Power starred in the utility group, holding a gain of around 3 points while American Telephone traded about unchanged after wavering a bit earlier.

Wheat, Rye Climb; Other Grains Weak

CHICAGO—Wheat and rye futures were in good demand today on the Board of Trade and moved up major fractions to more than a cent a bushel. Other grains and soybeans were weak.

Brokers said the support for wheat appeared to include at least a moderate volume of investment buying and some short covering which nudged prices along rapidly in the absence of significant hedge selling.

There had been strong support for dissolving the authority, created in 1956 in hopes of bringing Lake Huron water to Oakland and Macomb counties, because many communities in the two counties were purchasing water from Detroit.

Frederick L. Yockey, chairman of the special committee which met with authority members, voted against continuing the authority. He said "for all practical purposes it is dead."

The vote is simply a recommendation, Yockey said, which will be contained in a report of the authority members to Macomb County which will be presented to the full board in September.

Arguing for the continuation of the authority were members from Macomb County who felt, Yockey said, that the move would not cost it a cent.

Two youngsters were reported in fair condition today at Pontiac hospital after injuries suffered in separate traffic accidents over the weekend.

One of the youngsters, a 10-year-old boy, was injured in a car accident on Saturday. The other, a 12-year-old girl, was injured in a car accident on Sunday.

The driver of the car, Albert G. Kosowski, 66, of Warren and Hill, 30, both told sheriff's deputies that the other had been driving the car at the time of the accident.

Neither driver was ticketed. The Hermann boy was struck by a car driven by William L. Mullen, 46, of 1895 Dorchester Road.

Mullen told deputies he averted in an effort to avoid the boy when he stepped into the street but was unsuccessful. Mullen was not held.

'Divorce Racket Busters' Calling All Husbands

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The "Divorce Racket Busters" are after me — and I'm not even divorced.

They're after every man that's got a wife and want to warn him of the doom they claim is awaiting him.

They're trying to free husbands from all-moment slavery. Especially in California. Where, they claim, it's scandalous.

They're got headquarters in Citrus Heights, Calif., and Reuben P. Kidd writes that "We need to impress upon all happily married men that their freedom is in jeopardy and is entirely dependent upon the whims of their wives."

They're circulating a cartoon entitled "The Alimony Joy Ride" which shows the ex-wife, her lawyer and the judge celebrating her divorce, with the poor husband pushing the car in which all three are having their joy ride.

"Don't be a pusher or a pushover," says the cartoon. They want to change the California laws, then the nation's laws.

Beautiful Gene Tierney's movie comes with all of us cheering. She'll play one of the leads (a Washington hostess) in "Advise and Consent" for Otto Preminger. He helped her to fame in "Laura." Gene and her rich Texas husband, Howard Lee, are celebrating at his ski lodge and hotel in Aspen, Colo. They lost an expected baby last winter and since have been living in Fairfield, Conn., or Houston, where he has his money. Her last movie was "The Left Hand of God" — with Humphrey Bogart — made when all of you out there were kiddies.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Joe DiMaggio and Marilyn Monroe were really steamed about the phony "honeymoon" story. M. even sent back a note to the sweltering photos denying it. . . Burr Tillstrom and Fran Allison are re-teaming (again) for fall TV.

You can get anything in New York, I'm always saying. Down in Johnson City, Tenn., a few weeks ago, Owen Terasaki, author of "Bridge to the Sun," which became a movie, said there weren't any fireflies around. MCMC 21 reader phoned Chateau Theatrical Animals, asked for Gloria, and bought a bottle of fireflies which had been snared in the Pennsylvania Poconos. Price $25.

EARL'S PEARLS: Suggested exterminator's slogan: "The Mice Man Cometh."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "If you don't like the weather where you live, you can move and not like the weather there either." — M.W. Larmour. . . This is my brother.

Public Relations Man Claims Cyrus Street Had Idea in 1908

By ALBERT W. WIESE
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Part-time public relations man John Murray has for the past two years conducted a one-man campaign without pay to have the name of Cyrus H. Street go down in history as the originator of the United Nations.

Murray, 55, also an amateur historian, said that it was while going through some early files that he ran across the name and works of Street.

"Street came to California from Iowa in 1876 and set up his office as an attorney and real estate man in Berkeley," Murray said.

"He was a great follower of world affairs and began publishing a small paper which he continued to do occasionally until his death in 1913."

Murray said that Street first proposed the formation of a worldwide organization in 1908 in his newspaper.

"The object of this paper is to advocate the early establishment of an international government to be entitled the United Nations of the World," wrote Street.

"If the background of the United Nations is made more interesting to the public, it might look more favorably on the organization," Murray said.

"It is ironic that Street's office in Berkely, where he proposed the United Nations, over looks San Francisco where the United Nations of today was formed."

