

At Least 124 Dead as Two Airliners Collide, Crash in Heavily Populated New York Areas

Robert Kennedy Atty. General; Dillon Named

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy today named his brother Robert as attorney general and selected a Republican — Douglas Dillon — as his secretary of Treasury.

Kennedy also announced that Byron R. (Whizzer) White, Denver lawyer and former All-American football player, will serve as assistant attorney general.

The president-elect announced that Harry Anslinger will remain in his present post as head of the Narcotics Division in the Treasury Department.

The Kennedy-Dillon appointments left only the job of postmaster-general to be filled for the Kennedy cabinet and J. Edward Day, vice president of Prudential Insurance Co., was reported to have been selected for that post.

The president-elect announced the latest appointment from the front step of his Georgetown home.

Robert Kennedy, who served as his brother's campaign manager during the presidential campaign, stood beside the president-elect when the announcement was made.

The president-elect said that in filling every cabinet post he sought to get "the best man available." He added that he had applied that same test in selecting his brother as attorney general.

Kennedy said his 35-year-old brother in every assignment that he has been given, had "demonstrated himself to be a man of intellectual energy, intellectual courage and organizing ability."

He noted that his brother has served as an attorney in the Justice Department, as an aide in the Hoover commission and, more recently, as chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Kennedy was asked when he first offered the post of attorney general to his brother.

He said they discussed it "some time ago," and that his brother "had some reservations" about accepting the post.

He said he was "grateful" that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

'Human Bomb' Arrested

Foil Threat on Jack's Life

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A 73-year-old mental patient who had dynamite and blasting caps in his car has been arrested for threatening to make himself a human bomb to kill President-Elect John F. Kennedy, federal authorities disclosed today.

The slight, white-haired man told authorities he was a Roman Catholic and he felt Kennedy was "a hypocrite" about their religion.

He mentioned a campaign speech in Texas where Kennedy had said he would honor responsibilities to the nation rather than to his church if the choice arose.

"In a way I'm glad it turned out the way it has, but I don't like the publicity," federal agents quoted him as saying.

He was identified as Richard Paul Pavlick, a former postal clerk from Belmont, N. H.

Federal agents said Pavlick denied any intention to kill the president-elect. They said the threat had been made in a letter intercepted by postal authorities Dec. 9.

John Marshall, Miami Secret Service agent, said Pavlick "never made contact" with Kennedy. Kennedy was in Washington when Pavlick was arrested.

STREET OF TERROR — Firemen pour water on wreckage of the United Airlines DC8 jetliner which crashed into a Brooklyn street after colliding with a Trans World Airlines Constellation. The jet, first in this country involved in a fatal crash with passengers aboard, carried 83 persons, including seven crew members.

A nearby resident said, "The wall came in. My wife was thrown toward me. Then I heard a roar. We ran out." Ten buildings were reported in flames.

The crash came about 10 a. m., with a heavy snow fogging the air. The TWA plane Flight 225 was bound in from Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, and proping for a landing at La Guardia Airport. The United Air Lines Flight 825 out of Chicago was headed through the muck for Idlewild Field.

Out of the 125 persons on the two planes, only one survivor was reported, an 11-year-old boy, plucked from the wreckage of the crash in Brooklyn.

Earlier, six survivors were recovered on Staten Island, but they died.

Jet, Constellation Smack Trying Landings in Snow

NEW YORK (AP)—Two big airliners, probing for a landing in a snowstorm, collided with a roar today, and plunged like flaming rockets into the city.

At least 124 died, and possibly many more. The crashes loosed fire and terror on the ground. Extent of casualties among residents could not even be guessed, for the time being.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said, however, about two hours after the accident, that no dead had been found in 10 apartment houses and a church in Brooklyn involved either in the crash or fires resulting from it.

He said firemen had not been able to dig through all the wreckage. One plane, a United Air Lines DC8 jet, plummeted into a heavily populated section of Brooklyn, setting an entire block of apartment buildings and shops ablaze.

Walls were shattered, and debris scattered like bomb fragments.

A church was demolished. It was the first crash in America of a pure jet carrying passengers. There were 83 persons aboard.

The other plane, a Trans World Airlines Constellation with 42 aboard, raked over the Miller Field section of Staten Island, and struck in harbor water. It also started fires in structures in the area.

Out of the 125 persons on the two planes, only one survivor was reported, an 11-year-old boy, plucked from the wreckage of the crash in Brooklyn.

A Flaming Hell Dropped on Quiet Brooklyn Street

NEW YORK (UPI)—Into a quiet, snow-flaky morning in a once-fashionable brownstone residential section of the Borough of Brooklyn, a flaming hell dropped from gray skies onto a street corner.

People were walking gingerly on the slippery, slushy sidewalks, wary of the huge piles of dirtying snow left there earlier in the week by street department plows.

The new snow falling at mid-morning added to the quiet that resulted from reduced traffic.

Then a rending explosion shocked the intersection of 7th Avenue and Sterling Place. A huge, whirling ball of fire descended over one of Brooklyn's oldest neighborhoods.

The neighborhood now is mostly old buildings. Some of the old families are hanging on. Negro families have moved in, and it is a racially mixed area, near the open square of Prospect Park.

By noon that afternoon had become a scene of wild confusion, flames, smoke, disoriented air-planes, and police and firemen trying to work their way into a half-burned pile of wreckage.

That pile once was a United Air Lines DC8 jetliner. Four-story buildings on both sides of Sterling Place were a mass of flame. At least eight buildings were involved. Also wiped out by the flames was a church on Sterling Place. Its name: "Pillar of Fire Presbyterian Church."

The intersection was a mass of rubble. Although an appreciable breeze was blowing, heavy black smoke covering several blocks made visibility very bad in the crash area. At times, when the wind shifted, part of an airplane could be seen. On it were painted the letters "United."

The entire fall scene was snapped off and lying upside down in the middle of the intersection.

The tip of the tail touched the engine compartment of a truck. The truck had been rented by Roy Rothenberg, who was at the wheel. He escaped without a scratch.

A note in the house next police to the home of the woman's brother, Lawrence, 28. There police found his wife, Virginia, 24, and their children, Wanda, 2, and Tony, 3. All had been stabbed to death. A doll had been laid beside each body, officers said.

A note, 16 feet long, written on shelf paper, was found in the room of Delores, a Negro. It was addressed to her common-law husband, Rudolph Ernest, 37.

Residents Stunned by Crash Site

NEW YORK (AP)—The scene was one of such shocking horror that many of the residents of the normally quiet Park Slope neighborhood in Brooklyn walked stunned into their homes and pulled down the shades.

An entire city block was left a smoking rubble of bricks, plaster and splintered wood today after a United Air Lines plane plunged into it out of a snowy sky. The plane and a Trans World Airlines craft had collided earlier, the TWA plane falling on Staten Island.

"I was standing in the door of the women's shop where I work," said Mrs. Ann Carretta. "It's just half a block from the crash. I saw the plane coming. It seemed, directly toward me."

At first I thought it was a strange cloud. I couldn't believe my eyes. When I realized what it was, I screamed. If I hadn't screamed, I would have had a heart attack right there."

Mrs. Constance Gazzo was looking out the window of the flower shop where she works.

"Probably the worst thing I saw was a 17 or 18-year-old boy running screaming down the street from the accident with blood running down his entire face," she said.

"He was screaming, 'Oh, those people are burning to death.' My husband tried to grab him, but he kept running as if he couldn't stop. He was injured and I think he went out of his mind."

Julius Lehmann, 58, was driving his delivery truck down a street when he "heard a loud noise and saw the plane diving out of the sky."

"I thought it was going to hit me," he said. "It was coming right at me. I raced my motor and sped down the street. Then I heard it hit, and I stopped the truck and got out. I'm still shaking."

Colder Weekend, Weatherman Says

Pontiac area residents may look forward to a cold weekend. The weatherman said temperatures will average four to six degrees below the normal high of 35 and low of 22.

Partly cloudy and colder with a low of 12 is tonight's forecast. The expected high tomorrow is 25.

Twenty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. at 1 p.m. the mercury reading was 25.

More than 100 firemen were frantically pulling apart the mass of wreckage on Staten Island looking for a possible survivor.

Fire Chief John Savage said rescue squads were on the scene within minutes but the water at first did not quench the flames.

In Brooklyn, snow was falling on the army of nurses, doctors, hospital attendants and firemen.

Police Commissioner Stephen Kennedy, pleaded with the public to stay away but a huge crowd surrounded the perimeter of the crash area.

Normally two planes approaching the two fields would be separated by being assigned to different altitudes, and by passing given points on the approaches at different times.

"But obviously something went wrong," an Idlewild Field communications spokesman said. "But we don't know what — at this moment."

The disaster recalled a collision over the Grand Canyon on June 30, 1956, also between TWA and United airliners, with 125 persons killed.

Today's disaster set off a holocaust in Brooklyn. Streetside marquees were set up as bodies, charred and broken, were carried out of an entire block of horror.

Thick, dense smoke and flames fingered among the buildings, and rose ominously like a black cloud above the roofs.

In the midst of the inferno could be seen the blackened metal of a plane fuselage, about 30 feet high, stretching the entire width of a street.

"I heard screaming in there in the smoke and flames," said Nick Ligella, a 65-year-old flower shop operator. "It's a horrible thing."

Mayor Robert Wagner issued an appeal to New Yorkers to stay clear of the disaster areas. Coast Guard, police, fire departments and Air Force, both in the city and from surrounding areas, joined forces in the emergency.

The one survivor listed among the 125 aboard the planes was identified as Stephen Blatz, 11, of Chicago. He was taken to Brooklyn Methodist Hospital.

The Civil Aeronautics Board immediately began an investigation of the accident. Among questions to be answered were:

1—If TWA was landing at La Guardia and United of Idlewild, would it have been possible for them to have been on the same approach patterns?

2—Was there any liaison between La Guardia control and International control over the two flights?

3—Had either or both planes been cleared to descend, approach or land?

WATCHING ON RADAR

A control tower spokesman at La Guardia said the TWA plane was being watched on radar scope as it came in, when the image suddenly disappeared from view, apparently when the planes collided and fell.

At just what point over the city they came together was not precisely determined. But the stricken craft apparently swerved apart, plunging toward their separate doom.

The ceiling at the time was 600 feet.

Killed on the ground in the flames was Charles Cooper, a sanitation department employee who was shoveling snow.

The FBI sent a seven-man disaster squad from Washington to aid in identifying victims. E. B. Quasada, Federal Aviation Agency Administrator, also flew here to head an investigation.

The Douglas DC8 is a 375-m.p.h. jet liner half as long as a football field. The DC8 can carry more than 150 passengers at altitudes up to 40,000 feet.

Loyalist Troops Crushing Revolt Against Selsie

Prince and His Officers
May Be Forced to Flee; Report Unconfirmed

LONDON (UPI)—Troops loyal to Emperor Haile Selassie were reported today to be crushing the rebellion against his rule. One unconfirmed diplomatic report said loyal troops had recaptured the capital city of Addis Ababa.

Reports reached both the British protectorate of Aden and Khartoum, capital of the Sudan, that the government set up Wednesday by Crown Prince Asf Wassen, the emperor's eldest son, might be crumbling.

A spokesman for the Ethiopian Embassy in Bonn said Gen. Abeto, while ruler in Ethiopia, was in Addis Ababa under the crown, called that loyal forces had won control of Addis Ababa.

The spokesman, First Secretary Kober, told the press, "I reserve my opinion, however, as to whether the contents of this telegram are correct."

A Khartoum dispatch said Selassie left there this morning for Addis Ababa. The capital of Ethiopia, after a 48-hour delay caused by engine trouble. He was in Addis Ababa when the coup d'etat against his regime was announced, and fled to Khartoum today from Chad.

The Khartoum dispatch said the emperor's popularity among the people continued high and that the signatories of the coup may not be forced to flee the country.

The reports said the emperor's troops were gaining control in the fighting.

NO CONFIRMATION

One report reaching the British protectorate of Aden said the rebellion against Selassie's rule had been crushed. It said that loyalist forces had won the day. This could not be confirmed.

Information reaching Cairo said the regime set up by Selassie's son and his officers, after a 48-hour delay, had been crushed in the capital, Addis Ababa.

Elsewhere in the country the troops mainly remained loyal to the emperor, including 10,000 infantrymen and an air force based in Addis Ababa.

Selassie himself was moving across Africa to reclaim the 3,000-year-old throne said to date back to the Queen of Sheba. He has had it for 30 years.

MSU Reinstates Bagwell as Head of Scholarships

EAST LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan State University Board of Trustees today reinstated Paul D. Bagwell, two-time candidate for governor of Michigan, as director of scholarships effective April 1 of next year.

MSU President John A. Hannah said he had assurance from Bagwell that he would not seek elective office again.

"I recommended the reinstatement on the basis that I have a personal understanding with Mr. Bagwell that he is not going to run for political office and will devote all his energies to the university," Hannah told the board.

Bagwell, a Republican, was defeated by John B. Swainson in the Nov. 3 election.

Nixon's Hawaii Edge Drops to Narrow 61

HONOLULU (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon's popular vote margin over President-elect John F. Kennedy in Hawaii was reduced to 61 Thursday.

A recount of 34 of Hawaii's 240 precincts shaved the edge from 141, the figure which gave Hawaii to Nixon a month ago when the vote was certified. Hawaii has three electoral college votes.

Nixon's total is now 92,083. Kennedy's 92,342.

Birmingham Man Named to New Chrysler Post

Appointment of A. E. Kimberly, 71, Abbey Road, Birmingham, to the newly created post of chief engineer of vehicle reliability for Chrysler Corp.'s Engineering Division was announced today by Paul C. Ackerman, vice president of the division.

Ackerman said that Kimberly would obtain and analyze data from the corporation's reliability programs.

Prior to the appointment, Kimberly was chief engineer and director of product for the De Soto division, a position he had held since 1953. Previously, he served as manager of the transmission and mechanical laboratories at the engineering division of Chrysler.

Kimberly, 47, is married and has two sons.

Hoffa, Two Detroiters Enter Innocent Pleas

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Transit officers James R. Hoffa and two other Detroit men pleaded innocent today to a 15-count indictment of mail fraud in the use of more than $500,000 in union funds.

Hoffa, Henry Lowery, a former Detroit bus driver, and two other Detroit men, Robert E. McCarthy Jr., a banker, were in Federal District Court for only 25 minutes.

Judge Edward Weems allowed the three to remain free under bond.

They were charged in indictments issued here earlier this month with using money from union locals at Detroit in the purchase of 3,475 acres in Nevada County and turning it into several parcels.

The three are accused of putting more than a half million dollars in union funds into the new Nevada County, Valley, Inc., real estate development.

They allegedly bought the lots at $10 each and sold them to union members for $100 to $1,000. The judge, after accepting the pleas, granted 30 days for the defendants to file motions.

Nip Murder Threat Against Kennedy

Two children were here in the home of Kennedy's father.

Alerted by the post office, Secret Service agents had been hunting Pavlic for days. They learned he had sold all his property at his home in Belmont and gone to Washington.

They followed his trip to Palm Beach and gave local authorities a license to search for him.

Palm Beach police saw the car Thursday and stopped Pavlic on the pretense of a traffic violation.

A search of his car turned up dynamite, blasting caps, wiring and other materials that could be used for a bomb. The materials had not been fastened into a bomb, however.

Authorities took Pavlic back to the U.S. consulate Thursday night on a complaint which said, "The defendant indicated he was going to make himself a human bomb and destroy himself and the president-elect, John F. Kennedy."

Pavlic was charged with violating a federal law which makes it a crime to threaten the president, president-elect or vice president.

The penalty on conviction is a $1,000 fine or five years in prison or both.

Pavlic waived a preliminary hearing and bond was set at $100,000.

He still was being questioned in the Palm Beach County Jail in nearby West Palm Beach. Authorities planned to move him to Miami later.

Pavlic told his interrogators he once placed himself in a mental institution in New Hampshire for observation because of "depression."

The institution was not identified.

Pavlic had lived in Gilman, N. H., before moving to Belmont, where he lived alone in a small house for the past five or six years.

Town residents said he was very "vocal" on town issues and wrote many letters to the editors of newspapers.

He was born Feb. 12, 1917, in Boston, where he said he has a sister. Authorities said they did not know her name.

Takes Over for Nike-Ajax Hercules Set to Protect 18 Vital Areas in Summer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nike-Hercules batteries armed with powerful nuclear missiles will take over protection this summer of 18 American metropolitan areas from the Nike-Ajax, the Army says.

The Hercules replaces the Nike-Ajax, now used to guard vital target areas against possible enemy aerial attack.

With three times the range and more than twice the altitude capability of the Ajax, the Hercules is deadly against bombers and air-launched missiles.

Roulette King 'No Gambler' Wins Acquittal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A dapper German from Hamburg, who calls himself the roulette king of Europe, won acquittal on an income tax charge by convincing a judge he is a scientist, not a gambler.

There was just one reason his "scientific" system for winning at roulette misfired, Bemo Eitel Winkler - Liechtenstein, 37, says: American roulette wheels have one more digit than those he's used to.

So—investors lost $17,000 trying his "theory of confirmed law of computation of mathematical probabilities" in Las Vegas.

The court ruled it was merely an investment that failed. The Internal Revenue Service contended the money paid the German by investors was money he earned but failed to report on his visa.

Nonpartisan Con-Con Unit Vital: Romney

DETROIT (AP)—George Romney, chairman of the Coordinating Committee for Constitutional Convention, has asked Gov. Elton G. Swainson to appoint a "true bipartisan commission" to handle the convention election.

Voters approved three measures outlining procedures for an election on the issue in the Nov. 5 election. An election on whether a convention should be held is scheduled for spring.

Romney, who also is president of American Motors Corp., wrote Swainson urging that delegates to a constitutional convention be selected on a nonpartisan basis rather than named at state political party meetings.

Bob Kennedy, Dillon Get Cabinet Posts

His brother finally decided to accept the job.

Kennedy was asked during his news conference whether he knew of any "historical parallel" to the appointment of his brother.

"We're going to start one," he replied with a grin.

Then he went on to cite the fact that President Eisenhower and his brother Milton both have held important positions in the federal government.

He also noted that two other brothers—the late John Foster Dulles and Allen Dulles—also did so.

John Foster Dulles was secretary of State until his death. Allen is director of the Central Intelligence Agency. Kennedy already has appointed Allen Dulles to remain on in that post.

Before the latest cabinet appointments were announced, Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, told reporters Kennedy moved up his departure time for Palm Beach, Fla., and plans to leave at 3 p.m. instead of 6 p.m.

Kennedy, who expects to stay with his family in Palm Beach until after New Year's, said he would finish his cabinet appointments Saturday with announcement of a postmaster-general.

Road Project Is Okayed for Bloomfield Village

BIRMINGHAM—A two-year major road-improvement program in Bloomfield Village was approved last night by Bloomfield Township trustees at a public hearing.

Less than 100 persons attended the meeting held in the Bloomfield Village Elementary School. It was called to review the assessment rolls on the $445,000 project.

Several objections came from residents who complained of the total cost of the project. They said the cost was in excess of the original estimate.

Township officials, however, pointed out that each resident in the subdivision had received notice of the revised cost. Other protests on assessments came from property owners with corner lots.

However, the Township Board decided that there were not enough valid reasons for delaying the project and voted to confirm the assessment rolls.

Bids on the project will be advertised during the winter with construction expected to begin in the early spring.

The project will be undertaken in two stages, with about four miles of roads being repaired the first year. This is less than one-third of the project but is expected to represent half the total cost since these roads are in the worst condition.

Another reason given for the high cost of the first stage is that drains under the poor roads have to be replaced in order to have surface water removed.

Approximately 11 miles of roads are included in the over-all project. Assessment will vary for each lot.

WSU Wants $19 Million

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne State University said Thursday it planned to ask the legislature for $19 million for 1961-62. The request would be $3 million over what was allocated last year.

Arrests Premier, Cabinet

Nepal's King Takes Over

KATMANDU, Nepal — King Mahendra Thursday arrested popular Premier B. P. Koirala and other cabinet ministers, suspended the constitution, and took over all powers in this Himalayan kingdom. He accused the Koirala government of "failure to maintain law and order, harboring undesirable activity and killing the people's democratic aspirations."

It was the first elected government in the nation's history.

Some informed sources said the king was concerned about the speed with which the ordinary powers of government had passed from the throne into Koirala's hands.

After the 1958 elections swept Koirala and his Nepali Congress into power, the king reverted to his role as religious leader and chief of state.

As chief of the government, Koirala was easily the most popular figure in a land where popular politics is a novelty.

With his big majority in parliament, Koirala's government had shown every sign of stability.

The 35-year-old king, only recently returned from visits to the United States and Europe, acted through royal decree.

Proclaiming an emergency, he had Koirala and 10 other cabinet members arrested and brought under guard to the palace. Only Deputy Premier Subarna Shumsher escaped. He was in Calcutta.

The Nepalese army posted troops around the palace and other government buildings and took over the government radio.

Gurkha infantry in Khaki swept the narrow streets, twisting the aged temples and bazaars. But the city was quiet.

SPIRITUAL LEADER

Most of Nepal's eight million are Hindus and revere the king as their spiritual leader.

King Mahendra personally drew up the constitution under which the first elections were held. He reserved under the constitution the right to dismiss the government and take personal control.

In the middle of the 18th Century the country's ruling family was overpowered by a family known as Ranas, who for the following 100 years passed the ruling authority down from father to son.

Mahendra's father King Tribhuvana was only a figurehead. He escaped from the palace in 1950 and fled to India.

He returned with the backing of the Indian army and took over full power which he passed on to Mahendra in 1954.

Tribhuvana and Mahendra opened up what formerly was known as a hermit kingdom to the outside world and set up a modernization program helped along by more than $25 million in U.S. aid.

Both Russia and Red China also are contributing to the country's economic development.

Loaded Jet Climbs 91,450 Feet Navy Claims World Mark as Plane Soars 17 Miles

WASHINGTON — The Navy claimed Thursday a world altitude record of about 17 miles for a jet attack plane carrying a payload of slightly over one ton.

The height reached was 91,450.8 feet, which would exceed the officially recognized record of 67,096 feet set last year by a Russian pilot.

The flight was made Tuesday at Edwards AFB, Calif., by Cmdr. Leroy A. Heath and his navigator, Lt. Henry L. Monroe, both from the Palmdale River, Md., Naval Air Test Center.

The plane was a North American A-3J Vigilante, a type now being given final evaluation before being turned over for fleet use.

MOST IMPORTANT IN NAVY

The Navy calls the Vigilante "the most important aircraft in the United States Navy."

Heath and Monroe were decorated Thursday for their achievement, with Navy Secretary William B. Franke making the awards in behalf of the President.

Heath, of Pinckney and Detroit, Mich., received the Distinguished Flying Cross. Monroe, born in Birmingham, Ala., was awarded the Air Medal.

Heath has seven children, Monroe, three. Their wives were present for the ceremony, as were

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Adm. James Russell, vice chief of naval operations.

The Navy said it has filed its claim for a record with the Federation Aeronautique Internationale on the basis of records from both ground-based radar and instruments aboard the Vigilante.

However, other planes have flown higher.

An Air Force F104 fighter set a record for combat craft a year ago of 105,385 feet and the rocket-powered X-15 has reached an altitude of 158,000.

Neither plane, however, was attempting to operate under the 1,000-kilogram payload rule.

Heath climbed at about 1,400 miles an hour, then pulled the Vigilante's nose up into something like a ballistic trajectory to coast "over the top" for the record.

At maximum altitude, flying speed had dropped to about 400 miles per hour.

Heath said that for a few seconds at peak, there was weightlessness for the two men—a "pleasant sensation."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Even when hospitalized, Red Skelton still gets into the act.

An open house Christmas party was held Thursday at Skelton's studio, the old Charlie Chaplin lot on which Red says he has spent $3 million for improvements. Admiral Angus Buried at Arlington Cemetery

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — William Mack Angus, 66, a former U.S. Navy vice admiral and one-time commander of the Seventh Fleet Seabees, was buried with military honors Thursday at Arlington National Cemetery in Washington.

Doctor Reveals Characteristics of Problem Drivers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Are you an accident-prone driver? Dr. Donald Schuster, psychologist at the University of Southern California, says a chronic violator has these characteristics: He is physically and psychologically active. He "drives" himself to get ahead.

Despite aggressiveness, he probably relies on others. He is unwilling to conform culturally. He lacks aesthetic appreciation. He is willing to take chances.

Schuster has tested 2,000 drivers since 1958, he said in a statement Thursday.

Jackson to Quit His Dem Chairman Post Jan. 21

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has set Jan. 21 for a meeting of the committee to choose his successor.

Jackson had said previously that he would hold the post only during President-Elect John F. Kennedy's election campaign because "I wish to devote full time to my duties as a senator." He said in a statement he would resign as chairman at the time the committee meets Jan. 21.

As Governor, Swainson Quits His Law Firm

DETROIT (UPI) — Governor-Elect John B. Swainson Thursday resigned from the law firm of Swainson, Pernick & Zemmel, telling his law partners "as governor I must not only disassociate myself from the firm."

Swainson, who takes office Jan. 1, told his partners, Joseph J. Pernick and Allen Semmel, that his law experience "will serve me in good stead as governor" both because of knowledge gained in the law and because of "enriching experiences" in dealing with people.

Swainson had been a partner in the firm during his service as lieutenant governor, in which his duties were limited largely to presiding over the State Senate.

Farmers Union Head Says Stop Agriculture Extension Work

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The president of the Indiana Farmers Union has proposed in an open letter to President-Elect John F. Kennedy that the extension work of the department of Agriculture be terminated.

John C. Raber charged that while "the agricultural and home economics extension workers were of great necessity and service for many years, our local schools and our universities today duplicate their service."

Raber urged the men and women now in the agricultural and home economics extension programs of the agricultural department be redeployed in vocational training work in the department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"The agricultural and home economics extension program is now costing the American people over a quarter of a billion dollars a year," Raber said in his letter. "The federal government is duplicating much of this expense through vocational training under the state superintendent of schools. This service is being duplicated again, to a great extent in other services of the land grant universities."

Van Buren County Vote to Decide Jail Addition
PAW PAW (UPI) — Van Buren County voters will ballot Feb. 20

Fabiola Star of True Fairy Tale

BRUSSELS (UPI) — For Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon, the writer of fairy tales, reality began Thursday.

The shy young woman whose first boy friend was a king walked out of the Church of St. Michael and Gode as the Queen of all the Belgians.

She might have written a fairy tale about her own life if she could have foreseen the incredible future in those days when her family was beginning to wonder whether at 22 she was destined to be a splinter.

Consider this fantasy:

A king both young and rich and reasonably good looking seeks among Spanish heiresses for a bride. But he falls in love instead with a woman two years older than himself who has neither money nor great position nor even great beauty.

How the baffled and fusesaken heiress must have screamed. But Fabiola's moment of triumph, if it is in her gentle nature to think of it that way, must be brief. She faces tasks that will test her as queen and woman.

First she must produce an heir to ensure the continuity of the monarchy. In this at least she has reason to be confident. Her family of seven brothers and sisters have presented her with 31 nieces and nephews.

"May God grant you children," people shouted when she left Madrid.

"May God hear you," Dona Fabiola replied.

OTHER PROBLEMS
But there are other matters to be solved. The new queen must try to win some of the affection Belgians still lavish on their last queen, the beautiful Astrid of Sweden, Baudouin's mother, who died in an automobile accident 23 years ago.

Although she lies in a tomb at Laeken, the memory of her goodness and loveliness lingers. She is still "the princess of the snows" or "the blonde angel of the North" to many Belgians.

And Fabiola is the first queen of Belgium since that tragic day. Then she must try to replace in Baudouin's life the important role played by his pretty stepmother Princess de Rethy, morganatic wife of Leopold, who was felt by some Belgians to have too much influence in royal affairs.

The princess and Leopold are moving out of Laeken Palace where they lived with Baudouin to a palace near Waterloo so that the king and his queen can start married life on their own.

There are already signs Fabiola's love is giving Baudouin more confidence in himself. He is no longer morose. He even smiles frequently.

Ask Military Cut Study to Save Gold

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Armed Forces have been ordered to make a worldwide study to determine whether any U.S. military facilities can be eliminated or reduced to save dollars.

The order was the latest in a series of defense department steps to relieve the drain on U.S. gold and dollars which has created a near-crisis for the Eisenhower administration.

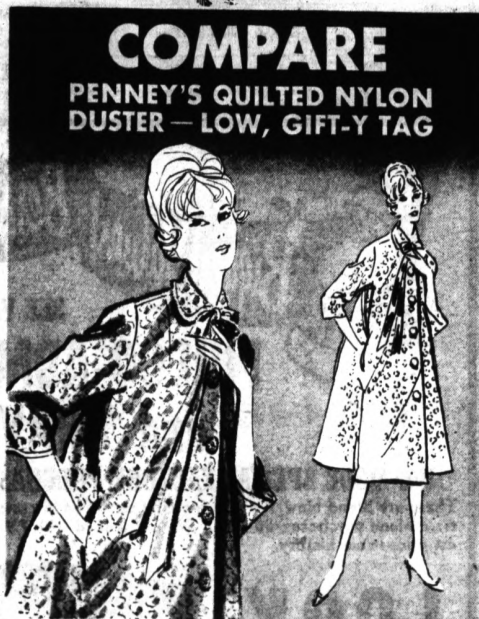

Although Defense Secretary Thomas Gates Jr. said the aim of the new facilities studies was to see what overseas activities could be eliminated, a spokesman told newsmen the order should not be taken to mean that combat forces abroad will be cut.

Herter Warns Allies to Watch Out for K

Herter told the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization that Khrushchev apparently has won the consent of other Communist countries for more negotiations with the West. But he said Khrushchev is on the horns of a dilemma: How to avoid nuclear war and at the same time speed communism toward world domination.

Herter was speaking at the opening session of a regular meeting of NATO foreign and defense ministers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — About three billion greeting cards are being mailed this holiday season. That is an average of nearly 17 cards for every American. This was the word Thursday from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

However, he said cards may still generally be delivered between any two points in the United States if dropped quickly into the mail box. Friday, Summerfield said, is the last recommended date for local Christmas mailing.

Hard to Wade Through Big Snow

Holiday Buying Spurts Up

By United Press International
The average American was slower than usual in getting his Christmas shopping this year, and the big snowstorm that rolled up the Eastern seaboard this week set department stores Santa back on their heels.

But the holiday buying spirit picked up the first part of the week over most of the nation, and merchants in some big Eastern cities hoped to recover storm losses with Saturday night shopping sprees.

Most shoppers across the nation expect a brisk finish to the holiday shopping season, a survey showed, and many forecast the Christmas trade eventually will top 1959 levels.

In Philadelphia and Boston, clerks braced for a Saturday night onslaught by recently snowbound shoppers. Cash registers will ring on Saturday night in Boston for the first time in history and in Philadelphia's center-city for the first time in 50 years.

Boston retail stores estimated a $2 million loss of business because of the big storm, and in New York City the Retail Merchants Association, which represents independent, conservatively estimated their storm losses at $3.5 million.

An additional two shopping days between Thanksgiving and Christmas this year, as compared with last year, was blamed by many store owners for 1959's slow start.

Bad weather, unemployment and Negro sit-in demonstrations discouraged buyers in some cities in the South.

Department stores across the nation reported sales ranging from near normal to about 15 per cent down from last year, and federal reserve banks said sales averaged about 5 per cent below a year ago.

In Detroit sales were running even to about 3 per cent below last year's early volume, according to the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce. However, lower downtown sales were more than offset by increased business in suburban shopping centers.

Post-Thanksgiving sales were off 16 per cent from a year ago in over the same days of last year.

LAOS ESCAPE ROUTE — As civil war raged in the Laotian capital of Vientiane, foreigners fled southward to the Thai border town of Nongkhai, across the Mekong River from Vientiane. They headed for a nearby airfield to board southbound planes for Bangkok, Savannakhet, in Southern Laos, is the seat of the 3-day-old government of Prince Boun Oum. Luang Prabang, in northern Laos, is the location of the royal palace of King Savang Vatthana.

Sunday marks the "Night Before Christmas" for Pontiac Northern entertainers.

"The Night Before Christmas" is the chosen theme for the annual Christmas Concert, to be presented in the auditorium at 3 p. m.

Melvin Larimer and Eldon Koenigart of the vocal and instrumental departments at Northern will direct.

George Putnam, director of the vocal and instrumental music department, is looking forward to conducting all participants in the program and the audience in the singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," "Joy to the World," and other favorite carols.

Featured ensembles will include The Choral Bellies, Chrysalides, and the newly organized Sophomore Girls' Ensemble.

Norsemens will also add to the harmony and joy of the Christmas presentation.

Another of the highlights will be a modern dance interpretation of "The Night Before Christmas" by the modern dance club, along with Northern's Choir.

Madeline McConnell directs the dance.

No admission will be charged for this concert, but a collection will be taken for the choir robe and band uniform funds.

A shortened version of the concert will be presented before the student body Dec. 19. Accompanists for the occasion are Linda Libby, Sandy Trefeth, Sandy Wiley, Diane Walter and Flora McCarty.

Alumni of the Northern Choir will be invited to take part in the singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Selections being presented by the vocal department include "O Holy Night," "Sleigh Ride," "Tell It on the Mountain," "Ding-Dong Merrily on High," and "Carol, Brothers, Carol."

Dodie Duckwitz DAR
Good Citizen

By SHARON MURPHY

Dodie Duckwitz, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Duckwitz of Westacres, has been elected D.A.R. Good Citizen at Walled Lake High School.

Members of the senior class nominated Dodie and two other deserving girls. The final decision was left to faculty members.

She ranks first in a graduating class of 375 and was the only girl in her class to qualify as a semifinalist in the recent National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests as well as one of three selected to write the exam of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Dodie participates in many school activities. She has been president and vice president of the Science Club, secretary of the Future Teachers Club and chairman of the Political Science Club.

Her other activities include participating on debate and discussion squad, winning district honors in forensics for three years, and serving as a member of the college Night committee for two years.

She was a Student Council alternate and she writes for the school paper, the Echo, and the Viking yearbook.

Dodie is an accomplished pianist and took a first rating in the district and a second in the state competition last year. She also plays flute in the school band, plays organ to accompany her church choir, and has sung in the choir at Orchard Lake Community Presbyterian Church since she was four years old.

Last year Dodie was a member of the Michigan Choral choir, toured South America giving concerts last summer.

In addition to all these other things, she still finds time to sew, cook, read, listen to music, and swim.

Cheerleaders Get New Sweaters, Vests at Oxford

By LINDA JACOB

Oxford High School junior varsity cheerleaders have added extra color to their fine performance by wearing new royal blue vests with monogrammed names and new white blouses.

The senior varsity squad is anxiously awaiting the arrival of their new sweaters. The girls recently selected white and gold striped wool boat-neck sweaters to complement their blue stitched down pleated skirts.

Both of the squads meet twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, to practice for coming games.

The junior varsity squad consists of Carol Roberts, Linda Woody, Audrey Magee and Janice Gark.

The six members of the senior varsity squad are Linda Jacob, Janie Langley, Ronnie Kintz, Sharon Kintz, Connie Wilkinson, and Cookie Van Henteryck. Mrs. Bonnie McQueen is the cheerleading adviser.

The annual Christmas concert will be presented Monday at 8 p. m. in the high school gym. The concert will feature both choirs, the Girls' Glee Club and the mixed ensemble.

Soloists will include Carol Inman, Janie Langley, Sue Maguire, Jill Dawson and Linda Jacob.

The final number presented will be the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Christmas Messiah. All Oxford alumni are invited to sing the chorus with the choir.

The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Jean Valentine. No admission will be charged and everyone is welcome to attend.

Activities Grow for W. Bloomfield Homemakers

By CAROLYN MAVIS

The West Bloomfield Township High School has been very active in recent weeks.

Recently a group of girls from Clarkson High School came to a Future Homemakers meeting to see how our club is organized. The Clarkson girls were entertained with a tea.

Future Homemakers have been selling popcorn after school on Tuesday for a nickel and they put a penny in each package for the students to give for the American Field Service "Penny Wednesday" the next day.

Last Tuesday night the Avondale homemakers had quite an unusual Christmas dinner.

Students prepared all foreign foods for the dinner. While the menu was a bit unusual for the season, it proved to be equally delicious.

Homemakers had a good turnout for the event and the high school music department hopes for another good turnout at 8 p. m. Wednesday when it stages the annual concert in the school's auditorium.

The two-hour concert will be a joint effort of the instrumental and vocal music departments.

Money collected in the offering will be used to build up both of these departments.

Some of the songs presented will be "Sleigh Ride," "White Christmas," "Overture to Messiah," "Ballet Paraisien," "Carol of the Drum," and "Clarinet Capade."

Featuring seniors Anne Jarick, June Rose, Linda Lawson and Judy Bishop, of the band's clarinet section.

Seniors Get Rings at St. Mike's

Rings at St. Mike's

By FAY BURNS
The ambitious class of 1961 at St. Michael's High School is the first to take the initiative in establishing a ceremony of the blessing and bestowal of class rings.

The long-awaited rings arrived at an appropriate time as early and welcome Christmas presents.

Seniors suddenly became right-handed after the distribution of the rings on Tuesday morning.

The impressive ceremony of the blessing of the rings took place the same afternoon in the presence of the student body.

After the grand entrance of the seniors a short talk was directed to them by Father Hayes on the significance of the class rings and the status of life they initiate.

Blessing of all the rings then took place.

Resolutions followed and the class of 1961 possessed their first symbol of a graduating class.

Students with part-time work outside of school will have an opportunity to work during the afternoon next week.

The high school students will attend all scheduled classes until noon and will be given the afternoon off.

Show Has No Room for Tot

Child Desertion Justified

NEW YORK (AP)—Pete and Gladys Potter have coolly and deliberately abandoned their baby girl. But before you condemn them or call the authorities, listen to their excuse: The infant girl was giving them script troubles.

Viewers with long memories will recall that Pete Potter was a neighbor who frequently dropped into Spring Byington's house in the "December Bride" series. Now Pete, played by Harry Morgan, is the star of his own series, "Pete and Gladys" and his wife, who was often referred to but never seen, has materialized in the shape of pretty Cara Williams.

The Potter baby was born on "December Bride," and Pete brought the news, so the baby was as famous as his wife.

"Even at the beginning of the new series, the baby presented plot problems," confessed Morgan. "We solved it temporarily by explaining that the baby was staying with Gladys' mother until Pete and Gladys got settled in their new home."

But now they have quietly abandoned the poor child.

"We just had to cut her out," he said. "She just made things too complicated."

Well, that's television for you.

Car Production Dips Because of Snow

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News estimates auto production for this week at 152,839 units, down 1.9 per cent from last week.

The trade paper said the drop resulted from snowstorms in the Eastern United States, which caused some assembly plants to close, and from continued adjustments in production schedules.

Last week factories turned out 155,483 cars and in the comparable week of 1959 the total was 155,588. This is the first week in which output has fallen below year ago figures since the new model year began.

Truck production was estimated at 22,922 units compared with 22,374 last week and 20,663 a year ago.

Video Cameras Can't Linger on Belgian Royalty

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—All Europe could look on at the wedding of King Baudouin and Dona Fabiola today through the medium of television. But by order of the king, cameramen were forbidden to make lengthy closeups of the royal couple.

During the church ceremony and Mass that followed, televisioners saw mostly churchmen, distinguished guests and sometimes the vaulted ceiling of the church. Only occasionally did they have a chance to see the bride and bridegroom. The most frequent shot of them was taken from the rear of the church and Fabiola appeared as a white blotch and Baudouin was well-nigh invisible.

No reason was given for the king's order. But at last year's wedding of his brother, Prince Albert, and Princess Paola, the television cameras rarely focused anywhere but on the bride and bridegroom. And it was believed the king was annoyed by the resulting lack of privacy.

May Dub LBJ Trouble Shooter

Kennedy Eyes Role for VP-Elect to Improve
Latin American Ties

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy is reported considering designating the incoming vice president as a trouble shooter to improve U. S.-Latin American relations.

This may be one of the outside assignments Kennedy indicated during the presidential campaign he had in mind for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Any designation of the only other nationally-elected official of the government to deal with the problems of hemisphere countries—including Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba—would emphasize the importance Kennedy places on re-establishing good neighbor policies with republics of the south.

PREDICTS EFFECTIVENESS

Shortly after the election, Kennedy predicted at Hyannis Port, Mass., that Johnson, the retiring Senate majority leader, would become the most effective vice president in modern times. He indicated he would ask Johnson to take on even more duties than President Eisenhower assigned to Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Nixon, the most active vice president in recent years, served on the National Security Council, met with the Cabinet, filled a liaison role between the White House and Congress, headed a Committee on Fair Employment Practices on Government Contracts, and undertook goodwill missions in which he visited 33 countries.

If Kennedy decides to name Johnson to deal with Latin American countries, it is understood he would want the vice president to play a ground-breaking role in improving relations with America's neighbors to the south.

THIS IS VERY UPSETTING — Looks like a draw in this contest between a 1½-ton "T" beam and a Flint wrecking company truck. The truck managed to lift the beam off the walls of a Flint building Thursday but the weight of the beam tipped the truck. All of the gas spilled from the tank, so owner Joseph Martin had to use a wrench to turn the winch and bring the truck back down on its wheels.

Selassie Sounded Requiem of League

Nations Failed to Recognize Ethiopia's Warning of World War II

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign News Analyst
In the gathering dusk of the evening of June 30, 1936, a small man with a quiet voice and an imposing title tried desperately to stem the tide of history, and failed.
But there on the rostrum of the League of Nations in Geneva, Switzerland, Emperor Haile Selassie, Lion of Jude, King of Kings and Defender of the Christian Faith, rose to a moment of greatness.

"I ask the great powers, who have promised the guarantee of collective security to small states—those small states over whom hangs the threat that they may one day suffer the fate of Ethiopia: What measures do they intend to take?"

"Representatives of the world
... what answer am I to take back to my people?"

It was a cry in the wilderness.
For the 52 nations which had voted economic sanctions against Italy for its invasion of Ethiopia 10 months earlier, now were in no mood to listen to a king who had been a throne. Italy's conquest of Ethiopia was complete.

"I pray Almighty God that he may spare nations the terrible sufferings that have just been inflicted on my people."

"It is my duty to inform the governments assembled in Geneva, responsible as they are for the lives of millions of men, women and children of the deadly peril which threatens them, by describing to them the fate which has been suffered by Ethiopia."

"It is not only upon ourselves that the Italian government has made war. It has, above all, attacked populations far removed from the hostilities in order to terrorize and exterminate them."