Returns Book to Public Library After 71 Years

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — "The Count of Monte Cristo" must be a whale of a book. It was borrowed from the Newark Public Library and kept out for 71 years.

The book was returned recently by Stanley J. Bara of Elizabeth. Bara said an acquaintance asked him to drop the book off at the library. The acquaintance said he had gotten the book several years ago from a friend.

The accumulated fine for the book, its binding broken and its pages discolored, would amount to $524.39.

The library couldn't decide what to do with the book. Bara, for one, said he didn't want it.

"I read 'The Count of Monte Cristo' long ago," he said. "Besides, I saw the movie four times."

Study Electrons in Atmosphere With Transmitter

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — Scientists at Pennsylvania State University are using a high-powered transmitter, the only one of its size and frequency in the world, to obtain data on the distribution of electrons in the lower atmosphere.

The 500-kilowatt transmitter, known as a "sweep transmitter" because its frequency is variable, is connected to an antenna system 6,500 feet long and 240 feet high. It is used to probe the region of the ionosphere 45 to 125 miles up.

The transmitter sends pulses into the ionosphere and receiving stations in the area pick up the echoes of these pulses as they are reflected back to earth. Using certain measurements, scientists are able to deduce the electron distribution in the region probed.

JFK, Nationalist Meet

Berlin Crisis Just One of Khrushchev's Threats

(Editor's Note: Survival in case of nuclear attack is the most familiar meaning of civil defense. But it can be far more than that. As this first of four articles points out, strong civil defense may actually deter an enemy from a massive war effort.)

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Berlin is just the starter. State and Defense Department officials calculate that as Nikita Khrushchev's nuclear muscle grows, his threats will get stronger and more frequent.

For years the U.S. will be treading on the brink of one crisis after another that could lead to nuclear war.

McCloy Reports to JFK Tonight

Brings Personal Note From Nikita Who Is Said to Be Upset

WASHINGTON (AP)—John J. McCloy will report to President Kennedy tonight on his discussions last week with Soviet Premier Khrushchev on disarmament and the Berlin crisis.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said McCloy, the President's chief adviser on disarmament, would be accompanied to the White House by Secretary of State Dean Rusk. McCloy completed an urgent flight from Moscow to Washington Sunday night in response to a summons from Kennedy. He brought an informal personal message from the Soviet leader to the U.S. chief executive.

In advance of his meeting with Kennedy, McCloy was scheduled to give Rusk a detailed report on his conversations with Khrushchev.

McCloy already has sent a long cable giving Kennedy a preliminary report on his talks with Khrushchev. This report was forwarded to Kennedy over the weekend at his Hyannis Port, Mass., vacation home.

NIKITA DISTURBED

Salinger declined to give any hint of the tenor of Khrushchev's talks with McCloy. But there have been widespread reports that Khrushchev was disturbed by the firm attitude taken by Kennedy last Tuesday night in his report to the nation on the Berlin crisis and his decision to shore up U.S. armed forces.

McCloy went to Moscow two weeks ago to try to work out arrangements with the Soviet government for a new East-West disarmament conference.

He failed to reach agreement due, primarily, to Soviet insistence on talking about the substance of disarmament issues instead of the procedures for organizing the conference.

Civil defense is going to become an increasingly important part of your life, these men predict. As Soviet ability to deliver missiles grows, whether you live or die in an atomic strike would depend increasingly on you.

Today, by relatively simple efforts, 90 out of 100 Americans could live through the worst raids the Soviets could muster.

Six years from now, 85 out of 100 Americans could live through the full force of an all-out Soviet attack, civil defense experts now estimate, if people are willing to make the effort to protect themselves.

COULD REBOUND

Even after the worst possible Soviet raids in the dangerous middle or late 1960s, the civil defense specialists now believe, the U.S. economy could be pushed back up to half of prewar levels within 12 months and back to full prewar levels within five to 12 years—providing the U.S. is prepared.

The transfer of major civil defense functions to Robert S. McNamara and the Department of Defense is an attempt in part to strengthen President John F. Kennedy's hand in this continued brinkmanship duel with Soviet Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.

The theory at State and Defense goes like this:

—If Nikita Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung are to be stopped from nibbling away the 'free world' in Berlin, in Laos, in the Congo, and kept from starting World War III, the Reds must be convinced that when the chips are down, the United States will be willing to risk all-out war if necessary.

—If Khrushchev and Mao know that American civilians and American industry are unprotected, they will be convinced that the U.S. is bluffing. They would not believe that the U.S. would risk national suicide—or the death of 120 million to 140 million of its people—to save any Berlin or Western Europe.

Kaline Replaces Injured Maris

Tigers Dominate All-Star Line-Up

From Our News Wires

BOSTON — Four Detroit Tigers, including pitcher Jim Bunning, were in a jugged starting line-up as the American League sought to end a three-game losing streak in 1961's second All-Star game.

Manager Paul Richards was trying to break the National League's recent All-Star dominance despite the absence of Yankee slugger Roger Maris.

Richards' revamped line-up was tailored to fit the friendly left field wall at Fenway Park. His batting order listed Tigers in the top three spots.

First baseman Norm Cash was in the unfamiliar leadoff spot. Following in the equally strange second position was left fielder Rocky Colavito. And behind him, at his regular No. 3 post, was Al Kaline.

Richards originally planned to follow Cash and Colavito with the Yankees' one-two punch, Mickey Mantle and Maris. But Maris, who has hit 40 homers this season, is sidelined with a pulled muscle in his left thigh.

Kaline was nominated for right field and Mantle dropped to fourth in the line-up.

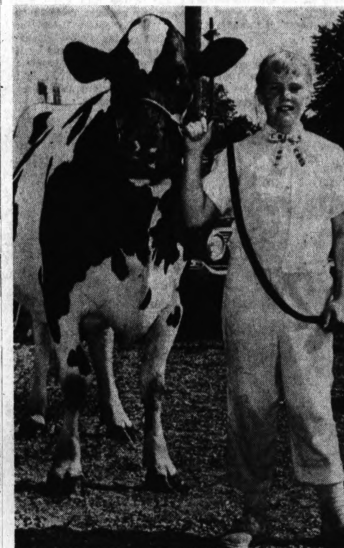

Bunning was pitching with only a day's rest. The skinny Detroit right-hander, with an 11-6 record, usually is particularly effective in Fenway Park and thus won the nod over pitchers with more rest.

Russia Shows West Mighty Naval Force

LENINGRAD (UPI) — The Soviet Union's impressive "Navy Day" show proves the Kremlin is determined to make its fleet as strong and as modern as its rocket-powered air force, Western observers said today.

Sunday's naval show on the Neva River here was the biggest in years — nearly three times larger than last year's display.

The Soviets showed off some of their most modern ships, including cruisers, destroyers and torpedo boats described as rocket-fired.

But the much-heralded atomic-powered submarines — billed as being as fast and as powerful as the U.S. nuclear subs — was conspicuously missing.

A Soviet television announcer said the new sub is part of the Red Navy's arsenal but the Kremlin chose to keep it out of the show, which was attended by many drawing foreign troops from Laos.

Americans Hoping to Win Concessions on Debate Tactics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nationalist China's Vice President — Premier Chen Cheng opened talks with President Kennedy today, assured that the United States was opposed to admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Chen was greeted by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson when he arrived at National Airport here for talks with Kennedy about the U.S. position on recognition and admission to the United Nations for Red China and Outer Mongolia.

They drove directly to the White House.

Johnson, speaking for Kennedy, told Chen that the United States has a "firm determination, not only to stand by our declarations but to project them by action, coolly and with foresight."

American officials hoped that by giving the Nationalists strong reassurance on the U.S. anti-Communist stand in Asia and the United Nations, Kennedy could win some concessions on the tactics to be used in the China membership debate in the United Nations this fall.

The officials expected Kennedy to warn Chen that a Nationalist veto of Outer Mongolia's membership bid would antagonize Africa votes critically needed to keep Red China out of the world organization.

"You will recall, Mr. Vice President, that on May 15 at Taipei your nation and mine reaffirmed our common purpose of maintaining the integrity of free Asia," Johnson told Chen. "We rededicated ourselves to the principle that freedom must be preserved and extended."

Johnson then told Chen that he would find "further evidence of the sincerity of our words" during his visit here.

Chen, who will spend three days in Washington, was accompanied by Nationalist China Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan, wives of both officials and aides.

Administration officials said Kennedy hoped to get the national agreement on new tactics for the showdown U.N. debate this fall on Red China membership and the issue of admitting Outer Mongolia and Mauritania.

Skepticism Greets Red Plan

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet blueprint for a coming Utopia, given age about for the people, for the Soviet's millions, hope of the Soviet Union evoked mixed feelings of skepticism and hope in Western Europe today.

Russ Show Navy Might

Western diplomats and military attaches. The show included a jet flying boat and jet bombers said to be armed with air-to-ground missiles. The Soviets already claim the world's largest submarine fleet. Iztvetia, the government newspaper, repeated its claim that the Soviet fleet is superior to the U.S. undersea fleet.

Western observers who joined thousands of Russian citizens on the banks of the Neva called the show "impressive." But most said that the United States still has a stronger fleet, except for submarines.

They also said that as far as can be determined U.S. nuclear subs appear superior in striking power to the mysterious Soviet atomic subs.

MISSILE-FIRING SHIPS The Soviets also showed for the first time rocket-armed cutters and three missile-firing destroyers, each armed with two missile launchers. Moscow television identified the missile-equipped ships as "small cruisers," but western naval experts would rate them as destroyers.