It is a chill wind swept through the marble halls of the Palace of Nations, the 52 assembled nations

Ward Bond's Will Has Shotgun for Wayne

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The will of actor Ward Bond, leaving his estate to his widow, was filed for probate Wednesday. Mary Lou Bond was named executrix of the estate, except for a favorite shotgun
actor John Wayne. Bond, 57, star of the TV series "Wagon Train," died Nov. 5 in Dallas, Tex.

chose to ignore it. In little more than three years, Germany, Italy's partner, would sign a nonaggression pact with Russia and then send its armed forces crashing into Poland.

HIDDEN INTENT
"The treaties of friendship it (Italy) signed with me were not sincere. Their only object was to hide its real intention from me."

In the August assemblage were other names which would take their places in the history of their times. Edward Bones, a founder of Czechoslovakian democracy, would surrender his country to Communist rule.

Anthony Eden would be foreign minister in Winston Churchill's wartime British cabinet. As British prime minister, he would fall because of the ill-conceived invasion of Suez.

"In October 1938 the 52 nations who are listening to me today gave me an assurance that the aggressor would not triumph, that the (League) Covenant would be implemented in order to ensure the rule of law and the failure of violence.

"I ask the 52 nations not to forget today the policy upon which they embarked eight months ago, and on the faith of which I directed the resistance of my people ... 12 million inhabitants, without arms, without resources, having on its side nothing but the justice of its own cause and the promise of the League of Nations."

Read to the League members that day was a letter from Galea-zio Ciano, son-in-law of Mussolini and Italian foreign minister. It said the Ethiopians "willingly" co-operated with Italy's invading forces. Italy, it said, regarded its undertaking in Ethiopia as a "sacred mission to civilization."

Later, Ciano would die before a firing squad on Mussolini's orders as a traitor to Fascism.

"What answer am I to take back to my people?"

Boos and hisses from the assembly floor were Haile Selassie's answer. His nation was the first victim of totalitarian aggression.
A prophet without honor, he also had pronounced the requiem of the League of Nations.

Study 2 Plans for Sales Tax

State Merchants Are Considering Ways of Collecting Increase

LANSING — Two plans for collecting the sales tax increase to four cents are under consideration by Michigan merchants. No exact formula is yet agreed upon. Representatives of state and local trade organizations, chambers of commerce, retailers and merchants met here Thursday to discuss methods of levying the sales increase, effective Jan. 1.

Male discussion centered around the brackets to be employed in collecting the tax.

"Because of the nature of the group," said Chairman Charles E. Boyd, of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association, "We had no authority to make binding decisions on a state or local basis. 'The various groups,' Boyd said, 'will select brackets which they deem best suited to collecting the increased sales tax.'"

Two main formulas were discussed. One is a mathematical formula suggested by Clarence E. Lock, state revenue commissioner. The other is the so-called "California plan," used in that state.

The two formulas differ only in taxes on the first dollar of purchases.

The mathematical formula: one to 13 cents, no tax; 13 to 27 cents, one cent tax; 27 to 42 cents, two cents tax; 42 to 57 cents, three cents tax; 57 cents to $1.12, four cents tax.

The California formula: one to 14 cents, no tax; 15 to 28 cents, one cent tax; 29 to 54 cents, two cents tax; 55 to 80 cents, three cents tax; 81 cents to $1.12 four cents tax.

No exact formula is set up in the sales tax law, which merely requires merchants to return four cents in taxes to the state for each dollar in sales. The merchants can apply their own formula in collecting the tax.

10,000 Poisoned Fish Investigated by State

BANGOR (UPI) — The Michigan State Water Resources Commission Thursday began an investigation into the destruction of at least 10,000 fish, killed by cyanide within the past week in a six-mile stretch of the Black River near this Van Buren County community.

It was estimated that the loss of the fish would run to several thousand dollars. Included in the kill were northern pike, panfish, suckers, bullheads and minnows.

NEW PREMIER — Ras Imru.

Say Statement of King Held

Ike's Paper Deplores
Arrest of Negro Leader
Never Issued

NEW YORK — The Times says a statement for President Eisenhower to deliver on the jailing of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was prepared by the Justice Department at the climax of the election campaign but never was issued.

In Washington, James C. Hagerty, the president's press secretary, declined comment.

The Times, in a Washington dispatch by Anthony Lewis, said:

"The draft statement deplored the arrest of the anti-segregationist leader on a traffic charge in Georgia as 'fundamentally unjust.' It said the President was asking the attorney general to help seek his release."

"The statement was never issued. Just why is not clear, but it seems beyond dispute now that such strong words, coming from the President, would have had a major impact on the Negro vote."

President Eisenhower told a group of visitors Wednesday that a "couple of phone calls" had given the Negro vote to the Democrats. He evidently had referred to calls by Sen. John F. Kennedy and his brother Robert in connection with the King case.

Dr. King was arrested Oct. 19 for taking part in an Atlanta sit-in demonstration aimed at opening department store lunch counters to Negroes.

Judge Oscar Mitchell of DeKalb County, Ga., deemed this a violation of probation of a previous 12-month suspended sentence for driving with an Alabama license plate after he moved to Georgia. The judge ordered him to jail Oct. 25.

Sen. Kennedy, now president-elect, telephoned Dr. King's wife to express sympathy. His brother telephoned the judge and inquired whether Dr. King could be free a year or enough to make a statement on his life eventually was freed on bail.

Garner Gets Freedom, but so Does Studio

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor James Garner got a judge to declare his contract with Warner Bros. ended but Wednesday was denied an injunction preventing the studio from interfering with his efforts to work elsewhere. Superior Court Judge Arnold Fraenger ruled there was not sufficient evidence of interference to justify an injunction. Garner, former leading man in the "Maverick" studio broke his contract by suspending him during a script writers' strike. The judge recently upheld him. The studio says it will appeal the decision.

It's a Hit on Christmas Cards

'Peace on Earth' Popular Idea

NEW YORK (AP)—"Peace on earth," the message of the angels at Bethlehem, is more popular this year than ever before as a theme for Christmas cards. "I think it must have something to do with current world tensions," said Stephen Q. Shannon, executive director of the Greeting Card Association which studies such trends.

"And if there's no let up in the cold war," he said, "it wouldn't surprise me if the trend assumed major proportions."

Already assuming major proportions is the popularity of cards with a religious motif. This year more than 750 million cards—about 30 per cent of the total—stress the religious significance of Christmas. The trend has been growing steadily the past decade, Shannon observes there is added emphasis this year on the idea of continuing peace, rather than just a repetition of the familiar "On earth, peace to men of good will."

Many cards, for example, have some variation of, "May the peace of Christmas remain with you forever." One says, "Peace on earth is here to stay, if we live Christmas every day."

The latter example is typical of the spirit but not the meter inside this year's religious cards. Unlike most of the nonreligious type, the religious messages generally avoid sing-songy couplets in preference for simple, meaningful phrases.

"May the blessings of Christmas be with you today and always," says one. Other examples: "May the spirit of Christmas bring joy to you and yours." "May the beauty of Christmas be an inspiration to you throughout the year."

Each year the association rates the relative popularity of 15 design classifications within the religious category, and once again Madonnas are the most popular. Scenes of the Virgin and Child account for more than 18 per cent of this year's religious card designs, a shade more than last year. Next in popularity are manger scenes, 10.5 per cent.

All except one of this year's top 10 favorites were in last year's top 10 but not in the same order. The one exception is church windows, which dropped from ninth place last year to 11th this year.

Here are this year's 10 favorite religious designs in order of their popularity, with the way they ranked last year in parentheses: Madonnas 1; manger scenes 5; churches 6; churches 4; holy family 3; wise men 2; shepherds 7; children 10; angels 10; Christ child 8.

The association put the remaining nine in this order: church windows, miscellaneous, choir, illuminated script, Bibles and rosaries, church bells, classical art, religious text and star and cross. While many reproductions of classical art works are of the ever popular Madonnas, they generally are higher priced, which may help explain their position close to the bottom of the list.

Greeting card companies have gone to great lengths this year to make their reproductions as close to the originals as possible. One company imported its classics from Italy where they were reproduced in excellent color on delicate silk. Another put out a "fine arts collection" of 30 Renaissance masterpieces reproduced by a Swiss printing house using special paper and inks.

Democrats to Honor Williams and Wife

LANSING (U.P.)—Democrats will honor Gov. and Mrs. Williams at a testimonial and reception here Dec. 29, three days before the governor winds up a record 12 years as chief executive.

State Democratic Chairman Neil Staebler said the affair in Lansing's Civic Center will be open to the public.

"There will be a brief program," he said, "but mainly it will be an opportunity for those any of people who might not otherwise have the chance to bid a personal farewell to the governor and his wife."

The testimonial will follow a but-let dinner honoring Williams, Gov.-Elect John B. Swenson, and members of the all-Democratic administrative board. It is a fund raising event sponsored by the Forward Michigan Committee.

Hot Rodders to Show Cars at Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP)—The "Exotic Empress" and the "Green Monster" are not the names for a dancer from a foreign country and a man from another planet.

They're names for cars that will be shown to some 20,000 persons this weekend at Detroit's Cobo Hall. The Rod and Custom Review is having its first showing in Detroit.

Car enthusiasts from four Mid-west states will be competing for some 20 trophies, including the coveted "best of show" award.

Countess' Dirty Word in Hungary's Vocabulary

BUDAPEST (AP)—"Countess" has joined the ranks of words which can be classed as slanderous in Communist Hungary.

A Budapest judge said in a lecture that a woman recently called "countess" and promptly landed in court fighting a slander action.

He said the word countess was not in itself offensive but the court had to decide whether the underlying intention was meant to defame.

It's That Time Again— for Partying and Giving Legion to Call Kids

James and Linda Shelton, 9 and 8 respectively, will play a piano duet at the annual Christmas party of Chief Pontiac Post 377, American Legion, and its auxiliary on Tuesday. The two will appear in a play about a poor family whose Christmas wish comes true in a dream.

Chief Pontiac No. 377 American Legion and Auxiliary members will stage their annual children's Christmas party at their post home on Oakland Lake Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The "Christmas Story in Silhouette" will be presented, with narration by Paula Macom, junior chaplain, and songs by the junior girls and Sons of the Legion Choir.

Carols by the choir will include "O little Town of Bethlehem," "Away in a Man-ger," "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and "O Come All Ye Faithful."

A play about a poor family which dreams of a Christmas wish come true, entitled "A Dream Is a Wish Your Heart Makes," will feature Mrs. Joseph Charter as the mother, Joey Charter, the little boy who wishes for a jack-in-the-box, portrayed by Richard McLaughlin; Gayle Parden, the girl who dreams of a ballerina doll enacted by Nancy Mahon; and Kathy Curtis, who wants a pair of rag dolls, played by Pamela Gulda (Raggedy Ann) and Sandra McLaughlin (Raggedy Andy).

VISIT FROM SANTA

The play also will feature Gary Shelton, violinist; Ronald Charter, roller skater; Sheryl Goines, tap dancer; and James and Linda Shelton, duo pianists.

Highlighting the evening will be a visit from Santa Claus, who will have a gift for each youngster. Jacqueline Charter, dressed as an elf, will be Santa's helper.

Mrs. Verner Macom is program chairman and Mrs. Roy Parden music director.

"A Dream is a Wish Your Heart Makes," the Christmas play youngsters of the American Legion will present at their Tuesday party, will include in its cast (from left) jack-in-the-box

Richard McLaughlin, 7; ballerina doll Nancy Mahon, 11; and tap dancers Sheryl Goines, 10, and Ronnie Newton, 12.

Caroling Starts Meeting

The annual cooperative Christmas dinner and meeting of the Anna Gordon Unit of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Thursday at the First Baptist Church opened with carols led by Mrs. William Carls.

Mrs. Ira Davis, spiritual life chairman, who led the devotion, was presented with a gift honoring her golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Mabel Wiser and Mrs. Carls sang "Star of the East" with Mrs. Bradley at the piano.

A film "Pay the Piper" will be shown at 8 p.m. Jan. 8 at the First Baptist Church and at the Christian Temple the following evening. The public is invited.

The group welcomed Mrs. Raymond Batchelor after gifts were exchanged. Greeting cards were signed for all shut-in members and out-of-towners.

Yule Dolls Ready

Pontiac's General Motors Girls Club has completed its annual "labor of love." Gathering of more than 600 dolls has been completed.

The dolls which are presently on display at the Pontiac Retail Store are purchased each year by the club. Members then spend time and effort in dressing them. Members who do not sew donate cash to the program, enabling the club to purchase more dolls.

This year's crop of doll-children has a preponderance of baby dolls, the perennial favorite.

Members deliver the dolls personally to children in various institutions. Among them are the orthopedic unit at Mark Twain School, children in the speech and hearing unit at Willis School, the Oakland County Children's Home, children at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, the Baptist Children's Home and the children in the Leukemia Clinic at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Dolls are also given to veterans who are patients in the Tuberculosis Sanatorium and Dearborn Veteran's Hospital in order that they might have gifts to present to their own little girls at Christmas.

Boys are not forgotten, either. Miniature Pontiac cars are given to all the boys in the above institutions.

Parents, Kids All Jaded

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — Even in the Christmas season, nobody talks much about "the child who has everything." Partly that's because parents never think they've given enough to their children.

Even when the little ones are sitting under the Christmas tree wallowing in toys, looking slightly queasy from a saturation of goodies, the average parent is capable of kicking himself for forgetting to buy the chocolate-covered atomic reactor he saw advertised at Macy's.

Why this should be true, when the world is full of great creative warning us not to pamper our children or they may become ne'er-do-wells or confidence men, is not quite clear.

Some people think that today's parents can't resist spoiling their young because they, themselves, were either depression babies or war babies and, as such, find a certain vicarious sense of security in engorging their offspring in "things."

THINGS, THINGS
These days "things" are symbols of monetary success. And monetary success is about as much security as you can get in the age of the big bomb. Obviously, then, there are kids who have every "thing."

I have an ad here for a sportscar "just like dad's" for $28,500. And there's a new movement toward a "diamond a year" necklace for little daughters — to be filled up gradually by buying, each Christmas, a girl's best friend — priced up to $475.

There are other luxuries: say five mink coats, 14-karat gold rather than tin, soldiers; faceted doll buggies and balloons that inflate to 18 feet high. Why? Because junior doesn't have one yet, I suppose.

Still, in none of the ads do the sellers of these absurdly unnecessary luxuries refer to "the child who has everything," and it is a tribute to their good salesmanship rather than good taste.

I think parents would look upon any implication that their kiddies had "everything" as a withering accusation.

NO, NOT SPOILED!
First, it would hint that their children are spoiled, which in turn would mean that they are weak parents.

Worse, it would forebode that their children might grow up to be like them — and subconsciously they know that's not good enough.

Because most of us secretly are ashamed that our possessions are so many, and disturbed to realize there is nothing we deeply need or want when Christmas comes, and hopeful that our children will have higher values when they grow up.

So privileged American parents refuse to admit they are saturating their children with everything.

"Ah, but he doesn't have this!" they say of the $200 sports car or the 18-foot balloon, and they bring it home jubilantly because it certainly is true that, when you yourself have everything, it is more fun to give than receive.

And the kiddies, of course, love it — little realizing any more than their parents do that they will be the next generation of jaded adults who every Christmas feel a little empty, as they receive diamond-studded tweezers from their friends.

The Question Box
Don't Cheat on Hip Inches
By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Q. "When I measure my hips just where should I measure them?"
A. Measure around the largest part. Be sure that your tape-measure passes straight around and doesn't dip or slant.
Q. "I am 14 years old. 5 feet 3 1/2 inches tall. How much should I weigh?"
A. About 114 pounds.
Q. "Recently you had hip-slimming exercises in your column. Will you please put the leaflet number of your hip-slimming exercises in the newspaper again?"
A. The hip exercises are in leaflet number three.
Q. "I am 3 feet 5 1/2 inches tall. I weigh 128 pounds. I think I should lose about 11. Am I right?"
A. Even if you have a small build you should weigh about 125 pounds. If your frame is medium, you should weigh around 128 pounds.
Q. "Here are my statistics. I am 46 years old and the mother of seven children. I am 5 feet 1 1/2 inches tall and weigh 125 pounds. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 29 1/2 and hips 36. I am a faithful reader of your column and will appreciate your help."
A. If you have a small frame, you should weigh about 112 pounds. If you have a medium frame, your weight should be about 125 pounds. Your bust and hips are in good ratio. You should take a few inches off your waistline. I imagine that abdominal exercises to snap stretched muscles into condition and a couple of waist exercises will do it.
Q. "My sisters and I would like to know how much we should weigh. I am a boy 12 years old, 5 feet 4 1/2 inch tall and I weigh 100 pounds. One of my sisters is 4 feet 11 inches tall, and is 12 years old and weighs 76 pounds. My other sister is 11 years old, 4 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 63 pounds."

Abdominal exercises will snap stretched muscles into condition. Try sit-ups, rising slowly from a supine position with arms stretched overhead to touch the toes. Two or three times may be your beginner's best on this one, but keep increasing your count for results.

Abby Hears Tale of Woe
Oh! Her Poor Aching Back
DEAR ABBY: After living with this 300-pound walrus for nine years I am almost ready to call it quits. He refuses to have anything but a double bed. I mentioned twin beds to him once and he put his fist through the screen door. His side of the bed is swayed back, like a regular hammock. My side is all right, but I keep rolling over on his side. My back aches so bad in the day-time I can hardly stand it. I know it's from that broken-down mattress.
A new one wouldn't help because he'd break it down in no time. How do I get twin beds without causing the first divorce in my family? It's not the money. We can afford it. ACHING BACK.
DEAR ABBY: Haven't you ever heard of a king-sized bed, featuring a single headboard and two separate mattresses? Go shopping, lady. The furniture people have news for you.
DEAR ABBY: My wife has to have a cigarette in her hand every minute or she's not happy. Worse yet, she's careless and we have cigarette burns in all our furniture. She is always "missing" the ash tray.
I could bring home the Grand Canyon for an ash tray and she'd miss that. When we go to visit friends, the hostess doesn't like to take her eyes off my wife for fear she'll burn the furniture. Can you say a few words in your column to let the misses know I love her and hate to nag but oh, how I wish she'd quit smoking! She's not kissable any more.
DISCOURAGED

DEAR ABBY: Last week we moved into a new home and I've been working like a horse to get it in order. Yesterday I was down in the basement unearthing boxes when my doorknob rang. I couldn't have looked worse. In came five of my friends, all painted, powdered, hatted and gloved. I was annoyed and had all I could do to hide it. I had to stop my work and fix coffee and visit with them all afternoon. When I asked why they didn't give me a little time to bathe and comb my hair, they said, "We didn't want you to go to any bother." Is it considered good manners to surprise a hostess this way or not?
SURPRISED AND ANNOYED
DEAR SURPRISED: I am surprised at the number of people who "surprise" hostesses with social calls. It's very poor manners.

Mother, Four Children Flee Orion Blaze

Fire Devours Rent Money and Christmas Savings

ORION TOWNSHIP — An Orion Township mother saw her rent money, Christmas savings and all she owned, go up in smoke early today after she carried four small children to safety from a fire which gutted the interior of her home.

Mrs. Juanita Robbins, 26, said she and the children were sleeping when the blaze started in the basement of her rented home at 552 Mayer Court.

She said she was lucky to discover the fire when she did.

Mrs. Robbins, who is divorced, said she awoke to find the house full of smoke at 6:45 a.m. She said the roar of a car motor starting had awakened her.

Mrs. Robbins then began carrying her own three children and her 14-month-old niece out into the cold, early-morning air dressed in only their nightclothes.

Mrs. Robbins said she didn't know where the money was on fire while she was carrying the children to safety.

"All I know is that I put my boy on the porch and then I got my daughter (Cynthia) out," she said.

WANTED TO FOLLOW

Mrs. Robbins said Cynthia wanted to follow her back into the home when she went back after the two smallest children.

She had to have Buster hold the front door closed so Cynthia couldn't re-enter the smoke-filled home.

A neighbor notified the Lake Orion Fire Department which brought the fire under control in an hour with the assistance of the Oxford Fire Department. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Cayor said flames came up through the floor and gutted the home. He said the blaze apparently was a touched off by a faulty furnace in the basement.

Mrs. Robbins, who is staying with her parents Mr. and Mrs.

Stiff North Winds Push Cold Air Into Northeast

By The Associated Press

Stiff northerly winds which chilled areas from the Rockies into the Midwest fanned cold air into the Northeast today.

Snow flurries and snow mixed with rain preceded the cold front through the upper Great Lakes region southward through the upper Ohio Valley. The wet belt was expected to move into the central Appalachians.

Coldest air appeared centered in Montana. It was 20 below zero in West Yellowstone and -13 in Drummond. But the icy air covered the north central region, with temperatures ranging from the low 20s in the southern areas to the teens and lower in interior sections.

Readings in the 30s were reported in areas near the cold belt, with the 40s and 50s in coastal areas except in southern Florida which reported marks in the 60s.

Commerce Pupils Ready Yule Music

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP — Pupils at Commerce Elementary School will present a program of Christmas music at 7:30 p.m. Monday before the parent-teacher association.

A film based on a Yuletide theme also will be presented. Parents will tour classrooms, following the entertainment, to view Christmas art work created by the children.

A conference between teachers and parents will follow the program.

Soapy Minus Driver's License, but It's OK

LANSING (AP) — Don't tell anybody, but Gov. Williams' driver's license expired 6 1/2 years ago.

There's nothing illegal about it, Williams hasn't touched the wheel of an automobile for at least six years.

The governor is accustomed to being driven or flown everywhere he goes. That gives him time to dictate letters, polish speeches and perform other chores.