Soviet newsmen told foreign newsmen the show was to have been larger, but some ships were withdrawn at the last minute.

The show appeared designed to impress the world with Soviet military might at a time when East-West relations were tense over the Berlin crisis.

The Russian navy show was a follow-up to the recent Moscow air show, that displayed the latest in Soviet bombers and fighters.

Belief was expressed in Britain that Premier Khrushchev would not be prepared to gamble away his goals of a Communist paradise by risking war with the West. Belgian Socialists saw the program as purely political maneuver. A Swedish conservative newspaper, Svenska Dagbladet, said the promised achievements are "so long-dated that it must be safe for Khrushchev to feel that it can hardly be he who will have to answer if they are not redeemed."

The 23-year plan made public over the weekend declared that by 1970 the Soviet Union would outdistance the United States per capita production and by 1980 would give the Soviet people the highest standard of living in the world — "everyone will live in easy circumstances."

The 45,000-word manifesto—the first grand Soviet plan since Lenin's in 1925—pledged a policy of coexistence with the West in an apparent slap at the Chinese Communists. Conspicuously missing from the document was any mention of Stalin, who never issued such a long-ranging proclamation during his long reign.

Bearing the imprint of Khrushchev himself, the draft plan will be presented to the 22nd party congress in October. Its ratification is a certainty.

The conservative Daily Telegraph, called the program "a leap in the sky" and said: "It is difficult to believe that having staked his reputation on a long-term program of social and economic reform, Mr. Khrushchev would be so foolish as to throw everything to the winds in a gamble over Berlin."

The laborer's Daily Herald called the program "a system of paying wages partly in kind." The Herald added: "The more prosperous peoples there are in the world the better. And if Mr. K feels strong enough to promise Utopia he cannot really believe that world war is just around the corner, too."

The Communist Daily Worker said "Russia staggers the world."

The Day in Birmingham

Police Arrest 5 Youths After 100-M.P.H. Chase

BIRMINGHAM — Police from Birmingham and Pontiac arrested five youths yesterday in a stolen car following a wild chase of speeds up to 100 miles per hour which started here.

The fleeing car, which ran red light and narrowly missed hitting several other automobiles, was halted after it struck a parked car and crashed into a line of parking meters in Pontiac.

Taken into custody following the collision was the driver of the car, Gary W. Potts, 17 of Detroit; Richard D. Evans, 17, of Highland Park; and three juveniles.

The juveniles were released in the custody of their parents. Potts and Evans are being held today at the Highland Park jail. The car was stolen from a parking lot in Highland Park at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Birmingham Patrolmen Norman Propert and Lamar Glickert spotted the car attempting to race around a small stop sign in Woodward and 14-Mile Road at about 1:25 a.m. yesterday.

The officers started off in pursuit of the car which was traveling northbound on Woodward. Pontiac police were notified of the chase.

The Birmingham patrolmen Potts reached speeds between 70 and 100 miles per hour and went through red lights at Long Lake Road and South Woodward, the chase led to a stop in Woodward and 14-Mile Road at about 1:25 a.m. yesterday.

A Pontiac patrol car at Saginaw and Rapid streets was nearby hit by the stolen auto as it veered off and out of traffic. Pontiac Patrolmen David L. Schroeder and Charles L. Chancy joined in the chase. Schroeder fired a shot at the car, hitting it in the left rear quarter panel.

With police from two departments giving chase, the fleeing auto went down Park Street at about 80 miles an hour, hit another car, veered and struck the parking meters.

The youths in the car were arrested when the car came to a halt.

Police said the juveniles in the car had no knowledge that it was stolen until Potts attempted to escape pursuing Birmingham policemen.

CARL D'AQUILA Service for Carl D'Aquila, 47, of 1946 N. Hammond Drive, Bloomfield Township, will be held Thursday at the Labor-South Funeral Home, New Britain, Conn.

Mr. D'Aquila died of a heart attack yesterday at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. He was a member of the Holy Name Society, Father's Club and Men's Club of Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church.

Surviving besides his wife Marie are three sons, Anthony, Michael and John; a daughter, Patricia, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian D'Aquila of New Britain, Conn.; and two brothers.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home, Keego Harbor.

Keith A. Goodwin Service for Keith A. Goodwin, 56, of 1515 S. 1st St., Detroit, will be held today at Pontiac.

Bandit Gets $43 in Area Home Police today were seeking a bandit who allegedly terrorized a Bloomfield Township woman at a point and robbed her of $43 after she fled to her home last night.

The money was taken from the home of Frank Hospod of 6665 Franklin Road whose wife Sophie was threatened by the thief at about 10 p.m. The Hospods, both in their late 50s, live alone at the Franklin Road address.

Hospod was sleeping when the bandit picked a lock on a side door, crept into his wife's room and told her to give him money.

Mrs. Hospod said she was half asleep when she heard a doorknob rattling on the door which leads to a side porch. She thought her husband was checking the door until she saw a man standing over her bed.

Mrs. Hospod quoted the bandit as saying: "Last night I kept quiet if you value your life. Don't make any noise. I've got a gun against your back."

She told police she was unable to determine if he was armed. He had a towel draped over his arm as if he was carrying a gun, she said.

POOK $43 The thief took $43 from his pocketbook and $40 from her husband's wallet. "He told me that wasn't enough," she said. "He wanted more so I told him I would get it from a neighbor."

The terrified woman walked out of the house with the bandit following her. She said he left as she ran to the home of a neighbor. She said she was hysterical and

Weekend Rains Cause Floods in N.Y., Kentucky

By The Associated Press Showers drenched wide areas from the Southwest desert region into the Ohio Valley today after heavy rains over the weekend caused flash floods in parts of Kentucky and New York State. The floods in parts of Johnson and Morgan counties in southeast Kentucky forced at least 150 families to leave their homes. One man drowned. More than 3 1/2 inches of rain hit the area.

In New York, nearly 7 inches of rain drenched Oswego County in a three-hour period, causing many streams to overflow. Hundreds of homes were damaged. Major Wayne Tyson of Unadilla, who asked the state to designate the town of 1,500 a disaster area, said damage estimates ranged from $200,000 to $1 million. Tornado winds hammered Macedon in Wayne County.

37 Drown Near Tokyo TOKYO (AP)—Thirty-seven persons were reported drowned and another 25 missing Sunday as an estimated 1.2 million people swarmed the beaches near Tokyo to escape the heat. Some 1,400 were treated for injuries at first-aid stations.

Canvass Confirms Con-Con Nominees The official canvass of last Tuesday's constitutional convention primary results in Oakland County showed no change in the nominees but some switches in the orders of finish.

In the city's 2nd District Democratic contest, canvassers ranked Carl W. O'Brien over previous race and place finisher George A. Gossip. They gave Gossip 13 less votes for a total of 387, O'Brien received 506 as reported earlier.

Lewis R. Miller finished above Fred L. Morningstar and Sidney C. Jones finishing below Dennis Clark in the reshuffling of the 1st District Republican votes, according to Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk.

The canvass finished Saturday showed in the 4th District that Joseph S. Asherson finished last in the field of nine Democrats instead of next to last.

GM's Auto Contract Nearing Expiration

DETROIT (AP)—The auto negotiations spotlight shifted to General Motors Corp. today as the termination date of GM's contract with the United Auto Workers union drew near.

Unless GM's contract with the UAW is to continue automatically beyond Aug. 31, its normal expiration date, one party or the other must give 30 days written notice today or tomorrow.

After tomorrow, any termination notice would have to run 30 days before it became effective.

In 1958, when the current three-year contract was written, GM served termination notice, and for the first time in its history, the UAW continued to work without a contract. Before that, contracts had been extended on a day-to-day basis during bargaining on new terms.

While attention was on GM, largest of the auto makers, the UAW was mulling over the first major step in the 1962 negotiations, taken by American Motors Corp., fourth largest auto firm.

AMC last week offered the union a profit-sharing deal and a seven-cent hourly wage increase each year for the next three years.

The firm, however, demanded that the union give up its cost-of-living escalator and its annual improvement factor that guaranteed at least a six-cent hourly wage increase each year. AMC also demanded a clear-cut non-intervention clause for management.

The UAW took AMC's offer under study and promised an answer by Aug. 22. The current three-year contract expires Sept. 7.

Hudson announced that Robert E. Sturwood, formerly manager of the Lincoln Park basement store, would supervise management of the new budget stores in Waterford Township. Madison Heights and Lincoln Park.

Hudson said the Madison Heights store will be comparable in size and operation to the recently announced Pontiac Shopping Mall unit, which will also open in 1962.

"The new budget store concept recognizes that many persons desire to shop at smaller stores convenient to their neighborhood, as well as shopping in our full-line department stores downtown and at Northland and Eastland Shopping Centers," Hudson stated.

"While we have found that Hudson customers will drive considerable distances to shop our complete and broad merchandise assortments, they have also shown a desire to have smaller Hudson convenience stores available to them."

The Madison Heights shopping center is being developed by John J. Bourne and John P. Frazer Jr. and announced that they have also shown a desire to have smaller Hudson convenience stores available to them.

The old, English military journal was found by R. A. Neff, a Gishborough, N.J., research chemist who investigated the document in detail for a year in conjunction with Civil War Times, published 10 times a year in Gettysburg, Pa.

Troops Practice Berlin Defense

U.S., British and French Garrisons Hold Alert Again This Morning

BERLIN (AP) — Berlin's U.S., British and French garrisons held another early morning alert today, practicing the defense of the threatened city.