A state police bodyguard drives the governor's official limousine. His wife, Nancy, pilots the family station wagon.

Starting Jan. 1, when Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson takes over as governor, Williams will be without bodyguard or limousine.

"I guess I'll have to walk, ride a bicycle or get another license," he said.

Something for the Lady? These Ideas Can't Miss

By JANET ODELL

Did you think we'd never get around to shopping for the women on your list? Well, we didn't want to be pushing our own interests.

Clothes, of course, please a woman. But remember that she won't want to get breakfast in a sheer chiffon negligee; better buy her one of the pretty quilted dusters that are being shown in all the colors and at various prices.

For the woman who likes to wear black velvet slacks at home there are richly brocaded jackets. These are decorated with gold thread and gold buttons.

The knite plated chiffon skirts are new and colorful. The prom-gown would have a flare to make her look like Miss America.

A little packet of 5 different lipsticks will help mildly wear the proper shade every day. If she already has a whole wardrobe of lipsticks, give her a holder to keep them tidy on her dressing table.

We've seen two pretty pairs of earrings shaped like lilies of the valley. One was silver, the other green and white enamel.

Necklaces and bracelets with 11th frames into which you insert a silver dollar are conversation pieces. A watch with five extra rings and straps makes an interesting gift; you start with a gold combination and can change to black, white or 3 other colors.

The same store has a watch only half an inch in diameter, set on a braided gold bracelet. To keep all this jewelry, get her a round jewel box lined in red velvet.

If you don't like her using your tools, Mr. Husband, get her a woman's tool kit. If you get the right color, she might hang it in the kitchen.

Car Sales Drop From November

New Autos Down From Last Month's Level by 10.9 Per Cent

DETROIT (UPI)—Wards Automotive Reports, statistical agency for the auto industry, reported today that new cars sales for the period Dec. 1-10 dropped 10.9 per cent below the early November level.

Ward's reported sales of 160,427 units during the period compared to 179,969 during the same period last month and 113,500 during the same period last year.

The daily rate during the period, 17,232 units, was the best for the industry, reported today that new cars sales for the period Dec. 1-10 dropped 10.9 per cent below the early November level.

Contributing to the high accident rate, Chids said, are the rush and excitement of the holiday season, increased traffic, speeding, more hours of darkness, less favorable weather and driving after drinking.

The softening of the market was blamed on an advance in the seasonal buying trend. The 1961 models were introduced earlier in the year than 1960 models.

Ward's said the slackening didn't rule out the possibility that December may see the strongest sales volume for the month since 1955.

Compacts accounted for 48.66 per cent of the sales in the period, a 30.3 per cent of the total as compared to 28.2 per cent during the first 10 days of last month and 28.2 per cent during the first 10 days of October.

Compact sales since Jan. 1 now total 1,361,000 units.

Willman Gets Informal OK to Start Required Treatment Plant

Costs of the court-ordered expansion of the city's sewage treatment facilities have risen $200,000 as predicted, the city commission learned last night.

City Manager Walter K. Willman received the informal approval of the commission to let engineers go ahead with the $3.3 million expansion, as ordered recently by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dodd.

At the last of three elections, the city sought approval of a $3.3 million bond issue to pay for the needed expansion to control pollution of the Clinton River.

To the assembled city commissioners in informal session, Willman explained the $200,000 increase in costs was due to rising prices accrued during delays, plus alterations needed on the present plant at Auburn Avenue and Opdyke Road to tie into the new facilities.

Willman said so far the city is planning to pay for the 30-year, $3.3 million bond issue — similar ones were rejected three times by city voters — out of the capital improvement funds at $200,000 a year.

The payment, Willman told commissioners, would start in 1963 when the court ordered, request by the State Water Resources Commission, says the city must have the expanded facilities in operation.

Yule Displays Mean Money

Union Lake Club Offers $100 in Prizes for Best Outdoor Decorations

UNION LAKE — Prizes totaling $100 will be awarded to area residents with the best outdoor Christmas displays, the Union Lake Civic Club announced today.

George Williams, president of the organization, said that a $30 U.S. savings bond will be given to the first place winner and $25 bonds awarded to the two runners-up.

A separate prize of a $50 bond will be presented to the school, church or business judged to have the best Christmas display.

Only residents living within a 3-mile radius of Union Lake are eligible to enter the contest. Application blanks can be obtained from local merchants and must be mailed before Tuesday to the Union Lake Civic Club, Edgewood Country Club, Walled Lake.

The three contest judges are the Rev. Roy Fackler, Edward Vennard and George Williams.

In announcing the contest Dec. 1, Williams pointed out the club wants to emphasize the essential spiritual aspects of the holiday. The size or costliness of the display is not a determining factor in winning, he said.

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK — This stack of mail at Pontiac's main Post Office will arrive in time for Christmas, but the mail piled here next week might not make it. Today is the deadline for mailing Christmas cards to nearby states with assurance they will reach their destination on time, according to Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson. The local post office on W. Huron Street will be open until 6 tonight, 5:30 tomorrow, and both it and the Federal Station on E. Huron will be open Sunday from 1-4. The post office opens each day next week at 8:30 a. m. and will remain open until 6 through Thursday, 5:30 Friday, and will close at noon Saturday, Dec. 24.

Commerce Twp. Finds Kilroy Who Was There

The identity of mystery man "Kilroy" was discovered in Commerce Township last night.

When Robert J. Stanton, 31, of 1200 Oakley Park Road, found that his car parked in front of his home had been damaged, he also found a note attached to the windshield.

The note indicated "Kilroy was here." It also gave an address.

Called to investigate, sheriff's deputies were able to clear up the mystery.

Bruce A. Kilroy, 35, of 2435 S. Commerce Road, left the note when he was unable to determine whose car he had struck when he lost control of his own vehicle on wet pavement.

Damage was minor to both vehicles.

Kilroy pleaded ignorance about the millions of mysterious messages left around the world indicating his prior presence. Deputies weren't buying his story, however.

No alibi, they said.

Gets Probation in Theft, Forgery From Mail

DETROIT (AP) — Harold F. Sackett, former postmaster at Holloway, was placed on two year's probation Wednesday by U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman for taking and forging a $39.68 income tax refund check.

Sackett, 41-year-old father of seven children, told investigators he took the check to cover shortages in his postal collections.

He resigned as postmaster last September. Holloway is 10 miles northeast of Adrian.

The Old and the New

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Instead of calling the repairman when the sound of their television set failed, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burk went to the attic of their 1949 table model. The Burks now watch television on one TV set while the sound comes from the old model.

Wouldn't You Know It!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Mrs. K. K. Hopper looked out the window to find a big gasoline truck blocking the driveway. The truck was out of gas.

Fire Halls to Glow for Pontiac Twp. Kids

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Children in Pontiac Township are looking forward eagerly to the annual Christmas parties in fire halls near their homes next week.

There will be two parties Sunday, Dec. 18, at 1 p.m. at Station III and another at 2 p.m. at Station II, for youngsters living in those neighborhoods.

The party at Station I will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, according to Fire Chief Carl Schlegel.

Metropolitan Club, Spirit 69, is sponsoring the three events, for which money was raised through sale of Goodfellow editions of The Pontiac Press last Saturday.

NETS $700

Some $700 was netted in the annual drive.

The remainder of the proceeds will be used to buy hats, boots and shoes for needy families in the township before Christmas.

Fire Station I is on Auburn Road in Auburn Heights. Station II in the Township Hall building on Opdyke Road and Station III on Johnson Road.

Louisiana's House Votes College Probe

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana House Thursday passed a resolution directing an anti-American activities probe at Louisiana State University, after a pledge it would be no witch hunt. The measure, without an opposing voice raised in the House, was sent immediately to the Senate for concurrence.

The resolution was touched off by Prof. Waldo F. McVey's criticism of the legislature's fight

Sees Profit Pressure Continuing in '61

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—President Mark W. Cressap Jr., in a year-end statement, said Thursday 1960 sales by Westinghouse Electric Corp. should show improvement over this year but that there will continue to be intense price pressure on profits.

Cressap said 1960 sales are expected to slightly exceed last year's $1.910 billion but not the $2,009,000,000 record sales of 1957. He said the pressure on earnings

Former Rivals to Run Again

Bartlett and Holloway Eye Superintendent of Public Instruction Post

LANSING (AP)—Lynn M. Bartlett, who won the election for state superintendent of public instruction two years ago, and Hugh H. Holloway, who lost, have announced that they are ready to go at it again in the next spring election.

Holloway, superintendent of public instruction in Sault Ste. Marie since 1955, said he would run again on the Republican ticket, although he lost last time by slightly more than 40,000 votes. He said he would offer himself as a candidate in the spring Republican State Convention.

Democrat Bartlett said in Lansing later he would "be in there pitching."

"I will offer myself as a candidate on the basis of my record in office," he said.

Holloway, a former Michigan State University mathematics instructor, has been high school principal and school superintendent in several Michigan districts.

Hungarians Charge Yanks Abuse Rights

LONDON (UPI)—American diplomats in Hungary are "abusing their privileges," said a Hungarian Communist party's official organ charged.

The newspaper Nepszabadsag, quoted by the official news agency MTI in a broadcast monitored here, said American diplomats in Hungary "are transgressing the laws internationally accepted concerning the activities of diplomats."

The paper charged that on two separate occasions, on Dec. 2 and 13, American diplomats had "used provincial trips" authorized by the Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs for the purpose of making reconnaissance.

"We want to have an improvement of relations between our two countries," the paper added. "But it seems the Americans do not seem since they are abusing the confidence of the Hungarian government."

The checks range from $10 to $220, depending on the length of residence and the rental paid at Mitchell Manor, a government-sponsored housing project near Mitchell Air Force Base.

Alexander Moss & Sons, Inc., which announced the rebates Wednesday, explained that they represent $24,674 in tax refunds Nassau County and Hempstead Town has collected too much in taxes between 1958 and this year, and returned the money to the company.

Alexander Moss explained that he felt it was only right that the tenants should get the money. He said he hopes to get the checks for everyone by Christmas Day. Many of the recipients have been transferred to bases in remote parts of the world.

Enough electricity is used to a 40-watt light burning for 60 years to make a ton of aluminum to keep years.

First Border-to-Border Freeway

State to Open Last Lin of Interstate 94 Monday

JACKSON (UPI) — Michigan, which ranks first among the 50 states in interstate highway construction, will claim two new firsts Monday when the final link of Interstate 94 is opened to traffic between here and Ann Arbor.

When state highway commissioner John C. Mackie cuts a red-white and blue ribbon opening the last section of the highway, Michigan will have the nation's first border-to-border freeway and the longest stretch of continuous toll-free highway.

Opening of the 200-mile freeway from Detroit to Lake Michigan also pushes the state beyond the 500-mile mark in toll-free interstate highway mileage.

Mackie expects to be joined by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, several congressmen and members of the state administrative board for the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

"The opening of this final stretch makes the fulfillment of a long-cherished dream of a superhighway across the most heavily-traveled route in the state," Mackie said.

The 200-mile mark will be designated by a 15-foot wide strip of gold paint on the new section.

Mackie said newspaper reports of the opening Monday will be placed with business cards in a "time capsule" to be buried along the route. The time and exact place of the capsule's burial has not yet been determined, he said.

"As for recovery of the capsule, I think we should specify that it be opened by a future highway commissioner within 10 or 20 years from now because I feel vast changes will occur in the state in the years immediately ahead," he said.

Civil Rights Problem Worse in the North

Chairman Hannah Says:

AP Photos
KIDNAP VICTIM — Anthony Alessio, 41, is shown leaving the county grand jury room in San Diego, Calif., after he testified about his $200,000 kidnapping Nov. 22. Alessio said he still fears gangland retaliation. Six persons have been charged with his abduction.

DETROIT (AP) — Chairman John A. Hannah of the U. S. Civil Liberties Committee says he is "convinced the most difficult civil rights problem is in the larger cities of the North."

Hannah said he is convinced of this because Northern cities "sweep it under the rug or run" to the suburbs.

"So far," he said, "there hasn't been a willingness to recognize that this is a major problem and something must be done about it."

The suggested solution will come when "one more than half" demands it.

Hannah, who also is president of Michigan State University, said he would like to see a conference after two days of commission hearings in Detroit, where a series of witnesses related housing, employment and other fields.

Hannah said the commission's investigation showed discrimination in Detroit, compared with other large cities, "is no worse and better than most."

In housing discrimination he described Chicago as "vastly worse," but said New York's minority housing situation was better.

Detroit complaints, he continued, were "much milder than in Los Angeles and San Francisco."

Hannah, however, said equal rights is "the most important domestic problem facing the United States" and that it held "the potential for civil commotion."

He said it is "imperative that we maintain tranquility at home" and that "unless we move in the direction we have to move we will never win the cold war with Soviet Russia."

Hannah said his commission already had recommended a presidential order which would require all housing financed through a government-insured mortgage to be offered for sale or rent without discrimination.

Ike Lauds YMs for Job With GIs

President Eisenhower lauded the Young Men's Christian Association for its work on behalf of America's armed forces, declaring this service to be a major contribution to national security.

News of the President's commendation was received today by Ted N. Slosson, general secretary of the Pontiac YMCA, from the organization's national headquarters.

"By advancing the physical and moral strength of men and women in uniform," the President said, "the YMCA helps to insure a continuance of our way of life and a full measure of individual freedom."

The President's views were expressed in a congratulatory letter addressed to the National Board of YMCAs on the eve of the association's 100th anniversary of service to the nation's fighting men. The YMCA movement will commemorate this anniversary throughout the country in 1961.

Slosson said the centennial anniversary will be marked by a year-long series of community, regional and national events honoring the thousands of volunteers involved in this activity from the Civil War to the present day.

Cache of Oil in Head Means Death to More Than 20,000 Yearly

WASHINGTON — The sperm whale is too valuable for its own good.

A large reservoir of oil is stored in the mammal's head and blubber. The yellow, wax substance is widely used as an additive in automatic transmission fluids, tire chemicals, plastics, cosmetics and detergents. A 40-foot whale yields 40 barrels of sperm oil.

Because they possess such a fortune, or misfortune, more than 20,000 sperm whales are killed each year, the National Geographic Society says.

Gone are the days when whalers could escape hand-propelled harpoons. Modern equipment, including helicopters and harpoon guns, gives a sighted animal only a slight chance to miss death.

The sperm whale can be easily identified by an enormous, blunt head which comprises one-third of its body. Also, it spouts a low, rounded puff directed forward and upward.

When attacked, this unusually peaceful mammal can become a killer. Like its fictional ancestor Moby Dick, the leviathan will attack large, modern vessels have been sent by enraged sperm whales.

Only a sperm whale could have swallowed Jonah. Its unusually wide gullet is known to have accommodated a 16-foot shark.

In 1881, James Bartley, an English sailor, was reported to have been swallowed by a sperm whale and found alive 24 hours later when the whale was cut open.

While biologists are dubious about Bartley's ability to resist the animal's gastric juices, they do not rule out the possibility that a human could survive in a whale for a short time.

There is oxygen in the whale's stomach, because it needs air to keep afloat. The heat is oppressive, but not more than 104 to 106 degrees Fahrenheit. The temperature, though never heat to a man, would not necessarily be fatal.

Weary of Jokes, Town Wants to Change Name

MOSCOW, Maine (UPI) — A lot of people in this Somerset County town of 600 inhabitants would like to change the name to something else—perhaps Wyman Dam.

When it was incorporated in 1816, the town was named in honor of the Russian capital. But times have changed. And local residents are tired of answering the query from joking tourists, "Where is Khrushchev's house?"

There has been some talk of changing the name to Wyman Dam, the local name for Moscow's post office. But no definite move to effect such a change has been made so far.

Who Made Those Choices?

Walk of Fame Stumbles Often

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This being the Christmas season, it is time to take a Scrooge-like view of a local civic project—the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

The town's property owners have wisely started a campaign to spruce up Hollywood Boulevard, which has long had the appearance of Coney Island but little of its fun.

Part of the plan consisted of ripping up sidewalks and installing $1.25 million worth of terrazzo walkways with the names of 1,500 famous stars imbedded in them.

The Walk of Fame is chiefly noted by its exclusion of Charlie Chaplin. Though he was Hollywood's greatest star, the businessmen who compiled the list of stars disapproved of his politics. Hence he was included out.

We won't argue the Chaplin bit today. Let's look and wonder at some of the other selections.

The merchants named their choices in four categories: motion pictures, recording, radio and television. Note that only entertainers in the mechanical medium can qualify—none of those old-fashioned people who entertain in the flesh.

Thus a star could be imbedded four times in the Terrazzo and two are: Gene Autry and Tony Martin. The former is a logical choice; Martin may have appeared in all four mediums—most entertainers have—but he now makes his principal living in night clubs.

5 TIMES FOR 25
Twenty-eight stars get triple billing, including Jane Froman.

Conrad Nagel, Basil Rathbone, Spike Jones, Jo Stafford and Fred Waring, Marilyn Monroe and Marlon Brando have to be content with one star only. Gale Storm gets three but none for motion pictures, which is where she got her name and fame.

Tab Hunter, movie and TV star whose singing talent has been widely debated, gets his star for recording only. Red Skelton, Don Ameche, Joe Arden and William Bendix get theirs for radio and TV but not for movies. Fred Astaire, with a bundle of Emmies in his credit is listed for films alone.

Oscar winner Barry Fitzgerald is down for TV, in which I cannot recall his appearing. Same for Roland Young, who died before TV came in. Walter Brennan—the "real McCoy"—gets only a motion picture star, and Ward Bond only one for TV.

Then Charles Farrell is so designated in his movie billing, but Charlie Farrell for TV. Ozzie and Harriet Nelson get one star together for radio, separate ones for TV. John Derek makes the team, but not Tony Curtis; Jim Arness, but not Richard Boone; Jack Carson, but not Dennis Morgan.

Groucho Marx gets a call for radio and TV but misses out on movies. Harpo, Chico and Zeppo aren't even mentioned. Noah Berry Jr. is included, but not his famous sire. Jackie Cooper is recognized as a child movie actor, but as an adult TV star. Then we find stage star Anne Bancroft under TV and stripper Gypsy Rose Lee under movies.

"WHO DATS?"
My own list of "who dat's" include: Dorothy Dalton, Vaughn De Leath, Marie Dore, E. Power Biggs, Edwin F. Goldwyn, Elliott Dexter, Webb Pierce, Mike Gary. And oh, yes, Lassie, Rin-Tin-Tin.

and Strongheart also have their stars in the Hollywood Walk of Fame. But not Charlie Chaplin.

Will Unmask Imitation Wood

Phonograph, Radio, TV Makers to Disclose Cabinets' Composition

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission announced that nine major manufacturers of phonographs and television and radio sets have agreed to disclose the real materials used in imitation wood cabinets.

The FTC said the companies had failed to label sets adequately to show the true composition of cabinets finished to simulate wood. The nine firms signed stipulations requiring them to label or tag property cabinets which so closely resemble wood they might deceive the public about their true composition.

FTC Chairman Earl W. Kintner said the action would enable purchasers to determine exactly what kind of cabinet they were getting and also prevent any of the manufacturers from gaining an unfair competitive advantage.

Companies signing the stipulation were: Admiral Corp.; General Electric Co.; Radio Corporation of America; Motorola, Inc.; Westinghouse Electric Corp.; Emerson Radio and Phonograph Corp.; Zenith Radio Corp.; and Sylvania Electric Products, Inc.

The FTC said the stipulations did not constitute admissions by the companies that they had violated the law.

Urge Port of Detroit to Expand Its Docks

DETROIT (UPI)—Great Lakes overseas shipping agents have urged the Detroit-Wayne County Port Commission to expand local terminal facilities.

The agents said some improvement has been made but much additional expansion is needed in the Port of Detroit.

Andrew W. Fleming, administrative assistant to the commission, acknowledged there was much waiting for ships in the port.

He said waiting time totaled 4,123 hours at Detroit harbor terminals and 324 hours at Detroit marine terminals.

But Fleming also noted foreign tonnage through October was 134 per cent higher than a year ago. He said 1959 tonnage through October was 206,610 while this year's tonnage through the corresponding period was 489,791 tons.

Union Prexy Critical of Picks

James Carey Objects to Selection of Hodges, McNamara by Kennedy

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, doesn't like two cabinet selections made by President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Carey was especially critical of the appointment of Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina as secretary of Commerce. He implied labor may apply pressure to prevent Senate confirmation.

He also indicated dissatisfaction with Robert S. McNamara, president of Ford Motor Co., as defense secretary.

"You may very well recall," the union chief said, "we opposed the appointment of Adm. Louis Strauss as commerce secretary, and the Senate did not confirm him."

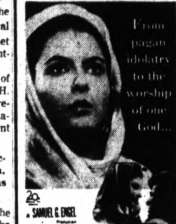

Carey told a union regional conference that Gov. Hodges "has yielded to business interests, while his toughness has been against the wage earner of North Carolina."

The U.I.W. president said he objected to McNamara "mainly because we just don't know him."

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucretia Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: Vainly Michael has searched the ocean bottom for the wreck of the ship carrying the Black Pearl. Suddenly Costenbriker remembers the spot where the ship was wrecked. They are about to reach the cliff when they find their reward in flames.

CHAPTER II

Michael and Costenbriker watched helplessly as the row boat burned to ashes.

"How could it have happened? Who could have done it?" cried Michael.

he twisted and turned, the more securely he was bound.

"What'll happen now?" he groaned and he thought mournfully of Costenbriker and Santa's elves who now might never wake up.

Then he saw that he had merely stepped into a patch of giant sea weed and what held him fast was its slimy branches. Moving slowly he carefully untwined the embracing weed and broke free.

Hardly had he slipped away than he felt a sharp pain in his foot and he was trapped again. Fighting off new panic, he bent down and discovered that a shelled creature had angrily clamped its jaws around his toes.

Holding back tears of pain, he pried open the shell and limped on. He longed to return to the surface of the sea but just when he felt he could no longer stand the pain and the cold and the fright, there suddenly loomed ahead of him a ghostly shape rising from the ocean floor.

He stopped and stared and then he thought joyfully. It's the ship at last!

(Next: The Monster of the Deep.)

There loomed ahead a ghostly shape on the ocean floor.

"There's who did it! Some monster from the deep. Oh, if I could only swim I'd go after him!" He stamped his foot in rage.

In all his days of diving Michael had found only friends in the sea. Now he shivered to think some monstrous creature might have been lurking there and watching him all the while.

Costenbriker's rage suddenly departed. "It doesn't matter, after all. We don't need the boat to find the island cliff. We'll travel by parafoil."

So saying, he opened the parafoil and he and Michael scrambled in. A moment later they were sailing above the islands with Costenbriker hanging near the edge of the parafoil searching for the cliff.

THERE IT IS!

At last he cried. "There it is right below!" he yanked at the parafoil handle and they landed gently on the top of a high cliff whose sides dropped straight down to the sea.

Michael stared at the water far, far below. "How will I ever get down there?" he quavered.

"Easy," replied Costenbriker cheerfully. He started unwinding something from around his tiny waist. "I'll lower you on this!" He laid out a rope of incredible length.

While Michael secured his diving gear, Costenbriker carefully tied one end of the rope around a large rock.

The other end he tied around Michael's waist. Then Michael dropped over the edge of the cliff and inch by inch, Costenbriker lowered him to the sea.

When Michael looked down, he grew dizzy at the sight of the far-away water. He closed his eyes and tried not to think of what might be lying in wait below. Finally his feet touched water.

Quickly he untied the rope from his waist and waved to Costenbriker who was peering down from above. Then he dove head-first into the deep.

Here was not the clear green waters he had swam in before. No golden paths of sunlight shimmered down from the surface.

The water was an eerie blue and all the shapes and shadows he saw were blue. It was cold and still and silent. His heart pounded. Michael walked slowly along the ocean floor, peering this way

Cut Campaigns—Broadcasters

CBS, NBC Chiefs Add Voices to Appeal, Ask End of 'Equal Time'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two radio-TV network chiefs joined Thursday in calling for much shorter presidential election campaigns and repeal of the "equal time" law that was suspended during the Kennedy-Nixon race.

Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., and Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said long campaigns are outdated in the era of mass TV exposure for presidential and vice-presidential candidates.

They presented their views to the House Elections Committee. At the request of Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Texas, the committee is considering whether campaigns are too long and if so what can be done to shorten them.

Stanton and Sarnoff said six or eight weeks would be long enough for any presidential campaign.

SEPTEMBER CONVENTIONS

The suggested that such a limit could be imposed by holding the national party conventions as late as September instead of in July as at present.

They also said that suspension of the "equal time" provision of the Federal Broadcasting Act during the 1960 campaign permitted radio-TV stations to present the major party candidates without being required to grant equal air time to minor candidates.

The committee was told this was a blessing in disguise to President-Elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon because they were given a lot of free air time on public service programs.

Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., joined in the plea for shorter campaigns and proposed that a six-week limit be imposed by law.

He said the 1960 campaign of almost four months left the candidates "physical wrecks."

Declaring that over-long campaigns also leave the public "bored to distraction," Monagan said:

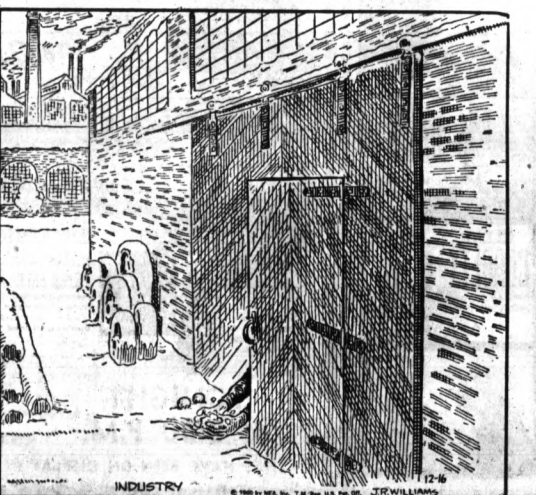

"When this point has been reached, those who are running have become automatons, endlessly repeating the same catchwords while the voters, in self-defense, turn their television screens to westerns and whodunits."

Illustrator Henry Clive Dies of Cancer at 79

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Henry Clive, artist and magazine illustrator whose portraits of beautiful women won him wide acclaim, is dead of lung cancer at 79.

Word of his death Sunday in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital was not made public until late Wednesday.

Clive, a former magician and one-time actor, was a top artist on the American Weekly magazine—a Sunday publication of the Hearst Newspapers—for more than 35 years.

Order Eased Up on Dependents

Exemptions Are Listed Letting Some GIs Keep Families Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has eased its controversial order limiting the number of military dependents overseas. Now there are loopholes for some families to squeeze through. Originally President Eisenhower ordered that American servicemen and their families spend American dollars while overseas, and these dollars sometimes are redeemed for American gold by foreign banks.

The new Defense Department memorandum could mean that at least 60,000 more than the original 200,000 dependents will be allowed to stay abroad. In all, there are 494,000 military dependents abroad.

In addition, the memorandum slows down the effect of the presidential order by canceling a system of strict monthly quotas of reductions supposed to begin next month. Under the new setup, each service determines its own monthly quotas. In all, probably few servicemen ordered abroad in the beginning of 1961 will travel with their families. The memorandum was issued by Deputy Secretary of Defense James H. Douglas in the absence of Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates.

King and Bride Honeymooning in Spanish Manor

CORDOBA, Spain (AP) — King Baudouin and his Spanish bride spent the first night of their honeymoon in a magnificent manor house attached to a 16th-century monastery high in the Cordobese Sierra.

The royal newweds arrived late Thursday night by plane at Sevilla's San Pablo Airport. They drove from the airport to the village of Hornachuelos and then nearly 15 miles into the mountains to the estate of the Marques de Salinas, called San Calixto.

Senators Battling to Save Adrian Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart today continued their fight to save an Adrian, Mich., plant from being scrapped.

The latest move came when the senators suggested legislation that in the disposal of surplus government plants would give preference to bidders who would continue to operate them in labor surplus areas.

The Storm Machinery Co. of Hammond, Ind., has offered the general services administration $1,000,000 for the Adrian facility as scrap. The plant has been appraised at $2.5 million.

The Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif. has bid $2,200,000, saying it wishes to continue operating the plant. McNamara and Hart have asked GSA Administrator Franklin G. Ploete to delay disposing of the former Air Force plant. They contend that wrecking the plant, capable of employing 2,500 persons, "would not be in the best interests of the United States."

Kennedy Family Swoops Into Florida for Reunion

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — The far-ranging family of President-Elect John F. Kennedy is beginning to gather at this plush winter resort for a pre-Christmas reunion.

Kennedy himself is expected to fly in and remain here through the holidays when he rejoins his wife, Jacqueline and their two children later.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, parents of the President-elect, and other members of the family will join him later.

Robert Kennedy's vivacious wife Ethel and five of her seven children arrived sleepy-eyed Wednesday night.

TRAVEL WITH JACK
Robert Kennedy and the other two children will accompany the President-elect here today.

The Robert Kennedys are staying in the eight-bedroom mansion of Gifford Dudley Jr., a wealthy Nashville, Tenn., insurance man and Palm Beach sportsman.

They are about eight miles from the Joseph P. Kennedy home where the President-elect and his smaller brood have set up weekend house-keeping.

Mrs. Ethel Kennedy said she does not know her next personally, but they have mutual friends. She said she and her family plan to remain until Christmas Eve.

The Dudley family are not due until the day after Christmas.

The Palm Beach social season officially opened Thursday, but the nation's future first lady will be under watch as far as the public is concerned.

The villa where she is recuperating from the recent Caesarian section birth of John F. Kennedy Jr., is closely guarded by Secret Service men, Florida police and even the Coast Guard which patrols the Atlantic Ocean side of the house.

She has made it clear she hopes to use the next few weeks of solitude to prepare for the hectic life she will find in the White House.

Remember the moving Christmas article "Legacy of Love" and "Journey to Rome" Associated Press Religion Writer George Cornell has another inspiring Nativity story coming your way beginning Monday.

It's called "Blessed Art Thou, Mary."

It recounts in rare detail the warm love story of Mary and Joseph from the day they were espoused through their time of strange travail to the birth of Jesus.

Don't miss "Blessed Art Thou, Mary," beginning Monday in The Pontiac Press.

Siskins Get 2nd Award for Aid to Handicapped

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Mose and Garrison Siskin, who earned a fortune salvaging junk and used it to salvage people, have received the President's Distinguished Service Award for the second time.

The philanthropists are the only individuals ever to receive the award twice. It is presented each year for the greatest national use of employment of handicapped Americans.

But It's Legal

Waters Is Searching for 'Good' Opponents

Coach Frank (Muddy) Waters of Hillsdale is looking for "good, small college teams" to fill out his 1961 football schedule.

Three vacancies appeared when Adrian, Hope and Kalamazoo announced they would not compete against the Dales. Their decision came on the heels of Hillsdale's two-year suspension imposed by the MIAA presidents.

Hillsdale severed its 77-year-old relationship with the conference Thursday.

Northern Michigan is set on the Dales' schedule for next fall. A date has yet to be settled with MIAA colleges — Alma and Albion — have made no announcement. But Albion's athletic department is known to be in favor of continuing the series which started in 1981.

Waters has posted a fabulous record at Hillsdale after taking over as head coach in 1953. The Dales have shared or won seven straight conference championships since then. They have lost only one MIAA contest in that time.

The former Wallis Lake coach (1950-51) has an overall mark of 40-4-1. This includes the Holiday Bowl defeat to Pittsburgh State which snapped a 34-game streak and the last victory over Iowa State in the Mineral Bowl.

This latter contest triggered the controversy that led to Hillsdale's suspension and then, withdrawal from the MIAA.

Not only does Waters have the problem of filling his football schedule, as athletic director, he must also find opponents for the basketball, baseball, cross country, track, tennis and golf squads.

While Hillsdale has dominated the MIAA in football during Waters' reign as head coach, the other sports have fared only "average in MIAA competition." In fact, the basketball teams have posted only two winning seasons in the last 21 years.

Waters said before Thursday's news conference that "I'm kind of relieved" at leaving the MIAA. "It hasn't been any fun for me or the players to beat teams like

NO REGRETS — Coach Frank (Muddy) Waters appeared to be relieved that Hillsdale has withdrawn from the MIAA. He is now faced with the schedule problems of an independent.

Guilty of Excellence in Football—Hillsdale

By DON VOGEL

A disagreement over educational philosophies appear to be the main reason behind Hillsdale College's withdrawal from the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Hillsdale became an independent for the first time in 72 years Thursday when college officials formally announced the withdrawal during a news conference in Detroit.

The move came as a direct result of a two-year suspension handed Hillsdale earlier this month by the seven presidents of the other MIAA colleges. The Dales were charged with participating in the Mineral Bowl football game in violation of conference rules.

Dr. J. Donald Phillips, Hillsdale president, Thursday declared action of the presidents "tasty, in-temperate and unprecedented, and illegal."

He charged that the presidents violated the MIAA constitution by suspending Hillsdale.

"The faculty representatives and students from each school make up the board of directors which governs the association," said Phillips.

The presidents voted last spring to ban trips and post-season contests in all sports. The board of directors has never voted the ban although a proposal is to be considered next spring.

Phillips said the only thing Hillsdale is guilty of is an "excellence in football, and having the temerity to challenge the authority of the presidents to seize control of the MIAA from its legal representatives."

Since the arrival of coach Frank (Muddy) Waters seven years ago, a slowly widening gap has appeared in the educational philosophy between Hillsdale and the other MIAA schools.

It has continued to widen in the last five years under Phillips' direction as president. The Hillsdale administrator said.

"It is a fact, that the academic standards required of the athletes and the educational assistance given and encouraged by our physical education group is beneficial to their rounded DETROIT (AP) — Lorne Worsley, clubs in the National Hockey League.

"The guy is amazing," said Detroit's Gordie Howe, who got the goal that earned the Wings a tie, midway through the second period.

"If these guys who say he's a bad goalie would see him against us, they'd say instead that he's the best in the league. He's always in the right spot at the right time when we play the Rangers, whether or not on their ice."

Most of the criticism aimed at Worsley has come from Ranger coaches and the New York front office. There have been frequent trips to the minor leagues for Worsley — but always the trip back after the Rangers were more dissatisfied with the work of goaltenders like Jack McCartan, Al Rolins and Marcel Paille.

Worsley, a poker-faced workman, turned back 31 Detroit shots last night before 8,353 spectators. Terry Sawchuk, who allowed New York's first period goal by Bill Gadsby, had 22 stops.

Howe's tying goal came just after the big veteran missed an open corner of the net when Murray Oliver's shot had pulled Worsley to one side. Pete Gogan fired a long shot, and Howe steered it in at the third for his eight goal and his third in the last three games.

"We played fine hockey after sleeping for the first 15 minutes," said general manager Jack Adams of the Wings. "But that Worsley—his just terrible. I'd like to say he's unconscionably lucky against us, but I've seen him do this to us for so long that I just have to think he plays exceptionally well against our club."

Worsley made a dozen outstanding saves, once stopping Howe on a dead breakaway as Howe shot from right on top of the net.

The Wings are idle until Sunday night when they meet the Blackhawks in Chicago.

DETROIT (AP) — Should the Detroit Lions and the Chicago Bears resume last month's domybrook when they meet in the final game of the season at Briggs Stadium Sunday there could be any number of tender postscripts.

It seems that the Bears' Charley Bivins and the Lions' Willie McCung were in a modified punt formation while their mates battled at the wind-up of the game at Chicago.

The Bears worked over Detroit quarterback Jim Niswinski and won the game 28-7.

The fight began after a collision between Bruce Mahler of the Lions and John Aven of the Bears. Both benches emptied and the players engaged in shoving and swinging matches on the field — all ending up with $25 fines.

Bill Fay, Chicago public relations man, insists that the Bears thought little of the scrap.

"After viewing the movie," he said, "the players thought it was kind of hilarious."

"There was this one sequence in the fight movie which showed the Lions' Willie McCung running around the fringe of the fight, kicking Bears in the pants."

In the television version, Bivins of the Bears was reported having been seen doing the same thing — to Lions.

But if Chicago coach George Halas and his charges think the whole episode was laughable, the Lions and coach George Wilson were not in a comic mood when they prepared for Sunday's game.

Wilson wants the Lions to be tough in this one. "You've got to have the same idea the Bears have," he said. "Don't let anybody take your home field from you."

The Lions have another, and more important reason — to beat the Bears. Depending on the outcome of other weekend games in the National Football League, Detroit stands a chance of a playoff berth and a possible shot at the world championship.

Pistons at Home Tonight, May Trade 1st Stringers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons will be down to the legal limit of 10 players by the time they start at Olympia in Seattle, Dec. 18 against the Cincinnati Royals.

The game is the night cap of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at Olympia Stadium. The first contest matches Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Kerbahey said he was confident the team would be trimmed to time to meet the deadline. He said he had talked with the representatives of five NBA clubs yesterday and expected to close negotiations this afternoon by either selling one player outright or trading two Pistons for one new player.

Kerbahey declined to name the players he was considering putting in the auction block but said they were "first line players, not second stringers."

"Any deal I make you may be sure will strengthen the Pistons," he said.

Tonight's doubleheader will see the top and bottom teams in the NBA's two divisions doing battle.

Philadelphia leads the Eastern division and St. Louis heads the Western division. Detroit is last in the West and New York last in the East.

The Pistons have a 10-15 record. New York is 7-20.

The Knicks hold a 2-1 edge over Detroit in season play.

Montreal Streak Broken by Leafs

Injury-Riddled Toronto Skates to 4-2 Victory With Late Rally

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens' threat to spread-eagle the field in the National Hockey League has been stopped, at least temporarily.

The defending league and Stanley Cup champions had won eight straight, with substitute Charlie Hodge in the nets until they ran into the injured-riddled Toronto Maple Leafs Thursday night.

Although minus five regulars, the second-place Leafs struck from behind with three goals in the final period for a 4-2 victory that reduced the Canadiens' lead to five points.

The battle between Toronto's Frank Mahovlich and Montreal's Dickie Moore for the league goal-scoring lead was a standoff. Each got one goal. For Mahovlich it was No. 27, for Moore No. 25.

The Canadiens jumped off in front on their first period goals by Boon Boone, Gendreau and Moore. Bob Pulford got one back for Toronto in the second period before Billy Harris, Bob Nevin and Mahovlich connected in the finale.

LONG AND SHORT—Cleveland Jones (top) a 148-pound 5-foot-3 back on the University of Oregon football team is lifted by tackle Riley Matton (left) 65 and 230 pounds, and Ron Anderson 65 and 238 pounds during their workout at Philadelphia where they meet Penn State in the Liberty Bowl tomorrow.

Oregon, Penn State Set to Play Liberty Bowl

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — De-fending champion Penn State and challenger Oregon stage their final workouts on the green grass of Philadelphia Stadium today with each club in good shape for Saturday's second annual Liberty Bowl game.

It was the third time around for Oregon on the emerald sprayed turf which was snow clogged the forepart of the week following a 14-inch storm, and the first for the Nittany Lions in the huge stadium where they inaugurated the bowl series last year with a 7-0 victory over Alabama.

The elements were in doubt, with the weather bureau offering everything from rain to sleet to snow to clear weather, but cold.

In the first gamble against Northern weather vagaries last year, the bowl was rewarded with a beautiful pre-winter day with comfortable mid-to-thermometer readings.

Oregon coach Len Casanova, who faces Lions coach Rip Engle for the second time — the first in 1959 when Casanova's Pitt team lost 21-20 to State in a game delayed a week by snow — was hopeful for a firm turf for the inter-sectional clash. Indications were he would get it, unless there was a day-long rainfall.

Oregon's offense is built about quarterback Dave Groz, good enough to be Philadelphia Eagles' draft choice last year, with the Ducks' quarterback totaling 1,140 yards in offense during the 7-2-1 season just ended.

Casanova stressed the Ducks' sacrificed poundage for speed and maneuverability, and he had all working with the 6-2, 206-pound Groz in the T-formation attack. Halfback Dave Grayson, a 5-7 sprinter and dynamic Cleveland Jones, a 5-3, 148-pounder, combine on the wide staff.

Penn State rolled into town with a 6-3 record which included victories over Army and Pitt, the teams which joined National champion Syracuse on succeeding afternoon.

The Lions' stout line is anchored by Jay Huffman, the outstanding Liberty Bowl player a year ago. Steve Barber, a 235-pound tackle, veteran guard Bill Popp and Jim Smith, a 230-pound junior tackle who is the most improved player of the season, and Jim Blasenstein, Bob Mitinger and Dave Robinson, all fine players.

The nationally televised game (NBC starting at 1:30 p.m. EST) with National radio coverage in the fifth bowl encounter for Oregon.

Bowlerama Finals at Lakewood Sunday

Area Bowlers Go Shopping for $$$

Bowlers of Oakland County are going shopping for big stakes this Sunday.

There will be 741 of them and they will all be battling for the same thing — money.

Three squads of handicap bowlers and two squads of actual bowlers meet in the finals of the 4th annual Pontiac Press Bowlerama at Lakewood Lanes.

The first squad gets started at 10:30 a.m. and the final group goes at 2:15 p.m.

Bowlers are urged to adhere strictly to the rules of the finals.

Coach Laid Down Law Before Syracuse Game Was Won, 115-105

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A get-tough policy by Boston Celtics Coach Red Auerbach may be paying dividends.

The Celtics, defending National Basketball Association champions, had lost two in a row and five of seven when Auerbach got started. He called a club meeting and laid down the law.

Then, just before Thursday night's meeting with Syracuse on neutral ground, he called another closed door session with the team.

"This team of ours is just finding out how much improved the league is," snapped the redhead. Result: The hard-running Celtics put together a 31-point margin in the third period that overcame a Syracuse halftime lead and pointed Boston toward a protested 115-105 victory.

Area Boys Top Foes

BIG RAPIDS — Toy Palmer of Fernalde with 25 points, paced undefeated Ferris to its fourth straight victory Thursday night, a 94-66 triumph over winless Hillsdale, which suffered its seventh loss in a row. The Bulldogs started fast and never were in trouble, holding a 6-33 lead at the half. Dave Simmons of Pontiac was high for the losers with 24 points.

There have been some changes in the list of names in the finals.

Alternates will stand by at the alley. Bowlers should register at the Lakewood Lanes desk immediately upon arrival, pay their bowling costs.

Any bowler who fails to be at the alley when his squad starts bowling will be replaced by an alternate. THERE WILL BE NO EXCEPTIONS.

Roll-offs will be held only in event of ties for the championship. Should there be a three-way tie, all three bowlers will bowl a tie-game rolloff and winner, runner-up and third place determined accordingly with handicaps.

This also holds true for the ac-

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Green Bay Packers Saturday shot for the Western Conference title and then for the National Football League championship—honors they last captured in 1944.

The Packers face the resurgent Los Angeles Rams in Memorial Coliseum in a game that holds the key to a crowded picture in the Conference.