At 4:30 a.m. loudspeaker trucks woke residents of the areas where married troops live. Many members of the 11,000-man Allied garrison in West Berlin have their families with them.

Both soldiers and civilians attached to the Allied missions were ordered to their duty posts where they remained until they got the "all clear."

Allied officials called it a routine exercise the kind that takes place at irregular intervals.

POLICE EXERCISE West Berlin police also held a night training exercise, but headquarters insisted that this was not coordinated with the Allies.

About 200 refugees from Communist East Germany poured into West Berlin in the 24-hour period ending at 8 o'clock Sunday night. The number — 200 — was a record for any one day since June 1953, when anti-Communist revolted in East Germany.

After strong talk, apparently heightened the Khrushchev-Mao conviction that the U.S. would not fight.

Khrushchev-Mao disbelief in U.S. determination will assuredly increase the danger of nuclear war by Communist miscalculation.

The Pentagon planners are certain that Khrushchev and Mao have in mind a series of small wars to obtain their objectives.

THEY CAN GROW But small wars can grow into big wars. The millions men are convinced that there is less chance of a big nuclear war if the Reds won't mean the death of most Americans.

Most important of all is since the U.S. and the Soviet are going to be fliriting on this brink for years ahead, the U.S. must be prepared for a midship — and total war.

The new administration defense Department plans as of today, however, contain two important omissions.

They don't have a program for blast shelters for civilians. They don't have a plan for the strategic prewar evacuation of cities.

One reason is expense. But the planners have another reason. They are afraid that plans for blast shelters or for the massive evacuation of large cities would provoke Khrushchev. This is what they see in their private memoranda.

Civil defense thus has become a part of over-all military strategy. It will help prevent nuclear war. It will help prevent limited war. It will help prevent Khrushchev and Mao paces.

It now takes more than troops, planes and missiles to keep you away from our shores. It takes you, and you, — a civil population willing to protect itself.

Fidel to Step Up Anti-U.S. Drive

How State Solons Voted

Cuban Will Try to Take Spotlight From JFK's Latin Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro is expected to step up his anti-U.S. campaign this week in an attempt to steal the spotlight from the launching of President Kennedy's alliance for progress program.

Kennedy's plan to speed economic and social progress in Latin America will be submitted for approval to a hemisphere meeting of ministers of economy and finance opening Aug. 5 at Punta del Este, Uruguay.

The President, who regards the plan as the cornerstone of his Latin American policy, has appointed Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon and Asst. Secretary of State Robert Woodward to represent him at the meeting.

U.S. officials believe Castro will make every effort during the next few days to provoke Washington into a debate with him in order to draw attention from any positive achievements of the conference.

They predicted, however, that plane last week by a Castro sympathizer.

To many State Department officials the incident came too close to the opening of the economic conference to be considered an isolated action by a free-lance Castro sympathizer.

Afro-Asian Bloc Split on U.N. Tunis Session

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The 46 Asian-African members of the United Nations appeared divided today over whether to press for a special session of the U.N. General Assembly to take up the French-Tunisian impasse over the Bizerte naval base.

A number of countries from Asia and Africa were reported reluctant to support Liberia's call for a special August session. The group called a closed-door meeting this afternoon.

There was considerable doubt the 10 new African nations who belong to the French Community would go along with the proposal. The goal of those seeking a special assembly is to brand France an aggressor against Tunisia and to force the French out of their Mediterranean naval and air base at Bizerte.

SOME DUBIOUS
Turkey, Japan, the Philippines and several other Asian members of the bloc were reported dubious of the advantage of a special assembly unless new violence erupts in Tunisia.

If the bloc unanimously supports the proposal, a special assembly is virtually certain. It requires 50 member signatures to convene the 50-nation body and the 8-nation Soviet bloc is expected to support the move. So are Yugoslavia and Cuba.

Assembly President Frederick H. Boland reportedly received word in Dublin to be ready to return to New York at once if the members decide to place the Tunisian crisis before the assembly.

DEMANDS GUARANTEES
Tunisia has accused France of continuing aggression and of refusing to pull back her troops in Bizerte. France is demanding guarantees that her communication lines with the base and between its units will be safeguarded.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld who visited Tunisia last week at President Habib Bourguiba's request, told the council he had evidence France had violated the cease-fire and assumed functions on Tunisian soil "normally reserved to a sovereign state."

Bourguiba's government, bitter over council failure to adopt resolutions calling for complete compliance with the cease-fire and negotiations to deal with Bizerte's future, was reported ready to turn to the Communists.

The Tunisian government, which had been looked on as a

Western foothold in Africa, was especially disappointed at the middle ground attitude the United States took. Unwilling to offend France during the Berlin crisis, the United States favored neither side but called for negotiations.