Haliback Paul Hornung and his Packer mates can haul down the crown with a victory or even a tie. A loss will throw the loop into playoffs involving the Baltimore Colts or San Francisco 49ers, and the Detroit Lions.

The Philadelphia Eagles already own the Eastern Conference title. Coach Vince Lombardi's visitors, with a record of 7-4-0, are favored by 10 points.

Upward of 60,000 are expected in Memorial Coliseum.

The game will be televised nationally via CBS, starting at 1:35 p.m., PST, with Southern California blacked out.

Last week Hornung, slopping near Tyler between Coolidge and Greenfield.

Ram hopes may already have been wrecked if all their injured players are as wounded as the club claims.

Officially out are quarterback Frank Ryan and pass-catching, punting Ed Sothner.

Coach Bob Waterfield leads off with quarterback Bill Wade, whose 66-yard touchdown run was enough to beat the Baltimore Colts last week, 10-3.

Waterfield said Tom Wilson will start at fullback for the injured Joe Maroon, flanked by halfbacks Jim Arnett and Dick Bass. Maroon punted—and extremely well—when Sothner went out last Sunday.

If Maroon can't perform, place kicker Danny Villanueva will handle punts.

Green Bay has a sound team, which was not true when the Rams upset them last month in the final minute, 33-31. Both Hornung and fullback Jim Taylor were badly hampered that afternoon by injuries.

Star handles the quarterbacking, with Boyd Dowler slated to start at right halfback.

Waterfield describes the Packer attack as perhaps the best balanced in the league. If the Rams can throttle the run-pass option plays of Hornung, not to mention Taylor's harrowing runs, the contest could be close.

This entails overpowering a halfback, who is often the key in the game, as in the case of Jim Taylor's rushing runs, the contest could be close.

The Eagles, a surprising 0-2, will be at St. Rita while Royal Oak, St. Mary hosts St. Ben. St. Rita and Royal Oak head the pack at 2-0.

Full states are also on tap in the Eastern Michigan, Tri-County, Wayne-Oakland, South Central and Southern Thumb races. There will be two Oakland B. contests.

Birmingham Sechelm will visit Hazel Park seeking its initial victory of the year. East Detroit will be guest of powerful Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball is at Port Huron in other EMU play.

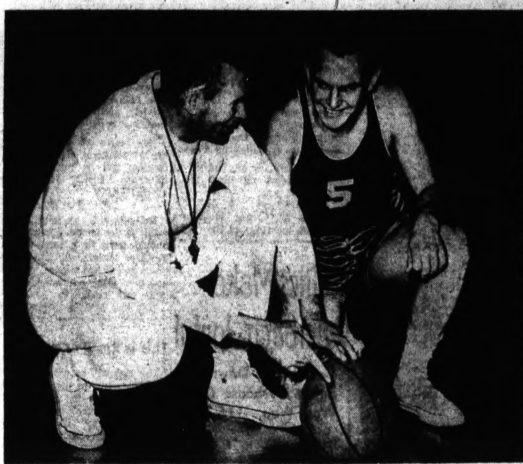

Rochester travels to L'Amore and Romeo visits Roseville in the Tri-County pair. Oxford overhauls North, Branch and Orionville vs. Milford in the SCU.

One of the four Wayne-Oakland leaders will have to drop down since Milford and Holly tangled at the Brown court. Clarkston is expected to make it three straight at Northville while Brighton tries to do the same by keeping West Bloomfield losing. Bloomfield Hills and Grosseville meet in the other tri.

A key game in the Oakland B. will have Troy at Oak Park as Madison goes to Fitzgerald. A Troy victory would leave idle Avondale alone atop the loop standings.

Brown City should keep rolling in the Thumb by tripping Almont as New Haven tries to do the same at Dryden. Armada plays Capac and Anchor Bay vs. Memphis.

Elsewhere, Emmanuel Christian makes its debut at home.

PLAN A VICTORY—Coach Gene Wright and St. Frederick sparkplug Mike Piel hope they were planning a victory in this little talk at practice.

The Rams host strong St. James tonight in an important Suburban Catholic League game at Madison Junior High.

League Play Heads Prep Slate Tonight

By CHUCK ABRAH

League games will highlight the final big schedule of the 1960 portion of the current prep basketball season tonight.

St. Frederick and St. Michael will be playing in adjacent buildings here in an unusual schedule arrangement which will make for a big night in city basketball since PCH is also home.

The Rams, slight favorite for Suburban Catholic honors, dropped their first start but bounced back to win the defending champion St. Benedict. They are now in a four-way tie for 2nd with one of the teams in the knot being tonight's foe at Madison Junior High—St. James.

St. Mike and St. Clement, the other pair in the tie, will be playing at nearby Pontiac Northern. Coach Jim Niebauer's Shamrocks dropped a close one at St. Rita after upsetting Orchard Lake St. Mary.

Grain Futures Trade Slow, Prices Up

CHICAGO 15 (AP)—Early trade in grain futures today was at an unusually slow pace with prices on the up side of previous close.

Brokers said there apparently were no significant factors in grain futures news. However, it was reported that Italy bought about eight million bushels of wheat overnight and that there took moderate amount of soybeans.

The Italian purchase was understood to be all yellow hard wheat, thus probably causing concern of Chicago supplies. Brazil also was reported to have bought about two million bushels of wheat on a barter basis to be paid for with manganese and industrial diamonds.

Lender Picked by Waterford

Community National is Designated to Furnish $350,000 School Fund

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night designated the Community National Bank as the source for borrowing $350,000 against anticipated state aid for school operation.

Of two bids submitted, Community National Bank was low with one for 1.5 per cent interest. The Pontiac State Bank offered a bid for 2.25 per cent interest. Funds borrowed against state aid total $775,000 this year.

Residents living in the John F. Kennedy Junior High School area were notified that their children be taken to classes by school bus, because of maintenance conditions along Harvey Road.

At last month's meeting, parents told the board many losses to the school only partially filled. They asked the board for permission to load them to capacity.

MULL ALTERNATE PASSES

The board last night discussed the possibility of alternating passes to pupils on a basis of how far they lived from the school. School districts do not receive state aid for transporting children living within a radius of one and one-half miles of any school, and the board has adhered to this restriction except in extreme cases.

More study is needed before the board acts, the group was told.

Real estate agent Russell Hicks was authorized to investigate the possibility of acquiring easements, rights of way or property for walkways to Kettering High School, under construction on Bender Road, to a future elementary school site near the high school.

The board selected a pink brick for the new elementary school building now being built in a wooded area near Lotus Lake. A brown brick was chosen for the Pleasant Lake school, under construction near Williams Lake Road.

Brill Electrical Contractors have completed their work on the Lutes and Sandberg elementary schools, and the board authorized a final payment of $4,743 for the work.

No action was taken on the appointment of a member to the recreation board because no recommendations or communications were presented from the township board. Those who wish to support the Township Recreation Department.

The board approved the annual Waterford Township High School athletic field budget for 1961. Anticipated revenue from various and junior varsity games is $3,900 and expenses will be $3,665, leaving a balance of $235.

Ten new teaching contracts were approved by the board.

Christmas Tree Causes Injury to Girl Driver

Bringing home a Christmas tree resulted in injuries to a 17-year-old girl when her car crashed into a Holly Township tree.

Marjorie Ann Clair, 17, told sheriff's deputies she was attempting to close the window after she crashed into the tree.

She was in satisfactory condition today at Hurley Hospital in Flint suffering from a possible brain concussion.

Head-On Car Crash Injures 8 Persons

Eight persons were hurt in a head-on auto collision on Rochester Road in Avon Township last night. Three of the victims were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. They were reported in fair condition today.

Mrs. Edward Brown, 41, of 46 E. Jackson Road, Lake Orion, is suffering from a broken right arm. Her daughter, Paul Brown, 15, sustained chest injuries.

Helen C. Kelley, 16, of Lake Orion, received a deep cut on her forehead.

Others in the same car, Marilyn Beattie, 17, Sandy Huerb, 16, Jennifer Hamman, 16, and Sharon Olson, 17, all of Lake Orion, and the driver of the other car, Lois E. Ellis, 44, of 1744 Ashworth St., Birmingham, were treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

Miss Ellis told sheriff's deputies she was traveling south on Rochester Road, when she lost control of her car near Hamilton Road, and reversed across the snow-covered road into the northbound Brown car, she said.

Crash Causes Air Stock Drop

NEW YORK 15 (AP)—Airlines declined on news of the latest air crash and other issues moved trendily in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

News of a collision between flights of United Airlines and Trans World Airlines brought selling to aircraft stocks.

Other stocks groped through a maze of yore and transaction and switching. The business news background continued.

U.S. Treasury gold stocks declined, and gold prices fell to a level. Auto sales slackened. Personal income leveled off in November from a record peak.

Chemicals, electrical, and glass, drugs and nonferrous metals looked a bit higher on balance. Steels, autos, oils and tobacco were mixed. The last was mixed from the start and continued to move unevenly.

United Air Lines felt more than a point and Trans World was down a fraction. American and Eastern Air Lines also took fractional losses.

Mission Corp., owner of 50 per cent of Seely Oil, was up 1/4 to 25 1/4. A block of 10,000 shares. Seely dropped a fraction. Texaco picked up a point while Jersey Standard eased.

First Chrysler Financial advanced a point to 30 on a big block of 10,000 shares.

American Motors, traded on some stable bonds, was easy at the start then traded about 1/4 to 10 per cent or more over last year.

Foremost dairies traded fractionally following a government order that it sell nine one-day competitors which it acquired in 1952 and 1953.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—When Minnesota voters turned out to elect Gov. Orville L. Freeman Jr. for a fourth term Nov. 8, they in effect boosted him into the national spotlight as the new secretary of Agriculture.

Freeman, 42, tapped for the Cabinet last Thursday by President Dwight D. Eisenhower, has been one of the most articulate critics of Ezra Taft Benson, the man he will succeed in the new administration.

During his six years as governor, Freeman never backed away from a fight when he thought the side of the cause was right. His tutor was Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., whom he served as administrative assistant when Humphrey was mayor of Minneapolis.

Freeman was named state secretary by Minnesota Democrats in 1946, after serving in the Marines in World War II and finishing up his law course at the University of Minnesota. He took highest honors and a Phi Beta Kappa key.

His law was scoured by a Japanese bullet on Bougainville and for a while his face was partially paralyzed by a speech impediment. He took special training to eliminate the handicaps.

Freeman showed great leadership in the party secretary's berth that he was boosted into the state Democratic chairmanship in 1948. He was an unsuccessful candidate for state attorney general two years after that.

His six years as governor were marked by a feud with the conservatives in the legislature capped in 1959 when the conservative-dominated Senate refused to put through Freeman's program for income tax withholding.

He was a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from 1955 to 1958, and served as a member of the U.S. Senate from 1959 to 1960.

His Record Is Brilliant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even his opponents agree that Arthur J. Goldberg, the new secretary of labor, is a man with a steel-trap mind.

Goldberg worked his way through Northwestern Law School and made a sophisticated record that for many years before he was matched. He was admitted to practice at the age of 21. From the beginning he was a labor lawyer.

The late Philip Murray brought him into his Steelworkers Union as counsel and later as general counsel to the CIO when Murray became its president.

During World War II Goldberg was expected to play a leading role in the Kennedy administration's drive to raise minimum wages.

Goldberg is credited with persuading Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell to step in actively to end the deadlock of the record 116-day steel strike that started last fall.

Lawford Tells of Plans for Fund-Raising Show

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—"Are you going to move into the White House?" I asked Peter Lawford—because that's what you ask him nowadays.

"And do what?" he laughed. "Be court jester? No! A chance Jack Kennedy doesn't need any. I'll leave Washington after the inaugural and go to Florida and sit in the sun for a week."

"Will you still be an actor, accessible as always?"
"Certainly. I don't think anybody's going to ask me about the outflow of gold. Everybody's trying to make me so sedate..."

WILSON Peter was in sweaters and slacks up in the Savoy-Hilton's Conrad Hilton suite.

The good-looking, personable young Britisher who was elected to a whole new kind of fame by the American people, who incidentally elected his brother-in-law Jack Kennedy to the presidency, is hard at work. He was in for Thursday's premiere of "Exodus." And for the big Washington Jan. 19 Democratic fund-raising show headed by himself, Frank Sinatra and producer Roger Edens.

He went over the list of scheduled stars—Judy Garland, coming from London—... the Tony Curtises, Gene Kelly, Joey Bishop, Ella Fitzgerald, Juliet Prowse, Keely Smith, Louis Prima, Harry Belafonte, and perhaps Leonard Bernstein, Steve Allen and Carl Sandburg.

"What will Milton Berle do?" I asked. "... About 8 minutes," Peter said.

"And what'll Dean Martin do?" "Drink!" ... "I don't think that!" Peter said. Lawford and Sammy Davis will do "What We Did in Las Vegas, Shall We Dance," for about two choruses.

"It sounds like the greatest benefit show ever," I said.

"It will be the greatest late in history Jack will be there, and Johnson. The way we've got the Army scaled, 71 boxes at $10,000 a box, or $1,000 a seat, and the remainder at $100 a head, we should come out with $1 million—nine."

"It will be the first time a man has ever gone into office clean—with all the party's debts paid up!"

"And during the Inauguration Ball, what'll you do?" "Don't look at me! They have not asked us to do anything!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Dick Haymes and attractive wife, Fran Jeffries, opened back on the audience—and look O.K.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Take one look at those lines at the post office window, says Cy Leslie, and you'll understand why Santa delivers his presents in person.

A cleaning woman, boasting of how carefully she worked on floors, said, "Why on my last job I polished 'em so good that three people fell down..." That's earl, brother.

Nuclear Missile Delay Blasted

Senator Says Blunders by Ike Aides Cripple Development

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee charged Wednesday that inaction by "bureaucratic and budgetary blockheads" in the Eisenhower administration was crippling development of a nuclear-powered missile.

Rep. Carl Albert, D-Calif., chairman of the subcommittee on radiation, said the Pluto engine—a nuclear ramjet for a low-altitude, supersonic missile—was being held up because the Atomic Energy Commission could not get a Pentagon go-ahead.

"It would seem almost impossible to identify someone in a position of responsibility in the Department of Defense who can make a clear-cut decision" on Pluto's development, Albert said.

The Pluto ramjet is envisaged as an engine to propel a missile that would hedge-hop through an enemy's radar defenses.

Holifield told the atomic industrial forum of the American Nuclear Society in a prepared speech, "A decision must be made and there should be a definition of the urgency which surrounds" the Pluto project.

"It still takes the AEC far too long to develop and recommend projects, and still longer to get construction started after authorization," he said.

Holifield said administration inaction also is hampering use of nuclear power plants in remote locations like Antarctica and Greenland.

Jack May Pick Him Today

Bobby Eyed for Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today announced that he has decided to make his brother Robert, attorney general, the only cabinet post still to be filled after the inauguration today—and probably two.

Word of the plans for Kennedy's cabinet selections was relayed to newsmen by Kennedy's press here by plane early today in the wake of reports that he was the choice as postmaster general.

Speculation on Kennedy's choice for the top Treasury post narrowed down to Eugene Black, president of WASHINGTON (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today named a Republican—Douglas Dillon—as his Treasury secretary.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert F. Kennedy, brother of President-elect John F. Kennedy, today was named attorney general in the new Cabinet.

The World Bank, and Douglas Dillon, a Republican who is undersecretary of state in the Eisenhower administration.

Black conferred privately with Kennedy at the latter's home late Thursday night.

Sullivan announced that Kennedy has moved up his departure time for Palm Beach, Fla., to mid-afternoon. The goal now is 3 p.m. (Pontiac time). Kennedy earlier had planned to leave at 6 p.m.

He said that both had accepted Kennedy's invitation to do so.

Kennedy filled two major cabinet posts when he named Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota as Agriculture secretary and Arthur J. Goldberg, special counsel to the AFL-CIO, as Labor secretary.

Something for the Lady? These Ideas Can't Miss

By JANET ODELL

Did you think we'd never get around to shopping for the women on your list? Well, we didn't want to be pushing our own interests.

Clothes, of course, please a woman. But remember that she won't want to get breakfast in a sheer chiffon negligee, better buy her one of the pretty quilted dusters that are being shown in all the colors and at various prices.

Goodfellows Plan Paper Sale in City

Goodwill editions of The Pontiac Press will be sold in Pontiac tomorrow.

Proceeds of the newspaper sales will be used to make sure that no family in the city is without a merry Christmas.

The funds will be used to purchase food and clothing for less fortunate families.

James B. Laine, vice president of the Metropolitan Club, 5000 E. 14th, and chairman of the drive, said the Goodwill newsboys hope to raise $2,000.

They will be stationed at all major intersections in the city—and at the Tel-Haven and Miraflores Mall Shopping Centers, Laine said.

Some 30 persons have volunteered to participate. They are policemen, firemen, postal employees, and U.S. Navy reservists.

For the woman who likes to wear black velvet slacks at home there are richly brocaded jackets. These are decorated with gold thread and gold buttons.

The knit pleated chiffon skirts are new and colorful. The prommer would love a tiana to make her look like Miss America.

A little packet of 3 different lipsticks will help multiply wear the proper shade every day. If she already has a whole wardrobe of lipsticks, give her a bolder to love them still on her dressing table.

We've seen two pretty pairs of earrings shaped like lilies of the valley. One was silver, the other green and white enamel.

Necklaces and bracelets with frames into which you insert a silver dollar are conversation pieces. A watch with five extra rims and straps makes an interesting gift; you start with a gold combination and can change to black, white or 3 other colors.

The same store has a watch only half an inch in diameter, set in a "mini" gold bracelet. To keep all this jewelry, get her a round jewel box lined in red velvet.

If you don't like her using your tools, Mr. Husband, get her a woman's tool kit. If you get the right color she might hang it in the kitchen.

'Human Bomb' Arrested

Nip Plot to Kill Jack

Mental Patient Denies Actual Murder Intent

Says President-Elect Is Religious Hypocrite as Fellow Catholic

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—A 73-year-old mental patient who had dynamite and blasting caps in his car has been arrested for threatening to make himself a human bomb to kill President-elect John F. Kennedy, federal authorities disclosed today.

The slight, white-haired man told authorities he was a Roman Catholic and he felt Kennedy was "a hypocrite" about their religion.

He mentioned a campaign speech in Texas where Kennedy had said he would honor responsibilities to the nation rather than to his church if the choice arose.

"In a way I'm glad it turned out the way it has, but I don't like the publicity," federal agents quoted him as saying.

He was identified as Richard Paul Pavlick, a former postal clerk from Belmont, N. H.

Federal agents said Pavlick denied any intention to kill the president-elect. They said the threat had been made in a letter intercepted by postal authorities Dec. 9.

John Marshall, Miami Secret Service agent, said Pavlick "never made contact" with Kennedy. Kennedy was in Washington when Pavlick was arrested.

The president-elect's wife and two children were here in the home of Kennedy's father.

Alerted by the post office, Secret Service agents had been hunting Pavlick for days. They learned he had sold all his property at his home in Belmont and gone to Washington.

They followed his trail to Palm Beach.

"HUMAN BOMB" SUSPECT—Richard P. Pavlick (right), a retired postal worker, was arrested today because he allegedly planned to turn himself into a human bomb to kill President-elect John F. Kennedy. Pavlick is escorted to his cell at West Palm Beach, Fla., by county jailer J. C. Reese. The alleged plot was to take place when Kennedy arrived at his Florida home later today.

3 Children, Sister-in-Law Dead

Hunt Detroit Mother, Killer of 4

DETROIT (AP)—Anxious police pressed a search today for a mentally disturbed young mother in the slayings of three children, one her own son, and of her sister-in-law.

All four victims, including the sister-in-law's two children, were killed Thursday. Three were slain with a butcher knife and ice pick.

Sought was Dolores Martin, 36, who has been under a psychiatrist's care.

"She would be dangerous to anyone she meets. It is paramount that we find her as soon as possible," said Police Inspector James J. Dunleavy.

LEAVES 2 NOTES

Police said Mrs. Martin left two notes in one of which she expressed hate for her sister-in-law because the latter was happy and "enjoys life so much."

The slayings took place at two homes.

First, the body of Mrs. Martin's 3-year-old son Daran was found suffocated in a chest in her bedroom.

to the home of the woman's brother

Lawrence, 38. There police found his wife, Virginia, 34, and their children, Wanda, 2, and Tony, 3. All had been stabbed to death. A doll had been laid beside each body, officers said.

A note, 16 feet long, written on shell paper, was found in the room of Dolores, a Negro. It was addressed to her common-law husband, Rudolph Ernest, 37.

Police were stunned by the woman's mother, Mary Wilks, 44, when she couldn't find either her daughter or grandson.

In the note Dolores said: "The baby Daran has cried for six months, ever since I brought him home, and I became very nervous from that."

"It would have been better I had died."

"I want to get Virginia, I hate her because she enjoys life so much."

United said a DCB flight from Chicago was overdue at Idlewild Airport.

The United plane was Flight 826, a DCB Douglas jetliner out of Chicago's O'Hare Airport. The TWA liner, Flight 26, was a Constellation.

Both planes were making approaches to land.

The Coast Guard said there were six survivors in the Staten Island crash, two of them seriously injured.

The Fire Department said its rescue and ladder companies were opening the tail section of the plane "to extricate bodies."

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department has warned ice fishermen to play it safe at the start of the season. Thin ice and "ganging up" by fishermen on the ice is dangerous early in the season, the department said.