Safest Thing for Book Is to Lock It in Safe

OXFORD, Calif. (AP)—John Hamlin has written a book which he'd better lock in a safe. The topic? How to open safes of 96 American safemakers. Hamlin, 65, a locksmith, doesn't expect to publish his 40 years worth of tricks of his trade, though. Too much chance of it getting into the wrong hands.

Bus Strike Looms at Midnight Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Some 200 bus drivers and maintenance employees at Intertown Suburban Lines Corp. say they will strike at midnight tonight, when their labor contract expires.

A strike would cut off service to some 30,000 commuters in Western Wayne County.

William Mulroy, president of division 122 of the Streetcar and Bus Operators Union, said the bus company is terminating the contract covering the employees.

Mulroy said management had made a final offer that would result in a 60-cent hourly cut in the drivers' and mechanics' fringe benefits. Company officials were unavailable for comment.

It would require about 14 years for sound to span the distance separating the sun and the earth.

Wants $10 Billion for Future Outlays

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy, in his first 18 months in office, has advanced concrete proposals for increasing future federal spending by well over $10 billion.

Actually, the estimated spending would be even greater under the administration's new and expanded programs. However, $10,407,600,000 represents the amount of added spending authority which Kennedy wants Congress to provide at this time.

Of the total amount, $6.51 billion would be spent during the 1962 fiscal year which began July 1. The rest would be spread over several years.

NEAR $10 BILLION

In the light of administration programs announced to date, observers expect the fiscal 1963 spending budget to approach $90 billion. This would compare with $87,723,000,000 now officially forecast for the current fiscal year.

Kennedy's current-year budget deficit will: total at least $5,290,000,000, administration officials are hopeful of balancing the budget next year. Kennedy has warned he will ask Congress for a tax increase, if necessary, to achieve a budget "strictly in balance."

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said recently that if the economy moves ahead as he expects, "our revenues for fiscal 1963 would be sufficient to meet all of our national needs, with something left over."

That was before Kennedy's $3,654,000,000 proposal for the build-up for Berlin, but the administration argues that, while programming major spending increases, it is pursuing a course of fiscal responsibility with balanced budgets in sight. Critics contend that deficits are the more likely prospect.

The strongest clue to the rising trend in federal spending comes from an analysis of this year's requests to Congress for "new obligations authority," appropriations, authority to sign contracts, and authority for agencies to spend money borrowed from the Treasury.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower last January asked for $80.9 billion in obligatory authority. Revisions and additions by Kennedy have boosted the total to $91.4 billion.

Obligational authority requests normally exceed spending estimates for any single year because they cover programs coming up in future years. If the Navy is to build an aircraft carrier, for example, obligatory authority might be provided in one chunk but the money would be spent over several years.

Kennedy contends that Eisenhower's request for obligatory authority fell $86 million shy of the amount needed to finance existing programs. He has now added programs of his own calling for an extra $10.4 billion in obligatory authority.

Tribal Warfare in New Guinea

Two Killed, Hundreds Injured as Police Caught in Middle

RABAU, New Guinea (UPI) — A romantic pinch was the spark that touched off two days of tribal warfare in which two persons were killed and hundreds injured, eyewitnesses reported today.

Rabaul police were forced to open fire on thousands of rioting natives Sunday after they were caught between two feuding tribes. Two natives were killed. Eight policemen and six natives were hospitalized.

The trouble started Saturday when a Sepik native punched a Total woman. Hundreds of Total natives clashed with members of the Sepik tribe who work in Rabaul on the island of New Britain, which is part of the territory of New Guinea.

Thousands of Total natives marched on Rabaul Sunday. The Sepik tribe moved out to meet their enemies, and police were caught in between.

Police were forced to open fire to save their lives when the war-painted natives, armed with axes, knives, bows and arrows, threatened to overwhelm them.

Hold Psychiatry Course for Family Doctors

KALAMAZOO (U) — The Michigan Society of Neurology and Psychiatry announced plans for a post-graduate course in psychiatry for general practitioners in the Southwestern Michigan area.

The nine-month course starts at Kalamazoo College Sept. 13 and is designed to teach the family doctor to cope with his patients' psychiatric problems. One session a week will be held until next May.

Burglars Get $11,300 in Loot From Store

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — Burglars got away with $11,300 in cash, diamonds and other loot Saturday night in the second robbery in four months at a suburban wholesale store.

Donald Veitman, owner of the Don-Hal Wholesale Outlet, Inc., discovered the robbery Sunday.

Burglars broke through a boarded up back window and opened the store's safe with a torch, police said. They said all the loot—including watches, radios and cameras — apparently was taken out in luggage from the store.

Police said the torch set off a tear-gas bomb but the burglars used a fan to blow off the fumes.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or strapping agents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Cold War Has Comic Note: Mouse Is Louse

BERLIN (UPI) — Mickey Mouse was denounced by the East German Communist newspaper Freiheit Sunday as an American agent helping East Germans flee to the West.