Willman Gets Informal OK to Start Required Treatment Project

Costs of the court-ordered expansion of the city's sewage treatment facilities have risen $200,000 as predicted, the city commission learned last night.

City Manager Walter K. Willman received the informal approval of the commission to let engineers go ahead with the $2.3 million expansion, as ordered recently by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dandero.

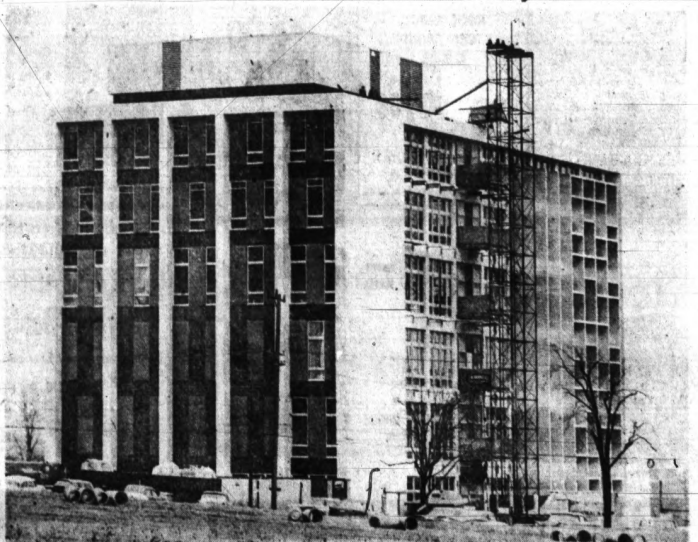

At the last of three elections, the city sought approval of a $2.3 million bond issue to pay for the needed expansion to control pollution of the Clinton River.

To the assembled city commissioners in informal session, Willman explained the $200,000 increase in costs was due to rising prices accrued during delays, plus alterations required on the present plant at Auburn Avenue and Oldfield Road to tie into the new facilities.

Willman said so far the city is planning to pay for the 30-year, $3.5 million bond issue—similar ones were rejected three times by city voters—out of the capital improvement funds at $200,000 a year.

The agreement, Willman told commissioners, would start in 1963 when the court ordered, request by the State Water Resources Commission, says the city must have the expanded facilities in operation.

Courthouse Now an Inside Job

MOVING AHEAD—Most of the work on Oakland County's new $3.2 million courthouse is centered inside these cold days—and workmen are mighty glad. They're working on installing the air conditioning and heating duct work, plastering and marble work on the six-story building off Telegraph Road. County officials say now it will be late summer 1963 before they move in.

Four Cardinals Named by Pope

St. Louis Archbishop, Two South Americans and Italian Elevated

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today named four new cardinals, including the Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo.

Two South Americans and an Italian were the others elevated by the pontiff.

The Italian prelate is Magr. Giuseppe Ferretto, a member of the Vatican Curia.

SECRET CONSISTORY

They will be elevated at a secret consistory at the Vatican Jan. 16.

Creation of the four new cardinals will bring the membership of the Sacred College of the Roman Catholic Church to an all-time record of 86.

There was no indication today that the Pope would make public at the Jan. 16 consistory the names of the three cardinals designated "in pectore" (in his heart) on March 28, 1960. At that time the Pope named seven new cardinals which brought the total to a total of 85, plus the three "in pectore."

The latter, after their names are made public, will be considered to have been members of the college since the March date.

Birmingham Man Named to New Chrysler Post

Appointment of A. E. Kimberly, 711 Abbey Road, Birmingham, to newly created post of chief engineer and analyzer data for Chrysler Corp.'s Engineering Division was announced today by Paul C. Ackerman, vice president of the division.

Ackerman said that Kimberly would study and analyze data from the corporation's reliability programs.

Prior to the appointment, Kimberly was chief engineer and director of product for the De Soto Division, a position he held since 1953. Previously, he served and mechanical laboratories at the engineering division.

Kimberly, 47, is married and has two sons.

Police officers saw the car Thursday and stopped Pavlick on the pretense of a traffic violation.

A search of his car turned up dynamite, blasting caps, wiring and other materials that could be used for a bomb. The materials had not been fastened into a bomb, however.

Authorities told Pavlick before a U.S. commissioner Thursday night on a complaint which said, "The defendant indicated he was going to make himself a human bomb and destroy himself, the President-elect, John F. Kennedy."

Pavlick was charged with violating a federal law which makes it a crime to threaten the president-elect or vice president.

The penalty on conviction is a $1,000 fine or five years in prison or both.

Pavlick waived a preliminary hearing and bond was set at $100,000.

He still was being questioned in the Palm Beach County Jail in nearby West Palm Beach, Fla., where he planned to move him to Miami later.

Pavlick told his interrogators he once placed himself in a mental institution in New Hampshire for observation because of "depression."

The institution was not identified.

LIVED ALONE

Pavlick had lived in Gilmanston, N. H., before moving to Belmont, where he lived alone in a small house for the past five or six years.

Town residents said he was very "vocal" on town issues and wrote many letters to the editors of newspapers.

He was born Feb. 13, 1887, in Boston, where he said he has a sister. Authorities said they did not know her name.

Too Much Wailing in State, Says Exec Push Industry, Rotarians Told

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL Jr.
We should quit complaining and do something about Michigan's industrial development.

This was the straight-forward suggestion Robble B. Martin, one of Michigan's youngest business executives, had for Pontiac Rotarians and their visitors yesterday.

The president of the infant Dundee Cement Co., part of the second-largest cement producing combine in the world, said he found "Michigan nowhere as bad off as the picture had been painted" when the parent organization sought a new site in the Great Lakes area.

"We have had no cause what-sover to regret that we settled here," Martin, 38, told the luncheon gathering at the Waldron Hotel.

He did say, however, he found two things which make him "not too happy about Michigan."

Besides finding that his company hasn't penetrated the state cement market as deeply as anticipated, Martin was critical about "a lethargic attitude on the part of a minority of people who say everything has gone to pot since Soapy Williams got in."

"These people all just sat back and said Paul Eganwell (Republican gubernatorial candidate) could do better, and that it was all tied to politics."

"That's not the attitude of most of the people. However, I found it prevalent in Detroit."

"This attitude stands directly in the way and hampers prospects of the state," Martin said.

"In this area there is too darned much weeping and wailing and crying in our beer at the Detroit Club and saying we can't do anything about the situation, instead of going out and doing something constructive about it," the speaker said.

Martin, of Ann Arbor, not only sells cement but has a non-paying job of selling Michigan as a member of Merrill D. Hill's Michigan Industrial Ambassadors.

Rotarians heard Martin trace the birth of the new $25-million cement manufacturing plant in Dundee, dedicated in June.

CHEMISTRY LESSON
Dundee is 14 miles west of Monroe. They also learned a little chemistry of Martin's product.

Owners of the Switzerland-based Holderbank Cement Co., holding company of the Dundee firm, looked first to New England when they decided in 1953 to branch out into the United States.

They found it a great import area but one with not enough incentive, from which one of the four necessary outside-calcium oxide—comes, in the manufacture of cement.

They looked next to the Great Lakes. Michigan was selected, principally because a rich deposit of limestone was found 40 feet underground near Dundee.

"Then the natural stumbling block was whether we wanted to locate this plant in Michigan, which we found from the national press to be less than desirable for manufacturing," Martin said.

A major concern before establishment of the plant was, naturally, the labor force, Martin said.

"We found a tremendous supply of labor. We could literally take our pick from hundreds and hundreds of these men," Martin said.

He said the state's industry pays higher than average wages, and that the company's employees, naturally, the labor force, Martin said.

There's nothing illegal about it. Williams hasn't touched the wheel of an automobile for at least six years.

The governor is accustomed to being driven or flown everywhere he goes. That gives him time to dictate letters, polish speeches and perform other chores.

A state police bodyguard drives the governor's official limousine. His wife, Nancy, pilots the family station wagon.

Starting Jan. 1, when La. Gov. John B. Swanson takes over as governor, Williams will be without bodyguard or limousine.

"I guess I'll have to walk, ride a bicycle or get another license," he said.

The Day in Birmingham

Road Project Is Okayed for Bloomfield Village

BIRMINGHAM—A two-year major road-improvement program in Bloomfield Village was approved last night by Bloomfield Township trustees at a public hearing.

Less than 100 persons attended the meeting held in the Bloomfield Village Elementary School. It was called to review the assessment rolls on the $443,000 project.

Several objections came from residents who complained of the total cost of the plan. They said the cost was far in excess of the original estimate.

Township officials, however, pointed out that each resident in the subdivision had received notice of the revised cost. Other protests on assessment came from property owners with corner lots.

However, the Township Board decided that there were not enough valid reasons for delaying the project and voted to confirm the assessment rolls.

Bids on the project will be advertised during the winter with construction expected to begin in the early spring.

The project will be undertaken in two stages, with about four miles of roads being repaired the first year. This is nearly less than one-third of the project but is expected to cost half of the total since these roads are in the worst condition.

Another reason given for the high cost of the first stage is that drains under the poor roads have to be replaced in order to have surface water removed.

Approximately 11 miles of roads are included in the overall project. Assessment will vary for each condition.

Loyalist Troops Crushing Revolt Against Selassie

Prince and His Officers May Be Forced to Flee; Report Unconfirmed

LONDON (UPI)—Troops loyal to Emperor Haile Selassie were reported today to be crushing the rebellion against his rule. One unconfirmed diplomatic report said loyal troops had recaptured the capital city of Addis Ababa.

Reports reached both the British protectorate of Aden and Khartoum, capital of the Sudan, that the government set up Wednesday by Crown Prince Asfaw Wassen, the emperor's eldest son, might be crumbling.

A spokesman for the Ethiopian Embassy in Bonn said Gen. Abey Abebe, military ruler in Eritrea, which is federated with Ethiopia under the crown, called that loyal forces had won control of Addis Ababa.

The spokesman, First Secretary Khebe "Gebre-Wold," said, "I reserve my opinion, however, as to whether the contents of this telegram are correct."

A Khartoum dispatch said Selassie left there this morning for Addis Ababa, the capital of Eritrea, engine trouble. He was in Brazil when the coup d'etat against his regime was announced and fled to Khartoum today from Chad.

The Khartoum dispatch said the emperor's popularity among the people continued high and that the instigators of the coup may soon be forced to flee the country.

The reports said the emperor's troops were gaining control of areas in fighting.

NO CONFIRMATION

One report reaching the British protectorate of Aden said the rebellion already had collapsed and that loyalist forces had won the day. This could not be confirmed.

Information reaching Cairo said the regime set up by Emperor Asfaw and his dissident military officers found support only in the capital, Addis Ababa.

Elsewhere, in the country, the troops mainly remained loyal to the emperor, including 10,000 infantrymen and an air force battalion in Eritrea.

Selassie himself was moving across Africa to reclaim the 3,000-year-old throne said to date back to the Queen of Sheba. He has had it for 30 years.

Arrests Premier, Cabinet

Nepal's King Takes Over

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—King Mahendra Thursday arrested popular Premier B. P. Koirala and other cabinet ministers, suspended the constitution, and took over all powers in this Himalayan kingdom. He accused the Koirala government of "failure to maintain law and order, harboring undesirable activity and killing the peoples' democratic aspirations."

It was the first elected government in the nation's history.

Some informed sources said the king was concerned about the speed with which the ordinary powers of government had passed from the throne into Koirala's hands.

After the 1959 elections swept Koirala and his Nepali Congress into power, the king reverted to his role as religious leader and chief of state.

As chief of the government, Koirala was easily the most popular figure in a land where popular politics is a novelty.

With his big majority in parliament, Koirala's government had shown every sign of stability.

The 39-year-old king, only recently returned from visits to the United States and Europe, acted through royal decree.

Proclaiming an emergency, he had Koirala and 10 other cabinet members arrested and brought under guard to the palace. Only Deputy Premier Subarna Shumsher escaped. He was in Calcutta.

The Nepalese army posted troops around the palace and other government buildings and took over the government radio.

Gorkha infantry in Khaki paraded the narrow streets, twirling among the aged temples and bazaars. But the city was quiet.

SPIRITUAL LEADER

Most of Nepal's eight million are Hindus, and revere the king as their spiritual leader.

King Mahendra personally drew up the constitution under which the first elections were held. He reserved under the constitution the right to dismiss the government and take personal control.

Intrigues are an old old story in this colorful, little-known country which only in the past decade emerged from Medieval seclusion.

In the middle of the 19th Century the country's ruling family was overpowered by a family known as Ranas, who for the following 100 years passed the ruling authority down from father to son.

Mahendra's father King Tribhuvana was only a figurehead. He escaped from the palace in 1950 and fled to India.

He returned with the backing of the Indian army and took over full power which he passed on to Mahendra in 1954.

Tribhuvana and Mahendra opened up what formerly was known as a hermit kingdom to the outside world and set up a modernization program helped along by more than $25 million in U.S. aid.

Both Russia and Red China also are contributing to the country's economic development.

Nepal, like its protective big brother India, is neutral in the cold war. Red China is now disputing borders with Nepal, including title to Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain.

Loaded Jet Climbs 91,450 Feet

Navy Claims World Mark as Plane Soars 17 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy claimed Thursday a world altitude record of about 17 miles for a jet attack plane carrying a payload of slightly over one ton.

The height reached was 91,450.3 feet, which would exceed the officially recognized record of 67,026 feet set last year by a Russian pilot.

The flight was made Tuesday at Edwards AFB, Calif., by Cmdr. Leroy A. Heath and his navigator, Lt. Henry L. Monroe, both from the Palmdale River, Calif., Naval Air Test Center.

The plane was a North American A3J Vigilante, a type now being given final evaluation before being turned over for fleet use.

MOST IMPORTANT IN NAVY

The Navy calls the Vigilante "the most important aircraft in the United States Navy."

Heath and Monroe were decorated Thursday for their achievement, with Navy Secretary William B. Franke making the awards in behalf of the President.

Heath, of Pinckney and Detroit, Mich., received the Distinguished Flying Cross. Monroe, born in Birmingham, Ala., was awarded the Air Medal.

Heath has seven children. Monroe, three. Their wives were present for the ceremony, as were

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, and Adm. James Russell, vice chief of naval operations.

The Navy said it has filed its claim for a record with the Federation Aeronautique Internationale on the basis of records from both ground-based radar and instruments aboard the Vigilante.

The height is the greatest flown by a jet plane carrying a standard load of 1,000 kilograms (about 2,204 pounds) as required by the FAI.

However, other planes have flown higher.

An Air Force F104 fighter set a record for combat craft a year ago of 103,285 feet and the rocket-powered X15 has reached an altitude of 156,300.

Neither plane, however, was attempting to operate under the 1,000-kilogram payload rule.

Heath climbed at about 1,400 miles an hour, then pulled the Vigilante's nose up into something like a ballistic trajectory to coast "over the top" for the record.

At maximum altitude, flying speed had dropped to about 400 miles per hour.

Heath said that for a few seconds at peak, there was weightlessness for the two men—a "pleasant sensation."

Explanation of the charges will be filed at a later date.

The Robinsons were married in 1943. The Negro fighter has held both the middleweight and welterweight boxing crowns.

Shostakovich at Work on His 12th Symphony

MOSCOW (AP)—Dmitri Shostakovich, Russia's leading composer, is working on his 12th symphony and expects to complete it in February, Tass reported today.

Atomic Sleuth Ferrets Out Liquor-Tax Dodgers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Scientists soon will be sent to Antarctica to hunt for the atom's powerful uses including detection of tax frauds in imported liquors and providing electricity in remote frozen areas, an Atomic Energy Commission official said.

Dr. Paul C. Aebersold, the AEC's radioactive isotope director, outlined the various projects being worked on under the commission's auspices. Aebersold is here to attend a meeting of the American Nuclear Society.

The isotope tritium or hydrogen 3, found in water, is an important factor in determining the age of imported brandies and wines, Aebersold said. The more tritium activity measured in the liquor, the younger the product. The Internal Revenue Service has been able to uncover several frauds by importers, the scientist said.

A portable nuclear reactor, buried beneath the snows of the Greenland ice cap, is generating precious electricity to power a scientific station there. The reactor generates 1,000 kilowatts of power, plus steam to heat the base camp and melt snow for the camp's water supply. Another portable reactor is being sent to Antarctica.

Ask Military Cut Study to Save Gold

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Armed Forces have been ordered to make a worldwide study to determine whether any U.S. military facilities can be eliminated or reduced to save dollars.

The order was the latest in a series of defense department steps to relieve the drain on U.S. gold and dollars which has created a near-crisis for the Eisenhower administration.

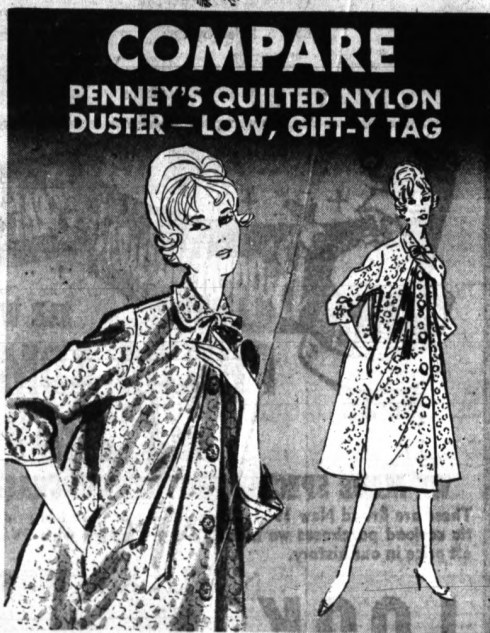

Although Defense Secretary Thomas Gates Jr. said the aim of the new facilities studies was to see what overseas activities could be eliminated, a spokesman told newsmen the order should not be taken to mean that combat forces abroad will be cut.

For several hundred years, hurricanes in the West Indies have been named for saints on whose water supply. Another portable reactor is being sent to Antarctica.

Herter told the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization that Khrushchev apparently has won the consent of other Communist countries for more negotiations with the West. But he said Khrushchev is on the horns of a dilemma: How to avoid nuclear war and at the same time speed communism toward world domination.

Herter was speaking at the opening session of a regular meeting of NATO foreign and defense ministers.

Americans Sending 3 Billion Yule Cards

WASHINGTON (AP) — About three billion greeting cards are being mailed this holiday season. That is an average of nearly 17 cards for every American. This was the word Thursday from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Understandably he appealed to the public to mail their cards promptly. For anyone who planned to mail cards to distant states it already is late. The deadline for that, Summerfield said, was Dec. 10, which is already past.

However, he said cards may still generally be delivered between any two points in the United States if dropped quickly into the mail box. Friday, Summerfield said, is the last recommended date for local Christmas mailing.

Artist Takes Exception to His Name on Nylon

NEW YORK (AP) — Cadon is at the wall with a gallon of black paint. Cadon is also a trade name.

The artist is Albert Cadon, 27, and French, and he didn't like it when the Chemstrand Corp. brought out a nylon for use in tires and called it Cadon.

So he told Chemstrand he didn't like it.

"They told me my name was 'Cadon,'" Cadon spluttered. "That they had made it up out of 15 fictional letters."

"It is incredible — cad-on. Cadon, I have had it all my life. How can it be fictional?"

Cadon, who admits to a Gallie temperament, stroled into Chemstrand's office Dec. 7 and let fly.

HER FARM PROGRAM — Mrs. Orville Freeman, wife of the next secretary of Agriculture, has a farm program in motion already. There probably won't be any party or soil bank involved for her, however. While her husband, Minnesota's outgoing governor, was flying to Washington Thursday to receive appointment to the cabinet post, Mrs. Freeman was home in Minneapolis watering her African violets.

Roulette King 'No Gambler' Wins Acquittal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A dapper German from Hamburg, who called himself the roulette king of Europe, won acquittal on an income tax charge by convincing a judge he's a scientist, not a gambler.

There was just one reason his "sure-fire" system for winning at roulette misfired, Benno Eitel Winkler, 37, says. "American roulette wheels have more digits than those he's used to."

So investors lost $17,000 trying to "bet" on confirmed law of computation of mathematical "probabilities" in Las Vegas.

Income Stays at Record Pace

But Personal Earnings Figure for November Reflects Slowdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total personal income of Americans kept at a record rate in November, but there were several signs reflecting a business slowdown.

The Commerce Department reported Thursday that the rate for November was $109.5 billion a year, the same as in October.

But the department also reported: Wage and salary payments dipped by a half billion dollars; factory payrolls declined for the sixth month in a row; total employment and average hours worked decreased more than usual for this season; and contract construction payrolls dropped.

The department also said that unemployment compensation and other transfer payments jumped by $400 million during November. There also was a small increase in the payrolls of the retail trade and service industries.

Study Freeze of School Funds

New Orleans Board Wants Banks Enjoined to Honor Its Checks

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A three-judge federal court went into session today on the Orleans Parish School Board's request that four New Orleans banks be enjoined from refusing to honor its checks.

The banks have frozen $128,000 of the board's funds it says that, unless it receives such funds it will have to close New Orleans public schools, integrated Nov. 14 by federal court order.

The judges were also due to hear two requests for temporary injunctions against creation of a new school board for New Orleans by the State Legislature. The suits were filed by the U. S. government and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The act creating the new board was rescinded last week by the federal court, but, in the meantime, the Legislature has established still another new school board for the entire city.

A fourth attempt to replace the Orleans School Board received final legislative approval Thursday as the legislators voted up a 30-day session start Saturday.

Two earlier attempts to set up a new school board were thrown out by the federal courts, which has issued injunctions against the Legislature, Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and various state officials telling them to keep out of the school situation here.

Attendance at the two integration school board hearings was the same. Three Negroes attended McDonough No. 13, while seven whites—a drop of one from Wednesday—and one Negro attended William Frantz.

One of the community's strongest segregationist elements, the Citizens Councils, held a rally here Thursday night. About 2,500 persons, according to police estimates, turned out in the 5,500-seat auditorium.

A previous council rally, on Nov. 15, the day after integration began here, drew a capacity house and was followed by riotous street demonstrations the next day in downtown New Orleans.

Liz Taylor's Teeth 'in Excellent Health'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A dentist says Elizabeth Taylor's teeth are in perfect condition.

Only a month ago one abscessed tooth was pulled in London and headlines proclaimed that more might have to go.

The actress became ill after arriving in London Sept. 8 and production on the movie "Cleopatra" was held up. Her illness finally was diagnosed as an inflammation of the outer lining of the spinal cord and brain. The infected tooth was given as a contributing factor.

Dr. Stanley W. Vogel of Beverly Hills said Thursday he found Miss Taylor "in excellent dental health."

Sen. Anderson Is Better After Intestinal Bout

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — U. S. Sen. Clinton F. Anderson, N. M., was reported in good condition at a hospital here today after a "gastro-intestinal upset."

He became ill in Denver, Colo. Thursday while attending a meeting there.

Warns U.S. 129th Time

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China charged an American military plane violated its territorial air space Thursday and issued its 129th "serious warning" against such "provocation." Peiping radio said the plane flew over the area of Swatow in Kwangtung Province in South China for 16 minutes.

He said Kalamazoo is the only city in Southwest Michigan which still has four-story school buildings. Central High School is one of them.

What an Inauguration This Will Be!

Cannons, Jets to Hail Swainson

LANSING (AP) — Cannons will roar and jet planes will thunder overhead when Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson is inaugurated as governor Jan. 1.

Democrats have announced plans for colorful ceremonies on the capital grounds when Swainson is elevated to the state's highest office.

Except for Chief Justice John R. DeWitt, who will administer the oath of office, it will be an all-Democratic show. Democrats retained all six state administrative offices up for election Nov. 8.

The celebration will begin New Year's Eve with an inaugural ball in Lansing's Civic Center. The affair will be open to the public at $3.50 apiece for adults and $1.50 for those under 18.

Next day Swainson and his family will attend a 7:30 a.m. inaugural service at Grace Lutheran Church here. Members of the State Administrative Board and Democratic officials will join them.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Howard Christensen, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Detroit, where the Swainson family worships.

The group will shift to the Civic Center for a breakfast where they will meet county Democratic chairmen and elected officials. Inauguration ceremonies will start at noon, an hour later than usual because of services being conducted in six churches within a block of the capitol.

Five 105-millimeter cannons will sound the traditional 15-gun salute.

Non-Staebler, outgoing Democratic state chairman, will be master of ceremonies.

Others who will take their oath of office are Lt. Gov. Eliot T. John, Lansing, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, Secy. of State James M. Hare, Aud. Gen. Otis M. Smith and State Treasurer Saari-Ed Brown.

An inaugural luncheon will follow in the Civic Center. Then Swainson and administrative board members will return to the capitol for a public reception after which members of the board will receive visitors in their own capitol offices.

Gets Probation in Theft, Forgery From Mall

DETROIT (AP) — Harold F. Sackett, former postmaster at Hollywood, was placed on two-year probation Wednesday by U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman for taking and forging a $99.68 income tax refund check.

Sackett, 41-year-old father of seven children, told investigators he took the check to cover shortages in his postal collections.

He resigned as postmaster last September. Hollywood is 10 miles northeast of Adrian.

More New Homes in '61 to Build Up Economy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Building of fewer homes played a big part in the failure of the nation's economy to get rolling this year, but new home construction is expected to start the economy moving in 1961.

Housing starts this year approached 1.3 million units, approximately 12 per cent below the 1959 figure of 1.5 million and the Housing Institute looks for this figure to jump to 1.75 million in the new year.

The institute said there are many favorable factors for an upturn in housing starts, although it may not come until sometime during the second quarter. The consensus among economists is for the economy to start picking up at midyear. Among the favorable factors are:

- Disposable personal income should increase by about $18 billion next year, providing a higher level for home purchases.
- Consumers will start the new year with record liquid assets and a very favorable financial position, despite the large short-term debt.
- A continued increase in population to more than 181 million should result in increased demands for new homes.
- The number of families in the middle income group—a big home-buying category—continues to expand.
- Vacancy rates, which showed a substantial gain in 1960, indicate that buyers are becoming more selective, and that the supply of new apartments is greater than demand. The institute said the home building industry is in a position to capture some of the market since high rents provide an incentive to the purchase of a home.
- A continued easing in the mortgage market will be more favorable to the housing market in 1961 than in 1960.
- There should be an improvement in the stock market, which will result in a more favorable trend of public psychology. The institute regards this as a help to home building.

Mother, Four Children Flee Orion Twp. Blaze

Fire Devours Rent Money and Christmas Savings

ORION TOWNSHIP — An Orion Township mother saw her rent money, Christmas savings and all she owned, go up in smoke early today after she carried four small children to safety from a fire which gutted the interior of her home.

Mrs. Jaunita Robbins, 26, said she and the children were sleeping when the blaze started in the basement of her rented home at 552 Mayer Court.

She said she was lucky to discover the fire when she did. Mrs. Robbins, who is divorced, said she awoke to find the house full of smoke at 6:45 a.m. She said the roar of a car motor starting had awakened her.

Mrs. Robbins then began carrying her own three children and her 14-month-old niece out into the cold, early-morning air dressed in only their nightgowns.

Taken out of the smoke-filled home were her children Buster, 5; Cynthia, 3; and Eva, 15 months; and her niece Dawn Runyan.

Mrs. Robbins said she didn't know whether the house was on fire while she was carrying the children to safety.

"All I know is that I put my girl on the porch and then I got my daughter (Cynthia) out," she said.

WANTED TO FOLLOW
Mrs. Robbins said Cynthia wanted to follow her back into the house when she went back after the two smallest children.

She had to have Buster hold the front door closed so Cynthia couldn't re-enter the smoke-filled home.

A neighbor notified the Lake Orion Fire Department which brought the fire under control in an hour with the assistance of the Oxford Fire Department. Damage was estimated at $5,000.

Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor said flames came up through the floor and gutted the home. He said the blaze apparently was touched off by a furnace in the basement.

Mrs. Robbins, who is staying with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee King of 589 Fairledge Drive.

Yule Displays Mean Money
Union Lake Club Offers $100 in Prizes for Best Outdoor Decorations

UNION LAKE — Prizes totaling $100 will be awarded to area residents with the best outdoor Christmas displays, the Union Lake Civitan Club announced today.

George Williams, president of the organization, said that a $50 U.S. savings bond will be given to the first place winner and $25 bonds awarded to the two runners-up.

A separate prize of a $50 bond will be presented to the school, church or business judged to have the best Christmas display.

Only residents living within a 3-mile radius of Union Lake are eligible to enter the contest. Application blanks can be obtained from local merchants and must be mailed before Tuesday to the Union Lake Civitan, Edgewood Country Club, Walled Lake.

The three contest judges are the Rev. Doris Fucker, Edward Vennard and George Williams. In announcing the contest Dec. 1, Williams pointed out the club wants to emphasize the essential spiritual aspects of the holiday.

The size or costliness of the display is not a determining factor in winning, he said.

Livestock Council Is Organized to Study Disease
EAST LANSING (AP)—A meeting called at Michigan State University to discuss the possibility of a Michigan livestock health council, ended up organizing the council, an MSU spokesman says.

Pat Ralston, director of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service, stated that representatives from livestock, marketing, veterinary and human medicine, health and farm associations agreed to form the council Thursday.

The 48-member council is designed to study livestock diseases, make recommendations on regulatory education and research programs, plan and implement statewide health programs and review progress in this field.

The group elected as chairman, Elton R. Smith of Caledonia, a Guernsey breeder and a director of the State Farm Bureau. Vice chairman is Luther C. Klager of Manchester, president of the Michigan Allied Poultry Industries. E. A. Wenner, manager of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative, was elected secretary.

Among the organizations represented were the Michigan Veterinary Medicine Association, Michigan State Medical Association, State TB Association, Michigan Health Council, Michigan Dietetic Association and the Michigan Home Economics and Business Association.

SANTA'S TALKING MAILBOX — Alexander Larrabee, 4, looks up with astonishment as Santa Claus replies to his request for a Christmas sled. This Yule display of the fire department in Andover, Mass., was rigged up with an intercom system to a "talking mailbox" and children were told to talk directly to Santa as they mailed letters. The dispatcher on duty in the nearby firehouse doubles as Saint Nick.

Fire Marshal to Ask $85,000 for Job Wants a Fire Check of State's Schools

EAST LANSING (AP)—The state fire marshal's office will ask the legislature for about $85,000 next year for a complete check of the fire safety situation in Michigan schools.

"We could start a pretty good program for that money," said Capt. Glenroy Walker, state fire marshal. "We would be able to check out every school in the state."

His department, Walker said, has no earmarked funds for such inspections. The legislature took the position in 1955, he said, that such inspections were mostly the business of local authorities.

He estimated new schools are being built in the state at the rate of 400 a year. "We need an overall program of inspection," the fire marshal said. "We know that a dangerously high percentage of our some 8,000 to 9,000 school buildings could be fire traps."

Walker cited a recent fire at a Gaylord parochial school. Fire destroyed the building within minutes after pupils had been led to safety, he said.

It was just slightly more than two years ago, Walker recalled, that 95 persons died—92 children and three nuns—in a fire on Dec. 1 in Chicago at the parochial school of Our Lady of the Angels.

His department, Walker said, is cracking down on enforcement of stricter school fire safety regulations with adoptions of a new code.

"We hope the legislators will see fit to spend a few thousand dollars as insurance toward saving some of the lives of our children from fire," he said.

MAJOR VIOLATIONS
Major violations, now current in many Michigan schools, Walker said, include:

- 1. Open stairways providing insufficient exit for students in event of a fire.
- 2. Storage of inflammable materials.
- 3. Potentially dangerous heating plants.
- 4. Interior finishes that could feed flames in event of a fire.

Seek OK for 2 Bond Issues

Clawson Civic Tour to Set Stage for Vote

By DON FERMIOYLE
CLAWSON — City officials hope a first-hand look at Clawson's city facilities tomorrow will persuade voters to approve two bond issues in a special election here Monday.

One of the proposals on the ballot is a $500,000 request for construction of a new municipal building to house all city offices, the Municipal Court, council chambers and the police and fire departments.

The other proposition asks voter approval of a $15,000 issue for building of a 25,000-volume library to replace the present one located, in a century-old, two-story house.

Mayor Duncan L. Gillies and the City Council have invited voters to tour the library and city offices during an open house from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. tomorrow.

The election culminates a three year effort by Clawson officials to "redevelop" the city's downtown area.

UNANIMOUSLY OKAYED
Replacement of the city hall and library was approved by a unanimous vote of the City Council at its Nov. 1 meeting.

The council's decision, according to City Manager Leonard Hendricks, was based on a three-year study of the area by professional consultants.

The council says the city hall, which was constructed in 1927 to handle services for a community of 2,000 persons, is "inadequate to the task of servicing the present city of 15,000."

The 30- by 35-foot building contains city offices on the main floor and the police department, jail and furnace room in the basement. City officials term it overcrowded and outdated.

The City Hall is located at 35 W. 14-Mile Road.

If the bond issue is approved the new brick and steel municipal building will be constructed on the west side of South Main Street between Jefferson and Madison Streets.

The Municipal Court and council chambers are located in the second story of a firehouse behind the City Hall.

NEW PARKING LOT
The land on which the City Hall stands would be sold for commercial development and the fire hall would be removed to make way for a municipal parking lot to serve the nearby shopping district. This was part of the "redevelopment" program suggested by the city's professional consultants, Hendricks said.

The new library would be located on the site of the city's existing facility at Fisher Court and North Main Street.

The old home which serves as a library was built before the Civil War and has space for only 6,000 volumes, according to the city manager.

"General obligation bonds for the entire cost — $725,000 — would be issued for 30 years," according to a statement issued by the city.

"The elimination in seven years of an old debt now costing each homeowner $4 per $1,000 of assessed valuation would more than offset the proposed tax increase for the new facilities."

"Combined cost of both the municipal building and the library to the average homeowner would be at most $3.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation," the statement said.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for voters Monday. Each bond proposal requires approval by 60 per cent of those who cast their ballots in this election.

Addison Children Are Invited to Christmas Party
ADDISON TOWNSHIP — All children in the township have been invited to attend a special Christmas party to be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Leominster.

The party, sponsored by the Addison Township Goodfellowes, will include a visit from Santa Claus and an hour of entertainment highlighted by the showing of cartoon movies.

Santa will hand out candy and ice cream to the youngsters at the Leominster Hall, 15 E. Elmwood St.

The party and the distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families are partially supported through the sale of Goodfellowes editions of The Pontiac Press by township firemen.

Township Supervisor Robert McCallum said anyone knowing of families who could be helped by the Goodfellowes during the Yule season should contact John Hock at Oakland 8-1103.

Louisiana's House Votes College Probe

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The Louisiana House Thursday passed a resolution directing an anti-American activities probe at Louisiana State University, after a pledge it would be no witch hunt. The measure, without an opposing vote raised in the House, was sent immediately to the Senate for concurrence.

The resolution was touched off by Prof. Waldo F. McNeer's criticism of the legislature's fight against school integration as "a disgrace and a national scandal." Chairman James Pfister of the Joint Legislative Committee on American activities told the House, "We have a tremendous responsibility to avoid doing harm to any individual or institution."

About 95 per cent of fresh eggs and poultry reach primary markets by truck and 75 to 80 per cent of livestock shipments also reach their destinations by truck carriers.

Sees Profit Pressure Continuing in '61

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—President Mark W. Cressap Jr., in a year-end statement, said Thursday 1961 sales by Westinghouse Electric Corp. should show improvement over this year but that it will continue to be intense cost-price pressure on profits.

Cressap said 1960 sales are expected to slightly exceed last year's $1.91 billion but not the $2,000,000 record sales of 1957. He said the pressure on earnings has resulted from a decline in prices for appliances and metal electrical equipment coupled with an increase in labor and material costs.

This adverse effect is expected to be evident in the fourth quarter of 1960 and extend into 1961.

Capital expenditures are expected to increase for the third consecutive year from $60 million to $65 million, Cressap said. Heavy emphasis will be placed on plant improvement programs and other cost reduction measures.

Huron-Clinton Authority to Lose Staff Member

DETROIT (AP)—Ernest Allmendinger has announced he will retire Jan. 1 from the staff of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Allmendinger, 70, of Ann Arbor, joined the authority staff in 1954. The authority is a park and parkway agency serving Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties.

Parent-teacher movement had its origin in a national convention of mothers assembled for the first time in Washington D. C. in 1897.

Former Rivals to Run Again
Bartlett and Holloway
Eye Superintendent of Public Instruction Post

LANSING (U-P)—Lynn M. Bartlett, who won the election for superintendent of public instruction two years ago, and Hugh H. Holloway, who lost, have announced that they are ready to go at it again in the next spring election.

Holloway, superintendent of public instruction in South St. Marie since 1955, said he would run again on the Republican ticket, although he lost last time by slightly more than 40,000 votes. He said he would offer himself as a candidate at the spring Republican State Convention.

Democrat Bartlett said in Lansing earlier he would "be in there pitching."

"I will offer myself as a candidate on the basis of my record in office," he said.

Holloway, a former Michigan State University mathematics instructor, has been high school principal and school superintendent in several Michigan districts.

"The newspaper newspapermen, quoted by the official news agency MTI in a broadcast monitored here, said American diplomats in Hungary are transgressing the laws internationally accepted concerning the activities of diplomats."

"The paper charged that on two separate occasions, on Dec. 3 and 12, American diplomats had 'used provincial trips' authorized by the Hungarian Ministry of Foreign Affairs for the purposes of making reconnaissance."

"We want to have an improvement of relations between our two countries," the paper added. "But it seems the Americans do not... since they are abusing the confidence of the Hungarian government."

Cash Yule Gifts From Landlord to His Tenants

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP)—A Long Island landlord is sending cash Christmas presents to his 1,200 present and former tenants, all of them servants.

The checks range from $10 to $20, depending on the length of residence and the rental paid at Mitchell Manor, a government sponsored housing project near Mitchell Air Force Base.

Alexander Moss & Sons, Inc., which announced the plan Wednesday, explained that they represent $124,674 in tax refunds.

Nassau County and Hempstead Town have collected too much in taxes between 1958 and this year, and returned the money to the company.

Alexander Moss explained that he felt it was only right that the tenants should get the money. He said he hopes to get the checks to everyone by Christmas Day.

Many of the recipients have been transferred to bases in remote parts of the world.

State to Open Last Link of Interstate 94 Monday

JACKSON (UPI) — Michigan, which ranks first among the 50 states in interstate highway construction, will claim two new firsts Monday when the final link of Interstate 94 is opened to traffic between here and Ann Arbor.

When state highway commissioner John C. Mackie cuts a red ribbon and blue ribbon opening the last section of the highway, Michigan will have the nation's first border-to-border freeway and the longest stretch of continuous toll-free highway.

Opening of the 58.5-mile freeway from Detroit to Lake Michigan.

KIDNAP VICTIM

Alessio, 41, is shown leaving the county grand jury room in San Diego, Calif., after he testified about his $200,000 kidnapping Nov. 22. Alessio said he still fears gangland retaliation. Six persons have been charged with his abduction.

Ike Lauds YMs for Job With GIs

President Eisenhower has lauded the Young Men's Christian Association for its work on behalf of America's armed forces, declaring this service to be a major contribution to national security.

News of the President's commendation was received today by Ted N. Slosson general secretary of the Pontiac YMCA, from the organization's national headquarters.

"By advancing the physical and moral strength of men and women in uniform," the President said, "the YMCA helps to insure a continuance of our way of life and a full measure of individual freedom."

The President's views were expressed in a congratulatory letter addressed to the National Board of YMCAs on the eve of the association's 100th anniversary of service to the nation's fighting men. The YMCA movement will commemorate this anniversary throughout the country in 1961.

Slosson said the centennial anniversary will be marked by a year-long series of community, regional and national events honoring the thousands of volunteers involved in this activity from the Civil War to the present day.

Weary of Jokes, Town Wants to Change Name

MOSCOW, Maine (UPI) — A lot of people in this Somerset County town of 400 inhabitants would like to change the name to something else—perhaps Wyman Dam.

When it was incorporated in 1858, the town was named in honor of the Russian capital. But times have changed. And local residents are tired of answering the query and joking tourists, "Where is Khrushchev's house?"

There has been some talk of changing the name to Wyman Dam, the local name for Moscow's post office. But no definite move to effect such a change has been made so far.

Gasoline Runs Free

CASTLE, Okla. (AP) — Residents carrying saucapans and buckets rasped a bonanza of free gasoline one day. The gasoline poured freely after a road grader slashed an 8-inch gasoline transmission line near here.

Americans spend about $1.1 billion per year for refrigerators, most of them for domestic purposes.

Chairman Hannah Says:

Civil Rights Problem Worse in the North

DETROIT (AP) — Chairman John A. Hannah of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission says he is "convinced the most difficult civil rights problem is in the larger cities of the North."

Hannah said he is convinced of this because Northern cities "sweep it under the rug or run to the suburbs."

"So far," he said, "there hasn't been a willingness to recognize that this is a major problem and something must be done about it. He suggested solution will come when "one more than half" demands it."

Hannah, who also is president of Michigan State University, expressed his views at a news commission hearings in Detroit, where he suggested solutions related housing, employment and other fields.

Hannah said the commission's investigation showed discrimination in Detroit, compared with other large cities. "is no worse and better than most."

CHICAGO WORSE
In housing discrimination he described Chicago as "vastly worse," but said New York's minority housing situation was better.

Detroit complaints, he continued,

Sperm Whale Carries Fortune

Cache of Oil in Head Means Death to More Than 20,000 Yearly

WASHINGTON — The sperm whale is too valuable for its own good.

A large reservoir of oil is stored in the mammal's head and blubber. The yellow, waxy substance is widely used as an additive in automatic transmission fluids, textile chemicals, plastics, cosmetics and detergents. A 60-foot whale yields 80 barrels of sperm oil.

Because they possess such a fortune, or misfortune, more than 20,000 sperm whales are killed each year, the National Geographic Society says.

Gone are the days when whales could escape hand-propelled harpoons. Modern equipment, including helicopters and harpoon guns, gives a sighted animal only a slight chance to miss death.

The sperm whale cap be easily identified by an enormous, blunt head, which comprises one-third of its body. Also, it spouts a low, rounded puff directed forward and upward.

When attacked, this normally peaceful mammal can become a killer. Like its distant ancestor, Moby Dick, the leviathan will charge, mauling vessels have been destroyed by enraged sperm whales.

Only a sperm whale could have swallowed Jonah. Its unusually wide gullet is known to have accommodated a 16-foot shark.

In 1931, James Bartley, an English sailor, was reported to have been swallowed by a sperm whale and found alive 24 hours later when the whale was cut open.

While biologists are dubious about Bartley's ability to resist the animal's gastric juices, they do not rule out the possibility that a human could survive in a whale for a short time.

There is oxygen in the whale's stomach, because it needs air to keep afloat. The heat is oppressive, but not more than 104 to 106 degrees Fahrenheit. The temperature, though lower heat to a man, would not necessarily be fatal.