The newspaper reported a talk by a Communist functionary named Heyde to children in the East German city of Halle.

He warned them not to read Mickey Mouse comic books or join the Mickey Mouse Clubs formed by the publishers in West Germany.

"How can a child be so dumb as to be taken in by Mickey Mouse?" Heyde asked. "These books have the purpose of getting the addresses of your parents. You cut a coupon out of the book, send it along with your address, and you become a member of the Mickey Mouse Club."

"Then they have an important address to give the head hunters."

"Head hunters" is the Communist term for the Western agents they say are causing the record exodus of refugees.

Study Shows Hike in Calves, Chickens

LANSING (UPI) — Mid-year figures compiled by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service show that Michigan farmers are raising more calves and chickens than last year, but raising fewer lambs and shearing less wool.

While the calf crop is estimated at only 1 per cent above last year, this is the first year-to-year increase noted in six years, the service said.

Calves born and expected on Michigan farms this year total about 710,000 head, the service said.

The 1961 lamb crop, however, is estimated at 246,000 head, down 6 per cent from last year.

for Ex-Manager of Sylvan Lake

Ernest L. Ethier, former city manager of Sylvan Lake, manager of the Pontiac Elks Temple and a long-time Pontiac city employee, died early today in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after an illness of two months.

Mr. Ethier, 4337 Forest Avenue, Waterford Township, was 63. He is survived by his wife, Pearl; a stepson Robert Goebel of Pontiac; a stepdaughter Winifred S. Goebel of Flint; two brothers and a sister.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday from Huntoon Funeral Home. Burial will be in Cassman Cemetery, Washington Township.

Mr. Ethier, who had been employed by the City of Pontiac on and off for a total of 11 years since 1926, was an urban renewal aide at the time he went on sick leave in late May.

He was city manager in Sylvan Lake from 1950-57. His job as Elks Temple manager, 1948-50, followed a two-year stint as area rent director for the Office of Rent Control, 1946-48.

Born in Westboro, Mass., Mr. Ethier was first employed by the city in 1926 as a clerk in the engineering department.

He left city service in 1933 but returned as a temporary assistant assessor and was named to the urban renewal post on June 2, 1958.

Wanted: Not Too Happy With Girls' Selection

PINEROLO, Italy (AP)—Mario Gendarin was none too pleased today after a jury of pretty girls chose him "Mr. Brutto 1961" in an annual competition at the village of Lusserana San Giovanni. Brutto means ugly and the contest chooses the town's ugliest man.

Gendarin, 36, a carpenter, said "I knew I wasn't handsome, but I didn't think I was that ugly."

Jobs May Jump in Detroit Area

Board of Commerce Believes 4th Quarter Will Be Best of Year

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Board of Commerce anticipates an improvement in business in the Motor City area in the fourth quarter of 1961.

The quarter should be the best economically of the year, the board said in its weekly publication, the Detroitier.

er plans to purchase new cars and a significant improvement in national economy would be behind the rise.

The board said Detroit production workers now average 40.7 hours of work a week, better than the national average of 38.1. Last February the Detroit average was 39.0 hours.

But the Detroitier notes that unemployment remains a problem in Detroit. During the first six months of this year unemployment in Detroit averaged 12.7 per cent of the labor force, double what it was in the first six months of 1960.

Insurance statisticians say that of the 7,200 deaths from fires and other burns in the United States each year, about 5,700—or nearly four-fifths—occur in the home.

Sight of Jazz Mess Brings Site Change

BEAULIEU, England (AP)—left in the wake of this year's festival.

About 4,000 jazz-lovers—traditional, modern and mainstream—jammed into this quiet corner of Hampshire Saturday for the two-day blow. About 5,000 gatecrashers with no entrance money moved into the town also and nearly wrecked the joint.

They trod on cottage gardens, smashed windows, clashed with paying patrons, got drunk and sprawled with their girls on the roadsides.

"It was sickening," Montagu declared.

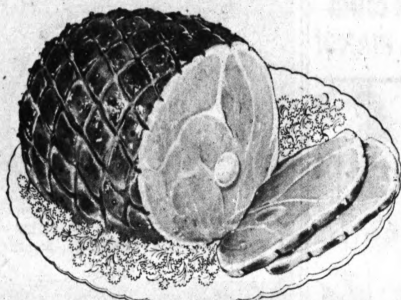

There were riots last year, too. "It has become increasingly apparent," said Montagu, "that there is a large crowd of irresponsible persons who come to Beaulieu with no other intention than to cause trouble."

It wasn't the fault of the genuine jazz fans, he said.

Montagu hired a special corps of tough cops from the local constabulary to help keep order. Boys from a local boxing club and judo experts from Cambridge University also stood guard to throw out gate crashers.

Montagu said he wasn't giving up the idea of holding a festival in some other place. But not in Beaulieu. He owns the place.
